(9) For any project that exceeds two million dollars in total funds to complete, requires more than one biennium to complete, or is financed through financial contracts, bonds, or other indebtedness:

   (a) Quality assurance for the project must report independently to the office of the chief information officer;

   (b) The office of the chief information officer must review, and, if necessary, revise the proposed project to ensure it is flexible and adaptable to advances in technology;

   (c) The technology budget must specifically identify the uses of any financing proceeds. No more than thirty percent of the financing proceeds may be used for payroll-related costs for state employees assigned to project management, installation, testing, or training;

(1) The criminal justice treatment account is created in the state treasury. Moneys in the account may be expended solely for: (a) Substance use disorder treatment and treatment support services for offenders with a substance use disorder that, if not treated, would result in addiction, against whom charges are filed by a prosecuting attorney in Washington state; (b) the provision of substance use disorder treatment services and treatment support services for nonviolent offenders within a drug court program; and (c) the administrative and overhead costs associated with the operation of a drug court. Amounts provided in this subsection must be used for treatment and recovery support services for criminally involved offenders and authorization of these services shall not be subject to determinations of medical necessity. During the 2017-2019 fiscal biennium, the legislature may direct the state treasurer to make transfers of moneys in the criminal justice treatment account to the state general fund. During the 2019-2021 fiscal biennium, the legislature may appropriate from the account for municipal drug courts and increased treatment options, and may direct the state treasurer to make transfers of moneys in the criminal justice treatment account to the home security fund account created in RCW 43.185C.006. ((It is the intent of the legislature to continue the policy of transferring moneys from the criminal justice treatment account to the home security fund account in subsequent biennia.)) Moneys in the account may be spent only after appropriation.

(2) For purposes of this section:

(a) "Treatment" means services that are critical to a participant's successful completion of his or her substance use disorder treatment program, including but not limited to the recovery support and other programmatic elements outlined in RCW 2.30.030 authorizing therapeutic courts; and

(b) "Treatment support" includes transportation to or from inpatient or outpatient treatment services when no viable alternative exists, and child care services that are necessary to ensure a participant's ability to attend outpatient treatment sessions.

(3) Revenues to the criminal justice treatment account consist of: (a) Funds transferred to the account pursuant to this section; and (b) any other revenues appropriated to or deposited in the account.

(4)(a) For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 2005, and each subsequent fiscal year, the state treasurer shall transfer eight million two hundred fifty thousand dollars from the general fund to the criminal justice treatment account, divided into four equal quarterly payments. For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 2006, and each subsequent fiscal year, the amount transferred shall be increased on an annual basis by the implicit price deflator as published by the federal bureau of labor statistics.

(b) In each odd-numbered year, the legislature shall appropriate the amount transferred to the criminal justice treatment account in (a) of this subsection to the department for the purposes of subsection (5) of this section.

(5) Moneys appropriated to the authority from the criminal justice treatment account shall be distributed as specified in this subsection. The authority may retain up to three percent of the amount appropriated under subsection (4)(b) of this section for its administrative costs.

(a) Seventy percent of amounts appropriated to the authority from the account shall be distributed to counties pursuant to the distribution formula adopted under this section. The authority, in consultation with the department of corrections, the Washington state association of counties, the Washington state association of drug court professionals, the superior court judges' association, the Washington association of prosecuting attorneys, the Washington association of sheriffs and police chiefs, the superior court judges' association, the Washington state association of counties, the Washington defender's association or the Washington association of criminal defense lawyers, the department of corrections, the Washington state association of drug court professionals, and substance abuse disorder treatment providers. The panel shall review county or regional plans for funding under (a) of this subsection and grants approved under this subsection. The panel shall attempt to ensure that treatment as funded by the grants is available to offenders statewide.

(6) The county alcohol and drug coordinator, county prosecutor, county sheriff, county superior court, a substance abuse treatment provider appointed by the county legislative authority, a member of the criminal defense bar appointed by the county legislative authority, and, in counties with a drug court, a representative of the drug court shall jointly submit a plan, approved by the county legislative authority or authorities, to the panel established in subsection (5)(b) of this section, for disposition of all the funds provided from the criminal justice treatment account within that county. The submitted plan should incorporate current evidence-based practices in substance use disorder treatment. The funds shall be used solely to provide approved alcohol and substance use disorder treatment pursuant to RCW 71.24.560 and treatment support services. No more than ten percent of the total moneys received under subsections (4) and (5) of this section by a county or group of counties participating in a regional agreement shall be spent for treatment support services.

(7) Counties are encouraged to consider regional agreements and submit regional plans for the efficient delivery of treatment under this section.

(8) Moneys allocated under this section shall be used to supplement, not supplant, other federal, state, and local funds used for substance abuse treatment.

(9) If a region or county uses criminal justice treatment account funds to support a therapeutic court, the therapeutic court must allow the use of all medications approved by the federal food and drug administration for the treatment of opioid use disorder as deemed medically appropriate for a participant by a medical professional. If appropriate medication-assisted treatment resources are not available or accessible within the jurisdiction, the health care authority's designee for assistance must assist the court with acquiring the resource.

(10) Counties must meet the criteria established in RCW 2.30.030(3).

(11) The authority shall annually review and monitor the expenditures made by any county or group of counties that receives appropriated funds distributed under this section. Counties shall repay any funds that are not spent in accordance with the requirements of its contract with the authority.

Sec. 918. RCW 74.46.561 and 2019 c 301 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The legislature adopts a new system for establishing nursing home payment rates beginning July 1, 2016. Any payments to nursing homes for services provided after June 30, 2016, must be based on the new system. The new system must be designed in such a manner as to decrease administrative complexity associated with the payment methodology, reward nursing homes providing care for high acuity residents, incentivize quality care for residents of nursing homes, and establish minimum staffing standards for direct care.

(2) The new system must be based primarily on industry-wide costs, and have three main components: Direct care, indirect care, and capital.

(3) The direct care component must include the direct care and therapy care components of the previous system, along with food, laundry, and dietary services. Direct care must be paid at a fixed rate, based on one hundred percent or greater of statewide case mix neutral median costs, but shall be set so that a nursing home provider's direct care rate does not exceed one hundred eighteen percent of its base year's direct care allowable costs except if the provider is below the minimum staffing standard established in RCW 74.42.360(2). Direct care must be performance-adjusted for acuity every six months, using case mix principles. Direct care must be regionally adjusted using county wide wage index information available through the United States department of labor's bureau of labor statistics. There is no minimum occupancy for direct care. The direct care component rate allocations calculated in accordance with this section must be adjusted to the extent necessary to comply with RCW 74.46.421.

(4) The indirect care component must include the elements of administrative expenses, maintenance costs, and housekeeping services from the previous system. A minimum occupancy assumption of ninety percent must be applied to indirect care. Indirect care must be paid at a fixed rate, based on ninety percent or greater of statewide median costs. The indirect care component rate allocations calculated in accordance with this section must be adjusted to the extent necessary to comply with RCW 74.46.421.

(5) The capital component must use a fair market rental system to set a price per bed. The capital component must be adjusted for the age of the facility, and must use a minimum occupancy assumption of ninety percent.

(a) Beginning July 1, 2016, the fair rental rate allocation for each facility must be determined by multiplying the allowable nursing home square footage in (c) of this subsection by the RSMeans rental rate in (d) of this subsection and by the number of licensed beds yielding the gross unadjusted building value. An equipment allowance of ten percent must be added to the unadjusted building value. The sum of the unadjusted building value and equipment allowance must then be reduced by the average age of the facility as determined by (e) of this subsection using a depreciation rate of one and one-half percent. The depreciated building and equipment plus land valued at ten percent of the gross unadjusted building value before depreciation must then be multiplied by the rental rate at seven and one-half percent to yield an allowable fair rental value for the land, building, and equipment.

(b) The fair rental value determined in (a) of this subsection must be divided by the greater of the actual total facility census from the prior full calendar year or imputed census based on the number of licensed beds at ninety percent occupancy.

(c) For the rate year beginning July 1, 2016, all facilities must be reimbursed using four hundred square feet. For the rate year beginning July 1, 2017, allowable nursing facility square footage must be determined using the total nursing facility square footage as reported on the medicaid cost reports submitted to the department in compliance with this chapter. The maximum allowable square feet per bed may not exceed four hundred fifty.

(d) Each facility must be paid at eighty-three percent or greater of the median nursing facility RSMeans construction index value per square foot. The department may use updated RSMeans construction index information when more recent square footage data becomes available. The statewide value per square foot must be indexed based on facility zip code by multiplying the statewide value per square foot times the appropriate zip code based index. For the purpose of implementing this section, the value per square foot effective July 1, 2016, must be set so that the weighted average fair rental value rate is not less than ten dollars and eighty cents per patient day. The capital component rate allocations calculated in accordance with this section must be adjusted to the extent necessary to comply with RCW 74.46.421.

(e) The average age is the actual facility age reduced for significant renovations. Significant renovations are defined as those renovations that exceed two thousand dollars per bed in a calendar year as reported on the annual cost report submitted in accordance with this chapter. For the rate beginning July 1, 2016, the department shall use renovation data back to 1994 as submitted on facility cost reports. Beginning July 1, 2016, facility ages must be reduced in future years if the value of the renovation completed in any year exceeds two thousand dollars times the number of licensed beds. The cost of the renovation must be divided by the accumulated depreciation per bed in the year of the renovation to determine the equivalent number of new replacement beds. The new age for the facility is a weighted average with the replacement bed equivalents reflecting an age of zero and the existing licensed beds, minus the new bed equivalents, reflecting their age in the year of the renovation. At no time may the depreciated age be less than zero or greater than forty-four years.

(f) A nursing facility's capital component rate allocation must be rebased annually, effective July 1, 2016, in accordance with this section and this chapter.

(g) For the purposes of this subsection (5), "RSMeans" means building construction costs data as published by Gordian.

6 A quality incentive must be offered as a rate enhancement beginning July 1, 2016.

(a) An enhancement no larger than five percent and no less than one percent of the statewide average daily rate must be paid to facilities that meet or exceed the standard established for the quality incentive. All providers must have the opportunity to earn the full quality incentive payment.

(b) The quality incentive component must be determined by calculating an overall facility quality score composed of four to six quality measures. For fiscal year 2017 there shall be four quality measures, and for fiscal year 2018 there shall be six quality measures. Initially, the quality incentive component must be based on minimum data set quality measures for the percentage of long-stay residents who self-report moderate to severe pain, the percentage of high-risk long-stay residents with pressure ulcers, the percentage of long-stay residents experiencing one or more falls with major injury, and the percentage of long-stay residents with a urinary tract infection. Quality measures must be reviewed on an annual basis by a stakeholder work group established by the department. Upon review, quality measures may be added or changed. The department may risk adjust individual quality measures as it deems appropriate.

(c) The facility quality score must be point based, using at a minimum the facility's most recent available three-quarter average centers for medicare and medicaid services quality data. Point thresholds for each quality measure must be established using the corresponding statistical values for the quality measure point determinants of eighty quality measure points, sixty quality measure points, forty quality measure points, and twenty quality measure points, identified in the most recent available five-star quality rating system technical user's guide published by the center for medicare and medicaid services.

(d) Facilities meeting or exceeding the highest performance threshold (top level) for a quality measure receive twenty-five points. Facilities meeting the second highest performance threshold receive twenty points. Facilities meeting the third level of performance threshold receive fifteen points. Facilities in the bottom performance threshold level receive no points. Points from all quality measures must then be summed into a single aggregate quality score for each facility.

(e) Facilities receiving an aggregate quality score of eighty percent of the overall available total score or higher must be placed in the highest tier (tier V), facilities receiving an aggregate score of between seventy and seventy-nine percent of the overall available total score must be placed in the second highest tier (tier IV), facilities receiving an aggregate score of between sixty and sixty-nine percent of the overall available total score must be placed in the third highest tier (tier III), facilities receiving an aggregate score of between fifty and fifty-nine percent of the overall available total score must be placed in the fourth highest tier (tier II), and facilities receiving less than fifty percent of the overall available total score must be placed in the lowest tier (tier I).

(f) The tier system must be used to determine the amount of each facility's per patient day quality incentive component. The per patient day quality incentive component for tier IV is seventy-five percent of the per patient day quality incentive component for tier V, the per patient day quality incentive component for tier III is fifty percent of the per patient day quality incentive component for tier V, and the per patient day quality incentive component for tier II is twenty-five percent of the per patient day quality incentive component for tier V. Facilities in tier I receive no quality incentive component.

(g) Tier system payments must be set in a manner that ensures that the entire biennial appropriation for the quality incentive program is allocated.

(h) Facilities with insufficient three-quarter average centers for medicare and medicaid services quality data must be assigned to the tier corresponding to their five-star quality rating. Facilities with a five-star quality rating must be assigned to the highest tier (tier V) and facilities with a one-star quality rating must be assigned to the lowest tier (tier I). The use of a facility’s five-star quality rating shall only occur in the case of insufficient centers for medicare and medicaid services minimum data set information.

(i) The quality incentive rates must be adjusted semiannually on July 1 and January 1 of each year using, at a minimum, the most recent available three-quarter average centers for medicare and medicaid services quality data.

(j) Beginning July 1, 2017, the percentage of short-stay residents who newly received an antipsychotic medication must be added as a quality measure. The department must determine the quality incentive thresholds for this quality measure in a manner consistent with those outlined in (b) through (h) of this subsection using the centers for medicare and medicaid services quality data.

(k) Beginning July 1, 2017, the percentage of direct care staff turnover must be added as a quality measure using the centers for medicare and medicaid services’ payroll-based journal and nursing home facility payroll data. Turnover is defined as an employee departure. The department must determine the quality incentive thresholds for this quality measure using data from the centers for medicare and medicaid services’ payroll-based journal, unless such data is not available, in which case the department shall use direct care staffing turnover data from the most recent medicaid cost report.

(7) Reimbursement of the safety net assessment imposed by chapter 74.48 RCW and paid in relation to medicaid residents must be continued.

(8)(a) The direct care and indirect care components must be rebased in even-numbered years, beginning with rates paid on July 1, 2016. Rates paid on July 1, 2016, must be based on the 2014 calendar year cost report. On a percentage basis, after rebasing, the department must confirm that the statewide average daily rate has increased at least as much as the average rate of inflation, as determined by the skilled nursing facility market basket index published by the centers for medicare and medicaid services, or a comparable index. If after rebasing, the percentage increase to the statewide average daily rate is less than the average rate of inflation for the same time period, the department is authorized to increase rates by the difference between the percentage increase after rebasing and the average rate of inflation.

(b) It is the intention of the legislature that direct and indirect care rates paid in fiscal year 2022 will be rebased using the calendar year 2019 cost reports. For fiscal year 2021, in addition to the rates generated by (a) of this subsection, an additional adjustment is provided as established in this subsection (8)(b). Beginning May 1, 2020, and through June 30, 2021, the calendar year costs must be adjusted for inflation by a twenty-four month consumer price index, based on the most recently available monthly index for all urban consumers, as published by the bureau of labor statistics. It is also the intent of the legislature that, starting in fiscal year 2022, a facility-specific rate add-on equal to the inflation adjustment that facilities received solely in fiscal year 2021, must be added to the rate.

(c) To determine the necessity of regular inflationary adjustments to the nursing facility rates, by December 1, 2020, the department shall provide the appropriate policy and fiscal committees of the legislature with a report that provides a review of rates paid in 2017, 2018, and 2019 in comparison to costs incurred by nursing facilities.

(9) The direct care component provided in subsection (3) of this section is subject to the reconciliation and settlement process provided in RCW 74.46.022(6). Beginning July 1, 2016, pursuant to rules established by the department, funds that are received through the reconciliation and settlement process provided in RCW 74.46.022(6) must be used for technical assistance, specialized training, or an increase to the quality enhancement established in subsection (6) of this section. The legislature intends to review the utility of maintaining the reconciliation and settlement process under a price-based payment methodology, and may discontinue the reconciliation and settlement process after the 2017-2019 fiscal biennium.

(10) Compared to the rate in effect June 30, 2016, including all cost components and rate add-ons, no facility may receive a rate reduction of more than one percent on July 1, 2016, more than two percent on July 1, 2017, or more than five percent on July 1, 2018. To ensure that the appropriation for nursing homes remains cost neutral, the department is authorized to cap the rate increase for facilities in fiscal years 2017, 2018, and 2019.

Sec. 919. RCW 82.08.170 and 2015 3rd sp.s. c 4 s 976 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided in subsections (4) and (5) of this section, during the months of January, April, July, and October of each year, the state treasurer must make the transfers required under subsections (2) and (3) of this section from the liquor excise tax fund and then the apportionment and distribution of all remaining moneys in the liquor excise tax fund to the counties, cities, and towns in the following proportions: (a) Twenty percent of the moneys in the liquor excise tax fund must be divided among and distributed to the counties of the state in accordance with the provisions of RCW 66.08.200; and (b) eighty percent of the moneys in the liquor excise tax fund must be divided among and distributed to the cities and towns of the state in accordance with the provisions of RCW 66.08.210.

(2) Each fiscal quarter and prior to making the twenty percent distribution to counties under subsection (1)(a) of this section, the treasurer shall transfer to the liquor revolving fund created in RCW 66.08.170 sufficient moneys to fund the allotments from any legislative appropriations for county research and services as provided under chapter 43.110 RCW.

3) During the months of January, April, July, and October of each year, the state treasurer must transfer two million five hundred thousand dollars from the liquor excise tax fund to the state general fund.

During calendar year 2013, the January, April, and July distributions under subsection (1) of this section and transfers under subsections (2) and (3) of this section must not be made.

5) During the 2015-2017 and 2019-2021 fiscal biennia, the liquor excise tax fund may be appropriated for the local government fiscal note program in the department of commerce. It is the intent of the legislature to continue this policy in the subsequent fiscal biennium.

1) The oil spill prevention account is created in the state treasury. All receipts from RCW 82.23B.020(2) shall be deposited in the account. Moneys from the account may be spent only after appropriation. The account is subject to allotment procedures under chapter 43.88 RCW. If, on the first day of any calendar month, the balance of the oil spill response account is greater than nine million dollars, the balance of the oil spill prevention account exceeds the unexpended appropriation for the current biennium, then the tax under RCW 82.23B.020(2) shall be suspended on the first day of the next calendar month until the beginning of the following biennium, provided that the tax shall not be suspended during the last six months of the biennium. If the tax imposed under RCW 82.23B.020(2) is suspended during the last six months of the biennium, the legislature may appropriate moneys from the oil spill prevention account to the oil spill response account to support appropriations made from the oil spill prevention account in the omnibus appropriations act adopted not later than June 30, 1999.

2) Expenditures from the oil spill prevention account shall be used exclusively for the administrative costs related to the purposes of this chapter, and chapters 90.48, 88.40, and 88.46 RCW. In addition, until June 30, 2021, expenditures from the oil spill prevention account may be used, subject to amounts appropriated specifically for this purpose, for the development and annual review of local emergency planning committee emergency response plans in RCW 38.52.040(3). Starting with the 1995-1997 biennium, the legislature shall give activities of state agencies related to prevention of oil spills priority in funding from the oil spill prevention account. Costs of prevention include the costs of:

(a) Routine responses not covered under RCW 90.56.500;

(b) Management and staff development activities;

(c) Development of rules and policies and the statewide plan provided for in RCW 90.56.060;

(e) Interagency coordination and public outreach and education;

(f) Collection and administration of the tax provided for in chapter 82.23B RCW; and

(g) Appropriate travel, goods and services, contracts, and equipment.

3) Before expending moneys from the account for a response under subsection (2)(a) of this section, but without delaying response activities, the director shall make reasonable efforts to obtain funding for response costs under this section from the person responsible for the spill and from other sources, including the federal government.

4) During the 2019-2021 fiscal biennium, the legislature may appropriate moneys from the oil spill prevention account to the oil spill response account.

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6534, by Senate Committee on Health & Long Term Care (originally sponsored by Cleveland)

Creating an ambulance transport quality assurance fee.

The bill was read the second time.

With the consent of the House, amendments (2176) and (2164) were withdrawn.

Representative Riccelli moved the adoption of amendment (2174):

926.0.

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 927. The legislature finds that the payments to private emergency ambulance service providers for transports for medicaid recipients have not been increased since 2004, resulting in a loss for carriers who provide this service. This has resulted in the shifting of cost of medicaid transports to other payers.

The purpose of this chapter is to provide for a quality assurance fee for specified providers of emergency ambulance services as referenced in 42 C.F.R. Sec. 433.56, which will be used to add on to base funding from all other sources, thereby supporting additional medicaid payments to nonpublic and nonfederal providers of emergency ambulance services as specified in this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 928. The definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(1) "Aggregate fee schedule amount" means the product of the add-on calculated pursuant to section 6(1) of this act multiplied by the number of emergency ambulance transports for the state fiscal year.

(2) "Ambulance transport provider" means an ambulance transport provider that is licensed under RCW 18.73.140 that bills and receives patient care revenue from the provision of ground emergency ambulance transports. "Ambulance transport provider" does not include a provider that is owned or operated by the state, cities, counties, fire protection districts, regional fire protection service authorities, port districts, public hospital districts, community services districts, health care districts, federally recognized Indian tribes, or any unit of government as defined in 42 C.F.R. Sec. 433.50.

(3) "Annual quality assurance fee rate" means the quality assurance fee per emergency ambulance transport during each applicable state fiscal year assessed on each ambulance transport provider.

(4) "Authority" means the Washington state health care authority.

(5) "Available fee amount" means the sum of the following:

(a) The amount deposited in the ambulance transport fund established under section 3 of this act during the applicable state fiscal year, less the amounts described in section 3(3)(a) of this act; and

(b) Any federal financial participation obtained as a result of the deposit of the amount described in this subsection, for the applicable state fiscal year.

(6) "Effective state medical assistance percentage" means a ratio of the aggregate expenditures from state-only sources for medicaid divided by the aggregate expenditures from state and federal sources for medicaid for a state fiscal year.

(7) "Emergency ambulance transport" means the act of transporting an individual by use of an ambulance during which a client receives needed emergency medical services en route to an appropriate medical facility. "Emergency ambulance transport" does not include transportation of beneficiaries by passenger cars, taxicabs, litter vans, wheelchair vans, or other forms of public or private conveyances, nor does it include transportation by an air ambulance provider. An "emergency ambulance transport" does not occur when, following evaluation of a patient, a transport is not provided.

(8) "Fee-for-service payment schedule" means the payment rates to ambulance transport providers for emergency ambulance transports by the authority without the inclusion of the add-on described in section 6 of this act.

(9) "Gross receipts" means the total amount of payments received as patient care revenue for emergency ambulance transports, determined on a cash basis of accounting. "Gross receipts" includes all payments received as patient care revenue for emergency ambulance transports from medicaid, medicare, commercial insurance, and all other payers as payment for services rendered.

(10) "Medicaid" means the medical assistance program and the state children's health insurance program as established in Title XIX and Title XXI of the social security act, respectively, and as administered in the state of Washington by the authority.

(11) "Program" means the ambulance quality assurance fee program established in this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 929. (1) A dedicated fund is hereby established within the state treasury to be known as the ambulance transport fund. The purpose and use of the fund shall be to receive and disburse funds, together with accrued interest, in accordance with this chapter. Moneys in the fund, including interest earned, shall not be used or disbursed for any purposes other than those specified in this chapter. Any amounts expended from the fund that are later recouped by the authority on audit or otherwise shall be returned to the fund. Moneys in the account may be spent only after appropriation.
(2) The quality assurance fees collected by the authority pursuant to section 5 of this act must be deposited in the ambulance transport fund.

(3) The moneys in the ambulance transport fund, including any interest and dividends earned on money in the fund, shall be available exclusively for the following purposes in the following order of priority:

(a) To provide funding in an amount not to exceed ten percent of the annual quality assurance fee rate collection amount, exclusive of any federal matching funds, for health care coverage for Washingtonians and for the authority's staffing and administrative costs directly attributable to administering this chapter; and

(b) To make increased payments to ambulance transport providers pursuant to section 6 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 930. (1) Each ambulance transport provider must report to the authority the number of emergency ambulance transports by payer type and the annual gross receipts for the state fiscal year ending June 30, 2020, pursuant to form and timing required by the authority. The authority shall establish the timing for such reporting to occur on or after August 15, 2020.

(2) Each ambulance transport provider must report to the authority the number of emergency ambulance transports by payer type for each state fiscal quarter commencing with the state fiscal quarter ending September 30, 2020, pursuant to form and timing required by the authority. The authority shall establish the timing for such reporting to occur on or after the forty-fifth day after the end of each applicable state fiscal quarter.

(3) Each ambulance transport provider must report to the authority the annual gross receipts for each state fiscal year commencing with the state fiscal year ending June 30, 2021, pursuant to form and timing required by the authority. The authority shall establish the timing for such reporting to occur on or after the forty-fifth day after the end of each applicable state fiscal year.

(4) The authority may require a certification by each ambulance transport provider under penalty of perjury of the truth of the reports required under this section. Upon written notice to an ambulance transport provider, the authority may impose a civil penalty of one hundred dollars per day against an ambulance transport provider for every day that an ambulance transport provider fails to make a report required by this section within five days of the date upon which the report was due. Any funds resulting from a penalty imposed pursuant to this subsection shall be deposited in the ambulance transport fund established in section 3 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 931. (1) Beginning July 1, 2021, and annually thereafter, the authority shall assess each ambulance transport provider a quality assurance fee. Each ambulance transport provider must pay the quality assurance fee on a quarterly basis. The quarterly quality assurance fee payment shall be based on the annual quality assurance fee rate for the applicable state fiscal year multiplied by the number of emergency ambulance transports provided by the ambulance transport provider in the second quarter preceding the state fiscal quarter for which the fee is assessed.

(2)(a) For the state fiscal year beginning July 1, 2021, the annual quality assurance fee rate shall be calculated by multiplying the projected total annual gross receipts for all ambulance transport providers by five and one-half percent, which resulting product shall be divided by the projected total annual emergency ambulance transports by all ambulance transport providers for the state fiscal year.

(b) For state fiscal years beginning July 1, 2022, and continuing each state fiscal year thereafter, the quality assurance fee rate shall be calculated by a ratio, the numerator of which shall be the product of the projected aggregate fee schedule amount, and the denominator of which shall be ninety percent of the projected total annual emergency ambulance transports by all ambulance transport providers.

(c) If, during a state fiscal year, the actual or projected available fee amount exceeds or is less than the actual or projected aggregate fee schedule amount by more than one percent, the authority shall adjust the annual quality assurance fee rate so that the available fee amount for the state fiscal year is approximately equal to the aggregate fee schedule amount for the state fiscal year. The available fee amount for a state fiscal year shall be considered to equal the aggregate fee schedule amount for the state fiscal year if the difference between the available fee amount for the state fiscal year and the aggregate fee schedule amount for the state fiscal year constitutes less than one percent of the aggregate fee schedule amount for the state fiscal year.

(3) For each state fiscal year for which the quality assurance fee is assessed, the authority shall send each ambulance transport provider an assessment notice no later than thirty days prior to the beginning of the applicable state fiscal quarter. For each state fiscal quarter for which the quality assurance fee is assessed, the authority shall send to each ambulance transport provider an invoice of the quarterly quality assurance fee payment due for the quarter no later than thirty days before the payment is due. For each state fiscal quarter for which the quality assurance fee is assessed, the ambulance transport provider shall remit payment to the authority by the date established by the authority, which shall be no earlier than fifteen days after the beginning of the applicable state fiscal quarter.

(4)(a) Interest shall be assessed on quality assurance fees not paid on the date due at the rate and in the manner provided in RCW 43.20B.695. Interest shall be deposited in the ambulance transport fund established in section 3 of this act.

(b) In the event that any fee payment is more than sixty days overdue, the authority may deduct the unpaid fee and interest owed from any medicaid reimbursement payments owed to the ambulance transport provider until the full amount of the fee, interest, and any penalties assessed under this chapter are recovered. Any deduction made pursuant to this subsection shall be made only after the authority gives the ambulance transport provider written notification. Any deduction made pursuant to this subsection may be deducted over a period of time that takes into account the financial condition of the ambulance transport provider.

(c) In the event that any fee payment is more than sixty days overdue, a penalty equal to the interest charge described in (a) of this subsection shall be assessed and due for each month for which the payment is not received after sixty days. Any funds resulting from a penalty imposed pursuant to this subsection shall be deposited into the ambulance transport fund established in section 3 of this act.

(d) The authority may waive a portion or all of either the interest or penalties, or both, assessed under this chapter in the event the authority determines, in its sole discretion, that the ambulance transport provider has demonstrated that imposition of the full amount of the quality assurance fee pursuant to the timelines applicable under this chapter has a high likelihood of creating an undue financial hardship for the provider. Waiver of some or all of the interest or penalties pursuant to this subsection shall be conditioned on the ambulance transport provider's agreement to make fee payments on an alternative schedule developed by the authority.

(5) The authority shall accept an ambulance transport provider's payment even if the payment is submitted in a rate year subsequent to the rate year in which the fee was assessed.

(6) In the event of a merger, acquisition, or similar transaction involving an ambulance transport provider that has outstanding quality assurance fee payment obligations pursuant to this chapter, including any interest and penalty amounts owed, the resultant or successor ambulance transport provider shall be responsible for paying to the authority the full amount of outstanding quality assurance fee payments, including any applicable interest and penalties, attributable to the ambulance transport provider for which it was assessed, upon the effective date of such transaction. An entity considering a merger, acquisition, or similar transaction involving an ambulance transport provider may submit a request to the authority to ascertain the outstanding quality assurance fee payment obligations of the ambulance transport provider pursuant to this chapter as of the date of the authority's response to that request.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 932. (1) Beginning July 1, 2021, and for each state fiscal year thereafter, reimbursement for emergency ambulance transports provided by ambulance transport providers shall be increased by application of an add-on to the associated medicare fee-for-service payment schedule. The add-on increase to the fee-for-service payment schedule under this section shall be calculated by June 15, 2021, and shall remain the same for later state fiscal years, to the extent the authority determines federal financial participation is available. The authority shall calculate the projections required by this subsection based on the number of emergency ambulance transports and gross revenue data submitted pursuant to section 4 of this act. The fee-for-service add-on shall be equal to the quotient of the available fee amount projected by the authority on or before June 15, 2021, for the 2021–22 state fiscal year, divided by the total medicare emergency ambulance transports, projected by the authority on or before June 15, 2021, for the 2021–22 state fiscal year. The resulting fee-for-service payment schedule amounts after the application of this section shall be equal to the sum of the medicare fee-for-service payment schedule amount and the add-on increase.

(2) The increased payments required by this section shall be funded solely from the following:

(a) The quality assurance fee set forth in section 5 of this act, along with any interest or other investment income earned on those funds; and

(b) Federal reimbursement and any other related federal funds.

(3) The proceeds of the quality assurance fee set forth in section 5 of this act, the matching amount provided by the federal government, and any interest earned on those proceeds shall be used to supplement, and not to supplant, existing funding for emergency ambulance transports provided by ambulance transport providers.

(4) Notwithstanding any provision of this chapter, the authority may seek federal approval to implement any add-on increase to the fee-for-service payment schedule pursuant to this section for any state fiscal year or years, as applicable, on a time-limited basis for a fixed program period, as determined by the authority.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 933. The authority may adopt rules to implement this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 934. (1) (a) The authority shall request any approval from the federal centers for medicare and medicaid services it determines are necessary for the use of fees pursuant to this chapter and for the purpose of receiving associated federal matching funds.

(b) This chapter shall be implemented only to the extent that any necessary federal approvals are obtained and federal financial participation is available. The quality assurance fee pursuant to section 5 of this act shall only be assessed and collected for quarters in which the add-on pursuant to section 6 of this act is paid.

(2) The authority may modify or make adjustments to any methodology, fee amount, or other provision specified in this chapter to the minimum extent necessary to meet the requirements of federal law or regulations or to obtain federal approval. If the authority, after consulting with ambulance transport providers, determines that a modification is needed, the authority shall execute a declaration stating that this determination has been made and that the actual or projected available fee amount for a state fiscal year remains approximately equal to the actual or projected aggregate fee schedule amount for each applicable state fiscal year, as defined by section 5(2)(c) of this act. The authority shall retain the declaration and provide a copy, within ten working days of the execution of the declaration, to the appropriate fiscal and policy committees of the legislature.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 935. If there is a delay in the implementation of this chapter for any reason, including a delay in any required approval of the quality assurance fee and reimbursement methodology specified by the federal centers for medicare and medicaid services, the following shall apply:

(1) An ambulance transport provider may be assessed the amount the provider would be required to pay to the authority if the add-on increase to the fee-for-service payment schedule described in section 5(2)(c) of this act were already approved, but shall not be required to pay the fee until the add-on increase to the fee-for-service payment schedule described in section 6 of this act is approved. The authority shall establish a schedule for payment of retroactive fees pursuant to this subsection in consultation with ambulance transport providers to minimize the disruption to the cash flow of ambulance transport providers.

(2) The authority may retroactively implement the add-on increase to the fee-for-service payment schedule pursuant to section 6 of this act to the extent the authority determines that federal financial participation is available.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 936. (1) The assessment, collection, and disbursement of funds under this chapter shall be conditional upon:

(a) The federal centers for medicare and medicaid services not determining that the quality assurance fee revenues may not be used for the purposes set forth in this chapter;

(b) The state not reducing its fee-for-service payment schedule for emergency ambulance transports provided by ambulance transport providers;

(c) The state not delegating responsibility to pay for emergency ambulance transports to a managed care organization, prepaid inpatient health plan, or prepaid ambulatory health plan, as those terms are defined in 42 C.F.R. Sec. 438.2;

(d) Federal financial participation being available and not otherwise jeopardized;

(e) The program not prohibiting, diminishing, or harming the ground emergency medical transportation services reimbursement program described in RCW 41.05.730; and

(f) Consistent with section 6(3) of this act, the state continuing its maintenance of effort for the level of state funding not derived from the quality assurance fee of emergency ambulance transports reimbursement for the 2021–22 rate year, and for each applicable rate year thereafter, in an amount not less than the amount that the state would have paid for the same number of emergency ambulance transports under the rate methodology that was in effect on July 1, 2019.

(2) This chapter ceases to be operative on the first day of the state fiscal year beginning on or after the date one or more of the following conditions is satisfied:

(a) The federal centers for medicare and medicaid services no longer allows the collection or use of the ambulance transport provider assessment provided in this chapter;

(b) The increase to the medicaid payments described in section 6 of this act no longer remains in effect;

(c) The quality assurance fee assessed and collected pursuant to this chapter is no longer available for the purposes specified in this chapter;

(d) A final judicial determination made by any state or federal court that is not appealed, or by a court of appellate jurisdiction that is not further appealed, in any action by any party, or a final determination by the administrator of the federal centers for medicare and medicaid services that is not appealed, that federal financial participation is not available with respect to any payment made under the methodology implemented pursuant to this chapter;

(e) The state reduces its fee-for-service payment schedule for emergency ambulance transports provided by ambulance transport providers;

(f) The state delegates responsibility to pay for emergency ambulance transports to a managed care organization, prepaid inpatient health plan, or prepaid ambulatory health plan, as those terms are defined in 42 C.F.R. Sec. 438.2; and

(g) The program not prohibiting, diminishing, or harming the ground emergency medical transportation services reimbursement program described in RCW 41.05.730.

(3) In the event one or more of the conditions listed in subsection (2) of this section is satisfied, the authority shall notify, in writing and as soon as practicable, the secretary of state, the secretary of the senate, the chief clerk of the house of representatives, the appropriate fiscal and policy committees of the legislature, and the code reviser’s office of the condition and the approximate date or dates that it occurred. The authority shall post the notice on the authority’s web site.

(4)(a) Notwithstanding any other law, in the event this chapter becomes inoperative pursuant to subsection (2) of this section, the authority shall be authorized to conduct all appropriate close-out activities and implement applicable provisions of this chapter for prior state fiscal years during which this chapter was operative including, but not limited to, the collection of outstanding quality assurance fees pursuant to section 5 of this act and payments associated with any add-on increase to the medicaid fee-for-service payment schedule pursuant to section 6 of this act. In implementing these close-out activities, the authority shall ensure that the actual or projected available fee amount for each applicable state fiscal year remains approximately equal to the aggregate fee schedule amount for the state fiscal year, as defined by section 5(2)(c) of this act. During this close-out period, the full amount of the quality assurance fee assessed and collected remains available only for the purposes specified in this chapter.

(b) Upon a determination by the authority that all appropriate close-out and implementation activities pursuant to (a) of this subsection have been completed, the authority shall notify, in writing, the secretary of state, the secretary of the senate, the chief clerk of the house of representatives, the appropriate fiscal and policy committees of the legislature, and the code reviser's office of that determination. This chapter shall expire as of the effective date of the notification issued by the authority pursuant to this subsection.

CONFERENCE COMMITTEE REPORT

March 12, 2020

Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6280

Includes “New Item”: YES

Madame Speaker:

We of your Conference Committee, to whom was referred ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6280, concerning the use of facial recognition services, have had the same under consideration and we recommend that:

All previous amendments not be adopted and that the attached striking amendment (H-5447.1) be adopted and that the bill do pass as recommended by the Conference Committee:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 941. The legislature finds that:

(1) Unconstrained use of facial recognition services by state and local government agencies poses broad social ramifications that should be considered and addressed. Accordingly, legislation is required to establish safeguards that will allow state and local government agencies to use facial recognition services in a manner that benefits society while prohibiting uses that threaten our democratic freedoms and put our civil liberties at risk.

(2) However, state and local government agencies may use facial recognition services to locate or identify missing persons, and identify deceased persons, including missing or murdered indigenous women, subjects of Amber alerts and silver alerts, and other possible crime victims, for the purposes of keeping the public safe.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 942. The definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(1) "Accountability report" means a report developed in accordance with section 3 of this act.

(2) "Enroll," "enrolled," or "enrolling" means the process by which a facial recognition service creates a facial template from one or more images of an individual and adds the facial template to a gallery used by the facial recognition service for recognition or persistent tracking of individuals. It also includes the act of adding an existing facial template directly into a gallery used by a facial recognition service.

(3)(a) "Facial recognition service" means technology that analyzes facial features and is used by a state or local government agency for the identification, verification, or persistent tracking of individuals in still or video images.

(b) "Facial recognition service" does not include: (i) The analysis of facial features to grant or deny access to an electronic device; or (ii) the use of an automated or semiautomated process for the purpose of redacting a recording for release or disclosure outside the law enforcement agency to protect the privacy of a subject depicted in the recording, if the process does not generate or result in the retention of any biometric data or surveillance information.

(4) "Facial template" means the machine-interpretable pattern of facial features that is extracted from one or more images of an individual by a facial recognition service.

(5) "Identification" means the use of a facial recognition service by a state or local government agency to determine whether an unknown individual matches any individual whose identity is known to the state or local government agency and who has been enrolled by reference to that identity in a gallery used by the facial recognition service.

(6) "Legislative authority" means the respective city, county, or other local governmental agency's council, commission, or other body in which legislative powers are vested. For a port district, the legislative authority refers to the port district's port commission. For an airport established pursuant to chapter 14.08 RCW and operated by a board, the legislative authority refers to the airport's board. For a state agency, "legislative authority" refers to the technology services board created in RCW 43.105.285.

(7) "Meaningful human review" means review or oversight by one or more individuals who are trained in accordance with section 7 of this act and who have the authority to alter the decision under review.

(8) "Nonidentifying demographic data" means data that is not linked or reasonably linkable to an identified or identifiable individual, and includes, at a minimum, information about gender, race or ethnicity, age, and location.

(9) "Ongoing surveillance" means using a facial recognition service to track the physical movements of a specified individual through one or more public places over time, whether in real time or through application of a facial recognition service to historical records. It does not include a single recognition or attempted recognition of an individual, if no attempt is made to subsequently track that individual's movement over time after they have been recognized.

(10) "Persistent tracking" means the use of a facial recognition service by a state or local government agency to track the movements of an individual on a persistent basis without identification or verification of that individual. Such tracking becomes persistent as soon as:

(a) The facial template that permits the tracking is maintained for more than forty-eight hours after first enrolling that template; or

(b) Data created by the facial recognition service is linked to any other data such that the individual who has been tracked is identified or identifiable.
(11) "Recognition" means the use of a facial recognition service by a state or local government agency to determine whether an unknown individual matches:

(a) Any individual who has been enrolled in a gallery used by the facial recognition service; or

(b) A specific individual who has been enrolled in a gallery used by the facial recognition service.

(12) "Verification" means the use of a facial recognition service by a state or local government agency to determine whether an individual is a specific individual whose identity is known to the state or local government agency and who has been enrolled by reference to that identity in a gallery used by the facial recognition service.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 943. (1) A state or local government agency using or intending to develop, procure, or use a facial recognition service must file with a legislative authority a notice of intent to develop, procure, or use a facial recognition service and specify a purpose for which the technology is to be used. A state or local government agency may commence the accountability report once it files the notice of intent by the legislative authority.

(2) Prior to developing, procuring, or using a facial recognition service, a state or local government agency must produce an accountability report for that service. Each accountability report must include, at minimum, clear and understandable statements of the following:

(a)(i) The name of the facial recognition service, vendor, and version; and (ii) a description of its general capabilities and limitations, including reasonably foreseeable capabilities outside the scope of the proposed use of the agency;

(b)(i) The type or types of data inputs that the technology uses; (ii) how that data is generated, collected, and processed; and (iii) the type or types of data the system is reasonably likely to generate;

(c)(i) A description of the purpose and proposed use of the facial recognition service, including what decision or decisions will be used to make or support it; (ii) whether it is a final or support decision system; and (iii) its intended benefits, including any data or research demonstrating those benefits;

(d) A clear use and data management policy, including protocols for the following:

(i) How and when the facial recognition service will be deployed or used by whom including, but not limited to, the factors that will be used to determine where, when, and how the technology is deployed, and other relevant information, such as whether the technology will be operated continuously or used only under specific circumstances. If the facial recognition service will be operated or used by another entity on the agency’s behalf, the facial recognition service accountability report must explicitly include a description of the other entity’s access and any applicable protocols;

(ii) Any measures taken to minimize inadvertent collection of additional data beyond the amount necessary for the specific purpose or purposes for which the facial recognition service will be used;

(iii) Data integrity and retention policies applicable to the data collected using the facial recognition service, including how the agency will maintain and update records used in connection with the service, how long the agency will keep the data, and the processes by which data will be deleted;

(iv) Any additional rules that will govern use of the facial recognition service and what processes will be required prior to each use of the facial recognition service;

(v) Data security measures applicable to the facial recognition service including how data collected using the facial recognition service will be securely stored and accessed, if and why an agency intends to share access to the facial recognition service or the data from that facial recognition service with any other entity, and the rules and procedures by which an agency sharing data with any other entity will ensure that such entities comply with the sharing agency’s use and data management policy as part of the data sharing agreement;

(vi) How the facial recognition service provider intends to fulfill security breach notification requirements pursuant to chapter 19.255 RCW and how the agency intends to fulfill security breach notification requirements pursuant to RCW 42.56.590; and

(vii) The agency’s training procedures, including those implemented in accordance with section 7 of this act, and how the agency will ensure that all personnel who operate the facial recognition service or access its data are knowledgeable about and able to ensure compliance with the use and data management policy prior to use of the facial recognition service;

(c) The agency’s testing procedures, including its processes for periodically undertaking operational tests of the facial recognition service in accordance with section 5 of this act;

(f) Information on the facial recognition service’s rate of false matches, potential impacts on protected subpopulations, and how the agency will address error rates, determined independently, greater than one percent;

(g) A description of any potential impacts of the facial recognition service on civil rights and liberties, including potential impacts to privacy and potential disparate impacts on marginalized communities, and the specific steps the agency will take to mitigate the potential impacts and prevent unauthorized use of the facial recognition service; and

(h) The agency’s procedures for receiving feedback, including the channels for receiving feedback from individuals affected by the use of the facial recognition service and from the community at large, as well as the procedures for responding to feedback.

(3) Prior to finalizing the accountability report, the agency must:

(a) Allow for a public review and comment period;
(b) Hold at least three community consultation meetings; and

(c) Consider the issues raised by the public through the public review and comment period and the community consultation meetings.

(4) The final accountability report must be updated every two years and submitted to a legislative authority.

(5) The final adopted accountability report must be clearly communicated to the public at least ninety days prior to the agency putting the facial recognition service into operational use, posted on the agency's public web site, and submitted to a legislative authority. The legislative authority must post each submitted accountability report on its public web site.

(6) A state or local government agency seeking to procure a facial recognition service must require vendors to disclose any complaints or reports of bias regarding the service.

(7) An agency seeking to use a facial recognition service for a purpose not disclosed in the agency's existing accountability report must first seek public comment and community consultation on the proposed new use and adopt an updated accountability report pursuant to the requirements contained in this section.

(8) This section does not apply to a facial recognition service under contract as of the effective date of this section. An agency must fulfill the requirements of this section upon renewal or extension of the contract.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 944. A state or local government agency using a facial recognition service to make decisions that produce legal effects concerning individuals or similarly significant effects concerning individuals must ensure that those decisions are subject to meaningful human review. Decisions that produce legal effects concerning individuals or similarly significant effects concerning individuals means decisions that result in the provision or denial of financial and lending services, housing, insurance, education enrollment, criminal justice, employment opportunities, health care services, or access to basic necessities such as food and water, or that impact civil rights of individuals.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 945. Prior to deploying a facial recognition service in the context in which it will be used, a state or local government agency using a facial recognition service to make decisions that produce legal effects on individuals or similarly significant effects on individuals must test the facial recognition service in operational conditions. An agency must take reasonable steps to ensure best quality results by following all guidance provided by the developer of the facial recognition service.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 946. (1)(a) A state or local government agency that deploys a facial recognition service must require a facial recognition service provider to make available an application programming interface or other technical capability, chosen by the provider, to enable legitimate, independent, and reasonable tests of those facial recognition services for accuracy and unfair performance differences across distinct subpopulations. Such subpopulations are defined by visually detectable characteristics such as: (i) Race, skin tone, ethnicity, gender, age, or disability status; or (ii) other protected characteristics that are objectively determinable or self-identified by the individuals portrayed in the testing dataset. If the results of the independent testing identify material unfair performance differences across subpopulations, the provider must develop and implement a plan to mitigate the identified performance differences within ninety days of receipt of such results. For purposes of mitigating the identified performance differences, the methodology and data used in the independent testing must be disclosed to the provider in a manner that allows full reproduction.

(b) Making an application programming interface or other technical capability does not require providers to do so in a manner that would increase the risk of cyberattacks or to disclose proprietary data. Providers bear the burden of minimizing these risks when making an application programming interface or other technical capability available for testing.

(2) Nothing in this section requires a state or local government agency to collect or provide data to a facial recognition service provider to satisfy the requirements in subsection (1) of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 947. A state or local government agency using a facial recognition service must conduct periodic training of all individuals who operate a facial recognition service or who process personal data obtained from the use of a facial recognition service. The training must include, but not be limited to, coverage of:

(1) The capabilities and limitations of the facial recognition service;

(2) Procedures to interpret and act on the output of the facial recognition service; and

(3) To the extent applicable to the deployment context, the meaningful human review requirement for decisions that produce legal effects concerning individuals or similarly significant effects concerning individuals.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 948. (1) A state or local government agency must disclose their use of a facial recognition service on a criminal defendant to that defendant in a timely manner prior to trial.

(2) A state or local government agency using a facial recognition service shall maintain records of its use of the service that are sufficient to facilitate public reporting and auditing of compliance with the agency's facial recognition policies.

(3) In January of each year, any judge who has issued a warrant for the use of a facial recognition service to engage in any surveillance, or an extension thereof, as described in section 11 of this act, that expired during the preceding year, or who has denied approval of such a warrant during that year shall report to the administrator for the courts:

(a) The fact that a warrant or extension was applied for;
(b) The fact that the warrant or extension was granted as applied for, was modified, or was denied;

(c) The period of surveillance authorized by the warrant and the number and duration of any extensions of the warrant;

(d) The identity of the applying investigative or law enforcement officer and agency making the application and the person authorizing the application; and

(e) The nature of the public spaces where the surveillance was conducted.

(4) In January of each year, any state or local government agency that has applied for a warrant, or an extension thereof, for the use of a facial recognition service to engage in any surveillance as described in section 11 of this act shall provide to a legislative authority a report summarizing nonidentifying demographic data of individuals named in warrant applications as subjects of surveillance with the use of a facial recognition service.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 949. (1) This chapter does not apply to a state or local government agency that: (a) Is mandated to use a specific facial recognition service pursuant to a federal regulation or order, or that are undertaken through partnership with a federal agency to fulfill a congressional mandate; or (b) uses a facial recognition service in association with a federal agency to verify the identity of individuals presenting themselves for travel at an airport or seaport.

(2) A state or local government agency must report to a legislative authority the use of a facial recognition service pursuant to subsection (1) of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 950. (1)(a) The William D. Ruckelshaus center must establish a facial recognition task force, with members as provided in this subsection.

(i) The president of the senate shall appoint one member from each of the two largest caucuses of the senate;

(ii) The speaker of the house shall appoint one member from each of the two largest caucuses of the house of representatives;

(iii) Eight representatives from advocacy organizations that represent individuals or protected classes of communities historically impacted by surveillance technologies including, but not limited to, African American, Latino American, Native American, Pacific Islander American, and Asian American communities, religious minorities, protest and activist groups, and other vulnerable communities;

(iv) Two members from law enforcement or other agencies of government;

(v) One representative from a retailer or other company who deploys facial recognition services in physical premises open to the public;

(vi) Two representatives from consumer protection organizations;

(vii) Two representatives from companies that develop and provide facial recognition services; and

(viii) Two representatives from universities or research institutions who are experts in either facial recognition services or their sociotechnical implications, or both.

(b) The task force shall choose two cochairs from among its legislative membership.

(2) The task force shall review the following issues:

(a) Provide recommendations addressing the potential abuses and threats posed by the use of a facial recognition service to civil liberties and freedoms, privacy and security, and discrimination against vulnerable communities, as well as other potential harm, while also addressing how to facilitate and encourage the continued development of a facial recognition service so that individuals, businesses, government, and other stakeholders in society continue to utilize its benefits;

(b) Provide recommendations regarding the adequacy and effectiveness of applicable Washington state laws; and

(c) Conduct a study on the quality, accuracy, and efficacy of a facial recognition service including, but not limited to, its quality, accuracy, and efficacy across different subpopulations.

(3) Legislative members of the task force are reimbursed for travel expenses in accordance with RCW 44.04.120. Nonlegislative members are not entitled to be reimbursed for travel expenses if they are elected officials or are participating on behalf of an employer, governmental entity, or other organization. Any reimbursement for other nonlegislative members is subject to chapter 43.03 RCW.

(4) The task force shall report its findings and recommendations to the governor and the appropriate committees of the legislature by September 30, 2021.

(5) This section expires September 30, 2022.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 951. (1) A state or local government agency may not use a facial recognition service to engage in ongoing surveillance, conduct real-time or near real-time identification, or start persistent tracking unless:

(a) A warrant is obtained authorizing the use of the service for those purposes;

(b) Exigent circumstances exist; or

(c) A court order is obtained authorizing the use of the service for the sole purpose of locating or identifying a missing person, or identifying a deceased person. A court may issue an ex parte order under this subsection (1)(c) if a law enforcement officer certifies and the court finds that the information likely to be obtained is relevant to locating or identifying a missing person, or identifying a deceased person.

(2) A state or local government agency may not apply a facial recognition service to any individual based on their religious, political, or social views or activities, participation in a particular noncriminal organization or lawful event, or actual or perceived race, ethnicity, citizenship, place of origin, immigration status, age, disability, gender, gender identity, sexual orientation, or other characteristic protected by law. This subsection does not condone profiling including, but not limited to, predictive law enforcement tools.

(3) A state or local government agency may not use a facial recognition service to create a record describing any individual’s exercise of rights guaranteed by the First Amendment of the United States Constitution and by Article I, section 5 of the state Constitution.

(4) A law enforcement agency that utilizes body worn camera recordings shall comply with the provisions of RCW 42.56.240(14).

(5) A state or local law enforcement agency may not use the results of a facial recognition service as the sole basis to establish probable cause in a criminal investigation. The results of a facial recognition service may be used in conjunction with other information and evidence lawfully obtained by a law enforcement officer to establish probable cause in a criminal investigation.

(6) A state or local law enforcement agency may not use a facial recognition service to identify an individual based on a sketch or other manually produced image.

(7) A state or local law enforcement agency may not substantively manipulate an image for use in a facial recognition service in a manner not consistent with the facial recognition service provider’s intended use and training.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 952. Nothing in this chapter applies to the use of a facial recognition matching system by the department of licensing pursuant to RCW 46.20.037.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 953. Sections 1 through 12 of this act constitute a new chapter in Title 43 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 954. Sections 1 through 9 and 11 through 13 of this act take effect July 1, 2021."

MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE

March 12, 2020

Madame Speaker:

The Senate has passed SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1154 with the following amendment:

954.0.

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION, Sec. 955. (1) The legislature finds that the office of Chehalis basin, established in RCW 43.21A.730, is faithfully carrying out one of the prime directives of legislative intent from chapter 194, Laws of 2016, by drafting a strategic plan and accompanying environmental assessments, as the legislation called for a Chehalis basin strategy that "must include an implementation schedule and quantified measures for evaluating the success of implementation."

(2) The legislature also finds that the office of Chehalis basin has been successful in its initial work to secure both state and federal funds for projects in the near term. However, specificity is needed for consideration of the long-term funding needs.

(3) In enacted appropriations to date, the legislature has provided significant funding for projects of the office of Chehalis basin, and it is the intent of the legislature to continue to do so.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 956. A new section is added to chapter 43.21A RCW to read as follows:

(1) The office of Chehalis basin shall, based on the anticipation of completing the strategic plan with an implementation schedule, submit agency decision packages in preparation for the 2021-2023 fiscal biennium omnibus capital appropriations act, with a report of out-biennia detail, containing:

(a) A specific list of projects;
(b) Project costs and suggested fund sources;
(c) Location information; and
(d) A time frame, including initiation and completion.

(2) The total cost for all submitted projects is expected to be consistent with biennial amounts of prior requests, which were fifty million dollars in state bonds in 2017-2019 and seventy-three million two hundred thousand dollars in 2019-2021 in state bonds.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 957. A new section is added to chapter 43.21A RCW to read as follows:

The office of Chehalis basin shall submit a report by January 1, 2021, to the legislature that meets the requirement of a finalized strategic plan containing an implementation schedule and quantified measures for evaluating the success of implementation, and the appropriate policy and fiscal committees of the legislature shall, within one hundred twenty days of the receipt, conduct a joint hearing for the purposes of: (1) Receiving a report from the office of Chehalis basin; and (2) considering potential funding strategies to achieve the implementation schedule.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 958. A new section is added to chapter 43.21A RCW to read as follows:

The Chehalis basin taxable account is created in the state treasury. All receipts from the proceeds of taxable bonds for the office of Chehalis basin, as well as other moneys directed to the account, must be deposited in the account. Interest earned by deposits in the account will be retained in the account. Moneys in the account may be spent only after appropriation. Expenditures from the account may be used only for the purposes set out in RCW 43.21A.730 and for the payment of expenses incurred in the issuance and sale of the bonds.

Sec. 959. RCW 43.84.092 and 2019 c 421 s 15, 2019 c 403 s 14, 2019 c 365 s 19, 2019 c 287 s 19, and 2019 c 95 s 6 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) All earnings of investments of surplus balances in the state treasury shall be deposited to the treasury income account, which account is hereby established in the state treasury.

(2) The treasury income account shall be utilized to pay or receive funds associated with federal programs as required by the federal cash management improvement act of 1990. Representative Leavitt moved adoption of HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 4688

Representative Leavitt: Thank you, Madam Speaker. Did you know that the good Representative from the 28th District likes music by Prince, Billy Idol, Puerto Rican Rapper Daddy Yankee? Did you know that she speaks five languages – Spanish, Italian, English, conversational French, and dangerously conversational Mandarin? Did you know that she swears like a sailor to her seatmate, only to her seatmate in the 28th as we have conversations on the way here and on the way home, and did you know that she is a fierce mother to Amelia and Julia? Many of you may have known some of those things and some of you've just learned some of those things but I know that we all know that she is brilliant. There are legislators who become showboats and there are legislators who are workhorses, and she is the stallion of our caucus. She is graceful, competitive, on values that she's fought for – whether it's our earliest learners to people with disabilities to equity and making sure that we have fair laws for all. The good gentleman from the 24th earlier today called her a titan and I think that's a fitting title or a moniker for the good woman of the 28th. It's really hard for me. I have, it's really hard for me to stand up here and say how happy I am for her to have this opportunity to spend time with her family and how grateful we all are in this body for her diligence and her hard work and her brilliance and her mentorship and the compassion that she has shown and the impact she has had on our districts. I'll end with a quick story that I shared with folks earlier. We, in the interim this past session, we went and we visited Pierce County Transit and we went on a bus ride on this electric bus around the parking lot and the bus driver was there and the bus driver happened to be from our district and she remembered him as she remembers many in our district. Every day she comes here and remembers the people that she was sent here to serve. We are so fortunate that she has done that in her six years here and I will miss her and it's, I don't want to commend the body to say goodbye. So if we could put this resolution down I would do that, but I don't have that power Madam Speaker, but you do and I just, you know, she is a brilliant, compassionate, kind, caring, swearing sailor that I will miss very, very much. Thank you.

Representative Rude: Thank you Madam Speaker. Apparently, I did not hang out with the member from the 28th enough because I did not know that she swore like a sailor and that’s fascinating. This is sad news for me, I'm bummed but happy for you as well. I've enjoyed the opportunity to spend one term with you and I remember, as an LA, appreciating you and your kindness. One of the highlights of this session was when we had the opportunity to work with the member from the 33rd on trying to wrap up some bill language in the last 15 minutes before cut off and running across, running all over the place trying to track down staff and so that's one of my highlights from the session. But I've always thought that you're a very thoughtful person and I remember that last session there was a bill, it was your bill, that we discussed in caucus and I thought, you know, I just, I feel like there's more information for Representative Kilduff to be running this bill with this language and I remember I went across the chamber and talked to you about it and you had great reasons and it definitely changed my vote from a no to yes. So, I definitely appreciated how thoughtful you've been and also the opportunity to serve on Civil Rights and Judiciary with you as Chair. That was a really great experience for me, so thank you for that. Again, I'm bummed; you're going to be missed.
Representative Doglio: It's an honor to be able to honor you today Chris. I first got to know her when I was a freshman and I was running a bill and the advocates said
“You know, I'm not sure Rep Kilduff, she might have some concerns about this bill, you better go talk to her about it.” I was new and nervous and I’m like oh she’s a Democrat but she doesn’t like my bill, what am I going to do, but I went in and we had a great conversation and I just remember her being super honest and transparent and talked me through it, and I knew that she was going to be one of my very favorite legislators in this body from that very first conversation that we had in your office. And then, over the years we sort of developed this friendship in the stairway, right? Like we are very committed stair walkers and we would often run into each other at odd hours of the day and have a little bit of private time in the stairway and we just had great conversations on issues and personal things and just continued to develop a really wonderful friendship that I know will continue well beyond our time here in the Legislature, so I’m really happy to have had that. But the things that I saw, that I see in you, you know, Rep Leavitt talked about them as well - your brilliance is just unbelievable. You're so freaking smart and you do it with such grace and integrity, and then your oratory skills. I just just love hearing you brief bills or speak on the House Floor or speak in small groups of people and, you know, I'm always kind of like “Dang, I'm so jealous.” I wish I were half as articulate as she is. And I've gotten to know some of your constituents recently in your district and they just love you. They, I really have heard very few constituents speak more highly of a legislator then your constituents speak about you. It's really been, it's really been amazing to hear that and to get to know them and to know how much they have benefited and heard from you, and how much they care about you and have really really enjoyed having you as their legislator. I just, in closing I just think Chris, you know, this institution is a better place because of you. We've heard that about other legislators today and it's true about them as well. But it is really true about you and it’s also true that I'm a better legislator because of you and the institution is better because of your mind and the issues that you've worked on and the people that you've cared about, the compassion that you brought forward in this work. I'm so honored to have you as a friend and a fellow colleague for the last four years and I wish you well in whatever your path is in the future and I look forward to seeing that.

Representative Dent: Thank you, Madam Speaker. Speeches like this are things I don't like to do. They're hard and when the floor leader asked me to do this I said “No, I'm not gonna do that.” and he says “Yes you are or we’re going to put you back on Appropriations.” I said “Absolutely, I'm there. I'm in.” But truly, I'm honored. I’m honored to speak. The gentlelady from the 28th, we came in at the same time and we were at the DoubleTree, I believe, doing our orientation meetings and things down here. You know, we hit it right off; we were friends instantly and you know, we do that sometimes in life. We get a chance to meet people that we just click with and we enjoy visiting about things and by many of us – definitely by me. Wish you all the best in the future.

Representative Senn: Thank you Madam Speaker. So to all the freshmen here in the chamber. I mean you no disrespect but when the good lady from the 28th started, I knew that we had found a star. She's compassionate, composed, as somebody said wicked smart. From that first session we started plotting about – “Okay, where would you go? What would be your role? Where can we use you? Where can we use your strength, your passion, your oratory, your brains, your poise in making this place a better place.” I think the only people who might be, they might not know it, who might be a little bit lucky that you're leaving would be our good Speaker Pro Tems because, really, you would be amazing up there managing this floor and being up there in front of us all. But of course you became Chair of Judiciary in great part because of your brains and your compassion and your poise. But I want to talk a little bit about your role on the Human Services and Early Learning Committee that I was just so honored to have you be a part of and we will miss you so much. There’s lots of topics in our committee and it kind of gets natural that people start to specialize in one area or lead on one area and you are the leader for the developmental disabilities community and that’s not an easy community to work with and that was part of your passion and of your community, and you worked tirelessly during the interim with that community - with individuals, with bringing forth the passion and their stories and their desires with the Able Act, and now with the DD Bill of Rights and you worked those bills and you made sure that they were something that spoke not just to us, but spoke to the community and was responsive to the community and that takes a special skill.

There’s lots of times we introduced legislation and it’s something that we’ve been thinking of and we put it forth but you brought forth bills and you made sure we saw them to the end that really reflected the voice of the community and as we’ve heard from the other speakers today, that’s no surprise given how much you relate to your constituents and your constituents relate to you. But it was amazing to watch you work and to know what an impact you have made for the people of this state and the developmental disabilities community in particular. So the other day there was a particularly tough bill that I was trying to figure out how I was going to vote on and got some good advice. Somebody said, “Well don’t listen to me, go find somebody you trust and talk to them about it” and I didn’t have second thoughts about who I wanted to ask about what they thought and I sought you out and I was right. Seeking your counsel and sharing and talking about, very openly, our common concerns, our thoughts, our reasons for and reasons against and it was that kind of moment where you’re like, “this is the person I want to have as my colleague,” and so knowing that you’re gone is really bittersweet. But we also had a lot of great discussions about college-bound for our kids, both as teenagers and the roles of parenting and the fears and the joys of what lies ahead for our kids. So it’s no wonder to me that you’re wanting to spend more time with your family and you worked so hard here, but as you’ve mentioned we know that you’re not going far from public service because that is just part of your DNA. It is so clear. And so while we will miss you incredibly - I will personally miss you, I know the DD community will miss you, the HSEL committee will miss you, everybody that you have touched in this chamber, in this institution, in your community will miss your leadership, but your family will have more time with you, and again, we know that your impact is not ending. It’s just moving in a different direction. Love you.

Representative Dufault: Thank you Madam Speaker. I think it’s really cool to watch a powerful woman in action and I’ve had a ringside seat here for the last several months, watching you in action Madam Chair, and I’ve been so impressed with your leadership and that’s the first of a couple words that mean a lot to me that I want to say about you. It’s not every leader who, when they don’t agree with something that’s coming forward will still give it voice, and time and time again, you brought forward bills that maybe you didn’t necessarily agree with or you weren’t going to support in the end, but you recognized that there were people on the committee, you recognized that there were people in both caucuses who thought they were important and that they represented constituents that wanted those policies to at least be heard and you did that and you didn’t have to and I was so impressed, and as long as I’m privileged to be in this chamber, I will tell that story time and time again to folks who are, who are in leadership positions about what that means to people who don’t necessarily have the ability to bring something forward on their own and they’re given an opportunity to have their voice heard. The other word that comes to mind is character. You have such a strong character and I saw that firsthand when you did something, and I don’t even know if you know how important this was to me and what an impact you made on the young lady who testified before the committee. She was a very, she’s a very dear friend of mine. We’ve known each other for many years and go to church together and we’re in church place together and when she started her testimony in Spanish and you responded back to her in Spanish, It was, it was hard for me to be the serious advocate that I that I sometimes need to be and just watching her reaction and knowing how much that meant to her a first-generation American coming to Olympia for the first time in her life to testify in a very intimidating situation and to get that kind of response from the person who was running the room meant the world to her. I could see it in that moment and she confirmed that after the fact and that really meant a lot and thank you for doing that and it just shows even though she wasn’t articulating the position that you or your caucus agreed with you, again, you gave her voice and you gave her an opportunity to be heard and that legacy will carry on in her and her family and her children when she talks about how you can have a voice in your government. And the last thing that I want to say, Madam Chair, about you and the time that I’ve, the short time that I’ve been privileged to watch you at work in the Legislature is your advocacy for veterans and service members. You represent so many of our service members in this state and you have been so gracious and so fierce and so precise in bringing forward, in my view, much-needed legislation, much-needed policy, and much-needed perspective for the rest of the state that may not be as familiar with the military and the veteran community in our state, and vigorously advocating for them and effectively advocating for them and, as a veteran and on behalf of all the veterans that I know and represent in my district, I want to say thank you for your advocacy on behalf of our men and women in uniform. May God bless you and your family, and I hope you won’t be far away. Thank you.

SPEAKER’S PRIVILEGE

Speaker Jinkins: You and I have known each other for 25 years. Started out playing softball together, worked together at the Attorney General’s office, we knew each other before we had kids and then our kids’ lives overlapped, and then it was just a wonderful experience to have you come here. Some know this but when I was talking to you about running and coming to serve here, one of the questions that’s always asked, I’m sure of everyone in the room, is “is there anything about you that you’ve ever done that would prohibit you from serving or might be a problem?” So I’m going to tell you what she told me - her big secret. She had a parking ticket once and I actually, when she told me that, I said “Well then you clearly can't serve here because you haven't done enough bad things ever to know how to do this job.” She was really quite earnest and worried about her parking ticket because it did happen when she was driving a state car. But anyway, but that, the commitment that you have, your commitment to the law and to living life in alignment with that and also to being honest and direct and to treating every issue with sincere concern, I've always thought was amazing, and that was why when I took on this Speaker role, the one thing I knew about the Civil Rights and Judiciary Committee is that it would be in better hands with you then it was with me, and it was and you will be missed there. I am certain that your dad Joe is probably watching right now and probably your other family, so welcome to Chris's family. And I do know the one thing that gives me comfort, it's a little bit cold today seeing you go, but your commitment to public service, that's only second to your commitment to your family. Your commitment to your family comes first, and I know we will see you again serving the public because that is your second love and I love you, too, so does this body.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 8413
SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 8414

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, Representative Eric Pettigrew grew up in South Central Los Angeles, raised by a single mother, and attended Nogales High School, where he excelled on the football field; and

WHEREAS, He received a football scholarship to attend Oregon State University, where he received a degree in sociology and counseling psychology, and to this day remains a stalwart fan of the Oregon Beavers, and allergic to the yellow-and-gold colors of the University of Oregon Ducks; and

WHEREAS, Upon graduation in 1985, Pettigrew began his studies for a master's degree in social work at the University of Washington; and

WHEREAS, Pettigrew then began his career in public service and nonprofit work, serving as the director of the Minority Youth Health Project, which worked to reduce teen pregnancy and sexually transmitted disease rates in Seattle, and as Deputy Chief of Staff for Public Safety for Seattle Mayor Norm Rice; and

WHEREAS, In 2002, he was elected to the Washington State House of Representatives, where he advocated on behalf of affordable housing, and equity and opportunity for all when it came to education and jobs; and

WHEREAS, In 2010, Pettigrew was elected chair of the House Democratic Caucus, placing him in a leadership role that he retained throughout the final decade of his legislative career, providing a firm and steady guiding hand to facilitate caucus meetings and meting out justice to members who neglected to mute their cell phones; and

WHEREAS, Pettigrew has been a consistent progressive force in the Legislature, chalkling up victories ranging from persons living with spinal cord injuries or Parkinson's disease, to grandmothers raising grandchildren and former convicts hoping to reintegrate into society; and

WHEREAS, Pettigrew reached across the aisle to build relationships with members from every corner of the state and each political party, leading to this Seattle Democrat's enthusiastic role as sponsor and advocate for laws and reforms on behalf of Washington's farmers and ranchers; and

WHEREAS, In his spare time, Pettigrew has worked tirelessly for community groups, including serving as president of the Rainier Valley Chamber of Commerce, and as a board member of the Rainier Vista Boys and Girls Club and the ACT Theatre, along with coaching Little League and youth basketball; and

WHEREAS, Without his enthusiastic "good morning" each day in caucus, who knows what will become of this place?

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives recognize Pettigrew's record of public service, both in and out of this chamber, on behalf of his district, his colleagues, and the people of the State of Washington.

Representative Stonier moved adoption of HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 4687

Representative Stonier: Thank you. Mr. Speaker. I'm proud to rise in honor of our good friend and the steady hand of our caucus, Eric Pettigrew, today. Eric, you have been the heart and soul of this caucus from the first day that I arrived and it was clear to me that you had served in that form before I got here. You welcome everybody into the doors of this place. You help them to understand the integrity they should feel, the pride, the potential that each of us have, on either side of the aisle, walking up those marble steps and knowing that what we are about to do in this building is to be done with heart and passion - as I said in the caucus room yesterday. When I first stepped into your office as a newly elected freshman legislator, you said this is where you come to relax to take a break. You need a shoulder to cry on, you need somebody to talk to, something's bothering you, you let me know. This is where you come. You take a break, sit on the couch, things are getting slow downstairs you want to come up here and visit with each other, this is where you do it; this is where the family meets. That is your office. It has been that for all of us. You care deeply about getting to know each one of us as a person and then beyond that you want to know our families. I know that this story is not unique to me. You sat down and got to know my dad; you realized we come from the same kind of family. I grew up in a really rough part of East LA County and when I told you where I was from you were like, “I know that neighborhood, it's right by Palmdale, I know that place.” Tough places. Tough places to grow up with violence in the streets, and kids growing up not knowing whether they're going to face more violence on the street or in their home. Those are the kids you think about every day you walked up those marble steps. We all have different people we think about when we're working hard here on behalf of the state. It’s no secret who you're thinking about. Every day you walked up those steps you were thinking about people who needed a second chance because they never got a first one. You think about people who are raising other people's children because the system is letting them down. The body of work that you have provided for this state is not without heart, it is not without a sense of justice, and it is not without the love that you expect from each of us. I’m proud to know you. I’m proud to have served with you, and I’m very proud to have gotten to know you, not just as a leader, a man, a Legislator, but also as somebody with a good sense of humor. Earlier today I showed a picture in our caucus room of my two feet, one on top of the other, sized up against one of your big feet. Your shoes will be big shoes to fill in this place, literally. But Eric, you have been a steady strong voice and a steady hand at the gavel in our caucus room when we needed time to vent, to process and to come together as a family. When we needed to know when it was okay to not find a center and to move on anyways because we can come back to revisit. When we needed a laugh and we needed a tissue. You have been the pulse and the heart of this caucus and you will continue to do so in your next steps. Wherever you go in your future you will continue to be the heart, the passion and the steady voice of those around you. We love you.

Representative MacEwen: Thank you Mr. Speaker. It's a privilege and honor to stand up and honor Representative Eric Pettigrew. I was elected in 2012. In those first few years, I didn't really have an opportunity to work with him or interact with him, and you know, I used to observe him on the floor and you see how people interact. As the good lady said you just can tell there’s a cool calm demeanor about him. As I've gotten to know him and as we started to work on a couple of bills a few years ago and I got to know him a little bit better, there's a big heart there, that's without question, and I was happy to join forces with him on a victims rights bill that for whatever reason we're having a hard time getting through here, and I don't exactly remember the exact sequence. I think I tried it one time and then the following biennium we got together and I thought okay, this thing can get through; it'll be better with having Eric on that bill with me and we did it and then we worked on a few other things together, but just in getting to know him through that it's just so clear and from his background and growing up on the streets of Los Angeles to getting a full ride scholarship to the Oregon State Beavers, and yeah, we don't like the Ducks either, that's a bipartisan agreement there; horrible school, don't send your kids there. And then to get elected to this legislature, you know, I know a little bit of your background, but I don't know all of it, but what I do know and I watch how you operate and to me that is just the model of leadership that's so badly needed in this world. We all come with things from our background that have shaped us and formed us and how we choose to learn from those and influence others is a big part of who we become and that you have put that mark on this legislature and on this state and we are forever grateful for that. I've never seen you mad and I don't want to. Whenever you see Eric, it's always a smile on his face and a good morning, how are you, good to see you, fist bump and that it's just a tone that is set for the day, and I so appreciate that and I'm excited for your new position and look forward to seeing you around the arena regularly and to have be able to bond with you about some sports stories that’s been fantastic, and I know you'll be missed by your caucus, but you will be missed over here as well. You've been a great advocate for children and they thank you; we thank you. It's been an honor to work with you. I look forward to continue to grow our friendship and doing what we can outside of this arena and doing it in other places and a job well done. It's been an honor to serve with you. Thank you.

Representative Tharinger: Thank you, Mr. Speaker, and we all know about Eric's passion. We've seen it when it's dealing with children or those that are may be overlooked in various communities, but I want to speak about a little different passion. As a lot of you know, I grew up in Minnesota. I learned to skate when I was five. I played hockey from the time I was 14 through college and Division 1, and Western Washington is kind of a hockey desert. That desert's changing; its going to start to blossom thanks to Mr. Pettigrew and a lot of other folks. Hopefully the Orca or Sockeye will make that Desert Bloom, but when you're in western Washington looking for someone who is interested in hockey, there's not that many folk. So when I'm sitting in Appropriations, you know, and there's time in Appropriations where it's a little slow, and I'm looking at Eric's computer and Eric's watching hockey and I'm going what's the deal here Eric? So I sit down and say “Eric, you’re watching NHL hockey, what's the deal?” He tells me this story about growing up in East LA, not having a lot of money, but his Mom would give him money to go take the bus down to the LA Forum where he could get into a Kings game for like five bucks. So he is one of the most rabid hockey fans I know and he's got the Kings jersey, he's totally, and his future with, I don't know was it the Orcas? The Sockeyes? I don't know what the team is going to be, Eric, but his passion will make western Washington less of a hockey desert and I'm glad to see you're moving to that arena. Thank you Eric for all you do.

Representative DeBolt: So it's funny. I was going to tell the story about your Olympic ice dancing tryout and how much you love to ice skate, but Represented Tharinger stole my thunder there. I just want to tell you there used to be this thing when I first got elected called the big guy caucus. Do you remember the big guy caucus? And I remember one night, this is back before maybe, you know cell phones with photos and Twitter, the big guy caucus was having a rather raucous evening and Eric was there and I decided that you know, I'm not small, so I decided to go bust up the big guy caucus and tell them they need to calm down. And until you guys understand what the big I caucus is, they were massive; Volz was the runt. So I walk in the middle and I'm like I felt demure for the first time in my life and I wanted to thank you for that. And so you are the last of the big guy caucus, kind of leaving, and I will tell you this you have been so much fun to have around and the difference. I think, that makes it is that in our hearts and your hearts we're all the same and that you make us smile each and every one of us. There is never a time that goes by when things are too serious for you. I've seen you mad a couple times not my favorite days. But the thing that I'll always remember is that you always wanted to make sure you had time for people. You always had time for your visitors and you loved it when people came to the Capitol and you celebrated that, and you always wanted to make sure that they felt welcome in our building. Whether they were famous or not, you treated them the same way, and that's always been remarkable to me, and I actually look to you for diplomacy because I think you're one of the best diplomats that we have in this building. You are genuine, you are kind, you are thoughtful, you're massive, and all those things work for getting your point across in a very kind way. Some of us have to make up for it in, you know, spit and vinegar but you got this. One of the other things, though, that I want to tell you is as you go forth in your endeavors, and I remember when you were at one of your past jobs and you were helping your community and it was early on in your career and you were working on making sure that there was an opportunity for some kids to have a place to go after school, and it was in a project that you were focused in on and it was funny to me because I don't think you really knew how much people loved you in this building and were willing to do what you asked and you kind of asked hesitantly of some of us when we were on the floor, about supporting your project and I was like “You bet, happy to!” and I think you were surprised because you were new here and you were passionate about it, but you were so deliberate in your compassion and your love for everyone in this state. The neat thing about it is you are bringing hockey to Washington, so thank you very much. I don't really know much about hockey from… you and I have discussed this- I still can't get it on TV, I don't know how you do. I don't know how Rep. Tharinger does. I like it live, it's pretty neat but on TV, I just can't follow that puck but I will tell you this, our state is lucky to have you. You've been an advocate for us. You fought hard to keep the Sonics when the Sonics were trying to go and you brought all those people to town and you collaborated and I'm sorry that didn't work, but I know now that we're going to be richer for having you in the state and man you look nice today, and if I had known I would try to dress for the occasion. But you look spectacular, you look fabulous. You're going to have everything going your way and we are so proud to have had the opportunity to have your ray of sunshine in our world, and so thank you for that.

Representative Ormsby: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. It's an honor to rise in tribute to our good friend, my good friend, Eric whom I met at what's now the Murano, was the Sheraton Hotel, for an advance for the HDC. The last seat in the room was next to Eric and I sat down and we were getting presentations and he made a very funny play on words just to me. I was the only one that heard then someone louder said the same thing, and I turned to Eric and said “You just said that, you can claim some credit.” and he said “That was just for you.” I felt privileged in that moment and I felt privileged in every moment I've been able to share with him going back to times when Bill Grant was our caucus chair. There are photos that are proof of our admiration of him, and looking at him we shared that. Some of the things he taught us became life lessons and we've talked about that in that shared memory. All of those things keep flooding back. We looked up to Bill and Eric knew that was something that was important, that all of us need someone to look up to. When it was his time and in his place he knew he had to be a role model and model behavior for those that would look up to him and knew that it was a responsibility he couldn't shirk. He has taken that very seriously, has been a mentor to so many people that are going to do fabulous things. We were neighbors with the good gentleman from the 47th and some antics and hijinks that occurred in the offices where we migrated to are some of my fondest memories here and the fact that you're not going to be here as a North star for our collective good will, whoever shows up next year, we'll figure out a way to do it, but it's hard to imagine doing it without you at the helm. His heroes were my heroes - Rosa Parks and Doris Kearns Goodwin- not so much on the sports side, but Serena Williams and Frank Robinson and his walls are covered with photos of these people that he has sought out to be a part of because they were his heroes and having, with this background of the Watts area where the riots were, that was, and the struggles that he recognized; he always defaults to the underdog; the one that needs protecting and defaults to the underdog; the one that needs protecting and we've all been the beneficiary of that. I've heard folks say that they have seen Eric angry and not angry. I have seen him angry and it was right in this space where I'm standing and he had had an encounter with someone outside the doors and he came in a little bit of a raw nerve and even as thick as I am, I was perceptive enough to realize that it wasn't the Eric that I knew and I asked him and he explained what was happening and then to the cleanest version I can say is that the next time that happens with that individual he was going to go south central on their backside and I took him very seriously. But the other thing that we know about Eric was his football days and that's a violent sport and there is and for me football is a kind of a metaphor for life and we shared a little bit of that. The violence is prevalent. He told me that he played during those times in the Pac-10 and those days Kenny Easley and Ronnie Lott were also big players that went on to NFL careers and Eric bragged to me once that he cheapskatted both of them after the play but before the whistle, and so he knew the rules and he's always played by them. But the one thing about that is that is not intuitive, we know what a soft heart he has, and how gentle he is, and reconciling that is pretty easy when you know that he played left tackle and left tackle's job is to protect the blind side, the vulnerable side and that's what you've done. You've taken that to this place and to all the other places you've been. The underdog, the awkward, the ones that need attention and you did that. Madam Speaker thanked you in caucus for being a role model in the sense of being the one that had to represent a lot of other people. You’ve recognized others and you’ve genuinely seen them, you’ve acknowledged that you share some of that journey and, including my mother who is one woman in the midst of nine boys, and her being the only, and I would just say, Eric, of all of the things that you have done for all of us and for me in particular the thing that I will remember most fondly is the ease at which you give people hugs and I was a beneficiary of one of those and I thank you because every time you do it makes me feel like the delicate flower that I am. Eric thank you. You are going to continue to do good things. You will always be looking out for others and it is a lesson for all of us tomorrow.

Representative Maycumber: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand here in joy with Eric. I was at an event this summer and I heard someone say who are the weirdest legislative friendships and I heard Pettigrew and Maycumber and I was like, why is that weird? We are so much alike. And so I stand here in joy. We have been friends longer than I have been on the house floor, and when I became appointed, you got me in a lot of trouble and I don’t know if you know that you were almost excited as I was and when I came on the house floor I was very nervous. I was you know as scared as one would be and we went to announce to go to caucus and you grab the mic and you said “Democrats will caucus. MAYCUMBER!” so that wasn’t cool for my caucus because I was new and I just remember being like so honored that you recognized me here as the new member and to have that friendship carry over here to the floor and that bipartisan way that was, that was special and to have it carry for years and you shared your joy and your love of your mother with us and you have texted me on Mother’s Day for more years than many - I can’t even think of another person to remind me that I’m a good mother and to thank me for being a mother as I had had two babies as staff here as you know, and you always were there to remind me and that’s your love of your mother and you shared your joy of your beautiful wife and your marriage and when you came back you glowed. You glow with that love. And I’m honored to be able to share in that friendship and that love and that happiness with you and you’ve shared it with all of us and that love of your grandbaby, oh my goodness - I mean if there's not a conversation that we’re not having when you don’t talk about that beautiful grandbaby, I mean beautiful, and you share that joy with all of us. I’m just honored, honored to share those years of friendship with you. Honored to feel equal, whether I was staff or a member, and it didn’t matter where I was, it was an equal friendship. Thank you for sharing your joy of music and dancing. I would like to say that I was equal to you on that, but I don’t think so. It’s been wonderful to have someone to just laugh with when all the seriousness goes away, and politics never dulled your shine - it never inhibited your joy. I remember voting on a bill that you had so much emotion for and I had voted against the policy, and I walked across the aisle and you gave me a hug even though I voted against it, you just hugged me because it wasn’t about the policy, it was about helping people and bridging that divide right there. Eric, thank you for sharing your joy and your happiness with me all these years, and I look forward to seeing that being shared with the rest of the state of Washington and your new adventures. You are a great man through and through. Thank you.

Representative Santos: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. The man seated to your right, my junior seatmate as I remind him every time I have to introduce him, the man seated to your right is a large man. He’s larger than life. He has a big heart as you’ve heard and he leads with it. It’s that motor of his passion. He wants to get things done, and that’s where he and I have often had challenges in our relationship because I want to make sure the process is being observed, but he wants to get things done. You’ve heard, Mr. Speaker, that this passion of my seatmate’s bleeds into a variety of different sectors, sectors that you might not imagine. There’s sports, but there’s every kind of sport as we heard from the good gentleman from the 24th. There’s music that means so much to him, but not just the boogie down kind of music, it is musicals. He loves to travel and that’s evident from all of the photographs that you see that adorn his office walls. But most of all, Mr. Speaker, his passion is in people. In meeting people, in knowing people, in loving people. Indeed as I said, it’s so evident by the wall of mementos of the faces; faces of famous people that he has sought out. People that he admires for their principles, for their accomplishments, for the inspiration that they give to others and I think those mementos that are on his wall are not just to inspire him but to inspire all of us who enter into that room. But Mr. Speaker, when I am in that room, and it’s not very often, when I am in that room my eye is always drawn to one piece of art and it’s a simple rendition, I think there are only two colors in it, of an older man - I imagine a grandfather - holding the hand of a small child, and to me that art gives me a peek, I think gives all of us a peek, into what is the core value of my seatmate. The value of love that exists in a relationship. The value of being responsible and responsive to one another. The value that passes between generations. It is that soft vulnerable sweet caring value. But Mr. Speaker, I would strongly admonish you to not let his teddy bear demeanor fool you. The good gentleman from the 20th District referenced the big guy caucus. I remember that big guy caucus - it included names like Bill Hinkle and Mike Armstrong and Eric Pettigrew, and my memory of the big guy caucus was of one late night late in a session where somebody came running to the wing saying the bulls are running the bulls are running and sure enough when we all came out there was my seatmate and Bill Hinkle, pressed chest to chest against one another arguing fiercely and this was not a joke. They were arguing, and we all thought the rotunda was going to fall over. But as we’ve also heard, my seatmate is very good about letting the day’s challenges go and he and Representative, former Representative Hinkle became arguably the best of friends. That sense of bipartisan friendship is, I think, where I really want to commend the good gentleman from the 37th as he stepped into, as I told my caucus yesterday, some very big shoes. Succeeding our former caucus chair Bill Grant who was the only rural Democrat east of the mountains, who was constantly holding up many of the priorities of our good friends across the aisle and Representative Grant really forged that culture and that tradition that the good lady from the 49th mentioned of having a safe space where your partisan hat was left at the
There being no objection, the House advanced to the sixth order of business.

On page 1, line 14, after "sum of" strike "one hundred million" and insert "one hundred seventy-five million"

On page 1, line 15, after "account" insert "and the sum of twenty-five million dollars is appropriated from the general fund—federal"

On page 2, line 2, after "section" strike "is" and insert "are"

On page 2, line 12, after "agency" insert ", federally recognized tribe,"

On page 2, after line 22, insert the following:

"(5) In order to facilitate the monthly reporting required by subsection (1) of this section and to increase transparency, the office of financial management must create unique appropriation and expenditure codes to be used in the statewide accounting and financial reporting system that must be used by state agencies and institutions of higher education to separately identify state spending by the appropriations in this act and for other unanticipated spending in response to the coronavirus (COVID-19) outbreak funded by appropriations in the omnibus operating appropriations act."

On page 2, after line 22, insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The sum of twenty-five million dollars is appropriated from the budget stabilization account for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2020, and is provided solely for expenditure into the COVID-19 unemployment account for the purposes described in section 5 of this act. For purposes of RCW 43.88.055(4), the appropriation in this section does not alter the requirement to balance in the ensuing biennium.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 50.29 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The COVID-19 unemployment account is created in the custody of the state treasurer. Revenues to the account shall consist of appropriations and transfers by the legislature and all other funding directed for deposit into the account. Only the commissioner of the employment security department or the commissioner's designee may authorize expenditures from the account. Expenditures from the account may be used only for reimbursing the unemployment trust fund account for unemployment benefits paid to the approved employees of employers approved for such reimbursement pursuant to section 5 of this act. The account is subject to the allotment procedures under chapter 43.88 RCW, but an appropriation is not required for expenditures.

(2) Any federal funding or relief for novel coronavirus that could be used for the purposes of section 5 of this act must be used first before spending from the account. Additionally, if the employment security department subsequently receives reimbursements from federal sources for amounts spent from the account, the department must remit the federal funding to the state treasurer for reimbursement to the budget stabilization account. If federal law or rules would prevent such remittance, the department must notify the office of financial management and the fiscal committees of the legislature within thirty days of receipt of the reimbursement.

(3) By July 1, 2021, the commissioner must certify to the state treasurer the amount of any unobligated moneys in the COVID-19 unemployment account that are attributable to the budget stabilization account appropriation in section 3 of this act, and the treasurer must transfer those moneys back to the budget stabilization account.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 50.29 RCW to read as follows:

(1) By September 30, 2020, a contribution paying employer may submit an application to the employment security department to have the approved benefits paid to approved employees be reimbursed by the COVID-19 unemployment account instead of charged to the employer's experience rating account. The application must be submitted in a form and manner approved by the department through rule.

(2) The department should not approve an application if the benefits paid will not otherwise be charged to the employer's experience rating account or if the employer was otherwise eligible to receive relief of benefit charges.

(3) If the department approves an employer's application, the department will not charge the forgiven benefits to the employer's experience rating account. The commissioner shall instead transfer from the COVID-19 unemployment account to the unemployment trust fund account an amount equal to the forgiven benefits.

(4) If the department rejects an employer's application, the department shall present the employer with the reasons why the application was rejected. The reasons for the rejection are final and nonappealable.

(5) For purposes of this section, the following definitions apply:

(a) "Approved employee" means an employee who:

(i) Was temporarily laid off as a direct or indirect consequence of an outbreak of COVID-19;

(ii) Was approved by the department to be on standby pursuant to rules adopted by the department;

(iii) Has returned to the same employment with the employer the employee had prior to the temporary unemployment; and

(iv) Meets other criteria the department may establish by rule.

(b) "Approved benefits" means benefits paid to an approved employee while the approved employee was on standby pursuant to rules adopted by the department.

(c) "Total approved benefits" means the sum total of all approved benefits paid to all approved employees.

(d) "Forgiveness ratio" is computed by dividing the amount of money in the COVID-19 unemployment account by the total approved benefits. The forgiveness ratio cannot be more than 1.
(c) "Forgiven benefits" means the approved benefits for an individual employer multiplied by the forgiveness ratio.

(6) The department shall adopt such rules as are necessary to carry out the purposes of this section.

(7) This section expires July 30, 2021.

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

On page 3, after line 16, insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. If any part of this act is found to be in conflict with federal requirements that are a prescribed condition to the allocation of federal funds to the state or the eligibility of employers in this state for federal unemployment tax credits, the conflicting part of this act is inoperative solely to the extent of the conflict, and this finding or determination does not affect the operation of the remainder of this act. Rules adopted under this act must meet federal requirements that are a necessary condition to the receipt of federal funds by the state or the granting of federal unemployment tax credits to employers in this state."

Renumber the remaining section consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

On page 1, line 2 of the title, after "38.52.105;" insert "adding a new section to chapter 50.16 RCW; adding a new section to chapter 50.29 RCW;"

On page 1, line 2 of the title, after "74.46 RCW;" insert "creating a new section;"

On page 1, line 3 of the title, after "appropriations;" insert "providing an expiration date;"

and the same is herewith transmitted.

The House of Representatives of the State of Washington

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Second Engrossed House Bill No. 1056 entitled:

For these reasons I have vetoed Second Engrossed House Bill No. 1056 in its entirety.
