REMARKS BY SENATOR BLUECHEL

Senator Bluechel: "This is a very great honor for me. I very much enjoyed the last session and the privilege of presiding over the Senate, which doesn't happen to many people. I intend to try to follow the same thing as last time. I've had an exceptionally good leader. There's a master here that we've all looked at. He has taught us well.

"During the last session when we had the rulings, I found one thing, it was much more difficult to make the rulings than I ever believed. Sitting down in the seat on the floor, it seemed very simple. You could just go one way or the other. Watching Lieutenant Governor Cherberg deliberate with the attorneys on how the rulings were made, was something that very much impressed me to a great degree. I will try to be as good a presiding officer of this body as Lieutenant Governor Cherberg has been for the last thirty-two years. Thank you."

He is a person who is from my home district in Whatcom County and I think that most of you here know that he has had a long background in law enforcement. JOHN A. CHERBERG, President of the Senate.
GORDON A. GOLOB, Secretary of the Senate.

SECOND DAY

MORNING SESSION

Senate Chamber, Olympia, Tuesday, January 10, 1989

The Senate was called to order at 10:00 a.m. by President Pro Tempore Bluechel. President John A. Cherberg and Mrs. Cherberg were seated on the rostrum. The Secretary called the roll and announced to the President Pro Tempore that all Senators were present.

The Association of Washington Generals Color Guard, consisting of Commanding General Jim Washington, and Bill Rose, James Wood, Dr. Dean Tracy and Charles Jassen, presented the Colors.

Father William Sullivan, President of Seattle University, offered the following prayer:

"Let us bow our heads for a moment of prayer. Lord, we ask your gracious blessing on this gathering of the Senate of the state of Washington. We come together on this festive and historic occasion, both for remembrance and for appreciation. We come especially to recognize our friend and colleague, John Cherberg, as we celebrate with him, his thirty-two years of service as the Lieutenant Governor of our state.

"We thank you Lord and Father for John's service given in this chamber, in so many councils and committees throughout our state. We thank you for his integrity and fairness manifested in his judgments, his counsels and his decisions. And we thank you Lord for his remarkable closeness to the people of our state expressed in multitudinous receptions, ceremonies and banquets.

"We ask you Lord, to bless John and Betty this day and to bless his future and continuing years of public service. And finally Lord, we ask that his spirit of dedication to the common good, of fairness and integrity, of concern for all our citizens may mark the lives and the works of all of our public servants. We make this prayer in the spirit of the Lord. Amen"

MOTION

On motion of Senator Newhouse, the reading of the Journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was approved.

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

President Pro Tempore Bluechel: "Today marks the final day in the long and distinguished tenure of Lieutenant Governor John A. Cherberg as President of the Washington State Senate. Lieutenant Governor Cherberg is a modest man who doesn't seek the spotlight, but the Senate appreciates this opportunity to host Governor Cherberg and his lovely wife, Betty, and to pay tribute to John's most distinguished career.

"The Senate also welcomes as a special guest, the Honorable Sid Snyder, who first came to the Legislature as an elevator operator in 1949. He served in a variety of legislative capacities and became the Secretary of the Senate in 1969, and served until January, 1988. We would also like to recognize Sid's wife, Bette."

APPOINTMENT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The President Pro Tempore appointed Senators Conner, Benitz and Hansen to escort Governor Booth Gardner and former Governor Albert Rosellini to the rostrum.

INTRODUCTION OF GOVERNOR GARDNER

President Pro Tempore: "Ladies and gentlemen of the Senate, honored guests, Governor Booth Gardner, Governor Rosellini. It's my privilege to introduce to you the Governor of the state of Washington, Governor Booth Gardner."

REMARKS BY GOVERNOR BOOTH GARDNER

Governor Gardner: "It's not been lost on any of us in the room today that the individual who has served as the foremost ombudsperson of the state of Washington over time is John Cherberg. Many people run for public office because they have ego desires. Others run for the desire for power, but John Cherberg is almost unique in that, more so than any one of us here, he believed in the institution. John Cherberg loved the institution of which we are all a part and John Cherberg loved people. I've traveled in most of your districts and I've heard good things about all of you and how each of you has served your constituents so well, but from every nook and cranny in the state of Washington I've heard people ask me to send a message back to John Cherberg thanking him for the help that they have received. There was not a person, I believe, in this state that had an interest in state government that had not been served or touched by John Cherberg sometime in the history of his tenure as Lieutenant Governor of the state of Washington.

"You know, this is the classic mixed feeling syndrome here today. There's probably no public official in the history of this state who more deserves the thanks and gratitude that we're paying to John Cherberg today and have for so many days in the history of our lives. That's a happy feeling and yet there's a note of sadness, because everyone of us will miss seeing John preside over the Washington State Senate this year and the years to come. But, I'm here to tell every one of you officially that John Cherberg is not going into full retirement, he's going into semi-retirement. John will have an office at the Department of Trade and Economic Development at the foot of Queen Anne near his home, so Betty can get rid of him when she desires. John will be on retainer and John Cherberg, who has traveled this world extensively, who has served as an ambassador of goodwill for every citizen in the state of Washington, John Cherberg who has tremendous experience, will continue to provide us with the leadership that will make Washington State a household name in every home in the world as we prepare ourselves for the twenty-first century.

"John, on behalf of all of us who have known you well, thank you for all the service you've provided to us over the years and we look forward to working with you as you serve in your ambassadorial duties to the state of Washington and provide continued leadership for all of us. Thank you very much."

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

President Pro Tempore Bluechel: "We appreciate Governor Gardner being with us to share his remarks this morning. The Senate recognizes the great demands on the Governor's schedule at this busy time of year and we appreciate that you could join us for this tribute. Thank you very much, Governor."

INTRODUCTION OF FORMER GOVERNOR ALBERT ROSELLINI

"Governor Albert D. Rosellini served as Governor from 1957 to 1965. Governor Rosellini was elected to office the same year that Lieutenant Governor Cherberg was first elected. Governor Rosellini served in the Senate from 1939 to 1955. We welcome Governor Albert D. Rosellini. Governor Rosellini."

REMARKS BY FORMER GOVERNOR ALBERT ROSELLINI

Governor Rosellini: "Well, thank you very much. Governor Gardner, Governor Cherberg, members of the Senate, and all you distinguished people out there. Time marches on and being in this beautiful chamber with Italian marble—I've got to emphasize Italian, of course. I can't help but reminisce that fifty years ago, almost to the day, I was sworn in in front of this bar, the Senate Bar, as one of the youngest new Senators of the state of Washington. Eighteen years later, thirty-two years ago, John Cherberg and I, across the hall, were sworn in to head the Executive Department of the state of Washington. We had campaigned together, knew each other before the campaign, but became close political and personal friends from that day on.

"During the next eight years, during my term of office, we worked together closely, advised with each other, counseled with each other, sat on different committees. I never asked John to do anything that he wouldn't respond and carry forth his duties in the most gracious manner. You know, unlike some of my predecessors and their Lieutenant Governors, I never had any fear of leaving the state of Washington, because I knew that the state would be in good hands with John Cherberg at the head of the reins of government.

"John, of course, outlasted me about four to one--thirty-two years against eight. I was delighted to see him stay here. He has done a tremendous job. I don't need to tell you folks who have served with him here, that he certainly brought integrity and prestige to the office of the Lieutenant Governor in many other aspects to the whole state of Washington.

"I wish on this day to just express my thanks to John Cherberg for the tremendous help he gave me in my administration and certainly thank him for the great contributions he has made to the state of Washington. I say in closing, my best wishes go to John Cherberg and his lovely wife, Betty, for the happiness that they will have in semi-retirement. Thank you so much."

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

President Pro Tempore Bluechel: "Thank you very much, Governor Rosellini. It is a pleasure to have you back here in the Senate."

CAUCUS LEADERS ESCORTED TO ROSTRUM

The President Pro Tempore requested the Sergeant at Arms to escort the Majority Leader, Senator Jeannette Hayner, and the Democratic Leader, Senator Larry Vognild, to the rostrum.

INTRODUCTION OF DEMOCRATIC LEADER

President Pro Tempore Bluechel: "It's my pleasure to introduce Senator Larry Vognild, the minority leader of the Senate of the state of Washington. Senator Vognild."

REMARKS BY SENATOR VOGNILD

Senator Vognild: "Thank you very much. Governor Cherberg and Betty, your departure today is a milestone in the history of Washington State. As is often the case, I approach it with mixed emotions. I'm happy that you and Betty will have the time together that you both so richly deserve. After the years you've given to public service, you will now have a chance to take on new challenges. On the other hand, I cannot help but feel a terrific sense of loss, personally and for the Senate. I've had the good fortune of working with John Cherberg for ten years. As I reflect upon this period, I think of John as a patient teacher. John, you were always willing to share your experiences and your judgment with anyone who sought your counsel, be they veteran or freshman. Sometimes through instruction, but always through example, you set a high standard of courtesy, fairness and dignity for this body and for all public servants.

"As President of the Senate, John presided with a fairness and an even handedness that was never questioned. The integrity of your rulings from this rostrum have set a standard and became a hallmark of this institution. Your insistence on maintaining the decorum of this body not only reminds us all of the terrific responsibility we have in being here, but it certainly helped this body to do its job in a timely, efficient manner.

"Dorothy and I had the privilege of traveling with you--sometimes around the state and abroad on two occasions. I might add those travels were not at public expense. I saw then how seriously you took your role as a representative of this body and this state. As an ambassador for this state, whether you were in my city of Everett or in Europe, you represented us with grace, intelligence and good humor that stood well for the state of Washington.

"Governor, I'm very proud to be a member of the Senate, primarily because it's an institution of which we can be proud. The truth is that is due in large part to your influence. You made that tradition and you made us proud. Dorothy and I wish you and Betty all the best in the years to come, and Governor I must tell you, I am extremely proud to have served and learned from you. Thank you."

INTRODUCTION OF MAJORITY LEADER

President Pro Tempore Bluechel: "I would like to introduce the majority leader of the Washington State Senate, Senator Hayner."

REMARKS BY SENATOR HAYNER

Senator Hayner: "Governor Cherberg, Betty, Senators, Representatives and distinguished guests all. My Republican colleagues and I have served in both the minority and the majority with you, and we have the greatest respect that we could possibly have for you. Even though we have not always agreed on every issue, you have commanded that respect and you are a shining example of what a public servant should be in this state. You know, too often employees of government do not make it a lifetime career. They use it as a stepping stone or an interlude to something ever better. So, what you have done is an example for this state and for this nation for a true and dedicated public servant.

"Governor, in honor of your public service, as both the Lieutenant Governor and President of this body, we have a token of our esteem for you and our great respect for you which we would like to present at this time. Senator Vognild would you join me? This is a memento in your honor and what it contains is a photograph of the Legislative Building in which you have served with such distinction. It also contains the seal of the great state of Washington, and the seal of the Lieutenant Governor's office, together with two letters—one from Governor Booth Gardner and the other from Senator Larry Vognild and me, on behalf of the members of this body and contains all of the signatures of the current members.

"I would like to briefly quote from the text of the letters. From Governor Gardner:

'Dear Governor Cherberg, you have served so admirably and so dependably as Lieutenant Governor of the state of Washington, that you have almost come to define the office itself. I know of no political leader in the history of our state who has had a comparable impact on the institution of state government.'

"From the Senate letter to you:

'Governor, you have always been willing to share your experience and judgment with those who sought your counsel, veteran and freshman alike. Sometimes through instruction and always by example, you set a high standard for courtesy, fairness and dignity for this body and all public servants.'

"Governor Cherberg, on behalf of all of the members of the Washington State Senate, we want to extend our most sincere thanks for all that you have given to this institution and to all the people of Washington. Thank you."

There being no objection, the President Pro Tempore advanced the Senate to the eighth order of business.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Newhouse, the following resolution was adopted:

SENATE RESOLUTION 1989-8602

by Senators Hayner, Sellar, Vognild, Warnke, Amondson, Anderson, Bailey, Barr, Bauer, Bender, Benitz, Bluechel, Cantu, Conner, Craswell, DeJarnatt, Fleming, Gaspard, Hansen, Johnson, Kreidler, Lee, Madsen, Matson, McCaslin, McDonald, McMullen, Metcalf, Moore, Murray, Nelson, Newhouse, Niemi, Owen, Patterson, Pullen, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Saling, Smith, Smitherman, Stratton, Sutherland, Talmadge, Thorsness, von Reichbauer, West, Williams and Wojahn; Secretary of the Senate, Gordon A. Golob; Assistant Secretary of the Senate, Nate Naismith; Sergeant at Arms, George LaPold

WHEREAS, In this Centennial Year of the state of Washington, the Honorable John A. Cherberg ends his illustrious and notable career as President of the Senate and Lieutenant Governor of our great state of Washington; and

WHEREAS, Governor Cherberg has held the office of Lieutenant Governor with distinction and honor for thirty-two years, which is longer than any Lieutenant Governor in the history of the United States of America; and

WHEREAS, John A. Cherberg has served during the terms of five different Washington State Governors and has performed the duties of Acting Governor of the Evergreen State for longer than a full four-year term; and

WHEREAS, Throughout his notable and outstanding tenure in state government, Lieutenant Governor Cherberg has had the unswerving and enduring love and devotion of his wife of over fifty years - Betty - and the dedicated loyalty of his three children, Kay, Barbara and Jamie, his two grandchildren, Kimberly and Tyler, and the other loving members of his family; and

WHEREAS, By his charm, wit, intellect, diplomacy, energy and vision, Lieutenant Governor Cherberg has forged his way into the history books of the state of Washington and into the hearts of its people; and

WHEREAS, Lieutenant Governor Cherberg has compassionately led this state, at the helm of its Senate and as Acting Governor, through times both good and bad, and in the process has always carefully chosen his battles, such as those he led for passage of the State Open Meetings Act, for increased funding for cancer research and kidney dialysis programs, for strengthened laws against child abuse, and for excellence in education; and

WHEREAS, Lieutenant Governor Cherberg, in the exceptional, even-handed, dignified manner in which he has executed the duties of the office of Lieutenant Governor, has left not only a personal legacy, but has also set the standard by which future Lieutenant Governors shall be measured;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the members of the Washington State Senate do hereby recognize and honor the contributions of Lieutenant Governor John A. Cherberg to the Senate and the state of Washington; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Senate declares January 10, 1989, as "John A. Cherberg Day" in the Washington State Senate; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the members of the Senate, with heavy heart and fond memory, do bid adieu to "The Guv," confident in the knowledge that he will continue to grace this chamber with his charm and leadership; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to Lieutenant Governor John A. Cherberg and his family.

REMARKS BY SENATOR RASMUSSEN

Senator Rasmussen: "Mr. President, I would just like to have Governor Cherberg read the News Tribune today. It shows a fitting picture of Governor Rosellini; he's pitching hay out at Western State. They do not forget you, Governor, and all of the good work you have done. You have educated all of us. You have given support to the fact that you have been married to the same wife for these many years, who has done a very good job in keeping you in good health and I'm sure that she will continue to do so.

"I know that there are a lot of people over there in China who remember you well and your wife, Betty, and the trip you made as an ambassador. We will miss you, but don't leave us. We've got Senator Ted Peterson back here today. He says that it's just the same. He says there's no difference in the laws we make. I'm sure that while we will miss you, we will still continue to make these bad laws with good intentions. There will be plenty for you to do to keep your eye on this bunch and the rest, and particularly Senator Fleming, who in his hurry to get down to this session, smashed up his car. That shows how eager they are to get down here and it might be because of the per diem and not because of the laws. You can't get many lobbyists to feed you at home, but you can eat high on the hog here.

"We'll miss you, Governor, in spite of the idle words that I have said and we'll miss your wife and I know my wife, sitting up in the gallery, is going to miss you and your wife very much. Thank you for sticking with us for as long as you did. It's been a tremendous job. I'm surprised that you could maintain your good humor after the way some of us have challenged you here from the floor, but we found out you were right and we go on. Thanks for all the years of good service and the good education you've given me personally and to the rest of the members of the Legislature. Thank you."

REMARKS BY SENATOR SELLAR

Senator Sellar: "Thank you, Mr. President, and members of the Senate. The accolades could go on all day and rightfully so, but I'd just like to add a personal note and that is how much that I and my family have appreciated the opportunity to know John and Betty Cherberg. When I have a constituent here, John Cherberg is the first one to come out, shake their hand, say hello, and talk to them about government. That just supersedes all the rulings and all the neat things that John does up on that podium. When he shakes somebody's hand and says, 'Welcome to the state of Washington,' it's very, very special. It's very special to me and I thank you very much for allowing me to have the privilege of associating with such a fine couple."

REMARKS BY SENATOR WOJAHN

Senator Wojahn: "John, it was once said of an Irish statesman, who was very much loved by his people, that he could look into his own heart and know what the people of Ireland wanted. In you, Washingtonians have been blessed with a great leader. We've even named a building for you and perhaps, if we took a vote today, we could name the state of Washington or even King County for Cherberg. But John, it would still fall short of doing you the honor that we feel is due you--for in our hearts--for having the privilege of knowing you--and making a little bit of history together. Today marks the end of an era in the Senate. God help us to preserve in this great chamber the Cherberg heritage of dignity, grace and leadership. We love you John. What more can I say?"

REMARKS BY SENATOR RINEHART

Senator Rinehart: "Governor Cherberg and Betty. One of the things that we should realize as we stand here today and go through the list of adjectives that apply only and particularly to you--those adjectives of dignity, grace, charm, fairness--we have to remember there are a lot of people who are not here today, who regard you in a very special way. One of the reasons so many of us campaigned for your job was because we looked at you as a tremendous leader in our state and one of the things that all of us learned as we went around the state was that in every city, in every town, there are people who will come up and say, 'John Cherberg is my friend.' To be regarded, all across the state by people in every walk of life, as a friend, I think is the highest tribute that can be paid to you, not only for us, but for all those people across the state, who speak of you in reverence as a friend."

REMARKS BY SENATOR GASPARD

Senator Gaspard: "Thank you, Mr. President. Governor Cherberg and Betty, I wish to say thank you to both of you, but first to Betty. Betty, after all these years, thank you for being so willing to share John with us. He has been a friend of all of us here in the state of Washington. For those of us here in this legislative arena, Governor Cherberg, you have given us the pleasure of serving with the most distinguished, dedicated public servant that I've ever had the pleasure of meeting and serving with. As I look across this body and at least those of us who are current members of the Senate, I don't know, I think all of us have been under your tutelage and do not know of any other Lieutenant Governor, but John Cherberg, who has been President of these chambers for all these years--except maybe for the possibility of Senator Rasmussen, of course.

"With that, Governor Cherberg, you have set the example for all of us as we strive to be better public servants and you've left us with that legacy that is so important for those of us to pass on to our future generations. For that, Governor Cherberg, you will always have my thanks."

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

President Pro Tempore Bluechel: "The President would like to invite any former member or elected officials who are seated on the floor to make appropriate remarks if they so desire."

REMARKS BY SENATOR FLEMING

Senator Fleming: "Mr. President and members of the body. I would be somewhat remiss if I did not stand before this body and speak on this occasion. Not only remiss by the fact that we have a couple before us that have meant so much to the people of this state, but I would be remiss by the fact that even though Senator Rasmussen has more time, Governor John Cherberg is the only one serving in this body who was here when I arrived.

"We stand before you and we speak of all the kinds of things that you and Betty mean to us and in a place under this dome where so many people that serve get so hung up on ego and politics. You are one elected official who has served in this body and that is something that has never come to the forefront. You are not only respected in this body--as was said before--as one travels throughout this state, you're not only respected within the institution you so much respect, but you are respected for the person that you are--for the elected official that you've been--and we all love you. Not only do we who serve with you love you and Betty, but as was said before, as you go from every nook and cranny of this state, they love you Gov, so I do not want to speak to that issue.

"I would just like to say if I could say nothing else, you and Betty, you're what we call a 'class act.' Thank you."

REMARKS BY SENATOR METCALF

Senator Metcalf: "Thank you, Mr. President and members of the Senate. It is a privilege and an honor for me to have served in this body under the leadership of John Cherberg and a privilege to speak briefly in honor of him. I used to be a math teacher and I was doing a little mathematics, and I believe my math is correct, that John has presided over the Senate for more than half the time that this chamber has been used by the Senate--that is, since it was built. I think that really is significant.

"Just a word to George, I might correct you on one thing you said, I was here when you arrived, also."

REMARKS BY SENATOR DEJARNATT

Senator DeJarnatt: "Thank you, Mr. President. Governor Rosellini, Governor Cherberg. There have been a lot of tough acts to follow here, but I'll make my modest contribution. I first met John Cherberg during the campaign in 1956 when I was President of the Young Democrats in Cowlitz County and we sponsored a rally down there.

"I came to this chamber along with Senator Metcalf--not this chamber, but across the way--in 1961 during Governor Cherberg's second term as Lieutenant Governor. Before you became Lieutenant Governor, you had a career as a coach. As a former coach myself, I think the term 'coach' is one of the greatest titles that anyone can bear. I think it ranks right up there with Senator, Governor, Judge or anything else, but I don't think you stopped being a coach. You continued being a coach as you presided over this body. You coached us in good manners. You coached us in being a gentle man or gentle lady. You coached about rules of procedure--orderly process. You brought out the best in us and I think that may well be your greatest legacy, the dignity and the decorum that you brought to this chamber. I say not a good-bye, because we hope to see you around, but good tidings to one of the greatest coaches in the history of the state of Washington."

REMARKS BY FORMER SENATOR JOHN JONES

Senator Jones: "Mr. President, I am an emotional Welshman and I may get a little teary here, but I do have very fond memories of John and Betty. Ruth wishes me to say hello, not good-bye to you. I have some great memories. I think the most vivid is the one when I went into the office of Snyder--Golob was there--George Clark and you, and we had a little set-to and I think that is the only friction I ever saw in our office and it's a wonderful memory, because everybody came out of there feeling pretty good about it. I think we were hoping somehow we could overturn one of your decisions. It just didn't work. They've been great memories.

"Our travels together have been outstanding and I just hope to see more of you, John. You'll be around town. I would hope that one of us would call each other. When we get back we'll see Cec Gholson, those of us who are still alive and get together for lunch. Thanks so much for the opportunity and for the experience of acquaintanceship."

REMARKS BY PUBLIC LANDS COMMISSIONER BRIAN BOYLE

Commissioner Boyle: "Thank you, Mr. President. It may be kind of unprecedented for a non-member to speak from the floor, but I am an occupant of the John A. Cherberg Building, as some of you know in the Senate. I also have the distinction of being only one of two Commissioners of Public Lands who had the opportunity to serve with Governor Cherberg on the committee we know as the Capitol Committee.

"To me, one of the legacies that we should remind ourselves of as we watch Governor Cherberg pass from the scene here, is that as a member of the Capitol Committee under many Governors, he has been the one person that has stood for keeping the State Capitol as beautiful as it was originally envisioned. There have been a number of errant attempts to change the essence of the State Capitol and the west campus of the State Capitol. Governor Cherberg, I know, has been the one person who has led the charge always to prevent the beauty of this capitol from being defaced or in any way changed from the way it was originally imagined by the designers of the capitol. I think we should all thank him when we walk through this west campus, as Governor Cherberg, singularly, is responsible for keeping it as beautiful as it has been kept. Thank you."

REMARKS BY SENATOR MCCASLIN

Senator McCaslin: "Thank you, Mr. President. Obviously, Brian hasn't checked his mail today. You were in the John Cherberg Building.

"I agree with everything that's been said. In fact, I wish I could think of some of the descriptive adjectives that the Governor has used throughout the years, except those he levied at me. I'm sure you wouldn't want to hear those. I remember when I first arrived here and was introduced to the Governor. He said to me, 'Are you going to give me any trouble?' I haven't given you any trouble until today. Actually, a lot of people don't know it, but I'm a mind reader and I was reading Betty's mind when all these accolades were being levied towards the Governor and she said mentally, 'I've got to go check my marriage license, because I don't know about the guy they're talking about.' You're going to find Betty, that when you check that marriage license, it's true that you've been married to this delightful man for many, many years.

"I've had the opportunity to serve with him for eight years. I guess I've got as much love for him as any Republican has for any Democrat. I think that's both ways. He's probably one of the finest gentlemen I've ever met in my life. Being a previous coach, I guess we are running in a substitute, but John you'll always be on the first team and you're All American to me. I can remember some of the remarks you made about Senator Woody and I, and of course, I can't publish those--nor can I repeat them. They were beautiful.

"John and I used to send notes back and forth. That's when I learned to write in 1982, and John helped me with that, but we passed notes back and forth. Of course, you folks didn't have the privilege of seeing some of those notes. They were absolutely fantastic. If I had been a little smarter, and of course the Democrats will believe I'm not that smart, I would have saved all of them, because I could have made a fortune in a book.

"John, I guess the bottom line is, as Senator Fleming said, 'We love you John.' We will always love you and we will look forward to any time you come back. God bless you and Betty."

REMARKS BY FORMER SENATOR TED PETERSON

Senator Peterson: "Well, this old ticker of mine is really pumping now, John and Betty, I'll tell you. To be back here, under these circumstances, is just--well it's just beyond me. I can look back when I came into this Senate--Emmett Anderson, the Lieutenant Governor, was serving here. Over the period of over twenty years that I served in the Senate, it's just been nice. Close your mouth there, Al. I served--we were sitting back here--and I can always remember Al the wonderful times that we had. I should say Governor Al. Then, having served under Art Langley and then coming into your honor, Albert D. Rosellini, and then coming into Dan Evans and serving all that time, it has just been wonderful.

"I just had to get up, John and Betty, and tell how wonderful it is to be alive and know you as well as I have, down through the years, and to be here on this wonderful occasion to honor you now, Governor, I'll never forget some of the wonderful times we had here. To you in the Senate, I just want to say that it's just great to be here and feel honored as I know you do, by being a member of this wonderful body of Senators here in this wonderful building. I'm so happy that you haven't defaced it with a lot of pictures and things like that."

REMARKS BY JUSTICE JAMES DOLLIVER

Justice Dolliver: "Thank you, Mr. President. I want to talk about Governor Cherberg in a slightly different aspect--his aspect as Acting Governor. During the time I was on the staff of Dan Evans, I suspect he made most of the four years up during that time. Governor Evans had a habit of leaving town from time to time and Governor Cherberg took over. Mostly they were routine matters, but I want to tell the members of the Senate and remind Governor Cherberg of this particular incident where you took the measure of the man, but what that man did under enormous pressure.

"This is in the early 1970's. The Governor was in Japan--unavailable. This is one of the times that one of the marches was going to be held. Governor Cherberg and I were together in Seattle. Calls were made by prominent elected officials to call out the National Guard, that one ought to do this or one ought to do that. It was a time for calmness and maturity and judgment and I want to say to you, Governor, and I will never forget it--I'm sure you remember--the incident and the occasion when, through your judgment, through your control of the situation, through your ability to understand what really was going on, you saved the state of Washington, single-handedly, really. You saved the state of Washington from what could have been a very, very serious, if not disastrous situation. If nothing else in your illustrious career could be pointed to, and I suspect most people here don't even know the story, that one incident and you'll remember it well when you said, 'No, we're not going to call out the Guard. No, we're not going to have a violent reaction. Everybody is going to stay calm. I'm the acting Governor and things are going to work out.' That happened and it did.

"Governor, as you and Betty go into retirement, at least from this phase in your life, I'll remember you always and wish you and Betty God speed."

REMARKS BY FORMER SENATOR BOB LEWIS

REMARKS BY SENATOR MOORE

Senator Moore: "Mr. President and everybody. I was at the University at the same time the Cherbergs were there. I have known them for a long time and watched them for these many years, but I would like to tell you today about my arrival in the Senate. Now keep in mind that I had run numerous times before, even the Attorney General, Ken Eikenberry, had defeated me.

"When I arrived here, I thought out of courtesy I should call on the Lieutenant Governor. So, I went in and we shook hands and I said, 'Governor, I wonder if you could give an old man, arriving here for the first time, some advice.' With his usual grace, he invited me to come into the office and sit down and he got the silver service out and we had coffee and he said, 'What was your question again?' I said, 'Do you have some advice to give an old man arriving here for the first time?' He pondered for a moment and he said, 'Always vote your conscience,' and then he reached over and grabbed my arm and said, 'But don't forget the district.' I tell you, that is probably the best advice that I've have in my entire life.

"I think that's one of the reasons why I want to thank Betty and John for being my neighbors. We live so close together, we can wave to each other from our decks and I want to continue to do that as long as we may live. Thank you."

REMARKS BY FORMER REPRESENTATIVE FRANCES NORTH

Representative North: "Hi John and Betty. John gave me some very good advice when I was in the House of Representatives. I had just been elected and hadn't taken office yet. When Justice Dolliver told your history about calmness, I remembered that Lieutenant Governor John Cherberg gave me a post card with his name on it and he wrote on it, 'Keep calm.' That's the best advice I've ever had, and John, thank you for that advice. I'll remember it forever. Your door was always open to me when I was in the State House and I'll remember you forever. Thank you."

REMARKS BY SENATOR HANSEN

Senator Hansen: "Thank you, Mr. President. You know I agree with everything that's been said here today. This is a great man and a great wife that goes with him. Personally, I wanted to just thank them very much for being my friend."

REMARKS BY SENATOR SUTHERLAND

Senator Sutherland: "Thank you, Mr. President, Governor Cherberg and Betty, from the heart of a freshman who has a real appreciation for the institution of government, I want to thank you. As a freshman in the House, you looked me up as you've done many, many folks in the state of Washington, and invited me out to dinner. It was then that we began an acquaintance and friendship that has helped me as far as giving me advice and counsel to help serve as we are all here to do for the citizens of our area.

"We've heard many comments on how you've given advice today, but it's also a privilege for me as a new member of the Senate to begin serving my time in the Senate, to begin serving the state of Washington in its second one hundred years, to have been sworn in, Sir, by you. I appreciate that and as I continue my service to the citizens of the state of Washington, for those in my district as Senator Moore mentioned which is very important to each of us, I want to thank you for helping me, not only to begin my service in the House of Representatives with advice and counsel, but in the Senate by swearing me in and by being here and helping to set the stage for a Centennial Session and for the second one hundred years in the state of Washington. Thank you very much."

FURTHER REMARKS BY SENATOR TED PETERSON

REMARKS BY SENATOR CRASWELL

Senator Craswell: "Lieutenant Governor, yesterday I thanked you for your years of great leadership and for the fine example that you had set for each of us and I meant that very sincerely. Today, I've been here listening to all these accolades, which you so deserve and I agree one hundred percent with all of them, but there's one other thing I would like to add. It's been written that the function of government is to reward those who do good and punish those who go wrong. We spend a lot of time in these chambers writing laws to take care of those who do wrong, but seldom does anybody in the role of government spend the time that you do in rewarding those who do good.

"I don't know how many times I've come to your office and said that there's somebody who has done something really meritorious in my district and could I get you to send out one of your certificates to them. I don't know how many certificates you've sent around the state to give a special pat on the back to people who have done wonderful things, but I can't tell you how much that means to a citizen who has volunteered their time or done something really special to receive that meritorious award from your office. It's meant so much to them and it's meant a lot to me and I know it's encouraged many others of this state to do something good. Thank you."

REMARKS BY FORMER REPRESENTATIVE EARL TILLY

Representative Tilly: "Thank you, Mr. President. Governor Cherberg and Mrs. Cherberg. I feel Eastern Washington maybe needs a little bit more representation today. I guess like many of us, who have served in the House and those in the Senate always have that feeling, we're really the minority. I first met Governor Cherberg when I was campaigning in 1972 for the House, and I remembered some of the words that he spoke in the dedication of the first handicapped facility in Wenatchee. It really, I think, awakened my awareness of the needs for those people. This was the time when the state institutions were sort of being closed out. We were going to a community base and I think he helped me increase an awareness for those people who cannot help themselves. I appreciated his leadership in getting those facilities established.

"I guess my second great memory of the Cherbergs is when I was in the group that travelled to China in 1980. I really increased my awareness again of these people who are saying good things today and I got to know them so much better and so much more personally. Seeing some of those alumni of that trip today and hearing some of the words, it makes me feel real good that I could be here today and be with you. I'll always have those great memories of the Cherbergs. Thank you."

REMARKS BY FORMER SECRETARY OF THE SENATE SID SNYDER

Secretary Snyder: "Thank you, Alan. Governor Cherberg and Betty and Governor Rosellini. I just want to tell a couple stories. In the 1970s, we had a little different group coming into the Senate. You know, the Vietnam War was on and people were a little more relaxed and Governor Cherberg always liked to keep the decorum, as we all know. We had one Senator, in particular, who would come in on Saturday with pants made out of flour sacks. If we had a Sunday session, he didn't believe he should wear a tie or shave. Well, the Governor was kind of perturbed about it, even though he didn't let too many people know, but Bill Gissberg kind of picked up and went over and talked to the Senator and he came back and reassured Governor Cherberg that there would be no more flour sack pants and the Senator would be sure and shave if we had Sunday sessions. That was a freshman member at that time and his name was Booth Gardner.

"Governor Cherberg always said that presiding over the Senate was not much different than being a coach. The only difference, instead of a whistle, you had a gavel. Well, to me it was more like somebody that was conducting the philharmonic orchestra. It was more like a baton than a gavel in his hand. Gov, you did a great job. Thank you."

REMARKS BY COLUMNIST ADELE FERGUSON

Adele Ferguson: "John, dear old friend. I remember stories about you too, and I love to hear about all this. Remember the time when McCutcheon was standing out there and he couldn't understand why the television cameramen weren't taking his picture, so he said to Cherberg, 'Governor Cherberg, why don't they take my picture?' So Cherberg said, 'Will the television cameramen please take Senator McCutcheon's picture?' The cameraman went like this (finger in air). Cherberg charged off the rostrum, got him by the scruff of the neck. He thought he was giving him the finger and all he was trying to tell him was that the lights weren't on. He couldn't see anything. Then, there was the time he threw the whole television crew out of the Rules Room. They insisted on standing behind the members and by gosh, he wasn't going to let that happen and out they went.

"Yet, nobody did more to open up government than John Cherberg. Nobody--nobody worked harder for public disclosure than John Cherberg. Now, I won't go on. I remember when I came here in 1961, you guys were out there eating apples and candy bars and reading newspapers and drinking coffee. He stopped that--shaped you up--put coats and ties and all that kind of stuff on you, gavelled you down when you were out there talking when you shouldn't have been.

"Well, let me say, John, after hearing all this good stuff about you now, remember you've been certified. When you sit down with Booth Gardner to discuss that retainer, you stick it to him."

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

President Pro Tempore Bluechel: "I wonder if the distinguished reporter would be willing to put that in her next column."

FURTHER REMARKS BY SENATOR RASMUSSEN

Senator Rasmussen: "Mr. President, I think you should announce that the speaker was Adele Ferguson. Many of the legislators recognize Adele, but many of the public do not. She's just as good looking as her by-line.

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

President Pro Tempore Bluechel: "My error, Senator Rasmussen."

REMARKS BY SENATOR NEWHOUSE

Senator Newhouse: "I was sure Senator Rasmussen was going to move that the remarks be inserted in the Journal."

REMARKS BY FORMER SENATOR TED BOTTIGER

Senator Bottiger: "Mr. President and members of the Senate. I toyed with the question, whether I ought to get up and reveal some truths and secrets that have been so far held from public scrutiny, but George Turnman, who was Lieutenant Governor of the state of Montana, and I serve on a regional body together, and George was asking me why John was stepping down. I told him that I would check and try and get a real honest answer and I cabled him the other day. It had something to do with the rugs.

"John and Betty, it really isn't so bad out there. The only bad thing that I can think of telling you about retirement is that you'll now have to have three pieces of ID to cash a check."

FURTHER REMARKS BY SENATOR MCCASLIN

Senator McCaslin: "I just received a note, Mr. President, that said, 'Would you please hurry up? My four years are almost up. Signed: Joel Pritchard.'"

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

Senator Bluechel: "Lieutenant Governor Cherberg. It is my personal privilege to be among only a handful of Senators, chosen by my peers, to briefly take your place here on the rostrum. When it comes to courtesy, dignity, and grace under pressure, no President Pro Tempore has ever been able to match your most distinguished performance. You have been a shining example to all Senators who have served with you, of how a public official should conduct himself. One of your greatest contributions has been the decorum you have maintained in this chamber through the sheer force of your will and your sustained dignity. Governor Cherberg, you have set standards by which all future presiding officers in this body will be judged. To me personally, you have been a patient and understanding teacher. Along with all the others gathered here to honor you, let me add my best wishes for a bright and happy future.

"I would now like to turn the gavel over to Lieutenant Governor Cherberg for his remarks, but before I do, I would like to invite the Governors, the members of the Senate, and all of our distinguished guests, to attend a reception in honor of the Lieutenant Governor in the State Reception Room immediately upon adjournment. Governor Cherberg."

REMARKS BY LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR CHERBERG

President Cherberg: "I am deeply grateful. It is wonderful to smell the flowers while I'm still around to enjoy them.

"Distinguished guests, ladies and gentlemen of the Senate. As I greet you for this final time in an official capacity, I wish to express my heartfelt thanks for all of the courtesies you have extended to me over these many years.

"I look back on serious times and lighter times, but they all were good times for me. My efforts have been made so much lighter by the outstanding men and women of the Senate, and those of my personal staff and the officers and employees of the Senate.

"The Secretary of the Senate plays a major role in everything that goes on from the podium and in assuring that the Senate runs smoothly. In that position, Ward Bowden, the Secretary of the Senate in my first years here, got me off on the right track and laid the foundation for my work as presiding officer. On Ward's untimely passing, Sid Snyder became the Secretary of the Senate. Sid was my good right hand for more than nineteen years. His contribution on parliamentary matters is unsurpassed in the history of the Senate, in my estimation. I don't know what I would have done without Sid Snyder. The present Secretary of the Senate, Gordon Golob, has his feet on the ground and is doing a fine job.

"I have had the benefit of outstanding legal advice from a number of excellent attorneys to the Lieutenant Governor. Jim McBride was my attorney in the first session in 1957. Don McGavick served in 1959. Both are now deceased. John Crowley joined me in 1961, and served the longest of the legal advisers I have had, through the 1977 session. John is now the executive officer of the State Horse Racing Commission. Following John were Tony Cook, now an official with the State Utilities and Transportation Commission, and Gail Toraason, still familiar in Olympia as a member of the Third House. Mike O'Connell and Marty Brown have been of invaluable service to me. Marty has been my legal adviser since the 1981 session and he is just completing a monumental work in classifying and codifying all of the Rulings and Precedents of the President of the Senate.

"Charlie Johnson was elected Senate Sergeant at Arms in my first session. He served well until a change in the majority in 1981. Fred Hildebrand was his successor, followed by my good and loyal friend, Ole Scarpelli, who has been with me since the first day—always ready to do the job no matter what it was. George LaPold now holds the job and is doing a fine job.

"In my personal office, I have been exceedingly fortunate. Mary Lou Bammert has been my personal secretary since I was sworn in to office. In fact, Mary Lou has served two and one-half days longer than I have, as she went on the payroll the opening day of the 1957 session. Much of our success, especially in handling constituent problems, I owe to Mary Lou. I don't know how she stood thirty-two years with me. Others who contributed greatly on my personal staff were Mary Kay Krinbring, with me for twenty-two years doing an excellent job until her untimely passing. Mary Wiley, who is with us as Journal Clerk on the rostrum today, did marvelous work for me. Judy Keefe and Diane Sandvik also contributed to a very smooth running office of the Lieutenant Governor. The many employees of the Senate these thirty-two years have made my work so much easier.

"All of the members of the Senate have been generous and exceedingly kind to me. I will remember you all very fondly. It has been a great honor and a high privilege to serve the citizens of Washington State and the Senate. All the best for the future and God bless you all. All I ask is to remember me. If the remembrance be a fault, forget me. Thank you so very, very much."

FURTHER REMARKS BY THE LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR

President Cherberg: "I would like to say that I saved the best to the last. I want to say that it is simply wonderful to have one of the greatest women in the world, my wife Betty."

"I'd like to introduce our first daughter, Kay Cohrs. Where are you Kay? Come on up."

Senator Sutherland escorted Kay to the rostrum.

"Our second daughter, Barbara Tonkin."

Senator Sutherland escorted Barbara to the rostrum.

"Our first son, Jamie Cherberg, now Dr. Cherberg. Where are you, Jim?"

Senator Stratton escorted Dr. Cherberg to the rostrum.

"So there they are. They're all married. I made enough mistakes. I think I'm going to shut my big mouth."

The following prayer was offered by Dr. Dale Turner, retired Minister of the University Congregational Church of Seattle:

"Eternal God, hear our prayer of gratitude for the high purpose that brings us to this place and for the excitement and promise of new beginnings. We praise You for our state and for all who have served in a century gone by to lay the firm foundation upon which we now may build. Teach us, O God, the proper uses of the past that we may better serve in the present and more wisely plan for the future. We thank You for the humor we have here experienced lending perspective to all that we do.

"O God, in these tumultuous days, when the issues of tomorrow weigh upon the decisions of today, we pray Your guidance with Governor Gardner and all who will share leadership with him. Grant to them humility without timidity, competence without arrogance, and may they exercise authority without being authoritarian. May they be just in the exercise of power, reverent in the use of freedom, and generous in the protection of weakness. Help us all to play a constructive part in the life of our time. We thank You for the good that we can do together that no one of us can do alone. Keep us from falling into moaning about how bad the world is and help us to work for the good it was intended to be. Nag us continually about our priorities until what matters most to You is what matters most to us. Make keen our minds to distinguish between what is really true and what is merely the defense of our own position.

"And, in love of truth, let us not be content to wait and see what will happen, but let us make the right things happen. Comfort us when we are overcome by affliction and afflict us with the pain of loving involvement when we are overcome by comfort. May we be mature in our actions, childlike but never childish, humble but never cringing, understanding but never conceited, always free from bitterness, self pity or despair.

"And so, Eternal God, help us to be among the honorable company of citizens who lift our society and do not lean upon it and thus make it a better and a brighter society because we dwell within it. And may the just and peaceful world for which we all yearn be built upon the cornerstone of a strong and friendly state. To this end we all dedicate ourselves this day. Amen."

The National Anthem was sung by Jan Stentz.

SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS

Speaker King: "These inaugural ceremonies mark both a continuation and a beginning of public office. This occasion also marks, for three distinguished Washingtonians here today, retirement from office following long careers of outstanding achievement. Before we engage in those rites which look to the future, let us honor these three who have served this state so well for so long.

"Three former Speakers of the House of Representatives have joined us for this worthy purpose. Distinguished service to their state is something held in common by all three former Speakers on the rostrum with me.

"Charles Hodde was Speaker during some important and turbulent years in the state of Washington. Springing from a distinguished career in the House in the 1930's and 40's, Charles Hodde served as Speaker during 1949-51. Known to some of his political opponents as 'Little Caesar,' he was widely respected for his abilities. During his tenure, the number of miles of state roads multiplied several times. In the reminiscences of that period, Mr. Hodde noted that, especially in the rural areas, 'if you didn't come home with a new stretch of highway or a new bridge built by the state ... you probably wouldn't get re-elected.'

"Wayne Ehlers was Speaker from 1983-86, and he did much more than bring the leisure suit into popular acceptance. He also made the state a better place for all of us. The needs of education were uppermost on Wayne Ehler's agenda. The State School Directors' Association called his last session as Speaker 'one of the most successful legislative sessions for education in history.' It has also been said that a lot of polyesters had to die in order for Wayne to get dressed for work. But, he kept his sense of humor, even on the rostrum. When his gavel strayed too far off the block and smashed the glass, slogans were born that lasted the entire session--'Ready, fire, aim.'

"Robert Schaefer was Speaker of the House in 1965-66. He was an attorney from Vancouver before taking his place in the House. Schaefer was a near-perfect choice for the times. He emerged as a compromise leader when members of the Majority Caucus had trouble picking a new Speaker. He was a smart choice. On that, many of the members of the day agree. Schaefer turned out to be effective and highly organized, and he earned high marks for his thoroughness and fair play. I got to watch Speaker Schaefer in Clark County and he taught me the 'picket fence school of government.' You walk up and down that picket fence very carefully. You don't press too hard, but you press on this picket; you press on the next. When you find a picket that is loose, you very carefully take it down. You move up and down the fence, and pretty soon you have a hole in the fence and you very politely step to the other side."

The Speaker introduced Speaker Wayne Ehlers to make a special presentation to Dr. Frank B. Brouillet.

Speaker Ehlers: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Governor Gardner, Lieutenant Governor Pritchard, distinguished elected officials, honored guests and friends. It is with a great deal of pleasure that I am here today to share some thoughts about these people, who have been a very important part of my life. As I was driving down this morning, I thought of the more than one hundred years of distinguished public service of the three gentlemen we are honoring today. I remembered the 1950s, when I was a freshman in college and John Cherberg was first elected Lieutenant Governor. By that time, Treasurer O'Brien had already been Clark County Treasurer for a number of years, certainly all through my high school days. Dr. Frank "Buster" Brouillet was elected as a State Representative in 1956; again, I was still in school as a freshman.

"I taught for a number of years--first in 1960 in a Tacoma high school. I had a chance to see a legislator, an educator, a counselor, a coach who was well respected by not only the Legislature and the public, but also, certainly, by students and teachers. As time went on, I continued to teach and watch from afar the career of Buster Brouillet. It was certainly a distinguished career. Again, he was first elected in 1956 and promoted education legislation which was truly a landmark, not only for this state, but also for this nation. It provided an appropriate education for the handicapped, for the disabled, in our state.

"Later Buster became Superintendent of Public Instruction, after a stint with the Community College at Highline. He was elected in 1972 to the first of four terms as Superintendent of Public Instruction. I won't tell you all of the highlights of Buster Brouillet's career in that office, but there are many. He certainly provided leadership in bilingual education, vocational education, special education, remedial education, programs for the gifted, and some programs that aren't particularly well known, but perhaps some of you have had contact with them, including international education. In the last three years, for example, we have had two hundred and fifty exchange students from China and Japan. We don't read much about that in the newspapers, but a lot of the credit for international education goes to the gentleman we are honoring today. Lastly, he certainly deserves credit for something, which some of us should have been much more aware of and concerned with, and that is dropout prevention and substance abuse. He kept reminding us of that before it became the popular thing to address. He was there first.

"As I was trying to put together some ending remarks, I thought I might give a recitation of a poem or a light story. Then I thought of Marge and Buster and that this is not truly an ending. It is a beginning. I suspect we are going to hear a lot more from Buster Brouillet, whether we want to or not, over the next few years. We would all be the better for that. It is with a great deal of pleasure that I have the opportunity to present this plaque and to introduce a teacher, a coach, a counselor, a college administrator, a State Representative, Superintendent of Public Instruction, and friend, Dr. Frank "Buster" Brouillet."

Speaker Ehlers presented to Dr. Frank B. Brouillet an engraved plaque, recognizing his sixteen years of dedicated service to the people of the state of Washington as Superintendent of Public Instruction.

REMARKS BY FRANK "BUSTER" BROUILLET

Dr. Brouillet: "Thank you very much, Wayne, Governor Gardner and Jean, Lieutenant Governor Cherberg and other distinguished guests. This is always an interesting time in one's life, because you look back and you think, 'Those were great years,' and you enjoyed them. But then, there is looking forward. Marge and I look forward to doing some other things as we move ahead.

"Let me say that education in the state of Washington, in spite of all the prodding that some may give you, is in good shape. I would like to tell you that it is all because of the State Superintendent, but we, in this room, know that is not true. You have played a very distinguished part in it. I want to say to you, 'Thank you.' Even though we may have disagreed on principle, we never did disagree personally. I mark among my friends people on both sides of this aisle, and many others in this state, who have helped me to try and do some things for our most important natural resource, our young people.

"Let me say to you, sixteen years in the Legislature was great and sixteen years as State Superintendent was even greater. You have been an important part of that, and I want to thank you so much for this honor and for your help. God bless you and good luck."

The Speaker introduced Speaker Robert Schaefer to make a special presentation to Mr. Robert S. O'Brien.

Speaker Schaefer: "Mr. Speaker, Governor Gardner and Jean, Lieutenant Governor Cherberg, Lieutenant Governor Pritchard and distinguished elected officials. It is really a pleasure to be here today on this occasion. Our state has been blessed by long and continuous service to the state of Washington by many outstanding men and women. One of these outstanding individuals was sworn in for the first term as State Treasurer after serving many years as a County Treasurer. It is only fitting that during our centennial year we reflect on this type of outstanding service and take time to show our appreciation to people such as Bob O'Brien, who have made our state and nation a better place in which to live.

"When Bob O'Brien's name first appeared on the ballot in 1965, to run for statewide office as our state's chief banker, his name was listed along with well-known names such as Goldwater and L.B.J. That is our history. Bob O'Brien has served six terms as State Treasurer. Counting his time as treasurer of Grant County, he has been elected to ten consecutive four-year terms as a treasurer handling our public funds. That is longevity and real dedication to all of us. Many federal and state administration office holders, famous or infamous, have come and gone with regularity in these years.

"Bob, who was first elected in 1965 as State Treasurer, has held a never-relinquishing grip on the treasurer's office until now. Some might call that stubbornness. But, it is also a lot more. He quietly and efficiently has gone about the business of managing our state's financial resources and keeping this state on an even keel. During his twenty-four years as State Treasurer, Bob O'Brien elevated investment income to a role of a major source of funding for this state. He has said of his job that his greatest responsibility was to be a good money manager, to get the greatest return from our state funds. He has done just that and we all thank him for it.

"His list of professional activities is impressive. During his service with Grant County, he was elected as President of the Washington State County Treasurers' Association and was also President of the Washington Association of County Elected Officials for an unprecedented three consecutive terms. In his role as State Treasurer, he has served as Chairman of the State Finance Committee, Chairman of the Public Deposit Protection Commission, a member of the State Investment Board, and Secretary of the State Housing Finance Commission. Many other boards and committees, task forces and professional associations have been well served by this man's participation. His kind of service to this state will be sorely missed. We all wish you well, Bob."

Speaker Schaefer presented to Mr. Robert S. O'Brien an engraved plaque, recognizing his twenty-four years of dedicated service to the people of the state of Washington as State Treasurer.

REMARKS BY ROBERT O'BRIEN

Mr. O'Brien: "Governor Gardner and Jean, distinguished and honored guests all. To tell you that I didn't have mixed emotions today would not be the truth. You cannot have been associated with government for thirty-eight years, as I have, without having a lot of thoughts about this particular time. I look here at the people. Over the years, if we have had success in our treasurer's office, and we have had, it is because of the authority and assistance the Legislature gave to this treasurer. Every time we had a reasonable request, it was never turned down. As a result, we have one of the most active treasuries in the nation which, as has been pointed out, has made more money than most any others by far. I will not go on with this, other than to say that I sincerely appreciate the faith and trust and loyalty that you have all placed in Bob O'Brien over the years. I'll look forward to working with you in the future. Thank you."

The Speaker introduced Speaker Charlie Hodde to make a special presentation to Lieutenant Governor John A. Cherberg.

Speaker Hodde: "I just want to tell everybody that I am standing up. I had my picture taken one time with Governor Rosellini and President Johnson. It was cut off at the waist. I brought it home and proudly showed it to some of my employees in the tax commission. One fellow there, who had always been a very nice guy, said, 'I thought you were supposed to stand up when you shook hands with the President.'"

"I enjoy being here today and one of the reasons that I am willing to participate in the program is that I got a free place to park right in the building. Anytime you want to furnish me a service like that, I am willing to come and make a talk. So, judge by today whether or not that should be a trade.

"I understood you had John Sylvester here to entertain you for a short time on Monday. Now, I am a relative newcomer because this is only my fortieth anniversary, not fiftieth, of having been Speaker. I have been here quite a bit in different capacities since.

"There are two people here today who were leaders during my term as Speaker. Once in awhile a little difference occurred. I would first like to recognize Slim Rasmussen, who was my floor leader in 1949—one of them. I had two—he and Bob Fuller. We got along fine; he followed my orders quite well with one exception. He insisted that the ladies in the home should be able to get colored margarine without having to color it themselves. I was able to defeat him in the Legislature, being an old cow milker myself. But that guy went home and organized an initiative campaign right in his kitchen. He put it over and forced colored oleo down all those cow milkers' throats. The other guy who was here at the time is John O'Brien. I don't have to introduce John O'Brien to you anymore than I do Slim Rasmussen. John, also, was a very cooperative assistant, except that when I ran for reelection in 1951, he ran against me for Speaker. I got even with him. I made him Chairman of the Appropriations Committee. I have always thought that the reason he got back into the Speaker race and stayed there four terms is that he found out that being Chairman of Appropriations is work and it would be better to be Speaker. My congratulations to John O'Brien for serving very many years, and I am not giving him a retirement plaque today.

"Before I get into too much about the Lieutenant Governor, I'll just take time to button my vest. Some of us have learned when we are working with Cherberg, we have to be quite proper. I was told that if I was going to perform this, I would have to wear a vest today. I'm surprised you don't have one on, Governor.

"Governor Cherberg has been subjected, I think that is the term I'll use, to an awful lot of oratory, so I'm not going to make this very long. I am going to relate that at one time, and he may have forgotten this, he sort of gave me credit for getting elected the first time. I had been urged to run for Lieutenant Governor; I tried for Governor four years earlier and only came in third on the Democratic ticket. Rosellini particularly had urged me to run for Lieutenant Governor; he thought it would strengthen the ticket in Eastern Washington. But I couldn't see doing that at the time, because I was lined up to be chairman of the committee against him. Anyway, I didn't run for Lieutenant Governor, so Cherberg got elected. I didn't make that up; he's the one that told me first.

"He did bring quite a welcome change to the Senate, as far as I was concerned. What I would say would be repetitive, because it has been said before. I just want again to mention that not only has he been an excellent presiding officer, and not only has he had the respect of both sides of the aisle in handling his duties in that office, but he also has spent more time being Governor than several of our Governors during the time he has served. The time he spent while they were out of state adds up to more time than Spellman served and Dixy served. That makes him Governor, not Lieutenant Governor. He has been an ambassador of good will and has done quite a bit of traveling around the state. When the state needed a representative in any part of the world, he was there. He has been on trade missions. I have all this written out and, if you really want to get it all one more time, John, I'll leave you a copy. Otherwise, I would now like to present one of my favorite people with a plaque as he retires from this very important office of Lieutenant Governor."

Speaker Hodde presented to Lieutenant Governor John A. Cherberg an engraved plaque, recognizing his thirty-two years of dedicated service to the people of the state of Washington as Lieutenant Governor.

REMARKS BY PRESIDENT CHERBERG

President Cherberg: "Thank you very much, ladies and gentlemen, and thank you, Charlie. Remember me is all I ask. If remembrance be a task, forget me. Thank you very much."

Speaker King: "Governor Cherberg, before I relinquish the presiding role to you, so that you may complete your part of these proceedings, I wish to acknowledge the significance of this act. It falls to me to be the Speaker who hands you the gavel for this purpose for the last time. You have been coming to this rostrum to preside over the Joint Sessions of the Legislature since before several of our newer members were born. Your gracious presence on these occasions has always been welcomed by us all. I consider it a great honor to have stood by your side for a short part of your long career."

The Speaker presented the gavel to President Cherberg.

FURTHER REMARKS BY PRESIDENT CHERBERG

President Cherberg: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. The purpose of this Joint Session is to administer the Oath of Office to the constitutionally elected state officials of the state of Washington and to receive the Inaugural Address of Governor Booth Gardner."

REMARKS BY FORMER PRESIDENT JOHN A. CHERBERG

President Cherberg: "Lieutenant Governor Pritchard, I have the privilege now of presenting you with your Certificate of Election and, lastly, I turn the gavel over to you. I trust you will use it with discretion, and that you will enjoy, as I have, the days that you are going to serve in the State Senate. I wish you the best of luck, and God bless you."

REMARKS BY PRESIDENT PRITCHARD

President Pritchard: "Governor and Mrs. Gardner, and Lieutenant Governor Cherberg, who will always be Lieutenant Governor Cherberg. It is a high honor and a great privilege to be elected to any office, but it is especially meaningful to come back to our state and be elected to the Lieutenant Governor's office and have an opportunity to serve, especially in an office that only comes around every thirty-two years.

"I have known the Lieutenant Governor for many years--I believe it is forty years. I was fourteen when I first met him. He is a great friend. At that time, though, your football coach is not your friend, but you have great respect for him and you do everything you can to please him and do what he tells you. John Cherberg was a wonderful football coach and a great friend and administrator. The great thing was that he was an example to the young men who played under him.

"I am terribly pleased that Slade Gorton and Rod Chandler have come here. They have played important parts in my life. When I first came here thirty years ago, by luck Dan Evans, Slade and I ended up living in a little house about six blocks from the Capitol. I became acquainted with them and life has not been the same since. I can say this for Rod Chandler. I was going to Greece and to the Middle East on a trip and a friend of mine said, 'Why don't you take some movies? If they are any good, I'll put them on television as a travel show.' I thought that was wonderful, but didn't know how to take pictures--I'd never taken a camera. He said that he knew somebody who could teach me in one day. So I spent a full day with Rod Chandler and he taught me what to do. The biggest thing he said was to take about ten times as much film as you think you'll need. I did it, and when we got back, ten percent of it was usable and we were able to put eighteen minutes together. That was quite an important part of my life, as many years later people said they had seen me on the travel show. So I thank you, Rod, for getting me through that.

"You know, if you are going to have a good life, you have to have something to get up for. You have to have some challenges; you have to have something that puts zest in your system. Challenge is part of it. It is really a blessing to be challenged. Those of us in the government are richly blessed right now, because we have enormous challenges. I am going to work with the Governor, with all the state officials, elected representatives, particularly the Senators on both sides of the aisle. We have a lot of chores to do, and I am going to do everything I can to be helpful. When you think of what the settlers did one hundred years ago and the problems they had, we ought to be ashamed of ourselves if we can't solve our problems today. These opportunities, these challenges are before us, and I look forward to working with all of you in the coming years.

"Let me say to John Cherberg, you set an example of fairness, of honesty and accessibility. You set a high standard. I only hope I can live up to that. Thank you very much and thank you, Lieutenant Governor Cherberg."

THE OATH OF OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR

Chief Justice Callow administered the oath of office to Governor Booth Gardner, and the President of the Senate presented him the Certificate of Office.

The President of the Senate introduced Governor Booth Gardner.

THE CENTENNIAL CHALLENGE

Governor Gardner: "Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Mr. Chief Justice, distinguished Justices of the Supreme Court, members of the Legislature, honored elected officials, representatives of foreign countries, and fellow citizens of the state of Washington. Over one hundred years ago, our ancestors stood at an historic crossroads. They had crossed thousands of miles of desert, mountains, rivers and wilderness to build a better life. They came as neighbors to our native friends, who had already built rich cultures and traditions from Washington's earliest days. People came to this state to build a brighter future for themselves and their families.

"Today, in 1989, we in Washington State stand at another crossroads in our history, one in which we are forced by the tide of global events to decide what kind of future we want for our state. As we begin our second century, this state finds itself at the center of a new integrated global economy. This state is the nation's leader in per capita trade income, a precursor to exactly what the United States must become in the next twenty years. This new era of the interdependent global economy means excruciating, unprecedented international competition; it means declining influence and funding from the federal government; and it means an imperative that we do more for ourselves, for our children, and for our future. The global economy means that we no longer compete state against state, American company against American company. It means that we not only compete against Japan, but also with the growing economic powers of Taiwan, South Korea, the Philippines, with India, with Brazil, and with the soon-to-be-united countries of the European economic community. Those countries, which I have just mentioned, have begun to reform their economies and their societies for the new era.

"What are we waiting for? It is time that we do the same. Either we respond to international competition, or we doom ourselves, and we doom our children, to a dramatic slide to second-rate status in the world. How we respond to that competition is perhaps the greatest challenge this state and this country have ever faced. We must look at ourselves and our economy in new ways. The competitive edge will go to those who pioneer customized precision products made by highly skilled workers. To do this, companies must add value to their products and export them. Adding value to goods and services and exporting them to markets throughout the world, is our best strategy for economic health and vibrancy in the 21st century. Adding value to our products means exporting furniture or flooring systems, not just plywood, lumber and logs. Adding value means exporting processed products, not just raw materials. State government has a critical leadership role in helping to build local economic development capacity throughout our state.

"What matters most in the long run are the actions of local entrepreneurs, local officials, local educators, local bankers and local workers. The partnership is working when Boeing expands to Spokane, when Lamb Weston moves into the Tri-Cities, when Ponderay Newsprint moves into northeast Washington, when Key Technology moves into Walla Walla, the partnership is working. When the employees of Omak Wood Products take over their own company and their own future in Omak, Washington, the partnership is working.

"In February of 1985, this state began developing a long-range strategy to ensure our economic survival. Today, after four years, with input from citizens all across this state, we have in our hands a report that outlines an ambitious strategy to preserve and enhance this state's quality of life. The Economic Development Board Report is not for the narrow-minded, nor is it for the short-sighted. To implement this plan demands the best that is in each of us. And I believe we have what it takes.

"Today, unemployment in this state is at its lowest level in twenty years. Today, Washington's economy is outperforming the nation. But, make no mistake, we start now, adjusting to the challenges of the future in this our centennial year, or risk all that we have worked for.

"For the first time since the industrial revolution began, a good business climate is also a good living climate--high quality public infrastructure--excellent, efficient public services--world class education and training--and a clean, healthy environment. A recent Business Week article on human capital said, 'The social agenda is now the business agenda.' What does that mean? Let me give you an example. The computer has become the pencil of the 21st century, the basic tool that must be mastered by all who expect a good job--not just a job--a good job. In addition, the workforce is shrinking, so business will need every available worker, and the workers will need more education and better skills. Think of this, the things that we have always wanted for our people and our society are now the very things that business needs from the workforce. So, in addition to our moral commitment, we have an economic imperative to help our people become well-educated, productive citizens.

"Let me ask you this. Do we want a society with a growing number of illiterate adults? Do we want a society with a staggering high school dropout rate--fifty percent in some urban schools? Do we want a society where twenty percent of our children live and grow up in poverty, subjected to the environment of lost potential and broken dreams? I don't think there is a person in this room today that wants that. Now, I implore you to understand, it is not just some abstract--'they'--I am talking about. It's our children--yours and mine--who are not being educated for the 21st century. It's your children and our children and our neighborhoods, which are exposed to drugs and gangs. It's our roads and our bridges that need to be repaired and rebuilt. And it will be our children who will be the first generation in America's two-hundred year history that will not achieve, much less exceed, our standard of living, if we are not willing to commit to a public agenda of excellence for the common good.

"Where do we start? To begin our twenty-year strategy, I am recommending to this Legislature that they take the following specific steps: Establish the Washington Development Finance Authority to improve the availability of capital for new and small businesses in the state; launch new efforts to train and retrain more than nine thousand Washington workers who would otherwise go unserved; continue efforts to diversify the Tri-Cities economy through development projects, worker retraining and services for displaced workers; continue efforts to make Washington State a major international tourist destination; and we must expand domestic agricultural marketing by working with private industry to increase the national visibility of Washington-grown and Washington-processed food products.

"I am also recommending that the 1989 Legislature take action in several educational areas crucial to the development of our economy and our children. I will list just three of those now. I am proposing that we double the size of the early childhood education program. We must give children--at-risk a fighting chance for success. I am also proposing that we double the size of our innovative Schools for the 21st Century program. It is a program of experimentation and discovery. It is testing fresh ideas on how to develop students' talents and skills. I am proposing that we take the next step toward competitive faculty salaries and better access to higher education.

"For a strong economy and a healthy society, we must protect our environment. The recent oil spill has presented a grave threat to wildlife and has fouled our ocean beaches. The oil spill vividly and dramatically demonstrates the danger of opening our coastline to oil and gas drilling. We will never accept contamination of our precious coastal waters. We must continue working to protect the Spokane aquifer and Puget Sound. And I am proposing new legislation providing comprehensive protection and enhancement of our state's priceless wetlands.

"Transportation is another very important issue that bears on economic development, as well as quality of life. I have outlined proposals to begin improving our rail and road transportation systems. We and this state are not a market economy; we are a production, service and distribution center. A high-quality, efficient transportation system is essential to our economic strength.

"The health of our citizens, particularly our children, is an issue that goes right to the heart of quality of life. To ensure access, to help control costs, and to guarantee quality health care, I have proposed that we create a new Department of Health. I also propose the First Steps Program, which carefully targets medical care. The program focuses on maternity care for low-income women and health care for children up to eight years of age who come from low-income families. These are among the most basic needs of our most vulnerable citizens and we are not going to turn our backs on them.

"Finally, there is a strong connection between economic development and tax reform. Our current tax structure, which has remained basically unchanged since 1935, is unbalanced, unfair and inhibits business investment. Washington citizens will lose more than one hundred and twenty million dollars this year, alone, because the sales tax is not deductible from their federal income taxes. We, in this state, currently have a rate-adjusted system, which means simply that when the system does not respond to change, we raise rates. We have raised the B&O tax and the sales tax eight times in the last twenty years.

"What we need is an economically adjusted tax system, one that will keep up with a rapidly changing and growing economy. To pursue a long-term strategy, we must have a financial plan for Washington's second century, one that responds to our changing economy and safeguards taxpayers through spending controls.

"I am proposing that the 1989 Legislature join in bipartisan approval of a tax reform referendum to allow the people of Washington State to vote on this critical issue. We will have before this Legislature a plan that takes more than seventy-five thousand businesses off the B&O tax rolls. It will establish a rainy-day fund to meet economic downturns, and put into the Constitution a specific limitation on the ability to raise tax rates. It will provide tax relief for families earning less than thirty thousand dollars a year. It will provide a way to meet our transportation needs, and for local governments to meet their critical needs. And it will give us the capacity, over the long term, to meet many of the needs that go begging today, without continually raising taxes.

"A group of citizens gathered in Walla Walla, Washington, for a constitutional convention in which they wrote a Constitution. That Constitution was approved by the people of the state of Washington in 1878. Because of partisan bickering in Washington, D.C., we were not granted statehood at the time we were ready. For twelve years, in this country, no territory was granted statehood. Finally, in 1889, by one vote, many of us joined the Union, which is why so many states are celebrating their centennials this year and next. I wish that I could say to you that statesmanship won out over partisanship, but such was not the case. We, in Washington in 1989, in our centennial year, can rise above partisanship and we can avoid mistakes of the past if we summon the guts, the will, the strength and the wisdom to do so.

"A few of you before me today have already outrightly rejected my tax reform referendum proposal. To those few of you--what are you afraid of? If you are right, if the people don't want tax reform, they will say so at the polls, at the local point for freedom in a democratic society. If you are wrong, if the people of this state are ready to start a new century with a new system, then your opposition has been a barrier to progress. I want to end this paralysis. I want us to get out of the box of indecision and fear.

"To the members of the Legislature, I have this to say, now is the time to hear the peoples' voice on tax reform. Do not stonewall this issue. Let the people of the state of Washington decide.

"And now, as I close, I share a personal philosophy with you. We in this state, as people in every state, are in a fight for our survival. Some states will prosper, and some states will not. I suggest that from this time forward, we begin to think of ourselves as a 'nation-state,' responsible for our own economic well-being and that we begin marshalling the tools, the capacity and the resources to internationalize our workforce, our businesses and our institutions. I believe that we must start thinking of ourselves as world citizens, competing internationally, with the best years of our lives ahead of us and with the best one hundred years of this state just beginning.

"The state of Washington has a combination of advantages unlike any place else on earth--our resources, our people, our industries and our position at the gateway to the Pacific Rim. And, most precious of all, we have our children, who hold the future in their eyes, and in their minds, and in their hearts.

"We stand on the threshold of a new century of statehood. We have an opportunity to do something extraordinary--to stand as a lighthouse on the edge of the great Pacific and to show other states, and indeed to show the world, the true meaning of enlightened and far-reaching leadership--to create for ourselves the highest quality of life imaginable.

"The challenge is clear. The choice is ours. The best public policy is based on the understanding that everything we do, we do for our children. I agree with the prophetic wisdom of Thomas Jefferson, who said, I like the dreams of the future better than the history of the past." REPORT OF SELECT COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON STATE SENATE
Olympia, Washington 98504

TO: Members of the Senate
FROM: Senator James West, Chair; Health Care and Corrections Committee
DATE: January 9, 1989
SUBJECT: Final Report on Residential Care for the Mentally Ill

Enclosed is the final report on Residential Care for the Mentally Ill. The report is the result of extensive staff research, committee hearings in Seattle, Yakima, Everett, Tacoma and Olympia, and a special consultation we received from the National Conference of State Legislatures.

It is submitted to you in response to Senate Floor Resolution 1988-8771.

The report recommends a major reform of the current mental health system which would decentralize administration, link state hospital and community programs and greatly expand community residences for the mentally ill.

The effects of the Harper decision and the federal Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act are also addressed in the report and its recommendations.

I anticipate several legislative proposals to deal with these issues in the 1989 legislative session.

The Select Committee Report is on file in the Office of the Secretary of the Senate.

REPORT OF SELECT COMMITTEE

JOINT SELECT COMMITTEE ON SCHOOL CONSTRUCTION

COMMON SCHOOL CONSTRUCTION

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The committee, established by House Concurrent Resolution 4460 in 1988, includes four members of the Senate, four members of the House of Representatives, and four executive members appointed by the Governor. The concurrent resolution also established a ten-member advisory committee, including five members representing the business community and five members representing the school community. The committee is responsible for reviewing the school construction program, developing options to resolve current and projected funding shortfalls, and making recommendations to the 1989 Legislature.

The committee met at least monthly throughout the interim. Numerous briefings were conducted and input was received from committee staff, the Office of Financial Management, the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, the Department of Natural Resources, and the Department of Revenue. The existing $301 million backlog of approved construction projects led the committee to focus its recommendations primarily on resolving short-term needs. However, the combination of forecasted enrollment growth, the age of existing school facilities, and the long-range forecast of school trust revenues also led the committee to emphasize a need for further development of long-term solutions to funding shortfalls.

The Select Committee Report is on file in the Office of the Secretary of the Senate.

MESSAGE FROM GOVERNOR GARDNER
COMMUTATION OF SENTENCE

Office of the Governor

January 9, 1989

TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON

Ladies and Gentlemen:

In compliance with the provision of Section II of Article III of the Constitution of the state of Washington, the Governor hereby submits his report of each case of reprieve, commutation or pardon that he has granted since the adjournment of the 1988 First Special Session of the Fiftieth Legislature, copy of which is attached.

Respectfully submitted,
TERRY SEBRING, Legal Counsel to the Governor

PARDON

To all to whom These Presents Shall Come, Greetings:

Rue Carlson Smith, Jr. pleaded guilty to the offense of robbery committed on January 30, 1947, in the Superior Court of King County, Washington, Cause No. 24056. He was originally sentenced on April 11, 1947, to prison. The Prison Terms and Parole Board set his minimum term at twenty-four months, he was paroled on August 10, 1948, and discharged from supervision on September 7, 1949.

After his release from prison, Mr. Smith completed and was granted his college degree from the University of Washington in 1951, subsequently worked for the Washington Department of Public Assistance, and then worked thirty years in the field of corrections, twenty-six and one-half years of those with the Orange County Probation Department, in California, where he retired as a Deputy Probation Officer and Supervising Probation Officer on October 7, 1987, following triple by-pass heart surgery. He has had no additional criminal history since his original conviction.

The basis for Mr. Smith's request for a pardon is so that he can be rehired by the Orange County Probation Department as a part-time extra help person. In applying for part-time employment with the same department, California statutes required that he be treated as a new employee, hence he was blocked from reemployment due to a 1981 amendment of a California statute that prohibits employment in probation with a felony conviction. His prior employment had been considered "grandfathered" but that status ended with his retirement and caused his part-time employment to be viewed as a violation of the amendment.

The basis for the pardon is due to a passage of a substantial amount of time since the original conviction, many years of productive work and no further criminal activity, and justifiable reasons for wanting a pardon so that he is able to work in a part-time status with his previous employer.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Booth Gardner, Governor of the state of Washington, do hereby pardon Rue Carlson Smith, Jr. from the judgment and sentence of robbery, Cause No. 24056, entered on April 11, 1947, by the Superior Court of the state of Washington for King County.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the state of Washington, to be affixed at Olympia this 16th day of November, A.D. nineteen hundred and eighty-eight.

Booth Gardner
Governor of Washington

(Seal)

By the Governor:

Ralph Munro, Secretary of State.

Nothing in this chapter shall prohibit additional funding from other sources of the agencies, programs, and purposes eligible for funds under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. CHILDREN'S INITIATIVE FUND OVERSIGHT COMMITTEE.

(1) To assist the governor and the legislature in determining which programs and purposes should be supported with appropriations from the children's initiative fund and whether children's initiative fund moneys are being spent in an efficient and effective manner that minimizes administrative costs, an oversight committee, to be known as the children's initiative fund oversight committee, is established. The committee shall have the authority to analyze the current and emerging needs of children in the state and to review and evaluate the efficiency and effectiveness of programs supported by the children's initiative fund in meeting these needs.

(2) All agency reports concerning program performance, including administrative review, quality control, and other internal audit or performance reports, which are requested by the committee, shall be furnished by the agency requested to provide such report.

The chair of the committee shall be designated by the governor from among the representatives of the general public.

(5) The initial members shall be appointed within sixty days of the effective date of this section. Of the initial members, four nonlegislative members and one legislative member shall be appointed for three years, four nonlegislative members and two legislative members shall be appointed for two years, and three nonlegislative members and one legislative member shall be appointed for one year. A legislative member shall serve as long as he or she is a member of the caucus from which he or she was appointed. Successors to the initial members shall serve for a term of three years, except that any member appointed to fill a vacancy occurring prior to the expiration of the term for which the predecessor was appointed shall be appointed for the remainder of such term. Vacancies shall be filled within sixty days of their occurrence.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. INTENT ON SOURCE OF MONEYS FOR CHILDREN'S INITIATIVE FUND. (1) It is the intent of this chapter that the raising of revenues for the purposes of this chapter, as well as the raising of revenues for all other purposes of state government, shall be done in a fashion which fairly and equitably distributes the burdens of taxation among the state's taxpayers, protects those with the lowest incomes, promotes business development and economic growth in the state, and assures a stable funding base for state services that is sufficient to meet the needs of state government, including the purposes of this chapter. No cause of action may lie to enforce this subsection.

(2) The source of moneys for the children's initiative fund shall be new or increased taxes, which means one or more of the following:

- (a) An increase in the rate of any tax which was in effect as of July 1, 1988;
- (b) An increase in the base of any tax which was in effect as of July 1, 1988; or
- (c) Any tax which was not in effect as of July 1, 1988.

Funding from sources other than the children's initiative fund for the activities of state government, including those eligible for support from the children's initiative fund, shall not be reduced in order to provide moneys for the children's initiative fund.

(3) The tax increases specified in sections 8 and 9 of this act are imposed only for the purpose of making this chapter legally enforceable in the event the legislature fails to impose new or increased taxes which meet the specifications of subsection (1) of this section in order to provide sufficient moneys for the purposes of this chapter. It is the intent of this chapter that if the tax increases specified in sections 8 and 9 of this act are imposed, such increases will be repealed as soon as possible and replaced with taxes that meet the specifications of subsection (1) of this section, and that provide support for the children's initiative fund comparable to that provided by the tax increases imposed in sections 8 and 9 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. ALTERNATIVE ADDITIONAL TAX. A new section is added to chapter 82.08 RCW to read as follows:

Prior to June 1, 1990, if new or increased taxes sufficient to generate at least $360,000,000 during the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1990, and ending June 30, 1991, have not been imposed and if at least $360,000,000 of the proceeds of such new or increased taxes have not been directed to be deposited in the children's initiative fund during such fiscal year, there is levied and shall be collected, as of June 1, 1990, an additional tax on each retail sale in this state equal to nine-tenths of one percent of the selling price. The moneys collected as a result of the increases specified in this section shall be deposited in the general fund for transfer to the children's initiative fund.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. ALTERNATIVE ADDITIONAL TAX. A new section is added to chapter 82.12 RCW to read as follows:

Prior to June 1, 1990, if new or increased taxes sufficient to generate at least $360,000,000 during the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1990, and ending June 30, 1991, have not been imposed and if at least $360,000,000 of the proceeds of such new or increased taxes have not been directed to be deposited in the children's initiative fund during such fiscal year, there is levied and shall be collected, as of June 1, 1990, an additional tax on each use by any person of property subject to tax under RCW 82.12.020 equal to nine-tenths of one percent of the value of the article used by the taxpayer. For purposes of computing the tax under this chapter, the rate of this additional tax shall be added to the rate in effect for the retail sales tax under RCW 82.08.020, in the county in which the article is used. The moneys collected as a result of the increase specified in this section shall be deposited in the general fund for transfer to the children's initiative fund.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 10. IMPLEMENTATION OF INCREASED TAXES. The director of revenue shall immediately take all necessary steps, within the authority granted to the director under RCW 82.01.060, to ensure that any new or increased taxes imposed to carry out the purposes of this act are assessed and collected on the applicable effective date of such tax increases.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 11. SEVERABILITY. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 15. LEGISLATIVE DIRECTIVE. Sections 1 through 3 and 5 through 7 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 74 RCW.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 16. EFFECTIVE DATE. This act shall take effect June 1, 1990.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Newhouse, Initiative to the Legislature No. 102 was referred to the Committee on Children and Family Services.

RALPH MUNRO, Secretary of State

INITIATIVE TO THE LEGISLATURE NUMBER 99

AN ACT Relating to elections; providing for a presidential preference primary; amending RCW 29.13.010 and 29.13.020; and creating a new chapter in Title 29 RCW.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON:

NEW SECTION, Sec. 1. The people of the state of Washington declare that:

(1) The current presidential nominating caucus system in Washington state is unnecessarily restrictive of voter participation in that it discriminates against the elderly, the infirm, women, the handicapped, evening workers, and others who are unable to attend caucuses and therefore unable to fully participate in this most important quadrennial event that occurs in our democratic system of government.

(2) It is the intent of this chapter to make the presidential selection process more open and representative of the will of the people of our state.

(3) A presidential primary will afford the maximum opportunity for voter access at regular polling places during the daytime and evening hours convenient to the most people.

(4) This state's participation in the selection of presidential candidates shall be in accordance with the will of the people as expressed in a presidential preference primary.

(5) It is the intent of this chapter, to the maximum extent practicable, to continue to reserve to the political parties the right to conduct their delegate selection as prescribed by party rules insofar as it reflects the will of the people as expressed in a presidential primary election conducted every four years in the manner described by this chapter.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 2. On the fourth Tuesday in May of each year when a president of the United States is to be nominated and elected, or such other date as may be selected by the secretary of state to advance the concept of a regional primary, a presidential preference primary shall be held at which voters may express their preferences as to who should be the nominee of a major political party for the office of president.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 3. The name of any candidate for a major political party nomination for president of the United States shall be printed on the presidential preference primary ballot of a major political party only:

(1) By direction of the secretary of state, who in the secretary's sole discretion has determined that the candidate's candidacy is generally advocated or is recognized in national news media; or

(2) If members of the political party of the candidate have presented a petition for nomination of the candidate that has attached to the petition a sheet or sheets containing the signatures of at least one thousand registered voters who declare themselves in the petition as being affiliated with the same political party as the presidential candidate. The petition shall be filed with the secretary of state not later than the thirty-ninth day before the presidential preference primary. The signature sheets shall also contain the residence address and name or number of the precinct of each registered voter whose signature appears thereon and shall be certified in the manner prescribed in RCW 29.79.200 and 29.79.210.

The secretary of state shall place the name of the candidate on the ballot unless the candidate, at least thirty-five days before the presidential preference primary, executes and files with the secretary of state an affidavit stating without qualification that he or she is not now and will not become a candidate for the office of president of the United States at the forthcoming presidential election. The secretary of state shall certify the names of all candidates who will appear on the presidential preference primary ballot to the respective county auditors on or before the fourth Tuesday in April of each presidential election year.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 4. The arrangement and form of presidential primary ballots shall be substantially as provided for any primary election within the state except as may be modified by this chapter or by rule of the secretary of state as provided for in section 7 of this act to adequately reflect the intent of this chapter.

A separate ballot shall be prepared for each major political party that has candidates whose names have been authorized for placement on presidential preference primary ballots under section 3 of this act. The names of all candidates for a party's nomination for the office of president shall be listed alphabetically in a column on that party's ballot. There shall be a printed box adjacent to the name of each candidate. A blank space to allow the voter to write in the name of another candidate shall also be included on each ballot.

The ballot, in providing for a choice of candidates for the office of president, shall set forth only those candidates, with their political party affiliation, who have qualified for a place on the ballot under section 3 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. Insofar as is practicable, and where the provisions of this chapter do not specifically indicate otherwise, the presidential preference primary shall be conducted in the same manner as a state partisan primary, including the certification of the election returns by the secretary of state. The requirement of rotation of names on the ballot does not apply to the candidates listed on the presidential preference primary ballot. County auditors may combine and consolidate two or more precincts for the purpose of conducting the presidential preference primary only if precinct vote totals for the primary can still be made available and the consolidation does not require a voter to go to a location different from that of the last regular election.

Each person desiring to vote in the presidential preference primary shall receive a ballot request form on which the voter shall sign his or her name and address and declare the party primary in which he or she wishes to participate.

The secretary shall prescribe rules for providing each party central committee a list of the voters who participated in the presidential primary of that party.

The signed ballot request forms shall be maintained in the centralized containers by the county auditor for a period of time as specified by rule of the secretary of state, after which time they shall be destroyed, unless otherwise directed by federal law.

At a presidential preference primary, a voter may cast no more than one vote on a ballot. Any presidential preference primary ballot with more than one vote is void, and notice to this effect, couched in clear, simple language, and printed in large type, shall appear on the face of each presidential preference primary ballot. Where voting machines or electronic voting devices are in use, the notice shall be displayed on or about each machine or device.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. (1) The results of the presidential preference primary shall determine the percentage of delegate positions to be allocated to each presidential candidate. Selection of individuals to delegate positions shall be in compliance with applicable state party rules, and to the extent practicable, delegates shall be apportioned among the state's congressional districts. Delegate positions shall be allocated to presidential candidates in the manner specified in subsection (3) of this section except as otherwise provided by national party rules.

(2) All votes cast for a particular presidential candidate in a party's primary shall be considered votes for delegate positions committed to that candidate.

Each candidate for a delegate position who is committed to a particular presidential candidate, before the selection of delegates, shall sign and submit to the appropriate party's state committee the following pledge:

Delegate Pledge

I, do hereby swear that I am a supporter of for the office of President of the United States; and that if elected as a delegate to the Party National Convention I pledge to cast my ballot as a delegate to the convention for that candidate on the first two ballots unless released by the candidate, and I pledge furthermore to do all that I can to advance the cause of that candidate at the national convention.

(3) Except as otherwise provided by national party rules, delegate positions shall be allocated from the state at-large among presidential candidates who receive at least fifteen percent of the total votes cast for candidates of the same political party, or such other percentage as national party rules may provide. Each candidate so qualified shall be allocated a percentage of delegate positions equal to as nearly as practical, the candidate's percentage of the total votes cast for candidates of the same political party in the presidential preference primary. The votes of candidates who do not receive at least fifteen percent of the total votes cast in their parties' presidential preference primary shall be proportionately allocated to those candidates who did receive fifteen percent or more of the total votes cast in their parties' presidential preference primary.

(4) If any presidential candidate, at any time after the presidential preference primary, formally releases the delegates holding positions committed to him or her under the formula established by subsection (3) of this section, the delegates shall be considered uncommitted. The delegates holding positions committed to a candidate shall be considered formally released when the candidate so notifies, in writing, the chair of his or her party's delegation.

(5) In the event of the death of a candidate to whom delegate positions have been committed, all such positions shall be considered uncommitted.

(6) If no ballot choice on a political party ballot receives fifteen percent or more of the total votes cast, the state committee of the political party shall determine how delegate positions allotted to the state by the national committee shall be committed.

(7) If a vacancy occurs in the position of delegate, the remaining delegates committed to the same preference as the vacating person shall name a person to fill the vacancy.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

I first met Senator Lowell Peterson when I came to the Senate back in 1971. He was already a recognized leader in many fields, especially in the area of natural resources. As Chairman of that committee, he was a thoughtful and committed guardian of some of our state's most priceless resources.

Senator Peterson was a tireless and effective advocate for the needs and aspirations of northwest Washington, and especially Skagit County. From the creation of the Padilla Bay Sanctuary and Hart Lake State Park, the protection of many special wild lands in the area, and the North Cascades Highway, Senator Peterson has had a positive impact for which he will be long remembered.

But he was much more than an effective voice of his constituents in northwest Washington. His leadership was essential in gaining protection for children throughout our state through our child safety restraint law. He showed his concern for families all across the state by championing respite care programs to provide support for people caring for elderly and disabled loved ones.

Senator Peterson was a strong supporter of many of the most difficult efforts I have undertaken as Governor. He was also an early and strong supporter when I first ran for Governor in 1984. I am deeply grateful for his loyal support. I would also like to express my thanks and the gratitude of many throughout our state for his recent work as director of the Road Jurisdiction Committee. Their study of state-wide roadway needs provides the blueprint for addressing many of our transportation problems.

I would like to express my sincere appreciation for Senator Lowell Peterson's long years of dedicated service to the people of northwest Washington and our entire state. He will truly be missed.

BOOTH GARDNER,
Governor

REPORT OF SELECT COMMITTEE

THE JOINT COMMITTEE ON PENSION POLICY

Dear Member:

The Joint Committee on Pension Policy (JCPP) spent much of the 1988 interim reviewing the state's policy regarding the Cost of Living Adjustments (COLA) provided to retirees in the Teachers Retirement System (TRS), Plan I and the Public Employees Retirement System (PERS), Plan I.

The enclosed report, Plan I COLA Policy in Washington State, was prepared at the request of the JCPP in order to share much of what was learned in the course of our efforts.

The report begins with an Executive Summary which summarizes many of the important points discussed in the report. We hope you will take the time to review it.

The main body of the report provides additional background information for those legislators and staff who wish to research the topic in greater depth or who want to be able to respond to constituent questions dealing with retirement benefits and COLA policy.

Please contact the JCPP staff if you would like additional copies of the report or the Executive Summary.

Sincerely,

STAN JOHNSON, Senator,
CHAIR, Joint Committee

LORRAINE HINE, Representative,

The Report of the Select Committee is filed in the Office of the Secretary of the Senate.

REPORT OF SELECT COMMITTEE

STATE OF WASHINGTON
EMPLOYMENT SECURITY DEPARTMENT
Olympia, Washington 98504

Mr. Gordon Golob
Secretary of the Senate
306 Legislative Building
Olympia, Washington 98504

Dear Mr. Golob:

Enclosed is a copy of the Washington State Labor Market and Economic Report 1988. This report is submitted in response to legislation passed during the 1987 session (RCW 50.12.260) requiring from the Employment Security Department "...an annual state economic report to the Legislature and Governor."

This report is to assist the Legislature and the Governor during the 1989 legislative session. It contains pertinent discussions, analyses and figures addressing subjects of concern, such as labor markets with high concentrations of seasonal, cyclical or structurally mature industries; mass layoffs; dislocated workers; unemployed workers who have depleted their unemployment insurance benefits; part-time workers; educational changes and family issues.

Additional data and graphs are available in appendices devoted to each chapter in the report.

If you have questions, or desire more complete data or analysis on any of the subjects addressed in this report, please call Mr. Gary Bodeutsch, Director of our Labor Market and Economic Analysis Branch, at (206) 438-4804.

Sincerely,
ISIAH TURNER
Commissioner

The Report of the Select Committee is filed in the Office of the Secretary of the Senate.

REPORT OF SELECT COMMITTEE

STATE OF WASHINGTON
DEPARTMENT OF SOCIAL AND HEALTH SERVICES
Olympia, Washington 98504

January 11, 1989

TO: Gordon Golob, Secretary of the Senate
FROM: Lucille Christenson, Executive Director, Family Independence Program
SUBJECT: FINAL REPORT - FINANCIAL RESPONSIBILITY STUDY

Attached is a copy of the Final Report for Phase II of the Financial Responsibility Study. The report was prepared by a public Oversight Committee which I chaired.

As you will note from the report, two of the recommendations have fiscal implications. Any implementation of the recommendations must include consideration of that revenue shortfall.

I must also point out that the Oversight Committee recommendations are very different from any previous attempts to implement "parent pay." The concept recommended by this committee crosses all Department of Social and Health Services programs and seeks to standardize the method of charging users and parents of minor children.

Copies of the report have not been distributed to all legislators, only to the Secretary of the Senate (or Chief Clerk House, as applicable) and to the Chairs of the Senate Human Services and Corrections Committee and the House Human Services Committee. If additional copies should be distributed, please contact Pat Quesnel, 753-1312.

If you wish a briefing on this report, philosophy; intent or fiscal implications, please feel free to contact me.

The Report of the Select Committee is filed in the Office of the Secretary of the Senate.

MESSAGE FROM THE SECRETARY OF STATE

January 20, 1989

The Honorable,
President of the Senate
The Legislature of the State of Washington
Olympia, Washington
Dear Mr. President:

As required by Article II, Section 1, of the State Constitution and RCW 29.79.200, we herewith respectfully transmit the certification of the sufficiency of Initiative to the Legislature 102, a copy of the full, true and complete text of which was certified to you on January 9, 1989.

Sincerely,
RALPH MUNRO
Secretary of State

CERTIFICATION OF INITIATIVE TO THE LEGISLATURE 102

Pursuant to Article II, Section 1 of the Washington State Constitution, RCW 29.79-.200, and WAC 434-79-010, the office of the Secretary of State has caused the signatures submitted in support of Initiative to the Legislature 102 to be examined in the following manner:

1) It was determined that 217,143 signatures were submitted by the sponsors of the Initiative. A random sample of 21,733 signatures was taken from those submitted;

2) Each sampled signature was examined to determine if the signer was a registered voter of the state at the address indicated on the petition, if the signature was reasonably similar to the one appearing on the record of that voter, and if the same signature appeared more than once in the sample. We found 18,678 valid signatures, 2,971 signatures invalid due to non-registration or improper form, and 84 pairs of duplicated signatures in the sample;

3) We calculated an allowance for the chance error of sampling (82) by multiplying the square root of the number of invalid signatures by 1.5;

4) We estimated the upper limit of the number of signatures on the initiative petition which were invalid (30,504) by dividing the sum of the number of invalid signatures in the sample and the allowance for the chance error of sampling by the sampling ratio;

5) We determined the maximum allowable number of pairs of signatures on the petition (20,392) by subtracting the sum of 110% of the number of signatures required by Article II, section 1 of the Washington State Constitution (166,247) and the estimate of the upper limit of the number of invalid signatures on the petition from the number of signatures submitted;

6) We determined the expected number of pairs of signatures in the sample (204) by multiplying the square of the sampling ratio by the maximum allowable number of pairs of signatures on the initiative petition;

7) We determined the acceptable number of pairs of signatures in the sample (180) by subtracting 1.65 times the square root of the expected number of pairs of signatures in the sample from the expected number of pairs of signatures in the sample; and

8) Since the number of pairs of signatures in the sample is less than the acceptable number of pairs of signatures in the sample, I hereby declare Initiative to the Legislature 102 to be sufficient.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hearunto set my my hand and affixed the seal of the state of Washington, this twentieth day of January, 1989.

(Seal)

RALPH MUNRO, Secretary of State

There being no objection, the President advanced the Senate to the eighth order of business.

MOTION

Senator Pullen moved adoption of the following resolution:

SENATE RESOLUTION 1989-8612

by Senators Pullen, McCaslin, Talmadge, Niemi, Newhouse, Madsen, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Thorsness and Nelson

WHEREAS, The Soviet Union and the state of Washington are both on the Pacific Rim and share common boundaries; and

WHEREAS, The Soviet Union and the state of Washington have a joint interest in cultural activities such as art, dance, sports, and games; and

WHEREAS, The Soviet Union and the United States have a growing interest in foreign trade; and

WHEREAS, The Soviet Union and the United States were joined by the marriage of Elena Akhmilovskaya and John Donaldson on November 25, 1988; and

WHEREAS, The marriage will further the Soviet policies of glasnost and perestroika; and

WHEREAS, Elena's seven-year-old daughter, Dana, has remained behind in the Soviet Union; and

WHEREAS, The Soviet Union and the United States are both supportive of and recognize the importance of the family unit; and

WHEREAS, Reuniting Elena with her daughter in the United States will be a constructive step towards cementing the bonds of unity that exist between the Soviet Union and the United States;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Senate request the Soviet Union to do everything possible to expedite the reunion between Elena and Dana; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to the Governor, each member of the Legislature, to Soviet Premier Mikhail Gorbachev, Ambassador Yuriy V. Dubinin, and to First Secretary and Soviet Consul Viktor M. Gribanov.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Pullen, even though I am sponsor on this, I have a question and that is the 'Therefore be it resolved that the Senate request the Soviet Union do everything possible to expedite the reunion.' In Washington, D.C., do individual states go in and negotiate with the Soviet Union or do individuals, such as Jessie Jackson? Is this proper to do this or should we request the United States State Department to expedite with the Soviet Union? I'm only speaking of that one paragraph."

Senator Pullen: "Well, it is proper to do it, particularly since the State Senate of the state of Washington now has had hearings on this—this morning—and we certainly got the facts correct. We're merely expressing our opinion. We're, in no way, trying to supersede the state department or the United States government from doing their duty, so nothing is intended in that regard. This is merely an expression of the feeling of the State Senate of the state of Washington and the fact that we believe in families and we believe in keeping families together."

Senator Rasmussen: "We don't have our foreign relations expert here, Senator Zimmerman, but that did raise a question in my mind."

Further debate ensued.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Stratton: "Thank you, Mr. President, I think I rise more on a personal privilege than on anything else. I've been listening to this discussion here for the last ten minutes and haven't understood but about every third word that's come out to us. Now, if putting up murals and taking down murals and putting down new carpet and taking down the curtains and taking out the chairs has created this empty, hollow sound, then we'd better do something before we start conducting the state's business."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Pritchard: "Senator, your point is well taken. They have been working on it. They're aware of the problem and I certainly join you in your feelings. We can't hear very well up here in the Chair, either."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of Senate Resolution 1989-8612.

Senate Resolution 1989-8612 was adopted by voice vote.

REPORT OF SELECT COMMITTEE

OFFICE OF FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT
Insurance Building
Olympia, Washington 98504

January 17, 1989

TO: Agency Directors and Fiscal Officers
FROM: Dan Pensula, Assistant Director, Accounting and Fiscal Services Division
SUBJECT: STATE OF WASHINGTON FISCAL YEAR 1988, COMPREHENSIVE ANNUAL FINANCIAL REPORT

I am pleased to provide you with a copy of the state of Washington's Comprehensive Annual Financial Report (CAFR) for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1988. The CAFR includes both "general purpose" or combined financial statements, and "combining" financial statements for each fund. As such, it represents a detailed financial report on all state financial transactions during the fiscal year. Washington's CAFR was prepared in conformance with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) applicable to state governments and has received an unqualified audit opinion from State Auditor Robert V. Graham.

The report includes a Certificate of Achievement for Excellence in Financial Reporting (see page 11) awarded by the Government Finance Officers Association (GFOA) of the United States and Canada for our Fiscal Year 1987 CAFR. In receiving this award, the state has demonstrated a high level of compliance with GAAP as well as compliance with state and federal laws. Currently, Washington is among a select group; only approximately 700 out of 80,000 governmental entities in the United States have received this award. This certificate is valid for one year. We believe our Fiscal Year 1988 report also conforms to the Certificate of Achievement for Excellence in Financial Reporting Program requirements and have submitted it to the GFOA to determine its eligibility for another certificate.

I hope Washington's Fiscal Year 1988 CAFR proves informative to you. If you have any comments concerning how this report could be made more useful or specific questions regarding its contents, please contact Mike Cheney, Chief, State Financial Policies, at (206) 753-1814 (SCAN 234-1814).

The Select Committee Report is on file in the Office of the Secretary of the Senate.

Dear Gordon:

Although abuse of street drugs remains a major problem within our state, this type of drug abuse comprises only 30% of all drug related visits for 1987 Seattle area emergency rooms. The remaining 70% of drug related emergency room visits are for prescription and over-the-counter drugs.

Enclosed is the 1989 Interdepartmental Coordinating Committee on Drug Misuse, Diversion and Abuse biennial report to the Legislature outlining the Committee's efforts to curtail the improper use of pharmaceutical drugs. This report is required by RCW 18.64.007. Copies have also been sent to the Senate Human Services and Corrections Committee, the House Human Services Committee and the State Library. If you have any questions or comments, please contact me at 753-6834.

REMARKS BY THE CHIEF CLERK
INTRODUCTION OF THE LATE JULIA BUTLER HANSEN

Chief Clerk Thompson: "Thank you, Mr. President, distinguished public officers and guests. It is my honor--and my assignment as surrogate for Speaker Joe King, who regrettably was taken ill yesterday--to present this highest of our state's recognitions to someone who is not here today.

"Here instead, to receive the Washington State Medal of Merit on his mother's behalf, is Julia Butler Hansen's son, David. David is the only child of Julia and Henry Hansen. In him was bred a love of this region and a devotion to its history. His heritage from his mother has become the basis for his life's work. David serves as Curator of the Fort Vancouver National Historical Site, a post he has held for the past fifteen years.

"Julia is not here, but she was here. She was here as a member of the State House of Representatives for twenty-two years of her long and distinguished career in public service. It is both fitting and humbling for me, as a former member of this House, to be asked to make this presentation in the name of so worthy a former member of this body. It is fitting, as well, that Julia's great presence, when she was among us, be acknowledged while memories of her are still strong, so as to keep strong the appreciation of an extraordinary life.

"In the City Hall at Cathlamet, in the Courthouse of Wahkiakum County, here in this House, and in the Congress of the United States, Julia set her great vitality and intelligence to small tasks and to great deeds--all with the common purpose of the common good.

"Legislators leave their marks on an ever-changing landscape of societal change. They must be measured by the scale of their time. Julia's time is past, but her mark is monumental even yet. As Chairman of the House and Joint Highway Committees for term after term, as a nine-year Chairman of the Western States Highway Policy Committee that worked to link Washington with our neighbors, and as a member of the State Transportation Commission, Julia, more than any other of her time, was this state's master road builder. Julia's landscape was Washington's countryside and communities, and her monument is this state's highway system.

"Julia Butler Hansen's pre-eminence in the transportation field did not, however, overshadow her devotion to human need in other areas or the recognition of her broad achievement. Julia was the recipient of innumerable state and national awards for education, the arts and conservation. She was the first woman to serve as Speaker Pro Tempore of this body. She came within one vote of the Speakership. She was the first woman to chair a Congressional Appropriations Subcommittee. She was for six years the Chair of a Congressional Process Reform Committee that substantially modified the rigid seniority system.

"Julia was also very human. That comes through best from her own words. This--what I am about to read you--was written by Julia to Governor Ray in a letter of resignation from the State Transportation Commission. Here are some excerpts from that letter that reflect her human qualities of compassion, humor and her legendary acerbic style:

"It is after a great deal of thought and some regret that I submit my resignation. On January 1, 1981, I will have completed forty-three years of public service--thirty-seven years in elective office (twenty-three elections) in municipal, state and federal offices, then six years on the Highway and Transportation Commission (including the Toll Bridge Authority).

"The challenge is still here, but a soberer, sadder challenge. What answers can government make today with inflation so vicious that government itself cannot fulfill its role of bettering the lives of our citizens or meeting the needs of people's economic substance?

"I should love to solve or assist in solving these state problems, but no one is indispensable. Others will serve you well and with vision and probably with more patience for the selfish, greedy, powerlusting demagogues and the ignorant, than I.

"Now, finally, Governor Ray, I seldom mention personal affairs, but my husband is ninety-seven, almost totally blind, unable to hear and has not walked or taken a step for fifteen months. I care for him at home. Help is very difficult to obtain in a small town.

"Also, Governor, it will be nice not to have to leave home at 7:30 on a winter morning and dodge the rocks on the Ocean Beach Highway to get to a meeting or wonder if the Toutle River Bridge will still be standing in the evening when I return. It will also be nice on Christmas morning not to have someone call about a ferry that serves poor french fries. I remember my first Christmas in politics--1936--as County Chairman. There was a knock at my front door at 7:30 a.m. A man and his wife stood on the porch. The gentlemen said, 'We have come to see about you calling Congressman Smith to see about getting my wife the Post Office appointment.' These visits and calls have continued three hundred and sixty-five days per year for forty-three years and there are no vacations.

"I have loved the people of this state and shall continue to give them my affection and interest. I have only gratitude for the thousands of people who have supported me."

"Now, David, it is my honor to ask you to receive on behalf of your mother, in gratitude from the people of the state of Washington, the State Medal of Merit."

The Chief Clerk presented the Medal of Merit to Mr. David Hansen for his mother, the late Julia Butler Hansen.

REMARKS BY DAVID HANSEN

Mr. Hansen: "Mr. President, Lieutenant Governor Cherberg, Lieutenant Governor Pritchard, Mrs. Gardner, members of the House and Senate. It is a deep honor and privilege to come here today and accept this very, very great award in memory of my mother, who served the state and nation for so long.

"It was fifty years ago this month that my mother began her legislative career in this Chamber, and it was thirty years ago that my mother served for the last time in this legislative body before going on to national service. She always did her best, at whatever the task was, to serve the constituents of her district, state and nation--with no thought to special interests and no thought to self--but always looking to the common interest and common good of those constituents and voters.

"She, as you well know, was a master legislator. There are numerous stories of her management of this House and of her many legislative battles during the twenty-two years that she served in this state. I know there are those who still have memories and legislative scars from some of those battles. My mother always considered it a great privilege and an honor to serve in the public arena. She believed that public service, no matter at what level, was of the highest calling with no other reward than being able to serve the people and, when the job was done, being able to say that she had done the best job possible for all concerned and had given her best effort.

"It is an honor to stand in this Chamber, where she stood and, in fact, from where she presided as Speaker Pro Tempore of the House. As a little boy, I remember looking down from the gallery numerous times and watching Mother preside, lead and cajole which she was so very good at. I well remember that.

"It is indeed a great honor for me to accept this in her memory. I know that her spirit is with this body, as you and the state so thoughtfully remember her for all that she was able to do. I want to thank Alan, who has been a long-time friend and who served my mother when she was in Congress, for the kind remarks that he made in his introduction. Again, it is an honor to accept the thanks of our great state. Thank you so much."

The President Pro Tempore of the Senate introduced Chief Justice Keith Callow.

REMARKS BY CHIEF JUSTICE CALLOW
INTRODUCTION OF DR. BELDING SCRIBNER

Chief Justice Callow: "Mr. President, distinguished public officials, members of the Legislature, guests and friends. Dr. Belding Scribner was born in Chicago, received his undergraduate degree from the University of California at Berkeley in 1941, and his Doctor of Medicine degree from Stanford in 1945. Thereafter, he spent three years at San Francisco Hospital, five years at the Mayo Clinic and has been on the University of Washington Medical School faculty since 1951.

"In the mid-1950's, Dr. Scribner began using a device called a hemodialyzer, or artificial kidney, to treat patients with temporary kidney failure. In those days, each treatment began with a surgeon inserting a glass tube in an artery and another one in a vein, usually in the forearm. The tubes provided temporary access to the circulation of blood, so that the patient's blood could be pumped through the artificial kidney, which removed the toxic materials which otherwise would have been normally excreted. At the end of each procedure, the surgeon removed the tubes and tied off the artery and vein, which thereby destroyed them and, of course, strictly limited the number of artificial kidney treatments that could be performed on any one individual.

"In January of 1960, a patient arrived at the University Hospital, suffering from acute renal failure. After several treatments on the artificial kidney, he was completely revived, but a biopsy of his kidney revealed permanent irreversible kidney disease. Dr. Scribner was forced to tell the patient's wife that the situation was hopeless.

"This case had a profound effect on Dr. Scribner, and soon after he awoke in the middle of the night with an idea that, if it worked, would make it possible to use the artificial kidney to treat patients with permanent kidney failure. The basic idea was simple. Instead of removing the tubes and tying off the vessels, Dr. Scribner decided to leave the tubes in. Then, by connecting the tube in the artery to the tube in the vein with another tube, or shunt, the blood would flow through rapidly enough to prevent clotting. To implement this idea, Dr. Scribner enlisted the help of University of Washington surgeon, Dr. David Dillard, and engineer, Wayne Quinton, who at that time was head of the Medical Instrument Laboratory. Within two months, this team had fashioned a device of plumbing fixtures and tubing made of teflon, chosen because of its smooth nonstick inner surface. This device, called an A-V shunt, was placed in the forearm of the patient by Dr. Dillard. That the experiment was a success is evident from the fact that the patient, who would have died within a few months from terminal kidney disease, survived for eleven years, returning to work shortly after the A-V shunt was in place. You may see this original A-V shunt which is being exhibited in the Rotunda.

"In 1961, a grant was obtained to test the feasibility of an out-of-hospital community artificial kidney center. The basement of the nurses' residence next to Swedish Hospital was converted into the Seattle Artificial Kidney Center which later became the Northwest Kidney Center. The project was an immediate success and brought with it a problem unprecedented in medicine--how to select from among hundreds of candidates those nine patients which the original center could accept. The King County Medical Society created a selection committee to make the selection process as fair as possible. In 1962, when Life Magazine writer Shana Alexander came to Seattle to do a story on the artificial kidney program, she focused on the activities of this committee. Her story, which appeared in the November 9, 1962, issue of Life Magazine, caused a sensation and was reprinted in similar magazines in many other countries. You may also see this addition of Life Magazine which is exhibited today in the Rotunda. The committee itself became the subject of controversy concerning the best way to make life and death medical decisions. The committee, in fact, marked a milestone in the discipline of medical ethics.

"In 1963, the experience at the Seattle Artificial Kidney Center demonstrated clearly that, if the treatment was to be expanded to meet demand, it would have to be simplified, improved and its cost drastically reduced. Consequently, Dr. Scribner in 1963, walked across the bridge that connects the medical school with the upper campus at the University of Washington and gave a talk describing these problems to a group of professors in the School of Engineering. The result was a research collaboration between Dr. Scribner's medical team and an engineering team headed by Dr. Albert L. Babb, then Chairman of the Department of Nuclear Engineering. This collaborative program proved highly successful. Indeed, most of the major technical and medical advances, that brought dialysis out of the research/demonstration stage and made it widely available as a treatment, were made by collaborative research efforts. In addition to these research accomplishments, the Scribner/Babb team trained numerous physicians and engineers worldwide, who went on to make important contributions of their own.

"Dr. Belding Scribner has given hope and life to many. He has contributed immeasurably to the advancement of medical knowledge and medical science. The people of the state of Washington are fortunate to have such a giant among us, whom we claim with great pride. Dr. Scribner, would you come forward to receive the Medal of Merit."

Chief Justice Callow presented the Medal of Merit to Dr. Belding H. Scribner.

REMARKS BY DR. SCRIBNER

Dr. Scribner: "This is clearly one of the great moments of my life. I want to thank all of you for conferring upon me this very great honor.

"You have heard from the Chief Justice why I received this medal. It may seem a bit paradoxical to you that I am not going to talk about life support, to which I have devoted my life, but I am going to talk to you about a very morbid and serious subject called death and dying. As you have heard, I personally became very deeply involved in this issue in the early days of our artificial kidney program with what came to be known as 'the infamous Seattle life and death committee.' It is so vividly described in that article by Shana Alexander, which is in the exhibit in the Rotunda.

"The time is obviously short and the situation is very complicated, so I am going to take the liberty of making a very simple classification of the issue of death, a sort of a spectrum. At one end of the spectrum we have natural death, and I won't say anything more about that.

"In the middle of this spectrum, is a large and growing number of incidents which I will arbitrarily call high-tech death. Let me give you a typical scenario: An elderly lady with a moderate disability enters the hospital to have a major procedure to improve her quality of life. Things go badly, unfortunately, and she ends up in the intensive care unit, the ICU. She is on a respirator; we're running her on an artificial kidney; she is getting total peritoneal nutrition. Despite the best efforts of the life support team in the ICU, death comes in a matter of days or weeks. The cost of this entire episode often runs into six figures. This is what I mean by the term high-tech death. And lest you think this is an unusual occurrence, please be aware of the fact that about fifty percent of the Medicare budget currently is spent on the beneficiary during the last six months of life.

"I have talked to you about natural death and, in the middle, high-tech death. Now, just a few words about the other extreme, prolonged high-tech death. Prolonged high-tech death can be divided into two categories, medical and legal. Medical high-tech death is a relatively new phenomenon. What happens is that a patient in the intensive care unit reaches a precarious balance where the life support team is able to stave off the death, but the patient becomes fully dependent on the life support systems that are supplied in the intensive care unit. The situation goes on and on in sort of a static, semi-stable state. There is, right now in an ICU in this state, a patient who has been there for over a year. The suffering that has been going on among the family, the medical staff and all concerned is immeasurable. The cost is now exceeding one million dollars. The patient continues to hang on. There is no end in sight--prolonged high-tech medical death.

"The legal type of high-tech death is exemplified by the case of Mr. Brophy. Mr. Brophy was a fireman in Boston, and he died, or almost died, while fighting a fire. Somehow they revived him, and he lived, but he was brain dead. His brain was irreversibly damaged. He stayed in an ICU in a Boston hospital for three and one-half years on total peritoneal nutrition, high-tech nutritional support, antibiotics and so on, while the family pleaded to have the treatment stopped. This case worked its way through the Massachusetts court system, and in the late fall of 1987, the Supreme Court in the state of Massachusetts finally granted permission to stop the nutrition on Mr. Brophy and he died--three and one-half years and millions of dollars. We have had similar cases in this state, and we will have more unless you people here in the Legislature address this issue in a realistic and forward-seeing manner.

"I would like to close these rather somber remarks with a lighter note. I was at the SeaHawks' game a couple of weeks ago and my wallet was stolen. I, of course, had to get a new driver's license. I noticed, when I went to get the new license, that there was no sign about organ donation around anywhere. When the duplicate license came, it didn't say anything on it about being an organ donor. In the meantime, whoever stole my wallet dropped the thing in the mailbox. I had to pay the postage, but I did get it back--less the money. It says, 'organ donor' there on my original. So, something has gone amiss in the Department of Motor Vehicles and you might want to look it up, because I feel very strongly about this issue of organ donation. I am looking at you through donated cornea. Indeed, I had my first corneal transplant in 1950, when I was going blind as a medical student. It saved my career. Since then, I have had three additional corneal transplants. Somewhere out there are four nice people, who didn't die in vain because their cornea have kept me in business all these years.

"Finally, I brought along a little check list which is a map to constructing a living will, or durable power of attorney. It is not a legal document, but it contains all the vital information you need. There are copies of this for those of you who are interested out at our exhibit in the foyer. Thank you very much.

The President Pro Tempore introduced Mrs. Jean Gardner.

REMARKS BY MRS. JEAN GARDNER
INTRODUCTION OF DR. CHARLES ODEGAARD

Mrs. Gardner: "Thank you, Mr. President. You have heard that Booth is in Washington, D.C., but he wanted me to let you know how much he wanted to be here to honor these extraordinary people today.

"We can focus on the importance of the Medal of Merit by remembering those who have received it for the past two years: Scoop Jackson, Warren Magnuson, Eddie Carlson, Dorothy Bullitt, Dr. William Hutchinson of the Fred Hutchinson Cancer Research Center, heart specialist, Dr. Lester Sauvage, and Dr. Orville Vogel from Washington State University, whose research helped revolutionize agriculture in the state of Washington. This is distinguished company indeed.

"It is a very special honor and privilege for me to introduce and present the Medal of Merit to Dr. Charles Odegaard, President Emeritus of the University of Washington. You see, I consider him my President. When he arrived at the U, I was just a sophomore and I had the privilege of being a student under his reign for two and one-half years and of receiving my diploma from Dr. Odegaard.

"He was President of the University of Washington from 1958-1973. We all know that the University has always had a good reputation, but it was during his tenure that the University gained significantly in natural stature, for the quality of its teaching, the quality of its research, and the quality of its football team.

"Charles Odegaard is a product of the Chicago public schools, a graduate of Dartmouth College, and earned his master's and doctorate degrees from Harvard University. He was a Professor of History at the University of Illinois with a four-year leave of absence to serve in the Navy where he rose to the rank of Lieutenant Commander during World War II. He was a Professor of History and Dean of the College of Literature, Science and the Arts at the University of Michigan before coming to the University of Washington. He knew he made the right choice after seeing the Huskies beat the University of Michigan in the Rose Bowl.

"Dr. Odegaard has always had his hands in a variety of other interests at the same time. He served in various capacities in such agencies as the United States Information Agency, the National Endowment for Humanity, Advisory Committee on ROTC for the Secretary of Defense, the U.S. Public Health Service, the National Academy of Sciences, and the Washington State Bar Association. He also served in community organizations such as the Pacific Science Center, the Seattle Chamber of Commerce, the Seattle Public Library, and the Seattle Symphony Orchestra. The list goes on and on.

"He has been in great demand as a speaker and as a consultant on higher education throughout this country and in such foreign countries as England, France, the Netherlands, Denmark, West Germany, Switzerland, Rumania, Mexico, Japan, Korea and Greece. He also has been a forceful figure in the national debate regarding the quality of medical treatment, leading to significant improvements in the quality of physicians' training.

"It is his performance as President of the University of Washington for which he is most remembered. During the 1960's, he led the University through perhaps the most difficult time it ever faced. There were student disturbances, violence on campus and even one determined effort to literally shut down the University. Dr. Odegaard held the University together. He moved to respond to real grievances and, in dealing with the protests of the Black community, he took steps which permanently modified the University and made it a place in which minority students can feel a genuine and rewarding membership. As a result, the highest award that can be given to a member of the community by the University's Equal Opportunity Program is named in his honor, the Charles E. Odegaard Award.

"In short, Charles Odegaard, through his vision, his compassion and his zeal, has touched our lives in countless ways. It gives me great pleasure to present the Medal of Merit to Charles E. Odegaard, truly one of this state's most distinguished citizens and most valuable resources.

Mrs. Gardner presented the Medal of Merit to Dr. Charles E. Odegaard.

REMARKS BY DR. ODEGAARD

Dr. Odegaard: "Mrs. Gardner, ladies and gentlemen of the Executive, Legislative and Judicial branches of the government. It gives me great pleasure to stand before you in this hall for which I have a number of remembrances going back now over thirty years. I am particularly pleased that this award comes from representatives of our government in the state of Washington.

"I first became conscious of public servants at work when I went to Washington, D.C., in 1948, as head of the National Organization for the Humanities and found myself in frequent contact with what were called, rather commonly in those days, bureaucrats and politicians--that is to say, a variety of persons associated with public offices in the various branches of the federal government in Washington, D.C. I learned to develop, as I had not had an opportunity to do before, great respect for the motivations, abilities and problems that had to be faced by members of the government, by public servants. It left in my mind a concern about the degree to which our educational institutions, which addressed many different kinds of problems encountered in human society, had really faced up to the importance of the role of public servants in our society.

"That experience in Washington, D.C., was further expanded by my experiences here in the state of Washington, in this very building and on occasion in this very room. I found that the tradition of bashing public servants seemed to be singularly ill-advised in the nation which endeavored to find a democratic way of reaching the common will through public servants. We in this country have a way of moving between the private and public sector with an ease which is not commonly found in many other parts of the world.

"I am proud of one thing that occurred at the University of Washington in my time. That is the founding of the Graduate School of Public Affairs as recognition by the University of the desirability of having learning opportunities, teaching opportunities and research opportunities on matters of concern to public servants which aid them in their official functioning. There had been, as far as private entrepreneurship was concerned, a tradition going back roughly to the 1920's, of the establishment of what in the beginning were often called Colleges of Commerce. It seemed to me that we really needed to have a School of Public Administration to go along with the private administration, if you will, in the entrepreneurial section of our society. Both the public and the private have elements pertaining to the common will of all of us.

"I want to affirm that many of the things which developed at the University of Washington during my time as President required the participation and the understanding of people in the government and, indeed, of many individuals who have been seated in this very room in the past. I do not believe that this is the first time that I have had the privilege of appearing before a Joint Session. It happened back in the 60's that there was a Joint Session of the House and Senate, in which I was one of the speakers addressing problems associated with the development of higher education. That was an unusual action on the part of the Legislature, but this is by no means the only unusual thing which occurred.

"What I really wish to do is to express my gratitude to the public servants of the state of Washington who, in my understanding of things, contributed greatly to the rationalization and the expansion of the services of higher education in its many forms within this state. I come to you, the recipients of my expression of appreciation, for the part which you and your predecessors played in the evolution of a far more rational distribution of educational opportunities at the higher level than had existed previously--of multiple institutions, of differing but coordinated types and functions. It is not easy to keep that kind of institution going because of its complexity. It does need understanding.

"I think we have been through a period when there was essentially, I think, a relative decline in the effectiveness of the educational system in this state. The losers, unfortunately, are ourselves, the citizens here. We have not invested the amount of energy, interest and money in the education of ourselves that we should have done. There is a new breeze blowing. I want to say that it looks to me very much like a breeze, which I saw in the 1960's, and which I acknowledge with respect and gratitude.

"I place a particular value on your kind statements about me here today, but I think that you should share in the credit. Thank you, ladies and gentlemen.

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

President Pro Tempore Bluechel: "As we finish this ceremony, I want to say one thing about the participants. All of the winners of the Medal of Merit of the state of Washington are people who have influenced this state in major ways, and the effects will be with us for a long time. We all have that opportunity. We have before us three people--one who is no longer with us--who really dedicated their lives to making the state of Washington a better place in which to live. That influence and their lives will be long remembered."

On motion of Senator Newhouse, the Senate commenced consideration of Senate Bill No. 5377.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5377, by Senators McDonald, Gaspard, West, Talmadge, Sellar, Bailey, Craswell, Cantu, Hayner, Smitherman, Wojahn, McMullen, Smith, Sutherland, Murray, Niemi, Stratton and Anderson

Appropriating money for the alcoholism and drug addiction treatment and support act.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator McDonald, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5377 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5377 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator McDonald, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5377 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Smitherman: "Thank you, Mr. President, and ladies and gentlemen of the Senate. I support this measure, but as a point of personal privilege, I note that in our bill books this particular bill is not present and that bothers me to some degree as it is a complex issue and I would very much like to have that sort of thing before us in our bill books where possible, particularly on complex issues."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator McDonald, I didn't quite get what you were saying about the court decision. Could you repeat that?"

Senator McDonald: "Senator Rasmussen, in Judge Casey's decision, of June 29, on the ADATSA program on dealing with the dormitory requirements in holding them to be unconstitutional, she said, 'I do not know that we can trust the social mores of law makers.' I find that statement to be really a difficult one, as a member of the first branch of government, to accept from another branch of government. I think that we are duly-elected and we do reflect the social mores, certainly, of our district and of the state as a whole and I think that's a direct challenge to our authority."

Senator Rasmussen: "A further question. Using this attitude, any laws that we pass would be not subject to a constitutional question which we, of course, know they are--but subject to this opinion of what we're doing here."

Senator McDonald: "Yes, I do believe that it is her opinion that she feels superior to this branch of government as far as social mores. I think we have to make it clear that we do have a belief and we do want to, within the constitutional confines, be able to put that belief forward and make it stick."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5377.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5377 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 46; excused, 3.

Voting yea: Senators Amondson, Anderson, Bailey, Barr, Bauer, Bender, Benitz, Bluechel, Cantu, Conner, Craswell, DeJarnatt, Gaspard, Hansen, Hayner, Johnson, Kreidler, Lee, Madsen, Matson, McCaslin, McDonald, McMullen, Metcalf, Moore, Murray, Newhouse, Niemi, Owen, Patterson, Pullen, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Sellar, Smith, Smitherman, Stratton, Sutherland, Talmadge, Thorsness, Vognild, von Reichbauer, Warnke, West, Williams, Wojahn - 46.

Excused: Senators Fleming, Nelson, Saling - 3.

SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5377, having received the constitutional majority was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

SENATE BILL NO. 5061, by Senators Smith, DeJarnatt, Metcalf, Benitz and Rasmussen

Excepting smelt from personal use license requirements.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Metcalf, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5061 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

REPORT OF SELECT COMMITTEE

DEPARTMENT OF COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT
Ninth and Columbia Building
Olympia, Washington 98504

Mr. Gordon Golob
Secretary of the Senate
306 Legislative Building
Olympia, Washington 98504

Dear Mr. Golob:

I am pleased to submit the enclosed Video Telecommunications report that the Department of Community Development (DCD) was directed to complete by ESHB 1221, enacted by the 1987 Legislature.

The report outlines the potential uses, structure and operation of a state video teleconferencing system; recommends a plan and method of operation for such a system; and assesses the potential of using this technology to communicate with employees and citizens.

The 1987 Legislature also passed SSB 5977 which directed the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction (OSPI) and the Higher Education Coordinating Board (HECB) to jointly develop and recommend a telecommunications network plan.

In cooperation with the Department of Information Services, (DIS), we coordinated with both SPI and HECB to find ways to provide a multi-use network and avoid costly duplication. As a result, DCD, DIS, OSPI and HECB have prepared not only individual reports, but are submitting to the Legislature a joint report which identifies common directions among the individual plans, and proposes areas where needed resources and services could be shared.

As we learned more about video telecommunications during the study development phase, we became excited about its potential use as a tool to improve the efficiency of state government, extend the frontiers of learning, and improve the quality of life for our citizens. The state of Washington has an opportunity to take a leadership role in establishing a video telecommunications network which could create electronic highways that move information instead of people.

If you have questions or comments, please call me at 753-5625 or contact Kay Boyd at 586-0665.

Sincerely,
CHUCK CLARKE,
Director

The Select Committee Report is on file in the Office of the Secretary of the Senate.

CONFLICT OF INTEREST

RULE 1. A legislator has a personal interest which is in conflict with the proper discharge of legislative duties if the legislator has reason to believe or expect that a direct monetary gain or a direct monetary loss will be derived by reason of the legislator's official activity.

However, a legislator does not have a personal interest which is in conflict with the proper discharge of legislative duties if no benefit or detriment accrues to the legislator as a member of a business, profession, occupation, or group, to a greater extent than to any other member of such business, profession, occupation, or group.

CODE OF ETHICS

In order to maintain legislative integrity and secure the public interest the following Code of Ethics is adopted for legislators:

(a) Actions which destroy independence of judgment as a legislator:

(1) A legislator shall not vote on or influence legislation in committee or on the floor of either house, where the legislator has a personal interest which is in conflict with the proper discharge of legislative duties.

(2) A legislator shall not accept any gratuity or compensation for services rendered in connection with legislative employment other than legislative salary.

(3) A legislator shall not ask, receive, or agree to receive anything of value upon any understanding that the legislator's vote, opinion, judgment, or action will be influenced thereby.

(4) A legislator shall not solicit, receive, or accept a gift, favor or service under circumstances where it could be reasonably inferred that such action would influence the legislator in the discharge of legislative duties, or was a reward.

(5) A legislator shall not accept any remuneration other than legislative compensation for legislative advice or assistance.

(6) A legislator shall not appear before any department of state government for compensation that is contingent upon action by that department of state government unless the fee is set or approved by that department.

(b) Actions which involve undue influence upon any state agency, court, or governmental subdivision:

(1) A legislator shall not represent clients for compensation in proceedings or hearings before state agencies, boards or commissions involving claims of state employees.

(2) A legislator, singularly or through others, shall not use or attempt to use improper means to influence a state agency, board or commission.

(3) A legislator may use an official title or stationery in connection with a matter or proceeding before a state agency, board or commission, only if done without compensation, in connection with legislative duties.

(4) A legislator shall not represent any claimant for compensation in any claim placed before the legislature.

(5) A legislator shall not receive compensation for an appearance before a state agency as an expert witness.

(c) Actions which constitute an abuse of official position or a violation of public trust:

(1) A legislator shall not accept employment, or engage in any business, or be involved in any activity which one might reasonably expect would require the disclosure of privileged information gained by virtue of holding legislative office.

(2) A legislator shall not enter into any contract with a state agency involving services or property, unless the contract is made after public notice and competitive bidding; except in cases where public notice and competitive bidding are not required, the contract or agreement shall be filed with the Board of Ethics.

EMPLOYEE RESTRICTIONS

RULE 2. Section 1. A legislative employee shall not accept any gratuity or compensation for services rendered in connection with legislative employment other than legislative salary. A legislative employee shall not accept any employment, in addition to legislative employment, which would impair the employee's independence of judgment. Except within the scope of employment, a legislative employee shall not provide any service to a lobbyist or any other person.

Section 2. A legislative employee shall not use or attempt to use the employee's official position to (1) personally obtain any privilege, exemption, special treatment or any other thing of value, or (2) obtain any such benefit for others except as required to perform duties within the scope of employment.

Section 3. A legislative employee shall not accept or solicit anything of value for personal benefit or for the benefit of others under circumstances in which it can be reasonably inferred that the legislative employee's independence of judgment is impaired or is intended as a reward for any official action.

Section 4. A legislative employee shall not disclose confidential information acquired by reason of the employee's official position to any person or group not entitled to receive such information, nor shall the employee use such information for personal gain or benefit or for the benefit of others.

Section 5. A legislative employee shall not enter into any contract with a state agency involving services or property, unless the contract is made after public notice and competitive bidding; except in cases where public notice and competitive bidding are not required, the contract or agreement shall be filed with the appropriate board of ethics.

Section 6. A legislative employee shall not solicit or accept contributions for any candidate or political committee during working hours. At no time shall a legislative employee directly or indirectly coerce another employee into making a contribution to a candidate or a political committee. No legislative employee, as a condition of becoming or remaining employed, may directly or indirectly be required to make any contribution to a political candidate, committee, or party.

In case of failure of the conferees to agree on matters directly at issue between the two houses, the committee may in addition consider new proposed items within the scope and object of the bill in conference for the purpose of requesting the powers of free conference. A report requesting the powers of free conference shall be made in the same manner as other reports of conference committees and shall set forth the proposed report of a free conference committee, including all amendments to the bill or resolution to be agreed upon by the free conference committee. The proposed report may be in the form of a new bill or resolution and such report must have the signatures of ~~((a majority of the))~~ five members of the committee ~~((appointed from each house))~~ except that proposed free conference reports on the budget, supplemental budget or capital budget must have the signatures of a majority of the committee members of each house.

RULE 11. The report of a conference or free conference committee may be adopted by acclamation, but concurrence in the bill as amended shall be by roll call and the ayes and nays entered on the journals of the respective houses. The report must be voted upon in its entirety and cannot be amended.

The report shall be read in full in each house before a vote is taken on the report. The senate and house, within their own bodies, can suspend the reading of a report in full. Each house shall have twenty-four hours from the time of proper receipt, by the chief clerk of the house and the secretary of the senate, to consider reports from a free conference committee. Neither house may vote thereon until the twenty-four hour period shall have elapsed. The clerk and the secretary shall place the reports on the desks of the members as soon as possible. The foregoing provisions relating to twenty-four hour intervals may be suspended by the senate or the house of representatives by a two-thirds vote of the members present, and such suspension shall apply only to the house voting to suspend these provisions.

WHEREAS, This fifty-three percent reduction in the harvest level will cause the loss of 1800 Washington jobs, with drastic economic and social harm to the individuals, families and communities of the Olympic Peninsula; and

SENATE BILL NO. 5094, by Senators West, Lee, Talmadge and Johnson

Providing for state registration of beer kegs.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Lee, the following Committee on Economic Development and Labor amendment was adopted:

On page 3, after line 32, insert the following

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. The sum of ten thousand six hundred dollars, or as much thereof as may be necessary, is appropriated for the biennium ending June 30, 1991, from the liquor revolving fund to the liquor control board for the purposes of this act.*

On motion of Senator Lee, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5094 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talmadge: "Senator Hayner, we're on the beer keg registration bill, and I guess this is probably as good as time as any to ask the question. This is a bill or a proposal that is contained in the Omnibus Drug and Alcohol Act that was the product of the task force that you and Speaker King recommended. What, I guess, we need to know is at what point we will be considering the Omnibus Bill or if it's the intention of the majority to break the Omnibus Bill up and treat it in separate bills such as the keg registration bill that's before us this morning?"

Senator Hayner: "Senator Talmadge, this bill got on the calendar before we actually began considering the Omnibus Bill. It is my intention that those committees that are dealing with various parts of it, other than Law and Justice, when they finish it, if they pass a part of it out, they will send it over to Law and Justice and we can perhaps put it back together there. This one got ahead of us and I see nothing wrong with passing it. We could put it back in that other bill once it's passed."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5094.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5094 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 40; nays, 7; absent, 2.

Voting yea: Senators Amondson, Anderson, Bailey, Barr, Bauer, Bender, Benitz, Bluechel, Cantu, Conner, Craswell, DeJarnatt, Fleming, Gaspard, Hansen, Hayner, Johnson, Kreidler, Lee, McCaslin, McDonald, McMullen, Metcalf, Nelson, Newhouse, Owen, Patterson, Pullen, Rasmussen, Saling, Sellar, Smith, Smitherman, Stratton, Sutherland, Talmadge, Thorsness, von Reichbauer, West, Wojahn - 40.

Voting nay: Senators Madsen, Matson, Moore, Murray, Niemi, Rinehart, Williams - 7.

Absent: Senators Vogt, Warnke - 2.

ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 5094, having received the constitutional majority was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President introduced guests of Senator Conner, a Past State President of the Fraternal Order of Eagles. The Eagles Auxiliary Dignitaries who were seated in the gallery were Grand Madam President, Jean Dockall, of Clute, Texas; Past State President, Elanor Lindquist of Chehalis, Washington; Madam State President, Janyce Smith, of Snohomish, Washington; and Madam State Vice President, Penny Kegerreis, of Monroe, Washington.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Bender, Senator McMullen was excused.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5107, by Senators Smith, Stratton and Craswell

Regarding abuse or exploitation of vulnerable adults/registry.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Smith, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5107 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5107 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

Senator West moved that the following amendments be considered simultaneously and be adopted:

On page 3, line 31, after "herself" insert "or a patient in a state hospital as defined in chapter 72.23 RCW"

On page 4, line 34, after "18.51," strike "or"

On page 4, line 34, after "18.20" insert ", or 72.23"

On page 6, line 35, after "18.51," strike "or"

On page 6, line 36, after "18.20" insert ", or 72.23"

On page 14, after line 8, insert the following:

"NEW SECTION, Sec. 12. A new section is added to chapter 72.23 RCW to read as follows:

In consultation with law enforcement personnel, the secretary shall have the power and duty to investigate the conviction record and the protection proceeding record information under chapter 43.43 RCW of each prospective employee of a state hospital."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Smitherman: "Senator West, the particular chapter you that cite here, 72.23, deals with both public and private institutions for mentally ill. Is it your intention for the authority in this bill to be vested so it affects both?"

Senator West: "Senator Smitherman, this amendment would only affect state employees in state hospitals. The reason that would be in is in the definition of a vulnerable adult that we're adding here on this first amendment on page 3, line 31, or a patient in a state hospital and so it would have the limiting effect of applying only to our employees."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendments by Senator West on page 3, line 31, page 4, line 34, page 6, lines 35 and 36, and page 14, line 8, to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5107.

The motion by Senator West carried and the amendments were adopted.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Newhouse, the Senate advanced to the eighth order of business.

MOTION

Senator Bluechel moved that the following resolution be adopted:

SENATE RESOLUTION 1989-8618

by Senators Bluechel, Vognild, Hayner, Warnke and Anderson

WHEREAS, Washington is a state with enormous, but as of yet unrealized potential; and

WHEREAS, Achievement of its potential could give Washington a clean and liveable environment, an educational system that promotes lifetime learning, high employment in satisfying jobs, and a stable and diversified economy; and

WHEREAS, Washington has the closest of all U.S. ports to the countries of the Pacific Rim, is equidistant from the markets of both the new European Community and the Pacific Rim, has a diversified industrial base with a highly skilled and productive work force, and has an unsurpassed natural environment abundant with resources; and

WHEREAS, The location and unique qualities of the state of Washington give it the potential to be a key player in the emerging global economy, particularly in the economy of the Pacific Rim; and

WHEREAS, Although rich in assets, Washington has certain liabilities. It is distant from major U.S. markets and is vulnerable to "protective" trade legislation. Moreover, while Washington's educational system and centers for research and development are among the best in the nation, their enhancement would further improve the high quality of life enjoyed in Washington; and

WHEREAS, Washington lacks a defined legislative process to realize its future potential; and

WHEREAS, The current legislative process tends to be focused on short term problem solving, and is not conducive to the achievement of long-range goals and objectives; and

WHEREAS, To fulfill this potential, Washington needs a process focused not only on what we are now, but also on what we can be in the future. The Legislature can provide that process by occupying the role of the catalyst that unites all segments of our society in setting long-range goals and objectives for the state of Washington;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That a special committee to be called the "Senate Select Committee on Washington 2000 A.D." is hereby established; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Lieutenant Governor shall appoint three members from each of the Senate caucuses to serve on the committee. The committee shall choose a chairman from among its members, and shall meet at the call of the chairman. The committee shall report to the Legislature at regular intervals, and shall continue in existence until it has accomplished its objectives; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the committee shall solicit the cooperation and input of members of the private sector, of the public sector, and of the academic community; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the committee, in conjunction with the standing committees of the Senate, shall develop a process for the identification and refinement of goals and objectives for the state of Washington and shall design and implement a legislative process for achieving those goals and objectives by the year 2000 A.D.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Bluechel, we've talked about this many times. I'm sorry to ask you this question Senator Bluechel, but we had WPPSS--which cost us a lot of money--and that was supposed to take care of all the power situations beyond the year 2000. We have Schools of the 21st Century and we have Washington Institute for Public Policy--I don't know what they do except send out bulletins--but what is this going to cost us? Do you have an estimate of the cost?"

Senator Bluechel: "We will hire one staff member within the allocation under F&O and if he is not working on this, he will be working on the standard research staff projects as are all committee staff. Other than that, there is no cost. Basically, this is an in-house legislative committee designed to structure a process which would be used by the committee chairman over a series of years to implement goals and objectives."

Senator Rasmussen: "Could you tell the body how much we have spent already, from private enterprise?"

Senator Bluechel: "From private enterprise, we had a donation of one person's time for six months and that person was a very high-level technician and he donated, effectively, fifty thousand dollars."

Senator Rasmussen: "And it's anticipated we'll get more private enterprise money?"

Senator Bluechel: "We anticipate that we will have the expertise, which we don't have in this body or in our staff, to design the programs with no cost to us. The offers have been made. They will assist us in designing a program. Once a program is designed, and it's a fairly technical program, then it's simple to use. It's a complex design, but it's simple to use and we don't anticipate any cost of that."

Senator Rasmussen: "We should save money, because we will only then introduce five or ten bills per specific purpose after the plan gets working?"

Senator Bluechel: "What we are looking at, Senator Rasmussen, is looking down the road. Right now, it is very difficult to take a look at the state of Washington on a long-term basis and say what should we do. Using the expertise of the legislative committee over a period of years and providing a framework in which they will operate to achieve these long range goals, that's what this is all about. The committee is really structuring a process. We do not enter into policy. The policy is done by the standing committees to the Legislature."

Senator Rasmussen: "Thank you. The reason I am asking these questions, I intend to read the Journal in the year 2000, and find out how we've adhered to the plan."

Senator Bluechel: "Well, if it works, Senator Rasmussen, we should be the leading state in the country and be very prominent in the Pacific Rim."

Senator Rasmussen: "That gives me a goal. Thank you, Senator Bluechel."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of Senate Resolution 1989-8618.

Senate Resolution 1989-8618 was adopted by voice vote.

APPOINTMENT OF SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE ON WASHINGTON 2000 A.D.

The President appointed Senators Bluechel, Cantu, Hayner, McMullen, Sutherland and Williams to the Senate Select Committee on Washington 2000 A.D.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Newhouse, the appointments were confirmed.

In the absence of the president pro tem, and vice president pro tem, or with their consent, the president shall have the right to name any senator to perform the duties of the chair, but such substitution shall not extend beyond an adjournment, nor authorize the senator so substituted to sign any documents requiring the signature of the president.

SECRETARY OF THE SENATE

RULE 3. 1. The senate shall elect a secretary, who shall appoint an assistant secretary, both of whom shall be officers of the senate and shall perform the usual duties pertaining to their offices, and they shall hold office until their successors have been elected or appointed.

2. 4. A legislative employee shall not accept or solicit anything of value under circumstances in which it can be reasonably inferred that the legislative employee's independence of judgment is impaired or is intended as a reward for any official action.

5. A legislative employee shall not disclose confidential information acquired by reason of senate employment to any person or group not entitled to receive such information, nor shall such information be used for personal gain or to benefit others.

All amendments adopted on the second reading shall then be securely fastened to the original bill.

All amendments rejected by the senate shall be spread upon the journal, and the journal shall show the disposition of all amendments.

When no further amendments shall be offered, the president shall declare the bill has passed its second reading, and shall be referred to the committee on rules for third reading.

THIRD READING

RULE 65. Bills on third reading shall be read in full by sections, and no amendment shall be entertained.

When a bill shall pass, it shall be certified to by the secretary, together with the vote upon final passage, noting the day of its passage thereon.

The vote must be taken by yeas and nays, the names of the senators voting for and against the same to be entered upon the journal and the majority of the members elected to the senate must be recorded thereon as voting in its favor to secure its passage by the senate.

SCOPE AND OBJECT OF BILL NOT TO BE CHANGED

RULE 66. No amendment to any bill shall be allowed which shall change the scope and object of the bill. (See also Art. 2, Sec. 38, State Constitution.)

MATTERS RELATED TO DISAGREEMENT BETWEEN THE SENATE AND HOUSE

To concur

To non-concur

To recede

To insist

To adhere

These motions are in order as to any single amendment or to a series of amendments.

(See Reed's Rules 247 through 254.)

A senate bill, passed by the house with amendment or amendments which shall change the scope and object of the bill, upon being received in the senate, shall be referred to an appropriate committee and shall take the same course as for original bills, unless a motion to ask the house to recede, to insist or to adhere is made prior to the measure being referred to committee.

BILLS COMMITTED FOR SPECIAL AMENDMENT

RULE 68. A bill may be committed with or without special instructions to amend at any time before taking the final vote.

CONFIRMATION OF GUBERNATORIAL APPOINTEES

The standing committee, or subcommittee, pursuant to rule 42, shall require each appointee referred to the committee for consideration to complete the standard questionnaire to be used to ascertain the appointee's general background and qualifications. The committee may also require the appointee to complete a supplemental questionnaire related specifically to the qualifications for the position to which he has been appointed.

The standing committee, or subcommittees, pursuant to rule 42, shall hold a public hearing on the appointment. The appointee may be required to appear before the committee on request. When appearing, the appointee shall be required to testify under oath or affirmation. The chairman of the committee or the presiding member shall administer the oath or affirmation in accordance with RCW 44.16. (See also Article 2, Sec. 6 of the State Constitution.)

Nothing in this rule shall be construed to prevent a standing committee, or subcommittee, pursuant to rule 42, upon a two-thirds vote of its members, from holding executive sessions when considering an appointment.

When the committee on rules presents the report of the standing committee before the senate, the question shall be the confirmation of the name proposed, and the roll shall then be called and the yeas and nays entered upon the journal. In the event a message is received from the governor requesting return of an appointment or appointments to the office of the governor prior to confirmation, the senate shall vote upon the governor's request and the appointment or appointments shall be returned to the governor if the request is approved by a majority of the senators elected. APPOINTMENT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The President announced the presence in the Senate Chamber of Mr. Isaac Stern, world renown violinist, and Mr. Robert McDonald, his piano accompanist, and appointed Senators Hayner, Bluechel, Rinehart and DeJarnatt to escort the distinguished guests to the Senate Rostrum.

The President turned the gavel over to Senator Bluechel who introduced Mr. Stern and Mr. McDonald.

With permission of the Senate, business was suspended to permit Mr. Stern to address the Senate.

REMARKS BY ISAAC STERN

Mr. Stern: "Senator Bluechel, Lieutenant Governor Pritchard, distinguished legislators, ladies and gentlemen. I do not have the time to make an extended speech, but I will try to make a few remarks that I have to get to the point of the reason for my visit. It is not just to tell you how wonderful music is and how important it is to be an artist and all that. What I'm most interested in and what concerns me is the sense of priority that you, the governing body of this state, have concerning the arts.

"You have to go back a long way and there are some misconceptions and mythology connected with it. For example, a new dirty word--more than four letters long--has recently been invented. It's called, 'elite--elitism.' Elitism has nothing to do with your place in society, or the amount of money in the bank, or indeed political power only, but elitism where the members of the Church who in the fourteenth century began to write down the first notes that later became music or the calligraphers who kept the Bible and later on the painters who painted on the noble themes. If the men who created the Constitution of the United States were not the elite of their time, we would not be having arguments today of what is the constitutionality of a given idea. They were the elite of their time. The elite in England gave us the Magna Carta on which our basic law is based. Thomas Jefferson was a violinist and a composer. Throughout all times, an understanding of the value of the creative mind of man, has made civilization. Eventually, it is that civilization by which a nation is remembered. That is not only our joyous hour, but is our joint responsibility.

"All of you are concerned today, for example, with what is becoming a major problem in the United States--literacy. Do you know that those who have a proper, balanced, intelligent, musical education in the primary grades find that all the other grades--comprehension, mathematics, memory retention and logic--goes right up off the graph? I won't go into details now; I can give them later on. Remember too, that you are the state who in 1889, in your own Constitution which starts off with, 'the first responsibility of the Legislature is the education of it's young.' That's your Constitution, so it is not either seemingly nor worthwhile in the long run, that when there are difficulties--fiscal problems--the first thing that is cut are quote, 'the arts'--they're not quite that necessary.

"Ladies and gentlemen, the arts are not an adornment to casual society; they are basic to the way we live. The fetus in the womb of the mother has a heart beat. There isn't a father amongst you that hasn't listened to that heart beat with a smile and a chill. The first time, when that child comes out and that little form suddenly opens up and goes, 'aaaa'--the first sound. Now you put the heart beat and the sound together and that's your first music and that's why music is basic to the way we live and exist and why all people, everywhere, have a reaction to the power of music--all kinds of music. The more you have a chance to listen to it, the greater becomes your appreciation--your need of living with music.

"An interesting point is that in our own time, when governments in Europe went through travails, be it Fascism or Nazism, or indeed in certain early times of the Soviet Union, the creative power of music went down. It is burgeoning societies--free societies--that create a new kind of life and the elite nodding society, quote 'life,' but the elite of the people who think, who lead, who have ideas, who create the basis by which society raises itself.

"You know, Japan has become a major problem for all of the United States, in one form or another. As far as an economic power is concerned, it is the center today. Friends of mine in the investment banking business, tell me that unless you have close relationship with Japanese banks, you're not in the game. The ten leading banks in the world are all Japanese. Their largest bank, by ten times, larger than the largest American bank. In Japan, in Tokyo, there are five symphony orchestras. There are eleven concert halls and they are building more. All the schools and conservatories in the United States are full of Japanese, Korean, and now Chinese students. Why? Because they know what a power it is in their own land and what a passport it is to the world--how to rejoin and take part in that which is accepted worldwide.

"In my own field, the largest American recording company, CBS Records, was bought by Sony for two billion dollars about a year ago. Now, why did an American corporation willingly sell off such an asset? Let me tell you something. Akio Morita, the founder and the chairman of the board of Sony, who happens to be a friend of mine, said to me, 'We don't think in terms of six months balances, we're looking twenty years ahead.' They bought it from CBS and they're pouring millions into reviving and rebuilding it's classical area, worldwide, because they think this is important for their view of where they belong in the world and what they want to show the world that they can be capable of and what they believe in--our record companies, our music is important to them. Shouldn't it be equally important to us or more? It all begins with education, because the way the child learns in the schools will determine the kind of audiences you have. The kind of audiences you have will determine how many people will go to your symphony orchestras, your opera houses, your ballets, the theatres and how much music you will make in the home.

"You know, home music has been an old tradition in the United States. You have the Morman areas in the Middle West--church singing. It is a popular necessity. It is not something that you have to do; they enjoy it and they make wonderful audiences. Those of you who have the responsibility of the quality of life in your state cannot argue about the uselessness or the elitism of the arts, because then you only argue against yourselves.

"If you are to live up to what the possibilities are, if you're going to invest in the future of your state, your community, your town, your own children and your grandchildren, then you owe it to yourself to look at the arts programs of this state. It should not be forty-sixth in the states of the United States, as far as the state's arts program is concerned. I'm not concerned today with figures; it's not my business to concern myself whether you're paying seven million dollars a year or seventy million. What does concern me, is the priority that you give to the quality of life. The arts will reflect the kind of land in which you live. It will be the way we present ourselves to the world--each of us in our own cities, our own states and certainly in the nation.

"I was fortunate enough to be one of the founding members of the National Endowment of the Arts. We began in 1965 with barely three million dollars. Despite many efforts of some--some called misguided--members of the National Congress, at times, that tried to cut the budget. It still remains to this day at around a hundred fifty-five million. What is important, is because the government understood the need for government approbation, not appropriation--approbation--much more important. Private giving went from somewhere around two hundred million to over seven hundred million. That's an enormous difference. It is a drop in the bucket. If we shortened a couple of submarines by two feet, we'd have the seven hundred million, but that's not the point.

"The point is the recognition of the values and the values of the cities. There is Winston Salem, North Carolina. They had a terrible rundown downtown area. They rebuilt a hall--led by a man by the name of Roger Stevens, who's just retired as the head of the Kennedy Center. Four hundred million dollars in building went into that downtown area because the City Center was re-created as a center for opera, ballet, and the symphony orchestra.

"I don't have to give you the figures on what the artists, what music organizations, and theatre organizations can do for you. You have enough lobbyists lining the walls and the telephones and sitting up here to give you all those figures and they'll do it and do it and do it. Just listen to them. It's good for you. It's good for the state. It's desperately necessary for the future. We have the greatest wealth in the world in our young people. You have no idea of how much talent there is out there. That pool of talent is what will make this country work in the decades and the centuries to come.

"The more they know, the more they realize their history, the more they realize the history of man. How many of you are more than fifth generation Americans? Do you remember how this country was formed, what the power of this country is, the amalgam of cultures that we brought in here and created, what we call the American style that came from Germany, from Italy, England, France, Russia, everywhere? Each of us somewhere remembers our heritage and we have a vestigial recognition and affection for where we came from. That was part of the culture and was the art part that they brought with them, so we have a continuing responsibility.

"I hope you will think about it as you consider the priorities of each dollar and whether it is one cent on the dollar or one-tenth of one cent or two cents or whatever the figures may eventually be. The return, not next year, maybe not even in your terms in this office, but in the terms of the people that will follow you--the young people who will become the voters--and the legislators, they'll thank you.

"Thank you very much for asking me."

Senator Bluechel returned the gavel to President Pritchard.

The President introduced the following guests who were seated on the rostrum and who accompanied Mr. Stern to Olympia: Mr. Ed Birdwell, General Manager of the Seattle Symphony, Mrs. Hans Lehmann, a personal friend of Mr. Stern and Mrs. Jeanne Bluechel, a member of the King County Arts Commission.

Senator Metcalf: "Repeat your last comment Slim; I didn't quite pick it up."

Senator Rasmussen: "We used to grant leases for--the federal government did for a long term without any change in the lease rate. At the present time, the leases are granted, but they adjust the rates for inflation as they go along."

Senator Metcalf: "I can't answer for certain on that. I believe the fees are established and cannot be adjusted, but I'm not certain on that. If you have a major question on that, we could hold the bill until we get that answer."

Senator Rasmussen: "Well, I don't have any objection to the bill. I was asking what your understanding was, if we had any clear understanding that they would adjust rates as they go along. Fifty years is a long term lease."

Senator Metcalf: "Yes, it is. Senator Johnson has given me some information. He said that within the lease there may be written the opportunity to adjust, but again, I cannot answer that question of my own knowledge."

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Metcalf and Senator Johnson, the Department of Natural Resources recently bought the Price Savers location in Fife. They had a thirty-year lease with two five-year extensions. They optioned for two five-year extensions at five and a quarter million dollars and a return of four hundred nineteen thousand a year on the lease. The Kroeger Company is the company that backs Price Savers. That is what I was curious about. What kind of adjustments do they make? The other thing that I'm curious about is, does the purchase of a building, like in the City of Fife, remove it from the tax rolls? Does the City of Fife still get the same amount of taxes? Maybe, you could check that out before the bill passes the House."

Senator Metcalf: "I'd be very happy to get the answers to those questions and hold the bill until we can get them."

Senator Rasmussen: "I wouldn't hold it here. Let it roll through here and let the House take care of it."

Senator Metcalf: "We'll get the answers there."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Senate Joint Resolution No. 8201.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McCaslin: "Senator Pullen, I assume that this is not retroactive and in no way could this help the Hill's problem?"

Senator Pullen: "The bill is not retroactive."

Senator McCaslin: "Under present state statutes, is there any way the Attorney General or the Department of Revenue could have lent any assistance to the Hills?"

Senator Pullen: "That's a question which has been asked and both the department and Attorney General indicate that they would not have been able to help."

Senator McCaslin: "Thank you, Senator."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Johnson: "Senator Pullen, who will administer this program?"

Senator Pullen: "There's really no administration of the program as such."

Senator Johnson: "The present Whistle Blower Program is administered by the Auditor's Office."

Senator Pullen: "Are you talking with respect to state employees?"

Senator Johnson: "Yes."

Senator Pullen: "Right, this particular program doesn't have administration involved in the usual sense."

Senator Johnson: "I guess the question is, who would investigate, who would handle an employee who has a complaint? Where would it go? I had a bad experience with the present Whistle Blower legislation and I didn't like the way it was administered."

Senator Pullen: "The current law relates to state employees making complaints and that really wasn't the subject of this particular bill."

Senator Johnson: "OK, thank you sir."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5336.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5136, by Senators Owen, Metcalf, Amondson, Moore and Smith

Creating a fish identification card to allow greater accuracy in punchcard use.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Metcalf, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 5136 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Owen, it sounds like a very good idea. What do you anticipate the cost of the card will be?"

Senator Owen: "Well, I don't really have an idea, but I suspect it would probably be around a dollar or so."

Senator Rasmussen: "Next question, why not give it to the fishermen free? They buy a license and it runs up into the hundreds of dollars."

Senator Owen: "Well, this is just the way I came up with it. I thought the sportsmen would be willing to participate in and--"

Senator Rasmussen: "That's flying high. What do you call that spotted owl? The third question, there is a lot of concern that this will show the kind of fish--identify them. Wilkerson, when he was head of the Fisheries Department, didn't know that they weren't allowed to keep short fish or long fish. Will this identify the length of the fish that you are allowed to keep?"

Senator Owen: "No, they still have to refer to the regulations for that."

Senator Rasmussen: "That doesn't answer the question. My Aunt Mary goes out there fishing and she doesn't know what the current regulations are, but she sees a picture of a fish and says, 'I can keep that.'"

Senator Owen: "Well, no. She has to know the regulations. The problem is when a person gets a Blackmouth and Blackmouth season is closed, but Coho season is open. She should be able to tell whether she's caught a Chinook or a Coho. We're trying to help her out in that way, but I can't put every regulation on a card."

Senator Rasmussen: "Last question, Senator Owen, you're doing very well."

Senator Owen: "Thank you."

Senator Rasmussen: "Will this identify--my understanding is that you can line fifteen fish up and take fifteen biologists and line them up and say, 'Is this a tame fish or a wild fish?' Will you identify on the card whether it's a tame fish or a wild fish that you're allowed to keep?"

Senator Owen: "I would suspect that. The only area that I know that's a concern is steelhead, and they clip off the adipose fin and I would suspect that the department would note that on the card."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 5136.

The Secretary call the roll on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 5136 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 44; excused, 5.

MOTIONS

Senator Thorsness moved that the following amendment by Senators Thorsness, Warnke, McDonald, Cantu, Rasmussen, Metcalf, von Reichbauer and Gaspard be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature hereby designates the Cedar river sockeye salmon enhancement project as the "Washington state centennial salmon venture."

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. The legislature recognizes that King county has a unique urban setting for a recreational fishery and that Lake Washington and the rivers flowing into it should be developed for greater salmon production. A Lake Washington fishery is accessible to fifty percent of the state's citizens by automobile in less than one hour. There has been extensive sockeye fishing success in Lake Washington, primarily from fish originating in the Cedar river. The legislature intends to enhance the Cedar river fishery by active state and local management and intends to maximize the Lake Washington sockeye salmon runs for recreational fishing for all of the citizens of the state. A sockeye enhancement program could produce two to three times the current numbers of returning adults. A sockeye enhancement project would increase the public's appreciation of our state's fisheries, would demonstrate the role of a clean environment, and would show that positive cooperation can exist between local and state government in planning and executing programs that directly serve the public. A spawning channel in the Cedar river has been identified as an excellent way to enhance the Lake Washington sockeye run. A public utility currently diverting water from the Cedar river for beneficial public use has expressed willingness to fund the planning, design, evaluation, construction, and operation of a spawning channel on the Cedar river.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A salmon spawning channel shall be constructed on the Cedar river with the assistance and cooperation of the state department of fisheries. The department shall use existing personnel and the volunteer fisheries enhancement program outlined under chapter 75.52 RCW to assist in the planning, construction, and operation of the spawning channel.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. The department of fisheries shall chair a technical committee, which shall review the preparation of enhancement plans and construction designs for a Cedar river sockeye spawning channel. The technical committee shall consist of not more than eight members: One representative each from the department of fisheries, national marine fisheries service, United States fish and wildlife service, and Muckleshoot Indian tribe; and four representatives from the public utility described in section 6 of this act. The technical committee will be guided by a policy committee, also to be chaired by the department of fisheries, which shall consist of not more than six members: One representative from the department of fisheries, one from the Muckleshoot Indian tribe, and one from either the national marine fisheries service or the United States fish and wildlife service; and three representatives from the public utility described in section 6 of this act. The policy committee shall present a progress report to the senate and house of representatives natural resources and environment committees by January 1, 1990, and shall oversee the operation and evaluation of the spawning channel. The policy committee will continue its oversight until the policy committee concludes that the channel is meeting the production goals specified in section 5 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. The channel shall be designed to produce, at a minimum, fry comparable in quality to those produced in the Cedar river and equal in number to what could be produced naturally by the estimated two hundred sixty-two thousand adults that could have spawned upstream of the Landsburg diversion. Construction of the spawning channel shall commence no later than September 1, 1990. Initial construction size shall be adequate to produce fifty percent or more of the production goal specified in this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. The legislature recognizes that, if funding for planning, design, evaluation, construction, and operating expenses is provided by a public utility that diverts water for beneficial public use, and if the performance of the spawning channel meets the production goals described in section 5 of this act, the spawning channel project will serve, at a minimum, as compensation for lost sockeye salmon spawning habitat upstream of the Landsburg diversion. The amount of funding to be supplied by said utility will fully fund the total cost of planning, design, evaluation, and construction of the spawning channel.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. In order to provide operation and maintenance funds for the facility authorized by this act, the utility shall place two million five hundred thousand dollars in the state general fund Cedar river channel construction and operation account herein created. The interest from the fund shall be used for operation and maintenance of the spawning channel and any unused interest shall be added to the fund to increase the principal to cover possible future operation cost increases. The state treasurer may invest funds from the account as provided by law.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. The state department of fisheries, the state department of ecology, all other state agencies, and local governments shall expedite all required permits for construction and operation of the spawning channel.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. The legislature hereby declares that the construction of the Cedar river sockeye spawning channel is in the best interests of the state of Washington.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. Should the requirements of this act not be met, the department of fisheries shall seek immediate legal clarification of the steps which must be taken to fully mitigate water diversion projects on the Cedar river.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. Sections 3 through 9 of this act are each added to chapter 75.52 RCW."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hansen: "Senator Metcalf, I'm not very well acquainted--I live more than an hour away from the channel and also the means they have to get in there. How many 'Herschels' are we going to feed in order to be able to get them up to that spawning channel?"

Senator Metcalf: "How many what?"

Senator Hansen: "How many 'Herschels'?"

Senator Metcalf: "Oh, we do have a problem with the seals and sea lions, however they prey mainly on the steelheads. They do not prey much on the sockeye run, whether it's the difference in timing or whatever, but they're not a real threat to the sockeye run."

MOTION

Senator McDonald moved that the following Committee on Ways and Means amendment be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that chapter 74.50 RCW, the alcoholism and drug addiction treatment and support act, is a successful method of providing treatment to indigent alcoholics and drug addicts. The legislature further finds that the program is facing fiscal restraints in the current biennium that may prevent the program from accomplishing its mission and may do irreparable harm to the continuation of the program.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 74.50 RCW to read as follows:

Within available funds, the department may provide to eligible persons services for assessment, inpatient and outpatient treatment, and shelter. In order to control expenditures or to comply with conditions or limitations placed on appropriations, the department may establish caseload ceilings and client eligibility standards for any of these services. The eligibility standards may provide for limiting eligibility for any service to that class or classes of applicants that the department determines constitute the highest priority for services under this chapter. The department's determination of priority shall be based on the department's estimate of the potential benefit to applicants and the likelihood that the service will reduce future demands for state assistance. The department may provide such a priority classification system for any or all services provided under this chapter. Any caseload ceiling or priority classification system adopted by the department shall be consistent with any appropriation condition or limitation prescribing or dealing with such a ceiling or system. If funds provided for any of these services have been fully expended, the department shall immediately discontinue that service.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 74.08 RCW to read as follows:

Nothing in this chapter except RCW 74.08.070 and 74.08.080 applies to chapter 74.50 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. Section 4, chapter 406, Laws of 1987, section 2, chapter 163, Laws of 1988 and RCW 74.50.030 are each repealed.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. The sum of ten million two hundred thousand dollars, or as much thereof as may be necessary, is appropriated for the fiscal biennium ending June 30, 1989, from the general fund to the department of social and health services solely for alcoholism and drug addiction services as specifically described in this section. Four million eight hundred thousand dollars of this appropriation shall be from federal sources. The appropriation in this section is subject to the following conditions and limitations:

(1) This appropriation shall not be construed as a commitment to a funding level for the program for the 1989-91 fiscal biennium.

(2) The department shall manage treatment services so that caseloads are gradually modified to produce a caseload of approximately 1,075 outpatient clients on June 30, 1989. Living allowance stipends for outpatient treatment clients may be paid within this appropriation.

(3) The highest priority classes of clients for treatment services, in order of priority, are: (a) Pregnant women; (b) persons referred through child protective services; (c) adults living in households with children; and (d) persons who receive substantial services from the state, as determined by the department.

(4) The department shall manage shelter services so that caseloads are gradually modified to achieve an average of approximately 1,213 clients per month receiving shelter services during the period from January 1, 1989, through June 30, 1989.

(5) For the period February 1, 1989, through June 30, 1989, the average monthly rate of expenditure for assessment services shall be not more than seventy-five percent of the expenditure rate for assessment services during January 1989.

(6) If any condition or limitation in this section is held null or invalid, the general fund—state appropriation in this section shall lapse and any unexpended funds shall revert to an unappropriated status.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately."

Then, as we go to page two, I don't see what happens to the guy's pay if he is not found guilty. Am I to assume, that he would automatically receive back pay if he's not guilty?"

Senator McCaslin: "If the charges are not sustained, then the officer would be reinstated with back pay. I think that would be settled between the patrol and the officer and the association. Thank you, Senator Smitherman."

SENATE BILL NO. 5014, by Senators Pullen, Madsen, Hayner and Rasmussen

Amending provisions regarding police dogs.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Pullen, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5014 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5014 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Pullen, the following amendments by Senators Pullen and Talmadge were considered simultaneously and were adopted:

On page 1, beginning on line 13, after "duty" strike all material through "works" on line 15 and insert "~~(in accordance with standards established by the law enforcement agency for which he works)~~ in good faith

On page 1, line 16, strike "activities" and insert "~~((activities))~~ use of the police dog"

On motion of Senator Pullen, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5014 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Moore: "Senator Pullen, I don't want to turn this into a discussion such as we had eleven years ago on the dog bite bill, but I would like to ask this question. 'Police dog' in the bill is not described as a breed, so we're speaking now that any dog could be a police dog? Is that correct?"

Senator Pullen: "That is correct."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Pullen, a gentleman I knew was standing out at a bus stop, and had his bowling bag with him. A police dog was loose, and this was in Tacoma, searching for a burglar suspect. He ran up to this person at the bus stop and attacked him. Now, if this person hit the dog with the bowling ball to protect himself, would that be malicious?"

Senator Pullen: "I would say that person would not be charged under the circumstances you described, for a couple of reasons. One, his actions would be covered under existing defenses in Title 9A. In addition, his particular action would not be considered malicious. I would draw your attention to line 19. The old law used to say, 'wilfully,' and in committee we specifically struck 'wilfully' and inserted 'maliciously' to take care of situations where a police dog could be legitimately, wilfully killed—such as a veterinarian would have to put down a police dog that has been mortally injured—for example. That would be a wilful killing of a police dog, but it would not be a malicious one. In the circumstance you describe, I would say that it would not be a chargeable offense."

Senator Rasmussen: "That would be self-defense, then?"

Senator Pullen: "It could come under, I would think, self-defense, which is one of the defenses allowed in Title 9A. It could also come under the fact that it would hardly have been a malicious effort to kill the dog--wilfully, yes--malicious, no."

Senator Rasmussen: "And the other thing, to follow up on this case, the party was not able to collect damages, because police dogs were protected. He was on a search. Although the person was cut up by the dog, he could not collect damages. Would this allow a person that was attacked by a police dog to collect damages?"

Senator Pullen: "The bill exempts dog handlers from immunity, however if there were negligence on the part of the dog handler's employer, damages could be collected."

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5014.

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5014 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 43; absent, 1; excused, 5.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Patterson, the reason for the bill is that after hearings, the special committee that was appointed, found out that some widows of the Pearl Harbor survivors or prisoners-of-war, that the license department tried to take the plates away from them. In one case I heard of--when your committee was in Tacoma--this widow of a prisoner-of-war for forty years--they had been married--the license department said, 'you have to give up that plate,' because her husband had died. This will correct that?"

Senator Patterson: "That is correct, Senator Rasmussen."

Senator Rasmussen: "And the amendment that was put on that says, 'the surviving spouse must have been married to a Pearl Harbor survivor with Pearl Harbor plates at the time of death, to qualify under sub section (3),' that will not cause any problems for the veterans?"

Senator Patterson: "Not at all, this was a clarifying amendment that Senator Owen, who is a prime sponsor of this legislation, originally, suggested that we would clarify it, by making sure that the surviving spouse was married to the prisoner-of-war at the time of imprisonment."

Senator Rasmussen: "I don't think imprisonment."

Senator Patterson: "Pearl Harbor, excuse me."

Senator Rasmussen: "That was the real reason for the bill. Many of these prisoners-of-war were not married. They were young eager bucks at the time and they got married after they got out of prison. So, that will not interfere with that?"

Senator Patterson: "Not to my knowledge."

The Vice President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5284.

On page 1, line 21, after "counsel," insert "The legislature shall make ample provision for the funding of crime victims compensation programs."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator McDonald: "Mr. President, I guess I would have to raise the question of scope and object. I know this is unusual, because it is a constitutional amendment and the scope of the Constitution is all encompassing, but the object of this amendment is fairly clear. It's talking about notification of the prosecuting attorney; it's talking about the defendants and what they should expect as far as judicial proceedings for the purpose of this section. It has a whole series of things that have nothing to do with the--as far as the compensation. In this amendment, Senator Talmadge raises that question and I think it expands--not the scope of the Constitution--but clearly the object of this constitutional amendment and I hope that you would rule that way."

The motion by Senator Vognild carried and the amendment was adopted.

MOTION

Senator Bauer moved that Substitute Senate Bill No. 5288 be referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Warnke: "Senator McDonald, there is a provision in the substitute bill which says, and I think it's Section 2 on the first page, that speaks to any satellite or salmon hatchery which is in a closed--or less than fifty percent of full capacity operation. What is the cost impact for those salmon hatcheries which are under fifty percent? The department takes them above fifty percent to prevent the privatization or closing of the hatchery. Just what would that cost impact be? The last bill was eight hundred seventy-two thousand dollars and I wonder what this substitute bill is?"

Senator McDonald: "Senator Warnke, I would refer you back, once again, to Section 6 that says that they will submit to us the requests for the amount that we will be dealing with. Therefore, if we decide not to do those things, then it will not be a cost and, consequently, shouldn't go to Ways and Means."

Senator Warnke: "I'm still a little confused. Under Section 6, it says, 'Rearing of salmon to it's full potential.' Section 2 speaks to fifty percent, so if I'm in the department and I want to give you a request of one-hundred percent, but at the same time, I just simply spend the money or need the money to go above fifty percent to prevent the privatization, what is the cost impact there?"

Senator McDonald: "I guess I'm not saying this right. Once again Senator Warnke, I believe that Section 6 says it in such a way that if it's going to cost us, they are going to have to come back and get authorization for money in order to do this. Therefore, it doesn't have a fiscal impact and unless we make the authorization—which is the reason for it going to the Ways and Means Committee in the first place."

Senator Warnke: "I think I understand it now. The department comes to you with a request for full potential and if the Legislature doesn't fund it, then they go ahead and have to give it to someone else to run. I guess that's the way this thing works. Do you have a fiscal note on it at all?"

No answer.

Further debate ensued.

Senators Matson, Nelson and Saling demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the motion by Senator Bauer to refer Substitute Senate Bill No. 5288 to the Committee on Ways and Means.

The motion by Senator Bauer failed.

MOTION

Senator Talmadge moved that the remarks by Senators Vognild and Newhouse regarding the motion to refer Substitute Senate Bill No. 5288 to the Committee on Ways and Means be included in the Journal.

Senator Newhouse objected.

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the motion by Senator Talmadge to include the remarks by Senators Vognild and Newhouse in the Journal.

The motion by Senator Talmadge failed.

MOTIONS

Senator Metcalf moved that the following amendment be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 75.08 RCW to read as follows:

The director shall contract with fishermen's cooperatives or private aquaculturists for the purchase of quality salmon smolts for release into public waters. The intent of private contracting is to explore the opportunities of cooperatively producing more salmon for the public fisheries without incurring additional capital expense for the department. In addition, fishermen's cooperatives and private aquaculturists may be able to produce a higher quality product for less expense than the current department operations.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 75.08 RCW to read as follows:

The director shall make available to private contractors, including fishermen's cooperatives, any state-funded salmon hatcheries or satellite facilities which are in a closed or less than fifty percent of full capacity operation. The underutilized facilities shall be made available on an annual basis for contracting to fulfill the purposes of section 1 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 75.08 RCW to read as follows:

Private contracting of salmon smolt production shall be by competitive bidding. The director shall establish the criteria for the contract, which shall include but not be limited to: Species, size of smolt, stock composition, quantity, quality, rearing location, release location, and other pertinent factors.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 75.08 RCW to read as follows:

Nothing in this act shall authorize the practice of private ocean ranching. Privately contracted smolts become the property of the state at the time of release.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 75.08 RCW to read as follows:

The department shall make available to private contractors salmon eggs in excess of department hatchery needs for the purpose of contract rearing to release the smolts into public waters. The priority of providing eggs to contract rearing shall be higher than providing eggs to aquaculture purposes which are not destined for release into Washington public waters.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. A new section is added to chapter 75.08 RCW to read as follows:

The department shall provide the legislature with budget requests which are necessary to provide sufficient funding to conduct contract rearing of salmon to its full potential.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. A new section is added to chapter 75.08 RCW to read as follows:

Each contract proposal for private rearing of salmon smolts shall be reviewed by the salmon advisory council and the council shall make a recommendation to the director on each contract proposal.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected."

On motion of Senator Vognild, the following amendment to the amendment was adopted:

On page 2, line 11, after "bidding," insert "In awarding leases to private contractors, the director shall give preference to nonprofit corporations."

Debate on the amendment by Senator Metcalf, as amended, ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Sutherland: "Senator Metcalf, the only question I have is, if the state of Washington enters into some private contracts for operation of state or federally or otherwise controlled hatcheries, does the state expose itself to any tort liability potential, having private citizens working around facilities that you know that have deep holes in them and all kinds of equipment and machinery?"

Senator Metcalf: "It is my understanding that that would come under the contract. The contractor, who contracts--it's his responsibility to provide that kind of liability for his employees, as would be required on any other kind of contract."

Senator Sutherland: "So, it's your understanding that this would not expose the state to any additional tort liability exposure?"

Senator Metcalf: "That is my understanding."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Patterson: "Senator Metcalf, I'm noticing in your amendment that strikes the substitute bill that there is no specific reference to operation of federally-funded hatcheries. Was that an intention of yours or is it implied in this?"

Senator Metcalf: "It is my opinion that the state can't do this without another step. In other words, for federal hatcheries we have to make a special arrangement with the federal government, if we were going to operate them. I would hope that an agreement with the federal government--and I think we should reactivate some of the federal hatcheries that have been shut down--I think that that would take a step to work out and get the permission from the federal government to have state operation of those hatcheries and then they could, in my estimation, follow this procedure. I think that that's a step down the road. I am very much interested in those federal hatcheries that have been shut down and I think that the state can and should work out with the federal government the opportunity to run those hatcheries."

Senator Patterson: "Well, I guess then our discussion might indicate to the department that they should, as soon as possible, start talking to the federal government about the possibility of the state becoming involved, either through a cooperative program or with state funding, of operating some of the abandoned operations that the federal government had originally funded. Some of them are excellent facilities and I think it's extremely foolish of us not to pursue that if the feds not going to continue the operations."

Senator Metcalf: "I totally agree with you, Senator Patterson, and thank you for bringing it up. It is really important that we do urge the department to take this action, because some of those hatcheries that have been closed are immensely valuable to our salmon production."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Metcalf, not being on that committee, it was my understanding that on the federal hatcheries, there was still a battle over the mitigation funds that are supposed to come in for the raising of salmon. Is that still pending?"

Senator Metcalf: "It is my opinion and this is one thing that I wanted the state to push fully, because I believe it is a federal obligation. Those federal hatcheries were set up as mitigation for dams that were there. It is my belief that this is a federal responsibility and they owe the mitigation funds. I have to say that I'm not sure, I guess, if the federal government doesn't appropriate the money to run the hatcheries--they can walk away from that responsibility. I would think that they would have a legal liability for those mitigation funds, but I don't know for certain."

Senator Rasmussen: "A further question, I think we have a resolution submitted by the Pacific Northwest Power Council. Senator Bottiger asked us to get that resolution passed and send it back to the Congress. Is that in your committee?"

Senator Metcalf: "I think it's in the Rules Committee now. I believe it is. Yes, it has been before the committee."

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the striking amendment by Senator Metcalf, as amended, to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5288.

The motion by Senator Metcalf carried and the amendment, as amended, was adopted.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Metcalf, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 1 of the title, after "salmon," strike the remainder of the title and insert "and adding new sections to chapter 75.08 RCW."

On motion of Senator Metcalf, the rules were suspended. Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5288 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5288.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5288 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 40; nays, 8; excused, 1.

Voting yea: Senators Amondson, Anderson, Bailey, Barr, Bender, Benitz, Bluechel, Cantu, Conner, Craswell, Gaspard, Hansen, Hayner, Johnson, Kreidler, Lee, Madsen, Matson, McCaslin, McDonald, McMullen, Metcalf, Murray, Nelson, Newhouse, Owen, Patterson, Pullen, Rasmussen, Saling, Sellar, Smith, Smitherman, Sutherland, Thorsness, Vognild, von Reichbauer, West, Williams, Wojahn - 40.

Voting nay: Senators Bauer, Fleming, Moore, Niemi, Rinehart, Stratton, Talmadge, Warnke - 8.

Excused: Senator DeJarnatt - 1.

Speaker O'Brien: "We are assembled today to pay tribute to the lives and services of distinguished former members of the Senate and House of Representatives of the state of Washington who have passed from among us. This is the first occasion that we are paying tribute to former officers of the Senate and House of Representatives who rendered such dedicated service during their careers.

"On behalf of the people of our state, the Fifty-First Legislative Session of the state of Washington conveys its respect to these deceased legislators who once sat in the hallowed Chambers of the House and Senate, like we are doing today, answered roll calls on sometimes critical and perplexing bills, attended committee meetings, and, above all else, served to the best of their abilities in order to make our state a better and more enjoyable place to live. While they have passed to the great beyond, their achievements, records and valued services have been recorded in the Journals of the Senate and House, and are now and forever more a permanent part of the history of the state of Washington.

"We express our sympathies to the bereaved families and their friends, and also share with them on this memorable occasion the fond and happy memories of these legislators, who served beyond their call of duty and responsibilities, and truly loved the state of Washington. They have left a legacy of dedicated services that will remain forever etched in our hearts, our memories and our legislative records. I will now call the roll of the deceased former members and officers of the Senate and House of Representatives."

SENATE BILL NO. 5248, by Senators Bailey, Rinehart, Anderson, Metcalf, Lee, Murray, Craswell, Fleming, Gaspard, Bauer, Wojahn, Nelson, Saling, Sutherland, Rasmussen, Vognil and McMullen

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Bailey, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5248 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5248 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Bailey, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5248 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Sutherland: "Senator Bailey, on page two of the bill, it talks about the fine won't be doubled if the transaction did not take place for profit. Can you help me understand? I mean, most of the drug dealers that we hear about are out there in a profit-making mode and yet the bill talks about there won't be imposed a double penalty if the transaction did not take place for profit. So, can you help me understand? It's on page two, lines 2 and 3. The bill reads, 'or deliver any controlled substance in RCW 69.50.401 sub A for profit.' I'm just puzzled; I'm picturing to myself, a law enforcement officer arresting someone and then asking him the question, 'Now, are you selling this stuff and making a profit or is your overhead such, that you're not making profit?' I'm just confused. Maybe you can help me."

Senator Bailey: "I don't know if I can help you on that. I think if a profit is made, the penalty is imposed. Now, it might be that you may be talking about the section where a person under 18--I don't have my book open now."

Senator Sutherland: "OK, the section does discuss, 'that the double penalty won't imply if no person under 18 was present in the residence or a transaction occurred in a private residence or that'--and a couple of other things. It, also specifically says, 'or delivered any controlled substance for profit.' That seems to be almost out of context with the bill."

Senator Bailey: "Can I get back to you on that?"

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5248.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5248 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 46; excused, 3.

SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5248, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Bender, Senator Owen was excused.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5367, by Senators Nelson and Bender (by request of Legislative Transportation Committee)

Increasing public transportation reporting requirements.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Nelson, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5367 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5367 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Nelson, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5367 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Nelson, I have the December report of Revenue News that would indicate that King County got one hundred-seven million out of their six-tenths of one percent of the sales tax, Pierce County got twelve million, in round numbers, Snohomish County got six million and Spokane got eight million. This is all from the sales tax, but the total comes to one hundred fifty-eight million and our book says one hundred-eighty million. Is there additional money that goes into the transit systems?"

Senator Nelson: "Senator Rasmussen, there's a tremendous amount of money that goes into transit systems. There's a good deal of federal money, of course, that comes for the use of capitalization and some special operating areas, such as helping handicapped access to transit systems, but I should point out that King County has that unusual precedent of being the only county that has six-tenths of one percent sales tax. All of the remaining transit districts in the state of Washington are at three-tenths of one percent. Notwithstanding that of course, is that their matching ability to the motor vehicle excise tax is limited to the amount of motor vehicle excise tax collected in the respective county.

"So, there is a ceiling and today, King County Metro virtually matches its proportionate share to the motor vehicle excise tax with the three-tenths of one percent sales tax. The additional three-tenths of one percent sales tax in King County is just plain gravy to subsidize the operating expenses. This body should know that the transit authorities around the state now have an average fare box revenue of approximately nineteen percent of the total operating costs every year. The citizens of the state provide, essentially, eighty-one percent cross-subsidy to the transit districts. You will see other measures addressing this particular issue and I'm glad you brought it to our attention, Senator Rasmussen."

Senator Rasmussen: "Thank you, will this report include how Metro can buy overweight buses and expect them to run on the highways? One further question regarding that, throughout the years, I continually see large bonuses granted to the Metro staff. Will this report that we're expecting from them show what the bonuses were paid for--for excellent operations that they have achieved in Metro? I understand that there is some legislation coming through and your answers will probably reflect that we should make some changes in Metro, so that somebody, someplace watches the fare box."

Senator Nelson: "Senator Rasmussen, yes, there are additional bills that have been introduced that are going to be heard, dealing with the governing of such entities as Metro and other transit districts, but to go to the basis of your first question. Yes, this legislature and the Department of Transportation will now have an oversight capability of knowing such things as Metro and King County buying overweight buses that, by the way, don't pay the weight fees that exist today nor would they be subject to any increase in the weight fees that have been proposed by the Governor. In addition, they essentially are not, or we aren't as a body, getting any report on any of the other operating efficiencies or detractions and this will be our first time to do that. The Legislative Transportation Committee will obtain that information via this report that will be established and presented to the Department of Transportation."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5367.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5367 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 44; absent, 1; excused, 4.

On motion of Senator Lee, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 2 of the title, after "43.160.060" insert "and 43.160.020"

MOTION

On motion of Senator Lee, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5328 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talmadge: "Senator Lee, I understand how this bill could be of benefit, for example, in the case of Early Winters or similar destination tourism resorts. As you know, there is a very controversial project that's being proposed, I believe, up in east King County by the Weyerhaeuser Corporation, for the development of a large facility in and near Snoqualmie Falls--in that area of east King County. Am I correct in reading this bill that it would permit monies to go to King County for assistance to Weyerhaeuser's project in that part of the county?"

Senator Lee: "Senator Talmadge, I do not believe it would do so, because of the definition which we adopted in the amendment. One of the requirements, and they are all required, not just one of them, is that it's generally located away from densely populated areas. In my opinion, that particular location is not located away from densely populated areas and would not qualify."

Senator Talmadge: "I guess Senator Lee, the follow-up question to that is, when we say a project is generally located away from densely populated areas, how far away is away?"

Senator Lee: "Senator Talmadge, I think that is exactly the kind of question for which we have a CER Board on which legislators sit, as well as people from all across the state. We had some concerns that we wanted to be sure that this was targeted to those areas that really had the need--the reason we put together the definition. It's the definition that's now used, in fact, in the Department of Community Development when they're considering some of the kinds of assistance to distressed and rural areas."

Senator Talmadge: "Just to confirm again, your understanding is the facility like the one in east King County for Weyerhaeuser, would not qualify as being sufficiently away from densely populated areas to meet the test that's set forth in this bill?"

Senator Lee: "That is my opinion--that anything within a two hour drive would probably not qualify."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Warnke, Senator Rinehart was excused.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5328.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5328 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 42; nays, 1; absent, 1; excused, 5.

(5)))"

On page 1, line 23, strike "(6)" and insert "(5)"

On page 1, line 26, strike "~~((6))~~ (7)" and insert "(6)"

POINT OF ORDER

Senator West: "Mr. President, I would like to raise the issue of scope and object. The underlying bill deals with a specific class of people in the state. It makes no mention of anybody beyond that class of people. That class of people would be those people under the age of fifteen. The effect of the amendment would be to broaden the bill by expanding that class of people and so it might fit within the scope, but certainly is not within the object of the bill."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Sutherland, is this a request of the department?"

Senator Sutherland: "No, Senator Rasmussen, this is not a request of the department."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Moore: "Senator Hansen, will the member from the east side be required to be as qualified as the ones from the west side?"

Senator Hansen: "Well I don't—I think that appointment comes from the Governor's office and some of the appointments I've seen in the past and in the present, I've questioned them, too. I think it's the Governor's option to who he wants to pick and what part he wants to pick it from. I don't have anyone in mind. I just think it's legal justification that we have somebody from our side of the state, qualified or unqualified."

Further debate ensued.

There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5041, deferred on third reading before the Senate went at ease.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Vognild: "Thank you, Mr. President, a point of inquiry. The content of this bill is, I think good, and probably something we should do, but I feel duty bound to raise a question on the bill. As I look at the book here, I see a fiscal note of one hundred seventy-six thousand five hundred and fifty-eight dollars. As I look at the analysis calendar here, I see that the bill went through the Senate Committee on Health Care and Corrections. I do not see that the bill was ever reviewed by the Ways and Means Committee and I raise that question."

Senator Hayner: "You're right, it did not go to Ways and Means and it does have a cost to it. If you feel that this is something that should go--I think it's going to save some money actually--because we will be able to stop some of the crime that is going on as a result of this. So, you know it does have a initial cost, but I think the long-range effect of it is actually to cut down on some of these things."

Senator Vognild: "Thank you, Mr. President, if the decision of the body is such that the fiscal note, in this case, will not be reviewed because we disagree with it, if that's the criteria we use, then I absolutely agree with that criteria and I probably will raise it at a later date."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Newhouse, further consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5041 was deferred.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5440, by Senators von Reichbauer, Bender, Patterson, DeJarnatt, Conner and Hansen (by request of Legislative Transportation Committee)

Regulating tow trucks.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Vognild moved that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 11, line 20, after "agency" insert ", and shall inform the owners of the identity of the person or agency authorizing the impound"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Nelson: "Senator Vognild, just to clarify for the record, would your amendment be necessary or would this procedure be necessary if the lot where an illegally parked vehicle already had displayed a sign that said, 'Your vehicle will be impounded if you do not have permission to be here,' and then it normally has the name of the parking lot owner and the name of the tow truck company that would tow your vehicle away. Would that suffice for the purposes of the intent of this amendment?"

Senator Vognild: "Yes, Senator Nelson, it would. That, in itself, would be an identity of where the authorization came from.

Senator Nelson: "Thank you."

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senator Vognild on page 11, line 20, to Senate Bill No. 5440.

The motion by Senator Vognild carried and the amendment was adopted.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Nelson, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5440 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5440 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 47; absent, 1; excused, 1.

Absent: Senator Matson - 1.

Excused: Senator DeJarnatt - 1.

ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 5440, having received the constitutional majority was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Talmadge: "Thank you, Mr. President, I'm speaking on a point of personal privilege. Members of the Senate, I am the prime sponsor of Senate Bill No. 5844, which deals with the issue of assault weapons. The chair of the Senate Law and Justice Committee indicated that at high noon on Monday I was obligated to come forward with a petition to discharge that bill, in effect, from the committee. In order to have the bill to be considered, I had to obtain the signatures of six members of the committee. It is clear that I'm not going to have the opportunity to get six signatures to have the issue considered. I have the signatures of three members of the committee. I have the signatures of nine other members of the Senate and I invite any other members of the Senate who are concerned about the issue of assault weapons to join in signing this petition to request that the Senate Law and Justice Committee consider the issue.

"If indeed the people are concerned about the issue, precisely of military style assault weapons, being used illicitly in the state of Washington, my substitute amendment was designed to address that question. It was designed to address the concerns that were raised in the committee, and if people are, in fact, interested in signing this petition, I have it here and available for your consideration. If there is a possibility, I think the Senate should clearly consider this issue at some future date, if not now. The issue of military style assault weapons like Uzi, Avtomat Kalashnikov, and certainly the AK-47, about which we've also already heard, are serious issues that this body should take up."

SECOND READING

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Nelson, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 5464 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 5464 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 48; excused, 1.

On motion of Senator West, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 4, line 2, after "outpatient" strike ";."

On motion of Senator Nelson, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5386 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bluechel: "Senator Vognild, when you say that this exempts hospitals that do not have tertiary services or nursing homes in conjunction with them, does this exempt the hospital portion if they have a nursing home or tertiary service or because they have those, does everything concerned with the hospital have to have a certificate of need such as an increase in bed space in the hospital?"

Senator Vognild: "No, Senator, it is my belief, and certainly would be my intent, that the hospital would be under an exemption of certificate of need, the same as any other hospital for services which are exempt. They would simply be required as if they are offering the service of nursing service or home health care service, that service and that service alone would fall under the certificate of need requirement."

Senator Bluechel: "Thank you very much, Senator Vognild, because that does solve the problem. This really takes hospitals out from the certificate of need. It's only the ancillary services they provide that may or may not be under the certificate of need. On that basis, I would very much encourage the body to support the bill."

Further debate ensued.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Bender, Senator Bauer was excused.

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Patterson: "Senator West, the digest on this bill indicates that if you operate a nursing home, that you will be subjected to the certificate of need. Correct?"

Senator West: "That's correct."

Senator Patterson: "In the case of rural hospitals that happen to operate a nursing home that we exempt, because they are rural, what's their situation?"

Senator West: "In the case of nursing home beds, they would be regulated under the certificate of need. In the case of hospital beds, they would be free."

Senator Patterson: "So, it applies only to the operation relating to nursing homes?"

Senator West: "That's right. The theory of the committee was that for those services that are still under the certificate of need in the community--for instance, nursing homes remain under the certificate of need in the community--it would be unfair to free up the hospitals. It would give the hospital an unfair advantage over those free-standing facilities in the community and that applies to home health care. That applies to nursing homes. That applies to hospice care. That applies to kidney dialysis type of operations across the board."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5386.

Regulating telemarketing.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Newhouse, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5088 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5088 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

Senator Williams moved that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 8, line 18, after "final" insert "unless the written confirmation is sufficient to indicate that a contract for sale has been made between the parties, is signed by both the consumer and the seller, and contains the date on which the consumer actually signs the writing"

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Benitz: "Senator Williams, have you discussed this with the legitimate telemarketing people?"

Senator Williams: "No. I've only discussed it with the representative from the Attorney General's office and to my knowledge, they seem relatively satisfied with it. I'm more concerned with talking with the consumers than I am with the telemarketing people right now. My feeling is we really have not had any appropriate consumer groups that have been involved in this bill and that's my whole concern with this amendment--to protect the consumer."

Senator Benitz: "Thank you, Senator Williams."

Further debate ensued.

On motion of Senator Lee, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5004 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Vognild: "Senator McDonald, my question to you was that the original bill contained an appropriation of two hundred thousand dollars, which I think would have been money that would have made the office work and would have kind of countered the concerns that Senator Talmadge raised, but I see that this appropriation is removed. My question to you as chairman of the Ways and Means Committee is, is it your intent to put this money in the budget so that this office can function?"

Senator McDonald: "Senator Vognild, I think that a lot of those decisions are going to have to be made at the time when we know how much revenue that we have. I can't tell you exactly what's going to be in the budget or what's going to be out of the budget, because we haven't written the budget."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Moore: "Senator West, in Section 1, sub (2), it says, 'can buying foreign currency forward be accomplished and will it save general fund appropriations.' What's the purpose of that and how do you visualize it?"

Senator West: "That is simply asking the department to gather the information regarding buying foreign currency in bulk. As you well know, and as others know, the market in foreign currency changes daily, and if we can accomplish some savings by buying at certain points in the market, setting the money aside and spending it in a more productive way, we should know about that. It's encouraging the department to look at that. What the problem is in Tokyo and other places is, what we might get for ten dollars a square foot here, they'll pay two hundred dollars a square foot in rent over there. The space of your desk would cost about a thousand dollars to rent for a month. If we can accomplish some savings by exchanging American currency for foreign currency in a foreign office, we should do it."

Senator Moore: "One further question, what does the word, 'forward' mean?"

Senator West: "It's the opposite of backward."

Senator Moore: "Well fine, thank you very much, Senator West. Speaking on this sub (2), if I understand what Senator West is saying, it would mean that somebody--some responsible person with the state--would be taking positions in foreign currency. If that is true, it seems to me that we are speculating with appropriated money and if we do this, we might as well extend it to wheat futures and corn futures and all the other things that we have here. So I really question the--I don't know what the right word is--maybe the ethics of this, but it doesn't seem right to me."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5004.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5004 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 40; nays, 5; excused, 4.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bluechel: "Senator Niemi, would you describe the scope of the problem at the present time and how many actual cases have been brought under the current law?"

Senator Niemi: "Yes, as Senator Pullen said, the case was brought and decided in 1983. There is nothing on this in statute, by the way, to deal with this. From the cases that were brought in 1983, there have been practically no lawsuits brought under this cause of action--very, very few. If we passed this bill, it will have no perceptible impact on reducing medical malpractice premiums or anything like that, so if you are concerned about malpractice premiums, that's not an issue here. You're just simply prohibiting a child from bringing a lawsuit for support because of wrongful decisions."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5125.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5533, by Senators Rasmussen, Hansen, Vognild, Patterson, Thorsness, Conner, Metcalf, Benitz, Saling and Nelson

Authorizing the removal or destruction of seals and sea lions preying upon salmon or steelhead.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Metcalf, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5533 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5533 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Metcalf, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5533 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Sutherland: "Senator Metcalf, I have been reading through the papers that you handed out, dealing with the transfer of management authority--the federal guidelines. The question I have in reading through them and Substitute Senate Bill No. 5533, on page 2, lines 1 and 17, which just says that the department shall remove or destroy any non-endangered marine mammals which are reducing the state's salmon or steelhead population--and it says that twice--once for fisheries and once for wildlife. Would the legislation that's being presented to us this morning in 5533 require that the state of Washington, either the Department of Fisheries or the Department of Wildlife request of the federal government authority for the management and conservation of marine mammals in the state of Washington? Would this require them to do that?"

Senator Metcalf: "Well, this bill would require them to follow the law--whatever steps are necessary. I read the law which says that, 'You can remove for the protection of the public health and welfare,' and this just says, 'follow the law.' I don't think in this Legislature, we should go through all the steps that they should take. That's their job. I guess I would be critical in the past that they haven't really made the effort. They didn't, to my knowledge, they didn't even go back to Washington, D.C., and testify when the Marine Mammal Act was under amendment last fall. We didn't even go back and testify to try and get them to change the law to make it easier or whatever, but I think they should follow the law."

Senator Sutherland: "Thank you, Senator Metcalf. Then, this piece of legislation would require the Washington State Department of Fisheries and the Washington State Department of Wildlife to seek federal authorization to manage marine mammals in the state of Washington. It would do so by requiring them to seek lethal destruction of those animals, when necessary, for public nuisances or danger to other species.

"I might mention to you and Senator Metcalf, if my recollection is correct, they did testify in Congress on it. The fiscal impact, because all of the management of the marine mammals in the state of Washington, currently the fiscal impact of that is borne by the federal government. That fiscal responsibility would also be shifted to the state of Washington, so you and I now would be funding the entire cost of marine mammal management in all the salt waters and fresh waters in the state of Washington--something that would be required under this act. In addition to that if I may enlist your attention to the handout that Senator Metcalf provided for all of us, and I appreciate you doing it, Senator Metcalf, the first thing on the table under transfer of management authority reads and with the permission of the body, I would like to read just a little of it. 'No state may enforce or attempt to enforce any state law or regulation relating to the taking of any species unless the Secretary has transferred authority. During the period of time in which that authority if being transferred,' and that is on page 183, sub-section 2, sub-section A. 'The state program shall not apply with respect to the taking of any specie within the state, for any purpose.'

"So, during the entire time the state of Washington is seeking the transfer of authority, they cannot, for any purpose, lethally destroy any marine mammals in the state of Washington. Once the authority has been granted to the state of Washington and the fiscal responsibility has been transferred to the state of Washington, they then go on and say that, 'No species can be taken unless,' and I'm reading page 812 now, sub-section 1, sub-section B, and further on sub-section I, 'That species have to be maintained at an optimal sustainable population.'

"In other words, once the state of Washington is granted the authority and given the fiscal responsibility, we then have to do a survey of marine mammals in the state of Washington, determine that we cannot sustain one more marine mammal in the state of Washington, and once we have attained the optimal number of marine mammals, which this piece of legislation would require us to do, then we could lethally remove them. So, this piece of legislation by saying, 'Please Department of Fisheries, please Department of Wildlife, go out and shoot some seals and shoot some marine mammals,' in essence, would require us to be fiscally responsible for managing all of them and also would require us to make sure that we have all the marine mammals possible that our salmon runs and our steelhead runs could sustain in the state of Washington before we could ever entertain any lethal opportunities. I'd encourage you to turn this piece of legislation down."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Amondson: "Senator Sutherland, I guess I'm a little confused with respect to how you are so supportive of sport fishing interests and this bill goes out to, in essence, the predator of the sport fish and why you would protect the predator of a sport fish?"

Senator Sutherland: "Senator Amondson, first of all the piece of legislation before you—I think the promotion of the legislation before you is misleading and very deceiving in nature, because your own comments just now said it would protect fish in the state of Washington. Quite honestly, that is what it looks like it would do on the surface, but because as Senator Metcalf said, this piece of legislation would require whatever steps necessary in order to lethally remove those marine mammals and requires transfer of authority. In the transfer of authority, as I said earlier, you have to look at the optimal sustainable number of marine mammals in the state of Washington. I think, quite honestly, it's in the best interest of sport fishing to not have to manage those by the state of Washington, for the optimal number of marine mammals, because if we increase the number of marine mammals in the state of Washington, then those marine mammals will be eating more of those recreational fish. In fact, they'll be eating more commercial fish.

"So, this is a piece of legislation that the recreational sport anglers of the state of Washington and the commercial fishermen of the state of Washington could both agree in turning down, because it would require more marine mammals in the state of Washington. So, Senator Amondson, I think my stand in favor of sport fishing is purely consistent."

Further debate ensued.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Anderson, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 5155 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Nelson: "Senator Wojahn, I'm reading the bill on lines 8 and 9. You could refer to that, and I'm led to believe that with this bill, the deduction that employers are now going to receive from the Business and Occupation tax can be obtained in one of two ways. Either for capital and operation expenses to provide child care in an on-site facility for employees or and I read, 'to directly purchase child care services for employees.' I read that to be that as an employer, I could purchase off-site child care for my employees at any location within the state of Washington and receive a Business and Occupation tax deduction. Is that correct?"

Senator Wojahn: "It is. Child care expenses are to be deducted from a firm's income. B & O taxes are paid on the reduced income. Thus, child care expenses of $1,000 reduces the firm's taxable income by $1,000. Savings in B & O taxes paid for a manufacturing firm, is $4.84. A service firm would save $15.00 in taxes. They also can share that with their employee. In other words, if the management wants to use a portion of the money and let the employee provide a portion, that is also available. But only the amount that is actually deducted can be deducted for the B & O tax and that's based upon a rate that the B & O tax is generated on."

Senator Nelson: "So that I understand your answer, is it not correct that an employer in this state will now be able to purchase child care opportunities for their employees off-site and obtain a full Business and Occupation tax deduction for the amount that they spend for the employees?"

Senator Wojahn: "Yes, they can."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 5155.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McCaslin: "Senator Bailey, what did you make mandatory--on what line and what page?"

Senator Bailey: "Senator McCaslin, it's on page 2, line 5."

Senator McCaslin: "What effect does that have on this bill, Senator Bailey?"

Senator Bailey: "It simply has the effect that the department work together with state, federal and local agencies."

Senator McCaslin: "Well, I certainly don't want to be picky, Senator Bailey, but I just wonder when we change the words, 'may work with state, federal and local agencies,' and what this does to it when it says, 'shall work with state, federal and local agencies,' whether or not this is a forcible mandate, which I'm concerned about as far as the dollar cost."

Senator Bailey: "No, it doesn't change the dollar cost at all. It just mandates that they work together. Sometimes, we have problems with our state agencies working with other agencies and this just requires that."

Senator McCaslin: "Well, you were so smooth in your discussion of that amendment, I was just curious, actually, as to what you were doing, Senator Bailey."

On motion of Senator Pullen, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5213 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Pullen, did we have a list of those people in small business that allowed you to extend your credit that far, because I'd like to get that list. I've never been able to find anybody to do business with that would let me run for even three years. My more immediate concern, in my mail yesterday, I received an application for a credit card and it says, 'sign the checks anyway and send them in before you get your card,' and they enclosed five checks. It's a good outfit to do business with and it only costs thirty dollars a year for the card. Is this the kind of business we are talking about that we want to extend the collection periods from three to six years?"

Senator Pullen: "Well, if you sign some sort of document that indicated you owed a debt, then that would probably fall under the category of extending the statute of limitations from three to six years. I'm not surprised that you haven't had any problems in this area, Senator Rasmussen, because your business skills are very well known and are legendary and I'm sure you would never have a problem with a debt that would go even close to the three year period."

Senator Rasmussen: "Thank you, Senator Pullen, I'm not sure you're right, but my concern is for those people that get all of these proposals to just sign your name. You don't even have to sign your name, just have somebody else sign it for you and send it in and you're on the hook. I see no reason for extending beyond the three years. Was this a request of the Small Business Administration?"

Senator Pullen: "There have been two areas of support for the bill. One is from a number of individuals--small businesses who have had trouble getting collections--and of course, from the collectors who have tried to help get those debts collected."

Senator Rasmussen: "This says, 'for the collectors then.' That's the people we passed a law telling them that they couldn't call after eight thirty, because they were calling at midnight and trying to collect bills. These are the people that we had to pass the other for and these are the ones that want it extended?"

Senator Pullen: "Senator Rasmussen, if in addition to being a truly outstanding Senator, I think you would have made a wonderful prosecuting attorney."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5213.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5213 and the bill failed to pass the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 22; nays, 23; excused, 4.

Voting yea: Senators Amondson, Bailey, Bauer, Benitz, Bluechel, Cantu, Craswell, Johnson, Matson, McCaslin, McDonald, Metcalf, Moore, Nelson, Newhouse, Owen, Patterson, Pullen, Saling, Sellar, Thorsness, von Reichbauer - 22.

Voting nay: Senators Anderson, Barr, Bender, Fleming, Gaspard, Hansen, Hayner, Kreidler, Lee, Murray, Niemi, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Smith, Smitherman, Stratton, Sutherland, Talmadge, Vognild, Warnke, West, Williams, Wojahn - 23.

Excused: Senators Conner, DeJarnatt, Madsen, McMullen - 4.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5362, by Senators West, Talmadge, Niemi, Smith, Johnson, Kreidler, Wojahn and Anderson

Regulating the administration of antipsychotic medications.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Nelson, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5362 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5362 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Nelson, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5362 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT ON INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator West, I note the proposed substitute provides that they can give them medication and also shock treatment. I thought that we'd done away with shock treatments in our hospitals. Is that still going on? Is that that electro-shock?"

Senator West: "It's a term used in the statute. It's a term that is there that is not a procedure that is currently going on, but it extends the current statute to children and brings children under the same scope as adults regarding the Harper decision."

Senator Rasmussen: "Then I would hope that we are not going to authorize shock treatment. I happen to know people who have undergone that and it has been severely damaging, rather than helpful. You don't know if this would authorize them to go ahead with shock treatment?"

Senator West: "Senator Rasmussen, it is not the intent and I do not believe that this bill extends that to the population."

Senator Rasmussen: "Thank you, Senator West."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Talmadge, on these cases, they can treat them under emergency basis without the court order?"

Senator Talmadge: "Yes, that's my understanding, Senator."

Senator Rasmussen: "And they must go and get a further court order?"

Senator Talmadge: "Yes."

Senator Rasmussen: "And do they go before a judge or a commissioner?"

Senator Talmadge: "Usually a commissioner, Senator. There has to be a hearing right attached very soon after the decision to deal with that person's emergency situation and the person can have these drugs administered only in circumstances where they are a danger to themselves or a danger to others, not in circumstances where they're gravely disabled, one of the other categories for involuntary treatment. It is really confined only to a danger to themselves or a danger to others before this can occur and then there's an immediate hearing right that attaches very shortly afterwards."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5362.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5362 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 40; nays, 5; excused, 4.

Voting nay: Senators Craswell, Pullen, Rasmussen, Vognild, Williams - 5.

Excused: Senators Conner, DeJarnatt, Madsen, McMullen - 4.

SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5362, having received the constitutional majority was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

NOTICE FOR RECONSIDERATION

Providing a Hood Canal marine fish preservation area.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Metcalf, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5146 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5146 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Metcalf, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5146 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Smith: "Senator Owen, this is a friendly question, but it's really one that I--you smiled--but it really is a friendly question that I thought about that kind of scares me a little bit. We're going to have no commercial fishing by non-Indians. It looks to me like this would be just a haven for Indian commercials, and I support this bill by the way. What happens then?"

Senator Owen: "I'm glad that you brought that up, because another consideration that I gave, is that, and I'm sure you probably know, the tribes can claim what they call 'foregone opportunity' and pick up additional fish that the non-Indian allocation missed. I put an amendment on the bill that said that if the tribes claim 'foregone opportunity,' the deal is off and they need to sit down at the table and try to negotiate something with the tribes, so that they don't try to pick up the excess fish which would not be fair to the non-Indian fishery. I believe that the tribes will come to the table, because it is in their best interest to allow for additional escapement back to the hatcheries, the rivers and the streams in order to rebuild the fishery there. They will benefit from it in the future."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5146.

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5146 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 42; nays, 2; absent, 1; excused, 4.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator McDonald, on page 4 of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5035, it indicates the Office of the Attorney General shall represent a foster parent who is sued for an incident which occurred in good faith. This is what we were trying to do with that Indian agreement--have the Attorney General represent those people that are sued--even though it's a false suit. Do you suppose your office could get that cleared?"

Senator McDonald: "That's a very good observation, Senator Rasmussen. It does look very similar to the amendment that was proposed by Senators Gaspard and Wojahn on your behalf in the committee. The argument, of course, against it was getting the Attorney General into private affairs, but I think that it is a very interesting parallel."

Senator Rasmussen: "Thank you. I just wanted to call it to your attention. We're hopeful we'll still get that amendment. With twenty-one million involved, we should be able to get him to serve."

Senator McDonald: "Thank you very much, Senator."

Requiring recording of easements.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Nelson, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5130 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talmadge: "Senator McCaslin, the question I have is actually about the provisions of this bill. If the utility does not record the easement, is it your intention that the easement be eliminated or is it--"

Senator McCaslin: "It is my intention that you could then sue them for damages. If an easement is not recorded and later you put real property on that, then I think you have cause of action."

Senator Talmadge: "I see. The only concern I have is that it sounds very close to being a taking of some sort. I mean an easement is a right-in-property. I don't hold any candle for the utilities, but if you take a right-in-property, conceivably we would be responsible for paying for that taking."

Senator McCaslin: "And are you saying the utility would take it?"

Senator Talmadge: "No, by our passage of this legislation, it could, in fact, be a taking of the utility's right to that easement."

Senator McCaslin: "Well, I'm not an attorney and you are, if you put into statute that they are to record any easement for ingress and egress or any utilities, that's what they are to do and I think they have a time period to do that. You're saying if they don't do it--"

Senator Talmadge: "And the easement disappears by operation of law, I just wonder if we've engaged in a taking of some sort. That's what I'm getting at."

Senator McCaslin: "I still don't understand. Why would we be taking it, or why would it disappear? Why would the easement disappear?"

Senator Talmadge: "What I'm trying to get at is if the utility does not record its easement by the specific date, is the easement eliminated--is it gone?"

Senator McCaslin: "My guess would be, if there's no damages, why would it be gone? The problem would arise later and it would still be there as far as I know, unless you went to court. You know that better than I do."

Senator Talmadge: "Yes, I'm just worried about whether the easement disappears entirely. It just seems to me that it could create a question about whether there was a taking by the government."

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5597, by Senators Nelson, West, Newhouse, Smith, Conner, Wojahn and Niemi

Limiting pharmacists' liability.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Nelson, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 5597 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talmadge: "Senator Nelson, you and I had talked about this a moment ago. I still see some problems of how this particular bill is set up technically. It's an amendment to RCW 18.64. It does not amend the Product Liability Act and it does not amend the Uniform Commercial Code. Yet, there is a section in the Product Liability Act, from 1981, that provides for relief for people considered to be retailers of products, which I presume, a pharmacist would be in dispensing drugs pursuant to a prescription. My belief is, at least, that the retailer relief section of the Products Act is more generous in its immunity from liability than is this proposed bill. Do you have any reaction to that?"

Senator Nelson: "Thank you, Senator Talmadge. As you and I have discussed, we're going to mutually look at the Products Liability bill as this measure progresses. The bill makes reference to the Uniform Commercial Code in Section 2, but not to the Products Liability law as you have correctly stated and it may be necessary to amend this bill later on to provide some clarity. I'm not so sure that it narrows the liability provisions for pharmacists. I would have to carefully consider that."

Senator Talmadge: "Maybe we could hold it on the calendar and work up that amendment rather than send it on to the House in this form, because I do have some question about whether it's going to work in the way that it's drafted."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Nelson, further consideration of Senate Bill No. 5597 was deferred.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Newhouse, the Senate advanced to the ninth order of business.

MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION

Having served prior notice, Senator Smitherman moved to reconsider the vote by which Substitute Senate Bill No. 5213 failed to pass the Senate March 2, 1989.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talmadge: "Senator Smitherman, the problem with this bill is what the definition of an account receivable is when incurred in the ordinary course of business. Would you define what an account receivable incurred in the ordinary course of business might be and maybe the difference between that and somebody just entering into an oral contract?"

Senator Smitherman: "I believe it's just an open account, Senator."

Senator Talmadge: "Well, the problem is, if I enter into an oral contract with you, that's something that's a three year statute of limitations now and a three year statute of limitations under this bill. If I enter into an oral contract with you and you go back to your business and you say, 'Well, I think I will carry that on my books,' and you treat it as an account receivable, then it's something that would carry with it a six year statute of limitations. The problem is, I think, that there is that difficulty in determining what is or is not an account receivable incurred in the ordinary course of business and an oral contract. It seems to me if we are going to reconsider this we may want to do it right and simply provide for a six year statute of limitations for all contracts."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lee: "Senator Smitherman, is your reason for asking for reconsideration so that it can be returned to second reading for purposes of an amendment or just simply to pass it as it is?"

Senator Smitherman: "To pass it as it is, Senator."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the motion by Senator Smitherman to reconsider the vote by which Substitute Senate Bill No. 5213 failed to pass the Senate.

The motion by Senator Smitherman carried on a rising vote and the Senate will reconsider Substitute Senate Bill No. 5213.

Senator Kreidler: "Ophthalmologists do."

Senator Wojahn: "Do Optometrists?"

Senator Kreidler: "Optometrists do not."

Senator Wojahn: "Then, why are you objecting to this amendment? It says you may not do surgery. You say you don't do surgery. You probably don't want to do surgery. What is wrong with this amendment?"

Senator Kreidler: "This amendment, as you will read it says, 'authorize optometrists to perform surgical operations,' but it goes on further to describe specifically pre-operative and post-operative diagnosis and or post-operative care. That portion of it was addressed in a formal AGO that came down and said the optometrists already had that authority. This amendment would go much further than talking about surgery, which clearly is not authorized by the bill in front of us."

Senator Wojahn: "Do you have a copy of that informal opinion? Was that submitted by the Attorney General of the state of Washington? I know there was one that was written by an Attorney General outside the state."

Senator Kreidler: "There was an AGO, a formal AGO, that was prepared by the Washington State Attorney General's office."

Senator Bailey: "Both of us visited the school that had Spanish speaking K through 6 in the school, and it was very well done, and I support that. I think this allows schools that are outside of the existing pilot programs for the Schools for the 21st Century to begin a pilot model for either the Pacific Rim countries or the South American countries--Spanish or Japanese."

Senator Smitherman: "OK, but Senator, calling to your attention that there's another school in Tacoma--you were talking about McCarver Elementary--there was another school sponsored by Titus-Will, television programs and other areas that advertises Schools of the 21st Century. I actually served on their board and they are specializing in Japanese and Chinese. Again, they complain about the lack of funding and I'm wondering to what extent funds are going to be available for those Schools for the 21st Century who are currently offering programs in foreign languages and are crying for more money for funding."

Senator Bailey: "You know, of course, I can't tell you what will come before this body as far as funding for the Schools for the 21st Century, but as I read the Governor's proposals, there's very adequate funding for those language issues."

For the purposes of this chapter, unless the context clearly indicates to the contrary:

(1) Product seller. "Product seller" means any person or entity that is engaged in the business of selling products, whether the sale is for resale, or for use or consumption. The term includes a manufacturer, wholesaler, distributor, or retailer of the relevant product. The term also includes a party who is in the business of leasing or bailing such products. The term "product seller" does not include:

(a) A seller of real property, unless that person is engaged in the mass production and sale of standardized dwellings or is otherwise a product seller;

(b) A provider of professional services who utilizes or sells products within the legally authorized scope of the professional practice of the provider;

(c) A commercial seller of used products who resells a product after use by a consumer or other product user: PROVIDED, That when it is resold, the used product is in essentially the same condition as when it was acquired for resale; ~~(and)~~

(d) A finance lessor who is not otherwise a product seller. A "finance lessor" is one who acts in a financial capacity, who is not a manufacturer, wholesaler, distributor, or retailer, and who leases a product without having a reasonable opportunity to inspect and discover defects in the product, under a lease arrangement in which the selection, possession, maintenance, and operation of the product are controlled by a person other than the lessor; and

(e) A licensed pharmacist who dispenses a prescription product manufactured by a commercial manufacturer pursuant to a prescription issued by a licensed prescribing practitioner.

(2) Manufacturer. "Manufacturer" includes a product seller who designs, produces, makes, fabricates, constructs, or remanufactures the relevant product or component part of a product before its sale to a user or consumer. The term also includes a product seller or entity not otherwise a manufacturer that holds itself out as a manufacturer.

A product seller acting primarily as a wholesaler, distributor, or retailer of a product may be a "manufacturer" but only to the extent that it designs, produces, makes, fabricates, constructs, or remanufactures the product for its sale. A product seller who performs minor assembly of a product in accordance with the instructions of the manufacturer shall not be deemed a manufacturer. A product seller that did not participate in the design of a product and that constructed the product in accordance with the design specifications of the claimant or another product seller shall not be deemed a manufacturer for the purposes of RCW 7.72.030(1)(a).

(3) Product. "Product" means any object possessing intrinsic value, capable of delivery either as an assembled whole or as a component part or parts, and produced for introduction into trade or commerce. Human tissue and organs, including human blood and its components, are excluded from this term.

The "relevant product" under this chapter is that product or its component part or parts, which gave rise to the product liability claim.

(4) Product liability claim. "Product liability claim" includes any claim or action brought for harm caused by the manufacture, production, making, construction, fabrication, design, formula, preparation, assembly, installation, testing, warnings, instructions, marketing, packaging, storage or labeling of the relevant product. It includes, but is not limited to, any claim or action previously based on: Strict liability in tort; negligence; breach of express or implied warranty; breach of, or failure to, discharge a duty to warn or instruct, whether negligent or innocent; misrepresentation, concealment, or nondisclosure, whether negligent or innocent; or other claim or action previously based on any other substantive legal theory except fraud, intentionally caused harm or a claim or action under the consumer protection act, chapter 19.86 RCW.

(5) Claimant. "Claimant" means a person or entity asserting a product liability claim, including a wrongful death action, and, if the claim is asserted through or on behalf of an estate, the term includes claimant's decedent. "Claimant" includes any person or entity that suffers harm. A claim may be asserted under this chapter even though the claimant did not buy the product from, or enter into any contractual relationship with, the product seller.

(6) Harm. "Harm" includes any damages recognized by the courts of this state: PROVIDED, That the term "harm" does not include direct or consequential economic loss under Title 62A RCW."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Talmadge, I heard you talking about water conservation. Would this authorize dams on the Snoqualmie River, which, of course, has been flooding the lowlands for many years, and additional dams in order to provide more water for Seattle? This is what I'm wondering. They're needed, of course, but they need some authorization. Every time somebody tries to put a dam in to conserve water, they stand in the way of it."

Senator Talmadge: "Senator, this is a little bit simpler bill, a little bit narrower in it's focus. It simply permits utilities to provide some assistance to rate payers in Tacoma, in Seattle, and other parts of the state--the rate payers who are paying increasingly high water bills--to give them some assistance in having more efficient fixtures, more efficient water use devices, so that their rates will stay low. It doesn't speak to the other issue, but I believe Senator Barr and the members of the Water Resource Policy Committee have been working on questions like water storage, and the availability of water systems. That's an issue yet to come. This is a little bit more narrowly focused."

Senator Rasmussen: "The constitutional amendment will handle that?"

Senator Talmadge: "The constitutional amendment will deal only with the water use efficiency. Senator Barr's working on a water use policy issue that may address some of the questions you are talking about, Senator."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5889.

The practices of immigration assistants have a significant impact on the residents of the state of Washington. It is the intent of the legislature to establish rules of practice and conduct for immigration assistants to promote honesty and fair dealing with residents and to preserve public confidence.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Immigration assistant" means every person who, for compensation or the expectation of compensation, gives nonlegal assistance on an immigration matter. That assistance is limited to:

(a) Transcribing responses to a government agency form selected by the customer which is related to an immigration matter, but does not include advising a person as to his or her answers on those forms;

(b) Translating a person's answer to questions posed on those forms;

(c) Securing for a person supporting documents currently in existence, such as birth and marriage certificates, which may be needed to submit with those forms;

(d) Making referrals to attorneys who could undertake legal representation for a person in an immigration matter.

(2) "Immigration matter" means any proceeding, filing, or action affecting the nonimmigrant, immigrant, or citizenship status of any person which arises under immigration and naturalization law, executive order, or presidential proclamation, or which arises under action of the United States immigration and naturalization service, the United States department of labor, or the United States department of state.

(3) "Compensation" means money, property, or anything else of value.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 3. The following persons are exempt from all provisions of this chapter:

NEW SECTION, Sec. 4. Any person who wishes to engage in the business of an immigration assistant must register with the secretary of state's office and provide his or her name, business address, home address, and business and home telephone numbers. Failure to register with the secretary of state prior to acting as an immigration assistant is a violation of this chapter.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 5. Immigration assistants who have registered must inform the secretary of state of any changes in their name, addresses, or telephone numbers within thirty days of the change. Failure to inform the secretary of state of changes in the required time is a violation of this chapter.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 6. Immigration assistants shall offer or provide only nonlegal assistance in an immigration matter as defined in section 2 of this act.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 7. (1) Before providing any assistance, an immigration assistant who has agreed to provide immigration assistance to a customer shall provide the customer with a written contract that includes the following provisions:

(a) An explanation of the services to be performed;

(b) Identification of all compensation and costs to be charged to the customer for the services to be performed;

(c) A statement that documents submitted in support of an application for nonimmigrant, immigrant, or naturalization status may not be retained by the assistant for any purpose, including payment of compensation or costs;

(3) A copy of the written contract shall be provided to the customer by the immigration assistant upon execution of the contract.

(4) A customer has the right to rescind a contract within seventy-two hours of the signing of the contract.

(5) Any documents identified in subsection (1)(c) of this section shall be returned upon demand of the customer.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 8. In the course of dealing with customers or prospective customers, an immigration assistant shall not:

(1) Make any statement that the immigration assistant can or will obtain special favors from or has special influence with the United States immigration and naturalization service;

(2) Solicit or receive any compensation which is nonrefundable;

(3) Refuse to return documents supplied by, prepared by, or paid for by the customer upon the request of the customer. These documents must be returned upon request even if there is a fee dispute between the immigration assistant and the customer;

(4) Represent or advertise, in connection with the provision of immigration assistance, other titles or credentials, including but not limited to "notary public" or "immigration consultant" that could cause a customer to believe that the immigration assistant possesses special professional skills;

(5) Communicate in any manner, oral or written, that registration under this chapter is an indicator of special skill or expertise or that it allows the person to provide advice on an immigration matter;

(6) Give any legal advice concerning an immigration matter.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 9. The legislature finds and declares that any violation of this chapter substantially affects the public interest and is an unfair and deceptive act or practice and unfair method of compensation in the conduct of trade or commerce as set forth in RCW 19.86.020.

Any person who, not being an active member of the state bar, or who after he has been disbarred or while suspended from membership in the state bar, as by this chapter provided, shall practice law, or hold himself out as entitled to practice law, shall, except as provided in section 10 of this 1989 act, be guilty of a misdemeanor: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, Nothing herein contained shall be held to in any way affect the power of the courts to grant injunctive relief or to punish as for contempt.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Talmadge, you probably have had more experience. How does the Internal Revenue designate a tax exempt church related body?"

Senator Talmadge: "I believe, Senator, they have some regulations that pertain to what they believe to be a legitimate church activity. But, there's no such definition contained in this bill and any organization that self certifies itself as a church--my understanding of this legislation, would be permitted to proceed as such. This would compel, in my view, the Superintendent of Public Instruction to adopt regulations defining what is or what is not a church, which I think is contrary to the spirit of what the proponents of the legislation wanted."

Senator Rasmussen: "Maybe an amendment saying, 'Church approved tax exempt by the Internal Revenue' would solve the problem."

Senator Talmadge: "I don't know that that would satisfy some of those people, Senator, because I'm not sure they are all that enthused about the idea of the federal government deciding whether or not they are or are not a church and whether or not the Commissioner of Internal Revenue does a particularly good job of that."

On motion of Senator Wojahn, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5185 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McCaslin: "Senator Smith, we talk about residential or commercial use. Does that count light industrial and heavy industrial, and multi-family or how do you differentiate between residential and commercial?"

Senator Smith: "People live in one."

Senator McCaslin: "People live in a lot of zones, but are you sure you're covering everybody in this bill or should other—"

Senator Smith: "I prefer that you ask this question of the maker of the bill."

Senator McCaslin: "Who's the maker of the bill?"

Senator Smith: "Senator Wojahn."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McCaslin: "Senator Wojahn, under comprehensive planning in cities and counties, they differentiate a whole list of descriptions of different types of zoning and we just have residential and commercial in here. Is that what you mean to do? If it's zoned commercial you can do this—or residential—but multi-family you may not be able to?"

Senator Wojahn: "You could actually have a family day care on any type of land, but you would pay the taxes for the highest and best use. So, it wouldn't be very practical to put a day care in a commercial property zone, because you'd have to pay higher taxes. Constitutionally, we pay taxes on our highest and best use."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5185.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5185 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 44; nays, 4; excused, 1.

ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 5185, having received the constitutional majority was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5054, by Senators Rinehart, Bailey and Niemi

Establishing the Washington state minority teacher recruitment program.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Rinehart moved that the following amendment by Senators Rinehart and Nelson be adopted:

On page 2, after line 11, insert a new subsection to read as follows:

"(3) As used in this section 'targeted minority group' means a group of Americans with a common ethnic or racial heritage, identified by the state board of education due to societal concerns such as high dropout rates or low rates of college participation or academic achievement by members of the group."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talmadge: "Senator Rinehart, I'm wondering about this definition, 'targeted minority group.' By this definition, would you then exclude Asian students from participating in this program?"

Senator Rinehart: "The amendment would neither exclude or include any one by specific list. It would be the decision of the State Board of Education as to whether or not a particular group should be considered."

Senator Talmadge: "Well, maybe you could tell me if Asian students are presently being excluded as a result of this language being used elsewhere?"

Senator Rinehart: "Not to my knowledge. If there's an instance, I'd be happy to investigate, but not to my knowledge under the existing statute."

Senator Talmadge: "I guess I'm trying to understand why we are targeting in this particular fashion. For example, a group such as Asian students did not have high drop-out rates or low rates of college participation, then they would not be permitted to participate in this program?"

Senator Rinehart: "The goal of the bill without the amendment is to establish a program to encourage teachers who belong to groups where youngsters do not have many role models and who are having difficulties because of that. The concern was raised in the Rules Committee by Senator Nelson, that without a definition of minority, we left it far too wide open, so we simply took a definition from an existing program."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senators Rinehart and Nelson on page 2, after line 11, to Senate Bill No. 5064.

The motion by Senator Rinehart failed and the amendment was not adopted.

Can you define for me, what are the target groups?"

Senator Bailey: "Senator Nelson, I think, with your and Senator Rinehart's amendment, you tried to describe the targeted groups--which did not pass."

Further debate ensued.

On page 1, line 11, after "origin," strike "or mental, physical, or sensory handicap" and insert "~~((or mental, physical, or sensory handicap))~~ mental, physical, or sensory handicap, or membership in a discrete or insular group that is commonly known to be the object of widespread prejudice, bias, or discrimination"

On page 1, line 23, after "origin," delete "or mental, physical, or sensory handicap," and insert "mental, physical, or sensory handicap, or membership in a discrete or insular group that is commonly known to be the object of widespread prejudice, bias, or discrimination."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Pullen: "Mr. President, I raise the point of order that the amendments change the scope and object of the bill. The amendments by Senator Niemi do talk about discrete or insular groups and she, herself, has indicated that these are generic amendments and a generic amendment by it's very name, certainly would imply a broadening of the bill.

"I would also draw the President's attention to a precedent we did have on March 2, 1984. We had a bill before us, Senate Bill No. 4228, dealing with malicious harassment. The House added an amendment which expanded the protected categories and at that time Senator Rasmussen raised a point of order and the presiding officer at that time, Lieutenant Governor Cherberg, ruled the House amendment, which did expand the categories, was beyond the scope and object of the bill. So, based on Senator Niemi's own words that these are generic amendments and based on the precedent that occurred March 2, 1984, I would urge the President to rule the amendments beyond the scope and object of the bill."

Further debate ensued.

On motion of Senator Newhouse, further consideration of Senate Bill No. 5480 was deferred.

There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of Senate Bill No. 5480 and the pending amendments by Senator Niemi on page 1, lines 11 and 23, deferred earlier today.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Pritchard: "The President would like to point out that the 1984 amendment referred to in the earlier debate was substantially different than what is before the body. Therefore, the 1984 ruling was not a precedent for the President's ruling today.

"In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Pullen, the President finds that Senate Bill No. 5480 is a measure adding to the crime of malicious harassment certain words and conduct which place people or property in reasonable fear of harm.

"The amendments proposed by Senator Niemi, add to the crime of malicious harassment a new category of discrimination based on a person's membership in a discrete or insular group commonly know to be the object of widespread prejudice, bias or discrimination.

"The President believes the bill adds new prohibited conduct to the existing statute while the amendments add a new group of persons to the list to be protected from the conduct.

"The President, therefore, finds that the proposed amendments do change the scope and object of the bill and that the point of order is well taken."

The amendments by Senator Niemi on page 1, lines 11 and 23, to Senate Bill No. 5480 were ruled out of order.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talmadge: "Senator Metcalf, I read the second part of the bill--Section 2--and I guess I have a question about how this works. I assume that a fish culture unit is another way of saying some sort of aqua culture pen?"

Senator Metcalf: "Not pens, these are upland private aqua culture. The bill applied to them. I don't know about fish culture units. It may apply to others, too."

Senator Talmadge: "Well, what this bill purports to do is to say to the Department of Ecology and it's enforcement unit, that if they suspect the existence of a water pollution violation at one of these fish culture units, then they have to give three days notice before they can go in, which is a rather odd thing. If a law enforcement officer had to give three days notice to a crook before he could serve a search warrant, it would be a rather interesting way of approaching the problems."

Senator Metcalf: "This is in the case of where they are going to bring equipment in. The reason for it is--the private aqua culturists came to the committee and said that. They don't bring any of their own equipment on to their site, because of the disease problems, without a person there who's in charge of sterilization, as I mentioned--sterilization of that equipment. They take their trucks, they sterilize every bit of them, and they said they could just not allow anyone to come on without having that sterilization. They need a little bit of time to have their people there to do it and they're not going to allow anybody else do it and it seemed to me to be legitimate that we do that. I think if there were gross cases, such that you could think of, where they might be doing something, but the three days would give them the chance to tune it up. I think that there are other ways they can get at that. This did not seem to be a problem to the department--the substitute bill."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Moore: "Senator McCaslin, I found this to be the case in the past. When there is more than one precinct, often times people do not know which precinct they're really in and it's led to a lot of confusion. I know that in our voting place, we have several precincts and people are often times not sure when they get in there. They know who they're going to vote for for Governor and the rest of it, but when it gets down to that, they're not sure what precinct it is and they don't know the name maybe or something. I'm wondering how much confusion you think this will cause and is it worth it?"

Senator McCaslin: "Well, you'd have to ask Senator Pullen that. To my knowledge, we haven't had the problem at home, but I don't think, even if you didn't vote for the bill, the problem on confusion would be corrected, because a lot of people don't know what precinct they're in at the present time. So, if they don't know now going in to vote, for them, this won't help their memory or won't help them to study the issues. Hopefully, if they are confused--we passed a bill a couple days ago--that you can ask people for help, one from each party. So, the help is there if people ask, Senator Moore."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 5143.

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 5143 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 40; nays, 5; absent, 1; excused, 3.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talmadge: "Senator Smith, I'm trying to figure out exactly how this bill is intended to work. If the Child Protective Service case worker does not refer within twenty-four hours in an emergency situation, however that is defined, is the state going to be civilly liable if that person does not accomplished the referral within twenty-four hours?"

Senator Smith: "That is not what the state testified to or the department. They felt that this would give them reasonable time and the people have asked for this bill and know that they wouldn't be liable."

Senator Talmadge: "Well, excuse me. If someone is required to do something by law within twenty-four hours in an emergency setting, and that's not defined in this bill, and they have to do that according to state law and they don't do it, I'd suspect that makes a relatively easy case for a plaintiff's lawyer in saying that the state is liable, because the state failed to do that which it was supposed to do in this horrible circumstance to this child. Tell me how there would not be civil liability under those circumstances."

Senator Smith: "If there is liability, it is probably justified. This bill is designed to make sure that there is reporting, so that some of the cases we've had do not happen again. If there is a state liability, that would be accepted by both the department who has testified for this bill, the law enforcement officers and everyone that has supported this bill. They have agreed that this twenty-four hours is reasonable."

Further debate ensued.

I guess the question I have for you is, even with the delayed effective date, how many additional beds in the state correctional system will this general fund budget provide for, for 91-93?"

Senator McDonald: "Senator Talmadge, as you well know, because you've asked this question a number of times in the Ways and Means Committee, it will not put any more beds in the system, because we don't need them in the system. As Senator Rasmussen brought up, the fact that we do have 'rent-a-cell'--is because we have cells that are open and available. As we proceed through this biennium, the people that are renting the cells will leave the state and prisoners from our correctional system will enter the system. Over the period of this biennium and maybe a little bit of the next biennium, we will fill up the available cells. At that time, yes indeed, we will have to have a system that will accommodate these people, and I think that that's what we ought to be doing."

Senator Talmadge: "So, if I understand you correctly, what you're saying is that the budget will not provide for any additional correctional beds for the 91-93 period?"

Senator McDonald: "Senator Talmadge, as you know that the budget has not been written; has not been adopted by the Senate and has not been even debated in the Ways and Means Committee. How can I tell you what the budget has? All I can tell you is what the Governor's budget has, and the Governor's budget does not have additional cells. As far as this body and our debate, it's in the future."

Further debate ensued.

Senator Gaspard demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the motion by Senator Vognild to adopt the Committee on Ways and Means amendment on page 4, beginning on line 12, and the title amendment on page 1, line 3, on reconsideration, to Senate Bill No. 5233.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Pullen, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5233 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hansen: "Senator Pullen, I met with my county commissioners and they tell me that the local jails are all ready run over by the felons which they are picking up and putting in with these prisoners. When will the relief come and help the county out with this problem? We're talking about the state now. We're not even taking them out of the county jails. We're leaving them there for a year before we take them out and put them in the state prison. When are we going to give the counties some relief from the over-burden that they're carrying now with crime that's being committed out there in the counties?"

Senator Pullen: "I believe this particular bill will be a first step towards providing that relief. We are sending a strong message to burglars that their actions are not going to be tolerated. There have been other studies such as those by Professor Marvin Wolfgang at the University of Pennsylvania that shows that bills of this type actually result in a decrease in crime and a decrease in criminal activity through the deterrent effect. This bill is a maximum step towards relieving the over-crowding in jails and our prisons. I think it will accomplish just what you would want to see accomplished."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Bailey, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5522 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Patterson: "Senator Rinehart, what was the effect of reducing the original appropriation from one hundred fifty thousand to forty-eight thousand? What's the effect on the bill?"

Senator Rinehart: "The effect is to reduce the number of projects that are possible under the bill. It's now narrowed down to where it will likely be a single and sole pilot project."

Senator Patterson: "What did you originally have in mind for the number of projects?"

Senator Rinehart: "We were anticipating that there would be a number of projects so that they could be done statewide. The way this will work, is that there will be at least one and when it's demonstrated how it works, then we hope that it will be possible to expand. It's a typical pilot project that's going to begin very small."

Senator Patterson: "If it works, what would you anticipate the impact throughout the state would be to provide in every school district that had some handicapped children? I presume that's the thrust of the bill--in the way of school personnel that it might have some handicapped people that they were trying to provide for--need day care for?"

Senator Rinehart: "There are two things that you should note within the content of the bill. The first is that the centers must be self-supporting and the second is that they are on a grant basis, granted through the Superintendent of Public Instruction. There's also a phrase that says, 'Through dollars appropriated specifically for that program,' so that every step of the way, we have a handle on what would be expended and how it would be expended."

Senator Patterson: "You have to have a grant from some other source other than the state in order to establish one of these?"

Senator Rinehart: "How many questions did you have Senator Patterson? As the bill reads now--as it was passed out of the Senate Education Committee--it establishes a grant process. A school district who would like to establish a pilot project to provide on-site day care will submit a grant proposal to the Superintendent of Public Instruction. The Superintendent of Public Instruction will examine whatever grants are submitted, make a decision on the basis of which they think is the most feasible, including the fact that it has to be self-supporting and self-sustaining, once it gets into operation.

"I assume that your question is leading toward long-term costs and long-term expansion. That's the reason for it being, first of all, a grant process, and second of all, identifying clearly, that it's got to be a self-supporting center. It's not state provision of child care as much as a pilot project to demonstrate how this can be done and how they can be self-supporting."

Senator Patterson: "Thank you, Senator, I really appreciate that because I have some real concerns about the statewide impact, without some sources other than state appropriations, to respond to the grant and I appreciate that. I'm sure that most members here would have a concern for our ability to pay if the state was asked to set up the various centers throughout the state of Washington. I thank you for your information."

Further debate ensued.

President Pritchard assumed the Chair.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5853, by Senators Pullen, Talmadge, McCaslin, Rasmussen, Thorsness, Hayner, Nelson and Cantu

Penalizing use of a machine gun in a felony.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Talmadge moved that the following amendment by Senators Talmadge and Gaspard be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION, Sec. 1. The legislature is concerned about the increasing number of drug dealers, gang members, and other dangerous criminals who are increasingly being found in possession of machine guns. The legislature recognizes that possession of machine guns by dangerous criminals represents a serious threat to law enforcement officers and the general public. The use of a machine gun in furtherance of a felony is a particularly heinous crime because of the potential for great harm or death to a large number of people. It is the intent of the legislature to protect the public safety by deterring the illegal use of machine guns in the furtherance of a felony by creating a separate offense with severe penalties for such use of a machine gun.

Sec. 2. Section 2, chapter 64, Laws of 1933 and RCW 9.41.200 are each amended to read as follows:

For the purpose of RCW 9.41.190 through (~~9.41.220~~) section 4 of this act, a machine gun is defined as:

(1) Any firearm or weapon known as a machine gun, mechanical rifle, submachine gun, and/or any other weapon, mechanism, or instrument not requiring that the trigger be pressed for each shot and having a reservoir clip, disc, drum, belt, or other separable mechanical device for storing, carrying, or supplying ammunition which can be loaded into such weapon, mechanism, or instrument, and fired therefrom at the rate of five or more shots per second; or

(2)(a) Any semiautomatic action, centerfire rifle or carbine which accepts a detachable magazine with a capacity greater than five cartridges, including but not limited to the following firearms or their copies or facsimiles: AR 15 semiautomatic assault rifles, Uzi semiautomatic assault rifles or carbines, Ingram Mac-10 semiautomatic assault carbines, Ingram Mac-11 semiautomatic assault carbines, Heckler and Koch 93 semiautomatic assault rifles, Heckler and Koch 91 semiautomatic assault rifles, Heckler and Koch 94 semiautomatic assault carbines, AK-47 semiautomatic assault rifles, AKM-47 semiautomatic assault rifles, all Avtomat Kalashnikov weapons, M1-A semiautomatic assault rifles, M-14 semiautomatic assault rifles, Thompson semiautomatic carbines and any other semiautomatic carbines manufactured by Auto Ordnance;

(ii) Any semiautomatic shotguns without a shoulder stock or with a folding stock or a magazine capacity of more than six rounds;

(iii) All semiautomatic pistols that are modifications of rifles or carbines described in (a)(1) of this subsection; that is, having the same make, caliber, and action design but shorter barrel and no rear stock;

(iv) Any weapon which may be readily restored to an operable machine gun; and

(v) Any part, or combination of parts, designed or intended to convert a weapon into a machine gun, or any combination of parts from which a machine gun may be readily assembled, if those parts are in the possession or under the control of the same person;

(b) The following are specifically excluded from the term "machine gun" as defined by this subsection:

(i) Weapons which do not use fixed ammunition, weapons which were manufactured prior to 1898, manually operated bolt action weapons, lever action weapons, slide action weapons, single-shot weapons, multiple-barrel weapons, revolving cylinder weapons, semiautomatic weapons which use exclusive Mannlicher-style clips, rimfire weapons that employ a tubular magazine; and

(ii) Any machine gun which has been modified either to render it permanently inoperable or to permanently make it a device no longer defined as a "machine gun."

(c) "Semiautomatic" as used in this chapter means that a single projectile is fired for each single pull of the trigger of a weapon which employs a magazine.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 9A.10 RCW to read as follows:

It is unlawful for a person, in the commission or furtherance of a felony other than a violation of RCW 9A.10.010, to discharge a machine gun as defined by RCW 9A.10.020(1) or to menace or threaten with a machine gun as defined by RCW 9A.10.020(1), another person. A violation of this section shall be punished as a class A felony under chapter 9A.10 RCW.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 9A.10 RCW to read as follows:

(1) It is unlawful for a person, in the commission or furtherance of a felony other than a violation of RCW 9A.10.010, to discharge a machine gun as defined by RCW 9A.10.020(2), or to menace or threaten another person with a machine gun as defined by RCW 9A.10.020(2). A violation of this subsection shall be punished as a class B felony according to chapter 9A.10 RCW.

(2) It is unlawful for any person to convert any firearm to a machine gun, as defined in RCW 9A.10.020. A violation of this subsection shall be punished as a class C felony according to chapter 9A.10 RCW.

(3) It is unlawful for any person to sell a machine gun as defined by RCW 9A.10.020(2) to a person who has not been issued a concealed pistol license. A violation of this subsection shall be punished as a class C felony according to chapter 9A.10 RCW."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Pullen: "Mr. President, I raise a point of order that the proposed amendment by Senators Talmadge and Gaspard expands the scope and object of the bill. This particular bill is a very narrow bill dealing with penalties for the illegal use of machine guns, including discharging machine guns or threatening or menacing someone with a machine gun in the commission of or the furtherance of a felony. Senators Talmadge and Gaspard are trying to add language dealing with semi-automatic weapons on to the bill. A machine gun is a fully automatic weapon that fires repeatedly as long as the trigger is held down. With a semi-automatic weapon, it fires only when the trigger is pulled each time. There's a major distinction and that distinction now exists in state law. It exists in any dictionary that defines the differences between the two and, also, by tradition. Senators Talmadge and Gaspard are attempting to try to link semi-automatics to the subject matter in the bill by defining a semi-automatic weapon as a fully automatic weapon or machine gun.

"There have been many rulings in the past that indicate you cannot expand scope and object through linking amendments or through linking language. Otherwise, we could have a bill that dealt with the preservation of Roosevelt Elk and someone could define Roosevelt Elk as an income tax and then hang an income tax amendment onto a bill to preserve Roosevelt Elk. The amendment by Senator Talmadge and Gaspard deals with many aspects of semi-automatic weapons. I would draw the President's attention to Senator Talmadge's own words. Senator Talmadge said, 'This particular amendment adds to the definition the concept of semi-automatic weapons,' so his own words say that he's adding to the original scope and object of the bill. Senator Talmadge also indicated that his amendment deals with such subject matters as conversions, deals with such subject matters as sale, and other regulatory items that are not part of the original bill.

"I would finally draw the President's attention to the fact that he has several title amendments. Because of the expansion of scope and object, he had to come in with additional title amendments on page five. Incidentally, this simple little one-page bill is now a five-page bill if his amendment is adopted.

"Although Mr. President, at this time, I will not challenge the amendment under Rule 25 which says, 'No bill shall embrace more than one subject and that shall be expressed in the title.' In the highly unlikely event that I should get an adverse ruling here, I will also later challenge the amendment under Rule 25, but I feel very confident that this is out of scope and object and will get a favorable ruling."

Further debate ensued.

On motion of Senator Newhouse, further consideration of Senate Bill No. 5853 was deferred.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5195, by Senators Barr, Hansen, Talmadge, Williams, Conner, Rasmussen, Gaspard, Bauer, Warnke, Benitz and Lee (by request of Governor Gardner)

Regarding water use efficiency and conservation.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Barr, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5195 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5195 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

Senator Madsen moved that the following amendment by Senators Madsen and Barr be adopted:

On page 8, line 25, after "permitted" insert the following new subsection:

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Wojahn: "Senator Madsen, could a local government have standards that were tighter than the standards here? For instance, if there were a water shortage where it was necessary to reduce the amount of water that was used, could their conservation standards be tighter? It looks to me like they couldn't be."

Senator Madsen: "Well, you're absolutely correct. What we're trying to get to is what you're saying. We do feel there needs to be an avenue that if a local government wants to have more restrictive standards, they can."

Senator Wojahn: "Well, shouldn't you say that?"

Senator Madsen: "Well, the problem is going back to the other language in the other part of this section, it's like unscrambling eggs. We've got to rewrite the whole thing before we pass it, but what you want and what you said is where we want to end up."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Madsen, that amendment apparently supercedes anything. Has this been cleared with Tacoma City Water and Seattle City Water?"

Senator Madsen: "It has not been cleared with Tacoma City Water, but the debate has been with Seattle. Every time we end up getting language everybody agrees to, it is so confusing nobody can understand it. What I'm saying is let's pass this amendment, because we are going to have to rewrite the whole section before it passes out of the Legislature."

Senator Rasmussen: "Well, Senator Madsen, I know that Tacoma City Water is supplying water right out in your rural area, and I'm sure that they don't want to be subject to somebody else's whims, when they're providing the means to get water—good water—to people all over the county and possibly over in King County. Before I can vote for this, I'll have to have clearance from my water department. I would think we should not adopt the amendment. I'll have time to confer with them about this being superceded and their decision in judgment."

Senator Madsen: "Well, Senator Rasmussen, we've known each other a long time and you tend to do exactly what you set your mind to. My suggestion is that we go ahead and pass this. We are going to have to rewrite this. We've been rewriting it ever since the bill was authored. As I say, it's like trying to unscramble eggs and that's what we're going to have to do."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talmadge: "Senator Madsen, on page 7, lines 5 through 11, it appears to suggest that what you want to accomplish is already, in fact, the case with respect to Section 7. How does your amendment relate to sub-section (2) of Section 7, which already says that they can't adopt standards any more restrictive than the guidelines identified in this measure in sub-section (3)?"

Senator Madsen: "The way you read it is the way I read it. The people who are involved in the negotiations say that that language applies only to the State Building Code Council, but I read it the same way you did. The other concern is the language over on page 6, line 32. It says exactly the same thing."

Further debate ensued.

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senators Madsen and Barr on page 8, line 25, to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5195.

The motion by Senator Madsen failed and the amendment was not adopted on a rising vote.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Sutherland: "Senator von Reichbauer, just looking over the bill and trying to understand the issue, does this at all affect citizens currently in the state of Washington who may have a license already? I notice a fiscal note on the bill and from what it says, it appears to me that everybody would have to be retested-- both written and otherwise. Can you help me?"

Senator von Reichbauer: "I believe that I heard your question. There's some static in the air, but basically, no it is not going to require everybody to take a new test. As you know, it takes effect in 1992. It will be part of the process of assimilation of each one of us as we go in and get our new drivers license. There's nothing going to change for the individual. It's primarily aimed at the commercial driver."

Senator Sutherland: "My driver's license, currently, has an endorsement on it for a commercial intermediate license, which means I am allowed to drive certain sized trucks. Each four years, when I have it renewed, that just is automatically renewed. I'm just curious if this piece of legislation would require folks like me to take another written or actual driving test when this one expires?"

Senator von Reichbauer: "The answer is 'yes.'"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McCaslin: "Senator Metcalf, you know, I don't hunt or fish, I play golf. There's some poachers out there; they steal your golf balls, you know, but not too many and it's really not under the game department."

Senator Metcalf: "I understand you spend a lot of time hunting for the golf balls."

Senator McCaslin: "Yes, that's true, but we don't need a license. How do you tell when a guy is a poacher or he's not a poacher, unless he's shooting loons or eagles or something like that."

Senator Metcalf: "By season, or by a count. If you've got two or three elk in the back of the pick-up and there is just one guy or something like that, you have a problem. Some animals, bald eagles for example, if you have a dead bald eagle in your possession, you're dead. I mean, they have you, you know. Some things are just completely protected species, never to be hunted. It's up to the wildlife agent, to answer your question, it's up to the wildlife agent to make the arrest and prove the point."

Senator McCaslin: "You don't have to bring up bald eagles when you're talking to me. Are you sure that an innocent party or an innocent hunter will never have any of his equipment confiscated without hearing or due process? They just go out and grab stuff."

Senator Metcalf: "This is always a danger. This is a danger, whether it's murder or a mugging or whatever, and I guess theoretically that you can imagine that a possibility would exist, but in actual fact, today given all the rights that we extend to the accused, and properly so, the ones that you finally convict, I feel confident--the ones that I've been aware of--I feel very confident that they are guilty."

Senator McCaslin: "If they seized a boat or rifle or something and they were wrong, what is the penalty for that--for the Game Department?"

Senator Metcalf: "Well, if they seized it and then later through a series of court cases the person was found innocent--they only seize in the case--it says, 'Articles seized may be forfeited to the department if the poacher is convicted, enters a plea of guilty, or forfeits bail,' so the final act of seizure is after the case is concluded. They may impound, but they would only seize and take the title at a time when the case is concluded."

Senator McCaslin: "But, it doesn't address where they've wrongfully seized something."

Senator Metcalf: "Well, they can impound until it's decided, but that isn't wrongful seizure. They only seize when the case is settled as far as I know. Maybe that doesn't answer your question, but that's all I know about it."

On motion of Senator Bender, Senator Warnke was excused.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5819.

MOTION

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rinehart: "Senator Bailey, this is a bill which mandates a program to the Superintendent of Public Instruction. Can you tell me why this bill was not handled by the Education Committee?"

Senator Bailey: "I think it was routed through the other committee because it's an energy matter. When we found out about it--the crush of work in our Education Committee--we had thirty-one bills in three days, and this good bill would not have been carried or we would have lost some of the fine bills that we passed yesterday. In the future, I will try and see they are routed properly."

Senator Rinehart: "I would appreciate that Senator Bailey, because as you can well tell, if a bill for legal education were to go through the Law and Justice Committee; if a bill for agricultural education were to go through the Agricultural Committee, by the end of the session, we could have fifteen or twenty new programs mandated without the Superintendent of Public Instruction having even known about them. I appreciate your commitment, in the future, to be sure that all programs which mandate material to go through our public schools indeed go through the Senate Education Committee."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Rinehart, could you tell me why it's necessary we pass a law and why this hasn't been part of the curriculum? This is the life blood of the nation--energy--and they haven't been studying it in the schools and they don't even know where the dams are--a lot of them--and a lot of them think it comes from the fairy godmother. I think it's very important that they do learn where our energy comes from--all sorts. Could you explain why they haven't been studying this in the schools?"

Senator Rinehart: "No."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Anderson, Senator Matson was excused.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5835.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator McCaslin, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5866 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5866 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

Senator Sutherland moved that the following amendment by Senators Sutherland, Rasmussen and McCaslin be adopted:

On page 1, after line 10, insert the following:

*Sec. 2. Section 2, chapter 155, Laws of 1980 as amended by section 14, chapter 222, Laws of 1988 and RCW 84.40.030 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) All property shall be valued at one hundred percent of its true and fair value in money and assessed on the same basis unless specifically provided otherwise by law.

(2) Taxable leasehold estates shall be valued at such price as they would bring at a fair, voluntary sale for cash without any deductions for any indebtedness owed including rentals to be paid. ~~((Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section or of any other statute, when the value of any taxable leasehold estate created prior to January 1, 1971 is being determined for assessment years prior to the assessment year 1973, there shall be deducted from what would otherwise be the value thereof the present worth of the rentals and other consideration which may be required of the lessee by the lessor for the unexpired term thereof: PROVIDED, That the foregoing provisions of this sentence shall not apply to any extension or renewal, made after December 31, 1970 of the term of any such estate, or to any such estate after the date, if any, provided for in the agreement for rental renegotiation.))~~

(3) The true and fair value of real property for taxation purposes (including property upon which there is a coal or other mine, or stone or other quarry) shall be based upon the following criteria:

~~((t))~~ (a) Any sales of the property being appraised or similar properties with respect to sales made within the past five years. The appraisal shall take into consideration political restrictions such as zoning as well as physical and environmental influences. The appraisal shall also take into account, ~~((a))~~ (1) in the use of sales by real estate contract as similar sales, the extent, if any, to which the stated selling price has been increased by reason of the down payment, interest rate, or other financing terms; and ~~((b))~~ (2) the extent to which the sale of a similar property actually represents the general effective market demand for property of such type, in the geographical area in which such property is located. Sales involving deed releases or similar seller-developer financing arrangements shall not be used as sales of similar property.

~~((z))~~ (b) In addition to sales as defined in (a) of this subsection ~~((t))~~, consideration may be given to cost, cost less depreciation, reconstruction cost less depreciation, or capitalization of income that would be derived from prudent use of the property.

(c) In the case of property of a complex nature, or being used under terms of a franchise from a public agency, or operating as a public utility, or property not having a record of sale within five years and not having a significant number of sales of similar property in the general area, the provisions of (b) of this subsection ~~((z))~~ shall be the dominant factors in valuation. When provisions of (b) of this subsection ~~((z))~~ are relied upon for establishing values the property owner shall be advised upon request of the factors used in arriving at such value.

~~((3))~~ (d) In valuing any tract or parcel of real property, the value of the land, exclusive of structures thereon shall be determined; also the value of structures thereon, but the valuation shall not exceed the value of the total property as it exists.

(e) In valuing real property, the determination of true and fair value may not be based on a use that is not permitted under applicable land use classifications and zoning standards.

(f) In valuing agricultural land, growing crops shall be excluded."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator McDonald: "Mr. President, I would challenge this amendment on the basis that it's outside the scope and object of the bill. This is a fairly modest bill, a far reaching one of course, that deals with credit card purchases and credit card payments to the state. Whereas Senator Sutherland's amendment, although it may be meritorious, deals with a valuing of real property and it's determination of true and fair value, talking about zoning standards, et cetera. It seems to me that this is far outside of the intent of Senator Rasmussen and his bill. I hope that you would rule so."

Further debate ensued.

On motion of Senator Newhouse, further consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5866 was deferred.

MOTION

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Pritchard: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator McDonald, the President finds that Substitute Senate Bill No. 5866 is a measure which expands the methods by which county treasurers must accept payment of taxes.

"The President, therefore, finds that the proposed amendment does change the scope and object of the bill and that the point of order is well taken."

The commission shall consist of judges, persons admitted to the practice of law in this state and persons who are not attorneys, as provided by the legislature. The commission shall conduct hearings regarding complaints against a judge or justice and may take disciplinary actions on its own or make disciplinary or retirement recommendations to the supreme court as provided by law. The legislature shall provide for rules of procedure and open meetings for the commission.

~~((There shall be a commission on judicial conduct consisting of a judge selected by and from the court of appeals judges, a judge selected by and from the superior court judges, a judge selected by and from the district court judges, two persons admitted to the practice of law in this state selected by the state bar association, and four persons who are not attorneys appointed by the governor and confirmed by the senate.~~

~~The office of a judge or justice retired or removed by the supreme court becomes vacant, and that person is ineligible for judicial office until eligibility is reinstated by the supreme court. The salary of a removed judge or justice shall cease. The supreme court shall specify the effect upon salary when disciplinary action other than removal is taken. ~~Whenever the commission receives a complaint against a judge or justice, it shall first conduct proceedings for the purpose of determining whether sufficient reason exists for conducting a hearing or hearings to deal with the accusations. These initial proceedings shall be confidential, unless confidentiality is waived by the judge or justice, but all subsequent hearings conducted by the commission shall be open to members of the public.~~

~~Whenever the commission adopts a recommendation that a judge or justice be removed, the judge or justice shall be suspended immediately, with salary, from his or her judicial position until a final determination is made by the supreme court.~~

MOTION

On motion of Senator Pullen, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Joint Resolution No. 8202 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the joint resolution was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bailey: "Senator Pullen, thank you and the rest for some very fine legislation, but it stresses open meetings. It doesn't stress whether it be under the Open Meetings Act law or whether we will draft rules and regulations for open meetings? After Senator Talmadge's remarks, I'm in a little quandary."

Senator Pullen: "The answer to your question is that the constitutional amendment is fairly broadly written in that regard. The Legislature would have flexibility on how to approach the subject. I would draw your attention to the bill that will soon be coming up before us, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5186, and the floor amendment that will soon be distributed. In the floor amendment, there are two provisions. In Section 5, the Commission is put under the Administrative Procedures Act. That would result in more open notice and more input to and from the public, and more public scrutiny. Then, finally, in a later section of the bill, Section 11, we specify that the Commission is subject to the Open Meetings Act, Chapter 42.30 RCW, so those are the structural ways in which we will implement the openness."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Joint Resolution No. 8202.

(For purposes of this chapter:) Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Admonish" or "admonishment" means to issue a written disposition of an advisory nature which cautions the judge or justice not to engage in certain proscribed behavior. The commission may require the judge or justice to follow a corrective course of action, which shall be set forth in writing.

(2) "Censure" means a written action of the commission requiring the judge or justice to appear personally before the commission, finding that conduct of a judge or justice is a violation of a rule of judicial conduct and detrimentally affects the integrity of the judiciary and undermines the public confidence in the administration of justice but does not require a recommendation to the supreme court that the judge or justice be suspended or removed. The commission shall require the judge or justice to follow a corrective course of action, which shall be set forth in writing.

(3) "Commission" means the commission on judicial conduct provided for in Article IV, section 31 of the state Constitution, which is authorized to recommend to the supreme court, after notice and hearing, the (~~commission~~) suspension or removal of a judge or justice for violating a rule of judicial conduct, or the retirement of a judge or justice for disability (~~which is permanent or likely to become permanent, and which seriously interferes with the performance of judicial duties. (5) "Remove" means a written recommendation by the commission and a finding by the supreme court that the conduct of a judge or justice is a violation of a rule of judicial conduct and seriously impairs the integrity of the judiciary and substantially undermines the public confidence in the administration of justice to such a degree that the judge or justice should be relieved of all duties of his or her office. The person is ineligible to be a judge or justice until eligibility is restored by the supreme court. At the time of removal, the office becomes vacant.

(6) "Reprimand" means a written action of the commission, requiring the judge or justice to appear personally before the commission, finding that the conduct of the judge or justice is a minor violation of the code of judicial conduct and does not require censure or a formal recommendation to the supreme court that the judge or justice be suspended or removed. NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 2.64 RCW to read as follows:

All members of the commission shall be subject to confirmation by the senate. Members of the commission on the effective date of the act shall not be subject to confirmation.

Sec. 3. Section 6, chapter 268, Laws of 1981 and RCW 2.64.050 are each amended to read as follows:

The commission shall appoint an executive secretary, subject to confirmation by the senate.

The executive secretary shall have (1) a law degree or a background in law enforcement, (2) at least five years' investigative or prosecutorial experience, and (3) any additional qualifications as established by the commission. The commission may employ (~~any~~) other personnel, including (~~lawyers~~) attorneys, and make any other expenditures necessary for the effective performance of its duties and the exercise of its powers. The commission may hire attorneys by personal service contract to conduct initial proceedings regarding a complaint against a judge or justice. Commission employees shall be exempt from the civil service law, chapter 41.06 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 2.64 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The commission is authorized to impose the following disciplinary actions, in increasing order of severity: (a) Admonishment; (b) reprimand; or (c) censure. If the conduct of the judge or justice warrants more severe disciplinary action, the commission may recommend to the supreme court the suspension or removal of the judge or justice.

(2) In determining the appropriate disciplinary action, the following factors, among others, shall be considered: (a) Whether the misconduct is an isolated incident or evidences a pattern of conduct; (b) the nature, extent, and frequency of occurrence of the acts of misconduct; (c) whether the misconduct occurred in or out of the courtroom; (d) whether the misconduct occurred in the judge's official capacity or in the judge's private life; (e) whether the judge has acknowledged or recognized that the acts occurred; (f) whether the judge has evidenced an effort to change or modify his or her conduct; (g) the length of service on the bench; (h) whether there have been prior complaints about the judge; (i) the effect the misconduct has upon the integrity of and respect for the judiciary; and (j) the extent to which the judge exploited his or her position to satisfy personal desires.

(3) The commission shall develop rules which provide for more severe disciplinary action when a judge or justice has violated the same or substantially similar rule of judicial conduct for a second or subsequent time.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 2.64 RCW to read as follows:

The commission shall establish rules for the commission pursuant to chapter 34.05 RCW, the administrative procedure act. The rules shall provide for due process and confidentiality, with due regard for waiver of confidentiality and the privacy interests of judges and justices, persons filing complaints with the commission, and persons giving information to the commission.

Any person violating a rule or statute on confidentiality is subject to a proceeding for contempt in superior court.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. A new section is added to chapter 2.64 RCW to read as follows:

All pleadings, papers, evidence records, and files of the commission, including complaints and the identity of complainants, compiled or obtained during the course of an investigation, initial proceeding, or executive session involving the discipline or retirement of a judge or justice, are exempt from the public disclosure requirements of chapter 42.17 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. A new section is added to chapter 2.64 RCW to read as follows:

Complaints against a judge or justice for violating a rule of judicial conduct or complaints that a judge or justice should be retired for a disability which is permanent, or is likely to become permanent, and which seriously interferes with the performance of judicial duties shall be filed with the commission. Whenever the commission receives a complaint against a judge or justice, it shall first conduct initial proceedings for the purpose of determining whether sufficient reason exists to believe that the allegation in the complaint may be true and if proven would result in disciplinary action or retirement. These initial proceedings shall be confidential except as may be provided by rule pursuant to section 5 of this act.

Upon completion of the initial proceedings, the commission shall either: Conduct a public hearing if it determines that sufficient reason exists to believe that the allegation in the complaint may be true and if proven would result in disciplinary action or retirement; or dismiss the complaint for insufficient grounds. All hearings subsequent to the initial proceedings conducted by the commission shall be open to members of the public.

Upon the completion of the commission's public hearings, the commission may only: (1) Dismiss the complaint; (2) discipline the judge or justice by admonishing, reprimanding, or censuring him or her or recommending to the supreme court that the judge or justice be suspended or removed; or (3) recommend to the supreme court that the judge or justice be retired. These shall be the only actions available to the commission. A judge or justice may only appeal a disciplinary action of the commission which admonishes, reprimands, or censures the judge or justice and such appeal shall be by direct review to the supreme court.

All actions to admonish, reprimand, or censure, and all recommendations to the supreme court to suspend, remove, or retire a judge or justice, shall immediately be made public.

If a judge or justice has been previously retired by the supreme court or subject to any disciplinary action by the commission or the supreme court, the nature of such actions must be made a part of the record of any initial proceedings or any subsequent public hearings.

Upon conclusion of any proceedings or hearings, the commission shall promptly notify the complainant in writing of its final disposition of the complaint.

Whenever the commission adopts a recommendation that a judge or justice be removed, the judge or justice shall be suspended immediately, with salary, from his or her judicial position upon filing of the recommendation with the supreme court and until a final determination is made by the supreme court.

Whenever the commission adopts a recommendation of suspension or removal of a judge or justice, the commission shall concurrently file a report on the recommendation to both houses of the legislature. The house of representatives may consider the possibility of impeachment of the judge or justice under Article V of the state Constitution or removal under Article IV, section 9 of the state Constitution.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. A new section is added to chapter 2.64 RCW to read as follows:

Upon a recommendation by the commission, the supreme court may suspend or remove a judge or justice for violating a rule of judicial conduct and may retire a judge or justice for disability which is permanent or is likely to become permanent and which seriously interferes with the performance of judicial duties.

The supreme court may not suspend, remove, or retire a judge or justice until the court conducts a hearing, after notice to the judge or justice, to review commission proceedings and hearings and the findings against a judge or justice. The office of a judge or justice retired or removed by the supreme court becomes vacant, and that person is ineligible for judicial office until eligibility is reinstated by the supreme court. The salary of a judge or justice removed from office shall cease. The supreme court shall specify the effect upon salary when disciplinary action other than removal is taken.

The retirement of a judge or justice by the supreme court pursuant to this section shall not restrict or diminish the authority of the legislature to retire a judge or justice pursuant to Article IV, section 3 (a) of the state Constitution.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. A new section is added to chapter 2.64 RCW to read as follows:

The commission is authorized to investigate and consider for probative value any conduct that may have occurred prior to, on, or after December 4, 1980, by a person who was, or is now, a judge or justice when such conduct relates to a complaint filed with the commission against the same judge or justice.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. A new section is added to chapter 2.64 RCW to read as follows:

The adjudicative proceedings, judicial review, and civil enforcement provisions of chapter 34.05 RCW, the administrative procedure act, do not apply to any investigations, initial proceedings, public hearings, or executive sessions involving the discipline or retirement of a judge or justice.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. A new section is added to chapter 2.64 RCW to read as follows:

The commission is subject to the open public meetings act, chapter 42.30 RCW. However, investigations, initial proceedings, public hearings, and executive sessions involving the discipline or retirement of a judge or justice are governed by this chapter and are exempt from the provisions of chapter 42.30 RCW.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lee: "Senator Pullen, one of the things that I'd be interested in knowing before voting on this bill is a situation that had been happening, where individual lay citizens had filed complaints and had been at one time informed that once that complaint had been filed, they could not tell anyone else about it or they would be in contempt of court if they did so. Does this act do anything to alleviate that condition?"

Senator Pullen: "This particular bill does provide that a person should not violate rules and statutes on confidentiality and if they do, they are subject to contempt proceedings. That is essentially the current structure. Under the current structure, the Judicial Conduct Commission recently changed its rule to take care of the situation you describe. Previously, people interpreted the commission's rule to mean that if a complaint had been filed by a citizen, that citizen may not publicly make mention of the fact that a complaint has been filed, nor discuss the subject matter with any one surrounding the complaint. The recent change in rule by the commission now still prohibits discussing publicly the complaint, but the subject matter that prompted the complaint, can be discussed with any one under current rules including your friends, or legislators, or news media, or whoever. So, that situation has been resolved, I think, by the recent change in the commission's rule and the public seems to be satisfied with the current structure."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senators Pullen, McMullen, Talmadge, Niemi and Hayner on page 1, line 7, to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5186.

The motion by Senator Pullen carried and the amendment was adopted.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Pullen, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 1, after "conduct," strike everything down through "date," on line 5, and insert: "amending RCW 2.64.010, 2.64.050, 34.05.030, and 42.30.140; adding new sections to chapter 2.64 RCW; repealing RCW 2.64.091 and 2.64.110; and providing a contingent effective date."

On motion of Senator Pullen, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5186 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5186.

I imagine they can correct that by a little chastising of the skippers, but what is this other plan that you have envisioned?"

That case that I mentioned was just an example of some of the problems that we've had that forced us to recognize that we're going to have to deal with the whole problem of marine plastics. You've seen the pictures of the sea life that's been entrapped in plastic and so forth. We have to deal with this problem and this is their plan that we're putting into effect."

STATEMENT FOR THE JOURNAL

March 10, 1989

I did not vote on Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5364 because of a potential conflict of interest. My wife, through her own company, Jeanne Ehrlichman Bluechel and Associates has been asked by the Department of Natural Resources to bid on a small personal services contract that would include among other tasks the designing of a system for a public/private partnership on the clean-up of plastics and marine debris.

In January, I signed the bill as a secondary sponsor, not knowing that this request would be made to my wife's company.

The Department of Natural Resources made this request on or about March 1, 1989, because of previous experience with her company while she was consulting on private projects.

SENATOR ALAN BLUECHEL,
45th District

POINT OF ORDER

Senator West: "Thank you, Mr. President. I would call for a point of order. The amendment is obviously beyond the scope of object of the bill. While it's a good and well intentioned amendment, and something I think that we would like to do in some form of tax reform, it is well beyond the scope. The bill before us is a BIDCO bill that provides a mechanism for new investment in state businesses. It contains a tax credit provision that applies only to those businesses which put money into BIDCO for investment purposes. The proposed amendment goes beyond the original bill. In effect, it changes a tax credit that's currently in law, to a tax exemption for all businesses, not just those businesses that are investing in new small businesses. So, it's quite obvious that this amendment, while well intentioned and a good amendment that we probably ought to adopt in another bill or should be a bill by itself, is well beyond the scope of object."

Further debate ensued.

On motion of Senator Nelson, further consideration of Senate Bill No. 5204 was deferred.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Lee: "A point of order, Mr. President. I raise the point of order that the amendment expands the scope and object of the bill and I'd like to speak to that briefly. These particular amendments are encompassed in another measure and it is a measure that I did support and sign out of the committee, but it expands the scope and object of this bill considerably.

"A couple of the clues to that expansion, in fact, is the title amendment that is required, which is adding at least four other RCWs that are not being amended at all by the original bill--the fact that we even have to go into the intent section to amend that so that the bill would fit on it. The original bill, the one that we have before us, the substitute bill, creates the State Job Training Coordinating Council consistent with federal law. It is an independent body which is to produce a state-wide plan for the use of federal job training partnership act monies, using the private industry councils which already exist, and places those in state statute. Their job is to analyze what needs to be done. The amendments proposed here would put the cart before the horse and actually create a new program in the Department of Employment Security called Operation SPLICE and whereas the bill itself is a study in which to determine whether or not programs such as SPLICE should be carried out and how they should be carried out."

Further debate ensued.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Newhouse, further consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5383 was deferred.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5590, by Senators Conner, Johnson, Newhouse, Rasmussen, Hansen and von Reichbauer

On motion of Senator Nelson, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5590 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

"Sec. 2. Section 19, chapter 7, Laws of 1983 as amended by section 1, chapter 149, Laws of 1987 and RCW 88.02.060 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Each vessel dealer in this state shall register with the department in the manner and upon forms prescribed by the department, in accordance with rules adopted under chapter ~~((34.04))~~ 34.05 RCW. After the completed vessel dealer application has been satisfactorily filed and the applicant is eligible as determined by the department's rules, the department shall, if no denial proceeding is in effect, issue the vessel dealer's registration on the basis of staggered annual expiration dates.

(2) Before issuing a vessel dealer's registration, the department shall require the applicant to file with the department a surety bond in the amount of five thousand dollars, running to the state of Washington, and executed by a surety company authorized to do business in the state of Washington. The bond shall be approved by the attorney general as to form and conditioned that the dealer shall conduct his or her business in conformity with the provisions of this chapter. Exemptions to vessel dealer registration surety bond requirements shall include use of cash deposits. In lieu of the surety bond, a vessel dealer may deposit cash in a public depository, as defined in RCW 39.58.010, equivalent in amount to the surety bond in the manner prescribed by the department by rule, on the condition that such equivalent cash account is maintained, and that notice and payment of any judgment obtained under this section against the dealer and such account will be rendered as required under this section. Any interest accruing to the account is payable to the registrant. The department may require a registrant who uses a cash deposit in lieu of a bond to certify in writing that he or she will conduct his or her business in conformity with the provisions of this chapter. An account established for security under this chapter may not be used as security for any other purposes.

The cash deposit shall be returned to the licensee one year after the license has expired or one year after a surety bond has been filed for the same license if no legal action has been initiated against the licensee or the cash deposit at the expiration of the year.

Any vessel consignor or purchaser who has suffered any loss or damage by reason of any act or omission by a dealer that constitutes a violation of this chapter may institute an action for recovery against the dealer, and the surety upon the bond, or the account established by the dealer in lieu of the bond.

If a cash deposit is made in lieu of a surety bond as required by this section, the holder of any judgment against the vessel dealer and the cash account shall notify the dealer and the department of the judgment by sending a certified copy of the judgment by registered or certified mail within ten business days after the judgment is entered. The department shall issue a notice to the depository institution holding the account to authorize the disbursement of funds equal to the judgment unless otherwise provided by this section. The depository institution shall make payment to the person specified in the notice within twenty days of receipt of the notice, and shall notify the department by registered or certified mail of such payment.

Successive recoveries against the bond shall be permitted, but the aggregate liability of the surety to all persons shall not exceed the amount of the bond. Upon exhaustion of the penalty of the bond or cancellation of the bond by the surety, or upon the dealer's failure to maintain, within twenty days of any withdrawal, the equivalent amount of cash in lieu of the surety bond as required under this section, the vessel dealer registration shall automatically be deemed canceled. The depository institution shall notify the department within twenty days of any such account that is not maintained in accordance with this section.

(3) Vessel dealers selling fifteen vessels or fewer per year having a retail value of no more than two thousand dollars each shall not be subject to the provisions of subsection (2) of this section.

(4) For the fiscal biennium from July 1, 1987, through June 30, 1989, the registration fee for dealers shall be fifty dollars per year for an original registration, and twenty-five dollars for any subsequent renewal. In addition, a fee of twenty-five dollars shall be collected for the first decal, fifteen dollars for each additional decal, and fifteen dollars for each vessel dealer display decal replacement. In ensuing biennia, the director shall establish the amount of such fees at a sufficient level to defray the costs of administering the vessel dealer registration program. All such fees shall be fixed by rule adopted by the director in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act, chapter ~~((34.04))~~ 34.05 RCW. All fees collected under this section shall be deposited with the state treasurer and credited to the general fund."

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 6012, by Senator Lee

Permitting the leasing of surplus school property.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Bailey, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 6012 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talmadge: "Senator Bailey, in reading this, the concern I have is the school district enters into a lease to lease a school building and, presumably, the building remains in existence and say the lease is for a twenty-five year period. Fifteen years into the agreement, it becomes very clear that the district needs that building back, because the school population has increased or whatever. They need it for school purposes. Why shouldn't the district be able to recapture that building for school use? When, if the property really was totally surplus, they could have surplussed it and sold the property entirely and never had to worry about the leasing?"

Senator Bailey: "Senator Talmadge, may I relay your question to Senator Lee?"

Senator Talmadge: "Certainly."

REMARKS BY SENATOR LEE

Senator Lee: "I'll be glad to attempt to answer the question. The way the current statute is, is that the building itself has to be able to be used again for classroom purposes. In other words, you could take a building and turn it into an office building with a long-term lease and it would be clear that it would conform to the law. But, if you turned a building into an apartment building which then would require subsequent remodeling to be used for school purposes--in other words, what we're saying is that it can still be recaptured for use, but not immediately into classrooms. The school districts have been advised that they could not do that and so making this change will allow them to do so. They can still, at the time the lease expires--and truly that building is needed again--they can use it again, but it might require some remodeling."

Senator Talmadge: "Wouldn't they sell the property under the circumstances you talk about, where they remodel it so completely that it is not capable of being used as a school building any more?"

Senator Lee: "That's entirely possible, Senator Talmadge. Let's take a hypothetical example. Let's say that a school district is not certain whether or not there will ever be enough school population to use the particular building, but yet it's in a fairly desirable location as far as turning it into an apartment building, which they wouldn't be able to do unless we changed this law. Then, at the end of the expiration of that lease, they would have that opportunity to make the decision--to sell it. They would certainly know by then whether or not the population was going to increase once again, or to renew the lease, or to use it again for a school building, if indeed they were at the point where that need had been demonstrated."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Bailey, are we short of school building funds now?"

Senator Bailey: "Yes."

Senator Rasmussen: "How short?"

Senator Bailey: "We're three hundred and twenty-one million dollars short."

Senator Rasmussen: "That leads to my other question. Many of these schools were built, of course, with ninety percent of state money?"

Senator Bailey: "Some of them, yes."

Senator Rasmussen: "In the event that a school building that is built with ninety percent state money is sold or leased, does the state building fund recover any money?"

Senator Bailey: "No."

Senator Rasmussen: "If not, why not?"
