Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lee: "Senator Hughes, do you still feel and will you still be voting that it would be unwise for the state to provide any additional funds for tourism advertising to create jobs in that sector?"

Senator Hughes: "Senator Lee, first of all, I wouldn't want to get into vote trading because that wouldn't be proper. I believe that the budget level of tourism in light of the fiscal problems that face this state are adequate. I think we have some studies that will be coming in and I believe those are crucial.

"One thing I would like to say is without this amendment, I think we may be putting the agencies in a position of where they're going to have to eat the additional costs and as I stated earlier, I think these costs are somewhat inflated. I think when you look at this program, you must look at the benefits to society, the environmental concerns and the additions. I think that anybody that is familiar, and I know you are, with the civilian conservation corps, you know the benefits will not only go to us but to our children and future generations. So while I would like to see the costs come down even lower, and I think they will in the interim, I think this is a very, very wise investment of taxpayer dollars."

Further debate ensued.

Senator Hughes demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Goltz: "Senator Patterson, I notice your amendment says that we should spend twenty thousand dollars solely to provide for an exemplary study. How do we know if it's exemplary until it's done?"

Senator Patterson: "Well, you've got to take your chances, Senator. We certainly hope that by having that in there it will turn out to be that kind of a study."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Bluechel, Senators Haley and von Reichbauer were excused.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendments by Senators Patterson and Gaspard to the Committee on Ways and Means amendment.

The motion by Senator Patterson carried and the amendments to the committee amendment, having received the constitutional 60% majority were adopted.

MOTION

Senator Bottiger moved the following amendment by Senators Bottiger, Guess and Patterson to the Committee on Ways and Means amendment be adopted:

On page 76, of the amendment, after line 6, insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 515. There is added to chapter 76, Laws of 1983 1st ex. sess. a new section to read as follows:

The appropriations in this act to the state board for community college education and the four-year institutions of higher education are subject to the following conditions and limitations: (1) Individual community colleges may provide off-campus programs within the respective district boundaries without prior legislative approval; (2) No four-year institution may enter into new contracts, leases, or other commitments to establish off-campus extension centers without prior legislative approval."

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively and correct internal references accordingly.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Gaspard: "Senator Bottiger, historically, community colleges have provided programs and services to the community, off-campus, in small business establishments and at plant sites. Is it your intention to require each and every new program or service offering to come before the Legislature for approval?"
Senator Bottiger: "No, Senator. If an institution has an on-going program or commitment to provide intermittent training anywhere in the district, then those temporary programs do not require legislative approval. I am concerned with the establishment of more or less permanent satellite campuses by these institutions, and I think that is what my amendment curtails, unless they have prior approval. We're not talking about going to a--say a new high-tech industry and offering to put on a training program where they don't have a permanent building or permanent structure or rented classrooms."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Fuller: "Senator Bottiger, does this leave intact those existing programs such as we have in the east end of Lewis County?"

Senator Bottiger: "Yes, Senator. I'm not asking anybody to cancel anything. That would be very expensive. You'd have people caught in the middle of course, and it's only, obviously since we're on a budget bill, for the rest of the biennium. We're saying 'don't start any new ones unless you've got our approval.'"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lee: "Senator Bottiger, are we talking about your second revised amendment--the one on the short piece of paper? 'You relate to the term 'off campus extension centers.' I know you're aware of the extension service that is, in fact, provided by Washington State University, with responsibility directed towards agriculture and the various counties. Would that be included if they were going to make any kind of change?"

Senator Bottiger: "No, Senator, this doesn't apply. The actual reason for the second revised amendment was that we contacted a representative of the community colleges to make sure what do you call these things when you open an old former grocery store or a former theater and they are called 'off campus extension centers,' and that's why we revised it so we were directly after what--"

Senator Lee: "And so you do not intend to include it if you have extended service?"

Senator Bottiger: "Right."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Goltz: "Senator Bottiger, there is one community college in this state which has no campus at all. It does all of its instruction through centers of one kind or another located solely within the community college district. I would assume that this does not affect any community college which has this kind of delivery system within its own community college district. Is that correct?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator, they could not establish an off-campus extension center if they didn't have a campus."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hemstad: "Senator Bottiger, it is my understanding that since 1977 there has normally been a proviso in the biennium budget that has prohibited the undertaking of new off-campus programs at least in the four-year schools and I suspect it probably applies to the community colleges without the prior approval of the Council on Postsecondary Education.

"Would you object if this were amended to replace the Legislature by the Council?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator, it's the Council that has been giving the approval. Yes, I would object. You know, Senator Wojahn and I hit a storm when Evergreen rented a former theater and opened up a new quote off-campus something extension center and we didn't know about it. They apparently got approval from the Council of Postsecondary Education."

Senator Hemstad: "I believe they did. They go through the process that's fairly elaborate in deciding whether it makes sense to do just that. My concern is, I guess, that we have it in the Legislature it brings to a halt any kind of evolutionary and development in this area that would make sense."

Senator Bottiger: "Well, Senator. I'd like to know about it. I'd like to have them come down and tell us and I'd like them to reference it someplace and I don't want to delegate it to somebody else."
Senator Fleming: "Senator Bottiger, I have two questions. The first one is would this particular amendment affect Washington State University? As you are well aware, they have what they call a small business development center that is funded out of the Washington State University—and they do have several centers around the state that they, in conjunction with local economic development groups, set up to try and help small businessmen. As a matter of fact, the last one they’ve gone into is down in Clark County, at this point in time.

"Would this have an effect on that type of operation?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Fleming, I suggest that that’s almost a rephrase of Senator Gaspard’s question. No, if they have a program in which they’ve done this and they’re short termed—no leases, no permanent buildings—it’s not my intent to prohibit—"

"My second question would be on the Evergreen one. Is it the fact that you did not know, or is it the fact that you or those that are concerned about this, don’t like the Evergreen-type of program that has moved into Tacoma and PLU or something like that—sees that as some kind of competition?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator, I have been a supporter of Evergreen. I support the concept of the kind of program they offer. I do think they ought to tell the Legislature before they create off-campus satellites. I think we ought to know about that and I think we ought to approve it. Now, with every satellite goes libraries, extensions—different kinds of services and the cost to the taxpayers gets very high."

Further debate ensued.

Senator Guess: "Senator Bottiger, I have the same concerns as Senator Fleming had. When the mine shut down at Chewelah, the Spokane Community College immediately went there and put in a school for training seamstresses to sew ski jackets for Pacific Trail. Now, they had to lease for a period of three years—they had to lease the building, which they did. Is this going to preclude—when some business goes out and the community college responds to industry and to the community to try and save their community, will this keep them from having—make them come back here?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator, I don’t know how to answer that question, because first of all, I don’t even know where Chewelah is. I do know that the activities of some of our colleges moving into communities and establishing satellite campuses—to avoid the legislative approval process has got me upset. Now, if this community college—creating a satellite campus had gone through the legislative review process—we meet every year—I don’t know how much advance planning they need, but my suggestion would be they come down and make sure that we approve it."

Senator Guess: "Senator, they have not ever, in my knowledge, had to come back to the Legislature. We have appropriated them a block of money. We’ve not told them that they can educate exactly the number of students—and so they went to Chewelah, they went to Davenport, they went to Colville, they went to Colfax—they have leased buildings on store fronts in those towns and they conduct hundreds and hundreds of classes every year. This would preclude the normal way they’ve been operating ever since the Community College Act passed in 1967."

Further debate ensued.

Senator Bauer: "Senator Bottiger, Evergreen, which got placed in Olympia as opposed to Vancouver several years ago left Southwestern Washington a little vacant in four-year institutional opportunities, now has offered some courses in the Vancouver area. They got kicked out of a building they were in for awhile because it changed ownership. They now are relocating, hopefully on the Clark College campus, with some agreement. Now that they’re in transit and there’s some proposal of working with Clark College on a building arrangement, would this preclude them from doing that?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator, if the amendment is adopted they had better get the contract signed within ninety days."

Senator Bauer: "Well, we've got some money in the capital budget so we want to get those bricks and cement going before this happens, Senator."

Senator Bottiger: "Senator, then it's approved. Then we would have no objection. If they've got the money in the capital budget, then they've got legislative approval."

Further debate ensued.

MOTIONS

Senator Hemstad moved that the following amendment to the Bottiger amendment to the Committee on Ways amendment be adopted:

On the last line of the amendment, strike "legislative" and insert "of the Council of Postsecondary Education."

On motion of Senator Bottiger, further consideration of the amendment to the Bottiger amendment to the Committee on Ways and Means amendment was deferred.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hemstad: "My inquiry is what number of votes will it be required to move an amendment to the amendment? I would suggest that it would probably be a simply majority, because under the rule an amendment to the budget requires sixty percent, but I think an amendment to the amendment would probably only require a simple majority."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "In reply to the inquiry by Senator Hemstad, Rule 52 states that no amendment to the budget or supplemental budget, not incorporated in the bill as reported by the ways and means committee, shall be adopted except by the affirmative vote of sixty percent of the senators elected.

"Therefore, the President rules that each amendment, oral or otherwise, requires a 60 percent favorable vote of the members elected."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Goltz, the following amendment by Senators Goltz, Gaspard, Guess, Rinehart, Patterson and Hurley to the Committee on Ways and Means amendment, having received the constitutional 60% majority, was adopted:

On page 82, beginning on line 7, after "(8)", strike all material down to and including "area: on line 13, and insert the following:

"$80,000 is appropriated from the general fund to provide for a needs assessment and planning by the higher education institutions in the Spokane area for programs in engineering and technology to meet community and industrial needs. The institutions participating in the development of the needs assessment and planning shall include, but not be limited to, Washington State University, Gonzaga University, Eastern Washington University, Whitworth College and the Spokane Community College District. The funds appropriated herein shall be administered by Washington State University serving as agent of record."

MOTION

Senator Hansen moved the following amendment to the Committee on Ways and Means amendment be adopted:

On page 84, after line 27, insert a new subsection as follows:

"(6) $200,000 is appropriated from the general fund for an electronic engineering technology degree program."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lee: "Senator Hansen, since this is not an additional amount of money for Central Washington University, it is simply saying that the money we are already appropriating for you—we are not changing that—you must use two hundred thousand dollars for this program. I guess what I'm mystified at, is there some indication we won't use it unless we tell them to?"

Senator Hansen: "I believe this is added money."
Senator Lee: "It is not. I don't see any language in any amendment that provides additional money for Central Washington University. This, in fact, would have to come from the appropriation that we already have in the bill. It would take another amendment to do that, Senator Hansen."

Senator Hansen: "Central Washington is the one that wrote the amendment. As I understand it, it adds two hundred thousand dollars that they overlooked getting into the original budget."

Senator Lee: "Senator Hansen, it's important for me to understand whether or not—since this language does not say that—does not change the appropriation to Central Washington University—it would have to be changed on page 83."

Senator Hansen: "I would have to get back to you. Senator Lee, so maybe we can set this amendment down until I get that information for you."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Hansen, further consideration of the amendment on page 84, line 27, to the Committee on Ways and Means amendment was deferred.

MOTION

Senator McDermott moved that the following amendment to the Committee on Ways and Means amendment be adopted:

On page 96, line 10, after "biennium." insert "Moneys in the account shall be spent to implement Substitute Senate Bill No. 3287."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lee: "Senator McDermott, I hear what you're saying and I don't disagree with your logic, but I can't see how it fits in the bill. If this is in the section that appropriates eight million one hundred thousand dollars and not the 1.2 that you were mentioning and it follows after "awards." It then leaves the rest of that sentence hanging 'ending June 30, 1983.' I just wonder if we have an incorrect reference here?"

Senator McDermott: "Senator Lee. the reference is page 96, line 10, which I corrected, but apparently it didn't get read as we were reading it. It goes in the section dealing with the revenue accrual accounts which begins on page 95, line 34."

Senator Lee: "O.K., I understand that. What I'm looking for now is to be sure that we are limiting it just to that 1.2 million dollars that you were talking about and not to the entire revenue accrual account."

Senator McDermott: "Well. Senator Lee, if you read the entire section, you will see on line 2—is hereby created in the general fund at the close of the fiscal biennium shall transfer out of the general fund. Moneys from this account may only be spent after appropriations by statute for the purpose of decreasing the unfunded liability of state retirement systems or during the '83-'85 session for the purpose of discharging obligations which the Legislature determined are correctly chargeable to a prior biennium. We are now adding a line which says 'money shall be used for the implementation of this bill.' so it is tightly drawn to deal only with that particular bill in this biennium."

Senator Lee: "I guess my question is, does this language indicate that that's now going to be the only purpose for which this money can be spent?"

Senator McDermott: "Senator Lee, you'll have to show me the word where it says 'only.' It says 'monies in the account shall be spent'—implemented. It doesn't say 'shall only be spent.'"

Senator Lee: "We're not giving them any other alternative. We're just saying 'monies in the account shall be spent' and if there's some left over, of course, it probably can't be spent for anything else other than this one purpose. I don't think that was your intent, was it?"

Senator McDermott: "It's pretty clear what my intent is. I think. If you don't have the word 'only' in there, it will be used for the other purposes above. It can additionally be used for this purpose."

Further debate ensued.

Senator McDermott demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.
The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on adoption of the amendment by Senator McDermott to the Committee on Ways and Means amendment.

ROLL CALL

The more I think about it the more I think we ought to just let the amendment hang. If you don't want to do that, it was their idea that we somehow establish it and we thought it made sense."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on adoption of the amendment by Senator Lee to the Committee on Ways and Means amendment.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the motion by Senator Lee carried and the amendment to the Committee on Ways and Means amendment, having received the constitutional 60% majority, was adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 31; nays, 14; absent, 02; excused, 02.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Goltz: "Senator Clarke, is this the same part of the state patrol that sent the undercover agents into the Legislature to do a drug investigation in this building several years ago?"

Senator Clarke: "Number one, I do not believe that, at least as far as our supervisory committee was concerned, there was any authority given for the kind of investigation that you're talking about. I might also respond to this extent that if the Legislature is apprehensive that this committee or that this section of the State Patrol is doing something, by way of investigating the Legislature, it should be amply protected by the fact it is supervised by eight legislators from both parties..."
and those legislators have the right to inquire in detail into any sort of activity that particular division gets into."

Further debate ensued.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: “Senator McDermott, I thought I heard you say that we had put three hundred thousand dollars in there to make buys.”

Senator McDermott: “Yes.”

Senator Guess: “They just laid this amendment on my desk. It says ‘deletes the three hundred thousand dollar appropriation.’ Is that a different three hundred thousand dollars?”

Senator McDermott: “senator Guess, I put this amendment on the desk so if the amendment hangs we will pull that buy money out. I think if you’re going to be making the decision here that you want a state police, then I don’t think you should have them with a bunch of buy money. They ought to have to come in and ask for it from us directly, so I don’t think you can go both ways at the same time. If this amendment—Senator Clarke’s amendment—hangs, then I think this other amendment is appropriate. If it does not hang, I will pull this amendment from the desk.”

Senator Guess: “Just one more question. The amendment adds four hundred and twelve thousand and then gives them four operatives and does that include the three hundred thousand dollars then to buy money?”

Senator McDermott: “No.”

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Sellar: "Senator Bottiger, in section 403, there is money for a joint study with the Department of Transportation and Washington Public Ports--part of that is a contribution by the Ports. In your opinion, could that contribution be a combination of cash and in-kind service?"

Senator Bottiger: "When the Department of Transportation and the Ports discussed this with me and it was anticipated that the Ports would provide the supervision for the study that would be put out on contract. There would be a request for proposals. The contract would be less than three hundred thousand and the Ports would have to come up with the balance to provide the supervision. That is what the fifteen percent is for."

Further debate ensued.

SECOND READING

Authorizing a county tax on nonresidents of the state employed in the county.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Thompson, the rules were suspended. Engrossed House Bill No. 1509 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Patterson: "Senator Thompson, in your remarks, you referenced only the state of Oregon. I'm wondering whether or not the counties that border on Idaho, would be given this same opportunity under this legislation?"

Senator Thompson: "Senator Patterson, they would be similarly affected should a county choose to exercise its permissive authority."

Senator Patterson: "Then, what you are saying is that the residents of Idaho who are working in the state of Washington—the county where they work would have the authority, under this legislation, to levy the excise tax on their employment in the state of Washington from Idaho?"

Senator Thompson: "Yes, I am."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hurley: "Senator Thompson, because there has been no conflict between the border counties and Idaho, and I would like to speak for Spokane County, I think that it might be a good will measure to have you answer the question that I am going to ask? There is no intent, is there, by any other border counties that you know of to exercise this privilege?"

Senator Thompson: "There certainly is no intent to do so. Senator Hurley, and I would also like to key on your words 'good will.' I would hope that 'good will' would be maintained or obtained in our relationship with all our bordering states, even with the state of Oregon. This measure simply represents, with its delayed implementation date of July 1, 1985, a last resort option that the state of Washington would have in dealing with the Oregon situation."

Further debate ensued.
Senator McCaslin: "Senator Thompson, I may have missed it, but just in case I did, maybe you could point it out to me. In lines 18 through 20, it states 'the county shall allocate to each city or town the amount of such taxes as are paid by nonresidents employed respectively in each such city or town.' What amount of this tax will go to the counties?"

Senator Thompson: "That proportion—that share that is represented by those numbers that are employed in the unincorporated area."

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Thompson, I know you are one of those, as I am, and the rest of the body here, that want to encourage industries to come into the state—high-tech and all of that. Could you explain to me how we would handle a case such as Hewlett-Packard or Fairchild Camera, that have come into the state for the purposes of constructing the plants and engineering the plants, yet they are residents of California or New York? How would we handle that? This applies to all counties and I know Snohomish County has high-tech up there, with Hewlett-Packard. We have Fairchild Camera in Pierce County. We would then be obligated to assess taxes against these industries that we have invited into the state—the employees of those—"

Senator Thompson: "May I answer now, Senator Rasmussen? This is a commuter tax, in effect, and I assume that there is no one that is going to commute from those distant states to Pierce County or any interior county. As a matter of fact, I don't anticipate that this measure will ever be implemented. I'm hopeful that it will be repealed prior to its effective date, but nevertheless in response to your concern, it is a commuter tax, in effect."

Senator Rasmussen: "Could you define 'commuter'? Is that the person that comes in once a month—once every six months—or twice a day? I don't see any definition in the bill. I don't even see 'commuter tax.'"

Senator Thompson: "I would be a tax on persons residing outside of the state who are employed inside the county. It is a county tax."

Senator Rasmussen: "And it covers all thirty-nine counties?" Senator Thompson: "Yes, it does." Further debate ensued.

Senator Fleming: "Senator Thompson, recognizing your expertise here as chairman of the Local Government Committee, and I recognize that this is dealing with thirty-nine counties. Is it possible that we could offer an amendment or an amendment could fit into this section that would extend this to allow cities to do that same kind of thing?"

Senator Thompson: "Senator Fleming, this measure is drafted to provide for cities to be involved in the income from this tax. As a matter of practical fact, if it were ever to be implemented, which I wouldn't anticipate, cities would most assuredly derive most of the income, because most of the employment is within city limits."

Senator Fleming: "Well, my problem is that you are having problems with the Oregon state border, we, sometimes in Seattle, have problems with the bedroom cities, like Mercer Island and others that come across the bridge and use our streets, come work in our city and go back home to their bedroom and then don't want to help pay for any of those kinds of services that they used up. So, when I was in the House, we talked about a head tax and I am just wondering if I could get a little amendment on this so that every time Senator Clarke went across that bridge over to Seattle and made his money and then went back to Mercer Island, then we might we able to collect a head tax to help pay for the damage to those streets and some of the other services that he used up. I'm just using that as an example—I'm not picking on Senator Clarke—that could be in the south or in the north or whatever."

Senator Thompson: "Senator Fleming, you see possibilities in this context that I hope you hadn't noticed."

Further debate ensued.
The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 1509.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 1509, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 44; nays, 05; absent, 00; excused, 00.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Metcalf, the President finds that Substitute Senate Bill No. 4381 is an omnibus bill dealing with election procedures by modifying provisions relating to oaths of office, filing dates, precinct boundaries, ballot titles and port commissioner vacancies.

"The amendments proposed by the House of Representatives also deal with the subject of election procedures by incorporating the provisions of the original bill, and by adding procedures for filling a vacancy in the position of United States Senator or Representative, and by eliminating primaries for nonpartisan positions in certain instances.

"The President, therefore, finds that the proposed amendments do not expand the scope and object of the bill and that the point of order is not well taken."

The amendments by the House of Representatives were ruled in order.

There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 4798 and the pending House of Representatives amendments, deferred on February 28, 1984.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Pullen, the President finds that Engrossed Senate Bill No. 4798 is a measure dealing with the subject of prison overcrowding by extending the Prison Overcrowding Reform Act, by appropriating funds to local communities where correctional facilities are located, and by providing for the development of a comprehensive system of alternative programs for nonviolent offenders by the Department of Corrections.

"The amendments proposed by the House of Representatives also deal with the subject of prison overcrowding by incorporating most of the provisions of the Senate Bill, by giving the Governor additional authority to deal with prison overcrowding, and by establishing a program to assist employees of the Department of Corrections who are injured by prison inmates, in recognition of prison overcrowding and the hazardous nature of that employment.

"The President, therefore, finds that the proposed amendments do not expand the scope and object of the bill and that the point of order is not well taken."

The amendments by the House of Representatives were ruled in order.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Moore, the original intention was to prohibit banks and depositories that had state funds from charging for the cashing of state checks, social security and so forth. We have done nothing about that, then?"

Senator Moore: "That is the House amendment."

Senator Rasmussen: "To study that?"

Senator Moore: "Yes."

Senator Rasmussen: "Only to study it?"
Senator Moore: "That's all it is, at this point."

Senator Rasmussen: "What will the poor people do in the meantime when they go into the bank and they have a state welfare check or a social security check and they want to charge them two and a half, three and a half or four dollars for the cashing of them?"

Senator Moore: "I hope, Senator Rasmussen, that as a result of your question and my answer that the banks will be alerted to a modest amount of trouble ahead for them if they continue this practice."

Senator Rasmussen: "Well, thank you, I'm glad to hear they are going to have trouble."

Senator Moore: "It will be the first time, Senator Rasmussen."

February 29, 1984

Mr. President:
The House has passed SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 4541 with the following amendment:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. This chapter may be cited as the "Domestic Violence Prevention Act".

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. As used in this chapter, the following terms shall have the meanings given them:

1. "Domestic violence" means: (a) Physical harm, bodily injury, assault, or the infliction of fear of imminent physical harm, bodily injury or assault, between family or household members; or (b) sexual assault of one family or household member by another.

2. "Family or household members" means spouses, former spouses, adult persons related by blood or marriage, persons who are presently residing together, or who have resided together in the past, and persons who have a child in common regardless of whether they have been married or have lived together at any time.

3. "Court" includes the superior, district, and municipal courts of the state of Washington.

4. "Judicial day" does not include Saturdays, Sundays, or legal holidays.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. (1) Any person may seek relief under this chapter by filing a petition with a court alleging that the person has been the victim of domestic violence committed by the respondent. The person may petition for relief on behalf of himself or herself and on behalf of minor family or household members.

(2) The courts defined in section 2(3) of this act have jurisdiction over proceedings under this chapter. If a proceeding under chapter 26.09, 26.12, or 26.26 RCW is commenced in a superior court before or after the filing of an action in a district or municipal court under this chapter, then the superior court shall have exclusive jurisdiction over proceedings under this chapter. Any municipal or district court order entered while that court had jurisdiction remains valid until superseded by a superior court order.

(3) An action under this chapter shall be filed in the county or the municipality where the petitioner resides, unless the petitioner has left the residence or household to avoid abuse. In that case, the petitioner may bring an action in the county or municipality of the previous or the new residence or household.

(4) A person’s right to petition for relief under this chapter is not affected by the person leaving the residence or household to avoid abuse.

(5) If an action under this chapter is commenced in a district or municipal court and a petitioner or respondent contests custody or visitation rights, then, upon the motion of either party containing proof that the petition for relief under this chapter has been filed with the superior court, the district or municipal court shall dismiss the action.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. There shall exist an action known as a petition for an order for protection in cases of domestic violence.

(1) A petition for relief shall allege the existence of domestic violence, and shall be accompanied by an affidavit made under oath stating the specific facts and circumstances from which relief is sought.

(2) A petition for relief may be made regardless of whether or not there is a pending lawsuit, complaint, petition, or other action between the parties.

(3) All court clerk’s offices shall make available simplified forms and instructional broches. Any assistance or information provided by clerks under this section does not constitute the practice of law and clerks are not responsible for incorrect information contained in a petition.

(4) A filing fee of twenty dollars shall be charged for proceedings under this section. Forms and instructional brochures shall be provided free of charge.

(5) A person is not required to post a bond to obtain relief in any proceeding under this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. (1) Persons seeking relief under this chapter may file an application for leave to proceed in forma pauperis on forms supplied by the court. If the court determines that a petitioner lacks the funds to pay the costs of filing, the petitioner shall be granted leave to proceed in forma pauperis and no filing fee shall be charged by the court to the petitioner for relief sought under this chapter.

(2) For the purpose of determining whether a petitioner has the funds available to pay the costs of filing an action under this chapter, the income of the household or family member named as the respondent is not considered.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. Upon receipt of the petition, the court shall order a hearing which shall be held no later than fourteen days from the date of the order. Personal service shall be made upon the respondent not less than five court days prior to the hearing. If timely service cannot be made, the court may set a new hearing date.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. Upon notice and after hearing, the court may provide relief as follows:

(1) Restrain a party from committing acts of domestic violence;

(2) Exclude the respondent from the dwelling which the parties share or from the residence of the petitioner;

(3) On the same basis as is provided in chapter 26.09 RCW, award temporary custody and establish temporary visitation with regard to minor children of the parties, and restrain any party from interfering with the custody of the minor children;

(4) Order the respondent to participate in treatment or counseling services;

(5) Order other relief as it deems necessary for the protection of a family or household member, including orders or directives to a peace officer, as allowed under this chapter; and

(6) Require the respondent to pay the filing fee and court costs, including service fees, and to reimburse the petitioner for costs incurred in bringing the action, including a reasonable attorney’s fee.

Any relief granted by the order for protection, other than a judgment for costs, shall be for a fixed period not to exceed one year.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. (1) Where an application under this section alleges that irreparable injury could result from domestic violence if an order is not issued immediately without prior notice to the respondent, the court may grant an ex parte temporary order for protection, pending a full hearing, and grant relief as the court deems proper, including an order:

(a) Restraining any party from committing acts of domestic violence;

(b) Excluding any party from the dwelling shared or from the residence of the other until further order of the court; and Restraining any party from interfering with the other’s custody of the minor children or from removing the children from the jurisdiction of the court.

(2) Irreparable injury under this section includes but is not limited to situations in which the respondent has recently threatened petitioner with bodily injury or has engaged in acts of domestic violence against the petitioner.

(3) The court shall hold an ex parte hearing in person or by telephone on the day the petition is filed or on the following judicial day.

(4) An ex parte temporary order for protection shall be effective for a fixed period not to exceed fourteen days, but may be reissued. A full hearing, as provided in this chapter, shall be set for not later than fourteen days from the issuance of the temporary order. The respondent shall be served with a copy of the ex parte order along with a copy of the petition and notice of the date set for the hearing.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. When an order is issued under this chapter upon request of the petitioner, the court may order a peace officer to accompany the petitioner and assist in placing the petitioner in possession of the dwelling or residence, or otherwise assist in the execution of the order of protection. Orders issued under this chapter shall include a designation of the appropriate law enforcement agency to execute, serve, or enforce the order.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. (1) An order issued under this chapter shall be personally served upon the respondent, except as provided in subsection (6) of this section.

(2) The sheriff of the county or the peace officers of the municipality in which the respondent resides shall serve the respondent personally unless the petitioner elects to have the respondent served by a private party.

(3) If service by a sheriff or municipal peace officer is to be used, the clerk of the court shall have a copy of any order issued under this chapter forwarded on or before the next judicial day to the appropriate law enforcement agency specified in the order for service upon the respondent. Service of an order issued under this chapter shall take precedence over the service of other documents unless they are of a similar emergency nature.

(4) If the sheriff or municipal peace officer cannot complete service upon the respondent within ten days, the sheriff or municipal peace officer shall notify the petitioner. The petitioner shall provide information sufficient to permit notification.

(5) Returns of service under this chapter shall be made in accordance with the applicable court rules.

(6) If an order entered by the court recites that the respondent appeared in person before the court, the necessity for further service is waived and proof of service of that order is not necessary.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. A copy of an order for protection granted under this chapter shall be forwarded by the clerk of the court on or before the next judicial day to the appropriate law enforcement agency specified in the order.

Upon receipt of the order, the law enforcement agency shall forthwith enter the order for one year into any computer-based criminal intelligence system available in this state used by law enforcement agencies to list outstanding warrants. Entry into the law enforcement system constitutes notice to all law enforcement agencies of the existence of the order. The order is fully enforceable in any county in the state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. (1) Whenever an order for protection is granted under this chapter and the respondent or person to be restrained knows of the order, a violation of the restraint provisions or of a provision excluding the person from a residence is a misdemeanor.

(2) A peace officer shall arrest without a warrant and take into custody a person whom the peace officer has probable cause to believe has violated an order issued under this chapter that restrains the person or excludes the person from a residence, if the person restrained knows of the order.

(3) A violation of an order for protection shall also constitute contempt of court, and is subject to the penalties prescribed by law.

(4) Upon the filing of an affidavit by the petitioner or any peace officer alleging that the respondent has violated an order for protection granted under this chapter, the court may issue an order to the respondent, requiring the respondent to appear and show cause within fourteen days why the respondent should not be found in contempt of court and punished accordingly. The hearing may be held in the court of any county or municipality in which the petitioner or respondent temporarily or permanently resides at the time of the alleged violation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. When a party alleging a violation of an order for protection issued under this chapter states that the party is unable to afford private counsel and asks the prosecuting attorney for the county or the attorney for the municipality in which the order was issued for assistance, the attorney shall initiate and prosecute a contempt proceeding if there is probable cause to believe that the violation occurred. In this action, the court may require the violator of the order to pay the costs incurred in bringing the action, including a reasonable attorney’s fee.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. Upon application with notice to all parties and after a hearing, the court may modify the terms of an existing order for protection. In any situation where an order is terminated or modified before its expiration date, the clerk of the court shall forward on or before the next judicial day a true copy of the modified order or the termination order to the appropriate law enforcement agency specified in the modified or termination order. Upon receipt of the order, the law enforcement agency shall promptly enter it in the law enforcement information system.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. Nothing in this act may affect the title to real estate.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. Any proceeding under this act is in addition to other civil or criminal remedies.

Sec. 22. Section 4, chapter 105, Laws of 1979 ex. sess. as last amended by section 7, chapter 232. Laws of 1983 and RCW 10.99.040 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Because of the serious nature of domestic violence, the court in domestic violence actions:

   (b) Shall not require proof that either party is seeking a dissolution of marriage prior to instigation of criminal proceedings;
   (c) Shall waive any requirement that the victim's location be disclosed to any person, other than the attorney of a criminal defendant, upon a showing that there is a possibility of further violence: PROVIDED, That the court may order a criminal defense attorney not to disclose to his client the victim's location; and

(2) Because of the likelihood of repeated violence directed at those who have been victims of domestic violence in the past, when any defendant charged with a crime involving domestic violence is released from custody before trial on bail or personal recognizance, the court authorizing the release may prohibit the defendant from having any contact with the victim. The arresting jurisdiction authorizing the release shall determine whether the defendant should be prohibited from having any contact with the victim. If there is no outstanding restraining or protective order prohibiting the defendant from having contact with the victim, the court authorizing release may issue, by telephone, a no-contact order prohibiting the defendant from having contact with the victim. The no-contact order shall also be issued in writing as soon as possible. If the court has probable cause to believe that the defendant is likely to use or display or threaten to use a deadly weapon as defined in RCW 9A.04.110 in any further acts of violence, the court may also require the defendant to surrender any deadly weapon in the defendant's immediate possession or control, or subject to the defendant's immediate possession or control, to the sheriff of the county or chief of police of the municipality in which the defendant resides or to the defendant's counsel for safekeeping.

Upon receipt of the copy of the order the law enforcement agency shall forthwith enter the order for one year into any computer-based criminal intelligence information system available in this state used by law enforcement agencies to list outstanding warrants. Entry into the law enforcement information system constitutes notice to all law enforcement agencies of the existence of the order. The order is fully enforceable in any jurisdiction in the state.

Sec. 23. Section 7, chapter 145, Laws of 1981 as amended by section 8, chapter 232. Laws of 1983 and RCW 10.99.045 are each amended to read as follows:

(3) At the time of the appearances provided in subsection (1) or (2) of this section, the court shall determine the necessity of imposing a no contact order or other conditions of pretrial release according to the procedures established by court rule for a preliminary appearance or an arraignment. If the court has probable cause to believe that the defendant is likely to use or display or threaten to use a deadly weapon as defined in RCW 9A.04.110 in any further acts of violence, as one of the conditions of pretrial release, the court may require the defendant to surrender any deadly weapon in the defendant's immediate possession or control, or subject to the defendant's immediate possession or control, to the sheriff of the county or chief of police of the municipality in which the defendant resides or to the defendant's counsel for safekeeping. The decision of the judge and findings of fact in support thereof shall be in writing.
(4) Appearances required pursuant to this section are mandatory and cannot be waived.

(5) The no-contact order shall be issued and entered with the appropriate law enforcement agency pursuant to the procedures outlined in RCW 10.99.040 (2) and (4).

Sec. 24. Section 5, chapter 105, Laws of 1979 ex. sess. and RCW 10.99.050 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) When a defendant is found guilty of a crime and a condition of the sentence restricts the defendant’s ability to have contact with the victim, such condition shall be recorded and a written certified copy of that order shall be provided to the victim.

(2) Whenever an order prohibiting contact is issued pursuant to this section, the clerk of the court shall forward a copy of the order on or before the next judicial day to the appropriate law enforcement agency specified in the order. MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

Mr. President:
The House refuses to concur in the Senate amendments to SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL No. 843 and asks the Senate to recede therefrom, and said bill, together with the Senate amendments thereto, are herewith transmitted.

DEAN R. FOSTER, Chief Clerk

MOTION

On motion of Senator McDermott, the Senate receded from its amendment to section 7 and adhered to its position on the remaining amendments and once again asked the House to concur thereto.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

February 29, 1984

Mr. President:
The House concurs in the Senate amendment to HOUSE BILL NO. 880 on page 1, line 8, and refuses to concur in the amendments to page 1, lines 10, 12 and 13, and asks the Senate to recede therefrom, and the same are herewith transmitted.

DEAN R. FOSTER, Chief Clerk

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Moore, the Senate receded from the amendments on page 1, lines 10 and 13 to House Bill No. 880.

Senator Moore moved that the Senate do not recede from the amendment to page 1, line 12 to House Bill No. 880 and asked the House for a conference thereon.

Senator Clarke moved that the Senate do recede from the amendment to page 1, line 12, to House Bill No. 880.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Zimmerman: “Senator Bender, does the proposed amendment include triple damages—punitive damages?”

Senator Bender: “Yes, the present amendment does, so we’re looking out for a compromise in terms of uniform commercial code—”

Senator Zimmerman: “But not including triple damages?”

Senator Bender: “That hasn’t been decided, but we plan to reduce those damages—yes.”

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McCaslin: Senator Bender, I would like to support you, but Senator Bottiger says we may lose the bill. Do you anticipate that we would lose this bill if we go to conference?”

Senator Bender: “It’s not my intent to lose this bill, because I think it is an important piece of legislation, but I think we can work out a compromise, take out the treble damages, and then put the attorney fees in there, which I think would be a good compromise.”

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bottiger: “Senator Hayner, Senator McDonald was the one that kind of came down on the cost and the comparison to what private nursing home care facilities had been constructed for. He isn’t here, but I was looking to ask him if this was more in line, because I was impressed with his argument.”

Senator Hayner: “Yes, this is more in line. The figure he had was twenty–two thousand dollars a bed, but then when we compared the fact that the private nursing homes are not under the same constraints, as far as building—as is the state—we added a little bit of money to that, but as I say, the original figure was 3.3 million dollars, so we have reduced it to 2.5, which I think is definitely in the ballpark."

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Hayner, the other concern, in committee, was that we are counting on the federal government to continue funding this, when the statement is made that, in fact, it is going to operate at no cost to the general fund. I'm concerned about the current administration cutting this program out and leaving us with a new bill to pick up."

Senator Hayner: "Well, let me speak to that, too. As I said, this is a building that is integrated into the veterans' hospital site. There's no way, I think, that they would eliminate it. I can also speak to the fact that the federal government provides seventeen dollars and five cents per day per veteran to the state veterans' nursing facilities, and in addition to that, the veterans' contribution of twenty-eight dollars per day and they are contracting for twenty-five beds at fifty dollars a day. So, I think, on that basis it is something that is very viable. We've been working on this actually for three years—it isn't a new thing."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Shinpoch: "Senator Hayner, do we have any long-term contracts with the federal government that assures that they're going to continue to pay the kinds of money and provide the kinds of services that you've listed?"

Senator Hayner: "I guess there is no way that I can guarantee that there's going to be seventeen dollars and twenty-eight dollars and so on, but I guess if the Veterans' Hospital there goes out of business, then it will not be there. It's been there for years and years and years. It's about the size of Old Fort Walla Walla, and I suspect it was one of the very early hospitals in that area. I don't think there's any chance it's going out of business."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senators McDermott and Hayner to the Committee on Ways and Means amendment.

The motion by Senator McDermott carried and the amendment to the committee amendment was adopted.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senators Hemstad, Zimmerman and Fuller to the Committee on Ways and Means amendment.

The motion by Senator Hemstad failed and the amendment to the committee amendment was not adopted.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the Committee on Ways and Means amendment, as amended.

The motion by Senator McDermott carried and the Committee on Ways and Means amendment, as amended, was adopted.
On motion of Senator McDermott, the following title amendment was adopted:

On motion of Senator McDermott, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1157, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator McDermott, concerning section 2, I merely ask -- a hundred seventy-five thousand dollars necessary to survey land and boundary at McNeil Island--is that divided up between the seals and the Blue Herons? I'm not a member of the Ways and Means Committee, but I was wondering--I know the circumference of the Island and you really can't survey much of an island as long as you're finding deep water, but what is the purpose of the survey?"

Senator McDermott: "My understanding, Senator, is that the entire island does not belong to the state of Washington. Some part of it is still going to be used as a sanctuary for our feathered friends and so we want to make sure we have it just right as we get the title from the federal government. I know you wouldn't want us to get more than our fair share."

Senator Rasmussen: "No. but a hundred seventy-five thousand dollar survey is a very expensive survey. It involves a lot of extra planning. My understanding is that the government has a monument there already and I don't understand the tremendous cost. Well, I hope this is only in general--and when the contract is let, it probably will be for less. I presume."

Senator McDermott: "That's my understanding."

Senator Rasmussen: "I would hope so. Then the other one is the total appropriation for McNeil Island--in the supplemental--amounts to about fifteen million dollars. That's turning out to be quite an expensive island for a prison. That's why the federal government left the prison over there. Do you anticipate further costs?"

Senator McDermott: "Yes."

Senator Rasmussen: "It's going to be just as expensive for us, but we will not be able to leave the island. That is the reason the feds left--of course--because of expense."

Senator McDermott: "Yes, they did, and I think no one thought carefully about our original acquisition of the island--thought it was going to be without some expense. It had been allowed to deteriorate in many respects. We had a problem of purchasing a ferry boat of sufficient size to carry people back and forth. We now have almost a thousand prisoners there, which is more than the federal government ever had, so that we have strained the capacity almost to the maximum and much of what is happening is to deal with that--really to try and relieve the overcrowding of our prison systems."

Senator Rasmussen: "No suggestions of Senator Haley's bridge?"
Senator McDermott: "They're certainly not even planning money. No one even thinks about something like that."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1157, as amended by the Senate.

MOTION

Senator Talmadge moved that the Senate do concur in the House amendment to Substitute Senate Bill No. 4362.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Talmadge, when I read the House amendment, 'in addition, local municipalities may enact ordinances governing open container restrictions that are more strict than state law.' Say, I picked up at the border of the state of Washington a copy of the state law—I'm driving through—I'm a state tourist and know nothing about the particulars, but I imagine this is supposed to be given out at the tourist center to advise them of the hazards. Then I drive through a city that has different or stricter regulations. What does that do? It doesn't give a uniform application of the law and apparently puts people in a trap?"

Senator Talmadge: "Senator, we permit local municipalities to have more stringent penalties than what we provide with respect to certain violations in many, many instances. I don't think the standard would be any different. The fact that if someone had an open container of alcohol in the car, that would be a violation of state law and it would probably be, also, a violation of a municipal ordinance. We provided for punishment of this violation as a misdemeanor. The local jurisdiction could, I suppose, treat it, in effect, as a gross misdemeanor if they so chose, but I suspect that the change would be that the local municipality could enact more stringent penalties than what we have provided. Probably not a different standard—it would be hard to come up with a standard other than an open container of alcohol in the car."

On motion of Senator Zimmerman, Senator von Reichbauer was excused.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the motion by Senator Talmadge to concur in the House amendment to Substitute Senate Bill No. 4362.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

February 25, 1984

Mr. President:

The House has passed SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 4419 with the following amendments:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. There is added to chapter 15.36 RCW a new section to read as follows:

(1) If the results of an antibiotic or pesticide residue test are above the actionable level as determined by procedures set forth in the current edition of "Standard Methods for the Examination of Dairy Products," a producer holding a grade A permit is subject to a civil penalty. The penalty shall be in an amount equal to one-half the value of the sum of the volumes of milk equivalent produced under the permit on the day prior to and the day of the adulteration. The value of the milk shall be computed by the weighted average price for the federal market order under which the milk is delivered.

(2) The penalty is imposed by the department giving a written notice which is either personally served upon or transmitted by certified mail, return receipt requested, to the person incurring the penalty. The notice of the civil penalty shall be a final order of the department unless, within fifteen days after the notice is received, the person incurring the penalty appeals the penalty by filing a notice of appeal with the department. If a notice of appeal is filed in a timely manner, a contested case hearing shall be conducted on behalf of the department by the office of administrative hearings in accordance with chapters 34.04 and 34.12 RCW and, to the extent they are not inconsistent with this subsection, the provisions of RCW 15.36.580. At the conclusion of the hearing, the department shall determine whether the penalty should be affirmed, reduced, or not imposed and shall issue a final order setting forth the civil penalty assessed, if any. The order may be appealed to superior court in accordance with chapter 34.04 RCW. Tests performed for antibiotic or pesticide residues by a state or certified industry laboratory of a milk sample drawn by a department official or a licensed dairy technician shall be admitted as prima facie evidence of the presence or absence of an antibiotic or pesticide residue.

(3) Any penalty imposed under this section is due and payable upon the issuance of the final order by the department. The penalty shall be deducted by the violator's marketing organization from the violator's final payment for the month following the issuance of the final order. The department shall promptly notify the violator's marketing organization of any penalties contained in the final order."
(4) All penalties received or recovered from violations of this section shall be remitted monthly by the violator's marketing organization to the Washington state dairy products commission and deposited in a revolving fund to be used solely for the purposes of education and research. No appropriation is required for disbursements from this fund.

(5) In case of a violation of the antibiotic or pesticide residue test requirements, an investigation shall be made to determine the cause of the residue which shall be corrected. Additional samples shall be taken as soon as possible and tested as soon as feasible for antibiotic or pesticide residue by the department or a certified laboratory. After the notice has been received by the producer and the results of a test of such an additional sample indicate that residues are above the actionable levels or levels referred to in subsection (1) of this section, the producer's milk may not be sold until a sample is shown to be below the actionable levels established for the residues.

Vitamin D milk shall be only of grade A, certified pasteurized, or certified raw quality. The grade of a milk product shall be that of the lowest grade milk or milk product in its preparation.

Milk delivered every other day for pasteurization shall be cooled to forty degrees Fahrenheit or lower at the place of production and shall not exceed forty-five degrees Fahrenheit at any time prior to pasteurization.)"

On page 1. line 1 of the title, after "products," insert "amending section 15.36.060. chapter 11, Laws of 1961 and RCW 15.36.060;"

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

February 22, 1984

Mr. President:
The House has passed SENATE BILL NO. 4376 with the following amendments:

On page 3, line 35, delete "This act applies and insert "Sections 1 and 2 of this act apply":

On page 4, after line 7, insert the following:

"Sec. 5. Section 21, chapter 49, Laws of 1982 1st ex. sess. as amended by section 1, chapter 99, Laws of 1983 and RCW 82.14.200 are each amended to read as follows:

There is created in the state general fund a special account to be known as the "county sales and use tax equalization account." Into this account shall be placed a portion of all motor vehicle excise tax receipts as provided in RCW 82.44.150(2). Funds in this account shall be allocated by the state treasurer according to the following procedure:

(1) Prior to April 1st of each year the director of revenue shall inform the state treasurer of the total and the per capita levels of revenues for the unincorporated area of each county and the state-wide weighted average per capita level of revenues for the unincorporated areas of all counties imposing the sales and use tax authorized under RCW 82.14.030(1) for the previous calendar year.

(2) At such times as distributions are made under RCW 82.44.150, as now or hereafter amended, the state treasurer shall apportion to each county imposing the sales and use tax under RCW 82.14.030(1) at the maximum rate and receiving less than one hundred fifty thousand dollars from the tax for the previous calendar year, an amount from the county sales and use tax equalization account sufficient, when added to the amount of revenues received the previous calendar year by the county, to equal one hundred fifty thousand dollars.

The department of revenue shall establish a governmental price index as provided in this subsection. The base year for the index shall be the end of the third quarter of 1982. Prior to November 1, 1983, and prior to each November 1st thereafter, the department of revenue shall establish another index figure for the third quarter of that year. The department of revenue may use the implicit price deflators for state and local government purchases of goods and services calculated by the United States department of commerce to establish the governmental price index. Beginning on January 1, 1984, and each January 1st thereafter, the one hundred fifty thousand dollar base figure in this subsection shall be adjusted in direct proportion to the percentage change in the governmental price index from 1982 until the year before the adjustment. Distributions made under this subsection for 1984 and thereafter shall use this adjusted base amount figure.

(3) Subsequent to the distributions under subsection (2) of this section and at such times as distributions are made under RCW 82.44.150, as now or hereafter amended, the state treasurer shall apportion to each county imposing the sales and use tax under RCW 82.14.030(1) at the maximum rate and receiving less than seventy percent of the state-wide weighted average per capita level of revenues for the unincorporated areas of all counties as determined by the department of revenue under subsection (1) of this section, an amount from the county sales and use tax equalization account sufficient, when added to the per capita level of revenues for the unincorporated area received the previous calendar year by the county, to equal seventy percent of the state-wide weighted average per capita level of revenues for the unincorporated areas of all counties determined under subsection (1) of this section, subject to reduction under subsections (((5) and)) (6) and (7) of this section. When computing distributions under this section, any distribution under subsection (2) of this section shall be considered revenues received from the tax imposed under RCW 82.14.030(1) for the previous calendar year.

(4) Subsequent to the distributions under subsection (3) of this section and at such times as distributions are made under RCW 82.44.150, as now or hereafter amended, the state treasurer shall apportion to each county imposing the sales and use tax under RCW 82.14.030(2) at the maximum rate and receiving a distribution under subsection (2) of this section, a third distribution from the county sales and use tax equalization account. The distribution to each qualifying county shall be equal to the distribution to the county under subsection (2) of this section, subject to the reduction under subsections (6) and (7) of this section. To qualify for the total distribution under this subsection, the county must impose the tax under RCW 82.14.030(2) for the entire calendar year. Counties imposing the tax for less than the full year shall qualify for prorated allocations under this subsection proportionate to the number of months of the year during which the tax is imposed.

(5) Subsequent to the distributions under subsection (((5))) (4) of this section and at such times as distributions are made under RCW 82.44.150, as now or hereafter amended, the state treasurer shall apportion to each county imposing the sales and use tax under RCW 82.14.030(2) at the maximum rate and receiving a distribution under subsection (3) of this section, a ((third)) fourth distribution from the county sales and use tax equalization account. The distribution to each qualifying county shall be equal to the distribution to the county under subsection (3) of this section, subject to the reduction under subsections (((5)) and (6)) and (7) of this section. To qualify for the distributions under this subsection, the county must impose the tax under RCW 82.14.030(2) for the entire calendar year. Counties imposing the tax for less than the full year shall qualify for prorated allocations under this subsection proportionate to the number of months of the year during which the tax is imposed.

(((5))) (6) Revenues distributed under this section in any calendar year shall not exceed an amount equal to seventy percent of the state-wide weighted average per capita level of revenues for the unincorporated areas of all counties during the previous calendar year. If distributions under subsections (3) ((or (4))) through (5) of this section cannot be made because of this limitation, then distributions under subsections (3) ((or (4))) through (5) of this section shall be reduced ratably among the qualifying counties.

(((5))) (7) If inadequate revenues exist in the county sales and use tax equalization account to make the distributions under subsections (3) ((or (4))) through (5) of this section, then the distributions under subsections (3) ((or (4))) through (5) of this section shall be reduced ratably among the qualifying counties. At such time during the year as additional funds accrue to the county sales and use tax equalization account, additional distributions shall be made under subsections (3) ((and (4))) through (5) of this section to the counties.

(((5))) (8) If the level of revenues in the county sales and use tax equalization account exceeds the amount necessary to make the distributions under subsections (2) through (((4))) (5) of this section, then the additional revenues shall be credited and transferred to the state general fund.

Sec. 6. Section 4, chapter 49, Laws of 1982 1st ex. sess. as amended by section 5, chapter 99, Laws of 1983 and RCW 35.21.870 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) No city or town may impose a tax on the privilege of conducting an electrical energy, natural gas, steam energy, or telephone business at a rate which exceeds six percent unless the rate is first approved by a majority of the voters of the city or town voting on such a proposition.

(2) If a city or town is imposing a rate of tax under subsection (1) of this section in excess of six percent on April 20, 1982, the city or town shall decrease the rate to a rate of six percent or less by reducing the rate each year on or before November 1st by ordinances to be effective on January 1st of the succeeding year, by an amount equal to one-tenth the difference between the tax rate on April 20, 1982, and six percent.

Nothing in this subsection prohibits a city or town from reducing its rates by amounts greater than the amounts required in this subsection.

Voter approved rate increases under subsection (1) of this section shall not be included in the computations under this subsection.

Renumber the remaining sections.

and the same are herewith transmitted.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

February 24, 1984

Mr. President:
The House has passed ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 4432 with the following amendment:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that high technology is important to the state's economy and the welfare of its citizens. The legislature finds that certain groups, as characterized by sex or ethnic background, are traditionally underrepresented in mathematics, engineering, and the science-related professions in this state. The legislature finds that women and minority students have been traditionally discouraged from entering the fields of science and mathematics. The legislature finds that attitudes and knowledge acquired during the kindergarten through eighth grade prepare students to succeed in high school science and mathematics programs and that special skills necessary for these fields need to be acquired during the ninth through twelfth grades. It is the intent of the legislature to promote a mathematics, engineering, and science achievement program to help increase the number of people in these fields from groups underrepresented in these fields.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A program to increase the number of people from groups underrepresented in these fields must be established by the University of Washington. The program shall be administered through the University of Washington and designed to:

(1) Encourage students in the targeted groups in the common schools, with a particular emphasis on those students in the ninth through twelfth grades, to acquire the academic skills needed to study mathematics, engineering, or related sciences at an institution of higher education;
(2) Promote the awareness of career opportunities and the skills necessary to achieve those opportunities among students sufficiently early in their educational careers to permit and encourage the students to acquire the skills;
(3) Promote cooperation among institutions of higher education, the superintendent of public instruction and local school districts in working towards the goals of the program; and
(4) Solicit contributions of time and resources from public and private institutions of higher education, high schools, and private business and industry.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A coordinator shall be hired to administer the program. Additional staff as necessary may be hired.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. The coordinator shall develop standards and criteria for selecting students who participate in the program which may include predictive instruments to ascertain aptitude and probability of success. The standards shall include requirements that students take certain courses, maintain a certain grade point average, and participate in activities sponsored by the program. Women and students from minority groups, which are traditionally underrepresented in mathematics and science-related professions and which meet the requirements established by the coordinator shall be selected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. The coordinator shall establish local program centers throughout the state to implement sections 2 through 4 of this act. Each center shall be managed by a center director. Additional staff as necessary may be hired.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. Implementation of this act shall be subject to funds being appropriated or otherwise available for such purposes.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. Sections 2 through 5 of this act are each added to chapter 223, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. and to chapter 28A.03 RCW.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

February 22, 1984

Mr. President:
The House has passed ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 4443 with the following amendment:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. Any mineral interest, if unused for a period of twenty years, may be extinguished by the surface owner as set forth in sections 5 and 6 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A mineral interest means the interest which is created by an instrument transferring, either by grant, assignment, or reservation, or otherwise an interest, of any kind, in any subsurface mineral.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A mineral interest is used if:
(1) Any minerals produced have been in connection with the mineral interest;
(2) Operations for injection, withdrawal, storage or disposal of water, gas, or other fluid substances have been conducted in connection with the mineral interest;"
for the county where such interest is located, then the mineral interest shall be conclusively presumed to be extinguished.

and the affidavit of publication, as required in section 5 of this act, in the county auditor's office, to record the claim of abandonment and extinguishment, together with a copy of the notice published in an adjoining county, and if there is no such newspaper in an adjoining county, in a newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the property interest is located, and if there is no newspaper of general circulation published in the county in which the property interest is located, and if there is no newspaper of general circulation in the county, then in a newspaper of general circulation published in an adjoining county, and if there is no such newspaper in an adjoining county, then in a newspaper of general circulation published at the capital of the state.

The notice of intention to file a claim of abandonment and extinguishment shall contain:

(a) The name and address, if known, of the holder of the mineral interest, as shown of record;

(b) A reference to the instrument originally creating the mineral interest, including where it is recorded;

(c) A description of the lands affected by the mineral interest;

(d) The name and address of the person giving notice;

(e) The date of the first publication of the notice if notice is by publication; and

(f) A statement that a claim of abandonment and extinguishment of the mineral interest will be filed upon the expiration of a period of sixty days after the date of the last publication or the date service was perfected by personal service or registered mail on the current mineral interest owner, unless the current mineral interest owner files a statement of claim of mineral interest in the form prescribed in section 4 of this act.

A copy of the notice of intention to file a copy of the notice of abandonment and extinguishment shall be submitted to the county auditor within fifteen days after the date of the last publication or the date service was perfected by personal service or registered mail on the current mineral interest owner.

The affidavit of publication shall contain either:

(a) A statement that a copy of the notice has been personally served upon or mailed to the owner of the current mineral interest and the address to which it was mailed; or

NEW SECTION, Sec. 6. Upon payment of fees provided in RCW 36.18.010, and if the surface owner files the claim of abandonment and extinguishment, together with a copy of the notice and the affidavit of publication, as required in section 5 of this act, in the county auditor's office for the county where such interest is located, then the mineral interest shall be conclusively presumed to be extinguished.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. Upon receipt, the county auditor shall record a statement of claim or a notice and affidavit of publication in the dormant mineral interest index. When possible, the auditor shall also indicate by marginal notation on the instrument originally creating the mineral interest the recording of the statement of claim or notice and affidavit of publication. The county auditor shall record a statement of claim by cross-referencing in the dormant mineral interest index the name of the current owner of the mineral interest and the name of the original holder of the mineral interest as set out in the statement of claim.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. Mineral interests retained or owned by any public entity or mineral interests resulting from land exchanges between public and private owners shall not be subject to a claim of abandonment and extinguishment.

DEAN R. FOSTER, Chief Clerk

MOTION

Senator Owen moved that the Senate do concur in the House amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4443.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Bottiger, the House amendment eliminates the duties imposed upon the county auditors with regard to locating mineral interest owners and notifying surface owners when mineral interest owners submit statements of claims. How is the owner going to find out if the auditor doesn’t notify them?"

Senator Bottiger: "One of the problems, Senator, was the fiscal issue of the imposing on the county a new obligation. The counties said that since the surface owner had started the process, it would be up to him to check and see if someone filed an acknowledgment that they were the owner of the mineral rights and if the surface owner wasn’t interested enough to go down and find out, then he wasn’t interested enough to file a claim in the first place. It seemed to me to be the logical solution. The county then would have no financial impact and the surface owner’s obligation would be to both start the process and to go down and see if anything has turned up."

Senator Rasmussen: "Well, Senator Bottiger, if I may, Mr. President. At the present time, of course, when a lien is filed on something, there’s a notice posted. This doesn’t require a posting of any notice."

Senator Bottiger: "Senator, this is entirely different. The mineral rights—the dormant, or mystery or lost mineral rights turn up on your title insurance policy. When you go look to see who this is, quote, Chicago Coal Company or the unknown heirs of Joe McGuire, you can’t find them. The bill says, ‘the surface owner,’—if there has been no activity for twenty years, can start a process to send notification as best as possible and if there has been no activity for twenty years, the courts may order him to do so—publish the notice, make the proper publication in the newspapers and then if nobody appears for two years—he goes down and checks to see if anybody has filed with the county treasurer, if nobody has, then the mineral right is extinguished."

Senator Rasmussen: "Mr. President, one further question of Senator Bottiger, if I may. Senator Bottiger, in the instance when your title reads ‘mineral rights reserved’ and that’s quite common where the railroads own the majority of the land. Does that also apply to those continued titles—the mineral rights in reserve, if there is no activity for twenty years and you can file to recover the mineral rights?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator, only if the person is unknown. Now the bill provides that if you claim you own mineral rights in Pierce County as a result of transactions beginning originally with Chicago Coal Company, all you have to do is go down and notify the county treasurer, then you can find out who’s got the Chicago Coal Company mineral rights because they expired in 1908 in Chicago. There’s no trace of them since that time.

"After the House amendment was adopted, the Washington Association of Title Companies, the Washington Association of Title Attorneys, the Board of Realtors—everybody was satisfied with the bill and I think it passed the House 93 to 5."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "Senator Bottiger, does the twenty-year period that is identified in the bill start running immediately retroactive to 1964 or does the twenty-year period start running with the time zero being the effective date of this act, or is it some other combination?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator, the twenty years begins running after the last activity, which if you’ll look in sections about one through eight describe all the things that would be activity. Merely filing a notice of mineral right is a use of the mineral right and the twenty years would start from that point."

Senator Pullen: "If none of the activity had occurred since say 1964, then would the effective date of this act—"

Senator Bottiger: "Then the twenty years would begin."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the motion by Senator Owen to concur in the House amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4443.

The motion by Senator Owen carried and the Senate concurred in the House amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4443.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4443, as amended by the House.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4443, as amended by the House, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 39; nays, 10; absent, 00; excused, 00.

Voting nay: Senators Benitz, Bluechel, Craswell, Hayner, McCaslin, McDonald, Pullen, Quigg, Sellar, von Reichbauer - 10.

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 4443, as amended by the House, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

Mr. President:
The House has passed ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 4448 with the following amendments:

(6) "Delegation" means direct authorization granted by a licensed health care practitioner to a health care assistant to perform the functions authorized in this chapter which fall within the scope of practice of the delegator and which are not within the scope of practice of the delegate.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A certification issued to a health care assistant pursuant to this chapter shall be authority to perform only the functions authorized in section 1 of this act subject to proper delegation and supervision in the health care facility making the certification or under the supervision of the certifying health care practitioner in other health care facilities or in his or her office. No certification made by one health care facility or health care practitioner is transferrable to another health care facility or health care practitioner.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. The director, or the director's designee, with the advice of designees of the board of medical examiners, the board of osteopathic medicine and surgery, the podiatry board, and the board of nursing, shall adopt rules necessary to administer, implement, and enforce this chapter and establish the minimum uniform requirements necessary for a health care facility or health care practitioner to certify a health care assistant capable of performing the functions authorized in this chapter. These requirements shall ensure that the public health and welfare are protected and shall include, but not be limited to, the following factors:

(1) The education and occupational qualifications of the health care assistant including types and limitation of drugs or diagnostic agents which may be administered by injection by a health care assistant;

(2) The work experience of the health care assistant; and

(3) The instruction and training provided to the health care assistant.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. (1) Any health care facility may certify a health care assistant to perform the functions authorized in this chapter in that health care facility; and any health care practitioner may certify a health care assistant capable of performing such services in any health care facility, or in his or her office, under a health care practitioner's supervision. Before certifying the health care assistant, the health care facility or health care practitioner shall verify that the health care assistant has met the minimum requirements established by the director under this chapter. These requirements shall not prevent the certifying entity from imposing such additional standards as the certifying entity considers appropriate. The health care facility or health care practitioner shall provide the licensing authority with a certified roster of health care assistants who are certified.

(2) Certification of a health care assistant shall be effective for a period of two years. Recertification is required at the end of this period. Requirements for recertification shall be established by rule.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. Any health care assistant certified pursuant to this chapter shall perform the functions authorized in this chapter only by delegation of authority from the health care practitioner and under the supervision of a health care practitioner acting within the scope of his or her license. In the case of subcutaneous, intradermal and intramuscular and intravenous injections, a health care assistant may perform such functions only under the supervision of a health care practitioner having authority, within the scope of his or her license, to order such procedures.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. The licensing authority of health care facilities or the disciplinary board of the delegating or supervising health care practitioner shall investigate all complaints or allegations of violations of proper certification of a health care assistant or violations of delegation of authority or supervision. A substantiated violation shall constitute sufficient cause for disciplinary action by the licensing authority of a health care facility or the disciplinary board of the health care practitioner.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. The director or the director's designee shall decertify a health care assistant based on a finding that the assistant has obtained certification through misrepresentation or concealment of a material fact or has engaged in unsafe or negligent practices.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. The performance of the functions authorized in this chapter by a health care assistant pursuant to this chapter does not constitute unlicensed practice as a health care practitioner.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. The department of licensing shall provide to the legislature on January 3, 1985, a report on the standards and rules established to implement sections 1 through 9 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. There is added to chapter 18.36 RCW a new section to read as follows:

A person licensed to practice drugless healing as a naturopathic physician may draw blood for diagnostic purposes.
NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. Sections 1 through 9 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 18 RCW."

On page 1, line 2 of the title, after "services;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "adding a new chapter to Title 18 RCW; adding a new section to chapter 18.36 RCW; and creating a new section."

and the same are herewith transmitted.

DEAN R. FOSTER, Chief Clerk

MOTION

Senator McManus moved that the Senate do concur in the House amendments to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4448.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Haley: "Mr. President, I would raise the point of scope and object on these amendments and ask for a ruling thereon. The bill was intended to simply allow certain health providers to delegate the drawing of blood, whereas the amendments by the naturopaths would expand their practice act, which would expand the scope and object of the bill."

Debate ensued.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Haley, the President finds that Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4448 is a measure which provides for the certification of unlicensed health care professionals to perform certain procedures when working under the supervision of a physician, podiatrist or registered nurse, after meeting certain minimum requirements.

"The amendments proposed by the House of Representatives, while incorporating the provisions of the original bill, also authorize persons licensed to practice drugless healing as a naturopathic physician to draw blood for diagnostic purposes.

"The President, therefore, finds that the proposed amendments do expand the scope and object of the bill and that the point of order is well taken."

The amendments by the House of Representatives were ruled out of order.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Haley, the Senate did not concur in the House amendments to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4448 and asked the House to recede therefrom.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Vognild, Senators Granlund and Woody were excused.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

February 26, 1984

Mr. President:

The House has passed ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 4484 with the following amendments:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that the provisions made for safety, emergency care, and athletic health care and training for persons of junior high or high school age are dramatically inferior to those made for athletes at either the postsecondary or professional levels. The legislature further finds that when care is provided at the junior high and high school level, participants in different athletic activities are not provided with equal care.

The legislature finds that the health and safety of the participants in athletics who are between twelve and eighteen years of age is of great importance. The legislature further finds that standards and guidelines for the health and safety of participants in organized athletics both in the high schools and junior high schools will help protect the young people of this state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. (1) The athletic health care and training council is created. The council shall consist of fourteen members selected by the governor to serve four-year staggered terms. The terms of the initial members shall be as follows: Two members will serve a one-year term, four members will serve two-year terms, four members will serve three-year terms, and four members will serve four-year terms. The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 4534, as amended by the House. Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Patterson: “Senator Williams, what I would like to know, is the federal government also paid for the fringe benefit program that goes with this position?”

Senator Williams: “I don’t know if I can specifically answer that, but as far as I know the DOE staff are paid for—everything comes out of the federal appropriation or the grant to the state—all the salaries, all the benefits and everything, as far as I know come out of the federal money.”

Senator Patterson: “You’re assuring me then that the state of Washington and its pension system and its medical aid—health care—program are not going to be paid for this position out of the revenues of the state of Washington?”

Senator Williams: “I suspect that somebody else will have to answer that question. That’s an area that I don’t know about but I know, to my knowledge at least, everything related to the cost of this program is paid for by the federal government. Now, I don’t know what happens with those state employees, once the program is over, whether they then become absorbed back into the system and so forth. There are people presently involved in this who have been with the DOE in the past and are now transferred to this. As far as I know, everything is paid out of the federal fund.”

Further debate ensued.

On motion of Senator von Reichbauer, Senator Bluechel was excused.

On page 1, after line 4, insert the following:

"Sec. 1. Section 12, chapter 1, Laws of 1959 as last amended by section 1, chapter 133, Laws of 1982 and RCW 41.14.120 are each amended to read as follows:

No person in the classified civil service who has been permanently appointed or inducted into civil service under provisions of this chapter, shall be removed, suspended, (or) demoted, or discharged except for cause, and only upon written accusation of the appointing power or any citizen or taxpayer; a written statement of which accusation, in general terms, shall be served upon the accused, and a duplicate filed with the commission. Any person so removed, suspended, discharged, or demoted may within ten days from the time of his removal, suspension, discharge, or demotion file with the commission a written demand for an investigation, whereupon the commission shall conduct such investigation. Upon receipt of the written demand for an investigation, the commission shall within ten days set a date for a public hearing which will be held within thirty days from the date of receipt. The investigation shall be confined to the determination of the question of whether the removal, suspension, (or) demotion, or discharge was made in good faith for cause. After such investigation the commission shall render a written decision within ten days and may affirm the removal, suspension, demotion, or discharge, or if it finds that removal, suspension, (or) demotion, or discharge was not made in good faith for cause, shall order the immediate reinstatement or reemployment of such person in the office, place, position, or employment from which he was removed, suspended, (or) demoted, or discharged, which reinstatement shall, if the commission so provides, be retroactive, and entitle such person to pay or compensation from the time of the removal, suspension, (or) demotion, or discharge. The commission upon such investigation, in lieu of affirming a removal, suspension, demotion, or discharge, may modify the order by directing the removal, suspension, demotion, or discharge without pay, for a given period, and subsequent restoration to duty, or demotion in classification, grade, or pay. The findings of the commission shall be certified, in writing to the appointing power, and shall be forthwith enforced by such officer.

All investigations made by the commission pursuant to this section shall be by public hearing, after reasonable notice to the accused of the time and place thereof, at which hearing the accused shall be afforded an opportunity of appearing in person and by counsel, and presenting his defense. If order of removal, suspension, (or) demotion, or discharge is incurred in by the commission or a majority thereof, the accused may appeal therefrom to the superior court of the county wherein he resides. Such appeal shall be taken by serving the commission, within thirty days after the entry of its order, a written notice of appeal, stating the grounds thereof, and demanding that a certified transcript of the record and of all papers on file in the office of the commission affecting or relating to its order, be filed by the commission with the court. The commission shall, within ten days after the filing of the notice, make, certify, and file such transcript with the court. The court shall thereupon proceed to hear and determine the appeal in a summary manner. Such hearing shall be confined to the determination of whether the order of removal, suspension, (or) demotion, or discharge made by the commission, was or was not made in good faith for cause, and no appeal shall be taken except upon such ground or grounds. The decision of the superior court may be appealed to the supreme court or the court of appeals.

MOTION

Senator McManus moved that the Senate do concur in the House amendments to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4647.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "Senator McManus, according to the terms of the bill, as I understand it, the membership of the advisory committee is supposed to be represented by age, sex and ethnic balance. Could you tell me what balance age, sex and ethnicity is?"

Senator McManus: "Well, Senator Pullen, that's a very good question. I think we could probably debate that into 1985. Obviously, what we're trying to do here is just to make sure that all ranges of age and both sexes and as large a range of ethnic representation is available, as much as possible, so that the secretary can obtain a well-rounded set of advice and counsel for running her department."
The President declared the question before the Senate to be the motion by Senator McManus to concur in the House amendments to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4647.

The motion by Senator McManus carried and the Senate concurred in the House amendments to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4647.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4647, as amended by the House.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Talmadge, the Senate concurred in the House amendment to Substitute Senate Bill No. 4111.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 4111, as amended by the House.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 4111, as amended by the House, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote:

Yeas, 46; nays, 00; absent, 01; excused, 02.

Absent: Senator Hughes - 1.

Excused: Senators Quigg, von Reichbauer - 2.

SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 4111, as amended by the House, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

There being no objection the Senate resumed consideration of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 4228 and the pending motion by Senator Talmadge to concur in the House amendment earlier today.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Rasmussen: "Mr. President, a point of order. I want to raise scope and object on the House amendment to Engrossed Senate Bill No. 4228. The House amendment adds sexual orientation to the bill, which was not in the bill at the time it passed the Senate—and greatly expands the identification that's in the bill. I would urge the President to rule on the scope and object."

Debate ensued.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Rasmussen, the President finds that Engrossed Senate Bill No. 4228 is a measure which makes it a crime to maliciously harass a person because of a mental, physical or sensory handicap.

"The amendment proposed by the House of Representatives, makes it a crime to maliciously harass someone because of three additional categories—age, sex and sexual orientation."
"The President, therefore, finds that the proposed amendment does expand the scope and object of the bill and that the point of order is well taken."

The House of Representatives amendment was ruled out of order.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Talmadge, the Senate refused to concur in the House amendment to Engrossed Senate Bill No. 4228 and asked the House to recede therefrom.

Senator McDonald: "Mr. President, a point of parliamentary inquiry. Maybe you can clarify it if, indeed, the House does not accept our amendment, it is my understanding that the bill is then dead. Is that a correct interpretation?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "There's still life in the old bill."

Senator McDonald: "There's still life in the old bill? I'll read my Reed's Rules a little more carefully then."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the motion by Senator Warnke that the Senate adhere to its position on Engrossed House Joint Memorial No. 16 and once again asks the House to recede therefrom.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: “Senator McDermott, I don’t know the figures. Could you enlighten us on the amount of money we’re talking about? Is this the equivalent of the state employees’ IRA plans that could be invested?”

Senator McDermott: “Yes, basically it is possible, now, for people to set part of their salary aside in a deferred compensation plan and it is being invested. There is no provision for the state to do it themselves. This bill would allow them to do that and use an inter-fund loan for the administration of that, which would be paid back out of the earnings.”

Senator Rasmussen: “Well, I’m really asking this question for Senator Clarke and some of the rest of us around here. This makes no provision for those over seventy, does it? I mean, we’re left out in the cold with nothing to take care of our old age and I was wondering if you had something to include in that bill—that maybe is needed.”

Senator McDermott: “Senator Rasmussen, I have the feeling that you’re never going to take any pension out of this place. You’re going to work here forever.”

Senator Rasmussen: “Well, I’d like to save something for my old age, if I could earn some interest.”

Senator McDermott: “When will that start?”

Senator Rasmussen: “A few years from now.”

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator McDonald: "Has the Moore amendment been adopted?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Yes, it has."

Senator McDonald: "O.K., for one thing, it says that this is an amendment to the title of the bill, before the semicolon. We’ve had an act relating to sales and use taxation; now we have an act related to taxation on coin and bullion investments. It’s my understanding that that’s not proper—that we cannot amend that before the semicolon, and I wonder if the policy has changed—or what is the policy?"

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 105, by Committee on Natural Resources (originally sponsored by Representatives Martinis, B. Williams and Stratton) (by Department of Game request)

Eliminating counties' option to collect in-lieu property taxes on game department lands.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Owen moved that the following Committee on Natural Resources amendment be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. Section 2, chapter 97, Laws of 1965 ex. sess. as last amended by section 36, chapter 78, Laws of 1980 and RCW 77.12.201 are each amended to read as follows:

The legislative authority of a county may elect, by giving written notice to the director and the treasurer prior to January 1st of any year, to obtain for the following year an amount in lieu of real property taxes on game lands (equal to that which would be paid on similar parcels of real property situated in the county) as provided in RCW 77.12.203. Upon the election, all fines and forfeitures received by the county during that year under RCW 77.12.170 shall be deposited in the state treasury to be credited to the state game fund. The election shall continue until the department is notified differently prior to January 1st of any year."
Sec. 2. Section 3, chapter 97, Laws of 1965 ex. sess. as amended by section 37, chapter 78, Laws of 1980 and RCW 77.12.203 are each amended to read as follows:

Notwithstanding RCW 84.36.010 or other statutes to the contrary, the director shall pay by April 30th of each year on game lands in each county, if requested by an election under RCW 77.12.201, an amount in lieu of real property taxes equal to that amount paid on similar parcels of open space land taxable under chapter 84.34 or the greater of seventy cents per acre per year or the amount paid in 1984. This amount shall not be assessed or paid on department buildings, structures, facilities, game farms, fish hatcheries, tidelands, or public fishing areas of less than one hundred acres.

"Game lands," as used in this section and RCW 77.12.201, means those tracts one hundred acres or larger owned in fee by the department and used for wildlife habitat and public recreational purposes.

(The director has the same rights of appeal and adjustment of taxes or assessments as do other owners of real property:

Upon election by the county legislative authority to receive an amount in lieu of real property taxes, the county assessor shall enter the property on the tax rolls and the department shall pay the amount due as others pay taxes on their real property in the county.)

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. This act takes effect on January 1, 1985.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Patterson, the following amendment to the Committee on Natural Resources amendment was adopted:

On page 2, line 27, after "purposes." insert:

"All lands purchased for wildlife habitat, public access or recreation purposes with federal funds in the Snake River drainage basin shall be considered game lands regardless of acreage."

On page 2, line 15, after "1984" insert "plus an additional amount for control of noxious weeds equal to that which would be paid if such lands were privately owned"

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the Committee on Natural Resources amendment, as amended.

The motion by Senator Owen carried and the Committee on Natural Resources amendment, as amended, was adopted.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Owen, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 105, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Zimmerman: "Senator Owen, I'm sorry I don't have an idea of the thirteen counties that have already done this. Could you indicate--I guess I would be interested in what the situation is down in Clark, Skamania and Klickitat."

Senator Owen: "I can't recall which they are. There are four counties that are under open space right now, and I can't recall which four they are."

Senator Zimmerman: "But as far as being in lieu--"

Senator Owen: "In lieu of property taxes? Very few are actually taking the game fine."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Barr: "Senator Owen, it wasn't quite clear as you explained the bill but it seems like a reasonable approach to me--provided this is a county option. Is that correct?"

Senator Owen: "That's correct."

Senator Barr: "The way I understand it then, and the effects of it would be that the counties would be protected in that they wouldn't have to take less than what they got in '84 and the Game Department would be protected from future increases. If that's true then, and that would seem like a reasonable compromise at this point, then I would favor--if that's true."

Senator Owen: "That's correct. Originally, they were asking to actually have it reduced, either by putting it into open space or seventy cents an acre, but the compromised agreement was that they would choose between any of these categories, whichever one that they wanted and then they would be set at that rate."

Senator Barr: "Thank you and then that does protect the Game Department though, from any future increases?"

Senator Owen: "Yes."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Owen, you indicated that they could make a choice—seventy cents an acre. How did they arrive at that figure of seventy cents an acre?"

Senator Owen: "I believe that the Department of Game was trying to come up with a rate that was somewhat similar to what they were paying presently, or what they would be paying under open space, and that's where they came up with the seventy cents."

Senator Rasmussen: "Well, what I was wondering—seventy cents per acre seems to be quite a bit more than the timber companies are paying at the present time and I wondered why they were going to pay that exorbitant rate—seventy cents? Timber companies pay, maybe, about nine cents an acre in a large number of cases."

Senator Owen: "O.K."

Senator Rasmussen: "Well, I didn't want the Game Department to be gouged by the Legislature."

Senator Owen: "Did you have a question, Senator Rasmussen?"

Senator Rasmussen: "That was it. Why the difference? Timber companies pay only nine cents an acre and the Game Department is required to pay seventy cents."

Senator Owen: "I guess I don't understand the comparison you are making. Timber companies, also, pay a yield tax besides whatever rate that they pay on the land. The Department of Game's land should have, in my opinion and the opinion of others, been allowed to go under open space when the open space legislation was passed. However, many of the counties have been extremely reluctant to do that. And really that's what they are doing, they are providing a public resource to the public and should be under open space. However, the counties have been reluctant to do that, but really I don't see where there's an analogy between that and the timber companies."

Senator Rasmussen: "Well, it's hard to understand. I agree. Thank you, Senator Owen."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 105, as amended by the Senate.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 105, as amended by the Senate, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 44; nays, 00; absent, 00; excused, 05.

The notice and summons shall be subscribed by the holder of the certificate of delinquency, or by someone in his or her behalf, and residing within the state of Washington, and upon whom all process may be served.

The notice and summons shall be served in the same manner as a summons in a civil action is served in the superior court.

The county treasurer shall not issue certificates of delinquency upon property (owned and occupied as a principal place of residence by a person sixty-two years of age or older) which is eligible for deferral of taxes under chapter 84.38 RCW but shall require the owner of the property to file a declaration to defer taxes under chapter 84.38 RCW.

Sec. 19. Section 84.64.050, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 4, chapter 322, Laws of 1981 and RCW 84.64.050 are each amended to read as follows:

After the expiration of three years from the date of delinquency, when any property remains on the tax rolls for which no certificate of delinquency has been issued, the county treasurer shall proceed to issue certificates of delinquency on said property to the county for all years' taxes, interest, and costs: PROVIDED, That the county treasurer, with the consent of the county legislative authority, may elect to issue a certificate for fewer than all years' taxes, interest, and costs to a minimum of the taxes, interest, and costs for the earliest year.

The change to a three-year grace period shall first be effective on May 1, 1983. Prior to that date, the county treasurer shall send a notice to all taxpayers with taxes delinquent for two years or more, notifying them of the change in the grace period. The treasurer shall file said certificates when completed with the clerk of the court, and the treasurer shall thereupon, with such legal assistance as the county legislative authority shall provide in counties having a population of thirty thousand or more, and with the assistance of the county prosecuting attorney in counties having a population of less than thirty thousand, proceed to foreclose in the name of the county, the tax liens embraced in such certificates, and the same proceedings shall be had as when held by an individual: PROVIDED, That notice and summons must be served or notice given in a manner reasonably calculated to inform the owner or owners of the foreclosure action. Either (1) personal service upon the owner or owners or (2) publication once in a newspaper of general circulation, which is circulated in the area of the property and mailing of notice by certified mail to the owner or owners or, if a mailing address is unavailable, personal service upon the occupant of the property, if any, is sufficient. In addition to describing the property as the same is described on the tax rolls, the notice must include the local street address, if any. It shall be the duty of the county treasurer to mail a copy of the published summons, within fifteen days after the first publication thereof, to the treasurer of each city or town within which any property involved in a tax foreclosure is situated, but the treasurer's failure to do so shall not affect the jurisdiction of the court nor the priority of any tax sought to be foreclosed. Said certificates of delinquency issued to the county may be issued in one general certificate in book form including all property, and the proceedings to foreclose the liens against said property may be brought in one action and all persons interested in any of the property involved in said proceedings may be made codefendants in said action, and if unknown may be therein named as unknown owners, and the publication of such notice shall be sufficient service thereof on all persons interested in the property described therein, except as provided above. The person or persons whose name or names appear on the treasurer's rolls as the owner or owners of said property shall be considered and treated as the owner or owners of said property for the purpose of this section, and if upon said treasurer's rolls it appears that the owner or owners of said property are unknown, then said property shall be proceeded against as belonging to an unknown owner or owners, as the case may be, and all persons owning or claiming to own, or having or claiming to have an interest therein, are hereby required to take notice of said proceedings and of any and all steps thereunder: PROVIDED, That, at least thirty days prior to the sale of the property, if such property is shown on the tax rolls under unknown owners or as having an assessed value of three thousand dollars or more, the treasurer shall order or conduct a title search of the property to be sold to determine the legal description of the property to be sold and the record title holder, and if the record title holder or holders differ from the person or persons whose name or names appear on the treasurer's rolls as the owner or owners, the record title holder or holders shall be considered and treated as the owner or owners of said property for the purpose of this section, and shall be entitled to the notice provided for in this section.

The county treasurer shall not issue certificates of delinquency upon property (owned and occupied as a principal place of residence by a person sixty-two years of age or older) which is eligible for deferral of taxes under chapter 84.38 RCW but shall require the owner of the property to file a declaration to defer taxes under chapter 84.38 RCW. * Renumber the sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

Second Reading

SENATE BILL NO. 4340, by Senator Gaspard

Taxing the possession for sale or use of marijuana and controlled substances.

Motion

On motion of Senator Gaspard, Substitute Senate Bill No. 4340 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 4340 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

Motion

Senator Hayner moved that the following amendment by Senators Hayner and Gaspard be adopted:

On page 2, line 7, after “information” insert: “which has been voluntarily provided to the department by an individual seeking to pay the tax imposed by section 3 of this Act”
POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Gaspard, it's not clear to me. I thought the tax was going to be imposed after the arrest rather than prior to. I can think of that fellow that's renting an apartment—he's got his lights in there and he's raising marijuana and he can go in now, as I understand this, and pay the tax on it voluntarily—after this legislation and it will not be revealed to the law enforcement agencies. Is that the way it works?"

Senator Gaspard: "Senator Rasmussen, the proposal that we have in front of us would put a use tax on the use and sale of controlled substances and marijuana. Now, if someone should voluntarily come in to pay that tax, which in all candor is very unlikely to happen here—from past experience to not have anybody to come in and volunteer to pay that tax. But if that should happen, under the Constitution, the rights then would be for the individuals to have that as confidential information."

Senator Rasmussen: "They'd be paying a marijuana tax just like they'd be paying a cigarette tax."

Senator Gaspard: "That is true. but that does not relieve them of any possibility of criminal prosecution at all."

Senator Rasmussen: "Thank you, I'm confused."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senators Hayner and Gaspard.

The motion by Senator Hayner carried and the amendment was adopted.

MOTION

Senator McDonald moved that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 1, line 7, after “That” strike “No”

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator McDonald.

The motion by Senator McDonald failed and the amendment was not adopted.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "May I ask another question please, of Senator Gaspard? Senator Gaspard, this press release out of the Spokane Chronicle that was laid on our desks says that 'all state and local law enforcement agencies would be required by law to notify the state Department of Revenue of each person found in possession of illegal drugs.' Now, that's a one-way street. All state and local law enforcement agencies would be required to notify the Department of Revenue and then, in turn, we're telling the Department of Revenue that you do not have to notify the state and local law enforcement agencies. I don't see that one-way street. I think it should be a two-way street. Do you have an explanation?"

Senator Gaspard: "Yes. I do, Senator Rasmussen. First, that this is not a press release. This is an editorial that appeared in the Spokane Chronicle. March 2, 1984. Secondly, I thought that we tried our best to cover that issue in the amendment that was offered by Senator McDonald.

"The proposed bill that you have in front of you requires local law enforcement agencies to submit to the Department of Revenue a list of those individuals who are found to be in possession of marijuana or a controlled substance and would be a malice—that is, found to be in possession. From that point, then, the Department of Revenue will send out a notice of tax due and they'll operate just like any other tax structure that we have in the state of Washington.

"Now, as a result of the amendment that Senator Hayner and I sponsored, if the Department should come across some information that was not voluntarily given to them as a result of someone volunteering to pay their tax, that type of information probably could be passed on."

Senator Rasmussen: "I'm still in the forest—lost among the marijuana weeds."

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Haley, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 21, after "person" insert "illegally"
On motion of Senator Gaspard, the rules were suspended. Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4340 was advanced to third reading; the second reading was considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Deccio: "Senator Gaspard, a couple of questions—just to clarify. Do you regard this as a deterrent measure or a revenue measure or both?"

Senator Gaspard: "I regard this as both. It has the laudable purpose, I think, of raising funds for drug education, rehabilitation and law enforcement, as I mentioned before. Also, I think that law enforcement will look at it as a deterrent of those individuals who are involved in this type of activity."

Senator Deccio: "The other question, you mentioned —by reference. Did you mean that we would have to license them before we could find them?"

Senator Gaspard: "No, Senator Deccio, when I gave those comments that was in regard to the Arizona statutes. This proposed statute that I have submitted to the body does not have anything in it about the licensure requirement."

Further debate ensued.

Senators Bottiger, Peterson and Shinpoch demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4340.

ROLL CALL

Thereafter, such benefits shall be paid by the department and/or self-insurer to or on behalf of the worker or beneficiary as though no ((third party person claim)) recovery had been made from a third person.

((f))) (6) In the case of an employer not qualifying as a self-insurer, the department shall make a retroactive adjustment to such employer's experience rating in which the third party...
claim has been included to reflect that portion of the award or settlement which is reimbursed for compensation and benefits paid and, if the claim is open at the time of recovery, applied against further compensation or benefits to which the injured worker or beneficiary may be entitled.

(2) When the cause of action has been assigned to the self-insurer and compensation and benefits have been paid and/or are payable from state funds for the same injury:

(a) The prosecution of such cause of action shall also be for the benefit of the department to the extent of compensation and benefits paid and payable from state funds;

(b) Any compromise or settlement of such cause of action which results in less than the entitlement under this title is void unless made with the written approval of the department;

(c) The department shall be reimbursed for compensation and benefits paid from state funds;

(d) The department shall bear its proportionate share of the costs and reasonable attorneys' fees incurred by the self-insurer in obtaining the award or settlement;

(e) Any remaining balance under subsection (4)(d) of this section shall be applied, under subsection (5) of this section, to reduce the obligations of the department and self-insurer to pay further compensation and benefits in proportion to which the obligations of each bear to the remaining entitlement of the worker or beneficiary.

Sec. 5. Section 4, chapter 85, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. as amended by section 2, chapter 211, Laws of 1983 and RCW 51.24.060 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) (In an action by the injured worker or beneficiary against the third person)) If the injured worker or beneficiary elects to seek damages from the third person, any ((award or settlement)) recovery made shall be distributed as follows:

(a) The costs and reasonable attorneys' fees shall be paid proportionately by the injured worker or beneficiary and the department and/or self-insurer;

(b) The injured worker or beneficiary shall be paid twenty-five percent of the balance of the award: PROVIDED, That in the event of a compromise and settlement by the parties, the injured worker or beneficiary may agree to a sum less than twenty-five percent;

(c) The department and/or self-insurer shall be paid the balance of the ((award)) recovery made, but only to the extent necessary to reimburse the department and/or self-insurer for compensation ((or)) and benefits paid:

(i) The department and/or self-insurer shall bear its proportionate share of the costs and reasonable attorneys' fees incurred by the ((claimant)) worker or beneficiary to the extent of the benefits paid or payable under this title: PROVIDED, That the department or self-insurer may require court approval of costs and attorneys' fees or may petition a court for determination of the reasonableness of costs and attorneys' fees.

(ii) The sum representing the department's and/or self-insurer's proportionate share shall not be subject to subsection (1) (d) and (e) of this section.

(d) Any remaining balance shall be paid to the injured worker or beneficiary;

(e) Thereafter no payment shall be made to or on behalf of a worker or beneficiary by the department and/or self-insurer for such injury until the amount of any further compensation ((or)) and benefits shall equal any such remaining balance. Thereafter, such benefits shall be paid by the department and/or self-insurer to or on behalf of the worker or beneficiary as though no ((third party person claim)) recovery had been made from a third person.

(2) The ((award or settlement)) recovery made shall be subject to a lien by the department and/or self-insurer for its share under this section.

(3) The department or self-insurer has sole discretion to compromise the amount of its lien. In deciding whether or to what extent to compromise its lien, the department or self-insurer shall consider at least the following:

(g) The likelihood of collection of the award or settlement as may be affected by insurance coverage, solvency, or other factors relating to the third person;

(b) Factual and legal issues of liability as between the injured worker or beneficiary and the third person. Such issues include but are not limited to possible contributory negligence and novel theories of liability; and

(c) Problems of proof faced in obtaining the award or settlement.

(4) In the case of an employer not qualifying as a self-insurer, the department shall make a retroactive adjustment to such employer's experience rating in which the third party claim has been included to reflect that portion of the award or settlement which is reimbursed for compensation and benefits paid and, if the claim is open at the time of recovery, applied against further compensation ((or)) and benefits to which the injured worker or beneficiary may be entitled.

(5) In an action under this section, the self-insurer may act on behalf and for the benefit of the department to the extent of any compensation and benefits paid or payable from state funds.

(6) It shall be the duty of the person to whom any recovery is paid before distribution under this section to advise the department or self-insurer of the fact and amount of such recovery, the costs and reasonable attorneys' fees associated with the recovery, and to distribute the recovery in compliance with this section.
(7) The distribution of any recovery made by award or settlement of the third party action shall be confirmed by department order, served by registered or certified mail, and shall be subject to chapter 51.52 RCW. In the event the order of distribution becomes final under chapter 51.52 RCW, the director or the director's designee may file with the clerk of any county within the state a warrant in the amount of the sum representing the unpaid lien plus interest accruing from the date the order became final. The clerk of the county in which the warrant is filed shall immediately designate a superior court cause number for such warrant and the clerk shall cause to be entered in the judgment docket under the superior court cause number assigned to the warrant, the name of such worker or beneficiary mentioned in the warrant, the amount of the unpaid lien plus interest accrued and the date when the warrant was filed. The amount of such warrant as docketed shall become a lien upon the title to and interest in all real and personal property of the injured worker or beneficiary against whom the warrant is issued, the same as a judgment in a civil case docketed in the office of such clerk. The sheriff shall then proceed in the same manner and with like effect as prescribed by law with respect to execution or other process issued against rights or property upon judgment in the superior court. Such warrant so docketed shall be sufficient to support the issuance of writs of garnishment in favor of the department in the manner provided by law in the case of judgment, wholly or partially unsatisfied. The clerk of the court shall be entitled to a filing fee of five dollars, which shall be added to the amount of the warrant. A copy of such warrant shall be mailed to the injured worker or beneficiary within three days of filing with the clerk.

(8) The director, or the director's designee, may issue to any person, firm, corporation, municipal corporation, political subdivision of the state, public corporation, or agency of the state, a notice and order to withhold and deliver property of any kind if he or she has reason to believe that there is in the possession of such person, firm, corporation, municipal corporation, political subdivision of the state, public corporation, or agency of the state, property which is due, owing, or belonging to any worker or beneficiary upon whom a warrant has been served by the department for payments due to the state fund. The notice and order to withhold and deliver shall be served by the sheriff of the county or by the sheriff's deputy, or by any authorized representatives of the director. Any person, firm, corporation, municipal corporation, political subdivision of the state, public corporation, or agency of the state upon whom service has been made shall answer the notice within twenty days exclusive of the day of service, under oath and in writing, and shall make true answers to the matters inquired of in the notice and order to withhold and deliver. In the event there is in the possession of the party named and served with such notice and order, any property which may be subject to the claim of the department, such property shall be delivered forthwith to the director or the director's authorized representative upon demand. If the party served and named in the notice and order fails to answer the notice and order within the time prescribed in this section, the court may, after the time to answer such order has expired, render judgment by default against the party named in the notice for the full amount claimed by the director in the notice together with costs. In the event that a notice to withhold and deliver is served upon an employer and the property found to be subject thereto consists of wages, the employer may assert in the answer to the summons provided for by chapter 7.33 RCW to which the wage earner may be entitled.

Sec. 6, Section 5, chapter 85, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 51.24.070 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The department or self-insurer may require the injured worker or beneficiary to exercise the right of election under this chapter by serving a written demand by registered mail, certified mail, or personal service on the worker or beneficiary.

(2) Unless an election is made within sixty days of the receipt of the demand, and unless an action is instituted or settled within the time granted by the department or self-insurer, the injured worker or beneficiary is deemed to have assigned the action to the department or self-insurer. The department or self-insurer shall allow the worker or beneficiary at least ninety days from the election to institute or settle the action. When the action is one under which the worker or beneficiary is a minor or incompetent the department or self-insurer shall be entitled to a lien on the amount due, owing, or belonging to the injured worker or beneficiary owed to the state. The lien may be enforced in the same manner and with like effect as prescribed by law with respect to execution or other process issued against rights or property upon judgment in the superior court. Such warrant so docketed shall be sufficient to support the issuance of writs of garnishment in favor of the department in the manner provided by law in the case of judgment, wholly or partially unsatisfied. The clerk of the court shall be entitled to a filing fee of five dollars, which shall be added to the amount of the warrant. A copy of such warrant shall be mailed to the injured worker or beneficiary within three days of filing with the clerk.

(3) If an action which has been filed is not diligently prosecuted, the department or self-insurer may petition the court in which the action is pending for an order assigning the cause of action to the department or self-insurer. Upon a sufficient showing of a lack of diligent prosecution the court in its discretion may issue the order.

(4) If the department or self-insurer has taken an assignment of the third party cause of action under subsection (2) of this section, the injured worker or beneficiary may, at the discretion of the department or self-insurer, exercise a right of re-election and assume the cause of action subject to reimbursement of litigation expenses incurred by the department or self-insurer.

Sec. 7, Section 7, chapter 85, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 51.24.090 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Any compromise or settlement of the third party cause of action by the injured worker or beneficiary which results in less than the entitlement under this title is void unless made with the written approval of the department or self-insurer; PROVIDED, That for the purposes of this chapter, "entitlement" means benefits and compensation paid and payable.
(2) If a compromise or settlement is void because of subsection (1) of this section, the department or self-insurer may petition the court in which the action was filed for an order assigning the cause of action to the department or self-insurer. If an action has not been filed, the department or self-insurer may proceed as provided in chapter 7.24 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. There is added to chapter 51.24 RCW a new section to read as follows:

The department may adopt, amend, and rescind under chapter 34.04 RCW such rules as may be necessary to the administration of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. There is added to chapter 51.24 RCW a new section to read as follows:

This act applies to all causes of action against third persons in which judgment or settlement of the underlying action has not taken place before the effective date of this act.

Mr. President:
The House insists on its position regarding the House amendments to SECOND SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 3815 and asks the Senate to concur therein, and the same are herewith transmitted.

SHARON L. CASE, Chief Clerk

MOTION
Senator Granlund moved that the Senate do concur in the House amendments to Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 3815.

POINT OF INQUIRY
Senator Lee: "Senator Granlund, is this about $157,000 and, of course, it involves more prisoners than the state would otherwise be able to incarcerate in their existing facilities. I presume. In other words, less persons for which we would have to use our early release at the other end. Under what portion of the budget are we looking at for these extra prisoners that we're going to be able to house in the local jail?"

Senator Granlund: "Senator Lee, the main thrust for this particular bill is to put language in for the state's responsibility. Over the years, when state prisoners have been picked up—say for revocation or something like that—the counties have been stuck with housing them. I became interested in this about three years ago when I sat in on a revocation hearing in Pierce County and the state had one of their prisoners who had been there for a hundred days—and the county, at that time, was stuck with that funding for that prisoner. This is a definition of county and state's responsibility—for whose fiscal responsibility it is. We are not getting into the area of whether counties should subcontract with the state for taking some of the overflow of the prisoners from state institutions. This is a definition of whose responsibility a prisoner is."

Senator Lee: "But, is there some additional expense over what it was—let's say a year ago?"

Senator Granlund: "What it is—yes—the state will have to pay—the Department of Corrections will pay for their responsibility for having escaped prisoners in a county or city jail. It really is clarifying of state law—what that responsibility is. May I just continue one minute, Senator Lee? The reason why the Senate has backed down on that appropriation is that we feel the main thrust of this bill, at this point, is to be sure that the delineation of fiscal responsibility is there in law, and so we would like to see that done this session."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Zimmerman: "Senator Lee, you’re saying that perhaps under Initiative 62, we would be required or should be required to pay this money—in terms of the fact that we’re not going to appropriate to Corrections the money that they would have to pay out. Consequently, it puts the burden on local government to pay?"

Senator Lee: "The state is going to have to pay these bills—that’s what the act does that Senator Granlund was explaining to us. It would require the state to pay the cost of state prisoners in county jails under certain circumstances. She is urging us to concur in the House amendment which removes the money as an additional appropriation to the Department of Corrections and saying that that should have to come out of their existing funds. So we will still have to pay the bill. That’s what the law would require. What we’re talking about right now is whether or not to concur in the House amendment. The House amendment removes the appropriation for that purpose."

Senator Zimmerman: "At this point then, $157,325 is not being appropriated and consequently must come out of the Correction’s budget or it’s just not there somehow—we’re omitting that hole then?"

Senator Lee: "If this House amendment is adopted, that would be the case."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Deccio: "Senator McDermott, what you’re saying then, based on a conversation I just had with Senator Granlund, the important thing is to have the language in the bill which gives direction as to how you’re going to deal with state prisoners in county jails?"

Senator McDermott: "Yes, we would have referenced this in the budget itself had we recognized how much the House was going to push on this issue, but I think it is critical that this bill pass, because otherwise you will have the state fighting with your local counties saying it’s not our responsibility—they’re yours as long as they’re there—and you’ve got to pay for them—we pay for them when we take them on a chain to Walla Walla. In many counties, this is going to strain their budget and I think it is really important to county government that there be a definition in the law."

Further debate ensued.

Senator Granlund demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the motion by Senator Granlund to concur in the House amendments to Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 3815.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the motion by Senator Granlund carried and the Senate concurred in the House amendments to Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 3815 by the following vote: Yeas, 30; nays, 14; absent, 1; excused, 0.

Absent: Senator Newhouse - 1.

Excused: Senators Kiskaddon, Pullen, Quigg, von Reichbauer - 4.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McDonald: "Senator McDermott, since we have struck the appropriation, we probably don’t have a fiscal note any more and in that fiscal note, as I remember, there were long discussions about what the counties were going to charge us and what we were going to pay per day. Whereas the average cost was somewhere around forty dollars per day, we were actually going to pay them ten dollars per day, which is their marginal cost. Is that still your interpretation of what we are going to pay and what the deal was?"

Senator McDermott: "My understanding is that we will arrange to pay a minimal amount—around the figure of ten dollars a day—and this would cover the marginal cost above what they would pay in the past."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 3815, as amended by the House.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 3815, as amended by the House, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 45; nays, 0; absent, 0; excused, 0.

Voting yea: Senators Barr, Bauer, Bender, Benitz, Bluechel, Bottiger, Clarke, Conner, Croswell, Deccio, Fleming, Fuller, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Guess, Haley, Hansen, Hayner, Hemstad, Hughes, Hurley, Lee, Mccaslin, McDermott, McDonald, McManus, Metcall, Moore, Newhouse, Owen, Patterson, Peterson, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Sellar, Shinpoch, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognild, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn, Woody, Zimmerman - 45.

Excused: Senators Kiskaddon, Pullen, Quigg, von Reichbauer - 4.

SECOND SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 3815, as amended by the House, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Rinehart, the rules were suspended, Substitute House Bill No. 1275 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Rinehart, in the brief here, it states that the sales tax ranges from 5.9 to 8.1 percent. Where is it that they have that tremendously high sales tax?"

Senator Rinehart: "In King County."

Senator Rasmussen: "King County is noted as having the highest sales tax in the state?"

Senator Rinehart: "I think there are others that pay that same high rate."

Senator Rasmussen: "I'd move my floating home out of there."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Owen: "Senator Talmadge, throughout the state, there are gravel pits that are inactive, and the Department knows where they’re at—and the language refers to the inspection, et cetera of these surface mines. Is it your intent that those inactive mines would have to be continued under this process and continued to be inspected also?"

Senator Talmadge: "No, it would not be, Senator Owen. In fact, the language that was stricken by the Department said that upon the receipt of the operator’s report—and most significantly—any other reasonable kinds, the Department may elect—the Department shall cause the permit area to be inspected to determine if the reclamation report had been complied with. So, there is discretion in the Department if the gravel pit is inactive to not require such an inspection.”

On page 1, line 21, after "acquire" insert "forest or agricultural"

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Deccio: "Senator Vognild, is there another option that the Department has other than the three that have been indicated--forest land, agricultural land or building and leasing?"

Senator Vognild: "Senator Deccio, I assume you are talking about the option that Senator Hayner was just talking about investing. Yes, on the transitional lands and the money involved there, they certainly can invest it. They have a rather interesting record. I think. In the year 1980, the investment board yielded 11.96 percent on the money that was invested there. And in the first nine months of 1981, which is the current figure we could get available, the yield was 14.25. That money can be invested in that manner and then invested back into agricultural and forest land and at a later time when the purchase is better."

Senator Bottiger demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on adoption of the Committee on Natural Resources amendment.

MOTION

Senator Owen moved that the following Committee on Natural Resources amendments be considered and adopted simultaneously:
On page 1, line 27, after "shall" strike "consider" and insert "comply with"
On page 4, line 9, after "shall" strike "consider" and insert "adhere to"
On page 4, line 9, after "existing" insert "local"
On page 4, line 9, after "plans" insert ", zoning classifications, and duly adopted local policies"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Owen, this amendment—"after shall, strike consider, then insert comply with."—would it be your intent that this would say they could not apply for a variance or apply for a change in zoning?"

Senator Owen: "In answer to your question, Senator Rasmussen, the intent of all these amendments is to see to it that the Department of Natural Resources is treated the same as anybody else that went before the local government. They would have to comply with the regulations—the ordinances of the local government. The intent would be, in my opinion, that they would have to go in and request a variance—they could not just do that on their own. The way the language is now it's not clear that they must deal with the local government and they must comply with the local government. So, in answer to your question, they would have to go before the local government, but I would interpret it to mean that they could be granted a variance."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the four Committee on Natural Resources amendments.

The motion by Senator Owen carried and the committee amendments were adopted.

MOTION

Senator Owen moved that the following Committee on Natural Resources amendment be adopted:
On page 4, line 10, after "identification" insert "and determining the fair market value of the property"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Shinpoch: "Senator Owen, I thought I just heard the amendments on page 4, line 9 adopted, and it seems to me like when we're talking about zoning classifications, we talk about existing local comprehensive plans and zoning classifications as duly adopted local policies. I don't find any place in that that necessarily talks about open spaces and I didn't understand your comment relative to open spaces. When you talk about zoning, that's not normally an open space. Would you, maybe, clarify a misunderstanding?"

Senator Vognild: "Thank you, Mr. President. since I sponsored this amendment in committee, perhaps I can answer Senator Shinpoch. The amendment will require that the DNR determines the fair market value of the property that it expects to convert, based upon its zoning designation.

"The intent here is that if a city or a town wants to purchase that property as part of their plan or for an open space that they are planning, that they will then be able to purchase it and it will be marketed at its value as zoned, as opposed to the Department saying that we believe that this is potentially commercial land, and if it were zoned differently it would be valued as commercial land and, therefore, that is the value we place on it and if you—Mr. City or County—wish to buy it, that is the price you're going to pay. It simply says that it must be assessed at its value under its present zoning. If the city or county want to purchase, they can't change the zone to suddenly make it less than its present zoning."

Debate ensued.
POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Thompson: "Senator Vognild, I guess I understand that, with this amendment, local government—cities—couldn't be prevailed upon to change the zoning in a way to enhance the value of the property. Could they, under this language, downgrade it if they want to disadvantage the Department and obtain, in effect, a lower value by that means?"

Senator Vognild: "Well, my intent by the amendment is certainly not to have that happen. The amendment is an attempt to indicate that as the property is zoned in the city or county's comprehensive plan that that is the market value that will be established if the city or county wishes to buy it—as presently zoned."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bluechel: "Senator Vognild, the problem with zoning is that there may be a county or city or a portion of one, which is in the process of doing a comprehensive rezone and it may be that—say next year—this comprehensive rezone is completed. Then two years after that, or three years after that, the issue of a particular piece of land owned by DNR may come up. What zoning classification would the land then be considered under? The one that exists today at the time, if the law should pass, or the one where the rezoning is taking place a year later, but the desire to purchase it, does not take place until sometime in the future?"

Senator Vognild: "Well, it would be my belief here, Senator, that the zoning at the time that the land is put up for sale would be the zoning that would prevail. If DNR decides that a particular piece of land is surplus to their needs and unmanageable—whatever they decide—and they decide to put it up for sale, if a city or a county—and I think it's important we identify that—if a city or a county wishes to purchase that land because it is a part of their comprehensive plan, it's part of their open land or green belt, then they are entitled to purchase it at the fair market value of the current zoning.

"What I'm concerned about here, and I think we all should be concerned, is that that land could be estimated by DNR or a developer or anybody, that the land is now eligible for industrial development—if we could just get the zone changed, as there may possibly be people who would be willing to speculate on a zone change. That speculation may force cities and counties out and they may not be able to purchase the land. If they purchase it, they're going to hold it in open lands or a green belt, and I think that's the way it should be."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the Committee on Natural Resources amendment.

The motion by Senator Owen carried and the committee amendment was adopted.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Owen, the following Committee on Natural Resources amendment was adopted:

On page 4, line 21, after "administration" insert ". and to the county, city, or town in which the property is situated"

On motion of Senator Owen, the following Committee on Natural Resources amendment was adopted:

On page 8, line 16, after "proceeds." insert "Necessary marketing costs includes reasonable costs associated with advertising the property and paying commissions."

Senator Haley moved the following amendment by Senators Haley, Barr, Deccio and Craswell be adopted:

On page 2, line 30, after "department." insert:
"(4) The exchange and sale provisions of subsections (2) and (3) shall not apply to the sale or exchange of urban transition lands as defined under section 8. Urban transition lands shall be sold by the department in the manner provided for the sale of state lands. The proceeds of such sale shall be deposited in financial institutions in accordance with Chapter 39.58 RCW. Urban transition lands shall be sold only under the provisions of this subsection, and shall not be otherwise exchanged or sold."

Debate ensued.
MOTION

On motion of Senator Bottiger, further consideration of Second Substitute House Bill No. 181 was deferred.

There being no objection, the President returned the Senate to the fourth order of business.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

March 4, 1984

Mr. President:

The House has adopted the report of the Conference Committee on SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 3181 and has granted the Committee the powers of Free Conference, and the same are herewith transmitted.

DEAN R. FOSTER, Chief Clerk

REPORT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE

March 3, 1984

Mr. President:

Mr. Speaker:

We, of your Conference Committee, to whom was referred, SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 3181, modifying provisions relating to involuntary treatment, have had the same under consideration, and we report that we are unable to agree and respectfully request the powers of Free Conference in order to amend the bill as follows:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. Section 20, chapter 142, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. as last amended by section 9, chapter 215, Laws of 1979 ex. sess. and RCW 71.05.150 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) (a) When a mental health professional designated by the county receives information alleging that a person, as a result of a mental disorder, presents a likelihood of serious harm to others or himself, or is gravely disabled, such mental health professional, after investigation and evaluation of the specific facts alleged, and of the reliability and credibility of the person or persons, if any, providing information to initiate detention, may ((summons such person to appear at an evaluation and treatment facility for not more than a seventy-two hour evaluation and treatment period; the summons shall state whether the required seventy-two hour evaluation and treatment services may be delivered on an outpatient or inpatient status. The mental health professional shall also designate, at the time of the summons, from a list provided by the court, an attorney who will be appointed, if any is to be appointed; and state the name, business address, and telephone number of this attorney in the summons)). If satisfied that the allegations are true and that the person will not voluntarily seek appropriate treatment, file a petition for initial detention. Before filing the petition, the county designated mental health professional must personally interview the person, unless the person refuses an interview, and determine whether the person will voluntarily receive appropriate evaluation and treatment at an evaluation and treatment facility.

(b) ((The summons shall state a date and time to appear not less than twenty-four hours after the service of the summons. The summons)) Whenever it appears, by petition for initial detention, to the satisfaction of a judge of the superior court that a person presents, as a result of a mental disorder, a likelihood of serious harm to others or himself, or is gravely disabled, and that the person has refused or failed to accept appropriate evaluation and treatment voluntarily, the judge may issue an order requiring the person to appear at an evaluation and treatment facility for not more than a seventy-two hour evaluation and treatment period. The order shall state the address of the evaluation and treatment facility to which ((such)) the person is to report and ((the business address and phone number of the mental health professional designated by the county. The summons shall state)) whether the required seventy-two hour evaluation and treatment services may be delivered on an outpatient or inpatient basis and that if the person named in the ((summons)) order fails to appear at the evaluation and treatment facility at or before the date and time stated in the ((summons)) order, such person may be involuntarily taken into custody. Accompanying the summons to such person shall be a copy of the petition for initial detention and a notice of rights) for evaluation and treatment. The order shall also designate retained counsel or, if counsel is appointed from a list provided by the court, the name, business address, and telephone number of the attorney appointed to represent the person.

(c) ((Such mental health professional decides to summon such person to appear at an evaluation and treatment period, the mental health professional must file in court the summons, the petition for initial detention, and all documentary evidence) The mental health professional shall then serve or cause to be served on such person, his guardian, and conservator, if any, a copy of the ((summons)) order to appear together with a notice of rights and a petition for initial detention. After service on such person the mental health professional shall file the return of service in court and provide copies of all papers in the court file to the evaluation and treatment facility and the designated attorney. The mental health professional shall notify the court and the prosecuting attorney that a probable cause hearing will be held within seventy-two hours of the date and time (specified on the summons if such person is not released prior to the expiration of such period) of outpatient evaluation or admission to the evaluation and treatment facility. The person shall be permitted to remain in his home or other place of his choosing prior to the time of evaluation and shall be permitted to be accompanied by one or more of his relatives, friends, an attorney, a personal physician, or other professional or religious advisor to the place of evaluation. An attorney accompanying the person to the place of evaluation shall be permitted to be present during the admission evaluation. Any other individual accompanying the person may be present during the admission evaluation. The facility may exclude the individual if his or her presence would present a safety risk, delay the proceedings, or otherwise interfere with the evaluation.

(d) If the person (summoned) ordered to appear does appear(s) on or before the date and time specified, the evaluation and treatment facility may admit such person as required by RCW 71.05.170 or may provide treatment on an outpatient basis. If the person (summoned) ordered to appear fails to appear on or before the date and time specified, the evaluation and treatment facility shall immediately notify the mental health professional designated by the county who may notify a peace officer to take such person or cause such person to be taken into custody and placed in an evaluation and treatment facility. Should the mental health professional notify a peace officer authorizing him to take a person into custody under the provisions of this subsection, he shall file with the court a copy of such authorization and a notice of detention. At the time such person is taken into custody there shall commence to be served on such person, his guardian, and conservator, if any, a copy of the original (summons) order together with a notice of detention, a notice of rights, and a petition for initial detention.

Mr. President:

Mr. Speaker:

We, of your Conference Committee, to whom was referred, ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 4309, prohibiting the sexual exploitation of children, have had the same under consideration, and we report that we are unable to agree and respectfully request the powers of Free Conference in order to amend the bill as follows:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that the prevention of sexual exploitation and abuse of children constitutes a government objective of surpassing importance. The care of children is a sacred trust and should not be abused by those who seek commercial gain or personal gratification based on the exploitation of children.

The legislature further finds that the protection of children from sexual exploitation can be accomplished without infringing on a constitutionally protected activity. NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. (1) A person who knowingly makes an extortionate extension of credit is guilty of a class B felony.

(2) In a prosecution under this section, if it is shown that all of the following factors are present in connection with the extension of credit, there is prima facie evidence that the extension of credit was extortionate:
(a) The repayment of the extension of credit, or the performance of any promise given in consideration thereof, would be unenforceable at the time the extension of credit was made through civil judicial processes against the debtor in the county in which the debtor, if a natural person, resided or in every county in which the debtor, if other than a natural person, was incorporated or qualified to do business.
(b) The extension of credit was made at a rate of interest in excess of an annual rate of forty-five percent calculated according to the actuarial method of allocating payments made on a debt between principal and interest, pursuant to which a payment is applied first to the accumulated interest and the balance is applied to the unpaid principal.
(c) At the time the extension of credit was made, the debtor reasonably believed that either of the following:
(i) One or more extensions of credit by the creditor had been collected or attempted to be collected by extortionate means, or the nonrepayment had been punished by extortionate means.
(ii) The creditor had a reputation for the use of extortionate means to collect extensions of credit or to punish the nonrepayment thereof.
(d) Upon the making of the extension of credit, the total of the extensions of credit by the creditor to the debtor then outstanding, including any unpaid interest or similar charges, exceeded one hundred dollars.

(3) In a prosecution under this section, if evidence has been introduced tending to show the existence of any of the circumstances described in subsection (2)(a) or (b) of this section, and direct evidence of the actual belief of the debtor as to the creditor's collection practices is not available, then for the purpose of showing the understanding of the debtor and the creditor at the time the extension of credit was made, the court may in its discretion allow evidence to be introduced tending to show the reputation as to collection practices of the creditor in any community of which the debtor was a member at the time of the extension.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A person who knowingly advances money or property, whether as a gift, loan, investment, or pursuant to a partnership or profit-sharing agreement or otherwise, to any person, with reasonable grounds to believe that it is the intention of that person to use the money or property so advanced, directly or indirectly, for the purpose of making extortionate extensions of credit, is guilty of a class B felony.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. (1) A person who knowingly participates in any way in the use of any extortionate means to collect or attempt to collect any extensions of credit or to punish any person for the nonrepayment thereof, is guilty of a class B felony.

(2) In a prosecution under this section, for the purpose of showing an implicit threat as a means of collection, evidence may be introduced tending to show that one or more extensions of credit by the creditor were, to the knowledge of the person against whom the implicit threat was alleged to have been made, collected or attempted to be collected by extortionate means or that the nonrepayment was punished by extortionate means.

(3) In a prosecution under this section, if evidence has been introduced tending to show the existence of any of the circumstances described in subsection (2)(a) or (b) of this act, and direct evidence of the actual belief of the debtor as to the creditor's collection practices is not available, then for the purpose of showing what words or other means of communication, shown to have been employed as a means of collection, in fact carried an express or implicit threat, the court may in its discretion allow evidence to be introduced tending to show the reputation of the defendant in any community of which the person against whom the alleged threat was made was a member at the time of the collection or attempt at collection.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. (1) A person who recklessly traffics in stolen property is guilty of trafficking in stolen property in the second degree.
(2) A person who knowingly initiates, organizes, plans, finances, directs, manages, or supervises the theft of property for sale to others, or who knowingly traffics in stolen property, is guilty of trafficking in stolen property in the first degree.

(3) Trafficking in stolen property in the second degree is a class C felony. Trafficking in stolen property in the first degree is a class B felony.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. (1) A person commits the offense of leading organized crime by:
(a) Intentionally organizing, managing, directing, supervising, or financing a criminal syndicate; or
(b) Knowingly inciting or inducing others to engage in violence or intimidation to promote or further the objectives of a criminal syndicate.

(2) A person shall not be convicted under this section on the basis of accountability as an accomplice unless the person aids or participates in violating this section in one of the ways specified.

(3) Leading organized crime is a class B felony.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. (2) The superior court has jurisdiction to prevent, restrain, and remedy racketeering or a violation of section 8 of this act after making provision for the rights of all innocent persons affected by the violation and after hearing or trial, as appropriate, by issuing appropriate orders.

The notice shall identify the action, the person, and the person's attorney. Service of the notice does not limit or otherwise affect the right of the state to maintain an action under this section or intervene in a pending action nor does it authorize the person to name the state or the attorney general as a party to the action.

(7) The initiation of civil proceedings related to violations of any offense included in the definition of racketeering or a violation of section 8 of this act shall be commenced within seven years after actual discovery of the violation.

(11) Except in cases filed by a county prosecuting attorney, the attorney general may, upon timely application, intervene in any civil action or proceeding brought under this section if the attorney general certifies that in the attorney general's opinion the action is of special public importance. Upon intervention, the attorney general may assert any available claim and is entitled to the same relief as if the attorney general had instituted a separate action.

(12) In addition to the attorney general's right to intervene as a party in any action under this section, the attorney general may appear as amicus curiae in any proceeding in which a claim under this section has been asserted or in which a court is interpreting section 1, 8, 9, 11, or 12 of this act, or this section.

(13) A civil action under this section is remedial and does not limit any other civil or criminal action under this chapter or any other provision. Civil remedies provided under this section are supplemental and not mutually exclusive.

(14) In bringing a civil action under this chapter, the attorney general or county prosecuting attorney may grant a witness immunity in exchange for testimony in the civil case. The immunity bars the use or derivative use of the witness' testimony in any subsequent criminal prosecution of the witness except for perjury or false swearing committed during the course of the testimony.

When the fund exceeds seven hundred fifty thousand dollars, all funds in excess of the seven hundred fifty thousand dollars shall be deposited in the state general fund.

(c) The moneys in the fund shall be used by the attorney general for the investigation and prosecution of any offense, within the jurisdiction of the attorney general, included in the definition of racketeering, including civil enforcement.

(2) (a) The county legislative authority may establish an antiracketeering revolving fund to be administered by the county prosecuting attorney under the conditions and for the purposes provided by this subsection. Disbursements from the fund shall be on authorization of the county prosecuting attorney. No appropriation is required for disbursements.

(b) Any prosecution and investigation costs, including attorney's fees, recovered for the state by the county prosecuting attorney as a result of enforcement of civil and criminal statutes pertaining to any offense included in the definition of racketeering, whether by final judgment, settlement, or otherwise, shall be deposited, as directed by a court of competent jurisdiction, in the fund established by this subsection.

(c) The county legislative authority may prescribe a maximum level of moneys in the antiracketeering revolving fund. Moneys exceeding the prescribed maximum shall be transferred to the county current expense fund.

(d) The moneys in the fund shall be used by the county prosecuting attorney for the investigation and prosecution of any offense, within the jurisdiction of the county prosecuting attorney, included in the definition of racketeering, including civil enforcement.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. (1) The state, upon filing a civil action under section 10 of this act, may file in accordance with this section a racketeering lien. A filing fee or other charge is not required for filing a racketeering lien.

(2) A racketeering lien shall be signed by the attorney general or the county prosecuting attorney representing the state in the action and shall set forth the following information:

(a) The name of the defendant whose property or other interests are to be subject to the lien;

(b) In the discretion of the attorney general or county prosecuting attorney filing the lien, any aliases or fictitious names of the defendant named in the lien;

(c) If known to the attorney general or county prosecuting attorney filing the lien, the present residence or principal place of business of the person named in the lien;

(d) A reference to the proceeding pursuant to which the lien is filed, including the name of the court, the title of the action, and the court's file number for the proceeding;

(e) The name and address of the attorney representing the state in the proceeding pursuant to which the lien is filed;

(f) A statement that the notice is being filed pursuant to this section;

(g) The amount which the state claims in the action or, with respect to property or other interests which the state has requested forfeiture to the state or county, a description of the property or interests sought to be paid or forfeited;

(h) If known to the attorney general or county prosecuting attorney filing the lien, a description of property which is subject to forfeiture to the state or property in which the defendant has an interest which is available to satisfy a judgment entered in favor of the state; and

(i) Such other information as the attorney general or county prosecuting attorney filing the lien deems appropriate.

(3) The attorney general or the county prosecuting attorney filing the lien may amend a lien filed under this section at any time by filing an amended racketeering lien in accordance with this section which identifies the prior lien amended.
(4) The attorney general or the county prosecuting attorney filing the lien shall, as soon as practical after filing a racketeering lien, furnish to any person named in the lien a notice of the filing of the lien. Failure to furnish notice under this subsection does not invalidate or otherwise affect a racketeering lien filed in accordance with this section.

(5) A racketeering lien is perfected against interests in personal property by filing the lien with the department of licensing. A racketeering lien is perfected against interests in real property by filing the lien with the county auditor of the county in which the real property is located. The state may give such additional notice of the lien as it deems appropriate.

(6) The filing of a racketeering lien in accordance with this section creates a lien in favor of the state in:

(a) Any interest of the defendant, in real property situated in the county in which the lien is filed, then maintained, or thereafter acquired in the name of the defendant identified in the lien;

(b) Any interest of the defendant, in personal property situated in this state, then maintained or thereafter acquired in the name of the defendant identified in the lien; and

(c) Any property identified in the lien to the extent of the defendant's interest therein.

(7) The filing of a racketeering lien under this section is notice to all persons dealing with the person or property identified in the lien of the state's claim. The lien created in favor of the state in accordance with this section is superior and prior to the claims or interests of any other person, except a person possessing:

(a) A valid lien perfected prior to the filing of the racketeering lien;

(b) In the case of real property, an interest acquired and recorded prior to the filing of the racketeering lien; or

(c) In the case of personal property, an interest acquired prior to the filing of the racketeering lien.

(8) Upon entry of judgment in favor of the state, the state may proceed to execute thereon as in the case of any other judgment, except that in order to preserve the state's lien priority as provided in this section the state shall, in addition to such other notice as is required by law, give at least thirty days' notice of the execution to any person possessing at the time the notice is given, an interest recorded subsequent to the date the state's lien was perfected.

(9) Upon the entry of a final judgment in favor of the state providing for forfeiture of property to the state, the title of the state to the property:

(a) In the case of real property or a beneficial interest in real property, relates back to the date of filing the racketeering lien with the county auditor of the county in which the real property is located or, if no racketeering lien is filed, then to the date of recording of the final judgment or the abstract thereof with the county auditor of the county in which the real property is located; or

(b) In the case of personal property or a beneficial interest in personal property, relates back to the date the personal property was seized by the state, or the date of filing of a racketeering lien in accordance with this section, whichever is earlier, but if the property was not seized and no racketeering lien was filed then to the date the final judgment was filed with the department of licensing and, if the personal property is an aircraft, with the federal aviation administration.

(10) This section does not limit the right of the state to obtain any order or injunction, receivership, writ, attachment, garnishment, or other remedy authorized under section 10 of this act or appropriate to protect the interests of the state or available under other applicable law.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. A trustee who receives written notice that a lien notice has been recorded or a civil proceeding or criminal proceeding has been instituted against any person for whom the trustee holds legal or record title to real property, shall immediately furnish to the attorney general or county prosecuting attorney the following:

(a) The name and address of the person, as known to the trustee;

(b) To the extent known to the trustee, the name and address of all other persons for whose benefit the trustee holds title to the real property; and

(c) If requested by the attorney general or county prosecuting attorney, a copy of the trust agreement or other instrument under which the trustee holds legal or record title to the real property.

(2) The recording of a lien notice shall not constitute a lien on the record title to real property owned by a trustee at the time of recording except to the extent that trustee is named in the lien notice. The attorney general or county prosecuting attorney may bring a civil proceeding in superior court against the trustee to recover from the trustee the amounts set forth in section 15 of this act. In addition to amounts recovered under section 15 of this act, the attorney general or county prosecuting attorney also may recover its investigative costs and attorneys' fees.

(3) The recording of a lien notice does not affect the use to which real property or a beneficial interest owned by the person named in the lien notice may be put or the right of the person to receive any avails, rents, or other proceeds resulting from the use and ownership except the sale of the property, until a judgment of forfeiture is entered.
(4) This section does not apply to any conveyance by a trustee under a court order unless the court order is entered in an action between the trustee and the beneficiary.

(5) Unless a trustee receives written notice that a person having a beneficial interest in the trust is named in a lien notice or is otherwise a defendant in a civil proceeding, this section does not apply to:

(a) A conveyance by a trustee required under the terms of any trust agreement if the trust agreement is a matter of public record before a lien notice is filed; or

(b) A conveyance by a trustee to all persons who have a beneficial interest in the trust.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. (1) The term of a lien notice shall be six years from the date the lien notice is recorded. If a renewal lien notice is filed by the attorney general or county prosecuting attorney, the term of the renewal lien notice shall be for six years from the date the renewal lien notice is recorded. The attorney general or county prosecuting attorney is entitled to only one renewal of the lien notice.

(2) The attorney general or county prosecuting attorney filing the lien notice may release in whole or in part any lien notice or may release any specific property or beneficial interest from the lien notice upon such terms and conditions as the attorney general or county prosecuting attorney considers appropriate. A release of a lien notice executed by the attorney general or county prosecuting attorney shall be recorded in the official records in which the lien notice covering that property was recorded. No charge or fee may be imposed for recording any release of a lien notice.

(3) (a) A person named in the lien notice may move the court in which the civil proceeding giving rise to the lien notice is pending for an order extinguishing the lien notice.

(b) Upon the motion of a person under (a) of this subsection, the court immediately shall enter an order setting a date for hearing, which shall be not less than five nor more than ten days after the motion is filed. The order and a copy of the motion shall be served on the attorney general or county prosecuting attorney within three days after the entry of the court’s order. At the hearing, the court shall take evidence on the issue of whether any property or beneficial interest owned by the person is covered by the lien notice or otherwise subject to forfeiture under section 12 of this act. If the person shows by a preponderance of the evidence that the lien notice is not applicable to the person or that any property or beneficial interest owned by the person is not subject to forfeiture under section 12 of this act, the court shall enter a judgment extinguishing the lien notice or releasing the property or beneficial interest from the lien notice.

(c) The court may enter an order releasing from the lien notice any specific real property or beneficial interest if, at the time the lien notice is recorded, there is pending an arms length sale of the real property or beneficial interest in which the parties are under no undue compulsion to sell or buy and are able, willing, and reasonably well informed and the sale is for the fair market value of the real property or beneficial interest and the recording of the lien notice prevents the sale of the property or interest. The proceeds resulting from the sale of the real property or beneficial interest shall be deposited with the court, subject to the further order of the court.

(d) At the hearing held pursuant to (b) of this subsection, if the court releases from the lien notice any property or beneficial interest, the person shall post security equal to the fair market value of the property or beneficial interest owned by the person.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. (1) If a trustee conveys title to real property for which, at the time of the conveyance, a lien notice has been recorded in the county in which the real property is situated and the notice names a person who the trustee knows holds a beneficial interest in the trust, the trustee shall be liable to the state for the greater of:

(a) The amount of proceeds received by the person named in the lien notice as a result of the conveyance;

(b) The amount of proceeds received by the trustee as a result of the conveyance and distributed by the trustee to the person named in the lien notice; or

(c) The fair market value of the interest of the person named in the lien notice in the real property so conveyed.

(2) If the trustee conveys the real property for which a lien notice has been recorded at the time of the conveyance and holds the proceeds that would otherwise be paid or distributed to the beneficiary or at the direction of the beneficiary or beneficiary’s designee, the trustee’s liability shall not exceed the amount of the proceeds so held so long as the trustee continues to hold the proceeds.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. A trustee who fails to comply with section 13(1) of this act is guilty of a class C felony.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. (1) A custodian of the records of a financial institution shall, at no expense to the financial institution, produce for inspection or copying the records in the custody of the financial institution when requested to be inspected by the attorney general or a county prosecuting attorney, provided the person requesting the information has served a subpoena issued by a court or obtained a court order for the information. The attorney general or a county prosecuting attorney or any peace officer or other person designated by the county prosecuting attorney or the attorney general shall be prohibited from using or releasing the information except in the proper discharge of official duties. If directed by the court in the subpoena or court order, neither the custodian nor any other employee of the institution shall disclose to the institution's customer the fact that the customer's records have been examined or copied. The furnishing of records in compliance with this section by a custodian of records is a bar to civil or criminal liability against the custodian or financial institution in any action brought alleging violation of the confidentiality of the records.

(2) Disclosure by the attorney general, county prosecuting attorney, or any peace officer designated by the attorney general or the county prosecuting attorney of information obtained under this section, except in the proper discharge of official duties, is a misdemeanor.

(3) Disclosure by the custodian or employee of the financial institution contrary to subsection (1) of this section is a misdemeanor.

(4) This section does not preclude the use of any other legally authorized means of obtaining the information.

Sec. 18. Section 9A.04.080, chapter 260, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. as last amended by section 1, chapter 129, Laws of 1982 and RCW 9A.04.080 are each amended to read as follows:

menced at any period outer the commission of the offense: for offenses the punishment of which commission; for all other offenses the punishment of which may be imprisonment in a state correctional institution, within three years after their commission; two years for gross misdemea-or; and for all other offenses, within one year after their commission: PROVIDED, That any state shall not be reckoned within the one, two, three, five, and ten years respectively: AND FURTHER PROVIDED. That where an indictment has been found, or complaint or an information filed, within the time limited for the commencement of a criminal action, if the indictment, complaint or information be set aside, the time of limitation shall be extended by the length of time from the time of filing of such indictment, complaint, or information, to the time such indictment, complaint, or information was set aside.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. Sections 1 through 17 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 9A RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 4490 and has granted the Committee the powers of Free Conference, and the same are herewith transmitted.

DEAN R. FOSTER, Chief Clerk

REPORT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE

March 3, 1984

Mr. President:

Mr. Speaker:

We, of your Conference Committee, to whom was referred, ENGROSSED SUB-STITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 4490, restricting utilities from terminating utility service for residential space heat, have had the same under consideration, and we report that we are unable to agree and respectfully request the powers of Free Conference in order to amend the bill as follows:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:
"Sec. 1. Section 35.21.300, chapter 7, Laws of 1965 and RCW 35.21.300 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The lien for charges for service by a city waterworks, or electric light or power plant may be enforced only by cutting off the service until the delinquent and unpaid charges are paid, except that until June 30, 1986, electricity for residential space heating may be terminated between November 15 and March 15 only as provided in subsection (2) of this section. In the event of a disputed account and tender by the owner of the premises of the amount he claims to be due before the service is cut off, the right to refuse service to any premises shall not accrue until suit has been entered by the city and judgment entered in the case.

(2) Until June 30, 1986:

(a) Electricity for residential space heating shall not be terminated between November 15 through March 15 if the customer:

(i) Notifies the utility of the inability to pay the bill. This notice shall be provided within five business days of receiving a payment overdue notice unless there are extenuating circumstances;

(ii) Brings a statement from the department of social and health services or a grantee of the planning and community affairs agency which administers federally funded energy assistance programs, that the household income does not exceed the maximum allowed for eligibility under the state’s plan for low-income energy assistance under 42 U.S.C. 8624 and which provides a dollar figure that is seven percent of household income;

(iii) Has applied for home heating assistance from applicable government and private sector organizations and certifies that any assistance received will be applied to the current bill and future utility bills;

(iv) Has applied for low-income weatherization assistance to the utility or other appropriate agency if such assistance is applicable for the dwelling;

(v) Agrees to a payment plan and agrees to maintain the payment plan. The plan shall be designed both to pay the past due bill by the following October 15 and to pay for continued utility service. The plan shall not require monthly payments in excess of seven percent of the customer’s monthly income during November 15 through March 15. A customer may agree to pay a higher percentage during this period, but the plan shall not be invalidated unless payment during this period is less than seven percent. If assistance payments are received by the customer subsequent to implementation of the plan, the customer shall contact the utility to reformulate the plan; and

(vi) Agrees to pay the moneys owed even if he or she moves.

(iii) Be authorized to transfer an account to a new residence when a customer who has established a plan under this subsection moves from one residence to another within the same utility service area; and

(iv) Be permitted to disconnect service if the customer fails to honor the payment program.

Utilities may continue to disconnect service for those practices authorized by law other than for nonpayment as provided for in this subsection.

(c) In distributing energy assistance funds pursuant to 42 U.S.C. Sec. 8624, the department of social and health services and grantees of the planning and community affairs agency shall make all payments either directly to the utility or jointly payable to the customer and the utility.

(3) All municipal utilities shall offer residential customers the option of a budget billing or equal payment plan.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. There is added to chapter 54.16 RCW a new section to read as follows:

(1) A district providing utility service for residential space heating shall not terminate such utility service between November 15 through March 15 if the customer:

(a) Notifies the utility of the inability to pay the bill. This notice shall be provided within five business days of receiving a payment overdue notice unless there are extenuating circumstances;

(b) Brings a statement from the department of social and health services or a grantee of the planning and community affairs agency which administers federally funded energy assistance programs, that the household income does not exceed the maximum allowed for eligibility under the state’s plan for low-income energy assistance under 42 U.S.C. 8624 and which provides a dollar figure that is seven percent of household income;

(c) Has applied for home heating assistance from applicable government and private sector organizations and certifies that any assistance received will be applied to the current bill and future utility bills;

(d) Has applied for low-income weatherization assistance to the utility or other appropriate agency if such assistance is applicable for the dwelling;

(e) Agrees to a payment plan and agrees to maintain the payment plan. The plan will be designed both to pay the past due bill by the following October 15 and to pay for continued utility service. The plan shall not require monthly payments in excess of seven percent of the customer's monthly income during November 15 through March 15. A customer may agree to pay a higher percentage during this period, but the plan shall not be invalidated unless payment during this period is less than seven percent. If assistance payments are received by the customer subsequent to implementation of the plan, the customer shall contact the utility to reformulate the plan; and

(f) Agrees to pay the moneys owed even if he or she moves.

(2) The utility shall:

(a) Include in any notice that an account is delinquent and that service may be subject to termination a description of the customer's duties in this section;

Strike everything after "WHEREAS." on line 1 and insert the following:

"The United States Congress enacted the Nuclear Waste Policy Act of 1982 which envisions a cooperative state-federal relationship in selecting high-level nuclear waste repository sites in the United States; and

WHEREAS, The federal act recognizes both a legislative and executive role in establishing the state's position and policies with respect to the siting process; and

WHEREAS. A draft agreement is being negotiated which would constitute a contract between the state and the federal government as provided for by the Nuclear Waste Policy Act of 1982; and

WHEREAS, It is recognized that entering into this contract does not indicate acceptance of a decision to locate a repository within the state; and

WHEREAS. The federal government maintains that its liability for accidents at the repository site or in the transportation of waste to the site is limited; and

WHEREAS. The Legislature finds that the safety of the citizens of the state of Washington is endangered by the transportation of high-level radioactive waste through the state;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, By the Senate of the state of Washington, the House of Representatives concurring. That if an agreement is entered into between the state and the federal government, it should resolve at least those issues pertaining to: Whether foreign waste should be included in a repository; the reasons for which the state may demand that work should be stopped at the site; how the state may obtain injunctive relief; what role the state may play in the federal decision-making process if a decision is made to commingle defense and civilian wastes; the completion of an emergency response plan; and federal liability for accidents at the repository site or during transportation of waste to the site; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED. That no agreement shall be signed until these issues have been resolved, and the agreement is subject to legislative approval or disapproval; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED. That copies of this resolution be delivered to the Governor of the state of Washington, the Director of the Washington state Department of Ecology, and to the Secretary of the United States Department of Energy."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Benitz: "Mr. President, a point of order. I raise the point of scope and object. I believe it expands, considerably, from what SCR 142 started out. The new measure talks about foreign waste and the question is. is it foreign waste when you understand what you're speaking of? It demands that the state may stop the work on a federal project—unbelievable. It talks about commingling defense waste with civilian waste—a subject of which is not appropriate here, and the Supreme Court, on the last item I see just off hand, made a ruling that the state cannot effect the transportation of high level nuclear waste. The United States Supreme Court just made that decision and yet we see it here. I think those things expand the scope and object.”

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Goltz: "Senator Quigg, does that include local and state debts?"

Senator Quigg: "It says that all state and local government debts per capita figures include the debt of government utilities."

Senator Goltz: "Does it include WPPSS?"

Senator Quigg: "Well, it indicates by that statement that it includes government utilities, therefore, it would include WPPSS. It says, 'generally, this debt is mainly serviced by revenues from utilities. No national source has been found to allow this debt to be extracted from the factor's data. In addition, this factor does not take into account any unfunded pension liability of the state and local governments, since the data was not available.' So it does appear to include WPPSS."

Signed by: Senators Thompson and Granlund; Representatives Grimm, Ebersole and Hankins.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Pullen: "A point of order, Mr. President. The proposed Free Conference Committee Report which has been passed out on the desks clearly expands the scope and object of the bill.

Mr. President and members of the Senate. I've counted at least three bills that have been added on—three whole bills that previously have passed one body or the other—that did not pass both bodies, which have now been lumped into the Free Conference Committee Report in an effort to get these other bills through, which previously were either defeated or which did not make their way through.

I would also draw the President's attention to the title amendments—I see so many title amendments—I am trying to count them all. It looks like there are at least six or seven extra title amendments to accompany all these additional whole bills that were added to the Free Conference Committee Report. The President, in the past, has indicated, I believe, that the issue of scope and object also applies to any amendatory action, including Free Conference Committee Reports. If it did not, that would be subverting both the Constitution and the intent of the Constitution as well as the rules of the Senate. Therefore, it clearly expands the scope and object and I would hopefully ask the President to so rule."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Bottiger, further consideration of Engrossed House Bill No. 392 was deferred.

REPORT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE

March 4, 1984

Mr. President:
Mr. Speaker:
We, of your Conference Committee, to whom was referred, SECOND SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 689, establishing small business assistance coordinating council, have had the same under consideration, and we report that we are unable to agree and respectfully request the powers of Free Conference in order to amend the bill as follows:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that the small businesses in the state of Washington are essential to the well-being of the state's economy and that these businesses have unique needs and problems that must be dealt with to insure a healthy economy for all of the citizens of the state. The legislature further recognizes that small businesses represent a majority of the businesses in this state and that it is vital that the ability of small businesses be enhanced to provide more jobs for Washington workers, insure essential economic competition, and broaden the industrial base of Washington industries. To stimulate the expansion of small business growth and resultant new jobs, the legislature finds that:

(1) There is a need for an overall coordination within the state that can integrate, coordinate, and provide services to small businesses and more efficiently use the individual operating entities as they now exist; and
(2) There is a need for additional services for the small business community in the areas of financing, dealing with regulatory problems, and encouraging more small businesses to export their products and services overseas.

(3) There is a need for an advisory council to establish long-range policy recommendations for state delivered small business programs.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. As used in this chapter, a "small business assistance program" is any service offered by a unit of state government where the majority of the services attempt to aid or assist in the establishment, expansion, or management of a small business as defined in RCW 43.31.920.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. (1) There is established the small business assistance coordinating council, referred to in this chapter as "the council."

(2) The council shall consist of nine persons, three of whom shall be appointed by the governor. The council shall include the director of commerce and economic development or its successor, the director of planning and community affairs or its successor, two members of the house of representatives, one from each of the two political parties with the largest number of members, appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives from the house committee on commerce and economic development or its successor, and two members of the senate, one from each of the two political parties with the largest number of members, appointed by the president of the senate from the senate committee on commerce and labor or its successor. The members appointed by the governor shall include representatives of small businesses from the various geographic areas of the state and the members of the business and women-owned business. The council shall elect a chairman from among the voting members. The planning and community affairs agency or its successor is responsible for providing administrative support to the council and shall keep a record of the proceedings of each council meeting.

(3) All voting members of the council shall be reimbursed for travel expenses as provided in RCW 43.03.050 and 43.03.060.

(4) If a vacancy in an appointive position on the council occurs by death, resignation, or otherwise, the governor shall fill the position for the unexpired term. Any members of the council, appointive or otherwise, may be removed for malfeasance or misfeasance in office, upon specific written charges by the governor.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. The council shall be responsible for:

(1) Reviewing the small business assistance programs now being offered by all units of state government except the federally funded service centers administered by the department of transportation and approved by the federal highway administration;

(2) Reviewing the contract between the small business development center and the federal small business administration, and the contract between the small business development center and the federal economic development administration; and

(3) Reviewing the coordination of all small business assistance programs and making recommendations to reduce duplication of services and to increase the efficiency of available programs.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. To enable the council to carry out its responsibilities, every unit of state government which provides a small business assistance program shall report to the small business assistance coordinating council in writing by September 1, 1984. The report shall include:

(1) A description of the small business assistance program offered by the unit of state government;

(2) The amount of state funds expended to operate the small business assistance program;

(3) The sources and amount of any other funds available to the unit of government to operate a small business assistance program and the extent to which the funds are being used by the unit of state government;

(4) The method by which the activity is being delivered by the unit of state government to the small business community;

(5) Information on the benefits derived from the program; and

(6) Any other information as may be requested by the council.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. The small business assistance coordinating council shall report to the legislature and governor by December 31, 1984, on recommendations to improve the dissemination of small business assistance in the state. The report shall include:

(1) A description of the types, quantity, and benefits of small business assistance available in the state including federal, state, and local programs;

(2) A description of the available services and the unmet need for small business assistance in the following areas:

(a) General small business management and technical assistance;

(b) Community development assistance, including loan packaging, proposal writing, development planning, and commercial development;

(c) Entrepreneurial development, innovative assessment, and technology transfer; and

(d) Export assistance and financing;
(3) A set of recommendations to improve the delivery and efficiency of small business assistance and to reduce duplication of effort where possible.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. (1) There is established the small business improvement council to consist of at least fifteen but not more than thirty members to be appointed by the governor. In making the appointments, the governor shall consider the recommendations of business organizations and persons operating small businesses. At least fifteen percent of the members of the council shall be women or members of minority groups, and at least one member of the council shall represent agribusiness concerns. Members of the small business improvement council shall be appointed for terms of four years, but the governor may modify the terms of the initial members as necessary to achieve staggered terms.

(3) The department of commerce and economic development or its successor agency shall provide staff support and administrative assistance to the council.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. The small business improvement council shall seek to identify regulatory, administrative, and legislative proposals that will improve the entrepreneurial environment for small businesses. In consultation with the department of commerce and economic development and the appropriate standing committees of the senate and house of representatives, the small business improvement council shall submit its proposals to the governor and the legislature prior to the convening of each regular session of the legislature. The proposals shall include the recommendations of the council's subcommittees established under section 9 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. (1) The small business improvement council may establish such subcommittees as the council deems necessary. Membership of subcommittees need not be limited to members of the council.

(2) Subcommittees of the council shall include:
   (a) A subcommittee on small business taxation;
   (b) A subcommittee on small business venture and management education;

The subcommittee on small business taxation may conduct studies, hold public hearings, and employ consultants as necessary to carry out the purposes of the subcommittee.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. The subcommittee on small business venture and management education shall encourage the implementation of small business venture and management education programs in the state's community colleges and vocational-technical institutes. Such education programs shall provide instruction in the formation, operation, and management of a small business. The subcommittee shall assist in curriculum development, promotion, and marketing of these education programs. Emphasis shall be given to part-time, evening, and weekend class offerings.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. The subcommittee on private sector contract services shall have as its mission the identification of program and service areas within state and local government which can and should be contracted out on a competitive bid basis to private sector organizations. In particular, the subcommittee shall identify those governmental services that the private sector can perform more efficiently than the public sector, with equal or better quality of service. The goal of this program is to reduce the cost of government while improving the delivery of services.

The subcommittee on private sector contract services shall include representatives of government, business, and industry.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. This chapter shall expire June 30, 1988.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. Sections 7 through 13 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 43 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. The House concurred in the Senate amendment to REENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 480 and passed the bill as amended by the Senate.

DEAN R. FOSTER, Chief Clerk

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

March 5, 1984

Mr. President:
The House has passed SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 4416, and the same is herewith transmitted.

DEAN R. FOSTER, Chief Clerk

SIGNED BY THE PRESIDENT

The President signed:
SENATE BILL NO. 4275,
SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 4435,
SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 4578,
SENATE BILL NO. 4607.

There being no objection, the President advanced the Senate to the sixth order of business.

There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 142 and the pending amendment by Senators Hurley, Williams, Fuller and Goltz, deferred earlier today.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Benitz, the President finds that Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 142 is a measure which deals with the negotiation of an agreement between Washington State and the federal government regarding the siting of a high level nuclear waste repository in this state.

"The amendment proposed by Senator Hurley and others also deals with essentially the same propositions and simply suggests issues to be considered in the negotiation of the agreement.

"The President, therefore, finds that the proposed amendment does not expand the scope and object of the bill and that the point of order is not well taken."

The amendment was ruled in order.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Senator Newhouse: "Mr. President, I rise to a point of information. This is a Senate Concurrent Resolution which purports to have the effect of law it would seem—force and effect—and is this properly drafted? It will not be codified. I understand, and is supposed to be binding on future legislatures and state officials and evidently designed in that fashion to by-pass any possible veto by the Governor."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Shinnpoch, further consideration of Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 142 was deferred.

There being no objection, the President returned the Senate to the fourth order of business.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

March 5, 1984

Mr. President:
The House has adopted the report of the Conference Committee on ENGROSSED SECOND SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 3193 and has granted the Committee the powers of Free Conference, and the same are herewith transmitted.

DEAN R. FOSTER, Chief Clerk
Mr. President:
Mr. Speaker:

We, of your Conference Committee, to whom was referred, ENGROSSED SECOND SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 3193, modifying provisions of the Washington clean air act, have had the same under consideration, and we recommend that the Senate amendment be adopted with the following amendment:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. Section 61, chapter 238, Laws of 1967 as amended by section 1, chapter 176, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 70.94.430 are each amended to read as follows:

Any person who violates any of the provisions of this chapter, or any ordinance, resolution, rule or regulation in force pursuant thereto (other than RCW 70.94.205) shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than ((two hundred fifty)) one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment for not more than ninety days, or by both fine and imprisonment for each separate violation. ((Each day upon which such violation occurs shall constitute a separate offense.))

Any person who wilfully violates any of the provisions of this chapter or any ordinance, resolution, rule or regulation in force pursuant thereto shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. ((Each day upon which such wilful violation occurs shall constitute a separate offense.)) Upon conviction the offender shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars for each offense:"

Any person who wilfully violates RCW 70.94.205 or any other provision of this act shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars; or by imprisonment for a term of not more than one year or by both fine and imprisonment.

In case of a continuing violation, whether or not wilfully committed, each day's continuance shall be a separate and distinct violation. For the purposes of this subsection, the maximum daily fine imposed by a local board for violations of standards by a specific emissions unit is one thousand dollars.

(2) Further, the person is subject to a fine of up to five thousand dollars to be levied by the director of the department of ecology if requested by the board of a local authority or if the director determines that the penalty is needed for effective enforcement of this chapter. A local board shall not make such a request until notice of violation and compliance order procedures have been exhausted, if such procedures are applicable. For the purposes of this subsection, the maximum daily fine imposed by the department of ecology for violations of standards by a specific emissions unit is five thousand dollars.

(3) Each act of commission or omission which procures, aids or abets in the violation shall be considered a violation under the provisions of this section and subject to the same penalty. Except as provided in subsection (4) of this section, the penalty shall become due and payable when the person incurring the same receives a notice in writing from the director or his designee or the control officer of the authority or his designee describing the violation with reasonable particularity and advising such person that the penalty is due unless a request is made for a hearing to the hearings board as provided for in chapter 43.21B RCW. When a request is made for a hearing, the penalty shall become due and payable only upon completion of all review proceedings and the issuance of a final order affirming the penalty in whole or part. If the amount of such penalty is not paid to the department or the board within thirty days after it becomes due and payable, and a request for a hearing has not been made, the attorney general, upon the request of the director or his designee, or the attorney for the local authority, upon request of the board or control officer, shall bring an action to recover such penalty in the superior court of the county in which the violation occurred. All penalties recovered under this section by the board shall be paid into the state treasury and credited to the general fund or, if recovered by the authority, fifty percent shall be paid into the treasury of the authority and credited to its funds and fifty percent shall be distributed to the cities, towns and counties within the authority, on a pro rata basis, as each contributes to support the authority pursuant to RCW 70.94.093. If a prior penalty for the same violation has been paid to a local authority, the penalty imposed under subsection (2) of this section shall be reduced by the amount of the payment. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this chapter, no penalty may be levied for the violation of any opacity standard in an amount exceeding four hundred dollars per day."
(4) If a penalty is levied under subsection (2) of this section, the director or the director's authorized delegate may, upon written application therefor received within fifteen days after the notice imposing any penalty is received by the person incurring the penalty, and when deemed in the best interest to carry out the purposes of this chapter, remit or mitigate any penalty provided in this section upon such terms as the director in the director's discretion deems proper, and may ascertain the facts upon all such applications in such manner and under such regulations as the director deems proper. The mitigation shall not affect or reduce the penalty imposed by the local board. Any person incurring any penalty under this section may appeal the same to the hearings board as provided in chapter 43.21B RCW. Appeals shall be filed within thirty days of receipt of notice imposing any penalty unless an application for remission or mitigation is made to the department. When an application for remission or mitigation is made, appeals shall be filed within thirty days of receipt of notice from the director or the director's authorized delegate setting forth the disposition of the application. Any penalty imposed under this section shall become due and payable thirty days after receipt of a notice imposing the same unless application for remission or mitigation is made or an appeal is filed. When an application for remission or mitigation is made, any penalty incurred under this section shall become due and payable thirty days after receipt of notice setting forth the disposition of the application unless an appeal is filed from the disposition. Whenever an appeal of any penalty incurred under this section is filed, the penalty shall become due and payable thirty days after receipt of notice setting forth the disposition of the application unless an appeal is filed from the disposition. In all such actions the procedure and rules of evidence shall be the same as for an ordinary civil action except as otherwise provided in this chapter.

To secure the penalty incurred under this section, the state or the authority shall have a lien on any vessel used or operated in violation of this chapter which shall be enforced as provided in RCW 60.36.050.

In all actions brought in the superior court for the recovery of penalties hereunder, the procedure and rules of evidence shall be the same as in an ordinary civil action."

Recently added section 61, chapter 238, Laws of 1967 as amended by section 1, chapter 176, Laws of 1973, 1st ex. sess. and RCW 70.94.430; and amending section 53, chapter 168, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. as amended by section 2, chapter 176. Laws of 1973, 1st ex. sess. and RCW 70.94.431."

Signed by: Senators Hughes and Talmadge; Representatives Rust, Dellwo and Patrick.

MOTION

Senator Hughes moved that the report of the Conference Committee on Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 3193 be adopted and the powers of Free Conference be granted.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Newhouse: "Senator Hughes, would you please describe the contents of the proposed Free Conference Report?"

Senator Hughes: "Yes, Senator Newhouse, the objective of the Free Conference is to reach a compromise between the House and the Senate. The House added a couple of amendments which in the Senate, we found to be in divergence to the intent of the bill. They increased the fine for violating opacity standards from two fifty to a thousand, and also there were attempts to bring about some changes in the 50-50 split. I think we will be reaching a compromise that is most acceptable."

Senator Newhouse: "The understanding is that the agreement for the Free Conference Report would have been reached before you asked for powers of Free Conference. Have you got the details of that?"

Senator Hughes: "Yes, I do."

Senator Newhouse: "What is the fine that is proposed there?"

Senator Hughes: "In finality, what we will see is the 50-50 split will remain as is. There will be no attempt to change that. There will be an increase in the opacity violation from 250 to 400 and I think there is strong agreement with that."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the motion by Senator Hughes to adopt the report of the Conference Committee on Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 3193 and to grant the powers of Free Conference.
The motion by Senator Hughes carried and the report of the Conference Committee on Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 3193 was adopted and the powers of Free Conference were granted.

MOTION

At 5:38 p.m., on motion of Senator Shinpoch, the Senate adjourned until 11:15 a.m., Tuesday, March 6, 1984.

JOHN A. CHERBERG, President of the Senate.
SIDNEY R. SNYDER, Secretary of the Senate.
Senate Chamber, Olympia, Tuesday, March 6, 1984

The Senate was called to order at 11:15 a.m. by President Cherberg. The Secretary called the roll and announced to the President that all Senators were present except Senator Pullen.

The Sergeant at Arms Color Guard, consisting of Pages Lisa Sauls and Kevin Reed, presented the Colors. Reverend Henry Paasonen, pastor of the Westside Alliance Church of Olympia, offered the prayer.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Shinpoch, the reading of the journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was approved.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

Mr. President:
The House has passed ENGROSSED SECOND SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 4831 with the following amendment:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. This chapter shall be known and may be cited as the "worker and community right to know act."

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. The legislature finds and declares that the proliferation of hazardous substances in the environment poses a growing threat to the public health, safety, and welfare; that the constantly increasing number and variety of hazardous substances, and the many routes of exposure to them make it difficult and expensive to monitor adequately and detect any adverse health effects attributable thereto; that individuals themselves are often able to detect and thus minimize effects of exposure to hazardous substances if they are aware of the identity of the substances and the early symptoms of unsafe exposure; and that individuals have an inherent right to know the full range of the risks they face so that they can make reasoned decisions and take informed action concerning their employment and their living conditions.

The legislature further declares that local health, fire, police, safety, and other government officials require detailed information about the identity, characteristics, and quantities of hazardous substances used and stored in communities within their jurisdictions, in order to plan adequately for, and respond to, emergencies, enforce compliance with applicable laws and regulations concerning these substances, and to compile records of exposures to hazardous substances over a period of time that will facilitate the diagnosis, treatment, and prevention of disease.

The legislature further declares that the extent of the toxic contamination of the air, water, and land in this state has caused a high degree of concern among its residents and that much of this concern is needlessly aggravated by the unfamiliarity of these substances to residents.

The legislature therefore determines that it is in the public interest to establish a comprehensive program for the disclosure of information about hazardous substances in the workplace and the community, and to provide a procedure whereby residents of this state may gain access to this information.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Chemical abstracts service number" means the unique identification number assigned by the Chemical Abstracts Service to chemicals.

(2) "Chemical name" is the scientific designation of a chemical in accordance with the nomenclature system developed by the International Union of Pure and Applied Chemistry or the Chemical Abstracts Service rules of nomenclature.

(3) "Common name" means any designation or identification such as a code name, code number, trade name, brand name, or generic name used to identify a chemical other than by its chemical name.

(4) "Container" means a receptacle used to hold a liquid, solid, or gaseous substance, including, but not limited to, bottles, pipelines, bags, barrels, boxes, cans, cylinders, drums, cartons, vessels, vats, and stationary or mobile storage tanks. "Container" does not include process containers.

(5) "Council" means the "right-to-know advisory council" created pursuant to section 17 of this act.
"County health department" means a county health agency established pursuant to Title 70 RCW.

"Department" means the department of labor and industries.

"Employee" means a person who is employed in the business of his or her employer whether by way of manual labor or otherwise and every person in this state who is engaged in the employment of or who is working under an independent contract the essence of which is the employee's personal labor for an employer under this chapter whether by way of manual labor or otherwise. Employee does not include:

(a) Any person employed as a domestic servant in a private home by an employer who has less than two employees regularly employed forty or more hours a week in such employment;

(b) Any person employed to do gardening, maintenance, repair, remodeling, or similar work in or about the private home of the employer;

(c) A person whose employment is not in the course of the trade, business, or profession of his or her employer and is not in or about the private home of the employer;

(d) Any person performing services in return for aid or sustenance only, received from any religious or charitable organization;

(e) Any child under eighteen years of age employed by his or her parent or parents in agricultural activities on the family farm; or

(f) Jockeys while participating in or preparing horses for race meets licensed by the Washington horse racing commission pursuant to chapter 67.16 RCW.

"Employee representative" means any individual or organization to whom an employee gives written authorization to exercise a right of access. For the purposes of access to employee exposure records and analysis using exposure or medical records, a recognized or certified collective bargaining agent shall be treated automatically as a designated representative without regard to written employee authorization.

"Employer" means any person, firm, corporation, partnership, business trust, legal representative, or other business entity which engages in any business, industry, profession, or activity in this state and employs one or more employees or who contracts with one or more persons, the essence of which contract is the personal labor of such person or persons and includes the state, counties, cities, and all municipal corporations, public corporations, political subdivisions of the state, and charitable organizations. Any person, partnership, or business entity not having employees, and who is covered by the industrial insurance act shall be considered both an employer and an employee except for the purposes of section 13 of this act. Where there are two or more employers at the same work place, each employer shall be solely responsible under this chapter for his or her own employees.

"Exposure" or "exposed" means that an employee is subjected to a hazardous chemical in the course of employment through any route of entry such as inhalation, ingestion, skin contact or absorption, and includes potential, such as accidental or possible exposure.

"Hazardous substance" means any substance, or substance contained in a mixture, included on the workplace hazardous substance list developed by the department pursuant to section 5 of this act. Hazardous substances do not include consumer products packaged for distribution to, and used by, the general public, including any product used by an employer or the employer's employees in the same form, concentration, and manner as it is sold to consumers, and to the employer's knowledge, employee exposure is not significantly greater than the consumer exposure occurring during principal consumer use of the product. The department may, by inclusion in the standards adopted under section 5 of this act, determine whether any of the following may be excluded from the definitions of hazardous substance:

(a) Any substance received by an employee in a sealed package and subsequently sold or transferred in that package, if the seal remains intact while the substance is in the employer's workplace; or

(b) Any substance, mixture, or product if present in a physical state, volume, or concentration for which there is no valid and substantial evidence that a significant risk to human health may occur from exposure.

"Label" means a sign, emblem, sticker, or marker affixed to or stenciled onto a container.

"Manufacturer" means a person who produces, synthesizes, extracts, or otherwise makes a hazardous substance.

"Material safety data sheet" means a written document prepared by the manufacturer or supplier for each product containing a hazardous substance and transmitted by the manufacturer or supplier to purchasers pursuant to this chapter. Manufacturers and suppliers shall obtain or develop a material safety data sheet for each hazardous substance they produce or import. Employers shall have a material safety data sheet for each hazardous substance which they use. Each material safety data sheet shall contain at least the following information:

(a) The identity used on the label, and, except as provided for in section 9 of this act on trade secrets:

(i) If the hazardous substance is a single substance, its chemical and common name;
(ii) If the hazardous substance is a mixture which has been tested as a whole to determine its hazards, the chemical and common name of the ingredients which contribute to these known hazards and the common name of the mixture itself; or

(iii) If the hazardous substance is a mixture which has not been tested as a whole:

(A) The chemical and common name of all ingredients that have been determined to be health hazards, and that comprise one percent or greater of the composition, except that hazardous substances identified as carcinogens shall be listed if the concentrations are one-tenth of one percent or greater; and

(B) The chemical and common name of all ingredients that have been determined to present a physical hazard when present in the mixture;

(c) The physical characteristics of the hazardous substance, such as vapor pressure and flash point;

(d) The acute and chronic health hazards of the hazardous substance, including signs and symptoms of exposure, and any medical conditions that are generally recognized as being aggravated by exposure to the hazardous substance;

(e) The primary route of entry;

(f) The occupational safety and health act (OSHA) permissible exposure limit, American Conference of Governmental Industrial Hygienists threshold limit value, and any other exposure limit used or recommended by the manufacturer or supplier preparing the material safety data sheet, where available;

(g) Whether the hazardous substance is listed in the National Toxicology Program (NTP) Annual Report on Carcinogens (latest edition) or has been found to be a potential carcinogen in the International Agency for Research on Cancer (IARC) Monographs (latest editions), or by the occupational safety and health act;

(h) Any generally applicable precautions for safe handling and use that are known to the manufacturer or supplier preparing the material safety data sheet, including appropriate hygienic practices, protective measures during repair and maintenance of contaminated equipment, and procedures for clean-up of spills and leaks;

(i) Any generally applicable control measures that are known to the manufacturer or supplier preparing the material safety data sheet, such as appropriate engineering controls, work practices, or personal protective equipment;

(j) Emergency and first aid procedures;

(k) The date of preparation of the material safety data sheet or the last change to it;

(l) The name, address, and telephone number of the manufacturer, supplier, or other responsible party preparing or distributing the material safety data sheet, who can provide additional information on the hazardous substance and appropriate emergency procedures, if necessary; and

(m) Any additional information the department may require under section 23 of this act.

If no relevant information is found for any given category on the material safety data sheet, the manufacturer or supplier preparing the material safety data sheet shall mark it to indicate that no applicable information was found.

Where complex mixtures have similar hazards and contents, i.e., the chemical ingredients are essentially the same, but the specific composition varies from mixture to mixture, the manufacturer or supplier may prepare one material safety data sheet to apply to all of these similar mixtures.

The manufacturer or supplier preparing the material safety data sheet shall ensure that the information recorded accurately reflects the scientific evidence used in making the hazard determination. If the manufacturer or supplier becomes newly aware of any significant information regarding the hazards of a hazardous substance, or ways to protect against the hazards, this new information shall be added to the material safety data sheet within three months. Effective November 25, 1985, if the hazardous substance is not being produced or imported, the manufacturer or supplier shall add the information to the material safety data sheet before the hazardous substance is introduced into the workplace.

(16) "Mixture" means any combination of two or more chemicals if the combination is not, in whole or in part, the result of a chemical reaction.

(17) "Nonhazardous substance" means any item not included in the workplace hazardous substance list as prepared by the department pursuant to section 5 of this act.

(18) "Process container" means:

(a) A container, excluding a pipeline, the content of which is changed frequently;

(b) A container into which substances are transferred from labeled containers, and which is intended only for the immediate use of the employee who performs the transfer;

(c) A container on which a label would be obscured by heat, spillage, or other factors; or

(d) A test tube, beaker, vial, or other container which is routinely used and reused;

(e) The employer may use signs, placards, process sheets, batch tickets, operating procedures, or other written materials in lieu of affixing labels to individual process containers, as long as the alternative method identifies the containers to which the label is applicable and conveys the information required by section 14 of this act to be on a label. The written materials shall be readily accessible to the employees in their work area throughout each work shift;

(f) The employer is not required to label portable containers into which hazardous chemicals are transferred from labeled containers, and which are intended only for the immediate use of the employee who performs the transfer.

(19) “Research and development laboratory” means a specially designated area used primarily for research, development, teaching, and testing activity, and not primarily involved in the production of goods for commercial sale, in which hazardous substances are used by or under the direct supervision of a technically qualified person.

(20) “Supplier” means any firm or individual other than the initial manufacturer, such as an importer or distributor, who supplies or imports products containing hazardous substances.

(21) “Technically qualified individual” means a person who, because of education, training, or experience, understands the health risks associated with the hazardous substance or mixture handled by or under his or her supervision.

(22) “Trade secret” has the definition found in the uniform trade secrets act, RCW 19.108.010(4).

(23) “Work area” means a room or defined space in a workplace where hazardous substances are produced or used and where employees are present.

(24) “Workplace” means an establishment at one geographical location containing one or more work areas.

(25) “Workplace hazardous substance list” means the list of health hazard substances developed by the department under section 5 of this act for which a manufacturer or supplier may make a trade secret claim.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. (1) The application of this chapter is limited with respect to the following employees:

(a) Employees of handlers of sewage or solid waste;

(b) Employees of research and development laboratories;

(c) Employees who are performing duties subject to regulations regarding the transportation of hazardous substances promulgated by any of the following agencies:

(i) The federal department of transportation;

(ii) The Washington utilities and transportation commission; or

(iii) The international maritime organization of the United Nations;

(d) Other employees who are performing duties directly relating to the transportation of hazardous substances.

(2) Employers shall be limited to the following responsibilities under this chapter with regard to employees listed in subsection (1) of this section:

(a) Extensive education and training programs shall be provided to employees in accordance with section 13 of this act;

(b) Employers shall ensure that labels on incoming containers of hazardous substances are not removed or defaced;

(c) Employers shall maintain material safety data sheets that are received with incoming shipments for each type of hazardous substance in their workplace, and ensure that they are readily accessible to employees;

(d) The workplace survey required by section 6 of this act shall be completed to the extent that information is reasonably available; and

(e) Any employee who is exposed to a hazardous substance shall be immediately provided with a material safety data sheet if possible.

(3) The limitations in this section apply only to employees directly involved in the transportation of hazardous substances, directly involved in laboratory research, or directly involved in handling sewage or solid waste. Employees not directly involved in the transportation of hazardous substances, not directly involved in laboratory research, or not directly involved in handling sewage or solid waste are covered by the full terms of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. (1) The department, after consultation with the department of agriculture, shall develop a workplace hazardous substance list in accordance with rules adopted under chapter 34.04 RCW that shall include:

(a) Any substance regulated under the Washington industrial safety and health act, chapter 49.17 RCW;

(b) Those environmental hazardous substances designated by the federal Environmental Protection Agency pursuant to section 307 and 311 of the federal Clean Water Act of 1977 (33 U.S.C. Secs. 1317 and 1321 respectively) or as hazardous air pollutants pursuant to section 112 of the federal Clean Air Act (42 U.S.C. Sec. 4712) as amended, which have known adverse human health risks;

(c) Substances listed as human or animal carcinogens by the International Agency for Research on Cancer (IARC);

(d) Substances for which an information alert has been issued by the department; and

(e) Any other substance which the department, based on documented scientific evidence, determines may pose a threat to the health or safety of an employee.
(2) The department shall develop by rule, in accordance with chapter 34.04 RCW, criteria by which hazardous substances may be placed or deleted from the list established under this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. (1) The department, after consultation with the department of agriculture, shall develop a workplace survey in accordance with rules adopted under chapter 34.04 RCW. The workplace survey shall include a copy of the workplace hazardous substance list.

(2) The department shall transmit the workplace survey to each employer in the state no later than June 1, 1986. Employers shall complete the workplace survey and return it to the department within forty-five days except when employer receives an extension from the department. The number of workplace surveys an employer must submit shall be in accordance with criteria developed by the department.

(3) For those employees who communicate primarily in a language other than English, employers shall make a reasonable effort to inform such employees of their rights under this chapter. When necessary or desirable, the department shall prepare and, upon request, make available to the employers and the public a translation of the workplace survey and each material safety data sheet. The department shall also prepare and make available, when necessary or desirable, translations of written material prepared by the department to inform employees of their rights under this chapter.

An employer shall ensure that all employees, regardless of any language barriers, are provided with a suitable education and training program required pursuant to section 14 of this act.

Every employer employing employees who have trouble communicating in English shall make reasonable efforts to post any notices in the employees' native language as provided by the department.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. (1) The manufacturer or supplier of any product used or brought into the state, which contains hazardous substances as listed pursuant to section 5 of this act, shall prepare and/or provide its purchasers of the product and the department with a material safety data sheet or sheets containing information specified in section 3(15) of this act by November 25, 1985. The manufacturer or supplier shall make every reasonable effort to ensure that the information contained in each material safety data sheet is current, accurate, and complete. Failure to provide current, accurate, and complete information as required by this section shall result in civil and criminal penalties as provided in chapter 49.17 RCW.

(a) This material safety data sheet shall be provided to the purchaser and to the department at the time of initial shipment and with the first shipment after each update of the material safety data sheet.

(b) The manufacturer or supplier shall revise a material safety data sheet pursuant to section 3(15) of this act regarding new information that affects the accuracy of the existing material safety data sheet. If the new information indicates either increased or decreased risks or additional measures necessary to protect employee health as compared to those stated on the material safety data sheet previously provided, the manufacturer or supplier shall provide the new material safety data sheet to the department and to those who have purchased the product directly from the manufacturer or supplier within the last year.

(2) If an employer has reason to believe that a product present at the employer's facility contains a hazardous substance as a component, but has not obtained from the manufacturer or supplier of the product a material safety data sheet, the employer shall list the product by its common name in the space provided on the survey. The department shall have the responsibility of obtaining the material safety data sheet, and, upon obtaining this information, shall transmit it to the employer.

(3) The manufacturer or supplier may provide the information required by section 3(15) of this act on an entire product mixture instead of on each hazardous substance in it when all of the following conditions exist:

(a) Hazard test information exists on the mixture itself, or adequate information exists to form a valid judgment of the hazardous properties of the mixture itself and the material safety data sheet indicates that the information presented and the conclusions drawn are from some source other than direct test data on the mixture itself;

(b) Providing information on the mixture will be as effective in protecting employee health as information on the ingredients; and

(c) The hazardous substances in the mixture are identified on the material safety data sheet unless it is either unfeasible to describe all the ingredients in the mixture or the identity of the ingredients is itself a valid trade secret. In either case, the reason why the hazardous substances in the mixture are not identified shall be stated on the material safety data sheet.

(4) A single mixture material safety data sheet may be provided for more than one formulation of a product mixture if the information provided pursuant to section 3(15) of this act does not vary for the formulation.

(5) The provisions of this section shall be complied with not later than November 25, 1985.
NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. (1) The department shall, upon request, transmit a copy of the workplace survey to the health department of the county in which the employer's facility is located, the local fire department, and the local police department.

(2) The department shall annually notify the association of Washington cities, the Washington state association of counties, and the Washington fire commissioners association of their rights under this chapter. These organizations shall inform their members of the information available to the members through the department.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. (1) The manufacturer, employer, or supplier may make a trade secret claim to the department. Such a trade secret claim does not relieve the manufacturer or supplier from the duty to provide the department with the material safety data sheet. The department shall, by rules adopted in accordance with chapter 34.04 RCW, establish criteria to determine whether the trade secret claim is warranted, and if warranted set forth procedures for the transmittal of information obtained on the material safety data sheet to the employer while providing protection for the trade secret. While the trade secret claim is under review, a manufacturer, employer, or supplier may withhold the hazardous substance trade secret information from the label required by section 14 of this act, the workplace survey required by section 6 of this act, and the material safety data sheet required by section 7 of this act. The manufacturer or supplier shall notify purchasers of trade secret claims made to the department. For any trade secret claim, the manufacturers or suppliers shall compensate the department for expenses incurred in evaluating the validity of that claim.

(2) Where a treating physician or nurse determines that a medical emergency exists and the specific chemical identity of a hazardous chemical is necessary for emergency or first-aid treatment, the manufacturer, supplier, or employer shall immediately disclose the specific chemical identity to that treating physician or nurse, regardless of the existence of a written statement of need or a confidentiality agreement. The manufacturer, supplier, or employer may require a written statement of need and confidentiality agreement in accordance with provisions developed by the department.

(3) Any challenge to the denial of a trade secret claim shall be heard by an administrative law judge in accordance with chapter 34.04 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. (1) The department shall maintain a file of all completed workplace surveys and material safety data sheets received pursuant to sections 5, 7, and 8 of this act. The workplace surveys and material safety data sheets shall be retained by the department for thirty years.

(2) Copies of such records maintained on microfiche or microfilm shall be admissible evidence in any judicial or administrative proceeding.

(3) The department shall require employers who have hazardous substances present at their workplaces to update annually the workplace survey for the employer's workplace.

(4) The department shall require all employers to complete a workplace survey at least once every five years.

(5) Any person may request from the department a copy of a workplace survey for a workplace, together with the appropriate material safety data sheets. The department is the only public agency required to respond to these requests. The department shall keep a record of each request to be made available to health and law enforcement agencies. The record shall include the information released and the identification of the person or organization making the request. A "community right-to-know" state-wide toll-free telephone number shall be made available by the department to receive workplace survey and material safety data sheet requests. The department shall advise the employer when requests for information pertaining to his or her workplace have been made by persons or organizations other than (a) employees working for the employer, or (b) local health, fire, and law enforcement agencies. The department shall impose reasonable limits on requests made under this section and may establish reasonable fees to be charged for copies. Any request by an employee for material pertaining to the workplace where the employee is employed made pursuant to this subsection shall be treated by the department as confidential.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. Every employer shall establish and maintain a central file at that employer's workplace in which the employer shall retain a workplace survey for the workplace and appropriate material safety data sheets. Every employer shall post on bulletin boards or other places readily accessible to employees a notice in a form substantially the same as a notice developed by the department of the availability of the information in the file. Every employer shall supply employees with any material designed and provided by the department to inform employees of their rights under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. (1) Within three working days, employers shall make available as soon as possible without interrupting normal work operations, a workplace survey and a material safety data sheet on each hazardous substance in the employees' work area upon written request of an employee, or the employee's designated representative.

(2) If a manufacturer or supplier has failed to provide a material safety data sheet as specified in section 7 of this act, employers shall notify the department and identify the hazardous substance, manufacturer or supplier, and trade name to the department.
likely to occur under normal operating conditions.

(3) The labeling requirements of subsections (1) and (2) of this section shall not apply to containers labeled pursuant to the "Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act" (61 Stat. 163; 7 U.S.C. sec. 121 et al.). The department may, by rule, certify containers labeled pursuant to any other federal rule or regulation as labeled in compliance with this section.

(4) Although process containers are excluded from labeling requirements, the employer shall post in a readily available place a workplace hazardous substance list indicating the chemical name or chemical abstracts service number of all hazardous substances contained in process containers.

(5) The department shall supply the employer and employee with copies of the response.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. (1) Every employer or group of employers shall establish or use an existing education and training program for that employer's employees, which shall be designed to inform employees in writing and orally of the nature of the hazardous substances to which they are exposed in the course of their employment and the potential health risks which the hazardous substances pose as provided in the material safety data sheets for the hazardous substances to which the employees may be exposed at the workplace. An employer shall provide current employees with the education and training program by June 1, 1986. and annually thereafter. Beginning June 1, 1986, all new employees shall be provided with the training and education program within the first month of employment. At the time of entering an employment agreement with a prospective employee, an employer shall notify a prospective employee of the availability of workplace surveys and appropriate material safety data sheets for the workplace at which the prospective employee will be employed.

(2) An employer with fewer than thirty-five full-time employees may request assistance, including on-site assistance, from the department in completing its workplace surveys and education and training programs.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. (1) A company or individual who manufactures or supplies a hazardous substance or mixture containing a hazardous substance and who supplies the substance or mixture to an employer in the state shall label all such substances and mixtures by the chemical or common name and the appropriate hazard warnings according to chapter 49.17 RCW. These labels shall be updated whenever the product mix is changed or if the manufacturer or supplier becomes aware of any information which is both new and significant regarding the health hazard of a component of the product.

(2) By June 1, 1986, every employer shall make every reasonable effort to assure that every container at the employer's workplace containing a hazardous substance shall bear a label indicating the chemical or common name and the appropriate hazard warnings in accordance with chapter 49.17 RCW.

(3) The labeling requirements of subsections (1) and (2) of this section shall not apply to containers labeled pursuant to the "Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act" (61 Stat. 163; 7 U.S.C. sec. 121 et al.). The department may, by rule, certify containers labeled pursuant to any other federal rule or regulation as labeled in compliance with this section.

(4) Although process containers are excluded from labeling requirements, the employer shall post in a readily available place a workplace hazardous substance list indicating the chemical name or chemical abstracts service number of all hazardous substances contained therein. Labeling of normally-operated vents to the atmosphere, sample connections, and drains in those areas is required if there is potential for employee exposure to a hazardous substance.

(5) In cases of pipes or piping systems, a fixed storage tank, or a reaction vessel, an employer may choose to convey the information required by this section by posting signs, placards, or operating instructions, or other methods rather than affixing labels. For any pipe or piping system, the information required by this section shall be provided at points where direct employee exposure to the hazardous substance contained in the pipe or piping system is likely to occur under normal operating conditions.

(6) If any provisions of this section are inconsistent with the federal Resource Conservation and Recovery Act, or with applicable regulations issued under that act by the Environmental Protection Agency or with chapter 70 RCW, or with regulations adopted by the department of ecology pursuant to its authority under RCW 70.105.020 and RCW 70.105.130, the provisions of this section shall be deemed superseded by those federal and state statutes and regulations.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. An employee or employee representative may request, in writing, from the employer, a copy of a workplace survey or a material safety data sheet, filed pursuant to this chapter for the employee's work area. The employer shall supply this material within three working days of the request. If an employer has not compiled with section 12 of this act, an employee shall have the right to refuse to work with a particular hazardous substance for which a request was made and not honored within the statutory time period without loss of pay or forfeit of any other privilege until the request is honored. This section shall not apply to employees of vessels while the employees are on the water.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. No employer may discharge, cause to be discharged, or otherwise discipline, penalize, or discriminate against any employee because the employee or the employee's representative has exercised any right established in this chapter. The discrimination provisions of chapter 49.17 RCW apply to this chapter.
NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. (1) The director shall establish in the department a right-to-know advisory council, which shall consist of fifteen members appointed by the director. Each of these members shall be appointed for a term of three years, provided that of the members of the council first appointed by the director, five shall serve for terms of one year, five shall serve for terms of two years, and five shall serve for terms of three years. Of these members, one shall be appointed from persons having training and experience in industrial hygiene recommended by recognized labor unions; one from persons recommended by recognized agricultural organizations; one from persons recommended by recognized environmental organizations; one from persons recommended by recognized public interest organizations; one from persons recommended by recognized organizations of chemical industries; one from persons recommended by recognized community organizations; one from persons recommended by recognized organizations of petroleum industries; one from persons recommended by recognized organizations of fire fighters; one from persons recommended by recognized business or trade organizations; one from persons recommended by recognized organizations of small business; one from persons holding an M.D. degree recommended by recognized public health organizations; two persons from professional accident and safety organizations; one person from the technology-based industries; and one from persons with training and experience in environmental epidemiology and toxicology recommended by recognized research or academic organizations. In the event that no recommendations for a particular category of membership are made to the director three months after the effective date of this act in the case of the initial appointments, or within sixty days of the date of the expiration of the term of office of any member or the occurrence of any vacancy in the case of subsequent appointments, the director shall appoint as a member for that category of membership a person whom the director believes will be representative thereof.

(2) A majority of the membership of the council constitutes a quorum for the transaction of council business. Action may be taken and motions and resolutions adopted by the council at any meeting thereof by the affirmative vote of a majority of the members of the council present and voting.

(3) The council shall meet regularly as it may determine, and shall also meet at the call of the department.

(4) The council shall appoint a chairman and other officers as may be necessary from among its members. The council may, within the limits of any funds appropriated or otherwise made available to it for this purpose, appoint such staff or hire such experts as it may require.

(5) Members of the council shall serve without compensation, but the council may, within the limits of funds appropriated or otherwise made available to it for such purposes, reimburse its members for necessary expenses incurred in the discharge of their official duties in accordance with RCW 43.03.050 and 43.03.060.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. (1) The council shall:

(a) Advise the department on the revision of the workplace hazardous substance lists;

(b) Study the impact of this chapter on employers and make recommendations to the legislature. Special emphasis shall be given to the study of the impacts on agricultural and small business employers;

(c) Advise the department on the implementation of this chapter; and

(d) Review any matters submitted to it by the department.

(2) The council may:

(a) Review any aspect of the implementation of this chapter, and transmit its recommendations to the department; and

(b) Hold public meetings or hearings within the state on any matter or matters related to this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. The department, in conjunction with the council, shall establish a procedure for annually receiving information, advice, testimony, and recommendations from the council, the public, and any other interested party concerning the implementation of this chapter. This procedure shall include a mechanism for revising the workplace hazardous substance list. Any revision of the workplace hazardous substance list shall be based on documented scientific evidence. The department shall publicly announce any revisions of the workplace hazardous substance list, and any such additions or revisions shall be made pursuant to chapter 34.04 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. The department shall produce educational brochures and public service announcements detailing information available to citizens under this chapter. These educational materials shall be sent to each county health department. As necessary, the department shall provide information needed to update these educational materials.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. A person may bring a civil action on his or her own behalf against a manufacturer, supplier, employer, or user for a violation of a provision of this chapter or any rule promulgated under this chapter. The superior court shall have jurisdiction over these actions. The court may award costs of litigation to the prevailing party, including reasonable attorney and expert witness fees.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. Substances not included on the workplace hazardous substance list shall not be subject to the reporting provisions of this chapter. However, the absence of any substance from the workplace hazardous substance list, or the provision of any information by an employer to an employee or any other person pursuant to the provisions of this chapter shall not affect any other liability of an employer with regard to safeguarding the health and safety of an employee or any other person exposed to the substance, nor shall it affect any other duty or responsibility of an employer to warn ultimate users of a substance of any potential health hazards associated with the use of the substance pursuant to the provisions of any law or rule adopted pursuant thereto.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 23. The department may request from an employer submitting surveys to further information concerning the surveys, and the employer shall provide the additional information upon the request. The employer may require the department to provide reasons why further information is needed and to sign an agreement protecting the confidentiality of any additional information provided under this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 24. (1) The worker and community right to know fund is hereby established in the custody of the state treasurer. The department shall deposit all moneys received under this chapter in the fund. Moneys in the fund may be spent only for the purposes of this chapter following legislative appropriation. Disbursements from the fund shall be on authorization of the director or the director's designee. The fund is subject to the allotment procedure provided under chapter 43.88 RCW.

(2) The department shall assess each employer a fee of seventy-five cents per employee to provide for the implementation of the provisions of this chapter. After this initial assessment, the fees shall be based on a fee schedule developed by the department and shall be collected only from those employers who have hazardous substances present at their workplaces. All fees collected by the department pursuant to this section shall be collected in a cost-efficient manner and shall be deposited in the fund.

(3) Records required by this chapter shall at all times be open to the inspection of the director, or his designee including, the traveling auditors, agents or assistants of the department provided for in RCW 51.16.070 and 51.48.040. The information obtained from employer records under the provisions of this section shall be subject to the same confidentiality requirements as set forth in RCW 51.16.070.

(4) An employer may appeal the assessment of the fee pursuant to the procedures set forth in chapter 49.17 RCW and accompanying rules except that the employer shall not have the right of appeal to superior court as provided in chapter 49.17 RCW. The employer from whom the fee is demanded or enforced, may however, within thirty days of the board of industrial insurance appeal's final order, pay the fee under written protest setting forth all the grounds upon which such fee is claimed to be unlawful, excessive or otherwise improper and thereafter bring an action in superior court against the department to recover such fee or any portion of the fee which was paid under protest.

(5) Repayment shall be made to the general fund of any moneys appropriated by law in order to implement this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 25. Unless reference is specifically made to another chapter, this chapter shall be implemented and enforced including penalties, violations, citations, and other administrative procedures pursuant to chapter 49.17 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 26. If a manufacturer, supplier, employer, or user refuses or fails to provide the department with any data sheets, workplace surveys, or other papers, documents, or information required by this chapter, the department may give written notice to the manuufacturer, supplier, employer, or user demanding immediate compliance. If the manufacturer, supplier, employer, or user fails to begin to comply with the terms of the notice within fourteen days of receipt, the department may levy a fine of up to five thousand dollars per day from the final date for compliance allowed by this section or by the department. In any case where the noncompliance continues for more than fifteen days or where the department determines the failure to comply creates a potential health or safety hazard to employees or hinders the department's performance of its duties under this chapter, the department may, in lieu of levying a fine or further fines, petition the superior court of Thurston county or the county where the manufacturer, supplier, employer, or user is located for an order enjoining the manufacturer, employer, supplier, or user from further noncompliance and granting any other remedies that may be appropriate. The court may award the department costs of litigation, including attorney's fees. If the department is the prevailing party.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 27. Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, the department, after consultation with the department of agriculture, shall adopt any rules necessary to carry out its responsibilities under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 28. Sections 3 through 27 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 49 RCW.

community right to know fund for the biennium ending June 30, 1985, the sum of ninety-seven thousand four hundred fifty-three dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to carry out the purposes of this act.
NEW SECTION. Sec. 30. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

and the same are herewith transmitted.

DEAN R. FOSTER, Chief Clerk

MOTION

Senator Hughes moved that the Senate do concur in the House amendment to Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 4831.
Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Zimmerman: "Senator Hughes, in the amendment of the House, I haven't been able to study the details, but in the general summary here, did it provide for a means for companies, particularly high tech companies, to have trade secrets or at least the detail involved in their specific advantage that they have as to the protection of that?"

Senator Hughes: "The answer is 'yes.' I'll ask Senator Talmadge to give you some of the details."

REMARKS BY SENATOR TALMADGE

Senator Talmadge: "Senator Zimmerman, Senator Hughes' response was absolutely correct. It was provided for in the original Senate Bill—a very strong protection for trade secrets, which includes the processes of the manufacturer and that is retained in the House amendment."

Senator Zimmerman: "There had been some question, apparently, of the House version. On the basis of that, that's why I asked the question, as far as some of the individual firms. But you feel comfortable, at least, that they are protected and will not be in a position where they would be losing their advantages because of the bill?"

Senator Talmadge: "I do. Senator, and I believe, in fact, the state protection of trade secrets and trade processes are as strong or perhaps stronger than the protections afforded under the OSHA regulations."

Senator Zimmerman: "One final question—do you feel that, at this point, this bill is preferable to waiting and taking some of the OSHA—the heavy items that are included in the federal legislation—that is already in effect and is going in effect?"

Senator Talmadge: "I think it's clearly preferable. It's clearly preferable for the reason that there's a broader coverage under the state act than will be true under the federal regulations. In fact, I think our definitions and our examination of the issue has been a better one than was done for the federal OSHA regulations. I think ours is a superior piece of legislation from the indications we have from other jurisdictions. They believe that's true also."

Senator Zimmerman: "You're not concerned that the paper work is going to be overwhelming in terms of length of time to keep it going?"

Senator Talmadge: "No."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Deccio: "Senator Talmadge, I think that this bill is not liveable as far as those people who have to comply with it. If time proves that I'm right, would you, if you're here, be willing to scale down what I think is overkill and what would prove to be overkill, so that the bill could be made to be liveable and be possible to comply with—in order to achieve that thing which you see to be the purpose of the bill and that is to protect the workers and the people in the community?"

Senator Talmadge: "Senator, I'm always willing to do the reasonable thing in the protection of workers, but, of course, I do take some issue with the majority of terms like 'overkill' and 'onerous materials' and so forth, which you used in your question. It's simply my belief that this bill is not onerous. It's very similar to the requirements under the federal OSHA regulations. We've covered more employment because it's our belief that hazard is to be found in a greater number of employment than was true under the federal OSHA regulations. But, if in fact, it proves to be a difficulty, I will certainly join with you in dealing with that difficulty.
as best I can. As I indicated, I will be chairing the subcommittee with Senator Hughes.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Quigg: "Senator Talmadge, I have just a floor summary of the bill and on page 6 it says 'employees are insured regardless of any language barriers of a suitable education and training program.' Is that the equivalent of a workplace education for all provision? What does that mean in English?"

Senator Talmadge: "Senator, of course, when you read the Senate Bill, that was provided for there also, and the requirement is that they be advised of suitable precautions to take against hazardous material, and I remind you that 'hazardous materials' as defined in the bill, included those materials that would kill them, that would cause cancer, or would cause some other terrible occupational disease. So, in fact, suitable training programs would mean acquainting them with the process of material safety data sheets and the kinds of precautions they might have to take against hazardous materials."

Senator Quigg: "Well, what would be, then, the test whether or not suitability had been achieved? How would one know whether or not they suitably educated or trained employees regardless of their particular language?"

Senator Talmadge: "Well, Senator, as we provided in the Senate version, and was retained in the House version, that was required of the Department of Labor and Industries to enforce—to determine if, in fact, those people had received what amounted to a training program to advise them of the problems of these hazardous materials."

Senator Quigg: "So, in other words, L & I will be the judge and jury as it relates to this education portion?"

Senator Talmadge: "Senator, that's usually the case with any administrative regulations."

On motion of Senator Bolliger, further consideration of Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 4831 was deferred.

There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of Reengrossed Senate Bill No. 3044 and the pending House amendment, deferred March 5, 1984.

The President believes that the title refers to the language in the enacting clause—"an act relating to the regulation of persons who perform minor health care services.'"

"In this situation, the President is guided by the Joint Rules of the Legislature and fully realizes that Joint Rule 8 allows for the inclusion of amendments which may not necessarily be ruled in order pursuant to Senate Rule 65, entitled 'scope and object of bill not to be changed.'"

"The President finds that a careful review of the Free Conference Committee Report to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4448 shows that the proposed new item does come within the title of the bill. The President, therefore, finds that the Free Conference Committee Report to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4448 does not expand the scope and object of the title and that the point of order is not well taken."

The Report of the Free Conference Committee was ruled in order.

The board shall consider the public safety, the detrimental effect of overcrowding upon inmate rehabilitation, and the best allocation of limited correctional facility resources. Guidelines adopted under this subsection shall be submitted to the senate institutions and house of representatives social and health services committees for their review. This subsection does not require the board to reduce inmate population to or below any certain number. The board may also take any other action authorized by law to modify the terms of prisoners under its jurisdiction;

The analysis shall determine: (a) Whether the state should assume financial responsibility for operating local correctional facilities. (b) whether the state should contract for county jail beds to house state prisoners. (c) whether new jail facilities have adequate programs to meet the needs of state prisoners. and (d) the feasibility of counties using minimum security facilities for low-risk offenders.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. The department, in developing the plan, shall consult with and receive input from representatives of affected state and local government entities including the governor's interagency criminal justice work group, correctional organizations and associations, prosecuting attorneys, the defense bar, the legislature, private nonprofit agencies, and private citizens. The plan shall be submitted to the governor's interagency criminal justice work group for review prior to the submission of such plan to the legislature.

On motion of Senator Owen, the rules were suspended and Senate Bill No. 4421 was advanced to second reading and placed on the second reading calendar.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 4421, by Senators Woody, Hayner and McManus

Modifying provisions on the taxation of timber and timberlands.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Owen moved that the following amendment be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Composite property tax rate" for a county means the total amount of property taxes levied upon forest lands by all taxing districts in the county other than the state, divided by the total assessed value of all forest land in the county.

(2) "Forest land" means forest land which is classified or designated forest land under this chapter.

(3) "Harvested" means the time when in the ordinary course of business the quantity of timber by species is first definitely determined. The amount harvested shall be determined by the Scribner Decimal C Scale or other prevalent measuring practice adjusted to arrive at substantially equivalent measurements, as approved by the department of revenue.

(4) "Harvester" means every person who from the person’s own land or from the land of another under a right or license granted by lease or contract, either directly or by contracting with others for the necessary labor or mechanical services, fells, cuts, or takes timber for sale or for commercial or industrial use. The term does not include persons performing under contract the necessary labor or mechanical services for a harvester.

(5) "Stumpage value of timber" means the appropriate stumpage value shown on tables prepared by the department of revenue under section 11 of this act, provided that for timber harvested from public land and sold under a competitive bidding process, stumpage value shall mean that actual amount paid to the seller in cash, or other consideration. Whenever payment for the stumpage includes considerations other than cash, the value shall be the fair market value of the other consideration, provided that if the other consideration is permanent roads, the value of the roads shall be the appraised value as appraised by the seller.

(6) "Timber" means forest trees, standing or down, on privately or publicly owned land, and except as provided in RCW 84.33.170 includes Christmas trees.

(7) "Timber assessed value" for a county means a value, calculated by the department of revenue before October 1 of each year, equal to the total stumpage value of timber harvested from privately owned land in the county during the most recent four calendar quarters for which the information is available multiplied by a ratio. The numerator of the ratio is the rate of tax imposed by the county under section 8 of this act for the year of the calculation. The denominator of the ratio is the composite property tax rate for the county for taxes due in the year of the calculation, expressed as a percentage of assessed value.

(8) "Timber assessed value" for a taxing district means the timber assessed value for the county multiplied by a ratio. The numerator of the ratio is the total assessed value of forest land in the taxing district. The denominator is the total assessed value of forest land in the county. As used in this section, "assessed value of forest land" means the assessed value of forest land for taxes due in the year the timber assessed value for the county is calculated.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. (1) An excise tax is imposed on every person engaging in this state in business as a harvester of timber on privately or publicly owned land. The tax is equal to the stumpage value of timber harvested for sale or for commercial or industrial use multiplied by the rate provided in this chapter.

(2) A credit is allowed against the tax imposed under this section for any tax paid under section 8 of this act.

(3) Moneys received as payment for the tax imposed under this section and section 8 of this act shall be deposited in the timber tax distribution account hereby established in the state general fund.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The rate of tax imposed under section 2 of this act for timber harvested July 1, 1984, through June 30, 1985, shall be six and one-half percent.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. The rate of tax imposed under section 2 of this act for timber harvested July 1, 1985, through June 30, 1986, shall be six and one-eighth percent.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. The rate of tax imposed under section 2 of this act for timber harvested July 1, 1986, through June 30, 1987, shall be five and three-fourths percent.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. The rate of tax imposed under section 2 of this act for timber harvested July 1, 1987, through June 30, 1988, shall be five and three-eighths percent.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. The rate of tax imposed under section 2 of this act for timber harvested July 1, 1988, and thereafter, shall be five percent.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. (1) The legislative body of any county may impose a tax upon every person engaging in the county in business as a harvester effective October 1, 1984. The tax shall be equal to the stumpage value of timber harvested from privately owned land multiplied by a rate of four percent.

(2) Before the effective date of any ordinance imposing a tax under this section, the county shall contract with the department of revenue for administration and collection of the tax. The tax collected by the department of revenue under this section shall be deposited by the department in the timber tax distribution account. Moneys in the account may be spent only for collection and administration activities under section 8 of this act, for the activities undertaken by the department of revenue relating to the collection and administration of the taxes imposed under this section and section 2 of this act. Appropriations are not required for distributions to counties under section 9 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. (1) On the last business day of the second month of each calendar quarter, the state treasurer shall distribute from the timber tax distribution account to each county the amount of tax collected on behalf of each county under section 8 of this act, less each county's proportionate share of appropriations for collection and administration activities under section 8 of this act, and shall transfer to the state general fund the amount of tax collected on behalf of the state under section 2 of this act, less the state's proportionate share of appropriations for collection and administration activities under section 2 of this act. The county treasurer shall deposit moneys received under this section in a county timber tax account which shall be established by each county. Following receipt of moneys under this section, the county treasurer shall make distributions from any moneys available in the county timber tax account to taxing districts in the county, except the state, under subsections (2) through (4) of this section.
(2) From moneys available, there shall be a distribution to each taxing district having debt service payments due during the calendar year, based upon bonds issued under authority of a vote of the people conducted pursuant to RCW 84.52.056 and based upon excess levies for a capital project fund authorized pursuant to RCW 84.52.053, of an amount equal to the timber assessed value of the district multiplied by the tax rate levied for payment of debt service and capital projects: PROVIDED, That in respect to levies for a debt service or capital project fund authorized before the effective date of this act, the amount allocated shall not be less than an amount equal to the same percentage of such debt service or capital project fund represented by timber tax allocations to such payments in calendar year 1984. Distribution under this subsection (2) shall be used only for debt service and capital projects payments.

(3) From the moneys remaining after the distributions under subsection (2) of this section, the county treasurer shall distribute to each school district an amount equal to one-half of the timber assessed value of the district or eighty percent of the timber roll of such district in calendar year 1983 as determined under this chapter. whichever is greater, multiplied by the tax rate, if any, levied by the district under RCW 84.52.052 or 84.52.053 for purposes other than debt service payments and capital projects supported under subsection (2) of this section.

(4) After the distributions directed under subsections (2) and (3) of this section, if any, each taxing district shall receive an amount equal to the timber assessed value of the district mul­ti­plied by the tax rate, if any, levied as a regular levy of the district or as a special levy not included in subsection (2) or (3) of this section.

(5) If there are insufficient moneys in the county timber tax account to make full distribution under subsection (4) of this section, the county treasurer shall multiply the amount to be distributed to each taxing district under that subsection by a fraction. The numerator of the fraction is the county timber tax account balance before making the distribution under that subsection.
The denominator of the fraction is the account balance which would be required to make full distribution under that subsection.

(6) After making the distributions under subsections (2) through (4) of this section in the full amount indicated for each calendar quarter and on or before June 30 for use the following July through December 31, the department shall prepare tables of stumpage values of each species or subclassification of limber within these units. The stumpage value shall be the amount that each such species or subclassification would sell for at a voluntary sale made in the ordinary course of business for purposes of immediate harvest. These stumpage values, expressed in terms of a dollar amount per thousand board feet or other unit measure, shall be determined in a manner which makes reasonable and adequate allowances for age, size, quality, costs of removal, accessibility to point of conversion, market conditions, and all other relevant factors from:

(a) Gross proceeds from sales on the stump of similar timber of like quality and character at similar locations, and in similar quantities;

(b) Gross proceeds from sales of logs adjusted to reflect only the portion of such proceeds attributable to value on the stump immediately prior to harvest; or

(c) A combination of (a) and (b) of this subsection.

(2) Upon application from any person who plans to harvest damaged timber, the stumpage values for which have been materially reduced from the values shown in the applicable tables due to damage resulting from fire, blow down, ice storm, flood, or other sudden unfore­seen cause, the department shall revise the stumpage value tables for any area in which such

In a taxing district which has classified or designated forest land under chapter 84.33 RCW. upon the assessed value of the property of the county; the rate percent necessary to raise the purposes. and for purposes of taxing districts coextensive with the county. shall be computed extending any tax. whenever it amounts to a fractional assessed value of the property of the district; all taxes assessed against any property shall be amount of taxes levied for any taxing district within the county shall be computed upon the rate percent necessary to raise the consolidated or total tax and the total tax assessed

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. The state timber tax account A and state timber tax reserve account established in RCW 84.33.071 and the timber tax distribution guarantee account established in RCW 84.33.085 shall continue within the state general fund and state treasury, respectively, until all funds remaining therein after complying with subsections (4) and (5) of this section are distributed as follows: (1) Any remaining timber tax moneys in the state timber tax account A and state timber tax reserve account shall be distributed in the following manner: (a) Thirty-seven percent to the state general fund for use in support of the common schools. (b) Subject to appropriation by the legislature, sixty-three percent to the counties of the state in the proportion the receipts of harvester excise tax from each county are to the total receipts of harvester excise tax from all counties in the state in calendar years 1982 and 1983.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. All sections of chapter 82.32 RCW, except RCW 82.32.045 and 82.32-270, apply to the taxes imposed under this chapter. Sec. 14. Section 84.52.080, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as amended by section 1, chapter 7, Laws of 1965 ex. sess. and RCW 84.52.080 are each amended to read as follows: (1) The county assessor shall extend the taxes upon the tax rolls in the form herein prescribed. The rate percent necessary to raise the amounts of taxes levied for state and county purposes, and for purposes of taxing districts coextensive with the county, shall be computed upon the assessed value of the property of the county; the rate percent necessary to raise the amount of taxes levied for any taxing district within the county shall be computed upon the assessed value of the property of the district; all taxes assessed against any property shall be added together and extended on the rolls in a column headed consolidated or total tax. In extending any tax, whenever it amounts to a fractional part of a cent greater than five mills it shall be made one cent, and whenever it amounts to five mills or less than five mills it shall be dropped. The amount of all taxes shall be entered in the proper columns, as shown by entering the rate percent necessary to raise the consolidated or total tax and the total tax assessed against the property.

(2) For the purpose of computing the rate necessary to raise the amount of any excess levy in a taxing district which has classified or designated forest land under chapter 84.33 RCW, other than the state, the county assessor shall add the district's timber assessed value, as defined in section 1 of this 1984 act, to the assessed value of the property; PROVIDED, That for school districts maintenance and operations levies only one-half of the district's timber assessed value shall be added.

(3) Upon the completion of such tax extension, it shall be the duty of the county assessor to make in each assessment book, tax roll or list a certificate in the following form:

I, ........................................ assessor of ................................ county, state of Washington, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a correct list of taxes levied on the real and personal property in the county of ................................ for the year one thousand nine hundred and .............. Witness my hand this .............. day of .............. 19 .......... ........................................ County Assessor

(4) The county assessor shall deliver said tax rolls to the county treasurer on or before the fifteenth day of December, taking his receipt therefor, and at the same time the county assessor shall provide the county auditor with an abstract of the tax rolls showing the total amount of taxes collectible in each of the taxing districts.
Sec. 15. Section 1, chapter 42, Laws of 1970 ex. sess. and RCW 39.36.015 are each amended to read as follows:

Whenever used in this 1970 amendatory act, the term "value of the taxable property" shall mean the actual value of the taxable property in a taxing district incurring indebtedness, as the term "taxing district" is defined in RCW 39.36.010, to be ascertained by the last assessment for state and county purposes prior to the incurring of such indebtedness except that in incorporated cities the assessment shall be taken from the last assessment for city purposes, plus the timber assessed value for the district as defined in section 1 of this 1984 act.

Sec. 16. Section 1, chapter 294, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. and RCW 84.33.010 are each amended to read as follows:

As a result of the study and analysis of systems of taxation of standing timber and forest lands by the forest tax committee pursuant to Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 30 of the 41st session of the legislature, and the recommendations of the committee based thereon, the legislature hereby finds that:

(1) The public welfare requires that this state's system for taxation of timber and forest lands be modernized to assure the citizens of this state and its future generations the advantages to be derived from the continuous production of timber and forest products from the significant area of privately owned forests in this state. It is this state's policy to encourage forestry and restocking and reforesting of such forests so that present and future generations will enjoy the benefits which forest areas provide in enhancing water supply, in minimizing soil erosion, storm and flood damage to persons or property, in providing a habitat for wild game, in providing scenic and recreational spaces, in maintaining land areas whose forests contribute to the natural ecological equilibrium, and in providing employment and profits to its citizens and raw materials for products needed by everyone.

(2) The combination of variations in quantities, qualities and locations of timber and forest lands, the fact that market areas for timber products are nation-wide and world-wide and the unique long term nature of investment costs and risks associated with growing timber, all make exceedingly difficult the function of valuing and assessing timber and forest lands.

(3) The existing ad valorem property tax system is unsatisfactory for taxation of standing timber and forest land and will significantly frustrate, to an ever increasing degree with the passage of time, the perpetual enjoyment of the benefits enumerated above.

(4) For these reasons it is desirable, in exercise of the powers to promote the general welfare and to impose taxes; that

(a) the ad valorem system for taxing timber be modified and discontinued in stages over a three year period during which such system will be replaced by one under which timber will be taxed on the basis of stumpage value at the time of harvest, and

(b) forest land remain under the ad valorem taxation system but be taxed only as provided in this chapter (((RCW 84.33.071)) and RCW 28A.41.130).

Sec. 17. Section 2, chapter 294, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. and RCW 84.33.020 are each amended to read as follows:

Lands not heretofore so classified, which are primarily devoted to and used for growing and harvesting timber are hereby classified as lands devoted to reforestation and such lands and timber shall be taxed in accordance with the provisions of this chapter((RCW 84.33.071)) and RCW 28A.41.130.

Sec. 18. Section 4, chapter 294, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. as amended by section 7, chapter 62, Laws of 1983 1st ex. sess. and RCW 84.33.040 are each amended to read as follows:

((Except as provided in RCW 84.33.050)) Timber on privately owned land or federally owned land shall be exempt from ad valorem taxation.

Sec. 19. Section 2, chapter 146, Laws of 1981 and RCW 84.33.074 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A small harvester may elect to calculate the tax imposed by ((RCW 84.33.071)) this chapter in the manner provided in this section.

(2) Timber shall be considered harvested at the time when in the ordinary course of business the quantity thereof by species is first definitely determined. The amount harvested shall be determined by the Scribner Decimal C Scale or other prevalent measuring practice adjusted to arrive at substantially equivalent measurements, as approved by the department of revenue.

(3) Timber values shall be determined by either of the following methods, whichever is most appropriate to the circumstances of the harvest:

(a) When standing timber is sold on the stump, the taxable value is the actual gross receipts received by the landowner from the sale of the standing timber.

(b) When timber is sold after it has been harvested, the taxable value is the actual gross receipts from sale of the harvested timber minus the costs of harvesting and marketing the timber. When the taxpayer is unable to provide documented proof of harvesting and marketing costs, this deduction for harvesting and marketing costs shall be a percentage of the gross receipts from sale of the harvested timber as determined by the department of revenue but in no case less than twenty-five percent.
(4) The department of revenue shall prescribe a short filing form which shall be as simple as possible.

Sec. 20. Section 6, chapter 134, Laws of 1980 and RCW 84.33.075 are each amended to read as follows:

The excise tax imposed by (RCW 84.33.071) this chapter shall not apply to any timber harvested by a nonprofit organization, association, or corporation from forest lands owned by it, where such lands are exempt from property taxes under RCW 84.36.030, and where all of the income and receipts of the nonprofit organization, association, or corporation derived from such timber sales are used solely for the expense of promoting, operating, and maintaining youth programs which are equally available to all, regardless of race, color, national origin, ancestry, or religious belief.

In order to determine whether the harvesting of timber by a nonprofit organization, association, or corporation is exempt, the director of the department of revenue shall have access to its books.

For the purposes of this section, a "nonprofit" organization, association, or corporation is one: (1) Which pays no part of its income directly or indirectly to its members, stockholders, officers, directors, or trustees except in the form of services rendered by the organization, association, or corporation in accordance with its purposes and bylaws; and (2) which pays salary or compensation to its officers only for actual services rendered, and at levels comparable to the salary or compensation of like positions within the public services of the state.

Sec. 21. Section 8, chapter 62, Laws of 1983 1st ex. sess. and RCW 84.33.077 are each amended to read as follows:

The amount of any property taxes paid on timber standing on public land shall be allowed as a credit against any tax imposed with respect to the business of harvesting timber from publicly owned land under (RCW 84.33.071) section 2 of this 1984 act. However, the amount of credit allowed shall not exceed the amount of excise tax due in respect to the business of harvesting timber from publicly owned land.

Sec. 22. Section 9, chapter 62, Laws of 1983 1st ex. sess. and RCW 84.33.078 are each amended to read as follows:

When any timber standing on public land, other than federally owned land, is sold separate from the land, the department of natural resources or other governmental unit, as appropriate, shall provide each bidder with a written notice clearly stating that timber sold separate from the land is subject to property tax in 1984 and thereafter and that the amount of the tax paid may be used as a credit against any tax imposed with respect to business of harvesting timber from publicly owned land under (RCW 84.33.071) section 2 of this 1984 act.

Sec. 23. Section 12, chapter 294, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. as last amended by section 7, chapter 148, Laws of 1981 and RCW 84.33.120 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) In preparing the assessment rolls as of January 1, 1982, for taxes payable in 1983 and each January 1st thereafter, the assessor shall list each parcel of forest land at a value with respect to the grade and class provided in this subsection and adjusted as provided in subsection (2) of this section and shall compute the assessed value of the land by using the same assessment ratio he applies generally in computing the assessed value of other property in his county. Values for the several grades of bare forest land shall be as follows:

(2) On or before December 31, 1981, the department shall adjust, by rule under chapter 34.04 RCW, the forest land values contained in subsection (1) of this section in accordance with this subsection, and shall certify these adjusted values to the county assessor for his use in preparing the assessment rolls as of January 1, 1982. For the adjustment to be made on or before December 31, 1981, for use in the 1982 assessment year, the department shall:

(a) Divide the aggregate value of all timber harvested within the state between July 1, 1976, and June 30, 1981, by the aggregate harvest volume for the same period, as determined from the harvester excise tax returns filed with the department under RCW 82.04.291 and 84.33-071; and

(b) Divide the aggregate value of all timber harvested within the state between July 1, 1975, and June 30, 1980, by the aggregate harvest volume for the same period, as determined from the harvester excise tax returns filed with the department under RCW 82.04.291 and 84.33-071; and

(c) Adjust the forest land values contained in subsection (1) of this section by a percentage equal to one-half of the percentage change in the average values of harvested timber reflected by comparing the resultant values calculated under (a) and (b) of this subsection.

For the adjustments to be made on or before December 31, 1982, and each succeeding year thereafter, the same procedure shall be followed as described in this subsection utilizing harvester excise tax returns filed under RCW 82.04.291 and (84.33.071)) this chapter except that this adjustment shall be made to the prior year's adjusted value, and the five-year periods for calculating average harvested timber values shall be successively one year more recent.

(3) In preparing the assessment roll for 1972 and each year thereafter, the assessor shall enter as the true and fair value of each parcel of forest land the appropriate grade value certified to him by the department of revenue, and he shall compute the assessed value of such land by using the same assessment ratio he applies generally in computing the assessed value of other property in his county. In preparing the assessment roll for 1975 and each year thereafter, the assessor shall assess and value as classified forest land all forest land that is not then designated pursuant to RCW 84.33.120(4) or 84.33.130 and shall make a notation of such classification upon the assessment and tax rolls. On or before January 15 of the first year in which such notation is made, the assessor shall mail notice by certified mail to the owner that such land has been classified as forest land and is subject to the compensating tax imposed by this section. If the owner desires not to have such land assessed and valued as classified forest land, he shall give the assessor written notice thereof on or before March 31 of such year and the assessor shall remove from the assessment and tax rolls the classification notation entered pursuant to this subsection, and shall thereafter assess and value such land in the manner provided by law other than this chapter 84.33 RCW.

(4) In any year commencing with 1972, an owner of land which is assessed and valued by the assessor other than pursuant to the procedures set forth in RCW 84.33.110 and this section, and which has, in the immediately preceding year, been assessed and valued by the assessor as forest land, may appeal to the county board of equalization by filing an application with the board in the manner prescribed in subsection (2) of RCW 84.33.130. The county board shall afford the applicant an opportunity to be heard if the application so requests and shall act upon the application in the manner prescribed in subsection (3) of RCW 84.33.130.

(5) Land that has been assessed and valued as classified forest land as of any year commencing with 1975 assessment year or earlier shall continue to be so assessed and valued until removal of classification by the assessor only upon the occurrence of one of the following events:

(a) Receipt of notice from the owner to remove such land from classification as forest land;

(b) Sale or transfer to an ownership making such land exempt from ad valorem taxation:
(c) Determination by the assessor, after giving the owner written notice and an opportunity to be heard, that, because of actions taken by the owner, such land is no longer primarily devoted to and used for growing and harvesting timber:

(d) Determination that a higher and better use exists for such land than growing and harvesting timber after giving the owner written notice and an opportunity to be heard:

(e) Sale or transfer of all or a portion of such land to a new owner, unless the new owner has signed a notice of forest land classification continuance. The signed notice of continuance shall be attached to the real estate excise tax affidavit provided for in RCW 82.45.120, as now or hereafter amended. The notice of continuance shall be on a form prepared by the department of revenue. If the notice of continuance is not signed by the new owner and attached to the real estate excise tax affidavit, all compensating taxes calculated pursuant to subsection (7) of this section shall become due and payable by the seller or transferor at time of sale. The county auditor shall not accept an instrument of conveyance of classified forest land for filing or recording unless the new owner has signed the notice of continuance or the compensating tax has been paid. The seller, transferor, or new owner may appeal the new assessed valuation calculated under subsection (7) of this section to the county board of equalization. Jurisdiction is hereby conferred on the county board of equalization to hear these appeals.

The assessor shall remove classification pursuant to subsections (c) or (d) above prior to September 30 of the year prior to the assessment year for which termination of classification is to be effective. Removal of classification as forest land upon occurrence of subsection (a), (b), (d), or (e) above shall apply only to the land affected, and upon occurrence of subsection (c) shall apply only to the actual area of land no longer primarily devoted to and used for growing and harvesting timber: PROVIDED, That any remaining classified forest land meets necessary definitions of forest land pursuant to RCW 84.33.100 as now or hereafter amended.

(f) Within thirty days after such removal of classification as forest land, the assessor shall notify the owner in writing setting forth the reasons for such removal. The owner of such land shall thereupon have the right to apply for designation of such land as forest land pursuant to subsection (4) of this section or RCW 84.33.130. The seller, transferor, or owner may appeal such removal to the county board of equalization.

(7) Unless the owner successfully applies for designation of such land or unless the removal is reversed on appeal, notation of removal from classification shall immediately be made upon the assessment and tax rolls, and commencing on January 1 of the year following the year in which the assessor made such notation, such land shall be assessed on the same basis as real property is assessed generally in that county. Except as provided in (subsections) subsections (5)(e) and (9) of this section and unless the assessor shall have mailed notice of classification pursuant to subsection (3) of this section, a compensating tax shall be imposed which shall be due and payable to the county treasurer thirty days after the owner is notified of the amount of the compensating tax. As soon as possible, the assessor shall compute the amount of such compensating tax and mail notice to the owner of the amount thereof and the date on which payment is due. The amount of such compensating tax shall be equal to:

(a) The difference, if any, between the amount of tax last levied on such land as forest land and an amount equal to the new assessed valuation of such land multiplied by the dollar rate of the last levy extended against such land, multiplied by

(b) A number, in no event greater than ten, equal to the number of years, commencing with assessment year 1975, for which such land was assessed and valued as forest land.

(8) Compensating tax, together with applicable interest thereon, shall become a lien on such land which shall attach at the time such land is removed from classification as forest land and shall have priority to and shall be fully paid and satisfied before any recognizance, mortgage, judgment, debt, obligation or responsibility to or with which such land may become charged or liable. Such lien may be foreclosed upon expiration of the same period after delinquency and in the same manner provided by law for foreclosure of liens for delinquent real property taxes as provided in RCW 84.64.050. Any compensating tax unpaid on its due date shall thereupon become delinquent. From the date of delinquency until paid, interest shall be charged at the same rate applied by law to delinquent ad valorem property taxes.

(9) The compensating tax specified in subsection (7) of this section shall not be imposed if the removal of classification as forest land pursuant to subsection (5) of this section resulted solely from:

(a) Transfer to a government entity in exchange for other forest land located within the state of Washington:

(b) A taking through the exercise of the power of eminent domain, or sale or transfer to an entity having the power of eminent domain in anticipation of the exercise of such power:

(c) Sale or transfer of land within two years after the death of the owner of at least a fifty percent interest in such land.

(10) With respect to any land that has been designated prior to May 6, 1974, pursuant to RCW 84.33.120(4) or 84.33.130, the assessor may, prior to January 1, 1975, on his own motion or pursuant to petition by the owner, change, without imposition of the compensating tax provided under RCW 84.33.140, the status of such designated land to classified forest land.
accompanying a payment equal to six percent of the stumpage value of any commercial timber standing on the land as of July 1, 1984. The assessor shall accept the request for removal by legal description prior to October 1, 1984. The application for declassification shall be referred to the owner of reforestation land, the owner shall file an application for removal from classification of the land and the timber standing thereon shall be subject to all provisions of chapter 84.33.100 through 84.33.140.

Sec. 25. Section 9, chapter 187, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. as amended by section 4, chapter 6, Laws of 1979 and RCW 84.33.200 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The legislature shall review the system of distribution and allocation of all timber excise tax revenues in January, 1975 and each year thereafter to provide a uniform and equitable distribution and allocation of such revenues to the state and local taxing districts.

(2) In order to allow legislative review of the rules and regulations to be adopted by the department of revenue establishing the stumpage (value index) values provided for in (RCW 84.33.071(3)) section 11 of this 1984 act, such rules and regulations shall be effective not less than sixty days after transmitting to the staffs of the senate and house ways and means committees (or their successor committees) the same proposed rules and regulations as shall have been previously filed with the office of the code reviser pursuant to RCW 34.04.025(1)(a).

(3) In the event that a permanent timber tax rate is not set in 1979, a joint timber tax advisory committee shall be established. The joint advisory committee shall be composed of members of the house of representatives and the senate and co-chaired by a member of the house revenue committee and a member of the senate ways and means committee. The joint advisory committee shall recommend a rate level and distribution system on or before the convening of the forty-seventh legislature.

(4) The department of revenue and the department of natural resources shall make available to the revenue committees of the senate and house of representatives of the state legislature information and data, as it may be available, pertaining to the status of forest land grading throughout the state, the collection of timber excise tax revenues, the distribution and allocation of timber excise tax revenues to the state and local taxing districts, and any other information which may be necessary for the proper legislative review and implementation of the timber excise tax system, and in addition, the departments shall provide an annual report of such matters in January of each year to such committees.

Sec. 26. Section 82.32.010, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 219, chapter 3, Laws of 1983 and RCW 82.32.010 are each amended to read as follows:

The provisions of this chapter shall apply with respect to the taxes imposed under chapters 82.04 through (82.07) 82.29A RCW of this title (rented), under chapter 84.33 RCW ((84.33.071)), and under other titles, chapters, and sections in such manner and to such extent as indicated in each such title, chapter, or section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 27. The legislature finds that two separate systems are used in the taxation of forest land and the timber and forest crops grown thereon. Less than eight percent of private forest land is taxed under the system enacted in 1931; over ninety-two percent is taxed under the 1971 law. The policies established under RCW 84.28.005 in 1931 and RCW 84.33.010 in 1971 will be carried out more efficiently and equitably under a single uniform taxing system. It is the purpose of sections 28 through 43 of this act to phase out the system enacted in 1931 for taxation of forest land and forest crops and to integrate the taxation of that land and forest crops into the tax system enacted in 1971.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 28. There is added to chapter 84.28 RCW a new section to read as follows:

The classification of land as reforestation land under this chapter is terminated, effective July 1, 1984. Effective July 1, 1984, this land shall be classified forest land under chapter 84.33 RCW and this land and the timber standing thereon shall be subject to all provisions of chapter 84.33 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 29. There is added to chapter 84.28 RCW a new section to read as follows:

As used in this chapter, "reclassified reforestation land" means land for which the classification has terminated under section 28 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 30. There is added to chapter 84.28 RCW a new section to read as follows:

The county assessor of a county in which there are reclassified reforestation lands shall notify each owner of record of reclassified reforestation land of the reclassification prior to August 1, 1984. If the owner desires to remove any such land from classification as reclassified reforestation land, the owner shall file an application for removal from classification of the land by legal description prior to October 1, 1984. The application for declassification shall be accompanied by a payment equal to six percent of the stumpage value of any commercial timber standing on the land as of July 1, 1984. The assessor shall accept the request for removal from classification but may ask for an appraisal of the standing timber certified by an experienced timber cruiser before final acceptance of the payment due. Upon final approval and payment of the proper amount, the assessor shall assess the land at its value for highest and best use as of January 1, 1985.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 31. There is added to chapter 84.28 RCW a new section to read as follows:

In preparing the assessment rolls as of January 1, 1985, for taxes payable in 1986, the assessor shall list, prior to May 31, 1985, each parcel of reclassified reforestation land at the values set in accordance with RCW 84.33.120. For the purpose of calculating the limitation on tax levies under chapter 84.55 RCW, the increase in assessed valuation of reclassified reforestation land entered on the tax rolls as of January 1, 1985, shall be treated the same as increases resulting from new construction. Reclassified reforestation land shall be considered to have been designated or classified forest land for a period in excess of ten years for purposes of calculating any compensating tax which may become payable under RCW 84.33.140.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 32. There is added to chapter 84.33 RCW a new section to read as follows:

There shall be paid by each owner of reclassified reforestation lands, as defined in section 29 of this act, in lieu of the excise tax rate imposed under section 2 of this act, a rate equal to twelve and one-half percent, minus the amounts specified in this chapter. Such tax shall be paid and distributed as follows:

1. The amount of taxes payable equal to the amount of taxes which would be payable if the rate under this section equaled the rate imposed under section 2 of this act shall be paid and distributed as provided in this chapter.

2. The amount of taxes payable in excess of the amount of taxes which would be payable if the rate under this section equaled the rate imposed under section 2 of this act shall be paid by the harvester to the department of revenue. The department of revenue shall distribute these receipts, less amounts appropriated for administration, on or before March 15 of the year following the harvest to the county treasurer of the county in which the timber was harvested. The county treasurer shall distribute these receipts to local taxing districts in the county in which the timber was harvested in the same manner as the distributions of tax receipts under chapter 84.28 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 33. There is added to chapter 84.33 RCW a new section to read as follows:

For timber harvested from reclassified reforestation lands, as defined in section 29 of this act, for the period July 1, 1984, through December 31, 1984, the tax shall be paid prior to January 31, 1985, and such tax revenue shall be distributed to the state and local taxing districts in the same manner as if the timber were harvested after October 1, 1984.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 34. There is added to chapter 84.33 RCW a new section to read as follows:

For timber harvested in 1985, the rate provided in section 32 of this act shall be reduced by one percent.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 35. There is added to chapter 84.33 RCW a new section to read as follows:

For timber harvested in 1986, the rate provided in section 32 of this act shall be reduced by two percent.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 36. There is added to chapter 84.33 RCW a new section to read as follows:

For timber harvested in 1987, the rate provided in section 32 of this act shall be reduced by three percent.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 37. There is added to chapter 84.33 RCW a new section to read as follows:

For timber harvested in 1988, the rate provided in section 32 of this act shall be reduced by four percent.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 38. There is added to chapter 84.33 RCW a new section to read as follows:

For timber harvested in 1989, the rate provided in section 32 of this act shall be reduced by four and one-half percent.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 39. There is added to chapter 84.33 RCW a new section to read as follows:

For timber harvested in 1990, the rate provided in section 32 of this act shall be reduced by five percent.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 40. There is added to chapter 84.33 RCW a new section to read as follows:

For timber harvested in 1991, the rate provided in section 32 of this act shall be reduced by five and one-half percent.
NEW SECTION. Sec. 41. There is added to chapter 84.33 RCW a new section to read as follows:

For timber harvested in 1992, the rate provided in section 32 of this act shall be reduced by six percent.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 42. There is added to chapter 84.33 RCW a new section to read as follows:

For timber harvested in 1993, the rate provided in section 32 of this act shall be reduced by six and one-half percent.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 43. There is added to chapter 84.33 RCW a new section to read as follows:

For timber harvested in 1994, and thereafter, the rate provided in section 32 of this act shall be reduced by seven and one-half percent.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 44. The department of revenue shall audit the records of each county in which there are forest lands classified under chapter 84.28 RCW for the purpose of determining compliance with chapter 84.28 RCW in respect to the collection of yield taxes on timber harvested and the disposition of such moneys for the period 1980 through 1984. The department of revenue shall advise the state treasurer of any underpayment or overpayment of moneys due the state and may enter into an agreement with the county treasurer relieving the county of any further liability under chapter 84.28 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 45. Nothing in sections 28 through 43 of this act excuses or discharges any person from the yield tax imposed by RCW 84.28.110 with respect to timber harvested from reforestation lands prior to July 1, 1984.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 46. Sections 1 through 13 of this act are each added to chapter 84.33 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 47. The following acts or parts of acts are each repealed:

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Clarke: "Thank you, Mr. President, a point of order. I raise the question of scope and object and will do the same on the various other amendments which I feel are definitely beyond the scope and object of the bill."

Debate ensued.

The President Pro Tempore assumed the chair.

MOTION

Senator Conner moved the following amendment to the Owen amendment be adopted:

On page 37 of the amendment, line 33, after "chapter" insert ": PROVIDED. That the rate imposed on small harvesters, as defined in RCW 84.33.073, shall equal the rate imposed under section 2 of this act"
POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Quigg: "Senator, just a little clarification on this. How many acres are we talking about? What is the magnitude of the impact of your amendment?"

Senator Conner: "I guess I couldn't really answer that. If I researched, but perhaps I could ask Senator Bottiger. He has some small timber operators in his area and a great deal more than myself."

REMARKS BY SENATOR BOTTIGER

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Quigg, unlike the amendment by Senators Hurley and Hughes, which pertains to the harvesters, this amendment pertains to the landowner—and again it's one million board feet."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hemstad: "Senator Conner, this bill also deals with the issue of the reforestation change in the standards and tends to apply, for example, to the Simpson Timber Company. How does this amendment relate to that portion of the bill? I'm asking so I can better understand the impact of your amendment."

Senator Conner: "I couldn't really explain that. I don't happen to live around Simpson Timber, but I know we have some small loggers in our area that are concerned about this."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hemstad: "Would Senator Owen yield to that question?"

Senator Owen: "Senator Hemstad, it's my understanding of how it relates is that under the reforestation act and those that would harvest over one million board feet per year would fall under what's in the bill right now—a phase out of ten years. What I understand that this amendment would do would be to immediately phase out for those small companies."

Senator Hemstad: "...The bill as it is now with regard to those persons falling under the reforestation act is a ten year phase out, but for the small forester then, it would be an immediate, complete phase out?"

Senator Owen: "That's the way I understand."

Further debate ensued.

Senator Conner demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on adoption of the amendment by Senator Conner to the Owen amendment.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the motion by Senator Conner failed and the amendment to the amendment was not adopted by the following vote:

Yeas, 21: nays, 27; absent, 00; excused, 01.

Voting nay: Senators Barr, Bauer, Benitz, Blueichel, Clarke, Craswell, Deccio, Fuller, Guess, Haley, Hayner, Hemstad, Kiskaddon, Lee, McCaslin, McDonald, Metcalf, Newhouse, Owen, Patterson, Pullen, Quigg, Sellar, Thompson, Vognild, von Reichbauer, Zimmerman - 27.

Excused: Senator Rasmussen - 1.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Bottiger, further consideration of Senate Bill No. 4421 was deferred.

REPORT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE

Mr. President:
Mr. Speaker:

March 5, 1984
We, of the Conference Committee, to whom was referred, SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 552, permitting off-duty patrol officers to wear their uniforms while participating in public service educational programs, have had the same under consideration, and we report that we are unable to agree and respectfully request the powers of Free Conference in order to amend the bill as follows:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert:

"AN ACT Relating to the Washington state patrol; adding a new section to chapter 43.43 RCW; and declaring an emergency.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. There is added to chapter 43.43 RCW a new section to read as follows:

(1) The chief of the Washington state patrol shall designate twenty-four or more officers as traffic safety education officers. The chief of the Washington state patrol shall make the designations in a manner designed to ensure that the programs under subsection (2) of this section are reasonably available in all areas of the state.

(2) The chief of the Washington state patrol may permit these traffic safety education officers to appear in their off-duty hours in uniform to give programs in schools or the community on the duties of the state patrol, traffic safety, or crime prevention.

(3) The traffic safety education officers may accept such pay and reimbursement of expenses as are approved by the state patrol from the sponsoring organization.

(4) The state patrol is encouraged to work with community organizations to set up these programs state-wide.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately."

Signed by: Senators Warnke and Quigg; Representatives Niemi, Halsan and West.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Bolliger, the report of the Conference Committee was adopted on Substitute House Bill No. 552 and the committee was granted the powers of Free Conference.

There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of Engrossed House Bill No. 392 and the request for a Free Conference Committee in order to amend the bill, deferred March 5, 1984.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

President Pro Tempore Goltz: "In ruling on the point of order raised by Senator Pullen, with regard to the Free Conference Report on Engrossed House Bill No. 392, the President believes that pursuant to Joint Rule No. 8 that a Free Conference Committee may add 'new proposed items' to the bill in conference as long as they come within the breadth of the title. The President believes that the title refers to the language in the enacting clause—in this case 'an act relating to local government.'"

"The President finds that a careful review of the Free Conference Committee Report to Engrossed House Bill No. 392 shows that all of the proposed new items do relate to the subject of local government.

"The President, therefore, finds that the Free Conference Committee Report to Engrossed House Bill No. 392 does not expand the scope and object of the title and that the point of order is not well taken."

The amendment proposed by the Free Conference Committee was ruled in order.

MOTION

Senator Thompson moved that the Report of the Conference Committee be adopted on Engrossed House Bill No. 392 and that the committee be granted the powers of Free Conference.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McDermott: "Senator Thompson, as I was reading this report, I was looking at new section 8. It says 'Territory may be withdrawn from a public hospital district as provided by this section. The commissioners of a public hospital district may hold a hearing on the proposed removal of--.' What is that section about? Who is asking for that bill? I don't even remember us working on that."

Senator Thompson: "Senator McDermott, that section has been handled out of sympathy for the purpose desired by the minority, as I understand, in both houses of the legislature and included in consultation with people from the Tri Cities and their legislative representatives here to facilitate a problem connected with the hospital district in that area."

Senator McDermott: "Then this is essentially, if I understand you correctly, a central Washington amendment that aids members of the minority who represent a district that is having difficulty."

Senator Thompson: "You recognized it correctly."

Further debate ensued.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Haley: "So that I'll be sure to fall within the rules of what I'm going to talk. It suggests to me that we're seeing a new trend develop here, and there may be something good about it. We might call this bill the local government clean-up bill, but we could also run things through so they get to a Free Conference Report and then have a state government clean-up bill---"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

President Pro Tempore Goltz: "I believe, Senator Haley, you are not speaking to a point of personal privilege at this point."

Further debate ensued.

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the Conference Report on Engrossed House Bill No. 392. The motion by Senator Thompson failed and the Report of the Free Conference Committee on Engrossed House Bill No. 392 was not adopted.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Bolliger: "Upon the defeat of that motion, I take it the Conference Committee could return and attempt to work out the problem and re-draft another Conference Committee Report?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

President Pro Tempore Goltz: "My understanding is that the bill is in the same position it was before the motion placed by Senator Thompson and that the conference—the bill is in the hands of the Conference Committee."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Hayner: "Mr. Speaker, would it be proper to ask the House to recede from its position on various aspects of this bill?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

President Pro Tempore Goltz: "It's in conference at the present time and that would be a matter for the conferees to consider."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Hayner: "The Conference Committee could now go back and rewrite the bill in a different way and come back and ask for another conference—Free Conference Committee—is that not so?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

President Pro Tempore Goltz: "That is correct. The Conference Committee has the bill in its possession and can make any report that it wishes to this body."

At 5:21 p.m., and there being no objection, the President Pro Tempore declared the Senate to be at ease.

The President called the Senate to order at 5:25 p.m.
MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

March 3, 1984

Mr. President:

The House refuses to concur in the Senate amendments to ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1157 and requests a conference thereon. The Speaker has appointed the following members as conferees: Representatives Braddock, Grimm and Tilly, and the same are herewith transmitted.

DEAN R. FOSTER, Chief Clerk

MOTION

On motion of Senator Shinpoch, the request for a conference on Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1157 and the Senate amendments thereto was granted.

APPOINTMENT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE

The President appointed as members of the Conference Committee on Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1157 and the Senate amendments thereto: Senators McDermott, Deccio and Thompson.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Shinpoch, the Conference Committee appointments were confirmed.

There being no objection, the President advanced the Senate to the sixth order of business.

There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of Senate Bill No. 4421 and the pending McDermott amendments to the Owen amendment, deferred earlier today.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Clarke, the President finds that Senate Bill No. 4421 is an omnibus measure which deals with the subject of taxation of timber and forest lands and the distribution of the revenue collected.

"The amendments proposed by Senator McDermott, also, deal with this subject by providing for a credit against the timber tax for employment of previously unemployed persons.

"The President, therefore, finds that the proposed amendments do not expand the scope and object of the bill and that the point of order is not well taken."

The amendments to the amendment were ruled in order.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woody: "Senator McDermott, are you saying that they will get the credit and not the tax reduction or both?"

Senator McDermott: "They'll not get the tax reduction. The last segment takes away the tax reduction, but it would give them the credit if they hire anybody. If they don't hire anybody, they don't get any tax reduction."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Lee: "When someone is trying to put words into another person's mouth, I think it's proper to correct that, and I'm simply saying that the words that were attributed to me were not the words that I said. The point that I'm trying to make, and I think that it has been well made by others on this floor, is that timber harvesters are not a homogenous group and the particular measure we have before us applies only to those who have large numbers of employees."

Senator Talmadge demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on adoption of the amendments by Senator McDermott to the Owen amendment.
ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the motion by Senator McDermott failed and the amendments to the amendment were not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 18; nays, 29; absent, 01; excused, 01.

Absent: Senator Vognild - 1.

Excused: Senator Rasmussen - 1.

MOTION

On motion of Senator McDermott, and there being no objection, all of his amendments on the desk were withdrawn.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendment by Senator Owen.

The motion by Senator Owen carried and the amendment was adopted.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Owen, the following title amendment was adopted:

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 4221, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas. 28; nays. 20; absent. 00; excused. 01.

Voting nay: Senators Bauer, Bender, Bottiger, Fleming, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Hansen, Hughes, Hurley, McDermott, McDonald, Metcalf, Moore, Rinehart, Shinpoch, Talmadge, Thompson, Williams, Wojahn - 20.

REPORT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE

March 5, 1984

Mr. President:
Mr. Speaker:
We, of your Conference Committee, to whom was referred, SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 843, modifying provisions relating to retirement from public services, have had the same under consideration, and we report that we are unable to agree and respectfully request the powers of Free Conference in order to amend the bill as follows:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

*NEW SECTION, Sec. 1. There is added to chapter 41.50 RCW a new section to read as follows:

(1) The employer of any employee whose retirement benefits are based in part on excess compensation, as defined in this section, shall, upon receipt of a billing from the department, pay into the appropriate retirement system the present value at the time of the employee's retirement of the total estimated cost of all present and future benefits from the retirement system attributable to the excess compensation. The state actuary shall determine the estimated cost using the same method and procedure as is used in preparing fiscal note costs for the legislature. However, the director may in the director's discretion decline to bill the employer if the amount due is less than fifty dollars. Accounts unsettled within thirty days of the receipt of the billing shall be assessed an interest penalty of one percent of the amount due for each month or fraction thereof beyond the original thirty-day period.

(2) "Excess compensation," as used in this section, includes any payment that was used in the calculation of the employee's retirement allowance, except regular salary and overtime, but is not limited to a cash out of unused annual leave in excess of two hundred forty hours of such leave, a cash out of any other form of leave, a payment for, or in lieu of, any personal expense, and any other termination or severance payment used in the calculation of the employee's retirement allowance. Any payment which is made pursuant to any labor agreement currently in force shall not be deemed excess compensation. Any payments in excess of regular salary and overtime, and two hundred forty hours of unused annual leave made after the expiration of a current contract shall be excess compensation.
(3) This section applies to the retirement systems listed in RCW 41.50.030 and to retirements occurring on or after the effective date of this act. Nothing in this section is intended to amend or determine the meaning of any definition in chapter 2.10, 2.12, 41.26, 41.32, 41.40, or 43.43 RCW or to determine in any manner what payments are includable in the calculation of a retirement allowance under such chapters.

(4) An employer is not relieved of liability under this section because of the death of any person either before or after the billing from the department.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. The following acts or parts of acts are each repealed:

That any persons holding or who have held elective offices or persons appointed by the governor who are members in the retirement system and who have, prior to becoming such members, previously held an elective office, and did not at the start of such initial or successive terms of office exercise their option to become members, may apply for membership ((and be accepted by action of the director:)) to be effective during such term or terms of office, and shall be allowed to (recover or regain) establish the service credit applicable to such term or terms of office upon payment of the employee contributions therefor by the employee with interest as determined by the director and employer contributions therefor by the employer or employee with interest as determined by the director: AND PROVIDED FURTHER. NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. Section 1, chapter 51. Laws of 1982 1st ex. sess. and RCW 41.04.345 are each repealed.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. It is the purpose of sections 23 through 28 of this act to govern the retirement rights of persons whose employment status is altered when: (1) Two or more units of local government of this state, at least one of which is a first class city with its own retirement system, enter into an agreement for the consolidated performance of a governmental service, activity, or undertaking; (2) the service, activity, or undertaking is to be performed either by one of the participating local governmental units or by a newly established separate legal entity; and (3) the employees of the participating local governmental units are not members of the same Washington public retirement system.

Sections 23 through 28 of this act are not intended to and do not govern retirement rights of any members of the retirement systems established by chapter 41.16, 41.18, 41.20, or 41.26 RCW, or of employees described in RCW 35.58.265, 35.58.390, or 70.08.070. To the extent there is any conflict between sections 23 through 28 of this act and RCW 41.04.110, the provisions of sections 23 through 28 of this act shall govern.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 23. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout sections 22 through 28 of this act.

(1) "Legal entity" means any political subdivision or municipal corporation of the state, including but not limited to public agencies created under RCW 35.53.070, 36.70.060, or 39.34.030.

(2) "Consolidated employer" means the legal entity assigned by agreement to perform a governmental service, activity, or undertaking for two or more units of local government of the state, at least one of which is a first class city with its own retirement system.

(3) "Existing employee" means a person who both (a) becomes employed by the consolidated employer within one year after the consolidation and (b) was employed by one of the combining legal entities at the time of the consolidation.

(4) "New employee" means an employee of the consolidated employer who is not an existing employee.
NEW SECTION. Sec. 24. If a consolidated employer is a participating member in the public employees' retirement system under chapter 41.40 RCW prior to the consolidation:

(1) All existing employees of the consolidated employer who are active members of the public employees' retirement system immediately prior to the consolidation shall continue to be members of that retirement system while employed by the consolidated employer.

(2) All existing employees of the consolidated employer who are active members of a first class city retirement system under chapter 41.28 RCW immediately prior to the consolidation shall cease to be members of that system at the time of the consolidation and, if eligible, shall immediately become members of the public employees' retirement system. However, any such active member may, by a writing filed with the consolidated employer within thirty days after the consolidation or within thirty days after the effective date of this act, whichever is later, irrevocably elect instead to continue to be a member of the first class city retirement system, thereby forever waiving any rights under the public employees' retirement system based upon employment with the consolidated employer.

(3) Only prospective periods of qualifying service under the first class city retirement system may be established under this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 25. If a consolidated employer is a city operating a first class city retirement system under chapter 41.28 RCW prior to the consolidation:

(1) All existing employees of the consolidated employer who are active members of the first class city retirement system immediately prior to the consolidation shall continue to be members of that retirement system while employed by the consolidated employer.

(2) All existing employees of the consolidated employer who are active members of the public employees' retirement system under chapter 41.40 RCW immediately prior to the consolidation shall cease to be members of that system at the time of the consolidation and, if eligible, shall immediately become members of the first class city retirement system. However, any such active member may, by a writing filed with the consolidated employer within thirty days after the consolidation or within thirty days after the effective date of this act, whichever is later, irrevocably elect instead to continue as members of the retirement system to which they belonged at the time of the consolidation for all periods of employment with the consolidated employer.

(3) Only prospective periods of qualifying service under the first class city retirement system may be established under this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 26. If a consolidated employer is a newly created legal entity and does not immediately join the public employees' retirement system pursuant to RCW 41.40.410:

(1) All existing employees of the consolidated employer who are active members of a first class city retirement system or the public employees' retirement system immediately prior to the consolidation shall cease to be members of these systems. However, any such active members may, by a writing filed within thirty days after the consolidation or within thirty days after the effective date of this act, whichever is later, irrevocably elect instead to continue as members of the retirement system to which they belonged at the time of the consolidation.

(2) If the consolidated employer later joins the public employees' retirement system, all existing employees still employed on that date shall, effective from that date, have the same retirement system rights and options, subject to the same conditions as employees governed by section 24 of this act, notwithstanding any previous election under subsection (1) of this section.

(3) No new employees of the consolidated employer may become members of an employer-sponsored retirement system until such time as the employer joins the public employees' retirement system pursuant to RCW 41.40.410.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 27. Notwithstanding any provision of section 24, 25, or 26 of this act:

(1) No person may simultaneously accrue any contractual rights whatsoever in more than one Washington public retirement system as a consequence of employment by a consolidated employer.

(2) No person who makes a written election permitted by section 24, 25, or 26 of this act may receive a retirement allowance from such retirement system under any circumstances while employed or reemployed by the consolidated employer.

(3) No person may accrue any benefits or rights under any Washington public retirement system as a result of section 24, 25, or 26 of this act except such rights of continuing membership that are specifically and explicitly granted by section 24, 25, or 26 of this act.

(4) Nothing in sections 22 through 27 of this act is intended to constitute an amendment or waiver of any law or rule of any Washington public retirement system, including but not limited to those governing eligibility for service credit, benefits, or membership, except to broaden the class of legal entities that are deemed to be participating employers in the retirement systems in the specific circumstances stated in sections 24, 25, and 26 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 28. (1) Consolidated employers that employ persons governed by section 24, 25, or 26 of this act shall comply with all laws and rules governing the retirement system in which the persons participate as members, including but not limited to the obligations to make employer contributions, to deduct and transmit employee contributions, and to submit required reports.

(2) Sections 24, 25, 26, and 27 of this act govern any consolidation occurring on or after December 31, 1981.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 29. Sections 22 through 28 of this act are each added to chapter 41.04 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 30. (1) There is appropriated for the biennium ending June 30, 1985, from the state general fund to the public employees' retirement system fund the sum of two hundred ten thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to carry out the purposes of section 9 of this act.

(2) There is appropriated to the department of retirement systems for the biennium ending June 30, 1985, from the department of retirement systems expense fund the sum of fifty-five thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to carry out the administration of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 31. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 32. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately.

There being no objection, the President advanced the Senate to the seventh order of business.

There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of Second Substitute House Bill No. 181, which was placed on third reading on March 5, 1984.

Third Reading

SECOND SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 181, by Committee on Ways and Means (originally sponsored by Representatives Stratton, B. Williams, Isaacson, Sanders, Martinis, McClure, McDonald and Mitchell)

Modifying provisions regarding public lands.

The bill was read the third time and placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

Point of Order

Senator Vognild: "Thank you, Mr. President. I'd like to raise a point of order that this bill fails to survive the cut-off.

'\textit{Mr. President, I have read this bill several times. I have been trying to find where it fits into the cut-off resolution. It is not a part of the budget bill. I can find nothing in here dealing with unemployment unless, perhaps, the creation of a new department which I perceive would wind up having something to do with reducing unemployment, other than that I can't find it.}

'Talking about revenue—the third section of the cut-off—there are no fee increases in here. There's merely a piece of language which says the Department may continue to extract 25% fees when they handle the exchange of property. I do not consider that an increase in fees or change in fees. Dealing in terms of revenues to the fund, I can only quote Mr. Hitchman, who indicates that he thinks that the possibility of DNR entering into commercial real estate business is very risky. Success in this area demands a great deal of expertise and a highly competent, experienced staff. Although there is a potential that income to the trust beneficiary could be increased, that potential will not come to fruition without some way to eliminate some of the risks associated with the transaction.

'\textit{Viewing that, which happens to be my opinion of the bill, as well, I cannot find that there is any revenue portion of this bill. Unless one of those three elements is strongly in this bill, I believe that the bill has failed to survive the cut-off, and that it is not properly before this body.}"

Ruling by the President

President Cherberg: "In reply to Senator Vognild's point, the President rules that Second Substitute House Bill No. 181 is properly before the Senate when one reads the cut-off resolution, which states 'That after 5:00 p.m. on the forty-ninth day of the session, Sunday, February 26, 1984, neither the House nor the Senate may consider any bills except the supplemental budget and matters relating to revenue.' This measure relates to revenue, either the gain or the loss. So, therefore, the President rules the bill is properly before the Senate."

Further debate ensued.
Senators Bottiger, Peterson and Conner demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Second Substitute House Bill No. 181, as amended by the Senate.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Second Substitute House Bill No. 181, as amended by the Senate, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 25; nays, 23; absent, 00; excused, 01.

Excused: Senator Haley - 1.

SECOND SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 181, as amended by the Senate, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

MOTION

Senator Metcall moved that the Senate revert to the fifth order of business.

At 11:23 a.m., Senator Bottiger moved that the Senate recess until 1:30 p.m.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Metcall: Senator Bottiger, would it be your intent, then, to take up this motion after 1:30 p.m.?”

Senator Bottiger: “Senator, I don’t want to take up the motion at any time. What I really wanted to do was to get some Conference Committee Reports on the desk, which have to be here by 12:00 or those Conference Committee Reports are dead. If we spend four hours debating your motion, then a lot of these measures are going to fall through the cracks.”

Senator Metcall: “Well, all I would ask you is that you’ll give us a commitment to take this up at 1:30. Certainly, you know, I think we should take it up at that time. I don’t want to get involved in delaying any essential business of the Senate, but this is a very essential measure. If we take it up at 1:30, that’s fine. Let’s do that.”

The motion by Senator Bottiger carried and at 11:24 a.m., the Senate recessed until 1:30 p.m.

AFTERNOON SESSION

The President called the Senate to order at 1:30 p.m.

There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of the motion by Senator Metcall to revert to the fifth order of business.

Debate ensued.

Senator Fleming demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the motion by Senator Metcall to revert to the fifth order of business.

However, no policy shall be adopted whereby a grade shall be reduced or credit shall be denied for disciplinary reasons only, rather than for academic reasons, unless due process of law is provided as set forth by the state board of education under RCW 28A.04.132.

Sec. 8. Section 1, chapter 98, Laws of 1975-'76 2nd ex. sess. and RCW 28A.03.360 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) "It shall be the intent and purpose of this section to direct the office of superintendent of public instruction to conduct standardized reading, mathematics, and language arts achievement level surveys of approximately two thousand students distributed throughout the state in each of the grade levels eight and eleven during such testing cycles as provided for in subsection (2) of this section. The survey testing shall be based on a statistical random sample of students from these grade levels sufficient to generalize about all of the students at each of the selected grade levels from the state's school districts. The purpose of these surveys is to allow the public and the legislature to evaluate how Washington students in these grades compare to students in the same grades tested in other comparable national achievement surveys. The office of superintendent of public instruction shall coordinate such tests and provide such information as obtained therefrom to the legislature as little often than once every four years."

(2) "The superintendent of public instruction shall prepare a report to the legislature on the achievement levels of students in grades eight and eleven based on the achievement level surveys conducted in the 1975-77 biennium and for each of the subsequent testing cycles as designated by the superintendent of public instruction's office. Such report shall include a comparison of the achievement levels attained by Washington students to the levels attained by students outside of the state, with special emphasis placed on the basic skills of reading, mathematics, and language arts. Such report shall also focus on appropriate input variables and comparisons of variables reported by other states' testing programs."

(3) "Results of the first survey test shall be made available to the school districts and the legislature no later than June 30, 1977."

(4) "In addition to the survey testing for grades eight and eleven as set forth in this section, every school district is encouraged to test pupils in grade two by an assessment device. Results of such tests shall be compiled by the superintendent of public instruction. who shall make those results available annually to the legislature, to all local school districts and..."
subsequently to parents of those children tested. The results shall allow parents to ascertain the achievement levels and input variables of their children as compared with the other students within the district, the state and, if applicable, the nation.

3. The superintendent of public instruction shall prepare and conduct, with the assistance of local school districts, an assessment to be administered annually to all grade eight students. The purposes of the assessment are to assist students, parents, and teachers in the planning and selection of appropriate high school programs and courses for the students and to provide comparisons within the district, the state and, if applicable, the nation. The assessment shall include but not be limited to tests in reading, mathematics, and language arts and a student interest inventory. The superintendent of public instruction shall make the results available to all local school districts which shall in turn make them available to students, parents, and teachers in a timely fashion.

4. The superintendent of public instruction shall test approximately two thousand students distributed throughout the state in the eleventh grade once every two years. Choice of students shall be based on a statistical random sample of students from this grade level sufficient to generalize about all of the students at the grade level from the state's school districts. The purpose of the test is to allow the public, the legislature, and school district personnel to evaluate how Washington students in this grade compare to students in the same grade tested in other comparable national achievement surveys.

5. The superintendent of public instruction shall report annually to the legislature on the achievement levels of students in grades four and eight and shall report biennially to the legislature on the achievement levels of students in grade eleven.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. The superintendent of public instruction shall conduct a study to determine the need for and feasibility of administering annually an assessment test to be given to all grade ten students. The superintendent shall report to the legislature by January 1, 1985, on the study findings and any recommendations.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. There is added to chapter 223, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. and to chapter 28A.03 RCW a new section to read as follows:

The initial self-study process within each district shall begin by September 1, 1985, and should be completed for all schools within a district by the end of the 1989-90 school year.

The state board of education shall develop rules and regulations governing procedural criteria. Such rules and regulations should be flexible so as to accommodate local goals and circumstances. Rules and regulations may allow for waiver of the self-study for economic reasons and may also allow for waiver of the initial self-study if a district or its schools have participated successfully in an official accreditation process or in a similar assessment of educational programs within the last three years. The self-study process shall be conducted on a cyclical basis every seven years following the initial 1989-90 period.

Sec. 7. Section 14, chapter 244, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. as last amended by section 1, chapter 229, Laws of 1983 and RCW 28A.41.140 are each amended to read as follows:

The basic education allocation for each annual average full time equivalent student shall be determined in accordance with the following procedures:

The governor shall and the superintendent of public instruction may recommend to the legislature a formula based on a ratio of students to staff for the distribution of a basic education allocation for each annual average full time equivalent student enrolled in a common school. The distribution formula shall have the primary objective of equalizing educational opportunities and shall provide appropriate recognition of the following costs among the various districts within the state:

1. Certificated staff and their related costs;
2. Classified staff and their related costs;
3. Nonsalary costs;
4. Extraordinary costs of remote and necessary schools and small high schools; and
(5) The attendance of students pursuant to RCW 28A.58.075 and 28A.58.245, each as now or hereafter amended, who do not reside within the servicing school district.

This formula for distribution of basic education funds shall be reviewed biennially by the superintendent and governor. The recommended formula shall be subject to approval, amendment or rejection by the legislature. Commencing with the 1980-81 school year, the formula adopted by the legislature shall reflect a ratio of not less than fifty certificated personnel to one thousand annual average full time equivalent students and one classified person to three certificated personnel. In the event the legislature rejects the distribution formula recommended by the governor, without adopting a new distribution formula, the distribution formula for the previous school year shall remain in effect: PROVIDED, That the distribution formula developed pursuant to this section shall be for state apportionment and equalization purposes only and shall not be construed as mandating specific operational functions of local school districts other than those program requirements identified in RCW 28A.58.754. The enrollment of any district shall be the annual average number of full time equivalent students and part time students as provided in RCW 28A.41.145, as now or hereafter amended, enrolled on the first school day of each month. The definition of full time equivalent student shall be determined by rules and regulations of the superintendent of public instruction: PROVIDED, That the definition shall be included as part of the superintendent's biennial budget request: PROVIDED, FURTHER, That any revision of the present definition shall not take effect until approved by the house appropriations committee and the senate ways and means committee: PROVIDED, FURTHER, That the office of financial management shall make a monthly review of the superintendent's reported full time equivalent students in the common schools in conjunction with RCW 43.62.050.

Certificated staff shall include those persons employed by a school district in a teaching, instructional, educational staff associate, learning resources specialist, administrative or supervisory capacity and who hold positions as certificated employees as defined under RCW 28A-01.130, as now or hereafter amended, and every school district superintendent, and any person hired in any manner to fill a position designated as, or which is in fact, that of deputy superintendent or assistant superintendent: PROVIDED, That in exceptional cases, people of unusual competence but without certification may teach students so long as a certificated person exercises general supervision: PROVIDED, FURTHER, That the hiring of such noncertificated people shall not occur during a labor dispute and such noncertificated people shall not be hired to replace certificated employees during a labor dispute. Each annual average full time equivalent certificated classroom teacher's direct classroom contact hours shall average at least twenty-five hours per week. Direct classroom contact hours shall be exclusive of time required to be spent for preparation, conferences, or any other nonclassroom instruction duties. Up to two hundred minutes per week may be deducted from the twenty-five contact hour requirement. at the discretion of the school district board of directors, to accommodate authorized teacher/parent-guardian conferences, recess, passing time between classes, and informal instructional activity. Implementing rules to be adopted by the state board of education pursuant to RCW 28A.58.754(6) shall provide that compliance with the direct contact hour requirement shall be based upon teachers' normally assigned weekly instructional schedules, as assigned by the district administration. Additional record-keeping by classroom teachers as a means of accounting for contact hours shall not be required. However, upon request from the board of directors of any school district, the provisions relating to direct classroom contact hours for individual teachers in that district may be waived by the state board of education if the waiver is necessary to implement a locally approved plan for educational excellence and the waiver is limited to those individual teachers approved in the local plan for educational excellence. The state board of education shall develop criteria to evaluate the need for the waiver. Granting of the waiver shall depend upon verification that: (a) The students' classroom instructional time will not be reduced; and (b) the teacher's expertise is critical to the success of the local plan for excellence.

School districts may provide compensation incentives to staff for additional work or assigned projects conducted as part of a district's excellence in education program or programs that are in addition to a district's basic education program. Such compensation shall not be deemed an increase in salary or compensation for purposes of RCW 28A.58.095 nor shall such compensation be applied to the district's salary schedule or be provided in a manner which would increase the state's basic education funding obligation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. (2) Assignments to serve in educational staff associate roles shall be limited to persons holding valid educational staff associate certificates with appropriate endorsements.

We, of your Conference Committee, to whom was referred, SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 3194, authorizing department to destroy vehicle license renewal applications upon entering the information contained on them into the computer system, have had the same under consideration, and we report that we are unable to agree and respectfully request the powers of Free Conference in order to amend the bill as follows:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. Section 46.08.120, chapter 12, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 1, chapter 22, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. and RCW 46.01.260 are each amended to read as follows:

In line 2 of the title, after "amending" strike the remainder of the title, and insert "section 46.08.120, chapter 12, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 1, chapter 22, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. and RCW 46.01.260; and adding a new section to chapter 46.12 RCW."

Signed by: Senators Peterson and Patterson; Representatives Walk, Sutherland and Wilson.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "A parliamentary inquiry, Mr. President. Presumably, that Free Conference Report would have to be on the desks by 12:00 noon today, and powers of Free Conference would only extend if we had an extended session, because everything would die as of the end of the session."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "The Secretary advises that the report was on the Senator's desk prior to noon."

Senator Rasmussen: "We're only granting the powers of Free Conference right now. I don't know how the report of the Free Conference Committee could be on the desks at noon when we're only granting the powers right now. I'm confused."

President Cherberg: "Senator Rasmussen and other members. Rule 11 of the Joint Rules states that the report shall be read in full in each house before a vote is taken on the report. The Senate and House, within their own bodies, can suspend the reading of a report in full. The House and Senate shall have thirty-six hours from the time of receipt in the house originating the conference request to consider reports from a Free Conference Committee and shall not vote thereon until the thirty-six hour period shall have elapsed, except that with respect to budget and appropriations and revenue and tax measures, the required interval shall be twenty-four hours.

"The Secretary advises and Senator Peterson corroborates the reports were on the desks yesterday."

Senator Rasmussen: "Mr. President. I fail to understand how a Free Conference Committee Report can be on the desks before we have granted the powers of Free Conference, which we are purporting to do right now."
President Cherberg: "The rules permit the Conference Committee to prepare amendments that will be incorporated in the bill that will be drawn by the Free Conference Committee."

Senator Rasmussen: "I understand that, Mr. President, but a Free Conference Committee has no limit on what it does, as we well know. As we look at the bill, and I should point out to you, House Bill 392, came back with three different bills on it and we never had any hint of what they were going to do with that. So, I would think that our rules—and I don’t wish to argue with the President—I might argue with the Secretary of the Senate—that our rules would provide thirty-six hours from the time that the Free Conference Committee lays the report on our desks and was signed by the Free Conference Committee—not the Conference Committee."

President Cherberg: "Senator, this rule refers to the conference request."

Senator Rasmussen: "The conference request, but the rules require that we have the completed material by the Free Conference Committee."

President Cherberg: "The President wishes to advise Senator Rasmussen that, in all honesty, he believes that the report is properly before the Senate."

Senator Rasmussen: "Thank you, Mr. President. Then the question can be raised at the time that we consider the Free Conference Report, as to whether it has been on our desks for thirty-six hours?"

President Cherberg: "You may raise the question at any time, Senator."

Senator Rasmussen: "Thank you, Mr. President."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "A point of parliamentary inquiry. Based on the remarks of the previous two Senators, I’m curious as to whether the reports of the Conference Committees are time-stamped when they are distributed on our desks or if there is some way that we know the precise time at which the Report of the Free Conference Committee is put on the desks? I think that’s very important to know concerning some of the reports that are now being considered by this body within the last twenty-four hours of the session. May we inquire of the Secretary for any particular bill, the precise time that it was distributed, so that we can watch the thirty-six hour rule?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Well, all the President can realize is that if the Report of a Free Conference Committee comes on the desk now, it will probably be two o’clock Friday morning before you can consider the measure."

Senator Pullen: "Yes, I agree one hundred percent and I gather that if we watched for such distributions, we can rise to a point of order at the time that someone wishes to bring it up."

President Cherberg: "Yes, Senator Pullen."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Peterson, the report of the Conference Committee was adopted on Substitute Senate Bill No. 3194 and the committee was granted the powers of Free Conference.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

Mr. President:
The House adopted the report of the Conference Committee on SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 843 and has granted said committee the powers of Free Conference.
DEAN R. FOSTER, Chief Clerk

REPORT OF FREE CONFERENCE COMMITTEE

Mr. President:
Mr. Speaker:
We, of your Free Conference Committee, to whom was referred, SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 843, modifying provisions relating to retirement from public service, have had the same under consideration, and we recommend that the bill be amended as follows:
(See amendments in Report of Conference Committee on Substitute House Bill
No. 843, read in earlier today)
Signed by: Senators Shinpoch, McDermott and Newhouse; Representatives Monohon, Sommers and Cantu.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Shinpoch, the report of the Free Conference Committee on Substitute House Bill No. 843 was adopted.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Substitute House Bill No. 843, as amended by the Free Conference Committee.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Shinpoch: "Senator McDermott, referring to subsection (2) of section 1 of the bill, there are references there to 'any labor agreement currently in force' and also 'after the expiration of the current contract.' As the sponsor of the amendment adding this language to the bill, did you intend these references to include only traditional collective bargaining agreements with a recognized union bargaining agent? In other words, was this language intended not to extend to general personnel policies of an employer or individual written or oral agreements with individual employees?"

Senator McDermott: "Senator Shinpoch, this language is intended to refer only to a traditional union collective bargaining agreement with a fixed expiration date. It was brought to me by the Association of Counties who have collective bargaining agreements in effect which will be allowed to run until the end of them and then they will have to negotiate a new contract under the terms of this bill."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Vognild: "Senator Shinpoch, it's my understanding that the PUD pension system is funded fully by the employer—the state is not involved—and with that understanding, is it correct that this bill would not affect the PUD pensions?"

Senator Shinpoch: "Senator Vognild, I'm not sure what portion you're referring to, but we do have a portion of this bill that the PUD seemed to be concerned about and it deals with the ballooning of pensions and it does not tell any pension system that they can't balloon their pensions, if that's their desire. It simply says that they have to pay for it, rather than other people paying for it."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Substitute House Bill No. 843, as amended by the Free Conference Committee.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Substitute House Bill No. 843, as amended by the Free Conference Committee, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 46; nays, 01; absent, 02; excused, 00. Voting yea: Senators Bauer, Bender, Benitz, Bluechel, Bottger, Clarke, Conner, Craswell, Deccio, Fleming, Fuller, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Guess, Haley, Hansen, Hayner, Hemstad, Hughes, Hurley, Kliskaddon, Lee, McCaslin, McDermott, McDonald, McManus, Metcall, Moore, Newhouse, Owen, Patterson, Peterson, Pullen, Quigg, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Shinpoch, Talmadge, Thompson, Vognild, von Reichbauer, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn, Zimmerman - 46.

Voting nay: Senator Sellar - 1.

Absent: Senators Barr, Woody - 2.

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 843, as amended by the Free Conference Committee, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

There being no objection, the President advanced the Senate to the fifth order of business.

INTRODUCTION AND FIRST READING

SCR 154 by Senators Vognild, Wojahn, McManus, Gaspard, Haley, Lee and Conner (by Lieutenant Governor request)

MOTION

On motion of Senator Vognild, the rules were suspended and Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 154 was advanced to second reading and placed on the second reading calendar.

There being no objection, the President advanced the Senate to the sixth order of business.

SECOND READING

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 154, by Senators Vognild, Wojahn, McManus, Gaspard, Haley, Lee and Conner (by Lieutenant Governor request)

Providing for a study of international trade strategies and initiatives.

The resolution was read the second time.
MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Vognild, the following amendments were considered and adopted simultaneously:

On page 5, line 5, after "it" insert "all of the provisions of"
On page 5, line 6, before "signed" strike "is" and insert "are"

On motion of Senator Vognild, the rules were suspended. Engrossed Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 154 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the resolution was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 154.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Engrossed Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 154, and the resolution passed the Senate by the following vote:

Yeas. 42; nays, 03; absent, 04; excused, 00.

Voting yea: Senators Barr, Bauer, Bender, Benitz, Bluechel, Bottiger, Clarke, Conner, Declo, Fleming, Fuller, Gaspard, Goltz, Granlund, Guess, Haley, Hemstad, Hughes, Hurley, Kiskaddon, McCaslin, McDonald, McManus, Melcaif, Moore, Newhouse, Owen, Patterson, Peterson, Pullen, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Seller, Shimpoch, Talmadge, Vognild, von Reichbauer, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn, Woody, Zimmerman - 42.

Voting nay: Senators Croswell, Hayner, Quigg - 3.

ENGROSSED SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 154, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Rasmussen: "A point of personal privilege. Mr. President and Senator Quigg, I forgot to tell you that all of the members of the Trade Mission pay their own way, contrary to many of those governmental junkets that you hear about. Each member of the Trade Mission has paid his own way and if he takes his wife along—which most of them hopefully will—rather than a girl friend—they pay for their wife’s travel, also, and that’s contrary to a lot of the junkets, as the public generally attributes to the politicians. I just wanted to bring that out. I think it’s to the credit of the Washington Trade Mission that they do that.”

MOTION

On motion of Senator Vognild, Engrossed Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 154 was ordered immediately transmitted to the House.

There being no objection, the President reverted the Senate to the fourth order of business.

March 7, 1984

Mr. President:
The House adopted the report of the Conference Committee on ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 4403 and granted said committee the powers of Free Conference, and the same are herewith transmitted.

DEAN R. FOSTER, Chief Clerk

REPORT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE

March 6, 1984

Mr. President:
Mr. Speaker:
We, of your Conference Committee, to whom was referred, ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 4403, revising provisions relating to health care costs, have had the same under consideration, and we report that we are unable to agree and respectfully request the powers of Free Conference in order to amend the bill as follows:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. Section 2, chapter 5, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 70.39.010 are each amended to read as follows:
The primary purpose of this chapter is to promote the economic delivery of high quality, necessary, and effective (hospital) health care services to the people by establishing a hospital commission with authority over financial disclosure, budget, prospective rate review, and other related matters, including authority to develop a hospital reimbursement control system, which will assure all purchasers of (hospital) health care services that total hospital costs are reasonably related to total services, that costs do not exceed those that are necessary for prudently and reasonably managed hospitals, that hospital ratios are reasonably related to aggregate costs, and that such rates are set equitably among all purchasers of these services without undue discrimination.

The legislature finds and declares that rising hospital costs are a vital concern to the people of this state because of the danger which is posed that hospital and health care services are fast becoming out of the economic reach of the majority of our population. It is further declared that health care is a right of the people and one of the primary purposes for which governments are established, and it is, therefore, essential that an effective cost control program be established (which will both enable and motivate hospitals to control their spiraling costs). It is the legislative intent, in pursuance of this declared public policy, to provide for uniform measures on a state-wide basis to control hospital costs without the sacrifice of quality of service or reasonable access to necessary health care.

The legislature further finds and declares that: (1) There is an increased need for comprehensive public oversight of the costs of and expenditures for health care services; (2) no one should be denied access to necessary health care because of poverty or unemployment; (3) access to necessary health care in rural areas must be assured; (4) the hospital commission and the public need additional information to make better-informed decisions about health care costs and charges; (5) there is a need to encourage market penetration of alternative health care delivery systems that have internal incentives to control costs and stimulate market competition, and that some regulatory policies have impeded health care cost containment by unduly restricting competition; (6) there is a need for more effective assessment of the impact of technology on the cost and delivery of health care services so that appropriate public policies may be adopted; and (7) the hospital commission should be more representative of a diversity of public interests so that it can more effectively carry out its mission.

It is the intent of the 1984 amendments to this chapter to strengthen certain regulatory policies which have had limited success in containing hospital costs since this chapter was enacted, and to promote constructive competition among health care delivery systems.

Sec. 2. Section 3, chapter 5, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 70.39.020 are each amended to read as follows:

As used in this chapter:

(1) "Commission" means the hospital commission of the state of Washington as created by this chapter;
(2) "Consumer" means any person whose occupation is other than the administration of health activities or the providing of health services, who has no fiduciary obligation to a health facility or other health agency, and who has no material financial interest in the rendering of health services;
(3) "Hospital" means any health care institution which is required to qualify for a license under RCW 70.41.020(2); or as a psychiatric hospital under chapter 71.12 RCW, but shall not include beds utilized by a comprehensive cancer center for cancer research, or any health care institution conducted for those who rely primarily upon treatment by prayer or spiritual means in accordance with the creed or tenets of any church or denomination.
(4) "Diagnosis-related groups" is a classification system that groups hospital patients according to principal and secondary diagnosis, presence or absence of a surgical procedure, age, presence or absence of significant comorbidities or complications, and other relevant criteria, an example of which has been adopted as the basis for prospective payment under the federal medicare program by the social security amendments of 1983, Public Law 98-21.
(5) "Medical technology" means the drugs, devices, and medical or surgical procedures used in the delivery of health care, and the organizational or supportive systems within which such care is provided.
(6) "Technology assessment" means a comprehensive form of policy research that examines the technical, economic, and social consequences of technological applications, including the indirect, unintended, or delayed social or economic impacts. In health care, such analysis must evaluate efficiency and safety as well as efficacy.
(7) "Charity care" means necessary hospital health care rendered to indigent persons, to the extent that the persons are unable to pay for the care or to pay deductibles or co-insurance amounts required by a third-party payer, as determined by the commission.
(8) "Rate" means the maximum revenue which a hospital may receive for each unit of service, as determined by the commission.
(9) "Comprehensive cancer center" means an institution and its research programs as recognized by the National Cancer Institute prior to April 20, 1983.
(10) "Region" means one of the health service areas established pursuant to RCW 70.38.085, except that King county shall be considered a separate region for the purposes of this chapter.
Sec. 3. Section 4, chapter 5, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 70.39.030 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) There is hereby created a hospital commission, which shall be a separate and independent commission of the state. The commission shall be composed of nine members appointed by the governor (and generally representative of the public as consumers, labor, business, and hospitals, and shall be individuals concerned with the delivery of quality health care, but in no event shall more than two members have any fiduciary obligation to a health facility or other health agency, nor any direct financial interest in the rendering of health services; in cases when proposed rate increases for osteopathic hospitals are to be considered, the representative of osteopathic hospitals on the technical advisory committee shall replace a hospital representative on the commission) as follows:

(a) Three members representing consumers of health care services, at least one of whom represents the interests of low-income persons;
(b) One member representing private employers;
(c) One member representing labor;
(d) One member representing hospitals, but in cases in which rates for an osteopathic hospital are to be considered, the representative of osteopathic hospitals on the technical advisory committee shall replace the hospital representative on the commission;
(e) One member representing health care professionals licensed under Title 18 RCW;
(f) One member representing commercial health insurers or health care service contractors; and

The committee shall meet on call of the chairman of the commission, or on request of a majority of the membership. Members of the committee shall serve without compensation for their service as members but, except for those designated in subsections (5) and (6) of this section, shall be reimbursed for their expenses in the same manner as members of the commission.

To further the purposes of this chapter, the commission may create committees from its membership, and may create such ad hoc advisory committees in specialized fields, related to the functions of hospitals, the delivery of health care services, economic issues concerning health care, technology assessment, and such other subjects as it deems necessary, to supplement the resources provided by the technical advisory committee.

Sec. 10. Section 11, chapter 5, laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 70.39.100 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The commission, after study and in consultation with advisory committees, if any, shall establish by the promulgation of rules and regulations pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act, chapter 34.04 RCW, a uniform system of accounting and financial reporting, including such cost allocation methods as it may prescribe, by which hospitals shall record and report to the commission their revenues, expenses, other income, other outlays, assets and liabilities, and units of service. All hospitals shall adopt the system for their fiscal year period to be effective at such time and date as the commission shall direct. In determining the effective date for reporting requirements, the commission shall be mindful both of the immediate need for uniform hospital reporting information to effectuate the purposes of this chapter and the administrative and economic difficulties which hospitals may encounter in conversion, but in no event shall such effective date be later than two and one-half years from the date of the formation of the commission.

(2) In establishing such accounting systems and uniform reporting procedures, the commission shall take into consideration:
(a) Existing systems of accounting and reporting presently utilized by hospitals;
(b) Differences among hospitals according to size; financial structure; methods of payment for services; and scope, type, and method of providing services; and
(c) Other pertinent distinguishing factors.

(3) The commission shall, where appropriate, provide for modification, consistent with the purposes of this chapter, of reporting requirements to correctly reflect these differences among hospitals, and to avoid otherwise unduly burdensome costs in meeting the requirements of the uniform system of accounting and financial reporting.

(4) The accounting system, where appropriate, shall be structured so as to establish and differentiate costs incurred for patient-related services rendered by hospitals, as distinguished from those incurred with reference to educational research and other non-patient-related activities including but not limited to charitable activities of such hospitals.

(5) The commission shall collect and maintain patient discharge data, including data necessary for identification of discharges by diagnosis-related groups. So far as possible, the data collection procedures shall be coordinated with any similar procedures or requirements of the federal department of health and human services for the medicare program and the needs of the department of social and health services in gathering public health statistics, in order to minimize any unduly burdensome reporting requirements imposed on hospitals.

Sec. 11. Section 12, chapter 5, laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 70.39.110 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Each hospital shall file annually, at such time as the commission may prescribe, its proposed budget for the next fiscal year, showing projected revenues and expenses and including such further information as the commission may require to implement the purposes of this chapter.

(2) Each hospital shall file annually with the commission after the close of the fiscal year:
(a) A balance sheet detailing the assets, liabilities, and net worth of the hospital;
(b) A statement of income and expenses; and
(c) Such other reports of the costs incurred in rendering services as the commission may prescribe.

(2) Where more than one licensed hospital is operated by the reporting organization, the information required by this section shall be reported for each hospital separately.

(4) The commission shall require certification of specified financial reports by the hospital's certified public accountant, and may require attestation as to such statements from responsible officials of the hospital that such reports have to the best of their knowledge and belief been prepared in accordance with the prescribed system of accounting and reporting.

(5) All reports, except privileged medical information, filed under this chapter shall be (open to) available for public inspection and copying under RCW 42.17.250 through 42.17.340.

(5) The commission shall (have the right of inspection of) inspect hospital books, audits, and records as reasonably necessary to (verify hospital reports) implement the policies and purposes of this chapter.

Sec. 12. Section 13, chapter 5, laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 70.39.120 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The commission shall from time to time undertake analyses and studies relating to the need for and delivery of health care services, the availability of such services, hospital rates, health care costs, and the financial status of any hospital or hospitals subject to the provisions of this chapter, and may publish and disseminate such information as it deems desirable in the public interest. It shall further (require the filing of) publish information concerning the total financial needs of each hospital and the resources available or expected to become available to meet such needs, including the effect of proposals made by area-wide
(2) The commission shall also prepare and file such summaries and compilations or other supplementary reports based on the information filed with the commission hereunder as will advance the purposes of this chapter.

(3) The commission shall furnish a copy of any report regarding any hospital to the chief executive officer of the hospital and the presiding officer of the hospital’s governing body.

Sec. 13. Section 14, chapter 5, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. as amended by section 82, chapter 75, Laws of 1977 and RCW 70.39.130 are each amended to read as follows:

The commission shall prepare and, prior to each legislative session beginning in January, transmit to the governor and to the legislature an annual report of commission operations and activities for the preceding fiscal year. This report shall include such findings and recommendations as the commission ((deems necessary)) believes will further the legislative goal of cost containment in the delivery of good quality health care services, including cost-containment programs that have been or might be adopted, and issues of access to good quality care. The report shall also include data on the amount and proportion of charity care provided by each hospital. The commission’s report for 1986, to be submitted in January 1987, shall include an analysis of the impacts of section 15 of this 1984 act on (1) the use by indigent persons of health care settings other than hospitals and (2) the caseloads and costs associated with the limited casualty program for medical indigents under RCW 74.09.700. The department of social and health services and the health systems agencies established under chapter 70.38 RCW shall provide such information and assistance as the commission may reasonably require in preparing the report on the impact of section 15 of this 1984 act.

Sec. 14. Section 15, chapter 5, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. as amended by section 1, chapter 163, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 70.39.140 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) From and after a date not less than twelve months but not more than twenty-four months after the adoption of the uniform system of accounting and financial reporting required by RCW 70.39.100, as the commission may direct, the commission shall have the power to initiate such reviews or investigations as may be necessary to assure all purchasers of ((hospital)) health care services that the total costs of a hospital are reasonably related to the total services offered by that hospital, that costs do not exceed those that are necessary for prudently and reasonably managed hospitals, that the hospital’s ((aggregate revenues as expressed by)) rates are reasonably related to the hospital’s aggregate costs; and that rates are set equitably among all purchasers or classes of purchasers of services without undue discrimination or preference. Effective July 1, 1985, if all 1984 amendments to this section and section 22 of this 1984 act take effect, this chapter does not preclude any hospital from negotiating with and charging any particular payer or purchaser rates that are less than those approved by the commission if:

(a) The rates are cost justified and do not result in any shifting of costs to other payers or purchasers in the current or any subsequent year;

(b) The hospital granting such rates has been determined by the commission to be providing charity care at or above the average for such care in the region served by the hospital and as determined by the commission; and

(c) All the terms of such negotiated rates are filed with the commission within ten working days and made available for public inspection.

The commission may retrospectively disapprove such negotiated rates in accordance with procedures established by the commission if such rates are found to contravene any provision of this section.

(2) In order to properly discharge these obligations, the commission shall have full power to review projected annual revenues and approve the reasonableness of rates proposed to generate that revenue established or requested by any hospital subject to the provisions of this chapter. No hospital shall charge for services at rates ((other than)) exceeding those established in accordance with the procedures established hereunder. After June 30, 1985, rates for inpatient care shall be expressed using an appropriate measure of hospital efficiency, such as that based on diagnosis-related groups, and, if necessary for federal medicare participation in a hospital reimbursement control system, hospitals shall charge for such care at rates prospectively established and expressed in terms of a comparable unit of total payment, such as diagnosis-related groups. In the event any hospital reimbursement control system is implemented, children’s hospitals shall be exempted until such time as a pediatric based classification system which reflects the unique resource consumption by patients of a children’s hospital is perfected. For the purposes of this exemption, children’s hospitals are defined as hospitals whose patients are predominantly under eighteen years of age.

(3) In the interest of promoting the most efficient and effective use of ((hospital)) health care service, and providing greater promise of hospital cost containment, the commission may ((promote and approve alternative methods of rate determination and payment of an experimental nature that may be in the public interest and consistent with the purposes of this chapter)) develop a hospital reimbursement control system in which all payers or purchasers... participate, that includes procedures for establishing prospective rates, that deals equitably with the costs of providing charity care, and that shall include the participation of the federal medicare program under the social security amendments of 1983, Public Law 98-21. The commission shall have the authority to require utilization reviews of patient care to ensure that hospital admissions and services provided are medically justified. The commission may seek approval, concurrence, or participation in such a system from any federal agency, such as the department of health and human services, prior to securing legislative approval pursuant to concurrent resolution for implementation of any hospital reimbursement control system developed pursuant to this section. The commission shall involve the legislature in the development of any plan for a hospital reimbursement control system.

(4) The commission shall assure that no hospital or its medical staff either adopts or maintains admission practices or policies which result in:

(a) A significant reduction in the proportion of patients who have no third-party coverage and who are unable to pay for hospital services;

(b) A significant reduction in the proportion of individuals admitted for inpatient hospital services for which payment is or is likely to be less than the anticipated charges for or costs of such services;

(c) The refusal to admit patients who would be expected to require unusually costly or prolonged treatment for reasons other than those related to the appropriateness of the care available at the hospital; or

(d) The refusal to provide emergency or other medically necessary services to any person who is in need of such services if the hospital provides such services. The commission shall establish by rule a definition of "medically necessary services" for the purposes of this subsection (4)(d), which shall be narrowly construed.

(5) The commission shall serve as the state agency responsible for coordinating state actions and otherwise responding and relating to the efforts of the ((cost of living council; or its successor;)) federal department of health and human services in planning and implementing federal cost containment programs with respect to hospitals and related health care institutions as authorized by the ((Federal Economic Stabilization Act of 1970)) social security amendments of 1983, as now or hereafter amended, or other federal law, and any rules or regulations promulgated thereunder. In carrying out this responsibility, the commission may ((serve as the state agency responsible for recommending increases in rates for hospitals and related health care institutions to the cost of living council; or its successor; may apply to the cost of living council for authorization to administer a control program in Washington state in lieu of the federal cost containment established and otherwise administered by the cost of living council; may)) assume ((another)) any function or role authorized by appropriate federal regulations implementing the ((Federal Economic Stabilization Act of 1970)) social security amendments of 1983; or assume any combination of such roles or functions as it may determine will most effectively contain the rising costs of the varying kinds of hospitals and related health care institutions in Washington state. In determining its functions or roles in relation to ((the)) federal efforts ((to the cost of living council; or its successor)), the commission shall seek to ensure coordination, and the reduction of duplicatory cost containment efforts, by the state and federal governments, as well as the diligent fulfillment of the purposes of this chapter and declared public policy and legislative intent herein: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That in cases where the rates of nursing homes or similar health institutions are subject to review pursuant to the provisions of the Federal Economic Stabilization Act of 1970 or any rules or regulations promulgated thereunder, the members of the commission representing hospitals shall not sit in the proceedings nor vote, and the governor shall appoint an ad hoc member representing nursing homes or similar health institutions in lieu thereof, who shall have the same powers as the other members with respect to such review only).

Nothing in this chapter limits the ability of the department of social and health services to establish hospital payment rates pursuant to RCW 74.09.120 or in accord with a federally approvable state plan under Title XIX of the federal social security act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. There is added to chapter 70.39 RCW a new section to read as follows:

Within six months of the effective date of this act, the commission shall establish by rule, consistent with the definition of charity care under RCW 70.39.020, the following:

(1) Uniform procedures, data requirements, and criteria for identifying patients receiving charity care;

(2) A definition of residual bad debt as a component of hospital rate-setting and budget review, including reasonable and uniform standards for collection procedures to be used in efforts to collect the unpaid portions of hospital charges that are the patient’s responsibility.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. By January 1, 1985, a select committee of the legislature shall develop legislative recommendations for programs that will promote the state-wide development of comprehensive cost-effective managed health care systems and shall recommend programs that will promote use of such managed health care systems. The select committee shall be composed of twelve members of the legislature, six appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives and six appointed by the president of the senate, three from each of the two largest political caucuses in each house, upon recommendation of the majority and minority caucuses of their respective bodies.

The committee shall elect a chairperson from among its membership.

The committee is authorized to appoint a technical advisory committee to prepare proposals under which cost-effective managed health care systems could be used to control health care costs, to more equitably distribute charity care among hospitals and licensed health care practitioners, and more effectively provide publicly and privately financed patient care.

For the purposes of this study "managed health care system" means any health care organization, including health providers, insurers, health care service contractors, health maintenance organizations, or any combination thereof, that provides directly or by contract comprehensive health care services to one or more defined patient populations by enrollment or other prior agreement or arrangement.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. By January 1, 1985, the governor shall submit a six-year state health care purchasing plan to the legislature. The plan shall identify the number and type of health care services purchased by the state through the department of social and health services, the department of labor and industries, the state employees' insurance board, the office of superintendent of public instruction, and other agencies of government where state funds are used to purchase health care. The plan shall contain objectives for realizing specific dollar savings in the purchase of these health care services by obtaining discounts from providers, contracting with managed health care systems, altering copayment and deductible requirements, instituting improved utilization controls, using prospective payment arrangements, or by other means.

The governor or the governor's designee shall report the governor's progress in completing this plan to the legislative budget committee and the social and health services and ways and means committees of the house of representatives and the senate by September 30, 1984.

Sec. 18. Section 16, chapter 5, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. as amended by section 1, chapter 154, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 70.39.150 are each amended to read as follows:

To properly carry out its authority the commission shall:

1. Compile and maintain all relevant financial, accounting, and patient discharge data in order to have available the statistical information necessary to properly conduct rate review and approval. Such data shall include necessary operating expenses, appropriate expenses incurred for charity care and for rendering services to patients who (cannot or) do not pay, all properly incurred interest charges, and reasonable depreciation expenses based on the expected useful life of the property and equipment involved. The commission shall define and prescribe by rule and regulation the types and classes of charges which cannot be changed except as provided by the procedure contained in RCW 70.39.160 and it shall also obtain from each such hospital a current rate schedule as well as any subsequent amendments or modifications of that schedule as it may require. So far as possible, the commission shall compile and maintain the same patient discharge data with respect to all patients as that required under the federal medicare program and the uniform billing procedures applicable to third-party payers.

2. Permit any (nonprofit) hospital subject to the provisions of this chapter to charge reasonable rates which will permit the hospital to render necessary, effective, and efficient service in the public interest (and on a solvent basis).

3. (Permit any proprietary profit-making hospital subject to the provisions of this chapter to charge reasonable rates which will permit the hospital to render effective and efficient service in the public interest and which includes an allowance for a fair return to stockholders based upon actual investment or, if the hospital elects, upon the fair value of the investment on the effective date of this section: PROVIDED, That once the election is made it may not be changed without the approval of the commission.)

4) Take into account, in the determination of reasonable rates under this section, that it is its obligation to assure access to necessary, effective, economically viable, and efficient hospital health care capability throughout the state, rather than the solvency or profitability of any individual hospital subject to this chapter except where the insolvency of a hospital would seriously threaten the access of the rural public to basic health care services.

4) Take into account, in the determination of reasonable rates under this section for each hospital, the recommendations of appropriate area-wide and state comprehensive health planning agencies to ensure compliance with Washington comprehensive health planning law, chapter 70.38 RCW.

(5) Permit, in considering a request for change in or initiating a review of rate schedules or other charges, any hospital subject to the provisions of this chapter to charge rates which in the aggregate produce sufficient total revenue for the hospital to meet all of the reasonable obligations specified in this chapter.

5) Permit any hospital, whether proprietary, district, public, or not-for-profit, to retain the excess of its revenues, if any, that exceed the actual cost of providing services, generated as a result of cost-effective practices, if the hospital charges do not exceed rates permitted by the commission.
either a certificate of need or an exception granted in accordance with the requirements of federal law as necessary to the receipt of federal funds by the state.

Sec. 19. Section 17, chapter 5, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 70.39.160 are each amended to read as follows:

From and after the date determined by the commission pursuant to RCW 70.39.140, no hospital subject to the provisions of this chapter shall change or amend that schedule of rates and charges of the type and class which cannot be changed without prior approval of the commission, except in accordance with the following procedure:

(1) Any request for a change in rate schedules or other charges must be filed in writing in the form and content prescribed by the commission and with such supporting data as the hospital seeking the change deems appropriate. Unless the commission orders otherwise as provided for in subsection (4) of this section, no hospital shall establish such changes except after publication and notice to the commission of at least thirty days from the time the rate is intended to go into effect. All proposed changes shall be plainly indicated on the schedule effective at that time and shall be open to public inspection. Upon receipt of notice, the commission may suspend the effective date of any proposed change. In any such case a formal written statement of the reasons for the suspension will be promptly submitted to the hospital. Unless suspended, any proposed change shall go into effect upon the date specified in the application.

(2) In any case where such action is deemed necessary, the commission shall promptly, but in any event within thirty days, institute proceedings as to the reasonableness of the proposed changes. The suspension may extend for a period of not more than thirty days beyond the date the change would otherwise go into effect: PROVIDED, That should it be necessary, the commission may extend the suspension for an additional thirty days. After the expiration of ninety days from the date the rate is intended to go into effect the new rate will go into effect, if the commission does not approve, disapprove, or modify the request by that time.

(3) Such proposed changes shall be considered at a public hearing, the time and place of which shall be determined by the commission. The hearing shall be conducted by the commission. Evidence for and against the requested change may be introduced at the time of the hearing by any interested party and witnesses may be heard. The hearing may be conducted without compliance with formal rules of evidence.

(4) The commission may, in its discretion, permit any hospital to make a temporary change in rates which shall be effective immediately upon filing and in advance of any review procedure when it deems it in the public interest to do so. Notwithstanding such temporary change in rates, the review procedures set out in this section shall be conducted by the commission as soon thereafter as is practicable.

(5) Every decision and order of the commission in any contested proceeding shall be in writing and shall state the grounds for the commission’s conclusions. The effects of such orders shall be prospective in nature.

Sec. 20. Section 21, chapter 5, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 70.39.200 are each amended to read as follows:

Every person who shall violate or knowingly aid and abet the violation of this chapter or any valid orders, rules, or regulations thereunder, or who fails to perform any act which it is herein made his duty to perform shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Following official notice to the accused by the commission of the existence of an alleged violation, each day upon which a violation occurs shall constitute a separate violation. Any person violating the provisions of this chapter may be enjoined from continuing such violation. The commission has authority to levy civil penalties not exceeding one thousand dollars for violations of this chapter.

Sec. 21. Section 10, chapter 161, Laws of 1979 ex. sess. as last amended by section 7, chapter 235, Laws of 1983 and RCW 70.38.105 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The department is authorized and directed to implement the certificate of need program in this state pursuant to the provisions of this chapter.

(2) There shall be a state certificate of need program which is administered consistent with the requirements of federal law as necessary to the receipt of federal funds by the state.

(3) No person shall engage in any undertaking which is subject to certificate of need review under subsection (4) of this section without first having received from the department either a certificate of need or an exception granted in accordance with this chapter.

(4) The following shall be subject to certificate of need review under this chapter:

(a) The construction, development, or other establishment of a new health care facility;
(b) The sale, purchase, or lease of part or all of any existing hospital as defined in RCW 70.39.020.
(c) Any capital expenditure by or on behalf of a health care facility which substantially changes the services of the facility after January 1, 1981, provided that the substantial changes in services are specified by the department in rule;

(((d))) (d) Any capital expenditure by or on behalf of a health care facility which exceeds the expenditure minimum as defined by RCW 70.38.025. However, a capital expenditure which is not subject to certificate of need review under (a), (b), ((c)), (e), ((f),) or (g) of this subsection and which is solely for any one or more of the following is not subject to certificate of need review except to the extent required by the federal government as a condition to receipt of federal assistance and does not substantially affect patient charges:

(i) Communications and parking facilities;

(ii) Mechanical, electrical, ventilation, heating, and air conditioning systems;

(iii) Energy conservation systems;

(iv) Repairs to, or the correction of, deficiencies in existing physical plant facilities which are necessary to maintain state licensure;

(v) Acquisition of equipment, including data processing equipment, which is not or will not be used in the direct provision of health services;

(vi) Construction which involves physical plant facilities, including administrative and support facilities, which are not or will not be used for the provision of health services;

(vii) Acquisition of land; and (viii) Refinancing of existing debt;

(((e))) (e) A change in bed capacity of a health care facility which increases the total number of licensed beds or redistributes beds among facility and service categories of acute care, skilled nursing, Intermediate care, and boarding home care if the bed redistribution is to be effective for a period in excess of six months:

(((f)) (f) Acquisition of major medical equipment:

(i) If the equipment will be owned by or located in a health care facility; or

(ii) If, after January 1, 1981, the equipment is not to be owned by or located in a health care facility, the department finds consistent with federal regulations the equipment will be used to provide services for hospital inpatients, or the person acquiring such equipment did not notify the department of the intent to acquire such equipment at least thirty days before entering into contractual arrangements for such acquisition;

(((g)) (g) Any new institutional health services which are offered in or through a health care facility, and which were not offered on a regular basis by, in, or through such health care facility within the twelve-month period prior to the time such services would be offered; and

(((h)) (h) Any expenditure by or on behalf of a health care facility in excess of the expenditure minimum made in preparation for any undertaking under subsection (4) of this section and any arrangement or commitment made for financing such undertaking. Expenditures of preparation shall include expenditures for architectural designs, plans, working drawings, and specifications. The department may issue certificates of need permitting predevelopment expenditures, only, without authorizing any subsequent undertaking with respect to which such predevelopment expenditures are made.

(5) No person may divide a project in order to avoid review requirements under any of the thresholds specified in this section.

Sec. 22. Section 11, chapter 161, Laws of 1979 ex. sess. as last amended by section 8, chapter 235, Laws of 1983 and RCW 70.38.115 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Certificates of need shall be issued, denied, suspended, or revoked by the designee of the secretary of the department in accord with the provisions of this chapter and rules of the department which establish review procedures and criteria for the certificate of need program.

(2) Criteria for the review of certificate of need applications, except as provided in subsection (3) of this section for health maintenance organizations, shall include but not be limited to consideration of the following:

(a) The relationship of the health services being reviewed to the applicable health plans;

(b) The need that the population served or to be served by such services has for such services;

(c) The availability of less costly or more effective alternative methods of providing such services;

(d) The financial feasibility and the probable impact of the proposal on the cost of and charges for providing health services in the community to be served, including findings and recommendations of the Washington state hospital commission in the case of applications submitted by hospitals. An application by a hospital shall be denied if the state hospital commission does not recommend approval, unless the secretary provides the commission with a written statement setting forth the reason or reasons, and citing the applicable subsection or subsections of this section, for approving an application that the commission has determined to be not feasible;

(e) In the case of health services to be provided, (i) the availability of alternative uses of project resources for the provision of other health services, (ii) the extent to which such proposed services will be accessible to all residents of the area to be served, and (iii) the need for

and the availability in the community of services and facilities for osteopathic and allopathic physicians and their patients. The department shall consider the application in terms of its impact on existing and proposed institutional training programs for doctors of osteopathy and medicine at the student, internship, and residency training levels:

(f) In the case of a construction project, the costs and methods of the proposed construction, including the cost and methods of energy provision, and the probable impact of the construction project reviewed (i) on the cost of providing health services by the person proposing such construction project and (ii) on the cost and charges to the public of providing health services by other persons;

(g) The special needs and circumstances of osteopathic hospitals (and nonallopathic services and children's hospitals);

(h) Improvements or innovations in the financing and delivery of health services which foster cost containment and serve to promote quality assurance and cost-effectiveness;

(i) In the case of health services proposed to be provided, the efficiency and appropriateness of the use of existing services and facilities similar to those proposed: (and)

(j) In the case of existing services or facilities, the quality of care provided by such services or facilities in the past; and

(k) In the case of hospital certificate of need applications, whether the hospital meets or exceeds the regional average level of charity care, as determined by the hospital commission. No certificate of need may be granted to a hospital which has not met or exceeded the regional average level of charity care in the year preceding application and which does not give assurance it will continue to meet or exceed such level in the future.

(3) A certificate of need application of a health maintenance organization or a health care facility which is controlled, directly or indirectly, by a health maintenance organization, shall be approved by the department if the department finds:

(a) Approval of such application is required to meet the needs of the members of the health maintenance organization and of the new members which such organization can reasonably be expected to enroll; and

(b) The health maintenance organization is unable to provide, through services or facilities which can reasonably be expected to be available to the organization, its institutional health services in a reasonable and cost-effective manner which is consistent with the basic method of operation of the organization and which makes such services available on a long-term basis through physicians and other health professionals associated with it.

A health care facility (or any part thereof) or medical equipment with respect to which a certificate of need was issued under this subsection may not be sold or leased and a controlling interest in such facility or equipment or in a lease of such facility or equipment may not be acquired unless the department issues a certificate of need approving the sale, acquisition, or lease.

(4) The decision of the department on a certificate of need application shall be consistent with the state health plan in effect, except in emergency circumstances which pose a threat to the public health. The department in making its final decision may issue a conditional certificate of need if it finds that the project is justified only under specific circumstances. The conditions shall directly relate to the project being reviewed. The conditions may be released if it can be substantiated that the conditions are no longer valid and the release of such conditions would be consistent with the purposes of this chapter.

(5) Criteria adopted for review in accordance with subsection (2) of this section may vary according to the purpose for which the particular review is being conducted or the type of health service reviewed.

(6) The department shall specify information to be required for certificate of need applications. Within fifteen days of receipt of the application, the department shall request additional information considered necessary to the application or start the review process. Applicants may decline to submit requested information through written notice to the department. In which case review starts on the date of receipt of the notice. Applications may be denied or limited because of failure to submit required and necessary information.

(7) Concurrent review is for the purpose of comparative analysis and evaluation of competing or similar projects in order to determine which of the projects may best meet identified needs. Categories of projects subject to concurrent review include at least new health care facilities, new services, and expansion of existing health care facilities. The department shall specify time periods for the submission of applications for certificates of need subject to concurrent review, which shall not exceed ninety days. Review of concurrent applications shall start fifteen days after the conclusion of the time period for submission of applications subject to concurrent review. Concurrent review periods shall be limited to one hundred fifty days, except as provided for in rules adopted by the department authorizing and limiting amendment during the course of the review, or for an unresolved pivotal issue declared by the department.

(8) Review periods for certificate of need applications other than those subject to concurrent review shall be limited to ninety days. Review periods may be extended up to thirty days if needed by a review agency, and for unresolved pivotal issues the department may extend up to an additional thirty days. A review may be extended in any case if the applicant agrees to the extension.

(9) The department or a designated regional health council shall conduct a public hearing on a certificate of need application if requested unless the review is expedited or subject to emergency review. The department by rule shall specify the period of time within which a public hearing must be requested and requirements related to public notice of the hearing, procedures, recordkeeping and related matters.

(10) Any applicant denied a certificate of need or whose certificate of need has been suspended or revoked shall be afforded an opportunity for administrative review in accordance with chapter 34.04 RCW and a hearing shall be held within one hundred twenty days of a request therefor. An administrative law judge shall review the decision of the secretary’s designee and render a proposed decision for consideration by the secretary in accordance with chapter 34.12 RCW or remand the matter to the secretary’s designee for further consideration. The secretary’s final decision is subject to review by the superior court as provided in chapter 34.04 RCW.

(11) The department may establish procedures and criteria for reconsideration of decisions.

(12) An amended certificate of need shall be required for the following modifications of an approved project:

(a) A new service;
(b) An expansion of a service beyond that originally approved;
(c) An increase in bed capacity;
(d) A significant reduction in the scope of a project without a commensurate reduction in the cost of the project, or a cost increase (as represented in bids on a construction project or final cost estimates acceptable to the person to whom the certificate of need was issued) if the total of such increases exceeds twelve percent or fifty thousand dollars, whichever is greater, over the maximum capital expenditure approved. The review of reductions or cost increases shall be restricted to the continued conformance of the project with the review criteria pertaining to financial feasibility and cost containment.

(13) An application for a certificate of need for a capital expenditure which is determined by the department to be required to eliminate or prevent imminent safety hazards or correct violations of applicable licensure and accreditation standards shall be approved.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 23. There is added to chapter 70.39 RCW a new section to read as follows:

The commission may request such information from the entities identified in this section, and from the federal department of health and human services, if and when the commission deems appropriate to accord with any requirements of federal law which may be imposed.

Signed by: Senators McDermott, Sellar and Talmadge; Representatives Kreidler and McClure.

MOTION

Senator McDermott moved that the report of the Conference Committee on Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4403 be adopted and that the committee be granted the powers of Free Conference.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Newhouse: "I would like to know when the bell starts to toll—the time starts to run on the thirty-six hours—if the motion is now made at almost three o'clock in the afternoon of the fifty-ninth day, for powers of Free Conference? Is the proposed Free Conference Report on our desks and will there be thirty-six hours?"

REMARKS BY SENATOR MCDERMOTT

Senator McDermott: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, the Free Conference Committee Report has been lying on your desks since yesterday—the reports were signed at 1:30 yesterday afternoon and the Conference Report has been lying on your desks since then."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Clarke: "A point of parliamentary inquiry. How can a report of a Free Conference Committee be signed by the Free Conference prior to the time that the powers of Free Conference are granted? Is Senator telling us that the Free Conference Report was signed prior to the time that the powers to act in Free Conference were granted?"

REMARKS BY SENATOR MCDERMOTT

Senator McDermott: "No, Mr. President. Senator Clarke, what I'm telling you is that this side of the aisle is very determined to go home and we've been working with all this deliberate speed. We had all six members of the Conference Committee there. The mechanics of running it through the motions back and forth between the House has been a little slow, but the Conference Committee has been working very well, and we've actually had the printing out here so you could spend all night reading it. We wanted to make sure that everybody understood what was in the bill."

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "The President would like to call to your attention Item 7 of Rule 22 on page 425 of the Senate Rules, which states, 'No floor vote may be taken on any Free Conference Committee Report within twenty-four hours of its placement on each member's desk, unless the Free Conference Committee made no changes in the bill as it was last acted upon by the senate.' Also, Rule 10 of the Joint Rules, on page 395, 'The conference or free conference committee shall submit the bill as amended together with three signed copies of its report to the house which asked for the conference. A copy of the report shall be placed upon the desk of each member of the legislature at the time the report is received by this house. If this house acts to approve the report and pass the bill as amended, it shall then transmit its action, the bill, and two copies of the report to the other house.'"

REMARKS BY SENATOR CLARKE

Senator Clarke: Mr. President, the rule we were referring to is Rule 11, which immediately follows Rule 10 and would seem to supplement it. I refer to Rule 11 of the Joint Rules and I would submit that if there is an apparent conflict between the Joint Rules and the Rules of the Senate, as to matters between the two houses the Joint Rules would have to prevail."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "The President believes that, in this instance, the President would be guided by the Senate Rules and the Joint Rules secondly."
Senator Clarke: "Do I understand, then, that if there is a conflict between the Senate Rules and the Joint Rules, it is the ruling of the President that the Senate Rules prevail over the Joint Rules?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "That's the President's opinion."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the motion by Senator McDermott to adopt the Report of the Conference Committee on Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4403 and that the powers of Free Conference be granted.

The motion by Senator McDermott carried and the Report of the Conference Committee on Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4403 was adopted and the powers of Free Conference were granted.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Mr. President, a parliamentary inquiry—not to prolong the issue. We have just voted the powers of Free Conference on 843, which would be actual notice to the body that we have granted the powers of Free Conference. The fact that somebody has laid a bill on the desk two or three days ago of what the Free Conference Committee intended to do—we have no knowledge of that. I would presume following the ruling that when the powers of Free Conference are granted, then it takes thirty-six hours from that time if they lay the bill right down on your desk—immediately—which they tell us we had it here two or three days ago. But, there is no notice to the body as a whole, Mr. President, that we have granted the powers of Free Conference until we actually vote on it, as we just did. That would be my presumption. I would hope we have a clear definition, Mr. President, rather than laboring along here between rules."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Senator, Joint Rule 11 says, 'The Senate and House, within their own bodies, can suspend the reading of a report in full. The House and Senate shall have thirty-six hours from the time of receipt in the house originating the conference request to consider reports from a Free Conference Committee...' The Senate has been in receipt of this measure since yesterday, Senator."

Senator Rasmussen: "Thank you, Mr. President. My only point would be that we never gave them any authority until just a few seconds ago. I think that would be the binding decision. No Conference Committee can act without the permission of the Senate and we only granted that two minutes ago."

President Cherberg: "You've had the measure since yesterday, Senator. Actually, it says 'received by the house.'"

Nonlegislative members of the committee shall be reimbursed for travel expenses as provided in RCW 43.03.050 and 43.03.060. The cost of travel expenses for members appointed under subsection (1) (h) and (i) of this section shall be paid by the senate and the house of representatives, the costs to be divided equally between the two houses.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Zimmerman: "Senator Hurley, in the terms of the Conference Committee Report, did the House amendment—did you say it was turned down as far as their amendment?"
Senator Hurley: "The House amendment came over to the Senate and there was some concern about the difficulty of putting it into effect even though it was already a part of the budget. In trying to work it out, I was afraid that we would lose the bill and although I had objected to the amendment in the first place, I'm sure that the SPI is going to have to adopt rules and regulations anyway in order to put this into effect and I think that it brings about equity and that's what I wanted."

Senator Zimmerman: "Do you feel that under the present bill, as it's now written with everything included, that it is something that can be adequately monitored—adequately enforced in terms of—?"

Senator Hurley: "Yes, at first I didn't think so. I thought it would cause too much entanglement and back and forth and everything, but since then, I have talked to some of those in the SPI office and I'm sure it won't cause that much trouble."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 4407, as amended by the Conference Committee.

Modifying provisions relating to aquatic lands.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Gaspard moved that the following Committee on Ways and Means amendment be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that state-owned aquatic lands are a finite natural resource of great value and an irreplaceable public heritage. The legislature recognizes that the state owns these aquatic lands in fee and has delegated to the department of natural resources the responsibility to manage these lands for the benefit of the public. The legislature finds that water-dependent industries and activities have played a major role in the history of the state and will continue to be important in the future. The legislature finds that revenues derived from leases of state-owned aquatic lands should be used to enhance opportunities for public recreation, shoreline access, environmental protection, and other public benefits associated with the aquatic lands of the state. The legislature further finds that aquatic lands are faced with conflicting use demands. The purpose of sections 1 through 20 of this act is to articulate a management philosophy to guide the exercise of the state's ownership interest and the exercise of the department's management authority, and to establish standards for determining equitable and predictable lease rates for users of state-owned aquatic lands.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. The management of state-owned aquatic lands shall be in conformance with constitutional and statutory requirements. The manager of state-owned aquatic lands shall strive to provide a balance of public benefits for all citizens of the state. The public benefits provided by aquatic lands are varied and include:

(1) Encouraging direct public use and access;
(2) Fostering water-dependent uses;
(3) Ensuring environmental protection;
(4) Utilizing renewable resources.

Generate revenue in a manner consistent with subsections (1) through (4) of this section is a public benefit.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. (1) The management of state-owned aquatic lands shall preserve and enhance water-dependent uses. Water-dependent uses shall be favored over other uses in aquatic land planning and in resolving conflicts between competing lease applications. In cases of conflict between water-dependent uses, priority shall be given to uses which enhance renewable resources, water-borne commerce, and the navigational and biological capacity of the waters, and to state-wide interests as distinguished from local interests.

(2) Nonwater-dependent use of state-owned aquatic lands is a low-priority use providing minimal public benefits and shall not be permitted to expand or be established in new areas except in exceptional circumstances where it is compatible with water-dependent uses occurring in or planned for the area.

(3) The department shall consider the natural values of state-owned aquatic lands as wildlife habitat, natural area preserve, representative ecosystem, or spawning area prior to issuing any initial lease or authorizing any change in use. The department may withhold from leasing lands which it finds to have significant natural values, or may provide within any lease for the protection of such values.

(4) The power to lease state-owned aquatic lands is vested in the department of natural resources, which has the authority to make leases upon terms, conditions, and length of time in conformance with the state Constitution and chapters 79.90 through 79.96 RCW.

(5) State-owned aquatic lands shall not be leased to persons or organizations which discriminate on the basis of race, color, creed, religion, sex, age, or physical or mental handicap.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. The definitions in this section apply throughout chapters 79.90 through 79.96 RCW.

(1) "Water-dependent use" means a use which cannot logically exist in any location but on the water. Examples include, but are not limited to, water-borne commerce, terminal and transfer facilities, ferry terminals, watercraft sales in conjunction with other water-dependent uses, watercraft construction, repair, and maintenance; moorage and launching facilities; aquaculture; log booming; and public fishing piers and parks.

(2) "Water-oriented use" means a use which historically has been dependent on a waterfront location, but with existing technology could be located away from the waterfront. Examples include, but are not limited to, wood products manufacturing, watercraft sales, fish processing, petroleum refining, sand and gravel processing, log storage, and house boats. For the purposes of determining rent under this chapter. Water-dependent uses shall be classified as water-dependent uses if the activity either is conducted on state-owned aquatic lands leased on October 1, 1984, or was actually conducted on the state-owned aquatic lands for at least three years before October 1, 1984. If, after October 1, 1984, the activity is changed to a use other than a water-dependent use, the activity shall be classified as a nonwater-dependent use. If continuation of the existing use requires leasing additional state-owned aquatic lands and is permitted under the shoreline management act of 1971, chapter 90.58 RCW, the department may allow reasonable expansion of the water-oriented use.
(3) "Nonwater-dependent use" means a use which can operate in a location other than on the waterfront. Examples include, but are not limited to, hotels, condominiums, apartments, restaurants, retail stores, and warehouses not part of a marine terminal or transfer facility.
(4) "Log storage" means the water storage of logs in rafts or otherwise prepared for shipment in water-borne commerce, but does not include the temporary holding of logs to be taken directly into a vessel or processing facility.
(5) "Log booming" means placing logs into and taking them out of the water, assembling and disassembling log rafts before or after their movement in water-borne commerce, related handling and sorting activities taking place in the water, and the temporary holding of logs to be taken directly into a processing facility. "Log booming" does not include the temporary holding of logs to be taken directly into a vessel.
(6) "Department" means the department of natural resources.
(7) "Port district" means a port district created under Title 53 RCW.
(8) The "real rate of return" means the average for the most recent ten calendar years of the average rate of return on conventional real property mortgages as reported by the federal home loan bank board or any successor agency, minus the average inflation rate for the most recent ten calendar years.
(9) The "inflation rate" for a given year is the percentage rate of change in the previous calendar year's all commodity producer price index of the bureau of labor statistics of the United States department of commerce. If the index ceases to be published, the department shall designate by rule a comparable substitute index.
(10) "Public utility lines" means pipes, conduits, and similar facilities for distribution of water, electricity, natural gas, telephone, other electronic communication, and sewers, including sewer outfall lines.
(11) "Terminal" means a point of interchange between land and water carriers, such as a pier, wharf, or group of such, equipped with facilities for care and handling of cargo and/or passengers.
(12) "State-owned aquatic lands" means those aquatic lands and waterways administered by the department of natural resources or managed under section 6 of this act by a port district. "State-owned aquatic lands" does not include aquatic lands owned in fee by, or withdrawn for the use of, state agencies other than the department of natural resources.
NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. The use of state-owned aquatic lands for public utility lines owned by a governmental entity shall be granted without charge by an agreement, permit, or other instrument if the use is consistent with the purposes of sections 1 through 3 of this act and does not obstruct navigation or other public uses. Use for public parks or public recreation purposes shall be granted without charge if the aquatic lands and improvements are available to the general public on a first-come, first-served basis and are not managed to produce a profit for the operator or a concessionaire. The department may lease state-owned tidelands that are in front of state parks only with the approval of the state parks and recreation commission. The department may lease bedlands in front of state parks only after the department has consulted with the state parks and recreation commission.
NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. Upon request of a port district, the department and port district may enter into an agreement authorizing the port district to manage state-owned aquatic lands abutting or used in conjunction with and contiguous to uplands owned, leased, or otherwise managed by a port district, for port purposes as provided in Title 53 RCW. Such agreement shall include, but not be limited to, provisions defining the specific area to be managed, the term, conditions of occupancy, reservations, periodic review, and other conditions to ensure consistency with the state Constitution and the policies of this chapter. If a port district acquires operating management, lease, or ownership of real property which abuts state-owned aquatic lands currently under lease from the state to a person other than the port district, the port district shall manage such aquatic lands if: (1) The port district acquires the leasehold interest in accordance with state law, or (2) the current lessee and the department agree to termination of the current lease to accommodate management by the port. The administration of aquatic lands covered by a management agreement shall be consistent with the aquatic land policies of chapters 79.90 through 79.96 RCW and the implementing regulations adopted by the department. The administrative procedures for management of the lands shall be those of Title 53 RCW.

No rent shall be due the state for the use of state-owned aquatic lands managed under this section for water-dependent or water-oriented uses. If a port district manages state-owned aquatic lands under this section and either leases or otherwise permits any person to use such the rent established under section 7 or 8 of this act. If the first rent amount established under subsection (1) of this section shall be adjusted in proportion to the change in average rents the log storage leases in effect on July 1, 1984, would have had under the formula for water-dependent leases as set out in section 7 of this act, except that the aquatic land values shall be thirty percent of the assessed value of the abutting upland parcels exclusive of improvements. If they are assessed, the nearest assessed upland parcel shall be used. If the abutting upland parcel is not assessed, the nearest upland tax parcel used for water-dependent purposes divided by the parcel area equals the upland value.

(4) If the upland parcel used in conjunction with the leased area is not assessed or has an assessed value inconsistent with the purposes of the lease, the nearest comparable upland parcel used for similar purposes shall be substituted and the lease payment determined in the same manner as provided in this section.

(5) For the purposes of this section, "upland tax parcel" is a tax parcel, some portion of which has upland characteristics. Filled tidelands or shorelands with upland characteristics which abut state-owned aquatic land shall be considered as uplands in determining aquatic land values.

(6) The annual rent for filled state-owned aquatic lands that have the characteristics of uplands shall be determined in accordance with section 11 of this act in those cases in which the state owns the fill and has a right to charge for the fill.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. (1) Until June 30, 1989, the log storage rents per acre shall be the average rents the log storage leases in effect on July 1, 1984, would have had under the formula for water-dependent leases as set out in section 7 of this act, except that the aquatic land values shall be thirty percent of the assessed value of the abutting upland parcels exclusive of improvements, if they are assessed. If the abutting upland parcel is not assessed, the nearest assessed upland parcel shall be used.

(2) On July 1, 1989, and every four years thereafter, the base log storage rents established under subsection (1) of this section shall be adjusted in proportion to the change in average water-dependent lease rates per acre since the date the log storage rates were last established under this section.

(3) The annual rent shall be adjusted by the inflation rate each year in which the rent is not determined under subsection (1) or (2) of this section.

(4) If the lease provides for seasonal use so that portions of the leased area are available for public use without charge part of the year, the annual rent may be discounted to reflect such public use in accordance with rules adopted by the board of natural resources.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. For leases in effect on October 1, 1984, the rent shall remain at the annual rate in effect on September 30, 1984, until the next lease anniversary date, at which time rent established under section 7 or 8 of this act shall become effective. If the first rent amount established is an increase of more than one hundred dollars and is more than thirty-three percent above the rent in effect on September 30, 1984, the annual rent shall not increase in any year by more than thirty-three percent of the difference between the previous rent and the rent established under section 7 or 8 of this act. If the first rent amount established under section 7 or 8 of this act is more than thirty-three percent below the rent in effect on September 30. 1984, the annual rent shall not decrease in any year by more than thirty-three percent of the difference between the previous rent and the rent established under section 7 or 8 of this act. Thereafter, notwithstanding any other provision of this title, the annual rental established under section 7 or 8 of this act shall not increase more than fifty percent in any year.

This section applies only to leases of state-owned aquatic lands subject to section 7 or 8 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. If state-owned aquatic lands are used for aquaculture production or harvesting, rents and fees shall be established through competitive bidding or negotiation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. Leases for nonwater-dependent uses of state-owned aquatic lands shall be charged the fair market rental value of the leased lands, determined in accordance with appraisal techniques specified by rule. However, rents for nonwater-dependent uses shall always be more than the amount that would be charged as rent for a water-dependent use of the same parcel. Rents and fees for the mining or other recovery of mineral or geothermal resources shall be established through competitive bidding, negotiations, or as otherwise provided by statute.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. If water-dependent and nonwater-dependent uses occupy separate portions of the same leased parcel of state-owned aquatic land, the rental rate for each use shall be that established for such use by this chapter, prorated in accordance with the proportion of the whole parcel that each use occupies. If water-dependent and nonwater-dependent uses occupy the same portion of a leased parcel of state-owned aquatic land, the rental rate for such parcel shall be subject to negotiation with the department taking into account the proportion of the improvements each use occupies.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. If a parcel leased for water-dependent uses is used for an extended period of time, as defined by rule of the department, for a nonwater-dependent use, the rental for the nonwater-dependent use shall be negotiated with the department.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. Except as agreed between the department and the lessee prior to conclusion of the improvements, rent shall not be charged under any lease of state-owned aquatic lands for improvements, including fills, authorized by the department or installed by the lessee or its predecessor before June 1, 1971, so long as the lands remain under a lease or succession of leases without a period of three years in which no lease is in effect or a bona fide application for a lease is pending.

If improvements were installed under a good faith belief that a state aquatic lands lease was not necessary, rent shall not be charged for the improvements if, within ninety days after specific written notification by the department that a lease is required, the owner either applies for a lease or files suit to determine if a lease is required.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. The lessee shall, by rule, provide for an administrative review of any aquatic land rent proposed to be charged. The rules shall require that the lessee or applicant for release file a request for review within thirty days after the manager has notified the lessee or applicant of the rent due. For leases issued by the department, the final authority for the review rests with the board of natural resources. If the request for review is made within thirty days after the manager's final determination as to the rental, the lessee may pay rent at the preceding year's rate pending completion of the review, and shall pay any additional rent or be entitled to a refund, with interest thirty days after announcement of the decision. The interest rate shall be the average rate of return for the prior calendar year on conventional real property mortgages as reported by the federal home loan bank board. Nothing in this section abrogates the right of an aggrieved party to pursue legal remedies including those under chapter 34.04 RCW. For purposes of this section, "manager" is the department except where state-owned aquatic lands are managed by a port district, in which case "manager" is the port district.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. For any lease for a term of more than one year, the department may require that the rent be secured by insurance, bond, or other security satisfactory to the department in an amount not exceeding two years' rent. The department may require additional security for other lease provisions. The department shall not require cash deposits exceeding one-twelfth of the annual rental.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. If the annual rent charged for the use of a parcel of state-owned aquatic lands exceeds four thousand dollars, the lessee may pay on a prorated quarterly basis. If the annual rent exceeds twelve thousand dollars, the lessee may pay on a prorated monthly basis.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. The lessee shall pay interest at the rate of one percent per month on rent or other sums owing to the department commencing thirty days after the date each rent or other sum is due and payable, unless there is review pending under section 15 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. The department shall adopt such rules as are necessary to carry out the purposes of sections 1 through 18 of this act, specifically including criteria for determining under section 7(4) of this act when an abutting upland parcel has been inappropriately assessed and for determining the nearest comparable upland parcel used for water-dependent uses.
NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. Nothing in this chapter or RCW 79.93.040 or 79.93.060 shall modify or affect any existing legal rights involving the boundaries of, title to, or vested property rights in aquatic lands or waterways. Nothing in this chapter shall modify, alter, or otherwise affect the applicability of chapter 90.58 RCW.

Sec. 21. Section 83, chapter 21, Laws of 1982 1st ex. sess. and RCW 79.93.040 are each amended to read as follows:

(Whenever any waterways created under the laws of this state.) If the United States government (shall have) has established pierhead lines within (said) a waterway created under the laws of this state at any distance from the boundaries (thereof) established by the state, structures (shall be allowed to) may be constructed in that strip of waterway between the waterway boundary and the nearest pierhead line (but) only (upon) with the consent of the department of natural resources and upon such plans, terms, and conditions and for such term as (approved and fixed) determined by the department. However, no permit shall extend for a period longer than thirty years.

(The department shall require of the holder of every permit under this section a penalty bond with sufficient surety to be approved by the department in an amount not exceeding twice the amount of the annual rental, but in no case less than five hundred dollars. The bond shall secure the payment of the rental reserved in the permit, during the term of such permit or during such part thereof as said department in its discretion shall require to be covered by such bond. In case only a part of the term of such permit shall be covered thereby, the department shall require another like bond to be executed and delivered within three months and not less than one month prior to the expiration of the period covered by the previous bond and to cover the remainder of the term of the permit, or such part thereof as the department in its discretion shall require to be covered thereby. The department shall have power at any time to summon sureties upon any bond and to examine into the sufficiency of the bond, and if the department shall find the same to be insufficient, it shall require the holder of the permit to file a new and sufficient bond within thirty days after receiving notice to do so, under penalty of cancellation of the permit.)

The department (shall have power upon sixty days' notice to) may cancel any permit upon sixty days' notice for a substantial breach by the (holder thereof) permittee of any of the permit conditions (thereof, or for lack of a bond therewith as required by this section).

(In case(s) where such.) If a waterway(s) shall be) is within the territorial limits of a port district (organized under the laws of this state), the duties assigned by this section to the department (shall) may be exercised by the port commission of such port district (and in every case the rentals received shall be disposed of as follows: Seventy-five percent shall be paid by the state treasurer to the county treasurer of the county wherein such port district is situated, for the use of said port district and twenty-five percent into the state treasury: PROVIDED, That in cases where the port district itself shall have constructed or shall have owned structures or improvements situated upon such strip of waterway since June 22, 1913, the entire rentals for such improved strip of waterway shall be paid directly to the county treasurer for the use of such port district) as provided in section 6 of this 1984 act.

Nothing in this section shall confer upon, create, or recognize in any abutting owner any right or privilege in or to any strip of waterway abutting any street and between prolongations of the lines of such street, but the control of and the right to use such strip is hereby reserved to the state of Washington, except (that in cases situate in a port district such control and use shall vest in such port district) as authorized by section 6 of this 1984 act.

Sec. 22. Section 85, chapter 21, Laws of 1982 1st ex. sess. and RCW 79.93.060 are each amended to read as follows:

(Whenever any) If a waterway established under the ((authority of) the) laws of this state, or any portion of ((such)) the waterway, (shall) has not (have) been excavated, or (shall not be in use) is not used for ((the purposes of)) navigation, or (shall no longer be) is not required in the public interest to exist as a waterway, such waterway or portion thereof may be vacated by written order of the commissioner of public lands (of the state of Washington whenever he shall be) upon request (to do) by ordinance or resolution of the city council of the city in which such waterway is ((situat in or not)) of or in, or in case such waterway is situated, in whole or in part, in a port district organized under the laws of the state of Washington, whenever he shall be requested to do)) located or by resolution of the port commission of ((such)) the port district((and upon the making of such other the waterway or portion thereof shall thereupon be deemed to be and shall be thereby vacated: PROVIDED, HOWEVER: That)) in which the waterway is located. If the waterway or portion thereof ((so)) which is vacated ((be)) is navigable water of the United States, or otherwise within the jurisdiction of the United States, a copy of such resolution or ordinance, together with a copy of ((said)) the vacation order of the commissioner of public lands ((certified to by him.)) shall be submitted to the United States Army Corps of Engineers for their approval, and if they approve, the ((same such)) waterway or portion thereof ((shall thereupon be deemed to be and shall be thereupon)) is vacated: PROVIDED, That if a port district owns property abutting the waterway and the provisions of this section are otherwise satisfied, the waterway, or the portion thereof that abuts the port district property, shall be vacated.
Upon such vacation (occurring in either of the manners foreseen) of a waterway, the commissioner of public lands shall notify the city (within, or in front of) in which (such) the waterway is located, and the city (shall have) has the right, if otherwise permitted by RCW 79.94.150, to extend across the portions so vacated any existing streets, or to select (thereof) such portions (thereof) of the waterway as the city may desire for street purposes, in no case to exceed one hundred fifty feet in width for any one street. Such selection shall be made within sixty days subsequent to the receipt of notice of the vacation of the portion of the waterway (so-vacated).

(Should such) if the city fails to make (such) a selection within such time, or (within such time make such selection) selects only a portion of the waterway, the title of the remaining portions of (such) the vacated waterway (so-vacated) shall vest in the state, unless the (same be situate) waterway is located within the territorial limits of a port district (created under the laws of the state), in which event, if otherwise permitted by RCW 79.94.150, (such) the title shall vest in (sand) the port district. (If subsequent to such vacation, the vacated waterway or portion of waterway shall be embraced within the limits of a port district created under the laws of the state, the title to such portions thereof as shall then remain undisposed of by the state shall vest in such port district. Such title so vesting shall be) The title is subject to any railroad or street railway crossings existing at the time of such vacation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 23. There is added to chapter 79.93 RCW a new section to read as follows:

Copies of waterway permits or leases in existence on the effective date of this act shall be delivered to the department of natural resources except in those cases in which the port district enters into an agreement authorizing management of state-owned aquatic land as provided in section 6 of this act.

Sec. 24. Section 9, chapter 167, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 4, chapter 8, Laws of 1982 2nd ex. sess. and RCW 79.24.580 are each amended to read as follows:

After appropriation, these funds shall be used solely for aquatic lands enhancement projects for the purchase, improvement, or protection of aquatic lands for public purposes; for providing and improving access to such lands; and for volunteer cooperative fish and game projects; and (2) the remainder shall be deposited in the capital purchase and development account of the general fund, the creation of which is hereby authorized or, in the event that revenue bonds are issued as authorized by RCW 79.24.630 through 79.24.647, into the state building bond redemption fund pursuant to RCW 79.24.638.

The remaining seventy-five percent shall be deposited in the capital purchase and development account of the general fund of the state treasury PROVIDED. That whenever the port district shall have after April 28, 1967, construct improvements on such leased harbor area or tidelands, the rental attributable to such improvements shall go to the port district.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Owen, the following amendment to the Committee on Ways and Means amendment was adopted:
On page 25, line 20, after "(1)" strike "Thirty" and insert "Forty"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Barr: "Senator Shinpoch, could you explain—I know there's a logical answer and respectfully ask if, and I know how you feel about dedicated funds—could you explain the difference between a pool and a dedicated fund? I ask that in all respect. This seems like it's getting pretty close to a dedicated fund when you say 'allocated to a pool for a particular purpose.' I think, to me, that's a fair question."

Senator Shinpoch: "Senator Barr, you are absolutely right. It is a dedicated fund. The difference is that it is an appropriated dedicated fund under the—I have in the past and continue to support any appropriated dedicated fund where the Legislature keeps within their hands the policy that they will make every time that they appropriated that fund, and you're right, that's the semantics of whether it is a pool of money or whether it's a dedicated fund—that's the same thing. It is a dedicated fund that is appropriated by the Legislature and that, to me, is the key and the key is that we make the policy of what is going to happen each and every year instead of the policy being made and stays that way forever."
SIXTIETH DAY, MARCH 8, 1984

Senator Barr: "Thank you very much and just a little bit further now. In reassigning these funds, this is at 40% now, those monies were going to where previously? Where is this a shift from the past?"

Senator Shinpoch: "I don't think anyone can answer that specifically, because there were pools of money which were set up for two or three different purposes and it could have gone in any fashion, but you've got the IAC, you've got the community colleges and so forth."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hurley: "Senator Owen, I think I know what your answer is going to be, but just to have it in the record. I'd like to ask you—the situation that existed at Diamond Lake, where the people were going to be charged for the use of their recreational dock and, presumably, this was settled last year. I wondered if there is anything in the bill that would adversely affect that?"

Senator Owen: "No. That situation where people can utilize the recreational dock at no charge from the Department of Natural Resources is not changed in this bill."

Further debate ensued.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Shinpoch, the rules were suspended. Second Substitute House Bill No. 1231, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Zimmerman: "Senator Woody, can you give us a little more idea of what we're looking at financially in the years to come? I mean, this particular measure is supposedly dealing with a very small amount in terms of retrospect to the budget—in terms of dollars that we've been talking about here and the figure of a million eight, a figure of five hundred thousand and so on. Would you want to project for us what you see as the increase? I see 33% a year possible increases and so on. What are we talking about in terms of dollars? We don't have a fiscal note is what I'm saying."

Senator Woody: "Senator Zimmerman, let me try. Obviously, the revenue that comes in from aquatic land leases will gradually increase over the years. The intent of this bill is to establish a reasonable statewide policy and process so that the leases will not astronomically increase. We are looking at gradual increases. If you're talking about the 1.8 million, that is the amount of money that is anticipated to come into the state fund through the aquatic land leases after the cost of management has been taken off the top in FY 1986. From that 1.8 million, we have dedicated 40% which would be $720,000 to flow back into the aquatic lands enhancement account and to be used for aquatic lands enhancement purposes, and the remaining 60% of that 1.8 would go to the capital project and development fund, where the largest portion of the money from these aquatic lease already resides."

Senator Zimmerman: "I see that as immediate. I'm trying to see what your projection is for a ten-year period. You haven't tried to do that as far as the total—"

Senator Woody: "I don't have the information, but I can get it from staff for you in about a half an hour."

Senator Zimmerman: "In terms of ports, because they will have no charge except that they were to lease their properties—that's the way that is being handled—that was the trade-off on it?"

Senator Woody: "That's right. The ports very strongly made the point that they did not want to pay leases to the state for water-dependent or water-oriented uses on the one hand then receive the same amount of money essentially, which is what they're doing right now, from the state for management of the harbors and harbor improvements, so they were quite pleased to have that trade-off. They will pay us the lease money, but then on the other hand from aquatic land leases, they will not get that portion that we've generally paid."

Further debate ensued.
The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Second Substitute House Bill No. 1231, as amended by the Senate.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Second Substitute House Bill No. 1231, as amended by the Senate, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 44; nays, 02; absent, 02; excused, 01.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Shinpoch, Second Substitute House Bill No. 1231 was ordered immediately transmitted to the House.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Lee: "Mr. President, ladies and gentlemen, we have less than—slightly more than twelve hours before this session must adjourn, and I'm speaking as one of the women members of this Legislature who has worked very hard to see that there are a number of qualified women as gubernatorial appointees, and in that vein I want to simply point out to this body that we have something going on here that I think is inappropriate and that is that we have over a third of the appointees that have not come out at all—women members—highly qualified individuals. On the calendar that we have before us—nine—and there are only two there. I think that we have something going on here and I protest—that we should have some equal treatment as far as gubernatorial appointees, and I do not see that happening."

There being no objection, the President returned the Senate to the fourth order of business.

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. Section 35.43.140, chapter 7, Laws of 1965 and RCW 35.43.140 are each amended to read as follows:

Any local improvement to be paid for in whole or in part by the levy and collection of assessments upon the property within the proposed improvement district may be initiated by a resolution of the city or town council or other legislative authority of the city or town, declaring its intention to order the improvement, setting forth the nature and territorial extent of the improvement and notifying all persons who may desire to object thereto to appear and present their objections at a time to be fixed therein.

In the case of trunk sewers and trunk water mains the resolution must describe the routes along which the trunk sewer, subsewer and branches of trunk water main and laterals are to be constructed.

In case of dikes or other structures to protect the city or town or any part thereof from overflow or to open, deepen, straighten, or enlarge watercourses, waterways and other channels the resolution must set forth the place of commencement and ending thereof and the route to be used.

In the case of auxiliary water systems, or extensions thereof or additions thereto for protection of the city or town or any part thereof from fire, the resolution must set forth the routes along which the auxiliary water system or extensions thereof or additions thereto are to be constructed and specifications of the structures or works necessary thereto or forming a part thereof.

The resolution shall be published in at least two consecutive issues of the official newspaper of the city or town, or if there is no official newspaper, in any legal newspaper of general circulation therein; the first publication to be at least fifteen days before the day fixed for the hearing.

The hearing herein required may be held before the city or town council, or other legislative authority, before a committee thereof. (If the hearing is before a committee, the committee shall following the hearing report its recommendation on the resolution to the city council or other legislative authority for final action.) The legislative authority of a city having a population of fifteen thousand or more may designate an officer to conduct the hearings. The committee or hearing officer shall report recommendations on the resolution to the legislative authority for final action.

Sec. 2. Section 35A.05.040, chapter 119, Laws of 1967 ex. sess. and RCW 35A.05.040 are each amended to read as follows:

When a sufficient petition, as determined by the rules set forth in RCW 35A.01.040, is filed with the legislative body of each of such contiguous municipal corporations, signed by electors of each such corporation in number equal to not less than ten percent of the votes cast at the last general municipal election therein, seeking consolidation of such contiguous municipal corporations as a noncharter code city under one of the plans of government authorized by this title, naming such plan and setting forth a name for the proposed consolidated city, the legislative body of the municipal corporation in which the largest number of inhabitants reside (hereinafter called principal legislative body) shall cause to be submitted to the electors of each of such corporations, at the next general municipal election, if one is to be held within one hundred and eighty days, or at a special election to be called for that purpose not less than ((ninety)) sixty nor more than ((one)) two hundred and ((eighty)) twenty days after the filing of the petition, the question whether such corporation shall become consolidated as a noncharter code city under the plan of government proposed in the petition.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. There is added to chapter 35.21 RCW a new section to read as follows:

Any city or town may acquire title to or any interest in real and personal property for the purpose of historic preservation and may restore, improve, maintain, manage, and lease the property for public or private use and may enter into contracts, borrow money, and issue bonds and other obligations for such purposes. This authorization shall not expand the eminent domain powers of cities or towns.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. There is added to chapter 36.32 RCW a new section to read as follows:

Any county may acquire title to or any interest in real and personal property for the purpose of historic preservation and may restore, improve, maintain, manage, and lease the property for public or private use and may enter into contracts, borrow money, and issue bonds and other obligations for such purposes. This authorization shall not expand the eminent domain powers of counties.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. There is added to chapter 42.24 RCW a new section to read as follows:

(1) Any municipal corporation or political subdivision may provide for the issuance of charge cards to officers and employees for the sole purpose of covering expenses incident to authorized travel.

(2) Upon billing or no later than ten days of the billing date, the officer or employee using a charge card issued under this section shall submit a fully itemized travel expense voucher.
Any charges against the charge card not properly identified on the travel expense voucher or not allowed following the audit required under RCW 42.24.080 shall be paid by the official or employee by check, United States currency, or salary deduction.

(3) If, for any reason, disallowed charges are not repaid before the charge card billing is due and payable, the municipal corporation or political subdivision shall have a prior lien against and a right to withhold any and all funds payable or to become payable to the official or employee up to an amount of the disallowed charges and interest at the same rate as charged by the company which issued the charge card. Any official or employee who has been issued a charge card by a municipal corporation or political subdivision shall not use the card if any disallowed charges are outstanding and shall surrender the card upon demand of the auditing officer. The municipal corporation or political subdivision shall have unlimited authority to revoke use of any charge card issued under this section, and, upon such revocation order being delivered to the charge card company, shall not be liable for any costs.

follows:

The legislative authority of any county may by resolution propose the establishment of one or more ad hoc community councils within the unincorporated area of the county. In adopting such resolution, the county legislative authority shall consider the extent to which the residents of the area encompassed by the proposed ad hoc community council share common concerns regarding land use decisions as a result of geographical location, terrain, pattern of development, and other features which make the area distinctive as a community. No ad hoc community council may be formed that has less than one hundred registered voters residing within its boundaries. Ad hoc community councils shall only have advisory capacities.

follows:

Upon the adoption of a resolution under section 6 of this act, the legislative authority of a county shall hold a hearing on the establishment of the ad hoc community council. The legislative authority of the county shall consider the establishment of the ad hoc community council at the hearing held under this section. All persons appearing at the meeting shall have an opportunity to be heard and to voice protests. The hearing may be continued from time to time, but the total number of days from the first day of the hearings to the final day shall not exceed sixty days.

If, after hearing public testimony on the issue, the legislative authority of the county determines that the welfare of the residents of the area encompassed by the proposed ad hoc community council will be served by the establishment of the council, it shall declare such to be its finding. Upon this determination, the county legislative authority may adopt an ordinance creating the ad hoc community council, setting its boundaries, establishing its duration, establishing any limitations on the subjects about which the council may make recommendations, and providing for the selection of the council members who may be directly appointed by the county legislative authority.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. Territory may be withdrawn from a public hospital district as provided by this section. The commissioners of a public hospital district may hold a hearing on the proposed removal of territory from the district whenever a petition requesting the withdrawals of such territory has been signed by at least one hundred registered voters residing in the territory proposed to be withdrawn. The petition shall describe by metes and bounds the territory proposed to be withdrawn and shall be filed with the auditor of the county within which the public hospital district is located. The auditor shall examine the signatures, determine their suf-ciency, and certify the sufficiency to the district.

If the auditor certifies the sufficiency of the signatures, the public hospital district commissioners shall hold a public hearing on the proposed withdrawal of territory from the district.
Upon the conclusion of the public hearing, the commissioners may provide for the withdrawal of this territory by adopting a resolution by unanimous action finding that this withdrawal is in the public interest and declaring such territory to be withdrawn. Withdrawal of the territory shall be effective at the time and date as provided in the resolution. The property so withdrawn from a public hospital district shall remain liable for any general indebtedness of the district in existence at the time of the withdrawal.
The commissioners shall immediately notify the county legislative authority and auditor of the county within which the district is located of such action. The auditor shall immediately take cognizance of the altered boundaries of the public hospital district for election purposes.

Costs of altering precinct boundaries and voter registration shall be included in the cost of the election allocated under RCW 29.13.045.

The method of withdrawing territory from a public hospital district provided for in this section shall be in addition to any other method of withdrawing territory.

This section shall expire three months after the effective date of this act.

Sec. 9. Section 84.09.030, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as amended by section 4, chapter 26, Laws of 1981 and RCW 84.09.030 are each amended to read as follows:

For the purposes of property taxation and the levy of property taxes the boundaries of counties, cities and all other taxing districts shall be the established official boundaries of such districts existing on the first day of March of the year in which the levy is made, and no such levy shall be made for any taxing district whose boundaries were not duly established on the first day of March of such year: PROVIDED, That for the year 1981 only the boundaries of library districts shall be the established official boundaries existing on the first day of October: PROVIDED FURTHER, That for the year 1984 only, boundaries of public hospital districts shall be the established official boundaries existing on the first day of April. In any case where any instrument setting forth the official boundaries of any newly established taxing district, or setting forth any change in such boundaries, is required by law to be filed in the office of the county auditor or other county official, said instrument shall be filed in triplicate. The officer with whom such instrument is filed shall transmit two copies to the county assessor.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately."

Signed by: Senators Thompson and Granlund; Representatives Grimm, Ebersole and Hankins.

MOTION

Senator Thompson moved that the Report of the Conference Committee on Engrossed House Bill No. 392 be granted and that the powers of Free Conference be granted.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Pullen: "A point of order, Mr. President. I believe that by that motion, Senator Thompson is subverting the Senate Rules which provide that a measure to be voted on after it has already been defeated requires a reconsideration of the motion, and subsequently requires two-thirds vote because no notice of reconsideration was given and acted upon the day that we defeated this motion previously. This very same motion, which was defeated previously, because we are dealing with the very identical language that was before us before—was put to the Senate about two days ago and was defeated at that time. Under our Senate Rules, and the President has indicated that the Senate Rules would take priority over Joint Rules, under our Senate Rules, the only way a measure that has been defeated can be considered again is for it to be reconsidered, and no notice of reconsideration was given and no motion has been made to reconsider. Therefore, I contend if we are to vote on this motion again, it, in effect, is a motion to reconsider and would take a two-thirds vote because no notice was previously given—and because it has been defeated."

REMARKS BY SENATOR BOTTIGER

Senator Bottiger: "Mr. President, the rules provide and I'm looking for the exact language—that the Free Conference Committee Report can be resubmitted as long as nothing has been changed in the original Free Conference Report and that's precisely what we have before us. I'm sorry--Secretary Snyder was showing me the rule--" Senator Pullen: "I have it now. I think it's Rule 22 that Senator Bottiger was referring to. However, I would like to refer to Rule 37. Rule 37 of the Senate Rules that deals with reconsideration, and I would contend that the only way under Rule 37 we can be voting on this, at this time, is for the motion to have been a reconsideration motion and that would take a suspension of the rules and a two-thirds vote because no notice was previously given.

"Yes, I think it was Rule 22 that Senator Bottiger was referring to. Rule 22, subsection 7—and Senator Bottiger is quite correct in taking notice of what that rule says and he is quite correct to the extent that it goes, however, my contention is that if we do not take this as a motion to reconsider and a suspension of the rules, then we are also in contradiction of Rule 37."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Was the motion to grant the powers of Free Conference? Is there anything before us?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Yes. The motion before the Senate is to request the powers of Free Conference."

Senator Rasmussen: "Mr. President, a further inquiry then—requesting the powers of Free Conference—the time delay would then start running as of 2:45—requiring the thirty-six hours?"

President Cherberg: "The report has been on the desk for several days, Senator."

Senator Rasmussen: "Mr. President, if we grant the powers of Free Conference, they may decide to change the report, knowing there is some objection. I would think that, then, the only correct way would be to say as of the time you grant the powers of Free Conference—that's the time that requires the thirty-six hours. You don't know what this Conference Committee is going to do once they've been granted the power."

President Cherberg: "At the present time, Senator Rasmussen, the members of the Senate do not know whether the Conference Committee, if granted the powers of Free Conference, will make a change."

Senator Rasmussen: "That's right. We don't know and that's why the thirty-six hour delay should run from the time that we grant these powers of Free Conference. We have no knowledge of what they'll come up with. They may add, delete or even just study it until we go by the sine die."

President Cherberg: "Then you can raise the point of order at that time, Senator."

Senator Rasmussen: "On the thirty-six hours?"

President Cherberg: "Yes."

Senator Rasmussen: "Thank you, Mr. President."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Bottiger, further consideration of Engrossed House Bill No. 392 was deferred.

MOTION

On motion of Senator BluecheL Senator Haley was excused.

The amounts spent under this section shall not exceed the unspent balances of the original appropriations provided for such services and supplies for the fiscal biennium ending June 30, 1983. POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bluechel: "Senator McDermott, we have on our desks here, two budgets—one the sixth draft and one the seventh draft. Are both of these different than passed out of the committee—passed out of this House before? If so, what's the difference between these two drafts?"

Senator McDermott: "The difference between the sixth and seventh draft is a study in OFM of a merger between Eastern Washington University and WSU and there's a couple of technical changes we found last night when we were working and putting this together trying to get it all done in time to get out of here. We made a couple of technical mistakes and those are corrected. There's also a twenty thousand dollar study that was left out of the budget that Senator Patterson had asked for small districts in Eastern Washington in terms of coordinating a transportation system and that got left out between the Senate and the House and we put it in this budget."

Senator Bluechel: "There are no other things other than what you mentioned."

Senator McDermott: "There are not." 1572
JOURNAL OF THE SENATE

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Patterson: "Senator McDermott, would you please identify the page in draft number 7 that the two items you just referred to are located? Is page 11 one of them? And what's the other page?"

Senator McDermott: "Senator, the first one is on page 11, line 33--"$96,000 shall be provided for" and subsequent language which runs on to the next page-- almost the entire page. That's essentially the language of a bill that was before this body in the form of 1363. The other part of it is--I think you'll find it in section 506.
The language that you're looking for, Senator Patterson, is 64, line 28--"$20,000 is provided solely for an exemplary study to be conducted by at least the Rosalia, Tekoa, Oaksdale... and so forth."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Senator McDermott, would you tell me where the study of the merger of WSU and Eastern is?"

Senator McDermott: "That's page 11, line 33 and the subsequent language on page 12."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bluechel: "Senator McDermott, we have some confusion on this side.
The bill that was passed out of here before was draft 8--now we're on draft 7. How come we went backwards?"

Senator McDermott: "Well, I'll tell you, Senator Bluechel, I'm going to give you a short lesson in computers. I don't have a draft 7, 10 or 11 that you're talking about, but I bet you if you brought it over here, it probably has an 's' number on the top. Now, if you look at the one here last night, when we were having our last meeting with the House, we agreed to use the House copy and they haven't done as many drafts changes as we have, so you're looking at H-4438, 7th draft, which is the seventh time the House reran it. We have rerun it 10 times. It's clear we have too much reproducing capability around here."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Patterson: "Senator McDermott, I'm looking at the Senate-passed version of the supplemental budget and some language on page 71, if you have a copy of that document. This is the way it passed the Senate. There's some language in here referring to the transportation funding shortfall in many school districts that we had asked the Superintendent of Public Instruction to take a look at the formula for distribution of transportation funds and come back and make some recommendations so that we could cover particularly those school districts--many of them rural--that were substantially hurt by the formula when they made the next allocation. What we asked him to do was to plan to retroactively reimburse in the '85 supplemental budget--those districts whose transportation programs were underfunded in the '83-'84 school year, due to the problems of implementing chapter 61, laws of '83--Substitute House Bill No. 296.

"Now, I notice that that language is not in draft number 7, which disturbs me a great deal, because the section that's referring to this transportation shortfall, in the new draft, is substantially different and I'm afraid that a couple of rural school districts that are in my district are going to be substantially hurt from the resources they had for transportation in the last year. This draft of 1.7 million, in that section, just will not cover the shortfall there. I think Yakima is another one that is substantially hurt, and I just feel that what we ought to do is stay with our guns on this issue and direct the SPI to come up and treat all school districts in transportation with equity. I don't think the language in this proposal does that."

Senator McDermott: "As you know, we instituted a new formula for distribution of transportation money among school districts and a lot of school districts wound up with a little bit less money than they had before and other school districts would up with more money than they had before. Every time we tinker with the system around here, somebody wins and somebody loses and in the process of doing that change in the transportation formula--obviously some districts got hurt.

"Originally, we were told by the Superintendent of Public Instruction's Office that we would not have to put any additional money into the fund at a hundred That lasted about half way through this session, then they showed up on the hill and said 'you need to put in somewhere around two million dollars,' which we finally put in on the Senate side. We also adopted Senator Lee's amendment, in committee, which was the one you were referring to. Then the budget got to the Conference Committee or the discussions between the bodies on this issue. The House of Representatives didn't want to put any money in. They said 'the formula works, the formula stands. Let's not put any money in to cover any of the districts that were hurt by the new formula.' We prevailed in keeping in the additional money—the 1.9 million dollars. I believe it is, but we did not prevail in keeping that study and the retroactive payment language that was in the first bill. You are correct, it is not in this bill, whereas it was in the bill that passed the Senate.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Deccio: Senator McDermott, when I offered my amendment to make whole those twenty-one districts that were affected by the screw-up in the SPI's Office—as they called it themselves. They admitted it was their own mistake. It had nothing to do with funding and it had nothing to do with anything at all except some bad computations. You told this body that the amendment was not necessary, because Senator Patterson's language was in the bill and the thing would be corrected and those schools would be reimbursed next year.

'My question is this. don't you think that it's proper that we roll this back to second reading or whatever we have to do to put that money back in as long as those schools—it's quite apparent that they're going to lose that money. I think your statement made a commitment to this body which defeated my amendment in favor of establishing language and now it's out. My question is what can we do about it and should we do something about it?'

Senator McDermott: Senator Deccio, it's my understanding that the money—Senator Gaspard and I were just talking about it. In our discussions with the Superintendent of Public Instruction's Office, we were told that if we put in the money that we have in this budget, there is sufficient money to cover the—I'm not sure, I think the word they used was 'glich.' I think that's a very carefully chosen word to obscure any meaning, whatsoever, in the transportation formula. It was my understanding when the bill went out of here, that the language of the Lee amendment was really redundant—that we have put the money in and all that amendment was doing was sort of saying the obvious—'take the money and redistribute it to make sure you haven't done any damage to those districts.' I think the money is still there and I think they are covered. I don't think the language is necessary. That's why I was willing with the House to agree to not put it in.

Senator Deccio: Senator McDermott, according to the bulletin issued by the SPI, there are still four or five districts, including North Franklin, Yakima, Seattle, Tacoma and maybe one other that are still short a substantial amount of money that was not covered in that bulletin. Are you telling me that there is enough money to make those districts whole? Is that what the SPI is telling you?

Senator McDermott: Senator Deccio, I guess we're going to have to go over a bill we passed before. When we passed the bill changing the transportation funding for schools, previously, we had a reimbursement system. The districts spent some money, they sent a chit down to the state and they got a check back in the mail—more or less—at some percentage, maybe sixty percent or seventy percent or seventy-five percent. When we changed the system in the law we said, 'we want you to figure out how many kids in your school district and how far they live from school. If they live, what the laws says, two miles from school, you can count them, you can put them on the bus and we'll give you the money to cover that amount of money in terms of an allocation formula,' We were not promising to reimburse everything that every district spent. It was anticipated that there would be some districts that did not get every penny covered under the new allocation system. There wouldn't have been any purpose in putting the new system in if we were just going to grandfather in everything that happened. There are some districts that are just not very efficient. They've been doing things that were for convenience and the state decided since, it is under Judge Doran's decision, a state's responsibility to fund whatever we have in the law, we put it in the law and we are funding a hundred percent with the money that is in this budget. There will. undoubtedly, be some districts who do not receive as much money as they say they spent, and that is going to require them to be more efficient. There’s no other explanation for it.”

Senator Deccio: “If I may respond, we held a meeting with the Superintendent of School District No. 7 in Yakima and the business manager with Superintendent Brouillet and his transportation people and they admitted that Yakima was running a very efficient system. Many of the districts pick up their children in a one-mile radius. Yakima picks up their children in a two-mile radius. So, I guess what we’re going to say to Yakima is ‘quit being honest, quit being efficient, buy yourselves a whole bunch of minibuses, start picking up your kids within the one-mile radius and then you’re going to get your money.’ That is what the SPI told my superintendent and me and some others when we had the meeting in the SPI’s Office and I guess what I have to say at this point is that I think the Superintendent is the one who is being very inefficient. He’s being very unfair to those districts who do try to be honest and who do try to do the right thing, but they are getting the shaft, and I would like to have that on record. I would hope, perhaps, we can offer a floor resolution to the Superintendent demanding that he make those districts whole. I would hope that we would do that before this day is over.”

MOTION

On motion of Senator Bottiger, the Senate resumed consideration of Engrossed House Bill No. 392, deferred earlier today.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Pullen, the President believes that Senate Rule 22, subsection 7, provides: 'no floor vote may be taken on any Free Conference Committee Report within twenty-four hours of its placement on each member's desk, unless the Free Conference Committee made no changes in the bill as it was last acted upon by the Senate.' The Report of the Free Conference Committee on Engrossed House Bill No. 392 has been on the member's desk since March 4th.

"The President had both of the Free Conference Committee Reports proofread and no changes were detected in the Report of the Free Conference Committee to Engrossed House Bill No. 392, as it was last acted upon by the Senate, and it, therefore, meets the requirement of Senate Rule 22, subsection 7."

MOTION

Senator Bottiger moved that the Senate now consider the motion by Senator Thompson, made earlier today, to adopt the Report of the Conference Committee on Engrossed House Bill No. 392 and that the powers of Free Conference be granted.

MOTION

Senator Pullen moved that the rules be suspended and that his amendment that he turned in at the desk be acted on.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Bottiger: "Mr. President, a point of parliamentary inquiry. Would that require a two-thirds vote to amend a Free Conference Report?"
President Cherberg: "Yes, Senator Pullen. the question before the Senate is the motion to adopt the Conference Committee Report."

Senator Pullen: "I believe that's the motion that Senator Bottiger made and I am now amending that motion moving to suspend the rules and amend that motion and amend the Free Conference Committee Report with the amendment that I turned into the desk."

President Cherberg: "The President believes, Senator, that the question before the Senate is the motion to adopt the Conference Committee Report and that the powers of Free Conference be granted. The President believes that it's necessary for this action to be favorably acted upon in both the Senate and the House and then your proposed amendments would be considered when the Report of the Free Conference Committee is before the Senate."

Senator Pullen: "O.K. Now the motion was simply—I guess I misunderstood the motion that Senator Bottiger made then. I thought he moved that we do adopt the Free Conference Committee Report."

President Cherberg: "The President suggests that we back track and that Senator Bottiger state the motion that he desires."

Senator Bottiger: "Mr. President. I move that the Conference Report be adopted and the powers of Free Conference be granted."

Senator McCaslin: "A point of parliamentary inquiry, Mr. President. The copy of the Free Conference recommendations for 392, I believe was laid on our desks yesterday—March 7th is the date that is on this—and my inquiry is whether or not we can address this? Whether or not it actually has been on our desks twenty-four hours?"

President Cherberg: "That question has been settled. Senator McCaslin. It's been on since at least March 4th."

Senator McCaslin: "This is dated the 7th, Mr. President. It couldn't be March 4th."

President Cherberg: "That's just one of the additional editions, Senator. It's the same thing. We put them out regularly."

Senator Rasmussen: "A point of parliamentary inquiry. Mr. President, would you refresh my memory, please? Did the Senate vote to reject the Free Conference Report on 392? It seems that I remember a vote there that was sent back—the Senate rejected something or other."

President Cherberg: "The Secretary advises that the Senate rejected the report granting the powers of Free Conference and they're asking for it once again."

Senator Rasmussen: "Mr. President, after the Senate having rejected that and the same motion being made, wouldn't it require a motion to suspend the rules and reconsider the vote by which the Senate rejected the powers of Free Conference?"

President Cherberg: "The President has already covered that point."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the motion to adopt the Report of the Conference Committee on Engrossed House Bill No. 392 and the powers of Free Conference be granted.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Bottiger, further consideration of Engrossed House Bill No. 392 was deferred.

Mr. President:

The House adopted SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 149 with the following amendment:

On page 1, line 1, strike everything after "WHEREAS," and insert the following:

"The funding of the public retirement systems and provision of adequate benefits to retirees are of vital concern to the state's public employees and state's managers; and

WHEREAS. The public retirement systems of the state of Washington are faced with a large unfunded liability which threatens the future fiscal health of the state government; and

WHEREAS. Due to unexpected increases in compensation and disability claims, and other factors, the retirement systems have incurred liabilities far greater than was anticipated when the systems were established by the legislature; and

WHEREAS. Similar benefits have been granted on a piecemeal basis in the past, without consistency between plans and without adequate understanding of their costs; and

WHEREAS. The retirement statutes have been amended in a piecemeal manner in the past and currently contain much language which is outdated or unnecessarily complex; and

WHEREAS. The legislature is faced with many issues concerning the various state retirement systems, including:

(1) Means to increase the actuarial soundness of the systems;
(2) Methods of financing the systems, especially the possible restructuring of funding for the LEOFF system and the judicial retirement system;
(3) The need to clarify and simplify current retirement statutes;
(4) The adequacy of current retirement benefits. including LEOFF II disability benefits, cost-of-living increases, and portability provisions; and
(5) The examination of benefits for part time employees based on the findings study mandated by ESHB 1156;

NOW. THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED. BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED. That the joint interim committee on public retirement may also request the participation, on a nonvoting basis, of other concerned individuals; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED. That the legislature shall provide such staffing, technical assistance, and support services as may be required to carry out committee business. All state, local and private agencies are requested to cooperate fully in the committee's work; and

and the same are herewith transmitted.

DEAN R. FOSTER, Chief Clerk

MOTION

Senator Bottiger moved that the Senate do concur in the House amendment to Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 149.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Mr. President, I have no objection of the House— one committee doing all of the studies, but in the House striking amendment on line 35 it provides for four members to be appointed from each caucus and eight members of the Senate to be appointed by the Senate majority leader. Is it possible to offer an oral amendment that those eight members of the Senate be appointed by the President of the Senate? The reason I ask that is that in all other categories, the President of the Senate makes the appointments, and including the budget bill that was just on our desks—the President of the Senate, but here they have the Senate majority leader and that's quite a change from the Rules of the Senate."
REMARKS BY SENATOR BOTTIGER

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Rasmussen, at this late date—you are absolutely right—and I had no knowledge of that. I will not appoint those members in any other than the usual custom and will review the recommendations of the Lieutenant Governor. I'd like to get this done. It would appear to do otherwise we would have to bounce this thing back and forth between the House and the Senate on the last day."

Senator Rasmussen: "Mr. President, is it permissible to offer an oral amendment?"

President Cherberg: "You can change the motion, Senator. The motion before the group is to concur in the House amendment to Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 149."

Senator Rasmussen: "And my motion, Mr. President, would be to concur with all of it except lines 34 and 35, and ask the House to recede therefrom."

President Cherberg: "The President would have to put the positive motion first, Senator. That motion will draw the two houses together quicker than your motion."

Senator Rasmussen: "Well, if we just let them walk it over, yes, Mr. President. Then it would be necessary for this body then to reject the whole concurrent resolution before I can offer my amendment?"

President Cherberg: "Yes, Senator."

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the motion by Senator Bottiger to concur in the House amendment to Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 149.

The motion by Senator Bottiger carried and the Senate concurred in the House amendment to Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 149.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 149, as amended by the House.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 149, as amended by the House, and the resolution passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 48; nays, 0; absent, 0; excused, 0.

Voting nay: Senator Rasmussen - 1.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION BILL NO. 149, as amended by the House, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

March 8, 1984

Mr. President:

The House adopted the report of the Conference Committee on ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1157 and granted said committee the powers of Free Conference.

DEAN R. FOSTER, Chief Clerk

REPORT OF FREE CONFERENCE COMMITTEE

March 8, 1984

Mr. President:

Mr. Speaker:

We, of your Free Conference Committee, to whom was referred, ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1157, adopting the supplemental capital budget, have had the same under consideration, and we recommend that the bill be amended to read as follows:

(See amendments in Report of Conference Report on Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1157, read in earlier today)
SIGNED BY: Senators McDermott, Deccio and Thompson; Representatives Braddock, Grimm and Tilly.

MOTION

On motion of Senator McDermott, the report of the Free Conference Committee on Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1157 was adopted. Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator McDermott, in looking over the Treasurer's report for 1983, and he indicates that we have authorized, but not issued about $1,200,000,000 in bonds, and I presume that the Ways and Means Committee—I regret that I'm not there anymore—has studied that. It's not possible to shift funds out of that $1,200,000,000 that is authorized but unissued?"

Senator McDermott: "Well, Senator Rasmussen, the process of authorizing the bonds—you have to make a specific authorization and if you've authorized for one specific purpose, you can't shift the money over to another purpose. That would be sort of like what they did in Seattle with Forward Thrust and a few things. You're supposed to authorize the bonds for a specific purpose. We may never issue the bonds. Many of those things, obviously, have never been issued, so I think what we're doing here is authorizing for specific purposes. We will not issue bonds for other purposes. We will issue these because we need this."

Senator Rasmussen: "Thank you, Senator McDermott, but as I read this report it indicates that the Finance Committee already has the authorization to issue the bonds and what I'm wondering is with the $1,200,000,000 authorized that aren't issued, rather than overhang our credit rating, if we couldn't pull back some of those bonds which have been authorized by the Legislature and reauthorize them so that our total will be no higher, but we would be serving our more immediate purposes. Some of these bonds have been hanging fire for six, seven and eight years. Obviously, we do not need the money for the purpose that the bonds were authorized. That's my question, if we should, rather than filing up more bonds, take a look at those and change the designation. Anybody looking at what's going on—"

Senator McDermott: "Well, Senator Rasmussen, you know how those bonds get authorized?"

Senator Rasmussen: "By vote here!"

Senator McDermott: "Sometimes they get authorized and then they never get issued because they weren't necessary and it would make a very good interim study to go back and look at why some of them were authorized five and ten years ago and have never been spent. Perhaps the Ways and Means Committee ought to take up that issue."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1157, as amended by the Free Conference Committee.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1157, as amended by the Free Conference Committee, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 31; nays, 18; absent, 00; excused, 00.

Voting nay: Senators Barr, Benitz, Clarke, Craswell, Declo, Fuller, Guess, Haley, Lee, McCaslin, McDonald, McLaugh, Newhouse, Pullen, Quigg, Rasmussen, Vognild, von Reichbauer – 18.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woody: "Senator McDonald. I understand that the revenue accrual account has already been authorized and the money is spent in the supplemental budget. Of that $71,000,000 we have divided the money between the lawsuit settlement and pension funding, so that there's no balance left. Where is this 8.6 going to come from?"

Senator McDonald: "Well, Senator Woody, I'm not aware that we've passed the operating budget yet and it would seem to me that the questions that we raised before should be addressed and that clearly could be. We have not authorized any appropriations beyond what's passed in the biennium budget thus far, so I think that question is still before us."

Senator Woody: "Mr. President, if I may. Should we then, therefore, reduce the pension funding by 8.6 or cut our lawsuit settlement in half?"

Senator McDonald: "No, Senator Woody, I'd be happy to sit down with you and work through the supplemental budget in some comprehensive way so that we could resolve this problem before us. As I said before, the revenue estimates are simply a guess and not that accurate of a guess, so we'll have to deal with the numbers that we have before us. But I think, once again, it is simply a guess and I would be happy to work with you and Senator McDermott on that proposal."

Further debate ensued.

Senator McDonald demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on adoption of the amendments by Senator McDonald.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator McDermott, the rules were suspended. Substitute House Bill No. 1268 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator McDermott, the Skamania case on timber default is over in the Supreme Court—it has not held hearings on it yet. In the event that the Supreme Court agrees with the Superior Court of Skamania County and rules that the legislation passed here by this body is unconstitutional, will there be sufficient money to come in—the timber companies then will have to pay—so we would not need these bonds? That money would go for school construction if it was available."

Senator McDermott: Yes, Senator Rasmussen, the money would be used for school bonds. However, there's not sufficient money and it would not come in in time during the next year to fund the school projects. It probably would not be decided in Supreme Court until after the first of the year, and by that point most of those buildings will be under way and be needing the state money."

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator McDermott, my understanding is that they were supposed to hear that case in the middle of February and that they expect to hear it at the end of March, at least--bring down that decision."

Senator McDermott: "In any event, I'm not sure that they--I think it's about as hard to predict when the Supreme Court is going to act as it is when the Legislature is going to end. Even if the money were to come immediately, it would not be sufficient to cover the bonds that are out against the state."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lee: "Senator McDermott, when this bill was before us in committee, there was a concern, not only yourself, but I also recall in 1979 when there was a great gnashing of teeth, just about this time of night before we were going to adjourn. We had to have a bond bill—that the projects were going to have to be cancelled and so on. At that time, we put some language in that said 'O.K., you can sell some bonds, if the money really doesn't come in.' Do you feel confident that the language that's within this bill also would have that same caveat—that these bonds would only be sold if the common school construction fund is not adequate to supply the needs of the districts?"

Senator McDermott: "Senator, we went back and did as thorough a search as we could of the 1979 session. I think I sat two seats back there when we were writing that one. We could not find any language, specifically, that you suggest, but it is the intention and it was stated in the committee, that if there is sufficient money to come in from the fund, these will not--these bonds will not be sold."

Senator Lee: "Thank you, Senator McDermott. I think that's important that that be part of the record, so that is the understanding these are for emergency purposes only."

REMARKS BY SENATOR PATTERSON

Senator Patterson: "Thank you, Mr. President, and members of the Senate. I have some real concerns when we reach that point on our dedicated funds—the common school fund—that we have to resort to the bonding of those funds in order to provide the matching dollars to our school districts that are in need of capital construction. I think it behooves this legislature that we notify our school districts that they should look very carefully at their planning for construction in the future, because if we do not have the money in the common school fund to make up the match, then we're going to be bonding against the general fund of the state of Washington for this match. We're at that point in time, and I think it's extremely important that we advise those school districts that we are going to be extremely reluctant to bond against the general fund for this purpose.

'Now, we've debated many issues here in the last couple of days about the dollars that are going into the permanent school fund and the resource that provides those dollars. I think it's only fair that we advise the school districts that they're going to have to go a little bit slow and they're going to have to constantly check to determine whether or not the matching funds might be available in the future. I think it's extremely important at this point in time—the first time we've ever bonded against the common school fund. We've always used the cash before and I think it's important that we notify the school districts of the fiscal problems that this state is faced with.

'I guess my closing remark will be that we've reached that point in time when we're going to have to seriously look at the taxing policies of this state. The time has come, and I think this is the real signal as to where we're headed—until we have real tax revision in this state. I think it behooves those of us that are responsibile for providing these dollars, providing for the young people in the future, that we try to inform our public citizens that we are in dire need of a good, long, hard look at the resources that are made available, so as to provide for all the programs that we traditionally provide for."
REMARKS BY SENATOR McDERMOTT

Senator McDermott: "Mr. President, and members of the Senate. Senator Patterson, I couldn't have said it any better if I had sat down and spent two days drafting it."

"Mr. President, I move that the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to record Senator Patterson's remarks by the Journal Clerk and make them available to the members to send to their respective school districts."

Further debate ensued.
The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Substitute House Bill No. 1268.

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Substitute House Bill No. 1268, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 39; nays, 10; absent, 0; excused, 0.

MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION

Having served prior notice, Senator McDermott moved that the rules be suspended and that the Senate reconsider the vote by which Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3806 failed to receive the constitutional 60% majority to pass the Senate earlier today.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bluechel: "Senator McDermott, Senate Bill No. 3806—are you looking at the amendment we had here prior to supper or are you looking at the basic bill that only included the bonds for recreational purposes?"

Senator McDermott: "Senator Bluechel, if we get it back on third reading, we will go back to second reading and peel it back to the parks alone—and take off the schools and prisons and all the rest of the major amendments that were on before."

Senator Pullen demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

March 8, 1984

Mr. President:

The House has adopted the report of the Free Conference Committee on ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 4403 and passed the bill as amended by the Free Conference Committee, and the same are herewith transmitted.

DEAN R. FOSTER, Chief Clerk

March 7, 1984

Mr. President:

Mr. Speaker:

We, of your Free Conference Committee, to whom was referred, ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 4403, revising provisions relating to health care costs, have had the same under consideration, and we recommend the bill be amended as follows and that the bill as amended by the Free Conference Committee do pass:

(See amendments in Report of Conference Committee on Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4403, read in earlier today)

Signed by: Senators McDermott, Sellar and Talmadge; Representatives Kreidler and McClure.

MOTION

On motion of Senator McDermott, the report of the Free Conference Committee on Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4403 was adopted.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talmadge: "Senator McDermott, concern has been expressed about subsection (k) of section 22 of the bill. In the determination of regional averages for charity care, which a hospital may have to meet to be eligible for a certificate of need, is it really possible for all hospitals to meet whatever average might be set by the Hospital Commission?"

Senator McDermott: "The answer to that question, Senator Talmadge, is 'yes.' The intent of the bill, and that section in particular, is that the Commission will establish a percentage for each region that is presumably near the regional average—a percentage that all hospitals would have a fair chance to meet. And there is no intent to penalize any hospital that is making a good faith effort to come up to their regional mark, and absolutely no intent to penalize a hospital that does have an open door to all those in their community.

"As determined by the Commission" is important language throughout this bill. It is not some bureaucrat making rote decisions by some rule book. This is a Commission of nine highly responsible citizens—appointed by the Governor—representing consumers, payers, purchasers, health-care professionals and hospitals. Those Commissioners will not make any decision that is detrimental to either the public or to individual hospitals. I have faith in their good judgment—their common sense. They will use their discretion and no hospital that is making a good faith effort to meet the needs of all the sick in the community will be penalized."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Zimmerman: "Senator Hemstad, in regard to the discussions we've just heard here, we've had three people speak on this particular part of the bill and I wonder if you would explain and give your position in terms of the comments of Senator Talmadge and Senator McDermott."

Senator Hemstad: "Yes, I would be happy to respond to that, Senator Zimmerman. The wording is precisely to the opposite of that which the colloquy between Senator Talmadge and Senator McDermott suggests. The wording of the statutes says 'no certificate of need may be granted to a hospital which has not met or exceeded the regional average level of charity care in the year preceding application, et cetera.'

"The colloquy and the answer from Senator McDermott would suggest that the Hospital Commission is to use their good judgment and common sense to carry out the directives of the statute—precisely opposite of the clear wording of the statute. That seems to me to be the poorest possible kind of drafting of a statute and will leave the Commission in the state of confusion in attempting to now interpret what this otherwise clear language, which they now say will be good judgment and common sense to carry it out—the way the statute itself is worded. I think this is a classic example of the abuse of legislative history and I do not subscribe to it and want the record to show that there are others on the floor who do not agree with that interpretation."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4403, as amended by the Free Conference Committee.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4403, as amended by the Free Conference Committee, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 32; nays, 16; absent, 0; excused, 00.

Voting nay: Senators Barr, Benitz, Bluechel, Clarke, Craswell, Decclo, Goltz, Guess, Hayner, Kiskaddon, McCaslin, Metcalf, Newhouse, Owen, Quigg, Sellar—16.

Absent: Senator Vognild—1.

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 4403, as amended by the Free Conference Committee, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

SIGNED BY THE PRESIDENT

The President signed:
ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 4403.

MOTIONS

Senator Quigg moved that the Senate now consider Senate Bill No. 4859.

Senator Bottiger moved that the motion by Senator Quigg be laid on the table.

Senator Clarke demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.
The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the motion by Senator Bottiger to lay the motion of Senator Quigg on the table.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the motion by Senator Bottiger carried by the following vote: Yeas. 25; nays. 23; absent. 0; excused, 00.

Voting nay: Senators Barr, Benitz, Bluechel, Clarke, Craswell, Fuller, Guess, Haley, Hayner, Hemstad, Kiskaddon, Lee, McCaslin, McDonald, Metcalf, Newhouse, Patterson, Pullen, Quigg, Rasmussen, Sellar, von Reichbauer, Zimmerman - 23.

Absent: Senator Deccio - 1.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Bottiger: "Mr. President, a point of personal privilege. It's 9:30 and we have not given up getting out of here on time. I think motions to pull senate bills or to place senate bills before the calendar have got to be labeled for what they are--political maneuvers."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Pullen: "A point of personal privilege, Mr. President. The bill that Senator Bottiger was referring to has been on the calendar for four weeks. It has strong bipartisan support and one person--the tyranny of one person--has kept that bill from coming to a vote."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Your point of personal privilege applies to something personal only to you."

Senator Pullen: "Well, I'm very offended by that, Mr. President."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Talmadge: "A point of personal privilege, Mr. President. As the one who's been working on this firearms drafting, in a great amount of detail, over the last few months, this is a serious issue to say the least. We've been working with the National Rifle Association and a broad group of gun people and anti-gun people on these issues. It was generally agreed by all those people that we need to continue to work on this issue over the interim—that this bill has some problems that we need to iron out. It does not address, as Senator Quigg has pointed out, the issue of firearms in taverns and a number of other problems. We do want to continue to work on the issue and will continue to do so in the interim, but I certainly hope that we do not pollute the process that we've attempted to achieve between the gun and anti-gun groups by doing various kinds of things."

The registration files of all precincts shall be closed against original registration or transfers for thirty days immediately preceding every primary, special election, and general election (end-primary) to be held in such precincts, (respectively).

The county auditor shall give notice of the closing of (end) the precinct files for original registration and transfer and of the procedures for late registration and absentee ballots under section 12 of this act by one publication in a newspaper of general circulation in the county at least five days before such closing: ((EXCEPT AS PROVIDED FOR SPECIAL ELECTIONS IN ACCORDANCE WITH SECTION 3 OF THIS 1980 ACT)).

No person may vote at any primary, special election, or general election in any precinct polling place unless he or she has registered to vote at least thirty days prior to that primary or election. If a person, otherwise qualified to vote in the state, county, and precinct in which he or she applies for registration, does not register at least thirty days preceding any primary, special election, or general election, he or she may register and vote by absentee ballot for that primary or election under section 12 of this act.

Sec. 14. Section 29.21.060, chapter 9, Laws of 1965 as last amended by section 31, chapter 361. Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 29.21.060 are each amended to read as follows:

All candidates for offices to be voted on at any election in first, second, and third class cities and fourth class municipalities (towns) shall file declarations of candidacy with the county auditor not earlier than the (last) fourth Monday of July nor later than the next succeeding Friday in the year such regular city elections are held.
All candidates for district offices subject to the provisions of RCW 29.21.010( as now or hereafter amended) shall file their declarations of candidacy with the county auditor of the county not earlier than the (fourth) fourth Monday of July nor later than the next succeeding Friday in the year such regular district elections are held: PROVIDED. That this chapter shall not change the method of nomination for first district officers at the formation of any district.

Any candidate for city, town, or district offices may withdraw his declaration at any time to and including the first Wednesday after the last day allowed for filing declarations of candidacy.

All candidates required to file declarations of candidacy shall pay the same fees and be governed by the same rules as contained in RCW 29.18.030 through 29.18.100: PROVIDED. That no filing fee shall be charged in the event that the office sought is without a fixed annual salary.

This section shall supersede the provisions of any and all other statutes, whether general or special in nature, having different dates for filing declarations of candidacy for such city, town, and district elections, the purpose of this section being to establish a uniform five day period throughout the state of Washington for filing declarations of candidacy.

Sec. 15. Section 29.27.060, chapter 9. Laws of 1965 as last amended by section 3. chapter 4. Laws of 1977 and RCW 29.27.060 are each amended to read as follows:

When a proposed constitution or constitutional amendment or other question is to be submitted to the people of the state for state-wide popular vote, the attorney general shall prepare a concise statement posed as a question and not exceeding (twenty) fifty words containing the essential features thereof expressed in such a manner as to clearly identify the proposition to be voted upon.

Questions to be submitted to the people of a county or municipality shall also be advertised as provided for nominees for office, and in such cases there shall also be printed on the ballot a concise statement posed as a question and not exceeding (twenty) twenty-five words (in the case of a school district tax proposition) containing the essential features thereof expressed in such a manner as to clearly identify the proposition to be voted upon, which statement shall be prepared by the city attorney for the city, and by the prosecuting attorney for the county or any other political subdivision of the state, other than cities, situated in the county.

Such concise statement shall constitute the ballot title. The secretary of state shall certify to the county auditors the ballot title for a proposed constitution, constitutional amendment, or other state-wide question at the same time and in the same manner as the ballot titles to initiatives and referendums.

Sec. 16. Section 35.23.190, chapter 7. Laws of 1965 and RCW 35.23.190 are each amended to read as follows:

Before entering upon his duties and within ten days after receiving notice of his election or appointment every officer of the city shall qualify by taking the oath of office and by filing such bond duly approved as may be required of him. The oath of office shall be filed with the county auditor. If no notice of election or appointment was received, the officer must qualify on or before the date fixed for the assumption by him of the duties of the office to which he was elected or appointed. The city council shall fix the amount of all official bonds and may designate what officers shall be required to give bonds in addition to those required to do so by statute.

The clerk, treasurer, city attorney, chief of police, police judge, and street commissioner shall each execute an official bond in such penal sum as the city council by ordinance may determine, conditioned for the faithful performance of their duties, including in the same bond the duties of all officers of which he is the ex officio incumbent.

All official bonds shall be approved by the city council and when so approved shall be filed with the city clerk except the city clerk's which shall be filed with the mayor. No city officer shall be eligible as a surety upon any bond running to the city as obligee.

The city council may require a new or additional bond of any officer whenever it deems it expedient.

The oath of office shall be filed with the county auditor.

Sec. 18. Section 35.27.120, chapter 7. Laws of 1965 and RCW 35.27.120 are each amended to read as follows:

Every officer of a town before entering upon the duties of his office shall take and file with the (town clerk) county auditor his oath of office. The clerk, treasurer, and marshal before entering upon their respective duties shall each execute a bond approved by the council in such penal sum as the council by ordinance may determine, conditioned for the faithful... performance of his duties including in the same bond the duties of all offices of which he is made ex officio incumbent.

All bonds, when approved, shall be filed with the town clerk, except the bonds of the clerk which shall be filed with the mayor.

The premiums on such bonds shall be paid by the city. When the furnishing of an official bond is required of an officer or employee, compliance with such provisions shall be an essential part of qualification for office.

Senator Pullen: "A point of order. Have you ruled whether this bill is properly before us, having waived the thirty-six hour rule by virtue of the bill meeting Rule 22 of the Senate Rules?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Not definitely—no sir."
Senator Pullen: "Well, then, Mr. President, I would like to rise to the point of order that this bill is not properly before us, because the Conference Committee Report was read only a few hours ago and, therefore, we have not met the thirty-six hour rule."

REMARKS BY SENATOR BOTTIGER

Senator Bottiger: "Mr. President, the purpose of the rule is to prevent people from being forced to vote on things they have not read. That's the purpose. All rules of law are interpreted with the intent and purpose in mind. If there is any ambiguity that the intent and purpose is obvious, the ambiguities are construed in favor of action and not disaction or lack of action.

"This bill has been on your desk, Senator Pullen, since the 4th. You cannot conceivably argue you haven't had a chance to read it. The Conference Committee Reports are identical and the rule specifically says that the twenty-four hour rule does not apply if they are identical reports."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Rasmussen: "Speaking to a point of order. The time that the Free Conference was granted was at 4:20 p.m. and it was voted on again at 7:20 p.m. The rule specifically says that the Conference Committee Report can only be presented after they have the powers of Free Conference. I submit a point of order, concurred with Senator Pullen, this was not laid on the desks for twenty-four hours or laid on the desks for thirty-six hours as the rule provides. Further, the title as read does not conform to the bill. The title says it applies to hearing officers. I heard that when the Secretary of Senate read it, but the main point of order is that it has not laid the proper time after the signing of the Free Conference, Mr. President."
RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Senator Pullen and Senator Rasmussen. In response to Senator Pullen’s point of order, the President believes that your remarks carry considerable weight. However, in the absence of a clear-cut rule, the President, on this occasion, will accept the interpretation that the Report of the Free Conference Committee has been before the members for sufficient time for consideration by the members.

"I hope that those who draft the rules for the Senate and of the Joint Rules will please clarify this ambiguous situation."

MOTION

Senator Pullen moved that the rules be suspended and the following amendments to the Free Conference Committee Report to Engrossed House Bill No. 392 be adopted:

On page 4, section 3, line 17, after "public" strike "or private use"
On page 4, section 4, line 32, after "public" strike "or private use"

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Bottiger: "Mr. President, Senator Pullen is attempting, by a two-thirds vote, to amend a Joint Rule to provide an amendment. Now, Rule 11 of the Joint Rules clearly says that no Free Conference Report can be amended by a body. Now, Senator Pullen, will argue that two-thirds can and my point of order is that it will take two-thirds by both houses and it would have to be done by a Joint Resolution, Mr. President."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the motion by Senator Pullen to suspend the rules and amend the Free Conference Committee on page 4, line 17, and page 4, line 32.

REMARKS BY SENATOR PULLEN

Senator Pullen: "May I be allowed a brief explanation?"

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Bottiger: "The President has ruled that the motion to suspend the rules is not debatable. You've already debated it and you've already explained it."

Senator Pullen: "Well, I have not explained it, and the rules--"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "The President believes you have already debated it. The question is the motion by Senator Pullen to suspend the rules and adopt the amendment on page 4, line 17 and page 4, line 32."

Senator Pullen demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the motion by Senator Pullen to suspend the rules and adopt the amendments on page 4, line 17 and page 4, line 32.

Excused: Senators Patterson, Quigg - 2.

MOTION

Senator Pullen moved that the rules be suspended and the following amendments to the Free Conference Committee Report to Engrossed House Bill No. 392 be adopted:

Absent: Senators Clarke, Deccio, Newhouse, Warnke - 4.

Excused: Senator Patterson - 1.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Pullen: "A point of order. I was trying to get the floor when Senator Bottiger made his tabling motion, to point out that a motion to table is a subsidiary motion and ranks behind an instrumental motion, which includes suspension of the rules. Therefore, the incidental motion to suspend the rules, being a higher ranking motion, should have been placed and Senator Bottiger's motion to lay on the table is out of order."

REMARKS BY SENATOR BOTTIGER

Senator Bottiger: "Mr. President, Senator Pullen is obviously too late. Mr. President, I request the previous question, which is the motion to adopt the Free Conference Committee Report."

REMARKS BY SENATOR PULLEN

Senator Pullen: "I feel that a point of order would always require a ruling---"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Your point of order may be in order, but it is not quite timely."

Senator Pullen: "It is difficult to be recognized when Senator Bottiger is ruling so fast."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "The President does not believe it's difficult to be recognized, if you simply follow the outlined procedure on Rule 29."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Rasmussen: "A point of order. I believe Senator Bottiger is moving the previous question before the question has been put."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "The question is before the Senate to adopt the Report of the Free Conference Committee."

Senator Rasmussen: "Thank you, Mr. President. Could I have the floor, then?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Senator Bottiger has requested the previous question and the President has to put his motion first."

Senators Talmadge and Peterson joined in the demand for the previous question.

Senator Rasmussen demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.
The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on shall the main question be now put.

Senator Pullen demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

Absent: Senator Newhouse - 1.

REMARKS BY RASMUSSEN

Senator Rasmussen: "Mr. President, speaking against the motion to adopt, I wanted to point out in Senator Pullen's--Senator Pullen was the only one that recogntized it along with a few others that voted that way. In the bill, as it comes from the Conference Committees--'improve, maintain, manage and lease the property for public or private use, may enter contracts, borrow money and issue bonds and other obligations for such purposes.' Now, Article 8, section 7, and this part of the bill is clearly unconstitutional and Senator Pullen, who is very much interested in historic subjects, the same as I am, is trying to make the bill constitutional, which was to strike out the private part. Article 8, section 7 of the Constitution and the Supreme Court has ruled on this many, many times and they are not about to back up. 'Credit not to be loaned--no county, city or town or other municipal corporation shall hereafter give any money, or property, or loan its money or credit to or in the aid of an individual, association, company or corporation, except for the necessary support of the poor and infirm, or become directly or indirectly the owner of any stock in or bonds of any association, company or corporation.'

"Clearly, Mr. President, new section 3 and new section 4, with that provision in it—that they may buy this property and then turn it over for private use and it does not say 'it shall be private non-charitable;' it merely says 'it shall be for private use' and it can be a money-making project for the private people. This makes the legislation unconstitutional, Mr. President, and I would like to have that entered into the record, if I may."

Senators Bottiger, Conner and Shinpoch demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator McCaslin: "A point of two inquiries, Mr. President. The first question is, whether there's a question before the body."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "The question is the final passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 392, as amended by the Free Conference Committee."

Senator McCaslin: “Thank you. My second question, Rule 36, and I read, ‘The previous question shall not be put unless demanded by three Senators and it shall then be in this form—shall the main question be now put?’ And Senator Bottiger continues to move the previous question. So my question to you is, is this correct parliamentary procedure by Senator Bottiger?”

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: “That’s correct parliamentary procedure.”

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 392, as amended by the Free Conference Committee.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on final passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 392, as amended by the Free Conference Committee, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 36; nays, 12; absent, 0; excused, 0.

Debate ensued.

Senator Bottiger moved that the rules be suspended and that the Senate consider all of McDermott amendments to the striking Committee on Ways and Means amendment.

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "This will require a two-thirds majority."

March 7, 1984

Mr. President:

The House has adopted the report of the Free Conference Committee on SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 4381 and passed the bill as amended by the Free Conference Committee.

DEAN R. FOSTER, Chief Clerk

March 7, 1984

Mr. President:

Mr. Speaker:

We, of your Free Conference Committee, to whom was referred, SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 4381, revising various election laws, have had the same under consideration, and we recommend that the bill be amended as follows and that the bill as amended by the Free Conference Committee do pass:

(See amendments in Report of Conference Committee on Substitute Senate Bill No. 4381, read in earlier today)

Signed by: Senators Talmadge and Fleming; Representatives Pruitt and Fisher.

MOTION

Senator Talmadge moved that the report of the Free Conference Committee on Substitute Senate Bill No. 4381 be adopted.

MOTION

Senator Pullen moved that the rules be suspended and that the following amendment to the Free Conference Committee be adopted:

On page 13, section 12, lines 5 through 29, delete all of section 12.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Talmadge: "Mr. President, a point of parliamentary inquiry. In order to adopt this proposed suspension of the rules in order to consider this amendment, does that require a two-thirds vote?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "It requires a two-thirds vote."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Hemstad: "Mr. President, a parliamentary inquiry. The motion is apparently to suspend the rules and to adopt the amendments. It seems to me that there are two motions rolled into this. If this procedure is acceptable at all, it would be a motion to suspend the rules and to return to second reading—a procedural motion, after which there would be the opportunity to present the substantive motion. It is entirely inappropriate to have a motion that combines in a single motion the procedural motion and the substantive issue and, therefore, it seems to me, as a point of order that the motion should be required to be put to suspend the rules and return to second reading for the purpose of an amendment."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "The President thinks otherwise. The President is required to expedite the business."
Senator Pullen demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the motion by Senator Pullen to suspend the rules and to adopt the amendment to the Free Conference Committee Report.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll, and the motion by Senator Pullen failed, not receiving the constitutional two-thirds majority, by the following vote: Yeas, 20; nays, 26; absent, 03; excused, 00.

Voting yea: Senators Barr, Benitz, Bluechel, Clarke, Craswell, Fuller, Guess, Haley, Hayner, Kiskaddon, Lee, McCaslin, McDonald, Metcalf, Newhouse, Pullen, Quigg, Sellar, von Reichbauer, Zimmerman - 20.

Absent: Senators Deccio, Patterson, Rasmussen - 3.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "The President believes that this is a very unusual procedure and it becomes the duty of the presiding officer, in cases where debate and parliamentary motions are employed to create disorder and impede business, the President is going to respectfully decline any further amendments to the Free Conference Committee Reports—Rule 225, page 147 of Reed's."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Pullen: "A parliamentary inquiry. Mr. President, I was wondering if the President made that ruling prior to looking at the amendments that were offered. I believe that the amendments that have been offered, if I'm reading them all correctly, are all significant, individually, and I think the whole ruling by the President is unusual after just one amendment has been offered. I don't think the body has had a chance to see the individual significance of these other amendments yet."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "The President regrets the situation, but will stand by the ruling that was just made."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the motion to adopt the Report of the Free Conference Committee on Substitute Senate Bill No. 4381.

Absent: Senator Deccio - 1.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 4381, as amended by the Free Conference Committee.

Senators Bottiger, Peterson and Conner demanded the previous question.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Pullen: "You have ruled, in the past, that a person to prematurely move to cut off debate is out of order by virtue of stifling debate. I would argue in the case of moving for the previous question prior to allowing any debate at all would be just as out of order as a person who would try to filibuster with say--ten minutes left to go."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Senator Pullen, the President does not recall ever stating what you just said."

Senator Pullen demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on shall the main question be now put.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Clarke: "A matter of personal privilege. I would like to have the record show that I was present on the floor at approximately five minutes after midnight and I did not vote and the reason I did not vote was because, under the Constitution, it would have been illegal for me to vote after the expiration of the constitutional sixty days. I'm merely asking that that be inserted in the record."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "That is your opinion, Senator. The President sees correctly—the little hand is on twelve and the big one is on seven."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Bottiger: "Speaking on a point of personal privilege. First of all, I would like to thank everybody notwithstanding the heat of debate, the anger of maybe the last hour, for the cooperation and participation in this session. We did it in sixty days. The House has passed the budget. We passed the capital budget. We passed the bond budget. We are all free to go home. I'm sure that we can all share in the feeling that for the first time in a long, long time, the Legislature has done its business within the constitutional sixty-day period.

"I'd like the record, also, to show, however, that in the last hour we've had some problems and the heat of debate, the anger and the passion of the politics might have prevailed, but the last roll call started before 12:00—before parliamentary—oh. I think you'll find it did."

MOTION

At 12:08 a.m., on motion of Senator Bottiger, the Senate was declared to be at ease.

The President called the Senate to order at 12:27 a.m.

STATEMENT FOR THE JOURNAL

March 9, 1984

I protest the passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 4381 as having occurred past midnight on the 60th day of the session. In my opinion, this illegal and unconstitutional action renders the bill null and void. The roll call on final passage did not begin until two (2) minutes after midnight.

Mr. President:

The House adopted the report of the Free Conference Committee on SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1246 and passed the bill as amended by the Free Conference Committee.

DEAN R. FOSTER, Chief Clerk

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

March 8, 1984

Mr. President:

The House has passed SENATE BILL NO. 4422 with the following amendment:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that the agricultural industry in the state of Washington provides the foundation upon which other segments of the state's economy are based. The long-range economic well-being of the state of Washington's agricultural industry requires that agricultural water supply systems be well maintained and in efficient working order and that expansion of agricultural water supply systems be well planned in order to produce general expansion of the state's economy, create jobs, and provide local and state tax revenues.

The legislature finds that properly planned agricultural water supply projects will also provide benefits to recreation and game and fishery resources. The purpose of this chapter is to assist in the maintenance and development of this important basic industry, assist in attracting federal funds, and promote the general welfare of the citizens of the state of Washington.

It is the intent of the legislature that allocation of waters meet the criteria of the water resources act of 1971 as specified in RCW 90.54.020(2).

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. For the purpose of providing funds for capital improvements consisting of the planning, acquisition, construction, and improvement of agricultural water supply facilities within the state, the state finance committee is authorized to issue general obligation bonds of the state of Washington in the sum of forty million dollars, or so much thereof as may be required, to finance these projects and all costs incidental thereto. Bonds authorized in this section may be sold at such price as the state finance committee shall determine. No bonds authorized in this section may be offered for sale without prior legislative appropriation of the net proceeds of the sale of the bonds.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The proceeds from the sale of the bonds authorized in section 2 of this act shall be deposited in the state and local improvements revolving account—water supply facilities in the general fund and shall be used exclusively for the purposes specified in sections 1 through 8 of this act and for the payment of expenses incurred in the issuance and sale of the bonds.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. The proceeds from the sale of the bonds deposited under section 3 of this act in the state and local improvements revolving account—water supply facilities of the general fund shall be used for water supply facilities for agricultural use alone or in combination with fishery, recreational, or other beneficial uses of water, and shall be administered by the department of ecology, subject to legislative appropriation. The department of ecology shall submit a cost benefit analysis for each water supply facility project proposed to be funded in whole or in part from the proceeds of the bonds authorized in section 2 of this act. The benefit cost analysis shall be a part of the department's request for appropriation. The department of ecology may use or permit the use of any funds derived from the sale of bonds authorized in section 2 of this act to accomplish the purpose for the issuance of the bonds by direct expenditures and by grants or loans to public bodies, including grants to public bodies as matching funds in any case where federal, local, or other funds are made available on a matching basis for improvements within the purposes of sections 1 through 8 of this act. Not more than twenty-five percent of the total cost of any project may be financed by a grant unless specifically approved by the legislature.

No bond proceeds may be allocated for agricultural water supply projects within the second half of the Columbia Basin Project.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. As used in sections 1 through 8 of this act, the term "agricultural water supply facilities" means agricultural (and any associated fishery, recreational, or other beneficial use) water supply or distribution systems including but not limited to all equipment, utilities, structures, real property, and interests in and improvements on real property necessary for or incidental to the acquisition, construction, installation, or use of any such water supply or distribution system.

As used in this chapter, the term "public body" means the state of Washington or any agency, political subdivision, taxing district, or municipal or public corporation thereof; an agency of the federal government; and those Indian tribes which may constitutionally receive grants or loans from the state of Washington.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. The state general obligation bond retirement fund shall be used for the payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds authorized in section 2 of this act.

The state finance committee shall, on or before June 30th of each year, certify to the state treasurer the amount needed in the ensuing twelve months to meet the bond retirement and interest requirements. Not less than thirty days prior to the date on which any interest or principal and interest payment is due, the state treasurer shall withdraw from any general state revenues received in the state treasury and deposit in the general obligation bond retirement fund an amount equal to the amount certified by the state finance committee to be due on the payment date.

Bonds issued under section 2 of this act shall state that they are a general obligation of the state of Washington, shall pledge the full faith and credit of the state to the payment of the principal thereof and the interest thereon, and shall contain an unconditional promise to pay the principal and interest as the same shall become due.

The owner and holder of each of the bonds or the trustee for the owner and holder of any of the bonds may by mandamus or other appropriate proceeding require the transfer and payment of funds as directed in this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. The legislature may provide additional means for raising moneys for the payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds authorized in section 2 of this act, and section 6 of this act shall not be deemed to provide an exclusive method for the payment.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. The bonds authorized in section 2 of this act shall be a legal investment for all state funds or funds under state control and for all funds of any other public body.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. Sections 1 through 8 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 43 RCW."

and the same are herewith transmitted.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Hayner: "Mr. President, it has been brought to my attention that the Legislative Information System computer indicates that Substitute Senate Bill No. 4381 obtained final passage in the Senate at 11:51 on Thursday, March 8, 1984, and I have the printout.

"You will remember that Senator Clarke asked you before the roll call was taken what the time was and you indicated that it was 12:02. I would request that the President direct the appropriate legislative employee to correct the intentional or unintentional error which appeared on the computer record."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Senator Hayner, the Secretary of the Senate advises that the minute clerk's records show that at 12:02 Senator Clarke asked what time it was or what time is it. Was that your request? That will be in the official journal of the Senate."

Senator Hayner: "Mr. President, that's fine, but thereafter, the roll call was taken."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Yes, the record shows that. The tape shows that."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Bottiger: "Mr. President, would the tape also show that the President first started the roll call by calling Senator Barr's name, prior to 12:00 o'clock, when the roll call was interrupted by a demand for a Call of the Senate?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Really. traditionally. it doesn't amount to a thing. The Senate has always finished a bill that's started on before the deadline. This thing occurred a year ago; it will occur next year, and probably keep on occurring every time the Senate meets."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Bottiger, the following resolutions were adopted:

SENATE RESOLUTION 1984-188
By Senator Warnke
WHEREAS, Congress is considering imposing a per capita limit on the amount of industrial development bonds that could be issued within each state; and

REMARKS BY PRESIDENT CHERBERG

President Cherberg: "The President, in one little aside, would like to mention that Seattle First National Bank would not be in existence today if we had not followed tradition and they would not be the fiscal agents of the state."

REMARKS BY SENATOR RASMUSSEN

Senator Rasmussen: "Mr. President, I should point out that that was only because Rainier Bank refused to challenge. There was plenty of constitutional challenge there, but they did not go ahead with it."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Bottiger: "Mr. President, in my remarks earlier thanking everybody for the cooperation and the spirit, I omitted one person who probably I should thank most of all—and that's you, Sir. You have, again, been judicious. I have not always, necessarily, been on the same side when you ruled for me or 'agin' me, but your judicial candor makes me wonder why we repealed that law that would make you now eligible to be a member of the Bar Association."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Thank you very much, Senator Bottiger."

POINT OF INFORMATION

Senator Rasmussen: "I was on my way home. On the advice of Senator Bottiger, he said he didn't need my vote any more. Furthermore, he said there wouldn't be any more votes and I was quietly packing my suitcase and then I heard somebody voting. I thought I had better get down here. Could you assure me, will there be any more votes on the sixty-first day?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Cherberg: "Nothing left to vote on unless Rules was to be relieved of all of them."

Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1213

DELETION OF RCW 4.16.110(2)

Sec. 1  4.16.110 Actions limited to one year. Within one year:

(2) An action by an heir, legatee, creditor or other party interested, against an executor or administrator, for alleged misfeasance, malfeasance or mismanagement of the estate within one year from the time of final settlement, or, the time such alleged misconduct was discovered.)
Sec. 2  4.16.370  Actions against personal representatives and trustees for breach of fiduciary duty. The statute of limitations for actions against a personal representative or trustee for breach of fiduciary duties shall be as set forth in RCW 11.96.060.
7.24.040 Rights of persons interested in estates, trusts, etc. A person interested as or through an executor, administrator, trustee, guardian or other fiduciary, creditor, devisee, legatee, heir, next of kin, or coexecutor or trustee, in the administration of a trust, or of the estate of a decedent, an infant, lunatic, or insolvent, may have a declaration of rights or legal relations in respect thereto:

(2) to direct the executors, administrators or trustees to do or abstain from doing any particular act in their fiduciary capacity, or

(3) to determine any question arising in the administration of the estate or trust, including questions of construction of wills and other writings. [1935 c 113 §4, RRS §784-4.]

Comment: This section is replaced by new RCW 11.96.010.
Sec. 4 11.02.005 Definitions and use of terms. When used in this title, unless otherwise required from the context:

(1) "Personal representative" includes executor, administrator, special administrator, guardian or limited guardian, and special representative.

Comment: The addition of "special representative" picks up the new designation in RCW 11.96.170.

(2) "Net estate" refers to the real and personal property of a decedent exclusive of homestead rights, exempt property, the family allowance and enforceable claims against, and debts of, the estate.

(3) "Representation" refers to a method of determining distribution in which the takers are in unequal degrees of kinship with respect to the intestate, and is accomplished as follows: After first determining who, of those entitled to share in the estate, are in the nearest degree of kinship, the estate is divided into equal shares, the number of shares being the sum of the number of persons who survive the intestate who are in the nearest degree of kinship and the number of persons in the same degree of kinship who died before the intestate but who left issue surviving the intestate; each share of a deceased person in the nearest degree shall be divided among those of (his) the intestate's issue who survive the intestate and have no ancestor then living who is in the line of relationship between them and the intestate, those more remote in degree taking together the share which their ancestor would have taken had he or she survived the intestate. Posthumous children are considered as living at the death of their parent.

(4) "Issue" includes all the lawful lineal descendants of the ancestor and all lawfully adopted children.

(5) "Degree of kinship" means the degree of kinship as computed according to the rules of the civil law; that is, by counting upward from the intestate to the nearest common ancestor and then downward to the relative, the degree of kinship being the sum of these two counts.

(6) "Heirs" denotes those persons, including the surviving spouse, who are entitled under the statutes of intestate succession to the real and personal property of a decedent on the decedent's death intestate.

(7) "Real estate" includes, except as otherwise specifically provided herein, all lands, tenements, and hereditaments, and all rights thereto, and all interest therein possessed and claimed in fee simple, or for the life of a third person.

(8) "Will" means an instrument validly executed as required by RCW 11.12.020 and includes all codicils.

Comment: This change is to assure that all references to "wills" in this statute mean validly executed wills.

(9) "Codicil" means an instrument that is validly executed in the manner provided by this title for a will and that which refers to an existing will for the purpose of altering or changing the same, and which need not be attached thereto.
Comment: This change was to add "validly" to parallel the change in subsection (8).

(10) "Guardian" or "limited guardian" means a personal representative of the person or estate of an incompetent or disabled person as defined in RCW 11.88.010 and the term may be used in lieu of "personal representative" wherever required by context.

(11) "Administrator" means a personal representative of the estate of a decedent and the term may be used in lieu of "personal representative" wherever required by context.

(12) "Executor" means a personal representative of the estate of a decedent appointed by will and the term may be used in lieu of "personal representative" wherever required by context.

(13) "Special administrator" means a personal representative of the estate of a decedent appointed for limited purposes and the term may be used in lieu of "personal representative" wherever required by context.

(14) "Trustee" means an original, added, or successor trustee and includes the state, or any agency thereof, when it is acting as the trustee of a trust to which Chapter 11.98 RCW applies.

(15) Words that import the singular number only, may also be applied to the plural of persons and things.

(16) Words importing the masculine gender only may be extended to females also. (1977 ex.s. c 80 Chap. 14; 1975 '76 2nd ex.s.c 42 Chap. 23; 1965 c 145 Chap. 11.02.005. Former RCW Sections: Subd. (3), RCW 11.04.110; subd. (4), RCW 11.04.010; subd. (5), RCW 11.04.100; subd. (6), RCW 11.04.280; subd. (7), RCW 11.04.010; subd. (8) and (9), RCW 11.12.240; subd. (14) and (15), RCW 11.102.040).

Comment: Renumbering required by inclusion of new Section (14).

Comment: Removed now in RCW 11.96.070 Sec. 5 11.12.250 [Devises or bequests] Gifts by Will to trusts. A [devises or bequests] gift may be made by a will to a trustee [or trustees] of a trust [created] executed by [the testator and/or some other person or persons] any trustor or testator (including a funded or unfunded life insurance trust, although the trustor has reserved any or all rights of ownership of the insurance contracts) [established by written instrument executed before or concurrently with the execution of such will] if (a) the trust is identified in the testator's will and (b) its terms are evidenced either (i) in a written instrument (other than a will) executed by the trustor prior to or concurrently with the execution of the testator's will or (ii) in the will of a person who has predeceased the testator, regardless of when executed. The existence, size, or character of the corpus of the trust is immaterial to the validity of the gift. Such [devises or bequests] gift shall not be invalid because the trust is amendable or revocable, or both, or because the trust was amended after the execution of the testator's will or after the testator's death. Unless the will provides otherwise, the property so [devises or bequeathed] given shall not be deemed to be held under a testamentary trust of the testator but shall become a part of the trust to which it is given to be administered and disposed of in accordance with the [provisions] terms of the instrument establishing such the trust, including any amendments thereto, made prior to the death of the testator, and regardless of whether made before or after the execution of the will. Unless the will provides otherwise, an express [entire] revocation of the trust prior to the testator's death shall invalidates the [devise [or] bequest] gift. Any termination of the trust other than by express revocation does not invalidate the gift. For purposes of this section, the term "gift" includes an exercise of any testamentary power of appointment. [1965 c 145 §11.12.250.]
Prior: 1959 c 116 §1.]

Comment: This revised statute is based on both the Uniform Probate Code and Uniform Testamentary Additions to Trust Act.
The revised statute allows "pour-overs" from the testamentary estate to an unfunded trust. The reason for these changes is to protect "pour-overs" when the lawyer failed to use the technique of incorporating the terms of a trust by incorporation by reference. (See RCW 11.12.255.)

Changing the phrase "trust executed by any testator" clarifies the moment of execution and eliminates the signature of the trustee as the moment of execution.

Sec. § 11.12.255 [New Section] Incorporation by reference. A will may incorporate by reference any writing in existence when the will is executed if the will itself manifests the testator's intent to incorporate the writing and describes the writing sufficiently to permit its identification. In the case of any inconsistency between the writing and the will, the will shall control.
Comment: This section is intended to codify the requirements for incorporation by reference as discussed in Baarslag v. Hawkins, 12 Wn. App. 756; 531 P.2d 1283 (1975); except the requirement that the will itself refer to the writing to be incorporated "as being in existence" has been omitted. The committee felt that this requirement was vague and served little, if any, useful purpose. Thus, incorporation by reference is accomplished if the will shows the testator's intent to make the incorporation and sufficiently identifies the writing to be incorporated for purposes of identification. The statute requires the writing to be in existence in fact at the time the will is executed, which is consistent with Baarslag v. Hawkins. See RCW 11.12.260 for different rules applying to incorporation of writings dealing with tangible personal property.

Sec. 7 11.12.260 [New section] Separate Writing Identifies Bequest of Tangible Personalty. (1) A will may refer to a writing that directs disposition of tangible personal property not otherwise specifically disposed of by the will, other than property used primarily in trade or business. Such a writing shall not be effective unless: (a) an unrevoked will refers to such writing, (b) the writing is either in the handwriting of, or signed by, the testator, and (c) the writing describes the items and the recipients of the property with reasonable certainty.

(2) The writing may be written or signed before or after the execution of the will and need not have significance apart from its effect upon the dispositions of property made by the will. A writing that meets the requirements of this section shall be given effect as if it were actually contained in the will itself, except, that if any person designated to receive property in the writing dies before the testator, the property shall pass as further directed in the writing and in the absence of any further directions, the disposition shall lapse and RCW 11.12.110 shall not apply to such lapse.

(3) The testator may make subsequent handwritten or signed changes to any writing. If there is an inconsistent disposition of tangible personal property as between writings, the most recent shall control.

(4) As used in this section "tangible personal property" means articles of personal or household use or ornament, for example, furniture, furnishings, automobiles, boats, airplanes, and jewelry, as well as precious metal in any tangible form, for example, bullion or coins. The term includes articles even if held for investment purposes and encompasses tangible property that is not real property. The term does not include mobile homes or intangible property, for example, money that is normal currency or normal legal tender, evidences of indebtedness, bank accounts or other monetary deposits, documents of title, or securities.

Comment: This section is patterned after Section 2-513 of the Uniform Probate Code. It is designed to apply clearly, however, to all tangible personal property (even if held as an investment), except property primarily used in a trade or business. The committee felt the statute should apply as broadly as possible, with the exception that property primarily used in a trade or business should require disposition by will. In spite of changes from Section 2-513 of the Uniform Probate Code, "tangible personal property" is intended to have its usual meaning. That is, the term does not include intangibles such as money that is normal currency or normal legal tender, evidences of indebtedness, bank accounts or other monetary deposits, documents of title, or securities. The term is, however, intended to include precious metals in any tangible form, including bullion or coins.

The section applies only if a will has been made, thus initially providing the protections of the formalities of making a testamentary disposition. Like UPC Section 2-513, it does not require that the writing be dated, although the writing must be either in the handwriting of or signed by the testator. The committee felt that requiring a writing to be dated would result in many attempts to utilize the procedure not being validly completed and that the handwriting or signature requirement was sufficient to provide evidence of the writing's authenticity. Of course, a writing may be dated and such a date would be evidence of the time the writing was prepared. In any dispute over the time at which a writing has been prepared, the issue would be determined in court based on all relevant evidence.
The section also provides that if a person named to receive property in a writing has died before the testator, the item of property passes under the testator's will unless an alternate disposition is made in the writing itself. The committee felt this result would be the one most testators would want.

Finally, the section provides for the validity of more than one writing, with the only limitation being that the most recent writing shall control as to inconsistent dispositions in the writings, but a will specifically disposing of property will always control.
11.16.050 Venue—Wills shall be proved and letters testamentary or of administration shall be granted:

(1) In the county of which deceased was a resident at the time of his death.

(2) In the county in which he may have died, or in which any part of his estate may be, he not being a resident of the state.

(3) In the county in which any part of his estate may be, he having died out of the state, and not having been a resident thereof at the time of his death. (1967 c 166 § 1; 1965 c 145 § 11.16.050. Prior: 1917 c 156 § 6, RRS § 1376, prior: Code 1881 § 1348, 1863 p 220 § 76, 1860 p 173 § 43.)

Comment: Revoked, See RCW 11.96.030.

(12) Petition to reopen an estate.

If upon the hearing it shall appear to the satisfaction of the court that the said the notice has been regularly given, any distribution or payment of fees and the court shall so find in its any order or judgment made in accord therewith and such judgment shall be final and conclusive. [1965 c 145 §11.28.240. Prior: 1941 c 206 §1; 1939 c 132 §1; 1917 c 156 §64; Rem. Supp. 1941 §1434.]

Comment: These changes were made to include judicial proceedings under chapter 11.96, distributions of estate assets (other than distributions in satisfaction of specific bequests or legacies of specific dollar amounts), and the payment of fees amongst the proceedings subject to the special notice requirements of this section.
Sec. 9 11.36.021 Trustees.

(a) The following may serve as trustees:

(i) Any suitable persons over the age of eighteen years, if not otherwise disqualified;

(ii) Any trust company regularly organized under the laws of this state and national banks when authorized to do so;

(iii) Any nonprofit corporation, if the articles of incorporation or bylaws of that corporation permit the action and the corporation is in compliance with all applicable provisions of Title 24 RCW;

(iv) Any professional service corporations regularly organized under the laws of this state whose shareholder or shareholders are exclusively attorneys; and

(v) Any other entity so authorized under the laws of the state of Washington.

(b) The following are disqualified to serve as trustees:

(i) Minors, persons of unsound mind, or persons who have been convicted of any felony or a misdemeanor involving moral turpitude;

(ii) A corporation organized under Title 23A RCW that is not authorized under the laws of the state of Washington to act as a fiduciary.
Sec. 10 11.68.090 Powers of personal representative under with nonintervention will powers - Scope - Presumption of necessity. Any personal representative acting under nonintervention powers (the) may borrow money on the general credit of the estate and may mortgage, encumber, lease, sell, exchange, (and) convey (the real and personal property of the decedent, and borrow money on the general credit of the estate,) and otherwise do anything a trustee may do under Chapters 11.98, 11.100 and 11.102 RCW with regard to the assets of the estate, both real and personal, all without an order of the court (that) and without notice, approval, or confirmation, and in all other respects administer and settle the estate of the decedent without intervention of court. Any (other) party to any such transaction and his successors in interest shall be entitled to have it conclusively presumed that such transaction is necessary for the administration of the decedent's estate.

Comment: This change removes any doubt as to whether the nonintervention personal representative's fiduciary powers are more restrictive than the fiduciary powers of a trustee. As changed, the nonintervention personal representative has the same powers as a trustee in the administration of the estate.
Sec. 11 11.68.110 Declaration of completion of probate - Contents - Filing - Form - Notice - Waiver of notice. If a personal representative who has acquired nonintervention powers shall not apply to the court for either of the final decrees provided for in RCW 11.68.100 as now or hereafter amended, the personal representative shall, when the administration of the estate has been completed, file a declaration to that effect, which declaration shall state as follows:

1. The date of the decedent's death, and his residence at the time of death, whether or not the decedent died testate or intestate, and if testate, the date of his last will and testament and the date of the order admitting the will to probate;

2. That each creditor's claim which was justly due and properly presented as required by law has been paid or otherwise disposed of by agreement with the creditor, and that the amount of state inheritance and federal estate tax due as the result of the decedent's death has been determined, settled, and paid;

3. The personal representative has completed the administration of the decedent's estate without court intervention, and the estate is ready to be closed;

4. If the decedent died intestate, the names, addresses (if known), and relationship of each heir of the decedent, together with the distributive share of each said heir; and

5. The amount of fees paid or to be paid to each of the following: (a) Personal representative or representatives, (b) attorney lawyer or attorneys lawyers, (c) appraiser or appraisers, and (d) accountant or accountants; and that the personal representative believes the fees to be reasonable and does not intend to obtain court approval of the amount of said fees or to submit an estate accounting to the court for approval.

Subject to the requirement of notice as provided in this section, unless an heir, devisee, or legatee of a decedent shall petition the court either for an order requiring the personal representative to obtain court approval of the amount of fees paid or to be paid to the personal representative, his attorneys lawyers, appraisers, or accountants, or for an order requiring an accounting, or both, within thirty days from the date of filing a declaration of completion of probate, the personal representative will be automatically discharged without further order of the court and his powers will cease thirty days after the filing of said declaration of completion of probate, and said declaration of completion of probate shall, at said time, be the equivalent of the entry of a decree of distribution in accordance with the provisions of chapter 11.76 RCW for all legal intents and purposes.

Within five days of the date of the filing of the declaration of completion, the personal representative or his attorney shall mail a copy of said declaration of completion to each heir, legatee, or devisee of the decedent (who has not waived notice of said filing, in writing, filed, in the cause) together with a notice which shall be substantially as follows:

CAPTION OF CASE

NOTICE OF FILING OF DECLARATION OF COMPLETION OF PROBATE

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the attached Declaration of Completion of Probate was filed by the undersigned in the above-entitled court on the ___ day of __________________, 19__; unless you shall file a petition in the above-entitled court requesting the court to approve the reasonableness of said the fees, or for an accounting, or both, and serve a copy thereof upon the personal representative or his attorney or her lawyer, within thirty days after the date of the said filing, the amount of fees paid or to be paid will be deemed reasonable, the acts of the personal representative will be deemed approved, and the personal representative will be automatically discharged without further order of the court, and the Declaration of Completion of Probate will be final and deemed the equivalent of a Decree of Distribution entered under chapter 11.76 RCW.

If you file and serve a petition within the period specified, the undersigned will request the court to fix a time and place for the hearing of said your petition, and you will be notified of the time and place thereof, by mail, or personal service, not less than ten days before the hearing on said the petition.
Dated this ___ day of _______________, 19___.

Personal Representative

If all heirs, devisees, and legatees of the decedent shall waive, in writing, the notice required by this section, the personal representative shall be automatically discharged without further order of the court and the declaration of completion of probate will become effective as a decree of distribution upon the date of filing thereof. In those instances where the personal representative has been required to furnish bond, and a declaration of completion has been filed pursuant to this section, any bond furnished by the personal representative shall be automatically discharged upon the discharge of the personal representative. [1977 ex.s. c 234 §26; 1974 ex.s. c 117 §23.]

Comment: Amendments to this section simply clarify that the personal representative is automatically discharged in 30 days if no person objects to the Declaration of Completion.
Sec. 12  11.92.040 Duties of guardian or limited guardian in general. It shall be the duty of the guardian or limited guardian:

(1) To make out and file within three months after his or her appointment a verified inventory of all the property of the incompetent or disabled person which comes to his or her possession or knowledge, including a statement of all encumbrances, liens, and other secured charges on any item;

(2) To file annually, within thirty days after the anniversary date of the guardian's or limited guardian's appointment, and also within thirty days after termination of the appointment, a written verified account of the administration: PROVIDED, That the court in its discretion may allow reports at intervals of up to thirty-six months, with instruction to the guardian or limited guardian that any substantial increase in income or assets or substantial change in the incompetent's or disabled person's condition shall be reported within thirty days of the substantial increase or change;

(3) Consistent with the powers granted by the court, if he or she is a guardian or limited guardian of the person, to care for and maintain the incompetent or disabled person, assert his or her rights and best interests, and provide timely, informed consent to necessary medical procedures, and if the incompetent or disabled person is a minor, to see that the incompetent or disabled person is properly trained and educated and that the incompetent or disabled person has the opportunity to learn a trade, occupation, or profession. As provided in RCW 11.88.125 as now or hereafter amended, the standby guardian may provide timely, informed consent to necessary medical procedures if the guardian or limited guardian cannot be located within four hours after the need for such consent arises. The guardian or limited guardian of the person may be required to report the condition of his or her incompetent or disabled person to the court, at regular intervals or otherwise as the court may direct: PROVIDED, That no guardian, limited guardian, or standby guardian may involuntarily commit for mental health treatment, observation, or evaluation an alleged incompetent or disabled person who is, himself or herself, unable or unwilling to give informed consent to such commitment unless the procedures for involuntary commitment set forth in chapters 71.05 or 72.23 RCW are followed: PROVIDED FURTHER, That nothing in this section shall be construed to allow a guardian, limited guardian, or standby guardian to consent to:

(a) Therapy or other procedure which induces convulsion;

(b) Surgery solely for the purpose of psychosurgery;

(c) Amputation;

(d) Other psychiatric or mental health procedures which are intrusive on the person's body integrity, physical freedom of movement, or the rights set forth in RCW 71.05.370.
A guardian, limited guardian, or standby guardian who believes such procedures to be necessary for the proper care and maintenance of the incompetent or disabled person shall petition the court for an order unless the court has previously approved (such) that procedure within thirty days immediately past. The court may make such order only after an attorney is appointed in accordance with RCW 11.88.045, as now or hereafter amended, if none has heretofor appeared, notice is given, and a hearing is held in accordance with RCW 11.88.040, as now or hereafter amended;

(4) If he or she is a guardian or limited guardian of the estate, to protect and preserve it, to apply it as provided in this chapter, to account for it faithfully, to perform all of the duties required (of him) by law, and at the termination of the guardianship or limited guardianship, to deliver the assets of the incompetent or disabled person to the persons entitled thereto. Except as provided to the contrary herein, the court may authorize a guardian or limited guardian to do anything that a trustee can do under the provisions of RCW (38.99.070) 11.98.070 for a period not exceeding one year from the date of the order or for a period corresponding to the interval in which the guardian's or limited guardian's report is required to be filed by the court pursuant to subsection (2) of this section, whichever period is longer;

(5) To invest and reinvest the property of the incompetent or disabled person in accordance with the rules applicable to investment of trust estates by trustees as provided in chapter (38.24) 11.100 RCW, except that:

(a) No investments shall be made without prior order of the court in any property other than unconditional interest bearing obligations of this state or of the United States and in obligations the interest and principal of which are unconditionally guaranteed by the United States, and in share accounts or deposits which are insured by an agency of the United States government. Such prior order of the court may authorize specific investments, or, in the discretion of the court, may authorize the guardian or limited guardian during a period not exceeding one year following the date of the order or for a period corresponding to the interval in which the guardian's or limited guardian's report is required to be filed by the court pursuant to subsection (2) of this section, whichever period is longer, to invest and reinvest as provided in chapter (38.24) 11.100 RCW without further order of the court;

(b) If it is for the best interests of the incompetent or disabled person that a specific property be used by the incompetent or disabled person rather than sold and the proceeds invested, the court may so order:

(6) To apply to the court for an order authorizing any disbursement on behalf of the incompetent or disabled person: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That the guardian or limited guardian of the estate, or the person, department, bureau, agency, or charitable organization having the care and custody of an incompetent or disabled person, may apply to the court for an order directing the guardian or limited guardian of the estate to pay to the person, department, bureau, agency, or charitable organization having the care and custody of an incompetent or disabled person, or if the guardian or limited guardian of the estate has the care and custody of the incompetent or disabled person, directing the guardian or limited guardian of the estate to apply an amount weekly, monthly, quarterly, semi-annually, or annually, as the court may direct, to be expended in the care, maintenance, and education of the incompetent or disabled person and of his or her dependents. In proper cases, the court may order payment of amounts directly to the incompetent or disabled person for his or her maintenance or incidental expenses. The amounts authorized under this section may be decreased or increased from time to time by direction of the court. If payments are made to another under (sweh) an order of the court, the guardian or limited guardian of the estate is not bound to see to the application thereof.

Comment: revised by Code revisor's office.
Sec. 13 11.92.140 Gifts from Guardianship Funds. The court, upon the petition of a guardian of the estate of an incompetent or disabled person (collectively hereafter referred to in this section as "incompetent"), other than the guardian of a minor, and after such notice as the court directs and other notice to all persons interested as required by Chapter 11.96 RCW, may authorize the guardian to take any action, or to apply funds not required for the incompetent's own maintenance and support, in any fashion the court approves as being in keeping with the incompetent's wishes so far as they can be ascertained and as designed to minimize insofar as possible current or prospective state or federal income and estate taxes, and to provide for gifts to such charities, relatives and friends as would be likely recipients of donations from the incompetent.

The action or application of funds may include but shall not be limited to the making of gifts, to the conveyance or release of the incompetent's contingent and expectant interests in property including marital property rights and any right of survivorship incident to joint tenancy or tenancy by the entirety, to the exercise or release of the incompetent's powers as donee of a power of appointment, the making of contracts, the creation of revocable or irrevocable trusts of property of the incompetent's estate which may extend beyond the incompetent's disability or life, the exercise of options of the incompetent to purchase securities or other property, the exercise of the incompetent's right to elect options and to change beneficiaries under insurance and annuity policies, and the surrendering of policies for their cash value, the exercise of the incompetent's right to any elective share in the estate of the incompetent's deceased spouse, and the renunciation or disclaimer of any interest acquired by testate or intestate succession or by inter-vivos transfer.

The guardian in the petition shall briefly outline the action or application of funds for which approval is sought, the results expected to be accomplished thereby and the tax savings expected to accrue. The proposed action or application of funds may include gifts of the incompetent's personal or real property. Gifts may be for the benefit of prospective legatees, devisees or heirs apparent of the incompetent or may be made to individuals or charities in which the incompetent is believed to have an interest. Gifts may or may not, in the discretion of the court, be treated as advancements to donees who would otherwise inherit property from the incompetent under the incompetent's will or under the laws of descent and distribution. The guardian shall also indicate in the petition that any planned disposition is consistent with the intentions of the incompetent insofar as they can be ascertained, and if the incompetent's intentions cannot be ascertained, the incompetent will be presumed to favor reduction in the incidence of the various forms of taxation and the partial distribution of the incompetent's estate as provided in this section. The guardian shall not, however, be required to include as a beneficiary any person whom there is reason to believe would be excluded by the incompetent.

No guardian may be required to file a petition as provided in this section, and a failure or refusal to so petition the court does not constitute a breach of the guardian's fiduciary duties.

Comment: This statute is modeled after a 1982 Rhode Island statute. Similar, but less specific authority for making gifts from incompetent's estates is found in Section 5-408 of the Uniform Probate Code. At this time, 32 states have either adopted the Uniform Probate Code or have statutes which specifically authorize gifts from guardianships for reasons other than support. Adding to these states the number of states which have adopted the doctrine of substituted judgment in their common law clearly shows that the doctrine of substituted judgment is the majority rule in the United States today.

Sec. 14 11.92.150 Request for special notice of proceedings. At any time after the issuance of letters of guardianship in the estate of any incompetent or disabled person, any person interested in such the estate, or in such the incompetent or disabled person, or any relative of such the incompetent or disabled person, or any authorized representative of any agency, bureau, or department of the United States government from or through which any compensation, insurance, pension or other benefit is being paid, or is payable, may serve upon such the guardian or limited guardian, and file with the clerk of the court in which wherein the administration of such the guardianship or limited guardianship estate is pending, a written request stating that special notice is desired of any or all of the following matters, steps or proceedings in the administration of such estate:

(1) Filing of petition for sales, exchanges, leases, mortgages, or grants of easements, licenses or similar interests in any property of the estate.

(2) Filing of all intermediate or final accountings or accountings of any nature whatsoever.

(3) Petitions by the guardian or limited guardian for family allowances or allowances for the incompetent or disabled person or any other allowance of every nature from the funds of the estate.

(4) Petition for the investment of the funds of the estate.

(5) Petition to terminate guardianship or limited guardianship or petition for adjudication of competency.

(6) Petition for judicial proceedings under chapter 11.96
RCW.

Such the request for special written notice shall designate the name, address and post office address of the person upon whom such the notice is to be served and no service shall be required under this section and RCW 11.96.160 as now or hereafter amended other than in accordance with such the designation unless and until a new designation shall have been made.
When any account, petition, or proceeding is filed in such the estate of which special written notice is requested as herein provided, the court shall fix a time for hearing thereon which shall allow at least ten days for service of such the notice before such the hearing; and notice of such the hearing shall be served upon the person designated in such written request at least ten days before the date fixed for such the hearing. The service may be made by leaving a copy with the person designated, or his or her authorized representative, or by mailing through the United States mail, with postage prepaid to the person and place designated. [1975 1st ex.s. c 96, §30; 1969 c 18 §1; 1965 c 145 §11.92.150. Prior: 1925 ex.s. c 104 §1; RRS §1586-1.]

Comment: This is a housekeeping change to include judicial proceedings under chapter 11.96 in the list of requested notices.

Sec. 16  11.93.010 Definitions. In this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) An "adult" is a person who has attained the age of eighteen years.

Comment: This change is designed to make gifts to minors under Washington law parallel to federal tax law.

(1) A "bank" is a bank, trust company, national banking association, or mutual savings bank.

(2) A "broker" is a person lawfully engaged in the business of effecting transactions in securities for the account of others. The term includes a bank which effects such transactions. The term also includes a person lawfully engaged in buying and selling securities for his or her own account, through a broker or otherwise, as a part of a regular business.

(3) "Court" means the superior courts of the state of Washington.

(4) The "custodial property" includes:

(a) Any property transferred to all securities, life insurance policies, annuity contracts and money under the supervision of the same custodian for the same minor as a consequence of a gift or gifts made to the minor in a manner prescribed in this chapter.

(b) the income from the custodial property; and

(c) the proceeds, immediate and remote, from the sale, exchange, conversion, investment, reinvestment, surrender or other disposition of such custodial property. Securities, money, life insurance policies, annuity contracts and income.

(5) A "custodian" is a person who is eighteen years or older and is so designated as custodian in a manner prescribed in this chapter; the term includes a successor custodian.

Comment: This change allows a person eighteen or older to be a custodian, even though the new changes to RCW 11.93.040(4) require the custodianship to continue to age twenty-one.

(6) A "financial institution" is a bank, a federal savings and loan association, a savings institution chartered and supervised as a savings and loan or similar institution under federal law or the laws of a state or a federal credit union or credit union chartered and supervised under the laws of a state; and "insured financial institution" is one, deposits (including a savings, share, certificate or deposit account) in which are, in whole or in part, insured by the federal deposit insurance corporation, or by the federal savings and loan insurance corporation, or by a deposit insurance fund approved by this state.

(7) A "guardian" of a minor means the general guardian, guardian, tutor or curator of the minor's property, or estate appointed or qualified by a court of this state or another state.

(8) An "issuer" is a person who places or authorizes the placing of his or her name on a security (other than as a transfer agent) to evidence that it represents a share, participation or other interest in his or her property or in an enterprise or to evidence his or her duty or undertaking to perform an obligation evidenced by the security, or who becomes responsible for or in place of any such person.

(9) A "legal representative" of a person is his or her personal representative, executor or the administrator, general guardian, guardian, committee, conservator, tutor or curator of his or her property or estate.

Comment: "Personal representative" was added to parallel RCW 11.02.005(1).

(10) A "life insurance policy or annuity contract" means a life insurance policy or annuity contract issued by an insurance company authorized to do business in this state on the life of a minor to whom a gift of the policy or contract is made in the manner prescribed in this chapter or on the life of a member of the minor's family.

(11) A "member" of a "minor's family" means any of the minor's parents, grandparents, brothers, sisters, uncles and aunts, whether of the whole blood or the half blood, or by or through legal adoption, a step parent or person who has raised a child without the formality of a guardianship or a close family friend.

Comment: This change is to increase the class of permitted successor custodians under RCW 11.93.020.

(12) A "minor" is a person who has not attained the age of eighteen twenty-one years.
Comment: This change is designed to make gifts to minors under Washington law parallel to federal tax law.

(13) A "security" includes any note, stock, treasury stock, bond, debenture, evidence of indebtedness, certificate of interest or participation in an oil, gas or mining title or lease or in payments out of production under such a title or lease, any interest in a general or limited partnership, collateral trust certificate, transferable share, voting trust certificate, or, in general, any interest or instrument commonly known as a security, or any certificate of interest or participation in, any temporary or interim certificate, receipt or certificate of deposit for, or any warrant or right to subscribe to or purchase, any of the foregoing. The term does not include a security of which the donor is the issuer. A security is in "registered form" when it specifies a person entitled to it or to the rights it evidences and its transfer may be registered upon books maintained for that purpose by or on behalf of the issuer.

Comment: The additional language in this section specifies that partnership interests may be the subject of gifts to minors under this chapter.

(14) A "transfer agent" is a person who acts as authenticating trustee, transfer agent, registrar or other agent for an issuer in the registration of transfers of its securities or in the issue of new securities or in the cancellation of surrendered securities.
(15) A "trust company" is a bank or corporation organized under the laws of the State of Washington which is authorized to engage in trust business.

(16) A "real property interest" includes any note, mortgage, contract to purchase or sell real property, option to purchase or to sell real property, deed evidencing any title to or interest in real property, or, in general, any interest or instrument commonly recognized as evidencing or purporting to evidence an interest in real property, however minimal. The term does not include a "security" within the definition set forth in subsection (12).

Comment: This chapter was formerly RCW Chapter 21.24 Uniform Gifts to Minor Act and RCW Chapter 21.25 Gifts of Realty to Minors Act. The latter chapter (RCW Chapter 21.25) has been eliminated as unnecessary and now RCW 11.93 provides for gifts of personal property and real property to a minor. The age of majority for RCW 11.93 has been returned to twenty-one to parallel federal tax law.
Sec. 17 11.93.020 Manner of Making Gift. (1) An adult person who is eighteen years or older may, outright or by a trust agreement executed during his or her lifetime or by will testamentary disposition, make or provide for a gift of tangible or intangible personal property, including securities, money, life insurance policies, annuity contracts, or real property interests or security or money or a life insurance policy or annuity contract or—money to a person who is a minor on the date of the gift or distribution:

(a) If the subject of the gift is a security in registered form, by registering it in the name of the donor, another adult person who is eighteen years or older or a trust company, followed, in substance, by the words: "as custodian for (name of minor) under the Washington Uniform Gifts to Minors Act."

(b) If the subject of the gift is a security not in registered form, by delivering it to an adult person who is eighteen years or older other than the donor or a trust company, accompanied by a statement of gift in the following form, in substance, signed by the donor and the person designated as custodian:

"GIFTS UNDER THE WASHINGTON UNIFORM GIFTS TO MINORS ACT

I, (name of donor) hereby deliver to (name of custodian) as custodian for (name of minor) under the Washington Uniform Gifts to Minors Act, the following security(ies) property: (Insert an appropriate description of the tangible or intangible property)" security or securities delivered sufficient to identify it or them).

Dated: ____________________  (Signature of donor)

(Name of custodian) hereby acknowledges receipt of the above described security(ies) property as custodian for the above minor under the Washington Uniform Gifts to Minors Act.

Dated: ____________________  (Signature of custodian)

(c) If the subject of the gift is money, by paying or delivering it to a broker or domestic financial institution for credit to an account in the name of the donor, another adult person who is eighteen years or older or a trust company, followed, in substance, by the words: "as custodian for (name of minor) under the Washington Uniform Gifts to Minors Act."

(d) If the subject of the gift is a real property interest, and constitutes a recordable interest or charge in or against real property in the records of the county auditor or recorder, by registering it in the name of the donor, another person who is eighteen years or older or a trust company, followed, in substance, by the words: "as custodian for (name of minor) under the Washington Uniform Gifts to Minors Act."

Comment: Formerly RCW 21.25.020.

(e) If the subject of the gift is a life insurance policy or annuity contract, by causing the ownership of the policy or contract to be registered with the issuing insurance company in the name of the donor, another adult person who is eighteen years or older, or a trust company, followed, in substance, by the words: "as custodian for (name of minor) under the Washington Uniform Gifts to Minors Act."

(f) If the gift is by will or as a distribution pursuant to a trust agreement, by the legal representative or trustee delivering the subject of the gift to the person, who is eighteen years or older, or a trust company designated by the decedent or settlor to serve as custodian for the minor under the Washington Uniform Gifts to Minors Act or similar Uniform Act of the domicile of the designated custodian and causing the subject of such gift to be registered in the name of that custodian, followed, in substance, by the words: "as custodian for (name of minor) under the Washington (or, alternatively, state of the custodian's domicile) Uniform Gifts to Minor's Act." If the decedent or settlor fails to designate a specific custodian or if the designated custodian dies or is unable or unwilling to serve, the legal representative, with the approval of the court having jurisdiction over the decedent's estate, or the trustee may designate a member of the minor's family, who is eighteen years or older, a guardian of the minor, or a trust company as custodian. The legal representative or trustee may designate himself or herself as custodian, provided he or she falls within the class of persons or entities described in the foregoing sentence. The receipt of the custodian shall constitute a sufficient release and discharge of further accountability by the legal representative or trustee for the gift and acceptance of the custodianship by the custodian.

Comment: This section confirms that a decedent or settlor has the right to direct distribution of property in a will or trust to a minor in the form of a gift under this chapter.

(2) Each gift made in a manner prescribed in subsection (1) may be made to only one minor and only one person may be a custodian.

(3) A donor who makes a gift to a minor in a manner prescribed in subsection (1) shall promptly do all things within his or her power to put the subject of the gift in the possession and control of the custodian, but neither the donor's failure to comply with this subsection, nor his or her designation of an ineligible person as custodian, nor renunciation by the person designated as custodian affects the consummation of the gift.

(4) The legal representative of an estate to whom a certificate of qualification, or letters testamentary or of administration are issued may, with the approval of the court having jurisdiction over the decedent's estate, or the trustee of a trust of which a minor is a distributee or beneficiary may pay or transfer to a custodian for the minor under this Act or a similar Uniform Act of the jurisdiction in which the minor may be domiciled, in the form and manner prescribed in paragraphs (a) through (e) of subsection (l) or comparable provisions of the Uniform Act of the other jurisdiction, any money, security or other property qualifying for custodial gifts which is distributable to the minor. The legal representative or trustee may make distribution in this manner if the legal representative or the trustee deems it to be in the best interests of the minor, except where the decedent, settlor or court authorizing the distribution has expressly directed that distribution of the property due such minor shall not be made in the manner provided for in this subsection. The legal representative, with the approval of the court having jurisdiction over the decedent's estate, or the trustee shall designate a member of the minor's family, who is eighteen years or older, a guardian of the minor, or a trust company as custodian. The legal representative or trustee may designate himself or herself as custodian, provided he or she falls within the class of persons or entities described in the prior sentence. The provisions of this Chapter shall govern the custodianship in the same manner as though the legal representative or trustee were the donor. The receipt of the custodian shall constitute a sufficient release of the transferor and discharge of further accountability by the legal representative or trustee for the property distributed and acceptance of the custodianship by the custodian.

Comment: This section gives a personal representative or trustee the right to direct distribution of property due a minor in the form of a gift under this chapter, even if the controlling instrument does not expressly so empower the personal representative or trustee.
(5) Only property that could be the subject of a lifetime gift pursuant to this Chapter may be distributed under subsections (1)(f) and (4) of this section.

(6) This section is applicable to gifts made before or after the effective date of this 1984 Act and regardless of whether the persons who made the gifts are alive on that date.

Sec. 18 11.93.030 Effect of gift. (1) A gift made in a manner prescribed in this chapter is irrevocable and conveys to the minor indefeasibly vested legal title to the security, real property, life insurance policy, annuity contract or money given, but no guardian of the minor has any right, power, duty or authority with respect to the custodial property except as provided in this chapter.

Comment: To add real estate from former RCW Chapter 21.25.

(2) By making a gift in a manner prescribed in this chapter, the donor incorporates into the gift all the provisions of this chapter and grants to the custodian, and to any issuer, transfer agent, bank, financial institution, life insurance company, broker or third person dealing with a person designated as custodian, the respective powers, rights and immunities provided in this chapter. [1967 ex.s. c 88 §3; 1959 c 202 §3.]

Sec. 19 11.93.040 Duties and powers of custodian. (1) The custodian shall collect, hold, manage, invest and reinvest the custodial property.

(2) The custodian shall pay over to the minor for expenditure by the minor, or expend for the minor's benefit, so much of or all the custodial property as the custodian deems advisable for the support, maintenance, education and benefit of the minor in the manner, at the time or times, and to the extent that the custodian in his or her discretion deems suitable and proper, with or without court order, with or without regard to the duty of himself or herself or of any other person to support the minor or his or her ability to do so, and with or without regard to any other income or property of the minor which may be applicable or available for any such purpose.

(3) The court, on the petition of a parent or guardian of the minor or of the minor, if he the minor has attained the age of fourteen years, may order the custodian to pay over to the minor for expenditure by him the minor or to expend so much of or all the custodial property as is necessary for the minor's support, maintenance or education.

(4) To the extent that the custodial property is not so expended, the custodian shall deliver or pay it over to the minor on his attaining the age of eighteen twenty-one years, or, if the minor dies before attaining the age of eighteen twenty-one years, he shall thereupon deliver or pay it over to the estate of the minor.
Comment: This provision is changed to twenty-one years to parallel federal tax law.

(5) The custodian, notwithstanding statutes restricting investments by fiduciaries, shall invest and reinvest the custodial property as would a prudent person of discretion and intelligence who is seeking a reasonable income and the preservation of his capital, except that he or she may, in his or her discretion and without liability to the minor or his or her estate, retain a security given to the minor in a manner prescribed in this chapter or hold money so given in an account in a financial institution to which it was paid or delivered by the donor.

(6) The custodian may sell, exchange, convert, surrender or otherwise dispose of custodial property in the manner, at the time or times, for the price or prices and upon the terms he deems advisable. The custodian may vote in person or by general or limited proxy a security which is custodial property. He may consent, directly or through a committee or other agent, to the reorganization, consolidation, merger, dissolution or liquidation of an issuer, a security which is custodial property, and to the sale, lease, pledge or mortgage of any property by or to such an issuer, and to any other action by such an issuer. He may execute and deliver any and all instruments in writing which he deems advisable to carry out any of his power as custodian.
(7) The custodian shall register each security which is custodial property and in registered form in the name of the custodian, followed, in substance, by the words: "as custodian for (name of minor) under the Washington Uniform Gifts to Minors Act." The custodian shall hold all money which is custodial property in an account with a broker or in an insured financial institution in the name of the custodian, followed, in substance, by the words: "as custodian for (name of minor) under the Washington Uniform Gifts to Minors Act." The custodian shall keep all other custodial property separate and distinct from the custodian's own property in a manner to identify it clearly as custodial property.

(8) The custodian shall keep records of all transactions with respect to the custodial property and make them available for inspection at reasonable intervals by a parent or legal representative of the minor or by the minor, if the minor has attained the age of fourteen years.

(9) A custodian has, with respect to the custodial property, in addition to the rights and powers provided in this chapter, all the rights and powers which a guardian has with respect to property not held as custodial property, and all the rights and powers of a trustee under RCW 11.98.070.

(10) If the subject of the gift is a life insurance policy or annuity contract, the custodian:

(a) in the capacity as custodian, has all the incidents of ownership in the policy or contract to the same extent as if the custodian were the owner, except that the designated beneficiary of any policy or contract on the life of the minor shall be the minor's estate and the designated beneficiary of any policy or contract on the life of a person other than the minor shall be the custodian as custodian for the minor for whom the custodian is acting; and

(b) may pay premiums on the policy or contract out of the custodial property. [1971 ex.s. c 292 §31; 1967 ex.s. c 88
§4; 1959 c 202 §4.]

Severability -- 1971 ex.s. c 292: See note following RCW 26.28.010.

Comment: Formerly RCW 21.24.040. This change gives the custodian the powers of a trustee under new RCW 11.98.070 and thus, among other things, clarifies that the custodian can borrow and receive interest free loans.

Sec. 20 11.93.050 Custodian's expenses, compensation, bond, and liabilities.

(1) A custodian is entitled to reimbursement from the custodial property for his reasonable expenses incurred in the performance of his custodial duties.

(2) A custodian may act without compensation for his services.

(3) Unless he or she is a donor, a custodian may receive from the custodial property reasonable compensation for his or her services determined by one of the following standards in the order stated:
(a) A direction by the donor when the gift is made;
(b) An order of the court.

(4) Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, a custodian shall not be required to give a bond for the performance of his or her duties.

(5) A custodian not compensated for his services is not liable for losses to the custodial property unless they result from his bad faith, intentional wrongdoing or gross negligence or from his failure to maintain the standard of prudence in investing the custodial property provided in this chapter. [1959 c 202 §5.]

Sec. 21 11.93.060 Exemption of third persons from liability. No issuer, transfer agent, bank, life insurance company, broker or other person or financial institution acting on the instructions of or otherwise dealing with any person purporting to act as a donor or in the capacity of a custodian is responsible for determining whether the person designated as custodian by the purported donor or by the custodian or purporting to act as a custodian has been duly designated or whether any purchase, sale or transfer to or by or any other act of any person purporting to act in the capacity of custodian in accordance with or authorized by this chapter, or is obliged to inquire into the validity or propriety under this chapter of any instrument of instructions executed or given by a person purporting to act as a donor or in the capacity of a custodian, or is bound to see to the application by any person purporting to act in the capacity of a custodian of any money or other property paid or delivered to the custodian. No issuer, transfer agent, bank, life insurance company, broker or other person or financial institution acting on any instrument of designation of a successor custodian, executed as provided in subsection (1) of RCW 11.93.070, as now or hereafter amended, by a minor to whom a gift has been made in a manner prescribed in this chapter, and who has attained the age of fourteen years, is responsible for determining whether the person designated by the minor as successor custodian has been duly designated, or is obliged to inquire into the validity or propriety under this chapter of the instrument of designation. [1967 ex.s. c 88 §5; 1959 c 202 §6.]

Sec. 22 11.93.070 Resignation, death, or removal of custodian -- Bond -- Appointment of successor custodian. (1) Only an adult member of the minor's family who is eighteen years or older, a guardian of the minor or a trust company is eligible to become successor custodian. A custodian may designate his a successor by executing and dating an instrument of designation before a subscribing witness other than the successor; the instrument of designation may but need not contain the resignation of the custodian. If the custodian does not so designate a successor before the custodian dies or becomes legally incapacitated, and the minor has attained the age of fourteen years, the minor may designate a successor custodian by executing an instrument of designation before a subscribing witness other than the successor. A successor custodian has all the rights, powers, duties and immunities of a custodian designated in a manner prescribed by this chapter.

(2) The designation of a successor custodian as provided in subsection (1) takes effect as to each item of the custodial property when the custodian resigns, dies or becomes legally incapacitated and the custodian or his or her legal representative:

(a) causes the item if it is a security in registered form or a life insurance policy or annuity contract, to be registered, with the issuing insurance company in the case of a life insurance policy or annuity contract, in the name of the successor custodian followed, in substance, by the words: "as custodian for (name of minor) under the Washington Uniform Gifts to Minors Act"; and

(b) delivers or causes to be delivered to the successor custodian any other item of the custodial property, together with the instrument of designation of the successor custodian or a true copy thereof and any additional instruments required for the transfer thereof to the successor custodian.
(3) A custodian who executes an instrument of designation of a successor containing the custodian's resignation as provided in subsection (1) shall promptly do all things within his or her power to put each item of the custodial property in the possession and control of the successor custodian named in the instrument. The legal representative of a custodian who dies or becomes legally incapacitated shall promptly do all things within his or her power to put each item of the custodial property in the possession and control of the successor custodian named in an instrument of designation executed as provided in subsection (1) by the custodian or, if none, by the minor if he the minor has no guardian and has attained the age of fourteen years, or in the possession and control of the guardian of the minor if he the minor has a guardian. If the custodian has executed as provided in subsection (1) more than one instrument of designation, he the custodian's legal representative shall treat the instrument dated on an earlier date as having been revoked by the instrument dated on a later date.

(4) If a person designated as custodian or as successor custodian by the custodian as provided in subsection (1) is not eligible, dies or becomes legally incapacitated before the minor attains the age of eighteen twenty-one years and if the minor has a guardian, the guardian of the minor shall be successor custodian. If the minor has no guardian and if no successor custodian who is eligible and has not died or become legally incapacitated has been designated as provided in subsection (1), a donor, his or her legal representative, the legal representative of the custodian or an adult member of the minor's family may petition the court for the designation of a successor custodian.

(5) A donor, the legal representative of a donor, a successor custodian, an adult member of the minor's family who is eighteen years or older, a guardian of the minor or the minor, if the minor has attained the age of fourteen years, may petition the court that, for cause shown in the petition, the custodian be removed and a successor custodian be designated or, in the alternative, that the custodian be required to give bond for the performance of his or her duties.

(6) Upon the filing of a petition as provided in this section, the court shall grant an order, directed to the persons and returnable on such notice as the court may require, to show cause why the relief prayed for in the petition should not be granted and, in due course, grant such relief as the court finds to be in the best interests of the minor. [1971 ex.s. c 292 §32; 1967 ex.s. c 88 §6; 1959 c 202 §7.]

Severability — 1971 ex.s. c 292: See note following RCW 26.28.010.

Sec. 23 11.93.080 Accounting by custodian. (1) The minor, if the minor has attained the age of fourteen years, or the legal representative of the minor, an adult member of the minor's family who is eighteen years or older, or a donor or his or her legal representative may petition the court for an accounting by the custodian or his legal representative.

(2) The court, in a proceeding under this chapter or otherwise, may require or permit the custodian or his or her legal representative to account and, if the custodian is removed, shall so require and order delivery of all custodial property to the successor custodian and the execution of all instruments required for the transfer thereof. [1959 c 202 §8.]

Sec. 24 11.93.900 Short title. This chapter may be cited as the "Washington Uniform Gifts to Minors Act." [1959 c 202 §10.]

Comment: Formerly RCW 21.24.100.

Sec. 24 11.93.910 Construction -- 1959 c 202. (1) This chapter shall be so construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law of those states which enact it.

(2) This chapter shall not be construed as providing an exclusive method for making gifts to minors. [1959 c 202 §9.]

Comment: Formerly RCW 21.24.090.

Sec. 24 11.93.911 Construction -- 1967 ex.s. c 88. The provisions of chapter 202, Laws of 1959 hereby amended as hereby amended shall be construed as a continuation of chapter 202, Laws of 1959 hereby amended according to the language employed and not as a new enactment. This amendment of chapter 202, Laws of 1959 hereby amended does not affect gifts made in the manner prescribed therein nor the powers, duties or immunities conferred by gifts in such manner upon custodians and persons dealing with custodians. The provisions of chapter 202, Laws of 1959 hereby amended as hereby amended henceforth apply, however, to all gifts made in a manner and form prescribed in chapter 202, Laws of 1959 hereby amended except insofar as such application impairs constitutionally vested rights. [1967 ex.s. c 88 §7.]

Sec. 25 11.93.912 Construction -- 1984. All custodianships established prior to the effective date of these 1984 amendments which have not been fully distributed as of such date shall not terminate upon the minor attaining the age of eighteen (18), but such custodianships shall remain operative until the minor reaches the age of twenty-one (21) or sooner dies, except that, as to any custodianship established after August 9, 1971, but before the date of this 1984 act, a minor shall have the right after attaining the age of eighteen (18) to demand delivery of all or any portion of the custodian's property.

Sec. 24 11.93.920 Severability - 1959 c 202. If any provision of this chapter or the application thereof to any person or circumstances is held invalid, the invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the chapter which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this chapter are severable. [1959 c 202 §11.].

Comment: Formerly RCW 11.93.920.

All of RCW 21.25 is repealed.

Comment: The amendment to RCW 21.24 allowing gifts of real estate eliminate the necessity of a separate section on gifts of realty to minors.
CHAPTER 11.94

POW\'ER OF ATTORNEY

11.94.010 Designation - Authority
11.94.020 Effect of death, disability or incompetence of principal 11.94.030 Banking transactions
11.94.040 Release from liability
11.94.050 Exempted matters
11.94.060 Homesteads Sec. 26 11.94.010 Designation - Authority - Effect of acts done - appointment of guardian, effect - Accounting. Whenever a principal designates another as the attorney in fact or agent by a power of attorney in writing and the writing contains the words "This power of attorney shall not be affected by disability of the principal," or "This power of attorney shall become effective upon the disability of the principal," or similar words showing the intent of the principal that the authority conferred shall be exercisable notwithstanding her/his disability, the authority of the attorney in fact or agent is exercisable as provided in the power on behalf of the principal notwithstanding later disability or incapacity of the principal at law or later uncertainty as to whether the principal is dead or alive. All acts done by the attorney in fact or agent pursuant to the power during any period of disability or incompetence or uncertainty as to whether the principal is dead or alive have the same effect and inure to the benefit of and bind the principal or her/his guardian or heirs, devisees and personal representatives as if the principal were alive, competent and not disabled. A principal may nominate, by a durable power of attorney, the guardian or limited guardian of his or her estate or person for consideration by the court if protective proceedings for the principal's person or estate are thereafter commenced. The court shall make its appointment in accordance with the principal's most recent nomination in a durable power of attorney except for good cause or disqualification. If a guardian thereafter is appointed for the principal, the attorney in fact or agent, during the continuance of the appointment, shall account to the guardian rather than the principal. The guardian has the same power the principal would have had if he the principal were not disabled or incompetent, to revoke, suspend or terminate all or any part of the power of attorney or agency. [1974 ex.s. c 117 §52.]

Comment: The added material comes from the Uniform Durable Power of Attorney Act (§3(b)), and allows the principal to designate his guardian in advance and thus allows the guardian to be the same person as the attorney-in-fact. The court is directed to follow the nomination except for good cause or disqualification of the nominee. A similar change has been made to RCW 11.88.010.

Sec. 27 11.94.020 Effect of death, disability or incompetence of principal - Acts without knowledge. (1) The death, disability, or incompetence of any principal who has executed a power of attorney in writing other than a power as described by RCW 11.94.010, does not revoke or terminate the agency as to the attorney in fact, agent, or other person who, without actual knowledge of the death, disability, or incompetence of the principal, acts in good faith under the power of attorney or agency. Any action so taken, unless otherwise invalid or unenforceable, binds the principal and his the principal's heirs, devisees; and personal representatives.
(2) An affidavit, executed by the attorney in fact, or agent, stating that he or she did not have, at the time of doing an act pursuant to the power of attorney, actual knowledge of the revocation or termination of the power of attorney by death, disability, or incompetence, is, in the absence of a showing of fraud or bad faith, conclusive proof of the nonrevocation or nontermination of the power at that time. If the exercise of the power requires execution and delivery of any instrument which is recordable, the affidavit when authenticated for record is likewise recordable.

(3) This section shall not be construed to alter or affect any provision for revocation or termination contained in the power of attorney.

(4) Any person may place reasonable reliance on any determination of disability or incompetence as provided in the instrument which specifies the time and the circumstances under which the power of attorney document becomes effective. [1977 ex.s. c 234 §27; 1974 ex.s. c 117 §53.]

Comment: Various documents provide various manners in which disability or incompetence may be determined. Some require the statement of a doctor or doctors, some require only a letter from someone with knowledge, some require a court determination, etc. The purpose of this statute is to allow the third party relying on the power of attorney to rely on the manner of determining disability or incompetence provided for in the instrument. This will leave such determination up to the individual drafting of the draftsman and does not require uniformity in how a determination is to be made.

Sec. 28 11.94.030 Banking Transactions. Whenever a principal, pursuant to RCW 11.94.010, has given a designated attorney in fact or agent all his or her powers of absolute ownership or has used language to indicate that the attorney in fact or agent shall have all the powers the principal would have if alive and competent, then such language, notwithstanding any statutory language found in RCW 30.22 or elsewhere, shall include the authority (1) to "deposit and to make payments from any account in a financial institution, as defined in RCW 30.22.040, in the name of the principal, and (2) to enter any safe deposit box to which the principal has a right of access, subject to any contrary provision in any agreement governing the safe deposit box.

Comment: The purpose of RCW 11.94 in its original enactment was to enable a person to name someone as attorney in fact for him or her in order to transact all business of whatever kind or nature, which the principal could do if alive and competent. RCW 30.22.170 was intended to protect financial institutions in allowing an agent to deposit and make payments from a principal's account. The definition of "agent" in RCW 30.22.040(4) is a person with "authority to deposit and to make payments from an account in the name of the depositor or depositors." Such language left uncertain whether such authority to the agent needed to be specifically stated in a power of attorney or whether simple reference by the principal to "all powers which I might have," or something similar, would be sufficient. The purpose of this statute is to clarify that the use of the term "all" when referring to all powers that the principal might have, or all authority the principal might have, is intended to be all inclusive, notwithstanding any ambiguity that specific wording in any other statutes might raise.

Sec. 29 11.94.040 Release from liability. Any person acting without negligence and in good faith in reasonable reliance on a power of attorney shall not incur any liability thereby. Unless the document contains a time limit, the length of time which has elapsed from its date of execution shall not prevent a party from reasonably relying on the document. Unless the document contains a requirement that it be filed for record to be effective, a person may place reasonable reliance on it whether or not it is so filed.

Comment: To enable the purpose of RCW 11.94 to be fully carried out, and to encourage third parties to be willing to deal in good faith and in reliance on powers of attorney, this section provides a defense of reasonable reliance. Because many powers of attorney are executed well in advance of the time they are actually needed, it is the intent of this statute to indicate that documents whenever executed can be relied upon so that the fact that the document was executed well in the past, and was not needed until the present, will not be a reason for a third party to refuse to rely on the document.

Sec. 30 11.94.050. Exempted Matters. (1) Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section, even though a designated attorney in fact or agent has all powers of absolute ownership of the principal, or the document has language to indicate that the attorney in fact or agent shall have all the powers the principal would have if alive and competent, the attorney in fact or agent shall not have the power, unless specifically provided otherwise in the document: To make, amend, alter, or revoke any of the principal's wills, codicils, life insurance beneficiary designations, trust agreements, community property agreements; to make any gifts of property owned by the principal; to make transfers of property to any trust (whether or not created by the principal) unless the trust benefits the principal alone and does not have dispositive provisions which are different from those which would have governed the property had it not been transferred into the trust, or to disclaim the property.

(2) Nothing in subsection (1) of this section prohibits a spouse of a principal from acting as an attorney in fact or as an agent to make any transfer of resources not prohibited under RCW 74.09.532 when the transfer is for the purpose of qualifying the principal for medical assistance or the limited casualty program for the medically needy.

Comment: This is further refinement of the term "all." It is anticipated that certain non-cash assets which are liquid and easily reducable to cash may be expended by the attorney in fact,
Bank accounts or stocks which are held as joint tenants with right of survivorship, may need to be cashed to provide for the principal. But to the extent possible, estate planning and testamentary documents should not be altered and, specifically, none of the above specified documents should be changed.

Sec. 31 11.94.060 Homesteads. If a principal, pursuant to 11.94.010, has given a designated attorney in fact or agent all the principal's powers of absolute ownership or has used language to indicate that the attorney in fact or agent shall have all the powers the principal would have if alive and competent, then such powers shall include the right to convey or encumber the principal's homestead.

Comment: The purpose of RCW 11.94 in its original enactment was to enable a person to name someone as attorney in fact for him or her in order to transact all business of whatever kind and nature which the principal could do if alive and competent. Senate Bill No. 3426 provided the homestead of a married person could be conveyed or encumbered if a husband or wife or both jointly make and execute powers of attorney for that purpose. The question again arises as to whether reference to that specific power must be specified in the power of attorney. The purpose of this statute is to clarify that the use of the term "all" when referring to all powers that the principal might have, or all authority that the principal might have, is intended to be all inclusive notwithstanding any ambiguity that specific wording in the Senate Bill might raise. It is believed that this bill was an amendment to RCW 6.12.110.
CHAPTER 11.95
POWERS OF APPOINTMENT

11.95.010 Releases
11.95.020 Partial releases
11.95.030 Form and substance - delivery
11.95.040 Effect on prior releases
11.95.050 Filing with Secretary of State
11.95.060 Exercise of powers of appointment
11.95.070 Application
Sec. 33 11.95.010 Releases. Any power which is exercisable by deed, by will, by deed or by will, or otherwise, whether general or special, other than a power in trust which is imperative, is releasable, either with or without consideration, by written instrument signed by the holder thereof and delivered as hereinafter provided. unless the instrument creating the power provides otherwise.

Comment: Former RCW 64.24.010. Powers covered by new RCW 11.98.019 dealing with relinquishment of tax sensitive trustee attributes have been excluded from the general provisions of Ch. 11.95.

Sec. 34 11.95.020 Partial releases. A power which is releasable may be released with respect to the whole or any part of the property subject to such power and may also be released in such manner as to reduce or limit the persons or objects, or classes of persons or objects, in whose favor the such powers would otherwise be exercisable. No release of a power shall be deemed to make imperative a power which was not imperative prior to the such release, unless the instrument of release expressly so provides.
Comment: Former RCW 64.24.020.

Sec. 35 11.95.030 Form and substance - Delivery. In order to be effective as a release of a power, the instrument of release must, as to form and substance, comply with the requirements therefor, if any, set forth in the instrument creating the power, and must be delivered to the person or persons designated in any one or more of the following:

1. Each person specified for such purpose in the instrument creating the power, and,
2. Any trustee or cotrustee of the property, and the person holding the property, to which the power relates, and,
3. Delivery of a copy of the instrument of release may be made to the office of the secretary of state, and such delivery which shall from the time thereof of delivery constitute notice of such the release to all other persons other than those specified in subdivisions (1) and (2) above.

Comment: Former RCW 64.24.030. The requirement to file with the Secretary of State has been eliminated because the Committee felt such filing should not be necessary for a release to be effective. A copy of the release may be filed with the Secretary of State in order to give notice to third parties. Requirements in the instrument will be imposed by virtue of new Chapter 11.97 and thus the provisions referencing the instrument in this section can be deleted.
Sec. 36 11.95.040 Effect on prior releases. The enactment of RCW 11.95.64.24.010 through 11.95.64.24.050 shall not be construed to impair the validity of any release heretofore made which was otherwise valid when executed.

Comment: Former RCW 64.24.040.

Sec. 37 11.95.050 Filing with secretary of state - Fee. It shall be the duty of the secretary of state to mark such instrument of release filed in his office with a consecutive file number and with the date and hour of filing, and to note and index the filing in a suitable alphabetical index according to the name or names of the person or persons signing the same and containing a notation of the address or addresses of the signer or signers, if given in the instrument. The fee for filing is one dollar. The secretary of state shall deliver or mail to the person filing the instrument a receipt showing the filing number and date and hour of filing.

Comment: Former RCW 64.24.050. Unchanged.

Sec. 38 11.95.060 Exercise of Powers of Appointment.
(1) Type of Appointment. The holder of any testamentary or lifetime power of appointment may exercise the power by appointing property outright or in trust and may grant further powers to appoint. The powerholder may designate the trustee, powers, situs, and governing law for any property appointed in trust.
(2) Method of Exercising Testamentary Power. The holder of a testamentary power may exercise the power only by the powerholder's last will (signed before or after the effective date of the instrument granting the power) that manifests an intent to exercise the power and that identifies the instrument granting the power and its date. Unless the person holding the property subject to the power has within six (6) months after the holder's death received written notice that the powerholder's last will has been admitted to probate or an adjudication of testacy has been entered with respect to the powerholder's last will in some jurisdiction, the person may, until the time the notice is received, transfer the property subject to appointment on the basis that the power has not been effectively exercised. The person holding the property shall not incur liability to anyone for transfers so made. A testamentary residuary clause shall not be deemed the exercise of a testamentary power.

(3) Method of Exercising Lifetime Power. The holder of a lifetime power of appointment shall exercise that power only by delivering a written instrument, signed by the holder, to the person holding the property subject to the power. If the holder conditions the distribution of the appointed property on a future event, the written instrument may be made revocable until the event specified has occurred and shall specify the method of its revocation. If the written instrument is revoked, the holder of the power may reappoint the property that was appointed in the instrument. In the absence of signing and delivery of such a written instrument, a lifetime power shall not be deemed exercised.

Comment: The guidelines specify ways in which a power of appointment must be exercised in the absence of specific instructions in an instrument. It gives a power holder the ability to appoint broadly and requires that the power be clearly exercised in order to be effective. It also protects the holder of property subject to a power of appointment from liability in making an alternate distribution of property unless notice of a Will admitted to probate or processed under an adjudication of testacy is received within a certain time.

Sec. 39 11.95.070 Application. This chapter does not apply to any power as trustee described in and subject to RCW 11.98.019.

1. The superior court shall have original jurisdiction over probates in the following instances:

Comment: Formerly RCW 11.02.010. New language clarifies that superior courts have jurisdiction over trusts.
Sec. 42 11.96.020 Powers of courts when law inapplicable, insufficient, or doubtful. It is the intention of this title that the courts mentioned shall have full and ample power and authority to administer and settle all estates of decedents and incompetent and disabled persons in this title mentioned and to administer and settle all trusts and trust matters. If the provisions of this title with reference to the administration and settlement of such estates or trusts should in any cases and under any circumstances be inapplicable or insufficient or doubtful, the court shall nevertheless have full power and authority to proceed with such administration and settlement in any manner and way which to the court seems right and proper, all to the end such estates or trusts may be by the court administered upon and settled. Sec. 45 11.96.040 Situs of Trust. Unless otherwise provided in the instrument creating the trust, the situs of a trust is the place in which is located the principal place of administration of the trust. As used in this section, the "principal place of administration of the trust" is the trustee's usual place of business where the day-to-day records pertaining to the trust are kept or the trustee's residence if it has no such place of business.

Comment: Cal. Code - Probate §1138.3 as modified by draftsman. The California statute deals only with inter vivos trusts. This statute covers all trusts.

Sec. 46 11.96.050 Venue - proceedings involving probate or trust. For purposes of venue in proceedings involving probate or trusts and trust matters, the following shall apply:

(1) Proceedings under Title 11 RCW pertaining to trusts shall be commenced either:

(a) In the superior court of the county in which the situs of the trust is located as provided in RCW 11.96.040;

(b) In the superior court of the county in which a trustee resides or has its principal place of business; or
(c) As respects testamentary trusts, in the superior court of the county where letters testamentary were granted to a personal representative, and in the absence of such letters, then in any county where letters testamentary could have been granted in subsection (2) below.

(2) Wills shall be proven, letters testamentary or of administration granted, and other proceedings under Title 11 RCW pertaining to probate commenced, either:

(a) In the county in which the decedent was a resident at the time of death;

(b) In the county in which the decedent may have died, or in which any part of the estate may be, if the decedent was not a resident of this state; or

(c) In the county in which any part of the estate may be, the decedent having died out of state, and not having been resident in this state at the time of death.

(3) No action undertaken is defective or invalid because of improper venue if the court has jurisdiction of the matter.

Comment: The above statute specifies the county where legal proceedings must be commenced if they involve probate or trust.
The portion of the statute dealing with probate was formerly RCW 11.16.050.
Sec. 47 11.96.060  Statutes of limitations - proceedings involving trusts and estates.

(1) Any action against the trustee of an express trust (excluding those trusts excluded from the definition of express trusts under RCW 11.98.009, but including all express trusts, whenever executed), for any breach of fiduciary duty, must be brought within three years from the earlier of (a) the time the alleged breach was discovered or reasonably should have been discovered or (b) the time of termination of the trust or the trustee's repudiation of the trust.

(2) Any action by an heir, legatee, or other interested party, to whom proper notice was given if required, against a personal representative for alleged breach of fiduciary duty must be brought prior to discharge of the personal representative.

(3) The tolling provisions of RCW 4.16.190 shall apply to this statute, except that the running of the statute of limitations stated in subsection (2) above is not tolled if the minor, incompetent or disabled person had a guardian to represent the person during the probate proceeding or had a guardian ad litem or a limited guardian to represent such person with respect to the matter.

(4) Notwithstanding subsections (2) and (3), any cause of action against a trustee of an express trust, as provided for in subsection (1) is not barred by the statute of limitations if it is brought within three years from the date of enactment of this statute. In addition, any action as specified in subsection (2) against the personal representative is not barred by this statute of limitations if it is brought within one year from the date of enactment of this statute.

Comment:

(1) The general rule in Washington as stated in Hotchkin v. McHaught - Collins Improvement Co., 102 Wash. 161, 172 Pac. 864 (1918) appears to be that the statute of limitations against the trustee of an express trust does not begin to run until the trust is repudiated by the trustee or terminated. There appears to be no exception if the beneficiary had knowledge of the alleged wrongdoing but made no effort to bring suit within a reasonable time from the alleged wrongdoing. There is further confusion as to which statute of limitation period applies upon the termination or repudiation of a trust. The possible statutes of limitations run between 3 and 10 years, depending on the type of wrongdoing alleged. It is believed that uniformity in this area is necessary and that the 3 year statute of limitation period is sufficiently long and should begin to run from the earlier of the termination or repudiation of the trust, or the time the alleged breach was or should have been discovered.

(2) This portion of the statute replaces former RCW 4.16.110(2) providing for a one-year statute of limitation from the time of final settlement or the discovery of the alleged misconduct. This revision was made to conform with the rule that closure of an estate and discharge of a personal representative is res judicata and is a final adjudication which, although appealable, cannot be subsequently attacked. Henrickson v. Baker - Boyer Nat. Bank, 139 F.2d 877 (1944), Alaska Banking and Safe Co. v. Noyes, 64 Wash. 672, 117 Pac. 492 (1911); Laack v. Hawkins, 155 Wash. 308, 284 Pac. 89 (1930).

Sec. 48 11.96.070 Petition for judicial proceedings. A personal representative, trustee, or other fiduciary, creditor, devisee, legatee, heir, or trust beneficiary interested in the administration of a trust, or the attorney general in the case of a charitable trust under RCW 11.119.020, or of the estate of a decedent, incompetent or disabled person, may have a judicial proceeding for the declaration of rights or legal relations in respect to the trust or estate:

(1) To ascertain any class of creditors, devisees, legatees, heirs, next of kin or others; or

(2) To direct the personal representatives or trustees to do or abstain from doing any particular act in their fiduciary capacity; or

(3) To determine any question arising in the administration of the estate or trust, including questions of construction of wills and other writings; or

(4) To confer upon the personal representatives or trustees any necessary or desirable powers not otherwise granted in the instrument or given by law that the court determines are not inconsistent with the provisions or purposes of the will or trust; or

(5) To amend or conform the will or the trust instrument in the manner required to qualify the gift thereunder for the charitable estate tax deduction permitted by federal law, including the addition of mandatory governing instrument requirements for a charitable remainder trust as required by final regulations and rulings of the United States Internal Revenue Service, in any case in which all parties interested in the trust have submitted written agreements to the proposed changes or written disclaimer of interest; or

(6) To resolve any other matter in this title referencing this judicial proceedings section.

The provisions of this chapter shall apply to disputes arising in connection with estates of incompetents, or disabled persons unless otherwise covered by the provisions of chapters 11.88 and 11.92 RCW.

Comment: Formerly 7.24.040. Subsections (4), (5) and (6) are designed to provide more remedial authority in the courts.

Sec. 49 11.96.080 Hearing and form of notice. The court shall make an order fixing the time and place for hearing the petition. The court shall approve the form and content of the notice. Notice of hearing shall be signed by the clerk of the court.
Sec. 51 11.96.090 Power of clerk to fix dates of hearings. The clerk of each of the superior courts is authorized to fix the time of hearing of all applications, petitions and reports in probate and guardianship proceedings, except the time for hearings upon show cause orders and citations and except for the time of hearings set under RCW 11.96.080. The authority herein granted is in addition to the authority vested in the superior courts and superior court commissioners.

Comment: Formerly RCW 11.02.060.

Sec. 53 11.96.100 Notice for judicial proceedings under RCW Title 11. Subject to RCW 11.96.110, notice shall be personally served or mailed to each trustee, personal representative, heir, beneficiary (which includes devisees, legatees, and heirs), guardian ad litem and person having an interest in the trust or estate whose name and address are known to the petitioner in all proceedings under title 11, at least twenty days prior to the hearing on the petition (unless otherwise ordered by the court under RCW 11.96.080). Proof of such service or mailing shall be made by affidavit which shall be filed at or before the hearing. Further, notice shall also be given to the attorney general if required under RCW 11.110.120.
Comment: This new section 11.96.100 is based upon the California statutory notice provisions which are set forth in §1215 of the California Probate Code.

Sec. 54 11.96.110 Constructive Notice. Notwithstanding other provisions of this Chapter to the contrary, it is a sufficient compliance with Title 11 RCW insofar as it requires notice to be given to the beneficiaries of, or persons interested in an estate or a trust, or to beneficiaries or remaindermen, including all living persons who may participate in the corpus or income of the trust or estate, to give notice as follows:

1. When an interest in an estate or trust has been given to persons who compose a certain class upon the happening of a certain event, notice shall be given to the living persons who would constitute the class if such event had happened immediately before the commencement of the proceeding requiring notice.

2. When an interest in an estate or trust has been given to a living person, and the same interest, or a share in it, is to pass to the surviving spouse or to persons who are, or may be, the distributees, heirs, issue or other kindred of such living person upon the happening of a future event, notice shall be given to such living person.

3. Except as otherwise provided in section (2), if an interest in an estate or trust has been given to a person, or a class of persons, or both, upon the happening of any future event, and the same interest, or a share of such interest, is to pass to another person, or class of persons, or both, upon the happening of an additional future event, notice shall be given to the living person or persons who would take the interest upon the happening of the first such event.

(4) Notice shall be given to persons who would not otherwise be entitled to notice by law if a conflict of interest involving the subject matter of the trust or estate proceeding exists between a person to whom notice is given and a person to whom notice need not be given under Title 11 RCW.

Any action taken by the court shall be conclusive and binding upon each person receiving actual or constructive notice in the manner provided herein.

Comment: This new section 11.96.110 gives statutory recognition to the doctrine of virtual representation and is designed to eliminate the expense associated with requiring the appointment of guardians ad litem to represent the interests of minor, unborn or unascertained beneficiaries under certain limited circumstances.

Sec. 55 11.96.120 Special notice. Nothing in this chapter eliminates the requirement to give notice to a person who has requested special notice pursuant to RCW 11.28.240 or RCW 11.92.150.
Sec. 56 11.96.130 Trial rules; judgments. All issues of fact joined in probate or trust proceedings shall be tried in conformity with the requirements of the rules of practice in civil actions. The probate or trust proceeding may be commenced as a new action, or as an action incidental to an existing probate or trust proceeding. Once commenced, the action may be consolidated with an existing probate or trust proceeding, or converted to a separate action, upon the motion of any party, for good cause shown, or by the court on its own motion. If the action is incidental to an existing proceeding, all pleadings shall set forth the caption of the existing proceeding followed by an appropriate caption designating the parties to the new proceeding. The party affirming is plaintiff, and the one denying or avoiding is defendant. When a party is entitled to a trial by jury and a jury is demanded, and the issues are not sufficiently made up by the written pleadings on file, the court, on due notice, must settle and frame the issues to be tried. If no jury is demanded, the court must try the issues joined, and sign and file its findings and decision in writing, as provided in civil actions. Judgment on the issue joined, as well as for costs, may be entered and enforced by execution or otherwise by the court as in civil actions.

Comment: Portions of this statute come from §1230 of the California Probate Code. This statute is intended to permit a probate or trust proceeding to be filed either under the probate-cause number or as an independent action under a new cause number.

Sec. 57 11.96.140 Costs; discretion to order payment by parties or from estate. Either the superior court or the court on appeal, may, in its discretion, order costs, including attorneys fees, to be paid by any party to the proceedings, or out of the assets of the estate, as justice may require.

Comment: This statute comes from part of §1232 of the California Code.

Sec. 58 11.96.150 Execution upon trust income or vested remainder -- Permitted, when. Nothing in RCW 6.32.250 shall forbid execution upon the income of any trust created by a person other than the judgment debtor for debt arising through the furnishing of the necessities of life to the beneficiary of such trust; or as to such income forbid the enforcement of any order of the superior court requiring the payment of support for the children under the age of eighteen of any beneficiary; or forbid the enforcement of any order of the superior court subjecting the vested remainder of any such trust upon its expiration to execution for the debts of the remainderman.

Comment: This section, formerly RCW 30.30.120 of the Trustee's Accounting Act, was more appropriately placed in this dispute resolution portion of Title 11. See also RCW 19.36.020 providing that certain conveyances in trust for the grantor's use are void as against existing or subsequent creditors of the grantor.

Sec. 59 11.96.160 Appeals to supreme court or court of appeals.
Any interested party may appeal to the supreme court or the court of appeals from any final order, judgment or decree of the court, and such appeals shall be in the manner and way provided by law for appeals in civil actions. [1971 c 81 §53; 1965 c 145 §11.96.010. Prior: 1917 c 156 §221; RRS §1591. Formerly RCW 11.16.040.]

Comment: Formerly RCW 11.96.010.

Sec. 61 11.96.170 Nonjudicial resolution of disputes. (1) If the persons listed in RCW 11.96.070 and those entitled to notice under RCW 11.96.100 and 11.96.110 can agree on any matter listed in RCW 11.96.070 or any other matter in Title 11 RCW referencing this nonjudicial resolution procedure, then the agreement shall be evidenced by a written agreement executed by all necessary persons as provided in this section.

(2) If necessary, the personal representative or trustee may petition the court for the appointment of a special representative to represent a person interested in the estate or trust who is a minor, incompetent, disabled or who is yet unborn or unascertained, or a person whose identity or address is unknown. The special representative has authority to enter into a binding agreement on behalf of the person or beneficiary. The special representative may be appointed for more than one person or class of persons if the interests of such persons or class are not in conflict. Those entitled to receive notice for persons or beneficiaries described in RCW 11.96.110 may enter into a binding agreement on behalf of such persons or beneficiaries.

(3) The special representative shall be a lawyer duly licensed to practice before the courts of this state, or an individual with special skill or training in the administration of estates or trusts. The special representative shall have no interest in any affected estate or trust, and shall not be related to any personal representative, trustee, beneficiary or other person interested in the estate or trust. The special representative is entitled to reasonable compensation for services which shall be paid from the principal of the estate or trust whose beneficiaries are represented. Upon execution of the written agreement the special representative shall be discharged of any further responsibility with respect to the estate or trust.

(4) The written agreement or a memorandum summarizing the provisions of the written agreement may at the option of any person interested in the estate or trust, be filed with the court having jurisdiction over the estate or trust.
The person filing the agreement or memorandum shall within five days thereof mail a copy of the agreement and a notice of the filing to each person interested in the estate or trust whose address is known. Notice shall be in substantially the following form:

CAPTION NOTICE OF FILING OF AGREEMENT

Notice is hereby given that the attached document was filed by the undersigned in the above entitled court on the ___ day of __________, 19__. Unless you file a petition objecting to the agreement within 30 days of the above specified date the agreement will be deemed approved and will be equivalent to a final order binding on all persons interested in the estate or trust.

If you file and serve a petition within the period specified, you should ask the court to fix a time and place for the hearing on the petition and provide for at least a ten days notice to all persons interested in the estate or trust.

DATED this ___ day of __________, 19__.

(party to the agreement)

Unless a person interested in the estate or trust files a petition objecting to the agreement within thirty days of the filing of the agreement or the memorandum, the agreement will be deemed approved and will be equivalent to a final order binding on all persons interested in the estate or trust. If all persons interested in the estate or trust waive the notice required by this section, the agreement will be deemed approved and will be equivalent to a final order binding on all persons interested in the estate or trust effective upon the date of filing.

Comment. This section permits interested parties in a trust or estate to enter into a binding agreement if there is an issue or dispute pertaining to the administration of a trust or estate. A "special representative" may be appointed by the court if the personal representative or trustee requests that one be named for any incompetent, unborn or unknown beneficiary. The special representative once appointed has authority to enter into a binding agreement on behalf of those for whom he or she is appointed. The special representative is to be a lawyer or an individual having special skill or training in trust administration. If a special representative is not appropriate, the agreement can also be approved by an individual who represents others in a representative class as provided at RCW 11.96.110 which codifies the doctrine of virtual representation. The agreement or a memorandum of its terms can be filed with the court if any interested party elects to do so. Unless the agreement is objected to within thirty days after the parties have been notified of its filing, it will have the effect of a final order binding on all persons interested in the estate or trust.

Sec. 62 11.96.180 Appointment of guardians ad litem.

(1) The court, upon its own motion or on request of a person interested in the trust or estate, at any stage of a judicial proceeding or at any time in a nonjudicial resolution procedure, may appoint a guardian ad litem to represent the interests of a minor, incapacitated, unborn, or unascertained person, or person whose identity and address are unknown, or a designated class of persons who are not ascertained or are not in being. When not precluded by a conflict of interest, a guardian ad litem may be appointed to represent several persons or interests.

(2) For the purposes of this section, a trustee is a person interested in the trust and a personal representative is a person interested in an estate.

(3) The court appointed guardian ad litem supersedes the special representative if so provided in the court order.

(4) The court may appoint the guardian ad litem at an ex parte hearing, or the court may order a hearing as provided in RCW 11.96.070 with notice as provided in RCW 11.96.080, 11.96.100 and 11.96.110.

Comment: This section allows the court to appoint a guardian ad litem at any time (including during an effort at nonjudicial resolution of a dispute) to represent incompetent parties.

APPENDIX A: 1984 TRUST ACT COMMENTS

Chapter 11.97
EFFECT OF TRUST INSTRUMENT

Sec. 64 11.97.010 Power of Trustor -- Trust provisions control chapter provisions. The trustor of a trust may by the provisions of the trust thereof relieve the trustee from any or all of the duties, restrictions and liabilities which would otherwise be imposed by Chapters 11.95, 11.98, 11.100, and 11.104 RCW and RCW 11.106.020 this chapter; or may alter or deny any or all of the privileges and powers conferred by such this chapters; or may add duties, restrictions, liabilities, privileges, or powers to those imposed or granted by such this chapters. If any specific provision of such this chapters is in conflict with or inconsistent with the provisions of a trust, the provisions of the trust shall control whether or not specific reference is made therein in the trust to any of such this chapters. In no event may any trustee be relieved of the duty to act in good faith and with honest judgment. [1959 c 124 § 2.]

Sec. 65 11.97.900 Application of Chapter. This chapter shall apply to the provisions of Chapters 11.95, 11.98, 11.100, and 11.104 RCW and RCW 11.106.020 ("such chapters").

Comment: Section 11.97.010 was formerly RCW 30.99.020. The purpose of this section is to put in one place the principle that the trust provisions will govern any statutory requirements rather than having language to that effect contained in numerous provisions throughout new Title 11. The last sentence was added to make clear that a trustee cannot be exonerated for failing to act in good faith and with honest judgment. The committee feels that this requirement is probably stated in case law and should, as a matter of public policy, be stated specifically in a statute.

Sec. 67 11.98.009 Application of chapter. Except as provided in this section, this chapter shall apply to express trusts, except as hereinafter limited, which are executed by the trustor after June 10, 1959, the effective date hereof. This chapter shall and does not apply to resulting trusts, constructive trusts, business trusts where certificates of beneficial interest are issued to the beneficiary, investment trusts, voting trusts, trusts in the nature of mortgages or pledges, trusts created by the judgment or decree of a court not sitting in probate, liquidation trusts, or trusts for the sole purpose of paying dividends, interest, interest coupons, salaries, wages, pensions or profits, trusts created in deposits in any banking financial institution pursuant to Chapter 30.22 RCW RCW 30.20.035 or RCW 33.12.030, or in accounts in savings and loan associations pursuant to RCW 33.29.070, unless any such trust which is created in writing incorporates this chapter in whole or in part. [1959 c 124 §1.]

Comment: Formerly RCW 30.99.010.

Sec. 68 11.98.016 Exercise of powers by cotrustees.

(1) Action by Majority. Any power vested in three or more trustees jointly may be exercised by a majority of such trustees; but no trustee who has not joined in exercising a power shall be liable to the beneficiaries or to others for the consequences of such exercise; nor shall a dissenting trustee be liable for the consequences of an act in which he joins at the direction of the majority of the trustees, if he expressed his dissent in writing to each of his cotrustees at or before the time of such joinder.

(2) Failure of cotrustees to Serve. Where two or more trustees are appointed to execute a trust and one or more of them for any reason does not accept the appointment, or having accepted ceases to be a trustee, the survivor or survivors shall execute the trust and shall succeed to all the powers, duties and discretionary authority given to the trustees jointly.

(3) Delegation by Individual Trustee. Any individual trustee, with a cotrustee's consent, may, by a signed, written instrument, delegate any power, duty, or authority as trustee to such cotrustee. Such delegation shall be effective upon delivery of the instrument to such cotrustee and may be revoked at any time by delivery of a similar signed, written instrument to such cotrustee. However, if a power, duty, or authority is expressly conferred upon only one trustee, it shall not be delegated to a cotrustee, if it is expressly excluded from exercise by a trustee, it shall not be delegated to such excluded trustee.

(4) Approval Through Notice to All cotrustees. If one trustee gives written notice to all other cotrustees of an action that such trustee proposes be taken, then the failure of any such cotrustee to deliver a written objection to the proposal to such trustee, at the trustee's then address of record and within fifteen (15) days from the date such cotrustee actually receives the notice, shall constitute formal approval by such cotrustee.
cotrustee had previously given written notice (then unrevoked) to such trustee that this 15-day notice provision is inoperative.

(5) Liability of Cotrustee for Failure to Act. As to any effective delegation made under Subsection (3) a cotrustee has no liability for failure to participate in the administration of the trust. Nothing in this section, however, shall otherwise excuses a cotrustee from liability for failure either to participate in the administration of the trust or and nothing in this section, including subsection (3) above, excuses a cotrustee from liability for the failure to attempt to prevent a breach of trust. [1959 c 124 §3.]

Comment: Subsections (1) and (2) and portions of subsection (5) were formerly RCW 30.99.030.

Subsection (3) provides authority for an individual cotrustee to delegate any of his or her powers, duties, or authorities to a cotrustee, if the cotrustee consents. The purpose of this subsection is to specifically permit an individual cotrustee to delegate any or all of the trustee's responsibilities to another cotrustee and should be particularly helpful in delegating an individual trustee's responsibilities to a corporate cotrustee where that is desirable. Subsection (5) states that such a delegation will not give rise to liability for failure to participate in trust administration.

Subsection (4) provides a method for a single trustee to obtain approval of a proposed action in a situation where the other cotrustees are unwilling to participate. If cotrustees are in disagreement, then this subsection would have no applicability. Its main purpose is to provide a method for a trustee to obtain authority without resort to court or other dispute resolution procedures in a situation where a cotrustee or cotrustees are refusing to approve or disapprove a proposed action.

Sec. 69 11.98.019 Release of powers by cotrustee. Any individual cotrustee may, by written instrument delivered to a then acting cotrustee and to the current adult income beneficiaries of the trust, relinquish to any extent and upon any terms any or all of the trustee's powers, rights, authorities, or discretions that are or may be tax sensitive in that they cause or may cause adverse tax consequences to the trustee or the trust. Any trustee not relinquishing such a relinquished power, right, authority, or discretion and upon whom it is conferred continues to have full power to exercise it.

Comment: This section deals with the ability of an individual cotrustee to relinquish a power, right, authorization, or discretion conferred upon a cotrustee if it is a tax sensitive one that causes or may cause adverse tax consequences to the trustee or the trust. It provides a method of relinquishing attributes of being a trustee that is less detailed and less limited than would be available under chapter RCW 11.86, which permits disclaimers generally. For example, under this section a cotrustee may relinquish a power simply by a written instrument delivered to a then acting cotrustee and to the current adult income beneficiaries of the trust.

The purpose of the section is to clearly permit the relinquishment of a tax sensitive power, right, authorization, or discretion in any manner to a cotrustee. That is, relinquishment in whole or in part, temporarily or permanently, and revocably or irrevocably would be permitted. The relinquishment would be important where a cotrustee wanted to relinquish part or all of a power, right, authorization, or discretion that results in an adverse tax consequence to the trustee or trust.

In the event of a relinquishment, the attribute relinquished will continue to be exercisable by the other trustees upon whom it is conferred. The section does not provide authority for exercise of an attribute by a trustee who is expressly excluded from exercising it.

Sec. 70 11.98.029 Resignation of trustee. Upon petition of the trustee of a trust, the superior court having jurisdiction may accept his resignation and discharge him from the trust upon such notice, if any, and upon such terms as the court may require. [1959 c 124 §4.]

Comment: Formerly RCW 30.99.040.

Sec. 72 11.98.039 Changing Trustee.

(1) Nonjudicial change of trustee. The beneficiaries and trustee of a trust may agree for the non-judicial change of the trustee under RCW 11.96.170 where the governing instrument does not name a successor trustee who is willing to serve. The trustee shall give written notice of the proposed change in trustee to every beneficiary or special representative, and the trustor if alive. The notice shall: (a) state the name and mailing address of the trustee; (b) include a copy of the governing instrument; and (c) the name and mailing address of the successor trustee. The notice shall advise the recipient of the right to petition for the judicial determination of the proposed change in trustee as provided in subsection (2) of this section. The notice shall include a form on which consent or objection to the proposed change in trustee may be indicated.

(2) Judicial change of trustee. Any beneficiary of a trust, the trustor if alive, or the trustee may in writing petition the superior court having jurisdiction for the appointment or change of a trustee as provided in chapter 11.96 RCW (a) whenever the office of trustee becomes vacant, or (b) upon filing of a petition of resignation by a trustee, or (c) for any other reasonable cause. The court shall make an order fixing the time and place for hearing the petition and the notice thereof shall be signed by the clerk of said court. Petitioner shall cause a copy of the notice to be mailed to each beneficiary, the trustor if alive, and to the incumbent trustee, if any, whose names and addresses are known to him, not less than ten days before the date of the hearing. Proof of the mailing of such notice shall be made by affidavit which shall be filed at or before the hearing. All those whose names or addresses are not known or are not legally competent and any beneficiary who is not ascertained shall be represented at the hearing by a guardian ad litem appointed by the court when it sets the time of hearing. Upon conclusion of the hearing the court shall appoint a successor trustee after giving due consideration to the individual or corporate character of trustee's original trustee, any nominations by those entitled to petition for the appointment or by the guardian ad litem, and all other relevant and material facts.

(3) Liability of successor fiduciary for acts or omissions of predecessor fiduciary. For purposes of this section, the term fiduciary shall include both trustee and personal representative.

(a) Except as otherwise provided in the governing instrument, a successor fiduciary, absent actual knowledge of a breach of fiduciary duty: (i) is not liable for any act or omission of a predecessor fiduciary and is not obligated to inquire into the validity or propriety of any such act or omission; (ii) is authorized to accept as conclusively accurate any accounting or statement of assets tendered to the successor fiduciary by a predecessor fiduciary; (iii) is authorized to receipt only for assets actually delivered and has no duty to make further inquiry as to undisclosed assets of the trust or estate.

(b) Nothing contained in this section relieves any successor fiduciary from liability for retaining improper investments, nor does this section in any way bar the successor fiduciary, trust beneficiaries or any other party in interest from bringing any action against any predecessor fiduciary arising out of the acts or omissions of the predecessor fiduciary, nor does it relieve the successor fiduciary of any liability for its own acts or omissions except as specifically stated or authorized in this section.

Comment: Formerly RCW 30.99.050. The new provisions of section (1) and (2) are designed to allow the non-judicial appointment of a successor trustee under new non-judicial resolution of dispute section of RCW 11.96.140, while preserving the right of the named parties to judicial review. Subsection (3) limits the liability of a successor fiduciary, modifying the common law rule that a successor trustee is liable for breach of trust if the successor neglects to take steps necessary to compel the predecessor trustee to redress a breach of trust.

Sec. 74 11.98.045 Criteria for transfer of trust administration.

(1) A trustee may transfer trust assets to a trustee in another jurisdiction or may transfer the place of administration of a trust to another jurisdiction if the trust instrument so provides or in accordance with RCW 11.98.052 or RCW 11.98.053.

(2) Transfer pursuant to this section shall be permitted only if:

(a) The transfer would facilitate the economic and convenient administration of the trust;
(b) The transfer would not materially impair the interests of the beneficiaries or others interested in the trust;

(c) The transfer does not violate the terms of the trust; and

(d) The new trustee is qualified and able to administer the trust or such assets on the terms set forth in the trust.

(3) Acceptance of such transfer by a foreign corporate trustee or trust company pursuant to this section, RCW 11.98.052 and RCW 11.98.053 shall not be construed to be doing a "trust business" within the meaning of RCW 30.08.150(9).

Sec. 75 11.98.051 Nonjudicial transfer of trust administration.

(1) The trustee may transfer trust assets or the place of administration in accordance with the provisions of RCW 11.96.170. In addition, the trustee shall give written notice to those persons entitled to notice as provided for under RCW 11.96.100 and RCW 11.96.110 and to the attorney general in the case of a charitable trust subject to chapter 11.110 RCW. The notice shall:

(a) State the name and mailing address of the trustee;

(b) Include a copy of the governing instrument of the trust;

(c) Include a statement of assets and liabilities of the trust dated within 90 days of the notice;
(d) State the name and mailing address of the trustee to whom the assets or administration will be transferred together with evidence that such trustee has agreed to accept the assets or trust administration in the manner provided by law of the new place of administration. The notice shall also contain a statement of the trustee's qualifications and the name of the court, if any, having jurisdiction of such trustee or in which a proceeding with respect to the administration of the trust may be heard;

(e) State the facts supporting the requirements of RCW 11.98.045(2);

(f) Advise the beneficiaries of the right to petition for judicial determination of the proposed transfer as provided in RCW 11.98.055; and

(g) Include a form on which the recipient may indicate consent or objection to the proposed transfer.

(2) If the trustee receives written consent to the proposed transfer from all persons entitled to notice the trustee may transfer the trust assets or place of administration as provided in the notice. Transfer in accordance with the notice is a full discharge of the trustee in relation to all property referred to therein. Any person dealing with the trustee is entitled to rely on the authority of the trustee to act and is not obliged to inquire into the validity or propriety of the transfer.
Sec. 76 11.99.055 Judicial transfer of trust administration.

(1) Any trustee, beneficiary, or beneficiary representative may petition the superior court of the county of the situs of the trust for a transfer of trust assets or transfer of the place of administration in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 11.96 RCW.

(2) At the conclusion of the hearing, if the court finds the requirements of RCW 11.98.045(2) have been satisfied, it may direct the transfer of trust assets or the place of trust administration on such terms and conditions as it shall deem appropriate. The court in its discretion may provide for payment from the trust of reasonable fees and expenses for any party to such proceeding. Delivery of trust assets in accordance with the court's order is a full discharge of the trustee in relation to all transferred property.

Comment: This statute is based primarily on a similar transfer statute contained in Cal. Prob. Code §1139 et seq. It provides for nonjudicial transfer of trust assets and trust administration similar to the nonjudicial dispute resolution statute. The statute also makes clear that a transfer of trust assets pursuant to these sections will not create problems for the new foreign corporate trustee or trust company insofar as it may then be considered as doing a "trust business" within the State of Washington.
Sec. 77  11.98.060  Power of successor trustee. A successor trustee of a trust shall succeed to all the powers, duties and discretionary authority of the original trustee. [1959 c 124 §6.]

Comment: Formerly RCW 30.99.060.

Sec. 78  11.98.065  Change in form of corporate trustee. Any appointment of a specific bank, trust company, or corporation as trustee shall be conclusively presumed to authorize the appointment or continued service of such entity's successor in interest in the event of a merger, acquisition, or reorganization, and no court proceeding shall be necessary to affirm such appointment or continuance of service.

Comment: This section has been added to clarify the status of a corporate fiduciary who is appointed trustee in the event of a merger, acquisition or corporate reorganization. Under this statute, the successor organization shall serve or continue to serve barring contrary direction in the instrument.

Sec. 80  11.98.070  Power of trustee. A trustee, or the trustees jointly, of a trust shall, in addition to the authority otherwise given by law, have the discretionary power, and the exercise of discretion in the application thereof, to acquire, invest, reinvest, exchange, sell, convey, control, divide, partition, and manage the trust property in accordance with the standards provided by law, and in so doing may:

Comment: Additional powers added to preamble.
(1) Receive property from any source as additions to the trust or any fund thereof of the trust to be held and administered under the provisions thereof of the trust;

(2) Sell on credit; (and grant, purchase or exercise options;)

Comment: Options transactions separated from credit transactions. Deleted portion of subsection (2) appears in subsection (3) below.

(3) Grant, purchase, or exercise options;

(4) Sell or exercise subscriptions to stock or other corporate securities and to exercise conversion rights; (deposit stock or other corporate securities with any protective or other similar committee, and assent to corporate sales, leases and encumbrances;)

Comment: Powers regarding securities separated into three subsections: (4), (5), and (6).

(5) Deposit stock or other corporate securities with any protective or other similar committee;

(6) Assent to corporate sales, leases, and encumbrances;

(7) Vote trust securities in person or by proxy with power of substitution; and enter into voting trusts;

(8) Register and hold any stocks, securities or other property in the name of a nominee or nominees without mention of the trust relationship, provided the trustee or trustees shall be liable for any loss occasioned by the acts of any such nominee;
Grant leases of trust property, with or without options to purchase or renew, to begin within a reasonable period and for terms within or extending beyond the duration of the trust, for any purpose, including exploration for and removal of oil, gas and other minerals; enter into community oil leases, pooling, and unitization agreements; ((create restrictions, easements, and other servitudes, alter, renovate, add to or demolish any building, subdivide, develop, improve, dedicate to public use, make or obtain the vacation of public plats, adjust boundaries, partition real property and on exchange or partition to adjust differences in valuation by giving or receiving money or money's worth.))

Comment: See subsection (20) regarding easements and servitudes. See §(19) regarding renovation and demolition of buildings. See subsection (10) for remaining portion of subsection (9) deleted above. Subsection (9) has been divided in order to separate trustee's powers regarding leasing, creation of restrictions, renovation of structures, and development of real property.

(10) Subdivide, develop, dedicate to public use, make or obtain the vacation of public plats, adjust boundaries, partition real property, and on exchange or partition to adjust differences in valuation by giving or receiving money or money's worth;

((7)) (Section moved to subsection (23) below.)

((6)) (11) Compromise or submit claims to arbitration;

((advance funds and borrow money, secured or unsecured, from any)} source, including a corporate trustee's banking department, and mortgage, pledge the assets or credit of the trust estate or otherwise encumber trust property, including future income, etc.)

Comment: See subsection (12) regarding advancing and borrowing money. See (18) regarding mortgaging trust property.

(12) Borrow money, secured or unsecured, from any source, including a corporate trustee's banking department, or from the individual trustee's own funds.

Comment: From RCW 30.99.070(8). Strikes "advance funds and" as unnecessary. Clause after "department" is new to show an intent that the borrowing of money from the individual trustee would not, per se, be a breach of the trustee's duty against self-dealing. See also RCW 11.99.090.

(13) Make loans, either secured or unsecured, at such interest as the trustee may determine to any person, including any beneficiary of a trust, except that no trustee who is a beneficiary of any trust may participate in decisions regarding loans to such beneficiary from the trust:

(14) Determine the hazards to be insured against and maintain insurance therefore for them:

(15) Select any part of the trust estate in satisfaction of any partition or distribution, in kind, in money, or both: (pay any income or principal distributable to or for the use of any beneficiary, whether or not such beneficiary is under legal disability, to him or his use to his parent, guardian, person with whom he resides or third persons) make non-pro rata distributions of property in kind; allocate particular assets or portions of them or undivided interests in them to any one or more of the beneficiaries without regard to the income tax basis of specific property allocated to any beneficiary and without any obligation to make an equitable adjustment;

Comment:

1. Power to pay over to beneficiary separated from distributions in kind. See subsection (16) regarding payments for beneficiary.

2. Comment per J. Cunningham regarding addition to above section: "As revised, the above statute would avoid the difficulties described in Priv. Ltr. Ruling 8119040 and Rev. Rul. 69-486, 1969-2 C.B. 159 where a non-pro rata distribution of trust assets not authorized by the trust instrument or local law was treated for federal income tax purposes as a non-pro rata distribution followed by an exchange between the beneficiaries resulting in the realization of gain or loss by the beneficiaries."

(16) Pay any income or principal distributable to or for the use of any beneficiary, whether or not such beneficiary is under legal disability, to him or for his use to his parent, guardian, custodian under the uniform gifts to minors act of any state, person with whom he resides or third person;

Comment: This section formerly appeared as a part of RCW 30.99.070(10). It has been expanded to allow the trustee also to make a distribution to the custodian for a minor. This change is consistent with the provision regarding distributions from an estate or trust which appear in RCW 11.93.020(f).

(17) Change the character of or abandon a trust asset or any interest in it;

Comment: From §3(c)(7) UTPA and CPC §1120.2(5).

(18) Mortgage, pledge the assets or the credit of the trust estate, or otherwise-encumber trust property, including future income, *whether an initial encumbrance or a renewal or extension of it, ..*for a term within or extending beyond the term of the trust, in connection with the exercise of any power vested in the trustee;

Comment: Beginning portion of section to first * is from RCW 30.99.070(8). Balance of section from second * to end is from §3(c)(7) UTPA. Words between each * are new.

(19) Make ordinary or extraordinary repairs or alterations in buildings or other trust property, to demolish any improvements, to raze existing structures, and to make any improvements to trust property;

Comment: From §3(c)(8) UTPA and CPC §1120.2(6). (19) changes RCW 30.99.070(6) to allow extraordinary repairs of buildings, extraordinary repairs or alterations of trust property other than buildings, demolition of party walls and improvements to personal property.

(20) Create restrictions, easements, including easements to public use without consideration, and other servitudes;
Comment: From RCW 30.99.070(6), §3(c)(9) UTPA, and CPC §1120.2(7). Words between asterisks are from UTPA and CPC.

(21) Manage any business interest, regardless of form, received by the trustee from the trustor of the trust, as a result of the death of a person, or by gratuitous transfer from any other transferor; and in respect to it, to have the following powers:

Comment: This preamble is intended to include the receipt by the trustee of a trust of any business interest to be held pursuant to the terms of the trust, including any gratuitous transfer to the trustee by the trustor or another, or a receipt of such business interest by the trustee arising out of the termination of a prior estate.

(a) To hold, retain and continue to operate such business interest solely at the risk of the trust, without need to diversify and without liability on the part of the trustee for any resulting losses;

(b) To enlarge or diminish the scope or nature or the activities of any business;

(c) To authorize the participation and contribution by the business to any employee benefit plan, whether or not qualified as being tax deductible, as may be desirable from time to time;

(d) To use the general assets of the trust for the purpose of the business and to invest additional capital in or make loans to such business;
(e) To endorse or guarantee on behalf of the trust any loan made to the business and to secure the loan by the trust's interest in the business or any other property of the trust;

(f) To leave to the discretion of the trustee the manner and degree of the trustee's active participation in the management of the business, and the trustee is authorized to delegate all or any part of the trustee's power to supervise, manage, or operate to such persons as the trustee may select, including any partner, associate, director, officer, or employee of the business; and also including electing or employing directors, officers, or employees of the trustee to take part in the management of such business as directors or officers or otherwise, and to pay any such person reasonable compensation for his services without regard to the fees payable to the trustee;

(g) To engage, compensate, and discharge or to vote for the engaging, compensating, and discharging of such managers, employees, agents, lawyers, accountants, consultants, or other representatives, including anyone who may be a beneficiary of the trust or any trustee;

(h) To cause or agree that surplus be accumulated or that dividends be paid;

(i) To accept as correct financial or other statements rendered by any accountant for any sole proprietorship or by any partnership or corporation as to matters pertaining to the business except upon actual notice to the contrary;
(1) To treat the business as an entity separate from the trust, and in any accounting by the trustee, it shall be sufficient if the trustee reports the earning and condition of the business in a manner conforming to standard business accounting practice;

(k) To exercise with respect to the retention, continuance, or disposition of any such business all the rights and powers which the trustor of the trust would have if alive at the time of such exercise, including all powers as are conferred on the trustee by law or as are necessary to enable the trustee to administer the trust in accordance with the provisions of the instrument governing the trust, subject to any limitations provided for in the instrument; and

(1) To satisfy contractual and tort liabilities arising out of an unincorporated business, first out of the business and second out of the estate or trust, but in no event shall there be a liability of the trustee, and if the trustee shall be liable, the trustee shall be entitled to indemnification from the business and the trust, respectively;

(22) Participate in the establishment of, and thereafter in the operation of, any business or other enterprise according to the provisions set forth in the preceding §(21) and all the subparagraphs thereof except that the trustee shall not be relieved of the duty to diversify;

Comment: From §3(c)(3) UTPA which reads in part: "to continue or participate in the operation of any business or other enterprise. . . ." Also follows §1120.2(17) Cal. Probate Code except "the operation of" does not appear in the Cal. Code. This section is intended to relate to a new business or other enterprise started by the trustee which did not constitute original property of the trust that was either delivered by the trustor to the trustee or received by the trustee from the trustor's estate.

(23) Cause or participate in, directly or indirectly, the formation, reorganization, merger, consolidation, dissolution, or other change in the form of any corporate or other business undertaking(23) where trust property may be affected and retain any property received pursuant thereto to the change: (limit management participation in any partnership and to act as a limited partner, charge profits and losses of any business or farm operation to the trust estate as a whole and not to the trustee, and make available to or invest in any business or farm operation additional moneys from the trust estate or other sources.)

Comment: Powers regarding partnerships and business operations separated into subsections (22) and (23). Deletions and additions to subsection (23) above are based on §(3)(c)(3) and (15) of the Uniform Trustees' Powers Act set forth in 41 Wash. Law Rev. 1 at 41.

(24) Limit participation in the management of any partnership and act as a limited or general partner:

Comment: The first clause in subsection (24) formerly appeared in RCW 30.99.070(7) and read as follows: "... limit management participation in any partnership. . . ." The change has been made to more clearly reflect the trustee's power to take less than a full time management role in a partnership which forms a part of the trust. The second clause also appears in RCW 30.99.070(7), but "or general" has been added to subsection (24) to broaden the trustee's powers. This change regarding a trustee's powers in a partnership is the result of work by B. Flynn.

(25) Charge profits and losses of any business or farm operation to the trust estate as a whole and not to the trustee; make available to or invest in any business or farm operation additional moneys from the trust estate or other sources;

(26) Pay reasonable compensation to the trustee or cotrustees considering all circumstances including the time, effort, skill, and responsibility involved in the performance of services by the trustee;

Comment: From §3(c)(20) UTPA up to "commensurate." Balance of section reflects the general standards upon which the compensation to the trustee is to be based, which are, among other things: the time involved, the difficulty of the services performed, the responsibilities imposed on the trustee, and the skill of the trustee in administering the trust.

(27) Employ persons, including lawyers, accountants, investment advisors, or agents, even if they are associated with the trustee, to advise or assist the trustee in the performance of the trustee's duties or to perform any act, regardless of whether any such act is discretionary, and to act without independent investigation upon their recommendations, except a trustee may not delegate all of the trustee's duties and responsibilities, and except that such employment does not relieve the trustee of liability for the discretionary acts of any such person, which if done by the trustee, would result in liability to the trustee, or of the duty to select and retain any such person with reasonable care.

Comment: In part from section 3(c)(24) UTPA. This section expands the power of the trustee to employ others, even if associated with the trustee, and to delegate discretionary acts to agents. The section changes the common law by relieving the trustee of the duty to make an independent investigation or an independent judgment regarding recommendations made by the agent. Further, the trustee has the right under this section to delegate the performance of a discretionary act to another without incurring any liability to the beneficiary of the trust merely because the act was delegated or the delegate performed the act without the prior approval of or consultation with the trustee. The foregoing comments are restricted to the extent that the trustee has the duty to hire and retain the agent with reasonable care and is liable to the beneficiary of the trust for the negligence or intentional misconduct of the agent as to the delegated discretionary acts. There may be an additional restriction that the reasonable care standard for the selection and retention of the agent includes the requirement that any delegation, or the continuation of any delegation, to an agent represent prudent conduct of the trustee under the circumstances.

The authority to delegate in this section does not extend to the power of the trustee to delegate the trustee's entire administration to another. The trustee commits a breach of trust in delivering the whole management of the trust to another without the consent of the trust beneficiary or without being permitted to do so by the trust instrument. In such an instance the trustee is liable not only for the negligence or other improper conduct of the delegate but also for any losses occasioned by acts of the delegate regardless of the degree of care exercised by the delate.

(28) Appoint an ancillary trustee or agent to facilitate management of assets located in another state or foreign country;

(29) Retain and store such items of tangible personal property as the trustee shall select and pay reasonable storage charges thereon from the trust estate;

(30) Issue proxies to any adult beneficiary of a trust for the purpose of voting stock of a corporation acting as the trustee of the trust;

(31) Place all or any part of the securities at any time held by the trustee in the care and custody of any bank, trust company, or member firm of the New York Stock Exchange with no obligation while the securities are so deposited to inspect or verify the same and with no responsibility for any loss or misapplication by the bank, trust company, or firm, so long as the bank, trust company, or firm was selected and retained with reasonable care, and have all stocks and registered securities placed in the name of the bank, trust company, or firm, or in the name of its nominee, and to appoint such bank, trust company, or firm agent as attorney to collect, receive, receipt for, and disburse any income, and generally may perform, but is under no requirement to perform, the duties and services incident to a so-called "custodian" account:

(32) Determine at any time that the corpus of any trust is insufficient to implement the intent of the trust, and upon such determination by the trustee, terminate the trust by distribution of the trust to the current income beneficiary or beneficiaries of the trust or their legal representatives, except that such determination may only be made by the trustee if the trustee is neither the grantor nor the beneficiary of the trust, and if the trust has no charitable beneficiary;

(33) Rely with acquittance on advice of counsel on questions of law; and

(34) Continue to be a party to any existing voting trust agreement or enter into any new voting trust agreement or renew an existing voting trust agreement with respect to any assets contained in trust.
Sec. 81 11.98.080 Consolidation of Trusts.

Criteria. Two or more trusts may be consolidated if:

(a) The trusts so provide; or

(b) Whether provided in the trusts or not, in accordance with subsection (2) if all interested persons consent as provided in subsection (2)(c) and the requirements of subsection (1)(d) are satisfied; or

(c) Whether provided in the trusts or not, in accordance with subsection (3) if the requirements of subsection (1)(d) are satisfied.

(d) Consolidation pursuant to subsection (2) or subsection (3) is permitted only if:

(i) The dispositive provisions of each trust to be consolidated are substantially similar;

(ii) Consolidation is not inconsistent with the intent of the trustor of any trust to be consolidated; and

(iii) Consolidation would facilitate administration of the trusts and would not materially impair the interests of the beneficiaries.

(e) Trusts may be consolidated whether created inter vivos or by will, by the same or different instruments, by the same or different trustors, whether or not the trustees are the same, and regardless of where the trusts were created or administered.

Comment: This is a new statute providing for non-judicial and judicial consolidation of trusts. The purpose of this subsection (l) is to address some of the issues that could be raised in litigation and to provide general guidelines for determining whether consolidation is appropriate.

(2) Nonjudicial Consolidation. The trustees of any two or more trusts may consolidate the trusts on such terms and conditions as they deem appropriate without court approval as provided in RCW 11.96.170.

(a) The trustee shall give written notice of proposed consolidation by personal service or by certified mail to the beneficiaries of every trust affected by the consolidation as provided in RCW 11.96.100 and RCW 11.96.110 and to any trustee of such trusts who does not join in the notice. The notice shall:
(i) state the name and mailing address of the trustee; (ii) include a copy of the governing instrument of each trust to be consolidated; (iii) include a statement of assets and liabilities of each trust to be consolidated, dated within 90 days of the notice; (iv) fully describe the terms and manner of consolidation; and (v) state the reasons supporting the requirements of subsection (l)(d). The notice shall advise the recipient of the right to petition for a judicial determination of the proposed consolidation as provided in subsection 3. The notice shall include a form on which consent or objection to the proposed consolidation may be indicated.

(b) If the trustee receives written consent to the proposed consolidation from all persons entitled to notice as provided in RCW 11.96.100 and RCW 11.96.110, the trustee may consolidate the trusts as provided in the notice. Any person dealing with the trustee of the resulting consolidated trust shall be entitled to rely on the authority of such trustee to act and shall not be obliged to inquire into the validity or propriety of the consolidation pursuant to this section.

(3) Judicial Consolidation.

(a) Any trustee, beneficiary, or special representative may petition the superior court of the county in which the principal place of administration of a trust is located for an order consolidating two or more trusts under RCW Chapter 11.96. If non-judicial consolidation has been commenced pursuant to Section 2, a petition may be filed under this section unless the trustee has received all necessary consents. The principal place of administration of the trust shall be the trustee's usual place of business where the records pertaining to the trust are kept, or the trustee's residence if he has no such place of business.

(b) At the conclusion of the hearing, if the court finds that the requirements of subsection (I)(d) have been satisfied, it may direct consolidation of two or more trusts on such terms and conditions as it shall deem appropriate. The court in its discretion may provide for payment from one or more of the trusts of reasonable fees and expenses for any party to such proceeding.
(4) Effective Date. This section applies to all trusts whenever created.

Comment: This is different from the effective date of RCW 30.99.010. It is appropriate, however, since the consolidation cannot proceed unless the court or trustee determines that the standards set forth in Section 1(d) are satisfied.

Sec. 83 11.98.090 Nonliability of third persons without knowledge of breach. In the absence of knowledge of a breach of trust, no party dealing with a trustee is required to see to the application of any moneys or other properties delivered to the trustee. [1959 c 124 §8.]

Comment: Formerly RCW 30.99.080.

Sec. 84 11.98.100 Nonliability for action or inaction based on lack of knowledge of events. When the happening of any event, including but not limited to events such as marriage, divorce, performance of educational requirements or death, affects the administration or distribution of the trust then a trustee who has exercised reasonable care to ascertain the happening of such event shall not be liable for any action or inaction based on lack of knowledge of such event. A corporate trustee is not liable prior to receiving such knowledge or notice in its trust department office where the trust is being administered.

[1959 c 124 §9.]
Sec. 85 11.98.110 Contract and tort liability. Actions on contracts which have been transferred to a trust and on contracts made by a trustee, and actions in tort for personal liability incurred by a trustee in the course of his administration may be maintained by the party in whose favor the cause of action has accrued as follows:

(1) The plaintiff may sue the trustee in his representative capacity and any judgment rendered in favor of the plaintiff shall be collectible by execution out of the trust property; except if the action is in tort, collection shall not be had from the trust property unless the court shall determine in such the action that (a) the tort was a common incident of the kind of business activity in which the trustee or his predecessor was properly engaged for the trust; or (b) that, although the tort was not a common incident of such activity, neither the trustee nor his predecessor, nor any officer or employee of the trustee or his predecessor, was guilty of personal fault in incurring the liability; or (c) that, although the tort did not fall within classes (a) or (b) above, it increased the value of the trust property. If the tort is within classes (a) or (b) above, collection may be had of the full amount of damage proved, and if the tort is within class (c) above, collection may be had only to the extent of the increase in the value of the trust property.
(2) If the action is on a contract made by the trustee, the trustee may be held personally liable on such the contract, if personal liability is not excluded. Either the addition by the trustee of the words "trustee" or "as trustee" after the signature of a trustee to a contract or the transaction of business as trustee under an assumed name in compliance with RCW 19.80.010 to 19.80.050 inclusive shall exclude the trustee from personal liability. If the action is on a contract transferred to the trust or trustee, subject to any rights therein vested at time of such transfer, the trustee shall be personally liable only if he has in writing assumed such liability.

(3) In any action under this section against the trustee in his representative capacity the plaintiff need not prove that the trustee could have secured reimbursement from the trust fund if he had paid the plaintiff's claim.

(4) The trustee may also be held personally liable for any tort committed by him, or by his agents or employees in the course of their employments, subject to the rights of exoneration or reimbursement:

(a) A trustee who has incurred personal liability for a tort committed in the administration of the trust is entitled to exoneration therefrom from the trust property if (i) the tort was a common incident of the kind of business activity in which the trustee was properly engaged for the trust, or (ii) although the tort was not a common incident of such activity, if neither the trustee nor any officer or employee of the trustee was guilty of personal fault in incurring the liability;

(b) A trustee who commits a tort which increases the value of the trust property shall be entitled to exoneration or reimbursement with respect thereto to the extent of such increase in value, even though he would not otherwise be entitled to exoneration or reimbursement.

(5) The procedure for all actions provided in this section shall be as provided in Chapter 11.96 RCW. No judgment shall be rendered in favor of the plaintiff in any such action unless the plaintiff shall serve a copy of the notice of the hearing on such action to be mailed not less than twenty days before the date thereof to the trustee, if living, the trustee and to each beneficiary whose name and address is known to him. Proof of the mailing of such notice shall be made by affidavit which shall be filed at or before the hearing. All those whose names or addresses are not known or are not legally competent and any bene-ciciary who is not ascertained shall be represented at the hearing by a guardian ad litem appointed by the court when it sets the time of hearing.

Comment: This change allows use of the non-judicial and judicial resolution of disputes under new chapter 11.96 RCW.

(6) Nothing in this section shall be construed to change the existing law with regard to the liability of the trustee of a charitable trust for the torts of the trustee. [1959 c 124 §10.]
Reviser's note: RCW 19.80.050 is now codified in RCW 19.80.040.

Comment: Formerly RCW 30.99.100. The revised proposed addition to the Washington Uniform Partnership Act includes the terms "trustees and personal representatives" within the definition of the word "person." Also, as an additional consideration, the provision of the Uniform Partnership Act which deals with a partner's liability to third persons is amended to refer to the contract and tort liability section (RCW 11.98.110(2)) of the Washington Trust Act.

Sec. 87 11.98.130 Violation of rule against perpetuities by instrument -- Periods during which trust not invalid. If any provision of an instrument creating a trust, including the provisions of any further trust created, or any other disposition of property made pursuant to exercise of a power of appointment granted in or created through authority under such instrument shall violate the rule against perpetuities, neither such provision nor any other provisions of the trust, or such further trust or other disposition, shall be thereby be rendered invalid during any of the following periods:

(1) The twenty-one years following the effective date of the instrument.

(2) The period measured by any life or lives in being or conceived at the effective date of the instrument if by the terms of the instrument the trust is to continue for such life or lives.

(3) The period measured by any portion of any life or lives in being or conceived at the effective date of the instrument if by the terms of the instrument the trust is to continue for such portion of such life or lives; and

(4) The twenty-one years following the expiration of the periods specified in subsections (2) and (3) above. [1969 c 145 §11.98.010. Prior: 1959 c 146 §1.]

Comment: Formerly RCW 11.98.010.

Sec. 88 11.98.140 Distribution of assets and vesting of interest during period trust not invalid. If, during any period in which an instrument creating a trust, as described in RCW 11.98.130, or any provision thereof, is not to be rendered invalid by the rule against perpetuities, any of the trust assets should by the terms of the instrument, or pursuant to any further trust or other disposition resulting from exercise of a power of appointment granted in or created through authority under such instrument, become distributable or any beneficial interest therein in any of the trust assets should by the terms of the instrument, or such further trust or other disposition become vested, such assets shall be distributed and such beneficial interest shall validly vest in accordance with the instrument, or such further trust or
Sec. 89 11.98.150 Distribution of assets at expiration period. If, at the expiration of any period in which an instrument creating a trust (as described in RCW 11.98.009) or any portion thereof is not to be rendered invalid by the rule against perpetuities, any of the trust assets have not by the terms of the trust instrument become distributable or vested, then such the assets shall be then distributed as the superior court having jurisdiction shall direct, giving effect to the general intent of the creator of the trust or person exercising a power of appointment in the case of any further trust or other disposition of property made pursuant to exercise of a power of appointment. [1965 c 145 §11.98.030. Prior: 1959 c 146 §3.]

Comment: Formerly RCW 11.98.030.

Comments for 11.98.130, 140 and 150 changes. A power of appointment could be exercised under new Section 11.95.060(1) to postpone vesting beyond the period permitted under the rule against perpetuities. These amendments will apply the existing "wait and see rule" that applies to trusts to property dispositions made pursuant to the exercise of powers of appointment. Thus, exercise of a power in a way that would violate the rule against perpetuities will be prevented. If a power of appointment could be so exercised, adverse estate tax consequences could result under Treasury Regulation §20.2041-3(3)(1) in certain circumstances.

Sec. 90 11.98.160 Effective Date of Creation of Trust. For the purposes of this chapter the effective date of an instrument purporting to create an irrevocable inter vivos trust shall be the date of delivery on which it is executed by the trustor, and the effective date of an instrument purporting to create either a revocable inter vivos trust or a testamentary trust shall be the date of the trustor's or testator's death.

Comment: Formerly RCW 11.98.040. Changes creation of an irrevocable inter vivos trust from an ambiguous "date of delivery" to a definite date on which the trust was executed. This change impacts the rule against perpetuities in that the rule can run from either execution and/or delivery of assets to the trust.

Sec. 91 11.98.170 Trustee or Custodian Named as Beneficiary of Life Insurance Policy or Retirement Plan.

(1) Trustee named by will or under trust agreement. Any life insurance policy or retirement plan payment provision may designate as beneficiary

(a) a trustee named or to be named by will, and immediately after the proving of the will, the proceeds of such insurance or of such plan designated as payable to such trustee (in part or in whole) shall be paid to the trustee in accordance with the beneficiary designation, to be held and disposed of under the terms of the will governing the testamentary trust created therein; or

(b) a trustee named or to be named under a trust agreement executed by the insured, the plan participant, or any other person, and the proceeds of such insurance or retirement plan designated as payable to such trustee (in part or in whole) shall be paid to the trustee in accordance with the beneficiary designation, to be held and disposed of by the trustee as provided in such trust agreement; a trust shall be valid even if the only corpus consists of the right, of the trustee to receive as beneficiary such insurance or retirement plan proceeds; any such trustee may also receive assets, other than insurance or retirement plan proceeds, by testamentary disposition or otherwise and, unless directed otherwise by the transferor of the assets, shall administer all property of the trust according to the terms of the trust agreement.

(2) Procedure if no qualified trustee. If no qualified trustee makes claim to the insurance policy or retirement plan proceeds from the insurance company or the plan administrator within twelve months after the death of the insured or plan participant, determination of the proper recipient of the proceeds shall be made pursuant to the judicial or non-judicial dispute resolution procedures of RCW Chapter 11.96, unless prior to the institution of such judicial procedures, or qualified trustee makes claim to such proceeds, provided, however, except that (a) if satisfactory evidence is furnished the insurance company or plan administrator within such twelve-month period showing that no trustee can or will qualify to receive such proceeds, payment shall be made to those otherwise entitled to the proceeds under the terms of the policy or retirement plan, including the terms of the beneficiary designation, and, provided, further, except that (b) if there is any dispute as to the proper recipient of insurance policy or retirement plan proceeds, the dispute shall be resolved pursuant to the judicial or non-judicial resolution procedures in RCW Chapter 11.96.

(3) Proceeds not subject to debts or claims. The proceeds of such insurance or retirement plan as collected by the trustee shall are not be subject to debts of the insured or the plan participant to any greater extent than if such the proceeds were payable to any named beneficiary other than the personal representative or the estate of the insured or of the plan participant.

(4) Custodian considered as trustee. For purposes of this section, the term "trustee" includes any custodian under RCW Chapter 11.93 or any similar statutory provisions of any other state and the terms "trust agreement" and "will" refer to the provisions of RCW Chapter 11.93 or such similar statutory provisions of any other state.
(5) Other definitions. For purposes of this section the following definitions shall apply:

(a) "Retirement plan" means any plan, account, deposit, annuity, or benefit (other than a life insurance policy) that provides for payment to a beneficiary designated by the plan participant for whom the plan is established. The term includes, without limitation, such plans regardless of source of funding, and, for example, includes pensions, annuities, stock bonus plans, employee stock ownership plans, profit sharing plans, self-employed retirement plans, individual retirement accounts, individual retirement annuities, and retirement bonds, as well as any other retirement plan or program.

(b) "Plan administrator" means the person upon whom claim must be made in order for retirement plan proceeds to be paid upon the death of the plan participant.

(6) Current designations not affected. Enactment of this section does not invalidate previous life insurance policy or retirement plan beneficiary designations executed prior to the effective date of this 1984 Act naming a trustee established by will or by trust agreement.

Comment: This section combines into one place the provisions under prior RCW 48.18.450 and prior RCW 48.18.452 and also specifically authorizes payment of life insurance or retirement plan proceeds to a custodian under the Uniform Gifts to Minors Act of any state. The section is intended to authorize the naming of trustees or custodians to receive insurance policy or retirement plan benefits, but to leave the mechanics of such designations to the requirements established by individual insurance companies, subject to normal contract law principles. However, the section provides that disputes over payment of proceeds to a named trustee are to be resolved under the dispute resolution procedures of Chapter 11.96 generally applicable to disputes arising in probate or under a trust.

The section is intended to permit payment to trustees generally, regardless of whether or not a trust is funded or unfunded or by whom the trust was created. It requires only an executed trust agreement, even though the trust might otherwise be invalid, since the committee felt that the statute should carry out the intent of an insurance policy owner or retirement plan participant in naming a trustee to receive the proceeds.

The savings clause is included to make clear that any prior designations of trustees are not to be considered invalid under prior law simply on account of enactment of this new section.

Sec. 93 11.98.900 Application of chapter. The provisions hereof shall be applicable to any instrument purporting to create a trust regardless of the date such instrument shall bear, unless it has been previously adjudicated in the courts of this state. [1971 ex.s. c 229 §1; 1965 c 145
§11.98.050. Prior 1959 c 146 §5.]
Effective date -- 1959 c 146: The effective date of 1959 c 146, herein reenacted by 1965 c 145 §11.98.050, was midnight June 10, 1959, see preface 1959 session laws.

Sec. 94 11.98.910 Severability -- 1959 c 124. If any provision of this chapter or the application thereof to any person or circumstances is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect the other provisions or applications of the chapter which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this chapter are declared to be severable. 11.100.130 Person to whom power or authority to direct or control acts of trustee or investments of a trust are conferred deemed a fiduciary -- Liability

11.100.140 Notice and procedure for non-routine transaction
Sec. 95 11.100.010 Provisions of chapter to control. Any corporation, association, or person handling or investing trust funds as a fiduciary shall be governed in the handling and investment of such funds as in this chapter specified. Sec. 95 11.100.015 Guardians, guardianships and funds are subject to chapter. In addition to other fiduciaries, a guardian of any estate is a fiduciary within the meaning of this chapter; and in addition to other trusts, a guardianship of any estate is a trust within the meaning of this chapter; and in addition to other trust funds, guardianship funds are trust funds within the meaning of this chapter. [1955 c 33 §30.24.015. Prior: 1951 c 218 §1.]

Sec. 97 11.100.020 General specifications.

(1) A fiduciary is authorized to acquire and retain every kind of property. In acquiring, investing, reinvesting, exchanging, selling and managing property for the benefit of another, a fiduciary, in determining the prudence of a particular investment, shall give due consideration to the role that the proposed investment or investment course of action plays within the overall portfolio of assets. In applying such total asset management approach, a fiduciary shall exercise the judgment and care under the circumstances then prevailing, which are persons of prudence, discretion and intelligence exercise in the management of their own affairs, not in regard to speculation but in regard to the permanent disposition of their funds; and if the fiduciary has special skills or is named trustee on the basis of representations of special skills or expertise, the fiduciary is under a duty to use those skills.

(2) Except as may be provided to the contrary in the instrument, the following are among the factors that should be considered by a fiduciary in applying such total asset management approach:

(a) probable income as well as the probable safety of their capital,
(b) marketability of investments,
(c) length of the term of the investments,
(d) duration of the trust,
(e) liquidity needs,
(f) requirements of the beneficiary or beneficiaries,
(g) other assets of the beneficiary or beneficiaries, including earning capacity, and
(h) effect of investments in increasing or diminishing liability for taxes.

Within the limitations of the foregoing standard, a fiduciary is authorized to acquire and retain every kind of property, real, personal or mixed, and every kind of investment specifically including but not by way of limitation, debentures and other corporate obligations, and stocks, preferred or common, which men persons of prudence, discretion and intelligence acquire for their own account.

Comment: The revisions to the statute, formerly RCW 30.24.020, were made to give statutory recognition to the more modern total asset approach to investment management in contrast to the old rule that each individual asset had to satisfy the prudent man rule on its own merits. The Uniform Probate Code concept of requiring a higher standard of care for fiduciaries with special skills has been included and the statute has been broadened to provide an internal checklist of some of the more important factors which should be considered in applying the total asset management approach.

Sec. 98 11.100.023 Investments in certain enterprises. Subject to the standards of 11.99.020, a fiduciary is authorized to invest in new, unproven, untried, or other enterprises with a potential for significant growth whether or not producing a current return, either by investing directly therein or by investing as a limited partner or otherwise in one or more commingled funds which in turn invest primarily in such enterprises. The aggregate amount of investments made by a fiduciary under the authority of this section shall not exceed ten percent (10%) of the net fair market value of the trust corpus at the time any such investment is made. Any investment which would have been authorized by this section if in force at the time the investment was made is hereby authorized.

Comment: This is a new statute to affirm that in certain situations it may be prudent for a fiduciary to invest in new untried enterprises. Repeals RCW 30.24.080.

Sec. 99 11.100.025 Marital Deduction Interests. With respect to trusts for which a federal estate or gift tax marital deduction is taken, any investment in or retention of unproductive property shall be subject to a power in the spouse of the trust's creator to require either that any such asset be made productive, or that it be converted to productive assets within a reasonable period of time unless the instrument creating the interest provides otherwise.

Comment: This provision is intended to preserve a federal estate or gift tax marital deduction in the event the trust holds unproductive property. The retention of such assets can cause a marital deduction to be denied. However, giving the spouse a power to require that the assets be made productive, or that they be converted to productive assets, will save the deduction. Treas. Reg. §20.2056(b)-5(f)(4).

Sec. 101 11.100.030 Investment in savings accounts -- Requirements. A corporation doing a trust business may invest trust funds in savings accounts with itself to the extent that such deposits are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, an agency of the federal government. Additional trust funds may be so invested by the corporation only if it first sets aside under the control of its trust department as collateral security:

(1) Direct obligations of the United States or other obligations fully guaranteed by the United States as to principal and interest; or

(2) Bonds or other obligations which constitute general obligations of any state of the United States or municipal subdivision thereof.

The securities so deposited or securities substituted therefor as collateral shall at all times be at least equal in market value to the amount of such funds so deposited. [1967 c 133 §3; 1955 c 33 §3024.030. Prior: 1947 c 100 §3; Rem. Supp. 1947 §3255-10c.]

Comment: Formerly RCW 30.24.030.

Sec. 102 11.100.035 Investments in securities of certain investment trusts. Within the standards of judgment and care established by law, and subject to any express provisions or limitations contained in any particular trust instrument, guardians, trustees and other fiduciaries, whether individual or corporate, are authorized to acquire and retain securities of any open-end or closed-end management type investment company or investment trust registered under the Federal Investment Company act of 1940 as now or hereafter amended. [1955 c 33 §30.24.035. Prior: 1951 c 132 §1.].
Comment: Formerly RCW 30.24.035.

Sec. 104 11.100.037 Investment or distribution of funds held in fiduciary capacity -- Deposit in other departments authorized -- Collateral security required, exception. Funds held by a bank or trust company in a fiduciary capacity awaiting investment or distribution shall not be held uninvested or undistributed any longer than is reasonable for the proper management of the account. Such funds, including managing agency accounts, may, unless prohibited by the instrument creating the trust or by other statutes of this state, be deposited in the commercial or savings or other department of the bank or trust company, provided that only if the bank or trust company shall first set aside under control of the trust department as collateral security:

(1) Direct obligations of the United States or other obligations fully guaranteed by the United States as to principal and interest; or

(2) Bonds or other obligations which constitute general obligations of any state of the United States or municipal subdivision thereof.

The securities so deposited or securities substituted therefor as collateral shall at all times be at least equal in market value to the amount of such funds so deposited, but such security shall not be required to the extent that the funds so deposited are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation an agency of the federal government. [1967 c 133 §4.]

Comment: Formerly RCW 30.24.037.

Sec. 105 11.100.040 Court may permit deviation from terms of trust instrument. Nothing contained in this chapter shall be construed as restricting the power of a court of proper jurisdiction to permit a fiduciary to deviate from the terms of any will, agreement, or other instrument relating to the acquisition, investment, reinvestment, exchange, retention, sale, or management of fiduciary property. [1955 c 33 §30.24.040. Prior: 1947 c 100 §4; Rem. Supp. 1947 §3255-10d.]

Comment: Formerly RCW 30.24.040.

Sec. 107 11.100.050 Scope of chapter. The provisions of this chapter shall govern fiduciaries acting under wills, trusts, agreements, court orders, and other instruments now or hereafter in force effective before or after the effective date of this 1984 Act. [1955 c 33 §30.24.050. Prior: 1947 c 100 §5; Rem. Sup. 1947 §3255-10e.]

Comment: Formerly RCW 30.24.050. The amendment is designed to make sure that this chapter applies to all trusts now in existence or hereafter created.

Sec. 108 11.100.060 Liability of a Fiduciary Holding Trust Property. Any fiduciary may hold during the life of the trust all securities or other property, real or personal, received into or acquired by the trust from any source, excepting such as are purchased by the fiduciary in administering the trust, unless there are express provisions to the contrary in the instrument.

Any fiduciary may invest funds held in trust under an instrument creating such trust, in any manner and in any investment and in any class of investments authorized by the instrument.

The investments described in this section are permissible even though such securities or other property are not permitted under other provisions of this Chapter, and even though such securities may be securities issued by the corporation which is the fiduciary.

A fiduciary is not liable for any loss incurred with respect to any investment held under the authority of or pursuant to this section if such investment was permitted when received, or when the investment was made by the fiduciary, and if such fiduciary exercises due care and prudence in the disposition or retention of any such investment.

Comment: This statute which was formerly RCW 30.24.060 and 070 was drafted to codify the case of Baldus v. Bank of California, 12 Wn. App. 621 (1975), regarding the question of fiduciary liability where assets are held in trust by a fiduciary pursuant to the authority of RCW 11.99.060. The statute is patterned after Cal. Code §2261(2) and New York Code Article 11, Section 2.2.
Sec. 110 11.100.070 Terms of trust instrument defining permitted investments controlling. Any fiduciary may invest funds held in trust under an instrument creating such trust, in any manner and/or in any investment and/or in any class of investments authorized by such instrument, whether or not the same is otherwise qualified for the investment of trust funds. The term "legal investment" or "authorized investment" or words of similar import, as used in any such instrument, shall be taken to mean any investment which is permitted by the terms of Chapter 11.99 RCW.  [1955 c 33 §30.24.070. Prior: 1947 c 100 §7; 1941 c 41 §13; Rem Supp. 1947 §3255-13.]

Comment: Formerly RCW 30.24.070. The omitted portion of the above section is now covered by 11.99.060 and new Chapter 11.97, which states simply that the terms of the trust instrument shall govern all provisions of Chapter 11.99.

Sec. 111 11.100.090 Dealings with self or affiliate. Unless the instrument creating the trust expressly provides to the contrary, any fiduciary in carrying out the obligations of the trust, may not buy or sell investments from or to himself or itself or any affiliated or subsidiary company or association. This section shall not be construed as prohibiting the trustee's powers authorized under RCW 11.98.070(12).  [1955 c 33 §30.24.090. Prior: 1947 c 100 §9; 1941 c 41 §17; Rem. Supp. 1947 §3255-17.]
Comment: Formerly RCW 30.24.090 with the exception of the last sentence which was added for clarification regarding a trustee's power to advance or borrow money from the trustee's own funds.

Sec. 112 11.100.120 Investments in policies of life insurance.

Within Subject to the standards of judgment and care established by law, RCW 11.100.020, and subject to any express provisions or limitations contained in any particular trust instrument, guardians, trustees and other fiduciaries, whether individual or corporate, are a fiduciary is authorized to invest the principal of use trust funds to acquire and retain policies of life insurance made upon the life of any person for whose benefit the fiduciary holds property or made beneficiary or upon the life of another in whose life such person beneficiary has an insurable interest. the policy and the proceeds or avails thereof to be the property of the fiduciary.

The purpose of this section is to affirm that certain policies of life insurance are among the investments authorized for fiduciaries, but without creating any inference that a policy of life insurance is preferable to other authorized investments in a particular instance. [1973 1st Ex. S. 99417]}

Comment: Formerly RCW 30.24.120. This statute was revised to refer specifically to the new Prudent Person Rule as set forth in RCW 11.100.020 and to make other clarifying changes. The revisions are not intended to make any substantive changes in the law with regard to the appropriateness by fiduciaries of investments in life insurance.

Sec. 113 11.100.130  Person to whom power or authority to direct or control acts of trustee or investments of a trust are conferred deemed a fiduciary -- Liability. Whenever power or authority to direct or control the acts of a trustee or the investment of a trust is conferred directly or indirectly upon any person other than the designated trustee of the trust, such person shall be deemed to be a fiduciary and shall be liable to the beneficiaries of said trust and to the designated trustee to the same extent as if he were a designated trustee in relation to the exercise or nonexercise of such power or authority. [1973 1st ex.s. c 89 §2.]

Comment: Formerly RCW 30.24.130.

Sec. 114 11.100.140  Notice and procedure for non-routine transactions. (1) A trustee shall not enter into a significant non-routine transaction in the absence of a compelling circumstance without:

(a) Providing the written notice called for by subsection (3); and

(b) If the significant non-routine transaction is of the type described in subsection (2)(a) below, obtaining an independent appraisal, or selling in an open-market transaction.
(2) A "significant non-routine transaction" for the purpose of this section is defined as any of the following:

(a) any sale, option, lease or other agreement, binding for a period of ten years or more, dealing with any interest in real estate (other than real estate purchased by the trustee or a vendor's interest in a real estate contract) the value of which constitutes twenty-five percent (25%) or more of the net fair market value of trust principal at the time of the transaction; or

(b) the sale of any item or items of tangible personal property, including a sale of precious metals or investment gems, (other than precious metals or investment gems purchased by the trustee) the value of which constitutes twenty-five percent (25%) or more of the net fair market value of trust principal at the time of the transaction; or

(c) the sale of shares of stock in a corporation whose stock is not traded on the open market, if the stock in question constitutes more than twenty-five percent (25%) of the corporation's outstanding shares; or

(d) the sale of shares of stock in any corporation where the stock to be sold constitutes a controlling interest, or would cause the trust to no longer own a controlling interest, in the corporation.

(3) A "compelling circumstance" for the purpose of this section is defined as a condition, fact or event which the trustee believes necessitates action without compliance with this section in order to avoid immediate and significant detriment to the trust. If faced with a compelling circumstance, the trustee shall give the notice called for by Paragraph (3) and may thereafter enter into the significant non-routine transaction without waiting for the expiration of the twenty-day period.

(4) The written notice required by this section shall set forth such material facts as necessary to properly advise the recipient of such notice of the nature and terms of the intended transaction. Such notice shall be given to the trustor, if living, to each person who is 18 years old or older and to whom income is presently payable or for whom income is presently being accumulated for distribution as income and for whom an address is known to the trustee, and to the attorney general if the trust is a charitable trust under RCW 11.110.020. The notice shall be mailed by U.S. certified mail, postage prepaid, return receipt requested, to the recipient's last-known address, or may be personally served, at least 20 days prior to the trustee entering into any binding agreements.

(5) The trustor, if living, or persons entitled to notice under this section may, by written instrument, waive any requirement imposed by this section.

(6) Except as required by this section for non-routine transactions defined in subsection (2) of this section, a trustee shall not be required to notify beneficiaries of a trust of the trustee's intended action, to obtain an independent appraisal, or to sell in an open-market transaction.
(7) Any person dealing with a trustee may rely upon the trustee’s written statement that the requirements of this section have been met for a particular transaction. If a trustee gives such a statement, the transaction shall be final unless the party relying on the same has actual knowledge that the requirements of this section have not been met.

(8) The requirements of this section, and any similar requirements imposed by prior case law, shall not apply to personal representatives or to those trusts excluded from the definition of express trusts under RCW 11.98.009.

Comment: This statute is intended to provide trustees with specific statutory guidance concerning the notices and procedures to be followed under certain circumstances. The provision permitting a trustee to enter into a significant non-routine transaction without waiting for expiration of the 20-day period in a compelling circumstance is intended to be available for emergency situations where prompt action is necessary to avoid a loss. The statute was drafted to codify the principles of Allard v. Pacific Bank, 99 Wn.2d 394 (1983), and expressly to supersede that decision so it will have no application, except as codified in this section. The section is intended to supersede and overrule the case because of certain uncertainties it created, and to provide workable rules for the beneficial principles expressed in that case.

This section requires that trustees give beneficiaries prior notice of significant non-routine transactions so the beneficaries can consider, and if appropriate, seek to prevent the occurrence of the proposed transaction. This section makes clear that it (and the Allard case) do not apply to personal representatives (defined in RCW 11.02.005(1)) since their actions are already adequately regulated by existing probate laws.

The section makes clear that a third party dealing with a trustee may rely on the trustee's written statement that all required notices have been given or that this section has otherwise been complied with.

sec. 116 11.104.010  Definitions. As used in this chapter:

(1) "Income beneficiary" means the person to whom income is presently payable or for whom it is accumulated for distribution as income;

(2) "Inventory value" means the cost of property purchased by the trustee and the cost or adjusted basis for federal income tax purposes of other property at the time it became subject to the trust, but in the case of a ((testamentary)) trust asset that is included on any death tax return, the trustee may, but need not, use the value finally determined for the purposes of the federal estate tax if applicable, otherwise for another estate or inheritance tax;

(3) "Remainderman" means the person entitled to principal, including income which has been accumulated and added to principal.

(4) "Trustee" means an original trustee and any successor or added trustee.

Comment: The definition of "inventory value" has been expanded to give a trustee the option of using an asset's death tax value if and when such asset is subjected to a death tax reporting requirement. It is to be emphasized that the use of the death tax value is discretionary. No liability will attach to a failure to use such value, whether or not the failure is intentional.
The additional reference to "another estate or" inheritance tax has been added to reflect the recent changes in the Washington death tax statutes.

The change of "an" to "any" in section (4) was made to clarify that "trustee" includes all original cotrustees.
Sec. 117 11.104.020 Duty of trustee as to receipts and expenditures.

(1) A trust shall be administered with due regard to the respective interests of income beneficiaries and remaindermen. A trust is so administered with respect to the allocation of receipts and expenditures if a receipt is credited or an expenditure is charged to income or principal or partly to each:

(a) in accordance with the terms of the trust instrument, notwithstanding contrary provisions of this chapter;

(b) in the absence of any contrary terms of the trust instrument, in accordance with the provisions of this chapter; or

(c) if neither of the preceding rules of administration is applicable, in accordance with what is reasonable and equitable in view of the interests of those entitled to income as well as of those entitled to principal, and in view of the manner in which persons of prudence, discretion and intelligence would act in the management of their own affairs.

(2) If the trust instrument gives the trustee discretion in crediting a receipt or charging an expenditure to income or principal or partly to each, no inference of imprudence or partiality arises from the fact that the trustee has made an allocation consistent with it which is contrary to a provision of this chapter.

Comment: This change is to clarify that a trustee must act either in accord with this chapter or in accord with the trust instrument.
Sec. 118 11.104.030 Income--principal--charges.

(1) Income is the return in money or property derived from the use of principal, including:

(a) rent of real or personal property, including sums received for cancellation or renewal of a lease;

(b) interest on money lent, including sums received as consideration for the privilege of pre-payment of principal except as provided in RCW 11.104.070 on bond premiums and bond discounts;

(c) income earned during administration of a decedent's estate as provided in RCW 11.104.050;

(d) corporate distributions as provided in RCW 11.104.060;

(e) increment in value on bonds or other obligations issued at a discount as provided in RCW 11.104.070;

(f) receipts from business and farming operations as provided in RCW 11.104.080;

(g) receipts from disposition of natural resources as provided in RCW 11.104.090 and 11.104.100;

(h) receipts from other principal subject to depletion as provided in RCW 11.104.110; and

(i) receipts from disposition of underproductive property as provided in RCW 11.104.120.

(2) Principal is the property which has been set aside by the owner or the person legally empowered so that it is held in trust eventually to be delivered to a remainderman while the return on or use of the principal is in the meantime taken or received by or held for accumulation for an income beneficiary. Principal includes:

(a) consideration received by the trustee on the sale or other transfer of principal or on repayment of a loan or as a refund or replacement or change in the form of principal;

(b) proceeds of property taken on eminent domain proceedings;

(c) proceeds of insurance upon property forming part of the principal except proceeds of insurance upon a separate interest of an income beneficiary;

(d) stock dividends, receipts on liquidation of a corporation, and other corporate distributions as provided in RCW 11.104.060;

(e) receipts from the disposition of corporate securities, bonds or other obligations for the payment of money as provided in RCW 11.104.070;

(f) royalties and other receipts from disposition of natural resources as provided in RCW 11.104.090 and 11.104.100;

(g) receipts from other principal subject to depletion as provided in RCW 11.104.110;

(h) any profit resulting from any change in the form of principal except as provided in RCW 11.104.120 on underproductive property;

(i) receipts from disposition of underproductive property as provided in RCW 11.104.120; and

(3) After determining income and principal in accordance with the terms of the trust instrument or of this act, the trustee shall charge to income or principal expenses and other charges as provided in RCW 11.104.130.

Comment: Changes were made to clarify the language of the statute.
Sec. 119 11.104.040 When right to income arises—apportionment of income.

(1) An income beneficiary is entitled to income from the date specified in the trust instrument, or, if none is specified, from the date an asset becomes subject to the trust. In the case of an asset becoming subject to a trust by reason of a will, it becomes subject to the trust as of the date of the death of the testator even though there is an intervening period of administration of the testator’s estate.

(2) Subject to subparts (a) and (b) below, in the administration of a decedent’s estate or of an asset becoming subject to a trust by reason of a will, all receipts paid on or before the date of death of the testator are principal, and all receipts paid after such date are income.

(a) Notwithstanding the foregoing, receipts due but not paid on or before the date of death of the testator are principal; and

(b) receipts in the form of periodic payments (other than corporate distributions to stockholders), including rent, interest, or annuities, not due on or before the date of death of the testator shall be treated as accruing from day to day. That portion of the receipt accruing before the date of death is principal, and the balance is income.

Comment: Subsection (2) has been changed to clarify the characterization of receipts not specifically enumerated in subparts (a) and (b). In addition, subparts (a) and (b) have been clarified by referencing receipts received on or before the date of death, instead of receipts received at the date of death. The former reference was ambiguous as to whether or not the phrase "at the date of death" was inclusive or exclusive of the actual day of death. Carl J. Sinder, Revised Uniform Principal and Income Act; progress but not perfection, Law Forum 473, 479 (1963).

(3) In all other cases, any receipt from an income producing asset is income even though the receipt was earned or accrued in whole or in part before the date when the asset became subject to the trust.

(4) On the termination of an income beneficiary's income interest, (income earned but not distributed) if such interest was not subject to any discretion to withhold, accumulate, or distribute income to or for any other beneficiary, then income on hand but undistributed shall belong to such income beneficiary or his estate, except that if the income beneficiary is the surviving spouse of the testator or grantor of the trust and the income interest otherwise qualifies for the marital deduction on any federal estate tax return, then all accrued but undistributed income is subject to a power in such surviving spouse, exercisable by will by specifically referring to this statute, to appoint the same to the testator or grantor or his or her estate. All undistributed income not disposed of under the foregoing provisions of this subsection shall be held and distributed as part of the next eventual interest or estate in accordance with the provisions of the will or trust relating to such next eventual interest or estate. Except, this shall not apply to any marital deduction income interest as provided in Section 2056 (and as amended or reenacted) of the Internal Revenue Code of the United States.

Comment: The language referring to Section 2056 of the Internal Revenue Code was deleted to avoid the unconstitutional delegation of legislative authority as outlined in the case of State v. Dougall, 89 Wash. 2d 118, 570 P. 2d 135 (1977). It was replaced by language making the proper method of allocating accumulated income dependent on whether the income interest was discretionary or not. With the exception of an Estate Trust, all trusts which qualify for the marital deduction must have non-discretionary income interests in favor of the surviving spouse. Under the proposed change, this will result in the disposition of any interest on hand at the time of termination to either the surviving spouse or his estate, avoiding a disqualification of the interest for marital deduction purposes. Other accrued but undistributed income shall pass to the next succeeding interest, subject to a power of appointment in the surviving spouse. The addition of the power of appointment provision is to protect Qualified Terminable Interest Property Trust interests from disqualification for the marital deduction. This is based on Treasury Regulation 20.2056(b)-5(f)(8), which provides that accrued but undistributed income at the time of the surviving spouse's death can be passed on to third parties so long as it was subject to a general power of appointment in the surviving spouse. The "QTIP" trust is the only marital deduction trust format (other than an Estate Trust) which does not by its nature have such a power in the surviving spouse. With respect to Estate Trusts, all accrued interest will pass to the surviving spouse's estate under the terms of the trust instrument.

The proposed changes will also prevent an inadvertent application of the grantor trust rules of Internal Revenue Code §677. Under that section, all income which may be accumulated for the benefit of the grantor or his spouse will be currently taxed to him. The normal short term, or Clifford, trust provides that trust assets revert to the grantor upon the trust's termination. Under the present statute, if the instrument does not explicitly state that all undistributed income is to be distributed to a person or entity other than the grantor, such income becomes payable to the grantor, causing an application of §677. The new draft provides that undistributed income belongs to the income beneficiary, alleviating this problem.

Finally, the changes allow the trustee to accumulate income for ultimate passage to successors in interest for practical or tax reasons, if the instrument so allows.
(5) Corporate distributions to stockholders shall be treated as due on the day fixed by the corporation for determination of stockholders of record entitled to distribution, or if no date is fixed, on the date of declaration of the distribution by the corporation.
Sec. 120 11.104.050 Income earned during administration of a decedent's estate.

(1) Unless the will or the court otherwise provides and subject to subsection (2), all expenses incurred in connection with the settlement of a decedent's estate, including debts, funeral expenses, estate taxes, interest due at death and penalties concerning taxes, family allowances, fees of attorneys and personal representatives, and court costs shall be charged against the principal of the estate, except that the principal shall be reimbursed from income for any increase in estate taxes due to the use of administration expenses which were paid from principal as deductions for income tax purposes.

(2) Unless the will or the court otherwise provides, income from the assets of a decedent's estate after the death of the testator and before distribution, including income from property used to discharge liabilities, shall be determined in accordance with the rules applicable to a trust under this act and distributed as follows:

(a) to beneficiaries of any specific bequest, legacy, or devise, specific legatees and devisees, the income from the property bequeathed or devised to them respectively, less taxes, ordinary repairs, and other expenses of management and operation of the property, and appropriate portions of interest accrued since the death of the testator and of taxes imposed on income (excluding taxes on capital gains) which accrue during the period of administration; and
(b) subject to subpart (c), to all other beneficiaries, including trusts, legatees and devisees, except legatees of pecuniary bequests not in trust, the balance of the income less the balance of taxes, ordinary repairs, and other expenses of management and operation of all property from which the estate is entitled to income, plus the balance of all income accrued since the death of the testator, and less the balance of all taxes imposed on income (excluding taxes on capital gains) which accrue during the period of administration, in proportion to their respective interests in the undistributed assets of the estate computed at times of distribution on the basis of the fair value; provided, however, that the amount of such income earned before the date or dates of payment of any estate or inheritance tax shall be distributed to those beneficiaries in proportion to their interests immediately before the making of such payments.

(c) pecuniary bequests not in trust do not receive income, and, subject to the provisions of RCW 11.56.160, all such bequests, are not allocated any share of the expenses identified in subsection (2)(b) of this section.

(3) Any income with respect to which the income taxes have been paid which is payable in whole or in part to one or more charitable or other tax exempt organizations, and for which an income tax charitable deduction was allowable, shall be allocated among the distributees in such manner that the diminution in such taxes resulting from the charitable deduction allowable will inure to the benefit of the charitable or tax exempt organization giving rise to the deduction.

(2) (4) Income received by a trustee under subsection (2) shall be treated as income of the trust.

Comment: This section has been redrafted to allow the reallocation of estate settlement expenses by the court should sound economic, equitable, or tax reasons for doing so be shown.
In addition, the proviso of subsection (1) has been added to statutorily provide for the equitable adjustment required by the courts in Estate of Bixby, 295 P.2d 68 (D.C. Cal. 1956), and Estate of Wams, 140 N.Y.2d 169 (N.Y. Co. 1955). As with the other allocations provided in subsection (1), this proviso is subject to contrary provision in the will, and contrary order of court.

Subsection (2)(b) was changed by deleting the reference to legatees of pecuniary bequests not in trust, and making this the subject of new subsection (c). This change was made for clarity.
In addition, subsection (2)(b) was expanded to clarify the method for allocating the income amongst the general and residuary beneficiaries. The new language makes clear that the allocation is to be made on a ratable basis according to the fair value of each such beneficiary's interest in the estate immediately before the distribution is made. The proviso is designed to ensure that the income interests of beneficiaries that bear a greater share of death taxes will not be disproportionately reduced. These provisions are based on section 11-3.1(d)(2) of the New York Estates, Powers and Trusts law.

New subsection (3) is based on §15-1-417(5) of the Colorado Revised Statutes. This provision has been added to ensure that the amount of income to be paid to a charitable or other tax exempt organization is not diminished by income taxes if the amount would have been allowable as a charitable deduction on the fiduciary income tax return.
Sec. 121 11.104.060 Corporate Distribution.

(1) Corporate distributions of shares of the distributing corporation, including distributions in the form of a stock split or stock dividend, are principal. A right to subscribe to shares or other securities issued by the distributing corporation accruing to stockholders on account of their stock ownership and the proceeds of any sale of the right are principal.

(2) Except to the extent that the corporation indicates that some part of a corporate distribution is a settlement of preferred or guaranteed dividends accrued since the stock became a part of the trust corpus or is in lieu of an ordinary cash dividend, a corporate distribution is principal if the distribution is pursuant to:

   (a) a call of shares;

   (b) a merger, consolidation, reorganization, or other plan by which assets of the corporation are acquired by another corporation; or

   (c) a total or partial liquidation of the corporation, including any distribution which the corporation indicates is a distribution in total or partial liquidation or any distribution of assets, other than cash, pursuant to a court decree or final administrative order by a government agency ordering distribution of the particular assets.

(3) Distributions made from ordinary income by a regulated investment company or by a trust qualifying and electing to be taxed under federal law as a real estate investment trust are income. All other distributions made by the company or trust, including distribution from depreciation or depletion, whether in the form of cash or an option to take new stock or cash or an option to purchase additional shares, are principal.

(4) Except as provided in subsections (1), (2), and (3) of this section, all corporate distributions are income, including cash dividends, distributions of or rights to subscribe to shares or securities or obligations of corporations other than the distributing corporation, and the proceeds of the rights or property distributions. Except as provided in subsections (2) and (3) of this section, if the distributing corporation gives a stockholder an option to receive a distribution either in cash or in its own shares, the distribution chosen is income.

(5) The trustee may rely upon any statement of the distributing corporation as to any fact relevant under any provision of this act concerning the source or character of dividends or distributions of corporate assets.

Comment: Subsection (2) has been changed to conform to the allocation rules of RCW 11.104.040.
Sec. 122 11.104.070 Bond premium and discount.

(1) Bonds or other obligations for the payment of money are principal at their inventory value, except as provided in subsection (2) for discount bonds. The trustee shall not make provision for amortization of premiums or accumulation of discount except where the trust instrument provides otherwise. If the instrument provides for amortization of premiums or accumulation of discount, but not both, and is silent as to one, it shall be the duty of the trustee to amortize premiums and accumulate discount. The proceeds of sale, redemption or other disposition of the bonds or obligations are principal.

(2) The increment in value of a bond or other obligation for the payment of money bearing no fixed rate of interest or payable at a future time in accordance with a fixed schedule of appreciation in excess of the price at which it was issued is distributable as income. Except as otherwise provided in RCW 11.104.040(4), the increment in value is distributable to the beneficiary who was the income beneficiary at the time of increment from the first principal cash available or, if none is available, when realized by sale, redemption or other disposition. Whenever unrealized increment is distributed as income but out of principal, the principal shall be reimbursed for the increment when realized.

Comment: Subsection (2) has been changed to include obligations which do not bear a fixed rate of interest. As presently drafted, the rule of subsection (2) would not apply to most short term obligations which do not have a fixed schedule of appreciation. Without the addition of this language it would appear the earnings on such obligations should be allocated to principal under the rule of subsection (1). Carl J. Sinder, Revised Uniform Principal and Income Act; progress but not perfection, Law Forum 473, 485 (1963); George E. Parker, The New Principal and Income Act, 45 Mich.S.B.J. 24, 26 (1966). This change is similar to Florida Statute §738.07.
sec. 123 11.104.080 Trade, business and farming operations. If a trustee uses any part of the principal in the operation of a trade, business or farming operation, the proceeds and losses of the business shall be allocated in accordance with what is reasonable and equitable in view of the interest of those entitled to income as well as those entitled to principal, and in view of the manner in which persons (men) of prudence, discretion and intelligence would act in the management of their own affairs in accordance with RCW 11.104.020. The operation of real estate for rent is considered a business.
Sec. 124 11.104.090 Disposition of natural resources.

(1) If any part of the principal consists of a right to receive royalties, overriding or limited royalties, working interests, production payments, net profit interests, or other interests in minerals or other natural resources in, on or under the land, the receipts from taking the natural resources from the land shall be allocated as follows:

(a) if received as rent on a lease or extension payments on a lease, the receipts are income;

(b) if received from a production payment, the receipts are income to the extent of any factor for interest or its equivalent provided in the government instrument. There shall be allocated to principal the fraction of the balance of the receipts which the unrecovered cost of the production payment bears to the balance owed on the production payment exclusive of any factor for interest or its equivalent. The receipts not allocated to principal are income; and

(c) if received as a royalty, overriding or limited royalty, or bonus, or from a working, net profit, or any other interest in minerals or other natural resources, receipts not provided for in the preceding paragraphs of this section shall be apportioned on a yearly basis in accordance with this paragraph whether or not any natural resource was being taken from the land at the time the trust was established. Receipts shall be transferred to principal allocated to income or apportioned between income and principal in the discretion of the trustee, but in no event shall principal be allocated more than that portion of the gross receipts which is deductible for federal income tax purposes during such year. The balance of the gross receipts, after payment therefrom of all expenses, direct and indirect, is income.

(2) If a trustee, on January 1, 1972, held an item of depletatable property of a type specified in this section, the trustee shall allocate receipts from the property in the manner used before January 1, 1972, but as to all depletatable property acquired after January 1, 1972, by an existing or new trust, the method of allocation provided herein shall be used.

(3) This section does not apply to timber, water, soil, sod, dirt, turf, or mosses.

Comment: The language of subsection (1)(c) has been modified to give the trustee greater flexibility in the allocation of receipts from certain natural resources. The former limit on principal allocations has been retained, being dependent on available deductions for income tax purposes. This new rule gives the trustee greater flexibility to weigh the equities of a given situation. The new rule is a variant of California Civil Code §730.09(a)(3).
11.104.100 Timber. If any part of the principal consists of land from which merchantable timber may be removed, the receipts from taking the timber from the land shall be allocated in accordance with RCW 11.104.020.
11.104.110 Other property subject to depletion. Except as provided in RCW 11.104.090 and 11.104.100, if the principal consists of property subject to depletion, including leaseholds, patents, copyrights, royalty rights, and rights to receive payments on a contract for deferred compensation, receipts from the property, not in excess of five percent per year of its inventory value, are income and the balance is principal.
Sec. 125 11.104.120 Underproductive property.

(1) Except as otherwise provided in this section, a portion of the net proceeds of sale of any part of principal which is underproductive (has not produced an average net income of at least one percent per year of its inventory value for more than a year (including any income—the value of any beneficial use of the property by the income beneficiary)) shall be treated as delayed income to which the income beneficiary is entitled as provided in this section.

The net proceeds of sale are the gross proceeds received, including the value of any property received (in substitution for the property disposed of), less expenses, including any capital gains tax incurred in the disposition, and less any carrying charges paid while the property was underproductive.

(2) The sum allocated as delayed income is the difference between the net proceeds and the amount which, had it been invested at simple interest at four percent per year while the property was underproductive, would have produced the net proceeds. This sum, plus any carrying charges and expenses previously charged against income while the property was underproductive, less any income received by the income beneficiary from the property, and less the value of any beneficial use of the property by the income beneficiary, is income, and the balance is principal.
(3) Except as otherwise provided in RCW 11.104.040(4) an income beneficiary is entitled to delayed income under this section as if it accrued from day to day during the time he was a beneficiary.

(4) If principal subject to this section is disposed of by conversion into property which cannot be apportioned easily, including land or mortgages (for example, realty acquired by or in lieu of foreclosure), the income beneficiary is entitled to the net income from any property or obligation into which the original principal is converted while the substituted property or obligation is held. If within five years after the conversion the substituted property has not been further converted into easily apportionable property, no allocation as provided in this section shall be made.

(5) This section does not apply to underproductive property which the trustee is authorized to retain by the terms of the controlling document or by law, which is received into or acquired by the trust from any source (excepting property which is purchased by the fiduciary in administering the trust), the retention of which has been authorized in writing by the income beneficiaries, or the retention of which would be considered proper under the standard set forth in RCW 11.100.020.

(6) As used in this section, the term "underproductive property" refers to any property which has not produced an average net income of at least one percent per year (simple interest) of its inventory value for more than a year (including as income the value of any use of the property by the income beneficiary.)

Comment: The definition of "underproductive property" has been taken from subsection (1) and added as new subsection (6) for clarity. New subsection (5) was added to create an exemption from the application of this section where the trustee is specifically authorized to retain underproductive property, where the property was contributed to the trust in its present form, or where the asset's retention would not be considered imprudent under the standards set out in the trustee's investment statute. This is a variant of the New York common law rule that, when dealing with property which was previously owned by the grantor, there is no right to deferred income on its sale unless the trustee was under a duty to make the property productive. 3 A. Scott, Scott on Trusts, §241.2, p.2079 (3rd. ed. 1967).

The subjective requirement that the value of the income beneficiary's "beneficial" use offset the computation of delayed income has been eliminated. The value of any use by the beneficiary will instead be considered, with its beneficial character being one of the factors in determining its value.

All other changes were made for clarity.
Sec. 126 11.104.130 Charges against income and principal.

(1) the following charges shall be made against income:

(a) Ordinary expenses incurred in connection with the administration, management, or preservation of the trust property, including regularly recurring taxes assessed against any portion of the principal, water rates, premiums on insurance taken upon the interests of the income beneficiary, remaindermen, or trustee, interest paid by the trustee, and ordinary repairs;

(b) if the trustee deems the same to be appropriate under the standards set forth at 11.104.020(1)(c), a reasonable allowance for depreciation on property subject to depreciation under generally accepted accounting principles; but no allowance shall be made for depreciation of that portion of any real property used by a beneficiary as a residence or for depreciation of any property held by the trustee on January 1, 1972 for which the trustee is not then making an allowance for depreciation;

(c) one-half of court costs, attorneys fees, and other fees on period (judicial) accountings, unless the court directs otherwise;

(d) court costs, attorneys fees, and other fees on other accountings or judicial proceedings if the matter primarily concerns the income interest, unless the court directs otherwise;

(e) one-half of the trustee's regular compensation, whether based on a percentage of principal or income; and

(f) all expenses reasonably incurred for current management of principal and application of income; and
(4) (g) any tax levied upon receipts (\textit{defined as}) allocated to income under this act or the trust instrument and payable by the trustee.

(2) If charges against income are of unusual amount, the trustee may by means of reserves or other reasonable means charge them over a reasonable period of time and withhold from distributions sufficient sums to regularize distributions.

(3) The following charges shall be made against principal:

(a) trustee's compensation not chargeable to income under subsections (1)(d) and (1)(e), special compensation of trustees, expenses reasonably incurred in connection with principal, court costs and attorneys fees primarily concerning matters of principal, and trustee's compensation computed on principal as an acceptance, distribution, or termination fee;

(b) charges not provided for in subsection (1), including the cost of investing and reinvesting principal, the payments on principal of an indebtedness (including a mortgage amortized by periodic payments of principal), expenses for preparation of property for rental or sale, and, unless the court directs otherwise, expenses incurred in maintaining or defending any action to construe the trust or protect it or the property or assure the title of any trust property;

(c) extraordinary repairs or expenses incurred in making a capital improvement to principal, including special assessments, but, a trustee may establish an allowance for depreciation out of income to the extent permitted by subsection (1)(b) and by RCW 11.104.080;

(d) any tax levied upon profit, gain, or other receipts allocated to principal notwithstanding denomination of the tax as an income tax by the tax authority; and

(e) if an estate or inheritance tax is levied in respect of a trust in which both an income beneficiary and a remainderman have an interest, any amount apportioned to the trust, including interest (whether on account of direct or indirect borrowing for the purpose of paying such taxes) and penalties, even though the income beneficiary also has rights in the principal.

(4) Regularly recurring charges payable from income shall be apportioned to the same extent and in the same manner that income is apportioned under RCW 11.104.040.

Comment: Subsection (1)(b) was changed to give the trustee discretion in establishing reserves for depreciation. The common law rule provided that reserves for depreciation were not permitted without specific authority in the trust instrument. Estate of Shea, 69 Wn.2d 534, 408 P.2d 356 (1966). To require the establishment of a reserve account will often defeat the primary intent of the trustor - to provide the maximum possible benefit for the income beneficiary. It is more equitable not to require the establishment of such a reserve, but rather authorize its establishment if prudent. See George C. Bogert, The Revised Uniform Principal and Income Act, 38 Notre Dame Lawyer 50, 56 (1962); Allison Dunham, et al., Uniform Revised Principal and Income Act, 101 Trusts & Estates 894, 897 (1962).

Subsection (1)(c) has been changed by deleting the requirement that a periodic accounting be part of a judicial proceeding in order for the allocation rules of that subsection to apply. This was done to ensure a like allocation in the event of a non-judicial periodic accounting. Previously such fees and costs were not specifically addressed.

The language of subsection 1(f) was changed to correspond to the language of subsection 3(d).

Subsection (3)(e) was changed to specify that the interest incurred to pay death taxes may be from direct or indirect borrowing. For example, interest from direct borrowing would be interest charged by the taxing authority when the tax is not timely paid, and interest from indirect borrowing would be interest incurred when money is borrowed from a third party and taxes are paid. Under current law a question could arise where an estate borrows money from a third party in order to pay death taxes. Arguably, the interest thus incurred is not interest on the taxes. This modification makes clear that interest incurred on account of such indirect borrowing should be treated as interest on such taxes under the statute.
11.104.900 Application of chapter. Except as specifically provided in the trust instrument or the will or in this chapter, this chapter shall apply to any receipt or expense received or incurred on or after January 1, 1972 by the estate of any decedent dying on or after January 1, 1972 or by any trust whether established before or after January 1, 1972 and whether the asset involved was acquired by the trustee before or after January 1, 1972, or after the effective date of this 1984 Act.
11.104.910 Short title. This chapter may be cited as the Washington Principal and Income Act.
11.104.920 Severability—1971 c 74. If any provision of this act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the invalidity does not affect other provisions or applications of the act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application and to this end the provisions of this act are severable.
11.104.930  Section headings not part of law. Section headings, as found in this 1971-amended 1984 act do not constitute any part of the law.
11.104.940 Effective date 1971 c 74. This chapter shall take effect on January 1, 1972, with the amendments of 1984 c  to take effect on January 1, 1985.

[1955 c 33 §30.30.010. Prior: 1951 c 226 §10.]

Comment: Formerly RCW 30.30.010.

Sec. 129 11.106.020 Trustee's annual statement. The trustee or trustees appointed by any will, deed or agreement heretofore or hereafter executed shall mail or deliver at least annually to each adult income trust beneficiary a written itemized statement of all current receipts and disbursements made by the trustee of the funds of the trust both principal and income, and upon the request of any such beneficiary shall furnish him an itemized statement of all property then held by such trustee, and may also file any such statement in the superior court of the county in which the trustee or one of the trustees resides. [1955 c 33 §30.30.020. Prior: 1951 c 226 §2.]
Sec. 130 11.106.030 Intermediate and final accounts -- Contents -- Filing. In addition to the statement required by RCW 11.106.020, any such trustee or trustees whenever it or they so desire, may file in the superior court of the county in which the trustee or one of the trustees resides an intermediate account under oath showing:

(1) The period covered by the account;

(2) The total principal with which the trustee is chargeable according to the last preceding account or the inventory if there is no preceding account;

(3) An itemized statement of all principal funds received and disbursed during such period;

(4) An itemized statement of all income received and disbursed during such period, unless waived;

(5) The balance of such principal and income remaining at the close of such period and how invested;

(6) The names and addresses of all living beneficiaries, including contingent beneficiaries, of the trust, and a statement as to any such beneficiary known to be under legal disability; file a final account in similar manner. (1955 c 33 §30.30.030.

Prior: 1951 c 226 §3.)

Comment: Formerly RCW 30.30.030.

Sec. 131 11.106.040 Account -- Court may require -- Petition. Upon the petition under chapter 11.96 RCW of any settlor or of any beneficiary of such a trust after due notice thereof as provided in chapter 11.96 RCW to the trustee the superior court in the county where the trustee or one of the trustees resides may direct the trustee or trustees thereof to file in said the court an account at any time subsequent to after one year from the day on which such a report was last filed, or if none, then after one year from the inception of the trust. (1955 c 33 §30.30.040.
Prior: 1951 c 226 §4.)

Comment: Formerly RCW 30.30.040. The changes incorporate the judicial resolution procedures of chapter 11.96 RCW for uniformity of procedures.

Sec. 132 11.106.050 Account filed -- Return day -- Notice. When any each account shall have has been filed pursuant to RCW 11.106.040 the clerk of the court where filed shall fix a return day therefor, and issue a notice as provided in RCW 11.96.090. fer-herein: if each of the beneficiaries and the guardians and guardians ad litem, if any, appointed pursuant to RCW 30.30.060, is personally served with a copy of the notice, whether within or outside the state of Washington, at least twenty-five days prior to the return day, then no publication of the notice shall be required; otherwise the trustees shall cause notice as provided for herein to be given by publishing the same at least once a week for three successive weeks preceding the return day, the first publication to be at least twenty-five days preceding the return day, such publication to be in a newspaper of general circulation in the county, or if none then in an adjoining county. And in any event at least twenty-five days prior to the return day a copy of the notice shall be either served upon each beneficiary not represented by guardian or guardian ad litem or mailed to each such beneficiary not so served at such beneficiary's address last known to the trustee, and shall be either served upon each guardian and guardian ad litem appointed pursuant to RSW 30.30.060, or mailed to each such guardian and guardian ad litem not so served at such guardian or guardian ad litem's address last known to the trustee. Proof of service of the notice may be made by affidavit as provided for service of summons in civil actions, or by written admission of service signed by the person served. The notice shall state the time and place for the return day, the name or names of the trustee or trustees who have filed the account, that the account has been filed, that the court is asked to settle such the account, and that any objections or exceptions thereto to the account must be filed with the clerk of said court on or before such the return day. [1955 c 33 § 30.30.050. Prior: 1951 c 226 § 5.]

Sec. 140 11.108.010 Definitions. As used in this chapter:

(1) The term "pecuniary bequest" means a gift in a governing instrument which either is expressly stated as a fixed dollar amount or is a gift of a dollar amount determinable by the provisions of the governing instrument, and a gift expressed in terms of a "sum" or an "amount," unless the context dictates otherwise, shall be deemed to be a gift of a dollar amount.

(2) The term "marital deduction" means the federal estate tax deduction allowed for transfers under Section 2056 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(3) The term "maximum marital deduction" means the maximum amount qualifying for the marital deduction.

(4) The term "marital deduction gift" means a gift intended to qualify for the marital deduction.

(5) The term "governing instrument" includes a will and codicils, irrevocable and revocable trusts.

(6) "Fiduciary" means trustee or personal representative. Reference to a fiduciary in the singular includes the plural where the context requires.

(7) References to the "Internal Revenue Code" are to the United States Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as it is amended from time to time. Each reference to a section of the Internal Revenue Code refers as well to any subsequent provisions of law enacted in its place.

(8) The term "gift" refers to all legacies, devises, and bequests made in a governing instrument.
Comment: In part, from California Probate Code Section 1030.

Sec. 141 11.108.020 Marital deduction gift; Compliance with federal law; Intent. If a governing instrument contains a marital deduction gift, the provisions of the governing instrument, including any power, duty, or discretionary authority given to the fiduciary, shall be construed to comply with the marital deduction provisions of the Internal Revenue Code and the regulations thereunder in order to conform to that intent. Whether the governing instrument contains a marital deduction depends upon the intention of the testator at the time the governing instrument is executed. If the testator has adequately evidenced an intention to make a marital deduction gift, the fiduciary shall not take any action or have any power that may impair that deduction. This section shall neither require nor prohibit a fiduciary making the election referred to in Section 2056(b)(7) of the Internal Revenue Code.

Comment: Essentially from California Probate Code, Section 1032. This provision is designed to permit a fiduciary to construe a gift intended to be a marital deduction gift as fully complying with the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code. The basic focus of this section is that it is the "intent" of the testator as to whether or not there should be a marital deduction.
Sec. 142 11.108.030 Pecuniary bequests; Valuation of assets if distribution other than money.

(1) If a governing instrument authorizes the fiduciary to satisfy a pecuniary bequest wholly or partly by distribution of property other than money, the assets selected for that purpose shall be valued at their respective fair market values on the date or dates of distribution, unless the governing instrument expressly provides otherwise. If the provisions of the governing instrument permit the fiduciary to value the assets selected for such distribution as of a date other than the date or dates of distribution, then, unless the governing instrument expressly provides otherwise, the assets selected by the fiduciary for that purpose shall have an aggregate fair market value on the date or dates of distribution which, when added to any cash distributed, will amount to no less than the amount of such gift as stated in, or determined by, the provisions of the governing instrument.

(2) A marital deduction gift shall be satisfied only with assets which qualify for those deductions.

Comment: Essentially from California Probate Code Section 1033. This section makes it clear that if a governing instrument directs the executor to satisfy a pecuniary bequest from property in kind, the property will be valued as of the date of distribution. The provision goes on to provide that if the governing instrument gives the fiduciary the right to value the assets on a date other than the date of distribution, the fiduciary (unless the governing instrument provides otherwise) has to value the assets distributed in kind as of their date of distribution value. This section is intended to follow the requirements of Rev. Proc. 64-19 which requires in essence that a pecuniary marital share either (1) receive assets which are fairly representative of all appreciation and depreciation in value prior to the dates of distribution, or (2) be funded with assets having date of distribution values which are at least equal to the amount of the bequest provided for by the instrument.

Sec. 143 11.108.040 Construction of certain pre-September 12, 1981, marital deduction formula bequests.

(1) Whenever a testator, under the terms of a governing instrument executed prior to September 12, 1981, leaves outright to or in trust for the benefit of such testator's surviving spouse an amount or fractional share of such testator's estate or a trust estate expressed in terms of one-half of such testator's Federal adjusted gross estate, or by any other reference to the maximum estate tax marital deduction allowable under Federal law without referring (either in such governing instrument or in any codicil or amendment thereto) specifically to the unlimited Federal estate tax marital deduction enacted as part of the Economic Recovery Tax Act of 1981, such expression shall, unless subsection (1) or (2) applies, be construed as referring to such unlimited Federal estate tax marital deduction, and also as expressing such amount or fractional share, as the case may be, in terms of the minimum amount which will cause the least possible amount of Federal estate tax to be payable as a result of the testator's death, taking into account other property passing to the surviving spouse which qualifies for such marital deduction (at the value at which it so qualifies), and also taking into account all credits against such Federal estate tax (but only to the extent that the use of such credits does not increase the death tax payable).

(2) If this subsection (2) applies to such testator, such expression shall be construed as referring to the estate tax marital deduction allowed by Federal law immediately prior to the enactment of the unlimited estate tax marital deduction as a part of the Economic Recovery Tax Act of 1981. This subsection (2) shall apply if:

(a) the application of this subsection (2) to the testator will not cause an increase in the Federal estate taxes payable as a result of the testator's death over the amount of such taxes which would be payable if subsection (1) applied; or,

(b) the testator is survived by a descendant (by blood or adoption) who is not also a descendant (by blood or adoption) of the testator's surviving spouse; or

(c) the testator amended the governing instrument containing such expression after December 31, 1981, without amending such expression to refer expressly to the unlimited Federal estate tax marital deduction; and subsection (3) does not apply.

(3) If the governing instrument contains language expressly stating that Federal law is of a particular time prior to January 1, 1982 is to govern the construction or interpretation of such expression, the expression shall be construed as referring to the marital deduction allowable under Federal law in force and effect as of that time.

(4) If subsection (2) or (3) applies to the testator and if the expression contains any provision reducing the amount or the fractional share left outright to or in trust for the benefit of the surviving spouse by other property passing to the surviving spouse and qualifying for the Federal estate tax marital deduction, the provision shall not be construed as referring to any property which the personal representative of the testator's estate, or other authorized fiduciary, elects to qualify for the Federal estate tax marital deduction as qualified terminable interest property. If subsection (1) applies to the testator, any such provision shall be construed as referring to any property which the personal representative of the testator's estate, or other authorized fiduciary, elects to qualify for the Federal estate tax marital deduction as qualified terminable interest property, but only to the extent that such construction does not cause the amount or fractional share left to or for the benefit of the surviving spouse to be reduced below that which is specified in subsection (2) or (3), whichever is applicable.

(5) This section shall be effective with respect to testators dying after December 31, 1982.

Comment: From proposed Missouri statute which has not yet been adopted. The statute effectively will do three things:

1. The normal operative rule will be that the formula provision and reference to a maximum marital deduction in a pre-September 12, 1981 will be deemed to refer to the new unlimited marital deduction.

2. Only the amount of property needed to zero out the tax cost will be placed into the marital gift. Thus, other dispositions would not be completely wiped out. An example would be an estate owner who dies in 1982 when the credit shelter is $225,000 and the will was a pre-1976 will referring to one-half of the adjusted gross estate reduced by other qualifying property. With an estate of $600,000, the statute would not increase the amount of property passing into the formula provision to $600,000 reduced by other qualifying property, but would also reflect a "reduction" for the credit shelter amount of $225,000. See "Practical Drafting," June 18, 1982 by Richard B. Covey.

3. The old maximum marital deduction law will be given effect when there will be (1) no increase in Federal estate taxes as a result of the testator's death, or (2) the testator is survived by a descendant who is not also a descendant of the surviving spouse of the testator, or (3) the will was amended after December 31, 1981. It is to be noted that this provision cannot operate to reduce the amount of federal estate tax marital deduction to an amount less than the amount allowed as a marital deduction under federal tax law as it existed prior to the effective date of the Economic Recovery Tax Act of 1981.

4. If a will or trust specifically refers to the marital deduction in effect at a particular time, that provision will prevail. Also, when a formula provision requires a reduction for other qualifying property, the reduction does not take into account any property covered by Internal Revenue Code Section 2056(b)(7) election.

Sec. 144 11.108.050 Marital deduction gift in trust; Applicable provisions. If a governing instrument indicates the testator's intention to make a marital deduction gift in trust, in addition to the other provisions of this section, each of the following provisions also applies to the trust;

(1) The only income beneficiary of a marital deduction trust is the testator's surviving spouse.

(2) The income beneficiary is entitled to all of the trust income until the trust terminates.

(3) The trust income shall be payable to the income beneficiary not less frequently than annually.
(4) Except in the case of qualified terminable interest property resulting from an election pursuant to Section 2056(b)(7) of the Internal Revenue Code, upon termination of the trust, all of the remaining trust assets, including accrued or undistributed income, shall pass either to the income beneficiary or pursuant to the exercise of a general power of appointment granted to the income beneficiary in favor of the income beneficiary's estate or to any other person or entity in trust or outright. The general power of appointment shall be exercisable by the income beneficiary alone and in all events and the income beneficiary, or a fiduciary acting in behalf of the income beneficiary if he or she is then a minor or incompetent, may exercise it in a will or an instrument other than a will unless the instrument creating the power specifically directs otherwise.

The exercise of the general power of appointment provided in this section shall be done only by express written reference to this general power of appointment in a will or inter vivos trust instrument executed by the income beneficiary.

Comment: Essentially from California Probate Code Section 1035. The purpose of this section is to provide corrective guidance to a governing instrument that may qualify for the marital deduction but where there may not be precise instructions as to compliance with Section 2056. This statute would also presumably permit the draftsman to incorporate this section by reference in the governing instrument in order to have a marital deduction trust comply with the requirements at Section 2056(b)(7).
Sec. 145 11.108.060 Marital deduction gift; Six months survivorship requirement. If a governing instrument contains a marital deduction gift, whether outright or in trust and whether or not there is a specific reference to this article, any survivorship requirement expressed in the governing instrument in excess of six months shall not apply to property passing under a marital deduction, but shall be limited to a six month period beginning with the testator's death.

Comment: Essentially from California Probate Code Section 1036. This section is designed again to provide corrective situations where a governing instrument may not vest property in a surviving spouse for a period within six months after the date of death as is the requirement in order to obtain the marital deduction under Section 2056.

Sec. 146 11.108.900 Application of chapter. This chapter applies to any distribution made after the effective date of this chapter, whether the testator died before or after that date. This chapter shall not apply to any governing instrument the terms of which expressly or by necessary implication make this chapter inapplicable. The judicial and nonjudicial dispute resolution procedures of Chapter 11-96, RCW are applicable to this chapter.

Comment: In part, from California Probate Code Section 1031. Any issues or disputes arising under or with reference to the matters contained in this chapter may be resolved pursuant to the judicial or nonjudicial dispute resolution procedures of Chapter 11.96 RCW.

Sec. 147 11.110.010 Purpose. The purpose of this chapter is to facilitate public supervision over the administration of public charitable trusts and similar relationships and to clarify and implement the powers and duties of the attorney general with relation thereto.

Sec. 147 11.110.020 Definitions. When used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

"Person" means an individual, organization, group, association, partnership, corporation, or any combination of them.

"Trustee" means (1) any person holding property in trust for a public charitable purpose; except the United States, its states, territories, and possessions, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, and their agencies and subdivisions; and (2) a corporation formed for the administration of a charitable trust or holding assets subject to limitations permitting their use only for charitable, religious, eleemosynary, benevolent, educational, or similar purposes: Provided, that the term "trustee" does not apply to (a) religious corporations duly organized and operated in good faith as religious organizations, which have received a declaration of current tax exempt status from the government of the United States; their duly organized branches or chapters; and charities, agencies, and organizations affiliated with and forming an integral part of said organization, or operated, supervised, or controlled directly by such religious corporations nor any officer of any such religious organization who holds property for religious purposes; Provided, that if such organization has not received from the United States government a declaration of current tax exempt status prior to the time it receives property under the terms of a charitable trust, this exemption shall be applicable for two years only from the time of receiving such property, or until such tax exempt status is finally declared, whichever is sooner; or (b) an educational institution which is nonprofit and charitable, having a program of primary, secondary, or collegiate instruction comparable in scope to that of any public school or college operated by the state of Washington or any of its school districts.

Sec. 147 11.110.040 Information, documents and reports are public records -- Inspection -- Publication. All information, documents, and reports filed with the attorney general under this chapter are matters of public record and shall be open to public inspection, subject to reasonable regulation: Provided, that the attorney general shall withhold from public inspection any trust instrument so filed whose content is not exclusively for charitable purposes. The attorney general may publish, on a periodic or other basis, such information as may be necessary or appropriate in the public interest concerning the registration, reports, and information filed with him or any other matters relevant to the administration and enforcement of this chapter.
Sec. 149 11.110.050  Register of trustee -- Establishment and maintenance. The attorney general shall establish and maintain a register of trustees as defined in RCW 11.110.020 and, to that end, shall conduct whatever investigation is necessary, and shall obtain from public records, court officers, taxing authorities, trustees, and other sources whatever information, copies of instruments, reports, and records are needed, for the establishment and maintenance of the register.

Sec. 150 11.110.060  Instrument establishing trust, inventory of assets, tax exempt status or claim, tax return to be filed. Every trustee shall file with the attorney general within two months after receiving possession or control of the trust corpus a copy of the instrument establishing his title, powers, or duties, and an inventory of the assets of such charitable trust. In addition, trustees exempted from the provisions of RCW 11.110.070 by RCW 11.110.073 shall file with the attorney general a copy of the declaration of the tax-exempt status or other basis of the claim for such exemption; a copy of the instrument establishing the trustee's title, powers or duties; an inventory of the assets of such trust; and annually, a copy of each publicly available United States tax or information return or report of the trust which the trustee files with the internal revenue service. The trustees of charitable trusts existing at the time this chapter takes effect or on August 9, 1971 shall comply with this section within six months thereafter.

Sec. 151 11.110.070 Reports of trustee --Filing.-- Rules and regulations. Except as otherwise provided every trustee subject to this chapter shall file with the attorney general annual reports, under oath, setting forth information as to the nature of the assets held for charitable purposes and the administration thereof by the trustee, in accordance with rules and regulations of the attorney general.

The attorney general shall make rules and regulations as to the time for filing reports, the contents thereof, and the manner of executing and filing them. He may classify trusts and other relationships concerning property held for a charitable purpose as to purpose, nature of assets, duration of the trust or other relationships, amount of assets, amounts to be devoted to charitable purposes, nature of trustee, or otherwise, and may establish different rules for the different classes as to time and nature of the reports required, to the ends (1) that he shall receive reasonably current, periodic reports as to all charitable trusts or other relationships of a similar nature which will enable him to ascertain whether they are being properly administered, and (2) that periodic reports shall not unreasonably add to the expense of the administration of charitable trusts and similar relationships. The attorney general may suspend the filing of reports as to a particular charitable trust or relationship for a reasonable, specifically designated time upon written application of the trustee filed with the attorney general after the attorney general has filed in the register of charitable trusts a written statement that the interests of the beneficiaries will not be prejudiced thereby and that periodic reports are not required for proper supervision by his office.

A copy of an account filed by the trustee in any court having jurisdiction of the trust or other relationship, if the account substantially complies with the rules and regulations of the attorney general, may be filed as a report required by this section.

The first report for a trust or similar relationship hereafter established, unless the filing thereof is suspended as herein provided, shall be filed not later than one year after any part of the income or principal is authorized or required to be applied to a charitable purpose. If any part of the income or principal of a trust previously established is authorized or required to be applied to a charitable purpose at the time this act takes effect, the first report, unless the filing thereof is suspended, shall be filed within six months after the effective date of this act.

Sec. 153 11.110.073 Reports of trustee -- Trustees exempt from RCW 11.110.070. The following trustees shall be exempt from the provisions of RCW 11.110.070, but shall file the information required in RCW 11.110.060:

(1) A bank or trust company subject to examination by the supervisor of banking of the state of Washington, the comptroller of the currency of the United States or the board of governors of the federal reserve system; which such bank or trust company is acting as trustee, executor or court-appointed fiduciary: Provided, that a bank or trust company which is a co-fiduciary of a trust shall be deemed to be the sole fiduciary of such trust under this section, if the bank or trust company is custodian of the books and records of the trust and has the responsibility for preparing the reports and returns which are filed with the internal revenue service;

(2) The governing body of a nonprofit community foundation or other nonprofit foundation incorporated for charitable purposes, contributions to which are currently allowed as charitable deductions under the United States income tax laws;

(3) The governing body of a hospital which is nonprofit and charitable, other than a hospital initially formed as a trustee pursuant to or in connection with the terms of a charitable trust.

Sec. 154 11.110.075  Trusts not exclusively for charitable purposes -- Instrument and information not public -- Filings and reporting, when required. A trust is not exclusively for charitable purposes, within the meaning of RCW 11.110.040, when the instrument creating it contains a trust for several or mixed purposes, and any one or more of such purposes is not charitable within the meaning of RCW 11.110.020, as enacted or hereafter amended. Such instrument shall be withheld from public inspection by the attorney general and no information as to such noncharitable purpose shall be made public.

Annual reporting of such trusts to the attorney general, as required by RCW 11.110.060 or 11.110.070 now or as hereafter amended, shall commence within one year after trust income or principal is authorized or required to be used for a charitable purpose.

When a trust consists of a vested charitable remainder preceded by a life estate, a copy of the instrument shall be filed by the trustee or by the life tenant, within two months after commencement of the life estate.

If the trust instrument contains only contingent gifts or remainders to charitable purposes, no charitable trust shall be deemed created until a charitable gift or remainder is legally vested. The first registration or report of such trust shall be filed within two months after trust income or principal is authorized or required to be used for a charitable purpose.

Sec. 155 11.110.080 Custodian of court records to furnish copies to attorney general -- List of tax exemption applications to be filed. The custodian of the records of a court having jurisdiction of probate matters or of charitable trusts shall furnish within two months after receiving possession or control thereof such copies of papers, records, and files of his office relating to the subject of this chapter as the attorney general shall required.

Every officer, agency, board or commission of this state receiving applications for exemption from taxation of any charitable trust or similar relationship in which the trustee is subject to this chapter shall annually file with the attorney general a list of all applications received during the year.

Sec. 155 11.110.090 Uniformity of chapter with laws of other states. It is the purpose of this chapter to make uniform the laws of this and other states on the subject of charitable trusts and similar relationships. Recognizing the necessity for uniform application and enforcement of this chapter, its provisions are hereby declared mandatory and they shall not be superseded by the provisions of any trust instrument or similar instrument to the contrary.

Sec. 155 11.110.100 Investigations by attorney general authorized -- Appearance and production of books, papers, documents, etc., may be required. The attorney general may investigate transactions and relationships of trustees and other persons subject to this chapter for the purpose of determining whether the trust or other relationship is administered according to law and the terms and purposes of the trust, or to determine compliance with this chapter in any other respect. He may require any officer, agent, trustee, fiduciary, beneficiary, or other person, to appear, at a time and place designated by the attorney general in the county where the person resides or is found, to give information under oath and to produce books, memoranda, papers, documents of title, and evidence of assets, liabilities, receipts, or disbursements in the possession or control of the person ordered to appear.

Sec. 157 11.110.110 Order to appear -- Effect -- Enforcement -- Court review. When the attorney general requires the attendance of any person, as provided in RCW 11.110.100, he shall issue an order setting forth the time when and the place where attendance is required and shall cause the same to be delivered to or sent by registered mail to the person at least fourteen days before the date fixed for attendance. Such order shall have the same force and effect as a subpoena, and, upon application of the attorney general, obedience to the order may be enforced by any superior court judge in the county where the person receiving it resides or is found, in the same manner as though the notice were a subpoena. The court, after hearing, for good cause, and upon application of any person aggrieved by the order, shall have the right to alter, amend, revise, suspend, or postpone all or any part of its provisions. In any case where the order is not enforced by the court according to its terms, the reasons for the court's actions shall be clearly stated in the record, and shall be subject to review by the supreme court or the court of appeals by certiorari or other appropriate proceeding.

Sec. 158 11.110.120  Proceedings to secure compliance and proper trust administration -- Attorney general to be notified of judicial proceedings involving charitable trust -- Powers and duties additional. The attorney general may institute appropriate proceedings to secure compliance with this chapter and to secure the proper administration of any trust or other relationships to which this chapter applies. He shall be notified of all judicial proceedings involving or affecting the charitable trust or its administration in which, at common law, he is a necessary or proper party as representative of the public beneficiaries. The notification shall be given by registered mail to the attorney general at his office in Olympia at least twenty days prior to hearing thereon, except where shorter periods are prescribed by statute or by rules of court as provided in RCW 11.96.100; provided, this notice requirement may be waived at the discretion of the attorney general. The powers and duties of the attorney general provided in this chapter are in addition to his existing powers and duties, and are not to be construed to limit or to restrict the exercise of the powers or the performance of the duties of the attorney general or of any prosecuting attorney which they may exercise or perform under any other provision of law. Except as provided herein, nothing in this chapter shall impair or restrict the jurisdiction of any court with respect to any of the matters covered by it.

Comment: See comment at end of chapter.

Sec. 159 11.110.125 Violations -- Refusal to file reports, perform duties, etc. The wilful refusal by a trustee to make or file any report or to perform any other duties expressly required by this chapter, or to comply with any valid rule or regulation promulgated by the attorney general under this chapter, shall constitute a breach of trust and a violation of this chapter.

Sec. 159 11.110.130 violations -- Civil action may be prosecuted. A civil action for a violation of this chapter may be prosecuted by the attorney general or by a prosecuting attorney designated by the attorney general.

Sec. 159 11.110.140 Penalty. Every false statement of material fact knowingly made or caused to be made by any person in any statement or report filed under this chapter and every other violation of this chapter is a gross misdemeanor.

Sec. 161 11.110.200 Tax Reform Act of 1969, state implementation -- Application to trusts. RCW 11.110.200 through 11.110.260 shall apply only to trusts which are "private foundations" as defined in section 509 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, "charitable trusts" as described in section 4947(a)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, or "split-interest trusts" as described in section 4947(a)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954. With respect to any such trust created after December 31, 1969, RCW 11.110.200 through 11.110.260 shall apply from such trust's creation. With respect to any such trust created before January 1, 1970, RCW 11.110.200 through 11.110.260 shall apply only to such trust's federal taxable years beginning after December 31, 1971.

Sec. 162 11.110.210 Tax Reform Act of 1969, state implementation -- Trust instruments deemed to contain prohibiting provisions. The trust instrument of each trust to which RCW 11.110.200 through 11.110.260 applies shall be deemed to contain provisions prohibiting the trustee from:

(1) Engaging in any act of "self-dealing" (as defined in section 4941(d) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954), which would give rise to any liability for the tax imposed by section 4941(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954;

(2) Retaining any "excess business holdings" (as defined in section 4943(c) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954), which would give rise to any liability for the tax imposed by section 4943(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954;

(3) Making any investments which would jeopardize the carrying out of any of the exempt purposes of the trust, within the meaning of section 4944 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, so as to give rise to any liability for the tax imposed by section 4944(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954; and

(4) Making any "taxable expenditures" (as defined in section 4945(d) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954), which would give rise to any liability for the tax imposed by section 4945(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954:

Provided, that this section shall not apply either to those split-interest trusts or to amounts thereof which are not subject to the prohibitions applicable to private foundations by reason of the provisions of section 4947 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954.

Sec. 163 11.110.220 Tax Reform Act of 1969, state implementation -- Trust instruments deemed to contain certain provisions for distribution. The trust instrument of each trust to which RCW 11.110.200 through RCW 11.110.260 applies, except "split-interest" trusts, shall be deemed to contain a provision requiring the trustees to distribute, for the purposes specified in the trust instrument, for each taxable year of the trust, amounts at least sufficient to avoid liability for the tax imposed by section 4942(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954.

Sec. 164 11.110.230 Tax Reform Act of 1969, state implementation -- Rights, powers of courts, attorney general, not impaired.
Nothing in RCW 11.110.200 through 11.110.260 shall impair the rights and powers of the courts or the attorney general of this state with respect to any trust.

Sec. 165 11.110.240 Tax Reform Act of 1969, state implementation -- Construction of references to federal code. All references to sections of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 shall include all amendments thereto adopted by the Congress of the United States on or before July 10, 1983, the effective date of this amendment. [1982 1st ex.s. c 41 §3; 1971 c 58 §5.]

Sec. 167 11.110.250 Tax Reform Act of 1969, state implementation -- Application to new trust or amendment to existing trust. Nothing in RCW 11.110.200 through 11.110.260 shall limit the power of a person who creates a trust after June 10, 1971 or the power of a person who has retained or has been granted the right to amend a trust created before June 10, 1971, to include a specific provision in the trust instrument or an amendment thereto, as the case may be, which provides that some or all of the provisions of RCW 11.110.200, 11.110.210 and 11.110.220 shall have no application to such trust.

Sec. 168 11.110.260 Tax Reform Act of 1969, state implementation -- Severability -- RCW 11.110.200 through 11.110.260. If any provision of RCW 11.110.200 through 11.110.260 or the application thereof to any trust is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect the other provisions or applications of RCW 11.110.200 through 11.110.260 which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of RCW 11.110.200 through 11.110.260 are declared to be severable.

Sec. 169 11.110.900 Severability -- 1967 ex.s. c 53. If any provision of this act, or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act, or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

Comment: New Chapter 11.110 is former Chapter RCW 19.10, which has simply been moved from title 19, dealing with various miscellaneous business regulations, to title 11, dealing with probate and trust administration. Except for changes in internal cross references, the only changes are (1) in 11.110.060 where a specific date is now designated in place of "at the time . . . this 1971 amendatory act takes affect," and (2) in 11.110.120 where the notice requirements have been changed to correspond with the notice requirements in RCW 11.96.100 and (3) in 11.110.120 where the attorney general is authorized to waive the notice requirements at his or her discretion.
Sec. 170 18.100.080 Engaging in other business prohibited except acting as trustee or personal representative -- Investments. No professional service corporation organized under this chapter shall engage in any business other than the rendering of the professional services for which it was incorporated or service as a trustee as authorized by RCW 11.36.021 or as a personal representative as authorized by RCW 11.36.010; Provided, That nothing in this chapter or in any other provisions of existing law applicable to corporations shall be interpreted to prohibit such corporation from investing its funds in real estate, personal property, mortgages, stocks, bonds, insurance, or any other type of investments.

Comment: Revised to allow a professional service corporation to serve as trustee in line with the amendment to RCW 11.36.021 (14) and as personal representative as authorized by the 1983 amendments to RCW 11.36.010.
APPENDIX A: 1984 TRUST ACT COMMENTS

CHAPTER 25.04
GENERAL PARTNERS

25.04.020 Definition of Terms
25.04.150 Nature of Partner's Liability
Sec. 171 25.04.020. Definition of terms. In this chapter:

"Court" includes every court and judge having jurisdiction in the case;

"Business" includes every trade, occupation, or profession;

"Person" includes individuals, partnerships, corporations and other associations, trustees and personal representatives;

"Bankrupt" includes bankrupt under the federal bankruptcy act or insolvent under any state insolvent act;

"Conveyance" includes every assignment, lease, mortgage, or encumbrance;

"Real property" includes land and any interest or estate in land.

Comment: This section added the terms "trustee" and "personal representatives" within the definition of the word, "person."

Sec. 172 25.04.150. Nature of Partner's Liability. All partners are liable:

(1) Jointly and severally for everything chargeable to the partnership under RCW 25.04.130 and 25.04.140.

(2) Jointly for all other debts and obligations of the partnership; but any partner may enter into a separate obligation to perform a partnership contract.

(3) Except that the liability of a trustee or personal representative acting as a partner is limited as provided in RCW 11.98.110(2).
Comment: The liability of a trustee or personal representative investing in a partnership is limited as provided under RCW 11.98.110(2).
Sec. 174 64.28.040 Joint tenancy interests held by husband and wife.

Joint tenancy interests held in the names of a husband and his wife (whether or not in conjunction with others) are presumed to be their community property, the same as other property held in the name of both husband and wife. Any such interest passes to the survivor of the husband and wife as provided for property held in joint tenancy, but in all other respects the interest is treated as community property.

Comment: The provision is designed to assure the step up basis for both halves of community property upon the death of the first to die of a husband or wife. See Internal Revenue Code §1014(b)(6). In order to insure this treatment, the section provides that joint tenancy interests held by husband and wife (in both names) will be treated as community property in all respects, except that the interest will pass to the survivor as is otherwise the case for joint tenancy property. This would be the result of a specific community property agreement between the husband and wife under RCW 26.16.120 and also avoids the potential risk in creating a form of property interest that is joint tenancy in all respects, except that it is designated "community property." See J. Parks, "Critique of Nevada's New Community Property with Right of Survivorship," 10 Comm. Prop. J. 5 (1983).

The section is based on the policy determination that when husband and wife put property or receive property in joint tenancy form, they intend that it pass to the survivor upon the death of the first to die, but in all other respects consider it to be community property. The section would not preclude an argument that the joint tenancy interest was not entirely community property, as is the case under present law with property acquired in the name of both husband and wife, depending on separate property contributions by either. However, the section would probably not negate equal ownership treatment for tax purposes under Internal Revenue Code §2040 with respect to joint tenancy property held by husband and wife.
Chapter 108 RCW (§§133-141) shall take effect immediately on passage, the remainder of this 1984 act shall take effect January 1, 1985.

[add emergency clause]

[add severability clause]
Sec. 176 11.88.010 Authority to appoint - Definitions - Venue.

(1) The superior court of each county shall have power to appoint guardians for the persons and estates, or either thereof, of incompetent persons, and guardians for the estates of all such persons who are nonresidents of the state but who have property in such county needing care and attention.

An "incompetent" is any person who is either:

(a) Under the age of majority, as defined in RCW 11.92.010, or
(b) Incompetent by reason of mental illness, developmental disability, senility, habitual drunkenness, excessive use of drugs, or other mental incapacity, of either managing his property or caring for himself or both.

(2) The superior court for each county shall have power to appoint limited guardians for the persons and estates, or either thereof, of disabled persons, who by reason of their disability have need for protection and assistance, but who cannot be found to be fully incompetent, upon investigation as provided by RCW 11.88.090 as now or hereafter amended. After considering all evidence presented as a result of such investigation, the court shall impose, by order, only such specific limitations and disabilities on a disabled person to be placed under a limited guardianship as the court finds necessary for such person's protection and assistance. A person shall not be presumed to be incompetent nor shall a person lose any legal rights or suffer any legal disabilities as the result of being placed under a limited guardianship, except as to those rights and disabilities specifically set forth in the court order establishing such a limited guardianship. In addition, the court order shall state the period of time for which it shall be applicable.

For the purposes of chapters 11.88 and 11.92 RCW the term "disabled person" means an individual who is in need of protection and assistance by reason of mental illness, developmental disability, senility, habitual drunkenness, excessive use of drugs, or other mental incapacity, but cannot be found to be fully incompetent.

(3) Venue for petitions for guardianship or limited guardianship shall lie in the county wherein the alleged incompetent or disabled person is domiciled, or if such person is a resident of a state institution for developmentally disabled persons, in either the county wherein such institution is located, the county of domicile, or the county wherein a parent of the alleged incompetent or disabled person is domiciled.

(4) Under RCW 11.94.010, a principal may nominate, by a durable power of attorney, the guardian or limited guardian of his or her estate or person for consideration by the court if protective proceedings for the principal's person or estate are thereafter commenced. The court shall make its appointment in accordance with the principal's most recent nomination in a durable power of attorney except for good cause or disqualification.

Comment: This change parallels a similar change in RCW 11.94.010 allowing a principal to designate his or her guardian.

Sec. 177 11.88.040 Notice of hearing, when required - Service - Procedure.

Before appointing a guardian or a limited guardian, notice of a hearing, to be held not less than ten days after service thereof, shall be given personally to the alleged incompetent or disabled person, if over fourteen years of age.

Before appointing a guardian or a limited guardian, notice of a hearing, to be held not less than ten days after service thereof, shall be given by registered or certified mail requesting a return receipt signed by the addressee only or an agent appointed by the addressee, or by personal service in the manner provided for services of summons, to the following:

(1) The alleged incompetent, disabled person, or minor, if under fourteen years of age;

(2) A parent, if the alleged incompetent or disabled person is a minor, and the spouse of the alleged incompetent or disabled person if any;

(3) Any other person who has been appointed as guardian or limited guardian, or the person with whom the alleged incompetent or disabled person resides. No notice need be given to those persons named in subsections (2) and (3) of this section if they have signed the petition for the appointment of the guardian or limited guardian or have waived notice of the hearing. If the petition is by a parent asking for his appointment as guardian or limited guardian of a minor child under the age of fourteen years, or if the petition be accompanied by the written consent of a minor of the age of fourteen years or upward, consenting to the appointment of the guardian or limited guardian asked for, or if the petition be by a nonresident guardian of any minor or incompetent or disabled person, then the court may appoint the guardian without notice of the hearing. The court for good cause may reduce the number of days of notice, but in every case, at least three days notice shall be given.

The alleged incompetent or disabled person shall be presented in court at the final hearing on the petition: PROVIDED, That this requirement may be waived at the discretion of the court for good cause shown in the report to be provided by the guardian ad litem pursuant to RCW 11.88.090 as now or hereafter amended, or if no guardian ad litem is required to be appointed pursuant to RCW 11.88.090, as now or hereafter amended, at the discretion of the court for good cause shown by a party. Alternatively, the court may remove itself to the place of residence of the alleged incompetent or disabled person and conduct the final hearing in the presence of the alleged incompetent or disabled person. Final hearings on the petition may be held in closed court without admittance of any person other than those necessary to the action or proceeding.
If presence of the alleged incompetent or disabled person is waived and the court does not remove itself to the place of residence of such person, the guardian ad litem shall appear in person at the final hearing on the petition. [1977 ex.s. c 309 § 4; 1975 1st ex.s. c 95 § 5; 1969 c 70 § 1; 1965 c 145 § 11.88.040. Prior: 1927 c.170 § 2; 1923 c 142 § 4; 1917 c 156 § 198; RRS § 1568; prior: 1909 c 118 § 2; 1903 c 130 §§ 2, 3.]

Severability - 1977 ex.s. c 309: See note following RCW 11.88.050.

Waiver of notice: RCW 11.16.083.

Comment: Since the U.S. Post Office no longer has available return receipts with "deliver only to addressee," these changes were made to accord with present rule of the U.S. Post Office.
To the Honorable, the Senate
of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 22 Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3074, entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to occupational therapists."

This bill would forbid the practice of occupational therapy in this state without state licensure. The bill contains an emergency clause.

I have vetoed the emergency clause. The Department of Licensing will have a difficult time implementing this law properly with an immediate effective date. Indeed, even without an emergency clause implementation will be rushed.

With the exception of section 22, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3074 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
John Spellman
Governor

To the Honorable, the Senate
of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith without my approval Substitute Senate Bill No. 3287, entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to retirement from public services."

This bill would grant members of the Teacher's Retirement System and the Public Employee's Retirement System the opportunity to reestablish pension credits when they reenter state service after having previously cashed out of their respective retirement system. Under this bill, the cost of this option would be shared by members of the retirement systems, including those who receive no benefit from the exercise by others of an option to buy back into the system. To thus increase all member's contribution rates is not only inequitable but of questionable constitutionality. In addition, the bill contains numerous technical flaws. It incorrectly asks persons to assume the costs of TRS benefits, and it appropriates money erroneously.

In 1983, I vetoed similar provisions in Substitute House Bill No. 126. At that time, I stated a significant concern for the impact of that buy back legislation on the liabilities of the pension systems. While my concern in that regard continues, I am also concerned that there exists a significant inequity in the manner in which we treat employees returning to state service with respect to their right to reenter the state's retirement systems. Until 1983, there was no specific legislation that required the state to notify returning employees of their option to "buy back" into the retirement system, or the amount of money that would be required to be paid. As a result of that prior lack of notice, many returning state employees were unaware of their rights with respect to reentry. I believe that this inequity should be remedied, but that remedy must be accomplished in a manner that leaves the retirement systems whole. I am confident that a responsible proposal which accomplishes these ends can be developed for introduction in the next legislative session, and I will support it. I am directing OFM to work with the Department of Retirement Systems to devise such a bill and to report back to me and to the legislature.

For the reasons stated above, I have vetoed Substitute Senate Bill No. 3287.

Respectfully submitted,

To the Honorable, the Senate
of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:
I am returning herewith without my approval Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3449 entitled:
"AN ACT Relating to the candidate's pamphlet."
This measure is an unwarranted interference by the state in matters that should be left at the discretion of political candidates exercising their right to speak under our constitution both about their own records as well as the records of their opponents. Often, the most significant points that a candidate can make about major issues necessitate discussion of his or her opponent's position or record.
Challenges to incumbents would particularly be adversely affected by the statutory ban contained in this bill.
The most important single piece of printed material during any campaign is the voter's pamphlet. This measure unwisely limits the effectiveness of these pamphlets, and I have therefore vetoed Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3449.
Respectfully submitted,

To the Honorable, the Senate
of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:
I am returning herewith, without my approval as to subsections 1 and 2 of section 22, Substitute Senate Bill No. 4302, entitled:
"AN ACT Relating to the practice of pharmacy."
Subsections 1 and 2 of section 22 repeal RCW 18.64.044 and 18.64.047, two statutes which are otherwise amended by the bill in sections 5 and 8. The inclusion of the repealers was a drafting error which should be corrected. Therefore, I have vetoed subsections 1 and 2 of section 22.
The remainder of the bill is approved.
Respectfully submitted,

March 30, 1984
To the Honorable, the Senate
of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:
I am returning herewith without my approval Substitute Senate Bill No. 4381 entitled:
"AN ACT Relating to elections."
While this measure may contain a number of worthy technical changes in the state's election laws, its problems overwhelm its benefits.
The provisions relating to election procedures for filling a vacancy in the United States Senate are flawed in that they require the Governor to fill the vacancy from the same political party as the person vacating the office. This requirement creates several problems, not the least of which is the lack of any verifiable resource to which the appointing authority may turn to test the party affiliation of prospective appointees. The state of Washington has always had an "open" electoral process. This provision is contrary to that process and to the will of the electorate as determined by a 1975 referendum on the subject.
This measure also contains provisions requiring county auditors to permit late registration by voters through an absentee ballot procedure up to 15 days before an election. Auditors have stated that this provision would seriously overburden county election officials and frustrate their desires to ensure a smooth election process.
This measure also suffers from the fact that the final roll call was not had on the bill until past midnight of the 60th day. The Constitution of the state of Washington limits sessions in even numbered years to 60 days. While I am loathe to inject myself into the procedures of either house of the legislature, I am concerned that the 60-day time limit set by the people be followed, particularly with respect to measures such as this which contain controversial issues that may well engender litigation solely because of the hour of passage.
SENATE BILLS - GOVERNOR'S VETO MESSAGES 1895

For the reasons stated above, I have vetoed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4381.

Respectfully submitted,

March 30, 1984

To the Honorable, the Senate
of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to certain provisions, Substitute Senate Bill No. 4403, entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to health care costs."

The following sections are hereby vetoed: Section 14(4)(d), the term "medically necessary" has been defined in Washington State by the Superior Court case, Mead v. Burdman. Using that definition for guidance, it is apparent that even a narrowly construed definition of "medically necessary" would place a major new obligation on hospitals. A change of this magnitude deserves full review and public input, which it did not receive during the legislative process. In the meantime, I admonish all hospitals to continue to provide necessary emergency services, without regard to means.

Section 22(2)(k), the second sentence, conditions the receipt of a certificate of need by a hospital on achievement of the regional average of charity care. During a colloquy, both houses clearly stated that they did not want to penalize hospitals who were making a "good faith effort" to reach their regional average. This sentence would, however, regardless of any good faith efforts, penalize not only the hospital, but the community, denying a hospital the right to fund its capital needs in order to assure quality of health care to all.

Similarly, section 14(1)(b) prohibits a hospital from negotiating discounts with health care purchasers unless the hospital is providing charity care at or above the average for the region. This provision is unfair to those hospitals, particularly in rural areas, that provide all the charity care that is demanded yet fall below the regional average. Discounts, as restricted by this bill, may well reduce health care costs. I believe it unwise to frustrate the process at the outset by inextricably tying discounts to mandated levels of charity care.

Section 14(1), on lines 27 and 28, contains a phrase which reads "If all 1984 amendments to this section and section 22 of this 1984 act take effect." This provision allows hospitals to negotiate rates lower than those established by the Commission if the amendments in section 22 take effect. As explained above, I have vetoed portions of section 22 and of section 14. Therefore, in order to preserve the hospital's ability to negotiate competitive rates, it is necessary to veto this provision in section 14.

This bill also contains an emergency clause in section 29. I am concerned that a bill of this complexity proposing such significant changes in the health care industry not be approached precipitously. I am convinced that allowing this bill to become effective in normal course will facilitate the state and the health care industry entering into the process contemplated by this bill in a more deliberative fashion.

With the exception of these provisions, Substitute Senate Bill No. 4403 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
John Spellman

To the Honorable, the Senate
of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 404(4) and section 405, Substitute Senate Bill 4430, entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to courts."
Senate Bill No. 3376 was just passed by the legislature and signed by me. That bill authorized the Supreme Court to set the salary for the position of Administrator for the Courts. It is common practice for staff salaries to be set within an administrative structure.

Sections 404(4) and 405 alter that practice by allowing the legislature to set the salary for the Administrator for the Courts. Those sections are in conflict with the intent of Senate Bill 3376.

With the exception of section 404(4) and section 405, which I have vetoed, Substitute Senate Bill No. 4430 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
John Spellman

March 29, 1984

To the Honorable, the Senate
of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 11 of Substitute Senate Bill No. 4448, entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to the regulations who perform minor health care services."

Recently, legal impediments have surfaced to the common practice of permitting unlicensed health care assistants to administer injections and withdraw blood. These unlicensed practitioners are medical technicians, medical assistants, and others giving shots and withdrawing blood in various laboratories, blood banks, and clinics. If only licensed practitioners were permitted to do these procedures, health care costs would be driven up considerably. I support this measure.

Section 11 of this bill does present a problem, however. This section adds naturopathic physicians to those permitted to draw blood. It has not been common practice for naturopathic physicians to draw blood or utilize blood samples in their diagnostic process. While ultimately this may prove to be an appropriate addition to the authorized actions of naturopaths, I am concerned that their addition to this bill was accomplished without sufficient in-depth consideration of the consequences.

With the exception of section 11, Substitute Senate Bill No. 4448, is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
John Spellman

March 30, 1984

To the Honorable, the Senate
of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith without my approval, as to several sections, Substitute Senate Bill No. 4484, entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to the athletic health care and training council."

As presented to me, this bill would create an additional state agency to regulate the safety, health care, and training of our school-aged athletes. In addition, it would give the new agency a wide array of powers to establish and enforce certain standards with respect to health and safety of training techniques and equipment. I totally support the intent of this legislation. However, I am not convinced that a clear need has been demonstrated justifying a state agency and a regulatory program of this size and scope.

In addition, this measure ignores the existing authority of elected officials who are responsible for our common school education program, including the athletic component. Indeed, this measure not only substitutes future rules and regulations of the council for that authority but may well place additional and costly burdens on these officials with respect to civil suits arising from any injuries which occur where the rules and regulations may have been violated.

All the issues raised by this legislation merit further study. Therefore, I am approving those portions of the bill which establish the council and empower it to conduct a study of health and safety conditions in organized athletic programs in the state's junior high and high schools.

With the exception of section 6, subsection 2 through subsection 5, sections 7, 8, 9, and 10. Substitute Senate Bill No. 4484 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,

John Spellman

March 28, 1984

To the Honorable, the Senate
of the State of Washington

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 1(2)(c), 2(3), and 4(4)(c). Substitute Senate Bill No. 4490, entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to residential space heating."

Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 4490 provides that utilities which supply electrical or natural gas for home heating cannot discontinue service for low-income households between November 15 and March 15 during the next two years. If the customer does not comply with the payment provisions of this legislation, the utility is authorized to discontinue service.

I support the concept of prohibiting the arbitrary shut-off of utility space heating service during the winter months. The bill will provide necessary protection to needy families. However, the provisions that require low-income energy assistance payments to be made directly to the utility or jointly payable to the customer and the utility are not acceptable.

State agencies that distribute low-income energy assistance require flexibility to administer the program to the benefit of the families eligible to receive the assistance without the added penalty these sections would create. In addition, the provisions could prohibit any energy assistance payments to low-income households that heat with oil, bottled gas, coal or wood which are not purchased from utility companies.

For these reasons, I have vetoed sections 1(2)(c), 2(3), and 4(4)(c). The remaining sections of Substitute Senate Bill No. 4490 are approved.

Respectfully submitted,

To the Honorable, the Senate
of the State of Washington

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 2, subsections 2, 3, and 4. Substitute Senate Bill No. 4494, entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to international trade development."

Substitute Senate Bill No. 4494 creates the Washington State Advisory Council on International Trade Development to provide international trade information and counsel to the Governor and the legislature.

The concept of an advisory council in the area of international trade development is acceptable and should prove beneficial. However, the method of appointment of the council and its makeup as designated in this legislation clearly circumvent the executive branch of state government. As I said with respect to a similar proposal relating to tourism development, the work envisioned by this legislation can be accomplished in a more efficient and responsible manner consistent with the constitutional principles regarding the separation of powers if the work is undertaken in the manner established in Executive Order 84-04, a copy of which I have attached to this message. For these reasons, I have vetoed subsections 2, 3, and 4 of section 2 of Substitute Senate Bill No. 4494.

The remaining sections of the bill are approved.

Respectfully submitted,

John Spellman
Governor

March 7, 1984
To the Honorable, the Senate
of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to one section Substitute Senate Bill No. 4561, entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to emergency management."

Subsection 3 of section 3 ostensibly is intended as a broad policy statement in opposition to planning for emergency response in the event of nuclear attack. Unfortunately, as drafted, the subsection could be construed to prohibit the use of emergency management functions in response to a nuclear attack as distinct from merely planning for one.

The state of Washington is responsible for the protection of the lives and property of its citizens. This responsibility is expressed in our state and national Constitutions and outlined in state and Federal laws. Although a nuclear attack would be a nightmare, one which would make all other calamities man has suffered seem small, state government is obligated to save as many lives as possible, and it is immoral to prevent government from doing all that it can to save lives and reduce suffering. The section which I am vetoing would shackle the hands of state agencies in responding to the massive human suffering following an attack. Although there may be little that government can do, it cannot stand by and watch citizens suffer if there are state resources that can be used to provide them some relief.

Although possible scenarios for a nuclear war can be debated, the fact remains that no one can guarantee that our entire population will be lost in an attack. As long as any of our citizens remain alive, they are entitled to the protection and services of the state. If at all possible, food, water, relief from pain, and shelter must be provided to those in need.

Therefore, I have vetoed section 3(3). The remainder of Substitute Senate Bill No. 4561 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
John Spellman
Governor

To the Honorable, the Senate
of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 1(2) and section 1(4), Substitute Senate Bill No. 4647, entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to the state advisory committee to the Department of Social and Health Services."

These sections would require the Department of Social and Health Services (DSHS) to limit citizen participation in its activities to one advisory committee per division or bureau unless "exceptional circumstances" could be documented. Those sections would also severely limit the establishment of new advisory committees. I am opposed to these unnecessary and arbitrary restrictions on citizen involvement in state government.

When the Department of Social and Health Services was created in 1971, the legislature in its statement of purpose declared that meaningful citizen involvement and participation in the planning and programs of DSHS are essential. I agree with that statement and can find no reason to limit the ability of DSHS to involve citizens in its programs.

With the exception of these sections, Substitute Senate Bill No. 4647 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
John Spellman
Governor

To the Honorable, the Senate
of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith without my approval Senate Bill No. 4696 entitled:
AN ACT Establishing a school district equalized calculation formula.

A drafting error which was discovered after the bill was enrolled significantly alters the bill's intended impact. As a result of levy failures in the late 1970's, certain school districts are ineligible for "grandfathered" levy authority during the phase-in of state levy controls. During legislative consideration, it was understood that the bill increased levy capacity in two districts, Federal Way and Battle Ground. However, neither district would qualify for the "equalized calculation" of levy authority provided in the bill as drafted.

Respectfully submitted,
John Spellman
Governor

March 30, 1984

To the Honorable, the Senate
of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to several sections, Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 4831, entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to worker and community right to know."

I am confronted with a dilemma with respect to this measure. Protection of workers and the public from inadvertent exposure to hazardous substances is of particular concern to me. I favor a responsible approach to these concerns tailored to the particular circumstances of the state of Washington. Unfortunately, this bill is not such a proposal.

This bill contains serious technical flaws and numerous substantive errors. It is internally inconsistent, creates a monstrous paper burden in the Department of Labor and Industries and on small business and agriculture, and is so broad that it may well constitute an illegal burden on interstate commerce under Federal law. In its present form, this bill would substantially increase costs to consumers and dampen economic recovery.

Rather than reject the concept of this legislation, I am approving those provisions of the bill which will allow the Department of Labor and Industries to be responsive to the need for establishing a program for disclosure of information regarding hazardous substances in the workplace. As a result of my action, the Department will immediately begin work in preparation for reporting to the Governor and the legislature by January 1, 1985, in conjunction with the Right to Know Advisory Council, on the necessary study of the impact of legislation on this subject, and on the need for any additional legislation.

I have vetoed section 3. This section purports to provide definitions for purposes of implementing the act. However, many of these definitions are in fact substantive requirements inappropriately engrossed on the definition section. Necessary definitions for implementation of this chapter may be developed by the Department under the authority of section 27.

I have vetoed sections 4 through 14 of the act, inclusive. Section 4 contains numerous exclusions from coverage under the statute which exclusions may or may not prove to be appropriate after study. Section 5 places on the Department of Labor and Industries the sole burden of development of a hazardous substance list. This section in conjunction with sections 6 through 14 constitutes overly burdensome aspects of the legislation.

I have vetoed section 19 from the bill for the reasons stated above. I have vetoed section 22 for the same reasons.

Many of the substantive action sections of this bill do not become operative for more than a year or two years. Therefore, it would seem prudent and in the best interests of employees, employers, and the public, that they be reviewed, fine-tuned, and acted upon next January.

With the exception of the above vetoes, Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 4831 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
John Spellman
