"Mr. President, Your Honor Judge Ott, and members of the Senate:

"We are assembled today to organize the Washington State Senate. The problems that will arise will be great and the decisions will be far-reaching. I think we are fortunate in the Washington State Senate because our presiding officer is recognized as an outstanding President of the Senate. I think we should also have an outstanding President Pro Tempore. I rise to nominate a person who has a great capacity. He is a former member of the House of Representatives; a man who has served in the past, and a man who will serve us well in the future. It gives me great pleasure to nominate the Honorable Al Henry, as President Pro Tempore.

Senator Durkan:

"It is my pleasure to second the nomination of Senator Henry as President Pro Tempore of the Senate. He is a person with whom I have shared a great deal of experience. He first came to the Legislature in 1941, and has served almost continuously since that time. When Senator Henry left Kansas and came to the state of Washington, it was the privilege of the state of Washington to receive a great Senator."

Senator Kupka:

"I, too, rise to second the nomination of Senator Al Henry as President Pro Tempore of the Senate. We need a man like Al Henry to get a job done, and what he can't do his wife can do over on the House side. They are a great combination!"

Senator Neill:

"It is my pleasure to place in nomination the name of a man with whom we have worked in both Houses of the Legislature. Certainly during the trying days to come we will have great need for his abilities and broad experience. It is with pleasure that the name of Senator Woodall is submitted as our candidate for President Pro Tempore of the Senate."

Senator Henry:

"Thank you, Governor Cherberg, fellow members of the Senate.

"I must be very careful in my remarks as long as the distaff member of the family is on the rostrum, and knowing her, I know she would demand equal time and that cannot be permitted."

The President:

"And now, the President takes great pride in presenting to the members of the Senate and the ladies and gentlemen present today a very attractive and respected member of the House of Representatives, Mrs. Mildred Henry.

"Won't you please address us today?"

The President requested the Sergeant-at-Arms to escort Senator Cowen to the rostrum.

Senator Cowen:

"Mr. President and Members of the Senate:

"I am deeply grateful and humble for the many honors that you have conferred upon me for the past twenty-six years that I have been in the State Legislature. When I first came to the Legislature there is only one other member present today who was with me, and that is Senator Fred Martin. When you look at me you can see the many gray hairs that have come from hard work, and perhaps twenty-six years from now if I change my thinking from liberal to conservative I might be able to be elected President Pro Tempore.

"As some of you will remember, in the 1959 session we had with us one of the finest Senators, Senator Victor Zednick, and if you recollect, I said to him that I thought it was time for us to ease up a bit. This work is very arduous and tiresome, and truthfully speaking, I believe that Senator Zednick worked too hard in the 1959 session and that is why he is gone. We will all miss Senator Zednick.

"Again, I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart for the many honors you have bestowed upon me these many years. God Bless You All."

"Gentlemen:

"It is with distinct and extreme personal pleasure that I arise to place in nomination for the office of Secretary of the Senate the name of a man who most of us have come to know well; a man with whom we have all worked and whose abilities we deeply respect. I first made his acquaintance while campaigning for my Senate seat in the Sultan Valley back in 1952, and since then I have been proud to have called him my friend.

"He has served as the Secretary of the Senate for the past two sessions and then, as now, he was busily engaged in an important American tradition, publishing weekly newspapers in Monroe and Sultan. He has a wealth of experience and knows our problems. He came to the Legislature in 1935, and since that time has been with us serving in one capacity or another. He knows the courtesy and consideration that we expect from the Secretary of the Senate.

"He is a man who has treated all of us fairly, and a man who must treat us all fairly. We need a man of his integrity and great ability.

"I place in nomination, for the position of Secretary of the Senate, the name of Ward Bowden."

Senator Freise:

"I is with real pleasure that I place in nomination the name of Ward Bowden as Secretary of the Senate. I have served in the Sessions of 1957 and 1959, and he has been the Secretary both times. He is an extremely fair and capable man."

Senator Bargreen:

"Mr. President, it is with great pleasure that I second the nomination of Ward Bowden for the office of Secretary of the Senate. Ward is a man who can fill the great position of Secretary. He has the ability and knowledge to carry out the many duties of running the Senate, which is very important to all of us."

Senator Happy:

"I, too, would like to second the nomination of Ward Bowden as Secretary of the Senate. Not only has he done a remarkable job as Secretary, but he has been completely fair to us on the minority side. You have all stressed the importance of fair play, and I might suggest that some of you adopt a page out of his book."

"I move the nominations be closed."

"Grant to all of us the wisdom to see the need for the strengthening of our moral and spiritual lives. By Thy Holy Spirit help us to destroy our pride and give us humility to remove our hate and give us love, to lessen our sadness and give us joy, to take away turmoil of mind and give us peace of mind, to relieve our fretfulness and give us patience, and above all, to destroy our self-indulgence and give us self-control. So enable us to go about our tasks for the good of the citizens of this state. We ask these blessings in the name of Thy Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen."

MOTION

Senator Happy moved that the names of Senators Happy, Shannon, and Raugust be stricken from the Committee on Rules and Joint Rules.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Happy:

"Speaking on the motion, Mr. President, Senator Ryder and I have met with members of the majority party and have found, from looking back through the years of the past eight sessions of the Legislature, that the minority group has never been treated as we are at this time; and that we are receiving unfair treatment. After all, this body is supposed to consist of members of both parties with the purpose of producing good legislation for our state. In Washington, D. C. they treat the minority party with respect and dignity and give them the treatment they deserve.

"The question is, do you want to be fair and decent about this or don't you? We feel that unless we are accorded the treatment to which we are entitled we do not wish to serve on the committee."

MOTIONS

Senator Greive moved that the motion by Senator Happy be tabled.

The motion carried, and Senator Happy's motion was tabled.

Senator Greive:

"Mr. President, I move at this time that Senator Bargreen be added to the Committee on Constitution, Elections and Legislative Processes."

The President:

"At a later time, with the approval of the Senate, the President will make several additions to the Standing Committees of the Senate. Senator Moriarty will be added to Banks and Financial Institutions and to Education. Senator Elway will be placed on Commerce, Manufacturing and Licenses Committee and the Fisheries Committee. Senator Freise will be added to the Public Institutions Committee, and Senator Bargreen to the Committee on Constitution, Elections and Legislative Processes."

Senator Greive:

"At this time I will withdraw my motion, with the permission of the Senate."

The President:

"Thank you, Senator Greive."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Greive:

"Mr. President, do you intend to make some additions at this time?"

The President:

"Not at this time, Senator Greive. It would be more expedient and efficient at a later date. Now, the body can go ahead and approve these particular appointments and the others will be made at a later date."

MOTION

Senator Greive moved that the appointments as made by the President of the Senate and as read by the Secretary be approved.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

On motion of Senator Dore, Senator Hess was added as joint sponsor to Senate Bill No. 7.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Woodall:

"Would Senator Knoblauch care to make a motion?"

Senator Knoblauch:

"No."

"Mr. President, with the permission of Senator Woodall, Senate Rule 40 was suspended this morning by Lieutenant Governor Cherberg's son."

The President:

"With penalties."

The President:

"Senator Knoblauch will please come to the rostrum."

Senator Knoblauch:

"I should like to appoint the following Irish Senators, and I hope I haven't missed any, to retire to the State Reception room and escort Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan to the State Senate rostrum: Senators Connor, Cooney, Cowen, Dore, Foley, Gallagher, Gissberg, Keefe, Moriarty, Jr., Papajani, Riley, Shannon and Donohue."

The President asked the Sergeant-at-Arms to escort Senator Henry to the rostrum.

The Sergeant-at-Arms then escorted Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan and the committee of honor to the rostrum.

Senator Knoblauch:

"The members of the State Senate, in their special way, wish to pay honor to a wonderful team. They would like to pay their respects to a man who has held public office in our state for twenty-eight years; a man who came up the hard way; a man who learned that this was really the land of opportunity.

"I am going to ask Senator Riley to step forward at this time to make a presentation to Mr. Sullivan."

Senator Riley:

"Senator Knoblauch, Mr. President, Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan, Ladies and Gentlemen; Mr. Sullivan, particularly, or 'Billy' as you are affectionately known to all:

"The members of the Senate asked me to be their spokesman today. I believe they realize I have always been an admirer of Billy Sullivan. As much as anyone who knows you Billy, I know of your years of constructive activity. For twenty-eight years you have given honorable and respectful service to the state. You are the Dean of all State Insurance Commissioners.

"Coming from Ireland as a young man, you exemplify the opportunities which this country affords to those who are willing to work, and in this little part that I play, Billy, I am going to borrow a quotation. I am sure you are aware of this quotation. It is taken from a letter written by Mr. J. Raymond Berry, the General Counsel of the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

"I do not believe there is a man alive who can look back on a more constructive life. You have left a trail of accomplishments that are monuments of progress to the business of regulating insurance."

"I might paraphrase by saying you can look forward also, Billy, the members of the Senate want you to have this citation designating you as a distinguished citizen. Wherever you go, Billy, we all wish for you and Mrs. Sullivan good health, good fortune and happy days ahead."

Mr. Sullivan:

"Thank you, Ed."

Senator Knoblauch:

"I, of course, realize that this is perhaps a sad day for Mr. Sullivan, but it should also be a happy day because now he is able to retire and enjoy life because he knows that the people of our state have come to love and respect him for a job well done.

"Now may I call to the rostrum Senator Shannon."

Senator Shannon:

"Mr. President, Mr. President Pro Tem, Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan, ladies and gentlemen of the Senate:

"On behalf of every member of this honorable body, Mr. Sullivan, it is my pleasure to present to you a citation of appreciation for all of your distinguished years in the office of Insurance Commissioner of the state of Washington. May I wish you, on behalf of every member of this body, many years full of happiness for you and for Mrs. Sullivan, and may God bless you."

Mr. Sullivan:

"Thank you very much."

Senator Knoblauch:

"Thank you Senator Shannon very much.

"Now you can't overlook the better member of the family, of course, as she is wearing a green hat. I want to call another fine Irish gentleman to make a presentation to Mrs. Sullivan, Senator Michael Gallagher."

Senator Gallagher:

"Mr. President, Mr. President Pro Tem, Honorable Chairman, members of the Washington State Senate:

"It is with a great deal of pleasure that I, at this time, present to the first lady of Insurance Commissioners of the United States of America, a beautiful bouquet of roses. We know that behind every good man there stands a good woman, and now, Mrs. Sullivan, on behalf of the Washington State Senate, I would like to present to you these roses."

Senator Knoblauch:

"I think it most appropriate at this time that we have a few words from our very distinguished guest, and I am going to give to our very fine and honorable Lieutenant Governor Cherberg the honor of introducing Mr. Sullivan."

The President:

"Thank you very much Senator Knoblauch and members of the Senate.

"Today has been a very wonderful day for me and it has been my pleasure to have many honors bestowed upon me. Senator Knoblauch has just given me the nicest one of all, the pleasure to present Billy Sullivan to this august body is an honor that I shall long remember.

"It was many years ago that I first had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Sullivan—back in the early thirties. I believe it was at the time of Mr. Sullivan's first Commission and I had a problem relating to my father's insurance. I called upon him as a total stranger and he went beyond the regular duties of his office. I was given a very warm reception and the kindest possible treatment and Mr. Sullivan followed through on every point to extend courtesies to just another citizen of the State.

"But today to have this honor to acknowledge the tremendous achievements that Billy Sullivan has presented to the state of Washington, and especially to the people, is something I know I will carry with me for a long, long time. I am especially delighted that Mrs. Sullivan can be with us today for I am sure that she has also contributed a very great deal to all of us, as members of the Senate, and to me, as a state official.

"Billy Sullivan, congratulations and God bless you."

Mr. Sullivan:

"Mr. President, Senator Knoblauch, my good senators in the state of Washington, members of your great law-making body of our state, and ladies and gentlemen:

"There are no words of mine that are adequate enough for me to express the deep feeling in my heart today for the great honors that have been conferred upon me by the Legislature of my state and the members of the law-making bodies of the House and Senate.

"I owe a great obligation to the citizens and also a deep debt of gratitude to the Legislature of the state of Washington, since my first Commission in 1933 up to the close of my tour of office at 12:00 o'clock noon today. In our memories of the years, ladies and gentlemen, there are very few people of you today who went through the ordeals and the trying times that confronted the United States in the dark days of 1933 and 1934, and I recall Governor Martin was a new Governor.

"The Legislature was convened, of course, in its regular session and I want to say publicly now that the citizens of this state owe a deep debt of gratitude to the Legislature for what it has done and also to Governor Martin for the great service that he rendered in those dark days. In insurance I was confronted with the most serious financial situation with which I have ever been confronted.

"In 1933 in the state of New York the Superintendent of Insurance in New York was a very good friend of mine, and called the Rehabilitation Committee for the protection of, at that time, the 89 million policy holders. What a tragic affair that was in the insurance process of the United States. I was appointed on that committee by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners to represent all creditors and policy holders west of the Mississippi.

"The Legislature authorized me to prepare a study for a new Insurance Code for the state of Washington, and to submit my findings to the 1947 Legislature. The new Insurance Code was enacted and to this Legislature I feel indebted."

Senator Knoblauch:

"I just got the signal, and I call on the Dean of the State Senate, Dr. David 'O'Cowen' of Spokane."

Senator Cowen:

"I think I have known Billy as long as anyone sitting in the Senate today. I met Billy in 1932 when he was campaigning. We all love you, Billy. Not only the Irish, but the Jews, too.

"I understand, Billy, that you are going to take a trip as far as Rome to see the Pope. If you are going that far, I think we should do something in the state of Washington to make your trip complete. Therefore, Billy, I want to have the pleasure of paying for a round trip ticket for you and your wife—from Rome to Israel. I have notified Mrs. Ed Riley of Travel Advisers, Inc., Seattle, to provide you with two first class tickets from Rome, Italy to Jerusalem in Israel. Billy and Mrs. Sullivan, that will make your trip complete.

"I am sure, Billy, that if you get a letter from our distinguished Governor, you will meet Mr. Ben Gurion. While you are in Israel, just think of Davey Cowen who is in the Senate sweating it out for another sixty days."

Senator Knoblauch:

"We would all like to thank you for coming today to be with us, and letting us show you how much we love and respect you.

"In closing, let me say that no doubt you, too, have made many thousands of friends these past 28 years. I would like to say just a few words—a poem entitled 'Friends' dedicated to Mr. and Mrs. Billy Sullivan:

'Life is sweet because of the friends we have made and the things which in common we share.

We want to live on, not because of ourselves, but because of the people who care. It is giving and doing for somebody else—on this all of life's splendors depend. And the joys of this earth, when you sum it all up, is found in the making of friends.'"

Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan were escorted from the Senate by the committee of honor.

The Secretary read:

ELEVENTH DAY

MORNING SESSION

SENATE CHAMBER,
OLYMPIA, WASH., Thursday, January 19, 1961.

The Senate was called to order at 11:00 o'clock a. m. by President Pro Tempore Al Henry.

The Secretary called the roll and announced to the President that all Senators were present except Senators Donohue and Gissberg.

On motion of Senator Greive, Senator Donohue was excused.

The Color Guard, consisting of Pages Bob Norton, Color Bearer, and Vicki Papajani, presented the Colors.

Reverend Father Robert Daly, of St. Michael's Catholic Church of Olympia, offered prayer as follows:

"In the name of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost. Amen.

"O Almighty God, source of all justice, grant to us, we beseech Thee, Thy continued help to know what is equitable and just, and the basic honesty and the self-respect to promote it. Guide all our efforts so that what we enact this session may be entirely in accord with Thy law and Thy justice. Through Jesus Christ, Our Lord. Amen.

"In the name of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost. Amen."

PRESIDENT'S PRIVILEGE

The President (President Pro Tempore Henry in the Chair):

"We are honored and fortunate to have with us today a visitor from the North, the Honorable Herbert J. Bruck, Majority Caucus President of the Provincial Parliament of the Province of British Columbia."

APPOINTMENT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The President appointed an escort committee consisting of Senators Bailey, Greive, Woodall and Happy to escort the Honorable Mr. Bruck to a seat of honor on the rostrum beside the President.

Sergeant-at-Arms Charlie Johnson and the committee escorted Mr. Bruck to the rostrum.

The President (President Pro Tempore Henry in the Chair):

"We are very pleased and honored to have this distinguished gentleman here today, and I have prevailed upon him to say a few words to this august body. I have also mentioned that in the course of his speech he might make mention of the salary received in British Columbia by members of their Parliament. Of course, his remarks are entirely up to him."

Mr. Bruck:

"Thank you, President Henry and Friends:

"It is an honor and a privilege to be here with you today. The cordiality and the hospitality I have received has been heartwarming. In fact, it will be very difficult to go back home next week and undertake the terrific battle we will be faced with in the Provincial Parliament in the Province of British Columbia.

"It has been most interesting to observe your procedures and compare them with ours, and to note the similarity you have in the state of Washington to so many of our problems in British Columbia.

"I notice there has been mention made about salaries. We think we have been badly treated, but our session of indemnity is $5,000.

"I find that we perhaps have much to learn from you in the state of Washington, as many of our problems are similar to yours. As we look about us today we find much tension and dispute. Much of it is perhaps because we do not understand each other. We perhaps notice it more than others, because we are sandwiched in between the state of Alaska and the northwestern states. As a result of discussions to attempt to resolve our difficulties, we are now trying to develop what is known as a marine highway between Victoria and the state of Alaska. I do believe in the years to come that we of British Columbia and the western states who have so much in common, could gain much in the understanding and relationship of our common purpose. Our economy runs mainly from the north and south, and we have much in which to participate.

"Again, I want to thank you for your cordiality and hospitality and perhaps we can meet more often in the future. Any time that any of you are in Victoria, we will be glad to see you."

The President (President Pro Tempore Henry in the Chair):

"In private conversation, Mr. Bruck has informed me that British Columbia has the appropriation versus taxes problem the same as we have. Everyone wants something and no one wants to pay the bill.

"On behalf of the members of the Senate, it is my extreme pleasure Mr. Bruck, to make you an honorary citizen of the state of Washington. We know that cooperation between your great country, the province of British Columbia, and the state of Washington is of the utmost importance. Cooperation is the answer.

"Mr. Bruck has also mentioned the fact that our session seems to be very tranquil and peaceful. He should return in twenty days when the picture will be quite different."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Knoblauch:

"I would like to inquire as to the salary legislators in the province of British Columbia receive."

The President (President Pro Tempore Henry in the Chair):

"$5,000 per year for a forty day session."

Senator Knoblauch:

"I inquired of Mr. Bruck, Mr. President.

"Do you, in your Parliament, have what we call Rule 40? I would like to give you the privilege, without penalties, of suspending that portion of Rule 40 pertaining to smoking."

Mr. Bruck:

"Well, if that is my privilege, I might."

The President (President Pro Tempore Henry in the Chair):

"I might explain. That portion of Rule 40 pertaining to smoking, when suspended, necessitates the person suspending it to provide cigars. However, you have been given the privilege without penalties so Senator Knoblauch will have to buy his own cigars this morning."

Mr. Bruck was escorted by the honor guard to the State Reception Room.

Senator Washington:

FRANK W. FOLEY, Chairman.

The motion carried.

Senate Bill No. 21:

Senate Chamber,

Olympia, Wash., January 19, 1961.

MR. PRESIDENT:

We, a majority of your Committee on Public Utilities to whom was referred Senate Bill No. 21, relating to the conservation of the state's fishery resources by limiting the powers of any person authorized to construct or operate dams or to appropriate water, have had the same under consideration, and we respectfully report the same back to the Senate with the recommendation that it do pass. FRED H. DORE, Chairman.

We concur in this report: Joe Chytil, John L. Cooney, John H. Happy, Karl V. Herrmann, James E. Keefe, George W. Kupka, Mike McCormack, John T. McCutcheon, Marshall A. Neill, John A. Petrich, A. L. Rasmussen, Edward F. Riley, Nat Washington.

Senate Chamber,
Olympia, Wash., January 19, 1961.

MR. PRESIDENT:

We, a minority of your Committee on Public Utilities to whom was referred Senate Bill No. 21, relating to the conservation of the state's fishery resources by limiting the powers of any person authorized to construct or operate dams or to appropriate water, have had the same under consideration, and we respectfully report the same back to the Senate with the recommendation that it do not pass.

....., Chairman.

We concur in this report: Frank Connor, R. R. (Bob) Greive.

Passed to Committee on Rules and Joint Rules for second reading.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Greive, Senator Talley's name was added to the minority report of the Committee on Public Utilities on Senate Bill No. 21.

On motion of Senator Kupka, the Senate reverted to the second order of business, and Senate Bill No. 77 was referred to the Committee on Commerce, Manufacturing and Licenses.

On motion of Senator Kupka, Senate Joint Resolution No. 6 was referred to the Committee on Commerce, Manufacturing and Licenses.

Senator Talley moved that Senate Bill No. 21 be referred to the Committee on Fisheries, Game and Game Fish.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Dore:

"Isn't Senate Bill No. 21 in the Rules Committee? If you will refer to Rule 46 you will find that a bill is not before the Senate when it has been referred to a committee."

RULING OF THE PRESIDENT

The President (President Pro Tempore Henry in the Chair):

"Your statement was that it has been passed to second reading and I agreed with you. The motion has to be put and Senator Talley's motion is in order."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Dore:

"Where is the bill at the present time?"

The President (President Pro Tempore Henry in the Chair):

"In the possession of the Committee on Rules and Joint Rules."

Senator Dore:

"So in order to refer the bill to the Committee on Fisheries, Game and Game Fish, we would have to discharge the Committee on Rules and Joint Rules from the further consideration of the bill, is that correct?"

The President (President Pro Tempore Henry in the Chair):

"That is correct."

Senator Woodall:

"Speaking to the Point of Order, Senate Rule 46 reads as follows:

"The Committee on Rules and Joint Rules shall have charge of the daily calendar of the senate and shall direct the secretary the order in which the business of the senate shall be transacted: Provided, however, That by a vote of the majority of the senate any bill may be advanced to any place on the calendar, and any bill may be withdrawn from the committee by a like majority of the senate and placed upon the calendar in such position as may be ordered."

"Now as I understand that rule, it means that when you say 'passed to second reading' the bill automatically goes to the Rules Committee. I do not believe the Senate can take the bill from the committee and put it in another committee."

Debate ensued.

Senator Talley:

"I didn't realize it would result in so much confusion. With your permission, I will withdraw my motion and make it again on Monday."

The President (President Pro Tempore Henry in the Chair):

"You have my permission and my gratitude and if you continued, I would be inclined to ask for a written opinion."

The Secretary read:

"Mr. President, approximately twelve years ago when my distinguished colleague Senator Fred Dore and I were students in Law School in Washington, D. C., we had

FIFTEENTH DAY

NOON SESSION

---

SENATE CHAMBER,

OLYMPIA, WASH., Monday, January 23, 1961.

The Senate was called to order at 12:00 o'clock noon by President John A. Cherberg.

The Secretary called the roll and announced to the President that all Senators were present except Senator Raugust.

On motion of Senator Happy, Senator Raugust was excused.

The Color Guard, consisting of Pages Charles Herrmann, Color Bearer, and Susan Hande, presented the Colors.

Reverend J. Edgar Pearson, pastor of the United Churches—Federated of Olympia, offered prayer as follows:

"Our Father God, who hast revealed the depth of Thy concern for the lives of all people, we thank Thee for this day of opportunity which has been granted us. We are grateful for the week-end of rest and preparation for the days that are ahead, for the time to listen to the voices of those who are represented here. Remind us frequently that this chamber is the focus not only of the eyes of the people of the state but that Thou art watching what is said and done. Make us examples of integrity and honor, which can inspire us all to prize justice above privilege and uprightness, above either pleasure or wealth.

"Whatever the problems faced in this chamber—whether the vast headaches of our complicated community life or the lesser pains of constituents, give these men and women grace to remember patience and forbearance. Give to the people of the state a greater awareness and better understanding of the problems faced and the responsibilities involved. And when this day's work is done here on the floor, in committees and conferences, in the privacy of their own homes, grant that we have been moved one step nearer the realization of Thy will for Thy people in providing for the needs and safeguards of this state. We ask in the name of Him who is the Master of us all. Amen."

PRESIDENT'S PRIVILEGE

The President:

"Thank you very much, Reverend Pearson. The members of the Senate and the President are very happy to have you with us once again."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

On motion of Senator Greive, the reading of the journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was approved.

APPOINTMENT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

Former Senator Nordquist was escorted to the rostrum by the committee of honor.

(Applause.)

The President:

"Members of the Senate and Ladies and Gentlemen:

"It is indeed a pleasure for the President to join with you in greeting our former colleague, Senator Nordquist. Senator Nordquist has established an excellent record in this Senate."

Former Senator Nordquist:

"Mr. President and all of you distinguished members of the Senate:

"I think one of the privileges of having been a member of the Senate is to come back as a visitor, as we have all been seen to do through the years, and make the customary motion to suspend that portion of Senate Rule 40 pertaining to smoking.

"I am very happy to notice that Governor Cherberg has his customary graciousness, increased as time has gone by.

"At this time I wish to suspend Rule 40, with penalties."

The committee of honor escorted former Senator Nordquist from the rostrum.

PRESIDENT'S PRIVILEGE

The President:

Mr. Brudevold is a member of the Puyallup Elks and that very talented group recently won first place in the Washington State Elks Ritualistic Contest. Sometime in the near future they will represent our beautiful state in Miami, Florida, where they will compete for national honors. Senator Kupka:

"I think we should allow Mr. Brudevold the privilege we allow all honored guests, the suspending of Senate Rule 40."

Mr. Brudevold:

"Mr. President and Senators, I believe that Rule 40 has already been suspended, but I also will be happy to do it, with penalties."

The Secretary read:

SENATE RESOLUTION

By Senators Morgan, Angevine, Papajani, Ryder and Dore:

WHEREAS, The true riches of a society consist chiefly in the humane and public spirited citizens in each generation who devote themselves to the public good. When such a person passes we are all diminished. The Legislature has received news of the death of Dorothy Wolens Block of Seattle. She was a young mother, known to many members of the Legislature personally, who had in the highest degree the virtues of personal kindness, energy, humor, vitality, intelligence, coupled with a warm concern for the welfare of others. In her manifold services to her community and her state she had already become a vital force for good in many affairs which touch all of our citizens. A life that had already been so fruitful held the promise of much more. Her loss will be a loss to the many humane causes to which she gave so much. Her service to her fellow citizens during her life will be a continuing example to us all. We desire to express our sense of loss.

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved by the Senate:

That the Legislature expresses its regret and sense of loss at the passing of Dorothy Wolens Block and extends its sympathy to the members of her family; and

That the President of the Senate shall communicate this resolution to the members of her family.

Senator Ryder:

"Mr. President, I join with the other Senators this morning in moving the adoption of this resolution for one of the first citizens of the city of Seattle in the person of Dorothy Wolens Block. This woman has done a tremendous job in the city of Seattle over the years. She and her husband and other members of her family have done a great amount of charitable and civic organizational work for the good of the community. It is with a great deal of pleasure that I join in urging the adoption of this resolution."

Senator Morgan:

"Mr. President, it is with a great deal of emotion that I talk of Dorothy Block. I have served on the Council for Children and Youth with Dorothy. It was just last month that I met with her last and I know what a wonderful person she was; I know how much she planned for the children, as well as the good she had already accomplished. It is with pleasure that I add my name to this resolution."

Senator Dore:

"Mr. President and Members of the Senate:

"I, too, would be remiss unless I joined in this resolution. I was a very personal friend of the Blocks. She was one of the most outstanding women I have ever known in my lifetime. She was the mother of six children and I know personally that she worked from twelve to fourteen hours a day for the benefit and help of others."

Senator Thompson:

"It is a great pleasure for me to join in this resolution. Mrs. Block was a dynamic force of the Washington State delegation to the Golden Anniversary Conference on Children and Youth in Washington, D. C., and many of the resolutions passed by the conference called by President Eisenhower can be traced directly to her efforts."

MOTION

Senator Ryder:

"If it please the President and the members of the Senate, I move that the resolution be adopted."

The resolution was adopted.

The President:

"Thank you, Senator Ryder. The President should like to thank the members of the Senate for expressing the thoughts so beautifully which I felt when I heard of the death of such a wonderful woman.

"In addition, the members of the Senate will send a beautiful flower memorial."

The Secretary read:

Senator Thompson:

"I am the co-sponsor. The bill attacks the problem of private schools that have no regulation whatsoever. This is a bill drawn, together with the Superintendent of Public Instruction, to try to protect the student against a recurrence of this type."

Senator Kupka:

"Senate Bill No. 190 is a license bill and has to do with the licensing of private schools, of course, but Senator Thompson is on the Committee on Commerce, Manufacturing and Licenses, and we can give it a fair hearing. Then I have no objection to sending it on to another committee."

SIXTEENTH DAY

MORNING SESSION

---

SENATE CHAMBER,

The Senate was called to order at 11:00 o'clock a. m. by President Cherberg.

The Secretary called the roll and announced to the President that all Senators were present except Senators Gallagher and Morgan.

The President announced that Senator Morgan had been excused.

The Color Guard, consisting of Pages Charles Herrmann, Color Bearer, and Susan Hande, presented the Colors.

Reverend J. Edgar Pearson, pastor of the United Churches—Federated of Olympia, offered prayer as follows:

"Almighty God, we pause before entering into deliberations of the session of the Senate to invoke Thy wisdom and guidance upon what is said and decided here. We are grateful for the progress that has been made, for the good intentions yet not accomplished. As we view the task before us, we are constantly humbled by its tremendous problems, opportunities and the pressures of special needs. Forgive those actions which make consciences uneasy in Thy presence.

"Make us constantly aware of our responsibility to work together, protecting our party loyalties but not allowing them to hinder progress and growth. May these members be given: wisdom beyond our limited knowledge; insight beyond restricted vision; courage beyond political consideration; that the work Thou hast given each of us may be the reflection of Thy will for this state and its people. May the citizens of this state be as quick to appreciate work well done as they are swift to criticize the unworthy act or deed.

"Bless also the President of these United States, the Governor, and all who lead the state and nation, that we may merit living in a world in which there is peace. These things we ask in the name of Him who never gives us tasks greater than the resources to meet them. Amen."

On motion of Senator Greive, the reading of the journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was approved.

SEVENTEENTH DAY

---

SENATE CHAMBER,
OLYMPIA, WASH., Wednesday, January 25, 1961.

The Senate was called to order at 11:00 o'clock a. m. by President John A. Cherberg.

The Secretary called the roll and announced to the President that all Senators were present except Senator Freise and Senator Petrich.

On motion of Senator Happy, Senator Freise was excused.

Reverend J. Edgar Pearson, pastor of the United Churches—Federated of Olympia, offered prayer as follows:

"Eternal God, our Father, who governs all the times and ages of men; lead us in our day that we may acknowledge Thee as a God of righteousness and justice and peace. We bring to Thee this Senate and the people of this State. Help us to match the problems of these days with lives that are responsible and faithful to the trust placed in us.

"We thank Thee for the freedom Thou hast given us, a freedom so complete that we may by our actions deny that freedom to others and forge our own bonds by compromise. Forbid by word or deed that we may be guilty of the tragic waste of our natural and human resources. Help us to care enough for the people we serve that we do not cause or countenance any action that would degrade another human being.

"Grant to these members the judgment to distinguish the temptations from the responsibilities of power. May they remember that while theirs is to lead, it is also their duty to respond to the expressed desires of the people whom they serve.

"Let Thy Spirit rest within the hearts and minds of every member of this body, to guide and strengthen them, that they may come to the end of this day with a sense of fulfillment, with no dreams to haunt their sleep, and with no uneasy minds to speak of a duty that has been shirked.

"In thanks giving for their devotion, we pray in the name of Him who gives courage in every crisis. Amen."

On motion of Senator Greive, the reading of the journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was approved.

MOTION

It was moved by Senator Dore that Senate Bill No. 177 be referred from Committee on Cities, Towns and Counties to the Committee on Public Utilities.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Greive:

"I do not believe Senator Dore's motion is in order. I would suggest that he make a motion that the committee be discharged of their responsibility on the bill and the bill be placed on the calendar of the day. It will take a second motion to refer the bill to another committee."

Senator Dore:

"I believe the bill can be released from the Committee on Cities, Towns and Counties with the release of the bill from Senator Talley."

Senator Talley:

"I have no objection."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"The President believes that Senator Greive's point of order is well taken."

MOTION

Senator Dore:

"I move that the rules be suspended and Senate Bill No. 177 be referred from the Committee on Cities, Towns and Counties to the Committee on Public Utilities."

The President:

"The question is: It has been moved that the rules be suspended and Senate Bill No. 177 be referred to the Committee on Public Utilities."

The motion carried and Senate Bill No. 177 was referred to the Committee on Public Utilities.

MOTION

It was moved by Senator Hallauer that the rules be suspended and Senate Bill No. 70 be referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Greive:

"I would like to inquire of Senator Hallauer, what is the context of Senate Bill No. 70?"

Senator Hallauer:

"In explanation of the motion, the bill has been in the hands of the Committee on Social Security. It now has an appropriation item on the bill involving $3,000,000. It is customary that all bills involving funds be referred to the Committee on Ways and Means."

Senator Knoblauch:

"As one of the sponsors of the bill, this is the measure that would give aid to retired teachers. It does carry an appropriation and should be sent to the Committee on Ways and Means."

Debate ensued.

The President:

"The Senate will be at ease for just a moment, subject to the Call of the Chair."

The Senate recessed for five minutes.

The President called the Senate to order.

The President:

"Senator Hallauer, the President has been advised by the Secretary of the Senate that Senate Bill No. 70 is now in his hands, and that during the second order of business, Reports of Standing Committees, the report of the Committee on Social Security will be read. Then it would be in perfect order for you to move to refer the bill to the Committee on Ways and Means."

The Secretary read:

MOTION

At 11:45 o'clock a. m., on motion of Senator Greive, the Senate adjourned until 11:00 o'clock a. m., January 26, 1961.

JOHN A. CHERBERG, President of the Senate.

WARD BOWDEN, Secretary of the Senate.

EIGHTEENTH DAY*MORNING SESSION*SENATE CHAMBER,

OLYMPIA, WASH., Thursday, January 26, 1961.

The Senate was called to order at 11:00 o'clock a. m. by President John A. Cherberg.

The Secretary called the roll and announced to the President that all Senators were present.

The Color Guard, consisting of Pages Charles Herrmann, Color Bearer, and Susan Hande, presented the Colors.

Reverend J. Edgar Pearson, pastor of the United Churches-Federated of Olympia, offered prayer as follows:

"O Thou eternal God, we who are stewards of Thine upon this earth, turn to Thee for inspiration and strength as we open this session of the Senate.

"We seek Thee each morning, not as a routine means of opening this session, but because the duty of building a better state weighs heavily upon us and we are not always equal of ourselves to the grave choices we must make. Yet we would make full use of the talents within us and the forces about us. This awaits only the touch of Thy spirit and a willingness on our part to follow Thy leading.

"We are thankful for these who have given of themselves to lead in government. Keep them ever conscious of their ultimate goals: a community where every child shall have the fullest chance to learn, where a decent home for everyone is a common concern, where equal opportunity shall be assured to all for a full and good life. To take such actions as will sustain and not attempt to circumvent the expressed desires of the people. May they not become so entangled with their own housekeeping that they lose sight of the larger aims that are truly theirs.

"Let them not be content to wait and see what will happen, but give them the courage and initiative to make the right things happen. Help them not to misuse this day but to make it the opportunity for firm action and constructive deeds, that they may so speak and vote as to merit Thy blessing. Amen."

On motion of Senator Greive, the reading of the journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was approved.

PRESIDENT'S PRIVILEGE*The President:

On motion of Senator Riley, the Senate Resolution was adopted.

PRESIDENT'S PRIVILEGE

The President:

"The President, with the permission of the members of the Senate should like to exercise the privilege of making several remarks relative to our guest, Mr. Edwin O. Guthman. The President first became aware of this young man when he was a member of the Broadway High School football team, "The Broadway Tigers", under the direction of Tony Bell. At that time, this young man distinguished himself in athletics, as a student, and as a person; being very active in other school affairs.

"He went to the University of Washington later and from that time, this resolution covers the rest of his career. Now, the President has become very familiar with this young man over the course of years. There was one particular episode in the life of the President wherein he found this young man to be certainly dedicated to the best principles of fair play.

"With these remarks the President would like, with the consent of the Senate, to ask Mr. Guthman to address the Senate this morning."

Mr. Guthman:

"Mr. President, Members of the Senate, Ladies and Gentlemen:

"I have had a lot of nice things happen to me in the course of my life. This experience today is one of the things I will long remember and always treasure.

"This gives me an opportunity for the first time to talk back to you and to rebut some of the things you have said. I would like to just say this—in the fourteen years that I have been coming down to Olympia and observing the legislature, I have developed out of this experience a profound understanding and appreciation of our democratic way of government. I feel that democracy works here. Sometimes people think it does not, but I know that it does. I think this is the seat of our government, here in the Senate and in our County courthouses. Here the democratic processes work, and while we get frustrated sometimes as newspaper men, the net result is that we have a greater appreciation of what you are doing.

"Going back to this position I have taken, I believe the experience I have had with you in the Washington State Senate and in the legislature will be an excellent background for some of the things with which I will have to deal.

"I know this was not a Democratic plot to get me out of the State of Washington, and I leave here with the kindest feelings for each and every one of you."

Senator Knoblauch:

"Mr. Guthman, you said you have had good things happen to you, and we also have had good things happen to us. Mr. Guthman, a good many of these Senators are anxious to smoke and would you suspend the rules, with the permission of the Senate, without penalties."

Mr. Guthman:

"With your permission, I would like to have the privilege of suspending the rule pertaining to smoking, without penalties."

The President:

"With the approval of the Senate, that portion of Rule 40 pertaining to smoking will be suspended, without penalties.

"Thank you very much, Ed. Everyone here in the Senate and gallery join in wishing the best of everything to you and your family."

(Applause.)

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Woodall:

"I observed in the corridors the former President of the Senate, and now Secretary of State, smoking when he entered the Chamber. This particular individual well knows that this is a breach of the Senate Rules without the suspension of a certain rule. I ask that Victor Aloysius Meyers suspend Rule 40 with penalties and the Sergeant-at-Arms wait upon him."

RULING OF THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"It is so ordered. The portion of Rule 40 pertaining to smoking will be suspended with penalties."

The Secretary read:

"The members of the Senate and the President are happy that there are so many people present today, but the President feels duty-bound to remind our guests they must observe quiet at all times."

It was moved by Senator Hess that the following amendment to Senate Bill No. 191 be adopted.

Add a new section following section 1 as follows:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 1 of this act, any local option unit as defined in RCW 66.40.010 may, for the purpose of fixing the hours of the day between 12:00 p. m. Saturday night and until 6:00 a. m. on the following Monday during which spirituous, vinous and malt liquors may be sold in such unit by the various licensees of the liquor control board, submit such proposition to the voters within such local option unit in the manner hereinafter prescribed. If the vote on such proposition is favorable the hours therein established shall control and supersede in whole or in part any statutes, or rules or regulations of the Washington liquor control board.

For the purpose of establishing and enacting the proposition hereinbefore referred to a petition containing the signatures of ten percent of the registered voters within the local option unit shall be presented to the legislative authority within such unit accompanied by an obligation sufficient to pay the costs of publishing the notice herein provided for. Such petition shall describe the hours of the day if any, between 12:00 p. m. Saturday night and until 6:00 a. m. on the following Monday during which spirituous, vinous and malt liquors may be sold in such local option unit.

The chief election official shall within thirty days of the date of filing examine the signatures and certify to the sufficiency or insufficiency thereof and in so doing shall have access to any registration books or records. No person shall be allowed to withdraw his name after the petition has been filed. If the petition is sufficient it shall be certified to the legislative authority in the unit who shall receive the same and proceed to publish a notice of that fact in a newspaper of general circulation in the unit for at least three times not more than sixty nor less than fifteen days prior to the election called. The notice shall contain a statement containing the essential features of the plan. The prosecuting attorney shall prepare a concise statement containing the essential features expressed in such a manner as to clearly identify the proposition to be voted upon, and shall also prepare a caption so that the voters may readily distinguish it from other propositions on the ballot. Such statement and title shall be certified to the appropriate election officer for placement on the election ballot.

If the vote is favorable on the proposition the regulations established thereby shall control within the local unit and shall supersede in whole or in part as the case may be any statute or rule or regulation of the Washington state liquor control board.

A special election on any petition filed pursuant to this act shall be held within ninety days after the certification of the validity of such petition by the election official: Provided, That if the date of the next succeeding general election in the unit falls within such ninety day period such petition shall be voted on at such election: Provided further, That after such election no other election under this act shall be held prior to the next succeeding general election in the unit.

For the purposes of any election held on a petition filed pursuant to this act the provisions of RCW 66.40.150 prohibiting concurrent liquor elections shall control.

Any petition initially filed in a local option unit pursuant to this act shall be filed within 90 days of the effective date of this act. Any petition filed thereafter shall be filed at least 90 days prior to the next succeeding general election.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Greive:

"Will Senator Hess yield to a question?"

Senator Hess:

"Yes, I will."

Senator Greive:

"Senator Hess, using the city of Seattle as an example, approximately how many signatures would it take to refer this matter to the people?"

Senator Hess:

"I don't know the population of Seattle, but I can tell you this, initiatives for referendum have worked very well in this state."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hallauer:

"Will Senator Hess yield to a question?"

Senator Hess:

"I will."

Senator Hallauer:

"In reading your proposed amendment, I am unable to determine whether the voting is to occur immediately or if there would be liquor on Sunday prior to the time of the voting. It would appear from the draft that this could be possible."

Senator Hess:

"The original act, as I understand it, would provide that if adopted, the local community would still have to pass on it. This amendment would provide further; if ten percent of the registered voters of such a community were to petition within ninety days, the county commissioners would be required to call an election within ninety days."

Senator Hallauer:

"Could liquor be served on Sunday prior to such an election?"

Senator Hess:

"In Seattle, if the city council were to make a ruling on this, liquor could be served prior to the election."

Senator Hallauer:

"Would you have any objection to certifying that until the people had voted on the subject there could be no liquor served on Sunday?"

Senator Hess:

"I don't think that goes to the heart of what is intended here. What is intended by this amendment is to give the people a chance to oppose the measure if they do not want it."

Debate ensued.

Senator Rasmussen:

"Will Senator Riley yield to a question?"

Senator Riley:

"I will."

Senator Rasmussen:

"It is not easy to hear clearly back where I am sitting. Did I understand you to say that you were perfectly willing at all times for the people to vote on these measures?"

Senator Riley:

"I say that I would support the amendment if the people expect us to make the decisions."

Senator Rasmussen:

"In the section at the end of this amendment where it states: 'Any petition initially filed in a local option unit pursuant to this act shall be filed within ninety days of the effective date of this act'. Will you tell me the reason for this?"

Senator Hess:

"The purpose of that language, Senator Rasmussen, is to provide within ninety days after the effective date of this act, any petition that is filed will call for an election, so that we would not have a series of elections within any given area."

Senator Rasmussen:

"This provision, Senator Hess, if it were to be successful, would result in a delay for the next two years until the general election."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Martin:

"Senator Hess, will you yield to a question?"

Senator Hess:

"I will."

Senator Martin:

"Do you have an estimate of what it would cost to provide for such an election, as provided in this amendment, in the city of Seattle, for example?"

Senator Hess:

"No, I don't have any idea; however, I think this type of procedure should be available and I don't think it is too prohibitive."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Raugust:

"Will you yield to a question, Senator Bargreen?"

Senator Bargreen:

"I will."

Senator Raugust:

"Did I understand you, Senator Bargreen, to say that this bill was discussed in committee?"

Senator Bargreen:

"Yes."

Senator Raugust:

"When?"

Senator Bargreen:

"We had a discussion lasting around fifteen or twenty minutes."

Senator Raugust:

"The bill was never brought up for discussion as far as I know."

Senator Bargreen:

"I think everyone will admit that we discussed over fifteen amendments."

MOTION

Senator Hallauer moved that the following amendment to Senator Hess's amendment to Senate Bill No. 191 be adopted:

Add to the amendment the following paragraph:

"No such local option unit shall permit the sale of liquor on Sundays until approval shall be given by the electors of such unit following the steps hereinbefore set forth."

A division was called for and the amendment to the amendment was tabled on a rising vote.

MOTION

It was moved by Senator Rasmussen that the following amendment to Senator Hess's amendment be adopted:

Strike the last paragraph of the amendment.

Debate ensued.

MOTION

It was moved by Senator Lennart that Senate Bill No. 191 be referred to the Committee on Liquor Control.

Senator Rasmussen:

"Thank you, Senator Lennart. I was just going to suggest to Senator Hess the same motion but give him the privilege of making it.

"It would appear to me, especially in the Senate, that this bill requires a considerable amount of work. I don't think that we can properly consider rewording it on the floor.

"When I was a Representative in the House I was told that the Senate was a deliberate body. It would seem to me that the Senate is not deserving of the title of 'deliberative' from the manner in which it has handled this bill. I think the bill should go back to committee and after a reasonable length of deliberation and consideration, the bill should come back to the Senate."

Further debate ensued.

Senator Gallagher demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained by Senators Riley, Bargreen and Connor.

The President stated the question before the Senate to be the referral of Senate Bill No. 191 to the Committee on Liquor Control.

Senator Rasmussen demanded a roll call, and the demand was sustained by Senators Raugust, Lennart, Shannon, Chytil, Greive, Hallauer and Morgan.

The demand for a roll call was not sustained, and the motion was lost.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen:

"Did Senator Hess offer an amendment in place of my amendment?"

Senator Hess:

"There is another one, but not necessarily in place of yours."

Senator Rasmussen:

"First let me say that Rule 40 has been suspended with penalties. I know you are all worrying about it."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Gallagher:

"State it please, Senator Rasmussen, to what purpose is the Senator addressing the Senate? To his amendment, or in personal privilege?"

Senator Rasmussen:

"I wanted to make it clear that I have complied with the rules of the Senate, but I was primarily talking on my amendment to the Hess amendment that I have before the Senate."

RULING OF THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"Senator Rasmussen, would you please confine your remarks to the question of the amendment to the amendment."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Riley:

"Do you, Senator Rasmussen, yield to a question?"

Senator Rasmussen:

"Yes, I do."

Senator Riley:

"As you have stated, I have always known the amendment was crystal clear. I want you, Senator Rasmussen, to make it crystal clear to me, one place in the amendment, or in the printed bill where it says Sunday liquor."

Senator Rasmussen:

"I am sure that you didn't make it crystal clear. Senator Riley, do you have your glasses? Will you please put them on. Will you please refer to the bill where it states: 'between Saturday night and Monday morning'. Would you say that the intervening day could be Sunday?"

MOTION

Senator Gallagher moved that the amendment by Senator Rasmussen to the amendment by Senator Hess be laid on the table.

A roll call was demanded by Senator Rasmussen and was sustained by Senators Raugust, Moriarty, Jr., Lennart, Shannon, Chytil, Donohue, Greive, Morgan and Hallauer.

The President stated the demand for a roll call was sustained.

The President stated the question before the Senate to be the motion by Senator Gallagher that the amendment by Senator Rasmussen to the amendment be laid on the table.

Senator Greive moved the adoption of the following amendment to the Hess amendment:

After the word "date" strike the remainder of the paragraph and add the following: "or within 90 days after the adoption within such local option unit of any rule, regulation or ordinance permitting spirituous, vinous and malt liquors to be served between the hours of 12:00 p. m. on Saturday night until 6:00 a. m. on the following Monday or changing any hours theretofore established."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Dore:

"I think Senator Greive has explained that the amendments were about the same and since we have lost Senator Rasmussen's, we have lost the other too."

Senator Greive:

"We have not voted on the amendment."

Senator Woodall:

"I concur in the remarks of Senator Greive."

The President:

"The point is well taken by Senator Greive. His amendment does add additional material."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Greive, the amendment to the amendment by Senator Hess was adopted.

Senator Happy moved the adoption of the following amendment:

Add a new section to be known as section 3 reading as follows:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. Nothing contained herein shall be construed as restricting the right of any governmental body of establishing the hours and days licensees may be open in said governmental unit."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Gallagher:

"Is the amendment proposed by Senator Happy to be under a new section to be added to section 1? I notice Senator Hess also did the same thing. I suppose it is only adding a new section to the amendment."

RULING OF THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"The President is advised by the Secretary that you are correct. It will be necessary for a third section to be added, and the Secretary will take care of the matter."

On motion of Senator Elway, Jr., the following amendment to Senate Bill No. 191 was adopted:

NINETEENTH DAY

MORNING SESSION

The President called the Senate to order at 11:15 o'clock a. m.

The Secretary called the roll and announced to the President that all Senators were present.

The Color Guard, consisting of Pages Charles Herrmann, Color Bearer, and Susan Hande, presented the Colors.

Reverend J. Edgar Pearson, Pastor of the United Churches—Federated of Olympia, offered prayer as follows:

"Creator and Ruler of mankind, hear us as we pray for this Senate and for the people of this state.

"We thank Thee for the genius of our system of government that brings together men and women of differing political views and knits them into a body that can make laws for all the people. Unite in mutual understanding these men and women, that the spirit of devotion to public good that caused them to seek their office may continue to be their guide.

"We thank Thee for the differences among us, that out of the tensions may come a realization of that which is best for the largest number of people; that as thoughts become words, as deeds become laws, there may be hammered out that which is good.

"In their choices let them not ask: 'Is this what I want?'—but rather let them ask 'Is this the right thing to do?' Help them to recognize the truth when it is before them, and when they see that which is wrong, prevent them from supporting it.

"We pray for the citizens of this state, that each may grow in social and political responsibility, that each may develop that moral and ethical integrity that will bring us to the new frontiers of life.

"These things we ask in the name of Him who so lived that all should have dignity and none should be afraid. Amen."

The President:

"Thank you Reverend Pearson. The members of the Senate, Secretary of the Senate and the President greatly appreciate the fact that you have been with us this week. We hope that you will see fit to return to offer the invocation on other occasions. We have enjoyed them exceedingly."

The Secretary read:

RESOLUTION

By Senators Washington, Sandison, Donohue, Gissberg, Freise, Rasmussen, McCormack, Talley, Foley, Kupka, Knoblauch, Bailey, Raugust:

Be It Resolved, By the Senate of the state of Washington in Legislative Session Assembled:

WHEREAS, William A. Bugge, Director of Highways for the Washington State Highway Commission, has been awarded the Charles S. Bartlett Award for outstanding contribution to the nation's highway development; and

WHEREAS, William A. Bugge has been elected Chairman of the Highway Research Board of the National Academy of Sciences; and

WHEREAS, William A. Bugge has served as president of the American Association of State Highway Officials and has brought great honor to the state of Washington and its citizens and its government; and

WHEREAS, William A. Bugge has served as Director of Highways for over eleven and one-half years during which time our highway system, under his able direction, has developed into one of the finest in the nation;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved By the Senate of the state of Washington, in Legislative Session assembled, that congratulations be extended to William A. Bugge for his national honors and for his years of service; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate be directed to transmit a copy of this resolution to William A. Bugge so that he can keep it as an expression of gratitude of the people of the state of Washington.

On motion of Senator Washington, the Senate Resolution was adopted.

Senator Washington:

"I know that it is not necessary for me to recount to the members of the Senate the honors which have been received by Mr. Bugge, our Director of Highways. Many times we have read in the papers of these honors, but I have had the opportunity, as a member of the State Interim Committee on Highways to attend meetings where highway people were in discussion, and I have discussed highway problems with them. The state of Washington has always been greatly complimented, not only for the progressiveness of our highways, but that we in this state are so fortunate in having someone of Mr. Bugge's capabilities, knowledge and reputation.

"Our Governor and the Highway Commission have elected a top person to hold this job and we are very fortunate, indeed, to have such a man.

"It is with real pleasure that I join in this resolution. I want to point out that the most recent award, the Charles S. Bartlett Award, is one of the highest honors that a person in this field may receive, and we, in the state of Washington, should be proud."

The President:

"Members of the Senate, Ladies and Gentlemen:

"To the best of the President's memory, this is the first occasion upon which Mr. Bugge has visited the Senate chamber in this particular capacity.

"The President is sure that you join the President in extending the warmest and heartiest congratulations to Mr. Bugge."

(Applause.)

Mr. Bugge:

"Lieutenant Governor Cherberg and Members of the Senate:

"I wish to say I am deeply appreciative of the honor you and they have bestowed upon me.

"As I look back on the many activities occupying positions on the national level I want to say that those things have happened because the state of Washington has a great highway department and we have received great support from the Legislature.

"For the eleven and one-half years that I have been Director of Highways it has been my great honor and opportunity to do my part for the great state of Washington and help make it a better place in which to live.

"Thank you very much, gentlemen, for this honor today."

(Applause.)

The committee of honor escorted Mr. Bugge from the rostrum.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Hess the Senate reverted to the first order of business for the purpose of making a motion.

Senator Hess:

"I move that the rules be suspended and that Senate Bill No. 145 be referred from the Committee on Education to the Committee on Higher Education and Libraries."

The President:

"Senator Hess, would you please make a motion that the Committee on Education be relieved from further consideration on Senate Bill No. 145?"

Senator Hess:

"Mr. President, from my recollection, it has not been required that the rules be suspended. Personally, I think it not advisable to go through the manner in which I made the motion, but as the Secretary of the Senate made the recommendation, I deliberately phrased this motion in this manner.

"Having made the point, if the President wishes, I will phrase the question in the other way."

The President:

"Senator Hess, you are absolutely correct, but in the interest of more orderly and proper procedure, it would be advisable to make two motions. However, the President would like to point out that in order to do two things at the same time, it would take a suspension of the rules."

The President:

"For what purpose does Senator Greive arise?"

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Greive:

"I would like to explain the action taken on the motions made.

"The very reason why we have the procedure to discharge a committee from further consideration of a bill and then refer the bill to another, creates the situation that while we have a suspension of rules debate is excluded. If you move to suspend the rules and transfer a bill to another committee you are in order, but you can't debate the question. If you want a discussion, it must be done in two motions."

RULING OF THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"With the approval of the Senate, Senate Bill No. 145 will be referred to the Committee on Higher Education and Libraries."

MOTION

At 12:20 o'clock p. m., on motion of Senator Greive, the Senate adjourned until 12:00 o'clock noon on Monday, January 30, 1961.

TWENTY-SECOND DAY

---

NOON SESSION

---

SENATE CHAMBER,
OLYMPIA, WASH., Monday, January 30, 1961.

The Senate was called to order at 12:00 o'clock noon by President John A. Cherberg.

The Secretary called the roll and announced to the President that all Senators were present except Senator Woodall.

On motion of Senator Ryder, Senator Woodall was excused.

The Color Guard, consisting of Pages Susan Hande, Color Bearer, and Tom Knoblauch, presented the Colors.

Reverend Teddy E. Turner, Minister of the First Christian Church of Olympia, offered prayer as follows:

"Let us pray.

"Our Father Who art in Heaven, Center and Soul of every sphere, yet to each human heart how near, enable us this day to so surrender our conscious life to Thy divinely revealed Will in Jesus Christ that our decisions, both in private and corporate life, may show forth an ever increasing awareness of the many splendors of Thy love, justice, and power.

"Grant that these men, the Senators of our beloved State, may be guarded by a peace in the deep recesses of their hearts which will pass understanding and misunderstanding. Grant, we beseech Thee, a sense of 'being called to such an hour as this' to hover over their hearts and emotions, and decisions. Save us all from a sense of bigness that would keep us from greatness in these grand and sublime days.

"O Lord God of Hosts, help us to remember today who we are: men and women bearing in our very being the image of Thy nature—Lest we forget. In the Name of Christ, Amen."

PRESIDENT'S PRIVILEGE

The President:

"Members of the Senate:

On motion of Senator Greive, the reading of the journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was approved.

PRESIDENT'S PRIVILEGE

"Members of the Senate:

"The President hopes that each of you had the opportunity this morning to hear President Kennedy's 'State of the Union Message'. As promised, the message was brief, and as expected, it was to the point, sincere and forthright.

"The President is sure that you will agree that the objects of the plan outlined by the Chief Executive are the objects of us all. Though complete harmony may not exist among our views in how to attain these objects, it is clear to all, the President is sure, that immediate action is forthcoming in regard to foreign and domestic problems with which we are all concerned.

"The President is confident that in the heart of each of us, there is a silent prayer that the Chief Executive will carry the vigor and determination that was present in his address this morning, for the duration of his term."

TWENTY-THIRD DAY

---

SENATE CHAMBER,

OLYMPIA, WASH., Tuesday, January 31, 1961.

The Senate was called to order at 11:00 o'clock a. m. by President John A. Cherberg.

The Secretary called the roll and announced to the President that all Senators were present.

The Color Guard, consisting of Pages Robert Lund, Color Bearer, and Susan Harris, presented the Colors.

"Let us pray:

"O Thou, Who in times past hast led Thy people by signs and by seers, lead us today into a deeper understanding of Thy signs in history for our time and grant unto us courage and wisdom for the living of this hour.

"Grant that we, by our attitudes and actions, may lift the world and not merely lean upon it. Grant that we may be a public asset and not a public liability. Help us to each one sense a private call to leave, as best we may, the world a better place in which to rear little children and experience the riches of family living. Stab our consciences wide awake with the agony of the world in which we are set.

"Hear us now as we wait in Thy presence. Blusteringly we have entered this day. May this moment of somber reflection before Thee make us amenable to Thy grace that in quietness and confidence, as servants of the public good, we may do our work without panic or fear.

"In the name of Jesus Christ we pray, Amen."

On motion of Senator Greive, the reading of the journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was approved.

The Secretary read:

SENATE RESOLUTION

By Senators McCormack, Washington and Raugust:

WHEREAS, The farmers of the Columbia Basin entered into a contract with the United States Department of the Interior in October 1945 providing for repayment for their land, for construction of irrigation canals, for the irrigation water they use, and for eight million dollars for installation of drainage facilities in the Columbia Basin; and

WHEREAS, These farmers have honorably met all their obligations under the terms of this contract since its inception; and

WHEREAS, Recent studies indicate that the cost of completion of the drainage system for that portion of the Columbia Basin presently receiving water has been underestimated by thirty-six million dollars; and

WHEREAS, This gross miscalculation was not the fault of the farmers; and

WHEREAS, The Bureau of Reclamation during recent years, has proposed that the farmers of the Columbia Basin renegotiate this contract with the Department of the Interior to the end that these farmers would be required to pay the entire thirty-six million dollars for this underestimated drainage system; and

WHEREAS, These farmers are among Washington's finest citizens, laboring long hours daily and living on meager and uncertain incomes; and

WHEREAS, Governor Albert D. Rosellini, Senators Warren G. Magnuson and Henry M. Jackson, and Conservation Director Earl Coe, as Chairman of the Columbia Basin Commission, have all urged that a two year moratorium be declared on all charges against Columbia Basin farmers for drainage construction;

Now Therefore, Be It Resolved, By the Senate of the state of Washington, That we join in requesting that President John F. Kennedy direct that this two year moratorium be now declared on all charges for drainage against the farmers of the Columbia Basin, thus allowing time for a complete study of this problem by Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall and agencies under his direction; and

Be It Further Resolved, That we congratulate the farmers of the Columbia Basin not only for their labors and courage in converting the Columbia Basin from a desert to healthy productive farmland, but also for their calm persistence in the face of seemingly overwhelming obstacles, and for their faith in the ultimate fairness of the legal democratic processes under which we live; and

Be It Further Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to the Honorable John F. Kennedy, President of the United States, to the President of the United States Senate, to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, to the Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall, and to each member of Congress from the state of Washington.

"Thank you. That portion of Rule 40 pertaining to smoking will be suspended, with penalties."

Senator Elway:

"Senator Hess, will you yield to a question?"

Senator Hess:

"I will."

Senator Elway:

"Senator Hess, with reference to the proposals as described here, is it not the intention of this amendment to form a subcommittee which will disallow cities of less than 50,000 population from having an equal voice?"

Senator Hess:

"The purpose of the amendment is to allow sufficient flexibility so that small cities might be represented."

On motion of Senator Greive, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 95 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bargreen:

"Will you yield to a question, Senator Hess?"

Senator Hess:

"Yes, I will."

Senator Bargreen:

"What would be the advantage of creating this special committee, which would mean additional staff members and expense, over having the same study undertaken by the Legislative Council who have the facilities and staff available?"

Senator Hess:

"The main advantage in having a separate committee created to make this study is that the sponsors of this legislation feel that it allows these legislators to concentrate solely on this study. It allows the staff to be picked because of their particular background for this type of study. It would give the opportunity to involve many interested citizens to be part of the citizens advisory committee. I think this structure is more advisable."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bargreen:

"I would like to ask an additional question.

"Senator Hess, we have a subcommittee of the Legislative Council which is set up to do this work. Is it your thinking that our Legislative Council during this next interim will more or less release their responsibilities and there will not be a duplication of effort?"

Senator Hess:

"I think that the provisions of this bill call for close coordination and cooperation. On pages 12 and 13, it calls for very close liaison with the Legislative Council, and I would rather imagine that the work of this Legislative Council would involve many other areas that this special committee would not want to go into."

Senator Bargreen:

"Further question.

"Senator Hess, having headed a special interim committee on education which before that time was handled by a subcommittee, is it not a fact that you more or less took over the duties which were previously handled by the Subcommittee on Education of the Legislative Council?"

Senator Hess:

"I think the Legislative Council still had a great deal to do. Our study was in much more detail and involved a specific type of study. Their duties continued in the more or less normal and regular way."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hanna:

"Will Senator Hess yield to a question?"

Senator Hess:

"I will."

Senator Hanna:

"There have been some comments made by Senators Bargreen and Durkan about the possibility of duplication by this committee. Will this committee promote a duplication of study with the Bureau of Governmental Research?"

Senator Hess:

"I question duplication in this agency."

Senator Hanna:

"The reason I am interested, a number of days ago I introduced Senate Bill No. 219 asking for more money. Cannot this Bureau take up many of these questions?"

Senator Hess:

"Again, I think the Bureau of Governmental Research has an important role to play, but I think we are proposing as a legislative body, a study of these matters and the Legislature should be primarily responsible to study these facts. I think it is proper that the Legislature not abdicate its authority and responsibility to some other agency. It is their responsibility to study these laws and make recommendations.

"I think we have not given enough thought to the working relationships of outsiders. The real solution should be of our own making and I think we have only to look to the past to see the results of handing these responsibilities to outside committees. What has been done in the last ten years on these problems? I think it is our only recourse, to make a more concentrated, undivided study of these types of problems. I believe the Legislative Council has too many subjects to make a concentrated study."

Senator Hanna:

"Do you feel that this advisory committee would make a coordinated effort and would they have any contact through the two agencies, Association of Washington Cities and Bureau of Governmental Research, in arriving at some solution?"

Senator Hess:

"It would be quite certain that the contact would be close and there would be many areas in which they would coordinate."

Debate ensued.

Senator Greive demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained by Senators Freise, Riley and Elway.

The President stated the question before the Senate to be, shall the main question be now put, and the previous question was ordered.

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 95, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 36; nays, 12; absent or not voting, 1.

The President:

"I think 'Senator' Gluck should be asked to do that."

"Senator" Gluck:

MORNING SESSION

SENATE CHAMBER,

Reverend Teddy E. Turner, Minister of the First Christian Church of Olympia, offered prayer as follows:

"Let us join in prayer—

"Out of the stillness of the night into the staggering challenges of a new day we come, our Father. We thank Thee for rest by which our energies are restored. We bless Thee for islands of solitude where we may withdraw and allow our souls to catch up with our bodies.

"We thank Thee for the variety of talent and insight represented among these men of the Senate. Out of the combined strength of character and wisdom which they bring to their tasks, may there be woven a tapestry of sound administration and responsible citizenship for all of us. And, as they labor together, may they exemplify the fine art of disagreeing agreeably, of rejecting ideas without rejecting each other. Help them to always keep rendezvous with the hero in their souls. And, when necessary, in moments of confusion and bewilderment, grant them courage to keep time to the beat of a far distant drummer.

"O God, Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, speak peace to troubled hearts, save us from unauthentic anxiety, help us all to think on the things that are true, honorable, just, lovely, and of good report. And, may we so live today that we may fulfill life's unenforceable obligations.

"In the name of Christ. Amen."

"Senator Rasmussen, I have the floor."

"I wish to suspend Rule 40 in honor of Senator Dixon."

Senator Dixon:

"Thank you, Senator Rasmussen!"

"Mr. President, Members of the Senate:

"I have been watching the proceedings in this chamber for the last three weeks and sometimes I wish I were sitting right back there in the front row again.

"There are some things that I do not agree with, of course, and some things that I do agree with, but you have a job to do, and after serving for eighteen years in this chamber, I know a little about the problems that you and all of us face at the present time.

"You people—members of the Senate and members of the House—are the Board of Directors for the entire state of Washington, and it is your job to see that the state of Washington goes ahead progressively, adopts wise legislation, such as will enable all of the people of the state of Washington to have a fair and square deal.

"There are a lot of things I could reminisce about, but I just want to say . . .

"I see so many faces; there are some I really love with affection on both sides of the aisle—Republicans as well as Democrats. I have worked with them as a Senator and Legislator and I know we have some mighty good material here. So do a good job, boys. The entire state of Washington is watching you so when you do something, do it right!

"Thank you so much for coming today."

Senator Cowen:

"I would like to refer my remarks to Senator Rasmussen.

"The reason, Senator Rasmussen, why you are sitting there, is my fault. Or, it might be your good fortune.

"Senator and Mrs. Dixon have been my friends for twenty-seven years, and Mrs. Dixon's love has been so great for me that I know she would be happy to grant anything I asked her to do.

"As we all know, Mrs. Dixon hasn't been well for the last few years, and she did not want her husband to run again. Because of this, and my great admiration for both Senator and Mrs. Dixon, I did not ask Mrs. Dixon to allow her husband to run again. I am sure that had I asked her, she would have allowed him to, and I am sure you would never have opposed him.

"We will miss him for many years to come. His faith in the innocent and faith in his fellow man has made him beloved to all of us. And if you, Senator Rasmussen, ever come up to the standards set by Senator Dixon, we will all love and respect you and we will praise you as much as we have Senator Dixon.

"Senator Dixon, I want you to know that we all miss you and we love you dearly. We wish you and Mrs. Dixon a long life, health and happiness."

Senator Rasmussen:

"I just desire to remark that what Senator Cowen says is true. Jerry would be with us today if his wife had not decided he should stay home. I might also say that when he told me of his decision I said that perhaps she would change her mind and suggested that he wait and see. He said there was no chance of that but I did not decide to run for election until I was certain that he meant it. I regret his decision

Endow them with that wisdom which comes from Thy Divine Presence—a wisdom which is 'peaceable, pure, gentle, open to reason, full of mercy and good fruits, without uncertainty and insincerity.'

"Capture us, today, with ideals which exceed our grasp.

"Claim us in the depths of our unconscious life and let us not escape the promptings of enlightened conscience.

"The President takes great pride in receiving Senator Goodloe this morning inasmuch as Senator Goodloe served for many years in the Senate and is now serving as Consul for Ecuador. In the interest of the welfare of those people, and of the people of the state of Washington, it is fitting and proper that we hear from Senator Goodloe at this time."

Former Senator Goodloe:

"It is a real pleasure to be back, Gentlemen, and I see that you now have a lady in the back row, so I should refer to you as Ladies and Gentlemen.

"I am here today as a member of the diplomatic corps of the Consulate for Ecuador. Should you ever care to make the trip to Ecuador, the good Senator Riley's wife is in the travel agency business in Seattle, so just contact him and he will make all the arrangements.

"As a citizen I have been watching you, with a special interest in a different way than I have done heretofore, dispose of legal problems, tax problems, and expenditure problems. I join you prayerfully and join with you as a citizen of the state of Washington in the feeling of responsibility that you carry for sixty days. I can now look at these matters with an impartial and nonpartisan point of view.

"I am not trying to grind any axes. I know as usual that you are not going to discriminate against any group, but, friends, I do represent a minority group—at least we think so sometimes. Don't forget the property owners!"

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Knoblauch:

"I would like to have the privilege of taking this one last opportunity to suspend that portion of Rule 40 pertaining to smoking."

The President:

"With penalties, Senator Knoblauch?"

Senator Knoblauch:

"No."

The President:

"Do the members of the Senate understand that you are performing an act that will be recorded for posterity and that you do not want it recorded that you bought the cigars?"

The President:

"Ladies and Gentlemen of the Senate:

"The President has just been advised of an earth-shaking and momentous event that has just taken place. I would like to make an announcement: 'Senators' Hittle, Lemon and Barrett have just offered very generously to suspend that portion of Rule 40 pertaining to smoking with, believe it or not, penalties!"

Senator Greive:

"I think it should be recorded in the Journal that as the Rule dies, Senator Knoblauch was always for the suspension thereof, but never for the penalties."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Riley:

"I would like to ask one question. Was that a penalty for the three of them, or was it a penalty for each of them?"

The President:

"The President wishes to correct the announcement made earlier. The act was engaged in by the entire press corps. In this act there is but one penalty!"

Rule 46: Recalling bills from committees.*POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hess:

"Will Senator Greive yield to a question?"

Senator Greive:

"I will."

Senator Hess:

"Senator Greive, in event that such a motion is made to either discharge a committee from the consideration of a bill, or if the bill is before the body, on a motion to refer it to a committee, would a majority vote prevail in each instance?"

Senator Greive:

"Yes."

The President:

"The record will so state."

Debate ensued.

Rule 47: Majority reports.*POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Riley:

"Will Senator Greive yield to a question?"

Senator Greive:

"I will."

Senator Riley:

"Is it not true that when you say 'majority' that is a majority of the committee membership?"

Senator Greive:

"That is correct."

Debate ensued.

MOTION

Senator Woodall moved that further consideration of the rules be made a special order of business for 1:45 o'clock p. m.

The motion carried.

PRESIDENT'S PRIVILEGE

The President:

"Gentlemen and Lady of the Senate, Ladies and Gentlemen:

"The President should like to request your indulgence. We have with us a group of Indian Chiefs from the Yakima Indian Nation."

APPOINTMENT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The President appointed Senators Foster, Woodall, Bailey, Elway, Gissberg and Conner as a special committee to escort the Indian Chiefs to the rostrum.

The President:

"Gentlemen and Lady of the Senate:

"It is with great pride that the President wishes at this time to introduce Chief Joe Meninick of the Yakima Indian Nation."

Chief Joe Meninick:

"I will introduce the following members who are also members of my Tribal Council:

"Henry Beaverts, member of the Tribal Council; George Umtuch, chairman of General Council and member of Legislative Committee; Louis Sohapp, member of the Tribal Council; Alex Saluskin, chairman of Yakima Tribal Council and member of Legislative Committee; also, Governor's appointee to Governor's Indian Council (Interstate); Otis Shilo, member of Washington Delegation and Tribal Council Sergeant-at-Arms; and Robert Jim, secretary of the Yakima Tribal Council.

"We are delegated here today to appear before a committee in regard to our reservation. We are having a hearing on the entire proposals of the Indian Nations in the state of Washington. We are here to appear before the committee and also to support our proposals for better living and better roads and other things connected with our reservation.

"We are happy to be with you today, and we are also here to honor the Lieutenant Governor, John A. Cherberg."

The President:

"Thank you very much, Chief Joe. The members of the Senate are delighted to have you with us today. In fact, your presence today has added a great pleasure and enjoyment for all of us. We are sure that the people present in the gallery are also enjoying this particular episode."

Chief Joe Meninick:

"We now take this pleasure to honor Lt. Governor Cherberg, who is a leader among us today. Mr. Henry Beaverts is going to honor the Lt. Governor and make him Honorary Chief of the Yakima Nation and give him an Indian name as a leader."

Chief Henry Beaverts spoke in his native Indian tongue the following which has been translated in English:

"Today, we are gathered in this Capitol building and in these Senate Chambers where the laws of the state are considered carefully, regardless of thought to the race of people.

"We come together with one mind and one heart to discuss mutual problems for all races of people.

"Today, I am greatly honored to be welcomed by the law-makers, especially by the leader of these distinguished law-makers, Lt. Governor John A. Cherberg. He has welcomed us Yakima Indians with an open heart and mind and shown us his great ability as a leader among his people, the white man.

"I, as leader among my Indian people, feel that I should honor your great leader and adopt him as our Honorary Chief of the Yakima Nation and place upon him a headdress of eagle feathers to identify him as a blood brother of the Yakimas and bestow upon him the name of 'Chief Little Sun' (Exix Ohn)."

Chief Henry Beaverts:

"Governor Cherberg has now been made a brother leader, among his people as well as among the other people in the state of Washington. Today we are gathered here not only in assembly but also as guests and the members of the Senate of this state have welcomed us to the capitol with open hearts. We are happy today to have that kind of leadership. Today, I am going to honor the Lt. Governor with a name. A name he will always remember because it is a name that we all respect and we will always respect and honor. We will always honor 'Chief Exix Ohn Little Sun'."

The President:

"Thank you very much, Chief Beaverts.

"This is certainly a great occasion and it gives me a great deal of pride. I am sure that I will be more of a hero around my home than I have been in the past.

"These people have certainly been very generous and kind to me and I want them to know that I am deeply grateful. I hope and trust that they will extend my heart-felt thanks and warmest appreciation to the other members of the Yakima Indian Nation. The honor that you have bestowed upon me today will certainly result in a much better understanding between the people of your nation and the people of the state of Washington. The members of the Senate join with me today in the hope that you will return soon to visit us again."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Gissberg:

"Mr. President, there are a lot of us in the state of Washington who have long known you as 'Cowboy,' and I want to know what you intend to do with that portion of your name. Is it going to be 'Chief Cowboy Little Sun,' or 'Chief Little Sun Cowboy?'"

The President:

"Senator Gissberg:

"There is one little item that the President is grateful for, and that is that the Chiefs stopped the name where they did!

"The President would like to remark that, among his immediate family and brothers and sisters, he has been kidded a great deal over the past 45 years because of his tremendous fondness for Indian movies, having first witnessed them back in the early days, and there are certain acts on TV the President never misses."

Senator Gallagher:

"Mr. Chief, I wonder if you and the other chiefs would be willing to take this country back?"

The President:

"My fellow chiefs want to wait and see what you are going to do with it first!"

Senator Woodall:

"Rule 16 now says that when a member stands you have to say, 'Mr. President.' Now we will have to amend Rule 16."

Senator Kupka:

"In view of the fact that we have now abolished the suspension of Rule 40, are we now going to pass the peace pipe around?"

The President:

"At this time the President takes pride in presenting Chief Alex Saluskin."

Chief Saluskin:

"I think this is a great honor to accept 'Chief Little Sun' to our working government.

"As you know, 'Chief Little Sun,' we are about to lose our country and we are happy to have you with us. Maybe the offer made by one of the honorable senators, of whether or not we would take back our country, should be considered. I don't believe we want it back because there is too much tax burden, and unless the Honorable Governor Rosellini declares it as an emergency and waives all the taxes, we would not consider taking it back.

"Thank you."

The President:

"The President would like at this time to request the honor committee to please come forward to escort our distinguished visitors from the chamber, and the President would like to make one final remark, that he is deeply grateful and will try to live up to the best traditions of the people of the Yakima Indian Nation."

Senator Lennart:

"I wish to say a few words in regard to the change in rules which have just now been approved.

"It is the right of the minority and its protection. Our form of government is a compromise between the concepts of struggle and the concepts of unity natural to all individuals. Parliamentary government is a state in which the minority agrees for a definite time after each election to collaborate with the majority in all things essential to national existence. Those essentials are codified in the constitution in all free countries that guarantee the minority against the abuse of power.

"If the minority should lose confidence in the good intentions of the majority, as far as fundamental principles are concerned, the change from one party to another, which is the essence of democracy, would no longer be possible. This principle is dear to all of us, and as the change in rules and the rights of the minority have now been complied with, I should like to have this recorded in the Journal to be followed for later times."

The President:

"Senator Lennart, your remarks will be recorded as requested. Of course, Senator Lennart's remarks pertain to his appointment as an additional member of the Committee on Rules and Joint Rules."

SECOND READING OF BILLS

Senate Bill No. 203, by Senators Papajani, Happy and DeGarmo (by Insurance Commissioner request):

Relating to insurance.

On motion of Senator Petrich, Senate Bill No. 203 was ordered to retain its place on the second reading calendar for Wednesday, February 8.

House Bill No. 4, by Representatives Ackley, Gorton and Brink:

Enacting Title 51 RCW relating to industrial insurance.

On motion of Senator Moriarty, House Bill No. 4 was ordered to retain its place on the second reading calendar for Wednesday, February 8.

Senate Bill No. 71, by Senators Gallagher, Greive and Gissberg:

Removing requirement that names be staggered on ballots.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Gallagher, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 71 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Ryder:

"Will Senator Gallagher yield to a question?"

Senator Gallagher:

"I will."

Senator Ryder:

"In what way will this tighten up the ballot?"

Senator Gallagher:

"Actually, it will permit more space at the end of the voting machine where new vacancies might occur. I can see no reason for vacancies now, in order that the staggering might permit candidates for each office appearing directly opposite each other."

Senator Ryder:

"Does this eliminate the so-called staggering system on the ballot?"

Senator Gallagher:

"Yes, as it is now, they are staggered. This takes too many spaces on the voting machine. This process merely moves the names closer together in order that more space may be left at the bottom, which is often desirable."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McCutcheon:

"Will Senator Gallagher yield to a question?"

Senator Gallagher:

"I will."

Senator McCutcheon:

"Under this provision of the act, the legislative candidates will no longer be staggered?"

Senator Gallagher:

"No, they are not."

Senator McCutcheon:

"Under these conditions is it not possible for the voter to assume that one Democratic candidate can be running against another?"

Senator Gallagher:

"I don't think this would make any difference in that way, any more than it does now. It would just place the names of the candidates closer together on the ballot."

Senator McCutcheon:

"Would it be possible to indicate on the ballot, in some way so that one candidate could always be distinguished from another?"

Senator Gallagher:

"In the primary election the name of a candidate is always placed in the order in which it is filed."

Senator McCutcheon:

"In a general election would it be possible, or is there any provision to be made, whereby the same two candidates might appear opposite each other throughout the ballot, and it would appear that they were running against each other?"

Senator Gallagher:

"There is a no change in that provision. Actually, they don't change the position of the names of the candidates, they stay in the same order."

Senator Ryder:

"Senator Gallagher, would you mind explaining the lawsuit that came up recently in King County?"

Senator Gallagher:

"I would be happy to. The Auditor's Office decided to do exactly what this bill provides. In order to save space they put the names of the candidates together on the ballot. The law says they must be staggered. The case was taken to court in order to keep the candidates names staggered on the ballot as they are now. That is the reason for this bill."

Debate ensued.

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 71, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 35; nays, 13; absent or not voting, 1.

Those voting yea were: Senators Angevine, Bailey, Bargreen, Connor, Cooney, DeGarmo, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Foley, Gallagher, Gissberg, Greive, Hallauer, Hanna, Henry, Herrmann, Hess, Hofmeister, Keefe, Knoblauch, Kupka, Lennart, McCormack, McCutcheon, McMillan, Martin, Morgan, Nunamaker, Papajani, Petrich, Rasmussen, Sandison, Talley, Washington—35.

Those voting nay were: Senators Chytil, Cowen, Elway, Jr., Foster, Happy, Moriarty, Jr., Neill, Raugust, Riley, Ryder, Shannon, Thompson, Jr., Woodall—13.

Those absent or not voting were: Senator Freise—1.

Senate Bill No. 71, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

Senate Bill No. 170, by Senators Gallagher, Gissberg and Durkan:

Providing that certain absentee ballots need not be tabulated.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Gallagher, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 170 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Dore:

"Will Senator Gallagher yield to a question?"

Senator Gallagher:

"Yes, I will."

Senator Dore:

"Senator Gallagher, I wonder if in some instances where there were quite a number of precincts having absentee ballots out, if it would change the result of the election?"

Senator Gallagher:

"I can't see how it would. I imagine that situation would be handled the same as it is now. It couldn't make any difference."

Senator Dore:

"You said, if one candidate wanted to know the actual count he could petition to have the votes counted. Wouldn't it be an extra expense, rather than cutting expense, to have a counting for just one candidate?"

Senator Gallagher:

"No, that would speed it up immensely."

Senator Dore:

"Would you recommend this bill?"

Senator Gallagher:

"I do, very highly."

Debate ensued.

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 170, and the bill failed to pass the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 23; nays, 25; absent or not voting, 1.

Those voting yea were: Senator Angevine, Bailey, Bargreen, Cooney, DeGarmo, Durkan, Gissberg, Greive, Hallauer, Hanna, Herrmann, Hess, Hofmeister, Keefe, Knoblauch, Kupka, McCutcheon, Martin, Nunamaker, Papajani, Petrich, Sandison—23.

Those voting nay were: Senators Chytil, Connor, Cowen, Donohue, Dore, Elway, Jr., Foley, Foster, Gallagher, Happy, Lennart, McCormack, McMillan, Morgan, Moriarty, Jr., Neill, Rasmussen, Raugust, Riley, Ryder, Shannon, Talley, Thompson, Jr., Washington, Woodall—25.

On motion of Senator Raugust, Senate Bill No. 131 was ordered to retain its place on the second reading calendar for tomorrow.

On motion of Senator Greive, Substitute Senate Bill No. 115 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 115, and the substitute bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Herrmann, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 115 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

SENATE CHAMBER,

OLYMPIA, WASH., Tuesday, February 7, 1961.

The Senate was called to order at 11:00 a. m. by President John A. Cherberg. The Secretary called the roll and announced to the President that all Senators were present.

"Let us pray:

"Eternal God and Father Who doth use human agencies to bring to pass Thy Will on earth;

"Bless the legislators in their work this day.

"Give to them such a sense of serving a higher Power that they may successfully resist the temptation to become enslaved by a lesser one. Deliver them from the fear of political reprisal and from the sharp tongue of those constituents who would have their cake and eat it too.

"Grant to them a pride of office and a sense of mission that will disdain political pettifogging, that will ignore the clamor of selfish interests, and that will give this day a good account of their stewardship over the natural and social resources of our state. Amen."

On motion of Senator Greive, the reading of the journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was approved.

PRESIDENT'S PRIVILEGE

The President:

"Now, hear this, Members of the Senate, hear this!

"That valiant group of young pages from the Senate scored a tremendous triumph over the House pages in a basketball game last night, to the tune of a score of 39 for the Senate pages to 28 for the House pages.

"Now, hear this further triumph!

"Those stalwart hearts of the Senate bill room, the bill room clerks, scored 33 points to 29 for the House bill clerks.

"It may be of interest to the members of the Senate to know that these two stalwart and valiant teams were coached by our eminent and esteemed doorman, the Honorable Ulyssus Stevens."

On motion of Senator Rasmussen the resolution was adopted.

PRESIDENT'S PRIVILEGE

The President:

"Senator Cowen, the Members of the Senate and the President do not know a finer and more gracious way in which to express the appreciation of this body to you for the generous and thoughtful act of presenting the pages with lovely watches."

Senator Cowen:

"I was really taken by surprise this morning. In my many years of service in the Legislature I have never before had this honor bestowed upon me, and to each and every one of you I wish to say 'thank you from the bottom of my heart'.

"I was sitting in the Davenport Hotel a few months ago when a young man came over to me. He asked me if I knew him, and, of course, I didn't. He told me that twenty-five years ago when I was a member of the House of Representatives I had given him a watch when he served as a page and he had never forgotten me and my generosity. Not so long before that a young fellow in the City of Los Angeles said the same thing when a similar incident had happened there.

"For the past twenty-five years I have always given watches to the pages in the House, just as I now give watches to the pages in the Senate.

"I would like also to pay tribute to a very fine little Bill Clerk that we have in the Bill Room. I don't know his name. We know him as 'Hi'. But to you pages, I want to say that every young boy and every young girl would like to have this job that you are now holding. You will never forget your job and you will never forget the proceedings of the Senate of the state of Washington. The education you are getting here is greater than ever possible in grade or in high school.

"You see the way the wheels of government are turning. I can assure you that every one of you will have the same opportunity that the men and women behind you have. And I can assure you that this little fellow 'Hi', to me is one of the most wonderful young men or young boys that I ever met in my life. He has a great character and pride and everything that goes with a young man that age. It is my wholesome desire and my greatest pleasure, if at any time Hi needs assistance in obtaining an education, I, members of the Senate, would like to educate him.

"Pages, do your jobs well and be good citizens. If you are good citizens, you have nothing to regret. Each and every one of you has the opportunity of becoming a Senator or a member of the House of Representatives, and by being good, kind, honest and true to your convictions you can do anything you want to do. Keep that in mind. Maybe some day when you grow up, you, too, can be a Senator.

"It is a great honor and a great pleasure to serve the people of the state of Washington. If you do the right thing they will never forget, and they will keep you in office as long as you are true to your convictions.

"You, too, can make this great honor come true that the members of the Senate and House have achieved. I wish you all well and I sincerely hope that for the remaining portion of the session you will be the kind of page that the Senate wants you to be, honest, clean and good pages.

"Thank you."

The President:

"Thank you, Senator Cowen, for your warm and kind remarks. You have delivered a message of great inspiration to the pages and to all of us."

"It is difficult to follow such a remarkable and generous gentleman as Senator Cowen. I want to congratulate him upon his wonderful generosity.

"As you all know, I used to make gavels and have on occasion presented them to some worthy member. It is my pleasure again this morning to present a gavel to Senator Al Henry.

"Your Lieutenant Governor has supplied service to tens of thousands, as can be verified by the alumni of the University of Washington.

"Your President Pro Tempore has rendered excellent services too. He has been a member, I believe, of some twelve sessions, and has contributed much to the state of Washington.

"I would like to present to him this morning, a gavel which is a symbol of office and a symbol of the service he has performed. It gives me great pleasure, and I feel a great honor in being able to present to him this gavel which your Secretary has ready for me. Senator Henry, I wouldn't mind bringing you another next session, and it should have engraved upon it the fact that you served for two sessions in the office of President Pro Tempore of the Senate."

"Governor Cherberg and fellow Senators, Ladies and Gentlemen:

"I have had many honors bestowed upon me in my twenty years of public life and with them the bruises that one also collects along the rocky road. The President called the attention of the Senate to the fact that the Honorable Anthony G. Meneses, Consul General of India, was visiting the state of Washington to pay his respects to the State Government and to develop a program for Century 21 to take back to his country.

APPOINTMENT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The President appointed Senators McMillan, Durkan and McCormack to act as a committee of honor to escort Mr. Meneses to the rostrum.

The President:

"Lady and Gentlemen of the Senate, Ladies and Gentlemen:

"The President is proud to present the Honorable Anthony Meneses, Consul General of India."

Consul Meneses:

"I consider it a privilege to be amongst you all this evening and am thankful for the opportunity it gives me to acquaint you with my country's progress since becoming politically independent on August 15, 1947. These last thirteen years India's main endeavour and major preoccupation has been with the task of developing itself economically. Our Prime Minister on that historic day of August 15, 1947, pledged himself, his Party, and indeed, the whole country, to work for that future in which there would be no room for poverty and hunger. This pledge has not been an easy one to keep. For India, as you all know, is a vast sub-continent with more than 400 million people, that is, more than the entire population of the whole American continent. For centuries India has been one of the leading centers of human civilization, the birthplace of many religions, and the shelter of many more. In the matter of material progress India, unfortunately, has been left far behind. The Industrial Revolution that transformed the face of Europe, North America, and Japan during these last two hundred years has largely passed us by. The result has been grinding poverty for our people, and this can be better gauged when you realize that, today, the average Indian has an income of only 70 U. S. dollars per year as against the average American's income of about 2,700 U. S. dollars per year.

"It is not possible to spur a giant of the size of India to new initiatives and new actions by piecemeal, isolated, or scattered effort. To get a move on in India requires a vast effort which, when translated into the welfare of 400 millions, would represent only a small gain. India's approach to every problem is pragmatic. For it will be recalled that India is not a new country, but an ancient sub-continent where many of the world's currents of culture have sprung up or flowed into and intermingled. This adds to our difficulties.

"For the long history of India carries with it a certain ruggedness, a certain store of values and traditions, traditions of faith and peace, of tolerance and give and take, which are the very foundations to us of a democratic order. Besides, the struggle for independence, under our revered leader, Mahatma Gandhi, had rekindled in us this age-old spirit of our country, and added to it a new dimension of hope built on our suffering and our good behavior.

"With long history then came also the flourishing among us of diverse talents and traditions, like those of devotion to learning in some classes, talent for business among others, and a facility for arts and crafts in still more. That is why even during the British rule the Indian scene was not one of a total lack of development. We had then a core of Indian industry, of well-organized business, of first-rate administration, and of craftsmanship even in mechanized production second to none in the world. Our natural resources, while not so abundant, were not inconsiderable. That is the reason why our roving Economic Ambassador, Mr. B. K. Nehru, told the Commonwealth Club of California, San Francisco, on January 13, 1961, that India is not a typical example of an under-developed country because it is not under-developed in any but an economic sense. In other words, India possesses all the requisites of economic growth except one, namely CAPITAL. India has a stable government, an administrative apparatus second to none in the world, managerial and technical ability of no mean order, and sophistication in financial and economic affairs, which enables India to make the best use of such resources as she may have or is able to get.

"Again, it is well known that there was very little capital in India. This made it impossible for private enterprise to undertake, and execute, gigantic projects. Therefore, only government could launch and fulfill these enterprises. Hence, that there has been some misunderstanding in this country as to the role of the Public Sector in India, and about India becoming a Socialist country, is understandable. In India, Public and Private Sectors contribute to the economy of the country. And there is plenty of room for both sectors to play their respective roles in building up the prosperity of India.

"While the savings of the people themselves, and from what the government deducts by taxation have, in a way, assisted in meeting the cost of building of schools, hospitals, irrigation works, roads, factories, and similar other means of economic growth, voluntary savings or taxation do not come easily in India, when most people are denied the basic necessities of life. To add to these difficulties of size and poverty, India has chosen to operate within a democratic framework, that is to say, to elicit the sacrifices implicit in development by persuasion and not by intimidation, by consent and not by coercion. For example, we choose to collect taxes with the approval of those taxed and not by forced levies of one kind or another.

"Looking back to the years since our independence, it will be fair to say that, while difficulties still remain great, we have added to the measure of hope in our future. During the last ten years when India through her first and second five year plans made a conscious and planned effort at development, she has achieved reasonable success in increasing and diversifying production, in increasing education and health facilities, and, perhaps most important, in making our people conscious of the need for development, and of the need of our peoples' own efforts and sacrifices for the purpose.

"Since 1951 when the first five year plan was launched, significant progress has been made in India in the fields of agriculture, industry, health, education, housing, power, and transport. Food production today in India is some forty per cent more than it was a decade ago. More money was spent on irrigation during the last twelve or thirteen years than was done during the entire period of British rule. Industrial structure has been much expanded. Today in India we produce many items such as bicycles, sewing machines, fertilizers, electrical equipment, caustic soda, machine tools, railway wagons and the like in substantial quantities. A decade ago we produced hardly any of these items. Power generation capacity has increased two and a half times the level of ten years ago. In 1950/1951 there were some 10,000 students in our Engineering and Technological institutions. In 1960 there were 37,000 students admitted to these Technological institutions, and about 58 million attending educational institutions of all types. In 1947 there were 59,000 doctors in the entire country. They were concentrated largely in the cities. Today the number is 84,000, who are gradually spreading about India. The number of hospitals and dispensaries has gone up in 1960 from 8,600 to 12,600. Cloth consumption has increased from 10 yards per head to 15 yards per head per annum. Diseases like malaria and cholera have been virtually eradicated. Schools have increased from 230,000 in 1950 to 400,000 in 1960; 50,000 miles of new surfaced road has been built and the development of the economy over the last decade has enabled foreign trade to expand from 2.5 billion U. S. dollars a year to 3.75 billion U. S. dollars in 1960 or by as much as 50 per cent more.

"A few elements have assisted in cementing our own efforts into well directed progress. And, to recapitulate, one is a degree of planning that is, of anticipation and co-ordination in our efforts, another a pragmatic approach in which India has neither avoided new experiments nor remained wedded to idealogies of days gone by in mustering her means. There has been no hesitation to employ the machinery of the state to help promote development, both directly and indirectly, while simultaneous encouragement has been given actively to provide initiative to private enterprise wherever possible.

"The progress so far significant is only the beginning of a hard and uphill climb. Poverty, ignorance, and disease are still the lot of our people. It may take decades of development before we can eliminate this state of affairs. With total national production increasing at 3.5 per cent per annum, and population growing at 2 per cent per annum, the growth in per capita income is only of the order of 1.5 per cent per annum. At this rate, fifty years is estimated to be the requirement to double our present average standard of living, that is to raise it to just 140 U. S. dollars per annum. The authorities in India endeavour, however, to shorten this period to some 25 years, which would mean a growth rate, in per capita terms, of 3 per cent per annum or of 5 per cent per annum in absolute terms.

"No country can be independent of foreign aid unless it is able to export enough to pay for the imports it needs. India is making efforts to produce more of the things that she can export and make them available at competitive prices. This brings me to an observation and that is, that richer countries must remove barriers to our exports, as unfortunately there are far too many restrictions and limitations in richer countries in importation of the kinds of articles such as textiles, light engineering goods, etc., which India can supply on a competitive basis.

"India welcomes private foreign investment as an important means to her development and, even more, as a step for gradual elimination of Government to Government aid. The opportunities for investment in India are large, and a foreign enterprise has everything to gain by getting on the ground floor, so to say. We are fully aware that foreign capital will be attracted to India if foreign businessmen are convinced that their investments in India would be safe and profitable, with every facility for free remittance of capital and profits, and without any discrimination or undue restrictions on day to day operations. India has entered into agreements with the U. S. A. in respect of the latter's scheme of guarantee against non-convertibility and expropriation. In brief, that India's laws and practices are among the most enlightened in the world, is a judgment that has been endorsed by several trade missions from the United States of America and International Agencies. More significant still is the fact that it has been endorsed by the growing participation of American businessmen in Indian Industrial Development.

"The basic objective of India's third five year plan which begins on April 1, 1961, is to achieve a rate of growth of 5 per cent per annum, and in our conditions a growth rate of 5 per cent per annum is the minimum warranted to our needs. To attain this object, so essential to the growth of democratic institutions in India, our authorities reckon that apart from our own strenuous efforts, external assistance is required at the rate of one billion U. S. dollars per annum. We shall also need in the next few years some assistance in the form of surplus agricultural commodities. Helped on this scale for a limited period, a stage would be arrived at where hope in India's economic future under freedom would have triumphed decisively over the uncertainties inherent under India's present formidable difficulties.

"To conclude, a country like India whose aims and ideals are the cumulative product of its history and culture, creates a very strong reaction either for or against it. This at times prevents objective understanding of events in India. My plea to you today is that the more you understand the background of India, according to its history and culture, the clearer will be your appreciation of our objectives, which in this vital developing world should contribute to the common good of our two nations."

(Applause.)

The President:

"The members and the President wish to thank you for taking the time to present this highly interesting and informative analysis of your country to us. Thank you."

Regulating wrecking yard fences.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Bargreen, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 226 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Kupka:

"Will Senator Bargreen yield to a question?"

Senator Bargreen:

"Yes, I will."

Senator Kupka:

"In this bill it specifies a solid board fence. Does it further specify, or can you have any other kind?"

Senator Bargreen:

"It changes the law which requires a type of wire fence to a board fence eight feet high that will obstruct the view. This type of fence is used in cities now. Wire fences do not obstruct the view and are no advantage as far as making the wrecking yards not objectionable to sight."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator DeGarmo:

"Will Senator Bargreen yield to a question?"

Senator Bargreen:

"I will."

Senator DeGarmo:

"Is there anything in the bill which prohibits political signs on these fences?"

Senator Bargreen:

"I think you can put up all the signs you want, provided you get permission from the owner."

Senator Rasmussen:

"Will Senator Bargreen yield to a question?"

Senator Bargreen:

"I will."

Senator Rasmussen:

"Senator Bargreen, your intent is very good, but I question whether or not it is going to serve its purpose. Could you tell me how are you going to accomplish this? Who is going to enforce it?"

Senator Bargreen:

"We believe that this act in which we changed the specifications will take care of it.

"This act, of course, is already in the law. We now have the law, as was stated previously, and where it was necessary to have a fence you will notice it says a screen type of fence along these portions. This is being changed to a board fence."

Senator Rasmussen:

"On line 15, you say, 'not to exceed the height of 8 feet.' For instance, most highways are above the areas used for wrecking yards and eight feet would still not obstruct the view from the highway. If someone wanted to put up a higher fence than eight feet, under this bill he could not do so, as it specifies not to exceed eight feet."

Senator Bargreen:

"I would have no objection to changing the wording so as not to limit the height of the fence. The main purpose of the '8 feet' is that the highway is a number of feet higher than the frontage, and it would be quite expensive to put up a fence over eight feet high. I don't feel at this time that it would be necessary to ask the wrecking yards to go to a greater expense. Eight feet will take care of the main problem."

Senator Hess:

"If there be no objection, I would like to suggest that Senate Bill No. 226 take its place following Senate Bill No. 239."

Senator Bargreen:

"I have no objection to the motion of Senator Hess."

Senator Gallagher:

"I would like to know some reason for placing it that way."

Senator Hess:

"The point raised by Senator Rasmussen, I think, is in order, and I intended to talk to Senator Rasmussen and prepare an amendment to be considered."

RULING OF THE PRESIDENT

The President stated that if there were no objections, Senate Bill No. 226 would take its place after Senate Bill No. 239.

There were no objections.

Senate Bill No. 55, by Senators Bargreen, Petrich, Dore, Hanna, Angevine, DeGarmo, Washington and Neill:

Senator Greive:

"Will Senator Woodall yield to a question?"

Senator Woodall:

"Yes, Senator Greive, I will."

Senator Greive:

"You said that this amendment is in conformity with the other legislation and other matters in the statutes. If he lived in a particular area (interruption)

Senator Woodall:

"I said (interruption)

Senator Nunamaker:

"Supposing the prosecuting attorney in the county refused to prosecute, then it would have to come to the attorney general?"

Senator Woodall:

"That is the way it is now. If the prosecuting attorney wouldn't do the job, then it would have to come to the attorney general."

The motion carried and the amendment proposed by Senator Woodall was adopted.

In new section 11, subsection (6), page 5, line 27, after "County," strike the remainder of the paragraph and add the following: "or where the parties reside."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Gallagher:

"Will Senator Lennart yield to a question?"

Senator Lennart:

"Yes, I will."

Senator Gallagher:

"I notice that this bill carries the emergency clause, and I also notice that in section 2, the bottom paragraph refers to suits now pending. Are there some actions now pending in the courts?"

Senator Lennart:

"Nothing except perhaps commission matters. They would be involved. I think it has reference to that."

THIRTY-FIRST DAY

MORNING SESSION

SENATE CHAMBER,
OLYMPIA, WASH., Wednesday, February 8, 1961.

The Senate was called to order at 11:00 o'clock a. m. by President Cherberg.

The Secretary called the roll and announced to the President that all Senators were present except Senator Petrich.

On motion of Senator Greive, Senator Petrich was excused.

The Color Guard, consisting of Pages Devere DUBY, Color Bearer, and Vicki Papajani, presented the Colors.

Reverend Charles Loyer, Pastor of the Westminster United Presbyterian Church of Olympia, offered prayer as follows:

"Let us pray . . .

"Almighty God and Father, by Whom our nation hath been established in freedom and our state preserved in union;

"We thank Thee for our public servants, and especially for the members of this chamber; for their courage in accepting an office which exposes them to misunderstanding and misrepresentation; for their faith in the future of our state; and for their perseverance in the face of frustration and fatigue.

"Guide the Senators in finding answers to the complex problems of this biennial session. Bless with sound legislation the hours given to study, discussion, and debate. And at day's end grant to each that personal enrichment which attends Thy approval. Amen."

On motion of Senator Greive, the reading of the journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was approved.

PRESIDENT'S PRIVILEGE

The President:

"Lady and Gentlemen of the Senate; Ladies and Gentlemen:

"With the approval of the Senate, the President should like to call the attention of the members to the presence of a character direct from the 'Shooting of Dangerous Dan McGrew', the famous poem by R. W. Service. This particular gentleman is the President of the Fairbanks Chamber of Commerce, Arthur J. Sexauer, representing Alaska's Governor, William Egan.

"The President wishes to advise the members of the Senate that this gentleman bears gifts in the form of golden dollars and the President would like to make a few remarks about money; mainly that when money talks there are very few interruptions. And money may not be everything, but it is way ahead of what is in second place. Money does not always bring happiness. There is no reason for a man with nine million dollars not to be just as happy as a man with ten million dollars!"

APPOINTMENT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The President appointed the following Senators to act as a special honor committee to escort Mr. Sexauer to the rostrum: Senators Gissberg, Connor and Moriarty.

Mr. Sexauer was escorted to a seat of honor upon the rostrum.

PRESIDENT'S PRIVILEGE

The President:

"Members of the Senate, it is with great pride that the Alaska Governor's personal representative, Arthur J. Sexauer, is presented to represent William Egan, Governor of Alaska. Mr. Sexauer is present with us today to offer each of the members of the Senate a memorial coin. The President would like to remind you that a replica of this coin was used as the 'toss coin' in the Rose Bowl Game of 1961 to start the famous game between the University of Minnesota and the University of Washington.

"At this time, I present Mr. Arthur J. Sexauer."

Mr. Sexauer:

"Mr. President; Senators:

"It is my personal pleasure to be here today and after that introduction I am at a loss for words.

"I would like to read to you quickly, if I may, a resolution passed in the Alaska Legislature:

"IN THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF ALASKA SECOND LEGISLATURE—FIRST SESSION

Relating to the University of Washington victory in the 1961 Rose Bowl game:

'Be It Resolved by the Second Legislature, First Session Assembled:

'WHEREAS, The University of Washington won a tremendous victory over the University of Minnesota in the 1961 Rose Bowl football classic; and

'WHEREAS, An Alaskan Golden Statehood Dollar was used as the "toss coin" to determine the opening kickoff of that historic contest; and

'WHEREAS, This Alaska-Washington effort emphasizing the cordial relations of the two sister states of the northwest brought further favorable publicity to the Pacific Northwest; and

'WHEREAS, It is the desire of the Alaska Legislature to foster this friendship and continuing good relations;

'Be It Resolved by the Second Legislature, First Session Assembled, That the coach and members of the football team of the University of Washington are hereby commended on their magnificent victory which has brought additional recognition to the merits and accomplishments of the Pacific Northwest.'"

Mr. Sexauer:

"It is my pleasure, as I said before, to be here and I do sincerely bring to you the best regards of the Alaska State Legislature, the Governor, and the Fairbanks, Alaska Chamber of Commerce.

"I will trust the golden dollars to the Sergeant-at-Arms who will pass them along to each of you."

(Applause.)

The President:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Sexauer."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGES

Senator Freise:

"Mr. President:

"Casting no aspersions on our Sergeant-at-Arms, I wonder if we could have a committee escort the Sergeant-at-Arms?"

Senator Gissberg:

"I know that Alaska is a long ways away from the state of Washington by dog-sled, and particularly, Fairbanks, Alaska. Because of the cold weather there, sometimes messages don't get around; but I wonder if you had heard that the United States has left the gold standard. If you have heard it, then you are probably doing as President Kennedy has suggested, trying to get the imbalance back into the country again. Now, you are slipping it down, a dollar at time, is that it?"

PRESIDENT'S PRIVILEGE

The President:

"The President would like to express deep appreciation for your being with us and particularly for bringing this bag of gold dollars.

"The President used to be employed at the University of Washington with the Athletic Department and the President believes that at least that department did follow the old adage by Oliver Wendell Holmes, that they did not put their trust in money but put their money in trust!"

The special committee escorted Mr. Sexauer from the rostrum.

PRESIDENT'S PRIVILEGE

The President:

"The President, with the approval of the Senate, should like to call the attention of the members to a very attractive and lovely lady, the mother of our esteemed and brilliant Senator Greive, Mrs. R. G. Greive, who is present today with a distinguished party of women from the West Seattle Women's Democratic Club.

"Please stand so the members of the Senate may have the opportunity of recognizing you. Will you please stand also, Senator Greive.

"The members of the Senate and the President wish to thank you for coming, ladies, and hope you enjoy your visit."

(Applause.)

PRESENTATION OF PETITIONS, MEMORIALS, RESOLUTIONS AND MOTIONS

MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION

Having given notice yesterday, Senator Dore moved that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 21 failed to pass the Senate. Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Riley:

"Will Senator McCutcheon yield to a question?"

Senator McCutcheon:

"Yes, I will."

Senator Riley:

"In your remarks yesterday, did you say that you would accept the verdict as handed down by this body following yesterday's vote, and did you further say that you would be willing to abide by the decision rendered yesterday?"

Senator McCutcheon:

"Senator Riley, that is very true, and I think my remarks were that I would not move for reconsideration, which I have not done. If this vote for reconsideration carries, and I hope it will, there will be no reconsideration this morning. There will be no trading of either votes or any thing else. During the night my conscience has been working but I did not make the motion to reconsider. Senator Dore made the motion and I felt it was my duty to let the motion go through."

Debate ensued.

A roll call was demanded by Senator Dore.

Senator Gissberg:

"I rise to make inquiry as to the parliamentary law that would be applicable to this situation. The point that I raise is this, in view of the fact that we are reconsidering a bill, the purport of which is an amendment to an initiative measure passed by the voters in November, does a vote to reconsider take a two-thirds majority of the members of this body? We are reconsidering a bill and it would be my opinion that it would take a two-thirds majority to do so."

Senator Greive:

"Speaking to Senator Gissberg's Point of Order, I will refer you to Rule 31. As far as we are concerned, this is a resolution. You are not reconsidering the initiative; the only thing you are reconsidering at this time is the vote. There is nothing in the rules that require us to reconsider anything else."

RULING OF THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"The President believes that Senator Greive's explanation is correct according to the Senate Rules."

The President stated the question to be, it has been moved that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 21 failed to receive the constitutional two-thirds majority.

THIRTY-THIRD DAY

MORNING SESSION

The Senate was called to order at 10:30 o'clock a. m. by President Cherberg.

The President declared the Senate at ease until 10:45 o'clock a. m.

The President called the Senate to order.

The Secretary called the roll and announced to the President that all Senators were present except Senators Dore, Hallauer, Keefe and Woodall.

On motion of Senator Greive, Senator Keefe was excused.

"Let us pray . . .

"Almighty God Who dost hold us to account for the use of all our powers and privileges; guide us, we pray Thee as we face the responsibilities of a new day. Strengthen those who are weary; enlighten those who are perplexed; and grant a renewal of faith to those who are disillusioned.

"Deliver us from pride, prejudice and arrogance. Put far from us all selfishness, envy and anger. Bless us this day with a spirit of conciliation and peace that through a united effort Thy will may be brought to pass. Amen."

On motion of Senator Greive, the reading of the journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was approved.

PRESIDENT'S PRIVILEGE

The President:

"Members of the Senate; Ladies and Gentlemen:

"This morning is an occasion in which I am sure everyone will take great pride. Present today in the south gallery is Mrs. Ed Flanagan, the wife of former Senator E. J. Flanagan. The President would like to say that during his tenure in office, one name keeps recurring in the conversation and remarks of many of the Senators from both sides of the aisle.

"Oft times in difficult periods the name of Ed Flanagan is remembered for the occasions when he often resolved some particularly difficult situation with a remark of homespun philosophy or wisdom.

"The President had occasion to meet Senator Flanagan and wishes that he could have known the Senator a great deal better than he did, but through his association in the Senate, the President has learned what a great and honest person the Senator was.

"Listening to many stories, the President has learned that the Senator was an athlete of his day; a down to earth person; a person who could reach back in his life and recall many interesting and exciting experiences which he loved to relate in colorful language.

"The President is broken for words and will have to rely on something he once read; 'Philosophy is common sense. If it isn't common sense, it isn't philosophy.' And with these few words, ladies and gentlemen, the President would like to ask Mrs. Flanagan to stand in order that she may be properly recognized.

"The members of the Senate and President are only sorry, Mrs. Flanagan, that your son, Representative Sid Flanagan, who has served in the House with such distinction for some time, is not here with you today and we hope that at some other time he may be present with you."

(Applause.)

PRESIDENT'S PRIVILEGE

The President:

"Those two powerful members of the farm protection program, Senators Joe Chytil and Dewey Donohue, have called attention to the fact that present today is a person of beauty and royalty."

APPOINTMENT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The President appointed Senators Chytil, Donohue, Moriarty, Jr., and Knoblauch to act as a special committee to escort Princess Kathy, the Washington State Dairy Princess to a place of honor upon the rostrum.

The Dairy Princess was escorted to the rostrum.

The President:

"It is with a great sense of pride that the President, at this particular time, has occasion to present to you Princess Kathy Sauter.

"The President is going to call upon another homespun adage at this time, 'beauty is like old wine'. In this particular instance, I don't think we will have to worry about spirits of that nature, as you will notice there are two glasses of milk on the rostrum. As a matter of fact, don't worry about spilled milk any more, because I just learned that it is four-fifths water.

"Princess Kathy has brought us a lot of pleasure and I am going to ask her to speak to the members of the Senate."

Princess Kathy:

"Thank you and good morning, Lieutenant Governor Cherberg and members of the Senate.

"It is indeed a great honor to be here this morning and have the opportunity to meet you Senators and above all to have the opportunity to tell you of nature's most perfect food—milk!

"I have here in my hand a glass of milk. This milk is essential to the vitality and strength of a person. It contains vitamins, minerals, proteins, carbohydrates, fats and water. You should remember, from the cradle to the grave, you never outgrow your need for milk, and you should have three glasses a day. And, this morning when you have your coffee break, why not make it a milk break to give you that vim, vigor and vitality that you need to carry on with your work in the legislature. Lots of luck for a successful session."

(Applause.)

Senator Henry:

"Mr. President, I suggest that Senator Bargreen be given equal time."

Senator Bargreen:

"I have a suggestion that I would like to mention to the President. I would be very happy for all those who enjoy a coffee break to have with their coffee a little of that fine Washington cream."

The President:

"Thank you very much, Princess Kathy. The President should like to say that after listening to Princess Kathy and drinking three-fourths of a glass of milk, the President feels better already.

"The President is sorry that he made a reference to water in milk and wishes to correct that. It is entirely wrong."

Senator Riley:

"I was just making an observation. They say coffee is good to the last drop, and I am wondering why you, Mr. President, only drank three-fourths of your glass of milk?

"And my second question is, is milk available on Sunday?"

Princess Kathy:

"Let me say, milk is available every day."

The President:

"The President wishes to state at this time that our Princess Kathy is from the home district of Senator Joe Chytil."

Princess Kathy was escorted from the rostrum.

The President:

"Not intending to labor the point, Princess Kathy did such a beautiful job of promoting this morning, that many of us interested in promoting Century 21 feel that perhaps Princess Kathy should be utilized as a promoter for this great coming event."

The President:

"The cigars being distributed are through the courtesy of the Honorable Ward Bowden in appreciation of the passage yesterday of 'Bowden's Relief Bill.'"

The Secretary read:

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Happy:

"Will Senator Gissberg yield to a question?"

Senator Gissberg:

"I will."

Senator Happy:

"Would you object, in line 4, page 2, where it says 'public utility district within this state in the joint acquisition, purchase, construction, ownership, maintenance and operation, within or without the respective limits of any such city or public utility district', to limiting it to within the county that it pertains to? In other words, this would permit a P.U.D. from the west side to form an alliance with a P.U.D. in eastern Washington. It seems to me that this is pretty broad to allow any P.U.D. to form a statewide alliance."

Senator Gissberg:

"Senator Happy, you have the happy faculty of being able to interject these comments at an appropriate time when it becomes necessary for you to either admit or deny whether your comments are accurate. I personally have no objection, if it could be lawfully spelled out; although in so doing, we would be actually changing the present P.U.D. law.

"Of course, you understand that this bill simply extends the corporate feature that now exists in the law to electric facilities."

Senator Happy:

"May I ask the privilege of moving to hold this bill over toward the end of the calendar so I can prepare an amendment which I will be very glad to show to Senator Gissberg ahead of time?"

RULING OF THE PRESIDENT

The President answered in the affirmative.

On motion of Senator Happy, Senate Bill No. 142 was ordered to hold its place at the end of today's second reading calendar.

Senator Riley:

"Will Senator McCormack yield to a question?"

Senator McCormack:

"Yes, I will."

Senator Riley:

"In the reading of this amendment, you state very directly that with that proviso, they shall do business on an installment basis. Is there any objection to using the word, 'may' instead of 'shall'? Maybe someone wants to do business on a cash basis."

Senator McCormack:

"Senator Riley, it is worded 'upon the request of the purchaser' the sale shall be on an installment basis. If the purchaser wants to pay cash, he would not make this request. The 'shall' is for the protection of the purchaser making the request."

The motion carried and the amendments were adopted.

On motion of Senator Durkan, the committee amendments were adopted.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hess:

"Will Senator Durkan yield to a question?"

Senator Durkan:

"I will."

Senator Hess:

"Senator Durkan, why is a grandfather's clause warranted in the first committee amendment? Why shouldn't these companies also have to provide a certificate of necessity?"

Senator Durkan:

"They have already done this under the rules and regulations of the commission. This commission feels that it would be a duplication and repetitious."

Senator Hess:

"I don't know enough about the field to make a formal objection, but it seems to me that what we are doing is creating artificial monopolies and now we are not only setting up monopolies, but saying those in the field shall have 'first grabs'. I would like to point out that all of the motor and freight carriers operate under a certificate of necessity."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Nunamaker:

"Will Senator Durkan yield to a question?"

Senator Durkan:

"Yes, I will."

Senator Nunamaker:

"Just what effect will that have on a city who have their own garbage collectors?"

Senator Durkan:

"We just passed an amendment excluding the cities. This bill does not cover the cities. That was the first amendment."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Dore:

"Will Senator Durkan yield to a question?"

Senator Durkan:

"Yes, I will."

Senator Dore:

"I am in favor of this amendment, but I just question the language. As I understand, we have a permit law under the prospects of guarantees. I just happened to hear about it and wondered if the proper wording is used here."

Senator Durkan:

"This was the amendment which was submitted by Joe Starin's office in the Public Service Commission."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Gissberg:

"Will Senator Durkan yield to a question?"

Senator Durkan:

"Yes, I will."

Senator Gissberg:

"Senator, is there any definition of 'garbage and refuse' in the definition section or anywhere else?"

Senator Durkan:

"As to the law, itself, there is under the commission. In their rules and regulations they have a definition."

Senator Gissberg:

"There is a definition. Is that a judicial definition, or do the rules and regulations of garbage include septic tank operators? Would you object to checking to make sure that septic tank operators are not covered under this bill?"

Senator Durkan:

"I have requested this information and have been informed that it does not cover septic tanks."

On motion of Senator Gissberg, the following amendment was adopted:

In new section 2, page 2, line 10, before "over" insert ", except septic tank pumps."

On motion of Senator Durkan, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 217 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Washington:

"Will Senator Durkan yield to a question?"

Senator Durkan:

"Yes, I will."

Senator Washington:

"When was this regulation put into effect by the Public Service Commission, which allowed them to cover garbage disposal?"

Senator Durkan:

"They do this by rule and regulation, without statutory authority."

Senator Washington:

"If the garbage carriers are going to be under the Public Service Commission, how about the milk deliveries, etc.? Will the Public Service Commission have to cover all of these other carriers?"

Senator Durkan:

"I don't know the answer."

Debate ensued.

Senator Herrmann demanded the previous question.

The demand for the previous question was sustained by Senators Durkan, Angevine and Herrmann.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Lennart:

"I stand on a point of personal privilege. The privilege I wish to speak about concerns the rights of department heads to make rules and regulations that take the force and effect of law.

"In this letter from the Public Service Commission, it is readily admitted that they went into the regulation of the garbage business by putting into rules that which was never legislative intent.

"What I wish to cite for your information is perhaps the most important thing before the Legislature, and that is this: That when rules and regulations which take the force and the effect of law, rules which the Legislature never intended to give the department, are put into effect, it is almost a must for the Legislature to create a Legislative Interim Committee with the power and right to review department rules and interpret if rules thus put into effect were intended by the Legislature."

THIRTY-SIXTH DAY

NOON SESSION

---

SENATE CHAMBER,
OLYMPIA, WASH., Monday, February 13, 1961.

The Senate was called to order at 12:00 o'clock noon by President Cherberg. The Secretary called the roll and announced to the President that all Senators were present.

Reverend Homer Kimmel, Pastor of the Church of the Brethren of Olympia, offered prayer as follows:

"Eternal Spirit, to Whom we belong and in Whom we live, we seek a fresh consciousness of Thy reality and Thy penetrating presence.

"We want to talk with Thee as a Father, because as we come back to work today, we come with some reluctance. But we also come with eagerness for the work, for we have a deep sense of honor and statesmanship and responsibility to do the best we can with what has been placed in our hands by Thee and by the people of this state . . . our neighbors.

"The time we have and the talent we have are sacred trusts from Thee. And the people have entrusted to us millions of dollars, which are the fruitage of their time and their talents.

"We are only one small government in the world's family of governments, but here will be sown seeds that can grow into greatness, or seeds of blight that will lead to ever increasing destruction.

"Under such a weight of responsibility, O God, who can stand? This is too much for mere men. Therefore we look to Thee to lift us from pettiness and little schemes.

"Inspire us to magnanimity; give us the light of Thy wisdom lest we fumble and err in our decisions. We offer ourselves as channels through which Thy Divine spirit may flow to govern these Thy people. In the name of Christ. Amen."

PRESIDENT'S PRIVILEGE

The President announced the presence of a group of students from Nooksack Valley High School, at the request of Senator Lennart. Present with the group of students were Mrs. Lennart and Mr. Noteboom. The party was asked to stand and be recognized, along with the Senator from Whatcom County, Senator Lennart.

The President:

"It is indeed gratifying that so many people from Nooksack High School and from Yelm High School are here today to hear the remarks from our illustrious Senator Lennart."

The President announced the presence in the gallery of two students, Faunda Galladay and Scotty Galladay, as special representatives from their school in Camas to observe and report back to their school on their observations of the gentlemen and lady of the Senate. These students are under the direction of their parents. Senator Henry was asked to stand and be recognized along with the group from Skamania County.

PRESIDENT'S PRIVILEGE

The President:

"Members of the Senate; Ladies and Gentlemen:

"The President wishes to compliment the members of the Senate for adopting the resolution by Senator Happy, and is proud also to join in the request to the members to pause for a few moments and reflect upon a great American whose birthday the Nation celebrated yesterday.

"The magnanimous virtues of this immortal figure are of such a nature that mere reflection upon them can benefit us all. Possibly in the next twenty-five days this deliberative body can share with the citizens of the state of Washington, the fruits of its study, understanding and appreciation of the mannerisms of Abraham Lincoln.

"In the spirit of today, with us in the Senate Chamber is Senator Ernest W. Lennart, the honorable Senator from Whatcom County. Many members of the Senate from both sides of the aisle have asked that he speak to us briefly on the great topic of Abraham Lincoln.

"Perhaps a word about Senator Lennart for the interest of those in the gallery. Senator Lennart is a man, humble in nature. His lifetime devotion to the study of Constitutional Government and the American Statesman has been its own great reward, and an inspiration to others. Senator Lennart owns perhaps the finest and largest collection of documents, a fine library of the world's best literature, and many volumes on Constitutional Government.

"It is said by many that his rare quality is his profound allegiance to sincerity. The President is sure that the members of the Senate will join a thought that his utterances reveal a man who has nothing to conceal."

APPOINTMENT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The President appointed Senators Happy and Greive as a committee to escort the Honorable Senator Lennart to the rostrum.

Senator Lennart:

"Thank you, Mr. President, for those kind words.

"Mr. President, My Fellow Senators, Ladies and Gentlemen:

"I have been asked to begin with Kennedy's Inaugural Address, a historical document rarely found in modern political statements, having a great impact on both parties, our nation and the world at large. To begin with I shall give you part of this Inaugural Address, then part of Black's 'Greatness of Lincoln' at which conclusion I shall recite to you Lincoln's second Inaugural Address:

"We observe today not a victory of party but a celebration of freedom—symbolizing an end as well as a beginning—signifying renewal as well as a change. For I have sworn before you and Almighty God the same solemn oath our forebears prescribed nearly a century and three-quarters ago.

"The world is very different now. For man holds in his mortal hands the power to abolish all forms of human poverty and all forms of human life. And yet the same revolutionary beliefs for which our forebears fought are still at issue around the globe—the belief that the rights of man come not from the generosity of the state but from the hand of God.

"We dare not forget today that we are heirs of that first revolution. Let the word go forth from this time and place, to friend and foe alike, that the torch has been passed to a new generation of Americans—born in this century, tempered by war, disciplined by a hard and bitter peace, proud of our ancient heritage—and unwilling to witness or permit the slow undoing of those human rights to which this nation has always been committed, and to which we are committed today at home and around the world.

"Let every nation know, whether it wishes us well or ill, that we shall pay any price, bear any burden, meet any hardship, support any friend, oppose any foe to assure the survival and the success of liberty.

"This much we pledge—and more."

"Then he continues:

"All this will not be finished in the first one hundred days. Nor will it be finished in the first one thousand days, nor in the life of this administration, nor even perhaps in our lifetime on this planet. But let us begin.

"In your hands, my fellow citizens, more than mine, will rest the final success or failure of our course. Since this country was founded, each generation of Americans has been summoned to give testimony to its national loyalty. The graves of young Americans who answered the call to service surround the globe.

"Now the trumpet summons us again—not as a call to bear arms, though arms we need—not as a call to battle, though embattled we are—but a call to bear the burden of a long twilight struggle year in and year out, "rejoicing in hope, patient in tribulation"—a struggle against the common enemies of man: tyranny, poverty, disease and war itself.

"Can we forge against these enemies a grand and global alliance, north and south, east and west, that can assure a more fruitful life for all mankind? Will you join in that historic effort?

"In the long history of the world, only a few generations have been granted the role of defending freedom in its hour of maximum danger, I do not shrink from this responsibility—I welcome it. I do not believe that any of us would exchange places with any other people or any other generation. The energy, the faith, the devotion which we bring to this endeavor will light our country and all who serve it—and the glow from that fire can truly light the world.

"And so, my fellow Americans: Ask not what your country can do for you—ask what you can do for your country.

"My fellow citizens of the world: Ask not what America will do for you, but what together we can do for the freedom of man.

"Finally, whether you are citizens of America or citizens of the world, ask of us here the same high standards of strength and sacrifice which we ask of you. With a good conscience our only sure reward, with history the final judge of our deeds, let us go forth to lead the land we love, asking His blessing and His help, but knowing that here on earth God's work must truly be our own."

THE GREATNESS OF LINCOLN

"There are subjects upon which nothing new can be said, but which still arouse the fervor awakened at their first enunciation. If the song was true when it started on its journey it will be sung as long as human hearts vibrate and tongues retain the gift of speech. It will be lisped by those who are tottering on toward the end, and echoed by those whose hearts are filled with the promise and the glow of youth. If the product was genuine when it passed from the Creator's hand, it will neither be dimmed by age nor cheapened by familiarity; for honor is not decreased by contact, and truth is never out of tune.

"If none of the old stories are ever to be re-told, many a noble inspiration must be lost, and many a tender chord must remain untouched.

"This is the age, I know, when the search is at its height for the new and marvelous. But in the fever of modern enterprise a moment's rest can do no harm. We must not only acquire, we must retain. We must not only learn, we must remember. The newest is not always the best. Modern literature is ablaze with beauty and with power, and yet millions are still going to one old and thumbworn text for their final consolation.

"Remembering the force of these examples, it will be profitable sometimes to step one side for the serious contemplation of rugged, lasting qualities in whatever age or garb they have appeared. The hero of an hour will pass as quickly as he came. The flashlight will dazzle and blind, but when the eyes are rubbed the impression has passed away, but the landscape that comes slowly into view with the rising sun, growing more resplendent and distinct with his ascending power, and fading gently from the vision at the approach of night, will remain in the mind forever to illuminate, to strengthen and to cheer.

"Men are like impressions. There are more examples of the flashlight kind than there are fireflies on a summer's night, but there is no nobler representative of the enduring and immortal than he in whose name this event is celebrated. Whoever imparts a new view of his character must tell it to the newborn, to whom all things are new, for to the intelligent and mature his name and virtues have been long familiar.

"His was the power that commanded admiration and the humanity that invited love; mild but inflexible, just but merciful, great but simple, he possessed a head that commanded men and a heart that attracted babes. His conscience was strong enough to bear continual use. It was not alone for public occasions nor great emergencies. It was never a capital, but always a chart. It was never his servant, to be dismissed at will, but his companion to be always at his side. It was with him, but never behind him, for he knew that a pursuing conscience is an accuser, and not a guide, and brings remorse instead of comfort.

"He wore the crown of power with justice, reason and mercy, and faced defeat with humility and courage.

"His greatness did not depend upon his title, for greatness was his when the title was bestowed. He leaned upon no fiction of nobility, and kissed no hand to obtain his rank, but the stamp of nobility and power which he wore was conferred upon him, by a power which, unlike earthly potentates, never confers a title without a character that will adorn it. When we understand the tremendous advantages of a humble birth, when we realize that the privations of youth are the pillars of strength to maturer years, then we shall cease to wonder that out of such obscure surroundings as watched the coming of Abraham Lincoln should spring the colossal and supreme figure of modern history.

"If you look for attributes that dazzle and bewilder you must seek them elsewhere than in the character of Abraham Lincoln. It was not by show or glitter or by sound that the great moments of history were marked and the great deeds of mankind were wrought. The color counts for nothing; it is the fibre alone that lasts. The precept will be forgotten unless the deed is remembered. The wildest strains of martial music will pass away on the wind, while the grim and deadly courage of the soldier, moving and acting without a word, will mark the spot where pilgrims of every race will linger and worship forever.

"No character in the world more clearly saw the worth of substance and the mockery of show, and no career ever set in such everlasting light and doctrine, that although vanity and pretense may flourish for a day, there can be no lasting triumph not founded on the truth.

"The life of Lincoln moved upon that high, consistent plane which the surroundings of his youth inspired. Poverty is a hard but oftentimes a loving nurse. If fortune denies the luxuries of wealth, she makes generous compensation in that greater love which they alone can know who have faced privations together.

"It is not wealth that counts in the making of the world, but character. And character is best formed amid those surroundings where every waking hour is filled with struggle, where no flag of truce is ever sent, and only darkness stays the conflict. Give me the hut that is small enough, the poverty that is deep enough, the love that is great enough, and I will raise from them the best there is in human character.

"This lad, uncouth, and poor, without aid or accidental circumstance, rising as steadily as the sun, marked a path across the sky so luminous and clear that there is not one to mate it to be discovered in the heavens, and throughout its whole majestic length there is no spot or blemish in it.

"The love of justice and fair play, and that respect for order and the law, which must underlie every nation that would long endure, were deeply embedded in his nature. There I know are qualities destitute of show and whose names are never set to music, but unless there is in the people's heart a deep sense of their everlasting value, that people will neither command respect in times of their prosperity nor sympathy in the hour of their decay. These are the qualities that stand the test when hurricanes sweep by. These are the joints of oak that ride the storm and when the clouds have melted and the waves are still, move on serenely in their course. Times will come when nothing but the best can save us. There is danger at such a time. The hurricane will pass like the rushing of the sea. Then is the time to determine whether governments can stand amid such perilous surroundings.

"The American character has been often proved superior to any test. No danger be so great and no calamity so sudden as to throw it off its guard.

"There is now rooted in the American heart, the faith that no matter how dark the night, there will somehow break through at the appointed hour, a light which shall reveal to eager eyes the upright forms of justice and the law, still moving hand in hand, still supreme over chaos and despair, the image and the substance of the world's sublime reliance.

"I should not try, if all the time were mine, to present Lincoln as an orator, a lawyer, a statesman or a politician. His name and his performances in the lines which we pursued have been cut into the rock of American history with the deepest chisel yet made use of on this continent.

"But it is not by the grandeur of his powers that he has most appealed to me, but rather by those softer, homlier traits that bring him down to a closer and more affectionate view.

"And Lincoln was never more imposing than when the milder attributes of his nature were exposed. He was genuine; he was affectionate; and after all is said and the end is reached, what is there without these two? You may measure the heights and sound the depths; you may gain the great rewards of power and renown; you may quiver under the electric current of applause—the time will come when these will fall from you like the rags that cover your body. The robes of power and the husks of pretense will alike be stripped away, and you must stand at the end as you stood at the beginning, revealed. Under such a test Abraham Lincoln might stand erect, for no man loved the humbler, nobler traits more earnestly than he. Whatever he pretended to be, he was: genuine and sincere, he did not need embellishment.

"None have less to fear from such a test than Abraham Lincoln, and his strength in that regard arose, it seems to me from the preservation through all his life of that fondness for his early home, of the tender recollections of his family and their struggles, which kept his sympathy always warm and young. He was never so great but that the ties of his youth still bound him. He was never so far away but that he could still hear the note of the evening bird in the groves of his nativity.

"They say the tides of the ocean ebb and flow by a force which, though remote, always retains its power. And so with this man, whether he rose or fell; whether he stood in the giant-like repose that distinguished him among his fellowmen, or exercised those unequalled powers, which to my mind, made him the foremost figure of the world, yet he always felt the tender and invisible chord that chained him to his native rock. In whatever field he stood he felt the benign and sobering influences of his early recollections: They were the rock to which he clung in storms, the anchor which kept his head to the wind, the balm which sustained him in defeat and ennobled him in the hour of triumph.

"I shall not say he had no faults, for is there any hope that man will pass through this vale of tears without them? Is there any danger that his fellowmen will fail to detect and proclaim them? He was not small in anything. He was carved in deep line, like all heroic figures, for dangerous altitudes and great purposes. And as we move away from him, and years and events pass between us, his form will still be visible and distinct, for such characters built upon the courage and faith, and that affection which is the seed of both, are not the plaything, but the masters of time.

"I shall now give you part of Lincoln's second Inaugural Address, called the most sublime document of modern times:

"On the occasion corresponding to this four years ago, all thoughts were anxiously directed to an impending civil war. All dreaded it, all sought to avoid it. While the inaugural address, was being delivered from this place, devoted, altogether to saving the Union without war, insurgent agents were in the city seeking to destroy it with war—seeking to dissolve the Union and divide the effects by negotiation. Both parties deprecated war, but one of them would make war rather than let the nation survive, and the other would accept war rather than let it perish, and the war came. One-eighth of the whole population were colored slaves, not distributed generally over the Union, but localized in the Southern part of it. These slaves constituted a peculiar and powerful interest. All knew that this interest was somehow the cause of the war. To strengthen, perpetuate and extend this interest was the object for which the insurgents would rend the Union by war, while the government claimed no right to do more than to restrict the territorial enlargement of it.

"Neither party expected for the war the magnitude or the duration which it has already attained. Neither anticipated that the cause of the conflict might cease when, or even before the conflict itself should cease. Each looked for an easier triumph, and a result less fundamental and astounding. Both read the same Bible and pray to the same God, and each invokes His aid against the other. It may seem strange that any men should dare to ask a just God's assistance in wringing their bread from the sweat of other men's faces, but let us judge not that we be not judged. The prayer of both could not be answered. That of neither has been answered fully. The Almighty has His own purposes. Woe unto the world because of offences, for it must needs be that offences come, but woe to that man by whom the offence cometh. If we shall suppose that American slavery is one of those offences which, in the providence of God, must needs come, but which having continued through His appointed time, He now wills to remove, and that He gives to both North and South this terrible war as the woe due to those by whom the offence came, shall we discern there any departure from those divine attributes which the believers in a living God always ascribe to Him? Fondly do we hope, fervently do we pray, that this mighty scourge of war may speedily pass away. Yet if God wills that it continue until all the wealth piled by the bondsman's two hundred and fifty years of unrequited toil shall be sunk, and until every drop of blood drawn with the lash shall be paid by another drawn with the sword, as was said three thousand years ago, so still it must be said, that the judgments of the Lord are true and righteous altogether.

"With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right, let us finish the work we are in, to bind up the nation's wounds, to care for him who shall have borne the battle, and for his widow and for his orphans, to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and a lasting peace among ourselves and with all nations."

The President:

"Senator Lennart, the members of the Senate and the President wish to express their deepest appreciation to you for the wonderful remarks you have made this morning. The remarks are befitting the solemnity of the occasion, and we are very grateful to you."

PRESIDENT'S PRIVILEGE

The President introduced a group of young students from Yelm High School under the direction of Mr. Edgar Prescott and Mrs. Elsie Schneider. He asked the eighty youngsters to please stand, along with Senator DeGarmo, that the members of the Senate might recognize them properly.

MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION

Senator Herrmann having given notice on Saturday, moved that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 16 passed the Senate.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Elway:

"Will Senator Herrmann yield to a question?"

Senator Herrmann:

Yes, Senator Elway, I will."

Senator Elway:

"What is the purpose of setting this reconsideration date until Thursday. Can this possibly be worked out sooner?"

Senator Herrmann:

"I will have to consult with the sponsoring parties, Senator. I don't feel that I am in a position to get the parties together now, but I think if I could wait until Thursday, we could adjust the differences, and I think it would be a lot easier for Senate Bill No. 16 to go forward in the House if those differences can be worked out here."

Senator Elway:

"I have no objection to the delay of a couple of days. I would like to ask Senator Herrmann if there is any objection to moving that up until Wednesday."

Senator Herrmann:

"Some of these parties that would like to be heard will have to come from the eastern part of the state and I don't think time is running out like an hour glass to the extent that we couldn't wait another twenty-four hours. I don't think those that want to be heard should be denied the privilege."

Senator Elway:

"I hope it is with the intent that we can correct this measure and get it on final passage."

Senator Henry:

"I rise on a point of personal privilege to compliment Senator Thompson. I would like to show you some evidence of the therapeutic value of the vitamins he passed out. The evidence is in Senator Nunamaker's chair." (Senator Henry directed attention to a small boy in Senator Nunamaker's chair).

PRESIDENT'S PRIVILEGE

The President:

"The President would like to ask Senator Nunamaker a question. Senator Nunamaker . . . (the small boy whirled around in the chair).

"This reminds the President of a quotation by George Bernard Shaw. It seems that the youngster has been deserted by his parents: 'There seems to be some doubt as to who are the best people to be in charge of children, but there can be no doubt that parents are the worst.'"

The President stated the question to be, it has been moved by Senator Herrmann that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 16 passed the Senate.

The motion carried.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Herrmann, the rules were suspended and Senate Bill No. 16 was returned to second reading for the purpose of amendments.

On motion of Senator Herrmann, it was ordered that further consideration of Senate Bill No. 16 be made a special order of business on Thursday at the top of the second reading calendar.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Greive:

"On Thursday, when we consider Senate Bill No. 16, what is its position on the calendar?"

The President:

"In view of the motion just carried, Senate Bill No. 16 will be at the top of the second reading calendar on Thursday."

THIRTY-SEVENTH DAY

MORNING SESSION

The Senate was called to order at 10:00 o'clock a. m. by President Cherberg. The Secretary called the roll and announced to the President that all Senators were present except Senators Dore, Gissberg and Keefe.

On motion of Senator Greive, Senator Keefe was excused.

The Color Guard, consisting of Pages Jim Archer, Color Bearer, and Susan Harris, presented the Colors.

Reverend Homer Kimmel, Pastor of the Church of the Brethren of Olympia, offered prayer as follows:

"Our Father, we have just been sobered by the symbols of our nation and our state—here are reminders of the struggles of honest men and women who have given all that they had against impossible odds, to carve out a way of life that elevates the good and the true. A way where young people may grow to maturity free from social pressures that pull down rather than lift up.

"Enable us to keep faith with Thee and the people, to not sacrifice what is best for what is good.

"Forgive us for what we have done in error or failed to do. For what we may yet do to establish justice upon the earth, quicken and strengthen us, and liberate our good impulses and greater our purposes until they become eager practices of Thy will. Amen."

On motion of Senator Greive, the reading of the journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was approved.

WHEREAS, The residents of the city of Olympia and the many friends of Rudolph "Rudy" Naccarato are saddened by the news of his sudden death on Saturday, February 11th; and

WHEREAS, Rudolph Naccarato was for years a faithful public servant, as assistant secretary of state, serving in the Attorney General's Office of the state of Washington and as an employee of the Legislature; and

WHEREAS, Rudolph Naccarato worked hard promoting programs to serve the youth of this state, and of the local community; and

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, By the Senate, that our sincerest sympathy and condolences be expressed to each member of the family of Rudolph "Rudy" Naccarato, and our assurance expressed that "Rudy" Naccarato will be long remembered both for his service in public office and through his many good deeds through fraternal and youth work; and

"The President placed the motion, Senator Riley, and there were no objections, so Senate Bill No. 21 has been ordered to retain its place as a special order of business prior to the second reading calendar for tomorrow."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Riley:

"Will Senator McCutcheon yield to a question?"

Senator McCutcheon:

"I will."

Senator Riley:

"Senator McCutcheon, you will recall last Friday you wanted this bill held over until Tuesday, because you wanted all the Senators to be here? I am quite positive that you are going to have a difficult time in getting 49 Senators present. About the only time you can do that will be pay day.

"Are you prepared, and will you consent to have Senate Bill No. 21 discussed tomorrow without any further delays?"

Senator McCutcheon:

"I will be very glad to. Who is absent today?"

The Secretary reported that two Senators were absent, Senators Dore and Keefe.

Senator McCutcheon:

"I will promise Senator Riley that we will go forward tomorrow."

Senator Greive:

"For the benefit of Senator Riley, these Senators are at the funeral of Rudy Naccarato, and certainly that is nothing that can be foreseen."

Senator Riley:

"I am, of course, a respecter of those who are here and those who are gone. I still feel that there is quite a little time left on Tuesday to consider Senate Bill No. 21, but I am not going to belabor the point. I am just anxious that consideration be given as soon as possible as there are other measures in the Senate that deserve consideration."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Cowen:

"I believe there is a former member in the lobby who would like to do something for the Senate."

APPOINTMENT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The President appointed Senators Cowen, Dore and Riley as a committee of honor to escort the distinguished visitor to a seat of honor upon the rostrum.

PRESIDENT'S PRIVILEGE

The President:

"Members of the Senate, Ladies and Gentlemen:

"It is an auspicious occasion when the members of the Senate find such an eminent and respected former member in the Senate chamber. It is quite appropriate on this Valentine's Day, the day of love and affection, that Patrick D. Sutherland should appear; he who used to foster so much love and affection as a member of the farm bloc.

"The appointment of Patrick Sutherland was recently confirmed by the members of the Senate as a member of the Public Service Commission. Of course, it was an extremely tough fight to get this appointment out of the Rules and Joint Rules Committee!

"Every member welcomes you in the warmest way possible and would especially request that at this time you address them."

Former Senator Sutherland:

"Thank you, Governor and fellow Senators. It is a real pleasure to come here this morning and interject a few words in your busy schedule, but I want you to know that the Washington Public Service Commission is very appreciative of you fine people and the wonderful work you are doing.

"And while I have a captive audience, I want you to know, ladies and gentlemen, that all my years in the Senate I did wield a very strong knife as to budgets. Our job will be tough in the Public Service Commission with three former senators having to cut to the bone. We hated to do it, operating on one-half staff, trying to get along with one secretary, and all, but we are doing it because that is the way you wanted things done.

"Seriously, I appreciated the introduction—just the way I wrote it, and you're very nice, Governor, to give it word for word that way.

"What about Rule 40? Do you still have it? If I were Senator Papajani, I would say, 'beware of Greeks bearing gifts.' I don't have any Greek in me, but I have a little surprise for you. You have always been so good to me, and just for that, you each get a little of everything. (The pages passed out life savers, crackerjacks, and bull durham tobacco to each Senator.)

"But, seriously, it is a pleasure to come back here and I am sure that you are all aware that I haven't tried to bother you, as I feel that once you step aside you should let the others carry the ball.

"Senator Dayton Witten and I are very appreciative. I understand some of the appointees ran into real trouble.

"I think, Mr. President and members of the Senate, I would like to tell you a little bit about all the goodies being passed out. There should be a little prize there too. (Referring to the crackerjacks.)

"People ask me all the time, what does it feel like to be out of the Senate? Do you miss it? I do have feelings of real emotion today, and I have sort of a list of things I miss most. One of the things I miss is Senator Herrmann's notes from the gallery. I don't know if Senator Riley is crystal clear any more, or not. I've wondered about that. I miss the way Senator Gallagher used to amend my bills. I miss Senator Woodall and, of course, Senator Neill on Washington State University's budget. John Happy sticking by the cities. I miss former friends on many occasions, working with the farm bloc. Senator McCutcheon, how are your prize cows coming along? Those are the things I miss at the Senate, and I enjoy very much coming back.

"If there is anything the Washington Public Service Commission can do for you, just let us know; that is, in the event that you don't abolish us altogether.

"I sure wish I could sit in on some of those tough votes!"

The President:

"Thank you, Senator Sutherland.

"In the introduction, of course, I was being quite facetious; yours and former Senator Dayton Witten's appointments were immediately confirmed with a suspension of the rules."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE*Senator Dore:

"It is indeed a pleasure and an honor to have former Senator Patrick Sutherland join with us today, and I want to say what the Commissioners are doing is excellent. I notice Senator Sutherland refrained from passing out the bull durham until his appointment was confirmed.

"Seriously, you left behind you a record that I hope I will be able to live up to in the years to come.

"As I am the Senator occupying your seat, which I cherish, I felt that I should address these few remarks to you and tell you that we are all so happy that you could be here today."

PRESIDENT'S PRIVILEGE

The Secretary read:

February 15, 1961.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the State of Washington.

These fish are the results of a "Pow wow" last night on the Nisqually Indian Reservation. This reservation borders Senator McCutcheon's district.

Big Chief "Eat 'Em Up" wants Senator Silver Tip McCutcheon and Senator Curly Maple Nunamaker to realize they are being watched very closely. Our fish can't vote—but we can!

Remember the Steelhead Bill and the Cowlitz!

Big Chief "Eat 'Em Up".

APPOINTMENT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The President appointed Senators DeGarmo, Knoblauch, Kupka, Rasmussen and Petrich to escort Senator "Silver Tip" McCutcheon and Senator "Curly Maple" Nunamaker to the bar of the Senate.

The President:

"Senator DeGarmo, would you please explain to the members of the Committee on Game and Game Fish what type of fish these are, and exactly how they were secured?"

Senator DeGarmo:

"Mr. President, one of the fish happens to be a steelhead with neck marks on it, and the other happens to be a prime female chum salmon."

The President:

"Senator DeGarmo, would you please explain how you can distinguish this fact?"

Senator DeGarmo:

"Well, the way you can distinguish if they are male or female is by looking at their mouth."

(The two large fish each had an arrow sticking out of their heads.)

Senator DeGarmo:

"I believe these are real arrows. Why don't you try to extract one, Senator McCutcheon?"

Senator McCutcheon:

"The Sergeant-at-Arms, I think will take care of the fish!"

"This female chum that Senator DeGarmo talks of—I don't think he knows what he's talking about. When I was a boy down on the farm, we used to call them 'Dog Salmon'."

"This is a steelhead fish, and this is a sport fish."

"Say, where did the Indians get these fish?"

That is fishing out-of-season. I don't know how these fish got here, but they are the fish we are trying to protect. I am not pointing my finger at the Indians, because the Indians are not the ones to blame; you pointed your finger at the dam this morning."

"Our God, outwardly we bow with reverence in prayer, but you see how inwardly our disordered lives need your guidance.

"We ask, O God, that if man's behavior has caused us to come today with bitter and vindictive hearts, that you would raise us to a nobler mood.

"If the ill treatment, injustice, and hardship of the world have discouraged us, and if we feel whipped and beaten, set us on our feet again, revived and reinforced.

"If our deeds shame us so that we hold secrets in our souls that we would hide from our best friends, grant us forgiveness and restoration.

"And if the world has been kind to us and prosperity, success and honor have been ours, guard our lives from pride and selfishness. May our fortunate well-being make us all the more devoted to serving our generation.

"Open our eyes to see that we need humility and wisdom. May we not be enslaved by apathy nor possessed by trivial matters. Give us a new concern for the well-being of the state, and bless us with Thy guidance. Amen."

APPOINTMENT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEES

The President:

"Ladies and Gentlemen of the Senate:

"At this time the President should like to request of Senators Washington, Cooney and Ryder that you act as a special committee to escort the Honorable Robert Hunter, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, to a seat of honor upon the rostrum."

Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, Robert Hunter, was escorted to the rostrum by the special committee.

The President appointed Senators Henry, Chytil, Knoblauch, Morgan and Hofmeister to act as a special committee to escort the Honorable Dexter J. Kerstetter to a seat of honor upon the rostrum.

The special committee escorted Dexter J. Kerstetter to the rostrum.

The President:

"Members of the Senate, Ladies and Gentlemen:

"The President is happy and proud to present the honored, respected and esteemed Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the State of Washington, the Honorable Robert Hunter."

Chief Justice Hunter:

"Lieutenant Governor Cherberg, Members of the Senate:

"It is a real pleasure for me this morning to participate with the honored members of this Senate in extending recognition to the only Washington-born soldier who has received the Medal of Honor in the United States of America, Dexter J. Kerstetter.

"At this time I hold in my hand the original citation that was given to Dexter Kerstetter by Harry S. Truman, the President of the United States, in 1946, reading as follows:

"The President of the United States takes pleasure in awarding the Medal of Honor to Private First Class Dexter J. Kerstetter, Co. C, 130th Infantry, United States Army, for service as set forth in the following citation:

"Private Kerstetter was with his unit near Galiano, Luzon, Philippine Islands, on 13 April, 1945 in a dawn attack against hill positions approachable only along a narrow ridge paralleled on each side by steep cliffs which were heavily defended by enemy mortars, machine guns and rifles in well-camouflaged spider holes and tunnels leading to caves. When the leading element was halted by intense fire that inflicted five casualties, Private Kerstetter passed through the American line with his squad. Placing himself well in advance of his men, he grimly worked his way up the narrow, steep hogback, meeting the brunt of enemy action. With well-aimed shots of rifle and grenade fire, he forced the Japs to take cover. He left the trail and, moving down a cliff that offered only precarious footholds dropped among four Japs at the entrance to a cave, fired his rifle from his hip and killed them all. Climbing back to the trail, he advanced against intense enemy machine gun, rifle and mortar fire to silence a heavy machine gun by killing its crew of four with rifle fire and grenades. He expended his remaining ammunition and grenades on a group of approximately twenty Japs, scattering them, and returned to his squad for more ammunition and first aid for his left hand, which had been blistered by the heat from his rifle. Re-supplied, he guided a fresh platoon into a position from which a concerted attack could be launched, killing three hostile soldiers on the way. In all, he dispatched sixteen Japs that day. The hill was taken and held against the enemy's counter-attacks, which continued for three days. Private Kerstetter's dauntless and gallant heroism was largely responsible for the capture of this key enemy position, and his fearless attack in the face of great odds was an inspiration to his comrades in their dangerous task."

"And to bring you up-to-date, I will read briefly from a citation just given to Dexter J. Kerstetter by Governor Albert D. Rosellini which reads:

"Honored by the President Harry S. Truman in 1946 with a decoration for valor, he was honored by the Nation as an honorary soldier."

"Honored by the President John Kennedy, in 1961, when he was invited to the inauguration.

"Dexter Kerstetter is hereby further honored by the people of the state of Washington for the honor that will ever be shared."

(Signed) ALBERT D. ROSELLINI, Governor."

The President:

"Members of the Senate, Ladies and Gentlemen:

"Thank you very much, Judge Hunter.

"It is a grand occasion to have with us this morning, a person of the stature of Mr. Dexter Kerstetter. Mr. Kerstetter, of course, is an inspiration to us all. The members of the Senate and the President join in extending to you the warmest welcome possible.

"Mr. Kerstetter, would you please address the members of the Senate at this time?"

Mr. Kerstetter:

"Lieutenant Governor, Good Friend Judge Hunter, Members of the Senate, Guests:

"It gives me great pleasure to be here today. This honor that has been bestowed upon me by the Governor and members of the Senate and House has given me great pleasure.

"I am not much of a speaker, but I am sure glad to be here. I would like to tell you that when I went back to Washington, D. C., I wouldn't trade one little part of our great state of Washington for the whole eastern part of our country.

"It always tickles me that people have said the eastern people know how to drive in the snow. There was a snow storm when I went back there, and three hours later, no one was driving.

"I got to meet the President's wife, mother, father, and the Vice-President, and was really treated fine while there.

"It gives me great pleasure to be here with you, and again, thank you very much."

The President:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Kerstetter."

The President:

"The President wishes to invite all of the delegation from Kitsap County, along with our honored guest, to the Lieutenant Governor's office for coffee immediately."

PRESIDENT'S PRIVILEGE

The President:

"At the request of Senator Wayne G. Angevine, the President would like to call attention to a group of forty students of the eighth grade at St. Benedict's School in Seattle, along with their teacher, Sister Marie Emmanuel."

The President announced the presence of four sisters and thirty-seven history students from Holy Names School of Seattle, at the request of Senator Dore. All were asked to stand and be recognized.

At the request of Senator Dore, a group from the seventh and eighth grades of the Seattle Hebrew Day School, along with their teacher, Mrs. H. Rosenbaum, were introduced.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Riley:

"My point of personal privilege on which I wish to speak is the fact that while I hate to say it, and I reluctantly do so in this instance, there was a bit of railroading done on this bill.

"I would like to call to your attention, Mr. President, that what has just now happened is indicated by a negative vote. This bill was rushed through without an opportunity to debate the question. While there was one negative vote, debate should be allowed.

"There is another division of opinion on this subject. Keep in mind, members of the Senate, that the Interstate Commerce Commission is the only one that can make these decisions. They are the ones to decide on these mergers. There are mergers going on every day in America. The present example is the corner grocery store." (Interruption.)

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Rasmussen:

"Mr. President, would this be classed under 'Personal privilege'? It sounds more like debate to me."

MOTION

Senator Greive:

"I move that the rules be suspended in order that Senator Riley might be allowed the privilege of making his speech."

Senator Riley:

"Mr. President, it is very gracious of the Senators to do this after the vote has been taken! At this time, of course, I appreciate the generosity! Even the winners do sometimes pass out something to the losers.

"In the question of the railroads, I would like for you to think for just five minutes. The railroads are on the highways today. The railroads are here in a straight jacket.

In business today, any time, you have rights. You are always allowed to get out of business, you have that right. The railroads don't have any rights. The poor railroad raised his hand for relief and did not get it.

"It has been mentioned here that we want the railroad merger prevented. Ladies and gentlemen, you have two choices. You have either the choice of merger or bankruptcy."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Raugust:

"I just want to object to the method that was used today in acting on as important a measure as this memorial."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Hess:

"Is the motion in order, Mr. President?"

"Can a roll call be interrupted to make this motion, or for any purpose?"

"May I say this; the matter of the Point of Order regarding the interruption of roll call, the greatest precedent is past, and earlier this session we had such a precedent.

The answer then was no. Plus the interpretation of this session, plus previous precedents in other sessions, I would say, Mr. President, that on no basis, for no reason, can a roll call be interrupted."

RULING OF THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"This is a matter that requires some deliberation. The President, in a sense, did rule on a Point of Order and the President did say previously that the motion was in order. The President would like to study this subject, and will prepare a written ruling on the subject.

"Now, if you want an immediate ruling on this subject, the President shall retire to his chamber and make a study and it may take some time!"

"That is about correct."

"I would like to inform the Senate that today we have a wonderful lunch of fried oysters, and it is very hard for even a good cook to put on a good oyster fry unless they have a little recognition too."

Relating to obscene literature, objects and performances and providing penalties.

Senate Chamber,
Olympia, Wash., February 10, 1961.

MR. PRESIDENT:

We, a majority of your Judiciary Committee, to whom was referred Senate Bill No. 148, relating to obscene literature, objects and performances and providing penalties, have had the same under consideration, and we respectfully report the same back to the Senate with the recommendation that it do pass with the following amendment:

In section 1, page 1, line 27 after "thereof" strike all of the material down to and including "thereof" on page 2, line 1

JOHN A. PETRICH, Chairman.

We concur in this report: John L. Cooney, Fred H. Dore, Martin J. Durkan, Frank W. Foley, F. Stuart Foster, Herbert H. Freise, H. B. Hanna, Karl V. Herrmann, John T. McCutcheon, Charles P. Moriarty, Jr., Perry B. Woodall.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Petrich, the committee amendment was adopted.

On motion of Senator Petrich, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 148 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Angevine:

"Will Senator Greive yield to a question?"

Senator Greive:

"Yes, I will."

Senator Angevine:

"I am not an attorney trained at the University of Washington, nor the Florida School of Law, so I can't speak about the legal technicalities that you propose.

"I do have on my desk, a number of magazines and I would like to ask Senator Greive if he would discuss these magazines for a few minutes.

"I have one called, 'Stag'. Is this magazine obscene in your opinion?"

Senator Greive:

"Mr. President, in my opinion, 'Stag' is not obscene. Very few of these are obscene. In fact, a great deal of this evidence was to prove what type of magazine was obscene."

Senator Angevine:

"Now here is 'Three Day Blonde', and it shows some very stirring photographs and pictures. Is this obscene? That particular magazine was purchased in Puyallup, which is Senator Knoblauch's district."

Senator Greive:

"I think there is no question but what it would take a great deal more than a single passage to make any magazine obscene. When a magazine is devoted entirely to one subject; that of appealing to the lewd, or dealing entirely in each story with sex, then it is obscene."

Senator Angevine:

"Senator, would you consider this picture in the same magazine obscene? This is a picture of a nude woman."

Senator Greive:

"No, nudity itself is not obscene. When I was young I went to art school and there is anything but obscenity in the human form."

Senator Angevine:

(Holding up another magazine) "'Sex Habits of Women Who Kill.' Is this obscene?"

Senator Greive:

"In that particular case, the magazine was used to demonstrate that this particular article could be obscene, but the whole magazine could not be called obscene because of one article. This was one magazine that was used to show how difficult it is to get any kind of conviction for the magazines which are not entirely obscene."

Senator Angevine:

"'Real advantageous'—doesn't look too obscene to me."

RULING OF THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"The President begs your pardon, Senator Angevine, but the President feels that you are bordering on being out of order."

Debate ensued.

Senator Angevine:

"I would like to put across my point. My objection to the bill was that this bill would restrict or prevent the sale of magazines and publications of all brands known as 'popular'. I am not taking the stand to protect the popular magazines. If I was to take the popular stand, Senator Greive, I would take the stand that you are taking. My position was that the magazines which were brought before us to demonstrate obscenity were magazines that could be found in the homes of most adults, and they could not be eliminated from the newsstands. My position is that they can't be classified as 'obscene', and I agree that many of them should definitely be eliminated. I, in no circumstance wish to urge that these should remain on the newsstand simply because they are popular. My stand is not the popular one—it is just the right one."

Extensive debate ensued.

Senator Foster demanded the previous question.

Senator Greive:

"Mr. President, I request the privilege of closing debate."

Senator Foster's demand for the previous question was sustained by Senators Ryder, Happy and DeGarmo.

The President:

"The question is shall the main question be now put?"

The motion carried.

Senator Greive:

"I move that the rules be suspended and I be permitted one minute to make a final answer to arguments as presented."

The motion carried, and Senator Greive was allowed to close the debate.

The President stated the question to be the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 148.

The Secretary called the roll and Engrossed Senate Bill No. 148 passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 35; nays, 10; absent and excused, 4.

Those voting yea were: Senators Bargreen, Chytil, Connor, Cooney, Cowen, DeGarmo, Dore, Durkan, Foley, Foster, Gissberg, Greive, Hanna, Happy, Henry, Herrmann, Hofmeister, Keefe, Knoblauch, Kupka, McCutcheon, McMillan, Martin, Morgan, Moriarty, Jr., Nunamaker, Papajani, Petrich, Riley, Ryder, Sandison, Shannon, Talley, Thompson, Jr., Washington—35.

Those voting nay were: Senators Angevine, Bailey, Donohue, Elway, Jr., Hallauer, Hess, Lennart, McCormack, Neill, Rasmussen—10.

Those absent and excused were: Senators Freise, Gallagher, Raugust, Woodall—4.

Engrossed Senate Bill No. 148, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

Senate Bill No. 149, by Senators Greive, Petrich, Dore, Keefe and Kupka (by Legislative Council request):

Creating a publications review board to assist in enforcement of obscene materials law.

Senate Chamber,
Olympia, Wash., February 13, 1961.

MR. PRESIDENT:

We, a majority of your Judiciary Committee, to whom was referred Senate Bill No. 149, creating a publications review board to assist in enforcement of obscene materials law, have had the same under consideration, and we respectfully report the same back to the Senate with the recommendation that it do pass with the following amendment:

On page 4, line 2, strike all of new section 8. JOHN A. PETRICH, Chairman.

We concur in this report: John L. Cooney, Martin J. Durkan, Frank W. Foley, F. Stuart Foster, Herbert H. Freise, H. B. Hanna, Karl V. Herrmann, Charles P. Moriarty, Jr.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Dore, the committee amendment was adopted.

Senator Hallauer moved that the following amendment be adopted:

In section 5, page 3, line 8 after the words "this state." and before "The board" insert the following:

"These publications shall include all movies, television programs, hard cover books, paper back books and magazines. The executive secretary shall each month prepare and mail to each member of the board a comprehensive list of such publications."

Senator Greive moved that the amendment by Senator Hallauer be laid on the table.

A division was requested.

The motion carried and the amendment by Senator Hallauer was laid on the table.

Senator Hallauer moved that the following amendment be adopted:

In section 5, page 3, line 18, after the words "The circumstances." and before "The board" insert the following:

"No recommendation shall be made unless a majority of the board have (1) personally evaluated the publications concerning which a recommendation is to be made and (2) concurred in the recommendation at a regular monthly meeting."

On motion of Senator Greive, the amendment by Senator Hallauer was laid on the table.

Senator Rasmussen moved that Senate Bill No. 149 be referred to the Committee on State Government, Military Affairs and Civil Defense.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Greive:

"Senator Rasmussen is hardly discussing the motion."

RULING OF THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"The President believes that Senator Greive's point of order is well taken. If you are to continue, Senator Rasmussen, you must confine your remarks to the motion to refer."

Senator Greive:

"I move to suspend the rules and permit Senator Rasmussen to have his day in court."

The motion carried, and Senator Rasmussen was allowed to speak.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Greive:

"Mr. President, I can see no relation or bearing, in what Senator Rasmussen is saying, which has anything to do with the question before the Senate. I don't believe Senator Rasmussen has read the bill."

Senator Rasmussen:

"It is suggested by Senator Greive that I did not touch on the bill, even though he moved to suspend the rules and I was given the courtesy to speak."

Senator Greive:

"Nothing, including the last remarks of Senator Rasmussen, leads me to believe that he has read the bill. The bill sets up a board to screen materials and thereby obtain a knowledge of what is obscene. There is no one who claims of having knowledge of what is in these magazines. The publisher, the newsstands, no one claims any knowledge of what the magazines contain. How else could we find out what are in the magazines, and which are obscene, unless we have a reviewing board for the purpose?"

"It would seem that Senator Rasmussen's remarks are not touching on the merits of the bill."

Debate ensued.

MOTION

Senator Riley moved that the motion by Senator Rasmussen be tabled.

A division was requested.

Senator Greive demanded a roll call which was sustained by Senators Happy, Riley, Bargreen, Knoblauch, Herrmann, Kupka, Thompson, Petrich, and Dore.

The motion lost and the amendment was not adopted.

Senator Kupka moved that the following amendment be adopted:

In section 2, page 1, line 25, after "of" and before "members" strike "twenty-one" and insert "twenty-two"

Debate ensued.

On page 1, line 1 of the title, after "board" strike the semicolon, insert a period and strike the remainder of the title.

On motion of Senator Washington, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 250 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lennart:

"Will Senator Washington yield to a question?"

Senator Washington:

"Yes, I will."

Senator Lennart:

"Will this allow a county, by itself, to contract for a toll bridge?"

Senator Washington:

"Yes, it will."

Senator McMillan:

"Will Senator Washington yield to a question?"

Senator Washington:

"Yes, I will."

Senator McMillan:

"What use is made of funds that are raised by the toll of any district?"

Senator Washington:

"They will be used to supplement the toll which is paid on the bridge itself.

"If the people find through a survey that it would be feasible if they raised an additional sum of money for some purpose; for example, the Naches Pass Tunnel shows it will be short of being able to meet the indebtedness. In that way, there will be a vote in the district to see if the people wish to bond themselves to raise that money."

Senator McMillan:

"That would indicate, then, that residents of an area would be sufficiently interested to tax themselves for this toll facility?"

Senator Washington:

"Yes, if they were sufficiently interested, or if they could afford to tax themselves for that purpose."

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 250, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 38; nays, 1; absent or not voting, 10.

Those voting yea were: Senators Angevine, Bailey, Bargreen, Chytil, Connor, Cooney, DeGarmo, Donohue, Durkan, Elway, Jr., Foster, Gallagher, Gissberg, Greive, Hallauer, Hanna, Henry, Herrmann, Hess, Hofmeister, Keefe, Knoblauch, Kupka, Lennart, McCutcheon, McMillan, Morgan, Moriarty, Jr., Neill, Nunamaker, Papajani, Petrich, Rasmussen, Riley, Ryder, Sandison, Talley, Washington—38.

Those absent or not voting were: Senators Cowen, Freise, Happy, McCormack, Petrich, Raugust, Shannon, Woodall—8.

Senate Bill No. 210, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

PRESIDENT'S PRIVILEGE

The President:

"At the request of the noted and honored Senator Reuben Knoblauch, the President would like to present a group of young students from Woodland School in Puyallup, who just arrived in Olympia via private cars. Seventy-five fifth grade students with their principal, George Sanders, and twenty parents, are visiting in the north gallery.

"Would this group please stand, along with Senator Knoblauch, in order that you may be properly recognized."

(Applause.)

MOTION

Senator Papajani moved that Senate Bill No. 369 be placed on the calendar on Monday for the purpose of clarifying an amendment.

The President:

"Senate Bill No. 369 has been passed to third reading and is now in the Committee on Rules and Joint Rules."

Senator Papajani:

"May I make the request that the Committee be relieved of further consideration of the bill?"

Debate ensued.

Senator Rasmussen:

"Could Senator Greive advise just what he is talking about?"

The President:

"Does Senator Greive yield to a question?"

Senator Greive:

"Senator Rasmussen, I think you should recall that I have been very generous to you when you wanted to discuss things close to your heart. I know I am a little out of order but I am trying to make an explanation for Senator Papajani."

RULING OF THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"The President realizes this has been in the form of an explanation. The rules do not permit the merits of the bill to be discussed except in the form of an explanation. However, the President realizes that Senator Greive prefaced his remarks with an explanation."

Further debate ensued.

Senator Papajani withdrew his motion.

Senator Morgan:

"As a first termmer in the Senate, along with some of the other members in the back row, I would like to know when bills come out of Rules. I would like to see some with my name on them come out!"

Senate Bill No. 16, by Senators Talley, Riley and Freise (by Legislative Council request):

Relating to annexation of territory to cities.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Herrmann, the following amendment was adopted:

In new section 4, subsection (7), page 4, line 11 after "of" and before "special" insert "school districts and"

Senator Herrmann moved that the following amendment be adopted:

In new section 3, page 3, line 11, after "commissioners" and before "that" strike "can agree unanimously" and insert "and county superintendents of schools can agree by majority"

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Herrmann:

"I want to say to Senator Dore that I resent the statement that I have in any way attempted to delay this bill for any other purpose than having a proper amendment added that would be in conformity with the wishes of all the people, including the cities. This particular amendment was agreed upon by the representatives of the Association of Washington Cities, and they have no resentment whatsoever to this amendment being added."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Petrich:

"Will Senator Herrmann yield to a question?"

Senator Herrmann:

"I will."

Senator Petrich:

"As I understand the proposed amendment, it requires the agreement of the county commissioners and county superintendent of schools. Would that make the county superintendent of schools the final authority on any of this annexation?"

"It seems to me, then, that the county superintendent has the last word on the decisions."

Senator Herrmann:

"Not at all. If you read the amendment, the mayor of the city or town can agree with the inclusion of the county superintendent of schools. We have the county superintendent of schools and we also strike 'unanimously' and insert 'by majority'.

"This amendment was taken up with the Association of Washington Cities and in view of the other amendment, they thought this was very proper.

"There is no attempt on my part to pass anything over. I am merely trying to have amendments adopted in keeping with amendments already acted upon."

Senator Petrich:

"Would the Secretary read the amendment again, please?"

The Secretary read the amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Moriarty:

"Will Senator Herrmann yield to a question?"

Senator Herrmann:

"I will."

Senator Moriarty:

"What would happen where you had two counties involved? Which county superintendent would be sitting on the bottom?"

Senator Herrmann:

"I don't believe that situation would arise, where a city goes over into the other county. Under present law, I believe that you cannot annex across county lines."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Riley:

"Will Senator Herrmann yield to a question?"

Senator Herrmann:

"Yes, I will."

Senator Riley:

"I want to submit the question asked by Senator Moriarty. I want to ask a direct question. Are you positive that there cannot be an occasion when two districts might consolidate and two school superintendents could be involved?"

Senator Herrmann:

"I am reasonably sure, yes."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Elway:

"Will Senator Herrmann yield to a question?"

Senator Herrmann:

"I will."

Senator Elway:

"For my record, Senator Herrmann, are you trying to kill this bill?"

Senator Herrmann:

"Senator Elway, I have expressed my feelings on that subject many times before the group. I am merely trying to make it more workable and more equitable to all people and organizations involved. I think in its original state it might have walked on the toes of some innocent parties, and I wanted to bring about a meeting of the minds, and after talking with the proponents of the bill and getting them to agree upon it, I am absolutely amazed that I ran into what I have here."

Further debate ensued.

The President:

"Members of the Senate:

"The President, at this time, should like to remind each Senator of Rule 16. Particular attention is invited to the part that says 'no senator shall impeach the motives of any other member . . .'. The President should like each to be fully aware of that particular portion of the rule."

The President stated the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment proposed by Senator Herrmann.

A division was requested.

Senator Herrmann demanded a roll call, which was sustained by Senators Nunamaker, Lennart, Herrmann, McCutcheon, Donohue, Bailey, Greive, Dore and Gallagher.

The Secretary called the roll, and the amendment by Senator Herrmann to Senate Bill No. 16, was adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 23; nays, 19; absent or not voting, 7.

Those voting nay were: Senators Chytil, Connor, Dore, Elway, Jr., Foley, Foster, Happy, Keefe, Knoblauch, Moriarty, Jr., Petrich, Rasmussen, Riley, Ryder, Sandison, Shannon, Talley, Thompson, Jr., Washington—19.

Those absent or not voting were: Senators Cowen, Freise, Hallauer, Hess, McCormack, Raugust, Woodall—7.

Senator Elway moved that the rules be suspended, Senate Bill No. 16 be advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill be placed on final passage.

A division was requested and the motion lost on a rising vote.

RULING OF THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"The President has already announced that the motion carried."

Debate ensued.

Senator Kupka:

"Will Senator Riley yield to a question?"

Senator Riley:

"I will."

Senator Kupka:

"This is coming on the calendar rather suddenly. I wonder why you didn't ask for a little more time at the regular session. I notice at each session we just can't get enough committee hearings and there is something wrong. I just thought maybe an amendment to make regular sessions a little bit longer might help this situation."

Senator Riley:

"Members of the Senate:

"It is a long question and a good statement that Senator Kupka has made. I will try to answer some of them for you, Senator Kupka, and for all the good senators.

"The question of getting on the calendar rather suddenly—the answer is 'no'. This resolution was first referred to the Committee on Constitution, Elections and Legislative Processes, then the Committee on Rules and Joint Rules placed the bill on the calendar for today. A flash calendar was issued and the bill appears on this calendar like any other bill, in orderly fashion. Now, as to why I did not ask for additional days to be added to the regular session, the answer is clear. Provided Senate Joint Resolution No. 23 passes this legislature, it will go to the people and there will be no need for a longer session now. In the odd numbered years, the session shall not be for more than sixty days and will not be concerned with revenues and appropriations. During the even numbered years, a thirty day session will be held at which time only revenue and appropriation matters will be considered. The facts are very clear as to the purpose of this resolution. We are clearly budgeting now for just about three years in advance, because the budget you are considering today was made up and approved about October, 1960, and this budget goes to June 30, 1963.

"Everyone of the members present have some sort of business if it is only managing your own business, and certainly, you budget your own affairs for a period of no longer than one year.

"The state of Washington is over a billion dollar business and I think it is intelligent that we come here at least that often.

"It took me a long time to convince myself of this, but I have been convinced, and that is the reason for the resolution."

PRESIDENT'S PRIVILEGE

The President:

"May the President remind the members in making remarks of his request at the beginning of the 1961 session regarding committee requests. The President remembers very well that he asked that Senators all confine themselves to requests of no more than six committees.

"At a later time the President should like to offer certain suggestions for the members of the Senate."

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Senate Joint Resolution No. 23, and the resolution passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 34; nays, 11; absent and excused, 4.

Those voting yea were: Senators Angevine, Bailey, Bargreen, Connor, Cooney, DeGarmo, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Foley, Gallagher, Gissberg, Hallauer, Hanna, Henry, Herrmann, Hess, Keefe, Knoblauch, Kupka, Lennart, McCutcheon, McMillan, Martin, Morgan, Nunamaker, Papajani, Petrich, Rasmussen, Riley, Sandison, Talley, Thompson, Jr., Washington—34.

Those voting nay were: Senators Chytil, Cowen, Elway, Jr., Foster, Greive, Happy, Hofmeister, Moriarty, Jr., Neill, Ryder, Shannon—11.

"Where now is Senate Joint Resolution No. 23?"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Riley:

"Will Senator Freise yield to a question?"

Senator Freise:

"Yes, I will."

Senator Riley:

"Senator Freise, this is my question: Are you convinced that this is the best philosophy? In other words, if we were discussing this in 1971 would you still believe it, or are we a little influenced by the people who make up the Department of Institutions and the Department of Prison Terms and Paroles."

Senator Freise:

"I can say this. I have lived in Walla Walla for eleven years and I have learned quite a little about the institution there. Since the Department of Institutions has instituted many measures, the atmosphere is altogether different. The type of treatment is altogether different and the results are very gratifying. They take inmates committed for a low type of criminal behavior and place them in the minimum security building, after so much progress has been made and their attitudes have really changed, they release them on parole and throw them to the wolves.

"That is when they really need the extra help which the Department of Institutions, who has really worked with these people, can give them. But they are put under the direction of the Board of Prison Terms and Paroles who do not have the time to give to these people and the rehabilitation program is not carried on because they are not familiar with the individual cases.

"To answer your question, this would be my feeling in 1971. Yes, my feeling would still be the same."

Debate ensued.

The Secretary commenced to call the roll on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 14.

MOTION

Senator Greive moved that the rules be suspended and Senator Connor be excused.

Senator Rasmussen:

"I object because I think it is the duty of every Senator to make himself available while under the Call of the Senate."

"Senator Woodall is in error. You can, under Rule 21, interrupt a roll call for a point of personal privilege."

Senator Connor having entered the Senate Chamber, Senator Greive withdrew his motion to excuse Senator Connor, with the permission of the Senate.

"Yes, I will."

"Do I understand your amendment now limits a surviving spouse to one hundred fifty dollars including whatever Social Security they might receive?"

Senator Riley:

"My amendment simply states that they shall receive one hundred fifty dollars per month. There is no provision here for a surviving spouse that might be covered by Social Security. My amendment would give this in addition to anything else."

"Yes, I will."

Senator Riley:

"Senator Gissberg, the language says the 'water commissioners'. Does that mean all of them, or the majority, when you make reference to the 'water commissioners'?"

Senator Gissberg:

"Well, I am sure it must mean a majority, as in any group. When you say the senators decided, it means a majority of the senators. I don't think any group could be expected to decide unanimously; it would have to be a majority."

Senator Riley:

"I would assume that. It is plural, so it must be a majority."

Senator Lennart:

"Yes, I do. In exact relation to the schools and the church. The relationship to the problem comes from the home and parents. How this is handled in the home will determine the delinquency in your children. That is the problem.

A division was requested and the motion lost on a rising vote.

Senator Rasmussen:

"I just want to bring to the attention of the Senators here on the floor the manner in which we are operating. I know that it is out of the goodness of Senator Greive's heart that he is making some of the motions to suspend the rules and permit some of us to speak after the debate is over, but it is quite obvious that if you are going to have rules they should pertain to everyone.

"In debate, everyone doesn't get to speak, and when the rules are suspended for one person to be allowed to speak, that is depriving the rest of the members on the floor of their basic right, and out of courtesy, they don't press the issue.

"I think this has gone far enough. I think to suspend the rules for a couple of people and not for others is entirely improper and an unfair way to operate, and I hope that we can get together sometime."

Debate ensued.

The President stated the question before the Senate to be, the adoption of an amendment by Senator Shannon.

Senator Greive demanded a roll call, which was sustained by Senators Hofmeister, Connor, McCutcheon, Foley, Angevine, Papajani, Freise, Henry and Kupka.

FORTY-FIFTH DAY*MORNING SESSION

SENATE CHAMBER,

OLYMPIA, WASH., Wednesday, February 22, 1961.

The Senate was called to order at 9:30 o'clock a. m. by President Cherberg. The Secretary called the roll and announced to the President that all Senators were present.

The Color Guard, consisting of Pages Tom Knoblauch, Color Bearer, and Marilyn Rottle, presented the Colors.

Reverend W. A. MacArthur, Pastor of the First Methodist Church of Olympia, offered prayer as follows:

"Let us pray. God of our Fathers, on this significant day we pray Thee, for this nation and this state—that those of yesteryear founded.

"We thank Thee for the heritage which has come down to us, bought by other toll and other tears than ours.

"We thank Thee for the great character that has been woven into the fabric of our nation and this state, for the great leaders who in crucial times Thou hast lifted up to direct our paths.

"Be Thou to us, what our fathers have said Thou was to them—a fortress—a bulwark—a high tower—a refuge in their day of trouble.

"We would find things in our deliberations this day that endure, and we would seek of Thee this day, a wisdom and a strength greater than our own.

"Make stable and wise our minds to faithfully administer our offices of trust, that we fail not man nor Thee. In Jesus' name. Amen."

On motion of Senator Greive, the reading of the journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was approved.

PRESIDENT'S PRIVILEGE

The President:

"Members of the Senate; Ladies and Gentlemen:

"On this particular day, it is proper and fitting for the President to call attention to the mock session of the Legislature that was held last evening. The members of the Senate and the President wish to congratulate the pages and bill clerks for their wonderful work; and especially to compliment Mr. Hayes Elder for his direction of that splendid affair."

The Secretary read:

By Senators DeGarmo, Gissberg, Gallagher, Neill and Woodall:

WHEREAS, All coins of the United States are inscribed with the motto "In God We Trust"; and

WHEREAS, The Federal government has encouraged the use of this motto in our public schools; and

WHEREAS, The Olympia School District has taken the lead by encouraging the display of this motto in the Olympia schools; and

WHEREAS, The use of this motto emphasizes that this nation exists "Under God" in contrast with the communist nations of the world which deny the existence of a supreme being;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, By the Senate of the State of Washington that the Superintendent of Public Instruction and the Boards of Directors of school districts throughout the state are urged to follow the example of the Olympia School District and encourage the display of the motto "In God We Trust" in the public schools of this state; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate deliver a copy of this resolution to the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

They are visiting Olympia because of their keen interest in legislative processes. Would you please stand, along with Senator Bargreen, in order that you may be recognized.

"The worthy and respected Senator from the Thirty-sixth District, Honorable Charles P. Moriarty, Jr., has requested the presentation of prominent and distinguished citizens from the Thirty-sixth District, members of the Democratic Club. Thank you for coming. Would you please stand, along with Senator Moriarty, and be recognized."

(Applause.)

The President:

"Members of the Senate, Ladies and Gentlemen:

"On a recent date the Senate acted upon Senate Joint Resolution No. 1. This is a document of historic significance and importance relating to suffrage for thousands of people in the District of Columbia. The signing of this particular document by the President has been delayed until today because of the significance attached to February 22, the birthday of the Father of our Country.

APPOINTMENT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

"At this time, the President should like to ask Senators Rasmussen, Riley, Cowen and Woodall to act as a Committee of Honor to escort the respected and exalted

Senator Gissberg, and equally worthy Senator Dore, to a place upon the rostrum where in turn these gentlemen will make appropriate remarks.

"Members of the Senate, ladies and gentlemen:

"It is with great pride and appreciation that the President presents the Honorable Senator from King County, Senator Fred H. Dore."

Senator Dore:

"Mr. President and Members of the Senate:

"Today is one of the historic days of the year—the day we celebrate and honor our great leader, George Washington. He was our leader during Revolutionary days and, of course, when the young Nation was founded. He became the father of our country, and when we look back to the presidents in history and examine them as to qualities, George Washington was one of the great presidents of all time that ever served this country. It is, indeed, significant that we in the state of Washington took his name and it is also significant that the Nation's capital was named after him.

"But a strange paradox took place in Washington. Through a quirk in the constitution, the citizens in the District of Columbia, some three-fourths of a million people, were not able to vote. They were disenfranchised.

"And so we took leadership in the state of Washington by introducing Senate Joint Resolution No. 1 which has already passed in both Houses. This will be signed by the President today. This particular bill will enable these people to finally exercise their right to vote. I think this represents a historic day and represents a great and high principle. It is particularly significant that only three states so far have passed this type of resolution. When two-thirds of the states have passed similar resolutions, the constitution will be amended to make this voting possible.

"It is fitting and proper that we, as the fourth state, should take leadership in this. We have taken leadership in non-discrimination in public housing, non-discrimination in public employment and unions, and being the fourth state out of fifty to go on record and pass the ratification of the Congress' work last June, by successfully passing and signing Senate Joint Resolution No. 1."

The President:

"Thank you very much, Senator Dore.

"At this time, members of the Senate, the honored Senator from Snohomish and Island Counties, William A. Gissberg, will speak."

Senator Gissberg:

"Thank you, Mr. President.

"Senator Dore and Members of the Senate:

"I am particularly pleased to be up here on the rostrum because it is the first time since I was elected to the Senate in 1953 that I have had the pleasure and the honor of standing before you members of the Senate from this position. Many of you have had the honor, and the thrill of doing so. Those of you who have not, have something for which to look forward to.

"Senator Dore has very ably presented to you some of the historic and political significance of the action taken by the Senate and the House in the passage of Senate Joint Resolution No. 1.

"I like to think of this day as a birthday party, because we are now celebrating the birthday of George Washington. I am glad that we have so many visitors in the gallery today to join with us in this celebration.

"I think it is very fitting that we have delayed the signing of Senate Joint Resolution No. 1 until today so that we here in the state of Washington can not only observe a birthday party, but so that we can send to the people of the City of Washington and the District of Columbia this, their birthday present."

The President:

"Thank you very much, Senator Gissberg. The members of the Senate and the President are of the opinion that Senator Dore and Senator Gissberg have each beautifully expressed the true sentiment and meaning of Senate Joint Resolution No. 1."

SIGNED BY THE PRESIDENT

The President signed: Senate Joint Resolution No. 1, witnessed by Senator Dore, Senator Gissberg and Secretary of the Senate Bowden.

PRESIDENT'S PRIVILEGE

The President:

"Members of the Senate:

"The President knows in his heart that the members of the Senate will join with him in standing for just a moment in remembrance of a beloved former member of the State Senate, Honorable Victor Zednick. The President will be eternally grateful to Senator Zednick for his many kindnesses to the President during the two sessions in which the President had the privilege of working with Senator Zednick.

"Would you please stand for just a moment."

(The members stood in silence for a minute.)

The President:

"It is fitting and proper that the Senate members and the President also stand in remembrance of another esteemed and respected member of the Senate who has passed on, Senator Harold Kimball."

(The members stood in silence for a minute.)

The President:

"Thank you very much."

MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION

Having voted on the prevailing side, Senator Rasmussen moved that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 149 passed the Senate.

Debate ensued.

Senator Greive demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained by Senators Hofmeister and Martin.

Senator Greive demanded a roll call which was sustained by Senators Hallauer, Knoblauch, Cooney, Durkan, Bailey, Herrmann, Kupka, Washington and Martin.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Knoblauch:

"I would like to call to the attention of the members of the Senate the fact that we went into session at 9:30 o'clock a. m. The time is now 11:15 a. m. We haven't even started to work on today's calendar. I have had requests from several of you Senators who want to get bills out of Rules Committee. We dilly-dallied around for two and one-half hours yesterday, and today we haven't discussed a single bill on the calendar. I think we should get to work. I think it is time we stopped this fooling around and get started. It is most important to our state agencies that we get some of these bills enacted. We haven't considered any bills as yet in connection with education which is of the utmost importance to the state.

Senator Talley:

"Will Senator Angevine yield to a question?"

Senator Angevine:

"Yes, I will."

Senator Talley:

"Senator Angevine, why didn't you bring these points up in committee? Why are they being brought up now?"

Senator Angevine:

"Senator Talley, they are being brought up now because it is sometimes necessary for a bill to be amended on the floor. My contention is merely that the bill is being amended now because it is necessary to amend it in order that it be presented in adoptable form."

The amendment was adopted.

On motion of Senator Angevine, the following amendment was adopted:

In section 1, page 1, lines 22 and 23, strike "[fifty] forty-five" and insert "fifty"

A division was requested, and the motion was lost on a rising vote.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Moriarty:

"Will Senator Angevine yield to a question?"

Senator Angevine:

"I will."

Senator Moriarty:

"Senator Angevine, if you change the word of 'may' to 'shall' in section 4, line 5 of this bill, I can't see your objection there. It seems to me that if you change the 'shall' to 'may'—it is still at the Board's discretion."

Senator Angevine:

"Then you must also agree with me that the amendment is unnecessary."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Raugust:

"Will Senator Angevine yield to a question?"

Senator Angevine:

"No."

Senator Greive demanded a roll call which was sustained by Senators Nunamaker, Connor, Hofmeister, Gallagher, Morgan, Kupka, Papajani and Angevine.

The President stated the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment proposed by Senator Raugust.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Greive:

"Will Senator Raugust yield to a question?"

Senator Raugust:

"I will try."

Senator Greive:

"You said you were going to leave this to the discretion of the Board, and as I read it here, specifically why are you amending this particular section?"

Senator Raugust:

"I think we should leave it strictly to the Board to make the decision."

Senator Rasmussen:

"Will Senator Angevine yield to a question?"

Senator Angevine:

"Yes."

Senator Rasmussen:

"Presumably, now you can have a situation where a retired member required nursing home care. Presuming also, the board would, under the proposal, have to take over this care. Presuming further, that under the proposal saying 'shall,' the Board would be required to take over this care although this person would have benefits whereby he would be receiving full time care. Would this be proper?"

Senator Angevine:

"Are you asking me if this could be true?"

Senator Rasmussen:

"I think that is the question. There wouldn't be any real reason for paying for full care."

Senator Angevine:

"If that is what you are questioning, it says clearly 'at the board's discretion.'

"I would imagine if it was decided that he was in need and the Board decided to take care of him, then they may decide what is reasonable."

Senator Rasmussen:

"As I read this, and I may be wrong, it says that they shall pay hospital care and nursing expenses as are reasonable in the Board's discretion, and I suppose that would be if you have a comparable amount, and that would be reasonable."

Senator Angevine:

"I would assume that if a city were in such dire financial conditions as to not be able to pay, then it would be considered unreasonable to pay."

Senator Rasmussen:

"I am inclined to think that the word 'may' would allow a little more discretion. I think that the 'may' would probably serve to clarify a little; however, I don't think it would hurt to pass this amendment."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Raugust:

"Will Senator Greive yield to a question?"

Senator Greive:

"Yes, I will."

Senator Raugust:

"Have you any figures from the cities as to how much this would cost?"

Senator Greive:

"I believe those figures are available. We had no intention of advancing this bill today. We had every intention of holding it on the second reading calendar for tomorrow and at that time would have the figures to show this body what this particular bill would cost."

MOTION

Senator Woodall:

"I move that Senate Bill No. 94 be placed on the second reading calendar for February 23."

The motion carried.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

State of Washington, Executive Department,
Olympia, February 23, 1961.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the State of Washington.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to a certain item, Senate Bill No. 95 entitled:

"An Act relating to state government; creating a joint committee on urban area government of the legislature; providing for the selection, term, and reimbursement of certain expenditures of the members of the committee, and conferring rights, powers, duties and prescribing the functions of the committees; providing for advisory committees; and declaring an emergency."

I disapprove and veto the unnumbered item appearing in the last paragraph of section 9, of the bill, reading as follows:

"funds appropriated generally by the legislature for legislative expenses or upon" for the reason that this item is drawn in such loose language that in effect, the chairman or the vice-chairman respectively, of the proposed committee would have a blank check to invade or even to exhaust funds appropriated by the legislature for other interim committees and other proper legislative expenses during the coming biennium.

I am wholeheartedly in favor of the remainder of the bill which will establish a joint legislative study and fact-finding interim committee for the purpose of evaluating the existing relationships between numerous municipal and quasi-municipal corporations, in order that during subsequent sessions of the legislature, statutes may be enacted assuring orderly growth of urban and suburban areas.

Fortunately, section 9 of this bill contains authorization for proper financing of this committee through means of a specific appropriation. Therefore, the item vetoed will in no way interfere with the desirable objectives of this bill.

With the exception of the foregoing item which is vetoed, the remainder of Senate Bill No. 95 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
(signed) ALBERT D. ROSELLINI,
Governor.

Senator Hess moved that the report from the Governor be adopted.

"Yes, I will."

Senator Gissberg:

"As I understand your remarks, am I correct in my belief that you will simply have a committee meeting tomorrow and take up the matter of having a public hearing with your committee?"

Senator Rasmussen:

"That's right. The only difficulty we have found is that usually only my secretary and myself sit down with the bills, and while she is very competent, I still feel that we need a few senators to turn out for these committee meetings."

Senator Gissberg:

"If I might continue. I would personally have voted on this, but I realize the importance of taking a bill out of a committee. On the other hand, there have been some very serious allegations made in this chamber that have not been answered to my satisfaction. I am sure that someone should be able to speak on Senator Happy's motion, and give us the facts."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Cowen:

"Mr. President; Members of the Senate:

"I think this is one of the most dangerous motions that can be placed before a body. I was in the House in 1935 when it was really dangerous to take a bill away from any committee. Only once in the last fourteen sessions has a bill ever been taken from a committee, and that was done at the time when there were a great number of senators present who are not here today.

"The hardest thing for me to do is to vote against Senator Happy, but I assure you that if you take a bill away from a committee and establish a precedent, look out for the future generations of this state legislature who will have legislation brought before this body."

MOTION

Senator Greive moved that the Senate advance to the fourth order of business.

Senator Rasmussen:

"While it is all quiet, I desire to notify Senators Happy and Cooney who wish to appear for a hearing on Senate Bill No. 180, that at 6:00 p. m. Monday evening we will schedule the hearing in the Senate Hearing Room."

Senator Happy:

"I don't think you can. That would be the fiftieth day and we aren't going to consider anything after the fiftieth day except bills on revenue and appropriations. Most of the people that want to appear are right here in the Senate and the House. There are four of us and there might be one or two others. Why not have it on Friday?"

Senator Rasmussen:

"The rules require that adequate notice of five days be given in order that people have time to appear from all over the state for a public hearing."

Senator Happy:

"Mr. President, is there any such rule that you have to give five days' notice?"

The President:

"The Secretary is checking the rules."

Now, by exempting the farmer, and giving him a longer period of redemption, wouldn't that make it more difficult for him to obtain financing? On a shorter period of redemption it is easier to obtain a loan. Don't you want to shorten it for the farmer, too?"

Senator Washington:

"That is not the particular problem as far as farmer loans are concerned. The people who engage in loans to farmers are not concerned about this. The main concern in farm loans is the amount of property involved. Many of the banks do not handle farm loans at all. In loans of this kind, it is the production record of the farm that counts."

"Funds from the sale of thousands of those acres has gone into the state treasury and has been used from time to time and transfers of money made in and out of this fund. In 1935 the fund was declared to be a permanent fund and since that time it has not been used and the money has been lying there. Whether or not it has accumulated any interest, I don't know."

Senator Bargreen:

"No doubt it has been used to finance certain things; and if that is the case, you must consider that the interest which we have been receiving may be worthy of consideration. We all know that there may be some saving if the institution were started now, rather than waiting until prices go higher. I think this is very important to know before the question is decided."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bargreen:

"Will Senator Thompson yield to a question?"

Senator Thompson:

"Yes, I will."

Senator Bargreen:

"Often in purchasing, I have studied this angle, but often purchases are divided into small amounts and in that way bids are not required."

Senator Thompson:

"This practice sometimes has been observed by some purchasers, but I think the responsibility lies with the Board to make sure that their purchasing agent is abiding by the laws covering this."

Senator Bargreen:

"Now, say there is a purchasing agent or a man in one of the first class districts, and to get around the provision he buys less than the specified amount so that he doesn't have to put the account up for bidding, I wonder if we have this same provision in the other districts as in the first class districts?"

Senator Thompson:

"At the present time there is no requirement for second and third class districts; and the requirement for first class districts is somewhat less. I think it is $1,000. Your point is well taken. In trying to solve that problem, it could be dropped down to $500 in order to make sure that someone who would wish to quote a price at the $500 figure would be able to offer their services on a catalog bid. At least we are striving to make the school business available to any qualified supplier who seeks the business."

"Unless we are changed, changed by the touch of Thy hand, we shall stumble on through life making the same stupid mistakes.
"So we seek Thy presence and power right now to aid us as we make the necessary changes in our attitudes.
"Where we are blind, give us sight!
"Where we fail to hear Thy voice, do something about our deafness.

Senator Hess demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained by Senators Riley and Nunamaker.

Senator Washington:

"I want to make it clear that we have had several members on the floor of this Senate who have had actual practical experience, and have seen for themselves with their own eyes what communism has done. Senator Raugust and Senator Papajani have added much in favor of putting the stamp of approval on this resolution with their type of factual statements. That is the type of factual, sound information that should go to our school children. I would be willing that these people who have a definite factual understanding should speak. That is the type of approach we should have, not the type we have been having here."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bargreen:

"Mr. President, I would like to ask Senator Hess if he would give the first speaker, myself, relating to either a bill or resolution, the opportunity to say a few words in closing?"

Senator Greive:

"I move that the rules be suspended and Senator Bargreen given the privilege of closing debate."

Senator McCormack:

"I may be confused, but we did vote on this. Is it in order to vote on it again?"

Senator Bargreen:

"The motion to advance was lost on a rising vote, then the motion to refer was lost and since there has been this intervening action, the motion to advance is properly before the Senate at this time."

RULING OF THE PRESIDENT

The President ruled that the explanation as given by Senator Bargreen was correct.

Senator McCormack:

"I grant that the rules can be suspended at any time, but can the rules be suspended and the same motion presented again?"

When the suspension of a rule is called, and after due notice from the President, no objection is offered, he may announce the rule suspended, and the senate may proceed accordingly."

"In this particular case, since other business has taken place, Senator Bargreen's motion would be in order at this time."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Angevine:

"Mr. President, if a motion is presented before the Senate, and if this motion does not receive a two-thirds vote, am I correct in assuming that you will refer this bill to some proper committee?"

The President:

"That is correct."

MOTION

The President:

"No, the motion is quite in order and will not require a suspension of the rules."

Senator Morgan moved that it be made mandatory that every member of the body view the film prior to any further legislative action thereon.

Senator McCutcheon:

"It is my understanding that Senator Woodall's motion is in order and Senator Morgan's motion is also in order."

RULING OF THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"May I suggest that Senator Morgan amend her motion, and the Senate Rules Committee be instructed to make suitable arrangements for viewing of the film."

Senator Bargreen:

"I move an amendment to the amendment, that the film be viewed but the film not be shown under the Call of the Senate."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lennart:

The motion by Senator Woodall was carried.

Senate Joint Resolution No. 36 was referred to the Committee on Rules and Joint Rules.

Senator Angevine:

"Would I be correct in assuming that this measure will have to be reported out by the Rules Committee, since it has been referred to that committee rather than to another committee, and that it will have to be brought out of the Rules Committee and referred to another committee and then go back to Rules Committee for second reading and then brought out again?"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Riley:

"Will Senator McCutcheon yield to a question?"

Senator McCutcheon:

"Yes, I will."

Senator Riley:

"I am a little curious. I am also cautious about this. It says, 'at least four times during the four weeks'; now, what's to prevent some ambitious official from publishing these notices one hundred forty-four times?"

Senator McCutcheon:

"There is nothing in the state constitution at the present time which would restrict the Secretary of State publishing as much as he wishes. Fundamentally, I think it is how much he can afford. The Secretary of State could not go above that amount because he wouldn't have the money to do so."

Senator Riley:

"Do you have any assurance, and can you assure me that the Secretary of State doesn't have money to do this?"

"Isn't it true that he has had ample funds all the time since we have been in the Senate?"

Senator McCutcheon:

"The Secretary of State has ample funds for some emergencies by going to the Governor's Emergency Fund. Now, we don't appropriate money for this, and if he has to go to the Governor to get the funds, the Governor won't provide any more items than are required."

RULING OF THE PRESIDENT

The President requested the Sergeant-at-Arms to request the people in the lobby to remain quiet and to draw the curtains.

Senator Riley:

"It occurs to me that the voters are very apt to receive less information on constitutional amendments proposed under Senate Joint Resolution No. 25 than they would under the present system. Now, I think we ought to let the people know what is before them. I am confident that the people will act intelligently when they get the information. I am a little concerned when we find we can do this for less money. But are we reducing the price and also reducing the media by which the voters will get this information in order that they will be aware that there is a constitutional amendment proposed?"

Senator Bailey:

"In answer I would like to say this. In the past, only one newspaper in each county published notices. As a rule, the weekly newspaper rate is so much less than the daily rates that the weekly newspapers are used. If this law passes, it will be in the weekly papers for four weeks and this will be then in all the daily and all the weekly papers. I think you will have a much better notice of election than under the present law. It still has the minimum in it that it had in the past. I think it is a much better law."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Freise:

"Will Senator Bailey yield to a question?"

Senator Bailey:

"Yes, I will."

Senator Freise:

"Would you have any objection if 'at least' were stricken?"

Senator Bailey:

"I think that would be fine with me. However, two or three days ago, the Senate took the limit off of TV and radio and I don't know why you would put it on newspapers tonight."

Debate ensued.

On motion of Senator McCormack, the rules were suspended, Senate Joint Resolution No. 25 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the resolution was placed on final passage.

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Senate Joint Resolution No. 25, and the resolution passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 47; nays, 0; absent or not voting, 2.

INTRODUCTION AND FIRST READING OF BILLS, MEMORIALS AND RESOLUTIONS

The following were introduced, read first time by title and acted upon as indicated:

Senate Bill No. 556, by Senators Durkan and Gallagher:
Making an appropriation to study and prescribe salaries.
Referred to Committee on Ways and Means.

SECOND READING OF BILLS

Senate Bill No. 182, by Senators Dore and Foley (by Departmental request):
Relating to public service commission.
The bill was read the second time by sections.
Senator McCutcheon moved that Senate Bill No. 182 be referred to the Judiciary Committee.
Debate ensued.

Senator Gissberg:

"The Senator is speaking on the merits of the bill."

RULING OF THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"Senator McCutcheon, will you please confine your remarks to the motion to refer."

Further debate ensued.

Senator Angevine:

"I believe that Senator Dore is doing the same thing that Senator McCutcheon was doing, and that is addressing his remarks to the merits of the bill."

RULING OF THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"Senator Dore, will you please confine your remarks to the motion on referral."

The President:

"The President should like to respectfully request that if Senator McCutcheon would like to amend his motion, then it would be open to debate."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall:

"Would Senator Dore yield to a question?"

Senator Dore:

"Yes, I will."

Senator Woodall:

"Under this particular bill as written, doesn't it say that in addition to being able to arrest a man for a violation of the law, that they can arrest a man for violation of a rule?"

Senator Dore:

"Well, that is a Public Service Commission rule."

Senator Woodall:

"Do you know of any other such case where a man can be arrested for breaking a rule?"

Senator Dore:

"That is very simple. The Game Department has the same type of rules."

Senator Woodall:

"Where you can arrest for rules violation without a warrant?"

Senator Dore:

"I just said there is similar existence of regulations subject to arrest in the Game Department."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Kupka:

"Will Senator Dore yield to a question?"

Senator Dore:

"Yes, I will."

Senator Kupka:

"Perhaps you can answer this. Did not the Public Service Commission, at one time, have these rules and they were removed and placed in the hands of the State Patrol?"

Senator Dore:

"The answer is 'no'. They thought they might expose themselves to some false arrests.

"As to that, as a private citizen, you can make an arrest, but of course, you take a chance of being sued."

Senator Kupka:

"You say they did it for a while. Did they do it unauthorized, or did they have authority?"

Senator Dore:

"These were the employees of the Public Service Commission looking for and sometimes finding these violators, but there was a case when one of these Public Service employees tried to stop one of the violators, and was run off the road by one of these violators."

Senator Kupka:

"Of course, the Public Service Commission has many general provisions in the courts, such as fines, etc."

Senator Angevine:

"Speaking on the point of inquiry, I am informed that the Game Commission is not allowed to make arrests from rules, they are in statutes.

"When a man arrests a person who is, in his opinion, violating a rule of the Public Service Commission, what does he do with this person? Does he take him to a Justice of the Peace, or the police?"

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Riley:

"Members of the Senate:

"I do not at all object to the comment made by Senator Angevine. I was in error and I had expected to talk on the point to correct the statement when I said it had been in the Judiciary Committee. I know it was in the Committee on Public Utilities. What I intended to say was that it was introduced by two attorneys and had been viewed by many members of the Judiciary Committee."

Senator Gissberg:

"Forest wardens now have the power of arrest. Natural Resources people have the power of arrest. The game protectors have the power of arrest, not only as to statutes, but as to rules and regulations as well. The Liquor Board has the power of arrest, and that is provided by rules and regulations. Also members of the State

Parks and Recreation Commission and its employees, so designated, are vested with police powers. The Humane Society may be designated as police officers. Railroad police are vested with the authority of police officers, and are empowered and designated to protect railroads.

"So, we are not talking about something new.

"I think that we all know here on the Senate floor what the problems are. I don't think we should refer this bill to committee. We should surely know by this time what we are going to do."

Senators Greive, Hess and Kupka demanded the previous question.

The President stated the question before the Senate to be, shall the main question be now put.

The motion carried.

The President stated the question to be the motion to refer Senate Bill No. 182 to the Judiciary Committee.

Senator Gissberg demanded a roll call, which was sustained by Senators Hanna, Foley, Knoblauch, Kupka, Washington, Greive, Hess, Sandison, Dore and Freise.

The Secretary called the roll on the motion to refer Senate Bill No. 182 to the Judiciary Committee and the motion lost by the following vote: Yeas, 20; nays, 26; absent or not voting, 3.

Those voting yea were: Senators Angevine, Bailey, Bargreen, Chytil, Connor, Donohue, Foster, Greive, Hallauer, Hofmeister, Kupka, Lennart, McCormack, McCutcheon, Morgan, Moriarty, Jr., Rasmussen, Raugust, Thompson, Jr., Woodall—20.

Those voting nay were: Senators Cowen, DeGarmo, Dore, Durkan, Elway, Jr., Foley, Freise, Gallagher, Gissberg, Hanna, Happy, Henry, Hess, Keefe, Knoblauch, McMillan, Martin, Neill, Nunamaker, Papajani, Riley, Ryder, Sandison, Shannon, Talley, Washington—26.

Those absent or not voting were: Senators Cooney, Herrmann, Petrich—3.

Senator Dore:

"I move that the following second committee amendment be adopted:

In section 1, page 1, line 20, after the period following "authority", insert the following: "Upon being so designated such person shall be a peace officer and a police officer for the purposes herein mentioned."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Kupka:

"Will Senator Dore yield to a question?"

Senator Dore:

"I will."

Senator Kupka:

"Do other states have this sort of system, or is this something new?"

Senator Dore:

"Senator Kupka, I think we have a list here of other states having this sort of system. It is nothing new that we give state employees the power of arrest. As Senator Gissberg stated previously there is a long list of agencies having this power. We have given those particular statutory agencies of government the power to do the same thing. We are just extending to the Public Service Commission the same power.

"As far as other states go, the answer is 'yes', but I do not know how many right off hand.

"The way it has been operated in this state, the Public Service Commission employees have been making arrests against these wild-catters, and they have also been using the State Patrol. As I understand, recently, through an incident, members of the commission realized that they had no statutory backing and there is very little they can do about it. The employees take their own risks and they have no statutory men to make the arrests.

"In reference to answering your questions, what we should do here is, we should adopt the amendment, and Senator Angevine has a long amendment which he wants to offer. I think we should adopt this amendment and then argue the merits of Senator Angevine's amendment."

Senator Kupka:

"The reason for my question is, are we the first to establish this system, or is it being practiced in other states?"

Senator Dore:

"I think I have answered that, Senator Kupka."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McCutcheon:

"Will Senator Dore yield to a question?"

Senator Dore:

"Yes, I will."

Senator McCutcheon:

"You spoke about an employee being run off the road by one of these wild-catters and he couldn't do anything about it. Doesn't that give him proper cause to believe that a crime has been committed and obtain a warrant for his arrest, if a felony has been committed?"

Senator Dore:

"By the time he went to the Justice of the Peace to get a warrant, the fellow would be across the border again. They have a real problem and I don't think these are infringements against constitutional rights since arrest is limited to the statute violated in their presence.

"I think you should adopt the amendment and then Senator Angevine will have another amendment and then you can argue Senator Angevine's amendment."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Angevine:

"In answer to the implication that my amendment eliminates the bill, this is not so. I do not even touch section 3; nor do I eliminate . . . (interruption)

Senator Greive:

"I demand to know, where is the point of order?"

Senator Bailey demanded the previous question.

RULING OF THE PRESIDENT

The President stated he believed that the discussion had ended.

The President stated the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the second committee amendment.

The motion carried, and the second committee amendment was adopted.

On motion of Senator Dore, the remaining two amendments by the Committee on Public Utilities were adopted as follows:

In section 2, page 1, line 27, following "violating" and before "any" insert "in his presence"

In section 2, page 2, line 5, after the period following "authority", insert the following: "Upon being so designated such person shall be a peace officer and a police officer for the purposes herein mentioned."

Senator Angevine moved that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 1, section 1, line 14, after "tribunal." strike all of the matter beginning with "any employee" on line 14, to the end of the section, and insert the following:

The public service commission shall provide in appropriate form citations for the violations of this title, or any rule or regulation promulgated by the commission, containing notices to appear. Such citations shall be issued in books with citations in quadruplicate. The public service commission shall maintain a record of every book issued to any employee of the commission. Every employee issuing a citation shall deposit it with the court having jurisdiction over the offense. The original shall be disposed of by the court only after trial or other authorized action by the court, including forfeiture of bail or by deposit of bail with or payment of the fine. The commission shall require the return to it of a copy of every citation issued. Any person who cancels or solicits the cancellation of a citation shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Whenever any person is cited he shall be served with a copy of the citation and a notice to appear in court together with a statement thereon of the offense for which cited. The person cited shall sign upon the citation his written promise to appear in court at the appropriate time and place. If the person cited refuses to so sign he may be taken into custody by any peace officer and be placed in confinement. If the person issuing the citation has reason to believe that the person cited will not make appearance at the time and place noted in the citation, he may take such person into custody to the nearest court of competent jurisdiction and require that the person so cited post a bond or other security in such sum, under such terms and conditions and with such sureties as to the court may seem proper under the circumstances. No citation shall be issued unless the offense is committed in the citing employee's presence. Any person failing to appear as promised shall be guilty of a misdemeanor regardless of the disposition of the offense for which he was cited: PROVIDED, That a written promise to appear may be complied with by an appearance of counsel.

Senators Kupka, Henry and Rasmussen demanded a Call of the Senate.
A Call of the Senate was ordered.

CALL OF THE SENATE

The Sergeant-at-Arms locked the doors of the Senate Chamber.

MOTIONS

Senator Henry moved that the rules be suspended, that the roll call under the Call of the Senate be dispensed with, and the Senate proceed subject to any subsequent roll call.

Senator Lennart moved that Senate Bill No. 182 be ordered to retain its place immediately following Senate Bill No. 111.

Senator Kupka moved that Senate Bill No. 182 be ordered placed at the end of the second reading calendar.

Senator Gissberg moved that the amendment by Senator Angevine be laid on the table and that the main motion go with it.

The President stated the question before the Senate to be, it has been moved that the amendment be laid on the table, taking with it the motions to place Senate Bill No. 182 immediately following Senate Bill No. 111, and Senator Kupka's motion to amend the motion placing Senate Bill No. 182 at the end of the second reading calendar.

Senator Greive raised a question of consideration on Senator Gissberg's motion.

Senator Greive moved to withdraw the question of consideration.

Senator Greive:

"I want to withdraw the question of consideration because Senator Gissberg's motion will not be in order. We have a motion to delay. It would seem to me that you can't logically reach behind the motion before us. The motion before us has to be dealt with, and I refer you to Rule 16, or Rule 217 of Reed's."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Gissberg:

"I don't have these rules memorized by number, but I have a very clear, distinct recollection and somewhere in the rules it says that when you have a motion to lay on the table, it does not take the main motion unless it is so indicated."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Angevine:

"I was on the floor and yielded to Senator Woodall, when I asked him if he would withdraw his amendment to the amendment. If everyone would withdraw all of their motions, I have the amendment corrected, with regard to that particular sentence."

Senator Greive:

"If any Senator desires to withdraw his motion or any other motion, that is his privilege. Once a motion is made, it belongs to the body. A motion may be withdrawn with a simple majority of the Senate. In addition to that, I will quote to you the particular section from Reed's on debate: 'The subject of debate is always the question last submitted to the assembly.' I think that takes care of the question."

Senator Gissberg:

"I quote from Rule 21: 'A motion to lay an amendment on the table shall not carry the main question with it unless so specified in the motion to table.'

"This is exactly what I have done, and exactly what I have been arguing."

Debate ensued.

The President:

"The main question before the Senate is the adoption of the amendment proposed by Senator Angevine."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Greive:

"On the point of order by Senator Gissberg, I would like to read: 'A motion to lay an amendment on the table shall not carry the main question with it, unless so specified in the motion to table.'"

Senator Kupka:

"I withdraw my motion that Senate Bill No. 182 be ordered placed at the end of the second reading calendar."

Senator Lennart withdrew his motion.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Angevine:

"Mr. President, what is now before the body?"

The President:

"The adoption of the amendment proposed by Senator Angevine."

Senator Angevine moved that the following amendment to the amendment be adopted:

On page 1, lines 13 and 14, strike the following sentence: "Any person who cancels or solicits the cancellation of a citation shall be guilty of a misdemeanor."

The motion carried, and the amendment to the amendment was adopted.

The President stated the question to be the adoption of the amendment by Senator Angevine as amended.

A division was requested.

The motion was lost on a rising vote. The amendment as amended was not adopted.

Senator Woodall moved that the following amendment be adopted:

In section 1, page 1, line 16, after "title" strike the comma and insert a colon and strike "or any rule or regulation adopted by the commission:"

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The motion carried, and the demand for the previous question was sustained.

The President stated the question before the Senate to be, it has been moved that the amendment proposed by Senator Woodall be adopted.

A division was requested and the motion lost on a rising vote.

A roll call was demanded by Senators Greive, Bargreen, Connor, Angevine, Keefe, Gissberg, Hallauer, Hanna, Washington and Durkan.

Engrossed Senate Bill No. 182, by Senators Dore and Foley (by Departmental request):

Relating to public service commission.

The bill was read the third time.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Donohue:

"Would Senator Freise yield to a question?"

Senator Freise:

"Yes, I will."

Senator Donohue:

"In relation to this question we have had several times about logging trucks going back and forth across the boundary, isn't it a fact that those trucks have originated in Oregon and are coming in according to the Oregon license code and are not subject to our controls?"

Senator Freise:

"I believe this is correct, and in discussing this with Mr. Cooney, he says it is impractical to turn this over to the State Patrol, for a violator may not come back within two or three weeks. Once he is out, he may not be back the next day. As a matter of fact, he might not return for two years."

The President stated the question before the Senate to be Engrossed Senate Bill No. 182 on final passage.

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 182, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 40; nays, 7; absent or not voting, 2.

Senator Donohue:

"Yes, in any county that has a public hospital district, and at the present time there is a category for tuberculosis, and also for public health. This bill, as amended, if passed, would provide that tuberculosis problems would have to be taken care of first, including hospitalization, etc. of known cases of tuberculosis in the county. Then, after that, if there is any money left, it goes into the health fund and if it is not needed in that category, it can be used in hospital districts throughout the state. I proposed a bill similar to this in the Senate and this bill came over from the House. We, in eastern Washington, have many newly created hospital districts and money for it has to be approved by the Department of Health and the County Commissioners before it can be distributed to county hospitals."

"It takes two-thirds majority to return the bill to second reading."

The President:

"This calls for a suspension of the rules, Senator Herrmann."

Senator Hess:

"Senator Greive, earlier in the day, stated that under the new rules a majority vote could revert a bill back."

Senator Greive:

"For once, I don't have the final answer to this. I do know that we amended the rules to change from one order of business to another."

The President:

"The President believes that Senator Woodall's motion is quite in order and that Senator Gissberg may be excused by a majority vote of the Senate.

"The President has studied the rules intensively and finds that roll call and/or yeas and nays are mentioned in Rule 3, Rule 11, and Rules 21, 28, 32, 35, 51, 52, 61 and probably others. In no instance does the President find a rule or order that states a roll call cannot be interrupted. On the other hand, there are several instances where the rules provide that a roll call may be interrupted. For instance:

"Rule 11—Although a roll call be in progress, a Call of the Senate may be moved by three Senators, etc.,

"Rule 21—Precedence of motions. Adjourn or recess, reconsider, demand for Call of the Senate are all of higher rank than the demand for roll call.

"Rule 28—A rule or order may be temporarily suspended for a special purpose by a vote of two-thirds of the members present.

"Rule 35—Except when under Call of the Senate, a motion to adjourn shall always be in order.

"Rule 52—The Senate may at any time, by a vote of the majority of the members present, suspend the rules and orders of the Senate for the purpose of going into the Committee of the Whole for the consideration of any bill, memorial or resolution before the Senate."

"The President believes that for a proper and orderly procedure, the Senate should consider the establishment of a new rule, to wit:

'When once begun, the roll call shall not be interrupted unless to order the Call of the Senate.'

The President stated the question before the Senate to be, it has been moved that Senator Gissberg be excused.

A division was requested and the motion carried on a rising vote. Senator Gissberg was excused.

Senator Hess:

"I think the Senator talks to excess. I, too, commend the President on clarifying one point in our rules. I think the Senator who is a freshman in our body is entirely too critical of this outstanding body. It has done a commendable job with both parties and will continue to do so if all parties act in the best interests."

RULING OF THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"The President believes, in ruling straight off the cuff, that Senator Hess is correct.

"The President believes that to dispense with the Call of the Senate is of equal rank and therefore takes over the motion to table."

POINT OF INQUIRY

"Will Senator Durkan yield to a question?"

Senator Durkan:

"Yes, I will."

Senator DeGarmo:

INTRODUCTION AND FIRST READING OF BILLS, MEMORIALS AND RESOLUTIONS

The following were introduced, read first time by title and acted upon as indicated:

Senate Bill No. 557, by Senators McCormack, Gissberg, Hanna, Angevine, Bargreen, Connor, DeGarmo, Durkan, Foley, Gallagher, Greive, Henry, Herrmann, Hess, Hofmeister, Knoblauch, Kupka, Lennart, McCutcheon, Martin, Morgan, Nunamaker, Papajani, Petrich, Raugust, Riley, Sandison, Talley, Thompson, Jr. and Washington (by Executive request):

An Act relating to state government; establishing a youth development and conservation corps to provide healthful outdoor training and employment for young men of Washington state; and to provide for the care and improvement of our public properties through conservation and development of our natural resources of timber, soil, wildlife and recreation areas.

On motion of Senator McCormack, the rules were suspended, and more than three sponsors were permitted on Senate Bill No. 557.

Referred to Committee on Natural Resources.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 9, by Senators Hallauer, Foley and Neill: Requiring Legislative Council to study pension and retirement plans for state and local public officials.

On motion of Senator Hallauer, the rules were suspended, Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 9 was advanced to second reading and read the second time in full.

On motion of Senator Hallauer, the rules were suspended, Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 9 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the resolution was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

Senator Bailey:

"Will Senator Hallauer yield to a question?"

Senator Hallauer:

"Yes, I will."

Senator Bailey:

"By following on this resolution, do we preclude any consideration on the so-called pension bills, retirement systems etc.?"

Senator Hallauer:

"It is planned that there will be a meeting of the Ways and Means Committee for consideration of measures of all types in those categories."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hess:

"Will Senator Hallauer yield to a question?"

Senator Hallauer:

"Yes, I will."

Senator Hess:

"Why is this a matter for the Legislative Council, rather than the Legislative Budget Committee?"

Senator Hallauer:

"The Legislative Council has already done some work in connection with the Teachers' Retirement Plan. They have already entered into this field and are better prepared."

Senator Hess:

"How is this to be financed?"

Senator Hallauer:

"A line item for such study and approval by the Legislative Council will be provided."

Senator Hess:

"Some of us feel that the Legislative Council was somewhat opinionated and felt that such a study could be better made by the Legislative Budget Committee. Would you feel responsive to this if we had the feeling that the Legislative Council's opinion was biased?"

Senator Hallauer:

"I am surprised to hear you say this because there are twenty-one members on the Legislative Council who consist of both political parties and it is up to these members to make sure that they act in a fair manner. With this cross-section of thinking it seems to me they would be less opinionated than a smaller body.

"On the other hand there are only ten members in the other body. I am a bit surprised at your inquiry."

MOTION

Senator Hess:

"I move that further consideration of Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 9 be deferred until tomorrow's calendar."

The President stated the question before the Senate to be it has been moved that Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 9 hold its place on the third reading calendar for tomorrow.

PRESENTATION OF PETITIONS, MEMORIALS, RESOLUTIONS AND MOTIONS*MOTION

Senator Henry:

"Having given notice on Saturday, I now move that Rule 32 of the Senate Rules be amended by adding a new paragraph thereto to read as follows:

AMENDMENT TO SENATE RULE 32

"When once begun the roll call may not be interrupted for any purpose other than to move a Call of the Senate."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Hess:

"If this rule is adopted, would the Chair recognize a member for any motion other than to move for a Call of the Senate?"

"I specifically refer to a motion to suspend the rules for any of a number of purposes."

The President:

"The President believes that the member rising to suspend the rules will be recognized if the suspension is of enough importance."

Senator Hess:

"The reason for this parliamentary inquiry is that the Senate has been somewhat loose in this motion. If a Senator could use the right to suspend the rules for any purpose, then a roll call could be interrupted for any purpose."

The President:

"The President would be reluctant to recognize the Senators promiscuously.

"There could be occasions, for instance, when the Senate is under roll call which might unnecessarily delay the proceedings. The President also would give ample opportunity for the Senators who so desire to change their vote."

Senator Hess:

"It would be the intention of the President, then, to inquire as to the motion, and unless it would be an emergency of some nature, the President would not recognize him."

The President:

"The Senator has explained it very well."

PRESIDENT'S PRIVILEGE

The President:

"The President should like to respectfully remind the members of the Senate of a statement in Rule 11. The Secretary shall call the roll and note the absentees, after which the names of the absentees shall again be called. The President believes that should apply on a roll call of a bill. The President believes this would expedite and be more orderly."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Greive:

"The only problem you have, there may come a time when someone might be in the middle of a roll call and want to vote at the end. It could be very crucial. I feel that it is going to have to remain the way it is to take care of such cases as this."

The President stated the question before the Senate to be, it has been moved that the proposed amendment to Senate Rule 32 be adopted.

The motion carried, and the amendment was adopted.

The Secretary read:
