The House of Representatives of the 1995 regular Session of the Fifty-Fourth Legislature was called to order at 12:00 Noon by the Chief Clerk of the Fifty-Third Legislature, Marilyn Showalter.

The Chief Clerk requested the Sergeant at Arms to escort the Members-elect to seats on the floor of the House, as selections by Quintessence were performed.

The Fifty-Fourth Session of the House of Representatives for the State of Washington will please come to order.

The flag was escorted to the rostrum by The Washington Army National Guard.

The Star Spangled Banner was sung by Annie Mastrondanato an eighth grader from Washington Middle School.

Prayer was offered by The Reverend Dale Cook, Free Methodist Church of Wenatchee.

Almighty and eternal God,
Thank you for the high privilege and awesome responsibility you have given to each member of this legislative body during the weeks and months ahead.

We know that during that time the load will get heavy; the days will become long; the physical and emotional and mental strain will increase. I pray for the physical health of each member. May he or she not lose the hope and vision that is sensed today. May they each have courage to stand strong for the ideals that are lodged deep within the heart. Grant to each one a strong commitment to his or spouse and family as the pressures of the work load increase.

Conscious of our own fallibility as human beings, I pray for Divine aide for the members of this assembly to be your messengers in the critical decisions thy will be called upon to make. May there be a willingness to work with you to bring peace and morality to every citizen of this great State. As you give them wisdom to make right decisions, may your will be done in the State of Washington as it is in heaven.

In the Name of Him Who is the Way, the Truth & the Life.

Amen.

APPOINTMENT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The Chief Clerk appointed Representatives Padden and Dellwo to escort Justice Richard P. Guy of the Supreme Court of the State of Washington from the State Reception Room to the Rostrum.

A motion to reconsider an amendment may be made at any time the bill remains on second reading.

Any member who voted on the prevailing side may move for reconsideration or give notice thereof.

A motion to reconsider can be decided only once when decided in the negative.

When a motion to reconsider has been carried, its effect shall be to place the original question before the house in the exact position it occupied before it was voted upon.

The motion to excuse absent members shall not be adopted unless a majority of the members elected vote in favor thereof.

ELECTION OF SPEAKER

The Chief Clerk announced that nominations were in order for Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Representative Van Luven: Thank you madame Chief Clerk, it’s my pleasure to place the name of Representative Clyde Ballard of the 12th District before you for Speaker of the House of Representatives. My Party has not had a Speaker of the House for 12 years and today is a very momentous occasion. Good things do come out of Arkansas and Republicans come out of Arkansas too and our new Speaker of the House is from Arkansas, and we are assured that he will have some pull with his distant cousin back in Washington D.C. in the White House. I'm only guessing that they're cousins. Hopefully, Clyde "Little NeWT" Ballard will also have some pull with "Big Newt", the other Speaker in Washington.

As a young boy, Clyde Ballard and his family came to the state of Washington as migrant workers. They came for jobs and for opportunities. I grew up in my early years, in the lower Yakima valley, and I went to school with a lot of kids from migrant families, and let me tell you it's a long ways from being a member of a migrant family, to being a Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Along the way, Representative Ballard and his wife Ruth raised three sons, and started and operated a very successful ambulance and medical service in the Wenatchee area. He worked around life and death daily. He learned many skills. He learned to be calm under pressure even when shots were being fired all around him. He learned to get the job done, not for the glory, but because the job had to be done.

In 1982 Representative Ballard was elected to the House of Representatives. He served his two years as Caucus Chairman of the Minority Party, he served as eight years as Minority Leader. Clyde is a steady, patient, compassionate, and very hard worker as a legislator. He cared deeply for the people of his district and for the people of the State of Washington. Clyde has never shown a fear of accepting responsibility and he understands a need for a firm and consistent and sensitive approach to solving conflicts.

Recently, I was in Mexico and was talking with an associate of mine, Enrique Ochoa, and I mentioned to him that here in the United States two hours after the elections are over, because of all of the computers we have, we can tell who wins our elections. Enrique said to me, "Six months before the elections in Mexico they know who's going to win."

Last September after the primaries we knew who the next Speaker of the House was going to be. I'm pleased that Clyde is my Speaker. I have not always agreed with him, and over the years I have been a burr in his saddle, but that was all yesterday. The new media people will have to talk to the old ones.

Great things happen in politics, you grow, you learn, you agree, you disagree, you fight, and sometimes you stop and team up and go forward together with the goal of making this state a better place to be and live for our citizens. For now on I plan on riding in a saddle next to Clyde Ballard, not as a burr under it. I hope that you too will join me in support of Representative Clyde Ballard as the next Speaker of the House of Representatives for the great state of Washington. Thank you.

Representative K. Schmidt: Thank you madame Speaker. It is my pleasure to rise to second this nomination, for I too, have been in the Ballard woodshed many a time. I think that it is commendable that the two people who have probably given him more heartache and heartburn over the years have come to stand and respect him and put his name in nomination; because we know the type of person that Clyde is, and the kind of leader he is, and the kind of leader he will be leading this body. You've heard how Clyde has been goal oriented all of his life, starting out in Arkansas, son of migrant workers. He was determined to better himself and his life, and he did. He built a successful ambulance service, and isn't it interesting that he would choose an ambulance service, so that he could not only earn a living but help people. And there were many times I'm sure that he was there helping the injured and helping the families, giving compassion, being there as the strong person that somebody needed to lean on in a difficult hour.

Twelve years ago he decided to help people in another way he came to Olympia because he wanted to represent the people in his district and bring his life long work for people to Olympia where he felt he could raise their lives and raise their living standards. He must be doing a good job since he was just recently re-elected into that office by about a 75% vote. Eight years ago he became our Caucus leader, that's no small task trying to manage a group that's as philosophically diverse as this group of people that reside in our Caucus. Sometimes instead of a gavel we think he really needs a whip and a chair, but he's always guided us and lead us with a sense of humor and dignity. He's had patience and he's had determination and he's had an enormous amount of energy.

Now I deal with frequent travellers all the time, but during the campaign season you can find Clyde in places like Port Angeles, Bellingham, Tri-Cities and that's all in one day. He's always trying to help other people, and those who want to serve their districts can always look to Clyde for help. Now it will make my job in Transportation a lot easier because now when I talk to Clyde about a road, a bridge, or a ferry route, he's probably been on it.

During the last twelve years the goal was always to lead this body. Four times I've had the pleasure of voting for Clyde, unfortunately we were always a bit short all those times. I think it might be different today Clyde, I see your name is already printed on the program. This might be a strong hint now.

I last served with a Republican Speaker thirteen years ago, obviously we are all elated over here, not only for Clyde, but also for all our opportunities to once again be in the leadership. You can expect our leader to carry his sense of humor, and his patience and his determination into his job. His door will be open to you whether you are Republican or Democrat and he will generally listen to what you have to say and to what your concerns are. And if they are the concerns that he believes should be addressed you'll find a friend in the speaker.

It is with a great deal of pleasure then that I second the nomination of (Jeffery, I'm sorry) I mean Clyde Ballard to be our next Speaker of the House.

Representative Appelwick: Thank you madame Chief Clerk. Despite my high regards for the gentleman from the 12th, I rise to nominate Brian Ebersole for re-election for Speaker of the House. Good things may come out of Arkansas, but good things come out of Tennessee, like Vice President Gore, Representative Ebersole hails from Tennessee. Fully fitting within an economy like this state, that is so dependent on trade and imports that we import a little talent now and again.

This day has a long standing tradition of nominating the minority leader for this position of Speaker. I think it's a good tradition especially today because it gives us a chance to thank and honor Brian for his two years as Speaker of the peoples’ House. And this is a good time to remember some of what the House has achieved together over those two years while Brian was at the helm. And the truth is that the Democrats and the Republicans achieved quite a lot together under his Speakership. We together have slowed the rate of growth of government spending to less than one-half the average rate of the previous decade before the passage of Initiative 601 and we cut capitol spending as well. Importantly, we achieved these results without abandoning children or the elderly or the sick or working families, or our sense of compassion. And hundreds of thousands of people are living a better life in this state today because of that.

Think of it, over 200,000 more people, mostly children have access to medical coverage they couldn’t get years ago. More than 10,000 unemployed workers are getting new skills and new hope through workforce training that was not available two years ago. More than 50,000 high school students are learning skills and planning careers in schools and work transition programs. And every citizen has been free from the fear that their health insurance will be canceled just when they need it most.

Under Brian’s leadership, this House has achieved other successes that have benefitting every person in Washington. The most important educational reform since the Basic Education Act, the first major civil service reform in thirty years, the Washington Performance Partnership, the most sweeping ethics reform in the history of this state, tougher criminal laws that have helped to reduce crime in Washington each of the past two years. And a good start on welfare reform and regulatory reform.

Now most of these measures were achieved as they should have been with bi-partisan support and during his Speakership Brian has set a tone of bi-partisan cooperation. He appointed a juvenile justice task force with equal numbers of Democrats and Republicans to make what were the best recommendations seen last session on juvenile justice. And on the last day of the 94th Session he spoke out strongly for open conference committees in 1995, expecting to preside over those conference committees.

Now I’m not saying that Brian did all of this alone, but I am saying that his dedication and energy as Speaker have played a very significant role in these things occurring. In fact, he’s been a force in a remarkable number of personal legislative achievements in his twelve years in service. In 1995 as Chair of the Education Committee, Brian was the prime sponsor of the Bill originating levy equalization that gives the children in property poor tax districts a chance for a better education by borrowing that money from those property rich districts.

In 1989 he put together and shared the bipartisan taskforce between the House and Senate again with equal numbers of Republicans and Democrats and wrote the omnibus drug bill and he has worked tirelessly on the drug prevention efforts since that time. In 1989 he worked hard to create the branch campus programs for Washington State and the University of Washington. And in 1990 against all odds he worked with Republicans in the Senate and finally immersed the vocational technical schools with the community colleges. And that was an uphill battle that dates back twenty years.

In 1993 working with Representatives Sheldon and Conway and others he designed and pushed through the Workforce Training Act which has allowed thousands of unemployed workers to receive the retraining they need to get off of unemployment and back on the job.

Brian has a tremendous grasp of this political process, he has the ability to work with people from all different political viewpoints, he has the ability to bring us together and he has done so. As Majority Leader for six years and Speaker for two he has given us a great sense of commitment and fairness and a sense of humor and most importantly integrity to his job. Today we will elect a new Speaker who has earned our great respect, but I want to make sure that our out-going Speaker also receives some acknowledgement for those tremendous efforts, respect that his earned as a leader of this institution and for this reason I proudly nominate my friend, longstanding colleague, Brian Ebersole as Speaker of the House.

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Representative Ebersole: Thank you madame Chief Clerk, and thank you Marlin for those very kind words, you’ve been a good friend for twelve years. However I respectfully decline the nomination. I can count, in fact I used to be able to count to 65, and so the House will change hands, I feel better knowing that it will be in good hands of my good friend Clyde Ballard. It’s been a tremendous honor to serve as Speaker for this great institution, I thank you very much for that honor. I will treasure it always. It has been a tremendous privilege and pleasure to work with so many fine people over the years. And I look forward to continuing the friendships as we work together over this session. One word of advice, my friend, Mr. Speaker, tell your mother to grant no interviews.

SPEAKER’S ACCEPTANCE SPEECH

Mr. Speaker: My fellow representatives, friends, family and staff and most important fellow Washingtonians, Virtually everyone recognizes that the people of Washington delivered a very strong message on election day this past November. But the people have been sending us a message for quite some time. They want change in the way government operates. They want change in the way government spends THEIR hard-earned tax dollars. They want change in the way government treats them. All too often we get calls from constituents, or are stopped by people on the street who tell us they believe government is their enemy. Sadly when we follow up on these citizen complaints it frequently turns out the person was right government was NOT ON THEIR SIDE.

That is wrong. And it must change. Government is here to SERVE THE PEOPLE. Everyone in government starting with the governor and the Legislature and right on down through every nook and cranny of the bureaucracy MUST MAKE IT THEIR JOB TO SERVE THE BEST INTERESTS OF THE PUBLIC. There are many state employees and elected officials who are doing a great job who really care about people who are doing their best to make government work for the public.

Unfortunately the state officials and workers that citizens remember are the ones who send the message that: government has the power and there is nothing ordinary people can do about it. There have been too many instances in which state agencies and bureaucrats have overstepped their bounds. Too often state agencies have tried to set themselves up as policy makers and the simple fact is that the officials in the agencies are not accountable to the public.

Officials in state agencies are not elected they are not there to set policy THEY ARE THERE TO CARRY OUT THE POLICIES ADOPTED BY THE LEGISLATURE which is elected to represent the people.

Too often state agencies present a hardship to the public rather than providing help.

This kind of attitude should not and will not be tolerated.

This kind of attitude must change.

But it’s not just government’s attitude that needs change it’s government’s policies.

The people of Washington have been delivering a clear message that they believe government has grown out of control overstepped its bounds and lost touch with the needs and concerns of the public.

And there are many examples of policies which prove the people are right government IS out of touch the bureaucracy IS out of control.

ON CRIME the people see a justice system that government has allowed to become a joke to the criminals who threaten the personal safety of every Washingtonian.

The criminals who prey upon our families who attack the weak and vulnerable who thumb their noses at the law do so for a very basic reason: THEY THINK THEY CAN GET AWAY WITH IT.

The public understands that the only effective way to prevent crime and reduce the threat to our safety is to restore respect for the law by letting everyone know that committing a crime will result in serious consequences starting with the first offense.

It is not just the SEVERITY of criminal punishment that we must concern ourselves with but the CERTAINTY of punishment.

The people have delivered their message and WE HAVE BEEN LISTENING.

We will fight for meaningful reforms in our criminal justice system we will work for significant changes in our corrections system beginning with legislation introduced today.

ON HEALTH CARE the people have made it clear they do not want to lose their personal choice in selecting health-care coverage and providers.

The public DOES want reforms to ensure that coverage is available to everyone and people want action to control rising costs and help those who need help in obtaining care.

But people DO NOT believe government should dictate what coverage is available limit personal choice in health-care decisions or impose mandates that threaten to drive up health-care prices and cause the loss of jobs and wages.

Government overstepped its bounds by creating a health-care bureaucracy. The people have delivered their message and WE HAVE BEEN LISTENING.

We will fight for responsible reforms to make health care more available and more affordable to more people while fixing flaws and solving problems caused by the government-run health-care system adopted two years ago.

This effort begins today.
ON TAXES the people have made it clear they believe government has grown too much that money is wasted through inefficiency and poor management that the public is saddled with an excessive tax burden.

The people have delivered their message and WE HAVE BEEN LISTENING.
We will fight to identify and eliminate waste and inefficiency in government.
We will not only keep state spending within the limit established by Initiative 601 we will strive to control spending even further.
We will fight for property tax relief for everyone along with relief for those employers hit hardest by the huge tax increases imposed in 1993.
We will fight for new tax policies to encourage the creation of good new jobs in this state to make Washington communities more competitive in seeking new business to improve the economic security of their citizens.
This effort begins with legislation introduced today.

ON REGULATORY REFORM AND PROPERTY RIGHTS the people see that well-intentioned efforts to protect the public interest have resulted in excessive regulations and laws that give government too much control over our lives which restrict our personal rights.

The people have delivered their message and WE HAVE BEEN LISTENING.
We will work for TRUE regulatory reform to slow the growth of new regulations to get state agencies under control and to make sure that government’s role is to help people not place an undue burden on them.
This effort begins with legislation being introduced today.

ON WELFARE REFORM the public is frustrated by a system that fails to help and encourage able-bodied individuals to work their way off of welfare by a system that traps too many people in a cycle of dependency and despair by a system that fails to adequately address the problems of abuse and fraud.

The people have delivered their message and WE HAVE BEEN LISTENING.
We propose meaningful welfare reforms to provide real incentives for people to work to require that able-bodied recipients accept personal responsibility, along with their benefits to limit the time able-bodied individuals can remain on welfare and to fight welfare abuse and fraud.
This effort begins with legislation being introduced today.

On these issues and others we will move quickly to bring about the change the public is demanding.
And for a moment I want to talk about the legislative process itself including reforms that are needed to restore the public’s confidence in government to assure the people that we are responsible and accountable to them.
To begin with we must open up the legislative process.
We must make sure that the public is fully aware of what we are doing and that we provide the public with the opportunity to consider and comment on the legislation before it is enacted.
No longer will we allow last-minute legislation to be jammed through the process with little or no public scrutiny.

On critical issues we fully intend to act promptly.
But we will ALWAYS ensure the time is taken and opportunities provided to let people know what their elected representatives are doing on their behalf.
Among our efforts to open up the legislative process we insist that all conference committee meetings be open to the public and the media just as are other committee hearings.
Other reforms included in the new legislative rules will make the process more open and accountable and will protect the rights of the minority.
I deeply believe that every time you take away the rights of the minority or limit the public’s right to participate in the legislative process you destroy a part of the political system that makes this state and nation great.
I must confess that the world looks a lot different as I stand before you as speaker and with the gavel held firmly in my hand.
Many of you will recall that as leader of the minority over these past several years I argued for many of these reforms.
Now as leader of the House majority I face the reality that these changes may make it more challenging to get some of our legislation adopted and resolving many of our differences must be done in public view.
But when I was in the minority I believed this was the right thing to do and I believe that today.
I am pleased that my good friend, the minority leader, agrees with these changes.
This is a big step toward reassuring the people that this is THEIR government and in restoring the public’s faith in us as their representatives.
Let me also say that we will make every effort to ensure that the legislation we pass actually works the way it is supposed to.
Too often past attempts to force bills through the process resulted in laws that inflicted unintended or at least unexpected consequences upon the people of Washington.
As speaker of the House, I am committed to the principle that our success will be determined by the QUALITY AND VALUE of the legislation we adopt not by the QUANTITY of bills we pass.
Once again the people of Washington have delivered a strong message. We have heard that message. From listening to the people and learning from what they had to say we presented to the public a CONTRACT WITH WASHINGTON STATE.
That contract clearly laid out the changes we intend to seek in government changes based upon the CONCERNS the DESIRES and the HOPES of the people we serve.
Legislation to fulfill our promise of change is being introduced today.
Committee hearings will begin immediately.
And we will move promptly to adopt these measures.
We will make every effort to work together with our friends in the minority party as well as our colleagues across the rotunda to gain bipartisan support for these measures.
We will make every effort to work with the governor to enact measures that will give the people of Washington the change they WANT and DESERVE.
On virtually every issue in the Republican contract support for our proposals has been expressed by many Democrats as well which I hope will bode well for a spirit of cooperation.
Let me close by saying that I want us to set a high standard for how we conduct our business. In considering each piece of legislation, we must hold it to a strict test:
 Is it good for Washington families?
 Will it provide new opportunities for Washington citizens to improve the quality of their lives?
 Does it protect the personal rights and freedoms of the people?
 Will it ensure that individuals who work hard and make an investment will be supported by government rather than finding that government is an obstacle to their success?
What made this country great is the fact that people are allowed not only to dream but to FULFILL their dreams through hard work personal commitment and dedication. We must preserve this basic ideal by putting a stop to excessive government interference in people’s lives by adopting basic reforms that improve the way government operates and by removing unnecessary limitations on opportunity for all Washingtonians. This is the only way we can let the people know that we got their message, that we understand what they are saying and that we are prepared to respond.

Thank you.

ELECTION OF SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The Speaker announced that nominations were now in order for Speaker Pro Tempore.

Representative Silver: Thank you Mr. Speaker, and I really appreciate being able to say Mr. Speaker.
I am honored to nominate Representative Jim Horn for position of Speaker Pro Tempore. Let me tell you a little bit about him, he has worked with both parties, he does a good job and he looks and reads and finds out about issues carefully. He has served on the ethics board and he has also served on the Governor’s Ethic Commission, so that stands him in good stead that he’s very good. He’s a former Mayor of Mercer Island and he, for sixteen years he was on the City Council; a long time. He is a past and current member above many other boards of trustees and a community leader in his area.
Jim, when he tries to make money and support his family, he’s an engineer and he has thirty-one years of experience and also, because I thought was rather fascinating, he was a manager in the defense and space group at Boeing.
Jim would make an excellent Pro Tempore Speaker, I urge your approval of Jim Horn for Pro Tempore, and I urge your vote.

Representative Sheldon: Thank you Mr. Speaker I rise to second the nomination of Representative Jim Horn for the position of Speaker Pro Tempore.

Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentleman of the House, Justice Guy, distinguished guests and honored family and friends.
It has been a pleasure for me to serve in the legislature along side Representative Horn. Six years ago Jim brought to Olympia his engineers precise mind combined with a varied background in local government that included sixteen years of service on the Mercer Island City Council. Jim also has extensive private sector experience in management with the Boeing company. Jim is a senior member of the Republican caucus and works well with both sides of the isle.
Major legislation: improving air quality, preventing marine oil spills would not be in effect today without Jim’s bipartisan work. Jim will combine his formidable political and parliamentary strength to excel in the role of Speaker Pro Tempore, acting as a fair and impartial reading officer Representative Jim Horn will serve Washington’s 54th Legislature with distinction.

COMMITTEE OF HONOR

The Speaker appointed Representatives Silver and Sheldon to escort Speaker Pro Tempore Horn to the rostrum.

The Speaker instructed the Sergeant at Arms to escort Mrs. Horn to the rostrum.

REMARKS BY SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE HORN

Representative Horn: Justice Guy, Mr. Speaker, Members of the House of Representatives, distinguished guests, family and friends.

Thank you for the great honor that you have bestowed upon me to serve as the Speaker Pro Tempore of the Washington State House of Representatives in this 54th Legislature. I humbly accept the challenge. Thank you Representative Silver and Representative Sheldon for your kind remarks.

To Speaker Ballard, I stand ready to accept your biding - to preside over this body when asked, to lend assistance whenever and wherever you might seek my help and to conduct the business of the citizens of our state in a fair and equitable manner. I look forward to working with you and learning from you.

To my fellow members, I pledge that I will do my best to live up to your expectations-to be fair to each of you, to allow all sides of an issue to air their views before this august body, and to keep things moving briskly toward the completion of our task in this 105 day session.

I believe that these indeed are historic times. We have a great challenge before us to restore the confidence of our citizens in their elected officials, in us, and in our government. Our actions and our conduct on this floor, in this chamber, will be the framework for accomplishing this very large task. We must encourage the emotions of debate, make certain that the hoped for benefits and feared consequences of each legislative action are heard and considered. Should we go forward or wait, veer right or left, or make a mid-course change in our actions? Only through this deliberative, open and public process can we make the most sound choice, both individually and collectively.

We share a common bond to make this great State an even better place for us, our children, our grandchildren and generations to follow. While we have this bond, we have varying backgrounds, experiences, and visions on how best to achieve this end. The emotions of debate are to be both allowed and encouraged, however, we must remember that the debate is on the issue and not on one another. When the debate is over and the vote is cast, we must remain friends and colleagues as we go forward to meet the next challenge.

This reminds me of a comment of Speaker Emeritus John L. "O' brien in the closing paragraph of Daniel Jack Chasan's book "Speaker of the House, The Political Career and Times of John L. O'Brien." He notes Speaker Emeritus O'Brien's philosophical view of the workings of the House and the coalitions formed. I quote, "The legislature is like being involved in a contest. You go out on the floor of the House and you do the best you can. The roll call may go for you or the vote may go against you. It's just one of those things. But then, after it's over, you consider other issues. You don't get disturbed because something happened. It might stay with you for a while, but as far as being disappointed - you can't let it remain as a personal matter. Because there's always another roll call, there's always another day." end of quote.

We must all strive to work together to make this session of the 54th State Legislature the best that we can make it, the best that it can be.

Again, my gratitude for bestowing this great honor upon me.

COMMITTEE OF HONOR

ELECTION OF CHIEF CLERK

The Speaker announced that nominations were in order for Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives.

Representative Mielke: Thank you Mr. Speaker, it is with a great honor today that I place the nomination, the name of Mr. Timothy A. Martin for Chief Clerk with the House of Representatives with the State of Washington. The people have challenged us as legislators this year to change the way we do things, and in living up to that challenge and the formidable task to be resoundingly fair, we must be dedicated to moving forward and we must be conscientious in forming public policy. One person that holds all those qualities more than perhaps anyone I know is Tim Martin and I'm very proud to nominate him today.

I've known Tim and his family since 1986 when we were both working for the State Senate. Tim has a tremendous background, he obtained his juris-doctorate from the University of Puget Sound with honors, he's served in private law practice, he's served as a Law Clerk for the State Court of Appeals, he's moved to the caucus attorney position with the Senate Republican Caucus and from there he worked up to the position of Chief Legal Counsel where he's been for the past five years.

The one thing that I've found about Tim is that he's got this incredible sense of how to make things happen, how to be fair and how to be impartial. He's one of those people that he and his family put other people's goals ahead of theirs. He has spent literally hundreds of hours, weeks and months, if you will, working to make sure that other people are in a position to accomplish their goals. And in doing that in volunteering himself for those responsibilities he's gone from one political spectrum to the other and has represented all political philosophies. Like I say, he's done that with great honor, he's done that with great fairness, and with great openness and it's a very proud moment for me today to nominate Mr. Timothy A. Martin for Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives. And I hope that each and everyone of you will join me in supporting him for this position.

Representative Wolfe: Thank you Mr. Speaker, it is both a great honor and a great privilege for me to stand here today to second the nomination of Tim Martin for the position of Chief Clerk for the Washington State House of Representatives.

I have known Tim Martin by reputation for several years, I've known of his fine legislative work in the Senate since the 1980's and the wealth of legislative experience he brings to this job. But these are not the qualities of Tim Martin that impress me the most, the qualities about Tim Martin that impress me the most are the qualities I have observed in these short three to four weeks that I have personally known him, and these are a very strong sense of integrity, his honesty and his strong commitment to fairness to everyone on both sides of the aisle. It is very rare that I've had such a strong reaction to someone that I've known for such a short period of time, but I've indeed had that reaction with Tim Martin. I urge your support for Tim Martin for position of Chief Clerk.

MOTIONS

On motion of Representative Foreman, the nominations for Chief Clerk be closed.

On motion of Representative Foreman, a unanimous ballot was cast for Timothy A. Martin as Chief Clerk of the House.

COMMITTEE OF HONOR

The Speaker appointed Representatives Mielke and Wolfe to escort Timothy A. Martin to the rostrum.

Justice Guy administered the oath of office to Chief Clerk Martin.

REMARKS BY CHIEF CLERK MARTIN

Timothy A. Martin: Chief Clerk, Justice Guy, Mr. Speaker, Members of the House, and distinguished guests thank you. This is among the proudest moments of my life, but I'm going to state briefly and to the point because an even bigger event is imminent, my wife, Kim, seated in the wings is expecting the birth of our second child at any moment. And as we have the gift of great timing, the baby is now past due and I'll be to the point just in case my beeper goes off.

I'm blessed to have a wonderful wife, and a beautiful son Max who's sixteen months old and I would like to acknowledge them now for their patience and support. I would also like to thank my parents Jerry and Faye Martin without who's love and sacrifice I would not be standing here today. My thanks also for the professionalism and assistance of Chief Clerk Marilyn Showalter who has served the House with great distinction. Finally, I would like to thank a friend and mentor John Rico, who is seated at the rear of the chambers, who is a model of courage and a true inspiration for all.

My parents instilled in me a sense of service, and as I stand before the elected members of the House, I would like to congratulate each of you on what you have achieved and what you are about to achieve in the name of service to the people of the State of Washington. I share your optimism and your dedication for the goal of making our State a better place for our children.

And I consider it a great privilege to work under the leadership of Speaker Clyde Ballard. The Speaker has correctly reminded all of us of the paramount importance of protecting the freedom of the individual and of citizen democracy. He has challenged each of us to live up to and exceed the expectations of the people. As your Chief Clerk
I offer my full support towards that goal. We will strive to maintain a professionally run, cost effective, open and ethical process that will allow each of you to pursue the goals that brought you here, and allow the citizens of our State the voice that they deserve in the halls of our legislature. Thank you for the faith you have placed in me, it is an honor to serve you, thank you.

The Speaker thanks Justice Guy.

APPOINTMENT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The Speaker appointed Representatives Padden and Dellwo to escort Justice Guy of the Supreme Court from the House Chamber.

REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE FROM THE SENATE

The Sergeant at Arms announced the arrival of the special committee from the Senate and the Speaker instructed him to escort the special committee to the bar of the House.

The committee consists of Senators Wood, J. Kohl, Heavey and Finkbeiner advised the House that the Senate was organized and ready to conduct business.

The report was received and the special committee was escorted from the House Chamber.

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Representative Ebersole: Thank you Mr. Speaker, I rise to express our thanks to our outgoing Chief Clerk, Marilyn Showalter for her dedicated and conscientious service to the House of Representatives. In Marilyn’s year as Chief Clerk she has provided prudent, fair and intelligent and all of professional management of House operations. Perhaps because of her experience as counsel to the House of Appropriations Committee she has proved to be a tight fistled fiscal manager in tight fistled times.

Through spending cuts Marilyn was able to implement a budget that has been continually reduced in the last six years and still leaves a 1.4 million dollar surplus as we enter the last six months of the biennium. If you read Marilyn’s latest budget report you will be impressed to see that over a short period of time caucus staff has been cut in half, session staff has been cut by more than half, travel has been cut by more than thirty-percent. And equipment purchases have been cut by an astonishing 98% since 1991.

In a time when there’s a lot of talk about cost cutting this House under Marilyn’s leadership has already done it. In another area perhaps because of her legal background as an honors graduate of Harvard Law School, where she was a classmate of Representative Foreman, as a former prosecutor and a former counsel to Governor Spellman, Marilyn has helped guided to a trouble-free election season.

As you all know there is a maze of rules governing elected officials and their staffs regarding the appropriate use of public facilities during election seasons and at other times. With Marilyn’s wise counsel and assistance the House stands in good stead on this very important subject. As Chief Clerk Marilyn has been fair in her dealings with members and staff and she has always kept in mind the best interest of the House of Representatives. Whatever your next venture may be Marilyn, we all wish you will succeed and we know that you will do fine in your new career. Thank you very much for your dedicated service.

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Marilyn Showalter: Thank you. In this beautiful House Chamber we just witnessed a visual and physical display of the orderly transition of political power. And even though I’m on the outgoing side of this transition, I am terribly proud to be a part of it. Because this transition is a part of that greatest of American achievements--representative democracy.

Mr. Speaker, Representative Ebersole, and to you and the returning members, thank you for giving me the chance to be your Chief Clerk. It’s been a great honor and it’s been an experience I won’t soon forget. To the freshmen members I’ve enjoyed meeting you over the past several weeks and I wish you well. To all of our employees I know how hard you have worked and the sacrifices you have made in tight budget times, I am so grateful to you for your dedication, I will be cheering you on from the sidelines.

To all of you I want you to know how much I’ve enjoyed working on the transition with Tim Martin this past month, I think he will be a fine Chief Clerk and knowing what he’s about to say, I ask that you will cut him some slack, at least for a week or two. I feel a great affection and respect to the House and to all of you. Good Luck and Goodbye. Thank you.

The Speaker appointed Representatives Foreman and Ebersole to escort Marilyn Showalter from the House Chambers.

MESSAGE FROM THE SECRETARY OF THE STATE

The Honorable
Speaker of the House of Representatives
Legislature of the State of Washington

Mr. Speaker:

We herewith respectfully transmit for your consideration a copy of Initiative to the Legislature Number 159, originally filed with this office on April 8, 1994. On December 30, 1994, the sponsor of the proposed initiative filed 20,747 petition sheets in support of the measure. We have completed our preliminary canvass of these petition sheets and have determined that they contain 235,993 signatures.

Accordingly, pursuant to the provisions of Article 2, section 1 of the State Constitution, we are provisionally certifying Initiative to the Legislature Number 159 to you at this time. We expect to complete verification of signatures no later than February 13, 1995 and we will provide the Legislature with a final certification as soon as possible thereafter.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have set my hand and affixed the Seal of the State of Washington, this 9th day of January, 1995.

(Seal)

INITIATIVE 159

I, Ralph Munro, Secretary of State of the State of Washington and custodian of its seal, hereby certify that, according to the records on file in my office, the attached copy of Initiative Measure No. 159 to the Legislature is a true and correct copy as it was received by this office.

"AN ACT Relating to increasing penalties for armed crimes; amending RCW 9.94A.310, 9.94A.150, 9A.36.045, 9A.52.020, 9A.56.----, 9A.56.030, 9A.56.040, 9A.56.150, 9A.56.160, 9A.56.41, 9.41.40, and 10.95.020; reenacting and amending RCW 9.94A.320; adding new sections to chapter 9.94A RCW; adding a new section to chapter 9A.56 RCW; creating new sections; repealing 1994 1st sp. s c 7 s 510; repealing 1994 1st sp. s c 7 s 511; repealing 1994 1st sp. s c 7 s 512; and prescribing penalties."

BE IT ENACTED BY THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. FINDINGS AND INTENT. (1) The people of the state of Washington find and declare that:
(a) Armed criminals pose an increasing and major threat to public safety and can turn any crime into serious injury or death.
(b) Criminals carry deadly weapons for several key reasons including: Forcing the victim to comply with their demands; injuring or killing anyone who tries to stop the criminal acts; and aiding the criminal in escaping.
(c) Current law does not sufficiently stigmatize the carrying and use of deadly weapons by criminals, and far too often there are no deadly weapon enhancements provided for many felonies, including murder, arson, manslaughter, and child molestation and many other sex offenses including child luring.
(d) Current law also fails to distinguish between gun-carrying criminals and criminals carrying knives or clubs.
(2) By increasing the penalties for carrying and using deadly weapons by criminals and closing loopholes involving armed criminals, the people intend to:
(a) Stigmatize the carrying and use of any deadly weapons for all felonies with proper deadly weapon enhancements.
(b) Reduce the number of armed offenders by making the carrying and use of the deadly weapon not worth the sentence received upon conviction.
(c) Distinguish between the gun predators and criminals carrying other deadly weapons and provide greatly increased penalties for gun predators and for those offenders committing crimes to acquire firearms.
(d) Bring accountability and certainty into the sentencing system by tracking individual judges and holding them accountable for their sentencing practices in relation to the state’s sentencing guidelines for serious crimes.

Sec. 2. RCW 9.94A.310 and 1992 c 145 s 9 are each amended to read as follows:

FIREARM AND OTHER DEADLY WEAPON ENHANCEMENTS INCREASED.

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Representative Romero: Thank you Mr. Speaker. I wanted the members to notice the apples that were so graciously donated by the Washington Apple Growers. This commemorates one great big deal in our state today. The first shipment of apples arrived in Japan for sale. It's going to really mean a lot for our Washington economy. I also wanted to say that we also received a delegation from the Heiko pre-fixture which came to visit the Legislature today and they were on board the famous Northwest flight which also commemorates the first for our state. So I really and truly hope you enjoy your apple and please remember what the symbolism is.

SPEAKER’S PRIVILEGE

It is a pleasure and honor to join with the President of the Senate, Joel Pritchard in introducing the Governor of the State of Washington. Governor Mike Lowry has served our great state with distinction. He continues to serve the people of Washington with uncommon dedication and commitment. Throughout a career that has seen him work right here in the Legislative Committee process.

Served the people of King County on their County Council. Represent our State and the U. S. Congress and now providing leadership for all Washingtonians. As our Governor, Mike Lowry has remained a true, honest and steadfast servant of the people. In politics and government those of us in Public Service are judged both by our philosophies and our personal qualities. Well, we may not always share the same philosophy, it is our personal qualities that enables us to work together for the betterment of our state. From personal experience, I can ensure you that Mike Lowry is a man of honor. A man who is true to his beliefs and absolutely committed to what he believes to be the best interest of all citizens. Ladies and Gentlemen, I present to you the great state of Washington, Mike Lowry.
Thank you Mr. Speaker, Mr. President, distinguished members of the Supreme Court, Governor Rosellini distinguished state elected officials, members of the legislature and citizens of the great State of Washington. Thank you for the privilege of serving as your governor.

First, I know I speak for every person in the state in extending our condolences to the families and friends of the four Seattle firefighters who this week gave their lives in service. Our hearts and prayers go out to them.

I would like to begin by acknowledging the members of the Consular Corps of Washington, who are here today to representing many of the nations with which our state maintains bonds of friendship and of trade.

Your efforts help us create and expand markets in the rest of the world. To supply those markets, our people get up every morning and go to work to build the best airplanes, grow the best wheat and apples, design the best computer software, and develop a cure for cancer.

One in five jobs in Washington depends on trade. Trade sustains our economy and that economy in the past two years has put more Washingtonians to work than ever before. We welcome you and we value your friendship.

The history of Washington state is one of partnership, of people coming together to work for the progress of all the people of the state. It is a history of Democrats, Republicans and Independents, rising above short-term politics for the good of the state and more importantly for our children and grandchildren.

This ability to work together, to form partnerships for the common good, is our “Northwest Ethic.” As Governor, I see examples of that ethic at work every day.

It is that kind of Ethic we’ve seen working in Hoquiam. When the Grays Harbor Paper Company closed, local officials and a private citizen, Bill Quigg, put together a team of business, labor, state and federal representatives with the citizens of Grays Harbor County got that pulp mill running again and saved 300 jobs. Bill Quigg could not be here today, but Hoquiam Mayor Phyllis Shrauger is. Please join me in congratulating Bill Quigg, Mayor Shrauger and their whole team for their leadership.

We saw another example of our Northwest Ethic at work in Central Washington last summer, when public employees and private citizens joined together in a massive effort to control the nation’s largest forest fire. In less than 12 hours, our emergency response plan delivered to the scene more than 60 firefighting units and the end result was no loss of life and minimum loss of structures.

With us today is Ray Dobbs, of KOZI Radio on the shores of Lake Chelan. His station kept broadcasting the fire news 24 hours a day, providing critical information to the public. Also with us is Ed Small, Director of Emergency Services, and Richard Small, of Fire Protection Services. They represent the many fine state and other public employees who with Lands Commissioner Jennifer Belcher, Speaker Clyde Ballard, Senator George Sellar and Representative Dale Foreman worked night and day coordinating the massive response. We applaud you and all the people who worked with you.

This Northwest Ethic has made this a great state in which to live and raise a family. I am here to talk to you about continuing that Northwest Ethic of partnership for the good of the State of Washington.

I’d like you all to consider just how far that partnership has brought us in the past two years.

In two years:
- We cut unemployment from 7.8% to 6.1%. A 23% reduction.
- We cut growth in state staffing levels to less than zero, when for the past decade they had grown by an average of 5,000 positions every biennium.
- We cut the sky-rocketing costs of health care. Two years ago state employee premiums were increasing faster than 11% a year. This year we changed that 11% increase to a 6% decrease for a saving millions of dollars.
- These are only a few examples and we still have much to do but we are making excellent progress.

One message we’ve all heard loud and clear is that the voters want a smaller state government — one that operates efficiently and concentrates on top priorities. I agree and see this as one of our primary responsibilities.

The new budget I submitted to you last month takes additional steps to get government out of areas where it doesn’t need to be, while focusing on such key priorities as private sector jobs, public safety, education and protection of our Natural Resources.

It also holds the number of state employees to less than existed when I took office in 1993 — a dramatic reversal of the trend established over the past decade.

Reducing state employment to its lowest level in years will require courage. We sometimes have to disagree with our friends. I know many of my friends certainly disagree with me on this subject. Nevertheless, the cutbacks must go forward. We will have a smaller government. We will have a better government.

The most important reason we are able to have a smaller, better government is the dedication of hard-working, skilled state employees. My admiration for them grows daily. I admire them for what they do and how well they do it — and without receiving a cost-of-living adjustment in their pay for the past two years. On behalf of everyone in this chamber, I want to say to the State Employees in this state, thank you for a job well done.

Regulatory Reform
Smaller and better government means more efficient and less intrusive regulations. This week, I sent to you legislation that among other things, directs state agencies to focus on helping businesses comply with necessary rules, rather than penalizing them for minor infractions.

And I have requested additional funding to help local governments better coordinate growth management planning with existing environmental laws. These recommendations come from 16 months of hard work by the Regulatory Reform Task Force. This Task Force comprised of State Legislators and Representatives from business, labor, agriculture, conservation groups, State Agencies and Local Governments, has produced significant regulatory reform. Working together has again brought meaningful progress. I congratulate and thank them.

Reducing duplication regulations without removing those that protect the environment and public health and safety will help make our state a better place to live, raise a family, and hold a good paying job.

Good paying jobs are the top priority of the Lowry Administration. If everyone in the state had a family-wage job, 95% of the problems we deal with would be resolved.

Since this time two years ago, our economy has created 70,000 net new jobs. Despite a loss of 20,000 jobs in the Aerospace Industry and job losses in our timber and fishing communities, we nevertheless have 70,000 more people employed now than we did in 1992. That net growth in jobs is 10 times greater than the last time there were comparable Boeing cutbacks. Ten times greater.

But we cannot rest now. Investment incentives, regulatory reform, quality education, a quality environment safe communities are all important for a strong Washington economy.

I am offering for your approval a Manufacturing Tax Incentive that would create as many as 45,000 high-wage jobs in our state over the next four years, according to a report from the Association of Washington Business.

I am also putting before you a program to provide tax credits to companies that hire and train people now on Welfare. Over the next two years this measure would put 5,000 people to work at wages adequate to support their families and remove them permanently from the Welfare rolls. That's a good tax investment for the future that will pay for itself many times over.

It's easy to blame people on Welfare--or new immigrants--or anyone else having trouble securing a stable place in our society, where more and more good paying jobs are connected with getting a good--often technical--education. But the facts are that most people who have to ask the government for help are in their mid-40s and have recently lost their jobs. Many others are recently divorced single women with children. Mocking them, denying them aid, keeping their children from receiving medical care or going to school--does neither help them, nor does it help society. But providing them the tools to get a good job will help us all.

Public Education
Nothing the state does is more important for quality jobs and our society than education.

No state government investment is more important, and nearly one half of the General Fund Budget for the next two years will go to pay for schooling our youngsters.

For 20 years, young students have been staying after school for Aki Kurose's science club at Laurelhurst Elementary, where she teaches first grade. The 40-some youngsters in the club discuss science with University of Washington Physicists, Chemists, Zoologists and other Scientists. With Astronomers, they watched the meteor showers that recently stretched across our skies. Some former club members have now chosen careers in science.

In 1990, Ms. Kurose received the Presidential Award for excellence in teaching science and math for President George Bush. She is here today. Thank you, Aki; and will you please stand so we can thank you and the thousands of other educators in this state who daily make a difference in the lives of many, many children.

Because of a burgeoning population and the increasing educational demands of the job market, we expect a considerable rise in the number of students wanting to enter our excellent Higher Education system. Making sure that they have the chance for quality education is critically important to our top priority of family-wage jobs.

The Higher Education Tax Incentive that I am proposing would increase funding for student Financial Aid by nearly 50 percent. This will protect middle-income and lower-income families from being excluded from Higher-Education.

Altogether, I am asking you to approve measures that would increase the financial aid eligibility limits on family income that now, much too low $17,000 a year to as much, in some cases, as $55,000 a year.

We cannot afford to lose any of our leaders of tomorrow because they could not pay the cost of their education today.

Health Care
One thing we have done as a state that is also making a big difference in the lives of many children — and adults as well — is the adoption in 1993 of the Historic Washington Health Services Act.

In its first two years of existence, that new law will make 138,000 children from lower-income families eligible to receive health coverage — children who might otherwise be denied adequate care. And in our state, no one can be denied from health insurance because of a pre-existing condition or job change. Those are everyone in this chamber should be proud of. I am pleased to report that cost increases in private insurance claims have dropped to the lowest rate in seven years. An increase in insurance premiums for large companies in Washington state are about half the national average.

We must preserve the gains made under reform. We all need to keep working to achieve universal coverage and cost savings and we must not let special-interest lobbying keep us from that goal.

Natural Resources
We are the seventh fastest growing state in the nation. Every two years that increase equals the population of another Tacoma. As population grows, our sense of community comes under strain, as does our natural environment. We have threatened watersheds, and polluted and overdrawn sources of ground water, are choices are clear. We can restore our watersheds ourselves or we can wait and let the Federal Courts or Federal Government decide for us. Waiting would be politically shortsighted decision.

I am seeking your approval of a Water Policy/Salmon plan to fund local watershed and restoration efforts. This measure protects the environment and leaves a lasting legacy for our future generations.

Crime

We must also continue our efforts to address the growing problem of crime in our many communities. Not just as governor, but as a father, a son, and a husband. I share the public’s concern about crime and their anger at those who victimize innocent people.

I am asking in our Smart on Crime Initiative for tougher sentences for violent criminals. I remain unconvinced that we know how to cure the violence. Until we do, we must secure these people behind prison walls, and we must increase penalties for crimes committed with guns.

But we must also recognize that any realistic solution to our crime problems does not stop at the prison door. Anyone in law enforcement can tell you that criminal behavior is closely linked to joblessness, lack of education, domestic violence, fetal alcohol syndrome, and child abuse. The answer to these problems can be found in strong families and strong communities.

Last year, the Legislature approved the Youth Agenda designed to provide additional support in these areas. This year’s Smart on Crime Initiative would strengthen Law Enforcements ability to pick up runaways; support parents better, and increase their responsibility for their children. It would provide safe places to help troubled youth stay away from crime and violence, to protect them from abuse, and provide job training to those who need it. We all want to be tough on crime. To do that we also must be Smart on Crime.

Community Values

For two years, our Youth Agenda teams have been asking people: “What are the most important factors in the development of our youth?” The answer consistently has been that every child needs to know that there are adults who love them. Every child needs to know that there are adults who care.

The answer to our youth problems is in strong families, strong communities and adults who care. I grew up in a wonderful family in Eastern Washington. There were 14 in my High School graduating class. In our town everybody knew what everybody else was doing. Maybe we were snoopy but we had a sense of community. Every once in awhile, I would get into trouble, but there were always adults who would ask, “Have you seen Mike today?” because they cared.

Today we need that same caring.

Today, we must refuse to accept the Excuse that just because most of us now live in larger populations it is okay for us to ignore our responsibilities to our communities. Because it is Not. Everyone of us must make sure that each child in our community knows we care, — that each child knows we care today, and everyday in the future. That, more than anything else, is what we must put before political expediency.

Today, I am calling for a recommitment by all of us to community. A recommitment that will create family wage jobs; reduce crime; fight bigotry and discrimination; ensure health care; reduce traffic congestion; protect the environment and better the lives of our children.

None of these are partisan matters. They are above partisanship. They are the challenges our citizens expect us to meet. I know we can do that.

I know we can say “no” to partisan divisiveness and “yes” to working together for the common good of the state of Washington; “yes” to a Northwest Ethic of Partnership that will make our great state even greater.

Thank you for the honor of serving as your governor.

MOTION

On motion of Representative Foreman, the bills and resolution listed on today’s introduction sheet under the fourth order of business were referred to the committees so designated.

POINT OF ORDER

Representative Appelwick: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Again on today’s introduction sheet there are two bills; House Bill No. 1213 and House Bill No. 1215 which appear destined for committees that historically they would not have gone to. The first bill is a liability bill. Again, for the past eighteen or more years, those bills have been handled in the Law & Justice Committee. And the second bill is a matter of administrative procedure and rule making and all of the bills of similar like this year are in the Government Operations Committee and have been in the past. It appears to me that they are miss-referred. And I’m wondering if you can explain or give us guidance if they’ll be referred to the committees that they have historically been within the jurisdiction of.

SPEAKER’S RULING

Representative Appelwick, the Speaker understands your Point of Order to relate to House Rule 10 (A) which provides in pertinent part, “After the first reading the bill shall be referred to an appropriate committee.”

While the Speaker does not deny that the Committee on Law & Justice would be an appropriate committee to hear House Bill No. 1213, and the bill may very well be re-referred to that committee after it is considered by the Health Care Committee, The Speaker Rules that the Committee on Health Care is “an appropriate Committee” to receive House Bill No. 1213 which deals with the training of emergency service medical personnel and possible liability issues surrounding that training.

In a similar fashion the Speaker Rules that the committee on Agriculture & Ecology is an “appropriate committee” to receive House Bill No. 1215 which deals with new procedures for adopting rules for the departments of Agriculture & Ecology. The fact that the Committee on Governmental Operations may also have an interest and expertise in regulatory reform may well give rise to a re-referral of this measure after its consideration by the Agriculture & Ecology committee but it does not mean that Agriculture & Ecology should be precluded from receiving the legislation.

Your Point of Order is not well taken.

There being no objection, the House advanced to the fifth order of business.

MOTION

On motion of Representative Foreman, the bills and memorial listed on today’s introduction sheet under the fourth order of business were referred to the committees so designated.

POINT OF ORDER

Representative Appelwick: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Not to sound like a broken record but I see House Bill No. 1260 is again a liability or tort bill that for more than a decade would historically have gone to the Law & Justice Committee and that the immunity provisions in House Bill No. 1285 is also general liability provisions and I’m requesting the Speaker’s guidance in whether they will be re-referred to the Law & Justice Committee.

SPEAKER’S RULING

Thank you, Representative Appelwick. We’re going to send them to the committee so designated for the start of the process and then we’ll certainly give consideration whether they will be re-referred or not. My tendency on a number of these is that they will be sent to both committees but we’re going to take it on a case by case basis as we proceed.

Your point of order is not well taken.

There being no objection, the House advanced to the fifth order of business.

SPEAKER’S PRIVILEGE

Mr. Speaker: Thank you Mr. President, ladies and gentlemen of the House and Senate, honorable members of the Supreme Court of Washington, distinguished visitors and friends. It is my high honor and privilege today to introduce to you the new Chief Justice of the State Supreme Court, the Honorable Barbara Durham.
As you are all aware, Chief Justice Durham's swearing in this month was noteworthy, not only for the leadership she will bring to our state's judiciary, it was also historic because she is the first woman to serve as Chief Justice of the Washington Supreme Court. You may not know Chief Justice Durham made judicial history before. In 1980 as the first woman appellate judge in state history; and in 1984 as the first woman Chief Judge in the State Appellate Court System.

Today, Chief Justice Durham is the only sitting member of the State Supreme Court who's served at all four levels of our judiciary.

Chief Justice Durham began her judicial career with appointment to the Mercer Island District Court in 1977. She was elected to the King County Superior Court. In 1980 she was appointed to the State Court of Appeals. And since 1985 she has sat on the Supreme Court.

Chief Justice Durham has distinguished herself not only on the bench but throughout her legal career serving in numerous public and private leadership roles.

It is my pleasure to present to you, the Honorable Barbara Durham, Chief Justice of the Washington State Supreme Court.

STATE OF THE JUDICIARY SPEECH
CHIEF JUSTICE BARBARA DURHAM
JANUARY 23, 1995

Thank you for inviting me here today. I am honored to stand before you to report on the state of the judiciary. You are about to hear not only where the judiciary has been but also where we aspire to go. I will describe not only what we’ve accomplished, but how, by working together as legislature and judiciary, we can renew our common commitment to justice, and revitalize our state’s judicial branch of government.

When I reviewed what our judges accomplished this past year, I was amazed. We have nearly 400 judges in our state courts. Last year they disposed of more than two million cases (that's an average of eight thousand cases every working day!). They also sentenced some 275 thousand defendants. What I admire most in these hard working women and men is their dedication to justice. To them, justice is a duty, a responsibility, and a public trust.

Now, let me turn to three pressing judicial issues that you in this legislature can help us resolve. They are: The process by which judges are selected; The optimum size of the Supreme Court; And, the way the Chief Justice is chosen.

First, let’s look at the way we select our judges. As we all know, the integrity of the judicial system depends on the quality of its members. Yet, how we choose quality judges has been a source of confusion. In a poll conducted last week by telephone, two-thirds of the voters polled said that they lacked sufficient information to intelligently choose judicial candidates. The question is: How can we increase this information so that voters know who they’re voting for? Judges themselves are unable to provide this information. Our state’s Code of Judicial Conduct states that judges cannot announce their view on disputed legal and political issues. Some states have recommended that judges be elected on the basis of a sophisticated merit system. Others suggest that citizens get a judicial voter’s pamphlet.

I believe that what we need to do is to give this matter careful and thoughtful consideration. Therefore, in order to reduce this confusion and improve the selection process, the Governor and I are announcing today the formation of a Judicial Election Review Commission. This citizen-based Commission will work with legislative leaders, judges and others to review all aspects of judicial selection. Their charge will be to hold public meetings, take testimony, review methods used in other states, and report their recommendations by the end of the year. I will work closely with Representative Ballard, Senator Gaspard, Governor Lowry, and others to appoint Commission members as soon as possible.

I have heard from Representative Jennifer Dunn and from City of Seattle Mayor Norm Rice -- both of whom support the Commission. As Representative Dunn stated: "Voters want and deserve more information about judicial elections. A review of the alternatives by a thoughtful Judicial Election Commission would provide some much needed perspective."

The second issue I wish to bring to your attention is the size of our state's Supreme Court. Presently, we have a court made up of nine members, as do the supreme courts in only six other states. However, the majority of states in the country have fewer members: Alaska has five members, Oregon has seven, and California seven. Twenty-five years ago in our state, former Senator Wes Uhlman and then Justice Walter McGovern suggested that our Supreme Court could operate as well with seven members. Just last Thursday in Seattle, speaking to the University of Washington Law School, Justice Utter recommended that the Supreme Court be reduced from nine to seven judges. I concur in these recommendations.

According, I have been working with House and Senate leadership to draft a constitutional amendment to provide for this reduction through normal attrition. If passed by voters, the next two vacancies to occur on the bench would not be filled. This reduction to seven justices would improve the court’s circulation, communication and administration, and eventually save our taxpayers, we estimate, more than one million dollars.

This reduction effort, however, will require serious leadership to place this issue before the public in November and to sponsor the necessary legislation. Both the House and Senate have demonstrated this leadership. Senator Adam Smith and Representative Mike Padden are the prime sponsors and many others have signed on our bills.

A third fundamental change in our court structure that I propose is the way our Chief Justice is chosen. Currently, the role of Chief Justice is automatically assigned to a member of the court based on a combination of timing, seniority, and matriculation, whereas the American Bar Association recommends that Supreme Court members choose the Chief Justice "on the basis of legal competence and administrative ability."

In 1990, the Washington Commission on Trial Courts, chaired by William Gates, the past president of the State Bar Association, recommended that in order to change the method of selection of the Chief Justice, the state constitution should be amended. Mr. Gates is present in the audience today. The Commission believed that "changing the way in which the Chief Justice is selected and extending the Chief Justice’s term could have far-reaching effects on the overall management of the court system."

In a recent survey of all Washington judges, 70 percent preferred a method of selecting the Chief Justice other than rotation. In the court of appeals and most of our trial courts, the presiding judges are elected by their peers. Therefore, in addition to the constitutional amendment to reduce the size of the Supreme Court, we are also submitting a proposal to choose the Chief Justice by means of election. You, as Representatives and Senators, can assist us in accomplishing these important pieces of legislation. I understand that the bills were delivered to the Bill Room this morning and are available in each chamber. I invite each of you to join our renewal effort by signing on as a co-sponsor.

As you all know, as long as there have been courts, there have been supporters and critics of the judicial system. Shakespeare’s Hamlet bemoaned the law’s delay. Dickens wrote about a seemingly endless chancery case. I’m proud to say that our judiciary has already undertaken many bold and innovative projects to improve the administration of justice in this state. Let me enumerate some of these projects for you.

First, we are improving our Supreme Court circulation procedures, especially with regard to opinion filings. Gladstone said, "Justice delayed is justice denied." Justice is truly denied with litigants have to wait years for resolution of their appeal. Two weeks ago in my inaugural remarks, I proposed that opinions of the Supreme Court should be published within the same year they are argued. This is in keeping with the United States Supreme Court which files all cases heard that year at the end of the Spring Term. We should do likewise.

Therefore, we will consider: Reducing the length of appellate opinions; Shortening the time allowed for circulation; And consolidating our hearing schedules.

We will continue to search for ways to improve the appeals process as we did recently by expediting more than 200 DUI cases, saving virtually one full year of appellate time. In our effort to make improvements, we consider nothing too sacred to be reviewed, and no alternative unworthy of consideration.

Another priority we must tackle is the issue of domestic violence. Domestic violence is a pervasive and systemic problem, and it is the number one cause of injury to women in this country. The number of domestic violence petitions filed in our courts in the past five years has increased by more than 400 percent. No other case type has been increasing more dramatically.

The branches of government must work together to combat and eradicate this devastating scourge. Two weeks ago, I met with Justice Guy, the chairperson of the Gender and Justice Commission, to lay the foundation for a Domestic Violence Summit. With the cooperation of Attorney General Christine Gregoire, the Domestic Violence Summit can provide a forum for the exchange of information, for identifying ways to reinforce the services already being provided, and to adopt a plan of action to do what needs to be done. Invitations will be sent to participants from all three branches of government, both state and local. We can and we must work together to combat family violence.

And now a third project. During my term as Chief Justice, I intend to launch two major initiatives to improve access to our justice system. How many of you know where most cases in this state are filed? Ninety percent of all cases are filed in the courts of limited jurisdiction: the district and municipal courts, or the "people courts." And yet, our survey identified a growing concern among judges that these services provided in these courts vary widely across the state.

Therefore, I propose a comprehensive assessment of the services and operation of the district and municipal courts. Our objective is to inventory these courts to ensure that all citizens in this state have equal access to justice. We'll take a look, for example, at how probation services are monitoring defendant behaviors, and thereby ensuring public safety. We'll examine these court's procedures for granting protection orders in domestic violence cases, to make sure that in more rural areas, these courts have the ability to readily accommodate persons in need of protection.

Another thing we will do to further citizen access to justice is to televise, for the first time,
Supreme Court oral arguments. In conjunction with T.V.W., a state level television network like C-Span, we will also invite the public into the courtroom. I hope to follow these broadcasts with informal citizen roundtables to explain the appellate process and answer their questions.

Another project in our effort to streamline and reduce expenditures is to attempt to contain the rising costs of indigent defense. Our Constitution requires that every person charged with a crime has the right to an attorney. If a defendant cannot afford an attorney, one is provided at government expense. If people are to maintain their respect for the courts and the constitutional right to an attorney, we must demonstrate that defendants who are able to pay for their own attorney do so, and that those who can pay some of the costs also contribute. Other states are already doing this.

We are preparing legislation for your consideration to establish cost recovery programs, with a mechanism for screening and evaluating indigency. Every person who has a legitimate right to a public attorney will continue to be represented. We want to be able to show that these persons are, in fact, in need.

The Supreme Court is also examining ways to streamline how we conduct business. One recommendation of the National Center for State Courts is to privatize some of the services now provided by the Reporter of Decisions office. The Reporter's office is responsible for issuing the written opinions of the Washington Supreme Court and the Court of Appeals. We've been able to reorganize the Reporter's office, reduce staff, and we hope to be able to publish reports more expeditiously. We will be seeking your approval of a bill to recover the costs of producing these reports. Currently, for example, statute requires that the Supreme Court purchase 300 copies of each published volume and provide them at no cost to a variety of government users. We are proposing legislation that would dramatically reduce that number.

As you know, the decisions a judge made are only as good as the evidence and information put before the court. This is particularly important, for example, in DUI cases. The judge needs to know whether the defendant being sentenced has an outstanding warrant or is on a deferred prosecution program. This year we expanded the statewide database for all misdemeanor defendants within our Judicial Information System.

Courts and criminal justice agencies across the state, from Seattle to Omak, can access the database to make sure that defendants are being sentenced appropriately. We will soon have nearly 90 percent of all misdemeanor criminal history in the state accessible on the JIS system.

A project we are also proud of is our new method of recruiting juries. Sometimes our jury system is viewed skeptically. As Robert Frost once remarked: "A jury consists of twelve persons chosen to decide who has the better lawyer." While this may be true right now in Los Angeles, we have taken steps in Washington state to improve our system.

If citizens are to maintain respect for justice, our jury system must reflect the diversity and faces of our society. Since September, our trial courts have begun drawing jurors from a combined list of registered voters and licensed drivers. This basic change in jury composition came about through authority granted jointly by the legislature, through statute, and by the Supreme Court through court rule.

The two results of this change are: a much larger pool of citizens from which to draw jurors, and a more diverse representation of the community for this most important civic duty. I am pleased to report on the cooperative effort between the courts, our Secretary of State, Ralph Munro, numerous executive branch agencies, and local officials, that led to this improvement in the jury system.
This past year, our judicial system took a long look in the mirror and did some careful soul searching. Last spring, every judge in this state was invited to take a first-ever judicial survey. This rigorous 150-question survey aimed to find out how the judiciary is working, what it is doing well, and what can be improved.

A total of 63 percent of all state judges responded. Here are some of their tabulated responses. Ninety-three percent of our judges indicated that the Sentencing Reform Act should be re-evaluated. The same number noted that we face increasing demands from pro se litigants (those without attorneys). Ninety-two percent believe that excessive litigation costs diminished the public confidence in our courts. Eighty-two percent indicated that crowded dockets prevent access to courts. And 82 percent felt that our courts could become more efficient by using telephonic motions and video arraignments.

Already, our judges are taking advantage of computer technology. Starting in March, district and municipal courts will begin issuing computer-generated snapshots of DUI cases. For the first time, judges will have reports that show the person’s conviction and dismissal rate, plus the success and failure rates of deferred prosecution treatment programs. This means that judges will be able to match cases with cases filed in other courts, to see how their sentencing and fining practices compare with those of others.

These reports will help all of us understand better how we make decisions, how prosecutors charge, how attorneys defend, and how judges sentence. And yes, this information will be available to you and to the public. I am proud that our district and municipal court judges have clearly demonstrated their willingness to be accountable for their decisions in this important area of the law.

That, in a nutshell, is the state of the judiciary. As we enter the final half decade of this century, I think all of us can be proud of our accomplishments and encouraged by the prospect of being able to render even greater justice to the citizens of Washington state. I personally look forward to working together with you to further the causes that have brought us all here to serve.

In the words of a great American jurist, “The court’s only armor is the cloak of public trust; its sole ammunition, the collective hopes of our society.” I look forward to increasing that public trust, and keeping alive in all our citizens, their hope for justice.

Thank you.

MESSAGE FROM THE SECRETARY OF STATE

The Honorable Speaker of the House of Representatives

Mr. Speaker:

As required by Article II, Section 1, of the State Constitution and RCW 29.79.200, we herewith respectfully certify that we have completed the verification of the signatures on Initiative to the Legislature 159, a copy of which was preliminarily certified to you on January 9, 1995, and we have determined that the initiative contains the signatures of at least 181,667 legal voters of the State of Washington. Therefore, we hereby certify that initiative to the Legislature 159 is qualified to appear on the state general election ballot unless approved by the Legislature during this session.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand, and affixed the Seal of the State of Washington, this 23rd day of January, 1995.

(Seal)

Ralph Munro, Secretary of State

CERTIFICATION OF INITIATIVE TO THE LEGISLATURE 159

Pursuant to Article II, Section 1 of the Washington State Constitution, RCW 29.79.200, and WAC 434-79-010, the office of the Secretary of State has caused the signatures submitted in support of Initiative to the Legislature 159 to be examined in the following manner:

1) It was determined that 235,993 signatures were submitted by the sponsors of the initiative. A random sample of 17,089 signatures was taken from those submitted;
2) Each sampled signature was examined to determine if the signer was a registered voter of the state, if the signature was reasonably similar to the one appearing on the record of that voter, and if the same signature appeared more than once in the sample. We found 15,263 valid signatures, 1,772 that were invalid due to non-registration or improper form, and 54 pairs of signatures duplicated signatures in the sample;

3) We calculated an allowance for the chance error of sampling (64) by multiplying the square root of the number of invalid signatures by 1.5;

4) We estimated the upper limit of the number of signatures on the initiative petition which were invalid (25,355) by dividing the sum of the number of invalid signatures in the sample and allowance for the chance of error of sampling by the sampling ratio;

5) We determined the maximum allowable number of pairs of signatures on the petition (28,971) by subtracting the sum of the number of signatures required by Article II, Section 1 of the Washington State Constitution (181,667) and the estimate of the upper limit of the number of invalid signatures on the petition from the number of signatures submitted;

6) We determined the expected number of pairs of signatures in the sample (151) by multiplying the square of the sampling ratio by the maximum allowable number of pairs of signatures on the initiative petition;

7) We determined the acceptable number of pairs of signatures in the sample (130) by subtracting 1.65 times the square root of the expected number of pairs of signatures in the sample; and

8) Since the number of pairs of signatures in the sample is less than the acceptable number of pairs of signatures in the sample, I hereby declare Initiative to the Legislature 159 to be sufficient.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the Seal of the State of Washington this 23rd day of January, 1995.

(Seal)

Ralph Munro, Secretary of State

There being no objection, the House advanced to the fourth order of business.

RESOLUTION

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 95-4608, by Representatives Talcott, Wolfe, D. Schmidt, Dyer, Carrell, Cairnes, Robertson, Huff, Polesky, Foreman, Sherstad, Hargrove, Skinner, Elliot, Ballasiotes, Buck, Radcliff, Goldsmith, Honeyford, McMahan, Sheahan, Clemens, Conway, Van Luven, L. Thomas, Carlson, Johnson, Thompson, Brumsickle, Hatfield, Chandler, Hankins, Campbell, Cooke, Backlund, Lambert and Casada

WHEREAS, Over nine thousand men and women of the Washington National Guard continue to serve the country as a key part of our national defense; and

WHEREAS, These citizen soldiers who reside in every legislative district throughout Washington volunteer their time and personal efforts to serve the needs of the people of Washington State; and

WHEREAS, The Guard is assisting local communities with their health needs through Operation Guardcare, a program under which medical personnel give care to medically underserved areas through inoculations and wellness services; and

WHEREAS, The Guard is active in promoting positive activities for the youth of our state through active involvement in the DARE program, drug demand reduction presentations at local schools, and Camp Minuteman, a motivational summer youth experience at Camp Murray; and

WHEREAS, The Guard makes a major contribution to our state's war on drugs by providing soldiers and equipment in support of local law enforcement through thirty-five different agencies. These counterdrug support efforts by our men and women last year contributed to over 9,000 drug-related arrests, seizures, and destruction of millions of dollars of illegal drugs; and

WHEREAS, The Guard continues its high priority support for local communities by opening armories for public use for classes, food banks, and community and youth activities. The Guard also answered numerous calls for assistance from local communities for missions varying from traditional color guards to hauling food in support of anti-hunger initiatives; and

WHEREAS, The Guard added another bright chapter in its history as an essential part of our state's ability to protect lives and property in the event of natural disasters. The Guard provided a major portion of the equipment and fire fighting and support personnel in the state effort to fight the Central Washington wildfires in August of 1994. Over 3,500 Guard soldiers and seven hundred pieces of equipment operated in the five fire areas during the height of the fire danger. These soldiers and airpersons gave up time from their jobs and families to preserve lives and safety in endangered local communities. They accomplished their missions in the face of constant danger and adversity with no loss of life or significant injury. Their actions represent a continuation of the great tradition of sacrifice and service to Washington as shown in the Mt. St. Helens eruption, Spokane wildfires, floods in Skagit county, and the 1993 Inauguration Day windstorm;
NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington State House of Representatives recognize and applaud the members of the Washington National Guard for their exceptional dedication, pride, and professional service to the State of Washington; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Washington State House of Representatives express its appreciation to the families and employers of our Guard soldiers and airpersons for their support without which the Guard’s mission could not be successful; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives specifically and particularly recognize the value of a strong Washington National Guard to the economy and well-being of this state, both through the occasional performance of its state disaster relief mission, and through the ongoing benefit to local communities by the presence of productively employed, drug-free, and efficiently trained Guard units and the armories that house them; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be immediately transmitted to the Adjutant General of the Washington National Guard, the Governor of the State of Washington, the Secretary of the Army, the Secretary of the Air Force, and to the President of the United States.

Representative Talcott moved adoption of the resolution.

Representatives Talcott, D. Schmidt, Wolfe and Dyer spoke in favor of the adoption of the resolution.

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Representative Morris: Thank you Mr. Speaker. I would suggest that this body collectively and individually is probably a little better at passion that at protocol for the flag. So that I would ask you, Mr. Speaker if you would distribute to us before the next session, what the proper protocol is on when we are to put our hand over our heart as the flag passes by and when we are to take it down. Because I think if we were to look at each other during that time we would see that there is absolutely no uniformation. Now when I was in school and afraid of stealing pens from the Post Office, I did know when to put my hand over my heart and when to take it down. So if you could just refresh our memories that would be helpful. Thank you.

Representatives Dickerson, Hatfield, Cody, Romero, Patterson and Appelwick spoke against final passage of the memorial.

SECOND READING

Implementing regulatory reform.

The Speaker declared the House to be at ease.

The Speaker called the House to order.

POINT OF INQUIRY
Representative Appelwick: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. On today's fourth order read-in sheet House Bill No. 1546 with the read-in sheet titles enacting the anti cancer act of 1995. On consulting the bill, the title actually studies the cancer risks of abortion. Will the scope of the bill be controlled by the rather broad title that was embedded in the bill, and shown on the read-in sheet, or will the Speaker be ruling on scope and object and conformance with the title?

SPEAKER'S RULING

Representative Appelwick, the scope and object of a bill is determined by looking at the actual title and content of specific legislation. The short title of an act which appears on the introduction sheet is not generated by the House and has no role in determining the scope and object of a bill.

There being no objection, the House advanced to the eleventh order of business.

MOTION

On motion of Representative Horn, the House adjourned until 9:55 a.m., Tuesday, January 31, 1995.

SB 5038 Prime Sponsor, Senator Quigley: Extending time periods for certain health care reform activities. Reported by Committee on Health Care

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendment:

(1) The health care authority is hereby designated as the single state agent for purchasing health services.

(2) On and after January 1, 1995, at least the following state-purchased health services programs shall be merged into a single, community-rated risk pool: Health benefits for employees of school districts and educational service districts; health benefits for state employees; health benefits for eligible retired or disabled school employees not eligible for parts A and B of medicare; and health benefits for eligible state retirees not eligible for parts A and B of medicare. Beginning July 1, 1995, the basic health plan shall be included in the risk pool. The administrator may develop mechanisms to ensure that the cost of comparable benefits packages does not vary widely across the risk pools before they are merged. At the earliest opportunity the governor shall seek necessary federal waivers and state legislation to place the medical and acute care components of the medical assistance program, the limited casualty program, and the medical care services program of the department of social and health services in this single risk pool. Long-term care services that are provided under the medical assistance program shall not be placed in the single risk pool until such services have been added to the uniform benefits package. On or before January 1, 1997, the governor shall submit necessary legislation to place the purchasing of health benefits for persons incarcerated in institutions administered by the department of corrections into the single community-rated risk pool effective on and after July 1, 1997.

(3) At a minimum, and regardless of other legislative enactments, the state health services purchasing agent shall:

(a) Require that a public agency that provides subsidies for a substantial portion of services now covered under the basic health plan or a uniform benefits package as adopted ((by the Washington health services commission as provided in)) and from time to time revised pursuant to RCW 43.72.130, use uniform eligibility processes, insofar as may be possible, and ensure that multiple eligibility determinations are not required;

(b) Require that a health care provider or a health care facility that receives funds from a public program provide care to state residents receiving a state subsidy who may wish to receive care from them consistent with the provisions of chapter 492, Laws of 1993, and that a health maintenance organization, health care service contractor, insurer, or certified health plan that receives funds from a public program accept enrollment from state residents receiving a state subsidy who may wish to enroll with them under the provisions of chapter 492, Laws of 1993;

(c) Strive to integrate purchasing for all publicly sponsored health services in order to maximize the cost control potential and promote the most efficient methods of financing and coordinating services;

(d) Annually suggest changes in state and federal law and rules to bring all publicly funded health programs in compliance with the goals and intent of chapter 492, Laws of 1993;

(e) Consult regularly with the governor, the legislature, and state agency directors whose operations are affected by the implementation of this section.

Sec. 2. RCW 41.05.200 and 1993 c 492 s 228 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The Washington state group purchasing association is established for the purpose of coordinating and enhancing the health care purchasing power of the groups identified in subsection (2) of this section. The purchasing association shall be administered by the administrator.

(2) The following organizations or entities may seek the approval of the administrator for membership in the purchasing association:

(a) Private nonprofit human services provider organizations under contract with state agencies, on behalf of their employees and their employees' spouses and dependent children;

(b) Individuals providing in-home long-term care services to persons whose care is financed in whole or in part through the medical assistance personal care or community options program entry system program as provided in chapter 74.09 RCW, or the chore services program, as provided in chapter 74.08 RCW, on behalf of themselves and their spouses and dependent children;

(c) Owners and operators of child day care centers and family child care homes licensed under chapter 74.15 RCW and of preschool or other child care programs exempted from licensing under chapter 74.15 RCW on behalf of themselves and their employees and employees' spouses and dependent children; and

(d) Foster parents contracting with the department of social and health services under chapter 74.13 RCW and licensed under chapter 74.15 RCW on behalf of themselves and their spouses and dependent children.

(3) In administering the purchasing association, the administrator shall:

(a) Negotiate and enter into contracts on behalf of the purchasing association's members in conjunction with its contracting and purchasing activities for employee benefits plans under RCW 41.05.075. In negotiating and contracting with insuring entities on behalf of employees and purchasing association members, two distinct pools shall be maintained.

(b) Review and approve or deny applications from entities seeking membership in the purchasing association:
(i) The administrator may require all or the substantial majority of the employees of the organizations or entities listed in subsection (2) of this section to enroll in the purchasing association.

(ii) The administrator shall require, that as a condition of membership in the purchasing association, an entity or organization listed in subsection (2) of this section that employs individuals pay at least fifty percent of the cost of the health insurance coverage for each employee enrolled in the purchasing association.

(iii) In offering and administering the purchasing association, the administrator may not discriminate against individuals or groups based on age, gender, geographic area, industry, or medical history.

(4) On and after July 1, 1995, the uniform benefits package and schedule of premiums and point of service cost-sharing adopted and from time to time revised (by the health services commission) pursuant to (chapter 492, Laws of 1993) RCW 43.72.130 shall be applicable to the association.

(5) The administrator shall adopt preexisting condition coverage provisions for the association as provided in RCW 48.20.540, 48.21.340, 48.44.480, and 48.46.550.

(6) Premiums charged to purchasing association members shall include the authority's reasonable administrative and marketing costs. Purchasing association members may not receive any subsidy from the state for the purchase of health insurance coverage through the association.

(7)(a) The Washington state group purchasing association account is established in the custody of the state treasurer, to be used by the administrator for the deposit of premium payments from individuals and entities described in subsection (2) of this section, and for payment of premiums for benefit contracts entered into on behalf of the purchasing association's participants and operating expenses incurred by the authority in the administration of benefit contracts under this section. Moneys from the account shall be disbursed by the state treasurer by warrants on vouchers duly authorized by the administrator.

(b) Disbursements from the account are not subject to appropriations, but shall be subject to the allotment procedure provided under chapter 43.88 RCW.

Sec. 4. RCW 43.72.040 and 1994 c 4 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

The commission has the following powers and duties:

(1) Ensure that all residents of Washington state are enrolled in a certified health plan to receive the uniform benefits package, regardless of age, sex, family structure, ethnicity, race, health condition, geographic location, employment, or economic status.

(2) Endeavor to ensure that all residents of Washington state have access to appropriate, timely, confidential, and effective health services, and monitor the degree of access to such services. If the commission finds that individuals or populations lack access to certified health plan services, the commission shall:

(a) Authorize appropriate state agencies, local health departments, community or migrant health clinics, public hospital districts, or other nonprofit health service entities to take actions necessary to assure such access. This includes authority to contract for or directly deliver services described within the uniform benefits package to special populations; or

(b) Notify appropriate certified health plans and the insurance commissioner of such findings. The commission shall adopt by rule standards by which the insurance commissioner may, in such event, require certified health plans in closest proximity to such individuals and populations to extend their catchment areas to those individuals and populations and offer them enrollment.

(3) Adopt necessary rules in accordance with chapter 34.05 RCW to carry out the purposes of chapter 492, Laws of 1993. An initial set of draft rules establishing at least the commission's organization structure, the uniform benefits package, and standards for certified health plan certification, must be submitted in draft form to appropriate committees of the legislature by December 1, 1994.

(4) Establish and modify as necessary, in consultation with the state board of health and the department of health, and coordination with the planning process set forth in RCW 43.70.520 a uniform set of health services based on the recommendations of the health care cost control and access commission established under House Concurrent Resolution No. 4443 adopted by the legislature in 1990.

(5) ([Establish and modify as necessary]) Make recommendations to the legislature for the uniform benefits package as provided in RCW 43.72.130, which shall be offered to enrollees of a certified health plan. The benefit package shall be provided at no more than the maximum premium specified in subsection (6) of this section.

(6)(a) Establish for each year a community-rated maximum premium for the uniform benefits package that shall operate to control overall health care costs. The maximum premium cost of the uniform benefits package in the base year 1995 shall be established upon an actuarial determination of the costs of providing the uniform benefits package and such other cost impacts as may be deemed relevant by the commission. Beginning in 1996, the growth rate of the premium cost of the uniform benefits package for each certified health plan shall be allowed to increase by a rate no greater than the average growth rate in the cost of the package between 1990 and 1993 as actuarially determined, reduced by two percentage points per year until the growth rate is no greater than the five-year rolling average of growth in Washington per capita personal income, as determined by the office of financial management.

(b) In establishing the community-rated maximum premium under this subsection, the commission shall review various methods for establishing the community-rated maximum premium and shall recommend such methods to the legislature by December 1, 1994. The commission may develop and recommend a rate for employees that provides nominal, if any, variance between the rate for individual employees and employees with dependents to minimize any economic incentive to an employer to discriminate between prospective employees based upon whether or not they have dependents for whom coverage would be required.

(c) If ((the commission adds or deletes)) services or benefits are added to or deleted from the uniform benefits package in subsequent years, ((±)) the commission may increase or decrease the maximum premium to reflect the actual cost experience of a broad sample of providers of that service in the state, considering the factors enumerated in (a) of this subsection and adjusted actuarially. The addition of services or benefits shall not result in a redetermination of the entire cost of the uniform benefits package.

(d) The level of state expenditures for the uniform benefits package shall be limited to the appropriation of funds specifically for this purpose.

(7) Determine the need for medical risk adjustment mechanisms to minimize financial incentives for certified health plans to enroll individuals who present lower health risks and avoid enrolling individuals who present higher health risks, and to minimize financial incentives for employer hiring practices that discriminate against individuals who present higher health risks. In the design of medical risk distribution mechanisms under this subsection, the commission shall (a) balance the benefits of price competition with the need to protect certified health plans from any unsustainable negative effects of adverse selection; (b) consider the development of a system that creates a risk profile of each certified health plan's enrollee population that does not create disincentives for a plan to control benefit utilization, that requires contributions from plans that enjoy a low-risk enrollee population to plans that have a high-risk enrollee population, and that does not permit an adjustment of the premium charged for the uniform benefits package or supplemental coverage based upon either receipt or contribution of assessments; and (c) consider whether registered employer health plans should be included in any medical risk adjustment mechanism. ((Proposed)) Any medical risk adjustment mechanisms proposed by the commission shall be submitted to the legislature ((as provided in RCW 43.72.180)) for legislative consideration.

(8) Design a mechanism to assure minors have access to confidential health care services as currently provided in RCW 70.24.110 and 71.34.030.

(9) Monitor the actual growth in total annual health services costs.

(10) Monitor the increased application of technology as required by chapter 492, Laws of 1993 and take necessary action to ensure that such application is made in a cost-effective and efficient manner and consistent with existing laws that protect individual privacy.

(11) Establish reporting requirements for certified health plans that own or manage health care facilities, health care facilities, and health care providers to periodically report to the commission regarding major capital expenditures of the plans. The commission shall review and monitor such reports and shall report to the legislature regarding major capital expenditures on at least an annual basis. The Washington health care facilities authority and the commission shall develop standards jointly for evaluating and approving major capital expenditure financing through the Washington health care facilities authority, as authorized pursuant to chapter 70.37 RCW. By December 1, 1994, the commission and the authority shall submit jointly to the legislature such proposed standards. The commission and the authority shall, after legislative review, but no later than June 1, 1995, publish such standards. Upon publication, the authority may not approve financing for major capital expenditures unless approved by the commission.

(12) Establish maximum enrollee financial participation levels. The levels shall be related to enrollee household income.

(13) Establish rules requiring employee enrollee premium sharing, as defined in RCW 43.72.010(9), be paid through deductions from wages or earnings.

(14) For health services provided under the uniform benefits package and supplemental benefits, adopt standards for enrollment, and standardized billing and claims processing forms. The standards shall ensure that these procedures minimize administrative burdens on health care providers, health care facilities, certified health plans, and consumers. Subject to federal approval or phase-in schedules whenever necessary or appropriate, the standards also shall apply to state-purchased health services, as defined in RCW 41.05.011.
(15) Propose that certified health plans adopt certain practice indicators or risk management protocols for quality assurance, utilization review, or provider payment. The commission may consider indicators or protocols recommended according to RCW 43.70.500 for these purposes.

(16) Propose other guidelines to certified health plans for utilization management, use of technology and methods of payment, such as diagnosis-related groups and a resource-based relative value scale. Such guidelines shall be voluntary and shall be designed to promote improved management of care, and provide incentives for improved efficiency and effectiveness within the delivery system.

(17) Adopt standards and oversee and develop policy for personal health data and information system as provided in chapter 70.170 RCW.

(18) Adopt standards that prevent conflict of interest by health care providers as provided in RCW 18.130.320.

(19) At the appropriate juncture and in the fullness of time, consider the extent to which medical research and health professions training activities should be included within the health service system set forth in chapter 492, Laws of 1993.

(20) Evaluate and monitor the extent to which racial and ethnic minorities have access to and receive health services within the state, and develop strategies to address barriers to access.

(21) Develop standards for the certification process to certify health plans and employer health plans to provide the uniform benefits package, according to the provisions for certified health plans and registered employer health plans under chapter 492, Laws of 1993.

(22) Develop rules for implementation of individual and employer participation under RCW 43.72.210 and 43.72.220 specifically applicable to persons who work in this state but do not live in the state or persons who live in this state but work outside of the state. The rules shall be designed so that these persons receive coverage and financial requirements that are comparable to that received by persons who both live and work in the state.

(23) After receiving advice from the health services effectiveness committee, adopt rules that must be used by certified health plans, disability insurers, health care service contractors, and health maintenance organizations to determine whether a procedure, treatment, drug, or other health service is no longer experimental or investigatory.

(24) Establish a process for purchase of uniform benefits package services by enrollees when they are out-of-state.

(25) Develop recommendations to the legislature as to whether state and school district employees, on whose behalf health benefits are or will be purchased by the health care authority pursuant to chapter 41.05 RCW, should have the option to purchase health benefits through health insurance purchasing cooperatives on and after July 1, 1997. In developing its recommendations, the commission shall consider:

(a) The impact of state or school district employees purchasing through health insurance purchasing cooperatives on the ability of the state to control its health care costs; and
(b) Whether state or school district employees purchasing through health insurance purchasing cooperatives will result in inequities in health benefits between or within groups of state and school district employees.

(26) Establish guidelines for providers dealing with terminal or static conditions, taking into consideration the ethics of providers, patient and family wishes, costs, and survival possibilities.

(27) Evaluate the extent to which Taft-Hartley health care trusts provide benefits to certain individuals in the state; review the federal laws under which these trusts are organized; and make appropriate recommendations to the governor and the legislature on or before December 1, 1994, as to whether these trusts should be brought under the provisions of chapter 492, Laws of 1993 when it is fully implemented, and if the commission recommends inclusion of the trusts, how to implement such inclusion.

(28) Evaluate whether Washington is experiencing a higher percentage in in-migration of residents from other states and territories than would be expected by normal trends as a result of the availability of unsubsidized and subsidized health care benefits for all residents and report to the governor and the legislature their findings.

(29) In developing recommendations for the uniform benefits package and other standards pursuant to this section, consider the likelihood of the establishment of a national health services plan adopted by the federal government and its implications.

(30) Evaluate the effect of reforms under chapter 492, Laws of 1993 on access to care and economic development in rural areas.

To the extent that the exercise of any of the powers and duties specified in this section may be inconsistent with the powers and duties of other state agencies, offices, or commissions, the authority of the commission shall supersede that of such other state agency, office, or commission, except in matters of personal health data, where the commission shall have primary data system policy-making authority and the department of health shall have primary responsibility for the maintenance and routine operation of personal health data systems.

Sec. 5. RCW 43.72.130 and 1993 c 492 s 449 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The commission shall (define) develop recommendations for the uniform benefits package, which shall include those health services that, consistent with the goals and intent of chapter 492, Laws of 1993, are effective and necessary on a societal basis for the maintenance of the health of citizens of the state, weighed against the need to control state health services expenditures.

(2) The recommended schedule of covered health services shall emphasize proven preventive and primary health care and shall be composed of the following essential health services: (a) Primary and specialty health services; (b) inpatient and outpatient hospital services; (c) prescription drugs and medications; (d) reproductive services; (e) services necessary for maternity and well-child care, including preventive dental services for children; and (f) case-managed chemical dependency, mental health, short-term skilled nursing facility, home health, and hospice services, to the extent that such services reduce inappropriate utilization of more intensive or less efficacious medical services. The commission's recommendations shall (determine) include the specific schedule of health services within the uniform benefits package, including limitations on scope and duration of services. The recommended schedule shall be the benefit and actuarial equivalent of the schedule of benefits offered by the basic health plan on January 1, 1993, including any additions that may result from the inclusion of the services listed in (c) through (f) of this subsection. (The commission shall consider the recommendations of health services effectiveness panels [committee] established pursuant to RCW 43.72.060 in defining the uniform benefits package.)

(3) The uniform benefits package shall not limit coverage for preexisting or prior conditions, except that (the commission shall establish) exclusions for preexisting or prior conditions shall be included to the extent necessary to prevent residents from waiting until health services are needed before enrolling in a certified health plan.

(4) In making recommendations for the uniform benefits package, the commission shall seek the opinions of and information from the public. The commission shall also consider the recommendations of the health services effectiveness committee established in RCW 43.72.060 and the results of the public health assessment and policy development activities of the department of health.

(5) By December 1, 1994, and by December 1 of the year preceding any year in which the commission will request revision of the uniform benefits package, the commission shall submit the following to the legislature for consideration: (a) The recommended uniform benefits package or recommended revisions to the uniform benefits package; and (b) an independent actuarial analysis of the cost of the proposed package or proposed revisions giving consideration to the factors considered under RCW 43.72.040(6). The commission may not propose modification of the services included in the uniform benefits package before January 1, 1999. The uniform benefits package or uniform benefits package revisions may not take effect unless adopted by an act of law.

(6) The commission shall establish enrollee point of service cost-sharing for nonpreventive health services, related to enrollee household income, such that financial considerations are not a barrier to access for low-income persons, but that, for those of means, the uniform benefits package provides for moderate point of service cost-sharing. All point of service cost-sharing and cost control requirements shall apply uniformly to all health care providers providing substantially similar uniform benefits package services. The schedule shall provide for an alternate and lower schedule of cost-sharing applicable to enrollees with household income below the federal poverty level.

(4) (7) The commission shall adopt rules related to coordination of benefits and premium payments. The rules shall not have the effect of eliminating enrollee financial participation. The commission shall endeavor to assure an equitable distribution, among both employers and employees, of the costs of coverage for those households composed of more than one member in the work force.

((6) In determining the uniform benefits package, the commission shall endeavor to seek the opinions of and information from the public. The commission shall consider the results of official public health assessment and policy development activities including recommendations of the department of health in discharging its responsibilities under this section.

(7) The commission shall submit the following to the legislature by December 1, 1994, and by December 1 of the year preceding any year in which the commission proposes to significantly modify the uniform benefits package: (a) The uniform benefits package; and (b) an independent actuarial analysis of the cost of the proposed package, giving consideration to the factors considered under RCW 43.72.040(6). The commission shall not modify the services included in the uniform benefits package before January 1, 1999.)

Sec. 6. RCW 48.01.210 and 1993 c 462 s 51 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) An insurer, health care service contractor, or health maintenance organization that offers coverage for dental services and is in full compliance with all applicable laws under chapter 48.05, 48.44, or 48.46 RCW governing the financial supervision and solvency of such organizations, including but not limited to laws concerning capital and surplus requirements, reserves, deposits, bonds, and indemnities, may provide coverage for dental services, to individuals and to employers for the benefit of employees or for the benefit of employees and their dependents, by separate policy, contract, or rider. If an individual or an employer purchases coverage for dental services from such a company and the coverage is part of the uniform benefits package ((designed by the Washington health services commission)) adopted and from time to time revised pursuant to RCW 43.72.130, the certified health plan covering the individual, employees, or employees and dependents need not provide dental services under the uniform benefits package. A certified health plan may subcontract with such a company to provide any dental services required under the uniform benefits package.

(2) An insurer, health care service contractor, or health maintenance organization described in subsection (1) of this section is deemed certified and registered as a certified health plan under RCW 43.72.090 and 48.43.010 for the delivery of coverage for dental services. The Washington health services commission and the commissioner shall adopt standards and procedures to permit, upon request, the prompt certification and registration of such a company. Such a company may offer coverage for dental services supplemental to the uniform benefits package, but the supplemental benefits are not subject to RCW 43.72.100, 43.72.160, and 43.72.170.

Sec. 7. RCW 70.47.060 and 1994 c 309 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

The administrator has the following powers and duties:
(1) To design and from time to time revise a schedule of covered basic health care services, including physician services, inpatient and outpatient hospital services, prescription drugs and medications, and other services that may be necessary for basic health care, which subsidized and nonsubsidized enrollees in any participating managed health care system under the Washington basic health plan shall be entitled to receive in return for premium payments to the plan. The schedule of services shall emphasize proven preventive and primary health care and shall include all services necessary for prenatal, postnatal, and well-child care. However, with respect to coverage for groups of subsidized enrollees who are eligible to receive prenatal and postnatal services through the medical assistance program under chapter 74.09 RCW, the administrator shall not contract for such services except to the extent that such services are necessary over not more than a one-month period in order to maintain continuity of care after diagnosis of pregnancy by the managed care provider. The schedule of services shall also include a separate schedule of basic health care services for children, eighteen years of age and younger, for those subsidized or nonsubsidized enrollees who choose to secure basic coverage through the plan only for their dependent children. In designing and revising the schedule of services, the administrator shall consider the guidelines for assessing health services under the mandated benefits act of 1984, RCW 48.42.080, and such other factors as the administrator deems appropriate. On and after July 1, 1995, the uniform benefits package adopted and from time to time revised pursuant to RCW 43.72.130 shall be implemented by the administrator as the schedule of covered basic health care services. However, with respect to coverage for subsidized enrollees who are eligible to receive prenatal and postnatal services through the medical assistance program under chapter 74.09 RCW, the administrator shall not contract for such services except to the extent that the services are necessary over not more than a one-month period in order to maintain continuity of care after diagnosis of pregnancy by the managed care provider.

(2)(a) To design and implement a structure of periodic premiums due the administrator from subsidized enrollees that is based upon gross family income, giving appropriate consideration to family size and the ages of all family members. The enrollment of children shall not require the enrollment of their parent or parents who are eligible for the plan. The structure of periodic premiums shall be applied to subsidized enrollees entering the plan as individuals pursuant to subsection (9) of this section and to the share of the cost of the plan due from subsidized enrollees entering the plan as employees pursuant to subsection (10) of this section.

(b) To determine the periodic premiums due the administrator from nonsubsidized enrollees. Premiums due from nonsubsidized enrollees shall be in an amount equal to the cost charged by the managed health care system provider to the state for the plan plus the administrative cost of providing the plan to those enrollees and the premium tax under RCW 48.14.0201.

(c) An employer or other financial sponsor may, with the prior approval of the administrator, pay the premium, rate, or any other amount on behalf of a subsidized or nonsubsidized enrollee, by arrangement with the enrollee and through a mechanism acceptable to the administrator, but in no case shall the payment made on behalf of the enrollee exceed the total premiums due from the enrollee.

(3) To design and implement a structure of copayments due a managed health care system from subsidized and nonsubsidized enrollees. The structure shall discourage inappropriate enrollee utilization of health care services, but shall not be so costly to enrollees as to constitute a barrier to appropriate utilization of necessary health care services. On and after July 1, 1995, the administrator shall endeavor to make the copayments structure of the plan consistent with enrollee point of service cost-sharing levels adopted by the Washington health services commission, giving consideration to funding available to the plan.

(4) To limit enrollment of persons who qualify for subsidies so as to prevent an overexpenditure of appropriations for such purposes. Whenever the administrator finds that there is danger of such an overexpenditure, the administrator shall close enrollment until the administrator finds the danger no longer exists.

(5) To limit the payment of subsidies to subsidized enrollees, as defined in RCW 70.47.020.

(6) To adopt a schedule for the orderly development of the delivery of services and availability of the plan to residents of the state, subject to the limitations contained in RCW 70.47.080 or any act appropriating funds for the plan.

(7) To solicit and accept applications from managed health care systems, as defined in this chapter, for inclusion as eligible basic health care providers under the plan. The administrator shall endeavor to assure that covered basic health care services are available to any enrollee of the plan from among a selection of two or more participating managed health care systems. In adopting any rules or procedures applicable to managed health care systems and in its dealings with such systems, the administrator shall consider and make suitable allowance for the need for health care services and the differences in local availability of health care resources, along with other resources, within and among the several areas of the state. Contracts with participating managed health care systems shall ensure that basic health plan enrollees who become eligible for medical assistance may, at their option, continue to receive services from their existing providers within the managed health care system if such providers have entered into provider agreements with the department of social and health services.

(8) To receive periodic premiums from or on behalf of subsidized and nonsubsidized enrollees, deposit them in the basic health plan operating account, keep records of enrollee status, and authorize periodic payments to managed health care systems on the basis of the number of enrollees participating in the respective managed health care systems.

(9) To accept applications from individuals residing in areas served by the plan, on behalf of themselves and their spouses and dependent children, for enrollment in the Washington basic health plan as subsidized or nonsubsidized enrollees, to establish appropriate minimum-enrollment periods for enrollees as may be necessary, and to determine, upon application and at least semiannually thereafter, or at the request of any enrollee, eligibility due to current gross family income for sliding scale premiums. No subsidy may be paid with respect to any enrollee whose current gross family income exceeds twice the federal poverty level or, subject to RCW 70.47.110, who is a recipient of medical assistance or medical care services under chapter 74.09 RCW. If, as a result of an eligibility review, the administrator determines that a subsidized enrollee's income exceeds twice the federal poverty level and that the enrollee knowingly failed to inform the plan of such increase in income, the administrator may bill the enrollee for the subsidy paid on the enrollee's behalf during the period of time that the enrollee's income exceeded twice the federal poverty level. If a number of enrollees drop their enrollment for no apparent good cause, the administrator may establish appropriate rules or requirements that are applicable to such individuals before they will be allowed to re-enroll in the plan.

(10) To accept applications from business owners on behalf of themselves and their employees, spouses, and dependent children, as subsidized or nonsubsidized enrollees, who reside in an area served by the plan. The administrator may require all or the substantial majority of the eligible employees of such businesses to enroll in the plan and establish those procedures necessary to facilitate the orderly enrollment of groups in the plan and into a managed health care system. The administrator shall require that a business owner pay at least fifty percent of the nonsubsidized premium cost of the plan on behalf of each employee enrolled in the plan. Enrollment is limited to those not eligible for medicare who wish to enroll in the plan and choose to obtain the basic health care coverage and services from a managed care system participating in the plan. The administrator shall adjust the amount determined to be due on behalf of or from all such enrollees whenever the amount negotiated by the administrator with the participating managed health care system or systems is modified or the administrative cost of providing the plan to such enrollees changes.

(11) To determine the rate to be paid to each participating managed health care system in return for the provision of covered basic health care services to enrollees in the system. Although the schedule of covered basic health care services will be the same for similar enrollees, the rates negotiated with participating managed health care systems may vary among the systems. In negotiating rates with participating systems, the administrator shall consider the characteristics of the populations served by the respective systems, economic circumstances of the local area, the need to conserve the resources of the basic health plan trust account, and other factors the administrator finds relevant.

(12) To monitor the provision of covered services to enrollees by participating managed health care systems in order to assure enrollee access to good quality basic health care, to require periodic data reports concerning the utilization of health care services rendered to enrollees in order to provide adequate information for evaluation, and to inspect the books and records of participating managed health care systems to assure compliance with the purposes of this chapter. In requiring reports from participating managed health care systems, including data on services rendered enrollees, the administrator shall endeavor to minimize costs, both to the managed health care systems and to the plan. The administrator shall coordinate any such reporting requirements with other state agencies, such as the insurance commissioner and the department of health, to minimize duplication of effort.

(13) To evaluate the effects this chapter has on private employer-based health care coverage and to take appropriate measures consistent with state and federal statutes that will discourage the reduction of such coverage in the state.

(14) To develop a program of proven preventive health measures and to integrate it into the plan wherever possible and consistent with this chapter.

(15) To provide, consistent with available funding, assistance for rural residents, underserved populations, and persons of color.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. Section 2 of this act shall expire June 30, 1998.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. RCW 43.72.180 and 1993 c 492 s 454 are each repealed.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect July 1, 1995."

"PART I - RULE-MAKING AUTHORITY

NEW SECTION. Sec. 101. The legislature finds that the volume and complexity of state agency rules has increased to the point that new rule-making procedures are necessary. Significant rules should undergo a more in-depth analysis and differences from federal law should be justified. An expedited process for the repeal of unnecessary agency rules should be established. Pilot and negotiated rule-making procedures should be clarified. A standardized format for petitions to adopt, amend, or repeal a rule should be developed, as well as a process for the appeal of these agency decisions to the governor. The joint administrative rules review committee should be strengthened. Fees and expenses should be awarded to qualified parties successfully challenging a rule. To accomplish these goals, the legislature intends to modify the rule-making provisions of the administrative procedure act and the requirements of the regulatory fairness act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 102. A new section is added to chapter 34.05 RCW under the subchapter heading Part III to read as follows:

(1) Before adopting a rule described in subsection (4) of this section, an agency shall:

(a) Clearly state in detail the general goals and specific objectives of the statute that the rule implements and the specific objectives that the agency seeks to achieve;

(b) Determine that the rule is needed to achieve the general goals and specific objectives stated under (a) of this subsection, and analyze alternatives to rule making and the consequences of not adopting the rule;

(c) Determine that the probable benefits of the rule are greater than its probable costs, taking into account both the qualitative and quantitative benefits and costs and the specific directives of the statute being implemented;

(d) Determine, after considering alternative versions of the rule and the analysis required under (b) and (c) of this subsection, that the rule being adopted is the least burdensome alternative for those required to comply with the rule that will achieve the general goals and the specific objectives stated under (a) of this subsection;

(e) Determine that the rule does not require those to whom it applies to take an action that violates requirements of another federal or state law;

(f) Coordinate the rule, to the maximum extent practicable, with other federal, state, and local laws applicable to the same circumstances and list, by citation, duplicative, inconsistent, or conflicting laws;

(g) Describe the process by which local governments will be notified of the subject of possible rule making and describe the process for coordinating the rule with local ordinances applicable to the same circumstances;

(h) Determine that the rule does not impose more stringent performance requirements on private entities than on public entities unless required to do so by federal or state law;

(i) Determine if the rule differs from any applicable federal regulation or statute and, if so, determine that the difference is justified by the following:
(i) State statutory authority that explicitly allows the agency to differ from federal standards; or

(ii) Substantial evidence that the difference is necessary to achieve the specific objectives of the authorizing state statute;

(j) Describe how the agency will monitor and evaluate on an ongoing basis whether the rule in fact achieves the general goals and specific objectives stated under (a) of this subsection, including, to the maximum extent practicable, the use of interim milestones to assess progress and the use of objectively measurable outcomes;

(k) Describe how the agency will implement and enforce the rule and encourage voluntary compliance with the rule; and

(l) Describe which resources the agency intends to use to implement the rule.

(2) Before adopting a rule, the agency shall place evidence in the rule-making file documenting agency compliance with the requirement of subsection (1) of this section. Agency determinations under subsection (1)(e) and (i) of this section shall each be supported by substantial evidence. Agency compliance with the requirements of subsection (1)(a) through (d), (f), (g), (h), (j), (k), and (l) of this section shall, as a whole, be supported by substantial evidence.

(3) Before adopting a rule described in subsection (5) of this section, an agency shall include in the rule-making file a written plan that describes:

(b) How the agency will provide adequate sources of information and technical assistance to those to whom the rule applies to assist them in voluntarily complying with the rule.

(4) For rules implementing statutes enacted after the effective date of this section, except emergency rules adopted pursuant to RCW 34.05.350, an agency may not rely solely on the statute's statement of intent or purpose, or on the enabling provisions of the statute establishing the agency, or on any combination of such provisions, for its statutory authority to adopt the rule. An agency may use the statement of intent or purpose or the agency enabling provisions to interpret ambiguities in a statute's other provisions.

(5)(a) Subsections (1) through (3) of this section shall apply only to:

(i) Significant legislative rules of the departments of ecology, labor and industries, and revenue, and the employment security department, and to significant legislative rules of the department of fish and wildlife implementing chapter 75.20 RCW; and

(iv) Rules that simply correct typographical errors, make address or name changes, clarify language without changing intent, or conform language in the rule to mandated statutory changes or judicial decisions, as long as the need for conformance is specific; or

(v) Rules that set or adjust fees or rates pursuant to legislative standards.

(c) For purposes of this subsection:

(i) A "procedural rule" is a rule that establishes, alters, or revokes (A) any procedure, practice, or requirement relating to any agency hearings, or (B) any filing or related process requirement for making application to an agency for a license.

(ii) An "interpretive rule" is a rule, the violation of which does not subject a person to a penalty or sanction, that sets forth the agency’s interpretation of statutory provisions it administers.

(iii) A "legislative rule" includes a rule other than a procedural or interpretive rule that (A) adopts substantive provisions of law pursuant to delegated legislative authority, the violation of which subjects a violator of such rule to a penalty or sanction, or (B) establishes, alters, or revokes any qualification or standard for the issuance, suspension, or revocation of a license.

(iv) A legislative rule is "significant" if it (A) adopts a new policy or regulatory program, (B) establishes a new set of qualifications or standards for the issuance, suspension, or revocation of a license, (C) makes significant amendments to an existing policy or regulatory program or existing qualification or standard for the issuance, suspension, or revocation of a license that likely are to generate controversy, (D) is designated as such by the agency, or (E) is designated as such by the joint administrative rules review committee pursuant to (d) of this subsection.

The joint administrative rules review committee by a majority vote within thirty days of receipt of the notice may designate the contemplated rule as significant and so inform the agency.

(e) An agency may voluntarily adopt a rule other than a significant legislative rule under the factors listed in subsection (1) of this section. Such a decision by the agency shall be included in the filing of the notice of proposed rule making made pursuant to RCW 34.05.320.

(6) By January 31, 1996, and by January 31st of each even-numbered year thereafter, the office of financial management, after consulting with state agencies, and business, labor, and environmental organizations, shall report to the governor and the legislature regarding the effects of this section on the regulatory system in this state. The report shall document:

(a) The rules proposed to which this section applied and to the extent possible, how compliance with this section affected the substance of the rule, if any, that the agency ultimately adopted;

(b) The costs incurred by state agencies in complying with this section;

(c) Any legal action maintained based upon the alleged failure of any agency to comply with this section, the costs to the state of such action, and the result;

(d) The extent to which this section has resulted in the increased inappropriate use by the agencies of policy statements and guidelines in place of rules;

(e) The extent to which this section has adversely affected the capacity of agencies to fulfill their legislatively prescribed mission;

(f) The extent to which this section has improved the acceptability of state rules to those regulated; and

(7) This section expires June 30, 2000.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 103. A new section is added to chapter 34.05 RCW under the subchapter heading Part III to read as follows:

(1) Not later than June 30th of each year, each agency shall submit to the code reviser, according to procedures and time lines established by the code reviser, rules that it determines should be repealed by the expedited repeal procedures provided for in this section. An agency shall file a copy of a preproposal notice of intent, as provided in RCW 34.05.310(1), that identifies the rule as one that is proposed for expedited repeal.

(2) An agency may propose the expedited repeal of rules meeting one or more of the following criteria:

(a) The statute on which the rule is based has been repealed and has not been replaced by another statute providing statutory authority for the rule;

(b) The statute on which the rule is based has been declared unconstitutional by a court with jurisdiction, there is a final judgment, and no statute has been enacted to replace the unconstitutional statute;

(c) The rule is no longer necessary because of changed circumstances; or

(d) Other rules of the agency or of another agency govern the same activity as the rule, making the rule redundant.

(3) The agency shall also send a copy of the preproposal notice of intent to any person who has requested notification of copies of proposals for the expedited repeal of rules or of agency rule making. The preproposal notice of intent shall include a statement that any person who objects to the repeal of the rule must file a written objection to the repeal within thirty days after the preproposal notice of intent is published. The notice of intent shall also include an explanation of the reasons the agency believes the expedited repeal of the rule is appropriate.

(4) The code reviser shall publish all rules proposed for expedited repeal in a separate section of a regular edition of the Washington state register or in a special edition of the Washington state register. The publication shall be not later than July 31st, or in the first register published after that date.

(5) Any person may file a written objection to the expedited repeal of a rule. The notice shall be filed with the agency rules coordinator within thirty days after the notice of intent has been published in the Washington state register. The written objection need not state any reason for objecting to the expedited repeal of the rule.

(6) If no written objections to the expedited repeal of a rule are filed within the agency with thirty days after the preproposal notice of intent is published, the agency may enter an order repealing the rule without further notice or an opportunity for a public hearing. The order shall be published in the manner required by this chapter for any other order of the agency adopting, amending, or repealing a rule. If a written objection to the expedited repeal of the rule is filed with the agency within thirty days after the notice of intent has been published, the preproposal notice of intent published pursuant to this section shall be considered a preproposal notice of intent for the purposes of RCW 34.05.310(1) and the agency may initiate rule adoption proceedings in accordance with the provisions of this chapter.

Sec. 104. RCW 34.05.310 and 1994 c 249 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Unless an agency makes a determination pursuant to subsection (3) of this section, to meet the intent of providing greater public access to administrative rule making and to promote consensus among interested parties, it shall solicit comments from the public on a subject of possible rule making before publication of a notice of proposed rule adoption under RCW 34.05.320. The agency shall prepare a statement of intent that:

(a) States the specific statutory authority for the new rule;

(b) Identifies the reasons the new rule is needed or the issue the agency is exploring to determine if a new rule is needed;

(2) Agencies are encouraged to develop and use new procedures for reaching agreement among interested parties before publication of notice and the adoption hearing on a proposed rule. Examples of new procedures include, but are not limited to:

(a) Negotiated rule making which includes:
   (i) Identifying individuals and organizations that have a recognized interest in or will be significantly affected by the adoption of the proposed rule;
   (ii) Soliciting participation by persons who are capable, willing, and appropriately authorized to enter into such negotiations;
   (iii) Assuring that participants fully recognize the consequences of not participating in the process, are committed to negotiate in good faith, and recognize the alternatives available to other parties;
   (iv) Establishing guidelines to encourage consideration of all pertinent issues, to set reasonable completion deadlines, and to provide fair and objective settlement of disputes that may arise;
   (v) Agreeing on a reasonable time period during which the agency will be bound to the rule resulting from the negotiations without substantive amendment; and
   (vi) Providing a mechanism by which one or more parties may withdraw from the process or the negotiations may be terminated if it appears that consensus cannot be reached on a draft rule that accommodates the needs of the agency, interested parties, and the general public and conforms to the legislative intent of the statute that the rule is intended to implement)

(b) Pilot rule making which includes testing the feasibility of complying with or administering new draft rules or draft revisions to adopted rules through the use of volunteer pilot groups in various areas and circumstances, as provided in RCW 34.05.313.

(3) An agency must make a determination whether negotiated rule making, pilot rule making, or another process for generating participation from interested parties prior to development of the rule is appropriate.

(b) An agency must)) If the agency determines that an opportunity for interested parties to participate in the rule-making process before publication of the proposed rule is not necessary to achieve the objectives of subsection (1) of this section, not later than the date it publishes the proposed rule for comment pursuant to RCW 34.05.320 it shall include the written justification in the rule-making file if an opportunity for interested parties to participate in the rule-making process prior to publication of the proposed rule has not been provided)

Sec. 105. RCW 34.05.313 and 1993 c 202 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

((If,)) (1) During the development of a rule or after its adoption, an agency ((determines that implementation may produce unreasonable economic, procedural, or technical burdens, agencies are encouraged to)) may develop methods for measuring or testing the feasibility of ((compliance)) complying with or administering the rule((, including the use of voluntary pilot study groups)) and for identifying simple, efficient, and economical alternatives for achieving the goal of the rule. ((Measuring and testing methods should emphasize)) A pilot project shall include public notice, participation by ((persons who have a recognized interest in or are significantly affected by the adoption of the proposed rule)) volunteers who are or will be subject to the rule, a high level of involvement from agency management, ((consensus on issues and procedures among participants in the pilot group, assurance of fairness, and)) reasonable completion dates, and a process by which one or more parties may withdraw from the process or the process may be terminated ((if consensus cannot be reached on the rule)). Volunteers who agree to test a rule and attempt to meet the requirements of the draft rule, to report periodically to the proposing agency on the extent of their ability to meet the requirements of the draft rule, and to make recommendations for improving the draft rule shall not be obligated to comply fully with the rule being tested nor be subject to any enforcement action or other sanction for failing to comply with the requirements of the draft rule.

(2) An agency conducting a pilot rule project authorized under subsection (1) of this section may waive one or more provisions of agency rules otherwise applicable to participants in such a pilot project if the agency first determines that such a waiver is in the public interest and necessary to conduct the project. Such a waiver may be only for a stated period of time, not to exceed the duration of the project.

(3) The findings of the pilot project should be widely shared and, where appropriate, adopted as amendments to the rule.

(4) If an agency conducts a pilot rule project in lieu of meeting the requirements of the regulatory fairness act, chapter 19.85 RCW, the agency shall ensure the following conditions are met:

(a) If over ten small businesses are affected, there shall be at least ten small businesses in the test group and at least one-half of the volunteers participating in the pilot test group shall be small businesses.

(B) Not less than twenty percent of the small businesses must employ eleven to twenty-six employees, and

(C) Not less than twenty percent of the small businesses must employ zero to ten employees.

(ii) If there do not exist a sufficient number of small businesses in each size category set forth in (b)(i) of this subsection willing to participate in the pilot project to meet the minimum requirements of that subsection, then the agency must comply with this section to the maximum extent practicable.

officer designated by the agency head shall preside at the rule-making hearing. Rule-making hearings shall be open to the public. The agency shall cause a record to be made of the hearing by stenographic, mechanical, or electronic means. Unless the agency head presides or is present at substantially all the hearings, the presiding official shall prepare a memorandum for consideration by the agency head, summarizing the contents of the presentations made at the rule-making hearing. The summarizing memorandum is a public document and shall be made available to any person in accordance with chapter 42.17 RCW.

(5) Rule-making hearings are legislative in character and shall be reasonably conducted by the presiding official to afford interested the agency received comment.

(c) This subsection does not apply to rules described in RCW appropriate, (ii) the alternative means by which it will address the concerns raised by the petitioner, or (((2)) (b) initiate rule-making proceedings in accordance with this chapter.

(2) If an agency denies a petition to repeal or amend a rule submitted under subsection (1) of this section, the petitioner, within thirty days of the denial, may appeal the denial to the governor. The governor shall immediately file notice of the appeal with the code reviser for publication in the Washington state register. Within forty-five days after receiving the appeal, the governor either (a) shall deny the petition in writing, stating (i) his or her reasons for the denial, specifically addressing the concerns raised by the petitioner, and, (ii) where appropriate, the alternative means by which he or she will address the concerns raised by the petitioner; (b) for agencies listed in RCW 43.17.010, shall direct the agency to initiate rule-making proceedings in accordance with this chapter; (c) for agencies not listed in RCW 43.17.010, shall recommend that the agency initiate rule-making proceedings in accordance with this chapter; or (d) to the extent the agency itself would have authority, may rescind all or a severable portion of a rule of an agency named in RCW 43.17.010. (1) No rule proposed after July 1, 1989, is valid unless it is adopted in substantial compliance with RCW 34.05.310 through 34.05.395. Inadvertent failure to mail notice of a proposed rule adoption to any person as required by RCW 34.05.320(3) does not invalidate a rule. (No action based upon this section may be maintained to contest the validity of any rule unless it is commenced within two years after the effective date of the rule.)

(2)(a) Except as otherwise provided in (b) of this subsection, an action based upon this section to contest the validity of a rule shall be commenced within two years after the effective date of the rule.

(b) An action based upon a claim that an agency failed to comply with section 102 of this act shall be commenced within ninety days after the effective date of the rule being contested. Nothing in this subsection limits the authority of a court to review a rule under RCW 34.05.570(2).

NEW SECTION. Sec. 109. A new section is added to chapter 19.85 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Unless an agency receives a written objection to the expedited repeal of a rule, this chapter does not apply to a rule proposed for expedited repeal pursuant to section 103 of this act. If an agency receives a written objection to expedited repeal of the rule, this chapter applies to the rule-making proceeding.

(2) This chapter does not apply to the adoption of a rule described in RCW 34.05.310(4).

(3) An agency is not required to prepare a separate statement under this chapter if it prepared an analysis under section 102(1) of this act that makes the findings required and includes the mitigation required by this chapter and designates that part of the analysis that meets the requirements of this chapter.

Sec. 110. RCW 19.85.030 and 1994 c 249 s 11 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) In the adoption of any rule pursuant to RCW 34.05.320 that will impose more than minor costs on more than twenty percent of all industries, or more than ten percent of any one industry, the adopting agency:

(a) Shall reduce the economic impact of the rule on small business by doing one or more of the following when it is legal and feasible in meeting the stated objective of the statutes which are the basis of the proposed rule:

(i) Establish differing compliance or reporting requirements or timetables for small businesses;

(ii) Clarify, consolidate, or simplify the compliance and reporting requirements under the rule for small businesses;

(iii) Establish performance rather than design standards;

(ii) Complete the pilot rule process as defined by RCW 34.05.313 before filing the notice of a proposed rule.

(2) If requested to do so by a majority vote of the joint administrative rules review committee within thirty days after notice of the proposed rule is published in the state register, an agency shall prepare a small business economic impact statement on the proposed rule before adoption of the rule. Upon completion, an agency shall provide a copy of the small business economic impact statement to any person requesting it.

(3) An agency may request assistance from the business assistance center in the preparation of the small business economic impact statement.

(4) The business assistance center shall develop guidelines to assist agencies in determining whether a proposed rule will impose more than minor costs on businesses in an industry and therefore require preparation of a small business economic impact statement. The business assistance center may review an agency determination that a proposed rule will not impose such costs, and shall advise the joint administrative rules review committee on disputes involving agency determinations under this section.

Sec. 111. RCW 34.05.370 and 1994 c 249 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Each agency shall maintain an official rule-making file for each rule that it (a) proposes by publication in the state register, or (b) adopts. The file and materials incorporated by reference shall be available for public inspection.

(2) The agency rule-making file shall contain all of the following:
   (a) Copies of all publications in the state register with respect to the rule or the proceeding upon which the rule is based;

(j) Any other material placed in the file by the agency.

(3) Internal agency documents are exempt from inclusion in the rule-making file under subsection (2) of this section to the extent they constitute preliminary drafts, notes, recommendations, and intra-agency memoranda in which opinions are expressed or policies formulated or recommended, except that a specific document is not exempt from inclusion when it is publicly cited by an agency in connection with its decision.

(4) Upon judicial review, the file required by this section constitutes the official agency rule-making file with respect to that rule. The official agency rule-making file is the exclusive basis for agency action on that rule.

Sec. 112. RCW 34.05.570 and 1989 c 175 s 27 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Generally. Except to the extent that this chapter or another statute provides otherwise:

(b) The validity of any rule may be determined upon petition for a declaratory judgment addressed to the superior court of Thurston county, when it appears that the rule, or its threatened application, interferes with or impairs or immediately threatens to interfere with or impair the legal rights or privileges of the petitioner. The declaratory judgment order may be entered whether or not the petitioner has first requested the agency to pass upon the validity of the rule in question.

(c) In a proceeding involving review of a rule, the court shall declare the rule invalid only if it finds that: the rule violates constitutional provisions; the rule exceeds the statutory authority of the agency; the rule was adopted without compliance with statutory rule-making procedures; the rule is not supported by substantial evidence as required under section 102 (1) or (2) of this act; or the rule is arbitrary and capricious.
(3) Review of agency orders in adjudicative proceedings. The court shall grant relief from an agency order in an adjudicative proceeding only if it determines that:

(a) The order, or the statute or rule on which the order is based, is in violation of constitutional provisions on its face or as applied;
(b) The order is outside the statutory authority or jurisdiction of the agency conferred by any provision of law;
(c) The agency has engaged in unlawful procedure or decision-making process, or has failed to follow a prescribed procedure;
(d) The agency has erroneously interpreted or applied the law;
(e) The order is not supported by evidence that is substantial when viewed in light of the whole record before the court, which includes the agency record for judicial review, supplemented by any additional evidence received by the court under this chapter;
(f) The agency has not decided all issues requiring resolution by the agency;
(g) A motion for disqualification under RCW 34.05.425 or 34.12.050 was made and was improperly denied or, if no motion was made, facts are shown to support the grant of such a motion that were not known and were not reasonably discoverable by the challenging party at the appropriate time for making such a motion;
(h) The order is inconsistent with a rule of the agency unless the agency explains the inconsistency by stating facts and reasons to demonstrate a rational basis for inconsistency; or
(i) The order is arbitrary or capricious.

(4) Review of other agency action.

(a) All agency action not reviewable under subsection (2) or (3) of this section shall be reviewed under this subsection.
(b) A person whose rights are violated by an agency's failure to perform a duty that is required by law to be performed may file a petition for review pursuant to RCW 34.05.514, seeking an order pursuant to this subsection requiring performance. Within twenty days after service of the petition for review, the agency shall file and serve an answer to the petition, made in the same manner as an answer to a complaint in a civil action. The court may hear evidence, pursuant to RCW 34.05.562, on material issues of fact raised by the petition and answer.
(c) Relief for persons aggrieved by the performance of an agency action, including the exercise of discretion, or an action under (b) of this subsection can be granted only if the court determines that the action is:

(i) Unconstitutional;
(ii) Outside the statutory authority of the agency or the authority conferred by a provision of law;
(iii) Arbitrary or capricious; or
(iv) Taken by persons who were not properly constituted as agency officials lawfully entitled to take such action.

NEW SECTION.  Sec. 113.  RCW 34.05.355 and 1994 c 249 s 8 & 1988 c 288 s 310 are each repealed. PART II - TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE
NEW SECTION.  Sec. 201. The legislature finds that, due to the volume and complexity of laws and rules it is appropriate for regulatory agencies to adopt programs and policies encouraging voluntary compliance by those affected by specific rules. The legislature recognizes that a cooperative partnership between agencies and regulated parties that emphasizes education and assistance before the imposition of penalties will achieve greater compliance with laws and rules and that most individuals and businesses who are subject to regulation will attempt to comply with the law, particularly if they are given sufficient information. In this context, enforcement should assure that the majority of a regulated community that complies with the law are not placed at a competitive disadvantage and that a continuing failure to comply that is within the control of a party who has received technical assistance is considered by an agency when it determines the amount of any civil penalty that is issued.

NEW SECTION.  Sec. 202. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.
(1) "Civil penalty" means a monetary penalty administratively issued by a regulatory agency for noncompliance with state or federal law or rules. The term does not include any criminal penalty, damage assessments, wages, premiums, or taxes owed, or interest or late fees on any existing obligation.
(2) "Regulatory agency" means an agency as defined in RCW 34.05.010 that has the authority to issue civil penalties. The term does not include the state patrol or any institution of higher education as defined in RCW 28B.10.016.
(3) "Technical assistance" includes:
(a) Information on the laws, rules, and compliance methods and technologies applicable to the regulatory agency's programs;
(b) Information on methods to avoid compliance problems;
(c) Assistance in applying for permits; and
(d) Information on the mission, goals, and objectives of the program.

NEW SECTION.  Sec. 203. All regulatory agencies shall develop programs to encourage voluntary compliance by providing technical assistance consistent with statutory requirements and the limits of the agency's budget. The programs shall include but are not limited to technical assistance visits.

NEW SECTION.  Sec. 204. (1) For the purposes of this chapter, a technical assistance visit is a visit by a regulatory agency to a facility, business, or other location that:
(a) Has been requested or is voluntarily accepted; and
(b) Is declared by the regulatory agency at the beginning of the visit to be a technical assistance visit.
(2) A technical assistance visit also includes a consultative visit pursuant to RCW 49.17.250.
(3) During a technical assistance visit, or within a reasonable time thereafter, a regulatory agency shall inform the owner or operator of the facility of any violations of law or agency rules identified by the agency and provide technical assistance concerning compliance.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 205. The owner and operator shall be given a reasonable period of time to correct violations identified during a technical assistance visit before any civil penalty provided for by law is imposed for those violations. A regulatory agency may revisit a facility, business, or other location after a technical assistance visit and a reasonable period of time has passed to correct violations identified by the agency in writing and issue civil penalties as provided for by law for any uncorrected violations.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 206. A regulatory agency that observes a violation during a technical assistance visit may issue a civil penalty as provided for by law if: (1) The individual or business has previously been subject to an enforcement action for the same or similar type of violation of the same statute or rule or has been given previous notice of the same or similar type of violation of the same statute or rule; or (2) the issue involves sales taxes due to the state and the individual or business is not remitting previously collected sales taxes to the state; or (3) the violation has a probability of placing a person in danger of death or bodily harm, has a probability of causing more than minor environmental harm, or has a probability of causing physical damage to the property of another in an amount exceeding one thousand dollars.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 207. (1) If in the course of any site inspection or visit that is not a technical assistance visit, the department of ecology becomes aware of conditions that are not in compliance with applicable laws and rules enforced by the department and are not subject to civil penalties as provided for in section 208 of this act, the department may issue a notice of correction to the responsible party that shall include:

(a) A description of the condition that is not in compliance and a specific citation to the applicable law or rule;
(b) A statement of what is required to achieve compliance;
(c) The date by which the department requires compliance to be achieved;
(d) Notice of the means to contact any technical assistance services provided by the department or others; and
(e) Notice of when, where, and to whom a request to extend the time to achieve compliance for good cause may be filed with the department.

(2) A notice of correction is not a formal enforcement action, is not subject to appeal, and is a public record.

(3) If the department issues a notice of correction, it shall not issue a civil penalty for the violations identified in the notice of correction unless the responsible party fails to comply with the notice.
NEW SECTION. Sec. 208. The department of ecology may issue a civil penalty provided for by law without first issuing a notice of correction if: (1) The person has previously been subject to an enforcement action for the same or similar type of violation of the same statute or rule or has been given previous notice of the same or similar type of violation of the same statute or rule; or (2) compliance is not achieved by the date established by the department in a previously issued notice of correction, if the department has responded to any request for review of such date by reaffirming the original date or establishing a new date; or (3) the violation has a probability of placing a person in danger of death or bodily harm, has a probability of causing more than minor environmental harm, or has a probability of causing physical damage to the property of another in an amount exceeding one thousand dollars.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 209. The provisions of sections 207 and 208 of this act affecting civil penalties issued by the department of ecology shall not apply to civil penalties for negligent discharge of oil as authorized under RCW 90.56.330 or to civil penalties as authorized under RCW 90.03.600 for unlawful use of water in violation of RCW 90.03.250 or 90.44.050.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 210. (1) Following a consultative visit pursuant to RCW 49.17.250, the department of labor and industries shall issue a report to the employer that the employer shall make available to its employees. The report shall contain:
(a) A description of the condition that is not in compliance and a specific citation to the applicable law or rule;
(b) A statement of what is required to achieve compliance;
(c) The date by which the department requires compliance to be achieved;
(d) Notice of means to contact technical assistance services provided by the department; and
(e) Notice of when, where, and to whom a request to extend the time to achieve compliance for good cause may be filed with the department.

(2) Following a compliance inspection pursuant to RCW 49.17.120, the department of labor and industries shall issue a citation for violations of industrial safety and health standards. The citation shall not assess a penalty if the violations:
(a) Are determined not to be of a serious nature;
(b) Have not been previously cited;
(c) Are not willful; and
(d) Do not have a mandatory penalty under chapter 49.17 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 211. The date for compliance established by the department of ecology or the department of labor and industries pursuant to section 207 or 210 of this act respectively shall provide for a reasonable time to achieve compliance. Any person receiving a notice of correction pursuant to section 207 of this act or a report or citation pursuant to section 210 of this act may request an extension of time to achieve compliance for good cause from the issuing department. Requests shall be submitted to the issuing department and responded to by the issuing department in writing in accordance with procedures specified by the issuing department in the notice, report, or citation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 212. The departments of revenue and labor and industries and the employment security department shall undertake an educational program directed at those who have the most difficulty in determining their tax or premium liability. The departments may rely on information from internal data, trade associations, and businesses to determine which entities should be selected. The educational programs may include, but not be limited to, targeted informational fact sheets, self-audits, or workshops, and may be presented individually by the agency or in conjunction with other agencies.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 213. The department of revenue, the department of labor and industries in respect to its duties in Title 51 RCW, and the employment security department shall develop and administer a pilot voluntary audit program. Voluntary audits can be requested by businesses from any of these agencies according to guidelines established by each agency. No penalty assessments may be made against participants in such a program except when the agency determines that either a good faith effort has not been made by the taxpayer or premium payer to comply with the law or that the taxpayer has failed to remit previously collected sales taxes to the state. The persons conducting the voluntary audit shall provide the business undergoing the voluntary audit an audit report that describes errors or omissions found and future reporting instructions. This program does not relieve a business from past or future tax or premium obligations.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 214. The departments of revenue and labor and industries and the employment security department shall each review the penalties it issues related to taxes or premiums to determine if they are consistent and provide for waivers in appropriate circumstances. Each department shall report the results of its review to the legislature no later than December 1, 1995.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 215. Nothing in this chapter obligates a regulatory agency to conduct a technical assistance visit. The state and officers or employees of the state shall not be liable for damages to a person to the extent that liability is asserted to arise from providing technical assistance, or if liability is asserted to arise from the failure of the state or officers or employees of the state to provide technical assistance. This chapter does not limit the authority of any regulatory agency to take any enforcement action, other than a civil penalty, authorized by law. This chapter shall not limit a regulatory agency's authority to issue a civil penalty as authorized by law based upon a person's failure to comply with specific terms and conditions of any permit or license issued by the agency to that person.
NEW SECTION. Sec. 216. Agency rules, guidelines, and procedures necessary to implement this act shall be established and implemented expeditiously and not later than July 1, 1996.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 217. If a regulatory agency determines any part of this chapter to be in conflict with federal law or program requirements, in conflict with federal requirements that are a prescribed condition to the allocation of federal funds to the state, or in conflict with the requirements for eligibility of employers in this state for federal unemployment tax credits, the conflicting part of this chapter shall be inoperative solely to the extent of the conflict. Any rules under this chapter shall meet federal requirements that are a necessary condition to the receipt of federal funds by the state or the granting of federal unemployment tax credits to employers in this state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 218. If notified by responsible federal officials of any conflict of this chapter with federal law or program requirements or with federal requirements that are a prescribed condition to the allocation of federal funds to the state, the regulatory agency notified of the conflict shall actively seek to resolve the conflict. If the agency determines that the conflict cannot be resolved without loss of benefits or authority to the state, the agency shall notify the governor, the president of the senate, and the speaker of the house of representatives in writing within thirty days of making that determination.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 219. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 220. (1) By January 31, 1996, and by January 31st of each even-numbered year thereafter, the office of financial management, after consulting with state regulatory agencies, and business, labor, and environmental organizations, shall report to the governor and the legislature regarding the effects of this chapter on the regulatory system in this state. The report shall document:

(a) Technical assistance, including but not limited to technical assistance visits, provided by state regulatory agencies consistent with this chapter;

(b) Any rules adopted, guidelines developed, or training conducted to implement this chapter;

(c) Any changes in the appropriation, allocation, or expenditure of regulatory agency resources to implement this chapter;

(d) Any legal action against state regulatory agencies for any alleged failure to comply with this chapter, the costs to the state of the action, and the result;

(e) The extent to which this chapter has resulted in either an increase or decrease in regulatory agency use of civil penalties;

(f) The extent to which this chapter has contributed to any change in voluntary compliance with state statutes or rules;
The extent to which this chapter has improved the acceptability or effectiveness of state regulatory procedures; and Any other information considered by the office of financial management to be useful in evaluating the effect of this chapter.

This section shall expire June 30, 2000.

Sec. 221. RCW 18.104.155 and 1993 c 387 s 21 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided in sections 207 through 209 of this act, the department of ecology may assess a civil penalty for a violation of this chapter or rules or orders of the department adopted or issued pursuant to it.

(2) There shall be three categories of violations: Minor, serious, and major.

(a) A minor violation is a violation that does not seriously threaten public health, safety, and the environment. Minor violations include, but are not limited to:

(i) Failure to submit completed start cards and well reports within the required time;
(ii) Failure to submit variance requests before construction;
(iii) Failure to submit well construction fees;
(iv) Failure to place a well identification tag on a new well; and
(v) Minor or reparable construction problems.

(b) A serious violation is a violation that poses a critical or serious threat to public health, safety, and the environment. Serious violations include, but are not limited to:

(i) Improper well construction;
(ii) Intentional and improper location or siting of a well;
(iii) Construction of a well without a required permit;
(iv) Violation of decommissioning requirements;
(v) Repeated minor violations; or
(vi) Construction of a well by a person whose license has expired or has been suspended for not more than ninety days.

(c) A major violation is the construction of a well by a person:

(i) Without a license; or
(ii) After the person’s license has been suspended for more than ninety days or revoked.

(3)(a) The penalty for a minor violation shall be not less than one hundred dollars and not more than five hundred dollars. Before the imposition of a penalty for a minor violation, the department may issue an order of noncompliance to provide an opportunity for mitigation or compliance.

(b) The penalty for a serious violation shall be not less than five hundred dollars and not more than five thousand dollars.

(c) The penalty for a major violation shall be not less than five thousand dollars and not more than ten thousand dollars.

(4) In determining the appropriate penalty under subsection (3) of this section the department shall consider whether the person:

(a) Has demonstrated a general disregard for public health and safety through the number and magnitude of the violations;
(b) Has demonstrated a disregard for the well construction laws or rules in repeated or continuous violations; or
(c) Knew or reasonably should have known of circumstances that resulted in the violation.

(5) Penalties provided for in this section shall be imposed pursuant to RCW 43.21B.300. The department shall provide thirty days written notice of a violation as provided in RCW 43.21B.300(3).

(6) For informational purposes, a copy of the notice of violation, resulting from the improper construction of a well, that is sent to a water well contractor or water well construction operator, shall also be sent by the department to the well owner.

(7) Penalties collected by the department pursuant to this section shall be deposited in the reclamation account established by chapter 89.16 RCW. Subject to legislative appropriation, the penalties may be spent only for purposes related to the restoration and enhancement of ground water resources in the state.

Sec. 222. RCW 49.17.180 and 1991 c 108 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided in section 210 of this act, any employer who willfully or repeatedly violates the requirements of RCW 49.17.060, of any safety or health standard promulgated under the authority of this chapter, of any existing rule or regulation governing the conditions of employment promulgated by the department, or of any order issued granting a variance under RCW 49.17.080 or 49.17.090 may be assessed a civil penalty not to exceed seventy thousand dollars for each violation. A minimum penalty of five thousand dollars shall be assessed for a willful violation.

(2) Any employer who has received a citation for a serious violation of the requirements of RCW 49.17.060, of any safety or health standard promulgated under the authority of this chapter, of any existing rule or regulation governing the conditions of employment promulgated by the department, or of any order issued granting a variance under RCW 49.17.080 or 49.17.090 as determined in accordance with subsection (6) of this section, shall be assessed a civil penalty not to exceed seven thousand dollars for each such violation.

(3) Any employer who has received a citation for a violation of the requirements of RCW 49.17.060, of any safety or health standard promulgated under this chapter, of any existing rule or regulation governing the conditions of employment promulgated by the department, or of any order issued granting a variance under RCW 49.17.080 or 49.17.090, where such violation is specifically determined not to be of a serious nature as provided in subsection (6) of this section, may be assessed a civil penalty not to exceed seven thousand dollars for each such violation, unless such violation is determined to be de minimis.

(4) Any employer who fails to correct a violation for which a citation has been issued under RCW 49.17.120 or 49.17.130 within the period permitted for its correction, which period shall not begin to run until the date of the final order of the board of industrial insurance appeals in the case of any review proceedings under this chapter initiated by the employer in good faith and not solely for delay or avoidance of penalties, may be assessed a civil penalty of not more than seven thousand dollars for each day during which such delay or avoidance continues.

(5) Any employer who violates any of the posting requirements of this chapter, or any of the posting requirements of rules promulgated by the department pursuant to this chapter related to employee or employee representative's rights to notice, including but not limited to those employee rights to notice set forth in RCW 49.17.080, 49.17.090, 49.17.120, 49.17.130, 49.17.220(1) and 49.17.240(2), shall be assessed a penalty not to exceed seven thousand dollars for each such violation. Any employer who violates any of the posting requirements for the posting of informational, educational, or training materials under the authority of RCW 49.17.050(7), may be assessed a penalty not to exceed seven thousand dollars for each such violation.

(6) For the purposes of this section, a serious violation shall be deemed to exist in a work place if there is a substantial probability that death or serious physical harm could result from a condition which exists, or from one or more practices, means, methods, operations, or processes which have been adopted or are in use in such work place, unless the employer did not, and could not with the exercise of reasonable diligence, know of the presence of the violation.

(7) The director, or his authorized representatives, shall have authority to assess all civil penalties provided in this section, giving due consideration to the appropriateness of the penalty with respect to the number of affected employees of the employer being charged, the gravity of the violation, the size of the employer's business, the good faith of the employer, and the history of previous violations.

(8) Civil penalties imposed under this chapter shall be paid to the director for deposit in the supplemental pension fund established by RCW 51.44.033. Civil penalties may be recovered in a civil action in the name of the department brought in the superior court of the county where the violation is alleged to have occurred, or the department may utilize the procedures for collection of civil penalties as set forth in RCW 51.48.120 through 51.48.150.

Sec. 223. RCW 70.94.431 and 1991 c 199 s 311 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided in sections 207 through 209 of this act, and in addition to or as an alternate to any other penalty provided by law, any person who violates any of the provisions of chapter 70.94 RCW, chapter 70.120 RCW, or any of the rules in force under such chapters may incur a civil penalty in an amount not to exceed ten thousand dollars per day for each violation. Each such violation shall be a separate and distinct offense, and in case of a continuing violation, each day's continuance shall be a separate and distinct violation.

Any person who fails to take action as specified by an order issued pursuant to this chapter shall be liable for a civil penalty of not more than ten thousand dollars for each day of continued noncompliance.

(2) Penalties incurred but not paid shall accrue interest, beginning on the ninety-first day following the date that the penalty becomes due and payable, at the highest rate allowed by RCW 19.52.020 on the date that the penalty becomes due and payable. If violations or penalties are appealed, interest shall not begin to accrue until the thirty-first day following final resolution of the appeal.

The maximum penalty amounts established in this section may be increased annually to account for inflation as determined by the state office of the economic and revenue forecast council.

(3) Each act of commission or omission which procures, aids or abets in the violation shall be considered a violation under the provisions of this section and subject to the same penalty. The penalties provided in this section shall be imposed pursuant to RCW 43.21B.300.

(4) All penalties recovered under this section by the department shall be paid into the state treasury and credited to the air pollution control account established in RCW 70.94.015 or, if recovered by the authority, shall be paid into the treasury of the authority and credited to its funds. If a prior penalty for the same violation has been paid to a local authority, the penalty imposed by the department under subsection (1) of this section shall be reduced by the amount of the payment.

(5) To secure the penalty incurred under this section, the state or the authority shall have a lien on any vessel used or operated in violation of this chapter which shall be enforced as provided in RCW 60.36.050.

(6) Public or private entities that are recipients or potential recipients of department grants, whether for air quality related activities or not, may have such grants rescinded or withheld by the department for failure to comply with provisions of this chapter.

(7) In addition to other penalties provided by this chapter, persons knowingly under-reporting emissions or other information used to set fees, or persons required to pay emission or permit fees who are more than ninety days late with such payments may be subject to a penalty equal to three times the amount of the original fee owed.

(8) By January 1, 1992, the department shall develop rules for excusing excess emissions from enforcement action if such excess emissions are unavoidable. The rules shall specify the criteria and procedures for the department and local air authorities to determine whether a period of excess emissions is excusable in accordance with the state implementation plan.

Sec. 224. RCW 70.105.080 and 1987 c 109 s 12 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided in sections 207 through 209 of this act, every person who fails to comply with any provision of this chapter or of the rules adopted thereunder shall be subjected to a penalty in an amount of not more than ten thousand dollars per day for every such violation. Each and every such violation shall be a separate and distinct offense. In case of continuing violation, every day's continuance shall be a separate and distinct violation. Every person who, through an act of commission or omission, procures, aids, or abets in the violation shall be considered to have violated the provisions of this section and shall be subject to the penalty herein provided.

(2) The penalty provided for in this section shall be imposed pursuant to the procedures in RCW 43.21B.300.

Sec. 225. RCW 70.132.050 and 1982 c 113 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

Except as provided in sections 207 through 209 of this act, any person who violates any provision of this chapter or any rule adopted under this chapter is subject to a civil penalty not exceeding five hundred dollars for each violation. Each day of a continuing violation is a separate violation.

Sec. 226. RCW 70.138.040 and 1987 c 528 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided in sections 207 through 209 of this act, any person who violates any provision of a department regulation or regulatory order relating to the management of special incinerator ash shall incur in addition to any other penalty provided by law, a penalty in an amount up to ten thousand dollars a day for every such violation. Each and every such violation shall be a separate and distinct offense. In case of continuing violation, every day's continuance shall be a separate and distinct violation. Every person who, through an act of commission or omission, procures, aids, or abets in the violation shall be considered to have violated the provisions of this section and shall be subject to the penalty herein provided.

(2) The penalty provided for in this section shall be imposed by a notice in writing, either by certified mail with return receipt requested or by personal service, to the person incurring the same from the department, describing the violation with reasonable particularity. Within fifteen days after the notice is received, the person incurring the penalty may apply in writing to the department for the remission or mitigation of such penalty. Upon receipt of the application, the department may remit or mitigate the penalty upon whatever terms the department in its discretion deems proper, giving consideration to the degree of hazard associated with the violation, provided the department deems such remission or mitigation to be in the best interests of carrying out the purposes of this chapter. The department shall have authority to ascertain the facts regarding all such applications in such reasonable manner and under such rules as it may deem proper.

(3) Any penalty imposed by this section shall become due and payable thirty days after receipt of a notice imposing the same unless application for remission or mitigation is made or petition for review by the hearings board is filed. When such an application for remission or mitigation is made, any penalty incurred pursuant to this section shall become due and payable thirty days after receipt of notice setting forth the disposition of such application.
If the amount of any penalty is not paid to the department within thirty days after it becomes due and payable, the attorney general, upon the request of the director, shall bring an action in the name of the state of Washington in the superior court of Thurston county, or any county in which such violator may do business, to recover such penalty. In all such actions, the procedure and rules of evidence shall be the same as an ordinary civil action except as otherwise provided in this chapter.

Sec. 227. RCW 86.16.081 and 1987 c 523 s 8 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided in sections 207 through 209 of this act, the attorney general or the attorney for the local government shall bring such injunctive, declaratory, or other actions as are necessary to ensure compliance with this chapter.

(2) Any person who fails to comply with this chapter shall also be subject to a civil penalty not to exceed one thousand dollars for each violation. Each violation or each day of noncompliance shall constitute a separate violation.

(3) The penalty provided for in this section shall be imposed by a notice in writing, either by certified mail with return receipt requested or by personal service, to the person incurring the same from the department or local government, describing the violation with reasonable particularity and ordering the act or acts constituting the violation or violations to cease and desist or, in appropriate cases, requiring necessary corrective action to be taken within a specific and reasonable time.

(4) Any penalty imposed pursuant to this section by the department shall be subject to review by the pollution control hearings board. Any penalty imposed pursuant to this section by local government shall be subject to review by the local government legislative authority. Any penalty jointly imposed by the department and local government shall be appealed to the pollution control hearings board.

Sec. 228. RCW 90.03.600 and 1987 c 109 s 157 are each amended to read as follows:

Except as provided in sections 207 through 209 of this act, the power is granted to the department of ecology to levy civil penalties of up to one hundred dollars per day for violation of any of the provisions of this chapter and chapters 43.83B, 90.22, and 90.44 RCW, and rules, permits, and similar documents and regulatory orders of the department of ecology adopted or issued pursuant to such chapters. The procedures of RCW 90.48.144 shall be applicable to all phases of the levying of a penalty as well as review and appeal of the same.

Except as provided in sections 207 through 209 of this act, every person who:

(1) Violates the terms or conditions of a waste discharge permit issued pursuant to RCW 90.48.180 or 90.48.260 through 90.48.262, or
(2) Conducts a commercial or industrial operation or other point source discharge operation without a waste discharge permit as required by RCW 90.48.160 or 90.48.260 through 90.48.262, or
(3) Violates the provisions of RCW 90.48.080, or other sections of this chapter or chapter 90.56 RCW or rules or orders adopted or issued pursuant to either of those chapters, shall incur, in addition to any other penalty as provided by law, a penalty in an amount of up to ten thousand dollars a day for every such violation. Each and every such violation shall be a separate and distinct offense, and in case of a continuing violation, every day's continuance shall be and be deemed to be a separate and distinct violation. Every act of commission or omission which procures, aids or abets in the violation shall be considered a violation under the provisions of this section and subject to the penalty herein provided for. The penalty amount shall be set in consideration of the previous history of the violator and the severity of the violation's impact on public health and/or the environment in addition to other relevant factors. The penalty herein provided for shall be imposed pursuant to the procedures set forth in RCW 43.21B.300.

Sec. 230. RCW 90.58.210 and 1986 c 292 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided in sections 207 through 209 of this act, the attorney general or the attorney for the local government shall bring such injunctive, declaratory, or other actions as are necessary to insure that no uses are made of the shorelines of the state in conflict with the provisions and programs of this chapter, and to otherwise enforce the provisions of this chapter.

(2) Any person who shall fail to conform to the terms of a permit issued under this chapter or who shall undertake development on the shorelines of the state without first obtaining any permit required under this chapter shall also be subject to a civil penalty not to exceed one thousand dollars for each violation. Each permit violation or each day of continued development without a required permit shall constitute a separate violation.

(3) The penalty provided for in this section shall be imposed by a notice in writing, either by certified mail with return receipt requested or by personal service, to the person incurring the same from the department or local government, describing the violation with reasonable particularity and ordering the act or acts constituting the violation or violations to cease and desist or, in appropriate cases, requiring necessary corrective action to be taken within a specific and reasonable time.

(4) Within thirty days after the notice is received, the person incurring the penalty may apply in writing to the department for remission or mitigation of such penalty. Upon receipt of the application, the department or local government may remit or mitigate the penalty upon whatever terms the department or local government in its discretion deems proper. Any penalty imposed pursuant to this section by the department shall be subject to review by the shorelines hearings board. Any penalty imposed pursuant to this section by local government shall be subject to review by the local government legislative authority. Any penalty jointly imposed by the department and local government shall be appealed to the shorelines hearings board.

Sec. 231. RCW 90.58.560 and 1983 c 138 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided in sections 207 through 209 of this act, a person who violates RCW 90.58.550, or any rule adopted thereunder, is subject to a penalty in an amount of up to five thousand dollars a day for every such violation. Each and every such violation shall be a separate and distinct offense, and in case of a continuing violation, every day's continuance shall be and be deemed to be a separate and distinct violation. Every act of commission or omission which procures, aids or abets in the violation shall be considered a violation under the provisions of this section and subject to the penalty provided for in this section.

(2) The penalty shall be imposed by a notice in writing, either by certified mail with return receipt requested or by personal service, to the person incurring the penalty from the director or the director's representative describing such violation with reasonable particularity. The director or the director's representative may, upon written application therefor received within fifteen days after notice imposing any penalty is received by the person incurring the penalty, and when deemed to carry out the purposes of this chapter, remit or mitigate any penalty provided for in this section upon such terms as he or she deems proper, and shall have authority to ascertain the facts upon all such applications in such manner and under such regulations as he or she may deem proper.

(3) Any person incurring any penalty under this section may appeal the penalty to the hearings board as provided for in chapter 43.21B RCW. Such appeals shall be filed within thirty days of receipt of notice imposing any penalty unless an application for remission or mitigation is made to the department. When an application for remission or mitigation is made, such appeals shall be filed within thirty days of receipt of notice from the director or the director's representative setting forth the disposition of the application. Any penalty imposed under this section shall become due and payable thirty days after receipt of a notice imposing the same unless application for remission or mitigation is made or an appeal is filed. When an application for remission or mitigation is made, any penalty incurred hereunder shall become due and payable thirty days after receipt of notice setting forth the disposition of the application unless an appeal is filed from such disposition. Whenever an appeal of any penalty incurred under this section is filed, the penalty shall become due and payable only upon completion of all review proceedings and the issuance of a final order confirming the penalty in whole or in part.

(4) If the amount of any penalty is not paid to the department within thirty days after it becomes due and payable, the attorney general, upon the request of the director, shall bring an action in the name of the state of Washington in the superior court of Thurston county or of any county in which such violator may do business, to recover such penalty. In all such actions the procedure and rules of evidence shall be the same as an ordinary civil action except as otherwise in this chapter provided. All penalties recovered under this section shall be paid into the state treasury and credited to the general fund.

Sec. 232. RCW 90.76.080 and 1989 c 346 s 9 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided in sections 207 through 209 of this act, a person who fails to notify the department pursuant to tank notification requirements or who submits false information is subject to a civil penalty not to exceed five thousand dollars per violation.

(2) Except as provided in sections 207 through 209 of this act, a person who violates this chapter is subject to a civil penalty not to exceed five thousand dollars for each tank per day of violation.

PART III - RULES REVIEW

NEW SECTION. Sec. 301. The joint administrative rules review committee shall not render a decision on a rule unless a quorum is present. A quorum shall consist of at least five members of the committee. Once a quorum is established, a majority of the quorum may render any decision except a suspension recommendation. A recommendation to suspend a rule under RCW 34.05.640 shall require a majority vote of the entire membership of the rules review committee.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 302. (1) Any person potentially impacted by a proposed rule or currently impacted by an existing rule may petition the rules review committee for a review of that rule. Within thirty days of the receipt of the petition, the rules review committee shall acknowledge receipt of the petition and describe the initial action taken. If the rules review committee rejects the petition, a written statement of the reasons for rejection shall be included.

(2) Within ninety days of receipt of the petition, the rules review committee shall make a final decision on the rule.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 303. Any individual employed or holding office in any department or agency of state government may submit rules warranting review to the rules review committee. Any such state employee is protected under chapter 42.40 RCW.

Sec. 304. RCW 34.05.660 and 1988 c 288 s 606 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section, it is the express policy of the legislature that establishment of procedures for review of administrative rules by the legislature and the notice of objection required by RCW 34.05.630(2) and 34.05.640(2) in no way serves to establish a presumption as to the legality or constitutionality of a rule in any subsequent judicial proceedings interpreting such rules.

(2) An election by the rules review committee to recommend suspension of a rule, whether or not the suspension is approved by the governor, and if the suspension recommendation is not subsequently withdrawn, establishes a presumption in any subsequent judicial review of the rule that the rule is invalid. The burden of demonstrating the rule's validity is then on the adopting agency.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 305. (1) The rules review committee may make reports from time to time to the members of the legislature and to the public with respect to any of its findings or recommendations. The committee shall keep complete minutes of its meetings.
(2) The committee may establish ad hoc advisory boards, including but not limited to, ad hoc economics or science advisory boards to assist the committee in its rules review functions.
(3) The committee may hire staff as needed to perform functions under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 306. In the discharge of any duty imposed under this chapter, the rules review committee may examine and inspect all properties, equipment, facilities, files, records, and accounts of any state office, department, institution, board, committee, commission, or agency, and administer oaths, issue subpoenas, compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of any papers, books, accounts, documents, and testimony, and cause the deposition of witnesses, either residing within or without the state, to be taken in the manner prescribed by law for taking depositions in civil actions in the superior courts.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 307. In case of the failure on the part of any person to comply with any subpoena issued in behalf of the rules review committee, or on the refusal of any witness to testify to any matters regarding which he or she may be lawfully interrogated, it is the duty of the superior court of any county, or of the judge thereof, on application of the committee, to compel obedience by proceedings for contempt, as in the case of disobedience of the requirements of a subpoena issued from the court or a refusal to testify in the court.

Sec. 308. RCW 42.40.010 and 1982 c 208 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:
It is the policy of the legislature that employees should be encouraged to disclose, to the extent not expressly prohibited by law, improper governmental actions, and it is the intent of the legislature to protect the rights of state employees making these disclosures. It is also the policy of the legislature that employees should be encouraged to identify rules warranting review or provide information to the rules review committee, and it is the intent of the legislature to protect the rights of these employees.

Sec. 309. RCW 42.40.020 and 1992 c 118 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:
As used in this chapter, the terms defined in this section shall have the meanings indicated unless the context clearly requires otherwise.
(1) "Auditor" means the office of the state auditor.
"Employee" means any individual employed or holding office in any department or agency of state government.

(3)(a) "Improper governmental action" means any action by an employee:

(i) Which is undertaken in the performance of the employee's official duties, whether or not the action is within the scope of the employee's employment; and

(ii) Which is in violation of any state law or rule, is an abuse of authority, is of substantial and specific danger to the public health or safety, or is a gross waste of public funds.

(b) "Improper governmental action" does not include personnel actions including but not limited to employee grievances, complaints, appointments, promotions, transfers, assignments, reassignments, reinstatements, restorations, reemployments, performance evaluations, reductions in pay, dismissals, suspensions, demotions, violations of the state civil service law, alleged labor agreement violations, reprimands, or any action which may be taken under chapter 41.06 (or 28B.16) RCW, or other disciplinary action except as provided in RCW 42.40.030.

(4) "Use of official authority or influence" includes taking, directing others to take, recommending, processing, or approving any personnel action such as an appointment, promotion, transfer, assignment, reassignment, reinstatement, restoration, reemployment, performance evaluation, or any adverse action under chapter 41.06 (or 28B.16) RCW, or other disciplinary action.

(5) "Whistleblower" means an employee who in good faith reports alleged improper governmental action to the auditor, initiating an investigation under RCW 42.40.040. For purposes of the provisions of this chapter and chapter 49.60 RCW relating to reprisals and retaliatory action, the term "whistleblower" also means: (a) An employee who in good faith provides information to the auditor in connection with an investigation under RCW 42.40.040 and an employee who is believed to have reported alleged improper governmental action to the auditor or to have provided information to the auditor in connection with an investigation under RCW 42.40.040 but who, in fact, has not reported such action or provided such information; or (b) an employee who in good faith identifies rules warranting review or provides information to the rules review committee, and an employee who is believed to have identified rules warranting review or provided information to the rules review committee but who, in fact, has not done so.

Sec. 310. RCW 42.40.030 and 1989 c 284 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) An employee shall not directly or indirectly use or attempt to use the employee's official authority or influence for the purpose of intimidating, threatening, coercing, commanding, influencing, or attempting to intimidate, threaten, coerce, command, or influence any individual for the purpose of interfering with the right of the individual to: (a) Disclose to the auditor (or representative thereof) information concerning improper governmental action; or (b) identify rules warranting review or provide information to the rules review committee.

(2) Nothing in this section authorizes an individual to disclose information otherwise prohibited by law.

PART IV - FEES AND EXPENSES

NEW SECTION.  Sec. 401. A new section is added to chapter 4.84 RCW to read as follows:

(2) "Fees and other expenses" includes the reasonable expenses of expert witnesses, the reasonable cost of a study, analysis, engineering report, test, or project that is found by the court to be necessary for the preparation of the party's case, and reasonable attorneys' fees. Reasonable attorneys' fees shall be based on the prevailing market rates for the kind and quality of services furnished, except that (a) no expert witness may be compensated at a rate in excess of the highest rates of compensation for expert witnesses paid by the state of Washington, and (b) attorneys' fees shall not be awarded in excess of one hundred fifty dollars per hour unless the court determines that an increase in the cost-of-living or a special factor, such as the limited availability of qualified attorneys for the proceedings involved, justifies a higher fee.

(3) "Judicial review" means a judicial review as defined by chapter 34.05 RCW.

(4) "Qualified party" means (a) an individual whose net worth did not exceed one million dollars at the time the initial petition for judicial review was filed; or (b) a sole owner of an unincorporated business, or a partnership, corporation, association, or organization having not more than one million dollars in gross receipts, as reported to the department of revenue, in the calendar year prior to when the initial petition for judicial review was filed, except that an organization described in section 501(c)(3) of the federal internal revenue code of 1954 as exempt from taxation under section 501(a) of the code and a cooperative association as defined in section 15(a) of the agricultural marketing act (12 U.S.C. Sec. 1141J(a)), may be a party regardless of the net worth of such organization or cooperative association.

(5) "Rule" means a rule as defined by chapter 34.05 RCW.

NEW SECTION.  Sec. 402. A new section is added to chapter 4.84 RCW to read as follows:

NEW SECTION.  Sec. 403. A new section is added to chapter 4.84 RCW to read as follows:
Fees and other expenses awarded under section 402 of this act shall be paid by the agency that adopted the invalid rule from operating funds appropriated to the agency within sixty days. Agencies paying fees and other expenses pursuant to section 402 of this act shall report all payments to the office of financial management within five days of paying the fees and other expenses. Fees and other expenses awarded by the court shall be subject to chapter 39.76 RCW and shall be deemed payable on the date the court announces the award.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 404. A new section is added to chapter 43.88 RCW to read as follows:

POINT OF ORDER

Representative B. Thomas: Thank you Mr. Speaker. I would request a ruling on the scope and object of amendment number 30 to House Bill No. 1023.

SPEAKER’S RULING

Representative B. Thomas: The title of House Bill No. 1023 is "An act relating to reducing business and occupation tax rates." The title is narrow in that it relates only to reducing business and occupation tax rates. The bill amends RCW 82.04.255 and RCW 82.04.290. Amendment number 30 would add to House Bill No. 1023 a new section to repeal business & occupation surtaxes found in RCW 82.04.2201.

While eliminating surtaxes would reduce the taxes paid by employers it would not in any manner reduce employers business & occupation tax rates that are in statute.

The Speaker finds that amendment number 30 would expand the scope and object of the underlying House Bill No. 1023 and is therefore beyond the scope and object of the bill.

Representative B. Thomas, your point of order is well taken.

Representative Morris moved the adoption of the following amendment by Representative Morris:

"Sec. 3. RCW 82.04.2201 and 1994 sp.s. c 10 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:
There is levied and shall be collected for the period July 1, 1993, through June 30, 1997, from every person for the act or privilege of engaging in business activities, as a part of the tax imposed under RCW 82.04.220 through 82.04.280 and 82.04.290(3), except RCW 82.04.250(1) and 82.04.260(15), an additional tax equal to ((4.5 percent)) 0.0 percent multiplied by the tax payable under those sections.
To facilitate collection of these additional taxes, the department of revenue is authorized to adjust the basic rates of persons to which this section applies in such manner as to reflect the amount to the nearest one-thousandth of one percent of the additional tax hereby imposed, adjusting ten-thousandths equal to or greater than five ten-thousandths to the greater thousandth."

POINT OF ORDER

Representative B. Thomas: Thank you Mr. Speaker. I would request a ruling on the scope and object of amendment number 43 to House Bill No. 1023.

SPEAKER'S RULING

Representative B. Thomas: The title of House Bill No. 1023 is "An act relating to reducing business and occupation tax rates." The title is narrow in that it relates only to reducing business and occupation Tax Rates. The bill amends RCW 82.04.255 and RCW 82.04.290.
Amendment number 43 would add to House Bill No. 1023 a section which would eliminate the business & occupation tax surcharges by amending RCW 82.04.2201.
While drafted in a different form, amendment number 43 would have the same effect on this bill that amendment number 30 would have had. Both amendments propose to eliminated the business & occupation tax rates which are set forth in statute.
The Speaker finds that amendment number 43 would expand the scope and object of the underlying House Bill No. 1023 and is therefore beyond the scope and object of the bill.

Representative B. Thomas, your point of order is well taken.

Representative G. Fisher moved adoption of the following amendment by Representative G. Fisher and Conway:

"Sec. 1. RCW 82.04.4451 and 1994 sp.s. c 2 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:
(1) In computing the tax imposed under this chapter, a credit is allowed against the amount of tax otherwise due under this chapter, as provided in this section. The maximum credit for a taxpayer for a reporting period is ((thirty-five)) one hundred fifty-five dollars multiplied by the number of months in the reporting period, as determined under RCW 82.32.045.
(2) When the amount of tax otherwise due under this chapter is equal to or less than the maximum credit, a credit is allowed equal to the amount of tax otherwise due under this chapter.
(3) When the amount of tax otherwise due under this chapter exceeds the maximum credit, a reduced credit is allowed equal to twice the maximum credit, minus the tax otherwise due under this chapter, but not less than zero.

POINT OF ORDER

Representative B. Thomas: Thank you Mr. Speaker. I would request a ruling on the scope and object of amendment number 41 to House Bill No. 1023.
SPEAKER’S RULING

Representative B. Thomas, the Speaker is prepared to rule on your point of order which challenges amendment number 41 to House Bill No. 1023 as being beyond the scope and object of the bill.

The title of House Bill No. 1023 is "An act relating to reducing business and occupation tax rates."

The title is narrow in that it relates only to reducing business and occupation Tax Rates. The bill amends RCW 82.04.255 and RCW 82.04.290.

Amendment number 41 would add to House Bill No. 1023 a section which would increase the credit allowed against business and occupation taxes by amending RCW 82.04.4451.

While increasing the credit against business & occupation taxes would reduce the taxes paid by employers it would not in any manner reduce business and occupation tax rates that are in statute.

The Speaker finds that amendment number 41 would expand the scope and object of the underlying House Bill No. 1023 and is therefore beyond the scope and object of the bill.

Representative B. Thomas, your point of order is well taken.

On motion of Representative Foreman, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Representative Appelwick spoke in favor of the motion.

Representative K. Schmidt demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be final passage of House Bill No. 1023.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on final passage of House Bill No. 1023 and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yea's - 97, Nay's - 1,Absent - 0, Excused - 0.

Voting nay: Representative Valle - 1.

House Bill No. 1023, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

There being no objection, the House advanced to the eleventh order of business.

MOTION

On motion of Representative Foreman, the House adjourned until 9:55 a.m., Tuesday, February 7, 1995.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Representative Dyer yielded to a question by Representative Ebersole.

Representative Ebersole: We heard a great deal of debate about cooked fiscal notes the other day and that you can’t rely on fiscal notes. And I just heard you base your argument on the fiscal notes. Is this a fiscal note that we can trust, Representative Dyer.

Representative Dyer: Yes. It’s one that goes down so those are easier to trust than those ones that go up.
Representative Ebersole: Oh I see, if they go down they are trust-worthy. If any government agency the State Patrol, Secretary of State, the Attorney General says something goes up we don't trust it. Is that the interpretation.

Representative Dyer: That may be yours, but it's not mine. At this point I trust the integrity of this fiscal note and cannot speak for the others.

Representative Dyer spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment and it was adopted.

Representative Conway moved adoption of the following amendment by Representative Conway and others:

On page 6, after line 24, insert:

"Sec. 8. RCW 70.47.020 is amended to read as follows:
As used in this chapter:
(1) "Washington basic health plan" or "plan" means the system of enrollment and payment on a prepaid capitlated basis for basic health care services, administered by the plan administrator through participating managed health care systems, created by this chapter.
(2) "Administrator" means the Washington basic health plan administrator, who also holds the position of administrator of the Washington state health care authority.
(3) "Managed health care system" means any health care organization, including health care providers, insurers, health care service contractors, health maintenance organizations, or any combination thereof, that provides directly or by contract basic health care services, as defined by the administrator and rendered by duly licensed providers, on a prepaid capitlated basis to a defined patient population enrolled in the plan and in the managed health care system. On and after July 1, 1995, "managed health care system" means a certified health plan, as defined in RCW 43.72.010."
(4) "Subsidized enrollee" means an individual, or an individual plus the individual's spouse or dependent children, not eligible for Medicare, who resides in an area of the state served by a managed health care system participating in the plan, whose gross family income at the time of enrollment does not exceed ((twice)) two hundred fifty percent of the federal poverty level as adjusted for family size and determined annually by the Federal Department of Health and Human Services, who the administrator determines shall not have, or shall not have voluntarily relinquished health insurance more comprehensive than that offered by the plan as of the effective date of enrollment, and who chooses to obtain basic health care coverage from a particular managed health care system in return for periodic payments to the plan.

(5) "Nonsubsidized enrollee" means an individual, or an individual plus the individual's spouse or dependent children, not eligible for Medicare, who resides in an area of the state served by a managed health care system participating in the plan, who the administrator determines shall not have, or shall not have voluntarily relinquished health insurance more comprehensive than that offered by the plan as of the effective date of enrollment, and who chooses to obtain basic health care coverage from a particular managed health care system, and who pays or on whose behalf is paid the full costs for participation in the plan, without any subsidy from the plan.

(6) "Subsidy" means the difference between the amount of periodic payment the administrator makes to a managed health care system on behalf of a subsidized enrollee plus the administrative cost to the plan of providing the plan to that subsidized enrollee, and the amount determined to be the subsidized enrollee's responsibility under RCW 70.47.060(2).

(7) "Premium" means a periodic payment, based upon gross family income which an individual, their employer or another financial sponsor makes to the plan as consideration for enrollment in the plan as a subsidized enrollee or a nonsubsidized enrollee.

(8) "Rate" means the per capita amount, negotiated by the administrator with and paid to a participating managed health care system, that is based upon the enrollment of subsidized and nonsubsidized enrollees in the plan and in that system.

Sec. 9. RCW 70.47.060 is amended to read as follows:

The administrator has the following powers and duties:

(1) To design and from time to time revise a schedule of covered basic health care services, including physician services, inpatient and outpatient hospital services, prescription drugs and medications, and other services that may be necessary for basic health care, which subsidized and nonsubsidized enrollees in any participating managed health care system under the Washington basic health plan shall be entitled to receive in return for premium payments to the plan. The schedule of services shall emphasize preventive and primary health care and shall include all services necessary for prenatals, postnatales, and well-child care. However, with respect to coverage for groups of subsidized enrollees who are eligible to receive prenatal and postnatal services through the medical assistance program under chapter 74.09 RCW, the administrator shall not contract for such services except to the extent that such services are necessary over not more than a one-month period in order to maintain continuity of care after diagnosis of pregnancy by the managed care provider. The schedule of services shall also include a separate schedule of basic health care services for children, eighteen years of age and younger, for those subsidized or nonsubsidized enrollees who choose to secure basic coverage through the plan only for their dependent children. In designing and revising the schedule of services, the administrator shall consider the guidelines for assessing health services under the mandated benefits act of 1984, RCW 48.42.080, and such other factors as the administrator deems appropriate. On and after July 1, 1995, the uniform benefits package adopted and from time to time revised by the Washington health services commission pursuant to RCW 43.72.130 shall be implemented by the administrator as the schedule of covered basic health care services. However, with respect to coverage for subsidized enrollees who are eligible to receive prenatal and postnatal services through the medical assistance program under chapter 74.09 RCW, the administrator shall not contract for such services except to the extent that the services are necessary over not more than a one-month period in order to maintain continuity of care after diagnosis of pregnancy by the managed care provider.

(2)(a) To design and implement a structure of periodic premiums due the administrator from subsidized enrollees that is based upon gross family income, giving appropriate consideration to family size and the ages of all family members. The enrollment of children shall not require the enrollment of their parent or parents who are eligible for the plan. The structure of periodic premiums shall be applied to subsidized enrollees entering the plan as individuals pursuant to subsection (9) of this section.
and to the share of the cost of the plan due from subsidized enrollees entering the plan as employees pursuant to subsection (10) of this section.

(b) To determine the periodic premiums due the administrator from nonsubsidized enrollees. Premiums due from nonsubsidized enrollees shall be in an amount equal to the cost charged by the managed health care system provider to the state for the plan plus the administrative cost of providing the plan to those enrollees and the premium tax under RCW 48.14.0201.

(c) An employer or other financial sponsor may, with the prior approval of the administrator, pay the premium, rate, or any other amount on behalf of a subsidized or nonsubsidized enrollee, by arrangement with the enrollee and through a mechanism acceptable to the administrator, but in no case shall the payment made on behalf of the enrollee exceed the total premiums due from the enrollee.

(3) To design and implement a structure of copayments due a managed health care system from subsidized and nonsubsidized enrollees. The structure shall discourage inappropriate enrollee utilization of health care services, but shall not be so costly to enrollees as to constitute a barrier to appropriate utilization of necessary health care services. On and after July 1, 1995, the administrator shall endeavor to make the copayments structure of the plan consistent with enrollee point of service cost-sharing levels adopted by the Washington health services commission, giving consideration to funding available to the plan.

(4) To limit enrollment of persons who qualify for subsidies so as to prevent an overexpenditure of appropriations for such purposes. Whenever the administrator finds that there is danger of such an overexpenditure, the administrator shall close enrollment until the administrator finds the danger no longer exists.

(5) To limit the payment of subsidies to subsidized enrollees, as defined in RCW 70.47.020.

(6) To adopt a schedule for the orderly development of the delivery of services and availability of the plan to residents of the state, subject to the limitations contained in RCW 70.47.080 or any act appropriating funds for the plan.

(7) To solicit and accept applications from managed health care systems, as defined in this chapter, for inclusion as eligible basic health care providers under the plan. The administrator shall endeavor to assure that covered basic health care services are available to any enrollee of the plan from among a selection of two or more participating managed health care systems. In adopting any rules or procedures applicable to managed health care systems and in its dealings with such systems, the administrator shall consider and make suitable allowance for the need for health care services and the differences in local availability of health care resources, along with other resources, within and among the several areas of the state. Contracts with participating managed health care systems shall ensure that basic health plan enrollees who become eligible for medical assistance may, at their option, continue to receive services from their existing providers within the managed health care system if such providers have entered into provider agreements with the department of social and health services.

(8) To receive periodic premiums from or on behalf of subsidized and nonsubsidized enrollees, deposit them in the basic health plan operating account, keep records of enrollee status, and authorize periodic payments to managed health care systems on the basis of the number of enrollees participating in the respective managed health care systems.

(9) To accept applications from individuals residing in areas served by the plan, on behalf of themselves and their spouses and dependent children, for enrollment in the Washington basic health plan as subsidized or nonsubsidized enrollees, to establish appropriate minimum-enrollment periods for enrollees as may be necessary, and to determine, upon application and at least semiannually thereafter, or at the request of any enrollee, eligibility due to current gross family income for sliding scale premiums. No subsidy may be paid with respect to any enrollee whose current gross family income exceeds ((twice))two hundred fifty percent of the federal poverty level or, subject to RCW 70.47.110, who is a recipient of medical assistance or medical care services under chapter 74.09 RCW. If, as a result of an eligibility review, the administrator determines that a subsidized enrollee’s income exceeds ((twice))two hundred fifty percent of the federal poverty level and that the enrollee knowingly failed to inform the plan of such increase in income, the administrator may bill the enrollee for the subsidy paid on the enrollee’s behalf during the period of time that the enrollee’s income exceeded ((twice))two hundred fifty percent of the federal poverty level. If a number of enrollees drop their enrollment for no apparent good cause, the administrator may establish appropriate rules or requirements that are applicable to such individuals before they will be allowed to re-enroll in the plan.

(10) To accept applications from business owners on behalf of themselves and their employees, spouses, and dependent children, as subsidized or nonsubsidized enrollees, who reside in an area served by the plan. The administrator may require all or the substantial majority of the eligible employees of such businesses to enroll in the plan and establish those procedures necessary to facilitate the orderly enrollment of groups in the plan and into a managed health care system. The administrator shall require that a business owner pay at least fifty percent of the nonsubsidized premium cost of the plan on behalf of each employee enrolled in the plan. Enrollment is limited to those not eligible for medicare who wish to enroll in the plan and choose to obtain the basic health care coverage and services from a managed care system participating in the plan. The administrator shall adjust the amount determined to be due on behalf of or from all such enrollees whenever the amount negotiated by the administrator with the participating managed health care system or systems is modified or the administrative cost of providing the plan to such enrollees changes.

(11) To determine the rate to be paid to each participating managed health care system in return for the provision of covered basic health care services to enrollees in the system. Although the schedule of covered basic health care services will be the same for similar enrollees, the rates negotiated with participating managed health care systems may vary among the systems. In negotiating rates with participating systems, the administrator shall consider the characteristics of the populations served by the respective systems, economic circumstances of the local area, the need to conserve the resources of the basic health plan trust account, and other factors the administrator finds relevant.

(12) To monitor the provision of covered services to enrollees by participating managed health care systems in order to assure enrollee access to good quality basic health care, to require periodic data reports concerning the utilization of health care services rendered to enrollees in order to provide adequate information for evaluation, and to inspect the books and records of participating managed health care systems to assure compliance with the purposes of this chapter. In requiring reports from participating managed health care systems, including data on services rendered enrollees, the administrator shall endeavor to minimize costs, both to the managed health care systems and to the plan. The administrator shall coordinate any such reporting requirements with other state agencies, such as the insurance commissioner and the department of health, to minimize duplication of effort.

(13) To evaluate the effects this chapter has on private employer-based health care coverage and to take appropriate measures consistent with state and federal statutes that will discourage the reduction of such coverage in the state.

(14) To develop a program of proven preventive health measures and to integrate it into the plan wherever possible and consistent with this chapter.

(15) To provide, consistent with available funding, assistance for rural residents, underserved populations, and persons of color."

POINT OF ORDER

Representative Dyer: Thank you Mr. Speaker, I would request a ruling on scope and object of amendment number 50 to Substitute House Bill No. 1046.

SPEAKER'S RULING

Representative Dyer: The title of Substitute House Bill No. 1046 is: "An act relating to health care reform improvement". The title is broad. The bill amends or repeals RCW section which are spread out over a dozen different chapters of law.

Amendment 50 would add to Substitute House Bill No. 1046 a section amending RCW 66.24.290 while RCW 66.24.290 IS NOT currently contained in the title of Substitute House Bill No. 1046, the Speaker will take note that RCW 66.24.290 specifically references chapter 43.72 RCW and that is a chapter named 35 times in the title of Substitute House Bill No. 1046.

The Speaker finds that amendment 50 is within the scope of the title of Substitute House Bill No. 1046. The Speaker finds that Substitute House Bill No. 1046 is a very broad bill relating to making major changes in the 1993 Health Care Act. The language in RCW 66.24.290 which amendment 050 seeks to strike, was added by the 1993 Act and was an important part of that act.

The Speaker finds that amendment 050 is within both the scope and object of Substitute House Bill No. 1046.

Representative Dyer, your point of order is not well taken.

Representative Morris spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment.

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 70.47 RCW to read as follows:

BASIC HEALTH PLAN--EXPANDED ENROLLMENT. (1) The legislature finds that the basic health plan has been an effective program in providing health coverage for uninsured residents. Further, since 1993, substantial amounts of public funds have been allocated for subsidized basic health plan enrollment.

(2) It is the intent of the legislature that the basic health plan enrollment be expanded expeditiously, consistent with funds available in the health services account, with the goal of one hundred thirty thousand subsidized enrollees by June 30, 1997, with the priority of providing needed health services to children in conjunction with other public programs.

(3) Effective January 1, 1996, basic health plan enrollees whose income is less than one hundred twenty-five percent of the federal poverty level shall pay no premium share.

(4) No later than July 1, 1996, the administrator shall implement procedures whereby hospitals licensed under chapters 70.41 and 71.12 RCW, rural health care facilities regulated under chapter 70.175 RCW, and community and migrant health centers funded under RCW 41.05.220, may, at no remuneration, expeditiously assist patients and their families in applying for basic health plan or medical assistance coverage, and in submitting such applications directly to the health care authority or the department of social and health services. The health care authority and the department of social and health services shall make every effort to simplify and expedite the application and enrollment process.

(5) No later than July 1, 1996, the administrator shall implement procedures whereby health insurance agents and brokers, licensed under chapter 48.17 RCW, may, at no remuneration, expeditiously assist patients and their families in applying for basic health plan or medical assistance coverage, and in submitting such applications directly to the health care authority or the department of social and health services. The health care authority and the department of social and health services shall make every effort to simplify and expedite the application and enrollment process.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. HEALTH CARE SAVINGS ACCOUNTS. (1) This chapter shall be known as the health care savings account act.

(2) The legislature recognizes that the costs of health care are increasing rapidly and most individuals are removed from participating in the purchase of their health care.

As a result, it becomes critical to encourage and support solutions to alleviate the demand for diminishing state resources. In response to these increasing costs in health care spending, the legislature intends to clarify that health care savings accounts may be offered as health benefit options to all residents as incentives to reduce unnecessary health services utilization, administration, and paperwork, and to encourage individuals to be in charge of and participate directly in their use of service and health care spending. To alleviate the possible impoverishment of residents requiring long-term care, health care savings accounts may promote savings for long-term care and provide incentives for individuals to protect themselves from financial hardship due to a long-term health care need.

(3) Health care savings accounts are authorized in Washington state as options to employers and residents.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. HEALTH CARE SAVINGS ACCOUNTS--REQUEST FOR TAX EXEMPTION. The governor and responsible agencies shall:

(1) Request that the United States congress amend the internal revenue code to treat premiums and contributions to health benefits plans, such as health care savings account programs, basic health plans, conventional and standard health plans offered through a health carrier, by employers, self-employed persons, and individuals, as fully excluded employer expenses and deductible from individual adjusted gross income for federal tax purposes.

(2) Request that the United States congress amend the internal revenue code to exempt from federal income tax interest that accrues in health care savings accounts until such money is withdrawn for expenditures other than eligible health expenses as defined in law.

(3) If all federal statute or regulatory waives necessary to fully implement this chapter have not been obtained by the effective date of this section, this act shall remain in effect.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. INSURANCE REFORM—DEFINITIONS. Unless otherwise specifically provided, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Health carrier" or "carrier" means a disability insurer regulated under chapter 48.20 or 48.21 RCW, fraternal benefit societies regulated under chapter 48.36A RCW, a health care service contractor as defined in RCW 48.44.010 or a health maintenance organization as defined in RCW 48.46.020.

(2) "Health care service" means that service offered or provided by health care facilities and health care providers relating to the prevention, cure, or treatment of illness, injury, or disease.

(3) "Health plan" means any policy, contract, or agreement offered by a health carrier to provide, arrange, reimburse, or pay for health care service except the following:

(a) Long-term care insurance governed by chapter 48.84 RCW;
(b) Medicare supplemental health insurance governed by chapter 48.66 RCW;
(c) Limited health care service offered by limited health care service contractors in accordance with RCW 48.44.035;
(d) Disability income;
(e) Coverage incidental to a property/casualty liability insurance policy such as automobile personal injury protection coverage and homeowner guest medical;
(f) Workers' compensation coverage; and
(g) Accident only coverage.

(4) "Covered person" means a person covered by a health plan including an enrollee, subscriber, policyholder, beneficiary of a group plan, or individual covered by any other health plan.

(5) "Preexisting condition" means any medical condition, illness, or injury that existed any time prior to the effective date of coverage.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. INSURANCE REFORM—PORTABILITY. (1) Every health carrier shall waive any preexisting condition exclusion or limitation for persons or groups who had similar health coverage under a different health plan at any time during the three-month period immediately preceding the date of application for the new health plan if such person was continuously covered under the immediately preceding health plan. If the person was continuously covered for at least three months under the immediately preceding health plan, the carrier may not impose a waiting period for coverage of preexisting conditions. If the person was continuously covered for less than three months under the immediately preceding health plan, the carrier must credit any waiting period under the immediately preceding health plan toward the new health plan. For the purposes of this subsection, a health plan includes an employer provided self-funded health plan.

(2) Nothing contained in this section requires a health carrier to amend a health plan to provide new benefits in its existing health plans. In addition, nothing in this section requires a carrier to waive benefit limitations not related to an individual or group's preexisting conditions or health history. A waiting period may be applied for use of a particular benefit imposed equally upon all covered persons without regard to health condition.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. INSURANCE REFORM—PREEXISTING CONDITIONS. (1) No carrier may reject an individual for health plan coverage based upon preexisting conditions of the individual and no carrier may deny, exclude, or otherwise limit coverage for an individual's preexisting health conditions; except that a carrier may impose a three-month benefit waiting period for preexisting conditions for which medical advice was given, or for which a health care provider recommended or provided treatment within three months before the effective date of coverage.

(2) Nothing contained in this section requires a health carrier to amend a health plan to provide new benefits in its existing health plans. In addition, nothing in this section requires a carrier to waive benefit limitations not related to an individual or group's preexisting conditions or health history. A waiting period may be applied for use of a particular benefit imposed equally upon all covered persons without regard to health condition.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. INSURANCE REFORM—GUARANTEED ISSUE. (1) Except as provided in subsection (4) of this section, all health plans shall contain or incorporate by endorsement, a guarantee of the continuity of coverage of the plan.

(2) For the purposes of this section, a plan is "renewed" when it is continued beyond the earliest date upon which, at the carrier's sole option, the plan could have been terminated for other than nonpayment of premium. In the case of group plans, the carrier may consider the group's anniversary date as the renewal date for purposes of complying with the provisions of this section.

(3) The guarantee of continuity of coverage required in health plans shall not prevent a carrier from canceling or nonrenewing a health plan for:
(a) Nonpayment of premium;
(b) Violation of published policies of the carrier approved by the insurance commissioner;
(c) Covered persons entitled to become eligible for medicare benefits by reason of age who fail to apply for a medicare supplement plan or medicare cost, risk, or other plan offered by the carrier pursuant to federal laws and regulations;
(d) Covered persons who fail to pay any deductible or copayment amount owed to the carrier and not the provider of health care services;
(e) Covered persons committing fraudulent acts as to the carrier;
(f) Covered persons who materially breach the health plan; or
(g) Change or implementation of federal or state laws that no longer permit the continued offering of such coverage.

(4) The provisions of this section do not apply to health plans deemed by the insurance commissioner to be unique or limited or have a short-term purpose, after a written request for such classification by the carrier and subsequent written approval by the insurance commissioner.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. CODIFICATION DIRECTION. Sections 2 and 3 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 48 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. CODIFICATION DIRECTION. Sections 4 through 7 of this act are each added to chapter 48.43 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. SAVINGS CLAUSE. This act shall not be construed as affecting any existing right acquired or liability or obligation incurred under the sections amended or repealed in this act or under any rule or order adopted under those sections, nor as affecting any proceeding instituted under those sections.
NEW SECTION.  Sec. 13.  SEVERABILITY CLAUSE.  If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION.  Sec. 14.  ACT TITLE.  This act shall be known as the health reform simplification act.

NEW SECTION.  Sec. 15.  REFERENDUM.  This act shall be submitted to the people for their adoption and ratification, or rejection, at the next succeeding general election to be held in this state, in accordance with Article II, section 1 of the state Constitution, as amended, and the laws adopted to facilitate the operation thereof.

NEW SECTION.  Sec. 16.  REPEALERS.  The following acts or parts of acts are each repealed:

INITIATIVE MEASURE NO. 164

AN ACT Relating to regulation of private property; adding a new chapter to Title 64 RCW

BE IT ENACTED BY THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON:
NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. This act is intended to provide remedies to property owners in addition to any constitutional rights under the state and/or federal constitutions and is not intended to restrict or replace any constitutional rights.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. This act shall be known as the private property regulatory fairness act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A regulation of private property or restraint of land use by a governmental entity is prohibited unless a statement containing a full analysis of the total economic impact in private property of such regulation or restraint is prepared by the entity and made available to the public at least thirty days prior to adoption of the regulation or imposition of the restraint. Such statement shall identify the manner in which the proposed action will substantially advance the purpose of protecting public health and safety against identified public health or safety risks created by the use of private property, and analyze the economic impact of all reasonable alternatives to the regulation or restraint. Should the governmental entity choose to adopt a proposed regulation or restraint on the use of private property, the governmental entity shall adopt the regulation or restraint that has the least possible impact on private property and still accomplishes the necessary public purpose.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. (1) A portion or parcel of private property shall be considered to have been taken for general public use when:
   (a) a governmental entity regulates or imposes a restraint of land use on such portion or parcel of property for public benefit including wetlands, fish or wildlife habitat, buffer zone, or other public benefit designations; and
   (b) no public nuisance will be created absent the regulation; and
   (2) When private property is taken for general public use, the regulating agency or jurisdiction shall pay full compensation of reduction in value to the owner, or the use of the land by the owner may not be restricted because of the regulation or restraint. The jurisdiction may not require waiving this compensation as a condition of approval of use or another permit, nor as a condition for subdivision of land.
   (3) Compensation must be paid to the owner of a private property within three months of the adoption of a regulation or restraint which results in a taking for general public use.
   (4) A governmental entity may not deflate the value of property by suggesting or threatening a designation to avoid full compensation to the owner.
   (5) A governmental entity that places restriction on the use of public or private property which deprive a landowner of access to his or her property must also provide alternative access to the property at the governmental entity’s expense, or purchase the inaccessible property.
   (6) The assessor shall adjust property valuation for tax purposes and notify the owner of the new tax valuation, which must be reflected and identified in the next tax assessment notice.
   (7) The state is responsible for the compensation liability of other governmental entities for any action which restricts the use of property when such action is mandated by state law or any state agency.
   (8) Claims for compensation as a result of a taking of private property under this act must be brought within the time period specified in RCW 4.16.020.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. No governmental entity may require any private property owner to provide or pay for any studies, maps, plans, or reports used in decisions to consider restricting the use of private property for public use.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Full compensation" means the reduction in the fair market value of the portion or parcel of property taken for general public use which is attributable to the regulation or restraint. Such reduction shall be measured as of the date of adoption of the regulation or imposition of restraint on the use of private property.
(2) "Governmental entity" means Washington state, state agencies, agencies and commissions funded fully or partially by the state, counties, cities, and other political subdivisions.
(3) "Private property: means-
(a) land;

(b) any interest in land or improvements thereon;

(c) any proprietary water right;

(d) Any crops, forest products, or resources capable of being harvested or extracted that is owned by a non-governmental entity and is protected by either the Fifth or Fourteenth Amendments to the U.S. Constitution or the Washington State Constitution.

(4) "Restraint of land use" means any action, requirement, or restriction by a governmental entity, other than actions to prevent or abate public nuisances, that limits the use or development or private property.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8 This act may be enforced in Superior Court against any governmental entity which fails to comply with the provisions of this act by any owner of property subject to the jurisdiction of such entity. Any prevailing plaintiff is entitled to recover the costs of litigation,

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

RCW.

There being no objection, the House advanced to the fourth order of business.

THIRD READING

HOUSE INITIATIVE NO. 164, by Representative People of the State of Washington

Private property regulation.

The Initiative was read the third time.

Representatives Appelwick, Rust, Jacobsen, Regala, Patterson, Brown, Ogden, Sommers, Costa and G. Fisher spoke against the passage of the Initiative.

Representative Reams again spoke in favor of passage of the Initiative.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Representative Padden yielded to a question by Representative Foreman.

Representative Foreman: Representative Padden, does Initiative 164 impose any liability on State or Local Government retroactively; that is, will Government be required to pay for land restrictions which have already been imposed.

Representative Padden: No. Laws are presumed not to be retroactive, unless the Legislature clearly expresses a contrary intent for the new law to apply retroactively. There is nothing in the wording of this initiative which shows an intent to place liability on Government for regulations or restrictions on land which have already been imposed. The measure only applies to prospective imposition of restrictions on land use. Government will have the opportunity under Section 3 to avoid paying compensation for any future actions by choosing the least intrusive restrictions on the use of private property.

Representative Foreman: Is it the intent of this measure to require payment of compensation when Government prohibits or regulates offensive or unreasonable uses of property, such as adult bookstores in residential neighborhoods or the filling of wetlands which would cause flooding of neighboring property?

Representative Padden: No. Section 4(1)(b) and section 7(4) insulates the Government from responsibility for paying compensation when the Government restriction of property is designed to prevent a potential public nuisance or lessen an existing public nuisance. Existing law in RCW 7.48.120 defines nuisance as the: Doing of an act, or omitting to perform a duty, which act or omission either annoys, injures or endangers the comfort, repose, health or safety of others, offends decency or in any way renders other persons insecure in their life, or in the use of property.

The following section, RCW 7.48.130, explains that a public nuisance is one which affects a group or community of people or a neighborhood. Common law has also applied the public nuisance concept to a variety of harmful or unreasonable uses of property.

Regulations which are designed to prevent someone from using their land in a way which "annoys or injures" someone else is expressly exempt from the compensation requirements under this measure.

POINT OF ORDER
Representative Ebersole: Thank you Mr. Speaker. This is highly unusual if the majority party would like to offer an alternative to the Initiative, we would like to see it, but we would not like it to be done by oral colloquy on the floor of the House. To see a written alternative to the Initiative if there not satisfied with the one before us.

Speaker: Representative Foreman, please continue.

Representative Foreman: Does the Initiative unconstitutionally restrict local Government in the exercise of their police powers to protect the public health and safety?

Representative Padden: No. Article XI, section 11 of the Washington Constitution gives the local Government the authority to make health and safety regulations that "are not in conflict with general laws." Initiative 164 will be a general law which the constitution recognizes as a valid limitation on the regulatory authority of local Government.

POINT OF ORDER

Representative Ebersole: Thank you Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, with all do respect I would acknowledge the chairman of the Judiciary committee's ability to interpret the Legislative intent of a measure that was drafted by the Legislature. He is interpreting the intent of the backers of the Initiative and the citizens who signed the Initiative. He has no knowledge of the intent of the Initiative.

Speaker: Representative Foreman, please continue.

Representative Foreman: Is the intent of Section 6's prohibition on requiring property owners to provide or pay for studies, maps, plans or reports mean that local Government can no longer require site plans or blue prints when one applies for a building permit?

Representative Padden: No. The intent of Section 6 in prohibiting Government from requiring private property owners to pay for such studies, maps, plans or reports only applies to situations where the Government is considering whether to restrict the use of private property for public use, such as when adopting a new regulation. In other words, when considering a new regulation on property usage, Government cannot force private property owners to provide the ammunition which will be used against them.

When one applies for a building permit, that is not the time at which the Government is considering whether to restrict property use. The Government is merely ensuring that the proposed use complies with all existing applicable zoning laws and building codes. This initiative is not intended to take away the authority of local Government to require blue prints or site plans when one applies for a building permit under existing regulations.

Representative Foreman: Is the intent of the measure only to provide additional remedies for Government actions which constitute takings of private property under the State and Federal Constitutions?

Representative Padden: No. The initiative provides several remedies in section 4 for property owners in which may be in addition to remedies provided by the takings clause of the constitution, such as the requirement that Government not regulate property so as to deprive one of access, the requirement that Government reduce property taxes when regulation has devalued property, and the requirement for repayment of attorneys' fees when a property owner prevails after having to go to court to enforce their rights.

However, the initiative is clearly intended to do more than add remedies for unconstitutional takings. It is intended to settle as a statutory matter an issue which is unsettled in constitutional law. Under this measure, the devaluation of property where Government regulation applies to only a part of a parcel of property is a taking requiring compensation under this measure. The courts have been inconsistent as to whether the constitution requires compensation when regulation restricts the use of only a part of a parcel of property.
Representative Foreman: What kinds of property interests are intended to be protected by this measure?

Representative Padden: Section 7(3) defines the kinds of property protected under this measure as anything protected under the State and Federal constitutions, and specifically lists any interest in land or improvements, proprietary water rights, and crops, forest lands, and resources. Since the Federal constitution protects only property interests recognized under State law, this measure does the same.

Representative Foreman: Is this measure intended to apply to normal zoning changes, such as the reduction of density, otherwise known as downzoning, or changes from one type of use to another?

Representative Padden: Normal downzoning constitutes a restraint on land use. Therefore, downzoning would be covered by section 3 which requires Government to conduct an analysis of economic impacts, to consider alternatives and to choose the alternative which has the least possible impact on private property.

However, typical zoning changes are not intended to be covered by the section that requires payment of compensation for reduction in value. Section(2) requires compensation when property is taken for public use. Property is taken for public use under Section 4(1) when property is designated for public benefit, such as for wetlands, wildlife habitat or buffers. Most zoning does not designate property for public use, but merely regulates the intensity and/or type of private use of the property. Exceptions which would require compensation include zoning that designates property for public uses, such as for parks or open space.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Representative Appelwick yielded to a question by Representative Dellwo.

Representative Dellwo: Representative Appelwick. Having sat through the hearings on this piece of Legislation, heard the testimony and done some research on your own and having heard the questions from the gentleman from the 12th District to the gentleman to the 4th District, do you concur in the conclusions that they have arrived at.

Representative Appelwick: I do not believe the answers to the questions stated represent the actual intent to the measure, but represent the opinions of the Speakers in an effort to redraft the bill and bootleg it into conformity with what they wish it to say. I believe instead that the court must be bound by the literal message and that the fact that this is an Initiative. The Legislature is not at the same liberty to interpret the intent as may be done with other colloquies, that this was an unprecedented attempt without putting an alternative on the ballot to, in essence, to create an alternative.

MOTION

On motion of Representative Talcott, Representative K. Schmidt was excused.

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be final passage of Initiative No. 164.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Initiative No. 164 and the initiative passed the House by the following vote: Yea's - 69, Nays - 27, Absent - 0, Excused - 2.

February 21, 1995
MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendment:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that citizens of the state increasingly rely on the dependability of enhanced 911, a system that allows the person answering an emergency call to immediately determine the location of the emergency without the need of the caller to speak. The legislature further finds that in some cases, calls made from telephones connected to private telephone systems may not be precisely located by the answerer, eliminating some of the benefit of enhanced 911, and that this condition could additionally imperil citizens calling from these locations in an emergency. The legislature also finds that until national standards have been developed to address this condition, information-forwarding requirements should be mandated for only those settings with the most risk, including schools, residences, and some business settings.

As used in this title, unless specifically defined otherwise or unless the context indicates otherwise:

"Automatic location identification" means a system by which information about a caller's location, including the seven-digit number or ten-digit number used to place a 911 call or a different seven-digit number or ten-digit number to which a return call can be made from the public switched network, is forwarded to a public safety answering point for display.

"Automatic number identification" means a system that allows for the automatic display of the seven-digit or ten-digit number used to place a 911 call.

"Corporation" includes a corporation, company, association or joint stock association.

"Person" includes an individual, a firm or partnership.

"Gas plant" includes all real estate, fixtures and personal property, owned, leased, controlled, used or to be used for or in connection with the transmission, distribution, sale or furnishing of natural gas, or the manufacture, transmission, distribution, sale or furnishing of other type gas, for light, heat or power.

"Electrical company" includes any corporation, company, association, joint stock association, partnership and person, their lessees, trustees or receivers appointed by any court whatsoever (other than a railroad or street railroad company generating electricity solely for railroad or street railroad purposes or for the use of its tenants and not for sale to others), and every city or town owning, operating or managing any electric plant for hire within this state. "Electrical company" does not include a company or person employing a cogeneration facility solely for the generation of electricity for its own use or the use of its tenants or for sale to an electrical company, state or local public agency, municipal corporation, or quasi municipal corporation engaged in the sale or distribution of electrical energy, but not for sale to others, unless such company or person is otherwise an electrical company.
"LATA" means a local access transport area as defined by the commission in conformance with applicable federal law.

"Private telecommunications system" means a telecommunications system controlled by a person or entity for the sole and exclusive use of such person, entity, or affiliate thereof, including the provision of private shared telecommunications services by such person or entity. "Private telecommunications system" does not include a system offered for hire, sale, or resale to the general public.

"Private shared telecommunications services" includes the provision of telecommunications and information management services and equipment within a user group located in discrete private premises in building complexes, campuses, or high-rise buildings, by a commercial shared services provider or by a user association, through privately owned customer premises equipment and associated data processing and information management services and includes the provision of connections to the facilities of a local exchange and to interexchange telecommunications companies.

"Private switch automatic location identification service" means a service that enables automatic location identification to be provided to a public safety answering point for 911 calls originating from station lines served by a private switch system.

"Radio communications service company" includes every corporation, company, association, joint stock association, partnership, and person, their lessees, trustees, or receivers appointed by any court, and every city or town making available facilities to provide radio communications service, radio paging, or cellular communications service for hire, sale, or resale.

"Water system" includes all real estate, easements, fixtures, personal property, dams, dikes, head gates, weirs, canals, reservoirs, flumes or other structures or appliances operated, owned, used or to be used for or in connection with or to facilitate the supply, storage, distribution, sale, furnishing, diversion, carriage, apportionment or measurement of water for power, irrigation, reclamation, manufacturing, municipal, domestic or other beneficial uses for hire.

"Water company" includes every corporation, company, association, joint stock association, partnership and person, their lessees, trustees or receivers appointed by any court whatsoever, and every city or town owning, controlling, operating, or managing any water system for hire within this state: PROVIDED, That for purposes of commission jurisdiction it shall not include any water system serving less than one hundred customers where the average annual gross revenue per customer does not exceed three hundred dollars per year, which revenue figure may be increased annually by the commission by rule adopted pursuant to chapter 34.05 RCW to reflect the rate of inflation as determined by the implicit price deflator of the United States department of commerce: AND PROVIDED FURTHER, That such measurement of customers or revenues shall include all portions of water companies having common ownership or control, regardless of location or corporate designation. "Control" as used herein shall be defined by the commission by rule and shall not include management by a satellite agency as defined in chapter 70.116 RCW if the satellite agency is not an owner of the water company. "Water company" also includes, for auditing purposes only, nonmunicipal water systems which are referred to the commission pursuant to an administrative order from the department, or the city or county as provided in RCW 80.04.110. However, water companies exempt from commission regulation shall be subject to the provisions of chapter 19.86 RCW. A water company cannot be removed from regulation except with the approval of the commission. Water companies subject to regulation may petition the commission for removal from regulation if the number of customers falls below one hundred or the average annual revenue per
regulation if it finds that the public interest so requires.

"Cogeneration facility" means any machinery, equipment, structure, process, or property, or any part thereof, installed or acquired for the primary purpose of the sequential generation of electrical or mechanical power and useful heat from the same primary energy source or fuel.

"Public service company" includes every gas company, electrical company, telecommunications company, and water company. Ownership or operation of a cogeneration facility does not, by itself, make a company or person a public service company.

"Local exchange company" means a telecommunications company providing local exchange telecommunications service.

"Department" means the department of health.
The term "service" is used in this title in its broadest and most inclusive sense.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 80.36 RCW to read as follows:
By January 1, 1997, or one year after enhanced 911 service becomes available or a private switch automatic location identification service approved by the Washington utilities and transportation commission is available from the serving local exchange telecommunications company, whichever is later, any private shared telecommunications services provider that provides service to residential is compatible with the existing or planned county enhanced 911 system.

later, any commercial shared services provider of private shared telecommunications services for hire or resale to the general public to multiple unaffiliated business users from a single system shall assure that such a system is connected to the public switched network such that calls to 911 result in automatic location identification for each telephone in a format that is compatible with the existing or planned county enhanced 911 system. This section shall apply only to providers of service to businesses containing a physical area exceeding twenty-five thousand square feet, or businesses on more than one floor of a building, or businesses in multiple buildings.

The enhanced 911 advisory committee shall report to the legislature by January 1, 1997, the progress of such standards development and shall make recommendations on steps to be taken if such standards have not been adopted.

Speaker Pro Tempore Jim Horn
Representative Georgette Valle

Speaker Pro Tempore Jim Horn: We are assembled today to pay tribute to the lives and services of the distinguished former Governor and distinguished former members of the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Washington who have passed from among us.

On behalf of the people of our State, the Fifty-Fourth Legislative session of the State of Washington conveys its respects to those deceased Legislators who once sat in these hallowed Chambers of the House and Senate, like we are doing today, answered roll calls on sometimes critical and perplexing bills, attended committee meetings, and above all else served to the best of their abilities in order to make our state a better and more enjoyable place to live. While they have passed to the great beyond, their achievements, records and valued services have been recorded in the Journals of the Senate and House and are now and forever more a permanent part of the history of the State of Washington.

We expressed our sympathies to the bereaved families and their friends and also share with them on this memorable occasion the fond and happy memories of these Legislators, who served beyond their call of duty and responsibilities and truly loved the State of Washington. They have indeed left a legacy of dedicated services that will remain forever etched in our hearts, our memories and our Legislative records.

Representative Smith: Would the amount that they can start to offset, the one-third start, from the beginning as soon as they go on the program? And then two where would the two-thirds money go, would it go back to the state or would the employer keep it.

Representative Brown: Thank you for that question. Currently this is in place already for four months that is why I kept the same formula. Because the Federal Government has it in place for the first four months. The Federal Government already has an option to the states to extend it beyond. So we don’t need a waiver on this one other states have done it. What happens when you start earning the income at this point, is that you will receive a Welfare grant reduced by two-thirds of the income. In other words, you’ll get an income and grant will go down two-thirds of your income. The thirty dollars and one-third will be, the better off you will be than the regular Welfare person whose not working and so it will go back to the state.

Representative Appelwick demanded an electronic roll call vote and the demand was sustained.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Representative Brown yielded to a question by Representative Mastin.

Representative Mastin: Is it true that Welfare recipients that go on Welfare and have a history of working they are more likely to get off Welfare at an expedited rate?

Representative Brown: The evidence shows that even when you get on a job that is low paid or part-time that you are more likely to get off permanently by having that whatever around of work experience you have, it increases the likelihood that you’ll get off permanently.

"PART I - TIME LIMITS ON PUBLIC ASSISTANCE

Sec. 101. RCW 74.12.420 and 1994 c 299 s 9 are each amended to read as follows:
The legislature recognizes that long-term recipients of aid to families with dependent children may require a period of several years to attain economic self-sufficiency. To provide incentives for long-term recipients to leave public assistance and accept paid employment, the legislature finds that less punitive and onerous sanctions than those required by the federal government are appropriate. The legislature finds that a ten percent reduction in grants for long-term recipients that may be replaced through earned income is a more positive approach than sanctions required by the federal government for long-term recipients who fail to comply with requirements of the job opportunities and basic skills program. A long-term recipient shall not be subject to two simultaneous sanctions for failure to comply with the participation requirements of the job opportunities and basic skills program and for exceeding the length of stay provisions of this section.

(1) After [(forty-eight)] twenty-four monthly benefit payments in [(a)] the preceding sixty-month period, and after each of three additional twelve monthly benefit payments, the aid to families with dependent children monthly benefit payment shall be reduced by ten percent of the payment standard, except that. After seventy-two full or partial monthly benefit payments, a recipient is ineligible for monthly benefit payments for two years. After [(forty-eight)] thirty-six monthly payments in [(a)] the preceding sixty-month period, full monthly benefit payments may be made if:
   (a) The person is incapacitated or is needed in the home to care for a member of the household who is incapacitated;
   (b) The person is needed in the home to care for a child who is under three years of age;
   (c) There are no adults in the assistance unit;
   (d) The person is actively participating in the job opportunities and basic skills training program while receiving aid to families with dependent children and no present full-time, part-time, or unpaid work experience job is offered;
   (e) During a month in which a grant reduction would be imposed under this section, the person is participating in an unpaid work experience program;
   (f) Child care is not made available by the department; or
   (g) The person was not offered services by the job opportunities and basic skills program at least six months before the benefit reduction.

(2) [(For purposes of determining the amount of the food stamp benefit for recipients subject to benefit reductions provided for in subsection (1) of this section, countable income from the aid to families with dependent children program shall be set at the payment standard.)

(3)) For purposes of determining monthly benefit payments for two-parent aid to families with dependent children households, the length of stay criterion will be applied to the parent with the longer history of public assistance receipt.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 102. A new section is added to chapter 74.12 RCW to read as follows:
A recipient's length of stay shall be determined based on actual months of receipt of public assistance, including months of receipt of public assistance before the effective date of this section. Benefits shall not be reduced under this section before July 1, 1996.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 103. A new section is added to chapter 74.12 RCW to read as follows:
A family receiving or applying for assistance under the aid to families with dependent children program shall enter into a contract satisfying the requirements of this section. The contract shall be entered into by the department of social and health services and the recipient on a form prescribed by the department. The contract shall include a list of available benefits to which the family is eligible, a summary of the responsibilities the recipient must accept, and related conditions of benefits, including time limits and benefit reductions.

PART II - TAX INCENTIVES FOR BUSINESS TO TRAIN AND HIRE PUBLIC ASSISTANCE RECIPIENTS
NEW SECTION. Sec. 201. It is the intent of the legislature that the department of social and health services, the employment security department, the work force training and education coordinating board, the department of community, trade, and economic development, and the community and technical colleges work together to market the tax incentive program established under section 205 of this act.

The goals of the tax incentive program are to give employers incentives to hire and train public assistance recipients and to increase the employability of public assistance recipients.

The legislature intends to achieve these goals through the provision of tax incentives in the form of tax credits for persons who agree, in writing, to hire and train recipients of aid to families with dependent children.

The legislature finds that incentives should be targeted by allowing smaller incentives to employers of recipients who have already achieved the higher levels of education and job experience while providing larger incentives for employers of recipients who are less job ready.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 202. (1) A person shall be allowed a credit against tax due under chapter 82.04 or 82.16 RCW of an amount equal to one hundred twenty percent of the payment made by an employer to a qualified training institution under a training plan for training a qualified employee, subject to the limitations set forth in this section. A person may not receive a credit for the same amounts under both chapters 82.04 and 82.16 RCW.

(2) A person claiming the credit shall file an affidavit form prescribed by the department, which shall include the amount of the credit claimed and additional information as the department may require.

(3)(a) The tax credit in respect to any qualified employee may not in a calendar year exceed:

(i) The lesser of eight percent of the qualified employee's gross annual wages or one thousand two hundred dollars in the case of a category 1 qualified employee;

(ii) The lesser of sixteen percent of the qualified employee's gross annual wages or two thousand four hundred dollars, in the case of a category 2 qualified employee; or

(iii) The lesser of twenty-four percent of the qualified employee's gross annual wages or three thousand six hundred dollars in the case of a category 3 qualified employee.

(b) The office of financial management shall, by December 1, 1995, for calendar year 1996, and by December 1, each year thereafter by December 1 adjust the payment maximums under this subsection (3) to reflect inflation, using the previous calendar year’s limit adjusted by an appropriate federal inflationary index reflecting the rate of inflation for the previous year. The department shall publish the new payment maximums.

(4) The credit in respect to any qualified employee may not be taken:

(a) For more than one year of training in the case of a category 1 qualified employee; or

(b) For more than three years of training in the case of a category 2 or category 3 qualified employee.

(5) The credit shall be taken against taxes due for the same calendar year in which the payment is made to the qualified training institution and must be claimed by the due date of the last tax return for the calendar year in which the payment is made to the qualified training institution.

(6) The department shall allow accrual of tax credits to a successor employer, if the business or firm is sold, assigned, conveyed, or otherwise transferred.

(7) Total credits allowed to all persons claiming credits may not exceed fifteen million dollars in any biennium.

(8) This section shall expire December 31, 2003.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 203. The definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter and sections 205 through 208 of this act, unless the context indicates otherwise.

(1) "Gross annual wages" means salary, wages, tips, and other compensation paid to a qualified employee paid by an employer claiming the credit under this section during the calendar year for which the credit is claimed.

(2) "Qualified employee" and "category 1, 2, or 3 qualified employee" means a person certified as such by the department of social and health services who is hired before June 30, 2000. "Qualified employee" does not include any person hired by an employer to replace strikers or locked-out workers.
(3) "Qualified training institution" means a community or technical college, four-year college or university, public or private institution, apprenticeship programs recognized by the Washington state apprenticeship and training council, or a private industry council that has entered into a training plan that provides for the training of a qualified employee of a person claiming the credit under this section.

(4) "Person" has the meaning given in RCW 82.04.030.

(5) "Training plan" means a written agreement, signed by a qualified employee, a union or other employee bargaining representative if the position is covered by a collective bargaining agreement, a qualified training institution, the department of social and health services or a designee of the department, and an employer claiming the credit under this section, which specifies the amount that the employer will pay the qualified training institution for the payment costs for the qualified employee, the learning objectives that will be achieved by the training, and a statement of progressively increasing scale of wages to be paid to the employee during the training plan period, using a wage scale that exceeds federal poverty levels for a family of three.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 204. Chapter 82.32 RCW applies to the administration of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 205. (1) The tax incentive program is hereby established. The department of social and health services is authorized to enter into training plans. The department of social and health services shall by rule adopt guidelines for the tax incentive program. The guidelines shall include, but are not limited to:

(a) Designation of three categories of eligible aid to families with dependent children recipients. The department of social and health services shall by rule establish criteria for assigning recipients into categories 1, 2, and 3. In establishing the criteria, the department shall consider the degree of work experience, training, wage and employment history, and education, category 1 representing recipients with the highest degree of job readiness.

(b) Selection criteria that includes establishment of a pool of prospective public assistance participants.

(c) A restriction on the total number of employees that an employer may have in the program, except that no more than twenty percent of the employers’ employees may participate in the program.

(d) A requirement that the employer participate in the earned income tax credit program.

(e) Standards regarding length of training plans, requiring the training institution to design the plan length so that it meets accepted training standards for that industry or profession. Training plans may not exceed three years.

(2) Qualified training institutions are deemed accredited for the purposes of this chapter if they meet national standards, standards of the state board for community and technical colleges, or standards of the workforce training and education coordinating board.

(3) The department of social and health services may contract with a public or private entity to carry out the department’s duties under this chapter. The department of social and health services reserves the right to withdraw designation of authority to this entity without showing cause.

(4) The department of social and health services shall manage the program so that the total amount of credits by all persons claiming tax credits under sections 201 through 204 of this act does not exceed fifteen million dollars in any biennium. The department shall enter into contracts with employers on a first-come, first-serve basis. The department shall not enter into contracts if the potential amount of credits by all persons potentially claiming credits will exceed fifteen million dollars in any biennium.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 206. The department of social and health services may institute an experimental and control group study under this program. The department, in carrying out this study, may select particular recipients or categories of recipients, and is not subject to claims of discrimination from recipients who are not participating in the experimental group, if the selection process is in the furtherance of a valid public purpose.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 207. The department of social and health services, the employment security department, the department of community, trade, and economic development, and the community and technical colleges shall cooperate and coordinate among the existing state and federal assistance and training programs to focus the efforts of enrollees and programs to most effectively achieve results from the various programs.

(2) If the program under chapter . . ., Laws of 1995 (this act) is terminated before June 30, 2000, persons eligible for tax credits at the time of program termination under sections 201 through 205 of this act shall receive such credits, subject to the limitations in section 202(7) of this act.

NEW SECTION.  Sec. 209.  The department of revenue and the department of social and health services shall perform an assessment of the results of the tax incentive program created by chapter . . ., Laws of 1995 (this act) and deliver a report on the assessment to the governor and the legislature by December 1, 1999. The assessment shall measure the effect of the tax incentive program on increasing self-sufficiency of public assistance recipients, and other factors the department of revenue and the department of social and health services may select.

PART III - REQUIRING MANDATORY PARTICIPATION IN THE JOB OPPORTUNITIES AND BASIC SKILLS PROGRAM

Sec. 301.  RCW 74.25.020 and 1993 c 312 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

SPEAKER’S RULING

Representative Rust, The Speaker is prepared to Rule on your Point of Order which challenges Amendment 79 to Substitute House Bill No. 1080 as being beyond the Scope and Object of the bill. The title of Substitute House Bill No. 1080 is "AN ACT Relating to exempting certain nonurban areas from outdoor burning permit requirements". The title is relatively narrow. The bill amended RCW 70.94.745. Amendment 79 would add a subsection to the bill declaring that the burning of orchard prunings and irrigation ditches shall be considered outdoor burning and thus exempt. If amendment 79 had been the first amendment considered then it might very well be viewed as being outside the scope and object of the bill presented to you.

Prior to the motion to adopt 79 the House had previously adopted three other amendments, including amendments 72 and 125. The earlier amendments expanded the object of the bill so as to include the materials which may be burned. When ruling on scope and object the Speaker will look to the bill as it exists at the time the objection is raised.

Representative Rust, Your Point of Order is not well taken.

JIM HORN, 41st District

There being no objection, the House reverted to House Bill No. 1142.

SPEAKER'S RULING

Representative Cole; The Speaker is prepared to Rule on your Point of Order which challenges Amendment 89 to House Bill No. 1142 as being beyond the Scope and Object of the bill.

The title of House Bill No. 1142 is "AN ACT Relating to the questioning of students regarding personal beliefs and practices."

The title is relatively narrow in that it relates only to the questioning of students regarding their personal beliefs and practices. The bill adds a new section to chapter 28A.600 RCW.

Amendment 89 would add to House Bill No. 1142 a subsection providing that the rights of students to freely express and incorporate their beliefs into practice must not be unduly restricted.

The underlying bill is a restriction on what questions can be asked of students without parental consent, the amendment addresses the ability of students to exercise constitutional rights.

The Speaker finds that amendment 89 would expand the scope and object of the underlying House Bill No. 1142 and is therefore beyond the scope and object of the bill.

Representative Cole, Your Point of Order is well taken.

There being no objection, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third and the bill be placed on final passage.

"Sec. 3. RCW 78.44.087 and 1994 c 232 s 23 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The department shall not issue a reclamation permit until the applicant has deposited with the department an acceptable performance security on forms prescribed and furnished by the department. A public or governmental agency shall not be required to post performance security nor shall a permit holder be required to post surface mining performance security with more than one state or local agency, except as provided in subsection (9) of this section.

(2) This performance security may be:

((b)) (b) A cash deposit;
((c)) (c) Negotiable securities acceptable to the department;
((d)) (d) An assignment of a savings account;
((e)) (e) A savings certificate in a Washington bank on an assignment form prescribed by the department;
((f)) (f) Assignments of interests in real property within the state of Washington; or ((g)) (g) A corporate surety bond executed in favor of the department by a corporation authorized to do business in the state of Washington under Title 48 RCW and authorized by the department.

(3) The performance security shall be conditioned upon the faithful performance of the requirements set forth in this chapter and of the rules adopted under it."
The department shall have the authority to determine the amount of the performance security using a standardized performance security formula developed by the department. The amount of the security shall be determined by the department and based on the estimated costs of completing reclamation according to the approved reclamation plan or minimum standards and related administrative overhead for the area to be surface mined during (a) the next twelve-month period, (b) the following twenty-four months, and (c) any previously disturbed areas on which the reclamation has not been satisfactorily completed and approved.

(5) The department may increase or decrease the amount of the performance security at any time to compensate for a change in the disturbed area, the depth of excavation, a modification of the reclamation plan, or any other alteration in the conditions of the mine that affects the cost of reclamation. The department may, for any reason, refuse any performance security not deemed adequate.

(6) Liability under the performance security shall be maintained until reclamation is completed according to the approved reclamation plan to the satisfaction of the department unless released as hereinafter provided. Liability under the performance security may be released only upon written notification by the department. Notification shall be given upon completion of compliance or acceptance by the department of a substitute performance security. The liability of the surety shall not exceed the amount of security required by this section and the department’s reasonable legal fees to recover the security.

(7) Any interest or appreciation on the performance security shall be held by the department until reclamation is completed to its satisfaction. At such time, the interest shall be remitted to the permit holder; except that such interest or appreciation may be used by the department to effect reclamation in the event that the permit holder fails to comply with the provisions of this chapter and the costs of reclamation exceed the face value of the performance security.

(8) Except as provided in this section, no other state agency or local government shall require performance security for the purposes of surface mine reclamation and only one agency of government shall require and hold the performance security. The department may enter into written agreements with federal agencies in order to avoid redundant bonding of surface mines straddling boundaries between federally controlled and other lands within Washington state.

(9) The department of ecology shall not issue necessary permits to an applicant for a metals mining and milling operation as defined in RCW 78.56.020 until the applicant has deposited an acceptable performance security pursuant to the requirements of RCW 78.56.110.

(a) A public or governmental agency shall not be required to post surface mine reclamation performance security nor shall a permit holder be required to post surface mine reclamation performance security with any agency other than the department of natural resources.

(b) A single performance security, when acceptable to both the department of natural resources and the department of ecology, may be utilized to satisfy the requirements of this section and RCW 78.56.110."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Representative Padden yielded to a question by Representative Robertson.

Representative Robertson: Yes sir, in the public law 103-440 we've heard testimony from yourself and the prime sponsor of this bill that we require bureaucrats back in Washington D. C. to authorize these standards or actually authorize the county or city to give you permission to enter into this. Reading what was passed out by your seat mate I find no where, where it says that the public law 103-440 adopted in 1994 would require that. The only thing that I find is that it has a certain safety standard established by the feds. Can you point in public law 103-440 where it says that it is a requirement for the Secretary to authorize these different changes or additions in the States?

Representative Padden: Thank you very much Representative Robertson. In sub section 3 about the fourth line down it says that is determined by the Secretary and further in that later on it says "and that conforms to standards prescribed by the Secretary" and it certainly is my feeling that those are additional items that aren't determined now. Everything else that is in Public Law 103-440 is also in the Amendment offered by the other gentlemen from the fourth District.

A division was called. The Speaker called on the House to divide. The results of the division was: YEAS-48; NAY-49.

On page 1 after line 12, insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. "Supplemental safety measures" means a safety system or procedure that is an effective substitute for the locomotive horn in the prevention of highway-rail casualties. A traffic control arrangement that prevents careless movement over the crossing (e.g., as where adequate median barriers prevent movement around crossing gates extending over the full width of the lanes in the particular direction of travel) shall be deemed to constitute a supplemental safety measure. The following do not, individually or in combination, constitute supplemental safety measures within the meaning of this section: standard traffic control devices or arrangements such as reflectorized crossbucks, stop signs, flashing lights with gates that do not completely block travel over the line of the railroad, or traffic signals."

(B) Ladders shall be inspected prior to being used. Ladders which have developed defects shall be withdrawn from service for repair or destruction and tagged or marked as “dangerous, do not use.”
(C) Complete ladder inspection shall be periodical. If a ladder is involved in any of the following, immediate inspection is necessary:

(D) Rungs shall be kept reasonably free of any substance which would make them hazardous.
(E) Ladders carried on vehicles should be adequately supported to avoid sagging and securely fastened in position to minimize chafing and the effects of road shocks.
(F) Portable ladders shall be so placed that the side rails have a secure footing. The top rest for portable rung and cleat ladders shall be reasonably rigid and shall have ample strength to support the applied load.
(G) Ladders shall not be placed in front of doors opening toward the ladder unless the door is blocked open, locked, or guarded.
(H) Ladders shall not be placed on boxes, barrels, or other unstable bases to obtain additional height.
(I) Ladders with broken or missing steps, rungs, or cleats, broken side rails, or other faulty equipment shall not be used; improvised repairs shall not be made.

(N) The ladder base section must be placed with a secure footing. Safety feet of good substantial design should be installed on all ladders except orchard ladders. Where ladders with no safety shoes or spikes are used on hard, slick surfaces, a foot-ladder board should be employed.

(A) At the beginning of employment, employers shall provide employees with orientation and training on the proper use of ladders including how to set a ladder and properly dismount with a full load.
(B) Employers shall instruct employees to not stand on the top two steps (the top cap and the next step down) of the ladder.
(C) Employers shall instruct employees to not step off the ladder onto branches of trees except onto the main crotch of the tree.
(D) Employers shall instruct employees to not overreach while standing on the ladder to prevent ladder upset.

(1) The Washington state patrol is responsible for enforcement of safety requirements for commercial motor vehicles, including but not limited to terminal safety audits. Those carriers that have terminal operations in this state are subject to the patrol’s terminal safety audits.
(2) This section does not apply to:
(a) Motor vehicles owned and operated by farmers in the transportation of their own farm, orchard, or dairy products, including livestock and plant or animal wastes, from point of production to market or disposal; or supplies or commodities to be used on the farm, orchard, or dairy;
(b) Commercial motor vehicles regulated under chapters 81.68 (auto transportation companies), 81.70 (passenger charter carriers), 81.77 (solid waste collection companies), 81.80 (motor freight carriers), and 81.90 (limousine charter carriers) RCW; and

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 46.32 RCW to read as follows:
The department shall collect a fee of ten dollars, in addition to all other fees and taxes, for each motor vehicle base plated in the state of Washington that is subject to highway inspections and terminal audits under section 1 of this act, at the time of registration and renewal of registration under chapter 46.16 or 46.87 RCW. Refunds will not be provided for fees paid under this section when the vehicle is no longer subject to section 1 of this act. The department may deduct an amount equal to the cost of administering the program. All remaining fees shall be deposited with the state treasurer and credited to the state patrol highway account of the motor vehicle fund.
NEW SECTION.  Sec.  3. A new section is added to chapter 46.32 RCW to read as follows:

Each violation is a separate and distinct offense, and in case of a continuing violation every day’s continuance is a separate and distinct violation.

The penalty provided in this section is due and payable when the person incurring it receives a notice in writing from the patrol describing the violation and advising the person that the penalty is due. The patrol may, upon written application for review, received within fifteen days, remit or mitigate a penalty provided for in this section or discontinue a prosecution to recover the penalty upon such terms it deems proper and may ascertain the facts upon all such applications in such manner and under such rules as it deems proper. If the amount of the penalty is not paid to the patrol within fifteen days after receipt of the notice imposing the penalty, or application for remission or mitigation has not been made within fifteen days after the violator has received notice of the disposition of the application, the attorney general shall bring an action in the name of the state of Washington in the superior court of Thurston county or of some other county in which the violator does business, to recover the penalty.
In all such actions the procedure and rules of evidence are the same as an ordinary civil action except as otherwise provided in this chapter. All penalties recovered under this section shall be paid into the state treasury and credited to the state patrol highway account of the motor vehicle fund.

(b) Any appropriations made to the utilities and transportation commission for carrying out the powers, functions, and duties transferred shall, on the effective date of this act, be transferred and credited to the Washington state patrol.

(c) Whenever any question arises as to the transfer of any personnel, funds, books, documents, and the performance of the duties and functions transferred, the director of financial management shall make a determination as to the proper allocation and certify the same to the state agencies concerned.

(3) In filling new merit system terminal auditor positions, the Washington state patrol shall give preferential consideration to employees of the utilities and transportation commission engaged in performing the powers, functions, and duties transferred.

(4) All rules and all pending business before the utilities and transportation commission pertaining to the powers, functions, and duties transferred shall be continued and acted upon by the Washington state patrol. All existing contracts and obligations remain in full force and shall be performed by the Washington state patrol.

(5) The transfer of the powers, duties, functions, and personnel of the utilities and transportation commission does not affect the validity of any act performed before the effective date of this act.

section, the director of financial management shall certify the apportionments to the agencies affected, the state auditor, and the state treasurer. Each of these shall make the appropriate transfer and adjustments in funds and appropriation accounts and equipment records in accordance with the certification.

(7) Nothing contained in this section alters an existing collective bargaining unit or the provisions of an existing collective bargaining agreement until the agreement has expired or until the bargaining unit has been modified by action of the personnel board as provided by law.
Sec. 5. RCW 81.80.330 and 1980 c 132 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

On page 6, after line 9, insert the following:

"Sec. 4. RCW 47.46.050 and 1993 c 370 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The department may enter into agreements using federal, state, and local financing in connection with the projects, including without limitation, grants, loans, and other measures authorized by section 1012 of ISTEA, and to do such things as necessary and desirable to maximize the funding and financing, including the formation of a revolving loan fund to implement this section.

(2) Agreements entered into under this section shall authorize the private entity to lease the facilities within a designated area or areas from the state and to impose user fees or tolls within the designated area to allow a reasonable rate of return on investment, as established through a negotiated agreement between the state and the private entity. The negotiated agreement shall determine a maximum rate of return on investment, based on project characteristics. If the negotiated rate of return on investment is not affected, the private entity may establish and modify toll rates and user fees.

(3) Agreements may establish "incentive" rates of return beyond the negotiated maximum rate of return on investment. The incentive rates of return shall be designed to provide financial benefits to the affected public jurisdictions and the private entity, given the attainment of various safety, performance, or transportation demand management goals. The incentive rates of return shall be negotiated in the agreement.

(4) Agreements shall require that over the term of the ownership or lease the user fees or toll revenues be applied to payment of the private entity's capital outlay costs for the project, including interest expense, the costs associated with operations, toll collection, maintenance and administration of the facility, reimbursement to the state for the costs of project review and oversight, technical and legal enforcement services, establishment of a fund to assure the adequacy of maintenance expenditures, and a reasonable return on investment to the private entity. The use of any excess toll revenues or user fees may be negotiated between the parties, but a negotiated agreement shall not extend the term of the ownership or lease beyond the period of time required for payment of the private entity's capital outlay costs for the project under this subsection.

((After expiration of the lease of a facility to a private entity, the secretary may continue to charge user fees or tolls for the use of the facility, with these revenues to be used for operations and maintenance of the facility, or to be paid to the local transportation planning agency, or any combination of such uses.))"

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

All members of the local involvement committee shall be appointed by the secretary of the department by August 1, 1995. The comprehensive inventory of public positions may include an advisory vote by users of the project, phase, or segment and by residents in the project, phase, or segment area.

The comprehensive inventory of public positions shall be conducted by an independent accountant or other independent professional jointly selected and supervised by the private entity and the department in consultation with the local involvement committee and the legislative transportation committee. The independent accountant or other independent professional must have a proven history and expertise in assessing public opinion and shall not have a direct or indirect interest in such project. The results of the inventory of public positions shall be made available for public review and comment.

(5) The department and the private entity shall provide the legislative transportation committee and the local involvement committee with progress reports on the status of the public involvement process and the inventory of public positions. The results of the inventory of public positions, including public comment on such inventory of public positions, shall be forwarded to the legislative transportation committee and the local involvement committee for their review. Within fifteen calendar days of submission of such information for a project, phase, or segment, the local involvement committee shall submit a report to the department and the legislative transportation committee supporting or opposing the results of the inventory of public positions. Within forty-five calendar days of submission of the report of the local involvement committee, the legislative transportation committee shall conduct a public hearing regarding the results of the inventory and the report of the local involvement committee.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Representative K. Schmidt yielded to a question by Representative Van Luven.

Representative Van Luven: This bill, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1317, does it apply to the five projects currently selected for a private-public partnership, as well as any project selected in the future?

Representative K. Schmidt: Yes, all five projects currently selected are included in this bill.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Representative K. Schmidt yielded to a question by Representative Robertson.
Representative Robertson: Is the purpose of changes in Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1317, to the intent section of the existing law governing public-private initiatives in transportation, to emphasize that the execution of agreements, by the department of transportation with the private sector, does not guarantee the immediate construction of projects selected under this program?

Representative K. Schmidt: Yes. Language added to the Intent section of Chapter 47.46 RCW clarifies that signing the agreements does not bestow on private entities an immediate right to construct and operate the proposed transportation facilities. Rather, private entities are provided an opportunity to study and design and to complete all the planning and permitting processes required by law in order to obtain a future decision from state and local agencies to proceed with the project.

The agreements establish the conditions under which private developers may achieve the right to develop and operate the proposed transportation facilities. These conditions must be met prior to construction and operation of a project. If they are not met, the project cannot go forward. The added legislative intent language illuminates this point.

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be final passage of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1317.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1317, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yea - 86, Nays - 11, Absent - 0, Excused - 1.

On page 12, after line 29, insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. The legislature finds that ambulatory surgical centers have provided the citizens of Washington state access to various routine surgical and similar invasive medical procedures not requiring hospitalization, resulting in reduced health care costs consistent with the intent of health care reform. However, the delivery of these services may put patients at risk due to the invasive nature of the procedures performed or the use of general anesthesia and the short patient recovery time prior to discharge.

It is the intent of the legislature to protect the citizens of Washington state by licensing ambulatory surgical centers and by adopting and enforcing minimum standards for ambulatory surgical centers. Standards established are intended to be the minimum necessary to ensure a safe environment for the performance of surgical procedures and to ensure safe and competent care of patients.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Ambulatory surgical center" means any freestanding distinct entity that operates primarily for the purpose of performing surgical procedures to treat patients not requiring in-patient hospital care under normal circumstances, except:

(a) A health care facility otherwise licensed and regulated by the department to provide surgical services, including an ambulatory surgical facility operated by a hospital and regulated by the department according to chapter 70.41 RCW;

(b) A facility in the offices of either an individual or group practice of physicians licensed under chapter 18.71 RCW, osteopathic physicians or surgeons licensed under chapter 18.57 RCW, or podiatric physicians or surgeons licensed under chapter 18.22 RCW, including where the facility is physically separate from such a practice, if the privilege of using such a facility is not extended to such licensed practitioners outside the individual or group practice. However, such a facility may request licensure as an ambulatory surgical center if the facility meets the requirements of this chapter and rules adopted under this chapter; and

(c) A facility in which the services are provided solely by dentists licensed under chapter 18.32 RCW and persons assisting or under the supervision of dentists. However, such a facility may request licensure as an ambulatory surgical center if the facility meets the requirements of this chapter and rules adopted under this chapter.

(2) "Department" means the department of health.

(3) "Person" means an individual, firm, partnership, corporation, company, association, joint stock association, and the legal successor thereof.

(4) "Surgical procedure" means an invasive medical procedure that:

(a) Utilizes a knife, laser, cautery, cryogenics, or chemicals; and

(b) Removes, corrects, or facilitates the diagnosis or cure of a disease, process, or injury through that branch of medicine that treats diseases, injuries, and deformities by manual or operative methods.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. (1) Nothing in this chapter shall be construed in any manner to change or expand the scope of practice of a health care practitioner.

(2) Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to limit an ambulatory surgical center to performing only surgical procedures.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. After June 30, 1996, no person shall operate or maintain an ambulatory surgical center or advertise by using the term "licensed ambulatory surgery center," "licensed day surgery center," "licensed surgical center," "licensed surgery center," or other words conveying similar meaning without first obtaining an ambulatory surgical center license from the department.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. An applicant for an ambulatory surgical center license shall:

(1) Submit to the department a written application on a form provided by the department, including a list of surgical specialties offered;

(2) Submit to the department for review and approval building plans for new construction, alterations other than minor alterations, and additions to existing facilities prior to licensure and occupancy as prescribed by the department;

(3) Demonstrate ability to comply with this chapter and rules adopted under this chapter;

(4) Cooperate with the department during on-site surveys prior to licensure or renewal of licensure;
(5) Provide such proof as the department may require concerning organizational and governance structure, and the identity of the applicant, officers, directors, partners, managing employees, or owners of ten percent or more of the applicant’s assets;

(6) Pay to the department a license fee and building plan review fee as prescribed by the department under the authority of RCW 43.70.110 and 43.70.250; and

(7) Provide any other information the department may reasonably require.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. If the department determines that an applicant complies with the provisions of this chapter and rules adopted under this chapter, the department shall issue a license to the applicant. A license, unless suspended or revoked, is effective for a period of two years, however an initial license is only effective for twelve months. The department shall conduct at least one on-site survey within each licensure period, except as provided for in section 21 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. The department shall establish and adopt such minimum standards and rules pertaining to the construction, maintenance, and operation of ambulatory surgical centers as are necessary for the safe and adequate care and treatment of patients: PROVIDED, That such minimum standards are no greater than federal medicare program standards as they existed on January 1, 1995, unless authorized by other state statute. The department shall adopt standards that are at least equal to recognized applicable national standards pertaining to medical gas piping systems. The department shall rescind, amend, or modify the rules as necessary.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. The department may, at any time, conduct an on-site survey of a licensee in order to determine compliance with this chapter and rules adopted under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. The department may deny, suspend, or revoke a license under this chapter or, in lieu thereof or in addition thereto, assess civil monetary penalties in any case in which it finds the applicant or licensee:

(1) Failed or refused to comply with the requirements of this chapter or rules adopted under this chapter;

(5) Willfully prevented, interfered with, or attempted to impede in any way the work of any representative of the department and the lawful enforcement of any provision of this chapter;

(6) Willfully prevented, interfered with, or attempted to impede in any way any representative of the department in the preservation of evidence of any violation of this chapter or rules adopted under this chapter;

(7) Failed to pay any civil monetary penalty assessed by the department according to this chapter within ten days after the assessment becomes final;

(8) Used advertising that is false, fraudulent, or misleading;

(9) Has repeated incidents of personnel performing services beyond their scope of practice; or

(10) Misrepresented or was fraudulent in any aspect of the conduct of the licensee’s business.
