JOURNAL OF THE SENATE
STATE OF WASHINGTON
1995 REGULAR SESSION
FIFTY-FOURTH LEGISLATURE

FIRST DAY

NOON SESSION

Senate Chamber, Olympia, Monday, January 9, 1995

Pursuant to law, the Senate of the 1995 Regular Session of the Fifty-fourth Legislature of the state of Washington was called to order at 12:00 noon by Lieutenant Governor Joel Pritchard, President of the Senate.

The Washington State Patrol Honor Guard, consisting of Troopers Robert Veliz, Dena Martin, Kandi Patrick, Reggie Chapman and Brian Ursino, presented the Colors. Father Daniel Weber of Bellermine Preparatory School of Tacoma, and a guest of Senator Marcus Gaspard, offered the prayer.

The President lead the Senate in the Pledge of Allegiance.

PRESIDENT WELCOMES SENATORS TO FIFTY-FOURTH LEGISLATURE

President Pritchard: "The President is delighted to welcome all of you Senators--those that are new and those that have been here before. A hundred years ago, we had a similar group sitting down, starting off; it was a tough time. There was a depression in the state. There were many, many battles in the Senate. For one, they had failed to elect a United States Senator. Even though, we had a United States slot, they couldn't come to an agreement on who it would be. The court had told them that they had to vote each day. They went twenty-nine days before they could agree on the Senator. Actually, it was twenty-nine days of fights within the Republican Caucus, because they had fifty-seven votes, a large majority, and they only needed forty-one to make it.

"In those days, politics were rough, tough and brutal. They fought over that; they had a lot of other difficult problems. The only bill that is remembered is the 'Barefoot Schoolboy Law,' which was offered by a freshman, a Populist, John Rogers, and that bill gave universal education to every child in the state of Washington. We have a lot of issues before this Senate and I know you people will do well. You will make your districts and your state proud of you, and I look forward to working with you in the coming days. I would only say this one rule, 'We win votes in our district; we lose votes while we are in Olympia,' so I would urge you not to stay too long."

INTRODUCTION OF LAKEFAIR QUEEN

The President welcomed and introduced Stephanie Henderson, the 1994-1995 Lakefair Queen, who was seated on the rostrum. With permission of the Senate, business was suspended for Queen Stephanie to welcome the Senators to Olympia.

I would like to place in nomination the name of a Senator from the Twenty-seventh Legislative District, Senator Lorraine Wojahn as President Pro Tempore. Senator Wojahn has served as our President Pro Tempore for the last two years and has distinguished herself by a great amount of patience in dealing with all of us. She is a long-time friend, but more importantly, a long-time member of not only the Senate, but of the Legislature, because she started her career in the House of Representatives. She has distinguished herself throughout her career as being on the forefront of many of the issues that were not popular at the time that she brought them before us, such as consumer protection and the womens' rights movement.

"She has been a very distinguished member of this body and we have recognized that, because we have elected her as our President Pro Tempore of the Senate. She has done an outstanding service, not only to the Senate, but also to the state of Washington and to her district. Senator Franklin is from the Twenty-ninth District and what I have found her to be is a fair, gentle, but strong woman, who has assisted us in our caucus. REMARKS BY SENATOR SNYDER

Senator Snyder: "Mr. President, I would like to place in nomination for Secretary of the Senate, the name of Marty Brown. I asked my wife, Betti, this morning what I could say about Marty as I had to nominate him. She said, 'Well, you always said that nobody could take your place as Secretary of the Senate, but Marty is trying.' Then, I thought maybe I would list all of the attributes that it takes to be Secretary of the Senate and after I listed a few, I thought, 'Well, probably there isn't anybody, past, present or future that could meet all of the qualifications that are necessary to be Secretary of the Senate.'

"At times, it is kind of a tough job serving all forty-nine members of the Senate, but Marty does an outstanding job. He has made lots of improvements the last two years; there have been lots of improvements made since I left that office. I am sure that any of us that have had any contact with Marty knows that he does an extremely great job in that position. When he is dealing with forty-nine egos, it isn't always easy, but again he is well qualified to continue in the job as Secretary of the Senate and I am pleased and delighted to stand here and nominate him for that position."

REMARKS BY SENATOR PRENTICE

Senator Prentice: "Mr. President, I wish to place the name of Richard Fisher for the position of Sergeant at Arms. Richard Fisher has been a friend of mine for over twenty-five years, as I am sure you are all tired of hearing. He and I first met when I was a night nurse at Valley Medical Hospital and he was a State Trooper. We used to always let him know that he was taking care of us in South King County. He did that job exactly.

"It was my pleasure to place his name in nomination two years ago and in those two years he has conducted this office in a professional manner, bringing the skills that I knew he had, as I knew he would to this office. This is one of those offices where, when things are running smoothly, you don't hear much about it. He has quietly lead the staff as they have performed their duties, taking care of most problems before we knew they had even gone on. I urge your support for Richard Fisher for Sergeant at Arms."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Gaspard: "Mr. President, a point of personal privilege if I may. We have gone through the opening ceremonies of this Fifty-fourth Legislature and I would like to extend a strong welcome to those newly elected members, but also the members who have served in this chamber before, as well as our newly appointed members. We have a great task before us, today, in representing the citizens of the state of Washington. They have entrusted with us the responsibility of developing both sound and reasonable policy and legislation. We have great challenges before us, but we also have great opportunities. I would suggest that now is the time for us to put behind us the campaigns of the old, to not be the candidates of old, but to be the State Senators of New. Our citizens expect nothing less of us--to be state's men, to be state's women. They expect us to work together for the good of our state. They expect us not to just identify problems, but to seek solutions. We have a great state. We cherish our quality of life here and the opportunities we all have. Let us, always, continue to work to make this state a great place to live.

"Our task as lawmakers is to meet the critical needs of this state, to create opportunities for our citizens and to assure public safety. Let us all join together to accomplish these tasks and to do so with dignity and humility, but also with understanding and compassion. I wish us all a very successful and accomplished legislative session."

VETOED BILLS

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
VETO MESSAGE ON ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 5018

April 1, 1994

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5018 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to service of process;"

This bill would amend current law relating to service of process, by allowing a notice of legal action against one or both spouses of a marital community to be served to either spouse personally, or by leaving a copy of the summons at their home with a resident who is of suitable age and discretion.

The bill's intended purpose is to make service of process easier in cases against the marital community by allowing service of process on either spouse even if they are away from home. An issue is raised in this situation when the spouses are not living together. The legislation attempts to address this concern by providing that where the spouses do not reside together, process must be made upon each personally.

However, the bill's language not only makes it easier to serve process on cases against the marital community but, as written, also makes it easier to serve process on cases against a spouse's separate property. Specifically, the language would allow a process server, in a case involving one spouse's separate property, to serve the other spouse at work. This raises serious due process concerns that I believe justify a veto. It is inconsistent with the purpose of service of process, which is to effect due process so that a court may exercise jurisdiction over the person and property of a defendant in an action. This language represents a significant departure from current law on cases against individual/separate property which require some kind of personal notice or that notice be delivered to your home.

For these reasons, I have vetoed Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5018 in its entirety.

Respectfully submitted,
MIKE LOWRY, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
VETO MESSAGE ON SENATE BILL NO. 6003

April 1, 1994

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 6003 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to the well-being of Children;"

Senate Bill No. 6003 attempts to clarify obscenity laws in our state as they apply to minors. The issue of pornography is one of the most emotionally charged issues before our courts and lawmakers. We must protect our most valuable resource--our children--and I know that was the legislature's well meant intention. However, that is not what Senate Bill No. 6003 does, and it also endangers some of our most important freedoms.

Presently the Washington State Supreme Court has a case before it based on a 1992 statute which added "sound recordings" to the list of materials able to be classified as erotic. The Court has not yet rendered its opinion in this case. This decision is expected to offer guidance and interpretation to the constitutionality of our present law.

Until we hear from the State Supreme Court, a number of questions remain as to the constitutionality of the present laws and, therefore, the appropriateness of any attempted revisions to those laws. Senate Bill No. 6003 is overly broad, vague and ambiguous in a number of respects. This raises important questions as to the bill's constitutional survivability.

The bill also contains provisions which are troubling and, by all signs, unintended. Senate Bill No. 6003, as well as present law, offer special protections to minors. However, the current law defines a minor as anyone under eighteen years of age, while this bill changes the definition to anyone under seventeen years of age. Senate Bill No. 6003 would actually allow more children to be exposed legally to the very material where access is sought to be limited. Further, under the provisions of Senate Bill No. 6003, an individual store clerk could be held criminally liable for selling material later held to be harmful to minors, while those who actually profit from such materials would be explicitly protected from liability.

We must make every effort to protect our children, and we must be likewise vigilant in protecting the fundamental freedoms they will grow to cherish. While there may be disagreement on the particular materials or circumstances from which our children require protection, there is widespread agreement on the need to adequately insulate our children from the proliferation of violence and other obscenity permeating our society. I look forward to working with the legislature, scholars, prosecutors, and citizens to craft, as necessary, changes or additions to current law which are narrowly tailored to address the problem in an enforceable, practical, and constitutionally sound manner.

For these reasons, I am vetoing Senate Bill No. 6003 in its entirety.

Respectfully submitted,
MIKE LOWRY, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
VETO MESSAGE ON SENATE BILL NO. 6023

April 2, 1994

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 6023 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to emergency management;"

This legislation would transfer the emergency management function from the Department of Community, Trade and Economic Development to the Military Department.

The state role in emergency management is an extremely important one. Under state law, local governments have prime responsibility for protecting the public's health and safety. The state's role is to assist local governments in planning, for responding to, and recovering from emergencies and disasters of all kinds. As governor, I have responsibility for public health and safety statewide, and I take this responsibility seriously. Actions that affect the state's capacity to plan for and respond to emergencies are of critical importance to me.

I believe that a review of how to best organize the state's ability to plan for and respond to emergencies and other public safety needs is both reasonable and appropriate. The Department of Community Development was given responsibility for emergency management in 1986 because of the need to better coordinate state emergency management activities with local governments and with other agencies and to provide a more effective emergency planning, response, and recovery capability for the state in the event of an emergency.

While the Military Department is both capable and responsive, it is not clear that simply transferring emergency management responsibilities from the Department of Community, Trade and Economic Development, in and of itself, will significantly improve the ability of the state to plan or respond to emergencies.

Effective emergency management requires extensive state and local planning. It involves the highest degree of readiness and effectiveness when an emergency occurs, backing up local response with state resources and personnel if needed. It involves the ability to quickly identify local losses and needs, to fund recovery as rapidly as possible and to cover these costs until federal reimbursement arrives. All of these activities require close coordination between state and local emergency managers and between many state agencies.

Rather than transferring the existing division from one agency to another, the state should review all of these issues and other public safety concerns as well to assure that the state has the best capacity to respond to emergencies and the strongest ability to protect the public safety.

For these reasons, I have vetoed Senate Bill No. 6023 in its entirety.

Respectfully submitted,
MIKE LOWRY, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
VETO MESSAGE ON SENATE BILL NO. 6254

April 2, 1994

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 6254 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to funeral or burial expenses of indigent persons;"

This bill allows the county to file a claim for funeral or burial expenses against any escheat property which reverts to the state when the county has paid burial expenses of the decedent.

The bill duplicates current law. Presently a county may file a claim against a deceased person's estate for any burial or funeral expenses it has incurred when family, friends, and/or organizations do not come forward to claim the body. The language in this bill is vague and may be misleading. A county might read this as empowering it to make a claim to the state for payment of the funeral expenses of any indigent person. I am vetoing this bill and directing the Department of Revenue to provide additional information and guidance to county councils and commissioners about how counties may make claims for payment of burial or funeral expenses of persons who die without heirs or a will.

For these reasons, I have vetoed Senate Bill No. 6254 in its entirety.

Respectfully submitted,
MIKE LOWRY, Governor

PARTIALLY VETOED BILLS

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

PARTIAL VETO MESSAGE ON ENGROSSED SECOND SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5468

April 2, 1994

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 2, Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5468 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to private business entities receiving public assistance;"

This legislation would direct the Department of Revenue and the Department of Community, Trade and Economic Development to prepare a study of firms that have participated in state sales tax deferral, business and occupation tax credit, and development loan fund programs. The departments would be required to collect information to measure the effect of these tax provisions and loans on businesses. The departments would also be directed to measure whether the firms participating in the programs have followed a wide range of federal and state requirements under other statutes and have met other standards of conduct not required under current law. Firms applying for participation in these programs would be required to prepare employment impact estimates for the departments.

I understand and agree with the premise that the state has an interest in determining whether its economic development programs are achieving their intended effect. I also agree that the goal of state economic development activities is to encourage a sustainable high wage, high skill economy in the state for all of the state's citizens.

I continue to believe that the state should maintain high environmental, health and safety, and employment standards implemented in a way that minimize bureaucracy, duplication, and confusion for the state's businesses. High standards should be enacted in the laws that govern these subjects. However, if compliance with existing standards in these areas is to be examined by the study, the Department of Revenue and the Department of Community, Trade and Economic Development are not the proper agencies to conduct the study.

I am also concerned that the private business information to be collected from businesses under this legislation would be subject to public disclosure. Because we believe that public business should take place in the open, our state has one of the strongest public disclosure statutes in the nation. The only way for publicly collected information to remain confidential is to amend our public disclosure statutes to specifically exempt such information from disclosure requirements. Despite the effort in the legislation to ensure that information collected from individual firms will remain confidential, I believe that information collected would be subject to disclosure.

As a result of these two concerns, I am vetoing section 2 of Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5468. However, I also believe that it is in the state's long-term interest to promote a sustainable high wage, high skill economy and to maintain high environmental, health and safety, and employment standards. As a result, I am asking the directors of state agencies with responsibility for environmental protection, employment, economic development, and workplace health and safety to identify threshold criteria that the state should consider applying in the future as eligibility criteria for state assistance programs. If businesses are willful repeat violators of existing statutes in these areas, these businesses should be removed from the benefits of the state's economic development programs. I am also directing these agencies to involve interested parties in the process of identifying such criteria. I will examine the results of these actions and consider requesting changes in state law and regulations to implement them.

With the exception of section 2, Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5468 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
MIKE LOWRY, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

PARTIAL VETO MESSAGE ON SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6006

March 21, 1994

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to Section 3, Substitute Senate Bill No. 6006 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to the judicial information system;"

This bill amends current law relating to the judicial information system and allows the Supreme Court to increase by rule fines, penalties and assessments for deposit into the judicial information system account. Funds from these increases will be dedicated to upgrading the computer information network utilized by the courts.

Section 3 of this bill is an emergency clause. Immediate implementation as provided by this section would not provide sufficient time for all jurisdictions to effect changes necessary to fully implement this legislation. For this reason, I have vetoed section 3.

With the exception of section 3, Substitute Senate Bill No. 6006 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
MIKE LOWRY, Governor

PARTIAL VETO MESSAGE ON SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6047

April 1, 1994

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 35, Substitute Senate Bill No. 6047 entitled:

"AN ACT relating to crimes involving alcohol, drugs, or mental problems;"

Section 35 of Substitute Senate Bill No. 6047 is in conflict with section 19 of the same bill and contradicts the intent of the bill to maintain records for deferred prosecution for ten years.

With the exception of section 35, Substitute Senate Bill No. 6047 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
MIKE LOWRY, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO MESSAGE ON ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6068

April 1, 1994

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 11, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6068 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to appeals involving boards within the Environmental Hearings Office;"

This is a thoughtful piece of legislation helping to reduce the time it takes for the Environmental Hearings Office and its constituent boards to resolve environmental disputes consistent with maintaining the quality of the state's environment. It is a part of larger efforts at regulatory reform designed to maintain the state's environmental quality and high standards while simplifying the regulatory and dispute resolution process.

Section 11 directs the Environmental Hearings Office to review and make recommendations as to whether the Pollution Control Hearings Board, the Growth Planning Hearings Boards, the Shorelines Hearings Boards, the Hydraulic Appeals Board, and the Forest Practices Appeals Board should be consolidated into a single board with jurisdiction over land use and environmental decisions.

While I am always interested in efforts to increase governmental efficiency, I do not agree with the provision as drafted. It is not clear why a study to consolidate state environmental boards should be conducted by the office managing some of the functions to be consolidated. Any such review should be undertaken independently if it is to achieve the desired results. It is also not clear to me that consolidation of these boards, of itself, would reduce any backlogs or delays which are a function of workload and resources.

The Regulatory Reform Task Force is currently reviewing the relationship between the State Environmental Policy Act, the Growth Management Act, the Shoreline Management Act, and other statutes. The goal of its efforts is to provide recommendations for ways to integrate land use and environmental review statutes so that they will continue to protect the state's environment and quality of life while simplifying and unifying regulations. I believe that it is better to allow this task force to complete its review and to make recommendations before approving an additional study of this topic.

For these reasons, I have vetoed section 11 of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6068.

With the exception of section 11, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6068 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
MIKE LOWRY, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO MESSAGE ON ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6084

April 2, 1994

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 2, page 2, lines 6 through 9; 2(2); 5, page 4, lines 8 through 10; 5(4); 6, page 4, line 37, and page 5, lines 1 and 2; 7, page 5, lines 18 and 19; 7(1); 7(2); 7(3); 25; 29(2); 34; and 45 of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6084 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to transportation appropriations;"

My reasons for vetoing these sections are as follows:

Sections 2, page 2, lines 6 through 9; 2(2); 7, page 5, lines 18 and 19; and 7(1), Abolishment of the Traffic Safety Commission and Transfer of Responsibility to the State Patrol

These sections of the supplemental transportation budget would abolish the Traffic Safety Commission as of July 1, 1994 and place the Commission's responsibilities in the State Patrol. I agree with the legislature that a decision should be made whether the effectiveness of state traffic safety activities would be improved by placing these functions in some other agency. I also believe this discussion should be complete and a decision made in the next session. I am vetoing these sections now to provide the opportunity for further consideration of this matter. Also, veto of section 7(1) is necessary to prevent the loss of over $2.5 million in federal funds because Senate Bill No. 6523, referred to in the proviso, was not enacted.

It is my intention that the State Patrol make these Highway Safety Fund appropriations available to the Traffic Safety Commission to perform the Commission's authorized responsibilities in the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1994. This veto also prevents the transfer of a $300,000 Transportation Fund appropriation from the Traffic Safety Commission to the State Patrol but reverses the planned $12,000 reduction from that fund. As the $12,000 was reduced, because it was identified as unnecessary, I am directing the Traffic Safety Commission to place this amount in reserve status.

I am also directing the Traffic Safety Commission and OFM to work with the legislature to identify the alternatives for placement of traffic safety activities and to address any substantive concerns regarding Traffic Safety Commission service delivery approaches and staffing levels. My recommendations on these matters will be presented to the next session of the legislature.

Section 5, page 4, lines 8 through 10, Reductions in Field Operations Bureau and the Elimination of the Safety Education Officer Program

This veto restores approximately $2 million in State Patrol Highway Account funding that contains several budget actions including the elimination of the patrol's Safety Education Officer program (SEO), commonly known as Trooper Bob. The SEO program staff provides training and education to the state's school age population regarding pedestrian, bicycle and highway safety, drug and alcohol prevention, and youth violence prevention. Last year Trooper Bobs contacted approximately 380,000 students. They are an important element in the state's effort to prevent the problems that plague our schools and our communities.

I concur with the other priorities assumed in this appropriation including savings identified by reducing the number of vehicle replacements, selected staffing reductions, and increasing expenditures for alcohol breath test equipment. These actions will be accomplished through the allotment process.

Section 5(4), Limitations on Vehicle Assignment

This section states that "Only commissioned officers and commercial vehicle enforcement officers involved directly and primarily in traffic enforcement activities will be assigned vehicles by the Washington State Patrol." This language limits the patrol's ability to provide vehicles required to effectively respond to emergency calls. These assigned vehicles contain specialized equipment such as sirens, radio equipment, emergency lights, and first aid equipment that are essential to reaching emergency scenes in an expeditious manner and to being fully equipped to provide assistance upon arrival.

While these problems illustrate the defects of the proviso as it was enacted, I share the legislature's concern over the assignment of state vehicles. I am directing the Washington State Patrol to complete a thorough review of its policy regarding vehicle assignment, and to present a plan to me and to the legislature by June 30, 1994 detailing how the number of individually assigned vehicles will be significantly decreased from the current level. I fully expect that only those employees who have a clear need connected to the safety of the public will be assigned a state vehicle.

Section 6, page 4, line 37, and page 5, line 1 through 2, Crime Lab Reduction and Fund Shift of Motor Vehicle Funds with State Patrol Highway Account Funds

This section reduces State Patrol Highway Account funding for the Investigative Services Bureau by $749,000. This amount is a combination of a $900,000 reduction in crime lab funding, a net increase of $121,000 in ACCESS funding, and a $30,000 increase in staffing for microanalysis work performed by the crime labs. The cut in the crime labs of $900,000 represents a 23 percent reduction and would result in service cutbacks that would hinder law enforcement and the ability of prosecuting attorneys to investigate and prosecute criminal cases. The severity of this reduction was recognized by the Legislature when it provided a partial restoration through the addition of $200,000 from the Transportation Fund in Section 402 of the operating budget. Even with the partial restoration, the crime lab would be reduced by 18 percent if not for this veto. This would result in approximately 3,750 fewer cases being analyzed with a corresponding impact on the effectiveness of prosecutions.

This veto has the effect of preserving essential crime lab activities.

Section 7(2), State Patrol Management Study

This section allows the Washington State Patrol to spend up to $100,000 for a study of current management programs and staffing of management positions. I agree that a study of management staffing levels is appropriate, but the expenditure of $100,000 for this effort is not necessary. Therefore, I am directing the Washington State Patrol to design a study as described in this section in cooperation with the Office of Financial Management. The results of this study will be presented to the legislature when the study is complete and incorporated into my budget recommendations for the next biennium.

Section 7(3), Forbidding Cadet Classes and Maintaining Field Force Levels through Management Reductions

This section requires the Washington State Patrol to maintain a field force level of 700 troopers and sergeants through reductions in management, and prohibits a cadet class for the remainder of this biennium. While I agree that it is important to maintain the field force level to protect the citizens of the state, this proviso does not accomplish the goal for two reasons. First, there will simply not be enough administrative staff that could reasonably be transferred to the field force sufficient to offset the projected level of field force retirements and attrition. Second, the prohibition of a cadet class eliminates the other avenue of acquiring replacement troopers.

The legislature acknowledges the first problem in Section 7(2) of this bill when it authorizes funds to "conduct a study of current management programs and levels of staffing for management positions within the Washington State Patrol". If it was clear that sufficient administrative staff transfers to the field were available without damaging the agency's operations, a study would be unnecessary.

I believe a more effective approach to maintaining an adequate field force level is to conduct an academy class for existing cadets and, wherever appropriate, to undertake the transfer of administrative staff to the field. I am directing the patrol to take both of these actions as soon as possible.

Section 25, Project Funding Priorities

This section directs the Transportation Commission to reduce or eliminate projects in a specified order should revenues fall below the level assumed in the supplemental transportation budget. This veto removes the language which specified the order of reduction--restoring the responsibility to make these choices to the Transportation Commission. The commission needs flexibility in exercising its responsibility to make project priority selections and to balance highway construction program expenditures with available resources.

Section 29(2), Horse Racing Track Infrastructure

This section specifies that $5 million in the Community Economic Revitalization Board (CERB) fund is dedicated solely for transportation infrastructure related to a new race track once it is approved by the Horse Racing Commission. This proviso sidesteps the CERB policy for selection of projects through competitive application. With this veto, the $5 million appropriation remains for use on CERB approved projects. If and when a race track location is approved by the Horse Racing Commission, the horse racing track project can compete for transportation infrastructure funding along with other projects through the regular CERB process.

Section 34, Charges From Other Agencies

The Motor Vehicle Fund (MVF) appropriation for DOT revolving fund charges is reduced and the section is restructured as separate line items for each of the eight different revolving fund charges. This reduction in the total amount provided means the agency cannot pay the charges for basic custodial and utility services. This veto restores the flexibility of the single line item approach and prevents the reduction in the total amount available. Even though the original appropriation does not provide the full amount needed for all anticipated revolving fund charges, the flexibility provided by the single line item format allows DOT to meet minimum obligations for the Department of General Administration facilities and services costs and for the Office of Minority and Women Business Enterprises expenses.

Section 45, Treasury Loan

This section provides for a treasury loan to the Motor Vehicle Fund should a temporary cash deficiency be projected. This section is not necessary. Treasury loans automatically occur for short term cash deficits for all funds and accounts.

With the exceptions of sections 2, page 2, lines 6 through 9; 2(2); 5, page 4, lines 8 through 10; 5(4); 6, page 4, line 37, and page 5, lines 1 and 2; 7, page 5, lines 18 and 19; 7(1); 7(2); 7(3); 25; 29(2); 34; and 45, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6084 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
MIKE LOWRY, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO MESSAGE ON SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6096

March 28, 1994

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 513 (28) and 513 (50), Substitute Senate Bill No. 6096 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to milk and milk products;"

Section 513 of Substitute Senate Bill No. 6096 repeals 103 separate sections of the RCW. The 103 individual sections of law repealed in section 513 are contained in a single section of the bill for clerical ease. Two of these repealers, sections 513 (28) and 513 (50), would repeal sections of the code which are amended elsewhere in Substitute Senate Bill No. 6096.

Section 207 of the bill amends RCW 15.32.590 and makes substantive changes to the requirements for sampling, testing, weighing, and grading done by licensed dairy technicians by expanding the requirement for these actions from "milk or cream" to "milk and milk products" and specifying that no unfair, fraudulent, or manipulated sample shall be taken or delivered for analysis. This same RCW section is repealed in section 513 (28).

Section 402 of the bill amends RCW 15.36.090 and makes substantive changes to labeling and marking requirements and specifically provides requirements concerning raw milk products and pasteurizing. This same RCW section is repealed in section 513 (50).

Veto of these discreet repealer sections cures the problem of internal inconsistency in Substitute Senate Bill No. 6096 and clarifies the substantive intent of this bill. For these reasons, I have vetoed sections 513 (28) and 513 (50) of Substitute Senate Bill No. 6096.

With the exception of sections 513 (28) and 513 (50), Substitute Senate Bill No. 6096 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
MIKE LOWRY, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO MESSAGE ON SECOND SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6107

April 1, 1994

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 3, 5, and 6, Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 6107 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to fees for services for the department of community, trade and economic development;"

Sections 1 through 8 of Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 6107 grant authority to assess fees for services provided by various economic development programs.

Section 3 would require the Office of Financial Management to approve a fee schedule proposed by the Department of Community, Trade and Economic Development. I am concerned that the section would set an inappropriate precedent for the Office of Financial Management's review of fees. Currently OFM approves certain internal revolving fund rates because of the effect these charges have on other state agency budgets. It does not approve specific fee schedules for the various fees assessed by other agencies. The section would establish an unnecessary oversight role for OFM.

Section 5 would grant authority to the Clean Washington Center to assess fees for services rendered. It prohibits fees to be assessed to any person who pays assessments imposed under chapter 82.18 or 82.19 RCW. I am concerned that the language is written so broadly that it would apply to nearly every citizen of the state who purchases a product upon which these taxes are levied. In effect, the Clean Washington Center would be denied the ability to assess fees. In the process of setting fees by rule, the department shall take into account any assessments paid by a firm participating in the program.

Section 6 of the bill creates a Clean Washington Center fee account in the state treasury. I believe that it is more appropriate for the department to maintain these funds in a subaccount as they have authority to do under current law. For this reason, I am vetoing this section. With the exception of sections 3, 5, and 6, Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 6107 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
MIKE LOWRY, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO MESSAGE ON ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6125

April 1, 1994

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, and 21, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6125 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to the creation of a combined recreational fish and hunting license document;"

Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6125 creates a sports recreational license that combines recreational fishing and hunting licenses and consolidates license categories into one document. These changes will provide more efficient service and will be less confusing to the public.

However, sections 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, and 21 of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6125 would direct the Department of Fish and Wildlife to create an expanded warm-water fisheries enhancement program financed by a new $5.00 (five dollar) fee to be imposed on those who fish for most species of warm-water fish.

In a time of fiscal constraint, I do not think it is wise to increase the cost of fishing licenses. Beyond that, in a time of problems emerging from endangered-species findings, from declining cold-water fisheries, from habitat loss, and from a host of other difficulties afflicting our fish and wildlife, I do not believe it is wise to earmark another fee to support only one program in the Department of Fish and Wildlife. The newly merged department already has a great number of special, earmarked funding mechanisms. Until there is a general review of the new department's programs and funding needs, I hesitate to establish yet another fund, and with it a new fisheries program. For these reasons, I am vetoing sections 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, and 21.

With the exception of sections 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, and 21, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6125 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
MIKE LOWRY, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO MESSAGE ON SENATE BILL NO. 6220

April 2, 1994

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 2, Senate Bill No. 6220 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to quality awards;"

Senate Bill No. 6220 creates the Quality Award Council to be appointed by the Governor. The council would promote attention to producing quality products and services in the private and public sectors through educational activities and an annual award. The Quality Award Council is modeled on the national Malcolm Baldrige Award and the International Deming Award.

I am very supportive of the ideals expressed in this bill. I have committed my administration to continuously improving the quality of public sector services as evidenced by cabinet level appointments to the Quality Service Network, by the newly merged Department of Fish and Wildlife and Department of Community, Trade and Economic Development with their development of outcome based measures of service, quality and effectiveness, and my participation with the legislature in the Washington Performance Partnership initiative.

Although I strongly support the creation of an award which would recognize excellence in quality, I am concerned about the vehicle used to establish the award. Senate Bill No. 6220 creates a council in statute at a time when I have been working with the legislature to minimize statutory boards and commissions. Moreover, the awkward organizational structure created by this bill seems an unnecessary and complicated means toward an otherwise laudable goal.

Nonetheless, with the exception of section 2 which would provide for an immediate implementation of this bill, I am signing Senate Bill No. 6220 because I am comfortable that the Quality Award Council and the quality achievement award program can be structurally tailored to meet the objectives of recognizing quality and improving competitiveness. I have directed my staff to work with the Quality Service Network, the legislature, and other interested parties to improve the award process contained in this bill and to minimize impacts on state government while maintaining visibility for quality production and service delivery in both the public and private sectors.

With the exception of section 2, Senate Bill No. 6220 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
MIKE LOWRY, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO MESSAGE ON ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6244

April 6, 1994

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 122(10); 122(12); 123; 132(3); 135(9); 145(15); 204(4)(h); 228(19); 303(8)(b); 305, page 87, lines 3 and 4; 305(1); 311, page 92, line 31; 311(5); 603, page 127, lines 17 and 18; and 610(5)(a), Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6244 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to fiscal matters;"

My reasons for vetoing these sections are as follows:

Section 122(10), pages 18 and 19, Long-Term Care Ombudsman Program (Department of Community Development)

Section 122(10) provides additional resources for a long-term care ombudsman in Kitsap County; requires a minimum of $10,000 be allocated to each of the 14 long-term care regions; limits the amount of the appropriation that can be spent on administration; and prohibits any reductions in existing contracts. It further requires the Department of Community Development to report to the fiscal committees of the legislature on the allocation of funding for Long-Term Care Ombudsman (LTCO) services, including recommendations for changes in the distribution of funding.

I am concerned that the limitations on administrative expenditures would reduce direct support for the regions currently provided by the LTCO central office. The central office would likely have to adopt a fee-for-service approach to pay for those services to the regions. Simply accounting for these transactions would drain resources from direct services in the regional and central offices. In addition, the cap on administrative expenditures by the central office would not provide sufficient funding for federally mandated programs.

For these reasons, I have vetoed this proviso. I am directing the new Department of Community, Trade and Economic Development to ensure that residents of long-term care facilities in Kitsap County have improved access to the ombudsman program using the additional funding provided for that purpose. I am also directing the department, in cooperation with the LTCO program and other interested parties, to prepare a comprehensive evaluation of the program for presentation to the fiscal and human services committees of the legislature in the 1995 session. The evaluation will include a specific analysis of the funding allocation method used by the program, including possible ways to increase the proportion of funding available to the regional offices consistent with existing law.

Section 122(12), page 19, State Environmental Policy Act/Growth Management Act Integration Grants (Department of Community Development)

The proviso arbitrarily requires a minimum of three grants of not less than $300,000 each. The language appears to be intended to ensure that grants made by the Department of Community Development for this purpose be of sufficient scale to achieve meaningful results. I am concerned that the specific dollar amounts are overly restrictive and would unnecessarily limit the prudent management of the funding provided by the legislature. Because the new Department of Community, Trade and Economic Development will seek participation in these projects from private and local sources, the state commitment necessary for any one project could be less than the minimum amount provided in the language. The department should not be limited to a requirement to spend at least $300,000 for each project if it can effectively satisfy project objectives for less.

In keeping with the intent of the language, I have directed the department to support at least three large scale integration projects of at least $300,000 total cost per project including private and local contributions. I have also directed the department to limit its budget for technical assistance to the amount stated in the proviso and to report to the legislature in December of 1994.

Section 123, page 20, Fire Protection Policy Board (Department of Community Development)

Section 123 would reduce the Department of Community Development's appropriation from the Oil Spill Administration Account by $130,000. The magnitude of this budget reduction, which represents 39 percent of the department's funding for oil spill training, would significantly impair oil spill training programs in this state. Therefore, I am vetoing this proviso and directing the new Department of Community, Trade and Economic Development to place $61,000 of the Oil Spill Administration Account into reserve to restore the funding to the level recommended in my supplemental budget proposal.

Section 132(3), page 25, Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5468 (Department of Revenue)

Section 132(3) allocates funds for a Department of Revenue study of firms that have participated in sales tax deferral, business and occupation tax credit, and development loan fund programs. The department would be required to collect information to measure the effect of these programs and to assess whether participants have followed a wide range of federal and state requirements. This study was also mandated by Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5468.

Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5468 would have required the department to examine the compliance of businesses with environmental, health and safety, and employment standards. If compliance with existing standards in these areas is to be reviewed, the Department of Revenue is not the proper agency to conduct the study. I am also concerned that this provision does not ensure adequate protection against disclosure of proprietary business information.

I am vetoing section 132(3) of the supplemental operating budget to be consistent with my veto of section 2 of Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5468. The Department of Revenue is directed to place the funding in reserve status.

I have also asked directors of state agencies with responsibility for environmental protection, employment, economic development, and workplace health and safety, to coordinate in identifying eligibility criteria that the state might establish for participation in assistance programs.

Section 135(9), page 27, State-wide Collocation Efforts (Department of General Administration)

I have vetoed this proviso in order to enable the Department of General Administration to test the findings of collocation and consolidation studies with $75,000 of the new appropriation contained in the capital budget for further collocation effort. The $171,000 of appropriation from the General Administration Facilities and Services Revolving Fund will be placed in reserve and may be allotted to support collocation costs in excess of $75,000 upon presentation of adequate justification as defined by the Office of Financial Management.

Section 145(15), page 34, Associate Development Organizations (Department of Trade and Economic Development)

While I am supportive of the intent of the language in this section to provide continuing support for Associate Development Organizations (ADOs) in distressed and rural areas of the state, I am concerned that the proviso limits the new Department of Community, Trade and Economic Development's flexibility to manage these funds most effectively. In keeping with the spirit of the proviso, I have directed the department to provide full funding to those counties in timber and distressed areas that are most in need and to provide funds to rural and distressed counties that would otherwise be excluded from funding under this language.

Section 204(4)(h), pages 49 and 50, Community Residential Services Efficiencies (Developmental Disabilities, Department of Social and Health Services)

This proviso directs the Department of Social and Health Services to develop and implement a plan for increasing the efficiency of the community residential services programs within the Division of Developmental Disabilities. The plan must specifically address strategies and timelines for (1) increasing the number of individuals not currently receiving state-funded residential services during 1995-97 by at least 220 adults, and (2) reducing the General-Fund state costs of providing these residential services in 1995-97 by at least $2.9 million.

While I am generally supportive of the intent of this language, which is to reduce the average daily cost of residential services, the specific targets are overly prescriptive, particularly as they relate to the next biennium. I am vetoing the proviso, but I am directing the division to complete its currently planned evaluation of all residential services, including those in the community, the residential habilitation centers, and the state operated living alternatives in time for the 1995 legislative session. This plan will also address potential costs savings related to residential reconfiguration and methods of providing services to those currently unserved.

Section 228(19), page 79, Unemployment Insurance Compensation (Employment Security Department)

Section 228(19) directs the Employment Security Department to use $80,000 of the Unemployment Compensation Administration Fund to study computer technology that could be used to improve various compensation procedures, as specified in Engrossed Senate Bill No. 6480. Since that bill was not approved by the legislature, I am vetoing this section of the supplemental budget bill.

Section 303(8)(b), page 84, Water Rights Permit Processing (Department of Ecology)

The legislature structured the funding for the Water Rights Permitting program so that 50 percent of the program's Fiscal Year 1995 funding would be eliminated if a water rights permit fee bill was not passed in the 1994 legislative session. It was the legislature's expectation that 50 percent of the funding for the Water Rights Permitting program, including data management, would be supported from water rights permit fees. The failure of the legislature to pass the water rights permit fee bill, Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 6291, will mean that a significant portion of the department's water rights permit processing activities will be eliminated. Consequently, the ability of the department to administer a vital resource will be greatly impaired. However, there is much in the water resources program that still needs to be done. Among those activities are the continued implementation of the data management program and instream flow determinations.

In addition, section 303(8)(b) contains a technical error which would reduce the department's General Fund-State appropriation for water rights permit administration activities by $654,000, when only $279,000 in new General Fund-State was provided. For these reasons, I am vetoing this section and directing the department to use the $279,000 of new funding to augment other water resource activities not directly related to the processing of water rights permits.

Section 305, page 87, lines 3 and 4, Oil Spill Administration Account Appropriation (State Parks and Recreation Commission)

The legislative budget reduced the State Parks and Recreation Commission's appropriation from the Oil Spill Administration Account by $16,000. The magnitude of the legislative budget reduction will mean that the training provided to park rangers and educational efforts designed to prevent oil spills by small vessels will be curtailed. Therefore, I am vetoing this appropriation.

Section 305(1), page 87, line 23 through line 26, State Parks Fees (State Parks and Recreation Commission)

Section 305(1), page 87, line 23 through line 26, requires the State Parks and Recreation Commission to implement fees that generate at least $3 million of additional revenue for the 1993-95 Biennium. A veto of this requirement will allow the commission to eliminate the day use parking fees scheduled to begin on May 1, 1994. While I feel that such charges may be necessary at some point in the future, user concerns have convinced me that we need more time to evaluate the impact of these fees on public access to state parks.

Section 804 of this act requires the transfer of $22.3 million from the Trust Land Purchase Account, where park fees are deposited, to the state General Fund. My veto of the language in Section 305 will result in an estimated $2.7 million in loss in revenue to the Trust Land Purchase Account, thus reducing the amount available for transfer to the General Fund. I will ask the legislature to address this issue in the 1995 legislative session.

Section 311, page 92, line 31, and Section 311(5), page 93, Warm Water Fish Enhancement (Department of Wildlife)

I am vetoing section 311, page 92, line 31, to remove the appropriation for the Warm Water Fish Account and section 311(5), which provides funding for the implementation for Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6125, combined recreational hunting and fishing license and warm water fisheries enhancement. While I support the consolidation of the recreational hunting and fishing license documents, I do not support the implementation of an expanded warm water fisheries enhancement program. Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6125 imposes a $5 surcharge on all who fish for warm water species. My primary concern is that until a general review of the new Department of Fish and Wildlife's program funding needs occurs, I am opposed to imposing yet another earmarked fund and with it a new fisheries program. I vetoed the sections of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6125 dealing with the warm water fisheries enhancement program, and therefore, the program's appropriation and proviso contained in section 311 of the supplemental budget bill are no longer required. However, I am directing the new Department of Fish and Wildlife to expend $53,000 from the Wildlife Fund-State appropriation to implement the recreational licensing component of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6125.

Section 603, page 127, lines 17 and 18, Oil Spill Administration Account Appropriation (University of Washington)

The legislative budget reduced the appropriation for the University of Washington's (UW) appropriation from the Oil Spill Administration Account by $136,000. A reduction of this magnitude would eliminate funding for the UW's oil spill education programs in Fiscal Year 1995, hampering the state's efforts to inform operators of small commercial vessels and shoreside facilities about ways to prevent oil spills. Therefore, I am vetoing this appropriation and directing the UW to place $89,000 of the Oil Spill Administration Account into reserve. This restores the funding to the level recommended in my supplemental budget proposal.

Section 610(5)(a), page 134, Financial Aid (State Need Grant) Money for Post Secondary Education Resource Centers (Higher Education Coordinating Board)

I am vetoing the proviso contained in section 610(5)(a) permitting the use of $249,000 of current state need-grant funding to help create post-secondary education resource centers. Under this proviso, the legislature directed that these funds be used as matching funds for an equal amount of federal dollars to create these centers. Last year I worked hard to double the amount of state money available for direct grants to low-income, higher education students. I believe it is inappropriate to reduce the number of financial assistance grants made directly to students who are in need in order to set up an information service for other potential applicants. If the legislature wanted to establish this administrative unit, new money should have been provided. This veto will ensure that the original level of grants to needy students is maintained.

With the exception of sections 122(10); 122(12); 123; 132(3); 135(9); 145(15); 204(4)(h); 228(19); 303(8)(b); 305, page 87, lines 3 and 4; 305(1); 311, page 92, line 31; 311(5); 603, page 127, lines 17 and 18; and 610(5)(a), Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6244 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
MIKE LOWRY, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO MESSAGE ON SENATE BILL NO. 6285

April 1, 1994

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 50, Senate Bill No. 6285 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to the strengthening and reform of the regulation of financial institutions and securities;"

This is excellent legislation designed to simplify the regulation of financial institutions and securities while maintaining effective regulation to safeguard the state's financial markets. It is another effort by the state to reform the regulatory structure to reduce paperwork and unnecessary costs for the state's businesses while continuing to safeguard the public and the solvency of financial institutions.

Section 50 would eliminate an existing requirement for banks to publish statements of condition three times a year in local newspapers. The section is intended to reduce the costs of such publication for commercial banks. Statements of condition are prepared three times a year and are available from state-chartered banks and from the Department of Financial Institutions.

However, the current statute protects the public right to know the status of state-chartered institutions without requiring the public to go to extra lengths to seek such information. As such, it is a worthwhile requirement and should be maintained. Therefore, I am vetoing section 50 of Senate Bill No. 6285.

With the exception of section 50, Senate Bill No. 6285 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
MIKE LOWRY, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO MESSAGE ON ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6339

April 1, 1994

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 10, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6339 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to facilitating growth management planning and decisions, integration with related environmental laws, and improving procedures for clean-up of hazardous waste sites;"

This is very valuable legislation introduced as part of the state's efforts at regulatory reform. It increases the authority of Growth Planning Hearings Boards to use hearings examiners and allows the Department of Ecology to enter into agreed orders with potentially liable parties under the Model Toxics Control Act. It allows local governments to continue to impose impact fees to pay for needed public facilities and requires local governments to adopt time limits for development permitting and to notify applicants for permits. The legislation has the effect of making the regulatory process more flexible for businesses while retaining the state's ability to protect the environment and local decision-making. It also pushes local governments to increase the predictability of local permitting while retaining local flexibility over how to meet these requirements.

Section 10 of the legislation amends RCW 70.105D.020 of the Model Toxics Control Act which is also amended in section 2 of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6123. While both sections include identical definitions of the term "agreed order," the amendment in Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6123 contains additional new language. To avoid a double amendment of this statute, I am vetoing section 10 of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6339.

With the exception of section 10, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6339 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
MIKE LOWRY, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO MESSAGE ON SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6561

March 21, 1994

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 1, 3 and 4, Substitute Senate Bill No. 6561 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to the marketplace program;"

Substitute Senate Bill No. 6561 makes two separate amendments to RCW 43.31.526, section 1 to be effective immediately and section 2 to be effective on July 1, 1994. The purpose of this dual amendment was to make the bill conform with the scheduled merger of the Departments of Fisheries and Wildlife. At the time that Substitute Senate Bill No. 6561 was passed, the merger of these agencies was scheduled to occur on July 1, 1994. With the passage of Senate Bill No. 6346, the merger of these agencies was moved up to March 1, 1994. Therefore, the provisions of section 1 and the related effective dates in sections 3 and 4 are no longer necessary, and for these reasons, I am vetoing sections 1, 3 and 4 of Substitute Senate Bill No. 6561.

With the exception of sections 1, 3 and 4, Substitute Senate Bill No. 6561 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
MIKE LOWRY, Governor

INITIATIVE MEASURE NO. 159

AN ACT Relating to increasing penalties for armed crimes; amending RCW 9.94A.310, 9.94A.150, 9A.36.045, 9A.52.020, 9A.56.---, 9A.56.030, 9A.56.040, 9A.56.150, 9A.56.160, 9.41.040, and 10.95.020; reenacting and amending RCW 9.94A.320; adding new sections to chapter 9.94A RCW; adding a new section to chapter 9A.56 RCW; creating new sections; repealing 1994 1st sp.s. c 7 s 510; repealing 1994 1st sp.s. c 7 s 511; repealing 1994 1st sp.s. c 7 s 512; and prescribing penalties.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. FINDINGS AND INTENT. (1) The people of the state of Washington find and declare that:

(a) Armed criminals pose an increasing and major threat to public safety and can turn any crime into serious injury or death.

(b) Criminals carry deadly weapons for several key reasons including: Forcing the victim to comply with their demands; injuring or killing anyone who tries to stop the criminal acts; and aiding the criminal in escaping.

(c) Current law does not sufficiently stigmatize the carrying and use of deadly weapons by criminals, and far too often there are no deadly weapon enhancements provided for many felonies, including murder, arson, manslaughter, and child molestation and many other sex offenses including child luring.

(d) Current law also fails to distinguish between gun-carrying criminals and criminals carrying knives or clubs.

(2) By increasing the penalties for carrying and using deadly weapons by criminals and closing loopholes involving armed criminals, the people intend to:

(a) Stigmatize the carrying and use of any deadly weapons for all felonies with proper deadly weapon enhancements.

(b) Reduce the number of armed offenders by making the carrying and use of the deadly weapon not worth the sentence received upon conviction.

(c) Distinguish between the gun predators and criminals carrying other deadly weapons and provide greatly increased penalties for gun predators and for those offenders committing crimes to acquire firearms.

(d) Bring accountability and certainty into the sentencing system by tracking individual judges and holding them accountable for their sentencing practices in relation to the state's sentencing guidelines for serious crimes.

Sec. 2. RCW 9.94A.310 and 1992 c 145 s 9 are each amended to read as follows:

FIREARM AND OTHER DEADLY WEAPON ENHANCEMENTS INCREASED.

(2) For persons convicted of the anticipatory offenses of criminal attempt, solicitation, or conspiracy under chapter 9A.28 RCW, the presumptive sentence is determined by locating the sentencing grid sentence range defined by the appropriate offender score and the seriousness level of the completed crime, and multiplying the range by 75 percent.

(3) The following additional times shall be added to the presumptive sentence for felony crimes committed after the effective date of this section if the offender or an accomplice was armed with a firearm as defined in RCW 9A.010 and the offender is being sentenced for one of the crimes listed in this subsection as eligible for any firearm enhancements based on the classification of the completed felony crime. (e) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any and all firearm enhancements under this section are mandatory, shall be served in total confinement, and shall not run concurrently with any other sentencing provisions.

(f) The firearm enhancements in this section shall apply to all felony crimes except the following: Possession of a machine gun, possessing a stolen firearm, reckless endangerment in the first degree, theft of a firearm, unlawful possession of a firearm in the first and second degree, and use of a machine gun in a felony.

(g) If the presumptive sentence under this section exceeds the statutory maximum for the offense, the statutory maximum sentence shall be the presumptive sentence unless the offender is a persistent offender as defined in RCW 9.94A.030.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE

The Senate Committee composed of Senators Cal Anderson, Long, McAuliffe and Oke appeared before the bar of the Senate and reported that the Governor had been notified, under the provisions of Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 8401, that the Legislature is organized and ready to transact business.

The report was received and the committee was discharged.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McDonald: "Mr. President, a point of personal privilege. I think Senator Gaspard did an extremely good job of setting the tone and this is a tone that has been consistent throughout the number of times that we have had to speak before groups around the state. It is time to put the elections behind us; it is time for us to work for the good of the order. I think it is a time, very frankly, in this body that we ought to be working to blur the line that runs down the invisible line--the very real line that runs down the middle of the aisle. I really think over the last number of years that we have gotten into bad habits that way and that there is an opportunity in this coming session to form some coalitions to form the ability to move forward on a number of issues. I think it is not one party or the other, it is both of us. This is the time to do that. I think Senator Gaspard set the right tone; it is one that our caucus definitely wants to work with you to make forward progress for this state and for the people of this state. Thank you, very much."

REPORT OF COMMITTEE

The Senate Committee composed of Senators Heavey, Finkbeiner, Kohl and Wood appeared before the bar of the Senate to report that the House of Representatives had been notified that the Senate is organized and ready to transact business.

STATE OF THE STATE ADDRESS GOVERNOR MIKE LOWRY

Governor Lowry: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. President, distinguished members of the Supreme Court, Governor Rosellini, distinguished state elected officials, members of the Legislature and citizens of the great state of Washington. Thank you, for the privilege of serving as your Governor.

"First, I know I speak for every person in this state in extending our condolences to the families and friends of four Seattle firefighters who, this week, gave their lives in service. Our hearts and prayers go out to them.

"I would like to begin by acknowledging the members of the Consular Corps of Washington, who are here today representing many of the nations with which our state maintains bonds of friendship and of trade. Your efforts help us create and expand markets in the rest of the world. To supply those markets, our people get up every morning and go to work to build the best airplanes, grow the best wheat and apples, design the best computer software, and develop a cure for cancer. One in five jobs in Washington depends on trade. Trade sustains our economy and that economy, in the past two years, has put more Washingtonians to work than ever before. We welcome you and we value your friendship.

"The history of Washington State is one of partnership, of people coming together to work for the progress of all the people of the state. It is a history of Democrats, Republicans and Independents, rising above short-term politics for the good of the state, and more importantly, for our children and our grandchildren. This ability to work together, to form partnerships for the common good, is our Northwest ethic. As Governor, I see examples of that ethic at work every day.

"It is the kind of ethic we've seen working in Hoquiam. When the Grays Harbor Paper Company closed, local officials and a private citizen, Bill Quigg, put together a team of business, labor, state and federal representatives with the citizens of Grays Harbor, got that pulp mill running again and saved three hundred jobs. Bill Quigg could not be here today, but Hoquiam Mayor, Phyllis Shrauger, is. Please join me in congratulating Bill Quigg, Mayor Shrauger, and their whole team for their leadership.

"We saw another example of our Northwest ethic at work in Central Washington this last summer, when public employees and private citizens joined together in a massive effort to control the nation's largest forest fire. In less than twelve hours, our emergency response plan delivered to the scene more than sixty firefighting units--teams--with the end result of their work, no loss of life and minimum loss of structures. With us today is Ray Dobbs of KOZI Radio on the shores of Lake Chelan. His station kept broadcasting the fire news twenty-four hours a day, providing critical information to the public. Also, with us is Ed Small, Director of Emergency Services, and Richard Small of Fire Protection Services. They represent the many fine state and other public employees, who with Land's Commissioner Jennifer Belcher, Speaker Clyde Ballard, Senator George Sellar and Representative Dale Foreman worked night and day coordinating that massive response. We applaud you and all the people who worked with you. Please stand.

"This Northwest ethic has made this a great state in which to live and raise a family. I am here to talk to you about continuing that Northwest ethic of partnership for the good of the state of Washington. I'd like you all to consider just how far that partnership has brought us in the past two years. In two years, we cut unemployment from 7.8% to 6.1%--a 23% reduction; we cut growth in state staffing levels to less than zero, when for the past decade they had grown by an average of 5,000 positions every biennium. We cut the sky-rocketing costs of health care. Two years ago, state employee premiums were increasing faster than 11% a year. This year, we changed that 11% increase to a 6% decrease for a savings of millions of dollars. These are only a few examples, and we still have much to do, but we are making excellent progress.

"One message we've all heard loud and clear is that the voters want a smaller state government--one that operates efficiently and concentrates on priorities. I agree and see this as one of our primary responsibilities. The new budget I submitted to you last month takes additional steps to get government out of areas where it doesn't need to be, while focusing on such key priorities as private sector jobs, public safety, education and protection of our natural resources. It holds the number of state employees to less than existed when I took office in 1993--a dramatic reversal of the trend established over the past decade. Reducing state employment to its lowest level in years will require courage. We sometimes have to disagree with our friends. I know many of my friends certainly disagree with me on this subject. Nevertheless, the cutbacks must go forward. We will have a smaller government. We will have a better government.

"The most important reason we are able to have a smaller, better government is the dedication of hard-working, skilled state employees. My admiration for them grows daily. I admire them for what they do and how well they do it and without receiving a cost-of-living adjustment in their pay for the past two years. On behalf of everyone in this chamber, I want to say to the state employees of this state, 'Thank you for a job well done.'

"Smaller and better government means more efficient and less intrusive regulations. This week, I sent to you legislation that, among other things, directs state agencies to focus on helping businesses comply with necessary rules, rather than penalizing them for minor infractions. And I have requested additional funding to help local governments better coordinate growth management planning with existing environmental laws. These recommendations come from sixteen months of hard work by the Regulatory Reform Task Force. This task force comprised of state legislators and representatives from business, labor, agriculture, conservation groups, state agencies and local governments, have reduced significant regulatory reform. Working together has again brought meaningful progress. I congratulate and thank them.

"Reducing duplication and regulations without removing those that protect the environment and public health and safety will make our state a better place to live, raise a family, and hold a good paying job. Good paying jobs are the top priority of the Lowry Administration. If everyone in the state had a family-wage job, ninety-five percent of the problems we deal with would be resolved. Since this time two years ago, our economy has created 70,000 net new jobs. Despite a loss of 20,000 jobs in the aerospace industry and job losses in our timber and fishing communities, we nevertheless have 70,000 more people employed now than we did in 1992. That net growth in jobs is ten times greater than the last time there were comparable Boeing cutbacks--ten times greater.

"But, we cannot rest now. Investment incentives, regulatory reform, quality education, a quality environment, safe communities are all important for a strong Washington economy. I am offering for your approval a Manufacturing Tax Incentive that would create as many as 45,000 high-wage jobs in our state over the next four years, according to a report from the Association of Washington Business. I am also putting before you a program to provide tax credits to companies that hire and train people now on welfare. Over the next two years, this measure would put 5,000 people to work at wages adequate to support their families and remove them permanently from the welfare rolls. That's a good tax investment for the future that will pay for itself many times over.

"It's easy to blame people on welfare--or new immigrants--or anyone else having trouble securing a stable place in our society, where more and more good paying jobs are connected with getting a good--often technical--education. But the facts are that most people who have to ask the government for help are in their mid-forties and have recently lost their jobs. Many others are recently divorced single women with children. Mocking them, denying them aid, keeping their children from receiving medical care or going to school--does neither help them, nor does it help society. But, providing them the tools to get a good job will help us all.

"Nothing the state does is more important for quality jobs in our society than education. No state government investment is more important, and nearly one-half of the General Fund Budget for the next two years will go to paying for schooling our youngsters. For twenty years, young students have been staying after school for Aki Kurose's science club at Laurelhurst Elementary, where she teaches first grade. The forty-some youngsters in the club discuss science with University of Washington physicists, chemists, zoologists and other scientists. With astronomers, they watched the meteor showers that recently stretched across our skies. Some former club members have now chosen careers in science. In 1990, Ms. Kurose received the Presidential Award for Excellence in teaching science and math from President George Bush. She is here today. Thank you, Aki; and will you please stand, so we can thank you and the thousands of other educators who in this state daily make a difference in the lives of many, many children.

"Because of a burgeoning population and the increasing educational demands of the job market, we expect a considerable rise in the number of students wanting to enter our excellent higher education system. Making sure that they have the chance for quality education, is critically important to our top priority of family-wage jobs. The Higher Education Tax Incentive that I am proposing would increase funding for student financial aid by nearly fifty percent. This will protect middle-income and lower-income families from being excluded from higher education.

"Altogether, I am asking you to approve measures that would increase financial aid eligibility limits on family incomes that are now too low--$17,000 a year, to as high, in some cases--$55,000 a year, to help the families that need the help. We cannot afford to lose any of our leaders of tomorrow, because they could not pay the cost of their education today.

"One thing we have done as a state that is also making a big difference in the lives of many children and adults, as well, is the adoption in 1993 of the Historic Washington Health Services Act. In its first two years of existence, that new law will make 138,000 children from lower-income families eligible to receive health coverage--children who might otherwise be denied adequate care. And in our state, no one will be denied from health insurance because of pre-existing conditions or job change. Those are things that everyone in this chamber should be proud of. I am pleased to report that cost increases in private insurance claims have dropped to the lowest rate in seven years. Increases in insurance premiums for large companies of Washington State are about half the national average. We must preserve the gains made under reform. We all need to keep working to achieve universal coverage and cost savings and we must not let special-interest lobbying keep us from that goal.

"We are the seventh fastest growing state in the nation. Every two years, that increase equals the population of another Tacoma. As population grows, our sense of community comes under strain, as does our natural environment. We have threatened watersheds and polluted and overdrawn sources of ground water. Our choices are clear. We can restore our watersheds ourselves or we can wait and let the federal courts or federal government decide for us. Waiting would be politically shortsighted. I am seeking your approval of a Water Policy/Salmon plan to fund local watershed and restoration efforts. This measure protects the environment and leaves a lasting legacy for our future generations.

"We must also continue our efforts to address the growing problems of crime in our many communities. Not just as Governor, but as a father, a son, and a husband, I share the public's concern about crime and their anger at those who victimize innocent people. I am asking in our Smart on Crime Initiative for tougher sentences for violent criminals. I remain unconvinced that we know how to cure the violence. Until we do, we must secure these people behind prison walls and we must increase penalties for crimes committed with guns. We also must recognize that any realistic solution to our crime problems does not stop at the prison door. Anyone in law enforcement can tell you that criminal behavior is closely linked to joblessness, lack of education, domestic violence, fetal alcohol syndrome and child abuse. The answers to these problems can be found in strong families and strong communities.

"Last year, the Legislature approved the Youth Agenda designed to provide additional support in these areas. This year's Smart on Crime Initiative would strengthen law enforcement's ability to pick up runaways, support parents better, and increase their responsibility for their children. It would provide safe places to help troubled youth stay away from crime and violence, to protect them from abuse, and provide job training to those who need it. We all want to be tough on crime. To do that, we also must be Smart on Crime.

"For two years, our Youth Agenda teams have been asking people, 'What are the most important factors in the development of our youth?' The answer consistently has been that every child needs to know that there are adults who love them--every child needs to know that there are adults who care. The answer to our youth problems is in strong families, strong communities and adults who care.

"I grew up in a wonderful family in Eastern Washington. There were fourteen in my high school graduating class. In our town, everybody knew what everybody else was doing. Maybe we were snoopy, but we had a sense of community. Every once in awhile, I would get into trouble, but there were always adults who would ask, 'Have you seen Mike today?' because they cared. Today, we need that same caring. Today, we must refuse to accept the excuse that just because most of us now live in larger populations, that it is okay for us to ignore our responsibilities to our communities, because it is not. Everyone of us must make sure that each child in our community knows we care--that each child knows we care today, and everyday in the future. That, more than anything else, is what we must put before political expediency.

"Today, I am calling for a recommitment by all of us to community. A recommitment that will create family wage jobs, reduce crime, fight bigotry and discrimination; ensure health care, reduce traffic congestion, protect the environment and better the lives of our children. None of these are partisan matters. They are above partisanship. They are the challenges our citizens expect us to meet. I know we can do that. I know we can say 'no' to partisan divisiveness and 'yes' to working together for the common good of the state of Washington--'yes' to a Northwest ethic of partnership that will make our great state even greater.

"Thank you, for the honor of serving as your Governor."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Franklin, the following resolution was adopted:

SENATE RESOLUTION 1995-8604

By Senators Franklin, Gaspard, Rasmussen, Spanel, Snyder, Oke, Pelz, Sheldon, Wojahn, C. Anderson, Haugen, Fraser and Kohl

WHEREAS, We live in a time when racial and cultural intolerance is too often a source of violence and mistrust; and
WHEREAS, The forms of racial and social injustice may have become less overt and more subtle in 1995, and continues to manifest itself in many ways; and

WHEREAS, The law in theory assures all citizens of equality, the fact remains that we must, each one take responsibility for pursuing justice and equality each day of our lives; and

WHEREAS, In America today we rarely discuss openly and honestly our differences and our own biases and prejudices, thus perpetuating the problem; and

WHEREAS, The Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr.'s example of confronting directly the issues that divide us along racial and cultural lines is one that we would do well to emulate today; and

WHEREAS, The increasing separation of citizens into groups of like color and ethnicity as a way of dealing with racism is racist in and of itself, and is directly at odds with Rev. King's message of unity and equality; and

WHEREAS, We as a nation and people can only rise united, and most surely will fall when divided; and

WHEREAS, Dr. King's message of peaceful perseverance in the face of seemingly insurmountable obstacles to equality is still a source of inspiration and hope for us as a nation;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the members of the Washington State Senate do hereby honor the memory of the Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr., a man of peace who saw injustice and tried to end it for the benefit of all Americans, and urge the citizens of Washington to put aside desires to separate along racial and cultural lines and instead heed his message of peace, unity, equality and social justice.

Senators Franklin, Pelz, Wojahn, Fraser, Kohl, Prentice, Roach and Palmer spoke to Senate Resolution 1995-8604.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Snyder: "Needless to say, I am extremely happy to be standing here today. I do want to give a lot of thanks to the Good Lord for looking over me and thanks to all the members that came to my aid in there. I won't start to name them, because I'm afraid I'll omit a few. Thanks to the people in the aid car that gave such wonderful assistance and the doctors and the staff at St. Peter Hospital for the care that I got there. Apparently, the upper part of my heart beat which sends a signal to the lower part to meet at the same time--something happened to the wiring and the signal didn't get through. By the time the aid people got here, my heart beat was forty and it was probably a little lower than that.

"The doctors told me that it may never happen again and it could happen next week, but they could take care of it by implanting a pacemaker. On Friday morning, Dr. Wark, who happens to be Neil Amondson's brother-in-law, implanted a pacemaker in my chest and I am getting along fine. I left my hospital room at seven o'clock and I was back at nine. They gave me a local anesthetic; I visited with the doctor and others during the procedure and I was eating breakfast at nine o'clock. I felt I could have gone home on Friday, but they kept me another twenty-four hours. I think the main thing was to get some IV's into me, because of the possibility of infection and they gave me some antibiotics.

"The real disturbing thing, though, was when I left. The doctor that discharged me was a different doctor; it was Doctor Gavin. At the very last minute he looked and he said, 'I want to check and see what kind of a pacemaker we put in.' He said, 'Oh, oh, that's the kind.' He said that if I was to vote against any Republican proposals this session, the pacemaker automatically stops."

MOTION

At 10:30 a.m., on motion of Senator Spanel, the Senate was declared to be at ease.

The Senate was called to order at 12:00 noon by President Pritchard.

MOTION

Senator Gaspard moved that the following resolution be adopted:

SENATE RESOLUTION 1995-8605

By Senators Gaspard and Kohl

WHEREAS, Comprehensive statewide water policy issues involve the jurisdiction and expertise of several existing Senate standing committees; and

WHEREAS, Such water issues include but are not limited to watershed planning and management; water resource management and governance; water rights adjudication; and water right permit processing fees;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That a special Senate Select Committee on Water Policy is hereby created; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Select Committee shall be made up of twelve members to include the chairs and ranking members of the Agriculture and Agricultural Trade and Development Committee; the Ecology and Parks Committee; the Energy, Telecommunications and Utilities Committee; the Government Operations Committee; and the Natural Resources Committee; and the majority and minority floor leaders; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Select Committee shall select, from among its members, a member or members to convene its meetings; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the staff for the Select Committee shall come from existing staff.

MOTION

Senator Gaspard moved that the following amendment be adopted:

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senator Gaspard in paragraph four, line 2, to Senate Resolution 1995-8605.

The President announced the following appointments to the Senate Select Committee on Water Policy: Senator Rasmussen, Senator Morton, Senator Fraser, Senator Swecker, Senator Sutherland, Senator Hochstatter, Senator Haugen, Senator Winsley, Senator Drew, Senator Oke, Senator Spanel and Senator Newhouse.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Gaspard, the appointments to the Senate Select Committee on Water Policy were confirmed.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Pelz: "Mr. President, I rise to a point of personal privilege. Our dear friend, Senator Vognild, is no longer with us, so I rise to fill a void, which is that I would like to point out that two of the newest members in the Senate have subjected this body to the pain of listening to one of their speeches. I believe that Senator Palmer and Senator Kohl owe a measure of gratitude to the members of the body."

MOTION

At 12:04 p.m., on motion of Senator Spanel, the Senate adjourned until 12:00 noon, Tuesday, January 17, 1995.

A senate bill, passed by the house with amendment or amendments which shall change the scope and object of the bill, upon being received in the senate, shall be referred to an appropriate committee and shall take the same course as for original bills, unless a motion to ask the house to recede, to insist or to adhere is made prior to the measure being referred to committee.

Bills Committed for Special Amendment

Rule 68. A bill may be committed with or without special instructions to amend at any time before taking the final vote.

Confirmation of Gubernatorial Appointees

Rule 69. When the names of appointees to state offices are transmitted to the Secretary of the Senate for senate confirmation, the communication from the governor shall be recorded and referred to the appropriate standing committee.

The standing committee, or subcommittee, pursuant to rule 42, shall require each appointee referred to the committee for consideration to complete the standard questionnaire to be used to ascertain the appointee's general background and qualifications. The committee may also require the appointee to complete a supplemental questionnaire related specifically to the qualifications for the position to which he has been appointed.

The standing committee, or subcommittees, pursuant to rule 42, shall hold a public hearing on the appointment. The appointee may be required to appear before the committee on request. When appearing, the appointee shall be required to testify under oath or affirmation. The chair of the committee or the presiding member shall administer the oath or affirmation in accordance with RCW 44.16. (See also Article 2, Sec. 6 of the State Constitution.)

Nothing in this rule shall be construed to prevent a standing committee, or subcommittee, pursuant to rule 42, upon a two-thirds vote of its members, from holding executive sessions when considering an appointment.

When the committee on rules presents the report of the standing committee before the senate, the question shall be the confirmation of the name proposed, and the roll shall then be called and the yeas and nays entered upon the journal. In the event a message is received from the governor requesting return of an appointment or appointments to the office of the governor prior to confirmation, the senate shall vote upon the governor's request and the appointment or appointments shall be returned to the governor if the request is approved by a majority of the elected. TWELFTH DAY

MORNING SESSION

Senate Chamber, Olympia, Friday, January 20, 1995

The Senate was called to order at 10:00 a.m. by President Pro Tempore Wojahn. The Secretary called the roll and announced to the President Pro Tempore that all Senators were present except Senators McCaslin and Roach. On motion of Senator Ann Anderson, Senators McCaslin and Roach were excused.

The Sergeant at Arms Color Guard, consisting of Jackie Zehner and Ryan Hein, presented the Colors. Reverend Philip Norris, pastor of the Lacey Community Church, offered the prayer.

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUEST

President Pro Tempore Wojahn welcomed and introduced Catholic Archbishop Thomas Murphy of the Archdiocese of Seattle, who was seated on the rostrum.

With permission of the Senate, business was suspended and Archbishop Murphy addressed the Senate.

REMARKS BY ARCHBISHOP MURPHY

Archbishop Murphy: "Thank you very, very much. I am here in Olympia just to visit and most of all the opportunity to speak to you, to say, 'Thank you.' As a citizen of the state and as the Archbishop of the church in Western Washington, the cooperative efforts between the church and the care of human persons in the state, along with the Legislature, has been a real gift. This really struck me this last past week. As you know in Seattle, when the four firepersons died, it happened by chance each of them was a member of the Roman Catholic faith community. I was never so struck in my life by being able to attend those four services, as well as at the Seattle Center. But, what came out of that experience was the sense of the service that we take for granted, which for these particular men cost them their lives. That made me aware in so many ways the service that all of us could take for granted--the service of men and women, such as yourselves, as we seek what is common to all of us as human beings.

"That also was brought to my attention on Wednesday evening when, at our Cathedral in Seattle, we had a service for the victims of the Japanese earthquake, and what brought us to that conclusion and that service was, despite the different faith traditions that are part of our experience, we share a humanity. We are daughters and sons of the same God; we are brothers and sisters to one another. So, the opportunity on Wednesday night for the Roman Catholic community to offer a sympathy and a word of hope to the Japanese community was a privilege for us. Again the awareness, there is far more that we have in common than what separates us. My prayer for you, as legislators, is that we may discover the truth that God lights in our hearts and to listen to that truth as we try to serve God and especially serve our sisters and brothers in need. Thank you for the ministry you offer, often taken for granted, often overlooked, but my friends, deeply appreciated. Thank you."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Spanel, the reading of the Journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was approved.

MESSAGE FROM STATE OFFICES

STATE OF WASHINGTON
DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE
P.O. BOX 47450
OLYMPIA, WASHINGTON 98504-7450

January 10, 1995

Honorable Members of the Washington State Legislature
Ladies and Gentlemen:

Enclosed are copies of the Executive Summary and Volume One of The Manufacturing Tax Study. It delineates the impact of state taxes on the manufacturing industry. Last week, an advance copy of this report was distributed to the Chairs of the legislative fiscal committees. I am hereby ensuring that all members have access to this information. Formal printed copies of Volumes One and Two (which contain over 500 pages of supporting data) will be available from the State Printer by the end of January.

The 1994 Study was conducted pursuant to Senate Bill No. 6573 -- enacted during the 1994 Legislative Session. This report includes findings of both the bipartisan Advisory Committee appointed to examine this important tax policy issue, and the Department of Revenue.

It features a comparative analysis of tax burdens on manufacturing firms and concludes that existing taxes in Washington impose a relatively heavy burden for many types of manufacturers. The Study also examined literature regarding factors businesses consider important when making locational decisions. The consensus is that tax differentials can be a significant criterion when most other factors are similar.

Recommendations for expanded tax incentives for the manufacturing industry are contained in the report, in addition to a comprehensive package of exemptions recommended by the Advisory Committee. More limited proposals which I advocate are detailed in the first chapter.

Should you require additional information on the report or legislation as it is considered during the course of this legislative session, please contact me directly at 206/753-5574.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

LEN McCOMB

Director

The Report from the Department of Revenue is on file in the Office of the Secretary of the Senate.

INTRODUCTION OF CHIEF JUSTICE DURHAM

Speaker Ballard: "Thank you, Mr. President. Ladies and gentlemen of the House and Senate, Honorable Members of the Supreme Court of Washington, distinguished visitors and friends. It is my high honor and privilege today to introduce to you the new Chief Justice of the State Supreme Court, the Honorable Barbara Durham. As you are all aware, Chief Justice Durham's swearing in this month was noteworthy, not only for the leadership she will bring to our state's judiciary, it was also historic because she is the first woman to serve as Chief Justice of the Washington Supreme Court. You may not know Chief Justice Durham made judicial history before--in 1980, as the first woman appellate judge in state history, and in 1984, as the first woman Chief Judge in the State Appellate Court System.

"Today, Chief Justice Durham is the only sitting member of the State Supreme Court who has served at all four levels of our judiciary. Chief Justice Durham began her judicial career with appointment to the Mercer Island District Court in 1977, and she was elected to the King County Superior Court. In 1980, she was appointed to the State Court of Appeals and since 1985, she has sat on the Supreme Court. Chief Justice Durham has distinguished herself not only on the bench but throughout her legal career serving in numerous public and private leadership roles.

"It is my pleasure to present to you, the Honorable Barbara Durham, Chief Justice of the Washington State Supreme Court."

STATE OF THE JUDICIARY ADDRESS BY CHIEF JUSTICE BARBARA DURHAM

Justice Durham: "Thank you very much for inviting me here today. I am honored to stand before you to report on the state of the judiciary. You are about to hear not only where the judiciary has been, but also where we aspire to go. I will describe not only what we have accomplished, but how, by working together as Legislature and Judiciary, we can renew our common commitment to justice. We will also revitalize our state's own judicial branch of government in the process.

"When I reviewed what our judges have accomplished in the past year, I was amazed. We have nearly four hundred judges in our state courts. Last year, they disposed of more than two million cases. That's an average of eight thousand cases every working day. They also sentenced some two hundred seventy-five thousand defendants. What I admire most about these hard working women and men is their dedication to justice. To them, justice is a duty, a responsibility and a public trust.

"Now, let me turn to three pressing issues that you in this Legislature can help us resolve. They are the process by which judges are selected, the optimum size of the Supreme Court, and the way in which the Chief Justice is chosen. First, let's look at the way we select our judges. As we all know, the integrity of the justice system depends upon the quality of its members. Yet, how we choose quality members has become a source of confusion. In a poll conducted last week by telephone, two-thirds of the voters polled said they lacked sufficient information to intelligently choose judicial candidates. The question is how can we increase this information so that the voters know for whom they are voting? Judges themselves aren't able to provide this information. Our state's Code of Judicial Conduct states clearly that judges cannot announce their views on disputed legal and political issues. Some states have recommended that judges be elected on the basis of a complicated merit system. Others suggest that citizens can get information from a judicial voter's pamphlet. I believe that what we need to do is to give this matter careful and thoughtful consideration.

"Therefore, in order to reduce the confusion and improve the selection process, Governor Lowry and I are announcing today the formation of a Judicial Election Reform Commission. This citizens-based commission will work with legislative leaders, judges and others to review all aspects of judicial selection. Their charge will be to hold meetings, take testimony and review methods used in other states. We will request the report and recommendations by the end of next year. I will work closely with Representative Ballard, Senator Gaspard, Governor

Lowry, and others to appoint a commission as soon as possible. Just recently, I've heard from Representative Jennifer Dunn and from city of Seattle Mayor Norman Rice --both of whom support the concept of a commission. As Representative Dunn stated, 'Voters want and deserve more information about judicial elections. A review of the alternatives by a thoughtful Judicial Election Commission would provide some much needed perspective.'

"The second issue I wish to bring to your attention is the size of the state's Supreme Court. Presently, we have a court made up of nine members, as do supreme courts in only six other states. However, the majority of states in the country have fewer members. Alaska has five, Oregon has seven and California has seven. Twenty-five years ago in our state, former Senator Wes Uhlman and then Justice Walter McGovern suggested that our Supreme Court could operate more efficiently with just seven members. Just last Thursday, in Seattle, speaking to the University of Washington Law School, Justice Robert Utter, our senior justice, urged that the state of the Supreme Court be reduced from nine to seven judges. I concur in these recommendations. According, I have been working with House and Senate leadership to draft a constitutional amendment to provide for this reduction through normal attrition. If passed by the voters, the next two vacancies to occur on the bench would not be filled. This reduction to seven justices would improve the court's communication, circulation and administration, and eventually save the taxpayers one point two million dollars a biennium. This reduction effort, however, will require serious leadership to place this issue before the public in November and to sponsor the necessary legislation. Both the House and Senate have already demonstrated leadership. Senator Adam Smith and Representative Mike Padden are the prime sponsors and many others have signed on to the bills.

"A third fundamental change in our court structure, which I propose, is the way in which the Chief Justice is chosen. Currently, the role of the Chief Justice is automatically assigned to a member of the court based on a combination of timing, seniority, and matriculation. The American Bar Association has recommended that the Supreme Court members choose the Chief Justices of this country on the basis of legal competence and administrative ability. In 1990, the Washington Commission for Trial Courts, chaired by William Gates, who is present today, and is a former past president of the State Bar Association, recommended a change in the method of selection of the Chief Justice and to change the Constitution accordingly. The Commission stated, 'Changing the way in which the Chief Justice is selected and extending the Chief Justice's term could have far-reaching effects on the overall management of the court system.' In a recent survey of all Washington State judges, seventy percent preferred a method of selecting the Chief Justice other than rotation. In the Court of Appeals and in most of our trial courts, the presiding judges are elected by their peers. Therefore, in addition to the constitutional amendment to reduce the size of the Supreme Court, we are also submitting a proposal to change the manner in which the Chief Justice is selected. You, as Representatives and Senators, can assist us in accomplishing these important pieces of legislation. I understand that the bills were delivered to the Bill Room this morning and are available in each chamber. I would invite each of you to join our renewal effort by signing on as co-sponsor.

"As you all know, as long as there have been courts, there have been both supporters and critics of the judicial system. Shakespeare's Hamlet bemoaned the law's delay. Dickens wrote about the seemingly endless chancery cases. I'm proud to say that our judiciary has already taken many bold and innovative projects to improve the administration of justice in this state. I'd like to take some time to enumerate these projects for you. We are improving our Supreme Court circulation procedures, especially with regard to opinion filings. As Gladstone noted, 'Justice delayed is justice denied.' Justice is truly denied when litigants have to wait years for resolution of their appeal. Two weeks ago in my inaugural remarks, I proposed that the opinions of the Supreme Court should be published within the same year that they are argued. This is in keeping with the United States Supreme Court, which files all its cases heard that year, by the end of the Spring Term. We should be able to do likewise.

"Therefore, we will consider reducing the length of appellate opinions, shortening the time for circulation and consolidating our hearing schedules. We will continue to search for ways to improve the appellate process, as we did recently in expediting more than two hundred DUI cases, saving virtually one year of appellate time. In our effort to make improvements, we consider nothing too sacred to be reviewed, and no alternative unworthy of consideration. Another priority we must tackle is to face the issue of domestic violence. Domestic violence is a pervasive and systemic problem, and it is the number one cause to injury of women in this country. The number of domestic violence petitions filed in our courts in the past five years has increased by more than four hundred percent. No other case type has increased at this level.

"The branches of government must work together to combat and eradicate this devastating scourge. Two weeks ago, I met with Justice Richard Guy--who is also present--the chairperson of the Gender and Justice Commission, to lay a foundation for a Domestic Violence Summit. With the cooperation of our Attorney General Christine Gregoire, the Domestic Violence Summit can provide a forum for the exchange of information, for identifying ways to reinforce services already available, and to adopt an action plan for what needs to be done. Invitations will be sent to participants from all three branches of government, both state and local. We can and must work together to combat family violence.

"And now a third project, during my term as Chief Justice, I intend to launch two major initiatives to improve the access to our justice system. How many of you know which cases in this state command the most attention? Ninety percent of all cases in the courts come from the courts of limited jurisdiction--the district and municipal court. And yet, our survey indicates a growing concern among judges that the services provided by these courts vary widely across the state. Therefore, I propose a comprehensive assessment of the services and operation of the district and municipal courts. Our objective is to inventory these courts to ensure that all citizens in this state have equal access to justice. We'll take a look, for example, at how probation services are monitoring defendant behavior, and thereby ensuring public safety. We'll examine these court's procedures for getting protection orders in domestic violence cases, to make sure that in rural areas, these courts have the ability to readily recommend persons in need of protection.

"Another thing we will do to further citizen access to justice is to televise, for the first time, Supreme Court oral arguments. In conjunction with T.V.W.--a state level C-Span in effect--we will also invite the public into the courtroom. I hope to follow these broadcasts with informal citizen roundtables to explain the appellate process and to answer their questions. Yet another project, in our effort to streamline and reduce expenditures, is our attempt to continue to contain the rise of indigent defense. Our Constitution requires that every person charged with a crime has the right to have an attorney. If a defendant cannot afford an attorney, one is provided at governmental expense. If people are to maintain their respect for the courts and the constitutional right to have an attorney, we must demonstrate that defendants who are able to pay their own way, do so, and that those who can pay only part of the way, will at least contribute. Other states are already doing this.

"We are preparing, for your consideration, legislation to establish cost recovery programs. Every person who has a legitimate right to a public attorney will continue to be represented. We want to be able to show, however, that these persons are, in fact, in need. The Supreme Court is also examining ways to streamline how we do business. One recommendation from the National Center for State Courts is to privatize some of the services. Particularly, in the area of the Court Reporter's Office. The Reporter's Office is responsible for issuing written opinions of the Washington Supreme Court and the Court of Appeals. We've been able to re-organize the Reporter's office, reduce staff, and we hope to be able to publish reports more expeditiously. We will be seeking your approval for a bill to recover the costs of producing these reports. Currently, for example, statute requires that the Supreme Court purchase three hundred copies of each published volume and provide them at no cost to a variety of governmental users. We are proposing legislation that would dramatically reduce that number.

"As you know, the decisions the judge makes are only as good as the evidence and information before the court. Particularly important, for example in DUI cases, the judge needs to know whether the defendant being sentenced has an outstanding warrant or is on a deferred probation prosecution program. This year, we expanded the statewide database to all misdemeanor defendants within our Judicial Information System. Courts and criminal justice agencies across the state, can now access the database and make sure that defendants are being sentenced appropriately. We will soon have nearly ninety percent of all misdemeanor criminal history in this state accessible on the JIS system.

"A project we are also proud of is our new method of recruiting juries. Sometimes our jury system is viewed skeptically. As Robert Frost once noted, 'A jury consists of twelve persons chosen to decide who has the better lawyer.' While this might be true in Los Angeles, we have taken steps in Washington to improve our system. If citizens are to maintain respect for justice, our jury system must reflect the diversity and the faces of our society. Since September, our trial courts have begun drawing jurors from a combined list of registered voters and licensed drivers. This basic change in jury composition came about through authority granted jointly by the Legislature, through statute, and by the Supreme Court, through court rule. The two results of this change are a much larger pool of citizens from which to draw jurors, and a more diverse representation of the community. I am pleased to report on this cooperative effort between the courts, our Secretary of State Ralph Munro, numerous executive branch agencies, local officials, and others that led to this major improvement in our judicial system.

"This past year, our judicial system took a long look in the mirror and did some careful soul searching. Last spring, every judge in this state was invited to participate in a first-ever judicial survey. This rigorous one hundred fifty-questionnaire survey aimed to find out how the judiciary is working, what it is doing well, and what can be improved. A total of sixty-three percent of the state judges all responded. Here are some of their tabulated responses. Ninety-three percent of the judges indicated that the Sentencing Reform Act should be re-evaluated. The same number noted that we face increased demands from pro se litigants--those without attorneys. Ninety-two percent believe that excessive litigation costs diminished the public confidence in our courts. Eighty-two percent felt that our courts could become more efficient by using telephonic motions and video assignments. Already, our judges are taking advantage of computer technology. Starting in March, district and municipal courts will begin issuing computer-generated snapshots of DUI cases. For the first time, judges will have reports to show the person's conviction and dismissal rate, plus the success and failure rates of deferred prosecution treatment programs. This means that judges will be able to match their cases with cases filed in other courts, to see how the sentencing and fining practices compare with others.

"These reports will help all of us better understand how we make decisions, how prosecutors charge, how attorneys defend, and how judges sentence. And yes, this information will be available to you and to the public. I am proud of our district and municipal court judges. They have demonstrated their willingness to be accountable for their decisions in this important area of law. That, in a nutshell, is the state of the judiciary. As we enter this final half decade of this century, I think we can all be proud of the accomplishments and encouraged by the prospect that we are being able to render even greater justice to the citizens of Washington State. I personally look forward to working with all of you to further the cause that have brought us all here to serve.

"In the words of a great American jurist, 'The court's only armor is the cloak of public trust; its sole ammunition, the collective hope of our society.' I look forward to increasing that public trust, and keeping alive in all our citizens, their hope for justice. Thank you."

MESSAGE FROM STATE OFFICES

WASHINGTON STATE CONVENTION AND TRADE CENTER
EXPANSION DEVELOPMENT STUDY

January 5, 1995

Governor Mike Lowry
Mayor Norm Rice
Members of the Senate Ways and Means Committee
Members of the House Capital Budget Committee

RE: TASK FORCE RECOMMENDATION FOR EXPANSION OF THE CONVENTION CENTER

Ladies and Gentlemen:

Pursuant to Section 148, Chapter 6, Laws of Washington, 1994 1st Special Session, the Legislature directed that the Washington State Convention and Trade Center (WSC TC) and the City of Seattle, prepare a development plan for expansion of the State Convention Center. To work with the City and the WSC TC, the Legislature authorized the formation of a Convention Center and City Facilities Task Force. The Task Force was also directed to submit recommendations concerning proposed expansion of the fiscal committees of the Legislature. We are pleased to submit to you those recommendations which are contained in the attached report.

On January 5, 1995, by a vote of 7-1, the Task Force voted to recommend that the Legislature approve capital expenditures in the 1995-97 biennial capital budget which would allow for expansion of the Convention Center. The complete text of the recommendations are attached for your review. A minority recommendation to the Task Force Report is also attached.

It has been a privilege to serve the Legislature through our participation on the Task Force. As the legislative process runs its course, we are available to discuss the proposed expansion as the Legislature may deem appropriate.

Respectfully Submitted, TASK FORCE MEMBERS

Senator Eugene Prince, Co-Chair Representative Val Ogden, Co-Chair
Senator Nita Rinehart Representative Ida Ballasiotes
Jan Drago, City Councilmember Rick Bender, Washington State Labor Council
Dorothy Bullitt, Dorothy Bullitt Mgt. Services Joan Enticknap, Seafirst Bank
Ruta Fanning, Office of Financial Management David Moseley, Town of Steilacoom
John McCracken, West Coast Development

MINORITY RECOMMENDATION TO THE TASK FORCE

TO: Governor Mike Lowry
Members of the Washington State Senate

Members of the Washington State House of Representatives
Members of the Washington State Convention and Trade Center Expansion Task Force
FROM: David Moseley, Task Force Member
Minority Recommendation to the Task Force Report
DATE: January 4, 1995

It has been an honor and a privilege to serve on the Washington State Convention and Trade Center Expansion Task Force. I appreciate the opportunity of serving with each of the Task Force members.

I file this memorandum as a minority recommendation to the report which will be presented by the Task Force to the Governor and the Washington State Legislature. From the discussion and preliminary vote taken at the Task Force meeting held on November 28, 1994, it is clear that the Task Force Report will recommend that the Legislature approve capital expenditures in the 1995/96 capital budget to expand the Convention Center either to the North across Pine Street or to the East toward Boren Avenue. As I indicated at that meeting, I do not concur with this recommendation and wish to state, for the record, the reasons for my position.

First, I wish to make very clear that I believe the Washington State Convention and Trade Center is an excellent facility and is an asset to our state. I believe strongly in the potential for tourism as a growth industry in Washington State and believe the Convention Center is an important part of an economic development strategy to expand tourism. I also believe the Convention Center facility will, in all likelihood, need to be expanded at some time in the future to continue to function as a viable convention facility.

However, I do not believe the need to expand the Convention Center is either immediate or urgent. I also do not believe the immediate expansion of the Convention Center is as high a priority as other critical public improvement investments. My opposition to expanding the Convention Center at this time is based on when is the best time to proceed with expansion, not whether the expansion will be needed or can be justified in the future.

Therefore, I am opposed to expanding the Convention Center at this time for the following reasons:

1. Higher Priority Public Investment Projects - As we are all aware, expansion of the Convention Center is but one of numerous publicly financed capital projects currently being considered by the state and by local governments in the Puget Sound region. A short list of those potential projects, in addition to the Convention Center, include a regional rail system, improvements to the state's highway system, a new stadium, a new library, jails and correctional facilities, and schools. Several of these projects have been under serious consideration and review for many years. In addition, some of the projects are critical in nature and must, in my opinion, be accomplished in the very near future to assure the long-term health of the state's economy. I would include the regional transportation system and schools in that group, both of which will, in all likelihood, require state financial participation.

In my opinion, expansion of the Convention Center does not rise to the level of immediate importance as the projects listed above. This is particularly true given the consultants report that the current facility is adequate for the next five to ten years. Recent levy and bond election failures indicates the public's lack of enthusiasm for additional tax-supported public projects. I am very concerned with jeopardizing other more critical projects with one that could wait.

2. Optimistic Financial Assumptions - The final financial information provided to the Task Force at the November 28th meeting appears to contain optimistic financial assumptions. For example, the "Summary of Project Costs and Funding" assumes a $7.5 million contribution from King County for an East expansion. Since there has been no representation by the county on the Task Force, the county has several other high priority capital projects, and the Task Force has received no indication of county willingness to provide this level of financial participation, this assumption seems optimistic to me. In addition, the cost assumptions have varied significantly from the initial projections. The Task Force has not had an opportunity to review the latest cost assumption of $129 million for both the north and east expansion. I believe the financial package should be more definitive before the state is asked to authorize a $100 million bond issue.

For primarily these reasons, I recommend delaying the expansion of the Convention Center. This delay would allow the time for final decisions on other critical public projects and development of a more definitive financial package. During the intervening period, the following activities should occur:

1. The WSCTC Board should determine the best expansion site;
2. Both the revenue and expenditure financial package should be more definitive based on the site selected; and
3. The level and commitment of participation by the county and private developers should be clarified.

I recommend this issue to be "revisited" prior to the 1997 legislative session with a revised report presented to that Legislature.

The Report from the Washington State Convention and Trade Center Expansion Development Study Task Force and the Minority Recommendation to the Task Force Report are on file in the Office of the Secretary of the Senate.

MINORITY Recommendation: Do not pass. Signed by Senator Finkbeiner.

COMMENTS: Current state policy supports competition with the belief that competitive telecommunications markets benefit the consumer in a variety of ways. This bill disembarks from that policy direction and would prohibit the commission from even considering the implementation of telephone dialing patterns that give consumers equal access to telecommunications service providers of their choice in the intra-LATA market.

Thank you, Mr. President."

MOTION

On motion of Senator West, the following resolution was adopted:

SENATE RESOLUTION 1995-8608

By Senators West, C. Anderson, Hale, Oke, Morton, Spanel, Drew, Wojahn, Johnson, Swecker, Bauer, Haugen and Kohl

WHEREAS, Over nine thousand men and women of the Washington State National Guard continue to serve the country as a key part of our national defense; and

WHEREAS, These citizen soldiers who reside in every legislative district throughout Washington volunteer their time and personal efforts to serve the needs of the people of Washington State; and

WHEREAS, The Guard is assisting local communities with their health needs through Operation Guardcare, a program under which medical personnel give care to medically underserved areas through inoculations and wellness services; and

WHEREAS, The Guard is active in promoting positive activities for the youth of our state through active involvement in the D.A.R.E. program, drug demand reduction presentations at local schools, and Camp Minuteman, a motivational summer youth experience at Camp Murray; and

WHEREAS, The Guard makes a major contribution to our state's war on drugs by providing soldiers and equipment in support of local law enforcement through thirty-five different agencies. These counterdrug support efforts by our men and women last year contributed to over nine thousand drug related arrests, and seizure and destruction of millions of dollars of illegal drugs; and

WHEREAS, The Guard continues its high priority support for local communities by opening armories for public use for classes, food banks, and community and youth activities. The guard also answered numerous calls for assistance from local communities for missions varying from traditional color guards to hauling food in support of anti-hunger initiatives; and

WHEREAS, The Guard added another bright chapter in its history as an essential part of our state's ability to protect lives and property in the event of natural disasters. The Guard provided a major portion of the equipment and firefighting and support personnel in the state effort to fight the Central Washington wildfires in August of 1994. Over three thousand five hundred Guard soldiers and seven hundred pieces of equipment operated in the five fire areas during the height of the fire danger. These soldiers and airmen gave up time from their jobs and families to preserve lives and safety in endangered local communities. They accomplished their missions in the face of constant danger and adversity with no loss of life or significant injury. Their actions represent a continuation of the great tradition of sacrifice and service to Washington as shown in the Mt. St. Helens eruption, Spokane wildfires, floods in Skagit County, and the 1993 Inauguration Day windstorm;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington State Senate recognizes and applauds the members of the Washington State National Guard for their exceptional dedication, pride and professional service to the state of Washington; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Washington State Senate express its appreciation to the families and employers of our Guard soldiers and airmen for their support without which the Guard's mission could not be successful; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Senate specifically and particularly recognizes the value of a strong Washington State National Guard to the economy and well-being of this state, both through the occasional performance of its state disaster relief mission, and through the ongoing benefit to local communities by the presence of productively employed, drug free, and efficiently trained Guard units and the armories that house them; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be immediately transmitted to the Adjutant General of the Washington State National Guard, the Governor of the state of Washington, the Secretary of the Army, the Secretary of the Air Force, and to the President of the United States.

Senators West and Cal Anderson spoke to Senate Resolution 1995-8608.

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President welcomed and introduced members of the Washington State National Guard, who were seated in the gallery.

WHEREAS, Law enforcement officers throughout the state are involved in many community activities, giving of themselves and their time, especially in programs involving young people; and

WHEREAS, The people of the state of Washington have high regard and appreciation for the courage, dedication and professionalism demonstrated by law enforcement officers;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington State Senate hereby honors the state's law enforcement officers and recognizes their outstanding efforts to serve and protect the state's citizens; and

MESSAGE FROM THE SECRETARY OF STATE

The Honorable President of the Senate
Legislature of the State of Washington
Olympia, Washington 98504

Mr. President:

As required by Article II, Section 1, of the State Constitution and RCW 29.79.200, we herewith respectfully certify that we have completed the verification of the signatures on Initiative to the Legislature 159, a copy of which was preliminarily certified to you on January 9, 1995, and we have determined that the initiative contains the signatures of at least 181,667 legal voters of the state of Washington. Therefore, we hereby certify that Initiative to the Legislature 159 is qualified to appear on the state general election ballot unless approved by the Legislature during this session.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand
(Seal) and affixed the Seal of the state of Washington,
this 23rd day of January, 1995.

RALPH MUNRO
Secretary of State

CERTIFICATION OF INITIATIVE TO THE LEGISLATURE 159

Pursuant to Article II, Section 1 of the Washington State Constitution, RCW 29.79.200, and WAC 434-79-010, the office of the Secretary of State has caused the signatures submitted in support of Initiative to the Legislature 159 to be examined in the following manner:

- 1) It was determined that 235,993 signatures were submitted by the sponsors of the initiative. A random sample of 17,089 signatures was taken from those submitted;
- 2) Each sampled signature was examined to determine if the signer was a registered voter of the state, if the signature was reasonably similar to the one appearing on the record of that voter, and if the same signature appeared more than once in the sample. We found 15,263 valid signatures, 1,772 signatures that were invalid due to non-registration or improper form, and 54 pairs of duplicated signatures in the sample;
- 3) We calculated an allowance for the chance error of sampling (64) by multiplying the square root of the number of invalid signatures by 1.5;
- 4) We estimated the upper limit of the number of signatures on the initiative petition which were invalid (25,355) by dividing the sum of the number of invalid signatures in the sample and allowance for the chance of error of sampling by the sampling ratio;
- 5) We determined the maximum allowable number of pairs of signatures on the petition (28,971) by subtracting the sum of the number of signatures required by Article II, section 1 of the Washington State Constitution (181,667) and the estimate of the upper limit of the number of invalid signatures on the petition from the number of signatures submitted;
- 6) We determined the expected number of pairs of signatures in the sample (151) by multiplying the square of the sampling ratio by the maximum allowable number of pairs of signatures on the initiative petition;
- 7) We determined the acceptable number of pairs of signatures in the sample (130) by subtracting 1.65 times the square root of the expected number of pairs of signatures in the sample; and
- 8) Since the number of pairs of signatures in the sample is less than the acceptable number of pairs of signatures in the sample, I hereby declare Initiative to the Legislature 159 to be sufficient.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand
(Seal) and affixed the Seal of the state of Washington,

this 23rd day of January, 1995.
RALPH MUNRO
Secretary of State

REPORT OF SELECT COMMITTEE

IMPLEMENTATION OF EDUCATION REFORM IN WASHINGTON STATE by JOINT SELECT COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION RESTRUCTURING

January, 1995

INTRODUCTION

In 1992, Washington State took the first step in moving toward a "performance-based education" system with the adoption of SSB No. 5953. This legislation was the first of three bills that created a process for identifying what students should know and be able to do, and assessing whether or not students have achieved these learning goals. Legislation in 1993 (ESHB No. 1209) and in 1994 (ESHB No. 2850) added additional elements, including providing funding for educators and parents to work together to improve schools, requiring a new school accountability system that will be based on student performance, creating a statewide center to provide assistance to schools and parents, and creating a program to make school more relevant to students' future careers.

A summary of the major components of these three bills is included in Table 1.

The legislation also created a Joint Select Committee on Education Restructuring (Chapter 336, Laws of 1993, Section 1001). The primary purpose of the Select Committee is to monitor, review and report to the full Legislature upon the "...enactment and implementation of education restructuring in Washington both at the state and local level..." This report was written to fulfill this responsibility.

In addition to its monitoring responsibilities, the Select Committee was required to review all K-12 education laws to identify those laws that inhibit the achievement of a performance-based education system. The committee completed this review in November 1994, and copies of its recommendations may be obtained by calling the Legislative Bill Room at (360) 786-7573. Legislation that amends or deletes more than one-hundred statutes will be introduced during the 1995 legislative session.

The Select Committee includes twelve legislators. Members in 1993-94 were:

Senator Rosemary McAuliffe, co-chair Representative Randy Dorn, co-chair

Senator Ann Anderson Representative Bill Brumsickle

Senator Emilio Cantu Representative Sue Karahalios

Senator Kathleen Drew Representative Barbara Cothorn

Senator Harold Hochstatter Representative Brian Thomas

Senator Dwight Pelz Representative Jean Marie Brough

Summarized in the following sections are actions being taken to implement education reform in Washington. Following the summaries is a discussion of waivers that have been granted to school districts.

The Report by the Joint Select Committee on Education Restructuring is on file in the Office of the Secretary of the Senate.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Fraser: "Senator Deccio, the Puget Sound Water Quality Authority is funded principally from the general fund; also from federal funds and only a very small amount of money from the Centennial Clean Water Fund goes to the Water Quality Authority. The Centennial Clean Water Fund is funded principally from the cigarette tax and a few other sources. Of these Centennial Clean Water accounts, which are funded principally from the cigarette tax, only one point two percent of that fund goes to the Puget Sound Water Quality Authority and that is principally for grants to local groups for citizen involvement and education."

WHEREAS, Wednesday, February 15, 1995, marks the one hundred seventy-fifth anniversary of the birth of Susan Brownell Anthony, reformer and leader of women's suffrage; and

WHEREAS, Susan B. Anthony defied male electioneers and faced indictment for illegally voting in 1872; and
WHEREAS, Susan B. Anthony spoke on suffrage legislation before members of the Washington State Territorial Legislature in Olympia, Washington, on October 19, 1871, making her the first woman in the history of the United States to be given the privilege of addressing an assembled Legislature; and

WHEREAS, Following her presentation to the Washington Territorial Legislature, Susan B. Anthony was the guest of Daniel Bigelow, a state lawmaker who was one of the first to support women's suffrage in the Northwest, at what is now Olympia's historic Bigelow Home; and

WHEREAS, Susan B. Anthony helped draft the constitution for the Washington Women's Suffrage Association; and

WHEREAS, Susan B. Anthony was director of the Female Department of the Canajoharie Academy in New York until she abandoned her career in education to devote her life to social reform, first organizing the Women's State Temperance Society of New York; and

WHEREAS, In 1866, Susan B. Anthony and other reformers formed the Equal Rights Association to further their campaign for women's suffrage; and

WHEREAS, The reformers took their suffrage campaign, in 1867, to the New York State Constitutional Convention, where the State Legislature refused to consider the issue, but instead gave considerable support to legislation legalizing prostitution; and

WHEREAS, Susan B. Anthony and her suffragettes fought back with lobbying efforts that killed the prostitution bill in committee, and furthermore, eventually secured the first laws in New York State guaranteeing women's rights over their children and control over property and wages; and

WHEREAS, In a colorful display of her remarkable courage, Susan B. Anthony and her three sisters boldly entered a stronghold of men in a Rochester, New York, barbershop in 1872, and insisted that they be registered to vote under provisions of the Fourteenth Amendment; and

WHEREAS, On November 5, Susan B. Anthony entered her polling place and voted the Republican ticket after which she was charged and indicted for voting illegally; and

WHEREAS, In another display of determination, Susan B. Anthony, refusing to pay her streetcar fare, as a deputy marshal was carting her off to jail, announced loudly enough for all passengers to hear, "I'm travelling at the expense of this government. This gentleman is taking me to jail. Ask him for my fare!";

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington State Senate honor Susan B. Anthony and remember her for and emulate her in her dedication to social reform that led to the passage of the Women's Suffrage Amendment (Nineteenth Amendment) to the United States Constitution in 1920; and

Anthony be remembered for her courage and determination to work for equal rights for all citizens of America as reflected in Anthony's quote, "It was we, the people, not we, the white male citizens, nor yet we, the male citizens, but we the whole people, who formed this Union. And we formed it not to give the blessings of liberty, but to secure them, not to the half of ourselves and the half of our posterity, but to the whole people--women as well as men."

MESSAGE FROM STATE OFFICES

STATE OF WASHINGTON
DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH
1112 S.E. Quince Street, MS/7890, P.O. Box 47890
Olympia, Washington 98504-7890

February 10, 1995

The Honorable Marty Brown
Secretary of the Senate
306 Legislative Building
Olympia, Washington 98504

Dear Secretary Brown:

The Washington State Department of Health and the Youth Suicide Prevention Plan Advisory Committee are pleased to present the Youth Suicide Prevention Plan for Washington State. The Plan is the result of intensive work done by the committee as directed by the 1993-95 supplemental operating budget.

In preparing the plan, we were reminded again and again that youth suicide has touched the lives of too many of your youth and their families. Suicide is the second leading cause of death among young people aged 15-24 years in Washington.

The Plan includes comprehensive recommendations for addressing the tragedy of youth suicide. It is our fervent hope that the Plan will be the catalyst necessary to begin a concerted effort to reduce youth suicide in our state.

Thank you for the opportunity to provide you with this important information.

Sincerely,
BRUCE A. MIYAHARA, Secretary

The Report from the Department of Health Youth Suicide Prevention Plan Advisory Committee is on file in the Office of the Secretary of the Senate.

By Senators Snyder and Newhouse

WHEREAS, The Senate is pleased to acknowledge the presence of former members, staff, lobbyists and press corps personnel in recognition of their past services and other assorted activities; and

WHEREAS, The "Legislative Old Timers Reunion," now a formal and official part of legislative proceedings, presents us with an opportunity to pay our respects to those who are no longer directly serving in or with the State Senate, some by choice; and

WHEREAS, There is no truth to the rumor that the reunion organizing committee ever seriously considered changing the name of these festivities from "Legislative Old Timers" to "The Over The Hill Gang Reunion;" and

WHEREAS, Most of those being honored here today and this evening paid little or no attention to past floor resolutions, but no doubt are intently listening to this one; and

WHEREAS, Many of our guests are now enjoying retirement and wouldn't trade places with any of us on this 43rd Legislative Day; and

WHEREAS, As we gaze upon those who have gathered here today we could associate them with terms such as: armchair strategists; chronic campaigners; masters of baffle-gab; troglodytes and do-gooders; we prefer to call them "Friend;" and

WHEREAS, Presidents' Day (sort of a busmen's holiday for you) seems a peculiar day to try to convince you that you are missed;

NEVERTHELESS, AND WITH A BARE MAJORITY CONCURRING,

BE IT RESOLVED, That we heartily welcome you back to say thank you for the contributions you have made to the Washington State Senate, be they ever so minute!

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Newhouse: "Senator Gaspard, is it the intent of the majority to fully consider the issues related to the employer mandate-- those of a commission, those of the other parts of the bill passed two years ago?"

Senator Gaspard: "Senator Newhouse, the measure before us is only the measure to repeal the employer mandate. The rest of our commitment, in a bipartisan way with your side of the aisle, is to continue to work the health care improvements that we want to make this session. We will have another measure before us, whether it is a Senate Bill coming out of Senator Quigley's committee or a House bill, a measure dealing with health care will be before this body at a later date. It was only our hope that we could deal with the employer mandate issue and put that aside--put that aside--and have that decided this morning. Unfortunately, that is not able to take place."

MOTION

On motion of Senator McAuliffe, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5440 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Roach: "Senator McAuliffe, this is for elementary schools, does this mean then if a second grader or a first grader or a kindergartner should bring a weapon to school that they would be expelled?"

Senator McAuliffe: "This has a zero gun tolerance, but with the exception for extenuating circumstances the superintendent can take into consideration what actually has happened here. There is the opportunity for students who are displaying guns for a class or a project or for military purposes, they do have the opportunity, still, to display or show a gun, but this does say that if a student accidentally brings a gun to school and they don't understand what this is about, yes, they should fall under this law unless there is extenuating circumstances."

Senator Roach: "And we have existing law that already would require expulsion for what grade levels?"

Senator McAuliffe: "We have existing law that was put into effect and it is for all grade levels--K through 12."

Senator Roach: "Existing law?"

Senator McAuliffe: "Yes, it is. Let me look. Yes, it is."

Senator Roach: "Then, why do we need this bill if we have existing law that requires this?"

Senator McAuliffe: "The reason that we need this bill is that we are not consistent across the state for the time that we expel students. This law states that we will expel them for one year."

Senator Roach: "Is it not true that local school boards, right now, can determine the period of time?"

Senator McAuliffe: "They can, but because the time of expulsion is not consistent and that we are having a lot of variations, it is not as clear to the students that we believe in a state-wide policy of zero tolerance of guns on school grounds and that we find that expelling for a very clear definition of time makes a difference."

Senator Roach: "Okay, so we are then usurping the power and authority vested in local school board members?"

Senator McAuliffe: "I think you have to consider at certain times, Senator Roach, that the state has a responsibility to set state-wide policy and that local districts also have a responsibility for their local control. This bill gives them both."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Ann Anderson: "Senator McAuliffe, following up on Senator Roach's conversation about local school boards, was there any testimony from the districts about this concept of local control and local decision making versus this one more thing that we are doing from a state level to tell school boards what they must do?"

Senator McAuliffe: "Was there testimony from school boards? Is that what you asked me?"

Senator Ann Anderson: "The question was, was there any testimony and discussion in committee about local control on this issue versus state-wide control?"

Senator McAuliffe: "Yes, there have been many discussions regarding all the bills in education, about local control versus state-wide control or state-wide requirements and rules. However, we also must consider that this is a federal law that we are also copying and putting into state law. It talks about federal dollars and in order for us to have the opportunity to have approximately two hundred million dollars in the next two years from the federal government, we need to have this law in statute."

Further debate ensued.

"The amendments proposed by Senator West would change the designation of naval aircraft to 'military' in order to exempt other military training equipment. The exempted equipment must be military and must fall within the base closure program.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

February 27, 1995

TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I have the honor to submit the following appointment, subject to your confirmation.

Leslie D. Lanksbury, appointed February 27, 1995, for a term ending July 1, 1999, as a member of the Board of Trustees for the State School for the Blind.

Sincerely,
MIKE LOWRY, Governor

Referred to Committee on Education.

MESSAGE FROM STATE OFFICES

STATE OF WASHINGTON
DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH
DEPARTMENT OF LABOR AND INDUSTRIES
INTERIM INTER-AGENCY REPORT ON CHEMICALLY RELATED ILLNESS (CRI)
ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 2696
DECEMBER, 1994

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Engrossed Substitute House Bill (ESHB) No. 2696 directs the Department of Labor and Industries (L & I) and the Department of Health (DOH) to work together to address the complex issue of chemically related illness.

Chemically Related Illness

The term "chemically related illness" (CRI) refers to illnesses that are known to be or reasonably suspected to be associated with exposures to chemicals in the workplace, in the home and in general environments, through contact with contaminated air, water and food.

A Joint Effort

L & I and DOH are devising strategies for reducing or preventing exposure to chemicals, and aiding care providers in finding solutions to the problems of care and treatment of illness caused by contaminants in the environment. L & I concentrates on the workplace and DOH concentrates on the general public health of Washington residents.

A CRI Claims Unit

L & I established a CRI claims management unit to more efficiently and consistently manage CRI claims. This unit is combined with the Asbestos Fund Section to maximize resources and provide the broadest range of specialized expertise in the handling of complex CRI claims. The CRI unit currently is managing all existing CRI claims filed on or after January 1, 1994, and all claims in which multiple chemical sensitivity

(MCS) is contended, regardless of filing date. The unit reviews self-insured claims in which an adverse decision toward the worker is being considered. The unit is not managing chemical burn claims.

CRI Advisory Committee

It is very difficult for people with CRI to find information on resources available to them. Additionally, there are currently few coordinated efforts by agencies to respond to the needs of people with CRI. To assist in the identification of the needs of people with CRI, DOH and L & I are co-leading the CRI Advisory Committee, which was mandated in ESHB No. 2696. This committee has defined goals and objectives, and has an action plan to make recommendations to DOH, L & I and several other agencies regarding services for people with CRI.

Centers of Excellence

Some CRIs have fairly clear definitions, treatment modalities and recognition of illness or injury. Others are not so well-defined. The Centers of Excellence, defined in ESHB No. 2696, are to develop new means of evaluation of illness and exposure that go beyond the routine evaluation of occupational illness. The centers will include clinical evaluation and treatment, education for health-care providers and the general public about CRI, and will do data collection for research. Requests for proposals will be issued in February 1995 with contract and implementation of the centers targeted by June 1995.

CRI Research

In developing a plan to conduct research on CRI, L & I started with the premise that the research funding process must encourage innovative research, be based on sound scientific criteria, be relevant to the concerns of Washington residents, and provide an unbiased and expert review of the research proposals. Such a funding process takes from 9 months to one year to complete. For this reason, a short-term strategy of funding pilot research projects during this biennium was approved by the Workers' Compensation Advisory Committee.

Occupational Disease Reporting on Relevant Data Bases

DOH has the mission of assessing the extent of chemical exposures among state residents. Occupational illness has become an important component of public health concerns. As a large portion of the population is part of the workforce, workplace illness not only affects productivity but is also a significant portion of the total illness reported in the state. A set of criteria has been established to determine which relevant data bases should include occupational information. The criteria are usefulness, quality and feasibility. A more complete picture of the extent of occupational illness will be known when occupational disease is tracked by these data bases.

A Plan to Make Occupational Diseases Reportable Conditions

Surveillance is the eyes and ears of public health. It tells us what our problems are, how big they are, where the solutions should be directed and how well or poorly our solutions have worked. Surveillance occurs when health-care professions report diseases to public health authorities. The Board of Health determines which diseases are reportable. For this reason, a plan developed by representatives of DOH and L & I has been presented to the Board of Health to comply with the requirement of ESHB No. 2696. The Board of Health has made no formal recommendations, but supports the goals of the plan and favors a system that requires a minimum of regulatory requirements and burdens.

Recommendations

That the Legislature authorize:

1. Re-appropriation of unused $1.3 million for research for the next biennium to ensure that research can be done to the fullest extent.
2. One FTE within L & I to oversee the Centers of Excellence.
3. One FTE for DOH to set up, collect and analyze occupational information in the relevant data bases.

MESSAGE FROM STATE OFFICES

STATE OF WASHINGTON
WASHINGTON STATE BOARD OF HEALTH
1102 SE Quince Street - PO Box 47990
Olympia, Washington 98504-7990

January 3, 1995

Gordon Golob

Dear Gordon:

E. Coli outbreaks. Sexually transmitted diseases. Contaminated drinking water. Failing septic systems. Pesticide poisonings. Firearm accidents. Automobile crashes. These are public health problems found in communities throughout Washington that policymakers grapple with daily. These are all preventable problems. I am sending you the enclosed Report to show you steps being taken by the state to deal with these public health problems.

Mandated by our Legislature, the Washington 1994 State Public Health Report is prepared for the 1995-97 biennium for use by state agency administrators to develop their budgets and executive request legislation. We trust this 1994 Report will be a useful reference tool and resource document for your upcoming analyses.

Prepared by the Washington State Board of Health, this 1994 Report combines broad citizen input, professional knowledge, and the best available data to produce a common vision of a healthy Washington. As required by statute, the Report outlines Washington's Priority Health Goals for the next two years and recommends specific Action Strategies for making progress toward these Goals. The State Board strongly believes that when translated into specific legislative and programmatic initiatives, the Action Strategies will have significant impact on the health of Washington residents.

In preparing the 1994 Report, the State Board of Health solicited, received, and incorporated input from thousands of Washington citizens through local public forums and focus groups, public testimony, and newspaper and telephone surveys reaching every corner of our State. The Board sought and utilized information, advice, and counsel from hundreds of state and federal agencies, professional and civic organizations, and local and voluntary agencies.

We think you will be able to use the Report as the public health "book of record" for Washington. The 1994 Washington State Public Health Report is a vital tool and should be of interest to you in evaluating future directions for public health activities in our state. We will appreciate receiving comments from you and your colleagues on the Report in coming months. Your suggestions are welcome as we begin developing the 1996 Report. Do contact us at (360) 586-0399 if you would like additional copies of our Report or there is further information we can provide.

Sincerely,
Sylvia I. Beck, Executive Director

(2) The governor, in consultation with the commission, shall take the following steps in an effort to receive waivers or exemptions from federal statutes necessary to fully implement chapter 492, Laws of 1993 to include, but not be limited to:

(a) Negotiate with the United States congress and the federal department of health and human services, health care financing administration to obtain a statutory or regulatory waiver of provisions of the medical assistance statute, Title XIX of the federal social security act that currently constitute barriers to full implementation of provisions of chapter 492, Laws of 1993 related to access to health services for low-income residents of Washington state. Such waivers shall include any waiver needed to require that: (i) Medical assistance recipients enroll in managed care systems, as defined in chapter 492, Laws of 1993; and (ii) enrollee point of service, cost-sharing levels adopted pursuant to RCW 43.72.130 be applied to medical assistance recipients. Renumber the remaining sections consecutively and correct internal references accordingly.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Quigley: "Thank you, Madam President. I rise to a point of order. The amendment proposed by the distinguished Senator does not meet the scope and object of the bill. The bill itself deals with the repeal of the mandate that the employer pays fifty percent of the cost of the lowest cost health plan. The amendment at issue here today deals with the direction in the Health Services Act to the Health Services Commission and is not even mentioned in the underlying bill. Beyond that it seeks a waiver of a federal law, also not even mentioned in the underlying bill. This amendment expands the scope and object of this act and I would argue that it is out of order."

Further debate ensued.

MOTION

Senator Wood moved that the following amendment by Senators Wood and Moyer be adopted:

On page 1, after line 4, insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 43.72.010 and 1994 c 4 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively and correct internal references accordingly.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Quigley: "A point of order. I rise to challenge the scope and object of the amendment presented. The scope of the bill before the body repeals the requirement that employers pay fifty percent of the lowest cost plan. The amendment offered by the distinguished Senators actually repeals the notion of a registered employer health plan. Registered employer health plans were devised specifically to address the concerns of the largest businesses in this state and while they are an issue worth debating, they are far outside the scope and object of this bill. The bill does not mention registered employer health plans nor does it deal directly with the issues raised with respect to the employer health plan. I argue then that this amendment falls outside the scope and object of the bill."

Further debate ensued.

RULINGS BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

President Pro Tempore Wojahn: "In ruling upon the points of order raised by Senator Quigley, the President finds that Senate Bill No. 6034 is a measure which repeals the requirement that residents of Washington purchase a uniform benefits package from a certified health plan by a date certain and repeals mandatory employer participation in offering health care coverage.

"The amendment by Senator Moyer on page 1, after line 4, would repeal the requirement that the Governor and the Health Care Commission seek a federal waiver so that the repealed sections could take effect.

"The amendment by Senators Wood and Moyer on page 1, after line 4, would repeal definitions of terms which appear in other unrepealed sections of the Health Care Law.

"The President, therefore, finds that the proposed amendment by Senator Moyer on page 1, after line 4, does not change the scope and object of the bill and the point of order is not well taken.

Sec. 3. RCW 43.72.040 and 1994 c 4 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

The commission has the following powers and duties:

(1) Ensure that all residents of Washington state are enrolled in a certified health plan to receive the uniform benefits package, regardless of age, sex, family structure, ethnicity, race, health condition, geographic location, employment, or economic status.

(2) Endeavor to ensure that all residents of Washington state have access to appropriate, timely, confidential, and effective health services, and monitor the degree of access to such services. If the commission finds that individuals or populations lack access to certified health plan services, the commission shall:

(a) Authorize appropriate state agencies, local health departments, community or migrant health clinics, public hospital districts, or other nonprofit health service entities to take actions necessary to assure such access. This includes authority to contract for or directly deliver services described within the uniform benefits package to special populations; or

(b) Notify appropriate certified health plans and the insurance commissioner of such findings. The commission shall adopt by rule standards by which the insurance commissioner may, in such event, require certified health plans in closest proximity to such individuals and populations to extend their catchment areas to those individuals and populations and offer them enrollment.

(3) Adopt necessary rules in accordance with chapter 34.05 RCW to carry out the purposes of chapter 492, Laws of 1993. An initial set of draft rules establishing at least the commission's organization structure, the uniform benefits package, and standards for certified health plan certification, must be submitted in draft form to appropriate committees of the legislature by December 1, 1994.

(4) Establish and modify as necessary, in consultation with the state board of health and the department of health, and coordination with the planning process set forth in RCW 43.70.520 a uniform set of health services based on the recommendations of the health care cost control and access commission established under House Concurrent Resolution No. 4443 adopted by the legislature in 1990.

(5) Establish and modify as necessary the uniform benefits package as provided in RCW 43.72.130, which shall be offered to enrollees of a certified health plan. ~~((The benefit package shall be provided at no more than the maximum premium specified in subsection (6) of this section.~~

~~(6)(a) Establish for each year a community-rated maximum premium for the uniform benefits package that shall operate to control overall health care costs. The maximum premium cost of the uniform benefits package in the base year 1995 shall be established upon an actuarial determination of the costs of providing the uniform benefits package and such other cost impacts as may be deemed relevant by the commission. Beginning in 1996, the growth rate of the premium cost of the uniform benefits package for each certified health plan shall be allowed to increase by a rate no greater than the average growth rate in the cost of the package between 1990 and 1993 as actuarially determined, reduced by two percentage points per year until the growth rate is no greater than the five-year rolling average of growth in Washington per capita personal income, as determined by the office of financial management.~~

~~(b) In establishing the community-rated maximum premium under this subsection, the commission shall review various methods for establishing the community-rated maximum premium and shall recommend such methods to the legislature by December 1, 1994.~~

~~The commission may develop and recommend a rate for employees that provides nominal, if any, variance between the rate for individual employees and employees with dependents to minimize any economic incentive to an employer to discriminate between prospective employees based upon whether or not they have dependents for whom coverage would be required.~~

~~(c) If the commission adds or deletes services or benefits to the uniform benefits package in subsequent years, it may increase or decrease the maximum premium to reflect the actual cost experience of a broad sample of providers of that service in the state, considering the~~ factors enumerated in (a) of this subsection and adjusted actuarially. The addition of services or benefits shall not result in a redetermination of the entire cost of the uniform benefits package.

~~((d))~~ The level of state expenditures for the uniform benefits package shall be limited to the appropriation of funds specifically for this purpose.

~~((7))~~ (6) Determine the need for medical risk adjustment mechanisms to minimize financial incentives for certified health plans to enroll individuals who present lower health risks and avoid enrolling individuals who present higher health risks, and to minimize financial incentives for employer hiring practices that discriminate against individuals who present higher health risks. In the design of medical risk distribution mechanisms under this subsection, the commission shall (a) balance the benefits of price competition with the need to protect certified health plans from any unsustainable negative effects of adverse selection; (b) consider the development of a system that creates a risk profile of each certified health plan's enrollee population that does not create disincentives for a plan to control benefit utilization, that requires contributions from plans that enjoy a low-risk enrollee population to plans that have a high-risk enrollee population, and that does not permit an adjustment of the premium charged for the uniform benefits package or supplemental coverage based upon either receipt or contribution of assessments; and (c) consider whether registered employer health plans should be included in any medical risk adjustment mechanism. Proposed medical risk adjustment mechanisms shall be submitted to the legislature as provided in RCW 43.72.180.

~~((8))~~ (7) Design a mechanism to assure minors have access to confidential health care services as currently provided in RCW 70.24.110 and 71.34.030.

~~((9))~~ (8) Monitor the actual growth in total annual health services costs.

~~((10))~~ (9) Monitor the increased application of technology as required by chapter 492, Laws of 1993 and take necessary action to ensure that such application is made in a cost-effective and efficient manner and consistent with existing laws that protect individual privacy.

~~((11))~~ (10) Establish reporting requirements for certified health plans that own or manage health care facilities, health care facilities, and health care providers to periodically report to the commission regarding major capital expenditures of the plans. The commission shall review and monitor such reports and shall report to the legislature regarding major capital expenditures on at least an annual basis. The Washington health care facilities authority and the commission shall develop standards jointly for evaluating and approving major capital expenditure financing through the Washington health care facilities authority, as authorized pursuant to chapter 70.37 RCW. By December 1, 1994, the commission and the authority shall submit jointly to the legislature such proposed standards. The commission and the authority shall, after legislative review, but no later than June 1, 1995, publish such standards. Upon publication, the authority may not approve financing for major capital expenditures unless approved by the commission.

~~((12))~~ (11) Establish ~~((maximum))~~ enrollee financial participation levels. The levels shall be related to enrollee household income.

~~((13))~~ (12) Establish rules requiring employee enrollee premium sharing, as defined in RCW 43.72.010~~((9))~~ (8), be paid through deductions from wages or earnings.

~~((14))~~ (13) For health services provided under the uniform benefits package and supplemental benefits, adopt standards for enrollment, and standardized billing and claims processing forms. The standards shall ensure that these procedures minimize administrative burdens on health care providers, health care facilities, certified health plans, and consumers. Subject to federal approval or phase-in schedules whenever necessary or appropriate, the standards also shall apply to state-purchased health services, as defined in RCW 41.05.011.

~~((15))~~ (14) Propose that certified health plans adopt certain practice indicators or risk management protocols for quality assurance, utilization review, or provider payment. The commission may consider indicators or protocols recommended according to RCW 43.70.500 for these purposes.

~~((16))~~ (15) Propose other guidelines to certified health plans for utilization management, use of technology and methods of payment, such as diagnosis-related groups and a resource-based relative value scale. Such guidelines shall be voluntary and shall be designed to promote improved management of care, and provide incentives for improved efficiency and effectiveness within the delivery system.

~~((17))~~ (16) Adopt standards and oversee and develop policy for personal health data and information system as provided in chapter 70.170 RCW.

~~((18))~~ (17) Adopt standards that prevent conflict of interest by health care providers as provided in RCW 18.130.320.

~~((19))~~ (18) At the appropriate juncture and in the fullness of time, consider the extent to which medical research and health professions training activities should be included within the health service system set forth in chapter 492, Laws of 1993.

~~((20))~~ (19) Evaluate and monitor the extent to which racial and ethnic minorities have access to and receive health services within the state, and develop strategies to address barriers to access.

~~((21))~~ (20) Develop standards for the certification process to certify health plans and employer health plans to provide the uniform benefits package, according to the provisions for certified health plans and registered employer health plans under chapter 492, Laws of 1993.

~~((22))~~ Develop rules for implementation of individual and employer participation under RCW 43.72.210 and 43.72.220 specifically applicable to persons who work in this state but do not live in the state or persons who live in this state but work outside of the state. The rules shall be designed so that these persons receive coverage and financial requirements that are comparable to that received by persons who both live and work in the state.

~~((23))~~ (21) After receiving advice from the health services effectiveness committee, adopt rules that must be used by certified health plans, disability insurers, health care service contractors, and health maintenance organizations to determine whether a procedure, treatment, drug, or other health service is no longer experimental or investigative.

~~((24))~~ (22) Establish a process for purchase of uniform benefits package services by enrollees when they are out-of-state.

~~((25))~~ (23) Develop recommendations to the legislature as to whether state and school district employees, on whose behalf health benefits are or will be purchased by the health care authority pursuant to chapter 41.05 RCW, should have the option to purchase health benefits through health insurance purchasing cooperatives on and after July 1, 1997. In developing its recommendations, the commission shall consider:

(a) The impact of state or school district employees purchasing through health insurance purchasing cooperatives on the ability of the state to control its health care costs; and

(b) Whether state or school district employees purchasing through health insurance purchasing cooperatives will result in inequities in health benefits between or within groups of state and school district employees.

~~((26))~~ (24) Establish guidelines for providers dealing with terminal or static conditions, taking into consideration the ethics of providers, patient and family wishes, costs, and survival possibilities.

~~((27))~~ (25) Evaluate the extent to which Taft-Hartley health care trusts provide benefits to certain individuals in the state; review the federal laws under which these trusts are organized; and make appropriate recommendations to the governor and the legislature on or before December 1, 1994, as to whether these trusts should be brought under the provisions of chapter 492, Laws of 1993 when it is fully implemented, and if the commission recommends inclusion of the trusts, how to implement such inclusion.

~~((28))~~ (26) Evaluate whether Washington is experiencing a higher percentage in in-migration of residents from other states and territories than would be expected by normal trends as a result of the availability of unsubsidized and subsidized health care benefits for all residents and report to the governor and the legislature their findings.

~~((29))~~ (27) In developing the uniform benefits package and other standards pursuant to this section, consider the likelihood of the establishment of a national health services plan adopted by the federal government and its implications.

~~((30))~~ (28) Evaluate the effect of reforms under chapter 492, Laws of 1993 on access to care and economic development in rural areas.

To the extent that the exercise of any of the powers and duties specified in this section may be inconsistent with the powers and duties of other state agencies, offices, or commissions, the authority of the commission shall supersede that of such other state agency, office, or commission, except in matters of personal health data, where the commission shall have primary data system policy-making authority and the department of health shall have primary responsibility for the maintenance and routine operation of personal health data systems.

Sec. 4. RCW 43.72.100 and 1993 c 492 s 428 are each amended to read as follows:

A certified health plan shall:

(1) Provide the benefits included in the uniform benefits package to enrolled Washington residents for a prepaid per capita (~~(community-rated)~~) premium (~~(not to exceed the maximum premium established by the commission)~~) and provide such benefits through managed care in accordance with rules adopted by the commission;

(2) Offer supplemental benefits to enrolled Washington residents for a prepaid per capita (~~(community-rated)~~) premium and provide such benefits through managed care in accordance with rules adopted by the commission;

(3) Accept for enrollment any state resident within the plan's service area and provide or assure the provision of all services within the uniform benefits package and offer supplemental benefits regardless of age, sex, family structure, ethnicity, race, health condition, geographic location, employment status, socioeconomic status, other condition or situation, or the provisions of RCW 49.60.174(2). The insurance commissioner may grant a temporary exemption from this subsection, if, upon application by a certified health plan, the commissioner finds that the clinical, financial, or administrative capacity to serve existing enrollees will be impaired if a certified health plan is required to continue enrollment of additional eligible individuals;

(4) If the plan provides benefits through contracts with, ownership of, or management of health care facilities and contracts with or employs health care providers, demonstrate to the satisfaction of the insurance commissioner in consultation with the department of health and the commission that its facilities and personnel are adequate to provide the benefits prescribed in the uniform benefits package and offer supplemental benefits to enrolled Washington residents, and that it is financially capable of providing such residents with, or has made adequate contractual arrangements with health care providers and facilities to provide enrollees with such benefits;

(5) Comply with portability of benefits requirements prescribed by the commission;

(6) Comply with administrative rules prescribed by the commission, the insurance commissioner, and other state agencies governing certified health plans;

The costs recovered shall be limited to:

(a) If the certified health plan has not intervened in the action by an injured enrollee against a negligent third party, then the amount of costs the certified health plan can recover shall be limited to the excess remaining after the enrollee has been fully compensated for his or her loss minus a proportionate share of the enrollee's costs and fees in bringing the action. The proportionate share shall be determined by:

(i) The fees and costs approved by the court in which the action was initiated; or

(ii) The written agreement between the attorney and client that established fees and costs when fees and costs are not addressed by the court.

When fees and costs have been approved by a court, after notice to the certified health plan, the certified health plan shall have the right to be heard on the matter of attorneys' fees and costs or its proportionate share;

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Quigley: "Madam President, I rise to a point of order. I rise to point out that the amendment before us changes and expands the scope and object of the bill. The amendment before us does three things: First of all, it repeals community ratings which had existed in the original law to prevent big business to cost-shift to small business. This prohibition would need to remain in separate and apart from whether employers have to provide insurance at all, and as the Chair has ruled, the original bill simply repeals the mandate that employers participate in offering health care insurance. Second, this bill repeals the maximum enrollee financial participation provision. This provision was designed to protect those poorest members of our society to give them a maximum out-of-pocket cost, so that they could have health care to afford, but this issue needs to exist and does exist separate and apart from whether or not employers participate in offering health care coverage. Finally, this amendment repeals the premium caps; the premium caps apply to the market, as a whole, and is something that can and should exist separate and apart from the repeal of the employer mandate, which the Chair has ruled is the scope of the bill before us. For those reasons, Madam Chair, I argue that these amendments exceed the scope and object of the bill."

Further debate ensued.

MOTION

Senator Deccio moved that the following amendment be adopted:

The legislature further finds that the public health system in the state lacks the capacity to fulfill these functions consistent with the needs of a reformed health care system.

(2) The department of health shall develop, in consultation with local health departments and districts, the state board of health, ~~((the health services commission,))~~ area Indian health service, and other state agencies, health services providers, and citizens concerned about public health, a public health services improvement plan. (4) The department shall coordinate this planning process with the study activities required in section 258, chapter 492, Laws of 1993.

(5) By March 1, 1994, the department shall provide initial recommendations of the public health services improvement plan to the legislature regarding minimum public health standards, and public health programs needed to address urgent needs, such as those cited in subsection (7) of this section.

The tax shall be equal to the total amount of all premiums and prepayments for health care services received by the taxpayer during the preceding calendar year multiplied by the rate of two percent.

(3) Taxpayers shall prepay their tax obligations under this section. The minimum amount of the prepayments shall be percentages of the taxpayer's tax obligation for the preceding calendar year recomputed using the rate in effect for the current year. For the prepayment of taxes due during the first calendar year, the minimum amount of the prepayments shall be percentages of the taxpayer's tax obligation that would have been due had the tax been in effect during the previous calendar year. (5) Moneys collected under this section shall be deposited in the general fund through March 31, 1996, and in the health services account under RCW 43.72.900 after March 31, 1996.

(6) The taxes imposed in this section do not apply to:

(5) "Nonsubsidized enrollee" means an individual, or an individual plus the individual's spouse or dependent children, not eligible for medicare, who resides in an area of the state served by a managed health care system participating in the plan, who the administrator determines shall not have, or shall not have voluntarily relinquished health insurance more comprehensive than that offered by the plan as of the effective date of enrollment, and who chooses to obtain basic health care coverage from a particular managed health care system, and who pays or on whose behalf is paid the full costs for participation in the plan, without any subsidy from the plan.

(6) "Subsidy" means the difference between the amount of periodic payment the administrator makes to a managed health care system on behalf of a subsidized enrollee plus the administrative cost to the plan of providing the plan to that subsidized enrollee, and the amount determined to be the subsidized enrollee's responsibility under RCW 70.47.060(2).

The schedule of services shall emphasize proven preventive and primary health care and shall include all services necessary for prenatal, postnatal, and well-child care. However, with respect to coverage for groups of subsidized enrollees who are eligible to receive prenatal and postnatal services through the medical assistance program under chapter 74.09 RCW, the administrator shall not contract for such services except to the extent that such services are necessary over not more than a one-month period in order to maintain continuity of care after diagnosis of pregnancy by the managed care provider. The schedule of services shall also include a separate schedule of basic health care services for children, eighteen years of age and younger, for those subsidized or nonsubsidized enrollees who choose to secure basic coverage through the plan only for their dependent children. In designing and revising the schedule of services, the administrator shall consider the guidelines for assessing health services under the mandated benefits act of 1984, RCW 48.42.080, and such other factors as the administrator deems appropriate. ~~((On and after July 1, 1995, the uniform benefits package adopted and from time to time revised by the Washington health services commission pursuant to RCW 43.72.130 shall be implemented by the administrator as the schedule of covered basic health care services.))~~ However, with respect to coverage for subsidized enrollees who are eligible to receive prenatal and postnatal services through the medical assistance program under chapter 74.09 RCW, the administrator shall not contract for such services except to the extent that the services are necessary over not more than a one-month period in order to maintain continuity of care after diagnosis of pregnancy by the managed care provider.

(2)(a) To design and implement a structure of periodic premiums due the administrator from subsidized enrollees that is based upon gross family income, giving appropriate consideration to family size and the ages of all family members. The enrollment of children shall not require the enrollment of their parent or parents who are eligible for the plan. The structure of periodic premiums shall be applied to subsidized enrollees entering the plan as individuals pursuant to subsection (9) of this section and to the share of the cost of the plan due from subsidized enrollees entering the plan as employees pursuant to subsection (10) of this section.

(b) To determine the periodic premiums due the administrator from nonsubsidized enrollees. Premiums due from nonsubsidized enrollees shall be in an amount equal to the cost charged by the managed health care system provider to the state for the plan plus the administrative cost of providing the plan to those enrollees and the premium tax under RCW 48.14.0201.

(c) An employer or other financial sponsor may, with the prior approval of the administrator, pay the premium, rate, or any other amount on behalf of a subsidized or nonsubsidized enrollee, by arrangement with the enrollee and through a mechanism acceptable to the administrator, but in no case shall the payment made on behalf of the enrollee exceed the total premiums due from the enrollee.

(3) To design and implement a structure of copayments due a managed health care system from subsidized and nonsubsidized enrollees. The structure shall discourage inappropriate enrollee utilization of health care services, but shall not be so costly to enrollees as to constitute a barrier to appropriate utilization of necessary health care services. ~~((On and after July 1, 1995, the administrator shall endeavor to make the copayments structure of the plan consistent with enrollee point of service cost-sharing levels adopted by the Washington health services commission, giving consideration to funding available to the plan.))~~

(4) To limit enrollment of persons who qualify for subsidies so as to prevent an overexpenditure of appropriations for such purposes. Whenever the administrator finds that there is danger of such an overexpenditure, the administrator shall close enrollment until the administrator finds the danger no longer exists.

(5) To limit the payment of subsidies to subsidized enrollees, as defined in RCW 70.47.020.

(6) To adopt a schedule for the orderly development of the delivery of services and availability of the plan to residents of the state, subject to the limitations contained in RCW 70.47.080 or any act appropriating funds for the plan.

(7) To solicit and accept applications from managed health care systems, as defined in this chapter, for inclusion as eligible basic health care providers under the plan. The administrator shall endeavor to assure that covered basic health care services are available to any enrollee of the plan from among a selection of two or more participating managed health care systems. In adopting any rules or procedures applicable to managed health care systems and in its dealings with such systems, the administrator shall consider and make suitable allowance for the need for health care services and the differences in local availability of health care resources, along with other resources, within and among the several areas of the state. Contracts with participating managed health care systems shall ensure that basic health plan enrollees who become eligible for medical assistance may, at their option, continue to receive services from their existing providers within the managed health care system if such providers have entered into provider agreements with the department of social and health services.

(8) To receive periodic premiums from or on behalf of subsidized and nonsubsidized enrollees, deposit them in the basic health plan operating account, keep records of enrollee status, and authorize periodic payments to managed health care systems on the basis of the number of enrollees participating in the respective managed health care systems.

(9) To accept applications from individuals residing in areas served by the plan, on behalf of themselves and their spouses and dependent children, for enrollment in the Washington basic health plan as subsidized or nonsubsidized enrollees, to establish appropriate minimum-enrollment periods for enrollees as may be necessary, and to determine, upon application and at least semiannually thereafter, or at the request of any enrollee, eligibility due to current gross family income for sliding scale premiums. No subsidy may be paid with respect to any enrollee whose current gross family income exceeds twice the federal poverty level or, subject to RCW 70.47.110, who is a recipient of medical assistance or medical care services under chapter 74.09 RCW. If, as a result of an eligibility review, the administrator determines that a subsidized enrollee's income exceeds twice the federal poverty level and that the enrollee knowingly failed to inform the plan of such increase in income, the administrator may bill the enrollee for the subsidy paid on the enrollee's behalf during the period of time that the enrollee's income exceeded twice the federal poverty level. If a number of enrollees drop their enrollment for no apparent good cause, the administrator may establish appropriate rules or requirements that are applicable to such individuals before they will be allowed to re-enroll in the plan.

(10) To accept applications from business owners on behalf of themselves and their employees, spouses, and dependent children, as subsidized or nonsubsidized enrollees, who reside in an area served by the plan. The administrator may require all or the substantial majority of the eligible employees of such businesses to enroll in the plan and establish those procedures necessary to facilitate the orderly enrollment of groups in the plan and into a managed health care system. The administrator shall require that a business owner pay at least fifty percent of the nonsubsidized premium cost of the plan on behalf of each employee enrolled in the plan. Enrollment is limited to those not eligible for medicare who wish to enroll in the plan and choose to obtain the basic health care coverage and services from a managed care system participating in the plan. The administrator shall adjust the amount determined to be due on behalf of or from all such enrollees whenever the amount negotiated by the administrator with the participating managed health care system or systems is modified or the administrative cost of providing the plan to such enrollees changes.

(11) To determine the rate to be paid to each participating managed health care system in return for the provision of covered basic health care services to enrollees in the system. Although the schedule of covered basic health care services will be the same for similar enrollees, the rates negotiated with participating managed health care systems may vary among the systems. In negotiating rates with participating systems, the administrator shall consider the characteristics of the populations served by the respective systems, economic circumstances of the local area, the need to conserve the resources of the basic health plan trust account, and other factors the administrator finds relevant.

(12) To monitor the provision of covered services to enrollees by participating managed health care systems in order to assure enrollee access to good quality basic health care, to require periodic data reports concerning the utilization of health care services rendered to enrollees in order to provide adequate information for evaluation, and to inspect the books and records of participating managed health care systems to assure compliance with the purposes of this chapter. In requiring reports from participating managed health care systems, including data on services rendered enrollees, the administrator shall endeavor to minimize costs, both to the managed health care systems and to the plan. The administrator shall coordinate any such reporting requirements with other state agencies, such as the insurance commissioner and the department of health, to minimize duplication of effort.

(13) To evaluate the effects this chapter has on private employer-based health care coverage and to take appropriate measures consistent with state and federal statutes that will discourage the reduction of such coverage in the state.

(14) To develop a program of proven preventive health measures and to integrate it into the plan wherever possible and consistent with this chapter.

(15) To provide, consistent with available funding, assistance for rural residents, underserved populations, and persons of color.

Sec. 18. RCW 70.170.100 and 1993 c 492 s 259 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) To promote the public interest consistent with the purposes of chapter 492, Laws of 1993, the department is responsible for the development, implementation, and custody of a state-wide health care data system (~~(with policy direction and oversight to be provided by the Washington health services commission)~~). As part of the design stage for development of the system, the department shall undertake a needs assessment of the types of, and format for, health care data needed by consumers, purchasers, health care payers, providers, and state government as consistent with the intent of chapter 492, Laws of 1993. The department shall identify a set of health care data elements and report specifications which satisfy these needs (~~(The Washington health services commission, created by RCW 43.72.020, shall review the design of the data system)~~) and may establish a technical advisory committee on health data and may, if deemed cost-effective and efficient, (~~(recommend that the department)~~) contract with a private vendor for assistance in the design of the data system or for any part of the work to be performed under this section. The data elements, specifications, and other distinguishing features of this data system shall be made available for public review and comment and shall be published, with comments, as the department's first data plan by July 1, 1994.

(2) Subsequent to the initial development of the data system as published as the department's first data plan, revisions to the data system shall be considered with the oversight and policy guidance of the (~~Washington health services commission or its~~) technical advisory committee and funded by the legislature through the biennial appropriations process with funds appropriated to the health services account.

In designing the state-wide health care data system and any data plans, the department shall identify health care data elements relating to health care costs, the quality of health care services, the outcomes of health care services, and use of health care by consumers. Data elements shall be reported as the (~~Washington health services commission~~) department directs by reporters in conformance with a uniform reporting system established by the department, which shall be adopted by reporters. "Reporter" means an individual, hospital, or business entity, required to be registered with the department of revenue for payment of taxes imposed under chapter 82.04 RCW or Title 48 RCW, that is primarily engaged in furnishing or insuring for medical, surgical, and other health services to persons. In the case of hospitals this includes data elements identifying each hospital's revenues, expenses, contractual allowances, charity care, bad debt, other income, total units of inpatient and outpatient services, and other financial information reasonably necessary to fulfill the purposes of chapter 492, Laws of 1993, for hospital activities as a whole and, as feasible and appropriate, for specified classes of hospital purchasers and payers. Data elements relating to use of hospital services by patients shall, at least initially, be the same as those currently compiled by hospitals through inpatient discharge abstracts. The commission and the department shall encourage and permit reporting by electronic transmission or hard copy as is practical and economical to reporters.

(3) The state-wide health care data system shall be uniform in its identification of reporting requirements for reporters across the state to the extent that such uniformity is useful to fulfill the purposes of chapter 492, Laws of 1993. Data reporting requirements may reflect differences that involve pertinent distinguishing features as determined by the (~~Washington health services commission~~) department by rule. So far as is practical, the data system shall be coordinated with any requirements of the trauma care data registry as authorized in RCW 70.168.090, the federal department of health and human services in its administration of the medicare program, the state in its role of gathering public health statistics, or any other payer program of consequence so as to minimize any unduly burdensome reporting requirements imposed on reporters.

(4) In identifying financial reporting requirements under the state-wide health care data system, the department may require both annual reports and condensed quarterly reports from reporters, so as to achieve both accuracy and timeliness in reporting, but shall craft such requirements with due regard of the data reporting burdens of reporters.

(5) The health care data collected, maintained, and studied by the department (~~(or the Washington health services commission)~~) shall only be available for retrieval in original or processed form to public and private requestors and shall be available within a reasonable period of time after the date of request. The cost of retrieving data for state officials and agencies shall be funded through the state general appropriation. The cost of retrieving data for individuals and organizations engaged in research or private use of data or studies shall be funded by a fee schedule developed by the department which reflects the direct cost of retrieving the data or study in the requested form.

(6) All persons subject to chapter 492, Laws of 1993 shall comply with departmental (~~(or commission)~~) requirements established by rule in the acquisition of data.

Sec. 19. RCW 70.170.110 and 1993 c 492 s 260 are each amended to read as follows:

The department shall provide, or may contract with a private entity to provide, analyses and reports or any studies it chooses to conduct consistent with the purposes of chapter 492, Laws of 1993, subject to the availability of funds (~~(and any policy direction that may be given by the Washington health services commission)~~). These studies, analyses, or reports shall include:

(1) (~~Consumer guides on purchasing or consuming health care and publications providing verifiable and useful aggregate comparative information to the public on health care services, their cost, and the quality of health care providers who participate in certified health plans;~~

(2) All persons and any public or private agencies or entities whatsoever subject to this chapter shall comply with any requirements established by rule relating to the acquisition or use of health services data and maintain the confidentiality of any information that may, in any manner, identify individual persons.

(3) Data collected pursuant to RCW 70.170.130 and 70.170.140 shall be used solely for the health care reform provisions of chapter 492, Laws of 1993. The department shall ensure that the enrollee identifier used will employ the highest available standards for accuracy and uniqueness.

(4) Nothing in this section shall impede an enrollee's access to her or his health care records as provided in chapter 70.02 RCW.

(2) (~~The commission, in coordination with the department of health and the health science programs of the state universities shall develop procedures to analyze clinical and other health services outcome data, and conduct other research necessary for the specific purpose of assisting in the design of the uniform benefits package under chapter 492, Laws of 1993.~~

(3) ~~The commission shall establish cost data sources and shall require each certified health plan to provide the commission and the department of health with enrollee care and cost information, to include, but not be limited to: (a) Enrollee identifier, including date of birth, sex, and ethnicity; (b) provider identifier; (c) diagnosis; (d) health care services or procedures provided; (e) provider charges, if any; and (f) amount paid. POINT OF ORDER

Senator Quigley: "Thank you, Madam President. I rise to a point of order. I rise to argue that the amendment before us expands the scope and object of the bill beyond its original intent. Among other things, it repeals community rating. Again, these were provisions which permit cost-shifting from big business to small business. They can and should exist, notwithstanding a repeal of the employer mandate. It repeals maximum enrollee financial participation provisions. Again, these are provisions designed to protect the poor that can and should exist regardless of whether the employer mandate goes forward. It repeals the premium caps which were designed to control rising health care costs--things that can and should exist without the employer mandate. It eliminates the Health Services Commission, a commission that has expansive duties under the existing law beyond its limited duties in the bill, even the bill as amended. This amendment before us weakens the insurance reforms, insurance reforms that can and should go on without regard to whether or not we repeal the employer mandate. It limits portability of insurance plans, portability being a concept that can and should go on. I could go on, in fact I could go on through fifty-five repealers, Madam Chair, that are included in this act, but I don't think it is necessary. Clearly, this expands the scope and object of this bill. Thank you, Madam President."

Further debate ensued.

There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of Senate Bill No. 6034 and the pending amendments by Senator McDonald on page 1, lines 7 and 8, and the pending striking amendment by Senator Deccio, deferred earlier today.

RULINGS BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

President Pro Tempore Wojahn: "In ruling upon the points of order raised by Senator Quigley, the President finds that Senate Bill No. 6034, as amended, is a measure which repeals the requirement that residents of Washington purchase a uniform benefits package from a certified health plan by a date certain and repeals mandatory employer participation in offering health care coverage, and repeals the requirement to seek federal waivers for these activities.

"The amendments by Senator McDonald on page 1, lines 7 and 8, among other changes to the health care laws, removes the provisions providing for community rated maximum premiums for the uniform benefits package.

"The striking amendment by Senator Deccio abolishes the Washington Health Services Commission and makes various other changes to the health care laws.

"The President, therefore, finds that the proposed amendments by Senator McDonald on page 1, lines 7 and 8, do change the scope and object of the bill and the point of order is well taken.

"The President, therefore, finds that the proposed striking amendment by Senator Deccio does change the scope and object of the bill and the point of order is well taken."

The amendments by Senator McDonald on page 1, lines 7 and 8, to Senate Bill No. 6034 were ruled out of order.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Heavey: "A point of order. Madam President, I think that the gentleman from Spokane is impugning the sponsors of this bill and I would ask Madam President to rule on that. Thank you."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

President Pro Tempore Wojahn: "Senator West, it would be good if you would keep your remarks a little bit lower key."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator McCaslin: "A point of order, Madam President. Did you say we were under a two minute rule?"

Senator McCaslin: "You are going to have to speak up for us older folks. We can't hear you up front here. Thank you."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McDonald: "Senator Gaspard, if we pass this piece of legislation, will there be, in this session, a bill that will come on the floor that will expand the basic health care plan, protect the insurance reforms that we have passed, expand the consumer choices for doctors and health care plans beyond what is in the 1993 act and repeal a number of sections, a considerable amount of the 1993 Health Services Act?"

Senator Gaspard: "Thank you, Senator McDonald. The purpose of putting this measure before us was really to realize that we have a lot more in common about how to approach health care than we have in differences at this point, so I am a little bit surprised about some of the tone of the debate, because we are trying to take the politics out of the employer mandate. Yes, Senator McDonald, I responded to a question by Senator Newhouse last week that it is our intention to bring forward to this body, the bill that was referred out of committee, Senator Quigley's committee, so that we can have a fuller debate on improvements to health care. As you have outlined it, it sounds as if we do have a good bipartisan support, because those are all the measures that we are trying to incorporate as we improve health care in the state of Washington."

Further debate ensued.

Unless the context otherwise requires, words and phrases as used herein shall mean:

"Commission" shall mean the Washington horse racing commission, hereinafter created.

"Operating race tracks" shall mean racing associations conducting parimutuel horse racing at the same time of day, such as afternoon against afternoon or nighttime against nighttime, as the racing association conducting the horse racing that is the subject of the in-state and/or out-of-state satellite wagering.

"Parimutuel machine" shall mean and include both machines at the track and machines at the satellite locations, that record parimutuel bets and compute the payoff.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Rinehart, Substitute Senate Bill No. 6047 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 6047 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

Senator West moved that the following amendments be considered simultaneously and be adopted:

On page 4, line 4, after "appliances," strike "and convalescent aids" and insert "convalescent aids, tissues, toilet paper, toothpaste, and toothbrushes"

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Rinehart: "I rise to raise a question that the amendments expand the scope and object of the bill. The bill before us is specifically directed to remove the sales tax from medical care products bought by consumers. The amendments before us would expand the bill to include hygienic products which do not come under the definition of medical care products and, therefore, would expand the scope and object of the bill."

(5) The tax levied by RCW 82.08.020 shall not apply to sales of diapers. As used in this section, "diaper" includes adult diapers, children's diapers, disposable diapers, diapers obtained through a commercial diaper service, and reusable diapers."

On page 4, after line 4, insert the following:

(4) The provisions of this chapter shall not apply in respect to the use of products, substances, or devices for feminine hygiene including, but not limited to, sanitary napkins.

(5) The provisions of this chapter shall not apply in respect to the use of diapers. As used in this section, "diaper" includes adult diapers, children's diapers, disposable diapers, diapers obtained through a commercial diaper service, and reusable diapers."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Rinehart: "I raise the question that the amendments expand the scope and object of the bill. Again, the bill is directed, with a very specific intent, to remove the sales tax from consumer purchased medical care products. The list incorporated in these amendments, once again, are directed toward hygiene and not toward medical care."

Further debate ensued.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Gaspard, further consideration of the amendments by Senator Wood was deferred and the Senate will consider the next amendments by Senators Ann Anderson and Winsley.

MOTION

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Rinehart: "Rising with some trepidation to suggest that this amendment also expands the scope and object of the bill, because water is designed as a food, not as a medical product."

Further debate ensued.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Gaspard, further consideration of the amendment by Senators Wojahn, McDonald, Hale, Wood, Prentice, Winsley, West and Cal Anderson was deferred.

MOTION

Senator Deccio moved that the following amendment by Senators Deccio, Long, Palmer, Hale, Swecker, Finkbeiner, Wood, Johnson, Strannigan and Schow be adopted:

On page 4, after line 27, insert the following:

"Sec. 5. RCW 82.04.255 and 1993 sp.s. c 25 s 202 are each amended to read as follows:

Upon every person engaging within the state as a real estate broker; as to such persons, the amount of the tax with respect to such business shall be equal to the gross income of the business, multiplied by the rate of ~~((2.0))~~ 1.5 percent.

The measure of the tax on real estate commissions earned by the real estate broker shall be the gross commission earned by the particular real estate brokerage office including that portion of the commission paid to salesmen or associate brokers in the same office on a particular transaction: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That where a real estate commission is divided between an originating brokerage office and a cooperating brokerage office on a particular transaction, each brokerage office shall pay the tax only upon their respective shares of said commission: AND PROVIDED FURTHER, That where the brokerage office has paid the tax as provided herein, salesmen or associate brokers within the same brokerage office shall not be required to pay a similar tax upon the same transaction.

Sec. 6. RCW 82.04.290 and 1993 sp.s. c 25 s 203 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((1) Upon every person engaging within this state in the business of providing selected business services other than or in addition to those enumerated in RCW 82.04.250 or 82.04.270; as to such persons the amount of tax on account of such activities shall be equal to the gross income of the business multiplied by the rate of 2.5 percent.~~

~~((2) Upon every person engaging within this state in banking, loan, security, investment management, investment advisory, or other financial businesses; as to such persons, the amount of the tax with respect to such business shall be equal to the gross income of the business, multiplied by the rate of 1.70 percent.~~

(3)) Upon every person engaging within this state in any business activity other than or in addition to those enumerated in RCW 82.04.230, 82.04.240, 82.04.250, 82.04.255, 82.04.260, 82.04.270, and 82.04.280 (~~and subsections (1) and (2) of this section~~); as to such persons the amount of tax on account of such activities shall be equal to the gross income of the business multiplied by the rate of ~~((2.0))~~ 1.5 percent. This section includes, among others, and without limiting the scope hereof (whether or not title to materials used in the performance of such business passes to another by accession, confusion or other than by outright sale), persons engaged in the business of rendering any type of service which does not constitute a "sale at retail" or a "sale at wholesale." The value of advertising, demonstration, and promotional supplies and materials furnished to an agent by his principal or supplier to be used for informational, educational and promotional purposes shall not be considered a part of the agent's remuneration or commission and shall not be subject to taxation under this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. The following acts or parts of acts are each repealed:

(1) RCW 82.04.055 and 1993 sp.s. c 25 s 201; and

(2) RCW 82.04.2201 and 1994 sp.s. c 10 s 1 & 1993 sp.s. c 25 s 204."

Renumber the remaining section consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Rinehart: "I rise to question the scope and object of the amendment. It is directed toward the Business and Occupation Tax. POINT OF ORDER

Senator Johnson: "I rise to a point of order. My point is that the amendment by Senator Pelz changes the scope and object of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5537. The scope of this substitute senate bill is fairly narrow and it relates to the preparation for teachers preparing to be in programs as students to become teachers. It deals with the requirements for admission to those programs. The object of the bill is to give the State Board authority to grant waivers when, heretofore, the waivers had been statutory. This proposed amendment, however, goes into the curriculum and the requirements--substantive requirements--in order to teach specific courses and, therefore, is beyond the scope and object of this substitute bill. Thank you."

Promoting competition for long distance telecommunications.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Sutherland, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5156 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5156 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

Senator Gaspard moved that the following amendment by Senators Gaspard, Hochstatter, Sutherland, Long and Loveland be adopted: Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that:

(1) It is the declared policy of the state of Washington in RCW 80.36.300(5) to promote diversity in the supply of telecommunications services and products in telecommunications markets throughout the state.

(2) In 1984, a federal court ordered the divestiture of the Bell System separating the system into: (a) Local service companies, limited to service within defined geographic areas called local access transport areas, known as LATAs; and (b) an interexchange or inter-LATA company, which is free to provide any lawful service, but cannot purchase the operations of its divested operating companies. The local service companies expected to be permitted to compete for inter-LATA services as soon as interexchange providers could legally compete with intra-LATA dialing parity.

(3) It has been lawful in Washington since 1985 for any company to provide any telecommunications service so long as the company is properly registered with the Washington utilities and transportation commission. Two exceptions to this freedom to compete in all markets exist. The carrier that serves most of the state's citizens and the largest geographic area is prohibited from providing inter-LATA telecommunications services. The second largest exchange company in the state may only provide inter-LATA services through a separate subsidiary.

(4) Competition in the telecommunications services industry has intensified with the fast pace of changes in telecommunications technology in recent years. The effect of increased competition for customers on the affordability of service for consumers cannot be determined without further review by the utilities and transportation commission.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 80.36 RCW to read as follows:

In order to promote diversity of supply and competition in the provision of all services in the state:

(1) The commission shall require all carriers registered to provide service in this state to allow their customers to individually choose an authorized carrier to provide one plus dialed service;

(2) The commission shall not require any change in intra-LATA one plus dialing patterns existing on January 1, 1995, under subsection (1) of this section until all carriers are permitted to provide inter-LATA service on an integrated basis, or June 30, 1998, whichever is earlier; and

(3) Nothing in this section shall preclude the commission from engaging in a fact-finding investigation in anticipation of the requirement that all carriers provide one plus presubscription.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The commission shall submit to the legislature no later than December 1, 1997, a study of the intra-LATA telephone market in the state of Washington as it exists at that time. This study shall analyze the nature and extent of competition in the intra-LATA and inter-LATA markets, including local exchange operators' market power in the inter-LATA market and long distance carriers' market power in the intra-LATA market; the impact of proposed changes in intra-LATA dialing patterns on local business and residential basic rates; the ability of telecommunications companies to meet universal service obligations in light of proposed changes in intra-LATA one plus dialing patterns; all relevant state and federal enactments and court and regulatory decisions made after the effective date of this act which affect intra-LATA services by telecommunications companies in the state of Washington. This study shall objectively set forth policy options regarding intra-LATA dialing patterns, and shall make recommendations based upon those options. Nothing in this section shall prohibit the commission from engaging in an inquiry proceeding or other fact-finding investigation in anticipation of issuing orders regarding intra-LATA one plus dialing.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect July 1, 1995."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Finkbeiner: "I'd like to, previous to discussing this amendment, I would like to ask a question of the sponsor of the striking amendment to this bill. Senator Gaspard, on page 2, line 11, in subsection (2) of Section 2 on that page, you state that June 30, 1998, will be the date by which the Utilities and Transportation Commission shall be able to require a change in intra-LATA one plus dialing patterns. Does that language allow them to make the order or does that set an implementation date or is that actually a completion date at which time people will be able to pick up their phones and have competition in that marketplace?"

Senator Gaspard: "That would be the date in which they would be authorized at that point to consider requests for intra-LATA--at that point--if Congress does not act before and allows all carries to participate in intra-LATA."

Senator Finkbeiner: "Thank you."

Further debate ensued.

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senators Finkbeiner, McCaslin and Johnson on page 2, line 11, to the striking amendment by Senators Gaspard, Hochstatter, Sutherland, Long and Loveland to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5156.

requirement that applicants achieve a particular score on a general achievement test. The bill also repeals sections of law dealing with State Board of Education directives to encourage or require certain elements in teacher preparation programs, including child abuse issues and the participation of higher education faculty in K-12 instruction.

"The amendment proposed by Senator Pelz would also address teacher preparation program requirements by preventing the State Board of Education from adopting a requirement which specifies a literature course in any particular nationality.

That is one question, because there is no money that goes with this and there is time involvement. Do you see this as an unfunded mandate, because we are trying to get away from that?"

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature declares its intent to implement the recommendations of the public health improvement plan by initiating a program to provide the public health system with the necessary capacity to improve the health outcomes of the population of Washington state and establishing the methodology by which improvement in the health outcomes and delivery of public health activities will be assessed.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout sections 1 through 3 of this act.

(1) "Capacity" means actions that public health jurisdictions must do as part of ongoing daily operations to adequately protect and promote health and prevent disease, injury, and premature death. The public health improvement plan identifies capacity necessary for assessment, policy development, administration, prevention, including promotion and protection, and access and quality.

(2) "Department" means the department of health.

(3) "Local health jurisdiction" means the local health agency, either county or multicounty, operated by local government, with oversight and direction from a local board of health, that provides public health services throughout a defined geographic area.

(4) "Health outcomes" means long-term objectives that define optimal, measurable, future levels of health status, maximum acceptable levels of disease, injury, or dysfunction, or prevalence of risk factors in areas such as improving the rate of immunizations for infants and children to ninety percent and controlling and reducing the spread of tuberculosis and that are stated in the public health improvement plan.

(5) "Public health improvement plan," also known as the public health services improvement plan, means the public health services improvement plan established under RCW 43.70.520, developed by the department, in consultation with local health departments and districts, the state board of health, the health services commission, area Indian health services, and other state agencies, health services providers, and residents concerned about public health, to provide a detailed accounting of deficits in the core functions of assessment, policy development, and assurance of the current public health system, how additional public health funding would be used, and to describe the benefits expected from expanded expenditures.

(6) "Public health" means activities that society does collectively to assure the conditions in which people can be healthy. This includes organized community efforts to prevent, identify, preempt, and counter threats to the public's health.

(7) "Public health system" means the department, the state board of health, and local health jurisdictions.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The primary responsibility of the public health system, is to take those actions necessary to protect, promote, and improve the health of the population. In order to accomplish this, the department shall:

(1) Identify, as part of the public health improvement plan, the key health outcomes sought for the population and the capacity needed by the public health system to fulfill its responsibilities in improving health outcomes.

(2)(a) Distribute state funds that, in conjunction with local revenues, are intended to improve the capacity of the public health system. The distribution methodology shall encourage system-wide effectiveness and efficiency and provide local health jurisdictions with the flexibility both to determine governance structures and address their unique needs.

(b) Enter into with each local health jurisdiction performance-based contracts that establish clear measures of the degree to which the local health jurisdiction is attaining the capacity necessary to improve health outcomes. The contracts negotiated between the local health jurisdictions and the department of health must identify the specific measurable progress that local health jurisdictions will make toward achieving health outcomes. A community assessment conducted by the local health jurisdiction according to the public health improvement plan, which shall include the results of the comprehensive plan prepared according to RCW 70.190.130, will be used as the basis for identifying the health outcomes. The contracts shall include provisions to encourage collaboration among local health jurisdictions. State funds shall be used solely to expand and complement, but not to supplant city and county government support for public health programs.

(3) Develop criteria to assess the degree to which capacity is being achieved and ensure compliance by public health jurisdictions.

(4) Adopt rules necessary to carry out the purposes of chapter . . . , Laws of 1995 (this act).

(5) Biennially, within the public health improvement plan, evaluate the effectiveness of the public health system, assess the degree to which the public health system is attaining the capacity to improve the status of the public's health, and report progress made by each local health jurisdiction toward improving health outcomes.

MOTION

Senator Oke moved that the following amendments by Senators Oke, Hargrove, Long and Rinehart be considered simultaneously and be adopted:

On page 2, beginning on line 21, after "confinement." strike all material through "confinement." on line 23, and insert "~~((The court shall also provide that upon completion of the work ethic camp program, the offender shall be released on community custody for any remaining time of total confinement.))~~ In sentencing an offender to the work ethic camp, the court shall specify: (a) That upon completion of the work ethic camp program, the offender shall be released on community custody for any remaining time of total confinement; (b) the applicable conditions of supervision on community custody status as authorized by RCW 9.94A.120(8)(b) and (c); and (c) which conditions, if violated, may result in a return to total confinement for the balance of the offender's remaining time of confinement."

On page 3, after line 9, insert the following:

"Sec. 2. RCW 9.94A.120 and 1994 c 1 s 2 (Initiative Measure No. 593) and 1993 c 31 s 3 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

When a person is convicted of a felony, the court shall impose punishment as provided in this section.

(1) Except as authorized in subsections (2), (4), (5), and (7) of this section, the court shall impose a sentence within the sentence range for the offense.

(2) The court may impose a sentence outside the standard sentence range for that offense if it finds, considering the purpose of this chapter, that there are substantial and compelling reasons justifying an exceptional sentence.

(3) Whenever a sentence outside the standard range is imposed, the court shall set forth the reasons for its decision in written findings of fact and conclusions of law. A sentence outside the standard range shall be a determinate sentence.

(4) A persistent offender shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement for life without the possibility of parole or, when authorized by RCW 10.95.030 for the crime of aggravated murder in the first degree, sentenced to death, notwithstanding the maximum sentence under any other law. An offender convicted of the crime of murder in the first degree shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than twenty years. An offender convicted of the crime of assault in the first degree or assault of a child in the first degree where the offender used force or means likely to result in death or intended to kill the victim shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than five years. An offender convicted of the crime of rape in the first degree shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than five years. The foregoing minimum terms of total confinement are mandatory and shall not be varied or modified as provided in subsection (2) of this section. In addition, all offenders subject to the provisions of this subsection shall not be eligible for community custody, earned early release time, furlough, home detention, partial confinement, work crew, work release, or any other form of early release as defined under RCW 9.94A.150 (1), (2), (3), (5), (7), or (8), or any other form of authorized leave of absence from the correctional facility while not in the direct custody of a corrections officer or officers during such minimum terms of total confinement except in the case of an offender in need of emergency medical treatment or for the purpose of commitment to an inpatient treatment facility in the case of an offender convicted of the crime of rape in the first degree.

(5) In sentencing a first-time offender the court may waive the imposition of a sentence within the sentence range and impose a sentence which may include up to ninety days of confinement in a facility operated or utilized under contract by the county and a requirement that the offender refrain from committing new offenses. The sentence may also include up to two years of community supervision, which, in addition to crime-related prohibitions, may include requirements that the offender perform any one or more of the following:

(a) Devote time to a specific employment or occupation;

(b) Undergo available outpatient treatment for up to two years, or inpatient treatment not to exceed the standard range of confinement for that offense;

(c) Pursue a prescribed, secular course of study or vocational training;

(d) Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the community corrections officer prior to any change in the offender's address or employment;

(e) Report as directed to the court and a community corrections officer; or

(f) Pay all court-ordered legal financial obligations as provided in RCW 9.94A.030 and/or perform community service work.

(6) If a sentence range has not been established for the defendant's crime, the court shall impose a determinate sentence which may include not more than one year of confinement, community service work, a term of community supervision not to exceed one year, and/or other legal financial obligations. The court may impose a sentence which provides more than one year of confinement if the court finds, considering the purpose of this chapter, that there are substantial and compelling reasons justifying an exceptional sentence.

(7)(a)(i) When an offender is convicted of a sex offense other than a violation of RCW 9A.44.050 or a sex offense that is also a serious violent offense and has no prior convictions for a sex offense or any other felony sex offenses in this or any other state, the sentencing court, on its own motion or the motion of the state or the defendant, may order an examination to determine whether the defendant is amenable to treatment.

The report of the examination shall include at a minimum the following: The defendant's version of the facts and the official version of the facts, the defendant's offense history, an assessment of problems in addition to alleged deviant behaviors, the offender's social and employment situation, and other evaluation measures used. The report shall set forth the sources of the evaluator's information.

The examiner shall assess and report regarding the defendant's amenability to treatment and relative risk to the community. A proposed treatment plan shall be provided and shall include, at a minimum:

(A) Frequency and type of contact between offender and therapist;

(B) Specific issues to be addressed in the treatment and description of planned treatment modalities;

(C) Monitoring plans, including any requirements regarding living conditions, lifestyle requirements, and monitoring by family members and others;

- (D) Anticipated length of treatment; and
- (E) Recommended crime-related prohibitions.

The court on its own motion may order, or on a motion by the state shall order, a second examination regarding the offender's amenability to treatment. The evaluator shall be selected by the party making the motion. The defendant shall pay the cost of any second examination ordered unless the court finds the defendant to be indigent in which case the state shall pay the cost.

(ii) After receipt of the reports, the court shall consider whether the offender and the community will benefit from use of this special sexual offender sentencing alternative and consider the victim's opinion whether the offender should receive a treatment disposition under this subsection. If the court determines that this special sex offender sentencing alternative is appropriate, the court shall then impose a sentence within the sentence range. If this sentence is less than eight years of confinement, the court may suspend the execution of the sentence and impose the following conditions of suspension:

(A) The court shall place the defendant on community supervision for the length of the suspended sentence or three years, whichever is greater; and

(B) The court shall order treatment for any period up to three years in duration. The court in its discretion shall order outpatient sex offender treatment or inpatient sex offender treatment, if available. A community mental health center may not be used for such treatment unless it has an appropriate program designed for sex offender treatment. The offender shall not change sex offender treatment providers or treatment conditions without first notifying the prosecutor, the community corrections officer, and the court, and shall not change providers without court approval after a hearing if the prosecutor or community corrections officer object to the change. In addition, as conditions of the suspended sentence, the court may impose other sentence conditions including up to six months of confinement, not to exceed the sentence range of confinement for that offense, crime-related prohibitions, and requirements that the offender perform any one or more of the following:

- (I) Devote time to a specific employment or occupation;
- (II) Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the community corrections officer prior to any change in the offender's address or employment;
- (III) Report as directed to the court and a community corrections officer;
- (IV) Pay all court-ordered legal financial obligations as provided in RCW 9.94A.030, perform community service work, or any combination thereof; or
- (V) Make recoupment to the victim for the cost of any counseling required as a result of the offender's crime.

(iii) The sex offender therapist shall submit quarterly reports on the defendant's progress in treatment to the court and the parties. The report shall reference the treatment plan and include at a minimum the following: Dates of attendance, defendant's compliance with requirements, treatment activities, the defendant's relative progress in treatment, and any other material as specified by the court at sentencing.

(iv) At the time of sentencing, the court shall set a treatment termination hearing for three months prior to the anticipated date for completion of treatment. Prior to the treatment termination hearing, the treatment professional and community corrections officer shall submit written reports to the court and parties regarding the defendant's compliance with treatment and monitoring requirements, and recommendations regarding termination from treatment, including proposed community supervision conditions. Either party may request and the court may order another evaluation regarding the advisability of termination from treatment. The defendant shall pay the cost of any additional evaluation ordered unless the court finds the defendant to be indigent in which case the state shall pay the cost. At the treatment termination hearing the court may: (A) Modify conditions of community supervision, and either (B) terminate treatment, or (C) extend treatment for up to the remaining period of community supervision.

(v) The court may revoke the suspended sentence at any time during the period of community supervision and order execution of the sentence if: (A) The defendant violates the conditions of the suspended sentence, or (B) the court finds that the defendant is failing to make satisfactory progress in treatment. All confinement time served during the period of community supervision shall be credited to the offender if the suspended sentence is revoked.

(vi) Except as provided in (a)(vii) of this subsection, after July 1, 1991, examinations and treatment ordered pursuant to this subsection shall only be conducted by sex offender treatment providers certified by the department of health pursuant to chapter 18.155 RCW.

(vii) A sex offender therapist who examines or treats a sex offender pursuant to this subsection (7) does not have to be certified by the department of health pursuant to chapter 18.155 RCW if the court finds that: (A) The offender has already moved to another state or plans to move to another state for reasons other than circumventing the certification requirements; (B) no certified providers are available for treatment within a reasonable geographical distance of the offender's home; and (C) the evaluation and treatment plan comply with this subsection (7) and the rules adopted by the department of health.

For purposes of this subsection, "victim" means any person who has sustained emotional, psychological, physical, or financial injury to person or property as a result of the crime charged. "Victim" also means a parent or guardian of a victim who is a minor child unless the parent or guardian is the perpetrator of the offense.

(b) When an offender is convicted of any felony sex offense committed before July 1, 1987, and is sentenced to a term of confinement of more than one year but less than six years, the sentencing court may, on its own motion or on the motion of the offender or the state, order the offender committed for up to thirty days to the custody of the secretary of social and health services for evaluation and report to the court on the offender's amenability to treatment at these facilities. If the secretary of social and health services cannot begin the evaluation within thirty days of the court's order of commitment, the offender shall be transferred to the state for confinement pending an opportunity to be evaluated at the appropriate facility. The court shall review the reports and may order that the term of confinement imposed be served in the sexual offender treatment program at the location determined by the secretary of social and health services or the secretary's designee, only if the report indicates that the offender is amenable to the treatment program provided at these facilities. The offender shall be transferred to the state pending placement in the treatment program. Any offender who has escaped from the treatment program shall be referred back to the sentencing court.

If the offender does not comply with the conditions of the treatment program, the secretary of social and health services may refer the matter to the sentencing court. The sentencing court shall commit the offender to the department of corrections to serve the balance of the term of confinement.

If the offender successfully completes the treatment program before the expiration of the term of confinement, the court may convert the balance of confinement to community supervision and may place conditions on the offender including crime-related prohibitions and requirements that the offender perform any one or more of the following:

- (i) Devote time to a specific employment or occupation;
- (ii) Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the community corrections officer prior to any change in the offender's address or employment;
- (iii) Report as directed to the court and a community corrections officer;
- (iv) Undergo available outpatient treatment.

If the offender violates any of the terms of community supervision, the court may order the offender to serve out the balance of the community supervision term in confinement in the custody of the department of corrections.

After June 30, 1993, this subsection (b) shall cease to have effect.

(c) When an offender commits any felony sex offense on or after July 1, 1987, and is sentenced to a term of confinement of more than one year but less than six years, the sentencing court may, on its own motion or on the motion of the offender or the state, request the department of corrections to evaluate whether the offender is amenable to treatment and the department may place the offender in a treatment program within a correctional facility operated by the department.

Except for an offender who has been convicted of a violation of RCW 9A.44.040 or 9A.44.050, if the offender completes the treatment program before the expiration of his or her term of confinement, the department of corrections may request the court to convert the balance of confinement to community supervision and to place conditions on the offender including crime-related prohibitions and requirements that the offender perform any one or more of the following:

- (i) Devote time to a specific employment or occupation;
- (ii) Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the community corrections officer prior to any change in the offender's address or employment;
- (iii) Report as directed to the court and a community corrections officer;
- (iv) Undergo available outpatient treatment.

If the offender violates any of the terms of his or her community supervision, the court may order the offender to serve out the balance of his or her community supervision term in confinement in the custody of the department of corrections.

Nothing in (c) of this subsection shall confer eligibility for such programs for offenders convicted and sentenced for a sex offense committed prior to July 1, 1987. This subsection (c) does not apply to any crime committed after July 1, 1990.

(d) Offenders convicted and sentenced for a sex offense committed prior to July 1, 1987, may, subject to available funds, request an evaluation by the department of corrections to determine whether they are amenable to treatment. If the offender is determined to be amenable to treatment, the offender may request placement in a treatment program within a correctional facility operated by the department. Placement in such treatment program is subject to available funds.

(8)(a) When a court sentences a person to a term of total confinement to the custody of the department of corrections for an offense categorized as a sex offense or a serious violent offense committed after July 1, 1988, but before July 1, 1990, assault in the second degree, assault of a child in the second degree, any crime against a person where it is determined in accordance with RCW 9.94A.125 that the defendant or an accomplice was armed with a deadly weapon at the time of commission, or any felony offense under chapter 69.50 or 69.52 RCW, committed on or after July 1, 1988, the court shall in addition to the other terms of the sentence, sentence the offender to a one-year term of community placement beginning either upon completion of the term of confinement or at such time as the offender is transferred to community custody in lieu of earned early release in accordance with RCW 9.94A.150 (1) and (2). When the court sentences an offender under this subsection to the statutory maximum period of confinement then the community placement portion of the sentence shall consist entirely of such community custody to which the offender may become eligible, in accordance with RCW 9.94A.150 (1) and (2). Any period of community custody actually served shall be credited against the community placement portion of the sentence.

(b) When a court sentences a person to a term of total confinement to the custody of the department of corrections for an offense categorized as a sex offense or serious violent offense committed on or after July 1, 1990, the court shall in addition to other terms of the sentence, sentence the offender to community placement for two years or up to the period of earned early release awarded pursuant to RCW

9.94A.150 (1) and (2), whichever is longer. The community placement shall begin either upon completion of the term of confinement or at such time as the offender is transferred to community custody in lieu of earned early release in accordance with RCW 9.94A.150 (1) and (2). When the court sentences an offender under this subsection to the statutory maximum period of confinement then the community placement portion of the sentence shall consist entirely of the community custody to which the offender may become eligible, in accordance with RCW 9.94A.150 (1) and (2). Any period of community custody actually served shall be credited against the community placement portion of the sentence. Unless a condition is waived by the court, the terms of community placement for offenders sentenced pursuant to this section shall include the following conditions:

- (i) The offender shall report to and be available for contact with the assigned community corrections officer as directed;
- (ii) The offender shall work at department of corrections-approved education, employment, and/or community service;
- (iii) The offender shall not consume controlled substances except pursuant to lawfully issued prescriptions;
- (iv) An offender in community custody shall not unlawfully possess controlled substances;
- (v) The offender shall pay supervision fees as determined by the department of corrections; and
- (vi) The residence location and living arrangements are subject to the prior approval of the department of corrections during the period of community placement.

(c) The court may also order any of the following special conditions:

- (i) The offender shall remain within, or outside of, a specified geographical boundary;
- (ii) The offender shall not have direct or indirect contact with the victim of the crime or a specified class of individuals;
- (iii) The offender shall participate in crime-related treatment or counseling services;
- (iv) The offender shall not consume alcohol; or
- (v) The offender shall comply with any crime-related prohibitions.

(d) As a part of any sentence providing for conversion from total confinement to community custody pursuant to RCW 9.94A.137(3) after successful completion of a work ethic camp program, the court shall impose and enforce the conditions enumerated in (b) of this subsection and may order any of the special conditions enumerated in (c) of this subsection, including a prohibition against new felony convictions. The court shall specify which of the conditions, if violated, may result in a return to total confinement for the balance of the offender's remaining term of confinement.

(e) Prior to transfer to, or during, community placement, any conditions of community placement may be removed or modified so as not to be more restrictive by the sentencing court, upon recommendation of the department of corrections.

(9) If the court imposes a sentence requiring confinement of thirty days or less, the court may, in its discretion, specify that the sentence be served on consecutive or intermittent days. A sentence requiring more than thirty days of confinement shall be served on consecutive days. Local jail administrators may schedule court-ordered intermittent sentences as space permits.

(10) If a sentence imposed includes payment of a legal financial obligation, the sentence shall specify the total amount of the legal financial obligation owed, and shall require the offender to pay a specified monthly sum toward that legal financial obligation. Restitution to victims shall be paid prior to any other payments of monetary obligations. Any legal financial obligation that is imposed by the court may be collected by the department, which shall deliver the amount paid to the county clerk for credit. The offender's compliance with payment of legal financial obligations shall be supervised by the department. All monetary payments ordered shall be paid no later than ten years after the last date of release from confinement pursuant to a felony conviction or the date the sentence was entered. Independent of the department, the party or entity to whom the legal financial obligation is owed shall have the authority to utilize any other remedies available to the party or entity to collect the legal financial obligation. Nothing in this section makes the department, the state, or any of its employees, agents, or other persons acting on their behalf liable under any circumstances for the payment of these legal financial obligations. If an order includes restitution as one of the monetary assessments, the county clerk shall make disbursements to victims named in the order.

(11) Except as provided under RCW 9.94A.140(1) and 9.94A.142(1), a court may not impose a sentence providing for a term of confinement or community supervision or community placement which exceeds the statutory maximum for the crime as provided in chapter 9A.20 RCW.

(12) All offenders sentenced to terms involving community supervision, community service, community placement, or legal financial obligation shall be under the supervision of the secretary of the department of corrections or such person as the secretary may designate and shall follow explicitly the instructions of the secretary including reporting as directed to a community corrections officer, remaining within prescribed geographical boundaries, notifying the community corrections officer of any change in the offender's address or employment, and paying the supervision fee assessment. The department may require offenders to pay for special services rendered on or after July 25, 1993, including electronic monitoring, day reporting, and telephone reporting, dependent upon the offender's ability to pay. The department may pay for these services for offenders who are not able to pay.

(13) All offenders sentenced to terms involving community supervision, community service, or community placement under the supervision of the department of corrections shall not own, use, or possess firearms or ammunition. Offenders who own, use, or are found to be in actual or constructive possession of firearms or ammunition shall be subject to the appropriate violation process and sanctions. "Constructive possession" as used in this subsection means the power and intent to control the firearm or ammunition. "Firearm" as used in this subsection means a weapon or device from which a projectile may be fired by an explosive such as gunpowder.

(14) The sentencing court shall give the offender credit for all confinement time served before the sentencing if that confinement was solely in regard to the offense for which the offender is being sentenced.

(15) A departure from the standards in RCW 9.94A.400 (1) and (2) governing whether sentences are to be served consecutively or concurrently is an exceptional sentence subject to the limitations in subsections (2) and (3) of this section, and may be appealed by the defendant or the state as set forth in RCW 9.94A.210 (2) through (6).

(16) The court shall order restitution whenever the offender is convicted of a felony that results in injury to any person or damage to or loss of property, whether the offender is sentenced to confinement or placed under community supervision, unless extraordinary circumstances exist that make restitution inappropriate in the court's judgment. The court shall set forth the extraordinary circumstances in the record if it does not order restitution.

(17) As a part of any sentence, the court may impose and enforce an order that relates directly to the circumstances of the crime for which the offender has been convicted, prohibiting the offender from having any contact with other specified individuals or a specific class of individuals for a period not to exceed the maximum allowable sentence for the crime, regardless of the expiration of the offender's term of community supervision or community placement.

(18) In any sentence of partial confinement, the court may require the defendant to serve the partial confinement in work release, in a program of home detention, on work crew, or in a combined program of work crew and home detention.

(19) All court-ordered legal financial obligations collected by the department and remitted to the county clerk shall be credited and paid where restitution is ordered. Restitution shall be paid prior to any other payments of monetary obligations."

On page 3, after line 36, insert the following:

"Sec. 3. RCW 70.94.457 and 1991 c 199 s 501 are each amended to read as follows:

The department of ecology shall establish by rule under chapter 34.05 RCW:

(1) State-wide emission performance standards for new solid fuel burning devices. Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter which allows an authority to adopt more stringent emission standards, no authority shall adopt any emission standard for new solid fuel burning devices other than the state-wide standard adopted by the department under this section.

(a) After January 1, 1995, no solid fuel burning device shall be offered for sale in this state to residents of this state that does not meet the following particulate air contaminant emission standards under the test methodology of the United States environmental protection agency in effect on January 1, 1991, or an equivalent standard under any test methodology adopted by the United States environmental protection agency subsequent to such date: (i) Two and one-half grams per hour for catalytic wood stoves; and (ii) four and one-half grams per hour for all other solid fuel burning devices. For purposes of this subsection, "equivalent" shall mean the emissions limits specified in this subsection multiplied by a statistically reliable conversion factor determined by the department that compares the difference between the emission test methodology established by the United States environmental protection agency prior to May 15, 1991, with the test methodology adopted subsequently by the agency. Subsection (a) of this subsection does not apply to fireplaces.

(b) After January 1, 1997, no fireplace, except masonry fireplaces, shall be offered for sale unless such fireplace meets the 1990 United States environmental protection agency standards for wood stoves or equivalent standard that may be established by the state building code council by rule. Prior to January 1, 1997, the state building code council shall establish by rule a methodology for the testing of factory-built fireplaces. The methodology shall be designed to achieve a particulate air emission standard equivalent to the 1990 United States environmental protection agency standard for wood stoves. In developing the rules, the council shall include on the technical advisory committee at least one representative from the masonry fireplace builders and at least one representative of the factory-built fireplace manufacturers.

(c) Prior to January 1, 1997, the state building code council shall establish by rule design standards for the construction of new masonry fireplaces in Washington state. In developing the rules, the council shall include on the technical advisory committee at least one representative from the masonry fireplace builders and at least one representative of the factory-built fireplace manufacturers. It shall be the goal of the council to develop design standards that generally achieve reductions in particulate air contaminant emissions commensurate with the reductions being achieved by factory-built fireplaces at the time the standard is established.

(d) Actions of the department and local air pollution control authorities under this section shall preempt actions of other state agencies and local governments for the purposes of controlling air pollution from solid fuel burning devices, except where authorized by this act.

(e) Subsection (1)(a) of this section shall not apply to fireplaces.

(f) Notwithstanding (a) of this subsection, the department is authorized to adopt, by rule, emission standards adopted by the United States environmental protection agency for new wood stoves sold at retail. For solid fuel burning devices for which the United States environmental protection agency has not established emission standards, the department may exempt or establish, by rule, state-wide standards including emission levels and test procedures for such devices and such emission levels and test procedures shall be equivalent to emission levels per pound per hour burned for other new wood stoves and fireplaces regulated under this subsection.

(2) A program to:

(a) Determine whether a new solid fuel burning device complies with the state-wide emission performance standards established in subsection (1) of this section; and

(b) Approve the sale of devices that comply with the state-wide emission performance standards.

Sec. 4. RCW 70.94.460 and 1987 c 405 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

After July 1, 1988, no person shall sell, offer to sell, or knowingly advertise to sell a new wood stove in this state to a resident of this state unless the wood stove has been approved by the department under the program established under RCW 70.94.457."

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5633, by Senators Snyder, Swecker, Hargrove, Haugen, Morton, Hochstatter, Owen and Rasmussen

Attempting to limit the growth and spread of the noxious weed spartina.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Snyder, Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5633 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5633 and the second substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

Senator Snyder moved that the following amendment by Senators Snyder, Fraser and Morton be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that:

(1) Spartina alterniflora, Spartina anglica, and Spartina patens which are collectively called spartina are not native to the state of Washington nor to the west coast of North America. This noxious weed was inadvertently introduced into the wetlands of the state and is now aggressively invading new areas to the detriment of native ecosystems and aquatic habitat.

(2) The spread of spartina threatens to permanently convert and displace native freshwater and saltwater wetlands and intertidal zones, including critical habitat for migratory birds, many fish species, bivalves, invertebrates, marine mammals, and other animals. The continued spread of spartina will permanently reduce the diversity and the quantity of these species and will have a significant negative environmental impact.

(3) Spartina poses a significant hydrological threat. Clumps and meadows of spartina are dense environments that bind sediments and lift the intertidal gradient up out of the intertidal zone through time. This process reduces flows during flood conditions, raises flood levels, and significantly alters the hydrological regime of estuarine areas.

(4) Spartina spreads by rhizomes and seed production. Through lateral growth by rhizomes, spartina establishes a dense monotypic meadow. Through seed production and the spread of seed through the air and by water, spartina is currently being spread to other states and to Canadian provinces.

(5) Current laws and rules designed to protect the environment and preserve the wetland habitats, fish, and wildlife of the state are not designed to respond to an ecosystem-wide threat of this kind. State and federal agencies, local governments, weed boards, concerned individuals, and property owners attempting to deal with this emergency have been frustrated by interagency disagreements, demands for an undue amount of procedural and scientific process and information, dilatory appeals, and the improper application of laws and regulations by agencies that have in fact undermined the legislative purposes of those same laws while ignoring the long-term implications of delay and inaction. There is a compelling need for strong leadership, coordination, and reporting by a single state agency to respond appropriately to this urgent environmental challenge.

(6) Any further delay of control efforts will significantly increase the cost of spartina control and reduce the likelihood of long-term success. Control efforts must be coordinated across political and ownership boundaries in order to be effective.

(7) In destroying the biodiversity of tidelands and elevating tidelands, spartina places an undue financial burden upon private citizens, local governments, and taxing districts and has had a negative impact upon local economies dependent on a healthy estuarine ecosystem.

(8) The presence of noxious weeds on public lands constitutes a public nuisance and negatively impacts public and private lands. The legislature finds that control and eradication of noxious weeds on private lands is in the public interest.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. This state is facing an environmental disaster that will affect other states as well as other nations. The legislature finds that six years is sufficient time for state agencies to debate solutions to the spartina problem that is occurring in state waters. The purpose of this act is to focus agency action on control and future eradication of spartina. It is the mandate of the legislature that one state agency be responsible for a unified effort to eliminate spartina, with the advice of the state noxious weed control board, and that state agency shall be directly accountable to the legislature on the progress of the spartina eradication program.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 90.48 RCW to read as follows:

The director shall approve water quality permits to federal, state, and local agencies, and licensed applicators for the purpose of utilizing surfactants and federally approved herbicides for aquatic noxious weed control subject only to compliance with federal labeling requirements, the federal insecticide, fungicide, and rodenticide act, the noxious weed control board act, the Washington pesticide control act, the Washington pesticide application act, the state environmental policy act, and applicable environmental impact statements. The director shall not utilize this permit authority to otherwise condition or burden weed control efforts. The director's authority to issue water quality permits for activities other than the application of surfactants and approved herbicides, to control aquatic noxious weeds, is unaffected by this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. (1) All activities solely for the removal and control of Spartina alterniflora, Spartina anglica, and Spartina patens shall not require hydraulic project approval.

(2) All activities solely for removal and control of purple loosestrife that are performed with hand-held tools or hand-held equipment shall not require a hydraulic project approval.

(3) By June 30, 1997, the department of fish and wildlife shall develop a pamphlet for other aquatic noxious weed removal and control projects that will use, divert, obstruct, or change the natural flow or bed of any of the salt or fresh waters of the state. Following adoption of the pamphlet by rule, the pamphlet shall serve as a hydraulic project approval for aquatic noxious weed control for most control activities.

(4) Nothing in this section shall prohibit the department of fish and wildlife from requiring a hydraulic project approval for those parts of hydraulic projects that are not specifically for aquatic noxious weed control or removal.

Sec. 5. RCW 90.58.030 and 1987 c 474 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Ann Anderson: "Senator Snyder, I am just trying to quickly look over the striking amendment, because it is the first time that I have seen it. I know that we put a lot of work in on committee on this particular bill. As far as I can tell, the striking amendment really pretty closely tracks the bill that was passed out of committee. Can you just point out any pertinent differences--why we have the striking amendment versus the substitute bill that we passed out of committee?"

Senator Snyder: "I think, primarily, it is the permitting process on the hydraulic permit. Now, for spartina there is none. As long as you follow the EIS, which there is an EIS for the removal of spartina and also this latest version for milfoil and purple loosestrife. There is going to be a pamphlet developed by the Department of Fisheries and Wildlife to allow people, instead of going in and getting a hydraulics permit, the pamphlet will tell them at which times of the year, they can remove or use mechanical means of going in and eradicating milfoil and purple loosestrife. I think--Senator Morton looked this over and I think he was in full agreement with what this does."

Senator Ann Anderson: "Senator Snyder, I think I see the difference in Section 4 on the hydraulics permit. Is that the section that you have changed and as I read it, in Section 4, you have separated spartina from the purple loosestrife problems. In the substitute bill, we handled all of those the same, and this has two different methods of dealing with those?"

Senator Snyder: "Yes, that is correct."

Senator Ann Anderson: "Okay."

Vice President Pro Tempore Franklin assumed the Chair.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Heavey: "Senator Snyder, there are a lot of weeds out there. Obviously, you have mentioned purple loosestrife and milfoil also, but this essentially addresses spartina. There are a lot of good projects out there that shouldn't, in my opinion, require a hydraulics project approval. I was wondering why, just take in spartina, why not expand this bill to take in more activities?"

Senator Snyder: "I think we made a pretty good step forward and maybe we can take care of some of the other problems in future legislation, but this does, I think, a good job for spartina, purple loosestrife and milfoil."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hochstatter: "Senator Snyder, it seems like objections to your bill are growing up like weeds. Would you yield to a question? In Section 4, my concern is loosestrife and the ability to spray. Can loosestrife be treated with chemicals in the second substitute?"

Senator Snyder: "Yes, the only restriction will be for--you are able to spray, you are able to use hand-held mechanical devices. The only thing you will have to get a hydraulics permit for is to use the larger devices like the mowing machines, and so forth for purple loosestrife. After two years, after the Fisheries and Wildlife develops a pamphlet, then all you have to do is to follow the requirements that are in the pamphlet and you won't have to go in and get a hydraulics permit from time to time."

Senator Hochstatter: "Thank you."

The Vice President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the striking amendment by Senators Snyder, Fraser and Morton to Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5633.

The motion by Senator Snyder carried and the striking amendment was adopted.

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 401. The legislature finds that the economic opportunities for cosmetologists, barbers, estheticians, and manicurists have deteriorated in this state as a result of the lack of skilled practitioners, inadequate licensing controls, and inadequate enforcement of health standards. To increase the opportunities for individuals to earn viable incomes in these professions and to protect the general health of the public, the state cosmetology, barbering, esthetics, and manicuring advisory board should be reconstituted and given a new charge to develop appropriate responses to this situation, including legislative proposals.

Sec. 402. RCW 18.16.050 and 1991 c 324 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:
