(1) A person is guilty of rape of a child in the second degree when the person has sexual intercourse with another who is at least twelve years old but less than fourteen years old and not married to the perpetrator and the perpetrator is at least thirty-six months older than the victim.

Sec. 804. Section 9A.88.010, chapter 260, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. as amended by section 1, chapter 277, Laws of 1987 and RCW 9A.88.010 are each amended to read as follows:

PART IX CIVIL COMMITMENT

NEW SECTION. Sec. 901. The legislature finds that a small but extremely dangerous group of sexually violent predators exist who do not have a mental disease or defect that renders them appropriate for the existing involuntary treatment act, chapter 71.05 RCW, which is intended to be a short-term civil commitment system that is primarily designed to provide short-term treatment to individuals with serious mental disorders and then return them to the community. In contrast to persons appropriate for civil commitment under chapter 71.05 RCW, sexually violent predators generally have antisocial personality features which are unamenable to existing mental illness treatment modalities and those features render them likely to engage in sexually violent behavior. The legislature further finds that sex offenders' likelihood of engaging in repeat acts of predatory sexual violence is high. The existing involuntary commitment act, chapter 71.05 RCW, is inadequate to address the risk to reoffend because during confinement these offenders do not have access to potential victims and therefore they will not engage in an overt act during confinement as required by the involuntary treatment act for continued confinement. The legislature further finds that the prognosis for curing sexually violent offenders is poor, the treatment needs of this population are very long term, and the treatment modalities for this population are very different than the traditional treatment modalities for people appropriate for commitment under the involuntary treatment act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 902. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Sexually violent predator" means any person who has been convicted of or charged with a crime of sexual violence and who suffers from a mental abnormality or personality disorder which makes the person likely to engage in predatory acts of sexual violence.

(2) "Mental abnormality" means a congenital or acquired condition affecting the emotional or volitional capacity which predisposes the person to the commission of criminal sexual acts in a degree constituting such person a menace to the health and safety of others.

(3) "Predatory" means acts directed towards strangers or individuals with whom a relationship has been established or promoted for the primary purpose of victimization.

(4) "Sexually violent offense" means: (a) An act defined in Title 9A RCW as rape in the first degree, rape in the second degree by forcible compulsion, rape of a child in the first or second degree, statutory rape in the first or second degree, indecent liberties by forcible compulsion, indecent liberties against a child under age fourteen, incest against a child under age fourteen, or child molestation in the first or second degree; (b) any conviction for a felony offense in effect at any time prior to the effective date of this section, that is comparable to a sexually violent offense as defined in subsection (4)(a) of this section, or any federal or out-of-state conviction for a felony offense that under the laws of this state would be a sexually violent offense as defined in this subsection; or (c) any act of murder in the first or second degree, assault in the first or second degree, kidnapping in the first or second degree, burglary in the first degree, residential burglary, or unlawful imprisonment, which act, either at the time of sentencing for the offense or subsequently during civil commitment proceedings pursuant to this section, has been determined beyond a reasonable doubt to have been sexually motivated, as that term is defined in section 602 of this act; or, as described in chapter 9A.28 RCW, is an attempt, criminal solicitation, or criminal conspiracy to commit one of the felonies designated in (a), (b), or (c) of this subsection.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 903. When it appears that: (1) The sentence of a person who has been convicted of a sexually violent offense is about to or has expired at any time in the past; (2) the term of confinement of a person found to have committed a sexually violent offense as a juvenile is about to or has expired; (3) a person who has been charged with a sexually violent offense and has been determined to be incompetent to stand trial is about to be or has been released pursuant to RCW 10.77.090(3); or (4) a person who has been found not guilty by reason of insanity of a sexually violent offense is about to be released pursuant to RCW 10.77.020(3); and it appears that the person may be a sexually violent predator, the prosecuting attorney of the county where the person was convicted or charged or the attorney general if requested by the prosecuting attorney may file a petition alleging that the person is a "sexually violent predator" and stating sufficient facts to support such allegation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 904. Upon the filing of a petition under section 903 of this act, the judge shall determine whether probable cause exists to believe that the person named in the petition is a sexually violent predator. If such determination is made the judge shall direct that the person be taken into custody and the person shall be transferred to an appropriate facility for an evaluation as to whether the person is a sexually violent predator. The evaluation shall be conducted by a person deemed to be professionally qualified to conduct such an examination pursuant to rules developed by the department of social and health services. In adopting such rules, the department of social and health services shall consult with the department of health and the department of corrections.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 905. Within forty-five days after the filing of a petition pursuant to section 903 of this act, the court shall conduct a trial to determine whether the person is a sexually violent predator. At all stages of the proceedings under this chapter, any person subject to this chapter shall be entitled to the assistance of counsel, and if the person is indigent, the court shall appoint counsel to assist him or her. Whenever any person is subjected to an examination under this chapter, he or she may retain experts or professional persons to perform an examination on their behalf. When the person wishes to be examined by a qualified expert or professional person of his or her own choice, such examiner shall be permitted to have reasonable access to the person for the purpose of such examination, as well as to all relevant medical and psychological records and reports. In the case of a person who is indigent, the court shall, upon the person's request, assist the person in obtaining an expert or professional person to perform an examination or participate in the trial on the person's behalf. The person, the prosecuting attorney or attorney general, or the judge shall have the right to demand that the trial be before a jury. If no demand is made, the trial shall be before the court.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 906. (1) The court or jury shall determine whether, beyond a reasonable doubt, the person is a sexually violent predator. If the state alleges that the prior sexually violent offense that forms the basis for the petition for commitment was an act that was sexually motivated as provided in section 902(3)(c) of this act, the state must prove beyond a reasonable doubt that the alleged sexually violent act was sexually motivated as defined in section 602 of this act. If the court or jury determines that the person is a sexually violent predator, the person shall be committed to the custody of the department of social and health services in a secure facility for control, care, and treatment until such time as the person's mental abnormality or personality disorder has so changed that the person is safe to be at large. Such control, care, and treatment shall be provided at a facility operated by the department of social and health services. If the court or jury is not satisfied beyond a reasonable doubt that the person is a sexually violent predator, the court shall direct the person's release.

(2) If the person charged with a sexually violent offense has been found incompetent to stand trial, and is about to or has been released pursuant to RCW 10.77.090(3), and his or her commitment is sought pursuant to subsection (1) of this section, the court shall first hear evidence and determine whether the person did commit the act or acts charged if the court did not enter a finding prior to dismissal under RCW 10.77.090(3) that the person committed the act or acts charged. The hearing on this issue must comply with all the procedures specified in this section. In addition, the rules of evidence applicable in criminal cases shall apply, and all constitutional rights available to defendants at criminal trials, other than the right not to be tried while incompetent, shall apply. After hearing evidence on this issue, the court shall make specific findings on whether the person did commit the act or acts charged, the extent to which the person's incompetence or developmental disability affected the outcome of the hearing, including its effect on the person's ability to consult with and assist counsel and to testify on his or her own behalf, the extent to which the evidence could be reconstructed without the assistance of the person, and the strength of the prosecution's case. If, after the conclusion of the hearing on this issue, the court finds, beyond a reasonable doubt, that the person did commit the act or acts charged, it shall enter a final order, appealable by the person, on that issue, and may proceed to consider whether the person should be committed pursuant to this section.

(3) The state shall comply with RCW 10.77.220 while confining the person pursuant to this chapter. The facility shall not be located at the present Western or Eastern state hospital since these institutions are insufficiently secure for this population.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 907. Each person committed under this chapter shall have a current examination of his or her mental condition made at least once every year. The person may retain, or if he or she is indigent and so requests, the court may appoint a qualified expert or a professional person to examine him or her, and such expert or professional person shall have access to all records concerning the person. The periodic report shall be provided to the court that committed the person under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 908. Each person involuntarily detained or committed under this chapter shall have the right to adequate care and individualized treatment.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 909. (1) If the secretary of the department of social and health services determines that the person's mental abnormality or personality disorder has so changed that the person is not likely to commit predatory acts of sexual violence if released, the secretary shall authorize the person to petition the court for release. The petition shall be served upon the court and the prosecuting attorney. The court, upon receipt of the petition for release, shall within forty-five days order a hearing. The prosecuting attorney or the attorney general, if requested by the county, shall represent the state, and shall have the right to have the petitioner examined by an expert or professional person of his or her choice. The hearing shall be before a jury if demanded by either the petitioner or the prosecuting attorney or attorney general.

The burden of proof shall be upon the prosecuting attorney or attorney general to show beyond a reasonable doubt that the petitioner's mental abnormality or personality disorder remains such that the petitioner is not safe to be at large and that if discharged is likely to commit predatory acts of sexual violence.

(2) Nothing contained in this chapter shall prohibit the person from otherwise petitioning the court for discharge without the secretary's approval. The secretary shall provide the committed person with an annual written notice of the person's right to petition the court for release over the secretary's objection. The notice shall contain a waiver of rights. The secretary shall forward the notice and waiver form to the court with the annual report. If the person does not affirmatively waive the right to petition, the court shall set a show cause hearing to determine whether facts exist that warrant a hearing on whether the person's condition has so changed that he or she is safe to be at large. The committed person shall have a right to have an attorney represent him or her at the show cause hearing but the person is not entitled to be present at the show cause hearing. If the court at the show cause hearing determines that probable cause exists to believe that the person's mental abnormality or personality disorder has so changed that the person is safe to be at large and will not engage in acts of sexual violence if discharged, then the court shall set a hearing on the issue. At the hearing, the committed person shall be entitled to be present and to the benefit of all constitutional protections that were afforded to the person at the initial commitment proceeding. The prosecuting attorney or the attorney general if requested by the county shall represent the state and shall have a right to a jury trial and to have the committed person evaluated by experts chosen by the state. The committed person shall also have the right to have experts evaluate him or her on his or her behalf and the court shall appoint an expert if the person is indigent and requests an appointment. The burden of proof at the hearing shall be upon the state to prove by a preponderance of the evidence that the committed person's mental abnormality or personality disorder remains such that the person is not safe to be at large and if released will engage in acts of sexual violence.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 910. Nothing in this chapter shall prohibit a person from filing a petition for discharge pursuant to this chapter. However, if a person has previously filed a petition for discharge without the secretary's approval and the court determined, either upon review of the petition or following a hearing, that the petitioner's petition was frivolous or that the petitioner's condition had not so changed that he or she was safe to be at large, then the court shall deny the subsequent petition unless the petition contains facts upon which a court could find that the condition of the petitioner had so changed that a hearing was warranted. Upon receipt of a first or subsequent petition from committed persons without the secretary's approval, the court shall endeavor whenever possible to review the petition and determine if the petition is based upon frivolous grounds and if so shall deny the petition without a hearing.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 911. The department of social and health services shall be responsible for all costs relating to the evaluation and treatment of persons committed to their custody under any provision of this chapter. Reimbursement may be obtained by the department for the cost of care and treatment of persons committed to its custody pursuant to RCW 43.20B.330 through 43.20B.370.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 912. In addition to any other information required to be released under this chapter, the department is authorized, pursuant to sections 116 through 118 of this act, to release relevant information that is necessary to protect the public, concerning a specific sexually violent predator committed under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 913. Sections 901 through 912 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 71 RCW.

(1) After January 1, 1988, and notwithstanding any provision of RCW 43.43.700 through 43.43.810 to the contrary, the state patrol shall furnish a transcript of the conviction record, disciplinary board final decision and any subsequent criminal charges associated with the conduct that is the subject of the disciplinary board final decision, or civil adjudication record pertaining to any person for whom the state patrol or the federal bureau of investigation has a record upon the written request of:

- (a) The subject of the inquiry;
- (b) Any business or organization for the purpose of conducting evaluations under RCW 43.43.832;
- (c) The department of social and health services;
- (d) Any law enforcement agency, prosecuting authority, or the office of the attorney general; or

However, access to conviction records pursuant to this subsection (1)(e) does not limit or restrict the ability of the department to obtain additional information regarding conviction records and pending charges as set forth in RCW 74.15.030(2)(b).

After processing the request, if the conviction record, disciplinary board final decision and any subsequent criminal charges associated with the conduct that is the subject of the disciplinary board final decision, or adjudication record shows no evidence of a crime against children or other persons or, in the case of vulnerable adults, no evidence of crimes relating to financial exploitation in which the victim was a vulnerable adult, an identification declaring the showing of no evidence shall be issued to the applicant by the state patrol and shall be issued within fourteen working days of the request. Possession of such identification shall satisfy future background check requirements for the applicant for a two-year period unless the prospective employee is any current school district employee who has applied for a position in another school district.

(2) The state patrol shall by rule establish fees for disseminating records under this section to recipients identified in subsection (1)(a) and (b) of this section. The state patrol shall also by rule establish fees for disseminating records in the custody of the national crime information center. The revenue from the fees shall cover, as nearly as practicable, the direct and indirect costs to the state patrol of disseminating the records: PROVIDED, That no fee shall be charged to a nonprofit organization, including school districts and educational service districts, for the records check.

(3) No employee of the state, employee of a business or organization, or the business or organization is liable for defamation, invasion of privacy, negligence, or any other claim in connection with any lawful dissemination of information under RCW 43.43.830 through 43.43.840 or RCW 43.43.760.

(4) Before July 26, 1987, the state patrol shall adopt rules and forms to implement this section and to provide for security and privacy of information disseminated under this section, giving first priority to the criminal justice requirements of this chapter. The rules may include requirements for users, audits of users, and other procedures to prevent use of civil adjudication record information or criminal history record information inconsistent with this chapter.

(5) Nothing in RCW 43.43.830 through 43.43.840 shall authorize an employer to make an inquiry not specifically authorized by this chapter, or be construed to affect the policy of the state declared in chapter 9.96A RCW.

PART XI COMMUNITY ACTION

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1101. The legislature recognizes the need to increase the services available to the victims of sex offenders. The legislature also recognizes that these services are most effectively planned and provided at the local level through the combined efforts of concerned community and citizens groups, treatment providers, and local government officials. The legislature further recognizes that adequate treatment for victims is not only a matter of justice for the victim, but also a method by which additional abuse can be prevented.

The legislature intends to enhance the community-based treatment services available to the victims of sex offenders by:

- (1) Providing funding support for local treatment programs which provide services to victims of sex offenders.
- (2) Providing technical assistance and support to help communities plan for and provide treatment services; and
- (3) Providing communities and local treatment providers with opportunities to share information about successful prevention and treatment programs.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1102. There is established in the department of community development a grant program to enhance the funding for treating the victims of sex offenders. Activities that can be funded through this grant program are limited to those that:

- (1) Provide effective treatment to victims of sex offenders;
- (2) Increase access to and availability of treatment for victims of sex offenders, particularly if from underserved populations; and
- (3) Create or build on efforts by existing community programs, coordinate those efforts, or develop cooperative efforts or other initiatives to make the most effective use of resources to provide treatment services to these victims.

Funding priority shall be given to those applicants that represent well-established existing programs and applicants that represent new programs that are being created in geographic areas where no programs presently exist.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1103. There is established in the department of community development an office of crime victims' advocacy to administer grant programs authorized in section 1102 of this act, and to provide other advocacy services to crime victims. The salary of the administrator shall be set by the governor in accordance with RCW 43.03.030.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1104. Applications for funding under this chapter must:

(1) Present evidence demonstrating how the criteria in section 1101 of this act will be met and demonstrating the effectiveness of the proposal.

(2) Contain evidence of active participation of the community and its commitment to providing an effective treatment service for victims of sex offenders through the participation of local governments, tribal governments, human service and health organizations, and treatment entities and through meaningful involvement from others, including citizen groups.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1105. Local governments, nonprofit community groups, and nonprofit treatment providers including organizations which provide services, such as emergency housing, counseling, and crisis intervention shall, among others, be eligible for grants under the program established in section 1102 of this act.

(4) An explanation of what organizations were involved in the development of the proposal; and

(5) An evaluation methodology.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1107. (1) Subject to funds appropriated by the legislature, the department of community development shall make awards under the grant program established by section 1102 of this act.

(2) Awards shall be made competitively based on the purposes of and criteria in this chapter.

(3) To aid the department of community development in making its determination, the department shall form a peer review committee of members who have experience in the treatment of victims of predatory violent sex offenders. The peer review committee shall advise the department on the extent to which each eligible applicant meets the purposes and criteria of this chapter. The department shall consider this advice in making awards.

(4) Activities funded under this section may be considered for funding in future years, but shall be considered under the same terms and criteria as new activities. Funding under this chapter shall not constitute an obligation by the state of Washington to provide ongoing funding.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1108. The department of community development shall solicit communities for suggestions on state practices, policies, and priorities that would help communities treat victims of sex offenders. The governor or appropriate agency officials shall review and respond to those suggestions, making necessary changes where feasible, making recommendations to the legislature where appropriate, and providing an explanation as to why suggested changes cannot be accomplished, if the suggestions cannot be acted upon.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1109. The department of community development may receive such gifts, grants, and endowments from public or private sources as may be made from time to time, in trust or otherwise, for the use and benefit of the purposes of this chapter and expend the same or any income therefrom according to the terms of the gifts, grants, or endowments.

Sec. 115. Section 17, chapter 205, Laws of 1989 and RCW 71.05.670 are each amended to read as follows:

Except as provided in section 117 of this 1990 act, any person, including the state or any political subdivision of the state, violating RCW 71.05.610 through 71.05.690 shall be subject to the provisions of RCW 71.05.440.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 116. The legislature finds that sex offenders pose a high risk of engaging in sex offenses even after being released from incarceration or commitment and that protection of the public from sex offenders is a paramount governmental interest. The legislature further finds that the penal and mental health components of our justice system are largely hidden from public view and that lack of information from either may result in failure of both systems to meet this paramount concern of public safety. Overly restrictive confidentiality and liability laws governing the release of information about sexual predators have reduced willingness to release information that could be appropriately released under the public disclosure laws, and have increased risks to public safety. Persons found to have committed a sex offense have a reduced expectation of privacy because of the public's interest in public safety and in the effective operation of government. Release of information about sexual predators to public agencies and under limited circumstances, the general public, will further the governmental interests of public safety and public scrutiny of the criminal and mental health systems so long as the information released is rationally related to the furtherance of those goals.

Therefore, this state's policy as expressed in section 117 of this act is to require the exchange of relevant information about sexual predators among public agencies and officials and to authorize the release of necessary and relevant information about sexual predators to members of the general public.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 117. A new section is added to chapter 4.24 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Public agencies are authorized to release relevant and necessary information regarding sex offenders to the public when the release of the information is necessary for public protection.

(2) An elected public official, public employee, or public agency as defined in RCW 4.24-.470 is immune from civil liability for damages for any discretionary decision to release relevant and necessary information, unless it is shown that the official, employee, or agency acted with gross negligence or in bad faith. The authorization and immunity in this section applies to information regarding: (a) A person convicted of, or juvenile found to have committed, a sex offense as defined by RCW 9.94A.030; (b) a person found not guilty of a sex offense by reason of insanity under chapter 10.77 RCW; (c) a person found incompetent to stand trial for a sex offense and subsequently committed under chapter 71.05 or 71.34 RCW; (d) a person committed as a sexual psychopath under chapter 71.06 RCW; or (e) a person committed as a sexually violent predator under sections 1001 through 1012 of this act. The immunity provided under this section applies to the release of relevant information to other employees or officials or to the general public.

(3) Except as otherwise provided by statute, nothing in this section shall impose any liability upon a public official, public employee, or public agency for failing to release information as provided in subsection (2) of this section.

(4) Nothing in this section implies that information regarding persons designated in subsection (2) of this section is confidential except as otherwise provided by statute.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 118. An offender's pending appeal, petition for personal restraint, or writ of habeas corpus shall not restrict the agency's, official's, or employee's authority to release relevant information concerning an offender's prior criminal history. However, the agency must release the latest dispositions of the charges as provided in chapter 10.97 RCW, the Washington state criminal records privacy act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 119. The governor shall cause a study of federal and state statutes and regulations governing the confidentiality and disclosure of information about dangerous offenders in the criminal justice, juvenile justice, and mental health systems. The governor shall report to the legislature no later than November 1, 1990 with recommendations for a comprehensive policy approach to confidentiality and dissemination of information about offenders who pose a danger to the public and recommendations regarding the immunity and liability of public agencies, officials, and employees when releasing or failing to release that information.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 120. A new section is added to chapter 71.06 RCW to read as follows:

In addition to any other information required to be released under this chapter, the department is authorized, pursuant to section 117 of this act, to release relevant information that is necessary to protect the public, concerning a specific sexual psychopath committed under this chapter.

Sec. 121. Section 1, chapter 346, Laws of 1985 as amended by section 1, chapter 30, Laws of 1989 and RCW 9.94A.155 are each amended to read as follows:

If previously requested, the department shall also notify the witnesses and the victim~~((if any))~~ of the crime for which the inmate was convicted or the victim's next of kin if the crime was a homicide. If the inmate is recaptured, the department shall send notice to the persons designated in this subsection as soon as possible but in no event later than two working days after the department learns of such recapture.

((3)) (4) If the victim, the victim's next of kin, or any witness is under the age of sixteen, the notice required by this section shall be sent to the parents or legal guardian of the child.

(5) The department of corrections shall send the notices required by this chapter to the last address provided to the department by the requesting party. The requesting party shall furnish the department with a current address.

((4)) (6) For purposes of this section the following terms have the following meanings:

(a) "Violent offense" means a violent offense under RCW 9.94A.030;

(b) "Next of kin" means a person's spouse, parents, siblings and children.

((5)) (7) Nothing in this section shall impose any liability upon a chief of police of a city or sheriff of a county for failing to request in writing a notice as provided in subsection (1) of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 123. A new section is added to chapter 9.94A RCW to read as follows:

The department, its employees, and officials, shall be immune from liability for release of information regarding sex offenders that complies with section 117 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 124. A new section is added to chapter 9.94A RCW to read as follows:

In addition to any other information required to be released under other provisions of this chapter, the department may, pursuant to section 117 of this act, release information concerning convicted sex offenders confined to the department of corrections.

Sec. 125. Section 9, chapter 155, Laws of 1979 as last amended by section 8, chapter 450, Laws of 1987 and RCW 13.50.050 are each amended to read as follows:

The central record-keeping system may be computerized. If a complaint has been referred to a diversion unit, the diversion unit shall promptly report to the juvenile court or the prosecuting attorney when the juvenile has agreed to diversion. Sec. 302, Section 70, chapter 291, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. as last amended by section 4, chapter 407, Laws of 1989 and RCW 13.40.160 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) When the respondent is found to be a serious offender, the court shall commit the offender to the department for the standard range of disposition for the offense, as indicated in option A of schedule D-3, RCW 13.40.0357 except as provided in subsection (5) of this section.

If the court concludes, and enters reasons for its conclusion, that disposition within the standard range would effectuate a manifest injustice the court shall impose a disposition outside the standard range, as indicated in option B of schedule D-3, RCW 13.40.0357. The court's finding of manifest injustice shall be supported by clear and convincing evidence.

A disposition outside the standard range shall be determinate and shall be comprised of confinement or community supervision, or a combination thereof. When a judge finds a manifest injustice and imposes a sentence of confinement exceeding thirty days, the court shall sentence the juvenile to a maximum term, and the provisions of RCW 13.40.030~~((5))~~(2), as now or hereafter amended, shall be used to determine the range. A disposition outside the standard range is appealable under RCW 13.40.230, as now or hereafter amended, by the state or the respondent. A disposition within the standard range is not appealable under RCW 13.40.230 as now or hereafter amended.

(2) Where the respondent is found to be a minor or first offender, the court shall order that the respondent serve a term of community supervision as indicated in option A or option B of schedule D-1, RCW 13.40.0357 except as provided in subsection (5) of this section. If the court determines that a disposition of community supervision would effectuate a manifest injustice the court may impose another disposition under option C of schedule D-1, RCW 13.40.0357. Except as provided in subsection (5) of this section, a disposition other than a community supervision may be imposed only after the court enters reasons upon which it bases its conclusions that imposition of community supervision would effectuate a manifest injustice. When a judge finds a manifest injustice and imposes a sentence of confinement exceeding thirty days, the court shall sentence the juvenile to a maximum term, and the provisions of RCW 13.40.030~~((5))~~(2), as now or hereafter amended, shall be used to determine the range. The court's finding of manifest injustice shall be supported by clear and convincing evidence.

~~((Any))~~ Except for disposition ((other than)) of community supervision or a disposition imposed pursuant to subsection (5) of this section, a disposition may be appealed as provided in RCW 13.40.230, as now or hereafter amended, by the state or the respondent. A disposition of community supervision or a disposition imposed pursuant to subsection (5) of this section may not be appealed under RCW 13.40.230 as now or hereafter amended.

(3) Where a respondent is found to have committed an offense for which the respondent declined to enter into a diversion agreement, the court shall impose a term of community supervision limited to the conditions allowed in a diversion agreement as provided in RCW 13.40.080(2) as now or hereafter amended.

(4) If a respondent is found to be a middle offender:

(a) The court shall impose a determinate disposition within the standard range(s) for such offense, as indicated in option A of schedule D-2, RCW 13.40.0357 except as provided in subsection (5) of this section: PROVIDED, That if the standard range includes a term of confinement exceeding thirty days, commitment shall be to the department for the standard range of confinement; or

(b) The court shall impose a determinate disposition of community supervision and/or up to thirty days confinement, as indicated in option B of schedule D-2, RCW 13.40.0357 in which case, if confinement has been imposed, the court shall state either aggravating or mitigating factors as set forth in RCW 13.40.150 as now or hereafter amended.

(c) Only if the court concludes, and enters reasons for its conclusions, that disposition as provided in subsection (4) (a) or (b) of this section would effectuate a manifest injustice, the court shall sentence the juvenile to a maximum term, and the provisions of RCW 13.40.030~~((6))~~(2), as now or hereafter amended, shall be used to determine the range. The court's finding of manifest injustice shall be supported by clear and convincing evidence.

(d) A disposition pursuant to subsection (4)(c) of this section is appealable under RCW 13.40.230, as now or hereafter amended, by the state or the respondent. A disposition pursuant to subsection (4) (a) or (b) of this section is not appealable under RCW 13.40.230 as now or hereafter amended.

(5) When a serious, middle, or minor first offender is found to have committed a sex offense, other than a sex offense that is also a serious violent offense as defined by RCW 9.94A.030, and has no history of a prior sex offense, the court, on its own motion or the motion of the state or the respondent, may order an examination to determine whether the respondent is amenable to treatment.

The report of the examination shall include at a minimum the following: The respondent's version of the facts and the official version of the facts, the respondent's offense history, an assessment of problems in addition to alleged deviant behaviors, the respondent's social, educational, and employment situation, and other evaluation measures used. The report shall set forth the sources of the evaluator's information.

The examiner shall assess and report regarding the respondent's amenability to treatment and relative risk to the community. A proposed treatment plan shall be provided and shall include, at a minimum:

(a) (i) Frequency and type of contact between the offender and therapist;

(ii) Specific issues to be addressed in the treatment and description of planned treatment modalities;

(iii) Monitoring plans, including any requirements regarding living conditions, lifestyle requirements, and monitoring by family members, legal guardians, or others;

(iv) Anticipated length of treatment; and

(v) Recommended crime-related prohibitions.

The court on its own motion may order, or on a motion by the state shall order, a second examination regarding the offender's amenability to treatment. The evaluator shall be selected by the party making the motion. The defendant shall pay the cost of any second examination ordered unless the court finds the defendant to be indigent in which case the state shall pay the cost.

After receipt of reports of the examination, the court shall then consider whether the offender and the community will benefit from use of this special sex offender disposition alternative and consider the victim's opinion whether the offender should receive a treatment disposition under this section. If the court determines that this special sex offender disposition alternative is appropriate, then the court shall impose a determinate disposition within the standard range for the offense, and the court may suspend the execution of the disposition and place the offender on community supervision for up to two years. As a condition of the suspended disposition, the court may impose the conditions of community supervision and other conditions, including up to thirty days of confinement and requirements that the offender do any one or more of the following:

(b) (i) Devote time to a specific education, employment, or occupation;

(ii) Undergo available outpatient sex offender treatment for up to two years, or inpatient sex offender treatment not to exceed the standard range of confinement for that offense. A community mental health center may not be used for such treatment unless it has an appropriate program designed for sex offender treatment. The respondent shall not change sex offender treatment providers or treatment conditions without first notifying the prosecutor, the probation counselor, and the court, and shall not change providers without court approval after a hearing if the prosecutor or probation counselor object to the change;

(iii) Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the probation counselor prior to any change in the offender's address, educational program, or employment;

(iv) Report to the prosecutor and the probation counselor prior to any change in a sex offender treatment provider. This change shall have prior approval by the court;

(v) Report as directed to the court and a probation counselor;

(vi) Pay all court-ordered legal financial obligations, perform community service, or any combination thereof; or

(vii) Make restitution to the victim for the cost of any counseling reasonably related to the offense.

The sex offender treatment provider shall submit quarterly reports on the respondent's progress in treatment to the court and the parties. The reports shall reference the treatment plan and include at a minimum the following: Dates of attendance, respondent's compliance with requirements, treatment activities, the respondent's relative progress in treatment, and any other material specified by the court at the time of the disposition.

At the time of the disposition, the court may set treatment review hearings as the court considers appropriate.

After July 1, 1991, examinations and treatment ordered pursuant to this subsection shall only be conducted by sex offender treatment providers certified by the department of health pursuant to sections 801 through 809 of this 1990 act.

If the offender violates any condition of the disposition or the court finds that the respondent is failing to make satisfactory progress in treatment, the court may revoke the suspension and order execution of the sentence. The court shall give credit for any confinement time previously served if that confinement was for the offense for which the suspension is being revoked.

For purposes of this section, "victim" means any person who has sustained emotional, psychological, physical, or financial injury to person or property as a direct result of the crime charged. "Victim" may also include a known parent or guardian of a victim who is a minor child unless the parent or guardian is the perpetrator of the offense.

(6) Whenever a juvenile offender is entitled to credit for time spent in detention prior to a dispositional order, the dispositional order shall specifically state the number of days of credit for time served.

((6) in its dispositional order) (7) Except as provided for in subsection (5) of this section, the court shall not suspend or defer the imposition or the execution of the disposition.

((7)) (8) In no case shall the term of confinement imposed by the court at disposition exceed that to which an adult could be subjected for the same offense.

Sec. 303. Section 65, chapter 291, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. as last amended by section 18, chapter 145, Laws of 1988 and RCW 13.40.110 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The prosecutor, respondent, or the court on its own motion may, before a hearing on the information on its merits, file a motion requesting the court to transfer the respondent for adult criminal prosecution and the matter shall be set for a hearing on the question of declining jurisdiction. Unless waived by the court, the parties, and their counsel, a decline hearing shall be held where:

(a) The respondent is fifteen, sixteen, or seventeen years of age and the information alleges a class A felony or an attempt, solicitation, or conspiracy to commit a class A felony; or

(b) The respondent is seventeen years of age and the information alleges assault in the second degree, extortion in the first degree, indecent liberties, ~~((rape of a child in the second degree,))~~ child molestation in the ~~((first or))~~ second degree, kidnapping in the second degree, ~~((rape in the second degree,))~~ or robbery in the second degree.

(2) The court after a decline hearing may order the case transferred for adult criminal prosecution upon a finding that the declination would be in the best interest of the juvenile or the public. The court shall consider the relevant reports, facts, opinions, and arguments presented by the parties and their counsel.

(3) When the respondent is transferred for criminal prosecution or retained for prosecution in juvenile court, the court shall set forth in writing its finding which shall be supported by relevant facts and opinions produced at the hearing.

Sec. 304. Section 75, chapter 291, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. as last amended by section 4, chapter 505, Laws of 1987 and RCW 13.40.210 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The secretary shall, except in the case of a juvenile committed by a court to a term of confinement in a state institution outside the appropriate standard range for the offense(s) for which the juvenile was found to be guilty established pursuant to RCW 13.40.030, as now or hereafter amended, set a release or discharge date for each juvenile committed to its custody which shall be within the prescribed range to which a juvenile has been committed. Such dates shall be determined prior to the expiration of sixty percent of a juvenile's minimum term of confinement included within the prescribed range to which the juvenile has been committed. The secretary shall release any juvenile committed to the custody of the department within four calendar days prior to the juvenile's release date or on the release date set under this chapter: PROVIDED, That days spent in the custody of the department shall be tolled by any period of time during which a juvenile has absented himself or herself from the department's supervision without the prior approval of the secretary or the secretary's designee.

(2) The secretary shall monitor the average daily population of the state's juvenile residential facilities. When the secretary concludes that in-residence population of residential facilities exceeds one hundred five percent of the rated bed capacity specified in statute, or in absence of such specification, as specified by the department in rule, the secretary may recommend reductions to the governor. On certification by the governor that the recommended reductions are necessary, the secretary has authority to administratively release a sufficient number of offenders to reduce in-residence population to one hundred percent of rated bed capacity. The secretary shall release those offenders who have served the greatest proportion of their sentence. However, the secretary may deny release in a particular case at the request of an offender, or if the secretary finds that there is no responsible custodian, as determined by the department, to whom to release the offender, or if the release of the offender would pose a clear danger to society. The department shall notify the committing court of the release at the end of each calendar year if any such early releases have occurred during that year as a result of excessive in-residence population. In no event shall a serious offender, as defined in RCW 13.40.020(1) be granted release under the provisions of this subsection.

(3) Following the juvenile's release pursuant to subsection (1) of this section, the secretary may require the juvenile to comply with a program of parole to be administered by the department in his or her community which shall last no longer than eighteen months, except that in the case of a juvenile sentenced for rape in the first or second degree, rape of a child in the first or second degree, child molestation in the first degree, or indecent liberties with forcible compulsion, the period of parole shall be twenty-four months. ((Such)) A parole program ((shall be)) is mandatory for offenders released under subsection (2) of this section. The secretary shall, for the period of parole, facilitate the juvenile's reintegration into his or her community and to further this goal may require the juvenile to: (a) Undergo available medical or psychiatric treatment; (b) report as directed to a parole officer; (c) pursue a course of study or vocational training; (d) remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the department of any change in his or her address; and (e) refrain from committing new offenses. After termination of the parole period, the juvenile shall be discharged from the department's supervision.

(4) The department may also modify parole for violation thereof. If, after affording a juvenile all of the due process rights to which he or she would be entitled if the juvenile were an adult, the secretary finds that a juvenile has violated a condition of his or her parole, the secretary shall order one of the following which is reasonably likely to effectuate the purpose of the parole and to protect the public: (a) Continued supervision under the same conditions previously imposed; (b) intensified supervision with increased reporting requirements; (c) additional conditions of supervision authorized by this chapter; ((and)) (d) except as provided in (e) of this subsection, imposition of a period of confinement not to exceed thirty days in a facility operated by or pursuant to a contract with the state of Washington or any city or county for a portion of each day or for a certain number of days each week with the balance of the days or weeks spent under supervision; and (e) the secretary may order any of the conditions or may return the offender to confinement in an institution for the remainder of the sentence range if the offense for which the offender was sentenced is rape in the first or second degree, rape of a child in the first or second degree, child molestation in the first degree, indecent liberties with forcible compulsion, or a sex offense that is also a serious violent offense as defined by RCW 9.94A.030.

(5) A parole officer of the department of social and health services shall have the power to arrest a juvenile under his or her supervision on the same grounds as a law enforcement officer would be authorized to arrest such person.

(6) If so requested and approved under chapter 13.06 RCW, the secretary shall permit a county or group of counties to perform functions under subsections (3) through (5) of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 305. A new section is added to chapter 74.13 RCW to read as follows:

(1) For the purposes of funds appropriated for the treatment of at-risk juvenile sex offenders, "at-risk juvenile sex offenders" means those juveniles in the care and custody of the state who:

- (a) Have been abused; and
- (b) Have committed a sexually aggressive or other violent act that is sexual in nature; or
- (c) Cannot be detained under the juvenile justice system due to being under age twelve and incompetent to stand trial for acts that could be prosecuted as sex offenses as defined by RCW 9.94A.030 if the juvenile was over twelve years of age, or competent to stand trial if under twelve years of age.

(2) In expending these funds, the department of social and health services shall establish in each region a case review committee to review all cases for which the funds are used. In determining whether to use these funds in a particular case, the committee shall consider:

- (a) The age of the juvenile;
- (b) The extent and type of abuse to which the juvenile has been subjected;
- (c) The juvenile's past conduct;
- (d) The benefits that can be expected from the treatment; and
- (e) The cost of the treatment.

PART IV

REGISTRATION OF SEX OFFENDERS

NEW SECTION. Sec. 401. The legislature finds that sex offenders often pose a high risk of reoffense, and that law enforcement's efforts to protect their communities, conduct investigations, and quickly apprehend offenders who commit sex offenses, are impaired by the lack of information available to law enforcement agencies about convicted sex offenders who live within the law enforcement agency's jurisdiction. Therefore, this state's policy is to assist local law enforcement agencies' efforts to protect their communities by regulating sex offenders by requiring sex offenders to register with local law enforcement agencies as provided in section 402 of this act.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 402. A new section is added to chapter 9A.44 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Any adult or juvenile residing in this state who has been found to have committed or has been convicted of any sex offense shall register with the county sheriff for the county of the person's residence.

(2) The person shall, within forty-five days of establishing residence in Washington, or if a current resident within thirty days of release from confinement, if any, provide the county sheriff with the following information: (a) Name; (b) address; (c) place of employment; (d) crime for which convicted; (e) date and place of conviction; (f) aliases used; and (g) social security number.

(3) If any person required to register pursuant to this section changes his or her residence address within the same county, the person must send written notice of the change of address to the county sheriff within ten days of establishing the new residence. If any person required to register pursuant to this section moves to a new county, the person must register with the county sheriff in the new county within ten days of establishing the new residence. The person must also send written notice within ten days of the change of address in the new county to the county sheriff with whom the person last registered.

(4) The county sheriff shall obtain a photograph of the individual and shall obtain a copy of the individual's fingerprints.

(5) "Sex offense" for the purpose of sections 402 through 406 of this act means any offense defined as a sex offense by RCW 9.94A.030:

(a) Committed on or after the effective date of this section; or

(b) Committed prior to the effective date of this section if the person, as a result of the offense, is under the custody or active supervision of the department of corrections or the department of social and health services on or after the effective date of this section.

(6) A person who knowingly fails to register as required by this section is guilty of a class C felony if the crime for which the individual was convicted was a class A felony or a federal or out-of-state conviction for an offense that under the laws of this state would be a class A felony. If the crime was other than a class A felony or a federal or out-of-state conviction for an offense that under the laws of this state would be a class A felony, violation of this section is a gross misdemeanor.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 403. A new section is added to chapter 43.43 RCW to read as follows:

The county sheriff shall forward the information and fingerprints obtained pursuant to section 402 of this act to the Washington state patrol within five working days. The state patrol shall maintain a central registry of sex offenders required to register under section 402 of this act and shall adopt rules consistent with chapters 10.97, 10.98, and 43.43 RCW as are necessary to carry out the purposes of sections 402 through 408 of this act. The Washington state patrol shall reimburse the counties for the costs of processing the sex offender registration, including taking the fingerprints and the photographs.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 404. A new section is added to chapter 10.01 RCW to read as follows:

The court shall provide written notification to any defendant charged with a sex offense of the registration requirements of section 402 of this act. Such notice shall be included on any guilty plea forms and judgment and sentence forms provided to the defendant.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 405. A new section is added to chapter 72.09 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The department shall provide written notification to an inmate convicted of a sex offense of the registration requirements of section 402 of this act at the time of the inmate's release from confinement and shall receive and retain a signed acknowledgement of receipt.

(2) The department shall provide written notification to an individual convicted of a sex offense from another state of the registration requirements of section 402 of this act at the time the department accepts supervision and has legal authority of the individual under the terms and conditions of the interstate compact agreement under RCW 9.95.270.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 406. A new section is added to chapter 70.48 RCW to read as follows:

A person having charge of a jail shall notify in writing any confined person who is in the custody of the jail for a conviction of a sexual offense as defined in RCW 9.94A.030 of the registration requirements of section 402 of this act at the time of the inmate's release from confinement, and shall obtain written acknowledgment of such notification.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 407. A new section is added to chapter 46.20 RCW to read as follows:

The department, at the time a person renews his or her driver's license or identicard, or surrenders a driver's license from another jurisdiction pursuant to RCW 46.20.021 and makes an application for a driver's license or an identicard, shall provide the applicant with written information on the registration requirements of section 402 of this act.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 408. A new section is added to chapter 9A.44 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The duty to register under section 402 of this act shall end:

(a) For a person convicted of a class A felony: Such person may only be relieved of the duty to register under subsection (2) of this section.

(b) For a person convicted of a class B felony: Fifteen years after the last date of release from confinement, if any, (including full-time residential treatment) pursuant to the conviction, or entry of the judgment and sentence, if the person has spent fifteen consecutive years in the community without being convicted of any new offenses.

(c) For a person convicted of a class C felony: Ten years after the last date of release from confinement, if any, (including full-time residential treatment) pursuant to the conviction, or entry of the judgment and sentence, if the person has spent ten consecutive years in the community without being convicted of any new offenses.

(2) Any person having a duty to register under section 402 of this act may petition the superior court to be relieved of that duty. The petition shall be made to the court in which the petitioner was convicted of the offense that subjects him or her to the duty to register, or, in the case of convictions in other states, to the court in Thurston county. The prosecuting attorney of the county shall be named and served as the respondent in any such petition. The court shall consider the nature of the registrable offense committed, and the criminal and relevant noncriminal behavior of the petitioner both before and after conviction, and may consider other factors. The court may relieve the petitioner of the duty to register only if the petitioner shows, with clear and convincing evidence, that future registration of the petitioner will not serve the purposes of sections 402 through 408 of this act.

(3) Unless relieved of the duty to register pursuant to this section, a violation of section 402 of this act is an ongoing offense for purposes of the statute of limitations under RCW 9A.04.080.

(4) Nothing in RCW 9.94A.220 relating to discharge of an offender shall be construed as operating to relieve the offender of his or her duty to register pursuant to section 402 of this act.

Sec. 409, Section 10, chapter 152, Laws of 1972 ex. sess. as last amended by section 6, chapter 346, Laws of 1985 and RCW 43.43.745 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) It shall be the duty of the sheriff or director of public safety of every county, of the chief of police of each city or town, or of every chief officer of other law enforcement agencies operating within this state, to record the fingerprints of all persons held in or remanded to their custody when convicted of any crime as provided for in RCW 43.43.735 for which the penalty of imprisonment might be imposed and to disseminate and file such fingerprints in the same manner as those recorded upon arrest pursuant to RCW 43.43.735 and 43.43.740.

(2) Every time the secretary authorizes a furlough as provided for in RCW 72.66.012 the department of corrections shall notify, forty-eight hours prior to the beginning of such furlough, the section that the named prisoner has been granted a furlough, the place to which furloughed, and the dates and times during which the prisoner will be on furlough status. In the case of an emergency furlough the forty-eight hour time period shall not be required but notification shall be made as promptly as possible and before the prisoner is released on furlough. Upon receipt of furlough information pursuant to the provisions of this subsection the section shall notify the sheriff or director of public safety of the county to which the prisoner is being furloughed, the nearest attachment of the Washington state patrol in the county wherein the furloughed prisoner shall be residing and such other criminal justice agencies as the section may determine should be so notified.

(3) Disposition of the charge for which the arrest was made shall be reported to the section at whatever stage in the proceedings a final disposition occurs by the arresting law enforcement agency, county prosecutor, city attorney, or court having jurisdiction over the offense: PROVIDED, That the chief shall promulgate rules pursuant to chapter 34.05 RCW to carry out the provisions of this subsection.

(4) Whenever a person serving a sentence for a term of confinement in a state correctional facility for convicted felons, pursuant to court commitment, is released on an order of the state indefinite sentence review board (~~(of prison terms and paroles)~~), or is discharged from custody on expiration of sentence, the department of corrections shall promptly notify the section that the named person has been released or discharged, the place to which such person has been released or discharged, and the conditions of his release or discharge, and shall additionally notify the section of change in residence or conditions of release or discharge of persons on active parole supervision, and shall notify the section when persons are discharged from active parole supervision.

~~((No city, town, county, or local law enforcement authority or other agency thereof may require that a convicted felon entering, sojourning, visiting, in transit, or residing in such city, town, county, or local area report or make himself known as a convicted felon or make application for and/or carry on his person a felon identification card or other registration document.))~~ Local law enforcement agencies may require persons convicted of sex offenses to register pursuant to section 402 of this 1990 act. In addition, nothing ~~((herein))~~ in this section shall ~~((however,))~~ be construed to prevent any local law enforcement authority from recording the residency and other information concerning any convicted felon or other person convicted of a criminal offense when such information is obtained from a source other than from ~~((such requirement))~~ registration pursuant to section 402 of this 1990 act which source may include any officer or other agency or subdivision of the state.

PART V

(1) For the purposes of applying for benefits under this chapter, the rights, privileges, responsibilities, duties, limitations and procedures contained in RCW 51.28.020, 51.28.030, 51.28.040 and 51.28.060 as now or hereafter amended shall apply: PROVIDED, That no compensation of any kind shall be available under this chapter if:

(a) An application for benefits is not received by the department within one year after the date the criminal act was reported to a local police department or sheriff's office or the date the rights of dependents or beneficiaries accrued; or

(b) The criminal act is not reported by the victim or someone on his or her behalf to a local police department or sheriff's office within ~~((seventy-two hours))~~ twelve months of its occurrence or, if it could not reasonably have been reported within that period, within ~~((seventy-two hours))~~ twelve months of the time when a report could reasonably have been made. In making determinations as to reasonable time limits, the department shall give greatest weight to the needs of the victims.

(2) This section shall apply only to criminal acts reported after December 31, 1985.

(3) Because victims of childhood criminal acts may repress conscious memory of such criminal acts far beyond the age of eighteen, the rights of adult victims of childhood criminal acts shall accrue at the time the victim discovers or reasonably should have discovered the elements of the crime. In making determinations as to reasonable time limits, the department shall give greatest weight to the needs of the victim.

Sec. 502. Section 7, chapter 122, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. as last amended by section 5, chapter 5, Laws of 1989 1st ex. sess. and RCW 7.68.070 are each amended to read as follows:

Such a plan may include across-the-board reductions in allotments from the account to all nonjudicial agencies except for the crime victims compensation program. In implementing the plan, the director of financial management shall seek the cooperation of judicial agencies in reducing their expenditures from the account. For the purposes of this section, an individual will not be required to use his or her assets other than funds recovered as a result of a civil action or criminal restitution, for medical expenses or pain and suffering, in order to qualify for an alternative source of payment.

The director shall, in cooperation with the department of social and health services, establish by October 1, 1989, a process to aid crime victims in identifying and applying for appropriate alternative benefit programs, if any, administered by the department of social and health services.

PART VI -
SEXUAL MOTIVATION IN CRIMINAL OFFENSES

NEW SECTION. Sec. 601. A new section is added to chapter 9.94A RCW to read as follows:

(1) The prosecuting attorney shall file a special allegation of sexual motivation in every criminal case other than sex offenses as defined in RCW 9.94A.030(29) (a) or (c) when sufficient admissible evidence exists, which, when considered with the most plausible, reasonably foreseeable defense that could be raised under the evidence, would justify a finding of sexual motivation by a reasonable and objective fact finder.

(2) In a criminal case wherein there has been a special allegation the state shall prove beyond a reasonable doubt that the accused committed the crime with a sexual motivation. The court shall make a finding of fact of whether or not a sexual motivation was present at the time of the commission of the crime, or if a jury trial is had, the jury shall, if it finds the defendant guilty, also find a special verdict as to whether or not the defendant committed the crime with a sexual motivation. This finding shall not be applied to sex offenses as defined in RCW 9.94A.030(29) (a) or (c).

(3) The prosecuting attorney shall not withdraw the special allegation of sexual motivation without approval of the court through an order of dismissal of the special allegation. The court shall not dismiss this special allegation unless it finds that such an order is necessary to correct an error in the initial charging decision or unless there are evidentiary problems which make proving the special allegation doubtful.

(6) "Community service" means compulsory service, without compensation, performed for the benefit of the community by the offender.

(7) "Community supervision" means a period of time during which a convicted offender is subject to crime-related prohibitions and other sentence conditions imposed pursuant to this chapter by a court. If the sentencing court finds that an exceptional sentence outside the standard range should be imposed in accordance with RCW 9.94A.120(2), the sentence is subject to review only as provided for in RCW 9.94A.210(4).

The following are illustrative factors which the court may consider in the exercise of its discretion to impose an exceptional sentence. The following are illustrative only and are not intended to be exclusive reasons for exceptional sentences.

(1) Mitigating Circumstances

(a) To a significant degree, the victim was an initiator, willing participant, aggressor, or provoker of the incident.

(b) Before detection, the defendant compensated, or made a good faith effort to compensate, the victim of the criminal conduct for any damage or injury sustained.

(d) The defendant, with no apparent predisposition to do so, was induced by others to participate in the crime.

(e) The defendant's capacity to appreciate the wrongfulness of his conduct or to conform his conduct to the requirements of the law, was significantly impaired (voluntary use of drugs or alcohol is excluded).

(f) The offense was principally accomplished by another person and the defendant manifested extreme caution or sincere concern for the safety or well-being of the victim.

(g) The operation of the multiple offense policy of RCW 9.94A.400 results in a presumptive sentence that is clearly excessive in light of the purpose of this chapter, as expressed in RCW 9.94A.010.

(h) The defendant or the defendant's children suffered a continuing pattern of physical or sexual abuse by the victim of the offense and the offense is a response to that abuse.

(2) Aggravating Circumstances

(a) The defendant's conduct during the commission of the current offense manifested deliberate cruelty to the victim.

(b) The defendant knew or should have known that the victim of the current offense was particularly vulnerable or incapable of resistance due to extreme youth, advanced age, disability, or ill health.

(c) The current offense was a major economic offense or series of offenses, so identified by a consideration of any of the following factors:

(i) The current offense involved multiple victims or multiple incidents per victim;

(ii) The current offense involved attempted or actual monetary loss substantially greater than typical for the offense;

(iii) The current offense involved a high degree of sophistication or planning or occurred over a lengthy period of time;

(iv) The defendant used his or her position of trust, confidence, or fiduciary responsibility to facilitate the commission of the current offense.

(d) The current offense was a major violation of the Uniform Controlled Substances Act, chapter 69.50 RCW (VUCSA), related to trafficking in controlled substances, which was more onerous than the typical offense of its statutory definition: The presence of ANY of the following may identify a current offense as a major VUCSA:

(i) The current offense involved at least three separate transactions in which controlled substances were sold, transferred, or possessed with intent to do so; or

(ii) The current offense involved an attempted or actual sale or transfer of controlled substances in quantities substantially larger than for personal use; or

(iii) The current offense involved the manufacture of controlled substances for use by other parties; or

(iv) The circumstances of the current offense reveal the offender to have occupied a high position in the drug distribution hierarchy; or

(v) The current offense involved a high degree of sophistication or planning or occurred over a lengthy period of time or involved a broad geographic area of disbursement; or

(vi) The offender used his or her position or status to facilitate the commission of the current offense, including positions of trust, confidence or fiduciary responsibility (e.g., pharmacist, physician, or other medical professional); or

(e) The current offense included a finding of sexual motivation pursuant to section 601 of this 1990 act;

(f) The offense was part of an ongoing pattern of sexual abuse of the same victim under the age of eighteen years manifested by multiple incidents over a prolonged period of time; or

((f)) (g) The operation of the multiple offense policy of RCW 9.94A.400 results in a presumptive sentence that is clearly too lenient in light of the purpose of this chapter, as expressed in RCW 9.94A.010.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 604. A new section is added to chapter 13.40 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The prosecuting attorney shall file a special allegation of sexual motivation in every juvenile offense other than sex offenses as defined in RCW 9.94A.030(29) (a) or (c) when sufficient admissible evidence exists, which, when considered with the most plausible, reasonably consistent defense that could be raised under the evidence, would justify a finding of sexual motivation by a reasonable and objective fact finder.

(2) In a juvenile case wherein there has been a special allegation the state shall prove beyond a reasonable doubt that the juvenile committed the offense with a sexual motivation. The court shall make a finding of fact of whether or not the sexual motivation was present at the time of the commission of the offense. This finding shall not be applied to sex offenses as defined in RCW 9.94A.030(29) (a) or (c).

(3) The prosecuting attorney shall not withdraw the special allegation of "sexual motivation" without approval of the court through an order of dismissal. The court shall not dismiss the special allegation unless it finds that such an order is necessary to correct an error in the initial charging decision or unless there are evidentiary problems which make proving the special allegation doubtful.

Sec. 605. Section 69, chapter 291, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. as last amended by section 12, chapter 299, Laws of 1981 and RCW 13.40.150 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) In disposition hearings all relevant and material evidence, including oral and written reports, may be received by the court and may be relied upon to the extent of its probative value, even though such evidence may not be admissible in a hearing on the information. The youth or the youth's counsel and the prosecuting attorney shall be afforded an opportunity to examine and controvert written reports so received and to cross-examine individuals making reports when such individuals are reasonably available, but sources of confidential information need not be disclosed. The prosecutor and counsel for the juvenile may submit recommendations for disposition.

(2) For purposes of disposition:

(a) Violations which are current offenses count as misdemeanors;

(b) Violations may not count as part of the offender's criminal history;

(c) In no event may a disposition for a violation include confinement.

(3) Before entering a dispositional order as to a respondent found to have committed an offense, the court shall hold a disposition hearing, at which the court shall:

(a) Consider the facts supporting the allegations of criminal conduct by the respondent;

(b) Consider information and arguments offered by parties and their counsel;

(c) Consider any predisposition reports;

(d) Afford the respondent and the respondent's parent, guardian, or custodian an opportunity to speak in the respondent's behalf;

(e) Allow the victim or a representative of the victim and an investigative law enforcement officer to speak;

(f) Determine the amount of restitution owing to the victim, if any;

(g) Determine whether the respondent is a serious offender, a middle offender, or a minor or first offender;

(h) Consider whether or not any of the following mitigating factors exist:

(i) The respondent's conduct neither caused nor threatened serious bodily injury or the respondent did not contemplate that his or her conduct would cause or threaten serious bodily injury;

(ii) The respondent acted under strong and immediate provocation;

(iii) The respondent was suffering from a mental or physical condition that significantly reduced his or her culpability for the offense though failing to establish a defense;

(iv) Prior to his or her detection, the respondent compensated or made a good faith attempt to compensate the victim for the injury or loss sustained; and

(v) There has been at least one year between the respondent's current offense and any prior criminal offense;

(i) Consider whether or not any of the following aggravating factors exist:

(i) In the commission of the offense, or in flight therefrom, the respondent inflicted or attempted to inflict serious bodily injury to another;

(ii) The offense was committed in an especially heinous, cruel, or depraved manner;

(iii) The victim or victims were particularly vulnerable;

(iv) The respondent has a recent criminal history or has failed to comply with conditions of a recent dispositional order or diversion agreement;

(v) The current offense included a finding of sexual motivation pursuant to section 601 of this 1990 act:

(vi) The respondent was the leader of a criminal enterprise involving several persons; and

~~((vi))~~ (vii) There are other complaints which have resulted in diversion or a finding or plea of guilty but which are not included as criminal history.

(4) The following factors may not be considered in determining the punishment to be imposed:

(a) The sex of the respondent;

(b) The race or color of the respondent or the respondent's family;

(c) The creed or religion of the respondent or the respondent's family;

(d) The economic or social class of the respondent or the respondent's family; and

(e) Factors indicating that the respondent may be or is a dependent child within the meaning of this chapter.

(5) A court may not commit a juvenile to a state institution solely because of the lack of facilities, including treatment facilities, existing in the community.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 606. (1) Sections 601 through 605 of this act, for purposes of sentencing adult or juvenile offenders, shall take effect July 1, 1990, and shall apply to crimes or offenses committed on or after July 1, 1990.

(2) For purposes of defining a "sexually violent offense" pursuant to section 1002(4) of this act, sections 601 through 605 of this act shall take effect July 1, 1990, and shall apply to crimes committed on, before, or after July 1, 1990.

If the offender or an accomplice committed one of the crimes listed in this subsection while in a county jail or state correctional facility as that term is defined in this chapter, and the offender is being sentenced for an anticipatory offense under chapter 9A.28 RCW to commit one of the crimes listed in this subsection, the following times shall be added to the presumptive sentence range determined under subsection (2) of this section:

The offense seriousness level is determined by the offense of conviction. ~~((Felony offenses are divided into fourteen levels of seriousness, ranging from low (seriousness level I) to high (seriousness level XIV - see RCW 9.94A.320 (Table 2)):~~

Sec. 704. Section 11, chapter 115, Laws of 1983 as last amended by section 24, chapter 143, Laws of 1988 and by section 5, chapter 157, Laws of 1988 and RCW 9.94A.400 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) (a) Except as provided in (b) of this subsection, whenever a person is to be sentenced for two or more current offenses, the sentence range for each current offense shall be determined by using all other current and prior convictions as if they were prior convictions for the purpose of the offender score: PROVIDED, That if the court enters a finding that some or all of the current offenses encompass the same criminal conduct then those current offenses shall be counted as one crime. Sentences imposed under this subsection shall be served concurrently. Consecutive sentences may only be imposed under the exceptional sentence provisions of RCW 9.94A.120 and 9.94A.390(2)((~~ee~~))(f) or any other provision of RCW 9.94A.390. "Same criminal conduct," as used in this subsection, means two or more crimes that require the same criminal intent, are committed at the same time and place, and involve the same victim. This definition does not apply in cases involving vehicular assault or vehicular homicide if the victims occupied the same vehicle. However, the sentencing judge may consider multiple victims in such instances as an aggravating circumstance under RCW 9.94A.390.

(b) Whenever a person is convicted of ~~((three))~~ two or more serious violent offenses, as defined in RCW 9.94A.030, arising from separate and distinct criminal conduct, the sentence range for the offense with the highest seriousness level under RCW 9.94A.320 shall be determined using the offender's prior convictions and other current convictions that are not serious violent offenses in the offender score and the sentence range for other serious violent offenses shall be determined by using an offender score of zero. The sentence range for any offenses that are not serious violent offenses shall be determined according to (a) of this subsection. All sentences imposed under (b) of this subsection shall be served consecutively to each other and concurrently with sentences imposed under (a) of this subsection.

(2) Whenever a person while under sentence of felony commits another felony and is sentenced to another term of confinement, the latter term shall not begin until expiration of all prior terms.

(3) Subject to subsections (1) and (2) of this section, whenever a person is sentenced for a felony that was committed while the person was not under sentence of a felony, the sentence shall run concurrently with any felony sentence which has been imposed by any court in this or another state or by a federal court subsequent to the commission of the crime being sentenced unless the court pronouncing the current sentence expressly orders that they be served consecutively.

(4) Whenever any person granted probation under RCW 9.95.210 or 9.92.060, or both, has the probationary sentence revoked and a prison sentence imposed, that sentence shall run consecutively to any sentence imposed pursuant to this chapter, unless the court pronouncing the subsequent sentence expressly orders that they be served concurrently.

(5) However, in the case of consecutive sentences, all periods of total confinement shall be served before any partial confinement, community service, community supervision, or any other requirement or conditions of any of the sentences. Except for exceptional sentences as authorized under RCW 9.94A.120(2), if two or more sentences that run consecutively include periods of community supervision, the aggregate of the community supervision period shall not exceed twenty-four months.

Sec. 705. Section 4, chapter 252, Laws of 1989 and RCW 9.94A.120 are each amended to read as follows:

When a person is convicted of a felony, the court shall impose punishment as provided in this section.

(1) Except as authorized in subsections (2), (5), and (7) of this section, the court shall impose a sentence within the sentence range for the offense.

(2) The court may impose a sentence outside the standard sentence range for that offense if it finds, considering the purpose of this chapter, that there are substantial and compelling reasons justifying an exceptional sentence.

(3) Whenever a sentence outside the standard range is imposed, the court shall set forth the reasons for its decision in written findings of fact and conclusions of law. A sentence outside the standard range shall be a determinate sentence.

(4) An offender convicted of the crime of murder in the first degree shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than twenty years. An offender convicted of the crime of assault in the first degree where the offender used force or means likely to result in death or intended to kill the victim shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than five years. An offender convicted of the crime of rape in the first degree shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than ~~((three))~~ five years, and shall not be eligible for furlough, work release or other authorized leave of absence from the correctional facility during such minimum ~~((three-year))~~ five-year term except for the purpose of commitment to an inpatient treatment facility. The foregoing minimum terms of total confinement are mandatory and shall not be varied or modified as provided in subsection (2) of this section.

(5) In sentencing a first-time offender the court may waive the imposition of a sentence within the sentence range and impose a sentence which may include up to ninety days of confinement in a facility operated or utilized under contract by the county and a requirement that the offender refrain from committing new offenses. The sentence may also include up to two years of community supervision, which, in addition to crime-related prohibitions, may include requirements that the offender perform any one or more of the following:

- (a) Devote time to a specific employment or occupation;
- (b) Undergo available outpatient treatment for up to two years, or inpatient treatment not to exceed the standard range of confinement for that offense;
- (c) Pursue a prescribed, secular course of study or vocational training;
- (d) Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the community corrections officer prior to any change in the offender's address or employment;
- (e) Report as directed to the court and a community corrections officer; or
- (f) Pay all court-ordered legal financial obligations as provided in RCW 9.94A.030 and/or perform community service work.

(6) If a sentence range has not been established for the defendant's crime, the court shall impose a determinate sentence which may include not more than one year of confinement, community service work, a term of community supervision not to exceed one year, and/or other legal financial obligations. The court may impose a sentence which provides more than one year of confinement if the court finds, considering the purpose of this chapter, that there are substantial and compelling reasons justifying an exceptional sentence.

(7)(a) (i) When an offender is convicted of a sex offense other than a violation of (RCW 9A.44.040 or) RCW 9A.44.050 or a sex offense that is also a serious violent offense and has no prior convictions for a sex offense or any other felony ((sexual)) sex offenses in this or any other state, the sentencing court, on its own motion or the motion of the state or the defendant, may order an examination to determine whether the defendant is amenable to treatment.

The report of the examination shall include at a minimum the following: The defendant's version of the facts and the official version of the facts, the defendant's offense history, an assessment of problems in addition to alleged deviant behaviors, the offender's social and employment situation, and other evaluation measures used. The report shall set forth the sources of the evaluator's information.

The examiner shall assess and report regarding the defendant's amenability to treatment and relative risk to the community. A proposed treatment plan shall be provided and shall include, at a minimum:

(A) Frequency and type of contact between offender and therapist;

(B) Specific issues to be addressed in the treatment and description of planned treatment modalities;

(C) Monitoring plans, including any requirements regarding living conditions, lifestyle requirements, and monitoring by family members and others;

(D) Anticipated length of treatment; and

(E) Recommended crime-related prohibitions.

The court on its own motion may order, or on a motion by the state shall order, a second examination regarding the offender's amenability to treatment. The evaluator shall be selected by the party making the motion. The defendant shall pay the cost of any second examination ordered unless the court finds the defendant to be indigent in which case the state shall pay the cost.

(ii) After receipt of the reports, the court shall ((then determine)) consider whether the offender and the community will benefit from use of this special sexual offender sentencing alternative and consider the victim's opinion whether the offender should receive a treatment disposition under this subsection. If the court determines that ((both the offender and the community will benefit from use of this provision)) this special sex offender sentencing alternative is appropriate, the court shall then impose a sentence within the sentence range ((and:)). If this sentence is less than ((six)) eight years of confinement, the court may suspend the execution of the sentence and impose the following conditions of suspension:

(A) The court shall place the ((offender)) defendant on community supervision for ((up to two)) the length of the suspended sentence or three years, whichever is greater; and

(B) The court shall order treatment for any period up to three years in duration. The court in its discretion shall order outpatient sex offender treatment or inpatient sex offender treatment, if available. A community mental health center may not be used for such treatment unless it has an appropriate program designed for sex offender treatment. The offender shall not change sex offender treatment providers or treatment conditions without first notifying the prosecutor, the community corrections officer, and the court, and shall not change providers without court approval after a hearing if the prosecutor or community corrections officer object to the change. In addition, as ((a)) conditions of the suspended sentence, the court may impose other sentence conditions including up to six months of confinement, not to exceed the sentence range of confinement for that offense, crime-related prohibitions, and requirements that the offender perform any one or more of the following:

((i)) (I) Devote time to a specific employment or occupation;

((ii)) (II) Undergo available outpatient sex offender treatment for up to two years, or inpatient sex offender treatment not to exceed the standard range of confinement for that offense. A community mental health center may not be used for such treatment unless it has an appropriate program designed for sex offender treatment;

((iii)) (III) Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the community corrections officer prior to any change in the offender's address or employment;

((iv)) (IV) Report as directed to the court and a community corrections officer;

((v)) (V) Pay all court-ordered legal financial obligations as provided in RCW 9.94A.030, perform community service work, or any combination thereof; or

((vi)) (VI) Make recoupment to the victim for the cost of any counseling required as a result of the offender's crime.

(iii) The sex offender therapist shall submit quarterly reports on the defendant's progress in treatment to the court and the parties. The report shall reference the treatment plan and include at a minimum the following: Dates of attendance, defendant's compliance with requirements, treatment activities, the defendant's relative progress in treatment, and any other material as specified by the court at sentencing.

(iv) At the time of sentencing, the court shall set a treatment termination hearing for three months prior to the anticipated date for completion of treatment. Prior to the treatment termination hearing, the treatment professional and community corrections officer shall submit written reports to the court and parties regarding the defendant's compliance with treatment and monitoring requirements, and recommendations regarding termination from treatment, including proposed community supervision conditions. Either party may request and the court may order another evaluation regarding the advisability of termination from treatment. The defendant shall pay the cost of any additional evaluation ordered unless the court finds the defendant to be indigent in which case the state shall pay the cost. At the treatment termination hearing the court may: (A) Modify conditions of community supervision, and either (B) terminate treatment, or (C) extend treatment for up to the remaining period of community supervision.

(v) The court may revoke the suspended sentence at any time during the period of community supervision and order execution of the sentence if: (A) The ((offender)) defendant violates ((these sentence)) the conditions ((the court may revoke the suspension and order execution of the sentence)) of the suspended sentence, or (B) the court finds that the defendant is failing to make satisfactory progress in treatment. All confinement time served during the period of community supervision shall be credited to the offender if the suspended sentence is revoked.

(vi) After July 1, 1991, examinations and treatment ordered pursuant to this subsection shall only be conducted by sex offender treatment providers certified by the department of health pursuant to sections 801 through 809 of this 1990 act.

For purposes of this subsection, "victim" means any person who has sustained emotional, psychological, physical, or financial injury to person or property as a result of the crime charged. "Victim" also means a parent or guardian of a victim who is a minor child unless the parent or guardian is the perpetrator of the offense.

(b) When an offender is convicted of any felony ((sexual)) sex offense committed before July 1, 1987, and is sentenced to a term of confinement of more than one year but less than six years, the sentencing court may, on its own motion or on the motion of the offender or the state, order the offender committed for up to thirty days to the custody of the secretary of social and health services for evaluation and report to the court on the offender's amenability to treatment at these facilities. If the secretary of social and health services cannot begin the evaluation within thirty days of the court's order of commitment, the offender shall be transferred to the state for confinement pending an opportunity to be evaluated at the appropriate facility. The court shall review the reports and may order that the term of confinement imposed be served in the sexual offender treatment program at the location determined by the secretary of social and health services or the secretary's designee, only if the report indicates that the offender is amenable to the treatment program provided at these facilities. The offender shall be transferred to the state pending placement in the treatment program. Any offender who has escaped from the treatment program shall be referred back to the sentencing court.

If the offender does not comply with the conditions of the treatment program, the secretary of social and health services may refer the matter to the sentencing court. The sentencing court shall commit the offender to the department of corrections to serve the balance of the term of confinement.

If the offender successfully completes the treatment program before the expiration of the term of confinement, the court may convert the balance of confinement to community supervision and may place conditions on the offender including crime-related prohibitions and requirements that the offender perform any one or more of the following:

- (i) Devote time to a specific employment or occupation;
- (ii) Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the community corrections officer prior to any change in the offender's address or employment;
- (iii) Report as directed to the court and a community corrections officer;
- (iv) Undergo available outpatient treatment.

If the offender violates any of the terms of community supervision, the court may order the offender to serve out the balance of the community supervision term in confinement in the custody of the department of corrections.

After June 30, 1993, this subsection (b) shall cease to have effect.

(c) When an offender commits any felony ((sexual)) sex offense on or after July 1, 1987, and is sentenced to a term of confinement of more than one year but less than six years, the sentencing court may, on its own motion or on the motion of the offender or the state, request the department of corrections to evaluate whether the offender is amenable to treatment and the department may place the offender in a treatment program within a correctional facility operated by the department.

Except for an offender who has been convicted of a violation of RCW 9A.44.040 or 9A.44.050, if the offender completes the treatment program before the expiration of his term of confinement, the department of corrections may request the court to convert the balance of confinement to community supervision and to place conditions on the offender including crime-related prohibitions and requirements that the offender perform any one or more of the following:

- (i) Devote time to a specific employment or occupation;
- (ii) Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the community corrections officer prior to any change in the offender's address or employment;
- (iii) Report as directed to the court and a community corrections officer;
- (iv) Undergo available outpatient treatment.

If the offender violates any of the terms of his community supervision, the court may order the offender to serve out the balance of his community supervision term in confinement in the custody of the department of corrections.

Nothing in (c) of this subsection shall confer eligibility for such programs for offenders convicted and sentenced for a ~~((sexual))~~ sex offense committed prior to July 1, 1987. This subsection (c) does not apply to any crime committed after the effective date of this section.

(d) Offenders convicted and sentenced for a sex offense committed prior to July 1, 1987, may, subject to available funds, request an evaluation by the department of corrections to determine whether they are amenable to treatment. If the offender is determined to be amenable to treatment, the offender may request placement in a treatment program within a correctional facility operated by the department. Placement in such treatment program is subject to available funds.

(8) (a) When a court sentences a person to a term of total confinement to the custody of the department of corrections for an offense categorized as a sex offense~~((;))~~ or a serious violent offense committed after July 1, 1988, but before July 1, 1990, assault in the second degree, any crime against a person where it is determined in accordance with RCW 9.94A.125 that the defendant or an accomplice was armed with a deadly weapon at the time of commission, or any felony offense under chapter 69.50 or 69.52 RCW, committed on or after July 1, 1988, the court shall in addition to the other terms of the sentence, sentence the offender to a one-year term of community placement beginning either upon completion of the term of confinement or at such time as the offender is transferred to community custody in lieu of earned early release in accordance with RCW 9.94A.150 (1) and (2). When the court sentences an offender under this ~~((section))~~ subsection to the statutory maximum period of confinement then the community placement portion of the sentence shall consist entirely of such community custody to which the offender may become eligible, in accordance with RCW 9.94A.150 (1) and (2). Any period of community custody actually served shall be credited against the community placement portion of the sentence.

(b) ~~((When a court sentences a person to a term of total confinement to the custody of the department of corrections for an offense categorized as a sex offense, a serious violent offense, assault in the second degree, any crime against a person where it is determined in accordance with RCW 9.94A.125 that the defendant or an accomplice was armed with a deadly weapon at the time of commission, or any felony offense under chapter 69.50 or 69.52 RCW, committed on or after July 1, 1988;))~~ When a court sentences a person to a term of total confinement to the custody of the department of corrections for an offense categorized as a sex offense or serious violent offense committed on or after July 1, 1990, the court shall in addition to other terms of the sentence, sentence the offender to community placement for two years or up to the period of earned early release awarded pursuant to RCW 9.94A.150 (1) and (2), whichever is longer. The community placement shall begin either upon completion of the term of confinement or at such time as the offender is transferred to community custody in lieu of earned early release in accordance with RCW 9.94A.150 (1) and (2). When the court sentences an offender under this subsection to the statutory maximum period of confinement then the community placement portion of the sentence shall consist entirely of the community custody to which the offender may become eligible, in accordance with RCW 9.94A.150 (1) and (2). Any period of community custody actually served shall be credited against the community placement portion of the sentence. Unless a condition is waived by the court, ~~((the sentence shall include, in addition to the other terms of the sentence, a one-year))~~ the terms of community placement ~~((on))~~ for offenders sentenced pursuant to this section shall include the following conditions:

- (i) The offender shall report to and be available for contact with the assigned community corrections officer as directed;
- (ii) The offender shall work at department of corrections-approved education, employment, and/or community service;
- (iii) The offender shall not consume controlled substances except pursuant to lawfully issued prescriptions;
- (iv) An offender in community custody shall not unlawfully possess controlled substances; and
- (v) The offender shall pay supervision fees as determined by the department of corrections.

(c) The court may also order any of the following special conditions:

- (i) The offender shall remain within, or outside of, a specified geographical boundary;

(ii) The offender shall not have direct or indirect contact with the victim of the crime or a specified class of individuals;

(iii) The offender shall participate in crime-related treatment or counseling services;

(iv) The offender shall not consume alcohol;

(v) The residence location and living arrangements of a sex offender shall be subject to the prior approval of the department of corrections; or

(vi) The offender shall comply with any crime-related prohibitions.

(d) Prior to transfer to, or during, community placement, any conditions of community placement may be removed or modified so as not to be more restrictive by the sentencing court, upon recommendation of the department of corrections.

(9) If the court imposes a sentence requiring confinement of thirty days or less, the court may, in its discretion, specify that the sentence be served on consecutive or intermittent days. A sentence requiring more than thirty days of confinement shall be served on consecutive days. Local jail administrators may schedule court-ordered intermittent sentences as space permits.

(10) If a sentence imposed includes payment of a legal financial obligation, the sentence shall specify the total amount of the legal financial obligation owed, and shall require the offender to pay a specified monthly sum toward that legal financial obligation. Restitution to victims shall be paid prior to any other payments of monetary obligations. Any legal financial obligation that is imposed by the court may be collected by the department, which shall deliver the amount paid to the county clerk for credit. The offender's compliance with payment of legal financial obligations shall be supervised by the department. All monetary payments ordered shall be paid no later than ten years after the last date of release from confinement pursuant to a felony conviction or the date the sentence was entered. Independent of the department, the party or entity to whom the legal financial obligation is owed shall have the authority to utilize any other remedies available to the party or entity to collect the legal financial obligation. Nothing in this section makes the department, the state, or any of its employees, agents, or other persons acting on their behalf liable under any circumstances for the payment of these legal financial obligations. If an order includes restitution as one of the monetary assessments, the county clerk shall make disbursements to victims named in the order.

(11) Except as provided under RCW 9.94A.140(1) and 9.94A.142(1), a court may not impose a sentence providing for a term of confinement or community supervision or community placement which exceeds the statutory maximum for the crime as provided in chapter 9A.20 RCW.

(12) All offenders sentenced to terms involving community supervision, community service, community placement, or legal financial obligation shall be under the supervision of the secretary of the department of corrections or such person as the secretary may designate and shall follow explicitly the instructions of the secretary including reporting as directed to a community corrections officer, remaining within prescribed geographical boundaries, and notifying the community corrections officer of any change in the offender's address or employment.

(13) The sentencing court shall give the offender credit for all confinement time served before the sentencing if that confinement was solely in regard to the offense for which the offender is being sentenced.

(14) A departure from the standards in RCW 9.94A.400(1) and (2) governing whether sentences are to be served consecutively or concurrently is an exceptional sentence subject to the limitations in subsections (2) and (3) of this section, and may be appealed by the defendant or the state as set forth in RCW 9.94A.210(2) through (6).

(15) The court shall order restitution whenever the offender is convicted of a felony that results in injury to any person or damage to or loss of property, whether the offender is sentenced to confinement or placed under community supervision, unless extraordinary circumstances exist that make restitution inappropriate in the court's judgment. The court shall set forth the extraordinary circumstances in the record if it does not order restitution.

(16) As a part of any sentence, the court may impose and enforce an order that relates directly to the circumstances of the crime for which the offender has been convicted, prohibiting the offender from having any contact with other specified individuals or a specific class of individuals for a period not to exceed the maximum allowable sentence for the crime, regardless of the expiration of the offender's term of community supervision or community placement.

(17) In any sentence of partial confinement, the court may require the defendant to serve the partial confinement in work release or in a program of home detention.

(18) All court-ordered legal financial obligations collected by the department and remitted to the county clerk shall be credited and paid where restitution is ordered. Restitution shall be paid prior to any other payments of monetary obligations.

Sec. 706. Section 103, chapter 271, Laws of 1989 and RCW 9.94A.360 are each amended to read as follows:

The offender score is measured on the horizontal axis of the sentencing grid. The offender score rules are as follows:

The offender score is the sum of points accrued under this section rounded down to the nearest whole number.

(1) A prior conviction is a conviction which exists before the date of sentencing for the offense for which the offender score is being computed. Convictions entered or sentenced on the same date as the conviction for which the offender score is being computed shall be deemed "other current offenses" within the meaning of RCW 9.94A.400.

(2) Except as provided in subsection (4) of this section, class A and sex prior felony convictions shall always be included in the offender score. Class B prior felony convictions other than sex offenses shall not be included in the offender score, if since the last date of release from confinement (including full-time residential treatment) pursuant to a felony conviction, if any, or entry of judgment and sentence, the offender had spent ten consecutive years in the community without being convicted of any felonies. Class C prior felony convictions other than sex offenses shall not be included in the offender score if, since the last date of release from confinement (including full-time residential treatment) pursuant to a felony conviction, if any, or entry of judgment and sentence, the offender had spent five consecutive years in the community without being convicted of any felonies. Serious traffic convictions shall not be included in the offender score if, since the last date of release from confinement (including full-time residential treatment) pursuant to a felony conviction, if any, or entry of judgment and sentence, the offender spent five years in the community without being convicted of any serious traffic or felony traffic offenses. This subsection applies to both adult and juvenile prior convictions.

(3) Out-of-state convictions for offenses shall be classified according to the comparable offense definitions and sentences provided by Washington law.

(4) Always include juvenile convictions for sex offenses. Include other class A juvenile felonies only if the offender was 15 or older at the time the juvenile offense was committed. Include other class B and C juvenile felony convictions only if the offender was 15 or older at the time the juvenile offense was committed and the offender was less than 23 at the time the offense for which he or she is being sentenced was committed.

(5) Score prior convictions for felony anticipatory offenses (attempts, criminal solicitations, and criminal conspiracies) the same as if they were convictions for completed offenses.

(6) In the case of multiple prior convictions, for the purpose of computing the offender score, count all convictions separately, except:

(a) Prior adult offenses which were found, under RCW 9.94A.400(1)(a), to encompass the same criminal conduct, shall be counted as one offense, the offense that yields the highest offender score. The current sentencing court shall determine with respect to other prior adult offenses for which sentences were served concurrently whether those offenses shall be counted as one offense or as separate offenses, and if the court finds that they shall be counted as one offense, then the offense that yields the highest offender score shall be used;

(b) Juvenile prior convictions entered or sentenced on the same date shall count as one offense, the offense that yields the highest offender score, except for juvenile prior convictions for violent offenses with separate victims, which shall count as separate offenses; and

(c) In the case of multiple prior convictions for offenses committed before July 1, 1986, for the purpose of computing the offender score, count all adult convictions served concurrently as one offense, and count all juvenile convictions entered on the same date as one offense. Use the conviction for the offense that yields the highest offender score.

(7) If the present conviction is one of the anticipatory offenses of criminal attempt, solicitation, or conspiracy, count each prior conviction as if the present conviction were for a completed offense.

(8) If the present conviction is for a nonviolent offense and not covered by subsection (12) or (13) of this section, count one point for each adult prior felony conviction and one point for each juvenile prior violent felony conviction and 1/2 point for each juvenile prior nonviolent felony conviction.

(9) If the present conviction is for a violent offense and not covered in subsection (10), (11), (12), or (13) of this section, count two points for each prior adult and juvenile violent felony conviction, one point for each prior adult nonviolent felony conviction, and 1/2 point for each prior juvenile nonviolent felony conviction.

(10) If the present conviction is for Murder 1 or 2, Assault 1, Kidnaping 1, Homicide by Abuse, or Rape 1, count three points for prior adult and juvenile convictions for crimes in these categories, two points for each prior adult and juvenile violent conviction (not already counted), one point for each prior adult nonviolent felony conviction, and 1/2 point for each prior juvenile nonviolent felony conviction.

(11) If the present conviction is for Burglary 1, count prior convictions as in subsection (9) of this section; however count two points for each prior adult Burglary 2 or residential burglary conviction, and one point for each prior juvenile Burglary 2 or residential burglary conviction.

(12) If the present conviction is for a felony traffic offense count two points for each adult or juvenile prior conviction for Vehicular Homicide or Vehicular Assault; for each felony offense or serious traffic offense, count one point for each adult and 1/2 point for each juvenile prior conviction.

(13) If the present conviction is for a drug offense count three points for each adult prior felony drug offense conviction and two points for each juvenile drug offense. All other adult and juvenile felonies are scored as in subsection (9) of this section if the current drug offense is violent, or as in subsection (8) of this section if the current drug offense is nonviolent.

(14) If the present conviction is for Willful Failure to Return from Furlough, RCW 72.66.060, or Willful Failure to Return from Work Release, RCW 72.65.070, count only prior escape convictions in the offender score. Count adult prior escape convictions as one point and juvenile prior escape convictions as 1/2 point.

(15) If the present conviction is for Escape 1, RCW 9A.76.110, or Escape 2, RCW 9A.76.120, count adult prior convictions as one point and juvenile prior convictions as 1/2 point.

(16) If the present conviction is for Burglary 2 or residential burglary, count priors as in subsection (8) of this section; however, count two points for each adult and juvenile prior Burglary 1 conviction, two points for each adult prior Burglary 2 or residential burglary conviction, and one point for each juvenile prior Burglary 2 or residential burglary conviction.

(17) If the present conviction is for a sex offense, count priors as in subsections (8) through (16) of this section; however count three points for each adult and juvenile prior sex offense conviction.

(18) If the present conviction is for an offense committed while the offender was under community placement, add one point.

Sec. 707. Section 24, chapter 137, Laws of 1981 as last amended by section 1, chapter 259, Laws of 1989 and RCW 9.95.009 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) On July 1, 1986, the board of prison terms and paroles shall be redesignated as the indeterminate (~~sentencing~~) sentence review board. The board's membership shall be reduced as follows: On July 1, 1986, and on July 1st of each year until 1998, the number of board members shall be reduced in a manner commensurate with the board's remaining workload as determined by the office of financial management based upon its population forecast for the indeterminate sentencing system and in conjunction with the budget process. To meet the statutory obligations of the indeterminate sentence review board, the number of board members shall not be reduced to fewer than three members, although the office of financial management may designate some or all members as part-time members and specify the extent to which they shall be less than full-time members. Any reduction shall take place by the expiration, on that date, of the term or terms having the least time left to serve.

(2) After July 1, 1984, the board shall continue its functions with respect to persons convicted of crimes committed prior to July 1, 1984, and committed to the department of corrections. When making decisions on duration of confinement, including those relating to persons committed under a mandatory life sentence, and parole release under RCW 9.95.100 and 9.95.110, the board shall consider the purposes, standards, and sentencing ranges adopted pursuant to RCW 9.94A.040 and the minimum term recommendations of the sentencing judge and prosecuting attorney, and shall attempt to make decisions reasonably consistent with those ranges, standards, purposes, and recommendations: PROVIDED, That the board and its successors shall give adequate written reasons whenever a minimum term or parole release decision is made which is outside the sentencing ranges adopted pursuant to RCW 9.94A.040. In making such decisions, the board and its successors shall consider the different charging and disposition practices under the indeterminate sentencing system.

(3) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (2) of this section, the indeterminate sentence review board shall give public safety considerations the highest priority when making all discretionary decisions on the remaining indeterminate population regarding the ability for parole, parole release, and conditions of parole.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 708. A new section is added to chapter 72.09 RCW to read as follows:

In making all discretionary decisions regarding supervision of sexually violent offenders, the department of corrections shall set priorities and make decisions based on an assessment of public safety risks rather than the legal category of the sentences.

PART VIII

CERTIFICATION OF SEX OFFENDER TREATMENT PROVIDERS

NEW SECTION. Sec. 801. The legislature finds that sex offender therapists who examine and treat sex offenders pursuant to the special sexual offender sentencing alternative under RCW 9.94A.120(7)(a) and who may treat juvenile sex offenders pursuant to section 302 of this act, play a vital role in protecting the public from sex offenders who remain in the community following conviction. The legislature finds that the qualifications, practices, techniques, and effectiveness of sex offender treatment providers vary widely and that the court's ability to effectively determine the appropriateness of granting the sentencing alternative and monitoring the offender to ensure continued protection of the community is undermined by a lack of regulated practices. The legislature recognizes the right of sex offender therapists to practice, consistent with the paramount requirements of public safety. Public safety is best served by regulating sex offender therapists whose clients are being evaluated and being treated pursuant to RCW 9.94A.120(7)(a) and section 302 of this act. This chapter shall be construed to require only those sex offender therapists who examine and treat sex offenders pursuant to RCW 9.94A.120(7)(a) and section 302 of this act to obtain a sexual offender treatment certification as provided in this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 802. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter:

(1) "Certified sex offender treatment provider" means a licensed, certified, or registered health professional who is certified to examine and treat sex offenders pursuant to RCW 9.94A.120(7)(a) and section 302 of this act.

(2) "Department" means the department of health.

(3) "Secretary" means the secretary of health.

(4) "Sex offender treatment provider" means a person who counsels or treats sex offenders accused of or convicted of a sex offense as defined by RCW 9.94A.030.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 803. (1) No person shall represent himself or herself as a certified sex offender treatment provider without first applying for and receiving a certificate pursuant to this chapter.

(2) Only a certified sex offender treatment provider may perform or provide the following services:

(a) Evaluations conducted for the purposes of and pursuant to RCW 9.94A.120(7)(a) and section 302 of this act;

(b) Treatment of convicted sex offenders who are sentenced and ordered into treatment pursuant to RCW 9.94A.120(7)(a) and adjudicated juvenile sex offenders who are ordered into treatment pursuant to section 302 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 804. In addition to any other authority provided by law, the secretary shall have the following authority:

(10) To establish by rule the procedure for appeal of an examination failure;

(11) To adopt rules implementing a continuing competency program;

(12) To adopt rules in accordance with chapter 34.05 RCW as necessary to implement this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 805. (1) The sexual offender treatment providers advisory committee is established to advise the secretary concerning the administration of this chapter.

(2) The secretary shall appoint the members of the advisory committee who shall consist of the following persons:

After July 1, 1991, the sex offender treatment providers on the committee must be certified pursuant to this chapter.

(6) The committee shall meet at times as necessary to conduct committee business.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 806. The secretary, members of the committee, and individuals acting on their behalf are immune from suit in any action, civil or criminal, based on any acts performed in the course of their duties.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 807. The department shall issue a certificate to any applicant who meets the following requirements:

(1) Successful completion of an educational program approved by the secretary or successful completion of alternate training which meets the criteria of the secretary;

(2) Successful completion of any experience requirement established by the secretary;

(3) Successful completion of an examination administered or approved by the secretary;

PART X
CIVIL COMMITMENT

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1001. The legislature finds that a small but extremely dangerous group of sexually violent predators exist who do not have a mental disease or defect that renders them appropriate for the existing involuntary treatment act, chapter 71.05 RCW, which is intended to be a short-term civil commitment system that is primarily designed to provide short-term treatment to individuals with serious mental disorders and then return them to the community. In contrast to persons appropriate for civil commitment under chapter 71.05 RCW, sexually violent predators generally have antisocial personality features which are unamenable to existing mental illness treatment modalities and those features render them likely to engage in sexually violent behavior. The legislature further finds that sex offenders' likelihood of engaging in repeat acts of predatory sexual violence is high. The existing involuntary commitment act, chapter 71.05 RCW, is inadequate to address the risk to reoffend because during confinement these offenders do not have access to potential victims and therefore they will not engage in an overt act during confinement as required by the involuntary treatment act for continued confinement. The legislature further finds that the prognosis for curing sexually violent offenders is poor, the treatment needs of this population are very long term, and the treatment modalities for this population are very different than the traditional treatment modalities for people appropriate for commitment under the involuntary treatment act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1002. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Sexually violent predator" means any person who has been convicted of or charged with a crime of sexual violence and who suffers from a mental abnormality or personality disorder which makes the person likely to engage in predatory acts of sexual violence.

(2) "Mental abnormality" means a congenital or acquired condition affecting the emotional or volitional capacity which predisposes the person to the commission of criminal sexual acts in a degree constituting such person a menace to the health and safety of others.

(3) "Predatory" means acts directed towards strangers or individuals with whom a relationship has been established or promoted for the primary purpose of victimization.

(4) "Sexually violent offense" means: (a) An act defined in Title 9A RCW as rape in the first degree, rape in the second degree by forcible compulsion, rape of a child in the first or second degree, statutory rape in the first or second degree, indecent liberties by forcible compulsion, indecent liberties against a child under age fourteen, incest against a child under age fourteen, or child molestation in the first or second degree; (b) any conviction for a felony offense in effect at any time prior to the effective date of this section, that is comparable to a sexually violent offense as defined in subsection (4)(a) of this section, or any federal or out-of-state conviction for a felony offense that under the laws of this state would be a sexually violent offense as defined in this subsection; or (c) any act of murder in the first or second degree, assault in the first or second degree, kidnapping in the first or second degree, burglary in the first degree, residential burglary, or unlawful imprisonment, which act, either at the time of sentencing for the offense or subsequently during civil commitment proceedings pursuant to this section, has been determined beyond a reasonable doubt to have been sexually motivated, as that term is defined in section 602 of this act; or, as described in chapter 9A.28 RCW, is an attempt, criminal solicitation, or criminal conspiracy to commit one of the felonies designated in (a), (b), or (c) of this subsection.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1003. When it appears that: (1) The sentence of a person who has been convicted of a sexually violent offense is about to or has expired at any time in the past; (2) the term of confinement of a person found to have committed a sexually violent offense as a juvenile is about to or has expired; (3) a person who has been charged with a sexually violent offense and has been determined to be incompetent to stand trial is about to be or has been released pursuant to RCW 10.77.090(3); or (4) a person who has been found not guilty by reason of insanity of a sexually violent offense is about to be released pursuant to RCW 10.77.020(3); and it appears that the person may be a sexually violent predator, the prosecuting attorney of the county where the person was convicted or charged or the attorney general if requested by the prosecuting attorney may file a petition alleging that the person is a "sexually violent predator" and stating sufficient facts to support such allegation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1004. Upon the filing of a petition under section 1003 of this act, the judge shall determine whether probable cause exists to believe that the person named in the petition is a sexually violent predator. If such determination is made the judge shall direct that the person be taken into custody and the person shall be transferred to an appropriate facility for an evaluation as to whether the person is a sexually violent predator. The evaluation shall be conducted by a person deemed to be professionally qualified to conduct such an examination pursuant to rules developed by the department of social and health services. In adopting such rules, the department of social and health services shall consult with the department of health and the department of corrections.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1005. Within forty-five days after the filing of a petition pursuant to section 1003 of this act, the court shall conduct a trial to determine whether the person is a sexually violent predator. At all stages of the proceedings under this chapter, any person subject to this chapter shall be entitled to the assistance of counsel, and if the person is indigent, the court shall appoint counsel to assist him or her. Whenever any person is subjected to an examination under this chapter, he or she may retain experts or professional persons to perform an examination on their behalf. When the person wishes to be examined by a qualified expert or professional person of his or her own choice, such examiner shall be permitted to have reasonable access to the person for the purpose of such examination, as well as to all relevant medical and psychological records and reports. In the case of a person who is indigent, the court shall, upon the person's request, assist the person in obtaining an expert or professional person to perform an examination or participate in the trial on the person's behalf. The person, the prosecuting attorney or attorney general, or the judge shall have the right to demand that the trial be before a jury. If no demand is made, the trial shall be before the court.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 1006. (1) The court or jury shall determine whether, beyond a reasonable doubt, the person is a sexually violent predator. If the state alleges that the prior sexually violent offense that forms the basis for the petition for commitment was an act that was sexually motivated as provided in section 1002(3)(c) of this act, the state must prove beyond a reasonable doubt that the alleged sexually violent act was sexually motivated as defined in section 602 of this act. If the court or jury determines that the person is a sexually violent predator, the person shall be committed to the custody of the department of social and health services in a secure facility for control, care, and treatment until such time as the person's mental abnormality or personality disorder has so changed that the person is safe to be at large. Such control, care, and treatment shall be provided at a facility operated by the department of social and health services. If the court or jury is not satisfied beyond a reasonable doubt that the person is a sexually violent predator, the court shall direct the person's release.

(2) If the person charged with a sexually violent offense has been found incompetent to stand trial, and is about to or has been released pursuant to RCW 10.77.090(3), and his or her commitment is sought pursuant to subsection (1) of this section, the court shall first hear evidence and determine whether the person did commit the act or acts charged if the court did not enter a finding prior to dismissal under RCW 10.77.090(3) that the person committed the act or acts charged. The hearing on this issue must comply with all the procedures specified in this section. In addition, the rules of evidence applicable in criminal cases shall apply, and all constitutional rights available to defendants at criminal trials, other than the right not to be tried while incompetent, shall apply. After hearing evidence on this issue, the court shall make specific findings on whether the person did commit the act or acts charged, the extent to which the person's incompetence or developmental disability affected the outcome of the hearing, including its effect on the person's ability to consult with and assist counsel and to testify on his or her own behalf, the extent to which the evidence could be reconstructed without the assistance of the person, and the strength of the prosecution's case. If, after the conclusion of the hearing on this issue, the court finds, beyond a reasonable doubt, that the person did commit the act or acts charged, it shall enter a final order, appealable by the person, on that issue, and may proceed to consider whether the person should be committed pursuant to this section.

(3) The state shall comply with RCW 10.77.220 while confining the person pursuant to this chapter. The facility shall not be located on the grounds of any state mental facility or regional habilitation center because these institutions are insufficiently secure for this population.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 1007. Each person committed under this chapter shall have a current examination of his or her mental condition made at least once every year. The person may retain, or if he or she is indigent and so requests, the court may appoint a qualified expert or a professional person to examine him or her, and such expert or professional person shall have access to all records concerning the person. The periodic report shall be provided to the court that committed the person under this chapter.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 1008. The involuntary detention or commitment of persons under this chapter shall conform to constitutional requirements for care and treatment.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 1009. (1) If the secretary of the department of social and health services determines that the person's mental abnormality or personality disorder has so changed that the person is not likely to commit predatory acts of sexual violence if released, the secretary shall authorize the person to petition the court for release. The petition shall be served upon the court and the prosecuting attorney. The court, upon receipt of the petition for release, shall within forty-five days order a hearing. The prosecuting attorney or the attorney general, if requested by the county, shall represent the state, and shall have the right to have the petitioner examined by an expert or professional person of his or her choice. The hearing shall be before a jury if demanded by either the petitioner or the prosecuting attorney or attorney general. The burden of proof shall be upon the prosecuting attorney or attorney general to show beyond a reasonable doubt that the petitioner's mental abnormality or personality disorder remains such that the petitioner is not safe to be at large and that if discharged is likely to commit predatory acts of sexual violence.

(2) Nothing contained in this chapter shall prohibit the person from otherwise petitioning the court for discharge without the secretary's approval. The secretary shall provide the committed person with an annual written notice of the person's right to petition the court for release over the secretary's objection. The notice shall contain a waiver of rights. The secretary shall forward the notice and waiver form to the court with the annual report. If the person does not affirmatively waive the right to petition, the court shall set a show cause hearing to determine whether facts exist that warrant a hearing on whether the person's condition has so changed that he or she is safe to be at large. The committed person shall have a right to have an attorney represent him or her at the show cause hearing but the person is not entitled to be present at the show cause hearing. If the court at the show cause hearing determines that probable cause exists to believe that the person's mental abnormality or personality disorder has so changed that the person is safe to be at large and will not engage in acts of sexual violence if discharged, then the court shall set a hearing on the issue. At the hearing, the committed person shall be entitled to be present and to the benefit of all constitutional protections that were afforded to the person at the initial commitment proceeding. The prosecuting attorney or the attorney general if requested by the county shall represent the state and shall have a right to a jury trial and to have the committed person evaluated by experts chosen by the state. The committed person shall also have the right to have experts evaluate him or her on his or her behalf and the court shall appoint an expert if the person is indigent and requests an appointment. The burden of proof at the hearing shall be upon the state to prove beyond a reasonable doubt that the committed person's mental abnormality or personality disorder remains such that the person is not safe to be at large and if released will engage in acts of sexual violence.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1010. Nothing in this chapter shall prohibit a person from filing a petition for discharge pursuant to this chapter. However, if a person has previously filed a petition for discharge without the secretary's approval and the court determined, either upon review of the petition or following a hearing, that the petitioner's petition was frivolous or that the petitioner's condition had not so changed that he or she was safe to be at large, then the court shall deny the subsequent petition unless the petition contains facts upon which a court could find that the condition of the petitioner had so changed that a hearing was warranted. Upon receipt of a first or subsequent petition from committed persons without the secretary's approval, the court shall endeavor whenever possible to review the petition and determine if the petition is based upon frivolous grounds and if so shall deny the petition without a hearing.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1011. The department of social and health services shall be responsible for all costs relating to the evaluation and treatment of persons committed to their custody under any provision of this chapter. Reimbursement may be obtained by the department for the cost of care and treatment of persons committed to its custody pursuant to RCW 43.20B.330 through 43.20B.370.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1012. In addition to any other information required to be released under this chapter, the department is authorized, pursuant to section 117 of this act, to release relevant information that is necessary to protect the public, concerning a specific sexually violent predator committed under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1013. Sections 1001 through 1012 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 71 RCW.

However, access to conviction records pursuant to this subsection (1)(e) does not limit or restrict the ability of the department to obtain additional information regarding conviction records and pending charges as set forth in RCW 74.15.030(2)(b).

After processing the request, if the conviction record, disciplinary board final decision and any subsequent criminal charges associated with the conduct that is the subject of the disciplinary board final decision, or adjudication record shows no evidence of a crime against children or other persons or, in the case of vulnerable adults, no evidence of crimes relating to financial exploitation in which the victim was a vulnerable adult, an identification declaring the showing of no evidence shall be issued to the applicant by the state patrol and shall be issued within fourteen working days of the request. (4) Before July 26, 1987, the state patrol shall adopt rules and forms to implement this section and to provide for security and privacy of information disseminated under this section, giving first priority to the criminal justice requirements of this chapter. (5) Nothing in RCW 43.43.830 through 43.43.840 shall authorize an employer to make an inquiry not specifically authorized by this chapter, or be construed to affect the policy of the state declared in chapter 9.96A RCW.

PART XII COMMUNITY ACTION

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1201. The legislature recognizes the need to increase the services available to the victims of sex offenders. The legislature also recognizes that these services are most effectively planned and provided at the local level through the combined efforts of concerned community and citizens groups, treatment providers, and local government officials. The legislature further recognizes that adequate treatment for victims is not only a matter of justice for the victim, but also a method by which additional abuse can be prevented.

The legislature intends to enhance the community-based treatment services available to the victims of sex offenders by:

(1) Providing funding support for local treatment programs which provide services to victims of sex offenders;

(2) Providing technical assistance and support to help communities plan for and provide treatment services; and

The peer review committee shall advise the department on the extent to which each eligible applicant meets the purposes and criteria of this chapter. The department shall consider this advice in making awards.

(4) Activities funded under this section may be considered for funding in future years, but shall be considered under the same terms and criteria as new activities. Funding under this chapter shall not constitute an obligation by the state of Washington to provide ongoing funding.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 1208. The department of community development may receive such gifts, grants, and endowments from public or private sources as may be made from time to time, in trust or otherwise, for the use and benefit of the purposes of this chapter and expend the same or any income therefrom according to the terms of the gifts, grants, or endowments.

PART XIV

MISCELLANEOUS

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1401. Since child maltreatment cases often involve criminal offenses such as physical abuse, sexual abuse, and sexual exploitation by a family member, many such cases should be investigated by law enforcement agencies as well as child protective services agencies, and criminally prosecuted. A pilot project located in two counties shall be established for the joint investigation of child abuse and sexual assault cases by a law enforcement officer trained in gathering physical evidence and other investigative procedures, and a child protective services case worker skilled in interpreting psychological evidence and interviewing child victims in a sensitive manner.

The pilot project shall be conducted in the counties of King and Spokane from July 1, 1990, through June 30, 1991. The department of social and health services and participating law enforcement agencies shall report findings and recommendations to the senate committee on law and justice and the house of representatives judiciary committee by December 1, 1991.

The pilot project shall include the following elements:

(1) Joint training for law enforcement and child protective services staff in the investigation and assessment of reports of child maltreatment. The training programs shall be conducted jointly by the involved agencies.

(2) A law enforcement officer shall be teamed with a child protective services worker for the investigation of specified incidents.

(3) When the law enforcement agency receives a report of suspected physical abuse, neglect, sexual abuse, or other sexual exploitation of a child by the child's parent, guardian, custodian, or person otherwise responsible for the child's welfare the agency shall notify the child protective services agency immediately.

(4) When the child protective services agency receives a report of suspected physical assault, sexual offense, or sexual exploitation committed upon a child by anyone, whether or not the person is the child's parent, guardian, custodian, or otherwise responsible for the child's welfare, the agency shall notify the law enforcement agency immediately.

(5) The law enforcement agency and the child protective services agency shall jointly develop a procedure to determine when investigations of suspicious child deaths, physical abuse, neglect affecting the child's health, sexual abuse, and sexual exploitation of a child committed by the child's parent, guardian, custodian, or person otherwise responsible for the child's welfare shall be jointly investigated by the investigating teams authorized by this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1402. (1) The department of social and health services through its division of children and family services shall provide, subject to available funds, comprehensive sexual assault services to sexually abused children. The department shall provide treatment by licensed professionals on a one-to-one or group basis as may be deemed appropriate.

(2) Funds appropriated under this section shall be provided solely for contracts or direct purchase of specific treatment services from community organizations and private service providers for child victims of sexual assault and sexual abuse. Funds shall be disbursed through the request for proposal or request for qualifications process.

(3) As part of the request for proposal or request for qualifications process the department of social and health services shall ensure that there be no duplication of services with existing programs including the crime victims' compensation program as provided in chapter 7.68 RCW. The department shall also ensure that victims exhaust private insurance benefits available to the child victim before providing services to the child victim under this section.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 1403. The department of social and health services through its division of children and family services shall, subject to available funds, establish a system of early identification and referral to treatment of child victims of sexual assault or sexual abuse. The system shall include schools, physicians, sexual assault centers, domestic violence centers, child protective services, and foster parents. A mechanism shall be developed to identify communities that have experienced success in this area and share their expertise and methodology with other communities state-wide.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 1404. The index and part headings used in this act do not constitute any part of the law.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 1405. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 1406. (1) Sections 101 through 131, 401 through 409, 501 through 504, 606, 707 and 708, 801 through 810, 1101 through 1104, 1201 through 1210, and 1401 through 1403 of this act are necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately.

(2) Sections 201 through 203, 301 through 305, 701 through 706, and 901 through 904 shall take effect July 1, 1990, and shall apply to crimes committed on or after July 1, 1990.

WHEREAS, Over the past two hundred and fourteen years, our nation's flag has stood as a symbol of freedom and justice throughout the world; and

WHEREAS, The flag of the United States of America has stood, not just as a representation of a union of states, but as a symbol of the hopes and ideals of the American people and as a beacon of hope to enslaved people across the globe; and

WHEREAS, American forces, from Valley Forge to Iwo Jima, to the fields and valleys of Vietnam and the streets of Panama have fought and died to protect everything that the Stars and Stripes stand for; and

WHEREAS, The flag is such a powerful part of the life of each American that the mere sight of it proudly flying after the bombardment of Fort McHenry inspired Francis Key to compose our national anthem; and

WHEREAS, From the sight of American marines raising the flag on Mt. Suribachi, to young John F. Kennedy, Jr., saluting the flag in his father's funeral procession, to Neil Armstrong and Edwin Aldrin saluting the Stars and Stripes on the moon, to the flag-draped coffin of every American veteran ever laid to rest, no symbol yet devised can more faithfully capture the love Americans have for their country; and

WHEREAS, United States District Judge Barbara Rothstein recently ruled that Americans must protect the right of persons to destroy our flag in order for it to "endure as a symbol of freedom;" and

WHEREAS, It is the firm conviction of the members of the Washington State Senate that neither our founding fathers, nor the drafters of the Bill of Rights ever envisioned that the desecration of our flag would be condoned or protected by the Constitution;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington State Senate petitions the Washington State congressional delegation to actively seek and support a constitutional amendment to ban the destruction, desecration, mutilation or burning of the flag of the United States of America; and

(c) If a child is still in high school, upon a finding that there is a need to extend support beyond the eighteenth birthday to complete high school~~((or~~

~~((d) To add an automatic adjustment of support provision consistent with RCW 26.09.100)).~~

(5) An order or decree entered prior to June 7, 1984, may be modified without showing a substantial change of circumstances if the requested modification is to:

- (a) Require health insurance coverage for a child named therein; or
- (b) Modify an existing order for health insurance coverage.

(6) An obligor's voluntary unemployment or voluntary underemployment, by itself, is not a substantial change of circumstances.

(7) The department of social and health services may file an action to modify an order of child support if public assistance money is being paid to or for the benefit of the child and the child support order is twenty-five percent or more below the appropriate child support amount set forth in the adopted child support schedule and reasons for the deviation are not set forth in the findings of fact or order. The determination of twenty-five percent or more shall be based on the current income of the parties and the department shall not be required to show a substantial change of circumstances if the reasons for the deviations were not set forth in the findings of fact or order.

Sec. 3. Section 2, chapter 430, Laws of 1987 and RCW 26.09.175 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A proceeding for the modification of an order of child support shall commence with the filing of a petition and ~~((a supporting financial affidavit))~~ worksheets. The petition and affidavit shall be in substantially the form prescribed by the administrator for the courts. There shall be a fee of twenty dollars for the filing of a petition for modification of dissolution.

(2) The petitioner shall serve upon the other party the summons, a copy of the petition and affidavit, and a blank copy of ~~((a financial affidavit))~~ the worksheets in the form prescribed by the administrator for the courts. If the modification proceeding is the first action filed in this state, service shall be made by personal service. If the decree to be modified was entered in this state, service shall be by personal service or by any form of mail requiring a return receipt. If the support obligation has been assigned to the state pursuant to RCW 74.20.330 and notice has been filed with the court, the summons, petition, and ~~((affidavit))~~ worksheets shall also be served on the ~~((office of support enforcement))~~ attorney general. Proof of service shall be filed with the court.

(3) The responding party's answer and completed ~~((financial affidavit))~~ worksheets shall be served and the answer filed within twenty days after service of the petition or sixty days if served out of state. The responding party's failure to file an answer within the time required shall result in entry of a default judgment for the petitioner.

(4) At any time after responsive pleadings are filed, either party may schedule the matter for hearing.

(5) Unless both parties stipulate to arbitration or the presiding judge authorizes oral testimony pursuant to subsection (6) of this section, a petition for modification of an order of child support shall be heard by the court on affidavits only.

(6) A party seeking authority to present oral testimony on the petition to modify a support order shall file an appropriate motion not later than ten days after the time of notice of hearing. Affidavits and exhibits setting forth the reasons oral testimony is necessary to a just adjudication of the issues shall accompany the petition. The affidavits and exhibits must demonstrate the extraordinary features of the case. Factors which may be considered include, but are not limited to: (a) Substantial questions of credibility on a major issue; (b) insufficient or inconsistent discovery materials not correctable by further discovery; or (c) particularly complex circumstances requiring expert testimony.

(7) The administrator for the courts shall develop and prepare, in consultation with interested persons, model forms or notices for the use of the procedure provided by this section, including a notice advising of the right of a party to proceed with or without benefit of counsel.

Sec. 4. Section 2, chapter 275, Laws of 1988 and RCW 26.19.010 are each amended to read as follows:

Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter:

(1) "Child support schedule" means the standards and economic table ~~((adopted by the commission))~~ provided in this chapter;

(2) "Standards" means the standards for determination of child support ~~((which have been adopted by the commission, as modified by the legislature))~~ provided in this chapter;

(3) "Economic table" means the child support table for the basic support obligation ~~((which has been adopted by the commission))~~ provided in section 11 of this act;

(4) "Worksheets" means the forms ~~((adopted by the commission))~~ developed by the administrator for the courts for use in determining the amount of child support;

(5) "Instructions" means the instructions ~~((adopted by the commission))~~ developed by the administrator for the courts for use in completing the worksheets;

(6) ~~(("Commission" means the Washington state child support schedule commission established by RCW 26.19.036; and~~

~~((?)))~~ "Standard calculation" means the amount of child support which is owed as determined from the worksheets before any deviation is considered; and

(7) "Transfer payment" means the amount one parent is obligated to pay to the other parent after determination of the basic support obligation, the amounts owed for day care, health care, long distance transportation, and special child rearing expenses.

Sec. 5. Section 6, chapter 275, Laws of 1988 and RCW 26.19.050 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The ~~((commission))~~ administrator for the courts shall develop and adopt worksheets and instructions to assist the parties and courts in establishing the appropriate child support level and apportionment of support. The ~~((commission))~~ administrator for the courts shall attempt to the greatest extent possible to make the worksheets and instructions understandable by persons who are not represented by legal counsel.

(2) The administrator for the courts ~~(-in consultation with the commission;)~~ shall develop and adopt standards for the printing of worksheets and shall establish a process for certifying printed worksheets. ~~((The administrator shall not alter the design approved by the commission;))~~ The administrator may maintain a register of sources for approved worksheets.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 6. A new section is added to chapter 26.19 RCW to read as follows:

(1) In any proceeding under this title or Title 13 or 74 RCW in which child support is at issue, support shall be determined and ordered according to the standards and economic table provided in this chapter.

(2) An order for child support shall be supported by written findings of fact upon which the support determination is based and shall include reasons for deviation from the standard calculation.

(3) All income and resources of each parent's household shall be disclosed and shall be considered by the court or the presiding or reviewing officer when the child support obligation of each parent is determined. Tax returns for the preceding three years and current paystubs shall be provided to verify income and deductions. Other sufficient verification shall be required for income and deductions which do not appear on tax returns or paystubs.

(4) Worksheets in the form developed by the administrator for the courts shall be completed under penalty of perjury and filed in every proceeding in which child support is determined. Variations of the worksheets shall not be accepted.

(5) Unless specific reasons for deviation are set forth in the written findings of fact or order and are supported by the evidence, the court or the presiding or reviewing officer shall order each parent to pay the amount of child support determined using the standard calculation.

(6) The court or the presiding or reviewing officer shall review the worksheets and the order for adequacy of the reasons set forth for any deviation and for the adequacy of the amount of support ordered. Each order shall state the amount of child support calculated using the standard calculation and the amount of child support actually ordered. The worksheet on which the order is based shall be initialed or signed by the judge and filed with the order.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 7. A new section is added to chapter 26.19 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The basic child support obligation derived from the economic table shall be allocated between the parents based on each parent's share of the total family net income.

(2) Ordinary health care expenses are included in the economic table. Extraordinary expenses shall be shared by the parents in the same proportion as the basic child support obligation.

(3) Day care and special child rearing expenses such as tuition and long-distance transportation costs are not included in the economic table. These expenses shall be shared by the parents in the same proportion as the basic child support obligation and shall be listed as a specific dollar amount.

(4) The court may exercise its discretion to determine the reasonableness and necessity of extraordinary and special expenses.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 8. (1) Monthly gross income for child support purposes shall include income from any source, including: Salaries, wages, commissions, deferred compensation, bonuses, mandatory overtime, dividends, interest, trust income, severance pay, annuities, capital gains, social security benefits, workers' compensation, unemployment benefits, disability insurance benefits, spousal maintenance that is actually received, gifts, and prizes.

(2) Aid to families with dependent children, supplemental security income, general assistance, veterans aid and attendance allowance, and food stamps shall be disclosed but shall not be included in gross income or be a reason to deviate from the standard calculation.

(3) Child support received from other relationships shall be disclosed and considered, but shall not be included in gross income. Income of a new spouse or income of other adults in the household shall not be considered in determining the standard calculation.

(4) Allowable deductions from gross income are: Federal and state income taxes, federal insurance contributions act deductions, mandatory pension plan payments, mandatory union or professional dues, and overtime pay above an average of forty hours per week on a monthly basis, income derived from a second job above forty total hours per week, nonrecurring bonuses, spousal maintenance which is actually paid, voluntary pension payments actually made by self-employed persons who do not have a mandatory pension plan up to two thousand dollars per year, and payments of child support involving other relationships. All items excluded from income shall be disclosed in the worksheet.

(5) Self-employed persons may deduct normal business expenses and self-employment taxes. Justification shall be required for any business expense deduction about which there is disagreement.

(6) The court will impute income to the parent when the parent is voluntarily underemployed or voluntarily unemployed. The court will determine whether the person is underemployed or voluntarily unemployed based upon that parent's work history. A parent will not be deemed underemployed as long as that parent is gainfully employed on a full-time basis. Income shall not be imputed for an unemployable parent.

(7)(a) The court or the presiding or reviewing officer shall consider deviating from the standard calculation when the parties have children from other relationships. The court shall consider all the circumstances of both households and may use the blended family formula approach as recommended by the commission in its report dated December 1989.

(b) The court or the presiding or reviewing officer shall consider deviating from the standard calculation if the child spends a significant amount of time with the parent who is obligated to pay child support. The court shall not use this subsection to restrict either parent's contact or visitation with the child or children.

(c) Deviation may also be made pursuant to subsection (8) of this section.

(8) Additional reasons that may support a deviation from the standard calculation include: Possession of wealth, resources excluded from income except those resources listed in subsection (2) of this section, shared living arrangements, extraordinary debts that have not been voluntarily incurred, extraordinarily high income of a child, a significant disparity of the living costs of the parents due to conditions beyond their control, and special needs of disabled children. A deviation may be supported by tax planning considerations only if the child would not receive a lesser economic benefit.

(9) Agreement of the parties is not by itself adequate reason for deviation.

(10) Neither parent's child support obligation shall exceed fifty percent of net earnings unless good cause is shown. Good cause could include possession of substantial wealth, children with day care expenses, special medical, educational, or psychological needs, and larger families.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. A new section is added to chapter 26.19 RCW to read as follows:

The child support schedule shall be advisory and not mandatory for children who have attained the age of eighteen, have completed their secondary education, and who seek postsecondary education. When considering whether to order child support for children over age eighteen who have completed their secondary education and who seek postsecondary education, the court shall determine whether the child is in fact dependent and is relying upon the parents for the reasonable necessities of life. The court shall exercise its discretion when determining whether and for how long to award postsecondary educational support based upon consideration of factors that include but are not limited to the following: Age of the child; the child's needs; the expectations of the parties for their children when the parents were together; the child's prospects, desires, aptitudes, abilities, disabilities; the nature of the postsecondary education sought; and the parents' level of education, standard of living, and current and future resources. Also to be considered is the amount and type of support that the child would have been afforded if the parents had stayed together. The child must be enrolled in school, actively pursuing a course of study, and in good academic standing as defined by the institution or the court-ordered postsecondary educational support may be automatically suspended during the period or periods the child fails to comply with these conditions. The court in its discretion may order that the payment be made directly to the parent who has been receiving the transfer payments, the educational institution if feasible, or directly to the child. The court shall not order the payment of postsecondary educational expenses beyond the age of twenty-three, except for exceptional circumstances, such as mental, physical, or emotional disabilities.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. A new section is added to chapter 26.19 RCW to read as follows:

The parties may agree which parent is entitled to claim the child or children as dependents for federal income tax exemptions. The court may award the exemption or exemptions and order a party to sign the federal income tax dependency exemption waiver. The court may divide the exemptions between the parties, alternate the exemptions between the parties, or both.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. A new section is added to chapter 26.19 RCW to read as follows:

The standard calculation shall be based upon the combined net income of the parties and determined according to the following economic table:

When combined monthly income exceeds five thousand dollars per month, child support shall be determined by that amount from the table. The judge, in his or her discretion, may order an additional amount to be paid in cases with unusual or extraordinary circumstances.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. A new section is added to chapter 26.19 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided in subsections (2) and (3) of this section, all child support decrees may be adjusted once every twenty-four months pursuant to this chapter based upon changes in the income of the parents without a showing of substantially changed circumstances as provided in RCW 26.09.170. Either party may initiate the modification pursuant to procedures of RCW 26.09.175.

(2) Parents whose decrees are entered before the effective date of this act may petition the court for a modification after twelve months has expired from the entry of the decree or the most recent modification setting child support. However, if a party is granted relief under this provision, twenty-four months must pass before another petition for modification may be filed pursuant to subsection (1) of this section.

(3) A party may petition for modification in cases of substantially changed circumstances, under RCW 26.09.170, at any time. However, if relief is granted under RCW 26.09.170, twenty-four months must pass before a petition for modification under subsection (1) of this section may be filed.

(4) If the court modifies a child support obligation by more than thirty percent, the court may stagger the change over a twelve-month period when the change would cause significant hardship.

(5) A parent who is receiving transfer payments who receives a wage or salary increase may not bring a modification action alleging that increase constitutes a substantial change of circumstances under RCW 26.09.170.

Sec. 13. Section 2407, Code of 1881 as amended by section 1, chapter 207, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. and RCW 26.16.205 are each amended to read as follows:

The expenses of the family and the education of the children, including stepchildren, are chargeable upon the property of both husband and wife, or either of them, and in relation thereto they may be sued jointly or separately; PROVIDED, That with regard to stepchildren, the obligation shall cease upon the ~~((termination of the relationship of husband and wife))~~ filing of either a petition for legal separation or a petition for dissolution or marriage.

Sec. 14. Section 4, chapter 260, Laws of 1984 and RCW 26.18.040 are each amended to read as follows:

- (1) A proceeding to enforce a duty of support is commenced:
 - (a) By filing a petition for an original action; or
 - (b) By motion in an existing action or under an existing cause number.

(2) Venue for the action is in the superior court of the county where the dependent child resides or is present, where the obligor resides, or where the prior support order was entered. The petition or motion may be filed by the obligee, the state, or any stepparent or agency providing care or support to the dependent child. A filing fee shall not be assessed in cases brought on behalf of the state of Washington.

(3) The court retains continuing jurisdiction under this chapter until all duties of support of the obligor, including arrearages, with respect to the dependent child have been satisfied.

Sec. 15. Section 2, chapter 164, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. as last amended by section 1, chapter 55, Laws of 1989 and by section 151, chapter 175, Laws of 1989 and RCW 74.20A.020 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

- (6) "Administrative order" means any determination, finding, decree, or order for support pursuant to RCW 74.20A.055, or by an agency of another state pursuant to a substantially similar administrative process, establishing the existence of a support obligation and ordering the payment of a set or determinable amount of support moneys to satisfy the support obligation.

- (11) "State" means any state or political subdivision, territory, or possession of the United States, the District of Columbia, and the commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

Sec. 16. Section 24, chapter 460, Laws of 1987 as amended by section 18, chapter 375, Laws of 1989 and RCW 26.09.909 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Decrees under this chapter involving child custody, visitation, or child support entered in actions commenced prior to January 1, 1988, shall be deemed to be parenting plans for purposes of this chapter.

(2) The enactment of the 1987 revisions to this chapter does not constitute substantially changed circumstances for the purposes of modifying decrees entered under this chapter in actions commenced prior to January 1, 1988, involving child custody, visitation, or child support. ~~(An) Any~~ action to modify any decree involving child custody, visitation, child support, or a parenting plan ~~((which was commenced after December 31, 1987;))~~ shall be governed by the ~~((1987 revisions to))~~ provisions of this chapter.

Senator Talmadge moved that the following amendments to the committee amendment be considered simultaneously and be adopted:

On page 5, beginning on line 25 of the amendment, after "Sec. 6." strike everything through "order." on page 6, line 21 and insert "Section 3, chapter 275, Laws of 1988 as amended by section 76, chapter 175, Laws of 1989 and RCW 26.19.020 are each amended to read as follows:

(1)(a) Except as provided in (b) of this subsection, in any proceeding under this title or Title 13 or 74 RCW in which child support is at issue, support shall be determined and ordered according to the child support schedule ~~((adopted pursuant to RCW 26.19.040))~~ provided in section 11 of this act.

(b) If approved by a majority vote of the superior court judges of a county, the superior court may adopt by local court rule an economic table that shall be used by the superior court of that county, instead of the economic table adopted by the commission, to determine the appropriate amount of child support. The economic table adopted by the superior court shall not vary by more than twenty-five percent from the economic table adopted by the commission and shall not vary the economic table for combined monthly net income of two thousand five hundred dollars or less.

(2) An order for child support shall be supported by written findings of fact upon which the support determination is based.

(3) All income and resources of each parent's household shall be disclosed ~~((and shall be considered by the court or the presiding or reviewing officer when the child support obligation of each parent is determined)).~~ Tax returns for the preceding three years and current paystubs shall be provided to verify income and deductions. Other sufficient verification shall be required for income and deductions which do not appear on tax returns or paystubs. Income of a new spouse or income of other adults in the household shall not be considered in determining the standard calculation.

(4) Worksheets in the form approved by the ~~((commission))~~ administrator for the courts shall be completed and filed in every proceeding in which child support is determined. Variations of the worksheets shall not be accepted.

(5) Unless specific reasons for deviation are set forth in the written findings of fact or order and are supported by the evidence, the court or the presiding or reviewing officer shall order each parent to pay the amount of child support determined using the standard calculation.

(6) The court or the presiding or reviewing officer shall review the worksheets and the order for adequacy of the reasons set forth for any deviation and for the adequacy of the amount of support ordered. Each order shall state the amount of child support calculated using the standard calculation and the amount of child support actually ordered. The worksheet on which the order is based shall be initialed or signed by the judge and filed with the order.

(7) Reasons that may support a deviation from the standard calculation include: Possession of wealth, shared living arrangements, extraordinary debts that have not been voluntarily incurred, extraordinarily high income of a child, a significant disparity of the living costs of the parents due to conditions beyond their control, and special needs of disabled children. A deviation may be supported by tax planning considerations only if the child would not receive a lesser economic benefit. Agreement of the parties, by itself, is not adequate reason for deviation."

On page 7, beginning on line 1 of the amendment, after "Sec. 8." strike everything through "families." on page 8, line 30 and insert "A new section is added to chapter 26.19 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Monthly gross income for child support purposes shall include income from any source, including: Salaries, wages, commissions, deferred compensation, bonuses, overtime, dividends, interest, trust income, severance pay, annuities, capital gains, social security benefits, workers' compensation, unemployment benefits, disability insurance benefits, gifts, and prizes.

(2) Aid to families with dependent children, supplemental security income, general assistance, and food stamps shall be disclosed but shall not be included in gross income or be a reason to deviate from the standard calculation.

(3) Maintenance and child support received from other relationships shall be disclosed and considered for purposes of deviation, but shall not be included as a deduction from gross income. Income of a new spouse or income of other adults in the household shall not be considered in determining the standard calculation.

(4) Allowable deductions from gross income are: Federal and state income taxes, federal insurance contributions act deductions, mandatory pension plan payments, and mandatory union or professional dues. All items excluded from income shall be disclosed in the worksheet.

(5) Nonrecurring overtime and nonrecurring bonuses may be allowed as a deduction from gross income in the discretion of the court.

(6) Self-employed persons may deduct normal business expenses and self-employment taxes. Justification shall be required for any business expense deduction about which there is disagreement.

(7) The court will impute income to the parent when the parent is voluntarily underemployed or voluntarily unemployed. The court will determine whether the person is underemployed or voluntarily unemployed based upon that parent's work history. A parent will not be deemed underemployed as long as that parent is gainfully employed on a full-time basis. Income shall not be imputed for an unemployable parent.

(8) The court or the presiding or reviewing officer shall consider deviating from the standard calculation when the parties have children from other relationships. The court shall consider all the circumstances of both households and may use the blended family formula approach as recommended by the commission in its report dated December 1989.

(9) Neither parent's child support obligation shall exceed fifty percent of net earnings unless good cause is shown. Good cause could include possession of substantial wealth, children with day care expenses, special medical, educational, or psychological needs, and larger families."

On page 8, after line 32 of the amendment, strike everything through "disabilities." on page 9, line 25 and insert the following:

"Basic child support shall be allocated between the parents when a child stays overnight with the parent over twenty-five percent of the year. When this adjustment is sought, and the parents are not in agreement, the parent seeking the adjustment shall provide evidence to demonstrate the parents' actual past involvement with the child. However, the support payment should not be reduced if there will be insufficient funds available to meet the basic needs of the child in the house receiving the support, or if the child is receiving aid to families with dependent children payments."

On page 10, after line 3 of the amendment, strike everything through "circumstances." on page 12, line 2 and insert the following:

The Vice President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendments by Senator Talmadge on page 5, beginning on line 25; page 7, beginning on line 1; page 8, after line 32; and page 10, after line 3; to the Committee on Law and Justice striking amendment to Engrossed House Bill No. 2888.

The motion by Senator Talmadge failed and the amendments to the committee amendment were not adopted on a rising vote.

MOTION

Senator Owen moved that the following amendment by Senators Owen and Rasmussen to the Committee on Law and Justice amendment be adopted:

On page 8, line 11, after "support," insert "The court shall not use this subsection to restrict either parent's contact or visitation with the child or children."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Talmadge: "Madam President, I rise to a point of order. I believe the amendment to the Committee on Law and Justice amendment expands the scope and object of the bill. The amendment to the committee amendment that is before us pertains to the question of contact or visitation between the child or children. The proposal that we have before us relates solely to child support and the financial obligations associated with it. I believe that if the amendment was properly formulated, it would have to come as an amendment to the substantive law relating to dissolution of marriage as opposed to a change in the child support schedule that we have before us. I believe for that reason that the amendment to the committee amendment expands the scope and object of the bill that is before us."

There being no objection, the Vice President Pro Tempore deferred further consideration of the amendment by Senators Owen and Rasmussen on page 8, line 11, to the Committee on Law and Justice striking amendment to Engrossed House Bill No. 2888.

MOTION

Senator Owen moved that the following amendments by Senators Owen and Rasmussen to the Committee on Law and Justice amendment be considered simultaneously and be adopted:

On page 10, beginning on line 1 of the amendment, strike everything through "437" on page 11, line 61 and insert the following:

(1) The Washington state child support schedule commission shall, by June 1, 1990, develop an economic table for the monthly basic child support obligation. The commission shall modify the present commission table to reduce by twenty-five percent the basic support obligation above the eighteen hundred dollar combined monthly net income level, but the support obligation is not to be equal or less than the obligation of the next lower monthly income level. The top combined monthly net income level shall be set at five thousand dollars.

(2) The child support schedule commission shall begin immediately to develop the economic table required under subsection (1) of this section.

On page 16, line 8 of the amendment, after "Sec. 18," strike everything through "1990." and insert "(1) Except for section 11(2) of this act, this act shall take effect July 1, 1990.

(2) Section 11(2) of this act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately."

Debate ensued.

MOTION

Senator Talmadge moved that the following amendment to the Committee on Law and Justice amendment be adopted:

On page 15, after line 32 of the amendment, insert the following:

NEW SECTION, Sec. 17. The Washington state institute for public policy shall undertake a study of the child support schedule implemented pursuant to chapter 26.19 RCW. The study shall include an analysis of the economic assumptions underlying the economic tables currently in use in Washington state, including those currently in use in counties that have adopted alternative economic tables pursuant to RCW 26.19.020(1)(b). The analysis shall include consideration of whether support levels included in the economic tables currently in use accurately reflect child rearing costs for families of different sizes and different income levels in the state of Washington and whether those support levels provide additional support commensurate with parents' income, resources, and standard of living. It also shall include a determination of whether a single child support schedule should be applied state-wide.

The study shall include an assessment of the impact of the current child support schedule on caseload and grant levels for the aid to families with dependent children program, and analysis of federal statutory and regulatory requirements relating to federal financial participation in state child support enforcement activities.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 18. A final report detailing the findings of the study shall be provided to relevant committees of the house of representatives and the senate on or before December 1, 1990.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 19. The sum of seventy-five thousand dollars, or as much thereof as may be necessary, is appropriated from the general fund to The Evergreen State College for the biennium ending June 30, 1991, solely for the Washington state institute for public policy to conduct the study provided for in sections 17 and 18 of this act. Any portion of this appropriation not expended by June 30, 1991, for the purpose of this act shall lapse."

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

RULING BY THE VICE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

Vice President Pro Tempore Craswell: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Talmadge, the President finds that Engrossed House Bill No. 2888 would make broad changes in the state's child support schedule and would, among other things, allow the court or the presiding or reviewing officer to deviate from the standard calculation if the child spends a significant amount of time with the parent who is obligated to pay child support.

"The amendment proposed by Senators Owen and Rasmussen to the Committee on Law and Justice striking amendment provides that this discretionary deviation is not to be a factor in restricting contact or visitation with children.

"The President, therefore, finds that the amendment to the committee amendment does not change the scope and object of the bill and that the point of order is not well taken."

The amendment by Senators Owen and Rasmussen on page 8, line 11, to the Committee on Law and Justice striking amendment to Engrossed House Bill No. 2888 was ruled in order.

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 2940, by Committee on Transportation (originally sponsored by Representatives R. Meyers, S. Wilson and Zellinsky)

Pertaining to vehicle dealer documentary service fees.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Patterson, the following Committee on Transportation amendment was adopted:

On page 8, line 27, after "documentary" insert "service"

On motion of Senator Patterson, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 2940, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Patterson, I caught something about fifteen million dollars."

Senator Patterson: "Thirteen million."

Senator Rasmussen: "Thirteen million and that is coming to the state because of this law?"

Senator Patterson: "No, this is a fee of up to twenty-five dollars per transaction for an automobile dealer that they could collect as a documentary service fee. That would remain with the agency where you purchase the automobile. It is to try and provide them with some dollars. We have been told that many of the people that have been dealing with titles and what have you have to be specially trained, so that you do have the proper title once you make a purchase and this is a service that they have never had. They have had to take that as their overhead in the operation of the agency and they are asking that they be authorized a fee of up to twenty-five dollars which would remain with that agency where you purchase the automobile."

Senator Rasmussen: "Let me ask you a further question, then. I hear advertising on the radio and TV all the time where they say to come up there and buy your car from good-hearted Joe because we can sell them cheaper in Lynnwood than in Seattle. Seattle has a six-cent transit tax, so you can save three-tenths of a percent up there in Lynnwood. If I am running big-hearted George's and good-hearted Joe's car agency, I don't have to charge a fee, do I? I can tell them--my competitors are charging a fee, but I'm not, so buy your car from me--or is it compulsory?"

Senator Patterson: "There is no dealer that would be required to assess this service or this fee for the service of providing titles and what have you. The fact that there are other fees--they have to collect all the fees that go to the state of Washington--the motor vehicle excise tax--they make all the arrangements--the sales tax which goes to the state--but this fee would not go to the state of Washington. It would be discretionary on the part of each individual."

Senator Rasmussen: "We could assume that if all dealers charged the fee that they had an agreement among themselves that they would."

Senator Patterson: "I suppose that could happen."

Senator Rasmussen: "That would be against the law if they had that type of an agreement?"

Senator Patterson: "No, this bill doesn't speak to that."

Senator Rasmussen: "I thought that was prohibited under the Consumer Protection Act. I can understand the fee, but I can't understand an agreement that they will all uniformly charge it. That is why I asked the question."

Senator Patterson: "Well, the bill provides that it can be from nothing to twenty-five dollars. Some agents may not charge anything, but there are a lot of them, particularly with the smaller dealers in some of the rural areas of the state, that have a very difficult time. The turnover is not that great, yet they have to have competent people that provide these documents for the state of Washington."

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 2940, as amended by the Senate.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 2940, as amended by the Senate, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 37; nays, 12.

Voting nays: Senators Amondson, Barr, Fleming, Hansen, Kreidler, McCaslin, Niemi, Rasmussen, Stratton, Sutherland, Talmadge, Williams - 12.

SECOND READING

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 2932, by Committee on Natural Resources and Parks (originally sponsored by Representatives K. Wilson, Miller, Baugher, Smith, Doty, Valle, Hine and R. Fisher)

Providing for regional water resource planning.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Barr, the following Committee on Agriculture amendment was adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

*Sec. 1. Section 1, chapter 225, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. and RCW 90.54.010 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The legislature finds that:

(a) Proper utilization of the water resources of this state is necessary to the promotion of public health and the economic well-being of the state and the preservation of its natural resources and aesthetic values. ~~((The legislature further finds that the availability of waters of the state is being evaluated by interests who desire to remove portions thereof from the state in a manner inconsistent with the public interest of people of the state:))~~ Although water is a renewable resource, its supply and availability are becoming increasingly limited, particularly during summer and fall months and dry years when demand is greatest. Growth and prosperity have significantly increased the competition for this limited resource. Adequate water supplies are essential to meet the needs of the state's growing population and economy. At the same time instream resources and values must be preserved and protected so that future generations can continue to enjoy them.

(b) All citizens of Washington share an interest in the proper stewardship of our invaluable water resources. To ensure that available water supplies are managed to best meet both instream and offstream needs, a comprehensive planning process is essential. The people of the state have the unique opportunity to work together to plan and manage our water. Through a comprehensive planning process that includes the state, Indian tribes, local governments, and interested parties, it is possible to make better use of available water supplies through conservation, water use efficiency, improved management of peak and flood flows, cooperation and coordination among water suppliers, and better management of water resources. Comprehensive planning can also help to restore and enhance fishery resources and other instream values. Through comprehensive planning, conflicts among water users and interests can be reduced or resolved. It is in the best interests of the state that comprehensive water resource planning be given a high priority so that water resources and associated values can be utilized and enjoyed today and protected for tomorrow.

(c) Diverse hydrologic, climatic, cultural, and socioeconomic conditions exist throughout the regions of the state. Water resource issues vary significantly across regions. Comprehensive water resource planning is best accomplished through a regional planning process sensitive to the unique characteristics and issues of each region.

(d) Comprehensive water resource planning must provide interested parties adequate opportunity to participate. Water resource issues are best addressed through cooperation and coordination among the state, Indian tribes, local governments, and interested parties.

(e) The long-term needs of the state require ongoing assessment of water availability, use, and demand. A thorough inventory of available resources is essential to water resource management. Current state water resource data and data management is inadequate to meet changing needs and respond to competing water demands. Therefore, a state water resource data program is needed to support an effective water resource management program. Efforts should be made to coordinate and consolidate into one resource data system all relevant information developed by the department of ecology and other agencies relating to the use, protection, and management of the state's water resources.

(2) It is the purpose of this chapter to set forth fundamentals of water resource policy for the state to insure that waters of the state are protected and fully utilized for the greatest benefit to the people of the state of Washington and, in relation thereto, to provide direction to the department of ecology ~~((and)),~~ other state agencies and officials, ~~and local government~~ in carrying out water and related resources programs. It is the intent of the legislature to work closely with the executive branch, Indian tribes, local government, and interested parties to ensure that water resources of the state are wisely managed.

Sec. 2. Section 3, chapter 225, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. as amended by section 4, chapter 47, Laws of 1988 and RCW 90.54.030 are each amended to read as follows:

For the purpose of ~~((insuring))~~ ensuring that the department is fully advised in relation to the performance of the water resources program provided in RCW 90.54.040, and to provide information and support to ~~((the fact-finding service and))~~ the joint select committee established in RCW ~~((90.54.022 and))~~ 90.54.024, the department is directed to become informed with regard to all phases of water and related resources of the state. To accomplish this objective the department shall:

(1) Develop a comprehensive water resource data program that provides the information necessary for effective planning and management on a regional and state-wide basis. The data program shall include an information management plan describing the data requirements for effective water resource planning, and a system for collecting and providing access to water resource data on a regional and state-wide basis. The water resource data program shall also include a resource inventory and needs assessment pursuant to subsection (5) of this section:

(2) Collect, organize and catalog existing information and studies available to it from all sources, both public and private, pertaining to water and related resources of the state:

((2)) (3) Develop such additional data and studies pertaining to water and related resources as are necessary to accomplish the objectives of this chapter:

((3) Determine existing and foreseeable uses of, and needs for, such waters and related resources:))

(4) Develop alternate courses of action to solve existing and foreseeable problems of water and related resources and include therein, to the extent feasible, the economic and social consequences of each such course, and the impact on the natural environment;

(5) Establish a water resources data management task force to evaluate data management needs, advise the joint select committee on water resource policy, the legislature, and the department in developing an information management plan, and conduct a water resource inventory and needs assessment. The task force shall include representatives of appropriate state agencies, Indian tribes, local governments, and interested parties. The task force shall include expertise in both water resources and resource data management. The task force shall make recommendations to the department on developing a data base for water resource planning throughout the state. In conducting the water resource inventory and needs assessment, the task force shall oversee the inventory of existing data and determine what additional data is needed for effective water resource planning and management. The task force shall otherwise provide continuing guidance to the joint select committee on water resource policy, the legislature, and the department in developing and maintaining an effective information management plan. The department shall coordinate the water resource data program to provide water resource information that meets the needs of the comprehensive water resources program and planning process provided for in RCW 90.54.040;

(6) Prior to September 1, 1990, provide a report to the chairs of the appropriate legislative committees based on the preliminary findings and recommendations of the water resources data management task force. The report shall document the current information flows and data collection processes for state water resources data, and shall include an analysis of task force recommendations for developing additional information to meet water resource data needs. The report shall further include an estimate of funding requirements to implement the water resources data program for consideration in future biennial budget decisions;

(7) Prior to implementation of any preliminary findings and recommendations pursuant to subsection (6) of this section, and contingent on legislative appropriation, develop a five-year plan for data collection and information management approved by the department of information services. Commencing July 1, 1991, the department shall provide annual reports to the chairs of the appropriate legislative committees on the development and implementation of the five-year plan and progress toward completion of the water resource inventory and needs assessment; and

(8) Establish pursuant to task force recommendations a process to resolve technical issues in the development and implementation of the water resource inventory and needs assessment.

All the foregoing shall be included in a "water resources ((archive)) information system" established and maintained by the department. The department shall develop a system of cataloging, storing and retrieving the information and studies of the ((archive)) information system so that they may be made readily available to and effectively used not only by the department but by the public generally.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 90.54 RCW to read as follows:

(1) In the development and implementation of the comprehensive state water resources program required in RCW 90.54.040(1), the process described therein shall involve participation of appropriate state agencies, Indian tribes, local governments, and interested parties, and shall be applied on a regional basis pursuant to subsection (2) of this section.

(2) Prior to January 1, 1991, the department, with advice from appropriate state agencies, Indian tribes, local government, and interested parties, shall identify regions and establish regional boundaries for water resource planning and shall designate two regions in which the process shall be initiated on a pilot basis. One region shall encompass an area within the Puget Sound basin in which critical water resource issues exist. A concurrent pilot process may encompass a region east of the Cascade mountains.

(3) The department shall report to the chairs of the appropriate legislative committees prior to July 1st each year summarizing the progress of the pilot process in the two regions. The pilot process in each region shall be completed and shall produce a regional water plan by December 31, 1993.

(4) Appropriate state agencies, Indian tribes, local governments, and interested parties in regions not selected for the pilot program are strongly encouraged to commence water resource planning within their regions.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 4. If specific funding for the purposes of this act, referencing this act by bill number, is not provided by June 30, 1990, in the omnibus appropriations act, this act shall be null and void."

On motion of Senator Barr, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 1 of the title, after "planning;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "amending RCW 90.54.010 and 90.54.030; adding a new section to chapter 90.54 RCW; and creating a new section."

The definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(1) "Base salary" means salaries or wages earned by a member of a system during a payroll period for personal services and includes wages and salaries deferred under provisions of the United States internal revenue code, but shall exclude overtime payments, non-money maintenance compensation, and lump sum payments for deferred annual sick leave, unused accumulated vacation, unused accumulated annual leave, any form of severance pay, any bonus for voluntary retirement, any other form of leave, or any similar lump sum payment.

(2) A dual member who is eligible to retire under any system may elect to retire from all the member's systems and to receive service retirement allowances calculated as provided in this section. Each system shall calculate the allowance using its own criteria except that the member shall be allowed to substitute the member's base salary from any system as the compensation used in calculating the allowance.

(3) The service retirement allowances from a system which, but for this section, would not be allowed to be paid at this date based on the dual member's age shall be either actuarially adjusted from the earliest age upon which the combined service would have made such dual member eligible in that system, or the dual member may choose to defer the benefit until fully eligible.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 41.54 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The cities of Seattle, Spokane, and Tacoma shall each have the option of making an irrevocable election to have its employee retirement system included in the coverage of this chapter by adopting a resolution transmitting it to the director and the joint committee on pension policy prior to December 1, 1990.

Requiring safety standards for the operation of jet skis.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Metcalf moved that the following Committee on Environment and Natural Resources amendment be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. Section 1, chapter 241, Laws of 1989 and RCW 88.12.070 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The purpose of this section is to promote safety in water skiing on the waters of Washington state, provide a means of ensuring safe water skiing and promote the enjoyment of water skiing.

(2) When used in this section, the following words and phrases shall have the meanings designated in this section unless a different meaning is expressly provided or unless the context clearly indicates otherwise.

(a) "Operator" means the individual in physical control of ~~((the recreational boat))~~ a vessel. The operator of a personal watercraft shall be at least fourteen years of age.

(b) "Observer" means the individual riding in ~~((the recreational boat))~~ a vessel who shall be responsible for observing the water skier at all times. The observer and the operator shall not be the same person. The observer shall be ~~((at least ten years of age))~~ an individual capable of complying with the observer requirements of subsection (3) of this section.

(c) ~~(("Recreational boat" means any vessel manufactured or used primarily for noncommercial use, or leased, rented, or chartered to another for the latter's noncommercial use.))~~ "Personal watercraft" means a vessel of less than sixteen feet which uses a motor powering a water jet pump, as its primary source of motive power and which is designed to be operated by a person sitting, standing, or kneeling on, or being towed behind the vessel, rather than in the conventional manner of sitting or standing inside the vessel.

(d) "Vessel" means every watercraft used or capable of being used as a means of transportation on the water, other than a seaplane.

(e) "Waters of Washington state" means any waters within the territorial limits of Washington state.

(3) No ~~((recreational boat))~~ vessel which has in tow a person or persons on water skis, or similar contrivance shall be operated on any waters of Washington state unless such craft shall be occupied by at least an operator and an observer. The observer shall continuously observe the person or persons being towed and shall display a flag immediately after the towed person or persons fall into the water, and during the time preparatory to skiing while the person or persons are still in the water. Such flag shall be a bright red or brilliant orange color, measuring at least twelve inches ~~((on each side))~~ square, mounted on a ~~((handle))~~ pole not less than twenty-four inches long and displayed as to be visible from every direction. This subsection does not apply to a ~~((United States coast guard approved recreational boat))~~ personal watercraft, the design of which makes no provision for carrying an operator or any other person on board, and that is actually operated by the person or persons being towed. Every remote-operated personal watercraft shall have a flag attached which meets the requirements of this subsection.

(4) No person shall engage or attempt to engage in water skiing, or operate or ride on a personal watercraft, without wearing an adequate and effective United States coast guard approved type I, II, III, or V personal flotation device in good and serviceable condition and of appropriate size, or a wet suit ~~((specifically designed by a manufacturer for that purpose and capable of floating the water skier))~~ which is approved for personal flotation by the United States coast guard. A person operating a personal watercraft equipped by the manufacturer with a lanyard type engine cutoff switch must attach the lanyard to his or her person, clothing, or personal flotation device as is appropriate for the specific vessel. It is unlawful for any person to remove or disable a cutoff switch which was installed by the manufacturer.

(5) No person shall engage or attempt to engage in water skiing, or operate any vessel to tow a water skier, on the waters of Washington state during the period from one hour after sunset until one hour prior to sunrise.

(6) No person shall operate a personal watercraft on the waters of Washington state during the period from sunset until sunrise.

(7) No person engaged in water skiing, or the operation of a personal watercraft, shall conduct himself or herself in a negligent manner that endangers, or is likely to endanger, any person or property.

~~((7))~~ (8) The requirements of subsections (3), (4), and (5) of this section shall not apply to ~~((water skiers and boat operators))~~ persons engaged in ~~((water ski))~~ tournaments, competitions, or exhibitions that have been authorized or otherwise permitted by the appropriate agency having jurisdiction and authority to authorize such events.

(9) It shall be unlawful for a person to lease, hire, or rent a personal watercraft to any person who is under sixteen years of age.

Sec. 2. Section 4, chapter 72, Laws of 1933 and RCW 88.12.040 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) All such motor driven boats or vessels shall use ~~((a muffler or other similar device to reduce the sound of exhaust))~~ an adequate and operating muffling device with a series of baffles and chambers, which shall effectively blend the exhaust and motor noise in such a manner so as to preclude excessive or unusual noise.

(2) It shall be unlawful to remove, disable, bypass, or use a cutout device on any muffler or muffling device of any vessel, except while engaged in organized racing events in an area designated for that purpose.

Sec. 3. Section 2, chapter 267, Laws of 1985 as last amended by section 6, chapter 373, Laws of 1987 and RCW 88.02.095 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) It shall be unlawful for any person to operate a vessel in a negligent manner ~~((except a commercial vessel which has or is required to have a valid marine document as a vessel of the United States and is operating in the navigable waters of the United States))~~. For the purpose of this section, to "operate in a negligent manner" shall be construed to mean the operation of a vessel in such manner as to endanger or be likely to endanger any persons or property or to operate at a rate of speed greater than will permit the operator in the exercise of reasonable care to bring the vessel to a safe stop.

(2) A person is guilty of operating a vessel while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug if the person operates a vessel within this state while:

(a) The person has 0.10 grams or more of alcohol per two hundred ten liters of breath, as shown by analysis of the person's breath made under RCW 46.61.506; or

(b) The person has 0.10 percent or more by weight of alcohol in the person's blood, as shown by analysis of the person's blood made under RCW 46.61.506; or

(c) The person is under the influence of or affected by intoxicating liquor or any drug; or

(d) The person is under the combined influence of or affected by intoxicating liquor and any drug.

The fact that any person charged with a violation of this section is or has been entitled to use such drug under the laws of this state shall not constitute a defense against any charge of violating this section. A person cited under this subsection may upon request be given a breath test for breath alcohol or may request to have a blood sample taken for blood alcohol analysis. An arresting officer shall administer field sobriety tests when circumstances permit.

(3) For the purposes of this section, "vessel" means any watercraft used or capable of being used as a means of transportation on the water, other than a seaplane.

(4) For the purpose of this section, "vessel operator" means a person who is in actual physical control of a vessel.

(5) A violation of this section is a misdemeanor, punishable by up to ninety days in jail and by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars. In addition, the court may order the defendant to pay restitution for any damages or injuries resulting from the offense.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. This act shall take effect July 1, 1990.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected."

SECOND READING

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 2643, by Committee on Appropriations (originally sponsored by Representatives Hine, D. Sommers, Sayan, McLean, H. Sommers, Silver, R. King, Anderson, Winsley and Spanel) (by Joint Committee on Pension Policy)

Changing survivorship options for members of state retirement systems.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Johnson moved that the following Committee on Ways and Means amendment be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that:

(1) It would be advantageous for some retirees to have survivorship options available other than the options currently listed in statute. Allowing the department of retirement systems to adopt several different survivor options will assist retirees in their financial planning; and

(2) Disabled members of the retirement systems listed in RCW 41.50.030, except for members of the law enforcement officers' and fire fighters' retirement system plan I, must forfeit any right to leave a benefit to their survivors if they wish to go on disability retirement. This results in some disabled workers holding onto their jobs in order to provide for their dependents. The provisions of this act allow members to go on disability retirement while still providing for their survivors.

Sec. 2. Section 9, chapter 109, Laws of 1988 and RCW 2.10.146 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Upon making application for a service retirement allowance under RCW 2.10.100 or a disability allowance under RCW 2.10.120, a judge who is eligible therefor shall make an election as to the manner in which such service retirement shall be paid from among the following designated options, calculated so as to be actuarially equivalent to each other:

((+)) (a) Standard Allowance. A member selecting this option shall receive a retirement allowance, which shall be computed as provided in RCW 2.10.110. The retirement allowance shall be payable throughout the judge's life. However, if the judge dies before the total of the retirement allowance paid to the judge equals the amount of the judge's accumulated contributions at the time of retirement, then the balance shall be paid to such person or persons having an insurable interest in the judge's life, as the judge has nominated by written designation duly executed and filed with the department of retirement systems or, if there is no such designated person or persons still living at the time of the judge's death, then to the surviving spouse or, if there is neither such designated person or persons still living at the time of death nor a surviving spouse, then to the judge's legal representative.

((2)) Option II. A judge who selects this option shall receive a reduced retirement allowance which upon death shall be continued throughout the life of and paid to such person, having an insurable interest in the judge's life, as the judge has nominated by written designation duly executed and filed with the department of retirement systems at the time of retirement.

(3) Option III. A judge who selects this option shall receive a reduced retirement allowance and upon death, one-half of the judge's reduced retirement allowance shall be continued throughout the life of and paid to such person, having an insurable interest in the judge's life, as the judge has nominated by written designation duly executed and filed with the department of retirement systems at the time of retirement.))

(b) The department shall adopt rules that allow a judge to select a retirement option that pays the judge a reduced retirement allowance and upon death, such portion of the judge's reduced retirement allowance as the department by rule designates shall be continued throughout the life of and paid to a person who has an insurable interest in the judge's life. Such person shall be nominated by the judge by written designation duly executed and filed with the department at the time of retirement. The options adopted by the department shall include, but are not limited to, a joint and one hundred percent survivor option and a joint and fifty percent survivor option.

(2) A judge, if married, must provide the written consent of his or her spouse to the option selected under this section. If a judge is married and both the judge and the judge's spouse do not give written consent to an option under this section, the department will pay the judge a joint and fifty percent survivor benefit and record the judge's spouse as the beneficiary. Such benefit shall be calculated to be actuarially equivalent to the benefit options available under subsection (1) of this section.

Sec. 3, Section 7, chapter 294, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 41.26.460 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Upon retirement for service as prescribed in RCW 41.26.430 or disability retirement under RCW 41.26.470, a member shall elect to have the retirement allowance paid pursuant to ((Option 1, 2, or 3 with)) the following options ((2 and 3)), calculated so as to be actuarially equivalent to ((Option 1)) each other.

~~(((1) OPTION 1))~~ (a) Standard allowance. A member electing this option shall receive a retirement allowance payable throughout such member's life. However, if the retiree dies before the total of the retirement allowance paid to such retiree equals the amount of such retiree's accumulated contributions at the time of retirement, then the balance shall be paid to such person or persons having an insurable interest in the retiree's life as the retiree shall have nominated by written designation duly executed and filed with the department; or if there be no such designated person or persons still living at the time of the retiree's death, then to the surviving spouse; or if there be neither such designated person or persons still living at the time of death nor a surviving spouse, then to the retiree's legal representative.

~~(((2) OPTION 2. A member who elects this option shall receive a reduced retirement allowance, which upon the member's death shall be continued throughout the life of and paid to such person having an insurable interest in the retiree's life as the retiree shall have nominated by written designation duly executed and filed with the department at the time of the retiree's retirement.~~

~~(3) OPTION 3. A member who elects this option shall receive a reduced retirement allowance, and upon the member's death one-half of the retiree's reduced retirement allowance shall be continued throughout the life of and paid to such person having an insurable interest in the retiree's life as the retiree shall have nominated by written designation duly executed and filed with the department at the time of the retiree's retirement.))~~

(b) The department shall adopt rules that allow a member to select a retirement option that pays the member a reduced retirement allowance and upon death, such portion of the member's reduced retirement allowance as the department by rule designates shall be continued throughout the life of and paid to a person who has an insurable interest in the member's life. Such person shall be nominated by the member by written designation duly executed and filed with the department at the time of retirement. The options adopted by the department shall include, but are not limited to, a joint and one hundred percent survivor option and a joint and fifty percent survivor option.

(2) A member, if married, must provide the written consent of his or her spouse to the option selected under this section. If a member is married and both the member and member's spouse do not give written consent to an option under this section, the department will pay the member a joint and fifty percent survivor benefit and record the member's spouse as the beneficiary. Such benefit shall be calculated to be actuarially equivalent to the benefit options available under subsection (1) of this section.

Sec. 4, Section 3, chapter 189, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. as last amended by section 1, chapter 116, Laws of 1988 and RCW 41.32.498 are each amended to read as follows:

(3) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsections (1) and (2) of this section, the retirement allowance payable for service of a member who was state superintendent of public instruction on January 1, 1973 shall be equal to three percent of the average earnable compensation of his two highest consecutive years of service for each year of such service.

~~((4) Upon an application for retirement approved by the board of trustees every member shall receive the maximum retirement allowance available to him throughout life unless prior to the time the first installment thereof becomes due he has elected to receive the reduced amount provided in subsection (2) and/or has elected by executing the proper application therefor, to receive the actuarial equivalent of his retirement allowance in reduced payments throughout his life, with the options listed below:~~

This retirement allowance option shall also be calculated so as to be actuarially equivalent to the maximum retirement allowance and to options 1, 2, and 3 as provided in this subsection.))~~

Sec. 5. Section 53, chapter 80, Laws of 1947 as amended by section 26, chapter 274, Laws of 1955 and RCW 41.32.530 are each amended to read as follows:

Only months of service shall be counted in the computation of any retirement allowance or other benefit provided for in this chapter. In addition to the foregoing, for members retiring after May 21, 1971 who were employed under the coverage of a prior pension act before March 1, 1970, "service" shall include (i) such military service not exceeding five years as was creditable to the member as of March 1, 1970, under the member's particular prior pension act, and (ii) such other periods of service as were then creditable to a particular member under the provisions of RCW 41.18.165, 41.20.160 or 41.20.170. However, in no event shall credit be allowed for any service rendered prior to March 1, 1970, where the member at the time of rendition of such service was employed in a position covered by a prior pension act, unless such service, at the time credit is claimed therefor, is also creditable under the provisions of such prior act: PROVIDED, That if such member's prior service is not creditable due to the withdrawal of his contributions plus accrued interest thereon from a prior pension system, such member shall be credited with such prior service, as a law enforcement officer or fire fighter, by paying to the Washington law enforcement officers' and fire fighters' retirement system, on or before March 1, 1975, an amount which is equal to that which was withdrawn from the prior system by such member, as a law enforcement officer or fire fighter: PROVIDED FURTHER, That if such member's prior service is not creditable because, although employed in a position covered by a prior pension act, such member had not yet become a member of the pension system governed by such act, such member shall be credited with such prior service as a law enforcement officer or fire fighter, by paying to the Washington law enforcement officers' and fire fighters' retirement system, on or before March 1, 1975, an amount which is equal to the employer's contributions which would have been required under the prior act when such service was rendered if the member had been a member of such system during such period: AND PROVIDED FURTHER, That where a member is employed by two employers at the same time, he shall only be credited with service to one such employer for any month during which he rendered such dual service.

(b) "Service" for persons who establish membership in the retirement system on or after October 1, 1977, means periods of employment by a member for one or more employers for which basic salary is earned for ninety or more hours per calendar month.

Members of the retirement system who are elected or appointed to a state elective position may elect to continue to be members of this retirement system.

Years of service shall be determined by dividing the total number of months of service by twelve. Any fraction of a year of service as so determined shall be taken into account in the computation of such retirement allowance or benefits.

(20) "Disability retirement" for persons who establish membership in the retirement system on or before September 30, 1977, means the period following termination of a member's disability leave, during which the member is in receipt of a disability retirement allowance.

(21) "Position" means the employment held at any particular time, which may or may not be the same as civil service rank.

Senator Lee: "Senator McDonald, we are now on the Economic Development Finance Authority Bill and we have worked out a possible amendment that you might take to the Conference Committee to be sure that the seed money that they need to have is available to them and I wanted to ask you about that funding."

Senator McDonald: "Actually, Senator Lee, as you know, the Governor appropriated about one point seven million dollars of that fund and took it and put it in the general fund--federal money. We, in the Senate and in the House, took two point four million dollars. You and I have talked about the possibility of, in the Conference Committee, talking about the seven hundred thousand dollars and making it one point seven million. We will discuss that as I have indicated in the Conference Committee."

Senator Lee: "Thank you, Senator McDonald, because this particular measure is now supported widely, not only by Labor and Industry, but also by the financial community and it really needs a little bit of gas in the gas tank to get it going and I appreciate your willingness to do that."

Protecting wetlands.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Barr, Substitute Senate Bill No. 6799 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 6799 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

Senator Barr moved that the following amendment be adopted:
Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. PURPOSE AND INTENT. (1) It is the intent of this chapter to preserve, protect, manage, and regulate wetlands state-wide for the purposes of promoting public health, safety, and general welfare, while: (a) Conserving fish, wildlife, and other natural resources of the state; (b) protecting the ecological and economic benefits to the public of wetlands functions and values; (c) regulating property use and development while maintaining the natural and economic benefits provided by wetlands, consistent with the general welfare of the state; (d) protecting private property rights; (e) providing private landowners an opportunity, within a regulated environment, to manage and develop their property for economic benefit; (f) providing for the systematic review of activities in and around wetlands so that the public benefits of wetlands are considered and protected; (g) creating a wetlands protection and management program on a cooperative basis between the state and local governments; and (h) avoiding the duplication of permit approvals through integrated regulatory procedures.

(2) It is the further intent of this chapter to provide additional protection for wetlands in areas of high growth because these wetlands are subject to greater pressure for conversion to other uses and experience greater impact from surrounding development. It is also the intent of the legislature to not impose overly burdensome regulation on areas that are sparsely populated, losing population, or are growing slowly.

(3) It is the goal of the state of Washington to achieve no overall net loss of the remaining wetlands base, defined by acreage and function. The goal does not imply that individual wetlands will in every instance be untouchable or that the overall no-net-loss goal can be achieved solely on an individual permit basis, only that the overall wetlands base reach equilibrium between losses and gains.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. DEFINITIONS. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Department" means the department of ecology.

(2) "Director" means the director of the department of ecology.

(3) "Existing and ongoing agriculture" includes those activities conducted on lands defined in RCW 84.34.020(2), private upland fin fish hatching and rearing facilities, and those activities involved in the production of crops, livestock, or commercially reared fish, for example, the operation and maintenance of farm, stock and commercial upland fish ponds or drainage ditches, operation and maintenance of ditches, intake and discharge systems, irrigation systems including irrigation diversions, laterals, canals, or irrigation drainage ditches, changes between agricultural activities, and normal maintenance, repair, or operation of existing serviceable structures, facilities, dikes, or improved areas. Activities that bring a regulated wetland into agricultural use are not part of an ongoing operation. An operation ceases to be ongoing when the area on which it is conducted is proposed for conversion to a nonagricultural use or has lain idle for more than seven years, unless the idle land is registered in a federal or state soils conservation program, or unless the activity is maintenance of irrigation ditches, laterals, canals, or drainage ditches related to an existing and ongoing agricultural activity. Forest practices are not included in this definition.

(4) "High-growth area" means any county that has had its population increase by more than ten percent in the previous ten years and has a population of over thirty thousand, and all counties consisting of islands.

(5) "Low or no-growth areas" means those counties that are not defined as high-growth areas.

(6) "Local government" means any county, city, or town that contains within its boundaries any regulated wetland subject to the provisions of this chapter.

(7) "Person" means an individual, partnership, corporation, association, organization, cooperative, public or municipal corporation, or agency of the state, local, or other governmental unit.

(8) "Regulated wetland" means ponds twenty acres or less, including their submerged aquatic beds, and only those areas that are inundated or saturated by surface or ground water at a frequency and duration sufficient to support, and that under normal circumstances do support, a prevalence of vegetation typically adapted for life in saturated soil conditions. Regulated wetlands generally include swamps, marshes, bogs, and similar areas. Regulated wetlands do not include those artificial wetlands intentionally created from nonwetland sites. These include, but are not limited to, irrigation and drainage ditches, grass-lined canals, detention facilities, wastewater treatment facilities, farm ponds, and landscape amenities. Wetlands created as mitigation and wetlands modified for approved land use activities shall be considered as regulated wetlands.

(9) "State wetlands rating system" means the method developed and adopted by the department based on four tiers for differentiating wetlands based on specific characteristics or functional attributes.

(10) "Wetland buffer" or "buffer" means lands bordering regulated wetlands which are to be managed only to the extent necessary to protect the functions and values of regulated wetlands. As used in this chapter, the term shall apply only as provided in section 7 of this act.

(11) "Wetlands permit" is any permit issued by local government to administer the provisions of this chapter.

(12) "Wetlands program" means a program adopted by a local government and approved by the department to protect and manage regulated wetlands and their buffers.

(13) "Wetlands standards" means those standards defined in this chapter or adopted by the department by rule or by local governments in their wetlands programs under this chapter.

(14) "Wetlands of state-wide significance" means those regulated wetlands determined by rule of the department that have characteristics of exceptional resource value which should be afforded the highest levels of protection.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. ELEMENTS OF A WETLANDS PROGRAM—ADOPTION OF WETLANDS PROGRAMS. (1) A wetlands program sufficient to meet the requirements of this chapter shall include:

(a) An inventory for all regulated wetlands, as funding permits;
(b) Specific rules governing the activities listed in section 5(1) of this act when the activities occur in a regulated wetland or its buffer;

(c) Identification and description of local permits to be used in administering the wetlands program;

(d) A program for administering the permits required under section 5 of this act;

(e) New or amended provisions, where necessary, of local plans, programs, and ordinances;

(f) Provisions relating to enforcement;

(g) A mitigation plan and standards consistent with the requirements of this chapter and rules adopted under this chapter;

(h) A mitigation policy that requires persons undertaking development of upland areas to pay the increased costs including cleaning ditches and canals, draining wetlands created by the run-off caused by development of upland areas, and pumping the additional water from adjacent farmlands that are in an agricultural preservation area as designated by a county;

(i) Any wetlands impact assessment process established under section 11(3) of this act regarding water use efficiency improvements, if appropriate;

(j) A description and location of facilities approved, constructed, or managed for storm water management that utilize regulated wetlands;

(k) An element for monitoring and considering cumulative effects of wetlands alteration from proposed projects; and

(l) An element that requires wetlands owned by or under the management control of state agencies to control noxious weeds identified under RCW 17.10.080.

(2) (a) Using the checklist and guidelines for the evaluation of risk and avoidance of unanticipated takings prepared by the attorney general under subsection (4) of this section, local governments shall determine alternatives to a proposed local program or action that would fulfill the government's legal obligations but that would reduce the impact on the private property owner and thus the taking risk.

(b) Local governments shall consider provisions designed to encourage voluntary compliance by landowners including, but not limited to, offsetting or compensatory incentives such as permitting greater density in the adjoining uplands, transferring development rights to other uplands, and/or reduced assessed valuations for property taxes on property enrolled in the open spaces program under chapter 84.34 RCW.

(3) The department shall develop and adopt rules for local wetlands programs, and procedures for program implementation and permit review.

(4) For the purpose of administering this chapter, the attorney general shall develop a checklist and guidelines for the evaluation of risk and avoidance of unanticipated takings by July 1, 1990, to assist local governments in the identification and evaluation of governmental acts and policies which have takings implications. The development of a checklist and guidelines shall not be construed to insure local governments against liability for takings, or to render any state agency or state officer liable for a taking.

(5) Except as provided in section 13(2) of this act, every local government shall prepare a proposed program and submit it to the department according to the following schedule:

(a) All counties bordering Puget Sound and cities and towns within such counties no later than July 1, 1992;

(b) All other counties, cities, and towns no later than July 1, 1993.

(6) Before submission of a proposed program, a local government shall hold public hearings on the proposal.

(7) Local governments that have wetlands programs or equivalent programs in effect by February 20, 1990, that substantially comply with the spirit and intent of this chapter and that are at least as stringent in wetlands protection as this chapter, are deemed in compliance with this chapter and shall be so certified by the department.

(8) Local governments shall submit wetlands programs or equivalent programs adopted after February 20, 1990, but before the adoption of rules by the department, to the department for approval that the program substantially complies with the intent and policies of sections 4 and 7 of this act. The local government programs must:

(a) Comply with the provisions of sections 2(8), 5, 6, and 8 of this act and all other mandatory state-wide provisions of this chapter;

(b) Amend their programs to substantially comply with state rules adopted by the department pursuant to this chapter. Any required amendments must be completed within six months of the adoption of rules by the department.

The department shall approve or deny approval of the program or provide specific modifications that must be made in order for the program to be approved within ninety days after receipt of the submittal by the local government.

After approval, major and minor amendments to existing programs shall comply with the provisions of subsection (11) of this section.

(9) After adoption of rules by the department, and within ninety days after receipt of a proposed program from a local government, the department shall approve the proposal or notify the local government as to specific modifications that must be made in order for the proposal to be approved. The department's approval shall be based on the program's compliance with the intent, policies, and standards of this chapter and the rules adopted by the department. After adoption of rules by the department, any future modifications to a certified program shall be made in consideration of the intent and policies of this chapter and the rules adopted by the department.

(10) Following the department's approval of a proposed program, the local government shall adopt and implement the program.

(11) The department shall adopt rules specifying major and minor program amendments. Major amendments shall be submitted to and acted upon by the department in the same manner as the original program. Notice of minor amendments shall be submitted to the department following local government adoption.

(12) A wetlands management program developed after the dates specified in subsection (5) of this section shall be effective only after approval by the department and subsequent adoption by local government. Local government shall inform the department of the effective date of the program.

(13) Wetlands management rules developed and adopted by the department as criteria for program implementation and permit review for local governments shall govern while local plans are being developed or in the absence of local programs.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 4. WETLANDS RATING SYSTEM. (1) The department shall develop and adopt a four-tiered wetlands rating system with the highest category being wetlands of state-wide significance. The department shall provide by rule an option for local governments to combine the two top tiers of the four tiers. The department shall develop the wetlands rating system with assistance of an advisory committee comprised of interested parties.

(2) Local governments shall rate wetlands within their jurisdictions according to the rating system.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 5. WETLANDS PERMITS—APPROVED LOCAL PERMITS—STANDARDS FOR ISSUANCE—NOTICE—DEPARTMENT REVIEW. (1) Except as provided in section 6 of this act, a permit shall be obtained from the appropriate local government prior to undertaking the following activities in a regulated wetland or its buffer:

(a) The removal, excavation, grading, or dredging of soil, sand, gravel, minerals, organic matter, or material of any kind;

(b) The dumping, discharging, or filling with any material;

(c) The draining, flooding, or disturbing of the water level or water table;

(d) The driving of pilings;

(e) The placing of obstructions;

(f) The construction, reconstruction, demolition, or expansion of any structure;

(g) The destruction or alteration of wetlands vegetation through clearing, harvesting, shading, intentional burning, or planting of vegetation that would alter the character of a regulated wetland, provided that these activities are not part of a forest practice regulated under section 6 of this act or undertaken to control noxious weeds identified pursuant to RCW 17.10.080;

(h) Activities that result in the introduction of pollutants in excess of water quality standards or a significant change of chemical characteristics of wetlands water sources.

(2) Local governments, consistent with rules of the department, shall designate in their wetlands programs, activities, if any, not requiring a permit under subsection (1) of this section where the activities are minor, including activities of a temporary nature or ongoing uses, and have minimal adverse impacts on regulated wetlands.

(3) Local governments shall establish a program, consistent with rules adopted by the department, for the administration and enforcement of the permit system provided in this section, which shall be included in the wetlands program required by section 3 of this act. Local governments are authorized to incorporate the permit system into existing local government permit systems to avoid duplicate permitting, where the existing permit system is made consistent with the requirements of this chapter.

(4) A permit shall only be granted if the permit, as conditioned, is consistent with the provisions of a local wetlands program.

(5)(a) Local government shall provide notice of applications to the public for wetlands permits pursuant to rules developed by the department and shall use to the extent practical existing permit notification procedures. Notification procedures shall be specified in local programs.

(b) The department shall, by rule, specify procedures for notification of permit applications and time limits for comment by the department for permits related to wetlands of state-wide significance and their buffers. No permit shall be issued under this subsection prior to receipt of such comments or the expiration of the time period set by rule.

(6) Wetlands permits shall not be effective and no activity thereunder shall be allowed during the time provided to file a permit appeal.

(7) Upon receipt of a complete application for a permit authorizing activities on a wetland of state-wide significance or its buffer, local governments shall submit the application to the department for its approval or disapproval. The department shall submit its decision and the reasons for the decision within the times established pursuant to rules adopted under subsection (5)(b) of this section.

(8) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (1) of this section, a forest practice regulated by chapter 76.09 RCW occurring on lands not being converted to a nonforest use or planted since 1960 or otherwise exempt from local permits is not subject to this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. (1) Activities described in this section and conducted in compliance with this section may be undertaken without obtaining a permit under section 5 of this act. Except as provided in this section, local governments shall not require wetlands permits or otherwise impose conditions under this chapter on the following activities.

(2) The person conducting the activity shall be required to provide prior notification to the appropriate local government except for activities described in subsection (3) (a), (b), (d), (m), and (n) of this section.

(3) The following activities are governed by this section:

(a) Existing and ongoing agriculture as defined in section 2 of this act. Best management practices as developed by conservation districts shall be encouraged;

(b) Water use efficiency improvements related to existing and ongoing agriculture, provided such improvements are subject to the wetlands impact assessment process developed by the department according to section 11(3) of this act and adopted by local government according to section 3(1)(i) of this act;

(c) Water use efficiency improvements related to existing and ongoing agriculture undertaken to increase supplies in response to prorated water allocations or as a result of a water rights adjudication;

(h) Activities related to the construction or reconstruction of single-family residences and appurtenances affecting regulated wetlands on properties where the wetland is greater than fifteen thousand square feet and less than thirty-five thousand square feet, the size of which shall be determined by local government within a class four wetlands provided that the residence is to be occupied by the person for whom the residence is being constructed;

(i) Maintenance, operation, and reconstruction of existing private and public roads, streets, railroads, utilities, and associated structures, and serviceable freshwater and marine terminals that are part of an existing and ongoing public port facility. The department shall provide by rule, notification requirements for such activities that may have adverse impacts to adjacent regulated wetlands. Reconstruction of an existing serviceable structure associated with the roads, streets, railroads, utilities, or freshwater and marine public port terminals, shall be allowed if the reconstruction does not increase the ground floor area, unless the local government with wetlands jurisdiction determines that there is an alternate suitable location within the land parcel that would result in less impact to wetlands. Reconstruction of freshwater and marine public port terminals shall be commenced within five years of damage or destruction;

(j) Maintenance or reconstruction of residential structures, commercial structures, or structures related to existing and ongoing agricultural practices as defined in section 2 of this act, under the following conditions:

(iii) Reconstruction shall not increase the ground floor area and shall be limited to the existing site. Local government with wetlands jurisdiction may request an alternative location within the land parcel that would result in less adverse impacts to regulated wetlands;

(k) Storm water management facilities approved, constructed, or managed for storm water management prior to the effective date of this act;

(l) Surface coal mining activities licensed under Public Law 95-87 as of the effective date of this act, for so long as these lands are covered by the permit issued pursuant to Public Law 95-87;

(m) Hardrock mineral extraction operations not including sand and gravel operations or road construction. No tailings or other materials may be placed on wetlands of state-wide significance. Best management practices and operating plan submittals as required by the department of natural resources and nonpoint source water quality protection provisions as developed by the department shall be followed;

(n) Activities and construction necessary on an emergency basis to prevent an immediate threat to public health and safety, or public or private property. Notification as soon as practical to the local government shall be required; and

(o) Activities of a temporary nature, or activities which represent ongoing uses having minimal adverse impact to regulated wetlands, described in local wetlands programs pursuant to rules adopted by the department.

(4) Provisions of this section shall not apply to any activity conducted for the purpose of conversion of a regulated wetland to a use to which it was not previously subjected.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 7. WETLANDS BUFFERS. (1) Wetlands buffers shall be managed in high growth areas to protect the functions and values of regulated wetlands from adverse impacts of activities on adjacent lands.

(2) The department shall adopt rules that provide ranges of wetlands buffer sizes only to the extent necessary to protect wetlands functions and values based on wetlands rating system categories, types and intensity of adjacent land uses, population density, and the geographic diversity of the state. The department shall file any proposed rules or amendments to existing rules that pertain to buffer sizes or restrictions on the use of buffer areas with the code reviser's office no later than November 21, 1990. Such rules shall take effect at the end of the next regular legislative session as long as no changes are made to the proposed rules.

(3) Local governments in high-growth areas shall incorporate wetlands buffer sizes into their local wetlands programs from within the ranges provided by department rules, unless the local government determines that a larger or smaller buffer is necessary to protect wetlands functions or values based on local conditions. This determination shall be supported by appropriate documentation showing that it is necessary to protect the functions and values of regulated wetlands. Such determination shall be included with the submission of the local wetlands program or any amendment to the department for approval.

(4) Local governments in low or no-growth areas may not incorporate wetland buffer sizes into their local wetlands programs for class 2, 3, and 4 wetlands. Local governments in low or no-growth areas may incorporate wetland buffer sizes for wetlands of state-wide significance.

(5) County governments shall have the option in sparsely populated lands within high-growth areas to not establish buffers adjacent to regulated wetlands except wetlands of state-wide significance. "Sparsely populated lands" means those areas that have one or fewer single-family dwelling units per five or more acres.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 8. MITIGATION. (1) For activities subject to the permit requirement under section 5 of this act, all adverse impacts to wetlands functions, values, and acreage shall be mitigated.

(2) Mitigation, in the descending order of preference, is as follows:

(a) Avoiding the impact altogether by not taking a certain action or part of an action;

(b) Minimizing impacts by limiting the degree or magnitude of the action and its implementation, by using appropriate technology, or by taking affirmative steps to avoid or reduce impacts;

(c) Rectifying the impact by repairing, rehabilitating, or restoring the affected environment;

(d) Reducing or eliminating the impact over time by preservation and maintenance operations during the life of the action;

(e) Compensating for the impact by replacing, enhancing, or providing substitute wetlands resources or utilizing mitigation banking opportunities provided under subsection (10) of this section if available.

(3) In developing rules for the sequencing of mitigation preferences, the department shall include criteria for avoidance whereby avoidance requirements are most stringent for wetlands in the highest rating system category and least stringent for wetlands in the lowest rating system category. Mitigation sequencing will begin with subsection (2)(a) of this section for wetlands within the two highest rating system categories, and for the two lowest categories mitigation sequencing will begin with subsection (2)(b) of this section. Rules governing mitigation sequencing shall further provide for consideration of public benefit, including those that may derive from the enhancement of wetlands of a lower rating system category to a higher rating system category, or from water dependent uses.

(4) Prior to local government approval of a proposal that includes less preferred mitigation, the applicant must demonstrate that:

(a) No overall net losses will occur in wetland functions, values, and acreage;

(b) The restored, created, or enhanced wetland will be as persistent as the wetland it replaces;

(c) The project applicant demonstrates sufficient scientific expertise, supervisory capability, and financial resources to carry out the proposal; and

(d) The project applicant agrees to demonstrate the capability for monitoring the site for a period of time adequate to determine its long-term success.

(5) Where regulated wetlands are altered, the project applicants shall restore or create equivalent areas of wetlands in order to compensate for wetland losses. Equivalent areas shall be determined according to function, acreage, type, location, time factors, and projected success.

(6) Where feasible, restored or created wetlands shall be a higher category than the altered wetland.

(7) The department shall develop and adopt acreage replacement ratios by wetlands rating categories. Activities in higher wetlands rating system categories shall require more stringent mitigation.

(8) A local government shall require an approved mitigation plan as a condition of issuance of a permit under section 5 of this act for activities in regulated wetlands and their buffers. Mitigation plans for wetlands of state-wide significance and their buffers shall require approval of the department.

(9) Each mitigation plan shall provide that:

(a) All identified adverse impacts are mitigated;

(b) Monitoring of mitigation be performed for a period adequate to determine its long-term success;

(c) A contingency plan is available that identifies actions to be taken if the implemented mitigation is unsuccessful;

(d) The permittee is financially responsible for additional mitigation action should any element of the mitigation plan fail;

(e) Mitigation shall be implemented concurrently with the regulated activity under the permit, except that local governments may establish performance standards and require mitigation be completed no later than the date upon which the regulated activity may proceed under the permit, if the likelihood of success is substantially doubtful. Financial assurance may be in the form of a bond or other acceptable forms of security.

(10) Any person may participate in wetlands mitigation banking by proposing to create wetlands to compensate for wetlands impacts. A proposal for a wetlands bank creation project shall be submitted for department and local government approval. If approved by the department and the local government, the mitigating wetlands created may upon application by the proponent and concurrence of the owner of the created wetland be counted as mitigation for on-site or off-site wetlands impacts.

(11) Compensatory mitigation of impacts to wetlands buffers shall be only that necessary to protect wetlands functions and values and to avoid or minimize adverse impacts to regulated wetlands.

(12) Local governments shall not require additional mitigation pursuant to other authorities for impacts to regulated wetlands functions and values or their buffers when mitigation is required pursuant to this section to minimize those impacts.

(13) This section does not apply to construction, reconstruction, or maintenance of single-family residences and appurtenant buildings on lots platted by the effective date of this act on regulated wetlands one-half acre or less in size and within the lowest wetlands rating system category adopted by the local government.

(14) The department shall adopt rules to implement this section.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 9. ENFORCEMENT—CIVIL PENALTY—ADMINISTRATIVE ORDERS—ACTIONS FOR DAMAGES AND RESTORATION. (1) The department and local governments are authorized to bring appropriate actions at law or equity, including actions for injunctive relief, to ensure that no uses are made of regulated wetlands or their buffers that are inconsistent with the requirements of this chapter, the rules of the department, or an applicable wetlands program.

(2) Any person who undertakes any activity within a regulated wetland or its buffer without first obtaining a permit required by this chapter, or any person who violates the conditions of any permit required by this chapter or of any order issued under subsection (3) of this section shall incur a civil penalty of up to one thousand dollars per violation. In the case of a continuing violation, each permit violation and each day of activity without a required permit shall be a separate and distinct violation. The penalty amount shall be set in consideration of the previous history of the violator and the severity of the environmental impact of the violation. The penalty provided in this subsection by the department shall be imposed under the procedures set forth in RCW 43.21B.300, except as provided in section 10 of this act. The penalty provided in this subsection and imposed by local government shall be appealable to the superior court within the subject jurisdiction.

(3) Whenever any person violates this chapter or any permit issued under this chapter, the department or local government may issue an order reasonably appropriate to cease the violation and to mitigate any environmental damage resulting from the violation. Orders issued under this subsection by the department may be appealed under section 10 of this act. Orders issued under this subsection by local governments may be appealed as provided for by local ordinance or as otherwise allowed by law or as provided in section 10(2) of this act.

(4) The shorelines hearings board shall conduct the reviews authorized by this section as adjudicatory proceedings under chapter 34.05 RCW. Judicial review of the decisions of the shorelines hearings board shall be under chapter 34.05 RCW.

(5) Any person subject to the jurisdiction of this chapter who violates any provision of this chapter or a permit issued under this chapter shall be liable for all damage to public or private property arising from the violation, including the cost of restoring the affected area to its condition prior to violation. The attorney general or local government attorney shall bring suit for damages under this section on behalf of the state or local governments. Private persons shall have the right to bring suit for damages under this section on their own behalf and on behalf of all persons similarly situated. If liability has been established for the cost of restoring an area affected by a violation, the court shall make provision to assure that restoration will be accomplished within a reasonable time at the expense of the violator. In addition to such relief, including monetary damages, the court in its discretion may award attorneys' fees and costs of the suit to the prevailing party.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. APPEALS TO THE SHORELINES HEARINGS BOARD—STAY PENDING APPEAL—JUDICIAL REVIEW. (1) Any person aggrieved by the issuance, denial, or rescission of a wetlands permit governing activity on a wetland of state-wide significance or its buffer may appeal the same within thirty days to the shorelines hearings board.

(2) Any person aggrieved by the issuance, denial, or rescission of any wetlands permit, who wishes to appeal to the shorelines hearings board and believes their appeal raises programmatic issues may, within thirty days after exhaustion of local appeals, file a request with the department to certify their appeal to the shorelines hearings board. The department shall rule upon the request within thirty days of receipt. If the department determines, in its discretion, that the appeal raises programmatic issues it shall certify the case to the shorelines hearings board, which shall take jurisdiction over the appeal. If the department fails to certify, or denies certification, then the time period to otherwise appeal the permit decision begins to run on the date of the department's action, or thirty days after filing the request, whichever is sooner.

(3) Activities authorized by permits appealed to the shorelines hearings board are stayed and may not be undertaken until thirty days from the final order of the shorelines hearings board, affirming the permit, unless the appellant by written stipulation agrees to an earlier lifting of the stay.

(4) The shorelines hearings board shall conduct the review authorized by this section as an adjudicative proceeding under chapter 34.05 RCW. The determination of a stay pending review shall be under RCW 34.05.550.

(5) Except as provided in subsections (1) and (2) of this section, appeal of wetland permits at the local level shall be governed by the law otherwise applicable to appeal of local permits used to administer this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. DUTIES, RESPONSIBILITIES, AND POWERS OF THE DEPARTMENT. The department shall have authority to:

(1) Adopt rules for the development and adoption of local wetlands programs, buffers, mitigation, wetlands standards, notification procedures, wetlands program implementation and permit review process for local governments to serve in the absence of adopted local programs, criteria for designating location and extent of regulated wetlands, and such other rules as are necessary to carry out the provisions of this chapter. Rules shall be adopted by July 1, 1991. Prior to adopting rules under this subsection, the department shall consult with local governments, agencies with expertise, and affected Indian tribes, and shall provide for adequate public involvement;

(2) Approve, periodically review, require modifications to wetlands programs and major program amendments, and take appropriate actions to ensure compliance with wetlands standards;

(3) Develop a wetlands impact assessment process in conjunction with the demonstration conservation plan required by RCW 90.54.190 to balance the public policies of wetlands protection and water use efficiency to be implemented consistent with chapter 90.03 RCW with input from representatives of water users, members of the public, local governments, tribal governments, and the departments of agriculture, fisheries, and wildlife for adoption into local wetlands programs, where applicable, to assist in local decision making regarding water use efficiency improvements and wetlands protection. Before adopting the impact assessment process, the department shall provide a written report to the legislature on how the process will comply with state water law;

(4) Provide technical assistance to local governments and other affected parties;

(5) Develop a model wetlands ordinance for assistance to local governments by July 1, 1991;

(6) Provide local governments and the public with information on wetlands functions and values, protection, and management;

(7) Accept grants, contributions, and appropriations from any person for the purposes of this chapter;

(8) Cooperate with other persons, including nonprofit organizations, private property owners, federal, state, and local agencies and Indian tribes in protecting and managing wetlands and planning wetlands interpretative sites;

(9) Appoint advisory committees to assist in carrying out the purposes of this chapter; and

(10) Contract for professional or technical services.

The actions taken by the department under this chapter shall not be deemed to render the state or any state agency or state officer liable for a taking in connection with the adoption, administration, or enforcement of any local wetlands program, unless the acts of a local government that are found to constitute a taking are shown to be nondiscretionary acts taken solely to meet a requirement of state law or a requirement contained in a rule adopted under this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. REVIEW BY ECOLOGICAL COMMISSION NOT REQUIRED. The department is not required to seek review or advice and guidance from the ecological commission with respect to the adoption of any local wetlands programs and program amendments.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF LOCAL GOVERNMENTS. (1) Each local government shall:

(a) Develop, adopt, administer, and enforce wetlands programs including wetlands permits, mitigation, buffers, and permit appeals;

(b) Participate, as funding permits, in the preparation and verification, jointly with the department, of an inventory of regulated wetlands within its jurisdiction using inventory standards developed by the department; and

(c) Designate a lead or co-lead agency to administer the provisions of this chapter with respect to regulated wetlands and their buffers that are within the jurisdiction of two or more local governments.

(2) In carrying out the responsibilities of this section, incorporated cities and towns within a county may enter into an interlocal agreement with the county in which they are located for developing and administering wetlands programs. Where cities have entered into an interlocal agreement with a county for the purpose of developing and administering wetlands programs and where the applicable county has elected to institute a conservation futures tax under RCW 84.34.230, proceeds derived from the conservation futures tax shall be utilized for wetlands acquisition according to a priority acquisition list agreed to by all participants.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. NONREGULATORY ELEMENTS. (1) The county assessor shall adjust the assessed valuation of property to take into consideration any change in land value that results from the restrictions imposed by this chapter.

(2) The department shall convene a committee consisting of local governments, resource agencies, Indian tribes, and affected private groups, to examine nonregulatory methods pursuant to section 17(2) of this act.

(3) The department shall work with the departments of wildlife and natural resources and interested private and public parties to identify financial support for wetlands program development activities, inventorying, managing, and wetlands acquisition.

(4) The departments of wildlife and natural resources may accept grants, contributions, and appropriations from nonprofit organizations, and from federal, state, and local agencies for acquisition of converted lands or low category wetlands.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. A new section is added to chapter 76.09 RCW to read as follows:

Within twenty-four months after the effective date of this act, the forest practices board shall adopt forest practices rules to accomplish the purposes and intent of sections 1 through 13 of this act. The forest practices board shall submit to appropriate committees of the house of representatives and senate, status reports every six months on the progress of developing rules to implement this chapter.

The department of natural resources may impose conditions to protect wetlands functions and values and wetlands buffers from adverse effects of forest practices until the effective date of such rules and thereafter to the extent provided in such rules.

Sec. 16. Section 35.13.010, chapter 7, Laws of 1965 and RCW 35.13.010 are each amended to read as follows:

Any portion of a county not incorporated as part of a city or town but lying contiguous thereto may become a part of the city or town by annexation: PROVIDED, That property owned by a county, and used for the purpose of an agricultural fair as provided in chapter 15.76 RCW or chapter 36.37 RCW shall not be subject to annexation without the consent of the majority of the board of county commissioners. Farm and agricultural land in counties with an agricultural land preservation plan adopted by the county council or board of county commissioners, which includes a map or other clear description of such farm and agricultural lands being preserved by the county under the plan, shall not be subject to annexation if they contain wetlands or are contiguous to wetlands. An area proposed to be annexed to a city or town shall be deemed contiguous thereto even though separated by water or tide or shore lands on which no bona fide residence is maintained by any person.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. The department shall:

(1) Within twelve months after the effective date of this act, report to the legislature on the progress made in developing the wetlands impacts assessment process required by RCW 90.54.190 according to section 11(3) of this act:

(2) Immediately convene the wetland policy advisory committee composed of the following: One representative from the department of ecology; one representative from the department of natural resources; one representative from an Indian tribe; one representative selected by the Washington environmental council; two representatives selected by the association of Washington cities, one of whom shall be from a high-growth area and one of whom shall be from a low or no-growth area; two representatives selected by the Washington state association of counties, one of whom shall be from a high-growth area and one of whom shall be from a low or no-growth area; one representative selected by the Washington public ports association; two representatives selected by the association of Washington businesses, one of whom shall be from a high-growth area and one of whom shall be from a low or no-growth area; one representative of private property owners selected by a recognized private property owner organization; and one representative selected by a recognized agricultural organization. The chair shall be elected by the committee members from the nonstate agency representatives on the committee. The department, after consultation with the committee, shall establish a schedule for completion of tasks assigned to the committee under this act. The committee shall:

(a) Conduct a study as to effects, desirability, and compatibility of applying this chapter to the wetlands currently regulated under the shoreline management act. This study shall look in depth at the following issues: Single permit requirement, uniform and consistent standards, clear appeal process, consistency in application and procedure, and uses that are not required to obtain a permit;

(b) Examine nonregulatory methods including but not limited to preservation, conservation easements, restoration, tax incentives, technical assistance, regional planning, education, low-cost, low-impact interpretive sites, and to develop opportunities and processes for shared responsibility between the state and the private sector for restoring and creating wetlands including mitigation banking to meet the goals of this chapter;

(c) Develop proposed rules relating to buffer sizes and restrictions on use of buffer areas, criteria for wetland rating system categories, and regulations on mitigation;

(d) Make program recommendations;

(e) Determine funding needs and explore funding sources for nonregulatory wetlands protection methods; and

(f) Report to the legislature by December 15, 1990, on the recommendations and funding needs regarding (a) of this subsection and of the nonregulatory methods report.

(3) This section shall expire on March 1, 1991.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. SHORT TITLE. This chapter shall be known and cited as the wetlands management act of 1990.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. (1) From the appropriation made to the department for the implementation of this chapter and from other such funds the department deems appropriate, funds shall be allocated to local governments for the justifiable costs of developing their wetlands programs and for conducting inventories, provided that a local government may agree to supplement such funds by the utilization of the local government's own resources for these purposes. Any costs shall be described and justified in writing by the local government.

(2) Failure to provide these moneys shall be justification for a request by the local government to extend the deadline for program development established in section 3(5) of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. Section 17 of this act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. CAPTIONS. Captions as used in this act do not constitute any part of the law.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 23. Sections 1 through 14, 18 through 20, and 22 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 90 RCW."

Senator Kreidler moved that the following amendments by Senators Kreidler, Stratton, Metcalf, Murray, von Reichbauer, Lee, Patrick, Gaspard, Sutherland, McMullen, Rinehart, Bender and Talmadge to the striking amendment by Senator Barr be considered simultaneously and be adopted:

On page 2, line 7 of the amendment, after "gains" insert "in the short term and increase in the long term"

Debate ensued.

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Kreidler, you indicated that we have lost ninety percent of our wetlands. Do you have any explicit maps that you could show us where we have lost them? Let me go a little further, Senator Kreidler. I know such as Grand Coulee Dam and from other such things, we have numerous wetlands we have created. We have created the Cowlitz Dam and we have created large areas of wetlands besides controlling floods. Alder Lake Dam on the Nisqually controls the floods and has created wetlands when we created that. I would like to see some figures. You say ninety percent is gone. Now, I can't correlate that with what we created in just the past forty or fifty years. It never existed before: Do you have any further information of where that ninety percent loss is?"

Senator Kreidler: "Well, the ninety percent that I used were coastal wetlands and this is information that has come from studies that have been done. I can certainly supply you with that information which delineates where those wetlands are. Much of this has been lost to development of one source or another. Much of it, I presume, through agriculture at one time or another, too."

Senator Rasmussen: "Coastal--are you talking about the cranberry bogs? We haven't lost wetlands there."

Senator Kreidler: "I can get that information for you."

Senator Rasmussen: "I would appreciate that, because we hear these figures and no substantiation whatsoever. They just throw them out there and they say that we have lost all of this. Facts don't prove that. Thanks for the information, if you have it."

Further debate ensued.

Senator Kreidler demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

President Pro Tempore Bluechel: "I did not see Senator Kreidler standing up and in the past here, under all the presiding officers, we have ruled accordingly to whenever someone wanted a roll call, they have a right to have a roll call."

"Senator McCaslin: "Well, I think we should put the gavel away in the Historical Preservation Society and let them keep it."

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the adoption of the amendments by Senators Kreidler, Stratton, Metcalf, Murray, von Reichbauer, Lee, Patrick, Gaspard, Sutherland, McMullen, Rinehart, Bender and Talmadge on page 2, lines 2, 4, and 7, to the striking amendment by Senator Barr to Substitute Senate Bill No. 6799.

On page 2, beginning on line 13 of the amendment, after "(3)" strike all material through and including line 32, and insert "Normal or necessary agriculture" includes those activities conducted on lands defined in RCW 84.34.020(2), private upland fin fish hatching and rearing facilities, and those activities involved in the production of crops, livestock, or commercially reared fish, for example, the construction, operation and maintenance of farm, stock and commercial upland fish ponds or drainage ditches, construction, operation and maintenance of ditches, intake and discharge systems, irrigation systems including irrigation diversions, laterals, canals, or irrigation drainage ditches, changes between agricultural activities, and normal maintenance, repair, construction, or operation of agriculturally related structures, facilities, dikes, or improved areas."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hansen: "Senator Barr, the way you just stated this, does this take any draining of any profits on our existing farmland from now on? Are there going to be no more drainage pipes put in to drain our necessary farm land? Is that what you are telling me?"

Senator Barr: "Thank you, Senator Hansen. Under the bill, that would be regulated. You would have to get a permit to drain. Now, there is plenty of language in the bill about maintaining the drains--maintaining what's there. This says that if there is a wetland in Snohomish County on a farm that has not been farmed and it is a real true wetland, then it would be regulated and you would have to get a permit to do that."

Further debate ensued.

Senator Rasmussen demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Remember the sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Barr, you said that you arrived at seven years. Why not ten years? That is what open space and the forests and the present farm land is. If you put it in farming or forests or open space, you get your taxes cut in half. Why did you restrict this to seven years?"

Senator Barr: "We started out at five and we talked about the seven. In the Forum Bill—I think that went through the Forum process and the summer meetings—and on and on. It came to the Legislature at five years and so we bumped it up to seven, thanks to Senator Bailey. He insisted on us going up to seven, so we did that. Now, as I understand the amendment, that is what it deals with, so seven seems to be reasonable in what this amendment is dealing with in high growth areas."

Senator Rasmussen: "We should support the amendment, then?"

Senator Barr: "No, I would have to oppose this amendment because this takes that away. The world wouldn't come apart if we adopt this amendment, but I don't think we should. You keep faith and have something reasonable that's in the bill. I think we should defeat it."

Further debate ensued.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Barr: "A point of personal privilege, Mr. President. Senator Bailey thinks I was talking about the wrong amendment. With the permission of the body, I will address what he thinks the amendment does. I think that the effect of this amendment does what I said it would do, but it also deals with a no-net loss, like Senator Bailey said, but we defeated that philosophy a while ago in another amendment, I believe, so I would encourage you to turn this amendment down, also."

Senator Bailey demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Anderson, Senator Matson was excused.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hansen: "Senator Talmadge, my question is in regard to the exemplary job that the water quality people have done, could you illuminate those to me, because I think that of all the money that has been spent, they haven't cleaned up one thing yet and they are still trying to get more money to try to clean something up and I haven't seen them, in all the years that they have been in business, start to answer one of those problems yet. The case is up on non point source to try to nail some farmer or some guy living on a creek up there. That's all they have done."

Senator Talmadge: "Senator, your question is an excellent one and argues very strongly in favor of the amendment--the people who have not spent the money to deal with Puget Sound water quality, the people who have not forced the point sources of pollution to clean up as rapidly as some of us would like to see, are not the people in the Puget Sound Water Quality Authority, but the people in the Department of Ecology. The Department of Ecology has the enforcement responsibility and if the concern is about enforcement, that concern should be laid at the feet of the people in Ecology, not at the Authority."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Metcalf, I am having a hard time following this. It says, 'The Authority may also report to the Legislature and the Governor at any time regarding actions of one or more state or local agencies.' Suppose the authorities decide to report to us on March 9, and we have gone home. What good would it do?"

Senator Metcalf: "Well, the responsibility of the Authority is to report when one or more state or local agencies is doing something inconsistent with the plan. That is their job. Whether we are here or not is another kind of a problem, but they should report to the Governor or to the Legislature and I suppose to the press. It is part of their over-sight responsibilities, Senator Rasmussen. We can't stay in session all the time and wait for them."

Senator Rasmussen: "Well, that was what I was wondering. We are the only ones that can control the Agency by legislative action and if we are not here, they can report all they want. It won't do any good."

Senator Metcalf: "Senator Rasmussen, I don't really think that is quite true. These agencies are both under the control of the Governor--both the heads of DOE and the Authority--are appointed by the Governor. He is the one responsible for their administration, not the Legislature."

Senator Rasmussen: "I am glad to know that. Thank you."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talmadge asked Senator McCaslin to yield.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator McCaslin: "A point of parliamentary inquiry, Mr. President. If I yield to a question, do I take floor time away from him or is my floor time counted toward his or is this my floor time?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Pritchard: "Well, since we don't have that before us, I will rule when it comes before us."

Senator McCaslin: "I see. If I yield, Mr. President, is it necessary to answer the question?"

President Pritchard: "That is up to your judgment."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talmadge: "Senator McCaslin, in reading this, the only question that arose in my mind in looking at this idea, what this really amounts to is a port that operates an airport facility would be entitled to take from its other tenants money that it received from those tenants and reimburse another tenant for improvements made in the leasehold of that tenant. The question that I have is what are the outside boundaries of this? What is the check on the port in terms of its ability to, in effect, transfer some money that it receives from one tenant to another for that tenant's leasehold improvement? In other words, they decide to build a Taj Mahal in some particular site in the SeaTac Airport, what would be the limitation on the Port of Seattle in approving that?"

Senator McCaslin: "Well, to answer the first part of your question, rather than wait until the port authority gives them credit or gives them permission to precede with the work necessary and then balance their books, they can do this on small jobs that they can go ahead and repair and then when the rent is due, they subtract that. Now as far as the parameters are concerned, the port commissioners are elected people and if they abuse the privilege of this or build a Taj Mahal which, I think, is a little far fetched. I think, even you would agree to that. I don't think they are going to build a Taj Mahal, because I don't think the rent would cover it. Senator Talmadge, but I think it is up to the discretion and the intelligence and the ability of the port commissioners who are elected and who can be unelected at the next election to properly maintain the parameters of this legislative permission."

On motion of Senator Anderson, Senator Sellar was excused.

On motion of Senator Bender, Senators Bauer and Conner were excused.

Regarding establishment of emerging commercial fisheries.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Metcalf moved that the following Committee on Environment and Natural Resources amendment be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION, Sec. 1. The legislature finds that:

- (1) A number of commercial fisheries have emerged or expanded in the past decade;
- (2) Scientific information is critical to the proper management of an emerging or expanding commercial fishery; and
- (3) The scientific information necessary to manage an emerging or expanding commercial fishery can best be obtained through the use of limited experimental fishery permits allowing harvest levels that will preserve and protect the state's food fish and shellfish resource.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 75.30 RCW to read as follows:

- (1) The director may by rule designate a fishery as an emerging commercial fishery.
- (2) The director may issue experimental fishery permits for commercial harvest in an emerging commercial fishery. The director shall determine by rule the number and qualifications of participants for such experimental fishery permits. The director shall limit the number of these permits to prevent habitat damage, ensure conservation of the resource, and prevent overharvesting. In developing rules for limiting participation in an emerging or expanding commercial fishery, the director shall appoint a five-person advisory board representative of the affected fishery industry. The advisory board shall review and make recommendations to the director on rules relating to the number and qualifications of the participants for such supplemental fishery permits.

(3) RCW 34.05.422(3) does not apply to applications for new experimental fishery permits.

(4) Upon request of a vessel owner, the director may allow the vessel owner to temporarily transfer the experimental fishery permit to a leased or rented vessel. The director shall allow such temporary transfers only when the vessel holding the experimental fishery permit is disabled.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 75.30 RCW to read as follows:

Whenever the director promulgates a rule designating an emerging commercial fishery, the legislative standing committees of the house of representatives and senate dealing with fisheries issues shall be notified of the rule and its justification thirty days prior to the effective date of the rule.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 75.30 RCW to read as follows:

Within five years after adopting rules to govern the number and qualifications of participants in an emerging commercial fishery, the director shall provide to the appropriate senate and house of representatives committees a report which outlines the status of the fishery and a recommendation as to whether a separate commercial license, license fee, or endorsement and/or a limited harvest program should be established for that fishery.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 75.10 RCW to read as follows:

Upon conviction of a person for violation of the conditions or requirements of an experimental fishery permit or provisions of this title or rule of the director while engaged in an emerging commercial fishery, the director may suspend or revoke the experimental fishery permit and all fishing privileges pursuant thereto or present the conditions under which the experimental fishery permit may be reissued. That suspension or revocation shall become effective on the date the director gives the notice prescribed in RCW 34.05.422(1)(c).

For the purposes of this section, the term "conviction" means a final conviction in a state or municipal court. An unvacated forfeiture of bail or collateral of more than two hundred fifty dollars deposited to secure the defendant's appearance in court, the payment of a fine, a plea of guilty, or a finding of guilt on a violation of this title is equivalent to a conviction regardless of whether the imposition of sentence is deferred or the penalty is suspended.

(17) "Personal use" means for the private use of the individual taking the food fish or shellfish and not for sale or barter.

(18) "Angling gear" means a line attached to a rod and reel capable of being held in hand while landing the fish or a hand-held line operated without rod or reel to which are attached no more than two single hooks or one artificial bait with no more than four multiple hooks.

(19) "Emerging commercial fishery" means any commercial fishery:

(a) For food fish or shellfish so designated by rule of the director, except that no species harvested under a license limitation program contained in chapter 75.30 RCW may be designated as a species in an emerging commercial fishery.

The contracts shall contain a fiscal plan that will ensure that the increased cost of maintaining fiscal year 1991 programs in fiscal year 1992 will not unduly exceed the rate of inflation. Of the amounts provided in this subsection, a maximum of $500,000 from the general fund—state appropriation may be used for planning and technical assistance grants to counties or regions wishing to form networks. The amounts in this subsection include moneys needed to implement the federal omnibus budget and reconciliation act of 1987 ("OBRA"). During the contract period, all eligible involuntary treatment referrals for Kitsap county residents shall be made to the project. No involuntary referrals shall be made to western state hospital unless the Kitsap residential treatment facility is filled to capacity and the mental health division and the Kitsap county mental health coordinator concur with the referral. Priority for referral to western state hospital shall be given to individuals under ninety-day or one hundred eighty-day commitments and individuals who have exhausted all community placement options.

(iii) The department may continue to contract directly with Chartley house until King county joins or becomes a regional support network.

Priority for the remaining moneys shall be given to maintaining Title XIX eligibility for children's outpatient services at risk of losing federal financial participation because of lack of state match.

(g) $3,509,000 of the general fund—state appropriation and $1,322,000 of the general fund—federal appropriation are for vendor rate increases for vendors providing services to the mental health program, as specified in section 202 of this act.

(h) $3,000,000 of the general fund—state appropriation and $2,000,000 of the general fund—federal appropriation are provided solely for the enhancement of children's mental health services. The department shall contract with networks and counties through separate performance-based contracts. Pilot programs shall make every effort to preserve existing violence intervention programs and coordinate available funding for services related to community violence prevention and services to victims of violence.

(ii) Each pilot program shall provide at least the following services: Services to family members who are victims of violence; services to victims of violent crime; case management services; specialized intervention programs for treatment of perpetrators of violence; parenting and caregiver training to families experiencing or at-risk of experiencing violence; and public education regarding community violence.

(iii) Twenty-five percent of the funding for pilot programs shall be provided in-kind or in cash by public or private entities in communities administering pilot programs.

All amounts borrowed under the authority of this section shall be repaid to the appropriate fund, together with interest at a rate determined by the state treasurer to be equivalent to the return on investments of the state treasury during the period the amounts are borrowed.

(12) The department of natural resources in cooperation with the United States forest service, other federal agencies, private timber land owners, and the University of Washington, shall conduct a timber and timberland inventory to provide the information needed to prepare an assessment of the timber supply in Washington state. The inventory shall be prepared in such a way that it may be updated periodically. The inventory shall include all state, private, county, and federal forest lands, including forest lands withdrawn from harvest such as parks, watersheds, and similar lands reserved for nontimber producing activities. The intensity of sampling and methods used to inventory lands withdrawn from harvest need not result in as high a degree of accuracy as is achieved for other lands. $1,000,000, of which $750,000 is from the general fund—state appropriation, $75,000 is from the forest development account appropriation, and $175,000 is from the resource management cost account appropriation, is provided solely for the purposes of this subsection.

No portion of this appropriation may be expended for indirect costs associated with the study.

(14) $905,000, of which $625,000 is from the general fund—state appropriation, $118,000 is from the forest development account appropriation, and $162,000 is from the resource management cost account appropriation, is provided solely for costs related to the Grouse Ridge correctional camp.

Any county with forest board lands or owning its own timber land which reserves timber for sale to an enterprise meeting the eligibility standards set forth in RCW 76.12.190(2)(a) (i), (ii), and (iii) shall be eligible to receive reimbursement under this subsection. Participating counties and the department of natural resources shall be reimbursed from the amount provided in this subsection as follows: The department of revenue shall determine the compensation basis by comparing the actual bid price of timber sold under RCW 76.12.190(1) to the valuation of the timber as determined by the department under RCW 84.33.091. The difference shall be the compensation to be divided between the county, the department of natural resources, and the other taxing districts in the following manner: Twenty-five percent to the department of natural resources to be deposited in the forest development account, and the balance distributed between the counties and the other taxing districts in the same proportion as general taxes are paid and distributed in the year of payment.

The department of natural resources shall distribute these moneys to participating counties and the forest development account as the enterprise removes the timber. Each county shall distribute moneys owed to the other taxing districts in its jurisdiction.

In the event the amount provided in this subsection is not sufficient to fully compensate all revenue losses to the department of natural resources, all participating counties, and other taxing districts, it shall be used to compensate for sales in order of the date of sale. The reserving of timber by counties does not constitute a contractual relationship between the department of natural resources and the county or the other taxing districts.

(a) The number of certificated staff units determined in subsection (2) of this section; and

(b) The number of classified staff units determined in subsection (3) of this section multiplied by 1.152. This factor is intended to adjust allocations so that, for the purposes of distributing insurance benefits, full time equivalent classified employees may be calculated on the basis of 1440 hours of work per year, with no individual employee counted as more than one full time equivalent.

(6)(a) For nonemployee related costs associated with each certificated staff unit allocated under subsection (2) (a), (b), and (d) through (h) of this section, there shall be provided a maximum of $6,355 per certificated staff unit in the 1989-90 school year and a maximum of $6,654 per certificated staff unit in the 1990-91 school year.

Solely for the purposes of this subsection, allocated classroom teachers shall be equal to the number of certificated instructional staff units allocated under subsection (2) of this section, multiplied by the ratio between the number of actual basic education certificated teachers and the number of actual basic education certificated instructional staff reported state-wide for the 1987-88 school year.

(8) The superintendent may distribute a maximum of ~~$(9,925,000)~~ 41,925,000 outside the basic education formula during fiscal years 1990 and 1991 as follows:

School districts shall use a minimum of seventy-five percent of moneys received under this subsection 8(e) to employ additional classified instructional assistants assigned to kindergarten through fifth grade basic education classrooms. Districts may use remaining moneys to employ either basic education classified instructional assistants or certificated instructional staff assigned to kindergarten through grade five. A district may not use moneys provided under this section for certificated instructional staff unless these staff are excluded when determining the district's actual K-3 staffing ratio under subsection (10) of this section and the district documents to the superintendent of public instruction that its actual K-3 ratio under subsection (10) of this section for the 1990-91 school year is at least fifty-one full time basic education certificated instructional staff per thousand full time equivalent students. Districts may not use allocations provided under this subsection to supplant other moneys previously used to employ classified instructional assistants or certificated instructional staff in kindergarten through grade five.

(9) For the purposes of RCW 84.52.0531, the increase per full time equivalent student in state basic education appropriations provided under this act, including appropriations for salary and benefits increases, is 6.07 percent from the 1988-89 school year to the 1989-90 school year, and ~~((5-74))~~ 6.56 percent from the 1989-90 school year to the 1990-91 school year.

The superintendent of public instruction shall collect such information from school districts beginning in the 1989-90 school year. School districts may submit supplemental information on changes in staffing levels after the initial personnel report for each school year. Staffing ratios calculated under this subsection may recognize additional staff reported, prorated by the number of months of employment during the academic year.

(b) For each school year, the funding provided under subsection (2)(a) of this section shall be based on a ratio of fifty-one certificated instructional staff per thousand students in kindergarten through grade three only if the district documents an actual ratio of at least fifty-one full time basic education certificated instructional staff per thousand full time equivalent students at those grade levels. For any school district documenting a lower ratio, the funding provided under this section shall be based on the district's actual K-3 ratio achieved in that school year, or the statutory minimum ratio established under RCW 28A.41.140(2)(c), if greater.

(c) School districts that had a ratio of fifty-one basic education certificated instructional staff per thousand students in kindergarten through grade three in the 1988-89 school year shall expend additional funding generated by the increase in staffing ratios provided in this section solely to improve staffing ratios in kindergarten through grade twelve.

(b) As used in this subsection, the column headings "BA+(N)" refer to the number of credits earned since receiving the baccalaureate degree.

(c) For credits earned after the baccalaureate degree but before the masters degree, any credits in excess of forty-five credits may be counted after the masters degree. Thus, as used in this subsection, the column headings "MA+(N)" refer to the total of:

- (i) Credits earned since receiving the masters degree; and
 - (ii) Any credits in excess of forty-five credits that were earned after the baccalaureate degree but before the masters degree.
- (8) For the purposes of this section:
- (a) "BA" means a baccalaureate degree.
 - (b) "MA" means a masters degree.
 - (c) "PHD" means a doctorate degree.
 - (d) "Years of service" shall be calculated under the same rules used by the superintendent of public instruction for salary allocations in the 1988-89 school year.
 - (e) "Credits" means college quarter hour credits and equivalent inservice credits computed in accordance with RCW 28A.71.110.

(9) The salary allocation schedules established in subsections (6) and (7) of this section are for allocation purposes only. However, it is the legislature's intent to respond to salary needs of many senior teachers who have not been receiving salary increments on either state or local salary schedules. The legislature and the public recognize the need to provide salary growth for these senior teachers, to encourage them to remain teaching. School districts should target moneys generated by the additional seniority steps provided for state salary funding in the 1990-91 school year to senior teachers.

Senator Fleming: "Senator Saling, I want to thank you for the job that you have done in cleaning this bill up and making it something that we could all live with. I raised the question in the hearing that you had, I think it was last week or the week before on this measure, and you have the sunset date in that bill. One of the concerns that I had was that we could come back and this body not act either positive or negative, based on the study that you have received and by a lack of action, an institution that is serving a very important need would go by the wayside. I would hope that what we do here that we would come back with some kind of positive or negative action toward that and just not let it go away with inaction. Would that be your view of what you would like to see happen here?"

Senator Saling: "Yes, Senator, that is my view of what I would like to see happen. We did extend the termination date to 1992, to give them a little more time. We hope that it will be a very viable program in 1992."

Senator Saling: "Classified employees are those individuals who are normally in the service of the state under the Highway Department, the Department of Social and Health Services--those persons who are classified as one of those categories that are under a state-wide salary schedule type of situation."

Senator Rasmussen: "That would mean those at the state-wide salary poverty level?"

Senator Saling: "Some of our employees are pretty close to poverty level."

Senator Rasmussen: "Well, I was wondering if there was any level. We have state employees getting a hundred thousand dollars, we have state employees who are only getting fifteen thousand dollars."

Senator Saling: "There is no distinction at all."

Senator Rasmussen: "What class would you class the legislators?"

Senator Saling: "Poverty."

Senator Saling: "Poverty."

Senator Rasmussen: "In the event that we become full-time, we would be eligible to attend colleges, tuition free?"

Senator Saling: "Of course."

Senator Rasmussen: "That must be an excellent bill."

Senator Saling: "It is."

Senator Rasmussen: "The only thing that we need to do is make ourselves full-time."

Senator Saling: "You do it, Senator, I don't want it full-time."

Senator Rasmussen: "Me either, but we are making the bed so that we can climb into it."

Senator Saling: "Oh sure."

Senator Rasmussen: "I was curious about who we were taking care of."

Senator Saling: "We are taking care of any state employee who wants to take a course on a space available basis."

Senator Saling: "That's right."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Pritchard: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Bauer, the President finds that House Bill No. 2290 is a measure which addresses emerging commercial fisheries.

"The amendment proposed by Senators Rasmussen and Metcalf to the Committee on Environment and Natural Resources amendment would redefine 'angling gear' through Title 77 to include barbed hooks.

"The President, therefore, finds that the proposed amendment to the committee amendment does change the scope and object of the bill and that the point of order is well taken."

The amendment by Senators Rasmussen and Metcalf on page 7, line 33, to the Committee on Environment and Natural Resources striking amendment was ruled out of order.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the Committee on Environment and Natural Resources striking amendment to House Bill No. 2290.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Bailey, the bill speaks of a course, but there is no spelled out length of time for a course. Could it be a short course, a two or three day course or what is intended?"

Senator Bailey: "The bill speaks to a preparation course. I don't think it defines the length of it. Let me read the bill here and see if it does. No, it does not."

Senator Rasmussen: "Who will make the determination--the Superintendent of Public Instruction--of what the length of the course is?"

Senator Bailey: "I would imagine that determination will be made by the Superintendent of Public Instruction."

Senator Rasmussen: "Do you know if they have a separate training course for teachers to determine what children have learning disabilities, dyslexia and things like that?"

Senator Bailey: "I can't answer that question, because I don't know the answer to it, but we talked a lot about that issue. Senator Wojahn has brought that issue before both the Ways and Means Committee and other committees that I have been in and I agree with her that we need to do something about that issue, but I can't answer your question directly."

Senator Rasmussen: "Well, thank you. I agree that it is needed, both of these, but I was curious as to what the length of the course would be. Senator Talmadge spoke of the amount of money it would cost. We have passed things of good will, but we really don't have much knowledge of that we are going to do."

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. Section 1 of this act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Sutherland: "A point of order, Mr. President. I rise to request a ruling on the scope and object of the committee amendment. As you review the original proposal and the committee amendment, as we just heard Senator Bailey mention, that the committee amendment actually adds to and extends the scope of the bill, because it says that high school students can receive credit for attending a community college. The underlying bill just talks about seventh and eighth grade students and dealing with high school credits and that is, in fact, what the topic of the bill is."

Further debate ensued.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Vognild, further consideration of Engrossed House Bill No. 2626 was deferred.

King, Crane, Wineberry, Winsley, Ferguson, Leonard and Wood)

Establishing the American Indian endowed scholarship program.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Saling, the following Committee on Ways and Means amendment was adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature recognizes the benefit to our state and nation of providing equal educational opportunities for all races and nationalities. The legislature finds that American Indian students are underrepresented in Washington's colleges and universities. The legislature also finds that past discriminatory practices have resulted in this underrepresentation. Creating an endowed scholarship program to help American Indian students obtain a higher education will help to rectify past discrimination by providing a means and an incentive for American Indian students to pursue a higher education. The state will benefit from contributions made by American Indians who participate in a program of higher education.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Institution of higher education" or "institution" means a college or university in the state of Washington which is accredited by an accrediting association recognized as such by rule of the higher education coordinating board.

(2) "Board" means the higher education coordinating board.

(3) "Eligible student" or "student" means an American Indian student as defined by the board in consultation with the advisory committee described in section 4 of this act, who is a financially needy student, as defined in RCW 28B.10.802, who is a resident student, as defined by RCW 28B.15.012(2), who is a full-time student at an institution of higher education, and who promises to use his or her education to benefit other American Indians.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The American Indian endowed scholarship program is created. The program shall be administered by the higher education coordinating board. In administering the program, the board's powers and duties shall include but not be limited to:

(1) Selecting students to receive scholarships, with the assistance of a screening committee composed of persons involved in helping American Indian students to obtain a higher education. The membership of the committee may include, but is not limited to representatives of: Indian tribes, urban Indians, the governor's office of Indian affairs, the Washington state Indian education association, and institutions of higher education;

(2) Adopting necessary rules and guidelines;

(3) Publicizing the program;

(4) Accepting and depositing donations into the endowment fund created in section 7 of this act;

(5) Requesting and accepting from the state treasurer moneys earned from the trust fund and the endowment fund created in sections 6 and 7 of this act;

(6) Soliciting and accepting grants and donations from public and private sources for the program; and

(7) Naming scholarships in honor of those American Indians from Washington who have acted as role models.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. The higher education coordinating board shall establish an advisory committee to assist in program design and to develop criteria for the screening and selection of scholarship recipients. The committee shall be composed of representatives of the same groups as the screening committee described in section 3 of this act. These criteria shall include a priority for upper-division or graduate students. The criteria may include a priority for students who are majoring in program areas in which expertise is needed by the state's American Indians.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. The board may award scholarships to eligible students from moneys earned from the endowment fund created in section 7 of this act, or from funds appropriated to the board for this purpose, or from any private donations, or from any other funds given to the board for this program. For an undergraduate student, the amount of the scholarship shall not exceed the student's demonstrated financial need. SENATE RESOLUTION 1990-8745

by Senators Thorsness, Rasmussen, Madsen, Matson, McDonald, Owen, Metcalf, Saling, Nelson, Anderson, West, Sellar, Craswell, McCaslin, Cantu and Lee

WHEREAS, Over the past two hundred and fourteen years, our nation's flag has stood as a symbol of freedom and justice throughout the world; and

WHEREAS, The flag of the United States of America has stood, not just as a representation of a union of states, but as a symbol of the hopes and ideals of the American people and as a beacon of hope to enslaved people across the globe; and

WHEREAS, American forces, from Valley Forge to Iwo Jima, to the fields and valleys of Vietnam and the streets of Panama, have fought and died to protect everything that the Stars and Stripes stand for; and

WHEREAS, The flag is such a powerful part of the life of each American that the mere sight of it proudly flying after the bombardment of Fort McHenry inspired Francis Key to compose our national anthem; and

WHEREAS, From the sight of American marines raising the flag on Mt. Suribachi, to young John F. Kennedy, Jr., saluting the flag in his father's funeral procession, to Neil Armstrong and Edwin Aldrin saluting the Stars and Stripes on the moon, to the flag-draped coffin of every American veteran ever laid to rest, no symbol yet devised can more faithfully capture the love Americans have for their country; and

WHEREAS, United States District Judge Barbara Rothstein recently ruled that Americans must protect the right of persons to destroy our flag in order for it to "endure as a symbol of freedom"; and

WHEREAS, It is the firm conviction of the members of the Washington State Senate that neither our founding fathers, nor the drafters of the Bill of Rights ever envisioned that the desecration of our flag would be condoned or protected by the Constitution;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That in memory of the valiant men and women who throughout the history of this nation have given their lives in defense of the flag of the United States of America, the Washington State Senate hereby expresses its support of an amendment to the United States Constitution banning the destruction, desecration, mutilation, or burning of the flag.

Debate ensued.

Senator Nelson demanded a roll call.

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the sustaining of the demand for a roll call on adoption of Senate Resolution 1990-8745.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talmadge: "Senator Thorsness, you are aware that the Congress of the United States has passed a statute that makes flag burning a crime?"

Senator Thorsness: "I am."

Senator Talmadge: "Do you believe that that statute is constitutional?"

Senator Thorsness: "I do."

Senator Talmadge: "You believe Judge Rothstein was wrong?"

Senator Thorsness: "I do."

Further debate ensued.

The demand for a roll call on Senate Resolution 1990-8745 was sustained.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Newhouse, all Senators desiring to be sponsors of Senate Resolution 1990-8745 should contact the Secretary of the Senate.

Further debate ensued.

Senators Newhouse, Thorsness and Nelson demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Vognild: "Mr. President, a point of order. I understand that the rules normally allow the maker of the motion to close it, but I also understand that the calling of the previous question stops all debate."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Pritchard: "I really believe that Senator Vognild is right, but it is from my experience and not from the rules here. Wait a minute and we will check. Rule 36 reads, 'When sustained by a majority of Senators present, it shall preclude all debate, except the Senator who presents the motion may open and close debate on the question and the vote shall be immediately taken on the question or questions pending before the Senate,' so he is allowed to close debate. With that Senator Thorsness, you may close debate."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Wojahn: "Mr. President, a parliamentary inquiry. I would like to ask a question of the speaker. Am I going to be permitted to do that?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Pritchard: "During his closing remarks, if you will rise, he will recognize you and allow you a question. I am sure he would do that. Wouldn't you, Senator?"

REMARKS BY SENATOR THORSNESS

Senator Thorsness: "Do I now have a choice? Senator Wojahn, would you like to ask me a question?"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Wojahn: "Yes I would, Senator Thorsness, and I would just like to ask it before you made your closing statement, but if you would prefer, I would wait. I am really in a quandary, because I had always been taught that if you are going to dispose of tattered ends of the flag that the only way that you could dispose of it was by burning it--that you have to burn it, that you can't throw it in the garbage, you can't tear it up, you are suppose to burn it. So if you are suppose to burn the flag that is no longer usable and you are replacing it with another one, how are you going to do that if you send this resolution and insist that Congress pass a Constitutional Amendment? I am confused and I need an answer."

Senator Thorsness: "I believe, Senator, that the first thing that you do is cut the field off and then there is a specific ceremony when burning the flag and there is a procedure for that and I can get that for you and distribute to you and other members, so if this happens we will be sure we do it right."

Senator Thorsness closed debate on the adoption of Senate Resolution 1990-8745.

MOTION

Senator Vognild moved that the Senate do concur in the House amendments to Substitute Senate Bill No. 6407.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator McDonald: "Mr. President, a point of parliamentary inquiry. What is the motion before us?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Pritchard: "The motion before us is the motion to concur with the House amendments to Substitute Senate Bill No. 6407."

Further debate ensued.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Bender, Senator Madsen was excused.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 6408, by Senators Patterson, Bender, Thorsness, Hansen and Talmadge (by request of Governor Gardner)

Adopting the supplemental transportation budget.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Metcalf moved that the following amendment by Senators Metcalf, Kreidler and Bailey be adopted:

On page 7, line 19, after "1991," insert "(2) The transportation commission shall not permit the sale or use of alcoholic beverages on the Washington state ferry system."

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senators Metcalf, Kreidler and Bailey on page 7, line 19, to Senate Bill No. 6408.

The motion by Senator Metcalf failed and the amendment was not adopted on a rising vote.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Patterson, Senate Bill No. 6408 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Patterson, at the present time, this is a no tax budget?"

Senator Patterson: "This budget utilizes additional revenue of one hundred and fifty-one million dollars, if the Governor's package of taxes for transportation passes this session. Now, you understand if it doesn't pass, then, in conference, we have to rip out a lot of the dollars that are in here for all the projects that the Governor asked us to support. It all depends upon whether or not we have a transportation funding package out of this session. Otherwise, we will have to go back and make certain adjustments as to what we will spend in current revenue available to us in this budget."

Senator Rasmussen: "Well, the reason I asked that question is that there was a thirty million dollar surplus that they weren't using which could be used for the walk-on ferries, but it had not been appropriated previously. Then, in looking at the last report which came in yesterday, there were certain projections where they were underspending what they estimated, so there is more money available to shift on projects."

Senator Patterson: "But, those decisions will be made once we know whether there is an additional one hundred and fifty-one million dollars made available."

Senator Rasmussen: "The people in my district have not asked for new taxes and that is why I asked you if this would be a no tax budget, but just shifting of funds in the end?"

Senator Patterson: "Right now, this is a no tax budget in the event we do not pass additional revenues, Senator."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 6408 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 29; nays, 18; excused, 2.

Voting yea: Senators Anderson, Bailey, Barr, Bauer, Bender, Benitz, Bluechel, Conner, DeJarnatt, Hansen, Hayner, Johnson, Kreidler, Lee, Matson, McCaslin, McDonald, McMullen, Murray, Nelson, Patrick, Patterson, Sellar, Talmadge, Thorsness, Vognilid, von Reichbauer, Warnke, West - 29.

Excused: Senators Craswell, Madsen - 2.

SENATE BILL NO. 6408, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

MOTION

At 10:30 a.m., on motion of Senator Newhouse, the Senate was declared to be at ease.

The Senate was called to order at 10:45 a.m. by President Pritchard.

MESSAGE FROM GOVERNOR PARTIAL VETO OF SECOND SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6259

February 28, 1990

To the Honorable, the Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 1202, Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 6259, entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to criminal offenders."

Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 6259 is among the most significant legislation enacted in Washington State. Stemming from brutally violent crimes that recently rocked our state, this measure represents a comprehensive, balanced, and effective approach to addressing sexual violence in our communities.

In order to ensure that careful deliberation was given to changes in the state's criminal justice system's response to violent predatory crimes, I authorized the creation of the Governor's Task Force on Community Protection. The Task Force was able to reach broad agreement on the elements of this bill by listening not only to professionals who work with offenders and victims, but also to citizens around the state who had been touched by crime.

One of the Task Force's recommendations was the creation of a crime victims' advocate with programmatic responsibilities within the Department of Community Development. Section 1202 places the crime victims' advocate within the Governor's Office. A grant program is created separately within the Department of Community Development.

I endorse the creation of a crime victims' advocate to review and coordinate victim's programs. To prevent fragmentation, however, I believe the position should be located in an agency with program responsibilities.

For these reasons, I am vetoing section 1202 of Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 6259. In concert with this veto, I am promulgating an Executive Order establishing the office of crime victims' advocacy within the Department of Community Development.

Respectfully submitted,
BOOTH GARDNER, Governor

There being no objection, the President advanced the Senate to the sixth order of business.

There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of Substitute House Bill No. 2403 and the pending Committee on Governmental Operations striking amendment, deferred earlier today.

MOTION

Revising provisions for the Washington pollution liability insurance program.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator von Reichbauer, the following Committee on Financial Institutions and Insurance amendment was adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

*Sec. 1. Section 1, chapter 383, Laws of 1989 and RCW 70.148.005 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The legislature finds that:

(a) Final regulations adopted by the United States environmental protection agency (EPA) require owners and operators of underground petroleum storage tanks to demonstrate financial responsibility for accidental releases of petroleum as a precondition to continued ownership and operation of such tanks;

(b) Financial responsibility is demonstrated through the purchase of pollution liability insurance or an acceptable alternative such as coverage under a state financial responsibility program, in the amount of at least five hundred thousand dollars per occurrence and one million dollars annual aggregate depending upon the nature, use, and number of tanks owned or operated;

(c) Many owners and operators of underground petroleum storage tanks cannot purchase pollution liability insurance either because private insurance is unavailable at any price or because owners and operators cannot meet the rigid underwriting standards of existing insurers, nor can many owners and operators meet the strict regulatory standards imposed for alternatives to the purchase of insurance; and

(d) Without a state financial responsibility program for owners and operators of underground petroleum storage tanks, many tank owners and operators will be forced to discontinue the ownership and operation of these tanks.

(2) The purpose of this chapter is to create a state financial responsibility program meeting EPA standards for owners and operators of underground petroleum storage tanks in a manner that:

(a) Minimizes state involvement in pollution liability claims management and insurance administration;

(b) Protects the state of Washington from unwanted and unanticipated liability for accidental release claims;

(c) Creates incentives for private insurers to provide needed liability insurance; and

(d) Parallels generally accepted principles of insurance and risk management.

To that end, this chapter establishes a temporary program to provide pollution liability reinsurance at a price that will encourage a private insurance company or risk retention group to sell pollution liability insurance in accordance with the requirements of this chapter to owners and operators of underground petroleum storage tanks, thereby allowing the owners and operators to comply with the financial responsibility regulations of the EPA.

(3) It is not the intent of this chapter to permit owners and operators of underground petroleum storage tanks to obtain pollution liability insurance without regard to the quality or condition of their storage tanks or without regard to the risk management practices of tank owners and operators, nor is it the intent of this chapter to provide coverage or funding for past or existing petroleum releases. Further, it is the intent of the legislature that the program follow generally accepted insurance underwriting and actuarial principles and to deviate from those principles only to the extent necessary and within the tax revenue limits provided, to make pollution liability insurance reasonably affordable and available to owners and operators who meet the requirements of this chapter, particularly to those owners and operators whose underground storage tanks meet a vital economic need within the affected community.

Sec. 2. Section 2, chapter 383, Laws of 1989 and RCW 70.148.010 are each amended to read as follows:

Unless the context requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

"Corrective action" includes, when agreed to in writing, in advance by the insurer, action to remove, treat, neutralize, contain, or clean up an accidental release to avert, reduce, or eliminate the liability of the insured for corrective action, bodily injury, or property damage. ~~((t6))~~ (18) "Tank" means a stationary device, designed to contain an accumulation of petroleum, that is constructed primarily of nonearthen materials such as wood, concrete, steel, or plastic that provides structural support.

~~((t7))~~ (19) "Underground storage tank" means any one or a combination of tanks including underground pipes connected to the tank, that is used to contain an accumulation of petroleum and the volume of which (including the volume of the underground pipes connected to the tank) is ten percent or more beneath the surface of the ground.

Sec. 3. Section 3, chapter 383, Laws of 1989 and RCW 70.148.020 are each amended to read as follows:

In addition, the ~~((administrator))~~ director may contract with third parties for services necessary to carry out its activities where this will promote economy, avoid duplication of effort, and make best use of available expertise. To the extent necessary to protect the state from unintended liability and ensure quality program and contract design, the director shall contract with an organization or organizations with demonstrated experience and ability in managing and designing pollution liability insurance and with an organization or organizations with demonstrated experience and ability in managing and designing pollution liability reinsurance. The director shall enter into such contracts after competitive bid but need not select the lowest bid. The ~~((administrator))~~ director has the following powers and duties:

(1) To design and from time to time revise ~~((an excess-of-loss))~~ a reinsurance contract providing coverage to an insurer meeting the requirements of this chapter. Before initially entering into a reinsurance contract, the director shall provide a report to the chairs of the senate ways and means, senate financial institutions, house of representatives revenue, and house of representatives financial institutions committees and shall include an actuarial report describing the various reinsurance methods considered by the director and describing each method's costs. (b) In the event of an insolvency of the insurer, the reinsurance contract shall provide reinsurance payable directly to the insurer or to its liquidator, receiver, or successor on the basis of the liability of the insurer in accordance with the reinsurance contract. In no event may the program be liable for or provide coverage for that portion of any covered loss that is the responsibility of the insurer whether or not the insurer is able to fulfill the responsibility.

(c) The total limit of liability for reinsurance coverage shall not exceed one million dollars per occurrence and two million dollars annual aggregate for each policy underwritten by the insurer less the ultimate net loss retained by the insurer as defined and provided for in the reinsurance contract.

(2) To design and implement a structure of periodic premiums due the ~~((administrator))~~ director from the insurer that takes full advantage of revenue collections and projected revenue collections to ensure affordable premiums to the insured consistent with sound actuarial principles.

(3) To periodically review premium rates for reinsurance to determine whether revenue appropriations supporting the program can be reduced without substantially increasing the insured's premium costs.

(4) To solicit bids from insurers and select an insurer to provide pollution liability insurance to owners and operators of underground storage tanks for third party bodily injury and property damage and corrective action.

(5) To monitor the activities of the insurer to ensure compliance with this chapter and protect the program from excessive loss exposure resulting from claims mismanagement by the insurer.

(1) All examination and proprietary reports and information obtained by the ~~((administrator))~~ director and the ~~((administrators))~~ director's staff in soliciting bids from insurers and in monitoring the insurer selected by the ~~((administrator))~~ director shall not be made public or otherwise disclosed to any person, firm, corporation, agency, association, governmental body, or other entity.

(5) A person who violates any provision of this section is guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

Sec. 8, Section 8, chapter 383, Laws of 1989 and RCW 70.148.070 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) In selecting an insurer to provide pollution liability insurance coverage to owners and operators of underground storage tanks, the ((administrator)) director shall evaluate bids based upon criteria established by the ((administrator)) director that shall include:

(a) The insurer's ability to underwrite pollution liability insurance;

(b) The insurer's ability to settle pollution liability claims quickly and efficiently;

(c) The insurer's estimate of underwriting and claims adjustment expenses;

(d) The insurer's estimate of premium rates for providing coverage;

(e) The insurer's ability to manage and invest premiums; and

(f) The insurer's ability to provide risk management guidance to insureds.

The ((administrator)) director shall select the bidder most qualified to provide insurance consistent with this chapter and need not select the bidder submitting the least expensive bid. The ((administrator)) director may consider bids by groups of insurers and management companies who propose to act in concert in providing coverage and who otherwise meet the requirements of this chapter.

(2) The successful bidder shall agree to provide liability insurance coverage to owners and operators of underground storage tanks for third party bodily injury and property damage and corrective action consistent with the following minimum standards:

(a) The insurer shall provide coverage for defense costs.

(b) The insurer shall collect a deductible from the insured for corrective action in an amount approved by the ((administrator)) director.

(c) The insurer shall provide coverage for accidental releases in the amount of five hundred thousand dollars per occurrence and one million dollars annual aggregate but no more than one million dollars per occurrence and two million dollars annual aggregate exclusive of defense costs.

(d) The insurer shall require insurance applicants to meet at least the following underwriting standards before issuing coverage to the applicant:

(i) The applicant must be in compliance with statutes, ordinances, rules, regulations, and orders governing the ownership and operation of underground storage tanks as identified by the ((administrator)) director by rule; and

(ii) The applicant must exercise adequate underground storage tank risk management as specified by the ((administrator)) director by rule.

(f) The insurer may exclude coverage for bodily injury, property damage, and corrective action as permitted by the ((administrator)) director by rule.

(g) The insurer shall use a variable rate schedule approved by the ((administrator)) director taking into account tank type, tank age, and other factors specified by the ((administrator)) director.

(3) The ((administrator)) director shall adopt all rules necessary to implement this section. In developing and adopting rules governing rates, deductibles, underwriting standards, and coverage conditions, limitations, and exclusions, the ((administrator)) director shall balance the owner and operator's need for coverage with the need to maintain the actuarial integrity of the program, shall take into consideration the economic impact of the discontinued use of a storage tank upon the affected community, and shall consult with the standing technical advisory committee established under RCW 70.148.030(3). In developing and adopting rules governing coverage exclusions affecting corrective action, the ((administrator)) director shall consult with the Washington state department of ecology.

(4) Notwithstanding the definitions contained in RCW 70.148.010, the ((administrator)) director may permit an insurer to use different words or phrases describing the coverage provided under the program. In permitting such deviations from the definitions contained in RCW 70.148.010, the ((administrator)) director shall consider the regulations adopted by the United States environmental protection agency requiring financial responsibility by owners and operators of underground petroleum storage tanks.

(5) Owners and operators of underground storage tanks or sites containing underground storage tanks where a preexisting release has been identified or where the owner or operator knows of a preexisting release are eligible for coverage under the program subject to the following conditions:

(a) The owner or operator must have a plan for proceeding with corrective action; and

(b) If the owner or operator files a claim with the insurer, the owner or operator has the burden of proving that the claim is not related to a preexisting release until the owner or operator demonstrates to the satisfaction of the ((administrator)) director that corrective action has been completed.

(6) When a reinsurance contract has been entered into by the agency and insurance companies, the director shall notify the department of ecology of the letting of the contract. Within thirty days of that notification, the department of ecology shall notify all known owners and operators of petroleum underground storage tanks that appropriate levels of financial responsibility must be established by October 26, 1990, in accordance with federal environmental protection agency requirements, and that insurance under the program is available. All owners and operators of petroleum underground storage tanks must also be notified that declaration of method of financial responsibility or intent to seek to be insured under the program must be made to the state by November 1, 1990. If the declaration of method of financial responsibility is not made by November 1, 1990, the department of ecology shall, pursuant to chapter 90.76 RCW, prohibit the owner or operator of an underground storage tank from obtaining a tank tag or receiving petroleum products until such time as financial responsibility has been established.

Sec. 9. Section 9, chapter 383, Laws of 1989 and RCW 70.148.080 are each amended to read as follows:

If the insurer cancels or refuses to issue or renew a policy, the affected owner or operator may appeal the insurer's decision to the ((administrator)) director. The ((administrator)) director shall conduct a brief adjudicative proceeding under chapter 34.05 RCW.

Sec. 10. Section 10, chapter 383, Laws of 1989 and RCW 70.148.090 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The activities and operations of the program are exempt from the provisions and requirements of Title 48 RCW and to the extent of their participation in the program, the activities and operations of the insurer selected by the ((administrator)) director to provide liability insurance coverage to owners and operators of underground storage tanks are exempt from the requirements of Title 48 RCW except for:

(a) Chapter 48.03 RCW pertaining to examinations;

(b) RCW 48.05.250 pertaining to annual reports;

(c) Chapter 48.12 RCW pertaining to assets and liabilities;

(d) Chapter 48.13 RCW pertaining to investments;

(e) Chapter 48.30 RCW pertaining to deceptive, false, or fraudulent acts or practices; and

(f) Chapter 48.92 RCW pertaining to liability risk retention.

(2) To the extent of their participation in the program, the insurer selected by the ((administrator)) director to provide liability insurance coverage to owners and operators of underground storage tanks shall not participate in the Washington insurance guaranty association nor shall the association be liable for coverage provided to owners and operators of underground storage tanks issued in connection with the program.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. A new section is added to chapter 70.148 RCW to read as follows:

The director may design the program to cover the costs incurred in determining whether a proposed applicant for pollution insurance under the program meets the underwriting standards of the insurer. In covering such costs the director shall consider the financial resources of the applicant, shall take into consideration the economic impact of the discontinued use of the applicant's storage tank upon the affected community, shall provide coverage within the revenue limits provided under this chapter, and shall limit coverage of such costs to the extent that coverage would be detrimental to providing affordable insurance under the program.

Sec. 12. Section 16, chapter 383, Laws of 1989 and RCW 82.23A.020 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A tax is imposed on the privilege of possession of petroleum products in this state. The rate of the tax shall be fifty one-hundredths of one percent multiplied by the wholesale value of the petroleum product.

(2) Moneys collected under this chapter shall be deposited in the pollution liability ((reinsurance)) insurance program trust account under RCW 70.148.020.

(3) Chapter 82.32 RCW applies to the tax imposed in this chapter. The tax due dates, reporting periods, and return requirements applicable to chapter 82.04 RCW apply equally to the tax imposed in this chapter.

(4) Within thirty days after the end of each calendar quarter the department shall determine the "quarterly balance," which shall be the cash balance in the pollution liability ((reinsurance)) insurance program trust account as of the last day of that calendar quarter, after excluding the reserves determined for that quarter under RCW 70.148.020(2). Balance determinations by the department under this section are final and shall not be used to challenge the validity of any tax imposed under this section. For each subsequent calendar quarter, tax shall be imposed under this section during the entire calendar quarter unless:

(a) Tax was imposed under this section during the immediately preceding calendar quarter, and the most recent quarterly balance is more than fifteen million dollars; or

(b) Tax was not imposed under this section during the immediately preceding calendar quarter, and the most recent quarterly balance is more than seven million five hundred thousand dollars.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 13. Section 11, chapter 383, Laws of 1989 and RCW 70.148.100 are each repealed.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 14. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately."

Regulating hazardous substances and waste.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Metcalf, the following Committee on Environment and Natural Resources amendment was adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. Section 1, chapter 177, Laws of 1988 and RCW 70.95C.010 are each amended to read as follows:

The legislature finds that land disposal and incineration of solid and hazardous waste can be both harmful to the environment and costly to those who must dispose of the waste. In order to address this problem in the most cost-effective and environmentally sound manner, and to implement the highest waste management priority as articulated in RCW 70.95.010 and 70.105-.150, public and private efforts should focus on reducing the generation of waste. Waste reduction can be achieved by encouraging voluntary efforts to redesign industrial, commercial, production, and other processes to result in the reduction or elimination of waste byproducts and to maximize the in-process reuse or reclamation of valuable spent material.

In the interest of protecting the public health, safety, and the environment, the legislature declares that it is the policy of the state of Washington to encourage reduction in the use of hazardous substances and reduction in the generation of hazardous waste whenever economically and technically practicable.

The legislature finds that hazardous wastes are generated by numerous different sources including, but not limited to, large and small business, households, and state and local government. The legislature further finds that a goal against which efforts at waste reduction may be measured is essential for an effective hazardous waste reduction program. The pacific northwest hazardous waste advisory council has endorsed a goal of reducing, through hazardous substance use reduction and waste reduction techniques, the generation of hazardous waste by fifty percent by 1995. The legislature adopts this as a policy goal for the state of Washington. The legislature recognizes that many individual businesses have already reduced the generation of hazardous waste through appropriate hazardous waste reduction techniques. The legislature also recognizes that there are some basic industrial processes which by their nature have limited potential for significantly reducing the use of certain raw materials or substantially reducing the generation of hazardous wastes. Therefore, the goal of reducing hazardous waste generation by fifty percent cannot be applied as a regulatory requirement.

Sec. 2. Section 2, chapter 177, Laws of 1988 and RCW 70.95C.020 are each amended to read as follows:

NEW SECTION, Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 70.95 RCW to read as follows:

The department shall require energy recovery and incineration facilities to retain records of monitoring and operation data for a minimum of ten years after permanent closure of the facility.

Sec. 5. Section 4, chapter 177, Laws of 1988 and RCW 70.95C.040 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The office shall establish a waste reduction and hazardous substance use reduction consultation program to be coordinated with other state waste reduction and hazardous substance use reduction consultation programs.

(2) The director may grant a request by any waste generator or hazardous substance user for advice and consultation on waste reduction and hazardous substance use reduction techniques and assistance in preparation or modification of a plan, executive summary, or annual progress report, or assistance in the implementation of a plan required by section 6 of this act. Pursuant to a request ~~((the director may visit any))~~ from a facility such as a business, governmental entity, or other process site in the state, the director may visit the facility making the request for the purposes of observing hazardous substance use and the waste-generating process, obtaining information relevant to waste reduction and hazardous substance use reduction, rendering advice, and making recommendations. NEW SECTION, Sec. 6. A new section is added to chapter 70.95C RCW to read as follows:

(1) Each hazardous waste generator who generates more than two thousand six hundred forty pounds of hazardous waste per year and each hazardous substance user, except for those facilities that are primarily permitted treatment, storage, and disposal facilities or recycling facilities, shall prepare a plan for the voluntary reduction of the use of hazardous substances and the generation of hazardous wastes. Hazardous waste generated and recycled for beneficial use, including initial amount of hazardous substances introduced into a process and subsequently recycled for beneficial use, shall not be used in the calculation of hazardous waste generated for purposes of this section. The department may develop reporting requirements, consistent with existing reporting, to establish recycling for beneficial use under this section. A person with multiple interrelated facilities where the processes in the facilities are substantially similar, may prepare a single plan covering one or more of those facilities.

(2) Each user or generator required to write a plan is encouraged to advise its employees of the planning process and solicit comments or suggestions from its employees on hazardous substance use and waste reduction options.

(3) The department shall adopt by April 1, 1991, rules for preparation of plans. The rules shall require the plan to address the following options, according to the following order of priorities: Hazardous substance use reduction, waste reduction, recycling, and treatment. In the planning process, first consideration shall be given to hazardous substance use reduction and waste reduction options. Consideration shall be given next to recycling options. Recycling options may be considered only after hazardous substance use reduction options and waste reduction options have been thoroughly researched and shown to be inappropriate. Treatment options may be considered only after hazardous substance use reduction, waste reduction, and recycling options have been thoroughly researched and shown to be inappropriate. Documentation of the research shall be available to the department upon request. The rules shall also require the plans to discuss the hazardous substance use reduction, waste reduction, and closed loop recycling options separately from other recycling and treatment options. All plans shall be written in conformance with the format prescribed in the rules adopted under this section. The rules shall require the plans to include, but not be limited to:

(a) A written policy articulating management and corporate support for the plan and a commitment to implementing planned activities and achieving established goals;

(b) The plan scope and objectives;

(c) Analysis of current hazardous substance use and hazardous waste generation, and a description of current hazardous substance use reduction, waste reduction, recycling, and treatment activities;

(d) An identification of further hazardous substance use reduction, waste reduction, recycling, and treatment opportunities, and an analysis of the amount of hazardous substance use reduction and waste reduction that would be achieved, and the costs. The analysis of options shall demonstrate that the priorities provided for in this section have been followed;

(e) A selection of options to be implemented in accordance with the priorities established in this section;

(f) An analysis of impediments to implementing the options. Impediments that shall be considered acceptable include, but are not limited to: Adverse impacts on product quality, legal or contractual obligations, economic practicality, and technical feasibility;

(g) A written policy stating that in implementing the selected options, whenever technically and economically practicable, risks will not be shifted from one part of a process, environmental media, or product to another;

(h) Specific performance goals in each of the following categories, expressed in numeric terms:

(i) Hazardous substances to be reduced or eliminated from use;

(ii) Wastes to be reduced or eliminated through waste reduction techniques;

(iii) Materials or wastes to be recycled; and

If the establishment of numeric performance goals is not practicable, the performance goals shall include a clearly stated list of objectives designed to lead to the establishment of numeric goals as soon as is practicable. Goals shall be set for a five-year period from the first reporting date;

(i) A description of how the wastes that are not recycled or treated and the residues from recycling and treatment processes are managed may be included in the plan;

(j) Hazardous substance use and hazardous waste accounting systems that identify hazardous substance use and waste management costs and factor in liability, compliance, and oversight costs;

(k) A financial description of the plan;

(l) Personnel training and employee involvement programs;

(m) A five-year plan implementation schedule;

(n) Documentation of hazardous substance use reduction and waste reduction efforts completed before or in progress at the time of the first reporting date; and

(o) An executive summary of the plan, which shall include, but not be limited to:

(i) The information required by (c), (e), (h), and (n) of this subsection; and

(ii) A summary of the information required by (d) and (f) of this subsection.

Upon the request of two or more users or generators belonging to similar industrial classifications, the department may aggregate data contained in their annual progress reports for the purpose of developing a public record.

(7) Every five years, each plan shall be updated, and a new executive summary shall be submitted to the department.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 7. A new section is added to chapter 70.95C RCW to read as follows:

A person required to prepare a plan under section 6 of this act because of the quantity of hazardous waste generated may petition the director to be excused from this requirement. The person must demonstrate to the satisfaction of the director that the quantity of hazardous waste generated was due to unique circumstances not likely to be repeated and that the person is unlikely to generate sufficient hazardous waste to require a plan in the next five years.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 8. A new section is added to chapter 70.95C RCW to read as follows:

(1) The department may review a plan, executive summary, or an annual progress report to determine whether the plan, executive summary, or annual progress report is adequate pursuant to the rules developed under this section and with the provisions of section 6 of this act. In determining the adequacy of any plan, executive summary, or annual progress report, the department shall base its determination solely on whether the plan, executive summary, or annual progress report is complete and prepared in accordance with the provisions of section 6 of this act.

(2) Plans developed under section 6 of this act shall be retained at the facility of the hazardous substance user or hazardous waste generator preparing a plan. The plan is not a public record under the public disclosure laws of the state of Washington contained in chapter 42.17 RCW. A user or generator required to prepare a plan shall permit the director or a representative of the director to review the plan to determine its adequacy. No visit made by the director or a representative of the director to a facility for the purposes of this subsection may be regarded as an inspection or investigation, and no notices or citations may be issued, nor any civil penalty assessed, upon such a visit.

(3) If a hazardous substance user or hazardous waste generator fails to complete an adequate plan, executive summary, or annual progress report, the department shall notify the user or generator of the inadequacy, identifying specific deficiencies. For the purposes of this section, a deficiency may include failure to develop a plan, failure to submit an executive summary pursuant to the schedule provided in section 6(5) of this act, and failure to submit an annual progress report pursuant to the rules developed under section 6(6) of this act. The department shall specify a reasonable time frame, of not less than ninety days, within which the user or generator shall complete a modified plan, executive summary, or annual progress report addressing the specified deficiencies.

(4) If the department determines that a modified plan, executive summary, or annual progress report is inadequate, the department may, within its discretion, either require further modification or enter an order pursuant to subsection (5)(a) of this section.

(5)(a) If, after having received a list of specified deficiencies from the department, a hazardous substance user or hazardous waste generator required to prepare a plan fails to complete modification of a plan, executive summary, or annual progress report within the time period specified by the department, the department may enter an order pursuant to chapter 34.05 RCW finding the user or generator not in compliance with the requirements of section 6 of this act. When the order is final, the department shall notify the department of revenue to charge a penalty fee. The penalty fee shall be the greater of one thousand dollars or three times the amount of the user's or generator's previous year's fee, in addition to the current year's fee. If no fee was assessed the previous year, the penalty shall be the greater of one thousand dollars or three times the amount of the current year's fee. The penalty assessed under this subsection shall be collected each year after the year for which the penalty was assessed until an adequate plan or executive summary is completed.

(b) If a hazardous substance user or hazardous waste generator required to prepare a plan fails to complete an adequate plan, executive summary, or annual progress report after the department has levied against the user or generator the penalty provided in (a) of this subsection, the user or generator shall be required to pay a surcharge to the department whenever the user or generator disposes of a hazardous waste at any hazardous waste incinerator or hazardous waste landfill facility located in Washington state, until a plan, executive summary, or annual progress report is completed and determined to be adequate by the department. The surcharge shall be equal to three times the fee charged for disposal. The department shall furnish the incinerator and landfill facilities in this state with a list of environmental protection agency/state identification numbers of the hazardous waste generators that are not in compliance with the requirements of section 6 of this act.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 9. A new section is added to chapter 70.95C RCW to read as follows:

A user or generator may appeal from a department order or a surcharge under section 8 of this act to the pollution control hearings board pursuant to chapter 43.21B RCW.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 10. A new section is added to chapter 70.95C RCW to read as follows:

(1) The department shall make available for public inspection any executive summary or annual progress report submitted to the department. Any hazardous substance user or hazardous waste generator required to prepare an executive summary or annual progress report who believes that disclosure of any information contained in the executive summary or annual progress report may adversely affect the competitive position of the user or generator may request the department pursuant to RCW 43.21A.160 to delete from the public record those portions of the executive summary or annual progress report that may affect the user's or generator's competitive position. The department shall not disclose any information contained in an executive summary or annual progress report pending a determination of whether the department will delete any information contained in the report from the public record.

(2) Any ten persons residing within ten miles of a hazardous substance user or hazardous waste generator required to prepare a plan may file with the department a petition requesting the department to examine a plan to determine its adequacy. The department shall report its determination of adequacy to the petitioners and to the user or generator within a reasonable time. The department may deny a petition if the department has within the previous year determined the plan of the user or generator named in the petition to be adequate.

(3) The department shall maintain a record of each plan, executive summary, or annual progress report if reviews, and a list of all plans, executive summaries, or annual progress reports the department has determined to be inadequate, including descriptions of corrective actions taken. This information shall be made available to the public.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. As used in this chapter, the following terms have the meanings indicated unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

MOTION

Senator Nelson moved that the following Committee on Ways and Means amendment be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that the increasing reliance on water borne transportation as a source of supply for oil and hazardous substances poses special concern for the state of Washington. Vessels transporting oil into Washington travel on some of the most unique and special marine environments in the United States. These marine environments are a source of natural beauty, recreation, and economic livelihood for many residents of this state. As a result, the state has an obligation to assure the citizens of the state that the waters of the state used for water borne transportation will be protected. The legislature declares that this act is the first step in developing a comprehensive approach to protecting this important and unique resource by developing a set of procedures to respond to spills of oil and hazardous substances into the state's waters.

The legislature also finds that prevention is the best method to protect the unique and special marine environments in this state. The technology for containing and cleaning up a spill of oil or hazardous substances is in the early stages of development. Preventing spills is more protective of the environment and more cost-effective when all the costs associated with responding to a spill are considered. The legislature declares that it will continue to develop this first step in a comprehensive approach to protecting our unique and special marine environment by adopting measures in future sessions of the legislature to reduce the likelihood that a spill of oil or hazardous substances will occur.

This restriction does not apply to license renewals under this section.

(3) Pilots shall be licensed hereunder for a term of five years from and after the date of the issuance of their respective state licenses. Such licenses shall thereafter be renewed as of course, unless the board shall withhold same for good cause. Each pilot shall pay to the state treasurer an annual license fee established by the board of pilotage commissioners pursuant to chapter 34.05 RCW, but not to exceed one thousand five hundred dollars, to be placed in the state treasury to the credit of the pilotage account. The board may assess partially active or inactive pilots a reduced fee.

(4) Pilot applicants shall be required to pass a written and oral examination administered and graded by the board which shall test such applicants on this chapter, the rules of the board, local harbor ordinances, and such other matters as may be required to compliment the United States examinations and qualifications. The board shall conduct the examination on a regular date, as prescribed by rule, at least once every two years.

(5) The board shall have developed five examinations and grading sheets for the Puget Sound pilotage district, and two for each other pilotage district, for the testing and grading of pilot applicants. The examinations shall be administered to pilot applicants on a random basis and shall be updated as required to reflect changes in law, rules, policies, or procedures. The board may appoint a special independent examination committee or may contract with a firm knowledgeable and experienced in the development of professional tests for development of said examinations. Active licensed state pilots may be consulted for the general development of examinations but shall have no knowledge of the specific questions. The pilot members of the board may participate in the grading of examinations. If the board does appoint a special examination development committee it is authorized to pay the members of said committee the same compensation and travel expenses as received by members of the board. When grading examinations the board shall carefully follow the grading sheet prepared for that examination. The board shall develop a "sample examination" which would tend to indicate to an applicant the general types of questions on pilot examinations, but such sample questions shall not appear on any actual examinations. Any person who willfully gives advance knowledge of information contained on a pilot examination is guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

(6) All pilots and applicants are subject to an annual physical examination by a physician chosen by the board. The physician shall examine the applicant's heart, blood pressure, circulatory system, lungs and respiratory system, eyesight, hearing, and such other items as may be prescribed by the board. After consultation with a physician and the United States coast guard, the board shall establish minimum health standards to ensure that pilots licensed by the state are able to perform their duties. Within ninety days of the date of each annual physical examination, and after review of the physician's report, the board shall make a determination of whether the pilot or candidate is fully able to carry out the duties of a pilot under this chapter. The board may in its discretion check with the appropriate authority for any convictions of offenses involving drugs or the personal consumption of alcohol in the prior twelve months.

(7) The board shall prescribe, pursuant to chapter 34.05 RCW, a number of familiarization trips, between a minimum number of twenty-five and a maximum of one hundred, which pilot applicants must make in the pilotage district for which they desire to be licensed. Familiarization trips any particular applicant must make are to be based upon the applicant's vessel handling experience.

(8) The board may prescribe vessel simulator training for a pilot applicant, or pilot subject to RCW 88.16.105, as it deems appropriate, taking into consideration the economic cost of such training, to enhance that person's ability to perform pilotage duties under this chapter.

(9) The board shall prescribe, pursuant to chapter 34.05 RCW, such reporting requirements and review procedures as may be necessary to assure the accuracy and validity of license and service claims, and records of familiarization trips of pilot candidates. Willful misrepresentation of such required information by a pilot candidate shall result in disqualification of the candidate.

Sec. 28. Section 13, chapter 18, Laws of 1935 as last amended by section 1, chapter 392, Laws of 1987 and RCW 88.16.100 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The board shall have power on its own motion or, in its discretion, upon the written request of any interested party, to investigate the performance of pilotage services subject to this chapter and to issue a reprimand, impose a fine against a pilot in an amount not to exceed five thousand dollars, suspend, withhold, or revoke the license of any pilot, or any combination of the above, for misconduct, incompetency, inattention to duty, intoxication, or failure to perform his duties under this chapter, or violation of any of the rules or regulations provided by the board for the government of pilots. The board may partially or totally stay any disciplinary action authorized in this subsection and subsection (2) of this section. The board shall have the power to require that a pilot satisfactorily complete a specific course of training or treatment.

(2) In all instances where a pilot licensed under this chapter performs pilot services on a vessel exempt under RCW 88.16.070, the board may on its own motion, or in its discretion upon the written request of any interested party, investigate whether the services were performed in a professional manner consistent with sound maritime practices. If the board finds that the pilotage services were performed in a manner that constitutes an act of incompetence, misconduct, or negligence so as to endanger life, limb, or property, or violated or failed to comply with state laws or regulations intended to promote marine safety or to protect navigable waters, the board may issue a reprimand, impose a fine against a pilot in an amount not to exceed five thousand dollars, suspend, withhold, or revoke the state pilot license, or any combination of the above. The board shall have the power to require that a pilot satisfactorily complete a specific course of training or treatment.

(3) The board shall implement a system of specified disciplinary actions or corrective actions, including training or treatment, that will be taken when a state licensed pilot in a specified period of time has had multiple disciplinary actions taken against the pilot's license pursuant to subsections (1) and (2) of this section. In developing these disciplinary or corrective actions, the board shall take into account the cause of the disciplinary action and the pilot's previous record.

(4) The board shall immediately review the pilot's license of a pilot who has been convicted within the prior twelve months of any offense involving drugs or the personal consumption of alcohol while on duty, including an offense of operation of a vehicle or vessel while under the influence of alcohol or drugs. After a hearing held pursuant to subsection (5) of this section:

(a) The board shall order a pilot who has been found to have been convicted within the prior twelve months of an offense involving drugs or the personal consumption of alcohol while on duty and who has not been convicted of another offense involving drugs or the personal consumption of alcohol in the previous five years to actively participate in and satisfactorily complete a specific program of treatment. The board may impose other sanctions it determines are appropriate. If the pilot does not satisfactorily complete the program of treatment, the board shall suspend, revoke, or withhold the pilot's license until the treatment is completed; and

(b) The board shall suspend for up to one year the license of a pilot found to have been convicted within the prior twelve months of a second or subsequent offense involving drugs or the personal consumption of alcohol while on duty.

(5) When the board determines that reasonable cause exists to issue a reprimand, impose a fine, suspend, revoke, or withhold any pilot's license or require training or treatment under subsection (1) ((or)), (2), or (4) of this section, it shall forthwith prepare and personally serve upon such pilot a notice advising him of the board's intended action, the specific grounds therefor, and the right to request a hearing to challenge the board's action. The pilot shall have thirty days from the date on which notice is served to request a full hearing before an administrative law judge on the issue of the reprimand, fine, suspension, revocation, or withholding of his pilot's license, or requiring treatment or training. The board's proposed reprimand, fine, suspension, revocation, or withholding of a license, or requiring treatment or training shall become final upon the expiration of thirty days from the date notice is served, unless a hearing has been requested prior to that time. When a hearing is requested the board shall request the appointment of an administrative law judge under chapter 34.12 RCW who has sufficient experience and familiarity with pilotage matters to be able to conduct a fair and impartial hearing. The hearing shall be governed by the provisions of Title 34 RCW. All final decisions of the administrative law judge shall be subject to review by the superior court of the state of Washington for Thurston county or by the superior court of the county in which the pilot maintains his residence or principal place of business, to which court any case with all the papers and proceedings therein shall be immediately certified by the administrative law judge if requested to do so by any party to the proceedings at any time within thirty days after the date of any such final decision. No appeal may be taken after the expiration of thirty days after the date of final decision. Any case so certified to the superior court shall be tried de novo and after certification of the record to said superior court the proceedings shall be had as in a civil action. Moneys collected from fines under this section shall be deposited in the pilotage account.

((5)) (6) The board shall have the power, on an emergency basis, to temporarily suspend a state pilot's license: (a) When a pilot has been involved in any vessel accident where there has been major property damage, loss of life, or loss of a vessel, or (b) where there is a reasonable cause to believe that a pilot has diminished mental capacity or is under the influence of drugs, alcohol, or other substances, when in the opinion of the board, such an accident or physical or mental impairment would significantly diminish that pilot's ability to carry out pilotage duties and that the public health, safety, and welfare requires such emergency action. The board shall make a determination within seventy-two hours whether to continue the suspension. The board shall develop rules for exercising this authority including procedures for the chairperson or vice-chairperson of the board to temporarily order such suspensions, emergency meetings of the board to consider such suspensions, the length of suspension, opportunities for hearings, and an appeal process. The board shall develop rules under chapter 34.05 RCW.

(7) The board shall immediately notify the United States coast guard that it has revoked or suspended a license pursuant to this section and that a suspended or revoked license has been reinstated.

- (1) Access to preventive and other health care services should be made more readily available for eligible children.
- (2) Unnecessary barriers to health care for children in poverty should be removed.
- (3) The status of children's health and the access to health care providers should be evaluated at appropriate intervals to determine effectiveness and need for modification.
- (4) Health care services should be delivered in a cost-effective manner.
- (5) The program should be sensitive to cultural and ethnic differences among children in poverty.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. For the purposes of sections 3 through 6 of this act, (1) "poverty" means at or below the federal poverty level as annually defined by the federal department of health and human services and adjusted for family size, (2) within sections 4 through 6 of this act, "committee" means the executive steering committee operating on January 1, 1990, within the department which includes staff from the department of health and which is responsible for implementation of the maternity care access program under chapter 74.09 RCW, and (3) "county" means a board of county commissioners, county council, county executive, or tribal jurisdiction.

To support communities in their efforts, the committee, in coordination with counties and to the extent funds are available, shall: (1) Provide technical assistance to counties to enable them to develop provider resources and expand coordinated provision of health care to children in poverty, and (2) recommend that financial incentives be provided within counties requesting assistance according to section 5 of this act.

(3) Any county, including those not identified by the committee, wishing to pursue state assistance under this section may submit a request to the committee. The request should include a description of the access problems in their community, a plan for addressing those problems, and a description of how the state's technical or financial assistance will aid them in increasing access to pediatric care for children in poverty. The request for assistance shall be prepared in consultation with the department, local community service offices, the local public health officer, community health clinics, health care providers, hospitals, the business community, labor representatives, and low-income advocates in their area.

The legislature is interested in assessing the effectiveness of the prenatal care program. However, the legislature recognizes the cost and complexity associated with such an assessment.

The legislature accepts the effectiveness of prenatal and maternity care at improving birth outcomes when these services are received by eligible persons. Therefore, the legislature intends to focus scarce assessment resources to determine the extent to which support services such as child care, psychosocial and nutritional assessment and counseling, case management, transportation, and other support services authorized by this act result in receipt of prenatal and maternity care by eligible persons.

The department shall submit its plan and budget for assessing the maternity care access system to the legislative budget committee for review. The legislative budget committee shall monitor the progress of the assessment, and make appropriate recommendations.

The department shall contract with an independent ((nonprofit entity)) contractor to evaluate the effectiveness of the maternity care access program set forth in RCW 74.09.760 through 74.09.820 based on the principles set forth in RCW 74.09.770. The evaluation shall also address:

(4) "Director" or "secretary" means the secretary of social and health services.

(5) "Federal-aid assistance"—The specific categories of assistance for which provision is made in any federal law existing or hereafter passed by which payments are made from the federal government to the state in aid or in respect to payment by the state for public assistance rendered to any category of needy persons for which provision for federal funds or aid may from time to time be made, or a federally administered needs-based program.

(6) (a) "General assistance"—Aid to persons in need who:

(i) Are not eligible to receive federal-aid assistance, other than food stamps and medical assistance; however, an individual who refuses or fails to cooperate in obtaining federal-aid assistance, without good cause, is not eligible for general assistance;

(ii) Are either:

(A) Pregnant: PROVIDED, That need is based on the current income and resource requirements of the federal aid to families with dependent children program: PROVIDED FURTHER, That during any period in which an aid for dependent children employable program is not in operation, only those pregnant women who are categorically eligible for medicaid are eligible for general assistance; or

(B) Incapacitated from gainful employment by reason of bodily or mental infirmity that will likely continue for a minimum of sixty days as determined by the department. Persons who are unemployable due to alcohol or drug addiction are not eligible for general assistance. Persons receiving general assistance on July 26, 1987, or becoming eligible for such assistance thereafter, due to an alcohol or drug-related incapacity, shall be referred to appropriate assessment, treatment, shelter, or supplemental security income referral services as authorized under chapter 74.50 RCW. Referrals shall be made at the time of application or at the time of eligibility review. Alcoholic and drug addicted clients who are receiving general assistance on July 26, 1987, may remain on general assistance if they otherwise retain their eligibility until they are assessed for services under chapter 74.50 RCW. This subsection (6)(a)(ii)(B) shall not be construed to prohibit the department from granting general assistance benefits to alcoholics and drug addicts who are incapacitated due to other physical or mental conditions that meet the eligibility criteria for the general assistance program.

(iii) Are citizens or aliens lawfully admitted for permanent residence or otherwise residing in the United States under color of law; and

(iv) Have furnished the department their social security account number. If the social security account number cannot be furnished because it has not been issued or is not known, an application for a number shall be made prior to authorization of assistance, and the social security number shall be provided to the department upon receipt.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (6)(a)(i), (ii), and (c) of this section, general assistance shall be provided to the following recipients of federal-aid assistance:

(i) Recipients of supplemental security income whose need, as defined in this section, is not met by such supplemental security income grant because of separation from a spouse; or

(ii) To the extent authorized by the legislature in the biennial appropriations act, to recipients of aid to families with dependent children whose needs are not being met because of a temporary reduction in monthly income below the entitled benefit payment level caused by loss or reduction of wages or unemployment compensation benefits or some other unforeseen circumstances. The amount of general assistance authorized shall not exceed the difference between the entitled benefit payment level and the amount of income actually received.

(c) General assistance shall be provided only to persons who are not members of assistance units receiving federal aid assistance, except as provided in subsection (6) (a)(ii)(A) and (b) of this section, and will accept available services which can reasonably be expected to enable the person to work or reduce the need for assistance unless there is good cause to refuse. Failure to accept such services shall result in termination until the person agrees to cooperate in accepting such services and subject to the following maximum periods of ineligibility after reapplication:

(i) First failure: One week;

(ii) Second failure within six months: One month;

(iii) Third and subsequent failure within one year: Two months.

(d) The department shall adopt by rule medical criteria for general assistance eligibility to ensure that eligibility decisions are consistent with statutory requirements and are based on clear, objective medical information.

(e) The process implementing the medical criteria shall involve consideration of opinions of the treating or consulting physicians or health care professionals regarding incapacity, and any eligibility decision which rejects uncontroverted medical opinion must set forth clear and convincing reasons for doing so.

(f) Recipients of general assistance based upon a finding of incapacity from gainful employment who remain otherwise eligible shall not have their benefits terminated absent a clear showing of material improvement in their medical or mental condition or specific error in the prior determination that found the recipient eligible by reason of incapacitation. Recipients of general assistance based upon pregnancy who remain otherwise eligible and who are not eligible to receive benefits under the federal aid to families with dependent children program shall not have their benefits terminated until six weeks following the birth of the recipient's child.

(7) "Applicant"—Any person who has made a request, or on behalf of whom a request has been made, to any county or local office for assistance.

(8) "Recipient"—Any person receiving assistance and in addition those dependents whose needs are included in the recipient's assistance.

(9) "Standards of assistance"—The level of income required by an applicant or recipient to maintain a level of living specified by the department.

(10) "Resource"—Any asset, tangible or intangible, owned by or available to the applicant at the time of application, which can be applied toward meeting the applicant's need, either directly or by conversion into money or its equivalent: PROVIDED, That an applicant may retain the following described resources and not be ineligible for public assistance because of such resources.

(a) A home, which is defined as real property owned and used by an applicant or recipient as a place of residence, together with a reasonable amount of property surrounding and contiguous thereto, which is used by and useful to the applicant. Whenever a recipient shall cease to use such property for residential purposes, either for himself or his dependents, the property shall be considered as a resource which can be made available to meet need, and if the recipient or his dependents absent themselves from the home for a period of ninety consecutive days such absence, unless due to hospitalization or health reasons or a natural disaster, shall raise a rebuttable presumption of abandonment: PROVIDED, That if in the opinion of three physicians the recipient will be unable to return to the home during his lifetime, and the home is not occupied by a spouse or dependent children or disabled sons or daughters, such property shall be considered as a resource which can be made available to meet need.

(b) Household furnishings and personal effects and other personal property having great sentimental value to the applicant or recipient, as limited by the department consistent with limitations on resources and exemptions for federal aid assistance.

(c) A motor vehicle, other than a motor home, used and useful having an equity value not to exceed one thousand five hundred dollars.

(d) All other resources, including any excess of values exempted, not to exceed one thousand dollars or other limit as set by the department, to be consistent with limitations on resources and exemptions necessary for federal aid assistance.

(e) Applicants for or recipients of general assistance may retain the following described resources in addition to exemption for a motor vehicle or home and not be ineligible for public assistance because of such resources:

(i) Household furnishings, personal effects, and other personal property having great sentimental value to the applicant or recipient;

(ii) Term and burial insurance for use of the applicant or recipient;

(iii) Life insurance having a cash surrender value not exceeding one thousand five hundred dollars; and

(iv) Cash, marketable securities, and any excess of values above one thousand five hundred dollars equity in a vehicle and above one thousand five hundred dollars in cash surrender value of life insurance, not exceeding one thousand five hundred dollars for a single person or two thousand two hundred fifty dollars for a family unit of two or more. The one thousand dollar limit in subsection (10)(d) of this section does not apply to recipients of or applicants for general assistance.

(f) If an applicant for or recipient of public assistance possesses property and belongings in excess of the ceiling value, such value shall be used in determining the need of the applicant or recipient, except that: (i) The department may exempt resources or income when the income and resources are determined necessary to the applicant's or recipient's restoration to independence, to decrease the need for public assistance, or to aid in rehabilitating the applicant or recipient or a dependent of the applicant or recipient; and (ii) the department may provide grant assistance to persons who are otherwise ineligible because of excess real property owned by such persons when they are making a good faith effort to dispose of that property, but the recipient must sign an agreement to dispose of the property and repay assistance payments made to the date of disposition of the property which would not have been made had the disposal occurred at the beginning of the period for which the payments of such assistance were made. In no event shall such amount due the state exceed the net proceeds otherwise available to the recipient from the disposition, unless after nine months from the date of the agreement the property has not been sold, or if the recipient's eligibility for financial assistance ceases for any other reason. In these two instances the entire amount of assistance paid during this period will be treated as an overpayment and a debt due the state, and may be recovered pursuant to RCW 43.20B.630.

(11) "Income"—(a) All appreciable gains in real or personal property (cash or kind) or other assets, which are received by or become available for use and enjoyment by an applicant or recipient during the month of application or after applying for or receiving public assistance. The department may by rule and regulation exempt income received by an applicant for or recipient of public assistance which can be used by him to decrease his need for public assistance or to aid in rehabilitating him or his dependents, but such exemption shall not, unless otherwise provided in this title, exceed the exemptions of resources granted under this chapter to an applicant for public assistance. In determining the amount of assistance to which an applicant or recipient of aid to families with dependent children is entitled, the department is hereby authorized to disregard as a resource or income the earned income exemptions consistent with federal requirements. The department may permit the above exemption of earnings of a child to be retained by such child to cover the cost of special future identifiable needs even though the total exceeds the exemptions or resources granted to applicants and recipients of public assistance, but consistent with federal requirements. In formulating rules and regulations pursuant to this chapter, the department shall define income and resources and the availability thereof, consistent with federal requirements. All resources and income not specifically exempted, and any income or other economic benefit derived from the use of, or appreciation in value of, exempt resources, shall be considered in determining the need of an applicant or recipient of public assistance.

(b) If, under applicable federal requirements, the state has the option of considering property in the form of lump sum compensatory awards or related settlements received by an applicant or recipient as income or as a resource, the department shall consider such property to be a resource.

(12) "Need"—The difference between the applicant's or recipient's standards of assistance for himself and the dependent members of his family, as measured by the standards of the department, and value of all nonexempt resources and nonexempt income received by or available to the applicant or recipient and the dependent members of his family.

(13) For purposes of determining eligibility for public assistance and participation levels in the cost of medical care, the department shall exempt restitution payments made to people of Japanese and Aleut ancestry pursuant to the Civil Liberties Act of 1988 and the Aleutian and Pribilof Island Restitution Act passed by congress, P.L. 100-383, including all income and resources derived therefrom.

(14) In the construction of words and phrases used in this title, the singular number shall include the plural, the masculine gender shall include both the feminine and neuter genders and the present tense shall include the past and future tenses, unless the context thereof shall clearly indicate to the contrary.

(1) The department of social and health services shall establish, within funds appropriated for the purpose, a reconsideration program to provide medical and counseling services through the adoption support program for children of families who apply for services after the adoption is final. The report shall contain information regarding the requests for financial assistance, both those that qualify and those that do not, and shall include the estimated cost for providing the services requested.

Sec. 6. Section 4, chapter 63, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. as last amended by section 135, chapter 7, Laws of 1985 and RCW 74.13.109 are each amended to read as follows:

The secretary shall issue rules and regulations to assist in the administration of the program of adoption support authorized by RCW 26.33.320 and 74.13.100 through 74.13.145.

Disbursements from the appropriations available from the general fund shall be made pursuant to such rules and regulations and pursuant to agreements conforming thereto to be made by the secretary with parents for the purpose of supporting the adoption of children in, or likely to be placed in, foster homes or child caring institutions who are found by the secretary to be difficult to place in adoption because of physical or other reasons; including, but not limited to, physical or mental handicap, emotional disturbance, ethnic background, language, race, color, age, or sibling grouping.

Such agreements shall meet the following criteria:

(1) The child whose adoption is to be supported pursuant to such agreement shall be or have been a child hard to place in adoption.

(2) Such agreement must relate to a child who was or is residing in a foster home or child-caring institution or a child who, in the judgment of the secretary, is both eligible for, and likely to be placed in, either a foster home or a child-caring institution.

(3) Such agreement shall provide that adoption support shall not continue beyond the time that the adopted child reaches eighteen years of age, becomes emancipated, dies, or otherwise ceases to need support, provided that if the secretary shall find that continuing dependency of such child after such child reaches eighteen years of age warrants the continuation of support pursuant to RCW 26.33.320 and 74.13.100 through 74.13.145 the secretary may do so, subject to all the provisions of RCW 26.33.320 and 74.13.100 through 74.13.145, including annual review of the amount of such support.

(4) Any prospective parent who is to be a party to such agreement shall be a person who (~~while having~~) has the character, judgment, sense of responsibility, and disposition which make him or her suitable as an adoptive parent of such child (~~lacks the financial means fully to care for such hard to place child~~).

Sec. 7. Section 11, chapter 63, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. as last amended by section 142, chapter 7, Laws of 1985 and RCW 74.13.130 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((If the secretary determines that a prospective adoptive parent or parents cannot, because of limited financial means, pay the cost or the full cost of an adoption proceeding for the adoption of a hard to place child who would be eligible for support under RCW 26.33.320 and 74.13.100 through 74.13.145, the secretary may authorize the payment from the appropriations available from the general fund of all or part a reasonable attorney's fee to be determined by the superior court hearing the adoption and court costs. The clerk of the court shall furnish the secretary with a certified copy of the decree of adoption containing the finding as to such attorney's fee.~~

~~In evaluating any such prospective parent's ability to pay the secretary may use the same criteria for evaluating ability to pay which are to be used by him in waiving, reducing, or deferring fees pursuant to RCW 74.13.103 plus the burdens likely to be assumed by such parent even after adoption support is provided pursuant to RCW 26.33.320 and 74.13.100 through 74.13.145.) The secretary may authorize the payment, from the appropriations available from the general fund, of all or part of the nonrecurring adoption expenses incurred by a prospective parent. "Nonrecurring adoption expenses" means those expenses incurred by a prospective parent in connection with the adoption of a difficult to place child including, but not limited to, attorneys' fees, court costs, and agency fees. Payment shall be made in accordance with rules adopted by the department.~~

~~This section shall have retroactive application to January 1, 1987. For purposes of retroactive application, the secretary may provide reimbursement to any parent who adopted a difficult to place child between January 1, 1987, and one year following the effective date of this act, regardless of whether the parent had previously entered into an adoption support agreement with the department.~~

~~NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. If specific funding for the purposes of this act, referencing this act by bill number, is not provided by June 30, 1990, in the omnibus appropriations act, this act shall be null and void.~~

~~NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.~~

~~NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. Sections 1 through 3 and 8 of this act are necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately."~~

On motion of Senator Benitz, the following Committee on Energy and Utilities amendment was adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

(1) Whenever any public service company shall file with the commission any schedule, classification, rule or regulation, the effect of which is to change any rate, charge, rental or toll theretofore charged, the commission shall have power, either upon its own motion or upon complaint, upon notice, to enter upon a hearing concerning such proposed change and the reasonableness and justice thereof, and pending such hearing and the decision thereon the commission may suspend the operation of such rate, charge, rental or toll for a period not exceeding ten months from the time the same would otherwise go into effect, and after a full hearing the commission may make such order in reference thereto as would be provided in a hearing initiated after the same had become effective. The commission shall not suspend a tariff that makes a decrease in a rate, charge, rental, or toll filed by a telecommunications company pending investigation of the fairness, justice, and reasonableness of the decrease when the filing does not contain any offsetting increase to another rate, charge, rental, or toll and the filing company agrees to not file for an increase to any rate, charge, rental, or toll to recover the revenue deficit that results from the decrease for a period of one year. The filing company shall file with any decrease sufficient information as the commission by rule may require to demonstrate the decreased rate, charge, rental, or toll is above the long run incremental cost of the service. A tariff decrease that results in a rate that is below long run incremental cost, or is contrary to commission rule or order, or the requirements of this chapter, shall be rejected for filing and returned to the company. The commission may prescribe a different rate to be effective on the prospective date stated in its final order after its investigation, if it concludes based on the record that the originally filed and effective rate is unjust, unfair, or unreasonable.

The commission may suspend the initial tariff filing of any water company removed from and later subject to commission jurisdiction because of the number of customers or the average annual gross revenue per customer provisions of RCW 80.04.010. The commission may allow temporary rates during the suspension period. These rates shall not exceed the rates charged when the company was last regulated. Upon a showing of good cause by the company, the commission may establish a different level of temporary rates.

(2) At any hearing involving any change in any schedule, classification, rule or regulation the effect of which is to increase any rate, charge, rental or toll theretofore charged, the burden of proof to show that such increase is just and reasonable shall be upon the public service company.

(3) The implementation of mandatory local measured telecommunications service is a major policy change in available telecommunications service. The commission shall not accept for filing or approve, prior to June 1, 1993, a tariff filed by a telecommunications company which imposes mandatory local measured service on any customer or class of customers, except that, upon finding that it is in the public interest, the commission may accept for filing and approve a tariff that imposes mandatory measured service for a telecommunications company's extended area service or foreign exchange service. This subsection does not apply to land, air, or marine mobile service, or to pay telephone service, or to any service which has been traditionally offered on a measured service basis.

(4) The implementation of ~~((lifeline))~~ Washington telephone assistance program service is a major policy change in available telecommunications service. The implementation of ~~((lifeline))~~ Washington telephone assistance program service will aid in achieving the stated goal of universal telephone service.

Sec. 2. Section 4, chapter 229, Laws of 1987 and RCW 80.36.420 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((Lifeline assistance))~~ The Washington telephone assistance program shall be available to participants of department programs set forth in RCW 80.36.470. ~~((Lifeline))~~ Assistance shall consist of the following components:

(1) A discount on service connection fees of fifty percent or more as set forth in RCW 80.36.460.

(2) A waiver of deposit requirements on local exchange service, as set forth in RCW 80.36.460.

(3) A discounted flat rate ~~((lifeline))~~ service ~~((rate))~~ for local exchange service, which shall be subject to the following conditions:

(a) The commission shall establish a single ~~((lifeline service))~~ telephone assistance rate for all local exchange companies operating in the state of Washington. The ~~((lifeline service))~~ telephone assistance rate shall include any federal end user access charges and any other charges necessary to obtain local exchange service.

(b) The commission shall, in establishing the ~~((lifeline service))~~ telephone assistance rate, consider all charges for local exchange service, including federal end user access charges, mileage charges, extended area service, and any other charges necessary to obtain local exchange service.

(c) The ~~((lifeline service))~~ telephone assistance rate shall only be available to eligible customers subscribing to the lowest available local exchange flat rate service, where the lowest local exchange flat rate, including any federal end user access charges and any other charges necessary to obtain local exchange service, is greater than the ~~((lifeline service))~~ telephone assistance rate. Low-income senior citizens sixty years of age and older and other low-income persons identified by the department as medically needy shall, where single-party service is available, be provided with single-party service as the lowest available local exchange flat rate service.

(d) The cost of providing the ~~((lifeline))~~ service shall be paid, to the maximum extent possible, by a waiver of all or part of the federal end user access charge and, to the extent necessary, from the ~~((lifeline))~~ telephone assistance fund created by RCW 80.36.430.

Sec. 3. Section 5, chapter 229, Laws of 1987 and RCW 80.36.430 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((Costs associated with lifeline telephone service))~~ The Washington telephone assistance program shall be ~~((recovered through))~~ funded by a ~~((lifeline surcharge))~~ telephone assistance excise tax on all ~~((other))~~ switched access lines and by funds from any federal government or other programs for this purpose. Switched access lines are defined in RCW 82.14B.020. The ~~((lifeline surcharge))~~ telephone assistance excise tax shall be applied equally to all residential and business access lines not to exceed ~~((sixteen))~~ fourteen cents per month. ~~((The surcharge collected by the telecommunications companies shall not be construed as gross income or gross receipts for purposes of state, county or municipal public utility taxes.))~~ The telephone assistance excise tax shall be separately identified on each ratepayer's bill as the "Washington telephone assistance program." All money collected from the ~~((lifeline surcharge))~~ telephone assistance excise tax shall be transferred to a ~~((lifeline))~~ telephone assistance fund administered by the department. Local exchange companies shall bill the fund for their expenses incurred in offering ~~((lifeline telecommunications services))~~ the telephone assistance program, including administrative and program expenses. The department shall disburse the money to the local exchange companies. The department is exempted from having to conclude a contract with local exchange companies in order to effect this reimbursement. The department shall recover its administrative costs from the fund. The department may specify by rule the range and extent of administrative and program expenses that will be reimbursed to local exchange companies.

Sec. 4. Section 6, chapter 229, Laws of 1987 and RCW 80.36.440 are each amended to read as follows:

The commission and the department may adopt any rules necessary to implement RCW 80.36.410 through ~~((80-36-460))~~ 80.36.470.

Sec. 5. Section 8, chapter 229, Laws of 1987 and RCW 80.36.460 are each amended to read as follows:

Local exchange companies shall file tariffs with the commission which waive deposits on local exchange service for eligible subscribers and which establish a fifty percent discount on service connection fees for eligible subscribers. Part or all of the remaining fifty percent of service connection fees may be paid by funds from federal government or other programs for this purpose. The commission or other appropriate agency shall make timely application for any available federal funds. The remaining portion of the connection fee to be paid by the subscriber shall be expressly payable by installment fees spread over a period of months. A subscriber may, however, choose to pay the connection fee in a lump sum. Costs associated with the waiver and discount shall be accounted for separately and recovered from the ((lifetime)) telephone assistance fund. Eligible subscribers shall be allowed one waiver of a deposit and one discount on service connection fees per year.

Sec. 6. Section 9, chapter 229, Laws of 1987 and RCW 80.36.470 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((Participants in the following department programs are eligible for lifetime assistance: Aid to families with dependent children, chore services, food stamps, supplemental security income, refugee assistance, and community options program entry system (COPE);)) Adult recipients of department-administered programs for the financially needy which provide continuing financial or medical assistance, food stamps, or supportive services to persons in their own homes are eligible for participation in the telephone assistance program. The department shall notify the participants of their eligibility.~~

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. A new section is added to chapter 80.36 RCW to read as follows:

The department shall report to the energy and utilities committees of the house of representatives and the senate by December 1 of each year on the status of the Washington telephone assistance program. The report shall include the number of participants by qualifying social service programs receiving benefits from the telephone assistance program and the type of benefits participants receive. The report shall also include a description of the geographical distribution of participants, the program's annual revenue and expenditures, and any recommendations for legislative action.

Sec. 8. Section 12, chapter 229, Laws of 1987 (uncodified) is amended to read as follows:

Revising provisions relating to retirement systems.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Anderson moved that the following Committee on Ways and Means amendment be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. (1) The current system for calculating service credit for school district employees is difficult and costly to administer. By changing from the current hours per month calculation to an hours per year calculation, the accumulation of service credit by school district employees will be easier to understand and to administer.

(2) The current system for granting service credit for substitute teachers is difficult and costly to administer. By notifying substitute teachers of their eligibility for service credit and allowing the substitute teacher to apply for service credit, the accumulation of service credit by substitute teachers will be easier to understand and to administer.

(3) Currently, temporary employees in eligible positions in the public employees' retirement system are exempted from membership in the system for up to six months. If the position lasts for longer than six months the employee is made a member retroactively. This conditional exemption causes tracking problems for the department of retirement systems and places a heavy financial burden for back contributions on a temporary employee who crosses the six-month barrier. Under the provisions of this act all persons, other than retirees, who are hired in an eligible position will become members immediately, thereby alleviating the problems described in this section.

(4) The legislature finds that retirees from the plan II systems of the law enforcement officers and fire fighters retirement system, the teachers retirement system, and the public employees retirement system, may not work for a nonfederal public employer without suffering a suspension of their retirement benefits. This fails to recognize the current and projected demographics indicating the decreasing work force and that the expertise possessed by retired workers can provide a substantial benefit to the state. At the same time, the legislature recognizes that a person who is working full time should have his or her pension delayed until he or she enters full or partial retirement. By allowing plan II retirees to work in ineligible positions, the competing concerns listed above are both properly addressed.

Sec. 2. Section 6, chapter 13, Laws of 1985 as amended by section 1, chapter 265, Laws of 1987 and RCW 41.32.010 are each amended to read as follows:

As used in this chapter, unless a different meaning is plainly required by the context:

(1) (a) "Accumulated contributions" for persons who establish membership in the retirement system on or before September 30, 1977, means the sum of all regular annuity contributions with regular interest thereon.

(b) "Accumulated contributions" for persons who establish membership in the retirement system on or after October 1, 1977, means the sum of all contributions standing to the credit of a member in the member's individual account together with the regular interest thereon.

(2) "Actuarial equivalent" means a benefit of equal value when computed upon the basis of such mortality tables and regulations as shall be adopted by the director and regular interest.

In all cases where compensation includes maintenance the employer shall fix the value of that part of the compensation not paid in money: PROVIDED, That retroactive payments to an individual by an employer on reinstatement of the employee in a position, or payments by an employer to an individual in lieu of reinstatement in a position which are awarded or granted as the equivalent of the salary or wages which the individual would have earned during a payroll period shall be considered earnable compensation and the individual shall receive the equivalent service credit: PROVIDED FURTHER, That if a leave of absence, without pay, is taken by a member for the purpose of serving as a member of the state legislature, and such member has served in the legislature five or more years, the salary which would have been received for the position from which the leave of absence was taken shall be considered as compensation earnable if the employee's contribution thereon is paid by the employee. In addition, where a member has been a member of the state legislature for five or more years, earnable compensation for the member's two highest compensated consecutive years of service shall include a sum not to exceed thirty-six hundred dollars for each of such two consecutive years, regardless of whether or not legislative service was rendered during those two years.

(i) For members employed less than full time under written contract with a school district, or community college district, in an instructional position, for which the member receives service credit of less than one year in all of the years used to determine the earnable compensation used for computing benefits due under RCW 41.32.497, 41.32.498, and 41.32.520, the member may elect to have earnable compensation defined as provided in RCW 41.32.011. (b) "Earnable compensation" for persons who establish membership in the retirement system on or after October 1, 1977, means salaries or wages earned by a member during a payroll period for personal services, including overtime payments, and shall include wages and salaries deferred under provisions established pursuant to sections 403(b), 414(h), and 457 of the United States Internal Revenue Code, but shall exclude lump sum payments for deferred annual sick leave, unused accumulated vacation, unused accumulated annual leave, or any form of severance pay: PROVIDED, That retroactive payments to an individual by an employer on reinstatement of the employee in a position or payments by an employer to an individual in lieu of reinstatement in a position which are awarded or granted as the equivalent of the salary or wages which the individual would have earned during a payroll period shall be considered earnable compensation, to the extent provided above, and the individual shall receive the equivalent service credit: PROVIDED FURTHER, That in any year in which a member serves in the legislature the member shall have the option of having such member's earnable compensation be the greater of:

(i) the earnable compensation the member would have received had such member not served in the legislature; or

(ii) such member's actual earnable compensation received for teaching and legislative service combined. (3) Every applicant for a certificate of competency shall make application to the state director of fire protection and pay the fees required.

(4) Provided the application for the certificate of competency is made prior to ninety days after the effective date of this section, the state director of fire protection, in lieu of the examination requirements of the applicant for a certificate of competency, may accept as satisfactory evidence of competency and qualification, affidavits attesting that the applicant has had a minimum of three years' experience.

(5) The state director of fire protection may, after consultation with the fire sprinkler advisory committee, issue a temporary certificate of competency to an applicant who, in his or her judgment, will satisfactorily perform as a certificate of competency holder under the provisions of this chapter. The temporary certificate of competency shall remain in effect for a period of up to three years. The temporary certificate of competency holder shall, within the three-year period, complete the examination requirements specified in subsection (1) of this section. There shall be no examination exemption for an individual issued a temporary certificate of competency. Prior to the expiration of the three-year period, the temporary certificate of competency holder shall make application for a regular certificate of competency. The procedures and qualifications for issuance of a regular certificate of competency shall be applicable to the temporary certificate of competency holder. (a) Must be or have in his or her full-time employ a holder of a valid certificate of competency;

(b) Comply with the minimum insurance requirements of this chapter; and

(c) Make application to the state director of fire protection for a license and pay the fees required.

(7) Each license and certificate of competency issued under this chapter must be posted in a conspicuous place in the fire protection sprinkler system contractor's place of business.

(8) All bids, advertisements, proposals, offers, and installation drawings for fire protection sprinkler systems must prominently display the fire protection sprinkler system contractor's license number.

(9) A certificate of competency or license issued under this chapter is not transferable.

(10) In no case shall a certificate of competency holder be employed full time by more than one fire protection sprinkler system contractor at the same time. If the certificate of competency holder should leave the employment of the fire protection sprinkler system contractor, he or she must notify the state director of fire protection within thirty days. If the certificate of competency holder should leave the employment of the fire protection sprinkler system contractor, the contractor shall have six months or until the expiration of the current license, whichever occurs last, to submit a new application identifying another certificate of competency holder who is at the time of application an owner of the fire protection sprinkler system business or a full-time employee of the fire protection sprinkler system contractor, in order to be issued a new license. If such application is not received and a new license issued within the allotted time, the state director of fire protection shall revoke the license of the fire protection sprinkler system contractor.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. (1) (a) All certificate of competency holders that desire to continue in the fire protection sprinkler business shall annually, prior to January 1, secure from the state director of fire protection a renewal certificate of competency upon payment of the fee as prescribed by the state director of fire protection. Application for renewal shall be upon a form prescribed by the state director of fire protection and the certificate holder shall furnish the information required by the director.

(b) Failure of any certificate of competency holder to secure his or her renewal certificate of competency within sixty days after the due date shall constitute sufficient cause for the state director of fire protection to suspend the certificate of competency.

(d) A certificate of competency holder may voluntarily surrender his or her certificate of competency to the state director of fire protection and be relieved of the annual renewal fee. After surrendering the certificate of competency, he or she shall not be known as a certificate of competency holder and shall desist from the practice thereof. Within two years from the time of surrender of the certificate of competency, he or she may again qualify for a certificate of competency, without examination, by the payment of the required fee. If two or more years have elapsed, he or she shall return to the status of a new applicant.

(2) (a) All licensed fire protection sprinkler system contractors desiring to continue to be licensed shall annually, prior to January 1, secure from the state director of fire protection a renewal license upon payment of the fee as prescribed by the state director of fire protection. Application for renewal shall be upon a form prescribed by the state director of fire protection and the license holder shall furnish the information required by the director.

(3) The initial certificate of competency or license fee shall be prorated based upon the portion of the year such certificate of competency or license is in effect, prior to renewal on January 1.

Expenditures from the fund may be used only for purposes authorized under this chapter. Only the state director of fire protection or the director's designee may authorize expenditures from the fund. The fund is subject to allotment procedures under chapter 43.88 RCW, but no appropriation is required for expenditures.

However, the surety bond for a fire protection sprinkler system contractor whose business is restricted solely to NFPA 13-D or NFPA 13-R systems shall be six thousand dollars. Upon approval by the state director of fire protection, property or cash may substitute for a surety bond provided the value is at least ten thousand dollars and the property or cash is not otherwise encumbered.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. (1) Nothing in this chapter limits the power of a municipality, county, or the state to regulate the quality and character of work performed by contractors, through a system of permits, fees, and inspections which are designed to assure compliance with and aid in the implementation of state and local building laws or to enforce other local laws for the protection of the public health and safety. Nothing in this chapter limits the power of the municipality, county, or the state to adopt any system of permits requiring submission to and approval by the municipality, county, or the state, of technical drawings and specifications for work to be performed by contractors before commencement of the work. The official authorized to issue building or other related permits shall ascertain that the fire protection sprinkler system contractor is duly licensed by requiring evidence of a valid fire protection sprinkler system contractor's license.

(2) This chapter applies to any fire protection sprinkler system contractor performing work for any municipality, county, or the state. Officials of any municipality, county, or the state are required to determine compliance with this chapter before awarding any contracts for the installation, repair, service, alteration, fabrication, addition, or inspection of a fire protection sprinkler system.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 9. (1) There is established the fire protection sprinkler system technical advisory committee to be made up of nine residents of the state of Washington, appointed by the director of the department of community development. The fire protection system technical advisory committee shall include three members, nominated by the Washington fire sprinkler association, who have been actively engaged in the management of a fire protection sprinkler system business for not less than five years preceding their appointment, one registered fire protection engineer, one member of the Washington surveying and rating bureau, one member representing a city fire department, one member representing a county fire marshal or his or her representative, one member representing a residential fire protection sprinkler company, and one member nominated by the Washington state association of fire chiefs.

(2) The advisory committee, in addition to other duties delegated by the state director of fire protection shall:

(a) Advise and assist the state director of fire protection, after consultation with the fire protection board, in developing the rules necessary to implement and administer this chapter; and

(b) Make recommendations to the state director of fire protection, through the fire protection board, regarding forms and procedures for issuing certificates and licenses.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 10. (1) The state director of fire protection may refuse to issue or renew or may suspend or revoke the privilege of a licensed fire protection sprinkler system contractor or the certificate of a certificate of competency holder to engage in the fire protection sprinkler system business or in lieu thereof, establish penalties as prescribed by Washington state law, for any of the following reasons:

(f) Knowingly violating any provisions of this chapter or the regulations issued thereunder.

(2) The state director of fire protection shall revoke the license of a licensed fire protection sprinkler system contractor or the certificate of a certificate of competency holder who engages in the fire protection sprinkler system business while the license or certificate of competency is suspended.

(3) Any licensee or certificate of competency holder who is aggrieved by an order of the state director of fire protection suspending or revoking a license may, within thirty days after notice of such suspension or revocation, appeal under chapter 34.05 RCW.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 11. Sections 2 through 10 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 18 RCW.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 12. Sections 2 through 10 of this act apply prospectively only and not retroactively. A municipal or county order, ordinance, rule, or regulation that is in effect as of May 1, 1991, is not invalid because of the provisions of this chapter. This act does not prohibit municipalities or counties from adopting stricter guidelines that will assure the proper installation of fire sprinkler systems within their jurisdictions.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 13. Sections 2 through 10 of this act shall take effect May 1, 1991.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 14. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Kreidler: "Senator McDonald, Thurston County has created a public development authority to build and oversee the Academy. Would the language on lines 8 and 9, requiring local match of state funds, include monies that flow through that authority?"

Senator McDonald: "Yes, the intent is to require a local match of funds from the Olympia and Thurston County community, and funds from a public development authority created for that purpose would qualify."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator McDonald, you spoke of new prisons and we need them. There was a bill floating around here that had set up a special committee for prison siting that granted eminent domain to that committee. There is nothing in this bill related to that?"

Senator McDonald: "That is correct, Senator Rasmussen. That is a subject of a later bill along with the bill that removes the caps on Shelton and Monroe, but none of those are contained within this bill."

Senator Rasmussen: "Let me ask you, Senator McDonald, the state now has all the power they need as far as condemnation and they can locate wherever they want to with the proper zoning for prisons. Is that right?"

Senator McDonald: "I do not have direct knowledge of that subject, Senator Rasmussen, so you are probably more well versed than I am on that subject at this moment. I know that the Governor has asked for those two bills and he feels that he needs them in order to do the construction that is contained in this bill."

Senator Rasmussen: "As far as this bill is concerned--money?"

Senator McDonald: "That is correct. All it contains is the money."

Part I	State-wide program	101-117

Part III	Motor vehicle excise tax	301-328
Part IV	Miscellaneous	401-411
Part V	Technical provisions	501-504

PURPOSE

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. PURPOSE OF STATE AND LOCAL TRANSPORTATION FUNDING PROGRAM. (1) The legislature finds that a new comprehensive funding program is required to maintain the state's commitment to the growing mobility needs of its citizens and commerce. The transportation funding program is intended to satisfy the following state policies and objectives:

(a) State-wide system: Provide for preservation of the existing state-wide system and improvements for current and expected capacity needs in rural, established urban, and growing suburban areas throughout the state;

(b) Local flexibility: Provide for necessary state highway improvements, as well as providing local governments with the option to use new funding sources for projects meeting local and regional needs;

(c) Multimodal: Provide a source of funds that may be used for multimodal transportation purposes;

(d) Program compatibility: Implement transportation facilities and services that are consistent with adopted land use and transportation plans and coordinated with recently authorized programs such as the act authorizing creation of transportation benefit districts and the local transportation act of 1988;

(e) Interjurisdictional cooperation: Encourage transportation planning and projects that are multijurisdictional in their conception, development, and benefit, recognizing that mobility problems do not respect jurisdictional boundaries;

(f) Public and private sector: Use a state, local, and private sector partnership that equitably shares the burden of meeting transportation needs.

(2) The legislature further recognizes that the revenues currently available to the state and to counties, cities, and transit authorities for highway, road, and street construction and preservation fall far short of the identified need. The 1988 Washington road jurisdiction study identified a state-wide funding shortfall of between $14.6 and $19.9 billion to bring existing roads to acceptable standards. The gap between identified transportation needs and available revenues continues to increase. A comprehensive transportation funding program is required to meet the current and anticipated future needs of this state.

(3) The legislature further recognizes the desirability of making certain changes in the collection and distribution of motor vehicle excise taxes with the following objectives: Simplifying administration and collection of the taxes including adoption of a predictable depreciation schedule for vehicles; simplifying the allocation of the taxes among various recipients; and the dedication of a portion of motor vehicle excise taxes for transportation purposes.

(4) The legislature, therefore, declares a need for the three-part funding program embodied in this act: (a) State-wide funding for highways, roads, and streets in urban and rural areas; (b) local option funding authority, available immediately, for the construction and preservation of roads, streets, and transit improvements and facilities; and (c) the creation of a multimodal transportation fund that is funded through dedication of a portion of motor vehicle excise tax. This funding program is intended, by targeting certain new revenues, to produce a significant increase in the overall capacity of the state, county, and city transportation systems to satisfy and efficiently accommodate the movement of people and goods.

PART I: STATE-WIDE PROGRAM

Sec. 101. STATE-WIDE MOTOR VEHICLE FUEL TAXES. Section 6, chapter 317, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. as last amended by section 27, chapter 49, Laws of 1983 1st ex. sess. and RCW 82.36.025 are each amended to read as follows:

The motor vehicle fuel tax rate shall be computed as the sum of the tax rate provided in subsection (1) of this section and the additional tax rates provided in subsections (2) through ~~((4))~~ (5) of this section.

(1) ~~((Except as required in subsection (5) of this section,))~~ A motor vehicle fuel tax rate of ~~((fifteen))~~ seventeen cents per gallon shall apply to the sale, distribution, or use of motor vehicle fuel ~~((from July 1, 1983, through June 30, 1984, and a motor vehicle fuel tax rate of seventeen cents per gallon shall apply thereafter)).~~

(2) An additional motor vehicle fuel tax rate of one-third cent per gallon shall apply to the sale, distribution, or use of motor vehicle fuel, and the proceeds from this additional tax rate, reduced by an amount equal to the sum of the payments under RCW 46.68.090 ~~((1) and (2))~~ (1) ~~(a) and (b)~~ multiplied by the additional tax rate prescribed by this subsection divided by the motor vehicle fuel tax rate provided in this section, shall be deposited in the rural arterial trust account in the motor vehicle fund for expenditures under RCW 36.79.020.

(3) An additional motor vehicle fuel tax rate of one-third cent per gallon shall apply to the sale, distribution, or use of motor vehicle fuel, and the proceeds from this additional tax rate, reduced by an amount equal to the sum of the payments under RCW 46.68.090 ~~((1) and (2))~~ (1) ~~(a) and (b)~~ multiplied by the additional tax rate prescribed by this subsection divided by the motor vehicle fuel tax rate provided in this section, shall be deposited in the urban arterial trust account in the motor vehicle fund.

(4) An additional motor vehicle ~~((full (fuel)))~~ fuel tax rate of one-third cent per gallon shall be applied to the sale, distribution, or use of motor vehicle fuel, and the proceeds from this additional tax rate, reduced by an amount equal to the sum of the payments under RCW 46.68.090 ~~((1) and (2))~~ (1) ~~(a) and (b)~~ multiplied by the additional tax rate prescribed by this subsection divided by the motor vehicle fuel tax rate provided in this section, shall be deposited in the motor vehicle fund to be expended for highway purposes of the state as defined in RCW 46.68.130.

(5) ~~((a) Before the start of each fiscal year, the department of licensing shall estimate the total aggregate motor vehicle fuel tax revenues and the total of all other revenues that will accrue to the motor vehicle fund during the fiscal year. The estimated total of all other state~~ revenues to accrue to the motor vehicle fund during the fiscal year shall include those revenues (other than the aggregate motor vehicle fuel tax revenues) which the department of transportation with the concurrence of the office of financial management determines will accrue during the fiscal year, assuming that collections of such revenues for the fiscal year shall be at the same level as during the fiscal year just ended, adjusted however for historic variations in collections according to yearly periods and for projected trends, but shall not include the proceeds of the sale of bonds, reimbursements to the motor vehicle fund for services performed by the department of transportation for others, moneys derived from nonfuel tax sources that are deposited directly in the several accounts within the motor vehicle fund, interest deposited directly in the several accounts within the motor vehicle fund, nor federal funds. The estimated total aggregate motor vehicle fuel tax revenues for the fiscal year shall include those revenues that the department of licensing determines will accrue during the fiscal year, assuming the sale, distribution, and use of motor vehicle fuel and special fuel within the state for the fiscal year will be at the same volume as during the fiscal year last ended, adjusted however for the historic variations in sales, distribution, and use according to yearly periods and for projected trends.

(b) If the estimated aggregate motor fuel tax revenues plus all other state revenues that will accrue to the motor vehicle fund during a fiscal year as computed in (a) of this subsection exceed the motor vehicle fund revenue limit in the fiscal year as computed in (c) of this subsection, the rate of motor fuel tax provided in subsection (1) of this section shall be reduced by one-half cent increments for the fiscal year only, commencing at the beginning of the fiscal year, as may be necessary to reduce the estimated total revenues for the fiscal year to within the motor vehicle fund revenue limit.

(c) The motor vehicle fund revenue limit for any fiscal year shall be the previous fiscal year's motor vehicle fund revenue limit multiplied by the average state personal income ratio for the three calendar years immediately preceding the beginning of the fiscal year for which the limit is being computed. For purposes of computing the motor vehicle fund revenue limit for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1981, the phrase "the previous fiscal year's motor vehicle fund revenue limit" means the motor vehicle fund revenue collected in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1979, multiplied by the average state personal income ratio for the calendar years 1976, 1977, and 1978.

(6) The legislative transportation committee shall study and analyze each biennium the financial condition of the motor vehicle fund and accounts thereof with particular emphasis on RCW 82.36.010 and 82.36.025; An additional motor vehicle fuel tax rate of four cents per gallon from April 1, 1990, through March 31, 1991, and five cents per gallon from April 1, 1991, applies to the sale, distribution, or use of motor vehicle fuel. The proceeds from the additional tax rate under this subsection, reduced by an amount equal to the sum of the payments under RCW 46.68.090 (1) (a) and (b) multiplied by the additional tax rate prescribed by this subsection divided by the motor fuel tax rate provided in this section, shall be deposited in the motor vehicle fund and shall be distributed by the state treasurer according to section 103 of this act.

Sec. 102. DISTRIBUTION OF STATE-WIDE TAXES. Section 46.68.090, chapter 12, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 21, chapter 49, Laws of 1983 1st ex. sess. and RCW 46.68.090 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) All moneys that have accrued or may accrue to the motor vehicle fund from the motor vehicle fuel tax and special fuel tax shall be first expended for the following purposes:

((+)) (a) For payment of refunds of motor vehicle fuel tax and special fuel tax that has been paid and is refundable as provided by law;

((2)) (b) For payment of amounts to be expended pursuant to appropriations for the administrative expenses of the offices of state treasurer, state auditor, and the department of licensing of the state of Washington in the administration of the motor vehicle fuel tax and the special fuel tax, which sums shall be distributed monthly;

(2) The amount accruing to the motor vehicle fund by virtue of the motor vehicle fuel tax and the special fuel tax and remaining after payments, distributions, and expenditures as provided in ~~((subsections (1), (2), (3), (4), and (5) of))~~ this section shall, for the purposes of this chapter, be referred to as the "net tax amount."

NEW SECTION. Sec. 103. DISTRIBUTION OF ADDITIONAL STATE-WIDE TAXES. A new section is added to chapter 46.68 RCW to read as follows:

All moneys that have accrued or may accrue to the motor vehicle fund from the motor vehicle fuel tax and special fuel tax imposed by RCW 82.36.025(5) shall be distributed monthly by the state treasurer in the following proportions:

(1) One and one-half cents shall be deposited in the transportation improvement account and expended in accordance with RCW 47.26.084.

(2) From April 1, 1991, seventy-five one-hundredths of one cent shall be deposited in the special category C account in the motor vehicle fund for special category C projects. Special category C projects are category C projects as defined in RCW 47.05.030(3) that, due to high cost only, will require bond financing to complete construction.

The following criteria, listed in order of priority, shall be used in determining which special category C projects have the highest priority:

(4) Forty-five one-hundredths of one cent shall be deposited in the county arterial preservation account. These funds shall be distributed by the county road administration board to counties in proportions corresponding to the number of paved arterial lane miles in the unincorporated area of each county and shall be used for improvements to sustain the structural, safety, and operational integrity of county arterials. The county road administration board shall adopt reasonable rules and develop policies to implement this program and to assure that a permanent management system is used.

(5) One-half of one cent shall be allocated to cities and towns as provided in RCW 46.68.110.

(6) From April 1, 1990, through March 31, 1991, thirty one-hundredths of one cent and after March 31, 1991, fifty-five one-hundredths of one cent shall be allocated to counties as provided in RCW 46.68.120.

Sec. 104. Section 14, chapter 49, Laws of 1983 1st ex. sess. as amended by section 1, chapter 113, Laws of 1984 and RCW 36.79.140 are each amended to read as follows:

At the time the board reviews the six-year program of each county each even-numbered year, it shall consider and shall approve for inclusion in its recommended budget, as required by RCW 36.79.130, the portion of the rural arterial construction program scheduled to be performed during the biennial period beginning the following July 1st. Subject to the appropriations actually approved by the legislature, the board shall as soon as feasible approve rural arterial trust account funds to be spent during the ensuing biennium for preliminary proposals in priority sequence as established pursuant to RCW 36.79.090. Only those counties that during the preceding twelve months have spent all revenues collected for road purposes only for such purposes, including traffic law enforcement, as are allowed to the state by Article II, section 40 of the state Constitution are eligible to receive funds from the rural arterial trust account: PROVIDED HOWEVER, That counties of the seventh class are exempt from this eligibility restriction; AND PROVIDED FURTHER, That counties expending revenues collected for road purposes only on other governmental services after authorization from the voters of that county under RCW 84.55.050 are also exempt from this eligibility restriction. The board shall authorize rural arterial trust account funds for the construction project portion of a project previously authorized for a preliminary proposal in the sequence in which the preliminary proposal has been completed and the construction project is to be placed under contract. At such time the board may reserve rural arterial trust account funds for expenditure in future years as may be necessary for completion of preliminary proposals and construction projects to be commenced in the ensuing biennium.

The board may, within the constraints of available rural arterial trust funds, consider additional projects for authorization upon a clear and conclusive showing by the submitting county that the proposed project is of an emergent nature and that its need was unable to be anticipated at the time the six-year program of the county was developed. The proposed projects shall be evaluated on the basis of the priority rating factors specified in RCW 36.79.080.

The proceeds of this surcharge shall be forwarded to the state treasurer to be deposited into the state patrol highway account of the motor vehicle fund.))

Every motor truck, truck tractor, and tractor exceeding 6,000 pounds empty scale weight registered under chapter 46.16, 46.87, or 46.88 RCW shall be licensed for not less than one hundred fifty percent of its empty weight unless the amount would be in excess of the legal limits prescribed for such a vehicle in RCW 46.44.041 or 46.44.042, in which event the vehicle shall be licensed for the maximum weight authorized for such a vehicle.

The following provisions apply when increasing gross or combined gross weight for a vehicle licensed under this section:

((1)) (a) The new license fee will be one-twelfth of the fee listed above for the new gross weight, multiplied by the number of months remaining in the period for which licensing fees have been paid, including the month in which the new gross weight is effective.

((2)) (b) Upon surrender of the current certificate of registration or cab card, the new licensing fees due shall be reduced by the amount of the licensing fees previously paid for the same period for which new fees are being charged.

(2) The proceeds from the fees collected under subsection (1) of this section shall be distributed in accordance with RCW 46.68.035.

Sec. 106. Section 21, chapter 380, Laws of 1985 as amended by section 4, chapter 156, Laws of 1989 and RCW 46.68.035 are each amended to read as follows:

All proceeds from combined vehicle licensing fees received by the director for vehicles licensed under RCW 46.16.070 and 46.16.085 shall be forwarded to the state treasurer to be distributed into accounts according to the following method:

(1) ~~((34.644 percent representing the vehicle licensing fee, shall be distributed according to the following formula))~~ The sum of two dollars for each vehicle shall be deposited into the highway safety fund, except that for each vehicle registered by a county auditor or agent to a county auditor pursuant to RCW 46.01.140, the sum of two dollars shall be credited to the current county expense fund.

(2) The remainder shall be distributed as follows:

(a) ~~((76.772))~~ 25.862 percent shall be deposited into the state patrol highway account of the motor vehicle fund;

(c) ~~((16.886 percent shall be deposited into the motor vehicle fund;~~

(2) The sum of two dollars for each vehicle shall be deposited into the highway safety fund, except that for each vehicle registered by a county auditor or agent to a county auditor pursuant to RCW 46.01.140, the sum of two dollars shall be credited to the current county expense fund;

(3)) The remaining proceeds ~~((representing the gross vehicle weight fee, identification fee, special fee, minimum fee, and application fee;))~~ shall be deposited into the motor vehicle fund.

Sec. 108. ANNUAL ADDITIONAL TONNAGE PERMITS—FEEs. Section 46.44.095, chapter 12, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 3, chapter 398, Laws of 1989 and RCW 46.44.095 are each amended to read as follows:

When a combination of vehicles has been lawfully licensed to a total gross weight of eighty thousand pounds and when a three or more axle single unit vehicle has been lawfully licensed to a total gross weight of forty thousand pounds pursuant to provisions of RCW 46.44-.041, a permit for additional gross weight may be issued by the department of transportation upon the payment of ((~~thirty-seven dollars and fifty~~) fifty-two dollars and fifty cents per year for each one thousand pounds or fraction thereof of such additional gross weight: PROVIDED, That the tire limits specified in RCW 46.44.042 shall apply, and the gross weight on any single axle shall not exceed twenty thousand pounds, and the gross load on any group of axles shall not exceed the limits set forth in RCW 46.44.041: PROVIDED FURTHER, That within the tire limits of RCW 46.44.042, and notwithstanding RCW 46.44.041 and 46.44.091, a permit for an additional six thousand pounds may be purchased for the rear axle of a two-axle garbage truck or eight thousand pounds for the tandem axle of a three axle garbage truck at a rate not to exceed ((~~thirty~~) forty-two dollars per thousand. Such additional weight in the case of garbage trucks shall not be valid or permitted on any part of the federal interstate highway system.

The annual additional tonnage permits provided for in this section shall be issued upon such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by the department pursuant to general rules adopted by the transportation commission. Such permits shall entitle the permittee to carry such additional load in an amount and upon highways or sections of highways as may be determined by the department of transportation to be capable of withstanding increased gross load without undue injury to the highway: PROVIDED, That the permits ((~~shall~~) are not (be)) valid on any highway where the use of such permits would deprive this state of federal funds for highway purposes.

For those vehicles registered under chapter 46.87 RCW, the annual additional tonnage permits provided for in this section may be issued to coincide with the registration year of the base jurisdiction. For those vehicles registered under chapter 46.16 RCW and whose registration has staggered renewal dates, the annual additional tonnage permits may be issued to coincide with the expiration date of the registration. The permits may be purchased at any time, and if they are purchased for less than a full year, the fee shall be one-twelfth of the full fee multiplied by the number of months, including any fraction thereof, covered by the permit. When the department issues a duplicate permit to replace a lost or destroyed permit and where the department transfers a permit from one vehicle to another a fee of ((~~ten~~) fourteen dollars shall be charged for each duplicate issued or each transfer. The department of transportation shall issue permits on a temporary basis for periods not less than five days at two dollars and eighty cents per day for each two thousands pounds or fraction thereof.

The fees levied in RCW 46.44.0941 and this section shall not apply to any vehicles owned and operated by the state of Washington, any county within the state, or any city or town or metropolitan municipal corporation within the state, or by the federal government.

In the case of fleets prorating license fees under the provisions of chapter 46.87 RCW, the fees provided for in this section shall be computed by the department of transportation by applying the proportion of the Washington mileage of the fleet in question to the total mileage of the fleet as reported pursuant to chapter 46.87 RCW to the fees that would be required to purchase the additional weight allowance for all eligible vehicles or combinations of vehicles for which the extra weight allowance is requested.

When computing fees that result in an amount other than full dollars, the fee shall be increased to the next full dollar if fifty cents or over and shall be reduced to the next full dollar if forty-nine cents or under. The minimum fee for any prorated tonnage permit issued under this section shall be ~~((twenty-five))~~ thirty-five dollars.

Sec. 109. DISPOSITION OF VEHICLE LICENSE FEES. Section 20, chapter 380, Laws of 1985 and RCW 46.68.030 are each amended to read as follows:

Except for proceeds from fees for vehicle licensing for vehicles paying such fees under RCW 46.16.070 and 46.16.085, and as otherwise provided for in chapter 46.16 RCW, all fees received by the director for vehicle licenses under the provisions of chapter 46.16 RCW shall be forwarded to the state treasurer, accompanied by a proper identifying detailed report, and be ~~((by him))~~ deposited to the credit of the motor vehicle fund, except that the proceeds from the vehicle license fee and renewal license fee shall be deposited by the state treasurer as hereinafter provided. After July 1, 1981, that portion of each vehicle license fee in excess of $7.40 and that portion of each renewal license fee in excess of $3.40 shall be deposited in the state patrol highway account in the motor vehicle fund, hereby created. Vehicle license fees, renewal license fees, and all other funds in the state patrol highway account shall be for the sole use of the Washington state patrol for highway activities of the Washington state patrol, subject to proper appropriations and reappropriations therefor, for any fiscal biennium after June 30, 1981, and twenty-seven and three-tenths percent of the proceeds from $7.40 of each vehicle license fee and $3.40 of each renewal license fee shall be deposited each biennium in the Puget Sound ferry operations account ~~((to partially finance, together with other funds in the account, any budgeted state ferry system maintenance and operating deficit for that biennium. The deficit shall be calculated by subtracting from total costs the sum of all unappropriated funds available to the state ferry system, including revenues from tolls that are adjusted by the transportation commission))~~. Any remaining amounts of vehicle license fees and renewal license fees that are not deposited in the Puget Sound ferry operations account shall be deposited in the motor vehicle fund.

Sec. 110. NONRESIDENT EXEMPTION—RECIPROCITY. Section 46.16.030, chapter 12, Laws of 1961 as amended by section 15, chapter 32, Laws of 1967 and RCW 46.16.030 are each amended to read as follows:

Except as is herein provided for foreign ~~((corporations))~~ businesses, the provisions relative to the licensing of vehicles and display of vehicle license number plates and license registration certificates shall not apply to any vehicles owned by nonresidents of this state if the owner thereof has complied with the law requiring the licensing of vehicles in the names of the owners thereof in force in the state, foreign country, territory or federal district of his or her residence; and the vehicle license number plate showing the initial or abbreviation of the name of such state, foreign country, territory or federal district, is displayed on such vehicle substantially as is provided therefor in this state ~~((PROVIDED, That))~~. The provisions of this section shall be operative as to a vehicle owned by a nonresident of this state only to the extent that under the laws of the state, foreign country, territory or federal district of his or her residence, like exemptions and privileges are granted to vehicles duly licensed under the laws of and owned by residents of this state. If under the laws of such state, foreign country, territory or federal district, vehicles owned by residents of this state, operating upon the highways of such state, foreign country, territory or federal district, are required to pay the license fee and carry the vehicle license number plates of such state, foreign country, territory or federal district, the vehicles owned by residents of such state, foreign country, territory or federal district, and operating upon the highways of this state, shall comply with the provisions of this state relating to the licensing of vehicles. Foreign ~~((corporations))~~ businesses owning, maintaining, or operating places of business in this state and using vehicles in connection with such places of business, shall comply with the provisions relating to the licensing of vehicles insofar as vehicles used in connection with such places of business are concerned ~~((PROVIDED, FURTHER, That))~~. Under provisions of the international registration plan, the nonmotor vehicles of member and nonmember jurisdictions which are properly based and licensed in such jurisdictions are granted reciprocity in this state as provided in RCW 46.87.070(2). Converter gears (auxiliary axles) that are properly based in jurisdictions that do not register or provide license plates for such vehicles may be operated in this state without the need for registration or the display of license plates as applicable. The director is empowered to make and enforce rules and regulations for the licensing of nonresident vehicles upon a reciprocal basis and with respect to any character or class of operation.

Sec. 111. DEFINITIONS. Section 2, chapter 380, Laws of 1985 as amended by section 16, chapter 244, Laws of 1987 and RCW 46.87.020 are each amended to read as follows:

Terms used in this chapter have the meaning given to them in the International Registration Plan (IRP), the Uniform Vehicle Registration, Proration, and Reciprocity Agreement (Western Compact), chapter 46.04 RCW, or as otherwise defined in this section. Definitions given to terms by the IRP and the Western Compact, as applicable, shall prevail unless given a different meaning in this chapter or in rules adopted under authority of this chapter.

(1) "Apportionable vehicle" has the meaning given by the IRP, except that it does not include vehicles with a declared gross weight of twelve thousand pounds or less. Apportionable vehicles include trucks, tractors, truck tractors, road tractors, and buses, ((converter gears (auxiliary axes), trailers, semitrailers, and pole trailers.)) each as separate and licensable vehicles. For IRP jurisdictions that require the registration of nonmotor vehicles, this term may include converter gears (auxiliary axes), trailers, semitrailers, and pole trailers as applicable, each as separate and licensable vehicles.

(2) "Cab card" is a certificate of registration issued for a vehicle by the registering jurisdiction under the Western Compact. Under the IRP, it is a certificate of registration issued by the base jurisdiction for a vehicle upon which is disclosed the jurisdictions and registered gross weights in such jurisdictions for which the vehicle is registered.

(3) "Commercial vehicle" is a term used by the Western Compact and means any vehicle, except recreational vehicles, vehicles displaying restricted plates, and government owned or leased vehicles, that is operated and registered in more than one jurisdiction and is used or maintained for the transportation of persons for hire, compensation, or profit, or is designed, used, or maintained primarily for the transportation of property and:

(a) Is a motor vehicle having a declared gross weight in excess of twenty-six thousand pounds; or

(b) Is a motor vehicle having three or more axles with a declared gross weight in excess of twelve thousand pounds; or

(c) Is a motor vehicle, trailer, pole trailer, converter gear (auxiliary axle), or semitrailer used in combination when the gross weight or declared gross weight of the combination exceeds twenty-six thousand pounds combined gross weight ((or

(d) is a converter gear (auxiliary axle))). The nonmotor vehicles mentioned are only applicable to those jurisdictions requiring the registration of such vehicles.

Although a two-axle motor vehicle, trailer, pole trailer, semitrailer, converter gear (auxiliary axle), or any combination of such vehicles with ((a) an actual or declared gross weight or declared combined gross weight exceeding twelve thousand pounds but not more than twenty-six thousand is not considered to be a commercial vehicle, at the option of the owner, such vehicles may be considered as "commercial vehicles" for the purpose of proportional registration. The nonmotor vehicles mentioned are only applicable to those jurisdictions requiring the registration of such vehicles.

Commercial vehicles include trucks, tractors, truck tractors, road tractors, and buses((;)), Converter gears (auxiliary axes), trailers, pole trailers, and semitrailers, ((each as separate and licensable vehicles)) will also be considered as commercial vehicles for those jurisdictions who require registration of such vehicles.

(4) "Credentials" means cab cards, apportioned plates (for Washington-based fleets), and validation tabs issued for proportionally registered vehicles.

(5) "Declared combined gross weight" means the total unladen weight of any combination of vehicles plus the weight of the maximum load to be carried on the combination of vehicles as set by the registrant in the application pursuant to chapter 46.44 RCW and for which registration fees have been or are to be paid.

(6) "Declared gross weight" means the total unladen weight of any vehicle plus the weight of the maximum load to be carried on the vehicle as set by the registrant in the application pursuant to chapter 46.44 RCW and for which registration fees have been or are to be paid. In the case of a bus, auto stage, or a passenger-carrying for hire vehicle with a seating capacity of more than six, the declared gross weight shall be determined by multiplying the average load factor of one hundred and fifty pounds by the number of seats in the vehicle, including the driver's seat, and add this amount to the unladen weight of the vehicle. If the resultant gross weight is not listed in RCW 46.16.070, it will be increased to the next higher gross weight so listed pursuant to chapter 46.44 RCW.

(7) "Department" means the department of licensing.

(8) "Fleet" means one or more commercial vehicles in the Western Compact and one or more apportionable vehicles in the IRP.

(9) "In-jurisdiction miles" means the total miles accumulated in a jurisdiction during the preceding year by vehicles of the fleet while they were a part of the fleet.

(10) "IRP" means the International Registration Plan.

(11) "Jurisdiction" means and includes a state, territory or possession of the United States, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, a foreign county, and a state or province of a foreign country.

(12) "Owner" means a person or business firm who holds the legal title to a vehicle, or if a vehicle is the subject of an agreement for its conditional sale with the right of purchase upon performance of the conditions stated in the agreement and with an immediate right of possession vested in the conditional vendee, or if a vehicle is subject to a lease, contract, or other legal arrangement vesting right of possession or control, for security or otherwise, or if a mortgagor of a vehicle is entitled to possession, then the owner is deemed to be the person or business firm in whom is vested right of possession or control.

(13) "Preceding year" means the period of twelve consecutive months immediately prior to July 1st of the year immediately preceding the commencement of the registration or license year for which proportional registration is sought.

(14) "Properly registered," as applied to the place of registration under the provisions of the Western Compact, means:

(a) In the case of a commercial vehicle, the jurisdiction in which it is registered if the commercial enterprise in which the vehicle is used has a place of business therein, and, if the vehicle is most frequently dispatched, garaged, serviced, maintained, operated, or otherwise controlled in or from that place of business, and the vehicle has been assigned to that place of business; or

(b) In the case of a commercial vehicle, the jurisdiction where, because of an agreement or arrangement between two or more jurisdictions, or pursuant to a declaration, the vehicle has been registered as required by that jurisdiction.

In case of doubt or dispute as to the proper place of registration of a commercial vehicle, the department shall make the final determination, but in making such determination, may confer with departments of the other jurisdictions affected.

(15) "Prorate percentage" is the factor that is applied to the total proratable fees and taxes to determine the apportionable or prorate fees required for registration in a particular jurisdiction. It is determined by dividing the in-jurisdiction miles for a particular jurisdiction by the total miles. This term is synonymous with the term "mileage percentage."

(16) "Registrant" means a person, business firm, or corporation in whose name or names a vehicle or fleet of vehicles is registered.

(17) "Registration year" means the twelve-month period during which the registration plates issued by the base jurisdiction are valid according to the laws of the base jurisdiction. The "registration year" for Washington is the period from January 1st through December 31st of each calendar year.

(18) "Total miles" means the total number of miles accumulated in all jurisdictions during the preceding year by all vehicles of the fleet while they were a part of the fleet. Mileage accumulated by vehicles of the fleet that did not engage in interstate operations is not included in the fleet miles.

(19) "Western Compact" means the Uniform Vehicle Registration, Proration, and Reciprocity Agreement.

Sec. 112. REGISTRATION OF TRAILERS, SEMITRAILERS, POLETRAILERS, AND CONVERTER GEARS. Section 7, chapter 380, Laws of 1985 as amended by section 22, chapter 244, Laws of 1987 and RCW 46.87.070 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((Any trailer, semitrailer, converter gear (auxiliary axes), or pole trailer being pulled by a motor vehicle that is proportionally registered under the terms of this chapter shall display a valid vehicle license plate issued by the base jurisdiction and be registered in this state.)) (1) Washington-based trailers, semitrailers, converter gears (auxiliary axes), or pole trailers shall be fully licensed in this state except as herein provided. If these vehicles are being operated in jurisdictions that require the registration of such vehicles, the applicable vehicles may be considered as apportionable or commercial vehicles for the purpose of registration in those jurisdictions. The prorate percentage for which registration fees and taxes were paid to such jurisdictions for each nonmotor vehicle of the fleet may be credited toward the one hundred percent of registration fees and taxes due this state for full licensing of each such vehicle.~~

~~(2) Trailers, semitrailers, converter gears (auxiliary axes), and pole trailers which are properly based in jurisdictions other than Washington, and which display currently registered license plates from such jurisdictions will be granted vehicle license reciprocity in this state without the need of further vehicle license registration. If converter gears (auxiliary axes) or pole trailers are not required to be licensed separately by a member jurisdiction, such vehicles may be operated in this state without displaying a current base license plate.~~

Sec. 113. MILEAGE DATA FOR APPLICATIONS—NONMOTOR VEHICLES. Section 25, chapter 244, Laws of 1987 and RCW 46.87.120 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The initial application for proportional registration of a fleet shall state the mileage data with respect to the fleet for the preceding year in this and other jurisdictions. If no operations were conducted with the fleet during the preceding year, the application shall contain a full statement of the proposed method of operation and estimates of annual mileage in each of the jurisdictions in which operation is contemplated. The registrant shall determine the in-jurisdiction and total miles to be used in computing the fees and taxes due for the fleet. The department may evaluate and adjust the estimate in the application if it is not satisfied as to its correctness.

~~(2) ((When the nonmotor vehicles of a fleet are operated in jurisdictions in addition to those in which the motor vehicles of the fleet are operated, or when the nonmotor vehicles of a fleet~~ are operated with motor vehicles that are not part of the fleet, the registrant shall place such nonmotor vehicles in a separate fleet)) Fleets will consist of either motor vehicles or nonmotor vehicles, but not a mixture of both.

(3) In instances where the use of mileage accumulated by a nonmotor vehicle fleet is impractical, for the purpose of calculating prorate percentages, the registrant may request another method and/or unit of measure to be used in determining the prorate percentages. Upon receiving such request, the department may prescribe another method and/or unit of measure to be used in lieu of mileage that will ensure each jurisdiction that requires the registration of nonmotor vehicles its fair share of vehicle licensing fees and taxes.

(4) When operations of a Washington-based fleet is materially changed through merger, acquisition, or extended authority, the registrant shall notify the department, which shall then require the filing of an amended application setting forth the proposed operation by use of estimated mileage for all jurisdictions. The department may adjust the estimated mileage by audit or otherwise to an actual travel basis to insure proper fee payment. The actual travel basis may be used for determination of fee payments until such time as a normal mileage year is available under the new operation. Under the provisions of the Western Compact, this subsection applies to any fleet proportionally registered in Washington irrespective of the fleet's base jurisdiction.

Sec. 114. APPLICATION—FILING, CONTENTS—FEES AND TAXES—ASSESSMENTS, DUE DATE. Section 27, chapter 244, Laws of 1987 and RCW 46.87.140 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Any owner engaged in interstate operations of one or more fleets of apportionable or commercial vehicles may, in lieu of registration of the vehicles under chapter 46.16 RCW, register and license the vehicles of each fleet under this chapter by filing a proportional registration application for each fleet with the department. The nonmotor vehicles of Washington-based fleets which are operated in IRP jurisdictions that require registration of such vehicles may be proportionally registered for operation in those jurisdictions as herein provided. The application shall contain the following information and such other information pertinent to vehicle registration as the department may require:

(a) A description and identification of each vehicle of the fleet. ~~((If the fleet contains both power units and nonpower units, the power units shall be listed first on the application, followed by the nonpower units. However, if the nonpower units are occasionally pulled by power units which are not part of this fleet, the))~~ Motor vehicles and nonpower units shall be placed in ((a)) separate fleets.

(b) If registering under the provisions of the IRP, the registrant shall also indicate member jurisdictions in which registration is desired and furnish such other information as those member jurisdictions require.

(c) An original or renewal application shall also be accompanied by a mileage schedule for each fleet.

(2) Each application shall, at the time and in the manner required by the department, be supported by payment of a fee computed as follows:

(a) Divide the in-jurisdiction miles by the total miles and carry the answer to the nearest thousandth of a percent (three places beyond the decimal, e.g. 10.543%). This factor is known as the prorate percentage.

(b) Determine the total proratable fees and taxes required for each vehicle in the fleet for which registration is requested, based on the regular annual fees and taxes or applicable fees and taxes for the unexpired portion of the registration year under the laws of each jurisdiction for which fees or taxes are to be calculated.

Washington-based nonpower vehicles shall normally be fully licensed, by paying full registration fees and taxes, in this state. If these vehicles are being operated in jurisdictions that require the registration of such vehicles, the applicable vehicles may be considered as apportionable vehicles for the purpose of registration in those jurisdictions. The prorate percentage for which registration fees and taxes were paid to such jurisdictions may be credited toward the one hundred percent of registration fees and taxes due this state for full licensing. Applicable fees and taxes for vehicles of Washington-based fleets are those prescribed under RCW 46.16.070, 46.16.085, 82.38.075, and 82.44.020, as applicable.

(c) Multiply the total, proratable fees or taxes for each vehicle by the prorate percentage applicable to the desired jurisdiction and round the results to the nearest cent.

(d) Add the total fees and taxes determined in subsection (2)(c) of this section for each vehicle to the nonproratable fees required under the laws of the jurisdiction for which fees are being calculated. Nonproratable fees required for vehicles of Washington-based fleets are the administrative fee required by RCW 82.38.075, if applicable, and the vehicle transaction fee pursuant to the provisions of RCW 46.87.130.

(e) Add the total fees and taxes determined in subsection (2)(d) of this section for each vehicle listed on the application. Assuming the fees and taxes calculated were for Washington, this would be the amount due and payable for the application under the provisions of the Western Compact. Under the provisions of the IRP, the amount due and payable for the application would be the sum of the fees and taxes referred to in subsection (2)(d) of this section, calculated for each member jurisdiction in which registration of the fleet is desired.

(3) All assessments for proportional registration fees are due and payable in United States funds on the date presented or mailed to the registrant at the address listed in the proportional registration records of the department. The registrant may petition for reassessment of the fees or taxes due under this section within thirty days of the date of original service as provided for in this chapter.

Sec. 115. Section 22, chapter 47, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. as last amended by section 25, chapter 36, Laws of 1988 and RCW 46.09.170 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) From time to time, but at least once each year, the state treasurer shall refund from the motor vehicle fund one percent of the motor vehicle fuel tax revenues collected under chapter 82.36 RCW, based on the tax rate in effect January 1, 1990, less proper deductions for refunds and costs of collection as provided in RCW 46.68.090. The treasurer shall place these funds in the general fund as follows:

(a) Forty percent shall be credited to the ORV and nonhighway vehicle account and administered by the department of natural resources solely for planning, maintenance, and management of ORV recreation facilities, nonhighway roads, and nonhighway road recreation facilities. The funds under this subsection shall be expended in accordance with the following limitations:

Such determination may be made in any manner which is, in the judgment of the director, reasonable, but the manner used to make such determination shall be reported at the end of each ((four-year period)) biennium to the legislature. To offset the actual cost of making such determination the treasurer shall retain in, and the department is authorized to expend from, the motor vehicle fund a sum equal to such actual cost.

PART II: LOCAL OPTION FUNDING AUTHORITY

NEW SECTION. Sec. 201. LOCAL OPTION MOTOR VEHICLE AND SPECIAL FUEL TAX. (1) Subject to the conditions of this section, any county may levy, by approval of its legislative body and a majority of the registered voters of the county voting on the proposition at a general or special election, additional excise taxes equal to ten percent of the state-wide motor vehicle fuel tax rate under RCW 82.36.025 on each gallon of motor vehicle fuel as defined in RCW 82.36.010(2) and on special fuel as defined in RCW 82.38.020(5), per gallon or one hundred cubic feet of compressed natural gas measured at standard temperature and pressure sold within the boundaries of the county. An election held under this section must be held not more than twelve months before the date on which the proposed tax is to be levied. The ballot setting forth the proposition shall state the tax rate that is proposed. The county's authority to levy additional excise taxes under this section includes the incorporated and unincorporated areas of the county. The additional excise taxes are subject to the same exceptions and rights of refund as applicable to other motor vehicle fuel and special fuel excise taxes levied under chapters 82.36 and 82.38 RCW. The proposed tax shall not be levied less than one month from the date the election results are certified by the county election officer. The commencement date for the levy of any tax under this section shall be the first day of January, April, July, or October.

(2) Every person subject to the tax shall pay, in addition to any other taxes provided by law, an additional excise tax to the director of licensing at the rate levied by a county exercising its authority under this section.

(3) The state treasurer shall distribute monthly to the levying county and cities contained therein the proceeds of the additional excise taxes collected under this section, after the deductions for payments and expenditures as provided in RCW 46.68.090 (1) (a) and (b) and under the conditions and limitations provided in section 213 of this act.

(4) The proceeds of the additional excise taxes levied under this section shall be used strictly for transportation purposes in accordance with section 212 of this act.

Sec. 202. REPORTS BY DISTRIBUTORS. Section 82.36.030, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as amended by section 2, chapter 174, Laws of 1987 and RCW 82.36.030 are each amended to read as follows:

Every distributor shall on or before the twenty-fifth day of each calendar month file, on forms furnished by the director, a statement signed by the distributor or his authorized agent showing the total number of gallons of motor vehicle fuel sold, distributed, or used by such distributor within this state during the preceding calendar month and, for counties within which an additional excise tax on motor vehicle fuel has been levied by that jurisdiction under section 201 of this act, showing the total number of gallons of motor vehicle fuel distributed and sold to dealers by the distributor for sale within the boundaries of the county during the preceding calendar month.

If any distributor fails to file such report, the director shall proceed forthwith to determine from the best available sources, the amount of motor vehicle fuel sold, distributed, or used by such distributor for the unreported period, and said determination shall be presumed to be correct for that period until proved by competent evidence to be otherwise. The director shall immediately assess the excise tax in the amount so determined, adding thereto a penalty of ten percent for failure to report. Such penalty shall be cumulative of other penalties herein provided. All statements filed with the director, as required in this section, shall be public records.

If any distributor establishes by a fair preponderance of evidence that his or her failure to file a report by the due date was attributable to reasonable cause and was not intentional or willful, the department may waive the penalty imposed by this section.

Sec. 203. Section 16, chapter 175, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. as last amended by section 1, chapter 23, Laws of 1988 and RCW 82.38.150 are each amended to read as follows:

For the purpose of determining the amount of ((his)) liability for the tax herein imposed each special fuel dealer and each special fuel user shall file tax reports with the department, on forms prescribed by the department. Special fuel dealers shall file the reports at the intervals as shown in the following schedule:

Estimated Yearly		Reporting Frequency
Tax Liability		Yearly
$ 0 - $100		Semi-yearly
$101 - 250		Quarterly
$251 - 499		Monthly
$500 and over

Special fuel users whose estimated yearly tax liability is two hundred fifty dollars or less, shall file a report yearly, and special fuel users whose estimated yearly tax liability is more than two hundred fifty dollars, shall file reports quarterly.

The department shall establish the reporting frequency for each applicant at the time the special fuel license is issued. If it becomes apparent that any special fuel licensee is not reporting in accordance with the above schedule, the department shall change the licensee's reporting frequency by giving thirty days' notice to the licensee by mail to his address of record. A report shall be filed with the department even though no special fuel was used, or tax is due, for the reporting period. Each tax report shall contain a declaration by the person making the same, to the effect that the statements contained therein are true and are made under penalties of perjury, which declaration shall have the same force and effect as a verification of the report and ~~(shall be)~~ is in lieu of such verification. The report shall show such information as the department may reasonably require for the proper administration and enforcement of this chapter: PROVIDED, That if a special fuel dealer or special fuel user is also a special fuel supplier at a location where special fuel is delivered into the supply tank of a motor vehicle, and if separate storage is provided thereat from which special fuel is delivered or placed into fuel supply tanks of motor vehicles, the tax report to the department need not include inventory control data covering bulk storage from which wholesale distribution of special fuel is made. For counties within which an additional excise tax on special fuel has been levied by that jurisdiction under section 201 of this act, the report must show the quantities of special fuel distributed and sold by the reporting dealer or user within the county's boundaries and the tax liability from its levy. The special fuel dealer or special fuel user shall file the report on or before the twenty-fifth day of the next succeeding calendar month following the period to which it relates.

Subject to the written approval of the department, tax reports may cover a period ending on a day other than the last day of the calendar month. Taxpayers granted approval to file reports in this manner will file such reports on or before the twenty-fifth day following the end of the reporting period. No change to this reporting period will be made without the written authorization of the department.

If the final filing date falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday the next secular or business day shall be the final filing date. Such reports shall be considered filed or received on the date shown by the post office cancellation mark stamped upon an envelope containing such report properly addressed to the department, or on the date it was mailed if proof satisfactory to the department is available to establish the date it was mailed.

The department, if it deems it necessary in order to insure payment of the tax imposed by this chapter, or to facilitate the administration of this chapter, ~~(shall have)~~ has the authority to require the filing of reports and tax remittances at shorter intervals than one month if, in its opinion, an existing bond has become insufficient.

The department may permit any special fuel user whose sole use of special fuel is in motor vehicles or equipment exempt from tax as provided in RCW 82.38.075 and RCW 82.38.080 (1), (2), (3), (8), and (9), in lieu of the reports required in this section, to submit reports annually or as requested by the department, in such form as the department may require.

A special fuel user whose sole use of special fuel is for purposes other than the propulsion of motor vehicles upon the public highways of this state shall not be required to submit the reports required in this section.

Sec. 204. Section 82.36.440, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as amended by section 5, chapter 181, Laws of 1979 ex. sess. and RCW 82.36.440 are each amended to read as follows:

The tax ~~(herein)~~ levied in this chapter is in lieu of any excise, privilege, or occupational tax upon the business of manufacturing, selling, or distributing motor vehicle fuel, and no city, town, county, township or other subdivision or municipal corporation of the state shall levy or collect any excise tax upon or measured by the sale, receipt, distribution, or use of motor vehicle fuel ~~(; PROVIDED, That nothing in this section or chapter 82.36 RCW shall be construed to prohibit in any manner the imposition of a city tax upon motor vehicle fuel pursuant to RCW 82.39.010)), except as provided in section 201 of this act.~~

Sec. 205. Section 29, chapter 175, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. as amended by section 6, chapter 181, Laws of 1979 ex. sess. and RCW 82.38.280 are each amended to read as follows:

The tax ~~(herein)~~ levied in this chapter is in lieu of any excise, privilege, or occupational tax upon the business of manufacturing, selling, or distributing special fuel, and no city, town, county, township or other subdivision or municipal corporation of the state shall levy or collect any excise tax upon or measured by the sale, receipt, distribution, or use of special fuel ~~(; PROVIDED, That nothing in this section or chapter 82.38 RCW shall be construed to prohibit in any manner the imposition of a city tax upon special fuel pursuant to RCW 82.39.010)), except as provided in section 201 of this act.~~

NEW SECTION, Sec. 206. LOCAL OPTION VEHICLE LICENSE FEE. (1) The legislative authority of a county may fix and impose an additional fee, not to exceed fifteen dollars per vehicle, for each vehicle that is subject to license fees under RCW 46.16.060 and is determined by the department of licensing to be registered within the boundaries of the county.

(2) The department of licensing shall administer and collect the fee. The department shall deduct a percentage amount, as provided by contract, not to exceed two percent of the taxes collected, for administration and collection expenses incurred by it. The remaining proceeds shall be remitted to the custody of the state treasurer for monthly distribution under section 213 of this act.

(3) The proceeds of this fee shall be used strictly for transportation purposes in accordance with section 212 of this act.

(4) A county imposing this fee shall delay the effective date at least six months from the date the ordinance is enacted to allow the department of licensing to implement administration and collection of the fee.

Sec. 207. STATE PREEMPTS LICENSING FIELD. Section 46.08.010, chapter 12, Laws of 1961 and RCW 46.08.010 are each amended to read as follows:

The provisions of this title relating to the certificate of ownership, certificate of license registration, vehicle license, vehicle license plates and vehicle operator's license shall be exclusive and no political subdivision of the state of Washington shall require or issue any licenses or certificates for the same or a similar purpose except as provided in section 206 of this act, nor shall any city or town in this state impose a tax, license, or other fee upon vehicles operating exclusively between points outside of such city or town limits, and to points therein.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 208. LOCAL OPTION COMMERCIAL PARKING TAX. (1) Subject to the conditions of this section, the legislative authority of a county or city may fix and impose a parking tax on all persons engaged in a commercial parking business within its respective jurisdiction. The jurisdiction of a county, for purposes of this section, includes only the unincorporated area of the county. The jurisdiction of a city includes only the area within its incorporated boundaries.

(2) In lieu of the tax in subsection (1) of this section, a city or a county in its unincorporated area may fix and impose a tax for the act or privilege of parking a motor vehicle in a facility operated by a commercial parking business.

The city or county may provide that:

- (a) The tax is paid by the operator or owner of the motor vehicle;
- (b) The tax applies to all parking for which a fee is paid, whether paid or leased, including parking supplied with a lease of nonresidential space;
- (c) The tax is collected by the operator of the facility and remitted to the city or county;
- (d) The tax is a fee per vehicle or is measured by the parking charge;
- (e) The tax rate varies with zoning or location of the facility, the duration of the parking, the time of entry or exit, the type or use of the vehicle, or other reasonable factors; and
- (f) Tax exempt carpools, vehicles with handicapped decals, or government vehicles are exempt from the tax.

(3) "Commercial parking business" as used in this section, means the ownership, lease, operation, or management of a commercial parking lot in which fees are charged. "Commercial parking lot" means a covered or uncovered area with stalls for the purpose of parking motor vehicles.

(4) The rate of the tax under subsection (1) of this section may be based either upon gross proceeds or the number of vehicle stalls available for commercial parking use. The rates charged must be uniform for the same class or type of commercial parking business.

(5) The county or city levying the tax provided for in subsection (1) or (2) of this section may provide for its payment on a monthly, quarterly, or annual basis. Each local government may develop by ordinance or resolution rules for administering the tax, including provisions for reporting by commercial parking businesses, collection, and enforcement.

(6) The proceeds of the commercial parking tax fixed and imposed under subsection (1) or (2) of this section shall be used strictly for transportation purposes in accordance with section 212 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 209. LOCAL OPTION STREET UTILITY. A city or town may elect by action of its legislative authority to own, maintain, operate, and preserve all or any described portion of its streets as a separate enterprise and facility, known as a street utility, and from time to time add other existing or new streets to that street utility, with full power to own, maintain, operate, and preserve. The legislative authority of the city or town may include as a part of the street utility, street lighting, traffic control devices, sidewalks, curbs, gutters, parking facilities, and drainage facilities. The legislative authority of the city or town is the governing body of the street utility.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 210. RATES CHARGED BY STREET UTILITY. A city or town electing to own, maintain, operate, and preserve its streets as a separate street utility may levy periodic charges for the use or availability of the streets in order to meet up to fifty percent of the actual costs for maintenance, operation, and preservation of facilities under the jurisdiction of the street utility. The rates charged for the use must be uniform for the same class of service and all classes of service must be subject to the utility charge. Charges imposed on businesses shall be measured solely by the number of employees and shall not exceed the equivalent of two dollars per full-time equivalent employee per month. Charges imposed against owners or occupants of residential property shall not exceed two dollars per month per housing unit as defined in RCW 35.95.040. Charges against owners of property that is exempt from property tax under chapter 84.36 RCW or leasehold tax under chapter 82.29A RCW shall be based solely on the number of employees of the tax exempt body associated with the property. Provided that in recognition of the benefits accruing to the city or town from the service provided by such tax exempt entities, the charges authorized herein shall be paid by the city or town. The charges shall not be computed on the basis of an ad valorem charge on the underlying real property and improvements. This section shall not be used as a basis to directly or indirectly charge transportation impact fees or mitigation fees of any kind against new development. A city or town may contract with any other utility or local government to provide for billing and collection of the street utility charges.

Any city or town ordinance or resolution creating a street utility must contain a provision granting to any business a credit against any street utility charge the full amount of any commuter or employer tax paid for transportation purposes by that business.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 211. USE OF OTHER PROCEEDS BY UTILITY. The city or town electing to own, maintain, operate, and preserve its streets and related facilities as a utility under this chapter may finance the operation, maintenance, and preservation through local improvement districts, utility local improvement districts, or with proceeds from general obligation bonds and revenue bonds payable from the charges issued in accordance with chapter 35.41 or 35.92 RCW, or any combination thereof. The city or town may use, in addition to the charges authorized by section 210 of this act, funds from general taxation, money received from the federal, state, or other local governments, and other funds made available to it. The proceeds of the charges authorized by section 210 of this act shall be used strictly for transportation purposes in accordance with this chapter and section 212 of this act.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 212. USE OF LOCAL OPTION REVENUES. (1) The proceeds collected pursuant to the exercise of the local option authority of sections 201, 206, 208, and 210 of this act (hereafter called "local option transportation revenues") shall be used for transportation purposes only, including but not limited to the following: The operation and preservation of roads, streets, and other transportation improvements; new construction, reconstruction, and expansion of city streets, county roads, and state highways and other transportation improvements; development and implementation of public transportation and high-capacity transit improvements and programs; and planning, design, and acquisition of right of way and sites for such transportation purposes. The proceeds collected from excise taxes on the sale, distribution, or use of motor vehicle fuel and special fuel under section 201 of this act shall be used exclusively for "highway purposes" as that term is construed in Article II, section 40 of the state Constitution.

(2) The local option transportation revenues shall be expended for transportation uses consistent with the adopted transportation and land use plans of the jurisdiction expending the funds and consistent with any applicable and adopted regional transportation plan for metropolitan planning areas.

(3) Each local government with a population greater than eight thousand that levies or expends local option transportation funds, is also required to develop and adopt a specific transportation program that contains the following elements:

(a) The program shall identify the geographic boundaries of the entire area or areas within which local option transportation revenues will be levied and expended.

(b) The program shall be based on an adopted transportation plan for the geographic areas covered and shall identify the proposed operation and construction of transportation improvements and services in the designated plan area intended to be funded in whole or in part by local option transportation revenues and shall identify the annual costs applicable to the program.

(c) The program shall indicate how the local transportation plan is coordinated with applicable transportation plans for the region and for adjacent jurisdictions.

(d) The program shall include at least a six-year funding plan, updated annually, identifying the specific public and private sources and amounts of revenue necessary to fund the program. The program shall include a proposed schedule for construction of projects and expenditure of revenues. The funding plan shall consider the additional local tax revenue estimated to be generated by new development within the plan area if all or a portion of the additional revenue is proposed to be earmarked as future appropriations for transportation improvements in the program.

(4) Local governments with a population greater than eight thousand exercising the authority for local option transportation funds shall periodically review and update their transportation program to ensure that it is consistent with applicable local and regional transportation and land use plans and within the means of estimated public and private revenue available.

(5) In the case of expenditure for new or expanded transportation facilities, improvements, and services, priorities in the use of local option transportation revenues shall be identified in the transportation program and expenditures shall be made based upon the following criteria, which are stated in descending order of weight to be attributed:

(a) First, the project serves a multijurisdictional function;

(b) Second, it is necessitated by existing or reasonably foreseeable congestion;

(c) Third, it has the greatest person-carrying capacity;

(d) Fourth, it is partially funded by other government funds, such as from the state transportation improvement board, or by private sector contributions, such as those from the local transportation act, chapter 39.92 RCW; and

(e) Fifth, it meets such other criteria as the local government determines is appropriate.

(6) It is the intent of the legislature that as a condition of levying, receiving, and expending local option transportation revenues, no local government agency use the revenues to replace, divert, or loan any revenues currently being used for transportation purposes to nontransportation purposes. The association of Washington cities and the Washington state association of counties, in consultation with the legislative transportation committee, shall study the issue of nondiversion and make recommendations to the legislative transportation committee for language implementing the intent of this section by December 1, 1990.

(7) Local governments are encouraged to enter into interlocal agreements to jointly develop and adopt with other local governments the transportation programs required by this section for the purpose of accomplishing regional transportation planning and development.

(8) Local governments may use all or a part of the local option transportation revenues for the amortization of local government general obligation and revenue bonds issued for transportation purposes consistent with the requirements of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 213. DISTRIBUTION OF LOCAL OPTION TAXES. The state treasurer shall distribute revenues, less authorized deductions, generated by the local option taxes authorized in sections 201 and 206 of this act, levied by counties to the levying counties, and cities contained in those counties, based on the relative per capita population. County population for purposes of this section is equal to one and one-half of the unincorporated population of the county. In calculating the distributions, the state treasurer shall use the population estimates prepared by the state office of financial management and shall further calculate the distribution based on information supplied by the departments of licensing and revenue, as appropriate.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 214. LOCAL OPTION REFERENDUM. A referendum petition to repeal a county or city ordinance imposing a tax or fee authorized under sections 206 and 208 of this act must be filed with a filing officer, as identified in the ordinance, within seven days of passage of the ordinance. Within ten days, the filing officer shall confer with the petitioner concerning form and style of the petition, issue an identification number for the petition, and write a ballot title for the measure. The ballot title shall be posed as a question so that an affirmative answer to the question and an affirmative vote on the measure results in the tax or fee being imposed and a negative answer to the question and a negative vote on the measure results in the tax or fee not being imposed. The petitioner shall be notified of the identification number and ballot title within this ten-day period.

After this notification, the petitioner has thirty days in which to secure on petition forms the signatures of not less than fifteen percent of the registered voters of the county for county measures, or not less than fifteen percent of the registered voters of the city for city measures, and to file the signed petitions with the filing officer. Each petition form must contain the ballot title and the full text of the measure to be referred. The filing officer shall verify the sufficiency of the signatures on the petitions. If sufficient valid signatures are properly submitted, the filing officer shall submit the referendum measure to the county or city voters at a general or special election held on one of the dates provided in RCW 29.13.010 as determined by the county or city legislative authority, which election shall not take place later than one hundred twenty days after the signed petition has been filed with the filing officer.

The referendum procedure provided in this section is the exclusive method for subjecting any county or city ordinance imposing a tax or fee under sections 206 and 208 of this act to a referendum vote.

Sec. 302. Section 1, chapter 191, Laws of 1988 and RCW 82.44.020 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) An excise tax is imposed for the privilege of using in the state any motor vehicle, except those operated under reciprocal agreements, the provisions of RCW 46.16.160 as now or hereafter amended, or dealer's licenses. The annual amount of such excise tax shall be two percent of the ((fair market)) value of such vehicle.

(2) An additional excise tax is imposed, in addition to any other tax imposed by this section, for the privilege of using in the state any such motor vehicle, and the annual amount of such additional excise shall be two-tenths of one percent of the ((fair market)) value of such vehicle.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 303. A new section is added to chapter 82.44 RCW to read as follows:

(1) For the purpose of determining the tax under this chapter, the value of a truck-type power or trailing unit shall be the latest purchase price of the vehicle, excluding applicable federal excise taxes, state and local sales or use taxes, transportation or shipping costs, or preparatory or delivery costs, multiplied by the following percentage based on year of service of the vehicle since last sale. The latest purchase year shall be considered the first year of service.

(a) The department shall determine a value using any information that may be available, including any guidebook, report, or compendium of recognized standing in the automotive industry or the selling price and year of sale of the vehicle. The department may use an appraisal by the county assessor. In valuing a vehicle for which the current value or selling price is not indicative of the value of similar vehicles of the same year and model, the department shall establish a value that more closely represents the average value of similar vehicles of the same year and model.

(b) The value determined in (a) of this subsection shall be divided by the applicable percentage listed in this subsection to establish a value equivalent to a manufacturer's base suggested retail price. The applicable percentage shall be based on the year of service of the vehicle for which the value is determined.

The excise tax hereby imposed shall be collected for each registration year (~~(PROVIDED, That)~~). The excise tax upon a motor vehicle licensed for the first time in this state ((after the last day of any registration month)) shall ((only)) be levied for ((the remaining months of the registration year including the month in which the motor vehicle is being licensed)) one full registration year commencing on the date of the calendar year designated by the department and ending on the same date of the next succeeding calendar year. A motor vehicle shall be deemed licensed for the first time in this state when such vehicle was not previously licensed by this state for the registration year immediately preceding the registration year in which the application for license is made or when the vehicle has been registered in another jurisdiction subsequent to any prior registration in this state.

No additional tax shall be imposed under this chapter upon any vehicle upon the transfer of ownership thereof if the tax imposed with respect to such vehicle has already been paid for the registration year or fraction of a registration year in which transfer of ownership occurs.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 305. A new section is added to chapter 82.44 RCW to read as follows:

If the department determines a value for a motor vehicle under section 303 of this act equivalent to a manufacturer's base suggested retail price or the value of a truck-type power or trailing unit under section 303(2) of this act, any person who pays the tax under this chapter for that vehicle may appeal the valuation to the department under chapter 34.05 RCW. If the taxpayer is successful on appeal, the department shall refund the excess tax in the manner provided in RCW 82.44.120.

Sec. 306. Section 82.44.110, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 7, chapter 9, Laws of 1987 1st ex. sess. and RCW 82.44.110 are each amended to read as follows:

The county auditor shall regularly, when remitting license fee receipts, pay over and account to the director of licensing for the excise taxes collected under the provisions of this chapter. The director shall forthwith transmit the excise taxes to the state treasurer (~~((ninety-eight percent of which excise tax revenue shall upon receipt thereof be credited by the state treasurer to the general fund, and two percent of which excise tax revenue shall be credited by the state treasurer to the motor vehicle fund to defray administrative and other expenses incurred by the state department of licensing in the collection of the excise tax: PROVIDED, That:~~

~~(1) One hundred percent of the proceeds of the additional tax imposed by RCW 82.44.020(2) shall be credited by the state treasurer to the Puget Sound capital construction account in the motor vehicle fund.~~

(2) 8.15 percent into the Puget Sound capital construction account in the motor vehicle fund.

(3) 4.07 percent into the Puget Sound ferry operations account in the motor vehicle fund.

(4) 8.83 percent into the general fund to be distributed under section 309 of this act.

(5) 4.75 percent into the municipal sales and use tax equalization account in the general fund created in RCW 82.14.210.

(6) 1.60 percent into the county sales and use tax equalization account in the general fund created in RCW 82.14.200.

Sec. 307. Section 82.44.120, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 2, chapter 68, Laws of 1989 and RCW 82.44.120 are each amended to read as follows:

Whenever any person has paid a motor vehicle license fee, and together therewith has paid an excise tax imposed under the provisions of this chapter, and the director of licensing determines that the payor is entitled to a refund of the entire amount of the license fee as provided by law, then ~~then~~ the payor shall also be entitled to a refund of the entire excise tax collected under the provisions of this chapter. In case the director determines that any person is entitled to a refund of only a part of the license fee so paid, the payor shall be entitled to a refund of the difference, if any, between the excise tax collected and that which should have been collected ~~((and the state treasurer shall determine the amount of such refund by reference to the applicable excise tax schedule prepared by the department of revenue in cooperation with the department of licensing)).~~

In any case where due to error, a person has been required to pay an excise tax pursuant to this chapter and a vehicle license fee pursuant to Title 46 RCW which amounts to an overpayment of ten dollars or more, such person shall be entitled to a refund of the entire amount of such overpayment, regardless of whether or not a refund of the overpayment has been requested. Conversely, if due to error, the department or its agents has failed to collect the full amount of the license fee and excise tax due, which underpayment is in the amount of ten dollars or more, the department shall charge and collect such additional amount as will constitute full payment of the tax.

If the department approves the claim it shall notify the state treasurer to that effect, and the treasurer shall make such approved refunds and the other refunds herein provided for from the general fund and shall mail or deliver the same to the person entitled thereto.

Any person making any false statement under which he or she obtains any amount of refund to which he or she is not entitled under the provisions of this section is guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

Sec. 308. Section 1, chapter 18, Laws of 1988 and RCW 82.44.150 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The director of licensing shall, on the twenty-fifth day of February, May, August, and November of each year, ~~((commencing with November, 1991;))~~ advise the state treasurer of the total amount of motor vehicle excise taxes remitted to the department ~~((of licensing))~~ during the preceding calendar quarter ending on the last day of March, June, September, and December, respectively, except for those payable under RCW ~~((82.44.020(6) and))~~ 82.44.030, from motor vehicle owners residing within each municipality which has levied a tax under RCW 35.58.273, which amount of excise taxes shall be determined by the director as follows:

The total amount of motor vehicle excise taxes remitted to the department, except those payable under RCW ~~((82.44.020(6) and))~~ 82.44.030, from each county shall be multiplied by a

The product of this computation shall be the amount of excise taxes from motor vehicle owners residing within such municipality or portion thereof. Where the municipality levying a tax under RCW 35.58.273 is located in more than one county, the above computation shall be made by county, and the combined products shall provide the total amount of motor vehicle excise taxes from motor vehicle owners residing in the municipality as a whole. Population figures required for these computations shall be supplied to the director by the office of financial management, who shall adjust the fraction annually.

(2) On the first day of the months of January, April, July, and October of each year, the state treasurer based upon information provided by the department ~~((of licensing))~~ shall, ~~from motor vehicle excise taxes deposited in the general fund, under RCW 82.44.110(7),~~ make the following ~~((apportionment and distribution of motor vehicle excise taxes deposited in the general fund except taxes collected under RCW 82.44.020(6)):~~

~~(b) To the central Puget Sound public transportation account created in section 312 of this act, for revenues distributed after December 31, 1992, within a class AA county or within a class A county contiguous to a class AA county, a sum equal to the difference between (i) the special excise tax levied and collected under RCW 35.58.273 by those municipalities authorized to levy and collect a special excise tax subject to the requirements of subsections (3) and (4) of this section and (ii) the special excise tax that the municipality would otherwise have been eligible to levy and collect at a tax rate of .815 percent and been able to match with locally generated tax revenues, other than the excise tax imposed under RCW 35.58.273, budgeted for any public transportation purpose. Before this deposit, the sum shall be reduced by an amount equal to the amount distributed under (a) of this subsection for each of the municipalities within the counties to which this subsection (2)(b) applies; however, any transfer under this subsection (2)(b) must be greater than zero;~~

~~(c) To the public transportation systems account created in section 312 of this act, for revenues distributed after December 31, 1992, within counties not described in (b) of this subsection, a sum equal to the difference between (i) the special excise tax levied and collected under RCW 35.58.273 by those municipalities authorized to levy and collect a special excise tax subject to the requirements of subsections (3) and (4) of this section and (ii) the special excise tax that the municipality would otherwise have been eligible to levy and collect at a tax rate of .815 percent and been able to match with locally generated tax revenues, other than the excise tax imposed under RCW 35.58.273, budgeted for any public transportation purpose. Before this deposit, the sum shall be reduced by an amount equal to the amount distributed under (a) of this subsection for each of the municipalities within the counties to which this subsection (2)(c) applies; however, any transfer under this subsection (2)(c) must be greater than zero; and~~

~~(d) To the transportation fund created in section 312 of this act, for revenues distributed after June 30, 1991, a sum equal to the difference between (i) the special excise tax levied and collected under RCW 35.58.273 by those municipalities authorized to levy and collect a special excise tax subject to the requirements of subsections (3) and (4) of this section and (ii) the special excise tax that the municipality would otherwise have been eligible to levy and collect at a tax rate of .815 percent notwithstanding the requirements set forth in subsections (3) through (6) of this section, reduced by an amount equal to distributions made under (a), (b), and (c) of this subsection.~~

~~(3) (The amount payable to cities and towns shall be apportioned among the several cities and towns within the state according to the following formula:~~

~~(a) Sixty-five percent of the sum specified in subsection (2) of this section to be paid to cities and towns shall be apportioned ratably on the basis of population as last determined by the office of financial management;~~

Any municipality that has not submitted the report by April 1 shall cease to be eligible to receive motor vehicle excise taxes under subsection ~~((5))~~ (3) of this section until the report is received by the director of licensing. In no event may the amount remitted for a calendar year exceed the amount collected on behalf of the municipality under RCW 35.58.273 during that same calendar year. At the time of the next fiscal audit of each municipality, the state auditor shall verify the accuracy of the report submitted and notify the director of licensing of any discrepancies.

~~((7))~~ (5) The motor vehicle excise taxes imposed under RCW 35.58.273 and required to be remitted under this section shall be remitted without legislative appropriation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 309. A new section is added to chapter 82.44 RCW to read as follows:

When distributions are made under RCW 82.44.150, the state treasurer shall apportion and distribute the motor vehicle excise taxes deposited into the general fund under RCW 82.44.110(4) to the cities and towns ratably on the basis of population as last determined by the office of financial management. When so apportioned, the amount payable to each such city and town shall be transmitted to the city treasurer thereof, and shall be used by the city or town for the purposes of police and fire protection and the preservation of the public health in the city or town, and not otherwise. If it is adjudged that revenue derived from the excise tax imposed by this chapter cannot lawfully be apportioned or distributed to cities or towns, all moneys directed by this section to be apportioned and distributed to cities and towns shall be credited and transferred to the state general fund.

Sec. 310. Section 82.44.160, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 7, chapter 54, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. and RCW 82.44.160 are each amended to read as follows:

Sixty-five percent of the annual deduction shall be from the distribution to cities and towns under section 309 of this act, and thirty-five percent of the annual deduction shall be from the distribution to the municipal sales and use tax equalization account under RCW 82.14.210. The municipal research council may contract with and allocate moneys to any state agency, educational institution, or private consulting firm, which in its judgment is qualified to carry on a municipal research and service program. The remaining thirty-five percent shall be deposited into the municipal sales and use tax equalization account.

Sec. 311. Section 22, chapter 380, Laws of 1985 as amended by section 56, chapter 244, Laws of 1987 and RCW 82.44.170 are each amended to read as follows:

For each IRP jurisdiction that cannot report to the director the sums of dollars that are collected for the motor vehicle excise tax pursuant to chapter 82.44 RCW separately from other vehicle licensing fees pursuant to RCW 46.16.070 and 46.16.085, the director shall distribute ((~~thirty-six~~) thirty-three) percent of the total fees collected as reported on the IRP vehicle registration recap information forwarded to the director by such jurisdiction pursuant to RCW 82.44.110, until such time as such jurisdiction begins reporting excise tax amounts separately from other vehicle licensing fees. The remainder of the fees collected shall be distributed in accordance with RCW 46.68.035.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 312. A new section is added to chapter 82.44 RCW to read as follows:

Sec. 313. Section 21, chapter 49, Laws of 1982 1st ex. sess. as last amended by section 82, chapter 57, Laws of 1985 and RCW 82.14.200 are each amended to read as follows:

There is created in the state treasury a special account to be known as the "county sales and use tax equalization account." Into this account shall be placed a portion of all motor vehicle excise tax receipts as provided in RCW ((~~82.44.50(2)~~) 82.44.110(6)). Funds in this account shall be allocated by the state treasurer according to the following procedure:

(1) Prior to April 1st of each year the director of revenue shall inform the state treasurer of the total and the per capita levels of revenues for the unincorporated area of each county and the state-wide weighted average per capita level of revenues for the unincorporated areas of all counties imposing the sales and use tax authorized under RCW 82.14.030(1) for the previous calendar year.

(2) At such times as distributions are made under RCW 82.44.150, as now or hereafter amended, the state treasurer shall apportion to each county imposing the sales and use tax under RCW 82.14.030(1) at the maximum rate and receiving less than one hundred fifty thousand dollars from the tax for the previous calendar year, an amount from the county sales and use tax equalization account sufficient, when added to the amount of revenues received the previous calendar year by the county, to equal one hundred fifty thousand dollars.

The department of revenue shall establish a governmental price index as provided in this subsection. The base year for the index shall be the end of the third quarter of 1982. Prior to November 1, 1983, and prior to each November 1st thereafter, the department of revenue shall establish another index figure for the third quarter of that year. The department of revenue may use the implicit price deflators for state and local government purchases of goods and services calculated by the United States department of commerce to establish the governmental price index. Beginning on January 1, 1984, and each January 1st thereafter, the one hundred fifty thousand dollar base figure in this subsection shall be adjusted in direct proportion to the percentage change in the governmental price index from 1982 until the year before the adjustment. Distributions made under this subsection for 1984 and thereafter shall use this adjusted base amount figure.

(3) Subsequent to the distributions under subsection (2) of this section and at such times as distributions are made under RCW 82.44.150, as now or hereafter amended, the state treasurer shall apportion to each county imposing the sales and use tax under RCW 82.14.030(1) at the maximum rate and receiving less than seventy percent of the state-wide weighted average per capita level of revenues for the unincorporated areas of all counties as determined by the department of revenue under subsection (1) of this section, an amount from the county sales and use tax equalization account sufficient, when added to the per capita level of revenues for the unincorporated area received the previous calendar year by the county, to equal seventy percent of the state-wide weighted average per capita level of revenues for the unincorporated areas of all counties determined under subsection (1) of this section, subject to reduction under subsections (6) and (7) of this section. When computing distributions under this section, any distribution under subsection (2) of this section shall be considered revenues received from the tax imposed under RCW 82.14.030(1) for the previous calendar year.

(4) Subsequent to the distributions under subsection (3) of this section and at such times as distributions are made under RCW 82.44.150, as now or hereafter amended, the state treasurer shall apportion to each county imposing the sales and use tax under RCW 82.14.030(2) at the maximum rate and receiving a distribution under subsection (2) of this section, a third distribution from the county sales and use tax equalization account. The distribution to each qualifying county shall be equal to the distribution to the county under subsection (2) of this section, subject to the reduction under subsections (6) and (7) of this section. To qualify for the total distribution under this subsection, the county must impose the tax under RCW 82.14.030(2) for the entire calendar year. Counties imposing the tax for less than the full year shall qualify for prorated allocations under this subsection proportionate to the number of months of the year during which the tax is imposed.

(5) Subsequent to the distributions under subsection (4) of this section and at such times as distributions are made under RCW 82.44.150, as now or hereafter amended, the state treasurer shall apportion to each county imposing the sales and use tax under RCW 82.14.030(2) at the maximum rate and receiving a distribution under subsection (3) of this section, a fourth distribution from the county sales and use tax equalization account. The distribution to each qualifying county shall be equal to the distribution to the county under subsection (3) of this section, subject to the reduction under subsections (6) and (7) of this section. To qualify for the distributions under this subsection, the county must impose the tax under RCW 82.14.030(2) for the entire calendar year. Counties imposing the tax for less than the full year shall qualify for prorated allocations under this subsection proportionate to the number of months of the year during which the tax is imposed.

(6) Revenues distributed under this section in any calendar year shall not exceed an amount equal to seventy percent of the state-wide weighted average per capita level of revenues for the unincorporated areas of all counties during the previous calendar year. If distributions under subsections (3) through (5) of this section cannot be made because of this limitation, then distributions under subsections (3) through (5) of this section shall be reduced ratably among the qualifying counties.

(7) If inadequate revenues exist in the county sales and use tax equalization account to make the distributions under subsections (3) through (5) of this section, then the distributions under subsections (3) through (5) of this section shall be reduced ratably among the qualifying counties. At such time during the year as additional funds accrue to the county sales and use tax equalization account, additional distributions shall be made under subsections (3) through (5) of this section to the counties.

(8) If the level of revenues in the county sales and use tax equalization account exceeds the amount necessary to make the distributions under subsections (2) through (5) of this section, then the additional revenues shall be credited and transferred to the state general fund.

(9) All earnings of investments of balances in the county sales and use tax equalization account shall be credited to the general fund.

Sec. 314. Section 22, chapter 49, Laws of 1982 1st ex. sess. as last amended by section 83, chapter 57, Laws of 1985 and RCW 82.14.210 are each amended to read as follows:

There is created in the state treasury a special account to be known as the "municipal sales and use tax equalization account." Into this account shall be placed such revenues as are provided under RCW ~~((82.44.150(3)(b)))~~ 82.44.110(5). Funds in this account shall be allocated by the state treasurer according to the following procedure:

(1) Prior to April 1st of each year the director of revenue shall inform the state treasurer of the total and the per capita levels of revenues for each city and the state-wide weighted average per capita level of revenues for all cities imposing the sales and use tax authorized under RCW 82.14.030(1) for the previous calendar year.

(2) At such times as distributions are made under RCW 82.44.150, as now or hereafter amended, the state treasurer shall apportion to each city not imposing the sales and use tax under RCW 82.14.030(2) an amount from the municipal sales and use tax equalization account equal to the amount distributed to the city under ~~((RCW 82.44.150(3)(a)))~~ section 309 of this act multiplied by thirty-five sixty-fifths.

(3) Subsequent to the distributions under subsection (2) of this section, and at such times as distributions are made under RCW 82.44.150, as now or hereafter amended, the state treasurer shall apportion to each city imposing the sales and use tax under RCW 82.14.030(1) at the maximum rate and receiving less than seventy percent of the state-wide weighted average per capita level of revenues for all cities as determined by the department of revenue under subsection (1) of this section, an amount from the municipal sales and use tax equalization account sufficient, when added to the per capita level of revenues received the previous calendar year by the city, to equal seventy percent of the state-wide weighted average per capita level of revenues for all cities determined under subsection (1) of this section, subject to reduction under subsection (5) of this section.

(4) Subsequent to the distributions under subsection (3) of this section, and at such times as distributions are made under RCW 82.44.150, as now or hereafter amended, the state treasurer shall apportion to each city imposing the sales and use tax under RCW 82.14.030(2) at the maximum rate and receiving a distribution under subsection (3) of this section, a third distribution from the municipal sales and use tax equalization account. The distribution to each qualifying city shall be equal to the distribution to the city under subsection (3) of this section, subject to the reduction under subsection (5) of this section. To qualify for the distributions under this subsection, the city must impose the tax under RCW 82.14.030(2) for the entire calendar year. Cities imposing the tax for less than the full year shall qualify for prorated allocations under this subsection proportionate to the number of months of the year during which the tax is imposed.

(5) If inadequate revenues exist in the municipal sales and use tax equalization account to make the distributions under subsection (3) or (4) of this section, then the distributions under subsection (3) or (4) of this section shall be reduced ratably among the qualifying cities. At such time during the year as additional funds accrue to the municipal sales and use tax equalization account, additional distributions shall be made under subsections (3) and (4) of this section to the cities.

(6) If the level of revenues in the municipal sales and use tax equalization account exceeds the amount necessary to make the distributions under subsections (2) through (4) of this section, then the additional revenues shall be apportioned among the several cities within the state ratably on the basis of population as last determined by the office of financial management: PROVIDED, That no such distribution shall be made to those cities receiving a distribution under subsection (2) of this section.

(7) For a city or town initially incorporated on or after January 1, 1983, at the time distributions are made under subsection (3) of this section, the state treasurer shall place into a separate designated account for such city or town a pro rata amount of the revenues received under RCW ~~((82.44.150(3)(b)))~~ 82.44.110(5) equal to the city's or town's population multiplied by the amount of equalization funds to which the city or town would be entitled if its per capita yield the previous calendar year were zero. Such account shall take effect on January 1st of the first full calendar year during which the city or town imposes the taxes authorized by RCW 82.14.030(1) and shall cease to exist on December 31st of that year.

(8) All earnings of investments of balances in the municipal sales and use tax equalization account shall be credited to the general fund.

At the time that sales and use tax distributions are made pursuant to RCW 82.14.060, the revenues in such designated account shall be added to the city's or town's sales and use tax distributions so as to provide to such city or town an amount which reflects what such jurisdiction's entitlement from the municipal sales and use tax equalization account would have been if the actual distributions of sales and use tax revenues to such city or town had been received the previous full calendar year. Any excess revenues remaining in such designated account upon its expiration shall be apportioned according to subsection (6) of this section. If the department of revenue determines during the year that any funds in the designated account are not necessary for the purposes of distribution under this subsection, the department may deposit those funds in the municipal sales and use tax equalization account to be apportioned according to subsection (6) of this section.

- (g) The effect of proposed fares in promoting all types of ferry use during nonpeak periods;
- (h) Such other factors as prudent managers of a major ferry system would consider.

(4) If at any time during the biennium it appears that projected toll revenues from the ferry system, together with the ~~((appropriation))~~ transfer from the Puget Sound ferry operations account to the ferry system revolving account and any other operating subsidy available to the Washington state ferries, will be less than the projected total cost of maintenance and operation of the Washington state ferries for the biennium, the department shall forthwith undertake a review of its schedule of charges to ascertain whether or not the schedule of charges should be revised. The department shall, upon completion of its review report, submit its recommendation to the transportation commission which may in its sound discretion revise the schedule of charges as required to meet necessary maintenance and operation expenditures of the ferry system for the biennium or may defer action until the regular annual review and revision of ferry charges as provided in subsection (2) of this section.

(5) The provisions of RCW 47.60.330 relating to public participation shall apply to the process of revising ferry tolls under this section.

Sec. 407. Section 3, chapter 9, Laws of 1961 ex. sess. as last amended by section 4, chapter 66, Laws of 1986 and RCW 47.60.420 are each amended to read as follows:

To the extent that all revenues from the Washington state ferry system ~~((and the Hood Canal bridge))~~ available therefor are insufficient to provide for the payment of principal and interest on the bonds authorized and issued under RCW 47.60.400 through 47.60.470 and for sinking fund requirements established with respect thereto and for payment into such reserves as the department has established with respect to the securing of the bonds, there is imposed a first and prior charge against the Puget Sound capital construction account of the motor vehicle fund created by RCW 47.60.505 and, to the extent required, against all revenues required by RCW 46.68.100 to be deposited in the Puget Sound capital construction account.

To the extent that the revenues from the Washington state ferry system ~~((and the Hood Canal bridge))~~ available therefor are insufficient to meet required payments of principal and interest on bonds, sinking fund requirements, and payments into reserves, the department shall use moneys in the Puget Sound capital construction account for such purpose. ~~((Any moneys from the Puget Sound capital construction account used by the department to pay the obligations shall be repaid by the department to the motor vehicle fund from tolls of the Washington state ferry system and the Hood Canal bridge, and tolls shall be continued for any required additional length of time necessary for this purpose.))~~

Sec. 408. Section 5, chapter 9, Laws of 1961 ex. sess. as last amended by section 6, chapter 66, Laws of 1986 and RCW 47.60.440 are each amended to read as follows:

The Washington state ferry system shall be efficiently managed, operated, and maintained as a revenue-producing undertaking. Subject to the provisions of RCW 47.60.326 the commission shall maintain and revise from time to time as necessary a schedule of tolls and charges on said ferry system and, if necessary to comply with bond covenants, on the Hood Canal bridge which together with any moneys in the Puget Sound ferry operations account ~~((appropriated))~~ transferred to the ferry system revolving account for maintenance and operation and all moneys in the Puget Sound capital construction account available for debt service will produce net revenue available for debt service, in each fiscal year, in an amount at least equal to minimum annual debt service requirements as hereinafter provided. Minimum annual debt service requirements as used in this section shall include required payments of principal and interest, sinking fund requirements, and payments into reserves on all outstanding revenue bonds authorized by RCW 47.60.400 through 47.60.470.

The provisions of law relating to the revision of tolls and charges to meet minimum annual debt service requirements from net revenues as required by this section shall be binding upon the commission but shall not be deemed to constitute a contract to that effect for the benefit of the holders of such bonds.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 409. A new section is added to chapter 47.60 RCW to read as follows:

Notwithstanding the provisions of RCW 47.56.240 and 47.56.245 the transportation commission shall not collect tolls on the Hood Canal bridge for any purpose except where necessary to comply with bond covenants.

The annual additional tonnage permits provided for in this section shall be issued upon such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by the department pursuant to general rules adopted by the transportation commission. For those vehicles registered under chapter 46.16 RCW and whose registration has staggered renewal dates, the annual additional tonnage permits may be issued to coincide with the expiration date of the registration. The permits may be purchased at any time, and if they are purchased for less than a full year, the fee shall be one-twelfth of the full fee multiplied by the number of months, including any fraction thereof, covered by the permit.

When the department issues a duplicate permit to replace a lost or destroyed permit and where the department transfers a permit from one vehicle to another a fee of ~~((ten))~~ twelve dollars and fifty cents shall be charged for each duplicate issued or each transfer. NEW SECTION, Sec. 1. The legislature finds that the industrial and manufacturing base of the Washington economy has undergone tremendous change during the past two decades. The challenge facing Washington firms is to become as productive and efficient as possible to survive in an increasingly competitive world market. Many of the state's communities are dependent on one or two industries. Many firms are heavily reliant on the defense expenditures of the federal government. It is the intent of the legislature to assist communities in planning for economic change, developing a broader economic base, and preparing for any shift in federal priorities that could cause a reduction in federal expenditures, and assist firms by providing information and technical assistance necessary for them to introduce new products or production processes.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 2. The community diversification program is created in the department of community development. The program shall include:

(1) The monitoring and forecasting of shifts in the economic prospects of major defense employers in the state. This shall include but not be limited to the monitoring of defense contract expenditures, other federal contracts, defense employment shifts, the aircraft and aerospace industry, computer products, and electronics;

(2) The identification of cities, counties, or regions within the state that are primarily dependent on defense or other federal contracting and the identification of firms dependent on federal defense contracts;

(3) Assistance to communities in broadening the local economic base through the provision of management assistance, assistance in financing, entrepreneurial training, and assistance to businesses in using off-the-shelf technology to start new production processes or introduce new products;

(4) Formulating a state plan for diversification in defense dependent communities in collaboration with the employment security department, the department of trade and economic development, and the office of financial management. The plan shall use the information made available through carrying out subsections (1) and (2) of this section; and

(5) The identification of diversification efforts conducted by other states, the federal government, and other nations, and the provision of information on these efforts, as well as information gained through carrying out subsections (1) and (2) of this section, to firms, communities, and workforces that are defense dependent.

The department shall, beginning January 1, 1992, report annually to the governor and the legislature on the activities of the community diversification program.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 3. The advisory council on economic diversification is created to provide advice to the department of community development in carrying out its community diversification program. The governor shall appoint two members from the business community, one of whom shall be a representative of a defense dependent firm; two employee representatives of defense dependent firms, one of whom shall be from a labor union; two members from community organizations active in economic diversification efforts; two members from local governments, from communities dependent on defense expenditures; one member with expertise in economic diversification; one member representing the financial institutions of the state; and one member representing military leadership in the state. Four members of the advisory council shall be from the legislature, one from each political caucus of the senate to be appointed by the president of the senate, and one from each political caucus of the house of representatives to be appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives. The director of the department of community development or the director's designee shall serve as the nonvoting chairperson of the advisory council.

Members of the council other than the chair shall serve for two-year terms. Vacancies shall be filled in the same manner as the original appointments. Members of the council shall receive no compensation but shall be reimbursed for travel expenses under RCW 43.03.050 and RCW 43.03.060. The department of community development shall assign staff to the council as necessary to carry out the purposes of this chapter.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 4. If specific funding for the purposes of this act, referencing this act by bill number, is not provided by June 30, 1990, in the supplemental omnibus appropriations act, this act shall be null and void.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 5. Sections 2 and 3 of this act are each added to chapter 43.63A RCW.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 6. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 7. A new section is added to chapter 43.131 RCW to read as follows:

The community diversification program and the advisory council on economic diversification shall be terminated on June 30, 1996, as provided in section 8 of this act.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 8. A new section is added to chapter 43.131 RCW to read as follows:

The following acts, or parts of acts, as now existing or as hereafter amended, are each repealed, effective June 30, 1997:

"Sec. 1. Section 1, chapter 259, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. and RCW 48.32A.010 are each amended to read as follows:

The purpose of this chapter is the creation of funds arising from assessments upon all insurers authorized to transact life or disability insurance business in the state of Washington, to be used to assure to the extent prescribed herein the performance of the insurance contractual obligations of insurers becoming insolvent to residents of this state (~~and, in the case of domestic insurers, to residents of other jurisdictions as well~~), and to promote thereby the stability of domestic insurers. In the judgment of the legislature, the foregoing purpose not being capable of accomplishment by a corporation created under general laws, the creation of the nonprofit association hereinafter in this chapter described is deemed essential for the protection of the general welfare.

Sec. 2. Section 2, chapter 259, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. and RCW 48.32A.020 are each amended to read as follows:

This chapter shall apply as follows to life insurance policies, disability insurance policies, and annuity contracts of liquidating insurers, other than separate account variable policies and contracts authorized by chapter 48.18A RCW:

The place of residence or domicile shall be determined as of the date of entry of the order of liquidation against the insurer.

~~((3)))~~ (2) To policies and contracts only of insolvent insurers with respect to which an order of liquidation is entered after May 21, 1971.

~~((4)))~~ (3) The obligations of the association created under this chapter shall apply only as to contractual obligations of the insurer under insurance policies and annuity contracts, and shall be no greater than such obligations of the insolvent insurer at the time of entry of the order of liquidation ~~((except that the association shall have no liability with respect to any portions of such policies or contracts to the extent that the death benefit coverage on any one life exceeds an aggregate of three hundred thousand dollars:~~

~~((5)))~~ This chapter shall not apply to fraternal benefit societies, health care service contractors, or to insurance or liability assumed by the liquidating insurer under a contract of reinsurance other than of bulk reinsurance). However, the liability of the association shall in no event exceed:

(a) With respect to any one life, regardless of the number of policies or contracts:

(i) Five hundred thousand dollars in life insurance death benefits, including any net cash surrender and net cash withdrawal values for life insurance;

(ii) Five hundred thousand dollars in disability insurance benefits, including any net cash surrender and net cash withdrawal values; or

(iii) Five hundred thousand dollars in the present value of allocated annuity benefits and annuities established under section 403(b) of the United States internal revenue code.

The association shall not be liable to expend more than five hundred thousand dollars in the aggregate with respect to any one individual under this subsection; or

(b) With respect to any one contract owner covered by any unallocated annuity contract, including governmental retirement plans established under section 401 or 457 of the United States internal revenue code, five million dollars in benefits, irrespective of the number of such contracts held by that contract owner.

(4) This chapter shall not apply to:

Sec. 3. Section 3, chapter 259, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. and RCW 48.32A.030 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The association shall, subject to such terms and conditions as it may impose with the approval of the commissioner, assume, reinsure, or guarantee the performance of the policies and contracts, for a resident of the state, of any domestic life or disability insurer with respect to which an order of liquidation has been entered by any court of general jurisdiction in the state of Washington, and shall have power to receive, own, and administer any assets acquired in connection with such assumption, reinsurance, or guaranty. The association, as to any such policy or contract under which there is no default in payment of premiums subsequent to such assumption, reinsurance, or guaranty, shall make or cause to be made prompt payment of the benefits due under the terms of the policy or contract.

(2) The association shall make or cause to be made payment of the death, endowment, or disability insurance or annuity benefits due under the terms of each policy or contract insuring the life or health of, or providing annuity or other benefits for, a resident of this state which was issued or assumed by a foreign or alien insurer with respect to which an order of liquidation has been entered by a court of competent jurisdiction in the state or country of its domicile.

(3) In determining benefits to be paid with respect to the policies and contracts of a particular liquidating insurer the board may give due consideration to amounts reasonably recoverable or deductible because of the contingent liability, if any, of policyholders of the insurer (if a mutual insurer) or recoverable because of the assessment liability, if any, of the insurer's stockholders (if a stock insurer).

(4) With respect to an insolvent domestic insurer, the board shall have power to petition the court in which the delinquency proceedings are pending for, and the court shall have authority to order and effectuate, such modifications in the terms, benefits, values, and premiums thereafter to be in effect of policies and contracts of the insurer as may reasonably be necessary to effect a bulk reinsurance of such policies and contract in a solvent insurer.

In the event, after the entry of an order of liquidation, an assessment on the members is necessary to increase the assets of the insolvent company to an extent that a bulk reinsurance of such policies may be effected, the court shall have authority to order such assessment.

(5) In addition to any other rights of the association acquired by assignment or otherwise, the association shall be subrogated to the rights of any person entitled to receive benefits under this chapter against the liquidating insurer, or the receiver, rehabilitator, liquidator, or conservator, as the case may be, under the policy or contract with respect to which a payment is made or guaranteed, or obligation assumed by the association pursuant to this section, and the association may require an assignment to it of such rights by any such persons as a condition precedent to the receipt by such person of payment of any benefits under this chapter.

(6) For the purpose of carrying out its obligations under this chapter, the association shall be deemed to be a creditor of the liquidating insurer to the extent of assets attributable to covered policies and contracts reduced by any amounts to which the association is entitled as a subrogee. All assets of the liquidating insurer attributable to covered policies and contracts shall be used to continue all covered policies and contracts and pay all contractual obligations of the liquidating insurer as required by this chapter. Assets attributable to covered policies and contracts, as used in this subsection, are those in that proportion of the assets which the reserves that should have been established for such policies and contracts bear to the reserves that should have been established for all insurances written by the liquidating insurer.

(7) The association shall have the power to petition the superior court for an order appointing the commissioner as receiver of a domestic insurer upon any of the grounds set forth in RCW 48.31.030.

Sec. 5. Section 8, chapter 259, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. as amended by section 5, chapter 119, Laws of 1975-'76 2nd ex. sess. and RCW 48.32A.080 are each amended to read as follows:

(iii) The unallocated annuity subaccount;

(b) The disability insurance account; and

(2) For the purpose of providing the funds necessary to carry out the powers and duties of the association, the board shall assess the member insurers, separately for each account, at such times and for such amounts as the board finds necessary. The board shall collect the assessment after thirty days written notice to the member insurers before payment is due. The board may charge reasonable interest for delinquent payment of the assessment.

(3) (a) The amount of any assessment for each account and subaccount shall be determined by the board, and shall be divided among the accounts and subaccounts in the proportion that the premiums received by the liquidating insurer on the policies or contracts covered by each account and subaccount bears to the premiums received by such insurer on all covered policies and contracts.

(b) Assessments against member insurers for each account and subaccount shall be in the proportion that the premiums received on business in this state by each assessed member insurer on policies or contracts covered by each account or subaccount bears to such premiums received on business in this state by all assessed member insurers.

(c) Assessments for funds to meet the requirements of the association with respect to a particular liquidating insurer shall not be made until necessary, in the board's opinion, to implement the purposes of this chapter; and in no event shall such an assessment be made with respect to such insurer until an order of liquidation has been entered against the insurer by a court of competent jurisdiction of the insurer's state or country of domicile. Computation of assessments under this subsection shall be made with a reasonable degree of accuracy, recognizing that exact determination may not always be possible.

(d) The board may make an assessment of up to one hundred fifty dollars for each member insurer to be deposited in the general account and used for administrative and general expenses in carrying out the provisions of this chapter.

(4) ~~((The association may abate or defer, in whole or in part, the assessment of a member insurer if, in the opinion of the board, payment of the assessment would endanger the ability of the insurer to fulfill its contractual obligations. The total of all assessments upon a member insurer for each account shall not in any one calendar year exceed two percent of such insurer's premiums in this state on the policies or contracts covered by the account))~~ (a) The total of all assessments upon a member insurer for the life and annuity account and for each subaccount shall not in any one calendar year exceed two percent and for the disability account shall not in any one calendar year exceed two percent of such insurer's average premiums received in this state on the policies and contracts covered by the account during the three calendar years preceding the entry of the order of liquidation against the liquidating insurer.

(b) The board may provide a method of allocating funds among claims, whether relating to one or more impaired or insolvent insurers, when the maximum assessment will be insufficient to cover anticipated claims.

(c) If a one percent assessment for any subaccount of the life and annuity account in any one year does not provide an amount sufficient to carry out the responsibilities of the association, then pursuant to subsection (3) of this section, the board shall access all subaccounts of the life and annuity account for the necessary additional amount, subject to the maximum stated in (a) of this subsection.

(5) The association may abate or defer, in whole or in part, the assessment of a member insurer if, in the opinion of the board, payment of the assessment would endanger the ability of the insurer to fulfill its contractual obligations. In the event an assessment against a member insurer is abated or deferred, in whole or in part, ((because of the limitations set forth in subsection (4) of this section;)) the amount by which such assessment is abated or deferred may be assessed against the other member insurers in a manner consistent with the basis for assessments set forth in this section. If the maximum assessment, together with the other assets of the association in an account, does not provide in any one year an amount sufficient to carry out the responsibilities of the association with respect to such account, the necessary additional funds shall be assessed as soon thereafter as permitted by this chapter.

(6) The amount in a fund shall be kept at such a sum as in the opinion of the board will enable the association to meet the immediate obligations and liabilities of such fund. Whenever in the opinion of the board the amount in a fund is in excess of such immediate obligations and liabilities, with the approval of the commissioner the association may distribute such excess by retirement of certificates previously issued against the fund. Such distribution shall be made pro rata upon the basis of outstanding certificates, except that by unanimous consent of all directors and with the approval of the commissioner any other reasonable method of retirement of such certificates may be adopted.

(7) As used in this section, "premiums" are those for the calendar year preceding the entry of the order of liquidation as to a particular liquidating insurer, and shall be direct gross insurance premiums and annuity considerations received on policies and contracts to which this chapter applies, less return premiums and considerations and less dividends paid or credited to policyholders.

(8) Upon dissolution of a fund by the repeal of this chapter or otherwise, the fund shall be distributed in the same manner as is provided for the repayment or retirement of certificates. If the amount in the fund at the time of dissolution is in excess of outstanding certificates issued against the fund, such excess shall be distributed among contributing member insurers in such equitable manner as is approved by the commissioner.

Sec. 6. Section 9, chapter 259, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. as last amended by section 2, chapter 183, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 48.32A.090 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The association shall issue to each insurer paying an assessment under this chapter certificates of contribution, in appropriate form and terms as prescribed or approved by the commissioner, for the amounts so paid into the respective funds. All outstanding certificates against a particular fund shall be of equal dignity and priority without reference to amounts or dates of issue.

(2) An outstanding certificate of contribution shall be shown by the insurer in its financial statements as an admitted asset for such amount and period of time as the commissioner may approve: PROVIDED, That unless a longer period has been allowed by the commissioner the insurer shall in any event at its option have the right to so show a certificate of contribution as an admitted asset at percentages of original face amount for calendar years as follows:

((90%)) 80% for the first calendar year after the year of issuance;

((80%)) 60% for the second calendar year after the year of issuance;

((70%)) 40% for the third calendar year after the year of issuance;

((60%)) 20% for the fourth calendar year after the year of issuance;

((50% for the fifth calendar year after the year of issuance;

40% for the sixth calendar year after the year of issuance;

30% for the seventh calendar year after the year of issuance;

20% for the eighth calendar year after the year of issuance;

10% for the ninth calendar year after the year of issuance;)) and

0% for the ((tenth)) fifth and subsequent calendar years after the year of issuance.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, if the value of a certificate of contribution is or becomes less than one thousand dollars, the entire amount may be written off by the insurer in that year.

(3) The insurer shall offset the amount written off by it in a calendar year under subsection (2) of this section against its premium tax liability to this state accrued with respect to business transacted in such year.

(4) Any sums recovered by the association representing sums which have theretofore been written off by contributing insurers and offset against premium taxes as provided in subsection (3) of this section, shall be paid by the association to the commissioner and by him deposited with the state treasurer for credit to the general fund of the state of Washington.

(5) No distribution to stockholders, if any, of a liquidating insurer shall be made unless and until the total amount of assessments levied by the association with respect to such insurer have been fully recovered by the association.

The court to which the matter is to be removed shall be the district court when such aggregate value is ten thousand dollars or less of personal property. A hearing before the seizing agency and any appeal therefrom shall be under Title 34 RCW. In a court hearing between two or more claimants to the article or articles involved, the prevailing party shall be entitled to a judgment for costs and reasonable attorney's fees. In cases involving real property, the burden of producing evidence shall be upon the law enforcement agency. The burden of proof that the seized real property is subject to forfeiture shall be upon the law enforcement agency. The seizing law enforcement agency shall promptly return the article or articles to the claimant upon a determination by the administrative law judge or court that the claimant is the present lawful owner or is lawfully entitled to possession thereof of items specified in subsection (a)(2), (a)(3), (a)(4), (a)(5), (a)(6), (a)(7), or (a)(8) of this section.

Money remaining after the payment of all expenses shall be distributed as follows:

(A) Twenty-five percent of the money derived from the forfeiture of real property and seventy-five percent of the money derived from the forfeiture of personal property shall be deposited in the general fund of the state, county, and/or city of the seizing law enforcement agency and shall be used exclusively for the expansion or improvement of law enforcement services. These services may include the creation of reward funds for the purpose of rewarding informants who supply information leading to the arrest, prosecution and conviction of persons who violate laws relating to controlled substances. Such moneys shall not supplant preexisting funding sources;

(B) Twenty-five percent of money derived from the forfeiture of real property and twenty-five percent of money derived from the forfeiture of personal property shall be remitted to the state treasurer for deposit in the public safety and education account established in RCW 43.08.250;

Such moneys shall not supplant preexisting funding sources.

(i) Money deposited according to this section must be deposited within ninety days of the date of final disposition of either the administrative seizure or the judicial seizure;

(3) Request the appropriate sheriff or director of public safety to take custody of the property and remove it for disposition in accordance with law; or

(4) Forward it to the drug enforcement administration for disposition.

(g) Controlled substances listed in Schedule I, II, III, IV, and V that are possessed, transferred, sold, or offered for sale in violation of this chapter are contraband and shall be seized and summarily forfeited to the state. Controlled substances listed in Schedule I, II, III, IV, and V, which are seized or come into the possession of the board, the owners of which are unknown, are contraband and shall be summarily forfeited to the board.

(h) Species of plants from which controlled substances in Schedules I and II may be derived which have been planted or cultivated in violation of this chapter, or of which the owners or cultivators are unknown, or which are wild growths, may be seized and summarily forfeited to the board.

(i) The failure, upon demand by a board inspector or law enforcement officer, of the person in occupancy or in control of land or premises upon which the species of plants are growing or being stored to produce an appropriate registration or proof that he is the holder thereof constitutes authority for the seizure and forfeiture of the plants.

(j) Upon the entry of an order of forfeiture of real property, the court shall forward a copy of the order to the assessor of the county in which the property is located. Orders for the forfeiture of real property shall be entered by the superior court, subject to court rules. Such an order shall be filed by the seizing agency in the county auditor's records in the county in which the real property is located."

have a PUD in my area--I only have Washington Water Power and VERA as you well know--I can not speak as to whether or not tagging actually occurred. I have no evidence."

Senator Metcalf: "That is correct."

Senator Rasmussen: "And this will do the same thing for the sea urchin?"

Senator Metcalf: "No, that was done in 1989 for the sea urchin. We passed a license limitation bill last year for sea urchins and this is just basically technical changes suggested by the administrative law judge, but we already had that function in place."

Further debate ensued.

SECOND READING

ENGROSSED HOUSE BILL NO. 2429, by Representatives R. Meyers and Scott

Establishing penalties for attempts by vessel operators to elude pursuing law enforcement vessels.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Metcalf, Engrossed House Bill No. 2429 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Metcalf, reading from the digest, it says, 'an officer can give a signal to stop by hand, voice or emergency light or siren. The officer in the vessel must be appropriately marked as an official in law enforcement.' That part is all right. The officer can give a signal by hand. What does that refer to do--can he wave his hand?"

Senator Metcalf: "We had a long discussion on that in the committee and just waving his hand wouldn't do it. He has to very clearly--and they have lights and they have horns--so they have all those things and all those things would have to be brought into play, because at night, you know, nobody could see him raise his hand anyway. They have to take full action to be sure that that operator knows what the officer is trying to get him to do."

Senator Rasmussen: "Well, I had an occasion one time when I was fishing and was pulled up along side the boat and a deputy sheriff got hold of the line and the line broke and then a fellow came dashing out of the cabin and said, 'What are you doing with my line--I'm a deputy sheriff, too,' so there were two deputy sheriffs standing there and they were waving at each other and they weren't talking very nice. That's the reason that I am wondering why you allow the wave of the hand? I can understand the lights, the siren--everybody understands that--the blue light, but waving the hand, that doesn't seem logical."

Senator Metcalf: "Well, the explanation that we had was that if the weather conditions were very turbulent or if it was at night, there is no prosecutor that would ever take a case on waving a hand. In other words, they have to use all means to be sure that the person is notified."

Senator Rasmussen: "You have more confidence than I have. Thank you."

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 2429.

MOTION

Senator West moved that the following amendments be considered simultaneously and be adopted:

On page 17, after line 6, insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. The legislature recognizes the governor's role in the state's response to the current public health crisis from alcohol and substance abuse. This includes the governor's support and assistance in passage of the omnibus drug act of 1989 and the creation of the governor's substance abuse council by executive order in 1989. The legislature intends to affirm the governor's leadership and coordinating function and strengthen current structures in state government as they relate to these efforts.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. A new section is added to Title 43 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The governor shall establish and update at least annually a comprehensive state strategy to reduce substance abuse through prevention, treatment, and enforcement efforts.

(2) The governor shall appoint an interdepartmental coordinating committee on substance abuse which shall be composed of the director of the department of community development, the secretary of corrections, the commissioner of the employment security department, the secretary of health, the director of the department of labor and industries, the secretary of social and health services, the superintendent of public instruction, the chief of the Washington state patrol, the director of the traffic safety commission, and a member of the board of health, or their designees. Additional members of the committee shall be appointed by the governor and shall represent additional state agencies or commissions as the governor deems appropriate.

The committee shall meet at least four times annually at the call of the governor, or his or her designee, who shall be its chair. The committee shall provide for the coordination of, and exchange of information on, all programs relating to alcoholism and other drug addiction, and shall act as a permanent liaison among the departments engaged in activities affecting alcoholics and other drug addicts, persons incapacitated by alcohol or other psychoactive chemicals, and intoxicated persons. The committee shall report its findings of the current state of the substance abuse problem to the governor and the legislature by September 1, 1990, and biennially thereafter based on current agency data, and advise the governor on developing and updating the comprehensive strategy.

(3) The governor may appoint a council on substance abuse. Members shall represent education, treatment, law enforcement, local government, community groups, students, private industry, labor, and others as deemed appropriate by the governor.

The council's primary responsibilities shall include:

(a) Advise the governor on issues and programs relating to substance abuse including the development and review of the comprehensive strategy;

(b) Advise and assist the governor with implementation strategies to support community efforts to reduce substance abuse; and

(c) Promote public awareness and education regarding substance abuse and actions individuals can use in response to substance abuse.

The primary thrust of the council's local efforts shall be to emphasize Washington communities working in partnership with government, labor, private industry, schools, treatment, and law enforcement so that each can identify their role and complement the roles of the others in working to minimize the causes and impacts of substance abuse through coordinated and innovative strategies.

(4) The governor may transfer or delegate any of his or her duties under this section to any operating agency deemed appropriate by the governor.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. A new section is added to chapter 36.28A RCW to read as follows:

(1) The Washington association of sheriffs and police chiefs shall establish and maintain a central repository for the collection of information on alcohol and drug related crimes and incidents. Upon establishing such a repository, the association shall develop a procedure to monitor, record, and classify information relating to alcohol and drug related crimes and incidents. The procedure may be established within the association's incident-based reporting program where such programs exist within local law enforcement agencies.

(2) The Washington association of sheriffs and police chiefs shall collect information on alcohol and drug related crimes and incidents reported by law enforcement agencies in such form and manner as prescribed by rules adopted by the association. Agency participation in the incident-based reporting program, with regard to the specific data requirements associated with alcohol and drug-related crimes and incidents, shall be deemed to meet agency reporting requirements.

(3) The Washington association of sheriffs and police chiefs shall submit an annual report to the senate law and justice and health and long-term care committees and the house of representatives judiciary and health committees by December 1 of each year beginning in 1990 summarizing the statistical results of the alcohol and drug related crimes and incidents data received.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. A new section is added to chapter 43.131 RCW to read as follows:

Renumber the sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

On page 17, line 7, after "Sec. 10." strike "This act is" and insert "Sections 1 through 9 of this act are"

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Niemi: "Mr. President, a point of order. I would request a ruling on the scope and object of these amendments. The amendments were well explained by Senator West. They deal with an amendment to RCW Title 43. The underlying bill, Substitute House Bill No. 2385 deals with the clarification of the ADATSA status. It amends RCW 70 and 74. It changes some definitions of gravely disabled by alcohol and a licensed physician and it has some other language cleanups, so I don't think the scope of the amendment deals with the underlying bill."

Further debate ensued.

There being no objection, the President deferred further consideration of Substitute House Bill No. 2385.

SECOND READING

HOUSE BILL NO. 2411, by Representatives Braddock, Brooks and Prentice (by request of Health Care Authority)

Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section shall apply throughout this chapter.

(4) "Funds" means:

(a) Public funds under the control of or in the custody of any local government official by virtue of the official's authority that are not immediately required to meet current demands;

(b) State funds that are the proceeds of bonds, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness authorized by the state finance committee under chapter 39.42 RCW or payments pursuant to financing contracts under chapter 39.94 RCW, when the investments are made in order to comply with the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended.

The state treasurer may deduct the amounts necessary to reimburse the treasurer's office for the actual expenses the office incurs and to repay any funds appropriated and expended for the initial administrative costs of the pool. Any credits or payments to ~~((political subdivisions))~~ the participants shall be calculated and made in a manner which equitably reflects the differing amounts of the ~~((political subdivisions'))~~ participants' respective deposits in the investment pool fund and the differing periods of time for which the amounts were placed in the investment pool.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 72.02 RCW to read as follows:

If the department of corrections provides new inmate beds, or provides double-bunks for existing cells, within ten miles of a city or town that is within three miles of correctional facilities that would have been subject to RCW 72.02.180 or 72.02.190, and if those facilities had an average annual inmate capacity of at least one thousand on the effective date of this act, the department shall, subject to appropriation by the legislature, provide mitigating funds to the city or town containing or closest to the facility with the new beds or double-bunked cells. For purposes of determining the eligibility of a city or town for mitigation funds under this section, the average annual inmate capacity of correctional facilities within three miles of a city or town shall be combined. The mitigation funds shall be calculated as follows: The number of new beds or double-bunked cells divided by one thousand multiplied by the annual general fund—state operating budget of the department's correctional facilities within ten miles of that town or city, multiplied by one percent. The city or town, in its discretion, may share the funds with other cities or the county in which the city or town is located. The department shall provide mitigation funds annually, adjusted for changes in additional new beds or double-bunked cells and in the department's budget. The funds authorized by this section shall be in addition to any other amounts that were authorized prior to the effective date of this act by the legislature or ordered by any court for the purpose of mitigating the impact of adult correctional facilities.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. If specific funding for the purposes of section 2 of this act, referencing section 2 of this act by bill and section number, is not provided by June 30, 1990, in the omnibus appropriations act, section 2 of this act shall be null and void.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 72.02 RCW to read as follows:

The department of corrections shall provide annual financial assistance to the city and county of Walla Walla and the city of College Place in order to offset the direct economic costs incurred by the local governments as a result of the continued impact of the Washington state penitentiary and adjoining correctional facilities on city law enforcement, sewer, fire, water, and social services. The funds authorized by this section shall be in addition to any other amounts authorized by the legislature prior to the effective date of this act for the purpose of mitigating the impact of adult correctional facilities on local governments.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. If specific funding for the purposes of section 4 of this act, referencing section 4 of this act by bill and section number, is not provided by June 30, 1990, in the omnibus appropriations act, section 4 of this act shall be null and void.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. A new section is added to chapter 72.02 RCW to read as follows:

If the department of corrections increases the average daily inmate population at the Twin Rivers corrections center above the nonemergency statutory limit under RCW 72.02.180, the department shall, subject to appropriation by the legislature, provide annual mitigating funds to the county in which the corrections center is located. The mitigation funds shall be calculated by multiplying the average daily inmate population that exceeds the nonemergency statutory limit for that fiscal year, by five hundred dollars.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. If specific funding for the purposes of section 6 of this act, referencing section 6 of this act by bill and section number, is not provided by June 30, 1990, in the omnibus appropriations act, section 6 of this act shall be null and void.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. A new section is added to chapter 72.02 RCW to read as follows:

If inmate populations are increased at any institution as a result of the repeal of RCW 72.02.180 or 72.02.190, the department of corrections shall provide sufficient staffing at the institution to comply with the division of prisons custody model as adopted by the department. POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator McDonald, a few years back when the Feds were putting money in, they had a ruling that you couldn't double bunk. What has happened to that?"

Senator McDonald: "Actually, Senator Rasmussen, there have been a number of cases--I can't make the citations--but I do have a paper on it that you might be interested in. Double bunking, per se, is not the problem. The problem was the ancillary facilities--the recreational facilities, the vocational facilities, the ability for the prisoners to get out and to do something outside of their cell. My gosh, there have been cases where they have found that you can go down to as few as forty-five square feet per prisoner, as opposed to the eighty-five square feet that the American Corrections Association recommends. They have not said that double bunking was a problem, per se. It is the ancillary facilities--the kitchens, the recreational, the vocational type of things and those are the things that we have concentrated on in this capital budget and hopefully we will be upheld."

Further debate ensued.

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 2939, as amended by the Senate.

*Sec. 1. Section 401, chapter 271, Laws of 1989 and RCW 69.50.520 are each amended to read as follows:

The drug enforcement and education account is created in the state treasury. All designated receipts from RCW 66.24.210(4), 66.24.290(3), 69.50.505(1)(2)(i)(C), 82.08.150(5), 82.24.020(2), 82.64.020, and section 420, chapter 271, Laws of 1989 shall be deposited into the account. Expenditures from the account may be used only for funding services and programs under ~~((this act))~~ chapter 271, Laws of 1989. Expenditures shall be used for funding new programs or new levels of existing program activities and may not be used to supplant funds provided for programs funded from other sources on or after July 1, 1989. Any funds received from federal sources that could be applied to programs established by this act shall be used to replace expenditures from the drug enforcement and education account on a pro rata basis for taxes collected under RCW 66.24.210(4), 66.24.290(3), 82.08.150(5), 82.24.020(2), and 82.64.020. The office of financial management shall notify the fiscal committees of the house of representatives and senate on a regular basis of unanticipated funds that could be applied to programs established in chapter 271, Laws of 1989.

Sec. 2. Section 408, chapter 271, Laws of 1989 (uncodified) is amended to read as follows:

The sum of ten million dollars, or as much thereof as may be necessary, is appropriated for the biennium ending June 30, 1991, from the drug enforcement and education account to the superintendent of public instruction to support school district substance abuse awareness programs provided under ~~((sections 310 through 313 of this act))~~ RCW 28A.120.080 through 28A.120.086. The superintendent of public instruction shall require that any grants provided to school districts or educational service districts under this section be used to increase prevention and intervention services related to drug and alcohol abuse above the level of services provided by the district for the 1988-89 school year. Furthermore, except as provided in this section, no portion of this appropriation expended for state administrative costs may be used to supplant administrative moneys previously used by the superintendent of public instruction for state level activities related to drug and alcohol education or prevention and intervention programs. A reasonable portion of this appropriation, but no more than is necessary, may be used to evaluate and monitor the programs funded by this section.

It is the intent of the legislature that one-time grants provided to school districts from appropriations under this section do not meet the criteria for levy reduction funds under RCW 84.52.0531 and shall not be deemed to be levy reduction funds.

Sec. 3. Section 411, chapter 271, Laws of 1989 (uncodified) is amended to read as follows:

The sum of three million dollars, or as much thereof as may be necessary, is appropriated for the biennium ending June 30, 1991, from the drug enforcement and education account to the superintendent of public instruction for matching grants to enhance security in secondary schools. School districts which apply for such grants shall ensure that no more than seventy-five percent of the district's total expenditures for school security in any school year are supported by the grant amounts. The grants shall be expended solely for the costs of employing or contracting for building security monitors in secondary schools during school hours and school events. Of the amount appropriated in this section, a minimum of two million seven hundred fifty thousand dollars is provided for grants to districts that, during the 1988-89 school year, employed or contracted for security monitors in schools during school hours. However, the grants may be used only for increases in school district expenditures for school security over expenditure levels for the 1988-89 school year.

It is the intent of the legislature that grants provided to school districts from appropriations under this section do not meet the criteria for levy reduction funds under RCW 84.52.0531 and shall not be deemed to be levy reduction funds.

Sec. 4. Section 420, chapter 271, Laws of 1989 (uncodified) is amended to read as follows:

The sum of one million eight hundred thousand dollars, or as much thereof as may be necessary, is appropriated for the biennium ending June 30, 1991, from the drug enforcement and education account to the office of the administrator for the courts for the treatment alternatives to street crime program. These funds shall be used for providing services in domestic cases to children and to parents or others having custody of children under chapter 26.09, 26.10, 26.26, 26.44, or 26.50 RCW. These funds shall not be available for expenditure until January 1, 1990. The office of the administrator for the courts shall establish standards for the courts to recover the expenses of the program specified in this section from the participants, based upon the individual participant's ability to pay. All fees collected shall be remitted to the state treasurer for deposit in the drug enforcement and education account under ~~(section 401 of this act)~~ RCW 69.50.520.

The plan may include proposals to use contract evaluators and shall identify ways to measure program progress and outcomes.~~

~~(4) In order to establish a beginning point for any future studies of the effectiveness of programs initiated in this act, all programs proposed for analysis in this section shall submit a plan detailing expenditures related to goals and objectives of the program being initiated, to the legislative budget committee by October 1, 1989.) The department of social and health services shall conduct an assessment of the effectiveness of the juvenile offenders structured residential program, and the superintendent of public instruction shall contract with an independent entity for an assessment of the effectiveness of the drug and alcohol abuse prevention and early intervention in schools program. POINT OF ORDER

Senator Fleming: "Mr. President, a point of order. I raise the question of scope and object on the committee amendment that was just spoken to by the Chairman of Ways and Means. The reason that I am raising the question of scope and object is that the original bill and the title were dealing with making technical corrections to the alcohol and controlled substance abuse act and dealing with the question of whether funds from the federal government could be supplanted or not supplanted. We made a great effort and stride last year with the omnibus drug bill and in doing so we felt as though we would be able to fight this so-called war against crime, but we would only be able to do it if there was a strong effort by state government, a strong effort by local government and a strong effort by the federal government. We indicated that the forty million dollars a year would not be the answer to the problem, that we would need help from the federal government and for this amendment to come forth and to try and reduce those taxes when it hasn't even been a year that we enacted the law. I believe that it is out of the scope and object of this measure and that this measure should only be dealing with those technical changes that were put forth in the original bill and that is the reason that I raise the question of scope and object, Mr. President."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Newhouse, further consideration of Second Substitute House Bill No. 2986 was deferred.

PART III EMPLOYEE ASSISTANCE

NEW SECTION, Sec. 301. The legislature finds that:

(1) Assisting employees in resolving personal problems that impair their performance will result in a more productive work force, better morale, reduced stress, reduced use of medical benefits, reduced absenteeism, lower turnover rates, and fewer accidents;

(2) A substantial number of employee problems can be identified and the employees referred to treatment by an employee assistance program;

(3) The state, as an employer, desires to foster a working environment that promotes safety and productivity as well as the health and well-being of its employees.

Therefore, it is the purpose of sections 302 through 304 of this act to assist state employees by establishing a state employee assistance program.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 302. The employee assistance program is hereby created to provide support and services to state employees who have personal problems that impair their performance in the work place. However, nothing in this chapter relieves employees from the responsibility of performing their jobs in an acceptable manner.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 303. The director of human resources shall:

(1) Administer the state employee assistance program to assist employees who have personal problems that adversely affect their job performance or have the potential of doing so;

(3) Encourage and promote the voluntary use of the employee assistance program by increasing employee awareness and disseminating educational materials;

(4) Provide technical assistance and training to agencies on how to use the employee assistance program;

(5) Assist and encourage supervisors to identify and refer employees with problems that impair their performance by incorporating proper use of the program in management training, management performance criteria, ongoing communication with agencies, and other appropriate means;

(6) Offer substance abuse prevention and awareness activities to be provided through the employee assistance program and the state employee wellness program;

(7) Monitor and evaluate the effectiveness of the program, including the collection, analysis, and publication of relevant statistical information; and

(8) Consult with state agencies, institutions of higher education, and employee organizations in carrying out the purposes of sections 301 through 304 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 304. Individual employees' participation in the employee assistance program and all individually identifiable information gathered in the process of conducting the program shall be held in strict confidence; except that agency management may be provided with the following information about employees referred by that agency management due to poor job performance:

(1) Whether or not the referred employee made an appointment;

(2) The date and time the employee arrived and departed;

(3) Whether the employee agreed to follow the advice of counselors; and

(4) Whether further appointments were scheduled.

Participation or nonparticipation by any employee in the employee assistance program shall not be a factor in any decision affecting an employee's job security, promotional opportunities, corrective or disciplinary action, or other employment rights.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 305. Sections 301 through 304 of this act are each added to chapter 41.04 RCW.

*Sec. 1. Section 1, chapter 201, Laws of 1989 and RCW 59.21.010 are each amended to read as follows:

Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Director" means the director of the department of community development.

(2) "Department" means the department of community development.

(3) "Fund" means the mobile home park relocation fund established under RCW 59.21.050 consisting of tenant and landlord contributions.

(4) "Low-income" means at or below eighty percent of median household income as defined by the United States department of housing and urban development, for the county or standard metropolitan statistical area where the park is located.

(5) "Mobile home park" or "park" means real property that is rented or held out for rent to others for the placement of two or more mobile homes for the primary purpose of production of income, except where the real property is rented or held out for rent for seasonal recreational purpose only and is not intended for year-round occupancy.

(6) "Landlord" or "park-owner" means the owner of the mobile home park that is being closed at the time relocation assistance is provided.

(7) "Relocate" means to remove the mobile home from the mobile home park being closed.

(8) "Relocation assistance" means the monetary assistance provided under RCW 59.21.020.

Sec. 2. Section 2, chapter 201, Laws of 1989 and RCW 59.21.020 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) If a mobile home park is closed or converted to another use, all affected park tenants owning a mobile home are entitled to relocation assistance from the park-owner or the fund at the time the tenant relocates as follows: (a) For a single-wide mobile home, four thousand five hundred dollars; and (b) for a double-wide or larger mobile home, seven thousand five hundred dollars. No park tenant shall receive relocation assistance from the park owner or the fund for relocation of a recreational vehicle. The relocation assistance costs shall be adjusted annually by the housing component of the consumer price index for the Washington state area.

(2) When a tenant is forced to relocate before July 1, 1991, the payment of relocation assistance as provided by this section shall be paid by the park-owner. However, if the tenant has been given notice to vacate prior to April 1, 1989, and the tenant has not yet relocated as of April 28, 1989, the payment of relocation assistance by the park-owner shall be required only if the tenant is low income.

(3) When a tenant is forced to relocate after June 30, 1991, the payment of relocation assistance to low-income park tenants as provided in this section shall be shared as follows: The landlord or park-owner shall provide one-third and the fund shall provide two-thirds.

(4) After July 1, 1992, (a) if twenty-four months' notice of closure is given, the landlord or park-owner shall provide five hundred dollars for a single-wide home or one thousand dollars for a double-wide or larger home and the fund shall provide the balance of the relocation assistance to low-income park tenants; (b) if the park-owner gives less than twenty-four months' notice the park-owner shall provide one-third and the fund shall provide two-thirds of the relocation assistance to low-income park tenants.

(5) All tenants eligible for relocation assistance shall apply for verification of eligibility to the department. The department shall issue a document to each tenant signifying the tenant's low-income status, or status other than low income to be given to the park-owner by the tenant.

(6) The park-owner shall be responsible for paying up to the full amount of relocation assistance to low-income park tenants if there are insufficient moneys in the fund. The department shall adopt rules governing disbursements of assistance from the fund and park-owner payments when there are insufficient moneys to meet the demand for relocation assistance.

(7) The park-owner shall pay park tenants who do not qualify as low-income tenants the same amount of relocation assistance that low-income park tenants are entitled to from the park-owners under this section. The landlord shall pay the relocation assistance directly to the tenant if the tenant submits to the landlord a copy of the contract entered into for the purpose of relocating the mobile home, which includes the date of relocation. The tenant may recover court costs and a reasonable attorney's fee in any action brought to require the landlord to pay relocation assistance under this subsection in which the tenant prevails.

(8) The park-owner shall make any payment to the department required by this chapter when demanded by the department; however, the department shall not demand such payment earlier than thirty days prior to the expected relocation date of the tenant. If the landlord does not pay his or her portion of the relocation assistance to the department when required by this chapter, the department shall have a lien on the real property on which the park is located. Such lien shall be collected as delinquent general property taxes and shall be forwarded to the department by the county treasurer.

~~((6))~~ (9) The director or his or her designee shall approve all expenditures from the fund.

~~((7))~~ (10) Relocation assistance contributions required from landlords or park-owners by this section shall be reduced by the amount paid or required to be paid under any other law for the same mobile home park tenant for the same relocation.

(11) Notwithstanding RCW 59.21.100, it is a violation of this chapter to request or require as a condition of initiating or renewing a tenancy in a mobile home park, a waiver of relocation assistance under this section or any other law or ordinance. Any such waiver, regardless of the date of its execution, is void and unenforceable as contrary to public policy.

Sec. 3. Section 3, chapter 201, Laws of 1989 and RCW 59.21.030 are each amended to read as follows:

Notice required by RCW 59.20.080 before park closure or conversion of the park, whether twelve months or longer, shall be given to the director and all tenants in writing, and posted at all park entrances. Notice must also include the tenant's right to relocation assistance, if applicable. Notice must also be recorded in the office of the county auditor for the county where the mobile home park is located. This section shall apply to all park closures even though notice may have been given prior to April 28, 1989.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 59.21 RCW to read as follows:

The obligation of a park-owner to pay relocation assistance under this chapter runs with the land and is binding upon purchasers, successors and assigns of any park-owner obligated to provide relocation assistance under this chapter.

Only the director of community development or the director's designee may authorize expenditures from the fund. All relocation payments to low-income park tenants, including those due from the park-owner shall be made from the fund. The fund is subject to allotment procedures under chapter 43.88 RCW, but no appropriation is required for expenditures.

(2) The state treasurer shall maintain the fund and shall invest the fund moneys. Moneys earned on these investments shall be deposited in the fund and shall be used for the same purposes as other fund moneys. Unexpended and unencumbered moneys that remain in the fund at the end of the fiscal year do not revert to the state general fund but remain in the fund, separately accounted for, as a contingency reserve, or if the director determines at the end of any fiscal year beginning after December 31, 1991, that the fund contains a surplus over the projected amount needed for relocation during the upcoming year(s), any surplus may be transferred to the mobile home park purchase fund created by chapter 59.22 RCW. However, the director may cause any uncommitted funds in the mobile home park purchase fund which were transferred from the mobile home park relocation fund to be transferred back to the mobile home park relocation fund if that fund cannot otherwise meet its current obligations.

(3) A low-income park tenant who is entitled to relocation assistance under this chapter is entitled to payment only after submitting an application which includes: (a) A copy of the notice from the park-owner that the tenancy is terminated due to closure of the park; (b) a copy of the rental agreement currently in force; and (c) a copy of the contract entered into for the purpose of relocating the mobile home, which includes the date of relocation.

(4) The director may adopt rules for the administration of the fund.

Notice of the assessment created under this section may be included on the notice of property taxes due, or may be sent separately from the notice of property taxes due. The assessment created under this section shall be due at the same time property taxes are due and shall constitute a lien on the mobile home upon which the assessment is imposed. Delinquent assessments created under this section shall be foreclosed in the same manner, and subject to the same time schedules, interest, and penalties as delinquent property taxes. County treasurers may impose a fee for collecting the assessment created in this section not to exceed five percent of the dollar value of the collection of assessments created under this section. The county treasurer may collect the assessment for 1990 at the same time the county treasurer collects the assessment for 1991 if the county treasurer would experience undue hardship in collecting the 1990 assessment in that year.

(2) ~~Upon the request of the treasurer of the county or counties where the mobile home park is located, each park-owner shall provide the county treasurer with a list of all tenants residing in the park on January 1, 1989. This list shall be mailed by August 1, 1989, to the treasurer or treasurers of the county or counties where the mobile home park is located. The list shall include the name and address of each tenant, and the mobile home tax number of each tenant if available. Upon the request of the treasurer of the county or counties where the mobile home park is located, the park-owners shall update the list of tenants residing in the park.~~

(3) ~~The assessments collected under subsection (1) of this section shall be forwarded to the state treasurer, less any administration fee collected by the county treasurer under this section. The state treasurer shall deposit one dollar of the assessment collected per mobile home in the mobile home affairs account created by RCW 59.22.070; the remainder of the assessment forwarded to the state treasurer under this subsection shall be deposited in the mobile home park relocation fund created under RCW 59.21.050.~~

(4) ~~where ownership of the mobile home is changed by any transaction including but not limited to sales and gift transactions and transfers of ownership which involve elimination of title under chapter 65.20. The county auditor or county treasurer shall collect the fee as provided in chapter 82.08 or 82.45 RCW. The fee collected under this section shall be forwarded to the state treasurer. The state treasurer shall deposit fifty dollars of each fee collected in the mobile home park relocation fund created under RCW 59.21.050 and the remaining fifteen dollars of each fee collected in the mobile home affairs account created by RCW 59.22.070.~~

(2) ~~The department of revenue, the department of licensing, and the state treasurer((and the county treasurers)) may enact any rules necessary to carry out this section.~~

Sec. 7. Section 28A.45.090, chapter 223, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. as last amended by section 2, chapter 192, Laws of 1984 and RCW 82.45.090 are each amended to read as follows:

The tax imposed by this chapter ~~and the fee imposed in RCW 59.21.060(1)~~ shall be paid to and collected by the treasurer of the county within which is located the real property which was sold, said treasurer acting as agent for the state. The county treasurer shall cause a stamp evidencing satisfaction of the lien to be affixed to the instrument of sale or conveyance prior to its recording or to the real estate excise tax affidavit in the case of used mobile home sales and used floating home sales. A receipt issued by the county treasurer for the payment of the tax imposed under this chapter shall be evidence of the satisfaction of the lien imposed hereunder and may be recorded in the manner prescribed for recording satisfactions of mortgages. No instrument of sale or conveyance evidencing a sale subject to the tax shall be accepted by the county auditor for filing or recording until the tax shall have been paid and the stamp affixed thereto; in case the tax is not due on the transfer, the instrument shall not be so accepted until suitable notation of such fact has been made on the instrument by the treasurer.

Sec. 8. Section 1, chapter 89, Laws of 1987 and RCW 82.08.065 are each amended to read as follows:

In the collection of the sales tax on mobile homes and the fee imposed in RCW 59.21.060(1), the department of revenue may designate the county auditors of the several counties of the state as its collecting agents. Upon such designation, it shall be the duty of each county auditor to collect the tax and the fee at the time the mobile home dealer or selling agent applies for a new certificate of ownership for such mobile home in the instance where transfer of ownership was from a mobile home dealer or person deemed a selling agent under RCW 82.04.480, except where the applicant presents a written statement signed by the department of revenue or its duly authorized agent showing that no retail sales tax or use tax is legally due. The term "mobile home" as used in this section means a mobile home as defined in RCW 46.04.302. It shall be the duty of every mobile home dealer or selling agent to declare upon the application for a new certificate of ownership the selling price paid for the mobile home. Any person willfully misrepresenting, or failing or refusing to declare upon the application, such selling price shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

Each county auditor who acts as agent of the department of revenue shall at the time of remitting license fee receipts on motor vehicles subject to the provisions of RCW 82.12.045 pay over and account to the state treasurer for all sales tax revenue collected under this section, after first deducting as his or her collection fee the sum of two dollars for each mobile home upon which the tax has been collected.

Any applicant who has paid sales tax to a county auditor under this section may apply to the department of revenue for refund thereof if he has reason to believe that such tax was not legally due and owing. No refund is allowed unless application therefor is received by the department of revenue within four years after payment of the tax. On motion of Senator McCaslin, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 1 of the title, after "law;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "amending RCW 42.17.170, 42.17.180, and 42.17.200; reenacting and amending RCW 42.17.020; and creating a new section."

MOTION

On motion of Senator McCaslin, Engrossed House Bill No. 2655, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talmadge: "Senator McCaslin, I'm trying to understand exactly what this bill does. If a lobbying enterprise or an individual lobbyist decides that they need the assistance of Bogle and Gates and they hire that law firm at the cost of $25,000 to develop legislation and they hire an engineering firm and a graphic firm to prepare graphic materials to impress all of us in the Legislature with respect to a piece of legislation, none of that kind of preparation cost would be disclosed anymore?"

Senator McCaslin: "Well, that is true as far as the development of legislation. I suppose that word would get out, Phil, and, of course, they would look at that, but in developing legislation, they need not report those expenditures. Now, whether or not they get to $25,000, I have no idea."

Senator Talmadge: "The second question that I had, Bob, is the question of the definition of lobbying which now appears to exclude an association or other organization's act of communicating with members of the association or organization. If I am with US West, and I decide I want to communicate with all of my customers and send them materials relating to a piece of legislation pending before the Legislature, they no longer have to disclose the cost of that communication to their members or to their customers or to their shareholders or anybody else?"

Senator McCaslin: "Well, I suppose it depends on the wording and how it is framed. You know I've seen--I've been with corporations that send out information on pending legislation, but they are not saying to support it or not support it. It is as far as information is concerned. That gets into a grey area, Senator Talmadge, that I don't have the legal background to answer."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 2655, as amended by the Senate.

Providing for the clean-up or elimination of contaminated properties.

MOTIONS

Senator West moved that the following Committee on Ways and Means amendment be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that some properties are being contaminated by hazardous chemicals used in unsafe or illegal ways in the manufacture of illegal drugs. Innocent members of the public may be harmed by the residue left by these chemicals when the properties are subsequently rented or sold without having been decontaminated.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. The words and phrases defined in this section shall have the following meanings when used in this chapter unless the context clearly indicates otherwise.

(1) "Authorized contractor" means a person who decontaminates, demolishes, or disposes of contaminated property as required by this act who is: (a) Certified in this section shall have the following provided for in section 7 of this act, or (b) until January 1, 1991, listed with the department as provided for in section 8 of this act.

(2) "Contaminated" or "contamination" means polluted by hazardous chemicals so that the property is unfit for human habitation or use due to immediate or long-term hazards. Property that at one time was contaminated but has been satisfactorily decontaminated according to procedures established by the state board of health is not "contaminated."

(3) "Hazardous chemicals" means the following substances used in the manufacture of illegal drugs: (a) Hazardous substances as defined in RCW 70.105D.020, and (b) precursor substances as defined in RCW 69.43.010 which the state board of health, in consultation with the state board of pharmacy, has determined present an immediate or long-term health hazard to humans.

(4) "Officer" means a local health officer authorized under chapters 70.05, 70.08, and 70.46 RCW.

(5) "Property" means any property, site, structure, or part of a structure which is involved in the unauthorized manufacture or storage of hazardous chemicals. This includes but is not limited to single-family residences, units of multiplexes, condominiums, apartment buildings, boats, motor vehicles, trailers, manufactured housing, or any shop, booth, or garden.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. Whenever a law enforcement agency becomes aware that property has been contaminated by hazardous chemicals, that agency shall report the contamination to the local health officer. The local health officer shall cause a posting of a notice on the premises immediately upon being notified of the contamination and shall cause an inspection to be done on the property within fourteen days after receiving the notice of contamination. If a property owner believes that a tenant has contaminated property that was being leased or rented, and the property is vacated or abandoned, then the property owner shall contact the local health officer about the possible contamination. Local health officers or boards may charge reasonable fees for inspections of property requested by property owners.

If property is determined to be contaminated, then the local health officer shall cause a posting of a notice on the premises. A local health officer may enter, inspect, and survey at reasonable times any properties for which there are reasonable grounds to believe that the property has become contaminated.

Local health officers must report all cases of contaminated property to the state department of health. The department may make the list of contaminated properties available to health associations, landlord and realtor organizations, prosecutors, and other interested groups. The department shall promptly update the list of contaminated properties to remove those which have been decontaminated according to provisions of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. If after the inspection of the property, the local health officer finds that it is contaminated, then the property shall be found unfit for use. The local health officer shall cause to be served either personally or by certified mail, with return receipt requested, upon all occupants and persons having any interest therein as shown upon the records of the auditor's office of the county in which such property is located, and shall post in a conspicuous place on the property, an order prohibiting use. If the whereabouts of such persons is unknown and the same cannot be ascertained by the local health officer in the exercise of reasonable diligence, and the health officer makes an affidavit to that effect, then the serving of the order upon such persons may be made either by personal service or by mailing a copy of the order by certified mail, postage prepaid, return receipt requested, to each person at the address appearing on the last equalized tax assessment roll of the county where the property is located or at the address known to the county assessor, and the order shall be posted conspicuously at the residence. A copy of the order shall also be mailed, addressed to each person or party having a recorded right, title, estate, lien, or interest in the property. Such order shall contain a notice that a hearing before the local health board or officer shall be held upon the request of a person required to be notified of the order under this section. The request for a hearing must be made within ten days of serving the order. The hearing shall then be held within not less than twenty days nor more than thirty days after the serving of the order. The officer shall prohibit use as long as the property is found to be contaminated. A copy of the order shall also be filed with the auditor of the county in which the property is located, and such filing of the complaint or order shall have the same force and effect as other lis pendens notices provided by law. In any hearing concerning whether property is fit for use, the property owner has the burden of showing that the property is decontaminated or fit for use. The owner or any person having an interest in the property may file an appeal on any order issued by the local health board or officer within thirty days from the date of service of the order with the appeals commission established pursuant to RCW 35.80.030. All proceedings before the appeals commission, including any subsequent appeals to superior court, shall be governed by the procedures established in chapter 35.80 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. The city or county in which the contaminated property is located may take action to condemn or demolish property or to require the property be vacated or the contents removed from the property. The city or county must use an authorized contractor if property is demolished or removed under this section. No city or county may condemn or demolish property pursuant to this section until all procedures granting the right of notice and the opportunity to appeal in section 4 of this act have been exhausted.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. An owner of contaminated property who desires to have the property decontaminated must use the services of an authorized contractor to decontaminate the property. The contractor shall prepare and submit a written work plan for decontamination to the local health officer. If the work plan is approved and the decontamination is completed and the property is retested according to the plan and properly documented, then the health officer shall allow reuse of the property. A notice shall be recorded in the real property records if applicable, indicating the property has been decontaminated in accordance with rules of the state department of health.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. (1) After January 1, 1991, a contractor may not perform decontamination, demolition, or disposal work unless issued a certificate by the state department of health. The department shall establish performance standards for contractors by rule in accordance with chapter 34.05 RCW, the administrative procedure act. The department shall train and test, or may approve courses to train and test, contractors and their employees on the essential elements in assessing property used as an illegal drug manufacturing or storage site to determine hazard reduction measures needed, techniques for adequately reducing contaminants, use of personal protective equipment, methods for proper demolition, removal, and disposal of contaminated property, and relevant federal and state regulations. Upon successful completion of the training, the contractor or employee shall be certified.

(2) The department may require the successful completion of annual refresher courses provided or approved by the department for the continued certification of the contractor or employee.

(3) The department shall provide for reciprocal certification of any individual trained to engage in decontamination, demolition, or disposal work in another state when the prior training is shown to be substantially similar to the training required by the department. The department may require such individuals to take an examination or refresher course before certification.

(4) The department may deny, suspend, or revoke a certificate for failure to comply with the requirements of this chapter or any rule adopted pursuant to this chapter. A certificate may be denied, suspended, or revoked on any of the following grounds:

(a) Failing to perform decontamination, demolition, or disposal work under the supervision of trained personnel;

(b) Failing to file a work plan;

(c) Failing to perform work pursuant to the work plan;

(d) Failing to perform work that meets the requirements of the department; or

(e) The certificate was obtained by error, misrepresentation, or fraud.

(5) A contractor who violates any provision of this chapter may be assessed a fine not to exceed five hundred dollars for each violation.

(6) The department of health shall prescribe fees as provided for in RCW 43.70.250 for the issuance and renewal of certificates, the administration of examinations, and for the review of training courses.

(7) The decontamination account is hereby established in the state treasury. All fees collected under this chapter shall be deposited in this account. Moneys in the account may only be spent after appropriation for costs incurred by the department in the administration and enforcement of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. Until January 1, 1991, a property owner who wishes to have property decontaminated in accordance with the provisions of this act, shall contact the state department of health to receive a list of environmental service contractors who perform decontamination work. The property owner may choose any contractor on the list to perform the necessary work.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. The state board of health shall promulgate rules and standards for carrying out the provisions in this chapter in accordance with chapter 34.05 RCW, the administrative procedure act. The local board of health and the local health officer are authorized to exercise such powers as may be necessary to carry out this chapter. The department shall provide technical assistance to local health boards and health officers to carry out their duties under sections 1 through 11 of this act. The department shall develop guidelines for decontamination of a property used as a drug laboratory and methods for the testing of ground water, surface water, soil, and septic tanks for contamination.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. Members of the state board of health and local boards of health, local health officers, and employees of the department of health and local health departments are immune from civil liability arising out of the performance of their duties under this chapter, unless such performance constitutes gross negligence or intentional misconduct.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. This chapter shall not limit state or local government authority to act under any other statute, including chapter 35.80 or 7.48 RCW.

Sec. 12. Section 15, chapter 2, Laws of 1983 as last amended by section 212, chapter 271, Laws of 1989 and RCW 69.50.505 are each amended to read as follows:

(ii) No conveyance is subject to forfeiture under this section by reason of any act or omission established by the owner thereof to have been committed or omitted without the owner's knowledge or consent;

(iv) When the owner of a conveyance has been arrested under this chapter or chapter 69.41 or 69.52 RCW the conveyance in which the person is arrested may not be subject to forfeiture unless it is seized or process is issued for its seizure within ten days of the owner's arrest;

However, the state may not obtain a default judgment with respect to real property against a party who is served by substituted service absent an affidavit stating that a good faith effort has been made to ascertain if the defaulted party is incarcerated within the state, and that there is no present basis to believe that the party is incarcerated within the state. The notice of seizure in other cases may be served by any method authorized by law or court rule including but not limited to service by certified mail with return receipt requested. Service by mail shall be deemed complete upon mailing within the fifteen day period following the seizure.

The court to which the matter is to be removed shall be the district court when such aggregate value is ten thousand dollars or less of personal property. A hearing before the seizing agency and any appeal therefrom shall be under Title 34 RCW. In a court hearing between two or more claimants to the article or articles involved, the prevailing party shall be entitled to a judgment for costs and reasonable attorney's fees. In cases involving personal property, the burden of producing evidence shall be upon the person claiming to be the lawful owner or the person claiming to have the lawful right to possession of the property. In cases involving real property, the burden of producing evidence shall be upon the law enforcement agency. The burden of proof that the seized real property is subject to forfeiture shall be upon the law enforcement agency. The seizing law enforcement agency shall promptly return the article or articles to the claimant upon a determination by the administrative law judge or court that the claimant is the present lawful owner or is lawfully entitled to possession thereof of items specified in subsection (a)(2), (a)(3), (a)(4), (a)(5), (a)(6), (a)(7), or (a)(8) of this section.

The proceeds and all moneys forfeited under this title shall be used for payment of all proper expenses of the investigation leading to the seizure, including any money delivered to the subject of the investigation by the law enforcement agency, and of the proceedings for forfeiture and sale, including expenses of seizure, maintenance of custody, advertising, actual costs of the prosecuting or city attorney, and court costs. Money remaining after the payment of all expenses shall be distributed as follows:

(A) Twenty-five percent of the money derived from the forfeiture of real property and seventy-five percent of the money derived from the forfeiture of personal property shall be deposited in the general fund of the state, county, and/or city of the seizing law enforcement agency and shall be used exclusively for the expansion or improvement of law enforcement services. These services may include the creation of reward funds for the purpose of rewarding informants who supply information leading to the arrest, prosecution and conviction of persons who violate laws relating to controlled substances. Such moneys shall not supplant preexisting funding sources;

(B) Twenty-five percent of money derived from the forfeiture of real property and twenty-five percent of money derived from the forfeiture of personal property shall be remitted to the state treasurer for deposit in the public safety and education account established in RCW 43.08.250;

(C) Until July 1, 1995, fifty percent of money derived from the forfeiture of real property shall be remitted to the state treasurer for deposit in the drug enforcement and education account under RCW 69.50.520, on and after July 1, 1995, the fifty percent of the money shall be remitted in the same manner as the twenty-five percent of the money remitted under (2)(i)(A) of this subsection; and

(D) If an investigation involves a seizure of moneys and proceeds having an aggregate value of less than five thousand dollars, the moneys and proceeds may be deposited in total in the general fund of the governmental unit of the seizing law enforcement agency and shall be appropriated exclusively for the expansion of narcotics enforcement services. Such moneys shall not supplant preexisting funding sources.

(ii) Money deposited according to this section must be deposited within ninety days of the date of final disposition of either the administrative seizure or the judicial seizure;

(3) Request the appropriate sheriff or director of public safety to take custody of the property and remove it for disposition in accordance with law; or

(4) Forward it to the drug enforcement administration for disposition.

(g) Controlled substances listed in Schedule I, II, III, IV, and V that are possessed, transferred, sold, or offered for sale in violation of this chapter are contraband and shall be seized and summarily forfeited to the state. Controlled substances listed in Schedule I, II, III, IV, and V, which are seized or come into the possession of the board, the owners of which are unknown, are contraband and shall be summarily forfeited to the board.

(h) Species of plants from which controlled substances in Schedules I and II may be derived which have been planted or cultivated in violation of this chapter, or of which the owners or cultivators are unknown, or which are wild growths, may be seized and summarily forfeited to the board.

(i) The failure, upon demand by a board inspector or law enforcement officer, of the person in occupancy or in control of land or premises upon which the species of plants are growing or being stored to produce an appropriate registration or proof that he is the holder thereof constitutes authority for the seizure and forfeiture of the plants.

(j) Upon the entry of an order of forfeiture of real property, the court shall forward a copy of the order to the assessor of the county in which the property is located. Orders for the forfeiture of real property shall be entered by the superior court, subject to court rules. Such an order shall be filed by the seizing agency in the county auditor's records in the county in which the real property is located.

Whenever possible, a destruct order covering hazardous substances which may be described in general terms shall be obtained concurrently with a search warrant. Materials that have been photographed, fingerprinted, and subsampled by police shall be destroyed as soon as practical. The department of ecology shall make every effort to recover costs from the parties responsible for the suspected hazardous substance. All recoveries shall be deposited in the account or fund from which contractor payments are made.

The department of ecology may adopt rules to carry out its responsibilities under this section. The department of ecology shall consult with law enforcement agencies prior to adopting any rule or policy relating to this section.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Nelson, the following Committee on Ways and Means amendment was adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION, Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 29.04 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Beginning January 1, 1993, no voting device or machine may be used in a county of the second class or larger to conduct a primary or general or special election in this state unless it correctly records on a separate ballot the votes cast by each elector for any person and for or against any measure and such separate ballots are available for audit purposes after such a primary or election.

(2) Beginning January 1, 1993, the secretary of state shall not certify, under this title any voting device or machine for use in conducting a primary or general or special election in this state unless the device or machine correctly records on a separate ballot the votes cast by each elector for any person and for or against any measure and such separate ballots are available for audit purposes after such a primary or election.

(3) Beginning January 1, 1993, a county of the third class or smaller may use a voting machine or device for conducting a primary or general or special election which does not record on a separate ballot, available for audit purposes after the primary or election, the votes cast by each elector for any person and for or against any measure if:

(a) The device was certified under this title before January 1, 1993, for use in this state;

(b) The device otherwise satisfies the requirements of this title; and

(c) Not more than twenty percent of the votes cast during any primary or general or special election conducted after January 1, 1998, in the county are cast using such a machine or device.

(4) The purpose of subsection (3) of this section is to permit less populous counties to replace voting equipment in stages over several years. These less populous counties are, nonetheless, encouraged to secure as expeditiously as possible voting equipment which would satisfy the requirements of subsection (1) of this section established for more populous counties. The secretary of state shall report to the legislature by January 1st of each odd-numbered year through 1997 on the progress of such less populous counties in replacing equipment which does not satisfy the requirements of subsection (1) of this section established for more populous counties.

Sec. 2. Section 6, chapter 1, Laws of 1980 and RCW 43.135.060 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The legislature shall not impose responsibility for new programs or increased levels of service under existing programs on any taxing district unless the districts are reimbursed for the costs thereof by the state.

(2) That proportion of state tax revenue which consists of direct state appropriations to taxing districts taken as a group shall not be decreased below that proportion appropriated in the biennium immediately preceding January 1, 1980: PROVIDED, This proportion shall be decreased in any fiscal year only if: (a) The legislature decreases the state tax revenue limit for that fiscal year by an amount equal to the dollar amount of any decrease in direct state appropriations to taxing districts taken as a whole; or (b) the state tax revenue limit has been increased under RCW 43.135.050(3) or 43.135.060(3) and the decrease of the proportion is commensurate with the increase in the state tax revenue limit.

(3) If by order of any court, or legislative enactment, the costs of a federal or taxing district program are transferred to or from the state, the otherwise applicable state tax revenue limit shall be increased or decreased, as the case may be, by the dollar amount of the costs of the program.

(4) The legislature, in consultation with the office of financial management or its successor agency, shall determine the costs of any new programs or increased levels of service under existing programs imposed on any taxing district or transferred to or from the state.

(5) Subsection (1) of this section does not apply to the costs incurred for voting devices or machines under section 1 of this act.

On motion of Senator Nelson, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 1 of the title, after "equipment," strike the remainder of the title and insert "amending RCW 43.135.060; and adding a new section to chapter 29.04 RCW."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Nelson, House Bill No. 2775, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Sellar: "Senator Johnson, is the intent of this legislation to limit the voting systems the counties are required to offer to one type of voting and that is punch card?"

Senator Johnson: "No, Senator Sellar, it is the intent that the systems implemented would be one of the systems approved by the Federal Elections Commission and one that meets the standards established by that commission and those systems include punch cards, mark sense and direct recording electronic systems. The reference to a separate ballot in this bill is not intended to mandate a punch card voting system."

Further debate ensued.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Mr. President, a parliamentary inquiry. Inasmuch as we are attempting to override Initiative 62, that says we can't put new costs on the counties through a tricky little amendment, does this require a two-thirds vote?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Pritchard: "I don't believe so, Senator Rasmussen."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Anderson, Senator von Reichbauer was excused.

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of House Bill No. 2775, as amended by the Senate.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of House Bill No. 2775, as amended by the Senate, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 27; nays, 20; excused, 2.

Voting yea: Senators Bauer, Bender, Benitz, Bluechel, DeJarnatt, Fleming, Gaspard, Hayner, Johnson, Kreidler, Madsen, McMullen, Murray, Nelson, Newhouse, Niemi, Owen, Rinehart, Saling, Sellar, Smitherman, Sutherland, Talmadge, Vogt, Warnke, Williams, Wojahn - 27.

Excused: Senators Amondson, von Reichbauer - 2.

HOUSE BILL NO. 2775, as amended by the Senate, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

President Pro Tempore Bluechel assumed the Chair.

There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of Second Substitute House Bill No. 2986, and the pending Committee on Ways and Means striking amendment, deferred earlier today.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

President Pro Tempore Bluechel: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Fleming, the President finds that Second Substitute House Bill No. 2986 is a measure making changes in the 1989 Alcohol and Controlled Substance Abuse Act by, among other things, prohibiting the use of certain state money to supplant money from other sources including federal funds.

"The amendment proposed by the Senate Committee on Ways and Means, in addition, allows for the adjustment of tax rates in the 1989 Alcohol and Controlled Substance Abuse Act to be adjusted to reflect the supplanting of state money by federal funds.

"The President, therefore, finds that the committee amendment does not change the scope and object of the bill and that the point of order is not well taken."

The Senate Committee on Ways and Means striking amendment to Second Substitute House Bill No. 2986 was ruled in order.

MOTION

Senator Wojahn moved that the following amendment by Senators Wojahn and Niemi to the Committee on Ways and Means striking amendment be adopted:

On page 4, after section 6, add the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. The department of health is authorized to establish up to four local pilot projects to develop strategies to prevent the use of controlled substances and alcohol immediately before, during, and immediately after pregnancy. The goal of the pilot projects is to reduce both the number and proportion of babies who are born drug affected through education and prevention strategies."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator West: "Mr. President, a point of order. Regrettably, I would raise the issue of scope and object on this amendment. While the maker is well-intended, this does not fit this bill. We've already passed a similar program out of here. All of that is not relevant to the scope and object issue. I would simply ask the President to examine that."

Further debate ensued.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

President Pro Tempore Bluechel: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator West, the President finds that Second Substitute House Bill No. 2986 is a measure making changes in the 1989 Alcohol and Controlled Substance Abuse Act by, among other things, prohibiting the use of certain state money to supplant money from other sources including federal funds.

"The amendment to the committee amendment proposed by Senators Wojahn and Niemi would authorize four pilot projects for dealing with crack babies.

"The President, therefore, finds that the amendment to the committee amendment does change the scope and object of the bill and that the point of order is well taken."

The amendment by Senators Wojahn and Niemi on page 4, after section 6, to the Senate Committee on Ways and Means striking amendment to Second Substitute House Bill No. 2986 was ruled out of order.

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the Committee on Ways and Means striking amendment to Second Substitute House Bill No. 2986.

Debate ensued.

The Committee on Ways and Means striking amendment to Second Substitute House Bill No. 2986 was not adopted.

Voting nay: Senators Fleming, Rinehart, Talmadge, Wojahn - 4.

Changing provisions relating to the family independence program.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator McDonald, Substitute Senate Bill No. 6624 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 6624 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

Senator Gaspard moved that the following amendment by Senators Gaspard, Wojahn, Niemi, Fleming, Talmadge, Moore, Rinehart, Kreidler and Owen be adopted:

On page 1, beginning on line 6, strike all of Sec. 1. and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that the family independence program is successful in helping families enter the work force and achieve real economic independence. Families enrolled in the family independence program are actively participating in education, training, and work. Pregnant and parenting teenagers are receiving services helping them to complete school. The unforeseen increase in family independence program caseloads is in part a result of eligible families using the education and training provisions of the program to obtain good jobs and lift themselves out of poverty. There is a need to build upon current successful training and employment activities in order to increase opportunities for eligible parents to join the work force."

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senators Gaspard, Wojahn, Niemi, Fleming, Talmadge, Moore, Rinehart, Kreidler and Owen on page 1, beginning on line 6, to Substitute Senate Bill No. 6624.

MOTION

Senator Gaspard moved that the following amendment by Senators Gaspard, Wojahn, Niemi, Fleming, Talmadge, Moore, Rinehart, Kreidler and Owen be adopted:

On page 10, line 18, after "1988" strike everything through "rules." on page 12, line 5 and insert "and to periodically stop enrollments in family independence program sites or programs within sites, except for the five treatment sites, for the purpose of managing resources, until such time as sufficient funds become available to reopen enrollments. Because single-parent households are at greatest risk of long-term welfare dependency, enrollment in two-parent employable programs shall be closed before closing enrollment in any single-parent program."

Until the family independence program is implemented in a particular geographic area, applicants in that area shall continue to be eligible for benefits under the aid to families with dependent children program and shall have a right to convert to the family independence program when it is available in that area((:

(1) To determine methods of administration and do all other things necessary to carry out the purposes of this chapter)) in accordance with rules adopted by the executive committee.

(2) The executive committee with assistance from the appropriate agencies shall promulgate rules in accordance with chapter 34.05 RCW in order to accomplish the purposes of this chapter. Policy decisions of the executive committee that require rule-making shall not be final until the adoption of the necessary rules.

(a) The committee shall periodically review data and evaluation reports and modify the rules governing the program. Such modifications shall not conflict with waiver agreements between the state and federal agencies and shall be made only after consultation with the family independence program advisory committee and the legislative budget committee. The committee shall analyze such modifications to determine their effects on program enrollees' potential for long-term welfare dependency.

(b) The committee shall develop rules for review and approval of the employability plans set forth in RCW 74.21.190 in order to encourage enrollees to achieve self-sufficiency in a reasonable period of time.

(i) The rules shall preclude the initiation of new four-year academic plans unless these plans are in areas of critical workforce shortages such as nursing or bilingual service professions, unless the enrollee shows unusual potential, or unless the plan meets other exceptional policy goals established by the executive committee. The rules shall encourage the use of vocationally oriented programs of two years or less duration and the completion of four-year programs where the enrollee has two years or less of a program to complete.

(ii) A plan shall not be approved if it is determined that: (A) The enrollee lacks the aptitude, skills, or abilities to complete the training requested; (B) the enrollee currently possesses viable and relevant skills required to be self-sufficient in the current labor market as demonstrated by previous employment or completion of education or training; (C) the occupational goal contained in the plan likely will not lead to self-sufficiency based on available labor market information relating to earnings or projected job openings; (D) comparable training that meets the needs of local employers is available at lower cost to the state than that identified in the plan; or (E) for other reasons as determined by the executive committee and consistent with the purposes of the family independence program, the plan should not be approved.

(3) The committee shall develop procedures to assist enrollees who have registered for employment or training activities and are not currently active in those activities. The executive committee shall request the efficiency commission to assist it in improving family independence program orientation, assessment, training, and job placement procedures.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. A new section is added to chapter 74.21 RCW to read as follows:

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator McCaslin, the following Committee on Ways and Means amendment was adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that:

(1) Access to and from state-owned and leased facilities favors single-passenger automobiles;

(2) Current state facilities in some cases do not provide sufficient parking to meet the demands created by reliance on the single-occupant automobile;

(3) The costs in traffic congestion, pollution, and building roads and parking facilities to support continued access by single passenger automobiles are escalating;

(4) During construction of the natural resources agencies building the number of parking stalls on the capitol campus will be reduced by six hundred spaces;

(5) Cost-effective alternatives to the single-passenger automobile to provide access to state government are available; and

(6) There is broad consensus among state and local governments to pursue a coordinated approach to managing parking and transportation for state facilities to improve access to these facilities.

Therefore, it is the purpose of sections 1 through 5 of this act to provide the department of general administration with authority to develop parking and transportation management programs; ensure that access to state government for customers, employees, and visitors is improved; and promote alternatives to the single-occupant automobile.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 2. The definitions set forth in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "State agency" means any state office, agency, commission, department, board, or institution financed in whole or part from funds appropriated by the legislature, except institutions of higher education.

(3) "Parking and transportation management" means policies and programs designed for the specific users of state facilities and how those users affect local transportation systems.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 3. To carry out the purposes of sections 1 through 4 of this act, the director of general administration shall:

(4) Establish standards governing the management and allocation of parking spaces in state-owned and leased parking facilities, among visitors, clients, state employees, and service providers;

(5) Establish a fair and equitable system, considering market rates, of parking rates for users of state-owned and leased facilities;

(6) Establish an operational unit within the department and employ such personnel as are necessary to carry out the purposes of sections 1 through 4 of this act. The program manager is exempt from chapter 41.06 RCW;

(7) Establish necessary rules and procedures for carrying out the purposes of sections 1 through 4 of this act;

(8) Delegate the authority granted to the director under sections 3 and 4 of this act to any agency upon such terms as considered advisable.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 4. The director of general administration shall establish fees and charges for parking and transportation programs. Fees and charges shall be used as follows:

(1) Revenues collected from parking charges on the capitol campus shall be first applied to debt service as specified in the revenue bonds issued for the parking facilities constructed under RCW 79.24.300 through 79.24.340.

(2) The state agency transportation and parking management account is created in the state treasury. Any funds remaining after the debt specified by subsection (1) of this section is satisfied, as well as revenues collected as parking fees at locations other than the capitol campus, and charges from other transportation programs that are part of the state agency transportation and parking management plan shall be paid to the account. The department of general administration shall administer the account, and moneys in the account may be spent only after appropriation.

(3) The account shall be used for the payment of costs, expenses, and charges incurred in the operation and administration of transportation or parking programs administered by the department of general administration, or other state agencies as part of the state agency transportation and parking management program. The programs of the various state agencies shall be treated as separate entities for financial and accounting control. Revenues collected as parking fees or as charges for other transportation programs that are part of the state agency transportation and parking management plan, but that are administered by agencies other than the department of general administration, shall be paid to the account of the agency within the account, and shall be applied to the program from which the revenues were collected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. The director of general administration shall adopt and enforce such rules as may be deemed necessary to accomplish the purpose of sections 1 through 4 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. If specific funding for the purposes of this act, referencing this act by bill number, is not provided by June 30, 1990, in the supplemental omnibus appropriations act, this act shall be null and void.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator West: "Mr. President, a point of order. I would challenge the scope and object on this amendment. The underlying bill is what we have to look to and this is simply a repealer. The underlying bill does nothing more than repeal several sections of current law. By offering this amendment, the makers are attempting to add new law. I think that that goes well beyond the original intent--the original object--the original scope of the bill and would recommend that the ruling go that way."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Newhouse, further consideration of House Bill No. 2555 was deferred.

There being no objection, the President reverted the Senate to the first order of business.

HOUSE BILL NO. 2395, by Representatives Anderson, Brooks, Braddock, Moyer, Locke, Prentice, Jacobsen, Scott and Wineberry

Regarding reimbursement of nursing homes authorized to meet the needs of people with AIDS.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator McDonald, the following Committee on Ways and Means amendment was adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

*Sec. 1. Section 24, chapter 67, Laws of 1983 1st ex. sess. as amended by section 5, chapter 476, Laws of 1987 and RCW 74.46.481 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The nursing services cost center shall include all costs related to the direct provision of nursing and related care, including fringe benefits and payroll taxes for the nursing and related care personnel. For rates effective for state fiscal year 1984, the department shall adopt by administrative rule a definition of "related care" which shall incorporate, but not exceed services reimbursable as of June 30, 1983. For rates effective for state fiscal year 1985, the definition of related care shall include ancillary care.

(2) The department shall adopt by administrative rules a method for establishing a nursing services cost center rate consistent with the principles stated in this section.

(3) Utilizing regression or other statistical technique, the department shall determine a reasonable limit on facility nursing staff taking into account facility patient characteristics. For purposes of this section, facility nursing staff refers to registered nurses, licensed practical nurses and nursing assistants employed by the facility or obtained through temporary labor contract arrangements. Effective January 1, 1988, the hours associated with the training of nursing assistants and the supervision of that training for nursing assistants shall not be included in the calculation of facility nursing staff. In selecting a measure of patient characteristics, the department shall take into account:

(a) The correlation between alternative measures and facility nursing staff; and

(b) The cost of collecting information for and computation of a measure.

If regression is used, the limit shall be set at predicted nursing staff plus 1.75 regression standard errors. If another statistical method is utilized, the limit shall be set at a level corresponding to 1.75 standard errors above predicted staffing computed according to a regression procedure.

(4) No facility shall receive reimbursement for nursing staff levels in excess of the limit, except that, if a facility was reimbursed for a nursing staff level in excess of the limit as of June 30, 1983, the facility may choose to continue to receive its June, 1983 nursing services rate plus any adjustments in rates, such as adjustments for economic trends, made available to all facilities. However, nursing staff levels established under subsection (3) of this section shall not apply to the nursing services cost center reimbursement rate for the pilot facility especially designed to meet the needs of persons living with AIDS as defined by RCW 70.24.017 and specifically authorized for this purpose under the 1989 amendment to the Washington state health plan. The reasonableness limit established pursuant to this subsection shall remain in effect for the period July 1, 1983 through June 30, 1985. At that time the department may revise the measure of patient characteristics or method used to establish the limit.

(5) The department shall select an index of cost increase relevant to the nursing and related services cost area. In the absence of a more representative index, the department shall use the medical care component index as maintained by the United States bureau of labor statistics.

(6) If a facility's nursing staff level is below the limit specified in subsection (3) of this section, the department shall determine the percentage increase for all items included in the nursing services cost center between the facility's most recent cost reporting period and the next prior cost reporting period.

(a) If the percentage cost increase for a facility is below the increase in the selected index for the same time period, the facility's reimbursement rate in the nursing services cost center shall equal the facility's cost from the most recent cost reporting period plus any allowance for inflation provided by legislative appropriation.

(b) If the percentage cost increase for a facility exceeds the increase in the selected index, the department shall limit the cost used for setting the facility's rate in the nursing services cost area to a level reflecting the increase in the selected index.

(7) If the facility's nursing staff level exceeds the reasonableness limit established in subsection (3) of this section, the department shall determine the increase for all items included in the nursing services cost center between the facility's most recent cost reporting period and the next prior cost reporting period.

(a) If the percentage cost increase for a facility is below the increase in the index selected pursuant to subsection (5) of this section, the facility's reimbursement rate in the nursing cost center shall equal the facility's cost from the most recent cost reporting period adjusted downward to reflect the limit on nursing staff, plus any allowance for inflation provided by legislative appropriation subject to the provisions of subsection (4) of this section.

(b) If the percentage cost increase for a facility exceeds the increase in the selected index, the department shall limit the cost used for setting the facility's rate in the nursing services cost center to a level reflecting the nursing staff limit and the cost increase limit, subject to the provisions of subsection (4) of this section, plus any allowance for inflation provided by legislative appropriation.

(8) The department is authorized to determine on a systematic basis facilities with unmet patient care service needs. The department may increase the nursing services cost center prospective rate for a facility beyond the level determined in accordance with subsection (6) of this section if the facility's actual and reported nursing staffing is one standard error or more below predicted staffing as determined according to the method selected pursuant to subsection (3) of this section and the facility has unmet patient care service needs: PROVIDED, That prospective rate increases authorized by this subsection shall be funded only from legislative appropriations made for this purpose and the increases shall be conditioned on specified improvements in patient care at such facilities.

(9) The department shall establish a method for identifying patients with exceptional care requirements and a method for establishing or negotiating on a consistent basis rates for such patients.

(10) The department, in consultation with interested parties, shall adopt rules to establish the criteria the department will use in reviewing any requests by a contractor for a prospective rate adjustment to be used to increase the number of nursing staff. These rules shall also specify the time period for submission and review of staffing requests: PROVIDED, That a decision on a staffing request shall not take longer than sixty days from the date the department receives such a complete request. In establishing the criteria, the department may consider, but is not limited to, the following:

(a) Increases in acuity levels of contractors' residents;

(b) Staffing patterns for similar facilities;

(c) Physical plant of contractor; and

(d) Survey, inspection of care, and department consultation results.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately."

On page 1, line 3 of the title, after "AIDS;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "amending RCW 74.46.481; and declaring an emergency."

Eligible enrolled participants shall not be subject to preexisting condition limitations except to the extent that a waiting period for a preexisting condition has not been satisfied under the insolvent carrier's group plan. An open enrollment shall not be required where the agreement holder participates in a self-insured, self-funded, or other health plan exempt from commissioner rule, unless the plan administrator and agreement holder voluntarily agree to offer a simultaneous open enrollment and extend coverage under the same enrollment terms and conditions as are applicable to carriers under this title and rules adopted under this title. If an exempt plan was offered during the last regular open enrollment period, then the carrier may offer the agreement holder the same coverage as any self-insured plan or plans offered by the agreement holder without regard to coverage, benefit, or provider requirements mandated by this title for the duration of the current agreement period.

(b) For purposes of this subsection only, the term "carrier" means a health maintenance organization or a health care service contractor. In the event of insolvency of a carrier and if

Each carrier to which a group or groups are allocated shall offer the agreement holder, without medical underwriting, the carrier's existing coverage that is most similar to each group's coverage with the insolvent carrier at rates determined in accordance with the successor carrier's existing rating methodology. The eligible enrolled participants shall not be subject to preexisting condition limitations except to the extent that a waiting period for a preexisting condition has not been satisfied under the insolvent carrier's group plan. No offering by a carrier shall be required where the agreement holder participates in a self-insured, self-funded, or other health plan exempt from commissioner rule. The carrier may offer the agreement holder the same coverage as any self-insured plan or plans offered by the agreement holder without regard to coverage, benefit, or provider requirements mandated by this title for the duration of the current agreement period.

(2) The commissioner shall also allocate equitably the insolvent carrier's nongroup enrolled participants who are unable to obtain coverage among all carriers that operate within a portion of the insolvent carrier's service area, taking into consideration the health care delivery resources of the carrier. Each carrier to which nongroup enrolled participants are allocated shall offer the nongroup enrolled participants the carrier's existing comprehensive conversion plan, without additional medical underwriting, at rates determined in accordance with the successor carrier's existing rating methodology. The eligible enrolled participants shall not be subject to preexisting condition limitations except to the extent that a waiting period for a preexisting condition has not been satisfied under the insolvent carrier's plan.

(3) Any agreements covering participants allocated pursuant to subsections (1)(b) and (2) of this section to carriers pursuant to this section may be rerated after ninety days of coverage.

(4) A limited health care service contractor shall not be required to offer services other than its one limited health care service to any enrolled participant of an insolvent carrier.

(2) A health maintenance organization that fails to comply with the net worth requirements of this chapter must cure that defect in compliance with an order of the commissioner rendered in conformity with rules adopted pursuant to chapter 34.05 RCW. The commissioner is authorized to take appropriate action to assure that the continued operation of the health maintenance organization will not be hazardous to its enrolled participants.

Sec. 11. Section 3, chapter 243, Laws of 1986 and RCW 48.80.030 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A person shall not make or present or cause to be made or presented to a health care payer a claim for a health care payment knowing the claim to be false.

(2) No person shall knowingly present to a health care payer a claim for a health care payment that falsely represents that the goods or services were medically necessary in accordance with professionally accepted standards. Each claim that violates this subsection shall constitute a separate offense.

(3) No person shall knowingly make a false statement or false representation of a material fact to a health care payer for use in determining rights to a health care payment. Each claim that violates this subsection shall constitute a separate violation.

(4) No person shall conceal the occurrence of any event affecting his or her initial or continued right under a contract, certificate, or policy of insurance to have a payment made by a health care payer for a specified health care service. A person shall not conceal or fail to disclose any information with intent to obtain a health care payment to which the person or any other person is not entitled, or to obtain a health care payment in an amount greater than that which the person or any other person is entitled.

(5) No provider shall willfully collect or attempt to collect an amount from an insured knowing that to be in violation of an agreement or contract with a health care payor to which the provider is a party.

(6) A person who violates this section is guilty of a class C felony punishable under chapter 9A.20 RCW.

~~((6))~~ (7) This section does not apply to statements made on an application for coverage under a contract or certificate of health care coverage issued by an insurer, health care service contractor, health maintenance organization, or other legal entity which is self-insured and providing health care benefits to its employees.

(b) No participating provider, agent, trustee or assignee may maintain any action against an enrolled participant to collect sums owed by the health care service contractor.

Sec. 6, Section 1, chapter 168, Laws of 1982 as last amended by section 1, chapter 122, Laws of 1989 and RCW 48.44.026 are each amended to read as follows:

Checks in payment for claims pursuant to any health care service contract for health care services provided by persons licensed or regulated under chapters 18.22, 18.25, 18.29, 18.32, 18.53, 18.57, 18.64, 18.71, 18.73, 18.74, 18.83, or 18.88 RCW, where the provider is not a ((participant)) participating provider under a contract with the health care service contractor, shall be made out to both the provider and the ((insured)) enrolled participant with the provider as the first named payee, jointly, to require endorsement by each: PROVIDED, That payment shall be made in the single name of the ((insured)) enrolled participant if the ((insured)) enrolled participant as part of his or her claim furnishes evidence of prepayment to the health care service provider: AND PROVIDED FURTHER, That nothing in this section shall preclude a health care service contractor from voluntarily issuing payment in the single name of the provider.

Sec. 7, Section 3, chapter 268, Laws of 1947 as last amended by section 3, chapter 223, Laws of 1986 and RCW 48.44.030 are each amended to read as follows:

If any of the health care services which are promised in any such agreement are not to be performed by the health care service contractor, or by a ((participant)) participating provider, such activity shall not be subject to the laws relating to insurance, provided provision is made for reimbursement or indemnity of the persons who have previously paid, or on whose behalf prepayment has been made, for such services. Such reimbursement or indemnity shall either be underwritten by an insurance company authorized to write accident, health and disability insurance in the state or guaranteed by a surety company authorized to do business in this state, or guaranteed by a deposit of cash or securities eligible for investment by insurers pursuant to chapter 48.13 RCW, with the insurance commissioner, as hereinafter provided. If the reimbursement or indemnity is underwritten by an insurance company, the contract or policy of insurance may designate the health care service contractor as the named insured, but shall be for the benefit of the persons who have previously paid, or on whose behalf prepayment has been made, for such health care services. If the reimbursement or indemnity is guaranteed by a surety company, the surety bond shall designate the state of Washington as the named obligee, but shall be for the benefit of the persons who have previously paid, or on whose behalf prepayment has been made, for such health care services, and shall be in such amount as the insurance commissioner shall direct, but in no event in a sum greater than the amount of one hundred fifty thousand dollars or the amount necessary to cover incurred but unpaid reimbursement or indemnity benefits as reported in the last annual statement filed with the insurance commissioner, and adjusted to reflect known or anticipated increases or decreases during the ensuing year, plus an amount of unearned prepayments applicable to reimbursement or indemnity benefits satisfactory to the insurance commissioner, whichever amount is greater. A copy of such insurance policy or surety bond, as the case may be, and any modification thereof, shall be filed with the insurance commissioner. If the reimbursement or indemnity is guaranteed by a deposit of cash or securities, such deposit shall be in such amount as the insurance commissioner shall direct, but in no event in a sum greater than the amount of one hundred fifty thousand dollars or the amount necessary to cover incurred but unpaid reimbursement or indemnity benefits as reported in the last annual statement filed with the insurance commissioner, and adjusted to reflect known or anticipated increases or decreases during the ensuing year, plus an amount of unearned prepayments applicable to reimbursement or indemnity benefits satisfactory to the insurance commissioner, whichever amount is greater. Such cash or security deposit shall be held in trust by the insurance commissioner and shall be for the benefit of the persons who have previously paid, or on whose behalf prepayment has been made, for such health care services.

(1)(a) In the event of insolvency of a health services contractor or health maintenance organization and upon order of the commissioner, all other carriers then having active enrolled participants under a group plan with the affected agreement holder that participated in the enrollment process with the insolvent health services contractor or health maintenance organization at a group's last regular enrollment period shall offer the eligible enrolled participants of the insolvent health services contractor or health maintenance organization the opportunity to enroll in an existing group plan without medical underwriting during a thirty-day open enrollment period, commencing on the date of the insolvency. Eligible enrolled participants shall not be subject to preexisting condition limitations except to the extent that a waiting period for a preexisting condition has not been satisfied under the insolvent carrier's group plan. An open enrollment shall not be required where the agreement holder participates in a self-insured, self-funded, or other health plan exempt from commissioner rule, unless the plan administrator and agreement holder voluntarily agree to offer a simultaneous open enrollment and extend coverage under the same enrollment terms and conditions as are applicable to carriers under this title and rules adopted under this title. If an exempt plan was offered during the last regular open enrollment period, then the carrier may offer the agreement holder the same coverage as any self-insured plan or plans offered by the agreement holder without regard to coverage, benefit, or provider requirements mandated by this title for the duration of the current agreement period.

(b) For purposes of this subsection only, the term "carrier" means a health maintenance organization or a health care services contractor. In the event of insolvency of a carrier and if no other carrier has active enrolled participants under a group plan with the affected agreement holder, or if the commissioner determines that the other carriers lack sufficient health care delivery resources to assure that health services will be available or accessible to all of the group enrollees of the insolvent carrier, then the commissioner shall allocate equitably the insolvent carrier's group agreements for these groups among all carriers that operate within a portion of the insolvent carrier's area, taking into consideration the health care delivery resources of each carrier. Each carrier to which a group or groups are allocated shall offer the agreement holder, without medical underwriting, the carrier's existing coverage that is most similar to each group's coverage with the insolvent carrier at rates determined in accordance with the successor carrier's existing rating methodology. The eligible enrolled participants shall not be subject to preexisting condition limitations except to the extent that a waiting period for a preexisting condition has not been satisfied under the insolvent carrier's group plan. No offering by a carrier shall be required where the agreement holder participates in a self-insured, self-funded, or other health plan exempt from commissioner rule. The carrier may offer the agreement holder the same coverage as any self-insured plan or plans offered by the agreement holder without regard to coverage, benefit, or provider requirements mandated by this title for the duration of the current agreement period.

(2) The commissioner shall also allocate equitably the insolvent carrier's nongroup enrolled participants who are unable to obtain coverage among all carriers that operate within a portion of the insolvent carrier's service area, taking into consideration the health care delivery resources of the carrier. Each carrier to which nongroup enrolled participants are allocated shall offer the nongroup enrolled participants the carrier's existing comprehensive conversion plan, without additional medical underwriting, at rates determined in accordance with the successor carrier's existing rating methodology. The eligible enrolled participants shall not be subject to preexisting condition limitations except to the extent that a waiting period for a preexisting condition has not been satisfied under the insolvent carrier's plan.

(3) Any agreements covering participants allocated pursuant to subsections (1)(b) and (2) of this section to carriers pursuant to this section may be rerated after ninety days of coverage.

(4) A limited health care service contractor shall not be required to offer services other than its one limited health care service to any enrolled participant of an insolvent carrier.

Sec. 9. Section 4, chapter 197, Laws of 1961 as amended by section 2, chapter 87, Laws of 1965 and RCW 48.44.070 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Forms of contracts between health care service contractors and ((participants)) participating providers shall be filed with the insurance commissioner prior to use.

(2) Any contract form not affirmatively disapproved within fifteen days of filing shall be deemed approved, except that the commissioner may extend the approval period an additional fifteen days upon giving notice before the expiration of the initial fifteen-day period. The commissioner may approve such a contract form for immediate use at any time. Approval may be subsequently withdrawn for cause.

(3) Subject to the right of the health care service contractor to demand and receive a hearing under chapters 48.04 and 34.05 RCW, the commissioner may disapprove such a contract form if it is in any respect in violation of this chapter or if it fails to conform to minimum provisions or standards required by the commissioner by rule under chapter 34.05 RCW.

Sec. 10. Section 5, chapter 197, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 4, chapter 223, Laws of 1986 and RCW 48.44.080 are each amended to read as follows:

Every health care service contractor shall file with its annual statement with the insurance commissioner a master list of the ((participants)) participating providers with whom or with which such health care service contractor has executed contracts of participation, certifying that each such ((participant)) participating provider has executed such contract of participation. The health care service contractor shall on the first day of each month notify the insurance commissioner in writing in case of the termination of any such contract, and of any ((participant)) participating provider who has entered into a participating contract during the preceding month.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 11. A new section is added to chapter 48.44 RCW to read as follows:

Each health care service contractor shall have a plan for handling insolvency that allows for continuation of benefits for the duration of the contract period for which premiums have been paid and continuation of benefits to members who are confined on the date of insolvency in an inpatient facility until their discharge or expiration of benefits. The commissioner shall approve such a plan if it includes:

- (1) Insurance to cover the expenses to be paid for continued benefits after insolvency;
- (2) Provisions in provider contracts that obligate the provider to provide services for the duration of the period after the health care service contractor's insolvency for which premium payment has been made and until the enrolled participants are discharged from inpatient facilities;
- (3) Use of insolvency reserves established under RCW 48.44.030;
- (4) Acceptable letters of credit or approved surety bonds; or
- (5) Any other arrangements the commissioner and the organization mutually agree are appropriate to assure that the benefits are continued."

(1) A child taken into custody pursuant to RCW 13.34.050 or 26.44.050 shall be immediately placed in shelter care. A child taken by a relative of the child in violation of RCW 9A.40.060 or 9A.40.070 shall be placed in shelter care only when permitted under RCW 13.34.055. "Shelter care" means temporary physical care in a facility licensed pursuant to RCW 74.15.030 or in a home not required to be licensed pursuant to that section. Whenever a child is taken into such custody pursuant to this section, the supervising agency may authorize evaluations of the child's physical or emotional condition, routine medical and dental examination and care, and all necessary emergency care. In no case may a child who is taken into custody pursuant to RCW 13.34.055, 13.34.050, or 26.44.050 be detained in a secure detention facility. No child may be held longer than seventy-two hours, excluding Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, after such child is taken into custody unless a court order has been entered for continued shelter care. The child and his or her parent, guardian, or custodian shall be informed that they have a right to a shelter care hearing. The court shall hold a shelter care hearing (~~if one is requested~~) within seventy-two hours after the child is taken into custody, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays. If a parent, guardian, or legal custodian desires to waive the shelter care hearing, the court shall determine, on the record and with the parties present, that such waiver is knowing and voluntary.

(2) Whenever a child is taken into custody by child protective services pursuant to a court order issued under RCW 13.34.050 or when child protective services is notified that a child has been taken into custody pursuant to RCW 26.44.050 or 26.44.056, child protective services shall make reasonable efforts to inform the parents, guardian, or legal custodian of the fact that the child has been taken into custody, the reasons why the child was taken into custody, and their legal rights under this title as soon as possible and in no event longer than twenty-four hours after the child has been taken into custody or twenty-four hours after child protective services has been notified that the child has been taken into custody. The notice of custody and rights may be given by any means reasonably certain of notifying the parents including, but not limited to, written, telephone, or in person oral notification. If the initial notification is provided by a means other than writing, child protective services shall make reasonable efforts to also provide written notification.

The written notice of custody and rights shall be in substantially the following form:

*NOTICE

Your child has been placed in temporary custody under the supervision of Child Protective Services (or other person or agency). You have important legal rights and you must take steps to protect your interests.

1. A court hearing will be held before a judge within 72 hours of the time your child is taken into custody. You should call the court at...(insert appropriate phone number here)... for specific information about the date, time, and location of the court hearing.

2. You have the right to have a lawyer represent you at the hearing. A lawyer can look at the files in your case, talk to child protective services and other agencies, tell you about the law, help you understand your rights, and help you at hearings. If you cannot afford a lawyer, the court will appoint one to represent you. To get a court-appointed lawyer you must contact:...(explain local procedure)....

3. At the hearing, you have the right to speak on your own behalf, to introduce evidence, to examine witnesses, and to receive a decision based solely on the evidence presented to the judge.

You should be present at this hearing. If you do not come, the judge will not hear what you have to say.

You may call the Child Protective Services' caseworker for more information about your child. The caseworker's name and telephone number are:...(insert name and telephone number)....

Upon receipt of the written notice, the parent, guardian, or legal custodian shall acknowledge such notice by signing a receipt prepared by child protective services. If the parent, guardian, or legal custodian does not sign the receipt, the reason for lack of a signature shall be written on the receipt. The receipt shall be made a part of the court's file in the dependency action.

If after making reasonable efforts to provide notification, child protective services is unable to determine the whereabouts of the parents, guardian, or legal custodian, the notice shall be delivered or sent to the last known address of the parent, guardian, or legal custodian.

(3) If child protective services is not required to give notice under subsection (2) of this section, the juvenile court counselor assigned to the matter shall make all reasonable efforts to advise the parents, guardian, or legal custodian of the time and place of any shelter care hearing, request that they be present, and inform them of their basic rights as provided in RCW 13.34.090.

~~((3))~~ (4) Reasonable efforts to advise and to give notice, as required in subsections (2) and (3) of this section, shall include, at a minimum, investigation of the whereabouts of the parent, guardian, or legal custodian. If such reasonable efforts are not successful, or the parent, guardian, or legal custodian does not appear at the shelter care hearing, the juvenile court counselor or caseworker shall testify at the hearing or state in a declaration:

(a) The efforts made to investigate the whereabouts of, and to advise, the parent, guardian, or legal custodian, and

(b) Whether actual advice of rights was made, to whom it was made, and how it was made, including the substance of any oral communication or copies of written materials used.

(5) At the commencement of the shelter care hearing the court shall advise the parties of their basic rights as provided in RCW 13.34.090 and shall appoint counsel pursuant to RCW 13.34.090 if counsel has not been retained by the parent or guardian and if the parent or guardian is indigent, unless the court finds that the right to counsel has been expressly and voluntarily waived in court.

((4)) (6) The court shall hear evidence regarding notice given to, and efforts to notify, the parent, guardian, or legal custodian and shall examine the need for shelter care. The court shall make an express finding as to whether the notice required under subsections (2) and (3) of this section was given to the parent, guardian, or legal custodian. All parties have the right to present testimony to the court regarding the need or lack of need for shelter care. Hearsay evidence before the court regarding the need or lack of need for shelter care must be supported by sworn testimony, affidavit, or declaration of the person offering such evidence.

((5)) (7) The juvenile court probation counselor shall submit a recommendation to the court as to the further need for shelter care, except that such recommendation shall be submitted by the department of social and health services in cases where the petition alleging dependency has been filed by the department of social and health services, unless otherwise ordered by the court.

((6)) (8) The court shall release a child alleged to be dependent to the care, custody, and control of the child's parent, guardian, or legal custodian unless the court finds there is reasonable cause to believe that:

(a) After consideration of the specific services that have been provided, reasonable efforts have been made to prevent or eliminate the need for removal of the child from the child's home and to make it possible for the child to return home; and

(b)(i) The child has no parent, guardian, or legal custodian to provide supervision and care for such child; or

(ii) The release of such child would present a serious threat of substantial harm to such child; or

(iii) The parent, guardian, or custodian to whom the child could be released is alleged to have violated RCW 9A.40.060 or 9A.40.070.

If the court does not release the child to his or her parent, guardian, or legal custodian, the court shall order continued shelter care or order placement with another suitable person, and the court shall set forth its reasons for the order. The court shall enter a finding as to whether subsections (2) and (3) of this section have been complied with. If actual notice was not given to the parent, guardian, or legal custodian and the whereabouts of such person is known or can be ascertained, the court shall order the supervising agency or the department of social and health services to make reasonable efforts to advise the parent, guardian, or legal custodian of the status of the case, including the date and time of any subsequent hearings, and their rights under RCW 13.34.090.

((7)) (9) An order releasing the child on any conditions specified in this section may at any time be amended, with notice and hearing thereon, so as to return the child to shelter care for failure of the parties to conform to the conditions originally imposed.

((8)) (10) A shelter care order issued pursuant to this section may be amended at any time with notice and hearing thereon. The shelter care decision of placement shall be modified only upon a showing of change in circumstances. No child may be detained for longer than thirty days without an order, signed by the judge, authorizing continued shelter care.

(11) Any parent, guardian, or legal custodian who for good cause is unable to attend the initial shelter care hearing may request that a subsequent shelter care hearing be scheduled. The request shall be made to the clerk of the court where the petition is filed prior to the initial shelter care hearing. The hearing shall be held within seventy-two hours of the request, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays. The clerk shall notify all other parties of the hearing by any reasonable means.

Sec. 2, Section 6, chapter 160, Laws of 1913 as last amended by section 2, chapter 194, Laws of 1988 and RCW 13.34.070 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Upon the filing of the petition, the clerk of the court shall issue a summons, one directed to the child, if the child is twelve or more years of age, and another to the parents, guardian, or custodian, and such other persons as appear to the court to be proper or necessary parties to the proceedings, requiring them to appear personally before the court at the time fixed to hear the petition. If the child is developmentally disabled and not living at home, the notice shall be given to the child's custodian as well as to the child's parent. The developmentally disabled child shall not be required to appear unless requested by the court. Where the custodian is summoned, the parent or guardian or both shall also be served with a summons. The fact-finding hearing on the petition shall be held no later than seventy-five days after the filing of the petition, unless exceptional reasons for a continuance are found. The party requesting the continuance shall have the burden of proving by a preponderance of the evidence that exceptional circumstances do exist. To ensure that the hearing on the petition occurs within the seventy-five day time limit, the court shall schedule and hear the matter on an expedited basis.

(2) A copy of the petition shall be attached to each summons.

(3) The summons shall advise the parties of the right to counsel. The summons shall also inform the child's parent, guardian, or legal custodian of his or right to appointed counsel, if indigent, and of the procedure to use to secure appointed counsel.

(4) The judge may endorse upon the summons an order directing any parent, guardian, or custodian having the custody or control of the child to bring the child to the hearing.

(5) If it appears from affidavit or sworn statement presented to the judge that there is probable cause for the issuance of a warrant of arrest or that the child needs to be taken into custody pursuant to RCW 13.34.050, the judge may endorse upon the summons an order that an officer serving the summons shall at once take the child into custody and take him to the place of shelter designated by the court.

(6) If the person summoned as provided in this section is subject to an order of the court pursuant to subsection (4) or (5) of this section, and if the person fails to abide by the order, he may be proceeded against as for contempt of court. The order endorsed upon the summons shall conspicuously display the following legend:

NOTICE:
VIOLATION OF THIS ORDER IS SUBJECT TO PROCEEDING FOR CONTEMPT OF COURT
PURSUANT TO RCW 13.34.070.

(7) If a party to be served with a summons can be found within the state, the summons shall be served upon the party personally (at least five) as soon as possible following the filing of the petition, but in no case later than fifteen court days before the fact-finding hearing, or such time as set by the court. If the party is within the state and cannot be personally served, but the party's address is known or can with reasonable diligence be ascertained, the summons may be served upon the party by mailing a copy thereof by certified mail (at least ten) as soon as possible following the filing of the petition, but in no case later than fifteen court days before the hearing, or such time as set by the court. If a party other than the child is without the state but can be found or the address is known, or can with reasonable diligence be ascertained, service of the summons may be made either by delivering a copy thereof to the party personally or by mailing a copy thereof to the party by certified mail at least ten court days before the fact-finding hearing, or such time as set by the court.

(8) Service of summons may be made under the direction of the court by any person eighteen years of age or older who is not a party to the proceedings or by any law enforcement officer, probation counselor, or department of social and health services social worker.

(9) In any proceeding brought under this chapter where the court knows or has reason to know that the child involved is a member of an Indian tribe, notice of the pendency of the proceeding shall also be sent by registered mail, return receipt requested, to the child's tribe. If the identity or location of the tribe cannot be determined, such notice shall be transmitted to the secretary of the interior of the United States.

Sec. 3. Section 7, chapter 160, Laws of 1913 as last amended by section 1, chapter 201, Laws of 1988 and RCW 13.34.080 are each amended to read as follows:

In a dependency case where it appears by the petition or verified statement, that the person standing in the position of natural or legal guardian of the person of any child, is a non-resident of this state, or that the name or place of residence or whereabouts of such person is unknown, as well as in all cases where, after due diligence, the officer has been unable to make service of the summons or notice provided for in RCW 13.34.070, and a copy of the notice has been deposited in the post office, postage prepaid, directed to such person at his last known place of residence, the court shall direct the clerk to publish notice in a legal newspaper printed in the county, qualified to publish summons, once a week for three consecutive weeks, with the first publication of the notice to be at least twenty-five days prior to the date fixed for the hearing. If the parent, guardian, or legal custodian is believed to be a resident of another state or a county other than the county in which the petition has been filed, notice also shall be published in the county in which the parent, guardian, or legal custodian is believed to reside. Additionally, publication may proceed simultaneously with efforts to provide personal service or service by mail for good cause shown, when there is reason to believe that personal service or service by mail will not be successful. Such notice shall be directed to the parent, parents, or other person claiming the right to the custody of the child, if their names are known, or if unknown, the phrase "To whom it may concern" shall be used and apply to, and be binding upon, any such persons whose names are unknown. The name of the court, the name of the child (or children if of one family), the date of the filing of the petition, the date of hearing, and the object of the proceeding in general terms shall be set forth, and the whole shall be subscribed by the clerk. There shall be filed with the clerk an affidavit showing due publication of the notice, and the cost of publication shall be paid by the county at not to exceed the rate paid by the county for other legal notices. The publication of notice shall be deemed equivalent to personal service upon all persons, known or unknown, who have been designated as provided in this section.

Sec. 4. Section 37, chapter 291, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. as amended by section 42, chapter 155, Laws of 1979 and RCW 13.34.090 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Any party has a right to be represented by an attorney in all proceedings under this chapter, to introduce evidence, to be heard in his or her own behalf, to examine witnesses, to receive a decision based solely on the evidence adduced at the hearing, and to an unbiased fact-finder.

(2) At all stages of a proceeding in which a child is alleged to be dependent pursuant to RCW 13.34.030(2), the child's parent ((or)), guardian, or legal custodian has the right to be represented by counsel, and if indigent, to have counsel appointed for him or her by the court. Unless waived in court, counsel shall be provided to the child's parent, guardian, or legal custodian, if such person (a) has appeared in the proceeding or requested the court to appoint counsel and (b) is financially unable to obtain counsel because of indigency as defined in chapter 10.101 RCW.

(3) If a party to an action under this chapter is represented by counsel, no order shall be provided to that party for his or her signature without prior notice and provision of the order to counsel.

(4) Copies of department of social and health services or supervising agency records to which parents have legal access pursuant to chapter 13.50 RCW shall be given to the child's parent, guardian, legal custodian, or his or her legal counsel, within twenty days after the department or supervising agency receives a written request for such records from the parent, guardian, legal custodian, or his or her legal counsel. These records shall be provided to the child's parents, guardian, legal custodian, or legal counsel prior to the shelter care hearing in order to allow an opportunity to review the records prior to the hearing. These records shall be legible and shall be provided at no expense to the parents, guardian, legal custodian, or his or her counsel.

Sec. 5. Section 17, chapter 17, Laws of 1989 1st ex. sess. and RCW 13.34.130 are each amended to read as follows:

If, after a fact-finding hearing pursuant to RCW 13.34.110, as now or hereafter amended, it has been proven by a preponderance of the evidence that the child is dependent within the meaning of RCW 13.34.030(2); after consideration of the predisposition report prepared pursuant to RCW 13.34.110 and after a disposition hearing has been held pursuant to RCW 13.34.110, the court shall enter an order of disposition pursuant to this section.

(1) The court shall order one of the following dispositions of the case:

(a) Order a disposition other than removal of the child from his or her home, which shall provide a program designed to alleviate the immediate danger to the child, to mitigate or cure any damage the child has already suffered, and to aid the parents so that the child will not be endangered in the future. In selecting a program, the court should choose those services that least interfere with family autonomy, provided that the services are adequate to protect the child.

(b) Order that the child be removed from his or her home and ordered into the custody, control, and care of a relative or the department of social and health services or a licensed child placing agency for placement in a foster family home or group care facility licensed pursuant to chapter 74.15 RCW or in a home not required to be licensed pursuant to chapter 74.15 RCW. Unless there is reasonable cause to believe that the safety or welfare of the child would be jeopardized or that efforts to reunite the parent and child will be hindered, such child shall be placed with a grandparent, brother, sister, stepbrother, stepsister, uncle, aunt, or first cousin with whom the child has a relationship and is comfortable, and who is willing and available to care for the child. An order for out-of-home placement may be made only if the court finds that reasonable efforts have been made to prevent or eliminate the need for removal of the child from the child's home and to make it possible for the child to return home, specifying the services that have been provided to the child and the child's parent, guardian, or legal custodian, and that:

(i) There is no parent or guardian available to care for such child;

(ii) The child is unwilling to reside in the custody of the child's parent, guardian, or legal custodian;

(iii) The parent, guardian, or legal custodian is not willing to take custody of the child;

(iv) A manifest danger exists that the child will suffer serious abuse or neglect if the child is not removed from the home and an order under RCW 26.44.063 would not protect the child from danger; or

(v) The extent of the child's disability is such that the parent, guardian, or legal custodian is unable to provide the necessary care for the child and the parent, guardian, or legal custodian has determined that the child would benefit from placement outside of the home.

(2) Whenever a child is ordered removed from the child's home, the agency charged with his or her care shall provide the court with a specific plan as to where the child will be placed.

what steps will be taken to return the child home, and what actions the agency will take to maintain parent-child ties. All aspects of the plan shall include the goal of achieving permanence for the child.

(a) The agency plan shall specify what services the parents will be offered in order to enable them to resume custody, what requirements the parents must meet in order to resume custody, and a time limit for each service plan and parental requirement.

(b) The agency shall be required to encourage the maximum parent-child contact possible, including regular visitation and participation by the parents in the care of the child while the child is in placement. Visitation may be limited or denied only if the court determines that such limitation or denial is necessary to protect the child's health, safety, or welfare.

(c) A child shall be placed as close to the child's home as possible, preferably in the child's own neighborhood, unless the court finds that placement at a greater distance is necessary to promote the child's or parents' well-being.

(d) The agency charged with supervising a child in placement shall provide all reasonable services that are available within the agency, or within the community, or those services which the department of social and health services has existing contracts to purchase. It shall report to the court if it is unable to provide such services.

(3) If there is insufficient information at the time of the disposition hearing upon which to base a determination regarding the suitability of a proposed placement with a relative, the child shall remain in foster care and the court shall direct the supervising agency to conduct necessary background investigations as provided in chapter 74.15 RCW and report the results of such investigation to the court within thirty days. However, if such relative appears otherwise suitable and competent to provide care and treatment, the criminal history background check need not be completed before placement, but as soon as possible after placement. Any placements with relatives, pursuant to this section, shall be contingent upon cooperation by the relative with the agency case plan and compliance with court orders related to the care and supervision of the child including, but not limited to, court orders regarding parent-child contacts and any other conditions imposed by the court. Noncompliance with the case plan or court order shall be grounds for removal of the child from the relative's home, subject to review by the court.

(4) The status of all children found to be dependent shall be reviewed by the court at least every six months from the beginning date of the placement episode or the date dependency is established, whichever is first, at a hearing in which it shall be determined whether court supervision should continue. The review shall include findings regarding the agency and parental completion of disposition plan requirements, and if necessary, revised permanency time limits.

(a) A child shall not be returned home at the review hearing unless the court finds that a reason for removal as set forth in this section no longer exists. The parents, guardian, or legal custodian shall report to the court the efforts they have made to correct the conditions which led to removal. If a child is returned, casework supervision shall continue for a period of six months, at which time there shall be a hearing on the need for continued intervention.

(b) If the child is not returned home, the court shall establish in writing:

(i) Whether reasonable services have been provided to or offered to the parties to facilitate reunion, specifying the services provided or offered;

(ii) Whether the child has been placed in the least-restrictive setting appropriate to the child's needs, including whether consideration has been given to placement with the child's relatives;

(iii) Whether there is a continuing need for placement and whether the placement is appropriate;

(iv) Whether there has been compliance with the case plan by the child, the child's parents, and the agency supervising the placement;

(v) Whether progress has been made toward correcting the problems that necessitated the child's placement in out-of-home care;

(vi) Whether the parents have visited the child and any reasons why visitation has not occurred or has been infrequent;

(vii) Whether additional services are needed to facilitate the return of the child to the child's parents; if so, the court shall order that reasonable services be offered specifying such services; and

(viii) The projected date by which the child will be returned home or other permanent plan of care will be implemented.

(c) The court at the review hearing may order that a petition seeking termination of the parent and child relationship be filed.

Such petition shall conform to the requirements of RCW 13.34.040, shall be served upon the parties as provided in RCW 13.34.070(7), and shall allege:

- (1) That the child has been found to be a dependent child under RCW 13.34.030(2); and
- (2) That the court has entered a dispositional order pursuant to RCW 13.34.130; and
- (3) That the child has been removed or will, at the time of the hearing, have been removed from the custody of the parent for a period of at least six months pursuant to a finding of dependency under RCW 13.34.030(2); and
- (4) That the services ordered under RCW 13.34.130 have been offered or provided and all necessary services, reasonably available, capable of correcting the parental deficiencies within the foreseeable future have been offered or provided; and
- (5) That there is little likelihood that conditions will be remedied so that the child can be returned to the parent in the near future; and
- (6) That continuation of the parent and child relationship clearly diminishes the child's prospects for early integration into a stable and permanent home;
- (7) In lieu of the allegations in subsections (1) through (6) of this section, the petition may allege that the child was found under such circumstances that the whereabouts of the child's parent are unknown and no person has acknowledged paternity or maternity and requested custody of the child within two months after the child was found.

(9) Juvenile detention facilities shall release records to the juvenile disposition standards commission under RCW 13.40.025 upon request. The commission shall not disclose the names of any juveniles or parents mentioned in the records without the named individual's written permission.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Nelson, Second Substitute House Bill No. 2122, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talmadge: "Senator Nelson, in the bill there is a requirement that services provided to the child or others must be specifically identified. Does this language require that any services not presently mandated by law be provided?"

Senator Nelson: "No, the intent of this language is simply to require identification of the services provided, so that the court can determine whether reasonable efforts have been made to prevent or eliminate the need for removal of the child from the home. The standards for providing services to the child and the family have not been changed by this bill."

Senator Talmadge: "If no services have been offered or provided at the time of the hearing, can the court still order the removal of the child from the home?"

Senator Nelson: "Yes, the child may be removed from the home when the providing or offering services would not eliminate the need for removal."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Second Substitute House Bill No. 2122, as amended by the Senate, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 49.

On motion of Senator Bailey, Engrossed House Bill No. 2911, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Bauer, the reason for this bill is that the state auditor, on a regular audit, picked up a person on a school board that had a 25% interest in the Coca Cola plant and is serving on the school board and has a contract with the school board. Why is it so important for this person to remain on the school board?"

Senator Bauer: "Well, there are twelve or thirteen of these people around the state who are on these boards that the auditor found that they did have some contractual relationship, so it is felt that the Legislature should tighten the law up, so that it doesn't happen again and other people will not be able to get on the board. These people will stay on the board under these real tight conditions and so with that, those twelve or thirteen people can continue to serve until their time is up and no one else can--"

Senator Rasmussen: "Do they continue contracting with the school board while they are serving as school board directors?"

Senator Bauer: "They cannot vote on or take a position on or anyway influence anybody in terms of the contracts that might take place."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Pritchard: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator West, the President finds that House Bill No. 2555 is a measure repealing the Washington Animal Remedies Act.

"The amendment proposed by Senators Anderson, Bailey, Rinehart, Hansen, Madsen, McDonald and Rasmussen amends the Washington Animal Remedies Act by allowing the Director of Agriculture to restrict certain livestock remedies which might be used in dairy products. The President believes that this is a very close question and is convinced that an adverse ruling would set an extremely confining precedent with regard to future scope and object rulings and their effect on legislation which attempts to repeal existing law.

"The President, therefore, finds that the amendment does not change the scope and object of the bill and that the point of order is not well taken."

The striking amendment by Senators Anderson, Bailey, Rinehart, Hansen, Madsen, McDonald and Rasmussen to House Bill No. 2555 was ruled in order.

MOTION

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION, Sec. 1. INTENT. The legislature finds that uncoordinated and unmanaged growth poses an immediate threat to the environment, to sustainable economic development, and to the high quality of life enjoyed by inhabitants of this state. It is in the interest of all the people of this state that citizens, communities, and local governments cooperate and coordinate with one another in comprehensive land use planning. Such cooperation and coordination state-wide will encourage predictability in the permitted uses of property and promote uniformity of land use planning.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 2. DEFINITIONS. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "City" means any city, town, or optional municipal code city.

(2) "Department" means the department of community development.

(3) "Development regulations" mean any city or county controls on any land use or development activities including, but not limited to, zoning ordinances, planned unit development ordinances, and subdivision ordinances.

(4) "Special purpose district" means a local unit of government, other than a city, county, or regional organization, authorized and regulated by statute to perform a single function or a limited number of functions, and includes, but is not limited to, water districts, irrigation districts, port districts, fire protection districts, school districts, community college districts, public hospital districts, sewer districts, public utility districts, public health districts, city and county health districts, cemetery districts, diking districts, metropolitan park districts, public transportation benefit areas, drainage districts, transportation districts, and metropolitan municipal corporations organized under chapter 35.58 RCW.

(5) "Urban growth" means that growth which makes intensive use of the land for the location of buildings, structures, and impermeable surfaces. When allowed to occur over wide areas, it typically requires urban governmental services.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 3. STATE-WIDE PLANNING GOALS CHECKLIST. No later than July 1, 1991, the department shall adopt a planning checklist that includes state-wide goals applicable to all city and county comprehensive land use plans. The state-wide planning goals checklist shall be consistent with the purposes of this chapter and shall implement the following growth planning goals:

(1) To provide for the conservation and wise use of natural resources, and to maintain a productive agricultural and forest land base by discouraging the conversion of agricultural and forest land to other uses;

(2) To preserve unique wildlife habitats;

(3) To prevent uses of rare or important natural ecosystems which are incompatible with the long-term sustainability of such lands;

(4) To protect environmentally sensitive areas, including wetlands, riparian zones, flood plains, and areas of geological hazard;

(5) To protect lands having significant historical, cultural, or geological value;

(6) To ensure that adequate and diversified recreational opportunities and publicly accessible open space are provided in all areas of the state, and particularly in areas of increasing urbanization;

(7) To encourage diversified transportation modes which decrease reliance upon the automobile, particularly in high density urban areas;

(8) To encourage and provide incentives for high quality development that permit growth in accordance with public need and the physical and environmental limitations of land;

(9) To encourage provision of urban governmental services in areas planned for urban growth, and to require that adequate services be provided as growth occurs;

(10) To assure adequate access to and provision of utility services, and to encourage responsible waste management;

(11) To assure that major developments such as educational and correctional institutions, health care facilities, transportation facilities, waste management and disposal facilities, and energy facilities are equitably and prudently located;

(12) To encourage greater regional planning, consistency of local plans with regional plans, and coordination of city and county comprehensive plans in areas with common growth management and urban governmental services concerns;

(13) To assure that citizens have a meaningful role in participating in local and regional land use planning decisions;

(14) To encourage future urban growth to occur in existing urban areas and adjacent areas designated for additional urban growth, and to discourage urban growth from occurring in areas providing long-term importance for agricultural or forest uses, or in areas that are environmentally sensitive;

(15) To incorporate shoreline master programs developed pursuant to the shoreline management act into city and county comprehensive land use plans; and

NEW SECTION, Sec. 4. TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE SERVICES. (1) The department shall establish a program of technical assistance to the counties and cities to facilitate the adoption and implementation of comprehensive plans and development regulations.

(2) The department shall develop a priority list for technical assistance for counties and cities. Priority for assistance shall be based on a county's or city's population growth rates, commercial and industrial development rates, the existence and quality of a comprehensive plan and development regulations, the need for technical assistance, and other relevant factors.

(3) The technical assistance program shall utilize department staff, the staff of other state agencies, and the technical resources of counties and cities to help in the development of comprehensive plans required under this chapter. The technical assistance may include, but not be limited to, model land use ordinances, regional education and training programs, and information for local and regional inventories.

(4) The department shall establish, in consultation with representatives selected by the associations for cities and counties, a state-wide data base which includes all lands, land uses, and facilities in each municipality.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. PROCEDURE FOR ADOPTING STATE-WIDE PLANNING GOALS CHECKLIST AND ESTABLISHING TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE PROGRAM. In developing the state-wide planning goals checklist under section 3 of this act and the program under section 4 of this act, the department shall seek public participation. The department shall also consult with city and county legislative bodies and executive officials, other state agencies having expertise or jurisdiction in land use management and planning issues, and private sector and nonprofit organizations having an interest in comprehensive planning. The state-wide planning goals checklist shall be adopted under the procedures of chapter 34.05 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. ROLE OF GROWTH STRATEGIES COMMISSION. The growth strategies commission created by executive order shall:

(1) Analyze different methods for assuring county and city compliance and consistency with the state-wide planning goals checklist under section 3 of this act and with other requirements of this chapter; and

(2) Recommend to the legislature and the governor by December 10, 1990, a specific structure or process that, among other things:

(a) Ensures county and city coordination and compliance with the state-wide planning goals checklist under section 3 of this act and with other requirements of this chapter;

(c) Provides counties and cities access to alternative sources of funds which shall be used to assist counties and cities to mitigate those impacts which occur due to permitted development.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. COMPREHENSIVE LAND USE PLANS. (1) No later than twelve months following final adoption of the state-wide planning goals checklist required under section 3 of this act, every city and county shall adopt or make revisions to its comprehensive land use plan to be consistent with such state-wide planning goals checklist, except as provided under subsection (4) of this section.

(2) Each city and county shall establish procedures providing for early and continuous public participation in the development of comprehensive land use plans and amendments, and in the adoption of development regulations to implement such plans. The procedures shall provide for dissemination of proposals and alternatives, opportunity for written comments, public meetings after timely and effective notice, provision for open discussion, and consideration of and response to public comments. Errors in exact compliance with the established procedures which do not have a material effect upon the ability of a person to participate shall not be the basis for invalidation of a plan provision, plan amendment, or development regulation.

(3) City comprehensive plans shall not be inconsistent with the county plan. Within a reasonable time, each county and city shall assure that their plans are not inconsistent with other counties or cities that are close or contiguous or that have related regional interests. To promote consistency, counties and cities that are close or contiguous shall prepare their comprehensive plans in consultation with each other.

(4) Upon adoption of a resolution by the legislative body of a city with a population of less than seven thousand five hundred that the burdens of adopting a comprehensive plan and development regulations outweigh the benefits to be derived from the process, the city shall be exempted from the provisions of this chapter. A copy of such resolution shall be filed with the department.

The development regulations shall not be inconsistent with the jurisdiction's comprehensive plan. NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. INTENT—TRANSPORTATION PLANNING. The legislature finds that while the transportation system in Washington is owned and operated by numerous public jurisdictions, it should function as one interconnected and coordinated system. Transportation planning, at all jurisdictional levels, should be coordinated with local comprehensive plans. Further, local jurisdictions and the state should cooperate to achieve both state-wide and local transportation goals. To facilitate this coordination and cooperation among state and local jurisdictions, the legislature declares it to be in the state's interest to establish a coordinated planning program for regional transportation systems and facilities throughout the state.

Annually thereafter the legislative body of each city and town shall review the work accomplished under the program and determine current city street needs. Based on these findings each such legislative body shall prepare and after public hearings thereon adopt a revised and extended comprehensive street program before July 1st of each year, and each one-year extension and revision shall be filed with the secretary of transportation not more than thirty days after its adoption. The purpose of this section is to assure that each city and town shall perpetually have available advanced plans looking to the future for not less than six years as a guide in carrying out a coordinated street construction program. The program may at any time be revised by a majority of the legislative body of a city or town, but only after a public hearing.

The six-year program of each city lying within an urban area shall contain a separate section setting forth the six-year program for arterial street construction based upon its long range construction plan and formulated in accordance with rules of the transportation improvement board. The six-year program for arterial street construction shall be submitted to the transportation improvement board forthwith after its annual revision and adoption by the legislative body of the city. The six-year program for arterial street construction shall be based upon estimated revenues available for such construction together with such additional sums as the legislative authority may request for urban arterials from the urban arterial trust account or the transportation improvement account for the six-year period. The program shall contain information as to how the municipality intends to meet state and local long-range priorities for public transportation, capital improvements, significant operating changes planned for the system, and how the municipality intends to fund program needs. Each municipality shall file the six-year program with the state department of transportation, the transportation improvement board, and cities, counties, and regional planning councils within which the municipality is located.

(4) Following certification of the county comprehensive plan by the Puget Sound regional growth authority, no urban governmental services may be extended outside of an urban growth boundary unless approved by the county legislative authority or planning commission as consistent with the comprehensive plan provisions for future urban growth, or as necessary to protect the health and safety of an existing residential population.

(5) Proposed facilities or systems to provide urban governmental services outside an urban growth boundary having a capacity to serve needs projected beyond five years in the future shall not be approved by the county unless it first amends the urban growth boundary provisions of its comprehensive plans and obtains certification of the amendment from the Puget Sound regional growth authority.

(6) This section shall not apply to the provision of urban governmental services within the incorporated area of a city or town.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 42. CERTIFICATION. The comprehensive plan shall be considered certified upon the approval by the affirmative vote of at least twelve members of the authority. The authority must either certify, grant provisional approval, or reject the comprehensive plan submitted within ninety days of the time of its submission. If the Puget Sound regional growth authority rejects a comprehensive plan as a result of inadequacies that, in the discretion of the authority, can be easily corrected, the authority may grant provisional approval of such plan. The terms of a provisional approval shall specify the plan's inadequacies and shall require the stated inadequacies be corrected by a prescribed date, in no event more than ninety days from the date of provisional approval. The authority shall grant final certification of the plan whenever it finds that stated inadequacies have been corrected. A provisional approval can be extended only one time and for no more than an additional ninety days. If the authority finds that the stated inadequacies have not been corrected by the prescribed date, the plan shall be deemed unapproved at the time of such finding.

When any city or county required to submit a comprehensive plan pursuant to section 42 of this act fails to do so within the twenty-four month time period, or fails to obtain certification or provisional approval of its comprehensive plan within the thirty-six month time period pursuant to section 44 of this act, the Puget Sound regional growth authority may take one or both of the following actions:

(1) Develop and adopt a comprehensive plan and development regulations for the city or county. Such comprehensive plan shall be in effect only until such time as the city or county has adopted a comprehensive plan that is certified by the authority; or

(2) Issue an order declaring the county or city not to be in compliance with the Puget Sound regional growth plan. The order shall be delivered to the directors of the department of revenue and the office of financial management who shall then withhold funds in accordance with sections 79 through 83 of this act. Unless the authority notifies the county or city within sixty days of receipt that it finds the proposed amendment to be inconsistent with the guidelines and rules, it shall be deemed consistent.

(2) Where the authority timely notifies the county or city that a proposed amendment is not consistent with the Puget Sound regional growth plan, and the county or city adopts the amendment, the authority or any person aggrieved by the decision may seek review thereof in the superior court for the county in which the decision was made.

(3) The authority shall adopt rules defining categories of minor plan amendments not requiring certification by the authority. The rules shall allow a county or city to submit an amendment otherwise exempt from these procedures for the purpose of obtaining the certification provided under subsection (1) of this section.

(2) Where a comprehensive plan implementation regulation of a city or county does not permit outright a proposed land use by a state agency, the city or county shall provide a procedure by which the proposed use may be allowed following issuance of an extraordinary use permit.

(3) Each application for an extraordinary use permit shall be made to the legislative body of the county or city with jurisdiction. The legislative body shall conduct a hearing thereon within thirty days from the date the application is filed.

(4) A city or county may condition an extraordinary use permit to ensure consistency with the Puget Sound regional growth plan, its certified comprehensive plan, and any applicable comprehensive plan implementation regulations.

(5) A city or county may deny an extraordinary use permit when it determines that the proposed use would cause unacceptably extreme impacts upon public health or safety or the environment that are not avoidable through economically feasible mitigation measures.

(4) A city or county may deny an activity of state concern where it determines that the activity will cause unacceptably extreme adverse impacts upon public health or safety or the environment that cannot be avoided by economically feasible mitigation measures, and that these impacts outweigh the benefits of the proposed activity. Proposals for a use under subsection (1) (d) and (e) of this section shall be reviewed for consistency with the urban growth boundaries of an applicable comprehensive plan.

However, this section does not preclude dedications of land or easements pursuant to RCW 58.17.110 within the proposed development or plat which the county, city, town, or other municipal corporation can demonstrate are reasonably necessary as a direct result of the proposed development or plat to which the dedication of land or easement is to apply.

This section does not prohibit voluntary agreements with counties, cities, towns, or other municipal corporations that allow a payment in lieu of a dedication of land or to mitigate a direct impact that has been identified as a consequence of a proposed development, subdivision, or plat. A local government shall not use such voluntary agreements for local off-site transportation improvements within the geographic boundaries of the area or areas covered by an adopted transportation program authorized by chapter 39.92 RCW. Any such voluntary agreement is subject to the following provisions:

(1) The payment shall be held in a reserve account and may only be expended to fund a capital improvement agreed upon by the parties to mitigate the identified, direct impact;

(2) The payment shall be expended in all cases within five years of collection; and

(3) Any payment not so expended shall be refunded with interest at the rate applied to judgments to the property owners of record at the time of the refund; however, if the payment is not expended within five years due to delay attributable to the developer, the payment shall be refunded without interest.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Bluechel, you caught me right out of the dark. I haven't had anybody in my county say that they wanted to join in or be swallowed by King County, including our Port District. Can you tell me who informed you that Pierce County wanted to be in this?"

Senator Bluechel: "Senator Rasmussen, we have heard from quite a few officials in Pierce County. I know that in Pierce County you have had difficulties with establishing a comprehensive plan, because an initiative took it off a few years back, but you have the same growth although a little bit behind King and Snohomish Counties. You are part of the problem. We hope that Pierce County would be part of the solution. Senator Rasmussen, if you feel that you can vote for this plan, we will be very happy to have you take out Pierce County by an amendment."

Senator Rasmussen: "Well, we are not part of any problem in Pierce County. We solve our own problems. We didn't even want you to dump our voting machines. We would handle that in our own time, but, in fact, I'm fairly sure that somebody in our delegation would have had letters, visits, if they wanted to join in with this plan. I'm not so sure that it would be a good plan for us. We were in the Puget Sound Council of Governments at one time. Then they changed it to PSCOG and it hasn't improved any and should be abolished. They were trying to tell individual counties what to do, too, and that was their failure. I think you should leave it up to the counties individually."

Senator Bluechel: "Senator Rasmussen, the failure of the Puget Sound Council of Governments resulted from two things--no teeth and no funding."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be adoption of the amendments by Senators Bluechel, McDonald, Bailey, Patrick and Nelson on page 1, lines 18 and 25 and page 18, beginning on line 11, to the striking Committee on Governmental Operations amendment to Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 2929.

On page 3, line 4, after "services" insert "and facilities"

On page 3, line 5, after "services" insert "and facilities"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bluechel: "Senator Vognild, the key question in adopting an amendment, is where you have to add the facilities as the growth takes place, what is the funding source?"

Senator Vognild: "Well, Senator, as this bill finishes, there is either going to be state provided funding--which is being discussed in the budget area--there is also going to be provisions for local government funding as we move through the process here. The entire bill will require funding. This will just add that section to it as they do it."

Senator Bluechel: "Senator Vognild, the reason that I asked that question was that funding is in the hundreds of millions of dollars if you have to have it done in its entirety. That is one of the key issues in the whole concept of growth management. Do you provide partial funding or do you provide full funding because your amendment essentially says that you would have to have full funding and we are talking about hundreds of millions of dollars for just three counties alone, let alone the state."

Senator Vognild: "Senator, I read the bill slightly different than you do. As I read the bill, the bill requires that services and facilities be provided as part of the growth management plan. This simply says that they shall be provided as needed, rather than provided after the fact."

Senator Bluechel: "I guess that this is a sticky point, but I would simply say that to do what you want to do is very expensive."

Senator Vognild: "Senator, to do what we want to do with the entire growth management, is very expensive."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendments by Senators Vognild and Kreidler on page 3, lines 4 and 5, to the striking Committee on Governmental Operations amendment to Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 2929.

Debate ensued.

Every plat (~~and short plat~~) containing a dedication filed for record must be accompanied by a title report confirming that the title of the lands as described and shown on said plat is in the name of the owners signing the certificate or instrument of dedication.

An offer of dedication may include a waiver of right of direct access to any street or road from any property, and if the dedication is accepted, any such waiver is effective. Such waiver may be required by local authorities as a condition of approval. Streets or roads not dedicated to the public must be clearly marked on the face of the plat. Any dedication, donation or grant as shown on the face of the plat shall be considered to all intents and purposes, as a quitclaim deed to the said donee or donees, grantee or grantees for his, her or their use for the purpose intended by the donors or grantors as aforesaid.

A subdivision shall be governed by the terms of approval of the final plat, and the statutes, ordinances, and regulations in effect at the time of approval under RCW 58.17.150 (1) and (3) for a period of five years after final plat approval unless the legislative body finds that a change in conditions creates a serious threat to the public health or safety in the subdivision.))~~

SUBDIVISIONS—TECHNICAL, SHORT PLATS. The application shall contain the signatures of the majority of those persons having an ownership interest of lots, tracts, parcels, sites, or divisions in the subject subdivision or portion to be altered. If the subdivision is subject to restrictive covenants which were filed at the time of the approval of the subdivision, and the application for alteration would result in the violation of a covenant, the application shall contain an agreement signed by all parties subject to the covenants providing that the parties agree to terminate or alter the relevant covenants to accomplish the purpose of the alteration of the subdivision or portion thereof.

Upon receipt of an application for alteration, the legislative body shall provide notice of the application to all owners of property within the subdivision, and as provided for in RCW 58.17.080 and 58.17.090. The notice shall either establish a date for a public hearing or provide that a hearing may be requested by a person receiving notice within fourteen days of receipt of the notice.

The legislative body shall determine the public use and interest in the proposed alteration and may deny or approve the application for alteration. If any land within the alteration is part of an assessment district, any outstanding assessments shall be equitably divided and levied against the remaining lots, parcels, or tracts, or be levied equitably on the lots resulting from the alteration. If any land within the alteration contains a dedication to the general use of persons residing within the subdivision, such land may be altered and divided equitably between the adjacent properties.

After approval of the alteration, the legislative body shall order the applicant to produce a revised drawing of the approved alteration of the final plat (~~or short plat~~), which after signature of the legislative authority, shall be filed with the county auditor to become the lawful plat of the property.

As used in this section, "discrepancy" means: (1) A boundary hiatus; (2) an overlapping boundary; or (3) a physical appurtenance, which indicates encroachment, lines of possession, or conflict of title.

Sec. 39. Section 2, chapter 150, Laws of 1973 as last amended by section 1, chapter 39, Laws of 1986 and RCW 58.17.310 are each amended to read as follows:

On page 18, after line 1 of the amendment, insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 27. INTENT—RURAL ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT. The legislature finds that the Puget Sound region is experiencing economic prosperity and the challenges associated with rapid growth. Much of the rest of the state is not experiencing economic prosperity, and faces challenges associated with slow economic growth. It is the intent of the legislature to encourage economic prosperity and balanced economic growth throughout the state.

In order to accomplish this goal, growth must be managed more effectively in the Puget Sound region, and rural areas must build local capacity to accommodate additional economic activity in their communities. Where possible, rural economies and low-income areas should be linked with prosperous urban economies to share economic growth for the benefit of all areas of the state.

Sec. 28. Section 1, chapter 20, Laws of 1983 1st ex. sess. as amended by section 1, chapter 231, Laws of 1985 and RCW 43.210.010 are each amended to read as follows:

EXPORT ASSISTANCE CENTER—ENCOURAGE URBAN-RURAL LINKS. The legislature finds:

(1) The exporting of goods and services from Washington to international markets is an important economic stimulus to the growth, development, and stability of the state's businesses in both urban and rural areas, and that these economic activities create needed jobs for Washingtonians.

(2) Impediments to the entry of many small and medium-sized businesses into export markets have restricted growth in exports from the state.

(3) Particularly significant impediments for many small and medium-sized businesses are the lack of easily accessible information about export opportunities and financing alternatives.

(4) There is a need for a small business export finance assistance center which will specialize in providing export assistance to small and medium-sized businesses throughout the state in acquiring information about export opportunities and financial alternatives for exporting.

Sec. 29. Section 2, chapter 20, Laws of 1983 1st ex. sess. as amended by section 2, chapter 231, Laws of 1985 and RCW 43.210.020 are each amended to read as follows:

EXPORT ASSISTANCE CENTER—ENCOURAGE URBAN-RURAL LINKS. A nonprofit corporation, to be known as the small business export finance assistance center, and branches subject to its authority, may be formed under chapter 24.03 RCW for the following public purposes:

(2) To provide, singly or in conjunction with other organizations, information and assistance to these businesses about export opportunities and financing alternatives.

(3) To provide information to and assist those businesses interested in exporting products, including the opportunities available to them in organizing export trading companies under the United States export trading company act of 1982, for the purpose of increasing their comparative sales volume and ability to export their products to foreign markets.

Sec. 30. Section 1, chapter 466, Laws of 1985 and RCW 43.31.005 are each amended to read as follows:

In order for Washington to fulfill its potential and compete successfully with other states and provinces, it must articulate a consistent, long-term trade policy. It is the responsibility of the state to monitor and ensure that such traditional functions of state government as transportation, infrastructure, education, taxation, regulation and public expenditures contribute to the international trade focus the state of Washington must develop.

Sec. 41. Section 12, chapter 446, Laws of 1985 as last amended by section 3, chapter 93, Laws of 1988 and RCW 43.155.070 are each amended to read as follows:

PUBLIC WORKS ASSISTANCE FUND—CONSIDER BENEFITS TO COMMUNITY. (1) To qualify for loans or pledges under this chapter the board must determine that a local government meets all of the following conditions:

- (a) The city or county must be imposing a tax under chapter 82.46 RCW at a rate of at least one-quarter of one percent;
- (b) The local government must have developed a long-term plan for financing public works needs; and
- (c) The local government must be using all local revenue sources which are reasonably available for funding public works, taking into consideration local employment and economic factors.

(2) The board shall develop a priority process for public works projects as provided in this section. The intent of the priority process is to maximize the value of public works projects accomplished with assistance under this chapter. The board shall attempt to assure a geographical balance in assigning priorities to projects. The board shall consider at least the following factors in assigning a priority to a project:

(a) Whether the local government receiving assistance has experienced severe fiscal distress resulting from natural disaster or emergency public works needs;

(b) Whether the project is critical in nature and would affect the health and safety of a great number of citizens;

(c) The cost of the project compared to the size of the local government and amount of loan money available;

(d) The number of communities served by or funding the project;

(e) Whether the project is located in an area of high unemployment, compared to the average state unemployment; ~~((and))~~

(f) The relative benefit of the project to the community, considering the present level of economic activity in the community and the existing local capacity to increase local economic activity in communities that have low economic growth; and

(g) Other criteria that the board considers advisable.

(3) Existing debt or financial obligations of local governments shall not be refinanced under this chapter. Each local government applicant shall provide documentation of attempts to secure additional local or other sources of funding for each public works project for which financial assistance is sought under this chapter.

(4) Before November 1 of each year, the board shall develop and submit to the chairs of the ways and means committees of the senate and house of representatives a description of the emergency loans made under RCW 43.155.065 during the preceding fiscal year and a prioritized list of projects which are recommended for funding by the legislature, including one copy to the staff of each of the committees. The list shall include, but not be limited to, a description of each project and recommended financing, the terms and conditions of the loan or financial guarantee, the local government jurisdiction and unemployment rate, demonstration of the jurisdiction's critical need for the project and documentation of local funds being used to finance the public works project. The list shall also include measures of fiscal capacity for each jurisdiction recommended for financial assistance, compared to authorized limits and state averages, including local government sales taxes; real estate excise taxes; property taxes; and charges for or taxes on sewerage, water, garbage, and other utilities.

(5) The board shall not sign contracts or otherwise financially obligate funds from the public works assistance account before the legislature has appropriated funds for a specific list of public works projects. The legislature may remove projects from the list recommended by the board. The legislature shall not change the order of the priorities recommended for funding by the board.

(6) Subsections (4) and (5) of this section do not apply to loans made for emergency public works projects under RCW 43.155.065.

Sec. 42. Section 6, chapter 40, Laws of 1982 1st ex. sess. as last amended by section 62, chapter 431, Laws of 1989 and RCW 43.160.060 are each amended to read as follows:

COMMUNITY ECONOMIC REVITALIZATION BOARD—CONSIDER BENEFITS TO RURAL COMMUNITY—DESTINATION TOURIST RESORTS. The board is authorized to make direct loans to political subdivisions of the state for the purposes of assisting the political subdivisions in financing the cost of public facilities, including development of land and improvements for public facilities, as well as the acquisition, construction, rehabilitation, alteration, expansion, or improvement of the facilities. A grant may also be authorized for purposes designated in this chapter, but only when, and to the extent that, a loan is not reasonably possible, given the limited resources of the political subdivision.

Application for funds shall be made in the form and manner as the board may prescribe. In making grants or loans the board shall conform to the following requirements:

(1) The board shall not make a grant or loan:

(a) For a project the primary purpose of which is to facilitate or promote a retail shopping development or expansion.

(b) For any project that probably would result in a development or expansion that would displace existing jobs in any other community in the state.

(c) For the acquisition of real property, including buildings and other fixtures which are a part of real property.

(2) The board shall only make grants or loans:

(a) For those projects which would result in specific private developments or expansions (i) in manufacturing, production, food processing, assembly, warehousing, ~~((and))~~ industrial distribution, and destination tourist resorts; (ii) for processing recyclable materials or for facilities that support recycling, including processes not currently provided in the state, including but not limited to, de-inking facilities, mixed waste paper, plastics, yard waste, and problem-waste processing; (iii) for manufacturing facilities that rely significantly on recyclable materials, including but not limited to waste tires and mixed waste paper; or (iv) which substantially support the trading of goods or services outside of the state's borders.

(b) For projects which it finds will improve the opportunities for the successful maintenance, establishment, or expansion of industrial or commercial plants or will otherwise assist in the creation or retention of long-term economic opportunities.

(c) When the application includes convincing evidence that a specific private development or expansion is ready to occur and will occur only if the grant or loan is made.

(3) The board shall prioritize each proposed project according to the relative benefits provided to the community by the jobs the project would create, not just the total number of jobs it would create after the project is completed and according to the unemployment rate in the area in which the jobs would be located. As long as there is more demand for loans or grants than there are funds available for loans or grants, the board is instructed to fund projects in order of their priority.

(4) A responsible official of the political subdivision shall be present during board deliberations and provide information that the board requests.

Before any loan or grant application is approved, the political subdivision seeking the loan or grant must demonstrate to the community economic revitalization board that no other timely source of funding is available to it at costs reasonably similar to financing available from the community economic revitalization board.

Sec. 43. Section 2, chapter 40, Laws of 1982 1st ex. sess. as last amended by section 58, chapter 466, Laws of 1985 and RCW 43.160.020 are each amended to read as follows:

DEVELOPMENT LOAN FUND COMMITTEE—CONSIDER BENEFITS TO RURAL COMMUNITY.

(1) The committee may only approve an application providing a loan for a project which the committee finds:

(a) Will result in the creation of employment opportunities or the maintenance of threatened employment;

(b) Has been approved by the director as conforming to federal rules and regulations governing the spending of federal community development block grant funds;

(c) Will be of public benefit and for a public purpose, and that the benefits, including increased or maintained employment, improved standard of living, and the employment of disadvantaged workers, will primarily accrue to residents of the area;

(d) Will probably be successful:

(e) Would probably not be completed without the loan because other capital or financing at feasible terms is unavailable or the return on investment is inadequate.

(2) The committee shall, subject to federal block grant criteria, give higher priority to economic development projects that contain provisions for child care.

(3) The committee may not approve an application if it fails to provide for adequate reporting or disclosure of financial data to the committee. The committee may require an annual or other periodic audit of the project books.

(4) The committee may require that the project be managed in whole or in part by a local development organization and may prescribe a management fee to be paid to such organization by the recipient of the loan or grant.

(5) (a) Except as provided in (b) of this subsection, the committee shall not approve any application which would result in a loan or grant in excess of three hundred fifty thousand dollars.

(b) The committee may approve an application which results in a loan or grant of up to seven hundred thousand dollars if the application has been approved by the director.

(6) The committee shall fix the terms and rates pertaining to its loans.

(7) Should there be more demand for loans than funds available for lending, the committee shall provide loans for those projects which will lead to the greatest amount of employment or benefit to a community. In determining the "greatest amount of employment or benefit" the committee shall also consider the employment which would be saved by its loan and the benefit relative to the community, not just the total number of new jobs or jobs saved.

(8) To the extent permitted under federal law the committee shall require applicants to provide for the transfer of all payments of principal and interest on loans to the Washington state development loan fund created under this chapter. Under circumstances where the federal law does not permit the committee to require such transfer, the committee shall give priority to applications where the applicants on their own volition make commitments to provide for the transfer.

(9) The committee shall not approve any application to finance or help finance a shopping mall.

(10) The committee shall make at least eighty percent of the appropriated funds available to projects located in distressed areas, and may make up to twenty percent available to projects located in areas not designated as distressed. The committee shall not make funds available to projects located in areas not designated as distressed if the fund's net worth is less than seven million one hundred thousand dollars.

(11) If an objection is raised to a project on the basis of unfair business competition, the committee shall evaluate the potential impact of a project on similar businesses located in the local market area. A grant may be denied by the committee if a project is not likely to result in a net increase in employment within a local market area.

Sec. 45. Section 7, chapter 125, Laws of 1984 as amended by section 33, chapter 505, Laws of 1987 and RCW 43.63A.078 are each amended to read as follows:

TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE GRANTS. (1) The department shall develop and administer a local development matching fund program. To be eligible to receive funds under this program, an organization must be a local government or a nonprofit local development entity. Any local government or entity requesting funds must demonstrate the participation of a cross-section of the local community in the economic development project, including business, labor, education and training, and the public sector. Under this program, the department shall provide matching funds which shall be used for the formulation of local economic development strategies, including the technical analysis necessary to designate and carry out the strategies. A technical analysis can include, but is not limited to, the development and dissemination of data on local markets, demographics, comparative business costs, site availability, labor force characteristics, and local incentives. Funds are to be used primarily to foster new developments and expansions which result in the trading of goods and services outside of the state's borders. Funds may be made available for assisting local businesses in utilizing state and federal programs in exporting, training, and financing. Funds may also be used to provide technical assistance to businesses in the areas of land use, transportation, site location, and manpower training. Matching funds cannot be used for entertainment, capital expenses, hosting, or marketing. Funds granted for economic development projects must be matched by local resources on a dollar-for-dollar basis. Not more than fifty thousand dollars of state matching funds as provided by this section may be used for any one project.

(2) The department shall set aside, within its general fund appropriation, a sum of two hundred thousand dollars per biennium for technical assistance grants to assist community-based organizations in their efforts contributing to the redevelopment and economic well-being of low-income areas.

A maximum of forty percent of the funds set aside for technical assistance purposes provided in this subsection may be made available for technical assistance in organizational and board development to those organizations demonstrating a reasonable probability that such assistance will help them undertake a development project. A minimum of sixty percent of the funds set aside for technical assistance purposes shall be used for projects which meet the following standards:

(a) Community-based organizations have or will have a minimum ten percent ownership of the development project;

(b) The project is within a low-income area;

(c) The project has provided reasonable assurance that it will conform to all applicable environmental, zoning, and building laws;

(d) The benefits of the project, including the addition or retention of employment and of capital in the low-income area, shall primarily accrue to the residents of the area;

(e) There is a reasonable expectation that the project will be successful, and that the eligible organization and project participants are responsible parties;

(f) Alternative sources, including other agencies or institutions of the state or federal government, have been sought and are either insufficient or unavailable to meet the needs of the project;

(g) The technical assistance to be provided is essential to the success of the project;

(h) Provision has been made for the active participation in the project of residents of the low-income area; and

(i) Provisions have been made for reporting by the eligible organization concerning the manner in which the technical assistance is used on the project and the extent to which it achieves its intended results.

The amount required to be set aside under this section for the biennium ending June 30, 1991, shall be reduced or eliminated if a specific appropriation for the full amount required under this subsection is not made to the department by June 30, 1989.

Grant recipients under this subsection may be community-based organizations or state-wide organizations which provide technical assistance to community-based organizations.

(3) For purposes of subsection (2) of this section, "community-based organization" means:

(a) A nonprofit corporation organized under state law that:

(i) Is organized to operate within a specific substate area;

(ii) Has experience operating programs which directly benefit low-income citizens;

(iii) Has low-income people or representatives of organizations serving the low income on its board of directors.

(b) Any Native American tribal governing body.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 46. A new section is added to chapter 43.63A RCW to read as follows:

LOW-INCOME SELF EMPLOYMENT. The department of community development shall implement a self-employment loan program. The program shall provide grants to local development organizations to use solely in revolving loan funds to finance the small businesses of low-income persons. Grants are to be distributed through a competitive application process to be administered by the department in consultation with an advisory committee. Any organization receiving a grant must: (1) Demonstrate the need for a low-income, self-employment project in its community; (2) demonstrate the capacity of the organization to administer the project; and (3) describe the loan procedure and the self-employment training and support programs into which the loan fund will be incorporated. No grant shall be greater than sixty thousand dollars. An organization may provide loans from the grant award of no greater than five thousand dollars. No more than ten percent of any appropriation to the department for the program may be used by the department for administrative costs."

"Sec. 29, Section 5, chapter 137, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. as last amended by section 47, chapter 36, Laws of 1988 and RCW 76.09.050 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The board shall establish by rule which forest practices shall be included within each of the following classes:

Class I: Minimal or specific forest practices that have no direct potential for damaging a public resource that may be conducted without submitting an application or a notification;

Class II: Forest practices which have a less than ordinary potential for damaging a public resource that may be conducted without submitting an application and may begin five calendar days, or such lesser time as the department may determine, after written notification by the operator, in the manner, content, and form as prescribed by the department, is received by the department. Class II shall not include forest practices:

(a) On lands platted after January 1, 1960, or being converted to another use;

- (b) Which require approvals under the provisions of the hydraulics act, RCW 75.20.100;
- (c) Within "shorelines of the state" as defined in RCW 90.58.030; or
- (d) Excluded from Class II by the board;

Class III: Forest practices other than those contained in Class I, II, or IV. A Class III application must be approved or disapproved by the department within thirty calendar days from the date the department receives the application:

Class IV: Forest practices other than those contained in Class I or II: (a) On lands platted after January 1, 1960, (b) on lands being converted to another use, (c) on lands which, pursuant to RCW 76.09.070 as now or hereafter amended, are not to be reforested because of the likelihood of future conversion to urban development, and/or (d) which have a potential for a substantial impact on the environment and therefore require an evaluation by the department as to whether or not a detailed statement must be prepared pursuant to the state environmental policy act, chapter 43.21C RCW. Such evaluation shall be made within ten days from the date the department receives the application: PROVIDED, That nothing herein shall be construed to prevent any local or regional governmental entity from determining that a detailed statement must be prepared for an action pursuant to a Class IV forest practice taken by that governmental entity concerning the land on which forest practices will be conducted. A Class IV application must be approved or disapproved by the department within thirty calendar days from the date the department receives the application, unless the department determines that a detailed statement must be made, in which case the application must be approved or disapproved by the department within sixty calendar days from the date the department receives the application, unless the commissioner of public lands, through the promulgation of a formal order, determines that the process cannot be completed within such period.

Forest practices under Classes I, II, and III are exempt from the requirements for preparation of a detailed statement under the state environmental policy act.

(2) No Class II, Class III, or Class IV forest practice shall be commenced or continued after January 1, 1975, unless the department has received a notification with regard to a Class II forest practice or approved an application with regard to a Class III or Class IV forest practice containing all information required by RCW 76.09.060 as now or hereafter amended: PROVIDED, That any person commencing a forest practice during 1974 may continue such forest practice until April 1, 1975, if such person has submitted an application to the department prior to January 1, 1975: PROVIDED, FURTHER, That in the event forest practices regulations necessary for the scheduled implementation of this chapter and RCW 90.48.420 have not been adopted in time to meet such schedules, the department shall have the authority to regulate forest practices and approve applications on such terms and conditions consistent with this chapter and RCW 90.48.420 and the purposes and policies of RCW 76.09.010 until applicable forest practices regulations are in effect.

(3) If a notification or application is delivered in person to the department by the operator or his agent, the department shall immediately provide a dated receipt thereof. In all other cases, the department shall immediately mail a dated receipt to the operator.

(4) Forest practices shall be conducted in accordance with the forest practices regulations, orders and directives as authorized by this chapter or the forest practices regulations, and the terms and conditions of any approved applications.

(5) The department of natural resources shall notify the applicant in writing of either its approval of the application or its disapproval of the application and the specific manner in which the application fails to comply with the provisions of this section or with the forest practices regulations. Except as provided otherwise in this section, if the department fails to either approve or disapprove an application or any portion thereof within the applicable time limit, the application shall be deemed approved and the operation may be commenced: PROVIDED, That this provision shall not apply to applications which are neither approved nor disapproved pursuant to the provisions of subsection (7) of this section: PROVIDED, FURTHER, That if seasonal field conditions prevent the department from being able to properly evaluate the application, the department may issue an approval conditional upon further review within sixty days: PROVIDED, FURTHER, That the department shall have until April 1, 1975, to approve or disapprove an application involving forest practices allowed to continue to April 1, 1975, under the provisions of subsection (2) of this section. Upon receipt of any notification or any satisfactorily completed application the department shall in any event no later than two business days after such receipt transmit a copy to the departments of ecology, wildlife, and fisheries, and to the county ~~(in which)~~, city, or town in whose jurisdiction the forest practice is to be commenced. Any comments by such agencies shall be directed to the department of natural resources.

(6) If the county, city, or town believes that an application is inconsistent with this chapter, the forest practices regulations, or any local authority consistent with RCW 76.09.240 as now or hereafter amended, it may so notify the department and the applicant, specifying its objections.

(7) The department shall not approve portions of applications to which a county, city, or town objects if:

(a) The department receives written notice from the county, city, or town of such objections within fourteen business days from the time of transmittal of the application to the county, city, or town, or one day before the department acts on the application, whichever is later; and

(b) The objections relate to lands either:

(i) Platted after January 1, 1960; or

(ii) Being converted to another use.

The department shall either disapprove those portions of such application or appeal the county, city, or town objections to the appeals board. If the objections related to subparagraphs (b) (i) and (ii) of this subsection are based on local authority consistent with RCW 76.09.240 as now or hereafter amended, the department shall disapprove the application until such time as the county, city, or town consents to its approval or such disapproval is reversed on appeal. The applicant shall be a party to all department appeals of county, city, or town objections. Unless the county, city, or town either consents or has waived its rights under this subsection, the department shall not approve portions of an application affecting such lands until the minimum time for county, city, or town objections has expired.

(8) In addition to any rights under the above paragraph, the county, city, or town may appeal any department approval of an application with respect to any lands within its jurisdiction. The appeals board may suspend the department's approval in whole or in part pending such appeal where there exists potential for immediate and material damage to a public resource.

(9) Appeals under this section shall be made to the appeals board in the manner and time provided in RCW 76.09.220(8). In such appeals there shall be no presumption of correctness of either the county, city, or town or the department position.

(10) The department shall, within four business days notify the county, city, or town of all notifications, approvals, and disapprovals of an application affecting lands within the county, city, or town, except to the extent the county, city, or town has waived its right to such notice.

(11) A county, city, or town may waive in whole or in part its rights under this section, and may withdraw or modify any such waiver, at any time by written notice to the department.

Sec. 30. Section 6, chapter 137, Laws of 1974 ex. sess. as amended by section 3, chapter 200, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 76.09.060 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The department shall prescribe the form and contents of the notification and application. The forest practices regulations shall specify by whom and under what conditions the notification and application shall be signed. The application or notification shall be delivered in person or sent by certified mail to the department. The information required may include, but shall not be limited to:

(2) At the option of the applicant, the application or notification may be submitted to cover a single forest practice or any number of forest practices within reasonable geographic or political boundaries as specified by the department. Long range plans may be submitted to the department for review and consultation.

(3) The application shall indicate whether any land covered by the application will be converted or is intended to be converted to a use other than commercial timber production within three years after completion of the forest practices described in it.

(a) If the application states that any such land will be or is intended to be so converted:

(i) The reforestation requirements of this chapter and of the forest practices regulations shall not apply if the land is in fact so converted unless applicable alternatives or limitations are provided in forest practices regulations issued under RCW 76.09.070 as now or hereafter amended;

(ii) Completion of such forest practice operations shall be deemed conversion of the lands to another use for purposes of chapters 84.28, 84.33, and 84.34 RCW unless the conversion is to a use permitted under a current use tax agreement permitted under chapter 84.34 RCW;

(iii) The forest practices described in the application are subject to applicable county, city, town, and regional governmental authority permitted under RCW 76.09.240 as now or hereafter amended as well as the forest practices regulations.

(ii) Failure to comply with the reforestation requirements contained in any final order or decision shall constitute a removal from classification under the provisions of RCW 84.28.065, a removal of designation under the provisions of RCW 84.33.140, and a change of use under the provisions of RCW 84.34.080, and, if applicable, shall subject such lands to the payments and/or penalties resulting from such removals or changes; and

(iii) Conversion to a use other than commercial timber operations within three years after completion of the forest practices without the consent of the county (~~(or municipality)~~), city, or town shall constitute a violation of each of the county, municipal city, town, and regional authorities to which the forest practice operations would have been subject if the application had so stated.

(c) The application shall be either signed by the land owner or accompanied by a statement signed by the land owner indicating his or her intent with respect to conversion and acknowledging that he or she is familiar with the effects of this subsection.

(4) Whenever an approved application authorizes a forest practice which, because of soil condition, proximity to a water course or other unusual factor, has a potential for causing material damage to a public resource, as determined by the department, the applicant shall, when requested on the approved application, notify the department two days before the commencement of actual operations.

(5) Before the operator commences any forest practice in a manner or to an extent significantly different from that described in a previously approved application or notification, there shall be submitted to the department a new application or notification form in the manner set forth in this section.

(6) The notification to or the approval given by the department to an application to conduct a forest practice shall be effective for a term of one year from the date of approval or notification and shall not be renewed unless a new application is filed and approved or a new notification has been filed.

(7) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, no prior application or notification shall be required for any emergency forest practice necessitated by fire, flood, windstorm, earthquake, or other emergency as defined by the board, but the operator shall submit an application or notification, whichever is applicable, to the department within forty-eight hours after commencement of such practice."

Senator Lee moved that the following amendment to the Committee on Governmental Operations striking amendment be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. LEGISLATIVE FINDINGS AND INTENT. The state of Washington's natural environment is distinguished by a beauty, richness, and diversity which is the foundation of its economy, its quality of life and its spirit. Our neighborhoods and communities provide support for a stable, just, and enjoyable quality of life. These endowments are threatened by the consequences of unplanned growth, which results in the disappearance of its productive farm and forest lands, the decline of fish production, the fouling of its air and waters, the destruction of ecological diversity, the wasteful and uncoordinated provision of roads, sewers, water, and other services to sprawling development, the destabilization of established neighborhoods and communities, and divisive conflicts over the proper use of land and the future of our communities. These conflicts have revealed the lack of common goals which express the public's interest in the wise conservation and planned development of our lands. It is the intent of the legislature to remedy these problems by adopting state land use planning goals expressing our common policies, and creating a fair and open planning process that will allow citizens and local governments to find the means best adapted to their circumstances for achieving these state policies in local land use plans and implementing regulations.

The legislature finds that many of Washington's urban and suburban neighborhoods and communities are characterized by affordable housing stock which are compatible with available municipal services and transportation systems. These neighborhoods are threatened by redevelopment which would substitute greater densities of less affordable housing and which would overtax existing municipal services and transportation systems, ultimately resulting in overcrowded conditions and a reduction in value as well as quality of life. It is the intent of the legislature to foster stability in such neighborhoods and communities by affirmatively regulating direct development, including redevelopment within the state.

It is the intent of the legislature to deal with land use on a state-wide policy basis by initially focusing on the impacts of disproportionate population and employment pressure; the prevention of urban sprawl; the preservation of agricultural lands, forest lands, environmentally sensitive lands, aquatic resource lands, and other valuable resource lands; the restoration of lands which have suffered undue damage; the promotion of economic growth in regions lacking adequate growth, and the preservation of the character of existing communities. It is further the intent of the legislature to maintain an adequate renewable resource base while at the same time to protect the natural resources and environment of this state and to facilitate orderly and well planned development.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 2. DEFINITIONS. The terms defined in this section shall have the meanings indicated when used in this chapter, unless the context requires otherwise.

(1) "Agricultural land" means either (a) land which contains soils classified as prime and unique farm lands by the United States soils conservation service, or (b) land which has been (i) devoted primarily to the production of livestock or agricultural commodities for commercial purposes, or (ii) enrolled in the federal conservation reserve program or its successor administered by the United States department of agriculture. Land satisfying this definition shall exist in a contiguous parcel of at least eighty acres, but not necessarily under single ownership. Lands not satisfying this definition but contiguous to and under the same ownership as lands that do satisfy this definition, shall be considered agricultural lands for all purposes.

(2) "Forest lands" means land in public or private ownership whose natural features, including soils, topography, and climate are suited to commercial forest production, or where the predominant land use is forest production. Land satisfying this definition lies in a contiguous parcel of at least eighty acres, but not necessarily under single ownership. Lands not satisfying either this definition or the definition of agricultural land that are contiguous to and under the same ownership as lands that do satisfy this definition, shall be considered forest lands for all purposes.

(3) "Local government" means any city, town, or optional municipal code city, county, charter county, and charter city.

(4) "Commission" means the commission of land planning.

(5) "Comprehensive plan" means a generalized coordinated statement of a government body adopted pursuant to this chapter.

(6) "Development regulations" means any city, county, or regional controls placed on development or land use activities including, but not limited to, zoning ordinances, planned unit development ordinances, and subdivision ordinances.

(7) "Land" means the land, air, and water within the jurisdiction of the state of Washington or its cities or counties.

(8) "Special district" means a local unit of government, other than a city, county, or regional organization, authorized and regulated by statute to perform a single function or a limited number of functions, and includes, but is not limited to, water districts, irrigation districts, port districts, fire districts, school districts, community college districts, public hospital districts, sewer districts, public utility districts, transportation districts, and metropolitan municipal corporations organized under chapter 35.58 RCW.

(9) "Urban use" refers to the use of land for manufacturing and assembly, warehouses, offices, wholesale and retail sales and residential at greater than one dwelling unit per two and one-half acres, and residential uses dependent upon municipal sewage treatment. Residential, office, wholesale and retail sales, and product preparation solely incidental to the use of land for agricultural, forestry, mineral production, recreational, and fish and shellfish preparations shall not be considered as urban uses.

(10) "Urban growth" refers to that growth which makes intensive use of the land for the location of buildings, structures, impermeable surfaces, population densities to such a degree as to be incompatible with the primary use of such land for public recreation; or the production of foods, fibers, or mineral resources; or the protection and retention of lands which have importance for fish habitat and propagation, threatened or endangered species, wildlife corridors; or environmentally sensitive lands. When allowed to spread over wide areas, it typically requires urban governmental services.

(11) "Characterized by urban growth" refers to land which has urban growth located thereon, or to land which is so located in relationship to an area with urban growth as to be appropriate for urban growth.

(12) "Urban governmental services" include those governmental services historically and typically delivered by cities. The services include sewer services, water services, street cleaning services, fire and police protection services, public transportation, street lighting services, and other public utilities associated with urban areas and not normally associated with nonurban areas.

(13) "Community plans" means comprehensive localized plans for subareas of a county or city with a natural or artificial geographic identity as a neighborhood or community. Such plans are required to meet the state land use planning goals and may be required to meet other municipal or county objectives, but the specific content of the plans, including the map of land uses and future uses, is substantially completed and agreed to by the citizens residing within the geographic area of the neighborhood or community in question. There is no presumption of strict representation in a community plan process, though a demonstration of broad public support from the neighborhood or community may be required before such plans are approved by the municipal or county government.

(14) "Natural carrying capacity" means the amount of population or development beyond which the resources systems such as potable water, watersheds, forests, air, perkable soils, waste management systems, etc. are unable to sustain and recharge themselves without artificial assistance.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 3. LAND PLANNING COMMISSION. NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. COMPREHENSIVE PLANS—PUBLIC PARTICIPATION. (1) Each local government shall establish procedures providing for early and continuous public participation in the development of inventories, comprehensive land use plans, and general ordinances implementing such plans and in the development of amendments to such plans or ordinances. NEW SECTION, Sec. 14. The commission shall review each county comprehensive plan and shall, subsequent to at least one hearing thereon, either reject the plan on the ground that it is not in compliance with sections 9, 10, 11, and 13 of this act or approve it. If the commission rejects the plan it shall specify its reasons therefor. Commission approval or rejection shall occur within six months of submission of the plan.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 15. COMPREHENSIVE PLANS—COMMISSION APPROVAL. (1) If the commission finds that a comprehensive land use plan, which is submitted for approval fails to comply with section 9, 10, 11, or 13 of this act as a result of inadequacies which can be easily corrected, the commission may grant a provisional approval of such plan. The terms of a provisional approval shall specify the plan's inadequacies and shall require the local government to correct them by a prescribed date, in no event more than three months from the date of provisional approval. The commission shall review the progress made by the local government in correcting such inadequacies and shall grant final certification of the plan whenever it finds that such inadequacies have been corrected. A provisional approval can be extended only one time and for no more than three additional months. If the commission finds that the inadequacies have not been corrected by the prescribed date, the plan shall be deemed "unapproved" as of the time of such finding. A plan having the status of provisional approval shall be deemed "approved" for the purposes of section 17 of this act.

(2) If the comprehensive plan of the adjacent district is not approved and its deadline has not passed, the adjacent community may advise the commission that it has reasonable belief that the submitted comprehensive plan may be in conflict with the comprehensive plan being developed by the adjacent community. In that event, the commission shall defer action on the comprehensive plan or the contested portion of the comprehensive plan until the adjacent local government submits its comprehensive plan, or the deadline for submittal passes.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 16. COMPREHENSIVE PLANS, FINAL APPROVAL DEADLINE. Within four years after the effective date of this act, each local government shall have obtained the commission's approval of its comprehensive plan. All unapproved comprehensive plans in existence on and after such period and all development regulations implementing such unapproved plans shall, except as provided in section 18 of this act, continue in effect until replaced by regulations pursuant to this chapter or revised pursuant to this chapter.

Any comprehensive plan approved by the commission shall be conclusively presumed to be in conformity with sections 9, 10, 11, and 13 of this act. This section shall not apply to any approval which the commission finds resulted from the furnishing to it of inaccurate or incomplete information or to any approval which has been appealed and on which a judicial decision is pending or to any decision made or proceeding conducted pursuant to section 29 of this act.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 18. COMPREHENSIVE PLANS' AMENDMENTS AND REVISIONS. (1) Any amendment to or revision of an approved comprehensive plan shall be of no force or effect until the commission certifies that the amended or revised plan complies with sections 9, 10, 11, and 13 of this act. Any amended or revised plan approved by the commission shall be construed to be and shall have the same status under this chapter as an approved comprehensive plan.

(2) Each local government and special district shall establish procedures whereby proposed amendments or revisions of comprehensive plans are considered by the local government's legislative body no more often than once a year. All such proposals shall be considered by the legislative body concurrently so that the cumulative effect of the various proposals can be ascertained.

(3) Emergency amendments may be adopted outside the annual amendment cycle only if a showing is made by clear, cogent, and convincing evidence that (a) new environmental conditions exist which could not have been foreseen at the time of the last plan adoption or amendment and (b) serious and irreparable harm inconsistent with the land use goals of this chapter will occur if the emergency amendment is not adopted. Emergency amendments must be adopted seventy-five percent by the local government and approved seventy-five percent by the commission. Emergency amendments shall be subject to the referendum procedures of chapter 29.79 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. COMPREHENSIVE PLANS—REMAND FOR MODIFICATION. (1) If a local government's comprehensive plan is not approved by the commission and the deadline for approval has not passed, the plan shall be remanded to the local government for corrections.

(2) If a local government's comprehensive plan is not approved by the commission and the plan is less than one year overdue, the commission may take one or more of the following actions:

(a) If the local government is a city or town, prohibit the local government from proceeding with annexation proposals;

(b) Certify to the state treasurer, the lack of compliance with this chapter. Upon receipt of such certification, the state treasurer shall withhold any distribution of:

(3) If a local government's comprehensive plan is more than one year overdue, the commission shall take both of the actions listed in subsection (2) of this section.

(4) If a local government's comprehensive plan is more than two years overdue, the commission may impose a moratorium on some or all development within part or all of the jurisdiction.

(5) If a local government's comprehensive plan is more than four years overdue, the commission shall impose a moratorium on some or all development activity within all of the jurisdiction.

(6) If a local government's comprehensive plan is more than five years overdue, the commission shall impose a moratorium on all development activity in that jurisdiction not vital to the maintenance of public health and safety.

Any jurisdiction imposing such tax shall contract with the department of revenue for the administration and collection of the tax. All appropriate administrative provisions in chapters 82.36 and 82.38 RCW shall be applicable to the tax authorized by this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. COMPREHENSIVE PLANS—FORCE AND EFFECT OVER CONFLICTING DEVELOPMENT REGULATIONS. Within one year of approval of the jurisdiction's comprehensive plan each local government shall enact development regulations which implement and do not conflict with its approved comprehensive land use plan and shall file a copy of such regulations with the commission for its review and comments. Ordinances utilizing transferable development rights shall be considered. Any development regulation shall be of no force or effect which conflicts with or fails to implement the jurisdiction's approved comprehensive plan. With or without properly adopted development regulations, the approved comprehensive plan shall have the force and effect of law and shall regulate the use of land.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. STATE COMPLIANCE WITH COMPREHENSIVE PLANS. The activities of all state agencies, including development of capital budgets and proposals for use of public lands, shall comply with the goals of section 9 of this act and the comprehensive plans and development regulations of cities and counties approved or adopted by the commission pursuant to this chapter. All state agencies shall analyze their existing practices and activities to determine and demonstrate compliance with such goals. If at any time, the comprehensive plan or development regulation does not allow for a land use proposed by a state agency, the state agency may only receive approval by first applying for amendment to the comprehensive plan or development regulation at issue, as such amendments are regularly processed by the local jurisdiction and the commission. If the amendment process does not resolve the conflict, the agency may petition the commission to resolve the conflict. The commission's rules for resolving such disputes shall assure that all participants, including the public, have full opportunity to affect the decision.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 23. JUDICIAL REVIEW. (1) Any final action taken by any local government or any special district in exercise of its responsibilities under section 10 of this act, including any action taken under rules adopted pursuant to this chapter and under the state environmental policy act may be appealed to superior court by any person or entity, or association of persons or entities, having an interest affected by such action. This section creates a new cause of action in addition to existing causes of action under statute and constitutional and common law.

(2) An appeal under this chapter shall be commenced within thirty days of the date of publication of the final order appealed from. For purposes of this limitation period, publication shall consist of (a) publishing notice of such final action within a legal newspaper of general circulation in the area of the property subject to the action for two consecutive weeks and (b) mailing notice of such final action to each party of record, each property owner, and each owner of property within three hundred feet of the property subject to the action. The notice shall identify: The property subject to the action; the nature of the action taken; the final date of publication; the final date of any appeal; and availability of appeal to superior court.

(3) Venue of any action brought under this chapter shall reside in the county of the local government or special district whose action is subject to the appeal, or in the adjoining county, or in Thurston county.

(4) The local government or special district rendering the decision appealed from shall be joined in any appeal brought under this chapter, but only in the name of its corporate entity, and not in the name of its representative boards, councils, bodies, examiners, executives, commissions, or other bodies. Service of such appeal is lawfully provided if personally delivered to the principal office or place of business for such local government or special district or the office of the prosecuting, city, or district attorney.

(5) If a final action appealed under this chapter involves an application for action on a specific parcel of property, the persons or entities making such application shall be joined as parties to such an appeal, and shall be named as set forth in such application. No other persons or entities must be named and/or served as necessary parties.

(6) Within sixty days of receipt of service of an appeal of a final action, the local government or special district shall prepare and file with the superior court the record of the decision appealed from. The record of the decision shall include all authorities, evidence, testimony, and other documentation relied upon by the local government or special district in making the decision. By stipulation or upon motion, the record may be shortened. Any party unreasonably refusing to stipulate to limit the record may be assessed additional costs by the court. The costs of preparing the record of decision, including the transcription of proceedings, shall be borne by the local government or special district whose decision is under appeal.

(7) Review of the local government or special district decision appealed from shall be limited to the record except for issues concerning procedural irregularity, constitutional violations, and issues for which appellant was deprived the opportunity to prepare an adequate record before the local government or special district.

(8) The court may affirm, reverse, or remand a decision appealed under this chapter. A decision shall be reversed or remanded if the court finds:

(a) The decision to be unlawful in substance or procedure, including being contrary to the provisions and protections of this chapter and plans and regulations adopted thereunder;

(b) The decision to be unconstitutional; or

(c) The decision to be unsupported by substantial evidence in the record as to facts found by the local government or special district.

(9) In revising or remanding a decision of a local government or special district the court shall award reasonable costs and attorneys' fees to a qualified appellant against the local government or special district, if it finds that the decision appealed from was not substantially justified and the appeal was brought in the public interest. For purposes of this section, a decision is not substantially justified if it is found to be contrary to law in either substance or procedure, is declared unconstitutional, or devoid of such support in the evidence as to be arbitrary and capricious. An appeal shall be deemed to be brought in the public interest if it promotes the interest of the community at large and beyond the interests at stake in an individual parcel of property. A qualified appellant is a person or entity or association of persons or entities with less than one hundred thousand dollars in net assets.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 24. CONFORMANCE WITH OTHER PLANNING STATUTES. (1) Except only as expressly provided in RCW 67.28.180 and 67.28.190 and the provisions of chapter 82.14 RCW, the state preempts the field of imposing taxes upon retail sales of tangible personal property, the use of tangible personal property, parimutuel wagering authorized pursuant to RCW 67.16.060, conveyances, and cigarettes, and no county, town, or other municipal subdivision shall have the right to impose taxes of that nature.

~~((No))~~ (2) Any county, city, town, or other municipal corporation shall have the authority to impose any tax, fee, or charge, either direct or indirect, on the construction or reconstruction of residential buildings, commercial buildings, industrial buildings, or on any other building or building space or appurtenance thereto, or on the development, subdivision, classification, or reclassification of land~~((However, this section does not preclude))~~, and to require dedications of land or easements pursuant to RCW 58.17.110 within the proposed development or plat which the county, city, town, or other municipal corporation can demonstrate are reasonably necessary as a~~((direct))~~ result of the proposed development or plat to which the fees, charges, or dedications of land or easements ~~((ts))~~ are to apply.

(3) This section does not prohibit voluntary agreements with counties, cities, towns, or other municipal corporations that allow a payment in lieu of a dedication of land or to mitigate a direct impact that has been identified as a consequence of a proposed development, subdivision, or plat. The refusal to enter into such voluntary agreements shall not limit a local government's authority under subsection (2) of this section. A local government shall not use such voluntary agreements for local off-site transportation improvements within the geographic boundaries of the area or areas covered by an adopted transportation program authorized by chapter 39.92 RCW. Any such voluntary agreement is subject to the following provisions:

~~((+))~~ (a) The payment shall be held in a reserve account and may only be expended to fund a capital improvement agreed upon by the parties to mitigate the identified, direct impact;

~~((2))~~ (b) The payment shall be expended in all cases within five years of collection; and

~~((3))~~ (c) Any payment not so expended shall be refunded with interest at the rate applied to judgments to the property owners of record at the time of the refund; however, if the payment is not expended within five years due to delay attributable to the developer, the payment shall be refunded without interest.

~~((No county, city, town, or other municipal corporation shall require any payment as part of such a voluntary agreement which the county, city, town, or other municipal corporation cannot establish is reasonably necessary as a direct result of the proposed development or plat.))~~

Nothing in this section ~~((prohibits))~~ limits cities, towns, counties, or other municipal corporations from collecting reasonable fees from an applicant for a permit or other governmental approval to cover the cost to the city, town, county, or other municipal corporation of processing applications, inspecting and reviewing plans, or preparing detailed statements required by chapter 43.21C RCW.

This section ~~((does not))~~ in no way limits the existing authority of any county, city, town, or other municipal corporation to impose special assessments on property specifically benefitted thereby in the manner prescribed by law.

Nothing in this section prohibits or limits counties, cities, or towns from imposing or permits counties, cities, or towns to impose water, sewer, natural gas, drainage utility, and drainage system charges~~((PROVIDED, That no such charge shall exceed the proportionate share of such utility or system's capital costs which the county, city, or town can demonstrate are attributable~~

~~to the property being charged. PROVIDED FURTHER, That these provisions shall not be interpreted to expand or contract any existing authority of counties, cities, or towns to impose such charges).~~

Nothing in this section prohibits a transportation benefit district from imposing fees or charges authorized in RCW 36.73.120 nor prohibits the legislative authority of a county, city, or town from approving the imposition of such fees within a transportation benefit district.

Nothing in this section prohibits counties, cities, or towns from imposing transportation impact fees authorized pursuant to chapter 39.92 RCW.

This section does not apply to special purpose districts formed and acting pursuant to Titles 54, 56, 57, or 87 RCW, nor is the authority conferred by these titles affected.

Sec. 28. Section 35.43.110, chapter 7, Laws of 1965 as amended by section 10, chapter 313, Laws of 1981 and RCW 35.43.110 are each amended to read as follows:

Proceedings to establish local improvement districts must be initiated by petition in the following cases:

(1) Any local improvement payable in whole or in part by special assessments which includes a charge for the cost and expense of operation and maintenance of escalators or moving sidewalks shall be initiated only upon a petition signed by the owners of two-thirds of the lineal frontage upon the improvement to be made and two-thirds of the area within the limits of the proposed improvement district;

(2) If the management of park drives, parkways, and boulevards of a city has been vested in a board of park commissioners or similar authority: PROVIDED, That the proceedings may be initiated by a resolution, if the ordinance is passed at the request of the park board or similar authority therefor specifying the particular drives, parkways, or boulevards, or portions thereof to be improved and the nature of the improvement.

(3) Any local improvement district for sewers or a system of sewerage, as defined in RCW 35.67.010, shall be initiated only upon a petition signed by the owners of at least seventy percent of the lineal frontage upon the improvement to be made. These property owners shall pay at least seventy percent of the total cost of the sewer local improvement district, or for the entire cost of the local improvement district, whichever is greater, if they are the ones who solely benefit from the local improvement district, as defined and explained in this subsection.

In order for the other thirty percent or smaller percentage of property owners to be assessed for the sewer local improvement district, the proponents must prove by clear and convincing evidence that the sewer local improvement district will not work an economic and financial hardship on those property owners resulting in the possible loss of their land, homes, and/or businesses. If the proponents of the sewer local improvement district cannot meet this burden of proof for each and every property owner, they shall pay for the total cost of the sewer local improvement district.

Sec. 29. Section 35.91.020, chapter 7, Laws of 1965 as last amended by section 11, chapter 313, Laws of 1981 and RCW 35.91.020 are each amended to read as follows:

The governing body of any city, town, county, sewer district, water district, or drainage district, hereinafter referred to as a "municipality" may contract with owners of real estate for the construction of storm, sanitary, or combination sewers, pumping stations, and disposal plants, water mains, hydrants, reservoirs, or appurtenances, hereinafter called "water or sewer facilities," within their boundaries or (except for counties) within ten miles from their corporate limits connecting with the public water or sewerage system to serve the area in which the real estate of such owners is located, and to provide for a period of not to exceed (fifteen) twenty-five years for the reimbursement of such owners and their assigns by any owner of real estate who did not contribute to the original cost of such water or sewer facilities and who subsequently tap onto or use the same of a fair pro rata share of the cost of the construction of said water or sewer facilities, including not only those directly connected thereto, but also users connected to laterals or branches connecting thereto, subject to such reasonable rules and regulations as the governing body of such municipality may provide or contract, and notwithstanding the provisions of any other law. To the extent it may require in the performance of such contract, such municipality may install said water or sewer facilities in and along the county streets in the area to be served as hereinabove provided, subject to such reasonable requirements as to the manner of occupancy of such streets as the county may by resolution provide. The provisions of such contract shall not be effective as to any owner of real estate not a party thereto unless such contract has been recorded in the office of the county auditor of the county in which the real estate of such owner is located prior to the time such owner taps into or connects to said water or sewer facilities. The power of the governing body of such municipality to so contract also applies to water or sewer facilities in process of construction on June 10, 1959, or which have not been finally approved or accepted for full maintenance and operation by such municipality upon June 10, 1959.

The duration of latecomer fee agreements for sewers in this section is extended to twenty-five years from the current fifteen years.

The amount of latecomer's fees for sewer hookup must be fair and reasonable, based upon reasonable, prevailing market rates for construction at the time the sewer project is completed.

These latecomer's fees must not exceed the original construction costs, as determined by an audit conducted by a private, impartial party. The costs of this audit shall be included within the original costs of the project. Latecomer's fees are not intended to be a money-making proposition for developers, they can only recoup their original costs, exclusive of inflation.

Sec. 30. Section 15, chapter 189, Laws of 1967 as last amended by section 7, chapter 477, Laws of 1987 and RCW 36.93.150 are each amended to read as follows:

The board, upon review of any proposed action, shall take such of the following actions as it deems necessary to best carry out the intent of this chapter:

- (1) Approval of the proposal as submitted;
- (2) Subject to RCW 35.02.170, modification of the proposal by adjusting boundaries to add or delete territory: PROVIDED, That any proposal for annexation by the board shall be subject to RCW 35.21.010 and shall not add additional territory, the amount of which is greater than that included in the original proposal: PROVIDED FURTHER, That such modifications shall not interfere with the authority of a city, town, or special purpose district to require or not require preannexation agreements, covenants, or petitions;
- (3) Determination of a division of assets and liabilities between two or more governmental units where relevant;
- (4) Determination whether, or the extent to which, functions of a special purpose district are to be assumed by an incorporated city or town, metropolitan municipal corporation, or another existing special purpose district; or
- (5) Disapproval of the proposal except that the board shall not have jurisdiction to disapprove the dissolution or disincorporation of a special purpose district which is not providing services but shall have jurisdiction over the determination of a division of the assets and liabilities of a dissolved or disincorporated special purpose district: PROVIDED, That a board shall not have jurisdiction over the division of assets and liabilities of a special purpose district that is dissolved or disincorporated pursuant to chapter 36.96 RCW.

Unless the board shall disapprove a proposal, it shall be presented under the appropriate statute for approval of a public body and, if required, a vote of the people. A proposal that has been modified shall be presented under the appropriate statute for approval of a public body and if required, a vote of the people. If a proposal, other than that for a city, town, or special purpose district annexation, after modification does not contain enough signatures of persons within the modified area, as are required by law, then the initiating party, parties or governmental unit has thirty days after the modification decision to secure enough signatures to satisfy the legal requirement. If the signatures cannot be secured then the proposal may be submitted to a vote of the people, as required by law.

The addition or deletion of property by the board shall not invalidate a petition which had previously satisfied the sufficiency of signature provisions of RCW 35.13.130 or 35A.14.120. When the board, after due proceedings held, disapproves a proposed action, such proposed action shall be unavailable, the proposing agency shall be without power to initiate the same or substantially the same as determined by the board, and any succeeding acts intended to or tending to effectuate that action shall be void, but such action may be reinitiated after a period of twelve months from date of disapproval and shall again be subject to the same consideration.

The board shall (not) modify or deny a proposed action (unless there is evidence on the record to support a conclusion) if it finds that the action is inconsistent with one or more of the objectives under RCW 36.93.180 and that such inconsistency is not outweighed by the actions taken in fulfillment of other objectives under RCW 36.93.180. The board shall deny any annexation of a city or town beyond the urban service area established by section 9(2)(a)(i) of this act. Every such determination to modify or deny a proposed action shall be made in writing pursuant to a motion, and shall be supported by appropriate written findings and conclusions, based on the record.

Sec. 31. Section 18, chapter 189, Laws of 1967 as last amended by section 6, chapter 84, Laws of 1989 and RCW 36.93.180 are each amended to read as follows:

The decisions of the boundary review board shall attempt to achieve the following objectives:

- (1) Preservation of natural neighborhoods and communities;
- (2) Use of physical boundaries, including but not limited to bodies of water, highways, and land contours;
- (3) Creation and preservation of logical service areas;
- (4) Prevention of abnormally irregular boundaries;
- (5) Discouragement of multiple incorporations of small cities and encouragement of incorporation of cities in excess of ten thousand population in heavily populated urban areas;
- (6) Dissolution of inactive special purpose districts;
- (7) Adjustment of impractical boundaries;
- (8) Incorporation as cities or towns or annexation to cities or towns of unincorporated areas which are urban in character: ((and))
- (9) Protection of agricultural and rural lands which are designated for long term productive agricultural and resource use by a comprehensive plan adopted by the county legislative authority; and

(10) Prevention of sprawl, including, but not limited to, denying any annexation of a city or town beyond an urban service area established pursuant to sections 9(2)(a)(i) and 13(2)(b) of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 32. Local governments, state agencies, and the courts shall construe the provisions of this chapter liberally to achieve its legislative intent and state land use planning goals.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 33. All decisions affecting the use, development, and conservation of land made by all levels of government must comply with the state-wide planning goals of this chapter on the effective date of this act. Development rights under previous laws and regulations in existence at the time of a development application shall not vest unless unreasonable prejudice would result by application of the goals of this chapter or of the plans and regulations adopted pursuant to this chapter, or amendments and revisions thereto. Findings of unreasonable prejudice or a lack thereof are reviewable by the land use board of appeals.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 34. INTENT--RURAL ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT. The legislature finds that the Puget Sound region is experiencing economic prosperity and the challenges associated with rapid growth. Much of the rest of the state is not experiencing economic prosperity, and faces challenges associated with slow economic growth. It is the intent of the legislature to encourage economic prosperity and balanced economic growth throughout the state.

In order to accomplish this goal, growth must be managed more effectively in the Puget Sound region, and rural areas must build local capacity to accommodate additional economic activity in their communities. Where possible, rural economies should be linked with prosperous urban economies to share economic growth for the benefit of both these areas and the state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 35. Sections 1 through 26 and 32 through 34 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 43 RCW."
