Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Murray: "Would Senator Greive yield to a question? Senator, in all of these court cases, what was the basis for determining the mathematical accuracy of the plan involved?"

Senator Greive: "Almost invariably it was the investigation of the legislative body that drew the plan. In other words, as we have in this plan and as all of the people have in the other plan, they issue and publish some statistics and the statistical statistics were always there and were made by the body that made the investigation. Rather interesting in the Republican plan, you have a floating population of twelve hundred. Now it is easy to laugh that off and say, well you have only twelve hundred; who is worrying about the twelve hundred? But how do you know you added things up right? How do you know that there is not a six thousand mistake one place, seven thousand another, four thousand and five hundred? But how do you know you added things up right? How do you know that there is absolutely essential in any of these plans, as we have done, to locate every piece of population and account for it. It is also quite interesting that in the Republican plan the very ...

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Atwood: "I believe the Senator answered Senator Murray's question. He has already spoken once on the matter and that should be, under our rules, all he is entitled to."
Senator Greive: "And continuing, it is also quite obvious, I think, that when you look at the Republican plan that their variance is more than two and one-half percent where ours is two-tenths of one percent."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McDougall: "Mr. President, will Senator Elicker yield to a question? Senator, what is the basis for determining any plan that might come before the court?"

Senator Elicker: "I would point to the best evidence rule and say that when there is absolutely incontrovertible evidence of the exact population of an area, the court will look to that rather than to some sort of an artificial counter interpolation. I would submit, if I may, Mr. President, the telegram which we have received from the bureau of census, which was signed by George Brown, the director of the census, in which he says, 'In regard to the plan that is before us or its antecedent plan, the first draft, it is our considered opinion that the stated legislative policy objections to census boundaries are not valid. In view of these circumstances the bureau of the census will not be able to verify the population of any district if the districts do not conform to census enumeration district boundaries, they split individual blocks.' I think this pretty well joins the issue."

Senator McDougall: "Another question. Under this premise then, could you relate to the Senate what the Republicans have used in their determinations as opposed to what Senator Greive has used?"

Senator Elicker: "The Republican bill, Engrossed House Bill No. 747, as it originally came over from the House is couched exactly in census language, enumeration districts and census tracts. Senator Greive makes some objections because this does not always lead to straight lines. Of course it does not. There are little wiggly lines that the tracts and blocks go up but we have achieved within the best perimeters that we have at this point a precise mathematical equality. When the verified block group data becomes available which will presumably be in August or September, then we can straighten out those lines, Senator Greive, and make that pretty colored map that you seem to think is so important."

Senators Talley, Atwood and Huntley demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the final passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 747, as amended by the Senate.

Senator Guess: "Senator Huntley, I think you can accomplish wonders in conference committee sometimes. They get the idea that if we lie down and play dead on this one, then they will run roughshod. REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

The President: "Yes, it is, Senator."
Senator Fleming: "We have not reconsidered it? I just want to alert the President that when it gets on final passage I would like to speak on it."

Senator Fleming: "Would Senator Atwood yield? Senator, when you say, 'or as necessary to meet the cost of caseloads which exceed current estimates,' can we assume that you are indicating that that money, if the federal government will not accept this, can be used for other categories such as the blind people and the disabled people and other people who have been out of unemployment compensation and are receiving assistance?"

Senator Atwood: "Senator, this proviso was drawn after we saw the department's letter to us about the possible conflict with the federal regulations. It means exactly what it says. If the caseload projection increases, it can be used to meet the increased caseload which undoubtedly is going to occur. This is a contingency fund."

Senator Atwood: "Every category if it increases. OAA is not going to increase. The only ones that probably will increase are APCR and ADCE and GA."

Senator Fleming: "Okay. I just want that portion in the record in case we come up short of funds."

Senator Fleming: "Okay, but this would mean every recipient on ...."

HOUSE BILL NO. 992, by Representatives Wojahn, Berentson and Thompson:
Implementing law relating to the prevention of air pollution.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

April 22, 1971.

HOUSE BILL NO. 992, implementing law relating to the prevention of air pollution (reported by Committee on Medicine, Dentistry and Health Care, Air and Water Pollution):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:
Strike everything after the enacting clauses and substitute the following:

"NEW SECTION. Section 1. The legislature finds that whenever meteorological conditions occur which reduce the effective volume of air into which air contaminants are introduced, there is a high danger that normal operations at air contaminant sources in the area affected will be detrimental to public health or safety. Whenever such conditions, herein denominated as air pollution episodes, are forecast, there is a need for rapid short-term emission reduction in order to avoid adverse health or safety consequences. Therefore, it is declared to be the policy of this state that an episode avoidance plan should be developed and implemented for the temporary reduction of emissions during air pollution episodes.

It is further declared that power should be vested in the governor to issue emergency orders for the reduction or discontinuance of emissions when such emissions and weather combine to create conditions imminently dangerous to public health and safety.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. The department of ecology is hereby authorized to develop an episode avoidance plan providing for the phased reduction of emissions wherever and whenever an air pollution episode is forecast. Such an episode avoidance plan shall conform with any applicable federal standards and shall be effective state-wide. The episode avoidance plan may be implemented on an area basis in accordance with the occurrence of air pollution episodes in any given area."
The department of ecology may delegate authority to adopt source emission reduction plans and authority to implement all stages of occurrence up to and including the warning stage, and all intermediate stages up to the warning stage, in any area of the state, to the air pollution control authority with jurisdiction therein.

The episode avoidance plan, which shall be established by regulation in accordance with chapter 34.04 RCW, shall include, but not be limited to the following:

(1) The designation of episode criteria and stages, the occurrence of which will require the carrying out of preplanned episode avoidance procedures. The stages of occurrence shall be (a) forecast, (b) alert, (c) warning, (d) emergency, and such intermediate stages as the department shall designate. “Forecast” means the presence of meteorological conditions that are conducive to accumulation of air contaminants and is the first stage of an episode. “Alert” means concentration of air contaminants at levels at which short-term health effects may occur, and is the second stage of an episode. “Warning” means concentrations are continuing to degrade, contaminant concentrations have reached a level which, if maintained, can result in damage to health, and additional control actions are needed and is the third level of an episode. “Emergency” means the air quality is posing an imminent and substantial endangerment to public health and is the fourth level of an episode;

(2) The requirement that persons responsible for the operation of air contaminant sources prepare and obtain approval from the director of source emission reduction plans, consistent with good operating practice and safe operating procedures, for reducing emissions during designated episode stages;

(3) Provision for the director of the department of ecology or his authorized representative, or the air pollution control officer if implementation has been delegated, on the satisfaction of applicable criteria, to declare and terminate the forecast, alert, warning and all intermediate stages, up to the warning episode stage, such declarations constituting orders for action in accordance with applicable source emission reduction plans;

(4) Provision for the governor to declare and terminate the emergency stage and all intermediate stages above the warning episode stage, such declarations constituting orders in accordance with applicable source emission reduction plans;

(5) Provisions for enforcement by state and local police, personnel of the departments of ecology and social and health services, and personnel of local air pollution control agencies; and

(6) Provisions for reduction or discontinuance of emissions immediately, consistent with good operating practice and safe operating procedures, under an air pollution emergency as provided in section 3 of this 1971 act.

Source emission reduction plans shall be considered orders of the department and shall be subject to appeal to the pollution control hearings board according to the procedure in chapter 43.21B RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. Whenever the governor finds that emissions from the operation of one or more air contaminant sources is causing imminent danger to public health or safety, he may declare an air pollution emergency and may order the person or persons responsible for the operation of such air contaminant source or sources to reduce or discontinue emissions consistent with good operating practice, safe operating procedures and source emission reduction plans, if any, adopted by the department of ecology or any local air pollution control authority to which the department of ecology has delegated authority to adopt emission reduction plans. Orders authorized by this section shall be in writing and may be issued without prior notice or hearing. In the absence of the governor, any findings, declarations and orders authorized by this section may be made and issued by his authorized representative.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. Whenever any order has been issued pursuant to this act, the attorney general, upon request from the governor, the director of the department of ecology, an authorized representative of either, or the attorney for a local air pollution control authority upon request of the control officer, shall petition the superior court of the county in which is located the air contaminant source for which such order was issued for a temporary restraining order requiring the immediate reduction or discontinuance of emissions from such source.

Upon request of the party to whom a temporary restraining order is directed, the court shall schedule a hearing thereon at its earliest convenience, at which time the court may withdraw the restraining order or grant such temporary injunction as is reasonably necessary to prevent injury to the public health or safety.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. Orders issued to declare any stage of an air pollution episode avoidance plan under section 2 of this 1971 act, and to declare an air pollution emergency, under section 3 of this 1971 act, and orders to persons responsible for the operation of an air contaminant source to reduce or discontinue emissions, according to sections 2 and 3 of this 1971 act shall be effective immediately and shall not be stayed pending completion of review.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. Sections 1 through 5 of this 1971 act are added to chapter 232, Laws of 1957 and to chapter 70.94 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. Section 57, chapter 238, Laws of 1967, section 43, chapter 168, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. and RCW 70.94.415 are each repealed."
70.94 RCW; and repealing section 57, chapter 238, Laws of 1967, section 43, chapter 168,
Laws of 1969 ex. sess. and RCW 70.94.415."

ENGROSSED HOUSE BILL NO. 863, by Representatives Jones, Costanti and Gilleland:

Defining school day for common school purposes.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

May 4, 1971.

ENGROSSED HOUSE BILL NO. 863, defining school day for common school purposes (reported by Committee on Education):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendment:

On page 2, section 2, line 5 of the engrossed bill after “Day;“ strike “the fourth Friday in November” and insert “the Friday immediately following Thanksgiving Day”

Signed by: Senators Francis, Chairman; Fleming, Gardner, Metcalf, Murray, Odegaard,

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Francis, the committee amendment was adopted.

Senator Wilson moved adoption of the following amendment by Senators Wilson and Ridder:

On page 2, section 2, following line 26 of the engrossed bill, add the following new sections:

"Sec. 3. Section 28A.01.025, chapter 223, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. and RCW 28A.01.025 are each amended to read as follows:

The school year for all matters pertaining to teacher certification or for computing experience in teaching shall consist of not fewer than one hundred eighty school days, except during the 1971-73 biennium in those school districts which maintain a school year of fewer days pursuant to section 3 of this 1971 amendatory act.

Sec. 4. Section 28A.58.180, chapter 223, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. and RCW 28A.58.180 are each amended to read as follows:

All school districts in this state shall maintain school at least one hundred eighty days each school year as defined in RCW 28A.01.020, except that during the 1971-73 biennium should a school lose a maintenance and operation levy twice consecutively, the school year may be reduced to not less than 160 days provided the district's plan has been approved by the superintendent of public instruction. The salaries of certificated and non-certificated personnel shall be ratably reduced on a ratio equal to the reduction in the number of days.
State funds shall be apportioned as if the school operated on a regular basis except that the superintendent may revise the monthly distribution percentage to coincide with the district's expenditure pattern. This section shall not be deemed a limitation on the duty of the superintendent of public instruction to distribute moneys appropriated by the legislature for apportionment under RCW 28A.41.130 nor shall it be deemed a limitation on the duty of the board of county commissioners of each county to distribute the proceeds of the excise tax on real estate sales pursuant to RCW 28A.44.040 and 28A.45.040.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. Section 3 and 4 of this 1971 amendatory act are necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Atwood: "This particular amendment enlarges the scope and object of the bill and deals with the school year, not the school day, and is far beyond the scope or the original intention of this bill. This is the second section, with some variations, of a bill we had out here before and I think it also has some legal problems in it on ratably reducing a teacher's contract, especially for the year of 1972-73, where the contracts in many school districts probably have been renewed even though they have lost a levy twice and I think it is beyond the scope and object of the bill."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President: "The President in ruling upon the point as presented by Senator R. Frank Atwood finds that the Senator's remarks are essentially correct and that the amendment does change the scope and object of the measure."

The amendment by Senators Wilson and Ridder was ruled out of order.

Senator Fleming moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 2, section 2, beginning on line 5, strike all of the underlined material and insert "the third Monday in January, being the anniversary of the birth of Martin Luther King, Jr.;"

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Atwood: "I raise the same point here. This is transferring a different day entirely to a single person. I appreciate Senator Fleming's concern but I think it does change the scope and object of the particular bill to a different date, taking out a whole series of names and an entirely different holiday."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President: "The President in ruling on the point of order as presented by Senator Atwood finds that Engrossed House Bill No. 863 is a measure which in part sets forth which days shall be school holidays and sets forth specifically a certain day to honor famous Americans. The amendment proposed by Senator Fleming also pertains to a school holiday in honor of a famous American, Martin Luther King, Jr., who is also mentioned in Engrossed House Bill No. 863. The amendment therefore does not change the scope and object of the bill and the point of order is not well taken."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senator Fleming.

Senator Woodall demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained by Senators Metcalf, Greive, Cooney, Lewis, Guess, Peterson (Ted), Canfield, Murray and Newschwander.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Greive, Engrossed House Bill No. 863, as amended, and the pending amendment by Senator Fleming was ordered to hold its place on the second reading calendar for Monday, May 10, 1971.

Absent or not voting: Senators Connor, Gissberg-2.

On motion of Senator Atwood, the rules were suspended, House Bill No. 672 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.
POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Ridder: "I would like to ask a question of someone, if anybody knows anything about it. It has to do with a commission on equipment and I notice here that 'commission' is in here but 'state' and 'on equipment' has been added and I wonder if there is a state commission on equipment?"

Senator Lewis: "Mr. President, there is presently a commission on equipment, and it is my understanding that this bill is required on federal standards and it is the reason for its late entry and rapid passage. Maybe Senator Guess can add to that."

Senator Guess: "Very recently, Senator Ridder, the federal government has reviewed the safety standards in the state of Washington and this is one of two deficiencies in the state law. The other is the vehicular inspection. The reason that there was a bill before us to spot check twenty-four hours a day was because of the report written by the department of transportation."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of House Bill No. 672, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 39; nays, 5; absent or not voting, 2; excused, 3.

Excused: Senators Dore, McCutcheon, Stender—3.

The uniform fee for such a certificate shall be [two] three dollars. Upon request the filing officer shall furnish a copy of any filed financing statement or statements of assignment for a uniform fee of [four] five dollars for each particular debtor's statements requested.

Sec. 3. Section 81, chapter 235, Laws of 1967 and RCW 24.03.400 are each amended to read as follows:

(3) [Two] Five dollars at the time of any service or process on him as resident agent of any corporation, which may be recovered as taxable costs by the party to the suit or action if such party prevails."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Gissberg: "On the amendment by Senator Scott, I raise the question on the point of order of enlarging the scope and object of the bill. This amendment relates to fees and the bill relates to filing financing statements."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President: "The President in ruling upon the point of order presented by Senator Gissberg, finds that the measure merely requires the secretary of state to send out certain notices by first class mail rather than certified mail and that the amendment proposed by Senator Scott changes the fees on the filing of various documents in the secretary of state's office and various services rendered by the secretary of state. Therefore the amendment does change the scope and object of the bill and the point of order is well taken."

The amendment by Senator Scott was ruled out of order.

On motion of Senator Walgren, the rules were suspended, Engrossed House Bill No. 225 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Wilson: "Would Senator Walgren yield? What is the need for this legislation?"

Senator Walgren: "It makes it a lot easier for the secretary of state to get these notices off and saves a little money. Probably first class mail will arrive there just as accurately as will certified mail."

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

On page 12, section 10, line 17 of the printed bill, being page 11, section 10, lines 31 and 32 of the engrossed bill, after "person" strike all material down to the period on line 18 and insert "of more than sixteen years of age"

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively.

On page 49, section 44, subsection (4), line 19 of the printed bill, being page 48, section 44, subsection (4), beginning on line 33 of the engrossed bill, after "intoxicating liquor," insert "or to any person under the age of eighteen years any"

On page 58, section 59, line 23 of the printed bill, being page 58, line 3 of the engrossed bill, after "sixteen" and before "shall" strike ", seventeen and eighteen" and insert "[and eighteen] and seventeen"

On page 1, line 14 of the title in both the printed and engrossed bill, after "RCW 8.20.020;" strike everything down to and including "RCW 11.92.010;" on line 23.

On page 5, line 3 of the title of the printed bill, being page 4, line 18 of the title in the engrossed bill, after "RCW 78.40.293;" and before "amending" insert "amending section 83.56.050, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as amended in section 1, chapter 97, Laws of 1965 ex. sess. and RCW 83.56.050;"

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Atwood, the committee amendments were adopted.

On motion of Senator Gissberg, the committee amendments to the title were adopted.

On motion of Senator Gissberg, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 309, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bailey: "Will Senator Gissberg yield? Senator, is there any provision for eighteen-year-olds buying liquor in this bill?"

Senator Gissberg: "No, there are none, Senator Bailey. The only thing we did to that section was to amend it so that the eighteen-year-olds could buy cigarettes."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Canfield: "Would Senator Gissberg yield? Senator, the amendment on page 49, purports to allow the sale of liquor to eighteen-year-olds. As I read it does allow the sale of beer to eighteen-year-olds. Is that correct?"

Senator Gissberg: "No, it is not correct, Senator Canfield."

Senator Canfield: "Is the amendment then correct?"

Senator Gissberg: "Yes. We spent a lot of hours on this in the Senate Judiciary Committee trying to unwind the thing to make very, very certain that they were not able to do so, Senator."

Senator Canfield: "As I read this amendment, it would prevent the sale of beer to seventeen-year-olds but not to eighteen-year-olds."

Senator Gissberg: "All I can say is we are at issue. But my best judgment is that the Judiciary Committee is correct in connection with it because we had this clerk and all of us, our collective judgment at the time we did it, was such that we were convinced that we had straightened out the measure as it came over from the House."

Further debate ensued.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute House Bill
FIFTY-NINTH DAY, MAY 9, 1971

No. 309, as amended by the Senate, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 42; nays, 4; excused, 3.

Excused: Senators Dore, McCutcheon, Stender—3.

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 309, as amended by the Senate, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

ENGROSSED HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 21, by Representatives Smythe, Haussler, North, Bauer, Blair, Litchman, Marsh and May (by Legislative Council request):
Proposing constitutional amendment authorizing new form of city-county government in lieu of present city and county government.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

ENGROSSED HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 21, proposing constitutional amendment authorizing new form of city-county government in lieu of present city and county government (reported by Committee on Cities, Towns and Counties):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

On page 1, beginning on line 8, after "section 16." strike all of the material down to and including "city-county." on line 15 and insert "[The legislature shall, by general law, provide for the formation of combined city and county municipal corporations, and for the manner of determining the territorial limits thereof, each of which shall be known as a "city and county," and, when organized, shall contain a population of at least three hundred thousand (300,000) inhabitants.] Any county may frame a "Home Rule" charter subject to the Constitution and laws of this state to provide for the formation and government of combined city and county municipal corporations, each of which shall be known as "city-county". Registered voters equal in number to ten (10) percent of the voters of any such county voting at the last preceding general election may at any time propose by a petition the calling of an election of freeholders. The provisions of section 4 of this Article with respect to a petition calling for the election of freeholders to frame a county home rule charter, the election of freeholders, and the framing and adoption of a county home rule charter pursuant to such petition shall apply to a petition proposed under this section for the election of freeholders to frame a city-county charter, the election of freeholders, and to the framing and adoption of such city-county charter pursuant to such petition. Except as otherwise provided in this section, the provisions of section 4 applicable to a county home rule charter shall apply to a city-county charter. If there are not sufficient legal newspapers published in the county to meet the requirements for publication of a proposed charter under section 4 of this Article, publication in a legal newspaper circulated in the county may be substituted for publication in a legal newspaper published in the county."

On page 1, beginning on line 25, after "county" strike ":PROVIDED [FURTHER], That every such" and insert "[PROVIDED FURTHER, That every such]. The"

On page 2, beginning on line 12, after the period following "counties" strike the remainder of the paragraph.

On page 3, line 31, after "to" and before "without" strike "any amount" and insert "an amount exceeding one and one-half percentum of the taxable property in such municipal corporation"

Signed by: Senators Connor, Chairman; Stortini, Vice Chairman; Clarke, Dore, Elicker, Fleming, Mardesich, McDougall, Peterson (Ted), Ridder, Talley, Walgren, Whetzel, Wilson.

The resolution was read the second time in full.

Senator Whetzel moved adoption of the committee amendments. Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Mardesich: "Will Senator Whetzel yield? Senator, I thought I heard you say that the joinder of the city and county would allow the imposition of tax that would be the sum of what the county and the city now have rather than an amount equal to what each has now."
Senator Whetzel: "Let us take an example. If you live in a city you can be subjected to the bonding limits of the city and also the bonding limits of the county, the overlapping debt limit. This was what was not in the Constitution and what we are authorizing is that the combined city-county would have what would be the total of the present existing overlapping debt limitation. We have not changed those. A city can have one and one-half percent inside and five percent outside. The county can have the same, and those would be limits on, say a piece of property inside a city at the present time. When you combine the city and the county you in effect have made the county into a city and the city into a county so this amendment would give the overlapping debt limits that now exist for a city and a county on the same piece of property."

Senator Mardesich: "Is it overlapping in all cases?"

Senator Whetzel: "No—well, if you are in an unincorporated area, you probably would have some overlapping indebtedness of some of the special districts which have the same debt limits in the Constitution as a city, so that these would be retained also. In other words, I do not think this really would in any particular instance increase any of the overlapping limits because of the fact that most areas that are likely to use this are in either special districts or municipalities that already have these total overlapping debt limits. In any event, these are restricted also by the legislature and we have cut back the constitutional limits to fifty percent."

Senator Mardesich: "Do I understand then that you could have a three percent on the inside and ten on the outside?"

Senator Whetzel: "That is precisely what this would do and it is precisely without that kind of provision there would be absolutely no inducement for a city and county to get together to combine because one or the other would be cut back on their limits in much of their area. That has been the problem."

Senator Mardesich: "I am not exactly sure that they would in all cases be able to today apply the three percent inside."

Senator Whetzel: "For example, if you live in a city like Everett in Snohomish county, that is what you are subjected to now under the Constitution. You have one and one-half percent inside for Everett, one and one-half percent for Snohomish county and five percent for each of them outside. There may be portions of Everett that have special districts that have another limit on that too."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Mardesich, Engrossed House Joint Resolution No. 21, and the pending committee amendments, was ordered to hold its place on the second reading calendar for Monday, May 10, 1971.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Wilson: "Would Senator Day yield? Could you tell me what effect this legislation will have with respect to hospital rates?"

Senator Day: "It will allow the comprehensive health planning commission through, I believe, the department in its rule-making power, to adopt rules relative to the reporting of rate changes and the reasons therefor."

Senator Wilson: "But not to establish or regulate rates?"

Senator Day: "Not to establish or regulate, unfortunately."

"Our Father in Heaven, as we pray for Thy blessings upon the members of this legislature we are not unmindful of those in the gallery and the constituents at home who join us in this prayer. We give Thee thanks for the youth of America, our leaders of tomorrow who are the 'now' generation. We thank You, our Father, for the keen insight of this 'now' generation who, raised in an affluent society, have reminded us that we are to love each other and use things, not use each other and love things. We pray, our Father, that the high idealism of these young people shall be vindicated by the true purpose and actions of this vital legislative session. May there blow a fresh wind of Thy Spirit over the members of this body that may touch off a great new awakening that Thou art the God of the 'now' whose Love is the same yesterday, today and forever. We thank You that this love has permeated the committees, the caucuses, the floor sessions, and the long ponderings in the offices through the long night hours, so that the generations to come will rise up and call these Senators blessed because they were faithful to the leadings of Thy Almighty Spirit. Now bring these Senators safely to their homes as they are reunited in joy and love with their families. Amen."

Upon the filing of such application accompanied by such proper plans, drawings or other data, the department shall forthwith investigate the same and if it shall determine that the proposed work or improvement is in the public interest and reasonably adequate for the public needs, it shall by order fix the terms and conditions and the rate of rental for such new lease, such rate of rental to be a fixed percentage during the term of such lease on the true and fair value in money of such harbor area. Upon the filing of such application the department of natural resources shall forthwith investigate the same and if it shall determine that the character of the wharfs, docks or other conveniences of commerce and navigation are reasonably adequate for the public needs and in the public interest, it shall by order fix and determine the terms and conditions upon which such re-lease shall be granted and the rate of rental to be paid which rate shall be a fixed percentage during the term of such lease on the true and fair value in money of such harbor area determined from time to time by the department of natural resources as provided in RCW 79.01.520.

All harbor area leases will stipulate the percentage rate of said values that will be paid as the annual rent during the period until the next reappraisal of the value of the harbor area as established herein. The percentage shall be equal to the average prime rate being charged by the commercial banks in Seattle, Washington on January 1st of the year in which rent is paid: PROVIDED, That the applicant, or lessee, being dissatisfied with the valuation as fixed by the department of natural resources shall have the right [of appeal from the findings of the department to a valuation board to be composed of the county commissioners, the county treasurer and the county assessor of the county in which the harbor area is located. To perfect such appeal, notice thereof shall be in writing and a copy must, within ten days after receipt of notice of the department of natural resources' valuation, be personally served upon each member of the board of county commissioners and upon the county treasurer, the county assessor, and the administrator of the department of natural resources; or such copy may be left at the residence of such officer with some person of suitable age and discretion. Service of the notice may be made by any person qualified to serve a summons in a civil action. Within five days following the service of said notice on the chairman of the board of county commissioners, said chairman shall fix a time and place for a meeting of said valuation board and shall notify each of the

Sec. 6. Section 5, chapter 65, Laws of 1955 as amended by section 1, chapter 131, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. and RCW 79.16.180 are each amended to read as follows:

A district may improve its lands by dredging, filling, bulkheading, providing waterways or otherwise developing such lands for sale or lease for industrial and commercial purposes. Where sewer and water utilities are constructed and operated by the port as an incident to servicing port lands, property owners in areas adjacent to such system may be permitted to connect thereto under terms, conditions and rates to be fixed and approved by the port commission. A district may also acquire, by purchase, construction, lease, or in any other manner, and may maintain and operate facilities for the control or elimination of air or water pollution, including, but not limited to, facilities for the treatment and/or disposal of industrial wastes, and may make such facilities available to others under terms, conditions and rates to be fixed and approved by the port commission. Such conditions and rates shall be sufficient to reimburse the port for all costs, including reasonable amortization of capital outlays caused by or incidental to providing such utilities or pollution control facilities: PROVIDED, That no part of such costs of providing any pollution control facility to others shall be paid out of any tax revenues of the port: AND PROVIDED FURTHER, That no port shall enter into an agreement or contract to provide sewer and/or water utilities or pollution control facilities if substantially similar utilities or facilities are available [to such adjacent property owners] from another source (or sources) which is able and willing to provide such utilities or facilities on a reasonable and nondiscriminatory basis unless such other source (or sources) expressly consents thereto. In the event that a port elects to make pollution control facilities available to others, it shall do so by lease or agreement binding such user to pay for the use of said facilities for the full term of the revenue bonds issued by the port for the acquisition of said facilities, and said payments shall at least fully reimburse the port for all principal and interest paid by it on said bonds and for all operating or other costs, if any, incurred by the port in connection with said facilities: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That where there is more than one user of any such facilities, each user shall be responsible for its pro rata share of such costs and payment of principal and interest. Any port intending to provide pollution control facilities to others shall first survey the port district to ascertain the potential users of such facilities and the extent of their needs. The port shall conduct a public hearing upon the proposal and shall give each potential user an opportunity to participate in the use of such facilities upon equal terms and conditions: AND, and the same is herewith transmitted. MALCOLM McBEATH, Chief Clerk.

MOTION

Senator Peterson (Lowell) moved that the Senate do concur in the House amendments to Substitute Senate Bill No. 147.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Mardesich: "I wonder if Senator Lowell Peterson would yield to a question? I have not had time to re-read all of this bill. As I understand this now, it provides the least value shall be established by the prime rate of the commercial banks doing business in the metropolitan areas. Is that correct?"

Senator Peterson (Lowell): "What section are you referring to, Senator?"

Senator Peterson (Lowell): "Senator, there was no change in that particular section of the measure."

Senator Mardesich: "Have they amended into this, then, Senate Bill No. 771 in substance? Is that what they are doing?"

Senator Peterson (Lowell): "Senator, if you are referring to section 6, it just broadens the port's authority on revenue bonds and I do not think this affects the subject matter of the original bill."

Senator Mardesich: "Mr. President, with respect to section 6, that may be true but I think this is an attempt to set the values which shall be paid with respect to not only pollution control facilities but with respect to the whole of Pier 67 question and I am not certain what it does with respect to that question is what is bothering me."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Mardesich, the motion by Senator Peterson (Lowell) to concur in the House amendments to Substitute Senate Bill No. 147 was made a special order of business for 2:00 p.m. today.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Durkan: "Mr. President, a motion to adhere or a motion to recede, which is the ranking?"

Senator Woodall: "A motion which tends to bring the body together takes preference over one which tends to continue the controversy. Hence a motion to recede would have priority."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the positive motion by Senator Murray to recede from a portion of the Senate amendment to page 3, section 10, line 16, sections 22 through 32.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 176, as amended by the House, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 41; absent or not voting, 4; excused, 4.

Absent or not voting: Senators Dore, Foley, Peterson (Ted), Twigg—4.

Excused: Senators Andersen, Donohue, Sandison, Stender—4.

ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 176, as amended by the House, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

Senator Francis moved adoption of the following resolution:

SENATE RESOLUTION: 1971-EX-89

By Senators Francis, Newschwaerter, Ridder and Murray:

WHEREAS, The Dupont-Fort Lewis School District's tax base and other revenue sources have been subject to erratic fluctuations;

WHEREAS, This fluctuating, in the past, has resulted in serious financial difficulties and necessitated intervention by the State to provide needed funds;

WHEREAS, The population of the Dupont School District is very mobile and heavily dependent upon federal activities;

WHEREAS, This mobility of population may result in uncertainty as to enrollment and hence encumber budgetary assumptions;

WHEREAS, The Clover Park School District, contiguous to the Dupont-Fort Lewis School District, is a High School District operating an approved program;

WHEREAS, The Dupont-Fort Lewis School District is a non-high school district operating an unapproved high school;

WHEREAS, Testimony to the Senate Education Committee has expressed that the students of the Dupont-Fort Lewis School District may profit from a consolidation of the Dupont-Fort Lewis School District and the adjacent Clover Park School District;

WHEREAS, Other testimony to the Senate Education Committee has indicated that the State Board of Education should approve the high school program in the Dupont-Fort Lewis School District;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, By the Senate, That the Joint Committee on Education is requested to create a special subcommittee to study the issues of concern regarding the Dupont-Fort Lewis School District, including the question of high school program approval and the possibility of consolidating the Dupont-Fort Lewis School District with the Clover Park School District and that the subcommittee recommend to a subsequent legislative session remedy which would be advantageous to all parties involved;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That this special subcommittee of the Joint Committee on Education consist of at least one Senator and one Representative and one appointee each by the Washington Education Association, the Washington State School Directors Association, the Washington Association of School Administrators, and the Washington Federation of Teachers;

AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Executive Secretary of the Joint Committee on Education.
POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Huntley: "Would Senator Francis yield? Senator, I was on the joint committee on education a biennium or two ago and we made a study of that very problem at that time. What do you expect to learn now that we did not learn at the time we studied it before?"

Senator Francis: "Senator Woodall has suggested a proposed answer to the question but, seriously, I could only answer the question with a question by saying that if the materials are available I would like to review them and perhaps that would be all we would need for the study.

"I personally have had enough questions raised; you were with me the night that we brought the board of education over. I felt that there were really two sides to the thing and that we needed to explore it further to get a sound determination, I think not only on the facts but on what kinds of policies we should adhere to in the legislature and I think that we could come up with some fairly sound recommendations that are well grounded in reason and fact."

Senator Huntley: "I do not have any objections to the study, I just hope that you come up with something this time that will stick and will solve the problem because it is one that certainly should be solved. I just wondered if you had some new avenues open to you that we did not have at the previous time."

Senator Francis: "I am not familiar with the old study and I would certainly think that that should be the starting point."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Would Senator Francis yield? Senator, we have as a special order of business at eleven o'clock this morning, Engrossed House Bill No. 479. Have the passage of House Bill No. 479 and this resolution anything to do with each other?"

Senator Francis: "Senator Guess, I would say that I had thought they should. However, this body acted on the DuPont amendment by adopting the committee's amendment against my recommendation and against my vote. I do not propose to raise that again. I will accept the decision of this body as to what was done a few days ago in regard to that amendment on Engrossed House Bill No. 479. So I do not propose to rebattle that issue again. I do think though that we should study it and maybe we will simply conclude that we made the right decision here and I would hope so. I think that would save everybody time and effort but I think that we ought to look at this thing in the interim."

Further debate ensued.

The motion by Senator Francis carried and the resolution was adopted.

SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS

ENGROSSED HOUSE BILL NO. 479, by Representatives Hoggins, Randall and Cunningham (by Joint Committee on Education request):
Changing law relating to nonhigh school district aid to high school districts.
The time having arrived, the Senate resumed consideration of Engrossed House Bill No. 479, as amended, and the pending amendment by Senator Ridder adding a new section.
There being no objection, the amendment by Senator Ridder was withdrawn.
Senator Atwood moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 8, section 9, line 1, add a new section to read as follows:
"Sec. 9. Section 15, chapter 15, Laws of 1970 ex. sess. and RCW 28A.48.010 are each amended to read as follows:

The apportionment from the state general fund for each month shall be an amount which together with the revenues of the current state school fund will equal the amount due and apportionable to the several intermediate school districts during such month: PROVIDED, That any school district may, through its intermediate school district superintendent, petition the superintendent of public instruction for an emergency advance of funds which may become apportionable to it but not to exceed [five] ten percent of the total amount to become due and apportionable during the school districts' fiscal year. The superintendent of public instruction shall determine if the emergency warrants such advance, and if the funds are available therefor, and if he determines in the affirmative he may approve such advance and at the same time add such an amount to the apportionment for the intermediate school district in which the district is located: PROVIDED, That the interest earned by school districts on the investment of temporary cash surpluses, resulting from obtaining such advance of state funds, shall be deducted from the remaining amount apportionable to said districts during that year and/or the year immediately following."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Washington: "Would Senator Atwood yield? The title on the bill is relating to non-high school districts. Does this only relate to non-high school districts?"

Senator Atwood: "Not the amendment."

The motion by Senator Atwood carried and the amendment was adopted.

On motion of Senator Atwood, the following amendments were adopted:

- On page 8, section 11, line 19 of the engrossed bill, strike "and 9"
- On line 29, after "1973" and before the period insert "and section 9 of this 1971 amendatory act shall take effect July 1, 1971"

Senator Ridder: "Senator Atwood, would you yield to a question? This would mean that this new switch in the apportionment formula would take effect at that time?"

Senator Atwood: "Yes, but wouldn't have any effect this year because the law as it presently reads is July, will be next July."

Senator Murray moved adoption of the following amendment:

- In new section 6 after "district" add": PROVIDED, That any school district qualifying under this section shall not be eligible for state capital construction matching funds prior to January 1, 1977"

Senator Odegaard moved adoption of the following amendment to the amendment by Senator Murray:

- On line 3 of the Murray amendment following "funds" insert "for high school buildings"

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Gissberg: "Would Senator Murray yield? Senator, if your amendment is adopted as amended, would this prohibit any non-high district from building a new high school?"

Senator Murray: "The understanding when we passed the committee amendment was that the only school covered by this amendment was the Dupont high school. So that the intent here is merely to say to Dupont that they cannot come in and apply for capital construction funds for a new high school building until January 1, 1977."

Senator Gissberg: "The intent yes, but the amendment as drawn, it certainly sounds to me as though it would affect all school districts that are in—even though they may have received the approval of their superintendent or the board of education, it might preclude them from building a new high school."

Senator Murray: "My amendment to the amendment is attached directly and has a proviso to that amendment. If the representation was correct and we adopted the amendment that the only school district affected was the Dupont school district, then that is what I am talking to, is that only the Dupont school district is affected."
MOTION

On motion of Senator Woodall, Engrossed House Bill No. 479 and the pending amendment, and the amendment to the amendment, was made a special order of business immediately after the noon recess.

SECOND READING

ENGROSSED HOUSE BILL NO. 863, by Representatives Jones, Costanti and Gilleland:

Defining school day for common school purposes.

The Senate resumed consideration of Engrossed House Bill No. 863 and the pending amendment by Senator Fleming.

There being no objection, the amendment by Senator Fleming was withdrawn.

On motion of Senator Francis, the following amendment by Senators Francis and Elicker was adopted:

On page 2, strike all of section 2.

On motion of Senator Fleming, the rules were suspended, Engrossed House Bill No. 863, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

On motion of Senator Whetzel, the rules were suspended, Engrossed House Joint Resolution No. 21, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the resolution was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.
POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: “Will Senator Whetzel yield? Senator, the language that is struck in the amendment strikes out the requirement that this shall not be done in counties unless they have at least three hundred thousand people?”

Senator Whetzel: “Yes.”

Senator Guess: “Then will you describe to the body how the charter is proposed?”

Senator Whetzel: “Yes. There is only one method and that is the method that is set forth in this constitutional provision. Registered voters in the county equal to ten percent at the last general election must sign a petition to the county legislative authority calling for an election of freeholders. At that time the county legislative authority sets an election of freeholders, following the same procedures that are in the Constitution for a county charter. The freeholders then frame a charter which is like a constitution or a governing document for the combined municipality. This then goes back and is submitted to all the voters in the county to accept or reject.”

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

May 10, 1971.

Mr. President: The House has passed ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 485 with the following amendments:

In line 1 of the title after "agencies;" and before "repealing" insert "amending section 3, chapter 237, Laws of 1967 and RCW 34.04.025;"

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. The legislature finds and declares that all public commissions, boards, councils, committees, subcommittees, departments, divisions, offices, and all other public agencies of this state and subdivisions thereof exist to aid in the conduct of the people's business. It is the intent of this act that their actions be taken openly and that their deliberations be conducted openly.

The people of this state do not yield their sovereignty to the agencies which serve them. The people, in delegating authority, do not give their public servants the right to decide what is good for the people to know and what is not good for them to know. The people insist on remaining informed so that they may retain control over the instruments they have created.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. As used in this act unless the context indicates otherwise:

(1) "Public agency" means:
(a) Any state board, commission, committee, department, educational institution or other state agency which is created by or pursuant to statute, other than courts and the legislature.
(b) Any county, city, school district, special purpose district or other municipal corporation or political subdivision of the state of Washington.
(c) Any subagency of a public agency which is created by or pursuant to statute, ordinance or other legislative act, including but not limited to planning commissions, library or park boards, and other boards, commissions and agencies.

(2) "Governing body" means the multimember board, commission, committee, council or other policy or rule-making body of a public agency.

(3) "Action" means the transaction of the official business of a public agency by a governing body including but not limited to a collective decision made by a majority of the members of a governing body, a collective commitment or promise by a majority of the members of a governing body to make a positive or negative decision, or an actual vote by a majority of the members of a governing body when sitting as a body or entity, upon a motion, proposal, resolution, order, or ordinance.

(4) "Meeting" means meetings at which action is taken.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. All meetings of the governing body of a public agency shall be open and public and all persons shall be permitted to attend any meeting of the governing body of a public agency, except as otherwise provided in this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A member of the public shall not be required, as a condition to attendance at a meeting of a governing body, to register his name and other information, to complete a questionnaire, or otherwise to fulfill any condition precedent to his attendance.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. In the event that any meeting is interrupted by a group or groups of persons so as to render the orderly conduct of such meeting unfeasible and order cannot be restored by the removal of individuals who are interrupting the meeting, the members of the governing body conducting the meeting may order the meeting room cleared and continue in session or may adjourn the meeting and reconvene at another location selected by majority vote of the members. In such a session, final disposition may be taken only on matters appearing on the agenda. Representatives of the press or other news media, except those participating in the disturbance, shall be allowed to attend any session held pursuant to this section. Nothing in this section shall prohibit the governing body from establishing a procedure for readmitting an individual or individuals not responsible for disturbing the orderly conduct of the meeting.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. No governing body of a public agency shall adopt any ordinance, resolution, rule, regulation, order, or directive, except in a meeting open to the public and then only at a meeting, the date of which is fixed by law or rule, or at a meeting of which notice is given in the provisions of this act. Any action taken at meetings failing to comply with the provisions of this section shall be null and void.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. The governing body of a public agency shall provide the time for holding regular meetings by ordinance, resolution, bylaws, or by whatever other rule is required for the conduct of business by that body. Unless otherwise provided for in the act under which the public agency was formed, meetings of the governing body need not be held within the boundaries of the territory over which the public agency exercises jurisdiction. If at any time any regular meeting falls on a holiday, such regular meeting shall be held on the next business day. If by reason of fire, flood, earthquake, or other emergency, it shall be unsafe to meet in the place designated, the meetings may be held for the duration of the emergency at such place as is designated by the presiding officer of the governing body: PROVIDED, That the notice requirements of this act shall be suspended during such emergency.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. A special meeting may be called at any time by the presiding officer of the governing body of a public agency or by a majority of the members of the governing body by delivering personally or by mail written notice to each member of the governing body; and to each local newspaper of general circulation and to each local radio or television station of record in the governing body. A written notice shall also be given to any officer of the governing body who was notified of such special meeting or of all special meetings. Such notice must be delivered personally or by mail at least twenty-four hours before the time of such meeting as specified in the notice. The call and notice shall specify the time and place of the special meeting and the business to be transacted. Final disposition shall not be taken on any other matter at such meetings by the governing body. Such written notice may be dispensed with as to any member who at or prior to the time the meeting convenes files with the clerk or secretary of the governing body a written waiver of notice. Such waiver may be given by telegram. Such written notice may also be dispensed with as to any member who is actually present at the meeting at the time it convenes. The notices provided in this section may be dispensed with in the event a special meeting is called to deal with an emergency involving injury or damage to persons or property or the likelihood of such injury or damage, when time requirements of such notice would make notice impractical and increase the likelihood of such injury or damage.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. The governing body of a public agency may adjourn any regular, adjourned regular, special or adjourned special meeting to a time and place specified in the order of adjournment. Less than a quorum may so adjourn from time to time, if all members are absent from any regular or adjourned regular meeting the clerk or secretary of the governing body may declare the meeting adjourned to a stated time and place. He shall cause a written notice of the adjournment to be given in the same manner as provided in section 8 of this act for special meetings, unless such notice is waived as provided for special meetings. Whenever any meeting is adjourned a copy of the order or notice of adjournment shall be posted under the door of the place where the regular, adjourned regular, special or adjourned special meeting was held. When a regular or adjourned regular meeting is adjourned as provided in this section, the resulting adjourned regular meeting is a regular meeting for all purposes. When an order of adjournment of any meeting fails to state the hour at which the adjourned meeting is to be held, it shall be held at the hour specified for regular meetings by ordinance, resolution, bylaw, or other rule.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. Any hearing being held, noticed, or ordered to be held by a governing body at any meeting may by order or notice of continuance be continued or recontinued to any subsequent meeting of the governing body in the same manner and to the same extent set forth in section 9 of this act for the adjournment of meetings.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to prevent a governing body from holding executive sessions during a regular or special meeting to consider matters affecting national security; the selection of a site or the purchase of real estate, when publicity regarding such consideration would cause a likelihood of increased price; the appointment, employment, or dismissal of a public officer or employee; or to hear complaints or charges brought against such officer or employee by another public officer, public employee, unless such officer or employee requests a public hearing. The governing body also may exclude from any such public meeting or executive session, during the examination of a witness on any such matter, any or all other witnesses in the matter being investigated by the governing body.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. Each member of the governing body who attends a meeting of such governing body where action is taken in violation of any provision of this act applicable to him, with knowledge of the fact that the meeting is in violation thereof, shall be subject to personal liability in the form of a civil penalty in the amount of one hundred dollars. The civil penalty shall be assessed by a judge of the superior court and an action to enforce this penalty may be brought by any person. A violation of this act does not constitute a crime and assessment of the civil penalty by a judge shall not give rise to any disability or legal disadvantage based on conviction of a criminal offense. Reasonable expenses, including attorney's fees, shall be awarded the person bringing the action if the suit results in assessment of the civil penalty. The members held to be in violation shall be personally liable only for their pro rata share of the expenses.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. Any person may commence an action either by mandamus or injunction for the purpose of stopping violations or preventing threatened violations of this act by a member of a governing body.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. If any provision of this 1971 amendatory act conflicts with the provisions of any other statute, the provisions of this 1971 amendatory act shall control: PROVIDED, That this act shall not apply to:

(1) the proceedings concerned with the formal issuance of an order granting, suspending, revoking, or denying any license, permit, or certificate to engage in any business, occupation, or profession or to any disciplinary proceedings involving a member of such business, occupation or profession, or to receive a license for a sports activity or to operate any mechanical device or motor vehicle where a license or registration is necessary; or

(2) that portion of a meeting of a quasi-judicial body which relates to a quasi-judicial matter between named parties as distinguished from a matter having general effect on the public or on a class or group; or

(3) matters governed by Title 34 RCW, the administrative procedures act, except as expressly provided in section 17 of this 1971 amendatory act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. The following acts or parts thereof are each hereby repealed:

(1) Section 1, chapter 216, Laws of 1953 and RCW 42.32.010;

(2) Section 2, chapter 216, Laws of 1953 and RCW 42.32.020.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. This act may be cited as the "Open Public Meetings Act of 1971".

Sec. 17. Section 3, chapter 237, Laws of 1967 and RCW 34.04.025 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Prior to the adoption, amendment or repeal of any rule, each agency shall:

(a) Give at least twenty days notice of its intended action by filing the notice with the code reviser, mailing the notice to all persons who have made timely request of the agency for advance notice of its rule-making proceedings, and giving public notice as provided in RCW 42.32.010 this 1971 amendatory act, as now or hereafter amended. Such notice shall include (i) reference to the authority under which the rule is proposed, (ii) a statement of either the terms or substance of the proposed rule or a description of the subjects and issues involved, and (iii) the time when, the place where, and the manner in which interested persons may present their views thereon.

(b) Afford all interested persons reasonable opportunity to submit data, views, or arguments, orally or in writing. In case of substantive rules, opportunity for oral hearing must be granted if requested by twenty-five persons, by a governmental subdivision or agency, or by an association having not less than twenty-five members. The agency shall consider fully all written and oral submissions respecting the proposed rule. Upon adoption of a rule, the agency, if requested to do so by an interested person either prior to adoption or within thirty days thereafter, shall issue a concise statement of the principal reasons for and against its adoption, incorporating therein its reasons for overruling the considerations urged against its adoption.

(2) No rule hereafter adopted is valid unless adopted in substantial compliance with this section, or, if an emergency rule designated as such, adopted in substantial compliance with RCW 34.04.030, as now or hereafter amended. In any proceeding a rule cannot be contested on the ground of noncompliance with the procedural requirements of this section, or of RCW 34.04.030, as now or hereafter amended, after two years have elapsed from the effective date of the rule.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. The purposes of this 1971 amendatory act are hereby declared remedial and shall be liberally construed.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. If any provision of this act, or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act, or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

and the same is herewith transmitted. MALCOLM McBEATH, Chief Clerk.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. Effective July 1, 1972, and of each succeeding year, every retirement allowance which has been in effect for one year or more shall be adjusted to that dollar amount which bears the ratio to its original dollar amount which the retirement board finds to exist between the index for the previous calendar year and the index for the calendar year prior to the date the retirement allowance became payable: PROVIDED, That the amount of increase or decrease in any one year shall not exceed three percent of the retirement allowance the retired judge was receiving, or fifty percent of the retirement allowance the judge would have been retired had he not become disabled within thirty days of his death, but in no event less than twenty-five percent of the final average salary that the deceased judge was receiving: AND PROVIDED FURTHER, That this cost of living adjustment shall not reduce any pension below that amount which was payable at time of retirement.

Any person aggrieved by any final decision of the retirement board must, before petitioning for judicial review, file with the director of the retirement system by mail or personally within sixty days from the day such decision was communicated to such person, a notice for a hearing before the retirement board. The notice of hearing shall set forth in full detail the grounds upon which such person considers such decision unjust or unlawful and shall include every issue to be considered by the retirement board, and it must contain a detailed statement of facts upon which such person relies in support thereof. Such persons shall be deemed to have waived all objections or irregularities concerning the matter on which such appeal is taken other than those records of the retirement system.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. No bond of any kind shall be required of a claimant appealing to the superior court, the court of appeals, or the supreme court from a finding of the retirement board affecting such claimant's right to retirement or disability benefits.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. (1) Any member of the Washington public employees' retirement system who is eligible to participate in the judicial retirement system may, by written request filed with the retirement boards of the two systems respectively, transfer such membership to the judicial retirement system. Upon the receipt of such request, the board of the Washington public employees' retirement system shall transfer to the board of the Washington judicial retirement system (1) all employee's contributions and interest thereon belonging to such member in the employees' savings fund and all employer's contributions credited or attributed to such member in the benefit account fund and (2) a record of service credited to such member. One-half of such service shall be computed and not more than nine years shall be credited to such member as though such service was performed as a member of the judicial retirement system. Upon such transfer being made the state treasurer shall deposit such moneys in the judicial retirement fund. In the event that any such member should terminate judicial service prior to his entitlement to retirement benefits under any of the provisions of this 1971 act, he shall upon request therefor be repaid from the judicial retirement fund an amount equal to the amount of his employee's contributions to the Washington public employees' retirement system and interest plus interest thereon from the date of the transfer of such moneys.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Atwood: "Would Senator Dore yield? Senator, this is way beyond the current level of this committee, is it not?"

Senator Dore: "No, the current level is going to be one hundred and ten thousand."

Senator Atwood: "The current level, Senator, not the..."

Senator Dore: "The last biennium was fifty thousand but I think the lieutenant governor has a lot of plans in mind and needs, wants at least to have the same level of spending as the insurance committee. They passed eleven measures this year and just got geared up and the short session, of course, prevented a lot of bills from passing through but I am sure that in the interim they will have them ready by next January when we come back."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Atwood: "Senator Greive, what plans do you have? Is this going to be used for redistricting purposes?"

Senator Greive: "First, may I answer your first question and then I will answer your second one because I happen to have the facts."

Senator Atwood: "The current level of the committee..."

Senator Greive: "The current level of the committee was fifty-seven thousand of which approximately sixteen thousand five hundred was reverted. They passed seventeen bills so far and I think two or three more passed today. It completely reorganized the department of personnel on the question of sabbaticals. We wrote the rules and regulations that the department followed and it has new regulations as far as purchasing is concerned and it has probably been the hardest working—and they had twenty-seven hearings on seacoast management and provided the background for the seacoast management act that Senator Gissberg drafted. In other words, they used all of the notes in the work that they did and they had fifty-seven thousand last year for one year. They asked for one hundred and ten thousand this year and there has always been a reversion as far as I know from Governor Cherberg. He is very frugal with his funds."

Senator Atwood: "I am not questioning that, Senator. You did all that on fifty thousand dollars though."

Senator Greive: "For one year."

Senator Atwood: "For two years."

Senator Greive: "No, I am talking about a one year budget, since the last session."

Senator Atwood: "Okay. And what do you plan for next year that would be double this increase?"

Senator Greive: "We expect this for the biennium, I would expect one hundred and ten thousand dollars is double what he had and that is how come we got it."

Senator Atwood: "One more question. You do not plan to do redistricting in this committee?"

Senator Greive: "No. Senator, you are going to find very presently that it is our feeling that redistricting should be done by both houses by their facilities and operations committee, that there should be a sizeable appropriation made to each house and we have just come, Senator Bailey and myself, from the Speaker's office and he has agreed that we will put twenty-five thousand in each house's budget, that each house will work out through their caucuses on the facilities operation and it will be done that way."

Senator Atwood: "All right."

The motion by Senator Dore carried and the amendment was adopted.

On motion of Senator Mardesich, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 10, line 29, strike "Transportation" and insert "Regulated Agencies".

On motion of Senator Durkan, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 11, section 4, after line 3 and before line 4 insert:

"General Fund Appropriation of Mobile Home Excise Tax to be distributed:

PROVIDED, These funds will be used to maintain the current guarantee per weighted pupil through 1970-71 ................................ $490,077"

Senator Durkan moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 11 of the second draft, line 21, following section 5, insert a new section as follows:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. Legislative redistricting in the nature of the case because of the numerical differences existing in the composition of the membership of the House of Representatives and the Senate of the Legislature of the State of Washington is a matter peculiarly within the special province of each house of the legislature. It is therefore the intention of the legislature that each house utilize for legislative redistricting purposes during the 1971-73 biennium funds appropriated to it for interim expenses.

None of the moneys appropriated pursuant to the provisions of this act or pursuant to the provisions of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 151 or appropriated pursuant to any other bill or statute enacted or in the process of being enacted by the regular or extraordinary sessions of the 1971 legislature making an appropriation to the legislative council or any other interim permanent or temporary legislative committee shall be used directly or indirectly for the purpose of preparing, collecting or assembling data for any legislative or congressional redistricting measure during the 1971-73 biennium.

Renumber the succeeding section.

Senator Durkan moved adoption of the following amendment to the amendment by Senator Durkan:

Following the second paragraph and before "Renumber the succeeding section" insert the following:

"HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

General Fund Appropriation: To carry out the provisions of
NEW SECTION 6 .................................................. $25,000

SENATE

General Fund Appropriation: To carry out the provisions of
NEW SECTION 6 .................................................. $25,000"

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Atwood: "What is the amendment to the amendment? Is it on our desks?"

Senator Durkan: "Senator Greive just explained to me on the floor that the Speaker of the House, and of course the Senate has to agree, has agreed with the leadership on our side. We have not had a chance to convey it to you and I apologize. They have agreed that twenty-five thousand dollars would be made available to each of the facility committees of the respective houses to work on redistricting and that the other committees of the legislature would be prohibited from working on redistricting and my amendment to the amendment provides that the twenty-five thousand should be appropriated to each of the facility committees of the separate houses for this purpose. The main amendment will then prevent the other interim committees from working on redistricting."

The amendment to the amendment by Senator Durkan was adopted.

The amendment by Senator Durkan, as amended, was adopted.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lewis: "Would Senator Durkan yield? Senator, in reading the amendment that we adopted just a minute ago on the twenty-five thousand dollars, I see that it is, the way it is written it appears to me it is appropriated to the Senate of the state of Washington and to the House. There is nothing here that indicates it is going to the Senate facilities committee. My second question that either you or Senator Greive might answer, is this intended to mean that each house will write its own redistricting bill or is this to the joint facilities committee?"

Senator Greive: "Mr. President, Senator Bailey and I had extensive talks with the various leaders in the House, particularly Speaker Swayze and Representative Copeland, and it was finally agreed that both houses would not only work on redistricting but we would meet regularly and negotiate. It is the responsibility of each house to work as a unit with the minority caucuses on both sides being represented and we would have regular meetings and it would be done by the facilities and operations committee of each house."

Senator Lewis: "Further question. I did not clearly understand, Senator Greive. Did you say that each house will operate separately and . . . ."

Senator Greive: "No, no, no. That we will attempt to come up with one bill. You see we will do our statistical work and we will have to come together and the statistical work will be done through the House and the Senate."

Senator Lewis: "But with this appropriation then, the inference in the appropriation that it is to go to the Senate facilities committee for their . . . ."

Senator Greive: "That is correct and you will have to decide who you want to designate as your representative on the facilities committee and we will have to do the same."

On motion of Senator Durkan, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 926 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill
No. 926, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 38; nays, 6; absent or not voting, 4; excused, 1.

Absent or not voting: Senators Andersen, McCutcheon, Talley, Twigg—4.

Excused: Senator Stender—1.

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 926, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Gissberg, the Senate commenced consideration of the standing committee report on Substitute House Bill No. 152.

On motion of Senator Gissberg, the rules were suspended and the Senate did not resolve itself into a committee of the whole to consider Substitute House Bill No. 152.

REPORT OF FREE CONFERENCE COMMITTEE

May 10, 1971.

Mr. President:
Mr. Speaker:

We, of your Free Conference Committee, to whom was referred ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 273, authorizing for consent for drug and alcohol abuse care by minors, have had the same under consideration, and we recommend that the attached bill be substituted therefor and that it do pass.

An Act relating to narcotic drugs, dangerous drugs, and alcohol: amending section 2, chapter 111, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. and RCW 71.24.020; amending section 3, chapter 111,
It is the further purpose of this 1971 amendatory act to provide for qualified drug treatment centers approved by the department of social and health services.

It is the purpose of this 1971 amendatory act to provide the financial assistance necessary to enable the department of social and health services to offer a meaningful program of rehabilitation for those persons suffering problems related to narcotic drugs, dangerous drugs, and alcohol and to develop a community educational program as to those problems for the benefit of the state's population generally. Such programs can develop in the people of this state a knowledge of the problems caused by alcohol and drug use and abuse, an understanding of the causes and consequences of the use and abuse of alcohol and drugs, and an acceptance of responsibility for alcohol and drug related problems, an understanding of the causes and consequences of the use and abuse of alcohol and drugs, and thus may prevent many problems from occurring.

Consent of the parent, parents, or legal guardian of a person less than eighteen years of age shall not be necessary to authorize such care, except that such person shall not become a resident of such treatment center without parental permission. The parent, parents or legal guardian of a person less than eighteen years of age shall not be liable for payment of care for such persons pursuant to this 1971 amendatory act, unless they have joined in the consent to such counseling, care, treatment or rehabilitation.

No such person, organization, institution or corporation or their agents acting in the scope and course of their duties, providing such care, treatment, counseling or rehabilitation shall divulge nor shall they be required to provide any specific information concerning individuals being cared for, treated, counseled or rehabilitated, nor shall pharmacists or their agents provide such information when or if they become aware of or receive such information when requested to or for the purpose of providing products or performing services relevant to said care, treatment, counseling or rehabilitation. Any confidentiality provided for by this section may be waived by the individual, provided such waiver is freely and voluntarily made, and with full prior information as to the consequences thereof.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. Nothing contained in this 1971 amendatory act shall prohibit or be construed to prohibit the divulging or providing of statistical or other substantive information pertaining to care, treatment, counseling or rehabilitation, pursuant to this 1971 amendatory act, so long as no individual is identified or reasonably identifiable, and individual privacy and confidentiality is retained.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. Nothing contained in this 1971 amendatory act shall relieve any person or firm from the requirements under federal and state drug laws and regulations for the keeping of records and the responsibility for the accountability of drugs received and dispensed. Such records shall contain confidential information under this 1971 amendatory act, shall only be available to state and federal drug inspectors who shall not divulge such information as is contained in these records, including the identification of individuals, except (1) upon subpoena in a court or administrative proceeding to which the person to whom such prescription, orders or other records relate is a party, or (2) when the information reasonably leads to the conclusion that there has been a violation of RCW 69.33.380 or 69.40.090, then the information may be referred to other law enforcement officers.
NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. There shall be paid to each county on account of expenditures made for community mental health programs defined in section 7 of this 1971 amendatory act not more than fifty percent of the amount expended for such programs, exclusive of the expenditure of funds secured by a community mental health program from federal sources. Where it is determined by the secretary to be necessary for the expansion of existing mental health services or for the development of new mental health services, as described in section 7 of this 1971 amendatory act, and after consultation with the department of revenue regarding the extent to which local funds for the support of mental health services have been exhausted, the state share in any community mental health program may exceed fifty percent of the total expenditures: PROVIDED, That the state share shall be reduced to not more than fifty percent of the total expenditures within two years from the starting date of such new services. Reimbursement shall be made on a monthly basis, upon submission to the secretary of such information as he may require: PROVIDED, FURTHER, That when deemed necessary to maintain proper standards of care in the program, within the discretion of the secretary, the counties shall be required to provide up to fifty percent of the total expended for such program through fees, gifts, contributions, and volunteer services.

SECOND READING

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 283, by Committee on Revenue and Taxation: Providing an act relating to revenue and taxation.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 283, providing an act relating to revenue and taxation (reported by Committee on Ways and Means): MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

On page 1, after the enacting clause on line 24, strike the remainder of the bill and insert the following:
All property shall be assessed fifty percent of its true and fair value in money. [In determining the true and fair value of real or personal property, the assessor shall not adopt a lower nor a different standard of value because the same is so assessed as a basis of taxation, the value shall he adopt as a criterion of value the price for which the said property would sell at auction, or at a forced sale, or in the aggregate with all the property in the town or district; but he shall value each article or description of property by itself, and at such price as he believes the same to be fairly worth in money at the time such assessment is made. The true cash value of property shall be that value at which the property would be taken in payment of a just debt from a solvent debtor. In assessing any tract or lot of real property, the value of the land, exclusive of improvements, shall be determined; also, the value of all improvements and structures thereon and the aggregate value of the property, including all structures and other improvements, excluding the value of crops growing on cultivated lands. In valuing any real property on which there is a coal or other mine, or stone or other quarry, the land shall be valued at such price as such land would sell at a fair, voluntary sale for cash: any improvements thereon shall be separately valued and assessed as hereinabove provided; and any personal property connected therewith shall be listed, valued and assessed separately as other personal property is assessed under general law.]

Taxable leasehold estates shall be valued at such price as they would bring at a fair, voluntary sale for cash. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section or of any other statute, taxable leasehold estates shall be valued at a price equal to the value that the property would bring at a fair, voluntary sale for cash. The sixty day period shall commence to run following publication by the broker of the first notice of his intent to sell, such notice to appear in a newspaper of general circulation in the county where the property is situated. Said notice shall state the price at which the property is being offered for sale, stating that such price is subject to change and may be revised downward. The sale of such property may be made at any time following such publication, except that no such sale shall be made prior to the expiration of the period of ninety days following such publication. The provisions of this subsection (1) (b) are relied upon for establishing values the property owner shall be advised upon request of the factors used in arriving at such value.

The true and fair value of real property for taxation purposes (including property upon which there is a coal or other mine, or stone or other quarry) shall be based upon the following criteria:

1. Any sales of the property being appraised or similar property with respect to sales made within the past five years, made for cash or adjusted to a cash value by appropriate discounts for sale conditions other than for cash, and less a percentage equal to the average, ordinary and usual direct costs of sale of that type of property, including but not limited to costs of title insurance, legal services, recording fees and taxes levied against such sales that are borne by the seller, and an amount equal to the customary fees payable to a licensed real estate broker for handling such a sale, such percentage to be determined by studies conducted by the department of revenue. Similar sales, for the purpose of this subsection, shall be sales of property in the same general or comparable area that are devoted to or to be devoted to the same use as the majority of the property in the area or the property being valued, whichever value is greater. The appraisal shall take into consideration political restrictions such as zoning as well as physical and environmental influences. Sales involving deed releases or similar seller-developer financing arrangements shall not be used as sales of similar property.

2. In addition to sales as defined in subsection (1) (a), consideration may be given to cost, cost less depreciation, reconstruction costs less depreciation, or capitalization of income that would be derived from prudent use of the property. In the case of property of a complex nature, or being used under terms of a franchise from a public agency, or operating as a public utility, or property not having a record of sale within five years and not having a significant number of sales of similar property in the general area, the provisions of this subsection (1) (b) shall be the dominant factors in valuation. When provisions of this subsection (1) (b) are relied upon for establishing values the property owner shall be advised upon request of the factors used in arriving at such value.

3. In valuing any tract or parcel of real property, the value of the land, exclusive of structures thereon shall be determined; also the value of structures thereon, but the valuation shall not exceed the value of the total property as it exists. In valuing agricultural land, growing crops shall be excluded: PROVIDED, That the provisions of this subsection (1) shall be applicable to all values for use in computing property taxes for the assessment year 1973 for taxes payable in 1973 and subsequent years.

4. Notwithstanding the provisions of (1) (a), (b) and (c) above, whenever any person has a parcel of real property, said parcel to be determined by including all contiguous real property in the same ownership, the value of which he believes to be less than one hundred thousand dollars, he may establish the value of such property for taxation purposes by unconditionally offering such property for sale for cash through a licensed real estate broker for a period of at least ninety days at ten percent over his own-stated value: PROVIDED, That this shall not be his only or sole defense against overvaluation. The ninety day period shall commence to run following publication by the broker of the first advertisement of the offer including the location of the property, which advertisement shall appear in a newspaper of general circulation in the county where the property is situated and at least once each week for four successive weeks. A person electing to proceed under provisions of this subsection shall file a notice of such intent with the assessor prior to July 15 and proof of the sale offering on or before October 15.
NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. There is added to chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and to chapter 84.40 RCW, a new section to read as follows:

(1) Upon review by any court, or appellate body, of a determination of the valuation of property for purposes of taxation, it shall be presumed that the determination of the public official charged with the duty of establishing such value is correct but this presumption shall not be a defense against any correction indicated by clear, cogent and convincing evidence.

(2) In any administrative or judicial proceeding pending upon the effective date of this 1971 amendatory act or arising from the property revaluation under the provisions of section 4, chapter 282, Laws of 1969 ex. sess., and section 1, chapter 95, Laws of 1970 ex. sess., the provisions of this section will apply. This paragraph shall not be construed so as to limit in any way the provisions of subsection (1) of this section. In the event any final court decision holds any action of a county in valuing real property to have been performed illegally or unconstitutionally, the county assessor shall notify all property owners within that county whose property valuation may be affected by the court's decision. The notification required by this section may be by publication in a newspaper of general circulation in the county.

Sec. 3. Section 84.56.020, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as amended by section 3, chapter 216, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. and RCW 84.56.020 are each amended to read as follows:

MOTION

Senator Walgren moved the report of the Free Conference Committee on Engrossed House Bill No. 291 be adopted.
POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall: "Mr. President, would Senator Walgren yield? Senator, have you examined the bill that passed the House relative to annual elections? Would it bar a referendum?"

Senator Walgren: "Senator Woodall, to answer your first question, the answer is no."

Senator Woodall: "My point again is that if it would be possible to go the referendum route as suggested by Senator Mardesich, do you not think that would be worthy of exploring rather than having this particular matter at the mercy of the ‘item veto’ where you pick words out and end up with a different kind of a bill?"

Senator Walgren: "Senator Woodall, I have always thought that that was a matter that was worth exploring, yes."

Senator Woodall: "May I ask, Senator Walgren, have you seen the version of the bill as passed by the House?"

Senator Walgren: "No."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall: "Would Senator Mardesich care to answer that question?"

Senator Mardesich: "Senator Woodall, I have here before me that measure and it does allow for annual elections with respect to constitutional amendments, initiatives, referendum and everything. But it says 'Those sections of this act that apply to questions referred to the people shall not be effective until January 1, 1973.' So it could have no effect with respect to this question."

Senator Woodall: "So the idea is then we either take the bill in this form and leave it to the tender mercies of the executive or we take no bill. Is that the position we are in?"

Senator Mardesich: "I do not know as I would put it quite that way, the tender mercies of the executive."

Senator Woodall: "You would move to strike the word ‘tender’?"

Debate ensued.

The motion by Senator Walgren carried and the Free Conference Committee report on Engrossed House Bill No. 291 was adopted.

SENATE BILL NO. 371, by Senators Greive, Stortini, Connor, Stender, Peterson (Ted), Francis, Dore, Cooney, Ridder, Keefe, Mardesich, Bailey and Walgren:

Enacting a “Washington State Labor Relations Act.”

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Durkan: “Mr. President, would Senator Matson yield? Senator, before you begin, would you please tell us, so that we will be able to absorb it, who was in on the discussion and specifically if you could, the names. And I would like to know who represented the Mexican-Americans on the discussion.”
Senator Matson: “Senator Durkan, we have not discussed this matter with the, as you say, Mexican-Americans today. However, we have several times in the past. I cannot say that these matters they are in agreement with and I cannot say that they are in disagreement. I assume they are in disagreement with some and perhaps in agreement with others. Our final negotiations today were with Mr. Sam Kinville and Joe Davis of the Washington State Labor Council and Dave Stipek of the Teamsters.”

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Fleming: “Mr. President, would Senator Matson yield? Senator, I was off the floor when you started your comments and you were indicating the individuals that were in on this agreement and the names that I caught were a couple of Representatives, yourself, Dave Stipek and Joe Davis. At any time during these conversations that you were holding to come up with this compromise, was anybody there from the majority of the people that are going to be affected by this, namely the farm workers? Were they at any time involved in this compromise?”

Senator Matson: “As I explained, Senator Fleming, before you came on the floor, we have talked to them in the past. We have not talked to them today.”

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Greive: “There is one question that has been asked by a number of Senators here, Senator Washington in particular, and I would like Senator Matson to yield if he would, please, Senator, I know the answer but I want to hear it from you.

“Is there anything here about a no strike provision as far as this bill?”

Senator Matson: “As you know, Senator Greive, representatives of agriculture were very desirous to have an arbitration procedure in lieu of strike. We have stricken that section out of the bill entirely.”

The county auditor shall furnish to the board of county commissioners a monthly report of receipts and disbursements in the county hospital fund which report shall also show the balance of cash on hand.

At the beginning of the 1971-1973 state fiscal biennium and conditioned upon recovery of the advances made for the previous biennium, the state department of social and health services shall advance to the county an amount equal to the amount paid by the department to the county for the care of public assistance recipients in a county infirmary for the preceding two months of February and March, which amount may be used to defray costs in the first month's operation of the state fiscal biennium. No advance shall be made for a county hospital.

At the beginning of each succeeding state fiscal biennium, the department will advance an amount approximating two months' cost of operation as described in the preceding paragraph upon recovery in the preceding biennium of the amount advanced for that biennium. Reimbursements for the actual costs of operation, provided they are essential and necessary to the operation of the infirmary and have been included in the biennial appropriation, shall be made monthly by the state department of social and health services to the counties.

The commission shall return a total of thirty-five percent of moneys received from the levy provided under this section to the chief health officers of the counties, other than the headquarters county, which funds are to be allocated to specific counties based on caseload in the counties pursuant to standards promulgated by the district commission. Such returned funds are to be used by the chief health officers to carry out tuberculosis control and respiratory disease treatment on a local county level. The sum herein provided for, and any income that may occur from miscellaneous receipts in connection with the aforesaid programs shall be placed in a special fund in the treasury of the headquarters county and obligations incurred for such programs shall be paid from such fund upon order of the district commissioners by the treasurer in the same manner as general county obligations are paid.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President: "The President in ruling on the point of order as presented by Senator Scott, finds that Engrossed Senate Bill No. 192 is a measure which has as its sole object the elimination of unnecessary elections to fill vacancies in nonpartisan positions. The amendment of the House of Representatives is basically a measure which calls for annual general elections and setting forth precisely which offices and measures may be considered in odd numbered years. The amendment further requires the Secretary of State to publish in a voters' pamphlet various items to assist the voters with regard to Initiative 43 which pertains to the regulation of shoreline use and development. The House amendment therefore does enlarge the scope and object of the bill and the point of order presented by Senator Scott is well taken."

SIXTIETH DAY, MAY 10, 1971

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Andersen: "I note by the clock that it is just before midnight on the sixtieth day of this special session. There are some of us who have been working night and day on these budget and tax bills that have to pass, apparently at least, according to our Constitution, in sixty days. The Conference Committee on taxes, of which I was a member until just a short time ago, came out with a joint conference report on taxes. That report was read in the House because the House had possession of the bill. I believe this was under the title of Senate Bill No. 897, the conference vehicle. Unfortunately, as things sometimes go, the electronic voting machine in the House broke down, which left the taxation bill under consideration and the budget bill, I understand, is also under consideration at this same time. There has been some concern that these bills would be dead as of the magic witching hour of twelve o'clock. On the other hand, I have conferred with the attorney general of the state of Washington concerning these matters, and while of course nothing is clear in a field like this or in a situation like this, I have reason to believe, as an attorney, as a legislator, and after having conferred with the attorney general, that if we continue on with these bills that are under consideration, that very possibly or very likely perhaps would be a better expression, if the bills pass they will not be subject to constitutional attack as not having been passed within sixty days.

"In other words, Mr. President, I wish to put into the record for the information of the President of the Senate and the members of the Senate that despite everything we could do, and it has been a long night and a long week and a long several weeks and a long session, these bills are on the desks under consideration in the House of Representatives and so far as I am concerned I think that if we can pass these bills that are actively under consideration while we remain in session and continue to act on them, rather than skipping a day or stopping the clock for a day or something like that, that courts of this state and the law of this state, being in essence common sense, would very likely uphold the budget bill and the tax bill. I do not guarantee this because no one can do that, but I do believe that this is something I should point out for the members and for the President's information, I do in my own humble opinion believe we should continue on with these bills until we can pass them or defeat them and hopefully end this session on a productive note."

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Woodall, all reference to time is to be expunged from the record.

On motion of Senator Greive, the Senate recessed subject to the Call of the Chair.

On motion of Senator Bailey, the following resolution was adopted:

SENATE RESOLUTION: 1971-EX-102

By Senators Durkan, Atwood and Foley:

WHEREAS, In pursuance of a viable system of state government, the related activities of budget preparation and money appropriation are close to the essence of public policy; and

WHEREAS, Current practice in our state places control over budget preparation in the hands of the executive, and over appropriations in the legislative branch; and

WHEREAS, Each branch, therefore, has a major obligation of carrying out its functions thoroughly and effectively, for the public good; and

WHEREAS, Washington's 1959 Budget and Accounting Act, despite being considered a step forward in state budgetary matters has, nevertheless, provided only the executive the necessary authority leading to a strong budget, while failing to make commensurate reforms in the legislative branch; and

WHEREAS, The appropriation process, to be effective, involves, among other activities, reviewing executive budget presentations, examining reports on past fiscal operations, and bringing all information to bear as the appropriation bill is undergoing legislative consideration; and

WHEREAS, Despite a statutory mandate providing the Legislature with authority to participate in the executive budget hearings and to receive agency budget requests immediately upon their receipt by the executive budget office, the Legislature of the State of Washington is actually only involved in the adoption stage of the budgetary cycle; and

WHEREAS, Unless there is direct involvement during the budget formulation stage, it is usually too late to accomplish the extensive pre-session analysis necessary to assure that the legislative budget review does not either attenuate under a mass of minor detail or become superficial and ineffectual; and

WHEREAS, It has become abundantly clear that the appropriation process in both Houses of the Legislature has devolved into an inadequate procedure which has satisfied no worthwhile objective; and

WHEREAS, That reaction has led to the establishment of separate organizations and procedures in both Houses directed toward budgetary analysis and appropriation, which has resulted in an overlap and duplication of organization and effort with respect to both legislators and staff, and in direct contravention to the time and facilities available; and

WHEREAS, In order to assure that the prerogatives and decisions from both Houses will be considered independently, several official versions of the legislative budget are actually printed and disseminated together with the substantiating and explanatory detail required in each case; and

WHEREAS, It is evident the same objectives can be accomplished, and the same prerogatives can be maintained with far less difficulty in the modes and procedures, and at far less expense with regard to time and effort by the adoption of joint hearing procedures acceptable to both Houses; and

WHEREAS, Such joint efforts and legislative budget and appropriation procedures have been proven successful in several states of the nation, with cooperative procedures allowing far greater in-depth consideration and critical scrutiny, at less cost and effort, than presently being accomplished in Washington State;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, By the Senate that the Legislative Budget Committee be requested to undertake a study of the procedures utilized in selected states to determine the criteria involved in successful legislative budget analysis and appropriation procedures, and to develop an acceptable organization and procedural plan for pre-session executive budget analysis and in-session legislative appropriation functions; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Legislative Budget Committee shall seek the advice and consultation of the Secretary of the Senate and the Chief Clerk of the House, both of whom will serve in an ex-officio capacity in the deliberations of the Committee, and that the results of such study together with conclusions and recommendations, and suggested legislation if any, be presented to the next session of the Legislature for its consideration; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Chief Clerk of the House, and to the Legislative Budget Committee.

WHEREAS, The multiplicity of zoning standards and building codes, and the fragmentation of regulatory authority among state agencies, counties, cities, and other political subdivisions are creating extreme confusion and frustration for mobile home owners, park operators, and manufacturers alike; and

WHEREAS, Uniform laws and regulations relating to the construction of mobile homes are essential to provide manufacturers with uniform, reasonable standards and to provide residents with safe and habitable mobile homes; and

WHEREAS, Correlation and coordination of state, county, and city regulatory authority, including zoning powers, are necessary to protect the interests of mobile home owners, mobile home park operators, and the other property owners and residents of the state;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Senate hereby requests the Joint Interim Committee on Banking, Insurance, and Utility Regulation to study the problems of mobile home owners, mobile home park operators, and mobile home manufacturers and the advisability and feasibility of establishing uniform laws and regulations regarding all aspects of mobile homes which would provide for the coordinated application of state and local regulatory authority;

Option III. Upon his death, one-half of his reduced retirement allowance shall be continued throughout the life of and paid to such person, having an insurable interest in his life, as he shall have nominated by written designation duly executed and filed with the retirement board at the time of his retirement.

(3) Effective July 1, [1970] 1971, every prior pension which is then being paid to any retired member or his designated beneficiary shall be adjusted to that dollar amount which bears the ratio to its original dollar amount which the retirement board finds to exist between the index for [1969] 1970 and the index for the calendar year prior to the effective retirement date of the person to whom, or on behalf of whom, such retirement allowance is being paid.

Sec. 7. Section 19, chapter 274, Laws of 1947 as last amended by section 5, chapter 127, Laws of 1967 and RCW 41.40.180 are each amended to read as follows:

an elective official but such person shall no longer be a member of the retirement system after his retirement as provided for in this subsection.

(3) On and after April 1, 1955, any member who has completed thirty years of service may retire on his written application to the retirement board setting forth at what time, not less than thirty days, nor more than ninety days subsequent to the execution and

(4) On and after [July 1, 1967] the effective date of this 1971 amendatory act any member who has completed twenty-five years of service and attained age fifty-five may retire on his written application to the retirement board setting forth at which time, not

Sec. 8, Section 23, chapter 274, Laws of 1947 as last amended by section 7, chapter

Upon attainment of age sixty, the disabled member shall receive a pension, as provided for in RCW 41.40.190, subdivisions (2), (3), and (4), together with an annuity which shall be the equivalent of the annuity he would have received had he continued final compensation at the time of his disability.

(3) During the period a disabled member is receiving a disability pension, as provided for in subdivision (1) of this section, his contributions to the employees' savings fund shall be suspended and his balance in the employees' savings fund, standing to his credit as of the date his disability pension is to begin, shall remain in the employees' savings fund:

Provided, however, if there be no such designated person or persons still living at the time of the member's death, his accumulated contributions standing to his credit in the employees' savings fund shall be paid to such person or persons, having an insurable interest in his life, as he shall have nominated by written designation duly executed and filed with the retirement board:
Provided, however, if there be no such designated person or persons still living at the time of the member's death, his accumulated contributions standing to his credit in the employees' savings fund shall be paid to his surviving spouse as if in fact such spouse had been nominated by written designation as aforesaid, or if there be no such surviving spouse, then to his legal representative.

Sec. 9. Section 27, chapter 274, Laws of 1947 as last amended by section 12, chapter
174, Laws of 1963, and RCW 41.40.260 are each amended to read as follows:

Subject to the provisions of RCW 41.40.280, should a member cease to be an be paid to him: Provided, That withdrawal of all or part of the funds by a member who is eligible for a service retirement allowance in RCW 41.40.180 or a disability retirement allowance in RCW 41.40.200, 41.40.210, 41.40.220, 41.40.230, 41.40.240, or 41.40.250 shall constitute a waiver of any set age or disability retirement allowance: Provided further, That the withdrawal of all or part of additional contributions made pursuant to RCW 41.40.330(2) shall not constitute a waiver.

Sec. 10. Section 34, chapter 274, Laws of 1947 as last amended by section 12, chapter
128, Laws of 1969, and RCW 41.40.330 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Beginning October 1, 1947, each employee who is a member of the retirement system shall contribute five percent of that part of his compensation earnable, not in excess of thirty-six hundred dollars in a calendar year, except as provided herein and in subsection
(2) hereof, to the employees' savings fund, and shall contribute one dollar and fifty cents per annum to the retirement system expense fund: Provided, however, that beginning January 1, 1950, such retirement system expense fund contribution shall be increased to the amount of two dollars and fifty cents per annum and shall be made by semiannual payments of one dollar and twenty-five cents beginning January 1, 1950, and thereafter each employee entering membership shall contribute the sum of one dollar and twenty-five cents to the retirement system expense fund for the fractional portion of the semiannual period during which he enters or reenters membership: AND PROVIDED FURTHER, That beginning July 1, 1969, the expense fund contributions shall be transferred from all employee account balances in the employees' savings fund to the retirement fund account as set forth in this section. At any time after April 1, 1953, each employee who is a member of the retirement system shall contribute five percent of his total compensation earnable. The officer responsible for making up the payroll shall deduct from the compensation of each member, on each and every payroll of such member for each and every payroll period subsequent to the date on which he became a member of the retirement system, an amount equal to five percent of such member's compensation earnable, as provided by this section. In determining the amount earnable by a member in a payroll period, the retirement board and the employer may consider the rate of compensation payable to such member on the first day of the payroll period as continuing through such payroll period, and deductions may be omitted from such compensation for any period less than a full payroll period, if an employee was not a member on the first day of the payroll period.}

(2) Any member may, pursuant to regulations formulated from time to time by the board, provide for himself, by means of an increased rate of contribution to his account in the employees' savings fund, an increased prospective retirement allowance [not to exceed one-half of his prospective average final compensation].

(3) The officer responsible for making up the payroll shall deduct from the compensation of each member covered by the provisions of RCW 41.40.190 (5) on each and every payroll of such member for each and every payroll period subsequent to the date on which he thereafter becomes a member of the retirement system, an amount equal to seven and one-half percent of such member's compensation earnable.

Sec. 11, Section 37, chapter 274, Laws of 1947 as last amended by section 15, chapter 174, Laws of 1965, and RCW 41.40.361 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) For the purpose of this section, the "fundable employer liability" at any date shall be the present value of

(a) all future pension benefits payable in respect of all members in the retirement system at that date, and

(b) all future benefits in respect of beneficiaries then receiving retirement allowances or pensions.

(2) The contributions by the employer for benefits under the retirement system shall consist of the sum of a percentage of the compensation of members to be known as the "normal contribution", a percentage of such compensation to be known as the "unfunded liability contribution" and in the case of employers admitted to the retirement system after April 1, 1949, a percentage of such compensation to be known as the "additional contribution". The rates of such contributions shall be determined by the retirement board on the basis of assets and liabilities as shown by actuarial valuation: PROVIDED, That as to state employers the total combined contributions of the normal contribution and unfunded liability contribution shall not exceed a total combined percentage rate of six percent for each employer unless authorized by the legislature.

(3) After the completion of each actuarial valuation subsequent to the first actuarial valuation of June 30, 1953, the retirement board shall determine the normal contribution rate and such contribution rate shall become effective in the ensuing biennium. In addition the board shall determine the additional employer contribution rate necessary to fund the benefits granted officials holding office pursuant to Articles II and III of the Constitution of the state of Washington and RCW 48.02.010. Said additional employer contribution rate shall be known as the "additional employer contribution". Until the unfunded liability contribution shall have been discontinued, such normal contribution rate shall be computed to be sufficient, when applied to the present value of the future compensation of the average new member entering the system, to provide for the payment of all prospective pension benefits in respect of such member. After the unfunded liability contributions have been discontinued, such normal contribution rate shall be determined as the uniform and constant percentage of the prospective compensation of all members of the retirement system at the date of such valuation which is equivalent to the excess of the fundable employer liability over the amount of funds currently standing to the credit of the benefit account fund.

(4) After the completion of each actuarial valuation subsequent to the first actuarial valuation of June 30, 1953, the retirement board shall determine the unfunded liability contribution, and such rate shall become effective in the ensuing biennium. The unfunded liability contribution rate shall not be less than [that percentage of annual compensation of all members in the retirement system at the date of such subsequent valuation which is equivalent to four percent of the unfunded liability of the system] the uniform and constant percentage of the prospective compensation of all members of the retirement system for the two-year period ending on the date of such valuation which is equivalent to the unfunded liability. The unfunded liability shall be determined at such date as the excess of the fundable employer liability over the sum of the present value of the future normal contributions payable in respect of all members in the retirement system at that date, and the amount of all funds currently standing to the credit of the benefit account fund. The unfunded liability contributions shall continue until there remains no unfunded liability.

(5) Any employer admitted to the retirement system after April 1, 1949, shall make an additional contribution until such time as the sum of such additional contributions equals the amount of contributions which such employer would have been required to contribute between April 1, 1949, and the date of such employer's admission to the retirement system: PROVIDED, All additional contributions hereunder and under the provisions of RCW 41.40.160(2) must be completed within fifteen years from the date of the employer's admission.

For the biennium beginning July 1, 1971, and ending June 30, 1973, only, and notwithstanding any other provision of the chapter, the rate determined by the board for state employer contributions shall be only the percentage of compensation for members equal to the "normal contribution" computed to be four and thirty-six one-hundredths percent of compensation.

Sec. 12. Section 43, chapter 274, Laws of 1947 as last amended by section 13, chapter 128, Laws of 1949, RCW 41.40.120 and 41.40.140 are each amended to read as follows:

The employees and appointive and elective officials of any political subdivision or association of political subdivisions of the state may become members of the retirement system by the approval of the local legislative authority: PROVIDED, That on and after September 1, 1965, every school district of the state of Washington shall be an employer under this chapter and every employee of the school district who is eligible for membership under RCW 41.40.120 shall be a member of the retirement system and participate on the same basis as a person who first becomes a member through the admission of any employer into the retirement system on and after April 1, 1949. Each such political subdivision becoming an employer under the meaning of this chapter shall make contributions to the funds of the retirement system as provided in RCW 41.40.080, 41.40.361 and 41.40.370 and its employees shall contribute to the employees' savings fund at the rate established under RCW 41.40.064(1). In addition to the contributions provided for in subsection (1) of this section, where the political subdivision becoming an employer hereunder has its own retirement plan any of the employee members thereof who may elect to transfer to this retirement system may, [upon withdrawal of] if permitted by said plan, withdraw all or any part of their employees' contributions to the former plan[,] and transfer such funds to the employees' savings fund at the time of their transfer of membership. Any portion of the employees' savings fund not withdrawn shall be transferred by the employer to the retirement system over a period not to exceed fifteen years. The length of the transfer period and the method of payment to be utilized during that period shall be established by agreement between the retirement board and the political subdivision. Employers making deferred payments of employee funds under this section shall transfer an additional amount equal to the interest that would have been credited to each employee's savings fund had his contributions been transferred to the state retirement system's employee savings fund on the date the political subdivision became an employer hereunder. Any funds remaining in the employer's former retirement plan after all obligations of such plan have been provided for, as evidenced by appropriate actuarial study, shall be disposed of by the governing body of the political subdivision in such manner as it deems appropriate. For the purpose of administering and interpreting this chapter the board may substitute the names of political subdivisions of the state for the "state" and employees of the subdivisions for "state employees" wherever such terms appear in this chapter. The board may also alter any dates mentioned in this chapter for the purpose of making the provisions of the chapter applicable to the entry of any political subdivisions into the system. Any member transferring employment to another employer which is covered by the retirement system may continue as a member without loss of previously earned pension and annuity benefits. The board shall keep such accounts as are necessary to show the contributions of each political subdivision to the benefit account fund and shall have the power to debit and credit the various accounts in accordance with the transfer of the members from one employer to another.

Political subdivision, maintaining its own retirement system, who have been transferred to a health district formed pursuant to chapter 70.46 RCW, but who have been allowed to remain members of the political subdivision's retirement system may be transferred as a group to the Washington public employees' retirement system. Such transfer may be made by the action of the legislative authority of such political subdivision maintaining its own retirement system. Such transfer shall include employer's and member's funds in the transferring municipalities' retirement system.

Employees of a political subdivision, maintaining its own retirement system, heretofore transferred to a joint airport operation of two municipalities pursuant to chapter 182, Laws of 1945, may be transferred as a group to the Washington public employees' retirement system. Such transfer may be made by the action of the legislative authority of such political subdivision maintaining its own retirement system. Such transfer shall include employer's and member's funds in the transferring municipalities' retirement system.

Sec. 13. Section 5, chapter 71, Laws of 1947 and RCW 41.44.050 are each amended to read as follows:

The referendum or initiative herein provided for shall be exercised under the law relating to legislative initiative or referendum of the particular city: and if the city be one for which the law does not now provide such initiative or referendum, it shall be exercised in the manner provided for legislative initiative and referendum of cities having a commission form of government under chapter 116, Laws of 1911, the city council performing the duties and functions under that law devolving on the commission. A majority vote in the legislative body or by the electorate shall be sufficient to carry or reject. Whenever any city has elected to join the retirement system proper authorities in such city shall immediately file with the board an application for participation under the conditions included in this chapter on a form approved by the board. In such application the city shall agree to make the contributions required of participating cities in the manner prescribed herein and shall state which employee group or groups are to originally have membership in the system.

In the case of a state association of cities and towns, election to participate shall be by majority vote of the board of directors of the association.

Sec. 14. Section 11, chapter 71, Laws of 1947 as last amended by section 2, chapter 99, Laws of 1965 ex. sess. and RCW 41.44.110 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Subject to subsection (2) of this section, membership of this retirement system shall be composed of the following groups of employees in any participating city or cities:

(a) Miscellaneous personnel as defined in this chapter;

(2) Any city may, when electing to participate in this retirement system in the manner set forth in RCW 41.44.050, include any one group or combination of the groups mentioned in subsection (1) of this section. For an initial period not to exceed one year from the effective date of any city's entry into this system, if so provided at the time of its election to participate, only a majority of the employees of any group or combination of groups must be members of the system.

At all times subsequent to the effective date of the city's entry into this system, or at all times after expiration of such initial period, if such initial period is established at the time of the city's election to participate, all employees of any group or combination of groups must be included or excluded as members of this group. Groups (c) and (d) shall be considered as being composed of miscellaneous personnel as far as benefits and obligations are concerned except when the contrary is clearly indicated.

Sec. 16. Section 82.32.050, chapter 15, Laws of 1961, as amended by section 1, chapter 141, Laws of 1965 ex. sess., and RCW 82.32.050 are each amended to read as follows:

If upon examination of any returns or from other information obtained by the [commission] department it appears that a tax or penalty has been paid less than that properly due, the [commission] department shall assess against the taxpayer such additional amount found to be due and as to assessments made on and after May 1, 1965, including assessments for additional tax or penalties due prior to that date shall add thereunto interest at the rate of [six] nine percent per annum from the last day of the year in which the deficiency is incurred until date of payment. The [commission] department shall notify the taxpayer by mail of the additional amount and the same shall become due and shall be paid within ten days from the date of the notice, or within such further time as the [commission] department may provide. If payment is not received by the [commission] department by the due date specified in the notice, or any extension thereof, the [commission] department shall add a penalty of ten percent of the amount of the additional tax found due. If the [commission] department finds that all or any part of the deficiency from which it is determined to evade the tax payable hereunder, a further penalty of fifty percent of the additional tax found to be due shall be added.

No assessment or correction of an assessment for additional taxes due may be made by the [commission] department more than four years after the close of the tax year, except (1) against a taxpayer who has not registered as required by this chapter, (2) upon a showing of fraud or of misrepresentation of a material fact by the taxpayer, or (3) where a taxpayer has executed a written waiver of such limitation.

Sec. 17. Section 82.32.060, chapter 15, Laws of 1961, as last amended by section 27, chapter 173, Laws of 1965 ex. sess., and RCW 82.32.060 are each amended to read as follows:

If, upon application for a refund or for an audit of his records, or upon an examination of the returns or records of any taxpayer, it is determined by the [tax commission] department that within the two years immediately preceding the receipt [of] by the [commission] department of the application by the taxpayer for a refund or for an audit, or, in the absence of such an application, within the two years immediately preceding the commencement by the [commission] department of such examination, a tax has been paid in excess of that properly due, the excess amount paid within such period of two years shall be credited to the taxpayer's account or shall be refunded to the taxpayer, at his option. Except as to the utilization by the taxpayer of the credits in computing tax authorized by RCW 82.04.435, application for which credits must be made within two years of payment of the taxes giving rise to such credits, no refund or credit shall be allowed with respect to any payments made to the [commission] department more than two years before the taxable year or taxable period for which the application was filed. Where a [commission] department has assessed a tax for the period of the statutory assessment period preceding the two year period may be offset against the amount of any tax deficiency which may be determined by the [commission] department for such statutory assessment period. [Notwithstanding the foregoing, no refund or credit shall be granted with respect to taxes paid prior to May 1, 1950, but where a refund or credit may not be made because the tax was paid prior to May 1, 1950, the amount of the refund or credit which would otherwise be allowable for the portion of the statutory assessment period preceding May 1, 1950, may be offset against the amount of any tax deficiency which may be determined by the commission for such preceding period.]

Notwithstanding the foregoing limitations there shall be refunded or credited to taxpayers engaged in the performance of United States government contracts or subcontracts the amount of any tax paid, measured by that portion of the amounts received from the United States, which taxpayer is required by contract or applicable federal statute to refund or credit to the United States, if claim for such refund is filed by the taxpayer with the [tax commission] department within one year of the date that the amount of the refund or credit due to the United States is finally determined and filed within four years of the date on which the tax was paid: PROVIDED, That no interest shall be allowed on such refund.

Any such refunds shall be made by means of vouchers approved by the [tax commission] department and by the issuance of state warrants drawn upon and payable from such funds as the legislature may provide.

Any judgment for which a recovery is granted by any court of competent jurisdiction, upon examination of any returns or from other information obtained by the [tax commission] department so to do, without warrant, and shall be offered for sale by the [commission] department in the same manner as property distrained under warrant for the satisfaction of delinquent taxes. The proceeds of sale shall be paid to the [commission] department and credited to the account of miscellaneous revenue: PROVIDED, That the costs of the seizure and sale shall be paid out of the proceeds before making remittance.

Any money contained in such [machines or] devices may be removed before the [machine or] device is offered for sale and the amount thereof shall be considered as part of the proceeds of the sale.
as to the credits in computing tax authorized by RCW 82.04.435, interest at the rate of three percent per annum shall be allowed by the [tax commission] department and by any court on the amount of any refund or recovery allowed to a taxpayer for taxes, penalties, or interest paid by him after May 1, 1949, and interest at the same rate shall be allowed on any judgment recovered by a taxpayer for taxes, penalties, or interest paid after such date.

Sec. 18. Section 82.32.080, chapter 15, Laws of 1961, as last amended by section 2, chapter 141, Laws of 1965 ex. sess., and RCW 82.32.080 are each amended to read as follows:

Payment of the tax may be made by uncertified check under such regulations as the [commission] department shall prescribe, but, if a check so received is not paid by the bank on which it is drawn, the taxpayer, by whom such check is tendered, shall remain liable for payment of the tax and for all legal penalties, the same as if such check had not been tendered.

A return or remittance which is transmitted to the [tax commission] department by United States mail shall be deemed filed or received on the date shown by the post office cancellation mark stamped upon the envelope containing it.

The [tax commission] department, for good cause shown, may extend the time for making and filing any return, and may grant such reasonable additional time within which to make and file returns as it may deem proper, but any permanent extension granting the taxpayer a reporting date without penalty more than ten days beyond the due date, and any extension in excess of thirty days shall be conditional on deposit with the [commission] department of an amount to be determined by the [commission] department which shall be approximately equal to the estimated tax liability for the reporting period or periods for which the extension is granted. In the case of a permanent extension or a temporary extension of more than thirty days the deposit shall be deposited within thirty days in the state treasury with other tax funds and a credit recorded to the taxpayer's account which may be applied to taxpayer's liability upon cancellation of the permanent extension or upon reporting of the tax liability where an extension of more than thirty days has been granted.

The [commission] department shall review the requirement for deposit at least annually and may require a change in the amount of the deposit required when it believes that such amount does not approximate the tax liability for the reporting period or periods for which the extension is granted.

The [commission] department shall keep full and accurate records of all funds received and disbursed by it. Subject to the provisions of RCW 82.32.105 and 82.32.350, the department shall apply the payment of the taxpayer first against penalties and interest, and then upon the tax, without regard to any direction of the taxpayer.

The [commission] department may refuse to accept any return which is not accompanied by a remittance of the tax shown to be due thereon. When such return is not accepted, the taxpayer shall be deemed to have failed or refused to file a return and shall be subject to the procedures provided in RCW 82.32.100 and to the penalties provided in RCW 82.32.090.

Sec. 19. Section 82.32.090, chapter 15, Laws of 1961, as last amended by section 26, chapter 149, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. and RCW 82.32.090 are each amended to read as follows:

If payment of any tax due is not received by the department of revenue by the last day of the month in which the tax becomes due, there shall be assessed a penalty of [two] five percent of the amount of the tax; and if the tax is not received by the last day of the month next succeeding the month in which the due date falls, there shall be assessed a total penalty of ten percent of the amount of the tax; and if the tax is not received by the last day of the second month next succeeding the month in which the due date falls, there shall be assessed a total penalty of twenty percent of the amount of the tax. No penalty so added shall be less than two dollars.

If payment of any tax is received within the first ten days of the month next succeeding the month in which the due date falls, the amount of such payment shall be credited to, and shall be treated for all purposes as having been collected during, the fiscal year in which such due date falls.

If a warrant be issued by the department of revenue for the collection of taxes, increases, and penalties, there shall be added thereto a penalty of five percent of the amount of the tax, but not less than five dollars.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the aggregate of penalties imposed under this chapter for failure to file a return, late payment of any tax, increase, or penalty, or issuance of a warrant shall not exceed twenty-five percent of the tax due, or seven dollars, whichever is greater.

Sec. 20. Section 82.32.100, chapter 15, Laws of 1961, as amended by section 4, chapter 141, Laws of 1965 ex. sess. and RCW 82.32.100 are each amended to read as follows:

If any person fails or refuses to make any return or to make available for examination the records required by this chapter, the [tax commission] department shall proceed, in such manner as it may deem best, to obtain facts and information on which to base its estimate of the tax; and to this end the [commission] department may examine the books, records, and papers of any such person and may take evidence, on oath, of any person, relating to the subject of inquiry.

As soon as the [commission] department procures such facts and information as it is able to obtain upon which to base the assessment of any tax payable by any person who has failed or refused to make a return, it shall proceed to determine and assess against such person the tax and penalties due, but such action shall not deprive such person from appealing to the superior court as hereinafter provided. To the assessment the [commission] department shall add, the penalties provided in RCW 82.32.090. The [commission] department shall notify the taxpayer by mail of the total amount of such tax, penalties, and interest, and the total amount shall become due and shall be paid within ten days from the date of such notice.

No assessment or correction of an assessment may be made by the [commission] department more than four years after the close of the tax year, except (1) against a taxpayer who has not registered as required by this chapter, (2) upon a showing of fraud or of misrepresentation of a material fact by the taxpayer, or (3) where a taxpayer has executed a written waiver of such limitation.

Sec. 21. Section 82.32.190, chapter 15, Laws of 1961, as amended by section 6, chapter 141, Laws of 1965 ex. sess., and RCW 82.32.190 are each amended to read as follows:

The [tax commission] department, by its order, may hold in abeyance the collection of tax from any taxpayer or any group of taxpayers when a question bearing on their liability for tax hereunder is pending before the courts: PROVIDED, That the [commission] department may impose such conditions as may be deemed just and equitable and shall require the payment of interest at the rate of [one-half] three-quarters of one percent of the amount of the tax for each thirty days or portion thereof from the date upon which such tax became due.

Sec. 22. Section 11, chapter 28, Laws of 1963 ex. sess. and RCW 82.32.235 are each amended to read as follows:

In addition to the remedies provided in this chapter the [tax commission] department is hereby authorized to issue to any person, or to any political subdivision or department of the state, a notice and order to withhold and deliver property of any kind whatsoever when there is reason to believe that there is in the possession of such person, political subdivision or department, property which is or shall become due, owing, or belonging to any taxpayer against whom a warrant has been filed.

The notice and order to withhold and deliver shall be served by the sheriff of the county wherein the service is made, or by his deputy, or by any duly authorized representative of the [tax commission] department. Any person, or any political subdivision or department upon whom service has been made is hereby required to answer the notice within twenty days exclusive of the day of service, under oath and in writing, and shall make true answers to the matters inquired of in the notice.

In the event there is in the possession of any such person or political subdivision or department, any property which may be subject to the claim of the [tax commission] department, such property shall be delivered forthwith to the commission or its duly authorized representative upon demand to be held in trust by the [commission] department for application on the indebtedness involved or for return, without interest, and the total amount shall become due and shall be paid within ten days from the date of such notice.

Should any person or political subdivision fail to make answer to an order to withhold and deliver within the time prescribed herein, it shall be lawful for the court, after the time to answer such order has expired, to render judgment by default against such person or department for the full amount claimed by the [tax commission] department in the notice to withhold and deliver, together with costs.

Sec. 23. Section 82.32.350, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 82.32.350 are each amended to read as follows:

Whenever any land is removed from classification as reforestation land it shall thereafter be assessed and taxed without regard to the provisions of this chapter, and there shall thereupon become due and owing to the county in which such land is situated the taxes set forth in this section.

(a) A yield tax equal to [twelve and one-half] twenty-five percent of the value of the timber or forest crop remaining on the land, based upon full current stumpage rates fixed by the assessor: PROVIDED, That whenever, within a period of twelve years following the classification of any lands as reforestation lands, any such lands shall be removed from classification, the owner thereof shall be required to pay a yield tax upon the timber of [one] two percent for each year that has expired from the date of such classification until such reforestation lands are again classified as a reforestation lands.

(b) A sum of money equivalent to the amount, if any, by which the tax paid on the land and forest crop because of classification under this chapter is less than the tax paid during the same period on similar land and forest crop that was not classified.
The assessor shall prepare a roll of lands to be removed from classification and shall extend against such lands the taxes computed as provided in this section, and shall forthwith transmit to the county treasurer a record of such taxes; and the county treasurer shall thereupon enter the amount of such taxes upon his records against such lands and their owners and upon a yield tax roll. Upon becoming due and payable, the taxes shall be paid against any forest material that may be cut thereon and against any other real or personal property owned by such owner. Such taxes shall become delinquent on the fifteenth day of March next following the effective date of the commission’s order. The lien of such taxes shall be superior, and shall be enforceable, in the same manner and to the same extent as provided in RCW 84.28.063: PROVIDED, That payment of such taxes shall be a condition precedent to issuance of an order removing lands from classification pursuant to provisions of RCW 84.28.063: PROVIDED FURTHER, That an order classifying lands or removing lands from classification shall not be retroactive, but the effective date of such order shall not be earlier than the first day of January next following the date of issuance of such order.

The above values shall apply as the actual basis for taxation of such lands, without regard to any percentages of value which may apply for taxation of other classes of property; and the taxation of such lands on the basis herein provided shall be separate and distinct from and in addition to the cost of protecting such lands from fire as provided under the laws of Washington.

Sec. 34. Section 84.28.110, chapter 15, Laws of 1961, as last amended by section 153, chapter 81, Laws of 1971 and RCW 84.28.110 are each amended to read as follows:

Whenever the whole or any part of the forest crop shall be cut upon any lands classified and assessed as reforestation lands under the provisions of this chapter, the owner of such lands shall, on or before the fifteenth day of February of each year, report under oath to the assessor of the county in which such lands are located, the amount of such timber or other forest crop cut during the preceding twelve months, in units of measure in conformity with the usage for which the cutting was made, together with a description, by government legal subdivisions, of the lands upon which the same were cut. If no such report of cutting is made, or if the assessor shall believe the report to be inaccurate, incorrect or mistaken, the assessor may by such methods as he shall deem advisable, determine the amount of timber or other forest product cut during such period. As soon as the report is filed, if the assessor is satisfied with the accuracy of the report, or if dissatisfied, as soon as the assessor shall have determined the amount of timber or forest crop cut as herein provided, the assessor shall determine the full current stumpage rates for the timber or forest crop cut and shall thereupon compute, and there shall become due and payable from the owner, a yield tax equal to [two] two percent of the market value of the timber or forest crop so cut, based upon the full current stumpage rates so fixed by the assessor: PROVIDED, When within the period of twelve years following the classification of any lands as reforestation lands, any forest material shall be cut on such lands, the owner thereof shall be required to pay a yield tax of [one] one percent for each year that has expired from the date of such classification until such cutting: PROVIDED FURTHER, That no yield tax need be paid on any forest material cut for domestic use of the owner of such lands, or on materials necessarily used in harvesting the forest crop.

Whenever the owner is dissatisfied with the determination of the amount cut as made by the assessor, or with the full current stumpage rates as fixed by the assessor, and shall pay the tax based thereon under protest, such owner may maintain an action in the superior court of the county in which the lands are located for recovery of the amount of the tax paid in excess of what the owner alleges the tax would be if based upon a cutting or stumpage rate which the owner alleges to be correct. In any such action the county involved and the county assessor of the county, shall be joined as parties defendant, but in case a recovery is allowed, judgment shall be entered against the county only, to be charged against the funds to which the collected tax was paid. In such action the court shall determine, in accordance with the assessor’s computation of the correct amount of timber or forest crop which has been cut, and if an issue in the case, the true and correct full current stumpage rates, and shall enter judgment accordingly, either dismissing the action, or allowing recovery based upon its determination of the amount of timber or forest crop cut and if in issue, the full current stumpage rate. The judgment of the superior court shall be subject to appeal to the supreme court or the court of appeals in the same manner and by the same procedure as appeals are taken and perfected in civil actions at law.

MOTION
On motion of Senator Atwood, the report of the Free Conference Committee on Substitute Senate Bill No. 897 was adopted.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE
Senator Greive: "I wanted to note we are well past midnight and I want it also clearly understood that after the redistricting bill was voted down by the House and its return was requested by the Secretary of the Senate, but they refused to send it over to us. Because it was a House bill, after the Senate amended the bill it was sent over for them to concur, but they did not concur and instead of returning it to the Senate, the bill was held as a matter of policy, and other bills were sent over subsequently. I think that that has to be in the record for this occasion, that if we go to the district court it is going to be very interesting to establish that fact. I am sorry to have to make that statement but I think it has to be said."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE
Senator Bailey: "I am not going to make any comment on time. I think we have had a long day. I would like to make one comment, that hours ago the State Senate of the state of Washington passed a budget bill for the state of Washington; it passed a supplemental budget bill for the state of Washington; it passed the capital budget bill for the state of Washington; it passed property tax relief for the citizens of the state of Washington; it passed industrial insurance for the workers of the state of Washington; it probably has done many other things that I cannot think of right off hand. These are the main things that we have done in this State Senate.

"If there is anything blown here in this session tonight or any other time, it was blown in the House of Representatives. I think our caucus was willing to go along and play the game, that was the way we were going, and I am very sorry that some of our members have not seen fit to follow the dictates of the caucus as I understood it as chairman of the caucus, and come out and try to, at this time, wreck a bill that we are going to consider.

"I notice that one bill we passed that probably might have been passed a few minutes after midnight was a bill, Senate Bill No. 59 relating to judges' pensions. I think it might be a very interesting case to see if there is going to be anything go to court just how far and how legal and how limited the legislature is. But I think we should proceed at this time and pass this bill, wind up the session and go home."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Atwood: "I am not going to talk about the legal matters here, but the House of Representatives did pass Substitute House Bill No. 283 some weeks ago. The House did pass the capital budget some weeks ago. We have had the capital budget here; we just ran it out this afternoon. They bought the Senate version. They bought the Senate version of the supplemental. I do not think this is the time for acrimony but I think if anybody blew it, it was fooling around with redistricting for one hundred and twenty days when it was known we could not do the job without the verified census tapes."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 897, as amended by the Free Conference Committee, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 25; nays, 20; absent or not voting, 3; excused, 1.

Voting yea: Senators Andersen, Atwood, Bailey, Canfield, Clarke, Connor, Donohue, Durkan, Francis, Gissberg, Greive, Guess, Henry, Herr, Jolly, Murray, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Ridder, Sandison, Scott, Twigg, Walgren, Washington, Whetzel-25.

Absent or not voting: Senators McCutcheon, Metcalf, Woodall-3.

Excused: Senator Stender-1.

SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 897, as amended by the Free Conference Committee, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

STATEMENT

May 10, 1971.

This will state that at approximately 11:00 p.m. on Monday, May 10, 1971, the sixtieth day of the extraordinary session of the forty-second legislature, I was working on the rostrum during the evening session, when Senator R. R. Bob Greive inquired of the President if Engrossed House Bill No. 747 had been returned from the House with a Message that the House had refused to concur in the Senate amendments and asked the Senate to recede therefrom.

Senator Greive indicated that if the message was there he wanted the Senate to insist on the Senate amendments and once again ask the House to concur in the Senate amendments. He felt that he had sufficient votes to pass the bill if it was returned to the House for another vote.

I called the House Work Room to find out how soon Engrossed House Bill No. 747 would be returned to the Senate. I was informed by Ellen Hansen, Supervisor of the House Work Room, that the message was ready to go but the House leadership was holding the bill.

The Senate never received the message or the bill during the remaining hours of the session.

Signed: SIDNEY R. SNYDER, Secretary of the Senate.

At 2:45 a.m., there being no objection, the Senate was declared to be at ease. The President called the Senate to order at 3:42 a.m.
There being no objection, the Senate returned to the fourth order of business.

EXPLANATION OF FAILURE TO VOTE ON SENATE BILL NO. 522,
AS AMENDED BY THE FREE CONFERENCE COMMITTEE

Due to the fact that I was in a conference committee meeting, I did not have an opportunity to cast my vote against this measure. I had been assured that I would be informed when this measure was going to be brought to the floor. Unfortunately, no one communicated to me that said measure was being voted upon. I had previously expressed my opinion publicly that, while I felt the pension program should be upgraded, I also felt strongly the matter should be debated on the floor of the Senate and that such a measure should not be spirited through the Legislature at the last minute in an effort to avoid debate. Had I been present when this conference report was submitted to the Senate, I would have spoken against it and voted against it.

(Signed) SENATOR MARTIN J. DURKAN

REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

On motion of Senator Greive, the Senate Journal of the Sixtieth Day of the Forty-Second Legislature, First Extraordinary Session, was approved.

At 4:06 a.m., on motion of Senator Greive, the Senate of the Forty-Second Legislature, First Extraordinary Session, adjourned SINE DIE.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGES ON SENATE BILLS
VETOED AND PARTIALLY VETOED

May 21, 1971.

TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.
(Through the Secretary of State)

GENTLEMEN:

I am filing herewith to be transmitted to the Senate at the next session of the legislature, without my approval as to one section, SENATE BILL NO. 52, entitled:

"An Act relating to solid waste collection."

This bill pertains to solid waste management.

Section 5 provides that any county or municipality which extends public solid waste collection service to any area already served by a refuse collection company must acquire by purchase or condemnation the operating authority and equipment of the private operator.

I have determined to veto section 5. The provisions of section 5 do not answer such questions as how a total "operating authority" would be valued or condemned, or how, if at all, the operating authority and equipment can be severed, if a municipality desires to serve a portion (either geographical or by class of customer) of an area.

Further, the impact of section 5 on cities and towns on one hand and counties on the other is unclear. Cities and towns presently have full authority to collect garbage and refuse and to contract with a company for that purpose. Outside of cities and towns certificates of public convenience and necessity are issued to operators by the state. These relationships are not made clear since there is no precise meaning to the phrase "extend public solid waste collection", as used in section 5. If section 5 is applied within a city it may well convert a standard contract for garbage service into one with a guaranteed settlement procedure requiring the city to buy equipment it may not need or use along with goodwill, etc., which may be of no value to the city. If section 5 is applied to areas outside of a city then that territory is being served by a bona fide certificate holder and his property may not now be taken from him without just compensation under law.

Consequently, section 5 is unnecessary outside of cities and towns because the parties are protected under law already and there does not appear to be any clear justification for its application within cities and towns.

For these reasons, I have vetoed section 5. The remainder of Senate Bill No. 52 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.

TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.
(Through the Secretary of State)

GENTLEMEN:

I am filing herewith to be transmitted to the Senate at the next session of the legislature, without my approval, SENATE BILL NO. 68, entitled:

"An Act relating to industrial insurance."

Section 1 of this bill relates to RCW 51.32.090, the present statutory section governing payment of time loss compensation. However, this same statutory section was extensively and more satisfactorily amended by section 11 of Engrossed House Bill No. 735. Therefore, section 1 of Senate Bill No. 68 is unnecessary.

Section 2 which authorizes a program of vocational rehabilitation and retraining and continuation of time loss compensation while undergoing such retraining, is unnecessary since it is virtually identical to section 12 of Engrossed House Bill No. 735, which accomplishes the same purposes.
I have accordingly vetoed Senate Bill No. 68 in its entirety.

Respectfully submitted,
DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.

May 21, 1971.

TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.
(Through the Secretary of State)

GENTLEMEN:

I am returning herewith to be transmitted to the Senate at the next session of the legislature, without my approval as to one item, SENATE BILL NO. 108, entitled:

"An Act relating to crimes and punishment."

Section one of this bill clarifies and makes more equitable the law relating to concurrent and consecutive sentencing when persons are convicted of two or more offenses. Section 2 of the bill provides that no court shall suspend or defer the sentence of any person having been convicted of selling or attempting to sell narcotic or dangerous drugs for profit. I have determined to veto section 2; however, in so doing, I wish to make very clear that I have no sympathy for those who sell or attempt to sell narcotic or dangerous drugs, nor do I, in any way, mean to infer that the law should not deal strictly with such persons. However, I have had to veto this section for technical reasons. Senate Bill No. 146, the Uniform Controlled Substances Act, which I have signed into law, replaces and repeals the previous laws of this state relating to narcotic or dangerous drugs. The new law does not define narcotic or dangerous drugs but sets up five classifications of controlled substances. There is, as a consequence, no definition to which section 2 of SB 108 can refer. Furthermore, SB 146 does not at any point define sale or attempted sale either for profit or without profit as a crime. Delivery is defined as a criminal violation but sale is not. As a consequence, once again, there is nothing in this aspect to which section 2 of SB 108 can refer. Section 2 is thus technically deficient and would create confusion and ambiguity in the law.

For those reasons, but with the hope that appropriate controls of the problems of drug trafficking and drug abuse will continue to be acted upon by the legislature, as done in SB 146 and SB 273, I have vetoed section 2 of SB 108 and have approved section 1.

Respectfully submitted,
DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.

May 21, 1971.

TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.
(Through the Secretary of State)

GENTLEMEN:

I am filing herewith to be transmitted to the Senate at the next session of the legislature, without my approval as to two sections, SECOND SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 146 entitled:

"An Act relating to controlled substances."

I am vetoing section 69.50.510 which pertains to recording of private communications and conversations. While a change in the law of this state with regard to wiretapping and the use of recording devices by law enforcement officers may be necessary, I am of the opinion that such changes must, in the interest of safeguarding the citizens' right to privacy, be taken in the context of comprehensive revision with provisions for proper judicial supervision. The partial revision represented by this section can only delay and frustrate such efforts while opening the door to possible abuse.

I have also vetoed section 69.50.511 which provides for immunity from prosecution for witnesses when such immunity is necessary in the enforcement of the Controlled Substances Act. Enactment of the new grand jury bill with its immunity provisions and its provision for inquiry judges will insure availability of immunity as a law enforcement tool in combating drug abuse. It would be unwise to jeopardize this tool through possible conflict of two bills dealing with the same subject.

Respectfully submitted,
DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.

TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.
(Through the Secretary of State)

GENTLEMEN:

I am filing herewith to be transmitted to the Senate at the next session of the legislature, without my approval as to one item, SENATE BILL NO. 179, entitled:

"An Act relating to public assistance."

This bill provides for recovery by the Department of Social and Health Services for medical expenses it has paid where a public assistance recipient has been injured by a third party. The act further provides that the department will bear its proportionate share of attorney's fees and costs where an injured party has obtained his own attorney and has recovered from the third party. Court approval of such attorney's fees is required by the act, with the proviso that if the attorney's fees conform to the applicable minimum bar fee schedule, court approval is not necessary.

The Department of Labor and Industries has had similar legislation for some time which has provided for that department bearing its proportionate share of attorney's fees and costs, provided that there is court approval. There has been no exemption from court approval even where there was conformity to the applicable minimum bar fee schedule.
Without that exemption the act has proven quite workable, to the public, the bar and the department. There would not appear to be any reason to deviate from the already successful statutory formula which has applied to the Department of Labor and Industries.

It would appear the present law relating to the Department of Social and Health Services should, in the absence of substantial reason for difference, be consistent with the law related to the Department of Labor and Industries. Furthermore, there may well be times when the minimum bar fee schedule may not be appropriate and the court should have the opportunity to review such situations. I have therefore vetoed the item in section one, page two, lines 9 through 11.

The remainder of Senate Bill No. 179 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.

TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.
(Through the Secretary of State)

GENTLEMEN:

I am filing herewith to be transmitted to the Senate at the next session of the legislature, without my approval as to a certain item, SENATE BILL NO. 188, entitled:

"An Act relating to the practice of medicine and surgery."

This bill enacts a program of emergency life-saving services and further, in section four provides for immunity from liability for physicians or hospitals rendering emergency services based solely upon failure to obtain consent where the individuals served are unable by reason of age or condition to give consent and when there is no other person reasonably available who is legally authorized to give such consent.

I have vetoed the sentence in section 4 on page 3, lines 17 through 19, which provides that the state board of health shall adopt rules and regulations defining situations which may be considered emergent for the purposes of this act. Unfortunately, no one, including the state board of health has sufficient foresight to define emergency situations in a manner which would include all emergencies. Having such defined codified regulations might well at times require an additional expenditure of time by the physician or hospital personnel on the scene while they try to assure that the situation falls within rules and regulations. In such circumstances, time is of the essence and the judgment of a qualified and licensed physician and hospital personnel on the scene is the best judgment which must be relied upon. No one would be protected by rules and regulations defining emergencies, and at times someone might well be harmed thereby avoiding the very purpose of this act. The public is well protected from inappropriate judgments by the requirement of "good faith" action and the other limitations in the statute.

Since the opportunity for harm to persons in emergency situations due to delay or misunderstanding would be increased and no off-setting benefit either to the public or the individuals involved would accrue, this item has been vetoed. The remainder of the bill is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.

May 19, 1971.

TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.
(Through the Secretary of State)

GENTLEMEN:

I am filing herewith to be transmitted to the Senate at the next session of the legislature, without my approval as to certain items, SENATE BILL NO. 273, entitled:
"An Act relating to narcotic drugs, dangerous drugs, and alcohol."

This bill enacts a comprehensive approach to drug and alcohol education and rehabilitation.

There are certain inconsistencies between the present act and two other acts which passed this legislature: House Bill No. 277 relating to Community Mental Health programs and Senate Bill No. 146, the Uniform Controlled Substances Act relating to dangerous and narcotic drugs. I have therefore exercised certain vetoes in this act to alleviate any problems of inconsistency.

Senate Bill No. 146, the Uniform Controlled Substances Act repeals chapters 69.33 and 69.40 RCW. Section 2, page 2, lines 12, 13 and 14 of Senate Bill No. 273 has reference to those chapters. Reference to those same chapters are also contained in section 7, page 5, lines 5 and 6 of Senate Bill No. 273. As a consequence I have vetoed the inappropriate words in those sections, recognizing that the Uniform Controlled Substances Act relating to narcotic and dangerous drugs is a new chapter, RCW 69.50, and that the intention of the legislature is that the definitions contained in the new RCW chapter will apply to Senate Bill No. 273.

Section 12 of S.B. 273 was included in the event that H.B. 277 did not pass. Section 2 of H.B. 277 provides for funding of community mental health services as contained in sections 6 and 7 of S.B. 273.

It was understood by the legislators involved that in the event H.B. 277 did pass, section 12 would be vetoed out of S.B. 273. As a consequence, since H.B. 277 did pass, I have vetoed section 12 of S.B. 273 in order to avoid duplication, ambiguity and confusion in the funding mechanism related to community mental health services and drug treatment programs.

Respectfully submitted,
DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.

TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.
(Through the Secretary of State)

GENTLEMEN:

I am filing herewith to be transmitted to the Senate at the next session of the legislature, without my approval, SENATE BILL NO. 391, entitled:
"An Act relating to boundaries and plats."

A comprehensive platting and subdivision statute was passed by the legislature in 1969. A key provision of that statute requires notice to be published not less than ten days before a public hearing on the proposed plat. The requirement of notice is essential to the effective operation of the platting and subdivision statute and to protect the public.

Without a compelling public interest being shown it would be inappropriate to change the effective date of the notice provision to a date later than the effective date of the act itself. No such compelling public interest has been shown.

If there are individuals who may have been inadvertently harmed by the operations of the notice provision subsequent to the effective date of the act and prior to January 1, 1971, this problem might perhaps be corrected by more narrowly focused legislation rather than the approach taken in Senate Bill No. 391.

I have accordingly vetoed Senate Bill No. 391 in its entirety.

Respectfully submitted,
DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.
May 21, 1971.

TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.
(Through the Secretary of State)

GENTLEMEN:

I am filing herewith to be transmitted to the Senate at the next session of the legislature, without my approval as to one section, SENATE BILL NO. 408; entitled:
"An Act relating to public assistance; concerning the committee on vendor's rates."

This bill provides that the governor's committee on vendor rates shall investigate and consider various items in developing its recommendations for vendor rates to the Department of Social and Health Services.

However, section 6 of the bill purports to define the principal function of the committee, and while that section does define one of the functions of the committee there are other functions which are also of substantial importance, such as content of services purchased, assurance of adequate service delivery, and conformity to appropriate state and federal laws and regulations.

I have therefore vetoed section 6. I have approved the remainder of the bill which is, in any event, the operative portion of the legislation.

Respectfully submitted,
DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.

TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.
(Through the Secretary of State)

GENTLEMEN:

I am returning herewith to be transmitted to the Senate at the next session of the legislature without my approval as to one item, SENATE BILL NO. 428, entitled:
"An Act relating to the public welfare; providing for a litter control act."

This bill is a comprehensive litter control act. It established new litter control powers in the Department of Ecology, and imposes a tax upon those businesses which produce or sell items relating to the litter problem, in order to finance the administration of the act.
However, by reason of the fact that the definition of "person" in section 3(7) includes state and local government, the act would by its terms impose the tax upon the State Liquor Control Board, and possibly upon certain local governmental agencies. I believe this result to be unwarranted, and accordingly have vetoed that item from section 3(7) of the act.

With the exception of the above item, Senate Bill No. 428 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.

May 21, 1971.

TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.
(Through the Secretary of State)

GENTLEMEN:

I am filing herewith to be transmitted to the Senate at the next session of the legislature, without my approval as to certain items and sections, SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 441, entitled:
"An Act relating to crimes and criminal procedure; providing for the regulation of outdoor music festivals."

In three separate sections, the legislature provided for mandatory minimum sentences, actions which are contrary to current trends in the criminal justice field, and which take away discretion from the judiciary, the parole board, and the administrators of our correctional programs. Furthermore, veto of these sections is consistent with the Legislative Council's proposed comprehensive revision of the State Criminal Code which does not contain mandatory minimum sentences, despite dealing with the most serious types of crimes.

I have vetoed Section 6 of the act which expands the crime of first degree murder to include homicides occurring during commission of, or withdrawal from, the scene of any crime involving incendiary devices or explosives. My reasons for this action arise from my well-known opposition to expansion of applicability of the death penalty. It is unwise automatically to attach such a sanction to acts regardless of surrounding circumstances, particularly when under present law, murder in the first degree encompasses any homicide resulting from an act imminently dangerous to human life. Also, present law, coupled with provisions in this bill which I have approved will classify as second degree murder, with the possibility of application of the life sentence penalty, the acts contained in this vetoed section.

I have removed from the bill sections which provide for up to a $5,000 reward for the apprehension, bringing back and securing of any alleged or convicted felon. I have done so in the belief that the specific language in these provisions amounts to enabling legislation for bounty hunters and vigilante action by citizens untrained in the specialized techniques of law enforcement. This could only increase the danger to citizens and law enforcement officials alike.

I have vetoed in its entirety the provision in the act authorizing the police in their discretion to fingerprint and photograph juveniles. Not only may fingerprints and photographs be obtained under present law simply by securing the permission of the juvenile court, but this subject is directly covered in the nearly completed revision of the juvenile code undertaken by a committee of broad representation, including the judicial council, prosecuting attorneys, juvenile court judges, juvenile probation officers, law enforcement officials, Department of Social and Health Services staff, the Attorney General and others. It would be untimely to adopt this single provision when a comprehensive treatment of juvenile court law and the law relating to juvenile offenders will be presented to the 1972 session of the Legislature.

In hope of preserving its constitutionality, I have vetoed portions of Section 16 dealing with demonstrations and picketing in or near courthouses. Legislation regulating conduct in the areas of thought or expression must stay within the bounds of our basic constitutional framework. As revised by veto action, the bill now punishes acts which amount to obstruction of or interference with the judicial process. Such conduct is not protected under the first amendment and should not go unregulated if we are to preserve for each citizen the orderly processes of government.

The State Patrol and many police chiefs and sheriffs throughout the state have communicated to me their displeasure with Section 17, which grants statewide powers to local law enforcement officials for enforcement of drug laws in certain situations. This state has a strong history of combating statewide crime problems through cooperation and coordination which would be seriously weakened by this increase in power to local law enforcement without proper checks or controls when cross-jurisdictional problems occur. Rather than cooperation, this section would inevitably foster conflict among local police agencies. A further problem exists in that the investigation authority under this provision may well be repealed by the Uniform Controlled Substances Act, Senate Bill No. 146.

Included in this bill is an excellent piece of legislation providing for comprehensive regulation of outdoor music festivals which have presented the state with grave law enforcement and health problems in recent years. Inasmuch as music festivals have presented problems to local governmental units which are beyond their ability to respond, and to assure a consistent, planned, statewide approach, the state must assume a necessarily pre-emptive regulatory role. I have therefore vetoed Section 20 of this bill.

I have vetoed those portions of the bill as to outdoor music festivals which set fixed amounts for required bonds and evidence of insurance. I have taken this action to insure flexibility in the state's efforts at control. Fixed amounts may well prove too low for some poorly conceived activities, yet be far too high for relatively well-organized activities.

The veto action taken in Section 32 is technical, to correct an obvious drafting error making it an offense to participate in a music festival regardless of its legality. The section as vetoed now makes it a crime, as I am sure was the legislative intent, to fail to comply with the rules and conditions of the act.

Respectfully submitted,

DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.

TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.
(Through the Secretary of State)
GENTLEMEN:

I am filing herewith to be transmitted to the Senate at the next session of the legislature, without my approval as to one item, SENATE BILL NO. 465, entitled:

"An Act relating to pilotage on Puget Sound."

While the apparent purpose of section 3, that of insuring greater environmental protection to the waters of Puget Sound, is commendable, the unfortunate effect of the section is to delete the provision of state law making pilotage compulsory with respect to vessels not specifically exempted by the legislature. If section 3 is enacted into law, certain described vessels will be exempted from all the provisions of the Pilotage Act. All vessels not so exempt will "be subject to rules and regulations promulgated by the Washington Pilotage Commission", but there will be no legislative enactment making pilotage compulsory as to any vessels whatsoever.

While the pilotage commission might, and probably would, adopt rules and regulations requiring that a pilot be engaged for all vessels not specifically exempted by the legislature, there is a serious question as to the constitutionality and thus the enforceability of such a regulation.

The provision in section 3 does require the pilotage commission, immediately after the effective date of the act, to conduct a study relative to the need to require pilots licensed under the provisions of state law on all vessels entering Puget Sound and adjacent waters. I will instruct the chairman of the pilotage commission to make such a study the prime order of business of the commission so a comprehensive report will be available for the next session of the legislature.

Rather than run the risk of seriously weakening the present law relative to pilotage on Puget Sound I am vetoing certain portions of section 3 with the belief that after the submission of the report by the pilotage commission to the next session of the legislature the entire matter will be reviewed and the legislature will be able to determine what, if any, amendments are needed to the pilotage act.

The remainder of Senate Bill No. 465 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.

TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.
(Through the Secretary of State)

GENTLEMEN:

I am filing herewith to be transmitted to the Senate at the next session of the legislature, without my approval, SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 553, entitled:

"An Act relating to the Department of Social and Health Services."

This bill provides for placement of any child adjudicated delinquent in agencies, foster homes or group care facilities by both the Department of Social and Health Services which licenses such facilities or by the juvenile court directly.

This act also mandates the method of rate setting and payment to agencies in which children adjudicated delinquent are placed either by the department or by the juvenile court.

While I am strongly in favor of local and community treatment and rehabilitation of children adjudicated either delinquent or dependent, I must reluctantly veto this entire bill because of the procedures and criteria it contains.

As the bill is written, although the state is required to pay for the children placed, there is no method by which the state can control costs. In addition, the state could well be making double payment in many instances. The state would pay the facility for the services rendered and, since the child is kept in the community thus lowering the county commitment rate, the state would make a probation subsidy payment as well. This is duplicate and inappropriate state financing.

There is a further problem in that as this bill is written, it might well tend to encourage...
courts to make findings of delinquency rather than dependency even where inappropriate, since there would be higher rates paid for children adjudicated delinquent than would be the case for children adjudicated dependent. No such irrelevant factor should be permitted to enter into the adjudication of delinquency or dependency which should rest on the particular facts of each individual case.

This bill has the effect of providing that agencies caring for delinquent children will be treated differently from those who are caring for dependent children. There appears to be no reason to treat such agencies differently; indeed, there is clear inequity where similar services result in different payments, a situation might well be out of compliance with federal requirements for equal treatment of vendors.

I have therefore reluctantly vetoed this bill, but would hope that further study of these issues and the proper financing of local community treatment programs will be undertaken, and a statute encouraging such programs and providing appropriate payment will be passed by the legislature and presented for signature.

Respectfully submitted,
DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.

GENTLEMEN:

I am filing herewith to be transmitted to the Senate at the next session of the legislature, without my approval as to certain items, SENATE BILL NO. 690, entitled:

"An Act relating to metropolitan municipal corporations."

Senate Bill No. 690 amends the Metropolitan Municipal Corporations Act to establish county-wide metro boundaries, enlarge the metropolitan council and strengthen its capacity to operate an area-wide transportation system.

Section 2 (14) defines "metropolitan public transportation" to exclude the operation of "chartered bus", "sight-seeing bus" or any other "motor vehicle" not operating on an individual fare-paying basis. This subsection is intended to protect the position of the private charter carriers. However, the subsection appears to go further than was intended since it may have the inadvertent effect, by the terms of the final proviso, of preventing the use of people-moving systems other than those using "motor vehicles".

In addition, this subsection limits the municipality to providing school bus service for the transportation of the pupils between their homes and schools. Because public education involves the transportation of students in an educational context on a broader basis than merely between homes and school this limitation upon the municipality is not appropriate.

I have accordingly item vetoed these limitations from subsection (14) of section 2.

The remainder of the bill is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.

May 21, 1971.

TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.
(Through the Secretary of State)

GENTLEMEN:

I am returning herewith to be transmitted to the Senate at the next session of the legislature, without my approval as to certain items, SENATE BILL NO. 691, entitled:

"An Act relating to revenue and taxation and public transportation."

This bill permits the voters within the boundaries of a metropolitan municipal corporation to authorize a local sales tax of three-tenths of a percent in lieu of the local household tax in Class AA Counties. It provides the funding mechanism for the financing of a public transportation system to be operated by a metropolitan municipal corporation. Monies raised at the local level through the imposition of the additional sales tax are matchable, with certain limitations, with state funds.

Section 2 provides that the metro council may submit an authorizing proposition to the voters with respect to the issue of the imposition of the sales tax. There is an ambiguity in the first sentence of section 2 with respect to the reference to ownership of a public transportation system. In order to avoid any uncertainty I have, for clarification purposes, item vetoed that reference.

Section 2 also contains a requirement that the proposition submitted to the voters shall include language stating that such proposition shall be partially financed by the levying of an additional three-tenths of one percent per dollar on sales transactions “within King County”. The reference to “King County” creates internal inconsistencies within the bill since the bill pertains to a city within a Class AA County, a Class AA County, or any metropolitan municipal corporation within a Class AA County. Since the tax authorization will, in any event, be included in the ballot proposition the clause is functionally superfluous. Accordingly, this item has been vetoed.

Section 2 contains a proviso that after June 30, 1973, no sales or use tax levied and collected pursuant to this act may be used as qualifying matching funds. The effect of this proviso will be that a Class AA County which approves a sales tax will lose state matching funds after 1973 even though cities in all other counties would continue to be eligible to receive state matching funds for public transportation systems. After careful consideration of this question, I have determined to item veto this proviso. With this matching capability restored, the needed long-term funding support for public transportation within a Class AA County will be provided.

With the exception of the items referred to above, the remainder of the bill is approved.

Respectfully submitted,

DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.

TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.
(Through the Secretary of State)

GENTLEMEN:

I am returning herewith to be submitted to the Senate at the next session of the legislature, without my approval of three items, SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 849, entitled:

“An Act relating to revenue and taxation of timber and forest lands.”

This bill constitutes a comprehensive new program for the taxation of timber and timber lands, by phasing out the taxation of timber under the property tax system and placing timber on an excise tax system based upon yield. The bill also provides that timber lands shall remain under the property tax system, but that the valuation of such lands shall be on the basis of their actual use, i.e., the growing and harvesting of timber.

The act further provides, with respect to the valuation of such lands and the timber thereon that responsibility for making the valuations will be in the Department of Revenue. However, it is also provided that the decisions of the department in carrying out its responsibility under the bill can become effective only upon approval of the forest tax committee established pursuant to section 18 of the bill.

I believe that the full responsibility for the valuation process should be solely with a department of the executive branch of government, and that the functions of the forest tax committee, the majority of which will consist of legislators and representatives of the timber industry, should be limited to those specified in sections 7(10) and 18. Undoubtedly the committee will be in a position to give valuable advice to the department with respect to the valuation process, and I believe that the role of the committee in the valuation process should be limited to that function.

In addition it should be noted that the eligibility of members of the 42nd Legislature... to serve as members of the forest tax committee is open to serious constitutional question without these vetoes; see Oceanographic Commission v. O'Brien, 74 Wn.2d 904 (1968).

For these reasons, I have vetoed those items of the bill which give the committee the approval function described above.

With the exception of these three items, Substitute Senate Bill No. 849 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,

DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.

GENTLEMEN:

I am filing herewith to be transmitted to the Senate at the next session of the legislature, without my approval as to a section, SENATE BILL NO. 884 entitled:

"An Act relating to housing authorities."

The proviso in SB 884, "That the governing body of any class A county east of the Cascade mountains and of any city within such county shall only make such determination after referendum thereon to the people of such city or county, as the case may be." is narrowly drawn to apply to only one county in the state. Such a limitation to the general requirements of existing statutes relative to housing authorities is inappropriate and contrary to sound public policy. I have therefore vetoed this proviso and approved the remainder of the bill.

Respectfully submitted,

DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.

May 21, 1971.

TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.
(Through the Secretary of State)

GENTLEMEN:

I am returning herewith to be transmitted to the Senate at the next session of the legislature, without my approval as to certain sections, SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 897, entitled:

"An Act relating to revenue and taxation."

Section 19 of this bill is an amendment to RCW 82.32.090, and provides for an increase in the penalty for delinquent state excise taxes from 2% to 5%. The effective date of this section is, in accordance with section 79 of the bill, July 1, 1971.

RCW 82.32.090 was also amended by section 1 of Substitute House Bill No. 461 which I have already signed. Section 1 of Substitute House Bill No. 461 not only increases the penalty from 2% to 5%, but also provides that taxes accrued, though not collected, in the last month of the fiscal year shall be credited to that fiscal year rather than the succeeding fiscal year. Further, the effective date of these provisions is June 1, 1971.

In order to avoid any inconsistency between section 19 of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 897 and section 1 of Substitute House Bill No. 461 as to effective dates, I have vetoed section 19.

I have also vetoed sections 26 through 31, which establish a 3.6% compensating excise tax upon the use of electrical energy sold at retail by the Bonneville Power Administration to its industrial customers. The purpose of these provisions is an excellent one, in that they compensate for the fact that these sales of electrical energy cannot be made subject to the 3.6% public utility tax imposed upon retail sales of electrical energy by other sellers, such as private power companies, public utility districts, and municipal utility systems.

However, special circumstances require a veto of these provisions at this time. For these industrial customers of the Bonneville Power Administration will be making contributions in the amount of approximately three million dollars annually as part of the additional costs of keeping in operation the "N" Reactor at Hanford. This will allow continuous operation of the Hanford No. 1 steam generating plant of Washington Public Power Supply System, which is essential for the economic welfare of the state.

In view of this unexpected and heavy burden upon these industrial customers, I feel the additional burden of the proposed compensating tax is unwarranted at this time. However, consideration must certainly be given to imposing this tax at the expiration of the agreements providing for the contributions from these industrial customers, approximately three years hence.

I have also vetoed section 32 and 34, which raise the yield tax applicable to timber on classified reforestation lands under chapter 84.28 RCW from twelve and one-half to twenty-five percent of the timber value. Pursuant to Substitute Senate Bill No. 849, which I have signed today, a study is to be made of the problem of integrating taxation of land and timber now classified under chapter 84.28 RCW into the provisions of Substitute Senate Bill No. 849. I believe that any legislative action with respect to changing the rates of the yield tax under chapter 84.28 RCW should await the results of this study.

With the exception of sections 19, 26 through 32, and 34, the remainder of the bill is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.

TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.
(Through the Secretary of State)

GENTLEMEN:

I am filing herewith to be transmitted to the Senate at the next session of the legislature, without my approval, SENATE BILL NO. 903, entitled:

"An Act relating to public contracts."

In 1967 the legislature repealed section 1, chapter 34, Laws of 1933, RCW 39.24.010 which provided for a five percent differential in the purchase by governmental agencies of materials, supplies, goods, wares, merchandise or produce grown, produced or manufactured in the State of Washington. The policy adopted by the legislature in 1967 is of economic advantage to the state in selling its goods in other states.

I see no compelling reason to change our present policy as this bill would do. This legislation is unnecessary for the industry involved and would be harmful to the general interests of the people of this state.

I have accordingly vetoed Senate Bill No. 903 in its entirety.

Respectfully submitted,
DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.

May 21, 1971.

TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.
(Through the Secretary of State)

GENTLEMEN:

I am returning herewith to be transmitted to the Senate at the next session of the legislature, without my approval, SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 915, entitled:

"An Act relating to the Washington State Ferry System."

This bill establishes the Puget Sound Ferry Operations Account within the Motor Vehicle Fund. Money in this account would be used to supplement the revenue of the ferry system in meeting the operation and maintenance expenses of the system. The account is funded from the Motor Vehicle Fund. The formula for distribution of these funds is changed to reduce the percentages allocated to cities and towns, counties and the state in order to make a portion of the fund available for funding of the new ferry account.

I have determined to veto Substitute Senate Bill No. 915. In so doing, it is not my intent to permit an increase in ferry fares. At the present time there is some operating profit in the ferry system and therefore no further subsidy is presently required. Wage contract renewal negotiations will be determined by July of this year so that the amount of subsidy needed, if any, is presently unknown.

If a substantial fiscal problem arises this can be addressed in the 1972 Session without the need for fare increases. Prior to the 1972 Session the comprehensive study of cross-sound transportation financing authorized by the legislature will be completed. This study will address the issue of the level of support required for ferry subsidies and the other interrelated issues of cross-sound transportation.

Respectfully submitted,
DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.

May 21, 1971.

TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.
(Through the Secretary of State)

GENTLEMEN:

I am filing herewith to be transmitted to the Senate at the next session of the legislature, without my approval as to certain items, SENATE BILL NO. 926 entitled:

"An Act adopting the supplemental budget; making appropriations for miscellaneous purposes; and declaring an emergency."

The specific items I have vetoed are as follows:

1. Department of Social and Health Services

   On page 8, beginning on line 27, I have vetoed the following language: "For the Division of Health: PROVIDED, That this appropriation, or so much as will be necessary, will be utilized for the operation of Firland Sanatorium from January 1, 1972 for the remainder of the biennium."

   This appropriation is necessary to provide interim financing until the revenue provided for in the passage of HB 313 becomes available to operate the Sanatorium. The effect of removing this language is to enable the Department to utilize a portion of these funds for interim financing of Firland and to fund other mandatory legislation for which an appropriation was not provided in the rush of passing a supplemental budget in the last moments of the session. Any remaining balance will be placed in unallotted status and reverted at the end of the biennium.

2. State Treasurer—State Revenue for Distribution

   On page 9, beginning on line 14, I have vetoed the following language: "not to exceed 15% of revenues." This language is inconsistent with SB 156 which requires the Treasurer to distribute 25% of the snowmobile registration fees to county treasurers. I believe the intent of the substantive legislation should be followed, rather than the erroneous provision in a hastily considered supplemental appropriations bill.

3. Interim Committee on Water Resources

   On page 10, on lines 32 and 33, I have vetoed the appropriation to the Interim Committee on Water Resources. I have been advised by the Speaker of the House and other legislators that such an interim committee was not appointed.

   With the exception of the items described above, the remainder of the bill is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.
