(6) 'Landfill' means a landfill as defined under RCW 70.95.030.
(7) 'Owner' means, in the case of a town or city, the city or town acting through its chief executive officer or the lessee if operated pursuant to a lease or contract; in the case of a county, the chief elected official of the county legislative authority or the chief elected official's designee; in the case of a board of public utilities, association, municipality, or other public body, the president or chief elected official of the body or the president's or chief elected official's designee; in the case of a privately owned landfill or incinerator, the legal owner.
(8) 'Solid waste' means solid waste as defined under RCW 70.95.030.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 64. (1) By January 1, 1992, the owner or operator of a solid waste incineration facility shall employ a certified operator. At a minimum, the individual on-site at a solid waste incineration facility who is designated by the owner as the operator in responsible charge of the operation and maintenance of the facility on a routine basis shall be certified by the department.

(2) If a solid waste incinerator is operated on more than one daily shift, the operator in charge of each shift shall be certified.

(3) Operators not required to be certified are encouraged to become certified on a voluntary basis.

(4) The department shall adopt and enforce such rules as may be necessary for the administration of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 65. (1) By January 1, 1992, the owner or operator of a landfill shall employ a certified landfill operator.

(2) The department shall adopt rules classifying all landfills with regard to the size, type, and other conditions affecting the complexity of a landfill and the skill, knowledge, and experience required of a operator to operate the landfill to protect human health and the environment.

(3) The rules shall require that the owner or operator of complex landfills employ a certified landfill operator who is on-site at all times the landfill is operating. At a minimum the rules shall require that owners or operators of landfills are required to employ a certified landfill operator who is on call at all times the landfill is operating.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 66. (1) The department shall establish a process to certify incinerator and landfill operators. To the greatest extent possible, the department shall rely on the certification standards and procedures developed by national organizations and the federal government.

(2) Operators shall be certified if they:
(a) Attend the required training sessions;
(b) Successfully complete required examinations; and
(c) Pay the prescribed fee.

(3) By January 1, 1991, the department shall adopt rules to require incinerator and appropriate landfill operators to:
(a) Attend a training session concerning the operation of the relevant type of landfill or incinerator;
(b) Demonstrate sufficient skill and competency for proper operation of the incinerator or landfill by successfully completing an examination prepared by the department; and
(c) Renew the certificate of competency at reasonable intervals established by the department.

(4) The department shall provide for the collection of fees for the issuance and renewal of certificates. These fees shall be sufficient to recover the costs of the certification program.

(5) The department shall establish an appeals process for the denial or revocation of a certificate.

(6) The department shall establish a process to automatically certify operators who have received comparable certification from another state, the federal government, a local government, or a professional association.

(7) Upon the effective date of this act and prior to January 1, 1992, the owner or operator of an incinerator or landfill may apply to the department for interim certification. Operators shall receive interim certification if they:

(a) Have received training provided by a recognized national organization, educational institution, or the federal government that is acceptable to the department; or

(b) Have received individualized training in a manner approved by the department; and

(c) Have successfully completed any required examinations.

(8) No interim certification shall be valid after January 1, 1992, and interim certification shall not automatically qualify operators for certification pursuant to subsections (2) through (4) of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 67. (1) A board of advisors for solid waste incinerator and landfill operator certification shall be established. Collectively, the board shall be a subcommittee of the solid waste advisory committee created under RCW 70.95.040 and shall be comprised of five members appointed by the director. The members shall be knowledgeable about solid waste handling technologies including but not limited to combustion boiler and pollution control technologies and their potential environmental impacts such as air emissions and ash residues.

(2) This board shall act as an advisory committee to the department and shall review and comment on the rules adopted under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 68. (1) The director may, with the recommendation of the board and after a hearing before the board, revoke a certificate:

(a) If it were found to have been obtained by fraud or deceit;

(b) For gross negligence in the operation of a solid waste incinerator or landfill;

(c) For violating the requirements of this chapter or any lawful rule or order of the department; or

(d) If the facility operated by the certified employee is operated in violation of state or federal environmental laws.

(2) A person whose certificate is revoked under this section shall not be eligible to apply for a certificate for one year from the effective date of the final order or revocation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 69. Any person who is employed by a public agency to inspect the operation of a landfill or an incinerator to determine the compliance of the facility with state or local laws or rules shall be required to be certified in the same manner as an operator under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 70. To carry out the provisions and purposes of this chapter, the director may:

(1) Enter into agreements, contracts, or cooperative arrangements, under such terms and conditions as the director deems appropriate with other state, federal, or interstate agencies, municipalities, educational institutions, or other organizations or individuals.

(2) Receive financial and technical assistance from the federal government, other public agencies, and private agencies.

(3) Participate in related programs of the federal government, other states, interstate agencies, other public agencies, or private agencies or organizations.

(4) Upon request, furnish reports, information, and materials relating to the certification program authorized by this chapter to federal, state, or interstate agencies, municipalities, educational institutions, and other organizations and individuals.

(5) Establish adequate fiscal controls and accounting procedures to assure proper disbursement of and accounting for funds appropriated or otherwise provided for the purpose of carrying out this chapter.

(6) Adopt rules under chapter 34.05 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 71. After January 1, 1992, it is unlawful for any person, firm, corporation, municipal corporation, or other governmental subdivision or agency to operate a solid waste incineration or landfill facility unless the operators are duly certified by the director under this chapter or any lawful rule or order of the department. It is unlawful for any person to perform the duties of an operator without being duly certified under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 72. Any person, including any firm, corporation, municipal corporation, or other governmental subdivision or agency, with the exception of incinerator operators, violating any provision of this chapter or the rules adopted under this chapter, is guilty of a misdemeanor. Incinerator operators who violate any provision of this chapter shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. Each day of operation in violation of this chapter or any rules adopted under this chapter shall constitute a separate offense. The prosecuting attorney or the attorney general, as appropriate, shall secure injunctions of continuing violations of any provisions of this chapter or the rules adopted under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 73. All receipts realized in the administration of this chapter shall be paid into the general fund.

Title 70 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 75. A new section is added to chapter 82.18 RCW to read as follows:

(1) There is imposed on each person using the services of a solid waste collection business a solid waste collection tax of one and two-tenths percent of the consideration charged for the services. This tax shall be applied only to a service charge for actual solid waste collection that is provided. For residential collection service only, the tax shall apply to the lesser of the con­ consideration charged for the services or:

(a) For customers with one-can service, the first eight dollars of the monthly charge for the services.

(b) For customers with two-can service or more, the first twelve dollars of the monthly charge for the services.

(2) Moneys collected under this section shall be held in trust until paid to the state. Moneys received by the state shall be deposited in the solid waste management account created by section 90 of this act. The provisions of RCW 82.18.040, insofar as they are not in conflict with this section, apply to the collection of the surcharge.

(3) This section expires July 1, 1993.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 76. The expiration of section 75 of this act shall not be construed as affecting any existing right acquired or liability or obligation incurred under that section or under any rule or order adopted under that section, nor as affecting any proceeding instituted under that section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 77. Section 75 of this act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect July 1, 1989.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 78. The legislative budget committee shall report to the legislature by January 1, 1993 as to whether the tax imposed under section 75 of this act should be continued or modified to achieve the purposes of this act.

Sec. 79. Section 8. chapter 282. Laws of 1986 and RCW 82.18.030 are each amended to read as follows:

The person collecting the charges made for using the (refuse) solid waste collection business shall collect the tax imposed in (section 6 of this act) this chapter. If any person charged with collecting the tax fails to bill the taxpayer for the tax, or in the alternative has not notified the taxpayer in writing of the imposition of the tax, or having collected the tax, fails to pay it to the department in the manner prescribed by this chapter, whether such failure is the result of the person’s own acts or the result of acts or conditions beyond the person’s control, he or she shall, nevertheless, be personally liable to the state for the amount of the tax.

Sec. 80. Section 9. chapter 282. Laws of 1986 and RCW 82.18.040 are each amended to read as follows:

Taxes collected under this chapter shall be held in trust until paid to the state. Except for taxes received under section 75 of this act, taxes so received by the state shall be deposited in the public works assistance account created in RCW 43.155.050. Any person collecting the tax who appropriates or converts the tax collected shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor if the money required to be collected is not available for payment on the date payment is due. If a taxpayer fails to pay the tax imposed by this chapter to the person charged with collection of the tax and the person charged with collection fails to pay the tax to the department, the department can, in its discretion, proceed directly against the taxpayer for collection of the tax.

The tax shall be due from the taxpayer within twenty-five days from the date the taxpayer is billed by the person collecting the tax.

The tax shall be due from the person collecting the tax at the end of the tax period in which the tax is received from the taxpayer. If the taxpayer remits only a portion of the total amount billed for taxes, consideration, and related charges, the amount remitted shall be applied first to payment of the (refuse) solid waste collection tax and this tax shall have priority over all other claims to the amount remitted.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 81. A new section is added to chapter 81.77 RCW to read as follows:

The provisions of chapter 39.12 RCW shall apply to service agreements entered into under this chapter, RCW 35.21.120, and 36.58.040 to collect source-separated recyclable materials at residential or nonresidential sites, or both.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 82. A new section is added to chapter 81.77 RCW to read as follows:

The commission, in fixing and altering collection rates charged by every solid waste collection company under this section, shall include in the base for the collection rates:
(1) All charges for the disposal of solid waste at the facility or facilities that the solid waste collection company is required to use under a local comprehensive solid waste management plan or ordinance designating disposal sites;

(2) All charges relating to the disposition of recyclable materials made to third parties as directed by a local government under its comprehensive solid waste management plan;

(3) All known and measurable costs related to implementation of the approved county or city comprehensive solid waste management plan; and

(4) All revenues received by collection companies in return for the sale of recyclable materials collected, which revenues shall be applied to offset the known and measurable costs of collection, processing, and marketing the recyclable materials.

The commission shall develop rules to allow solid waste collection companies to adjust their rates no more than two times per year, to reflect the costs specified in this section. Such rules shall include notice to ratepayers of rate adjustment.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 83. A new section is added to chapter 81.77 RCW to read as follows:

If the commission suspends a tariff change submitted by a solid waste collection company under RCW 81.04.130, the collection company may request that the tariff be put in effect on an interim basis, subject to refund, pending the commission's final order. Such requests shall be granted and the tariff will become effective, on an interim basis, on its originally filed effective date.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 84. (1) The department of ecology shall conduct a study of problem wastes including an analysis of the best available technologies for environmentally safe and economically sound collection, storage, processing, and disposal. In conducting the study, the department shall involve, consult, and create special advisory committees that will include membership from relevant industries and local governments. The department shall submit a report, including recommendations, to the house of representatives environmental affairs committee and the senate environment and natural resources committee by December 15, 1990, and shall make the results of the study available to local governments. In its study, the department shall consider, at a minimum, the following:

(a) Education programs about using alternative products that minimize adverse effects to the environment;

(b) Program development and enhancement to divert problem wastes from the waste stream, including current recycling programs and household hazardous waste collection programs; and

(c) Waste treatment and stabilization.

(2) The study shall include an investigation of existing toxic materials in landfills, in incinerator air emissions, and in incinerator fly and bottom ash, including, but not limited to, lead, mercury, cadmium, chromium, dioxins, furans, oxides of sulphur, carbon, nitrogen, and other toxic organic materials. Furthermore, the study shall review the adequacy of the state's air quality and ash quality standards for solid waste incinerators, by including a comparison of our state standards with those latest standards adopted by other countries such as Sweden and West Germany.

(3) The purpose of the investigation and the standard review is to evaluate the potential for damage to the environment and public health from these toxic materials, to identify the sources of the toxic materials, and to evaluate the potential solid waste management practices for eliminating or reducing the amount of toxic materials entering disposal facilities, or reducing the toxicity of such materials.

(4) For the purposes of this section, 'problem wastes' means those solid wastes that require special handling, treatment, storage, or disposal, as determined by the department to be causing, or potentially causing, environmental damage, or are disposed of in sufficient quantities as to be likely to cause environmental damage.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 85. The legislature finds that flexibility in solid waste management systems may help minimize the need for costly disposal options, maximize the limited life of landfills, and produce the most cost-effective solid waste management system. The legislature further finds that there is a need for innovation in solid waste management systems, especially to develop efficient ways of collecting and handling yard waste, recyclables, and other materials intended to be segregated from the solid waste disposal stream.

The legislature finds that local governments are given primary responsibility to plan for and manage solid waste, and that they require a grant of authority sufficient to implement their plans and manage segregated waste streams. The legislature also finds that the majority of Washington's population resides in unincorporated areas under the jurisdiction of county governments, so that county governments are responsible for managing a growing portion of the waste stream. The legislature further finds that current statutes restrict county government authority over solid waste collection. The legislature further finds that changes in existing statutes for solid waste regulatory authority may displace existing firms that are delivering solid waste and recycling services in a cost-effective manner.

Therefore, the legislature finds that there is a need to examine the structure and effectiveness of the present regulatory situation and the public policies which have led to the current structure. The legislature further finds that it is desirable to examine the regulatory structure. and practice of other states, including regulatory jurisdiction, planning responsibility, and program funding authority granted to various levels and agencies of government. The legislature also finds that any changes in regulatory authority should be made in a way that minimizes adverse impacts on existing firms, governmental entities, and customers of solid waste collection and recycling services.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 86. (1) The utilities and transportation commission shall conduct a study on solid waste regulation, utilizing the expertise of an objective research institution specializing in regulatory or public policy issues, that shall:
(a) Identify and examine current statutory responsibilities of state, county, and city governments, and the role of private sector firms, for solid waste services including the provision of solid waste and recycling collection, transfer, disposal, financing, and enforcement;
(b) Examine public policies and history that led to the current regulatory structure;
(c) Gather and analyze information on the current status of collection, transfer, disposal, and recycling services on a county-by-county basis, including services provided by local governments, haulers holding certificates of public convenience and necessity issued by the utilities and transportation commission, and private sector recycling firms, which information shall include, but not be limited to, number and categories of customers served, services provided, tonnage handled, overall cost of service, and number and type of firms under common ownership. In order to minimize costs, the findings of the best management practices study shall be used to the fullest extent possible;
(d) Examine policies and practices in other states in regard to the allocation of regulatory responsibility and financial capability among different levels of government;
(e) Discuss possible alternatives to the existing statutory system of solid waste regulatory authority, that shall include, at a minimum:
(i) Optional county authority over solid waste collection, similar to the optional city authority granted in RCW 81.77.020;
(ii) Mandatory county authority over solid waste collection, replacing the utilities and transportation commission;
(iii) Changing state authority over solid waste collection and disposal, with such authority to be vested in a new state board or agency;
(f) Recommend policy, statutory, and constitutional changes that would serve to provide greater flexibility, innovation, and local control, and to minimize impacts on existing solid waste management firms, governmental entities, and customers of solid waste collection and recycling services.

(2) The commission shall appoint an advisory committee to review and comment on the study upon completion. Members of the advisory committee shall be reimbursed for travel expenses under RCW 43.03.050 and 43.03.060. The committee shall include, but not be limited to:
(a) Two representatives of county governments, including one representative from large counties, defined as counties of class AA, A, 1, and 2 counties, and one representative of counties of class 3 and smaller;
(b) Two representatives of city governments, including one from a city that provides municipal collection services and one from a city that provides collection services in some manner other than municipal provision;
(c) One representative of county health officials;
(d) Two representatives of the garbage collection industry;
(e) Two representatives of the recycling industry;
(f) One representative each of business and environmental interests;
(g) One representative each from the department of ecology, the department of community development, the department of revenue, and the municipal corporation division of the state auditor's office.

(3) The commission shall submit to the governor and legislature a report containing findings, conclusions, recommendations, and comments by January 2, 1990.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 87. The sum of one hundred thousand dollars, or as much thereof as may be necessary, is appropriated for the biennium ending June 30, 1991, from the general fund to the public service revolving fund for the purposes of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 88. Sections 85 through 87 of this act shall expire June 30, 1990.

Sec. 89. Section 15, chapter 528, Laws of 1987 as amended by section 6, chapter 184, Laws of 1988 (uncodified) is amended to read as follows:
(1) The Washington state legislature finds that the state faces a solid waste disposal crisis. The siting of new landfills, the location and design of new solid waste incinerators, the disposal of ash residue, and compliance with the priorities of the solid waste management act and the hazardous waste management act require that an effort be made by the state to ensure that local governments and private industry have adequate technical information, and that programs are developed to accomplish the statutory waste management priorities.
(2) A comprehensive evaluation of preferred solid waste management programs shall be undertaken by the joint select committee for preferred solid waste management. The committee shall consist of four members of the house of representatives appointed by the speaker of the house and four members of the senate appointed by the president of the senate. The committee shall involve the department of ecology, the utilities and transportation commission, and representatives of organizations representing cities, counties, the public, the waste management industry, waste haulers, and the private recycling industry. The committee shall report its findings and recommendations to the appropriate standing committees of the legislature by January 1, 1989.

(3) The department of ecology may provide the committee with specific recommendations on waste management programs from studies the department has undertaken as required by RCW 70.95.263.

(4) The committee shall attempt to determine the reasons why higher rates of waste reduction and recycling have not been achieved in the state and develop recommendations on how to achieve higher rates.

(5) The committee's recommendations shall include (a) specific programs for waste reduction, recycling, incineration, and landfills, (b) specific goals for solid waste management, and (c) specific responsibilities for state government, local government, and the private sectors to accomplish the committee's recommendations. The committee shall also recommend specific legislation and rule-making requirements to accomplish the committee's findings.

(6) The joint select committee for preferred solid waste management shall cease to exist on July 1, 1991.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 90. A new section is added to chapter 70.95 RCW to read as follows:

The solid waste management account is created in the state treasury. Moneys in the account may only be spent after appropriation. Expenditures from the account may only be used to carry out the purposes of this act. All earnings from the investment of balances in the solid waste management account except as provided in RCW 43.84.090, shall be deposited into the solid waste management account.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 91. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 92. Sections 40 and 41 of this act are necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect July 1, 1989.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 93. Section 36 of this act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately.
(1) The department of social and health services shall identify advisory levels for indoor air quality that include maximum concentrations of indoor air pollutants for residential buildings and schools. Indoor air pollutants include but are not limited to formaldehyde, carbon monoxide, carbon dioxide, and water vapor or moisture-laden air, but do not include radon. The advisory levels shall be reported to the state building code council no later than November 1, 1989.

(2) The state building code council, in consultation with other state agencies, shall conduct a review of techniques to reduce and mitigate the presence of indoor air pollutants. The review shall include an assessment of federal, regional, and state efforts to reduce or mitigate indoor air pollution, and identification of codes or standards that may be appropriate for consideration by the state of Washington. The state building code council shall report the findings of its review to the governor and to the appropriate standing committees of the legislature by December 1, 1989.

(3) The state building code council, in consultation with the department and other state and federal agencies, shall develop ventilation and source control standards designed to control the level of indoor air pollutants in residential buildings and incorporate them into the building code for the maintenance of the health and safety of the occupants. On or before December 1, 1991, the building code council shall adopt rules pursuant to chapter 34.05 RCW for the purpose of implementing a requirement that all new residential buildings be constructed to control, reduce, and mitigate the presence of indoor air pollutants.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

CENTENNIAL MESSAGE
FROM THE WASHINGTON STATE HISTORICAL SOCIETY
March 7, 1989

On this day in 1889, the town of Whatcom ordered landowners to clear trees and brush from their holdings. This would have freed land for development. And, local boosters predicted that with the rising tide of immigrants to the country behind Sequim and Dungeness, within two years "there will be but little vacant land in Clallam County."

On this day in 1907 the University of Washington Board of Regents agreed to modify its lease of its Metropolitan Tract to omit rent increases based on rising land values. The new lease promoted development, but critics charged it brought in little income.

On March 7, 1927 the Legislature occupied its new seven million dollar Legislative Building in Olympia, where it still sits. A band from the Salvation Army and the University of Washington Glee Club provided music. Fifty years later, in 1977, a celebration led by Governor Dixy Lee Ray commemorated the event.

And on March 7, 1983 Queen Elizabeth II of England and Prince Phillip visited Seattle.

There being no objection, the House advanced to the sixth order of business.

Thank you for raising the point, Representative Heavey.

CENTENNIAL MESSAGE
FROM THE WASHINGTON STATE HISTORICAL SOCIETY
March 8, 1989

On this day in 1889, a horsebreeder near Cheney sold one hundred horses to the Army for one hundred dollars a head. The last time this breeder sold the Army horses, he left them untamed, and one recruit committed suicide rather than try to break such a "fierce-looking war-horse." This time, the breeder had broken his horses. And, the Westra Posten, a Swedish weekly newspaper published in Seattle and Tacoma, was established.

On this day in 1956 U.S. Senator Warren Magnuson spoke of economic interdependence on the Senate floor: "Business houses in Walla Walla cannot be prosperous for long unless the wheat growers of Whitman County are able to buy."

On March 8, 1973 the State Supreme Court refused to order the University of Washington's Law School to admit a white applicant who charged that racial minorities had been given extra consideration in the admissions process.

Ms. Brough yielded to question by Mr. Heavey.

Mr. Heavey: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Representative Brough, is it your intent to include a council district that is the west part of the city and extends to the Pierce County line as part of the central city district?

Ms. Brough: The county council district that starts in West Seattle and works its way down to Pierce County—I forget how many miles that is—probably, undoubtedly, should be lumped with southwest and southeast King County, so that there would be a cohesive voice from south county, a cohesive voice from central city, and a cohesive voice from the eastside. That's how the three metro districts would be arranged under this amendment.

Representatives Nelson and Horn spoke in favor of the amendment.

The amendment was adopted.

Mr. Schoon moved adoption of the following amendment:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The purpose of this act is to reduce the size of metropolitan councils and provide for the election of metropolitan council members.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A metropolitan municipal corporation shall be governed by a metropolitan council consisting of a person appointed as chair of the metropolitan council, as provided in this section, and a number of elected council members equal in number to the lesser of eighteen or two times the number of members on the county legislative authority of the central county.

The chair of the council shall be appointed by the other members of the council. The chair shall not hold any other public office, or be an employee of or have a contractual relationship with any city, county, water district, or sewer district, or the metropolitan municipal corporation. The chair shall be appointed annually at the first meeting of the metropolitan council in each year, but shall serve at the pleasure of the metropolitan council and can be removed at any time during the year.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. Two council members shall reside in, be nominated from, and be elected from each metropolitan council district. The metropolitan council districts shall be identical with the county legislative authority districts of the central county if the boundaries of the metropolitan municipal corporation are coterminous with the boundaries of the central county and the central county has nine or fewer county legislative authority districts.

If these conditions do not exist, metropolitan council districts shall be drawn so that two metropolitan council members shall reside in, be nominated from, and be elected from each of the metropolitan council districts. The initial metropolitan council districts shall be drawn by the county legislative authority of the central county, but subsequently shall be drawn by the metropolitan council within six months of the date whenever state redistricting data is released to the state. Metropolitan council districts, as nearly as possible, shall follow precinct lines, follow neighborhood and community boundaries, and include approximately equal populations.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. The elected members of a metropolitan council shall be elected in general elections held in odd-numbered years for staggered four-year terms until their successors are elected and qualified and assume office in accordance with RCW 29.04.170. The two metropolitan council members from each metropolitan council district shall be elected in the same year.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. The chair of the county legislative authority of the central county shall select by lot a simple majority of the metropolitan council districts from which the initial metropolitan council members are elected with terms that are two years longer than the initial council members who are elected from the remaining metropolitan council districts. If the initial elected metropolitan council members were elected in an odd-numbered year, those initial elected members who are elected from districts with the designated longer initial terms shall be elected for four-year terms, and the others shall be elected to two-year terms, with the length of the term being calculated from the first day of January in the year following the election. If the initial elected metropolitan council members were elected in an even-numbered year, those initial elected members who are elected from districts with the designated longer initial terms shall be elected for three-year terms, and the others shall be elected to one-year terms, with the length of the term being calculated from the first day of January in the year following the election.

However, the terms of metropolitan council members shall be staggered to be identical with those of the members of the county legislative authority who are elected from the same districts if the county legislative authority districts of the central county are used to elect metropolitan council members, and members of the county legislative authority are elected for four-year terms in odd-numbered years.

The first order of business of the newly elected metropolitan council shall be to appoint a chair as provided for in section 2 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. The members of the metropolitan council of a newly created metropolitan municipal corporation shall be elected at the next general election occurring ninety or more days after the date of the election at which the favorable vote was cast authorizing the creation of the metropolitan municipal corporation. A primary election shall be held to nominate two candidates for each elected metropolitan council position unless the election to authorize the creation of the metropolitan municipal corporation was held on the September special election date, in which case no primary election shall be held.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. The metropolitan council of a metropolitan municipal corporation existing on the effective date of this act shall retain its existing composition until January 1, 1990, at which time the newly constituted metropolitan council shall assume control over the metropolitan municipal corporation. The first order of business of the newly constituted metropolitan council shall be to appoint a chair as provided for in section 2 of this act.

Two candidates for each elective position shall be nominated at the 1989 primary election, and a person shall be elected to each of the elective positions at the 1989 general election, who shall assume office in accordance with RCW 29.04.170. The terms of office of the elected members shall be staggered as provided in section 5 of this act. If county legislative authority districts of the central county are not used to elect metropolitan council members, the county legislative authority of the central county shall establish the metropolitan council districts prior to July 1, 1989.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. The metropolitan council shall appoint an eligible person to fill a vacancy in an elective metropolitan council position. The appointee shall serve until a successor is elected and qualified at the next general election occurring sixty or more days after the vacancy has occurred. The person who is elected at that election shall take office immediately after he or she is qualified and shall serve the remainder of the unexpired term. However, if at this next district general election an election would have otherwise been held to elect a person to the position in which a vacancy has occurred, a separate election shall not be held to elect a person to fill the vacancy during the remainder of the unexpired term. The person who is elected at this election for this position shall take office immediately upon being qualified and shall serve for the remainder of the unexpired term in addition to the full term to which he or she is elected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. Each member of a metropolitan council shall receive per diem compensation at a rate of fifty dollars per day for each day or major portion thereof devoted to the business of the metropolitan municipal corporation, or for attending each meeting of the council or a subcommittee of the council, unless the council reduces the per diem rate of compensation, but not to exceed a total of seven thousand dollars in any one year.

Additionally, each member of a metropolitan council shall receive a salary equal to the maximum salary paid to a member of the Washington state legislature.

Council members shall be reimbursed for reasonable expenses actually incurred in the conduct of official business for the metropolitan municipal corporation.

Sec. 10. Section 35.58.040, chapter 7, Laws of 1965 as last amended by section 3, chapter 303, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. and RCW 35.58.040 are each amended to read as follows:

selecting a member of the metropolitan council pursuant to RCW 35.58.130(3) and such city shall neither select nor participate in the selection of a member on the metropolitan council pursuant to RCW 35.58.130(2)).

Any metropolitan municipal corporation now existing or hereafter created, within a class A county contiguous to a class AA county or class AA county, shall, upon May 21, 1971 as to metropolitan corporations existing on such date or upon the date of formation as to metropolitan corporations formed after May 21, 1971, have the same boundaries as those of the respective central county of such metropolitan corporation: PROVIDED. That the boundaries of such metropolitan corporation may be enlarged after such date by annexation as provided in chapter 35.58 RCW as now or hereafter amended. Any contiguous metropolitan municipal corporations may be consolidated into a single metropolitan municipal corporation upon such terms, for the purpose of performing such metropolitan function or functions, and to be effective at such time as may be approved by resolutions of the respective metropolitan councils. In the event of such consolidation the component city with the largest population shall be the central city of such consolidated metropolitan municipal corporation and the component county with the largest population shall be the central county of such consolidated metropolitan municipal corporation.

Sec. 11. Section 4, chapter 277, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 36.56.040 are each amended to read as follows:

If, from the testimony given before the county legislative authority, it appears that the public interest or welfare would be satisfied by the county assuming the rights, powers, functions, and obligations of the metropolitan municipal corporation, the county legislative authority may declare that to be its intent and assume such rights, powers, functions, and obligations by ordinance or resolution, as the case may be, providing that the county shall be vested with every right, power, function, and obligation currently granted to or possessed by the metropolitan municipal corporation pursuant to chapter 35.58 RCW (including RCW 35.58.273 relating to levy and use of the motor vehicle excise tax) or other provision of state law, including but not limited to, the power and authority to levy a sales and use tax pursuant to chapter 82.14 RCW or other provision of law: PROVIDED. That such ordinance or resolution shall be submitted to the voters of the county for their adoption and ratification or rejection, and if a majority of the persons voting on the proposition residing within the central city shall vote in favor thereof and a majority of the persons voting on the proposition residing in the metropolitan area outside of the central city shall vote in favor thereof, the ordinance or resolution shall be deemed adopted and ratified.

Upon assumption of the rights, powers, functions, and obligations of the metropolitan municipal corporation by the county, the metropolitan council established pursuant to (the provisions of RCW 35.58.120 through 35.58.160) sections 2 through 6 of this act shall be abolished, said provisions shall be inapplicable to the county, and the county legislative authority shall thereafter be vested with all rights, powers, duties, and obligations otherwise vested by law in the metropolitan council: PROVIDED. That in any county with a home rule charter such rights, powers, functions, and obligations shall vest in accordance with the executive and legislative responsibilities defined in such charter.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Ms. Silver yielded to question by Mr. Van Luven.

Mr. Van Luven: Representative Silver, you mentioned something interesting. As one who was raised here in Olympia by state employees, who did not make forty thousand dollars, could you tell me if that is actually true—that this will be used by state employees making forty to one hundred thousand dollars? Most of our state employees aren't making that. I want to help state employees, but I'm not looking out for the ones who make ninety-eight and one hundred thousand dollars. We all want to help the handicapped children and sick children; we're not voting against them. But I'm not excited about helping people in that kind of salary range, and I was wondering if you can clarify that, please?

Ms. Silver: In the child care facility that is presently in Olympia, forty percent of the people are making over forty thousand and we have one couple who are making over one hundred thousand. In the community college in Everett, fifty percent will be provided to the FIP Program and the other fifty percent will be divided into half for the students and half for the professors.

A person who in good faith communicates a complaint or information to any agency of federal, state, or local government regarding any matter reasonably of concern to that agency shall be immune from civil liability on claims based upon the communication to the agency. A person prevailing upon the defense provided for in this section shall be entitled to recover costs and reasonable attorneys’ fees incurred in establishing the defense.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. In order to protect the free flow of information from citizens to their government, an agency receiving a complaint or information under section 2 of this act may intervene in and defend against any suit precipitated by the communication to the agency. In the event that a local governmental agency does not intervene in and defend against a suit arising from any communication protected under this act, the office of the attorney general may intervene in and defend against the suit. An agency prevailing upon the defense provided for in section 2 of this act shall be entitled to recover costs and reasonable attorneys’ fees incurred in establishing the defense. If the agency fails to establish the defense provided for in section 2 of this act, the party bringing the action shall be entitled to recover from the agency costs and reasonable attorney’s fees incurred in proving the defense inapplicable or invalid.

Regulating the relationship between motor vehicle dealers and manufacturers.

The bill was read the second time.

Mr. Walk moved adoption of the following amendment by Representatives Walk and Schmidt:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature recognizes it is in the best interest for manufacturers and dealers of motor vehicles to conduct business with each other in a fair, efficient, and competitive manner. The legislature declares the public interest is best served by dealers being assured of the ability to manage their business enterprises under a contractual obligation with manufacturers where dealers do not experience unreasonable interference, receive adequate allocations of merchandise in a timely manner at competitive prices, and transfer ownership of their business without undue constraints. It is the intent of the legislature to impose a regulatory scheme and to regulate competition in the motor vehicle industry to the extent necessary to balance fairness and efficiency. These actions will assure the public that motor vehicle dealers will devote their best competitive efforts and resources to the sale and service of the manufacturer's products that the dealer has been granted the right to sell and service.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. In addition to the definitions contained in RCW 46.70.01, which are incorporated by reference into this chapter, the definitions set forth in this section apply throughout this chapter.

1. 'New motor vehicle dealer' means a motor vehicle dealer engaged in the business of buying, selling, exchanging, or otherwise dealing in new motor vehicles or new and used motor vehicles at an established place of business, under a franchise, sales and service agreement, or contract with the manufacturer of the new motor vehicles. However, the term 'new motor vehicle dealer' does not include a miscellaneous vehicle dealer as defined in RCW 46.70.011(3)(c) or a motorcycle dealer as defined in chapter 46.94 RCW.

2. 'Franchise' means one or more agreements, whether oral or written, between a manufacturer and a new motor vehicle dealer, under which the new motor vehicle dealer is authorized to sell, service, and repair new motor vehicles, parts, and accessories or lease or rent the dealership premises, under a common name, trade name, trademark, or service mark of the manufacturer.

'Franchise' includes an oral or written contract and includes a dealer agreement, either expressed or implied, between a manufacturer and a new motor vehicle dealer that purports to fix the legal rights and liabilities between the parties and under which (a) the dealer is granted the right to purchase and resell motor vehicles manufactured, distributed, or imported by the manufacturer; (b) the dealer's business is associated with the trademark, trade name, commercial symbol, or advertisement designating the franchisor or the products distributed by the manufacturer; and (c) the dealer's business relies on the manufacturer for a continued supply of motor vehicles, parts, and accessories.

(3) 'Good faith' means honesty in fact and fair dealing in the trade as defined and interpreted in RCW 62A.2-103.

(4) 'Designated successor' means:
(a) The spouse, biological or adopted child, grandchild, parent, brother, or sister of the owner of a new motor vehicle dealership who, in the case of the owner's death, is entitled to inherit the ownership interest in the new motor vehicle dealership under the terms of the owner's will or applicable intestate laws;
(b) A person who has been nominated by the owner of a new motor vehicle dealership as the successor in a written, notarized, and witnessed instrument submitted to the manufacturer; or
(c) In the case of an incapacitated owner of a new motor vehicle dealership, the person who has been appointed by a court as the legal representative of the incapacitated owner's property.

(5) 'Owner' means a person holding an ownership interest in the business entity operating as a new motor vehicle dealer and who is the designated dealer in the new motor vehicle franchise agreement.

(6) 'Person' means every natural person, partnership, corporation, association, trust, estate, or any other legal entity.

(7) 'Relevant market area' means the geographic area within a radius of ten miles around an existing new motor vehicle dealer or the geographic area of responsibility defined in the franchise, whichever is greater. However, where a manufacturer is seeking to establish an additional new motor vehicle dealer or to relocate an existing new motor vehicle dealer, the 'relevant market area' is as follows:
(a) If the population in the county in which the proposed new dealership is to be located is four hundred thousand or more, the relevant market area is the geographic area within a fifteen-mile radius of the proposed site or the geographic area of responsibility defined in the franchise, whichever is greater;
(b) If the population in the county in which the proposed new dealership is to be located is less than four hundred thousand, the relevant market area is the geographic area within a radius of thirty miles around the proposed site or the geographic area of responsibility defined in the franchise, whichever is greater.

In determining population for this definition, the most recent census by the United States Bureau of Census or the most recent population update, either from the National Planning Data Corporation or other similar recognized source, shall be accumulated for all census tracts either wholly or partially within the relevant market area.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. Notwithstanding the terms of a franchise and notwithstanding the terms of a waiver, no manufacturer may terminate, cancel, or fail to renew a franchise with a new motor vehicle dealer, unless the manufacturer has complied with the notice requirements of section 7 of this act and an administrative law judge has determined, if requested in writing by the new motor vehicle dealer within the applicable time period specified in section 7(1), (2), or (3) of this act, after hearing, that there is good cause for the termination, cancellation, or nonrenewal of the franchise and that the manufacturer has acted in good faith, as defined in this chapter, regarding the termination, cancellation, or nonrenewal.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A new motor vehicle dealer who has received written notification from the manufacturer of the manufacturer's intent to terminate, cancel, or not renew the franchise may file a petition with the department for a determination as to the existence of good cause and good faith for the termination, cancellation, or nonrenewal of a franchise. Upon the filing of the petition and the receipt of the filing fee, the department shall promptly notify the manufacturer that a timely petition has been filed and shall request the appointment of an administrative law judge under chapter 34.12 RCW to conduct a hearing. The franchise in question shall continue in full force and effect pending the administrative law judge's decision. If the decision of the administrative law judge terminating, canceling, or failing to renew a dealer's franchise is appealed by a dealer, the franchise in question shall continue in full force and effect until the appeal to superior court is finally determined.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. (1) The administrative law judge shall conduct the hearing and render a final decision as expeditiously as possible, but in any event not later than one hundred eighty days after a petition is filed. If the termination, cancellation, or nonrenewal is under section 7(2) of this act, the administrative law judge shall give the proceeding priority consideration and shall render a final decision not later than sixty days after a petition is filed.

(2) The administrative law judge shall conduct the hearing as an adjudicative proceeding in accordance with the procedures provided for in the Administrative Procedure Act, chapter 34.05 RCW. The administrative law judge shall render the final decision and shall enter a final order. Except as otherwise provided in RCW 34.05.446 and 34.05.449, all hearing costs shall be borne on an equal basis by the parties to the hearing.

(3) A party to a hearing under this chapter may be represented by counsel. A party to a hearing aggrieved by the final order of the administrative law judge concerning the termination, cancellation, or nonrenewal of a franchise may seek judicial review of the order in the superior court in the manner provided for in RCW 34.05.510 through 34.05.598. A petitioner for judicial review need not exhaust all administrative remedies as a prerequisite for seeking judicial review under this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. (1) Notwithstanding the terms of a franchise and notwithstanding the terms of a waiver, good cause exists for termination, cancellation, or nonrenewal when:

(a) There is a failure by the new motor vehicle dealer to comply with a provision of the franchise that is both reasonable and of material significance to the franchise relationship, if the new motor vehicle dealer was notified of the failure within one hundred eighty days after the manufacturer first acquired knowledge of the failure and the new motor vehicle dealer did not correct the failure.

(b) If the failure of the new motor vehicle dealer, defined in (a) of this subsection, relates to the performance of the new motor vehicle dealer in sales, service, or level of customer satisfaction, good cause is the failure of the new motor vehicle dealer to comply with reasonable performance standards determined by the manufacturer in accordance with uniformly applied criteria, and:

(i) The new motor vehicle dealer was advised, in writing, by the manufacturer of the failure;

(ii) The notice under (a) of this subsection stated that notice was provided of a failure of performance under this section;

(iii) The manufacturer provided the new motor vehicle dealer with specific, reasonable goals or reasonable performance standards with which the dealer must comply, together with a suggested timetable or program for attaining those goals or standards, and the new motor vehicle dealer was given a reasonable opportunity, for a period not less than one hundred eighty days, to comply with the goals or standards; and

(iv) The new motor vehicle dealer did not substantially comply with the manufacturer's performance standards during that period and the failure to demonstrate substantial compliance was not due to market or economic factors within the new motor vehicle dealer's relevant market area that were beyond the control of the dealer.

(2) The manufacturer has the burden of proof of establishing good cause and good faith for the termination, cancellation, or nonrenewal of the franchise under this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. Before the termination, cancellation, or nonrenewal of a franchise, the manufacturer shall give written notification to both the department and the new motor vehicle dealer. The notice shall be by certified mail or personally delivered to the new motor vehicle dealer and shall state the intention to terminate, cancel, or not renew the franchise. The notice shall be given:

(1) Not less than ninety days before the effective date of termination, cancellation, or nonrenewal;

(2) Not less than fifteen days before the effective date of termination, cancellation, or nonrenewal with respect to any of the following that constitute good cause for termination, cancellation, or nonrenewal:

(a) Insolvency of the new motor vehicle dealer or the filing of any petition by or against the new motor vehicle dealer under bankruptcy or receivership law;

(b) Failure of the new motor vehicle dealer to conduct sales and service operations during customary business hours for seven consecutive business days, except for acts of God or circumstances beyond the direct control of the new motor vehicle dealer;

(d) Revocation of a license that the new motor vehicle dealer is required to have to operate the new motor vehicle dealership;

(3) Not less than one hundred eighty days before the effective date of termination, cancellation, or nonrenewal, where the manufacturer intends to discontinue sale and distribution of the new motor vehicle line.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. (1) Upon the termination, cancellation, or nonrenewal of a franchise by the manufacturer under this chapter, the manufacturer shall pay the new motor vehicle dealer, at a minimum:
(a) Dealer cost plus any charges by the manufacturer for distribution, delivery, and taxes, less all allowances paid or credited to the dealer by the manufacturer, of unused, undamaged, and unsold new motor vehicles in the new motor vehicle dealer's inventory that were acquired from the manufacturer or another new motor vehicle dealer of the same line make within the previous twelve months;

(b) Dealer cost for all unused, undamaged, and unsold supplies; parts, and accessories in original packaging, except that in the case of sheet metal, a comparable substitute for original packaging may be used, if the supply, part, or accessory was acquired from the manufacturer or from another new motor vehicle dealer ceasing operations as a part of the new motor vehicle dealer's initial inventory;

(c) The fair market value of each undamaged sign owned by the new motor vehicle dealer that bears a common name, trade name, or trademark of the manufacturer, if acquisition of the sign was recommended or required by the manufacturer;

(d) The fair market value of all equipment, furnishings, and special tools acquired from the manufacturer or sources approved by the manufacturer and that were recommended or required by the manufacturer and are in good and usable condition, less reasonable wear and tear; and

(e) The cost of transporting, handling, packing, and loading of new motor vehicles, supplies, parts, accessories, signs, special tools, equipment, and furnishings.

To the extent the franchise agreement provides for payment or reimbursement to the new motor vehicle dealer in excess of that specified in this section, the provisions of the franchise agreement shall control.

(2) The manufacturer shall pay the new motor vehicle dealer the sums specified in subsection (1) of this section within thirty days after the tender of the property. If the new motor vehicle dealer has clear title to the property and is in a position to convey that title to the manufacturer.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. (1) In the event of a termination, cancellation, or nonrenewal under this chapter, except for termination, cancellation, or nonrenewal under section 7(2) of this act, the manufacturer shall, at the request and option of the new motor vehicle dealer, also pay to the new motor vehicle dealer:

(a) A sum equivalent to rent for the unexpired term of the lease or one year, whichever is less, or such longer term as provided in the franchise, if the new motor vehicle dealer is leasing the new motor vehicle dealership facilities from a lessor other than the manufacturer; or

(b) A sum equivalent to the reasonable rental value of the new motor vehicle dealership facilities for one year or until the facilities are leased or sold, whichever is less, if the new motor vehicle dealer owns the new motor vehicle dealership facilities.

(2) The rental payment required under subsection (1) of this section is only required to the extent that the facilities were used for activities under the franchise and only to the extent the facilities were not leased for unrelated purposes. If payment under subsection (1) of this section is made, the manufacturer is entitled to possession and use of the new motor vehicle dealership facilities for the period rent is paid.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. Sections 3 through 9 of this act do not relieve a new motor vehicle dealer from the obligation to mitigate the dealer's damages upon termination, cancellation, or nonrenewal of the franchise.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. (1) Notwithstanding the terms of a franchise, an owner may appoint a designated successor to succeed to the ownership of the new motor vehicle dealer franchise.

(2) Notwithstanding the terms of a franchise, unless the manufacturer establishes that good cause exists for refusing to honor succession, a designated successor of a deceased or incapacitated owner of a new motor vehicle dealer franchise may succeed to the ownership interest of the owner under the existing franchise, if:

(a) The designated successor furnishes written notice to the manufacturer of his or her intention to succeed to the ownership of the new motor vehicle dealership within sixty days after the owner's death or incapacity; and

(b) The designated successor agrees to be bound by all terms and conditions of the franchise.

(3) The manufacturer may request, and the designated successor shall promptly provide, such personal and financial information as is reasonably necessary to determine whether the succession should be honored.

(4) If a manufacturer believes that good cause exists for refusing to honor the succession to the ownership of a new motor vehicle dealer franchise by a designated successor, the manufacturer may serve written notice on the designated successor and on the department of its refusal to honor the succession and its intent to discontinue the existing franchise with the new motor vehicle dealer no earlier than sixty days from the date the notice is served. The notice must be served not later than sixty days after the manufacturer's receipt of:

(a) Notice of the designated successor's intent to succeed to the ownership interest of the new motor vehicle dealer's franchise; or

(b) Any personal or financial information requested by the manufacturer.
NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. If a manufacturer intends or proposes to enter into a franchise to establish an additional new motor vehicle dealer or to relocate an existing new motor vehicle dealer within or into a relevant market area in which the same line make of motor vehicle is then represented, the manufacturer shall provide at least ninety days advance written notice to the department and to each new motor vehicle dealer of the same line make in the relevant market area, of the manufacturer's intention to establish an additional new motor vehicle dealer or to relocate an existing new motor vehicle dealer within or into the relevant market area. The notice shall be sent by certified mail to each such party and shall include the following information:

(1) The specific location at which the additional or relocated motor vehicle dealer will be established;
(2) The date on or after which the additional or relocated motor vehicle dealer intends to commence business at the proposed location;
(3) The identity of all motor vehicle dealers who are franchised to sell the same line make vehicles as the proposed dealer and who have licensed locations within the relevant market area;
(4) The names and addresses of the owners of and principal investors in the proposed additional or relocated motor vehicle dealership; and
(5) The specific grounds or reasons for the proposed establishment of an additional motor vehicle dealer or relocation of an existing dealer.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. Within thirty days after receipt of the notice under section 12 of this act or within thirty days after the end of an appeal procedure provided by the manufacturer, whichever is greater, a new motor vehicle dealer so notified or entitled to notice may file a protest with the department against the proposed establishment or relocation. Upon the filing of a protest and the receipt of the filing fee, the department shall promptly notify the manufacturer that a timely protest has been filed and shall request the appointment of an administrative law judge under chapter 34.12 RCW to conduct a hearing. The manufacturer shall not terminate or discontinue the existing franchise until the administrative law judge has held a hearing and has determined that there is good cause for refusing to honor the succession. If an appeal is taken, the manufacturer shall not terminate or discontinue the franchise until the appeal to superior court is finally determined.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. In determining whether good cause exists for permitting the proposed establishment or relocation of a new motor vehicle dealer of the same line make, the administrative law judge shall take into consideration the existing circumstances, including, but not limited to:

(1) The extent, nature, and permanency of the investment of both the existing motor vehicle dealers of the same line make in the relevant market area and the proposed additional or relocating new motor vehicle dealer, including obligations reasonably incurred by the existing dealers to perform their obligations under their respective franchises;

(2) The growth or decline in population and new motor vehicle registrations during the past five years in the relevant market area;

(3) The effect on the consuming public in the relevant market area;

(4) The effect on the existing new motor vehicle dealers in the relevant market area, including any adverse financial impact;

(5) The reasonably expected or anticipated vehicle market for the relevant market area, including demographic factors such as age of population, income, education, size class preference, product popularity, retail lease transactions, or other factors affecting sales to consumers in the relevant market area;

(6) Whether it is injurious or beneficial to the public welfare for an additional new motor vehicle dealer to be established;

(7) Whether the new motor vehicle dealers of the same line make in the relevant market area are providing adequate competition and convenient customer care for the motor vehicles of the same line make in the relevant market area, including the adequacy of motor vehicle sales and service facilities, equipment, supply of vehicle parts, and qualified service personnel;

(8) Whether the establishment of an additional new motor vehicle dealer would increase competition and be in the public interest;

(9) Whether the manufacturer is motivated to establish an additional or new motor vehicle dealer by noneconomic considerations such as the manufacturer's desire to coerce, intimidate, or retaliate against an existing new motor vehicle dealer;

(10) Whether the manufacturer has denied its existing new motor vehicle dealers of the same line make the opportunity for reasonable growth, market expansion, establishment of a subagency, or relocation;

(11) Whether the protesting dealer or dealers are in substantial compliance with their dealer agreements or franchises; and

(12) Whether the manufacturer has complied with the requirements of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. (1) The manufacturer and the proposed additional or relocating new motor vehicle dealer have the burden of proof to establish that good cause exists for permitting the proposed establishment or relocation.

(2) The administrative law judge shall conduct any hearing as provided in section 5(2) of this act. The administrative law judge shall render the final decision as expeditiously as possible, but in any event not later than one hundred twenty days after a protest is filed. If more than one protest is filed, the one hundred twenty days commences to run from the date the last protest is filed. A party to such a hearing aggrieved by the final order of the administrative law judge may appeal as provided and allowed in section 5(3) of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. (1) To the sale or transfer of the ownership or assets of an existing new motor vehicle dealer where the transferee proposes to engage in business representing the same line make at the same location;

(2) To the relocation of an existing new motor vehicle dealer within the dealer's relevant market area, if the relocation is not at a site within ten miles of any new motor vehicle dealer of the same line make;

(3) If the proposed new motor vehicle dealer is to be established at or within two miles of a location at which a former new motor vehicle dealer of the same line make had ceased operating within the previous twelve months;

(4) Where the proposed relocation is two miles or less from the existing location of the relocating new motor vehicle dealer;

(5) Where the proposed relocation is to be further away from all other existing new motor vehicle dealers of the same line make in the relevant market area.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. A manufacturer shall not coerce, threaten, intimidate, or require a new motor vehicle dealer, as a condition to granting or renewing a franchise, to waive, limit, or disclaim a right that the dealer may have to protest the establishment or relocation of another motor vehicle dealer in the relevant market area as provided in section 13 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. (1) Notwithstanding the terms of a franchise, a manufacturer shall not unreasonably withhold consent to the sale, transfer, or exchange of a franchise to a qualified buyer capable of being licensed as a new motor vehicle dealer in the state of Washington. A manufacturer's failure to respond in writing to a request for consent under this subsection within sixty days after receipt of a written request on the forms, if any, generally used by the manufacturer containing the information and reasonable promises required by a manufacturer is deemed to be consent to the request. A manufacturer may request, and, if so requested, the applicant for a franchise (a) shall promptly provide such personal and financial information as is reasonably necessary to determine whether the sale, transfer, or exchange should be approved, and (b) shall agree to be bound by all reasonable terms and conditions of the franchise.
(2) If a manufacturer refuses to approve the sale, transfer, or exchange of a franchise, the manufacturer shall serve written notice on the applicant, the transferring, selling, or exchanging new motor vehicle dealer; and the department of its refusal to approve the transfer of the franchise no later than sixty days after the date the manufacturer receives the written request from the new motor vehicle dealer. If the manufacturer has requested personal or financial information from the applicant under subsection (1) of this section, the notice shall be served not later than sixty days after the receipt of all of such documents. Service of all notices under this section shall be made by personal service or by certified mail, return receipt requested.

(3) The notice in subsection (2) of this section shall state the specific grounds for the refusal to approve the sale, transfer, or exchange of the franchise.

(4) Within twenty days after receipt of the notice of refusal to approve the sale, transfer, or exchange of the franchise by the transferring new motor vehicle dealer, the new motor vehicle dealer may file with the department a protest to the refusal to approve the sale, transfer, or exchange. Upon the filing of a protest and the receipt of the filing fee, the department shall promptly notify the manufacturer that a timely protest has been filed, and the department shall arrange for a hearing with an administrative law judge as the presiding officer to determine if the manufacturer unreasonably withheld consent to the sale, transfer, or exchange of the franchise.

(5) In determining whether the manufacturer unreasonably withheld its approval to the sale, transfer, or exchange, the manufacturer has the burden of proof that it acted reasonably.

(6) The administrative law judge shall conduct a hearing and render a final decision as expeditiously as possible, but in any event not later than one hundred twenty days after a protest is filed. An interested party, including the applicant and the selling, transferring, or exchanging new motor vehicle dealer, may participate in the hearing.

(7) The administrative law judge shall conduct any hearing as provided in section 5(2) of this act. Only the manufacturer and the selling, transferring or exchanging new motor vehicle dealer may appeal the final order of the administrative law judge as provided in section 5(3) of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. The department shall determine and establish the amount of the filing fee required in sections 4, 11, 13, and 18 of this act. The fees shall be set in accordance with RCW 43.24.086.

The department may also require the petitioning or protesting party to give security, in such sum as the department deems proper but not in any event to exceed one thousand dollars, for the payment of such costs as may be incurred in conducting the hearing as required under this chapter. The security may be given in the form of a bond or stipulation or other undertaking with one or more sureties.

At the conclusion of the hearing, the department shall assess, in equal shares, each of the parties to the hearing for the cost of conducting the hearing. Upon receipt of payment of the costs, the department shall refund and return to the petitioning party such excess funds, if any, initially posted by the party as security for the hearing costs. If the petitioning party provided security in the form of a bond or other undertaking with one or more sureties, the bond or other undertaking shall then be exonerated and the surety or sureties under it discharged.

Sec. 20. Section 16, chapter 74, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. as last amended by section 18, chapter 241, Laws of 1966 and RCW 46.70.180 are each amended to read as follows:

Each of the following acts or practices is unlawful:

(1) To cause or permit to be advertised, printed, displayed, published, distributed, broadcasted, televised, or disseminated in any manner whatsoever, any statement or representation with regard to the sale or financing of a vehicle which is false, deceptive, or misleading, including but not limited to the following:

(a) That no down payment is required in connection with the sale of a vehicle when a down payment is in fact required, or that a vehicle may be purchased for a smaller down payment than is actually required;

(b) That a certain percentage of the sale price of a vehicle may be financed when such financing is not offered in a single document evidencing the entire security transaction;

(c) That a certain percentage is the amount of the service charge to be charged for financing, without stating whether this percentage charge is a monthly amount or an amount to be charged per year;

(d) That a new vehicle will be sold for a certain amount above or below cost without computing cost as the exact amount of the factory invoice on the specific vehicle to be sold;

(e) That a vehicle will be sold upon a monthly payment of a certain amount, without including in the statement the number of payments of that same amount which are required to liquidate the unpaid purchase price.

(2) To incorporate within the terms of any purchase and sale agreement any statement or representation with regard to the sale or financing of a vehicle which is false, deceptive, or misleading, including but not limited to terms that include as an added cost to the selling price of a vehicle an amount for licensing or transfer of title of that vehicle which is not actually due to the state, unless such amount has in fact been paid by the dealer prior to such sale.
(3) To set up, promote, or aid in the promotion of a plan by which vehicles are to be sold to a person for a consideration and upon further consideration that the purchaser agrees to secure one or more persons to participate in the plan by respectively making a similar purchase and in turn agreeing to secure one or more persons likewise to join in said plan, each purchaser being given the right to secure money, credits, goods, or something of value, depending upon the number of persons joining the plan.

(4) To commit, allow, or ratify any act of 'bushing' which is defined as follows: Taking from a prospective buyer of a vehicle a written order or offer to purchase, or a contract document signed by the buyer, which:

(a) Is subject to the dealer's, or his authorized representative's future acceptance, and the dealer fails or refuses within forty-eight hours, exclusive of Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday, and prior to any further negotiations with said buyer, to deliver to the buyer either the dealer's signed acceptance or all copies of the order, offer, or contract document together with any initial payment or security made or given by the buyer, including but not limited to money, check, promissory note, vehicle keys, a trade-in, or certificate of title to a trade-in; or

(b) Permits the dealer to renegotiate a dollar amount specified as trade-in allowance on a vehicle delivered or to be delivered by the buyer as part of the purchase price, for any reason except substantial physical damage or latent mechanical defect occurring before the dealer took possession of the vehicle and which could not have been reasonably discoverable at the time of the taking of the order, offer, or contract; or

(c) Fails to comply with the obligation of any written warranty or guarantee given by the dealer requiring the furnishing of services or repairs within a reasonable time.

(5) To commit any offense relating to odometers, as such offenses are defined in RCW 46.37.540, 46.37.550, 46.37.560, and 46.37.570. A violation of this subsection is a class C felony punishable under chapter 9A.20 RCW.

(6) For any vehicle dealer or vehicle salesman to refuse to furnish, upon request of a prospective purchaser, the name and address of the previous registered owner of any used vehicle offered for sale.

(7) To commit any other offense under RCW 46.37.423, 46.37.424, or 46.37.425.

(8) To commit any offense relating to a dealer's temporary license permit, including but not limited to failure to properly complete each such permit, or the issuance of more than one such permit on any one vehicle.

(9) For a dealer, salesman, or mobile home manufacturer, having taken an instrument or cash 'on deposit' from a purchaser prior to the delivery of the bargainedor, vehicle, to commingle said 'on deposit' funds with assets of the dealer, salesman, or mobile home manufacturer instead of holding said 'on deposit' funds as trustee in a separate trust account until the purchaser has taken delivery of the bargainedor vehicle. Failure, immediately upon receipt, to endorse 'on deposit' instruments to such a trust account, or to set aside 'on deposit' cash for deposit in such trust account, and failure to deposit such instruments or cash in such trust account by the close of banking hours on the day following receipt thereof, shall be evidence of intent to commit this unlawful practice: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That a motor vehicle dealer may keep a separate trust account which equals his customary total customer deposits for vehicles for future delivery.

(10) For a dealer or manufacturer to fail to comply with the obligations of any written warranty or guarantee given by the dealer or manufacturer requiring the furnishing of goods and services or repairs within a reasonable period of time, or to fail to furnish to a purchaser, all parts which attach to the manufactured unit including but not limited to the undercarriage, and all items specified in the terms of a sales agreement signed by the seller and buyer.

(11) Being a manufacturer, other than a motorcycle manufacturer governed by chapter 46.94 RCW, to:

(a) Coerce or attempt to coerce any vehicle dealer to order or accept delivery of any vehicle or vehicles, parts or accessories, or any other commodities which have not been voluntarily ordered by the vehicle dealer: PROVIDED. That recommendation, endorsement, expositIon, persuasion, urging, or argument are not deemed to constitute coercion;

(b) Cancel or fail to renew the franchise or selling agreement of any vehicle dealer doing business in this state without fairly compensating the dealer at a fair going business value for his capital investment which shall include but not be limited to tools, equipment, and parts inventory possessed by the dealer on the day he is notified of such cancellation or termination and which are still within the dealer's possession on the day the cancellation or termination is effective. If: (1) The capital investment has been entered into with reasonable and prudent business judgment for the purpose of fulfilling the franchise; and (2) said cancellation or nonrenewal was not done in good faith. Good faith is defined as the duty of each party to any franchise to act in a fair and equitable manner towards each other, so as to guarantee one party freedom from coercion, intimidation, or threats of coercion or intimidation from the other party: PROVIDED. That recommendation, endorsement, exposition, persuasion, urging, or argument are not deemed to constitute a lack of good faith.
(c) Encourage, aid, abet, or teach a vehicle dealer to sell vehicles through any false, deceptive, or misleading sales or financing practices including but not limited to those practices declared unlawful in this section;

(d) Coerce or attempt to coerce a vehicle dealer to engage in any practice forbidden in this section by either threats of actual cancellation or failure to renew the dealer's franchise agreement;

(e) Refuse to deliver any vehicle publicly advertised for immediate delivery to any duly licensed vehicle dealer having a franchise or contractual agreement for the retail sale of new and unused vehicles sold or distributed by such manufacturer within sixty days after such dealer's order has been received in writing unless caused by inability to deliver because of shortage or curtailment of material, labor, transportation, or utility services, or by any labor or production difficulty, or by any cause beyond the reasonable control of the manufacturer;

(f) To provide under the terms of any warranty that a purchaser of any new or unused vehicle that has been sold, distributed for sale, or transferred into this state for resale by the vehicle manufacturer may only make any warranty claim on any item included as an integral part of the vehicle against the manufacturer of that item.

Nothing in this section may be construed to impair the obligations of a contract or to prevent a manufacturer, distributor, representative, or any other person, whether or not licensed under this chapter, from requiring performance of a written contract entered into with any person or circumstances, nor does the requirement of such performance constitute a violation of any of the provisions of this section if any such contract or the terms thereof requiring performance, have been freely entered into and executed between the contracting parties. This paragraph and subsection (1)(b) of this section do not apply to new motor vehicle manufacturers governed by chapter 46.99.190, provisions of RCW 46.70.190, and subsection (1)(b) of this section for alleged violation of RCW 46.70.180(1)(b) with respect to matters arising prior to the date of said judgment.)

Any civil action brought in the superior court pursuant to the provisions of this section must be filed no later than one year following the alleged violation of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 23. The following acts or parts of acts are each repealed:

FROM THE WASHINGTON STATE HISTORICAL SOCIETY

March 13, 1989

On this day in 1889, the Washington Water Power Company was incorporated and bought part of the falls at Spokane as a power station. (The flour mill could not provide enough electricity.) When the new power station was finished, it was the largest west of Denver. And, at Roche Harbor in the San Juan Islands, lime kilns burning day and night were producing three hundred and fifty barrels a day of the vital building material. The kilns employed sixty men; a barrel sold for $1.50.

On March 13, 1908 the heaviest rain storm of the season on Washington's Pacific Coast blocked railroads but pleased lumbermen.

On March 13, 1912 Puyallup ordered the installation of water meters in hotels, laundries, livery stables and factories (but not houses). Water rates were $1 a month plus twenty-five cents during the "sprinkling season."

And on this day in 1920 at Montesano the trial of ten IWW members, accused of murder at the Centralia "massacre" of November 11, 1919, ended with eight convicted (one of them ruled insane) and two acquitted.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker announced that the House would immediately resume consideration of Substitute House Bill No. 1217 on second reading. (See Journal, 61st Day, March 10, 1989, for previous action.)

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1217, by Committee on Local Government (originally sponsored by Representatives Cooper, Ferguson, Haugen and Hine)

Revising provisions for water and sewer districts.

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be the Point of Order by Representative Haugen regarding the scope and object of the amendment by Representatives Spane!, Kremen, Youngsman and Braddock.

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker finds that, while the substitute bill does deal with sewer and water districts, that is about the only similarity between the amendment and the original subject of the bill. This would be a classic example of where the member's amendment is intended to perfect. The original bill, while it mentions sewer and water districts, deals with annexations of any territories for sewer and water districts, how to merge or consolidate sewer or water districts, and how to sell real property. Basically, the original bill deals with governance issues of sewer and water districts; it does not deal with the subject that Representative Spanel has attempted to raise. I find, Representative Haugen, that your point is well taken; that the amendment is outside the scope and object of the original bill.

With consent of the House, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Mr. Cooper spoke in favor of passage of the bill

In cases relating to sexual offenses allegedly committed against a child under the age of ten years, statements made by the child to a licensed mental health care provider for the purpose of diagnosis or treatment of a mental or emotional disorder insofar as those statements are reasonably pertinent to that diagnosis or treatment shall be admissible as evidence whether or not the child is available as a witness."

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Crane: Mr. Speaker, I request a ruling on the scope and object of this amendment.

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: Representative Crane, the Speaker has examined both House Bill No. 1065 and Substitute House Bill No. 1065 and finds that they deal with the general subject of the Sentencing Guidelines Commission and specifically with the evaluation of the effectiveness of mandatory treatment for sexual offenders. It deals with the statute of limitations; it deals with establishing a commission to study this. The amendment, I think, is outside the scope. It goes on and tries to define what is legally admissible evidence in these cases. When a bill sets out to do several things, the amendment can perfect that piece of legislation, but it cannot bring in a new subject. For that reason, Representative Crane, I find that your point is well taken; that the amendment is outside the scope and object of both the bill and the substitute bill.

Mr. Patrick moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 16, following line 26, insert:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. In cases relating to sexual offenses allegedly committed against a child under the age of ten years, statements made by the child describing any act of sexual conduct performed with or on the child shall be admissible as evidence whether or not the child is available as a witness, if it is established to the satisfaction of the court that the timing, content and circumstances of the statement provides substantial indicia of reliability. In determining whether a statement provides substantial indicia of reliability the court shall consider, but is not limited to, the following factors:

(A) The child's personal knowledge of the event;
(B) Certainty that the statement was made, including the credibility of the person testifying about the statement;
(C) Any apparent motive the child may have to falsify or distort the event, including bias, corruption or coercion;
(D) Whether more than one person heard the statement;
(E) The nature of any alleged abuse;
(F) Whether the child's age makes it unlikely that the child fabricated a statement that represents a graphic, detailed account beyond the child's knowledge and experience;
(G) Whether the statement has internal consistency or coherence and uses terminology appropriate to the child's age."
Whether extrinsic evidence exists to show the accused's opportunity to commit the act to which the child's statement refers.

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Crane: I request a ruling on the scope and object of this amendment also, Mr. Speaker.

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: Representative Crane, this will only take a quick perusal of the amendment. Since the point raised is very, very similar to the previous one, again the amendment offered by Representative Patrick does not perfect the original bill or the substitute bill. It tends to bring into the discussion what is admissible evidence. I find that your point is well taken; the amendment is outside the scope and object of the original bill.

With consent of the House, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

MOTION

Mr. Padden moved that the Committee on Rules be relieved of House Bill No. 1537 and that the bill be placed on the third reading calendar.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Ebersole: Mr. Speaker, we are not on the eighth order of business. Do not the rules state explicitly that we have to be on the eighth order of business?

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: House Rule 15(A)(1): "By motion under the eighth order of business, a bill in the rules committee may be placed on the calendar by the affirmative vote of a majority of all members of the house." Representative Ebersole, your point is well taken. Representative Padden, your motion is out of order.

POINT OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Padden: Mr. Speaker, you just allowed a bill to be pulled from the Committee on Rules and, based on that precedent, I was asking to relieve the committee of another bill, since you had just done that.

SPEAKER'S REPLY

The Speaker: Did somebody raise a point of order on another bill that we had before us?

POINT OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Ms. Brough: Mr. Speaker, it is my understanding that we just pulled Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 2159 from the Committee on Rules and placed it on the calendar. Can you tell me on which order of business we did this?

SPEAKER'S REPLY

The Speaker: Sixth order of business.

POINT OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Ms. Brough: Mr. Speaker, it is appropriate to do this on the sixth order of business?

SPEAKER'S REPLY

The Speaker: No. If somebody would have raised a point of order, it would have been inappropriate.

POINT OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Ms. Brough: Mr. Speaker, have we voted on this motion, to bring the bill to the floor? It was my understanding that the Representative, who made the motion to also bring out House Bill No. 1537, did this in conjunction, basically as an amendment to the proposal that we bring Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 2159 to the floor.

SPEAKER'S REPLY

The Speaker: No, the Journal would show that Representative Ebersole made the motion; we voted on it; I banged the gavel; I recognized Representative Padden; he made the motion. Representative Ebersole raised the point of order: his point was well taken.
POINT OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Ms. Brough: Mr. Speaker, may I ask one more question? Have we now established a precedent that we can make a motion on the sixth order of business?

SPEAKER'S REPLY

Absolutely not.

POINT OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Ms. Brough: Mr. Speaker, have we established a precedent that your part of the aisle can make a motion on the sixth order of business?

SPEAKER'S REPLY

Absolutely not.

POINT OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Ms. Brough: I would maintain that Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 2159 is really in the Committee on Rules where it has been up until now, because we are not on the proper order of business to move it to the floor.

SPEAKER'S REPLY

Your objection would be well taken if it were timely. You are not timely, Representative Brough.

There being no objection, the House advanced to the seventh order of business.

Voting yeas: Representatives Nealey, Patrick – 2.

Ms. R. Fisher moved adoption of the following amendment by Representatives R. Fisher and Miller:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds and declares that:

(1) Campaign spending and the size of contributions to candidates for state offices have escalated to dangerous levels in recent years.

(2) Campaign spending, including independent expenditures for or against different candidates, and contributions to candidates are legitimate forms of participation in the American political process, but the financial strength of certain individuals or organizations should not permit them to exercise a potentially corrupting influence on the governmental process.

(3) The rapidly increasing costs of political campaigns have forced many candidates to raise large percentages of money from special interest groups with a stake in various legislative and executive matters. This has caused the public perception that elected officials’ decisions are being improperly influenced by campaign contributions. This perception is undermining the credibility and integrity of the electoral process and our system of government.

(4) The integrity of elections is essential to the very preservation of a free society.

(5) In the electoral process, the public interest as expressed through the ballot box should prevail over special and private interests.

(6) Restricting contributions to candidates for state offices, restricting the provision of the public benefit of section 28 of this act to those candidates who have voluntarily agreed to limit their campaign expenditures, and restricting the provision of limited public matching funds to those candidates who have voluntarily agreed to limit their campaign expenditures but who face one or more opponents who have refused to limit their expenditures is necessary to: (a) Prevent corruption and the appearance of corruption; (b) dispel the public perception that well-funded special interests are improperly influencing the decisions of elected officials; (c) provide a basis for wealthy candidates to limit voluntarily their personal campaign spending so that there is no appearance of elections being bought; (d) promote the widest participation of the public in an open, honest, and effective electoral process, and ensure a representative democracy, where every citizen’s vote has equal importance; (e) further free-speech values by using public money to enhance and enlarge public discussion and involvement regarding candidates’ campaigns; (f) make more time available to candidates for discussing important public issues and give incumbents the opportunity to spend more time fulfilling the duties of elected office, and lessen the great drain on their time and energies due to the rigors of fund-raising; and (g) increase public confidence and trust in the integrity of the electoral process and our system of government.

(7) Contribution limits alone without a voluntary mechanism to limit spending have led to the circumvention of contribution limits through, for example, the proliferation of political committees.

(8) Contribution limits and spending limits without some means of enabling candidates to respond to independent expenditures have led to those candidates being harmed by significant spending by independent interests, and therefore, a mechanism for candidates to respond to these significant expenditures is necessary. This mechanism is intended to enhance and enlarge free speech. Independent efforts will continue to have no limits placed on them.

CAMPAIGN EXPENDITURE LIMITATIONS AND MATCHING FUNDS

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. The definitions under RCW 42.17.020 apply to sections 2 through 22 of this act except as modified by this section. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout sections 2 through 22 of this act:

(c) The expenditure, alone or in conjunction with another expenditure or other expenditures of the same person in support of or opposition to that candidate, has a value of five hundred dollars or more. A sequence of expenditures each of which is under five hundred dollars shall constitute one independent expenditure as of the time that the last expenditure brings the total value of the sequence to five hundred dollars or more, and no expenditure in the sequence which has been reported to the commission under section 12 of this act shall be considered as part of any future independent expenditure.

(10) 'Major party' means a major political party as defined in RCW 29.01.090.

(iii) Will deposit all payments received under section 9 of this act in a separate checking account which shall contain only funds so received, and will make no expenditures of funds received under this section except by checks drawn on that account. The account shall be in a financial institution located in this state whose deposits are insured by the federal deposit insurance corporation, federal savings and loan insurance corporation, or national credit union administration;

(iv) Will furnish campaign records, evidence of contributions, and other appropriate information to the commission; and

(v) Will cooperate in the case of any audit and examination by the commission under section 15 of this act.

(2) The agreement required by subsection (1) of this section must be filed with the commission by the third business day after the candidate has first received during the election cycle contributions, less loan repayments, in an aggregate amount of:

(a) For a candidate for the office of governor, twenty-five thousand dollars;

(b) For a candidate for state executive office other than the office of governor, seven thousand five hundred dollars; and

(c) For a candidate for the office of state senator, twenty-five thousand dollars;
(c) For a candidate for state legislative office, two thousand five hundred dollars.

Such aggregate contributions include both those which satisfy and those which do not satisfy the provisions of section 10 of this act.

(3) The provisions of this section shall not be construed as preventing a candidate from filing a statement of intent with the commission at any time. Such a statement shall include a promise signed by the candidate that the candidate has not and will not exceed the expenditure limitation applicable to the candidate under section 4 of this act.

(4) Nothing in this subchapter requires any candidate to apply for or accept public funding under section 9 or 11 of this act.

NEw SECTION. Sec. 4. (1) Except as provided in subsection (4) of this section, the expenditure limitation for the election cycle for a candidate for state office who agrees to the limitations established in this subchapter is the greater of: (a) The base amount established for the office sought under subsection (2) of this section; or (b) the base amount plus the amount applicable to the candidate under subsection (3) of this section regarding independent expenditures.

(2) The base amount referred to in subsection (1) of this section is:

(a) For the office of governor, two million dollars.

(b) For state executive office other than the office of governor, seven hundred fifty thousand dollars.

(c) For state legislative office, forty thousand dollars.

(3) If, during the twelve months preceding the election in which the candidate is seeking office, independent expenditures by any person or persons aggregating more than an amount equal to ten percent of the base amount established in subsection (2) of this section for the office sought are made in opposition to the candidate or for any other candidate for the office sought by the candidate, the expenditure limitation applicable to the candidate (not the other candidate) during the election cycle shall be increased by an amount equal to the amount of the independent expenditures.

(4) A candidate for an office is not subject to an expenditure limitation under this subchapter if during the election cycle another candidate for that office:

(a) Receives contributions, less any loan repayments, aggregating more than the amount listed in section 3(2) of this act for that office; and

(b) Has not filed with the commission the agreement for eligibility under section 3(1) of this act within three business days of receiving that aggregate amount in contributions.

NEw SECTION. Sec. 5. For the purposes of this subchapter:

(I) The expenditures made by and the contributions received by a candidate and the expenditures made by and the contributions received by the authorized committee of the candidate are considered to be expenditures made by and contributions received by the candidate.

(2) Payments made by a candidate to repay loans made to the candidate shall be reported but shall not be counted when determining the total expenditures made by the candidate and the candidate's authorized committee with regard to any of the expenditure limitations provided by this subchapter.

(3) A contribution received within the twelve-month period following a general election for a state office shall be considered to be a contribution during the election cycle for the state office ending with that election. This subsection only applies to the extent the contribution is used to pay any debt or obligation incurred to influence the outcome of that election or the primary conducted for that election.

NEw SECTION. Sec. 6. (1) The expenditure limitations imposed by this subchapter are limitations on a candidate's expenditures for the candidate's own campaign for state office.

(2) The provisions of this subchapter apply to a special election conducted to fill a vacancy in a state office. However, the contributions received by a candidate and the expenditures made by a candidate for a primary or special election conducted to fill such a vacancy shall not be counted toward any of the limitations which apply to the candidate under this subchapter for the election cycle for any other election.

(3) An expenditure shall be considered to be an expenditure of the candidate if it is made by (a) the candidate or an authorized committee of the candidate; (b) a person who has received, expressly or impliedly, the candidate's encouragement or approval to make the expenditure, if the expenditure pays in whole or in part for any political advertising supporting the candidate or promoting the defeat of any other candidate or candidates for that office; or (c) a person with whom the candidate has collaborated for the purpose of making the expenditure, if the expenditure pays in whole or in part for any political advertising supporting the candidate or promoting the defeat of any other candidate or candidates for that office.

NEw SECTION. Sec. 7. (1) A candidate who receives, either directly or through the authorized committee of the candidate, a payment from the state campaign account for use during an election cycle shall not make, during the election cycle, expenditures from the personal funds of the candidate, or the funds contributed by any member of the immediate family of the candidate, aggregating in excess of the following:

(a) For a candidate for the office of governor, thirty thousand dollars:
(b) For a candidate for state executive office other than the office of governor, ten thousand dollars; and
(c) For a candidate for state legislative office, two thousand dollars.

For the purposes of this subsection, a loan by a candidate or a member of the immediate family of the candidate to the campaign of the candidate shall be considered to be a campaign expenditure by the candidate.

(2) A candidate who receives, either directly or through the authorized committee of the candidate, a payment from the state campaign account for use during the election cycle and the authorized committee of the candidate shall not make expenditures during the election cycle which the aggregate exceed any expenditure limit applicable to the candidate under section 4 of this act

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. The threshold amounts established in section 3(2) of this act, the base amounts established in section 4(2) of this act, the amounts in section 7(1) of this act, and the campaign contribution limitations established in section 19 of this act shall be increased or decreased by the commission by rule at the beginning of each even-numbered year based on changes in economic conditions as reflected in the inflationary index used by the commission under RCW 42.17.370. The base year to be used for revisions made under this section is 1988.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. (1) Except as provided in subsections (3) and (4) of this section, an eligible candidate is entitled to payments from the state campaign account equal to:

(a) Four dollars for each qualifying dollar received by the candidate as a contribution for the campaign of the candidate; and
(b) The aggregate total amount of independent expenditures made or obligated to be made during the twelve months preceding the election by any person in opposition to the candidate or for any other candidate for the office sought by the candidate if that amount exceeds ten percent of the base amount established in section 4(2) of this act for the office sought.

A qualifying dollar is one which satisfies all of the provisions of section 10 of this act regarding contributions.

(2) Payments received by a candidate under this section shall be deposited as required in section 3(1)(b)(iii) of this act and shall be used to pay for goods and services furnished during the election cycle for which the payments were received. Such payments shall not be used:

(a) To make any payments, directly or indirectly, to the candidate or to any member of the immediate family of the candidate.
(b) To make any expenditure other than expenditures to further the nomination or election of the candidate; or
(c) To repay any loan to any person except to the extent the proceeds of such loan were used to further the nomination or election of the candidate.

(3) A candidate shall not be eligible to receive payments from the state campaign account for a primary or election for an office unless:

(a) At least one other candidate for the office sought by the candidate: (i) Has not filed an agreement for eligibility under section 3(1) of this act with the commission in a timely manner; and (ii) has received during the election cycle contributions, less loan repayments, which, in the aggregate, exceed twice the amount listed in section 3(2) of this act for the office sought. For the purposes of (a)(ii) of this subsection, ‘contribution’ does not include a contribution made by a candidate for state office; and
(b) The candidate and the authorized committee of the candidate have received contributions, less loan repayments, in an aggregate threshold amount of at least the amount listed in section 3(2) (a), (b), or (c) of this act for the office sought and all of the contributions received for this purpose satisfy the provisions of section 10 of this act.

(4) (a) Except as provided in (b) of this subsection, the sum of all payments from the state campaign account to a candidate for an election cycle may not exceed the following amounts for the office sought:

(i) For the office of governor, two hundred thousand dollars;
(ii) For state executive office other than the office of governor, sixty thousand dollars;
(iii) For state legislative office, twenty thousand dollars.
(b) If the expenditure limitation applicable to the candidate is increased under section 4(3) of this act as a result of independent expenditures, the amount listed for the office sought by the candidate in (a) of this subsection, as it applies to the candidate, shall be increased by an amount equal to those independent expenditures.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. For a contribution received by a candidate or the candidate’s authorized committee to qualify as being one which satisfies the requirements of section 9(3)(b) of this act for raising a threshold amount of contributions or to qualify to be matched by public moneys from the state campaign account under section 9 of this act, the contribution must satisfy each of the following requirements:

(1) The contribution shall be a gift of money made by a written instrument which identifies the individual making the contribution;
(2) The contribution shall be made directly to the candidate or the candidate’s authorized committee. Contributions made through any other person shall not qualify. The provisions of this subsection do not disqualify money received through bona fide joint fund-raising efforts conducted solely for the purpose of sponsorship of a fund-raising reception, dinner, or other event, under rules prescribed by the commission, by: (a) Two or more candidates, or (b) one or more candidates and one or more national, state, or local committees of a political party acting on their own behalf.

(3) The contribution shall have come from an individual. However, the contribution shall not have come from a candidate for any office;

(4)(a) Of the total amount of all contributions made by a person to the candidate and the authorized committee of the candidate or for the benefit of the candidate, not more than the amount listed in (b) of this subsection for the office sought may be counted toward the threshold amount or be matched by moneys from the state campaign account. The provisions of this subsection shall not be construed as limiting the total amount of contributions that may be made by a person to or for the benefit of a candidate or that may be accepted by the candidate or the candidate’s authorized committee from the person;

(b) The amount referred to in (a) of this subsection is: (i) For the office of governor, one thousand dollars; (ii) for state executive office other than the office of governor, five hundred dollars; and (iii) for state legislative office, two hundred dollars;

(c) For the purposes of this subsection (4), all contributions by one person who is controlled by any other person shall be considered to have been made by such other person. The provisions of this subsection (c) shall not be construed as applying to the relationship between an individual and the spouse of the individual:

(d) The provisions of section 21 (2) and (3) of this act apply in determining whether a person is controlled by any other person for the purposes of (c) of this subsection; and

(5) The contribution shall be received during the election cycle.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. A candidate desiring payments from the state campaign account shall file a request with the commission which shall contain:

(1) Such information and be made in accordance with such procedures as the commission may provide by rule; and

(2) A verification signed by the candidate and the treasurer of the authorized committee of the candidate stating that the information furnished in support of the request, to the best of the knowledge of each, is correct and fully satisfies the requirements of this subchapter.

No later than two business days after an eligible candidate files a request with the public disclosure commission to receive payments under this section, the commission shall determine whether the candidate is eligible to receive payments from the state campaign account and, if the candidate is eligible to receive such payments, disburse to the candidate from the account the full amount to which the candidate is entitled.

A candidate is not limited to filing only one request for payments under this section during each election cycle. After filing an original request, a candidate may file one or more supplemental requests to receive the payments to which the candidate is entitled.

The commission may permit its executive director to approve requests submitted under this section and make the disbursements authorized by this subchapter on behalf of the commission and within guidelines adopted by the commission by rule.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. Within two days after the date of making an independent expenditure, the person making the expenditure shall file with the commission a report, on a form prescribed by the commission, providing the date and amount of the expenditure; what the expenditure purchased; the name of the candidate supported or opposed; the office sought by that candidate; and any other information which the commission believes will assist it in carrying out its responsibilities under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. (1) The commission shall decide all applications for payment from the state campaign account. Each application shall be decided in accordance with rules adopted by the commission, and the commission’s decision on the application shall be final unless appealed as provided in subsection (2) of this section. The commission’s review of applications, and all actions taken by the commission on applications, shall be exempt from chapter 34.05 RCW.

(2) Any person adversely affected by the commission’s decision and who believes the decision to be unlawful may appeal to the superior court of Thurston county by petition setting forth his or her reasons why the decision is unlawful. A copy of the petition on appeal together with a notice that an appeal has been taken shall be served upon the commission, upon the attorney general, and upon each candidate for the office sought by the applicant. The decision of the superior court shall be final. Such appeal shall be heard without costs to either party.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. The state election campaign account is hereby created in the custody of the state treasurer. All moneys appropriated to the commission for deposit in the account and all earnings of investments of balances in the account shall be credited to the account. Moneys may be disbursed from the account only in the form of payments to eligible candidates as authorized by this subchapter. Only the commission, or the commission’s executive director if permitted to do so by rules adopted by the commission, may authorize disbursements from the account. The account is subject to allotment procedures under chapter 43.88 RCW, but no appropriation is required for disbursements.
NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. (1) After each general election, the commission shall conduct such examinations and audits of the campaign accounts of eligible candidates and of authorized committees as are sufficient to determine, among other things, whether candidates have complied with the expenditure limits and other conditions of eligibility and requirements of this subchapter.

(2) Within sixty days after the election cycle for which the payment was received, the candidate shall return to the commission any unexpended funds received by the candidate under this subchapter. The commission may adopt exceptions to this requirement for instances where debts are in dispute.

(3) Examinations and audits shall not be made by the commission under this section with respect to an election cycle more than three years after the cycle.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. (1) It is a violation of this chapter for any candidate to accept public payments under this subchapter which are in excess of the aggregate payments to which the candidate is entitled.

(2) It is a violation of this chapter for any candidate or for any officer, member, employee, or agent of a political committee for the candidate:

(a) To use or transfer funds for any purpose prohibited by section 9(2) of this act;

(b) To make expenditures which he or she knows exceed any expenditure limitation applicable under section 4 of this act;

(c) To provide false information under section 3(1) or (2) of this act; or

(d) To violate the agreement under section 3(1)(b) of this act.

(3) It is a violation of this chapter for any person:

(a) To furnish to the commission under this subchapter any evidence, books, or information (including any certification, verification, notice, or report), which is false, fictitious, or fraudulent, or to include in any evidence, books, or information so furnished any misrepresentation of a material fact, or to falsify or conceal any evidence, books, or information relevant to a payment by the commission or an examination and audit by the commission under this subchapter; or

(b) To fail to furnish to the commission any records, books, or information requested by it for purposes of this subchapter.

(4) It is a violation of this chapter for any person to accept any payment if the person knows, or has reason to know, that the payment is in violation of section 9(2) of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. (1) The commission shall, as soon as practicable after each election, submit a full report to the governor and the legislature setting forth:

(a) The expenditures shown in such detail as the commission determines appropriate made by each eligible candidate and the authorized committee of each candidate;

(b) The amounts paid by the commission under section 11 of this act to each eligible candidate;

(c) The amount of any payments returned under section 15 of this act; and

(d) The balance in the state campaign account.

(2) The commission is authorized to prescribe such rules in accordance with chapter 34.05 RCW, to conduct such examinations and investigations, and to require the keeping and submission of such books, records, and information, as it deems necessary to carry out the functions and duties imposed on it by this subchapter.

(3) Examinations and audits shall not be made by the commission under section 11 of this act to any candidate or for any officer, member, employee, or agent of a political committee for the candidate.

(8) Any contribution received within the twelve-month period following a general election for a state office or for a recall election concerning a state office shall be considered to be a contribution during the election cycle ending with that election or during that recall campaign if the contribution is used to pay any debt or obligation incurred to influence the outcome of that election or the primary conducted for that election or of that recall campaign.

(9)(a) The contributions allowed by subsection (2) of this section are in addition to those allowed by subsection (1) of this section, the contributions allowed by subsection (4) of this section are in addition to those allowed by subsection (3) of this section, and the contributions allowed by subsection (6) of this section are in addition to those allowed by subsection (5) of this section.

(b) The provisions of this subchapter apply to a special election conducted to fill a vacancy in a state office. However, the contributions made to a candidate or received by a candidate for a primary or special election conducted to fill such a vacancy shall not be counted toward any of the limitations which apply to the candidate or to contributions made to the candidate under this subchapter for any other primary or election.

(10) No state legislator, or authorized political committee for such legislator, may, during the course of a regular session of the legislature, accept a campaign contribution for a state legislative office from any person. (3) The contribution is not made from the proceeds of a gift, the purpose of which was to provide funds to be contributed, or is not in any other way controlled by another individual.
NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. (1) For the purposes of the contribution limitations in section 19 of this act: All contributions by any person who is controlled by any other person shall be considered to have been made by such other person. The provisions of this section shall not be construed as applying to the relationship between an individual and the spouse of the individual or to the relationship between a bona fide political party and any district or county organization of that party or a caucus of the state legislature of the members of that party.

(2) Without in any manner limiting its scope and effect, the general rule under subsection (1) of this section or under section 10(4)(a) of this act means that:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. For purposes of this section, 'earmarked' means a designation, instruction, or encumbrance, whether direct or indirect, express or implied, or oral or written, which is intended to result in or which does result in all or any part of a contribution being made to a certain candidate or state official. If a conduit or intermediary exercises any direction or control over the choice of the recipient candidate or state official, the contribution shall be considered to be by both the original contributor and the conduit or intermediary.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 23. A new section is added to chapter 42.17 RCW to read as follows:

A contribution received by a candidate or political committee which is returned to the contributor within five days of the date on which it is received by the candidate or committee is not a contribution for the purposes of this chapter.

Sec. 24. Section 39, chapter 24, Laws of 1973 and RCW 42.17.390 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) One or more of the following civil remedies and sanctions may be imposed by court order in addition to any other remedies provided by law:

(a) If the court finds that the violation of any provision of this chapter by any candidate or political committee probably affected the outcome of any election, the result of said election may be held void and a special election held within sixty days of such finding. Any action to void an election shall be commenced within one year of the date of the election in question. It is intended that this remedy be imposed freely in all appropriate cases to protect the right of the electorate to an informed and knowledgeable vote.

(b) If any lobbyist or sponsor of any grass roots lobbying campaign violates any of the provisions of this chapter, his registration may be revoked or suspended and he may be enjoined from receiving compensation or making expenditures for lobbying: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That imposition of such sanction shall not excuse said lobbyist from filing statements and reports required by this chapter.

Mr. May demanded an electric roll call vote, and the demand was sustained.

Ms. R. Fisher spoke against adoption of the amendment to the amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Ms. Brough yielded to question by Mr. Heavey.

Mr. Heavey: I have two questions, Representative Brough. Does a political committee include the Republican Caucus?

Ms. Brough: Or Democrat Caucus? Yes.

Mr. Heavey: Would political committees include political action committees such as United for Washington and Sierra Club and United Negro Fund? What are political committees? That is what I am asking.

Ms. Brough: A group of people, that raises money and then, in turn, gives it to candidates—basically what we refer to as PACs—are not political committees. They are political action committees. They do collectively raise money and then focus it. I would maintain that once they give that money to a candidate, that that candidate should not shift it to another campaign.

Mr. Heavey spoke against adoption of the amendment to the amendment.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the adoption of the amendment by Representative Brough to the amendment to Substitute House Bill No. 1910, and the amendment to the amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 42; nays, 53; excused, 3.

Representative Belcher appeared at the bar of the House.

The Clerk read the following amendment to the amendment by Representative Patrick:
On page 21 of the amendment, following line 2, insert:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 24. No state official, including legislators, may mail to any person state funded non-solicited material which mentions the official by name or clearly identifies the official by photograph or reference. This section does not prohibit mailing non-solicited material that names an office but which does not name or otherwise identify the individual holding the office."

Correct internal references accordingly.

With consent of the House, Representative Miller withdrew the amendment.

The Clerk read the following amendment by Representative Fuhrman to the amendment:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. Section 1, chapter 1, Laws of 1973 as amended by section 1, chapter 294, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 42.17.010 are each amended to read as follows:

It is hereby declared by the sovereign people to be the public policy of the state of Washington:

(1) That political campaign and lobbying contributions and expenditures be fully disclosed to the public and that secrecy is to be avoided.

(2) That the people have the right to expect from their elected representatives at all levels of government the utmost of integrity, honesty, and fairness in their dealings, free from bias caused by large corporate and organizational campaign contributions.

(3) That public perception of a state government dominated by the influence of large, moneymed organizations defeats feelings of individual voter efficacy and is thereby detrimental to the democratic form of government, and that limitations on organizational contributions to state election campaigns are necessary to reduce the ability of organizations to obtain disproportionate influence over the actions and decisions of state government officials.

(4) That the people shall be assured that the private financial dealings of their public officials, and of candidates for those offices, present no conflict of interest between the public trust and private interest.

(5) That our representative form of government is founded on a belief that those entrusted with the offices of government have nothing to fear from full public disclosure of their financial and business holdings, provided those officials deal honestly and fairly with the people.

(6) That public confidence in government at all levels is essential and must be promoted by all possible means.

(7) That public confidence in government at all levels can best be sustained by assuring the people of the impartiality and honesty of the officials in all public transactions and decisions.

(8) That the concept of attempting to increase financial participation of individual contributors in political campaigns is encouraged by the passage of the Revenue Act of 1971 by the Congress of the United States, and in consequence thereof, it is desirable to have implementing legislation at the state level.

(9) That the concepts of disclosure and limitation of election campaign financing are established by the passage of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 by the Congress of the United States, and in consequence thereof it is desirable to have implementing legislation at the state level.

(10) That small contributions by individual contributors are to be encouraged((and that not requiring the reporting of small contributions may tend to encourage such contributions)).

(11) That the public's right to know of the financing of political campaigns and lobbying and the financial affairs of elected officials and candidates far outweighs any right that these matters remain secret and private.

(12) That, mindful of the right of individuals to privacy and of the desirability of the efficient administration of government, full access to information concerning the conduct of government on every level must be assured as a fundamental and necessary precondition to the sound governance of a free society.

The provisions of this chapter shall be liberally construed to promote complete disclosure of all information respecting the financing of political campaigns and lobbying, and the financial affairs of elected officials and candidates, and full access to public records so as to assure continuing public confidence of fairness of elections and governmental processes, and so as to assure that the public interest will be fully protected. In promoting such complete disclosure, however, this chapter shall be enforced so as to insure that the information disclosed will not be misused for arbitrary and capricious purposes and to insure that all persons reporting under this chapter will be protected from harassment and ungrounded allegations based on information they have freely disclosed.

The committee shall include a copy of such record when its expenditure for such reimbursement is reported pursuant to RCW 42.17.090;

((c)) (c) Donate the surplus to a charitable organization registered in accordance with chapter 19.09 RCW;

(2) Within ((five days after the date of) twenty-four hours after making an independent campaign expenditure that by itself or when added to all other such independent campaign expenditures made during the same election campaign by the same person equals one hundred dollars or more, or within ((five days)) twenty-four hours after the date of making an independent campaign expenditure for which no reasonable estimate of monetary value is practicable, whichever occurs first, the person who made the independent campaign expenditure shall file with the commission and the county auditor of the county of residence for the candidate supported or opposed by the independent campaign expenditure (or in the case of an expenditure made in support of or in opposition to a local ballot proposition, the county of residence for the person making the expenditure) an initial report of all independent campaign expenditures made during the campaign prior to and including such date.

(3) At the following intervals each person who is required to file an initial report pursuant to subsection (2) of this section shall file with the commission and the county auditor of the county of residence for the candidate supported or opposed by the independent campaign expenditure (or in the case of an expenditure made in support of or in opposition to a ballot proposition, the county of residence for the person making the expenditure) a further report of the independent campaign expenditures made since the date of the last report:

(a) On the twenty-first day preceding the primary and the seventh day preceding the date on which the election is held; and

(c) On the tenth day of each month in which no other reports are required to be filed pursuant to this section. However, the further reports required by this subsection (3) shall only be
The report filed pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (3) shall be the final report, and upon submitting such final report the duties of the reporting person shall cease, and there shall be no obligation to make any further reports.

(4) All reports filed pursuant to this section shall be certified as correct by the reporting person.

(5) Each report required by subsections (2) and (3) of this section shall disclose for the period beginning at the end of the period for the last previous report filed or, in the case of an initial report, beginning at the time of the first independent campaign expenditure, and ending not more than (twenty-four hours) prior to the date the report is due:

(a) The name and address of the person filing the report;

(b) The name and address of each person to whom an independent campaign expenditure was made in the aggregate amount of twenty-five dollars or more, and the amount, date, and purpose of each such expenditure. If no reasonable estimate of the monetary value of a particular independent campaign expenditure is practicable, it is sufficient to report instead a precise description of services, property, or rights furnished through the expenditure and where appropriate to attach a copy of the item produced or distributed by the expenditure;

(c) The total sum of all independent campaign expenditures made during the campaign to date; and

(d) Such other information as shall be required by the commission by rule in conformance with the policies and purposes of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. A new section is added to chapter 19.09 RCW to read as follows:

No political committee or continuing political committee may be given a special privilege or special access through the use of the state's property, mailings, or printed literature to solicit for charitable contributions from students at a state college or state university. No solicitation of students for charitable contributions may be made that uses such special privilege or access to the property, mailings, or printed literature unless the nonprofit organization benefiting from the solicitation is affiliated with the recognized student government entity at the campus and the solicitation is conducted in a manner assuring both the voluntary nature of contributions received and compliance with the disclosure provisions of this chapter. Where the proceeds of a solicitation that uses the tuition or fee billing process of a state institution of higher education may be used by the soliciting organization to influence legislation or used in the support of, or opposition to, a ballot proposition, the trustees or regents of the institution shall limit solicitations to voluntary requests for contributions after a vote of students likely to receive such a solicitation, the results of which demonstrate that a majority of those voting wish to be so solicited.

Sec. 16. Section 10, chapter 13, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. as last amended by section 11, chapter 230, Laws of 1986 and RCW 19.09.100 are each amended to read as follows:

(4) Each person or organization soliciting charitable contributions shall not represent orally or in writing that:

(a) The charitable contribution is tax deductible unless the charitable organization for which charitable contributions are being solicited or to which tickets for fund raising events or other services or goods will be donated, has applied for and received from the internal revenue service a letter of determination granting tax deductible status to the charitable organization;

(b) The person soliciting the charitable contribution is a volunteer or words of similar meaning or effect that create the impression that the person soliciting is not a paid solicitor unless such person is unpaid for his or her services;

(c) The person soliciting the charitable contribution is a member, staffer, helper, or employee of the charitable organization or words of similar meaning or effect that create the impression that the person soliciting is not a paid solicitor if the person soliciting is employed, contracted, or paid by an independent fund raiser;

Pertaining to energy efficiency and conservation.

The bill was read the second time. On motion of Mr. Nelson, Substitute House Bill No. 2198 was substituted for House Bill No. 2198, and the substitute bill was placed on the second reading calendar.

Substitute House Bill No. 2198 was read the second time.

Mr. Cooper moved adoption of the following amendment by Representatives Cooper, Nelson and Hankins:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that the electricity surplus in the Northwest is dwindling as the population increases and the economy expands. Energy efficiency will reduce the pressure for future rate increases. By keeping the cost of energy low, this region will maintain an important economic advantage.

It is declared policy of the legislature that using energy efficiently is one of the lowest cost ways to meet consumer demand for electrical energy. To that end, this act is directed to enhance energy efficient building methods. It is the intent of this act to make residential construction cost-effective for the consumer and encourage home builders to continue to build affordable housing for entry level consumers. Conservation and energy efficiency will stretch our current clean energy efficient resources into the future.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 19.27A RCW to read as follows:

Except as provided in RCW 19.27A.020(6), the state energy code for residential buildings shall be the maximum and minimum energy code for residential buildings in each city, town, and county and shall be enforced by each city, town, and county no later than July 1, 1990.

The state energy code for nonresidential buildings shall be the minimum energy code for nonresidential buildings in each city, town, and county.

Sec. 3. Section 3, chapter 76, Laws of 1979 ex. sess. as amended by section 2, chapter 144, Laws of 1985 and RCW 19.27A.020 are each amended to read as follows:

Sec. 3. Section 3, chapter 76, Laws of 1979 ex. sess. as amended by section 2, chapter 144, Laws of 1985 and RCW 19.27A.020 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) No later than January 1, 1990, the state building code ((advisory)) council shall ((promulgate rules pursuant to chapter 34.04 RCW, for the purpose of adopting a revised)) adopt a state energy code. (The revised code shall be designed to achieve reductions in energy consumption relative to buildings constructed to comply with the state energy code. June 30. 1980 edition, as amended:))

(2) The council shall follow the legislature's guidelines set forth in this section to design (a revised) the state energy code (which requires). The state energy code shall be designed to require new buildings to meet a certain level of energy efficiency, but allow((a)) flexibility in building design ((and)), construction, and heating equipment efficiencies within that framework. The state energy code shall be designed to allow space heating equipment efficiency to offset or substitute for building envelope thermal performance.

(3) The (revised) state energy code shall take into account regional climatic conditions ((and shall)). Climate zone 1 shall include all counties not included in climate zone 2. Climate zone 2 includes: Adams, Chelan, Douglas, Ferry, Grant, Kittitas, Lincoln, Okanogan, Pend Oreille, Spokane, Stevens, and Whitman counties.

(4) Until it is amended by the state building code council pursuant to section 5 of this act, the state energy code for residential buildings shall be designed according to the following guidelines:

(a) For new electric resistance heated residential buildings, the code shall be designed to achieve energy ((savings)) use equivalent to ((savings)) energy use achieved in typical buildings constructed with:

Throughout the state for the purposes of determining equivalent thermal performance, the maximum glazing area shall be fifteen percent of the floor area.
(3) Except as provided in (b) of this section, the state energy code for residential structures shall preempt the residential energy code of each city, town, and county in the state of Washington.

(4) The state energy code for residential structures with electric resistance space heat does not preempt a city, town, or county's energy code for residential structures with electric resistance space heat which exceeds the requirements of the state energy code and which was adopted by the city, town, or county prior to March 15, 1989. A city, town, or county which has adopted an energy code for residential buildings with electric resistance space heat which is not preempted under this subsection may amend its energy code in a manner which would cause the local energy code to exceed the state energy code. A city, town, or county which has adopted an energy code for residential buildings with electric resistance space heat which is not preempted under this subsection may amend its energy code to conform its energy code to the state energy code as it will exist on July 1, 1993.

(7) The state building code council shall consult with the state energy office as provided in RCW 34.05.310 prior to publication of proposed rules. The state energy office shall review the proposed rules for consistency with the state energy code. The director of the state energy office shall recommend to the state building code council any changes necessary to conform the proposed rules to the requirements of this section.

(8) U-values for glazing shall be determined using the area weighted average of all glazing in the building. U-values for glazing are the tested values for thermal transmittance due to conduction resulting from either the American architectural manufacturers' association (AAMA) 1503.1 test procedure or the American society for testing materials (ASTM) C236 or C976 test procedures. Testing shall be conducted under established winter horizontal heat flow test conditions using the fifteen miles per hour wind speed perpendicular to the exterior surface of the glazing as specified under AAMA 1503.1 and product sample sizes specified under AAMA 1503.1. The AAMA 1503.1 testing must be conducted by an AAMA certified testing laboratory. The ASTM C236 or C976 testing U-values include any tested values resulting from a future revised AAMA 1503.1 test procedure. Sealed insulation glass, where used, shall conform to ASTM E-774-81 level A or better.

(9) If any electric utility that purchases at least one percent of its firm energy load from a federal agency, pursuant to section 5(b)(1) of the pacific northwest electric power planning and conservation act (P.L. 96-501), is unable to obtain from that agency at least fifty percent of the funds for payments required by section 4 of this act, the amendments to this section by this 1989 act shall be null and void, and the 1986 state energy code shall be in effect, except that a city, town, or county may enforce a local energy code with more stringent energy requirements adopted prior to March 15, 1989. This subsection shall expire June 30, 1996.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 19.27A RCW to read as follows:

(1) Electric utilities shall make payments to the owner at the time of construction of a newly constructed residential building with electric resistance space heat built in compliance with the requirements of the state energy code adopted pursuant to RCW 19.27A.020 or a residential energy code in effect pursuant to RCW 19.27A.020(6). All or a portion of the funds for payments may be accepted from federal agencies or other sources. Payments are required for residential buildings on which construction has begun on or after July 1, 1990, and prior to July 1, 1996. Payments are required for single family residences having one thousand eight hundred square feet or less of finished floor area and for all other residential units having one thousand two hundred and seventy-five square feet or less of finished floor area. The payment shall be at least forty cents per square foot of finished or unfinished heated floor area. Payment is required only for the first one thousand eight hundred square feet of heated floor area in a single family residence. For purposes of this section, a zero lot line home and each unit in a duplex and each attached housing unit in a planned unit development shall each be considered a single family residence.

(2) Electric utilities which provide electrical service in jurisdictions in which the local government has adopted an energy code not preempted by RCW 19.27A.020(6)(b) shall make payments as provided in subsection (1) of this section for residential buildings on which construction has begun on or after the effective date of this act and prior to July 1, 1996.

(3) Nothing in this section shall prohibit an electric utility from providing incentives in excess of the payments required by this section or from providing additional incentives for energy efficiency measures in excess of those required under RCW 19.27A.020.
(4) This section shall not apply to any electric utility that purchases at least one percent of its firm energy load from a federal agency, pursuant to section 5.(b)(1) of the pacific northwest electric power planning and conservation act (P.L. 96-501), and is unable to obtain from the agency at least fifty percent of the funds to make the payments required by this section. This subsection shall expire June 30, 1996.

(5) The utilities and transportation commission shall provide an appropriate regulatory mechanism which allows a utility regulated by the commission to recover expenses incurred by the utility in making payments under this section.

(6) Subsections (1) through (3) of this section shall expire July 1, 1997.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 19.27A RCW to read as follows:

The state building code council shall maintain the state energy code for residential structures in a status which is consistent with the state's interest as set forth in section 1 of this act. In maintaining the state energy code for residential structures, beginning in 1996 the council shall review the state energy code every three years. After January 1, 1996, by rule adopted pursuant to chapter 34.05 RCW, the council may amend any provisions of the state energy code to increase the energy efficiency of newly constructed residential buildings. Decisions to amend the state energy code for residential structures shall be made prior to December 1 of any year and shall not take effect before the end of the regular legislative session in the next year.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. Not later than January 2, 1993, the state building code council shall review the cost-effectiveness of the window standards established in RCW 19.27A.020(4). If the state building code council determines that window standards beyond those provided in the state energy code which will be in effect on July 1, 1993, would be cost-effective, the council shall report to the energy and utilities committees of the house of representatives and the senate on recommended changes in the window standards. In determining the cost-effectiveness of the window standards, the council shall consider factors which require an amortization of the window components over a period of not more than seven years and a discount rate computed at the current market rate for conventional home mortgages. The review shall be completed and a report, if necessary, made not later than January 2, 1993.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. A new section is added to chapter 19.27 RCW to read as follows:

(1)(a) Not later than January 1, 1990, the state building code council shall establish interim requirements for the maintenance of indoor air quality in newly constructed, electrically heated residential buildings. These requirements shall be in effect July 1, 1990, through June 30, 1993.

(b) The interim requirements shall include ventilation standards which provide for mechanical ventilation in areas of the residence where water vapor or cooking odors are produced. The ventilation shall be exhausted to the outside of the structure. The ventilation standards shall further provide for the capacity to supply outside air to each bedroom and the main living area through dedicated supply air inlet locations in walls, or in an equivalent manner. At least one exhaust fan in the home shall be controlled by a dehumidistat or clock timer to ensure that sufficient whole house ventilation is regularly provided as needed.

(c)(i) For single family residences, zero lot line homes, each unit in a duplex, and each attached housing unit in a planned unit development, the ventilation standards shall include fifty cubic feet per minute of effective installed ventilation capacity in each bathroom and one hundred cubic feet per minute of effective installed ventilation capacity in each kitchen.

(ii) For other residential units the ventilation standards may be satisfied by the installation of two exhaust fans with a combined effective installed ventilation capacity of two hundred cubic feet per minute.

(iii) Effective installed ventilation capacity means the capability to deliver the specified ventilation rates under the actual design conditions of the structure. Natural ventilation through operable exterior openings and infiltration shall not be considered acceptable substitutes for mechanical ventilation.

(d) The interim requirements shall include standards for indoor air quality pollutant source control, including the following requirements: All structural panel components of the residence shall comply with appropriate standards for the emission of formaldehyde; the back-drafting of combustion by-products from combustion appliances shall be minimized through the use of dampers, vents, outside combustion air sources, or other appropriate technologies; and, in areas of the state where monitored data indicate action is necessary to inhibit indoor radon gas concentrations from exceeding appropriate health standards, entry of radon gas into homes shall be minimized through appropriate foundation construction measures.

(2) Not later than January 1, 1993, the state building code council shall establish final requirements for the maintenance of indoor air quality in newly constructed, electrically heated residences. These requirements shall maintain indoor air quality equivalent to that provided by the mechanical ventilation and indoor air pollutant source control requirements included in the February 7, 1989, Bonneville power administration record of decision for the environmental impact statement on new energy efficient homes programs (DOE/EIS-0127F) built with electric space heating. In residential units other than single family, zero lot line, duplexes, and attached housing units in planned unit developments, ventilation requirements may be satisfied by the installation of two exhaust fans... with a combined effective installed ventilation capacity of two hundred cubic feet per minute in locations appropriate for the effective removal of water vapor and other source pollutants.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. A new section is added to chapter 4.24 RCW to read as follows:

It is a defense in a civil action brought for damages for injury caused by indoor air pollutants in a residential structure with electric space heating on which construction was begun on or after July 1, 1990, that the builder complied in good faith, without negligence or misconduct, with:

(1) Building product safety standards, including labeling;
(2) Restrictions on the use of building materials known or believed to contain substances that contribute to indoor air pollution; and
(3) The ventilation requirements adopted under section 7 of this act.

Sec. 9. Section 2, chapter 149. Laws of 1980 and RCW 80.28.025 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) In establishing rates for each gas and electric company regulated by this chapter, the commission shall adopt policies to encourage meeting or reducing energy demand through ( cogeneration as defined in RCW 82.35.029) measures which improve the efficiency of energy end use, and new projects which produce or generate energy from renewable resources, such as solar energy, wind energy, hydroelectric energy, geothermal energy, wood, wood waste, (municipal wastes) agricultural products and wastes, and end-use waste heat. (These policies shall include but are not limited to) Payments made under section 4 of this act shall be considered a measure which improves the efficiency of energy end use.

(2) The commission shall adopt a policy allowing a return on investment in measures to improve the efficiency of energy end use, ( cogeneration; or) projects which produce or generate energy from renewable resources ( which). The return on investment is established by adding an increment of two percent to the rate of return on common equity permitted on the company's other investment and allowing the capitalization of carrying costs associated with the investment in such measures until they are in the rate base for ratemaking purposes. The rate of return increment shall be allowed for a period not to exceed thirty years after the measure or project is first placed in the rate base.

(3) The commission shall consider and may adopt other policies to protect a company from a reduction of short-term earnings that may be a direct result of utility programs to increase the efficiency of energy use. These policies may include allowing a periodic rate adjustment for investments in end-use efficiency or allowing changes in price structure designed to produce additional net revenue.

(4) Measures or projects encouraged under this section are those for which construction or installation is begun after June 12, 1980, and before ( January 1, 1990; and which;) July 1, 1996. At the time they are placed in the rate base, ( care; the measures or projects must be reasonably expected to save, produce, or generate energy at a total incremental system cost per unit of energy delivered to end use which is less than or equal to the incremental system cost per unit of energy delivered to end use from similarly available conventional energy resources which (which) use nuclear energy or fossil fuels and which the gas or electric company could acquire to meet energy demand in the same time period. (The rate of return increment shall be allowed for a period not to exceed thirty years after the measure or project is first placed in the rate base:))

Sec. 10. Section 3, chapter 149, Laws of 1980 and RCW 82.16.055 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) In computing tax under this chapter there shall be deducted from the gross income:
(a) An amount equal to the cost of production at the plant for consumption within the state of Washington of:
(i) Electrical energy produced or generated from cogeneration as defined in RCW 82.35-029; and
(ii) electrical energy or gas produced or generated from renewable energy resources such as solar energy, wind energy, hydroelectric energy, geothermal energy, wood, wood wastes, (municipal wastes) agricultural products and wastes, and end-use waste heat; and
(b) Those amounts expended to improve consumers' efficiency of energy end use or to otherwise reduce the use of electrical energy or gas by the consumer, including payments made pursuant to section 4 of this act.

(2) This section applies only to new facilities for the production or generation of energy from ( cogeneration or) renewable energy resources or measures to improve the efficiency of energy end use on which construction or installation is begun after June 12, 1980, and before (January 1, 1990)) July 1, 1996.

(3) Deductions under subsection (1)(a) of this section shall be allowed for a period not to exceed thirty years after the project is placed in operation.

(4) Measures or projects encouraged under this section shall at the time they are placed in service be reasonably expected to save, produce, or generate energy at a total incremental system cost per unit of energy delivered to end use which is less than or equal to the incremental system cost per unit of energy delivered to end use from similarly available conventional energy resources which use nuclear energy or fossil fuels and which the gas or electric utility could acquire to meet energy demand in the same time period.

(5) The department of revenue, after consultation with the utilities and transportation commission in the case of investor-owned utilities and the governing bodies of locally regulated utilities, shall determine the eligibility of individual projects and measures for deductions under this section.

Sec. 11. Section 4, chapter 96, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. as last amended by section 8, chapter 360. Laws of 1985 and RCW 19.27.040 are each amended to read as follows:

The governing body of each county or city is authorized to amend the state building code as it applies within the jurisdiction of the county or city. The minimum performance standards of the codes and the objectives enumerated in RCW 19.27.020 shall not be diminished by any county or city amendments. ((Amendments to RCW 19.27A.010 shall not result in structures that exceed the overall structural heat loss characteristics that would have resulted from conforming to RCW 19.27A.010:))

Nothing in this chapter shall authorize any modifications of the requirements of chapter 70.92 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. The following acts or parts of acts are each repealed:

(2) Section 3, chapter 144, Laws of 1985, section 1, chapter 204, Laws of 1988 and RCW 19.27A.030; and

(3) Section 4, chapter 144, Laws of 1985, section 2, chapter 204, Laws of 1988 and RCW 19.27A.040.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. Sections 1 through 4, 7, 9, and 10 of this act are necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately. Sections 11 and 12 (1) and (2) of this act shall take effect January 1, 1990. Sections 8 and 12(3) of this act shall take effect July 1, 1990."

Representatives Cooper, May, Nelson, Todd and Hankins spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment, and it was adopted.

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The superintendent of public instruction is directed to conduct a study of school lunch programs to determine reasons why some schools are not currently participating in the national school lunch program. The report shall include an estimate of the number of students in each of these schools who would be eligible for free or reduced-price lunches if they were available. The report shall also include the total cost of the program, including, but not limited to, food costs, staff salaries and benefits, and additional pupil transportation costs. The superintendent of public instruction shall submit to the legislature prior to January 15, 1990, a report on the results of its study, including recommendations on ways of increasing school participation in the school lunch program.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. (1) For the purposes of this section:

(a) 'Free or reduced-price lunches' means lunches served by a school district that qualify for federal reimbursement as free or reduced-price lunches under the national school lunch program.

(b) 'School breakfast program' means a program meeting federal requirements defined in 42 U.S.C. Sec. 1773.

(c) 'Severe-need school' means a school that qualifies for a severe-need school reimbursement rate from federal funds for school breakfasts served to children from low-income families.

(2) School districts shall be required to develop and implement plans for a school breakfast program in severe-need schools, pursuant to the schedule in this section. For the second year prior to the implementation of the district's school breakfast program, and for each subsequent school year, each school district shall submit data enabling the superintendent of public instruction to determine which schools within the district will qualify as severe-need schools. In developing its plan, each school district shall consult with an advisory committee including school staff and community members appointed by the board of directors of the district.

(3) Using district-wide data on school lunch participation during the 1988-89 school year, the superintendent of public instruction shall adopt a schedule for implementation of school breakfast programs in severe-need schools as follows:

(a) School districts where at least forty percent of lunches served to students are free or reduced-price lunches shall submit a plan for implementation of a school breakfast program in severe-need schools to the superintendent of public instruction no later than July 1, 1991. Each such district shall implement a school breakfast program in all severe-need schools no later than the second day of school in the 1991-92 school year and in each school year thereafter.

(b) School districts where at least twenty-five but less than forty percent of lunches served to students are free or reduced-price lunches shall submit a plan for implementation of a school breakfast program in severe-need schools to the superintendent of public instruction no later than July 1, 1992. Each such district shall implement a school breakfast program in all severe-need schools no later than the second day of school in the 1993–94 school year and in each school year thereafter.

School districts that did not offer a school lunch program in the 1988–89 school year are encouraged to implement such a program and to provide a school breakfast program in all severe-need schools when eligible.

The requirements in this section shall lapse if the federal reimbursement rate for breakfasts served in severe-need schools is reduced or eliminated.

Students who do not meet family-income criteria for free breakfasts shall be eligible to participate in the school breakfast programs established under this section, and school districts may charge for the breakfasts served to these students. School breakfast programs established under this section shall be supported entirely by federal funds and commodities, charges to students, and other local resources available for this purpose, and shall not create or imply any state funding obligation for these costs. The legislature does not intend to include these programs within the state’s obligation for basic education funding under Article IX of the Constitution.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The superintendent of public instruction shall conduct a study of the costs and feasibility of expanding the school breakfast program to include schools where more than twenty-five but less than forty percent of lunches served are free or reduced-price lunches. The study shall consider the total cost of the program, including but not limited to food costs, staff salaries and benefits, and additional pupil transportation costs. Mr. Brooks: It is my understanding that this bill will not affect all schools, just a certain type of school in the state. Would you elaborate on that, please?

Mr. Peery: That is correct, Representative Brooks. The substitute bill before the House would require that, over a three-year period, only schools that have a forty percent or greater free and reduced lunch program, through the national school lunch program, would be asked to provide and be required to provide the breakfast program. Only those schools are required to do this.

Mr. Crane demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Peery yielded to question by Mr. Nealey.

Mr. Nealey: Is this mandatory, that it has to be down to twenty-three? I would like to know how it affects our small schools.

Mr. Peery: The bill allows for two methods of determining compliance within the ratios of basic education. One method will still be that your ratios in kindergarten through third grade will be less than your ratios in fourth grade through twelfth grade. If you choose not to use that method, you would then have to demonstrate that you have an average of twenty-three certificated personnel assigned to the kindergarten through third grade within your buildings to be in compliance. This provides the alternative that would assure that you have used those resources toward kindergarten through third grade.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The ability to rent private passenger automobiles at a reasonable price and upon reasonable terms is vital to promoting tourism and business in Washington. The public interest is adversely affected when consumers must agree to unreasonable terms or pay more than necessary to protect the interests of the rental vehicle owner from damage caused by the renter. The legislature finds that the legitimate interests of renters and rental vehicle owners are served by prohibiting private passenger automobile rental companies from imposing liability upon renters, subject to certain specified exceptions, and from selling collision damage waivers in connection with private passenger automobile rental agreements of no more than thirty-one continuous days.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. Unless the context requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) 'Rental company' means a person or organization in the business of providing private passenger motor vehicles to the public through the use of a rental agreement.

(2) 'Renter' means a person or organization obtaining the use of a private passenger automobile from a rental company under the terms of a rental agreement.

(3) 'Rental agreement' means a written agreement setting forth the terms and conditions governing the use of a private passenger motor vehicle provided by a rental company for no more than thirty-one continuous days, which agreement excludes the use of the vehicle to carry persons or property for hire.

(4) 'Damage' means any damage or loss to the rented vehicle, including loss of use and any costs and expenses incident to the damage or loss.

(5) 'Private passenger automobile' or 'vehicle' means a motor vehicle of the private passenger or station wagon type, including passenger vans and minivans that are primarily intended for transport of persons.

(6) 'Authorized driver' means the person to whom the vehicle is rented and, if a licensed driver and satisfying the company's minimum age requirement:
(a) The spouse of such person;
(b) The renter's employer, employee, or coworker if engaged in business activity with the renter; and
(c) A person expressly listed by the rental company on the rental agreement as an authorized driver.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. (1) No rental company may, in any rental agreement, hold an authorized driver liable for any damage, except where:
(a) The damage is caused intentionally by an authorized driver or as a result of his or her willful and wanton misconduct;
(b) The damage arises from the authorized driver's operation of the vehicle while illegally intoxicated or under the influence of an illegal drug as defined or determined under the law of the state where the damage occurred;
(c) The damage is caused while the authorized driver is engaged in a speed contest;
(d) The rental transaction is based on false or incomplete information supplied by the renter with the intent to defraud the rental company;
(e) The damage arises from the use of the vehicle while committing or otherwise engaged in a criminal act in which the vehicle usage is substantially related to the criminal activity; or
(I) The damage arises from the use of the vehicle outside the United States or Canada, unless that use is specifically authorized by the rental agreement.

(2) An authorized driver is not responsible for the acts of a person who drives or moves the vehicle because of an emergency situation or for the acts of a person to whom the vehicle is entrusted for parking or servicing of the vehicle in a municipal or public lot or commercial establishment open to the public.

(3) A rental company may bring an action for damages arising from the use of a vehicle subject to a rental agreement against a renter or authorized driver who is a resident of the United States only in the state and county of the renter's or authorized driver's primary residence.

(4) The rental company may not request or require a deposit or other security for damage to the vehicle during the rental period or pending resolution of any dispute.

(5) No rental company, in connection with a rental agreement subject to this chapter may offer, or provide for, the elimination of any of the exceptions listed in subsection (I) of this section, if the renter is required to pay a fee or consideration in excess of the standard price for the rental agreement to obtain elimination of the exceptions.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A violation of this chapter is an unfair method of competition and an unfair or deceptive act or practice in the conduct of a trade or commerce, as specifically contemplated by RCW 19.86.020, and is a violation of the Consumer Protection Act, chapter 19.86 RCW. A renter or authorized driver injured as a result of a violation of this chapter may maintain an action pursuant to chapter 19.86 RCW against the rental company and is entitled to all of the rights and remedies afforded by that chapter. A successful claimant under this section is also entitled to reasonable attorneys' fees.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. Sections 1 through 4 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 19 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. This act shall take effect on September 1, 1989. *

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. PURPOSE. The legislature believes that current laws, both state and federal, leave significant gaps in the coverage and protection afforded the state's wetlands. The shorelines management act affects only a limited area, the federal clean water act affects only filling of wetlands, and the hydraulics code affects only fish life.
The public obtains important health, welfare and safety benefits from retaining wetlands. Wetlands provide flood protection; retard soil erosion and improve water quality through natural filtration and absorption; purify surface water and ground water; provide essential habitat for fish and wildlife; maintain ground water, particularly during periods of drought; and surface water through the gradual release of stored flood flows.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. INTENT. The legislature declares that it is the public policy of the state to preserve, protect, and manage wetlands in order to promote public health, safety, and welfare; protect water quality; protect public and private property; conserve fish, wildlife, and other natural resources of the state; and allow for planned and orderly economic growth at both the state and local levels.

It is the goal of the state to institute a system of planning for and managing the decisions regarding wetlands so as to prevent further loss of wetlands, as measured by either significant differences in acreage or function, measured on a state-wide basis. To accomplish this the legislature intends that decisions made regarding wetlands be made within a decision-making framework that leads to considered, planned, and deliberate conclusions. This requires gathering data, educating the public and the decision makers, wetland acquisition where appropriate, and regulation as necessary.

The legislature intends to implement these policies through forging a partnership between the public and private sector to protect and enhance the state's remaining wetlands.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. Definitions. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

1. 'Department' means the department of ecology.
2. 'Director' means the director of the department of ecology.
3. 'Local government' means any county, incorporated city, or town that contains within its boundaries any wetlands subject to the provisions of this chapter.
4. 'Person' means an individual, partnership, corporation, association, organization, cooperative, public or municipal corporation, or agency of the state, local, or other governmental unit.
5. 'Plan' means a wetland management plan.
6. 'Wetlands' means those lands defined by the United States fish and wildlife service as lands transitional between terrestrial and aquatic systems where the water table is usually at or near the surface or the land is covered by shallow water. For purposes of this definition wetlands must have one or more of the following attributes:
   a. At least periodically, the land supports predominantly hydrophytes;
   b. The substrate is predominantly undrained hydric soil;
   c. The substrate is nonsoil and is saturated with water or covered by shallow water at some time during the growing season of each year.
7. 'Regulated wetlands,' for purposes of regulation under this chapter, means those lands defined as wetlands under the federal clean water act, 33 U.S.C. Sec. 1251 et seq.
8. 'Wetland buffer zones' means lands bordering regulated wetlands, which may be managed to protect the regulated wetlands from adverse impacts of activities on adjacent lands.
9. 'Wetland management plan' means any plan adopted by a local government to protect and manage regulated wetlands and wetland buffer zones in a local jurisdiction and which meets the requirements of this chapter and rules adopted by the department under this chapter.
10. 'Wetland management standards' means those minimum standards adopted as rules by the department for wetland management plans under this chapter.
11. 'Wetlands of state-wide value' means those regulated wetlands determined by the department, with the concurrence of the local government, to have characteristics of exceptional value which should never be intentionally adversely impacted.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE DEPARTMENT. The department shall:

1. Develop and maintain a state-wide inventory and maps of wetlands;
2. Develop classification and rating systems for regulated wetlands;
3. Develop with assistance of the association of Washington cities and the Washington state association of counties a model wetland management plan and a model wetland mitigation plan;

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that the future of the state is dependent upon the wise use of its resources and an orderly growth process that enhances the quality of life of its citizens. The legislature finds that a balanced growth strategy is needed to protect natural resources and to ensure their availability for future generations, to provide needed infrastructure at the time growth has its impact, to assure the coordinated expansion and delivery of public services, and to increase the predictability of development decisions.

The legislature finds that in some regions of the state, the delayed investment for infrastructure has contributed significantly to growth-related problems. A coordinated and orderly growth strategy will help to promote the cost-effective and efficient delivery of services by state and local governments in terms of education, housing, infrastructure, environmental degradation, economic productivity, and public health and safety. The legislature finds that a coordinated growth strategy that defines the state’s role and permits flexible local responses will strengthen the ability of local governments and regions to promote orderly and balanced growth.

The legislature finds that Washington state is a state of wide diversity with varied growth rates, population densities, employment patterns, and structures of local governments. New proposals to accommodate growth should consider recent comprehensive studies that suggest local governments require additional resources and flexibility to meet local needs and to provide necessary infrastructure.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. There is hereby created the Washington state growth strategies commission, referred to in this chapter as the commission.

The commission shall consist of seventeen members appointed by the governor comprising a balance of the key geographic regions of the state as follows:

(1) Four members of the legislature, including one member from each of the four largest caucuses in the legislature;
(2) The chair, selected by the governor;
(3) Two members representing a rural and an urban area selected from a list of qualified nominees submitted by the Washington state association of counties;
(4) Two members representing a rural and an urban area selected from a list of qualified nominees submitted by the association of Washington cities; and
(5) Eight members from the private sector and citizen organizations representing a balance of positions on growth issues.

The governor shall appoint the members of the commission within thirty days after the effective date of this act. Members shall serve two-year terms.

The commission shall meet regularly and shall create subcommittees as needed to deal with specific issues and concerns. Members shall be reimbursed for travel expenses under RCW 43.03.050 and 43.03.060, except legislative members shall be reimbursed under RCW 44.04.120. The commission may receive private sector gifts and grants to carry out its purposes.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The commission has the following powers and duties:

(1) Develop a specific growth strategy for the state that is consistent with the goals established in section 4 of this act. In developing the strategy, the commission shall review recent related state reports including, but not limited to the rail development commission, local government study commission, road jurisdiction study, department of transportation policy plan, Washington state economic development board, and the Puget Sound water quality management plan:
(2) Evaluate the state interests, priorities, and values in planning for growth and enhancing coordination with and between local governments;
(3) Analyze growth planning and management systems used in other states and suggest appropriate alternatives for the state of Washington that include coordination and cooperation between appropriate state agencies;
(4) Identify various state funds and regulations that directly affect growth planning and recommend ways to streamline, make more predictable, and coordinate state agency functions with local governments;
(5) Recommend ways to enhance regional planning on issues of regional significance and recommended ways to develop urban–rural links and to expand urban–rural cooperation and planning;
(6) Encourage the implementation of interlocal processes or local government service agreements to promote efficient provision of local government services such as those recommended by the local governance study commission created by chapter 43.63A RCW;
(7) Include broad-based citizen input in the recommendations of the commission; and
(8) Submit to the legislature by January 8, 1990, a set of preliminary findings or recommendations. Recommend to the legislature by January 1991, a coordinated system of growth planning including state and regional roles, enhanced comprehensive planning at the municipal and county levels, and means to fund the planning process.
NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. In developing a growth strategy for the state, the commission shall establish growth planning goals. In establishing these goals, the commission shall consider, but not be limited to, the following:

(1) Support the planning, financing, and development of public facilities and services in the most efficient manner possible by supporting the maximum use of existing facilities before investing in new infrastructure;

(2) Protect landowners' property rights from unjust acquisitions or other arbitrary and discriminatory actions;

(3) Promote cost-effective growth planning that is coordinated and consistent between state government and local governments and that promotes predictable and timely development decisions;

(4) Encourage the widest possible involvement by citizens in all aspects of the planning process to ensure that proposed growth strategies and plans have had the benefit of citizen input;

(5) Encourage highly efficient multimodal transportation systems that are based on regional consensus and priorities;

(6) Support orderly growth and development in appropriate areas of each community, while protecting its open space and quality of life, commercial public and private timber stands, agricultural lands, and sensitive natural ecosystems;

(7) Promote the increase of affordable housing stock, including housing for low-income and moderate-income families, manufactured housing, and multifamily housing;

(8) Maintain and enhance productive agriculture, timber, fisheries and other natural resource based industries;

(9) Protect the state's water quality and supply and critical natural resources, including lakes, river and coastal areas, and wildlife and fisheries habitat from incompatible development; and this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. In carrying out its duties, the commission may establish such rela-

Ms. Nutley moved adoption of the following amendment by Representatives Nutley, Winsley and Leonard:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, mobile home park landlords shall provide reasonable relocation assistance under the provisions of this chapter to mobile home park tenants upon the closure or conversion to another use of a mobile home park: PROVIDED. That no such relocation assistance may be required pursuant to this chapter if relocation assistance for the same mobile home park tenant for the same relocation has been, is, or will be required pursuant to any other law.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) 'Account' means the tenant relocation assistance account.
(2) 'Director' means the director of community development.
(3) 'Fund' means the mobile home park relocation fund.
(4) 'Low-income' means at or below eighty percent of median income for the county where the park is located.
(5) 'Mobile home park' or 'park' means any real property which is rented or held out for rent to others for the placement of two or more mobile homes for the primary purpose of production of income, except where such real property is rented or held out for rent for seasonal recreational purpose only and is not intended for year-round occupancy.
(6) 'Landlord' or 'park-owner' means the owner of the mobile home park that is being closed at the time relocation assistance is provided.
(7) 'Relocate' means to remove the mobile home from the mobile home park being closed.
(8) 'Relocation assistance' means the monetary assistance provided under section 3 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. (1) In the event of the conversion of a mobile home park to another use or its closure or cessation of use as a mobile home park, all affected park tenants shall be provided with relocation assistance at the time the tenant relocates as follows: (a) For single-wide mobile homes, four thousand five hundred dollars; and (b) for double-wide mobile homes, seven thousand five hundred dollars. Beginning in 1993, and every two years thereafter, the director shall adjust the amount of relocation assistance based on the consumer price index.
(2) Where a tenant relocates on or before July 1, 1991, the payment of relocation assistance shall be shared as follows: (a) The landlord or park-owner shall provide one-third; (b) the fund shall provide one-third; and (c) the account shall provide one-third.
(3) Where a tenant relocates after July 1, 1991, the payment of relocation assistance shall be shared as follows: (a) The landlord or park-owner shall provide five hundred dollars for a single-wide home or one thousand dollars for a double-wide home; (b) the fund shall provide two thousand five hundred dollars for a single-wide home or four thousand dollars for a double-wide home; and (c) the account shall provide one thousand five hundred dollars for a single-wide home or two thousand five hundred dollars for a double-wide home.
(4) The director shall collect the landlord's portion of the relocation assistance. The director shall administer the payment of relocation assistance to tenants. The director shall approve all expenditures from the fund or the account, and shall approve payment of the landlord's portion to the tenants. If the landlord does not pay his or her portion of the relocation assistance to the department when required by the department, the department shall have a lien on the real property on which the park is located. Such lien shall be collected the same as general taxes and shall be forwarded to the department. The fund and the account shall be liable for their share of the relocation assistance, subject to the availability of funds.
(5) Relocation assistance provided from the account shall only be available to low-income tenants. Tenants who are not low income shall receive the share of relocation assistance provided by the landlord and the fund under this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. (1) The landlord shall notify the director and all tenants in writing of a change in use at least one year before the change in use, except that in King and Snohomish counties the notice period shall be two years until June 30, 1991. Tenants in the counties of King and Snohomish are experiencing the problem of parks closing more acutely than other areas of the state. Park spaces in these two counties are much, scarcer relative to the need than in other areas of the state. A longer notice period in these two counties, because of the significantly larger number of tenants facing the prospect of relocating and the current unavailability of spaces for mobile homes in these areas, will enable local governments and the private sector to work to increase the number of available spaces to which mobile homes can be relocated.

(2) The landlord shall inform all tenants in writing about the right to relocation assistance under section 3 of this act, shall also notify the department of community development, and shall also record a notice in the county real property records for the real property on which the mobile home park is located.

(3) If a tenant is vacating the premises and has informed the landlord or manager before the change in use notice has been given, the tenant is not eligible for relocation assistance.

(4) The landlord shall post a sign in a conspicuous location at all entrances to the park. The sign shall disclose that the park is being closed and shall include the date notice was given of the closure of the park.

(5) This section does not apply to a change in use if the landlord moves a tenant to another space in the mobile home park at the landlord’s expense.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. (1) The fund is established in the office of the treasurer to be administered by the department of community development and consists of moneys collected under section 6 of this act.

(2) Fund moneys shall be used to pay relocation assistance under section 3 of this act.

(3) The state treasurer shall maintain the fund and shall invest the fund moneys. Moneys earned on these investments shall be deposited in the fund and shall be used for the same purposes as other fund moneys. Any unexpended and unencumbered moneys remaining in the fund at the end of the fiscal year do not revert to the state general fund but remain in the fund, separately accounted for, as a contingency reserve.

(4) The director may adopt, amend, or repeal rules for the administration of the fund. Fund moneys, up to five percent of the fund, may be paid to the department of community development to offset the costs of administering the fund.

Sec. 6. Section 4, chapter 280, Laws of 1988 and RCW 59.22.060 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Every landlord shall register by October 1, 1988, with the department of revenue under such rules as that department shall prescribe.

(2) Every landlord shall pay a fee of one dollar per lot per year, except for unoccupied lots, and in addition, ((shall collect from)) each tenant ((on)) residing in the park on January 1 shall pay to the landlord by January ((of)) 15th of each year a fee of ((one)) eleven dollars per year for each lot rented by the tenant. If the tenant fails to make the payment to the landlord after the landlord requests payment in writing, the landlord shall have no further obligation to collect the tenant’s fee. Both fees shall be remitted by the landlord to the department of revenue under such rules as the department shall prescribe. The department of revenue shall forward the one-dollar fee per lot paid by the landlord and one dollar of the eleven-dollar fee paid by each tenant per lot to the mobile home affairs account created by RCW 59.22.070. The department of revenue shall forward the remaining ten dollars of the tenant’s fee to the mobile home park relocation fund created under section 5 of this act. The fee required by this chapter, to be collected by the landlord, shall be deemed to be held in trust by the landlord until paid to the department of revenue, and any landlord who appropriates or converts the fee collected to his or her own use other than ((the)) payment to the department, or who charges an administrative fee to the tenant for collection of the tenant’s fee, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. The provisions of chapter 82.32 RCW shall apply to the collection and enforcement of this fee.

Sec. 7. Section 5, chapter 280, Laws of 1988 and RCW 59.22.070 are each amended to read as follows:

There is created in the custody of the state treasurer a special account known as the mobile home affairs account. ((All fees collected pursuant to RCW 59.22.060 shall be placed in that account.))

Disbursements from this special account shall be as follows:

(1) For the two-year period beginning July 1, 1988, forty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary for costs incurred in registering landlords and collecting fees, and thereafter five thousand dollars per year for that purpose.

(2) All remaining amounts shall be remitted to the department of community development for the purpose of implementing RCW 59.22.050 and 59.22.060.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. If the director determines that the fund or the account exceeds the amount needed for anticipated relocation assistance, the director may transfer excess moneys in the fund or the account to the mobile home park purchase fund in chapter 59.22 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. The department of community development and the office of the treasurer may implement any rules necessary to carry out this chapter.

Sec. 10. Section 8, chapter 279, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. as last amended by section 5, chapter 150, Laws of 1988 and RCW 59.20.080 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section, the landlord shall not terminate a tenancy, of whatever duration except for one or more of the following reasons:

(a) Substantial violation, or repeated or periodic violations of the rules of the mobile home park as established by the landlord at the inception of the tenancy or as assumed subsequently with the consent of the tenant or for violation of the tenant's duties as provided in RCW 59.20-140. The tenant shall be given written notice to cease the rule violation immediately. The notice shall state that failure to cease the violation of the rule or any subsequent violation of that or any other rule shall result in termination of the tenancy, and that the tenant shall vacate the premises within fifteen days: PROVIDED. That for a periodic violation the notice shall also specify that repetition of the same violation shall result in termination: PROVIDED FURTHER. That in the case of a violation of a 'material change' in park rules with respect to pets, tenants with minor children living with them, or recreational facilities, the tenant shall be given written notice under this chapter of a six month period in which to comply or vacate;

(b) Nonpayment of rent or other charges specified in the rental agreement, upon five days written notice to pay rent and/or other charges or to vacate;

(c) Conviction of the tenant of a crime, commission of which threatens the health, safety, or welfare of the other mobile home park tenants. The tenant shall be given written notice of a fifteen day period in which to vacate;

(d) Failure of the tenant to comply with local ordinances and state laws and regulations relating to mobile homes or mobile home living within a reasonable time after the tenant's receipt of notice of such noncompliance from the appropriate governmental agency;

(e) Change of land use of the mobile home park including, but not limited to, conversion to a use other than for mobile homes or conversion of the mobile home park to a mobile home park cooperative or mobile home park subdivision: PROVIDED. That the landlord shall give the tenants twelve months' notice, except where twenty-four months' notice is required under chapter 59.91-59.20.070 (3) or (4) or is intended to circumvent the provisions of (1)(e) of this section;

Within five days of a notice of eviction as required by subsection (1)(a) or (2) of this section, the landlord and tenant shall submit any dispute, including the decision to terminate the tenancy without cause, to mediation. The parties may agree in writing to mediation by an independent third party or through industry mediation procedures. If the parties cannot agree, then mediation shall be through industry mediation procedures. A duty is imposed upon both parties to participate in the mediation process in good faith for a period of ten days for an eviction under subsection (1)(a) of this section, or for a period of thirty days for an eviction under subsection (2) of this section. It is a defense to an eviction under subsection (1)(a) or (2) of this section that a landlord did not participate in the mediation process in good faith.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. Sections 1 through 5, 8, and 13 through 15 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 59 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. A new section is added to chapter 43.65A RCW to read as follows:

The tenant relocation assistance account is created in the custody of the state treasurer. The tenant relocation assistance account shall include revenue from the sources established by this act, appropriations by the legislature, private contributions, and all other sources. Only the director of community development or the director's designee may authorize expenditures from the account. The account is subject to allotment procedures under chapter 43.88 RCW, but no appropriation is required for expenditures.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. Any public or private entity may, with the director's approval, give or loan moneys to the fund if insufficient moneys are available to pay the fund's share of relocation assistance under section 3 of this act. When sufficient moneys exist in the fund, the director shall approve the repayment of the loaned moneys to the local government. The account may, with the director's approval, loan moneys to the fund; the director shall approve repayment to the account when sufficient moneys are in the fund.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. The tenant may, with written approval of the tenant's attorney, waive the tenant's rights under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. (1) The tenant relocation assistance under section 3 of this act shall be available to any tenant who relocates after the effective date of this act, even though notice of the park closure may have been provided prior to the effective date of this act.

(2) The requirements of section 4 of this act, except for section 4(1) of this act, shall apply to all park-owners even though notice may have been provided by the park-owner prior to the effective date of this act. The notice requirements under section 4(1) of this act shall apply to all parks where notice of closure of the park has not been provided to the tenants prior to the effective date of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.
NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately."

The purpose of this subsection is to enable the board, in its discretion, to license in areas outside of cities and towns and other communities, establishments which are operated and maintained primarily for the benefit of tourists, vacationers and travelers, and also golf and country clubs, and common carriers operating dining, club and buffet cars, or boats.

(4) The total number of class H licenses issued in the state of Washington by the board, not including those class H licenses issued to clubs, shall not in the aggregate at any time exceed one license for each fifteen hundred of population in the state, determined according to the yearly population determination developed by the office of financial management pursuant to RCW 43.62.030.

(5) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (4) of this section, the board shall refuse a class H license to any applicant if in the opinion of the board the class H licenses already granted for the particular locality are adequate for the reasonable needs of the community.

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. Section 27, chapter 62, Laws of 1933 ex. sess. as last amended by section 1, chapter 200, Laws of 1988 and RCW 66.24.010 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Every license shall be issued in the name of the applicant, and the holder thereof shall not allow any other person to use the license.

(2) For the purpose of considering any application for a license, the board may cause an inspection of the premises to be made, and may inquire into all matters in connection with the construction and operation of the premises. For the purpose of reviewing any application for a license and for considering the denial, suspension or revocation of any license, the liquor control board may consider any prior criminal conduct of the applicant and the provisions of RCW 9.95.240 and of chapter 9.96A RCW shall not apply to such cases. The board may, in its discretion, grant or refuse the license applied for. No retail license of any kind may be issued to:

(b) A copartnership, unless all of the members thereof are qualified to obtain a license, as provided in this section;

(c) A person whose place of business is conducted by a manager or agent, unless such manager or agent possesses the same qualifications required of the licensee;

(d) A corporation, unless it was created under the laws of the state of Washington or holds a certificate of authority to transact business in the state of Washington.

(3) The board may, in its discretion, subject to the provisions of RCW 66.08.150, suspend or cancel any license, and all rights of the licensee to keep or sell liquor thereunder shall be suspended or terminated, as the case may be. documents, and testimony, examine witnesses, and to receive testimony in any inquiry, investigation, hearing, or proceeding in any part of the state, under such rules and regulations as the board may adopt.

Witnesses shall be allowed fees and mileage each way to and from any such inquiry, investigation, hearing, or proceeding at the rate authorized by RCW (34.05.446), as now or hereafter amended. Fees need not be paid in advance of appearance of witnesses to testify or to produce books, records, or other legal evidence.

In case of disobedience of any person to comply with the order of the board or a subpoena issued by the board, or any of its members, or administrative law judges, or on the refusal of a witness to testify to any matter regarding which he may be lawfully interrogated, the judge of the superior court of the county in which the person resides, on application of any member of the board or administrative law judge, shall compel obedience by contempt proceedings, as in the case of disobedience of the requirements of a subpoena issued from said court or a refusal to testify therein.

(4) Upon receipt of notice of the suspension or cancellation of a license, the licensee shall forthwith deliver up the license to the board. Where the license has been suspended only, the board shall return the license to the licensee at the expiration or termination of the period of suspension. The board shall notify all vendors in the city or place where the licensee has its premises of the suspension or cancellation of the license; and no employee may allow or cause any liquor to be delivered to or for any person at the premises of that licensee.

(b) Unless sooner canceled, every license issued by the board shall expire at midnight of the thirtieth day of June of the fiscal year for which it was issued. However, if the board deems it feasible and desirable to do so, it may establish, by rule pursuant to chapter (34.05) 34.05 RCW, a system for staggering the annual renewal dates for any and all licenses authorized by this chapter. If such a system of staggered annual renewal dates is established by the board, the license fees provided by this chapter shall be appropriately prorated during the first year that the system is in effect.

(6) Every license issued under this section shall be subject to all conditions and restrictions imposed by this title or by the regulations in force from time to time. All conditions and restrictions imposed by the board in the issuance of an individual license shall be listed on the face of the individual license along with the trade name, address, and expiration date.

(7) Every licensee shall post and keep posted its license, or licenses, in a conspicuous place on the premises.

(8) Before the board shall issue a license to an applicant it shall give notice of such application to the chief executive officer of the incorporated city or town, if the application be for a license within an incorporated city or town, or to the county legislative authority, if the application be for a license outside the boundaries of incorporated cities or towns: and such incorporated city or town, through the official or employee selected by it, or the county legislative authority or the official or employee selected by it, shall have the right to file with the board within twenty days after date of transmittal of such notice, written objections against the applicant or against the premises for which the license is asked, and shall include with such objections a statement of all facts upon which such objections are based, and in case written objections are filed, may request and the liquor control board may in its discretion hold a formal hearing subject to the applicable provisions of Title 34 RCW, as now or hereafter amended. Upon the granting of a license under this title the board shall send a duplicate of the license or written notification to the chief executive officer of the incorporated city or town in which the license is granted, or to the county legislative authority if the license is granted outside the boundaries of incorporated cities or towns.

(9) Written notice of applications and reapplications for licenses shall be posted conspicuously at the location(s) where business will be conducted.

(10) Before the board issues any license to any applicant, it shall give (a) due consideration to the location of the business to be conducted under such license with respect to the proximity of churches, schools, and public institutions and (b) written notice by certified mail of the application to churches, schools, and public institutions within five hundred feet of the premises to be licensed. The board shall issue no beer retailer license class A, B, D, or E or wine retailer license class C or F or class H license covering any premises not now licensed. If such premises are within five hundred feet of the premises of any tax-supported public elementary or secondary school measured along the most direct route over or across established public walks, streets, or other public passageway from the outer property line of the school grounds to the nearest public entrance of the premises proposed for license, and if, after receipt by the school or public institution of the notice as provided in this subsection, the board receives written notice, within twenty days after posting such notice, from an official representative or representatives of the school within five hundred feet of said proposed licensed premises, indicating to the board that there is an objection to the issuance of such license because of proximity to a school. Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

*NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 10.77 RCW to read as follows:

With respect to this act, the legislature finds that among those persons who endanger the safety of others by committing felony crimes are a small number of persons with developmental disabilities. While their conduct is not typical of the vast majority of persons with developmental disabilities who are responsible citizens, for their own welfare and for the safety of others the state may need to exercise control over those few dangerous individuals who are developmentally disabled, have been charged with felony crimes, and have been found either incompetent to stand trial or not guilty by reason of insanity. The legislature finds, however, that the use of civil commitment procedures under chapter 71.05 RCW to effect state control over dangerous developmentally disabled persons has resulted in their commitment to institutions for the mentally ill. The legislature finds that existing programs in mental institutions may be inappropriate for persons who are developmentally disabled because the services provided in mental institutions are oriented to persons with mental illness, a condition not necessarily associated with developmental disabilities. Therefore, the legislature believes that, where appropriate, and subject to available funds, persons with developmental disabilities who have been charged with felony crimes and have been found incompetent to stand trial or not guilty by reason of insanity should receive state services addressing their needs, that such services must be provided in conformance with an individual habilitation plan, and that their initial treatment should be separate and discrete from treatment for persons involved in any other treatment or habilitation program in a manner consistent with the needs of public safety.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 71.05 RCW to read as follows:

Sec. 4. Section 6, chapter 117, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. as amended by section 6, chapter
198, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 10.77.060 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Whenever a defendant has pleaded not guilty by reason of insanity, or there is reason to doubt his or her competency, the court on its own motion or on the motion of any party shall either appoint or request the secretary to designate at least two qualified experts or professional persons, one of whom shall be approved by the prosecuting attorney, to examine and report upon the mental condition of the defendant. At least one of the experts or professional persons appointed shall be a developmental disabilities professional if the court is advised by any party that the defendant may be developmentally disabled. For purposes of the examination, the court may order the defendant committed to a hospital or other suitable facility for a period of time necessary to complete the examination, but not to exceed fifteen days.

(2) The court may direct that a qualified expert or professional person retained by or appointed for the defendant be permitted to witness the examination authorized by subsection (1) of this section, and that ((his)) the defendant shall have access to all information obtained by the court appointed experts or professional persons. The defendant's expert or professional person shall have the right to file his or her own report following the guidelines of subsection (3) of this section. If the defendant is indigent, the court shall upon the request of the defendant assist him or her in obtaining an expert or professional person.

(3) The report of the examination shall include the following:
(a) A description of the nature of the examination;
(b) A diagnosis of the mental condition of the defendant;
(c) If the defendant suffers from a mental disease or defect, or is developmentally disabled, an opinion as to ((his)) competency;

(f) An opinion as to whether the defendant is a substantial danger to other persons, or presents a substantial likelihood of committing felonious acts jeopardizing public safety or security, unless kept under further control by the court or other persons or institutions.

Sec. 5. Section 9. chapter 117, Laws of 1973 ex. sess. as last amended by section 3, chapter 215, Laws of 1979 ex. sess. and RCW 10.77.090 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) If at any time during the pendency of an action and prior to judgment, the court finds following a report as provided in RCW 10.77.060, as now or hereafter amended, that the defendant is incompetent, the court shall order the proceedings against ((his)) the defendant be stayed, except as provided in subsection (5) of this section, and, if the defendant is charged with a felony, may commit the defendant to the custody of the secretary, who shall place such defendant in an appropriate facility of the department for evaluation and treatment, or the court may alternatively order the defendant to undergo evaluation and treatment at some other facility, or under the guidance and control of some other person, until he or she has regained the competency necessary to understand the proceedings against him or her and assist in his or her own defense, but in any event, for no longer than a period of ninety days. A defendant found incompetent shall be evaluated at the direction of the secretary and a determination made whether the defendant is developmentally disabled. Such evaluation and determination shall be accomplished as soon as possible following the court's placement of the defendant in the custody of the secretary. When appropriate, and subject to available funds, if the defendant is determined to be developmentally disabled, he or she may be placed in a program specifically reserved for the treatment and training of persons with developmental disabilities where the defendant shall have the right to habilitation according to an individualized service plan specifically developed for the particular needs of the defendant. The program shall be separate from programs serving persons involved in any other treatment or habilitation program. The program shall be appropriately secure under the circumstances and shall be administered by developmental disabilities professionals who shall direct the habilitation efforts. The program shall provide an environment affording security appropriate with the charged criminal behavior and necessary to protect the public safety. The department may limit admissions of such persons to this specialized program in order to ensure that expenditures for services do not exceed amounts appropriated by the legislature and allocated by the department for such services. The department may establish admission priorities in the event that the number of eligible persons exceeds the limits set by the department. A copy of the report shall be sent to the facility. On or before expiration of the initial ninety day period of commitment the court shall conduct a hearing, at which it shall determine whether or not the defendant is incompetent. If the defendant is charged with a crime which is not a felony, the court may stay or dismiss proceedings and detain the defendant for sufficient time to allow the county mental health professional to evaluate the defendant and commence proceedings under chapter 71.05 RCW if appropriate; and subsections (2) and (3) of this section shall not be applicable: PROVIDED, That, upon order of the court, the prosecutor may directly petition for fourteen days of involuntary treatment under chapter 71.05 RCW.

(2) If the court finds by a preponderance of the evidence that the defendant is incompetent, the court shall have the option of extending the order of commitment or alternative treatment for an additional ninety day period, but it must at the time of extension set a date for a prompt hearing to determine the defendant's competency before the expiration of the second ninety day period. The defendant, ((his)) the defendant's attorney, the prosecutor, or the judge shall have the right to demand that the hearing on or before the expiration of the second ninety day period be before a jury. No extension shall be ordered for a second ninety-day period, nor for any subsequent period as provided in subsection (3) of this section if the defendant's incompetence has been determined by the secretary to be solely the result of a developmental disability which is such that competence is not reasonably likely to be regained during an extension. If no demand is made, the hearing shall be before the court. The court or jury shall determine whether or not the defendant has become competent.

(3) At the hearing upon the expiration of the second ninety day period or at the end of the first ninety day period, in the case of a developmentally disabled defendant, if the jury or court, as the case may be, finds that the defendant is incompetent, the charges shall be dismissed without prejudice, and either civil commitment proceedings shall be instituted, if appropriate, or the court shall order the release of the defendant: PROVIDED. That the criminal charges shall not be dismissed if at the end of the second ninety day period, or at the end of the first ninety day period, in the case of a developmentally disabled defendant, the court or jury finds that the defendant is a substantial danger to other persons, or presents a substantial likelihood of committing felonious acts jeopardizing public safety or security, and that there is a substantial probability that the defendant will attain competency within a reasonable period of time. In the event that the court or jury makes such a finding, the court may extend the period of commitment for an additional six months. At the end of said six month period, if the defendant remains incompetent, the charges shall be dismissed without prejudice and either civil commitment proceedings shall be instituted, if appropriate, or the court shall order release of the defendant.

(4) The fact that the defendant is unfit to proceed does not preclude any pretrial proceedings which do not require the personal participation of the defendant.

(5) A defendant receiving medication for either physical or mental problems shall not be prohibited from standing trial, if the medication either enables ((him)) the defendant to understand the proceedings against him or her and to assist in his or her own defense, or does not disable him or her from so understanding and assisting in his or her own defense.

(6) At or before the conclusion of any commitment period provided for by this section, the facility providing evaluation and treatment shall provide to the court a written report of examination which meets the requirements of RCW 10.77.060(3).

Sec. 6. Section 11. chapter 117. Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. as last amended by section 1, chapter 25, Laws of 1983 and RCW 10.77.110 are each amended to read as follows:

If a defendant is acquitted of a felony by reason of insanity, and it is found that he or she is not a substantial danger to other persons, and does not present a substantial likelihood of committing felonious acts jeopardizing public safety or security, unless kept under further control by the court or other persons or institutions, the court shall direct ((him)) the defendant's conditional release. If it is found that such defendant is a substantial danger to other persons, or presents a substantial likelihood of committing felonious acts jeopardizing public safety or security, unless kept under further control by the court or other persons or institutions, the court shall order his or her hospitalization, or any appropriate alternative treatment less restrictive than detention in a state mental hospital, pursuant to the terms of this chapter. If the defendant has been found not guilty by reason of insanity and a substantial danger, or presents a substantial likelihood of committing felonious acts jeopardizing public safety or security, so as to require treatment then the secretary shall immediately cause the defendant to be evaluated to ascertain if the defendant is developmentally disabled. When appropriate, and subject to available funds, the defendant may be committed to a program specifically reserved for the treatment and training of developmentally disabled persons. A person so committed shall receive habilitation services according to an individualized service plan specifically developed to treat the behavior which was the subject of the criminal proceedings. The treatment program shall be administered by developmental disabilities professionals and others trained specifically in the needs of developmentally disabled persons. The treatment program shall provide physical security to a degree consistent with the finding that the defendant is dangerous and may incorporate varying conditions of security and alternative sites when the dangerousness of any particular defendant makes this necessary. The department may limit admissions to this specialized program in order to ensure that expenditures for services do not exceed amounts appropriated by the legislature and allocated by the department for such services. The department may establish admission priorities in the event that the number of eligible persons exceeds the limits set by the department, If it is found that such defendant is not a substantial danger to other persons, and does not present a substantial likelihood of committing felonious acts jeopardizing public safety or security, but that he or she is in need of control by the court or other persons or institutions, the court shall direct ((him)) the defendant's conditional release. If the defendant is acquitted by reason of insanity of a crime which is not a felony, the court shall order the defendant's release or order the defendant's continued custody only for a reasonable time to allow the county-designated mental-health professional to evaluate the individual and to proceed with civil commitment pursuant to chapter 71.05 RCW, if considered appropriate.
Sec. 7. Section 12, chapter 117, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. as amended by section 11, chapter 198. Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 10.77.120 are each amended to read as follows:

The secretary shall forthwith provide adequate and appropriate care and individualized treatment at one or several of the state institutions or facilities under his or her direction and control wherein persons committed as criminally insane or incompetent to stand trial by reason of developmental disability may be confined. Such persons shall be under the custody and control of the secretary to the same extent as are other persons who are committed to ((the)) the secretary's custody, but such provision shall be made for their control, care, and treatment as is proper in view of their condition. In order that the secretary may adequately determine the nature of the mental illness or developmental disability of the person committed to him or her as criminally insane or incompetent to stand trial, and in order for the secretary to place such individuals in a proper facility, all persons who are committed to the secretary as criminally insane or incompetent to stand trial by reason of developmental disability shall be promptly examined by qualified personnel in such a manner as to provide a proper evaluation and diagnosis of such individual. The examinations of all developmentally disabled persons committed under this chapter shall be performed by developmental disabilities professionals. Any person so committed shall not be discharged from the control of the secretary save upon the order of a court of competent jurisdiction made after a hearing and judgment of discharge.

Whenever there is a hearing which the committed person is entitled to attend, the secretary shall send him or her in the custody of one or more department employees to the county where the hearing is to be held at the time the case is called for trial. During the time (the) the person is absent from the facility, he or she shall be confined in a facility designated by and arranged for by the department, and shall at all times be deemed to be in the custody of the department employee and provided necessary treatment. If the decision of the hearing remits the person to custody, the department employee shall forthwith return (him) the person to such institution or facility designated by the secretary. If the state appeals an order of discharge, such appeal shall operate as a stay, and the person in custody shall so remain and be forthwith returned to the institution or facility designated by the secretary until a final decision has been rendered in the cause.

Sec. 8. Section 14, chapter 117, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. as amended by section 12, chapter 198, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 10.77.140 are each amended to read as follows:

Each person committed to a hospital or other facility or conditionally released pursuant to this chapter shall have a current examination of his or her mental condition made by one or more experts or professional persons at least once every six months. Said person may retain, or if (the) the person is indigent and so requests, the court may appoint a qualified expert or professional person to examine him or her, and such expert or professional person shall have access to all hospital records concerning the person. In the case of a committed or conditionally released person who is developmentally disabled, the expert shall be a developmental disabilities professional. The secretary, upon receipt of the periodic report, shall provide written notice to the court of commitment of compliance with the requirements of this section.

Sec. 9. Section 2, chapter 122, Laws of 1983 and RCW 10.77.163 are each amended to read as follows:

The superintendent of each state institution designated for the custody, care, and treatment of (the criminally insane or presidential persons committed under this chapter shall notify appropriate law enforcement agencies through the state patrol communications network of the furloughs of persons committed under RCW 10.77.090 or 10.77.110. Notification shall be made at least forty-eight hours before the furlough, and shall include the name of the person, the place to which the person has permission to go, and the dates and times during which the person will be on furlough. For emergency furloughs, forty-eight hours notice is not required, but notice shall be made before the departure.

Sec. 11. Section 20, chapter 117, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. as last amended by section 2, chapter 25, Laws of 1983 and RCW 10.77.200 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Upon application by the (the criminally insane or conditionally released person) committed person, whether or not conditionally released, the secretary shall determine whether or not reasonable grounds exist for final discharge. If the secretary approves the final discharge he or she shall authorize said person to petition the court.

(2) The petition shall be served upon the court and the prosecuting attorney. The court, upon receipt of the petition for final discharge, shall within forty-five days order a hearing. Continuance of the hearing date shall only be allowed for good cause shown. The prosecuting attorney shall represent the state, and shall have the right to have the petitioner examined by an expert or professional person of his choice. If the petitioner is indigent, and (the) the person so requests, the court shall appoint a qualified expert or professional person to examine him or her. If the petitioner is developmentally disabled, the examination shall be performed by a developmental disabilities professional. The hearing shall be before a jury if demanded by either the petitioner or the prosecuting attorney. The burden of proof shall be upon the petitioner to show by a preponderance of the evidence that the petitioner may be finally discharged without substantial danger to other persons, and without presenting a substantial likelihood of committing felonious acts jeopardizing public safety or security, unless kept under further control by the court or other persons or institutions.

(3) Nothing contained in this chapter shall prohibit the patient from petitioning the court for final discharge or conditional release from the institution in which he or she is committed. The issue to be determined on such proceeding is whether the petitioner is a substantial danger to other persons, or presents a substantial likelihood of committing felonious acts jeopardizing public safety or security, unless kept under further control by the court or other persons or institutions.

Nothing contained in this chapter shall prohibit the committed person from petitioning for release by writ of habeas corpus.

(1) If the court or jury finds that grounds set forth in RCW 71.05.280 have been proven and that the best interests of the person or others will not be served by a less restrictive treatment which is an alternative to detention, the court shall remand him to the custody of the department of social and health services or to a facility certified for ninety day treatment by the department of social and health services for a further period of intensive treatment not to exceed ninety days from the date of judgment: PROVIDED, That if the grounds set forth in RCW 71.05.280(3) are the basis of commitment, then the period of treatment may be up to but not exceed one hundred eighty days from the date of judgment in a facility certified for one hundred eighty-day treatment by the department. If the committed person is developmentally disabled and has been determined incompetent pursuant to RCW 10.77.090(3), and the best interests of the person or others will not be served by a less-restrictive treatment which is an alternative to detention, the court shall remand him to the custody of the department of social and health services or to a facility certified for one hundred eighty-day treatment by the department. When appropriate and subject to available funds, treatment and training of such persons must be provided in a program specifically reserved for the treatment and training of developmentally disabled persons. A person so committed shall receive habilitation services pursuant to an individualized service plan specifically developed to treat the behavior which was the subject of the criminal proceedings. Said treatment program shall be administered by developmental disabilities professionals and others trained specifically in the needs of developmentally disabled persons. The department may limit admissions to this specialized program in order to ensure that expenditures for services do not exceed amounts appropriated by the legislature and allocated by the department for such services. The department may establish admission priorities in the event that the number of eligible persons exceeds the limits set by the department. An order for treatment less restrictive than involuntary detention may include conditions, and if such conditions are not adhered to, the designated mental health professional or developmental disabilities professional may order the person apprehended under the terms and conditions of RCW 71.05.340 as now or hereafter amended.

If the court or jury finds that grounds set forth in RCW 71.05.280 have been proven, but finds that treatment less restrictive than detention will be in the best interest of the person or others, then the court shall remand him to the custody of the department of social and health services or to a facility certified for ninety day treatment by the department of social and health services or to a less restrictive alternative for a further period of less restrictive treatment not to exceed ninety days from the date of judgment: PROVIDED, That if the grounds set forth in RCW 71.05.280(3) are the basis of commitment, then the period of treatment may be up to but not exceed one hundred eighty days from the date of judgment.

(2) Said person shall be released from involuntary treatment at the expiration of the period of commitment imposed under subsection (1) of this section unless the superintendent or professional person in charge of the facility in which he is confined, or in the event of a less restrictive alternative, the designated mental health professional or developmental disabilities professional, files a new petition for involuntary treatment on the grounds that the committed person:

(a) During the current period of court ordered treatment: (i) Has threatened, attempted, or inflicted physical harm upon the person of another, or substantial damage upon the property of another, and (ii) as a result of mental disorder or developmental disability presents a likelihood of serious harm to others: or
(b) Was taken into custody as a result of conduct in which he attempted or inflicted serious physical harm upon the person of another, and continues to present, as a result of mental disorder or developmental disability, a likelihood of serious harm to others; or
(c) Is in custody pursuant to RCW 71.05.280(3) and as a result of mental disorder or developmental disability presents a substantial likelihood of repeating similar acts considering the charged criminal behavior, past life history, progress in treatment, and the public safety; or
(d) Continues to be gravely disabled.

If the conduct required to be proven in subsections (b) and (c) of this section was found by a judge or jury in a prior trial under this chapter, it shall not be necessary to reprove that element. Such new petition for involuntary treatment shall be filed and heard in the superior court of the county of the facility which is filing the new petition for involuntary treatment unless good cause is shown for a change of venue. The cost of the proceedings shall be borne by the state.

The hearing shall be held as provided in RCW 71.05.310, and if the court or jury finds that the grounds for additional confinement as set forth in this subsection are present, the court may order the committed person returned for an additional period of treatment not to exceed one hundred eighty days from the date of judgment. POINT OF ORDER

Mr. R. Meyers: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would like a ruling on the scope and object of the Appropriations Committee amendment.

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: Representative Meyers. I find that the original House Bill No. 1768 dealt in a very straightforward manner with state fees imposed on building permits. I find that the committee amendment deals with such extra areas as directing the Department of Social and Health Services to identify advisory levels for indoor air quality; directing the State Building Code Council to include a review of techniques to reduce indoor air pollution; and requiring the Council to develop ventilation and control standards. I find that the amendment does not perfect, but attempts to expand the scope of that bill. I, therefore, find that your point is well taken; that the amendment is outside the scope and object of the original bill.

Districts may pay the necessary travel and subsistence expenses for expert counsel from outside the district. In addition, the committee’s expenses incidental to visits to observe other districts’ selection procedures may be reimbursed by the school district.

Districts may, within limitations stated in board policy, use and experiment with instructional materials for a period of time before general adoption is formalized.

Within the limitations of board policy, a school district’s chief administrator may purchase instructional materials to meet deviant needs or rapidly changing circumstances.

INVOCATION
Fr. Joe Maguire, S.J.

Fr. Maguire: It seems only fitting that today we address our prayer not only to God, our Loving Father, but also ask for the intercession of the great Saint Patrick, His most faithful missionary to the mystical country of Ireland, on this his Feast Day.

On this special day we celebrate fifty years of dedicated public service by John L. O'Brien to the people of this great state, and also his never-failing allegiance to his God and Father through all of these years. The State of Washington and all of the people of this area are so much richer today for the prudence, wisdom, understanding and enlightened guidance of this great man in many different areas. It is indeed right and just that this magnificent building, known until now as the House Office Building, will, from now and for generations to come, be known as the John L. O'Brien Building.

So, dear Father and Saint Patrick, look down upon John, his lovely wife Mary, his family and friends, all his fellow workers, and bless them and their work. Bless all who will labor in this building for years to come for the good of this state, and may the example and spirit of John L. O'Brien forever be a beacon to them. We ask this in the name of the Lord. Amen.

WHEREAS, Representative O'Brien has served on all of the major legislative committees, many interim committees and other distinguished legislative bodies; and
WHEREAS, Representative O'Brien knows more about the members of the Legislature and the creation of state law than most of us will ever learn and, therefore, has some great stories to tell; and
WHEREAS, some of his past and present colleagues probably wish he would, in fact, forget certain details of the past; and
WHEREAS, his compatriots in the House of Representatives have chosen St. Patrick's Day to honor a most responsible consumer of the beverage that we closely identify with his ancestral homeland of Ireland; and
WHEREAS, in all seriousness, John L. O'Brien will be remembered by all future Washingtonians as the namesake for the House Office Building in Olympia, which will be known from this day forward as the John L. O'Brien House Office Building;
NOW, THEREFORE, I, Booth Gardner, Governor of the State of Washington, do hereby proclaim March 17, 1989, as John L. O'Brien Recognition Day in the State of Washington, and I urge all citizens to give a tip o' the cap to Representative John L. O'Brien. Johnny, we're glad to know you.

PRESENTATION OF GIFT
BY SECRETARY OF STATE

Secretary of State Munro: John, we want to present to you an official Irish centennial product, made in Spokane. It's called Macaroni--some are orange and some are green and they are all in the shape of Washington State. We hope you enjoy that--perhaps for dinner tonight. We also want to loan you our shillelagh. We know that times get tough here on the Speaker's platform, so we thought you could use a good shillelagh for this day. Thank you.

LETTER
PRESIDENT GEORGE BUSH

The Speaker (Ms. Hine presiding) invited Representative Ballard to the rostrum.

Mr. Ballard: It is my pleasure today to share a special letter to a very special person. With your permission I would like to read the letter:

The White House

The Honorable John L. O'Brien
Speaker Pro Tempore
House of Representatives
State of Washington
Olympia, Washington

Dear Mr. Speaker:

I am pleased to extend my warm congratulations on the fiftieth anniversary of your first election to the Washington State House of Representatives, especially as your beloved Evergreen State celebrates its centennial.
This is a proud and historical moment for you, your constituents and colleagues, because rarely in the history of our country has a person served his fellow citizens with such distinction for so many years. During a tenure spanning ten Presidents, from Franklin Roosevelt to my own, you have witnessed and been a participant in some of the great events of our century. Your legislative skill and able handling of each of the major House leadership posts have won you the everlasting esteem of your colleagues on both sides of the aisle. And your constituents—they just keep electing you.

Mr. Speaker, you are an inspiration to all who serve this great country. Barbara and the entire Bush family join me in sending best wishes.

Sincerely,
George Bush

PRESENTATION OF CERTIFICATE OF APPRECIATION
BY NATIONAL CONFERENCE OF STATE LEGISLATURES

The Speaker (Ms. Hine presiding) invited Mr. Karl Kurtz, Executive Director of State Services, National Conference of State Legislatures, to the rostrum.

Mr. Kurtz: All of John's constituents and all of you in the House of Representatives and, I trust, in the Senate know John extremely well. Your love and affection for him is apparent here today.

I am here, though, to tell you that legislators all around the country know, love, revere and honor John O'Brien. He has had a long and distinguished career of activities in interstate organizations. In 1968 he was President of the National Conference of State Legislative Leaders, one of the predecessor organizations of today's NCSL. I think you are all aware of the yeoman duty that he did as Co-Chair of NCSL's 1985 Annual Meeting in Seattle.

What many of you may not be aware of, though, is that, as of January 1989, John O'Brien became an answer to a national legislative trivia question—one we get asked all the time—namely, who is the longest serving legislator in the United States? As of January, with the retirement of a State Senator in Montana who was elected the same year as John and had two more years of service, the answer to that question became John O'Brien. So, John, I think that makes you, among the 7,462 legislators in the United States, number one.

On behalf of NCSL, I would like to present this certificate of appreciation:

Congratulations and sincere appreciation to Speaker Pro Tempore John L. O'Brien for his years of dedication to the legislative process and service to the National Conference of State Legislatures and President of the National Conference of State Legislative Leaders

Signed,
Sammy Nunez, Senate President Pro Tempore, Louisiana

RESOLUTION

HOUSE FLOOR RESOLUTION NO. 89-4639, by Representatives Locke, Prince, Ebersole, Hine, Valie, Ballard, Anderson, Appelwick, Basich, Baugher, Beck, Belcher, Betrozoff, Bowman, Braddock, Brekke, Bristow, Brooks, Brough, Brumsickle, Cantwell, Chandler, Cole, Cooper, Crane, Day, Dellwo, Dorn, Doty, Ferguson, G. Fisher, R. Fisher, Fraser, Fuhrman, Gallagher, Grant, Hanksins, Hargrove, Haugen, WHEREAS. Members of the House of Representatives have honored many citizens throughout the past one hundred years, including constituents and friends: and

WHEREAS. The wives and husbands of legislators have been absent from those that have been recognized and honored: and

WHEREAS. The wives and husbands of legislators often have been the closest friends and confidants, providing assurance and encouragement: and

WHEREAS. One great lady has been in this position for more years than any other person, including all the years of her married life: and

WHEREAS. During this Centennial year it is fitting and proper to recognize her as representative of all legislators' spouses, past and present:

NOW. THEREFORE. BE IT RESOLVED. That the House of Representatives designate Mary O'Brien, wife of Speaker Pro Tempore John L. O'Brien, and mother of Laureen, John Jr., Mary Ann, Karen, Jeannie and Paul O'Brien as Honorary First Lady of the Washington State House of Representatives: and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED. That Honorary First Lady Mary O'Brien be recognized as a symbol of all wives and husbands who unselfishly give of their patience, charm, encouragement, love, laughter, tears and dedication to the people of the State of Washington: and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives present copies of this Resolution to Mary O'Brien and to the O'Brien children, Laureen, John Jr., Mary Ann, Karen, Jeannie and Paul as a reminder of the many contributions that Mary has made to Washington State as the wife and helpmate of John L. O'Brien.

Mr. Locke moved adoption of the resolution.

Mr. Locke: Madame Speaker and members of the body: It has been a true delight for me, over the last several years, to have worked with Speaker O'Brien, and more importantly, Mary O'Brien.

As many of you know, Speaker O'Brien had a tough reelection campaign this past summer, and, quite frankly, many of us in the district, in the community, and in these chambers were very much in fear of losing John O'Brien, because it was one on one with a very credible and very well-financed opponent. We were trying to get John O'Brien to change his method of campaigning, the type of brochures he had, and to even go out and doorbell—a very foreign thought to Representative O'Brien. It was Mary O'Brien who prevailed and supported many of us in the community in throwing out all of John O'Brien's past methods of campaign brochure designs and even the colors. John wanted to use the old blue and white, and we said, "Forget that." We used modern colors and modern graphics, and that is because of Mary O'Brien. We had many a campaign meeting in their house, and Mary O'Brien was the perfect hostess as well as the instigator, behind the scenes, of some of our shenanigans. She has been a prime force not only in his campaign and as his helpmate through their thirty-seven years of marriage, but she has been the gracious hostess and organizer of many events for Democratic campaigns and Democratic fundraisers for all of the people of the State of Washington. She is a truly outstanding person; she changes with the times and is truly a modern lady. I urge your support for this resolution.

Mr. Prince: Madame Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the body: It is an honor to have the opportunity to second this resolution. This resolution honoring you, Mary, brings honor, not only to you, but to all our spouses. More importantly, I think it honors us all, because at long last we, as a body, and society, as a whole, are starting to give recognition to those who make it possible for us to be here—our spouses. Without you, what we accomplish would not happen. And most of us would not be here without a supporting spouse. I think this chamber can take pride in the fact that, at the same time we honor a very proper lady, we at long last recognize the people who make this all happen—our spouses. Thank you.

Mr. Day: Madame Speaker and members of the body: Rising as a member of a political family and a family that also had a Speaker, my father, I truly understand how much support and dedication it takes from a family, and especially a spouse, to survive this process and what goes on around here. My folks ended in a divorce after my father served as Speaker. That woman up there lasted four terms; that really means something, especially to me. During all the receptions and all the late nights stuffing, stamping and sealing, there was someone operating and that was Mary O'Brien. There is a foundation for the institution of John O'Brien. And that is Mary O'Brien. Hats off to you, Mary.

House Floor Resolution No. 89-4639 was adopted.

Mrs. O'Brien: Thank you. You people are great. Thank you very much.

Danny Boy .................................................. Fr. Joe Maguire, S.J.

The Speaker assumed the Chair.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS. No other individual has served the House of Representatives with such distinction, dedication and devotion as the Honorable John L. O'Brien; and

WHEREAS. The distinguished Representative John L. O'Brien has served with distinction in the Washington State House of Representatives since 1939, longer than any other person in history; and

WHEREAS. During the course of his illustrious career, John L. O'Brien has served with dignity and poise on every major committee in the House of Representatives and has shown great leadership and skill while serving four terms as Speaker of the House of Representatives and, since 1973, as Speaker Pro Tempore; and

WHEREAS. John L. O'Brien's legislative service encompasses over sixty percent of all the legislative session days held during the entire history of this state; and

WHEREAS. John L. O'Brien is recognized by this body as one of the few in this state's history to possess extensive knowledge and understanding of the processes of state government and of parliamentary procedure; and

WHEREAS, Representative O'Brien successfully graduated from O'Dea High School and the Western Institute of Professional Accounting and serves with an exemplary record as a Certified Public Accountant; and

WHEREAS, John L. O'Brien is one of few citizens of this great state to receive the Public Service Award presented by the Washington Society of Certified Public Accountants; and

WHEREAS, The venerable Representative O'Brien is an integral part of the Washington State community, immersing himself in activities such as the colorful and highly acclaimed Rainier District Pow Wow, the Knights of Columbus and the Rainier Chamber of Commerce; and

WHEREAS. John L. O'Brien will forever be remembered for his extensive and inspiring record of service by the members and staff of the Washington State House of Representatives; and
WHEREAS, In the 1988 session, the House of Representatives again honored its longest-serving member by establishing the John L. O'Brien Postgraduate Legislative Fellowship Program; and

WHEREAS, The Washington State House of Representatives wishes to assure that the name, John L. O'Brien, never be forgotten;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, By the Washington State House of Representatives, that the Director of General Administration is hereby directed to rename the building, currently referred to as the House Office Building, the John L. O'Brien Building; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That all appropriate House of Representatives stationery reflect the name change as soon as it is economically possible; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That this Resolution be forwarded to the Honorable John L. O'Brien, Speaker Pro Tempore; the Honorable Booth Gardner, Governor of the State of Washington; and Wendy Holden, Director of the Department of General Administration.

Mr. Ebersole moved adoption of the resolution.

Mr. Ebersole: Mr. Speaker, it is with a great deal of admiration and affection that I rise to offer this resolution. This is an historic day. John O'Brien, John L. O'Brien, Representative O'Brien, Speaker O'Brien, Monsignor O'Brien, Father O'Brien has been around a long time. He has accomplished much. When John was first appointed to the House in 1939, there was no House Office Building. Members did not have offices; members had desks on the floor of the House and worked from their desks. The building that is now HOB was not built until 1940, and the Legislature did not get its hands on the building until 1967.

But John endured without an office and he rose to the top. John was elected Speaker four consecutive times and Speaker Pro Tempore seven or eight times. John has served, as you have heard, in one legislative body longer than anyone in the history of the country, and John has accomplished much. He has been a champion of the arts. He has stood up for the disadvantaged.

It is right and proper today, on St. Patrick's Day, that we have this historic occasion. St. Patrick's Day began in the Seventh Century without John O'Brien present. John was not alive in the Seventh Century. It is hard to imagine a St. Patrick's Day without John present. John is a good Irish Catholic boy. He has the quick wit of an Irishman and the quick temper of an Irishman, especially when he detects a double cross, but let it be noted that the O'Brien Port Merger Bill did pass the House, as have hundreds of other bills over the decades.

John has many friends here today in the galleries; John has friends in high places everywhere—in Olympia, Seattle and Rome. Tread lightly; tread lightly when approaching issues that John holds dear. Your bill may not go through; your divorce may not go through; your marriage may not go through.

A few years ago the Senate Office Building was renamed the John Cherberg Building. Now, today, and for all time, we will have two magnificent buildings across the way, standing side by side, silent reminders of two magnificent gentlemen who stood together as the two giants of the Washington State Legislature.

Ladies and gentlemen, join with me in endorsing this resolution, naming the House Office Building the John L. O'Brien Building.

Mr. Ballard: Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen: I will take just a moment to join our colleagues on the other side in honoring an individual who, I can say with all sincerity, has turned out to be a dear friend and a trusted person with whom to work. He is a person who has helped many of us. He is a person of fairness. I think back to the first year that I was in the Legislature as a freshman when Speaker O'Brien told us the rules and regulations and how to get bills passed and things like that. The only thing I have to say is that I am not sure that he told us all the tricks; I think he held some of those back. In fact, there have been times, after he told us how the system worked, that we had to question some of his rulings as they weren't always the same as what he had told us that first day—the prerogative of the Speaker.

It is a unique individual who can go through a system such as this, with ninety-eight different individuals from all walks of life, as a true friend—one who has served Washington well and one we are all proud of. I would like to join the Majority Leader in saying that we heartily endorse this resolution. Thank you.

Mr. Heavey: Mr. Speaker, fellow members, distinguished guests, ladies and gentlemen: The Irish people are the most passionate on earth. Who else would stand in line to kiss a rock? We are here to honor a man we all know very well and, what the heck, we are going to honor him anyway. When I was growing up in Seattle—I also came from a political family—John O'Brien was a legend and a role model for me. In 1954, when he and his twin brother took Seattle U to the final four in basketball, we were so proud of him.

There are many, many facets to this man, John L. O’Brien. Physically, his sartorial splendor is only matched by his bearing and stature when he walks, stands and speaks. Mentally, he is quick of mind and astute. He does not want to know what the issue is; he transcends that and wants to know who is for it and who is against it. Emotionally, he is quick of temper, but that temper is quick to subside—fortunately, for me. When he smiles and chuckles with that twinkle in his eye, we all know where the song “When Irish Eyes Are Smiling” comes from. He has a spiritual side, too. He has studied the great questions of the universe that have perplexed philosophers and theologians over the centuries. For example, he wonders why the word “abbreviated” is so long; he wonders what they pack styrofoam in when they ship it—thoughts that perplex us all.

After today the HOB will be the John L. O’Brien Building. Buildings are quick to assume nicknames. The Senate Office Building has quickly become the Cherberg Building and, every once in awhile, the JAC Building. This will probably be the O’Brien Building very quickly; it could be the JOB; it could be the Job; it could be the Job. Many of you know the Biblical story of Job. God made a bet with the devil that whatever happened to Job, Job would stay faithful. They took Job’s family; they took his property; he became diseased; he was covered with boils and they put him on an anthill. He still remained faithful. Let’s face it, the House of Representatives is sometimes not an easy place to live. Some say House members need two tickets to go to the zoo—one to get in and one to get out. I have often called this place the ant farm, because we are down here, little ants running around and piling on top of each other. And no one is really watching us. We think everybody is watching us, but everyone else is living their lives. I submit to you that a man, who can sit on this ant farm for fifty years, surely has the patience and is as faithful as Job.

So, if a nickname comes, I hope that the nickname will be the Job Building.

Today, March 17, St. Patrick’s Day, John L. O’Brien makes all of us who are Irish proud to be Irish. The opening line in the resolution speaks for itself, “Whereas, No other individual has served the House of Representatives with such distinction, dedication and devotion as the Honorable John L. O’Brien.” John O’Brien is a rare political leader. Throughout his life he has shown himself to be a man who did not shrink from the struggles and difficulties that face our state. He has seen the unemployed and helped them to obtain work. He has seen the physically disabled and helped to provide them with training. He has seen the homeless and provided them with housing. It is, therefore, fitting and proper that John O’Brien, who has contributed so much to so many, be honored in this way. In the final analysis, the problems that we face in this state, as a community and nation, cannot be overcome by one party, sex, race, or age. Only by working together can we overcome these concerns.

John O’Brien knows this. He has taught us about faith, human intelligence, human will and human decency. We know that in the long run, with God’s help, these are the forces which bring us together and improve the quality of life for all citizens. I have a great deal of affection for this man and I am very proud to know that he is a friend of mine. It is a great honor to commend this resolution to you and to the body. Thank you.

Mr. Patrick: Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the House: I really appreciate the comments from the other speakers in reference to John O’Brien. John, as you well know, I am Irish like you. I certainly have the same kind of temper that you have. When I was a youngster, I was raised in John O’Brien’s district. My parents were staunch Democrats and still are. The neighborhood I lived in,
John, was entirely Italian with the exception of one Irish family, and that was us. We were the "potato heads"—I am sure John remembers that term very well. Those were fighting words to an Irishman, and I can tell you that I was in many a tight, most of which I won. Unfortunately, I had a bad habit of leading with my nose, and I broke my nose seven times. I learned something from you, John, and that is the art of compromise. I married one of those Italian beauties from that neighborhood. We don't fight anymore, but our kids do. In my home John O'Brien was second to God, and I mean a very close second. I think it was a little much when my parents asked us to genuflect when your name was mentioned in our home.

John, you are a good Irishman; you are everything an Irishman stands for. You have a hot temper; you are a passionate person; you are a good Catholic; you have sired a large family. All the children in my family became Republicans, and I think my parents believe that we somehow blasphemed you. We still have very high regard for you, John O'Brien. Even though you are a Democrat and I am a Republican, I have always admired the fact that you have stood up for your principles and you have always maintained the Democrat line and that is extremely healthy.

I don't think all of you know that John is the son of a police officer, who died in the line of duty in the City of Seattle. John has been one of the best friends of law enforcement officers in this state ever. I think that I speak on behalf of all police officers in the state in honoring you today and in the respect that we show you. John, you have blessed us over the years and may God bless you for the remainder of your life. Thank you.

Mr. Basich: I am not Irish; I am southern European. There is some discussion that St. Patrick may have been a Roman who came to Ireland. I didn't know about this and presented the problem to Speaker O'Brien. I said, "What about St. Patrick? Did he come from Rome or Ireland?" He said, "Representative Basich, I can assure you that St. Patrick is one hundred percent Irish." So that is what he told me. I notice some people are wearing "Kiss me; I'm Irish" buttons today. I just wish he would nod if I can wear "Kiss me; I'm Croatian." As a newcomer, I just want to say that you are a fine gentleman, a top legislator, and a great host for all our St. Patrick's Day celebrations. Thank you. Thanks to your wife and your great family. Thank you very much.

Mr. Locke: I also urge the members of the body to support the resolution. I think it is important that we recognize, while John O'Brien is certainly an institution among us and we remember him very fondly given all the different encounters we have had with him over the years—good and bad—and have seen his temper and his wit, that quite frankly he is an institution even within his own district. He had a tough race this past primary election, but he won it with outstanding fashion and got a resounding sixty-one percent of the vote, by using about ten mailings in the last ten days, a variety of colors and themes, and even pulling out one picture of himself and his entire family after his father was killed. It was a reprint from an old Seattle newspaper back in about 1923 or so. The district has changed over the years, and John has changed as well. While his story and his contributions have not always been well told to the district, the district now firmly supports John O'Brien, is aware of his contributions to the state and to that district and, as a result of that, gave him an overwhelming show of support in the last primary election. He has never had a problem in the general election because we are somewhat solidly Democratic as many of you on the other side of the aisle have learned over the years, when you have put up some rather crazy characters against us. Truly, John is not only beloved here in these chambers and in the Olympia area, but he is very much beloved in his own district. I urge your support. Thank you.

The Speaker called on Speaker Pro Tempore O'Brien to preside.

The Speaker Pro Tempore recognized The Honorable Joseph E. King, Speaker of the House of Representatives.

The Speaker: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Members of the body and distinguished guests who are with us today: The proceedings of this body are guided by Reed's Rules, a parliamentary manual we seldom have to read because Speaker O'Brien frequently quotes to us from it.
Reed's Rule 40 states that a presiding officer, in this body that is the Speaker of the House, rarely takes the floor, but Reed's also acknowledges that the occupant of the Chair may properly do so on great occasions. The Rule concludes, and I quote, "of these occasions he (Reed's is not gender neutral, I regret to say) must be the sole judge, having in view all considerations." Well, having in view all considerations, I judge this to be, under Reed's Rule 40, a great occasion. Therefore, I feel authorized to take the floor to offer a summation of this splendid program.

It is this: That all we have been about here this morning constitutes a proper tribute to a great legislator and a fitting acknowledgement of appreciation and friendship to which I wish to add my own thanks to you, John, and to Mary and to the family. From all of us associated with the Washington State House of Representatives, our best wishes and very warmest regards.

House Floor Resolution No. 89-4638 was adopted.

Speaker Pro Tempore O'Brien: Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House: This occasion is beyond my wildest dreams. I never thought that I would have this great honor and these tributes paid to me. I have had a thousand experiences in this House of Representatives in every shape and form, but this experience is probably the greatest that I have ever had.

To live and be part of this institution is hard to describe. You are associated with such great people. My friends in the rear of the Chamber can tell you some of the things that have happened in my legislative career. For example, the first time I was elected as Speaker of the House, the vote was fifty to forty-nine. The vote was very tight, and the person who was nominated for Speaker from the other side was going to vote for himself, so I had to vote for myself. One of our legislators from Spokane County had been in an accident in the mountains on Snoqualmie Pass and ended up in the hospital. We brought in this legislator in a wheelchair to vote for me. Another time the same year, on the same occasion for the same purpose, we brought in a legislator from Everett in an ambulance. For four hours he lay flat on his back while we were determining who was going to be the Speaker nominee. All of these things are part of my history. The four-day filibusters. One night I hit the gavel and this block on the rostrum flew up. Another night I went into the Speaker's office to call the State Patrol, because the legislators were terribly upset with me. One of the legislators, who weighed about two hundred and eighty pounds, a former basketball star from Stanford University, came into the office and I felt that I was home free. Some of these experiences, of course, bring back great memories. One in particular happened when I first came here as a young person. I seconded the nomination for the Speaker of the House at that time. A lady from Spokane, one of the legislators who sat in back of me, said, "Memorize your speech and look at that far corner and give it." I did, and it was an honor to be able to second the nomination for the person who became Speaker of that session.

God has been very good to me to give me the opportunity to be associated with some of the finest people in the world. Being part of this institution for so long, where everything pivots in the State of Washington, seems to me to be an indelible experience which I have been fortunate to have. To be associated with so many people here, so many people in my district, my family, my wife and kids. Many times we have been through some tough struggles. We have had our peaks and valleys. We have a tremendous number of friends who are involved with us. It is something that I cherish very deeply.

The fact that I am able to be associated with such very fine people here is something that means a great deal to me. I think that all of you who share this, from time to time, are involved in fraternalism that you don't find anywhere else—our close relationship, the fact that we are able to give and take, and that sometimes we have to make tough decisions that affect friends on both sides of the issue.

In closing, I want to thank each and every one of you, the staff, and my secretary, Mary Walker—who didn't tell me very much about this at all—for this wonderful occasion, because it is something that will live in my memory forever. Thank you very much.

CENTENNIAL MESSAGE

March 20, 1989

On this day in 1889, the Puyallup Indian Tribe voted against selling some of its reservation land to a railroad (41 yeas, 73 nays). Chief Tommy Lane argued against the sale, saying "If we sell this land, our waterfront is gone, and ... other companies will buy up other parts until nothing is left of our reservation ... O, my people, keep a fast hold on the remains of the once vast country you owned." And Robert O. Lee, the first black man to be admitted to the practice of law in Washington Territory, was admitted to the bar. He came from Springfield, Illinois, where he was a practicing lawyer before the Illinois Supreme Court.

On March 20, 1926 the completion of the Loop Road made Lake Quinault a tourist mecca, and on March 20, 1961 the Governor signed legislation defining community colleges and setting their basic rules.

named individual, over the age of eighteen years, who was a party to the dependency or dissolution proceeding in which the finding was made and who contested the allegation of abuse or exploitation.

(4) 'Conviction record' means ((criminal history)) 'conviction record,' information as defined in RCW 10.97.030(3) relating to a crime against children or other persons committed by either an adult or a juvenile. It does not include a conviction for an offense that has been the subject of an expungement, pardon, annulment, certificate of rehabilitation, or other equivalent procedure based on a finding of the rehabilitation of the person convicted, or a conviction that has been the subject of a pardon, annulment, or other equivalent procedure based on a finding of innocence. It does include convictions for offenses for which the defendant received a deferred or suspended sentence, unless the record has been expunged according to law.

Sec. 2. Section 2, chapter 486, Laws of 1987 and RCW 43.43.832 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The legislature finds that businesses and organizations providing services to children or developmentally disabled persons need adequate information to determine which employees or licensees to hire or engage. Therefore, the Washington state patrol criminal identification system may disclose, upon the request of a business or organization as defined in RCW 43.43.830, a prospective employee's record for convictions of offenses against children or other persons, adjudications of child abuse in a civil action, and disciplinary board final decisions and any subsequent criminal charges associated with the conduct that is the subject of the disciplinary board final decision. When necessary, applicants may be employed on a conditional basis pending completion of such a background investigation.

(2) The legislature also finds that the state board of education may request of the Washington state patrol criminal identification system information regarding a certificate applicant's record for convictions under subsection (1) of this section.

(3) The legislature also finds that law enforcement agencies, the office of the attorney general, prosecuting authorities, and the department of social and health services may request this same information to aid in the investigation and prosecution of child and adult abuse cases and to protect children and adults from further incidents of abuse.

(4) The legislature further finds that the department of social and health services, when considering persons for state positions directly responsible for the care, supervision, or treatment of children or the developmentally disabled or when licensing or authorizing such persons or agencies pursuant to its authority under chapter 74.15 RCW, must consider the information listed in subsection (1) of this section. However, when necessary, persons may be employed on a conditional basis pending completion of the background investigation. The state personnel board shall adopt rules to accomplish the purposes of this subsection as it applies to state employees.

Sec. 3. Section 3, chapter 486, Laws of 1987 and RCW 43.43.834 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A business or organization shall not make an inquiry to the Washington state patrol under RCW 43.43.632 or an equivalent inquiry to a federal law enforcement agency unless the business or organization has notified the applicant who has been offered a position as an employee or volunteer that an inquiry may be made.

(2) A business or organization shall require each applicant to disclose to the business or organization whether the applicant has been:

(a) Convicted of any crime against children or other persons;
(b) Found in any dependency action under RCW 13.34.030(2)(b) to have sexually assaulted or exploited any minor or to have physically abused any minor;
(c) Found by a court in a domestic relations proceeding under Title 26 RCW to have sexually abused or exploited any minor or to have physically abused any minor; or
(d) Found in any disciplinary board final decision to have sexually abused or exploited any minor or to have physically abused any minor.

The disclosure shall be made in writing and signed by the applicant and sworn under penalty of perjury. The disclosure sheet shall specify all crimes against children or other persons as defined in RCW 43.43.830.

(3) The business or organization shall pay such reasonable fee for the records check as the state patrol may require under RCW 43.43.838.

(4) The business or organization shall notify the applicant of the state patrol's response within ten days after receipt by the business or organization. The employer shall provide a copy of the response to the applicant and shall notify the applicant of such availability.

(5) The business or organization shall use this record only in making the initial employment or engagement decision. Further dissemination or use of the record is prohibited. A business or organization violating this subsection is subject to a civil action for damages.

(6) An insurance company shall not require a business or organization to request background information on any employee before issuing a policy of insurance.

(7) The business and organization shall be immune from civil liability for failure to request background information on a prospective employee or volunteer unless the failure to do so constitutes gross negligence.

Sec. 4. Section 5, chapter 486, Laws of 1987 and RCW 43.43.838 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) After January 1, 1988, and notwithstanding any provision of RCW 43.43.700 through 43.43.810 to the contrary, the state patrol shall furnish a transcript of the conviction record, disciplinary board final decision and any subsequent criminal charges associated with the conduct that is the subject of the disciplinary board final decision, or civil adjudication record pertaining to any person for whom the state patrol or the federal bureau of investigation has a record upon the written request of:

(a) The subject of the inquiry;
(b) Any business or organization for the purpose of conducting evaluations under RCW 43.43.832;
(c) The department of social and health services;
(d) Any law enforcement agency, prosecuting authority, or the office of the attorney general; or
(e) The department of social and health services for the purpose of meeting responsibilities set forth in chapter 74.15 RCW. However, access to conviction records pursuant to this subsection (1)(e) does not limit or restrict the ability of the department to obtain additional information regarding conviction records and pending charges as set forth in RCW 74.15.030(2)(b).

After processing the request, if the conviction record, disciplinary board final decision and any subsequent criminal charges associated with the conduct that is the subject of the disciplinary board final decision, or adjudication record shows no evidence of a crime against children or other persons, an identification declaring the showing of no evidence shall be issued to the applicant by the state patrol and shall be issued within fourteen working days of the request. Possession of such identification shall satisfy future background check requirements for the applicant for a two-year period.

(2) The state patrol shall by rule establish fees for disseminating records under this section to recipients identified in subsection (1)(a) and (b) of this section. The state patrol shall also by rule establish fees for disseminating records in the custody of the national crime information center. The fees shall cover, as nearly as practicable, the direct and indirect costs to the state patrol of disseminating the records: PROVIDED, That no fee shall be charged to a nonprofit organization, including school districts and educational service districts, for the records check.

(3) No employee of the state, employee of a business or organization, or the business or organization is liable for defamation, invasion of privacy, negligence, or any other claim in connection with any lawful dissemination of information under RCW 43.43.830 through 43.43.840 or RCW 43.43.760.

(4) Before July 26, 1987, the state patrol shall adopt rules and forms to implement this section and to provide for security and privacy of information disseminated under this section, giving first priority to the criminal justice requirements of this chapter. The rules may include requirements for users, audits of users, and other procedures to prevent use of civil adjudication record information or criminal history record information inconsistent with this chapter.

(5) Nothing in RCW 43.43.830 through 43.43.840 shall authorize an employer to make an inquiry not specifically authorized by this chapter, or be construed to affect the policy of the state declared in chapter 9.96A RCW.

Sec. 5. Section 6, chapter 486, Laws of 1987 and RCW 43.43.840 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The supreme court shall by rule require the courts of the state to notify the state patrol of any dependency action under RCW 13.34.030(2)(b) or domestic relations action under Title 26 RCW in which the court makes specific findings of physical abuse or sexual abuse or exploitation of a child.

(2) The department of licensing shall notify the state patrol of any disciplinary board final decision that includes specific findings of physical abuse or sexual abuse or exploitation of a child.

(3) When a business or an organization terminates, fires, dismisses, fails to renew the contract, or permits the resignation of an employee because of crimes against children or other persons, and if that employee is employed in a position requiring a certificate or license issued by a licensing agency such as the state board of education, the business or organization shall notify the licensing agency of such termination of employment.

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Ebersole, the bills listed on today’s committee reports under the fifth order of business were referred to the committees so designated.

There being no objection, the House advanced to the eleventh order of business.

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Baughler: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Having spent ten hours on the seat of a tractor this weekend, as a member of a declining industry and one of the few real farmers in the Legislature, I would like to call attention to National Ag Day, March 20, 1989. We in America spend three hundred and eighty billion dollars a year eating at home and one hundred and fifty billion dollars eating in restaurants and other commercial eating establishments, which employ six million people. So, if you eat, you are a part of agriculture.

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Ebersole, the House adjourned until 10:00 a.m., Wednesday, March 22, 1989.

JOSEPH E. KING, Speaker

ALAN THOMPSON, Chief Clerk
The House was called to order at 10:00 a.m. by the Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding). The Clerk called the roll and all members were present except Representatives Basich, Braddock, P. King and Miller. Representatives Basich and Miller were excused.

The flag was escorted to the rostrum by a Sergeant at Arms Color Guard, Pages Amy Silbernagel and Cary Knight. Prayer was offered by Dr. Carl Pfeil, Minister of the Emmanuel Baptist Church of Olympia.

Reading of the Journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was ordered to stand approved.

CENTENNIAL MESSAGE
March 22, 1989

On this day in 1889, businessman Miles C. Moore was surprised when he arrived at his office and found friends congratulating him; it turned out that he had been named Governor of Washington Territory. And Ellensburg residents, hoping to move the state capital there, sang the area’s praises: “Fair Ellen of Kittitas ... is Queen in a beautiful valley, who will, or should be, crowned with a capitol,” especially since Ellensburg was twelve miles from the geographic center of the state.

On March 22, 1890 the Legislature established a school for training teachers—a normal school—at Cheney. It later became Eastern Washington University. The trustees of a private academy gave their land and buildings.

On March 22, 1943 construction of the plutonium plant at Hanford was started. It was built to make materials for the atomic bomb.

On this day in 1978 Sonora Smart Dodd (Mrs. John Bruce Dodd), organizer and promoter of the idea of Father’s Day, died in Spokane. She proposed the holiday in 1910 and originated the first celebration in Spokane. Congress endorsed the holiday in 1914. In 1987, she was elected to the Washington State Historical Society’s Centennial Hall of Honor.

There being no objection, the House advanced to the fourth order of business.

SSB 5196  Prime Sponsor, Committee on Agriculture: Regarding emergency drought relief. Reported by Committee on Agriculture & Rural Development

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. It is the intent of the legislature to provide emergency powers to the department of ecology to enable it to take actions, in a timely and expeditious manner, that are designed to alleviate hardships and reduce burdens on various water users and uses arising from drought conditions. As used in this chapter, 'drought condition' means that water supplies for a geographical area or for a significant portion of a geographical area are below seventy-five percent of normal and the water shortage is likely to create undue hardships for various water uses and users.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. (1) Whenever it appears to the department of ecology that a drought condition either exists or is forecast to occur within the state or portions thereof, the department of ecology is authorized to issue orders, pursuant to rules previously adopted, to implement the powers as set forth in sections 3 through 5 of this act. The department shall, immediately upon the issuance of an order under this section, cause said order to be published in newspapers of general circulation in the areas of the state to which the order relates. Prior to the issuance of an order, the department shall (a) consult with and obtain the views of the federal and state government entities identified in the drought contingency plan periodically revised by the department pursuant to section 3(4) of this act, and (b) obtain the written approval of the governor. Orders issued under this section shall be deemed orders for the purposes of chapter 34.05 RCW.

(2) Any order issued under subsection (1) of this section shall contain a termination date for the order. The termination date shall be not later than one calendar year from the date the order is issued. Although the department may, with the written approval of the governor, change the termination date by amending the order, no such amendment or series of amendments may have the effect of extending its termination to a date which is later than two calendar years after the issuance of the order.

(3) The provisions of subsection (2) of this section do not preclude the issuance of more than one order under subsection (1) of this section for different areas of the state or sequentially for the same area as the need arises for such an order or orders.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. Upon the issuance of an order under section 2 of this act, the department of ecology shall be empowered to:

(1) Authorize emergency withdrawal of public surface and ground waters, including dead storage within reservoirs, on a temporary basis and authorize associated physical works which may be either temporary or permanent. The termination date for the authority to make such an emergency withdrawal shall be not later than the termination date of the order issued under section 2 of this act under which the power to authorize the withdrawal is established. The department of ecology may issue such withdrawal authorization when, after investigation and after providing appropriate federal, state, and local governmental bodies an opportunity to comment, the following are found:

(a) The waters proposed for withdrawal are to be used in relation to beneficial use involving a previously established activity or purpose;

(b) The previously established activity or purpose was furnished water through rights applicable to the use of a public water body that cannot be exercised due to the lack of water arising from natural drought conditions; and

(c) The proposed withdrawal will not reduce flows or levels below essential minimums necessary (i) to assure the maintenance of fisheries requirements, and (ii) to protect federal and state interests including, among others, power generation, navigation, and existing water rights.
All withdrawal authorizations issued under this section shall contain provisions that allow for termination of withdrawals, in whole or in part, whenever withdrawals will conflict with flows and levels as provided in subsection (1)(c) of this section. Domestic and irrigation uses of public surface and ground waters shall be given priority in determining 'beneficial uses.' As to water withdrawal and associated works authorized under this section, the requirements of chapter 43.21C RCW and public bidding requirements as otherwise provided by law are waived and inapplicable. All state and local agencies with authority to issue permits or other authorizations for such works shall to the extent possible expedite the processing of the permits or authorizations in keeping with the emergency nature of the requests and shall provide a decision to the applicant within fifteen calendar days of the date of application. All state departments or other agencies having jurisdiction over state or other public lands if such lands are necessary to effectuate the withdrawal authorizations issued under this section, shall provide short-term easements or other appropriate property interest upon the payment of the fair market value: PROVIDED, That this mandate shall not apply to any lands of the state that are reserved for a special purpose or use that cannot properly be carried out if the property interest were conveyed.

(2) Approve the temporary change in purpose, place of use, or point of diversion, consistent with existing state policy allowing transfer or lease of waters between willing parties, as provided for in RCW 90.03.380, 90.03.390, and 90.44.100. However, that compliance with any requirements of (a) notice of newspaper publication of these sections or (b) the state environmental policy act, chapter 43.21C RCW, shall not be required when such changes are necessary to respond to drought conditions as determined by the department of ecology. An approval of a temporary change of a water right as authorized under this subsection shall not be admitted as evidence in either supporting or contesting the validity of water claims in state of Washington. Department of Ecology v. Acquavella, Yakima county superior court number 77-2-01484-5 or any similar proceeding where the existence of a water right is at issue.

(3) Employ additional persons for specified terms of time, consistent with the term of a drought condition, as are necessary to ensure the successful performance of the activities associated with implementing the emergency drought program of this chapter.

(4) Revise the drought contingency plan previously developed by the department; and

(5) Acquire needed emergency drought-related equipment.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. (1) The department of ecology is authorized to make loans, grants, or combinations of loans and grants from emergency agricultural water supply funds when required to provide water to alleviate emergency drought conditions to assure the survival of irrigated crops and the state's fisheries. For the purposes of this section, 'emergency agricultural water supply funds' means funds appropriated from the state emergency water projects revolving account created under RCW 43.83B.360. The department of ecology may make the loans, grants, or combinations of loans and grants as matching funds in any case where federal, local, or other funds have been made available on a matching basis. A loan or combination loan and grant shall not exceed fifty percent of the approved eligible project costs for any single proposed project: PROVIDED. That for purposes authorized by RCW 43.83B.300 and 43.83B.385, the department may make a loan up to ninety percent of the total eligible project cost or combination loan and grant up to one hundred percent of the total single project cost. The grant portion for any single project shall not exceed twenty percent of the total project cost except that, for activities forecast to have fifty percent or less of normal seasonal water supplies, the grant portion for any single project or entity shall not exceed forty percent of the total project cost. No single entity shall receive more than ten percent of the total emergency agricultural water supply funds available for drought relief. These funds shall not be used for non-agricultural drought relief purposes unless there are no other capital budget funds available for these purposes. The total expenditures of emergency agricultural water supply funds for nonagricultural drought relief purposes shall not exceed ten percent of the total of such funds available for drought relief purposes on March 15, 1988.

(2)(a) Except as provided in (b) of this subsection, emergency agricultural water supply funds, including the repayment of loans and any accrued interest, shall not be used for any purposes except during drought conditions as determined by section 2 of this act.

(b) Emergency agricultural water supply funds may be used on a one-time basis for the development of procedures to be used by state governmental entities to implement the state's drought contingency plan.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. The department shall adopt such rules as are necessary to ensure the successful implementation of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. Nothing in this act shall:

(1) Authorize any interference whatsoever with existing water rights;

(2) Authorize the establishment of rights to withdrawal of waters of a permanent nature or of rights with any priority;

(3) Authorize the establishment of a water right under RCW 90.03.250 or 90.44.060;

(4) Preclude any person from filing an application pursuant to RCW 90.03.250 or 90.44.060.
The department of ecology is authorized to make loans or grants or combinations thereof:
(1) From funds under RCW 43.83B.010 through 43.83B.110 to eligible public bodies as defined in RCW 43.83B.050 for rehabilitation or betterment of agricultural water supply facilities, and/or construction of agricultural water supply facilities required to develop new irrigated lands; or
(2) From emergency agricultural water supply funds under RCW 43.83B.300 when required to provide water to alleviate emergency drought conditions to assure the survival of irrigated crops and the state’s fisheries. The department of ecology may make such loans or grants or combinations thereof as matching funds in any case where federal, local, or other funds have been made available on a matching basis. A loan or combination loan and grant shall not exceed fifty percent of the approved eligible project costs for any single proposed project: PROVIDED, That for purposes authorized by RCW 43.83B.300((<43.83B.340>)), section 3 of this act, and 43.83B.385 the department of ecology may make a loan up to ninety percent of the total eligible project cost or combination loan and grant up to one hundred percent of the total single project cost and the grant portion for any single project shall not exceed twenty percent of the total project cost except that, for activities forecast to have fifty percent or less of normal seasonal water supplies, the grant portion for any single project or entity shall not exceed forty percent of the total project cost. No single entity shall receive more than ten percent of the total funds available for drought relief. These funds shall not be used for nonagricultural drought relief purposes unless there are no other capital budget funds available for these purposes. The total expenditures for nonagricultural drought relief purposes shall not exceed ten percent of the total funds available for drought relief purposes on March 15, 1988. Any grant or grant portion of a combination loan and grant from funds under RCW 43.83B.010 through 43.83B.110 for any single proposed project shall not exceed fifteen percent of the eligible project costs: PROVIDED, That the fifteen percent limitation established herein shall not be applicable to project commitments which the director or deputy director of the state department of ecology made to the bureau of reclamation of the United States department of interior for providing state funding at thirty-five percent of project costs during the period between August 1, 1974, and June 30, 1975.

The department of social and health services is authorized to make grants of up to forty percent of the cost of construction of any eligible project necessitated by the 1977 drought conditions. Such grants may be made only to public bodies as defined in RCW 43.83B.050 for municipal and industrial water supply and distribution facilities.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. Sections 1 through 6 of this act are each added to chapter 43.83B RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately.

(a) 'Free or reduced-price lunches' means lunches served by a school district that qualify for federal reimbursement as free or reduced-price lunches under the national school lunch program.

(b) 'School breakfast program' means a program meeting federal requirements defined in 42 U.S.C. Sec. 1773.

(c) 'Severe-need school' means a school that qualifies for a severe-need school reimbursement rate from federal funds for school breakfasts served to children from low-income families.

(2) School districts shall be required to develop and implement plans for a school breakfast program in severe-need schools, pursuant to the schedule in this section. For the second year prior to the implementation of the district's school breakfast program, and for each subsequent school year, each school district shall submit data enabling the superintendent of public instruction to determine which schools within the district will qualify as severe-need schools. In developing its plan, each school district shall consult with an advisory committee including school staff and community members appointed by the board of directors of the district.

(3) Using district-wide data on school lunch participation during the 1988-89 school year, the superintendent of public instruction shall adopt a schedule for implementation of school breakfast programs in severe-need schools as follows:

(a) School districts where at least forty percent of lunches served to students are free or reduced-price lunches shall submit a plan for implementation of a school breakfast program in severe-need schools to the superintendent of public instruction no later than July 1, 1990. Each such district shall implement a school breakfast program in all severe-need schools no later than the second day of school in the 1990-91 school year and in each school year thereafter.

(b) School districts where at least twenty-five but less than forty percent of lunches served to students are free or reduced-price lunches shall submit a plan for implementation of a school breakfast program in severe-need schools to the superintendent of public instruction no later than July 1, 1991. Each such district shall implement a school breakfast program in all severe-need schools no later than the second day of school in the 1991-92 school year and in each school year thereafter.
(c) School districts where less than twenty-five percent of lunches served to students are free or reduced-price lunches shall submit a plan for implementation of a school breakfast program in severe-need schools to the superintendent of public instruction no later than July 1, 1992. Each such district shall implement a school breakfast program in all severe-need schools no later than the second day of school in the 1992-93 school year and in each school year thereafter.

(d) School districts that did not offer a school lunch program in the 1988-89 school year are encouraged to implement such a program and to provide a school breakfast program in all severe-need schools when eligible.

(4) The requirements in this section shall lapse if the federal reimbursement rate for breakfasts served in severe-need schools is reduced or eliminated.

(5) Students who do not meet family-income criteria for free breakfasts shall be eligible to participate in the school breakfast programs established under this section, and school districts may charge for the breakfasts served to these students. School breakfast programs established under this section shall be supported entirely by federal funds and commodities, charges to students, and other local resources available for this purpose, and shall not create or imply any state funding obligation for these costs. The legislature does not intend to include these programs within the state's obligation for basic education funding under Article IX of the Constitution.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The superintendent of public instruction shall conduct a study of the costs and feasibility of expanding the school breakfast program to include schools where more than twenty-five but less than forty percent of lunches served are free or reduced-price lunches. The study shall consider the total cost of the program, including but not limited to food costs, staff salaries and benefits, and additional pupil transportation costs. The superintendent of public instruction shall submit to the legislature prior to January 15, 1992, a report on the results of this study, including recommendations on whether to expand the school breakfast program to include these schools.

REPORTS OF STANDING COMMITTEES

ESSB 5018  Prime Sponsor, Committee on Agriculture: Revising provisions for cooperative associations. Reported by Committee on Agriculture & Rural Development

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

*NEW SECTION, Sec. 1. The legislature finds that since 1921 there have existed in the laws of this state two separate incorporation statutes expressly designed for corporations intending to operate as nonprofit cooperatives. The existence of two cooperative incorporation statutes has been the source of confusion, disparity of treatment, and legal and administrative ambiguities, and the rationale for having two cooperative incorporation statutes is no longer valid. These cooperative incorporation statutes have not been updated with the regularity of this state’s business incorporation statutes and, as a result, are deficient in certain respects.

*NEW SECTION, Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 23.86 RCW to read as follows:
The provisions of this chapter relating to domestic cooperative associations shall apply to:

(1) All cooperative associations organized under this chapter; and
NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 23.86 RCW to read as follows:

(1) 'Association' means any corporation subject to this chapter.
(2) 'Member' or 'members' includes a member or members of an association subject to this chapter without capital stock and a shareholder or shareholders of voting common stock in an association subject to this chapter with capital stock.
(3) 'Articles of incorporation' means the original or restated articles of incorporation, articles of consolidation, or articles of association and all amendments including articles of merger. Corporations incorporated under this chapter with articles of association shall not be required to amend the title or references in the term 'articles of association.'
(4) 'Director,' 'directors,' or 'board of directors' includes 'trustee,' 'trustees,' or 'board of trustees' respectively. Corporations incorporated under this chapter with references in their articles of association or bylaws to 'trustee,' 'trustees,' or 'board of trustees' shall not be required to amend the references.

Sec. 4. Section 1, chapter 19, Laws of 1913 and RCW 23.86.010 are each amended to read as follows:

Any number of persons may associate themselves together as a cooperative association, society, company or exchange, with or without capital stock, for the transaction of any lawful business on the cooperative plan. For the purposes of this chapter the words 'association,' 'company,' 'exchange,' 'society' or 'union' shall be construed the same.

Sec. 5. Section 17, chapter 19, Laws of 1913 as amended by section 706, chapter 212, Laws of 1987 and RCW 23.86.030 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The name of any association subject to this chapter may contain the word 'corporation,' 'incorporated,' or 'limited' or an abbreviation of any such word.
(2) No corporation or association organized or doing business in this state shall be entitled to use the term 'cooperative' as a part of its corporate or other business name or title, unless it is subject to the provisions of this chapter, chapter 23.78, or 31.12 RCW; (and) (b) is subject to the provisions of chapter 24.66 RCW and operating on a cooperative basis; (c) is, on the effective date of this act, an organization lawfully using the term 'cooperative' as part of its corporate or other business name or title; or (d) is a nonprofit corporation or association the voting members of which are corporations or associations operating on a cooperative basis. Any corporation or association violating the provisions of this section may be enjoined from doing business under such name at the instance of any member or any association subject to the provisions of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. A new section is added to chapter 23.86 RCW to read as follows:

(2) To sue and be sued, complain, and defend in its corporate name.
(3) To have and use a corporate seal.
(4) To purchase, take, receive, lease, or otherwise acquire, own, hold, improve, use, and deal in and with real or personal property or any interest therein, wherever situated.
(5) To sell, convey, mortgage, pledge, lease, exchange, transfer, or otherwise dispose of all or any part of its property and assets.
(6) To purchase, take, receive, subscribe for, or otherwise acquire, own, hold, vote, use, employ, sell, mortgage, lend, pledge, or otherwise dispose of, use, and deal in and with shares or other interest in, or obligations of, other domestic or foreign corporations, associations, partnerships or individuals, or direct or indirect obligations of the United States or any other government, state, territory, governmental district or municipality, or any instrumentality thereof.
(7) To make contracts and incur liabilities, borrow money at rates of interest the association may determine, issue notes, bonds, certificates of indebtedness, and other obligations, receive funds from members and pay interest thereon, issue capital stock and certificates representing equity interests in assets, allocate earnings and losses at the times and in the manner the articles of incorporation or bylaws or other contract specify, create book credits, capital funds, and reserves, and secure obligations by mortgage or pledge of any of its property, franchises, and income.

(15) To cease corporate activities and surrender its corporate franchise.
(16) To have and exercise all powers necessary or convenient to effect its purposes.

(6) If the association is to have capital stock:

(7) Provisions for distribution of assets on dissolution or final liquidation.
(8) Whether a dissenting member shall be limited to a return of less than the fair value of the member’s equity interest in the association. A dissenting member may not be limited to a return of less than the consideration paid to or retained by the association for the equity interest unless the fair value is less than the consideration paid to or retained by the association.

No such provision may eliminate or limit the liability of a director for any act or omission occurring before the date when such provision becomes effective; and
(b) Any provision which under this ((chapter)) chapter is required or permitted to be set forth in the bylaws.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. A new section is added to chapter 23.86 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Duplicate originals of the articles of incorporation signed by the incorporators shall be delivered to the secretary of state. If the secretary of state finds that the articles of incorporation conform to law, the secretary of state shall, when all required fees have been paid:

(b) File one original in his or her office.
(c) Issue a certificate of incorporation with one original attached.

(2) The certificate of Incorporation, with an original of the articles of incorporation affixed by the secretary of state, shall be returned to the incorporators or their representatives and shall be retained by the association.

(3) Upon the filing of the articles of incorporation, the corporate existence shall begin, and the certificate of incorporation shall, except as against the state in a proceeding to cancel or revoke the certificate of incorporation, be conclusive evidence that all conditions precedent required to be performed by the incorporators have been complied with and that the corporation has been incorporated under this chapter.

Sec. 9. Section 4, chapter 19, Laws of 1913 as last amended by section 173, chapter 35, Laws of 1982 and RCW 23.86.070 are each amended to read as follows:

For filing articles of incorporation of an association organized under this chapter or filing application for a certificate of authority by a foreign corporation, there shall be paid to the secretary of state the sum of twenty-five dollars and for filing of an amendment ((thereof)) the sum of twenty dollars. Fees for filing other documents with the secretary of state and issuing certificates shall be as prescribed in RCW 23A.40.020. Associations ((organized under)) subject to this chapter shall not be subject to any corporation license fees excepting the fees hereinafter enumerated.

Sec. 10. Section 5, chapter 19, Laws of 1913 and RCW 23.86.080 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) (Every such) (1) Associations shall be managed by a board of not less than three ((trustees)) directors (which may be referred to as 'trustees'). The ((trustee)) directors shall be elected by and from the ((stockholders)) members of the association at such time, in such manner, and for such term of office as the bylaws may prescribe, and shall hold office during the term for which they were elected and until their successors are elected and qualified. But a majority of the stockholders shall have the power at any regular or special meeting, legally called for that purpose to remove any trustee or officer for cause, and fill the vacancy. The officers of every such association shall be a president, one or more vice-presidents, a secretary and a treasurer who shall be elected annually by the trustees. Each of said officers must be a member of the association. All elections shall be by ballonation.

(2) Except as provided in section 12 of this act, any vacancy occurring in the board of directors, and any directorship to be filled by reason of an increase in the number of directors, may be filled by the board of directors unless the articles of incorporation or the bylaws provide that a vacancy or directorship so created shall be filled in some other manner. A director elected or appointed to fill a vacancy shall be elected or appointed for the unexpired term of the predecessor in office.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. A new section is added to chapter 23.86 RCW to read as follows:

The director or officer against whom such charges have been brought shall be informed in writing of the charges prior to the meeting and shall have an opportunity at the meeting to be heard in person or by counsel and to present witnesses. The person or persons bringing the charges shall have the same opportunity. If the bylaws provide for election of directors by districts, the petition for removal of a director must be signed by the number of members residing in the district from which the officer or director was elected as the articles of incorporation or bylaws specify and, in the absence of such specification, the petition must be signed by ten percent of the members residing in the district. The board of directors must call a special meeting of the members residing in that district to consider the removal of the director. (b) The court shall make specific findings of fact concerning: (i) The existence of one or more compelling state interests; (ii) the necessity and effectiveness of the treatment; and (iii) the person's desires regarding the proposed treatment. (4) This section does not relieve the corporation of other liabilities or otherwise impair other remedies afforded by law.

(5) Amounts due to an agency under this section shall be collected in conformance with any statute or administrative law dealing with the collection of such amounts by that agency. In the absence of such a statute or administrative law, the agency may bring legal action to collect the amounts due or may use the collection authority and procedures available to the department of revenue under RCW 82.32.210 and 82.32.220 through 82.32.245, as if it were the department of revenue and the amounts due were tax payments due.

Sec. 2. Section 4, chapter 299, Laws of 1981 as amended by section 9, chapter 288, Laws of 1986 and RCW 13.40.027 are each amended to read as follows:

1. It is the responsibility of the commission to: (a) (i) Evaluate the effectiveness of existing disposition standards and related statutes set forth in RCW 13.40.010 generally and (ii) specifically review the guidelines relating to the confinement of minor and first offenders as well as the use of diversion ((The secretary shall propose modifications to the legislature regarding subsection (1)(a)(ii) of this section by January 1, 1987)); (b) solicit the comments and suggestions of the juvenile justice community concerning disposition standards; and (c) (develop and propose) make recommendations to the legislature regarding revisions or modifications of the disposition standards in accordance with RCW 13.40.030.

2. It is the responsibility of the department to: (a) Provide the commission with available data concerning the implementation of the disposition standards and related statutes and their effect on the performance of the department's responsibilities relating to juvenile offenders; (b) the request of the commission, provide technical and administrative assistance to the commission in the performance of its responsibilities; and (c) provide the commission and legislature with recommendations for modification of the disposition standards.

Sec. 3. Section 57, chapter 291, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. as last amended by section 1, chapter 73. Laws of 1985 and RCW 13.40.030 are each amended to read as follows:

1. (a) The juvenile disposition standards commission shall (propose) recommend to the legislature no later than November 1st of each (even-numbered) year disposition standards for all offenses. The standards shall establish, in accordance with the purposes of this chapter, ranges which may include terms of confinement and/or community supervision established on the basis of a youth's age, the instant offense, and the history and seriousness of previous offenses, but in no case may the period of confinement and supervision exceed that to which an adult may be subjected for the same offense(s). Standards (proposed) recommended for offenders listed in RCW 13.40.020(1) shall include a range of confinement which may not be less than thirty days. No standard range may include a period of confinement which includes both more than thirty, and thirty or less, days. Disposition standards (proposed) recommended by the commission shall provide that in all cases where a youth is sentenced to a term of confinement in excess of thirty days the department may impose an additional period of parole not to exceed eighteen months. Standards of confinement which may be proposed may relate only to the length of the proposed terms and not to the nature of the security to be imposed. In developing (proposed) recommended disposition standards, the commission shall consider the capacity of the state juvenile facilities and the projected impact of the proposed standards on that capacity.

(b) The secretary shall submit guidelines pertaining to the nature of the security to be imposed on youth placed in his or her custody based on the age, offense(s), and criminal history of the juvenile offender. Such guidelines shall be submitted to the legislature for its review no later than November 1st of each (even-numbered) year. At the same time the secretary shall submit a report on security at juvenile facilities during the preceding (two-year period) year. The report shall include the number of escapes from each juvenile facility, the most serious offense for which each escapee had been confined, the number and nature of offenses found to have been committed by juveniles while on escape status, the number of authorized leaves granted, the number of failures to comply with leave requirements, the number and nature of offenses committed while on leave, and the number and nature of offenses committed by juveniles while in the community on minimum security status; to the extent this information is available to the secretary. The department shall include security status definitions in the security guidelines it submits to the legislature pursuant to this section.

2. (If the commission fails to propose disposition standards as provided in this section, the existing standards shall remain in effect and may be adopted by the legislature or referred to the commission for modification as provided in subsection (3) of this section: if the standards are referred for modification, the provisions of subsection (4) shall be applicable.

3. The legislature may adopt the proposed standards or refer the proposed standards to the commission for modification. If the legislature fails to adopt or refer the proposed standards to the commission by February 15th of the following year, the proposed standards shall take effect without legislative approval on July 1st of that year.
(4) If the legislature refers the proposed standards to the commission for modification on or before February 16th, the commission shall resubmit the proposed modifications to the legislature no later than March 1st. The legislature may adopt or modify the resubmitted proposed standards. If the legislature fails to adopt or modify the resubmitted proposed standards by April 1st, the resubmitted proposed standards shall take effect without legislative approval on July 1st of that year.

(5) In developing (and promulgating) recommendations for the permissible ranges of confinement under this section the commission shall be subject to the following limitations:

(a) Where the maximum term in the range is ninety days or less, the minimum term in the range may be no less than fifty percent of the maximum term in the range.

(b) Where the maximum term in the range is greater than ninety days but not greater than one year, the minimum term in the range may be no less than seventy-five percent of the maximum term in the range; and

(c) Where the maximum term in the range is more than one year, the minimum term in the range may be no less than eighty percent of the maximum term in the range.

 Sec. 4. Section 70, chapter 291, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. as last amended by section 8, chapter 191. Laws of 1983 and RCW 13.40.160 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) When the respondent is found to be a serious offender, the court shall commit the offender to the department for the standard range of disposition for the offense, as indicated in option A of schedule D-3, section 7 of this act. If the court concludes, and enters reasons for its conclusion, that disposition within the standard range would effectuate a manifest injustice the court shall impose a disposition outside the standard range, as indicated in option B of schedule D-3, section 7 of this act. The court's finding of manifest injustice shall be supported by clear and convincing evidence.

A disposition outside the standard range shall be determinate and shall be comprised of confinement or community supervision, or a combination thereof. When a judge finds a manifest injustice and imposes a sentence of confinement exceeding thirty days, the court shall sentence the juvenile to a maximum term, and the provisions of RCW 13.40.030(5), as now or hereafter amended, shall be used to determine the range. A disposition outside the standard range is appealable under RCW 13.40.230, as now or hereafter amended, by the state or the respondent. A disposition within the standard range is not appealable under RCW 13.40.230 as now or hereafter amended.

(2) Where the respondent is found to be a minor or first offender, the court shall order that the respondent serve a term of community supervision as indicated in option A or option B of schedule D-1, section 7 of this act. If the court determines that a disposition of community supervision would effectuate a manifest injustice the court may impose another disposition under option C of schedule D-1, section 7 of this act. A disposition other than a community supervision may be imposed only after the court enters reasons upon which it bases its conclusions that imposition of community supervision would effectuate a manifest injustice. When a judge finds a manifest injustice and imposes a sentence of confinement exceeding thirty days, the court shall sentence the juvenile to a maximum term, and the provisions of RCW 13.40.030(5), as now or hereafter amended, shall be used to determine the range. A disposition outside the standard range is appealable under RCW 13.40.230, as now or hereafter amended, by the state or the respondent. A disposition within the standard range is not appealable under RCW 13.40.230 as now or hereafter amended.

Any disposition other than community supervision may be appealed as provided in RCW 13.40.230, as now or hereafter amended, by the state or the respondent. A disposition of community supervision may not be appealed under RCW 13.40.230 as now or hereafter amended.

(3) Where a respondent is found to have committed an offense for which the respondent declined to enter into a diversion agreement as provided in RCW 13.40.150 as now or hereafter amended, declined to enter into a diversion agreement, the court shall impose a term of community supervision limited to the conditions allowed in a diversion agreement as provided in RCW 13.40.080(2) as now or hereafter amended.

(4) If a respondent is found to be a middle offender:

(a) The court shall impose a determinate disposition within the standard range(s) for such offense, as indicated in option A of schedule D-2, section 7 of this act: PROVIDED, That if the standard range includes a term of confinement exceeding thirty days, commitment shall be to the department for the standard range of confinement; or

(b) The court shall impose a determinate disposition of community supervision and/or up to thirty days confinement, as indicated in option B of schedule D-2, section 7 of this act in which case, if confinement has been imposed, the court shall state either aggravating or mitigating factors as set forth in RCW 13.40.150 as now or hereafter amended.

(c) Only if the court concludes, and enters reasons for its conclusions, that disposition as provided in subsection (4) (a) or (b) of this section would effectuate a manifest injustice, the court shall sentence the juvenile to a maximum term, and the provisions of RCW 13.40.030(5), as now or hereafter amended, shall be used to determine the range. The court's finding of manifest injustice shall be supported by clear and convincing evidence.

(d) A disposition pursuant to subsection (4)(c) of this section is appealable under RCW 13.40.230, as now or hereafter amended, by the state or the respondent. A disposition pursuant to subsection (4) (a) or (b) of this section is not appealable under RCW 13.40.230 as now or hereafter amended.
Whenever a juvenile offender is entitled to credit for time spent in detention prior to a dispositional order, the dispositional order shall specifically state the number of days of credit for time served.

In its dispositional order, the court shall not suspend or defer the imposition or the execution of the disposition.

In no case shall the term of confinement imposed by the court at disposition exceed that to which an adult could be subjected for the same offense.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 13.40 RCW to read as follows:

The sentencing guidelines and prosecuting standards apply equally to juvenile offenders in all parts of the state, without discrimination as to any element that does not relate to the crime or the previous record of the offender.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. A new section is added to chapter 13.40 RCW to read as follows:

The total current offense points for use in the standards range matrix of schedules D-1, D-2, and D-3 are computed as follows:

1. The disposition offense category is determined by the offense of conviction. Offenses are divided into ten levels of seriousness, ranging from low (seriousness level E) to high (seriousness level A+), see schedule A, section 7 of this act.

2. The prior offense increase factor is summarized in schedule B, section 7 of this act. The increase factor is determined for each prior offense by using the time span and the offense category in the prior offense increase factor grid. Time span is computed from the date of the prior offense to the date of the current offense. The total increase factor is determined by totaling the increase factors for each prior offense and adding a constant factor of 1.0.

3. The current offense points are summarized in schedule C, section 7 of this act. The current offense points are determined for each current offense by locating the juvenile’s age on the horizontal axis and using the offense category on the vertical axis. The juvenile’s age is determined as of the time of the current offense and is rounded down to the nearest whole number.

4. The total current offense points are determined for each current offense by multiplying the total increase factor by the current offense points. The total current offense points are rounded down to the nearest whole number.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. R. Meyers: We are not here to discuss what is going on in another situation and another hearing, Mr. Speaker. We are here to talk about the benefits or detriments of a specific piece of legislation before us.

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: Please confine your comments to the matter before us, Representative Todd.

Mr. Todd concluded his remarks in favor of the amendment, and Representatives Jesernig and May spoke against the amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Nelson yielded to question by Mr. Sayan.

Mr. Sayan: Representative Nelson, is it now possible for the utility company to hold these reviews without having to change the law to do so?

Mr. Nelson: Yes, it is possible for the commission, on its own volition, to hold hearings just as it is possible for other state agencies to hold hearings around the state. What the amendment suggests is that we want to make sure that that happens.

Mr. Sayan: It is possible that they can do so on their own volition?
Mr. Nelson: Yes, it is.

The amendment was not adopted.

Mr. R. Meyers moved adoption of the following amendment by Representatives R. Meyers, May, Hankins, Miller, Cooper, H. Myers and Jesernig:

On page 15, line 3, after "ton" insert "filed by a telecommunications company"

Mr. Nelson spoke against passage of the bill.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. R. Meyers: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Although I realize the present speaker is not a friend of the bill, I think we ought to be talking about the bill and not about ongoing hearings before the UTC, which are unrelated to this bill in any way.

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: The Speaker is allowing some latitude. I would ask Representative Nelson, however, to make sure that his remarks focus on the subject of the bill.

Mr. Nelson concluded his remarks against passage of the bill. Representatives Sayan, Hankins, May, Todd, R. Meyers and Horn spoke in favor of it. Mr. Sayan again spoke in favor of the bill, and Ms. Miller spoke in favor of it.

MOTION

Mr. Jacobsen moved that the remarks of Ms. Miller be spread upon the Journal. The motion was carried.

REMARKS OF REPRESENTATIVE MILLER

Ms. Miller: It is important to talk not only about what this bill does, but what it doesn't do. None of the provisions in Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5098 change the current law to weaken the commission's authority to file complaints, receive complaints, or have access to information concerning the conduct of any telecommunications company. Testimony in committee supports, if anything, that this bill strengthens those rights by specifically referring to the right of the commission, other parties, and intervenors to bring complaints and seek discovery. Further, testimony has assured us the commission has the authority to investigate all complaints, including those alleging discrimination and service quality concerns. And we have heard a lot about service quality concerns with some of our smaller companies in our hearings this year. Furthermore, testimony and agreed-to amendments specify that monopoly services will not be used to the detriment of consumers and the market place. It is these amendments, understandings, and record that have made Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5098 acceptable to most of the parties interested in this legislation. Thank you.

Mr. Jacobsen spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5098 as amended by the House, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 92; nays, 2; absent, 2; excused, 2.

Absent: Representatives Locke, Sommers H - 2.
Excused: Representatives Appelwick, Chandler – 2.

Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5098 as amended by the House, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

There being no objection, the House reverted to the fourth order of business.

(1) The governing bodies of counties and cities may amend the codes enumerated in RCW 19.27.031 as they apply within their respective jurisdictions, but the amendments shall not result in a code that is less than the minimum performance standards and objectives contained in the state building code. No amendment to a code enumerated in RCW 19.27.031 that affects single family or multifamily residential buildings shall be effective unless the amendment is approved by the building code council under RCW 19.27.074(1)(b). Any county or city amendment to a code enumerated in RCW 19.27.031 which is approved under RCW 19.27.074(1)(b) shall continue to be effective after any action is taken under RCW 19.27.074(1)(a) except that the amendment is declared null and void by the council at the time any action is taken under RCW 19.27.074(1)(a) because such action altered the impact of the amendment.

(2) Except as permitted or provided otherwise under this section, the state building code shall be applicable to all buildings and structures including those owned by the state or by any governmental subdivision or unit of local government.

(3) The governing body of each county or city may limit the application of any portion of the state building code to exclude specified classes or types of buildings or structures according to use other than single family or multifamily residential buildings: PROVIDED, That in no

(5) No provision of the uniform fire code concerning roadways shall be part of the state building code: PROVIDED, That this subsection shall not limit the authority of a county or city to adopt street, road, or access standards.

(6) The provisions of the state building code may be preempted by any city or county to the extent that the code provisions relating to the installation or use of sprinklers in jail cells conflict with the secure and humane operation of jails.

(7) (a) Effective one year after the effective date of this section, the governing bodies of counties and cities may adopt an ordinance or resolution to exempt from permit requirements certain construction or alteration of either group R, division 3, or group M, division 1 occupancies, or both, as defined in the uniform building code, 1988 edition, for which the total cost of fair market value of the construction or alteration does not exceed fifteen hundred dollars. The permit exemption shall not otherwise exempt the construction or alteration from the substantive standards of the codes enumerated in RCW 19.27.031, as amended and maintained by the state building code council under RCW 19.27.070.

(b) Prior to the effective date of this section, the state building code council shall adopt by rule, guidelines exempting from permit requirements certain construction and alteration activities under (a) of this subsection.

SSB 5503 Prime Sponsor, Committee on Higher Education: Establishing the Cherberg scholarship program. Reported by Committee on Higher Education

March 27, 1989
MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. In honor of former Lieutenant Governor John A. Cherberg's years of service to the state of Washington, a Cherberg scholarship program for students pursuing a career in public service should be created. Cherberg's thirty-two distinguished years in the state legislature since 1956 are a model of public service for future generations. Students should be given the chance to work toward a career in public service where they can serve as leaders in our community.

Currently, most financial aid is given in the form of loans. Many students who desire a career in public service are turned toward jobs in business where they can make enough money to pay off school loans. Upper division and graduate students who emulate Cherberg's successes should receive an affordable education to enable them to serve our society.

There is also an increasing need for young people in public service to correct the problems our state and nation has created and fill these societal needs.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout sections 1 through 4 of this act.

(1) 'Board' means the higher education coordinating board.

(2) 'Institution of higher education' means any public university or college operated by the state which offers a baccalaureate degree, or any independent university or college in the state, the main campus of which is permanently situated in the state, which offers a baccalaureate degree and is a member institution of an accrediting association recognized by rule of the board for the purposes of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The Cherberg scholarship program is hereby created. The board shall administer the program and shall have the following powers and duties:

(1) Appoint a screening committee composed of faculty members of institutions of higher education, leaders in government, and other persons as determined by the board;

(2) Within available funds, award Cherberg scholarships to students who meet the eligibility criteria established in this act and who are recommended by the screening committee;

(3) Publicize the scholarship program; and

(4) Solicit and accept grants and donations from public and private sources for the program.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. (1) The screening committee shall develop criteria for selecting recipients of the Cherberg scholarships and shall make recommendations to the board on the selection of recipients. Criteria shall include a demonstrated interest in public service as indicated in a written competition that shall be submitted with the scholarship application. Interest in working as a public servant shall be defined as desiring employment in the government system, or planning to perform public service. Applicants shall be encouraged from a broad mix of academic disciplines.

(2) Students eligible for the scholarship must be registered full time, hold at least a cumulative grade point average of three out of a possible four points or the equivalent for each academic year in an institution of higher education, be a resident student as defined by RCW 28B.15.012, have declared a major, and have completed at least sixty semester credit hours or the equivalent towards an undergraduate degree or be enrolled in a program leading to a graduate degree at an institution of higher education.

(3) At least one-half of the scholarships shall be awarded to needy students as defined by RCW 28B.10.802.

(4) The maximum amount of the Cherberg scholarship for a student attending a public institution of higher education is the annual, full-time, resident, tuition and services and activities fees at the institution at the undergraduate or graduate level, as appropriate. The maximum amount of the Cherberg scholarship for a student attending an independent college or university is the annual, full-time, resident, undergraduate tuition and services and activities fees at the state-funded research universities. The scholarships are for a period of one academic year and are nonrenewable.

(5) No more than two scholarships shall be awarded to students attending any one institution of higher education in any one academic year.

(6) No scholarship shall be awarded to any student who is pursuing a degree in theology.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. Within available funds, for the 1989-91 biennium, the higher education coordinating board shall award Cherberg scholarships to twenty-two students.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. Sections 1 through 4 of this act are each added to chapter 28B.10 RCW."

(1) All transfers of mammals, other than rats and mice bred for use in research and livestock, to research institutions in this state, whether by sale or otherwise, shall conform with federal laws and except as to those animals obtained from a source outside the United States, shall be accompanied by one of the following written certifications, dated and signed under penalty of perjury:

(a) Breeder certification: A written statement certifying that the person signing the certification is a United States department of agriculture-licensed class A dealer whose business license in the state of Washington includes only those animals that the dealer breeds and raises as a closed or stable colony and those animals that the dealer acquires for the sole purpose of maintaining or enhancing the dealer’s breeding colony, that the animal being sold is one of those animals, and that the person signing the certification is authorized to do so. The certification shall also include an identifying number for the dealer, such as a business license number.

(b) True owner certification: A written statement certifying that the animal being transferred is owned by the person signing the certification, and that a person signifying the certification either (i) has no personal knowledge or reason to believe that the animal is a pet animal, or (ii) consents to having the animal used for research at a research institution. The certification shall also state the date that the owner obtained the animal, and the person or other source from whom it was obtained. The certification shall also include an identifying number for the person signing the certification, such as a driver’s license number or business license number. The certifications signed by or on behalf of a humane society, animal control agency, or animal shelter need not contain a statement that the society, agency, or shelter owns the animal, but shall state that the animal has been in the possession of the society, agency, or shelter for the minimum period required by law that entitles it to legally dispose of the animal.

The brief description may be contained in the written certification.

These files shall be maintained and open for public inspection for a period of at least two years from the date of acquisition of the animal.

(3) All research institutions in this state shall, within one hundred eighty days of the effective date of this act, adopt and operate under written policies governing the acquisition of animals to be used in biomedical or product research at that institution, which shall be binding on all employees, agents, or contractors of that institution. These policies must contain, at a minimum, the following provisions:

(a) Animals shall be acquired in accordance with the federal animal welfare act, public health service policy, and other applicable statutes and regulations;

(b) No research may be conducted on a pet animal without the written permission of the pet animal’s owner;

(c) Any animal acquired by the institution that is determined to be a pet animal shall be returned to its legal owner, unless the institution has the owner’s written permission to retain the animal; and

(d) A person at the institution shall be designated to have the responsibility for investigating any facts supporting the possibility that an animal in the institution’s possession may be a pet animal. This person shall inform and review of the relevant files required to be kept by the institution for animals obtained under subsection (2) of this section, and shall be responsible for facilitating the rapid return of any animal determined to be a pet animal to the legal owner who has not given the institution permission to have the animal or transferred ownership of it to the institution.

(4) For the purposes of this section, ‘research institution’ means any facility licensed by the United States department of agriculture to use animals in biomedical or product research.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 19.86 RCW to read as follows:

ESSB 5984 Prime Sponsor, Committee on Agriculture: Modifying water conservation procedures in the Yakima river basin. Reported by Committee on Agriculture & Rural Development
NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. (1) The legislature finds that:

(a) Under present physical conditions in the Yakima river basin there is an insufficient supply of water to satisfy the needs of the basin;

(b) Pursuant to P.L. 96-162, which was urged for enactment by this state, the United States is now conducting a study of ways to provide needed waters through improvements of the federal water project presently existing in the Yakima river basin;

(c) The interests of the state will be served by developing programs, in cooperation with the United States and the various water users in the basin, that increase the overall ability to manage basin waters in order to better satisfy both present and future needs for water in the Yakima river basin.

(2) It is the purpose of this chapter, consistent with these findings, to improve the ability of the state to work with the United States and various water users of the Yakima river basin in a program designed to satisfy both existing rights, and other presently unmet as well as future needs of the basin.

(3) The provisions of this chapter apply only to waters of the Yakima river basin.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) 'Department' means the department of ecology.

(2) 'Net water savings' means the amount of water that through hydrological analysis is determined to be conserved and usable for other purposes without impairing existing water rights, reducing the ability to deliver water, or reducing the supply of water that otherwise would have been available to other water users.

(3) 'Trust water right' means that portion of an existing water right, constituting net water savings, that is no longer required to be diverted for beneficial use due to the installation of a water conservation project that improves an existing system. The term 'trust water right' also applies to any other water right acquired by the department under this chapter for management in the Yakima river basin trust water rights program.

(4) 'Water conservation project' means any project funded to further the purposes of this chapter and that achieves physical or operational improvements of efficiency in existing systems for diversion, conveyance, or application of water under existing water rights.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. (1) The department may acquire water rights, including but not limited to storage rights, by purchase, gift, or other appropriate means other than by condemnation, from any person or entity or combination of persons or entities. Once acquired, such rights are trust water rights.

(2) The department may make such other arrangements, including entry into contracts with other persons or entities as appropriate to ensure that trust water rights acquired in accordance with this chapter can be exercised to the fullest possible extent.

(3) The trust water rights may be acquired on a temporary or permanent basis.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. (1) For the purposes of this chapter, the department is authorized to enter into contracts with water users for the purpose of providing moneys to users to assist in the financing of water conservation projects. In exchange for the financial assistance provided for the purposes of this chapter, the water users shall convey the trust water rights, created as a result of the assistance, to the department of ecology.

(2) No contract shall be entered into by the department with a water user under this chapter unless it appears to the department that, upon the completion of a water conservation project financed with moneys as provided in this section, a valid water right exists for conveyance to the department.

(3) The department shall cooperate fully with the United States in the implementation of this chapter. Trust water rights may be acquired through expenditure of funds provided by the United States and shall be treated in the same manner as trust water rights resulting from the expenditure of state funds.

(4) When water is proposed to be acquired by or conveyed to the department as a trust water right by an irrigation district, evidence of the district's authority to represent the water right holders must be submitted to, and for the satisfaction of, the department.

(5) The department shall not acquire an individual's water right under this chapter that is appurtenant to land lying within an irrigation district without the approval of the board of directors of the irrigation district.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. (1) All trust water rights acquired by the department shall be placed in the Yakima river basin trust water rights program to be managed by the department. The department shall issue a water right certificate in the name of the state of Washington for each trust water right it acquires.

(2) Trust water rights shall retain the same priority date as the water right from which they originated. Trust water rights may be modified as to purpose or place of use or point of diversion, including modification from a diversionary use to a nondiversionary instream use.

(3) Trust water rights may be held by the department for instream flows and/or irrigation use.
(4) A schedule of the amount of net water saved as a result of water conservation projects carried out in accordance with this chapter, shall be developed annually to reflect the predicted hydrologic and water supply conditions, as well as anticipated water demands, for the upcoming irrigation season. This schedule shall serve as the basis for the distribution and management of trust water rights each year.

(5) No exercise of a trust water right may be authorized unless the department first determines that no existing water rights, junior or senior in priority, will be impaired as to their exercise or injured in any manner whatever by such authorization. Before any trust water right is exercised, the department shall publish notice thereof in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county or counties in which the storage, diversion, and use are to be made, and in such other newspapers as the department determines are necessary, once a week for two consecutive weeks. At the same time the department may also send notice thereof containing pertinent information to the director of fisheries and the director of wildlife.

(6) RCW 90.03.380 and 90.14.140 through 90.14.910 shall have no applicability to trust water rights held by the department under this chapter or exercised under this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. The department may adopt rules as appropriate to ensure full implementation of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. The policies and purposes of this chapter shall not be construed as replacing or amending the policies or the purposes for which funds available under chapter 43.83B or 43.99E RCW may be used within or without the Yakima river basin.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. It is not the intent of this chapter to facilitate the transfer of water rights from one irrigation district to another.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. Nothing in this chapter shall authorize the impairment or operate to impair any existing water rights.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. Sections 1 through 9 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 90 RCW.
Each school district’s board of directors shall deposit moneys derived from the lease, rental or occasional use of surplus school property as follows:

1. Moneys derived from real property shall be deposited into the district’s debt service fund and/or capital projects fund except for moneys required to be expended for general maintenance, utility, insurance costs, and any other costs associated with the lease or rental of such property, which moneys shall be deposited in the district’s general fund.

2. Moneys derived from pupil transportation vehicles shall be deposited in the district’s transportation vehicle fund.

3. Moneys derived from other personal property shall be deposited in the district’s general fund.

We, your Memorialists, the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Washington, in legislative session assembled, respectfully represent and petition as follows:

WHEREAS, The anadromous salmon and steelhead originating in the Columbia River Basin must pass the Federal Columbia River Hydroelectric Projects on the Columbia and Snake Rivers on their migration to and from the Pacific Ocean; and

WHEREAS, Three of the dams do not have bypass facilities to steer juvenile anadromous fish away from turbine intakes, and a fourth dam has inadequate bypass facilities; and

WHEREAS, The Army Corps of Engineers, which operates the dams, has failed to provide sufficient spill to enable juvenile anadromous fish to bypass turbines on their downward migration; and

WHEREAS, The lack of bypass facilities and insufficient spill has resulted in significant mortality to salmon and steelhead in the Columbia River Basin; and

WHEREAS, The following parties recently negotiated an agreement providing for spills to reduce turbine mortality of anadromous fish at the Federal Columbia River Hydroelectric Projects: The United States Department of Energy, acting by and through the Bonneville Power Administration, the Pacific Northwest Utilities Conference Committee, on behalf of its member utilities and industries, the United States Department of Interior, the National Marine Fisheries Service, in its own capacity and as delegate for the United States Department of Commerce, the Washington Department of Fisheries and the Washington Department of Wildlife, the Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife, the Idaho Department of Fish and Game, the Columbia River Inter-Tribal Fish Commission, the Confederated Tribes of the Warm Springs Reservation of Oregon, the Confederated Tribes of the Umatilla Indian Reservation, the Confederated Tribes and Bands of the Yakima Indian Nation, the Confederated Tribes of the Colville Indian Reservation, and the Nez Perce Tribe of Idaho; and

WHEREAS, The Northwest Power Planning Council has amended the Columbia River Basin Fish and Wildlife Program for 1989 incorporating the provisions of the spill agreement on an interim basis at four Columbia and Snake River projects, and has further endorsed the installation of mechanical bypass facilities as superior to the present method of fish migrating through the turbines at the dams; and
WHEREAS, The Pacific Fisheries Legislative Task Force endorses the action taken by the Northwest Power Planning Council to amend the Columbia River Basin Fish and Wildlife Program to include the spill agreement, and requests the Council to expedite the amendment process to incorporate the provisions of the Spill Memorandum of Agreement; and

WHEREAS, The Washington State Legislature encourages the Northwest Power Planning Council to amend the Columbia Basin Fish and Wildlife Program to include the provisions of the Spill Memorandum of Agreement:

NOW, THEREFORE, Your Memorialists respectfully pray that the United States Congress direct the Army Corps of Engineers, as the operator of the Federal Columbia River Hydroelectric Projects, to implement the spill agreement and to install appropriate bypass facilities as soon as reasonably possible, and appropriate the funds necessary to finance expeditious construction of the bypass facilities.

REMARKS BY REPRESENTATIVES APPELWICK AND R. MEYERS

Mr. Appelwick yielded to question by Mr. R. Meyers.

Mr. R. Meyers: Representative Appelwick, are the provisions of Substitute House Bill No. 1005 retroactive to the date the double amendments were adopted?

Mr. Appelwick: Bills correcting double amendments are procedural in nature. Procedural issues are by statute retroactive in their application.

Mr. R. Meyers: Is the double amendment regarding privileged communications retroactive back to 1987 when both bills passed?

Mr. Appelwick: In the case of the double amendments in Substitute House Bill No. 1005 dealing with privileged communications, both statutory sections are considered adopted and are law as long as they do not contradict each other. Neither of these bills contradict each other, and the amendments on privileged communications therefore stand as separate acts from the date of their original effectiveness. They would not be retroactively superseded.

CENTENNIAL MESSAGE

March 3, 1989

On this day in 1889, electric trolley cars began service in Seattle, replacing horse-drawn trolleys. And the brightest meteor seen in Washington since 1876 appeared around 9:15 p.m. in the southern sky, sweeping westward, leaving no trail. Its color was that of a zinc flame.

On March 31, 1966 a gray whale was in the Chehalis River near Grays Harbor. Because of its covering of barnacles, it became known as "Barney."

On March 31, 1971 the Atomic Energy Commission, under political pressure, agreed to operate the N-Reactor at Hanford for another three years, with the Washington Public Power Supply System paying the bill.

The legislature intends to create a citizen review board system that will function in an advisory capacity to the judiciary, the department, and the legislature. The purpose of the citicomplies with case review requirements and time lines imposed by federal laws pertaining to child welfare services;

In order to accomplish the foregoing purposes, the citizen review board system shall not be subject to the procedures and standards usually applicable to judicial and administrative hearings, except as otherwise specifically provided in this chapter and RCW 13.34.130, 13.34-

The second review shall occur within six months following commencement of the placement episode. The next review shall occur within one year following commencement of the placement episode unless the child is no longer in substitute care or unless a guardianship order or adoption decree is entered.

(5) The board shall prepare written findings and recommendations with respect to:

(a) Whether reasonable efforts were made before the placement to prevent or eliminate the need for removal of the child from the home;

(b) Whether reasonable efforts have been made subsequent to the placement to make it possible for the child to be returned home;
Whether the child has been placed in the least-restrictive setting appropriate to the child's needs, including whether consideration has been given to placement with the child's relatives;

Whether there is a continuing need for and whether the placement is appropriate;

Whether there has been compliance with the case plan;

Whether progress has been made toward alleviating the need for placement;

A likely date by which the child may be returned home or other permanent plan of care may be implemented; and

Other problems, solutions, or alternatives the board determines should be explored.

Within ten working days following the review, the board shall send a copy of its findings and recommendations to the child's parents and their attorneys, the child's custodians and their attorneys, the department and other child placement agencies directly responsible for supervising the child's placement. If the child is an Indian as defined in the Indian child welfare act, 25 U.S.C. 1901 et seq., a copy of the board's findings and recommendations shall also be sent to the child's Indian tribe.

If the department is unable or unwilling to implement the board recommendations, the department shall submit to the board, within ten working days after receipt of the findings and recommendations, an implementation report setting forth the reasons why the department in unable or unwilling to implement the board's recommendations. The report will also set forth the case plan which the department intends to implement.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. (1) This section shall apply to cases where a child has been placed in substitute care pursuant to a proceeding under chapter 13.34 RCW.

Within forty-five days following commencement of the placement episode, the court shall assign the child's case to a board and forward to the board a copy of the dependency petition and any shelter care or dependency disposition orders which have been entered in the case by the court.

The board shall review the case plan for each child whose case is assigned to the board by the court. The review shall take place at times set by the board. The first review shall occur within ninety days following commencement of the placement episode. The second review shall occur within six months following commencement of the placement episode. The next review shall occur one year after commencement of the placement episode. Within eighteen months following commencement of the placement episode, a permanency planning hearing shall be held before the court in accordance with RCW 13.34.145. Thereafter, a board review or a court review hearing pursuant to RCW 13.34.130(4) shall take place at least once every six months until the child is no longer within the jurisdiction of the court or no longer in substitute care or until a guardianship order or adoption decree is entered. A court review hearing must occur at least once a year as provided in RCW 13.34.130. The board shall review any case where a petition to terminate parental rights has been denied, and such review shall occur as soon as practical but no later than forty-five days after the denial.

Whether reasonable efforts have been made subsequent to the placement to make it possible for the child to be returned home;

Whether the child has been placed in the least-restrictive setting appropriate to the child's needs, including whether consideration has been given to placement with the child's relatives;

Whether there is a continuing need for placement and whether the placement is appropriate;

Whether there has been compliance with the case plan;

Whether progress has been made toward alleviating the need for placement;

A likely date by which the child may be returned home or other permanent plan of care may be implemented; and

Other problems, solutions, or alternatives the board determines should be explored.

Within ten working days following the review, the board shall send a copy of its findings and recommendations to the parents and their attorneys, the child's custodians and their attorneys, mature children and their attorneys, and the department and other child placement agencies directly responsible for supervising the child's placement. If the child is an Indian as defined in the Indian child welfare act, 25 U.S.C. 1901 et seq., a copy of the board's findings and recommendations shall also be sent to the child's Indian tribe.

(6) If the department is unable or unwilling to implement the board recommendations, the department shall submit to the board, within ten working days after receipt of the findings and recommendations, an implementation report setting forth the reasons why the department is unable or unwilling to implement the board’s recommendations.    (a) Schedule the case for further review by the board;
   (b) File with the court a motion for a review hearing;
   (c) Submit to the court the board’s findings and recommendations, the department’s implementation reports, if any, and a proposed amended court order agreed to by the parties to the action, if any.

   (a) Approve the recommendations; or
   (b) Upon its own motion, schedule a review hearing.

(9) The findings and recommendations of the board and the department’s implementation report, if any, shall become part of the department’s case file and the court file pertaining to the child.

(10) Nothing in this section shall limit or otherwise modify the rights of any party to a dependency proceeding to request and receive a court review hearing pursuant to the provisions of chapter 13.34 RCW or applicable court rules.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. In addition to reviewing individual cases of children in substitute care, boards may make recommendations to the court and the department concerning substitute care services, policies, procedures, and laws.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. The administrator for the courts may apply for and receive funds from federal, local, and private sources for carrying out the purposes of this chapter.

The results of the weighted caseload analysis shall be reviewed by the board for judicial administration and the judicial council, both of which shall make recommendations to the legislature by January 1, 1989. It is the intent of the legislature that weighted caseload analysis become the basis for creating additional district court positions, and recommendations should address that objective;

(b) Order that the child be removed from his or her home and ordered into the custody, control, and care of a relative or the department of social and health services or a licensed child placing agency for placement in a foster family home or group care facility licensed pursuant to chapter 74.15 RCW or in a home not required to be licensed pursuant to chapter 74.15 RCW. Unless there is reasonable cause to believe that the safety or welfare of the child would be jeopardized or that efforts to reunite the parent and child will be hindered, such child shall be placed with a grandparent, brother, sister, stepbrother, stepsister, uncle, aunt, or first cousin with whom the child has a relationship and is comfortable, and who is willing and available to care for the child. An order for out-of-home placement may be made only if the court finds that reasonable efforts have been made to prevent or eliminate the need for removal of the child from the child’s home and to make it possible for the child to return home and that:
(i) There is no parent or guardian available to care for such child;
(ii) The child is unwilling to reside in the custody of the child’s parent, guardian, or legal custodian;
(iii) The parent, guardian, or legal custodian is not willing to take custody of the child;
(iv) A manifest danger exists that the child will suffer serious abuse or neglect if the child is not removed from the home and an order under RCW 26.44.063 would not protect the child from danger; or
(v) The extent of the child’s disability is such that the parent, guardian, or legal custodian is unable to provide the necessary care for the child and the parent, guardian, or legal custodian has determined that the child would benefit from placement outside of the home.
(2) Whenever a child is ordered removed from the child’s home, the agency charged with his or her care shall provide the court with a specific plan as to where the child will be placed, what steps will be taken to return the child home, and what actions the agency will take to maintain parent-child ties. All aspects of the plan shall include the goal of achieving permanence for the child.
(a) The agency plan shall specify what services the parents will be offered in order to enable them to resume custody, what requirements the parents must meet in order to resume custody, and a time limit for each service plan and parental requirement.
(b) The agency shall be required to encourage the maximum parent-child contact possible, including regular visitation and participation by the parents in the care of the child while the child is in placement.
(c) A child shall be placed as close to the child’s home as possible, preferably in the child’s own neighborhood, unless the court finds that placement at a greater distance is necessary to promote the child’s or parents’ well-being.
(d) The agency charged with supervising a child in placement shall provide all reason­able services that are available within the agency, or within the community, or those services which the department of social and health services has existing contracts to purchase. It shall report to the court if it is unable to provide such services.
(3) If there is insufficient information at the time of the disposition hearing upon which to base a determination regarding the suitability of a proposed placement with a relative, the child shall remain in foster care and the court shall direct the supervising agency to conduct necessary background investigations as provided in chapter 74.15 RCW and report the results
Sec. 17. Section 4, chapter 188, Laws of 1984 as amended by section 2, chapter 189, Laws of 1988, section 2, chapter 190, Laws of 1988, and by section 1, chapter 194, Laws of 1988 and RCW 13.34.130 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:
If, after a fact-finding hearing pursuant to RCW 13.34.110, as now or hereafter amended, it has been proven by a preponderance of the evidence that the child is dependent within the meaning of RCW 13.34.030(2); after consideration of the predisposition report prepared pursuant to RCW 13.34.110 and after a disposition hearing has been held pursuant to RCW 13.34.110, the court shall enter an order of disposition pursuant to this section.
(1) The court shall order one of the following dispositions of the case:
(a) Order a disposition other than removal of the child from his or her home, which shall provide a program designed to alleviate the immediate danger to the child, to mitigate or care any damage the child has already suffered, and to aid the parents so that the child will not be endangered in the future. In selecting a program, the court should choose those services that least interfere with family autonomy, provided that the services are adequate to protect the child.
(b) Order that the child be removed from his or her home and ordered into the custody, control, and care of a relative or the department of social and health services or a licensed child placing agency for placement in a foster family home or group care facility licensed pursuant to chapter 74.15 RCW or in a home not required to be licensed pursuant to chapter 74.15 RCW. Unless there is reasonable cause to believe that the safety or welfare of the child would be jeopardized or that efforts to reunite the parent and child will be hindered, such child shall be placed with a grandparent, brother, sister, stepbrother, stepsister, uncle, aunt, or first cousin with whom the child has a relationship and is comfortable, and who is willing and available to care for the child. An order for out-of-home placement may be made only if the court finds that reasonable efforts have been made to prevent or eliminate the need for removal of the child from the child’s home and to make it possible for the child to return home and that:
(i) There is no parent or guardian available to care for such child;
(ii) The child is unwilling to reside in the custody of the child’s parent, guardian, or legal custodian;
(iii) The parent, guardian, or legal custodian is not willing to take custody of the child;
(iv) A manifest danger exists that the child will suffer serious abuse or neglect if the child is not removed from the home and an order under RCW 26.44.063 would not protect the child from danger; or
(v) The extent of the child’s disability is such that the parent, guardian, or legal custodian is unable to provide the necessary care for the child and the parent, guardian, or legal custodian has determined that the child would benefit from placement outside of the home.
(2) Whenever a child is ordered removed from the child’s home, the agency charged with his or her care shall provide the court with a specific plan as to where the child will be placed, what steps will be taken to return the child home, and what actions the agency will take to maintain parent-child ties. All aspects of the plan shall include the goal of achieving permanence for the child.
(a) The agency plan shall specify what services the parents will be offered in order to enable them to resume custody, what requirements the parents must meet in order to resume custody, and a time limit for each service plan and parental requirement.
(b) The agency shall be required to encourage the maximum parent-child contact possible, including regular visitation and participation by the parents in the care of the child while the child is in placement.
(c) A child shall be placed as close to the child’s home as possible, preferably in the child’s own neighborhood, unless the court finds that placement at a greater distance is necessary to promote the child’s or parents’ well-being.
(d) The agency charged with supervising a child in placement shall provide all reason­able services that are available within the agency, or within the community, or those services which the department of social and health services has existing contracts to purchase. It shall report to the court if it is unable to provide such services.
(3) If there is insufficient information at the time of the disposition hearing upon which to base a determination regarding the suitability of a proposed placement with a relative, the child shall remain in foster care and the court shall direct the supervising agency to conduct necessary background investigations as provided in chapter 74.15 RCW and report the results of such investigation to the court within thirty days. However, if such relative appears otherwise suitable and competent to provide care and treatment, the criminal history background check need not be completed before placement, but as soon as possible after placement. Any placements with relatives, pursuant to this section, shall be contingent upon cooperation by the relative with the agency case plan and compliance with court orders related to the care and supervision of the child including, but not limited to, court orders regarding parent–child contacts and any other conditions imposed by the court. Noncompliance with the case plan or court order shall be grounds for removal of the child from the relative’s home, subject to review by the court.

(4) Except for cases which are subject to the provisions of section 13 of this act regarding citizen review, the status of all children found to be dependent shall be reviewed by the court at least every six months from the beginning date of the placement episode or the date dependency is established, whichever is first, at a hearing in which it shall be determined whether court supervision should continue. The review shall include findings regarding the agency and parental completion of disposition plan requirements, and if necessary, revised permanency time limits.

For cases which are subject to the provisions of section 13 of this act, a court review hearing shall occur no later than eighteen months following commencement of the child’s placement episode. Thereafter, court review hearings shall occur at least once every year until the child is no longer within the jurisdiction of the court or the child returns home or a guardianship order or adoption decree is entered. The court may review the case more frequently upon the court’s own motion or upon the request of any party to the proceeding or the citizen review board assigned to the child’s case.

(a) A child shall not be returned home at the review hearing unless the court finds that a reason for removal as set forth in this section no longer exists. The parents, guardian, or legal custodian shall report to the court the efforts they have made to correct the conditions which led to removal. If a child is returned, casework supervision shall continue for a period of six months, at which time there shall be a hearing on the need for continued intervention.

(b) If the child is not returned home, the court shall establish in writing:

(i) Whether reasonable services have been provided to or offered to the parties to facilitate reunion;

(ii) (The extent to which) Whether the child has been placed in the least-restrictive setting appropriate to the child’s needs, including whether consideration has been given to placement with the child’s relatives;

(iii) Whether there is a continuing need for placement and whether the placement is appropriate;

(iv) Whether there has been compliance with the case plan by the child, the child’s parents, and the agency supervising the placement;

(v) Whether progress has been made toward correcting the problems that necessitated the child’s placement in out-of-home care;

(vi) Whether the parents have visited the child and any reasons why visitation has not occurred or has been infrequent;

((vii) Whether the agency is satisfied with the cooperation given to it by the parents:

(viii) Whether additional services are needed to facilitate the return of the child to the child’s parents; if so, the court shall order that reasonable services be offered; and

((ix) When return of the child can be expected)) (viii) The projected date by which the child will be returned home or other permanent plan of care will be implemented.

(c) The court at the review hearing may order that a petition seeking termination of the parent and child relationship be filed.

Sec. 18. Section 3, chapter 194, Laws of 1988 and RCW 13.34.145 are each amended to read as follows:

(A dependency may only be maintained for a maximum period of two years, at which time the court shall:

(1) In all cases where a child has been placed in substitute care for at least fifteen months, a permanency planning hearing shall be held before the court no later than eighteen months following commencement of the placement episode.

(2) At the permanency planning hearing, the court shall enter findings as required by RCW 13.34.130(4). In addition the court shall: (a) Approve a permanent plan of care which can include one of the following: Adoption, guardianship, or placement of the child in the home of the child’s parent: (a) require filing of a petition for termination of parental rights; or ((a)) (g) dismiss the dependency, unless the court finds, based on clear, cogent, and convincing evidence, that it is in the best interest of the child to continue the dependency beyond two years, based on a permanent plan of care. Extensions may only be granted in increments of ((six)) twelve months or less ((unless a juvenile court guardianship is in effect)).

Sec. 19. Section 4, chapter 183, Laws of 1985 and RCW 26.44.115 are each amended to read as follows:

If a child is taken into custody by child protective services pursuant to a court order issued under RCW 13.34.050, the child protective services worker shall take reasonable steps to advise the parents immediately, regardless of the time of day, that the child has been taken into custody, the reasons why the child was taken into custody, and general information about the child's placement. Notice of the citizen review board process under chapter 13—RCW (sections 1 through 15 of this act) and the parents' rights under that process shall be provided to the parents within seventy-two hours after the child is removed from the home. Notice may be given by any means reasonably certain of notifying the parents, including but not limited to, written, telephonic, or in-person oral notification. If the initial notification is provided by a means other than writing, the information shall also be provided to the parent in writing as soon thereafter as possible.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. If specific funding for the purposes of this act, referencing this act by bill number, is not provided by June 30, 1989, in the omnibus appropriations act, this act shall be null and void.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. Sections 1 through 15 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 13 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 23. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect July 1, 1989. "Sec. 1. Section 10, chapter 234, Laws of 1986 and RCW 35.02.078 are each amended to read as follows:

An election shall be held in the area proposed to be incorporated to determine whether the proposed city or town shall be incorporated ((if the boundary review board approves or modifies and approves the proposal; or)) if the county legislative authority does not disapprove the proposal as provided in RCW 35.02.070. Voters at this election shall determine if the area is to be incorporated.

The initial election on the question of incorporation shall be held at the next special election date specified in RCW 29.13.020 that occurs sixty or more days after the final public hearing by the county legislative authority or authorities, or ((the approval or modification and approval)) by the boundary review board or boards. The county legislative authority or authorities shall call for this election and, if the incorporation is approved, shall call for other elections to elect the elected officials as provided in this section. If the vote in favor of the incorporation receives forty percent or less of the total vote on the question of incorporation, no new election on the question of incorporation for the area or any portion of the area proposed to be incorporated may be held for a period of three years from the date of the election in which the incorporation failed.

If the incorporation is authorized as provided by RCW 35.02.120, separate elections shall be held to nominate and elect persons to fill the various elective offices prescribed by law for the population and type of city or town, and to which it will belong. The primary election to nominate candidates for these elective positions shall be held at the next special election date, as specified in RCW 29.13.020, that occurs sixty or more days after the election on the question of incorporation. The election to fill these elective positions shall be held at the next special election date, as specified in RCW 29.13.020, that occurs thirty or more days after certification of the results of the primary election.

Sec. 2. Section 15, chapter 189, Laws of 1967 as last amended by section 7, chapter 477. Laws of 1987 and RCW 36.93.150 are each amended to read as follows:

The board, upon review of any proposed action, shall take such of the following actions as it deems necessary to best carry out the intent of this chapter:

(1) Approval of the proposal as submitted;
(2) Subject to RCW 35.02.170, modification of the proposal by adjusting boundaries to add or delete territory: PROVIDED, That any proposal for annexation by the board shall be subject to RCW 35.21.010 and shall not add additional territory, the amount of which is greater than that included in the original proposal: PROVIDED FURTHER, That such modifications shall not interfere with the authority of a city, town, or special purpose district to require or not require preannexation agreements, covenants, or petitions: AND PROVIDED FURTHER, That a board shall not modify a proposed incorporation of a city by removing territory from the proposal, or adding territory to the proposal, that constitutes ten percent or more of the total area included within the proposal before the board;

(3) Determination of a division of assets and liabilities between two or more governmental units where relevant;
(4) Determination whether, or the extent to which, functions of a special purpose district are to be assumed by an incorporated city or town, metropolitan municipal corporation, or another existing special purpose district; or

(5) Disapproval of the proposal except that the board shall not have jurisdiction: (a) To disapprove the dissolution or disincorporation of a special purpose district which is not providing services but shall have jurisdiction over the determination of a division of the assets and liabilities of a dissolved or disincorporated special purpose district: PROVIDED, THAT A BOARD SHALL NOT HAVE JURISDICTION: (b) over the division of assets and liabilities of a special purpose district that is dissolved or disincorporated pursuant to chapter 36.96 RCW; nor (c) disapprove the incorporation of a city or disincorporation of a city or town.

Unless the board shall disapprove a proposal, it shall be presented under the appropriate statute for approval of a public body and, if required, a vote of the people. A proposal that has been modified shall be presented under the appropriate statute for approval of a public body and if required, a vote of the people. If a proposal, other than that for a city, town, or special purpose district annexation, after modification does not contain enough signatures of persons within the modified area, as are required by law, then the initiating party, parties or governmental unit has thirty days after the modification decision to secure enough signatures to satisfy the legal requirement. If the signatures cannot be secured then the proposal may be submitted to a vote of the people, as required by law.

The addition or deletion of property by the board shall not invalidate a petition which had previously satisfied the sufficiency of signature provisions of RCW 35.13.130 or 35A.14.120. When the board, after due proceedings held, disapproves a proposed action other than an incorporation or disincorporation of a city or town, such proposed action shall be unavailable, the proposing agency shall be without power to initiate the same or substantially the same as determined by the board, and any succeeding acts intended to or tending to effectuate that action shall be void, but such action may be reinitiated after a period of twelve months from date of disapproval and shall again be subject to the same consideration.

The board shall not modify or deny a proposed action unless there is evidence on the record to support a conclusion that the action is inconsistent with one or more of the objectives under RCW 36.93.180. Every such determination to modify or deny a proposed action shall be made in writing pursuant to a motion, and shall be supported by appropriate written findings and conclusions, based on the record. A document describing an action, finding, or conclusion made by a boundary review board may be signed by the chairman or vice-chairman at or out of a public meeting.

Sec. 3. Section 10, chapter 189, Laws of 1967 as last amended by section 3, chapter 477. Laws of 1987 and RCW 36.93.100 are each amended to read as follows:

The board shall review and approve, disapprove, or modify any of the actions set forth in RCW 36.93.090 when any of the following shall occur within forty-five days of the filing of a notice of intention:
(1) Three members of a five-member boundary review board or five members of a boundary review board in a class AA county files a request for review: PROVIDED, that the members of the boundary review board shall not be authorized to file a request for review of the following actions:

(a) The incorporation or change in the boundary of any city, town, or special purpose district;

(b) The extension of permanent water service outside of its existing corporate boundaries by a city, town, or special purpose district where such extension is through the installation of water mains of six inches or less in diameter; or

(c) The extension of permanent sewer service outside of its existing corporate boundaries by a city, town, or special purpose district where such extension is through the installation of sewer mains of eight inches or less in diameter;

This objective shall apply only to cities with a population of 400,000 or more which initiates a resolution for annexation proceedings).)

Sec. 7. Section 2, chapter 220, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. as amended by section 25, chapter 234, Laws of 1986 and RCW 35.02.170 are each amended to read as follows:

(((Centerlines of public streets, roads or highways shall not be used to define any part of a boundary of a city or town in an incorporation or annexation proceeding.)) The right of way line of any public street, road or highway, or any segment thereof, may be used to define a part of a corporate boundary in an incorporation (or annexation) proceeding. The boundaries of a newly incorporated city or town shall not include a portion of the right of way of any public street, road or highway except where the boundary runs from one edge of the right of way to the other edge of the right of way.)

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. A new section is added to chapter 35.13 RCW to read as follows:

The boundaries of a city or town arising from an annexation of territory shall not include a portion of the right of way of any public street, road, or highway except where the boundary runs from one edge of the right of way to the other edge of the right of way. However, the right of way line of any public street, road, or highway, or any segment thereof, may be used to define a part of a corporate boundary in an annexation proceeding.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. A new section is added to chapter 35A.14 RCW to read as follows:

The boundaries of a code city arising from an annexation of territory shall not include a portion of the right of way of any public street, road, or highway except where the boundary runs from one edge of the right of way to the other edge of the right of way. However, the right of way line of any public street, road, or highway, or any segment thereof, may be used to define a part of a corporate boundary in an annexation proceeding.

Sec. 10. Section 17, chapter 220, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 35.21.790 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The governing bodies of a county and any city or town located therein may by agreement revise any part of the corporate boundary of the city or town which coincides with the centerline, edge, or any portion of a public street, road or highway right of way by substituting therefor a right of way line of the same public street, road or highway so as fully to include or fully to exclude that segment of the public street, road or highway from the corporate limits of the city or town.

(2) The revision of a corporate boundary as authorized by this section shall become effective when approved by ordinance of the city or town council or commission and by ordinance or resolution of the (board of county commissioners or county council) legislative authority. Such a boundary revision is not subject to potential review by a boundary review board.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. A new section is added to chapter 35.13 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The governing bodies of a county and any code city (or town) located therein may by agreement revise any part of the corporate boundary of the city (or town) which coincides with the centerline, edge, or any portion of a public street, road or highway right of way by substituting therefor a right of way line of the same public street, road or highway so as fully to include or fully to exclude that segment of the public street, road or highway from the corporate limits of the city (or town).

(2) The revision of a corporate boundary as authorized by this section shall become effective when approved by ordinance of the city (or town) council (or commission) and by ordinance or resolution of the (board of county commissioners or) county (council) legislative authority. Such a boundary revision is not subject to potential review by a boundary review board.
The purpose of sections 12 through 15 of this act is to establish a process for the adjustment of existing or proposed city boundary lines to avoid a situation where a common boundary line is or would be located within a right of way of a public street, road, or highway, or a situation where two cities are separated or would be separated by only the right of way of a public street, road, or highway, other than situations where a boundary line runs from one edge of the right of way to the other edge of the right of way.

As used in sections 12 through 15 of this act, "city" includes every city or town in the state, including a code city operating under Title 35A RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. A new section is added to chapter 35.13 RCW to read as follows:

(1) This section provides a method to adjust the boundary lines between two cities where the two cities share a common boundary within a right of way of a public street, road, or highway, or the two cities have a portion of their boundaries separated only by all or part of the right of way of a public street, road, or highway. However, this section does not apply to situations where a boundary line runs from one edge of the right of way to the other edge of the right of way.

(2) The councils of any two cities in a situation described in subsection (1) of this section may enter into an agreement to alter those portions of their boundaries that are necessary to eliminate this situation and create a partial common boundary on either edge of the right of way of the public street, road, or highway. An agreement made under this section shall include only boundary line adjustments between the two cities that are necessary to eliminate the situation described in subsection (1) of this section.

A boundary line adjustment under this section is not subject to potential review by a boundary review board.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. A new section is added to chapter 35.13 RCW to read as follows:

The councils of any two cities that will be in a situation described in section 13(1) of this act as the result of a proposed annexation by one of the cities may enter into an agreement to adjust those portions of the annexation proposal and the boundaries of the city that is not proposing the annexation. Such an agreement shall not be effective unless the annexation is made.

The annexation proposal shall proceed if such an agreement were not made, but any resulting boundaries between the two cities that meet the descriptions of section 13(1) of this act shall be adjusted by agreement between the two cities within one hundred eighty days of the effective date of the annexation, or the county legislative authority of the county within which the right of way is located shall adjust the boundaries within a sixty-day period immediately following the one hundred eightieth day.

An agreement or adjustment made by a county under this section shall include only boundary line adjustments between the two cities that are necessary to eliminate the situation described in section 13(1) of this act.

A boundary line adjustment under this section is not subject to potential review by a boundary review board.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. A new section is added to chapter 35.13 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The purpose of this section is to avoid situations arising where the boundaries of an existing city and a newly incorporated city would create a situation described in section 13(1) of this act.

(2) A boundary review board that reviews the boundaries of a proposed incorporation may enter into an agreement with the council of a city, that would be in a situation described in subsection (1) of this section as the result of a proposed incorporation of a city, to adjust the boundary line of the city and those of the city proposed to be incorporated to avoid this situation described in subsection (1) of this section if the incorporation were to be approved by the voters. Such an agreement shall not be effective unless the incorporation occurs.

The incorporation proposal shall proceed if such an agreement were not made, but any resulting boundaries between the two cities that meet a situation described in section 13(1) of this act shall be adjusted by agreement between the two cities within one hundred eighty days of the official date of the incorporation, or the county legislative authority of the county within which the right of way is located shall adjust the boundaries within a sixty-day period immediately following the one hundred eightieth day.

An agreement or adjustment made by a county under this section shall include only boundary line adjustments between the two cities that are necessary to eliminate the situation described in section 13(1) of this act.

A boundary line adjustment under this section is not subject to potential review by a boundary review board.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. A new section is added to chapter 36.93 RCW to read as follows:

Where part of a single parcel of land is located within the boundaries of one city, and the remainder of the parcel is located within the boundaries of a second city that is located immediately adjacent to the first city, the boundaries of the two cities may be adjusted so that all of the parcel is located within either of the cities, if the adjustment was requested in a petition signed by the property owner and is approved by both cities. Approval by a city may be through either resolution of its city council, or in writing by an official or employee of the city who has been designated by ordinance of the city to make such approvals. Such an adjustment is not subject to potential review by the boundary review board of the county in which the parcel is located.

((Appropriations are required to permit expenditures and payment of obligations from this account, and the condition of the account and its administration shall be reported biennially to the legislature by the director.)) The permanent maintenance fund shall be comprised of a site closure account and a permanent surveillance and maintenance account. The site closure account shall be exclusively available to reimburse, to the extent that moneys are available in the account, the site operator for its costs plus a reasonable profit as agreed by the operator and the state, or to reimburse the state licensing agency and any agencies under contract to the state licensing agency for their costs in final closure and decommissioning of the Hanford low-level radioactive waste disposal facility. If a balance remains in the account after satisfactory performance of closure and decommissioning, this balance shall be transferred to the permanent surveillance and maintenance account. The permanent surveillance and maintenance account shall be used exclusively by the state to meet post-closure surveillance and maintenance costs, or for otherwise satisfying surveillance and maintenance obligations. Appropriations are required to permit expenditures and payment of obligations from the site closure account and the permanent surveillance and maintenance account. All moneys currently administered by the department of ecology for closure of the Hanford low-level radioactive waste disposal facility shall be transferred to the site closure account within the permanent maintenance fund. All future moneys contributed to the permanent maintenance fund shall be directed to the site closure account until December 31, 1992. Thereafter receipts shall be directed to the permanent maintenance fund as specified by the department except that fees for waste management shall no longer be collected if the closure account balance does not reach ten million dollars before December 31, 1992. If the closure account balance reaches ten million dollars before December 31, 1992, the state, on or about that date, shall adjust the waste management fee to a level predicted to bring the site closure account balance to ten million dollars by December 31, 1995. The condition of the fund and its administration shall be reported biennially to the legislature by the director. Moneys in the permanent maintenance ((account)) fund shall be invested by the state investment board in the same manner as other state moneys. Any interest accruing as a result of investment shall accrue to the permanent maintenance ((account)) fund. Additional moneys specifically appropriated by the legislature or received from any public or private source may be placed in the permanent maintenance ((account. The permanent maintenance account shall be used exclusively for surveillance and maintenance costs, or for otherwise satisfying surveillance and maintenance obligations)) fund:

(2) To institute a user permit system and issue site use permits, consistent with regulatory practices, for generators, packagers, or brokers using the Hanford low-level radioactive waste disposal facility. The costs of administering the user permit system shall be borne by the applicants for site use permits. The site use permit fee shall be set at a level that is sufficient to fund completely the executive and legislative participation in activities related to the Northwest Interstate Compact on Low-Level Radioactive Waste Management; and

(3) To make application for or otherwise pursue any federal funds to which the state may be eligible, through the federal resource conservation and recovery act or any other federal programs, for the management, treatment or disposal, and any remedial actions, of wastes that are both radioactive and hazardous at all Hanford low-level radioactive waste disposal facilities.

A person (((who engages))) shall not engage in or offer to engage in the activities of a registered tow truck operator (((shall not do so))) without (((first obtaining))) a current registration certificate from the department of licensing authorizing him to engage in such activities. Any

Sec. 3. Section 3, chapter 377, Laws of 1985 as amended by section 2, chapter 311, Laws of 1987 and RCW 46.55.030 are each amended to read as follows:

1. Application for licensing as a registered tow truck operator shall be made on forms furnished by the department, shall be accompanied by an inspection certification from the Washington state patrol, shall be signed by the applicant or (the chief of police or the applicant's principal place of business located in a city or town having a population over five thousand persons or, in all other instances, from a member of the Washington state patrol) certifying that:

(a) The applicant has an established place of business and that mail is received at the address shown on the application;

(b) The address of any storage locations where vehicles may be stored is correctly stated on the application;

(c) The place of business has adequate and secure storage facilities, as defined in this chapter and the rules of the department, where vehicles and their contents can be properly stored and protected.

2. Before issuing a registration certificate to an applicant the department shall require the applicant to file with the department a surety bond in the amount of five thousand dollars running to the state and executed by a surety company authorized to do business in this state. The bond shall be approved as to form by the attorney general and conditioned that the operator shall conduct his business in conformity with the provisions of this chapter pertaining to abandoned or unauthorized vehicles, and to compensate any person, company, or the state for failure to comply with this chapter or the rules adopted hereunder, or for fraud, negligence, or misrepresentation in the handling of these vehicles. Any person injured by the tow truck operator's failure to fully perform duties imposed by this chapter and the rules adopted hereunder, or an ordinance or resolution adopted by a city, town, or county is entitled to recover actual damages, including reasonable attorney's fees against the surety and the tow truck operator. Successive recoveries against the bond shall be permitted, but the aggregate liability of the surety to all persons shall not exceed the amount of the bond. As a condition of authority to do business, the operator shall keep the bond in full force and effect. Failure to maintain the penalty value of the bond or cancellation of the bond by the surety automatically cancels the operator's registration.

3. Before the department may issue a registration certificate to an applicant, the applicant shall provide proof of minimum insurance requirements of:

(a) One hundred thousand dollars for liability for bodily injury or property damage per occurrence; and

(b) Fifty thousand dollars of legal liability per occurrence, to protect against vehicle damage, including but not limited to fire and theft, from the time a vehicle comes into the custody of an operator until it is redeemed or sold.

Cancellation of or failure to maintain the insurance required by (a) and (b) of this subsection automatically cancels the operator's registration.

4. The fee for each original registration and annual renewal is one hundred dollars per company, plus fifty dollars per truck. The department shall forward the registration fee to the state treasurer for deposit in the motor vehicle fund.

5. The applicant must submit an inspection certificate from the state patrol before the department may issue or renew an operator's registration certificate or tow truck permits.

6. Upon approval of the application, the department shall issue a registration certificate to the registered operator to be displayed prominently at the operator's place of business.
Sec. 4. Section 4, chapter 377. Laws of 1985 and RCW 46.55.040 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A registered operator shall apply for and keep current a tow truck permit for each tow truck of which the operator is the registered owner. Application for a tow truck permit shall be accompanied by a report from the Washington state patrol covering a physical inspection of each tow truck (to be) capable of being used by the applicant.

(2) Upon receipt of the fee provided in RCW 46.55.030(4) and a satisfactory inspection report from the state patrol, the department shall issue each tow truck an annual tow truck permit or decal. The class of the tow truck, determined according to RCW 46.55.050, shall be stamped on the permit or decal. The permit or decal shall be displayed on the passenger side of the truck's front windshield.

(3) A tow truck number from the department shall be affixed in a permanent manner to each tow truck.

(4) The Washington state patrol shall conduct annual inspections of tow truck operators' equipment and facilities during the operators' normal business hours. Unscheduled inspections may be conducted without notice at the operator's place of business by an inspector to determine the fitness of a tow truck or facilities. At the time of the inspection, the operator shall provide a paper copy of the master log referred to in RCW 46.55.080.

ESB 5715 Prime Sponsor, Senator Newhouse: Regulating the business of immigration consulting. Reported by Committee on Commerce & Labor

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds and declares that assisting persons regarding immigration matters substantially affects the public interest. The practices of immigration assistants have a significant impact on the residents of the state of Washington. It is the intent of the legislature to establish rules of practice and conduct for immigration assistants to promote honesty and fair dealing with residents and to preserve public confidence.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) 'Immigration assistant' means every person who, for compensation or the expectation of compensation, gives nonlegal assistance on an immigration matter. That assistance is limited to:

(a) Transcribing responses to a government agency form selected by the customer which is related to an immigration matter, but does not include advising a person as to his or her answers on those forms;

(b) Translating a person's answer to questions posed on those forms;

(c) Securing for a person supporting documents currently in existence, such as birth and marriage certificates, which may be needed to submit with those forms;

(d) Making referrals to attorneys who could undertake legal representation for a person in an immigration matter.

(2) 'Immigration matter' means any proceeding, filing, or action affecting the nonimmigrant, immigrant, or citizenship status of any person which arises under immigration and naturalization law, executive order, or presidential proclamation, or which arises under action of the United States immigration and naturalization service, the United States department of labor, or the United States department of state.

(3) 'Compensation' means money, property, or anything else of value.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The following persons are exempt from all provisions of this chapter:

(1) An attorney licensed to practice law in this state where such attorney renders services in the course of his or her practice as an attorney and a legal intern, as described by court rule, or paralegal employed by and under the direct supervision of such an attorney;

(2) A nonprofit corporation or clinic affiliated with a law school in this state that provides immigration consulting services to clients without charge beyond a request for reimbursement of the corporation's or clinic's reasonable costs relating to providing immigration services to that client. 'Reasonable costs' include, but are not limited to, the costs of photocopying, telephone calls, document requests, and the filing fees for immigration forms.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. Any person who wishes to engage in the business of an immigration assistant must register with the secretary of state's office and provide his or her name, business address, home address, and business and home telephone numbers.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. Immigration assistants who have registered must inform the secretary of state of any changes in their name, addresses, or telephone numbers within thirty days of the change.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. Immigration assistants shall offer or provide only nonlegal assistance in an immigration matter as defined in section 2 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. (1) Before providing any assistance, an immigration assistant who has agreed to provide immigration assistance to a customer shall provide the customer with a written contract that includes the following provisions:

(a) An explanation of the services to be performed;

(b) Identification of all compensation and costs to be charged to the customer for the services to be performed:

(c) A statement that documents submitted in support of an application for nonimmigrant, immigrant, or naturalization status may not be retained by the assistant for any purpose, including payment of compensation or costs:

(d) A statement that the immigration assistant is not an attorney and may not perform legal services. This statement shall be on the face of the contract in ten-point bold type print; and

(e) A statement that the customer has seventy-two hours to rescind the contract. This statement shall be conspicuously set forth in the contract.

(2) The written contract shall be stated in both English and in the language of the customer.
A copy of the written contract shall be provided to the customer by the immigration assistant upon execution of the contract.

A customer has the right to rescind a contract within seventy-two hours of the signing of the contract.

Any documents identified in subsection (1)(c) of this section shall be returned upon demand of the customer.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. In the course of dealing with customers or prospective customers, an immigration assistant shall not:

1. Make any statement that the immigration assistant can or will obtain special favors from or has special influence with the United States immigration and naturalization service;

2. Retain any compensation for services not performed;

3. Refuse to return documents supplied by, prepared by, or paid for by the customer upon the request of the customer. These documents must be returned upon request even if there is a fee dispute between the immigration assistant and the customer;

4. Represent or advertise, in connection with the provision of immigration assistance, other titles or credentials, including but not limited to 'notary public' or 'immigration consultant' that could cause a customer to believe that the immigration assistant possesses special professional skills;

5. Communicate in any manner, oral or written, that registration under this chapter is an indicator of special skill or expertise or that it allows the person to provide advice on an immigration matter;

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The ability of individuals to obtain information relating to their residential mortgage loans is vital to the financial needs of mortgagors in Washington. The public interest is adversely affected when a residential mortgage loan’s servicing is sold or transferred with insufficient notification given to the mortgagor. In addition, mortgagors may experience difficulty in obtaining various mortgage loan information including information concerning mortgage loan prepayments, reserve accounts, and adjustments to monthly payments. The legislature finds that the legitimate interests of mortgagors and mortgage loan servicers are served if the disclosure of the potential sale of loan servicing is made to the mortgagor. Reasonable notification of a residential mortgage loan servicing’s sale is made, and continued mortgagor access to information regarding the mortgage loan is promoted.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. Unless the context requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) 'Lender' shall mean any person in the business of making a loan.
(2) 'Loan' shall mean any loan used to finance the acquisition of a one-to-four family owner-occupied residence located in this state.
(3) 'Purchasing servicing agent' is any person who purchases, receives through transfer or assignment, or otherwise acquires the responsibility of the servicing for a loan.
(4) 'Person' shall include an individual, firm, association, partnership, business, trust, corporation, or any other legal entity whether resident or nonresident.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. (1) If the servicing for the loan is subject to sale, transfer, or assignment, a lender shall so disclose in writing at the time of or prior to loan closing and shall also disclose in the same writing that when such servicing is sold, transferred, or assigned, the purchasing servicing agent is required to provide notification to the mortgagor.

(2) If the servicing of a loan is sold, assigned, transferred, or otherwise acquired by another person, the purchasing servicing agent shall:

(a)(i) Issue corrected coupon or payment books, if used and necessary;
(ii) Provide notification to the mortgagor at least thirty days prior to the due date of the first payment to the purchasing servicing agent, of the name, address, and telephone number of the division from whom the mortgagor can receive information regarding the servicing of the loan; and

(iii) Inform the mortgagor of changes made regarding the servicing requirements including, but not limited to, interest rate, monthly payment amount, and escrow balance; and
(b) Respond within fifteen business days upon receipt of a written request for information from a mortgagor. A written response must include the telephone number of the company division who can assist the mortgagor.

(3) Any person injured by a violation of this chapter may bring an action for actual damages and reasonable attorneys’ fees and costs incurred in bringing the action.

SSB 5886 Prime Sponsor, Committee on Health Care & Corrections: Modifying confidentiality standards for information regarding sexually transmitted diseases. Reported by Committee on Health Care

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. Section 904, chapter 206, Laws of 1988 and RCW 70.24.105 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) No person may disclose or be compelled to disclose the identity of any person who has investigated, considered, or requested a test or treatment for a sexually transmitted disease, except as authorized by this chapter.

(2) No person may disclose or be compelled to disclose the identity of any person upon whom (a test for a sexually transmitted disease is performed, or the results of such a test or any information relating to diagnosis of or treatment for a sexually transmitted disease in a manner which permits identification of the subject of the test, diagnosis, or treatment except to the following persons) an HIV antibody test is performed, or the results of such a test, nor may the result of a test for any other sexually transmitted disease when it is positive be disclosed. This protection against disclosure of test subject, diagnosis, or treatment also applies to any information relating to diagnosis of or treatment for HIV infection and for any other confirmed sexually transmitted disease. The following persons, however, may receive such information:

(a) The subject of the test or the subject's legal representative for health care decisions in accordance with RCW 7.70.065, with the exception of such a representative of a minor child over fourteen years of age and otherwise competent;

(b) Any person who secures a specific release of test results or information relating to HIV or confirmed diagnosis of or treatment for any other sexually transmitted disease executed by the subject (of the test) or the subject's legal representative for health care decisions in accordance with RCW 7.70.065, with the exception of such a representative of a minor child over fourteen years of age and otherwise competent;

(c) The state public health officer, a local public health officer, or the centers for disease control of the United States public health service in accordance with reporting requirements for a diagnosed case of a sexually transmitted disease;

(d) A health facility or health care provider that procures, processes, distributes, or uses: (i) A human body part, tissue, or blood from a deceased person with respect to medical information regarding that person; (ii) semen, including that provided prior to March 23, 1988, for the purpose of artificial insemination; or (iii) blood specimens;

(e) Any state or local public health officer conducting an investigation pursuant to RCW 70.24.024, provided that such record was obtained by means of court ordered HIV testing pursuant to RCW 70.24.340 or 70.24.024;

(f) A person allowed access to the record by a court order granted after application showing good cause therefor. In assessing good cause, the court shall weigh the public interest and the need for disclosure against the injury to the patient, to the physician-patient relationship, and to the treatment services. Upon the granting of the order, the court, in determining the extent to which any disclosure of all or any part of the record of any such test is necessary, shall impose appropriate safeguards against unauthorized disclosure. An order authorizing disclosure shall: (i) Limit disclosure to those parts of the patient's record deemed essential to fulfill the objective for which the order was granted; (ii) limit disclosure to those persons whose need for information is the basis for the order; and (iii) include any other appropriate measures to keep disclosure to a minimum for the protection of the patient, the physician-patient relationship, and the treatment services, including but not limited to the written statement set forth in subsection (5) of this section:

(g) Persons who, because of their behavioral interaction with the infected individual, have been placed at risk for acquisition of a sexually transmitted disease, as provided in RCW 70.24.022, if the health officer or authorized representative believes that the exposed person was unaware that a risk of disease exposure existed and that the disclosure of the identity of the infected person is necessary;

(h) A law enforcement officer, fire fighter, health care provider, health care facility staff person, or other persons as defined by the board in rule pursuant to RCW 70.24.340(4), who has requested a test of a person whose bodily fluids he or she has been substantially exposed to, pursuant to RCW 70.24.340(4), if a state or local public health officer performs the test; ((end))

(i) Claims management personnel employed by or associated with an insurer, health care service contractor, health maintenance organization, self-funded health plan, state-administered health care claims payer, or any other payer of health care claims where such disclosure is to be used solely for the prompt and accurate evaluation and payment of medical or related claims. Information released under this subsection shall be confidential and shall not be released or available to persons who are not involved in handling or determining medical claims payment; and

(j) A department of social and health services worker, a child placing agency worker, or a guardian ad litem who is responsible for making or reviewing placement or case-planning decisions or recommendations to the court regarding a child, who is less than fourteen years of age, has a sexually transmitted disease, and is in the custody of the department of social and health services or a licensed child placing agency; this information may also be received by a person responsible for providing residential care for such a child when the department of social and health services or a licensed child placing agency determines that it is necessary for the provision of child care services.

(3) No person to whom the results of a test for a sexually transmitted disease have been disclosed pursuant to subsection (2) of this section may disclose the test results to another person except as authorized by that subsection.

(4) The release of sexually transmitted disease information regarding an offender, except as provided in subsection (2)(e) of this section, shall be governed as follows:

(a) The sexually transmitted disease status of a department of corrections offender shall be made available by department of corrections health care providers to a department of corrections superintendent or administrator as necessary for disease prevention or control and for protection of the safety and security of the staff, offenders, and the public. The information may be submitted to transporting officers and receiving facilities, including facilities that are not under the department of correction’s jurisdiction.

(b) The sexually transmitted disease status of a person detained in a jail shall be made available by the local public health officer to a jail administrator as necessary for disease prevention or control and for protection of the safety and security of the staff, offenders, and the public. The information may be submitted to transporting officers and receiving facilities.

(c) Information regarding a department of corrections offender’s sexually transmitted disease status is confidential and may be disclosed by a correctional superintendent or administrator or local jail administrator only as necessary for disease prevention or control and for protection of the safety and security of the staff, offenders, and the public. Unauthorized disclosure of this information to any person may result in disciplinary action, in addition to any other penalties as may be prescribed by law.

(5) Whenever disclosure is made pursuant to this section, except for subsections (2)(a) and (6) of this section, it shall be accompanied by a statement in writing which includes the following or substantially similar language: ‘This information has been disclosed to you from records whose confidentiality is protected by state law. State law prohibits you from making any further disclosure of it without the specific written consent of the person to whom it pertains, or as otherwise permitted by state law. A general authorization for the release of medical or other information is NOT sufficient for this purpose.’ An oral disclosure shall be accompanied or followed by such a notice within ten days.

(6) The requirements of this section shall not apply to the customary methods utilized for the exchange of medical information among health care providers in order to provide health care services to the patient, nor shall they apply within health care facilities where there is a need for access to confidential medical information to fulfill professional duties."

SSB 5948 Prime Sponsor, Committee on Energy & Utilities: Extending the period for conservation investments. Reported by Committee on Housing

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that energy conservation measures through weatherization are less costly than the production of conventional energy resources; that weatherization measures have an impact on the affordability of housing through lowered operating costs; that federal resources for low-income weatherization assistance are declining; that state incentives to encourage energy conservation are not being fully used by all public or private utility companies; and that strategies and methods to increase low-income weatherization activities by all utility companies are needed.

The legislature further finds that low-income weatherization is an important part of the state’s overall energy strategy that includes cogeneration, renewable resources, and energy conservation; that an examination of the state’s energy incentives requires participation from the utility companies, consumer interests, and the building industry; that the best approach to encourage full participation in low-income weatherization measures by utility companies is to have all parties review existing financial incentives and methods; and that by forming a task force the problems will be identified and solutions will be developed.

Sec. 2. Section 2, chapter 149, Laws of 1980 and RCW 80.28.025 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) In establishing rates for each gas and electric company regulated by this chapter, the commission shall adopt policies to encourage meeting or reducing energy demand through cogeneration as defined in RCW 82.35.020, measures which improve the efficiency of energy end use((c)) and new projects which produce or generate energy from renewable resources, such as solar energy, wind energy, hydroelectric energy, geothermal energy, wood, wood waste, ((municipal waste;)) agricultural products and wastes, and end-use waste heat. ((These policies shall include but are not limited to)) Payments made under section 4, chapter 49, Laws of 1980 and RCW 80.28.025 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) In establishing rates for each gas and electric company regulated by this chapter, the commission shall adopt policies to encourage meeting or reducing energy demand through cogeneration as defined in RCW 82.35.020, measures which improve the efficiency of energy end use((c)) and new projects which produce or generate energy from renewable resources, such as solar energy, wind energy, hydroelectric energy, geothermal energy, wood, wood waste, ((municipal waste;)) agricultural products and wastes, and end-use waste heat. ((These policies shall include but are not limited to)) Payments made under section 4, chapter 49, Laws of 1980 and RCW 80.28.025 are each amended to read as follows:
The commission shall adopt a policy allowing a return on investment in measures to improve the efficiency of energy end use. These policies may include allowing a periodic rate adjustment for investments in end-use efficiency or allowing changes in price structures designed to provide additional net revenue.

Measures or projects encouraged under this section are those for which construction or installation is begun after June 12, 1980, and before January 1, 1996.

The commission shall forward information on the amounts targeted to low-income weatherization activities and number of persons served under this section to the department of community development.

Sec. 3. Section 3, chapter 149, Laws of 1980 and RCW 82.16.055 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) In computing tax under this chapter there shall be deducted from the gross income:

(a) An amount equal to the cost of production at the plant for consumption within the state of Washington of:

(i) Electrical energy produced or generated from cogeneration as defined in RCW 82.35-.020; and

(ii) Electrical energy or gas produced or generated from renewable energy resources such as solar energy, wind energy, hydroelectric energy, geothermal energy, wood, wood wastes, (municipal wastes); agricultural products and wastes, and end-use waste heat; and

(b) Those amounts expended to improve consumers' efficiency of energy end use or to otherwise reduce the use of electrical energy or gas by the consumer including payments made pursuant to section 4, chapter 82.16.055, Laws of 1989.

This section applies only to new facilities for the production or generation of energy from cogeneration or renewable energy resources or measures to improve the efficiency of energy end use on which construction or installation is begun after June 12, 1980, and before January 1, 1996.

Deductions under subsection (1)(a) of this section shall be allowed for a period not to exceed thirty years after the project is placed in operation.

Measures or projects encouraged under this section shall at the time they are placed in service be reasonably expected to save, produce, or generate energy at a total incremental system cost per unit of energy delivered to end use which is less than or equal to the incremental system cost per unit of energy delivered to end use from similarly available conventional energy resources which utilize nuclear energy or fossil fuels and which the gas or electric utility could acquire to meet energy demand in the same time period.

The department of revenue, after consultation with the utilities and transportation commission in the case of investor-owned utilities and the governing bodies of locally regulated utilities, shall determine the eligibility of individual projects and measures for deductions under this section.

As part of the utility company's filing for a deduction from gross income under this section, a detailed breakdown of the activities claimed as eligible deductions to improve the efficiency of energy end use or projects which produce or generate energy from renewable resources shall be submitted to the department of revenue. The department of revenue shall forward the information on the amounts targeted to low-income weatherization activities and number of persons served under this subsection to the department of community development.

(4) The task force shall meet at such times as it is called by the chair of the task force.

(5) Members of the task force shall receive no compensation from the state.

(6) Legislative members of the task force shall be reimbursed for travel expenses as provided in RCW 43.03.050 and 43.03.060.

2SSB 6051 Prime Sponsor, Committee on Ways & Means: Promoting employer involvement in the development of child care services and facilities. Reported by Committee on Trade & Economic Development

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that increasing the availability and affordability of quality child care will enhance the stability of the family and facilitate expanded economic prosperity in the state. The legislature finds that balancing work and family life is a critical concern for employers and employees. The dramatic increase in participation of women in the work force has resulted in a demand for affordable child care exceeding the supply. The future of the state's work force depends in part upon the availability of quality affordable child care. There are not enough child care services and facilities to meet the needs of working parents, the costs of care are often beyond the resources of working parents, and facilities are not located conveniently to work places and neighborhoods. The prospect for labor shortages resulting from the aging of the population and the importance of the quality of the work force to the competitiveness of Washington businesses make the availability of quality child care an important concern for the state's businesses.

The legislature further finds that a partnership between business and child care providers can help the market for child care adjust to the needs of businesses and working families and improve productivity, reduce absenteeism, improve recruitment, and improve morale among Washington's labor force. The legislature further finds that private and public partnerships and investments are necessary to increase the supply, affordability, and quality of child care in the state.

Sec. 2. Section 11, chapter 466, Laws of 1985 as amended by section 3, chapter 348, Laws of 1987 and RCW 43.31.085 are each amended to read as follows:

The business assistance center shall:

(1) Serve as the state's lead agency and advocate for the development and conservation of businesses.

(2) Coordinate the delivery of state programs to assist businesses.

(3) Provide comprehensive referral services to businesses requiring government assistance.

(4) Serve as the business ombudsman within state government and advise the governor and the legislature of the need for new legislation to improve the effectiveness of state programs to assist businesses.

(5) Aggressively promote business awareness of the state's business programs and distribute information on the services available to businesses.

(6) Develop, in concert with local economic development and business assistance organizations, coordinated processes that complement both state and local activities and services.

(7) The business assistance center shall work with other federal, state, and local agencies and organizations to ensure that business assistance services including small business, trade services, and distressed area programs are provided in a coordinated and cost-effective manner.

(8) In collaboration with the child care coordinating committee in the department of social and health services, prepare and disseminate information on child care options for employers and the existence of the program. As much as possible, and through interagency agreements where necessary, such information should be included in the routine communications to employers from (a) the department of revenue, (b) the department of labor and industries, (c) the department of community development, (d) the employment security department, (e) the
NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A child care facility fund is created. Money in the fund shall be used solely for the purpose of starting or improving a child care facility pursuant to sections 2 through 8 of this act. Money may be deposited from private and public sources into this fund.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. The child care facility fund committee is established within the business assistance center of the department of trade and economic development. The committee shall administer the child care facility fund, with review by the director of the department of trade and economic development.

(1) The committee shall have five members. The director of the department of trade and economic development shall appoint the members, who shall include:

(a) Two persons experienced in investment finance and having skills in providing capital to new businesses, in starting and operating businesses, and providing professional services to small or expanding businesses;

(b) One person representing a philanthropic organization with experience in evaluating funding requests;

(c) One child care services expert; and

(d) One early childhood development expert.

In making these appointments, the director shall give careful consideration to ensure that the various geographic regions of the state are represented and that members will be available for meetings and are committed to working cooperatively to address child care needs in Washington state.

(2) The committee shall elect officers from among its membership and shall adopt policies and procedures specifying the lengths of terms, methods for filling vacancies, and other matters necessary to the ongoing functioning of the committee.

(3) Committee members shall serve without compensation, but may request reimbursement for travel expenses as provided in RCW 43.03.050 and 43.03.060.

(4) Committee members shall not be liable to the state, to the child care facility fund, or to any other person as a result of their activities, whether ministerial or discretionary, as members except for willful dishonesty or intentional violation of the law. The department of trade and economic development may purchase liability insurance for members and may indemnify these persons against the claims of others.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. The child care facility fund committee is authorized to solicit applications for and award grants and loans from the child care facility fund to assist persons, businesses, or organizations to start a licensed child care facility, or to make capital improvements in an existing licensed child care facility. Grants and loans shall be awarded on a one-time only basis, shall not be awarded to cover operating expenses beyond the first three months of business, and no grant or loan shall exceed twenty-five thousand dollars.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. The child care facility fund committee is authorized, upon application, to use the child care facility fund to guarantee loans made to persons, businesses, or organizations to start a licensed child care facility, or to make capital improvements in an existing licensed child care facility.

(1) Loan guarantees shall be awarded on a one-time only basis, and shall not be awarded for loans to cover operating expenses beyond the first three months of business.

(2) The total aggregate amount of the loan guarantee awarded to any applicant may not exceed twenty-five thousand dollars and may not exceed eighty percent of the loan.

(3) The total aggregate amount of guarantee from the child care facility fund, with respect to the guaranteed portions of loans, may not exceed at any time an amount equal to five times the balance in the child care facility fund.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. The child care facility fund committee shall award loan guarantees, loans or grants to those persons, businesses, or organizations meeting the minimum standards set forth in this chapter who will best serve the intent of the chapter to increase the availability of high quality, affordable child care in Washington state. The committee shall promulgate rules regarding the application for and disbursement of loan guarantees, loans, or grants from the fund, including loan terms and repayment procedures. At a minimum, such rules shall require an applicant to submit a plan which includes a detailed description of:

(1) The need for a new or improved child care facility in the area served by the applicant, including the needs of any special populations such as handicapped children, sick children, children requiring night or weekend care, or children whose costs of care are subsidized by government;
(2) Why financial assistance from the state is needed to start or improve the child care facility;

(3) How the guaranteed loan, loan, or grant will be used, and how such uses will meet the described need;

(4) The child care services to be available at the facility and the capacity of the applicant to provide those services; and

(5) The financial status of the applicant, including other resources available to the applicant which will ensure the continued viability of the facility and the availability of its described services.

Recipients shall annually for two years following the receipt of the loan guarantee, loan, or grant, submit to the child care facility fund committee a report on the facility and how it is meeting the child care needs for which it was intended.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. Where the child care facility fund committee makes a grant to a person, organization, or business, the grant shall be repaid to the child care facility fund if the child care facility using the grant to start or expand ceases to provide child care earlier than the following time periods from the date the grant is made: (1) Twelve months for a grant up to five thousand dollars; (2) twenty-four months for a grant over five thousand dollars up to ten thousand dollars; (3) thirty-six months for a grant over ten thousand dollars up to fifteen thousand dollars; (4) forty-eight months for a grant over fifteen thousand dollars up to twenty thousand dollars; and (5) sixty months for a grant over twenty thousand dollars up to twenty-five thousand dollars.

Sec. 9. Section 5, chapter 164, Laws of 1985 as last amended by section 4, chapter 461, Laws of 1987 and RCW 43.168.050 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The committee may only approve an application providing a loan for a project which the committee finds:

(a) Will result in the creation of employment opportunities or the maintenance of threatened employment;

(b) Has been approved by the director as conforming to federal rules and regulations governing the spending of federal community development block grant funds;

(c) Will be of public benefit and for a public purpose, and that the benefits, including increased or maintained employment, improved standard of living, and the employment of disadvantaged workers, will primarily accrue to residents of the area;

(d) Will probably be successful;

(e) Would probably not be completed without the loan because other capital or financing at feasible terms is unavailable or the return on investment is inadequate.

(2) The committee shall, subject to federal block grant criteria, give higher priority to economic development projects that contain provisions for child care.

(3) The committee may not approve an application if it fails to provide for adequate reporting or disclosure of financial data to the committee. The committee may require an annual or other periodic audit of the project books.

(4) The committee may require that the project be managed in whole or in part by a local development organization and may prescribe a management fee to be paid to such organization by the recipient of the loan or grant.

(5) Except as provided in (b) of this subsection, the committee shall not approve any application which would result in a loan or grant in excess of three hundred fifty thousand dollars.

(b) The committee may approve an application which results in a loan or grant of up to seven hundred thousand dollars if the application has been approved by the director.

(6) The committee shall fix the terms and rates pertaining to its loans.

(7) Should there be more demand for loans than funds available for lending, the committee shall provide loans for those projects which will lead to the greatest amount of employment or benefit to a community. In determining the 'greatest amount of employment or benefit' the committee shall also consider the employment which would be saved by its loan.

(8) The extent permitted under federal law the committee shall require applicants to provide for the transfer of all payments of principal and interest on loans to the Washington state development loan fund created under this chapter. Under circumstances where the federal law does not permit the committee to require such transfer, the committee shall give priority to applications where the applicants on their own volition make commitments to provide for the transfer.

(9) The committee shall not approve any application to finance or help finance a shopping mall.

(10) The committee shall make at least eighty percent of the appropriated funds available to projects located in distressed areas, and may make up to twenty percent available to projects located in areas not designated as distressed. The committee shall not make funds available to projects located in areas not designated as distressed if the fund's net worth is less than seven million one hundred thousand dollars.

(11) If an objection is raised to a project on the basis of unfair business competition, the committee shall evaluate the potential impact of a project on similar businesses located in the local market area. A grant may be denied by the committee if a project is not likely to result in a net increase in employment within a local market area.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. Sections 3 through 8 of this act are each added to chapter 43.31 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. If specific funding for the purposes of this act, referencing this act by bill number, is not provided by June 30, 1989, in the omnibus appropriations act, this act shall be null and void.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately.*

SB 6095
Reported by Committee on Higher Education

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:
Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that the benefits of higher education should be more widely available to the citizens of the state of Washington. The legislature also finds that a citizen's place of residence can restrict that citizen's access to educational opportunity at the upper division and graduate level.

Because most of the state-supported baccalaureate universities are located in areas removed from major metropolitan areas, the legislature finds that many of the state's citizens, especially those citizens residing in the central Puget Sound area, the Tri-Cities, Spokane, Vancouver, and Yakima, have insufficient and inequitable access to upper-division baccalaureate and graduate education.

This lack of sufficient educational opportunities in urban areas makes it difficult or impossible for place-bound individuals, who are unable to relocate, to complete a baccalaureate or graduate degree. It also exacerbates the difficulty financially needy students have in attending school, since many of those students need to work, and work is not always readily available in some communities where the baccalaureate institutions of higher education are located.

The lack of sufficient educational opportunities in metropolitan areas also affects the economy of the underserved communities. Businesses benefit from access to the research and teaching capabilities of institutions of higher education. The absence of these institutions from some of the state's major urban centers prevents beneficial interaction between businesses in these communities and the state's universities.

The Washington state master plan for higher education, adopted by the higher education coordinating board, recognizes the need to expand upper-division and graduate educational opportunities in the state's large urban centers. The board has also attempted to provide a means for helping to meet future educational demand through a system of branch campuses in the state's major urban areas.

The legislature endorses the assignment of responsibility to serve these urban centers that the board has made to various institutions of higher education. The legislature also endorses the creation of branch campuses for the University of Washington and Washington State University.

The legislature recognizes that, among their other responsibilities, the state's comprehensive community colleges share with the four-year universities and colleges the responsibility of providing the first two years of a baccalaureate education. It is the intent of the legislature that the four-year institutions and the community colleges work as cooperative partners to ensure the successful and efficient operation of the state's system of higher education. The legislature further intends that the four-year institutions work cooperatively with the community colleges to ensure that branch campuses are operated as models of a two plus two educational system.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 28B.80 RCW to read as follows:
It is the intent of the legislature that, at the same time additional capital or operating funds are approved for the purposes of sections 3 through 7 of this act, enrollment lids at existing baccalaureate institutions of higher education should be raised at the upper-division level insofar as doing so would increase participation rates in underserved areas.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The University of Washington is responsible for ensuring the expansion of upper-division and graduate educational programs in the central Puget Sound area under rules or guidelines adopted by the higher education coordinating board. The University of Washington shall meet that responsibility through the operation of at least two branch campuses. One branch campus shall be located in the Tacoma area. Another branch campus shall be located in the Bothell-woodinville area.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. Washington State University is responsible for providing upper-division and graduate level higher education programs to the citizens of the Tri-Cities area, under rules or guidelines adopted by the higher education coordinating board. Washington State University shall meet that responsibility through the operation of a branch campus in the Tri-Cities area.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. Washington State University is responsible for providing upper-division and graduate level higher education programs to the citizens of the southwest Washington area, under rules or guidelines adopted by the higher education coordinating board. Washington State University shall meet that responsibility through the operation of at least two branch campuses in the southwest Washington area.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. Washington State University and Eastern Washington University are responsible for providing upper-division and graduate level programs to the citizens of the Spokane area, under rules or guidelines adopted by the higher education coordinating board. Washington State University shall meet its responsibility through the operation of a branch campus in the Spokane area. Eastern Washington University shall meet its responsibility through the operation of co-located programs and facilities in Spokane.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. Central Washington University is responsible for providing upper-division and graduate level higher education programs to the citizens of the Yakima area, under rules or guidelines adopted by the higher education coordinating board.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. A new section is added to chapter 28B.80 RCW to read as follows:

In rules and guidelines adopted for purposes of this act, the higher education coordinating board shall ensure a collaborative partnership between the community colleges and the four-year institutions. The partnership shall be one in which the community colleges prepare students for transfer to the upper-division programs of the branch campuses.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. A new section is added to chapter 28B.80 RCW to read as follows:

Before approving any institutional request to acquire facilities in an area assigned in sections 3 through 7 of this act, the higher education coordinating board shall ensure that creative and cost-effective methods of serving the needs of each assigned area are considered, including but not limited to:

1. Exploring the possibility of time-sharing existing college or university facilities for instructional and administrative purposes;
2. Using rented facilities; and
3. Utilizing telecommunication technology.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. Authorization for the programs, increases, and facilities described in this act is subject to legislative appropriation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. Sections 3 through 7 and 10 of this act are each added to Title 28B RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. Section 13, chapter 72, Laws of 1983 1st ex. sess., section 1, chapter 408, Laws of 1985 and RCW 28B.30.510 are each repealed."

  "Sec. 1. Section 10, chapter 460, Laws of 1987 and RCW 26.09.191 are each amended to read as follows:
  (I) The permanent parenting plan shall not require mutual decision-making or designation of a dispute resolution process other than court action if it is found that a parent has engaged in any of the following conduct: (a) Willful abandonment that continues for an extended period of time or substantial refusal to perform parenting functions; (b) physical, sexual, or a pattern of emotional abuse of a child; or (c) a history of acts of domestic violence as
(2)(g) The parent's residential time with the child shall be limited if it is found that the parent has engaged in any of the following conduct: (a) Willful abandonment that continues for an extended period of time or substantial refusal to perform parenting functions; (b) physical, sexual, or a pattern of emotional abuse of a child; or (c) a history of acts of domestic violence as defined in RCW 26.50.010(1) or an act of domestic violence which rises to the level of a felony, unless) or an assault or sexual assault which causes grievous bodily harm or the fear of such harm.

(b) The limitations imposed by the court shall be reasonably calculated to protect the child from physical, sexual, or emotional abuse or harm that could result if the child has contact with the parent requesting residential time. If the court expressly finds limitation on the residential time with the child will not adequately protect the child from the harm or abuse that could result if the child has contact with the parent requesting residential time, the court shall restrain the parent requesting residential time from all contact with the child.

(c) If the court expressly finds that contact between the parent and the child will not cause physical, sexual, or emotional abuse or harm to the child and that the probability that the parent's harmful or abusive conduct will recur is so remote that it would not be in the child's best interests to apply the limitations (or unless it is shown not to have had an impact on the child) of (a) and (b) of this subsection, or if the court expressly finds the parent's conduct did not have an impact on the child, then the court need not apply the limitations of (a) and (b) of this subsection. The weight given to the existence of a protection order issued under chapter 26.50 RCW as to domestic violence is within the discretion of the court.

(3) A parent's involvement or conduct may have an adverse effect on the child's best interests, and the court may preclude or limit any provisions of the parenting plan, if any of the following factors exist:

(a) A parent's neglect or substantial nonperformance of parenting functions;
(b) A long-term emotional or physical impairment which interferes with the parent's performance of parenting functions as defined in RCW 26.09.004;
(c) A parent's Involvement or conduct may have an adverse effect on the child's best interests with the performance of parenting functions;
(d) The absence or substantial impairment of emotional ties between the parent and the child;
(e) The abusive use of conflict by the parent which creates the danger of serious damage to the child's psychological development;
(f) A parent has withheld from the other parent access to the child for a protracted period without good cause; or
(g) Such other factors or conduct as the court expressly finds adverse to the best interests of the child.

(4) In entering a permanent parenting plan, the court shall not draw any presumptions from the provisions of the temporary parenting plan.

(5) In determining whether any of the conduct described in this section has occurred, the court shall apply the civil rules of evidence, proof, and procedure.

Sec. 2. Section 44, chapter 460, Laws of 1987 and RCW 26.10.160 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A parent not granted custody of the child is entitled to reasonable visitation rights (unless the court finds, after a hearing, that visitation would endanger the child's physical, mental, or emotional health. The court may order visitation rights for any person when visitation may serve the best interest of the child whether or not there has been any change of circumstances) except as provided in subsection (2) of this section.

(2)(a) Visitation with the child shall be limited if it is found that the parent seeking visitation has engaged in any of the following conduct: (i) Willful abandonment that continues for an extended period of time or substantial refusal to perform parenting functions; (ii) physical, sexual, or a pattern of emotional abuse of a child; or (iii) a history of acts of domestic violence as defined in RCW 26.50.010(1) or an assault or sexual assault which causes grievous bodily harm or the fear of such harm.

(b) The limitations imposed by the court shall be reasonably calculated to protect the child from physical, sexual, or emotional abuse or harm that could result if the child has contact with the parent requesting visitation. If the court expressly finds limitations on visitation with the child will not adequately protect the child from the harm or abuse that could result if the child has contact with the parent requesting visitation, the court shall restrain the person seeking visitation from all contact with the child.

(c) If the court expressly finds that contact between the parent and the child will not cause physical, sexual, or emotional abuse or harm to the child and that the probability that the parent's harmful or abusive conduct will recur is so remote that it would not be in the child's best interests to apply the limitations of (a) and (b) of this subsection, or if the court expressly finds the parent's conduct did not have an impact on the child, then the court need not apply the limitations of (a) and (b) of this subsection. The weight given to the existence of a protection order issued under chapter 26.50 RCW as to domestic violence is within the discretion of the court.

(3) Any person may petition the court for visitation rights at any time including, but not limited to, custody proceedings. The court may order visitation rights for any person when visitation may serve the best interest of the child whether or not there has been any change of circumstances.

(4) The court may modify an order granting or denying visitation rights whenever modification would serve the best interests of the child (but the court shall not restrict a parent's visitation rights unless it finds that the modification would endanger the child's physical, mental, or emotional health). Modification of a parent's visitation rights shall be subject to the requirements of subsection (2) of this section.

PART I: COLLECTIVE BARGAINING

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. POLICY STATEMENT. It is the purpose of this chapter to promote orderly and constructive relationships between the state of Washington and its employees, and to assure the effective and orderly operations of state government.

Such a public policy is best effectuated by recognizing the principles of collective bargaining, and by granting state employees the right to organize for the purpose of negotiating wages, hours, and other terms and conditions of employment.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. DEFINITIONS. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) 'Agency' means any agency as defined in RCW 41.06.020 and covered by chapter 41.06 RCW.

(2) 'Arbitration' means the procedure whereby parties involved in an impasse mutually agree to submit their differences to a third party for a final and binding determination.

(3) 'Collective bargaining' means the performance of the mutual obligation of the representatives of the employer and the exclusive bargaining representative to meet at reasonable times and to bargain in good faith in an effort to reach agreement with respect to the subjects of bargaining specified under section 9 of this act.

(4) 'Commission' means the state employees' relations commission.

(5) 'Confidential employee' means an employee who, in the regular course of his or her duties, assists in a confidential capacity to persons who formulate, determine, and effectuate management policies with regard to labor relations or who, in the regular course of his or her duties, has authorized access to information relating to the effectuation or review of the employer's collective bargaining policies.

(6) 'Director' means the director of the state employees' relations commission.

(7) 'Employee' means any employee, including employees whose work has ceased in connection with the pursuit of lawful activities protected by this chapter, covered by chapter 41.06 RCW, except confidential employees.

(8) 'Employee organization' means any organization, union, or association which exists for the purpose, in whole or in part, of collective bargaining with employers.

(9) 'Employer' means the state of Washington.

(10) 'Essential employee' means any employee performing functions so essential that the interruption or termination of the function will constitute a clear and present danger to the health and safety of the state.

(11) 'Exclusive bargaining representative' means any employee organization that has been certified or recognized under the provisions of this chapter as the representative of the employees in an appropriate bargaining unit.

(12) 'Institutions of higher education' means the University of Washington, Washington State University, Central Washington University, Eastern Washington University, Western Washington University, The Evergreen State College, and the various state community colleges.

(13) 'Labor dispute' means any controversy concerning terms or conditions of employment, or concerning the association or representation of persons in negotiating, fixing, maintaining, changing, or seeking to arrange terms or conditions of employment, regardless of whether the disputants stand in the proximate relation of employer and employee.

(14) 'Supervisor' means any employee having authority in the interest of the employer to hire, transfer, suspend, lay off, recall, promote, discharge, assign, reward, or discipline other employees, or to adjust their grievances, or effectively to recommend such action, if, in connection with the foregoing, the exercise of such authority is not of a merely routine or clerical nature, but requires the use of independent judgment.

(15) 'Unfair labor practice' means any unfair labor practice listed in section 17 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. STATE EMPLOYEES' RELATIONS COMMISSION. (1) There is created the state employees' relations commission to administer the provisions of this chapter. The commission shall consist of three members who shall be appointed by the governor. One of the original members shall be appointed for a term of two years, one for a term of three years, and one for a term of four years. Their successors shall be appointed for terms of four years each, except that any person chosen to fill a vacancy shall be appointed only for the unexpired term of the member whom he or she succeeds. Commission members shall be eligible for reappointment. Persons so appointed shall not hold any other employment with the state, shall not have been an officer of a political party for a period of one year immediately prior to the appointment, and shall not be or become a candidate for partisan elective public office during the term to which they are appointed. Any member of the commission may be removed by the governor, upon notice and hearing, for neglect of duty or malfeasance in office, but for no other cause. Commission members shall not be eligible for state retirement under chapter 41.40 RCW by virtue of their service on the commission.

(2) In making member appointments initially, and subsequently thereafter, the governor shall appoint persons knowledgeable in the area of labor relations and personnel practices. Persons with experience in negotiating labor contracts are eligible for appointment only if the experience includes negotiations on behalf of both employers and employees.

(3) A vacancy in the commission shall not impair the right of the remaining members to exercise all of the powers of the commission, and two members of the commission shall, at all times, constitute a quorum of the commission.

(4) At its first meeting following the appointment of all of its members, and annually thereafter, the commission shall elect a chair and vice-chair from among its members to serve one year.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. COMMISSION COMPENSATION. (1) Each member of the commission shall be compensated in accordance with RCW 43.03.250. Members of the commission shall also be reimbursed for travel expenses incurred in the discharge of their official duties on the same basis as is provided in RCW 43.03.050 and 43.03.060.

(2) The commission shall appoint a director whose annual salary shall be determined under the provisions of RCW 43.03.028. The director shall perform such duties and have such powers as the commission shall prescribe in order to implement and enforce the provisions of this chapter. In addition to the performance of administrative duties, the commission may delegate to the director authority with respect to, but not limited to, representation proceedings, unfair labor practice proceedings, mediation of labor disputes, arbitration of disputes concerning the interpretation or application of a collective bargaining agreement, and, in certain cases, fact-finding or arbitration of disputes concerning the terms of a collective bargaining agreement. Such delegation shall not eliminate a party’s right of appeal to the commission. The director, with such assistance as may be provided by the attorney general and such additional legal assistance consistent with chapter 43.10 RCW, shall have authority on behalf of the commission, when necessary to carry out or enforce any action or decision of the commission, to petition any court of competent jurisdiction for an order requiring compliance with the action or decision.

(3) The commission shall employ such employees as it may from time to time find necessary for the proper performance of its duties, consistent with the provisions of this chapter.

(4) The payment of all of the expenses of the commission, including travel expenses incurred by the members or employees of the commission under its orders, shall be subject to the provisions of RCW 43.03.050 and 43.03.060.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. COMMISSION DUTIES. (1) It shall be the duty of the commission, in order to prevent or minimize interruptions growing out of labor disputes, to assist employers and employees to settle such disputes through mediation.

(2) The commission, through the director, may provide its services in any state employee labor dispute either upon its own motion or upon the request of one or more of the parties to the dispute, whenever in its judgment the dispute threatens to cause a substantial disruption to the public welfare.

(3) If the director is not able to bring the parties to agreement by mediation within a reasonable time, he or she shall seek to induce the parties to voluntarily seek other means of settling the dispute without resort to strike or other coercion, including submission to the employees in the bargaining unit of the employer’s last offer of settlement for approval or rejection in a secret ballot. The failure or refusal of either party to agree to any procedure suggested by the director shall not be deemed a violation of any duty or obligation imposed by this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. COMMISSION AUTHORITY. (1) The commission shall have authority to adopt rules in accordance with chapter 34.05 RCW as necessary to carry out the provisions of this chapter, consistent with the best standards of labor management relations.

(2) The commission shall adopt rules providing for employee participation in the development and administration of this chapter. To assure this right, the commission shall act on rules or rule changes only after the commission has given thirty days notice to, and considered proposals from, employee representatives and affected agencies. Complete and current compilations of all rules of the commission in printed form shall be available to the public freely.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. RIGHTS OF Employees. Employees shall have the right to self-organization, to form, join, or assist employee organizations, to bargain collectively through representatives of their own choosing, and to engage in other lawful concerted activities for the purpose of collective bargaining or other mutual aid or protection, and shall also have the right to refrain from any or all such activities except to the extent that employees may be required to pay a fee to an exclusive bargaining representative under a union security provision authorized by this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. MANAGEMENT RIGHTS. Nothing in this chapter shall interfere with the right of the employer to carry out the statutory mandate and goals assigned to the agency using personnel, methods, and means in the most appropriate and efficient manner possible.
The employer shall not be required to bargain over matters of inherent managerial policy, which shall include such areas of discretion or policy as the functions of the employer, standards of services, its overall budget, the organizational structure, and selection of new employees and direction of employees.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. SCOPE OF BARGAINING. (1) Except as otherwise provided in this section, the subjects of bargaining shall include wages, hours, and other terms and conditions of employment, and the negotiation of any question arising under a collective bargaining agreement.

(2) The scope of bargaining shall not include matters pertaining to:
   (a) Recruitment of employment candidates, conduct and grading of examinations, rating of candidates, maintenance of eligible lists, and original appointments from eligible lists; and
   (b) Retirement benefits.

(3) The employer and the exclusive bargaining representative shall not agree to any proposal that would be inconsistent with the principle of comparable worth embodied in RCW 41.06.155.

(4) In case of any conflict between the provisions of this chapter and any other law, executive order, administrative rule, or agency policy relating to wages, hours, and conditions of employment or personnel relations, the provisions of this chapter or any collective bargaining agreement negotiated under this chapter shall prevail.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. CONTENTS OF COLLECTIVE BARGAINING AGREEMENTS. (1) A collective bargaining agreement shall contain provisions that:

(a) Provide for mandatory arbitration of grievances arising under the collective bargaining agreement, in accordance with section 11 of this act;

(b) Require layoffs and subsequent reemployment to be implemented according to seniority;

(c) Provide for reopening of the agreement during its term in accordance with section 16(5) of this act, if a reduction of allotments is ordered by the governor pursuant to RCW 43.88.110(2); and

(d) Make the agreement effective for periods coinciding with the fiscal biennium of the state.

(2) Where an employee covered by this chapter has a right to contest a disciplinary action or termination of employment under the provisions of any statute or administrative rule, any collective bargaining agreement provision permitting the employee to contest the disciplinary action or termination of employment through the grievance procedure and arbitration shall specify an election of remedies by the employee such that the matter be resolved entirely under the procedures of the collective bargaining agreement or entirely under the procedures of the applicable statute or rule. Any employee, when fully reinstated after appeal under either remedy, shall be guaranteed all employee rights and benefits, including back pay, sick leave, vacation accrual, retirement, and OASDI credits.

(3) Whenever a collective bargaining agreement between an employer and an exclusive bargaining representative is concluded after the termination date of the previous collective bargaining agreement between the employer and an employee organization representing the same or a substantially similar bargaining unit, the effective date of the collective bargaining agreement shall be the day after the termination of the previous collective bargaining agreement, and all benefits included in the new collective bargaining agreement, including wage or salary increases, shall accrue beginning with such effective date.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. ENFORCEMENT OF COLLECTIVE BARGAINING AGREEMENTS. (1) Every collective bargaining agreement negotiated pursuant to the provisions of this chapter shall contain provisions for the final and binding arbitration of grievances.

(2) The parties to a collective bargaining agreement may agree on one or more permanent umpires to serve as arbitrator, or may agree on any impartial person to serve as arbitrator, or may agree to select arbitrators from any source available to them, including federal and private agencies, in addition to the staff and dispute resolution panel maintained by the commission.

(3) An arbitrator may require any person to attend as a witness and to bring with him or her any book, record, document, or other evidence. The fees for such attendance shall be paid by the party requesting issuance of the subpoena and shall be the same as the fees of witnesses in the superior court. Arbitrators shall have the power to administer oaths. Subpoenas shall issue and be signed by the arbitrator or the director and shall be served in the same manner as subpoenas to testify before a court of record in this state. If any person so summoned, to testify shall refuse or neglect to obey such subpoena, upon petition authorized by the arbitrator or director, the superior court may compel the attendance of such person before the arbitrator or punish said person for contempt in the same manner provided for the attendance of witnesses or the punishment of them in the courts of this state.

(4) The arbitrator shall appoint a time and place for the hearing and notify the parties thereof, and may adjourn the hearing from time to time as may be necessary, and, on application of either party and for good cause, may postpone the hearing to a time not extending beyond the date fixed by the collective bargaining agreement for making the award. The arbitration award shall be in writing and signed by the arbitrator or a majority of the members of the arbitration panel. The arbitrator shall, promptly upon its rendition, serve a true copy of the award on each of the parties or their attorneys.

(5) If a party to a collective bargaining agreement negotiated pursuant to the provisions of this chapter refuses to submit a grievance for arbitration, the other party to the collective bargaining agreement may invoke the jurisdiction of the superior court for any county in which the labor dispute exists and such court shall have jurisdiction to issue an order compelling arbitration. Disputes concerning compliance with grievance procedures shall be reserved for determination by the arbitrator. Arbitration shall be ordered if the grievance states a claim which on its face is covered by the collective bargaining agreement, and doubts as to the coverage of the arbitration clause shall be resolved in favor of arbitration.

(6) If a party to a collective bargaining agreement negotiated pursuant to the provisions of this chapter refuses to comply with the award of an arbitrator determining a grievance arising under such collective bargaining agreement, the other party to the collective bargaining agreement, or any affected employee may invoke the jurisdiction of the superior court for Thurston county or any county in which the labor dispute exists and such court shall have jurisdiction to issue an order enforcing the arbitration award. The court shall not substitute its judgment for that of the arbitrator and shall enforce any arbitration award which is based on the collective bargaining agreement, except that an arbitration award shall not be enforced and a new arbitration proceeding may be ordered if:

(a) The award was procured by corruption, fraud, or undue means;
(b) The arbitrator or arbitrators were guilty of misconduct in refusing to hear evidence pertinent and material to the controversy, or of any other misbehavior by which the rights of any party have been prejudiced;

(c) The arbitrator or arbitrators have exceeded their powers, or so imperfectly executed them that a final and definite award on the subject matter was not made, in which event the court shall also have discretion to remand the matter to the arbitrator or arbitrators who issued the defective award.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. REPRESENTATION. (1) The commission shall certify an employee organization as the exclusive bargaining representative of the employees of a bargaining unit when the organization shows proof that it represents a majority of the employees at the close of the last preceding payroll period and such proof is not contested by the agency that is the appointing authority, the director, or any other interested party. Prior to certification, the commission shall give ten calendar days' notice that an employee representative has petitioned to be named the exclusive bargaining representative of a bargaining unit. The notice shall inform all other interested parties that an election may be requested as provided in this section and that the proof of representation may be contested. If proof of representation is not satisfactory to the commission, the commission may require an election to be held.

(2) The commission shall conduct a secret vote for selection of an exclusive bargaining representative of the employees of a bargaining unit upon request from an employee organization showing satisfactory proof of at least thirty percent representation within the unit at the close of the last preceding payroll period. Upon granting a request for an election, the commission shall give notice of the election and allow ten calendar days for other employee organizations desiring their names placed on the ballot to show satisfactory proof of at least ten percent representation within the unit at the close of the last preceding payroll period.

(3) The commission, after consultation with interested employee organizations and the appointing authority, shall set forth procedures for the conduct of the election and shall distribute sample ballots. The ballot shall contain the name of the requesting employee organization and the name of any other employee organization showing satisfactory proof of at least ten percent representation within the unit and shall provide a choice for any employee within the unit to designate that he or she does not desire any representation. Where more than one organization is on the ballot and none of the choices receives a majority of all votes cast in such election, a run-off election shall be held. The run-off ballot shall contain the two choices which received the largest and the second largest number of votes.

(4) An employee organization receiving a majority of all votes cast in such an election, or run-off election, shall be certified by the commission as the exclusive bargaining representative of the employees of the bargaining unit. If no employee organization receives a majority of votes cast, the commission shall issue notification to that effect.

(5) When an employee organization has been certified as the exclusive bargaining representative of the employees of a bargaining unit, the employee organization shall be entitled to act for and to negotiate collective bargaining agreements covering all employees in the bargaining unit. The certified exclusive bargaining representative shall be responsible for representing the interests of all the employees in the bargaining unit.

(6) (a) Upon petition to the commission by no less than thirty percent of the employees of a bargaining unit, decertification or a new certification shall be determined by an election as prescribed in subsection (8) of this section. However, no question concerning representation may be raised if:
(i) Less than twelve months have elapsed since the last certification or election; or
(ii) A valid collective bargaining agreement exists for the unit, except for that period of no more than ninety calendar days nor less than sixty calendar days prior to the expiration of the contract.

(b) The election shall be conducted at the close of the contract term, or at an appropriate time, if no contract exists for the unit.

(c) To provide that certification and decertification elections are truly representative of the desires of the employees and that all employees eligible to vote have every opportunity to do so, employee participation in these elections shall be encouraged to the greatest extent possible.

(7) The commission shall administer all elections and be responsible for the processing and adjudication of all disputes that arise as a consequence of elections.

(8) The commission shall conduct decertification or new certification elections in accordance with the requirements of this subsection.

(a) Upon being notified by the commission that a valid petition for an election has been received, the affected appointing authority shall submit to the commission, the petitioning party, and exclusive bargaining representative, if any, a list of all employees included in the bargaining unit as of the preceding payroll period. This list shall contain the employees’ names, job classifications, work locations, and home mailing addresses. For purposes of an election, the commission shall also provide such listing to an affected employee organization that has submitted proof that it represents at least ten percent of the employees in the bargaining unit.

(b) Upon receipt of a valid petition for an election, the commission shall conduct a pre-election conference that shall include representatives of the appointing authority, the employee organization, and the petitioning party. At the pre-election conference, determinations shall be made on such matters as method of balloting, date of election, absentee voting, eligibility of voters, locations, personnel at each election site, campaign activities, and any other matter that should be resolved concerning that election. Following the pre-election conference, the commission shall establish rules and procedures for holding the election.

(c) At least ten days prior to the scheduled date, the commission shall distribute a notice of election for posting in the work areas of affected employees. The notice shall contain information regarding the date, time, and location of balloting, the rules and procedures established for the election, and a sample ballot.

(d) To the extent feasible, as determined by the commission, on-site voting shall take place during the employees’ regular work schedules. Eligible voters shall be given ample opportunity to vote during work time while the polls are open.

(e) An employee who cannot appear at the voting site on the date of the vote may vote by absentee ballot. A request for an absentee ballot shall be submitted to the commission prior to the close of voting at the employee’s voting site. To be counted, absentee ballots shall be postmarked within five calendar days of the close of the polls and shall be received by the commission within ten calendar days of the close of the polls.

(f) Employees on leave of absence without pay for the entire calendar month preceding the start of the balloting shall not be eligible to vote.

(g) Rules governing campaign activities shall be determined at the pre-election conference. Employees included in the affected bargaining unit and representatives of the petitioning party and the affected employee organization shall have the right to conduct such activities on the employer’s grounds during work hours so long as the work of the employee and the operation of the employer are not disturbed.

(h) Each party to an election may have one observer present during on-site voting to assist the election agent in identifying eligible voters. An employee who serves as such an observer shall be released with pay from duties normally performed during his or her work hours.

(i) The commission shall maintain the official voter eligibility list and shall provide a copy of that list to each party. The official observer for either party may bring a copy of that list to the on-site polling place for his or her own use, provided such use does not interfere with the conduct of the election.

(j) Within five working days of the date of the tally of the ballots, the petitioning party, the affected employee organization, or an employee in the bargaining unit may file objections to the election. The objections shall be in writing and shall be received by the commission within the five working day period. The commission shall investigate and determine an appropriate remedy if the objection is found to be meritorious.

(9) Any violation of these rules should be immediately reported to the commission. Upon receiving a complaint, the commission shall immediately investigate and, if necessary, take steps to stop the violation. If the commission finds that violations of these rules or the pre-election agreements have affected the outcome of the election, the commission may invalidate the election, order a new election, or take other appropriate remedial action.
skills, and working conditions of the employees; the history of collective bargaining; the extent of organization among the employees; and the desires of the employees, except that a unit shall not be considered appropriate if it includes:

(1) Both supervisors and nonsupervisory employees. A unit that includes only supervisors may be considered appropriate if a majority of the supervisory employees indicate by vote that they desire to be included in such unit; or

(2) More than one institution of higher education. For the purposes of this section, any branch or regional campus of an institution of higher education is part of that institution of higher education.

In any case in which the commission includes as part of a bargaining unit employees that were in a unit existing prior to the effective date of this act, the commission shall notify the affected employees. The commission shall not include the affected employees in the bargaining unit created by the commission unless a majority of the affected employees vote to be included.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. TRANSITION OF EXISTING EXCLUSIVE BARGAINING REPRESENTATIVES AND BARGAINING UNITS. The transition of exclusive bargaining representatives and bargaining units existing prior to the effective date of this act to the units prescribed in section 13 of this act and to exclusive bargaining representatives under this chapter shall be implemented as follows:

(1)(a) When the employees in a bargaining unit or units existing prior to the effective date of this act and represented by a single certified exclusive bargaining representative comprise a majority of the employees to be included in a bargaining unit prescribed in section 13 of this act, then the certified exclusive bargaining representative for the existing unit or units shall be entitled to a certification by the commission for the new bargaining unit without the necessity of a representation election.

(b) When the employees in two or more bargaining units existing prior to the effective date of this act are represented by two or more certified exclusive bargaining representatives that together comprise at least eighty percent of the employees to be included in a bargaining unit prescribed in section 13 of this act, an election shall be held between the certified exclusive bargaining representatives for the existing units to determine which should be certified by the commission as the exclusive bargaining representative for the new bargaining unit. The competing bargaining representatives shall be the only choices on the ballot. If either of the competing bargaining representatives disclaims an interest in certification for the new bargaining unit, the remaining bargaining representative, if it represents a majority of the employees to be included in the new bargaining unit, shall be entitled to a certification by the commission for the new bargaining unit without the necessity of a representation election. The disclaimer shall be in writing and submitted to the competing bargaining representative and the commission.

(c) When, on the effective date of this act, less than a majority of the employees to be included in a bargaining unit prescribed in section 13 of this act are represented by existing certified bargaining representatives, representation of employees in the new bargaining unit shall be determined pursuant to section 12 of this act.
NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. NEGOTIATION AND RATIFICATION OF COLLECTIVE BARGAINING AGREEMENTS. (1) Collective bargaining agreement negotiations under this chapter shall commence on July 1, 1990, and, thereafter, on July 1 of each even-numbered year. For the purpose of negotiating collective bargaining agreements other than supplemental agreements, the employer shall be represented by the governor's office. Supplementary bargaining with agencies is authorized on behalf of employees in part of a bargaining unit concerning matters uniquely affecting the employees. Nothing in this chapter shall prohibit cooperation and coordination of bargaining between two or more bargaining units.

(2) Any collective bargaining agreement reached between the employer and the exclusive representative shall be subject to ratification by the employees concerned. The agreement shall be reduced to writing and executed by both parties. Except as provided in subsection (3) of this section, agreements shall be effective for two years from July 1 of the odd-numbered year through and including June 30 of the next odd-numbered year, to correspond with the state's fiscal biennium.

(3) Agreements may provide that compensation and fringe benefit provisions are effective for the first year of the contract only. In such case, negotiations on compensation and fringe benefit provisions for the second year of the contract shall commence on July 1 of the first odd-numbered year preceding the year of the contract expiration.

(4) The governor's office shall submit a request for funds necessary to implement the compensation and fringe benefit provisions in an agreement and for approval by the legislature of these funds within ten days of the date on which the parties ratify the agreement or, if the legislature is not in session, within ten days after the legislature convenes. The legislature shall approve or reject the submission of the request for funds as a whole and the submission shall be deemed approved if the legislature fails to act by March 31 of the odd-numbered year in which the contract will become effective. If the legislature rejects the submission, either party may reopen all or part of the agreement.

(5) If, after the compensation and fringe benefit provisions are approved by a legislative, a significant revenue shortfall occurs resulting in reduction of allotments by the governor pursuant to RCW 43.88.110(2), the parties may reopen the contract and renegotiate all or part of the agreement to ensure continuation of an adequate level of service to meet the state's needs.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. UNFAIR LABOR PRACTICES ENUMERATED. (1) It shall be an unfair labor practice for an employer to:

(a) Interfere with, restrain, or coerce employees in the exercise of their rights guaranteed by this chapter;

(b) Control, dominate, or interfere with an exclusive bargaining representative;

(c) Discriminate against an employee who has filed an unfair labor practice charge;

(d) Refuse to engage in collective bargaining;

(2) It shall be an unfair labor practice for an exclusive bargaining representative to:

(a) Interfere with, restrain, or coerce employees in the exercise of their rights guaranteed by this chapter;

(b) Induce the employer to commit an unfair labor practice;

(c) Discriminate against an employee who has filed an unfair labor practice charge;

(d) Refuse to engage in collective bargaining;

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. UNFAIR LABOR PRACTICE PROCEDURES. (1) The commission is empowered and directed to prevent any unfair labor practice and to issue appropriate remedies. A complaint shall not be processed for any unfair labor practice occurring more than six months before the filing of the complaint with the commission. This power shall not be affected or impaired by any means of adjustment, mediation, or conciliation in labor disputes that have been or may hereafter be established by law.

(2) Whenever a complaint is filed concerning any unfair labor practice, the commission shall have power to issue and cause to be served a notice of hearing before the commission at a place therein fixed to be held not less than seven days after the serving of the complaint. Any such complaint may be amended by the commission any time prior to the issuance of an order based thereon. The person so complained of shall have the right to file an answer to the original or amended complaint and to appear in person or otherwise to give testimony at the place and time set in the complaint. In the discretion of the commission, any other person may be allowed to intervene in the proceedings and to present testimony. In any such proceeding the commission shall not be bound by technical rules of evidence prevailing in the courts of law or equity.

(3) For the purpose of all hearings and investigations, which, in the opinion of the commission, are necessary and proper for the exercise of the powers vested in it by this section, the commission shall at all reasonable times have access to, for the purposes of examination, and the right to examine, copy, or photograph any evidence, including payrolls or lists of employees, of any person being investigated or proceeded against that relates to any matter under investigation or in question. The commission shall have power to issue subpoenas requiring the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of any evidence that relates to any matter under investigation or in question before the commission. The commission, or any agent or agency designated by the commission for such purposes, may administer oaths and affirmations, examine witnesses, and receive evidence.

(4) The commission, or any party to the commission proceedings, thirty days after the commission has entered its findings of fact, shall have power to petition the superior court of Thurston county or the superior court within the county where the unfair labor practice in question occurred or where any person charged with the unfair labor practice resides or transacts business, or if such court be on vacation or in recess, then to the superior court of any county adjoining the county where the unfair labor practice in question occurred or where any person charged with the unfair labor practice resides or transacts business, for the enforcement of such order and for appropriate temporary relief or restraining order, and shall certify and file in the court a transcript of the entire record in the proceeding, including the pleadings and testimony upon which such order was made and the findings and order of the commission. Upon filing the record, the court shall cause notice thereof to be served upon such person, and thereupon shall have jurisdiction of the proceeding and of the question determined therein, and shall have power to grant such temporary relief or restraining order as it deems just and proper, and to make and enter upon the pleadings, testimony, and proceedings set forth in such transcript a decree enforcing, modifying, and enforcing as so modified, or setting aside in whole or in part the order of the commission.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. RIGHT TO STRIKE. It is lawful for an employee, except an essential employee covered by section 20 of this act, to participate in a strike if:

(1) The employee is included in a bargaining unit for which an exclusive bargaining representative has been certified by the commission;

(2) The employer and the exclusive bargaining representative have not mutually agreed to submit the dispute to final and binding arbitration;

(3) The exclusive bargaining representative has requested a mediator for the purpose of mediation or conciliation of the dispute and the parties have participated in good faith mediation; and

(4) The exclusive bargaining representative has given ten days' notice of its intent to strike to the commission and the public employer.

A strike or other concerted activity permitted under this section shall not restrict access to the workplace through a separate entrance marked and set apart for essential employees who are not authorized to strike under section 20 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. INTEREST ARBITRATION IN CERTAIN DISPUTES. (1) The uninterrupted and dedicated service of certain classes of state employees is so vital to the welfare and public safety of the citizens of the state of Washington that the usual procedures of collective bargaining shall be suspended under certain circumstances and an alternative means of settling such disputes be substituted, as provided in this section. Employee strikes arising from disputes regulated by this section are hereby expressly prohibited.

(2) The procedures of this section are applicable only to essential employees.

(3) If no agreement has been reached sixty days after the commencement of negotiations between an employer and the exclusive bargaining representative of a bargaining unit of employees covered by this section, then, at any time thereafter, either party may declare that an impasse exists and may submit the dispute to the commission for mediation, with or without the concurrence of the other party.

(4) If an agreement has not been reached following a reasonable period of negotiations and mediation, and the parties remain at impasse, then either party may request an interest arbitrator to resolve the dispute. The issues for determination by the interest arbitrator shall be limited to the issues at impasse in the mediation proceedings.

(5) Within seven days of either party's request for arbitration, the commission shall submit three arbitrators' names to the parties. Each party shall strike one name from the list. The remaining arbitrator shall be appointed as the arbitrator. Each party shall share equally in paying the fees and expenses of the arbitrator.

(6) Within seven days following the designation of the arbitrator, each party shall file with the arbitrator and the commission and serve on the opposite party, the complete written proposals it intends to submit to interest arbitration.

(7) The arbitrator shall promptly establish a date, time, and place for hearing and shall provide reasonable notice thereof to the parties to the dispute. A hearing, which shall be informal, shall be held, and each party shall have the opportunity to present evidence and make argument. The arbitrator may not act as a witness or present the case for a party to the proceedings. The rules of evidence prevailing in judicial proceedings may be considered, but are not binding. Any oral testimony or documentary evidence or other data deemed relevant by the arbitrator may be received in evidence. A recording of the proceedings shall be taken. The arbitrator shall have the power to administer oaths, require the attendance of witnesses. and require the production of books, papers, contracts, agreements, and documents deemed to be material to a just determination of the issues in dispute. If any person refuses to obey a subpoena issued by the arbitrator or refuses to be sworn or to make an affirmation to testify, or any witness, party, or attorney for a party is guilty of any contempt while in attendance at any hearing held hereunder, the arbitrator or any party may invoke the jurisdiction of the superior court of Thurston county, and the court shall have jurisdiction to issue an appropriate order. Any failure to obey such order may be punished by the court as a contempt thereof. The hearing conducted by the arbitrator shall be concluded within twenty-five days following the designation of the arbitrator unless the parties agree to a longer period.

(8) The arbitrator shall, within thirty days following the conclusion of the hearing, make written findings of fact and a written determination of the issues in dispute, based on the evidence presented. The parties may agree, prior to the close of the hearing before the arbitrator, to limit the arbitrator to selecting: (a) Between the entire final offer of the employer presented by the employer to the mediator and to the exclusive bargaining representative at the close of the mediation proceedings or the entire final offer of the exclusive bargaining representative as presented by the exclusive bargaining representative to the mediator and to the employer at the close of the mediation proceedings; or (b) on each impasse item, between the final offers of the parties as presented to the mediator and the other party at the close of the mediation proceedings. A copy of the interest arbitration award shall be served on the commission and on each of the parties to the dispute. The determination shall be final and binding upon both parties.

(9) In making the determination, the arbitrator shall be mindful of the legislative purpose enumerated in this section and, as additional standards or guidelines to aid in reaching a decision, shall take into consideration the following factors:
   (a) The constitutional and statutory authority of the employer;
   (b) Stipulations of the parties;
   (c) Comparison of the wages, hours, and conditions of employment of the employees involved in the proceedings with the wages, hours, and conditions of employment of like personnel of like employers;
   (d) The average consumer prices for goods and services, commonly known as the cost of living;
   (e) Changes in any of the foregoing circumstances during the pendency of such proceedings; and
   (f) Such other factors, not confined to the foregoing, which are normally or traditionally taken into consideration in the determination of wages, hours, and conditions of employment.

(10) In the performance of his or her duties under this chapter, the arbitrator exercises a state function and is, for the purposes of this chapter, a state agency. The provisions of Chapter 34.05 RCW do not apply to proceedings before an interest arbitrator.

(11) Except as ordered through proceedings before an interest arbitrator, existing wages, hours, and other terms and conditions of employment shall not be changed by action of either party without the consent of the other, but a party may so consent without prejudice to its rights or position under this section.

(12) If a party to negotiations subject to this section refuses to submit to the procedures set forth in this section, the other party or the commission, on its own motion, may invoke the jurisdiction of the superior court for Thurston county and the court shall have jurisdiction to issue an appropriate order. A failure to obey such order may be punished by the court as a contempt thereof.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. COURT JURISDICTION. Unless specifically provided otherwise, nothing in this chapter shall prohibit any party to a collective bargaining agreement from seeking enforcement of the rights granted under this chapter in a court of competent jurisdiction.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. A new section is added to chapter 41.06 RCW to read as follows:

(1) In addition to the exemptions set forth in RCW 41.06.070, the following classifications, positions, and employees of institutions of higher education and related boards are hereby exempted from coverage of this chapter:

(a) Members of the governing board of each institution and related boards, all presidents, vice-presidents, and their confidential secretaries, administrative, and personal assistants; deans, directors, and chairpersons; academic personnel; executive heads of major administrative or academic divisions employed by institutions of higher education; and any employee of a community college district whose place of work is one which is physically located outside the state of Washington and who is employed pursuant to RCW 28B.50.092 and assigned to an educational program operating outside of the state of Washington.

(b) The director, the director's confidential secretary, assistant directors, and professional education employees of the state board for community college education.

(c) The governing board of each institution, and related boards, may also exempt from this chapter, subject to the employees' right of appeal to the state personnel board, classifications involving research activities, counseling of students, extension or continuing education activities, graphic arts or publications activities requiring prescribed academic preparation or special training, and principal assistants to executive heads of major administrative or academic divisions, as determined by the higher education personnel board: PROVIDED, That no nonacademic employee engaged in office clerical, maintenance, or food and trade services may be exempted by the state personnel board under this provision.

(2) For the purposes of this section, 'related boards' means the state board for community college education and such other boards, councils, and commissions related to higher education as may be established.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 23. A new section is added to chapter 41.06 RCW to read as follows:

In addition to the exemptions set forth in RCW 41.06.070, the provisions of this chapter do not apply to printing craft employees in the department of printing of the University of Washington.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 24. A new section is added to chapter 41.06 RCW to read as follows:

In case of any conflict between the provisions of this chapter or administrative rules adopted under this chapter and the provisions of chapter 41.--RCW (sections 1 through 21 of this act) or a collective bargaining agreement negotiated under chapter 41.--RCW (sections 1 through 21 of this act), the provisions of chapter 41.--RCW (sections 1 through 21 of this act) or the collective bargaining agreement shall prevail.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 25. A new section is added to chapter 41.06 RCW to read as follows:

The board may appoint one or more hearings examiners to preside over, conduct, and make recommended decisions, including findings of fact and conclusions of law in all cases of employee appeals to the board. The hearings examiner shall conduct hearings in the same manner and shall have the same authority as provided in hearings by the board. The recommended decisions shall be forthwith served upon the parties and transmitted to the board together with the record of the evidence. Within thirty days of service of the recommended decision, any party adversely affected may file exceptions, and thereafter all parties may present written and oral argument to the board, which shall consider the whole record or such portions of the record as may be cited by the parties.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 26. A new section is added to chapter 41.06 RCW to read as follows:

(1) In all appeals over which the board has jurisdiction involving reduction, dismissal, suspension, or demotion, the board shall set the case for hearing, and the final decision, including an appeal to the board from the hearing examiner, if any, shall be rendered within ninety days from the date the appeal was first received. An extension may be permitted if agreed to by the employee and the employing agency. The board shall furnish the agency with a copy of the appeal in advance of the hearing.

(2) In all appeals made pursuant to RCW 41.06.170(3), the decision of the board is final and not appealable to court.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 27. A new section is added to chapter 41.06 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Hearings on appeals shall be open to the public, except for cases in which the board determines there is substantial reason for not having an open hearing or in cases where the employee so requests, and shall be informal with technical rules of evidence not applying to the proceedings except the rules of privilege recognized by law. Both the employee and his or her appointing agency shall be notified reasonably in advance of the hearing and may select representatives of their choosing, present and cross-examine witnesses, and give evidence before the board.

(2) Members of the board or the director may, and shall at the request of either party, issue subpoenas and subpoenas duces tecum. All testimony shall be on oath administered by a member of the board. The board shall certify to the superior court the facts of any refusal to obey a subpoena, take the oath, or testify. The court shall summarily hear the evidence on such refusal and, if the evidence warrants, punish such refusal in the same manner and to the same extent as for contempt committed before, or in connection with the proceedings of, the court.

(3) The board shall prepare an official record of the hearing, including all testimony, recorded manually or by mechanical device, and exhibits; but it may not be required to transcribe such record unless requested by the employee, who shall be furnished with a complete transcript upon payment of a reasonable charge. However, payment of the cost of a transcript used on appeal shall await determination of the appeal and shall be made by the employing agency if the employee prevails.

(4) Within thirty days after the conclusion of the hearing, the board shall make and fully record in its permanent records the following: (a) Findings of fact; (b) conclusions of law when the construction of a rule or statute is in question; (c) reasons for the action taken; and (d) the board's order based thereon. The order is final, subject to action by the court on appeal as provided in this chapter.

(5) The board shall simultaneously send a copy of the findings, conclusions, and order by certified mail to the employing agency and to the employee or the employee's designated representative.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 28. A new section is added to chapter 41.06 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Within thirty days after the recording of the order and the mailing thereof, the employee may appeal the decision and order of the board on appeals made pursuant to RCW to the superior court of Thurston county on one or more of the grounds that the order was:

(a) Founded on or contained an error of law, which shall specifically include error in construction or application of any pertinent rules;

(b) Contrary to a preponderance of the evidence as disclosed by the entire record with respect to any specified finding or findings of fact;

(c) Materially affected by unlawful procedure;

(d) Based on violation of any constitutional provision; or

(e) Arbitrary or capricious.

(2) Such grounds shall be stated in a written notice of appeal filed with the court, with copies thereof served on a member of the board or the director and on the employing agency, all within the time stated.

(3) Within thirty days after service of such notice, or within such further time as the court may allow, the board shall transmit to the court a certified transcript, with exhibits, of the hearing; but by stipulation between the employing agency and the employee the transcript may be shortened, and either party unreasonably refusing to stipulate to such limitation may be ordered by the court to pay the additional cost involved. The court may require or permit subsequent corrections or additions to the transcript.

(4) The court shall review the hearing without a jury on the basis of the transcript and exhibits, except that, in case of alleged irregularities in procedure before the board not shown by the transcript, the court may order testimony to be given thereon. The court shall upon request by either party hear oral argument and receive written briefs.

(5) The court may affirm the order of the board, remand the matter for further proceedings before the board, or reverse or modify the order if it finds that the objection to the order is well taken on any of the grounds stated. Appellate review of the order of the superior court may be sought as in other civil cases.
