Senator Fraser: "The penalties apply to the party that took the flight and occurred the over-expenditure. In terms of the other amendment that was adopted, the idea is to come up with a reasonable price to use as a standard. It seemed a reasonable standard to use if fares that are available through a third party force that normally sells them. It doesn't say you have to buy a ticket through a travel agency in the prior amendment. The prior amendment is just a way to come up with a standard to judge whether you paid too much or not. On this one, the penalty would go on the employee or official."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Wojahn: "Senator Fraser, is 'reasonable' defined in the code anywhere--the word or term 'reasonable'?"

Senator Fraser: "As a general question?"

Senator Wojahn: "Yes."

Senator Fraser: "Sometimes it is and sometimes it is left to the courts."

Senator Wojahn: "So, this could be left to the courts? In other words, it might be or may be defined in the codes, but you don't know?"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Newhouse: "Senator Fraser, this bill would appear to apply to all state employees. If the Governor takes a state plane at higher cost, is he then liable?"

Senator Fraser: "This bill, as I understand it and this is not my bill, but, as I understand it, it applies to all state and local officials and employees and that would apply to the Governor as well. Maybe you should ask the prime sponsor of the bill."

REPLY BY SENATOR HEAVEY

Senator Heavey: "Senator Newhouse, the bill says when the public expense shall minimize travel expenses when travel by commercial air carrier is required. Obviously, when the Governor is taking a plane or any of us is taking a plane somewhere else, the commercial air carrier isn't required. This is for the person who is not taking it and is going by commercial air carrier."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the second amendments by Senators Fraser, Heavey, Haugen and Winsley on page 2, lines 6 and beginning on line 7, to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5303.

The motion by Senator Fraser carried and the amendments on page 2, line 6 and beginning on line 7, were adopted on a rising vote.

MOTION

Senator Fraser moved that the following amendment by Senators Fraser, Heavey Haugen and Winsley be adopted:

On page 2, line 2, after "disabilities" insert "or unless any additional cost is paid personally by the traveler"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McCaslin: "Senator Fraser, now is this just for people with disabilities or, you know, the effect of the amendment will permit public officers or employees to travel, but it doesn't say public officers or employees with disabilities. I'm assuming that where it is in the bill, after 'disabilities,' am I correct that this is just for--because you see if it isn't, if it is just for people who do not have disabilities, they may not know the lowest fare."

Senator Fraser did not yield to the question.
Senator McCaslin: “Senator Heavey, could you yield to that question?”
Senator Heavey: “Would you please repeat the question?”
Senator McCaslin: “My question is, if you are not disabled, does this apply or does this just apply to people with disabilities?”
Senator Heavey: “The underlining bill or the amendment?”
Senator McCaslin: “No, this amendment. We finally caught up to the amendment.”
Senator Heavey: “The amendment applies to whether you are disabled or whether you are not disabled.”
Senator McCaslin: “Okay, how do you determine the lowest fare? Sometimes we have meetings that you have to get to in a couple of days and we don’t always have the best knowledge or advise of the best fare.”
Senator Heavey: “Senator, with all due respect, you’ve got to read the bill.”
Senator McCaslin: “I just read the bill; it is only a page and a half. I can manage that from the fourth district, Senator. Are you impugning my motives or just my reading ability or both?”
Senator Heavey: ”No comment.”
Senator McCaslin: “Thank you.”
Senator Heavey: “It says ‘that by traveling by the least expensive fare available for the most direct and timely routing,’ which answers Senator Wojahn’s complaint—‘timely routing on the carrier selected.’ Then we added the language and the amendment was already adopted, ‘routinely available through a licensed travel agency.’ It is very reasonable. If you get an emergency and you have to be over somewhere and you call up, I’m sure that is going to be the same fare that the travel agency would give you.”
Senator McCaslin: “If you go directly to the airlines, that is okay?”
Senator Heavey: ”I think so.”
Senator McCaslin: “If I don’t go through a travel agent?”
Senator Heavey: ”Yes.”
Senator McCaslin: “Thank you.”
Further debate ensued.
The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendments by Senators Fraser, Heavey, Haugen and Winsley on page 2, line 2, to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5303.
The motion by Senator Fraser carried and the amendment on page 2, line 2, was adopted on a rising vote.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Drew, the following amendment was adopted:
On page 2, line 5, after “act” insert “by a state officer or employee”
On motion of Senator Fraser, the following title amendments were considered simultaneously and were adopted:
On page 1, line 3 of the title, after “42.52 RCW;” insert “adding a new section to chapter 42.23 RCW;”

MOTION

On motion of Senator Haugen, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5303 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.
Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Deccio: “Senator Fraser, is your New Section 4 in the bill now, which would not place an office holder in jeopardy of losing his position if he violated the statute?”
Senator Fraser: ”Yes, that is correct. There has been a lot of discussion here, but yes that section that I proposed to be changed to forfeiture of office to a monetary penalty was approved by the body.”
Senator Deccio: “Thank you, Senator Fraser.”
Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY
Senator Morton:  'Senator Heavey, I am looking at the bill on page 1, line 16, really it starts on line 15, and it says, 'Public expense shall be minimized travel expenses when travel by commercial air carrier is required.’  It says, 'when travel by commercial air carrier is required.’  I've never known of an instance where employees of the state were required to go by air.  Would you respond to that inquiry, please?'

Senator Heavey:  "Well, I would think that if you were asked to go on government business to go to Hawaii that you probably wouldn't swim or take a boat and I imagine if you were asked to go to D.C., you would probably take an airplane and it would be required.  If you had plenty of warning and you personally felt you wanted to drive from your district to Seattle or wherever you might be going, it is up to you.  It is not required.  I mean you could nitpick any bill like this and question every word and every intent.  The language is pretty simple; it has been worked with the cities and it has been worked with other people and I think it is a very workable bill."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Loveland, Senator Rinehart was excused.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5303.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Deccio: "Senator Pelz, would you explain why the consortium element is exempt from lawsuits in this bill?"

Senator Pelz: "I will, sir. This could be brutally dull."

Senator Deccio: "Maybe."

Senator Pelz: "Currently, when a worker is injured and they receive a payment from L & I—a successful claim—the claim often times includes a payment for loss of consortium. Now, this claim accrues to the spouse of the injured worker. When an injured worker is successful—receives a successful claim—but is pursuing a third party damages and if they succeed in those third party damages, the L & I claim can be deducted. In other words, L & I gets their money back. The court ruled, however, the L & I did not have a right to loss of consortium, because that was a benefit that did not accrue to the injured worker, but rather to the spouse of the injured worker. What this bill is doing is making clear that those payments which are recouped to L & I will not include the loss of consortium in the event that the worker wins a third party lawsuit, so I am not sure this is a very common occurrence.”

"Sec. 6. RCW 70.190.080 and 1994 sp.s. c 7 s 305 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The community network's plan may include a program to provide postsecondary scholarships to at-risk students who: (a) Are community role models under criteria established by the community network; (b) successfully complete high school; and (c) maintain at least a 2.5 grade point average throughout high school. Funding for the scholarships may include public and private sources.

(2) The community network's plan may also include funding of community-based home visitor programs which are designed to reduce the incidence of child abuse and neglect within the network. Parents shall sign a voluntary authorization for services, which may be withdrawn at any time. The program may provide parents with education and support either in parents' homes or in other locations comfortable for parents, beginning with the birth of their first baby. The program may make the following services available to the families:

(a) Visits for all expectant or new parents, either at the parent's home or another location with which the parent is comfortable;
(b) Screening before or soon after the birth of a child to assess the family's strengths and goals and define areas of concern in consultation with the family;
(c) Parenting education and skills development;
(d) Parenting and family support information and referral;
(e) Parent support groups; and

Where appropriate for a family, service coordination may be conducted through interdisciplinary or interagency teams.

These programs are intended to be voluntary for the parents involved.

(3) In developing long-term comprehensive plans to reduce the rate of at-risk children and youth, the community networks shall consider increasing employment and job training opportunities in recognition that they constitute an effective network strategy and strong protective factor. (b) Employment assistance, including job development, school-to-work placement, employment readiness training, basic skills, apprenticeships, job mentoring, and private sector and community service employment;
(c) Education assistance, including tutoring, mentoring, interactions with role models, entrepreneurial education and projects, violence prevention training, safe school strategies, and employment reentry assistance services;
(d) Peer-to-peer, group, and individual counseling, including crisis intervention, for at-risk youth and their parents;
(e) Youth coalitions that provide opportunities to develop leadership skills and gain appropriate respect, recognition, and rewards for their positive contribution to their community;
(f) Technical assistance to applicants to increase their organizational capacity and to improve the likelihood of a successful application; and
(g) Technical assistance and training resources to successful applicants."

POINT OF ORDER
Senator Hargrove: “I would like to ask for a scope and object ruling on this amendment. Substitute Senate Bill No. 5258 is an act which relates strictly to making clarifying and technical and administrative revisions to the existing public health and safety networks in the Family Policy Council. The intent section makes that absolutely clear. The current bill does not expand the duties for the networks under existing law. The amendment by Senator Pelz is a new duty imposed upon the network; it also makes a legislative declaration that constitutes protective factors and effective network strategy. This is not a technical change and I would ask that you find it out of scope and object.”

Further debate ensued.

There being no objection, the President deferred further consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5258.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Gaspard: "Mr. President, I raise a point of order. I challenge the scope and object of the amendment that is being offered by Senator Newhouse. I would offer for your consideration that the bill before us specifically relates to the sales and use tax of manufacturing machinery and equipment, pollution control equipment and high technology research and development. Agriculture, in itself, is a separate category from these three that I have mentioned and nowhere in the proposed bill is agriculture mentioned. Therefore, I would contend that the amendment offered is not within the scope and object.”

Further debate ensued.

There being no objection, the President deferred further consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5201.

(1) Taxes deferred under this chapter on the sale or use of labor that is directly used in the construction of an investment project for which a deferral has been granted under this chapter after June 11, 1986, and prior to July 1, 1994, need not be repaid.

(2) Taxes deferred under this chapter on an investment project for which a deferral has been granted under this chapter after June 30, 1994, need not be repaid."
(3) Taxes deferred under this chapter need not be repaid on machinery and equipment for lumber and wood products industries, and sales of or charges made for labor and services, of the type which qualifies for exemption under section 2 or 3 of this act to the extent the taxes have not been repaid before the effective date of this act.

Sec. 9. RCW 82.60.070 and 1994 1st sp.s.c 1 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Each recipient of a deferral granted under this chapter prior to July 1, 1994, shall submit a report to the department on December 31st of each year during the repayment period until the tax deferral is repaid. Each recipient of a deferral granted under this chapter after June 30, 1994, shall submit a report to the department on December 31st of the year in which the investment project is certified by the department as having been operationally completed, and on December 31st of each of the seven succeeding calendar years. The report shall contain information, as required by the department, from which the department may determine whether the recipient is meeting the requirements of this chapter. If the recipient fails to submit a report or submits an inadequate report, the department may declare the amount of deferred taxes outstanding to be immediately assessed and payable.

(2) If, on the basis of a report under this section or other information, the department finds that an investment project is not eligible for tax deferral under this chapter for reasons other than failure to create the required number of qualified employment positions, the amount of deferred taxes outstanding for the project shall be immediately due.

The interest shall be assessed at the rate provided for delinquent excise taxes, shall be assessed retroactively to the date of deferral, and shall accrue until the deferred taxes are repaid.

(4) If, on the basis of a report under this section or other information, the department finds that an investment project for which a deferral has been granted under this chapter after June 30, 1994, has been operationally complete for three years and has failed to create the required number of qualified employment positions, the amount of taxes not eligible for deferral shall be immediately due. The department shall assess interest at the rate provided for delinquent excise taxes, but not penalties, retroactively to the date of deferral.

(5) If, on the basis of a report under this section or other information, the department finds that an investment project qualifying for deferral under RCW 82.60.040(1) (b) or (c) has failed to comply with any requirement of RCW 82.60.045 for any calendar year for which reports are required under subsection (1) of this section, twelve and one-half percent of the amount of deferred taxes shall be immediately due. The department shall assess interest at the rate provided for delinquent excise taxes, but not penalties, retroactively to the date of deferral.

(6) Notwithstanding any other subsection of this section, deferred taxes need not be repaid on machinery and equipment for lumber and wood products industries, and sales of or charges made for labor and services, of the type which qualifies for exemption under section 2 or 3 of this act to the extent the taxes have not been repaid before the effective date of this act.

On motion of Senator Rinehart, the following title amendment was adopted:

MOTION

On motion of Senator Rinehart, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5201 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Cantu: "Senator Bauer, I had the honor of serving with you as a member of the Manufacturing Tax Study Committee last summer that resulted in the recommendation of this legislation. In determining the fiscal impact of this proposal, several assumptions were made regarding the scope of manufacturing and processing included in the recommendations. The scope of manufacturing and processing was described to include all business activities identified in two-digit Standard Industrial Codes 20 through 39 and those businesses' activities identified in the three digit Standard Industrial Code 737.

"Is it intended that Substitute Senate Bill No. 5201 apply to all business activities identified in two-digit Standard Industrial Codes 20 through 39 and those businesses' activities identified in the three digit Standard Industrial Code 737?"

Senator Bauer: "Yes, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5201 is intended to apply to all business activities identified in two-digit Standard Industrial Codes 20 through 39 and those businesses' activities identified in the three digit Standard Industrial Code 737."

Senator Cantu: "Thank you."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Gaspard: "Senator Rinehart, for the purposes of this analysis, what does the term 'family wage jobs' mean?"

Senator Rinehart: "The term 'family wage jobs' must be flexible to take into account varying cost of living differences throughout the state. It must also recognize compensation as a package. Therefore, it should include pension and health benefits and it should recognize that a part-time job with a high hourly rate may provide less support for a family than a full-time job with a lower rate of salary.

"In addition, factors such as family size and type should be taken into consideration. Therefore, a larger family needs more income than a smaller one, and a single-parent family may have higher child care and other costs than a two-parent family."

Further debate ensued.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5201 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 45; Nays, 4; Absent, 0; Excused, 0.

Voting nay: Senators Fairley, Pelz, Rinehart and Sutherland - 4.

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5201, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5503, by Senators Prentice, Deccio, Pelz, Sellar and Fraser

Streamlining temporary worker housing safety and health regulations.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Prentice, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5503 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5503 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Prentice, the following amendment by Senators Prentice and Deccio was adopted:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that there is an inadequate supply of temporary and permanent housing for migrant and seasonal workers in this state. The legislature also finds that unclear, complex regulations related to the development, construction, and permitting of worker housing inhibit the development of this much needed housing. The legislature further finds that as a result, many workers are forced to obtain housing that is unsafe and unsanitary.

Therefore, it is the intent of the legislature to encourage the development of temporary and permanent housing for workers that is safe and sanitary by: Establishing a clear and concise set of regulations for temporary housing; establishing a streamlined permitting and administrative process that will be locally administered and encourage the development of such housing; and by providing technical assistance to organizations or individuals interested in the development of worker housing.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. The definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Department" means the department of health.
(2) "Dwelling unit" means a shelter, building, or portion of a building, that may include cooking and eating facilities, that is:
   (a) Provided and designated by the operator as either a sleeping area, living area, or both, for occupants; and
   (b) Physically separated from other sleeping and common-use areas.
(3) "Facility" means a sleeping place, drinking water, toilet, sewage disposal, food handling installation, or other installations required for compliance with this chapter.
(4) "Occupant" means a temporary worker or a person who resides with a temporary worker at the housing site.
(5) "Operator" means a person holding legal title to the land on which temporary worker housing is located. However, if the legal title and the right to possession are in different persons, "operator" means a person having the lawful control or supervision over the temporary worker housing under a lease or other arrangement.
(6) "Temporary worker" means a person employed intermittently and not residing year-round at the same site.
(7) "Temporary worker housing" means a place, area, or piece of land where sleeping places or housing sites are provided by an employer for his or her employees or by another person, including a temporary worker housing operator, who is providing such accommodations for employees, for temporary, seasonal occupancy, and includes "labor camps" under RCW 70.54.110.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. This act applies to temporary worker housing that consists of five or more dwelling units, or any combination of dwelling units, dormitories, or spaces that house ten or more occupants.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. The department is designated the single state agency responsible for encouraging the development of additional temporary worker housing, and shall be responsible for coordinating the activities of the various state and local agencies to assure a seamless, nonduplicative system for the development and operation of temporary worker housing.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. Temporary worker housing located on a rural worksite, and used for workers employed on the worksite, shall be considered a permitted use at the rural worksite for the purposes of zoning or other land use review processes, subject only to height, setback, and road access requirements of the underlying zone.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. The secretary of the department or authorized representative may inspect housing covered by this act to enforce temporary worker housing rules adopted by the state board of health, or when the secretary or representative has reasonable cause to believe that a violation of temporary worker housing rules adopted by the state board of health is occurring or is being maintained. If the buildings or premises are occupied as a residence, a reasonable effort shall be made to obtain permission from the resident. If the premises or building is unoccupied, a reasonable effort shall be made to locate the owner or other person having charge or control of the building or premises and request entry. If consent for entry is not obtained, for whatever reason, the secretary or representative shall have recourse to every remedy provided by law to secure entry.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 7. The department of community, trade, and economic development shall contract with private, nonprofit corporations to provide technical assistance to any private individual or nonprofit organization wishing to construct temporary or permanent worker housing. The assistance may include information on state and local application and approval procedures, information or assistance in applying for federal, state, or local financial assistance, including tax incentives, information on cost-effective housing designs, or any other assistance the department of community, trade, and economic development may deem helpful in obtaining the active participation of private individuals or groups in constructing or operating temporary or permanent worker housing.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 8. By December 1, 1996, the state building code council shall develop a temporary worker housing code, in conformance with the temporary worker housing standards developed under the Washington industrial safety and health act, chapter 49.17 RCW, the rules adopted by the state board of health under RCW 70.54.110, and the following guidelines:

1. The code shall provide construction standards for shelter and associated facilities that are safe, secure, and capable of withstanding the stresses and loads associated with their designated use, and to which they are likely to be subjected by the elements.
2. The code shall permit and facilitate designs and formats that allow for maximum affordability, consistent with the provision of decent, safe, and sanitary housing.
3. In developing the code the council shall consider: (a) The need for dormitory type housing for groups of unrelated individuals; and (b) the need for housing to accommodate families.
4. The code shall include construction standards for a variety of formats, including, but not limited to: (a) Tents and tent platforms; and (b) hard-shell, single exterior wall structures.
5. The code shall include standards for temporary worker housing that is to be used only during periods when no auxiliary heat is required.

In cases in which an employer conducts an asbestos abatement project in its own facility and by its own employees, supervision can be performed in the regular course of a certified asbestos supervisor's duties. Asbestos workers must have access to certified asbestos supervisors throughout the duration of the project.

(2) The department shall require persons undertaking asbestos projects to provide written notice to the department before the commencement of the project except as provided in RCW 49.26.125. POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Deccio: “Senator Heavey, it is my understanding now that we are at forty-eight feet, not three feet, not two hundred and sixty feet. Is that correct?”

Senator Heavey: “Yes, it is at forty-eight feet and it is not at two hundred and sixty feet.”

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Morton: “Senator Heavey, I was going to challenge that last comment based on the amendment on page 3, lines 7, 8, and 9, which says, 'three square feet.' ”

Further debate ensued.

"Sec. 14. RCW 29.81A.010 and 1984 c 106 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

At least ninety days before any primary or general election, or at least ((forty-five days)) forty-five days before any special election held under RCW 29.13.010 or 29.13.020, the legislative authority of any county or first-class or code city may adopt an ordinance authorizing the publication, in printed or electronic format or both, and distribution of a local voters' pamphlet. The pamphlet shall provide information on all measures ((matters)) that will be on the ballot in that jurisdiction and may, if specified in the ordinance, include information on candidates ((matters)) whose names will be on the ballot in that jurisdiction. If both a county and a first-class or code city within that county authorize a local voters' pamphlet for the same election, the pamphlet shall be produced jointly by the county and the first-class or code city. If no agreement can be reached between the county and first-class or code city, the county and first-class or code city may each produce a pamphlet. Any ordinance adopted authorizing a local voters' pamphlet may be for a specific primary, special election, or general election or for any future primaries or elections. The format of any local voters' pamphlet shall, whenever applicable, comply with the provisions of chapters 29.80 and 29.81 RCW regarding the publication of the state candidates' and voters' pamphlets.

Sec. 15. RCW 29.81A.020 and 1994 c 191 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Not later than ((ninety days)) May 1st for a primary or general election or ninety days before a special election not scheduled at the same time as a primary or general election, before the publication and distribution of a local voters' pamphlet by a county, the county auditor shall notify each city, town, or special taxing district located ((unless)) within that county that a pamphlet will be produced. (2) If a voters' pamphlet is published by the county for a primary or general election, the pamphlet shall be published for the elective offices and ballot measures of the county and for the elective offices and ballot measures of each unit of local government located ((unless)) within that county which will appear on the ballot at that primary or election. However, the offices and measures of a first class or code city shall not be included in the pamphlet if the city publishes and distributes its own voters' pamphlet for the primary or election for its offices and measures. The offices and measures of any other town or city are not required to appear in the county's pamphlet if the town or city is obligated by ordinance or charter to publish and distribute a voters' pamphlet for the primary or election for its offices and measures and it does so.

If the required appearance in a county's voters' pamphlet of the offices or measures of a unit of local government would create ((undo)) undue financial hardship for the unit of government, the legislative authority of the unit may petition the legislative authority of the county to waive this requirement. The legislative authority of the county may provide such a waiver if it does not so later than ((sixty days before the publication of the pamphlet)) June 15th for a primary or general election or sixty days before a special election not occurring at the same time as a primary or general election where a pamphlet will be published if it finds that the requirement would create such hardship.

(3) If a city, town, or district is located within more than one county, the respective county auditors may enter into an interlocal agreement to permit the distribution of each county's local voters' pamphlet into those parts of the city, town, or district located outside of that county.

(4) If a first-class or code city authorizes the production and distribution of a local voters' pamphlet, the city clerk of that city shall notify any special taxing district located ((unless)) within that city that a pamphlet will be produced. Notification shall be provided in the manner required or provided for in subsection (1) of this section.

(5) A unit of local government located within a county and the county may enter into an interlocal agreement for the publication of a voters' pamphlet for offices or measures not required by subsection (2) of this section to appear in a county's pamphlet.

Sec. 16. RCW 29.81A.040 and 1984 c 106 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

(2) Information on how a person may register to vote and obtain an absentee ballot;
(3) The ballot title of each measure accompanied by an explanatory statement prepared by the prosecuting attorney for any county measure or by the attorney for the jurisdiction submitting the measure if other than a county measure. The explanatory statement shall not intentionally be an argument likely to create prejudice either for, or against, the measure. All explanatory statements for city, town, or district measures (not approved by the attorney for the jurisdiction submitting the measure) shall be reviewed and approved by the county prosecuting attorney (or city attorney, when applicable) before inclusion in the pamphlet. The full text of the measure may be either included in the pamphlet or made available upon request at the discretion of the jurisdiction publishing the pamphlet;

(4) The arguments for and against each measure submitted by committees selected pursuant to RCW 29.81A.080.

Sec. 17. RCW 29.81A.080 and 1994 c 191 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

Each committee shall have not more than three members, however, a committee may seek the advice of any person or persons. If the legislative authority of a unit of local government fails to make such appointments by the prescribed deadline, the county auditor shall whenever possible make the appointments. On page 14, after line 26, insert the following:

"Sec. 9. RCW 26.19.065 and 1991 c 367 s 33 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Limit at forty-five percent of a parent's net income. Neither parent's total child support obligation may exceed forty-five percent of net income except for good cause shown. Good cause includes but is not limited to possession of substantial wealth, children with day care expenses, special medical need, educational need, psychological need, and larger families.

(2) Income below six hundred dollars. When combined monthly net income is less than six hundred dollars, a support order of not less than twenty-five dollars per child per month shall be entered for each parent unless the obligor parent establishes that it would be unjust or inappropriate to do so in that particular case. The decision whether there is a sufficient basis to deviate below the presumptive minimum payment must take into consideration the best interests of the child and the circumstances of each parent. Such circumstances can include comparative hardship to the affected households, assets or liabilities, and earning capacity. A parent's support obligation shall not reduce his or her net income below the need standard for one person established pursuant to RCW 74.04.770, except for the (mandatory) presumptive minimum payment of twenty-five dollars per child per month (as required in this section) or in cases where the court finds reasons for deviation (under section 32 of this act). This section shall not be construed to require monthly substantiation of income.

(3) Income above five thousand and seven thousand dollars. The economic table is presumptive for combined monthly net incomes up to and including five thousand dollars. When combined monthly net income exceeds five thousand dollars, support shall not be set at an amount lower than the presumptive amount of support set for combined monthly net incomes of five thousand dollars unless the court finds a reason to deviate below that amount. The economic table is advisory but not presumptive for combined monthly net incomes that exceed five thousand dollars. When combined monthly net income exceeds seven thousand dollars, the court may set support at an advisory amount of support set for combined monthly net incomes between five thousand and seven thousand dollars or the court may exceed the advisory amount of support set for combined monthly net incomes of seven thousand dollars upon written findings of fact.

- Renumber the remaining sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pelz: "Senator McDonald, was this language drawn from any precedent language? Is there another place, another state, in America where public employees are subject to a thousand dollar per day penalty for strike--or private employees for that matter? Is there existing law that this is modeled after?"

Senator McDonald: "Well, if it is your opinion that they are not going to strike, these fines would never be imposed. What we are saying here is if they are going to be--if you are going to give the courts any kind of tools, then you have to have specific ones and we have given them in this amendment. If you want to have an amendment to an amendment that makes them something different, I would certainly be willing to listen to that."

Senator Pelz: "Well, thank you. I assume then that the answer to my question is that, 'No, there is not a precedent for a blanket rule that a striker is subject to a fine of one thousand dollars per day and an employee organization that initiates or continues a strike is subject to a fine of five thousand dollars per day.'"

Further debate ensued.

Senator McDonald demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

Every city and town may construct, condemn and purchase, acquire, add to, implement, maintain, conduct, and operate systems of sewage and systems and plants for refuse collection and disposal together with additions, extensions, and betterments thereto, within and without its limits, with full jurisdiction and authority to manage, regulate, and control them and to fix, alter, regulate, and control the rates and charges for the use thereof: PROVIDED, That the rates charged must be uniform for the same class of customers or service.

In classifying customers served or service, facilities, and programs furnished by such system of sewerage, the city or town legislative body may in its discretion consider any or all of the following factors: The difference in cost of service, facilities, and programs to the various customers; the location of the various customers within and without the city or town; the difference in cost of maintenance, operation, implementation, repair, and replacement of the various parts of the system; the different character of the service, facilities, and programs furnished various customers; the quantity and quality of the sewage delivered and the time of its delivery; the achievement of water conservation goals and the discouragement of wasteful water use practices; capital contributions made to the system, including but not limited to, assessments; and any other matters which present a reasonable difference as a ground for distinction. Rates or charges imposed under this chapter for on-site inspection and maintenance services shall reflect the allocable share of the cost of providing the program or service to the person or entity paying the charge, and may not be imposed on the development, construction, or reconstruction of property.

A city or town may adjust or delay rates and charges and may provide other assistance to aid low-income persons in participating in programs and in complying with regulations imposed in connection with this chapter.

Under this chapter, after January 1, 1997, any requirements for pumping the septic tank of an on-site sewage system should be based, among other things, on actual measurement of accumulation of sludge and scum by a trained operator, trained owner's agent, or trained owner. Training shall occur in a program approved by the state board of health or by a local health officer.

Before adopting an on-site inspection and maintenance utility program, or incorporating residences into an on-site inspection and maintenance or sewer utility under this chapter, notification shall be provided, prior to the applicable public hearing, to all residences within the proposed service area that have on-site systems permitted by the local health officer. The notice shall clearly state that the residence is within the proposed service area and shall provide information on estimated rates or charges that may be imposed for the service.

A city or town may construct, condemn and purchase, purchase, acquire, add to, alter, maintain, implement, and operate systems, plants, sites, or other facilities of sewerage as defined in RCW 35.67.010, or solid waste handling as defined by RCW 70.95.030, and shall have full authority to manage, regulate, operate, control, and to fix the price of service, facility, or program of those systems, plants, sites, or other facilities within and without the limits of the city or town. The rates charged shall be uniform for the same class of customers or service, facility, or program. In classifying customers served or service, facilities, and programs furnished by a system or systems of sewerage, the legislative authority of the city or town may in its discretion consider any or all of the following factors: The difference in cost of service, facilities, and programs to customers; the location of customers within and without the city or town; the difference in cost of maintenance, operation, repair, and replacement of the parts of the system; the different character of the service, facilities, and programs furnished to customers; the quantity and quality of the sewage delivered and the time of its delivery; capital contributions made to the systems, plants, sites, or other facilities, including but not limited to, assessments; and any other factors that present a reasonable difference as a ground for distinction. Rates or charges imposed under this chapter for on-site inspection and maintenance services shall reflect the allocable share of the cost of providing the program or service to the person or entity paying the charge, and may not be imposed on the development, construction, or reconstruction of property.

A city or town may adjust or delay rates and charges and may provide other assistance to aid low-income persons in participating in programs and in complying with regulations imposed in connection with this chapter.

Under this chapter, after January 1, 1997, any requirements for pumping the septic tank of an on-site sewage system should be based, among other things, on actual measurement of accumulation of sludge and scum by a trained operator, trained owner's agent, or trained owner. Training shall occur in a program approved by the state board of health or by a local health officer.

Before adopting an on-site inspection and maintenance utility program, or incorporating residences into an on-site inspection and maintenance or sewer utility under this chapter, notification shall be provided, prior to the applicable public hearing, to all residences within the proposed service area that have on-site systems permitted by the local health officer. The notice shall clearly state that the residence is within the proposed service area and shall provide information on estimated rates or charges that may be imposed for the service.

Sec. 5. RCW 36.94.010 and 1981 c 313 s 14 are each amended to read as follows:

As used in this chapter:

(1) A “system of sewerage” means and may include((s)) any or all of the following:

(a) Sanitary sewage collection, treatment, and/or disposal (sewer and) facilities and programs, including without limitation on-site or off-site sanitary sewerage facilities (consisting of an)) such as approved septic tanks or septic tank systems, on-site sanitary sewerage systems, inspection programs and maintenance programs for private or public on-site systems, or any other means of sewage treatment and disposal approved by the county;

(b) Combined sanitary sewage disposal and storm or surface water drains and facilities;

(c) Storm or surface water drains, channels, and facilities;

(d) Outfalls for storm drainage or sanitary sewage and works, plants, and facilities for storm drainage or sanitary sewage treatment and disposal, and rights and interests in property relating to the system;

(e) Combined water and sewerage systems;

(f) Facilities and programs for the protection of waters of the state as defined by RCW 90.48.020 from pollution, including but not limited to monitoring water quality; monitoring point and nonpoint sources of pollution; removing or reducing water pollution; water quality education and public involvement programs; and agricultural, industrial, and commercial management practices education programs to reduce water pollution;

(g) Public restroom and sanitary facilities;

(h) The facilities and programs authorized in RCW 36.94.020; and

(i) Any combination of or part of any or all of such facilities.

(2) A “system of water” means and includes:

(a) A water distribution system, including dams, reservoirs, aqueducts, plants, pumping stations, transmission and lateral distribution lines and other facilities for distribution of water;

(b) A combined water and sewerage system;

(c) Any combination of or any part of any or all of such facilities.

(3) A ”sewerage and/or water general plan” means a general plan for a system of sewerage and/or water for the county which shall be an element of the comprehensive plan established by the county pursuant to RCW 36.70.350(6) and/or chapter 35.63 RCW, if there is such a comprehensive plan.

(a) A sewerage general plan shall include the general location and description of treatment and disposal facilities, trunk and interceptor sewers, pumping stations, monitoring and control facilities, channels, local service areas and a general description of the collection system to serve those areas, a description of on-site sanitary sewerage system inspection programs and maintenance programs, and other facilities and programs as may be required to provide a functional and implementable plan, including preliminary engineering to assure feasibility. The plan may also include a description of the regulations deemed appropriate to carrying out surface drainage plans.

(b) A water general plan shall include the general location and description of water resources to be utilized, wells, treatment facilities, transmission lines, storage reservoirs, pumping stations, and monitoring and control facilities as may be required to provide a functional and implementable plan.

(c) Water and/or sewerage general plans shall include preliminary engineering in adequate detail to assure technical feasibility and, to the extent then known, shall further discuss the methods of distributing the cost and expense of the system and shall indicate the economic feasibility of plan implementation. The plans may also specify local or lateral facilities and programs. The sewerage and/or water general plan does not mean the final engineering construction or financing plans for the system.
(4) "Municipal corporation" means and includes any city, town, metropolitan municipal corporation, any public utility district which operates and maintains a sewer or water system, any sewer, water, diking, or drainage district, any diking, drainage, and sewerage improvement district, and any irrigation district.

(5) A "private utility" means and includes all utilities, both public and private, which provide sewerage and/or water service and which are not municipal corporations within the definition of this chapter. The ownership of a private utility may be in a corporation, nonprofit or for profit, in a cooperative association, in a mutual organization, or in individuals.

(6) "Board" means one or more boards of county commissioners and/or the legislative authority of a home rule charter county.

Sec. 6. RCW 36.94.020 and 1981 c 313 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

The construction, implementation, operation, and maintenance of a system of sewerage and/or water is a county purpose. Subject to the provisions of this chapter, every county has the power, individually or in conjunction with another county or counties to adopt, provide for, accept, establish, implement, condemn, purchase, construct, add to, operate, and maintain a system or systems of sanitary and storm sewers, including outfalls, interceptors, plans, and facilities and programs necessary for sewerage treatment and disposal, and/or system or systems of water supply within all or a portion of the county: PROVIDED, That counties shall not have power to condemn sewerage and/or water systems of any municipal corporation or private utility.

Such county or counties shall have the authority to control, regulate, implement, operate, and manage such system or systems and to provide funds therefor by general obligation bonds, revenue bonds, local improvement district bonds, utility local improvement district or local improvement district assessments, and in any other lawful fiscal manner. Rates or charges imposed under this chapter for on-site inspection and maintenance services shall reflect the allocable share of the cost of providing the program or service to the person or entity paying the charge, and may not be imposed on the development, construction, or reconstruction of property.

Under this chapter, after January 1, 1997, any requirements for pumping the septic tank of an on-site sewage system should be based, among other things, on actual measurement of accumulation of sludge and scum by a trained operator, trained owner's agent, or trained owner. Training shall occur in a program approved by the state board of health or by a local health officer.

Before adopting an on-site inspection and maintenance utility program, or incorporating residences into an on-site inspection and maintenance or sewer utility under this chapter, notification shall be provided, prior to the applicable public hearing, to all residences within the proposed service area that have on-site systems permitted by the local health officer. The notice shall clearly state that the residence is within the proposed service area and shall provide information on estimated rates or charges that may be imposed for the service.

A county may, as part of a system of sewerage established under this chapter, provide for, finance, and operate any of the facilities and programs and may exercise the powers expressly authorized for county storm water, flood control, pollution prevention, and drainage programs and activities under chapters 36.89, 86.12, 86.13, and 86.15 RCW. A county also may provide for, finance, and operate the facilities and programs and may exercise any of the powers authorized for aquifer protection areas under chapter 36.36 RCW, for lake management districts under chapter 36.61 RCW, for diking districts, and diking, drainage, and sewerage improvement districts under chapters 85.05, 85.08, 85.15, 85.16, and 85.18 RCW, and for shellfish protection districts under chapter 90.72 RCW. However, if a county by reference to any of those statutes assumes as part of its system of sewerage any powers granted to such areas or districts and not otherwise available to a county under this chapter, then (1) the procedures and restrictions applicable to those areas or districts shall apply to the county's exercise of those powers, and (2) the county may not simultaneously impose rates and charges under this chapter and under the statutes authorizing such areas or districts for substantially the same programs and services, but must instead impose uniform rates and charges consistent with RCW 36.94.140. By agreement with such an area or district that is not part of a county's system of sewerage, a county may operate that area's or district's programs or facilities, but a county may not dissolve any existing area or district except in accordance with any applicable provisions of the statute under which that area or district was created.

Sec. 7. RCW 36.94.140 and 1990 c 133 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

Every county, in the implementation and operation of a system of sewerage and/or water, shall have full jurisdiction and authority to manage, regulate and control it and to fix, alter, regulate and control the rates and charges for the service, facilities, and programs to those to whom such ((county)) service ((i)), facilities, and programs are available, and to levy charges for connection to such system. The rates for availability of service, facilities, programs, and connection charges so charged must be uniform for the same class of customers or service, facility, or program.

In classifying customers served, service furnished or made available by such system of sewerage and/or water, or the connection charges, the board may consider any or all of the following factors:

(1) The difference in cost of service to the various customers within or without the area;
(2) The difference in cost of maintenance, operation, repair and replacement of the various parts of the systems;
(3) The different character of the service, facilities, and programs furnished various customers;
(4) The quantity and quality of the sewage and/or water delivered and the time of its delivery;
(5) Capital contributions made to the system or systems, including, but not limited to, assessments;
(6) The cost of acquiring the system or portions of the system in making system improvements necessary for the public health and safety; and
(7) Any other matters which present a reasonable difference as a ground for distinction. A county may adjust or delay rates and charges and may provide other assistance to aid low-income persons in participating in programs and in complying with regulations imposed in connection with this chapter.

Such rates shall produce revenues sufficient to take care of the costs of maintenance and operation, revenue bond and warrant interest and principal amortization requirements, and all other charges necessary for the efficient and proper operation of the system.

Sec. 8. RCW 54.16.230 and 1975 1st ex.s. c 57 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

A public utility district may acquire, construct, operate, maintain, and add to sewage systems, subject to and in compliance with the county comprehensive plan, under the general powers of Title 54 RCW or through the formation of local utility districts as provided in RCW 54.16.120 through 54.16.170: PROVIDED, That prior to engaging in any sewage system works as authorized by this section, the voters of the public utility district shall first approve by majority vote a referendum proposition authorizing such district to exercise the powers set forth in this section, which proposition shall be presented at a general election. A sewage system may include any or all of the following:

1. Sanitary sewage collection, treatment, and/or disposal facilities and programs, including without limitation on-site or off-site sewerage facilities such as approved on-site sewage systems, on-site sanitary sewerage systems, inspection programs and maintenance programs for public or private on-site systems, or any other means of sewage treatment and disposal;

2. Facilities and programs for the protection of waters of the state as defined by RCW 90.48.020 from pollution, including but not limited to monitoring water quality; monitoring point and nonpoint sources of pollution; preventing, removing, or reducing water pollution; water quality education and public involvement programs; and agricultural, industrial, and commercial management practices education programs to reduce water pollution; and

3. Public restroom and sanitary facilities.

Rates or charges imposed under this chapter for on-site inspection and maintenance services shall reflect the allocable share of the cost of providing the program or service to the person or entity paying the charge, and may not be imposed on the development, construction, or reconstruction of property.

A public utility district may adjust or delay rates and charges and may provide other assistance to aid low-income persons in complying with regulations imposed in connection with this section.

Under this chapter, after January 1, 1997, any requirements for pumping the septic tank of an on-site sewage system should be based, among other things, on actual measurement of accumulation of sludge and scum by a trained operator, trained owner's agent, or trained owner. Training shall occur in a program approved by the state board of health or by a local health officer.

Before adopting an on-site inspection and maintenance utility program, or incorporating residences into an on-site inspection and maintenance or sewer utility under this chapter, notification shall be provided, prior to the applicable public hearing, to all residences within the proposed service area that have on-site systems permitted by the local health officer. The notice shall clearly state that the residence is within the proposed service area and shall provide information on estimated rates or charges that may be imposed for the service.

Sec. 9. RCW 56.08.010 and 1989 c 389 s 2 and 1989 c 308 s 1 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

A sewer district may acquire by purchase or by condemnation and purchase all lands, property rights, water, and water rights, both within and without the district, necessary for its purposes. A sewer district may lease real or personal property necessary for its purposes for a term of years for which such leased property may reasonably be needed where in the opinion of the board of sewer commissioners such property may not be needed permanently or substantial savings to the district can be effected thereby. The right of eminent domain shall be exercised in the same manner and by the same procedure as provided for cities and towns, insofar as consistent with the provisions of this title, except that all assessments or reassessment rolls required to be filed by eminent domain commissioners or commissioners appointed by the court shall be prepared and filed by the district, and the duties devolving upon the city treasurer shall be imposed upon the county treasurer for the purposes hereof. A sewer district may construct, condemn and purchase, add to, maintain, and operate systems of sewers for the purpose of furnishing the district and inhabitants thereof with an adequate system of sewers for all uses and purposes, public and private, including but not limited to on-site sewage disposal facilities, approved septic tanks or approved septic tank systems, on-site sanitary sewerage systems, inspection programs and maintenance programs for private and public on-site systems, other facilities, programs, and systems for the collection, interception, treatment, and disposal of wastewater, and for the control of pollution from wastewater and for the protection, preservation, and rehabilitation of surface and underground waters, facilities for the drainage of storm or surface waters, public highways, streets, and roads with full authority to regulate the use, implementation, and operation thereof and the service rates to be charged and may construct, acquire, or own buildings and other necessary district facilities. Under this chapter, after January 1, 1997, any requirements for pumping the septic tank of an on-site sewage system should be based, among other things, on actual measurement of accumulation of sludge and scum by a trained operator, trained owner's agent, or trained owner. Training shall occur in a program approved by the state board of health or by a local health officer. Such sewer facilities may include facilities which result in combined sewage disposal, treatment, or drainage and electric generation, provided that the electricity generated thereby is a byproduct of the system of sewers. Such electricity may be used by the sewer district or sold to any entity authorized by law to distribute electricity. Such electricity is a byproduct when the electrical generation is subordinate to the primary purpose of sewage disposal, treatment, or drainage. For such purposes a district may conduct sewage throughout the district and throughout other political subdivisions within the district, and construct and lay sewer pipe along and upon public highways, roads, and streets, within and without the district, and condemn and purchase... or acquire land and rights of way necessary for such sewer pipe. A district may erect sewage treatment plants, within or without the district, and may acquire by purchase or condemnation, properties or privileges necessary to be had to protect any lakes, rivers, or watercourses and also other areas of land from pollution, from its sewers or its sewage treatment plant. For the purposes of sewage facilities which include facilities which result in combined sewage disposal, treatment, or drainage and electric generation where the electric generation is a byproduct, nothing in this section may be construed to authorize a district to condemn electric generating, transmission, or distribution rights or facilities of entities authorized by law to distribute electricity, or to acquire such rights or facilities without the consent of the owner. A district may charge property owners seeking to connect to the district system of sewers, as a condition to granting the right to so connect, in addition to the cost of such connection, such reasonable connection charge as the board of commissioners shall determine to be proper in order that such property owners shall bear their equitable share of the cost of such system. For purposes of calculating a connection charge, the board of commissioners shall determine the pro rata share of the cost of existing facilities and facilities planned for construction within the next ten years and contained in an adopted comprehensive plan and other costs borne by the district which are directly attributable to the improvements required by property owners seeking to connect to the system. The cost of existing facilities shall not include those portions of the system which have been donated or which have been paid for by grants.

The connection charge may include interest charges applied from the date of construction of the sewer system until the connection, or for a period not to exceed ten years, whichever is shorter, at a rate commensurate with the rate of interest applicable to the district at the time of construction or major rehabilitation of the sewer system, or at the time of installation of the sewer lines to which the property owner is seeking to connect.

A district may permit payment of the cost of the connection and the reasonable connection charge to be paid with interest in installments over a period not exceeding fifteen years. The county treasurer may charge and collect a fee of three dollars per parcel for each year for the treasurer's services. Such fees shall be a charge to be included as part of each annual installment, and shall be credited to the county current expense fund by the county treasurer. A district may compel all property owners within the sewer district located within an area served by the district system of sewers to connect their private drain and sewer systems with the district system under such penalty as the sewer commissioners shall prescribe by resolution. The district may for such purpose enter upon private property and connect the private drains or sewers with the district system and the cost thereof shall be charged against the property owner and shall be a lien upon property served.

Revenues from connection charges excluding permit fees are to be considered payments in aid of construction as defined by department of revenue rule. Rates or charges imposed under this chapter for on-site inspection and maintenance services shall reflect the allocable share of the cost of providing the program or service to the person or entity paying the charge, and may not be imposed on the development, construction, or reconstruction of property.

Before adopting an on-site inspection and maintenance utility program, or incorporating residences into an on-site inspection and maintenance or sewer utility under this chapter, notification shall be provided, prior to the applicable public hearing, to all residences within the proposed service area that have on-site systems permitted by the local health officer. The notice shall clearly state that the residence is within the proposed service area and shall provide information on estimated rates or charges that may be imposed for the service.

Sec. 10. RCW 56.08.020 and 1990 1st ex.s. c 17 s 34 are each amended to read as follows:

The sewer commissioners before ordering any improvements hereunder or submitting to vote any proposition for incurring indebtedness shall adopt a general comprehensive plan for a system of sewers for the district. They shall investigate all portions and sections of the district and select a general comprehensive plan for a system of sewers for the district suitable and adequate for present and reasonably foreseeable future needs thereof. The general comprehensive plan shall provide for treatment plants and other methods and programs, if any, for the prevention, control, and reduction of water pollution and for the treatment and disposal of sewage and industrial and other liquid wastes now produced or which may reasonably be expected to be produced within the district and shall, for such portions of the district as may then reasonably be served, provide for the acquisition or construction and installation of laterals, trunk sewers, intercepting sewers, syphons, pumping stations, or other sewage collection facilities. The general comprehensive plan shall provide the method of distributing the cost and expense of the sewer system and programs provided therein against the district and against utility local improvement districts within the district, including any utility local improvement district lying wholly or partially within any other political subdivision included in the district; and provide whether the whole or some part of the cost and expenses shall be paid from sewer revenue bonds. The commissioners may employ such engineering and legal services as they deem necessary in carrying out the purposes hereof.

The general comprehensive plan shall be adopted by resolution and submitted to an engineer designated by the legislative authority of the county in which fifty-one percent or more of the area of the district is located, and to the director of health of the county in which the district or any portion thereof is located, and must be approved in writing by the engineer and director of health. The general comprehensive plan shall be approved, conditionally approved, or rejected by the director of health within sixty days of the plan's receipt and by the designated engineer within sixty days of the plan's receipt. However, this sixty-day time limitation may be extended by the director of health or engineer for up to an additional sixty days if sufficient time is not available to review adequately the general comprehensive plans.

Before becoming effective, the general comprehensive plan shall also be submitted to, and approved by resolution of, the legislative authority of every county within whose boundaries all or a portion of the sewer district lies. The general comprehensive plan shall be approved, conditionally approved, or rejected by each of these county legislative authorities pursuant to the criteria in RCW 56.02.060 for approving the formation, reorganization, annexation, consolidation, or merger of sewer districts, and the resolution, ordinance, or motion of the legislative body which rejects the comprehensive plan or a part thereof shall specifically state in what particular the comprehensive plan or part thereof rejected fails to meet these criteria. The general comprehensive plan shall not provide for the extension or location of facilities that are inconsistent with the requirements of RCW 36.70A.110. Nothing in this chapter shall preclude a county from rejecting a proposed plan because it is in conflict with the criteria in RCW 56.02.060. Each general comprehensive plan shall be deemed approved if the county legislative authority fails to reject or conditionally approve the plan within ninety days of submission to the county legislative authority or within thirty days of a hearing on the plan when the hearing is held within ninety days of the plan's submission to the county legislative authority. However, a county legislative authority may extend this ninety-day time limitation by up to an additional ninety days where a finding is made that ninety days is insufficient to review adequately the general comprehensive plan. In addition, the sewer commissioners and the county legislative authority may mutually agree to an extension of the deadlines in this section.

If the district includes portions or all of one or more cities or towns, the general comprehensive plan shall be submitted also to, and approved by resolution of, the governing body of such cities and towns before becoming effective. The general comprehensive plan shall be deemed approved by the city or town governing body if the city or town governing body fails to reject or conditionally approve the plan within ninety days of the plan's submission to the city or town or within thirty days of a hearing on the plan when the hearing is held within ninety days of submission to the county legislative authority. However, a city or town governing body may extend this time limitation by up to an additional ninety days where a finding is made that insufficient time exists to adequately review the general comprehensive plan within these time limitations. In addition, the sewer commissioners and the city or town governing body may mutually agree to an extension of the deadlines in this section.

Before becoming effective, any amendment to, alteration of, or addition to, a general comprehensive plan shall also be subject to such approval as if it were a new general comprehensive plan: PROVIDED, That only if the amendment, alteration, or addition, affects a particular city or town, shall the amendment, alteration, or addition be subject to approval by such particular city or town governing body.

The sewer commissioners of any sewer district, in the event that such sewer revenue bonds are issued, shall provide for revenues by fixing rates and charges for the furnishing of sewerage disposal service, facilities, and programs to those to whom such service is available. Such rates and charges may be combined for the furnishing of more than one type of sewer service, facility, and program such as but not limited to storm or surface water and sanitary. Such rates and charges are to be fixed as deemed necessary by such sewer commissioners, so that uniform charges will be made for the same class of customer or service, facility, and program.

In classifying customers served or service, facility, or program furnished by such system of sewerage, the board of commissioners may in its discretion consider any or all of the following factors: The difference in cost ((of service)) to the various customers; the location of the various customers within and without the district; the difference in cost of maintenance, operation, repair, and replacement of the various parts of the system; the different character of the service, facility, or program furnished various customers; the quantity and quality of the sewage delivered and the time of its delivery; the achievement of water conservation goals and the discouragement of wasteful water use practices; capital contributions made to the system including but not limited to assessments; and any other matters which present a reasonable difference as a ground for distinction. Such rates are to be made on a monthly basis and shall produce revenues sufficient to take care of the costs of maintenance and operation, revenue bond and warrant interest and principal amortization requirements, and all other charges necessary for efficient and proper operation of the system.

Sec. 12. RCW 57.08.065 and 1981 c 45 s 11 are each amended to read as follows:

In addition to the powers now given water districts by law, they shall also have power to establish, maintain and operate a mutual water and ((sewerage)) sewerage system or a separate ((sewerage)) system of sewerage within their water district area in the same manner as provided by law for the doing thereof in connection with water supply systems.

In addition thereto, a water district constructing, maintaining, ((and)), operating, and implementing a ((sanitary sewerage)) system of sewerage may exercise all the powers permitted to a sewer district under Title 56 RCW, including, but not limited to, the right to compel connections to the district's system, liens for delinquent sewer connection charges or sewer service charges, and all other powers presently exercised by or which may be hereafter granted to such sewer districts: PROVIDED, That a water district may not exercise sewer district powers in any area within its boundaries which is part of an existing district which previously shall have been duly authorized to exercise sewer district powers in such area without the consent by resolution of the board of commissioners of such other district: PROVIDED FURTHER, That no water district shall proceed to exercise the powers herein granted to establish, maintain, construct and operate any ((sewerage)) system of sewerage without first obtaining written approval and certification of necessity so to do from the department of ecology and department of ((social and)) health ((sewers)). Any comprehensive plan for a system of sewers or addition thereto or betterment thereof shall be approved by the same county and state officials as are required to approve such plans adopted by a sewer district.

A water district shall have the power to issue general obligation bonds for sewer system purposes: PROVIDED, That a proposition to authorize general obligation bonds payable from excess tax levies for sewer system purposes pursuant to chapter 56.16 RCW shall be submitted to all of the qualified voters within that part of the water district which is not contained within another existing district duly authorized to exercise sewer district powers, and the taxes to pay the principal of and interest on the bonds approved by such voters shall be levied only upon all of the taxable property within such part of the water district.

Sec. 13. RCW 90.72.040 and 1992 c 100 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The county legislative authority may create a shellfish protection district on its own motion or by submitting the question to the voters of the proposed district and obtaining the approval of a majority of those voting. The boundaries of the district shall be determined by the legislative authority. The legislative authority may create more than one district. A district may include any area or areas within the county, whether incorporated or unincorporated. Counties shall coordinate and cooperate with cities, towns, and water-related special districts within their boundaries in establishing shellfish protection districts and carrying out shellfish protection programs. Where a portion of the proposed district lies within an incorporated area, the county shall develop procedures for the participation of the city or town in the determination of the boundaries of the district and the administration of the district, including funding of the district's programs. The legislative authority of more than one county may by agreement provide for the creation of a district including areas within each of those counties. County legislative authorities are encouraged to coordinate their plans and programs to protect shellfish growing areas, especially where shellfish growing areas are located within the boundaries of more than one county. The legislative authority or authorities creating a district may abolish a shellfish protection district on its or their own motion or by submitting the question to the voters of the district and obtaining the approval of a majority of those voting.

(2) If the county legislative authority creates a shellfish protection district by its own motion, any registered voter residing within the boundaries of the shellfish protection district may file a referendum petition to repeal the ordinance that created the district. Any referendum petition to repeal the ordinance creating the shellfish protection district shall be filed with the county auditor within seven days of passage of the ordinance. Within ten days of the filing of a petition, the county auditor shall confer with the petitioner concerning form and style of the petition, issue an identification number for the petition, and write a ballot title for the measure. The ballot title shall be posed as a question so that an affirmative answer to the question and an affirmative vote on the measure results in creation of the shellfish protection district and a negative answer to the question and a negative vote on the measure results in the shellfish protection district not being created. The petitioner shall be notified of the identification number and ballot title within this ten-day period. After this notification, the petitioner shall have thirty days in which to secure on petition forms the signatures of not less than twenty-five percent of the registered voters residing within the boundaries of the shellfish protection district and file the signed petitions with the county auditor. Each petition form shall contain the ballot title and full text of the measure to be referred. The county auditor shall verify the sufficiency of the signatures on the petitions. If sufficient valid signatures are properly submitted, the county auditor shall submit the referendum measure to the registered voters residing in the shellfish protection district in a special election no later than one hundred twenty days after the signed petition has been filed with the county auditor. The special election may be conducted by mail ballot as provided for in chapter 29.36 RCW.

(3) The county legislative authority shall not impose fees, rates, or charges for shellfish protection district programs upon properties on which fees, rates, or charges are imposed (((to pay for another program to eliminate or decrease contamination in storm water runoff)) under chapter 36.89 or 36.94 RCW for substantially the same programs and services.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. Nothing in this act may be deemed to eliminate any requirements for approval from public health agencies under applicable law in connection with the siting, design, construction, and repair of on-site septic systems.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. Section 8 of this act shall take effect January 1, 1996.”

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 6044, by Senators Owen, Prince and Kohl

Revising the selection process for transportation systems and facilities demonstration projects.
On motion of Senator Owen, Substitute Senate Bill No. 6044 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 6044 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

Senator Owen moved that the following amendment by Senators Owen, Quigley, Long, Prince, Finkbeiner, Wood, Schow, Roach and Kohl be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 47.46.010 and 1993 c 370 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:
The legislature finds and declares:
It is essential for the economic, social, and environmental well-being of the state and the maintenance of a high quality of life that the people of the state have an efficient transportation system.
The ability of the state to provide an efficient transportation system will be enhanced by a public-private sector program providing for private entities to undertake all or a portion of the study, planning, design, development, financing, acquisition, installation, construction or improvement, operation, and maintenance of transportation systems and facility projects.
A public-private initiatives program will provide benefits to both the public and private sectors. Public-private initiatives provide a sound economic investment opportunity for the private sector. Such initiatives will provide the state with increased access to property development and project opportunities, financial and development expertise, and will supplement state transportation revenues, allowing the state to use its limited resources for other needed projects.
The public-private initiatives program, to the fullest extent possible, should encourage and promote business and employment opportunities for Washington state citizens.
The public-private initiatives program should be implemented in cooperation and consultation with affected local jurisdictions.
The secretary of transportation should be permitted and encouraged to test the feasibility of building privately funded transportation systems and facilities or segments thereof through the use of innovative agreements with the private sector. The secretary of transportation should be vested with the authority to solicit, evaluate, negotiate, and administer public-private agreements with the private sector relating to the planning, construction, upgrading, or reconstruction of transportation systems and facilities.
Agreements negotiated under a public-private initiatives program will not bestow on private entities an immediate right to construct and operate the proposed transportation facilities. Rather, agreements will grant to private entities the opportunity to design the proposed facilities, demonstrate public support for proposed facilities, and complete the planning processes required in order to obtain a future decision by the department of transportation and other state and local lead agencies on whether the facilities should be permitted and built.
Agreements negotiated under the public-private initiative's program should establish the conditions under which the private developer may secure the approval necessary to develop and operate the proposed transportation facilities; create a framework to attract the private capital necessary to finance their development; and ensure that the transportation facilities will be designed, constructed, and operated in accordance with applicable local, regional, state, and federal laws and the applicable standards and policies of the department of transportation.
The department of transportation should be encouraged to take advantage of new opportunities provided by federal legislation under section 1012 of the Intermodal Surface Transportation Efficiency Act of 1991 (ISTEA). That section establishes a new program authorizing federal participation in construction or improvement or improvement of publicly or privately owned toll roads, bridges, and tunnels, and allows states to leverage available federal funds as a means for attracting private sector capital.

Sec. 2. RCW 47.46.030 and 1993 c 370 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

1) The secretary or a designee shall solicit proposals from, and negotiate and enter into agreements with, private entities to undertake as appropriate, together with the department and other public entities, all or a portion of the study, planning, design, construction, operation, and maintenance of transportation systems and facilities, using in whole or in part private sources of financing.

The public-private initiative program may develop up to six demonstration projects. Each proposal shall be weighed on its own merits, and each of the six agreements shall be negotiated individually, and as a stand-alone project. The commission shall approve each of the selected projects.

(Proposals and demonstration projects may be selected by the public and private sectors at their discretion.)

2) Projects selected prior to and after September 1, 1994, must comply with the requirements of subsections (3) through (8) of this section.

3) No projects selected or agreements entered into under this chapter take effect until the department conducts a comprehensive analysis of traffic patterns and economic impact to determine and define the geographical boundary of the area of the project that is most affected by the imposition of tolls or user fees authorized under this chapter. The area so defined is referred to in this section as the affected project area.

In defining the affected project area, the department in consultation with the legislative transportation committee shall, at a minimum, undertake:

(a) A comparison of the estimated percentage of residents of communities in the vicinity of and impacted by the project who could be subject to tolls or user fees and the estimated percentage of other users and transient traffic that could be subject to tolls or user fees; (b) anticipated traffic diversion patterns; and (c) potential economic impact resulting from proposed toll rates or user fee rates imposed on residents of and commercial traffic and commercial entities in communities in the vicinity of and impacted by the project. The department shall provide the legislative transportation committee with progress reports on the status of the definition of the affected project.

(4) After a determination and definition by the department of the affected project area, the department shall conduct a minimum thirty-day public comment period. Within fifteen days following the public comment period, the legislative transportation committee may conduct a hearing on the defined affected project area. The department may make adjustments to the definition of the geographical boundary of the affected project area, based on comments received from the public and a hearing by the legislative transportation committee. Within thirty days after the public comment period, the department shall establish the boundaries of the affected project area in units no smaller than a precinct as defined by RCW 29.01.120.

(5) The department shall establish a process that provides for public involvement in decision making with respect to the affected project area. In carrying out the public involvement process the department shall proactively seek public participation through a process appropriate to the characteristics of the affected project area that assesses overall public support among users and residents of the affected project area. Such public involvement process shall provide opportunities for users and residents of the affected project area to comment upon key issues regarding the project including, but not limited to: (a) Alternative sizes and scopes; (b) design; (c) environmental assessment; (d) right of way and access plans; (e) traffic impacts; (f) tolling or user fee strategies and tolling or user fee ranges; (g) project cost; (h) construction impacts; (i) facility operation; and (j) any other salient characteristics.

(6) The results of the public involvement process shall be made available for public review and comment.

The department shall provide the legislative transportation committee with progress reports on the status of the public involvement process. The results of such public involvement process, including public comment, shall be forwarded to the legislative transportation committee for its review. Within forty-five calendar days of submission of such information, the legislative transportation committee shall conduct a public hearing regarding the results of the public involvement process. Taking into account the information submitted, the legislative transportation committee shall adopt a resolution making a recommendation to the secretary of the department of transportation regarding the appropriateness of the definition of the affected project area and the project description and characteristics.

(7) In response to the recommendation of the legislative transportation committee, the secretary, within two weeks after receipt of legislative transportation committee recommendation, shall transmit a copy of the map depicting the affected project area and the project description and characteristics to the county auditor of the county in which any portion of the affected project area is located.

(8) Upon receipt of the map and the project description and characteristics, the county auditor shall, within sixty days, verify the precincts that are located within the affected project area. The county auditor shall prepare the text identifying and describing the affected project area and the project and shall set a special election date for the submission of a ballot proposition authorizing the imposition of tolls or user fees within the affected project area. The text of the project must appear in a voter's pamphlet for the affected project area. The department shall pay for the costs of publication and distribution. The special election date must be the next date for a special election provided under RCW 29.13.020 that is at least sixty days but, if authorized under RCW 29.13.020, no more than ninety days after receipt of the final map and project description and characteristics by the auditor. The department shall pay the costs of an election held under this section. A simple majority of those voting within the affected project area to authorize tolls or user fees within the project area is required for approval. If the vote is affirmative, the department is authorized to solicit proposals for replacement projects. If the vote is affirmative for a project selected prior to September 1, 1994, the department may enter into an agreement authorized under RCW 47.46.040 with a private entity.

(9) All projects designed, constructed, and operated under this authority must comply with all applicable rules and statutes in existence at the time the agreement is executed, including but not limited to the following provisions: Chapter 39.12 RCW, this title, RCW 41.06.380, chapter 47.64 RCW, RCW 49.60.180, and 49 C.F.R. Part 21.

Sec. 3. RCW 47.46.040 and 1993 c 370 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

Agreements shall provide for private ownership of the projects during the construction period. After completion and final acceptance of each project or discrete segment thereof, the agreement shall provide for state ownership of the transportation systems and facilities and lease to the private entity unless the state elects to provide for ownership of the facility by the private entity during the term of the agreement.

The state shall lease each of the demonstration projects, or applicable project segments, to the private entities for operating purposes for up to fifty years.

The department may exercise any power possessed by it to facilitate the development, construction, financing, operation, and maintenance of transportation projects under this chapter. Agreements for maintenance services entered into under this section shall provide for full reimbursement for services rendered by the department or other state agencies. Agreements for police services for projects developed under this chapter may be entered into with any qualified law enforcement agency, and shall provide for full reimbursement for services rendered by that agency, the Washington state patrol. The agreement for police services shall provide that the state patrol will be reimbursed for costs on a comparable basis with the costs incurred on other state highway facilities. The department may provide services for which it is reimbursed, including but not limited to preliminary planning, environmental certification, and preliminary design of the demonstration projects.
The plans and specifications for each project constructed under this section shall comply with the department's standards for state projects. A facility constructed by and leased to a private entity is deemed to be a part of the state highway system for purposes of identification, maintenance, and enforcement of traffic laws and for the purposes of applicable sections of this title. Upon reversion of the facility to the state, the project must meet all applicable state standards. Agreements shall address responsibility for reconstruction or renovations that are required in order for a facility to meet all applicable state standards upon reversion of the facility to the state.

For the purpose of facilitating these projects and to assist the private entity in the financing, development, construction, and operation of the transportation systems and facilities, the agreements may include provisions for the department to exercise its authority, including the lease of facilities, rights of way, and airspace, exercise of the power of eminent domain, granting of development rights and opportunities, granting of necessary easements and rights of access, issuance of permits and other authorizations, protection from competition, remedies in the event of default of either of the parties, granting of contractual and real property rights, liability during construction and the term of the lease, authority to negotiate acquisition of rights of way in excess of appraised value, and any other provision deemed necessary by the secretary.

The agreements entered into under this section may include provisions authorizing the state to grant necessary easements and lease to a private entity existing rights of way or rights of way subsequently acquired with public or private financing. The agreements may also include provisions to lease to the entity airspace above or below the right of way associated or to be associated with the private entity's transportation facility. In consideration for the reversion rights in these privately constructed facilities, the department may negotiate a charge for the lease of airspace rights during the term of the agreement for a period not to exceed fifty years. If, after the expiration of this period, the department continues to lease these airspace rights to the private entity, it shall do so only at fair market value. The agreement may also provide the private entity the right of first refusal to undertake projects utilizing airspace owned by the state in the vicinity of the public-private project.

Agreements under this section may include any contractual provision that is necessary to protect the project revenues required to repay the costs incurred to study, plan, design, finance, acquire, build, install, operate, enforce laws, and maintain toll highways, bridges, and tunnels and which will not unreasonably inhibit or prohibit the development of additional public transportation systems and facilities. Agreements under this section must secure and maintain liability insurance coverage in amounts appropriate to protect the project's viability and may address state indemnification of the private entity for design and construction liability where the state has approved relevant design and construction plans.

Nothing in this chapter limits the right of the secretary and his or her agents to render such advice and to make such recommendations as they deem to be in the best interests of the state and the public.

Sec. 4. RCW 47.46.050 and 1993 c 370 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The department may enter into agreements using federal, state, and local financing in connection with the projects, including without limitation, grants, loans, and other measures authorized by section 1012 of ISTEA, and to do such things as necessary and desirable to maximize the funding and financing, including the formation of a revolving loan fund to implement this section.

(2) Agreements entered into under this section shall authorize the private entity to lease the facilities within a designated area or areas from the state and to impose user fees or tolls within the designated area to allow a reasonable rate of return on investment, as established through a negotiated agreement between the state and the private entity. The negotiated agreement shall determine a maximum rate of return on investment, based on project characteristics. If the negotiated rate of return on investment is not affected, the private entity may establish and modify toll rates and user fees.

(3) Agreements may establish “incentive” rates of return beyond the negotiated maximum rate of return on investment. The incentive rates of return shall be designed to provide financial benefits to the affected public jurisdictions and the private entity, given the attainment of various safety, performance, or transportation demand management goals. The incentive rates of return shall be negotiated in the agreement.

(4) Agreements shall require that over the term of the ownership or lease the user fees or toll revenues be applied only to payment of the private entity's capital outlay costs for the project, including interest expense, the costs associated with construction, operations, toll collection, maintenance and administration of the ((facility)) project, reimbursement to the state for all costs associated with an election as required under RCW 47.46.030, the costs of project review and oversight, technical and law enforcement services, establishment of a fund to assure the adequacy of maintenance expenditures, and a reasonable return on investment to the private entity. ((The use of any excess toll revenues or user fees may be negotiated between the parties.))

After expiration of the lease of a facility to a private entity, the secretary may continue to charge user fees or tolls for the use of the facility, with these revenues to be used for operations and maintenance of the facility, or to be paid to the local transportation planning agency, or any combination of such uses.) A negotiated agreement shall not extend the term of the ownership or lease beyond the period of time required for payment of the private entity's capital outlay costs for the project under subsection (4) of this section.”

MOTION

Senator Quigley moved that the following amendment by Senators Quigley, Finkbeiner and Long to the striking amendment by Senators Owen, Quigley, Long, Prince, Finkbeiner, Wood, Schow, Roach and Kohl be adopted:

On page 2, after line 10, insert the following:
The legislature finds that in the case of Highway 522, selected under this chapter, public support has not been demonstrated and therefore the secretary shall not proceed. Among the demonstrations of nonsupport for inclusion of Highway 522 are:

1. Over sixteen thousand citizens have signed petitions in opposition to the toll project;
2. The majority of city councilmembers in Monroe, Duvall, and Index have made public statements opposing the toll project, and that the Woodinville chamber of commerce has officially opposed the toll project;
3. No city council or chamber of commerce in the area has favored the toll project;
4. Of the five hundred individuals who attended the public information hearings on the toll proposal, four hundred fifty-eight signed a petition requesting that the proposal be rejected;
5. Businesses in Monroe, Woodinville, Duvall, Snohomish, Sultan, Startup, Gold Bar, Index, Skykomish, and Stevens Pass are extremely dependent on Highway 522 for commerce, that due to the rural nature of these areas no alternative for commerce exists, and that a toll on Highway 522 would severely inhibit their ability to stay in business; and
6. In an informal poll of residents who currently use Highway 522 to shop, eighty-one and one-half percent of the respondents claimed they would be unlikely to continue shopping at these stores if a toll were imposed.

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senators Quigley, Finkbeiner and Long on page 2, after line 10, to the striking amendment by Senators Owen, Quigley, Long, Prince, Finkbeiner, Wood, Schow, Roach and Kohl to Substitute Senate Bill No. 6044.

MOTION

Senator Haugen moved that the following amendment by Senators Haugen and Winsley be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

(1) Before initiating programs as authorized in this chapter, the port commission shall undertake the investigation and monitoring of aircraft noise impacts to determine the nature and extent of the impacts, and shall develop aircraft noise exposure maps diagramming the DNL (Day-Night Level) contour of the noise-impacted areas. Investigation and monitoring must occur periodically as required under 14 C.F.R. Sec. 150.21(a), and the investigation and monitoring must conform to the methodologies accepted and recommended by the Federal Aviation Administration for measuring noise impacts.

(2) The port commission shall adopt a program of noise impact abatement based upon the investigations and as amended periodically to conform to needs demonstrated by the monitoring programs. In an area which is more than six miles beyond the paved end of any runway or more than one mile from the centerline of any runway or from an imaginary runway centerline extending six miles from the paved end of such runway. Such areas as determined above, shall be known as "impacted areas." Outside a noise-impacted area. For purposes of this chapter, a noise-impacted area is defined as the approximate area exposed to noise levels of 65 DNL or greater, or as identified by the Federal Aviation Administration, as shown on the noise exposure map for the most recent year produced by the port commission and accepted by the Federal Aviation Administration.

(3) As part of its noise-monitoring activities for the Seattle-Tacoma International Airport, the port district shall affix and maintain at least six noise-monitoring devices located within neighborhoods located both inside and outside the area designated 65 DNL on the port's most recent noise exposure map. These devices must monitor noise levels continuously throughout the year. The port district shall use data generated by these noise-monitoring devices in developing required updates to the noise contour maps.

Sec. 2. RCW 53.54.030 and 1993 c 150 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

For the purposes of this chapter, in developing a remedial program, the port commission may use one or more of the following programs:

(1) Acquisition of property or property rights within the impacted area, which shall be deemed necessary to accomplish a port purpose. The port district may purchase such property or property rights by time payment notwithstanding the time limitations provided for in RCW 53.08.010. The port district may mortgage or otherwise pledge any such properties acquired to secure such transactions. The port district may assume any outstanding mortgages.
(2) Transaction assistance programs, including assistance with real estate fees and mortgage assistance, and other neighborhood remedial programs as compensation for impacts due to aircraft noise and noise associated conditions. Any such programs shall be in connection with properties located within an impacted area and shall be (provided upon terms and conditions as the port district shall determine appropriate) administered in accordance with applicable federal regulations.

(3) Programs of soundproofing structures located within an impacted area. Such programs may be executed without regard to the ownership, provided the owner waives damages and conveys an easement for the operation of aircraft, and for noise and noise associated conditions therewith, to the port district.

(a) When conducting noise programs for soundproofing structures located within the impacted area of the Seattle-Tacoma International Airport, the port commission shall use the services of a firm specializing in acoustical insulation to specify the types of insulation to be provided in the program and to be consulted as to how the program is to be administered. If the Federal Aviation Administration does not conduct an audit of the program at least every two years, the port shall hire a private firm to audit the program to ensure that it meets the criteria of the applicable federal regulations.

(b) The port commission shall not provide insulation for structures located in areas exposed to noise levels of 75 DNL or greater unless included in a federally approved program. Noise compatibility programs must be administered in accordance with applicable state and federal statutes and regulations.

(c) If any habitable structure within the noise impact area cannot be insulated to reduce the noise level below 45 DNL, the port commission shall place the property on the list of properties eligible for acquisition under subsection (1) of this section.

(4) Mortgage insurance of private owners of lands or improvements within such noise impacted area where such private owners are unable to obtain mortgage insurance solely because of noise impact. In this regard, the port district may establish reasonable conditions and charges upon the granting of such mortgage insurance; PROVIDED, That such fees and charges shall at no time exceed fees established for federal mortgage insurance programs for like service.

(5) An individual property may be provided benefits by the port district under each of the programs described in subsections (1) through (4) of this section. However, an individual property may not be provided benefits under any one of these programs more than once, unless the property is subjected to increased aircraft noise or differing aircraft noise impacts that would have afforded different levels of mitigation, even if the property owner had waived all damages and conveyed a full and unrestricted easement.

(6) Management of all lands, easements, or development rights acquired, including but not limited to the following:
   (a) Rental of any or all lands or structures acquired;
   (b) Redevelopment of any such lands for any economic use consistent with airport operations, local zoning and the state environmental policy;

(c) Sale of such properties for cash or for time payment and subjection of such property to mortgage or other security transaction; PROVIDED, That any such sale shall reserve to the port district by covenant an unconditional right of easement for the operation of all aircraft and for all noise or noise conditions associated therewith.

(7) A property shall be considered within the impacted area if any part thereof is within the impacted area.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 53.54 RCW to read as follows:

When conducting appraisals of noise-impacted properties in conjunction with transaction assistance programs, the port commission shall use comparable properties located outside the impacted area when determining the fair market value of the subject property."

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature recognizes by this act that the growth management act is a fundamental building block of regulatory reform. The state and local governments have invested considerable resources in an act that should serve as the integrating framework for all other land-use related laws. The growth management act provides the means to effectively combine certainty for development decisions, reasonable environmental protection, long-range planning for cost-effective infrastructure, and orderly growth and development.

PART I - GROWTH MANAGEMENT ACT

NEW SECTION. Sec. 101. The legislature finds that during project review, a county or city planning under RCW 36.70A.040 is likely to discover the need to make various improvements in comprehensive plans and development regulations. There is no current requirement or process for applicants, citizens, or agency staff to ensure that these improvements are considered in the plan review process. The legislature also finds that in the past environmental review and permitting of proposed projects have been used to reopen and make land use planning decisions that should have been made through the comprehensive planning process, in part because agency staff and hearing examiners have not been able to ensure consideration of all issues in the local planning process. The legislature further finds that, while plans and regulations should be improved and refined over time, it is unfair to penalize applicants that have submitted permit applications that meet current requirements. It is the intent of the legislature in enacting section 102 of this act to establish a means by which cities and counties will docket suggested plan or development regulation amendments and ensure their consideration during the planning process.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 102. A new section is added to chapter 36.70A RCW to read as follows:

(1) Project review, which shall be conducted pursuant to the provisions of chapter 36.70A RCW (the new chapter created in section 431 of this act), shall be used to make individual project decisions, not land use planning decisions. If, during project review, a county or city planning under RCW 36.70A.040 identifies deficiencies in plans or regulations:

(a) The permitting process shall not be used as a comprehensive planning process;
(b) Project review shall continue; and
(c) The identified deficiencies shall be docketed for possible future plan or development regulation amendments.
(2) Each county and city planning under RCW 36.70A.040 shall include in its development regulations a procedure for any interested person, including applicants, citizens, hearing examiners, and staff of other agencies, to suggest plan or development regulation amendments. The suggested amendments shall be docketed and considered on at least an annual basis, consistent with the provisions of RCW 36.70A.130.

(3) For purposes of this section, a deficiency in a comprehensive plan or development regulation refers to the absence of required or potentially desirable contents of a comprehensive plan or development regulation. It does not refer to whether a development regulation addresses a project's probable specific adverse environmental impacts which the permitting agency could mitigate in the normal project review process.

(4) For purposes of this section, docketing refers to compiling and maintaining a list of suggested changes to the comprehensive plan or development regulations in a manner that will ensure such suggested changes will be considered by the county or city and will be available for review by the public.

Sec. 103. RCW 36.70A.030 and 1994 c 307 s 2 and 1994 c 257 s 5 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Adopt a comprehensive land use plan" means to enact a new comprehensive land use plan or to update an existing comprehensive land use plan.

(2) "Agricultural land" means land primarily devoted to the commercial production of horticultural, viticultural, floricultural, dairy, apiary, vegetable, or animal products or of berries, grain, hay, straw, turf, seed, Christmas trees not subject to the excise tax imposed by RCW 84.33.100 through 84.33.140, finfish in upland hatcheries, or livestock, and that has long-term commercial significance for agricultural production.

(3) "City" means any city or town, including a code city.

(4) "Comprehensive land use plan," "comprehensive plan," or "plan" means a generalized coordinated land use policy statement of the governing body of a county or city that is adopted pursuant to this chapter.

(5) "Critical areas" include the following areas and ecosystems: (a) Wetlands; (b) areas with a critical recharging effect on aquifers used for potable water; (c) fish and wildlife habitat conservation areas; (d) frequently flooded areas; and (e) geologically hazardous areas.

(6) "Department" means the department of community, trade, and economic development.

(7) "For purposes of RCW 36.70A.065 and 36.70A.140, "development permit application" means any application for a development proposal for a use that could be permitted under a plan adopted pursuant to this chapter and is consistent with the underlying land use and zoning, including but not limited to building permits, subdivisions, binding site plans, planned unit developments, conditional uses or other applications pertaining to land uses, but shall not include rezones, proposed amendments to comprehensive plans or the adoption or amendment of development regulations.

(8) "Forest land" means land primarily devoted to growing trees for long-term commercial timber production on land that can be economically and practically managed for such production, the following factors shall be considered: (a) The proximity of the land to urban, suburban, and rural settlements; (b) surrounding parcel size and the compatibility and intensity of adjacent and nearby land uses; (c) long-term local economic conditions that affect the ability to manage for timber production; and the availability of public facilities and services conducive to conversion of forest land to other uses.

(9) "Geologically hazardous areas" means areas that because of their susceptibility to erosion, sliding, earthquake, or other geological events, are not suited to the siting of commercial, residential, or industrial development consistent with public health or safety concerns.

(10) "Long-term commercial significance" includes the growing capacity, productivity, and soil composition of the land for long-term commercial production in consideration with the land's proximity to population areas, and the possibility of more intense uses of the land.

(11) "Minerals" include gravel, sand, and valuable metallic substances.

(12) "Public facilities" include streets, roads, highways, sidewalks, street and road lighting systems, traffic signals, domestic water systems, storm and sanitary sewer systems, parks and recreational facilities, and schools.

(13) "Public services" include fire protection and suppression, law enforcement, public health, education, recreation, environmental protection, and other governmental services.

(14) "Urban growth" refers to growth that makes intensive use of land for the location of buildings, structures, and impermeable surfaces to such a degree as to be incompatible with the primary use of such land for the production of food, other agricultural products, or fiber, or the extraction of mineral resources. When allowed to spread over wide areas, urban growth typically requires urban governmental services. “Characterized by urban growth” refers to land having urban growth located on it, or to land located in relationship to an area with urban growth on it as to be appropriate for urban growth.

“Urban growth areas” means those areas designated by a county pursuant to RCW 36.70A.110.

“Urban governmental services” include those governmental services historically and typically delivered by cities, and include storm and sanitary sewer systems, domestic water systems, street cleaning services, fire and police protection services, public transit services, and other public utilities associated with urban areas and normally not associated with nonurban areas.

“Wetland” or “wetlands” means areas that are inundated or saturated by surface water or ground water at a frequency and duration sufficient to support, and that under normal circumstances do support, a prevalence of vegetation typically adapted for life in saturated soil conditions. Wetlands generally include swamps, marshes, bogs, and similar areas. Wetlands do not include those artificial wetlands intentionally created from nonwetland sites, including, but not limited to, irrigation and drainage ditches, grass-lined swales, canals, detention facilities, wastewater treatment facilities, farm ponds, and landscape amenities. (However, wetlands may include those artificial wetlands intentionally created from nonwetland areas created to mitigate conversion of wetlands.)

NEW SECTION. Sec. 104. A new section is added to chapter 36.70A RCW to read as follows:

(1) For shorelines of the state, the goals and policies of the shoreline management act as set forth in RCW 90.58.020 are added as one of the goals of this chapter as set forth in RCW 36.70A.020. The goals and policies of a shoreline master program for a county or city approved under chapter 90.58 RCW shall be considered an element of the county or city's comprehensive plan. All other portions of the shoreline master program for a county or city adopted under chapter 90.58 RCW, including use regulations, shall be considered a part of the county or city's development regulations.

(2) The shoreline master program shall be adopted pursuant to the procedures of chapter 90.58 RCW rather than the procedures set forth in this chapter for the adoption of a comprehensive plan or development regulations.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 105. A new section is added to chapter 36.70A RCW to read as follows:

(1) In designating and protecting critical areas under this chapter, counties and cities shall include the best available science in developing policies and development regulations to protect the functions and values of critical areas. In addition, counties and cities shall give special consideration to conservation or protection measures necessary to preserve or enhance anadromous fisheries.

(2) If it determines that advice from scientific or other experts is necessary or will be of substantial assistance in reaching its decision, a growth management hearings board may retain scientific or other expert advice to assist in reviewing a petition under RCW 36.70A.290 that involves critical areas.

Sec. 106. RCW 36.70A.130 and 1990 1st ex.s. c 17 s 13 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Each comprehensive land use plan and development regulations shall be subject to continuing evaluation and review by the county or city that adopted them.

Any amendment or revision to a comprehensive land use plan shall conform to this chapter, and any change to development regulations shall be consistent with and implement the comprehensive plan.

2(1a) Each county and city shall establish and broadly disseminate to the public a public participation program identifying procedures whereby proposed amendments or revisions of the comprehensive plan are considered by the governing body of the county or city no more frequently than once every year except that amendments may be considered more frequently under the following circumstances:

(i) The initial adoption of a subarea plan; and

(ii) The adoption or amendment of a shoreline master program under the procedures set forth in chapter 90.58 RCW.

(b) All proposals shall be considered by the governing body concurrently so the cumulative effect of the various proposals can be ascertained. However, after appropriate public participation a county or city may adopt amendments or revisions to its comprehensive plan that conform with this chapter whenever an emergency exists or to resolve an appeal of a comprehensive plan filed with a growth management hearings board or with the court.

(3) Each county that designates urban growth areas under RCW 36.70A.110 shall review, at least every ten years, its designated urban growth area or areas, and the densities permitted within both the incorporated and unincorporated portions of each urban growth area. In conjunction with this review by the county, each city located within an urban growth area shall review the densities permitted within its boundaries, and the extent to which the urban growth occurring within the county has located within each city and the unincorporated portions of the urban growth areas. The county comprehensive plan designating urban growth areas, and the densities permitted in the urban growth areas by the comprehensive plans of the county and each city located within the urban growth areas, shall be revised to accommodate the urban growth projected to occur in the county for the succeeding twenty-year period.

Sec. 107. RCW 36.70A.140 and 1990 1st ex.s. c 17 s 14 are each amended to read as follows:

Each county and city that is required or chooses to plan under RCW 36.70A.040 shall establish and broadly disseminate to the public a public participation program identifying procedures providing for early and continuous public participation in the development and amendment of comprehensive land use plans and development regulations implementing such plans. The procedures shall provide for broad dissemination of proposals and alternatives, opportunity for written comments, public meetings after effective notice, provision for open discussion, communication programs, information services, and consideration of and response to public comments. In enacting legislation in response to the board's decision pursuant to RCW 36.70A.300 declaring part or all of a comprehensive plan or development regulation invalid, the county or city shall provide for public participation that is appropriate and effective under the circumstances presented by the board's order. Errors in exact compliance with the established program and procedures shall not render the comprehensive land use plan or development regulations invalid if the spirit of the program and procedures is observed.

(1) A growth management hearings board shall hear and determine only those petitions alleging either:
(a) That a state agency, county, or city planning under this chapter is not in compliance with the requirements of this chapter, chapter 90.58 RCW as it relates to the adoption of shoreline master programs or amendments thereto, or chapter 43.21C RCW as it relates to plans, development regulations, or amendments, adopted under RCW 36.70A.040 or chapter 90.58 RCW; or
(b) That the twenty-year growth management planning population projections adopted by the office of financial management pursuant to RCW 43.62.035 should be adjusted.
(2) A petition may be filed only by the state, a county or city that plans under this chapter, a person who has either appeared before the county or city regarding the matter on which a review is being requested or is certified by the governor within sixty days of filing the request with the board, or a person qualified pursuant to RCW 34.05.530.
(3) For purposes of this section "person" means any individual, partnership, corporation, association, governmental subdivision or unit thereof, or public or private organization or entity of any character.
(4) When considering a possible adjustment to a growth management planning population projection prepared by the office of financial management, a board shall consider the implications of any such adjustment to the population forecast for the entire state. The rationale for any adjustment that is adopted by a board must be documented and filed with the office of financial management within ten working days after adoption.

If adjusted by a board, a county growth management planning population projection shall only be used for the planning purposes set forth in this chapter and shall be known as a "board adjusted population projection". None of these changes shall affect the official state and county population forecasts prepared by the office of financial management, which shall continue to be used for state budget and planning purposes.

Sec. 109. RCW 36.70A.290 and 1994 c 257 s 2 and 1994 c 249 s 26 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:
(1) All requests for review to a growth management hearings board shall be initiated by filing a petition that includes a detailed statement of issues presented for resolution by the board.
(2) All petitions relating to whether or not an adopted comprehensive plan, development regulation, or permanent amendment thereto, is in compliance with the goals and requirements of this chapter or chapter 90.58 or 43.21C RCW must be filed within sixty days after publication by the legislative bodies of the county or city.
(a) Except as provided in (c) of this subsection, the date of publication for a city shall be the date the city publishes the ordinance, or summary of the ordinance, adopting the comprehensive plan or development regulations, or amendment thereto, as is required to be published.
(b) Promptly after adoption, a county shall publish a notice that it has adopted the comprehensive plan or development regulations, or amendment thereto.

Except as provided in (c) of this subsection, for purposes of this section the date of publication for a county shall be the date the county publishes the notice that it has adopted the comprehensive plan or development regulations, or amendment thereto.
(c) For local governments planning under RCW 36.70A.040, promptly after approval or disapproval of a local government's shoreline master program or amendment thereto by the department of ecology as provided in RCW 90.58.090, the local government shall publish a notice that the shoreline master program or amendment thereto has been approved or disapproved by the department of ecology. For purposes of this section, the date of publication for the adoption or amendment of a shoreline master program is the date the local government publishes notice that the shoreline master program or amendment thereto has been approved or disapproved by the department of ecology.
(3) Unless the board dismisses the petition as frivolous or finds that the person filing the petition lacks standing, the board shall, within ten days of receipt of the petition, set a time for hearing the matter.
(4) The board shall base its decision on the record developed by the city, county, or the state and supplemented with additional evidence if the board determines that such additional evidence would be necessary or of substantial assistance to the board in reaching its decision.
(5) The board, shall consolidate, when appropriate, all petitions involving the review of the same comprehensive plan or the same development regulation or regulations.

Sec. 110. RCW 36.70A.300 and 1991 sp.s. c 32 s 11 are each amended to read as follows:
(1) The board shall issue a final order within one hundred eighty days of receipt of the petition for review, or, when multiple petitions are filed, within one hundred eighty days of receipt of the last petition that is consolidated. Such a final order shall be based exclusively on whether or not a state agency, county, or city is in compliance with the requirements of this chapter, chapter 90.58 RCW as it relates to adoption or amendment of shoreline master programs, or chapter 43.21C RCW as it relates to plans, development regulations, and amendments thereto, adopted under RCW 36.70A.040 or chapter 90.58 RCW. In the final order, the board shall either: (a) Find that the state agency, county, or city is in compliance with the requirements of this chapter or chapter 90.58 RCW as it relates to the adoption or amendment of shoreline master programs; or (b) find that the state agency, county, or city is not in compliance with the requirements of this chapter or chapter 90.58 RCW as it relates to the adoption or amendment of shoreline master programs, in which case the board shall remand the matter to the affected state agency, county, or city and specify a reasonable time not in excess of one hundred eighty days within which the state agency, county, or city shall comply with the requirements of this chapter.

(2) A finding of noncompliance and an order of remand shall not affect the validity of comprehensive plans and development regulations during the period of remand, unless the board's final order also:

(a) Includes a determination, supported by findings of fact and conclusions of law, that the continued validity of the plan or regulation would substantially interfere with the fulfillment of the goals of this chapter; and

(b) Specifies the particular part or parts of the plan or regulation that are determined to be invalid, and the reasons for their invalidity.

(3) A determination of invalidity shall:

(a) Be prospective in effect and shall not extinguish rights that vested under state or local law before the date of the board's order; and

(b) Subject any development application that would otherwise vest after the date of the board's order to the local ordinance or resolution that both is enacted in response to the order of remand and determined by the board pursuant to RCW 36.70A.330 to comply with the requirements of this chapter.

(4) If the ordinance that adopts a plan or development regulation under this chapter includes a savings clause intended to revive prior policies or regulations in the event the new plan or regulations are determined to be invalid, the board shall determine under subsection (2) of this section whether the prior policies or regulations are valid during the period of remand.

(5) Any party aggrieved by a final decision of the hearings board may appeal the decision as provided in RCW 34.05.514 to a superior court within thirty days of the final order of the board.

Sec. 111. RCW 36.70A.320 and 1991 sp.s. c 32 s 13 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section, comprehensive plans and development regulations, and amendments thereto, adopted under this chapter are presumed valid upon adoption. In any petition under this chapter, the board, after full consideration of the petition, shall determine whether there is compliance with the requirements of this chapter. In making its determination, the board shall consider the criteria adopted by the department under RCW 36.70A.190(4). The board shall find compliance unless it finds by a preponderance of the evidence that the state agency, county, or city erroneously interpreted or applied this chapter.

(2) A finding of noncompliance shall:

(a) Be prospective in effect and shall not extinguish rights that vested under state or local law before the date of the board's order; and

(b) Subject any development application that would otherwise vest after the date of the board's order to the local ordinance or resolution that both is enacted in response to the order of remand and determined by the board pursuant to RCW 36.70A.330 to comply with the requirements of this chapter.

Sec. 112. RCW 36.70A.330 and 1991 sp.s. c 32 s 14 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) After the time set for complying with the requirements of this chapter under RCW 36.70A.300(1)(b) has expired, or at an earlier time upon the motion of a county or city subject to a determination of invalidity under RCW 36.70A.300, the board(( on its own motion or motion of the petitioner,)) shall set a hearing for the purpose of determining whether the state agency, county, or city is in compliance with the requirements of this chapter.

(2) The board shall conduct a hearing and issue a finding of compliance or noncompliance with the requirements of this chapter. A person with standing to challenge the legislation enacted in response to the board's final order may participate in the hearing along with the petitioner and the state agency, city, or county. A hearing under this subsection shall be given the highest priority of business to be conducted by the board, and a finding shall be issued within forty-five days of the filing of the motion under subsection (1) of this section with the board.

(3) If the board finds that the state agency, county, or city is not in compliance, the board shall transmit its finding to the governor. The board may recommend to the governor that the sanctions authorized by this chapter be imposed.

(4) The board shall also reconsider its final order and decide:

(a) If a determination of invalidity has been made, whether such a determination should be rescinded or modified under the standards in RCW 36.70A.300(2); or

(b) If no determination of invalidity has been made, whether one now should be made under the standards in RCW 36.70A.300(2).

The board shall schedule additional hearings as appropriate pursuant to subsections (1) and (2) of this section.

Sec. 113. RCW 34.05.514 and 1994 c 257 s 23 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section(( and RCW 36.70A.300(3))), proceedings for review under this chapter shall be instituted by filing a petition in the superior court, at the petitioner's option, for (a) Thurston county, (b) the county of the petitioner's residence or principal place of business, or (c) in any county where the property owned by the petitioner and affected by the contested decision is located.

(2) For proceedings involving institutions of higher education, the petition shall be filed either in the county in which the principal office of the institution involved is located or in the county of a branch campus if the action involves such branch.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 114. (1) The legislature finds that:

(a) As of the effective date of this section, twenty-nine counties and two hundred eight cities are conducting comprehensive planning under the growth management act, chapter 36.70A RCW, which together comprise over ninety percent of the state's population;
(b) Comprehensive plans for many of the jurisdictions were due by July 1, 1994, and the remaining jurisdictions must complete plans under due dates ranging from October 1994 to September 1997;

(c) Concurrently with these comprehensive planning activities, local governments must conduct several other planning requirements under the growth management act, such as the adoption of capital facilities plans, urban growth areas, and development regulations;

(d) Local governments must also comply with the state environmental policy act, chapter 43.21C RCW, in the development of comprehensive plans and development regulations;

(e) The combined activities of comprehensive planning and the state environmental policy act present a serious fiscal burden upon local governments; and

(f) Detailed environmental analysis integrated with comprehensive plans, subarea plans, and development regulations will facilitate planning for and managing growth, allow greater protection of the environment, and benefit both the general public and private property owners.

(2) In order to provide financial assistance to cities and counties planning under chapter 36.70A RCW and to improve the usefulness of plans and integrated environmental analyses, the legislature has created the fund described in section 115 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 115. A new section is added to chapter 36.70A RCW to read as follows:

The growth management planning and environmental review fund is hereby established in the state treasury. Moneys may be placed in the fund from the proceeds of bond sales, tax revenues, budget transfers, federal appropriations, gifts, or any other lawful source. Moneys in the fund may be spent only after appropriation. Moneys in the fund shall be used to make grants to local governments for the purposes set forth in section 202 of this act, RCW 43.21C.031, or section 116 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 116. A new section is added to chapter 36.70A RCW to read as follows:

(1) The department of community, trade, and economic development shall provide management services for the fund created by section 115 of this act. The department by rule shall establish procedures for fund management.

(2) A grant may be awarded to a county or city that is required to or has chosen to plan under RCW 36.70A.040 and that is qualified pursuant to this section. The grant shall be provided to assist a county or city in paying for the cost of preparing a detailed environmental impact statement that is integrated with a comprehensive plan or subarea plan and development regulations.

(3) In order to qualify for a grant, a county or city shall:

(a) Demonstrate that it will prepare an environmental analysis pursuant to chapter 43.21C RCW that is integrated with a comprehensive plan or subarea plan and development regulations;

(b) Address environmental impacts and consequences, alternatives, and mitigation measures in sufficient detail to allow the analysis to be adopted in whole or in part by subsequent applicants for development permits within the geographic area analyzed in the plan;

(c) Include mechanisms in the plan to monitor the consequences of growth as it occurs in the plan area and provide ongoing data to update the plan and environmental analysis;

(d) Be making substantial progress towards compliance with the requirements of this chapter. A county or city that is more than six months out of compliance with a requirement of this chapter is deemed not to be making substantial progress towards compliance; and

(e) Provide local funding, which may include financial participation by the private sector.

(4) In awarding grants, the department shall give preference to proposals that include one or more of the following elements:

(a) Financial participation by the private sector, or a public/private partnering approach;

(b) Comprehensive and subarea plan proposals that are designed to identify and monitor system capacities for elements of the built environment, and to the extent appropriate, of the natural environment;

(c) Programs to improve the efficiency and effectiveness of the permitting process by greater reliance on integrated plans;

(d) Programs for effective citizen and neighborhood involvement that contribute to greater certainty that planning decisions will be implemented; and

(e) Plans that identify environmental impacts and establish mitigation measures that provide effective means to satisfy concurrency requirements and establish project consistency with the plans.

(5) If the local funding includes funding provided by other state functional planning programs, including open space planning and watershed or basin planning, the functional plan shall be integrated into and be consistent with the comprehensive plan.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 117. During the 1995-1997 biennium, funding for the growth management planning and environmental review fund shall be provided by:

(1) A transfer of four million dollars from the public works assistance account; and

(2) A transfer of two million dollars from the transportation fund.

PART II - STATE ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY ACT

NEW SECTION. Sec. 201. (1) The legislature finds in adopting section 202 of this act that:

(a) Comprehensive plans and development regulations adopted by counties, cities, and towns under chapter 36.70A RCW and environmental laws and rules adopted by the state and federal government have addressed a wide range of environmental subjects and impacts.
These plans, regulations, rules, and laws often provide environmental analysis and mitigation measures for project actions without the need for an environmental impact statement or further project mitigation.

(b) Existing plans, regulations, rules, or laws provide environmental analysis and measures that avoid or otherwise mitigate the probable specific adverse environmental impacts of proposed projects should be integrated with, and should not be duplicated by, environmental review under chapter 43.21C RCW.

(c) Proposed projects should continue to receive environmental review, which should be conducted in a manner that is integrated with and does not duplicate other requirements.

(2) The legislature intends that a primary role of environmental review under chapter 43.21C RCW is to focus on the gaps and overlaps that may exist in applicable laws and requirements related to a proposed action. The review of project actions conducted by counties, cities, and towns planning under RCW 36.70A.040 should integrate environmental review with project review. Chapter 43.21C RCW should not be used as a substitute for other land use planning and environmental requirements.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 202. A new section is added to chapter 43.21C RCW to read as follows:

(1) If the requirements of subsection (2) of this section are satisfied, a county, city, or town reviewing a project action may determine that the requirements for environmental analysis, protection, and mitigation measures in the county, city, or town’s development regulations and comprehensive plans adopted under chapter 36.70A RCW, and in other applicable local, state, or federal laws and rules provide adequate analysis of and mitigation for the specific adverse environmental impacts of the project action to which the requirements apply.

(2) A county, city, or town may make the determination provided for in subsection (1) of this section if:

(a) In the course of project review, including any required environmental analysis, the local government considers the specific probable adverse environmental impacts of the proposed action and determines that these specific impacts are adequately addressed by the development regulations or other applicable requirements of the comprehensive plan, subarea plan element of the comprehensive plan, or other local, state, or federal rules or laws; and

(b) The local government bases its approval on compliance with these requirements or mitigation measures.

(3) If a county, city, or town’s comprehensive plans, subarea plans, and development regulations adequately address a project’s probable specific adverse environmental impacts, as determined under subsections (1) and (2) of this section, the county, city, or town shall not impose additional mitigation under this chapter during project review. Project review shall be integrated with environmental analysis under this chapter.

(4) A comprehensive plan, subarea plan, or development regulation shall be considered to adequately address an impact if the county, city, or town, through the planning and environmental review process under chapter 36.70A RCW and this chapter, has identified the specific adverse environmental impacts and:

(a) The impacts have been avoided or otherwise mitigated; or

(b) The legislative body of the county, city, or town has designated as acceptable certain levels of service, land use designations, development standards, or other land use planning required or allowed by chapter 36.70A RCW.

(5) In deciding whether a specific adverse environmental impact has been addressed by an existing rule or law of another agency with jurisdiction with environmental expertise with regard to a specific environmental impact, the county, city, or town shall consult orally or in writing with that agency and may expressly defer to that agency. In making this deferral, the county, city, or town shall base or condition its project approval on compliance with these other existing rules or laws.

(6) Nothing in this section limits the authority of an agency in its review or mitigation of a project to adopt or otherwise rely on environmental analyses and requirements under other laws, as provided by this chapter.

(7) This section shall apply only to a county, city, or town planning under RCW 36.70A.040.

Sec. 203. RCW 43.21C.031 and 1983 c 117 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) An environmental impact statement (the detailed statement required by RCW 43.21C.030(2)(c)) shall be prepared on proposals for legislation and other major actions having a probable significant, adverse environmental impact. The environmental impact statement may be combined with the recommendation or report on the proposal or issued as a separate document. The substantive decisions or recommendations shall be clearly identifiable and easy to find. Actions categorically exempt under RCW 43.21C.110(1)(a) do not require environmental review or the preparation of an environmental impact statement under this chapter. In a county, city, or town planning under RCW 36.70A.040, a planned action, as provided for in subsection (2) of this section, does not require a threshold determination or the preparation of an environmental impact statement under this chapter, but is subject to environmental review and mitigation as provided in this chapter.

An environmental impact statement is required to analyze only those probable adverse environmental impacts which are significant. Beneficial environmental impacts may be discussed. The responsible official shall consult with agencies and the public to identify such impacts and limit the scope of an environmental impact statement. The subjects listed in RCW 43.21C.030(2)(c) need not be treated as separate sections of an environmental impact statement. Discussions of significant short-term and long-term environmental impacts, significant irrevocable commitments of natural resources, significant alternatives including mitigation measures, and significant environmental impacts which cannot be mitigated should be consolidated or included, as applicable, in those sections of an environmental impact statement where the responsible official decides they logically belong.
(2a) For purposes of this section, a planned action means one or more types of project action that:

(i) Are designated planned actions by an ordinance or resolution adopted by a county, city, or town planning under RCW 36.70A.040;
(ii) Have had the significant impacts adequately addressed in an environmental impact statement prepared in conjunction with (A) a comprehensive plan or subarea plan adopted under chapter 36.70A RCW, or (B) a fully contained community, a master planned resort, a master planned development, or a phased project;
(iii) Are subsequent or implementing projects for the proposals listed in (a)(ii) of this subsection;
(iv) Are located within an urban growth area, as defined in RCW 36.70A.030;
(v) Are not essential public facilities, as defined in RCW 36.70A.200; and
(vi) Are consistent with a comprehensive plan adopted under chapter 36.70A RCW.
(b) A county, city, or town shall limit planned actions to certain types of development or to specific geographical areas that are less extensive than the jurisdictional boundaries of the county, city, or town and may limit a planned action to a time period identified in the environmental impact statement or the ordinance or resolution adopted under this subsection.

Sec. 204. RCW 43.21C.075 and 1994 c 253 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Because a major purpose of this chapter is to combine environmental considerations with public decisions, any appeal brought under this chapter shall be linked to a specific governmental action. The State Environmental Policy Act provides a basis for challenging whether governmental action is in compliance with the substantive and procedural provisions of this chapter. The State Environmental Policy Act is not intended to create a cause of action unrelated to a specific governmental action.

(2) Unless otherwise provided by this section:

(a) Appeals under this chapter shall be of the governmental action together with its accompanying environmental determinations.
(b) Appeals of environmental determinations made (or lacking) under this chapter shall be commenced within the time required to appeal the governmental action which is subject to environmental review.

(3) If an agency has a procedure for appeals of agency environmental determinations made under this chapter, such procedure:

(a) Shall not allow more than one agency appeal proceeding on a procedural determination (the adequacy of a determination of significance/nonsignificance or of a final environmental impact statement) consistent with any state statutory requirements for appeals to local legislative bodies. The appeal proceeding on a determination of significance/nonsignificance may occur before the agency's final decision on a proposed action. Such an appeal shall also be allowed for a determination of significance/nonsignificance which may be issued by the agency after supplemental review;
(b) Shall consolidate an appeal of procedural issues and of substantive determinations made under this chapter (such as a decision to require particular mitigation measures or to deny a proposal) with a hearing or appeal on the underlying governmental action by providing for a single simultaneous ((appeal of an)) hearing before one hearing officer or body to consider the agency decision on a proposal and any environmental determinations made under this chapter, with the exception of the ((threshold determination)) appeal, if any, of a determination of significance as provided in (a) of this subsection or an appeal to the local legislative authority under RCW 43.21C.060 or other applicable state statutes;
(c) Shall provide for the preparation of a record for use in any subsequent appeal proceedings, and shall provide for any subsequent appeal proceedings to be conducted on the record, consistent with other applicable law. An adequate record consists of findings and conclusions, testimony under oath, and taped or written transcript. An electronically recorded transcript will suffice for purposes of review under this subsection;
(d) Shall provide that procedural determinations made by the responsible official shall be entitled to substantial weight.
(4) If a person aggrieved by an agency action has the right to judicial appeal and if an agency has an appeal procedure, such person shall, prior to seeking any judicial review, use such agency procedure if any such procedure is available, unless expressly provided otherwise by state statute.

(5) ((RCW 43.21C.080 establishes an optional "notice of action" procedure which, if used, imposes a time period for appealing decisions under this chapter.)) Some statutes and ordinances contain time periods for challenging governmental actions which are subject to review under this chapter, such as various local land use approvals (the "underlying governmental action"). RCW 43.21C.080 establishes an optional "notice of action" procedure which, if used, imposes a time period for appealing decisions under this chapter. This ((subsection)) subsection does not modify any such time periods. ((This section governs when a judicial appeal must be brought under this chapter where a "notice of action" is used, and/or where there is another time period which is required by statute or ordinance for challenging the underlying governmental action.)) In this subsection, the term "appeal" refers to a judicial appeal only.

(a) If there is a time period for appealing the underlying governmental action, appeals under this chapter shall be commenced within ((thirty days)) such time period. The agency shall give official notice stating the date and place for commencing an appeal. ((If there is an agency proceeding under subsection (3) of this section, the appellant shall, prior to commencing a judicial appeal, submit to the responsible official a notice of intent to commence a judicial appeal. This notice of intent shall be given within the time period for commencing a judicial appeal on the underlying governmental action.))
(b) If there is no time period for appealing the underlying governmental action, and a notice of action under RCW 43.21C.080 ((may be used. If a notice of action)) is used, ((judicial)) appeals shall be commenced within the time period specified by RCW 43.21C.080(6) unless there is a time period for appealing the underlying governmental action in which case (a) of this subsection shall apply.

(c) Notwithstanding RCW 43.21C.080(1), if there is a time period for appealing the underlying governmental action, a notice of action may be published within such time period).

(6) (a) Judicial review under subsection (5) of this section of an appeal decision made by an agency under (RCW 43.21C.075(5)) subsection (3) of this section shall be on the record, consistent with other applicable law.

(b) A taped or written transcript may be used. If a taped transcript is to be reviewed, a record shall identify the location on the taped transcript of testimony and evidence to be reviewed. Parties are encouraged to designate only those portions of the testimony necessary to present the issues raised on review, but if a party alleges that a finding of fact is not supported by evidence, the party should include in the record all evidence relevant to the disputed finding. Any other party may designate additional portions of the taped transcript relating to issues raised on review. A party may provide a written transcript of portions of the testimony at the party's own expense or apply to that court for an order requiring the party seeking review to pay for additional portions of the written transcript.

(c) Judicial review under this chapter shall without exception be of the governmental action together with its accompanying environmental determinations.

(7) Jurisdiction over the review of determinations under this chapter in an appeal before an agency or superior court shall upon consent of the parties be transferred in whole or part to the shorelines hearings board. The shorelines hearings board shall hear the matter and sign the final order expeditiously. The superior court shall certify the final order of the shorelines hearings board and said certified final order may only be appealed to an appellate court. In the case of an appeal under this chapter regarding a project or other matter that is also the subject of an appeal to the shorelines hearings board under chapter 90.58 RCW, the shorelines hearings board shall have sole jurisdiction over both the appeal under this section and the appeal under chapter 90.58 RCW, shall consider them together, and shall issue a final order within one hundred eighty days as provided in RCW 90.58.180.

(8) For purposes of this section and RCW 43.21C.080, the words "action", "decision", and "determination" mean substantive agency action including any accompanying procedural determinations under this chapter (except where the word "action" means "appeal" in RCW 43.21C.080(2) and (3)). The word "action" in this section and RCW 43.21C.080 does not mean a procedural determination by itself made under this chapter. The word "determination" includes any environmental document required by this chapter and state or local implementing rules. The word "agency" refers to any state or local unit of government. Except as provided in subsection (5) of this section, the word "appeal" refers to administrative, legislative, or judicial appeals.

(9) The court in its discretion may award reasonable attorney's fees of up to one thousand dollars in the aggregate to the prevailing party, including a governmental agency, on issues arising out of this chapter if the court makes specific findings that the legal position of a party is frivolous and without reasonable basis.

Sec. 205. RCW 43.21C.080 and 1977 ex.s. c 278 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Notice of any action taken by a governmental agency may be publicized by the acting governmental agency, the applicant for, or the proponent of such action, in substantially the form as set forth in (subsection (3) of this section and in the following manner) rules adopted under RCW 43.21C.110:

(a) By publishing notice on the same day of each week for two consecutive weeks in a legal newspaper of general circulation in the area where the property which is the subject of the action is located;

(b) By filing notice of such action with the department of ecology at its main office in Olympia prior to the date of the last newspaper publication; and

(c) Except for those actions which are of a nonproject nature, by one of the following methods which shall be accomplished prior to the date of (last) first newspaper publication;

(i) Mailing to the latest recorded real property owners, as shown by the records of the county treasurer, who share a common boundary line with the property upon which the project is proposed through United States mail, first class, postage prepaid.

(ii) Posting of the notice in a conspicuous manner on the property upon which the project is to be constructed.

(2)(a) Except as otherwise provided in RCW 43.21C.075(5)(a), any action to set aside, enjoin, review, or otherwise challenge any such governmental action or subsequent governmental action for which notice is given as provided in subsection (1) of this section on grounds of noncompliance with the provisions of this chapter shall be commenced within ((thirty)) twenty-one days from the date of last newspaper publication of the notice pursuant to subsection (1) of this section, or be barred((. PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That the time period within which an action shall be commenced shall be ninety days (1) for projects to be performed by a governmental agency or to be performed under government contract, or (ii) for thermal power plant projects. PROVIDED FURTHER, That (c)));

(b) Any subsequent governmental action on the proposal for which notice has been given as provided in subsection (1) of this section shall not be set aside, enjoined, reviewed, or otherwise challenged on grounds of noncompliance with the provisions of RCW 43.21C.030(2)(a) through (h) unless there has been a substantial change in the proposal between the time of the first governmental action and the subsequent governmental action that is likely to have adverse environmental impacts beyond the range of impacts previously analyzed, or unless the action now being considered was identified in an earlier detailed statement or declaration of nonsignificance as being one which would require further environmental evaluation.

(b) Any action to challenge a subsequent governmental action based upon any provisions of this chapter shall be commenced within thirty days from the date of last newspaper publication of the subsequent governmental action except (i) for projects to be performed by a governmental agency or to be performed under governmental contract, or (ii) for thermal power plant projects which shall be challenged within ninety days from the date of last newspaper publication of the subsequent governmental action, or be barred.

(3) The form for such notice of action shall be issued by the department of ecology and shall be made available by the governmental agency taking an action subject to being publicized pursuant to this section, by the county auditor, and/or the city clerk to the project applicant or proposer. The form of such notice shall be substantially as follows:

Sec. 206. RCW 43.21C.110 and 1983 c 117 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

It shall be the duty and function of the department of ecology (which may utilize proposed rules developed by the environmental policy commission):

(1) To adopt and amend thereafter rules of interpretation and implementation of this chapter (the state environmental policy act of 1971), subject to the requirements of chapter 34.05 RCW, for the purpose of providing uniform rules and guidelines to all branches of government including state agencies, political subdivisions, public and municipal corporations, and counties. The proposed rules shall be subject to full public hearings requirements associated with rule promulgation. Suggestions for modifications of the proposed rules shall be considered on their merits, and the department shall have the authority and responsibility for full and appropriate independent promulgation and adoption of rules, assuring consistency with this chapter as amended and with the preservation of protections afforded by this chapter. The rule making powers authorized in this section shall include, but shall not be limited to, the following phases of interpretation and implementation of this chapter (the state environmental policy act of 1971):

(a) Categories of governmental actions which are not to be considered as potential major actions significantly affecting the quality of the environment, including categories pertaining to applications for water right permits pursuant to chapters 90.03 and 90.44 RCW. The types of actions included as categorical exemptions in the rules shall be limited to those types which are not major actions significantly affecting the quality of the environment. The rules shall provide for certain circumstances where actions which potentially are categorically exempt require environmental review. An action that is categorically exempt under the rules adopted by the department may not be conditioned or denied under this chapter.

(b) Rules for criteria and procedures applicable to the determination of when an act of a branch of government is a major action significantly affecting the quality of the environment for which a detailed statement is required to be prepared pursuant to RCW 43.21C.030.
time, recognizing and protecting private property rights consistent with the public interest. Therefore, coordinated planning is necessary in protecting the shorelines of the state.

There are pressures of additional uses being placed on the shorelines necessitating increased coordination in the management and development of the shorelines of the state. The legislature further finds that much of the shorelines of the state and the uplands adjacent thereto are in private ownership; that unrestricted construction on the privately owned or publicly owned shorelines of the state is not in the best interest of the state.

34.05.240 Author authorizes the department of community, trade, and economic development and other state agencies, organizations, and individuals, in order to avoid duplication of effort and expense, overlap, or conflict with similar activities, to consult with the state agencies and with representatives of science, industry, agriculture, labor, conservation organizations, state and local governments and other groups, as it deems advisable; and to utilize, to the fullest extent possible, the services, facilities, and information (including statistical information) of public and private agencies, organizations, and individuals, in order to avoid duplication of effort and expense, overlap, or conflict with similar activities authorized by law and performed by established agencies.

Rules and procedures applicable to the preparation of detailed statements and other environmental documents, including but not limited to rules for timing of environmental review, obtaining comments, data and other information, and providing for and determining areas of public participation which shall include the scope and review of draft environmental impact statements.

Scope of coverage and contents of detailed statements assuring that such statements are simple, uniform, and as short as practicable; statements are required to analyze only reasonable alternatives and probable adverse environmental impacts which are significant, and may analyze beneficial impacts.

Rules and procedures for public notification of actions taken and documents prepared.

Definition of terms relevant to the implementation of this chapter including the establishment of a list of elements of the environment. Analysis of environmental considerations under RCW 43.21C.030(2) may be required only for those subjects listed as elements of the environment (or portions thereof). The list of elements of the environment shall consist of the "natural" and "built" environment. The elements of the built environment shall consist of public services and utilities (such as water, sewer, schools, fire and police protection), transportation, environmental health (such as explosive materials and toxic waste), and land and shoreline use (including housing, and a description of the relationships with land use and shoreline plans and designations, including population).

Rules for determining the obligations and powers under this chapter of two or more branches of government involved in the same project significantly affecting the quality of the environment.

Methods to assure adequate public awareness of the preparation and issuance of detailed statements required by RCW 43.21C.030(2)(c).

To prepare rules for projects setting forth the time limits within which the governmental entity responsible for the action shall comply with the provisions of this chapter.

Rules for utilization of a detailed statement for more than one action and rules improving environmental analysis of nonproject proposals and encouraging better interagency coordination and integration between this chapter and other environmental laws.

Rules relating to actions which shall be exempt from the provisions of this chapter in situations of emergency.

Rules relating to the use of environmental documents in planning and decision making and the implementation of the substantive policies and requirements of this chapter, including procedures for appeals under this chapter.

Rules and procedures that provide for the integration of environmental review with project review as provided in section 202 of this act. The rules and procedures shall be jointly developed with the department of community, trade, and economic development and shall be applicable to the preparation of environmental documents for actions in counties, cities, and towns planning under RCW 36.70A.040. The rules and procedures shall also include criteria to analyze the consistency of project actions, including planned actions under RCW 43.21C.031(2), with development regulations adopted under chapter 36.70A RCW, or in the absence of applicable development regulations, the appropriate elements of a comprehensive plan or subarea plan adopted under chapter 36.70A RCW. Ordinances or procedures adopted by a county, city, or town to implement the provisions of section 202 of this act prior to the effective date of rules adopted under this subsection (1)(m) shall continue to be effective until the adoption of any new or revised ordinances or procedures that may be required. If any revisions are required as a result of rules adopted under this subsection (1)(m), those revisions shall be made within the time limits specified in RCW 43.21C.120.

(2) In exercising its powers, functions, and duties under this section, the department may:

(a) Consult with the state agencies and with representatives of science, industry, agriculture, labor, conservation organizations, state and local governments and other groups, as it deems advisable; and

(b) Utilize, to the fullest extent possible, the services, facilities, and information (including statistical information) of public and private agencies, organizations, and individuals, in order to avoid duplication of effort and expense, overlap, or conflict with similar activities authorized by law and performed by established agencies.

(3) Rules adopted pursuant to this section shall be subject to the review procedures of chapter 34.05 RCW (34.05.528 and 34.05.240).

Sec. 207. RCW 43.21C.900 and 1971 ex.s.c 109 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

This chapter shall be known and may be cited as the "State Environmental Policy Act (34.05.528 and 34.05.240)."

PART III - SHORELINE MANAGEMENT ACT

Sec. 301. RCW 90.58.020 and 1992 c 105 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

The legislature finds that the shorelines of the state are among the most valuable and fragile of its natural resources and that there is great concern throughout the state relating to their utilization, protection, restoration, and preservation. In addition it finds that ever increasing pressures of additional uses are being placed on the shorelines necessitating increased coordination in the management and development of the shorelines of the state. The legislature further finds that much of the shorelines of the state and the uplands adjacent thereto are in private ownership; that unrestricted construction on the privately owned or publicly owned shorelines of the state is not in the best public interest; and therefore, coordinated planning is necessary in order to protect the public interest associated with the shorelines of the state while, at the same time, recognizing and protecting private property rights consistent with the public interest. There is, therefore, a clear and urgent demand for a planned, rational, and concerted effort, jointly performed by federal, state, and local governments, to prevent the inherent harm in an uncoordinated and piecemeal development of the state’s shorelines.

It is the policy of the state to provide for the management of the shorelines of the state by planning for and fostering all reasonable and appropriate uses. This policy is designed to insure the development of these shorelines in a manner which, while allowing for limited reduction of rights of the public in the navigable waters, will promote and enhance the public interest. This policy contemplates protecting against adverse effects to the public health, the land and its vegetation and wildlife, and the waters of the state and their aquatic life, while protecting generally public rights of navigation and corollary rights incidental thereto.

The legislature declares that the interest of all of the people shall be paramount in the management of shorelines of state-wide significance. The department, in adopting guidelines for shorelines of state-wide significance, and local government, in developing master programs for shorelines of state-wide significance, shall give preference to uses in the following order of preference which:

1. Recognize and protect the state-wide interest over local interest;
2. Preserve the natural character of the shoreline;
3. Result in long term over short term benefit;
4. Protect the resources and ecology of the shoreline;
5. Increase public access to publicly owned areas of the shorelines;
6. Increase recreational opportunities for the public in the shoreline;
7. Provide for any other element as defined in RCW 90.58.100 deemed appropriate or necessary.

In the implementation of this policy the public's opportunity to enjoy the physical and aesthetic qualities of natural shorelines of the state shall be preserved to the greatest extent feasible consistent with the overall best interest of the state and the people generally. To this end uses shall be preferred which are consistent with control of pollution and prevention of damage to the natural environment, or are unique to or dependent upon use of the state's shoreline. Alterations of the natural condition of the shorelines of the state, in those limited instances when authorized, shall be given priority for single family residences and their appurtenant structures, ports, shoreline recreational uses including but not limited to parks, marinas, piers, and other improvements facilitating public access to shorelines of the state, industrial and commercial developments which are particularly dependent on their location on or use of the shorelines of the state and other development that will provide an opportunity for substantial numbers of the people to enjoy the shorelines of the state. Alterations of the natural condition of the shorelines and wetlands of the state shall be recognized by the department. Shorelines and wetlands of the state shall be appropriately classified and these classifications shall be revised when circumstances warrant regardless of whether the change in circumstances occurs through man-made causes or natural causes. Any areas resulting from alterations of the natural condition of the shorelines and wetlands of the state no longer meeting the definition of "shorelines of the state" shall not be subject to the provisions of chapter 90.58 RCW.

Permitted uses in the shorelines of the state shall be designed and conducted in a manner to minimize, insofar as practical, any resultant damage to the ecology and environment of the shoreline area and any interference with the public's use of the water.

Sec. 302. RCW 90.58.030 and 1987 c 474 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires, the following definitions and concepts apply:

1. Administration:
   (a) "Department" means the department of ecology;
   (b) "Director" means the director of the department of ecology;

   a) Provide notice to and opportunity for written comment by all interested parties of record as a part of the local government review process for the proposal and to all persons, groups, and agencies that have requested in writing notice of proposed master programs or amendments generally or for a specific area, subject matter, or issue. The comment period shall be at least thirty days, unless the department determines that the level of complexity or controversy involved supports a shorter period;

   b) In the department's discretion, conduct a public hearing during the thirty-day comment period in the jurisdiction proposing the master program or amendment;

   c) Within fifteen days after the close of public comment, request the local government to review the issues identified by the public, interested parties, groups, and agencies and provide a written response as to how the proposal addresses the identified issues;

(If approval is denied, the department shall state within ninety days from the date of submission in detail the precise facts upon which that decision is based, and shall submit to the local government suggested modifications to the program to make it consistent with said policy and guidelines. The local government shall have ninety days after it receives recommendations from the department to make modifications designed to eliminate the inconsistencies and to resubmit the program to the department for approval. Any resubmitted program shall take effect when and in such form and content as is approved by the department.

(4) As to)) (4) The department shall approve those segments of the master program relating to shorelines of state-wide significance ((the department shall have full authority following review and evaluation of the submission by local government to develop and adopt an alternative to the local government's proposal if in the department's opinion the program submitted does not)) only after determining the program provides the optimum implementation of the policy of this chapter to satisfy the state-wide interest. (If the submission by local government is not approved, the department shall suggest modifications to the local government within ninety days from receipt of the submission. The local government shall have ninety days after it receives said modifications to consider the same and resubmit a master program to the department. Thereafter, the department shall adopt the resubmitted program or, if the department determines that said program does not provide for optimum implementation, it may develop and adopt an alternative as hereinbefore provided. 5) If the department does not approve a segment of a local government master program relating to a shoreline of state-wide significance, the department may develop and by rule adopt an alternative to the local governments proposal.

(5) In the event a local government has not complied with the requirements of RCW 90.58.070 it may thereafter upon written notice to the department elect to adopt a master program for the shorelines within its jurisdiction, in which event it shall comply with the provisions established by this chapter for the adoption of a master program for such shorelines. Upon approval of such master program by the department it shall supersede such master program as may have been adopted by the department for such shorelines.

The standards shall govern the issuance of substantial development permits for shoreline protection, including structural methods such as construction of bulkheads, and nonstructural methods of protection. The standards shall provide for methods which achieve effective and timely protection against loss or damage to single family residences and appurtenant structures due to shoreline erosion. The standards shall provide a preference for permit issuance for measures to protect single family residences occupied prior to January 1, 1992, where the proposed measure is designed to minimize harm to the shoreline natural environment.

Sec. 308. RCW 90.58.120 and 1989 c 175 s 182 are each amended to read as follows:

(2) A substantial development shall not be undertaken on shorelines of the state without first obtaining a permit from the government entity having administrative jurisdiction under this chapter.

A permit shall be granted:

(a) From June 1, 1971, until such time as an applicable master program has become effective, only when the development proposed is consistent with: (i) The policy of RCW 90.58.020; and (ii) after their adoption, the guidelines and rules of the department; and (iii) so far as can be ascertained, the master program being developed for the area;

(b) After adoption or approval, as appropriate, by the department of an applicable master program, only when the development proposed is consistent with the applicable master program and ((the provisions of)) this chapter ((90.58 RCW)).

(3) The local government shall establish a program, consistent with rules adopted by the department, for the administration and enforcement of the permit system provided in this chapter. The administration of the system so established shall be performed exclusively by the local government.

(4) Except as otherwise specifically provided in subsection ((4)) (5) of this section, the local government shall require notification of the public of all applications for permits governed by any permit system established pursuant to subsection (3) of this section by ensuring that:

(a) A notice of such an application is published at least once a week on the same day of the week for two consecutive weeks in a legal newspaper of general circulation within the area in which the development is proposed; and

(Additional)) notice of such an application is published in at least one of the following methods:

((ii))) (b) Posting of the notice in a conspicuous manner on the property upon which the project is to be constructed; or ((iii))) (c) Any other manner deemed appropriate by local authorities to accomplish the objectives of reasonable notice to adjacent landowners and the public.

The notices shall include a statement that any person desiring to submit written comments concerning an application, or desiring to receive ((a copy of)) notification of the final decision concerning an application as expeditiously as possible after the issuance of the decision, may submit the comments or requests for ((a copy of)) decisions to the local government within thirty days of the last date the notice is to be published pursuant to ((subsection (a))) this subsection. The local government shall forward, in a timely manner following the issuance of ((a decision, a copy of (the))) decision to each person who submits a request for the ((decision)).

If a hearing is to be held on an application, notices of such a hearing shall include a statement that any person may submit oral or written comments on an application at the hearing.

(5) The system shall include provisions to assure that construction pursuant to a permit will not begin or be authorized until ((thirty)) twenty-one days from the date the ((final decision)) permit decision was filed as provided in subsection (6) of this section; or until all review proceedings are terminated if the proceedings were initiated within ((thirty)) twenty-one days from the date of filing as defined in subsection (6) of this section except as follows:

(a) In the case of any permit issued to the state of Washington, department of transportation, for the construction and modification of SR 90 (I-90) on or adjacent to Lake Washington, the construction may begin after thirty days from the date of filing, and the permits are valid until December 31, 1995;

(b) Construction may be commenced no sooner than thirty days after the date of the appeal of the board's decision is filed if a permit is granted by the local government and (i) the granting of the permit is appealed to the shorelines hearings board within ((thirty)) twenty-one days of the date of filing, (ii) the hearings board approves the granting of the permit by the local government or approves a portion of the substantial development for which the local government issued the permit, and (iii) an appeal for judicial review of the hearings board decision is filed pursuant to chapter 34.05 RCW(() the permittee)). The appellant may request, within ten days of the filing of the appeal with the court, a hearing before the court to determine whether construction ((may begin)) pursuant to the permit approved by the hearings board or to a revised permit issued pursuant to the order of the hearings board should not commence. If, at the conclusion of the hearing, the court finds that construction pursuant to such a permit would ((not)) involve a significant, irreversible damaging of the environment, the court ((may allow)) shall prohibit the permittee ((to begin)) from commencing the construction pursuant to the approved or revised permit ((as the court deems appropriate. The court may require the permittee to post bonds, in the name of the local government that issued the permit, sufficient to remove the substantial development or to restore the environment if the permit is ultimately disapproved by the courts, or to alter the substantial development if the alteration is ultimately ordered by the court)) until all review proceedings are final. Construction pursuant to a permit revised at the direction of the hearings board may begin only on that portion of the substantial development for which the local government had originally issued the permit, and construction pursuant to such a revised permit on other portions of the substantial development may not begin until after all review proceedings are terminated. In such a hearing before the court, the burden of proving whether the construction may involve significant irreversible damage to the environment and demonstrating whether such construction would or would not be appropriate is on the appellant;

(c) ((If a permit is granted by the local government and the granting of the permit is appealed directly to the superior court for judicial review pursuant to the provisions of RCW 90.58.180(1), the permittee may request the court to remand the appeal to the shorelines hearings board, in which case the permit shall be continued and the construction pursuant to such a permit shall be governed by the provisions of subsection (b) of this subsection or may otherwise begin after review proceedings before the hearings board are terminated if judicial review is not thereafter requested pursuant to chapter 34.05 RCW.))

(12) If the permit is for a substantial development meeting the requirements of subsection ((11)) (11) of this section, construction pursuant to that permit may not begin or be authorized until ((thirty)) twenty-one days from the date the final order of this section is transmitted by the department to the local government.

If a permittee begins construction pursuant to subsections (a), (b), or (c)(a)(d)) of this subsection, the construction is begun at the permittee's own risk. If, as a result of judicial review, the courts order the removal of any portion of the construction or the restoration of any portion of the environment involved or require the alteration of any portion of a substantial development constructed pursuant to a permit, the permittee is barred from recovering damages or costs involved in adhering to such requirements from the local government that granted the permit, the hearings board, or any appellant or intervenor.

(6) Any ((null)) decision on an application for a permit under the authority of this section, whether it is an approval or a denial, shall, concurrently with the transmittal of the ruling to the applicant, be filed with the department and the attorney general. With regard to a permit other than a permit governed by subsection ((12)) (10) of this section, "date of filing" as used herein means the date of actual receipt by the department. With regard to a permit for a variance or a conditional use, "date of filing" means the date a decision of the department rendered on the permit pursuant to subsection ((12)) (10) of this section is transmitted by the department to the local government. The department shall notify in writing the local government and the applicant of the date of filing.

(7) Applicants for permits under this section have the burden of proving that a proposed substantial development is consistent with the criteria that must be met before a permit is granted. In any review of the granting or denial of an application for a permit as provided in RCW 90.58.180 (1) and (2), the person requesting the review has the burden of proof.

(8) Any permit may, after a hearing with adequate notice to the permittee and the public, be rescinded by the issuing authority upon the finding that a permittee has not complied with conditions of a permit. If the department is of the opinion that noncompliance exists, the department shall provide written notice to the local government and the permittee. If the department is of the opinion that the noncompliance continues to exist thirty days after the date of the notice, and the local government has taken no action to rescind the permit, the department may petition the hearings board for a rescission of the permit upon written notice of the petition to the local government and the permittee if the request by the department is made to the hearings board within fifteen days of the termination of the thirty-day notice to the local government.

(9) The holder of a certification from the governor pursuant to chapter 80.50 RCW shall not be required to obtain a permit under this section.

(10) (A permit shall not be required for any development on shorelines of the state included within a preliminary or final plat approved by the applicable state agency or local government before April 1, 1971, if:

(a) The final plat was approved after April 13, 1961, or the preliminary plat was approved after April 30, 1960, and
(b) The development is completed within two years after June 1, 1971.

(11) The applicable state agency or local government is authorized to approve a final plat with respect to shorelines of the state included within a preliminary plat approved after April 30, 1969, and before April 1, 1971. PROVIDED, That any substantial development within the platted shorelines of the state is authorized by a permit granted pursuant to this section, or does not require a permit as provided in subsection (10) of this section, or does not require a permit because of substantial development occurred before June 1, 1971.

(12) Any permit for a variance or a conditional use by local government under approved master programs must be submitted to the department for its approval or disapproval.

((443)) (1) (a) An application for a substantial development permit for a limited utility extension or for the construction of a bulkhead or other measures to protect a single family residence and its appurtenant structures from shoreline erosion shall be subject to the following procedures:

(i) The public comment period under subsection (4) of this section shall be twenty days. The notice provided under subsection (4) of this section shall state the manner in which the public may obtain a copy of the local government decision on the application no later than two days following its issuance;

(ii) The local government shall issue its decision to grant or deny the permit within twenty-one days of the last day of the comment period specified in (i) of this subsection; and

(iii) If there is an appeal of the decision to grant or deny the permit to the local government legislative authority, the appeal shall be finally determined by the legislative authority within thirty days.

(b) For purposes of this section, a limited utility extension means the extension of a utility service that:

(ii) Will serve an existing use in compliance with this chapter; and

(iii) Will not extend more than twenty-five hundred linear feet within the shorelines of the state.

Sec. 310. RCW 90.58.180 and 1994 c 253 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Any person aggrieved by the granting, denying, or rescinding of a permit on shorelines of the state pursuant to RCW 90.58.140 may seek review from the shorelines hearings board by filing a ((request for the same)) petition for review within ((thirty)) twenty-one days of the date of filing as defined in RCW 90.58.140(6).

((Concurrently with)) Within seven days of the filing of any ((request)) petition for review with the board as provided in this section pertaining to a final ((order)) decision of a local government, the ((requester)) petitioner shall ((file a copy)) serve copies of ((his or her request with)) the petition on the department and the office of the attorney general. ((If it appears to the department or the attorney general that the requestor has valid reasons to seek review, either the department or the attorney general may certify the request within thirty days after its receipt to the shorelines hearings board following which the board shall then, but not otherwise, review the matter covered by the requestor. The failure to obtain such certification shall not preclude the requestor from obtaining a review in the superior court under any right to review otherwise available to the requestor.)) The department and the attorney general may intervene to protect the public interest and insure that the provisions of this chapter are complied with at any time within fifteen days from the date of the receipt by the department or the attorney general of a copy of the ((request)) petition for review filed pursuant to this section. The shorelines hearings board shall ((initially)) schedule review proceedings on ((such requests)) the petition for review without regard as to whether ((such requests have or have not been certified or as to whether)) the period for the department or the attorney general to intervene has or has not expired ((unless such review is to begin within thirty days of such scheduling. If at the end of the thirty-day period for certification neither the department nor the attorney general has certified a request for review, the hearings board shall remove the request from its review schedule)).

(2) The department or the attorney general may obtain review of any final ((order)) decision granting a permit, or granting or denying an application for a permit issued by a local government by filing a written ((request)) petition with the shorelines hearings board and the appropriate local government within ((thirty)) twenty-one days from the date the final ((order)) decision was filed as provided in RCW 90.58.140(6).

(3) The review proceedings authorized in subsections (1) and (2) of this section are subject to the provisions of chapter 34.05 RCW pertaining to procedures in adjudicative proceedings. Judicial review of such proceedings of the shorelines hearings board is governed by chapter 34.05 RCW. The board shall issue its decision on the appeal authorized under subsections (1) and (2) of this section within one hundred eighty days after the date the petition is filed with the board or a petition to intervene is filed by the department or the attorney general, whichever is later. The time period may be extended by the board for a period of thirty days upon a showing of good cause or may be waived by the parties.

(4) ((A local government may appeal to the shorelines hearings board)) Any person may appeal any rules, regulations, or guidelines adopted or approved by the department within thirty days of the date of the adoption or approval. The board shall make a final decision within sixty days following the hearing thereon.

((If the board)) (5) The board shall find the rule, regulation, or guideline to be valid and enter a final decision to that effect unless it determines that the rule, regulation, or guideline:

(a) Is clearly erroneous in light of the policy of this chapter; or
(b) Constitutes an implementation of this chapter in violation of constitutional or statutory provisions; or
(c) Is arbitrary and capricious; or
(d) Was developed without fully considering and evaluating all material submitted to the department (by the local government) during public review and comment; or
(e) Was not adopted in accordance with required procedures((a)),
(6) If the board makes a determination under subsection (5) (a) through (e) of this section, it shall enter a final decision declaring the rule, regulation, or guideline invalid, remanding the rule, regulation, or guideline to the department with a statement of the reasons in support of the determination, and directing the department to adopt, after a thorough consultation with the affected local government and any other interested party, a new rule, regulation, or guideline consistent with the board's decision. ((Unless the board makes one or more of the determinations as hereinbefore provided, the board shall find the rule, regulation, or guideline to be valid and enter a final decision to that effect. (Rules, regulations, and guidelines)) (7) A decision of the board on the validity of a rule, regulation, or guideline shall be subject to review in superior court, if authorized pursuant to ((RCW 34.05.570(2)). No review shall be granted by a superior court on petition from a local government unless the local government shall first have obtained review under subsection (4) of this section and the petition for court review is) chapter 34.05 RCW. A petition for review of the decision of the shorelines hearings board on a rule, regulation, or guideline shall be filed within ((three months)) thirty days after the date of final decision by the shorelines hearings board.

Sec. 311. RCW 90.58.190 and 1989 c 175 s 184 are each amended to read as follows:
(1) ((The department and each local government shall periodically review any master programs under its jurisdiction and make such adjustments thereto as are necessary. Any adjustments proposed by a local government to its master program shall be forwarded to the department for review. The department shall approve, reject, or modify the master program adjustment, as appropriate.) The appeal of the department's decision to adopt a master program or amendment pursuant to RCW 90.58.070(2) or 90.58.090(4) is governed by RCW 34.05.510 through 34.05.598.
(2)(a) The department's decision to approve, reject, or modify a proposed master program or amendment adopted by a local government planning under RCW 36.70A.040 shall be appealed to the growth management hearings board with jurisdiction over the local government. (b) If the appeal to the growth management hearings board concerns shorelines, the growth management hearings board shall review the proposed master program or amendment for compliance with the requirements of this chapter and chapter 36.70A RCW, the policy of RCW 90.58.020 and the applicable guidelines, and chapter 43.21C RCW as it relates to the adoption of master programs and amendments under chapter 90.58 RCW.
(c) If the appeal to the growth management hearings board concerns a shoreline of state-wide significance, the board shall uphold the decision by the department unless the board, by clear and convincing evidence, determines that the decision of the department is inconsistent with the policy of RCW 90.58.020 and the applicable guidelines.
(d) The appellant has the burden of proof in all appeals to the growth management hearings board under this subsection.
(e) Any party aggrieved by a final decision of a growth management hearings board under this subsection may appeal the decision to superior court as provided in RCW 36.70A.300.

(Any local government aggrieved by)) (3)(a) The department's decision to approve, reject, or modify a proposed master program or master program ((adjustment may appeal the department's decision)) amendment by a local government not planning under RCW 36.70A.040 shall be appealed to the shorelines hearings board by filing a petition within thirty days of the date of the departments written notice to the local government of the department's decision to approve, reject, or modify a proposed master program or master program amendment as provided in RCW 90.58.090(2).
(b) In an appeal relating to shorelines, the shorelines hearings board shall review the proposed master program or master program ((adjustment)) amendment and, after full consideration of the presentations of the local government and the department, shall determine the validity of the local government's ((adjustment)) master program or amendment in light of the policy of RCW 90.58.020 and the applicable guidelines.
(c) In an appeal relating to shorelines of state-wide significance, the shorelines hearings board shall uphold the decision by the department unless ((the local government shall)) the board determines, by clear and convincing evidence ((and argument, persuade the board)) that the decision of the department is inconsistent with the policy of RCW 90.58.020 and the applicable guidelines.

(e) Whenever possible, the review by the shorelines hearings board shall be heard within the county where the land subject to the proposed master program or master program ((adjustment)) amendment is primarily located. The department and any local government aggrieved by a final decision of the hearings board may appeal the decision to ((the)) superior court ((of Thurston county)) as provided in chapter 34.05 RCW.
A master program amendment shall become effective after the approval of the department or after the decision of the shorelines hearings board to uphold the master program or master program amendment, provided that the board may remand the master program or master program adjustment to the local government or the department for modification prior to the final adoption of the master program or master program amendment.

Sec. 312. RCW 34.05.461 and 1989 c 175 s 19 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section:
   (a) If the presiding officer is the agency head or one or more members of the agency head, the presiding officer may enter an initial order if further review is available within the agency, or a final order if further review is not available;
   (b) If the presiding officer is a person designated by the agency to make the final decision and enter the final order, the presiding officer shall enter a final order; and
   (c) If the presiding officer is one or more administrative law judges, the presiding officer shall enter an initial order.

(2) With respect to agencies exempt from chapter 34.12 RCW or an institution of higher education, the presiding officer shall transmit a full and complete record of the proceedings, including such comments upon demeanor of witnesses as the presiding officer deems relevant, to each agency official who is to enter a final or initial order after considering the record and evidence so transmitted.

(3) Initial and final orders shall include a statement of findings and conclusions, and the reasons and basis therefor, on all the material issues of fact, law, or discretion presented on the record, including the remedy or sanction and, if applicable, the action taken on a petition for a stay of effectiveness. Any findings based substantially on credibility of evidence or demeanor of witnesses shall be so identified. Findings set forth in language that is essentially a repetition or paraphrase of the relevant provision of law shall be accompanied by a concise and explicit statement of the underlying evidence of record to support the findings. The order shall also include a statement of the available procedures and time limits for seeking reconsideration or other administrative relief. An initial order shall include a statement of any circumstances under which the initial order, without further notice, may become a final order.

(4) Findings of fact shall be based exclusively on the evidence of record in the adjudicative proceeding and on matters officially noticed in that proceeding. Findings shall be based on the kind of evidence on which reasonably prudent persons are accustomed to rely in the conduct of their affairs. Findings may be based on such evidence even if it would be inadmissible in a civil trial. However, the presiding officer shall not base a finding exclusively on such inadmissible evidence unless the presiding officer determines that doing so would not unduly abridge the parties' opportunities to confront witnesses and rebut evidence. The basis for this determination shall appear in the order.

(5) Where it bears on the issues presented, the agency's experience, technical competency, and specialized knowledge may be used in the evaluation of evidence.

(6) If a person serving or designated to serve as presiding officer becomes unavailable for any reason before entry of the order, a substitute presiding officer shall be appointed as provided in RCW 34.05.425. The substitute presiding officer shall use any existing record and may conduct any further proceedings appropriate in the interests of justice.

(7) The presiding officer may allow the parties a designated time after conclusion of the hearing for the submission of memos, briefs, or proposed findings.

(8)(a) Except as otherwise provided in (b) of this subsection, initial or final orders shall be served in writing within ninety days after conclusion of the hearing or after submission of memos, briefs, or proposed findings in accordance with subsection (7) of this section unless this period is waived or extended for good cause shown.

(b) This subsection does not apply to the final order of the shorelines hearings board on appeal under RCW 90.58.180(3).

(9) The presiding officer shall cause copies of the order to be served on each party and the agency.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 313. RCW 90.58.145 and 1979 ex.s. c 84 s 4 are each repealed.

PART IV - LOCAL PERMIT PROCESS

NEW SECTION. Sec. 401. The legislature finds and declares the following:

(1) As the number of environmental laws and development regulations has increased for land uses and development, so has the number of required local land use permits, each with its own separate approval process.

(2) The increasing number of local and state land use permits and separate environmental review processes required by agencies has generated continuing potential for conflict, overlap, and duplication between the various permit and review processes.

(3) This regulatory burden has significantly added to the cost and time needed to obtain local and state land use permits and has made it difficult for the public to know how and when to provide timely comments on land use proposals that require multiple permits and have separate environmental review processes.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 402. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Closed record appeal" means an administrative appeal on the record to a local government body or officer, including the legislative body, following an open record hearing on a project permit application when the appeal is on the record with no or limited new evidence or information allowed to be submitted and only appeal argument allowed.
(2) "Local government" means a county, city, or town.
(3) "Open record hearing" means a hearing, conducted by a single hearing body or officer authorized by the local government to conduct such hearings, that creates the local government's record through testimony and submission of evidence and information, under procedures prescribed by the local government by ordinance or resolution. An open record hearing may be held prior to a local government's decision on a project permit to be known as an "open record predecision hearing." An open record hearing may be held on an appeal, to be known as an "open record appeal hearing," if no open record predecision hearing has been held on the project permit.

(4) "Project permit" or "project permit application" means any land use or environmental permit or license required from a local government for a project action, including but not limited to building permits, subdivisions, binding site plans, planned unit developments, conditional uses, shoreline substantial development permits, site plan review, permits or approvals required by critical area ordinances, site-specific rezones authorized by a comprehensive plan or subarea plan, but excluding the adoption or amendment of a comprehensive plan, subarea plan, or development regulations except as otherwise specifically included in this subsection.

(5) "Public meeting" means an informal meeting, hearing, workshop, or other public gathering of people to obtain comments from the public or other agencies on a proposed project permit prior to the local government's decision. A public meeting may include, but is not limited to, a design review or architectural control board meeting, a special review district or community council meeting, or a scoping meeting on a draft environmental impact statement. A public meeting does not include an open record hearing. The proceedings at a public meeting may be recorded and a report or recommendation may be included in the local governments project permit application file.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 403. In enacting sections 404 and 405 of this act, the legislature intends to establish a mechanism for implementing the provisions of chapter 36.70A RCW regarding compliance, conformity, and consistency of proposed projects with adopted comprehensive plans and development regulations. In order to achieve this purpose the legislature finds that:

(1) Given the extensive investment that public agencies and a broad spectrum of the public are making and will continue to make in comprehensive plans and development regulations for their communities, it is essential that project review start from the fundamental land use planning choices made in these plans and regulations. If the applicable regulations or plans identify the type of land use, specify residential density in urban growth areas, and identify and provide for funding of public facilities needed to serve the proposed development and site, these decisions at a minimum provide the foundation for further project review unless there is a question of code interpretation. The project review process, including the environmental review process under chapter 43.21C RCW and the consideration of consistency, should start from this point and should not reanalyze these land use planning decisions in making a permit decision.

(2) Comprehensive plans and development regulations adopted by local governments under chapter 36.70A RCW and environmental laws and rules adopted by the state and federal government have addressed a wide range of environmental subjects and impacts. These provisions typically require environmental studies and contain specific standards to address various impacts associated with a proposed development, such as building size and location, drainage, transportation requirements, and protection of critical areas. When a permitting agency applies these existing requirements to a proposed project, some or all of a project's potential environmental impacts will be avoided or otherwise mitigated. Through the integrated project review process described in subsection (1) of this section, the local government will determine whether existing requirements, including the applicable regulations or plans, adequately analyze and address a project's environmental impacts. Section 202 of this act provides that project review should not require additional studies or mitigation under chapter 43.21C RCW where existing regulations have adequately addressed a proposed project's probable specific adverse environmental impacts.

(3) Given the hundreds of jurisdictions and agencies in the state and the numerous communities and applicants affected by development regulations and comprehensive plans adopted under chapter 36.70A RCW, it is essential to establish a uniform framework for considering the consistency of a proposed project with the applicable regulations or plan. Consistency should be determined in the project review process by considering four factors found in applicable regulations or plans: The type of land use allowed; the level of development allowed, such as units per acre or other measures of density; infrastructure, such as the adequacy of public facilities and services to serve the proposed project; and the character of the proposed development, such as compliance with specific development standards. This uniform approach corresponds to existing project review practices and will not place a burden on applicants or local government. The legislature intends that this approach should be largely a matter of checking compliance with existing requirements for most projects, which are simple or routine, while more complex projects may require more analysis. Sections 202 and 404 of this act establish this uniform framework and also direct state agencies to consult with local government and the public to develop a better format than the current environmental checklist to meet this objective.

(4) When an applicant applies for a project permit, consistency between the proposed project and applicable regulations or plan should be determined through a project review process that integrates land use and environmental impact analysis, so that governmental and public review of the proposed project as required by this chapter, by development regulations under chapter 36.70A RCW, and by the environmental process under chapter 43.21C RCW run concurrently and not separately.

(5) Sections 404 and 405 of this act address three related needs with respect to how the project review process should address consistency between a proposed project and the applicable regulations or plan:

(a) A uniform framework for the meaning of consistency;
NEW SECTION. Sec. 404. (1) Fundamental land use planning choices made in adopted comprehensive plans and development regulations shall serve as the foundation for project review. The review of a proposed project's consistency with applicable development regulations, or in the absence of applicable regulations the adopted comprehensive plan, under section 405 of this act shall incorporate the determinations under this section.

(2) During project review, a local government or any subsequent reviewing body shall determine whether the items listed in this subsection are defined in the development regulations applicable to the proposed project or, in the absence of applicable regulations the adopted comprehensive plan. At a minimum, such applicable regulations or plans shall be determinative of the:

(a) Type of land use permitted at the site, including uses that may be allowed under certain circumstances, such as planned unit developments and conditional and special uses, if the criteria for their approval have been satisfied;

(b) Density of residential development in urban growth areas; and

(c) Availability and adequacy of public facilities identified in the comprehensive plan, if the plan or development regulations provide for funding of these facilities as required by chapter 36.70A RCW.

(3) During project review, the local government or any subsequent reviewing body shall not reexamine alternatives to or hear appeals on the items identified in subsection (2) of this section, except for issues of code interpretation. As part of its project review process, a local government shall provide a procedure for obtaining a code interpretation as provided in section 415 of this act.

(4) Pursuant to section 202 of this act, a local government may determine that the requirements for environmental analysis and mitigation measures in development regulations and other applicable laws provide adequate mitigation for some or all of the project's specific adverse environmental impacts to which the requirements apply.

(5) Nothing in this section limits the authority of a permitting agency to approve, condition, or deny a project as provided in its development regulations adopted under chapter 36.70A RCW and in its policies adopted under RCW 43.21C.060. Project review shall be used to identify specific project design and conditions relating to the character of development, such as the details of site plans, curb cuts, drainage swales, transportation demand management, the payment of impact fees, or other measures to mitigate a proposal's probable adverse environmental impacts, if applicable.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 405. (1) A proposed project's consistency with a local government's development regulations adopted under chapter 36.70A RCW, or, in the absence of applicable development regulations, the appropriate elements of the comprehensive plan or subarea plan adopted under chapter 36.70A RCW shall be determined by consideration of:

(a) The type of land use;

(b) The level of development, such as units per acre or other measures of density;

(c) Infrastructure, including public facilities and services needed to serve the development; and

(d) The character of the development, such as development standards.

(2) In determining consistency, the determinations made pursuant to section 404(2) of this act shall be controlling.

(3) For purposes of this section, the term "consistency" shall include all terms used in this chapter and chapter 36.70A RCW to refer to the performance in accordance with this chapter and chapter 36.70A RCW, including but not limited to compliance, conformity, and consistency.

(4) Nothing in this section requires documentation, dictates an agency's procedures for considering consistency, or limits a unit of government from asking more specific or related questions with respect to any of the four main categories listed in subsection (1) (a) through (d) of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 406. Not later than March 31, 1996, each local government shall provide by ordinance or resolution for review of project permit applications to achieve the following objectives:

(1) Combine the environmental review process, both procedural and substantive, with the procedure for review of project permits; and

(2) Except as provided in RCW 43.21C.075(3), provide for no more than one open record hearing and one closed record appeal.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 407. Not later than March 31, 1996, each local government planning under RCW 36.70A.040 shall establish by ordinance or resolution an integrated and consolidated project permit process that may be included in its development regulations. In addition to the elements required by section 406 of this act, the process shall include the following elements:

(1) A determination of completeness to the applicant as required by RCW 36.70A.440 (as recodified by this act);

(2) A notice of application to the public and agencies with jurisdiction as required by section 415 of this act;

(3) Except as provided in section 418 of this act, an optional consolidated project permit review process as provided in section 416 of this act. The review process shall provide for no more than one consolidated open record hearing and one closed record appeal. If an open record predecision hearing is provided prior to the decision on a project permit, the process shall not allow a subsequent open record appeal hearing;
(4) Provision allowing for any public meeting or required open record hearing to be combined with any public meeting or open record hearing that may be held on the project by another local, state, regional, federal, or other agency, in accordance with provisions of sections 413 and 415 of this act.

(5) A single report stating all the decisions made as of the date of the report on all project permits included in the consolidated permit process that do not require an open record predecision hearing. The report shall state any mitigation required or proposed under the development regulations or the agency's authority under RCW 43.21C.060. The report may be the local permit. If a threshold determination other than a determination of significance has not been issued previously by the local government, the report shall include or append this determination.

(6) Except for the appeal of a determination of significance as provided in RCW 43.21C.075, if a local government elects to provide an appeal of its threshold determinations or project permit decisions, the local government shall provide for no more than one consolidated open record hearing on such appeal. The local government need not provide for any further appeal and may provide an appeal for some but not all project permit decisions. If an appeal is provided after the open record hearing, it shall be a closed record appeal before a single decision-making body or officer.

(7) A notice of decision as required by section 417 of this act and issued within the time period provided in RCW 36.70A.065 (as recodified by this act) and section 413 of this act;

(8) Completion of project review by the local government, including environmental review and public review and any appeals to the local government, within any applicable time periods under section 413 of this act; and

(9) Any other provisions not inconsistent with the requirements of this chapter or chapter 43.21C RCW.

Sec. 408. RCW 36.70A.440 and 1994 c 257 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

(Each city and county) (1) Within twenty-eight days after receiving a project permit application, a local government planning pursuant to RCW 36.70A.040 shall mail or provide in person a written ((notice)) determination to the applicant, stating either:

(a) That the application is complete; or
(b) That the application is incomplete and what is necessary to make the application complete.

To the extent known by the ((city or county)) local government, the ((notice)) local government shall identify other agencies of local, state, or federal governments that may have jurisdiction over some aspect of the application.

(2) A project permit application is complete for purposes of this section when the procedural submission requirements of the local government and is sufficient for continued processing even though additional information may be required or project modifications may be undertaken subsequently. The determination of completeness shall not preclude the local government from requesting additional information or studies either at the time of the notice of completeness or subsequently if new information is required or substantial changes in the proposed action occur.

(3) The determination of completeness may include the following as optional information:

(a) A preliminary determination of those development regulations that will be used for project mitigation;
(b) A preliminary determination of consistency, as provided under section 405 of this act; or
(c) Other information the local government chooses to include.

(4) (a) An application shall be deemed complete under this section if the local government does not provide a written determination to the applicant that the application is incomplete as provided in subsection (1)(b) of this section.

(b) Within fourteen days after an applicant has submitted to a local government additional information identified by the local government as being necessary for a complete application, the local government shall notify the applicant whether the application is complete or what additional information is necessary.

Sec. 409. RCW 36.70A.065 and 1994 c 257 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

Development regulations adopted pursuant to RCW 36.70A.040 shall establish time periods consistent with section 413 of this act for local government actions on specific ((development)) project permit applications and provide timely and predictable procedures to determine whether a completed ((development)) project permit application meets the requirements of those development regulations. Such development regulations shall specify the contents of a completed ((development)) project permit application necessary for the application of such time periods and procedures.

Sec. 410. RCW 36.70A.065 and 1994 c 257 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

Development regulations adopted pursuant to RCW 36.70A.040 shall establish time periods for local government actions on specific ((development)) project permit applications and provide timely and predictable procedures to determine whether a completed ((development)) project permit application meets the requirements of those development regulations. Such development regulations shall specify the contents of a completed ((development)) project permit application necessary for the application of such time periods and procedures.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 411. The amendments to RCW 36.70A.065 contained in section 409 of this act shall expire July 1, 1998.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 412. Section 410 of this act shall take effect July 1, 1998.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 413. (1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (2) of this section, a local government planning under RCW 36.70A.040 shall issue its notice of final decision on a project permit application within one hundred twenty days after the local government notifies the applicant that the application is complete, as provided in RCW 36.70A.440 (as recodified by this act). In determining the number of days that have elapsed after the local government has notified the applicant that the application is complete, the following periods shall be excluded:

(a)(i) Any period during which the applicant has been requested by the local government to correct plans, perform required studies, or provide additional required information. The period shall be calculated from the date the local government notifies the applicant of the need for additional information until the earlier of the date the local government determines whether the additional information satisfies the request for information or fourteen days after the date the information has been provided to the local government.

(ii) If the local government determines that the information submitted by the applicant under (a)(i) of this subsection is insufficient, it shall notify the applicant of the deficiencies and the procedures under (a)(i) of this subsection shall apply as if a new request for studies had been made;

(b) Any period during which an environmental impact statement is being prepared following a determination of significance pursuant to chapter 43.21C RCW, if the local government by ordinance or resolution has established time periods for completion of environmental impact statements, or if the local government and the applicant in writing agree to a time period for completion of an environmental impact statement;

(c) Any period for administrative appeals of project permits, if an open record appeal hearing or a closed record appeal, or both, are allowed. The local government by ordinance or resolution shall establish a time period to consider and decide such appeals. The time period shall not exceed: (i) Ninety days for an open record appeal hearing; and (ii) sixty days for a closed record appeal. The parties to an appeal may agree to extend these time periods; and

(d) Any extension of time mutually agreed upon by the applicant and the local government.

(2) The time limits established by subsection (1) of this section do not apply if a project permit application:

(a) Requires an amendment to the comprehensive plan or a development regulation;

(b) Requires approval of a new fully contained community as provided in RCW 36.70A.350, a master planned resort as provided in RCW 36.70A.360, or the siting of an essential public facility as provided in RCW 36.70A.200; or

(c) Requires substantial revisions to the project proposal, in which case the time period shall start from the date at which the revised project application is determined to be complete under RCW 36.70A.440 (as recodified by this act).

(3) If the local government is unable to issue its final decision within the time limits provided for in this section, it shall provide written notice of this fact to the project applicant. The notice shall include a statement of reasons why the time limits have not been met and an estimated date for issuance of the notice of final decision.

(4) This section shall apply to project permit applications filed on or after April 1, 1996.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 414. A local government may require the applicant for a project permit to designate a single person or entity to receive determinations and notices required by this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 415. (1) Not later than April 1, 1996, a local government planning under RCW 36.70A.040 shall provide a notice of application to the public and the departments and agencies with jurisdiction as provided in this section. If a local government has made a determination of significance under chapter 43.21C RCW concurrently with the notice of application, the notice of application shall be combined with the determination of significance and scoping notice. Nothing in this section prevents a determination of significance and scoping notice from being issued prior to the notice of application.

(2) The notice of application shall be provided within fourteen days after the determination of completeness as provided in RCW 36.70A.440 (as recodified by this act) and include the following in whatever sequence or format the local government deems appropriate:

(a) The date of application, the date of the notice of completion for the application, and the date of the notice of application;

(b) A description of the proposed project action and a list of the project permits included in the application and, if applicable, a list of any studies requested under RCW 36.70A.440 (as recodified by this act) or section 413 of this act;

(c) The identification of other permits not included in the application to the extent known by the local government;

(d) The identification of existing environmental documents that evaluate the proposed project, and, if not otherwise stated on the document providing the notice of application, such as a city land use bulletin, the location where the application and any studies can be reviewed;

(e) A statement of public comment period, which shall be not less than fourteen nor more than thirty days following the date of notice of application, and statements of the right of any person to comment on the application, receive notice of and participate in any hearings, request a copy of the decision once made, and any appeal rights. A local government may accept public comments at any time prior to the closing of the record of an open record predecision hearing, if any, or, if no open record predecision hearing is provided, prior to the decision on the project permit;

(f) The date, time, place, and type of hearing, if applicable and scheduled at the date of notice of the application;

(g) A statement of the preliminary determination, if one has been made at the time of notice, of those development regulations that will be used for project mitigation and of consistency as provided in section 405 of this act; and

(h) Any other information determined appropriate by the local government.

(3) If an open record predecision hearing is required for the requested project permits, the notice of application shall be provided at least fifteen days prior to the open record hearing.
(4) A local government shall use reasonable methods to give the notice of application to the public and agencies with jurisdiction and may use its existing notice procedures. A local government may use different types of notice for different categories of project permits or types of project actions. If a local government by resolution or ordinance does not specify its method of public notice, the local government shall use the methods provided for in (a) and (b) of this subsection. Examples of reasonable methods to inform the public are:

(a) Posting the property for site-specific proposals;
(b) Publishing notice, including at least the project location, description, type of permit(s) required, comment period dates, and location where the complete application may be reviewed, in the newspaper of general circulation in the general area where the proposal is located or in a local land use newsletter published by the local government;
(c) Notifying public or private groups with known interest in a certain proposal or in the type of proposal being considered;
(d) Notifying the news media;
(e) Placing notices in appropriate regional or neighborhood newspapers or trade journals;
(f) Publishing notice in agency newsletters or sending notice to agency mailing lists, either general lists or lists for specific proposals or subject areas; and
(g) Mailing to neighboring property owners.

(5) A notice of application shall not be required for project permits that are categorically exempt under chapter 43.21C RCW, unless a public comment period or an open record predecision hearing is required.

(6) A local government shall integrate the consolidated permit process procedures in this section with environmental review under chapter 43.21C RCW as follows:
(a) The local government may not issue its threshold determination, or issue a decision or a recommendation on a project permit until the expiration of the public comment period on the notice of application.
(b) If an open record predecision hearing is required and the local government's threshold determination requires public notice under chapter 43.21C RCW, the local government shall issue its threshold determination at least fifteen days prior to the open record predecision hearing.

(c) Comments shall be as specific as possible.

(7) A local government may combine any hearing on a project permit with any hearing that may be held by another local, state, regional, federal, or other agency provided that the hearing is held within the geographic boundary of the local government. Hearings shall be combined if requested by an applicant, as long as the joint hearing can be held within the time periods specified in section 413 of this act or the applicant agrees to the schedule in the event that additional time is needed in order to combine the hearings. All agencies of the state of Washington, including municipal corporations and counties participating in a combined hearing, are hereby authorized to issue joint hearing notices and develop a joint format, select a mutually acceptable hearing body or officer, and take such other actions as may be necessary to hold joint hearings consistent with each of their respective statutory obligations.

(8) All state and local agencies shall cooperate to the fullest extent possible with the local government in holding a joint hearing if requested to do so, as long as:
(a) The agency is not expressly prohibited by statute from doing so;
(b) Sufficient notice of the hearing is given to meet each of the agencies' adopted notice requirements as set forth in statute, ordinance, or rule; and
(c) The agency has received the necessary information about the proposed project from the applicant to hold its hearing at the same time as the local government hearing.

(9) A local government is not required to provide for administrative appeals. If provided, an administrative appeal of the project decision, combined with any environmental determinations, shall be filed within fourteen days after the notice of the decision or after other notice that the decision has been made and is appealable. The local government shall extend the appeal period for an additional seven days, if state or local rules adopted pursuant to chapter 43.21C RCW allow public comment on a determination of nonsignificance issued as part of the appealable project permit decision.

(10) The applicant for a project permit is deemed to be a participant in any comment period, open record hearing, or closed record appeal.

(11) Each local government planning under RCW 36.70A.040 shall adopt procedures for administrative interpretation of its development regulations.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 416. (1) Each local government planning under RCW 36.70A.040 shall establish a permit review process that provides for the integrated and consolidated review and decision on two or more project permits relating to a proposed project action, including a single application review and approval process covering all project permits requested by an applicant for all or part of a project action and a designated permit coordinator. If an applicant elects the consolidated permit review process, the determination of completeness, notice of application, and notice of final decision must include all project permits being reviewed through the consolidated permit review process.

(2) Consolidated permit review may provide different procedures for different categories of project permits, but if a project action requires project permits from more than one category, the local government shall provide for consolidated permit review with a single open record hearing and no more than one closed record appeal as provided in section 407 of this act. Each local government shall determine which project permits are subject to an open record hearing and a closed record appeal. Examples of categories of project permits include but are not limited to:

(a) Proposals that are categorically exempt from chapter 43.21C RCW, such as construction permits, that do not require environmental review or public notice;
(b) Permits that require environmental review, but no open record predecision hearing; and
(c) Permits that require a threshold determination and an open record predecision hearing and may provide for a closed record appeal to a hearing body or officer or to the local government legislative body.

3. A local government may provide by ordinance or resolution for the same or a different decision maker or hearing body or officer for different categories of project permits. In the case of consolidated project permit review, the local government shall specify which decision makers shall make the decision or recommendation, conduct the hearing, or decide the appeal to ensure that consolidated permit review occurs as provided in this section. The consolidated permit review may combine an open record predecision hearing on one or more permits with an open record appeal hearing on other permits. In such cases, the local government by ordinance or resolution shall specify which project permits, if any, shall be subject to a closed record appeal.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 417. A local government planning under RCW 36.70A.040 shall provide a notice of decision that also includes a statement of any threshold determination made under chapter 43.21C RCW and the procedures for administrative appeal, if any. The notice of decision may be a copy of the report or decision on the project permit application. The notice shall be provided to the applicant and to any person who, prior to the rendering of the decision, requested notice of the decision or submitted substantive comments on the application. The notice of decision shall include procedures for administrative appeal, if any. The local government shall provide for notice of its decision as provided in section 415(4) of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 418. (1) A local government by ordinance or resolution may exclude the following project permits from the provisions of RCW 36.70A.440 (as recodified by this act), 36.70A.065 (as recodified by this act), and sections 407, 413, and 415 through 417 of this act: Landmark designations, street vacations, or other approvals relating to the use of public areas or facilities, or other project permits, whether administrative or quasi-judicial, that the local government by ordinance or resolution has determined present special circumstances that warrant a review process different from that provided in RCW 36.70A.440 (as recodified by this act), 36.70A.065 (as recodified by this act), and sections 407, 413, and 415 through 417 of this act.

(2) A local government by ordinance or resolution also may exclude the following project permits from the provisions of sections 407 and 415 through 417 of this act: Lot line or boundary adjustments and building and other construction permits, or similar administrative approvals, categorically exempt from environmental review under chapter 43.21C RCW, or for which environmental review has been completed in connection with other project permits.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 419. A local government not planning under RCW 36.70A.040 may incorporate some or all of the provisions of sections 407, 413, and 415 through 417 of this act and RCW 36.70A.065 and 36.70A.440 (as recodified by this act) into its procedures for review of project permits or other project actions.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 420. (1) Each local government is encouraged to adopt further project review provisions to provide prompt, coordinated review and ensure accountability to applicants and the public, including expedited review for project permit applications for projects that are consistent with adopted development regulations and within the capacity of system-wide infrastructure improvements.

(2) Nothing in this chapter is intended or shall be construed to prevent a local government from requiring a preapplication conference or a public meeting by rule, ordinance, or resolution.

(3) Each local government shall adopt procedures to monitor and enforce permit decisions and conditions.

(4) Nothing in this chapter modifies any independent statutory authority for a government agency to appeal a project permit issued by a local government.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 421. A new section is added to chapter 64.40 RCW to read as follows:
A local government is not liable for damages under this chapter due to the local government's failure to make a final decision within the time limits established in section 413 of this act.

Sec. 422. RCW 43.21C.033 and 1992 c 208 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:
(1) Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section, the responsible official shall make a threshold determination on a completed application within ninety days after the application and supporting documentation are complete. The applicant may request an additional thirty days for the threshold determination. The governmental entity responsible for making the threshold determination shall by rule, resolution, or ordinance adopt standards, consistent with rules adopted by the department to implement this chapter, for determining when an application and supporting documentation are complete.

(2) This section shall not apply to a city, town, or county that:
(a) By ordinance adopted prior to April 1, 1992, has adopted procedures to integrate permit and land use decisions with the requirements of this chapter; or
(b) Is planning under RCW 36.70A.040 and is subject to the requirements of section 413 of this act.
Sec. 423. RCW 35.63.130 and 1994 c 257 s 8 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) As an alternative to those provisions of this chapter relating to powers or duties of the planning commission to hear and report on any proposal to amend a zoning ordinance, the legislative body of a city or county may adopt a hearing examiner system under which a hearing examiner or hearing examiners may hear and decide applications for amending the zoning ordinance when the amendment which is applied for is not of general applicability. In addition, the legislative body may vest in a hearing examiner the power to hear and decide those issues it believes should be reviewed and decided by a hearing examiner, including but not limited to:

(a) Applications for conditional uses, variances, subdivisions, shoreline permits, or any other class of applications for or pertaining to development of land or land use; (b) Appeals of administrative decisions or determinations; and

(b) Appeals of administrative decisions or determinations pursuant to chapter 43.21C RCW.

The legislative body shall prescribe procedures to be followed by the hearing examiner.

(2) Each city or county legislative body electing to use a hearing examiner pursuant to this section shall by ordinance specify the legal effect of the decisions made by the examiner. ([Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section,]) The legal effect of such decisions may vary for the different classes of applications decided by the examiner but shall include one of the following:

(a) The decision may be given the effect of a recommendation to the legislative body;

(b) The decision may be given the effect of an administrative decision appealable within a specified time limit to the legislative body,

(c) Except in the case of a rezone, the decision may be given the effect of a final decision of the legislative body.

(3) Each final decision of a hearing examiner shall be in writing and shall include findings and conclusions, based on the record, to support the decision. Such findings and conclusions shall also set forth the manner in which the decision would carry out and conform to the city's or county's comprehensive plan and the city's or county's development regulations. Each final decision of a hearing examiner, unless a longer period is mutually agreed to in writing by the applicant and the hearing examiner, shall be rendered within ten working days following conclusion of all testimony and hearings.

Sec. 424. RCW 35A.63.170 and 1994 c 257 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) As an alternative to those provisions of this chapter relating to powers or duties of the planning commission to hear and report on any proposal to amend a zoning ordinance, the legislative body of a city may adopt a hearing examiner system under which a hearing examiner or hearing examiners may hear and decide applications for amending the zoning ordinance when the amendment which is applied for is not of general applicability. In addition, the legislative body may vest in a hearing examiner the power to hear and decide those issues it believes should be reviewed and decided by a hearing examiner, including but not limited to:

(a) Applications for conditional uses, variances, subdivisions, shoreline permits, or any other class of applications for or pertaining to development of land or land use; (b) Appeals of administrative decisions or determinations; and

(b) Appeals of administrative decisions or determinations pursuant to chapter 43.21C RCW.

The legislative body shall prescribe procedures to be followed by the hearing examiner. If the legislative authority vests in a hearing examiner the power to hear and decide variances, then the provisions of RCW 35A.63.110 shall not apply to the city.

(2) Each city legislative body electing to use a hearing examiner pursuant to this section shall by ordinance specify the legal effect of the decisions made by the examiner. ([Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section,]) The legal effect of such decisions may vary for the different classes of applications decided by the examiner but shall include one of the following:

(a) The decision may be given the effect of a recommendation to the legislative body;

(b) The decision may be given the effect of an administrative decision appealable within a specified time limit to the legislative body,

(c) Except in the case of a rezone, the decision may be given the effect of a final decision of the legislative body.

(3) Each final decision of a hearing examiner shall be in writing and shall include findings and conclusions, based on the record, to support the decision. Such findings and conclusions shall also set forth the manner in which the decision would carry out and conform to the city's comprehensive plan and the city's development regulations. Each final decision of a hearing examiner, unless a longer period is mutually agreed to in writing by the applicant and the hearing examiner, shall be rendered within ten working days following conclusion of all testimony and hearings.

Sec. 425. RCW 36.70.970 and 1994 c 257 s 9 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) As an alternative to those provisions of this chapter relating to powers or duties of the planning commission to hear and issue recommendations on applications for plat approval and applications for amendments to the zoning ordinance, the county legislative authority may adopt a hearing examiner system under which a hearing examiner or hearing examiners may hear and issue decisions on proposals for plat approval and for amendments to the zoning ordinance when the amendment which is applied for is not of general applicability. In addition, the legislative authority may vest in a hearing examiner the power to hear and decide those issues it believes should be reviewed and decided by a hearing examiner, including but not limited to:

(a) Applications for conditional use(s) (applications), variances ((applications)), (applications for) shoreline permits, or any other class of applications for or pertaining to development of land or land use((s));

(b) Appeals of administrative decisions or determinations; and

(c) Appeals of administrative decisions or determinations pursuant to chapter 43.21C RCW.

The legislative authority shall prescribe procedures to be followed by a hearing examiner.

Any county which vests in a hearing examiner the authority to hear and decide conditional uses and variances shall not be required to have a zoning adjuster or board of adjustment.

(2) Each county legislative authority electing to use a hearing examiner pursuant to this section shall by ordinance specify the legal effect of the decisions made by the examiner. (Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section.) Such legal effect may vary for the different classes of applications decided by the examiner but shall include one of the following:

(a) The decision may be given the effect of a recommendation to the legislative authority;

(b) The decision may be given the effect of an administrative decision appealable within a specified time limit to the legislative authority((a).

(2) The legislative authority may specify the legal effect of a hearing examiner's procedural determination under the state environmental policy act, as defined in RCW 43.21C.075(3)(a). It may have the effect under subsection (1), (a) or (b) of this section, or:

(c) Except in the case of a rezone, the decision may be given the effect of a final decision of the legislative authority.

(3) Each final decision of a hearing examiner shall be in writing and shall include findings and conclusions, based on the record, to support the decision. Such findings and conclusions shall also set forth the manner in which the decision would carry out and conform to the county's comprehensive plan and the county's development regulations. Each final decision of a hearing examiner, unless a longer period is mutually agreed to in writing by the applicant and the hearing examiner, shall be rendered within ten working days following conclusion of all testimony and hearings.

Sec. 426. RCW 58.17.090 and 1981 c 293 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Upon receipt of an application for preliminary plat approval the administrative officer charged by ordinance with responsibility for administration of regulations pertaining to platting and subdivisions shall provide public notice and set a date for a public hearing. Except as provided in section 415 of this act, at a minimum, notice of the hearing shall be given in the following manner:

((1)(a) Notice shall be published not less than ten days prior to the hearing in a newspaper of general circulation within the county and a newspaper of general circulation in the area where the real property which is proposed to be subdivided is located; and

((1)(b) Special notice of the hearing shall be given to adjacent landowners by any other reasonable method local authorities deem necessary. Adjacent landowners are the owners of real property, as shown by the records of the county assessor, located within three hundred feet of any portion of the boundary of the proposed subdivision. If the owner of the real property which is proposed to be subdivided owns another parcel or parcels of real property which lie adjacent to the real property proposed to be subdivided, notice under this subsection (1)(b) shall be given to owners of real property located within three hundred feet of any portion of the boundaries of such adjacently located parcels of real property owned by the owner of the real property proposed to be subdivided.

(2) All hearings shall be public. All hearing notices shall include a description of the location of the proposed subdivision. The description may be in the form of either a vicinity location sketch or a written description other than a legal description.

Sec. 427. RCW 58.17.092 and 1988 c 168 s 12 are each amended to read as follows:

Any notice made under chapter 58.17 or 36.--(the new chapter created in section 431 of this act) RCW that identifies affected property may identify this affected property without using a legal description of the property including, but not limited to, identification by an address, written description, vicinity sketch, or other reasonable means.

Sec. 428. RCW 58.17.100 and 1981 c 293 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

If a city, town or county has established a planning commission or planning agency in accordance with state law or local charter, such commission or agency shall review all preliminary plats and make recommendations thereon to the city, town or county legislative body to assure conformance of the proposed subdivision to the general purposes of the comprehensive plan and to planning standards and specifications as adopted by the city, town or county. Reports of the planning commission or agency shall be advisory only: PROVIDED, That the legislative body of the city, town or county may, by ordinance, assign to such commission or agency, or any department official or group of officials, such administrative functions, powers and duties as may be appropriate, including the holding of hearings, and recommendations for approval or disapproval of preliminary plats of proposed subdivisions.

Such recommendation shall be submitted to the legislative body not later than fourteen days following action by the hearing body. Upon receipt of the recommendation on any preliminary plat the legislative body shall at its next public meeting set the date for the public meeting where it shall consider the recommendations of the hearing body and may adopt or reject the recommendations of such hearing body.
Every decision or recommendation made under this section shall be in writing and shall include findings of fact and conclusions to support the decision or recommendation. A record of all public meetings and public hearings shall be kept by the appropriate city, town or county authority and shall be open to public inspection.

Sole authority to approve final plats, and to adopt or amend platting ordinances shall reside in the legislative bodies.

Sec. 429. RCW 58.17.330 and 1994 c 257 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) As an alternative to those provisions of this chapter requiring a planning commission to hear and issue recommendations for plat approval, the county or city legislative body may adopt a hearing examiner system and shall specify by ordinance the legal effect of the decisions made by the examiner. (Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section.) The legal effect of such decisions shall include one of the following:

(a) The decision may be given the effect of a recommendation to the legislative body;

(b) The decision may be given the effect of an administrative decision appealable within a specified time limit to the legislative body;

(c) The decision may be given the effect of a final decision of the legislative body.

The legislative authority shall prescribe procedures to be followed by a hearing examiner.

(2) (The legislative body shall specify the legal effect of a hearing examiner's procedural determination under the state environmental policy act, as defined in RCW 43.21C.075(3)(a). It may have the effect under subsection (1) (a) or (b) of this section, or may be given the effect of a final decision of the legislative body.

(3) Each final decision of a hearing examiner shall be in writing and shall include findings and conclusions, based on the record, to support the decision. Each final decision of a hearing examiner, unless a longer period is mutually agreed to by the applicant and the hearing examiner, shall be rendered within ten working days following conclusion of all testimony and hearings.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 430. (1) The department of community, trade, and economic development shall provide training and technical assistance to counties and cities to assist them in fulfilling the requirements of chapter 36—RCW (the new chapter created in section 431 of this act).

(2) The land use study commission created by section 801 of this act shall monitor local government consolidated permit procedures and the effectiveness of the timelines established by section 413 of this act. The commission shall include in its report submitted to the governor and the legislature on November 30, 1997, its recommendation about what timelines, if any, should be imposed on the local government consolidated permit process required by chapter 36—RCW (the new chapter created in section 431 of this act).

(3) The commission shall also evaluate funding mechanisms that will enable local governments to pay for and recover the costs of conducting integrated planning and environmental analysis. The commission shall include its conclusions in its first report to the legislature in November 1995, and include any recommended statutory changes.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 431. Sections 401, 402, 404 through 407, 413 through 420, and 502 through 506 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 36 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 432. RCW 36.70A.065 and 36.70A.440 are recodified as sections within the new chapter created in section 431 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 433. Sections 413 and 421 of this act shall expire June 30, 1998. The provisions of sections 413 and 421 of this act shall apply to project permit applications determined to be complete pursuant to RCW 36.70A.440 (as recodified by this act) on or before June 30, 1998.

PART V - DEVELOPMENT AGREEMENTS

NEW SECTION. Sec. 501. The legislature finds that the lack of certainty in the approval of development projects can result in a waste of public and private resources, escalate housing costs for consumers and discourage the commitment to comprehensive planning which would make maximum efficient use of resources at the least economic cost to the public. Assurance to a development project applicant that upon government approval the project may proceed in accordance with existing policies and regulations, and subject to conditions of approval, all as set forth in a development agreement, will strengthen the public planning process, encourage private participation and comprehensive planning, and reduce the economic costs of development. Further, the lack of public facilities and services is a serious impediment to development of new housing and commercial uses. Project applicants and local governments may include provisions and agreements whereby applicants are reimbursed over time for financing public facilities. It is the intent of the legislature by sections 502 through 506 of this act to allow local governments and owners and developers of real property to enter into development agreements.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 502. (1) A local government may enter into a development agreement with a person having ownership or control of real property within its jurisdiction. A city may enter into a development agreement for real property outside its boundaries as part of a proposed annexation or a service agreement. A development agreement must set forth the development standards and other provisions that shall apply to and govern and vest the development, use, and mitigation of the development of the real property for the duration specified in the agreement. A development agreement shall be consistent with applicable development regulations adopted by a local government planning under chapter 36.70A RCW.

(2) Sections 501 through 504 of this act do not affect the validity of a contract rezone, concomitant agreement, annexation agreement, or other agreement in existence on the effective date of sections 501 through 504 of this act, or adopted under separate authority, that includes some or all of the development standards provided in subsection (3) of this section.

(3) For the purposes of this section, "development standards" includes, but is not limited to:
(a) Project elements such as permitted uses, residential densities, and nonresidential densities and intensities or building sizes;
(b) The amount and payment of impact fees imposed or agreed to in accordance with any applicable provisions of state law, other financial contributions by the property owner, inspection fees, or dedications;
(c) Mitigation measures, development conditions, and other requirements under chapter 43.21C RCW;
(d) Design standards such as maximum heights, setbacks, drainage and water quality requirements, landscaping, and other development features;
(e) Affordable housing;
(f) Parks and open space preservation;
(g) Phasing;
(h) Review procedures and standards for implementing decisions;
(i) A build-out or vesting period for applicable standards; and
(j) Any other appropriate development requirement or procedure.

(4) The execution of a development agreement is a proper exercise of county and city police power and contract authority. A development agreement may obligate a party to fund or provide services, infrastructure, or other facilities. A development agreement shall reserve authority to impose new or different regulations to the extent required by a serious threat to public health and safety.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 503. Unless amended or terminated, a development agreement is enforceable during its term by a party to the agreement. A development agreement and the development standards in the agreement govern during the term of the agreement, or for all or that part of the build-out period specified in the agreement, and may not be subject to an amendment to a zoning ordinance or development standard or regulation or a new zoning ordinance or development standard or regulation adopted after the effective date of the agreement. A permit or approval issued by the county or city after the execution of the development agreement must be consistent with the development agreement.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 504. A development agreement shall be recorded with the real property records of the county in which the property is located. During the term of the development agreement, the agreement is binding on the parties and their successors, including a city that assumes jurisdiction through incorporation or annexation of the area covering the property covered by the development agreement.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 505. A county or city shall only approve a development agreement by ordinance or resolution after a public hearing. The county or city legislative body or a planning commission, hearing examiner, or other body designated by the legislative body to conduct the public hearing may conduct the hearing. If the development agreement relates to a project permit application, the provisions of chapter 36.70A RCW (sections 701 through 715 of this act) shall apply to the appeal of the decision on the development agreement.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 506. Nothing in sections 501 through 505 of this act is intended to authorize local governments to impose impact fees, inspection fees, or dedications or to require any other financial contributions or mitigation measures except as expressly authorized by other applicable provisions of state law.

PART VI - STATE PERMIT COORDINATION

NEW SECTION. Sec. 601. The legislature hereby finds and declares:
(1) Washington's environmental protection programs have established strict standards to reduce pollution and protect the public health and safety and the environment. The single-purpose programs instituted to achieve these standards have been successful in many respects, and have produced significant gains in protecting Washington's environment in the face of substantial population growth.
(2) Continued progress to achieve the environmental standards in the face of continued population growth will require greater coordination between the single-purpose environmental programs and more efficient operation of these programs overall. Pollution must be prevented and controlled and not simply transferred to another media or another place. This goal can only be achieved by maintaining the current environmental protection standards and by greater integration of the existing programs.
(3) As the number of environmental laws and regulations have grown in Washington, so have the number of permits required of business and government. This regulatory burden has significantly added to the cost and time needed to obtain essential permits in Washington.
The increasing number of individual permits and permit authorities has generated the continuing potential for conflict, overlap, and duplication between the various state, local, and federal permits.

(4) The purpose of this chapter is to institute new, efficient procedures that will assist businesses and public agencies in complying with the environmental quality laws in an expedited fashion, without reducing protection of public health and safety and the environment.

(5) Those procedures need to provide a permit process that promotes effective dialogue and ensures ease in the transfer and clarification of technical information, while preventing duplication. It is necessary that the procedures establish a process for preliminary and ongoing meetings between the applicant, the coordinating permit agency, and the participating permit agencies, but do not preclude the applicant or participating permit agencies from individually coordinating with each other.

(6) It is necessary, to the maximum extent practicable, that the procedures established in this chapter ensure that the coordinated permit agency process and applicable permit requirements and criteria are integrated and run concurrently, rather than consecutively.

(7) It is necessary to provide a reliable and consolidated source of information concerning federal, state, and local environmental and land use laws and procedures that apply to any given proposal.

(8) The process shall provide an optional process by which a project proponent may obtain active coordination of all applicable regulatory and land-use permitting procedures. This process is not to replace individual laws, or diminish the substantive decision-making role of individual jurisdictions. Rather it is to provide predictability, administrative consolidation, and, where possible, consolidation of appeal processes.

(9) It is the intent of this chapter to provide consolidated, effective, and easier opportunities for members of the public to receive information and present their views about proposed projects.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 602. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Center" means the permit assistance center established in the commission by section 603 of this act.

(2) "Commission" means the Washington independent regulatory affairs commission created in chapter . . . , Laws of 1995 (Senate Bill No. 6037).

(3) "Coordinating permit agency" means the permit agency that has the greatest overall jurisdiction over a project.

(4) "Participating permit agency" means a permit agency, other than the coordinating permit agency, that is responsible for the issuance of a permit for a project.

(5) "Permit" means any license, certificate, registration, permit, or other form of authorization required by a permit agency to engage in a particular activity.

(6) "Permit agency" means:

(a) The department of ecology, an air pollution control authority, the department of natural resources, the department of fish and wildlife, and the department of health; and

(b) Any other state or federal agency or county, city, or town that participates at the request of the permit applicant and upon the agency's agreement to be subject to this chapter.

(7) "Project" means an activity, the conduct of which requires permits from one or more permit agencies.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 603. The permit assistance center is established within the commission. The center shall:

(1) Publish and keep current one or more handbooks containing lists and explanations of all permit laws. The center shall coordinate with the business assistance center in providing and maintaining this information to applicants and others. To the extent possible, the handbook shall include relevant federal and tribal laws. A state agency or local government shall provide a reasonable number of copies of application forms, statutes, ordinances, rules, handbooks, and other informational material requested by the center and shall otherwise fully cooperate with the center. The center shall seek the cooperation of relevant federal agencies and tribal governments;

(2) Establish, and make known, a point of contact for distribution of the handbook and advice to the public as to its interpretation in any given case;

(3) Work closely and cooperatively with the business license center and the business assistance center in providing efficient and nonduplicative service to the public;

(4) Seek the assignment of employees from the permit agencies listed under section 602(6)(a) of this act to serve on a rotating basis in staffing the center; and

(5) Provide an annual report to the legislature on potential conflicts and perceived inconsistencies among existing statutes. The first report shall be submitted to the appropriate standing committees of the house of representatives and senate by December 1, 1996.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 604. (1) Not later than January 1, 1996, the center shall establish by rule an administrative process for the designation of a coordinating permit agency for a project.

(2) The administrative process shall consist of the establishment of guidelines for designating the coordinating permit agency for a project. If a permit agency is the lead agency for purposes of chapter 43.21C RCW, that permit agency shall be the coordinating permit agency. In other cases, the guidelines shall require that at least the following factors be considered in determining which permit agency has the greatest overall jurisdiction over the project:

(a) The types of facilities or activities that make up the project;
(b) The types of public health and safety and environmental concerns that should be considered in issuing permits for the project;
(c) The environmental medium that may be affected by the project, the extent of those potential effects, and the environmental protection measures that may be taken to prevent the occurrence of, or to mitigate, those potential effects;
(d) The regulatory activity that is of greatest importance in preventing or mitigating the effects that the project may have on public health and safety or the environment; and
(e) The statutory and regulatory requirements that apply to the project and the complexity of those requirements.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 605. Upon the request of a project applicant, the center shall appoint a project facilitator to assist the applicant in determining which regulatory requirements, processes, and permits may be required for development and operation of the proposed project. The project facilitator shall provide the information to the applicant and explain the options available to the applicant in obtaining the required permits. If the applicant requests, the center shall designate a coordinating permit agency as provided in section 606 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 606. (1) A permit applicant who requests the designation of a coordinating permit agency shall provide the center with a description of the project, a preliminary list of the permits that the project may require, the identity of any public agency that has been designated the lead agency for the project pursuant to chapter 43.21C RCW, and the identity of the participating permit agencies. The center may request any information from the permit applicant that is necessary to make the designation under this section, and may convene a scoping meeting of the likely coordinating permit agency and participating permit agencies in order to make that designation.

(2) The coordinating permit agency shall serve as the main point of contact for the permit applicant with regard to the coordinated permit process for the project and shall manage the procedural aspects of that processing consistent with existing laws governing the coordinating permit agency and participating permit agencies, and with the procedures agreed to by those agencies in accordance with section 607 of this act. In carrying out these responsibilities, the coordinating permit agency shall ensure that the permit applicant has all the information needed to apply for all the component permits that are incorporated in the coordinated permit process for the project, coordinate the review of those permits by the respective participating permit agencies, ensure that timely permit decisions are made by the participating permit agencies, and assist in resolving any conflict or inconsistency among the permit requirements and conditions that are to be imposed by the participating permit agencies with regard to the project. The coordinating permit agency shall keep in contact with the applicant as well as other permit agencies in order to assure that the process is progressing as scheduled. The coordinating permit agency shall also make contact, at least once, with any local jurisdiction that is responsible for issuing a permit for the project if the local jurisdiction has not agreed to be a participating permit agency as provided in section 602(6) of this act.

(3) This chapter shall not be construed to limit or abridge the powers and duties granted to a participating permit agency under the law that authorizes or requires the agency to issue a permit for a project. Each participating permit agency shall retain its authority to make all decisions on all nonprocedural matters with regard to the respective component permit that is within its scope of its responsibility, including, but not limited to, the determination of permit application completeness, permit approval or approval with conditions, or permit denial. The coordinating permit agency may not substitute its judgment for that of a participating permit agency on any such nonprocedural matters.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 607. (1) Within twenty-one days of the date that the coordinating permit agency is designated, it shall convene a meeting with the permit applicant for the project and the participating permit agencies. The meeting agenda shall include at least all of the following matters:
(a) A determination of the permits that are required for the project;
(b) A review of the permit application forms and other application requirements of the agencies that are participating in the coordinated permit process;
(c)(i) A determination of the timelines that will be used by the coordinating permit agency and each participating permit agency to make permit decisions, including the time periods required to determine if the permit applications are complete, to review the application or applications, and to process the component permits. In the development of this timeline, full attention shall be given to achieving the maximum efficiencies possible through concurrent studies, consolidated applications, hearings, and comment periods. Except as provided in (c)(ii) of this subsection, the timelines established under this subsection, with the assent of the coordinating permit agency and each participating permit agency, shall commit the coordinating permit agency and each participating permit agency to act on the component permit within time periods that are different than those required by other applicable provisions of law.
(ii) An accelerated time period for the consideration of a permit application may not be set if that accelerated time period would be inconsistent with, or in conflict with, any time period or series of time periods set by statute for that consideration, or with any statute, rule, or regulation, or adopted state policy, standard, or guideline that requires any of the following:
(A) Other agencies, interested persons, federally recognized Indian tribes, or the public to be given adequate notice of the application;
(B) Other agencies to be given a role in, or be allowed to participate in, the decision to approve or disapprove the application; or
(C) Interested persons or the public to be provided the opportunity to challenge, comment on, or otherwise voice their concerns regarding the application;
(d) The scheduling of any public hearings that are required to issue permits for the project and a determination of the feasibility of coordinating or consolidating any of those required public hearings; and
(e) A discussion of fee arrangements for the coordinated permit process, including an estimate of the costs allowed under section 610 of this act and the billing schedule.

(2) Each agency shall send at least one representative qualified to make decisions concerning the applicability and timelines associated with all permits administered by that jurisdiction. At the request of the applicant, the coordinating permit agency shall notify any relevant federal agency or federally recognized tribe of the date of the meeting and invite that agency’s participation in the process.

(3) If a permit agency or the applicant foresees, at any time, that it will be unable to meet its obligations under the agreement, it shall notify the coordinating permit agency of the problem. The coordinating permit agency shall notify the participating permit agencies and the applicant and, upon agreement of all parties, adjust the schedule, or, if necessary, schedule another work plan meeting.

(4) The coordinating permit agency may request any information from the applicant that is necessary to comply with its obligations under this section, consistent with the timelines set pursuant to this section.

(5) A summary of the decisions made under this section shall be made available for public review upon the filing of the coordinated permit process application or permit applications.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 608. (1) The permit applicant may withdraw from the coordinated permit process by submitting to the coordinating permit agency a written request that the process be terminated. Upon receipt of the request, the coordinating permit agency shall notify the center and each participating permit agency that a coordinated permit process is no longer applicable to the project.

(2) The permit applicant may submit a written request to the coordinating permit agency that the permit applicant wishes a participating permit agency to withdraw from participation on the basis of a reasonable belief that the issuance of the coordinated permit process would be accelerated if the participating permit agency withdraws. In that event, the participating permit agency shall withdraw from participation if the coordinating permit agency approves the request.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 609. The coordinating permit agency shall ensure that the participating permit agencies make all the permit decisions that are necessary for the incorporation of the permits into the coordinated permit process and act on the component permits within the time periods established pursuant to section 607 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 610. (1) The coordinating permit agency may enter into a written agreement with the applicant to recover from the applicant the reasonable costs incurred by the coordinating permit agency in carrying out the requirements of this chapter.

(2) The coordinating permit agency may recover only the costs of performing those coordinated permit services and shall be negotiated with the permit applicant in the meeting required pursuant to section 607 of this act. The billing process shall provide for accurate time and cost accounting and may include a billing cycle that provides for progress payments.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 611. A petition by the permit applicant for review of an agency action in issuing, denying, or amending a permit, or any portion of a coordinating permit agency permit, shall be submitted by the permit applicant to the coordinating permit agency or the participating permit agency having jurisdiction over that permit and shall be processed in accordance with the procedures of that permit agency. Within thirty days of receiving the petition, the coordinating permit agency shall notify the other environmental agencies participating in the original coordinated permit process.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 612. If an applicant petitions for a significant amendment or modification to a coordinated permit process application or any of its component permit applications, the coordinating permit agency shall reconvene a meeting of the participating permit agencies, conducted in accordance with section 607 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 613. If an applicant fails to provide information required for the processing of the component permit applications for a coordinated permit process or for the designation of a coordinating permit agency, the time requirements of this chapter shall be held in abeyance until such time as the information is provided.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 614. (1) The center, by rule, shall establish an expedited appeals process by which a petitioner or applicant may appeal any failure by a permit agency to take timely action on the issuance or denial of a permit in accordance with the time limits established under this chapter.

(2) If the center finds that the time limits under appeal have been violated without good cause, it shall establish a date certain by which the permit agency shall act on the permit application with adequate provision for the requirements of section 607(1)(c)(ii) (A) through (C) of this act, and provide for the full reimbursement of any filing or permit processing fees paid by the applicant to the permit agency for the permit application under appeal.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 615. Nothing in this chapter affects the jurisdiction of the energy facility site evaluation council as provided in chapter 80.50 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 616. By December 1, 1997, the center shall submit a report to the appropriate committees of both houses of the legislature detailing the following information:

(1) The number of instances in which a coordinating permit agency has been requested and used, and the disposition of those cases;

(2) The amount of time elapsed between an initial request by a permit applicant for a coordinated permit process and the ultimate approval or disapproval of the permits included in the process; and

(3) The number of instances in which the expedited appeals process was requested, and the disposition of those cases.
NEW SECTION. Sec. 617. The sum of seventy thousand dollars or as much thereof as may be necessary, is appropriated for the biennium ending June 30, 1997, from the general fund; the sum of ninety thousand dollars, or as much thereof as may be necessary, is appropriated for the biennium ending June 30, 1997, from the state toxics control account; and the sum of fifty-five thousand dollars, or as much thereof as may be necessary, is appropriated for the biennium ending June 30, 1997, from the air pollution control account to the Washington independent regulatory affairs commission for the purposes of sections 601 through 616 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 618. A new section is added to chapter 43.131 RCW to read as follows:

The permit assistance center and its powers and duties shall be terminated June 30, 1999, as provided in section 619 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 619. A new section is added to chapter 43.131 RCW to read as follows:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 621. Sections 601 through 616 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 90 RCW.

PART VII - APPEALS

NEW SECTION. Sec. 701. This chapter may be known and cited as the land use petition act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 702. The purpose of this chapter is to reform the process for judicial review of land use decisions made by local jurisdictions, by establishing uniform, expedited appeal procedures and uniform criteria for reviewing such decisions, in order to provide consistent, predictable, and timely judicial review.
NEW SECTION. Sec. 703. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Land use decision" means a final determination by a local jurisdiction's body or officer with the highest level of authority to make the determination, including those with authority to hear appeals, on:

(a) An application for a project permit or other governmental approval required by law before real property may be improved, developed, modified, sold, transferred, or used, but excluding applications for permits or approvals to use, vacate, or transfer streets, parks, and similar types of public property and excluding applications for legislative approvals such as area-wide rezones and annexations;

(b) An interpretive or declaratory decision regarding the application to a specific property of zoning or other ordinances or rules regulating the improvement, development, modification, maintenance, or use of real property; and

(c) The enforcement by a local jurisdiction of ordinances regulating the improvement, development, modification, maintenance, or use of real property. However, when a local jurisdiction is required by law to enforce the ordinances in a court of limited jurisdiction, a petition may not be brought under this chapter.

(2) "Local jurisdiction" means a county, city, or incorporated town.

(3) "Person" means an individual, partnership, corporation, association, public or private organization, or governmental entity or agency.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 704. (1) This chapter replaces the writ of certiorari for appeal of land use decisions and shall be the exclusive means of judicial review of land use decisions, except that this chapter does not apply to:

(a) Judicial review of:

(i) Land use decisions made by bodies that are not part of a local jurisdiction;

(ii) Land use decisions of a local jurisdiction that are subject to review by a quasi-judicial body created by state law, such as the shorelines hearings board or the growth management hearings board;

(b) Judicial review of applications for a writ of mandamus or prohibition; or

(c) Claims provided by any law for monetary damages or compensation. If one or more claims for damages or compensation are set forth in the same complaint with a land use petition brought under this chapter, the claims are not subject to the procedures and standards, including deadlines, provided in this chapter for review of the petition. The judge who hears the land use petition may, if appropriate, preside at a trial for damages or compensation.

(2) The superior court civil rules govern procedural matters under this chapter to the extent that the rules are consistent with this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 705. (1) Proceedings for review under this chapter shall be commenced by filing a land use petition in superior court.

(2) A land use petition is barred, and the court may not grant review, unless the petition is timely filed with the court and timely served on the following persons who shall be parties to the review of the land use petition:

(a) The local jurisdiction, which for purposes of the petition shall be the jurisdiction's corporate entity and not an individual decision maker or department;

(b) Each of the following persons if the person is not the petitioner:

(i) Each person identified by name and address in the local jurisdiction's written decision as an applicant for the permit or approval at issue; and

(ii) Each person identified by name and address in the local jurisdiction's written decision as an owner of the property at issue;

(c) If no person is identified in a written decision as provided in (b) of this subsection, each person identified by name and address as a taxpayer for the property at issue in the records of the county assessor, based upon the description of the property in the application; and

(d) Each person named in the written decision who filed an appeal to a local jurisdiction quasi-judicial decision maker regarding the land use decision at issue, unless the person has abandoned the appeal or the person's claims were dismissed before the quasi-judicial decision was rendered. Persons who later intervened or joined in the appeal are not required to be made parties under this subsection.

(3) The petition is timely if it is filed and served on all parties listed in subsection (2) of this section within twenty-one days of the issuance of the land use decision.

(4) For the purposes of this section, the date on which a land use decision is issued is:

(a) Three days after a written decision is mailed by the local jurisdiction or, if not mailed, the date on which the local jurisdiction provides notice that a written decision is publicly available;

(b) If the land use decision is made by ordinance or resolution by a legislative body sitting in a quasi-judicial capacity, the date the body passes the ordinance or resolution; or

(c) If neither (a) nor (b) of this subsection applies, the date the decision is entered into the public record.

(5) Service on the local jurisdiction must be by delivery of a copy of the petition to the persons identified by or pursuant to RCW 4.28.080 to receive service of process. Service on other parties must be in accordance with the superior court civil rules or by first class mail to:

(a) The address stated in the written decision of the local jurisdiction for each person made a party under subsection (2)(b) of this section;
(b) The address stated in the records of the county assessor for each person made a party under subsection (2)(c) of this section; and
(c) The address stated in the appeal to the quasi-judicial decision maker for each person made a party under subsection (2)(d) of this section.

(6) Service by mail is effective on the date of mailing and proof of service shall be by affidavit or declaration under penalty of perjury.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 706. If the applicant for the land use approval is not the owner of the real property at issue, and if the owner is not accurately identified in the records referred to in section 705(2) (b) and (c) of this act, the applicant shall be responsible for promptly securing the joinder of the owners. In addition, within fourteen days after service each party initially named by the petitioner shall disclose to the other parties the name and address of any person whom such party knows may be needed for just adjudication of the petition, and the petitioner shall promptly name and serve any such person whom the petitioner agrees may be needed for just adjudication. If such a person is named and served before the initial hearing, leave of court for the joinder is not required, and the petitioner shall provide the newly joined party with copies of the pleadings filed before the party's joinder. Failure by the petitioner to name or serve, within the time required by section 705(3) of this act, persons who are needed for just adjudication but who are not identified in the records referred to in section 705(2)(b) of this act, or in section 705(2)(c) of this act if applicable, shall not deprive the court of jurisdiction to hear the land use petition.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 707. Standing to bring a land use petition under this chapter is limited to the following persons:
(1) The applicant and the owner of property to which the land use decision is directed;
(2) Another person aggrieved or adversely affected by the land use decision, or who would be aggrieved or adversely affected by a reversal or modification of the land use decision. A person is aggrieved or adversely affected within the meaning of this section only when all of the following conditions are present:
(a) The land use decision has prejudiced or is likely to prejudice that person;
(b) That person's asserted interests are among those that the local jurisdiction was required to consider when it made the land use decision;
(c) A judgment in favor of that person would substantially eliminate or redress the prejudice to that person caused or likely to be caused by the land use decision; and
(d) The petitioner has exhausted his or her administrative remedies to the extent required by law.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 708. A land use petition must set forth:
(1) The name and mailing address of the petitioner;
(2) The name and mailing address of the petitioner's attorney, if any;
(3) The name and mailing address of the local jurisdiction whose land use decision is at issue;
(4) Identification of the decision-making body or officer, together with a duplicate copy of the decision, or, if not a written decision, a summary or brief description of it;
(5) Identification of each person to be made a party under section 705(2) (b) through (d) of this act;
(6) Facts demonstrating that the petitioner has standing to seek judicial review under section 707 of this act;
(7) A separate and concise statement of each error alleged to have been committed;
(8) A concise statement of facts upon which the petitioner relies to sustain the statement of error; and
(9) A request for relief, specifying the type and extent of relief requested.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 709. (1) Within seven days after the petition is served on the parties identified in section 705(2) of this act, the petitioner shall note, according to the local rules of superior court, an initial hearing on jurisdictional and preliminary matters. This initial hearing shall be set no sooner than thirty-five days and no later than fifty days after the petition is served on the parties identified in section 705(2) of this act.

(2) The parties shall note all motions on jurisdictional and procedural issues for resolution at the initial hearing, except that a motion to allow discovery may be brought sooner. Where confirmation of motions is required, each party shall be responsible for confirming its own motions.

(3) The defenses of lack of standing, untimely filing or service of the petition, and failure to join persons needed for just adjudication are waived if not raised by timely motion noted to be heard at the initial hearing, unless the court allows discovery on such issues.

(4) The petitioner shall move the court for an order at the initial hearing that sets the date on which the record must be submitted, sets a briefing schedule, sets a discovery schedule if discovery is to be allowed, and sets a date for the hearing or trial on the merits.

(5) The parties may waive the initial hearing by scheduling with the court a date for the hearing or trial on the merits and filing a stipulated order that resolves the jurisdictional and procedural issues raised by the petition, including the issues identified in subsections (3) and (4) of this section.

(6) A party need not file an answer to the petition.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 710. The court shall provide expedited review of petitions filed under this chapter. The matter must be set for hearing within sixty days of the date set for submitting the local jurisdiction's record, absent a showing of good cause for a different date or a stipulation of the parties.
NEW SECTION. Sec. 711. (1) A petitioner or other party may request the court to stay or suspend an action by the local jurisdiction or another party to implement the decision under review. The request must set forth a statement of grounds for the stay and the factual basis for the request.

(2) A court may grant a stay only if the court finds that:

(a) The party requesting the stay is likely to prevail on the merits;
(b) Without the stay the party requesting it will suffer irreparable harm;
(c) The grant of a stay will not substantially harm other parties to the proceedings; and
(d) The request for the stay is timely in light of the circumstances of the case.

(3) The court may grant the request for a stay upon such terms and conditions, including the filing of security, as are necessary to prevent harm to other parties by the stay.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 712. (1) Within forty-five days after entry of an order to submit the record, or within such a further time as the court allows or as the parties agree, the local jurisdiction shall submit to the court a certified copy of the record for judicial review of the land use decision, except that the petitioner shall prepare at the petitioner's expense and submit a verbatim transcript of any hearings held on the matter.

(2) If the parties agree, or upon order of the court, the record shall be shortened or summarized to avoid reproduction and transcription of portions of the record that are duplicative or not relevant to the issues to be reviewed by the court.

(3) The petitioner shall pay the local jurisdiction the cost of preparing the record before the local jurisdiction submits the record to the court. Failure by the petitioner to timely pay the local jurisdiction relieves the local jurisdiction of responsibility to submit the record and is grounds for dismissal of the petition.

(4) If the relief sought by the petitioner is granted in whole or in part the court shall equitably assess the cost of preparing the record among the parties. In assessing costs the court shall take into account the extent to which each party prevailed and the reasonableness of the parties' conduct in agreeing or not agreeing to shorten or summarize the record under subsection (2) of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 713. (1) When the land use decision being reviewed was made by a quasi-judicial body or officer who made factual determinations in support of the decision and the parties to the quasi-judicial proceeding had an opportunity consistent with due process to make a record on the factual issues, judicial review of factual issues and the conclusions drawn from the factual issues shall be confined to the record created by the quasi-judicial body or officer, except as provided in subsections (2) through (4) of this section.

(2) For decisions described in subsection (1) of this section, the record may be supplemented by additional evidence only if the additional evidence relates to:

(a) Grounds for disqualification of a member of the body or of the officer that made the land use decision, when such grounds were unknown by the petitioner at the time the record was created;
(b) Matters that were improperly excluded from the record after being offered by a party to the quasi-judicial proceeding; or
(c) Matters that were outside the jurisdiction of the body or officer that made the land use decision.

(3) For land use decisions other than those described in subsection (1) of this section, the record for judicial review may be supplemented by evidence of material facts that were not made part of the local jurisdiction's record.

(4) The court may require or permit corrections of ministerial errors or inadvertent omissions in the preparation of the record.

(5) The parties may not conduct pretrial discovery except with the prior permission of the court, which may be sought by motion at any time after service of the petition. The court shall not grant permission unless the party requesting it makes a prima facie showing of need. The court shall strictly limit discovery to what is necessary for equitable and timely review of the issues that are raised under subsections (2) and (3) of this section. If the court allows the record to be supplemented, the court shall require the parties to disclose before the hearing or trial on the merits the specific evidence they intend to offer. If any party, or anyone acting on behalf of any party, requests records under chapter 42.17 RCW relating to the matters at issue, a copy of the request shall simultaneously be given to all other parties and the court shall take such request into account in fashioning an equitable discovery order under this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 714. (1) The superior court, acting without a jury, shall review the record and such supplemental evidence as is permitted under section 713 of this act. The court may grant relief only if the party seeking relief has carried the burden of establishing that one of the standards set forth in (a) through (f) of this subsection has been met. The standards are:

(a) The body or officer that made the land use decision engaged in unlawful procedure or failed to follow a prescribed process, unless the error was harmless;
(b) The land use decision is an erroneous interpretation of the law, after allowing for such deference as is due the construction of a law by a local jurisdiction with expertise;
(c) The land use decision is not supported by evidence that is substantial when viewed in light of the whole record before the court;
(d) The land use decision is a clearly erroneous application of the law to the facts;
(e) The land use decision is outside the authority or jurisdiction of the body or officer making the decision; or
(f) The land use decision violates the constitutional rights of the party seeking relief.

(2) In order to grant relief under this chapter, it is not necessary for the court to find that the local jurisdiction engaged in arbitrary and capricious conduct. A grant of relief by itself may not be deemed to establish liability for monetary damages or compensation.
NEW SECTION. Sec. 715. The court may affirm or reverse the land use decision under review or remand it for modification or further proceedings. If the decision is remanded for modification or further proceedings, the court may make such an order as it finds necessary to preserve the interests of the parties and the public, pending further proceedings or action by the local jurisdiction.

Sec. 716. RCW 7.16.360 and 1989 c 175 s 38 are each amended to read as follows:

This chapter does not apply to state agency action reviewable under chapter 34.05 RCW or to land use decisions of local jurisdictions reviewable under chapter 36.-- RCW (sections 701 through 715 of this act).

Sec. 717. RCW 58.17.180 and 1983 c 121 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

Any decision approving or disapproving any plat shall be reviewable (for unlawful, arbitrary, capricious or corrupt action or nonaction by writ of review before the superior court of the county in which such matter is pending. Standing to bring the action is limited to the following parties:

(1) The applicant or owner of the property on which the subdivision is proposed;
(2) Any property owner entitled to special notice under RCW 58.17.090;
(3) Any property owner who deemed himself aggrieved thereby and who will suffer direct and substantial impacts from the proposed subdivision.

Application for a writ of review shall be made to the court within thirty days from any decision so to be reviewed. The cost of transcription of all records ordered certified by the court for such review shall be borne by the appellant under this section if:

(a) The prevailing party on appeal was the prevailing or substantially prevailing party before the county, city, or town whose decision is on appeal;
(b) The prevailing party on appeal was the prevailing party or substantially prevailing party in all prior judicial proceedings.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 718. A new section is added to chapter 4.84 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this chapter, reasonable attorney's fees and costs shall be awarded to the prevailing party or substantially prevailing party on appeal before the court of appeals or the supreme court of a decision by a county, city, or town to issue, condition, or deny a development permit involving a site-specific rezone, zoning, plat, conditional use, variance, shoreline permit, building permit, site plan, or similar land use approval or decision. The court shall award and determine the amount of reasonable attorney's fees and costs under this section if:

(a) The prevailing party on appeal was the prevailing or substantially prevailing party before the county, city, or town, or in a decision involving a substantial development permit under chapter 90.58 RCW, the prevailing party on appeal was the prevailing party or the substantially prevailing party before the shoreline hearings board; and
(b) The prevailing party on appeal was the prevailing party or substantially prevailing party in all prior judicial proceedings.

(2) In addition to the prevailing party under subsection (1) of this section, the county, city, or town whose decision is on appeal is considered a prevailing party if its decision is upheld at superior court and on appeal.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 719. Sections 701 through 715 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 36 RCW.

PART VIII - STUDY

NEW SECTION. Sec. 801. The land use study commission is hereby established. The commission's goal shall be the integration and consolidation of the state's land use and environmental laws into a single, manageable statute. In fulfilling its responsibilities, the commission shall evaluate the effectiveness of the growth management act, the state environmental policy act, the shoreline management act, and other state land use, planning, environmental, and permitting statutes in achieving their stated goals.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 802. The commission shall consist of not more than fourteen members. Eleven members of the commission shall be appointed by the governor. Membership shall reflect the interests of business, agriculture, labor, the environment, neighborhood groups, other citizens, the legislature, cities, counties, and federally recognized Indian tribes. Members shall have substantial experience in matters relating to land use and environmental planning and regulation, and shall have the ability to work toward cooperative solutions among diverse interests. The director of the department of community, trade, and economic development, or the director's designee, shall be a member and shall serve as chair of the commission. The director of the department of ecology, or the director's designee, and the secretary of the department of transportation, or the secretary's designee, shall also be members of the commission. Staff for the commission shall be provided by the department of community, trade, and economic development, with additional staff to be provided by other state agencies and the legislature, as may be required. State agencies shall provide the commission with information and assistance as needed.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 803. The commission shall convene commencing June 1, 1995, and shall complete its work by June 30, 1998. The commission shall submit a report to the governor and the legislature stating its findings, conclusions, and recommendations not later than November 1 of each year. The commission shall submit its final report to the governor and the legislature not later than November 1, 1997.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 804. The commission shall:

(1) Consider the effectiveness of state and local government efforts to consolidate and integrate the growth management act, the state environmental policy act, the shoreline management act, and other land use, planning, environmental, and permitting laws.
(2) Identify the revisions and modifications needed in state land use, planning, and environmental law and practice to adequately plan for growth and achieve economically and environmentally sustainable development, to adequately assess environmental impacts of comprehensive plans, development regulations, and growth, and to reduce the time and cost of obtaining project permits.

(3) Draft a consolidated land use procedure, following these guidelines:

(a) Conduct land use planning through the comprehensive planning process under chapter 36.70A RCW rather than through review of individual projects;

(b) Involve diverse sectors of the public in the planning process. Early and informal environmental analysis should be incorporated into planning and decision making;

(c) Recognize that different questions need to be answered and different levels of detail applied at each planning phase, from the initial development of plan concepts or plan elements to implementation programs;

(d) Integrate and combine to the fullest extent possible the processes, analysis, and documents currently required under chapters 36.70A and 43.21C RCW, so that subsequent plan decisions and subsequent implementation will incorporate measures to promote the environmental, economic, and other goals and to mitigate undesirable or unintended adverse impacts on a community's quality of life;

(e) Focus environmental review and the level of detail needed for different stages of plan and project decisions on the environmental considerations most relevant to that stage of the process;

(f) Avoid duplicating review that has occurred for plan decisions when specific projects are proposed;

(g) Use environmental review on projects to: (i) Review and document consistency with comprehensive plans and development regulations; (ii) provide prompt and coordinated review by agencies, tribes, and the public on compliance with applicable environmental laws and plans, including mitigation for site specific project impacts that have not been considered and addressed at the plan or development regulation level; and (iii) ensure accountability by local government to applicants and the public for requiring and implementing mitigation measures;

(h) Maintain or improve the quality of environmental analysis both for plan and for project decisions, while integrating these analyses with improved state and local planning and permitting processes;

(i) Examine existing land use and environmental permits for necessity and utility. To the extent possible, existing permits should be combined into fewer permits, assuring that the values and principles intended to be protected by those permits remain protected; and

(j) Consolidate local government appeal processes to allow a single appeal of permits at local government levels, a single state level administrative appeal, and a final judicial appeal.

(4) Monitor instances state-wide of the vesting of project permit applications during the period that an appeal is pending before a growth management hearings board, as authorized under RCW 36.70A.300. The commission shall also review the extent to which such vesting results in the approval of projects that are inconsistent with a comprehensive plan or development regulation provision ultimately found to be in compliance with a board's order or remand. The commission shall analyze the impact of such approvals on ensuring the attainment of the goals and policies of chapter 36.70A RCW, and make recommendations to the governor and the legislature on statutory changes to address any adverse impacts from the provisions of RCW 36.70A.300. The commission shall provide an initial report on its findings and recommendations by November 1, 1995, and submit its further findings and recommendations subsequently in the reports required under section 803 of this act.

(5) These guidelines are intended to guide the work of the commission, without limiting its charge to integrate and consolidate Washington's land use and environmental laws into a single, manageable statutory framework.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 805. Members of the commission shall be reimbursed for travel expenses as provided in RCW 43.03.050 and 43.03.060.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 806. Sections 801 through 805 of this act shall expire June 30, 1998.

PART IX - MISCELLANEOUS

NEW SECTION. Sec. 901. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 902. Part headings and the table of contents as used in this act do not constitute any part of the law.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 903. Sections 801 through 806 of this act are necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect June 1, 1995."

MOTION

Senator Palmer moved that the following amendment to the striking amendment by Senators Sheldon, Ann Anderson, Fraser, Swecker, Drew, Hale, Haugen, Winsley, Spanel, Snyder and Gaspard be adopted:

(1) Each county that has both a population of fifty thousand or more and has had its population increase by more than seventeen percent in the previous ten years, and the cities located within such county, and any other county regardless of its population that has had its population increase by more than twenty percent in the previous ten years, and the cities located within such county, shall conform with all of the requirements of this chapter. However, the county legislative authority of such a county with a population of less than fifty thousand population may adopt a resolution removing the county, and the cities located within the county, from the requirements of adopting comprehensive land use plans and development regulations under this chapter if this resolution is adopted and filed with the department by December 31, 1990, for counties initially meeting this set of criteria, or within sixty days of the date the office of financial management certifies that a county meets this set of criteria under subsection (5) of this section.

Once a county meets either of these sets of criteria, the requirement to conform with all of the requirements of this chapter remains in effect, even if the county no longer meets one of these sets of criteria.

(2) The county legislative authority of any county that does not meet either of the sets of criteria established under subsection (1) of this section may adopt a resolution indicating its intention to have subsection (1) of this section apply to the county. Each city, located in a county that chooses to plan under this subsection, shall conform with all of the requirements of this chapter. Once such a resolution has been adopted, the county and the cities located within the county remain subject to all of the requirements of this chapter.

(3) Any county or city that is initially required to conform with all of the requirements of this chapter under subsection (1) of this section shall take actions under this chapter as follows: (a) The county legislative authority shall adopt a county-wide planning policy under RCW 36.70A.210; (b) the county and each city located within the county shall designate critical areas, agricultural lands, forest lands, and mineral resource lands, and adopt development regulations conserving these designated agricultural lands, forest lands, and mineral resource lands and protecting these designated critical areas, under RCW 36.70A.170 and 36.70A.060; (c) the county shall designate and take other actions related to urban growth areas under RCW 36.70A.110; (d) if the county has a population of fifty thousand or more, the county and each city located within the county shall adopt a comprehensive plan under this chapter and development regulations that are consistent with and implement the comprehensive plan on or before July 1, 1994, and if the county has a population of less than fifty thousand, the county and each city located within the county shall adopt a comprehensive plan under this chapter and development regulations that are consistent with and implement the comprehensive plan by January 1, 1995, but if the governor makes written findings that a county with a population of less than fifty thousand or a city located within such a county is not making reasonable progress toward adopting a comprehensive plan and development regulations the governor may reduce this deadline for such actions to be taken by no more than one hundred eighty days. Any county or city subject to this subsection may obtain an additional six months before it is required to have adopted its development regulations by submitting a letter notifying the department of community, trade, and economic development of its need prior to the deadline for adopting both a comprehensive plan and development regulations.

(4) Any county or city that is required to conform with all the requirements of this chapter, as a result of the county legislative authority adopting its resolution of intention under subsection (2) of this section, shall take actions under this chapter as follows: (a) The county legislative authority shall adopt a county-wide planning policy under RCW 36.70A.210; (b) the county and each city that is located within the county shall adopt development regulations conserving agricultural lands, forest lands, and mineral resource lands it designated under RCW 36.70A.060 within one year of the date the county legislative authority adopts its resolution of intention; (c) the county shall designate and take other actions related to urban growth areas under RCW 36.70A.110; and (d) the county and each city that is located within the county shall adopt a comprehensive plan and development regulations that are consistent with and implement the comprehensive plan not later than four years from the date the county legislative authority adopts its resolution of intention, but a county or city may obtain an additional six months before it is required to have adopted its development regulations by submitting a letter notifying the department of community, trade, and economic development of its need prior to the deadline for adopting both a comprehensive plan and development regulations.

(5) If the office of financial management certifies that the population of a county that previously had not been required to plan under subsection (1) or (2) of this section has changed sufficiently to meet either of the sets of criteria specified under subsection (1) of this section, and where applicable, the county legislative authority has not adopted a resolution removing the county from these requirements as provided in subsection (1) of this section, the county and each city within such county shall take actions under this chapter as follows: (a) The county legislative authority shall adopt a county-wide planning policy under RCW 36.70A.210; (b) the county and each city located within the county shall adopt development regulations under RCW 36.70A.060 conserving agricultural lands, forest lands, and mineral resource lands it designated within one year of the certification by the office of financial management; (c) the county shall designate and take other actions related to urban growth areas under RCW 36.70A.110; and (d) the county and each city located within the county shall adopt a comprehensive land use plan and development regulations that are consistent with and implement the comprehensive plan within four years of the certification by the office of financial management, but a county or city may obtain an additional six months before it is required to have adopted its development regulations by submitting a letter notifying the department of community, trade, and economic development of its need prior to the deadline for adopting both a comprehensive plan and development regulations.

(6) A copy of each document that is required under this section shall be submitted to the department at the time of its adoption."

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.
Senator Fraser: "Mr. President, a point of order. I believe this amendment to the amendment exceeds the scope and object of the bill. The bill before us, the striking amendment before us, deals with processes and procedures pertaining to how local governments plan and process permits and handle appeals under current growth laws and under current environmental laws. It doesn’t change those laws and it doesn’t change who has to plan under those. The amendment to the amendment does change who has to plan under some of those laws, so I feel it does exceed the scope and object of the bill."

Debate ensued.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5728, by Senators Gaspard, McDonald, Wojahn, Rinehart, Rasmussen and Winsley

Modifying the business and occupation tax on international investment management companies.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Hale moved that the following amendments by Senators Hale and Ann Anderson be considered simultaneously and be adopted:

On page 3, line 11, after "(1)" strike everything through and including "(3)" on line 22 and insert the following: "(Upon every person engaging within this state in the business of providing selected business services other than or in addition to those enumerated in RCW 82.04.250 or 82.04.270, as to such persons the amount of tax on account of such activities shall be equal to the gross income of the business multiplied by the rate of 2.5 percent."

(2) Upon every person engaging within this state in banking, loan, security, investment management, investment advisory, or other financial businesses, as to such persons, the amount of the tax with respect to such business shall be equal to the gross income of the business, multiplied by the rate of 1.70 percent.

On page 3, line 27, before "Upon" strike "(4)" and insert "(2)"

On page 3, line 30, after "82.04.280, and" strike everything through and including "(3)" on line 30 and insert "subsection((5)) (1) ((and 2))"

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Gaspard: "Mr. President, I would ask you to--at least I challenge the amendment for scope and object. The bill that is before us is specifically for a category of businesses--international investment management--and a B & O tax that would be appropriate for that service. The amendment that is being offered greatly expands the intent of the legislation that is before us to not only include services for other businesses and services, but for financial services and other miscellaneous services. As it was explained earlier, it went into a myriad of other B & O tax rates for other types of services. I would contend, Mr. President, that this is a bill only for international investment management services and should not be expanded beyond that."

Further debate ensued.

There being no objection, further consideration of Senate Bill No. 5728 was deferred.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Roach: "A point of order, Mr. President. For the edification of the members, and to be spread on the Journal of the Washington State Senate, I would like to announce the first runs of the ballot on the RTA show a forty-one thousand nine hundred and six in King County 'yes' votes; 'no' votes, fifty-eight thousand one hundred and sixty five, which means it is being defeated with fifty-eight percent of the vote. That was my point of order, Mr. President."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT
President Pritchard: "Well, it was a pretty bad point of order, but at this point I guess, since you have said it, we could stand a little news and you can all decide whether it is good or bad. That's up to you. Your point of order is not well taken, however."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Pritchard: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Gaspard, the President finds that Senate Bill No. 5728 is a measure which defines a subcategory of investment management companies as international investment management services and reduces the tax rate otherwise applicable to such businesses.

"The amendments by Senators Hale and Ann Anderson on page 3, lines 11, 27, 30 and 33, would change the tax rate on a variety of selected business services.

"The President, therefore, finds that the proposed amendments do change the scope and object of the bill and the point of order is well taken."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Pritchard: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Fraser, the President finds that Substitute Senate Bill No. 5489 is a measure which broadly changes many of the elements and requirements of the Growth Management Act and various environmental acts and processes.

"The amendment by Senator Palmer on page 6, after line 22, to the striking amendment by Senators Sheldon, Ann Anderson, Fraser, Swecker, Drew, Hale, Haugen, Winsley, Spanel, Snyder and Gaspard would change one of the population elements for determining when the Growth Management Act is applicable.

"The President, therefore, finds that the proposed amendment to the striking amendment does not change the scope and object of the bill and the point of order is not well taken."

The amendment by Senator Palmer on page 6, after line 22, to the striking amendment by Senators Sheldon, Ann Anderson, Fraser, Swecker, Drew, Hale, Haugen, Winsley, Spanel, Snyder and Gaspard to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5489 was ruled in order.

The office of financial management shall determine the population of each county of the state annually as of April 1st of each year and on or before July 1st of each year shall file a certificate with the secretary of state showing its determination of the population for each county. Each city, located in a county that chooses to plan under this subsection, shall conform with all of the requirements of this chapter. Once such a resolution has been adopted, the county and the cities located within the county remain subject to all of the requirements of this chapter.

Any county or city subject to this subsection may obtain an additional six months before it is required to have adopted its development regulations by submitting a letter notifying the department of community, trade, and economic development of its need prior to the deadline for adopting both a comprehensive plan and development regulations.

(6) A copy of each document that is required under this section shall be submitted to the department at the time of its adoption."
Senator Haugen: "Thank you, Mr. President. I ask you to rule on the scope and object of this amendment. The bill addresses a very narrow topic--standards for OFM projections. The proposed amendment speaks to change the threshold of the amount of population growth required to trigger the requirements of the Growth Management Act. The amendment involves not only a different section of the RCW, but a different title. The amendment has nothing to do with how population projections are determined. The only connection between this bill and the GMA is that OFM population projections are used in fixing urban growth boundaries. Population projections have nothing to do with the actual population changes which trigger whether the county must plan, under GMA. It is truly out of scope and object."

Further debate ensued.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Pritchard: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Haugen, the President finds that Senate Bill No. 5876 is a measure which adds additional information which the Office of Financial Management must provide to counties and cities subject to the growth management planning process and creates a process to settle disputes.

"The amendment by Senator Palmer on page 2, after line 2, to the striking amendment by Senators Haugen, Winsley and McCaslin would change from ten percent, to seventeen percent, the ten year population increase which establishes part of the threshold for application of the requirements of the Growth Management Act.

"The President, therefore, finds that the proposed amendment to the striking amendment does change the scope and object of the bill and the point of order is well taken."

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 77.12 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The director shall relieve from active duty full-time, commissioned fish and wildlife personnel who, while in-service, have been or may be injured or disabled to such an extent as to be incapable of active duty.

(a) Any full-time, commissioned fish and wildlife personnel injured or disabled while performing in-service line duties who is found by the department of labor and industries to be incapable of active duty shall be placed on temporary injury leave for a period not to exceed six months from the date of injury or the date the person is determined to be incapacitated. During this period, the full-time, commissioned fish and wildlife personnel is entitled to all pay, benefits, insurance, leave, and retirement contributions awarded to a full-time, commissioned fish and wildlife personnel on active status, less any compensation received through the department of labor and industries. No such temporary injury leave may be approved until a full-time, commissioned fish and wildlife personnel has been unavailable for active duty for more than five consecutive work days. Prior to the end of the six-month period, the director shall either place the full-time, commissioned fish and wildlife personnel on disability status or return the full-time, commissioned fish and wildlife personnel to full-time employment status.

(b) Benefits under this section for an injury or disability that is incurred while in other employment must be reduced by any amount the full-time, commissioned fish and wildlife personnel receives or is entitled to receive workers' compensation, social security, group insurance, other pension plan, or any other similar compensation provided by another employer for the same injury or disability.

(c) Full-time, commissioned fish and wildlife personnel on disability status shall receive one-half of their compensation at the existing wage during the time the disability continues in effect, less any compensation received through the department of labor and industries. They shall be subject to mental or physical examination at any state institution or otherwise under the direction of the director at any time during such relief from duty to ascertain whether or not they are able to resume active duty;

(d) Should a disability beneficiary whose injury or disability was incurred while performing in-service line duties engage in gainful occupation, the director shall reduce the amount of the disability compensation to an amount which, when added to the compensation earned by the beneficiary in such occupation, does not exceed the basic salary currently being paid for the state civil service range and step the full-time, commissioned fish and wildlife personnel held at the time he or she was injured or disabled. Every six months, all such disability beneficiaries shall file with the director a signed and sworn statement of earnings, and any person who knowingly swears falsely on such statement is subject to prosecution for perjury. Should the earning capacity of the beneficiary be further altered, the director may further alter the disability allowance as indicated in this subsection. The director may cancel the disability allowance for a full-time, commissioned fish and wildlife personnel who does not file the required statement of earnings or who knowingly files a false statement of earnings;

(e) A full-time, commissioned fish and wildlife personnel injured while engaging in willfully tortious or criminal conduct is not entitled to any benefits under this section.

(2) The director shall define by rule the situations in which full-time, commissioned fish and wildlife personnel are on active duty, in-service, are performing line duty, or are performing nonline duty.

(3) A person receiving disability compensation under this section shall become ineligible to receive that compensation upon becoming eligible for retirement under the applicable plan of the Washington public employees' retirement system, chapter 41.40 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 77.12 RCW to read as follows:

"Section 1 of this act does not apply to persons who were fisheries patrol officers employed prior to March 1, 1994."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Ann Anderson: "Senator Drew, this bill--we've talked in committee a lot and I am always kind of nervous when we get a striker on the floor that we have never seen before. Can you point out the key reasons we needed a striker rather than to come in with just a couple amendments to the underlying bill?"

Senator Drew: "Certainly, the underlying bill simply added 'wildlife agents' to receive the same benefits fisheries patrol officers currently get and that is that they receive one-half of their salaries when relieved from active duty. We've used in the striker, the model of the state patrol which does include the deductions from Labor and Industries, which does include the deductions if you are working on another job. So, it is not quite as. I guess you would say, as generous as is the old fisheries statute, so those who are currently fisheries agents would continue to receive that disability. This has been agreed to by the department and by the employees and I apologize for you not having seen the draft. I've seen probably about ten or twelve.”

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the striking amendment by Senators Owen, Drew and Oke to Senate Bill No. 5409.

The motion by Senator Drew carried and the striking amendment was adopted:

The legislature finds that within any group of people there exists a need for guidelines for acceptable behavior and that, presumptively, the experience and maturity (that) of parents make them better (qualified for establishing) qualified to establish guidelines beneficial to and protective of (individual members and the group as a whole than are youth and inexperience) their children. The legislature further finds that it is the right and responsibility of adults to establish laws for the benefit and protection of the society; and that, in the same manner, the right and responsibility for establishing reasonable guidelines for the family unit belongs to the adults within that unit. Further, absent abuse or neglect, parents should have the right to exercise control over their children. The legislature reaffirms its position stated in RCW 13.34.020 that the family unit is the fundamental resource of American life which should be nurtured and that it should remain intact in the absence of compelling evidence to the contrary.

The legislature recognizes there is a need for services and assistance for parents and children who are in conflict. These conflicts are manifested by children who exhibit various behaviors including: Running away, substance abuse, serious acting out problems, mental health needs, and other behaviors that endanger themselves or others.

The legislature finds many parents do not know their rights regarding their adolescent children and law enforcement. Parents and courts feel they have insufficient legal recourse for the chronic runaway child who is endangering himself or herself through his or her behavior. The legislature further recognizes that for chronic runaways whose behavior puts them in serious danger of harming themselves or others, secure facilities must be provided to allow opportunities for assessment, treatment, and to assist parents and protect their children. The legislature intends to give tools to parents, courts, and law enforcement to keep families together and reunite them whenever possible.

The legislature finds many parents do not know their rights regarding their adolescent children and law enforcement. Parents and courts feel they have insufficient legal recourse for the chronic runaway child who is endangering himself or herself through his or her behavior. The legislature further recognizes that for chronic runaways whose behavior puts them in serious danger of harming themselves or others, secure facilities must be provided to allow opportunities for assessment, treatment, and to assist parents and protect their children. The legislature intends to give tools to parents, courts, and law enforcement to keep families together and reunite them whenever possible."

Sec. 2. ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5439, as amended, is declared passed.
The legislature recognizes that some children run away to protect themselves from abuse or neglect in their homes. Abused and neglected children should be dealt with pursuant to chapter 13.34 RCW and it is not the intent of the legislature to handle dependency matters under this chapter.

The legislature intends services offered under this chapter be on a voluntary basis whenever possible to children and their families and that the courts be used as a last resort.

The legislature intends to increase the safety of children through the preservation of families and the provision of assessment, treatment, and placement services for children in need of services and at-risk youth. Within available funds, the legislature intends to provide these services through crisis residential centers in which children and youth may safely reside for a limited period of time. The time in residence shall be used to conduct an assessment of the needs of the children, youth, and their families. The assessments are necessary to identify appropriate services and placement options that will reduce the likelihood that children will place themselves in dangerous or life-threatening situations.

The legislature recognizes that crisis residential centers provide an opportunity for children to receive short-term necessary support and nurturing in cases where there may be abuse or neglect. The legislature intends that center staff provide an atmosphere of concern, care, and respect for children in the center and their parents.

(1) A law enforcement officer shall take a child into custody:

(a) If a law enforcement agency has been contacted by the parent of the child that the child is absent from parental custody without consent; or

(4) If a law enforcement agency has been notified by the juvenile court that the court finds probable cause exists to believe that the child has run away from parental custody or, if not available or within a reasonable distance, to a semi-secure crisis residential center if a secure crisis residential center is full or is not available and location of appropriate services available in their community.

(7) No child may be placed in a secure crisis residential center except as provided in this chapter.

Sec. 6. RCW 13.32A.060 and 1994 sp.s. c 7 s 506 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) An officer taking a child into custody under RCW 13.32A.050 (1) (a) or (b) shall inform the child of the reason for such custody and shall either:

(a) Transport the child to his or her home or to a parent at his or her place of employment, if no parent is at home. The officer releasing a child into the custody of the parent shall inform the parent of the reason for the taking of the child into custody and shall inform the child and the parent of the nature and location of appropriate services available in their community. The parent may direct the officer to take the child to the home of an adult extended family member, responsible adult, or a licensed youth shelter. The officer releasing a child into the custody of an adult extended family member, responsible adult, or a licensed youth shelter shall inform the child and the person receiving the child of the availability and location of appropriate services available in the community; or

(i) If the child expresses fear or distress at the prospect of being returned to his or her home which leads the officer to believe there is a possibility that the child is experiencing (in the home) some type of child abuse or neglect, as defined in RCW 26.44.020 ((as now law or hereafter amended)); or

(ii) If it is not practical to transport the child to his or her home or place of the parent’s employment; or

(2) An officer taking a child into custody under RCW 13.32A.050 ((1)) (1) (c) or ((4)) (d) shall inform the child of the reason for custody, and shall take the child to a designated secure crisis residential center or, if not available or within a reasonable distance, to a semi-secure crisis residential center, licensed by the department and established pursuant to chapter 74.13 RCW. However, an officer taking a child into custody under RCW 13.32A.050 (c) may place the child in a juvenile detention facility as provided in RCW 13.32A.065. The department shall ensure that all the law enforcement authorities are informed on a regular basis as to the location of (the) all designated secure and semi-secure crisis residential (center or) centers in their (judicial district) jurisdiction, where children taken into custody under RCW 13.32A.050 may be taken.
NEW SECTION.
Sec. 8. A new section is added to chapter 13.32A RCW to read as follows:

The parents of a child placed in a secure crisis residential center shall contribute fifty dollars per day, for not more than five consecutive days, for the expense of the child's placement. However, the secretary may establish a payment schedule that requires a lesser payment based on a parent's ability to pay. The payment shall be made to the department. No child may be denied placement in, or removed from, a secure crisis residential center based solely on the income of the parent.

Sec. 9. RCW 13.32A.090 and 1990 c 276 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A law enforcement officer acting in good faith pursuant to this chapter in failing to take a child into custody, in taking a child into custody, or in releasing a child to a person (other than the child in need of services) at the request of a parent (of such child) is immune from civil or criminal liability for such action.

(2) A person (other than a parent of such child who receives) with whom a child is placed pursuant to this chapter and who acts reasonably and in good faith (in doing so) is immune from civil or criminal liability for the act of receiving (such) the child. The immunity does not release (such) the person from liability under any other law (including the laws regulating licensed child care and prohibiting child abuse).

The department may remove the child under this chapter from, a secure crisis residential center pursuant to a temporary out placement (other than the child's regular school arrangement) if (1) the child has a relationship and is comfortable, and who is willing and available to care for the child; (2) a parent (of such child) is immune from civil or criminal liability for such action.
(3) At no time shall information regarding a parent's or child's rights be withheld (if requested). The department shall develop and distribute to all law enforcement agencies and to each crisis residential center administrator a written statement delineating the services and rights. Every officer taking a child into custody shall provide the child and his or her parent(s) or responsible adult with whom the child is placed with a copy of the statement. In addition, the administrator of the facility or his or her designee shall provide every resident and parent with a copy of the statement.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. A new section is added to chapter 13.32A RCW to read as follows:

(1) The administrator of a crisis residential center may convene a multidisciplinary team at the request of a child placed at the center or the child's parent. If the administrator has reasonable cause to believe that a child is a child in need of services and the parent is unavailable or unwilling to continue efforts to maintain the family structure, the administrator shall immediately convene a multidisciplinary team. The parent may disband the team at any time unless the court has ordered an out-of-home placement pursuant to section 18(3) of this act. Upon the filing of an at-risk youth or dependency petition, the team shall cease to exist unless the parent requests continuation of the team.

(2) The secretary shall request participation of appropriate state agencies in the multidisciplinary teams. Those agencies that agree to participate shall provide the secretary all information necessary to facilitate forming a multidisciplinary team and the secretary shall provide this information to the administrator of each crisis residential center.

(3) The secretary shall designate within each region a department employee who shall have responsibility for coordination of the state response to a request for creation of a multidisciplinary team. The secretary shall advise the administrator of each crisis residential center of the name of the appropriate employee. Upon a request of the administrator to form a multidisciplinary team the employee shall provide a list of the agencies that have agreed to participate in the multidisciplinary team.

(4) The administrator shall also seek participation from representatives of mental health and drug and alcohol treatment providers as appropriate.

(5) A parent shall be advised of the request to form a multidisciplinary team and may select additional members of the multidisciplinary team. The parent or child may request any person or persons to participate including, but not limited to, educators, law enforcement personnel, court personnel, family therapists, licensed health care practitioners, social service providers, youth residential placement providers, other family members, church representatives, and members of their own community. The administrator shall assist in obtaining the prompt participation of persons requested by the parent or child.

(6) When an administrator of a crisis residential center requests the formation of a team, the state agencies must respond as soon as possible. The team shall have the authority to evaluate the juvenile, and family members, if appropriate and agreed to by the parent, and shall:

(a) With parental input, develop a plan of appropriate available services and assist the family in obtaining those services;

(b) Make a referral to the designated chemical dependency specialist or the county designated mental health professional, if appropriate;

(c) Recommend no further intervention because the juvenile and his or her family have resolved the problem causing the family conflict; or

(d) With the parent's consent, work with them to achieve reconciliation of the child and family.

(7) The purpose of the multidisciplinary team is to assist in a coordinated referral of the family to available social and health-related services.

(8) At the first meeting of the multidisciplinary team, it shall choose a member to coordinate the team's efforts. The parent member of the multidisciplinary team must agree with the choice of coordinator. The team shall meet or communicate as often as necessary to assist the family.

(9) The coordinator of the multidisciplinary team may assist in filing a child in need of services petition when requested by the parent or child or an at-risk youth petition when requested by the parent. The multidisciplinary team shall have no standing as a party in any action under this title.

(10) If the administrator is unable to contact the child's parent, the multidisciplinary team may be used for assistance. If the parent has not been contacted within five days the administrator shall contact the department and request the case be reviewed for a dependency filing under chapter 13.34 RCW.

Sec. 13. RCW 13.32A.140 and 1990 c 276 s 9 are each amended to read as follows:

The department shall file a child in need of services petition to approve an (alternative residential) out-of-home placement on behalf of a child under any of the following sets of circumstances:

(1) The child has been admitted to a crisis residential center or has been placed with a responsible person other than his or her parent, and:

(a) The parent has been notified that the child was so admitted or placed;

(b) Seventy-two hours, including Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays, have passed since such notification;

(c) No agreement between the parent and the child as to where the child shall live has been reached;

(d) No child in need of services petition (requesting approval of an alternative residential placement) has been filed by either the child or parent (or legal custodian);

(e) The parent has not filed an at-risk youth petition; and

(f) The child has no suitable place to live other than the home of his or her parent.

(2) The child has been admitted to a crisis residential center and:

(a) Seventy-two hours, including Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays, have passed since such placement;

(b) The staff, after searching with due diligence, have been unable to contact the parent of such child; and

(c) The child has no suitable place to live other than the home of his or her parent.

(3) An agreement between parent and child made pursuant to RCW 13.32A.090(2)(e) or pursuant to RCW 13.32A.120(1) is no longer acceptable to parent or child, and:

(a) The party to whom the arrangement is no longer acceptable has so notified the department;

(b) Seventy-two hours, including Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays, have passed since such notification;

(c) No new agreement between parent and child as to where the child shall live has been reached;

(d) No child in need of services petition (requesting approval of an alternative residential placement) has been filed by either the child or the parent;

(e) The parent has not filed an at-risk youth petition; and

(f) The child has no suitable place to live other than the home of his or her parent.
Under the circumstances of subsections (1), (2), or (3) of this section, the child shall remain in (a licensed child care facility, including but not limited to a crisis residential center, or in any other suitable residence to be determined by the department and the court)).

(1) Except as otherwise provided in this (section) chapter, the juvenile court shall not accept the filing of (an alternative residential placement) a child in need of services petition by the child or the parents or the filing of an at-risk youth petition by the parent, unless verification is provided that a family assessment has been completed by the department. The family assessment shall be aimed at family reconciliation and avoidance of the out-of-home placement of the child. If the department is unable to complete an assessment within two working days following a request for assessment the child or the parents may proceed under subsection (2) of this section or the parent may proceed under ((subsection (3) of this)) section 22 of this act.

(2) A child or a child's parent may file with the juvenile court a child in need of services petition to approve an (alternative residential placement) a child in need of services petition by the child or the department on behalf of the child (outside the home)). The department shall, when requested, assist either a parent or the child in the filing of the petition. The petition shall only ask that the placement of a child outside the home of his or her parent be approved. The filing of a petition to approve (such) the placement is not dependent upon the court's having obtained any prior jurisdiction over the child or his or her parent, and confers upon the court a special jurisdiction to approve or disapprove an (alternative residential) out-of-home placement.

((1) A child's parent may file with the juvenile court a petition in the interest of a child alleged to be an at-risk youth. The department shall, when requested, assist the parent in filing the petition. The petition shall be filed in the county where the petitioning parent resides. The petition shall set forth the name, age, and residence of the child and the name and residence of the child's parents and shall allege that:

(a) The child is an at-risk youth as defined in this chapter;
(b) The petitioning parent has the right to legal custody of the child;
(c) Court intervention and supervision are necessary to assist the parent to maintain the care, custody, and control of the child; and
(d) Alternative to court intervention have been attempted or there is good cause why such alternatives have not been attempted.

The petition shall set forth facts that support the allegations in this subsection and shall generally request relief available under this chapter. The petition need not specify any proposed disposition following adjudication of the petition. The filing of an at-risk youth petition is not dependent upon the court's having obtained any prior jurisdiction over the child or his or her parent and confers upon the court the special jurisdiction to approve or disapprove the filing of an alternative residential placement petition regarding the child or if the child is the subject of a proceeding under chapter 13.24 RCW. A petition may be accepted for filing only if alternatives to court intervention have been attempted. Juvenile court personnel may screen all at-risk youth petitions and may refuse to allow the filing of any petition that lacks merit, fails to comply with the requirements of this section, or fails to allege sufficient facts in support of allegations in the petition.))

Sec. 14. RCW 13.32A.150 and 1992 c 205 s 208 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) When a proper child in need of services petition to approve an (alternative residential) out-of-home placement is filed under RCW 13.32A.120, 13.32A.140, or 13.32A.150 the juvenile court shall: (a) Schedule a (fact-finding) a fact-finding hearing to be held within three judicial days after the filing of the petition by the child or the department; (b) notify the parent of the right to be represented by counsel and, if indigent, to have counsel appointed for him or her by the court; (c) appoint legal counsel for the child; (d) inform the child and his or her parent of the legal consequences of the court approving or disapproving an (alternative residential) out-of-home placement petition; (e) notify the parents of their rights under this chapter and chapters 11.88, 13.34, 70.96A, and 71.34 RCW, including the right to file an at-risk youth petition, the right to submit on application for admission of their child to a treatment facility, alcohol dependency, or mental health treatment, and the right to file a guardianship petition; and (f) notify all parties, including the department, of their right to present evidence at the fact-finding hearing.

(2) Upon filing of (an alternative residential placement) a child in need of services petition, the child may be placed, if not already placed, by the department in a crisis residential center, foster family home, group home facility licensed under chapter 74.15 RCW, or any other suitable residence to be determined by the department.

(3) If the child has been placed in a foster family home or group care facility under chapter 74.15 RCW, the child shall remain there, or in any other suitable residence as determined by the department, pending resolution of the ((alternative residential placement)) petition by the court. Any placement may be reviewed by the court within three (court) judicial days upon the request of the juvenile or the juvenile's parent.

Sec. 16. RCW 13.32A.170 and 1989 c 269 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The court shall hold a fact-finding hearing to consider a proper petition and may approve or deny (an alternative residential) an out-of-home placement giving due weight to the intent of the legislature that families have the right to place reasonable restrictions and rules upon their children, appropriate to the individual child's developmental level. The court may appoint legal counsel and/or a guardian ad litem to represent the child and advise parents of their right to be represented by legal counsel. The court may approve an order stating that the child shall be placed in a residence other than the home of his or her parent only if it is established that the public interest requires the taking of the child into the family, including the need for additional children's services, and that the court has considered all the factors in subsection (2) of this section.

(2) (The order approving out-of-home placement shall direct the department to submit a disposition plan for a three-month placement of the child that is designed to reunite the family and resolve the family conflict. Such plan shall delineate any conditions or limitations on parental involvement. In making the order, the court shall further direct the department to make recommendations, as to which agency or person... should have physical custody of the child, as to which parental powers should be awarded to such agency or person, and as to parental visitation rights. The court may direct the department to consider the cultural heritage of the child in making its recommendations.

RCW 13.32A.175 and 1987 c 435 s 13 are each amended to read as follows:

(4) If the department approves or denies a petition for an alternative residential placement, a written statement of the reasons shall be filed. If the court denies a petition requesting that a child be placed in a residence other than the home of his or her parent, the court shall enter an order requiring the child to remain at or return to the home of his or her parent. If the court approves a petition for an alternative residential placement, the court shall either order the child to remain at or return to the home of his or her parent or order the department for a three-month disposition plan shall be set no later than fourteen days after the approval of the court of a petition to approve alternative residential placement. Each party shall be notified of the time and place of such disposition hearing.

(5) If the court denies the petition, the court shall impress upon the party filing the petition of the legislative intent to restrict the proceedings to situations where a family conflict is so great that it cannot be resolved by the provision of in home services.

(6) A child who fails to comply with a court order directing that the child remain at or return to the home of his or her parent shall be subject to contempt proceedings, as provided in this chapter, but only if the noncompliance occurs within ninety calendar days after the entry of the order.

(7) The department may request, and the juvenile court may grant, dismissal of an alternative residential placement order when it is not feasible for the department to provide services due to one or more of the following circumstances:

(a) The child has been absent from court approved placement for thirty consecutive days or more;
(b)(i) the child, or any of the child's dependents, refuses to cooperate in available, appropriate intervention aimed at reuniting the family; or
(c)(c) the department has exhausted all available and appropriate resources that would result in reunification.

Following the fact-finding hearing the court shall: (a) Enter a temporary out-of-home placement for a period not to exceed fourteen days pending approval of a disposition decision to be made under section 18(2) of this act; (b) approve an at-risk youth petition filed by the parents; (c) dismiss the petition; or (d) order the department to review the case to determine whether the case is appropriate for a dependency petition under chapter 13.34 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. A new section is added to chapter 13.32A RCW to read as follows:

An alternative residential placement, the court shall inquire into the ability of parents to contribute to the child's support. If the court finds that the parents are able to contribute to the support of the child, the court shall order them to make such support payments as the court deems equitable. The court may enforce such an order by execution or in any way in which a court of equity may enforce its orders. However, payments shall not be required of a parent who has both opposed the placement and continuously sought reconciliation with, and the return of, the child. All orders entered in a proceeding approving (alternative residential) out-of-home placement shall be in compliance with the provisions of RCW 26.23.050.

Sec. 19. RCW 13.32A.177 and 1988 c 275 s 14 are each amended to read as follows:

A determination of ((child)) support payments ordered under RCW 13.32A.175 shall be based upon ((the child support schedule and standards adopted under)) chapter 26.19 RCW ((26.19.040)).

Sec. 20. RCW 13.32A.180 and 1979 c 155 s 32 are each amended to read as follows:

1. (At a dispositional hearing held to consider the three-month dispositional plan presented by the department the court shall consider all such recommendations included therein. The court, consistent with the stated goal of resolving the family conflict and reuniting the family, may modify such plan and shall make a dispositional order (plan) If the court orders a three-month out-of-home placement for the child, the court (dispositional order(s)) shall specify the person or agency with whom the child shall be placed, those parental powers which will be temporarily awarded to such agency or person including but not limited to the right to authorize medical, dental, and optical treatment, and parental visitation rights. Any agency or residence at which the child is placed must, at a minimum, comply with minimum standards for licensed family foster homes.

2. No placement made pursuant to this section may be in a secure residence as defined by the federal Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act of 1974 ((and clarifying interpretations and regulations promulgated thereunder)).

3. RCW 13.32A.190 and 1989 c 269 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Upon making a dispositional order under ((RCW 13.32A.180)) section 18 of this act, the court shall schedule the matter on the calendar for review within three months, advise the parties of the date thereof, appoint legal counsel and/or a guardian ad litem to represent the child at the review hearing, advise parents of their right to be represented by legal counsel at the review hearing, and notify the parties of their rights to present evidence at the hearing. Where resources are available, the court shall encourage the parent and child to participate in ((mediation)) programs for reconciliation of their conflict.

(2) If the review hearing is continued, the court may modify the dispositional plan or disapprove the continuation of the dispositional plan in accordance with the goal of resolving the conflict and reuniting the family which governed the initial approval of this chapter. The court shall determine whether reasonable efforts have been made to reunify the family and make it possible for the child to return home. The court ((is authorized to)) shall discontinue the placement and order that the child return home if the court has reasonable grounds to believe that the parents have made reasonable efforts to utilize services and resolve the conflict and the court has reason to believe that the child's refusal to return home is capricious. If out-of-home placement is continued, the court may modify the dispositional plan.

(3) Out-of-home placement may not be continued past one hundred eighty days from the date the review hearing commenced. The court shall ((order)) the child to return to the home of the parent at the expiration of the placement. If ((continued)) an out-of-home placement is discontinued prior to one hundred eighty days, the court shall enter an order requiring ((that)) the child to return to the home of the child's parent. The court shall order ((that)) the child to reside in the home of the parent at the expiration of the placement. If ((continued)) an out-of-home placement is continued, the court may modify the dispositional plan.

(4) The parents and the department may request, and the juvenile court may grant, dismissal of an out-of-home placement order when it is not feasible for the department to provide services due to one or more of the following circumstances:
   (a) The child has been absent from court approved placement for thirty consecutive days or more;
   (b) The parents or the child, or all of them, refuse to cooperate with the court to maintain the care, custody, and control of the child; and
   (c) Alternatives to out-of-home placement have been attempted or there is good cause why such alternatives have not been attempted.

The child or the parent may request a review of the child's placement made under this section upon the request of a parent unless the placement is made pursuant to section 18(3) of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. A new section is added to chapter 13.32A RCW to read as follows:

(1) A child's parent may file with the juvenile court a petition in the interest of a child alleged to be an at-risk youth. The department shall, when requested, assist the parent in filing the petition. The petition shall be filed in the county where the petitioner resides. The petition shall set forth the name, age, and residence of the child and the names and residence of the child's parents and shall allege that:
   (a) The child is an at-risk youth as defined in this chapter;
   (b) The petition has the right to legal custody of the child;
   (c) Court intervention and supervision are necessary to assist the parent to maintain the care, custody, and control of the child; and
   (d) Alternatives to court intervention have been attempted or there is good cause why such alternatives have not been attempted.

The petition need not specify any proposed disposition following adjudication of the petition. The filing of an at-risk youth petition is not dependent upon the court's having obtained any prior jurisdiction over the child or his or her parent and confers upon the court the special jurisdiction to assist the parent in maintaining parental authority and responsibility for the child.

(2) A petition may not be filed if a dependency petition is pending under chapter 13.34 RCW.

Sec. 23. RCW 13.32A.192 and 1990 c 276 s 12 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) When a proper at-risk youth petition is filed by a child's parent under ((RCW 13.32A.120 or 13.32A.150)) this chapter, the juvenile court shall:
   (a) Schedule a fact-finding hearing to be held within three judicial days and notify the parent and the child of such date;
   (b) Notify the parent of the right to be represented by counsel at the parent's own expense;
   (c) Appoint legal counsel for the child;
   (d) Inform the child and his or her parent of the legal consequences of the court finding the child to be an at-risk youth; and
   (e) Notify the parent and the child of their rights to present evidence at the fact-finding hearing.

(2) Unless out-of-home placement of the child is otherwise authorized or required by law, the child shall reside in the home of his or her parent or in an (alternative residential) out-of-home placement approved by the parent.

The department has exhausted all available and appropriate resources that would result in reunification of the family.

(3) If upon sworn written or oral declaration of the petitioning parent, the court has reason to believe that a child has willfully and knowingly violated a court ordered pursuant to subsection (2) of this section, the court may issue an order directing law enforcement to take the child into custody and place the child in a juvenile detention facility or in a secure crisis residential center ((licensed by the department and established pursuant to chapter 74.13 RCW)). If the child is placed in detention, a review shall be held as provided in RCW 13.32A.065.

(4) If both ((an at-risk residential placement)) a child in need of services petition and an at-risk youth petition have been filed with regard to the same child, the petitions and proceedings shall be consolidated ((for purposes of fact-finding)) as an at-risk youth petition. Pending a fact-finding hearing regarding the petition, the child may be placed ((in the parent's home or in an out-of-home placement if not already placed)) in a temporary out-of-home placement ((as provided in RCW 13.32A.160 unless the court has previously entered an order requiring the child to reside in the home of his or her parent)). The child or the parent may request a review of the child's placement including a review of any court order requiring the child to reside in the parent's home. ((At the review the court, in its discretion, may order the child placed in the parent's home or in an alternative residential placement pending the hearing.))

Sec. 24. RCW 13.32A.194 and 1990 c 276 s 13 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The court shall hold a fact-finding hearing to consider a proper at-risk youth petition. The court ((may)) shall grant the petition and enter an order finding the child to be an at-risk youth if the allegations in the petition are established by a preponderance of the evidence. The court shall not enter such an order if the court has approved an alternative residential placement petition regarding the child or if ((4)), unless the child is the subject of a proceeding under chapter 13.34 RCW. If the petition is granted, the court shall enter an order requiring the child to reside in the home of his or her parent or ((in an alternative residential placement approved by the parent)) in an out-of-home placement as provided in RCW 13.32A.192.

(2) The court may order the department to submit a dispositional plan if such a plan would assist the court in ordering a suitable disposition in the case. The court orders the department to prepare a plan, the department shall provide copies of the plan to the parent, the child, and the court. If the parties or the court desire the department to be involved in any future proceedings or case plan development, the department shall be provided timely notification of all court hearings.

A dispositional hearing shall be held no later than fourteen days after the court has granted an at-risk youth petition. Each party shall be notified of the time and date of the hearing.
(4) If the court grants or denies an at-risk youth petition, a statement of the written reasons shall be entered into the records. If the court denies an at-risk youth petition, the court shall verbally advise the parties that the child is required to remain within the care, custody, and control of his or her parent.

Sec. 25. RCW 13.32A.196 and 1991 c 364 s 14 are each amended to read as follows:

1. At the dispositional hearing regarding an adjudicated at-risk youth, the court shall consider the recommendations of the parties and the recommendations of any dispositional plan submitted by the department. The court may enter a dispositional order that will assist the parent in maintaining the care, custody, and control of the child and assist the family to resolve family conflicts or problems.

2. The court may set conditions of supervision for the child that include:
   (a) Regular school attendance;
   (b) Counseling;
   (c) Participation in a substance abuse or mental health outpatient treatment program;
   (d) Reporting on a regular basis to the department or any other designated person or agency; and
   (e) Any other condition the court deems an appropriate condition of supervision including but not limited to: Employment, participation in an anger management program, and refraining from using alcohol or drugs.

3. No dispositional order or condition of supervision ordered by a court pursuant to this section shall include involuntary commitment of a child for substance abuse or mental health treatment.

4. The court may order the parent to participate in counseling services or any other services for the child requiring parental participation. The parent shall cooperate with the court-ordered case plan and shall take necessary steps to help implement the case plan. The parent shall be financially responsible for costs related to the court-ordered plan; however, this requirement shall not affect the eligibility of the parent or child for public assistance or other benefits to which the parent or child may otherwise be entitled.

5. The parent may request dismissal of an at-risk youth proceeding or out-of-home placement at any time and upon such a request, the court shall dismiss the matter and cease court supervision of the child unless a contempt action is pending in the case. The court may retain jurisdiction over the matter for the purpose of concluding any pending contempt proceedings, including the full satisfaction of any penalties imposed as a result of a contempt finding.

(1) The court may order the department to monitor compliance with the dispositional order, assist in coordinating the provision of court-ordered services, and submit reports at subsequent review hearings regarding the status of the case.

Sec. 26. RCW 13.32A.250 and 1990 c 276 s 16 are each amended to read as follows:

1. In all (alternative residential placement) child in need of services proceedings and at-risk youth proceedings, the court shall verbally notify the parents and the child of the possibility of a finding of contempt for failure to comply with the terms of a court order entered pursuant to this chapter. The court shall treat the parents and the child equally for the purposes of applying contempt of court processes and penalties under this section.

2. Failure by a party to comply with an order entered under this chapter is a contempt of court as provided in chapter 7.21 RCW, subject to the limitations of subsection (1) of this section.

3. The court may impose a fine of up to one hundred dollars and imprisonment for up to seven days, or both for contempt of court under this section.

4. A child imprisoned for contempt under this section shall be imprisoned only in a secure juvenile detention facility operated by or pursuant to a contract with a county.

5. A motion for contempt may be made by a parent, a child, juvenile court personnel, or by any public agency, organization, or person having custody of the child under a court order adopted pursuant to this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 27. A new section is added to chapter 13.32A RCW to read as follows:

No superior court may refuse to accept for filing a properly completed and presented child in need of services petition or an at-risk youth petition. To be properly presented, the petitioner shall verify that the family assessment report required by RCW 13.32A.150 has been completed. In the event of an improper refusal that is appealed and reversed, the petitioner shall be awarded actual damages, costs, and attorneys' fees.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 28. A new section is added to chapter 13.32A RCW to read as follows:

1. Any person who provides shelter to a child for at least six consecutive hours and who has reasonable cause to believe that the child is absent from his or her home without permission shall, not later than the end of the six-hour period:

   (b) Notify the law enforcement agency of the jurisdiction in which the person lives if (i) the parent cannot be located; (ii) the parent declines to take custody of the child; or (iii) a placement order has been entered under this chapter; or
   (c) Notify the department.

2. If a person provides the notices required in this section he or she is immune from liability for any cause of action arising from providing shelter to the child. The immunity shall not extend to acts of intentional misconduct or gross negligence by the person providing the shelter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 29. A new section is added to chapter 13.32A RCW to read as follows:

Upon the admissions of a child to a crisis residential center the administrator of the facility shall request the department to provide:

1. The name of any sibling of the child who has been: (a) Placed under the jurisdiction of the juvenile rehabilitation administration; or (b) subject to a proceeding under chapter 13.34 RCW; and (2) information regarding whether the child has run away multiple times.

The department shall provide the information as soon as feasible. The administrator may utilize the information in assessing the needs of the child but a petition filed under this chapter may not be based solely on this information.

Sec. 30. RCW 13.04.030 and 1994 sp.s. c 7 s 519 are each amended to read as follows:

1. Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section, the juvenile courts in the several counties of this state, shall have exclusive original jurisdiction over all proceedings:

(i) The juvenile court transfers jurisdiction of a particular juvenile to adult criminal court pursuant to RCW 13.40.110; or

(ii) The statute of limitations applicable to adult prosecution for the offense, traffic infraction, or violation has expired; or

(iii) The alleged offense or infraction is a traffic, fish, boating, or game offense or traffic infraction committed by a juvenile sixteen years of age or older and would, if committed by an adult, be tried or heard in a court of limited jurisdiction, in which instance the appropriate court of limited jurisdiction shall have jurisdiction over the alleged offense or infraction: PROVIDED, That if such an alleged offense or infraction and an alleged offense or infraction subject to juvenile court jurisdiction arise out of the same event or incident, the juvenile court may have jurisdiction of both matters: PROVIDED FURTHER, That the jurisdiction under this subsection does not constitute "transfer" or a "decline" for purposes of RCW 13.40.110(1) or (c) of this subsection: PROVIDED FURTHER, That courts of limited jurisdiction which confine juveniles for an alleged offense or infraction may place juveniles in juvenile detention facilities under an agreement with the officials responsible for the administration of the juvenile detention facility in RCW 13.04.035 and 13.20.060; or

If the criminal history consists of adjudications entered upon a plea of guilty, the state shall not bear a burden of establishing the knowing and voluntariness of the plea;

(f) Under the interstate compact on juveniles as provided in chapter 13.24 RCW;

(g) Relating to termination of a diversion agreement under RCW 13.40.080, including a proceeding in which the divertee has attained eighteen years of age; and

The family court shall have concurrent original jurisdiction with the juvenile court over all proceedings under this section if the superior court judges of a county authorize concurrent jurisdiction as provided in RCW 26.12.010.

The administrator shall, in any county or judicial district in the state, appoint or designate one or more persons of good character to serve as probation counselors during the pleasure of the administrator. The probation counselor shall:

In developing this plan, the department shall work with service providers, community leaders, representatives of different cultural communities, businesses, educational institutions,

In developing this plan, the department shall identify existing local and state services and barriers to those services for children. The plan for intensive treatment services, to the extent possible, shall build upon those existing resources.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 34. A new section is added to chapter 13.32A RCW to read as follows:

Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to create an entitlement to services nor to create judicial authority to order the provision at public expense of services to any person or family where the department has determined that such services are unavailable or unsuitable or that the child or family are not eligible for such services.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 35. A new section is added to chapter 13.32A RCW to read as follows:

In approving a petition under this chapter, a child may be placed in a semi-secure crisis residential center as a temporary out-of-home placement under the following conditions: (1) No other suitable out-of-home placement is available; (2) space is available in the semi-secure crisis residential center; and (3) no child will be denied access for a five-day placement due to this placement.

Any child referred to a semi-secure crisis residential center by a law enforcement officer, the department, or himself or herself shall have priority over a temporary out-of-home placement in the facility. Any out-of-home placement order shall be subject to this priority, and the administrator of the semi-secure crisis residential center shall transfer the temporary out-of-home placement youth to a new out-of-home placement as necessary for youth needing the semi-secure crisis residential center.

Sec. 36. RCW 70.96A.090 and 1990 c 151 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The department shall adopt rules establishing standards for approved treatment programs, the process for the review and inspection program applying to the department for certification as an approved treatment program, and fixing the fees to be charged by the department for the required inspections. The standards may concern the health standards to be met and standards of services and treatment to be afforded patients.

(2) The department may suspend, revoke, limit, restrict, or modify an approval, or refuse to grant approval, for failure to meet the provisions of this chapter, or the standards adopted under this chapter. RCW 43.20A.205 governs notice of a license denial, revocation, suspension, or modification and provides the right to an adjudicative proceeding.

(3) No treatment program may advertise or represent itself as an approved treatment program if approval has not been granted, has been denied, suspended, revoked, or canceled.

(4) Certification as an approved treatment program is effective for one calendar year from the date of issuance of the certificate. The certification shall specify the types of services provided by the approved treatment program that meet the standards adopted under this chapter. Renewal of certification shall be made in accordance with this section for initial approval and in accordance with the standards set forth in rules adopted by the secretary.

(5) Approved treatment programs shall not provide alcoholism or other drug addiction treatment services for which the approved treatment program has not been certified. Approved treatment programs may provide services for which approval has been sought and is pending, if approval for the services has not been previously revoked or denied.

(6) The department periodically shall inspect approved public and private treatment programs at reasonable times and in a reasonable manner.

(7) The department shall maintain and periodically publish a current list of approved treatment programs.

(8) Each approved treatment program shall file with the department on request, data, statistics, schedules, and information the department reasonably requires. An approved treatment program that without good cause fails to furnish any data, statistics, schedules, or information as requested, or files fraudulent returns thereof, may be removed from the list of approved treatment programs, and its certification revoked or suspended.

(9) The department shall use the data provided in subsection (8) of this section to evaluate each program in terms of rates of successful treatment of drug or alcohol abuse. The evaluation shall be done at least once every twelve months. In addition, the department shall randomly select and review the information on individual children who are admitted on application of the child's parent for the purpose of determining whether the child was appropriately placed into treatment based on an objective evaluation of the child's condition and the success of the child's treatment.

(10) Upon petition of the department and after a hearing held upon reasonable notice to the facility, the superior court may issue a warrant to an officer or employee of the department authorizing him or her to enter and inspect at reasonable times, and examine the books and accounts of, any approved public or private treatment program refusing to consent to inspection or examination by the department or which the department has reasonable cause to believe is operating in violation of this chapter.

(1) Any person ((fourteen)) thirteen years of age or older may give consent for himself or herself to the furnishing of counseling, care, treatment, or rehabilitation by a treatment program or by any person. Consent of the parent, parents, or legal guardian of a person less than eighteen years of age is not necessary to authorize the care, except that the person shall not become a resident of the treatment program without such permission except as provided in RCW 70.96A.120 or 70.96A.140. The parent, parents, or legal guardian of a person less than eighteen years of age are not liable for payment of care for such persons pursuant to this chapter, unless they have joined in the consent to the counseling, care, treatment, or rehabilitation.

(2) The parent of any minor child may apply to an approved treatment program for the admission of his or her minor child for purposes authorized in this chapter. The consent of the minor child shall not be required for the application or admission. The approved treatment program shall accept the application and evaluate the child for admission. The ability of a parent to apply to an approved treatment program for the admission of his or her minor child does not create a right to obtain or benefit from any funds or resources of the state.

Sec. 38. RCW 71.34.030 and 1985 c 354 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Any minor thirteen years or older may request and receive outpatient treatment without the consent of the minor's parent. Parental authorization is required for outpatient treatment of a minor under the age of thirteen.

(2) When in the judgment of the professional person in charge of an evaluation and treatment facility there is reason to believe that a minor is in need of inpatient treatment because of a mental disorder, and the facility provides the type of evaluation and treatment needed by the minor, and it is not feasible to treat the minor in any less restrictive setting or the minor's home, the minor may be admitted to an evaluation and treatment facility in accordance with the following requirements:

(a) ((A minor under thirteenth years of age may only be admitted on the application of the minor's parent.))
(a) A minor ((thirteen years or older)) may be voluntarily admitted by application of the parent. ((Such application must be accompanied by the written consent, knowingly and voluntarily given, of the minor.)) The consent of the minor is not required for the minor to be evaluated and admitted as appropriate.

(b) A minor thirteen years or older, with the concurrence of the professional person in charge of an evaluation and treatment facility, admit himself or herself without parental consent to the evaluation and treatment facility, provided that notice is given by the facility to the minor's parent in accordance with the following requirements:

(i) Notice of the minor's admission shall be in the form most likely to reach the parent within twenty-four hours of the minor's voluntary admission and shall advise the parent that the minor has been admitted to inpatient treatment; the location and telephone number of the facility providing such treatment; and the name of a professional person on the staff of the facility providing treatment who is designated to discuss the minor's need for inpatient treatment with the parent.

(ii) The minor shall be released to the parent at the parent's request for release unless the facility files a petition with the superior court of the county in which treatment is being provided setting forth the basis for the facility's belief that the minor is in need of inpatient treatment and that release would constitute a threat to the minor's health or safety.

(iii) The petition shall be signed by the professional person in charge of the facility or that person's designee.

(iv) The parent may apply to the court for separate counsel to represent the parent if the parent cannot afford counsel.

(v) There shall be a hearing on the petition, which shall be held within three judicial days from the filing of the petition.

(vi) The hearing shall be conducted by a judge, court commissioner, or licensed attorney designated by the superior court as a hearing officer for such hearing. The hearing may be held at the treatment facility.

(vii) At such hearing, the facility must demonstrate by a preponderance of the evidence presented at the hearing that the minor is in need of inpatient treatment and that release would constitute a threat to the minor's health or safety. The hearing shall not be conducted using the rules of evidence, and the admission or exclusion of evidence sought to be presented shall be within the exercise of sound discretion by the judicial officer conducting the hearing.

(c) Written renewal of voluntary consent must be obtained from the applicant ((and the minor thirteen years or older)) no less than once every twelve months.

(d) The minor's need for continued inpatient treatments shall be reviewed and documented no less than every one hundred eighty days.

(3) A notice of intent to leave shall result in the following:

(a) Any minor under the age of thirteen must be discharged immediately upon written request of the parent.

(b) Any minor thirteen years or older voluntarily admitted may give notice of intent to leave at any time. The notice need not follow any specific form so long as it is written and the intent of the minor can be discerned.

(c) The staff member receiving the notice shall date it immediately, record its existence in the minor's clinical record, and send copies of it to the minor's attorney, if any, the county-designated mental health professional, and the parent.

(d) The professional person in charge of the evaluation and treatment facility shall discharge the minor, thirteen years or older, from the facility within twenty-four hours after receipt of the minor's notice of intent to leave, unless the county-designated mental health professional or a parent or legal guardian files a petition for initial detention within the time prescribed by this chapter.

(4) The ability of a parent to apply to a certified evaluation and treatment program for the involuntary admission of his or her minor child does not create a right to obtain or benefit from any funds or resources of the state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 39. A new section is added to chapter 71.34 RCW to read as follows:

The department shall randomly select and review the information on children who are admitted to in-patient treatment on application of the child's parent. The review shall determine whether the children reviewed were appropriately admitted into treatment based on an objective evaluation of the child's condition and the success of the child's treatment.

Sec. 40. RCW 74.13.031 and 1990 c 146 s 9 are each amended to read as follows:

((Provided, That (a)) No investigation is ((must)) required of nonaccidental injuries which are clearly not the result of a lack of care or supervision by the child's parents, legal custodians, or persons serving in loco parents. If (the) an investigation reveals that a crime may have been committed, the department shall notify the appropriate law enforcement agency.

(4) Offer, on a voluntary basis, family reconciliation services to families who are in conflict.

(5) Monitor out-of-home placements, on a timely and routine basis, to assure the safety, well-being, and quality of care being provided is within the scope of the intent of the legislature as defined in RCW 74.13.010 and 74.15.010, and annually submit a report delineating the results to the ((house and senate committees on social and health services)) legislature.

(6) Have authority to accept custody of children from parents and ((accept custody of children from juvenile courts, where authorized to do so under law, to provide child welfare services including placement for adoption, and to provide for the physical care of such children and make payment of maintenance costs if needed. Sec. 41. Sec. 40 is amended to read as follows:

A minor ((thirteen years or older)) may be voluntarily admitted by application of the parent. ((Such application must be accompanied by the written consent, knowingly and voluntarily given, of the minor.)) The consent of the minor is not required for the minor to be evaluated and admitted as appropriate.

(b) A minor thirteen years or older, with the concurrence of the professional person in charge of an evaluation and treatment facility, admit himself or herself without parental consent to the evaluation and treatment facility, provided that notice is given by the facility to the minor's parent in accordance with the following requirements:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature has enacted a large number of statutes conferring on boards, commissions, departments, and other agencies of the executive branch of government the authority to adopt rules to supplement and implement those statutes. The legislature has found that this delegation of its authority has resulted in rules being adopted without sufficient consideration of need, cost-effectiveness, conflict and duplication, and conformity with legislative intent. The legislature finds that it must provide a procedure for oversight and review of rules adopted under this delegation of legislative power to curtail excessive regulation and to establish a system of accountability so that a state agency must justify its use of regulatory authority before imposing undue costs on citizens that detrimentally affect the economy of Washington. It is the intent of sections 2 through 12 of this act to establish a method for early, continuing, and effective review, accountability, and oversight. It is the further intent of sections 2 through 12 of this act to provide for an initial thorough review by a commission with sufficient authority, expertise, independence, and time to perform that responsibility. It is the further intent of sections 2 through 12 of this act to provide review by the legislature of those rules disapproved by the commission. Sections 2 through 12 of this act are intended to provide a method of oversight and review of rules to assist the governor and the legislature in their supervisory and oversight functions.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. (1) The Washington independent regulatory review commission is created, to consist of five members to be known as commissioners. One member of the commission shall be appointed by the governor to serve at his or her pleasure, and one member each shall be appointed by the four caucuses of the legislature having the largest membership. No member of the legislature or any other officer or employee of state government may serve as a member of the commission. However, a commission member may serve on advisory boards and commissions, or on other boards and commissions that do not adopt any rules that may come before the commission for review under this chapter.

(2) Of the original members, the two members appointed by the house of representatives shall serve for initial terms of two years, and the two members appointed by the senate shall serve for initial terms of three years. Thereafter, each appointment is for a term of three years, and such appointments must be made in the same manner as the original appointments. From the time of original appointment to the commission, no commissioner may serve more than two full terms. A commissioner initially appointed to serve the remainder of an unexpired term is, in addition eligible to be appointed to, and to serve, two full terms.

(3) All vacancies must be filled, for the remainder of the unexpired term, in the same manner as original appointments. A commissioner, upon the expiration of his or her term, will continue to hold office until his or her successor is appointed.

(4) The commissioners shall be compensated in accordance with RCW 43.03.250. The commissioners are also entitled to reimbursement for travel and other necessary expenses incurred as a result of their duties as members of the commission. Commissioners are not eligible for state retirement under chapter 41.40 RCW by virtue of their service on the commission.

(5) Except as authorized under this section and except for the governor's appointee who serves at the governor's pleasure, no commissioner may be removed from office during his or her term. The governor may, with the approval by resolution of two-thirds of the members of the senate, upon clear and convincing evidence of misfeasance or malfeasance in office or neglect of duty, remove a commissioner before the expiration of the term. The governor shall provide the commissioner so removed with a detailed written statement of the reasons for the removal.

(6) No commissioner may participate in deliberations regarding a rule that significantly affects the operation or activities of an organization (except a nonprofit organization certified under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (Public Law 99-514, 26 U.S.C. Sec. 501(c)(3)) in which the commissioner holds a nonsalaried position) in which the commissioner, or any member of his or her immediate family, has a substantial economic interest or serves as an officer, director, trustee, partner, or employee. Within ninety days of appointment, and annually thereafter, each commissioner shall file with the public disclosure commission a statement of financial affairs under RCW 42.17.240. Before a vote upon a rule in which a commissioner feels he or she or any other commissioner has a potential conflict of interest, the commissioner shall disclose the potential conflict and request a ruling from the chairman of the commission upon the question of whether the potential conflict disqualifies the commissioner from voting on the rule. Any commissioner may challenge the ruling of the chairman, and in such case the question must be resolved by majority vote of the commission. The chairman or a majority of the commissioners may request the executive ethics board under RCW 42.52.360 to provide advice regarding conflicts of interest, and such advice, when given, is binding upon the commission.

(7) The commission shall elect a chairman, who shall serve for a term of two years and until his or her successor is elected. The chairman shall preside at meetings of the commission and shall execute documents relating to the formal actions of the commission.

(8) The commission shall meet at least once a month at such times and places as set by the chairman. Meetings are subject to chapter 42.30 RCW. A commissioner who fails to attend three consecutive meetings without cause shall be removed as a commissioner by the authority appointing that commissioner.

(9) The commission shall annually file a report of its activities of the prior year with the governor, the chief clerk of the house of representatives, and the secretary of the senate.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The commission shall appoint an executive director whose annual salary is determined under RCW 43.03.028. The executive director shall perform such duties and have such powers as the commission prescribes in order to implement and enforce sections 1 through 12 of this act. In addition to the performance of administrative duties, the commission may delegate to the executive director authority with respect to, but not limited to, determinations under sections 4 and 5 of this act. The delegation does not eliminate a party's right of appeal to the commission. In addition, the commission shall appoint a chief counsel who is not subject to the supervision of the attorney general and whose annual salary is determined under RCW 43.03.028. The commission shall employ or contract with such others as it may from time to time find necessary for the proper performance of its duties.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. (1) After receipt of the statement of inquiry under RCW 34.05.310, if the commission has reason to believe that the contemplated rule would violate the review criteria established in section 6(2) of this act, the commission shall notify the adopting agency of its concerns and the means whereby these concerns may be addressed.

(2) If an agency indicates in the statement of inquiry that it does not intend to provide an opportunity for interested parties to participate in the rule-making process before publication of the proposed rule under RCW 34.05.310(2), but the commission believes that such an opportunity may be appropriate, the commission shall so notify the agency. The notification does not create any obligation on the part of the agency. Upon request, the commission may assist an agency in facilitating the public participation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. After the commission receives the notice of proposed rule adoption under RCW 34.05.320:

(1) If the commission has reason to believe that the proposed rule would violate the review criteria established in section 6(2) of this act, the commission shall notify the adopting agency in writing of its concerns and the means whereby these concerns may be addressed;

(2) If the commission has reason to believe that the proposed rule would not violate the review criteria established in section 6(2) of this act, or if the review by the commission is otherwise not necessary to achieve the objectives of section 1 of this act, the commission may so notify the adopting agency. The commission shall submit a copy of this notification to the secretary of the senate and the chief clerk of the house of representatives, for distribution to the chairs of the appropriate standing committees.

The agency shall include any notification received under subsection (1) or (2) of this section, and any agency response in the rule-making file.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. (1) The commission shall approve without review under subsection (2) of this section: (a) A rule filed with it for which a preproposal statement of inquiry was not required under RCW 34.05.310; (b) a rule developed through the use of negotiated rule making under RCW 34.05.310 or involving pilot rule making under RCW 34.05.313 where the commission finds review of the rule is not necessary to achieve the objectives of section 1 of this act; and (c) a rule not subject to review in accordance with the notification given the agency under section 5(2) of this act.

(2) The commission shall review all rules filed with it that are not approved without review under subsection (1) of this section to determine the following:

(a) Whether the rule is within the statutory authority of the agency as expressed by the legislature when it enacted the statute upon which the rule is based. In formulating its determination, the commission shall solicit and consider written comments from the appropriate standing committees of the legislature and current members of the legislature and any pertinent opinions of the Washington courts.

(b) Whether, in adopting the rule, the agency has complied with all applicable provisions of law, including chapter 19.85 RCW and section 9 of this act.

(3) In reviewing rules filed with it, the commission shall give priority to those rules it has reason to believe are not within the statutory authority of the agency or that conflict with an existing federal or state law.

(4) The commission shall adopt rules governing the procedures it uses in reviewing rules filed with it. The rules must provide for an orderly review and specify the methods, standards, presumptions, and principles the commission uses, and the limitations it observes, in reviewing rules for compliance with the standards in subsection (2) of this section. The rules adopted by the commission must attempt to ensure: (a) Adequate and equal opportunity for all interested parties to participate in the rule review process; and (b) that the commission does not substitute its judgment for that of the rule-making agency as expressed in the substantive content of the rule under review.

(5) The commission and staff shall not accept comments regarding a rule under review within seventy-two hours before a commission meeting on that rule. The commission and staff shall note all documents, telephone calls, personal visits, or other communication regarding a rule under review and make it a part of the commission's public record.

(6) The commission may establish ad hoc advisory boards, including but not limited to, ad hoc economic or science advisory boards to assist it in the review of a rule.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. (1) By a majority vote of its members, the commission shall either approve a rule filed with it for review, and transmit it to the code reviser for filing, or disapprove it within forty-five working days after the rule has been filed with it for review. If the commission fails to act within forty-five days, the rule is deemed to have been approved, and the adopting agency may transmit it to the code reviser for filing.

(2) If the commission disapproves a rule, it shall return the rule to the adopting agency within the forty-five-day period specified in subsection (1) of this section, accompanied by a statement specifying the reasons for disapproval. Within seven days of the issuance of the notice, the commission shall provide the adopting agency with a written decision detailing the specific regulatory review criteria that the rule failed to meet, and a summary of the documents and testimony relied on by the commission in reaching its final decision. The commission may not disapprove a rule except for failure to comply with the standards set forth in section 6(2) of this act.

(3) The commission shall file the notice of disapproval required by subsection (2) of this section with the code reviser for publication in the Washington State Register. The commission shall provide the written decision required by subsection (2) of this section to anyone requesting it, and shall submit it to the secretary of the senate and the chief clerk of the house of representatives for distribution to the chairs of the appropriate standing committees.

If an agency determines on its own that a rule filed for review should be returned by the commission before the completion of the commission's review, it may request the return of the rule. The filing agency shall memorialize in writing all requests for the return of a rule no later than seven days after the request. The agency may refile the rule with the commission for review within one hundred eighty days as specified in RCW 34.05.335, or refile it in accordance with RCW 34.05.320.

(5) The commission shall not initiate the return of a rule under subsection (4) of this section as an alternative to disapproval under subsection (2) of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. (1) Within one hundred twenty days of an agency's receipt of the written decision required by section 7 of this act, the agency may rewrite and refile a rule returned to it under that section without complying with the notice and hearing requirements of RCW 34.05.320, unless the provisions of the rule are substantially changed. If the rule is substantially changed or is not filed within one hundred twenty days of receipt of the written decision, the agency may start a new process to adopt the rule, in full compliance with this chapter. The commission may, upon a showing of good cause, grant an extension to the one hundred twenty-day period specified in this subsection.

(2) Upon refileing of a previously disapproved rule to the commission under subsection (1) of this section, the commission shall review the refiled rule only for those reasons expressly identified in the written decision required by section 7 of this act, or for those issues arising as a result of a substantial change to a provision of the rule or as a result of intervening statutory changes or intervening court orders or decisions. Review of the refiled rule must be done according to the same time limits as for review of a newly submitted rule.

(3) When an agency refiles a withdrawn or disapproved rule with the commission, it shall identify the prior withdrawn or disapproved rule by its date of filing with the commission, shall specify the portion of the prior rule-making record that should be included in the refiled, and shall submit to the commission a copy of the prior rule-making record if that record has been returned to the agency by the commission.

(4) When the commission disapproves a rule, the agency may nonetheless adopt the rule and file it with the code reviser within the sixty-day period after the last day of the next regular legislative session after the date on which the rule was disapproved, unless the statute cited by the agency as authorizing the rule is amended by the legislature.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. (1) Before adopting a rule subject to review by the commission, an agency shall:

(a) Clearly state in detail the general goals and specific objectives of the statute that the rule implements and the specific objectives the agency seeks to achieve;

(b) Determine that the rule is needed to achieve the general goals and specific objectives stated under (a) of this subsection, and analyze alternatives to rule making and the consequences of not adopting the rule;

(c) Determine that the probable benefits of the rule are greater than its probable costs, taking into account both the qualitative and quantitative benefits and costs and the specific directives of the statute being implemented;

(d) Determine, after considering alternative versions of the rule and the analysis required under (b) and (c) of this subsection, that the rule being adopted is the least burdensome alternative for those required to comply with the rule that will achieve the general goals and the specific objectives stated under (a) of this subsection;

(e) Determine that the rule does not require those to whom it applies to take an action that violates requirements of another federal or state law;

(f) Coordinate the rule, to the maximum extent practicable, with other federal, state, and local laws applicable to the same circumstances and list, by citation, duplicative, inconsistent, or conflicting laws;

(g) Determine that the rule does not impose more stringent performance requirements on private entities than on public entities unless required to do so by federal or state law;

(h) Determine if the rule differs from any applicable federal regulation or statute and, if so, determine that the difference is justified by the following:

(i) State statutory authority that explicitly allows the agency to differ from federal standards; or

(ii) Substantial evidence that the difference is necessary to achieve the specific objectives of the authorizing state statute;

(i) Describe how the agency will monitor and evaluate on an ongoing basis whether the rule in fact achieves the general goals and specific objectives stated under (a) of this subsection, including, to the maximum extent practicable, the use of interim milestones to assess progress and the use of objectively measurable outcomes;

(j) Describe how the agency will implement and enforce the rule and encourage voluntary compliance with the rule;

(k) Describe which resources the agency intends to use to implement the rule; and

(l) Document compliance with the requirements of this section in the rule-making file.

(2) Before adopting a rule subject to review by the commission, an agency shall include in the rule-making file a written plan that describes:

(a) The methods the agency will use in making a reasonable attempt to notify those to whom the rule applies of the adoption of the rule and how they may get more information on how to comply with the rule; and

(b) How the agency will provide adequate sources of information and technical assistance to those to whom the rule applies to assist them in voluntarily complying with the rule.

(3) For rules implementing statutes enacted after the effective date of this act, except emergency rules adopted under RCW 34.05.350, an agency may not rely solely on the statute's statement of intent or purpose, or on the enabling provisions of the statute establishing the agency, or on any combination of such provisions, for its statutory authority to adopt the rule. An agency may use the statement of intent or purpose or the agency enabling provisions to interpret ambiguities in a statute's other provisions.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. In the discharge of any duty imposed under this chapter, the commission or personnel under its authority may examine and inspect all properties, equipment, facilities, files, records, and accounts of any state office, department, institution, board, committee, commission, or agency, and administer oaths, issue subpoenas, compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of any papers, books, accounts, documents, and testimony, and cause the deposition of witnesses, either residing within or outside the state, to be taken in the manner prescribed by law for taking depositions in civil actions in the superior courts.

In case of the failure on the part of a person to comply with any subpoena issued in behalf of the commission, or on the refusal of a witness to testify to matters regarding which he or she may be lawfully interrogated, the superior court of any county, or the judge thereof, shall, on application of the commission, compel obedience by proceedings for contempt, as in the case of disobedience of the requirements of a subpoena issued from the court or a refusal to testify in court.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. The commission, either on its motion or on the request of an individual, agency, corporation, member of the legislature, or any other entity that may be affected by a rule, may also petition an agency requesting the adoption, amendment, or repeal of a rule under RCW 34.05.330. The commission shall petition an agency under RCW 34.05.330 requesting the adoption of a rule if it believes that the agency is using a policy statement or guidelines in place of a rule. The commission may also make recommendations to the legislature and the governor that statutory changes or clarifications are necessary or that it finds that an existing rule or procedure may be contrary to the public interest.

Where the commission finds that an existing rule is not being enforced as required by law, the commission shall notify the responsible agency and submit a copy of this notification to the chief clerk of the house of representatives and the secretary of the senate for distribution to the appropriate standing committees.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. The commission shall act as a clearinghouse for complaints, comments, and other input from members of the legislature and from the public regarding rules, proposed rules, and administrative procedures. The commission shall maintain accurate records regarding complaints and comments it receives and shall maintain the records according to departmental and subject matter categories. When the commission files its annual report under section 2 of this act, the commission shall include within it a summary of public complaint and comment along with any recommendations the commission may offer for statutory change as the result of public complaint and comment.

The commission shall develop and implement training programs and other aids to assist state agencies in complying with the review criteria in section 6(2) of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. By January 31, 1997, and by January 31st of each odd-numbered year thereafter, the joint committee on performance audits, after consulting with state agencies and business, labor, and environmental organizations, shall report to the governor and the legislature regarding the impact of the independent regulatory review commission on the regulatory system in this state. The report shall document:

1. If, and in what way, oversight and review by the commission affected the substance of rules that ultimately went into effect;
2. Each rule that the commission disapproved, and the legislative action, if any, in response to the disapproval;
3. The costs incurred by state agencies in complying with the legislative rule-making criteria and the requests of the commission;
4. Any legal action maintained based upon the alleged failure of an agency to adopt a rule in compliance with the rule-making criteria, the costs to the state of the action, and the result;
5. The extent to which the existence of the commission and the review process has resulted in the increased inappropriate use by the agencies of policy statements and guidelines in place of rules;
6. The extent to which the efforts of the commission have led to increased use of negotiated rule making and pilot rules, and alternative dispute resolution techniques in the regulatory process;
7. The extent to which agencies have responded to petitions from the commission to adopt, amend, or repeal a rule;
8. The extent to which the commission's decisions and activities have adversely affected the capacity of agencies to fulfill their legislatively prescribed missions;
9. The extent to which the commission's decisions and activities have improved the acceptability of state rules to those regulated; and
10. Any other information considered by the joint committee on performance audits to be useful in evaluating the impact of the commission on the regulatory system in this state.

Sec. 14. RCW 34.05.010 and 1992 c 44 s 10 are each amended to read as follows:

The definitions set forth in this section shall apply throughout this chapter, unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

1. "Adjudicative proceeding" means a proceeding before an agency in which an opportunity for hearing before that agency is required by statute or constitutional right before or after the entry of an order by the agency. Adjudicative proceedings also include all cases of licensing and rate making in which an application for a license or rate change is denied except as limited by RCW 66.08.150, or a license is revoked, suspended, or modified, or in which the granting of an application is contested by a person having standing to contest under the law.

2. "Agency" means any state board, commission, department, institution of higher education, or officer, authorized by law to make rules or to conduct adjudicative proceedings, except those in the legislative or judicial branches, the governor, or the attorney general except to the extent otherwise required by law and any local governmental entity that may request the appointment of an administrative law judge under chapter 42.41 RCW.

3. "Agency action" means licensing, the implementation or enforcement of a statute, the adoption or application of an agency rule or order, the imposition of sanctions, or the granting or withholding of benefits.

Agency action does not include an agency decision regarding (a) contracting or procurement of goods, services, public works, and the purchase, lease, or acquisition by any other means, including eminent domain, of real estate, as well as all activities necessarily related to those functions, or (b) determinations as to the sufficiency of a showing of interest filed in support of a representation petition, or mediation or conciliation of labor disputes or arbitration of labor disputes under a collective bargaining law or similar statute, or (c) any sale, lease, contract, or other proprietary decision in the management of public lands or real property interests, or (d) the granting of a license, franchise, or permission for the use of trademarks, symbols, and similar property owned or controlled by the agency.

4. "Agency head" means the individual or body of individuals in whom the ultimate legal authority of the agency is vested by any provision of law. If the agency head is a body of individuals, a majority of those individuals constitutes the agency head.

5. "Commission" means the independent regulatory review commission created under section 2 of this act.

6. "Entry" of an order means the signing of the order by all persons who are to sign the order, as an official act indicating that the order is to be effective.

(44.1) (7) "Filing" of a document that is required to be filed with an agency means delivery of the document to a place designated by the agency by rule for receipt of official documents, or in the absence of such designation, at the office of the agency head.

(44.1) (8) "Institutions of higher education" are the University of Washington, Washington State University, Central Washington University, Eastern Washington University, Western Washington University, The Evergreen State College, the various community colleges, and the governing boards of each of the above, and the various colleges, divisions, departments, or offices authorized by the governing board of the institution involved to act for the institution, all of which are sometimes referred to in this chapter as "institutions."

(44.1) (9) "Interpretive statement" means a written expression of the opinion of an agency, entitled an interpretive statement by the agency head or its designee, as to the meaning of a statute or other provision of law, of a court decision, or of an agency order.

(44.1) (10)(a) "License" means a franchise, permit, certification, approval, registration, charter, or similar form of authorization required by law, but does not include (i) a license required solely for revenue purposes, or (ii) a certification of an exclusive bargaining representative, or similar status, under a collective bargaining law or similar statute, or (iii) a license, franchise, or permission for use of trademarks, symbols, and similar property owned or controlled by the agency.

(b) "Licensing" includes the agency process respecting the issuance, denial, revocation, suspension, or modification of a license.

(44.1) (11)(a) "Order," without further qualification, means a written statement of particular applicability that finally determines the legal rights, duties, privileges, immunities, or other legal interests of a specific person or persons.
Negotiated rule making which includes:

(i) Identifying individuals and organizations that have a recognized interest in or will be significantly affected by the adoption of the proposed rule;

(ii) Soliciting participation by persons who are capable, willing, and appropriately authorized to enter into such negotiations;

(iii) Assuring that participants fully recognize the consequences of not participating in the process, are committed to negotiate in good faith, and recognize the alternatives available to other parties;

(iv) Establishing guidelines to encourage consideration of all pertinent issues, to set reasonable completion deadlines, and to provide fair and objective settlement of disputes that may arise;

(v) Agreeing on a reasonable time period during which the agency will be bound to the rule resulting from the negotiations without substantive amendment; and

(vi) Providing a mechanism by which one or more parties may withdraw from the process or the negotiations may be terminated if it appears that consensus cannot be reached on a draft rule that accommodates the needs of the agency, interested parties, and the general public and conforms to the legislative intent of the statute that the rule is intended to implement; and

(b) Pilot rule making which includes testing the draft of a proposed rule through the use of volunteer pilot study groups in various areas and circumstances.

(3)(a) An agency must make a determination whether negotiated rule making, pilot rule making, or another process for generating participation from interested parties prior to development of the rule is appropriate.

(b) An agency must include a written justification in the rule-making file if an opportunity for interested parties to participate in the rule-making process prior to publication of the proposed rule has not been provided.

14) This section does not apply to:

(a) Emergency rules adopted under RCW 34.05.350;

(b) Rules relating only to internal governmental operations that are not subject to violation by a nongovernment party;
(c) Rules adopting or incorporating by reference without material change federal statutes or rules, rules of other Washington state agencies, shoreline master programs other than those governing shorelines of state-wide significance, or, as referenced by Washington state law, national consensus codes that generally establish industry standards, if the material adopted or incorporated regulates the same subject matter and conduct as the adopting or incorporating rule;

d) Rules that only correct typographical errors, make address or name changes, or clarify language of a rule without changing its effect;

e) Rules whose content is explicitly and specifically dictated by statute;

(f) Rules that establish, alter, or repeal (i) a procedure, practice, or requirement relating to agency hearings, or (ii) a filing or related process requirement for applying to an agency for a license.

Sec. 16. RCW 34.05.350 and 1994 c 249 s 14 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) No sooner than thirty days after publication of the statement of inquiry under RCW 34.05.310, and at least twenty days before the rule-making hearing at which the agency receives public comment regarding adoption of a rule, the agency shall cause notice of the hearing to be published in the state register. The publication constitutes the proposal of a rule. The notice shall include all of the following:

(a) A title, a description of the rule's purpose, and any other information which may be of assistance in identifying the rule or its purpose;

(b) Citations of the statutory authority for adopting the rule and the specific statute the rule is intended to implement;

(c) A summary of the rule and a statement of the reasons supporting the proposed action;

(d) The agency personnel, with their office location and telephone number, who are responsible for the drafting, implementation, and enforcement of the rule;

(e) The name of the person or organization, whether private, public, or governmental, proposing the rule;

(f) Agency comments or recommendations, if any, regarding statutory language, implementation, enforcement, and fiscal matters pertaining to the rule;

(g) Whether the rule is necessary as the result of federal law or federal or state court action, and if so, a copy of such law or court decision shall be attached to the purpose statement;

(h) When, where, and how persons may present their views on the proposed rule;

(i) The date on which the agency intends to adopt the rule;

(j) A short explanation of the rule, its purpose, and anticipated effects, including in the case of a proposal that would modify existing rules, a short description of the changes the proposal would make; and

(k) A statement indicating how a person can obtain a copy of the small business economic impact statement prepared under chapter 19.85 RCW, or an explanation for why the agency did not prepare the statement.

(2) Upon filing notice of the proposed rule with the code reviser, the adopting agency shall have copies of the notice on file and available for public inspection and shall forward three copies of the notice to the ((rules review committee)) regulatory review commission.

(3) No later than three days after its publication in the state register, the agency shall cause a copy of the notice of proposed rule adoption to be mailed to each person who has made a request to the agency for a mailed copy of such notices. An agency may charge for the actual cost of providing individual mailed copies of these notices.

(4) In addition to the notice required by subsections (1) and (2) of this section, an institution of higher education shall cause the notice to be published in the campus or standard newspaper of the institution at least seven days before the rule-making hearing.

Sec. 17. RCW 34.05.335 and 1989 c 175 s 8 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A proposed rule may be withdrawn by the proposing agency at any time before adoption. A withdrawn rule may not be adopted unless it is again proposed in accordance with RCW 34.05.320.

(2) Before adopting a rule, an agency shall consider the written and oral submissions, or any memorandum summarizing oral submissions.

(3) Rules not adopted and filed with the ((code reviser)) commission within one hundred eighty days after publication of the text as last proposed in the register shall be regarded as withdrawn. An agency may not thereafter adopt the proposed rule without refiling it in accordance with RCW 34.05.320. The ((code reviser)) commission shall give notice of the withdrawal to the code reviser for publication in the register.

(4) An agency may not adopt a rule before the time established in the published notice, or such later time established on the record or by publication in the state register.

Sec. 18. RCW 34.05.350 and 1994 c 249 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) If an agency for good cause finds:

(a) That immediate adoption, amendment, or repeal of a rule is necessary for the preservation of the public health, safety, or general welfare, and that observing the time requirements of notice and opportunity to comment upon adoption of a permanent rule would be contrary to the public interest; or

(b) That state or federal law or federal rule or a federal deadline for state receipt of federal funds requires immediate adoption of a rule, the agency may dispense with those requirements and adopt, amend, or repeal the rule on an emergency basis. The agency's finding and a concise statement of the reasons for its finding shall be incorporated in the order for adoption of the emergency rule or amendment filed with the office of the code reviser under RCW 34.05.380 and with the ((rules review committee)) regulatory review commission.

(2) An emergency rule adopted under this section takes effect upon filing with the code reviser, unless a later date is specified in the order of adoption, and may not remain in effect for longer than one hundred twenty days after filing. Identical or substantially similar emergency rules may not be adopted in sequence unless conditions have changed or the agency has filed notice of its intent to adopt the rule as a permanent rule, and is actively undertaking the appropriate procedures to adopt the rule as a permanent rule. This section does not relieve any agency from compliance with any law requiring that its permanent rules be approved by designated persons or bodies before they become effective.

(3) Within seven days after the rule is adopted, any person may petition the governor requesting the immediate repeal of a rule adopted on an emergency basis by any department listed in RCW 43.17.010. Within seven days after submission of the petition, the governor shall either deny the petition in writing, stating his or her reasons for the denial, or order the immediate repeal of the rule. In ruling on the petition, the governor shall consider only whether the conditions set forth in subsection (1) of this section were met such that adoption of the rule on an emergency basis was necessary. If the governor orders the repeal of the emergency rule, any sanction imposed based on that rule is void. This subsection shall not be construed to prohibit adoption of any rule as a permanent rule.
(4) In adopting an emergency rule, the agency shall comply with section 4 of this act or provide a written explanation for its failure to do so.

Sec. 19. RCW 34.05.370 and 1994 c 249 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Each agency shall maintain an official rule-making file for each rule that it (a) proposes by publication in the state register, or (b) adopts. The file and materials incorporated by reference shall be available for public inspection. Each agency shall provide a copy of all materials in its file to the commission upon its request.

(2) The agency rule-making file shall contain all of the following:

(a) Copies of all publications in the state register with respect to the rule or the proceeding upon which the rule is based;

(b) Copies of any portions of the agency's public rule-making docket containing entries relating to the rule or the proceeding on which the rule is based;

(c) All written petitions, requests, submissions, and comments received by the agency and all other written material regarded by the agency as important to adoption of the rule or the proceeding on which the rule is based;

(d) Any official transcript of oral presentations made in the proceeding on which the rule is based or, if not transcribed, any tape recording or stenographic record of them, and any memorandum prepared by a presiding official summarizing the contents of those presentations;

(e) The concise explanatory statement required by RCW 34.05.355;

(f) All petitions for exceptions to, amendment of, or repeal or suspension of, the rule;

(g) Citations to data, factual information, studies, or reports are available for review by the public;

(h) The written summary and response required by RCW 34.05.325(6); and

(i) Any other material placed in the file by the agency.

(3) Internal agency documents are exempt from inclusion in the rule-making file under subsection (2) of this section to the extent they constitute preliminary drafts, notes, recommendations, and intra-agency memoranda in which opinions are expressed or policies formulated or recommended, except that a specific document is not exempt from inclusion when it is publicly cited by an agency in connection with its decision.

(4) Upon judicial review, the file required by this section constitutes the official agency rule-making file with respect to that rule. Unless otherwise required by another provision of law, the official agency rule-making file need not be the exclusive basis for agency action on that rule.

Sec. 20. RCW 34.05.380 and 1989 c 175 s 11 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Each agency shall file (in the office of the code reviser) with the commission a certified copy of all rules it adopts, except for rules contained in tariffs filed with or published by the Washington utilities and transportation commission. Upon its approval of a rule, the commission shall file the rule with the code reviser. The code reviser shall place upon each rule a notation of the time and date of filing and shall keep a permanent register of filed rules open to public inspection. In filing a rule, each agency shall use the standard form prescribed for this purpose by the code reviser.

(2) Emergency rules adopted under RCW 34.05.350 become effective upon filing unless a later date is specified in the order of adoption. All other rules become effective upon the expiration of thirty days after the date of filing, unless a later date is required by statute or specified in the order of adoption.

(3) A rule may become effective immediately upon its filing with the code reviser or on any subsequent date earlier than that established by subsection (2) of this section, if the agency establishes that effective date in the adopting order and finds that:

(a) Such action is required by the state or federal Constitution, a statute, or court order;

(b) The rule only delays the effective date of another rule that is not yet effective; or

(c) The earlier effective date is necessary because of imminent peril to the public health, safety, or welfare.

The finding and a brief statement of the reasons therefor required by this subsection shall be made a part of the adopting order.

(4) With respect to a rule made effective pursuant to subsection (3) of this section, each agency shall make reasonable efforts to make the effective date known to persons who may be affected by it.

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the striking amendment by Senators Sheldon, Ann Anderson, Hale, Loveland, Gaspard, Haugen, Wojahn, Snyder, Winsley, Quigley and Rinehart to Senate Bill No. 6037.

The motion by Senator Sheldon carried and the striking amendment was adopted.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Sheldon, the following title amendment was adopted:

*(1) On page 1, line 2 of the title, after "commission;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "amending RCW 34.05.010, 34.05.310, 34.05.320, 34.05.350, 34.05.370, and 34.05.380; reenacting and amending RCW 42.17.2401; adding new sections to chapter 34.05 RCW; creating a new section; and repealing RCW 34.05.610, 34.05.620, 34.05.630, 34.05.640, 34.05.650, and 34.05.660."

On motion of Senator Sheldon, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 6037 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Senator Deccio: "Senator Sheldon, I sponsored a bill which would make it illegal for any department to exceed federal law. It was signed by twenty-eight members. I think I could have got most of the rest of them if I had had time. I think you indicated or maybe Senator Haugen indicated that this was going to be included in any bill that came out of Government Operations. Is that language in this bill?"

Senator Sheldon: "Senator Deccio, that language is not in this bill, but the regulatory reform bill, the main bill, has not been before this body as yet, but will before this session is over."

Senator Deccio: "Then you will include the language in the main bill?"

Senator Sheldon: "We certainly will consider your language--"

Senator Deccio: "That isn't the question that I asked you, Senator."

Senator Sheldon: "That is another bill, Senator, and in the regulatory reform bill there is strong language about the federal mandates that I think you will find to your liking."

Senator Deccio: "Well, I hope I like it better than this one. Thank you."

Senator Sheldon: "I do too, Senator."

Further debate ensued.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Johnson, Senator Moyer was excused.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 6037 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote:

- Yeas, 37; Nays, 11; Absent, 0; Excused, 1.
  - Excused: Senator Moyer - 1.

ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 6037, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

Sec. 4. RCW 82.04.2201 and 1994 sp.s. c 10 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

There is levied and shall be collected for the period July 1, 1993, through June 30, 1997, from every person for the act or privilege of engaging in business activities, as a part of the tax imposed under RCW 82.04.220 through 82.04.280 and 82.04.290, an additional tax equal to 4.5 percent multiplied by the tax payable under those sections.

To facilitate collection of these additional taxes, the department of revenue is authorized to adjust the basic rates of persons to which this section applies in such manner as to reflect the amount to the nearest one-thousandth of one percent of the additional tax hereby imposed, adjusting ten-thousandths equal to or greater than five ten-thousandths to the greater thousandth."

Renumber the sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly

On motion of Senator Rinehart, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 2 of the title, after "82.04.050" insert ", 82.04.290, and 82.04.2201"

Excused: Senator Moyer - 1.

ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 5555, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5064, by Senators Owen, Drew and Oke

Revising the regional fisheries enhancement program.

MOTIONS
On motion of Senator Owen, Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5064 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5064 and the second substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

Senator Owen moved that the following amendments by Senators Owen and Spanel be considered simultaneously and be adopted:

On page 3, line 10, strike "provide or approve" and insert "identify"
On page 3, line 19, after "department" insert "prior to implementation"
On page 3, line 26, after "purposes of" strike all material through "project.
In " on line 27, and insert "defraying the ((expenses)) costs of ((the cooperative)) projects and((...))
On page 3, line 29, strike "projects" and insert "group projects and cooperative group projects"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Ann Anderson: “Senator Owen, again this bill went through a lot of discussion in committee and I am just wondering on the last amendment on page 3, line 29, where we strike the word 'projects' and insert 'group projects and cooperative group projects,' what kind of projects now are we precluding by this amendment?”

Senator Owen: “We are not precluding. Actually, if you had read the language that was in there before we fixed it, it just said 'cooperative groups.' What we had intended was that they would be able to use the money for regional enhancement groups and cooperative groups, because there are two programs in the department right now--the cooperative enhancement program which is a volunteer program we established a couple of years ago funded primarily through aquatic lands enhancement accounts and then the regional enhancement groups and we are making it clear that these funds are to be used for those projects for both groups--not just cooperative groups.”

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendments by Senators Owen and Spanel on page 3, lines 10, 19, 26, and 29, to Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5064.

The motion by Senator Owen carried and the amendments were adopted.

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5064 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote:

Voting nay: Senators Bauer and Sutherland - 2.

Excused: Senator Moyer - 1.

ENGROSSED SECOND SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5064, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of Senate Bill No. 5940 and the pending amendment by Senators Palmer, Schow, Long, Swecker, Johnson and Strannigan on page 3, after line 34, deferred earlier today.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Pritchard: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Snyder, the President finds that Senate Bill No. 5940 is a measure which identifies who owes the use tax, and who is exempt therefrom, on certain property distributed to, or displaced by, persons within this state.

"The amendment by Senators Palmer, Schow, Long, Swecker, Johnson and Strannigan on page 3, after line 34, would exempt from the sales tax, a corollary of the use tax, similar property distributed or displayed within this state.

"The President, therefore, finds that the proposed amendment does not change the scope and object of the bill and the point of order is not well taken."

The amendment by Senators Palmer, Schow, Long, Swecker, Johnson and Strannigan on page 3, after line 34, to Senate Bill No. 5940 was ruled in order.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Snyder, further consideration of Senate Bill No. 5940 was deferred.

*EDITOR'S NOTE: See colloquy at the end of the day regarding the deferral of Senate Bill No. 5940.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Spanel, the Senate resumed consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5000, deferred on third reading March 11, 1995, after the motion by Senator Snyder for reconsideration of the bill was adopted.

THIRD READING

SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5000, by Committee on Ways and Means (originally sponsored by Senators Loveland, Snyder, Wojahn, Sheldon, Gaspard Franklin, Haugen, Rasmussen, Quigley, Owen, McAuliffe, Winsley, McCaslin, Drew, Morton, Prentice, Bauer, Spanel, Hale and Deccio)

Reducing property taxes.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Loveland, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5000 was returned to second reading and read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Loveland moved that the following amendment by Senators Loveland, Franklin, Snyder, Haugen, C. Anderson, Sheldon, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Gaspard, Kohl, Prentice, Bauer, Quigley, Fairley, McAuliffe, Owen, Wojahn, Fraser, Pelz and Hargrove be adopted:

On page 9, beginning on line 10, strike section 7 and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. This act shall be submitted to the people for their adoption and ratification, or rejection, at the next succeeding general election to be held in this state, in accordance with Article II, section 1 of the state Constitution, as amended, and the laws adopted to facilitate the operation thereof."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Newhouse: "A point of parliamentary inquiry, Mr. President. It appears that this amendment, I would assume, would require a simple majority vote, but it is attached to a bill and would in effect refer that bill to the people and would amend an initiative, which would require, would it not, two-thirds vote?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Pritchard: "We are going to have a conversation. We have never ruled on this very point before."
Senator Newhouse: "It is a very ticklish point--I understand--and I wanted to make--"

REMARKS BY SENATOR WEST

Senator West: "Mr. President, I am not sure the point is timely, because the body hasn't adopted the amendment yet or hasn't considered the amendment yet."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Pritchard: "The President believes it would be helpful for the members to know how the ruling would be when they are voting on the measure. Any more comments that want to be made?"

FURTHER REMARKS BY SENATOR NEWHOUSE

Senator Newhouse: "Yes, it appears to me that this might well be a momentous occasion, because there is a possibility here of something happening that has never happened before in this state that the will of the people, by initiative, is challenged within two years by a simple majority vote and that would appear to me to be inappropriate."

REMARKS BY SENATOR LOVELAND

Senator Loveland: "I am waiting for my professional remarks, but basically the issue before us is that there was an initiative and we now have an addendum to that initiative and under the article and sections--I am going to read the professional here. We are not amending Initiative 601; we are offering the people of this state an opportunity to determine whether they want to enact a change to the measure. It is not logical to say that the people of this state cannot vote on a measure because they voted on it once before and our Constitution does not require a super majority of this body to permit them to do so. The Attorney General, in 1976, considered this question and in the Attorney General's Opinion No. 5, the reasoning in that opinion is still compelling today.

"Article II, Section 41 of our Constitution referring to whether an initiative can be amended says, 'But such an enactment may be amended or repealed at any regular or special election by direct vote of the people thereon. These provisions supersede the provisions of subsection (c) of section 1 of this article.' This is a clear statement that we may refer Substitute Senate Bill No. 5000 directly to the people of this state without a two-thirds vote requirement, because of subsection (c). The provision which requires a two-thirds vote to amend an initiative--the Attorney General's opinion was that a referendum measure would be permitted on a prior enacted initiative without a two-thirds vote and that remains good law today."

FURTHER REMARKS BY SENATOR WEST

Senator West: "Thank you, Mr. President. An Attorney General's Opinion is just that; it is an Attorney General's Opinion. Until it has been adjudicated by the courts, it is not law. It may influence the arguments of law, but it is not law. A referendum is a confirmation of legislative action. The action of the Legislature would be to amend Initiative 601 and then the Legislature would then be asking, by referendum, for the people to confirm the action of the Legislature. That is what a referendum is, so I would argue that in order to even send this out to referendum, the Legislature would have to amend 601, and then by act of referendum ask the people whether or not what they did was the proper action. The Constitution prohibits, within two years, the Legislature from amending an initiative with less than a two-thirds vote. Mr. President, no ruling officer of the Legislature has ever said that it takes less than two-thirds of a vote to amend an initiative. This would be very precedent setting and I think that I would ask that you rule that this is an amendment to an initiative and that this does require the two-thirds vote."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Pritchard: "The President agrees with Senator Newhouse; this is a momentous decision and we are going to set this down and we are going to have a little talk. Did you want to say something, Senator Pelz?"

REMARKS BY SENATOR PELZ

Senator Pelz: "I would just like to say I agree with the first part that I think this would have to be adjudicated and I think there are some very complex issues here. I am not sure that a ruling of the President should interfere, frankly, with the forward progress of this issue. I would remind the body that Initiative 601 will be two years old at the date when the electorate would be ruling on this referendum. I think that would give some additional weight to the validity of Senator Loveland's proposal and would further eradicate Senator West's logic."

REMARKS BY SENATOR NEWHOUSE

Senator Newhouse: "It has been precedent in this body and ruled by previous Presidents that the time the vote is taken is critical in such ways. On the other hand, we are not only amending an initiative, we are bypassing the Governor by this referendum vote and would be a rather unique way to do it and should not base our judgement on the 'off the cuff' or 'by the way' statement of an Assistant Attorney General some twenty years ago. That has no legal standing, because it has not been adjudicated."

REMARKS BY SENATOR SNYDER

Senator Snyder: "Thank you, Mr. President. Senator West says that this has never been adjudicated and needs to be. I think the best way we can do that is go ahead and pass this measure with the referendum on it and if someone wants to challenge it and put it in court and in that way, it would be settled. I think his argument has some holes in it, because we certainly, if we want to ever--for the future--settle this issue, regardless of how the President of the Senate rules, we want to get into court. I think that Senator West would be wise in joining the rest of us and voting for this amendment and for this measure and then we will get it settled by the courts once and for all."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Pritchard: "We'll set it down. Senator Wojahn would you come up?"

REMARKS BY SENATOR WOJAHN

Senator Wojahn: "I just wanted to remind this body that there is a referendum coming over from the House on health care that would repeal the Health Care Bill of two years ago that will bypass the Governor anyway and you are saying that this will bypass the Governor and so would that referendum."

REMARKS BY SENATOR HAUGEN

Senator Haugen: "Thank you, Mr. President. I also would like to remind the body that if my reading of 601 was correct, it did call for the vote of the people on the change in the taxes. I think this amendment is in keeping with that initiative."

REMARKS BY SENATOR McCASLIN

Senator McCaslin: "Thank you, Mr. President. If Aristotle was here today, he would let the President decide this issue."

President Pritchard: "He isn't here."

There being no objection, the President deferred further consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5000.
President Pro Tempore Wojahn assumed the Chair.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Drew, Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5574 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5574 and the second substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

Senator Fraser moved that the following amendment by Senators Fraser, Franklin, Fairley and Spanel be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that in the early 1900's and up through the 1930's, counties took possession of a number of forest land parcels as a result of tax delinquencies. In many cases, the timber had already been harvested from these lands prior to the forfeiture of the property to the counties. Since that time, the department of natural resources has reforested and managed these lands in conjunction with the state trust lands. Given changes in forest practices, recent fluctuation in income from the forest board lands, and interest by some counties in having management responsibilities transferred to them, the legislature directs that the legislative budget committee conduct a study of the statutory mandates governing state forest lands, federal statutes that impact state management of such lands, and the desirability of transferring such responsibilities to counties, including an analysis of the ability of counties to assume such responsibilities.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. The study under section 1 of this act shall include the following subjects:
(1) The role of the forest board land in the state's sustained yield calculations and the effect of removing all or part of those lands on income, yield, and management policies;
(2) Board of natural resources policies for management of forest board lands and analysis of costs to such management, including reforestation;
(3) The long- and short-term implications of separating the forest board lands from the total lands managed by the department, including costs to state and county governments, and probable revenue impacts to state programs, including firefighting and to junior taxing districts;
(4) The effects of transfer on public access, recreation, and the management of other public and private lands;
(5) A comparison of forest management procedures and costs between Grays Harbor county and similar forest board and similar state trust lands;
(6) Potential changes in state and county employees due to changes in management;
(7) Examine the best possible methods and procedures to transfer the forest board lands to the counties.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The findings of the study, along with recommendations to the legislature, shall be submitted to the appropriate standing committees of the legislature by December 1, 1995.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. If specific funding for the purposes of this act, referencing this act by bill number, is not provided by June 30, 1995, in the omnibus appropriations act, this act shall be null and void."

 Senator Heavey: “I don’t know, because each city--most smaller cities--is only a part-time job, so they wouldn’t be coming in as a full-time job. It is a part-time job; they only meet one or two days a week, so I don’t know the answer to the question.”
 Senator Decicio: “But we have one municipal court judge who is full-time. I think that--you know, what is the salary level--what would the salaries go to for municipal court judges if this bill passes?”

The Irish had become so decadent and so immoral in living their lives that the Pope in Rome sent Bishop Pasquale to convert them and convert them, he did. But, in order to save their pride, they persuaded him to change his name to the Anglicized version of Patrick. That's the rest the story."

REMARKS BY RALPH MUNRO, SECRETARY OF STATE

Secretary of State Munro: 'Mr. Speaker, Mr. President, members of the court, elected officials and distinguished guests all. In the mid 1980's, Speaker John O'Brien and others proposed an award to be offered by the Washington State government to anyone who has been distinguished by his exceptionally meritorious conduct in performing outstanding services to the people of Washington State. The Legislature passed Speaker O'Brien's proposal and it was signed by Governor Booth Gardner.

"Each year the Governor, the Lieutenant Governor, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the Chief Justice of the Washington State Supreme Court and the Secretary of State meet to discuss candidates for the Medal of Merit. Some proposed nominations come from the public, some from the members of the Legislature and some from the committee itself.

"Previous winners include the very best of Washington State: Doctor Lester Sauvage, world renown heart surgeon and scientist who now leads the Hope Heart Clinic in Seattle; Professor Orville Vogel, researcher and inventor of Washington's super wheat to feed the world, from Pullman in the Palouse; Senator Henry M. 'Scoop' Jackson, defender of freedom around the globe, the school kid from Everett who went to the top; Dorothy Bullitt, benefactor and entrepreneur and philanthropist from Seattle, a pioneer in broadcasting; Senator Warren G. Magnuson, prosecutor, politician and President Pro Tempore of the United States Senate. In the era of bringing home the bacon, Maggie brought home the whole pig; Edward Carlson, who went from bellhop at the Olympic to civic leader of the Pacific Northwest; Julia Butler Hansen, Chairman of the Interior Committee of the United States House of Representatives. Because of her, every cabinet member in the United States government learned exactly where Cathlamet, Washington, was located; Dr. Barning Scribner, physician, inventor, research and development of the kidney dialysis equipment for the world; Frances Penrose Owen, civic leader, business executive, organizer of numerous charitable and elocutionary activities and long time Regent at Washington State University; James Reed Ellis, Seattle advocate and attorney, founder of Metro, cleaning up Western Washington hospitals, the forward thinker of Forward Thrust; Dr. Charles Odegaard, professor, educator and a leader who struggled during the difficult and often tumultuous 1960's to build one of the finest universities in the world, the University of Washington; and finally, Dr. William Hutchinson, the ballplayer's brother who went to medical school and who refused to strike out against cancer, and continues to beat it on a daily basis, the founder of the Freddy Hutchinson Cancer Research Center.

"During the years of 1991, 1992, 1993 and 1994, your committee met, reviewed nominations and decided to wait. We have always remembered that the law says 'exceptional meritorious conduct and outstanding service.' It is with greatest respect today that the committee reports that two names have been selected for 1995. These two outstanding individual Washingtonians are Dr. Michael Copass of Seattle and King County and Dr. Kathleen Ross of Toppenish in Yakima County. Thank you."

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

REMARKS BY SPEAKER BALLARD

Speaker Ballard: "The purpose of the Joint Session is to present Medal of Merit Awards for the fifth time, honoring two deserving Washington State citizens who have been distinguished by exceptionally meritorious conduct in performing outstanding services to the people and the state of Washington. At this time, I will take the gavel from the President for the purpose of introducing him as a participant in the ceremony.

"Ladies and gentlemen, the Speaker has the honor to present to you, Lieutenant Governor Joel Pritchard, for the purpose of introducing and honoring Dr. Michael Copass."

REMARKS BY PRESIDENT PRITCHARD

INTRODUCTION OF DR. MICHAEL COPASS

President Pritchard: "I believe all of you have read in the program, but just to remind you, Dr. Copass directed the Emergency Center at Harborview, the Medical Director of the Airlift Northwest, Medical Director of the King County Medic One Program 911, a spectacular achievement. You realize that, and it's said not in jest, but in truth, that the safest place in the world to have a heart attack is Seattle. And this gentleman was the driving force; he was the key to putting in this team. Besides that he also has time to work and teach at the University of Washington as a professor of neurology.

"I think the easiest way to explain what Mike has accomplished--I was over on Bainbridge Island and I was watching a playfield where some children were playing and there was a father there and he was playing with the children. I realized that was the same man who two years ago was hit—he was on a bike—and he was hit by a car and he was run over and dragged two hundred feet. People thought he was dead, but he was alive. They said he isn't going to make it, but they got a hold of a helicopter and they flew him to Harborview. They said he may live; he may not. He, obviously, is going to be in terrible shape if he does live. Two years later he's playing with his children—playing baseball.

"That's the legacy that this man has left. I know he'd be the first one to say, 'Many, many other people are involved; I don't do it alone.' Personally, he's saved hundreds of people by his actions. His staff has saved thousands and because the system he put together has been replicated in so many other systems, now he's saved thousands. Just two weeks ago, I had someone from a foreign country come and say, 'We want to go up to Harborview and see how they do it. We're going to put this system in our country.' He is going to affect the lives of millions of people."
"So it's with great pleasure that I introduce Mike Copass, Doctor Michael Copass, the Medal of Merit winner."

President Pritchard presented the Medal of Merit to Dr. Michael Copass.

REMARKS BY DR. MICHAEL COPASS

Dr. Copass: "It is an intimidating job to face down things that are said about you. I frequently start speeches by reminding people that I could be prematurely grey and likewise prematurely senile, but I'll let you be the judge of that. I once time started a speech by the phrase 'in my farming days.' I was eighteen; I was practicing that speech in a courtroom of a man whose standards I wasn't sure I could meet. He was a little man from west Texas, who was absolutely sure that I needed as much work as I could possibly do. So, he guaranteed that I could work for one of his friends who farmed a fairly large, somewhat desperate collection of sand in Franklin County.

"When you think about activities that impress you, farming for an eighteen year old, when you're all alone, always hot--insufferably so--always cold, the same does leave you with a memory. I think my life passed fairly quickly. The second real impact came upon me and that was that I could start a speech and say, 'in my Harborview days.' I've been at Harborview for a long time, my entire professional life, save that spent in the military. Education passes by like the speed of light, no matter whether it's collegiate or medical school, but one's professional duties add like the skin of an onion. I think about that particular facility which has existed in this state under the largess of the University, and I think about the contribution that that facility has made to this State, to the county of King, to the city of Seattle, and to the region. And I think we are very lucky and I think it is a privilege to serve there.

"So, the truth of this speech is that I thank you for allowing me the privilege to be one of your servants. I've enjoyed my time in that institution. We've spent every day trying to make ourselves better; we've spent every day trying to get the most we can out of what resources we have and we use them wisely. Our goal and our ambition is to provide reasonable care for the citizens of this place and to provide an educational format for those individuals who come from this state who need to be the next generation's physicians--people that we see as leaders in their communities--they are chosen to go to school for their talent, they must leave the school professionally skilled and leaders.

"So, I thank you for this monumental award. I also thank you for allowing me this last twenty-two years to function as a member of this intellectual community--the University of Washington School of Medicine--to participate in the activities of this remarkable state and to be able to do the things that we had done in the institution under the golden dome at Ninth and Jefferson, for the people who need our help. May I thank you?"

INTRODUCTION OF GOVERNOR LOWRY

REMARKS BY GOVERNOR LOWRY

INTRODUCTION OF DR. KATHLEEN ROSS

Governor Lowry: "Thank you Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, members of the State Supreme Court, fellow elected officials, members of the State Legislature, citizens of the state of Washington, thank you for allowing me the honor to make this next presentation of our Medal of Merit.

"Dr. Kathleen Ross has dedicated her life to education. As founding President of Heritage College, Dr. Ross has sought to bring higher education to culturally diverse students who otherwise might not have a four-year college opportunity. The success of Heritage College has been phenomenal. In 1982, the college had an initial class of approximately eighty students. Now, the college enrolls more than eleven hundred students a year. Fifty percent of the undergraduate students are either Native American or Hispanic, and eighty-five percent are the first persons from their families to attend college. In addition, seventy percent of the students are women and sixty percent live below the poverty level.

"Heritage College started as an outreach effort of Fort Wright College in Spokane where Dr. Ross was academic Vice President. When Fort Wright closed, community leaders from the Yakima Indian Nation and the Yakima Valley refused to let the program die. Along with Dr. Ross, they established a new college specifically for the people of the Yakima Valley region. Today, the college graduates between seven hundred and eight hundred students a year in education, social sciences, liberal arts and business management. Heritage College also offers a Masters of Education degree that produces close to one hundred graduates each year, making Heritage College the school that graduates the most minority students in Washington State. Importantly, many Heritage graduates return to their home communities to teach.

"Dr. Ross is nationally known as a leader in higher education, especially in the field of cross cultural communication. In 1989, she was one of three recipients of the National Harold McGraw prize in education. In 1991, Georgetown University presented her with the John Caroll Award. She has honorary degrees from Dartmouth, Alverno, Pomona and Whitworth Colleges and Seattle University. Dr. Ross holds a Ph.D. and is an instrumental member of the Sisters of the Holy Names of Jesus and Mary.

"I'm very honored to present her with the 1995 Washington State Medal of Merit. Dr. Ross."

Governor Lowry presented the Medal of Merit to Dr. Kathleen Ross.

REMARKS BY DR. KATHLEEN ROSS

Dr. Ross: "Thank you, Governor Lowry; Speaker of the House, Clyde Ballard, from a city dear to my heart, Wenatchee; Lieutenant Governor Joel Pritchard; Secretary of State, Ralph Munro; and distinguished members of the Legislature; Chief Justice Durham and Justices of the Court; and all of my new friends and my old friends here.

"I'm really thrilled to accept this medal today because it symbolizes to me how people who dream together, who create a vision together, who support each other in pursuit of that vision and who trust in God's providence together, can make a difference. I accept this medal today, not just for myself, but on behalf of all those people who have made a difference by creating and nurturing and sustaining Heritage College. This includes the more than five thousand individual students who have taken at least one course at Heritage College, in a place where no four-year college existed fourteen years ago. It also includes the faculty, the staff, the administrators, the board of directors. The faculty, staff and administrators work for private college wages, but they provide a tremendous public service for the state of Washington and are proud of it.

"I accept this on behalf, also, of the hundreds of persons in the Yakima Valley and throughout the state who have given, not only a beautiful new library to Heritage--and there's a nice picture of it out in that display--but have also given dozens of vital scholarships and other operational support. I also think, most especially, in accepting this award of the Yakima Indian Nation whose educational leaders provided the original vision of what could be and who continue to support the growth of our multi-ethnic college. Unfortunately, all of those education leaders are in Washington D.C., for a major Indian education conference today, so they couldn't join us here.

"My sharing this award also includes thanks to the Sisters of the Holy Name who supported the college at the very beginning even though it was to be a nonsectarian institution. I also want to thank the members of this Legislature, especially, and the Governor's office, because you have provided financial aid in the form of the Washington State Need Grant, the Education Opportunity Grant, the Work Study Funds--and without these vital funds Heritage would be without ninety-five percent of its students. That would be a pretty small school. Last but not least, in people who have made a difference for me, I include my Mother, Mary Ross, of Wenatchee, and my sister, Rosemary, of the Dalles in Oregon.

"In receiving this medal today, I was asking myself what makes the Heritage story so unique and seemingly deserving of recognition. My answer is a very simple word--opportunity. Heritage has demonstrated that creating opportunities for people brings success for an entire community which could not even have been imagined before hand. What do I mean when I say, 'opportunity'? Well, I mean an opportunity that knocks at each citizen's door regardless of the geographic location, regardless of the financial condition, regardless of the ethnic background; opportunity that expresses the belief that each citizen can become a contributor to society--not just a consumer of society's benefits; an opportunity that comes into being when each person is treated with dignity empowering each to have the courage to reach for his or her full God-given human potential. This is the kind of opportunity which Heritage is dedicated to creating.

"As I was thinking of what to share with you the last couple of days, one of our faculty brought a thank you note to me that he had received in the mail and I would like to share it with all of you. It reads, 'Dear Doctor, I just wanted to take this opportunity to thank you for the enormous changes your work has wrought in my life. When we met the first time in 1991, I was living on public assistance with not much hope for anything. Since that time, I have not only managed to become self-supporting, but to increase my income by about $10,000 a year. This has certainly improved my and my children's lives. The work you do is so important and you'll always have my respect and gratitude. Thanks again. Signed as one of our students.' That is what opportunity is about.

"I thank you today for this very high honor bestowed on me and on Heritage College, and in accepting it, I challenge each of us to measure what we are doing against that yard stick of creating opportunities. Opportunities which will allow the creation of a better world for the generations yet to come. This will mean creating opportunities proportionally for all people at all levels of society. Opportunities for individuals to become contributors to society and not just bigger consumers of either private or public wealth. How exciting it is to me to think of the future if all our expectations are focused on increasing opportunities for everybody at every level of society and not simply meeting the popular short-term expectations of increasing everyone's disposable income.

"I feel a great joy and pride in accepting this medal today. The joy and satisfaction of creating opportunities which allow people to change their lives is a far greater reward than any material reward I can imagine and this medal today celebrates that joy and pride.

"Again, thank you. To our legislators, please consider continuing your support for financial aid and God bless everyone of you."

MOTION

SENATE RESOLUTION 1995-8631

By Senators Kohl and Rasmussen

WHEREAS, A year ago today, sixteen-year-old Melissa "Missy" Fernandes, who aspired to become a marine biologist, died as a result of a drive-by shooting; and

WHEREAS, The Ballard High School student was an innocent bystander when the spat between two local gangs erupted into senseless gunfire; and
WHEREAS, Missy was the first student to be killed on a high-school campus in Washington State; and
WHEREAS, Missy's tragic fate inspired Ballard High School to institute a peer-mediation group to resolve problems without resorting to violence; and
WHEREAS, Missy was neither the first nor the last teenager in Washington State to be a victim of youth gang violence; and
WHEREAS, The death of Missy and too many like her has spawned the formation within the Seattle School District of a Safe Schools Committee to stem the rising tide of violence in our schools; and
WHEREAS, Other groups in Ballard have worked to stem youth violence, such as Mothers Against Violence in America, the Ballard District Council's Anti-Violence Task Force, Students Against Violence in Everywhere; and
WHEREAS, The Crown Hill Chamber of Commerce placed a bench in memory of Melissa at the site where she was gunned down at Ballard High School; and
WHEREAS, The specter of youth-on-youth violence continues to instill a growing and gnawing fear among students and parents; and
WHEREAS, Nearly five hundred firearms were confiscated from Washington high school students during the 1993-94 school year; and
WHEREAS, Youth violence is only yet another symptom of how pervasive violence has become in our society; and
WHEREAS, Our youth represent our future;
NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington State Senate hereby observe a moment of silence in the hope that Melissa Fernandes' death will serve to remind us from now until the shooting ends, that too many youngsters have died from gunfire and that we as a community have much work to do to ensure that her untimely death not be in vain.

(6) No more than ninety college quarter-hour credits received by any employee after the baccalaureate degree may be used to determine compensation allocations under the state salary allocation schedule and LEAP documents referenced in this act, or any replacement schedules and documents, unless:

   (a) The employee has a masters degree; or
   (b) The credits were used in generating state salary allocations before January 1, 1992.

(7) The salary allocation schedules established in this section are for allocation purposes only except as provided in RCW 28A.400.200(2).

NEW SECTION. Sec. 504. FOR THE SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION--FOR SCHOOL EMPLOYEE COMPENSATION ADJUSTMENTS

TOTAL APPROPRIATION $ 292,077,000

The appropriation in this section is subject to the following conditions and limitations:

(1) $276,939,000 is provided for cost of living adjustments of 5.0 percent effective September 1, 1995, for state-formula staff units. The appropriation includes associated incremental fringe benefit allocations for both years at rates 20.07 percent for certificated staff and 15.27 percent for classified staff.

(a) The appropriation in this section includes the increased portion of salaries and incremental fringe benefits for all state funded school programs in PART V of this act. Salary adjustments for state employees in the office of superintendent of public instruction and the education reform program are provided in the Special Appropriations sections of this act. Increases for general apportionment (basic education) are based on the salary allocation schedules and methodology in section 503 of this act. Increases for special education result from increases in each district's basic education allocation per student. Increases for educational service districts and institutional education programs are determined by the superintendent of public instruction using the methodology for general apportionment salaries and benefits in section 503 of this act.

(b) The appropriation in this section provides salary increase and incremental fringe benefit allocations for the following programs based on formula adjustments as follows:

(i) For pupil transportation, an increase of $0.97 per weighted pupil-mile for the 1995-96 school year and maintained for the 1996-97 school year;

(ii) For learning assistance, an increase of $14.05 per eligible student for the 1995-96 school year and maintained for the 1996-97 school year;

Increases for these programs are applied directly to state formula certificated and classified staff insurance benefit units as adjusted for part-time factors used in each program.

(b) Effective September 1 of each year, the insurance benefit allocations for the following categorical programs shall be calculated by increasing the annual state funding rates by the amounts specified in this subsection:

(i) For pupil transportation, increases of $.05 per weighted pupil-mile for the 1995-96 school year and $.09 for the 1996-97 school year;
(ii) For learning assistance, increases of $.71 per eligible student for the 1995-96 school year and $1.43 for the 1996-97 school year;

General Fund--State Appropriation (FY 1996) $ 3,000,000

The appropriations in this section are subject to the following conditions and limitations:

1. The general fund--state appropriation includes such funds as are necessary for the remaining months of the 1994-95 school year.
2. In recognition of the need for increased flexibility at the local district level to facilitate the provision of appropriate education to children with disabilities, and the need for substantive educational reform for a significant portion of the school population, the funding formula for special education is modified. These changes result from a 1994 study and recommendations by the institute for public policy and the legislative budget committee, aided by the office of the superintendent of public instruction and the statewide task force for the development of special education funding alternatives. The new formula is for allocation purposes only and is not intended to prescribe or imply any particular pattern of special education service delivery other than that contained in a properly formulated locally determined individualized education program.
3. The superintendent of public instruction shall distribute state funds to school districts based on two categories, the mandatory special education program for special education students ages three to twenty-one and the optional birth through age two program for developmentally delayed infants and toddlers. The superintendent shall review current state eligibility criteria for the fourteen special education categories and consider changes which would reduce assessment time and administrative costs associated with the special education program.
4. For the 1995-96 and 1996-97 school years, the superintendent shall distribute state funds to each district based on the sum of:
   (a) A district's annual average headcount enrollment of developmentally delayed infants and toddlers ages birth through two, times the district's average basic education allocation per full-time equivalent student, times 1.15; and
   (b) A district's annual average full-time equivalent basic education enrollment times the enrollment percent, times the district's average basic education allocation per full-time equivalent student times 0.943.
5. The definitions in this subsection apply throughout this section.
(a) "Average basic education allocation per full-time equivalent student" for a district shall be based on the staffing ratios required by RCW 28A.150.260 (i.e., 49/1000 certificated instructional staff in grades K-3, and 46/1000 in grades 4-12), including the part-time health benefit ratio for the special education program, and shall not include enhancements for K-3, secondary vocational education, or small schools.
(b) "Annual average full-time equivalent student" means the resident enrollment including students enrolled through choice (RCW 28A.225.225) and students from nonhigh districts (RCW 28A.225.210) and excluding students residing in another district enrolled as part of an interdistrict cooperative program (RCW 28A.225.250).
The funds provided by this subsection shall be from federal discretionary grants.

(b) For districts requesting safety net funds due to federal maintenance of effort requirements, the procedures and standards

A minimum of $4.5 million of the general fund--federal appropriation shall be expended for safety net funding to meet the extraordinary needs of individual special education students.

For the 1995-96 and the 1996-97 school years, each district's enrollment percent shall be:

(i) For districts whose enrollment percent for 1994-95 was at or below 12.7 percent, the lesser of the district's actual enrollment percent for the school year for which the allocation is being determined or 12.7 percent.

(ii) For districts whose enrollment percent for 1994-95 was above 12.7 percent, the lesser of:

(A) The district's actual enrollment percent for the school year for which the special education allocation is being determined; or

(B) The district's actual enrollment percent for the school year immediately prior to the school year for which the special education allocation is being determined; or

For 1995-96, the 1994-95 enrollment percent reduced by 25 percent of the difference between the district's 1994-95 enrollment percent and 12.7. For 1996-97, the 1994-95 enrollment percent reduced by 50 percent of the difference between the district's 1994-95 enrollment percent and 12.7.

The superintendent shall distribute safety net moneys to educational service districts and establish procedures for regional committees to consider district applications and make allocations, without deduction, based on the procedures and standards established by the superintendent subject to the following conditions and limitations:

(a) For a school district requesting state safety net funds due to special characteristics of the district and costs of providing services which differ significantly from the assumptions contained in the funding formula, the procedures and standards shall permit relief only if a district can demonstrate at a minimum that:

(i) Individualized education plans are appropriate and are properly and efficiently prepared and formulated;

(ii) The district is making a reasonable effort to provide appropriate program services for special education students utilizing state funds generated by the apportionment and special education funding formulas;

(iii) The district's programs are operated in a reasonably efficient manner and that the district has adopted a plan of action to contain or eliminate any unnecessary, duplicative, or inefficient practices.

(iv) Indirect costs charged to this program do not exceed the allowable percent for the federal special education program;

(v) Any available federal funds are insufficient to address the additional needs; and

(vi) The costs of any supplemental contracts are not charged to this program for purposes of making these determinations.

(b) For districts requesting safety net funds due to federal maintenance of effort requirements, the procedures and standards shall permit relief only if a district can demonstrate at a minimum that:

(i) The district is making a reasonable effort to provide appropriate program services for special education students utilizing state funds generated by the apportionment and special education funding formulas;

(ii) Calculations made in accordance with subsection (8) of this section with respect to state fund allocations justify a need for additional funds for compliance with federal maintenance of effort requirements.

96 enrollment percent over 12.7 percent, the maximum 1995-96 enrollment percent, and prior to 1996-97 the maximum 1996-97 enrollment percent;

(iii) The estimate to be used for purposes of subsection (7) of this section of each district's 1994-95 special education allocation showing the excess cost and the basic education portions; and

(iv) If necessary, a process for each district to estimate the 1995-96 school year excess cost allocation for special education and the portion of the basic education allocation formerly included in the special education allocation. This process may utilize the allocations generated pursuant to subsection (5) of this section, each district's 1994-95 estimated basic education backout percent for the 1994-95 school year, and state compensation increases for 1995-96.

(b) The superintendent, in consultation with the state auditor, shall take all necessary steps to successfully transition to the new formula and minimize paperwork at the district level associated with maintenance of effort calculations. The superintendent shall develop such rules and procedures as are necessary to implement this process for the 1995-96 school year, and may use the same process for the 1996-97 school year if found necessary for federal maintenance of effort calculations.

Prior to adopting any standards, procedures, or processes required to implement this section, the superintendent shall consult with the office of financial management and the fiscal committees of the legislature.

(10) The superintendent of public instruction, in cooperation with the office of financial management and the fiscal committees of the legislature, shall evaluate the operation of the safety nets under subsections (6) and (7) of this section and shall prepare an interim report by December 15, 1995 and a final report on the first school year of operation by October 15, 1996.

This amount is in lieu of money provided through the home and hospital allocation and the handicapped program.

(12) $1,000,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation is provided solely for projects to provide handicapped students with appropriate job and independent living skills, including work experience where possible, to facilitate their successful transition out of the public school system. The funds provided by this subsection shall be from federal discretionary grants.

(13) Not more than $80,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation shall be expended for development of an inservice training program to identify students with dyslexia who may be in need of special education.
(1) The appropriation includes such funds as are necessary for the remaining months of the 1994-95 school year.
(2) A maximum of $507,000 shall be expended for regional traffic safety education coordinators.
(3) The maximum basic state allocation per student completing the program shall be $137.16 in the 1995-96 and 1996-97 school years.

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The purpose of this act is to assist community and economic development by clarifying the authority of all cities, towns, counties, and public corporations to engage in federally guaranteed "conduit financings" and to specify procedures that may be used for such conduit financings. Generally, in such a conduit financing a municipality borrows funds from the federal government or from private sources with the help of federal guarantees, without pledging the credit or tax revenues of the municipality, and then lends the proceeds for private projects that both fulfill public purposes, such as community and economic development, and provide the revenues to retire the municipal borrowings. Such conduit financings include issuance by municipalities of federally guaranteed notes under section 108 of the housing and community development act of 1974, as amended, to finance projects eligible under federal community development block grant regulations.

Sec. 2. RCW 35.21.735 and 1985 c 332 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(2) All cities, towns, counties, and public corporations shall have the power and authority to enter into agreements with the United States or any agency or department thereof, or any agency of the state government or its political subdivisions, and pursuant to such agreements may receive and expend, or cause to be received and expended by a custodian or trustee, federal or private funds for any lawful public purpose. Pursuant to any such agreement, a city, town, county, or public corporation may issue bonds, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness that are guaranteed or otherwise secured by funds or other instruments provided by or through the federal government or by the federal government or an agency or instrumentality thereof under section 108 of the housing and community development act of 1974 (42 U.S.C. Sec. 5308), as amended, or its successor, and may agree to repay and reimburse for any liability thereon any guarantor of such bonds, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness issued by such jurisdiction or public corporation, or issued by any other public entity. For purposes of this subsection federal housing mortgage insurance shall not constitute a federal guarantee or security.

(3) A city, town, county, or public corporation may pledge, as security for any such bonds, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness or for its obligations to repay or reimburse any guarantor thereof, its right, title, and interest in and to any or all of the following: (a) Any federal grants or payments received or that may be received in the future; (b) any of the following that may be obtained directly or indirectly from the use of any federal or private funds received as authorized in this section: (i) Property and interests therein, and (ii) revenues; (c) any payments received or owing from any person resulting from the lending of any federal or private funds received as authorized in this section; (d) any

The bill was read the second time.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Fraser, the following Committee on Ecology and Parks amendment was adopted:

On page 4, after line 2, insert the following:

The department of ecology shall establish by rule under chapter 34.05 RCW:

(1) State-wide emission performance standards for new solid fuel burning devices. Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter which allows an authority to adopt more stringent emission standards, no authority shall adopt any emission standard for new solid fuel burning devices other than the state-wide standard adopted by the department under this section.

(a) After January 1, 1995, no solid fuel burning device shall be offered for sale in this state to residents of this state that does not meet the following particulate air contaminant emission standards under the test methodology of the United States environmental protection agency in effect on January 1, 1991, or an equivalent standard under any test methodology adopted by the United States environmental protection agency subsequent to such date: (i) Two and one-half grams per hour for catalytic wood stoves; and (ii) four and one-half grams per hour for all other solid fuel burning devices. For purposes of this subsection, "equivalent" shall mean the emissions limits specified in this subsection multiplied by a statistically reliable conversion factor determined by the department that compares the difference between the emission test methodology established by the United States environmental protection agency prior to May 15, 1991, with the test methodology adopted subsequently by the agency. Subsection (a) of this subsection does not apply to fireplaces.

(b) After January 1, 1997, no fireplace, except masonry fireplaces, shall be offered for sale unless such fireplace meets the 1990 United States environmental protection agency standards for wood stoves or equivalent standard that may be established by the state building code council by rule. Prior to January 1, 1997, the state building code council shall establish by rule a methodology for the testing of factory-built fireplaces. The methodology shall be designed to achieve a particulate air emission standard equivalent to the 1990 United States environmental protection agency standard for wood stoves. In developing the rules, the council shall include on the technical advisory committee at least one representative from the masonry fireplace builders and at least one representative of the factory-built fireplace manufacturers.

(c) Prior to January 1, 1997, the state building code council shall establish by rule design standards for the construction of new masonry fireplaces in Washington state. In developing the rules, the council shall include on the technical advisory committee at least one representative from the masonry fireplace builders and at least one representative of the factory-built fireplace manufacturers. It shall be the goal of the council to develop design standards that generally achieve reductions in particulate air contaminant emissions commensurate with the reductions being achieved by factory-built fireplaces at the time the standard is established.

(d) Actions of the department and local air pollution control authorities under this section shall preempt actions of other state agencies and local governments for the purposes of controlling air pollution from solid fuel burning devices, except where authorized by this act.

(e) Subsection (1)(a) of this section shall not apply to fireplaces.

(f) Notwithstanding (a) of this subsection, the department is authorized to adopt, by rule, emission standards adopted by the United States environmental protection agency for new wood stoves sold at retail. For solid fuel burning devices for which the United States environmental protection agency has not established emission standards, the department may exempt or establish, by rule, state-wide standards including emission levels and test procedures for such devices and such emission levels and test procedures shall be equivalent to emission levels per pound per hour burned for other new wood stoves and fireplaces regulated under this subsection.
(2) A program to:
   (a) Determine whether a new solid fuel burning device complies with the state-wide emission performance standards established in subsection (1) of this section; and
   (b) Approve the sale of devices that comply with the state-wide emission performance standards.

Sec. 4. RCW 70.94.460 and 1987 c 405 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

After July 1, 1988, no person shall sell, offer to sell, or knowingly advertise to sell a new wood stove in this state to a resident of this state unless the wood stove has been approved by the department under the program established under RCW 70.94.457.

On motion of Senator Fraser, the following title amendment was adopted:

MOTION

On motion of Senator Sutherland, the rules were suspended, House Bill No. 1761 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hochstatter: "Senator Bauer, for purposes of clarification, does the term 'continuous' include a thermal power plant's planned or unplanned shutdown periods? For example, would the shutdown of a plant for maintenance interrupt the 'continuous' nature of the power rating for purposes of the measurement?"

Senator Bauer: "No, the term 'continuous' means or refers to what the plant can sustain over a continuous period of time. This is the performance level which would be certified by the manufacturer for continuous operation of the plant for an extended period of time. So, to respond to your example, planned or unplanned shutdowns for maintenance or other operational reasons would not affect the calculation of the two hundred fifty thousand kilowatts, as that term is defined under this amendment, which would be measured using the continuous power rating, less minimum auxiliary load, at average ambient temperature and pressure."

Senator Hochstatter: "Does then that whole phrase 'maximum continuous electric generating capacity' mean the highest possible amount of electric generation the plant is capable of achieving?"
Senator Bauer: "No, the phrase 'maximum continuous electric generation capacity' means the electric generating level that the plant can sustain when operated at the performance level guaranteed by the electric generating equipment manufacturer for continuous operation of the plant for an extended period of time."

Senator Hochstatter: "Also, for purposes of clarification, does the term 'plant' mean only the electric generating equipment?"

Senator Bauer: "No, the term 'plant' means the entire electric generation facility, including all associated facilities, together with all integrated control devices."

Senator Hochstatter: "For further clarification, is that a specific location at which the electric generation capacity is 'measured' as referenced in the statute?"

Senator Bauer: "Yes, the term 'measured' means at the plant interconnect with the electric distribution system to which the plant supplies electricity."

Further debate ensued.

Recognizing veterans of World War II.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Sheldon, the following Committee on Government Operations amendment was adopted:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature intends to remember the thousands of men and women from Washington state who served in World War II. This year, nineteen hundred and ninety-five, marks the fiftieth anniversary of the end of World War II and yet there is no monument on the state capitol campus to specifically recognize the dedication of the men and women of this state who served or were wounded, killed, or missing in action during World War II. These brave people should be recognized for their dedication to freedom and bravery that brought a victorious end to the war. The legislature pledges strong support for a war memorial on the state capitol campus to honor all those who served in the armed forces during World War II.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. (1) The sum of fifty thousand dollars, or as much thereof as may be necessary, is appropriated for the biennium ending June 30, 1997, from the state general fund to the department of veterans affairs for the purpose of erecting a monument on the state capitol campus to honor and thank all who served during World War II.

(2) Prior to expending the appropriation the department of veterans affairs shall convene an advisory committee to make recommendations to the department on the type, size, and cost of the memorial and recommend a site on the capitol campus, subject to approval of the state capitol committee, for the memorial. The advisory committee shall consist of eleven members: Two from the house of representatives, one from each caucus; two from the senate, one from each caucus; one member appointed by the governor; and six public members representing veterans or veteran organizations. Members of the advisory committee shall not be compensated or reimbursed for any expenses incurred by attending advisory committee meetings."

On motion of Senator Sheldon, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1527, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McCaslin: "Senator Sheldon, I am curious about why it says, 'Members of the advisory Committee shall not be compensated or reimbursed for any expenses.' That would pretty well leave any Eastern Washington legislators off this committee, I assume. Senator Prentice agrees with me."

Senator Sheldon: "Well, I certainly am sure they didn't want to slight any Eastern Washington legislators. I would assume, Senator, that this is following the lines of the earlier memorial for the Korean conflict and the Asian conflict—that they used the same guidelines—but I am sure they would be happy to consider you."

Senator McCaslin: "Oh, no, no, I am not interested, believe me, even if they compensated me. I served my time in World War II, along with Senator Oke, and I really do not want to serve any more time going over the war stories that most of us pass along. Anyway, I just wanted to bring that up. You've excluded Eastern Washington veterans from coming and serving on that committee, because we really can't afford to fly over here, especially when we have to give up our free mileage, you know."

Senator Sheldon: "Thank you for mentioning it. You know, possibly, they could meet either at the mountains or the pass or maybe in Eastern Washington and maybe take turns meeting back and forth."

Senator McCaslin: "If they could meet on South Sullivan, I would even be happier. Thank you."

Senator Sheldon: "You are welcome."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1527, as amended by the Senate.

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

(1) For the purpose of payment of contributions, "wages" means the remuneration paid by one employer during any calendar year to an individual in its employment under this title or the unemployment compensation law of any other state in the amount specified in RCW 50.24.010. If an employer (hereinafter referred to as a successor employer) during any calendar year acquires substantially all the operating assets of another employer (hereinafter referred to as a predecessor employer) or assets used in a separate unit of a trade or business of a predecessor employer, and immediately after the acquisition employs in the individual's trade or business an individual who immediately before the acquisition was employed in the trade or business of the predecessor employer, then, for the purposes of determining the amount of remuneration paid by the successor employer to the individual during the calendar year which is subject to contributions, any remuneration paid to the individual by the predecessor employer during that calendar year and before the acquisition shall be considered as having been paid by the successor employer.

(2) For the purpose of payment of benefits, "wages" means the remuneration paid by one or more employers to an individual for employment under this title during his base year: PROVIDED, That at the request of a claimant, wages may be calculated on the basis of remuneration payable. The department shall notify each claimant that wages are calculated on the basis of remuneration paid, but at the claimant's request a redetermination may be performed and based on remuneration payable.

(3) For the purpose of payment of benefits and payment of contributions, the term "wages" includes tips which are received after January 1, 1987, while performing services which constitute employment, and which are reported to the employer for federal income tax purposes.

(4)(a) "Remuneration" means all compensation paid for personal services including commissions and bonuses and the cash value of all compensation paid in any medium other than cash. The reasonable cash value of compensation paid in any medium other than cash and the reasonable value of gratuities shall be estimated and determined in accordance with rules prescribed by the commissioner. Remuneration does not include payments to members of a reserve component of the armed forces of the United States, including the organized militia of the state of Washington, for the performance of duty for periods not exceeding seventy-two hours at a time.

(b) Previously accrued compensation, other than severance pay or payments received pursuant to plant closure agreements, when assigned to a specific period of time by virtue of a collective bargaining agreement, individual employment contract, customary trade practice, or request of the individual compensated, shall be regarded as benefits for the period to which it is assigned. "Assignment" means that individual when the compensation serves to make the individual eligible for all regular fringe benefits for the period to which the compensation is assigned.

(c) Settlements or other proceeds received by an individual as a result of a negotiated settlement for termination of an employment contract with a public agency prior to its expiration date shall be considered remuneration. The proceeds shall be deemed assigned in the same intervals and in the same amount for each interval as compensation was allocated under the contract.

(d) Except as provided in (c) of this subsection, the provisions of this ((section)) subsection (4) pertaining to the assignment of previously accrued compensation shall not apply to individuals subject to RCW 50.44.050.

Sec. 2. RCW 50.44.050 and 1990 c 33 s 33 s 587 are each amended to read as follows:

Any employee of a common school district who is presumed to be reemployed pursuant to RCW 28A.405.210 shall be deemed to have a contract for the ensuing term.

(2) Benefits shall not be paid based on services in any other capacity for an educational institution for any week of unemployment which commences during the period between two successive academic years or terms within an academic year, if such individual performs such services in the first of such academic years or terms and there is a reasonable assurance that such individual will perform such services in the second of such academic years or terms: PROVIDED, That if benefits are denied to any individual under this subsection and that individual was not offered the opportunity to perform such services for the educational institution for the second of such academic years or terms, the individual is entitled to a retroactive payment of benefits for each week for which the individual filed a timely claim for benefits and for which benefits were denied solely by reason of this subsection.

(3) Benefits shall not be paid based on any services described in subsections (1) and (2) of this section for any week of unemployment which commences during an established and customary vacation period or holiday recess if such individual performs such services in the period immediately before such vacation period or holiday recess, and there is a reasonable assurance that such individual will perform such services in the period immediately following such vacation period or holiday recess.

(5) As used in subsections (1) and (2) of this section, "academic year" includes fall, winter, spring, and summer quarters and comparable semesters unless, based upon objective criteria including enrollment and staffing, the quarter or comparable semester is not in fact a part of the academic year for the particular institution.

Sec. 3. RCW 50.44.053 and 1985 ex.s. c s 9 are each amended to read as follows:

The term "reasonable assurance," as used in RCW 50.44.050, means a written, verbal, or implied agreement that the employee will perform services in the same capacity during the ensuing academic year or term as in the first academic year or term provided that the agreement is not contingent on enrollment, funding, or program changes. A person shall not be deemed to be performing services "in the same capacity" unless those services are rendered under the same terms or conditions of employment in the ensuing year as in the first academic year or term.

All such arrangements shall be pursuant to either of the compacts contained in subsection (2) (a) or (b) of this section.

(a) The legislature recognizes that the compact language contained in this subsection is inadequate to meet many forms of emergencies. For this reason, after June 7, 1984, the state may not enter into any additional compacts under this subsection (2)(a).
AND DISASTER COMPACT

The contracting States solemnly agree:

Article 1. The purpose of this compact is to provide mutual aid among the States in meeting any emergency or disaster from enemy attack or other cause (natural or otherwise) including sabotage and subversive acts and direct attacks by bombs, shellfire, and atomic, radiological, chemical, bacteriological means, and other weapons. The prompt, full and effective utilization of the resources of the respective States, including such resources as may be available from the United States Government or any other source, are essential to the safety, care and welfare of the people thereof in the event of enemy action or other emergency, and any other resources, including personnel, equipment or supplies, shall be incorporated into a plan or plans of mutual aid to be developed among the civil defense agencies or similar bodies of the States that are parties hereto. The Directors of Civil Defense (Emergency Services) of all party States shall constitute a committee to formulate plans and take all necessary steps for the implementation of this compact.

Article 2. It shall be the duty of each party State to formulate civil defense plans and programs for application within such State. There shall be frequent consultation between the representatives of the States and with the United States Government and the free exchange of information and plans, including inventories of any materials and equipment available for civil defense. In carrying out such civil defense plans and programs the party States shall so far as possible provide and follow uniform standards, practices and rules and regulations including:

(a) Insignia, arm bands and any other distinctive articles to designate and distinguish the different civil defense services;
(b) Blackouts and practice blackouts, air raid drills, mobilization of civil defense forces and other tests and exercises;
(c) Warnings and signals for drills or attacks and the mechanical devices to be used in connection therewith;
(d) The effectiveness of the equipment and appliances; and
(e) Shutting off water mains, gas mains, electric power connections and the suspension of all other public utility services;
(f) The conduct of civilians and the movement and cessation of movement of pedestrians and vehicular traffic, prior, during, and subsequent to drills or attacks;
(g) The safety of public meetings or gatherings; and
(h) Mobile support units.

Article 3. Any party State requested to render mutual aid shall take such action as is necessary to provide and make available the resources covered by this compact in accordance with the terms hereof; provided that it is understood that the State rendering aid may withhold resources to the extent necessary to provide reasonable protection for such State. Each party State shall extend to the civil defense forces of any other party State, while operating within its State limits under the terms and conditions of this compact, the same powers (except that of arrest unless specifically authorized by the receiving State), duties, rights, privileges and immunities as if they were performing their duties in the State in which normally employed or rendering services. Civil defense forces will continue under the command and control of the operational control of the civil defense authorities of the State receiving assistance.

Article 4. Whenever any person holds a license, certificate or other permit issued by any State evidencing the meeting of qualifications for professional, mechanical or other skills, such person may render aid involving such skill in any party State to meet an emergency or disaster and such State shall give due recognition to such license, certificate or other permit as if issued in the State in which aid is rendered.

Article 5. No party State or its officers or employees rendering aid in another State pursuant to this compact shall be liable on account of any act or omission in good faith on the part of such forces while so engaged, or on account of the maintenance or use of any equipment or supplies in connection therewith.

Article 6. Inasmuch as it is probable that the pattern and detail of the machinery for mutual aid among two or more states may differ from that appropriate among other States party hereto, this instrument contains elements of a broad base common to all States, and nothing herein contained shall preclude any State from entering into supplementary agreements with another State or States. Such supplementary agreements may comprehend, but shall not be limited to, provisions for evacuation and reception of injured and other persons, and the exchange of medical, fire, police, public utility, reconnaissance, welfare, transportation and communications personnel, equipment and supplies.

Article 7. Each party State shall provide for the payment of compensation and death benefits to injured members of the civil defense forces of that State and the representatives of deceased members of such forces in case such members sustain injuries or are killed while rendering aid pursuant to this compact, in the same manner and on the same terms as if the injury or death were sustained within such State.

Article 8. Any party State rendering aid in another State pursuant to this compact shall be reimbursed by the party State receiving such aid for any loss or damage to, or expense incurred in the operation of any equipment answering a request for aid, and for the cost incurred in connection with such requests; provided, that any aiding State may assume in whole or in part such loss, damage, expense, or other cost, or may loan such equipment or donate such services to the receiving party State without charge or cost; and provided further that any two or more party States may enter into supplementary agreements establishing a different allocation of costs as among those States. The United States Government may relieve the party State receiving aid from any liability and reimburse the party State supplying civil defense forces for the compensation paid to and the transportation, subsistence and maintenance expenses of such forces during the time of the rendition of such aid or assistance outside the State and may also pay fair and reasonable compensation for the use or utilization of the supplies, materials, equipment or facilities so utilized or consumed.

Article 9. Plans for the orderly evacuation and reception of the civilian population as the result of an emergency or disaster shall be worked out from time to time between representatives of the party States and the various local civil defense areas thereof. Such plans shall include the manner of transporting such evacuees, the number of evacuees to be received in different areas, the manner in which food, clothing, housing, and medical care will be provided, the registration of the evacuees, the providing of facilities for the notification of relatives or friends and the forwarding of such evacuees to other areas or the bringing in of additional materials, supplies, and all other relevant factors. Such plans shall provide that the party State receiving evacuees shall be reimbursed generally for the out-of-pocket expenses incurred in receiving and caring for such evacuees, for expenditures for transportation, food, clothing, medicines and medical care and like items. Such expenditures shall be reimbursed by the party State of which the evacuees are residents, or by the United States Government under plans approved by it. After the termination of the emergency or disaster the party State of which the evacuees are resident shall assume the responsibility for the ultimate support or repatriation of such evacuees.

Article 10. This compact shall be available to any State, territory or possession of the United States, and the District of Columbia. The term "State" may also include any neighboring foreign country or province or state thereof.
Article 11. The committee established pursuant to Article 1 of this compact may request the Civil Defense Agency of the United States Government to act as informational and coordinating body under this compact, and representatives of such agency of the United States Government may attend meetings of such committee.

Article 12. This compact shall become operative immediately upon its ratification by any State as between it and any other State or States so ratifying and shall be subject to approval by Congress unless prior Congressional approval has been given. Duly authenticated copies of this compact and of such supplementary agreements as may be entered into shall, at the time of their approval, be deposited with each of the party States and with the Civil Defense Agency and other appropriate agencies of the United States Government.

Article 13. This compact shall continue in force and remain binding on each party State until the legislature or the Governor of such party State takes action to withdraw therefrom. Such action shall not be effective until 30 days after notice thereof has been sent by the Governor of the party State desiring to withdraw to the Governors of all other party States.

Article 14. This compact shall be construed to effectuate the purposes stated in Article 1 hereof. If any provision of this compact is declared unconstitutional, or the applicability thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the constitutionality of the remainder of this compact and the applicability thereof to other persons and circumstances shall not be effected thereby.

Article 15. (a) This Article shall be in effect only as among those states which have enacted it into law or in which the Governors have adopted it pursuant to constitutional or statutory authority sufficient to give it the force of law as part of this compact. Nothing contained in this Article or in any supplementary agreement made in implementation thereof shall be construed to abridge, impair or supersede any other provision of this compact or any obligation undertaken by a State pursuant thereto, except that if its terms so provide, a supplementary agreement in implementation of this Article may modify, expand or add to any such obligation as among the parties to the supplementary agreement.

(b) In addition to the occurrences, circumstances and subject matters to which preceding articles of this compact make it applicable, this compact and the authorizations, entitlements and procedures thereof shall apply to:
1. Searches for and rescue of person who are lost, marooned, or otherwise in danger.
2. Action useful in coping with disasters arising from any cause or designed to increase the capability to cope with any such disasters.
3. Incidents, or the imminence thereof, which endanger the health or safety of the public and which require the use of special equipment, trained personnel or personnel in larger numbers than are locally available in order to reduce, counteract or remove the danger.
4. The giving and receiving of aid by subdivisions of party States.
5. Exercises, drills or other training or practice activities designed to aid personnel to prepare for, cope with or prevent any disaster or other emergency to which this compact applies.

(c) Except as expressly limited by this compact or a supplementary agreement in force pursuant thereto, any aid authorized by this compact or such supplementary agreement may be furnished by any agency of a party State, a subdivision of such State, or by a joint agency providing such aid shall be entitled to reimbursement therefor to the same extent and in the same manner as a State. The personnel of such a joint agency, when rendering aid pursuant to this compact shall have the same rights, authority and immunity as personnel of party States.

(d) Nothing in this Article shall be construed to exclude from the coverage of Articles 1-15 of this compact any matter which, in the absence of this Article, could reasonably be construed to be covered thereby.

(b) The compact language contained in this subsection (2)(b) is intended to deal comprehensively with emergencies requiring assistance from other states.

INTERSTATE MUTUAL AID COMPACT

Purpose

The purpose of this Compact is to provide voluntary assistance among participating states in responding to any disaster or imminent disaster, that over extends the ability of local and state governments to reduce, counteract or remove the danger. Assistance may include, but not be limited to, rescue, fire, police, medical, communication, transportation services and facilities to cope with problems which require use of special equipment, trained personnel or personnel in large numbers not locally available.

Authorization

Article I, Section 10 of the Constitution of the United States permits a state to enter into an agreement or compact with another state, subject to the consent of Congress. Congress, through enactment of Title 50 U.S.C. Sections 2281(g), 2283 and the Executive Department, by issuance of Executive Orders No. 10186 of December 1, 1950, encourages the states to enter into emergency, disaster and civil defense mutual aid agreements or pacts.

Implementation

It is agreed by participating states that the following conditions will guide implementation of the Compact:

1. Participating states through their designated officials are authorized to request and receive assistance from a participating state. Requests will be granted only if the requesting state is committed to the mitigation of the emergency, and other resources are not immediately available.

2. Requests for assistance may be verbal or in writing. If the request is made by other than written communication, it shall be confirmed in writing as soon as practical after the request. A written request shall provide an itemization of equipment and operators, types of expertise, personnel or other resources needed. Each request must be signed by an authorized official.

3. Personnel and equipment of the aiding party made available to the requesting party shall, whenever possible, remain under the control and direction of the aiding party. The activities of personnel and equipment of the aiding party must be coordinated by the requesting party.

4. An aiding state shall have the right to withdraw some or all of their personnel and/or equipment whenever the personnel or equipment are needed by that state. Notice of intention to withdraw should be communicated to the requesting party as soon as possible.

General Fiscal Provisions
The state government of the requesting party shall reimburse the state government of the aiding party. It is understood that reimbursement shall be made as soon as possible after the receipt by the requesting party of an itemized voucher requesting reimbursement of costs.

1. Any party rendering aid pursuant to this Agreement shall be reimbursed by the state receiving such aid for any damage to, loss of, or expense incurred in the operation of any equipment used in responding to a request for aid, and for the cost incurred in connection with such requests.

2. Any state rendering aid pursuant to this Agreement shall be reimbursed by the state receiving such aid for the cost of payment of compensation and death benefits to injured officers, agents, or employees and their dependents or representatives in the event such officers, agents, or employees sustain injuries or are killed while rendering aid pursuant to this arrangement, provided that such payments are made in the same manner and on the same terms as if the injury or death were sustained within such state.

Privileges and Immunities

1. All privileges and immunities from liability, exemptions from law, ordinances, rules, all pension, relief disability, workers' compensation, and other benefits which apply to the activity of officers, agents, or employees when performing their respective functions within the territorial limits of their respective political subdivisions, shall apply to them to the same degree and extent while engaged in the performance of any of their functions and duties extra-territorially under the provisions of this Agreement.

2. All privileges and immunities from liability, exemptions from law, ordinances, and rules, workers' compensation and other benefits which apply to duly enrolled or registered volunteers when performing their respective functions at the request of their state and within its territorial limits, shall apply to the same degree and extent while performing their functions extra-territorially under the provisions of this Agreement. Volunteers may include, but not be limited to, physicians, surgeons, nurses, dentists, structural engineers, and trained search and rescue volunteers.

3. The signatory states, their political subdivisions, municipal corporations and other public agencies shall hold harmless the corresponding entities and personnel thereof from the other state with respect to the acts and omissions of its own agents and employees that occur while providing assistance pursuant to the common plan.

4. Nothing in this arrangement shall be construed as repealing or impairing any existing Interstate Mutual Aid Agreements.

5. Upon enactment of this Agreement by two or more states, and by January 1, annually thereafter, the participating states will exchange with each other the names of officials designated to request and/or provide services under this arrangement. In accordance with the cooperative nature of this arrangement, it shall be permissible and desirable for the parties to exchange operational procedures to be followed in requesting assistance and reimbursing expenses.

6. This compact shall enter into force and become effective and binding upon the states so acting when it has been enacted into law by any two states. Thereafter, this compact shall enter into force and become effective and binding as to any other of said states upon similar action by such state.

7. This compact shall continue in force and remain binding upon a party state until it shall have enacted a statute repealing the same and providing for the sending of formal written notice of withdrawal from the compact to the appropriate official of all other party states. An actual withdrawal shall not take effect until the thirtieth consecutive day after the notice provided in the statute has been sent. Such withdrawal shall not relieve the withdrawing state from its obligations assumed hereunder prior to the effective date of withdrawal.

In the absence or temporary disability of the manager, the manager shall, with the approval of the president of the commission, designate some competent person as acting manager.

The manager may attend all meetings of the commission and its committees, and take part in the discussion of any matters pertaining to the duties of his or her department, but shall have no vote.

The manager shall carry out the orders of the commission, and see that the laws pertaining to matters within the functions of his or her department are enforced; keep the commission fully advised as to the financial condition and needs of the districts; prepare an annual estimate for the ensuing fiscal year of the probable expenses of the department, and recommend to the commission what development work should be undertaken, and what extensions and additions, if any, should be made during the ensuing fiscal year, with an estimate of the costs of the development work, extensions, and additions; certify to the commission all bills, allowances, and payrolls, including claims due contractors of public works; recommend to the commission compensation of the employees of his or her office, and a scale of compensation to be paid for the different classes of service required by the district; hire and discharge employees under his or her direction; and perform such other duties as may be imposed upon the manager by resolution of the commission. It is unlawful for the manager to make any contribution of money in aid of or in opposition to the election of any candidate for public utility commissioner or to advocate or oppose any such election."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Haugen: "Mr. President, I would ask that you rule on the scope of this amendment. This bill truly deals with a very narrow issue relating to public utility bid procedures. What this amendment does is that it says that they must--it deals with the compensation for the district manager and must have a full description of the compensation package. I would say to the maker of this amendment, I am not unsympathetic with this issue. In fact, we had a bill that would have done this, but it certainly doesn't fit under this title of this bill and we would urge your consideration of that, Mr. President."

Further debate ensued.

There being no objection, the President deferred further consideration of Substitute House Bill No. 1434.

MOTION

At 10:16 a.m., on motion of Senator Spanel, the Senate was declared to be at ease.

The Senate was called to order at 1:07 p.m. by President Pritchard.

There being no objection, the President reverted the Senate to the second order of business.

REPORT OF SELECT COMMITTEE

STATE OF WASHINGTON
LEGISLATIVE ETHICS BOARD

OPINION OF THE LEGISLATIVE ETHICS BOARD
COMPLAINT 1995 NO. 1

April 6, 1995

On February 27, 1995, the Board received Complaint 1995 No. 1 from Ken Eikenberry, Chairman of the Republican Party, alleging violations RCW 42.52 and the Code of Legislative Ethics by Senator Kevin Quigley.

On April 6, 1995, Senator Quigley appeared before the Board in connection with a related advisory opinion requested by him (Advisory Opinion 1995 - No. 7). At that time, Senator Quigley admitted distributing a memorandum to his law firm and acknowledged that he had erred in doing so. The content of the memorandum violated the ethics laws, as described by the board in its advisory opinion regarding substantially similar facts.

The board, therefore, finds that Senator Kevin Quigley has engaged in unethical conduct and reprimands him for that violation. Since this conduct allegedly occurred in December, 1994, the board is transmitting this finding to the Secretary of the Senate with the recommendation that it be placed in the records of the Senate and that no further disciplinary action be taken.

The Report of the Select Committee is on file in the Office of the Secretary of the Senate.

There being no objection, the President advanced the Senate to the fourth order of business.

"The amendment proposed by Senator Finkbeiner would amend the requirements for the resolution to be passed by the public utility commissions when fixing the amount of compensation for district managers.

Clarifying the process for defendants to pay restitution to their victims.

The bill was read the second time.
MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Smith, the following Committee on Law and Justice amendment was adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

(1) If restitution is ordered, the court shall determine the amount of restitution due at the sentencing hearing or within (one hundred eighty days). The court may continue the hearing beyond the one hundred eighty days for good cause. The court shall then set a minimum monthly payment that the offender is required to make towards the restitution that is ordered. The court should take into consideration the total amount of the restitution owed, the offender's present, past, and future ability to pay, as well as any assets that the offender may have. During the period of supervision, the community corrections officer may examine the offender to determine if there has been a change in circumstances that warrants an amendment of the monthly payment schedule. The community corrections officer may recommend a change to the schedule of payment and shall inform the court of the recommended change and the reasons for the change. The sentencing court may then reset the monthly minimum payments based on the report from the community corrections officer of the change in circumstances. Restitution ordered by a court pursuant to a criminal conviction shall be based on easily ascertainable damages for injury to or loss of property, actual expenses incurred for treatment for injury to persons, and lost wages resulting from injury. Restitution shall not include reimbursement for damages for mental anguish, pain and suffering, or other intangible losses, but may include the costs of counseling reasonably related to the offense. The amount of restitution shall not exceed double the amount of the offender's gain or the victim's loss from the commission of the crime. For the purposes of this section, the offender shall remain under the court's jurisdiction for a maximum term of ten years following the offender's release from total confinement or ten years subsequent to the entry of the judgment and sentence, whichever period is longer. The portion of the sentence concerning restitution may be modified as to amount, terms and conditions during the ten-year period, regardless of the expiration of the offender's term of community supervision and regardless of the statutory maximum for the crime. The court may not reduce the total amount of restitution ordered because the offender may lack the ability to pay the total amount. The offender's compliance with the restitution shall be supervised by the department.

(2) Restitution may be ordered whenever the offender is convicted of an offense which results in injury to any person or damage to or loss of property. In addition, restitution may be ordered to pay for an injury, loss, or damage if the offender pleads guilty to a lesser offense or fewer offenses and agrees with the prosecutor's recommendation that the offender be required to pay restitution to a victim of an offense or offenses which are not prosecuted pursuant to a plea agreement.

(3) In addition to any sentence that may be imposed, a defendant who has been found guilty of an offense involving fraud or other deceptive practice or an organization which has been found guilty of any such offense may be ordered by the sentencing court to give notice of the conviction to the class of persons or to the sector of the public affected by the conviction or financially interested in the subject matter of the offense by mail, by advertising in designated areas or through designated media, or by other appropriate means.

(4) This section does not limit civil remedies or defenses available to the victim or defendant. The court shall identify in the judgment and sentence the victim or victims entitled to restitution and what amount is due each victim. The state or victim may enforce the court-ordered restitution in the same manner as a judgment in a civil action. Restitution collected through civil enforcement must be paid through the registry of the court and must be distributed proportionately according to each victim's loss when there is more than one victim.

Sec. 2. RCW 9.94A.142 and 1994 c 271 s 602 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) When restitution is ordered, the court shall determine the amount of restitution due at the sentencing hearing or within (one hundred eighty days). The court may continue the hearing beyond the one hundred eighty days for good cause. The court shall then set a minimum monthly payment that the offender is required to make towards the restitution that is ordered. The court should take into consideration the total amount of the restitution owed, the offender's present, past, and future ability to pay, as well as any assets that the offender may have. During the period of supervision, the community corrections officer may examine the offender to determine if there has been a change in circumstances that warrants an amendment of the monthly payment schedule. The community corrections officer may recommend a change to the schedule of payment and shall inform the court of the recommended change and the reasons for the change. The sentencing court may then reset the monthly minimum payments based on the report from the community corrections officer of the change in circumstances. Restitution ordered by a court pursuant to a criminal conviction shall be based on easily ascertainable damages for injury to or loss of property, actual expenses incurred for treatment for injury to persons, and lost wages resulting from injury. Restitution shall not include reimbursement for damages for mental anguish, pain and suffering, or other intangible losses, but may include the costs of counseling reasonably related to the offense. The amount of restitution shall not exceed double the amount of the offender's gain or the victim's loss from the commission of the crime. For the purposes of this section, the offender shall remain under the court's jurisdiction for a maximum term of ten years following the offender's release from total confinement or ten years subsequent to the entry of the judgment and sentence, whichever period is longer. The portion of the sentence concerning restitution may be modified as to amount, terms and conditions during the ten-year period, regardless of the expiration of the offender's term of community supervision and regardless of the statutory maximum for the crime. The court may not reduce the total amount of restitution ordered because the offender may lack the ability to pay the total amount. The offender's compliance with the restitution shall be supervised by the department.

(2) Restitution shall be ordered whenever the offender is convicted of an offense which results in injury to any person or damage to or loss of property unless extraordinary circumstances exist which make restitution inappropriate in the court's judgment and the court sets forth such circumstances in the record. In addition, restitution shall be ordered to pay for an injury, loss, or damage if the offender pleads guilty to a lesser offense or fewer offenses and agrees with the prosecutor's recommendation that the offender be required to pay restitution to a victim of an offense or offenses which are not prosecuted pursuant to a plea agreement.

(3) In addition to any sentence that may be imposed, a defendant who has been found guilty of an offense involving fraud or other deceptive practice or an organization which has been found guilty of any such offense may be ordered by the sentencing court to give notice of the conviction to the class of persons or to the sector of the public affected by the conviction or financially interested in the subject matter of the offense by mail, by advertising in designated areas or through designated media, or by other appropriate means.

(4) This section does not limit civil remedies or defenses available to the victim, survivors of the victim, or defendant. The court shall identify in the judgment and sentence the victim or victims entitled to restitution and what amount is due each victim. The state or victim may enforce the court-ordered restitution in the same manner as a judgment in a civil action. Restitution collected through civil enforcement must be paid through the registry of the court and must be distributed proportionately according to each victim's loss when there is more than one victim.

(5) This section shall apply to offenses committed after July 1, 1985.

Sec. 3. RCW 9.94A.145 and 1991 c 93 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Whenever a person is convicted of a felony, the court may order the payment of a legal financial obligation as part of the sentence. The court must on either the judgment and sentence or on a subsequent order to pay, designate the total amount of a legal financial obligation and segregate this amount among the separate assessments made for restitution, costs, fines, and other assessments required by law. On the same order, the court is also to set a sum that the offender is required to pay on a monthly basis towards satisfying the legal financial obligation. If the court fails to set the offender monthly payment amount, the department shall set the amount. Upon receipt of an offender's monthly payment, after restitution is satisfied, the county clerk shall distribute the payment proportionally among all other fines, costs, and assessments imposed, unless otherwise ordered by the court.

(2) If the court determines that the offender, at the time of sentencing, has the means to pay for the cost of incarceration, the court may require the offender to pay for the cost of incarceration at a rate of fifty dollars per day of incarceration. Payment of other court-ordered financial obligations including all legal financial obligations and costs of supervision shall take precedence over the payment of the cost of incarceration ordered by the court. All funds recovered from offenders for the cost of incarceration in the county jail shall be remitted to the county and the costs of incarceration in a prison shall be remitted to the department of corrections.

(3) The court may add to the judgment and sentence or subsequent order to pay a statement that a notice of payroll deduction is to be immediately issued. If the court chooses not to order the immediate issuance of a notice of payroll deduction at sentencing, the court shall add to the judgment and sentence or subsequent order to pay a statement that a notice of payroll deduction may be issued or other income-withholding action may be taken, without further notice to the offender if a monthly court-ordered legal financial obligation payment is not paid when due, and an amount equal to or greater than the amount payable for one month is owed.

If a judgment and sentence or subsequent order to pay does not include the statement that a notice of payroll deduction may be issued or other income-withholding action may be taken if a monthly legal financial obligation payment is past due, the department may serve a notice on the offender stating such requirements and authorizations. Service shall be by personal service or any form of mail requiring a return receipt.

(4) All legal financial obligations that are ordered as a result of a conviction for a felony, may also be enforced in the same manner as a judgment in a civil action by the party or entity to whom the legal financial obligation is owed. Restitution collected through civil enforcement must be paid through the registry of the court and must be distributed proportionately according to each victim's loss when there is more than one victim. The judgment and sentence shall identify the party or entity to whom restitution is owed so that the state, party, or entity may enforce the judgment. These obligations may be enforced at any time during the ten-year period following the offender's release from total confinement or within ten years of entry of the judgment and sentence, whichever period is longer. Independent of the department, the party or entity to whom the legal financial obligation is owed shall have the authority to utilize any other remedies available to the party or entity to collect the legal financial obligation.

(5) In order to assist the court in setting a monthly sum that the offender must pay during the period of supervision, the offender is required to report to the department for purposes of preparing a recommendation to the court. When reporting, the offender is required, under oath, to truthfully and honestly respond to all questions concerning present, past, and future earning capabilities and the location and nature of all property or financial assets. The offender is further required to bring any and all documents as requested by the department.

(6) After completing the investigation, the department shall make a report to the court on the amount of the monthly payment that the offender should be required to make towards a satisfied legal financial obligation.

(7) During the period of supervision, the department may make a recommendation to the court that the offender's monthly payment schedule be modified so as to reflect a change in financial circumstances. If the department sets the monthly payment amount, the department may modify the monthly payment amount without the matter being returned to the court. Also, during the period of supervision, the offender may be required at the request of the department to report to the department for the purposes of reviewing the appropriateness of the collection schedule for the legal financial obligation. During this reporting, the offender is required under oath to truthfully and honestly respond to all questions concerning earning capabilities and the location and nature of all property or financial assets. Also, the offender is required to bring any and all documents as requested by the department in order to prepare the collection schedule.

(8) After the judgment and sentence or payment order is entered, the department shall for any period of supervision be authorized to collect the legal financial obligation from the offender. Any amount collected by the department shall be remitted daily to the county clerk for the purposes of disbursements. The department is authorized to accept credit cards as payment for a legal financial obligation, and any costs incurred related to accepting credit card payments shall be the responsibility of the offender.

(9) The department or any obligee of the legal financial obligation may seek a mandatory wage assignment for the purposes of obtaining satisfaction for the legal financial obligation pursuant to RCW 9.94A.2001.

(10) The requirement that the offender pay a monthly sum towards a legal financial obligation constitutes a condition or requirement of a sentence and the offender is subject to the penalties as provided in RCW 9.94A.200 for noncompliance.

(11) The county clerk shall provide the department with individualized monthly billings for each offender with an unsatisfied legal financial obligation and shall provide the department with notice of payments by such offenders no less frequently than weekly.

When application is made to the court to grant an additional ten years, the application shall be accompanied by a current and updated judgment summary as outlined in RCW 4.64.030. The filing fee required under this subsection shall be included in the judgment summary and shall be a recoverable cost.

(4) A party who obtains a judgment or order for restitution or other court-ordered legal financial obligations pursuant to a criminal judgment and sentence may execute the judgment or order any time within ten years subsequent to the entry of the judgment and sentence or ten years following the offender's release from total confinement as provided in chapter 9.94A RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. Sections 1 and 2 of this act shall apply retroactively to allow courts to set restitution in cases sentenced prior to the effective date of this act if:

(1) The court failed to set restitution within sixty days of sentencing as required by RCW 9.94A.140 prior to the effective date of this act;

(2) The defendant was sentenced no more than three hundred sixty-five days before the effective date of this act; and

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1206, by House Committee on Appropriations (originally sponsored by Representatives Carlson, Sommers, Cooke and Dellwo)

Restructuring the retirement systems.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Bauer, the following Committee on Ways and Means amendment was adopted:
Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature recognizes that teachers, principals, and district administrators need the ability to make transitions to other public or private sector careers, and that the retirement system should not be a barrier to exercise of employee choice. The legislature also recognizes that teachers, principals, and district administrators need a secure and viable retirement benefit, not only for their own financial protection, but also that public funds are spent prudently for their intended purpose.

It is the legislative intent to create a new public retirement system that balances flexibility with stability, provides both increased employee control of investments and responsible protection of the public's investment in employee benefits, and encourages the pursuit of public sector careers without preventing employees from transitioning into other public or private sector employment.

Therefore, the purpose of chapter . . . . Laws of 1995 (this act) is to continue to provide teachers, principals, and district administrators with a guaranteed pension at retirement age based on years of public service with an element of inflation protection. It is further the purpose of chapter . . . . Laws of 1995 (this act) to create a parallel retirement plan where employees have options regarding the investment of their retirement contributions and have the opportunity, along with the accompanying risk, to receive a full rate of return on their investments and where employees who leave public employment prior to retirement receive a fair and reasonable value from the retirement system.

(a) Any person who violates RCW 69.50.401(a) by manufacturing, selling, delivering, or possessing with the intent to manufacture, sell, or deliver a controlled substance listed under that subsection or who violates RCW 69.50.410 by selling for profit any controlled substance or counterfeit substance classified in schedule I, RCW 69.50.204, except leaves and flowering tops of marihuana to a person:

The provisions of this section shall not operate to more than double the fine or imprisonment otherwise authorized by this chapter for an offense.

(b) It is not a defense to a prosecution for a violation of this section that the person was unaware that the prohibited conduct took place while in a school or school bus or within one thousand feet of the school or school bus route stop, in a public park, on a public transit vehicle, ((wherever)) in a public transit stop shelter, or in a public housing project designated by a local governing authority as a drug-free zone.

The affirmative defense established in this section shall be proved by the defendant by a preponderance of the evidence. This section shall not be construed to establish an affirmative defense with respect to a prosecution for an offense defined in any other section of this chapter.

(e) In a prosecution under this section, a map produced or reproduced by any ((municipal)) municipality, school district, county, ((or)) transit authority engineer, or public housing authority for the purpose of depicting the location and boundaries of the area on or within one

Any map approved under this section or a true copy of the map shall be filed with the clerk of the municipality or county, and shall be maintained as an official record of the municipality or county. This section shall not be construed as precluding the prosecution from introducing or relying upon any other evidence or testimony to establish any element of the offense. This section shall not be construed as precluding the use or admissibility of any map or diagram other than the one which has been approved by the governing body of a municipality, school district, county, or transit authority or public housing authority if the map or diagram is otherwise admissible under court rule.

MOTIONS

Senator Pelz moved that the following Committee on Labor, Commerce and Trade amendment be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 51.32 RCW to read as follows:

(1)(a) If the worker or beneficiary in a state fund claim prevails in an appeal by any party to the board or the court, the department shall comply with the board or court's order with respect to the payment of compensation within the later of the following time periods:

(i) Sixty days after the compensation order is entered; or
(ii) If, after the order has been entered and the department has, within the period specified in (a)(i) of this subsection, requested the filing by the worker or beneficiary of documents necessary to make payment of compensation, sixty days after all requested documents are filed with the department.

The department may extend the sixty-day time period for an additional thirty days for good cause.

(b) If the department fails to comply with (a) of this subsection, any person entitled to compensation under the order may institute proceedings for injunctive or other appropriate relief for enforcement of the order. These proceedings may be instituted in the superior court for the county in which the claimant resides, or, if the claimant is not then a resident of this state, in the superior court for Thurston county.

(2) In a proceeding under this section, the court shall enforce obedience to the order by proper means, enjoining compliance upon the person obligated to comply with the compensation order. The court may issue such writs and processes as are necessary to carry out its orders and may award a penalty of up to five hundred dollars to the person entitled to compensation under the order and reasonable costs and attorneys' fees. The court may award an additional penalty of five hundred dollars for each month that payment is not received beyond the time period allowed in subsection (1) of this section.

(3) A proceeding under this section does not preclude other methods of enforcement provided for in this title.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. This act applies to all appeals in state fund claims determined under Title 51 RCW on or after the effective date of this act, regardless of the date of filing of the claim."

Senator Ann Anderson moved that the following amendments to the Committee on Labor, Commerce and Trade striking amendment be considered simultaneously and be adopted:

On page 2, line 3 of the striking amendment, after "2." strike "This" and insert "Section 1 of this"

"Sec. 3. RCW 51.32.020 and 1977 ex.s. c 350 s 39 are each amended to read as follows:

If injury or death results to a worker from the deliberate intention of the worker himself or herself to produce such injury or death, from the worker's intoxication or use of a controlled substance defined in the Uniform Controlled Substances Act, chapter 69.50 RCW, or while the worker is engaged in the attempt to commit, or the commission of, a felony, neither the worker nor the widow, widower, child, or dependent of the worker shall receive any payment under this title. If the worker has the same or greater weight of alcohol in the blood than that set forth in RCW 46.61.502 or if the worker had positive confirmation of a controlled substance, it must be presumed that the injury was caused by the intoxication of alcohol or by the influence of the controlled substance.

An invalid child, while being supported and cared for in a state institution, shall not receive compensation under this chapter.

No payment shall be made to or for a natural child of a deceased worker and, at the same time, as the stepchild of a deceased worker. At any time following an injury occurring during the course of employment, if requested by the employer, an employee involved in the injury shall submit to a physical examination that may include the taking of blood or urine samples, or both, to determine whether the employee, at the time of the injury, was under the influence of alcohol or any controlled substance as defined in the Uniform Controlled Substances Act, chapter 69.50 RCW."

POINT OF ORDER
Senator Pelz: "I rise to challenge this amendment as being outside the scope and object of the bill. This is a bill relating to prompt payment of industrial insurance awards. The underlying bill provides a time frame under which the Department of Labor and Industries must comply with the worker's compensation order or face penalties and fees. The amendment provides that a worker's intoxication makes them and their beneficiaries ineligible for worker's compensation payments. The amendment also requires employees to submit to drug tests if requested by an employer after an injury. The amendment is, therefore, outside the scope and object of the original measure."

Further debate ensued.

There being no objection, further consideration of Substitute House Bill No. 1250 was deferred.

Creating the parks renewal and stewardship account.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Fraser, the following Committee on Ways and Means amendment was adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION Sec. 1. The legislature finds that during the past fourteen years, the Washington state parks and recreation commission has endured a steady erosion of general fund operating support, which has caused park closures, staff reductions, and growing backlog of deferred maintenance projects. The legislature also finds that the growth of parks revenue has been constrained by staff limitations and by transfers of that revenue into the general fund.

The legislature intends to reverse the decline in operating support to its state parks, stabilize the system's level of general fund support, and inspire system employees and park visitors to enhance these irreplaceable resources and ensure their continuing availability to current and future state citizens and visitors. To achieve these goals, the legislature intends to dedicate park revenues to park operations, developing and renovating park facilities, undertaking deferred maintenance, and improving park stewardship. The legislature clearly intends that such revenues shall complement, not supplant, future general fund support.

Sec. 2. RCW 43.51.047 and 1984 c 82 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

Only timber which qualifies for cutting or removal under RCW 43.51.045(2) may be sold. Timber shall be sold only when surplus to the needs of the park.

Net revenue derived from timber sales shall be deposited in the ((trust land)) parks renewal and stewardship account created in section 7 of this act.

Sec. 3. RCW 43.51.060 and 1993 c 156 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

The commission may:

(2) Accept any grants of funds made with or without a matching requirement by the United States, or any agency thereof, for purposes in keeping with the purposes of this chapter; accept gifts, bequests, devises and endowments for purposes in keeping with such purposes; enter into cooperative agreements with and provide for private nonprofit groups to use state park property and facilities to raise money to contribute gifts, grants, and support to the commission for the purposes of this chapter. The commission may assist the nonprofit group in a cooperative effort by providing necessary agency personnel and services, if available. However, none of the moneys raised may inure to the benefit of the nonprofit group, except in furtherance of its purposes to benefit the commission as provided in this chapter. The agency and the private nonprofit group shall agree on the nature of any project to be supported by such gift or grant prior to the use of any agency property or facilities for raising money. Any such gifts may be in the form of recreational facilities developed or built in part or in whole for public use on agency property, provided that the facility is consistent with the purposes of the agency.

(3) Require certification by the commission of all parks and recreation workers employed in state aided or state controlled programs;

(4) Act jointly, when advisable, with the United States, any other state agencies, institutions, departments, boards, or commissions in order to carry out the objectives and responsibilities of this chapter;

(5) Grant franchises and easements for any legitimate purpose on parks or parkways, for such terms and subject to such conditions and considerations as the commission shall specify;

(6) Charge such fees for services, utilities, and use of facilities as the commission shall deem proper((All fees received by the commission shall be deposited with the state treasurer in the state general fund));

(7) Enter into agreements whereby individuals or companies may rent undeveloped parks or parkway land for grazing, agricultural, or mineral development purposes upon such terms and conditions as the commission shall deem proper, for a term not to exceed ten years;

(8) Determine the qualifications of and employ a director of parks and recreation who shall receive a salary as fixed by the governor in accordance with the provisions of RCW 43.03.040, and upon his recommendation, a supervisor of recreation, and determine the qualifications and salary of and employ such other persons as may be needed to carry out the provisions hereof; and

(9) Without being limited to the powers hereinafter enumerated, the commission shall have such other powers as in the judgment of a majority of its members are deemed necessary to effectuate the purposes of this chapter: PROVIDED, That the commission shall not have power to supervise directly any local park or recreation district, and no funds shall be made available for such purpose.

Sec. 4. RCW 43.51.270 and 1992 c 185 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The ((board)) department of natural resources and the state parks and recreation commission shall have authority to negotiate a sale to the state parks and recreation commission, for park and outdoor recreation purposes, of ((the)) trust lands ((withdrawn as of August 9, 1971, pursuant to law for park purposes and included within the state parks listed in subsection (2) of this section: PROVIDED, That the sale shall be by contract with a pay-off period of not less than ten years, a price of eleven million twenty-four thousand seven hundred forty dollars or the)) at fair market value((... whichever is higher, for the land value, and interest not to exceed six percent. (2) There shall be no leasing of Washington's tidal or submerged lands extending from mean high tide seaward three miles along the Washington coast from Cape Flattery south to Cape Disappointment, nor in Grays Harbor, Willapa Bay, and the Columbia river downstream from the Longview bridge, for purposes of oil or gas exploration, development, or production until at least July 1, 1995. If the legislature does not extend the moratorium on leasing the moratorium will end on July 1, 1995). (6) The state shall participate in federal ocean and marine resource decisions to the fullest extent possible to ensure that the decisions are consistent with the state's policy concerning the use of those resources."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Ann Anderson: "Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. I believe that this amendment is out of the scope and object of the bill before us. I would like to raise that point of order. The amendment moved by Senator Owen, I believe, is beyond the scope of Substitute House Bill No. 1195, because it has a very specific exemption to the Shorelines Management Act only in the case of site exploration. This is a bill addressing Title 90, RCW Shorelines Management Act. The amendment on the bill is beyond the scope and object because it addresses a moratorium on the leasing of title and submerged lands. As a matter of fact, the amendment is being drawn to Title 43 and this was a separate bill and, as a matter of fact, in order to be found appropriate, I think it would need a title amendment in order to fit on this bill.”

Further debate ensued.

There being no objection, the President deferred further consideration of Substitute House Bill No. 1195.

SECOND READING

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1233, by House Committee on Government Operations (originally sponsored by Representatives L. Thomas, R. Fisher and Wolfe) (by request of Secretary of State Munro)

On page 3, after line 16, insert the following:

((openeing and subsequent processing)) verification of signatures on return envelopes for any primary or election may begin on or after the tenth day prior to such primary or election. The opening of the return and security envelopes and tabulation of absentee ballots shall not commence until after 8:00 o'clock p.m. on the day of the primary or election. After ((opening)) verification of signatures on the return envelopes, the county canvassing board shall count and place all of the不对 opened envelopes unopened, and the verified count of those envelopes, in containers ((that can be)) secured with numbered seals. These sealed containers shall be stored in a secure location until after 8:00 o'clock p.m. of the day of the primary or election.

The canvassing board shall examine the postmark, statement, and signature on each return envelope containing the security envelope and absentee ballot. They shall verify that the voter's signature is the same as that in the registration files for that voter. For absentee voters other than out-of-state voters, overseas voters, and service voters, if the postmark is illegible, the date on the return envelope to which the voter attests shall determine the validity, as to the time of voting, of that absentee ballot under this chapter. For any absentee voter, a variation between the signature of the voter on the return envelope and that in the registration files due to the substitution of initials or the use of common nicknames is permitted so long as the surname and handwriting are clearly the same.”

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senator Cantu on page 3, after line 16, to Substitute House Bill No. 1233.

The motion by Senator Cantu failed and the amendment was not adopted.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Winsley, the rules were suspended, Substitute House Bill No. 1233 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Substitute House Bill No. 1233.

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1233, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

A law enforcement agency, or a private communication center acting on behalf of a law enforcement agency, shall notify the police department of any personal property registered or titled with the department, that are in the operator's possession after the ninety-six hour abandonment period. If the hearing request is not received by the district court within the ten-day period, the right to a hearing is waived and the registered owner is liable for any towing, storage, or other impoundment charges permitted under this chapter. Upon receipt of a timely hearing request, the district court shall proceed to hear and determine the validity of the impoundment.

(3) The district court, within five days after the request for a hearing, shall notify the registered tow truck operator, the person requesting the hearing if not the owner, the registered and legal owners of the vehicle or other item of personal property registered or titled with the department, and the person or agency authorizing the impound in writing of the hearing date and time.

The court may not adjust fees or charges that are in compliance with the posted or contracted rates.

(d) If the impoundment is found proper, the impoundment, towing, and storage fees as permitted under this chapter together with court costs shall be assessed against the person or persons requesting the hearing, unless the operator did not have a signed and valid impoundment authorization from a private property owner or an authorized agent.

(e) If the impoundment is determined to be in violation of this chapter, then the registered and legal owners of the vehicle or other item of personal property registered or titled with the department shall bear no impoundment, towing, or storage fees, and any security shall be returned or discharged as appropriate, and the person or agency who authorized the impoundment shall be liable for any towing, storage, or other impoundment fees permitted under this chapter. Notice of entry of judgment may be made by registered or certified mail, and proof of mailing may be made by affidavit of the party mailing the notice. The lien does not apply to personal property in or upon the vehicle that is not permanently attached to or is not an integral part of the vehicle except for items of personal property registered or titled with the department. The registered tow truck operator also has a deficiency claim against the registered owner of the vehicle for services provided in the towing and storage of the vehicle not to exceed the sum of ((five hundred dollars ($500\)) after deduction of the amount bid at auction, and for vehicles of over ten thousand pounds gross vehicle weight, the operator has a deficiency claim of one thousand dollars (($1,000\)) after deduction of the amount bid at auction, unless the impoundment is determined to be invalid. A request for a hearing shall be made in writing on the form provided for that purpose and must be received by the district court within ten days of the date of the impound. If the hearing request is not received by the district court within the ten-day period, the right to a hearing is waived and the driver is liable for any towing, storage, or other impoundment charges permitted under this chapter. Upon receipt of a timely hearing request, the district court shall proceed to hear and determine the validity of the impoundment.

(a) The district court, within five days after the request for a hearing, shall notify the driver in writing of the hearing date and time.

(b) At the hearing, the person requesting the hearing may produce any relevant evidence to show that the impoundment was not proper.

(c) At the conclusion of the hearing, the district court shall determine whether the impoundment was proper, whether the driver was responsible for any penalties, fines, or forfeitures owed or due at the time of the impoundment, and whether they have been satisfied.

(d) A certified transcript or abstract of the driving record of the driver, as maintained by the department, is admissible in evidence in any hearing and is prima facie evidence of the status of the driving privilege of the person named in it at the time of the impoundment and whether there were penalties, fines, or forfeitures due and owing by the person named in it at the time the impoundment occurred.

SECOND READING

HOUSE BILL NO. 1296, by Representatives Sommers, Carlson and Sehlin (by request of Department of Retirement Systems)

Making retirement contributions and payments.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Bauer, the following Committee on Ways and Means amendment was adopted:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that:

(1) Since enactment of chapter 227, Laws of 1984 most employers that participate in state retirement systems have been responsible for ensuring that member retirement contributions are transferred to the retirement trust funds, even in situations where service credit is being established on a retroactive basis for a member who is no longer employed by the employer.

(2) It is the responsibility of employers to accurately report their employees' compensation and service, and to ensure that all required member and employer contributions are transferred to the department of retirement systems. However, in situations where an employer determines that a member should have had contributions transferred, it is more reasonable and efficient to bill the employer for the period due member contributions than to make the employer responsible for them.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 41.50 RCW to read as follows:

(1) If an employer, pursuant to RCW 41.50.140(2), does not transfer member contributions for a former employee's prior period of service, the employee shall not receive service credit for the period of service unless the member pays the required member contributions as provided in this section. In such cases the member shall have the option, but shall not be obligated, to pay the member contributions necessary to receive credit for the period of service. As provided by RCW 41.50.140(1), the department shall collect from the employer all employer contributions due for periods of service, regardless of whether the member elects to pay the member contributions necessary to receive credit for the period of service.

(2) The department shall adopt, by rule, a process by which separated and active members may pay member contributions needed to establish service credit for prior periods of service for which their employers did not transmit member contributions.

Sec. 3. RCW 41.50.140 and 1982 1st ex.s. c 52 s 33 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Every employer participating in one or more of the retirement systems listed in RCW 41.50.030 shall fully cooperate in the administration of the systems in which its employees participate, including the distribution of information to employees, and shall accept and carry out all other duties as required by law, regulation, or administrative instruction. Every employer shall transmit to the department all member and employer contributions due for periods of service rendered in the retirement systems, except as provided in subsection (2) of this section.

(2) When the department bills an employer for member and employer contributions owed for a prior period of service, the employer shall transmit the required contributions if the member is still an employee of the employer at the time of the billing. The employer shall have no duty to transfer member contributions for persons who are not employees on the date the department bills the employer but shall transfer the required employer contributions for the prior service.

(3) Members for whom member contributions for a prior period of service are not transferred by the employer pursuant to subsection (2) of this section shall have the option of paying the required member contributions pursuant to section 2 of this act.

(4) If an employer is entitled to retroactive service credit which was not previously established through no fault of the employee, or through an employer error which has caused a member's compensation or contributions to be understated or overstated so as to cause a loss to the retirement funds, the director may bill the employer for the loss, to include interest, if applicable. The employer contributions, with interest thereon, will be treated as if in fact the interest was part of the normal employer contribution and no distribution of interest received shall be required.

(5) Employer-paid employee contributions will not be credited to a member's account until the employer notifies the director in writing that the employer has reimbursed the employee or beneficiary for the payment. The employer shall have the right to collect from the employee the amount of the employee's obligation. Failure on the part of the employer to collect all or any part of the sums which may be due from the employee or beneficiary shall in no way cause the employer obligation for the total liability to be lessened.

(6) If an employer transfers member contributions which were not paid by the member, the employer shall have the right to collect the amount of the employer's obligation from the employee.

Sec. 4. RCW 41.54.020 and 1994 c 197 s 32 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Those persons who are dual members on or after July 1, 1988, shall not receive a retirement benefit from any prior system while dual members until the loss of all benefits under this chapter. Retroactive retirement in any prior system will cancel membership in any subsequent systems except as allowed under RCW 41.04.270 and will result in the refund of all employee and employer contributions made to such systems.

(2) If a member has withdrawn contributions from a prior system, the member may restore the contributions, together with interest since the date of withdrawal as determined by the system, and recover the service represented by the contributions. Such restoration must be completed within two years of establishing dual membership or prior to retirement, whichever occurs first.

(3) If a member does not meet the time limitation under subsection (2) of this section, the member, prior to retirement, may restore the service credit destroyed by the withdrawn contributions by paying the amount required under RCW 41.50.165(2). However, if a member failed... to meet the applicable statutory deadline and filed a petition with the director of the department of retirement systems prior to January 1, 1995, requesting an extension of the applicable period; and if the director's findings in denying the petition affirmatively show that the failure was due to the fact that the department's customary bulletins and other notifications that were furnished to the member's employer for distribution were not furnished to the member by the employer, and that the member did not otherwise receive notice through other channels of communication and was not at fault, the member may elect to restore the required contributions and interest and regain service credit under subsection (2) of this section under the same terms and conditions and without further liability as if the election had been made on a timely basis. The election must be made not later than July 1, 1995, or prior to retirement, whichever comes first. The department shall provide written notice and an application directly to the affected members, and any further assistance as may be necessary to implement this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. This act shall take effect July 1, 1996.

On motion of Senator Bauer, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 2 of the title, after "contributions;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "amending RCW 41.50.140 and 41.54.020; adding a new section to chapter 41.50 RCW; creating new sections; and providing an effective date."

Enlarging the scope of the methadone treatment program to the opiate substitution treatment program.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Hargrove, the following Committee on Human Services and Corrections amendment was adopted:

Sec. 1. RCW 70.96A.400 and 1989 c 270 s 20 are each amended to read as follows:

"The state of Washington declares that there is no fundamental right to ((methadone)) opiate substitution treatment. The state of Washington further declares that while methadone ((((i))) and other like pharmacological drugs, used in the treatment of opiate dependency are addictive substances, that ((((ii))) they nevertheless ((((iii))) have several legal, important, and justified uses and that one of ((((ii))) their appropriate and legal uses is, in conjunction with other required therapeutic procedures, in the treatment of persons addicted to or habituated to opioids.

Because methadone ((((i))) and other like pharmacological drugs, used in the treatment of opiate dependency are addictive and ((((ii))) are listed as a schedule II controlled substance in chapter 69.50 RCW, the state of Washington and authorizing counties on behalf of their citizens have the legal obligation and right to regulate the use of ((((methadone))) opiate substitution treatment. The state of Washington declares its authority to control and regulate carefully, in cooperation with the authorizing counties, all clinical uses of methadone and other pharmacological drugs in the treatment of ((opium)) opiate addiction.

Further, the state declares that the primary goal of ((((methadone))) opiate substitution treatment is ((((drug-free living))) total abstinence from chemical dependency for the individuals who participate in the treatment program. The state recognizes that a small percentage of persons who participate in opiate substitute treatment programs require treatment for an extended period of time. Opiate substitution treatment programs shall provide a comprehensive transition program to eliminate chemical dependency; including opiate and opiate substitute addiction of program participants."
Sec. 2. RCW 70.96A.410 and 1989 c 270 s 21 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A county legislative authority may prohibit ((methadone)) opiate substitution treatment in that county. The department shall not certify ((methadone)) opiate substitution treatment program in a county where the county legislative authority has prohibited ((methadone)) opiate substitution treatment. If a county legislative authority authorizes ((methadone)) opiate substitution treatment programs, it shall limit by ordinance the number of ((methadone)) opiate substitution treatment programs operating in that county by limiting the number of licenses granted in that county. If a county has authorized ((methadone)) opiate substitution treatment programs in that county, it shall only license ((methadone)) opiate substitution treatment programs that comply with the department's operating and treatment standards under this section and RCW 70.96A.420. A county that authorizes ((methadone)) opiate substitution treatment may operate the programs directly or through a local health department or health district or it may authorize certified ((methadone)) opiate substitution treatment programs that the county licenses to provide the services within the county. Counties shall monitor ((methadone)) opiate substitution treatment programs for compliance with the department's operating and treatment regulations under this section and RCW 70.96A.420.

(2) A county that authorizes ((methadone)) opiate substitution treatment programs shall develop and enact by ordinance licensing standards, consistent with this chapter and the operating and treatment standards adopted under this chapter, that govern the application for, issuance of, renewal of, and revocation of the licenses. Certified programs existing before May 18, 1987, applying for renewal of licensure in subsequent years, that maintain certification and meet all other requirements for licensure, shall be given preference.

(3) In certifying programs, the department shall not discriminate against ((methadone)) an opiate substitution treatment program on the basis of its corporate structure. ROLL CALL
The legislature finds that combatting these practices requires laws carefully fashioned to identify practices that mimic customary business practices. The legislature does not intend this law to be used against medical and other business referral practices that are otherwise legal, customary, and unrelated to the furtherance of some or all of the corrupt practices identified in this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that the business of insurance is one affected by the public interest, requiring that all persons be actuated by good faith, abstain from deception, and practice honesty and equity in all insurance matters. The payment of kickbacks, bribes, or rebates for referrals to service providers, as has been occurring with increasing regularity in this state, results in inflated or fraudulent insurance claims, results in greater insurance costs for all citizens, and is contrary to the public interest. In particular, the process whereby "cappers" buy and sell insurance claims without the controls of professional licensing and discipline creates a fertile ground for illegal activity and has, in this state, resulted in frauds committed against injured claimants, insurance companies, and the public. Operations that engage in this practice have some or all of the following characteristics: Cappers, acting under an agreement or understanding that they will receive a pecuniary benefit, refer claimants with real or imaginary claims, injuries, or property damage to service providers. This sets off a chain of events that corrupts both the provisions of services and casualty or property insurance for all citizens. This chain of events includes false claims for services through the use of false estimates of repair; false prescriptions of care or rehabilitative therapy; services that either do not occur or are provided by persons unqualified to provide the services; submission of false claims; submission of and demands for fraudulent costs, lost wages, pain and suffering, and the like; and other devices meant to result in false claims under casualty or property insurance policies or contracts, whether insured or self-insured, and either directly or through subrogation.

The legislature finds that combatting these practices requires laws carefully fashioned to identify practices that mimic customary business practices. The legislature does not intend this law to be used against medical and other business referral practices that are otherwise legal, customary, and unrelated to the furtherance of some or all of the corrupt practices identified in this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. The definitions set forth in this section apply throughout this chapter unless the context clearly indicates otherwise.

(1) "Casualty or property insurance" includes both the insurance under which a claim is filed and insurance that receives a claim through subrogation, and means insurance as defined in RCW 48.11.040 and 48.11.070 and includes self-insurance arrangements.

(2) "Claimant" means a person who has or is believed by an actor to have an insurance claim.

(3) "Group-buying arrangement" means an arrangement made by a membership organization having one hundred or more members in which the organization asks for or receives valuable consideration in exchange for referring its members to a service provider; the consideration asked for or received will be or is used to benefit the entire organization, not just one or more individuals in positions of power or influence in the organization; and reasonable efforts are made to disclose to affected members of the organization the nature of the referral relationship, including the nature, extent, amount, and use of the consideration.

(4) "Health care services" means a service provided to a claimant for treatment of physical or mental illness or injury arising in whole or substantial part from trauma.

(5) "Insurance claim" means a claim for payment, benefits, or damages under a contract, plan, or policy of casualty or property insurance.

(6) "Legal provider" means an active member in good standing of the Washington state bar association, and any other person authorized by the Washington state supreme court to engage in full or limited practice of law.

(7) "Service provider" means a person who directly or indirectly provides, advertises, or otherwise claims to provide services.

(8) "Services" means health care services, motor vehicle body or other motor vehicle repair, and preparing, processing, presenting, or negotiating an insurance claim.

(9) "Trauma" means a physical injury or wound caused by external force or violence.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. (1) It is unlawful for a person:

(a) Knowing that the payment is for the referral of a claimant to a service provider, to either accept payment from a service provider or, being a service provider, to pay another; or

(b) To provide or claim or represent to have provided services to a claimant, knowing the claimant was referred in violation of (a) of this subsection.

(2) It is unlawful for a service provider to engage in a regular practice of waiving, rebating, giving, paying, or offering to waive, rebate, give, or pay all or any part of a claimant's casualty or property insurance deductible.
NEW SECTION, Sec. 4. In a proceeding under this chapter, it is a defense if proven by the defendant by a preponderance of the evidence that, at the time of the offense:
(1) The conduct alleged was authorized by the Rules of Professional Conduct or the Admission to Practice Rules for lawyers as adopted by the state supreme court, Washington business and professions licensing statutes, or rules adopted by the secretary of health or the director of licensing;
(2) The payment was an incidental nonmonetary gift or gratuity, or was purely social in nature;
(3) The conduct alleged was an exercise of a group-buying arrangement;
(4) The conduct alleged was a legal provider paying a service provider's bills from the proceeds of an insurance claim that included the bills;
(5) The conduct alleged was a legal provider paying for services of an expert witness, including reports, consultation, and testimony; or
(6) The conduct alleged was a service provider's purchase of advertising from an unrelated business that provides referrals from advertising for groups of ten or more service providers that are not related to the advertising business and not related to each other.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 5. A violation of section 3 of this act constitutes trafficking in insurance claims. A single violation is a gross misdemeanor. Each subsequent violation, whether alleged in the same or in subsequent prosecutions, is a class C felony.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 6. Independent of authority granted to the attorney general, the prosecuting attorney may petition the superior court for an injunction against a person who has violated this chapter. Remedies in an injunctive action brought by a prosecuting attorney are limited to an order enjoining, restraining, or preventing the doing of any act or practice that constitutes a violation of this chapter and imposing a civil penalty of up to five thousand dollars for each violation. The prevailing party in the action may, in the discretion of the court, recover its reasonable investigative costs and the costs of the action including a reasonable attorney's fee. The degree of proof required in an action brought under this section is a preponderance of the evidence. An action under this section must be brought within three years after the violation of this chapter occurred.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 7. Whenever a service provider or a person licensed by the state in a business or profession is convicted, enjoined, or found liable for damages or a civil penalty or other equitable relief under section 6 of this act, the attorney general or the prosecuting attorney shall provide written notification of the judgment to the appropriate regulatory or disciplinary body or agency.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 8. A violation of this chapter is cause for discipline and constitutes unprofessional conduct that could result in any regulatory penalty provided by law, including refusal, revocation, or suspension of a business or professional license, or right or admission to practice. Conduct that constitutes a violation of this chapter is unprofessional conduct in violation of RCW 18.130.180.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 9. Each insurer licensed to write direct insurance in this state shall institute and maintain an insurance antifraud plan. An insurer licensed on the effective date of this act shall file its antifraud plan with the insurance commissioner no later than December 31, 1995. An insurer licensed after the effective date of this act shall file its antifraud plan within six months of licensure. An insurer shall file any change to the antifraud plan with the insurance commissioner within thirty days after the plan has been modified.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 10. An insurer's antifraud plan must establish specific procedures to:
(1) Prevent insurance fraud, including internal fraud involving employees or company representatives, fraud resulting from misrepresentation on applications for insurance coverage, and claims fraud;
(2) Review claims in order to detect evidence of possible insurance fraud and to investigate claims where fraud is suspected;
(3) Report fraud to appropriate law enforcement agencies and cooperate with those agencies in their prosecution of fraud cases;
(4) Undertake civil actions against persons who have engaged in fraudulent activities;
(5) Train company employees and agents in the detection and prevention of fraud.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 11. If after review of an insurer's antifraud plan, the commissioner finds that the plan does not comply with section 10 of this act, the commissioner may disapprove the antifraud plan. Notice of disapproval must include a statement of the specific reasons for disapproval. The insurer shall refile a plan disapproved by the commissioner within sixty days of the date of the notice of disapproval. The commissioner may audit insurers to ensure compliance with antifraud plans.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 12. Each insurer shall annually provide to the insurance commissioner a summary report on actions taken under its antifraud plan to prevent and combat insurance fraud. The report must also include, but not be limited to, measures taken to protect and ensure the integrity of electronic data-processing generated data and manually compiled data, statistical data on the amount of resources committed to combating fraud, and the amount of fraud identified and recovered during the reporting period. The antifraud plans and summary of the insurer's antifraud activities are not public records and are exempt from chapter 42.17 RCW, are proprietary, are not subject to public examination, and are not discoverable or admissible in civil litigation.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 13. An insurer that fails to file a timely antifraud plan or who does not make a good faith attempt to file an antifraud plan that complies with section 10 of this act, is subject to the penalty provisions of RCW 48.01.080, but no penalty may be imposed for the first filing made by an insurer under this chapter. An insurer that fails to follow the antifraud plan is subject to a civil penalty not to exceed ten thousand dollars for each violation, at the discretion of the commissioner after consideration of all relevant factors, including the willfulness of the violation.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 14. It is the duty of all peace officers, law enforcement officers, and law enforcement agencies within this state to investigate, enforce, and prosecute all violations of this chapter.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 15. A new section is added to chapter 42.17 RCW to read as follows:

But such insurer shall not, by reason of the requirement so to furnish forms, have any responsibility for or with reference to the completion of such proof or the manner of any such completion or attempted completion. If a person makes a claim under a policy of insurance, the insurer may require that the person be examined under an oath administered by a person authorized by state or federal law to administer oaths.

(a) A nonlawyer practices law, or holds himself or herself out as entitled to practice law((, shall, except as provided in RCW 10.154.100, be guilty of a misdemeanor. Conduct that constitutes a violation of this section is unprofessional conduct in violation of RCW 18.130.180.

The prevailing party in the action may, in the discretion of the court, recover reasonable investigative costs and the costs of the action including a reasonable attorney's fee. Sec. 35. RCW 18.130.190 and 1993 c 367 s 19 are each amended to read as follows:
(1) The secretary shall investigate complaints concerning practice by unlicensed persons of a profession or business for which a license is required by the chapters specified in RCW 18.130.040. In the investigation of the complaints, the secretary shall have the same authority as provided the secretary under RCW 18.130.050.
(2) The secretary may issue a notice of intention to issue a cease and desist order to any person whom the secretary has reason to believe is engaged in the unlicensed practice of a profession or business for which a license is required by the chapters specified in RCW 18.130.040. The person to whom such notice is issued may request an adjudicative proceeding to contest the charges. The request for hearing must be filed within twenty days after service of the notice of intention to issue a cease and desist order. The failure to request a hearing constitutes a default, whereupon the secretary may enter a permanent cease and desist order, which may include a civil fine. All proceedings shall be conducted in accordance with chapter 34.05 RCW.
(3) If the secretary makes a final determination that a person has engaged or is engaging in unlicensed practice, the secretary may issue a cease and desist order. In addition, the secretary may impose a civil fine in an amount not exceeding one thousand dollars for each day upon which the person engaged in unlicensed practice of a business or profession for which a license is required by one or more of the chapters specified in RCW 18.130.040. The proceeds of such fines shall be deposited to the health professions account.
(4) If the secretary makes a written finding of fact that the public interest will be irreparably harmed by delay in issuing an order, the secretary may issue a temporary cease and desist order. The person receiving a temporary cease and desist order shall be provided an opportunity for a prompt hearing. The temporary cease and desist order shall remain in effect until further order of the secretary. The failure to request a prompt or regularly scheduled hearing constitutes a default, whereupon the secretary may enter a permanent cease and desist order, which may include a civil fine.
(5) Neither the issuance of a cease and desist order nor payment of a civil fine shall relieve the person so practicing or operating a business without a license from criminal prosecution therefor, but the remedy of a cease and desist order or civil fine shall be in addition to any criminal liability. The cease and desist order is conclusive proof of unlicensed practice and may be enforced under RCW 7.21.060. This method of enforcement of the cease and desist order or civil fine may be used in addition to, or as an alternative to, any provisions for enforcement of agency orders set out in chapter 34.05 RCW.

(6) The attorney general, a county prosecuting attorney, the secretary, a board, or any person may in accordance with the laws of this state governing injunctions, maintain an action in the name of this state to enjoin any person practicing a profession or business for which a license is required by the chapters specified in RCW 18.130.040 without a license from engaging in such practice or operating such business until the required license is secured. However, the injunction shall not relieve the person so practicing or operating a business without a license from criminal prosecution therefor, but the remedy by injunction shall be in addition to any criminal liability.

(7) Unlicensed practice of a profession or operating a business for which a license is required by the chapters specified in RCW 18.130.040, unless otherwise excepted by law, constitutes a gross misdemeanor for a single violation. Each subsequent violation, whether alleged in the same or in subsequent prosecutions, is a class C felony. All fees, fines, forfeitures, and penalties collected or assessed by a court because of a violation of this section shall be remitted to the health professions account.
