The Senate resumed consideration of Senate Bill No. 445 on second reading.

MOTION

At 2:50 p. m., on motion of Senator Bailey, the Senate recessed until 3:35 p. m.

SECOND AFTERNOON SESSION

The President called the Senate to order at 3:35 p. m.

The Secretary called the roll and announced to the President that all Senators were present except Senator Foley.

On motion of Senator Greive, Senator Foley was excused.

Senators Greive, Connor and Cooney demanded a Call of the Senate.

A Call of the Senate was ordered.

CALL OF THE SENATE

The Sergeant at Arms locked the doors of the Senate chamber.

The Secretary called the roll on the Call of the Senate, all members being present except Senator Foley and Senator Peterson, Senator Foley having been excused.

Senator Greive moved that the Senate proceed under the Call of the Senate, subject to roll call.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Woodall:

"Mr. President:

"I object to further proceeding subject to roll call. It has been a standing rule of this body that once the call has been demanded, all other matters cannot be taken up until such time as the Call of the Senate has been completed."

Senator Greive:

"The rule in question is eleven, and while I am not sure that that might not be a tradition, I know of no rule that so states."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"The President, ruling upon the point of order as presented by Senator Woodall, believes that the majority of the members present could adopt a motion to proceed in order if they desire to do so. It has been moved that the Senate proceed in order subject to roll call."

Senator Woodall:

"Mr. President:

"I would like to refer the President to the President's Ruling on page 269 of the Journal of the Senate of the last session. I refer to the case of 'The People v. Cowen and Keefe,' where I believe they had started a little junket, and I believe the President ruled ably and correctly that we hold matters in abeyance until such time as those men were returned, and here is what the President said, on page 268:

"The President believes that in those cases where a member of the Senate is absent, it will take the unanimous approval of the Senate to excuse the absent Senators. In the past, the President has accepted motions to suspend the rules in the interest of expediting legislative matters, but in this particular case, it will take the unanimous approval of the members of the Senate to excuse a member from a roll call."

Senator Greive:

"May I ask Senator Woodall a question, please?"

The President:

"Will Senator Woodall yield?"

Senator Woodall:

"Yes."

Senator Greive:

"Is that merely because there was a Call of the Senate, or was that under circumstances where there was a roll call in progress?"

Senator Gissberg:

"I would just simply like to point out that the precedent you cite is not in point at all because we are not seeking to excuse the Senator. We simply seek to proceed in order, subject to roll call."

Senator Woodall:

"With the understanding that the ruling that is now being made will not apply at the time a roll call has commenced, I have no objection to proceeding with discussion."

Senator Greive:

"I move we dispense with the Call of the Senate."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"The President believes that Senator Gissberg has explained the situation, Senator Greive, and the President further would explain that no one has requested that Senator Peterson be excused. The motion was to proceed in order, subject to roll call."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Riley:

"Point of inquiry, Mr. President:

"Can a motion to dispense with the call be made during a roll call where we have not yet completed the roll call?"

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"Thank you, Senator Riley. The President believes that Senator Greive's motion would be in order under the roll call of the Senate but not under roll call on a question."

On motion of Senator Greive, the Senate dispensed with further proceedings under the Call of the Senate.

"Sec. 4. Section 4, chapter 35, Laws of 1945 as amended by section 1, chapter 214, Laws of 1949 and RCW 50.04.030 are each amended to read as follows:

"Benefit year" means the period beginning with the first full calendar week in July and ending the following calendar year with the last calendar week beginning in June, except that commencing July 5, 1964, the term "benefit year" as to each respective individual shall mean the fifty-two consecutive week period beginning with the first day of the calendar week in which the individual is unemployed and files an application for an initial determination of benefit rights, and thereafter, the fifty-two consecutive week period beginning with the first day of the week in which the individual next files an application for an initial determination of benefit rights after the termination of his last preceding benefit year, except in any case where at the expiration of fifty-two weeks the establishment of a new benefit year would result in the use of a quarter in the base year that had been included in a previous base year, the benefit year shall be deemed to be fifty-three weeks: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That a benefit year is not established unless the determination shows the claimant to have met the employment and wage benefit eligibility conditions.

"Sec. 5. Section 68, chapter 35, Laws of 1945, as last amended by section 3, chapter 266, Laws of 1959 and RCW 50.20.010 are each amended to read as follows:

An unemployed individual shall be eligible to receive waiting period credits or benefits with respect to any week only if the commissioner finds that

(1) he has registered for work at, and thereafter has continued to report at, an employment office in accordance with such regulation as the commissioner may prescribe, except that the commissioner may by regulation waive or alter either or both of the requirements of this subdivision as to individuals attached to regular jobs and as to such other types of cases or situations with respect to which he finds that compliance with such requirements would be oppressive, or would be inconsistent with the purposes of this title;

(2) he has filed an application for an initial determination and made a claim for waiting period credit or for benefits in accordance with the provisions of this title;

(3) he is able to work, and is available for work in any trade, occupation, profession, or business for which he is reasonably fitted. To be available for work an individual must be ready, able, and willing immediately to accept any suitable work which may be offered to him and must be actively seeking work pursuant to customary trade practices and through other methods when so directed by the commissioner or his agents;

(4) he has been unemployed for a waiting period of one week; [and]

(5) he has within the base year been paid wages of not less than the minimum amount now or hereafter fixed by law as the minimum amount to be earned in order to allow the individual to receive unemployment benefits; and

(6) he has had a minimum of twenty weeks of employment within the base year and has received remuneration for at least sixteen hours of employment in each such week: PROVIDED, That only during the benefit year beginning July 7, 1963, any unemployed individual who earned wages of twelve hundred dollars or more in the base year of 1962 shall be presumed to have met the eligibility requirements of this subsection.

"Sec. 6. Section 89, chapter 35, Laws of 1945, as amended by section 18, chapter 214, Laws of 1949 and RCW 50.24.010 are each amended to read as follows:

Contributions shall accrue and become payable by each employer for each calendar year in which he is subject to this title at the rate of two and seven-tenths percent of wages paid, except as provided in sections 6, 7 and 8 of this amendatory act.

Contributions shall become due and be paid by each employer to the treasurer for the unemployment compensation fund in accordance with such regulations as the commissioner may prescribe, and shall not be deducted, in whole or in part from the remuneration of individuals in employment of the employer. Any deduction in violation of the provisions of this section shall be unlawful.

In the payment of any contributions, a fractional part of a cent shall be disregarded unless it amounts to one-half cent or more, in which case it shall be increased to one cent.

"Sec. 7. There is added to chapter 35, Laws of 1945 and to chapter 50.24 RCW three new sections to read as set forth in section 6 through 8 of this amendatory act.

"Sec. 8. (1) "Taxable payroll" as used in this chapter means all remuneration paid by an employer or employers on which contributions are payable.

(2) "Rate year" means the calendar year next succeeding the date of rate determination for which any assigned contribution rate is applicable.

(3) "Date of rate determination" means the first day of the first full calendar week in July, except that commencing July 1, 1964, the "date of rate determination" shall mean July 1.

(4) (a) "Eligible employer" means any employer whose account could have been charged with benefits throughout the thirty-six consecutive calendar month period immediately preceding the date of rate determination had the benefit charging provisions been in effect.

(b) Any employer who has not been subject to the act for a period of time sufficient to be classified as an eligible employer under the provisions of part (a) of this definition but whose account could have been charged with benefits throughout at least the twelve consecutive month period immediately preceding the date of rate determination shall be classified as an eligible employer.

"Sec. 9. An experience rating account shall be established and maintained for each employer based on existing records of the employment security department and shall be effective beginning with the benefit year commencing July 3, 1960. Benefits paid to any eligible individual for unemployment subsequent to July 3, 1960, shall be charged to the experience rating accounts of each of his employers during his base year in the same proportion that the wages paid by each employer to the individual during the base year bear to the wages paid by all employers to that individual during that year: Provided, however, That when after July 6, 1963, an individual has been disqualified for benefits for misconduct connected with his work pursuant to RCW 50.20.060, benefits subsequently paid to him shall not be charged to the experience rating account of any employer but shall be treated as noncharged benefits as hereinafter defined: Provided further, That benefit charges to the account of an employer for periods of unemployment in the fifty-two week period immediately preceding the date of rate determination shall not be adjusted for any benefit overpayments established under the provisions of RCW 50.20.190, after August 1st following the date of rate determination.

For the rate year 1964 and each rate year thereafter a benefit ratio shall be computed for each eligible employer. Benefits charged for unemployment for calendar weeks ending during the twelve-month period immediately preceding the date of rate determination shall be limited to payments made prior to August 1st next following. The computation of benefit ratios shall be extended to four decimal places beyond which all fractions shall be disregarded.

(1) For rate year 1964 and each rate year thereafter the benefit ratio for an employer shall be the quotient obtained by dividing the total benefits charge to his account for unemployment for calendar weeks ending during the thirty-six consecutive month period immediately preceding the date of rate determination by that portion of his taxable payroll for the twelve completed calendar quarters ending on June 30th immediately preceding the date of rate determination on which all contributions due have been paid by September 30th following such date or rate determination: Provided, That for the rate year beginning January 1, 1964, benefit charges used in determining benefit rates shall be for unemployment during the period beginning July 3, 1960, and through July 6, 1963, and that for the rate year beginning January 1, 1965, benefit charges shall be for unemployment during the period beginning with July 2, 1961.

(2) Effective January 1, 1964, a basic contribution rate for each eligible employer for whom a benefit ratio is computed shall be established as set forth in the table below:

Employer's Benefit Ratio	Employer's Basic Contribution Rate
.0000 -	.5%
.0001 - .0019	.6%
.0020 - .0039	.7%
.0040 - .0059	.8%
.0060 - .0079	.9%
.0080 - .0099	1.0%
.0100 - .0119	1.2%
.0120 - .0139	1.4%
.0140 - .0159	1.6%

.0160 - .0179	1.8%
.0180 - .0199	2.0%
.0200 - .0219	2.2%
.0220 - .0239	2.4%
.0240 - .0259	2.6%
.0260 and over	2.7%

Effective January 1, 1964, the computed contribution rate for an eligible employer shall be his basic contribution rate as adjusted according to subsections (3) and (4) of this section. The maximum computed contribution rate which may be assigned to any eligible employer following adjustments is 3.2 percent: Provided, That an employer who is not eligible for a computed contribution rate as provided by this act shall be assigned a contribution rate of 2.7 percent.

(3) If the balance in the unemployment compensation fund as of June 30th immediately preceding the date of rate determination is less than eight percent of the taxable payroll for all employers for the four completed calendar quarters immediately preceding the date of rate determination as reported by September 30th of that calendar year, a solvency adjustment factor will be added to the basic rate of each eligible employer. Such adjustment factor shall be computed by multiplying by one hundred the quotient derived by dividing the difference between eight percent of the taxable payroll for all employers for the four completed calendar quarters immediately preceding the date of rate determination as reported by September 30th and the amount in the unemployment compensation fund on June 30th of such year by the taxable payroll for all employers for the same four calendar quarters: Provided, That such quotient shall be computed to the fourth decimal place, beyond which all fractions will be disregarded. Such adjustment factor shall not exceed 0.2500 percent of taxable payroll in any one year.

(4) With respect to employment on and after January 1, 1964, computed contribution rates for the payment of contributions payable under this act shall be assigned to each eligible employer: Provided, That no computed contribution rates below 2.7 percent will be assigned for a rate year if the balance in the unemployment compensation fund as of June 30th immediately preceding the date of rate determination is less than six percent of the taxable payroll of all employers for the four completed calendar quarters preceding the date of rate determination and reported by September 30th. The computed contribution rate assigned to any eligible employer will be his basic rate as adjusted for fund balance and adjusted further by the following adjustment factors and rounded to the nearest one-tenth of one percent.

(a) In determining the computed contribution rate for an eligible employer an adjustment factor for noncharged benefits will be added to the basic contribution rate as adjusted for fund balance if noncharged benefits exceed the amount of federal interest credited to the unemployment compensation fund during the twelve-month period preceding the date of rate determination. Any such excess shall be divided by the combined taxable payrolls of eligible employers whose benefit ratios as computed in accordance with this section are .0270 or less. The quotient shall be computed to the fourth decimal place beyond which all fractions will be disregarded. The adjustment factor for noncharged benefits shall be the quotient so derived multiplied by one hundred. The taxable payroll used in this computation will be the taxable payroll for the four completed calendar quarters immediately preceding the date of rate determination as reported by September 30th. Noncharged benefits for the purpose of this adjustment shall be defined as benefits paid to an individual for unemployment for calendar weeks ending during the twelve-month period immediately preceding the date of rate determination which were paid from the unemployment compensation fund but which were not charged to the experience rating account of any employer either because of the provisions of this section or because the chargeable employer had ceased business without a successor.

(b) In determining the computed contribution rate of an eligible employer an adjustment factor for excess benefit payments will be added to the basic contribution rate as adjusted for fund balance. Excess benefit payments for the purpose of this section shall be defined as the amount of benefits charged to the experience rating account of an employer for unemployment during the completed fifty-two calendar week period immediately preceding the date of rate determination which are above 2.7 percent of his taxable payroll for the four calendar quarters ending June 30th preceding the date of rate determination as reported by September 30th. Total excess benefit payments shall be defined as the sum of the individual employer excess benefit payments for eligible employers. The adjustment factor for excess benefit payments will be computed by multiplying by one hundred the quotient derived by dividing total excess benefit payments for unemployment during the fifty-two week period immediately preceding the date of rate determination less the amount of any federal interest credited to the unemployment compensation fund during the twelve-month period preceding the date of rate determination which is in excess of noncharged benefits of subsection (a) of this section by the taxable payroll of eligible employers whose benefit ratios as computed in accordance with this section are .0270 or less: Provided, That such quotient shall be computed to the fourth decimal place, beyond which all fractions will be disregarded. The taxable payroll used in this computation will be the taxable payroll for the four completed calendar quarters immediately preceding the date of rate determination as reported by September 30th.

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. When an employer or prospective employer has acquired all or substantially all of the operating assets of an employer, or has acquired an operating department, section, division, or any substantial portion of the business or assets of any employer, which is clearly segregable and identifiable, for experience rating purposes, the payroll record and benefit charges of the transferring employer shall be divided between the transferring and acquiring employers in proportion to the payroll for the four preceding completed calendar quarters attributable to the operating assets retained and conveyed. The successor employer shall be liable for contributions on the acquired business from the date the transfer occurred.

Effective January 1, 1964, predecessor and successor contribution rates shall be computed in the following manner:

(1) If the successor is an employer at the time of the transfer, his contribution rate will remain unchanged for the remainder of the calendar year in which the transfer occurs.

(2) The contribution rate on any payroll retained by a predecessor employer shall remain unchanged for the remainder of the calendar year in which the transfer occurs.

(3) If the successor is not an employer at the time of the transfer and acquires the business of one employer or the business of two or more employers with the same rate, he shall pay contributions for the remainder of the calendar year in which the transfer occurs, at the rate assigned to the predecessor employer or employers.

(4) If the successor is not an employer at the time of the transfer and simultaneously acquires the businesses of two or more employers with different rates of contributions, his rate from the date the transfer occurred until the end of the calendar year in which such transfer occurred, shall be a recomputed rate based on the combined experience of his predecessors as of the date of rate determination for the year in which the transfer occurred.

(5) In all cases, from and after January 1st following the transfer, the successor's rate of contribution for each rate year shall be based on his experience with payrolls and benefits combined with the experience of his predecessor or predecessors, as of the regular date of rate determination for that rate year. A successor employer shall be deemed to have met the requirements of subsection (4) of section 6 of this act if he or any of his predecessors have met such requirements.

"Sec. 11. Section 83, chapter 35, Laws of 1945, as amended by section 5, chapter 215, Laws of 1951 and RCW 50.20.150 are each amended to read as follows:

The applicant for initial determination, his most recent employing unit as stated by the applicant, and any other interested party which the commissioner by regulation prescribes, shall, if not previously notified within the same continuous period of unemployment, be given notice promptly in writing that an application for initial determination has been filed and such notice shall contain the reasons given by the applicant for his last separation from work. If, during the benefit year, the applicant becomes unemployed after having accepted subsequent work, and files a claim for waiting period credit or benefits, a similar notice shall be given promptly to his then most recent employing unit as stated by him, or to any other interested party which the commissioner by regulation prescribes.

Each base year employer shall be promptly notified of the filing of any application for initial determination which may result in a charge to his account.

Each employer within a reasonable time after the date of rate determination shall be notified of the total amount of benefits charged, if any, to his account for unemployment for calendar weeks ending during the twelve-month period immediately preceding such date and the amount of such charges with respect to each individual receiving unemployment benefits charged to his account.

Each employer within a reasonable time after the date of rate determination shall be notified of his rate of contribution as determined for the succeeding rate year.

Any employer dissatisfied with the benefit charges made to his account or with his determined rate may file a request for review and determination with the commissioner within thirty days of the mailing of the notice to the employer, showing the reason for such request. Should such request for review and redetermination be denied the employer may within ten days of the mailing of such notice of denial file with the appeal tribunal a petition for hearing which shall be heard in the same manner as a petition for denial or refund. The appellate procedure prescribed by this title for further appeal shall apply to all denials of review and redetermination under this section.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

The undersigned members of the Senate voted against the passage of Senate Bill No. 337 for the following reasons:

Present unemployment compensation laws in our state leave the system open to so many abuses that it is one of the most costly of any state in the nation.

Senate Bill No. 337, in increasing the benefits to be paid, would add many millions of dollars of additional tax cost each year to the system.

We also would like to see increasing benefits to the unemployed, but these could only be given if, at the same time, we eliminated the costly abuses presently allowed in our system.

Because of the refusal of the majority party to adopt the major amendments we proposed to reduce these abuses, Senate Bill No. 337 would impose a crushing additional tax burden on the economy of the state of Washington. Its result would be to drive business out of the state of Washington, and to further compound our serious problem.

With the passage of this bill, our unemployment compensation tax (which is born entirely by the employer) would be the highest in the country.

In voting against this bill, we are considering the following factors which are some indication of the desperate situation into which our state has drifted in the past few years:

1. Fifteen of our thirty-nine counties are classed as depressed areas.
2. Since 1957, our state's rank in per capita income has steadily declined every year so that we are now down to fifteenth in rank.
3. We are the only state, of all the states in the country, which is among the highest ten in each of the categories of cost for public assistance, unemployment compensation and industrial insurance.
4. If we exclude Boeing, there are now fewer manufacturing jobs in the state of Washington than there were in the year 1957 when the Rosellini administration took over.

In view of these circumstances, we believe that Senate Bill No. 337 would greatly increase unemployment in this state and that most working people would prefer jobs to unemployment payments.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Neill:

"Would Senator Sandison yield to a question?"

"Senator Sandison, I understood your explanation about the current financing of the immediate draw upon this increased pension fund, but could you give us some figures about the funding of a permanent reserve to meet this bill?"

Senator Sandison:

"Well, Senator Neill and Mr. President:

"This would be some five million dollars according to the figures that I have. Of course, the state teachers' retirement fund has that. This can be amortized over the next five years."

Senator Neill:

"Mr. President, Senator Sandison:

"If my arithmetic is correct, the total price tag of this bill is about six million dollars this and every biennium from now on."

Senator Sandison:

"Well, essentially that is correct, yes."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Ryder:

"Would Senator Dore yield to a question?"

"Senator, as Chairman of the Appropriations Committee, do you feel that you can find the money to finance this? Now you have, as you said, brought it back to four and a half million. I am in accord with what Senator Neill said here. We are escaping our responsibility. We were not funding for this biennium. What should we fund for this biennium? Now surely we can put in half a million dollars, but actually we should put in four and a half million dollars to meet our responsibility, is that not right?"

Senator Dore:

"That seems like quite a loaded question. Actually, it is the line of the Democratic Party to put in not four and a half million, but to put in $446,000 this biennium. That would take care of the situation this biennium."

Senator Ryder:

"Then the next biennium it will be eight million?"

Senator Dore:

"Well, it will be nine million, yes."

Senator Ryder:

"Now, do you feel, as Chairman of the Appropriations Committee, you are doing a job of fiscal responsibility?"

Senator Greive:

"I object to the colloquy on the floor. There is a clock up there, gentlemen, and our time is running out. There are many other bills. Let's cut it out."

Senator Ryder:

"Will Senator Dore yield?"

Senator Dore:

"I would gladly yield to the question, but I don't want to cut down on the time left."

Senator Ryder:

"Mr. President:

"I would like to ask Senator Dore, the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee, if he feels that this is fiscally responsible to put in $446,000 to take care of a four and a half million dollar obligation?"

Senator Dore:

"I think under all of the circumstances, it is, Senator. I might point out, as I understand the House appropriations budget that is coming over here in the last hours of the session, they are some thirteen million dollars out of balance as I understand it, and they think that that is fiscally responsible. I think that it is perhaps fiscally responsible to wait two years and more or less further probe the situation and come up with the money two years from now. Does that answer your question?"

Senator Ryder:

"I think you have answered it, yes."

Senators Greive, Gallagher and Keefe demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Lennart:

"Mr. President and members of the Senate:

"I wish to speak on the matter and subject of the rule-making authority of the various departments. In the past no one in this Chamber has been more apprehensive in regard to the power of department heads to make rules and regulations that take the force and effect of law. As a delegate to the National Conference of State Legislators in 1955 I spoke on this subject, expressing such fears.

"Last night the very capable Senator from King, Senator Moriarty, Jr., proposed amendments to Senate Bill 264 and Senate Bill 265, contents of which had to do with that of production and distribution of milk and/or milk products. The adoption of the amendments would have taken away the authority of the Director of Agriculture to regulate the production and the distribution of milk and its products.

"Let us see what this means. When a housewife goes to a market and buys milk she looks at the various labels, the capping on the bottles, notices that some is captioned certified raw milk, some pasteurized and so on. She just takes it for granted that somehow, somewhere there is an authority that sees to it that this has actually been done. In the state of Washington, the Department of Agriculture has the duty and the authority to do this. Authority and responsibility is inseparable. Suppose the amendments presented on the floor had been adopted. There would have then been no authority to regulate this exceedingly perishable product and the public would have no protection. Milk could be sold and labeled pasteurized whether it was pasteurized or not, for there would be no one to check up whether the public had the proper protection.

"Of course, health authorities would, in various cities, take hold; but, there would then be a medley of methods of enforcement of the law and chaos would come about. I am citing this as a plain example of the danger of thinking that the rule making authority is all bad. Perhaps there are many rules that should not be adopted. Perhaps as the Senator suggested many of them should actually be on the statute books, but what is perhaps more urgent than the Senator realizes is that there must be flexibility. We cannot, in the matter of perishable produce, set the specifications down on the statute books. We cannot adopt a cast iron policy applicable to perishable produce and live happily ever after. We must have flexibility to meet the demands of continual changes and readjustments.

"Let us be sensible about this. All rules are not necessarily bad because rule making authority has been abused, nor are they necessarily good because the authority must have flexibility in making them. What I should like to call to your attention is that the Senator from King has a legalistic mind that dwells upon the fine print in proposed legislation as in contract, a searching mind in the matter of law; but, he gets himself and others into deep water when he gets in conflict with bacteriology and microbes. I know of no way by which we can legislate a constantly working pattern to make microbes and bacteria conform to law.

"There is a maxim of law that where reason ceases the law itself ceases. This is not only a maxim of law but a maxim of common sense. My approach is through the back door. There is so little that I know about law that I am almost frustrated about it. In fact, when I look up to the starry heavens about and back down with my eyes upon earth again I must say that if there is anything I can be grateful for, it is because there is so much that I cannot know. Let each legislator here confine himself to his own field of knowledge. The state will be the better off for it."

On motion of Senator Sandison, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 349 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

The President called on President Pro Tempore Riley to preside.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Dore:

"Would Senator Sandison yield to a question?"

"As I understand you, Senator, the purpose of this bill is merely to change the procedure of taxation, is that right?"

Senator Sandison:

"No, Senator, it does not. It changes to some extent a system of evaluations which has been advisory. This would make it uniform."

Senator Dore:

"Would you say that was the principle purpose of this bill?"

Senator Sandison:

"No, the taxation is the main thing. However, as a main part of this tax bill, we do discuss valuations."

Senator Dore:

"If I understood you correctly just a few moments ago, you said this did not involve any revenue and taxation and then, in further remarks, you didn't mention raising the revenue or increasing the taxation, so I would assume, then, this would not deal with revenue or taxation."

Senator Sandison:

"Senator, I realized yesterday was the fifty-fifth day and (Interruption)"

Senator Dore:

"What I want to know is: Is this really a revenue or taxation bill and if so, where is revenue increased or taxation affected?"

Senator Sandison:

"Well, of course, you can't very well point out the revenue because it would be so different in every county. I might point out and did before, it would increase each year, using this advisory rate. If we are to use it the way we intend to use it in this bill, it's safe to presume that it would be even a larger increase. We feel under the present program, some lands certainly are not being taxed equitably and are not paying their fair share of the tax. I think this would do it."

Senator Dore:

"Senator, how do you reconcile this bill with Article VII, Section 1 on Taxation which reads: 'The power of taxation shall never be suspended, surrendered or contracted away. All taxes shall be uniform upon the same class of property within the territorial limits of the authority levying the tax and shall be levied, and collected for public purposes only.'

"Now, my question is, how can we in the legislature reconcile the suspending of this Constitutional provision. This is giving this power not to a third body, but provides that they shall be taxed according to and by means of a manual over which we have no control. Do you have any comment or suggestion or reason why we can do this?"

Senator Sandison:

"I might point out a little farther along in the Constitution, if you look at Amendment 14: 'Provided the legislature may tax mines and mineral resources and lands devoted to reforestation by either a yield tax or ad valorem tax at such rate as it may fix, or by both.'"

Senator Dore:

"Then this says we actually are changing the level of taxation in reference to these reforestation lands, and that is the reason for adopting this manual? Is that what you are saying?"

Senator Sandison:

"No, I don't think we are changing the level."

Senator Dore:

"Then, it doesn't involve any taxation?"

Senator Sandison:

"Yes, it does."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Neill:

"Point of order. I believe the question has been answered and there is some colloquy going on back here. Let's proceed in order."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"In answer to Senator Neill's point of order, the President thinks the point of order is well taken."

Senator Dore:

"Point of order, Mr. President. In my opinion, in reading the bill and submitting the questions and answers of the sponsor which are recorded in the journal, this bill does not involve taxation or revenue, and it is after the day to be considering Senate bills and this bill should not properly be before us at this time."

Senator McCutcheon:

"Speaking on the point of order, Mr. President, I think Senator Dore has stated the point of order, and I am going to speak in favor of it. He has a very good point. I think this bill has nothing to do with taxation, but has reference to excess evaluation and runs head on in collision with Article VII, Section 1 of the State Constitution, and I will quote: 'The power of taxation shall never be suspended, surrendered, or contracted away. All taxes shall be uniform upon the same class of property within the territorial limits of the authority levying the tax and shall be levied, and collected for public purposes only.'"

POINT OF ORDER

Senator McCormack:

"Point of order, Mr. President.

"I don't think Senator McCutcheon is speaking to the point of order raised by Senator Dore."

The President:

"Your point of order is well taken, Senator McCormack. Senator McCutcheon, you will please confine your remarks specifically to the point of order as raised by Senator Dore."

Senator McCutcheon:

"Well, you're going in the face of the Constitution."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Woodall:

"Point of order, Mr. President:

"I don't believe that it is the function of the presiding officer of the Senate to determine matters of constitutionality, only procedural matters. I think they can direct their remarks to what the body has done or the resolution that was adopted, but we hardly call on the presiding officer of the Senate to act as the Supreme Court."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"Senator Woodall's point is well taken. The President was about to make the same observation and same ruling. The President cannot make a determination of whether or not a bill or resolution is constitutional. The presiding officer cannot make a determination whether the bill is beyond the Constitution. That is a matter to be determined by the members of the Senate and the Supreme Court if necessary."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Dore:

"Speaking on my point of order, perhaps Senator Woodall misunderstood me. I am not raising the point of order on constitutionality. I am raising the question on the rule we adopted yesterday that we would not consider any Senate bills after 11:59 p. m. last night.

"Now my point of order is that this is not a tax or revenue measure, based on the bill and the remarks of the sponsor, and, therefore, we are in violation of the rules we adopted yesterday and you, of course, as presiding officer, must determine the point of order I am raising on the rules. I am not asking for a determination on the constitutionality."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"Gentlemen of the Senate, the ruling of the President on the point of order as raised by Senator Dore is this: Senate Bill No. 349 is an act relating to the taxation of timber and timber lands and adding five new sections to Chapter 15, Laws of 1961, and to Chapter 84.040 RCW. The ruling on the point of order is that this is a bill pertaining to taxation of timberlands and is therefore properly before the body at this time."

Senator Talley demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

Senator McCutcheon moved that the rules be suspended and that he be permitted to address the Senate for three minutes.

The motion was carried.

SENATE RESOLUTION 1963 -21-

By Senators Dore and Mardesich:

WHEREAS, When Senate Bill No. 360 originally came before the Senate for final passage and after it was amended by the House of Representatives and came before the Senate for Senate concurrence it was represented to the Senate that the bill provided local option to certain political subdivisions of the state as to whether these political subdivisions could allow within their wisdom certain devices and practices within their borders; and

WHEREAS, This body voted to pass the bill with the understanding that this was the case; and

WHEREAS, The State of Washington at present taxes many such devices and practices; and

WHEREAS, The references in sections 1, 3, and 4 of Senate Bill No. 360 as amended to devices and practices which are licensed "or taxed" might manifest an intention of the legislature that the state shall preempt the field; and

WHEREAS, It was not the intention of the Senate in passing the bill that the state should preempt the field but rather that it clearly be left to the local political subdivisions; and

WHEREAS, The "Enrolled Bill Doctrine" of this state will prevent the courts from looking beyond the words of the enrolled bill;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, That the Senate of the State of Washington hereby request and recommend to the Governor of Washington that he veto the words "or taxed" where they appear at the end of sections 1, 3, and 4 of Senate Bill No. 360 for the reasons herein set forth.

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded forthwith by the Secretary of the Senate to Albert D. Rosellini, Governor of the State of Washington.

Senator Dore moved the adoption of the resolution.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Gallagher:

"Mr. President:

"I rise to a point of order. I doubt very much whether it is in the prerogative of the Senate to tell by resolution or attempt to tell the Chief Executive to start repealing certain sections of bills. I recognize that Senator Dore may have a good point and I think it is entirely within his rights and his prerogative to step downstairs and inform the Chief Executive of his feelings on the matter. As a sponsor of the bill (Interruption)"

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Dore:

"Mr. President:

"I think Senator Gallagher rose to a point of order. I assume that his point is that I am not entitled to talk on my resolution."

Senator Gallagher:

"Mr. President:

"I think my point is that the resolution is entirely out of order for this body to attempt to tell the Chief Executive by resolution the fact that he should veto a certain portion of a bill."

Senator Dore:

"I think that is an argument against the resolution, Mr. President."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"The President, in ruling upon the point of order as presented by Senator Gallagher: The President believes that in the opinion of some members of the Senate, that possibly the adoption of such a resolution may be improper for the reasons as stated by Senator Gallagher. However, the President believes that the Senate is a legislative body and has the authority to do whatsoever it pleases in the matter of legislation."

Senator Woodall:

"Mr. President:

"Would Senator Dore yield to a question?"

Senator Dore:

"I will, Senator, just as soon as I complete my remarks."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lennart:

"Mr. President, point of information:

"Is Senator Dore trying to explain that he can vote or will vote on both sides of the bill?"

The President:

"Senator Dore, do you wish to answer the Senator's point of information?"

Senator Dore:

"I am not yielding to questions until I complete my remarks on behalf of the resolution."

Debate ensued.

Senator Woodall moved that the resolution be made a special order of business for noon, tomorrow.

Debate ensued.

The motion was carried.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Lennart:

"Mr. President, personal privilege:

"I don't know what this resolution is all about, but I am against it and I am against all other resolutions here designed to kill time and make the sponsor a subject for television. Let's go to work."

The Secretary read:

Engrossed House Bill No. 89:

Senate Chamber,
Olympia, Wash., March 5, 1963.

MINORITY recommends that it do not pass with the following amendments:

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Guess:

"I would like to speak on a point of personal privilege.

"Gentlemen, this bill came out of the committee with the subsection 16 on it, and it was an agreed amendment to the bill. I think that there has been utter confusion on the bill and I frankly don't know how we are going to get back to it. But I believe that the failure to adopt this amendment makes it a bad bill. I was going to excuse myself from voting on the bill, but I think I will vote on it now."

MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION

On motion of Senator Cowen, the Senate voted to reconsider the vote by which the committee amendment to page 6 failed to be adopted.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Freise:

"Would Senator Guess yield?"

"Senator Guess, why is this amendment necessary, in your opinion?"

Senator Guess:

"In my opinion the amendment is necessary in order that those contractors already covered and bonded by the State Highway Department would not carry a double burden of bonding again to the State."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McCormack:

"Would Senator Guess yield?"

"Senator Guess, this bonding that the contractor may have with the Highway Department, does it apply to another job the contractor may have building a house?"

Senator Guess:

"It does not. It will not apply."

Senator McCormack:

"What protection would we have, then, in the case of a contractor building a house?"

Senator Guess:

"The contractor building a house will be covered under the bond. The contractor that is bonded under the State Highway Department does not build houses."

Senator McCormack:

"I wonder, Senator Guess, do you want to insist on this point that contractors do not get involved in highway construction if they are in other construction?"

Senator Guess:

"The contractor who does highway construction does not build houses. He does not get involved in that type of construction, but if he did, he would be forced to go under the law."

Senator McCormack:

"I don't believe that's what the amendment says. I may be wrong, but it seems to me that this is an exclusion for people participating in highway construction, and if you did have a contractor who did work both areas, he would not be covered in the case where he was building a house."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Riley:

"Point of inquiry. May I ask Senator Guess a question?"

"Senator Guess, could it happen, on the assumption that this amendment were adopted, that a contractor in a highway project, at some subsequent time might build a house under a commercial contract?"

Senator Guess:

"Senator Riley, I answered that to Senator McCormack. If he goes into commercial building, then he would come under the clause of the act. If he stays on highways, he is not covered by the act."

Debate ensued.

Senators Gallagher, Connor, and Keefe demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate is: The adoption of the committee amendment to page 6.

The motion was carried on a rising vote and the committee amendment was adopted.

On motion of Senator Gallagher, the rules were suspended, Engrossed House Bill No. 89 as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Every board of directors, unless otherwise specially provided by law, shall:

(1) Employ for not more than one year, and for sufficient cause discharge teachers, and fix, alter, allow and order paid their salaries and compensation;

When commercial charter bus service is not reasonably available to a school district, the state board of education may authorize the use of school buses and drivers hired by the district for the transportation of school children and the school employees necessary for their supervision to and from any school activities within or without the school district during or after school hours and whether or not a required school activity, so long as the school board has officially designated it as a school activity. The school board shall charge, for any extracurricular uses, an amount sufficient to reimburse the district for its complete cost incurred by reason of such use.

Whenever any school children are transported by the school district in its own motor vehicles and by its own employees, the board may provide insurance to protect the district against loss by reason of theft, fire or property damage to the motor vehicle, and to protect the district against loss by reason of liability of the district to persons from the operation of such motor vehicle.

(a) for such persons under contract with the school district for a full year, at least ten days;

(b) for such persons under contract with the school district as part time employees, at least that portion of ten days as the total number of days contracted for bears to one hundred eighty days;

(d) leave provided in this proviso not taken shall accumulate from year to year up to a maximum of one hundred eighty days, and such accumulated time may be taken at any time during the school year;

(e) sick leave heretofore accumulated under section 1, chapter 195, Laws of 1959 (RCW 28.58.430) and sick leave accumulated under administrative practice of school districts prior to the effective date of section 1, chapter 195, Laws of 1959 (RCW 28.58.430) is hereby declared valid, and shall be added to leave for illness or injury accumulated under this proviso;

(h) leave accumulated by a person in a district prior to leaving said district may, under rules and regulations of the board, be granted to such person when he returns to the employment of the district;

(16) Set standards for psychological testing programs to be used in the district. Such standards shall specify the type of psychological tests that shall require parental or guardian consent prior to giving such tests to students."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Neill:

"Would Senator Petrich yield?"

"Senator, since I don't have the amendment before me, I would just ask you this question: Does your amendment put in the hands of a local school board the full control of the matter of types of tests or do you have some exceptions in this?"

Senator Petrich:

"Senator, my proposed amendment which deals with the powers of the school directors simply provides that they, the school directors, shall set standards for the tests to be used in the district. Then it further provides that such standards shall specify types of tests that shall require prior parental approval."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Hess:

"Mr. President, point of order:

"I would like to ask the President to rule whether this does not improperly broaden the scope and object of the bill under the particular sections of RCW being amended by this House Bill No. 320.

"Speaking to the point, this section and this language deals entirely with the rights of school boards to buy and sell certain types of property, real estate. The amendment goes to the matter of psychological testing. I think very clearly these are two broad and separate spheres."

The President declared the Senate to be at ease.

The President called the Senate to order at 3:45 p. m.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"The President's ruling on the point of order as raised by Senator Hess:

"House Bill 320 deals with the powers of the board of directors of school districts in purchasing and disposing of real property. The amendment as proposed by Senators Petrich and Stender deals with the powers and duties of the board of directors of school districts in many administrative actions and in particular the powers and duties with reference to the psychological testing and parental consent. The President believes that the amendment increases the scope and object of the bill and, therefore, the point of order as raised by Senator Hess is well taken, and the amendment is not in order."

On motion of Senator Hess, the rules were suspended, House Bill No. 320 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Changing irrigation district election filing dates.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator McCormack, the following amendments were adopted:

On page 2, add two new sections following section 1 as follows:

Sec. 2. Section 15, page 679, Laws of 1890, as last amended by section 9, chapter 138, Laws of 1923 and RCW 87.03.200 are each amended to read as follows:

At such election shall be submitted to the electors of said district possessing the qualifications prescribed by law the question of whether or not the bonds of said district in the amount and of the maturities determined by the board of directors shall be issued. Bonds issued under the provisions of this act shall be serial bonds payable in gold coin of the United States in such series and amounts as shall be determined and declared by the board of directors in the resolution calling the election: Provided, That the first series shall mature not later than ten years and the last series not later than forty years from the date thereof: Provided further, That bonds, authorized by a special election held in the district under the provisions of a former statute, which has subsequent to said authorization been amended, but not issued prior to the amendment of said former statute, may be issued in the form provided in said former statute, and any such bonds heretofore or hereafter so issued and sold are hereby confirmed and validated.

Notice of such bond election must be given [by posting notices in three public places in each election precinct in said district for at least twenty days, and also] by publication of such notice in some newspaper published in the county where the office of the board of directors of such district is required to be kept, once a week for at least two weeks (three times). Such notices must specify the time of holding the election, and the amount and maturities of bonds proposed to be issued; and said election must be held and the results thereof determined and declared in all respects as nearly as practicable in conformity with the provisions of law governing the election of the district officers: Provided, That no informality in conducting such election shall invalidate the same, if the election shall have been otherwise fairly conducted. At such election the ballots shall contain the words "Bonds Yes" and "Bonds No," or words equivalent thereto. If a majority of the votes cast are cast "Bonds Yes," the board of directors shall thereupon have authority to cause bonds in said amount and maturities to be issued. If the majority of the votes cast at any bond election are "Bonds No," the result of such election shall be so declared and entered of record; but if contract is made or is to be made with the United States as in RCW 87.03.140 provided, and bonds are not to be deposited with the United States in connection with such contract, the question submitted at such special election shall be whether contract shall be entered into with the United States. The notice of election shall state under the terms of what act or acts of congress contract is proposed to be made, and the maximum amount of money payable to the United States for construction purposes exclusive of penalties and interest. The ballots for such election shall contain the words "Contract with the United States Yes" and "Contract with the United States No," or words equivalent thereto. And whenever thereafter said board, in its judgment, deems it for the best interest of the district that the question of issuance of bonds for said amount, or any amount, or the question of entering into a contract with the United States, shall be submitted to said electors, it shall so declare, by resolution recorded in its minutes, and may thereupon submit such question to said electors in the same manner and with like effect as at such previous election. All bonds issued under this act shall bear interest at such rate not exceeding six percent per annum as the board of directors may determine, payable semiannually on the first day of January and July of each year. The principal and interest shall be payable at the office of the county treasurer of the county in which the office of the board of directors is situated, or if the board of directors shall so determine at the fiscal agency of the state of Washington in New York City, said place of payment to be designated in the bond. Said bonds shall be each of the denomination of not less than one hundred nor more than one thousand dollars; shall be negotiable in form, signed by the president and secretary, and the seal of the district shall be affixed thereto. The county treasurer shall register said bonds before the issuance thereof in a book kept for that purpose, and shall certify on each thereof under his seal that it has been so registered, and that the signatures thereon are the genuine signatures of the president and secretary respectively and that the seal attached is the seal of the district. Whenever the electors shall vote to authorize the issuance of bonds of the district such authorization shall nullify and cancel all unsold bonds previously authorized, and if the question is submitted to and carried by the electors at the bond election, any bond issue may be exchanged in whole or in part, at par, for any or all of a valid outstanding bond issue of the district when mutually agreeable to the owner or owners thereof and the district, and the amount of said last bond issue in excess, if any, of that required for exchange purposes, may be sold as in the case of an original issue. The bonds of any issue authorized to be exchanged in whole or in part for outstanding bonds shall state on their face the amount of such issue so exchanged, and shall contain a certificate of the treasurer of the district as to the amount of the bonds exchanged, and that said outstanding bonds have been surrendered and canceled: Provided further, That where bonds have been authorized and unsold, the board of directors may submit to the qualified voters of the district the question of canceling said previous authorization, which question shall be submitted upon the same notice and under the same regulations as govern the submission of the original question of authorizing a bond issue. At such election the ballots shall contain the words "Cancellation Yes," and "Cancellation No," or words equivalent thereto. If at such election a majority of the votes shall be "Cancellation Yes," the said issue shall be thereby canceled and no bonds may be issued thereunder. If the majority of said ballots shall be "Cancellation No," said original authorization shall continue in force with like effect as though said cancellation election had not been held: Provided, That bonds deposited with the United States in payment or in pledge may call for the payment of such interest not exceeding six percent per annum, may be of such denominations, and call for the repayment of the principal at such times as may be agreed upon between the board and the secretary of the interior.

Each issue shall be numbered consecutively as issued, and the bonds of each issue shall be numbered consecutively and bear date at the time of their issue. Coupons for the interest shall be attached to each bond, signed by the president of the board and the secretary. The signatures of the president and secretary may, however, appear by lithographic facsimile. Said bonds shall express upon their face that they were issued by authority of this act, stating its title and date of approval, and shall also state the number of issue of which such bonds are a part. The secretary shall keep a record of bonds sold, their number, the date of sale, the price received and the name of the purchaser. In case the money received by the sale of all bonds issued be insufficient for the completion of plans of the canals and works adopted, and additional bonds be not voted, or a contract calling for additional payment to the United States be not authorized and made, as the case may be, it shall be the duty of the board of directors to provide for the completion of said plans by levy of assessments therefor. It shall be lawful for any irrigation districts which have heretofore issued and sold bonds under the law then in force, to issue in place thereof an amount of bonds not in excess of such previous issue, and to sell the same, or any part thereof, as hereinafter provided, or exchange the same, or any part thereof, with the holders of such previously issued bonds which may be outstanding, upon such terms as may be agreed upon between the board of directors of the district and the holders of such outstanding bonds: Provided, That the question of such reissue of bonds shall have been previously voted upon favorably by the legally qualified electors of such district, in the same manner as required for the issue of original bonds, and the said board shall not exchange any such bonds for a less amount in par value of the bonds received; all of such old issue in place of which new bonds are issued shall be destroyed whenever lawfully in possession of said board. Bonds issued under the provisions of this section may, when so authorized by the electors, include a sum sufficient to pay the interest thereon for a period not exceeding the first four years. Whenever an issue of bonds shall have been authorized pursuant to law, and any of the earlier series shall have been sold, and the later series, or a portion thereof, remain unsold, the directors may sell such later series pursuant to law, or such portion thereof as shall be necessary to pay the earlier series, or said directors may exchange said later series for the earlier series at not less than the par value thereof, said sale or exchange to be made not more than six months before the maturity of said earlier series and upon said exchange being made the maturing bonds shall be disposed of as hereinbefore provided in the case of bonds authorized to be exchanged in whole or in part for outstanding bonds.

Sec. 3. Section 49, page 695, Laws of 1890, as last amended by section 33, chapter 129, Laws of 1921 and RCW 87.03.565 are each amended to read as follows:

The secretary of the board of directors shall cause a notice of the filing of such petition to be [posted and] published in the same manner and for the same time that notice of special elections for the issue of bonds are required by this chapter to be given. The notice shall state the filing of such petition and the names of the petitioners, a description of the lands mentioned in said petition, and the prayer of said petition, and it shall notify all persons interested in or that may be affected by such change of the boundaries of the district to appear at the office of said board at a time named in said notice, and show cause in writing, if any they have, why the change in the boundaries of said district, as proposed in said petition, should not be made. The time to be specified in the notice at which they shall be required to show cause shall be the regular meeting of the board next after the expiration of the time for the publication of the notice. The petitioners shall advance to the secretary sufficient money to pay the estimated costs of all proceedings under this chapter.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Freise:

"Mr. President:

"I raise the question of whether this is not enlarging the scope and object of House Bill No. 128.

"Speaking on the point of order, new section one of House Bill No. 128 states: 'Any city of 10,000 or more population shall have all power to conduct its affairs consistent with and subject to state law, including the power to frame a charter for its own government in the same manner as cities of the first class. "Population" means the number of residents as shown by the figures released for the most recent official state, federal, or county census, or population determination made under the direction of the state census board. Once any city has ten thousand or more population, any subsequent decrease in population below ten thousand shall not affect any powers theretofore acquired under this act.'

"Now this new section goes on to state: 'If a municipality desires to sell, lease, or otherwise transfer any real property or any interest therein that it has acquired for an urban renewal project in an urban renewal area to a public body. . . .' This is an amendment to the urban renewal section of the statute which was adopted, I believe, in 1957, and does not refer to the same title of the statute at all."

Senator Durkan:

"Mr. President:

"Speaking to the point of order, there couldn't be a more broad title than 'An act relating to powers of certain cities and towns.' The title is so broad, Mr. President, that we could almost put on microscopes and be within the object of the bill."

Senator Hallauer:

"Mr. President:

"On reviewing the bill as originally before this body, Senate Bill No. 92, it seems to me that it is related to urban renewal proceedings and the disposal of urban renewal property. That is a long reach from the subject of incorporation of cities of 10,000 or more population. I believe that it does expand the scope and object of the bill."

Senator Durkan:

"Mr. President:

"Speaking to Senator Hallauer's point, we are not dealing with any other matter than the amendment in the form which is presently before the Senate. This is a matter which relates to the title of the bill. This is what we are dealing with, as to whether or not certain towns and cities have powers which are inherent to do these things. The title states very broadly that they shall have such powers to do it."

The President:

"The President suggests that House Bill No. 128 be placed immediately after Engrossed House Bill No. 487 and the President will prepare a ruling on the point of order as presented by Senator Freise."

House Bill No. 128, by Representatives Garrett, Morphis and Ackley (by Joint Committee on Urban Area Government request):

Authorizing cities over ten thousand to adopt charter.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

"The President's ruling on the point of order as raised by Senator Freise:

"House Bill No. 128 is a bill which merely prescribes that a city of 10,000 or more population shall have the right to conduct its affairs subject to state law and frame a charter for its own government in the same manner as cities of the first class.

"The amendment as proposed by Senators Durkan and Dore is a granting of the power of any municipality to sell or otherwise dispose of property which it has acquired for an urban renewal project.

"This amendment has nothing to do with the requirements of the formation of a local government and, therefore, the President believes that the amendment increases the scope and object of the bill. Therefore, the point of order as raised by Senator Freise is well taken and the amendment is not in order.

"In addition, the President believes that even though the title of a bill may be broad, this is of no assistance in answering a point of order concerning scope and object as the point must be decided on the contents of the body of the bill and does not raise the issue of whether or not the subject matter of the amendment would not be embraced within the title."

MOTION

Senator Neill moved that the Senate revert to the second order of business for the purpose of receiving reports of standing committees.

Senators Henry, Hess and Washington demanded a Call of the Senate.

A Call of the Senate was ordered.

CALL OF THE SENATE

The Sergeant at Arms locked the doors of the Senate chamber.

The Secretary called the roll on the Call of the Senate, all members being present except Senators Dore and Mardesich, having been previously excused.

On motion of Senator Greive, the Senate proceeded under the Call of the Senate.

The President stated the question before the Senate is: It has been moved that the Senate revert to the second order of business.

Debate ensued.

Senator Washington demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained by Senators Gissberg, Hallauer, Henry, Hess, Talley, DeGarmo, Thompson, Jr., Foley and Connor.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Herrmann:

"Point of order, Mr. President:

"Senators Dore and Mardesich have been excused and I think there is a question, when they have been excused, whether they can be brought back. If they are excused under the terms of Rule 11, the rule states: 'The doors shall then be closed and the Sergeant at Arms directed to take into custody all who may be absent without leave.' Senator Dore and Senator Mardesich have been excused and they are absent from the chamber with leave."

Senators Keefe, Cooney and Cowen demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

The President stated the question before the Senate is: It has been moved that the Senate revert to the second order of business for the purpose of receiving a standing committee report.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the motion to revert to the second order of business was carried by the following vote: Yeas, 25; nays, 22; absent and excused—2.

Those voting yea were: Senators Atwood, Cooney, Cowen, Durkan, England, Foster, Freise, Greive, Guess, Herrmann, Keefe, Lennart, McMillan, Morgan, Moriarty, Jr., Neill, Peterson, Raugust, Rickdall, Riley, Ryder, Stender, Thompson, Jr., Williams, Woodall—25.

Those voting nay were: Senators Bailey, Charette, Chytil, Connor, DeGarmo, Donohue, Foley, Gallagher, Gissberg, Hallauer, Hanna, Henry, Hess, Knoblauch, Kupka, McCormack, McCutcheon, Petrich, Rasmussen, Sandison, Talley, Washington—22.

Those absent and excused were: Senators Dore, Mardesich—2.

MOTION

Senator Hess:

"Mr. President:

"I move that the Senate be at ease until 6:00 p.m. and that the Sergeant at Arms be instructed to bring the absent members to the bar of the Senate."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Woodall:

"Point of order, Mr. President:

"In the first place, you can't make a compound motion; and in the second place, the rule was just read that once a member has been excused for the day, we are powerless to bring him back."

Senator Hess:

"Speaking to the point of order, the rule read said under a normal call, if the members are not excused, they shall be brought here before we can proceed under the Call of the Senate. There is nothing that prevents a motion that we be at ease and that the absent members be brought here. This should always be within the province of any body and insofar as having a separate motion, Senator Woodall might make the motion to divide the question if he feels that it is in order, but the motion is in order as made."

Senator Woodall:

"Mr. President:

"I insist that once a party has been excused, he is excused for the day. Bear in mind the rule says 'absent without leave.' These gentlemen are not absent without leave. They are absent with leave of the President and the Senate has concurred. Now, under those conditions, it is my opinion that a motion to bring them back within the current day is out of order. Otherwise, an excuse would mean nothing. An excuse would be meaningless if you could be brought back at any time. Such is not the rule nor the purpose for it."

Senator Hess:

"Senator Woodall has introduced nothing new to this matter. He has suggested the purpose of excusing a member is so that they will not be called back. The purpose of excusing them is so that under the normal circumstances, they need not be called and will not be called. However, it should always be within the control of the body to call their members before them to participate in the action of the body. The rule also shows that under the circumstances of a normal call, they must be here before we can proceed, but the motion, I submit, Mr. President, is in order."

Senator Washington:

"Mr. President:

"Speaking in support of the motion of Senator Hess, we might as well actually realize what we are voting on if we are going to go ahead on one of the most important issues to hit the floor of the Senate during this session with two absent members. I feel that we definitely should wait until they return. It is a question of whether we are going to go into a compact which will be forever, with no way of the state of Washington getting out of the compact once it is entered into, and being allowed to have its destiny tied to the votes of Nevada, Utah and Wyoming, who have three-tenths of one percent of the population of this state—(Interruption)."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Woodall:

"Mr. President:

"There is a point of order under discussion; namely, if we can bring two members back to hear something read. Senator Washington is talking about his viewpoints on the body of the bill."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"Senator Washington, would you please confine your remarks to the point of order?"

Senator Washington:

"Mr. President:

"I am attempting to point out to the members of the Senate that this is not just an ordinary matter. This is an important matter. We are going to have to take some unusual steps to get a full membership of the members of the Senate to vote on this particular issue. I think the Senate members must realize the seriousness of their vote on this matter which might otherwise be merely routine. You must realize that under this compact that you are voting for, and we may well lose it today, might lose it with those two members absent if the steps are not taken, and so let's remember that under this compact that three-tenths of one percent of the population of the state of Washington—(Interruption)."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Durkan:

"Point of order, Mr. President:

"I think that Senator Woodall's point of order was well taken and that Senator Washington is not adhering to the admonition of the President."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"Senator Washington, would you please confine your remarks to the point of order?"

Senator Washington (addressing the Chair):

"Your Honor, might I request as a matter of information I feel that this is an important point Senator Hess has raised and in order to point out why we should sustain Senator Hess, I think we must know what is before us."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Riley:

"I wonder if Senator Hess would yield to a question?"

"Senator Hess, do you have any knowledge that you could have these two Senators back by six o'clock?"

Senator Hess:

"Mr. President and Senator Riley:

"It is my assumption that they are both within easy reach and from past experience I assume they will be here by then."

Senator Riley:

"You do not have any definite knowledge?"

Senator Hess:

"No, neither of them talked to me. I do not know where they are, however, I imagine they are within easy reach."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall:

"Would Senator Washington yield to a question?"

"Senator, as you well know, every absent vote is the same as a nay vote and you are against this bill, so if two members are absent, how does that hurt your side of this position?"

Senator Washington:

"First I'll answer that, there will be a motion as to whether or not this goes to the proper committee. That will be sustained on a majority vote of those present, and whether or not it may be advanced to another position on the calendar, or the rules suspended, will always be done by a majority vote. I feel that much of the importance of this bill can be established, particularly as far as amendments are concerned and we may not be able to put amendments which are of extreme importance if we do not have these members here. You have the control. You know you have it now by not having these two members here. There are many things you can do in a parliamentary way to make it difficult for us to carry the battle the way it should be carried."

Senator Thompson, Jr.:

"Mr. President:

"Speaking on this point of order, I respectfully direct the body's attention to Reed's Rule 9 and Senate Rule 10, which specifically provides that if we have a legal quorum, we should proceed in order and do our business."

Senator Hess:

"On the point of order, it is our business to consider a motion which is in order and that is precisely what is before us at this time."

Senator Herrmann:

"Speaking on the point of order, it would certainly lead to a ridiculous conclusion if Senator Washington's motion should prevail. The way to kill a bill would be for just one Senator to walk off the floor and not be found, on any important bill, and he could be excused. He could be excused not knowing that the bill was coming up, and that would kill important legislation. If the Senate could not operate without all members present, it would certainly lead to a disastrous rule."

Senator Durkan:

"Speaking against the motion by Senator Hess, I want to make my position simply clear. I do not intend to vote on final passage of this matter today. It was my understanding this was not to be brought before us for final passage and the Senators absent will have plenty of opportunity to return to the chambers.

"Now, my position is clear. I voted on this matter simply on the prevailing side to hear this read. I do not intend at this time to consider this matter for final passage, as far as I am concerned. There should be ample time for the Senators who are absent to be returned to the chamber. I, therefore, feel you should vote Senator Hess' motion down."

Senator Bailey:

"Speaking on the point of order, I think we had a precedent set last Saturday by the Republican members when Senator Peterson was not here and the majority floor leader at that time told us we could not proceed and that one member could disrupt the proceedings of the entire body. We found it necessary at that time to withdraw the Call of the Senate."

Senator Woodall:

"Mr. President, speaking to the point of order:

"That was a different situation, Senator Bailey. In that case, Senator Peterson had not been excused and he was somewhere around the House of Representatives. We waited until we got him back. This is entirely different. These two members have been excused prior to the time the Call was asked for, so I think it is an entirely different situation."

Senator Hess:

"Speaking to the point of order, although I do not wish to prolong the debate unnecessarily, I think Senator Durkan's point deserves to be answered. This is not a question for this motion as to what this body intends to do after this thing occurs. What is important is that a substantial number of the members feel that the entire body should be here to vote on the particular motion before the body. This is the motion to revert to hear the committee report before the body. Therefore, if a substantial number of the members feel that it is important, I think our parliamentary procedure is clear and that we have a right to ask that the Senate be at ease until these members can be brought before us, provided it is a reasonably short period of time."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"The President, in replying to the point of order, wishes to direct the members of the Senate to Article II, Section 8, on page 54 of the State Constitution. The President believes that Senator Hess' motion is in order; however, the President further believes that a suspension of the rules would be required to direct the Sergeant at Arms to escort the absent and excused members to the bar of the Senate."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Hess:

"Parliamentary inquiry, could the President please explain the basis for the need to suspend the rules?"

The President:

"Because of Rule 11, Senator Hess, that portion which states: 'The doors shall then be closed and the sergeant at arms directed to take into custody all who may be absent without leave and all senators so taken into custody shall be presented at the bar of the Senate for such action as the Senate may deem proper.'

"Under the Constitution, Senator Hess, Article II, Section 8: ' . . . but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day and may compel the attendance of absent members, in such manner and under such penalties as each house may provide.'

"The President finds it impossible to determine a rule that directs otherwise, Senator Hess."

Senator Hess:

"Respectfully speaking on the point of order, would not the question of whether the majority or two-thirds would be required be considered under the normal motion to be at ease, or in effect, to be at recess? It is my presumption such a motion requires only a majority and, therefore, there is no reason that this would be different. The only thing that is different with this is we have added to the motion the instruction that during this period of being at ease the Sergeant at Arms shall be instructed by the Senate to bring in the absent members."

The President:

"The President is in accord with your statement except the last part of your motion, inasmuch as your motion is of a compound nature. Would you be willing to divide it?"

Senator Hess:

"I would prefer not to. However, Mr. President, if you feel one part of it requires a majority and another has a two-thirds requirement, then I think it is in order to divide the motion."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"The President will rule that in order for your motion to carry, a two-thirds vote will be required."

Senator Hess:

"May I then, with leave of the Senate divide my motion and move now that the Senate be at ease until 6:00 p.m."

Senator Woodall:

"Speaking against the motion—(Interruption)."

Senator Hess:

"Point of parliamentary inquiry: Is there acceptance on the division, so the debate can be on the motion, Senator Woodall?"

Senator Woodall:

"No. Speaking against this motion—(Interruption)."

The President:

"Would you state which motion you are speaking against?"

Senator Woodall:

"Against any motion made by Senator Hess this day."

The President:

"The motion to divide is before the Senate, Senator Woodall."

Senator Woodall:

"Speaking against the motion to divide, this would put you in a very ridiculous position because if the motion to be at ease carries, then we are at ease and you would not then have before you the question of whether or not you wanted to bring the absent members in. So if you vote to be at ease then, of course, there is nothing before the body and we walk out of here until 6:00 o'clock this evening, and in the meantime, we haven't completed the calendar of the day. It seems to me the two propositions are inseparably wrapped together. We don't want to go at ease to do nothing. The only point of going at ease would be so you could bring the absent members back. For those reasons, I submit it would be rather foolish to divide the question and then, if the first portion of it carried, we would just merely do nothing in the last few hours of this legislature."

Senator Hess:

"Speaking on the motion, I think that there is very little likelihood if the Senate is at ease until 6:00 o'clock, that I will personally, if Senator Henry has not already done so, get in touch with the Sergeant at Arms and suggest he inform the absent members their presence here is important. I think that while this might not carry the force of an order of the Senate, it will certainly carry the spirit of it and therefore, I think that no great damage is done by waiting one hour or two hours until these members can return. Therefore, I hope the Senate will adopt this motion to be at ease until 6:00 o'clock this evening."

The President:

"The question before the Senate is: It has been moved that the motion as presented by Senator Hess be divided."

Senator Gissberg:

"Mr. President:

"It has always been my impression that upon the request of any Senator, the question can be divided and it does not need a motion to divide the question by any means if, for the logical proceeding of the chamber, the motion is a compound motion and should be divided so that you can logically vote upon it. That is the subject of Rule 23 of our Senate Rules, so Senator Hess, having made a call for a division, the question shall be divided if it embraces subjects so distinct that one being taken away, a substantive proposition shall remain for the decision of the Senate. He is asking for a recess until 6:00 o'clock and his next motion would then be that the absent members be brought before the Senate, so those are two separate questions which shall be divided without vote."

Senator Riley:

"Mr. President and members of the Senate:

"I would like to concur in the remarks of Senator Woodall. I will try not to duplicate his comments, but I want to set the scenery for this motion, if it prevails. Now, assuming that Senator Hess' motion prevails, the Senate will recess until 6:00 o'clock. All right, then we recess. Everybody is gone. Nobody is here, so how are you going to get a motion to bring back the absent members when we are at recess? When we're at recess, we're gone. We're not in session. The minute that this motion to recess prevails, everybody's gone."

The President:

"Senator Riley, I believe in the discussion, the word, 'recess' has been used inadvertently. The President believes the motion of Senator Hess was that the Senate should be at ease under Call of the Senate until 6:00 p.m."

Senator McCutcheon:

"Mr. President, may I suggest that we keep on talking and it will be 6:00 o'clock"

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"The President believes that Senator Gissberg's point is well taken in that if a Senator calls for a division of the question, that it shall be divided. The question is, shall the Senate be at ease under Call of the Senate until 6:00 p.m."

Senator Hess demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained by Senators Talley, Washington, Connor, McCutcheon, Morgan, Knoblauch, Gallagher, Henry and Kupka.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the motion by Senator Hess was lost by the following vote: Yeas, 23; nays, 24; absent and excused, 2.

Those voting yea were: Senators Bailey, Charette, Chytil, Connor, DeGarmo, Donohue, Foley, Gallagher, Gissberg, Hallauer, Hanna, Henry, Hess, Knoblauch, Kupka, McCormack, McCutcheon, Morgan, Petrich, Rasmussen, Sandison, Talley, Washington—23.

Those voting nay were: Senators Atwood, Cooney, Cowen, Durkan, England, Foster, Freise, Greive, Guess, Herrmann, Keefe, Lennart, McMillan, Moriarty, Jr., Neill, Peterson, Raugust, Rickdall, Riley, Ryder, Stender, Thompson, Jr., Williams, Woodall—24.

Those absent and excused were: Senators Dore, Mardesich—2.

The President:

"The motion is lost. The Senate is on the second order of business, reports of standing committees."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Hess:

"Mr. President:

"Would it be in order to inquire of the Sergeant at Arms if we have made contact with either Senator Dore or Senator Mardesich to know their whereabouts?"

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Woodall:

"Mr. President!"

The President:

"For what purpose does Senator Woodall rise?"

Senator Woodall:

"I rise to a point of order. We don't have inquiries directed between Senators and the Sergeant at Arms during proceedings of the body. If he wants to go off the floor and talk to him, that is well and good."

Senator Hess:

"With all due deference, I never addressed anyone other than the President and my inquiry was whether it would be in order for the President to make such inquiry himself."

The President:

"The President is of the opinion it is quite in order for a request to be made to the Sergeant at Arms to contact the excused Senators."

Senator Hess:

"Might I ask if the President has any word of their whereabouts from the Sergeant at Arms?"

Senator Keefe:

"Mr. President:

"I have discussed this matter with the Sergeant at Arms and he says he has made phone calls to Seattle."

The President:

"The Sergeant at Arms has advised the President that Senator Mardesich will be at a certain phone number between 4:30 and 5:00 o'clock, and contact has not yet been made with Senator Dore."

The Secretary read:

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

House Bill No. 43:

Senate Chamber,
Olympia, Wash., March 12, 1963.

Accepting the provisions of the Columbia Basin Compact and providing for participation therein (reported by Committee on State Government):

MAJORITY recommends that it do pass and be referred to Committee on Ways and Means., Chairman.

We concur in this report: R. Frank Atwood, Jack England, Karl V. Herrmann, David E. McMillan, Frances Haddon Morgan, Marshall A. Neill, Perry B. Woodall.

House Bill No. 43:

Senate Chamber,
Olympia, Wash., March 12, 1963.

Accepting the provisions of the Columbia Basin Compact and providing for participation therein (reported by Committee on State Government):

MINORITY recommends that it do not pass. AL HENRY, Chairman.

We concur in this report: Victor F. DeGarmo, Dewey C. Donohue, George W. Kupka, Mike McCormack.

Senator Henry moved that the committee report be adopted and that the bill be referred to Committee on Ways and Means.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator McCormack:

"Mr. President, point of order:

"I should like to have a ruling from the Chair whether this is an appropriations bill or not. According to the joint rules under which we are operating, only appropriation bills will be heard after the fifty-eighth day."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"The President rules that the bill is properly before the Senate."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Kupka:

"Would Senator Henry or Foley yield to a question?"

"Senator Foley, do you have any idea as to how much money this is going to amount to if we do enter this compact?"

Senator Foley:

"The bill itself provides for an initial appropriation of $30,000 and then it goes on to state there shall be certain other proportionate appropriations. I wouldn't know what those proportions are."

Debate ensued.

The President:

"The President wishes to remind the members of the Senate there is a special order of business at 4:00 p. m. pending before the Senate."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Gissberg:

"Mr. President, point of order:

"Would it take a suspension of the rules to do anything other than proceed with the special order of business?"

MOTIONS

Senator Cooney:

"I move Senator Henry's motion be laid upon the table."

Senator Herrmann:

"I move the rules be suspended and that we continue with the matter before the Senate."

The President:

"It has been moved that the rules be suspended and the Senate continue to consider the matter before the Senate."

Senator Washington:

"What is the special order of business?"

The President:

"Consideration of House amendments to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 244."

Senator Washington:

"Could the President please tell me what the bill is about?"

The President:

"Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 244 has to do with financial responsibility for motor vehicle operators and owners, Senator."

"The question before the Senate is: It has been moved that the rules be suspended and that the Senate continue consideration of the motion before the Senate. A vote

'aye' will be to consider the motion as presented by Senator Henry that the report of the Committee be adopted and House Bill No. 43 be referred to the Committee on Ways and Means. A vote 'no' in essence will be to consider the special order of business."

Senator Hess demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained by Senators Henry, Talley, Bailey, Connor, Washington, McCutcheon, Rasmussen, Charette and Gallagher.

The President:

"The roll call has been demanded for consideration of the motion as presented by Senator Herrmann. Senator Herrmann has moved that the rules be suspended and that the Senate continue to consider the motion as presented by Senator Henry. A vote 'aye' will be to consider the motion presented by Senator Henry. A vote 'no,' in essence, means to proceed to the special order of business, consideration of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 244, and the House amendments thereto."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator McCormack:

"Does this require a suspension of the rules, or a simple majority vote?"

The President:

"The President is not convinced that a suspension of the rules is necessary. The President believes a simple majority will carry the position."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the motion by Senator Herrmann to continue consideration of the motion by Senator Henry was carried by the following vote: Yeas, 24; nays, 23; absent and excused, 2.

Those voting yea were: Senators Atwood, Cooney, Cowen, Durkan, England, Foster, Freise, Greive, Guess, Herrmann, Keefe, Lennart, McMillan, Moriarty, Jr., Neill, Peterson, Raugust, Rickdall, Riley, Ryder, Stender, Thompson, Jr., Williams, Woodall—24.

Those voting nay were: Senators Bailey, Charette, Chytil, Connor, DeGarmo, Donohue, Foley, Gallagher, Gissberg, Hallauer, Hanna, Henry, Hess, Knoblauch, Kupka, McCormack, McCutcheon, Morgan, Petrich, Rasmussen, Sandison, Talley, Washington—23.

Those absent and excused were: Senators Dore, Mardesich—2.

The President stated the question before the Senate is: It has been moved that the report of the committee be adopted and House Bill No. 43 be referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

Debate ensued.

Senator Cooney moved that the motion by Senator Henry be laid upon the table.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Henry:

"Point of order, Mr. President:

"Does that motion take the main object with it?"

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"No, Senator, it does not."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Hess:

"Mr. President, earlier this session the President ruled we could not amend a committee report. I presume that a motion to table a committee report would face the same problem."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"The President does not believe that the report of the Committee can be amended. However, the President believes that the Senate may, in its wisdom, reject or accept the report of the Committee. The President believes that if the motion to table carries, that that in essence amounts to a rejection of the committee report."

Senator Henry:

"If then the body elects to reject the committee report, the bill returns to the committee, is that correct?"

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"The President would believe that the bill would still be before the Senate for action by the Senate, and if no action is taken, that it would pass to second reading. But it would take a suspension of the rules not to send it to the Committee on Rules and Joint Rules because the Senate rules provide that the President shall direct the bill to the Committee on Rules and Joint Rules."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator McCormack:

"Point of order, Mr. President:

"If the Senate lays the committee report upon the table, it would seem to me the bill would still be in the possession of the committee, not the body, because the body rejected the committee report."

Senator Washington:

"I wish to speak to the point of order, Mr. President:

"Would the report of the committee please be read again?"

The Secretary read the committee report.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Henry:

"Point of order, Mr. President:

"In your statement that this would take a suspension of the rules, the committee report directed the President to refer the bill to Ways and Means. Is it your interpretation then that it takes two-thirds majority suspension of the rules to change the committee recommendation?"

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"The President ruled it would take two-thirds majority, Senator, to suspend the rule that the Senate could not change the committee report."

Senator Henry:

"You made a ruling referring to a suspension of the rules when the President directed a certain referral. Does that also take a two-thirds majority?"

Senator Woodall:

"That is not a direction. A committee report is not a direction or a mandate to the presiding officer. It is purely a recommendation. The body can go along with the recommendation or otherwise direct, and it can all be done on the same order of business. This does not require any suspension of the rules. A committee report is not mandatory or directory or binding upon the presiding officer or the Senate. It is purely advisory."

Senator Durkan:

"Mr. President:

"Rule 46 says any standing committee of the Senate may be relieved of further consideration of any bill by a majority vote of the members of the Senate. The bill is before us now. We can move it any way we want by a majority vote."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"The President wishes to read from that portion of Senate Rule 47 at the bottom of page 256: 'Bills Referred to Rules Committee: All bills reported by a committee to the senate shall then be referred to the committee on rules and joint rules for second reading without action on the report unless otherwise ordered by the senate.'"

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Washington:

"Point of parliamentary inquiry, Mr. President:

"May the report of the committee be amended? If it cannot be amended, we have a report from the committee that it do pass and be referred to Ways and Means. Now then, if you don't refer it to the Ways and Means Committee, there is no complete report of the committee. The committee then has recommended one course of action and we cannot amend it. If we don't take that course of action, I submit we have no report from that committee and it must act again."

Senator McCutcheon:

"May I suggest the President put us at ease for a while? Perhaps we could find out by 5:00 o'clock the answer to the rather important question Senator Washington has raised."

Senator Kupka:

"Mr. President:

"Maybe it would do well to read that report again. If I recall there was a majority report, and that report included that it be referred to the Committee on Ways and Means and there is a minority report. However, a majority of the committee wanted to put it in the Ways and Means Committee."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator McCormack:

"Mr. President:

"You have read from the bottom of page 256, under Rule 47, this rule says, and let me read it again, ' . . . shall then be referred to the committee on rules and joint rules . . . without further action on the report.'

"Now, if this body refuses to accept the committee report, it hasn't taken action and I submit then this rule does not apply and the bill is still in the possession of the committee."

The President:

"The President has just announced the vote on the motion to table the report of the committee. The Senate, in its wisdom, tabled the motion to adopt the committee report. The President believes at this particular time that the bill is before the members of the Senate for their decision. If they do not decide the question, the President will refer the bill to the Senate Committee on Rules and Joint Rules under the provisions of Rule 47."

MOTION

Senator Ryder:

"I move that House Bill No. 43 be referred to the Committee on Rules and Joint Rules."

The President:

"It has been moved that (Interruption)"

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Gissberg:

"I rise to a point of order. The motions are of equal rank and the prior motion should be put first and that motion is that the bill be referred to the Committee on Ways and Means."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Riley:

"Mr. President:

"If I understood the President correctly, and I am certain that I did, I believe, Mr. President you made the statement that the motion to refer to the Ways and Means Committee had been laid upon the table. Then that means that the bill is before the Senate. Then Senator Ryder's motion was to refer to Rules and Joint Rules, which motion is now before us."

The President:

"That is the chronological order that the President has in mind at this point."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Gissberg:

"Mr. President:

"I do not believe we have ever voted upon the question of laying on the table, the motion as put by Senator Henry. I have no recollection of voting to table Senator Henry's motion."

The President declared the Senate to be at ease.

The President called the Senate to order.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"Senator Gissberg is correct in this point of order. It has been moved by Senator Cooney to lay the motion as presented by Senator Henry upon the table."

Senator Hess demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained by Senators Henry, Talley, Bailey, Connor, Cooney, Herrmann, McCutcheon, Washington and McCormack.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Washington:

"Mr. President:

"Under Rule 47 we have the proper types of committee reports set forth and I submit that under Rule 47 we do not have a proper committee report before us. We may have a report: 'Do pass; Do pass as amended; Without recommendation; Do not pass; That the bill be referred to another committee; That a substitute bill be substituted therefor, and the substitute bill do pass; That the bill be indefinitely postponed.'

"Here you have a combination which is apparently not proper under Rule 47."

Senator Henry:

"I should like to submit to this body that the report should be a 'do pass' report, according to the majority who signed it. It was my understanding, and I asked my secretary to so prepare, a 'do pass' report with the recommendation that it be referred to the Committee on Ways and Means because there was an appropriation attached to it. The members who signed the report, and I did not check this, said it was only a 'do pass' report when they signed it and the language to refer it was put in afterwards. I want to clear that up so there is no misunderstanding about that. It is a 'do pass' report, however, and it should go to Ways and Means because it carries an appropriation, and I thought that's the way the report read. I did not read the report after I asked to have it prepared."

Senator Neill:

"I would like to concur in what Senator Henry has said. I did not raise the question during this debate because I realized there was some misunderstanding, and not for one moment would I suggest that Senator Henry did this purposely. I know he did not. It is just one of those unfortunate things."

Senator Washington:

"The rule clearly states that it shall carry one of the following recommendations, and it does not carry any one of the following recommendations under Rule 47, so we do not have a proper committee report."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Herrmann:

"Point of order. Senator Washington is arguing a motion to table and I understand that is not debatable."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"Senator Herrmann, Senator Washington rose on a point of order to the effect that a proper committee report was not before the Senate."

Senator Washington:

"Mr. President, speaking to the point of order:

"The rule clearly says the committee report shall carry one of the following recommendations, and this report does not; it carries two of the recommendations. It carries the recommendation, 'do pass,' which is number one, and it carries number five, 'the bill be referred to another committee.' This is clearly in violation of Rule 47."

Senator Riley:

"Mr. President, on the point of order raised by Senator Washington:

"In effect, Senator Washington is wrong because it says that it 'shall carry one of the following recommendations, and shall be signed by those members of the committee subscribing thereto.'

"Senator Henry has just made it clear to everyone, he has not only made it abundantly clear, he has made it crystal clear, that there is a committee report saying 'do pass,' so it is clearly in order."

Senator Washington requested that the Secretary read the committee report, and it was again read.

Senator Henry:

"Mr. President:

"With the consent of the Senate, I would like to have those words stricken, 'and be referred to the Committee on Ways and Means,' because as I stated earlier there seems to be some misunderstanding among the seven members. They said the language was not on the report when they signed it. They thought they were signing a straight 'do pass' report. In our conversations, we knew all the time the bill would be referred to the Committee on Ways and Means, but I don't know what happened. Something did. I was not responsible for it."

Senator Washington:

"Mr. President:

"I believe it makes little difference who is responsible or how it came about, but we do have before us clearly a report which is improper under the rules, and it would appear to me that there would definitely have to be a further meeting of the committee and they would have to come out with a proper report."

Senator Woodall:

"If there is merely a clerical error in the report and that is the position we are now in, and the seven signing members are unanimous in that belief, the bill is here and I would feel that a motion to correct the clerical error would be in order without referring the bill."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"The President believes that the statement as presented by Senator Woodall is correct and if it meets with the approval of the Senate, the President will poll the seven members as to the content of the report when they signed it. Senator Atwood?"

Senator Atwood:

"Mr. President, when we signed that report it was in the Ways and Means Committee room. It had no referral to Ways and Means on it. It was a 'do pass' recommendation. It was 'do pass' by me."

The President:

"Senator England?"

Senator England:

"Strictly a 'do pass' report."

The President:

"Senator Herrmann?"

Senator Herrmann:

" 'Do pass' as I recall it."

The President:

"Senator McMillan?"

Senator McMillan:

"Mr. President, I have no clear recollection of whether or not the referral was on the report. I can't honestly state positively which way it was."

The President:

"Thank you, Senator McMillan."

"Senator Morgan?"

Senator Morgan:

"Mr. President, members of the Senate:

"I do recall that it was a 'do pass' and I signed, but in my own thinking and as a matter of principle, I knew that I would vote to send it to Ways and Means, which I did."

The President:

"Senator Neill?"

Senator Neill:

"Just a 'do pass,' Mr. President."

The President:

"Senator Woodall?"

Senator Woodall:

"When I signed this report, it had the words, 'do pass,' and no further words."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"The President believes with the permission of the members of the Senate, that the Secretary of the Senate should correct the report."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Hess:

"Point of parliamentary inquiry:

"Would it be in order to ask the President if he might inquire of the Sergeant at Arms if Senator Dore and Senator Mardesich have been contacted?"

The President:

"The Sergeant at Arms has stated that Senator Dore is on his way."

MOTION

Senator Hess:

"Mr. President, I move that the Senate be at ease until 5:30 p. m."

Debate ensued.

Senator Herrmann:

"Mr. President, I move that the motion as made by Senator Hess be tabled."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"Senator Herrmann, the President believes that Senator Hess' motion properly should have been to recess until 5:30 p. m. and such a motion cannot be tabled. That portion of the motion pertaining to time may be debated, but otherwise the President must put the motion."

The President stated the question before the Senate is: It has been moved that the Senate recess until 5:30 p. m.

Senator Hess demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained by Senators Gissberg, Hallauer, Hanna, Cooney, Chytil, Henry, Hess, Talley, Washington and Cowen.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Bailey:

"I would like to inquire, does this mean at ease or recess? Will it be under the Call of the Senate or not under Call?"

The President:

"It will be under Call of the Senate, Senator."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the motion by Senator Hess that the Senate recess until 5:30 p. m. and the motion was lost by the following vote: Yeas, 23; nays, 24; absent and excused, 2.

Those voting yea were: Senators Bailey, Charette, Chytil, Connor, DeGarmo, Donohue, Foley, Gallagher, Gissberg, Hallauer, Hanna, Henry, Hess, Knoblauch, Kupka, McCormack, McCutcheon, Morgan, Petrich, Rasmussen, Sandison, Talley, Washington—23.

Those voting nay were: Senators Atwood, Cooney, Cowen, Durkan, England, Foster, Freise, Greive, Guess, Herrmann, Keefe, Lennart, McMillan, Moriarty, Jr., Neill, Peterson, Raugust, Rickdall, Riley, Ryder, Stender, Thompson, Jr., Williams, Woodall—24.

Those absent and excused were: Senators Dore, Mardesich—2.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Woodall:

"Point of parliamentary inquiry, Mr. President:

"What is the pending motion at the moment?"

The President:

"The President believes from memory, Senator Woodall, that the motion before the group is the motion by Senator Cooney to the effect that the motion presented by Senator Henry to refer to the Committee on Ways and Means be laid upon the table."

Senators Woodall, Moriarty, Jr. and Gissberg demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Henry:

"Point of personal privilege, Mr. President:

"I stated a moment ago on the floor what happened to this report to the best of my recollection. I am in an awkward position, as are some of the members, and also my committee clerk. She informs me that the thing was correctly typed and I am only saying this as far as I am concerned. The 'do pass' report is okay, but to clear the record for everybody concerned, she informed me to the best of her recollection the report did read 'do pass' and directed that it be referred to the Committee on Ways and Means. I say this in her defense. The members said to the best of their recollection, it was only a 'do pass' report, so the committee report before us is a 'do pass' report, but in defense of my committee clerk, I may have made a mistake in what I said a moment ago. I just wanted to tell this."

The President stated the question before the Senate is: It has been moved by Senator Cooney that the motion presented by Senator Henry to refer the bill to the Committee on Ways and Means be laid upon the table.

Senator Gissberg demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained by Senators Gallagher, Kupka, Henry, Cooney, Connor, Sandison, Hess, Talley and McCormack.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the motion by Senator Cooney to lay the motion by Senator Henry upon the table and the motion was carried by the following vote: Yeas, 25; nays, 22; absent and excused, 2.

Those voting yea were: Senators Atwood, Cooney, Cowen, Durkan, England, Foster, Freise, Gallagher, Greive, Guess, Herrmann, Keefe, Lennart, McMillan, Moriarty, Jr., Neill, Peterson, Raugust, Rickdall, Riley, Ryder, Stender, Thompson, Jr., Williams, Woodall—25.

Those voting nay were: Senators Bailey, Charette, Chytil, Connor, DeGarmo, Donohue, Foley, Gissberg, Hallauer, Hanna, Henry, Hess, Knoblauch, Kupka, McCormack, McCutcheon, Morgan, Petrich, Rasmussen, Sandison, Talley, Washington—22.

Those absent and excused were: Senators Dore, Mardesich—2.

Senator Keefe moved that House Bill No. 43 be referred to the Committee on Rules and Joint Rules.

Senator Gissberg moved that the motion be amended and that the bill be referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Woodall:

"Point of order, Mr. President:

"That is a motion of equal rank and we have just tabled a motion to refer to Ways and Means Committee. I submit that this in effect would be reconsidering the motion we have just this moment voted on, and that the motion to refer to Rules and Joint Rules, being a motion of equal rank, should be put."

Senator Gallagher:

"Mr. President:

"Having voted on the prevailing side of the motion which just carried, I should now like to move that it be reconsidered."

Senator Woodall:

"There has been an intervening motion by Senator Keefe and he cannot move to reconsider while this motion is pending."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"Senator, the President wishes to refer you to Reed's Rule No. 204. The motion to lay on the table cannot be reconsidered when decided in the affirmative."

MOTION

Senator Hallauer:

"Mr. President:

"I move that we now recess until the hour of 7:00 p. m."

Senator Gissberg:

"I move that the motion be amended to recess until the hour of 7:30 p. m."

The President:

"It has been moved that the motion be amended and that the Senate do recess until 7:30 p. m.

"For what purpose does Senator Keefe rise?"

Senator Keefe:

"Have you acted upon my motion yet?"

The President:

"No action has been taken on your motion, Senator Keefe; however, a motion was presented by Senator Hallauer which is properly before the body because it is of higher rank. It has been moved that the motion as presented by Senator Hallauer be amended to state that the Senate recess until 7:30 p. m."

Senator Gissberg demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained by Senators Hallauer, Hanna, Gallagher, Kupka, Henry, Talley, DeGarmo, Chytil and Atwood.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the motion by Senator Gissberg to amend the motion by Senator Hallauer. During the roll call the following proceedings were had:

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Woodall:

"Point of order, Mr. President:

"I think the rules provide that when a member is within the bar of the Senate, he must vote. I think Senator Rasmussen's messing around in this manner is a disgrace."

The President:

"How does Senator Rasmussen vote?"

Senator Rasmussen:

"Mr. President:

"Does not a member have a right to make up his mind on how to vote without Senator Woodall telling him?"

The President:

"The Senator has a right to make up his mind."

Senator Riley:

"First you've got to have one."

The President:

"For what purpose does Senator Woodall rise?"

Senator Woodall:

"To find out if there is any time limit involved in a matter of this kind?"

The President:

"For what purposes does Senator McCutcheon rise?"

Senator McCutcheon:

"To inform Senator Woodall that there is no time limit, either when he is speaking or when he is seeking."

The President:

"How does Senator Rasmussen vote?"

Senator Rasmussen:

"'Aye.'"

The Secretary completed the calling of the roll.

Senator Rasmussen:

"Mr. President:

"Rasmussen changes from 'aye' to 'no.'"

The President:

"Rasmussen changes from 'aye' to 'no.'"

Senator Rasmussen:

"Mr. President:

"Rasmussen votes 'aye.'"

The President:

"Rasmussen votes 'aye.'"

Senator Woodall:

"Mr. President:

"A Senator is entitled to be a little stupid, but Senator Rasmussen is abusing the privilege."

The motion to amend the motion by Senator Hallauer was lost by the following votes: Yeas, 22; nays, 25; absent and excused, 2.

Those voting yea were: Senators Bailey, Charette, Chytil, Connor, DeGarmo, Donohue, Foley, Gallagher, Gissberg, Hallauer, Hanna, Henry, Hess, Knoblauch, Kupka, McCormack, McCutcheon, Petrich, Rasmussen, Sandison, Talley, Washington—22.

Those voting nay were: Senators Atwood, Cooney, Cowen, Durkan, England, Foster, Freise, Greive, Guess, Herrmann, Keefe, Lennart, McMillan, Morgan, Moriarty, Jr., Neill, Peterson, Raugust, Rickdall, Riley, Ryder, Stender, Thompson, Jr., Williams, Woodall—25.

Those absent and excused were: Senators Dore, Mardesich—2.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Rasmussen:

"Mr. President and members of the Senate:

"Never in my many years of serving with Senator Woodall, and this goes back a long, long time, back to 1947 when Senator Woodall was then known as a leader, he has since not become a leader, have I heard any Senator say on this floor that because a person, and I might say that this is supposed to be a deliberative body, wanted to take a reasonable time to make up his mind on a very serious and important matter, he would be called stupid. I think Senators, that we are stooping pretty low when one Senator attacks another one because the Senator wanted to be sure of the issues and to be sure how his people wanted him to vote and to act with the decorum and the appropriateness that the people of the state of Washington expect.

"Now I have in times past indicated that I thought that some people were a little bit indecorous in their acceptance of certain things but I have never said that they were stupid because they accepted them, and now to find Senator Woodall besmirching the whole population of the state of Washington with his antics on the floor and calling one Senator stupid because he wants to delay a proper time and make sure he is voting the way his people would desire him to vote, that, Mr. President, I think is probably, it should be, reason for the expulsion of the member from this floor for making a statement of that type, when the only thing that he has to base that on is the fact that on a very important vote I took time to consult with my colleagues and then deliberated and then I cast my vote. I don't know what Senator Woodall thinks the people of the state of Washington expect of their Senators. Certainly we can be accused sometimes of acting in haste such as when the gambling bill went through, but it was greased according to the reports I read in the paper, and if we had deliberated longer on that one, probably it wouldn't have slipped through."

The President:

"Senator Rasmussen:

"The President must request that you confine your remarks to the personal privilege and rebuttal strictly to the statements as made by Senator Woodall."

Senator Rasmussen:

"Parliamentary inquiry. How would I appropriately handle the request to expel a member from the floor for his remarks? I don't have the rule right at my fingertips."

The President:

"The President does not either, Senator, and the President is unaware of the procedure to be followed at this time."

Senator Rasmussen:

"Could the President have the Secretary research it while I am explaining here? The Secretary of the Senate is a very valuable man.

"Well, Mr. President, I just want to read for the President and the Senator's edification, could I be permitted to clean my glasses, Mr. President?"

Senator Neill:

"Mr. President:

"I object to him reading. Let him talk all he wants to."

The President:

"Senator Neill, you have objected to the reading of a paper?"

Senator Neill:

"Yes."

The President:

"Senator Rasmussen, the President has received an objection to your reading."

Senator Rasmussen:

"Mr. President, this wasn't a paper. This was a dictionary. Do they object to that?"

MOTION

Senator Hallauer:

"Mr. President:

"I move Senator Rasmussen be allowed to read his paper."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Riley:

"Parliamentary inquiry, Mr. President:

"I think we have established a rule in the Senate that no Senator may speak more than three minutes on any one subject. According to my time, he has used up his three minutes on personal privilege."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Hess:

"Point of order, Mr. President:

"The motion Senator Riley referred to was on an amendment. There has been no rule adopted except where an amendment is concerned. That motion was to be limited to speak once for three minutes on any one amendment."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"The President believes that is a proper and correct statement."

The motion by Senator Hallauer was lost.

The President:

"For what purpose does Senator Herrmann rise?"

Senator Herrmann:

"To make a motion."

The President:

"Senator Rasmussen is speaking on personal privilege."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Rasmussen:

"All clear, Mr. President? Do I have the floor?"

The President:

"It has been called to the attention of the President that once a roll call has begun, it may not be interrupted for any purpose other than (Interruption)"

Senator Rasmussen:

"Are we on a roll call, Mr. President?"

The President:

"Senator Rasmussen, you have the floor; however, in the interest of expediting the business of the Senate, please confine your remarks to a rebuttal of the statement made by Senator Woodall. The President is going to enforce the ruling strictly."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen:

"Would I be in order to say that a stupid person would call another person stupid? I want to know if I would be in order if I called some other Senator stupid because he called me stupid."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"The rules clearly provide that each Senator shall conduct himself in a gentlemanly manner."

Senator Rasmussen:

"Thank you, Mr. President.

"Mr. President, I certainly wouldn't want to call anybody stupid. I might think it, although I wouldn't want anybody to think I was thinking unduly bad things about a Senator, but it is a little exasperating when you have worked down here, and I have been down here since 1945, constantly. I recall that Senator Woodall has been left home by his people several times in that period and I rather think that quite possibly I have been following the dictates of my people in not acting in too stupid a manner if they keep sending me back. I think just because a person wants to take a long look at some of the things that are going on here, that it is highly improper and I would think that Senator Woodall, even though personally he can recall times in the past where he has acted in a stupid manner, that he would forgive me if I appeared to be stupid to him.

"Now I am rather shocked because I was just about on the point of having the President appoint Mr. Woodall, Chief Beagle Eagle to keep track of absent members. I might make that motion yet. Thank you, Mr. President, for your courtesy."

The President stated the question before the Senate is: It has been moved that House Bill No. 43 be referred to the Committee on Rules and Joint Rules.

Senators Moriarty, Jr., Hess and Ryder demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Hess:

"Parliamentary inquiry, Mr. President:

"What is the motion before the body?"

The President:

"The President will state the motion, Senator Hess, as usual. The motion before the Senate is: It has been moved by Senators Keefe and Ryder that House Bill No. 43 be referred to the Committee on Rules and Joint Rules."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Hess:

"Point of order, Mr. President:

"This is what I thought the President said before. I thought the motion was made to be at ease and then I thought there was an amendment pending to be at ease to a different time."

Senator Hallauer:

"I withdraw my motion, Senator Hess."

The President stated the question before the Senate is: It has been moved that House Bill No. 43 be referred to the Committee on Rules and Joint Rules.

The motion was carried.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Woodall:

"Mr. President:

"For the record and clarity only, the people of my district have never left me home any time I sought their franchise."

The President:

"The President wishes to inquire: Are you talking on personal privilege?"

Senator Woodall:

"Yes. The people have never left me home. Any time I have sought their franchise, I always received it. I am very sorry that this matter came to this great length. I will make no further comment. I do not feel the remarks made, merit a further reply."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Gallagher, the Senate dispensed with further proceedings under the Call of the Senate.

SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS

On motion of Senator Washington, the Senate resumed consideration of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 244 and the House amendments thereto.

With the consent of the Senate, Senator Woodall withdrew his motion to concur in the House amendments.

On motion of Senator Washington, the Senate refused to concur in the House amendments to Engrossed Senate Bill No. 244 and asked the House to recede therefrom.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

State of Washington, Executive Department,
Olympia, March 13, 1963.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the State of Washington.

LADY AND GENTLEMEN:

I have the honor to advise that Governor Rosellini has approved the following Senate Bills, entitled:

Senate Bill No. 57:

Authorizing special foreclosure and procedure on abandoned residences.

Senate Bill No. 157:

Granting an additional superior court judge to Snohomish County.

Very truly yours,

(signed) BURTON R. JOHNSON,

Legal Administrative Assistant.

State of Washington, Executive Department,
Olympia, March 13, 1963.

MESSAGE TO THE SENATE IN CONNECTION WITH SIGNING OF SENATE BILL NO. 56.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the State of Washington.

LADY AND GENTLEMEN OF THE SENATE:

Today I have signed into law, with some reluctance, Senate Bill No. 56, which was prepared at the recommendation of the Legislative Council after two years of hearings. This bill permits the state of Washington to assume full and complete jurisdiction of Indians and on all Indian lands for certain specified purposes, to wit: Compulsory school attendance, public assistance, domestic relations, mental illness, juvenile delinquency, adoption proceedings, dependent children and traffic offenses.

In matters other than those enumerated in the preceding paragraph, the state does not assume civil or criminal jurisdiction over Indians while they are on their tribal lands or their allotted lands within an established reservation and on lands held in trust by the United States.

I am aware and proud of the fact that some of the Indian tribes during the past several years have vastly improved their own law enforcement agencies on their reservations. I am not unmindful of the fact that under this bill certain criminal activities which might be committed on deeded lands, as distinguished from private lands, will create local law enforcement problems because it may be difficult to determine on the spur of the moment whether a given act is subject to federal, state or tribal jurisdiction.

I sincerely and deeply regret that all of the Indian tribes, since the enactment of Public Law 280 in 1953 by Congress, have not voluntarily consented to complete civil and criminal state jurisdiction. Unfortunately, in a few areas of the state the absence of state jurisdiction over certain civil and criminal matters has caused great difficulties in law enforcement and has resulted in unnecessary hardships, particularly concerning Indian children. I have been strongly urged by many local civil and law enforcement authorities in those areas to sign this bill. Several members of the Supreme Court in their biennial reports to me likewise have urged that the state assume complete criminal and civil jurisdiction. This is necessarily a compromise bill insofar as it does not assume complete civil and criminal jurisdiction.

It is my fervent hope and I have every reason to expect that local law enforcement officers will exercise proper restraints in enforcing this statute, and that the Indian population on its part will cooperate in making this law workable.

I want to stress particularly that Section 4 of this bill firmly secures and strengthens the policy of the state to protect Indian lands from alienation, encumbrances and taxation. Likewise, this bill does not in any manner whatsoever interfere with those ancient hunting, trapping and fishing rights which belong to the Indians.

To the extent that this bill may conceivably be in violation of the equal protection and due process clauses of the State and Federal Constitution, I trust that those matters will be taken to court for early determination.

Sincerely yours,

ALBERT D. ROSELLINI, Governor.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hallauer:

"Mr. President:

"I consider it a great pleasure to speak on behalf of the appointment of Mrs. Davis for the position of member of the Board of Trustees of Central Washington State College. A number of the Senators will recall Emmy, as she is better known, in her activity as Public Information Officer for the 1959-1961 Interim Committee on Education when she donated six months of her time in that activity gratis to assist their activities.

"Mrs. Davis is a graduate of the University of California at Los Angeles. She has a Bachelor of Arts Degree in political science and history, and she subsequently completed a graduate year in the law school at that institution. She was Editor in Chief of U. S. News, a UCLA daily. Later she went into journalism and became Editor of the Tacoma Star.

"I have a very high regard for Mrs. Davis and her interest in education and my acquaintance with her has been over the past six years. I am sure that she is a great and beneficial addition as a member of the Board of Trustees of that institution."

Senator Washington:

"Mr. President and members of the Senate:

"I also want to speak on behalf of Mrs. Davis as a trustee of Central Washington College. I have had the opportunity of working very closely with the members of the Board of Trustees, the college being in my district, and I can say without reservation, Mrs. Davis has been a real contribution to the Board of Trustees of Central Washington State College and along with Senator Hallauer, I certainly hope you will vote for her confirmation."

Senator Hess:

"I couldn't let this confirmation pass without paying this particular compliment to the tremendous work that Mrs. Davis has done in behalf of education in this state. Senator Hallauer mentioned this donation of six months almost full time of her own time to the work of the Interim Committee on Education. It was work of a very highly specialized nature and her contribution made possible much of the participation directly in the grass roots, community level participation throughout this state with the citizens' work of that study. I think from everything I have learned since her appointment to the Board of Trustees of Central Washington State College, she has continued to make an outstanding contribution in the field of education in this state."

He was a former pro-baseball player, attended college at the University of Ohio and graduated from the University Medical School. He was with the Mayo Foundation for three years. He was in the Army during World War II and has been a part-time member of the faculty at the University of Washington, a position he resigned because he felt it would be in conflict. He is very active in the King County community and very well regarded."

Senator Hess:

"Speaking in favor of the confirmation of Dr. Addington, I was one of the members of Senator Sandison's committee who interviewed all four of the appointees: Dr. Addington, Dr. King, Joseph Drumheller and Harold Shefelman. The committee was impressed with the sincerity and ability of all four of these gentlemen, with their knowledge of the work at the University, and with the inquiring nature of their approach to their responsibilities, I think all of us were impressed. I know I was particularly impressed with Dr. Addington, his interest in the Medical School and in re-examining their policies with an emphasis on research as related to teaching. REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

Senate Chamber,
Olympia, Wash., March 7, 1963.

JOHN L. KING, to the position of member, Board of Regents, University of Washington, appointed April 10, 1962, for the term ending March 11, 1968, succeeding himself (reported by Committee on Higher Education and Libraries):

Recommends that said appointment be confirmed. GORDON SANDISON, Chairman.

We concur in this report: R. Frank Atwood, Jack England, Frank W. Foley, Wilbur G. Hallauer, Andy Hess, Mike McCormack, Marshall A. Neill, John N. Ryder, Nat Washington.

It was moved by Senator Greive that the rules be suspended and that the appointment of John L. King to the Board of Regents of the University of Washington be now confirmed.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Greive:

"Mr. President:

"This is one appointment on which I would like to speak. I have known John King approximately twenty years. When I first knew him, I was drawing cartoons for the Daily News, and he was on the Editor's Desk. He also lives in my district, about a half mile from my home. Naturally, I have had close contact with him for many years.

"John King is a former Assistant Superintendent of Public Instruction. He served in that capacity, and from that position he went on to be Education Director at Washington State College, and from there he was employed in an educational capacity with the radio and television stations in Seattle. He is a man deeply interested in education. Indeed, I think of all of the people I know that have been appointed to the Board of Regents, he comes the closest to being a real educator. In a sense, education is his first love. He has a number of degrees, including his Master's and has done considerable work on his Doctorate and is truly a man of deep interest in education.

"I particularly want to confirm him at this time because some sixteen years ago, he was up for confirmation to the Board of Regents and at that time, I think Senator Cowen will recall, we had twenty-four votes and it took twenty-five to take his appointment out of committee, and I had to vote the other way. I kept him at that time from being confirmed and it took him another sixteen years to get the appointment back. I always thought if I would do that to my close friend, it would be a real pleasure to second his nomination at this time."

The motion was carried.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the State of Washington.

LADY AND GENTLEMEN:

I have the honor to submit the following appointments to the position of member, State Highway Commission, subject to your confirmation:

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Gissberg:

"Mr. President:

"Although I am not from Seattle and Mr. Ketcham is, I feel an affinity to him because of the fact he has given particular time and attention to the road problems as they exist in the area of not only Seattle and elsewhere in the state, but he has given particular attention to the needs of our transportation facilities in Snohomish, Skagit and Whatcom Counties. Mr. Ketcham has served on the Highway Commission since 1957 and has been chairman of that body. He is a man who knows no fear. He is an individualist from the word 'go.' He is a man who is deserving of our support because he always tries to do what is right."

Senator Washington:

"I rise to support the nomination and appointment of Mr. Ketcham. I can also go along with the words of Senator Gissberg. I have worked closely with the Highway Commission as chairman of the Highway Interim Committee and I know he is dedicated to highway problems. He spends a great deal of time attempting to solve our problems. He is more or less retired so that he does have the time to spend on this very important problem. I think there is no man who has done more and I sincerely am a solicitor of votes in support of his appointment."

Senator Raugust:

"Mr. President:

"I also would like to support the appointment of Mr. Ketcham. I have had the pleasure of working with him since he has been on the Highway Commission. I think he is an excellent man. I don't know of anyone who would be better qualified for this position."

Senator Washington:

"Mr. President and members of the Senate:

"Again, I have been acquainted with Mr. Mikalson since he has been serving on the Highway Commission since July of 1961. He has been on the Commission almost two years. He has a college education and good background and was the secretary-treasurer of the Teamsters Local 252 in Centralia. He has represented the point of view of labor on the Commission. We have always had at least one representative of labor serving on the Highway Commission and I know he does have a statewide viewpoint. I know he recognizes the problems of all areas of the state. He has been very regular in all of his attendances in the meetings and I heartily recommend his appointment be confirmed."

Senator Chytil:

"Mr. President and members of the Senate:

"I, too, rise to recommend Robert L. Mikalson to the State Highway Commission. I know in the year and a half he has served, he has devoted much time to his duties. He happens to be from my district, although on the other side of the fence. I believe that we do disagree on many points; however, I am sure that he will do a very excellent job as a highway commissioner."

Senator Talley:

"I would like to say a few words about Robert L. Mikalson. Most of us in Southwest Washington are well satisfied with the service we are receiving from him. I think he is doing a very able job of representing Southwest Washington."

JAMES M. BLAIR, SR., of Puyallup, by the Governor to the State Highway Commission for the term ending July 1, 1967, succeeding R. A. Moisie (reported by Committee on Highways):

MAJORITY recommends that said appointment be confirmed.

NAT WASHINGTON, Chairman,
AL HENRY, Vice Chairman.

We concur in this report: Robert C. Bailey, John L. Cooney, Dewey C. Donohue, Martin J. Durkan, Frank W. Foley, F. Stuart Foster, Herbert H. Freise, William A. Gissberg, Sam C. Guess, H. B. PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Knoblauch:

"Mr. President and members of the Senate:

"I am happy to stand and to ask you members of the Senate to confirm the appointment of James M. Blair, Senior, to the State Highway Commission. I have known Mr. Blair for at least thirty years. He is a very well respected business man in Puyallup. He has an insurance business and has been active in the Chamber of Commerce. For many years he was chairman of the Roads' Committee of the Chamber of Commerce and I can say he is one of the outstanding citizens of the Puyallup Valley. He has been on the Commission almost two years, and is very enthused about the job. I can say most frankly that this is a position this man has wanted for many years and since receiving it he has been doing an outstanding job."

Senator Woodall:

"I would like to state that I have known Mr. Blair for many, many years. I worked with him in our State Fairs Association. I have found him to be very industrious, courteous, and I have found him to be a very pleasant man to work with and very competent. I heartily second his appointment."

Senator Washington:

Mr. President and members of the Senate:

"Mr. Blair has also served on the Commission since July of 1961. I have had occasion to work with him as a member of the Commission. He is certainly doing an excellent job. Again he is a man with a statewide viewpoint. He takes into consideration highway problems from every point in the state. He is one of the Republican appointees, since this does happen to be a bi-partisan commission. Although he may be on the other side of the political fence, we certainly agree he is an excellent man with an excellent viewpoint and outlook on highway problems."

The motion was carried.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McMillan:

"Mr. President and members of the Senate:

"I am moved to make some remarks regarding service in the State Senate. As a

Senator you are part of the nerve center of the state. The center of responsibility that makes state government a going concern. It should give one the feeling that at least he has the opportunity to make a definite contribution to the well-being of the state and its people. One should strive to form a good image of the Senate and House on the minds of the people.

"In Senate Hearing Room One, not long ago, I heard a man say in the course of a statement that he had heard the Senate was bought so what can you expect? I leave that thought with you and you can draw any conclusion that fits your way of thinking.

"My father came to the Colville Valley in 1884, a young man in his early twenties, looking for a place to live in the northwest, our last frontier. In 1887 he was a member of the last Territorial Legislature. The Territory acquired statehood in 1889. Then in 1915 and 1917 he was again in Olympia as a member of the Washington State Senate.

"I served my first session in the Washington State Senate in 1935 and continued in office for eight years. After an absence of sixteen years, I again returned to the Senate in 1959. During the years since 1935, I have acquired a philosophy and state of mind in regard to government which has afforded me the opportunity to compare the present state of our society and civilization with that of the ancient classic government of Greece and Rome.

"As I approach this beautiful and impressive Capitol building each morning on my walk from my rented home, I am impressed with its majestic beauty. Its classic columns and general outlines of the Roman-Doric style of architecture fill me with pride and respect for those men and women who formulated plans and financing to make this Capitol building a reality.

"This building brings forcibly to mind the great civilization of ancient Rome which in its prime controlled most of the civilized world of that day. In her early history and for several hundred years, Rome was governed by people with the primary instincts of responsibility and honest government. Her architectural ruins are found over most of Europe and Asia Minor. Her roads, mail service, her towns and private homes rival anything we have here in America today. A visit to modern Rome is never complete without a tour of the relics of an amazingly advanced civilization and style of living.

"What caused the collapse of this giant of the past which plunged the civilized world into a way of life close to barbarism. Nearly one thousand years elapsed before even partial recovery was accomplished. The evidence of history points to moral decay, irresponsible politicians and greed plus graft all along the line.

"Let us keep our sights high that we may help perpetuate our way of life and civilization down through the ages. The Christian way of life has been a wonderful influence for good but we have witnessed the murder of thousands within the last twenty years. Let us close ranks and be resolved that tourists will not be guided through the ruins of this Capitol building at any time in the foreseeable future by guides who speak of a once great civilization."

Senator Morgan moved that the remarks of Senator McMillan under personal privilege be spread upon the Journal.

The motion was carried.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGES ON SENATE BILLS VETOED, PARTIALLY VETOED OR NOT SIGNED

March 26, 1963.

To the Honorable
The Senate of the State of Washington
(Through the Secretary of State)

Lady and Gentlemen:

I am filing herewith, to be transmitted to the Senate at the next session of the Legislature, without my approval as to a certain item contained in section 11, Substitute Senate Bill No. 81 entitled:

“AN ACT Relating to beavers; amending section 77.20.010, chapter 36, Laws of 1955 and RCW 77.20.010; amending section 77.20.020, chapter 36, Laws of 1955 and RCW 77.20.020; amending section 77.20.030, chapter 36, Laws of 1955 and RCW 77.20.030; amending section 77.20.040, chapter 36, Laws of 1955 and RCW 77.20.040; amending section 77.20.045, chapter 36, Laws of 1955 and RCW 77.20.045; amending section 77.20.050, chapter 36, Laws of 1955 and RCW 77.20.050; amending section 77.32.190, chapter 36, Laws of 1955 as amended by section 11, chapter 176, Laws of 1957, and RCW 77.32.190; amending section 77.12.270, chapter 36, Laws of 1955 and RCW 77.12.270; amending section 77.12.290, chapter 36, Laws of 1955 as amended by section 2, chapter 177, Laws of 1957 and RCW 77.12.290; adding two new sections to chapter 36, Laws of 1955 and chapter 77.20 RCW; and providing penalties.”

The bill removes beavers from the list of protected fur-bearing animals. It allows private owners of property to hunt or trap beaver after giving notice to the Commission.

Section 11 contains the following item: “The purchaser of the skin shall return the tag to the commission within five days of the date of purchase.” I disapprove and veto this item because the Game Commission advises me that in many instances it would be physically impossible to return to the Commission a beaver tag within five days.

With the exception of the foregoing item which is vetoed, the remainder of Substitute Senate Bill No. 81 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,

ALBERT D. ROSELLINI,

Governor.

March 14, 1963.

To the Honorable
The Senate of the State of Washington

Lady and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith without my approval Senate Bill No. 164 entitled:

“AN ACT Relating to the sale of intoxicating liquor on or near the University of Washington grounds; amending section 1, chapter 75, Laws of 1895 as last amended by section 1, chapter 120, Laws of 1951, and RCW 66.44.190 and adding a new section to RCW 66.44.”

Senate Bill No. 164 would allow a license for the sale of intoxicating liquor to be issued to a bona fide hotel within an area known as the University District. The bill provides that a license might be issued to such a hotel if it maintains dining facilities open to the public, having a minimum capacity of one hundred guests at a sitting. It is crystal clear that this bill constitutes special interest legislation tailored solely to allow the Hotel Meany to obtain such a license.

I believe this measure to be in violation of the equal protection clause of the State and Federal Constitution, and at best this bill is of doubtful constitutional validity.

Since 1895, the Legislature has seen fit to protect the young men and women attending the University of Washington against the easy access to intoxicating liquor. I believe the original policy of the Legislature in 1895 was wholesome, but if the Legislature wanted to change it, it certainly should have done so by granting the same privilege to other qualified businesses, both hotels and restaurants situated in this prohibited area.

For the foregoing reasons Senate Bill No. 164 is vetoed.

Respectfully submitted,

ALBERT D. ROSELLINI,

Governor.

March 26, 1963.

To the Honorable
The Senate of the State of Washington
(Through the Secretary of State)

Lady and Gentlemen:

I am filing herewith to be transmitted to the Senate at the next session of the Legislature, without my approval as to a certain item in Section 1, Senate Bill No. 182 entitled:

“AN ACT Relating to contracts for public works; and amending section 1, chapter 166, Laws of 1921, as amended by section 1, chapter 236, Laws of 1955, and RCW 60.28.010.”

This bill amends the present law requiring that governmental units withhold fifteen percent of amounts earned by contractors during the progress of construction projects as a trust fund for the benefit of lienholders. As amended by this bill, the percentage of retained earnings is reduced from fifteen percent to ten percent.

The legislature also added two new provisos. The first allows an officer acting for a governmental unit to pay a contractor all amounts previously retained after fifty percent of the work has been completed. By adding this proviso, the effective retained percentage at the completion of the contract could be five percent of the original price.

The second proviso states that payment could be made in full on any completed portion that was treated as a separate price item in the contract in the same manner as if the entire contract had been completed and accepted. If this second proviso were to remain, it is possible that the retained trust fund would be substantially less than five percent of the total contract price and would be insufficient to meet either tax liens or labor and materialman's liens; thus the primary purpose of the law would be curtailed if not lost.

For the foregoing reasons, the item contained in the second proviso of Section 1 is vetoed and the remainder of Senate Bill No. 182 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,

ALBERT D. ROSELLINI,

Governor.

March 26, 1963.

The Honorable Victor A. Meyers
Secretary of State
Olympia, Washington

Dear Sir:

I am transmitting herewith, without my signature, Senate Bill No. 349 entitled:

“AN ACT Relating to the taxation of timber and timberlands; and adding five new sections to chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and to chapter 84.40 RCW.”

This bill deals in a comprehensive manner with the taxation of timber lands. I am aware of the fact that growing timber needs a tax structure furthering its economic growth and development. Continued timber growth is, of course, one of our essential natural resources deserving our primary attention.

Senate Bill No. 349 outlines a number of factors to be taken into consideration in establishing true and fair value for our timber lands. It provides that the timber appraisal manual prepared and published pursuant to chapter 20, Laws of 1951, Second Extraordinary Session, shall be revised and updated by seven county assessors, with the advice of the State Tax Commission and the Department of Natural Resources.

I have some misgivings that Senate Bill No. 349 may discriminate in favor of the small number of large timber owners as against the large number of small timber owners. However, I am willing to permit this act to become law and observe its practical operations closely during the coming biennium. I am of the opinion that we should continue to study our methods of taxing timberlands, so that at some future date we might find a truly equitable solution of the timber tax problem which will treat small, medium and large timber owners alike.

For the reasons indicated, I am permitting Senate Bill No. 349 to become law without my signature.

Respectfully submitted,

ALBERT D. ROSELLINI,

Governor.

March 11, 1963.

To the Honorable
The Senate of the State of Washington
(Through the Secretary of State)

Lady and Gentlemen:

I am filing herewith to be transmitted to the Senate without my approval as to certain items and without my approval as to certain sections Senate Bill No. 360 entitled:

“AN ACT Relating to the maintenance and operation of certain machines or mechanical devices, salesboards, bingo equipment and cardrooms in certain governmental subdivisions; adding new sections to chapter 249, Laws of 1909 and chapter 9.47 RCW; and declaring an emergency.”

Senate Bill No. 360 allows counties, cities and towns to permit the operation of certain amusement devices and authorizes them to license certain games without allowing gambling.

Section 1, page 1, line 19, contains the words “or taxed.” Section 3, page 2, line 11, contains the words “or taxed.” Section 4, page 2, line 22, contains the words “or taxed.” I hereby veto these items in Sections 1, 3 and 4 to make it plain that the non-gambling activities permitted under this statute may be exercised only by such municipal subdivisions of the state as are willing to license the respective activities or devices.

Section 7 would permit persons, firms, or corporations which had been licensed by a city council, board of trustees or board of county commissioners prior to March 1, 1963 to become automatically eligible to receive a bingo, state fair or similar license. I believe that each license under this act should be carefully scrutinized and only those persons who are citizens of the United States and who have been residents of the State of Washington for at least five years prior to application should be allowed to obtain licenses under this act. In the case of firms or corporations, I believe all officers and stockholders should first fulfill the residence requirements provided in Section 6 of the statute.

I have full faith and confidence that the local licensing authorities will, by resolution or ordinance, place additional stringent requirements concerning character, morality and good reputation of all persons seeking to be licensed by them. As to whether or not all or any part of the activities permissible under this statute shall be exercised is a matter which this bill places entirely upon the local executive and law enforcement agencies.

For the reasons indicated, the items previously quoted from Sections 1, 3 and 4 of the act are vetoed. Likewise, Section 7 of Senate Bill No. 360 is vetoed. I will allow the remainder of the bill to become law without my signature, in accordance with the additional explanation appended to the bill and to this message.

Respectfully submitted,

ALBERT D. ROSELLINI,

Governor.

March 11, 1963

STATEMENT BY THE GOVERNOR

RE: Item Veto of Senate Bill No. 360

I have carefully analyzed Senate Bill No. 360. My legal staff has done likewise. As a result, I am vetoing several items and one section of Senate Bill No. 360, and instructing that the altered bill be filed without my signature.

It is my firm conviction that Senate Bill No. 360, as partially vetoed, does not legalize gambling.

Article 2, Section 24 of the State Constitution, as construed repeatedly by the Supreme Court of the State of Washington, prohibits lotteries and gambling in the State of Washington. It is elementary, therefore, that no act of this legislature can overrule or circumvent the mandate contained in the constitutional provision mentioned above.

I have deliberately refrained from vetoing an emergency clause contained in Senate Bill No. 360 in order to allow the constitutionality of this measure to be tested at once. This emergency clause permits the bill to take effect immediately; therefore, allowing a court test of the constitutionality of this bill at once by anyone who might desire to do so.

I wish to emphasize that nowhere in its provisions does Senate Bill No. 360 expressly repeal the numerous state statutes against gambling. These statutes continue to exist and to have full force and effect. Anyone found gambling in any part of the state still is subject to arrest and prosecution.

While I continue to question the need of Senate Bill No. 360, nevertheless it has been requested by many local public officials. Furthermore, the elected representatives of the people have approved this bill by an almost two-thirds margin in both Houses of the Legislature. With the partial vetoes that I have executed, the bill now has proper safeguards against gambling. It is primarily because of these factors that I have allowed most of Senate Bill No. 360 to become law without my signature.

Senate Bill No. 360 does allow cities and counties to license and regulate the use of certain amusement devices, trade stimulants, and certain card playing.

Senate Bill No. 360 does not, nor could it, constitutionally, allow wagering by means of these devices.

Under this act, as vetoed by me, no one can engage in activities covered by this act without first obtaining approval of local public officials. This applies to past licensees and future applicants.

I am against gambling and will continue to do everything within my power to see that the gambling laws of this state are enforced. The laws of our state place the primary responsibility for law enforcement on local enforcement agents. This is as it should be. But be assured that I would not hesitate a moment to use state law enforcement officials to enforce state anti-gambling laws if local enforcement agents cannot or do not do the job.

I am proud of Washington's fine record as a clean state, free of syndicates and the crime and vice associated with them. I have been privileged to have a part in establishing this record during my years as deputy prosecuting attorney in King County, as a State Senator, as chairman of the Legislative Crime Committee, and as Governor. I wish to assure the citizens of Washington that I shall continue to do everything within the power invested in me as chief executive to guarantee that Washington will remain a state that is free of gambling.

ALBERT D. ROSELLINI,

Governor.

March 26, 1963.

To the Honorable
The Senate of the State of Washington
(Through the Secretary of State)

Lady and Gentlemen:

I am filing herewith to be transmitted to the Senate at the next session of the Legislature, without my approval of a certain item contained in Section 8, Senate Bill No. 390 entitled:

“AN ACT Relating to savings and loan associations; amending section 7, chapter 235, Laws of 1945, and RCW 33.08.060; amending section 29, chapter 235, Laws of 1945, and RCW 33.12.010; amending section 49, chapter 235, Laws of 1945, as amended by section 3, chapter 71, Laws of 1953, and RCW 33.12.090; amending section 51, chapter 235, Laws of 1945, as amended by section 2, chapter 222, Laws of 1961, and RCW 33.12.150; amending section 15, chapter 235, Laws of 1945, and RCW 33.16.020; amending section 46, chapter 235, Laws of 1945, and RCW 33.20.080; amending section 58, chapter 235, Laws of 1945, as last amended by section 6, chapter 71, Laws of 1953, and RCW 33.24.010; amending section 80, chapter 235, Laws of 1945, and RCW 33.32.010; amending section 4, chapter 122, Laws of 1955, and RCW 33.48-.030.”

Senate Bill No. 390 contains numerous amendments pertaining to the Savings and Loan Division of the Department of General Administration.

Section 8 contains the following amendment: “. . . nor shall any foreign corporation hereafter, directly or indirectly, control any savings and loan association organized under the laws of this state.”

I am opposed to the amendment contained in Section 8 because it discriminates against foreign corporations. It is my considered judgment that the State of Washington should freely admit foreign corporations to do business in this state. The field of savings and loan associations does not present an exception. Further, it is my feeling that for the proper economic development of the State of Washington we should encourage investments from all entities, resident and non-resident. For this reason the item quoted above is vetoed. The remainder of Senate Bill No. 390 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,

ALBERT D. ROSELLINI,

Governor.

March 26, 1963.

To the Honorable
The Senate of the State of Washington
(Through the Secretary of State)

Lady and Gentlemen:

I am filing herewith to be transmitted to the Senate at the next session of the Legislature, without my approval as to certain items, Substitute Senate Bill No. 415 entitled:

“AN ACT Relating to and regulating retail installment sales of goods and services; amending section 1, chapter 106, Laws of 1893 as last amended by section 1, chapter 159, Laws of 1961 and RCW 63.12.010; prescribing penalties; and providing an effective date.”

This bill is approved with the exception of the items designated subsections (b) and (c), page nine, of section 11, subsection 2.

Substitute Senate Bill No. 415 deals in a comprehensive manner with the subject of retail installment contracts and sales. It is a consumer protection bill in a manner similar to a bill which I caused to be introduced by executive request during the 1961 legislative session. It allows the consumer to know exactly the terms of his contract and the service charges he pays thereon.

Section 11 (2), subsections (b) and (c) read as follows:

“(b) Where the amount of each installment payment is not increased in connection with such subsequent purchase, the subsequent payments shall be deemed to be allocated first to the previous purchases;

“(c) Where the amount of each installment payment is increased in connection with such subsequent purchase, an amount equal to the original periodic payment shall be allocated first to the previous purchase, and the amount of such increase may, at the seller's option, be deemed to be allocated to the subsequent purchases;”

I have received a great deal of correspondence from retail merchants and finance companies handling their contracts, opposing these sections on the grounds that the enactment of these two sections would unduly hamper and curtail "add on" credit sales, thereby depriving the customers of necessary items of purchase. Such curtailment of purchases would necessarily have a depressing effect upon the economy of the state.

I have come to the conclusion that the objections which have been raised to these two subsections are meritorious and I, therefore, veto these two subsections of Section 11 (2) of Substitute Senate Bill No. 415. The remainder of the bill is approved.

Respectfully submitted,

ALBERT D. ROSELLINI,
Governor.

March 26, 1963.

To the Honorable
The Senate of the State of Washington
(Through the Secretary of State)

Lady and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to the items amended in Section 3, subsection (4), Senate Bill No. 582 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to intoxicating liquor and the control and regulation thereof; amending section 4, chapter 6, Laws of 1961 extraordinary session and RCW 66.08.026; and amending section 69, chapter 62, Laws of 1933 extraordinary session, as amended by section 10, chapter 174, Laws of 1935, and RCW 66.08.050; and declaring an emergency."

This bill provides that the administrative expenses of the Liquor Control Board be appropriated and paid directly from the Liquor Revolving Fund.

Section 3, subsection (4) of this bill as amended would take from the Liquor Control Board the power of leasing stores and providing furnishings, fixtures and supplies, and would turn over these functions to be administered by the Department of General Administration.

I am neither unaware nor unmindful of the fact that this proposed legislation is based upon some dissatisfaction with some of the past practices of the Liquor Control Board in exercising its leasing functions. On the other hand, it would require an additional appropriation of some $30,000 from the General Fund to have the Department of General Administration handle this part of the business of the Liquor Control Board. In addition, to take the leasing functions away from the Liquor Board would destroy its functional administrative unity.

For these reasons, I believe it to be in the best public interest to have the Liquor Control Board continue to exercise the leasing powers given to it by law, and the item added by the new language in Section 3, subsection (4), is vetoed. The remainder of Senate Bill No. 582 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,

ALBERT D. ROSELLINI,
Governor.

March 26, 1963.

To the Honorable
The Senate of the State of Washington
(Through the Secretary of State)

Lady and Gentlemen:

I am filing herewith to be transmitted to the Senate at the next session of the Legislature, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 604 entitled:

“AN ACT Relating to cities and towns and amending section 22, chapter 282, Laws of 1961 and RCW 35.13.243.”

Senate Bill No. 604 relates to the power and authority of a city or town over annexed water, sewer and fire districts which lie partially or wholly within a city or town.

The bill purports to amend section 22, chapter 282, Laws of 1961 and RCW 35.13.243. The identical section was amended by House Bill No. 246, which I have signed into law. In addition, House Bill No. 246 contained provisions amending other sections of the law pertaining to annexed local improvement districts.

House Bill No. 246 is a more comprehensive measure and because of its enactment, there was no necessity for Senate Bill No. 604 to become law.

For the reasons indicated, Senate Bill No. 604 is vetoed.

Respectfully submitted,

ALBERT D. ROSELLINI,

Governor.

March 26, 1963.

The Honorable Victor A. Meyers
Secretary of State
Olympia, Washington

Dear Sir:

I am transmitting herewith, without my signature, Senate Bill No. 618 entitled:

“AN ACT Providing for the relief of Alton V. Phillips Company.”

This bill waives the statute of limitations on a claim the Alton V. Phillips Company, a highway and bridge contractor, has against the State Highway Department. It allows the company within thirty days from the time the act takes effect to bring an action in the Superior Court of the State of Washington for Thurston County.

Reluctantly I am allowing Senate Bill No. 618 to become law without my signature.

I have always been opposed to legislation enacted for the benefit of a private individual or a private corporation. In the first place, I question whether this bill complies with the mandate of the Constitution prohibiting special legislation, as provided in Article II, Section 28, particularly subsections 14 and 17 thereof.

I have been advised that the company involved, while engaged in negotiations with the Highway Department concerning its claim, failed to bring suit within 180 days from date of final acceptance of the work, as required by RCW 47.28.120.

The Director of Highways has not opposed this measure. The bill has passed both Houses of the Legislature by more than a two-thirds majority. In addition, the bill merely allows the company to present its case and obtain a judgment if the court finds in favor of the company. If the company fails to establish a case it will obtain nothing.

For these reasons, I am allowing Senate Bill No. 618 to become law without my signature.

Respectfully submitted,

ALBERT D. ROSELLINI,

Governor.

"Well, Senator McCormack, I am not going to go into the workings of it. I believe it could be handled jointly or completely by the federal government, or vice versa. WHEREAS, The President of the United States has recently requested the Congress to establish a "National Academy of Foreign Affairs" to train American foreign service personnel for the multitude of tasks which confront them throughout the world; and

WHEREAS, Such a proposed National Academy of Foreign Affairs would provide schools for the personnel of all governmental agencies in the United States involved in the formulation, direction and furtherance of our national goals and foreign policy, and would have graduate school status with a tentative student body of approximately one thousand student officials; and

WHEREAS, The present Foreign Service Institute of the Department of State would be incorporated into the National Academy of Foreign Affairs, which would also be open to Army, Navy and Air Force officers whose military assignments involve the formulation, direction and furtherance of our national goals and foreign policy; and

WHEREAS, By concentrating such training in one academy there could be provided an essential unity of purpose and action so that all of these operations can be coordinated into a harmonious whole; and

WHEREAS, The proposed National Academy of Foreign Affairs would command respect throughout the government, in academic communities, and with all knowledgeable persons concerned with United States foreign policy and overseas operations of our diplomatic and foreign service officers; and would provide the United States with added skill and strength to meet and overcome the continuously more complex problems of the cold war, and would be a source of pride and stability for free men everywhere; and

WHEREAS, The cost of such an academy would be extremely small as compared to the cost of other service academies, and would provide the potential for a far greater dollar-for-dollar return on the cost of operation than these academies;

Debate ensued.

The motion was carried and the amendment was adopted.

On motion of Senator Hallauer, the following amendment was adopted:

On line 7 of the printed amendment by Committee on Ways and Means, after "your" and before the period insert ": Provided That the state board shall determine the location of the four community colleges prior to July 1, 1964"

The following amendment by Senator McCutcheon was read by the Secretary:

In line 4, strike the word "four" and after the word "colleges" strike the comma in line 5 and replace with a period and strike the remainder of the amendment.

Senator McCutcheon:

"Mr. President:

"In view of the action of the body on the amendment by Senator Hess, I wish to withdraw this amendment."

There being no objection, the amendment was withdrawn.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McCutcheon:

"Would Senator Hallauer answer a question?"

"Do I understand that 'Little Red Riding Hood' going through the forest, I'm referring to the junior colleges, have their whole support twisted around now and are no longer on a formula basis like they were before? You've changed something there, haven't you?"

Senator Hallauer:

"Mr. President, in response to the question, I refer Senator McCutcheon to section 4. It takes out all of the old gobbledygook formula and has entirely transferred it to the State Board of Education which, under the terms of this bill, would become a supervisory board governing all junior colleges. They would have the power to make apportionments to the different colleges according to enrollment and other factors. I think the junior college presidents have all expressed themselves very favorably on this aspect."

Senator McCutcheon:

"In other words, you are going to have a State Board of Education acting as a Board of Regents?"

Senator Hallauer:

"This is correct in terms of financing and apportioning money to the various junior colleges."

Senator McCutcheon:

"In view of that answer, I now move that this bill hold its place on tomorrow's calendar. I think this is something we can very well look into."

Debate ensued.

The motion was lost.

On motion of Senator Gallagher, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 19 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Further debate ensued.

Senators Gallagher, Knoblauch and Durkan demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 19, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 48; nays, 0; absent or not voting, 1.

Those voting yea were: Senators Atwood, Bailey, Charette, Chytil, Connor, Cooney, DeGarmo, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, England, Foley, Foster, Freise, Gallagher, Gissberg, Greive, Guess, Hallauer, Hanna, Henry, Herrmann, Hess, Keefe, Knoblauch, Kupka, Lennart, McCormack, McCutcheon, McMillan, Mardesich, Morgan, Moriarty, Jr., Neill, Peterson, Petrich, Rasmussen, Raugust, Rickdall, Riley, Ryder, Sandison, Stender, Talley, Thompson, Jr., Washington, Williams, Woodall—48.

Those absent or not voting were: Senator Cowen—1.

Engrossed Senate Bill No. 19, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

Due to illness in my family it was necessary I be excused from attendance on Friday, March 22, 1963.

On that day Senate Bill No. 19 relating to junior colleges appeared upon the calendar of the Senate for final passage. Had I been present I would have voted "yea" since I am completely in accord with the bill and desire at all times to favor measures which offer better educational opportunities to the young people of our state.

It is with deep regret that I found it necessary to be excused on that day, although I note the bill received the unanimous approval of the members of the Senate present.

DAVID C. COWEN.

MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION

Senator McCutcheon:

"Mr. President:

"Having voted on the prevailing side, I now move we reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 19 passed the Senate."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"Senator McCutcheon, to immediately reconsider the vote would take a suspension of the rules."

Senator McCutcheon:

"I am so moving."

The President:

"It has been moved that the rules be suspended and that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which Engrossed Senate Bill No. 19 passed the Senate.

"The motion to suspend the rules is not debatable, Senator McCutcheon. If you care to make a brief explanation, however, you may."

Senator McCutcheon:

"I have no thought on earth that I will get off the ground with this, Senator Gallagher, but I want to remind these gentlemen that I am aware of what is going on here. I know all about this bill. They are now putting all junior colleges in competition with institutions of higher learning by passing this bill.

"I now withdraw the motion."

There being no objection, the motion to reconsider was withdrawn.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Woodall:

"Mr. President:

"In response to the remarks made by Senator McCutcheon, I would like to ask leave to file a protest in the journal over the failure of the Senate to hold up the bill one day for the purpose of considering other revenue sources."

The following poem by Rachel Venneberg was read by the Secretary:
To Lieutenant Governor Cherberg, with my warmest wishes.

A GOAL FOR AMERICANS

Life is but one moment, in this incalculable space.
When hopes and visions; months and years, time and change erase.
Then measure we our actions, for time is not for waste.
To see our dedications—are right and nobly placed.
Yet if our efforts now, do little to gain us fame.
What do we care; if yet we know, we've proudly borne our name?
To fail is not a failure, for yet if goals shall die—
The only failure man can know, is to forsake a try.
Then to history's example, shall we stand for truth and right.
And proudly do our duties, to work for freedom's fight.

—RACHEL SUSAN VENNEBERG.

On motion of Senator Greive, the poem by Page Rachel Venneberg was ordered spread on the pages of the Journal and a copy of the Journal ordered for Rachel Venneberg.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Lennart:

"Mr. President, personal privilege:

"I think this may be a good time to speak about how indolent and unwise we are in sitting around here. This redistricting and reapportionment problem is born of the fact first that the Founders of the Constitution in the state of Washington did not provide for any area or natural resources representation in the upper house of the state and also because the people in the state of Washington expressed themselves in defeating Initiative 211 which was interpreted by the Courts as to mean that the Legislature, itself, had refused or been indolent and unwise and had not done it. Many legislators and people in the state feel that the people's vote on Initiative 211 was, in fact, redistricting accomplished by the legislative authority of the state through the repository of all legislative and, indeed all governmental power, mainly the people.

"As we all know, the first right of the people in the state of Washington is the initiative right so that a legislator really gets torn between disregarding the Court or obeying the people from whom all source of power comes. Up until this time, redistricting seemed to have been nothing more than a bag of tricks in the battle for getting more representation from the thickly populated areas. Actually, it has now come down to east of the Cascades versus west coast controversy; or, bluntly stated to a rural versus urban conflict. Unless we, at this session, formulate and send out to the people a formula, a Constitutional amendment, to correct the weakness in the State Constitution, it will be only a question of time until the population of the inland empire as self-respecting free men, will find their place in the museum of vanished type.

"A sweeping reconstruction of the State Constitution, in the matter of area representation, is among the major challenges that must be met by the state legislature if we are to do more than dally about this perpetual and perennial problem of apportionment. Statesmanship, when it goes out and sincerely seeks to serve the future of the state of Washington, must be concerned with values that will build the state, that will prohibit the one part of the state from dominating the other part. This statesmanship, I suggest, must be animated by a spirit that sees in the direction in the future of the state of Washington something more than a scramble for votes and election to office. It must concern itself with values that lie beyond a mere expedient stop-gap for the next election. It must never be naive enough to suppose that much headway can be made in the future program and destiny of the state without considering the boldy material factors that make or unmake the future of a great state.

"The spiritual values, for instance, of rural life do not operate in a vacuum. They are closely interlocked with the stubborn factors of cash income, taxes and fair shake in legislation. If the rest of the state, in the future, and we are now talking about the great rural areas, is to cease being the beaten and buffeted victim of an industrial civilization, the pawn and plaything of politicians and various leagues, if it is to become master of its own cultural and economic destinies, we must have the forward look of a statesman instead of the hindsight of a politician and we must deal realistically alike with the problems of rural economics and rural culture as well as that of urban life.

"There is, it seems to me, one consideration that this Legislature must keep in mind if we are to do more than dally with the welfare of the future of the state. First, we must rectify the manifest injustice that the economic system does to agriculture, upon rural life in comparison with urban life, even in times of piping prosperity. We must adjust ourselves economically to the innumerable implications that a machine age has brought to our times. Rural America is by and large what is left of pastoral, individualistic America in time of our fathers, the pioneer, and his beginning on the land. Urban America represents the increasingly complex civilization of man and the machine. Rural America is having a hard time in making ends meet because he is living, to some extent, a simple life in a complicated age, because he is hanging on to hand production in a power production age, and because he is trying to remain individualistic in a corporate age. Urban America knows this and so does Rural America but, and here is the hub of the matter; representation for fairness through legislative means is lessening and to the disadvantage of rural America and when I say rural I mean the entire inland empire as well as some isolated regions on the Pacific Coast.

"Unless constitutional provisions are put into effect, the state of Washington in the future will not be united. There will be two states within our borders. One state, the great inland empire with all its resources subservient to the populated sections of the coastal regions. It is because I foresee this conflict that I think it is almost a work of a statesman or of statesmen to see through a constitutional amendment that will guarantee to the people of the state of Washington its rightful destiny as a great state, not only west of the Cascades but east of the Cascades as well.

"I would like to take you back a few years ago to the Constitutional Convention. They had a session that lasted eighty-eight days and even the people in the session were not sure that they could harmonize and hammer out all of the differences and compromise the problems, and it came to such a state that the delegates were almost in despair. It was at this time that Ben Franklin suggested that they call upon Providence to give them guidance, that they appeal to the Almighty to soften their tempers so that they could proceed together in common sympathy, and it was then that they decided upon the Connecticut Compromise whereby the House should have representation by population, thereby the people would be represented, and the Senate would have representation by area, thereby the wealth and resources of the nation would be represented.

"Then they made another provision, and this I want you to listen to. You may know this, but most of you have forgotten that in the amendatory section, where it is set forth that the Constitution of the United States could be completely changed by amendment, if the people so desired, they made one provision that could not be changed. They provided that no state, without its consent, shall be deprived of its equal suffrage in the Senate. That is the only provision in the United States Constitution that cannot be amended, and had you not had that, you wouldn't have the Bremerton Naval Yard, you wouldn't have Boeing's, you wouldn't have two senators from this state and probably none from the Northwest, and you would have a howling wilderness here.

"You have the same problem in the state of Washington. Believe me, if we are to be statesmen and think about the future welfare of the state of Washington, we had better do some thinking about the welfare of the entire state, not about the welfare of one portion or side of the mountains as opposed to the other.

"It would seem to me that with so much at stake here we must reach something approaching a state agreement on the objectives of where we wish and want the state to go. As a people all over the state we do not seem to have as yet any clear notion of the kind of a state we want. We are beginning to see and to say where we want the great cities and urban areas to go but we are strangely backward in saying where we want the rest of the state to go. It is among the obligations of this legislature, official and unofficial, to work out a new formula that shall give meaning and momentum alike to the masses of the state as well as to the area and resources of the state. Too, we must evolve a culture that will prevent the large cities from dominating and draining the rest of the state. Agriculture for instance, the largest industry in the state, must be made and kept a way of life, as a way of living.

"Instead of sitting here dallying around waiting for something to come out that might not come out, let us bring all of these plans out and debate them and not spend any more time dallying. We are concerned about the budget, but how unimportant it is and how dwindled down into insignificance it is compared with the future destiny of the state. Let us get this matter out and vote upon it."

Providing appropriations and reappropriations for highway operations and improvements.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

The Secretary started to read the amendment proposed by Senators Mardesich, Moriarty, Jr., Dore, Petrich and Chytil.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Washington:

"Point of order, Mr. President:

"My point of order is that this amendment appears to enlarge the scope and object of the bill which is an over-all appropriations bill, but this directs the Highway Department how it is to carry on its activities and is much further than an ordinary appropriations bill."

Senator Mardesich:

"Mr. President, I should like to speak on the point of order in rebuttal to Senator Washington's position that if you look at section 1 of this bill, it provides not only for the appropriation of money but for money for a specific purpose and project and it names that project.

"I should like to point out section 2 does likewise. It provides an appropriation and it names specific areas in which that money shall be spent.

"I should like to draw your attention to subsection 3, which does exactly the same thing as subsections 1 and 2. It appropriates for a specific purpose.

"I should like to point out section 4, which is the bonding of the freeway, and that again has an amount of money and a specific location.

"I should like to point out the other sections merely state amounts of money because, if they didn't, they would have to incorporate this whole green book into the budget and into the bill, so what we have done is certainly within the scope and object of the bill."

Senator Washington:

"One further comment, Mr. President:

"This does something that I have seen no other bill do nor any other appropriation bill do. It sets down not only how the money shall be spent, but sets a time limit upon when these projects shall be completed. That is certainly an entirely new concept in an appropriations bill and certainly increases the scope which is not only to spend money but it goes out into 1964 and 1965, directing what shall be done after the next session of the legislature when these projects shall be completed."

Senator Gissberg:

"Mr. President, I just wanted to concur in the remarks made by Senator Mardesich with respect to the fact that his amendment does not in any way enlarge upon the scope and object of the bill. Senator Washington has made some reference to the fact that this specifies a time within which certain projects should be completed. That, in itself, does not enlarge in any way the scope and object of the bill which is for the express purpose of making certain appropriations and directing where the appropriations shall be expended, as does the existing bill. I just don't think there is any legitimate question at all, Mr. President, in connection with this point of order."

Senator Woodall:

"Mr. President, speaking to the point of order as distinguished from the merits of the bill, the point of order as raised by Senator Washington is in my opinion totally without merit. We are dealing in agencies of money to spend. We have a right to incorporate in that spending measure any restrictions, curtailments, limitations, or directions which the body wishes to add. It is purely within the general scope and objective, which is money to build roads. As the overall purpose within that category we can direct, restrict, or limit the spending agency any way the body chooses."

Senator Petrich:

"Mr. President, speaking to the point of order:

"I also would like to concur in the remarks of Senators Mardesich, Woodall and Gissberg regarding this point. Basically we are appropriating a certain amount of money for an agency. We specify what specific projects may be undertaken by that particular agency. In section 4 of the bill, we deal specifically with this particular stretch of the interstate highway system, namely, from Tacoma to Everett, and we are simply then setting down guide lines. I can't imagine how anybody can properly construe this to be beyond the scope and object of the bill which provides for various highway projects of the state."

Senator Moriarty, Jr.:

"Speaking to the point of order, Mr. President:

"May I point out to the President and to Senator Washington that what we have here proposed is a new amendment, a new section 12, which does exactly what section 11 of the bill does. Section 11 appropriates a certain amount of money to the Commission and specifies the exact objects and purposes for which that appropriation is made.

"In section 12, which is the amendment, we do exactly the same thing. The point of order is without merit."

Senator Washington:

"I would like to point out there is a real reason for the provisions that an amendment cannot enlarge the scope and object of the bill. There have been many cases on this before the Supreme Court. There is a very valid reason, in that we are a public agency. When a bill is presented or introduced, people know, the public knows what is in the bill. Members of the legislature know what is in the bill and when you enlarge the scope, such as you do here, actually you add a complete new concept, and this is very important, a complete new concept which no one was aware of until this amendment was brought out on this floor today. We are not only going to appropriate money, but we are going to turn one branch of the Judiciary Committee into the Engineering Committee and four attorneys who know nothing of engineering can propose an amendment which changes the entire concept of the Highway Department and the Highway Engineers. This is the reason why the Constitution of our state says you shall not enlarge the scope and object of the bill. You bring in something completely new that the people of the state of Washington are unaware of. You are bringing in a completely new concept that those who have a feeling for orderly highway programs were not aware of. You are doing those things which are against public policy and which our Supreme Court has said are wrong.

"For this reason, this amendment has enlarged the scope and object of the bill in one of the most tremendous aggressive ways I have ever seen, where you start being engineers on the floor of the Senate and telling the Highway Commission dates within which they are to complete these very complicated projects."

Senator Greive:

"I take issue with only one thing Senator Washington has to say: That these four lawyers aren't engineers. I think they are very good engineers and they have engineered right on schedule. Maybe we should introduce them to the Highway Department."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"Ruling upon the point of order as presented by Senator Washington, the President believes that the point of order is not well taken for the reasons advanced by Senator Gissberg, Senator Moriarty and Senator Woodall, in that House Bill No. 2 is 'An Act Relating to highways, making appropriations and reappropriations for the operations and capital improvements of the state highway commission and the Washington toll bridge authority.'

"The President, in perusing the amendment as offered by Senator Mardesich, Senator Moriarty, Senator Dore, Senator Petrich and Senator Chytil, finds nothing in the particular amendment that is diverse to the title or to the sections mentioned by Senator Mardesich."

Debate ensued.

On motion of Senator Woodall the Senate resolved itself into a Committee of the Whole, President Pro Tempore Riley in the Chair, for the purpose of considering House Bill No. 2.

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

House Bill No. 2 was considered in the Committee of the Whole and reported back to the Senate, President Pro Tempore Riley presiding, with the recommendation that it do pass as amended.

On motion of Senator Riley, the report of the committee was adopted.

On motion of Senator Riley, the reading had in the Committee of the Whole was considered the second reading of House Bill No. 2.

On motion of Senator Riley, the following amendments to House Bill No. 2, adopted in the Committee of the Whole were adopted by the Senate.

On page 4, line 24 following section 11, add a new section to read as follows:

The President appointed a special committee consisting of Senators Gissberg, Gallagher, Freise and Thompson, Jr. to escort Governor Albert D. Rosellini to a place of honor upon the rostrum.

The Secretary read:

SENATE RESOLUTION

1963 EX -12-

By Senators Cowen, DeGarmo and Gallagher:

WHEREAS, It is only fitting with the advent of Spring that the members of this honorable body turn momentarily to the truly aesthetic matters at hand; and

WHEREAS, The members of this Senate, the citizens of this state, and not least of all the Honorable Governor of this state, Albert D. Rosellini, and his family, feel particular pride and joy in the selection of Miss Janey Rosellini as the state's princess in the annual Cherry Blossom Festival opening April 1st in Washington, District of Columbia; and

WHEREAS, Miss Rosellini, a University of Washington senior, in combining her beauty with the humanitarian ideal of service for those around her, shall graduate in June in Nursing, having given many hours of her labor and love to the Children's Orthopedic Hospital in Seattle; and

WHEREAS, During the week-long whirl by military escort in Washington, D. Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, By the Senate, That the members of this body herewith express their individual and collective congratulations on the selection of Janey Rosellini as Washington State's Princess for the Cherry Blossom Festival; this charming young lady represents the finest qualities hoped for in our nation's young women; our wish for you Janey is a thrill and fun-filled week, in the knowledge that each member of this chamber and each citizen of this state, shall alike, find joy and pride in your happiness;

MOTION

At 11:20 a. m., on motion of Senator Greive, the Senate recessed until 1:30 p. m.

AFTERNOON SESSION

The President called the Senate to order at 1:30 p. m.

The Secretary called the roll and announced to the President that all Senators were present except Senator Sandison.

SECOND READING OF BILLS

Senate Bill No. 8, by Senators Foley, Thompson, Jr., Hallauer and Durkan: Authorizing increase on school district debt limitation.

On motion of Senator Riley, Substitute Senate Bill No. 8 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 8 and the substitute bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Foley, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 8 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McCutcheon:

"Would Senator Durkan yield?"

"On page 2, the underscored matter, on line 8, it says, 'such additional indebtedness to be computed on the value of the taxable property therein,' and then in parenthesis '(being twice the assessed valuation).'

"Is that a variation from the manner of computing the bond of indebtedness percentages?"

Senator Durkan:

"It is a new formula, Senator. Senator Thompson has the explanation."

Senator Thompson, Jr.:

"In answer to Senator McCutcheon's inquiry, this formula has been used by the cities and has been upheld by the Supreme Court, and this would now state that the base of two times the assessed valuation is limited to five percent for capital purposes, and would require a sixty percent vote of the people, or forty percent of the last election, and would have the effect of raising the assessed valuation requirement from the current ten percent to fifteen percent. This would be the bonding capacity. Presently, the present bonding capacity is ten percent of the assessed valuation. The impact of this bill would allow an additional five percent for the total capacity of the local district, if the people so elected, to fifteen percent of the assessed valuation."

Debate ensued.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 8, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 37; nays, 10; absent or not voting, 2.

Those voting yea were: Senators Atwood, Bailey, Charette, Chytil, Connor, Cooney, Cowen, DeGarmo, Dore, Durkan, England, Foley, Foster, Gallagher, Gissberg, Greive, Hallauer, Hanna, Henry, Herrmann, Hess, Keefe, Knoblauch, Kupka, Lennart, McCormack, Mardesich, Morgan, Peterson, Rickdall, Riley, Ryder, Stender, Talley, Thompson, Jr., Washington, Williams—37.

Those voting nay were: Senators Donohue, Freise, Guess, McCutcheon, McMillan, Neill, Petrich, Rasmussen, Raugust, Woodall—10.

Those absent or not voting were: Senators Moriarty, Jr., Sandison—2.

Substitute Senate Bill No. 8, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

Senate Bill No. 9, by Senators Foley, Thompson, Jr., Hallauer and Dore:
Authorizing the issuance of limited obligation bonds for school construction.
The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Foley, the following amendments were adopted:

On page 2, section 1, line 9, after "provide." strike the remainder of the section through line 13.

On page 3, section 6, line 22, after "this act" and before "appropriated" strike "there is hereby" and insert "funds"

On line 24 after "general fund" strike all the matter through "necessary, to" on line 25 and insert "shall"

On line 27 after "That no" strike all the matter through "shall be allotted" on line 28 and insert "allotment shall be made"

On page 4, section 8, line 33, after "at the" strike the remainder of the paragraph on line 5, page 5, and insert "next general election."

On line 6 of the title, strike "making an appropriation;"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Riley:

"Would Senator Foley yield?"

"Senator Foley, in view of the fact that this is the next general election, do you feel therefore that it is necessary to have the emergency clause?"

Senator Foley:

"I do, sir, because in the body of the bill there is a provision that there may be an immediate mandamus action brought in the Supreme Court to test whether or not these bonds may be constitutional without a vote of the people."

On motion of Senator Foley, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 9 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall:

"Would Senator Hess yield to a question?"

"Senator, what is this glorious alternative you have been working on so many years that you have not even been able to capture the majority of your own party?"

Senator Hess:

"Well, I'm very pleased to comment on that, Senator Woodall. The history of it goes back to 1953 when Senator Ryder and I tried to amend on the floor of the House the twenty million dollar bond issue. We tried then to reduce it to ten million dollars with the provision that whatever revenue source the House found acceptable we would finance one-half of it currently in future bienniums as a result of interim studies and find some other alternative of a pay-as-you-go plan for this program. I would find any one of a number of different proposals acceptable. I introduced one bill this session that would assess a five mill levy state-wide as a means of financing all of the additional construction that is needed. I think this would have been a better way to do it and would have saved millions of dollars in interest."

Senator Woodall:

"I have one further question. Will Senator Hess yield?"

"In view of the fact that the last four sessions your party has outnumbered ours two-to-one in the Senate, to what do you attribute your lack of success?"

Senator Hess:

"To the failure of both Democrats and Republicans to go to the people with the truth, Senator Woodall. We hide our heads in the sand. Both parties do. We don't go to them with the truth and tell them that we have such a flood of children coming up that to educate them, we are going to require so many new school buildings, we will be building for years and years and years, and we might as well pay for it as we go."

Debate ensued.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 9, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 45; nays, 2; absent or not voting, 2.

Those voting yea were: Senators Atwood, Bailey, Charette, Chytil, Connor, Cooney, Cowen, DeGarmo, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, England, Foley, Foster, Gallagher, Gissberg, Greive, Hallauer, Hanna, Henry, Herrmann, Hess, Keefe, Knoblauch, Kupka, McCormack, McCutcheon, McMillan, Mardesich, Morgan, Neill, Peterson, Petrich, Rasmussen, Raugust, Rickdall, Riley, Ryder, Sandison, Stender, Talley, Thompson, Jr., Washington, Williams, Woodall—45.

Those voting nay were: Senators Freise, Lennart—2.

Those absent or not voting were: Senators Guess, Moriarty, Jr.—2.

Engrossed Senate Bill No. 9, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

VETO MESSAGE

MESSAGE FROM THE SECRETARY OF STATE

DEPARTMENT OF STATE

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY

Olympia, Washington,
March 28, 1963.

To the Honorable, the President of the Senate,
The Legislature of the State of Washington,
Olympia, Washington.

SIR:

I have the honor to transmit herewith pursuant to Section 12, Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Washington, for the consideration of the State Senate, Enrolled Senate Bill No. 604 passed by the State Senate and House of Representatives at the Regular Legislative Session of 1963, and vetoed by the Governor, together with his veto message attached thereto.

Respectfully,

VICTOR A. MEYERS
Secretary of State.

State of Washington, Executive Department,
Olympia, March 26, 1963.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the State of Washington.
(Through the Secretary of State)

LADY AND GENTLEMEN:

I am filing herewith to be transmitted to the Senate at the next session of the Legislature, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 604 entitled:

"AN Act relating to cities and towns and amending section 22, chapter 282, Laws of 1961 and RCW 35.13.243."

Senate Bill No. 604 relates to the power and authority of a city or town over annexed water, sewer and fire districts which lie partially or wholly within a city or town.

The bill purports to amend section 22, chapter 282, Laws of 1961 and RCW 35.13.243. The identical section was amended by House Bill No. 246, which I have signed into law. In addition, House Bill No. 246 contained provisions amending other sections of the law pertaining to annexed local improvement districts.

House Bill No. 246 is a more comprehensive measure and because of its enactment, there was no necessity for Senate Bill No. 604 to become law.

For the reasons indicated, Senate Bill No. 604 is vetoed.

Respectfully submitted,
ALBERT D. ROSELLINI
Governor.

MAJORITY recommends that it do pass with the following amendments:

"PART I

NEW SECTION. Section 1. We, the legislature, responding to the mandate of Article II, Section 3 of the Constitution directing us to redistrict and to reapportion legislative districts subsequent to each census, have conducted a thorough investigation of all relevant factors essential to the preparation of appropriate revisions which are set forth in sections 2 through 191 of this act.

We have consulted the 1960 federal census reports, examined the registration and voting records available at both state and local levels, considered the geographic, economic and sociological factors essential to the preservation of reasonable geographic and socio-economic groupings, consulted the authoritative sources for the most reliable estimates concerning population growth patterns and trends within the state as well as evaluating the published statistics reciting population growth patterns and trends already established as a matter of fact, reviewed the existing political boundaries, both those possible of being subject to change by legislative action and those beyond legislative control, and conducted special population counts from time to time to determine better and to evaluate formulas necessary to prepare a proper redistricting and reapportionment measure. Based upon our investigation and studies, we, the legislature, have determined that legislative redistricting and reapportionment, as set forth in this act, represents an allocation of legislators within the districts established so as to provide as near equality of representation to the inhabitants of the state of Washington as is possible under the circumstances, as required by the state and federal Constitutions.

We, the legislature, in determining the actual district boundaries and the allocation of legislators to each, have resorted to factors and formulas found to be most reliable for each of the districts concerned, and the formulas and factors used for any specific area were applied only after careful confirmation of their validity by testing against the findings of facts resulting from our investigation.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGES

Senator McCormack:

"Mr. President, point of personal privilege:

"In discussing this amendment, Senator Hallauer made several comments to which I would like to reply. In the first place, the squiggly lines he referred to in Benton County, which he called an example of gerrymandering is the Yakima River, and the League of Women Voters and nearly everyone who has drawn a redistricting program through Benton County has used the Yakima River as a line through that area. This is the cleanest proposal that has been made by any group or individual in Benton County.

"I would like to point out to answer the inferences by Senator Charette that there was something evil about my working with the staff in the House of Representatives last night is unworthy, because this was the only staff available. They were the only technicians available to help me when I found that we were not going to be able to see any bill at all until this morning."

Senator Greive:

"Also speaking on personal privilege, may I say I have nothing but the highest regard for both Senator McCormack and Representative Gorton and I do not for a moment wish to imply that they are not men of good faith; that they do not adequately represent their areas; that they have not struggled with the same problems I have. All I want to say is that good people who really want to do a job can and do differ. I feel any effort on the part of the Senate or the House members to blacken anyone's efforts by calling it gerrymandering or to attempt to hurt someone is wholly false."

On motion of Senator Greive, the following amendments were adopted:

On page 32, section 58, line 4, after "sections" strike "53" and insert "59".

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. The word "agency" used herein shall mean and include every state government office, officer, each institution, whether educational, correctional, or other, and every department, division, board and commission, except as otherwise provided in this act.

The phrase "agencies headed by elective officials" used herein shall mean those executive offices or departments of the state which are directly supervised, administered, or controlled by the governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, treasurer, auditor, attorney general, superintendent of public instruction, commissioner of public lands, or insurance commissioner, but it shall not include those boards, commissions, or committees on which one or more of the above named elected officials serve.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. In order to carry out the provisions of these appropriations and the state budget, the budget director, with the approval of the governor, may:

(1) Allot all or any portion of the funds herein appropriated, or included in the state budget, to the various agencies by such periods as he shall determine and may place any funds not so allotted in reserve available for subsequent allotment: Provided, That the budget director shall not alter allotment requests filed with him, nor shall he place in reserve any funds, for the following: Agencies headed by elective officials; University of Washington; Washington State University; Central Washington State College; Eastern Washington State College; Western Washington State College; Washington State Apple Advertising Commission; Washington State Fruit Commission; Washington Dairy Products Commission or any agricultural commodity commission created under the provisions of chapter 15.66 RCW; the legislative branch of state government including the legislative council, the legislative budget committee, the statute law committee, and any legislative interim committee; or the judicial branch of state government: Provided, however, That the aggregate of allotments for any agency shall not exceed the total of applicable appropriations and local funds available to the agency concerned. It shall be unlawful for any officer or employee to incur obligations in excess of approved allotments or to incur a deficiency and any obligation so made shall be deemed invalid. Nothing in this section or in chapter 328, Laws of 1959 shall prevent revision of any allotment when necessary to prevent the making of expenditures under appropriations in this act in excess of available revenues.

(2) Issue rules and regulations to establish uniform standards and business practices throughout the state service, including regulation of travel by officers and employees and the conditions under which per diem shall be paid, so as to improve efficiency and conserve funds.

(3) Prescribe procedures and forms to carry out the above.

(4) Allot funds from appropriations in this act in advance of July 1, 1963, for the sole purpose of authorizing agencies to order goods, supplies or services for delivery after July 1, 1963: Provided, That no expenditures may be made from these appropriations until after July 1, 1963.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. Except as otherwise provided in this act, any receipts from federal or other sources or from gifts or grants in excess of those estimated in the budget may be received and allotted by the governor but in the event that receipts shall be less than those estimated in the budget from any source the appropriation shall be limited to the amount actually received and allotments made as provided in section 3. Whenever possible, the receipt of federal or other funds which are not anticipated by the governor's budget or the legislature shall be used to support regular programs instead of using appropriated funds.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. Agencies are authorized to make refunds of erroneous or excessive payments and in the case of other refunds, which may be provided by law, without express appropriation therefor.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. Whenever allocations are made from the governor's emergency appropriation to an agency which is financed by other than general fund moneys, the budget director may direct the repayment of such allocated amount to the general fund from any balance in the fund or funds which finance such agency. No appropriations shall be necessary to effect such repayment.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. In addition to the amounts appropriated in this act for revenue for distribution and bond retirement and interest, there is also appropriated such further amounts as may be required or available for these purposes under any statutory formula or under any proper bond covenant made in accordance with law.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. Amounts received by an agency as reimbursements pursuant to RCW 43.09.210 shall be considered as returned loans of materials supplied or services rendered. Such amounts may be expended as a part of the original appropriation of the fund to which it belongs, without further or additional appropriation, subject to conditions and procedures prescribed by the budget director which shall provide for determination of full costs, disclosure of such reimbursements in the governor's budget, maximum inter-agency usage of data processing equipment and services and such restrictions as will promote more economical operations of state government without incurring continuing costs beyond those reimbursed.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. The regents, trustees, or board of directors of any of the state educational institutions or school districts are authorized to use funds appropriated by this act to provide and pay for tax deferred annuities for their respective employees in lieu of a portion of salary or wages as authorized under the provisions of 26 U.S.C. section 403(b) as amended by Public Law 87-370, 75 Stat. 796, as now or hereafter amended."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Cowen:

"Mr. President:

"Two years ago, on the night we passed the appropriations bill, we paid a tribute to our Chairman, Senator Hallauer. Tonight, members of the Senate, I firmly believe we should pay a tribute to the present Chairman of Ways and Means, Senator Frank Foley.

"I sat in the Appropriations Committee Room during the past two weeks, and I saw this young man at times ready to crack from this nervous tension he was under due to the fact there was just a few members of the committee present, when a great many of the members should have been. I do think tonight, as we did two years ago when we paid a standing ovation to Senator Hallauer, the members of the Senate should do likewise to Senator Frank Foley of Clark County."

The members of the Senate paid a standing ovation tribute to Senator Foley.

Senator Morgan:

"Mr. President and members of the Senate:

"I just wanted to say something here for a few moments.

"I, too, want to express my gratitude to the entire committee, Senator Foley, Senator Durkan, Senator Dore. We saw some pretty fine things happen and as far as I am concerned, there have been some miracles in these last few days. A great deal of money has gone to the Rainier School, a very good sum has gone to help retarded children; the old soldiers and the veterans got their money and our schools are in good shape. I hate to have to vote against my friends to help the schools, but I do think we should be grateful. We have fought like mad in Ways and Means. We haven't punched any jaws or anything, but it has been really rough, because we have to come and battle for our various districts, but I tell you I am glad it's over and I do think we should compliment these men because they have worked hard and long."

Senate Members:

FRANK W. FOLEY

FRED H. DORE

JOHN N. RYDER

House Members:

HENRY BACKSTROM

DAMON R. CANFIELD

CHET KING

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Greive, the Conference Committee report on Engrossed House Bill No. 1 was adopted and the committee was granted the powers of free conference.

On motion of Senator Greive, at 2:10 p. m., the Senate adjourned until 11:00 a. m., Tuesday, April 2, 1963.

JOHN A. CHERBERG, President of the Senate.

WARD BOWDEN, Secretary of the Senate.

NINETEENTH DAY

MORNING SESSION

SENATE CHAMBER,
OLYMPIA, WASH., Tuesday, April 2, 1963.

The Senate was called to order at 11:00 a. m. by President Cherberg.

The Secretary called the roll and announced to the President that all Senators were present except Senator Gallagher.

The Color Guard, consisting of Pages Paul Peterson, Color Bearer, and Mary Lewis, presented the Colors.

Reverend J. Burton Salter, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church of Olympia, offered prayer as follows:

"O Almighty God, Who hast bound us together in this bundle of life, give us grace to understand how our lives and the lives of the citizens of this state depend upon the courage, the industry, the honesty and the integrity of our Senators.

"Grant that they may be filled with the love of Thy laws and of that which is righteous and life-giving; that they may be worthy stewards of Thy perfect gifts; and one day hear our Master's voice saying, 'Well done, good and faithful servant; you have been faithful over a little, I will set you over much; enter into the joy of your Master'; for Jesus Christ's sake. Amen."

On motion of Senator Greive, the reading of the journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was approved.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Greive:

"Parliamentary inquiry, Mr. President:

"So that people will understand this question of reconsideration and we can have our thinking clear, if Senator Woodall and I, or either or both of us desire to make a motion to reconsider a matter today, are we going to be limited to a certain order of business which might take a majority or two-thirds to revert to, or can we put this off until later this afternoon?"

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"The President would like to suggest perhaps reconsideration could be made a special order of business."

MOTION

Senator Greive:

"I would move that the question of reconsideration be made a special order of business prior to the time of adjournment, say at 2:30 this afternoon."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall:

"Do I have the assurance then that we will meet at 2:30 p. m. and there will not be a quick adjournment and thus we will be barred from reconsidering?"

Senator Greive:

"I think I can give you that assurance that we are not going to make any attempt to prevent a vote to be taken."

Debate ensued.

The President:

"Senator Greive, in further answer to your inquiry, the President is of the opinion that only a simple majority is required to reconsider the motion at any time prior to adjournment."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen:

"Mr. President:

"Does it require a two-thirds majority to suspend the rules to postpone this reconsideration? Our rules state that it shall be made on the next succeeding day at the proper time. Would it take two-thirds to suspend that rule?"

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"The President is of the opinion, Senator Rasmussen, that Rule 31 applies: 'A motion to reconsider shall have precedence over every other motion, except a motion to adjourn; and when the Senate adjourns while a motion to reconsider is pending or before passing the order of motions, the right to move a reconsideration shall continue to the next day of sitting.'

"The President believes that it would be possible to reconsider the question for instance, tomorrow, if the motion has been made, and it would require a majority, not a two-thirds vote."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen:

"Parliamentary inquiry, Mr. President:

"My question was that the motion to postpone or to set the motion for reconsideration over at a later date, under our rules which provide that notice has been given and that he must then make a motion to reconsider at this time under the order of business for motions, the first order of business, my question was in the event that we have a motion to put this over until 2:30, then does it require a two-thirds vote to suspend this rule?"

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"No, it does not, Senator Rasmussen. It is true that Rule 31 states that such motion to reconsider shall be in order only under the order of motions of the day immediately following the day upon which such notice of reconsideration is given, etc., but down below it says if the question is pending, it can be taken up the following day, and then during the process of the proceedings of the Senate, at any time a Senator may move to revert to a particular order of business, and that would require only a simple majority."

MOTION

Senator Woodall:

"Having voted on the prevailing side, I move we do now reconsider the vote by which House Bill No. 56 was indefinitely postponed.

"I am now making this motion to clarify this matter and if Senator Greive now wants to make it a special order of business for 2:30 this afternoon, I have no objection."

Senator Greive:

"Then I desire to have my name added with Senator Woodall as a maker of the motion, and to have it set for 2:30 p. m."

MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION

Senator Woodall and Senator Greive moved that the Senate reconsider the vote by which Engrossed House Bill No. 56 was indefinitely postponed.

On motion of Senator Greive, the motion was made a special order of business for 2:30 p. m.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Hallauer, the Committee on State Government was relieved of further consideration of House Bill No. 9.

On motion of Senator Hallauer, House Bill No. 9 was referred to Committee on Ways and Means.

APPOINTMENT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The President appointed a special committee consisting of Senators Riley, Henry, Hess, Bailey, Connor, Ryder, Thompson, Jr., and Foster to escort the Senate Pages to a place of honor upon the rostrum.

The Pages presented a plaque of appreciation to President Cherberg and the members of the Senate.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McCutcheon:

"Mr. President:

"While we are dishing out the compliments to our Pages, I would like to call attention of the Senators to one of our members present, one we have all known for years and who never misses a roll call. I don't know what the last score was, but he has served in nine regular sessions and three special sessions. He has answered, during that arduous session, some three hundred roll calls. I don't think anywhere, not in the Legislature of the state of Washington, nor anywhere in the Northwest, has there been a more faithful, devoted servant than Senator Reuben A. Knoblauch of Puyallup. If you go around the corridors, you see pictures of W. H. Paulhamus, one time President of the Senate. He was from Puyallup. Senator John R. Rogers was from Puyallup. Puyallup has produced some great men: Senator John R. Rogers, W. H. Paulhamus and Reuben A. Knoblauch. I don't know what the 'A' stands for. 'Adam.' Reuben Adam Knoblauch, the man who produces rhubarb for us, not the rhubarbs, because in Puyallup Reuben is universally liked for his affability, his friendliness, and for his integrity, if you please.

"He comes from the famous Knoblauch family, pioneers in the Valley. I think he is rather outstanding, and on this occasion I hope the press will catch this and give him the credit due him. We wish him the very best of luck in the next election."

Senator Woodall:

"Mr. President:

"I was quite interested in hearing about this regularity in attendance which the Senator had. This regularity on his part probably proves that rhubarb makes for regularity."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Knoblauch:

"Mr. President and members of the Senate and Senator Woodall:

"I must say that there were times in the past nine sessions and the special sessions when it was a bit difficult to answer some of these roll calls. As long as Senator McCutcheon has been so kind, I think the record will show that since 1947 I have missed one or two roll calls, I'm not sure. It's been rather difficult.

"Senator, I appreciate the kind words from you and might I end up by saying that the nicest part of service I have had in Olympia is the making of some wonderful friends, and Governor, I wouldn't trade these friendships for anything in the world because I feel the Senators and members of the House of Representatives I have met in the past years have been a rewarding experience. I don't think there is a finer group than the ones I have had the pleasure to serve with."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Raugust:

"Mr. President and members of the Senate:

"We seem to have given out to most of the people around here, the Pages and the Lieutenant Governor and the Senators, many compliments and thanked them for what they have done, and I think we have forgotten the members of the staff, the people who really do the work. Sometimes, when tempers go up, I look over here and see these two charming ladies with a smile, and tempers go down. I think we should thank Mr. Bowden and his staff for their excellent service. I think we have one of the best Reading Clerks who has ever been in this Senate, and as we leave here, I do know I will remember them for the courtesies they have extended to us."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Freise:

"Mr. President and members of the Senate:

"I would also like to remind the members of the Senate that the Special Session costs us approximately $11,981.00 per day. We are now, I think, on the nineteenth day of the Special Session. We still have the Highway Bill to consider, we still have the Budget Bill, we still have to appoint the interim committees, we still have to make a determination whether we are going to have a Legislative Budget Committee and Legislative Council. We still have redistricting before us, we still have Teachers' Retirement, we still have the School Bond Bill, and I think that it's about time we stopped fiddling while Rome burns."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Riley:

"Mr. President and members of the Senate:

"I certainly want to join in all of the accolades to the Staff and the President, to the Personnel and everyone concerned. In addition, I want to extend my thanks to the members of the Thirty-Fifth District who made it possible for me to be here and if the legislative redistricting will leave me alone so that I may have a district when I leave here, I may return. I want to thank all of those people that potentially have something to do with sending me to Olympia."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Lennart:

"Mr. President:

"All of the redistricting measures we have had around here have shingled me off the roof, but I want to state I can predict that I will still be limping around here for many years to come."

The Secretary read:

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

such original package, and the term 'retail sale' as used herein shall include the meaning ascribed thereto in chapter 82.04. The additional tax imposed in this paragraph shall apply to the sale of spirits by the Washington state liquor stores and agencies, including sales to Class H licensees.

There is levied and shall be collected from and after the first day of July, 1963, an additional tax upon each retail sale of spirits in the original package at the rate of four-tenths of a cent per fluid ounce or fraction thereof contained in such original package, and the term 'retail sale' as used herein shall include the meaning ascribed thereto in chapter 82.04. We concur in this report: R. Frank Atwood, Robert C. Bailey, Joe Chytil, Frank Connor, John L. Cooney, David C. Cowen, Victor F. DeGarmo, Jack England, Michael J. Gallagher, Sam C. Guess, Andy Hess, George W. Kupka, Ernest W. Lennart, Mike McCormack, Frances Haddon Morgan, Charles P. Moriarty, Jr., Marshall A. Neill, Ted G. Peterson, A. L. Rasmussen, Edward F. Riley, John N. Ryder, Gordon Sandison, Albert C. Thompson, Jr., Walter B. Williams.

Senator Kupka moved the adoption of the committee amendment.
Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Stender:

"Would Senator Kupka yield to a question? I was wondering what purpose would be served by excluding Class H licenses, the person that drinks his liquor by the drink at the bar. He would be given some other position in the structure of this bill than the other people that purchase the same whiskey at the store?"

Senator Kupka:

"Senator Stender, they are covered by a different provision. They are wholesale purchasers and just like any other business they go down and purchase wholesale just like you would have if you were in business."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hallauer:

"Would Senator Kupka submit to a question?
"Would this bill if passed in its present form amount to an additional tax?"

Senator Kupka:

"It is an additional tax, but not a new tax. It just broadens it a little bit."

Senator Hallauer:

"How much additional tax is involved?"

Senator Kupka:

"Well, this amendment covers one section of the tax that is imposed upon liquor at present. At present we have an affluent provision of the liquor tax of 1.1 percent and this does not disturb that portion of the liquor tax. We simply add 1.5 percent which would be actually .4 percent to the bill in order to cover the provisions of this bill. As you and I know, we are not about to dip into the general fund to try to help cities in this particular bill without providing some tax, and that is the purpose of it."

Senator Hallauer:

"How much in dollars does this twenty-five percent tax increase amount to over what you are getting now?"

Senator Kupka:

"Presently, for a biennium the tax is $10,694,000 and after this is imposed it will be $13,774,000. The new revenue makes up the difference."

Debate ensued.

The motion was carried and the committee amendment was adopted.

Senator Durkan moved the adoption of the following amendment by Senators Riley and Durkan:

On page 3, add a new section to read as follows:

"NEW SECTION. The liquor board is authorized to issue an annual license to sell liquor between the hours of twelve o'clock midnight Saturday and for the two hours next succeeding to any liquor licensee, the fee for which shall be one thousand dollars payable annually; the entire proceeds derived from the issuance of such licenses shall be distributed as follows: (1) to the cities and towns of the state where the licensees are physically located in such cities and towns; (2) to the counties of the state where the licensees are located outside the boundaries of any such incorporated cities and towns."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Woodall:

"Point of order, Mr. President:

"My point of order is that the particular section or the subject matter which we are now attempting by this amendment to amend is controlling the hours of sales. I submit that this enlarges the scope and object of this particular bill which started out to be a revenue bill for the cities. The taxing sections are all under Section 82 of the Code. The regulation as to hours of vendors, etc., is under Section 66 of the Code. I submit this enlarges the scope and object of the bill."

The Secretary re-read the amendment by Senators Riley and Durkan.

Senator Durkan:

"If I may, I would like to speak on the point of order. At the same time I would like to make an oral amendment, as I notice that somehow the drafter didn't put it in there. If I may explain, I would like to move that the period and the quotes at the end be stricken, and that the following language be added: 'such proceeds from the liquor license will be distributed pursuant to RCW 82.08.150.' I think then this will clearly bring it within the purview of the revenue matter.

"Also, as to the point of order which Senator Woodall raises, that this was not pertinent to the section, my point would be that the liquor license proceeds would be deposited in the state general fund and distributed according to the formula."

The President:

"Senator Durkan, the President believes that your suggestion is somewhat involved. Would you prepare an amendment to the amendment, please?"

Senator Durkan moved the adoption of the following amendment to the amendment:

Strike the period on the last line of the amendment and add the following:
"such proceeds shall be distributed pursuant to RCW 66.08."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator McCormack:

"Point of order, Mr. President:

"Notwithstanding the fact that Senator Durkan has prepared the amendment to the amendment so that it refers to revenues, and how they are to be distributed, the fact is this deals with the regulation of hours and this increases the scope and object of the bill. As Senator Woodall has said, this is under Section 66, and just because it discusses how the revenues shall be distributed doesn't mean that it would come under Section 82. If that were true, you could write anything you wanted to in there. You could add any law you wished so long as it talked about revenue and how it shall be distributed under this section. Clearly this is an attempt to write an amendment which does not belong in this section. This is clearly an attempt to deal with the regulation of hours."

Senator Durkan:

"Speaking to Senator McCormack's point of order, he has misjudged my amendment. The revenue is what I am concerned about here. The hours are incidental."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall:

"Would Senator Durkan yield?"

"As long as the hours are clearly incidental, would you agree to take the incidental out and then proceed with the bill?"

Senator Durkan:

"We discussed this with our lawyers, Mr. President, and we thought there had to be some consideration for charging this thousand dollar license fee, so the consideration was the extension of the hours, which were secondary."

Senator Keefe:

"I move the amendment by Senator Durkan be laid upon the table."

The President:

"The President believes a ruling must be made upon the point of order before stating your motion, Senator Keefe."

Senator Atwood:

"Speaking on the point of order, now in their amendment they have a new license in there and under Title 66.24 all the licenses belong in that section, and not in any sections dealing with existing taxes, in which this falls. I can't see where this is within the scope or object of this measure within any degree whatsoever."

MOTION

Senator Freise:

"I move we recess until 8:00 p. m."

Senator Durkan:

"With the consent of the Senate, I will withdraw the amendment, and the amendment to the amendment."

Senator Freise:

"I will then withdraw my motion."

Senator Woodall:

"And I will withdraw my point of order."

With the permission of the Senate, Senator Durkan was permitted to withdraw his amendment, and the amendment to the amendment.

Senator Kupka moved that the rules be suspended and that Engrossed Senate Bill No. 12 be advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill placed on final passage.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Hallauer:

"Does it require a two-thirds majority to suspend the rules?"

The President:

"It does, Senator Hallauer."

Senator Kupka, demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained by Senators Herrmann, Connor, Keefe, Washington, Stender, Williams, Guess and Atwood.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll, and the motion to suspend the rules was carried by the following vote: Yeas, 42; nays, 6; absent or not voting, 1.

Those voting yea were: Senators Atwood, Bailey, Charette, Chytil, Connor, Cooney, Cowen, DeGarmo, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, England, Foster, Freise, Greive, Guess, Hanna, Henry, Herrmann, Hess, Keefe, Knoblauch, Kupka, Lennart, McCormack, McCutcheon, McMillan, Morgan, Moriarty, Jr., Neill, Peterson, Rasmussen, Raugust, Rickdall, Riley, Ryder, Stender, Talley, Thompson, Jr., Washington, Williams, Woodall—42.

Those voting nay were: Senators Gallagher, Gissberg, Hallauer, Mardesich, Petrich, Sandison—6.

Those absent or not voting were: Senator Foley—1.

The President stated the question before the Senate is: Engrossed Senate Bill No. 12 on final passage.

Senators Kupka, Herrmann and Connor demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 12, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 43; nays, 5; absent or not voting, 1.

Those voting yea were: Senators Atwood, Bailey, Charette, Chytil, Connor, Cooney, Cowen, DeGarmo, Donohue, Dore, England, Foley, Foster, Freise, Gallagher, Greive, Guess, Hanna, Henry, Herrmann, Hess, Keefe, Knoblauch, Kupka, McCormack, McCutcheon, Mardesich, Morgan, Moriarty, Jr., Neill, Peterson, Rasmussen, Raugust, Rickdall, Riley, Ryder, Sandison, Stender, Talley, Thompson, Jr., Washington, Williams, Woodall—43.

Those voting nay were: Senators Durkan, Gissberg, Hallauer, Lennart, McMillan—5.

Those absent or not voting were: Senator Petrich—1.

Engrossed Senate Bill No. 12, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

MOTION

Senator Riley moved that Engrossed Senate Bill No. 12 be immediately transmitted to the House.

Debate ensued.

The President:

"For what purpose does Senator Gallagher rise?"

Senator Gallagher:

"I have a motion, I believe, of higher rank, if I may be permitted to put it."

The President:

"The President believes a motion of higher rank pertaining to the measure would be in order."

NOTICE OF RECONSIDERATION

Senator Gallagher:

"Having voted on the prevailing side, I would like to now serve notice that upon the following working day I will move to reconsider the vote by which Engrossed Senate Bill No. 12 passed the Senate."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator McCormack:

"Point of order, Mr. President:

"Senator Gallagher did not present a motion. He simply gave notice. That is not a motion of higher rank."

Senator Woodall:

"There is a motion pending. Senator Gallagher merely served notice of an intention that he would do something tomorrow. Clearly the motion of Senator Riley is of higher rank because Senator Gallagher has made no motion. He has merely said tomorrow he might do something."

Senator Gissberg:

"Well, Mr. President, it is perfectly clear that the Senator has an opportunity to present his notice at any time before the bill leaves the chamber and we have not yet had a vote upon transmitting. Senator Gallagher now having given his notice, it is perfectly proper, and it would now take a suspension of the rules to immediately transmit to the House."

Senator Ryder:

"In answer to Senator Gissberg, Senator Gallagher got the floor with the subterfuge that he was going to make a motion of higher rank than the motion of Senator Riley. He did not do so, so that his notice of reconsideration is entirely out of order."

MOTION

Senator Dore:

"I now move, having voted on the prevailing side, that we reconsider the vote by which Engrossed Senate Bill No. 12 passed the Senate and, under Rule 31, this would have precedence over everything except a motion to adjourn."

The President:

"It would require a suspension of the rules, Senator Dore."

Senator Dore:

"Under what rule, Mr. President?"

The President:

"Under Rule 31, Senator Dore."

Senator Dore:

"On or after the fiftieth day. This is only the nineteenth day."

The President:

"On and after the fiftieth day of the session, a motion to reconsider shall only be in order on the same day upon which notice of reconsideration is given and may be made at any time that day."

MOTION TO RECONSIDER

Senator Dore:

"I now move to reconsider. I assume it needs two-thirds, but can I speak on the motion?"

The President:

"Senator Dore, reading the first part of the rule: 'Such motion to reconsider shall be in order only under the order of motions of the day immediately following the day upon which such notice of reconsideration is given, and may be made by any member who voted on the prevailing side.'"

Senator Dore:

"That's my point. I am moving for immediately reconsidering the vote by which the measure passed. This takes precedence over Senator Riley's motion to transmit."

The President:

"Senator Dore, the President should like to repeat Senate Rule 31, that portion pertaining to this case: 'Such motion to reconsider shall be in order only under the order of motions of the day immediately following the day upon which such notice of reconsideration is given.' This is the nineteenth day. Senator Gallagher has given notice that he will move for reconsideration tomorrow."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Dore:

"Parliamentary inquiry, Mr. President:

"I thought Senator Gallagher's motion was about to be ruled out of order. If he is out of order, I would like to make my motion. If he is not out of order, I withdraw my motion."

The President:

"The President has not ruled on any questions as of now."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Dore:

"Parliamentary inquiry:

"If Senator Riley's motion carries will there be a bill tomorrow to reconsider?"

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"If Senator Riley's motion prevails, there will not be a Senate Bill No. 12 in the Senate tomorrow, unless we get it back at that time."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Dore:

"Point of order, Mr. President:

"I have now made a motion, and under your interpretation of the rule, then, if his motion carries, no bill will be here to reconsider tomorrow but a motion to reconsider immediately is of higher rank than any other motion except a motion to adjourn, so it would take precedence over Senator Riley's motion, so at this time I would like to stand on my motion made to reconsider the vote at the present time because, evidently Senator Gallagher's notice to move for reconsideration is useless if Senator Riley's motion carries, and I would like to speak on the motion."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"Senator Dore, the motion that you wish to present will require a suspension of the rules."

Senator Dore:

"It may well require a suspension but I would like to speak on it."

The President:

"A motion to suspend the rules is not debatable."

Senator Dore:

"I thought I could explain the motion."

Senator Gissberg:

"Speaking further on the point of order as raised by someone with respect to Senator Gallagher's notice that he gave on the question of reconsideration tomorrow, from the remarks that the President has made, it would appear that the President is thinking of accepting the notice which has already been given and which the Clerk has down in the minute book. She already has down the fact Senator Gallagher has given notice of reconsideration. If you then put the question to immediately transmit to the House, you are denying to the majority and minority groups in this Senate a very valuable right and that is the opportunity to delay until the next succeeding day, the right to debate the question of reconsideration.

"Now, if you want to suspend the rules, that's one thing. It would take a two-thirds majority vote in order to do that. A simple majority, in my opinion should not be allowed to cut out the question of reconsideration contrary to our rules."

Senator Gallagher:

"Mr. President:

"With the permission of the Senate, I will withdraw the motion for notice of reconsideration for tomorrow and spend my time in the House."

The President:

"The President wishes to state he has not inferred in any way as to just how he is going to rule."

Senator Kupka:

"What is before the body?"

Senator Riley:

"Mr. President:

"I demand the previous question on the motion by Senator Riley to immediately transmit to the House."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Dore:

"Point of order, Mr. President:

"I made my motion to reconsider the vote and under Rule 31 even though it requires a suspension of the rules, I have a right to have that voted on first because that has precedence over everything except a motion to adjourn."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Greive:

"Would it be helpful to the Chair if we were to put this matter over until tomorrow so we could have sufficient time to reflect, or do you desire to make your ruling now?"

The President:

"Senator Greive, inasmuch as Senator Gallagher has withdrawn his notice of reconsideration, the President feels capable of ruling at this time. If Senator Dore wishes to put the motion to suspend the rules and immediately reconsider the vote by which Engrossed Senate Bill No. 12 passed, the President would put that motion, as it is of higher rank than Senator Riley's motion, Senator Dore has not yet moved the question."

MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION

Senator Dore:

"Mr. President:

"Having voted on the prevailing side, I move the rules be suspended, under Rule 31, and that we now reconsider the vote by which Engrossed Senate Bill No. 12 passed the Senate."

The President stated the question before the Senate is: It has been moved that the rules be suspended and that the Senate immediately reconsider the vote by which Engrossed Senate Bill No. 12 passed the Senate.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Dore:

"Parliamentary inquiry, Mr. President:

"Under my motion, am I allowed to explain my motion why I am asking for a suspension?"

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"A motion asking for a suspension of the rules is not debatable, Senator Dore."

Senator Dore:

"In accordance with your custom, I thought you permitted a brief explanation."

The President:

"Not the President's custom, Senator Dore. A brief explanation will be permitted, but you will have to confine your remarks to a very brief explanation to why you want to suspend the rules."

Debate ensued.

The motion to reconsider was lost on a rising vote.

The President stated the question before the Senate is: It has been moved that Engrossed Senate Bill No. 12 be immediately transmitted to the House.

The motion was carried.

The county assessor shall list and assess all such goods, wares and merchandise as of January 1st of each year, without regard to any average inventory, but shall cancel any such assessment in whole or in proportionate part upon receipt of [sufficient documentary proof that the identical property so assessed was actually shipped to points outside the state on or before April 30th of such year; but no such cancellation shall be made unless proof is furnished to the county assessor before June 1st of such year] the affidavit of exemption as set forth in section 2 of this amendatory act. NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. There is added to chapter 84.36 RCW a new section to read as follows:

An owner or agent filing an affidavit of exemption under this amendatory act shall consent to the inspection of his books and records upon which the claimed property has been designated, such inspection to be similar in manner to that provided by RCW 84.40.340, or if the owner or agent does not maintain records within this state, the consent shall apply to the records of the warehouse, person or agent having custody of the property in this state. Consent to the inspection of the records shall be executed as a part of the affidavit of exemption. The owner, his agent, warehouseman or other person having custody of the property referred to herein shall retain within this state for a period of at least two years from the date of the affidavit of exemption a copy of the records showing shipment of such property to a destination outside this state. If satisfactory records are not made available to the assessor within the county wherein the exemption is sought then the exemption shall be denied."

The commission may authorize a seller to pay the tax levied under this chapter upon sales made through vending machines and similar devices or where sales are made under conditions of business such as to render impracticable the collection of the tax as a separate item and waive collection of the tax from the customer. PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Gallagher:

"Is this the same amendmnet which was laid upon the table earlier this evening?"

Senator Washington:

"I can explain that. It is the same amendment, except it has the words 'eighty percent' changed to 'seventy-nine.'"

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Gallagher:

"Point of order, Mr. President:

"The rules provide where an amendment has been considered and has been either adopted or defeated or tabled, that you cannot at a later time move the same amendment with a 't' or a period or a number changed. I think the Senate, by its previous action, has taken action on this amendment; therefore, I question whether it is in order."

Senator Washington:

"Speaking to the point of order, the body decided that it was not willing to raise the sixty percent exemption to eighty percent. It did not decide that it is not willing to raise the exemption to seventy-nine, and this is certainly in keeping with parliamentary procedure. Many times you try for a higher figure and you may amend and apply a lower figure."

Senator Henry:

"Speaking to the point of order, Mr. President, I think the rules say that we go section by section and amend section by section. We have passed that section now."

Senator Washington:

"No, we do many times take them in the order in which the amendments go to the desk."

Senator Gallagher:

"Is this an amendment to the amendment which was tabled?"

Senator Washington:

"This is a new amendment."

Senator Gallagher:

"It is the same amendment."

The President:

"This is not the same amendment as the one that was tabled, Senator Gallagher, in that the percent has been changed from eighty to seventy-nine percent."

Senator Gallagher:

"Mr. President, is it then my understanding that after an original amendment is tabled, that we can then again and again re-offer the amendment, lowering it to seventy-nine, sixty, and on down all day long on the same amendment?"

The President:

"The President will check your inquiry, Senator Gallagher."

The President declared the Senate to be at ease.

The President called the Senate to order.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"In answer to the point of order, as presented by Senator Gallagher, the President refers to Reed's Rule 154: 'Sometimes an amendment is presented to an assembly with blanks for dates and amounts. In that case, when it is proposed to fill the blanks, the propositions, if there be more than one, are not treated as amendments, but are marshaled in such order that the largest sum or the longest time is put first, and then if this proposal be rejected, the next largest sum or longest time is put, and so on until the blank is filled.'"

QUESTION OF CONSIDERATION

Senator Gallagher:

"Mr. President, I would like to raise the question of consideration on the amendment proposed by Senator Washington."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Rasmussen:

"Point of order, Mr. President:

"I think Senator Washington had the floor and Senator Gallagher only raised the point of order, and Senator Washington still has the floor and Senator Gallagher is not in order to raise the question of consideration."

Senator Gallagher:

"Speaking upon that point, I believe the rules provide that at any time a member may raise the question of consideration if recognized upon the floor."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"Ruling upon the point of order, the Secretary of the Senate has advised the President that Senator Washington had not been recognized to debate the motion. Therefore, Senator Gallagher's motion is in proper order."

Senator Washington demanded a roll call, and the demand was sustained by Senators McMillan, Morgan, Rasmussen, Petrich, Guess, Atwood, England and Peterson.

On page 6, add a new section following section 3 as follows:

"Sec. 4. Section 82.08.080, chapter 15, Laws of 1961, as amended by chapter 244, Laws of 1963, and RCW 82.08.080 are each amended to read as follows:

The commission may authorize a seller to pay the tax levied under this chapter upon sales made through vending machines and similar devices or where sales are made under conditions of business such as to render impracticable the collection of the tax as a separate item and waive collection of the tax from the customer. Where sales are made by receipt of a coin or coins dropped into a receptacle that results in delivery of the merchandise in single purchases of smaller value than the minimum sale upon which a one cent tax may be collected from the purchaser, according to the schedule provided by the commission under authority of RCW 82.08.060, and where the design of the sales device is such that multiple sales of items are not possible or cannot be detected so as to practically assess a tax, in such a case the selling price for the purposes of the tax imposed under RCW 82.08.020 shall be [sixty] seventy-eight percent of the gross receipts of the vending machine through which such sales are made. No such authority shall be granted except upon application to the commission and unless the commission, after hearing, finds that the conditions of the applicant's business are such as to render impracticable the collection of the tax in the manner otherwise provided. The commission, by regulation, may provide that the applicant, under this section, furnish a proper bond sufficient to secure the payment of the tax."

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively.

QUESTION OF CONSIDERATION

Senator Gallagher raised the question of consideration on the amendment, and the Senate voted not to consider the amendment.

On motion of Senator Durkan, the committee amendment to the title was laid upon the table.

On motion of Senator Durkan, the following amendment to the title was adopted:

On page 1, line 17 of the title, after "RCW 83.40.040;" insert "amending section 3, chapter 168, Laws of 1961 and RCW 84.36.171; and adding new sections to chapter 84.36 RCW."

On motion of Senator Durkan, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 54 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

Senators Greive, Herrmann and Talley demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 54, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 39; nays, 7; absent or not voting, 3.

Those voting yea were: Senators Atwood, Bailey, Charette, Chytil, Connor, Cooney, Cowen, DeGarmo, Donohue, Durkan, England, Foster, Freise, Gissberg, Greive, Hanna, Henry, Herrmann, Hess, Keefe, Knoblauch, Kupka, Lennart, McCormack, McCutcheon, McMillan, Mardesich, Moriarty, Jr., Neill, Peterson, Petrich, Rasmussen, Rickdall, Riley, Sandison, Stender, Talley, Williams, Woodall—39.

Those voting nay were: Senators Gallagher, Guess, Hallauer, Morgan, Raugust, Thompson, Jr., Washington—7.

Those absent or not voting were: Senators Dore, Foley, Ryder—3.

Engrossed Senate Bill No. 54, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

The undersigned Senator voted "nay" on Engrossed Senate Bill No. 54 because it was clearly stated on the floor of the Senate that the purpose of section 2 amending RCW 84.04.290 was to permit distillery representatives the right to deduct the value of samples purchased by them in furtherance of their business. I have no objection to such deductions but feel that the exemption more properly belongs in another section of the law. I do not question the legality of such amendment since the legislature has clearly stated its position on this matter.

MICHAEL J. GALLAGHER.

House Bill No. 23, by Representatives Beck, Conner and Siler:

Implementing laws relating to taxation of lands lying in both a fire protection district and forest protection assessment area.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Riley, the rules were suspended, House Bill No. 23 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of House Bill No. 23, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 41; nays, 0; absent or not voting, 8.

Those voting yea were: Senators Atwood, Bailey, Charette, Chytil, Connor, Cooney, Cowen, DeGarmo, England, Foster, Freise, Gallagher, Gissberg, Greive, Guess, Hallauer, Hanna, Henry, Herrmann, Hess, Keefe, Knoblauch, Kupka, Lennart, McCormack, McCutcheon, McMillan, Morgan, Moriarty, Jr., Neill, Petrich, Rasmussen, Raugust, Rickdall, Riley, Sandison, Stender, Thompson, Jr., Washington, Williams, Woodall—41.

Those absent or not voting were: Senators Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Foley, Mardesich, Peterson, Ryder, Talley—8.

House Bill No. 23, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator McCormack, Senate Joint Resolution No. 10 was ordered to retain its place at the beginning of the second reading calendar for tomorrow.

"We seek Thy help when we come face to face with hard decisions and grave responsibilities. May we accept all things as a trusteeship for Thee and Thy people.

"Strengthen us when we are misunderstood; forgive us when we fumble. Lead us, not into temptation but in paths of right and guide us by the light of Thy love for all persons. Amen."

On motion of Senator Greive, the reading of the journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was approved.

PRESIDENT'S PRIVILEGE

The President:

"Honored members of the Senate, Ladies and Gentlemen:

"On this, the twenty-first day of the Extraordinary Session, April 4, 1963, the President is sure that everyone present will join in the expression of the thought that now is the time for a most memorable occasion."

APPOINTMENT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The President appointed a special committee consisting of Senators Keefe, Knoblauch and Neill to escort Senator David C. Cowen to a place of honor upon the rostrum.

The President:

"Honored members of the Senate, Ladies and Gentlemen:

"A short while ago the Honorable Victor A. Meyers, Secretary of State of the state of Washington delivered to the President's office this magnificent package. With your permission, the President should like to request of Senator Dr. David C. Cowen that he rise and open this package, and at that time the President will attempt to read what may be inscribed thereon."

The package was opened by Senator Cowen.

The President:

"Members of the Senate and Davey:

"With your permission and that of the Senators, I would like to read what is inscribed on this beautiful tribute that is being presented to you by Victor A. Meyers who, in his own right, has a great heart, too, Davey:

"In tribute to a Great Humanitarian, Dean of Washington Legislators, served in the House of Representatives 1935, 1937, 1939, and 1941, and as a member of the Honored Senate of the state of Washington 1943, 1944 Extraordinary Session, 1945, 1947, 1949, 1950 Extraordinary Session, 1951, 1951 Extraordinary Session, 1951 Second Extraordinary Session,—“There must be a million stories you can tell, Davey”—1953, 1953 Extraordinary Session, 1955, 1955 Extraordinary Session, 1957—” “That was the first time we were together”— 1959, 1959 Extraordinary Session, 1961, 1961 Extraordinary Session, 1963, 1963 Extraordinary session,—1965, 1965 Extraordinary Session and ad infinitum, and also inscribed is the great thought:

“Although we may laugh and jest,

‘A life of service is the best,

‘And happiness shall always be,

‘For him who serves humanity.’

“And inscribed on this magnificent tribute are the signatures of the Honorable Albert D. Rosellini, Governor of the state of Washington, the Honorable William S. Day, Speaker of the House of Representatives, the Honorable Victor A. Meyers, Secretary of State, and even the President got in on this.

“Davey, the President believes that whoever composed this particular thought described you perfectly and it is with the greatest pride and humility that the members of the Senate and the President join with Secretary of State Victor Meyers in presenting this great tribute to one of the grandest guys in the world, Davey Cowen.”

(Applause.)

Senator Cowen:

"Thank you, Lieutenant Governor Cherberg, and members of the Senate:

"I am deeply grateful and I am very humble with this wonderful token of appreciation by the Secretary of State, whom I have known for more than fifty years. I know that you don't want to be belabored with any more debate or any more talks.

"I wish to say this is one of the grandest sessions I have ever had the pleasure of serving with. I take great cognizance of the fact Senator Woodall stated here a few weeks ago this has been a wonderful session due to the fact that there hasn't been any real bitter debates or malice towards anyone in the Senate, and through the wonderful thinking and thoughts of Senator Woodall and Senator Bob Greive, I can assure you this has been a very amiable session.

"To the members of the Senate here for their first time, I want to say a word to you. As you first-termers are ready to go home, I wish to tell you that you are the most outstanding first-termers I have had the pleasure of serving with. You are very capable. You are honest in your convictions, and your thoughts this session have been outstanding. I speak for the whole membership of the Senate and I want to state to you first-termers you have done a magnificent and outstanding job and I sincerely hope and pray God gives you good health and that you will be with us in the 1965 Session.

"To the rest of the members of the Senate, I would like to say I wish you would excuse me and let me get home at this very moment to see my family and also I am sure my business needs a little attention, so if Senator Woodall would make the motion to excuse me, I will be deeply grateful to him, because in the 1961 Session, he brought me back just as Senator Keefe and I were ready to board an airplane for home. I'll never forget that. I'd like to tell you a little story about that. They brought us back, and I was so nervous that two days later I broke out with shingles and it took me two months to get over them. So, Senator Woodall, if you would help me get home, my plane is waiting for me, I'll forgive you for giving me the shingles in the 1961 Session.

"I want to say 'goodbye' to each and every one of you. It's been a wonderful session. The decorum has been wonderful, and I'm sure that it is due to the great efforts of Senator Woodall and Senator Bob Greive. This has been one of the most outstanding sessions I have ever had the pleasure of serving in in my twenty-nine years of being in the Washington State Legislature.

"Again I wish to say 'goodbye' and wish the best of health and luck to all of you and may you have a prosperous next two years.

"Thank you."

Senator McCutcheon:

"I demand a Call of the Senate."

MOTION

Senator Woodall:

"I stand here with mixed emotions. I would like to have the distinguished Senator be here in these closing hours, but I hate to be accused of giving people shingles.

"It was my pleasure some time back while in the House to excuse a House member so he could go south of the Border to win the hand of a beautiful senorita. He didn't win either. But it is a pleasure at this time to move that we excuse our Senior Senator, Dr. David Cowen, for the balance of this Extraordinary Session."

Senator Hess:

"Objection. Mr. President, I sympathize with Senator Cowen very much, but I'm wondering just what is going on here. I understand two Senators are gone permanently. I had a conference in Washington, D.C. that began yesterday morning, and I skipped it to stay here. I think every other Senator has the same obligation to the state."

Senator Knoblauch:

"Mr. President, members of the Senate:

"If the press has to print the last part of this, I hope they will print the first part, but Dr. Cowen isn't the only one who has received a bouquet today. I got one in the mail thanking me for my vote against gambling, and then it ends up with these words: 'This session seems to have been particularly confusing. Keep up the good work!'"

The President stated the question before the Senate is: It has been moved that Senator Cowen be excused for the balance of the Extraordinary Session.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Greive:

"Mr. President, point of order:

"I hate to be a voice not going along with the majority, but I don't think the rules permit us to excuse a member more than twenty-four hours. I don't think we have that privilege."

The President:

"Then Senator Cowen has promised to return within the twenty-four hours.

"Senator Cowen, good friends don't say goodbye. Everybody joins in saying to you 'Aloha!'"

The motion was carried and Senator Cowen was excused.

The Secretary read:

Any person who fails to comply with the provisions of this rule or who registers falsely in any manner shall have his card cancelled and shall not be allowed to promote or oppose any legislation before any senate committee or any senator or group of senators, for another, for hire, for a period of three years."

Senator Woodall moved that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Rules and Joint Rules.

Debate ensued.

The motion was carried.

PROTEST

April 5, 1963.

Honorable John A. Cherberg, President
Washington State Senate
Olympia, Washington

Mr. President:

I want to protest the vote by the Senate in sending the resolution relating to lobbyists to the Rules Committee.

House Rule 26 has for many years required lobbyists to register with the Speaker of the House. In the Senate we have no rule and some lobbyists are known to have contributed to the Greive fund, which in effect gives them a vote on the floor of the Senate. Senate Rule 45 does not permit lobbying when the Senate is in session.

My resolution would require registering and disclosure of all funds paid to lobbyists by their employers. Such records would be public and would give the voters information on the tremendous sums of money that are being spent in lobbying. Many times this money is being spent to promote legislation for liquor, gambling, horse racing, and related subjects.

Public disclosure would have the dual effect of alerting the voters and would also restrain some of the lobbying that goes on at our State Capitol.

A. L. RASMUSSEN
State Senator
28th District

The Senate resumed consideration of Senate Joint Resolution No. 10.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Riley:

"Parliamentary inquiry, Mr. President:

"In view of the fact that the conferees on redistricting are now present, is there any reason why we now could not call the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Joint Resolution No. 10?"

The President:

"Senator Petrich and Senator Dore are not present."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator McCormack:

"Parliamentary inquiry, Mr. President:

"Is it in order for us to excuse the two members who have somehow slipped out?"

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President:

"Under a suspension of the rules, it is possible to excuse them."

MOTION

Senator McCormack:

"I move that the rules be suspended and Senators Dore and Petrich be excused for this vote, only."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Hess:

"Point of order, Mr. President:

"I believe, Mr. President, it requires the unanimous consent of the Senate to excuse anyone under the Call of the Senate."

Senator Greive:

"I would argue that the rules can be suspended by a two-thirds majority and, in excusing a person by two-thirds, we have no problem."

Senator Hess:

"Point of order, Mr. President:

"The Call of the Senate does not require one-third in which to make it, if I recall right. I believe that the purpose of the Call is to allow a small minority to require that all of the Senators be present, and this interpretation would be a violation of the basic principal involved in the Call of the Senate."

On motion of Senator Greive, the Senate dispensed with further proceedings under the Call of the Senate.

On motion of Senator Greive, Senators Dore and Petrich were excused. Senators Greive, Rasmussen and Herrmann demanded a Call of the Senate. A Call of the Senate was ordered.

CALL OF THE SENATE

The Sergeant at Arms locked the doors of the Senate chamber.

The Secretary called the roll on the Call of the Senate, all members being present except Senators Cowen, Dore, Mardesich, Peterson, Petrich, Rasmussen and Stender; Senators Cowen, Mardesich, Peterson and Stender having been excused.

The Sergeant at Arms was instructed to bring in Senator Rasmussen. On motion of Senator Herrmann, the Senate dispensed with the Call of the Senate.

On motion of Senator Greive, Senator Rasmussen was excused.

The President declared the question before the Senate is: Engrossed Senate Joint Resolution No. 10 on final passage.

ROLL CALL

Those voting nay were: Senators Bailey, Charette, Chytil, DeGarmo, Donohue, England, Foley, Greive, Guess, Keefe, McCormack, Morgan, Raugust, Ryder, Williams—15.

Those absent or not voting were: Senators Cowen, Dore, Mardesich, Peterson, Petrich, Rasmussen, Stender—7.

NOTICE OF RECONSIDERATION

Senator McCormack:

"Mr. President:

"Having voted on the prevailing side, I now give notice that tomorrow under the proper order of business, I shall move to reconsider the vote by which Engrossed Senate Joint Resolution No. 10 failed to pass."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hess:

"Personal privilege, Mr. President:

"Mr. President, I am rising somewhat reluctantly but finally with complete determination that this matter needs to be aired. There were forty-nine members of this Senate elected by the people of the state. Considerably less than that are doing business here tonight, and I personally resent the fact that some have gone on vacation, others have gone on tour, some have gone to dinners that they wished to attend, when they knew the Senate was under Call and they were here.

"I believe the business of the state when the Legislature is meeting and measures such as redistricting are before us is sufficiently important to warrant the attention of every elected member of this body. A great many members of us here have urgent business. Attorneys have had to cancel cases in court. This not only has affected problems of the judges' calendars, but has affected seriously the lives and affairs and plans of litigants on both sides.

"This is a bi-partisan matter. Neither party is free from fault in this situation but I think it is time that each of us recognize we have a responsibility when we take this oath of office to carry on until the legislature adjourns Sine Die."

MOTION

At 5:20 p. m., on motion of Senator Greive, the Senate adjourned until 11:00 a. m., Friday, April 5, 1963.

JOHN A. CHERBERG, President of the Senate.

PROTEST

We, the undersigned, Senators Robert C. Bailey and Robert L. Charette, protest the vote of the Senate in adopting the Free Conference report on House Bill No. 2.

Within the last eight months, representatives from the Grays Harbor County and Pacific County area have attended meetings of the State Highway Commission, at which time they were informed that the freeway from Olympia west to Montesano and four lanes to Aberdeen would be completed in the 1963-1965 biennium. At the time the Senate amendment to House Bill No. 2 was being prepared the completion date for the freeway from Olympia west to Montesano was inserted as June 30, 1965 in reliance on these statements made by the Highway Commission. We later determined that indications were that the highway would actually be completed in the 1967-1969 biennium according to plans of the Highway Commission.

It is the feeling of Senators Bailey and Charette that the date as used in the original Senate amendment would have been more in keeping with information previously supplied, but in view of the Department's change of dates, we feel the Conference Committee changes represent a speeding up in the construction schedule under the dates planned by the Department.

ROBERT C. BAILEY.
ROBERT L. CHARETTE.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

State of Washington, Executive Department,
Olympia, April 3, 1963.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the State of Washington.

LADY AND GENTLEMEN:

I have the honor to submit the following appointment to the Board of Regents of the Washington State University, subject to your confirmation.

H. Dewayne Kreager, appointed April 3, 1963, for the term ending March 9, 1969, succeeding William Goodwin.

Sincerely,

ALBERT D. ROSELLINI, Governor.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

Senate Chamber,
Olympia, Wash., April 4, 1963.

H. DEWAYNE KREAGER, to the position of member of the Board of Regents of the Washington State University, appointed March 21, 1963, for the term ending March 9, 1969, succeeding William Goodwin (reported by Committee on Higher Education and Libraries):

MAJORITY recommends that said appointment be confirmed.

GORDON SANDISON, Chairman.

We concur in this report: R. Frank Atwood, Jack England, Frank W. Foley, Wilbur G. Hallauer, Andy Hess, Marshall A. Neill, John N. Ryder, Nat Washington.

CONFIRMATION OF GUBERNATORIAL APPOINTMENT

It was moved by Senator Neill that the rules be suspended and the appointment of H. Dewayne Kreager be now confirmed by the Senate.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Neill:

"Mr. President and members of the Senate:

"Most all of you are personally acquainted with Dewayne Kreager. I need say very little about him except, coming from a small town in Eastern Washington and making his way to the point where he has made himself known, not only in the state of Washington, but throughout the country, he is a person who will be a real asset to the Board of Regents. We were very proud that the Governor has seen fit to appoint Mr. Kreager to the Board of Regents of the Washington State University. As you know, he was an alumnus of that institution, later taking his Doctorate at Harvard University. He served in the state government here before he went into private business up in Seattle or Bellevue, which ever it is, Senator Thompson.

"One thing I should point out which may give you pause over the confirmation. I would like to point out he is a fraternity brother of Senator Foley, but if you can forgive him that, I am sure you will confirm his appointment."

Senator Kupka:

"Mr. President, Gentlemen and Lady of the Senate:

"I have had the pleasure on many occasions to serve with Dewayne Kreager while he was putting together the new Bureau of Department of Commerce and Economic Development of this state. He was the one person who was selected over many others from throughout the United States. I believe he was employed in Washington, D. C. at the time. He has done a terrific job.

"We could never pay him as much as he was worth and he has done so much better in private life that he decided to go in business for himself. However, he, being unselfish, did complete the job of organizing this department and, as I have said, on many occasions he has come before the Committee on Commerce, Manufacturing and Licenses, of which I have been Chairman throughout the years, to give us his explanations of various bills that would help this state. I urge your confirmation of Dewayne Kreager."

Senator Foley:

"Mr. President and members of the Senate:

"I have known Dewayne Kreager for a period of approximately thirty years. Dewayne and I were in college together. I will say that he was a couple of years older than I. We were fraternity brothers and lived together and I learned to know him quite well. He is one of the finest men I have ever known. We are all quite proud of him and I am sure he will do an excellent job on the Board of Regents, as he is intelligent and a hard worker."

Senator Raugust:

"I also want to support Dewayne Kreager. He was born in my district and his father is a very close friend of mine. I do want to say that I do not know any man I could recommend any more highly for this position. I am very happy that the Governor appointed him to this position."

Senator Riley:

"Mr. President and members of the Senate:

"I would just like to add one word to what has been said. Certainly what Senator Neill has said is absolutely correct. I did not have the pleasure of knowing Dewayne Kreager until he took the position as Director of the Department of Commerce and Economic Development, but I can assure you that working as a Senator, I know that he has done everything he could do to try to help business and industry. I have found Dewayne Kreager to be fundamental and sound. I began to admire him, also, when I attended meetings of the World Fair Commission. Subsequent to that date, he was selected as a board member of a bank of which I am a member and the counsel that he brings to our bank meetings is worthy of note and it indicates the stability of the gentleman and the wide knowledge that he has. He is bringing the focus of the entire United States on our community because he has a national reputation."

The motion was carried.

MESSAGE FROM THE STATE AUDITOR

Office of State Auditor,
Olympia, April 5, 1963.

Washington State Senate, First Extraordinary Session, 38th Legislature, Legislative Building, Olympia, Washington.

HONORED MEMBERS:

Pursuant to Senate Rule 20, I would appreciate this message being considered. At the 38th Regular Session of the Washington State Legislature, Senate Bill No. 583 was sponsored by Senators Talley and Charette. This bill was very carefully drafted by the office of the Attorney General in concert with my staff.

This identical bill has been redrafted and introduced by Senator Talley as Senate Bill No. 41 at the First Extraordinary Session. This bill would carry into effect the recommendation of the office of State Auditor as made in the 37th Biennial Report of the State Auditor to the State Legislature at the 1963 Session. Page 144 of the Biennial Report will more fully outline the accomplishments and necessity of this law. However, briefly, it would make the political subdivision vouchering procedure harmonize with the presently authorized practice of the state of Washington on its invoice vouchers, and would dispense with the requirement of a notarial signature and seal on the travel expense vouchers of public officers and employees.

Enactment of this law would be to the benefit of all of the twenty-one hundred (2,100) political subdivisions of the state of Washington and the tens of thousands of political subdivision officers and/or employees. In addition, it would be of untold benefit to every vendor furnishing services or supplies to the 2,100 political subdivisions of the state of Washington. In short, passage of Senate Bill No. 41 would probably have a favorable effect on a greater number of our populace than most any other bill which has been presented at the regular or special session. Considerable dollar savings would result for both the political subdivision and the vendors.

I would, therefore, recommend that the Senate, in regular session, make available to themselves the parliamentary procedure which would allow the Senate to forthwith pass Senate Bill No. 41 and send it on to the House of Representatives in order that it might be enacted into law at this Extraordinary Session.

I am aware that in point of time this request is coming late. Notwithstanding, I feel that the unprecedented passage of this bill would redound to the benefit of the First Extraordinary Session of the 38th Legislature by the resulting praise in the minds of untold thousands of political subdivisions' officers and/or employees and vendors.

Yours very truly,

CLIFF YELLE,
State Auditor.

There being no objection, the Senate reverted to the second order of business.

The Secretary read:

The Secretary read:

SENATE RESOLUTION
1963 EX -20-

By Senators Greive and Ryder:

WHEREAS, During the Thirty-eighth Legislative Session and the First Extraordinary Session of the Washington State Legislature, the Washington State Research Council has prepared and delivered a daily service consisting of status reports of all House and Senate bills; and

WHEREAS, Such status reports provided information not otherwise easily obtainable; and

WHEREAS, Such service was of great benefit to members of both houses and to others interested in following the course of bills in the legislature; and

WHEREAS, The members of the Senate are unanimous in their desire to express their appreciation to the Washington State Research Council;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, That the Senate commend the Washington State Research Council for its service and express its gratitude and appreciation for it; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate transmit a copy of the Resolution to the Washington State Research Council.

On motion of Senator Riley, the resolution was adopted.

SENATE RESOLUTION
1963 EX -21-

By Senators Greive, Hanna and Woodall:

WHEREAS, Lieutenant Governor John A. Cherberg has presided over the Senate at the Regular Session and the First Extraordinary Session of the Thirty-eighth Legislature of the state of Washington with his usual fairness and impartiality; and

WHEREAS, He has firmly established himself in this and the three previous sessions over which he has presided, as an able parliamentarian and presiding officer; and

WHEREAS, He has worked closely with members of the Senate irrespective of their party affiliation to the end that legislation in the public good has been enacted; and

WHEREAS, His presiding over the Senate in a judicious manner has added stature and decorum to the proceedings of this body; and

WHEREAS, As chairman of the Committee on Rules and Joint Rules he has accepted his responsibility seriously, labored diligently for long hours under often-times difficult circumstances to the end that the work of the committee be successful and effective; and

WHEREAS, His outstanding qualities of leadership have upon many occasions brought divergent groups together with results which have proved to be in the best interest of all the people of the state of Washington and contributed much to the smooth operation of the legislature;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, That the Senate extend its thanks, appreciation and praise to Lieutenant Governor John A. Cherberg for good work well done; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate suitably enroll a copy of this resolution and transmit the same to Lieutenant Governor John A. Cherberg; and

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this Resolution be entered in the Senate Journal.

On motion of Senator Riley, the resolution was adopted.

PRESIDENT'S PRIVILEGE

The President:

"Members of the Senate, the President is happy he did not have to decide the tie vote on this matter, and happier indeed, that the resolution did not tell the truth about the President.

"Thank you very much."

Senator Riley:

"Mr. President, members of the Senate and Ladies and Gentlemen:

"The resolution you have heard read expressed the feeling of the Senate towards our presiding officer, Lieutenant Governor John A. Cherberg. In addition to the resolution in written form, I also want to amplify what has been expressed in the written word by saying this truly is the feeling of all the members of the Senate and, because we feel that way, we have put it into writing and we hope, Mr. President, that this will be something in addition that you may interpret as an expression of true friendship as expressed by the Senators to you and may you keep this all your remaining days as presiding officer and then through your long and full life."

The President:

"Well, thank you very much, President Pro Tempore Riley, and Ladies and Gentlemen:

"You know this has happened before, and each time it seems as if the thrill increases. I am very grateful to you. I know that the words and thoughts expressed in this particular resolution are somewhat, not somewhat, they are highly complimentary and somewhat untrue, but at least for the most part the President does try to cut it right down the middle because that is actually the only way this job can be handled as people like Senator Riley, Senator Henry and Senator Cowen and anyone else who has been on the rostrum knows.

"I want to express my appreciation to every member in the Senate for the splendid manner in which you have treated me. I know that this job can't be done very well unless whoever happens to be presiding has the utmost and complete cooperation of everybody on the floor, and I know that in every instance it has been my pleasure to enjoy that particular experience. It is really a help to me the way you fellows and Frances have treated me.

"I can remember four terms ago when I first came here and, well, it's just like going back and playing safety when you've never been back there before. You fellows who were here know all about it, and at that time I was taught quite a lesson by the fellow that used to sit where Ed Riley is sitting now, my good friend Vic Zednick. I can remember many occasions when good old Vic would bail me out on points of order on which I knew nothing. And then I have had equal treatment from over here on the other side of the aisle, so when I get something like this, I am very grateful. Believe me, I appreciate it very much."

SENATE RESOLUTION

1963 EX -22-

By Senators Greive and Rickdall:

WHEREAS, The members of the Senate of the Thirty-eighth Session and the First Extraordinary Session of the Washington State Legislature have been furnished, without cost to them or to the state of Washington, and without comment for or against any bill or resolution, a digest and analysis of all bills and resolutions introduced in the Senate and House of Representatives; and

WHEREAS, The legislative digest has been of great service to members of the Senate:

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, That the Senate does hereby express its gratitude and appreciation to the Association of Washington Industries for this service in the interest of good government; and

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this Resolution be entered upon the Journal and a copy suitably enrolled be sent to each of the officers of the Association of Washington Industries and the editor of the legislative digest, the Honorable C. Lee Coulter.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hess:

"Mr. President, would Senator Thompson yield?"

"Senator Thompson, this makes a total of approximately $100,000,000 in bond issues that will be on the ballot at the next election with bi-partisan sponsorship and bi-partisan vote-getting on the ballot. Now you indicated you didn't share my concern about deferring too much of these expenditures into the future.

"Does this indicate a change in the Republican Party philosophy on this?"

Senator Thompson, Jr.:

"Senator Hess, I can only speak for myself in this regard and having served here three terms I have had the pleasure of serving on the Education Committee with you three sessions. I think you and I have always been in general agreement as to the needs for capital outlay to benefit children of the state. My position is exactly the same as it has always been and whether it be for a bond issue for common schools or a bond issue for unfortunate young pre-delinquent youth, I feel this is an obligation and there is no other way of obtaining relief and for building these facilities. I sincerely believe if the Luther Burbank facilities can receive three or four hundred delinquents, as judges refer them there, the economy to the state over the years will have been tremendous because it will have avoided their going to Green Hill and Monroe, and then to Walla Walla. An appropriation to the Luther Burbank and the Martha Washington institutions is really a preventive delinquent program and, if it can be amplified, I feel it will be an economy to our whole state institutions' program."

Senator Hess:

"Will Senator Thompson yield to another question?"

"Senator Thompson, do I gather from your response then, that you feel the same type of arguments applied in the past instances for bonds for World's Fair construction, school construction and highways?"

Senator Thompson, Jr.:

"Well, Senator Hess, I am not an expert on the highways. Senator Moriarty is really the expert on that. On the World's Fair, I don't feel I am an expert on that, but the third one I think I agree with you on."

Senator Hess:

"I hope we have cleared up the partisan approach of the Republican Party at this session that bonds of indebtedness are a Democratic scheme. I think very clearly Senator Thompson's comments and actions indicate that both parties are in this action, and the bi-partisan support for this type of program is continuing and longstanding. I hope, gentlemen, we won't have any more of the tongue-in-cheek, hypocritical 'ship of state going on the rocks' campaign tactics with the Democrats only, on board. Once again may I say very clearly that by almost increasing by one-third the bond of indebtedness of this state, along with the Democrats, that this is a bi-partisan crew that rides that ship."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Petrich:

"Would Senator Hess yield?"

"Senator Hess, directing your attention to section 12 and the amendment which you have submitted and which we have adopted, is it your understanding that if this bill is adopted as amended, that the Education Committee will work with the Statute Law Committee in performing the technical problems of compiling the laws and taking up present R.C.W. sections?"

Senator Hess:

"Mr. President and Senator Petrich:

"In response to your question, I don't know if the funds of the Statute Law Committee having failed, by striking the $25,000 originally allocated in this bill for that purpose, that sufficient funds will be available for the Statute Law Committee to undertake this job. However, if the Committee has sufficient funds, I believe it is the intent of the original bill and the intent of this bill after it is amended, that the Committee, where a question of policy is concerned, will help provide guidance as it is being re-dified."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Dore:

"Would Senator Hess yield to another question?"

"Senator, do you mean that the Education Committee, either by itself or in cooperation with the Statute Law Committee, will make substantial changes in the laws dealing with Title 28 so that then they may be recommended to the next legislature, or is this simply a compilation of the existing laws?"

Senator Hess:

"I believe that our only legal right under this would be perhaps to advise a change in the existing law if there is a point in question, and would not be in any way to change the law or try in any manner to recreate the law which exists, other than through the republication. I think probably as a result of this work, as you probably have found in other areas, there would be recommendations either to the Interim Committee on Education or the Statute Law Committee advising legislation in the future."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Petrich, Engrossed House Bill No. 24 was ordered to retain its place on second reading immediately following House Concurrent Resolution No. 10.

On motion of Senator Herrmann, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 2, line 8, after "of twenty" insert "- five"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Ryder:

"Would Senator Herrmann yield to a question?"

"On line 7 of the last 'resolve,' does this make an appropriation?"

Senator Herrmann:

"No, I don't think it does. I just discussed it with Senator Durkan and it says we shall not spend an amount to exceed five thousand dollars, but I don't think that language could be construed as an appropriation. It merely puts a limit by concurrent action of the House and Senate that we cannot spend over five thousand dollars. This is the amount appropriated in the budget for the committee, and I don't think that is inconsistent or this attempts to make an appropriation."

Senator Ryder:

"This does not, in other words, make a double appropriation?"

Senator Herrmann:

"That's correct."

On motion of Senator Herrmann, the rules were suspended, Engrossed House Concurrent Resolution No. 3, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the resolution was placed on final passage.

The committee, in cooperation with the statute law committee, shall review existing laws pertaining to education with a view toward recommending a comprehensive codification thereof to the 39th session of the legislature, including such substantive changes in said laws as the committee may deem necessary."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Moriarty, Jr.:

"Would Senator Petrich yield?"

"Senator Petrich, is it your understanding that by this amendment, the Statute Law Committee would merely identify the areas in the existing laws where some substantive change is apparently necessary and leave the changes, if any, to be the decision of the Committee on Education?"

Senator Petrich:

"Yes, Senator, that is precisely my understanding of what this amendment would mean."

Debate ensued.

The motion was carried and the amendment was adopted.

Senator Hallauer moved the adoption of the following amendment:

On page 2, section 11, line 29 of the engrossed bill, being line 31 of the printed bill, after "funds" and before the semicolon, insert "including recommendations for the simplification thereof"

The resolution was read the second time in full.

On motion of Senator Bailey, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 2, section 4, strike lines 10 through 13 and renumber the remaining sections.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess:

"Would Senator Bailey yield to a question?

"Is this a new name for the Urban Area Governmental Committee that we had last session?"

Senator Bailey:

"Well, Senator Guess, it is in a way and in a way it's not. It removes it from the metropolitan areas and works with some of the smaller cities, too. I don't intend to be a member of this committee. I introduced this resolution by request."

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

House of Representatives,
Olympia, Wash., April 6, 1963.

MR. PRESIDENT:

The House has adopted House Concurrent Resolution No. 11, and the same is herewith transmitted. S. R. HOLCOMB, Chief Clerk.

FIRST READING OF HOUSE RESOLUTION

The following was read first time by title and acted upon as indicated:

House Concurrent Resolution No. 11, by Committee on Rules and Order:
Relating to adjournment of the First Extraordinary Session of the Thirty-eighth Legislature Sine Die.

On motion of Senator Riley, the rules were suspended, House Concurrent Resolution No. 11 was advanced to second reading and read the second time in full.

On motion of Senator Riley, the rules were suspended, House Concurrent Resolution No. 11 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the resolution was placed on final passage and adopted.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McCutcheon:

"Mr. President:

"Is this the Sine Die resolution?"

The President:

"Yes, sir."

Senator McCutcheon:

"I would like to rise on personal privilege."

The President:

"The Senator may speak on personal privilege."

Senator McCutcheon:

"I don't think anybody on either side of the aisle should leave these halls and go home without paying a tribute to the very hard work done by Senator Robert Greive and Representative Gorton. They know best about him, over in the House, but here in our chamber, Bob Greive has labored for eighty days with intense devotion and sincerity to bring about redistricting. He has never broken his word. He has been open and aboveboard and according to his own fervor and his tremendous ability and tenacity, he has done his very best to bring about redistricting in the state of Washington. I, for one, want to pay tribute to him and the fact that he has not succeeded in this session is not his fault. We should all pay him tribute."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Sandison:

"Mr. President, personal privilege:

"I, too, want to say something concerning Senator Greive's activity. Even though I and some of my colleagues held against Senator Greive's reasoning on this particular subject, at no time did I ever question his qualifications to render a decision on the subject, nor at any time did I ever question his honesty and sincerity in giving his opinion. I think he is a pretty unusual guy and a great parliamentarian, and the day after this is over, he will forget about those of us who opposed him. He has done a great job. I know he has lost sleep. He has worked hard almost all of the time. I have seen him rush around here and I think there are no three Senators in the entire body who can compare with the amount of foot-pounding energy this man has expended in our behalf. I am sorry some of us saw things the other way. Again, I think he is a good enough ball player that tomorrow he will forget about it, but I think we will never forget about him."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Neill:

"Mr. President:

"I think it is only right that from this side of the aisle I add a word of concurrence to the remarks made about the tremendous efforts that have been put into this attempt to redistrict the state of Washington by Bob Greive, and also by Slade Gorton over on the other side. I really had no concept of the work that had gone into this until I was put on the Conference Committee the last several days and had an opportunity, as well as the job of sitting in and seeing what these men have done. I must say that anybody that has put in the hours and has the depth of knowledge of this vast and very important and sensitive field that these men have and that I saw Bob Greive evidence in this Conference Committee, deserve our commendation. I, too, regret that the session seems to be dying away without our having accomplished the objective of redistricting the state of Washington. Certainly it is not through a lack of effort by Bob Greive or Slade Gorton."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Kupka:

"Mr. President, Lady and Gentlemen of the Senate:

"I want to concur with every word that has been said in regard to Senator Greive's devotion to try and bring about a redistricting or reapportionment bill to reality this session of the legislature. I wouldn't have the job for any price and I venture to say any one of the rest of you wouldn't accept that assignment under any circumstances. Regardless of how we end up, it isn't because we haven't tried. I extend the same courtesies to Slade Gorton and the House members on the other side. I want to say that I don't believe in any session in the fourteen years that I have served that any two people or any group worked any harder than those people on that committee.

"I realize that we have attempted to redistrict this session and many other sessions, the people have attempted it, the League of Women Voters have attempted it, and the people said no. We felt that we should attempt to try to do it ourselves, but it just seems as though there were enough differences that caused us to meet a deadlock. It isn't because the legislature hasn't tried. I certainly want to extend my appreciation to Senator Bob Greive. I don't know of another person that has been as devoted to a cause that he has attempted to resolve as Senator Bob Greive, and believe me, I wouldn't have it at any price and, as I said, I don't believe any of the rest of you would either. He has served sincerely and certainly deserves commendation."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Raugust:

"Mr. President and members of the Senate:

"I also want to express my appreciation for the work that Bob Greive has done on this floor. I worked with Bob Greive very closely with the initiative. I am very much disappointed in the decision that has finally been made. If you will look at my district, the way I would have been affected, Davey Cowen and I would have been in the same district. And yet had the bill come on the floor, I would have voted for it. The people said for us to redistrict, the courts have said you must redistrict, and I am very much disappointed in those people who considered what it would do to them instead of voting for the bill. As I said, I don't think anyone was more affected than I would have been, yet if the bill would have come on the floor, I would have voted for it."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Dore:

"Mr. President:

"I would also like to join the remarks of commendation of Senator Greive, but I think we should also extend our thanks to Senator Neill and Senator Gallagher who also worked very hard on the committee. Also, I think we shouldn't overlook the great leadership of our Lieutenant Governor and of Senator Bob Bailey, the Majority Caucus Chairman, and the leaders on the other side of the aisle, Senator Woodall and Senator Neill. I think both parties worked excellently together. We have worked together to pass a budget in balance, and I think that's something to be proud of. With a little more work, maybe another special session or maybe through the courts, we may get our redistricting plan. But I think that all of the work that has been done on redistricting and all of the records and research will stand us in good stead in the months ahead, and that a fair and equitable redistricting plan is not too far in the future."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Woodall:

"I wish to address myself to a point of personal privilege on another matter. I want to apologize to those who followed me in a move I made when they had a so-called compact bill here concerning the right of other states to send to our Director of Licenses a report of a bail forfeiture that you might have made in another state and that would be used against you in the state of Washington.

"As you know, I fought it very strongly and it carried thirty-one to ten in this body, and then this particular bill was thrown into conference, and I was placed on the conference committee. Along with me was Senator Charette as two representing the major view on that subject. Senator Washington was also on the committee representing the minority view and we met with the members of the House. At that time I was told by Senator Washington and Representative Huntley that if I would go along with certain matters in the compact, they would write into the highway bill a provision that no bail forfeiture in another state could ever be used against you in the state of Washington. Now those gentlemen kept their word and I bought that and I let the compact become law, and Senator Charette stood with me and said 'Unless you say it's okay, I won't sign it,' so we signed it. We let the compact become law. Representative Huntley kept his word and when they introduced the bill, the highway bill, they had the clause in it that no bail forfeiture in another state could ever be used against you in the state of Washington, so it passed the House unanimously. It passed the Senate unanimously.

"The bill went to the Governor's office. Word came to me that he was being lobbied to veto the clause. I went to Senator Herrmann and told him. He said he would go down and talk to the Governor. He did. I saw the Governor when he was dining in our dining room and I said, 'Governor, I don't like to lobby you over lunch, however, this particular portion of the law is here only because we agreed in conference that we would pass this compact.' I had my grave doubts because I feel it's basically wrong that if you happen to be down in California and, rather than stay and fight a speeding charge of ten dollars, you come on home. I just think it's basically wrong to use against you in Washington, what some town clown said you did wrong in California. But I went along and I was a good follower, and I was a fool. I'll never be one again. It passed. Then I asked the Governor, 'What about it?'

"He said, 'I don't think we've got a problem, but if we have one, I'll call you down before I'll ever veto it.'

"Well, I got the word tonight that he had vetoed it, so I went to Senator Herrmann. We called the Governor on the phone. He talked to me on the phone and he apologized and said that he had forgotten about it. He did call Senator Herrmann. He had forgotten his promise to call me, and that I accepted it. I think he was sincere, but I want to point out to you today the danger of ever agreeing upon anything again. I made a great mistake. I allowed this contemptible thing to go through because I thought if this law that you couldn't use bail forfeitures, passed both Houses unanimously, it surely would be the law of the state of Washington. So I slipped, lady and gentlemen of the Senate, and I apologize to all of you because in conference committee I let this contemptible thing go through and I had thought it would be a part of the law of our state under this new bill, and it was vetoed out.

"I think it's real bad law. I think it's just as wrong as can be that if some town official picks you up in some distant state and you don't choose to stick around for a month to fight it and come on home, that that shall operate against you in the state of Washington. It's a new theory of law that you punish in Washington for something you allegedly did in Arizona. It's bad law and I'm sorry it's there, but to all of you who believed in me when you voted with me to knock it out of the compact, I wanted to give this full explanation as to exactly what happened."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Riley:

"Mr. President and members of the Senate:

"Just an additional word in behalf of Senator Bob Greive and his efforts. No Senator here is as knowledgeable as Senator Bob Greive on this subject of redistricting and reapportionment. Not only is Senator Bob Greive entitled to our warm handshake and applause, but the staff of people in his office who labored with him is entitled to our applause and our gratitude. Obviously I feel disappointed. I see the end of this Thirty-eighth Session coming and we have not done what I conceive to be the duty of a legislative body. We have not redistricted. I do not like to abdicate my position as a legislator. I do not like to bow out and let the judicial ranks take care of my work, and so I am somewhat disappointed. But I suspect that if the subject is with us two years from now, that you will probably find Senator Greive as ardent in his efforts and he will probably do as much as he can to make sure that the right type of reapportionment bill comes through.

"We cannot just single out Senator Bob Greive. There were two more conferees, Senator Gallagher and Senator Neill, and they all had their voice, to which they were entitled. They had their ideas, and anyone who has convictions and so states them, we must give them a warm handshake."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Herrmann:

"Mr. President and members of the Senate:

"First, I want to say this is one time that I concur with Senator Woodall, and I want to state that the reason that I went along is that I was just as much concerned about this provision in the law as Senator Woodall. I felt that we had reached a proper compromise, and I felt badly that the Governor saw fit to veto this portion.

"Now, Mr. President and members of the Senate, I would just like to say a word in regard to the work that has been done on redistricting. Somehow I feel with all the sincere efforts and all the hard work, all of the compromising, the hours of work, the sleepless nights and the tremendous energy that has gone into this project, that to see it go down the drain, makes me feel that the entire special session has been a failure. We have spent a lot of the taxpayers' money. We have come here and we have taken of our time. We have had this entire body together and there is no use kidding ourselves. The only reason we were held up from Sine Die, the only reason we went into special session, there were a few days on the budget but I think that could have been worked out in the general session, was the fact we saw this tremendous job ahead of us and we felt it should be done and we felt that an equitable and fair compromise should be worked out.

"My heart goes out to Bob Greive for the work he has done. I feel very belittled for the amount of energy that I have put on it. I felt that it was a good plan. I thought that it was a plan that would have been the best for the people of the state of Washington. I thought it was a fair and equitable proposition. I thought that it was a good compromise.

"I would just like to say this in conclusion in the statement that I made previously that democracy operates in this fashion and we must abide by the will of the majority. I would have felt much differently had we not had our last meeting, but the majority of the members of the majority party, even though it was only one person in between, have spoken and, as one of those who sincerely believed in this plan and one who honestly felt that it was the best possible plan we will have in this redistricting and who was sincerely disappointed, I want to say that I don't think that in the true sense of democracy that we wasted our time because we expended every effort possible in order to get a redistricting plan. And, in the final analysis it was voted down by a majority and we have been unable to redistrict the state. Therefore, as a loser, I want to say that I am willing to abide by the rule of the majority."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McMillan:

"Mr. President and members of the Senate:

"I want to say just a few words in concurring with these remarks of Senator Herrmann.

"I have felt since my first acquaintance with Senator Greive, and since observing his activities here in the Senate, and in the legislature, that he is a man with state-wide vision. He is not provincial in any sense. He takes the state as a whole. He looks the map over and makes up his mind what is good for the party and what is good for the state. I feel that we have lost a real battle in this matter of redistricting in that we have abdicated to the courts after twenty-three days in special session. My real concern, of course, is that in time we do have some measure of representation of area, as opposed to population. As of the present time, I am not very hopeful concerning the activity and the previous decisions of the court, but as Senator Herrmann says, we abide by the majority and accept the rule."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Kupka:

"Mr. President, Lady and Gentlemen of the Senate:

"One last word in regards to redistricting: I am going to recommend to the Legislative Council, now that we have one and of which I am a member, that we continue the study of reapportionment and redistricting and that all of the calculations and all of the mapping, including the resolutions for reapportionment, be kept intact and that we continue to make every effort to redistrict the state of Washington."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Morgan:

"Mr. President and members of the Senate:

"Even though I was to have the largest district in the state of Washington, which would have been and will be 90,000 people in the twenty-third district, I voted to bring this to the floor, and even though I knew that there were political implications behind it, I knew that Senator Greive had worked and begged to make them be reasonable in regards to this. It might be that a Republican could take me down, so they must leave it at 90,000. This no doubt would have brought on a taxpayer's suit, but I still voted for it because I felt we must do something about redistricting.

"I just wanted you to know that I voted for the bill, to bring it to the floor, because I think Senator Greive has worked very hard with his staff and he has been crucified by the press.

"I thank you."

The Secretary read:

SENATE RESOLUTION
1963 Ex. -24-

By Senators DeGarmo, Rasmussen and Herrmann:

WHEREAS, Food fish and game fish are of vital economic, commercial, and recreational importance to the state of Washington; and

WHEREAS, The constant increase in the taking of food fish and game fish for commercial and recreational purposes demands that provision be made for expanding the artificial propagation of food fish and game fish through hatcheries and fish farms and for providing conservation facilities in relation to food fish and game fish; and

WHEREAS, The artificial propagation and conservation of food fish and game fish is dependent upon adequate supplies of water from rivers, streams, springs and other sources; and

WHEREAS, There appears to be increasing competition among users of water;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, by the Senate, That the legislative interim committees on fisheries and game and game fish are directed to study the feasibility of authorizing the state department of fisheries and the state game commission to enter into option agreements for the acquisition of water rights to assure that adequate supplies of water be made available for fish hatcheries, fish farms, and other propagation, and conservation purposes.

On motion of Senator Riley, the resolution was adopted.

SENATE RESOLUTION
1963 Ex. -25-

By Senators DeGarmo, Thompson, Jr., Charette and Hanna:

WHEREAS, The opportunity for enjoyment of the recreational facilities afforded by the lakes, streams and salt waters of the state of Washington have been unexcelled in the past; and

WHEREAS, The opportunity for the residents of our state and especially persons in the lower income brackets and children to engage in boating, swimming, fishing, camping, and other outdoor activities and to enjoy the beaches of the fresh and salt waters of the state is needed for enjoyable and healthful lives and to combat juvenile delinquency; and

WHEREAS, The continuation of the tourist business within the state which was greatly implemented by the World's Fair, and its beneficial effect upon our economy is based in large part upon the opportunity for enjoyment of recreational facilities within the state; and

WHEREAS, The tremendous increase in the need for expansion of recreational opportunities afforded by the fresh and salt waters of our state is evidenced by:

(1) A population increase in our state of over one-quarter of a million persons in the past five years and a projected increase of approximately one-half million persons in the next ten years;

(2) An increase of game fish license holders of over twenty thousand in the past five years; and

(3) An increase in the visitors to our state parks of nearly two and one-half million persons in the past five years; and

WHEREAS, The serious decrease in the availability of such recreational opportunities is evidenced by:

(1) The subdividing of beaches and stream frontage and the sale and subdividing of privately owned resorts;

(2) The fact that our fresh and salt water resorts are suffering the highest rate of bankruptcy of any other type of business in the state and are steadily decreasing in size and number; and

WHEREAS, A study of the entire field of the fading recreational opportunities afforded by the fresh and salt waters of the state is desperately needed to enable us to find a solution to this problem;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, by the Senate that the Governor in his discretion request either the Legislative Council or a citizens' advisory committee whose membership he shall determine, to conduct such a study, in continuation of efforts made during the prior biennium, to include consideration of House Bills numbered 5, 7 and 8 of the 1963 extraordinary session embodying the Governor's outdoor recreational program and that the State Parks and Recreation Commission, the State Department of Fisheries and the Fisheries Interim Committee, the State Game Department and the Game and Game Fish Interim Committee, the State Department of Commerce and Economic Development are authorized and directed to give every means of assistance and to otherwise cooperate in this study. The Legislative Council or citizens' committee shall hold such public hearings as deemed necessary in conducting its study and shall consult with fresh and salt water resort owners or lessees; and

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGES ON HOUSE BILLS PARTIALLY VETOED

April 18, 1963.

To the Honorable

The House of Representatives of the State of Washington
(Through the Secretary of State)

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am filing herewith to be transmitted to the House of Representatives at the next session of the Legislature, without my approval as to certain items described below, House Bill No. 1 (Extraordinary Session) entitled:

“An Act Adopting the budget; making appropriations and re-appropriations for the operation of state agencies and for miscellaneous purposes; and declaring an emergency.”

Two years ago the Legislature appropriated six million dollars more than was available to be spent by the state. This was a situation that I could not allow to exist. Accordingly, I put into effect stringent economies in the agencies under my control that corrected the situation.

This year, once again, the Legislature has pressed upon me a critical fiscal problem. I find myself faced with a legislative budget proposal that asks the state to spend three million dollars more than it will have available during the next two years. This, despite the fact that such a budget would be directly contrary to state law, which stipulates that spending may not exceed income.

As Governor, I am obligated to assure that this law is fully carried out. Therefore, I must choose one of two alternatives.

I can veto the entire budget proposal and call the Legislature back into a costly special session to correct this over-appropriation of funds. Or, I can follow a responsible course of action, as I did two years ago—that is, to veto certain items and require further stringent economies in departments under my control in order to achieve a balanced budget.

I choose the latter method.

My decision will result in a reduction of more than three million dollars in proposed spending, and bring the state budget into balance.

Through veto action I have assured savings of $565,000. The remaining imbalance through over-appropriated funds shall be absorbed by the state agencies over which I have direct control. I have instructed that State Budget Director plan for economies in the next two years to assure a reduction in spending by those agencies to a figure of two and a half million dollars below the totals appropriated to them by the Legislature. Only by instituting such sacrifices was I able to return the budget to a balanced condition.

Since the Legislature was instrumental in creating this situation, I decided that it must share the burden of the overall financial sacrifices that were necessary. Accordingly, the most substantial of the vetoed items relates to appropriations approved by the Legislature for its own interim committees.

In Section 2, under the heading of “State Legislature” there is a General Fund appropriation for all legislative interim committees in the amount of $547,741. This appropriation, together with other allowances for legislative salaries and expenses of $422,058 appropriated elsewhere in this bill; plus individual appropriations for the Commission on Game and Game Fish, the Joint Committee on Highways, the Public Pension Committee, amount to a total appropriation for legislative expenses of over one million dollars during a period when the Legislature is not in session. It seems curiously inconsistent that the Legislature does not exercise the same frugality necessary in every other agency of government when they appropriate for their own use.

In terms of interim committee membership, there are 131 committee positions available during the interim period for the 148 members of the House and Senate. I believe it is time to curb this practice which can only result in needless expense to the taxpayers. Although essential expenditures must be maintained, less desirable expenses must be eliminated. By combining the appropriation for numerous committees in one sum, the Legislature purposely insulated unnecessary committees from executive veto.

While some of the committees included within this appropriation serve useful purposes, and many members of the Legislature serve commendably without selfish interest, other committees need serious re-evaluation. When the Legislative Council was first authorized in 1947, the express purpose was to stop the trend toward proliferation of interim committees which were used only as publicity and political tools. The Council was constituted with a balanced political representation to secure non-partisan interim study of important legislative problems. Yet the present Legislature has continued the coalition government by making the appointments strictly for political gain. There is even a serious question as to whether the Council is legally constituted because political considerations delayed the appointment of members. The original moral intent and legal directive has been violated.

It is patently clear that coalition government, which has resulted only in controversy, bitterness and rancor, should not be promoted during the interim period at an expense to the taxpayers of over a half million dollars.

During the past years, numerous committee staff studies having merit have been conducted, but the results have not been thoroughly analyzed by the Legislature. The elimination of the appropriation does not necessarily make the committees inoperative. This may be a good time for the members to catch up on the deluge of studies made in the past.

For the foregoing reasons, the appropriation of $547,741 to the legislative interim committees is vetoed. Interim committee appropriations from non-General Fund sources are not included in this appropriation and therefore substantial interim committee expenditures still remain.

In Section 1, under the general heading "Department of Institutions—Soldiers' and Veterans' Home and Colony" three provisos were attached to the appropriation as follows:

"Provided, that no part of this appropriation shall be used for the care and maintenance of members in the home having a yearly income of over $900 or with assets of over $900 unless all income and assets in excess of these amounts are paid into the general fund: Provided, that the director of the Department of Institutions may make rules and regulations for waiver of the foregoing proviso, for all, or such portion of income over $900, as in his discretion may be reasonably necessary for medical care not furnished by the Department of Institutions, support of dependents, and the payment of premiums on existing insurance, and such other situations as may be reasonably necessary to the welfare of such member: Provided, that nothing in this proviso shall be construed to modify or change the requirements for admission as provided by law and as prescribed in the rules and regulations of the Department of Institutions.

These provisos place a $900 per year income limitation on those persons otherwise eligible to receive the veterans' benefits made available by this appropriation. Income and assets in excess of this amount must be paid to the General Fund. While the intent of the Legislature in setting such a limitation is desirable, the $900 amount is both undesirable and unnecessary.

It is undesirable because the limitation is so low as to place a severe hardship on veterans and because of its doubtful legality, as indicated by an adverse Superior Court decision on a similar proviso in the 1961 Appropriations Act. It is unnecessary because the department can administratively set a more equitable limitation and because the total appropriation will effectively set the limits on membership.

For the foregoing reason, I am vetoing the above section.

In Section 1 under the heading of "INTERSTATE COMPACT COMMISSION" there is a General Fund appropriation of $17,000.

I am vetoing this item because I believe continuation of the staff work on the Columbia River Compact will in no way inure to the benefit of the people of the State of Washington. A proposed compact has been presented to the Legislature on several occasions and in each instance, the State of Washington has been asked to surrender much more than can be gained by entry into the compact. Washington State has by far the largest stake in the northwest river system and would have been relegated to a minority position if proposed Columbia River Compacts had been adopted.

Vetoing this appropriation does not dissolve the Commission. Should further work on the compact be indicated, present state and local agencies charged with the administration and control of our natural resources are available to provide the necessary staff review.

In Section 1, under the heading of "DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC ASSISTANCE," within the proviso earmarking $100,000 for a study of federally-matched programs, there appears a limitation on the Governor's authority to select committee members in the following words:

" . . . from the various areas of the state representing institutions of higher learning, governmental agencies, and state-wide private and social agencies."

While representation of these groups may be desirable, and will receive proper recognition in my appointments, any limitation on my authority to select the advisory committee for a study for which I will be held responsible is unwise.

Accordingly, I am vetoing this item.

Under this same general heading of the Department of Public Assistance, I note that the Legislature has added the $1,000,000 that I requested for restoration of medical care. But I also note that the Legislature reduced my request for aid to dependent children, general assistance, and disability assistance by $1,500,000, a cut that will force a ratable reduction in the grants to these needy persons.

In Section 1 under the heading of "JUDICIAL COUNCIL," a General Fund appropriation of $30,000 is made. This appropriation represents an increase of over 200% from that appropriated in the previous biennium. The work of the Judicial Council is most commendable, but this increase is difficult to justify in light of policies establishing present program levels.

Most of the work of the Council has traditionally been donated. I am confident that with the assistance of the outstanding law schools in our state, the work can continue.

For the foregoing reasons, I am vetoing the item appropriation to the Judicial Council.

In the area of education, I am gratified by the fact that the Legislature, on the basis of my request, has appropriated $450,575,964 for the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, an increase of $36.9 million, or 8.9 percent. The appropriations for higher education likewise have moved forward to a total of $120,767,741, an increase of $17.3 million.

With the exception of the foregoing items which are vetoed, the remainder of House Bill No. 1 (Extraordinary Session) is approved.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) ALBERT D. ROSELLINI,

Governor.

April 6, 1963.

To the Honorable
The House of Representatives of the State of Washington
(Through the Secretary of State)

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am filing herewith to be transmitted to the House of Representatives at the next session of the legislature, without my approval as to Section 43 and Section 44, House Bill No. 4, entitled:

“Implementing law relating to highways and the travel of vehicles thereon.”

Section 43 directed the Washington State Highway Commission to make a study of the toll rates of the State Ferry System and recommended rate readjustments to the Washington Toll Bridge Authority. It further provided that the Toll Bridge Authority shall adopt recommendations which will reduce the amount of subsidy required. While I do not disagree with the legislative intention to reduce ferry subsidies, Section 43 created a hopeless tangle of rate setting responsibility and failed to consider the needs of ferry users.

Matter relating to ferry operations is primarily a responsibility of the Toll Bridge Authority. By directing the Highway Commission to make a rate study, the legislature has unnecessarily duplicated a responsibility now vested in another branch of government. Existing law directs the Toll Bridge Authority to review tariffs and specifically states that such review shall consider “. . . expressions from local community groups . . .” as well as existing financing programs. This section would neither contribute to an efficient ferry system nor benefit ferry users.

Section 44 provides that the Director of Licenses shall neither record nor give effect to a report of a conviction of a resident of this state when such conviction occurred in another state and was based upon violation of an administrative rule or forfeiture of bail.

During the regular session, the legislature passed House Bill No. 144, which enacted the Driver License Compact into law. This Compact was prepared pursuant to resolutions of the Western Governors’ Conference and the Western Interstate Committee on Highway Policy Problems of the Council of State Governments.

Under this Compact, convictions to be reported and given effect in this state include forfeiture of bail and violations of administrative rules. This bill would, by implication, amend the operative effectiveness of the Driver's License Compact and weaken the Compact, which I feel can help reduce our tragic traffic fatalities.

For the reasons indicated, Sections 43 and 44 of House Bill No. 4 are vetoed and the remainder of the bill is approved.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) ALBERT D. ROSELLINI,
Governor.

April 6, 1963.

To the Honorable
The House of Representatives of the State of Washington

Ladies and Gentlemen:

With the exception of certain items which are vetoed, I have signed House Bill No. 4. I specifically note, with respect to Section 24, that the feasibility and cost study for a proposed new highway on the north side of the Mossyrock Reservoir is to be conducted without prejudice to existing agreements between the City of Tacoma and the State Highway Commission. This understanding has been specifically expressed to me by all parties concerned.

If there was any possibility that this legislation would result in additional expense or delay to the City of Tacoma, I would veto this section. I am, however, on this understanding, approving this section.

Sincerely,

(Signed) ALBERT D. ROSELLINI,
Governor.
