Authorizing delegation of nursing care tasks in public schools.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTIONS

Senator Franklin moved that the following amendment be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature recognizes that many students in the K-12 setting need appropriate nursing service support to actively and fully participate in their educational program. It is not the intent of the legislature to replace the role of school nurses, but to increase their ability to delegate specific tasks safely to school employees for students needing routine health care services. The opportunity to delegate to registered and certified nursing assistants could enhance the viability and quality of care and learning in the common schools of this state. It is not the intent of the legislature to require school employees to be certified nursing assistants. Only those employees who carry out delegated nursing tasks as delineated pursuant to sections 1, 2, and 4 through 7 of this act are required to be registered or certified nurse assistants.

(1) Registered nurses shall have the option to delegate to certified and registered nursing assistants the following tasks: Oral and topical medications and ointments; nose, ear, and eye drops and ointments; catheterization using only clean technique as provided by RCW 18.79.290; suppositories; and gastrostomy feedings in established, wound-healed gastrostomies.

(2) The following procedures shall not be delegated: Sterile procedures; crossing the barrier of the skin; and management, manipulation, or care for intravenous devices, intravenous lines, infusion of intravenous substances, enemas, colostomy care, or dressing changes.

(3) Delegation shall only occur for students with a "stable and predictable" condition as defined by the Washington state nursing care quality assurance commission. In addition to this section and sections 4 through 7 of this act, nurse delegation in common schools is subject to applicable provisions of law.

(4) In order to protect the public health and safety, at the beginning of the school year public school districts and private schools that provide for delegation of nursing tasks under this section shall designate as delegates one certificated employee or one classified employee and one alternate at each school. Any delegatee shall:

(a) Show proof of training in infection control, developed and provided by the school district;

(b) Register with the department of health and be subject to the uniform disciplinary act, chapter 18.130 RCW, for purposes of tasks performed as a delegatee; and

(c) Meet all training requirements provided by the delegating nurse in accordance with protocols set by the nursing care quality assurance commission.

(5) Sections 1, 2, and 4 through 7 of this act do not apply to emergency first aid situations.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout sections 1 and 4 through 7 of this act.

(1) "Registered nurse" means school district nursing personnel who are licensed pursuant to chapter 18.79 RCW and may in addition hold state board of education certification as a school nurse.

(2) "Delegating nurse" means a registered nurse as defined in this section.

(3) "Delegatee" means a certified or registered nursing assistant.

Sec. 3. RCW 18.79.260 and 1994 sp.s. c 9 s 426 are each amended to read as follows:

A registered nurse under his or her license may perform for compensation nursing care, as that term is usually understood, of the ill, injured, or infirm, and in the course thereof, she or he may do the following things that shall not be done by a person not so licensed, except as provided in RCW 18.79.270:

(1) At or under the general direction of a licensed physician and surgeon, dentist, osteopathic physician and surgeon, podiatric physician and surgeon, physician assistant, osteopathic physician assistant, or advanced registered nurse practitioner acting within the scope of his or her license, administer medications, treatments, tests, and inoculations, whether or not the severing or penetrating of tissues is involved and whether or not a degree of independent judgment and skill is required except as provided in sections 4 through 7 of this act;

(2) Delegate to other persons engaged in nursing, the functions outlined in subsection (1) of this section;

(3) Delegate to certified and registered nursing assistants credentialed under chapter 18.130 RCW the functions outlined in sections 1 and 4 through 7 of this act;

(4) Instruct nurses in technical subjects pertaining to nursing;

~~((4))~~ (5) Hold herself or himself out to the public or designate herself or himself as a registered nurse.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. (1) The Washington state nursing care quality assurance commission, as provided by chapter 18.79 RCW, shall:

(a) Define "stable and predictable" conditions as used in section 1 of this act;

(b) Develop a clear and readable model informed consent form that substantially complies with chapter 7.70 RCW for nurses to use to provide consumers, delegatees, and the delegating nurse information regarding the delegation process, the rights of refusal by the delegatee and the consumer and/or the parents or guardian, and agreement by all parties of the delegation of the nursing task; and

(c) Develop delegation protocols that shall be available to schools by June 1, 1996, that include the following requirements:

(i) Thorough student assessment by the registered nurse before consideration of delegation;

(ii) The registered nurse obtaining written consent signed by the student and/or parent or guardian and the delegatee agreeing to the provision of delegated nursing tasks;

(iii) The registered nurse analyzing the complexity of the nursing task that is considered for delegation;

(iv) The registered nurse evaluating the ability of the delegatee to perform the delegated nursing task in the absence of direct nurse supervision;

(v) The registered nurse training the delegatee the specific delegated nursing task for each student. The training requirements may vary depending upon the degree of complexity of the delegated task;

(vi) The registered nurse informing the delegatee that the delegated nursing task is specific to a student and is not transferable;

(vii) The registered nurse initially observing the delegatee performing the delegated task;

(viii) The registered nurse providing written instructions to the delegatee on delegated nursing tasks;

(ix) The registered nurse informing the delegatee to be alert to any changes observed in student status that could require reassessment by the registered nurse;

(x) The registered nurse providing documentation of compliance or barriers to compliance in carrying out nurse delegation tasks and a written plan for nursing supervision and reevaluation of nursing tasks; and

(xi) The registered nurse having proof that the delegatee has received infection control training from the school district.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. No one may coerce a registered nurse into compromising student safety by requiring the registered nurse to delegate if the registered nurse determines it is inappropriate to do so. The registered nurse shall have total discretion and final decision making in determining the appropriateness of delegation.

(1) The registered nurse, delegatee, and student and/or student's parent or guardian must sign an informed consent form regarding the delegation process, rights of refusal, and agreement to delegation of nursing tasks.

(2) Registered nurses shall not be subject to any employer reprisal or commission disciplinary action for refusing to delegate tasks or refusing to provide the required training for delegation if the registered nurse determines delegation may compromise student safety.

(3) The delegatee shall have the right to refuse the assignment of a delegated task and the student and/or the parent or guardian shall have the right to refuse the delegation of nursing tasks.

(4) Delegatees shall not be subject to any employer reprisal or commission disciplinary action for refusing to accept delegation of a nursing task.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. (1) The delegating nurse and delegatee shall be held accountable for their own actions in the delegation process.

(2) Registered nurses acting within the protocols of their delegation authority are immune from suit in any action, civil or criminal, performed in the course of their delegation duties.

(3) Delegatees are immune from suit in any civil or criminal action, when following written delegation instructions from registered nurses, and performed in the course of their duties.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. Public and private schools are subject to nurse delegation protocols under RCW 18.79.260 and 18.79.290 and sections 5 through 7 of this act, excluding those tasks under RCW 28A.210.260 and 28A.210.270.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. A new section is added to chapter 18.79 RCW to read as follows:

Nurse delegation in public and private schools is governed by sections 1, 2, and 4 through 7 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. By June 1, 1996, the nursing care quality assurance commission shall adopt rules incorporating the requirements of sections 1, 2, and 4 through 7 of this act for the delegation of clean catheterization by registered nurses to delegatees in schools.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. The department of health in consultation with the nursing care quality assurance commission, office of the superintendent of public instruction, and other interested parties shall submit a report on nurse delegation in public schools to the legislative health committees by December 1997. The office of the superintendent of public instruction shall also implement communication strategies to assure that students, parents and/or guardians, the delegating nurse, and the delegatee have a complete understanding of the delegation process and the implications of current or revised statutes and rules. The commission shall provide data on incidence of harm to the public due to the delegation of nursing tasks, reports of registered nurses being coerced to delegate, coercion of delegates to accept delegated nursing tasks, the number of students who received delegation, and the accumulated time involved in the delegation of nursing tasks. The report should include relevant information on serving health care needs to students before and after nurse delegation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. Sections 1, 2, and 4 through 7 of this act are each added to chapter 28A.210 RCW.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Loveland: "I call for a point of order. The amendment by Senators Cantu and Oke should be scoped. The underlying bill, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5000 relates only to the state levy and does not have anything to do with local government regular levies being artificially scaled back. The Cantu/Oke amendment places a lid on all regular levies. This is beyond my underlying bill."

Further debate ensued.

There being no objection, the President deferred further consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5000.

There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5875 and the pending amendment by Senators Morton, Snyder, Hargrove and Oke on page 3, line 20, deferred March 10, 1995.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Pritchard: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Fraser, the President finds that Substitute Senate Bill No. 5875 is a measure which provides a process for interagency agreements among local, state and federal governments for the operation of wetland mitigation banks and establishes issues which must be considered in the agreements.

"The amendment proposed by Senators Morton, Snyder, Hargrove and Oke on page 3, line 20, would prohibit the agencies involved in interagency agreements on wetland mitigation banks from using a delineation process in the agreement which is more stringent than that adopted by the Army Corps of Engineers.

"The President, therefore, finds that the proposed amendment does not change the scope and object of the bill and the point of order is not well taken."

The amendment by Senators Morton, Snyder, Hargrove and Oke on page 3, line 20, to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5875 was ruled in order.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senators Morton, Snyder, Hargrove and Oke on page 3, line 20, to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5875.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. (1) The legislature recognizes that currently the state patrol inspects rebuilt vehicles for stolen parts. However, they are not authorized to perform complete safety inspections.

(2) The state patrol shall assemble a study group and complete a study, to be submitted to the legislative transportation committee no later than January 1, 1996, on the feasibility of implementing safety inspections for vehicles that are rebuilt after surrender of the certificate of ownership to the department of licensing under RCW 46.12.070 due to the vehicle's destruction or declaration as a total loss. The study shall include, but is not limited to:

- (a) An examination of safety inspection systems in other states;
 - (b) A determination of how a safety inspection program might be implemented in Washington state;
 - (c) An analysis of the cost of conducting a safety inspection and who should be responsible for bearing those costs; and
 - (d) An evaluation of whether state agencies or private business might most effectively and efficiently conduct safety inspections.
- (3) The study group prescribed in subsection (2) of this section must include representatives of the state patrol, the department of licensing, the Washington traffic safety commission, the insurance industry, the autobody industry, and other appropriate groups.

(4) Section 24 of this act and RCW 46.12.050 require notification on the certificates of ownership and registration as to whether a vehicle has previously been destroyed or declared a total loss. The department of licensing, in consultation with the study group members prescribed in subsection (3) of this section, shall study the feasibility of expanding the notification requirement to apply to all vehicles, regardless of age. The study group shall also develop a recommendation regarding the feasibility of differentiating on the certificates of ownership and registration whether the vehicle has sustained cosmetic damage or structural damage. The department shall report its findings to the legislative transportation committee no later than January 1, 1996.

Sec. 23. RCW 46.12.030 and 1990 c 238 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

The application for certificate of ownership shall be upon a blank form to be furnished by the department and shall contain:

(1) A full description of the vehicle, which shall contain the proper vehicle identification number, the number of miles indicated on the odometer at the time of delivery of the vehicle, and any distinguishing marks of identification;

(2) The name and address of the person who is to be the registered owner of the vehicle and, if the vehicle is subject to a security interest, the name and address of the secured party;

(3) Such other information as the department may require. The department may in any instance, in addition to the information required on the application, require additional information and a physical examination of the vehicle or of any class of vehicles, or either. A physical examination of the vehicle is mandatory if it previously was registered in any other state or country or if it has been rebuilt after surrender of the certificate of ownership to the department under RCW 46.12.070 due to the vehicle's destruction or declaration as a total loss. The inspection must verify that the vehicle identification number is genuine and agrees with the number shown on the foreign title and registration certificate. If the vehicle is from a jurisdiction that does not issue titles, the inspection must verify that the vehicle identification number is genuine and agrees with the number shown on the registration certificate. The inspection must also confirm that the license plates on the vehicle are those assigned to the vehicle by the jurisdiction in which the vehicle was previously licensed. The inspection must be made by a member of the Washington state patrol or other person authorized by the department to make such inspections.

The application shall be subscribed by the registered owner and be sworn to by that applicant in the manner described by RCW 9A.72.085. The department shall retain the application in either the original, computer, or photostatic form.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 24. A new section is added to chapter 46.12 RCW to read as follows:

Each certificate shall conspicuously display across its front, a word indicating that the vehicle was rebuilt.

(2) Beginning January 1, 1997, upon inspection of a vehicle that has been rebuilt under RCW 46.12.030, the state patrol shall securely affix or inscribe a marking at the driver's door latch indicating that the vehicle has previously been destroyed or declared a total loss.

(3) It is unlawful for a person to remove the marking prescribed in subsection (2) of this section. Upon conviction, the person is guilty of a class C felony.

(4) The department may adopt rules as necessary to implement this section.

Sec. 26. RCW 46.70.180 and 1994 c 284 s 13 are each amended to read as follows:

Each of the following acts or practices is unlawful:

(1) To cause or permit to be advertised, printed, displayed, published, distributed, broadcasted, televised, or disseminated in any manner whatsoever, any statement or representation with regard to the sale or financing of a vehicle which is false, deceptive, or misleading, including but not limited to the following:

(a) That no down payment is required in connection with the sale of a vehicle when a down payment is in fact required, or that a vehicle may be purchased for a smaller down payment than is actually required;

(b) That a certain percentage of the sale price of a vehicle may be financed when such financing is not offered in a single document evidencing the entire security transaction;

(c) That a certain percentage is the amount of the service charge to be charged for financing, without stating whether this percentage charge is a monthly amount or an amount to be charged per year;

(d) That a new vehicle will be sold for a certain amount above or below cost without computing cost as the exact amount of the factory invoice on the specific vehicle to be sold;

(e) That a vehicle will be sold upon a monthly payment of a certain amount, without including in the statement the number of payments of that same amount which are required to liquidate the unpaid purchase price.

(2) To incorporate within the terms of any purchase and sale agreement any statement or representation with regard to the sale or financing of a vehicle which is false, deceptive, or misleading, including but not limited to terms that include as an added cost to the selling price of a vehicle an amount for licensing or transfer of title of that vehicle which is not actually due to the state, unless such amount has in fact been paid by the dealer prior to such sale.

(3) To set up, promote, or aid in the promotion of a plan by which vehicles are to be sold to a person for a consideration and upon further consideration that the purchaser agrees to secure one or more persons to participate in the plan by respectively making a similar purchase and in turn agreeing to secure one or more persons likewise to join in said plan, each purchaser being given the right to secure money, credits, goods, or something of value, depending upon the number of persons joining the plan.

(4) To commit, allow, or ratify any act of "bushing" which is defined as follows: Taking from a prospective buyer of a vehicle a written order or offer to purchase, or a contract document signed by the buyer, which:

(a) Is subject to the dealer's, or his or her authorized representative's future acceptance, and the dealer fails or refuses within forty-eight hours, exclusive of Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday, and prior to any further negotiations with said buyer, to deliver to the buyer either the dealer's signed acceptance or all copies of the order, offer, or contract document together with any initial payment or security made or given by the buyer, including but not limited to money, check, promissory note, vehicle keys, a trade-in, or certificate of title to a trade-in; or

(b) Permits the dealer to renegotiate a dollar amount specified as trade-in allowance on a vehicle delivered or to be delivered by the buyer as part of the purchase price, for any reason except:

(i) Failure to disclose that the vehicle's certificate of ownership has been branded for any reason, including, but not limited to, status as a rebuilt vehicle as provided in RCW 46.12.050 and section 24 of this act; and

(ii) Substantial physical damage or latent mechanical defect occurring before the dealer took possession of the vehicle and which could not have been reasonably discoverable at the time of the taking of the order, offer, or contract; or

(c) Fails to comply with the obligation of any written warranty or guarantee given by the dealer requiring the furnishing of services or repairs within a reasonable time.

(5) To commit any offense relating to odometers, as such offenses are defined in RCW 46.37.540, 46.37.550, 46.37.560, and 46.37.570. A violation of this subsection is a class C felony punishable under chapter 9A.20 RCW.

(6) For any vehicle dealer or vehicle salesman to refuse to furnish, upon request of a prospective purchaser, the name and address of the previous registered owner of any used vehicle offered for sale.

(7) To commit any other offense under RCW 46.37.423, 46.37.424, or 46.37.425.

(8) To commit any offense relating to a dealer's temporary license permit, including but not limited to failure to properly complete each such permit, or the issuance of more than one such permit on any one vehicle.

(9) For a dealer, salesman, or mobile home manufacturer, having taken an instrument or cash "on deposit" from a purchaser prior to the delivery of the bargained-for vehicle, to commingle the "on deposit" funds with assets of the dealer, salesman, or mobile home manufacturer instead of holding the "on deposit" funds as trustee in a separate trust account until the purchaser has taken delivery of the bargained-for vehicle. Delivery of a manufactured home shall be deemed to occur in accordance with RCW 46.70.135(5). Failure, immediately upon receipt, to endorse "on deposit" instruments to such a trust account, or to set aside "on deposit" cash for deposit in such trust account, and failure to deposit such instruments or cash in such trust account by the close of banking hours on the day following receipt thereof, shall be evidence of intent to commit this unlawful practice: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That a motor vehicle dealer may keep a separate trust account which equals his or her customary total customer deposits for vehicles for future delivery. For purposes of this section, "on deposit" funds received from a purchaser of a manufactured home means those funds that a seller requires a purchaser to advance before ordering the manufactured home, but does not include any loan proceeds or moneys that might have been paid on an installment contract.

(10) For a dealer or manufacturer to fail to comply with the obligations of any written warranty or guarantee given by the dealer or manufacturer requiring the furnishing of goods and services or repairs within a reasonable period of time, or to fail to furnish to a purchaser, all parts which attach to the manufactured unit including but not limited to the undercarriage, and all items specified in the terms of a sales agreement signed by the seller and buyer.

(11) For a vehicle dealer to pay to or receive from any person, firm, partnership, association, or corporation acting, either directly or through a subsidiary, as a buyer's agent for consumers, any compensation, fee, gratuity, or reward in connection with the purchase or sale of a new motor vehicle.

(12) For a buyer's agent acting directly or through a subsidiary to pay to or to receive from any motor vehicle dealer any compensation, fee, gratuity, or reward in connection with the purchase or sale of a new motor vehicle.

(13) For a buyer's agent to arrange for or to negotiate the purchase, or both, of a new motor vehicle through an out-of-state dealer without disclosing in writing to the customer that the new vehicle would not be subject to chapter 19.118 RCW.

(14) Being a manufacturer, other than a motorcycle manufacturer governed by chapter 46.94 RCW, to:

(a) Coerce or attempt to coerce any vehicle dealer to order or accept delivery of any vehicle or vehicles, parts or accessories, or any other commodities which have not been voluntarily ordered by the vehicle dealer: PROVIDED, That recommendation, endorsement, exposition, persuasion, urging, or argument are not deemed to constitute coercion;

(b) Cancel or fail to renew the franchise or selling agreement of any vehicle dealer doing business in this state without fairly compensating the dealer at a fair going business value for his or her capital investment which shall include but not be limited to tools, equipment, and parts inventory possessed by the dealer on the day he or she is notified of such cancellation or termination and which are still within the dealer's possession on the day the cancellation or termination is effective, if: (i) The capital investment has been entered into with reasonable and prudent business judgment for the purpose of fulfilling the franchise; and (ii) the cancellation or nonrenewal was not done in good faith. Good faith is defined as the duty of each party to any franchise to act in a fair and equitable manner towards each other, so as to guarantee one party freedom from coercion, intimidation, or threats of coercion or intimidation from the other party: PROVIDED, That recommendation, endorsement, exposition, persuasion, urging, or argument are not deemed to constitute a lack of good faith.

(c) Encourage, aid, abet, or teach a vehicle dealer to sell vehicles through any false, deceptive, or misleading sales or financing practices including but not limited to those practices declared unlawful in this section;

(d) Coerce or attempt to coerce a vehicle dealer to engage in any practice forbidden in this section by either threats of actual cancellation or failure to renew the dealer's franchise agreement;

(e) Refuse to deliver any vehicle publicly advertised for immediate delivery to any duly licensed vehicle dealer having a franchise or contractual agreement for the retail sale of new and unused vehicles sold or distributed by such manufacturer within sixty days after such dealer's order has been received in writing unless caused by inability to deliver because of shortage or curtailment of material, labor, transportation, or utility services, or by any labor or production difficulty, or by any cause beyond the reasonable control of the manufacturer;

(f) To provide under the terms of any warranty that a purchaser of any new or unused vehicle that has been sold, distributed for sale, or transferred into this state for resale by the vehicle manufacturer may only make any warranty claim on any item included as an integral part of the vehicle against the manufacturer of that item.

Nothing in this section may be construed to impair the obligations of a contract or to prevent a manufacturer, distributor, representative, or any other person, whether or not licensed under this chapter, from requiring performance of a written contract entered into with any licensee hereunder, nor does the requirement of such performance constitute a violation of any of the provisions of this section if any such contract or the terms thereof requiring performance, have been freely entered into and executed between the contracting parties. This paragraph and subsection (14)(b) of this section do not apply to new motor vehicle manufacturers governed by chapter 46.96 RCW.

(15) Unlawful transfer of an ownership interest in a motor vehicle as defined in RCW 19.116.050."

(1) Annually during the months of September and October, the department of revenue shall examine and compare the returns of the assessment of the property in the several counties of the state, and the assessment of the property of railroad and other companies assessed by the department, and proceed to equalize the same, so that each county in the state shall pay its due and just proportion of the taxes for state purposes for such assessment year, according to the ratio the valuation of the property in each county bears to the total valuation of all property in the state.

First. The department shall classify all property, real and personal, and shall raise and lower the valuation of any class of property in any county to a value that shall be equal, so far as possible, to the true and fair value of such class as of January 1st of the current year for the purpose of ascertaining the just amount of tax due from each county for state purposes. In equalizing personal property as of January 1st of the current year, the department shall use the assessment level of the preceding year. Such classification may be on the basis of types of property, geographical areas, or both. For purposes of this section, for each county that has not provided the department with an assessment return by December 1st, the department shall proceed, using facts and information and in a manner it deems appropriate, to estimate the value of each class of property in the county.

Second. The department shall keep a full record of its proceedings and the same shall be published annually by the department.

(2) The department shall levy the state taxes authorized by law(~~(= PROVIDED, That)~~). The amount levied in any one year for general state purposes shall not exceed the lawful dollar rate on the dollar of the assessed value of the property of the entire state, which assessed value shall be one hundred percent of the true and fair value of such property in money. The amount levied in any year shall be reduced by the amount that general fund--state revenues are forecast to be in excess of the state expenditure limit for the following fiscal year under chapter 43.135 RCW.

The department shall apportion the amount of tax for state purposes levied by the department, among the several counties, in proportion to the valuation of the taxable property of the county for the year as equalized by the department: PROVIDED, That for purposes of this apportionment, the department shall recompute the previous year's levy and the apportionment thereof to correct for changes and errors in taxable values reported to the department after October 1 of the preceding year and shall adjust the apportioned amount of the current year's state levy for each county by the difference between the apportioned amounts established by the original and revised levy computations for the previous year. For purposes of this section, changes in taxable values mean a final adjustment made by a county board of equalization, the state board of tax appeals, or a court of competent jurisdiction and shall include additions of omitted property, other additions or deletions from the assessment or tax rolls, any assessment return provided by a county to the department subsequent to December 1st, or a change in the indicated ratio of a county. Errors in taxable values mean errors corrected by a final reviewing body.

In addition to computing a levy under this subsection that is reduced by the amount that general fund--state revenues are forecast to be in excess of the state expenditure limit, the department shall compute a hypothetical levy without regard to the reduction. This hypothetical levy shall also be apportioned among the several counties in proportion to the valuation of the taxable property of the county for the year, as equalized by the department, in the same manner as the actual levy and shall be used by the county assessors for the purpose of recomputing and establishing a consolidated levy under RCW 84.52.010.

(3) The department shall have authority to adopt rules and regulations to enforce obedience to its orders in all matters in relation to the returns of county assessments, the equalization of values, and the apportionment of the state levy by the department.

(4) After the completion of the duties (~~(hereinafter)~~) prescribed in this section, the director of the department shall certify the record of the proceedings of the department under this section, the tax levies made for state purposes and the apportionment thereof among the counties, and the certification shall be available for public inspection.

Except as is permitted under RCW 84.55.050, all taxes shall be levied or voted in specific amounts.

The rate percent of all taxes for state and county purposes, and purposes of taxing districts coextensive with the county, shall be determined, calculated and fixed by the county assessors of the respective counties, within the limitations provided by law, upon the assessed valuation of the property of the county, as shown by the completed tax rolls of the county, and the rate percent of all taxes levied for purposes of taxing districts within any county shall be determined, calculated and fixed by the county assessors of the respective counties, within the limitations provided by law, upon the assessed valuation of the property of the taxing districts respectively.

When a county assessor finds that the aggregate rate of tax levy on any property, that is subject to the limitations set forth in RCW 84.52.043 or 84.52.050, (~~as now or hereafter amended,~~) exceeds the limitations provided in either of these sections, the assessor shall recompute and establish a consolidated levy in the following manner:

(1) The full certified rates of tax levy for state, county, county road district, and city or town purposes shall be extended on the tax rolls in amounts not exceeding the limitations established by law; however any state levy shall take precedence over all other levies and shall not be reduced for any purpose other than that required by RCW 84.55.010; however, if as a result of the levies imposed under RCW 84.52.069, 84.34.230, and 84.52.105, the combined rates of regular property tax levies exceed one percent of the true and fair value of any property, then the levies imposed under RCW 84.34.230 and 84.52.105, and any portion of the levy imposed under RCW 84.52.069 that is in excess of thirty cents per thousand dollars of assessed value, shall be reduced on a pro rata basis or eliminated until the combined rates of regular property tax levies no longer exceed one percent of the true and fair value of any property; and

(2) The certified rates of tax levy subject to these limitations by all junior taxing districts imposing taxes on such property shall be reduced or eliminated as follows to bring the consolidated levy of taxes on such property within the provisions of these limitations:

(a) First, the certified property tax levy rates of those junior taxing districts authorized under RCW 36.68.525, 36.69.145, and 67.38.130 shall be reduced on a pro rata basis or eliminated;

(b) Second, if the consolidated tax levy rate still exceeds these limitations, the certified property tax levy rates of flood control zone districts shall be reduced on a pro rata basis or eliminated;

(c) Third, if the consolidated tax levy rate still exceeds these limitations, the certified property tax levy rates of all other junior taxing districts, other than fire protection districts, library districts, the first fifty cent per thousand dollars of assessed valuation levies for metropolitan park districts, and the first fifty cent per thousand dollars of assessed valuation levies for public hospital districts, shall be reduced on a pro rata basis or eliminated;

(d) Fourth, if the consolidated tax levy rate still exceeds these limitations, the certified property tax levy rates authorized to fire protection districts under RCW 52.16.140 and 52.16.160 shall be reduced on a pro rata basis or eliminated; and

(e) Fifth, if the consolidated tax levy rate still exceeds these limitations, the certified property tax levy rates authorized for fire protection districts under RCW 52.16.130, library districts, metropolitan park districts under their first fifty cent per thousand dollars of assessed valuation levy, and public hospital districts under their first fifty cent per thousand dollars of assessed valuation levy, shall be reduced on a pro rata basis or eliminated.

In determining whether the aggregate rate of tax levy on any property, that is subject to the limitations set forth in RCW 84.52.050, exceeds the limitations provided in that section, the assessor shall use the hypothetical state levy, as apportioned to the county under RCW 84.48.080, that was computed under RCW 84.48.080 without regard to the reduction in the levy for the amount that general fund--state revenues are forecast to be in excess of the state expenditure limit.

Sec. 3. RCW 84.55.092 and 1988 c 274 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

The regular property tax levy for each taxing district (~~other than the state~~) may be set at the amount which would be allowed otherwise under this chapter if the regular property tax levy for the district for taxes due in prior years beginning with 1986 had been set at the full amount allowed under this chapter.

The purpose of this section is to remove the incentive for a taxing district to maintain its tax levy at the maximum level permitted under this chapter, and to protect the future levy capacity of a taxing district that reduces its tax levy below the level that it otherwise could impose under this chapter, by removing the adverse consequences to future levy capacities resulting from such levy reductions.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. This act applies to taxes levied in 1995 for collection in 1996 and thereafter."

FURTHER REMARKS BY SENATOR WEST

Senator West: "Thank you, Mr. President and members of the Senate. The underlying bill, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5000 is an excellent bill; it is an excellent concept. The problem is, though, unless we fix it, it is a hollow promise. The underlying bill will amend 601 and it will put a new catch-basin, so to speak, under the revenue. So, the way 601 works now, this cup is like 601. This is all the revenue that the state can spend. Anything that spills over the top of the rim of this cup, the state can't spend, so the sponsor of the bill suggested that anything that spills over the rim--or under 601 currently--anything that spills over the rim, goes into the emergency fund.

"What the sponsor of this bill suggests is that anything that spills over the rim goes into a new fund called, 'The property tax reduction fund.' Then, as that fund fills up, as we eliminate the property tax, which is three dollars and sixty cents, as we eliminate the state's share of the property tax, once that occurs, then the excess revenue will spill over and fill up the emergency reserve fund. If the emergency reserve fund ever fills up, the money spills off the plate and stays for school construction. The emergency reserve fund would have to be five percent of the value that is cut and that requires us to amend 601.

"What my amendment says is instead of waiting until the end of the year and seeing how much spills over the top, the Revenue Forecast Council will tell us, as they do every year, how much revenue we expect and how much will go over the top of this cup. Then, the Department of Revenue will have to take the excess out and put it in this property tax before it starts filling up. If you don't do that, what happens is, as it starts filling up, the Legislature will grab a hundred forty seven million dollars and give it away as relief to big business in the form of a sales tax exemption and then the Legislature will reach in and grab one hundred million and give it back to the people in the form of sales tax relief on over-the-counter drugs, and then the Legislature will reach in and grab some more to give back to the B & O tax fund and then they will reach in and grab some more and it never gets to the rim.

"So, the bill as it stands, the people will have been frauded--a fraud will have been committed on the people, because the revenue will never reach the rim. It will never spill over into this property tax relief. Failure to pass this amendment would cause that to happen. If you pass this amendment, again, the Department of Revenue, the first scoop out of the cup would be into the property tax reduction fund--before you did the one hundred forty seven million for big business--before you did the hundred million for the people through this drug tax relief--before you did the B & O tax relief--before you did the Frank Russell relief--before you did anybody else's tax relief, the people would get their property tax back.

"I ask you not to perpetuate a hollow property tax relief, but pass this amendment. This amendment will not cost one cent to administer. This amendment will not affect the five hundred million dollar surplus that is projected this year. This amendment will not affect schools negatively. This amendment provides a three hundred and sixty dollar per hundred thousand dollar of assessed dollar reductions when the state tax levies eliminate it. With this amendment, revenue projections indicate that in five years, the property tax levy will be totally eliminated. Without it, it may happen or it may not. With this amendment, it will happen. With this amendment, local government will not be able to backfill. As we lower the state rates, they will not be able to backfill. With this amendment, it only affects the future revenue forecast and this amendment--this amendment--not this bill without this amendment--but this amendment is the only true property tax relief that we will probably see out of this Legislature. Failure to pass this amendment is a hollow promise. It is a--maybe if there is any money left over that gets up as high as the rim, you will get your property tax back.

"When you go back to your districts and say, 'I voted to give you property tax relief,' and your voters next year get nothing back, they are going to be mad. They are going to be real mad. If you remember what happened to Danny Rostenkowski after he tricked the little old people into passing his OBRA bill back in 1989, that is what is going to happen to us. They are going to chase us down the street, because we are going to go home and say, 'We passed property tax relief,' but guess what, the budget that will come out of the Senate, the budget that will come out of the House, there will be nothing that spills over the rim--absolutely nothing. Even if it does in the budget that comes out of the Senate, I will guarantee you--the Conference Committee Report--there will be not a dime that flows into the property tax relief unless this amendment passes. Thank you very much. Please pass this amendment."

REMARKS BY SENATOR LOVELAND

Senator Loveland: "Thank you, Mr. President. I rise to oppose the amendment. That was pretty good, Senator West. I like the cup and the saucer; I should have thought of that. However, there are a few things that the striking amendment does not do. One, it does not protect the school levy where Substitute Senate Bill No. 5000 directs the money to go into an account and be directly credited to schools. Your striker does not take care of that. In addition to that, your striker talks about revenue projections. I came here three years ago and revenue projections said that we were one point two billion dollars short and I voted to increase taxes and I am here today and there is a five hundred million dollar ending-fund balance.

"I'm not willing to put this body and the body across from us in a position of taking revenue projections and reducing the state's levy when those projections are so inaccurate. It would put the Legislature in a position of guessing how much money was there and if it wasn't there, require the Legislature to cut below the expenditure limit, fund the reduction of the property tax levy and cut other programs in order to do that. I chose a responsible way to have true property tax reduction. Everyone equally shares in the amount of money and I will give you my one, two, three, and I compliment Senator West for using most of my points of what my bill does to explain his. Remember, the striker does not protect schools; it's based on a guess of how much money is going to be there instead of an actual amount. I urge you to vote against the amendment."

REMARKS BY SENATOR BAUER

Senator Bauer: "Thank you, Mr. President and members of the Senate. I promised the Governor it would be a little short one, but I can remember a couple three weeks ago Senator West criticized us, because we had a formula by which we would require the Legislature or, you know, give the Legislature a little fund to put real money into higher education as opposed to some other gimmick. He criticized the tuition and tied the tuition to the state corporation and to personal income and said, 'Why don't we just put real money into that?' Well, this is the real money he is talking about. You know, you take three or four hundred million out of that cup that he has there, below the lid, and you have taken it out of higher ed. K-12 is pretty well guaranteed its funding by the court decision in seventy-seven, but what do we have left? Well, we have left about half of the biennial budget that we can bargain with and higher education comes into that piece. So, if you are taking that money out underneath that lid of that cup he had there, it is taking it out of higher ed and other programs. You can't have it both ways; you can't spend it and still have it. I think this amendment here has to be taken in light of 'what are you going to do to have to pass a budget and properly fund higher education?' You can't do both."

FURTHER REMARKS BY SENATOR WEST

Senator West: "Thank you, Mr. President. Well, the good Senator from Vancouver makes my point. He is not going to vote for the final passage, I guess, or if he does, it is because it really doesn't give back any tax money. That is exactly what 5000, without this amendment, is. It is a false hope; it is a false promise. You are telling people that you are going to give back a tax relief, the property tax relief, and you are not. Frankly, the revenue forecast was not wrong. What was wrong was your guesstimate about how much money you would get off your taxes and that was based on fiscal notes, that wasn't the Revenue Forecasting Council. The Revenue Forecasting Council actually is very accurate, you know, and predicts very well. I would ask for your support on the amendment and Mr. President, I would like for this to be a recorded vote."

REMARKS BY PRESIDENT PRITCHARD

President Pritchard: "All right, do one-sixth of the members sustain the demand? All right, a recorded vote is ordered. The clerk will call the roll on the striking amendment offered by Senator West."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 22; Nays, 25; Absent, 0; Excused, 2.
Voting yea: Senators Anderson, A., Cantu, Deccio, Finkbeiner, Hale, Hochstatter, Johnson, Long, McCaslin, McDonald, Morton, Newhouse, Oke, Palmer, Prince, Schow, Sellar, Strannigan, Swecker, West, Winsley and Wood - 22.

Excused: Senators Moyer and Roach - 2.

MOTION BY SENATOR ANN ANDERSON

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Pritchard: "All right, hearing no objection. Is it just the remarks on the amendment?"

MOTION BY SENATOR SNYDER

Senator Snyder: "As long as we are spreading on the Journal, we might as well put all the remarks in the Journal, I think."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Pritchard: "All right, if there is no objection, we will put the remarks in the Journal."

MOTION BY SENATOR LOVELAND

Senator Loveland: "Thank you, Mr. President. I move that the rules be suspended and Substitute Senate Bill No. 5000 be advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill be placed on final passage."

REMARKS BY PRESIDENT PRITCHARD

President Pritchard: "Senator Loveland moves the bill to third reading and final passage. Hearing no objection, so ordered."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator West: "A point of order. Would the President rule on whether or not this requires a super majority to pass, because it is an amendment of 601?"

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Pritchard: "You will have to wait a minute. We'll be just a few minutes. The President's position is that it does affect 601, yes. Do you have any argument with that Senator Loveland? We are all in agreement, just for once. That is amazing. We are in our cups; that is the problem. All right, it takes thirty-three votes to pass the bill."

REMARKS BY SENATOR LOVELAND

Senator Loveland: "Thank you, Mr. President. I hope that everybody appreciates the fact that I was trying to do something that made a difference for everybody in this state where property taxes were concerned. My background, as most of you know, is I collected property taxes for thirty years. I've heard every excuse; I've seen every sad story; I've seen those who would cheat the system if they possibly could and I believe in the property tax system of this state. People pay taxes based on the value of their property, but we all know that a lot of things have occurred over the years and those occurrences are not within the control of the people who live in their homes or try to run their businesses and that increased property values. You must remember that most people love to have the value of their property increased at all times, except when they have to pay taxes on that value.

"Having said that, I would like for you to know that I bared my soul, I've provided each one of you a copy of my 1995 property tax statement as an illustration of what Substitute Senate Bill No. 5000 would do if all of us have the courage to actually do tax reform in property taxes in this session. If you will look at the tax statement that I provided you, where it says 'state schools,' five hundred and eighty-three dollars and ninety cents is the share when I pay my property taxes that come to the state to pay state schools. If Substitute Senate Bill No. 5000 isn't enacted and if the Legislature allows those surpluses, in future years, to be put toward state schools to reduce the state levy and if all of this occurs within five years, that five hundred and eighty-three dollars and ninety cents will be an amount that I will no longer pay in property taxes. That's true property tax reduction.

"If you will turn to the page that I provided that Senator West quoted from, wherever it was convenient, this law--I promised that I would work, not to create some nightmare out there that no one could understand and had smoke and mirrors. That is exactly what I did; it doesn't cost one penny to administer it. It does not affect the five hundred million dollars that Senator West was talking about. His final arguments on the amendment were talking about dipping into the cup and we were all going to give back all these tax breaks and that's the five hundred million ending-fund balance that only exists once, because, ladies and gentlemen, in July 1, 1995, 601 kicks in. My property tax bill deals with monies above the 601 expenditure limits in the future, so I am not touching the five hundred million dollars.

"Under Substitute Senate Bill No. 5000, revenue projections do indicate that within five years, the state's property tax levy would be eliminated. I have watched initiatives in the state of California and the state of Oregon absolutely disrupt the ability of those legislative bodies to do the work of the people. This is my attempt at real property tax reform to avoid an initiative that will be unworkable for all of us and those in the future. It does show that each of us pay three hundred and sixty dollars for one hundred thousand dollars of assessed value. I live in a modest home; my house was built in 1951 and has seventeen hundred square feet in it, nothing to sneeze about, and yet I am paying five hundred and eighty-three dollars a year just in state property taxes. I am one of those, too, who am not going to be able to continue to afford to live in my home.

"Substitute Senate Bill No. 5000, for those of you who have any doubts about what my credentials or my ability to understand the property tax system, all thirty-nine county assessors in this state, helped me put this piece together. They all support it; they all are encouraging and working with the editorial boards at home and talking to groups explaining what this is. This isn't any flash in the pan. They believe in it; they understand it and it is good tax reform.

"Finally, the other responsible portion of this bill is that I did not want to harm schools. The reason that we developed this special account to take the excess money above 601 and put into a special account was so that it couldn't be trickled off, dribbled off or grabbed off for something other than schools. It goes into the account, it moves over and it buys the levy and it is gone. I submit to you that this is the only true tax reform that we are looking at this legislative session. We will take the property tax that the state collects, eliminate it, it will be a local tax and the state of Washington can continue its business and they will do their business without property tax out of the taxpayers pockets at home. I urge your support of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5000. Thank you."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Sellar: "Senator Loveland, as Vice-Chairman of Ways and Means, is this figured into this year's budget and what would be your estimate of the property tax relief as a result of this year's budget?"

Senator Loveland: "Is this in the future?"

Senator Sellar: "If this bill were in effect right now."

Senator Loveland: "If this bill were to pass, my tax statement is already out, so obviously there is no tax reduction in 1995. The tax reduction would be based on the amount of revenue above the expenditure level in 1996 projected to be seventy-nine million dollars. It could be more; it could be less. Property taxes on the state level will be reduced by whatever amount that is."

Senator Sellar: "So, you are confident, as a result of this budget, there will be a seventy-nine million dollar property tax relief in 1996?"

Senator Loveland: "I would guess that it is probably going to be more than that, but, yes, I am confident."

Senator Sellar: "Thank you."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5000.

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The state makes a substantial investment of finances and resources in students who are attending state institutions of higher education. In exchange, students are expected to actively pursue their education and contribute to an academic environment that is conducive to learning. Students who abuse liquor and drugs, however, are unable to make full use of this educational opportunity. More important, students who abuse liquor and drugs create an environment that interferes with the ability of other students to pursue their education. This is especially true in university-owned student housing where liquor and drug abuse contribute to noise, vandalism, theft, and violence. While the universities and colleges may not be able to stop all liquor and drug abuse among student populations, the very least they can do is ensure that the vast majority of students without drug or liquor problems are provided with a living environment that is safe and conducive to the pursuit of higher education.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 28B.10 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Each public institution of higher education shall notify all students applying for college or university-owned student housing of the availability of housing in an area in which all liquor use is prohibited.

(2) Each public institution of higher education, upon request, shall provide students access to student housing on a residence hall floor, designated area, or in a building where liquor use is prohibited.

(3) Each public institution shall have in place, and distribute to students in college or university-owned student housing, a process for reporting violations and complaints of liquor and illegal drug use.

(4) Each public institution shall have in place, distribute to students, and vigorously enforce policies and procedures for investigating complaints regarding liquor and illegal drug use in college or university-owned student housing, including the sanctions that may be applied for violations of the institution's liquor and illegal drug use policies.

(5) Students who violate the institution's liquor and illegal drug use policies are subject to disciplinary action. Sanctions that may be applied for violations of the institution's liquor or illegal drug use policies include warnings, restitution for property damage, probation, expulsion from college or university-owned housing, and suspension from the institution.

(6) As used in this section:

(a) "Liquor" has the meaning in RCW 66.04.010; and

(b) "Illegal drug use" refers to the unlawful use of controlled substances under chapter 69.50 RCW or legend drugs under chapter 69.41 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. By December 1, 1996, each institution of higher education that has state-owned college or university student housing shall report to the house of representatives and senate higher education committees of the legislature on the following:

(1) Policies governing liquor and illegal drug use and abuse in college and university-owned student housing;

(2) Aggregate information on reported violations and actions taken to address those violations;

(3) Efforts taken by institutions to prevent the use of, and educate students on the effect of, liquor and illegal drugs; and

STATEMENT FOR THE JOURNAL

On March 13, 1995, the gubernatorial appointment of Roger Yockey, GA 9082, was confirmed. I was absent at the time of the vote due to a meeting with my constituents.

Roger Yockey has a genuine interest and concern for the educational needs of the students in the North King, South Snohomish County areas. His appointment to the Board of Trustees of Cascadia Community College will bring a rich mixture of education related to the world of work, future careers, and provide the opportunity for professional growth that will benefit all students in our communities. SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5303, by Senators Heavey, Quigley, Winsley, Deccio, Hochstatter and Oke

Restricting public and municipal officers and public employees' use of first class airplane accommodations and luxury hotels if traveling on public business.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Heavey, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5303 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5303 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

Senator Heavey moved that the following amendments by Senators Heavey and Fraser be considered simultaneously and be adopted:

On page 2, after line 2, insert the following:

"(2) Any state or local government officer, whether elected or appointed, and any state or local government employee who accrues benefits provided by an air carrier as a result of travel at public expense shall not retain such benefits for his or her personal use. Any accrued benefits may be (a) credited to the account of the officer's or employee's public employer, if a procedure for transfer of benefits has been established; or (b) used by the officer or employee to defray the cost of future official travel that would otherwise be paid for by the public employer."

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendments by Senators Heavey and Fraser on page 1, line 12, and page 2, after line 2, to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5303.

The motion by Senator Heavey failed and the amendments were not adopted.

MOTION

Senator Fraser moved that the following amendments by Senators Fraser, Heavey, Haugen and Winsley be considered simultaneously and be adopted:

On page 1, line 17, after "fare" strike "available" and insert "routinely available through a licensed travel agency"

On page 2, line 6, after "chapter." insert "The penalty for violation of section 2 of this act shall be a fine, payable to the general fund of the state, equal to three times the amount that was overpaid for travel."

On page 2, beginning on line 7, strike all of section 4 and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 42.23 RCW to read as follows:

Any officer or local government employee violating section 2 of this act shall be liable to the municipality of which he or she is an officer for a penalty equal to three times the amount that was overpaid for travel."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Ann Anderson: "Mr. President, a point of order. Are we taking only page 1, line 17, or did Senator Fraser move all of these amendments as one?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Pritchard: "Well, she asked that we take them as one, pages 1 and 2. I think we better back up and before you say it I think we should agree to go back and take these one at a time, because they are separate items, if that is all right with you, Senator Fraser. What we are dealing with right now is the amendment on page 1, line 17."

Senator Ann Anderson: "Thank you, Mr. President, for that clarification. In that case, would Senator Fraser yield to a question?"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Ann Anderson: "Senator Fraser, by this amendment then, if a legislator books a flight on the spur of the moment to attend a meeting that perhaps was just called--and I am thinking in terms of an F & O meeting or something in leadership--and you book it yourself, rather than going through a licensed travel agent. Then, if that licensed travel agent could have gotten you a lower fare, but you book it because you don't have time to call and find out, then, are you penalized to the other provisions of this bill?"

Senator Fraser: "I thank you have raised a good technical question which would be worth trying to find some detailed language to clarify, but I do think that the wording of this amendment would be much more--the purpose of the amendment is to set a standard for what amount you pay. There probably could be some work on what that standard is. I developed this quickly. Right now, in the bill, if we do not pass my amendment, it says, 'Least expensive fare available.' If you call your travel agent and you get the routine fare--what ever that price is--that would be the general standard. If you happen to miss the fact that there is a special in the newspaper that day or the day before, you would be in violation of this law and would have to forfeit your office."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the first amendment by Senators Fraser, Heavey, Haugen and Winsley on page 1, line 17, to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5303.

The motion by Senator Fraser carried and the amendment on page 1, line 17, was adopted on a rising vote.

MOTION

Senator Fraser moved that the second amendments on page 2, lines 6 and beginning on line 7, by Senators Fraser, Heavey, Haugen and Winsley be considered simultaneously and be adopted.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Ann Anderson: "Senator Fraser, as I am reading the context of this bill, it is not clear to me, by your amendments, the penalty for violation of this section now that we have inserted 'routinely available through a licensed travel agency.' Who is liable? The travel agent books and you assume it is the lowest fare and you take that flight and find out later it is not, then, you are liable or the travel agent is liable for the travel damages in here?"

Senator Fraser: "The penalties apply to the party that took the flight and occurred the over-expenditure. In terms of the other amendment that was adopted, the idea is to come up with a reasonable price to use as a standard. It seemed a reasonable standard to use if fares that are available through a third party force that normally sells them. It doesn't say you have to buy a ticket through a travel agency in the prior amendment. The prior amendment is just a way to come up with a standard to judge whether you paid too much or not. On this one, the penalty would go on the employee or official."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Wojahn: "Senator Fraser, is 'reasonable' defined in the codes anywhere--the word or term 'reasonable?'"

Senator Fraser: "As a general question?"

Senator Wojahn: "Yes."

Senator Fraser: "Sometimes it is and sometimes it is left to the courts."

Senator Wojahn: "So, this could be left to the courts? In other words, it might be or may be defined in the codes, but you don't know?"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Newhouse: "Senator Fraser, this bill would appear to apply to all state employees. If the Governor takes a state plane at higher cost, is he then liable?"

Senator Fraser: "This bill, as I understand it and this is not my bill, but, as I understand it, it applies to all state and local officials and employees and that would apply to the Governor as well. Maybe you should ask the prime sponsor of the bill."

REPLY BY SENATOR HEAVEY

Senator Heavey: "Senator Newhouse, the bill says when the public expense shall minimize travel expenses when travel by commercial air carrier is required. Obviously, when the Governor is taking a plane or any of us is taking a plane somewhere else, the commercial air carrier isn't required. This is for the person who is not taking it and is going by commercial air carrier."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the second amendments by Senators Fraser, Heavey, Haugen and Winsley on page 2, lines 6 and beginning on line 7, to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5303.

The motion by Senator Fraser carried and the amendments on page 2, line 6 and beginning on line 7, were adopted on a rising vote.

MOTION

Senator Fraser moved that the following amendment by Senators Fraser, Heavey Haugen and Winsley be adopted:

On page 2, line 2, after "disabilities" insert "or unless any additional cost is paid personally by the traveler"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McCaslin: "Senator Fraser, now is this just for people with disabilities or, you know, the effect of the amendment will permit public officers or employees to travel, but it doesn't say public officers or employees with disabilities. I'm assuming that where it is in the bill, after 'disabilities,' am I correct that this is just for--because you see if it isn't, if it is just for people who do not have disabilities, they may not know the lowest fare."

Senator Fraser did not yield to the question.

Senator McCaslin: "Senator Heavey, could you yield to that question?"

Senator Heavey: "Would you please repeat the question?"

Senator McCaslin: "My question is, if you are not disabled, does this apply or does this just apply to people with disabilities?"

Senator Heavey: "The underlining bill or the amendment?"

Senator McCaslin: "No, this amendment. We finally caught up to the amendment."

Senator Heavey: "The amendment applies to whether you are disabled or whether you are not disabled."

Senator McCaslin: "Okay, how do you determine the lowest fare? Sometimes we have meetings that you have to get to in a couple of days and we don't always have the best knowledge or advise of the best fare."

Senator Heavey: "Senator, with all due respect, you've got to read the bill."

Senator McCaslin: "I just read the bill; it is only a page and a half. I can manage that from the fourth district, Senator. Are you impugning my motives or just my reading ability or both?"

Senator Heavey: "No comment."

Senator McCaslin: "Thank you."

Senator Heavey: "It says 'that by traveling by the least expensive fare available for the most direct and timely routing,' which answers Senator Wojahn's complaint--'timely routing on the carrier selected.' Then we added the language and the amendment was already adopted, 'routinely available through a licensed travel agency.' It is very reasonable. If you get an emergency and you have to be over somewhere and you call up, I'm sure that is going to be the same fare that the travel agency would give you."

Senator McCaslin: "If you go directly to the airlines, that is okay?"

Senator Heavey: "I think so."

Senator McCaslin: "If I don't go through a travel agent?"

Senator Heavey: "Yes."

Senator McCaslin: "Thank you."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendments by Senators Fraser, Heavey, Haugen and Winsley on page 2, line 2, to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5303.

The motion by Senator Fraser carried and the amendment on page 2, line 2, was adopted on a rising vote.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Drew, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 2, line 5, after "act" insert "by a state officer or employee"

On motion of Senator Fraser, the following title amendments were considered simultaneously and were adopted:

On page 1, line 3 of the title, after "42.52 RCW;" insert "adding a new section to chapter 42.23 RCW;"

MOTION

On motion of Senator Haugen, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5303 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Deccio: "Senator Fraser, is your New Section 4 in the bill now, which would not place an office holder in jeopardy of losing his position if he violated the statute?"

Senator Fraser: "Yes, that is correct. There has been a lot of discussion here, but yes that section that I proposed to be changed to forfeiture of office to a monetary penalty was approved by the body."

Senator Deccio: "Thank you, Senator Fraser."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Morton: "Senator Heavey, I am looking at the bill on page 1, line 16, really it starts on line 15, and it says, 'Public expense shall be minimized travel expenses when travel by commercial air carrier is required.' It says, 'when travel by commercial air carrier is required.' I've never known of an instance where employees of the state were required to go by air. Would you respond to that inquiry, please?"

Senator Heavey: "Well, I would think that if you were asked to go on government business to go to Hawaii that you probably wouldn't swim or take a boat and I imagine if you were asked to go to D.C., you would probably take an airplane and it would be required. If you had plenty of warning and you personally felt you wanted to drive from your district to Seattle or wherever you might be going, it is up to you. It is not required. I mean you could nitpick any bill like this and question every word and every intent. The language is pretty simple; it has been worked with the cities and it has been worked with other people and I think it is a very workable bill."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Loveland, Senator Rinehart was excused.

ROLL CALL

MOTION

On motion of Senator Pelz, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 5399 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Deccio: "Senator Pelz, would you explain why the consortium element is exempt from lawsuits in this bill?"

Senator Pelz: "I will, sir. This could be brutally dull."

Senator Deccio: "Maybe."

Senator Pelz: "Currently, when a worker is injured and they receive a payment from L & I--a successful claim--the claim often times includes a payment for loss of consortium. Now, this claim accrues to the spouse of the injured worker. When an injured worker is successful--receives a successful claim--but is pursuing a third party damages and if they succeed in those third party damages, the L & I claim can be deducted. In other words, L & I gets their money back. The court ruled, however, the L & I did not have a right to loss of consortium, because that was a benefit that did not accrue to the injured worker, but rather to the spouse of the injured worker. What this bill is doing is making clear that those payments which are recouped to L & I will not include the loss of consortium in the event that the worker wins a third party lawsuit, so I am not sure this is a very common occurrence."

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Hargrove: "I would like to ask for a scope and object ruling on this amendment. Substitute Senate Bill No. 5258 is an act which relates strictly to making clarifying and technical and administrative revisions to the existing public health and safety networks in the Family Policy Council. The intent section makes that absolutely clear. The current bill does not expand the duties for the networks under existing law. The amendment by Senator Pelz is a new duty imposed upon the network; it also makes a legislative declaration that constitutes protective factors and effective network strategy. This is not a technical change and I would ask that you find it out of scope and object."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Gaspard: "Mr. President, I raise a point of order. I challenge the scope and object of the amendment that is being offered by Senator Newhouse. I would offer for your consideration that the bill before us specifically relates to the sales and use tax of manufacturing machinery and equipment, pollution control equipment and high technology research and development. Agriculture, in itself, is a separate category from these three that I have mentioned and nowhere in the proposed bill is agriculture mentioned. Therefore, I would contend that the amendment offered is not within the scope and object."

Further debate ensued.

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature declares that it is the goal of the state of Washington to preserve and restore the natural resources of the state and, in particular, fish and wildlife and their habitat. It is further the policy of the state insofar as possible to utilize the volunteer organizations who have demonstrated their commitment to these goals.

To this end, it is the intent of the legislature to minimize the expense and delays caused by unnecessary bureaucratic process in securing permits for projects that preserve or restore native fish and wildlife habitat.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section shall apply throughout sections 1 through 7 of this act.

(1) "Watershed restoration plan" means a plan, developed or sponsored by the department of fish and wildlife, the department of ecology, the department of natural resources, a federally recognized Indian tribe acting within and pursuant to its authority, a city, a county, or a conservation district, that provides a general program and implementation measures or actions for the preservation, restoration, re-creation, or enhancement of the natural resources, character, and ecology of a stream, stream segment, drainage area, or watershed, and for which agency and public review has been conducted pursuant to chapter 43.21C RCW, the state environmental policy act. If the implementation measures or actions would have a probable significant, adverse environmental impact, a detailed statement under RCW 43.21C.031 must be prepared on the plan.

(2) "Watershed restoration project" means a public or private project authorized by the sponsor of a watershed restoration plan that implements the plan or a part of the plan and consists of one or more of the following activities:

(a) A project that involves less than ten miles of streamreach, in which less than twenty-five cubic yards of sand, gravel, or soil is removed, imported, disturbed, or discharged, and in which no existing vegetation is removed except as minimally necessary to facilitate additional plantings;

(b) A project for the restoration of an eroded or unstable stream bank that employs the principles of bioengineering, including limited use of rock as a stabilization only at the toe of the bank, and with primary emphasis on using native vegetation to control the erosive forces of flowing water; or

(c) A project primarily designed to improve fish and wildlife habitat, remove or reduce impediments to migration of fish, or enhance the fishery resource available for use by all of the citizens of the state, provided that any structure other than a bridge or culvert or instream habitat enhancement structure associated with the project is less than two hundred square feet in floor area and is located above the ordinary high water mark of the stream.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. By January 1, 1996, the Washington conservation commission shall develop, in consultation with other state agencies, tribes, and local governments, a consolidated application process for permits for a watershed restoration project to be obtained by a sponsoring agency for a project developed by the agency or sponsored by the agency on behalf of a volunteer organization. The consolidated process shall include a single permit application form for use by all responsible state and local agencies. The commission shall encourage use of the consolidated permit application process by any federal agency responsible for issuance of related permits. The permit application forms to be consolidated shall include, at a minimum, applications for: (1) Approvals related to water quality standards under chapter 90.48 RCW; (2) hydraulic project approvals under chapter 75.20 RCW; and (3) Section 401 water quality certifications under 33 U.S.C. Sec. 1341 and chapter 90.48 RCW.

Each agency of the state, tribe, and unit of local government that claims jurisdiction or the right to require permits, other approvals, or fees as a condition of allowing a watershed restoration project to proceed shall designate an office or official as a designated recipient of project applications and shall inform the conservation commission of the designation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. All agencies of the state, tribes, and local governments shall accept the single application developed under section 3 of this act. Unless the procedures under section 6 of this act are invoked, the application shall be processed without charge and permit decisions shall be issued within forty-five days of receipt of a complete application.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. The applicant or any state agency, tribe, or local government with permit processing responsibility may request that the permit assistance center created by chapter ..., Laws of 1995 (Senate Bill No. 5489 or House Bill No. 1724) appoint a project facilitator to develop in consultation with the applicant and permit agencies a coordinated process for permit decisions on the application. The process may incorporate procedures for coordinating state permits under chapter ..., Laws of 1995 (Senate Bill No. 5489 or House Bill No. 1724). The center shall adopt a target of completing permit decisions within forty-five days of receipt of a complete application.

If neither Senate Bill No. 5489 nor House Bill No. 1724 are enacted by June 30, 1995, this section shall be null and void.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. State agencies, tribes, and local governments responsible for permits or other approvals of watershed restoration projects as defined in section 2 of this act may develop general permits or permits by rule to address some or all projects required by an approved watershed restoration plan, or for types of watershed restoration projects.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. A new section is added to chapter 35.63 RCW to read as follows:

Creating the malt beverage commission.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Rasmussen, Substitute Senate Bill No. 6009 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 6009 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Rasmussen, the following amendment by Senators Rasmussen and Morton was adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature declares that:

(1) Marketing is a dynamic and changing part of Washington agriculture and business economy and a vital element in expanding the state economy.

(2) The sale in the state and export to other states of malt beverages made in the state contribute substantial benefits to the economy of the state and provide a large number of jobs and sizeable tax revenues.

(3) The production of malt beverages in the state is an important segment of Washington agriculture that has potential for greater contribution to the economy of the state if it undergoes continued development.

(4) The general welfare of the people of the state will be served by continued development of the production of malt beverages, which development will improve the tax bases of local communities in which processing facilities are located, and reduce the need for state and federal funding of local services. The industries are therefore affected with the public interest.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Beer producer" means any person or other entity licensed under Title 66 RCW, to produce within the state, beer or malt beverage, and who produces under one hundred thousand barrels of beer annually per location.

(2) "Commission" means the Washington malt beverage commission.

(3) "Director" means the director of agriculture or the director's duly appointed representative.

(4) "Department" means the department of agriculture.

(5) "Person" includes any individual, firm, corporation, trust, association, partnership, society, or any other organization of individuals.

(6) "Eastern Washington" means that portion of the state lying east of the Cascade mountain range.

(7) "Western Washington" means that portion of the state lying west of the Cascade mountain range.

(8) "Beer" and "malt beverage" for the purposes of this section are as defined in RCW 66.04.010.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. (1) The agricultural commodity commission, authorized by referendum under section 12 of this act, shall be known and designated as the Washington malt beverage commission. The commission shall be composed of nine voting members; eight voting members shall be beer producers and one voting member shall be a wholesaler licensed under RCW 66.24.250. Of the beer producer members, at least three shall be located in western Washington and at least three shall be located in eastern Washington.

(2) The director of agriculture, or the director's designee, shall serve as an ex officio, nonvoting member.

(3) Six voting members of the commission constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business of the commission.

(4) Each voting member of the commission shall be a citizen, and resident of this state and over the age of twenty-one years. Each voting member, except the member holding position nine, must be or must have been engaged in that phase of the industry that he or she is appointed to represent, and must during his or her term of office derive a substantial portion of income therefrom, or have a substantial investment in the production of beer as an owner, lessee, partner, or a stockholder owning at least ten percent of the voting stock in a corporation engaged in the production; or the manager or executive officer of such a corporation. These qualifications apply throughout each member's term of office.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. The appointive voting positions on the commission shall be designated as follows: The beer producers shall be designated positions one, two, three, four, five, six, seven, and eight; and the wholesaler shall be position nine. The member designated as filling position one shall be a beer producer producing the largest volume of beer annually, not to exceed one hundred thousand barrels per location per year. The member designated as position one shall be the sole representative, directly or indirectly, of the beer producer eligible to hold position one.

The regular terms of office shall be three years from the date of appointment and until their successors are appointed. However, the first terms of the members appointed after July 1, 1995, shall be as follows: Positions one, six, and nine shall terminate July 1, 1998; positions two, four, and seven shall terminate July 1, 1997; and positions three, five, and eight shall terminate July 1, 1996.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. Within ninety days after approval of the referendum held pursuant to section 12 of this act, the director shall appoint the members of the commission. In making such appointments of the voting members, the director shall take into consideration recommendations made by the beer producers the persons recommended for appointment as members of the commission. In appointing persons to the commission, the director shall seek to ensure as nearly as possible a balanced representation on the commission that would reflect the composition of the beer producers throughout the state as to amount of malt beverage produced.

In the event a position on the commission becomes vacant due to resignation, disqualification, death, or for any other reason, the unexpired term of the position shall immediately be filled by appointment by the director.

After approval of the referendum held pursuant to section 12 of this act, each member of the commission shall be entitled to reimbursement for travel expenses in accordance with RCW 43.03.050 and 43.03.060.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. Obligations incurred by the commission and liabilities or claims against the commission shall be enforced only against the assets of the commission in the same manner as if it were a corporation and no liability for the debts or actions of the commission shall exist against either the state of Washington or any subdivision or instrumentality thereof or against any member, officer, employee, or agent of the commission in his or her individual capacity. The members of the commission, including employees of the commission, shall not be held responsible individually or any way whatsoever to any person for errors in judgment, mistakes, or other acts, either of commission or omission, as principal, agent, person, or employees, except for their own individual acts of dishonesty or crime. No such person or employee shall be held responsible individually for any act or omission of any other members of the commission.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. The powers and duties of the commission include:

The officers shall include a treasurer who is responsible for all receipts and disbursements by the commission and the faithful discharge of whose duties shall be guaranteed by a bond at the sole expense of the commission. The commission shall adopt rules for its own governance, which shall provide for the holding of an annual meeting for the election of officers and transaction of other business and for such other meetings as the commission may direct;

(2) To do all things reasonably necessary to effect the purposes of this chapter. However, the commission shall have no legislative power;

(3) At the pleasure of the commission, to employ and discharge managers, secretaries, agents, attorneys, and employees and to engage the services of independent contractors as the commission deems necessary, to prescribe their duties, and to fix their compensation;

(4) To receive donations of beer from breweries for promotional purposes;

(5) To receive beer or cash or in-kind contributions from breweries and beverage industry associations;

(6) To engage directly or indirectly in the promotion of Washington beer, including without limitation the acquisition in any lawful manner and the dissemination without charge of beer, which dissemination shall not be deemed a sale for any purpose and in which dissemination the commission shall not be deemed a beer producer, supplier, or manufacturer of any kind or the clerk, servant, or agent of a beer producer, supplier, or manufacturer of any kind. Such dissemination shall be for agricultural development or trade promotion, which may include promotional hosting and shall in the good faith judgment of the commission be in aid of the marketing, advertising, or sale of beer, or of research related to such marketing, advertising, or sale;

(11) To employ, designate as agent, act in concert with, and enter into contracts with any person, council, commission, or other entity for the purpose of promoting the general welfare of the malt beverage industry and particularly for the purpose of assisting in the sale and distribution of Washington beer in domestic and foreign commerce, expending moneys as it may deem necessary or advisable for such purpose and for the purpose of paying its proportionate share of the cost of any program providing direct or indirect assistance to the sale and distribution of Washington beer in domestic or foreign commerce, employing and paying for vendors of professional services of all kinds;

(12) To sue and be sued as a commission, without individual liability for acts of the commission within the scope of the powers conferred upon it by this chapter; and

(13) To serve as a liaison with the liquor control board.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. The commission shall create, provide for, and conduct a comprehensive and extensive research, promotional, and educational campaign as sales and market conditions reasonably require. It shall investigate and ascertain the needs of beer producers, conditions of markets, and degree of public awareness of products, and take into account the information adduced thereby in the discharge of its duties under this chapter.

(by barreillage) of malt beverage produced during the period designated by the commission. A qualified person may, at any time, have his or her name placed upon the list by delivering or mailing the information to the commission. This list shall be corrected and brought up to date in accordance with evidence and information available to the commission on or before December 31st of each year. For all purposes of giving notice and holding referendums, the list on hand, corrected up to the day next preceding the date for issuing notices or ballots as the case may be, is, for purposes of this chapter, deemed to be the list of all beer producers entitled to notice or to assent or dissent or to vote.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. (1) Pursuant to approval by referendum in accordance with section 12 of this act, commencing on July 1, 1996, there shall be levied, and the commission shall collect, upon all beer produced within this state an annual assessment of one dollar per barrel of beer produced, on up to thirty thousand barrels per location, to be paid by the beer producer as defined in section 2(1) of this act. The commission may increase the amount of assessment above one dollar per barrel but not to exceed the fiscal growth factor as provided in RCW 43.135.055.

(2) The commission shall recommend rules to the director prescribing the time, place, and method for payment and collection of this assessment.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. (1) Upon receipt by July 15, 1995, of a petition to form a commission signed by one or more beer producers, the director shall conduct a referendum among all beer producers within the state for purposes of determining beer producer participation in the commission and assessment under section 11 of this act. The requirements of assent or approval of the referendum will be held to be complied with if at least sixty percent of the beer producers reply to the referendum and that at least fifty-one percent by numbers of beer producers replying in the referendum vote affirmatively. The referendum process shall be initiated on or before September 15, 1995.

(2) If the director determines that the requisite assent has been given, the director shall direct the commission to put into force the assessment in section 11 of this act.

(3) If the director determines that the requisite assent has not been given, the director shall not appoint the commission nor commence action to levy the assessment provided in section 11 of this act. If the requisite assent has not been given, the commission shall not be activated to specifically foster the interests of beer producers.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. The commission shall deposit moneys collected under section 11 of this act in a separate account in the name of the commission in any bank that is a state depository. All expenditures and disbursements made from this account under this chapter may be made without the necessity of a specific legislative appropriation. If a person fails to pay the commission the full amount of the assessment by the date due, the commission may add to the unpaid assessment an amount not exceeding ten percent of the assessment to defray the cost of enforcing its collection. On motion of Senator Rinehart, the following title amendment was adopted:

MOTION

On motion of Senator Rinehart, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5201 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Cantu: "Senator Bauer, I had the honor of serving with you as a member of the Manufacturing Tax Study Committee last summer that resulted in the recommendation of this legislation. In determining the fiscal impact of this proposal, several assumptions were made regarding the scope of manufacturing and processing included in the recommendations. The scope of manufacturing and processing was described to include all business activities identified in two-digit Standard Industrial Codes 20 through 39 and those businesses' activities identified in the three digit Standard Industrial Code 737.

"Is it intended that Substitute Senate Bill No. 5201 apply to all business activities identified in two-digit Standard Industrial Codes 20 through 39 and those businesses' activities identified in the three digit Standard Industrial Code 737?"

Senator Bauer: "Yes, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5201 is intended to apply to all business activities identified in two-digit Standard Industrial Codes 20 through 39 and those businesses' activities identified in the three digit Standard Industrial Code 737,"

Senator Cantu: "Thank you."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Gaspard: "Senator Rinehart, for the purposes of this analysis, what does the term 'family wage jobs' mean?"

Senator Rinehart: "The term 'family wage jobs' must be flexible to take into account varying cost of living differences throughout the state. It must also recognize compensation as a package. Therefore, it should include pension and health benefits and it should recognize that a part-time job with a high hourly rate may provide less support for a family than a full-time job with a lower rate of salary.

"In addition, factors such as family size and type should be taken into consideration. Therefore, a larger family needs more income than a smaller one, and a single-parent family may have higher child care and other costs than a two-parent family."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5201.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5201 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 45; Nays, 4; Absent, 0; Excused, 0.

Voting yea: Senators Anderson, A., Anderson, C., Bauer, Cantu, Deccio, Drew, Finkbeiner, Franklin, Fraser, Gaspard, Hale, Hargrove, Haugen, Heavey, Hochstatter, Johnson, Kohl, Long, Loveland, McAuliffe, McCaslin, McDonald, Morton, Moyer, Newhouse, Oke, Owen, Palmer, Prentice, Prince, Quigley, Rasmussen, Roach, Schow, Sellar, Sheldon, Smith, Snyder, Spanel, Strannigan, Swecker, West, Winsley, Wojahn and Wood - 45.

Voting nay: Senators Fairley, Pelz, Rinehart and Sutherland - 4.

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5201, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5503, by Senators Prentice, Deccio, Pelz, Sellar and Fraser

Streamlining temporary worker housing safety and health regulations.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Prentice, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5503 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5503 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Prentice, the following amendment by Senators Prentice and Deccio was adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that there is an inadequate supply of temporary and permanent housing for migrant and seasonal workers in this state. The legislature also finds that unclear, complex regulations related to the development, construction, and permitting of worker housing inhibit the development of this much needed housing. The legislature further finds that as a result, many workers are forced to obtain housing that is unsafe and unsanitary.

Therefore, it is the intent of the legislature to encourage the development of temporary and permanent housing for workers that is safe and sanitary by: Establishing a clear and concise set of regulations for temporary housing; establishing a streamlined permitting and administrative process that will be locally administered and encourage the development of such housing; and by providing technical assistance to organizations or individuals interested in the development of worker housing.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. The definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

- (1) "Department" means the department of health.
- (2) "Dwelling unit" means a shelter, building, or portion of a building, that may include cooking and eating facilities, that is:
 - (a) Provided and designated by the operator as either a sleeping area, living area, or both, for occupants; and
 - (b) Physically separated from other sleeping and common-use areas.
- (3) "Facility" means a sleeping place, drinking water, toilet, sewage disposal, food handling installation, or other installations required for compliance with this chapter.
- (4) "Occupant" means a temporary worker or a person who resides with a temporary worker at the housing site.
- (5) "Operator" means a person holding legal title to the land on which temporary worker housing is located. However, if the legal title and the right to possession are in different persons, "operator" means a person having the lawful control or supervision over the temporary worker housing under a lease or other arrangement.
- (6) "Temporary worker" means a person employed intermittently and not residing year-round at the same site.
- (7) "Temporary worker housing" means a place, area, or piece of land where sleeping places or housing sites are provided by an employer for his or her employees or by another person, including a temporary worker housing operator, who is providing such accommodations for employees, for temporary, seasonal occupancy, and includes "labor camps" under RCW 70.54.110.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. This act applies to temporary worker housing that consists of five or more dwelling units, or any combination of dwelling units, dormitories, or spaces that house ten or more occupants.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. The department is designated the single state agency responsible for encouraging the development of additional temporary worker housing, and shall be responsible for coordinating the activities of the various state and local agencies to assure a seamless, nonduplicative system for the development and operation of temporary worker housing.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. Temporary worker housing located on a rural worksite, and used for workers employed on the worksite, shall be considered a permitted use at the rural worksite for the purposes of zoning or other land use review processes, subject only to height, setback, and road access requirements of the underlying zone.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. The secretary of the department or authorized representative may inspect housing covered by this act to enforce temporary worker housing rules adopted by the state board of health, or when the secretary or representative has reasonable cause to believe that a violation of temporary worker housing rules adopted by the state board of health is occurring or is being maintained. If the buildings or premises are occupied as a residence, a reasonable effort shall be made to obtain permission from the resident. If the premises or building is unoccupied, a reasonable effort shall be made to locate the owner or other person having charge or control of the building or premises and request entry. If consent for entry is not obtained, for whatever reason, the secretary or representative shall have recourse to every remedy provided by law to secure entry.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. The department of community, trade, and economic development shall contract with private, nonprofit corporations to provide technical assistance to any private individual or nonprofit organization wishing to construct temporary or permanent worker housing. The assistance may include information on state and local application and approval procedures, information or assistance in applying for federal, state, or local financial assistance, including tax incentives, information on cost-effective housing designs, or any other assistance the department of community, trade, and economic development may deem helpful in obtaining the active participation of private individuals or groups in constructing or operating temporary or permanent worker housing.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. By December 1, 1996, the state building code council shall develop a temporary worker housing code, in conformance with the temporary worker housing standards developed under the Washington industrial safety and health act, chapter 49.17 RCW, the rules adopted by the state board of health under RCW 70.54.110, and the following guidelines:

- (1) The code shall provide construction standards for shelter and associated facilities that are safe, secure, and capable of withstanding the stresses and loads associated with their designated use, and to which they are likely to be subjected by the elements.
- (2) The code shall permit and facilitate designs and formats that allow for maximum affordability, consistent with the provision of decent, safe, and sanitary housing.
- (3) In developing the code the council shall consider: (a) The need for dormitory type housing for groups of unrelated individuals; and (b) the need for housing to accommodate families.
- (4) The code shall include construction standards for a variety of formats, including, but not limited to: (a) Tents and tent platforms; and (b) hard-shell, single exterior wall structures.
- (5) The code shall include standards for temporary worker housing that is to be used only during periods when no auxiliary heat is required.

In developing the temporary worker housing code, it is the intent of the legislature that the building code council make exceptions to the codes listed in RCW 19.27.031, and chapter 19.27A RCW, in keeping with the guidelines set forth in this section.

The building code council shall appoint a technical advisory committee to assist in the development of the temporary worker housing code, which shall include representatives of industries that most frequently supply temporary housing to their employees.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. The department shall submit a report to the legislature containing short-term and long-term recommendations for the development of an adequate supply and continuous improvement of temporary worker housing. The report shall include recommendations for optimum roles for state and local administration of temporary worker housing, including strategies for the development of a locally administered application, permitting, and compliance system. The report shall identify incentives for the development of temporary worker housing, including but not limited to:

- (1) Facility design options that are economical and appropriate for the worksite and length of seasonal employment but do not compromise health and safety of workers;
- (2) Streamlined, single-service-point permit application and review process;
- (3) Utilization of manufactured shelter units;
- (4) Appropriate building standards;
- (5) Financial incentives for operators;
- (6) Community-financed temporary worker housing; and
- (7) Shared housing arrangements among operators.

The report shall include recommendations for appropriate compliance strategies.

A preliminary report shall be submitted by December 1, 1995, together with any recommendations for legislation necessary to implement the findings and recommendations of the department at that point.

A final report, including recommendations for legislation, shall be submitted by December 1, 1996.

Sec. 10. RCW 70.54.110 and 1990 c 253 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. The sum of forty-nine thousand dollars, or as much thereof as may be necessary, is appropriated for the biennium ending June 30, 1997, from the general fund to the department of community, trade, and economic development for the purposes of section 7 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. Sections 1 through 9 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 70 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Deccio: "Senator Heavey, it is my understanding now that we are at forty-eight feet, not three feet, not two hundred and sixty feet. Is that correct?"

Senator Heavey: "Yes, it is at forty-eight feet and it is not at two hundred and sixty feet."

Senator Morton: "Senator Heavey, I was going to challenge that last comment based on the amendment on page 3, lines 7, 8, and 9, which says, 'three square feet.' "

Senator Morton: "Thank you for the clarification, Senator Heavey."

The full text of the measure may be either included in the pamphlet or made available upon request at the discretion of the jurisdiction publishing the pamphlet;

On page 14, after line 26, insert the following:

"Sec. 9. RCW 26.19.065 and 1991 c 367 s 33 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Limit at forty-five percent of a parent's net income. Neither parent's total child support obligation may exceed forty-five percent of net income except for good cause shown. Good cause includes but is not limited to possession of substantial wealth, children with day care expenses, special medical need, educational need, psychological need, and larger families.

(2) Income below six hundred dollars. When combined monthly net income is less than six hundred dollars, a support order of not less than twenty-five dollars per child per month shall be entered for each parent unless the obligor parent establishes that it would be unjust or inappropriate to do so in that particular case. The decision whether there is a sufficient basis to deviate below the presumptive minimum payment must take into consideration the best interests of the child and the circumstances of each parent. Such circumstances can include comparative hardship to the affected households, assets or liabilities, and earning capacity. A parent's support obligation shall not reduce his or her net income below the need standard for one person established pursuant to RCW 74.04.770, except for the ((mandatory)) presumptive minimum payment of twenty-five dollars per child per month ((as required in this section)) or in cases where the court finds reasons for deviation ((under section 32 of this act)). This section shall not be construed to require monthly substantiation of income.

(3) Income above five thousand and seven thousand dollars. The economic table is presumptive for combined monthly net incomes up to and including five thousand dollars. When combined monthly net income exceeds five thousand dollars, support shall not be set at an amount lower than the presumptive amount of support set for combined monthly net incomes of five thousand dollars unless the court finds a reason to deviate below that amount. The economic table is advisory but not presumptive for combined monthly net incomes that exceed five thousand dollars. When combined monthly net income exceeds seven thousand dollars, the court may set support at an advisory amount of support set for combined monthly net incomes between five thousand and seven thousand dollars or the court may exceed the advisory amount of support set for combined monthly net incomes of seven thousand dollars upon written findings of fact.

(2) The juvenile court shall retain jurisdiction over the offense if the juvenile is charged with another offense arising out of the same incident and the juvenile court has jurisdiction over the other offense.

(3) Jurisdiction under this section does not constitute a decline or transfer of juvenile court jurisdiction under RCW 13.40.110.

(4) The provisions of chapter 13.40 RCW shall apply to offenses prosecuted under this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 23. A new section is added to chapter 28A.225 RCW to read as follows:

References to juvenile court in this chapter mean, in addition to the juvenile court of the superior court, courts of limited jurisdiction which have acquired jurisdiction pursuant to RCW 13.04.030(1)(e)(iv) and section 22 of this act over juveniles who violate the provisions of this chapter. If a court of limited jurisdiction has jurisdiction over juveniles who violate this chapter, that court also has jurisdiction over parents charged with violations of this chapter.

Sec. 24. RCW 35.20.030 and 1993 c 83 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senators Hargrove, Owen, Ann Anderson and Snyder to Senate Bill No. 5841.

The motion by Senator Pelz carried and the amendment was adopted.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Pelz: "Senator McDonald, was this language drawn from any precedent language? Is there another place, another state, in America where public employees are subject to a thousand dollar per day penalty for strike--or private employees for that matter? Is there existing law that this is modeled after?"

Senator McDonald: "Well, if it is your opinion that they are not going to strike, these fines would never be imposed. What we are saying here is if they are going to be--if you are going to give the courts any kind of tools, then you have to have specific ones and we have given them in this amendment. If you want to have an amendment to an amendment that makes them something different, I would certainly be willing to listen to that."

Senator Pelz: "Well, thank you. I assume then that the answer to my question is that, 'No, there is not a precedent for a blanket rule that a striker is subject to a fine of one thousand dollars per day and an employee organization that initiates or continues a strike is subject to a fine of five thousand dollars per day.'"

Further debate ensued.

Senator McDonald demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the adoption of the amendment by Senators McDonald, Johnson, Hochstatter, Cantu, Morton, McCaslin and Wood on page 57, after line 26, to Senate Bill No. 5841.

- (7) Public restroom and sanitary facilities; and
- (8) Any combination of or part of any or all of such facilities.

The words "public utility" when used in this chapter shall have the same meaning as the words "system of sewerage."

Sec. 3. RCW 35.67.020 and 1991 c 347 s 17 are each amended to read as follows:

Every city and town may construct, condemn and purchase, acquire, add to, implement, maintain, conduct, and operate systems of sewerage and systems and plants for refuse collection and disposal together with additions, extensions, and betterments thereto, within and without its limits, with full jurisdiction and authority to manage, regulate, and control them and to fix, alter, regulate, and control the rates and charges for the use thereof: PROVIDED, That the rates charged must be uniform for the same class of customers or service.

In classifying customers served or service, facilities, and programs furnished by such system of sewerage, the city or town legislative body may in its discretion consider any or all of the following factors: The difference in cost of service, facilities, and programs to the various customers; the location of the various customers within and without the city or town; the difference in cost of maintenance, operation, implementation, repair, and replacement of the various parts of the system; the different character of the service, facilities, and programs furnished various customers; the quantity and quality of the sewage delivered and the time of its delivery; the achievement of water conservation goals and the discouragement of wasteful water use practices; capital contributions made to the system, including but not limited to, assessments; and any other matters which present a reasonable difference as a ground for distinction. Rates or charges imposed under this chapter for on-site inspection and maintenance services shall reflect the allocable share of the cost of providing the program or service to the person or entity paying the charge, and may not be imposed on the development, construction, or reconstruction of property.

A city or town may adjust or delay rates and charges and may provide other assistance to aid low-income persons in participating in programs and in complying with regulations imposed in connection with this chapter.

Under this chapter, after January 1, 1997, any requirements for pumping the septic tank of an on-site sewage system should be based, among other things, on actual measurement of accumulation of sludge and scum by a trained operator, trained owner's agent, or trained owner. Training shall occur in a program approved by the state board of health or by a local health officer.

Before adopting an on-site inspection and maintenance utility program, or incorporating residences into an on-site inspection and maintenance or sewer utility under this chapter, notification shall be provided, prior to the applicable public hearing, to all residences within the proposed service area that have on-site systems permitted by the local health officer. The notice shall clearly state that the residence is within the proposed service area and shall provide information on estimated rates or charges that may be imposed for the service.

The rates charged shall be uniform for the same class of customers or service, facility, or program. In classifying customers served or service, facilities, and programs furnished by a system or systems of sewerage, the legislative authority of the city or town may in its discretion consider any or all of the following factors: The difference in cost of service, facilities, and programs to customers; the location of customers within and without the city or town; the difference in cost of maintenance, operation, repair, and replacement of the parts of the system; the different character of the service, facilities, and programs furnished to customers; the quantity and quality of the sewage delivered and the time of its delivery; capital contributions made to the systems, plants, sites, or other facilities, including but not limited to, assessments; and any other factors that present a reasonable difference as a ground for distinction. Rates or charges imposed under this chapter for on-site inspection and maintenance services shall reflect the allocable share of the cost of providing the program or service to the person or entity paying the charge, and may not be imposed on the development, construction, or reconstruction of property.

A city or town may adjust or delay rates and charges and may provide other assistance to aid low-income persons in participating in programs and in complying with regulations imposed in connection with this chapter.

Under this chapter, after January 1, 1997, any requirements for pumping the septic tank of an on-site sewage system should be based, among other things, on actual measurement of accumulation of sludge and scum by a trained operator, trained owner's agent, or trained owner. Training shall occur in a program approved by the state board of health or by a local health officer.

Before adopting an on-site inspection and maintenance utility program, or incorporating residences into an on-site inspection and maintenance or sewer utility under this chapter, notification shall be provided, prior to the applicable public hearing, to all residences within the proposed service area that have on-site systems permitted by the local health officer. The notice shall clearly state that the residence is within the proposed service area and shall provide information on estimated rates or charges that may be imposed for the service.

(6) "Board" means one or more boards of county commissioners and/or the legislative authority of a home rule charter county.

Sec. 6. RCW 36.94.020 and 1981 c 313 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

The construction, implementation, operation, and maintenance of a system of sewerage and/or water is a county purpose. Subject to the provisions of this chapter, every county has the power, individually or in conjunction with another county or counties to adopt, provide for, accept, establish, implement, condemn, purchase, construct, add to, operate, and maintain a system or systems of sanitary and storm sewers, including outfalls, interceptors, plans, and facilities and programs necessary for sewerage treatment and disposal, and/or system or systems of water supply within all or a portion of the county: PROVIDED, That counties shall not have power to condemn sewerage and/or water systems of any municipal corporation or private utility.

Such county or counties shall have the authority to control, regulate, implement, operate, and manage such system or systems and to provide funds therefor by general obligation bonds, revenue bonds, local improvement district bonds, utility local improvement district or local improvement district assessments, and in any other lawful fiscal manner. Rates or charges imposed under this chapter for on-site inspection and maintenance services shall reflect the allocable share of the cost of providing the program or service to the person or entity paying the charge, and may not be imposed on the development, construction, or reconstruction of property.

Under this chapter, after January 1, 1997, any requirements for pumping the septic tank of an on-site sewage system should be based, among other things, on actual measurement of accumulation of sludge and scum by a trained operator, trained owner's agent, or trained owner. Training shall occur in a program approved by the state board of health or by a local health officer.

Before adopting an on-site inspection and maintenance utility program, or incorporating residences into an on-site inspection and maintenance or sewer utility under this chapter, notification shall be provided, prior to the applicable public hearing, to all residences within the proposed service area that have on-site systems permitted by the local health officer. The notice shall clearly state that the residence is within the proposed service area and shall provide information on estimated rates or charges that may be imposed for the service.

A county may, as part of a system of sewerage established under this chapter, provide for, finance, and operate any of the facilities and programs and may exercise the powers expressly authorized for county storm water, flood control, pollution prevention, and drainage programs and activities under chapters 36.89, 86.12, 86.13, and 86.15 RCW. A county also may provide for, finance, and operate the facilities and programs and may exercise any of the powers authorized for aquifer protection areas under chapter 36.36 RCW; for lake management districts under chapter 36.61 RCW; for diking districts, and diking, drainage, and sewerage improvement districts under chapters 85.05, 85.08, 85.15, 85.16, and 85.18 RCW; and for shellfish protection districts under chapter 90.72 RCW. However, if a county by reference to any of those statutes assumes as part of its system of sewerage any powers granted to such areas or districts and not otherwise available to a county under this chapter, then (1) the procedures and restrictions applicable to those areas or districts shall apply to the county's exercise of those powers, and (2) the county may not simultaneously impose rates and charges under this chapter and under the statutes authorizing such areas or districts for substantially the same programs and services, but must instead impose uniform rates and charges consistent with RCW 36.94.140. By agreement with such an area or district that is not part of a county's system of sewerage, a county may operate that area's or district's programs or facilities, but a county may not dissolve any existing area or district except in accordance with any applicable provisions of the statute under which that area or district was created.

Sec. 7. RCW 36.94.140 and 1990 c 133 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

Every county, in the implementation and operation of a system of sewerage and/or water, shall have full jurisdiction and authority to manage, regulate and control it and to fix, alter, regulate and control the rates and charges for the service, facilities, and programs to those to whom such ((county)) service ((is)), facilities, and programs are available, and to levy charges for connection to such system. The rates for availability of service, facilities, programs, and connection charges so charged must be uniform for the same class of customers or service, facility, or program.

In classifying customers served, service furnished or made available by such system of sewerage and/or water, or the connection charges, the board may consider any or all of the following factors:

- (1) The difference in cost of service to the various customers within or without the area;
- (2) The difference in cost of maintenance, operation, repair and replacement of the various parts of the systems;
- (3) The different character of the service, facilities, and programs furnished various customers;
- (4) The quantity and quality of the sewage and/or water delivered and the time of its delivery;
- (5) Capital contributions made to the system or systems, including, but not limited to, assessments;
- (6) The cost of acquiring the system or portions of the system in making system improvements necessary for the public health and safety; and

(7) Any other matters which present a reasonable difference as a ground for distinction.

A county may adjust or delay rates and charges and may provide other assistance to aid low-income persons in participating in programs and in complying with regulations imposed in connection with this chapter.

Such rates shall produce revenues sufficient to take care of the costs of maintenance and operation, revenue bond and warrant interest and principal amortization requirements, and all other charges necessary for the efficient and proper operation of the system.

Sec. 8. RCW 54.16.230 and 1975 1st ex.s. c 57 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

A public utility district may acquire, construct, operate, maintain, and add to sewage systems, subject to and in compliance with the county comprehensive plan, under the general powers of Title 54 RCW or through the formation of local utility districts as provided in RCW 54.16.120 through 54.16.170: PROVIDED, That prior to engaging in any sewage system works as authorized by this section, the voters of the public utility district shall first approve by majority vote a referendum proposition authorizing such district to exercise the powers set forth in this section, which proposition shall be presented at a general election. A sewage system may include any or all of the following:

(1) Sanitary sewage collection, treatment, and/or disposal facilities and programs, including without limitation on-site or off-site sewerage facilities such as approved on-site sewage systems, on-site sanitary sewerage systems, inspection programs and maintenance programs for public or private on-site systems, or any other means of sewage treatment and disposal;

(2) Facilities and programs for the protection of waters of the state as defined by RCW 90.48.020 from pollution, including but not limited to monitoring water quality; monitoring point and nonpoint sources of pollution; preventing, removing, or reducing water pollution; water quality education and public involvement programs; and agricultural, industrial, and commercial management practices education programs to reduce water pollution; and

(3) Public restroom and sanitary facilities.

Rates or charges imposed under this chapter for on-site inspection and maintenance services shall reflect the allocable share of the cost of providing the program or service to the person or entity paying the charge, and may not be imposed on the development, construction, or reconstruction of property.

A public utility district may adjust or delay rates and charges and may provide other assistance to aid low-income persons in complying with regulations imposed in connection with this section.

Under this chapter, after January 1, 1997, any requirements for pumping the septic tank of an on-site sewage system should be based, among other things, on actual measurement of accumulation of sludge and scum by a trained operator, trained owner's agent, or trained owner. Training shall occur in a program approved by the state board of health or by a local health officer.

Before adopting an on-site inspection and maintenance utility program, or incorporating residences into an on-site inspection and maintenance or sewer utility under this chapter, notification shall be provided, prior to the applicable public hearing, to all residences within the proposed service area that have on-site systems permitted by the local health officer. The notice shall clearly state that the residence is within the proposed service area and shall provide information on estimated rates or charges that may be imposed for the service.

Sec. 9. RCW 56.08.010 and 1989 c 389 s 2 and 1989 c 308 s 1 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

A sewer district may acquire by purchase or by condemnation and purchase all lands, property rights, water, and water rights, both within and without the district, necessary for its purposes. A sewer district may lease real or personal property necessary for its purposes for a term of years for which such leased property may reasonably be needed where in the opinion of the board of sewer commissioners such property may not be needed permanently or substantial savings to the district can be effected thereby. The right of eminent domain shall be exercised in the same manner and by the same procedure as provided for cities and towns, insofar as consistent with the provisions of this title, except that all assessments or reassessment rolls required to be filed by eminent domain commissioners or commissioners appointed by the court shall be prepared and filed by the district, and the duties devolving upon the city treasurer shall be imposed upon the county treasurer for the purposes hereof. A sewer district may construct, condemn and purchase, add to, maintain, and operate systems of sewers for the purpose of furnishing the district and inhabitants thereof with an adequate system of sewers for all uses and purposes, public and private, including but not limited to on-site sewage disposal facilities, approved septic tanks or approved septic tank systems, on-site sanitary sewerage systems, inspection programs and maintenance programs for private and public on-site systems, other facilities, programs, and systems for the collection, interception, treatment, and disposal of wastewater, and for the control of pollution from wastewater and for the protection, preservation, and rehabilitation of surface and underground waters, facilities for the drainage of storm or surface waters, public highways, streets, and roads with full authority to regulate the use, implementation, and operation thereof and the service rates to be charged and may construct, acquire, or own buildings and other necessary district facilities. Under this chapter, after January 1, 1997, any requirements for pumping the septic tank of an on-site sewage system should be based, among other things, on actual measurement of accumulation of sludge and scum by a trained operator, trained owner's agent, or trained owner. Training shall occur in a program approved by the state board of health or by a local health officer. Such sewage facilities may include facilities which result in combined sewage disposal, treatment, or drainage and electric generation, provided that the electricity generated thereby is a byproduct of the system of sewers. Such electricity may be used by the sewer district or sold to any entity authorized by law to distribute electricity. Such electricity is a byproduct when the electrical generation is subordinate to the primary purpose of sewage disposal, treatment, or drainage. For such purposes a district may conduct sewage throughout the district and throughout other political subdivisions within the district, and construct and lay sewer pipe along and upon public highways, roads, and streets, within and without the district, and condemn and purchase or acquire land and rights of way necessary for such sewer pipe. A district may erect sewage treatment plants, within or without the district, and may acquire by purchase or condemnation, properties or privileges necessary to be had to protect any lakes, rivers, or watercourses and also other areas of land from pollution, from its sewers or its sewage treatment plant. For the purposes of sewage facilities which include facilities which result in combined sewage disposal, treatment, or drainage and electric generation where the electric generation is a byproduct, nothing in this section may be construed to authorize a district to condemn electric generating, transmission, or distribution rights or facilities of entities authorized by law to distribute electricity, or to acquire such rights or facilities without the consent of the owner. A district may charge property owners seeking to connect to the district system of sewers, as a condition to granting the right to so connect, in addition to the cost of such connection, such reasonable connection charge as the board of commissioners shall determine to be proper in order that such property owners shall bear their equitable share of the cost of such system. For purposes of calculating a connection charge, the board of commissioners shall determine the pro rata share of the cost of existing facilities and facilities planned for construction within the next ten years and contained in an adopted comprehensive plan and other costs borne by the district which are directly attributable to the improvements required by property owners seeking to connect to the system. The cost of existing facilities shall not include those portions of the system which have been donated or which have been paid for by grants.

The connection charge may include interest charges applied from the date of construction of the sewer system until the connection, or for a period not to exceed ten years, whichever is shorter, at a rate commensurate with the rate of interest applicable to the district at the time of construction or major rehabilitation of the sewer system, or at the time of installation of the sewer lines to which the property owner is seeking to connect.

A district may permit payment of the cost of connection and the reasonable connection charge to be paid with interest in installments over a period not exceeding fifteen years. The county treasurer may charge and collect a fee of three dollars per parcel for each year for the treasurer's services. Such fees shall be a charge to be included as part of each annual installment, and shall be credited to the county current expense fund by the county treasurer. A district may compel all property owners within the sewer district located within an area served by the district system of sewers to connect their private drain and sewer systems with the district system under such penalty as the sewer commissioners shall prescribe by resolution. The district may for such purpose enter upon private property and connect the private drains or sewers with the district system and the cost thereof shall be charged against the property owner and shall be a lien upon property served.

Revenues from connection charges excluding permit fees are to be considered payments in aid of construction as defined by department of revenue rule. Rates or charges imposed under this chapter for on-site inspection and maintenance services shall reflect the allocable share of the cost of providing the program or service to the person or entity paying the charge, and may not be imposed on the development, construction, or reconstruction of property.

Before adopting an on-site inspection and maintenance utility program, or incorporating residences into an on-site inspection and maintenance or sewer utility under this chapter, notification shall be provided, prior to the applicable public hearing, to all residences within the proposed service area that have on-site systems permitted by the local health officer. The notice shall clearly state that the residence is within the proposed service area and shall provide information on estimated rates or charges that may be imposed for the service.

Sec. 10. RCW 56.08.020 and 1990 1st ex.s. c 17 s 34 are each amended to read as follows:

The sewer commissioners before ordering any improvements hereunder or submitting to vote any proposition for incurring indebtedness shall adopt a general comprehensive plan for a system of sewers for the district. They shall investigate all portions and sections of the district and select a general comprehensive plan for a system of sewers for the district suitable and adequate for present and reasonably foreseeable future needs thereof. The general comprehensive plan shall provide for treatment plants and other methods and programs, if any, for the prevention, control, and reduction of water pollution and for the treatment and disposal of sewage and industrial and other liquid wastes now produced or which may reasonably be expected to be produced within the district and shall, for such portions of the district as may then reasonably be served, provide for the acquisition or construction and installation of laterals, trunk sewers, intercepting sewers, syphons, pumping stations, or other sewage collection facilities. The general comprehensive plan shall provide the method of distributing the cost and expense of the sewer system and programs provided therein against the district and against utility local improvement districts within the district, including any utility local improvement district lying wholly or partially within any other political subdivision included in the district; and provide whether the whole or some part of the cost and expenses shall be paid from sewer revenue bonds. The commissioners may employ such engineering and legal services as they deem necessary in carrying out the purposes hereof.

The general comprehensive plan shall be adopted by resolution and submitted to an engineer designated by the legislative authority of the county in which fifty-one percent or more of the area of the district is located, and to the director of health of the county in which the district or any portion thereof is located, and must be approved in writing by the engineer and director of health. The general comprehensive plan shall be approved, conditionally approved, or rejected by the director of health within sixty days of the plan's receipt and by the designated engineer within sixty days of the plan's receipt. However, this sixty-day time limitation may be extended by the director of health or engineer for up to an additional sixty days if sufficient time is not available to review adequately the general comprehensive plans.

Before becoming effective, the general comprehensive plan shall also be submitted to, and approved by resolution of, the legislative authority of every county within whose boundaries all or a portion of the sewer district lies. The general comprehensive plan shall be approved, conditionally approved, or rejected by each of these county legislative authorities pursuant to the criteria in RCW 56.02.060 for approving the formation, reorganization, annexation, consolidation, or merger of sewer districts, and the resolution, ordinance, or motion of the legislative body which rejects the comprehensive plan or a part thereof shall specifically state in what particular the comprehensive plan or part thereof rejected fails to meet these criteria. The general comprehensive plan shall not provide for the extension or location of facilities that are inconsistent with the requirements of RCW 36.70A.110. Nothing in this chapter shall preclude a county from rejecting a proposed plan because it is in conflict with the criteria in RCW 56.02.060. Each general comprehensive plan shall be deemed approved if the county legislative authority fails to reject or conditionally approve the plan within ninety days of submission to the county legislative authority or within thirty days of a hearing on the plan when the hearing is held within ninety days of the plan's submission to the county legislative authority. However, a county legislative authority may extend this ninety-day time limitation by up to an additional ninety days where a finding is made that ninety days is insufficient to review adequately the general comprehensive plan. In addition, the sewer commissioners and the county legislative authority may mutually agree to an extension of the deadlines in this section.

If the district includes portions or all of one or more cities or towns, the general comprehensive plan shall be submitted also to, and approved by resolution of, the governing body of such cities and towns before becoming effective. The general comprehensive plan shall be deemed approved by the city or town governing body if the city or town governing body fails to reject or conditionally approve the plan within ninety days of the plan's submission to the city or town or within thirty days of a hearing on the plan when the hearing is held within ninety days of submission to the county legislative authority. However, a city or town governing body may extend this time limitation by up to an additional ninety days where a finding is made that insufficient time exists to adequately review the general comprehensive plan within these time limitations. In addition, the sewer commissioners and the city or town governing body may mutually agree to an extension of the deadlines in this section.

Before becoming effective, any amendment to, alteration of, or addition to, a general comprehensive plan shall also be subject to such approval as if it were a new general comprehensive plan: PROVIDED, That only if the amendment, alteration, or addition, affects a particular city or town, shall the amendment, alteration, or addition be subject to approval by such particular city or town governing body.

Sec. 11. RCW 56.16.090 and 1991 c 347 s 19 are each amended to read as follows:

The sewer commissioners of any sewer district, in the event that such sewer revenue bonds are issued, shall provide for revenues by fixing rates and charges for the furnishing of sewerage disposal service, facilities, and programs to those to whom such service is available. Such rates and charges may be combined for the furnishing of more than one type of sewer service, facility, and program such as but not limited to storm or surface water and sanitary. Such rates and charges are to be fixed as deemed necessary by such sewer commissioners, so that uniform charges will be made for the same class of customer or service, facility, and program.

In classifying customers served or service, facility, or program furnished by such system of sewerage, the board of commissioners may in its discretion consider any or all of the following factors: The difference in cost ((of service)) to the various customers; the location of the various customers within and without the district; the difference in cost of maintenance, operation, repair, and replacement of the various parts of the system; the different character of the service, facility, or program furnished various customers; the quantity and quality of the sewage delivered and the time of its delivery; the achievement of water conservation goals and the discouragement of wasteful water use practices; capital contributions made to the system including but not limited to assessments; and any other matters which present a reasonable difference as a ground for distinction. Such rates are to be made on a monthly basis and shall produce revenues sufficient to take care of the costs of maintenance and operation, revenue bond and warrant interest and principal amortization requirements, and all other charges necessary for efficient and proper operation of the system.

Sec. 12. RCW 57.08.065 and 1981 c 45 s 11 are each amended to read as follows:

In addition to the powers now given water districts by law, they shall also have power to establish, maintain and operate a mutual water and ((sewer)) sewerage system or a separate ((sewer)) system of sewerage within their water district area in the same manner as provided by law for the doing thereof in connection with water supply systems.

In addition thereto, a water district constructing, maintaining ((and)), operating, and implementing a ((sanitary sewer)) system of sewerage may exercise all the powers permitted to a sewer district under Title 56 RCW, including, but not limited to, the right to compel connections to the district's system, liens for delinquent sewer connection charges or sewer service charges, and all other powers presently exercised by or which may be hereafter granted to such sewer districts: PROVIDED, That a water district may not exercise sewer district powers in any area within its boundaries which is part of an existing district which previously shall have been duly authorized to exercise sewer district powers in such area without the consent by resolution of the board of commissioners of such other district: PROVIDED FURTHER, That no water district shall proceed to exercise the powers herein granted to establish, maintain, construct and operate any ((sewer)) system of sewerage without first obtaining written approval and certification of necessity so to do from the department of ecology and department of ((social and)) health ((services)). Any comprehensive plan for a system of sewers or addition thereto or betterment thereof shall be approved by the same county and state officials as are required to approve such plans adopted by a sewer district.

A water district shall have the power to issue general obligation bonds for sewer system purposes: PROVIDED, That a proposition to authorize general obligation bonds payable from excess tax levies for sewer system purposes pursuant to chapter 56.16 RCW shall be submitted to all of the qualified voters within that part of the water district which is not contained within another existing district duly authorized to exercise sewer district powers, and the taxes to pay the principal of and interest on the bonds approved by such voters shall be levied only upon all of the taxable property within such part of the water district.

Sec. 13. RCW 90.72.040 and 1992 c 100 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The county legislative authority may create a shellfish protection district on its own motion or by submitting the question to the voters of the proposed district and obtaining the approval of a majority of those voting. The boundaries of the district shall be determined by the legislative authority. The legislative authority may create more than one district. A district may include any area or areas within the county, whether incorporated or unincorporated. Counties shall coordinate and cooperate with cities, towns, and water-related special districts within their boundaries in establishing shellfish protection districts and carrying out shellfish protection programs. Where a portion of the proposed district lies within an incorporated area, the county shall develop procedures for the participation of the city or town in the determination of the boundaries of the district and the administration of the district, including funding of the district's programs. The legislative authority of more than one county may by agreement provide for the creation of a district including areas within each of those counties. County legislative authorities are encouraged to coordinate their plans and programs to protect shellfish growing areas, especially where shellfish growing areas are located within the boundaries of more than one county. The legislative authority or authorities creating a district may abolish a shellfish protection district on its or their own motion or by submitting the question to the voters of the district and obtaining the approval of a majority of those voting.

(2) If the county legislative authority creates a shellfish protection district by its own motion, any registered voter residing within the boundaries of the shellfish protection district may file a referendum petition to repeal the ordinance that created the district. Any referendum petition to repeal the ordinance creating the shellfish protection district shall be filed with the county auditor within seven days of passage of the ordinance. Within ten days of the filing of a petition, the county auditor shall confer with the petitioner concerning form and style of the petition, issue an identification number for the petition, and write a ballot title for the measure. The ballot title shall be posed as a question so that an affirmative answer to the question and an affirmative vote on the measure results in creation of the shellfish protection district and a negative answer to the question and a negative vote on the measure results in the shellfish protection district not being created. The petitioner shall be notified of the identification number and ballot title within this ten-day period.

After this notification, the petitioner shall have thirty days in which to secure on petition forms the signatures of not less than twenty-five percent of the registered voters residing within the boundaries of the shellfish protection district and file the signed petitions with the county auditor. Each petition form shall contain the ballot title and full text of the measure to be referred. The county auditor shall verify the sufficiency of the signatures on the petitions. If sufficient valid signatures are properly submitted, the county auditor shall submit the referendum measure to the registered voters residing in the shellfish protection district in a special election no later than one hundred twenty days after the signed petition has been filed with the county auditor. The special election may be conducted by mail ballot as provided for in chapter 29.36 RCW.

(3) The county legislative authority shall not impose fees, rates, or charges for shellfish protection district programs upon properties on which fees, rates, or charges are imposed ~~((to pay for another program to eliminate or decrease contamination in storm water runoff))~~ under chapter 36.89 or 36.94 RCW for substantially the same programs and services.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. Nothing in this act may be deemed to eliminate any requirements for approval from public health agencies under applicable law in connection with the siting, design, construction, and repair of on-site septic systems.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. Section 8 of this act shall take effect January 1, 1996."

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 6044, by Senators Owen, Prince and Kohl

Revising the selection process for transportation systems and facilities demonstration projects.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Owen, Substitute Senate Bill No. 6044 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 6044 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

Senator Owen moved that the following amendment by Senators Owen, Quigley, Long, Prince, Finkbeiner, Wood, Schow, Roach and Kohl be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 47.46.010 and 1993 c 370 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

The legislature finds and declares:

It is essential for the economic, social, and environmental well-being of the state and the maintenance of a high quality of life that the people of the state have an efficient transportation system.

The ability of the state to provide an efficient transportation system will be enhanced by a public-private sector program providing for private entities to undertake all or a portion of the study, planning, design, development, financing, acquisition, installation, construction or improvement, operation, and maintenance of transportation systems and facility projects.

A public-private initiatives program will provide benefits to both the public and private sectors. Public-private initiatives provide a sound economic investment opportunity for the private sector. Such initiatives will provide the state with increased access to property development and project opportunities, financial and development expertise, and will supplement state transportation revenues, allowing the state to use its limited resources for other needed projects.

The public-private initiatives program, to the fullest extent possible, should encourage and promote business and employment opportunities for Washington state citizens.

The public-private initiatives program should be implemented in cooperation and consultation with affected local jurisdictions.

The secretary of transportation should be permitted and encouraged to test the feasibility of building privately funded transportation systems and facilities or segments thereof through the use of innovative agreements with the private sector. The secretary of transportation should be vested with the authority to solicit, evaluate, negotiate, and administer public-private agreements with the private sector relating to the planning, construction, upgrading, or reconstruction of transportation systems and facilities.

Agreements negotiated under a public-private initiatives program will not bestow on private entities an immediate right to construct and operate the proposed transportation facilities. Rather, agreements will grant to private entities the opportunity to design the proposed facilities, demonstrate public support for proposed facilities, and complete the planning processes required in order to obtain a future decision by the department of transportation and other state and local lead agencies on whether the facilities should be permitted and built.

Agreements negotiated under the public-private initiative's program should establish the conditions under which the private developer may secure the approval necessary to develop and operate the proposed transportation facilities; create a framework to attract the private capital necessary to finance their development; and ensure that the transportation facilities will be designed, constructed, and operated in accordance with applicable local, regional, state, and federal laws and the applicable standards and policies of the department of transportation.

The department of transportation should be encouraged to take advantage of new opportunities provided by federal legislation under section 1012 of the Intermodal Surface Transportation Efficiency Act of 1991 (ISTEA). That section establishes a new program authorizing federal participation in construction or improvement or improvement of publicly or privately owned toll roads, bridges, and tunnels, and allows states to leverage available federal funds as a means for attracting private sector capital.

Sec. 2. RCW 47.46.030 and 1993 c 370 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The secretary or a designee shall solicit proposals from, and negotiate and enter into agreements with, private entities to undertake as appropriate, together with the department and other public entities, all or a portion of the study, planning, design, construction, operation, and maintenance of transportation systems and facilities, using in whole or in part private sources of financing.

The public-private initiative program may develop up to six demonstration projects. Each proposal shall be weighed on its own merits, and each of the six agreements shall be negotiated individually, and as a stand-alone project. The commission shall approve each of the selected projects.

~~((Proposals and demonstration projects may be selected by the public and private sectors at their discretion.))~~

(2) Projects selected prior to and after September 1, 1994, must comply with the requirements of subsections (3) through (8) of this section.

(3) No projects selected or agreements entered into under this chapter take effect until the department conducts a comprehensive analysis of traffic patterns and economic impact to determine and define the geographical boundary of the area of the project that is most affected by the imposition of tolls or user fees authorized under this chapter. The area so defined is referred to in this section as the affected project area. In defining the affected project area, the department in consultation with the legislative transportation committee shall, at a minimum, undertake: (a) A comparison of the estimated percentage of residents of communities in the vicinity of and impacted by the project who could be subject to tolls or user fees and the estimated percentage of other users and transient traffic that could be subject to tolls or user fees; (b) anticipated traffic diversion patterns; and (c) potential economic impact resulting from proposed toll rates or user fee rates imposed on residents of and commercial traffic and commercial entities in communities in the vicinity of and impacted by the project. The department shall provide the legislative transportation committee with progress reports on the status of the definition of the affected project.

(4) After a determination and definition by the department of the affected project area, the department shall conduct a minimum thirty-day public comment period. Within fifteen days following the public comment period, the legislative transportation committee may conduct a hearing on the defined affected project area. The department may make adjustments to the definition of the geographical boundary of the affected project area, based on comments received from the public and a hearing by the legislative transportation committee. Within thirty days after the public comment period, the department shall establish the boundaries of the affected project area in units no smaller than a precinct as defined by RCW 29.01.120.

(5) The department shall establish a process that provides for public involvement in decision making with respect to the affected project area. In carrying out the public involvement process the department shall proactively seek public participation through a process appropriate to the characteristics of the affected project area that assesses overall public support among users and residents of the affected project area. Such public involvement process shall provide opportunities for users and residents of the affected project area to comment upon key issues regarding the project including, but not limited to: (a) Alternative sizes and scopes; (b) design; (c) environmental assessment; (d) right of way and access plans; (e) traffic impacts; (f) tolling or user fee strategies and tolling or user fee ranges; (g) project cost; (h) construction impacts; (i) facility operation; and (j) any other salient characteristics.

(6) The results of the public involvement process shall be made available for public review and comment.

The department shall provide the legislative transportation committee with progress reports on the status of the public involvement process. The results of such public involvement process, including public comment, shall be forwarded to the legislative transportation committee for its review. Within forty-five calendar days of submission of such information, the legislative transportation committee shall conduct a public hearing regarding the results of the public involvement process. Taking into account the information submitted, the legislative transportation committee shall adopt a resolution making a recommendation to the secretary of the department of transportation regarding the appropriateness of the definition of the affected project area and the project description and characteristics.

(7) In response to the recommendation of the legislative transportation committee, the secretary, within two weeks after receipt of legislative transportation committee recommendation, shall transmit a copy of the map depicting the affected project area and the project description and characteristics to the county auditor of the county in which any portion of the affected project area is located.

(8) Upon receipt of the map and the project description and characteristics, the county auditor shall, within sixty days, verify the precincts that are located within the affected project area. The county auditor shall prepare the text identifying and describing the affected project area and the project and shall set a special election date for the submission of a ballot proposition authorizing the imposition of tolls or user fees within the affected project area. The text of the project must appear in a voter's pamphlet for the affected project area. The department shall pay for the costs of publication and distribution. The special election date must be the next date for a special election provided under RCW 29.13.020 that is at least sixty days but, if authorized under RCW 29.13.020, no more than ninety days after receipt of the final map and project description and characteristics by the auditor. The department shall pay the costs of an election held under this section. A simple majority of those voting within the affected project area to authorize tolls or user fees within the project area is required for approval. If the vote is affirmative, the department is authorized to solicit proposals for replacement projects. If the vote is affirmative for a project selected prior to September 1, 1994, the department may enter into an agreement authorized under RCW 47.46.040 with a private entity.

(9) All projects designed, constructed, and operated under this authority must comply with all applicable rules and statutes in existence at the time the agreement is executed, including but not limited to the following provisions: Chapter 39.12 RCW, this title, RCW 41.06.380, chapter 47.64 RCW, RCW 49.60.180, and 49 C.F.R. Part 21.

(10) The secretary or a designee shall consult with legal, financial, and other experts within and outside state government in the negotiation and development of the agreements.

Sec. 3. RCW 47.46.040 and 1993 c 370 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

Agreements shall provide for private ownership of the projects during the construction period. After completion and final acceptance of each project or discrete segment thereof, the agreement shall provide for state ownership of the transportation systems and facilities and lease to the private entity unless the state elects to provide for ownership of the facility by the private entity during the term of the agreement.

The state shall lease each of the demonstration projects, or applicable project segments, to the private entities for operating purposes for up to fifty years.

The department may exercise any power possessed by it to facilitate the development, construction, financing, operation, and maintenance of transportation projects under this chapter. Agreements for maintenance services entered into under this section shall provide for full reimbursement for services rendered by the department or other state agencies. Agreements for police services for projects developed under ~~((the))~~ agreements may be entered into with ~~((any qualified law enforcement agency, and shall provide for full reimbursement for services rendered by that agency))~~ the Washington state patrol. The agreement for police services shall provide that the state patrol will be reimbursed for costs on a comparable basis with the costs incurred on other state highway facilities. The department may provide services for which it is reimbursed, including but not limited to preliminary planning, environmental certification, and preliminary design of the demonstration projects.

The plans and specifications for each project constructed under this section shall comply with the department's standards for state projects. A facility constructed by and leased to a private entity is deemed to be a part of the state highway system for purposes of identification, maintenance, and enforcement of traffic laws and for the purposes of applicable sections of this title. Upon reversion of the facility to the state, the project must meet all applicable state standards. Agreements shall address responsibility for reconstruction or renovations that are required in order for a facility to meet all applicable state standards upon reversion of the facility to the state.

For the purpose of facilitating these projects and to assist the private entity in the financing, development, construction, and operation of the transportation systems and facilities, the agreements may include provisions for the department to exercise its authority, including the lease of facilities, rights of way, and airspace, exercise of the power of eminent domain, granting of development rights and opportunities, granting of necessary easements and rights of access, issuance of permits and other authorizations, protection from competition, remedies in the event of default of either of the parties, granting of contractual and real property rights, liability during construction and the term of the lease, authority to negotiate acquisition of rights of way in excess of appraised value, and any other provision deemed necessary by the secretary.

The agreements entered into under this section may include provisions authorizing the state to grant necessary easements and lease to a private entity existing rights of way or rights of way subsequently acquired with public or private financing. The agreements may also include provisions to lease to the entity airspace above or below the right of way associated or to be associated with the private entity's transportation facility. In consideration for the reversion rights in these privately constructed facilities, the department may negotiate a charge for the lease of airspace rights during the term of the agreement for a period not to exceed fifty years. If, after the expiration of this period, the department continues to lease these airspace rights to the private entity, it shall do so only at fair market value. The agreement may also provide the private entity the right of first refusal to undertake projects utilizing airspace owned by the state in the vicinity of the public-private project.

Agreements under this section may include any contractual provision that is necessary to protect the project revenues required to repay the costs incurred to study, plan, design, finance, acquire, build, install, operate, enforce laws, and maintain toll highways, bridges, and tunnels and which will not unreasonably inhibit or prohibit the development of additional public transportation systems and facilities. Agreements under this section must secure and maintain liability insurance coverage in amounts appropriate to protect the project's viability and may address state indemnification of the private entity for design and construction liability where the state has approved relevant design and construction plans.

Nothing in this chapter limits the right of the secretary and his or her agents to render such advice and to make such recommendations as they deem to be in the best interests of the state and the public.

Sec. 4. RCW 47.46.050 and 1993 c 370 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The department may enter into agreements using federal, state, and local financing in connection with the projects, including without limitation, grants, loans, and other measures authorized by section 1012 of ISTEPA, and to do such things as necessary and desirable to maximize the funding and financing, including the formation of a revolving loan fund to implement this section.

(2) Agreements entered into under this section shall authorize the private entity to lease the facilities within a designated area or areas from the state and to impose user fees or tolls within the designated area to allow a reasonable rate of return on investment, as established through a negotiated agreement between the state and the private entity. The negotiated agreement shall determine a maximum rate of return on investment, based on project characteristics. If the negotiated rate of return on investment is not affected, the private entity may establish and modify toll rates and user fees.

(3) Agreements may establish "incentive" rates of return beyond the negotiated maximum rate of return on investment. The incentive rates of return shall be designed to provide financial benefits to the affected public jurisdictions and the private entity, given the attainment of various safety, performance, or transportation demand management goals. The incentive rates of return shall be negotiated in the agreement.

(4) Agreements shall require that over the term of the ownership or lease the user fees or toll revenues be applied only to payment of the private entity's capital outlay costs for the project, including interest expense, the costs associated with construction, operations, toll collection, maintenance and administration of the ~~((facility))~~ project, reimbursement to the state for all costs associated with an election as required under RCW 47.46.030, the costs of project review and oversight, technical and law enforcement services, establishment of a fund to assure the adequacy of maintenance expenditures, and a reasonable return on investment to the private entity. ~~((The use of any excess toll revenues or user fees may be negotiated between the parties.~~

~~After expiration of the lease of a facility to a private entity, the secretary may continue to charge user fees or tolls for the use of the facility, with these revenues to be used for operations and maintenance of the facility, or to be paid to the local transportation planning agency, or any combination of such uses.))~~ A negotiated agreement shall not extend the term of the ownership or lease beyond the period of time required for payment of the private entity's capital outlay costs for the project under subsection (4) of this section."

MOTION

Senator Quigley moved that the following amendment by Senators Quigley, Finkbeiner and Long to the striking amendment by Senators Owen, Quigley, Long, Prince, Finkbeiner, Wood, Schow, Roach and Kohl be adopted:

On page 2, after line 10, insert the following:

"The legislature finds that in the case of Highway 522, selected under this chapter, public support has not been demonstrated and therefore the secretary shall not proceed. Among the demonstrations of nonsupport for inclusion of Highway 522 are:

(1) Over sixteen thousand citizens have signed petitions in opposition to the toll project;

(2) The majority of city councilmembers in Monroe, Duvall, and Index have made public statements opposing the toll project, and that the Woodinville chamber of commerce has officially opposed the toll project;

(3) No city council or chamber of commerce in the area has favored the toll project;

(4) Of the five hundred individuals who attended the public information hearings on the toll proposal, four hundred fifty-eight signed a petition requesting that the proposal be rejected;

(5) Businesses in Monroe, Woodinville, Duvall, Snohomish, Sultan, Startup, Gold Bar, Index, Skykomish, and Stevens Pass are extremely dependent on Highway 522 for commerce, that due to the rural nature of these areas no alternative for commerce exists, and that a toll on Highway 522 would severely inhibit their ability to stay in business; and

(6) In an informal poll of residents who currently use Highway 522 to shop, eighty-one and one-half percent of the respondents claimed they would be unlikely to continue shopping at these stores if a toll were imposed."

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senators Quigley, Finkbeiner and Long on page 2, after line 10, to the striking amendment by Senators Owen, Quigley, Long, Prince, Finkbeiner, Wood, Schow, Roach and Kohl to Substitute Senate Bill No. 6044.

"(2) A state transportation system or facility selected as a demonstration project under this chapter, that is designated by the commission as a prioritized improvement project under the comprehensive six-year investment program set forth in RCW 47.05.051, shall not be reprioritized as a result of its selection as a demonstration project. As state funds become available, the funds must be used toward the capital costs of the demonstration project, or in the case of a project developed in phases, for the phase or segment. If no state funding is required to finance the demonstration project, state funds that become available for such project under RCW 47.05.051 instead must be used (a) to reduce the rate of tolls or user fees imposed on the demonstration project, or (b) for improvements on alternative state or local nontoll routes that provide a reasonable, free, and convenient access alternative to the demonstration project."

Renumber the remaining subsections consecutively and correct internal references accordingly.

On page 8, after line 31, insert the following:

MOTION

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 53.54.020 and 1984 c 193 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((Prior to))~~ (1) Before initiating programs as authorized in this chapter, the port commission shall ((undertake the investigation and monitoring of) investigate and monitor aircraft noise impacts to determine the nature and extent of the impacts, and shall develop aircraft noise exposure maps diagramming the DNL (Day-Night Level) contour of the noise-impacted areas. Investigation and monitoring must occur periodically as required under 14 C.F.R. Sec. 150.21(a), and the investigation and monitoring must conform to the methodologies accepted and recommended by the Federal Aviation Administration for measuring noise impacts.

(2) The port commission shall adopt a program of noise impact abatement based upon the investigations and as amended periodically to conform to needs demonstrated by the monitoring programs(~~(: PROVIDED, That))~~. However, in no case may the port district undertake any of the programs of this chapter ((in an area which is more than six miles beyond the paved end of any runway or more than one mile from the centerline of any runway or from an imaginary runway centerline extending six miles from the paved end of such runway. Such areas as determined above, shall be known as "impacted areas")) outside a noise-impacted area. For purposes of this chapter, a noise-impacted area is defined as the approximate area exposed to noise levels of 65 DNL or greater, or as identified by the Federal Aviation Administration, as shown on the noise exposure map for the most recent year produced by the port commission and accepted by the Federal Aviation Administration.

(3) As part of its noise-monitoring activities for the Seattle-Tacoma International Airport, the port district shall affix and maintain at least six noise-monitoring devices located within neighborhoods located both inside and outside the area designated 65 DNL on the port's most recent noise exposure map. These devices must monitor noise levels continuously throughout the year. The port district shall use data generated by these noise-monitoring devices in developing required updates to the noise contour maps.

Sec. 2. RCW 53.54.030 and 1993 c 150 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

For the purposes of this chapter, in developing a remedial program, the port commission may ~~((utilize))~~ use one or more of the following programs:

(1) Acquisition of property or property rights within the impacted area, which shall be deemed necessary to accomplish a port purpose. The port district may purchase such property or property rights by time payment notwithstanding the time limitations provided for in RCW 53.08.010. The port district may mortgage or otherwise pledge any such properties acquired to secure such transactions. The port district may assume any outstanding mortgages.

(2) Transaction assistance programs, including assistance with real estate fees and mortgage assistance, and other neighborhood remedial programs as compensation for impacts due to aircraft noise and noise associated conditions. Any such programs shall be in connection with properties located within an impacted area and shall be ~~((provided upon terms and conditions as the port district shall determine appropriate))~~ administered in accordance with applicable federal regulations.

(3) Programs of soundproofing structures located within an impacted area. Such programs may be executed without regard to the ownership, provided the owner waives damages and conveys an easement for the operation of aircraft, and for noise and noise associated conditions therewith, to the port district.

(a) When conducting noise programs for soundproofing structures located within the impacted area of the Seattle-Tacoma International Airport, the port commission shall use the services of a firm specializing in acoustical insulation to specify the types of insulation to be provided in the program and to be consulted as to how the program is to be administered. If the Federal Aviation Administration does not conduct an audit of the program at least every two years, the port shall hire a private firm to audit the program to ensure that it meets the criteria of the applicable federal regulations.

(b) The port commission shall not provide insulation for structures located in areas exposed to noise levels of 75 DNL or greater unless included in a federally approved program. Noise compatibility programs must be administered in accordance with applicable state and federal statutes and regulations.

(c) If any habitable structure within the noise impact area cannot be insulated to reduce the noise level below 45 DNL, the port commission shall place the property on the list of properties eligible for acquisition under subsection (1) of this section.

(4) Mortgage insurance of private owners of lands or improvements within such noise impacted area where such private owners are unable to obtain mortgage insurance solely because of noise impact. In this regard, the port district may establish reasonable regulations and may impose reasonable conditions and charges upon the granting of such mortgage insurance: PROVIDED, That such fees and charges shall at no time exceed fees established for federal mortgage insurance programs for like service.

(5) An individual property may be provided benefits by the port district under each of the programs described in subsections (1) through (4) of this section. However, an individual property may not be provided benefits under any one of these programs more than once, unless the property is subjected to increased aircraft noise or differing aircraft noise impacts that would have afforded different levels of mitigation, even if the property owner had waived all damages and conveyed a full and unrestricted easement.

(6) Management of all lands, easements, or development rights acquired, including but not limited to the following:

(a) Rental of any or all lands or structures acquired;

(b) Redevelopment of any such lands for any economic use consistent with airport operations, local zoning and the state environmental policy;

(c) Sale of such properties for cash or for time payment and subjection of such property to mortgage or other security transaction: PROVIDED, That any such sale shall reserve to the port district by covenant an unconditional right of easement for the operation of all aircraft and for all noise or noise conditions associated therewith.

(7) A property shall be considered within the impacted area if any part thereof is within the impacted area.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 53.54 RCW to read as follows:

When conducting appraisals of noise-impacted properties in conjunction with transaction assistance programs, the port commission shall use comparable properties located outside the impacted area when determining the fair market value of the subject property."

PART II - STATE ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY ACT	16
PART III - SHORELINE MANAGEMENT ACT	28
PART IV - LOCAL PERMIT PROCESS	54
PART V - DEVELOPMENT AGREEMENTS	79
PART VI - STATE PERMIT COORDINATION	81
PART VII - APPEALS	91
PART IX - MISCELLANEOUS	104

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature recognizes by this act that the growth management act is a fundamental building block of regulatory reform. The state and local governments have invested considerable resources in an act that should serve as the integrating framework for all other land-use related laws. The growth management act provides the means to effectively combine certainty for development decisions, reasonable environmental protection, long-range planning for cost-effective infrastructure, and orderly growth and development.

PART I - GROWTH MANAGEMENT ACT

NEW SECTION. Sec. 101. The legislature finds that during project review, a county or city planning under RCW 36.70A.040 is likely to discover the need to make various improvements in comprehensive plans and development regulations. There is no current requirement or process for applicants, citizens, or agency staff to ensure that these improvements are considered in the plan review process. The legislature also finds that in the past environmental review and permitting of proposed projects have been used to reopen and make land use planning decisions that should have been made through the comprehensive planning process, in part because agency staff and hearing examiners have not been able to ensure consideration of all issues in the local planning process. The legislature further finds that, while plans and regulations should be improved and refined over time, it is unfair to penalize applicants that have submitted permit applications that meet current requirements. It is the intent of the legislature in enacting section 102 of this act to establish a means by which cities and counties will docket suggested plan or development regulation amendments and ensure their consideration during the planning process.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 102. A new section is added to chapter 36.70A RCW to read as follows:

(1) Project review, which shall be conducted pursuant to the provisions of chapter 36.-- RCW (the new chapter created in section 431 of this act), shall be used to make individual project decisions, not land use planning decisions. If, during project review, a county or city planning under RCW 36.70A.040 identifies deficiencies in plans or regulations:

- (a) The permitting process shall not be used as a comprehensive planning process;
- (b) Project review shall continue; and
- (c) The identified deficiencies shall be docketed for possible future plan or development regulation amendments.

(2) Each county and city planning under RCW 36.70A.040 shall include in its development regulations a procedure for any interested person, including applicants, citizens, hearing examiners, and staff of other agencies, to suggest plan or development regulation amendments. The suggested amendments shall be docketed and considered on at least an annual basis, consistent with the provisions of RCW 36.70A.130.

(3) For purposes of this section, a deficiency in a comprehensive plan or development regulation refers to the absence of required or potentially desirable contents of a comprehensive plan or development regulation. It does not refer to whether a development regulation addresses a project's probable specific adverse environmental impacts which the permitting agency could mitigate in the normal project review process.

(4) For purposes of this section, docketing refers to compiling and maintaining a list of suggested changes to the comprehensive plan or development regulations in a manner that will ensure such suggested changes will be considered by the county or city and will be available for review by the public.

Sec. 103. RCW 36.70A.030 and 1994 c 307 s 2 and 1994 c 257 s 5 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Adopt a comprehensive land use plan" means to enact a new comprehensive land use plan or to update an existing comprehensive land use plan.

(2) "Agricultural land" means land primarily devoted to the commercial production of horticultural, viticultural, floricultural, dairy, apiary, vegetable, or animal products or of berries, grain, hay, straw, turf, seed, Christmas trees not subject to the excise tax imposed by RCW 84.33.100 through 84.33.140, finfish in upland hatcheries, or livestock, and that has long-term commercial significance for agricultural production.

(3) "City" means any city or town, including a code city.

(4) "Comprehensive land use plan," "comprehensive plan," or "plan" means a generalized coordinated land use policy statement of the governing body of a county or city that is adopted pursuant to this chapter.

(5) "Critical areas" include the following areas and ecosystems: (a) Wetlands; (b) areas with a critical recharging effect on aquifers used for potable water; (c) fish and wildlife habitat conservation areas; (d) frequently flooded areas; and (e) geologically hazardous areas.

(6) "Department" means the department of community, trade, and economic development.

(7) ~~((For purposes of RCW 36.70A.065 and 36.70A.440, "development permit application" means any application for a development proposal for a use that could be permitted under a plan adopted pursuant to this chapter and is consistent with the underlying land use and zoning, including but not limited to building permits, subdivisions, binding site plans, planned unit developments, conditional uses or other applications pertaining to land uses, but shall not include rezones, proposed amendments to comprehensive plans or the adoption or amendment of development regulations.~~

~~((8))~~ (8) "Development regulations" means ~~((any))~~ the controls placed on development or land use activities by a county or city, including, but not limited to, zoning ordinances, critical areas ordinances, shoreline master programs, official controls, planned unit development ordinances, subdivision ordinances, and binding site plan ordinances together with any amendments thereto. A development regulation does not include a decision to approve a project permit application, as defined in section 402 of this act, even though the decision may be expressed in a resolution or ordinance of the legislative body of the county or city.

~~((9))~~ (8) "Forest land" means land primarily devoted to growing trees for long-term commercial timber production on land that can be economically and practically managed for such production, including Christmas trees subject to the excise tax imposed under RCW 84.33.100 through 84.33.140, and that has long-term commercial significance. In determining whether forest land is primarily devoted to growing trees for long-term commercial timber production on land that can be economically and practically managed for such production, the following factors shall be considered: (a) The proximity of the land to urban, suburban, and rural settlements; (b) surrounding parcel size and the compatibility and intensity of adjacent and nearby land uses; (c) long-term local economic conditions that affect the ability to manage for timber production; and (d) the availability of public facilities and services conducive to conversion of forest land to other uses.

~~((10))~~ (9) "Geologically hazardous areas" means areas that because of their susceptibility to erosion, sliding, earthquake, or other geological events, are not suited to the siting of commercial, residential, or industrial development consistent with public health or safety concerns.

~~((11))~~ (10) "Long-term commercial significance" includes the growing capacity, productivity, and soil composition of the land for long-term commercial production, in consideration with the land's proximity to population areas, and the possibility of more intense uses of the land.

~~((12))~~ (11) "Minerals" include gravel, sand, and valuable metallic substances.

~~((13))~~ (12) "Public facilities" include streets, roads, highways, sidewalks, street and road lighting systems, traffic signals, domestic water systems, storm and sanitary sewer systems, parks and recreational facilities, and schools.

~~((14))~~ (13) "Public services" include fire protection and suppression, law enforcement, public health, education, recreation, environmental protection, and other governmental services.

~~((15))~~ (14) "Urban growth" refers to growth that makes intensive use of land for the location of buildings, structures, and impermeable surfaces to such a degree as to be incompatible with the primary use of such land for the production of food, other agricultural products, or fiber, or the extraction of mineral resources. When allowed to spread over wide areas, urban growth typically requires urban governmental services. "Characterized by urban growth" refers to land having urban growth located on it, or to land located in relationship to an area with urban growth on it as to be appropriate for urban growth.

~~((16))~~ (15) "Urban growth areas" means those areas designated by a county pursuant to RCW 36.70A.110.

~~((17))~~ (16) "Urban governmental services" include those governmental services historically and typically delivered by cities, and include storm and sanitary sewer systems, domestic water systems, street cleaning services, fire and police protection services, public transit services, and other public utilities associated with urban areas and normally not associated with nonurban areas.

~~((18))~~ (17) "Wetland" or "wetlands" means areas that are inundated or saturated by surface water or ground water at a frequency and duration sufficient to support, and that under normal circumstances do support, a prevalence of vegetation typically adapted for life in saturated soil conditions. Wetlands generally include swamps, marshes, bogs, and similar areas. Wetlands do not include those artificial wetlands intentionally created from nonwetland sites, including, but not limited to, irrigation and drainage ditches, grass-lined swales, canals, detention facilities, wastewater treatment facilities, farm ponds, and landscape amenities. ~~((However,))~~ Wetlands may include those artificial wetlands intentionally created from nonwetland areas created to mitigate conversion of wetlands ~~((, if permitted by the county or city)).~~

NEW SECTION. Sec. 104. A new section is added to chapter 36.70A RCW to read as follows:

(1) For shorelines of the state, the goals and policies of the shoreline management act as set forth in RCW 90.58.020 are added as one of the goals of this chapter as set forth in RCW 36.70A.020. The goals and policies of a shoreline master program for a county or city approved under chapter 90.58 RCW shall be considered an element of the county or city's comprehensive plan. All other portions of the shoreline master program for a county or city adopted under chapter 90.58 RCW, including use regulations, shall be considered a part of the county or city's development regulations.

(2) The shoreline master program shall be adopted pursuant to the procedures of chapter 90.58 RCW rather than the procedures set forth in this chapter for the adoption of a comprehensive plan or development regulations.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 105. A new section is added to chapter 36.70A RCW to read as follows:

(1) In designating and protecting critical areas under this chapter, counties and cities shall include the best available science in developing policies and development regulations to protect the functions and values of critical areas. In addition, counties and cities shall give special consideration to conservation or protection measures necessary to preserve or enhance anadromous fisheries.

(2) If it determines that advice from scientific or other experts is necessary or will be of substantial assistance in reaching its decision, a growth management hearings board may retain scientific or other expert advice to assist in reviewing a petition under RCW 36.70A.290 that involves critical areas.

Sec. 106. RCW 36.70A.130 and 1990 1st ex.s. c 17 s 13 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Each comprehensive land use plan and development regulations shall be subject to continuing evaluation and review by the county or city that adopted them.

Any amendment or revision to a comprehensive land use plan shall conform to this chapter, and any change to development regulations shall be consistent with and implement the comprehensive plan.

(2)(a) Each county and city shall establish and broadly disseminate to the public a public participation program identifying procedures whereby proposed amendments or revisions of the comprehensive plan are considered by the governing body of the county or city no more frequently than once every year except that amendments may be considered more frequently under the following circumstances:

(i) The initial adoption of a subarea plan; and

(ii) The adoption or amendment of a shoreline master program under the procedures set forth in chapter 90.58 RCW.

(b) All proposals shall be considered by the governing body concurrently so the cumulative effect of the various proposals can be ascertained. However, after appropriate public participation a county or city may adopt amendments or revisions to its comprehensive plan that conform with this chapter whenever an emergency exists or to resolve an appeal of a comprehensive plan filed with a growth management hearings board or with the court.

(3) Each county that designates urban growth areas under RCW 36.70A.110 shall review, at least every ten years, its designated urban growth area or areas, and the densities permitted within both the incorporated and unincorporated portions of each urban growth area. In conjunction with this review by the county, each city located within an urban growth area shall review the densities permitted within its boundaries, and the extent to which the urban growth occurring within the county has located within each city and the unincorporated portions of the urban growth areas. The county comprehensive plan designating urban growth areas, and the densities permitted in the urban growth areas by the comprehensive plans of the county and each city located within the urban growth areas, shall be revised to accommodate the urban growth projected to occur in the county for the succeeding twenty-year period.

Sec. 107. RCW 36.70A.140 and 1990 1st ex.s. c 17 s 14 are each amended to read as follows:

Each county and city that is required or chooses to plan under RCW 36.70A.040 shall establish and broadly disseminate to the public a public participation program identifying procedures providing for early and continuous public participation in the development and amendment of comprehensive land use plans and development regulations implementing such plans. The procedures shall provide for broad dissemination of proposals and alternatives, opportunity for written comments, public meetings after effective notice, provision for open discussion, communication programs, information services, and consideration of and response to public comments. In enacting legislation in response to the board's decision pursuant to RCW 36.70A.300 declaring part or all of a comprehensive plan or development regulation invalid, the county or city shall provide for public participation that is appropriate and effective under the circumstances presented by the board's order. Errors in exact compliance with the established program and procedures shall not render the comprehensive land use plan or development regulations invalid if the spirit of the program and procedures is observed.

(1) A growth management hearings board shall hear and determine only those petitions alleging either:

(a) That a state agency, county, or city planning under this chapter is not in compliance with the requirements of this chapter, chapter 90.58 RCW as it relates to the adoption of shoreline master programs or amendments thereto, or chapter 43.21C RCW as it relates to plans, development regulations, or amendments, adopted under RCW 36.70A.040 or chapter 90.58 RCW; or

(b) That the twenty-year growth management planning population projections adopted by the office of financial management pursuant to RCW 43.62.035 should be adjusted.

(2) A petition may be filed only by the state, a county or city that plans under this chapter, a person who has either appeared before the county or city regarding the matter on which a review is being requested or is certified by the governor within sixty days of filing the request with the board, or a person qualified pursuant to RCW 34.05.530.

(3) For purposes of this section "person" means any individual, partnership, corporation, association, governmental subdivision or unit thereof, or public or private organization or entity of any character.

(4) When considering a possible adjustment to a growth management planning population projection prepared by the office of financial management, a board shall consider the implications of any such adjustment to the population forecast for the entire state.

The rationale for any adjustment that is adopted by a board must be documented and filed with the office of financial management within ten working days after adoption.

If adjusted by a board, a county growth management planning population projection shall only be used for the planning purposes set forth in this chapter and shall be known as a "board adjusted population projection". None of these changes shall affect the official state and county population forecasts prepared by the office of financial management, which shall continue to be used for state budget and planning purposes.

Sec. 109. RCW 36.70A.290 and 1994 c 257 s 2 and 1994 c 249 s 26 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) All requests for review to a growth management hearings board shall be initiated by filing a petition that includes a detailed statement of issues presented for resolution by the board.

(2) All petitions relating to whether or not an adopted comprehensive plan, development regulation, or permanent amendment thereto, is in compliance with the goals and requirements of this chapter or chapter 90.58 or 43.21C RCW must be filed within sixty days after publication by the legislative bodies of the county or city.

(a) Except as provided in (c) of this subsection, the date of publication for a city shall be the date the city publishes the ordinance, or summary of the ordinance, adopting the comprehensive plan or development regulations, or amendment thereto, as is required to be published.

(b) Promptly after adoption, a county shall publish a notice that it has adopted the comprehensive plan or development regulations, or amendment thereto.

Except as provided in (c) of this subsection, for purposes of this section the date of publication for a county shall be the date the county publishes the notice that it has adopted the comprehensive plan or development regulations, or amendment thereto.

(c) For local governments planning under RCW 36.70A.040, promptly after approval or disapproval of a local government's shoreline master program or amendment thereto by the department of ecology as provided in RCW 90.58.090, the local government shall publish a notice that the shoreline master program or amendment thereto has been approved or disapproved by the department of ecology. For purposes of this section, the date of publication for the adoption or amendment of a shoreline master program is the date the local government publishes notice that the shoreline master program or amendment thereto has been approved or disapproved by the department of ecology.

(3) Unless the board dismisses the petition as frivolous or finds that the person filing the petition lacks standing, the board shall, within ten days of receipt of the petition, set a time for hearing the matter.

(4) The board shall base its decision on the record developed by the city, county, or the state and supplemented with additional evidence if the board determines that such additional evidence would be necessary or of substantial assistance to the board in reaching its decision.

(5) The board, shall consolidate, when appropriate, all petitions involving the review of the same comprehensive plan or the same development regulation or regulations.

Sec. 110. RCW 36.70A.300 and 1991 sp.s. c 32 s 11 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The board shall issue a final order within one hundred eighty days of receipt of the petition for review, or, when multiple petitions are filed, within one hundred eighty days of receipt of the last petition that is consolidated. Such a final order shall be based exclusively on whether or not a state agency, county, or city is in compliance with the requirements of this chapter, chapter 90.58 RCW as it relates to adoption or amendment of shoreline master programs, or chapter 43.21C RCW as it relates to plans, development regulations, and amendments thereto, adopted under RCW 36.70A.040 or chapter 90.58 RCW. In the final order, the board shall either: (a) Find that the state agency, county, or city is in compliance with the requirements of this chapter or chapter 90.58 RCW as it relates to the adoption or amendment of shoreline master programs; or (b) find that the state agency, county, or city is not in compliance with the requirements of this chapter or chapter 90.58 RCW as it relates to the adoption or amendment of shoreline master programs, in which case the board shall remand the matter to the affected state agency, county, or city and specify a reasonable time not in excess of one hundred eighty days within which the state agency, county, or city shall comply with the requirements of this chapter.

(2) A finding of noncompliance and an order of remand shall not affect the validity of comprehensive plans and development regulations during the period of remand, unless the board's final order also:

(a) Includes a determination, supported by findings of fact and conclusions of law, that the continued validity of the plan or regulation would substantially interfere with the fulfillment of the goals of this chapter; and

(b) Specifies the particular part or parts of the plan or regulation that are determined to be invalid, and the reasons for their invalidity.

(3) A determination of invalidity shall:

(a) Be prospective in effect and shall not extinguish rights that vested under state or local law before the date of the board's order; and

(b) Subject any development application that would otherwise vest after the date of the board's order to the local ordinance or resolution that both is enacted in response to the order of remand and determined by the board pursuant to RCW 36.70A.330 to comply with the requirements of this chapter.

(4) If the ordinance that adopts a plan or development regulation under this chapter includes a savings clause intended to revive prior policies or regulations in the event the new plan or regulations are determined to be invalid, the board shall determine under subsection (2) of this section whether the prior policies or regulations are valid during the period of remand.

(5) Any party aggrieved by a final decision of the hearings board may appeal the decision as provided in RCW 34.05.514 to ((Thurston county)) superior court within thirty days of the final order of the board.

Sec. 111. RCW 36.70A.320 and 1991 sp.s. c 32 s 13 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section, comprehensive plans and development regulations, and amendments thereto, adopted under this chapter are presumed valid upon adoption. In any petition under this chapter, the board, after full consideration of the petition, shall determine whether there is compliance with the requirements of this chapter. In making its determination, the board shall consider the criteria adopted by the department under RCW 36.70A.190(4). The board shall find compliance unless it finds by a preponderance of the evidence that the state agency, county, or city erroneously interpreted or applied this chapter.

(2) The shoreline element of a comprehensive plan and the applicable development regulations adopted by a county or city shall take effect as provided in chapter 90.58 RCW.

Sec. 112. RCW 36.70A.330 and 1991 sp.s. c 32 s 14 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) After the time set for complying with the requirements of this chapter under RCW 36.70A.300(1)(b) has expired, or at an earlier time upon the motion of a county or city subject to a determination of invalidity under RCW 36.70A.300, the board ((, on its own motion or motion of the petitioner,)) shall set a hearing for the purpose of determining whether the state agency, county, or city is in compliance with the requirements of this chapter.

(2) The board shall conduct a hearing and issue a finding of compliance or noncompliance with the requirements of this chapter. A person with standing to challenge the legislation enacted in response to the board's final order may participate in the hearing along with the petitioner and the state agency, city, or county. A hearing under this subsection shall be given the highest priority of business to be conducted by the board, and a finding shall be issued within forty-five days of the filing of the motion under subsection (1) of this section with the board.

(3) If the board finds that the state agency, county, or city is not in compliance, the board shall transmit its finding to the governor. The board may recommend to the governor that the sanctions authorized by this chapter be imposed.

(4) The board shall also reconsider its final order and decide:

(a) If a determination of invalidity has been made, whether such a determination should be rescinded or modified under the standards in RCW 36.70A.300(2); or

(b) If no determination of invalidity has been made, whether one now should be made under the standards in RCW 36.70A.300(2). The board shall schedule additional hearings as appropriate pursuant to subsections (1) and (2) of this section.

Sec. 113. RCW 34.05.514 and 1994 c 257 s 23 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section ((and RCW 36.70A.300(3))), proceedings for review under this chapter shall be instituted by filing a petition in the superior court, at the petitioner's option, for (a) Thurston county, (b) the county of the petitioner's residence or principal place of business, or (c) in any county where the property owned by the petitioner and affected by the contested decision is located.

(2) For proceedings involving institutions of higher education, the petition shall be filed either in the county in which the principal office of the institution involved is located or in the county of a branch campus if the action involves such branch.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 114. (1) The legislature finds that:

(a) As of the effective date of this section, twenty-nine counties and two hundred eight cities are conducting comprehensive planning under the growth management act, chapter 36.70A RCW, which together comprise over ninety percent of the state's population;

(b) Comprehensive plans for many of the jurisdictions were due by July 1, 1994, and the remaining jurisdictions must complete plans under due dates ranging from October 1994 to September 1997;

(c) Concurrently with these comprehensive planning activities, local governments must conduct several other planning requirements under the growth management act, such as the adoption of capital facilities plans, urban growth areas, and development regulations;

(d) Local governments must also comply with the state environmental policy act, chapter 43.21C RCW, in the development of comprehensive plans and development regulations;

(e) The combined activities of comprehensive planning and the state environmental policy act present a serious fiscal burden upon local governments; and

(f) Detailed environmental analysis integrated with comprehensive plans, subarea plans, and development regulations will facilitate planning for and managing growth, allow greater protection of the environment, and benefit both the general public and private property owners.

(2) In order to provide financial assistance to cities and counties planning under chapter 36.70A RCW and to improve the usefulness of plans and integrated environmental analyses, the legislature has created the fund described in section 115 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 115. A new section is added to chapter 36.70A RCW to read as follows:

The growth management planning and environmental review fund is hereby established in the state treasury. Moneys may be placed in the fund from the proceeds of bond sales, tax revenues, budget transfers, federal appropriations, gifts, or any other lawful source. Moneys in the fund may be spent only after appropriation. Moneys in the fund shall be used to make grants to local governments for the purposes set forth in section 202 of this act, RCW 43.21C.031, or section 116 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 116. A new section is added to chapter 36.70A RCW to read as follows:

(1) The department of community, trade, and economic development shall provide management services for the fund created by section 115 of this act. The department by rule shall establish procedures for fund management.

(2) A grant may be awarded to a county or city that is required to or has chosen to plan under RCW 36.70A.040 and that is qualified pursuant to this section. The grant shall be provided to assist a county or city in paying for the cost of preparing a detailed environmental impact statement that is integrated with a comprehensive plan or subarea plan and development regulations.

(3) In order to qualify for a grant, a county or city shall:

(a) Demonstrate that it will prepare an environmental analysis pursuant to chapter 43.21C RCW that is integrated with a comprehensive plan or subarea plan and development regulations;

(b) Address environmental impacts and consequences, alternatives, and mitigation measures in sufficient detail to allow the analysis to be adopted in whole or in part by subsequent applicants for development permits within the geographic area analyzed in the plan;

(c) Include mechanisms in the plan to monitor the consequences of growth as it occurs in the plan area and provide ongoing data to update the plan and environmental analysis;

(d) Be making substantial progress towards compliance with the requirements of this chapter. A county or city that is more than six months out of compliance with a requirement of this chapter is deemed not to be making substantial progress towards compliance; and

(e) Provide local funding, which may include financial participation by the private sector.

(4) In awarding grants, the department shall give preference to proposals that include one or more of the following elements:

(a) Financial participation by the private sector, or a public/private partnering approach;

(b) Comprehensive and subarea plan proposals that are designed to identify and monitor system capacities for elements of the built environment, and to the extent appropriate, of the natural environment;

(c) Programs to improve the efficiency and effectiveness of the permitting process by greater reliance on integrated plans;

(d) Programs for effective citizen and neighborhood involvement that contribute to greater certainty that planning decisions will be implemented; and

(e) Plans that identify environmental impacts and establish mitigation measures that provide effective means to satisfy concurrency requirements and establish project consistency with the plans.

(5) If the local funding includes funding provided by other state functional planning programs, including open space planning and watershed or basin planning, the functional plan shall be integrated into and be consistent with the comprehensive plan.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 117. During the 1995-1997 biennium, funding for the growth management planning and environmental review fund shall be provided by:

(1) A transfer of four million dollars from the public works assistance account; and

(2) A transfer of two million dollars from the transportation fund.

PART II - STATE ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY ACT

NEW SECTION. Sec. 201. (1) The legislature finds in adopting section 202 of this act that:

(a) Comprehensive plans and development regulations adopted by counties, cities, and towns under chapter 36.70A RCW and environmental laws and rules adopted by the state and federal government have addressed a wide range of environmental subjects and impacts.

These plans, regulations, rules, and laws often provide environmental analysis and mitigation measures for project actions without the need for an environmental impact statement or further project mitigation.

(b) Existing plans, regulations, rules, or laws provide environmental analysis and measures that avoid or otherwise mitigate the probable specific adverse environmental impacts of proposed projects should be integrated with, and should not be duplicated by, environmental review under chapter 43.21C RCW.

(c) Proposed projects should continue to receive environmental review, which should be conducted in a manner that is integrated with and does not duplicate other requirements.

(2) The legislature intends that a primary role of environmental review under chapter 43.21C RCW is to focus on the gaps and overlaps that may exist in applicable laws and requirements related to a proposed action. The review of project actions conducted by counties, cities, and towns planning under RCW 36.70A.040 should integrate environmental review with project review. Chapter 43.21C RCW should not be used as a substitute for other land use planning and environmental requirements.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 202. A new section is added to chapter 43.21C RCW to read as follows:

(1) If the requirements of subsection (2) of this section are satisfied, a county, city, or town reviewing a project action may determine that the requirements for environmental analysis, protection, and mitigation measures in the county, city, or town's development regulations and comprehensive plans adopted under chapter 36.70A RCW, and in other applicable local, state, or federal laws and rules provide adequate analysis of and mitigation for the specific adverse environmental impacts of the project action to which the requirements apply.

(2) A county, city, or town may make the determination provided for in subsection (1) of this section if:

(a) In the course of project review, including any required environmental analysis, the local government considers the specific probable adverse environmental impacts of the proposed action and determines that these specific impacts are adequately addressed by the development regulations or other applicable requirements of the comprehensive plan, subarea plan element of the comprehensive plan, or other local, state, or federal rules or laws; and

(b) The local government bases or conditions its approval on compliance with these requirements or mitigation measures.

(3) If a county, city, or town's comprehensive plans, subarea plans, and development regulations adequately address a project's probable specific adverse environmental impacts, as determined under subsections (1) and (2) of this section, the county, city, or town shall not impose additional mitigation under this chapter during project review. Project review shall be integrated with environmental analysis under this chapter.

(4) A comprehensive plan, subarea plan, or development regulation shall be considered to adequately address an impact if the county, city, or town, through the planning and environmental review process under chapter 36.70A RCW and this chapter, has identified the specific adverse environmental impacts and:

(a) The impacts have been avoided or otherwise mitigated; or

(b) The legislative body of the county, city, or town has designated as acceptable certain levels of service, land use designations, development standards, or other land use planning required or allowed by chapter 36.70A RCW.

(5) In deciding whether a specific adverse environmental impact has been addressed by an existing rule or law of another agency with jurisdiction with environmental expertise with regard to a specific environmental impact, the county, city, or town shall consult orally or in writing with that agency and may expressly defer to that agency. In making this deferral, the county, city, or town shall base or condition its project approval on compliance with these other existing rules or laws.

(6) Nothing in this section limits the authority of an agency in its review or mitigation of a project to adopt or otherwise rely on environmental analyses and requirements under other laws, as provided by this chapter.

(7) This section shall apply only to a county, city, or town planning under RCW 36.70A.040.

Sec. 203. RCW 43.21C.031 and 1983 c 117 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) An environmental impact statement (the detailed statement required by RCW 43.21C.030(2)(c)) shall be prepared on proposals for legislation and other major actions having a probable significant, adverse environmental impact. The environmental impact statement may be combined with the recommendation or report on the proposal or issued as a separate document. The substantive decisions or recommendations shall be clearly identifiable and easy to find. Actions categorically exempt under RCW 43.21C.110(1)(a) do not require environmental review or the preparation of an environmental impact statement under this chapter. In a county, city, or town planning under RCW 36.70A.040, a planned action, as provided for in subsection (2) of this section, does not require a threshold determination or the preparation of an environmental impact statement under this chapter, but is subject to environmental review and mitigation as provided in this chapter.

An environmental impact statement is required to analyze only those probable adverse environmental impacts which are significant. Beneficial environmental impacts may be discussed. The responsible official shall consult with agencies and the public to identify such impacts and limit the scope of an environmental impact statement. The subjects listed in RCW 43.21C.030(2)(c) need not be treated as separate sections of an environmental impact statement. Discussions of significant short-term and long-term environmental impacts, significant irrevocable commitments of natural resources, significant alternatives including mitigation measures, and significant environmental impacts which cannot be mitigated should be consolidated or included, as applicable, in those sections of an environmental impact statement where the responsible official decides they logically belong.

(2)(a) For purposes of this section, a planned action means one or more types of project action that:

- (i) Are designated planned actions by an ordinance or resolution adopted by a county, city, or town planning under RCW 36.70A.040;
- (ii) Have had the significant impacts adequately addressed in an environmental impact statement prepared in conjunction with (A) a comprehensive plan or subarea plan adopted under chapter 36.70A RCW, or (B) a fully contained community, a master planned resort, a master planned development, or a phased project;
- (iii) Are subsequent or implementing projects for the proposals listed in (a)(ii) of this subsection;
- (iv) Are located within an urban growth area, as defined in RCW 36.70A.030;
- (v) Are not essential public facilities, as defined in RCW 36.70A.200; and
- (vi) Are consistent with a comprehensive plan adopted under chapter 36.70A RCW.

(b) A county, city, or town shall limit planned actions to certain types of development or to specific geographical areas that are less extensive than the jurisdictional boundaries of the county, city, or town and may limit a planned action to a time period identified in the environmental impact statement or the ordinance or resolution adopted under this subsection.

Sec. 204. RCW 43.21C.075 and 1994 c 253 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Because a major purpose of this chapter is to combine environmental considerations with public decisions, any appeal brought under this chapter shall be linked to a specific governmental action. The State Environmental Policy Act provides a basis for challenging whether governmental action is in compliance with the substantive and procedural provisions of this chapter. The State Environmental Policy Act is not intended to create a cause of action unrelated to a specific governmental action.

(2) Unless otherwise provided by this section:

(a) Appeals under this chapter shall be of the governmental action together with its accompanying environmental determinations.

(b) Appeals of environmental determinations made (or lacking) under this chapter shall be commenced within the time required to appeal the governmental action which is subject to environmental review.

(3) If an agency has a procedure for appeals of agency environmental determinations made under this chapter, such procedure:

(a) Shall not allow more than one agency appeal proceeding on a procedural determination (the adequacy of a determination of significance/nonsignificance or of a final environmental impact statement) ~~((consistent with any state statutory requirements for appeals to local legislative bodies))~~. The appeal proceeding on a determination of significance/nonsignificance may occur before the agency's final decision on a proposed action. Such an appeal shall also be allowed for a determination of significance/nonsignificance which may be issued by the agency after supplemental review;

(b) Shall consolidate an appeal of procedural issues and of substantive determinations made under this chapter (such as a decision to require particular mitigation measures or to deny a proposal) with a hearing or appeal on the underlying governmental action by providing for a single simultaneous ((appeal of an)) hearing before one hearing officer or body to consider the agency decision on a proposal and any environmental determinations made under this chapter, with the exception of the ~~((threshold determination))~~ appeal, if any, of a determination of significance as provided in (a) of this subsection or an appeal to the local legislative authority under RCW 43.21C.060 or other applicable state statutes;

(c) Shall provide for the preparation of a record for use in any subsequent appeal proceedings, and shall provide for any subsequent appeal proceedings to be conducted on the record, consistent with other applicable law. An adequate record consists of findings and conclusions, testimony under oath, and taped or written transcript. An electronically recorded transcript will suffice for purposes of review under this subsection; and

(d) Shall provide that procedural determinations made by the responsible official shall be entitled to substantial weight.

(4) If a person aggrieved by an agency action has the right to judicial appeal and if an agency has an appeal procedure, such person shall, prior to seeking any judicial review, use such agency procedure if any such procedure is available, unless expressly provided otherwise by state statute.

(5) ~~((RCW 43.21C.080 establishes an optional "notice of action" procedure which, if used, imposes a time period for appealing decisions under this chapter.))~~ Some statutes and ordinances contain time periods for challenging governmental actions which are subject to review under this chapter, such as various local land use approvals (the "underlying governmental action"). RCW 43.21C.080 establishes an optional "notice of action" procedure which, if used, imposes a time period for appealing decisions under this chapter. This ~~((section))~~ subsection does not modify any such time periods. ~~((This section governs when a judicial appeal must be brought under this chapter where a "notice of action" is used, and/or where there is another time period which is required by statute or ordinance for challenging the underlying governmental action.))~~ In this subsection, the term "appeal" refers to a judicial appeal only.

(a) If there is a time period for appealing the underlying governmental action, appeals under this chapter shall be commenced within ~~((thirty days))~~ such time period. The agency shall give official notice stating the date and place for commencing an appeal. ~~((If there is an agency proceeding under subsection (3) of this section, the appellant shall, prior to commencing a judicial appeal, submit to the responsible official a notice of intent to commence a judicial appeal. This notice of intent shall be given within the time period for commencing a judicial appeal on the underlying governmental action.))~~

~~(b) If there is no time period for appealing the underlying governmental action, and a notice of action under RCW 43.21C.080 ((may be used. If a notice of action)) is used, ((judicial)) appeals shall be commenced within the time period specified by RCW 43.21C.080((, unless there is a time period for appealing the underlying governmental action in which case (a) of this subsection shall apply.~~

~~(c) Notwithstanding RCW 43.21C.080(1), if there is a time period for appealing the underlying governmental action, a notice of action may be published within such time period).~~

(6)(a) Judicial review under subsection (5) of this section of an appeal decision made by an agency under ((RCW 43.21C.075(5)) subsection (3) of this section shall be on the record, consistent with other applicable law.

(b) A taped or written transcript may be used. If a taped transcript is to be reviewed, a record shall identify the location on the taped transcript of testimony and evidence to be reviewed. Parties are encouraged to designate only those portions of the testimony necessary to present the issues raised on review, but if a party alleges that a finding of fact is not supported by evidence, the party should include in the record all evidence relevant to the disputed finding. Any other party may designate additional portions of the taped transcript relating to issues raised on review. A party may provide a written transcript of portions of the testimony at the party's own expense or apply to that court for an order requiring the party seeking review to pay for additional portions of the written transcript.

(c) Judicial review under this chapter shall without exception be of the governmental action together with its accompanying environmental determinations.

(7) Jurisdiction over the review of determinations under this chapter in an appeal before an agency or superior court shall upon consent of the parties be transferred in whole or part to the shorelines hearings board. The shorelines hearings board shall hear the matter and sign the final order expeditiously. The superior court shall certify the final order of the shorelines hearings board and said certified final order may only be appealed to an appellate court. In the case of an appeal under this chapter regarding a project or other matter that is also the subject of an appeal to the shorelines hearings board under chapter 90.58 RCW, the shorelines hearings board shall have sole jurisdiction over both the appeal under this section and the appeal under chapter 90.58 RCW, shall consider them together, and shall issue a final order within one hundred eighty days as provided in RCW 90.58.180.

(8) For purposes of this section and RCW 43.21C.080, the words "action", "decision", and "determination" mean substantive agency action including any accompanying procedural determinations under this chapter (except where the word "action" means "appeal" in RCW 43.21C.080(2) ((and (3))))). The word "action" in this section and RCW 43.21C.080 does not mean a procedural determination by itself made under this chapter. The word "determination" includes any environmental document required by this chapter and state or local implementing rules. The word "agency" refers to any state or local unit of government. Except as provided in subsection (5) of this section, the word "appeal" refers to administrative, legislative, or judicial appeals.

(9) The court in its discretion may award reasonable attorney's fees of up to one thousand dollars in the aggregate to the prevailing party, including a governmental agency, on issues arising out of this chapter if the court makes specific findings that the legal position of a party is frivolous and without reasonable basis.

Sec. 205. RCW 43.21C.080 and 1977 ex.s. c 278 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Notice of any action taken by a governmental agency may be publicized by the acting governmental agency, the applicant for, or the proponent of such action, in substantially the form as set forth in ((subsection (3) of this section and in the following manner)) rules adopted under RCW 43.21C.110:

(a) By publishing notice on the same day of each week for two consecutive weeks in a legal newspaper of general circulation in the area where the property which is the subject of the action is located;

(b) By filing notice of such action with the department of ecology at its main office in Olympia prior to the date of the last newspaper publication; and

(c) Except for those actions which are of a nonproject nature, by one of the following methods which shall be accomplished prior to the date of ((last)) first newspaper publication;

(i) Mailing to the latest recorded real property owners, as shown by the records of the county treasurer, who share a common boundary line with the property upon which the project is proposed through United States mail, first class, postage prepaid.

(ii) Posting of the notice in a conspicuous manner on the property upon which the project is to be constructed.

(2)(a) Except as otherwise provided in RCW 43.21C.075(5)(a), any action to set aside, enjoin, review, or otherwise challenge any such governmental action or subsequent governmental action for which notice is given as provided in subsection (1) of this section on grounds of noncompliance with the provisions of this chapter shall be commenced within ((thirty)) twenty-one days from the date of last newspaper publication of the notice pursuant to subsection (1) of this section, or be barred((: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That the time period within which an action shall be commenced shall be ninety days (i) for projects to be performed by a governmental agency or to be performed under government contract, or (ii) for thermal power plant projects: PROVIDED FURTHER, That)).

(b) Any subsequent governmental action on the proposal for which notice has been given as provided in subsection (1) of this section shall not be set aside, enjoined, reviewed, or otherwise challenged on grounds of noncompliance with the provisions of RCW 43.21C.030(2)(a) through (h) unless there has been a substantial change in the proposal between the time of the first governmental action and the subsequent governmental action that is likely to have adverse environmental impacts beyond the range of impacts previously analyzed, or unless the action now being considered was identified in an earlier detailed statement or declaration of nonsignificance as being one which would require further environmental evaluation.

~~((b) Any action to challenge a subsequent governmental action based upon any provisions of this chapter shall be commenced within thirty days from the date of last newspaper publication of the subsequent governmental action except (i) for projects to be performed by a governmental agency or to be performed under governmental contract, or (ii) for thermal power plant projects which shall be challenged within ninety days from the date of last newspaper publication of the subsequent governmental action, or be barred.~~

~~(3) The form for such notice of action shall be issued by the department of ecology and shall be made available by the governmental agency taking an action subject to being publicized pursuant to this section, by the county auditor, and/or the city clerk to the project applicant or proposer. The form of such notice shall be substantially as follows:~~

Sec. 206. RCW 43.21C.110 and 1983 c 117 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

It shall be the duty and function of the department of ecology(~~(, which may utilize proposed rules developed by the environmental policy commission))~~):

(1) To adopt and amend thereafter rules of interpretation and implementation of this chapter (~~((the state environmental policy act of 1971)))~~), subject to the requirements of chapter 34.05 RCW, for the purpose of providing uniform rules and guidelines to all branches of government including state agencies, political subdivisions, public and municipal corporations, and counties. The proposed rules shall be subject to full public hearings requirements associated with rule promulgation. Suggestions for modifications of the proposed rules shall be considered on their merits, and the department shall have the authority and responsibility for full and appropriate independent promulgation and adoption of rules, assuring consistency with this chapter as amended and with the preservation of protections afforded by this chapter. The rule making powers authorized in this section shall include, but shall not be limited to, the following phases of interpretation and implementation of this chapter (~~((the state environmental policy act of 1971)))~~):

(a) Categories of governmental actions which are not to be considered as potential major actions significantly affecting the quality of the environment, including categories pertaining to applications for water right permits pursuant to chapters 90.03 and 90.44 RCW. The types of actions included as categorical exemptions in the rules shall be limited to those types which are not major actions significantly affecting the quality of the environment. The rules shall provide for certain circumstances where actions which potentially are categorically exempt require environmental review. An action that is categorically exempt under the rules adopted by the department may not be conditioned or denied under this chapter.

(b) Rules for criteria and procedures applicable to the determination of when an act of a branch of government is a major action significantly affecting the quality of the environment for which a detailed statement is required to be prepared pursuant to RCW 43.21C.030.

(c) Rules and procedures applicable to the preparation of detailed statements and other environmental documents, including but not limited to rules for timing of environmental review, obtaining comments, data and other information, and providing for and determining areas of public participation which shall include the scope and review of draft environmental impact statements.

(d) Scope of coverage and contents of detailed statements assuring that such statements are simple, uniform, and as short as practicable; statements are required to analyze only reasonable alternatives and probable adverse environmental impacts which are significant, and may analyze beneficial impacts.

(e) Rules and procedures for public notification of actions taken and documents prepared.

(f) Definition of terms relevant to the implementation of this chapter including the establishment of a list of elements of the environment. Analysis of environmental considerations under RCW 43.21C.030(2) may be required only for those subjects listed as elements of the environment (or portions thereof). The list of elements of the environment shall consist of the "natural" and "built" environment. The elements of the built environment shall consist of public services and utilities (such as water, sewer, schools, fire and police protection), transportation, environmental health (such as explosive materials and toxic waste), and land and shoreline use (including housing, and a description of the relationships with land use and shoreline plans and designations, including population).

(g) Rules for determining the obligations and powers under this chapter of two or more branches of government involved in the same project significantly affecting the quality of the environment.

(h) Methods to assure adequate public awareness of the preparation and issuance of detailed statements required by RCW 43.21C.030(2)(c).

(i) To prepare rules for projects setting forth the time limits within which the governmental entity responsible for the action shall comply with the provisions of this chapter.

(j) Rules for utilization of a detailed statement for more than one action and rules improving environmental analysis of nonproject proposals and encouraging better interagency coordination and integration between this chapter and other environmental laws.

(k) Rules relating to actions which shall be exempt from the provisions of this chapter in situations of emergency.

(l) Rules relating to the use of environmental documents in planning and decision making and the implementation of the substantive policies and requirements of this chapter, including procedures for appeals under this chapter.

(m) Rules and procedures that provide for the integration of environmental review with project review as provided in section 202 of this act. The rules and procedures shall be jointly developed with the department of community, trade, and economic development and shall be applicable to the preparation of environmental documents for actions in counties, cities, and towns planning under RCW 36.70A.040. The rules and procedures shall also include criteria to analyze the consistency of project actions, including planned actions under RCW 43.21C.031(2), with development regulations adopted under chapter 36.70A RCW, or in the absence of applicable development regulations, the appropriate elements of a comprehensive plan or subarea plan adopted under chapter 36.70A RCW. Ordinances or procedures adopted by a county, city, or town to implement the provisions of section 202 of this act prior to the effective date of rules adopted under this subsection (1)(m) shall continue to be effective until the adoption of any new or revised ordinances or procedures that may be required. If any revisions are required as a result of rules adopted under this subsection (1)(m), those revisions shall be made within the time limits specified in RCW 43.21C.120.

(2) In exercising its powers, functions, and duties under this section, the department may:

(a) Consult with the state agencies and with representatives of science, industry, agriculture, labor, conservation organizations, state and local governments and other groups, as it deems advisable; and

(b) Utilize, to the fullest extent possible, the services, facilities, and information (including statistical information) of public and private agencies, organizations, and individuals, in order to avoid duplication of effort and expense, overlap, or conflict with similar activities authorized by law and performed by established agencies.

(3) Rules adopted pursuant to this section shall be subject to the review procedures of chapter 34.05 RCW ((34.05.538 and 34.05.240)).

Sec. 207. RCW 43.21C.900 and 1971 ex.s. c 109 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

This chapter shall be known and may be cited as the "State Environmental Policy Act (~~(of 1971)~~)" or "SEPA".

PART III - SHORELINE MANAGEMENT ACT

Sec. 301. RCW 90.58.020 and 1992 c 105 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

The legislature finds that the shorelines of the state are among the most valuable and fragile of its natural resources and that there is great concern throughout the state relating to their utilization, protection, restoration, and preservation. In addition it finds that ever increasing pressures of additional uses are being placed on the shorelines necessitating increased coordination in the management and development of the shorelines of the state. The legislature further finds that much of the shorelines of the state and the uplands adjacent thereto are in private ownership; that unrestricted construction on the privately owned or publicly owned shorelines of the state is not in the best public interest; and therefore, coordinated planning is necessary in order to protect the public interest associated with the shorelines of the state while, at the same time, recognizing and protecting private property rights consistent with the public interest. There is, therefore, a clear and urgent demand for a planned, rational, and concerted effort, jointly performed by federal, state, and local governments, to prevent the inherent harm in an uncoordinated and piecemeal development of the state's shorelines.

It is the policy of the state to provide for the management of the shorelines of the state by planning for and fostering all reasonable and appropriate uses. This policy is designed to insure the development of these shorelines in a manner which, while allowing for limited reduction of rights of the public in the navigable waters, will promote and enhance the public interest. This policy contemplates protecting against adverse effects to the public health, the land and its vegetation and wildlife, and the waters of the state and their aquatic life, while protecting generally public rights of navigation and corollary rights incidental thereto.

The legislature declares that the interest of all of the people shall be paramount in the management of shorelines of state-wide significance. The department, in adopting guidelines for shorelines of state-wide significance, and local government, in developing master programs for shorelines of state-wide significance, shall give preference to uses in the following order of preference which:

- (1) Recognize and protect the state-wide interest over local interest;
- (2) Preserve the natural character of the shoreline;
- (3) Result in long term over short term benefit;
- (4) Protect the resources and ecology of the shoreline;
- (5) Increase public access to publicly owned areas of the shorelines;
- (6) Increase recreational opportunities for the public in the shoreline;
- (7) Provide for any other element as defined in RCW 90.58.100 deemed appropriate or necessary.

In the implementation of this policy the public's opportunity to enjoy the physical and aesthetic qualities of natural shorelines of the state shall be preserved to the greatest extent feasible consistent with the overall best interest of the state and the people generally. To this end uses shall be preferred which are consistent with control of pollution and prevention of damage to the natural environment, or are unique to or dependent upon use of the state's shoreline. Alterations of the natural condition of the shorelines of the state, in those limited instances when authorized, shall be given priority for single family residences and their appurtenant structures, ports, shoreline recreational uses including but not limited to parks, marinas, piers, and other improvements facilitating public access to shorelines of the state, industrial and commercial developments which are particularly dependent on their location on or use of the shorelines of the state and other development that will provide an opportunity for substantial numbers of the people to enjoy the shorelines of the state. Alterations of the natural condition of the shorelines and ~~((wetlands))~~ shorelands of the state shall be recognized by the department. Shorelines and ~~((wetlands))~~ shorelands of the state shall be appropriately classified and these classifications shall be revised when circumstances warrant regardless of whether the change in circumstances occurs through man-made causes or natural causes. Any areas resulting from alterations of the natural condition of the shorelines and ~~((wetlands))~~ shorelands of the state no longer meeting the definition of "shorelines of the state" shall not be subject to the provisions of chapter 90.58 RCW.

Permitted uses in the shorelines of the state shall be designed and conducted in a manner to minimize, insofar as practical, any resultant damage to the ecology and environment of the shoreline area and any interference with the public's use of the water.

Sec. 302. RCW 90.58.030 and 1987 c 474 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires, the following definitions and concepts apply:

 - (c) "Shorelines of the state" are the total of all "shorelines" and "shorelines of state-wide significance" within the state;
 - (d) "Shorelines" means all of the water areas of the state, including reservoirs, and their associated ~~((wetlands))~~ shorelands, together with the lands underlying them; except (i) shorelines of state-wide significance; (ii) shorelines on segments of streams upstream of a point where the mean annual flow is twenty cubic feet per second or less and the wetlands associated with such upstream segments; and (iii) shorelines on lakes less than twenty acres in size and wetlands associated with such small lakes;

(e) "Shorelines of state-wide significance" means the following shorelines of the state:

(i) The area between the ordinary high water mark and the western boundary of the state from Cape Disappointment on the south to Cape Flattery on the north, including harbors, bays, estuaries, and inlets;

(C) Hood Canal--from Tala Point to Foulweather Bluff,

(D) Skagit Bay and adjacent area--from Brown Point to Yokeko Point, and

(E) Padilla Bay--from March Point to William Point;

(iii) Those areas of Puget Sound and the Strait of Juan de Fuca and adjacent salt waters north to the Canadian line and lying seaward from the line of extreme low tide;

(iv) Those lakes, whether natural, artificial, or a combination thereof, with a surface acreage of one thousand acres or more measured at the ordinary high water mark;

(v) Those natural rivers or segments thereof as follows:

(A) Any west of the crest of the Cascade range downstream of a point where the mean annual flow is measured at one thousand cubic feet per second or more,

(B) Any east of the crest of the Cascade range downstream of a point where the annual flow is measured at two hundred cubic feet per second or more, or those portions of rivers east of the crest of the Cascade range downstream from the first three hundred square miles of drainage area, whichever is longer;

(vi) Those ~~((wetlands))~~ shorelands associated with (i), (ii), (iv), and (v) of this subsection (2)(e);

(f) "~~((Wetlands))~~ Shorelands" or "~~((wetland))~~ shoreland areas" means those lands extending landward for two hundred feet in all directions as measured on a horizontal plane from the ordinary high water mark; floodways and contiguous floodplain areas landward two hundred feet from such floodways; and all ~~((marshes, bogs, swamps,))~~ wetlands and river deltas associated with the streams, lakes, and tidal waters which are subject to the provisions of this chapter; the same to be designated as to location by the department of ecology~~((: PROVIDED, That)).~~ Any county or city may determine that portion of a one-hundred-year-flood plain to be included in its master program as long as such portion includes, as a minimum, the floodway and the adjacent land extending landward two hundred feet therefrom;

(g) "Floodway" means those portions of the area of a river valley lying streamward from the outer limits of a watercourse upon which flood waters are carried during periods of flooding that occur with reasonable regularity, although not necessarily annually, said floodway being identified, under normal condition, by changes in surface soil conditions or changes in types or quality of vegetative ground cover condition. The floodway shall not include those lands that can reasonably be expected to be protected from flood waters by flood control devices maintained by or maintained under license from the federal government, the state, or a political subdivision of the state;

(h) "Wetlands" means areas that are inundated or saturated by surface water or ground water at a frequency and duration sufficient to support, and that under normal circumstances do support, a prevalence of vegetation typically adapted for life in saturated soil conditions. Wetlands generally include swamps, marshes, bogs, and similar areas. Wetlands do not include those artificial wetlands intentionally created from nonwetland sites, including, but not limited to, irrigation and drainage ditches, grass-lined swales, canals, detention facilities, wastewater treatment facilities, farm ponds, and landscape amenities. Wetlands may include those artificial wetlands intentionally created from nonwetland areas to mitigate the conversion of wetlands.

(e) "Substantial development" shall mean any development of which the total cost or fair market value exceeds two thousand five hundred dollars, or any development which materially interferes with the normal public use of the water or shorelines of the state; except that the following shall not be considered substantial developments for the purpose of this chapter:

- (i) Normal maintenance or repair of existing structures or developments, including damage by accident, fire, or elements;
- (ii) Construction of the normal protective bulkhead common to single family residences;

Sec. 303. RCW 90.58.050 and 1971 ex.s. c 286 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

This chapter establishes a cooperative program of shoreline management between local government and the state. Local government shall have the primary responsibility for initiating the planning required by this chapter and administering the regulatory program consistent with the policy and provisions of this chapter. The department shall act primarily in a supportive and review capacity with ~~((primary))~~ an emphasis on providing assistance to local government and on insuring compliance with the policy and provisions of this chapter.

Sec. 304. RCW 90.58.060 and 1971 ex.s. c 286 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) ~~((Within one hundred twenty days from June 1, 1971,))~~ The department shall ~~((submit to local governments proposed))~~ periodically review and adopt guidelines consistent with RCW 90.58.020, containing the elements specified in RCW 90.58.100 for:

The local government shall have ninety days after it receives said modifications to consider the same and resubmit a master program to the department. The standards shall provide for methods which achieve effective and timely protection against loss or damage to single family residences and appurtenant structures due to shoreline erosion. The standards shall provide a preference for permit issuance for measures to protect single family residences occupied prior to January 1, 1992, where the proposed measure is designed to minimize harm to the shoreline natural environment.

Sec. 308. RCW 90.58.120 and 1989 c 175 s 182 are each amended to read as follows:

(2) A substantial development shall not be undertaken on shorelines of the state without first obtaining a permit from the government entity having administrative jurisdiction under this chapter.

A permit shall be granted:

(a) From June 1, 1971, until such time as an applicable master program has become effective, only when the development proposed is consistent with: (i) The policy of RCW 90.58.020; and (ii) after their adoption, the guidelines and rules of the department; and (iii) so far as can be ascertained, the master program being developed for the area;

(b) After adoption or approval, as appropriate, by the department of an applicable master program, only when the development proposed is consistent with the applicable master program and (~~the provisions of~~) this chapter (90.58 RCW).

(3) The local government shall establish a program, consistent with rules adopted by the department, for the administration and enforcement of the permit system provided in this section. The administration of the system so established shall be performed exclusively by the local government.

(4) Except as otherwise specifically provided in subsection (~~(43)~~) (11) of this section, the local government shall require notification of the public of all applications for permits governed by any permit system established pursuant to subsection (3) of this section by ensuring that(~~:~~

~~(a) A notice of such an application is published at least once a week on the same day of the week for two consecutive weeks in a legal newspaper of general circulation within the area in which the development is proposed; and~~

~~(b) Additional~~) notice of (~~such an~~) the application is given by at least one of the following methods:

~~(ii)~~) (b) Posting of the notice in a conspicuous manner on the property upon which the project is to be constructed; or ~~(iii)~~) (c) Any other manner deemed appropriate by local authorities to accomplish the objectives of reasonable notice to adjacent landowners and the public.

The notices shall include a statement that any person desiring to submit written comments concerning an application, or desiring to receive (~~a copy~~) notification of the final (~~order~~) decision concerning an application as expeditiously as possible after the issuance of the (~~order~~) decision, may submit the comments or requests for (~~orders~~) decisions to the local government within thirty days of the last date the notice is to be published pursuant to (~~subsection (a) of~~) this subsection. The local government shall forward, in a timely manner following the issuance of (~~an order~~) a decision, a copy of the (~~order~~) decision to each person who submits a request for the (~~order~~) decision.

If a hearing is to be held on an application, notices of such a hearing shall include a statement that any person may submit oral or written comments on an application at the hearing.

(5) The system shall include provisions to assure that construction pursuant to a permit will not begin or be authorized until (~~thirty~~) twenty-one days from the date the (~~final order~~) permit decision was filed as provided in subsection (6) of this section; or until all review

The appellant may request, within ten days of the filing of the appeal with the court, a hearing before the court to determine whether construction ~~((may begin))~~ pursuant to the permit approved by the hearings board or to a revised permit issued pursuant to the order of the hearings board should not commence. If, at the conclusion of the hearing, the court finds that construction pursuant to such a permit would ~~((not))~~ involve a significant, irreversible damaging of the environment, the court ~~((may allow))~~ shall prohibit the permittee ~~((to begin))~~ from commencing the construction pursuant to the approved or revised permit ~~((as the court deems appropriate. The court may require the permittee to post bonds, in the name of the local government that issued the permit, sufficient to remove the substantial development or to restore the environment if the permit is ultimately disapproved by the courts, or to alter the substantial development if the alteration is ultimately ordered by the courts))~~ until all review proceedings are final. Construction pursuant to a permit revised at the direction of the hearings board may begin only on that portion of the substantial development for which the local government had originally issued the permit, and construction pursuant to such a revised permit on other portions of the substantial development may not begin until after all review proceedings are terminated. In such a hearing before the court, the burden of proving whether the construction may involve significant irreversible damage to the environment and demonstrating whether such construction would or would not be appropriate is on the appellant;

~~((d))~~ If the permit is for a substantial development meeting the requirements of subsection ~~((13))~~ (11) of this section, construction pursuant to that permit may not begin or be authorized until ~~((thirty))~~ twenty-one days from the date the ~~((final order))~~ permit decision was filed as provided in subsection (6) of this section.

If a permittee begins construction pursuant to subsections (a), (b), or ~~((c) or (d))~~ of this subsection, the construction is begun at the permittee's own risk. If, as a result of judicial review, the courts order the removal of any portion of the construction or the restoration of any portion of the environment involved or require the alteration of any portion of a substantial development constructed pursuant to a permit, the permittee is barred from recovering damages or costs involved in adhering to such requirements from the local government that granted the permit, the hearings board, or any appellant or intervener.

(6) Any ~~((ruling))~~ decision on an application for a permit under the authority of this section, whether it is an approval or a denial, shall, concurrently with the transmittal of the ruling to the applicant, be filed with the department and the attorney general. In any review of the granting or denial of an application for a permit as provided in RCW 90.58.180 (1) and (2), the person requesting the review has the burden of proof.

(8) Any permit may, after a hearing with adequate notice to the permittee and the public, be rescinded by the issuing authority upon the finding that a permittee has not complied with conditions of a permit. If the department is of the opinion that noncompliance exists, the department shall provide written notice to the local government and the permittee. If the department is of the opinion that the noncompliance continues to exist thirty days after the date of the notice, and the local government has taken no action to rescind the permit, the department may petition the hearings board for a rescission of the permit upon written notice of the petition to the local government and the permittee if the request by the department is made to the hearings board within fifteen days of the termination of the thirty-day notice to the local government.

(9) The holder of a certification from the governor pursuant to chapter 80.50 RCW shall not be required to obtain a permit under this section.

(10) ~~((A permit shall not be required for any development on shorelines of the state included within a preliminary or final plat approved by the applicable state agency or local government before April 1, 1971, if:~~

(2)(a) The department's decision to approve, reject, or modify a proposed master program or amendment adopted by a local government planning under RCW 36.70A.040 shall be appealed to the growth management hearings board with jurisdiction over the local government. The appeal shall be initiated by filing a petition as provided in RCW 36.70A.250 through 36.70A.320.

(b) If the appeal to the growth management hearings board concerns shorelines, the growth management hearings board shall review the proposed master program or amendment for compliance with the requirements of this chapter and chapter 36.70A RCW, the policy of RCW 90.58.020 and the applicable guidelines, and chapter 43.21C RCW as it relates to the adoption of master programs and amendments under chapter 90.58 RCW.

(c) If the appeal to the growth management hearings board concerns a shoreline of state-wide significance, the board shall uphold the decision by the department unless the board, by clear and convincing evidence, determines that the decision of the department is inconsistent with the policy of RCW 90.58.020 and the applicable guidelines.

(d) The appellant has the burden of proof in all appeals to the growth management hearings board under this subsection.

(e) Any party aggrieved by a final decision of a growth management hearings board under this subsection may appeal the decision to superior court as provided in RCW 36.70A.300.

~~((Any local government aggrieved by))~~ (3)(a) The department's decision to approve, reject, or modify a proposed master program or master program ~~((adjustment may appeal the department's decision))~~ amendment by a local government not planning under RCW 36.70A.040 shall be appealed to the shorelines hearings board by filing a petition within thirty days of the date of the department's written notice to the local government of the department's decision to approve, reject, or modify a proposed master program or master program amendment as provided in RCW 90.58.090(2).

(b) In an appeal relating to shorelines, the shorelines hearings board shall review the proposed master program or master program ~~((adjustment))~~ amendment and, after full consideration of the presentations of the local government and the department, shall determine the validity of the local government's ~~((adjustment))~~ master program or amendment in light of the policy of RCW 90.58.020 and the applicable guidelines.

(c) In an appeal relating to shorelines of state-wide significance, the shorelines hearings board shall uphold the decision by the department unless ~~((a local government shall))~~ the board determines, by clear and convincing evidence ~~((and argument, persuade the board))~~ that the decision of the department is inconsistent with the policy of RCW 90.58.020 and the applicable guidelines.

(d) Review by the shorelines hearings board shall be considered an adjudicative proceeding under chapter 34.05 RCW, the Administrative Procedure Act. The aggrieved local government shall have the burden of proof in all such reviews.

(e) Whenever possible, the review by the shorelines hearings board shall be heard within the county where the land subject to the proposed master program or master program ~~((adjustment))~~ amendment is primarily located. The department and any local government aggrieved by a final decision of the hearings board may appeal the decision to ~~((the))~~ superior court ~~((of Thurston county))~~ as provided in chapter 34.05 RCW.

~~((3))~~ (4) A master program amendment shall become effective after the approval of the department or after the decision of the shorelines hearings board to uphold the master program or master program ~~((adjustment))~~ amendment, provided that the board may remand the master program or master program adjustment to the local government or the department for modification prior to the final adoption of the master program or master program ~~((adjustment))~~ amendment.

Sec. 312. RCW 34.05.461 and 1989 c 175 s 19 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section:

(a) If the presiding officer is the agency head or one or more members of the agency head, the presiding officer may enter an initial order if further review is available within the agency, or a final order if further review is not available;

(b) If the presiding officer is a person designated by the agency to make the final decision and enter the final order, the presiding officer shall enter a final order; and

(c) If the presiding officer is one or more administrative law judges, the presiding officer shall enter an initial order.

(2) With respect to agencies exempt from chapter 34.12 RCW or an institution of higher education, the presiding officer shall transmit a full and complete record of the proceedings, including such comments upon demeanor of witnesses as the presiding officer deems relevant, to each agency official who is to enter a final or initial order after considering the record and evidence so transmitted.

(3) Initial and final orders shall include a statement of findings and conclusions, and the reasons and basis therefor, on all the material issues of fact, law, or discretion presented on the record, including the remedy or sanction and, if applicable, the action taken on a petition for a stay of effectiveness. Any findings based substantially on credibility of evidence or demeanor of witnesses shall be so identified. Findings set forth in language that is essentially a repetition or paraphrase of the relevant provision of law shall be accompanied by a concise and explicit statement of the underlying evidence of record to support the findings. The order shall also include a statement of the available procedures and time limits for seeking reconsideration or other administrative relief. An initial order shall include a statement of any circumstances under which the initial order, without further notice, may become a final order.

(4) Findings of fact shall be based exclusively on the evidence of record in the adjudicative proceeding and on matters officially noticed in that proceeding. Findings shall be based on the kind of evidence on which reasonably prudent persons are accustomed to rely in the conduct of their affairs. Findings may be based on such evidence even if it would be inadmissible in a civil trial. However, the presiding officer shall not base a finding exclusively on such inadmissible evidence unless the presiding officer determines that doing so would not unduly abridge the parties' opportunities to confront witnesses and rebut evidence. The basis for this determination shall appear in the order.

(5) Where it bears on the issues presented, the agency's experience, technical competency, and specialized knowledge may be used in the evaluation of evidence.

(6) If a person serving or designated to serve as presiding officer becomes unavailable for any reason before entry of the order, a substitute presiding officer shall be appointed as provided in RCW 34.05.425. The substitute presiding officer shall use any existing record and may conduct any further proceedings appropriate in the interests of justice.

(7) The presiding officer may allow the parties a designated time after conclusion of the hearing for the submission of memos, briefs, or proposed findings.

~~(8)~~ (a) Except as otherwise provided in (b) of this subsection, initial or final orders shall be served in writing within ninety days after conclusion of the hearing or after submission of memos, briefs, or proposed findings in accordance with subsection (7) of this section unless this period is waived or extended for good cause shown.

(b) This subsection does not apply to the final order of the shorelines hearings board on appeal under RCW 90.58.180(3).

(9) The presiding officer shall cause copies of the order to be served on each party and the agency.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 313. RCW 90.58.145 and 1979 ex.s. c 84 s 4 are each repealed.

PART IV - LOCAL PERMIT PROCESS

NEW SECTION. Sec. 401. The legislature finds and declares the following:

(1) As the number of environmental laws and development regulations has increased for land uses and development, so has the number of required local land use permits, each with its own separate approval process.

(2) The increasing number of local and state land use permits and separate environmental review processes required by agencies has generated continuing potential for conflict, overlap, and duplication between the various permit and review processes.

(3) This regulatory burden has significantly added to the cost and time needed to obtain local and state land use permits and has made it difficult for the public to know how and when to provide timely comments on land use proposals that require multiple permits and have separate environmental review processes.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 402. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Closed record appeal" means an administrative appeal on the record to a local government body or officer, including the legislative body, following an open record hearing on a project permit application when the appeal is on the record with no or limited new evidence or information allowed to be submitted and only appeal argument allowed.

(2) "Local government" means a county, city, or town.

(3) "Open record hearing" means a hearing, conducted by a single hearing body or officer authorized by the local government to conduct such hearings, that creates the local government's record through testimony and submission of evidence and information, under procedures prescribed by the local government by ordinance or resolution. An open record hearing may be held prior to a local government's decision on a project permit to be known as an "open record predecision hearing." An open record hearing may be held on an appeal, to be known as an "open record appeal hearing," if no open record predecision hearing has been held on the project permit.

(4) "Project permit" or "project permit application" means any land use or environmental permit or license required from a local government for a project action, including but not limited to building permits, subdivisions, binding site plans, planned unit developments, conditional uses, shoreline substantial development permits, site plan review, permits or approvals required by critical area ordinances, site-specific rezones authorized by a comprehensive plan or subarea plan, but excluding the adoption or amendment of a comprehensive plan, subarea plan, or development regulations except as otherwise specifically included in this subsection.

(5) "Public meeting" means an informal meeting, hearing, workshop, or other public gathering of people to obtain comments from the public or other agencies on a proposed project permit prior to the local government's decision. A public meeting may include, but is not limited to, a design review or architectural control board meeting, a special review district or community council meeting, or a scoping meeting on a draft environmental impact statement. A public meeting does not include an open record hearing. The proceedings at a public meeting may be recorded and a report or recommendation may be included in the local government's project permit application file.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 403. In enacting sections 404 and 405 of this act, the legislature intends to establish a mechanism for implementing the provisions of chapter 36.70A RCW regarding compliance, conformity, and consistency of proposed projects with adopted comprehensive plans and development regulations. In order to achieve this purpose the legislature finds that:

(1) Given the extensive investment that public agencies and a broad spectrum of the public are making and will continue to make in comprehensive plans and development regulations for their communities, it is essential that project review start from the fundamental land use planning choices made in these plans and regulations. If the applicable regulations or plans identify the type of land use, specify residential density in urban growth areas, and identify and provide for funding of public facilities needed to serve the proposed development and site, these decisions at a minimum provide the foundation for further project review unless there is a question of code interpretation. The project review process, including the environmental review process under chapter 43.21C RCW and the consideration of consistency, should start from this point and should not reanalyze these land use planning decisions in making a permit decision.

(2) Comprehensive plans and development regulations adopted by local governments under chapter 36.70A RCW and environmental laws and rules adopted by the state and federal government have addressed a wide range of environmental subjects and impacts. These provisions typically require environmental studies and contain specific standards to address various impacts associated with a proposed development, such as building size and location, drainage, transportation requirements, and protection of critical areas. When a permitting agency applies these existing requirements to a proposed project, some or all of a project's potential environmental impacts will be avoided or otherwise mitigated. Through the integrated project review process described in subsection (1) of this section, the local government will determine whether existing requirements, including the applicable regulations or plans, adequately analyze and address a project's environmental impacts. Section 202 of this act provides that project review should not require additional studies or mitigation under chapter 43.21C RCW where existing regulations have adequately addressed a proposed project's probable specific adverse environmental impacts.

(3) Given the hundreds of jurisdictions and agencies in the state and the numerous communities and applicants affected by development regulations and comprehensive plans adopted under chapter 36.70A RCW, it is essential to establish a uniform framework for considering the consistency of a proposed project with the applicable regulations or plan. Consistency should be determined in the project review process by considering four factors found in applicable regulations or plans: The type of land use allowed; the level of development allowed, such as units per acre or other measures of density; infrastructure, such as the adequacy of public facilities and services to serve the proposed project; and the character of the proposed development, such as compliance with specific development standards. This uniform approach corresponds to existing project review practices and will not place a burden on applicants or local government. The legislature intends that this approach should be largely a matter of checking compliance with existing requirements for most projects, which are simple or routine, while more complex projects may require more analysis. Sections 202 and 404 of this act establish this uniform framework and also direct state agencies to consult with local government and the public to develop a better format than the current environmental checklist to meet this objective.

(4) When an applicant applies for a project permit, consistency between the proposed project and applicable regulations or plan should be determined through a project review process that integrates land use and environmental impact analysis, so that governmental and public review of the proposed project as required by this chapter, by development regulations under chapter 36.70A RCW, and by the environmental process under chapter 43.21C RCW run concurrently and not separately.

(5) Sections 404 and 405 of this act address three related needs with respect to how the project review process should address consistency between a proposed project and the applicable regulations or plan:

(a) A uniform framework for the meaning of consistency;

(b) An emphasis on relying on existing requirements and adopted standards, with the use of supplemental authority as specified by chapter 43.21C RCW to the extent that existing requirements do not adequately address a project's specific probable adverse environmental impacts; and

(c) The identification of three basic land use planning choices made in applicable regulations or plans that, at a minimum, serve as a foundation for project review and that should not be reanalyzed during project permitting.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 404. (1) Fundamental land use planning choices made in adopted comprehensive plans and development regulations shall serve as the foundation for project review. The review of a proposed project's consistency with applicable development regulations, or in the absence of applicable regulations the adopted comprehensive plan, under section 405 of this act shall incorporate the determinations under this section.

(2) During project review, a local government or any subsequent reviewing body shall determine whether the items listed in this subsection are defined in the development regulations applicable to the proposed project or, in the absence of applicable regulations the adopted comprehensive plan. At a minimum, such applicable regulations or plans shall be determinative of the:

(a) Type of land use permitted at the site, including uses that may be allowed under certain circumstances, such as planned unit developments and conditional and special uses, if the criteria for their approval have been satisfied;

(b) Density of residential development in urban growth areas; and

(c) Availability and adequacy of public facilities identified in the comprehensive plan, if the plan or development regulations provide for funding of these facilities as required by chapter 36.70A RCW.

(3) During project review, the local government or any subsequent reviewing body shall not reexamine alternatives to or hear appeals on the items identified in subsection (2) of this section, except for issues of code interpretation. As part of its project review process, a local government shall provide a procedure for obtaining a code interpretation as provided in section 415 of this act.

(4) Pursuant to section 202 of this act, a local government may determine that the requirements for environmental analysis and mitigation measures in development regulations and other applicable laws provide adequate mitigation for some or all of the project's specific adverse environmental impacts to which the requirements apply.

(5) Nothing in this section limits the authority of a permitting agency to approve, condition, or deny a project as provided in its development regulations adopted under chapter 36.70A RCW and in its policies adopted under RCW 43.21C.060. Project review shall be used to identify specific project design and conditions relating to the character of development, such as the details of site plans, curb cuts, drainage swales, transportation demand management, the payment of impact fees, or other measures to mitigate a proposal's probable adverse environmental impacts, if applicable.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 405. (1) A proposed project's consistency with a local government's development regulations adopted under chapter 36.70A RCW, or, in the absence of applicable development regulations, the appropriate elements of the comprehensive plan or subarea plan adopted under chapter 36.70A RCW shall be determined by consideration of:

(a) The type of land use;

(b) The level of development, such as units per acre or other measures of density;

(c) Infrastructure, including public facilities and services needed to serve the development; and

(d) The character of the development, such as development standards.

(2) In determining consistency, the determinations made pursuant to section 404(2) of this act shall be controlling.

(3) For purposes of this section, the term "consistency" shall include all terms used in this chapter and chapter 36.70A RCW to refer to the performance in accordance with this chapter and chapter 36.70A RCW, including but not limited to compliance, conformity, and consistency.

(4) Nothing in this section requires documentation, dictates an agency's procedures for considering consistency, or limits a unit of government from asking more specific or related questions with respect to any of the four main categories listed in subsection (1) (a) through (d) of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 406. Not later than March 31, 1996, each local government shall provide by ordinance or resolution for review of project permit applications to achieve the following objectives:

(1) Combine the environmental review process, both procedural and substantive, with the procedure for review of project permits; and

(2) Except as provided in RCW 43.21C.075(3), provide for no more than one open record hearing and one closed record appeal.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 407. Not later than March 31, 1996, each local government planning under RCW 36.70A.040 shall establish by ordinance or resolution an integrated and consolidated project permit process that may be included in its development regulations. In addition to the elements required by section 406 of this act, the process shall include the following elements:

(1) A determination of completeness to the applicant as required by RCW 36.70A.440 (as recodified by this act);

(2) A notice of application to the public and agencies with jurisdiction as required by section 415 of this act;

(3) Except as provided in section 418 of this act, an optional consolidated project permit review process as provided in section 416 of this act. The review process shall provide for no more than one consolidated open record hearing and one closed record appeal. If an open record predecision hearing is provided prior to the decision on a project permit, the process shall not allow a subsequent open record appeal hearing;

(4) Provision allowing for any public meeting or required open record hearing to be combined with any public meeting or open record hearing that may be held on the project by another local, state, regional, federal, or other agency, in accordance with provisions of sections 413 and 415 of this act;

(5) A single report stating all the decisions made as of the date of the report on all project permits included in the consolidated permit process that do not require an open record predecision hearing. The report shall state any mitigation required or proposed under the development regulations or the agency's authority under RCW 43.21C.060. The report may be the local permit. If a threshold determination other than a determination of significance has not been issued previously by the local government, the report shall include or append this determination.

(6) Except for the appeal of a determination of significance as provided in RCW 43.21C.075, if a local government elects to provide an appeal of its threshold determinations or project permit decisions, the local government shall provide for no more than one consolidated open record hearing on such appeal. The local government need not provide for any further appeal and may provide an appeal for some but not all project permit decisions. If an appeal is provided after the open record hearing, it shall be a closed record appeal before a single decision-making body or officer;

(7) A notice of decision as required by section 417 of this act and issued within the time period provided in RCW 36.70A.065 (as recodified by this act) and section 413 of this act;

(8) Completion of project review by the local government, including environmental review and public review and any appeals to the local government, within any applicable time periods under section 413 of this act; and

(9) Any other provisions not inconsistent with the requirements of this chapter or chapter 43.21C RCW.

Sec. 408. RCW 36.70A.440 and 1994 c 257 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((Each city and county))~~ (1) Within twenty-eight days after receiving a project permit application, a local government planning pursuant to RCW 36.70A.040 shall ~~((, within twenty working days of receiving a development permit application as defined in RCW 36.70A.030(7),))~~ mail or provide in person a written ~~((notice))~~ determination to the applicant, stating either:

(a) That the application is complete; or

(b) That the application is incomplete and what is necessary to make the application complete.

To the extent known by the ~~((city or county))~~ local government, the ~~((notice))~~ local government shall identify other agencies of local, state, or federal governments that may have jurisdiction over some aspect of the application.

(2) A project permit application is complete for purposes of this section when it meets the procedural submission requirements of the local government and is sufficient for continued processing even though additional information may be required or project modifications may be undertaken subsequently. The determination of completeness shall not preclude the local government from requesting additional information or studies either at the time of the notice of completeness or subsequently if new information is required or substantial changes in the proposed action occur.

(3) The determination of completeness may include the following as optional information:

(a) A preliminary determination of those development regulations that will be used for project mitigation;

(b) A preliminary determination of consistency, as provided under section 405 of this act; or

(c) Other information the local government chooses to include.

(4)(a) An application shall be deemed complete under this section if the local government does not provide a written determination to the applicant that the application is incomplete as provided in subsection (1)(b) of this section.

(b) Within fourteen days after an applicant has submitted to a local government additional information identified by the local government as being necessary for a complete application, the local government shall notify the applicant whether the application is complete or what additional information is necessary.

Sec. 409. RCW 36.70A.065 and 1994 c 257 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

Development regulations adopted pursuant to RCW 36.70A.040 shall establish time periods consistent with section 413 of this act for local government actions on specific ~~((development))~~ project permit applications and provide timely and predictable procedures to determine whether a completed ~~((development))~~ project permit application meets the requirements of those development regulations. Such development regulations shall specify the contents of a completed ~~((development))~~ project permit application necessary for the application of such time periods and procedures.

Sec. 410. RCW 36.70A.065 and 1994 c 257 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

Development regulations adopted pursuant to RCW 36.70A.040 shall establish time periods for local government actions on specific ~~((development))~~ project permit applications and provide timely and predictable procedures to determine whether a completed ~~((development))~~ project permit application meets the requirements of those development regulations. Such development regulations shall specify the contents of a completed ~~((development))~~ project permit application necessary for the application of such time periods and procedures.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 411. The amendments to RCW 36.70A.065 contained in section 409 of this act shall expire July 1, 1998.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 412. Section 410 of this act shall take effect July 1, 1998.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 413. (1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (2) of this section, a local government planning under RCW 36.70A.040 shall issue its notice of final decision on a project permit application within one hundred twenty days after the local government notifies the applicant that the application is complete, as provided in RCW 36.70A.440 (as recodified by this act). In determining the number of days that have elapsed after the local government has notified the applicant that the application is complete, the following periods shall be excluded:

(a)(i) Any period during which the applicant has been requested by the local government to correct plans, perform required studies, or provide additional required information. The period shall be calculated from the date the local government notifies the applicant of the need for additional information until the earlier of the date the local government determines whether the additional information satisfies the request for information or fourteen days after the date the information has been provided to the local government.

(ii) If the local government determines that the information submitted by the applicant under (a)(i) of this subsection is insufficient, it shall notify the applicant of the deficiencies and the procedures under (a)(i) of this subsection shall apply as if a new request for studies had been made;

(b) Any period during which an environmental impact statement is being prepared following a determination of significance pursuant to chapter 43.21C RCW, if the local government by ordinance or resolution has established time periods for completion of environmental impact statements, or if the local government and the applicant in writing agree to a time period for completion of an environmental impact statement;

(c) Any period for administrative appeals of project permits, if an open record appeal hearing or a closed record appeal, or both, are allowed. The local government by ordinance or resolution shall establish a time period to consider and decide such appeals. The time period shall not exceed: (i) Ninety days for an open record appeal hearing; and (ii) sixty days for a closed record appeal. The parties to an appeal may agree to extend these time periods; and

(d) Any extension of time mutually agreed upon by the applicant and the local government.

(2) The time limits established by subsection (1) of this section do not apply if a project permit application:

(a) Requires an amendment to the comprehensive plan or a development regulation;

(b) Requires approval of a new fully contained community as provided in RCW 36.70A.350, a master planned resort as provided in RCW 36.70A.360, or the siting of an essential public facility as provided in RCW 36.70A.200; or

(c) Requires substantial revisions to the project proposal, in which case the time period shall start from the date at which the revised project application is determined to be complete under RCW 36.70A.440 (as recodified by this act).

(3) If the local government is unable to issue its final decision within the time limits provided for in this section, it shall provide written notice of this fact to the project applicant. The notice shall include a statement of reasons why the time limits have not been met and an estimated date for issuance of the notice of final decision.

(4) This section shall apply to project permit applications filed on or after April 1, 1996.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 414. A local government may require the applicant for a project permit to designate a single person or entity to receive determinations and notices required by this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 415. (1) Not later than April 1, 1996, a local government planning under RCW 36.70A.040 shall provide a notice of application to the public and the departments and agencies with jurisdiction as provided in this section. If a local government has made a determination of significance under chapter 43.21C RCW concurrently with the notice of application, the notice of application shall be combined with the determination of significance and scoping notice. Nothing in this section prevents a determination of significance and scoping notice from being issued prior to the notice of application.

(2) The notice of application shall be provided within fourteen days after the determination of completeness as provided in RCW 36.70A.440 (as recodified by this act) and include the following in whatever sequence or format the local government deems appropriate:

(a) The date of application, the date of the notice of completion for the application, and the date of the notice of application;

(b) a description of the proposed project action and a list of the project permits included in the application and, if applicable, a list of any studies requested under RCW 36.70A.440 (as recodified by this act) or section 413 of this act;

(c) The identification of other permits not included in the application to the extent known by the local government;

(d) The identification of existing environmental documents that evaluate the proposed project, and, if not otherwise stated on the document providing the notice of application, such as a city land use bulletin, the location where the application and any studies can be reviewed;

(e) A statement of public comment period, which shall be not less than fourteen nor more than thirty days following the date of notice of application, and statements of the right of any person to comment on the application, receive notice of and participate in any hearings, request a copy of the decision once made, and any appeal rights. A local government may accept public comments at any time prior to the closing of the record of an open record predecision hearing, if any, or, if no open record predecision hearing is provided, prior to the decision on the project permit;

(f) The date, time, place, and type of hearing, if applicable and scheduled at the date of notice of the application;

(g) A statement of the preliminary determination, if one has been made at the time of notice, of those development regulations that will be used for project mitigation and of consistency as provided in section 405 of this act; and

(h) Any other information determined appropriate by the local government.

(3) If an open record predecision hearing is required for the requested project permits, the notice of application shall be provided at least fifteen days prior to the open record hearing.

(4) A local government shall use reasonable methods to give the notice of application to the public and agencies with jurisdiction and may use its existing notice procedures. A local government may use different types of notice for different categories of project permits or types of project actions. If a local government by resolution or ordinance does not specify its method of public notice, the local government shall use the methods provided for in (a) and (b) of this subsection. Examples of reasonable methods to inform the public are:

- (a) Posting the property for site-specific proposals;
- (b) Publishing notice, including at least the project location, description, type of permit(s) required, comment period dates, and location where the complete application may be reviewed, in the newspaper of general circulation in the general area where the proposal is located or in a local land use newsletter published by the local government;
- (c) Notifying public or private groups with known interest in a certain proposal or in the type of proposal being considered;
- (d) Notifying the news media;
- (e) Placing notices in appropriate regional or neighborhood newspapers or trade journals;
- (f) Publishing notice in agency newsletters or sending notice to agency mailing lists, either general lists or lists for specific proposals or subject areas; and
- (g) Mailing to neighboring property owners.

(5) A notice of application shall not be required for project permits that are categorically exempt under chapter 43.21C RCW, unless a public comment period or an open record predecision hearing is required.

(6) A local government shall integrate the consolidated permit process procedures in this section with environmental review under chapter 43.21C RCW as follows:

(a) The local government may not issue its threshold determination, or issue a decision or a recommendation on a project permit until the expiration of the public comment period on the notice of application.

(b) If an open record predecision hearing is required and the local government's threshold determination requires public notice under chapter 43.21C RCW, the local government shall issue its threshold determination at least fifteen days prior to the open record predecision hearing.

(c) Comments shall be as specific as possible.

(7) A local government may combine any hearing on a project permit with any hearing that may be held by another local, state, regional, federal, or other agency provided that the hearing is held within the geographic boundary of the local government. Hearings shall be combined if requested by an applicant, as long as the joint hearing can be held within the time periods specified in section 413 of this act or the applicant agrees to the schedule in the event that additional time is needed in order to combine the hearings. All agencies of the state of Washington, including municipal corporations and counties participating in a combined hearing, are hereby authorized to issue joint hearing notices and develop a joint format, select a mutually acceptable hearing body or officer, and take such other actions as may be necessary to hold joint hearings consistent with each of their respective statutory obligations.

(8) All state and local agencies shall cooperate to the fullest extent possible with the local government in holding a joint hearing if requested to do so, as long as:

- (a) The agency is not expressly prohibited by statute from doing so;
- (b) Sufficient notice of the hearing is given to meet each of the agencies' adopted notice requirements as set forth in statute, ordinance, or rule; and
- (c) The agency has received the necessary information about the proposed project from the applicant to hold its hearing at the same time as the local government hearing.

(9) A local government is not required to provide for administrative appeals. If provided, an administrative appeal of the project decision, combined with any environmental determinations, shall be filed within fourteen days after the notice of the decision or after other notice that the decision has been made and is appealable. The local government shall extend the appeal period for an additional seven days, if state or local rules adopted pursuant to chapter 43.21C RCW allow public comment on a determination of nonsignificance issued as part of the appealable project permit decision.

(10) The applicant for a project permit is deemed to be a participant in any comment period, open record hearing, or closed record appeal.

(11) Each local government planning under RCW 36.70A.040 shall adopt procedures for administrative interpretation of its development regulations.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 416. (1) Each local government planning under RCW 36.70A.040 shall establish a permit review process that provides for the integrated and consolidated review and decision on two or more project permits relating to a proposed project action, including a single application review and approval process covering all project permits requested by an applicant for all or part of a project action and a designated permit coordinator. If an applicant elects the consolidated permit review process, the determination of completeness, notice of application, and notice of final decision must include all project permits being reviewed through the consolidated permit review process.

(2) Consolidated permit review may provide different procedures for different categories of project permits, but if a project action requires project permits from more than one category, the local government shall provide for consolidated permit review with a single open record hearing and no more than one closed record appeal as provided in section 407 of this act. Each local government shall determine which project permits are subject to an open record hearing and a closed record appeal. Examples of categories of project permits include but are not limited to:

(a) Proposals that are categorically exempt from chapter 43.21C RCW, such as construction permits, that do not require environmental review or public notice;

(b) Permits that require environmental review, but no open record predecision hearing; and

(c) Permits that require a threshold determination and an open record predecision hearing and may provide for a closed record appeal to a hearing body or officer or to the local government legislative body.

(3) A local government may provide by ordinance or resolution for the same or a different decision maker or hearing body or officer for different categories of project permits. In the case of consolidated project permit review, the local government shall specify which decision makers shall make the decision or recommendation, conduct the hearing, or decide the appeal to ensure that consolidated permit review occurs as provided in this section. The consolidated permit review may combine an open record predecision hearing on one or more permits with an open record appeal hearing on other permits. In such cases, the local government by ordinance or resolution shall specify which project permits, if any, shall be subject to a closed record appeal.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 417. A local government planning under RCW 36.70A.040 shall provide a notice of decision that also includes a statement of any threshold determination made under chapter 43.21C RCW and the procedures for administrative appeal, if any. The notice of decision may be a copy of the report or decision on the project permit application. The notice shall be provided to the applicant and to any person who, prior to the rendering of the decision, requested notice of the decision or submitted substantive comments on the application. The notice of decision shall include procedures for administrative appeal, if any. The local government shall provide for notice of its decision as provided in section 415(4) of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 418. (1) A local government by ordinance or resolution may exclude the following project permits from the provisions of RCW 36.70A.440 (as recodified by this act), 36.70A.065 (as recodified by this act), and sections 407, 413, and 415 through 417 of this act: Landmark designations, street vacations, or other approvals relating to the use of public areas or facilities, or other project permits, whether administrative or quasi-judicial, that the local government by ordinance or resolution has determined present special circumstances that warrant a review process different from that provided in RCW 36.70A.440 (as recodified by this act), 36.70A.065 (as recodified by this act), and sections 407, 413, and 415 through 417 of this act.

(2) A local government by ordinance or resolution also may exclude the following project permits from the provisions of sections 407 and 415 through 417 of this act: Lot line or boundary adjustments and building and other construction permits, or similar administrative approvals, categorically exempt from environmental review under chapter 43.21C RCW, or for which environmental review has been completed in connection with other project permits.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 419. A local government not planning under RCW 36.70A.040 may incorporate some or all of the provisions of sections 407, 413, and 415 through 417 of this act and RCW 36.70A.065 and 36.70A.440 (as recodified by this act) into its procedures for review of project permits or other project actions.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 420. (1) Each local government is encouraged to adopt further project review provisions to provide prompt, coordinated review and ensure accountability to applicants and the public, including expedited review for project permit applications for projects that are consistent with adopted development regulations and within the capacity of system-wide infrastructure improvements.

(2) Nothing in this chapter is intended or shall be construed to prevent a local government from requiring a preapplication conference or a public meeting by rule, ordinance, or resolution.

(3) Each local government shall adopt procedures to monitor and enforce permit decisions and conditions.

(4) Nothing in this chapter modifies any independent statutory authority for a government agency to appeal a project permit issued by a local government.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 421. A new section is added to chapter 64.40 RCW to read as follows:

A local government is not liable for damages under this chapter due to the local governments failure to make a final decision within the time limits established in section 413 of this act.

Sec. 422. RCW 43.21C.033 and 1992 c 208 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section, the responsible official shall make a threshold determination on a completed application within ninety days after the application and supporting documentation are complete. The applicant may request an additional thirty days for the threshold determination. The governmental entity responsible for making the threshold determination shall by rule, resolution, or ordinance adopt standards, consistent with rules adopted by the department to implement this chapter, for determining when an application and supporting documentation are complete.

(2) This section shall not apply to a city, town, or county that:

(a) By ordinance adopted prior to April 1, 1992, has adopted procedures to integrate permit and land use decisions with the requirements of this chapter; or

(b) Is planning under RCW 36.70A.040 and is subject to the requirements of section 413 of this act.

Sec. 423. RCW 35.63.130 and 1994 c 257 s 8 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) As an alternative to those provisions of this chapter relating to powers or duties of the planning commission to hear and report on any proposal to amend a zoning ordinance, the legislative body of a city or county may adopt a hearing examiner system under which a hearing examiner or hearing examiners may hear and decide applications for amending the zoning ordinance when the amendment which is applied for is not of general applicability. In addition, the legislative body may vest in a hearing examiner the power to hear and decide those issues it believes should be reviewed and decided by a hearing examiner, including but not limited to:

(a) Applications for conditional uses, variances, subdivisions, shoreline permits, or any other class of applications for or pertaining to development of land or land use(s which the legislative body believes should be reviewed and decided by a hearing examiner));

(b) Appeals of administrative decisions or determinations; and

(c) Appeals of administrative decisions or determinations pursuant to chapter 43.21C RCW.

The legislative body shall prescribe procedures to be followed by the hearing examiner.

(2) Each city or county legislative body electing to use a hearing examiner pursuant to this section shall by ordinance specify the legal effect of the decisions made by the examiner. (~~Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section,~~) The legal effect of such decisions may vary for the different classes of applications decided by the examiner but shall include one of the following:

(b) The decision may be given the effect of an administrative decision appealable within a specified time limit to the legislative body(-

~~(2) The legislative body may specify the legal effect of a hearing examiner's procedural determination under the state environmental policy act, as defined in RCW 43.21C.075(3)(a). It may have the effect under subsection (1) (a) or (b) of this section, or); or~~

(c) ~~Except in the case of a rezone, the decision~~ may be given the effect of a final decision of the legislative body.

(3) Each final decision of a hearing examiner shall be in writing and shall include findings and conclusions, based on the record, to support the decision. Such findings and conclusions shall also set forth the manner in which the decision would carry out and conform to the city's or county's comprehensive plan and the city's or county's development regulations. Each final decision of a hearing examiner, unless a longer period is mutually agreed to in writing by the applicant and the hearing examiner, shall be rendered within ten working days following conclusion of all testimony and hearings.

Sec. 424. RCW 35A.63.170 and 1994 c 257 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) As an alternative to those provisions of this chapter relating to powers or duties of the planning commission to hear and report on any proposal to amend a zoning ordinance, the legislative body of a city may adopt a hearing examiner system under which a hearing examiner or hearing examiners may hear and decide applications for amending the zoning ordinance when the amendment which is applied for is not of general applicability. In addition, the legislative body may vest in a hearing examiner the power to hear and decide those issues it believes should be reviewed and decided by a hearing examiner, including but not limited to:

(b) Appeals of administrative decisions or determinations; and

(c) Appeals of administrative decisions or determinations pursuant to chapter 43.21C RCW.

The legislative body shall prescribe procedures to be followed by a hearing examiner. If the legislative authority vests in a hearing examiner the authority to hear and decide variances, then the provisions of RCW 35A.63.110 shall not apply to the city.

(2) Each city legislative body electing to use a hearing examiner pursuant to this section shall by ordinance specify the legal effect of the decisions made by the examiner. (1) As an alternative to those provisions of this chapter relating to powers or duties of the planning commission to hear and issue recommendations on applications for plat approval and applications for amendments to the zoning ordinance, the county legislative authority may adopt a hearing examiner system under which a hearing examiner or hearing examiners may hear and issue decisions on proposals for plat approval and for amendments to the zoning ordinance when the amendment which is applied for is not of general applicability. In addition, the legislative authority may vest in a hearing examiner the power to hear and decide those issues it believes should be reviewed and decided by a hearing examiner, including but not limited to:

Such findings and conclusions shall also set forth the manner in which the decision would carry out and conform to the county's comprehensive plan and the county's development regulations. Each final decision of a hearing examiner, unless a longer period is mutually agreed to in writing by the applicant and the hearing examiner, shall be rendered within ten working days following conclusion of all testimony and hearings.

Sec. 426. RCW 58.17.090 and 1981 c 293 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Upon receipt of an application for preliminary plat approval the administrative officer charged by ordinance with responsibility for administration of regulations pertaining to platting and subdivisions shall provide public notice and set a date for a public hearing. (2) All hearings shall be public. All hearing notices shall include a description of the location of the proposed subdivision. The description may be in the form of either a vicinity location sketch or a written description other than a legal description.

Sec. 427. RCW 58.17.092 and 1988 c 168 s 12 are each amended to read as follows:

Any notice made under chapter 58.17 or 36-- (the new chapter created in section 431 of this act) RCW that identifies affected property may identify this affected property without using a legal description of the property including, but not limited to, identification by an address, written description, vicinity sketch, or other reasonable means.

Sec. 428. RCW 58.17.100 and 1981 c 293 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

If a city, town or county has established a planning commission or planning agency in accordance with state law or local charter, such commission or agency shall review all preliminary plats and make recommendations thereon to the city, town or county legislative body to assure conformance of the proposed subdivision to the general purposes of the comprehensive plan and to planning standards and specifications as adopted by the city, town or county. Reports of the planning commission or agency shall be advisory only: PROVIDED, That the legislative body of the city, town or county may, by ordinance, assign to such commission or agency, or any department official or group of officials, such administrative functions, powers and duties as may be appropriate, including the holding of hearings, and recommendations for approval or disapproval of preliminary plats of proposed subdivisions.

Such recommendation shall be submitted to the legislative body not later than fourteen days following action by the hearing body. Upon receipt of the recommendation on any preliminary plat the legislative body shall at its next public meeting set the date for the public meeting where it shall consider the recommendations of the hearing body and may adopt or reject the recommendations of such hearing body

~~based on the record established at the public hearing.~~ If, after considering the matter at a public meeting, the legislative body deems a change in the planning commission's or planning agency's recommendation approving or disapproving any preliminary plat is necessary, ~~((the change of the recommendation shall not be made until))~~ the legislative body shall ~~((conduct a public hearing and thereupon))~~ adopt its own recommendations and approve or disapprove the preliminary plat. ~~((Such public hearing may be held before a committee constituting a majority of the legislative body. If the hearing is before a committee, the committee shall report its recommendations on the matter to the legislative body for final action.))~~

Every decision or recommendation made under this section shall be in writing and shall include findings of fact and conclusions to support the decision or recommendation.

A record of all public meetings and public hearings shall be kept by the appropriate city, town or county authority and shall be open to public inspection.

(1) As an alternative to those provisions of this chapter requiring a planning commission to hear and issue recommendations for plat approval, the county or city legislative body may adopt a hearing examiner system and shall specify by ordinance the legal effect of the decisions made by the examiner. ~~((Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section.))~~ The legal effect of such decisions shall include one of the following:

- (b) The decision may be given the effect of an administrative decision appealable within a specified time limit to the legislative body;

(c) The decision may be given the effect of a final decision of the legislative body.

The legislative authority shall prescribe procedures to be followed by a hearing examiner.

~~(2) ((The legislative body shall specify the legal effect of a hearing examiner's procedural determination under the state environmental policy act, as defined in RCW 43.21C.075(3)(a). It may have the effect under subsection (1) (a) or (b) of this section, or may be given the effect of a final decision of the legislative body.~~

~~(3))~~ Each final decision of a hearing examiner shall be in writing and shall include findings and conclusions, based on the record, to support the decision. Each final decision of a hearing examiner, unless a longer period is mutually agreed to by the applicant and the hearing examiner, shall be rendered within ten working days following conclusion of all testimony and hearings.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 430. (1) The department of community, trade, and economic development shall provide training and technical assistance to counties and cities to assist them in fulfilling the requirements of chapter 36.-- RCW (the new chapter created in section 431 of this act).

(2) The land use study commission created by section 801 of this act shall monitor local government consolidated permit procedures and the effectiveness of the timelines established by section 413 of this act. The commission shall include in its report submitted to the governor and the legislature on November 30, 1997, its recommendation about what timelines, if any, should be imposed on the local government consolidated permit process required by chapter 36.-- RCW (the new chapter created in section 431 of this act).

(3) The commission shall also evaluate funding mechanisms that will enable local governments to pay for and recover the costs of conducting integrated planning and environmental analysis. The commission shall include its conclusions in its first report to the legislature in November 1995, and include any recommended statutory changes.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 431. Sections 401, 402, 404 through 407, 413 through 420, and 502 through 506 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 36 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 432. RCW 36.70A.065 and 36.70A.440 are recodified as sections within the new chapter created in section 431 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 433. Sections 413 and 421 of this act shall expire June 30, 1998. The provisions of sections 413 and 421 of this act shall apply to project permit applications determined to be complete pursuant to RCW 36.70A.440 (as recodified by this act) on or before June 30, 1998.

PART V - DEVELOPMENT AGREEMENTS

NEW SECTION. Sec. 501. The legislature finds that the lack of certainty in the approval of development projects can result in a waste of public and private resources, escalate housing costs for consumers and discourage the commitment to comprehensive planning which would make maximum efficient use of resources at the least economic cost to the public. Assurance to a development project applicant that upon government approval the project may proceed in accordance with existing policies and regulations, and subject to conditions of approval, all as set forth in a development agreement, will strengthen the public planning process, encourage private participation and comprehensive planning, and reduce the economic costs of development. Further, the lack of public facilities and services is a serious impediment to development of new housing and commercial uses. Project applicants and local governments may include provisions and agreements whereby applicants are reimbursed over time for financing public facilities. It is the intent of the legislature by sections 502 through 506 of this act to allow local governments and owners and developers of real property to enter into development agreements.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 502. (1) A local government may enter into a development agreement with a person having ownership or control of real property within its jurisdiction. A city may enter into a development agreement for real property outside its boundaries as part of a proposed annexation or a service agreement. A development agreement must set forth the development standards and other provisions that shall apply to and govern and vest the development, use, and mitigation of the development of the real property for the duration specified in the agreement. A development agreement shall be consistent with applicable development regulations adopted by a local government planning under chapter 36.70A RCW.

(2) Sections 501 through 504 of this act do not affect the validity of a contract rezone, concomitant agreement, annexation agreement, or other agreement in existence on the effective date of sections 501 through 504 of this act, or adopted under separate authority, that includes some or all of the development standards provided in subsection (3) of this section.

(3) For the purposes of this section, "development standards" includes, but is not limited to:

- (a) Project elements such as permitted uses, residential densities, and nonresidential densities and intensities or building sizes;
- (b) The amount and payment of impact fees imposed or agreed to in accordance with any applicable provisions of state law, other financial contributions by the property owner, inspection fees, or dedications;
- (c) Mitigation measures, development conditions, and other requirements under chapter 43.21C RCW;
- (d) Design standards such as maximum heights, setbacks, drainage and water quality requirements, landscaping, and other development features;
- (e) Affordable housing;
- (f) Parks and open space preservation;
- (g) Phasing;
- (h) Review procedures and standards for implementing decisions;
- (i) A build-out or vesting period for applicable standards; and
- (j) Any other appropriate development requirement or procedure.

(4) The execution of a development agreement is a proper exercise of county and city police power and contract authority. A development agreement may obligate a party to fund or provide services, infrastructure, or other facilities. A development agreement shall reserve authority to impose new or different regulations to the extent required by a serious threat to public health and safety.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 503. Unless amended or terminated, a development agreement is enforceable during its term by a party to the agreement. A development agreement and the development standards in the agreement govern during the term of the agreement, or for all or that part of the build-out period specified in the agreement, and may not be subject to an amendment to a zoning ordinance or development standard or regulation or a new zoning ordinance or development standard or regulation adopted after the effective date of the agreement. A permit or approval issued by the county or city after the execution of the development agreement must be consistent with the development agreement.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 504. A development agreement shall be recorded with the real property records of the county in which the property is located. During the term of the development agreement, the agreement is binding on the parties and their successors, including a city that assumes jurisdiction through incorporation or annexation of the area covering the property covered by the development agreement.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 505. A county or city shall only approve a development agreement by ordinance or resolution after a public hearing. The county or city legislative body or a planning commission, hearing examiner, or other body designated by the legislative body to conduct the public hearing may conduct the hearing. If the development agreement relates to a project permit application, the provisions of chapter 36-- RCW (sections 701 through 715 of this act) shall apply to the appeal of the decision on the development agreement.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 506. Nothing in sections 501 through 505 of this act is intended to authorize local governments to impose impact fees, inspection fees, or dedications or to require any other financial contributions or mitigation measures except as expressly authorized by other applicable provisions of state law.

PART VI - STATE PERMIT COORDINATION

NEW SECTION. Sec. 601. The legislature hereby finds and declares:

(1) Washington's environmental protection programs have established strict standards to reduce pollution and protect the public health and safety and the environment. The single-purpose programs instituted to achieve these standards have been successful in many respects, and have produced significant gains in protecting Washington's environment in the face of substantial population growth.

(2) Continued progress to achieve the environmental standards in the face of continued population growth will require greater coordination between the single-purpose environmental programs and more efficient operation of these programs overall. Pollution must be prevented and controlled and not simply transferred to another media or another place. This goal can only be achieved by maintaining the current environmental protection standards and by greater integration of the existing programs.

(3) As the number of environmental laws and regulations have grown in Washington, so have the number of permits required of business and government. This regulatory burden has significantly added to the cost and time needed to obtain essential permits in Washington.

The increasing number of individual permits and permit authorities has generated the continuing potential for conflict, overlap, and duplication between the various state, local, and federal permits.

(4) The purpose of this chapter is to institute new, efficient procedures that will assist businesses and public agencies in complying with the environmental quality laws in an expedited fashion, without reducing protection of public health and safety and the environment.

(5) Those procedures need to provide a permit process that promotes effective dialogue and ensures ease in the transfer and clarification of technical information, while preventing duplication. It is necessary that the procedures establish a process for preliminary and ongoing meetings between the applicant, the coordinating permit agency, and the participating permit agencies, but do not preclude the applicant or participating permit agencies from individually coordinating with each other.

(6) It is necessary, to the maximum extent practicable, that the procedures established in this chapter ensure that the coordinated permit agency process and applicable permit requirements and criteria are integrated and run concurrently, rather than consecutively.

(7) It is necessary to provide a reliable and consolidated source of information concerning federal, state, and local environmental and land use laws and procedures that apply to any given proposal.

(8) The process shall provide an optional process by which a project proponent may obtain active coordination of all applicable regulatory and land-use permitting procedures. This process is not to replace individual laws, or diminish the substantive decision-making role of individual jurisdictions. Rather it is to provide predictability, administrative consolidation, and, where possible, consolidation of appeal processes.

(9) It is the intent of this chapter to provide consolidated, effective, and easier opportunities for members of the public to receive information and present their views about proposed projects.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 602. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Center" means the permit assistance center established in the commission by section 603 of this act.

(2) "Commission" means the Washington independent regulatory affairs commission created in chapter . . . , Laws of 1995 (Senate Bill No. 6037).

(3) "Coordinating permit agency" means the permit agency that has the greatest overall jurisdiction over a project.

(4) "Participating permit agency" means a permit agency, other than the coordinating permit agency, that is responsible for the issuance of a permit for a project.

(5) "Permit" means any license, certificate, registration, permit, or other form of authorization required by a permit agency to engage in a particular activity.

(6) "Permit agency" means:

(a) The department of ecology, an air pollution control authority, the department of natural resources, the department of fish and wildlife, and the department of health; and

(b) Any other state or federal agency or county, city, or town that participates at the request of the permit applicant and upon the agency's agreement to be subject to this chapter.

(7) "Project" means an activity, the conduct of which requires permits from one or more permit agencies.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 603. The permit assistance center is established within the commission. The center shall:

(1) Publish and keep current one or more handbooks containing lists and explanations of all permit laws. The center shall coordinate with the business assistance center in providing and maintaining this information to applicants and others. To the extent possible, the handbook shall include relevant federal and tribal laws. A state agency or local government shall provide a reasonable number of copies of application forms, statutes, ordinances, rules, handbooks, and other informational material requested by the center and shall otherwise fully cooperate with the center. The center shall seek the cooperation of relevant federal agencies and tribal governments;

(2) Establish, and make known, a point of contact for distribution of the handbook and advice to the public as to its interpretation in any given case;

(3) Work closely and cooperatively with the business license center and the business assistance center in providing efficient and nonduplicative service to the public;

(4) Seek the assignment of employees from the permit agencies listed under section 602(6)(a) of this act to serve on a rotating basis in staffing the center; and

(5) Provide an annual report to the legislature on potential conflicts and perceived inconsistencies among existing statutes. The first report shall be submitted to the appropriate standing committees of the house of representatives and senate by December 1, 1996.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 604. (1) Not later than January 1, 1996, the center shall establish by rule an administrative process for the designation of a coordinating permit agency for a project.

(2) The administrative process shall consist of the establishment of guidelines for designating the coordinating permit agency for a project. If a permit agency is the lead agency for purposes of chapter 43.21C RCW, that permit agency shall be the coordinating permit agency. In other cases, the guidelines shall require that at least the following factors be considered in determining which permit agency has the greatest overall jurisdiction over the project:

(a) The types of facilities or activities that make up the project;

- (b) The types of public health and safety and environmental concerns that should be considered in issuing permits for the project;
- (c) The environmental medium that may be affected by the project, the extent of those potential effects, and the environmental protection measures that may be taken to prevent the occurrence of, or to mitigate, those potential effects;
- (d) The regulatory activity that is of greatest importance in preventing or mitigating the effects that the project may have on public health and safety or the environment; and
- (e) The statutory and regulatory requirements that apply to the project and the complexity of those requirements.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 605. Upon the request of a project applicant, the center shall appoint a project facilitator to assist the applicant in determining which regulatory requirements, processes, and permits may be required for development and operation of the proposed project. The project facilitator shall provide the information to the applicant and explain the options available to the applicant in obtaining the required permits. If the applicant requests, the center shall designate a coordinating permit agency as provided in section 606 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 606. (1) A permit applicant who requests the designation of a coordinating permit agency shall provide the center with a description of the project, a preliminary list of the permits that the project may require, the identity of any public agency that has been designated the lead agency for the project pursuant to chapter 43.21C RCW, and the identity of the participating permit agencies. The center may request any information from the permit applicant that is necessary to make the designation under this section, and may convene a scoping meeting of the likely coordinating permit agency and participating permit agencies in order to make that designation.

(2) The coordinating permit agency shall serve as the main point of contact for the permit applicant with regard to the coordinated permit process for the project and shall manage the procedural aspects of that processing consistent with existing laws governing the coordinating permit agency and participating permit agencies, and with the procedures agreed to by those agencies in accordance with section 607 of this act. In carrying out these responsibilities, the coordinating permit agency shall ensure that the permit applicant has all the information needed to apply for all the component permits that are incorporated in the coordinated permit process for the project, coordinate the review of those permits by the respective participating permit agencies, ensure that timely permit decisions are made by the participating permit agencies, and assist in resolving any conflict or inconsistency among the permit requirements and conditions that are to be imposed by the participating permit agencies with regard to the project. The coordinating permit agency shall keep in contact with the applicant as well as other permit agencies in order to assure that the process is progressing as scheduled. The coordinating permit agency shall also make contact, at least once, with any local jurisdiction that is responsible for issuing a permit for the project if the local jurisdiction has not agreed to be a participating permit agency as provided in section 602(6) of this act.

(3) This chapter shall not be construed to limit or abridge the powers and duties granted to a participating permit agency under the law that authorizes or requires the agency to issue a permit for a project. Each participating permit agency shall retain its authority to make all decisions on all nonprocedural matters with regard to the respective component permit that is within its scope of its responsibility, including, but not limited to, the determination of permit application completeness, permit approval or approval with conditions, or permit denial. The coordinating permit agency may not substitute its judgment for that of a participating permit agency on any such nonprocedural matters.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 607. (1) Within twenty-one days of the date that the coordinating permit agency is designated, it shall convene a meeting with the permit applicant for the project and the participating permit agencies. The meeting agenda shall include at least all of the following matters:

- (a) A determination of the permits that are required for the project;
- (b) A review of the permit application forms and other application requirements of the agencies that are participating in the coordinated permit process;
- (c)(i) A determination of the timelines that will be used by the coordinating permit agency and each participating permit agency to make permit decisions, including the time periods required to determine if the permit applications are complete, to review the application or applications, and to process the component permits. In the development of this timeline, full attention shall be given to achieving the maximum efficiencies possible through concurrent studies, consolidated applications, hearings, and comment periods. Except as provided in (c)(ii) of this subsection, the timelines established under this subsection, with the assent of the coordinating permit agency and each participating permit agency, shall commit the coordinating permit agency and each participating permit agency to act on the component permit within time periods that are different than those required by other applicable provisions of law.
 - (ii) An accelerated time period for the consideration of a permit application may not be set if that accelerated time period would be inconsistent with, or in conflict with, any time period or series of time periods set by statute for that consideration, or with any statute, rule, or regulation, or adopted state policy, standard, or guideline that requires any of the following:
 - (A) Other agencies, interested persons, federally recognized Indian tribes, or the public to be given adequate notice of the application;
 - (B) Other agencies to be given a role in, or be allowed to participate in, the decision to approve or disapprove the application; or
 - (C) Interested persons or the public to be provided the opportunity to challenge, comment on, or otherwise voice their concerns regarding the application;
- (d) The scheduling of any public hearings that are required to issue permits for the project and a determination of the feasibility of coordinating or consolidating any of those required public hearings; and

(e) A discussion of fee arrangements for the coordinated permit process, including an estimate of the costs allowed under section 610 of this act and the billing schedule.

(2) Each agency shall send at least one representative qualified to make decisions concerning the applicability and timelines associated with all permits administered by that jurisdiction. At the request of the applicant, the coordinating permit agency shall notify any relevant federal agency or federally recognized tribe of the date of the meeting and invite that agency's participation in the process.

(3) If a permit agency or the applicant foresees, at any time, that it will be unable to meet its obligations under the agreement, it shall notify the coordinating permit agency of the problem. The coordinating permit agency shall notify the participating permit agencies and the applicant and, upon agreement of all parties, adjust the schedule, or, if necessary, schedule another work plan meeting.

(4) The coordinating permit agency may request any information from the applicant that is necessary to comply with its obligations under this section, consistent with the timelines set pursuant to this section.

(5) A summary of the decisions made under this section shall be made available for public review upon the filing of the coordinated permit process application or permit applications.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 608. (1) The permit applicant may withdraw from the coordinated permit process by submitting to the coordinating permit agency a written request that the process be terminated. Upon receipt of the request, the coordinating permit agency shall notify the center and each participating permit agency that a coordinated permit process is no longer applicable to the project.

(2) The permit applicant may submit a written request to the coordinating permit agency that the permit applicant wishes a participating permit agency to withdraw from participation on the basis of a reasonable belief that the issuance of the coordinated permit process would be accelerated if the participating permit agency withdraws. In that event, the participating permit agency shall withdraw from participation if the coordinating permit agency approves the request.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 609. The coordinating permit agency shall ensure that the participating permit agencies make all the permit decisions that are necessary for the incorporation of the permits into the coordinated permit process and act on the component permits within the time periods established pursuant to section 607 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 610. (1) The coordinating permit agency may enter into a written agreement with the applicant to recover from the applicant the reasonable costs incurred by the coordinating permit agency in carrying out the requirements of this chapter.

(2) The coordinating permit agency may recover only the costs of performing those coordinated permit services and shall be negotiated with the permit applicant in the meeting required pursuant to section 607 of this act. The billing process shall provide for accurate time and cost accounting and may include a billing cycle that provides for progress payments.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 611. A petition by the permit applicant for review of an agency action in issuing, denying, or amending a permit, or any portion of a coordinating permit agency permit, shall be submitted by the permit applicant to the coordinating permit agency or the participating permit agency having jurisdiction over that permit and shall be processed in accordance with the procedures of that permit agency. Within thirty days of receiving the petition, the coordinating permit agency shall notify the other environmental agencies participating in the original coordinated permit process.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 612. If an applicant petitions for a significant amendment or modification to a coordinated permit process application or any of its component permit applications, the coordinating permit agency shall reconvene a meeting of the participating permit agencies, conducted in accordance with section 607 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 613. If an applicant fails to provide information required for the processing of the component permit applications for a coordinated permit process or for the designation of a coordinating permit agency, the time requirements of this chapter shall be held in abeyance until such time as the information is provided.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 614. (1) The center, by rule, shall establish an expedited appeals process by which a petitioner or applicant may appeal any failure by a permit agency to take timely action on the issuance or denial of a permit in accordance with the time limits established under this chapter.

(2) If the center finds that the time limits under appeal have been violated without good cause, it shall establish a date certain by which the permit agency shall act on the permit application with adequate provision for the requirements of section 607(1)(c)(ii) (A) through (C) of this act, and provide for the full reimbursement of any filing or permit processing fees paid by the applicant to the permit agency for the permit application under appeal.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 615. Nothing in this chapter affects the jurisdiction of the energy facility site evaluation council as provided in chapter 80.50 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 616. By December 1, 1997, the center shall submit a report to the appropriate committees of both houses of the legislature detailing the following information:

- (1) The number of instances in which a coordinating permit agency has been requested and used, and the disposition of those cases;
- (2) The amount of time elapsed between an initial request by a permit applicant for a coordinated permit process and the ultimate approval or disapproval of the permits included in the process; and
- (3) The number of instances in which the expedited appeals process was requested, and the disposition of those cases.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 617. The sum of seventy thousand dollars or as much thereof as may be necessary, is appropriated for the biennium ending June 30, 1997, from the general fund; the sum of ninety thousand dollars, or as much thereof as may be necessary, is appropriated for the biennium ending June 30, 1997, from the state toxics control account; and the sum of fifty-five thousand dollars, or as much thereof as may be necessary, is appropriated for the biennium ending June 30, 1997, from the air pollution control account to the Washington independent regulatory affairs commission for the purposes of sections 601 through 616 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 618. A new section is added to chapter 43.131 RCW to read as follows:

The permit assistance center and its powers and duties shall be terminated June 30, 1999, as provided in section 619 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 619. A new section is added to chapter 43.131 RCW to read as follows:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 621. Sections 601 through 616 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 90 RCW.

PART VII - APPEALS

NEW SECTION. Sec. 701. This chapter may be known and cited as the land use petition act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 702. The purpose of this chapter is to reform the process for judicial review of land use decisions made by local jurisdictions, by establishing uniform, expedited appeal procedures and uniform criteria for reviewing such decisions, in order to provide consistent, predictable, and timely judicial review.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 703. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Land use decision" means a final determination by a local jurisdiction's body or officer with the highest level of authority to make the determination, including those with authority to hear appeals, on:

(a) An application for a project permit or other governmental approval required by law before real property may be improved, developed, modified, sold, transferred, or used, but excluding applications for permits or approvals to use, vacate, or transfer streets, parks, and similar types of public property and excluding applications for legislative approvals such as area-wide rezones and annexations;

(b) An interpretative or declaratory decision regarding the application to a specific property of zoning or other ordinances or rules regulating the improvement, development, modification, maintenance, or use of real property; and

(c) The enforcement by a local jurisdiction of ordinances regulating the improvement, development, modification, maintenance, or use of real property. However, when a local jurisdiction is required by law to enforce the ordinances in a court of limited jurisdiction, a petition may not be brought under this chapter.

(2) "Local jurisdiction" means a county, city, or incorporated town.

(3) "Person" means an individual, partnership, corporation, association, public or private organization, or governmental entity or agency.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 704. (1) This chapter replaces the writ of certiorari for appeal of land use decisions and shall be the exclusive means of judicial review of land use decisions, except that this chapter does not apply to:

(a) Judicial review of:

(i) Land use decisions made by bodies that are not part of a local jurisdiction;

(ii) Land use decisions of a local jurisdiction that are subject to review by a quasi-judicial body created by state law, such as the shorelines hearings board or the growth management hearings board;

(b) Judicial review of applications for a writ of mandamus or prohibition; or

(c) Claims provided by any law for monetary damages or compensation. If one or more claims for damages or compensation are set forth in the same complaint with a land use petition brought under this chapter, the claims are not subject to the procedures and standards, including deadlines, provided in this chapter for review of the petition. The judge who hears the land use petition may, if appropriate, preside at a trial for damages or compensation.

(2) The superior court civil rules govern procedural matters under this chapter to the extent that the rules are consistent with this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 705. (1) Proceedings for review under this chapter shall be commenced by filing a land use petition in superior court.

(2) A land use petition is barred, and the court may not grant review, unless the petition is timely filed with the court and timely served on the following persons who shall be parties to the review of the land use petition:

(a) The local jurisdiction, which for purposes of the petition shall be the jurisdiction's corporate entity and not an individual decision maker or department;

(b) Each of the following persons if the person is not the petitioner:

(i) Each person identified by name and address in the local jurisdiction's written decision as an applicant for the permit or approval at issue; and

(ii) Each person identified by name and address in the local jurisdiction's written decision as an owner of the property at issue;

(c) If no person is identified in a written decision as provided in (b) of this subsection, each person identified by name and address as a taxpayer for the property at issue in the records of the county assessor, based upon the description of the property in the application; and

(d) Each person named in the written decision who filed an appeal to a local jurisdiction quasi-judicial decision maker regarding the land use decision at issue, unless the person has abandoned the appeal or the person's claims were dismissed before the quasi-judicial decision was rendered. Persons who later intervened or joined in the appeal are not required to be made parties under this subsection.

(3) The petition is timely if it is filed and served on all parties listed in subsection (2) of this section within twenty-one days of the issuance of the land use decision.

(4) For the purposes of this section, the date on which a land use decision is issued is:

(a) Three days after a written decision is mailed by the local jurisdiction or, if not mailed, the date on which the local jurisdiction provides notice that a written decision is publicly available;

(b) If the land use decision is made by ordinance or resolution by a legislative body sitting in a quasi-judicial capacity, the date the body passes the ordinance or resolution; or

(c) If neither (a) nor (b) of this subsection applies, the date the decision is entered into the public record.

(5) Service on the local jurisdiction must be by delivery of a copy of the petition to the persons identified by or pursuant to RCW 4.28.080 to receive service of process. Service on other parties must be in accordance with the superior court civil rules or by first class mail to:

(a) The address stated in the written decision of the local jurisdiction for each person made a party under subsection (2)(b) of this section;

(b) The address stated in the records of the county assessor for each person made a party under subsection (2)(c) of this section; and
(c) The address stated in the appeal to the quasi-judicial decision maker for each person made a party under subsection (2)(d) of this section.

(6) Service by mail is effective on the date of mailing and proof of service shall be by affidavit or declaration under penalty of perjury.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 706. If the applicant for the land use approval is not the owner of the real property at issue, and if the owner is not accurately identified in the records referred to in section 705(2) (b) and (c) of this act, the applicant shall be responsible for promptly securing the joinder of the owners. In addition, within fourteen days after service each party initially named by the petitioner shall disclose to the other parties the name and address of any person whom such party knows may be needed for just adjudication of the petition, and the petitioner shall promptly name and serve any such person whom the petitioner agrees may be needed for just adjudication. If such a person is named and served before the initial hearing, leave of court for the joinder is not required, and the petitioner shall provide the newly joined party with copies of the pleadings filed before the party's joinder. Failure by the petitioner to name or serve, within the time required by section 705(3) of this act, persons who are needed for just adjudication but who are not identified in the records referred to in section 705(2)(b) of this act, or in section 705(2)(c) of this act if applicable, shall not deprive the court of jurisdiction to hear the land use petition.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 707. Standing to bring a land use petition under this chapter is limited to the following persons:

(1) The applicant and the owner of property to which the land use decision is directed;
(2) Another person aggrieved or adversely affected by the land use decision, or who would be aggrieved or adversely affected by a reversal or modification of the land use decision. A person is aggrieved or adversely affected within the meaning of this section only when all of the following conditions are present:

(a) The land use decision has prejudiced or is likely to prejudice that person;
(b) That person's asserted interests are among those that the local jurisdiction was required to consider when it made the land use decision;
(c) A judgment in favor of that person would substantially eliminate or redress the prejudice to that person caused or likely to be caused by the land use decision; and
(d) The petitioner has exhausted his or her administrative remedies to the extent required by law.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 708. A land use petition must set forth:

(1) The name and mailing address of the petitioner;
(2) The name and mailing address of the petitioner's attorney, if any;
(3) The name and mailing address of the local jurisdiction whose land use decision is at issue;
(4) Identification of the decision-making body or officer, together with a duplicate copy of the decision, or, if not a written decision, a summary or brief description of it;
(5) Identification of each person to be made a party under section 705(2) (b) through (d) of this act;
(6) Facts demonstrating that the petitioner has standing to seek judicial review under section 707 of this act;
(7) A separate and concise statement of each error alleged to have been committed;
(8) A concise statement of facts upon which the petitioner relies to sustain the statement of error; and
(9) A request for relief, specifying the type and extent of relief requested.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 709. (1) Within seven days after the petition is served on the parties identified in section 705(2) of this act, the petitioner shall note, according to the local rules of superior court, an initial hearing on jurisdictional and preliminary matters. This initial hearing shall be set no sooner than thirty-five days and no later than fifty days after the petition is served on the parties identified in section 705(2) of this act.

(2) The parties shall note all motions on jurisdictional and procedural issues for resolution at the initial hearing, except that a motion to allow discovery may be brought sooner. Where confirmation of motions is required, each party shall be responsible for confirming its own motions.

(3) The defenses of lack of standing, untimely filing or service of the petition, and failure to join persons needed for just adjudication are waived if not raised by timely motion noted to be heard at the initial hearing, unless the court allows discovery on such issues.

(4) The petitioner shall move the court for an order at the initial hearing that sets the date on which the record must be submitted, sets a briefing schedule, sets a discovery schedule if discovery is to be allowed, and sets a date for the hearing or trial on the merits.

(5) The parties may waive the initial hearing by scheduling with the court a date for the hearing or trial on the merits and filing a stipulated order that resolves the jurisdictional and procedural issues raised by the petition, including the issues identified in subsections (3) and (4) of this section.

(6) A party need not file an answer to the petition.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 710. The court shall provide expedited review of petitions filed under this chapter. The matter must be set for hearing within sixty days of the date set for submitting the local jurisdiction's record, absent a showing of good cause for a different date or a stipulation of the parties.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 711. (1) A petitioner or other party may request the court to stay or suspend an action by the local jurisdiction or another party to implement the decision under review. The request must set forth a statement of grounds for the stay and the factual basis for the request.

(2) A court may grant a stay only if the court finds that:

- (a) The party requesting the stay is likely to prevail on the merits;
- (b) Without the stay the party requesting it will suffer irreparable harm;
- (c) The grant of a stay will not substantially harm other parties to the proceedings; and
- (d) The request for the stay is timely in light of the circumstances of the case.

(3) The court may grant the request for a stay upon such terms and conditions, including the filing of security, as are necessary to prevent harm to other parties by the stay.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 712. (1) Within forty-five days after entry of an order to submit the record, or within such a further time as the court allows or as the parties agree, the local jurisdiction shall submit to the court a certified copy of the record for judicial review of the land use decision, except that the petitioner shall prepare at the petitioner's expense and submit a verbatim transcript of any hearings held on the matter.

(2) If the parties agree, or upon order of the court, the record shall be shortened or summarized to avoid reproduction and transcription of portions of the record that are duplicative or not relevant to the issues to be reviewed by the court.

(3) The petitioner shall pay the local jurisdiction the cost of preparing the record before the local jurisdiction submits the record to the court. Failure by the petitioner to timely pay the local jurisdiction relieves the local jurisdiction of responsibility to submit the record and is grounds for dismissal of the petition.

(4) If the relief sought by the petitioner is granted in whole or in part the court shall equitably assess the cost of preparing the record among the parties. In assessing costs the court shall take into account the extent to which each party prevailed and the reasonableness of the parties' conduct in agreeing or not agreeing to shorten or summarize the record under subsection (2) of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 713. (1) When the land use decision being reviewed was made by a quasi-judicial body or officer who made factual determinations in support of the decision and the parties to the quasi-judicial proceeding had an opportunity consistent with due process to make a record on the factual issues, judicial review of factual issues and the conclusions drawn from the factual issues shall be confined to the record created by the quasi-judicial body or officer, except as provided in subsections (2) through (4) of this section.

(2) For decisions described in subsection (1) of this section, the record may be supplemented by additional evidence only if the additional evidence relates to:

(a) Grounds for disqualification of a member of the body or of the officer that made the land use decision, when such grounds were unknown by the petitioner at the time the record was created;

(b) Matters that were improperly excluded from the record after being offered by a party to the quasi-judicial proceeding; or

(c) Matters that were outside the jurisdiction of the body or officer that made the land use decision.

(3) For land use decisions other than those described in subsection (1) of this section, the record for judicial review may be supplemented by evidence of material facts that were not made part of the local jurisdiction's record.

(4) The court may require or permit corrections of ministerial errors or inadvertent omissions in the preparation of the record.

(5) The parties may not conduct pretrial discovery except with the prior permission of the court, which may be sought by motion at any time after service of the petition. The court shall not grant permission unless the party requesting it makes a prima facie showing of need. The court shall strictly limit discovery to what is necessary for equitable and timely review of the issues that are raised under subsections (2) and (3) of this section. If the court allows the record to be supplemented, the court shall require the parties to disclose before the hearing or trial on the merits the specific evidence they intend to offer. If any party, or anyone acting on behalf of any party, requests records under chapter 42.17 RCW relating to the matters at issue, a copy of the request shall simultaneously be given to all other parties and the court shall take such request into account in fashioning an equitable discovery order under this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 714. (1) The superior court, acting without a jury, shall review the record and such supplemental evidence as is permitted under section 713 of this act. The court may grant relief only if the party seeking relief has carried the burden of establishing that one of the standards set forth in (a) through (f) of this subsection has been met. The standards are:

(a) The body or officer that made the land use decision engaged in unlawful procedure or failed to follow a prescribed process, unless the error was harmless;

(b) The land use decision is an erroneous interpretation of the law, after allowing for such deference as is due the construction of a law by a local jurisdiction with expertise;

(c) The land use decision is not supported by evidence that is substantial when viewed in light of the whole record before the court;

(d) The land use decision is a clearly erroneous application of the law to the facts;

(e) The land use decision is outside the authority or jurisdiction of the body or officer making the decision; or

(f) The land use decision violates the constitutional rights of the party seeking relief.

(2) In order to grant relief under this chapter, it is not necessary for the court to find that the local jurisdiction engaged in arbitrary and capricious conduct. A grant of relief by itself may not be deemed to establish liability for monetary damages or compensation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 715. The court may affirm or reverse the land use decision under review or remand it for modification or further proceedings. If the decision is remanded for modification or further proceedings, the court may make such an order as it finds necessary to preserve the interests of the parties and the public, pending further proceedings or action by the local jurisdiction.

Sec. 716. RCW 7.16.360 and 1989 c 175 s 38 are each amended to read as follows:

This chapter does not apply to state agency action reviewable under chapter 34.05 RCW or to land use decisions of local jurisdictions reviewable under chapter 36.-- RCW (sections 701 through 715 of this act).

Sec. 717. RCW 58.17.180 and 1983 c 121 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 718. A new section is added to chapter 4.84 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this chapter, reasonable attorneys' fees and costs shall be awarded to the prevailing party or substantially prevailing party on appeal before the court of appeals or the supreme court of a decision by a county, city, or town to issue, condition, or deny a development permit involving a site-specific rezone, zoning, plat, conditional use, variance, shoreline permit, building permit, site plan, or similar land use approval or decision. The court shall award and determine the amount of reasonable attorneys' fees and costs under this section if:

(a) The prevailing party on appeal was the prevailing or substantially prevailing party before the county, city, or town, or in a decision involving a substantial development permit under chapter 90.58 RCW, the prevailing party on appeal was the prevailing party or the substantially prevailing party before the shoreline hearings board; and

(b) The prevailing party on appeal was the prevailing party or substantially prevailing party in all prior judicial proceedings.

(2) In addition to the prevailing party under subsection (1) of this section, the county, city, or town whose decision is on appeal is considered a prevailing party if its decision is upheld at superior court and on appeal.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 719. Sections 701 through 715 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 36 RCW.

PART VIII - STUDY

NEW SECTION. Sec. 801. The land use study commission is hereby established. The commission's goal shall be the integration and consolidation of the state's land use and environmental laws into a single, manageable statute. In fulfilling its responsibilities, the commission shall evaluate the effectiveness of the growth management act, the state environmental policy act, the shoreline management act, and other state land use, planning, environmental, and permitting statutes in achieving their stated goals.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 802. The commission shall consist of not more than fourteen members. Eleven members of the commission shall be appointed by the governor. Membership shall reflect the interests of business, agriculture, labor, the environment, neighborhood groups, other citizens, the legislature, cities, counties, and federally recognized Indian tribes. Members shall have substantial experience in matters relating to land use and environmental planning and regulation, and shall have the ability to work toward cooperative solutions among diverse interests. The director of the department of community, trade, and economic development, or the director's designee, shall be a member and shall serve as chair of the commission. The director of the department of ecology, or the director's designee, and the secretary of the department of transportation, or the secretary's designee, shall also be members of the commission. Staff for the commission shall be provided by the department of community, trade, and economic development, with additional staff to be provided by other state agencies and the legislature, as may be required. State agencies shall provide the commission with information and assistance as needed.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 803. The commission shall convene commencing June 1, 1995, and shall complete its work by June 30, 1998. The commission shall submit a report to the governor and the legislature stating its findings, conclusions, and recommendations not later than November 1 of each year. The commission shall submit its final report to the governor and the legislature not later than November 1, 1997.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 804. The commission shall:

(1) Consider the effectiveness of state and local government efforts to consolidate and integrate the growth management act, the state environmental policy act, the shoreline management act, and other land use, planning, environmental, and permitting laws.

(2) Identify the revisions and modifications needed in state land use, planning, and environmental law and practice to adequately plan for growth and achieve economically and environmentally sustainable development, to adequately assess environmental impacts of comprehensive plans, development regulations, and growth, and to reduce the time and cost of obtaining project permits.

(3) Draft a consolidated land use procedure, following these guidelines:

(a) Conduct land use planning through the comprehensive planning process under chapter 36.70A RCW rather than through review of individual projects;

(b) Involve diverse sectors of the public in the planning process. Early and informal environmental analysis should be incorporated into planning and decision making;

(c) Recognize that different questions need to be answered and different levels of detail applied at each planning phase, from the initial development of plan concepts or plan elements to implementation programs;

(d) Integrate and combine to the fullest extent possible the processes, analysis, and documents currently required under chapters 36.70A and 43.21C RCW, so that subsequent plan decisions and subsequent implementation will incorporate measures to promote the environmental, economic, and other goals and to mitigate undesirable or unintended adverse impacts on a community's quality of life;

(e) Focus environmental review and the level of detail needed for different stages of plan and project decisions on the environmental considerations most relevant to that stage of the process;

(f) Avoid duplicating review that has occurred for plan decisions when specific projects are proposed;

(g) Use environmental review on projects to: (i) Review and document consistency with comprehensive plans and development regulations; (ii) provide prompt and coordinated review by agencies, tribes, and the public on compliance with applicable environmental laws and plans, including mitigation for site specific project impacts that have not been considered and addressed at the plan or development regulation level; and (iii) ensure accountability by local government to applicants and the public for requiring and implementing mitigation measures;

(h) Maintain or improve the quality of environmental analysis both for plan and for project decisions, while integrating these analyses with improved state and local planning and permitting processes;

(i) Examine existing land use and environmental permits for necessity and utility. To the extent possible, existing permits should be combined into fewer permits, assuring that the values and principles intended to be protected by those permits remain protected; and

(j) Consolidate local government appeal processes to allow a single appeal of permits at local government levels, a single state level administrative appeal, and a final judicial appeal.

(4) Monitor instances state-wide of the vesting of project permit applications during the period that an appeal is pending before a growth management hearings board, as authorized under RCW 36.70A.300. The commission shall also review the extent to which such vesting results in the approval of projects that are inconsistent with a comprehensive plan or development regulation provision ultimately found to be in compliance with a board's order or remand. The commission shall analyze the impact of such approvals on ensuring the attainment of the goals and policies of chapter 36.70A RCW, and make recommendations to the governor and the legislature on statutory changes to address any adverse impacts from the provisions of RCW 36.70A.300. The commission shall provide an initial report on its findings and recommendations by November 1, 1995, and submit its further findings and recommendations subsequently in the reports required under section 803 of this act.

(5) These guidelines are intended to guide the work of the commission, without limiting its charge to integrate and consolidate Washington's land use and environmental laws into a single, manageable statutory framework.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 805. Members of the commission shall be reimbursed for travel expenses as provided in RCW 43.03.050 and 43.03.060.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 806. Sections 801 through 805 of this act shall expire June 30, 1998.

PART IX - MISCELLANEOUS

NEW SECTION. Sec. 901. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 902. Part headings and the table of contents as used in this act do not constitute any part of the law.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 903. Sections 801 through 806 of this act are necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect June 1, 1995."

MOTION

Senator Palmer moved that the following amendment to the striking amendment by Senators Sheldon, Ann Anderson, Fraser, Swecker, Drew, Hale, Haugen, Winsley, Spanel, Snyder and Gaspard be adopted:

On page 6, after line 22 of the amendment, insert the following:

(1) Each county that has both a population of fifty thousand or more and has had its population increase by more than ~~((ten))~~ seventeen percent in the previous ten years, and the cities located within such county, and any other county regardless of its population that has had its population increase by more than twenty percent in the previous ten years, and the cities located within such county, shall conform with all of the requirements of this chapter. However, the county legislative authority of such a county with a population of less than fifty thousand population may adopt a resolution removing the county, and the cities located within the county, from the requirements of adopting comprehensive land use plans and development regulations under this chapter if this resolution is adopted and filed with the department by December 31, 1990, for counties initially meeting this set of criteria, or within sixty days of the date the office of financial management certifies that a county meets this set of criteria under subsection (5) of this section.

Once a county meets either of these sets of criteria, the requirement to conform with all of the requirements of this chapter remains in effect, even if the county no longer meets one of these sets of criteria.

(2) The county legislative authority of any county that does not meet either of the sets of criteria established under subsection (1) of this section may adopt a resolution indicating its intention to have subsection (1) of this section apply to the county. Each city, located in a county that chooses to plan under this subsection, shall conform with all of the requirements of this chapter. Once such a resolution has been adopted, the county and the cities located within the county remain subject to all of the requirements of this chapter.

(3) Any county or city that is initially required to conform with all of the requirements of this chapter under subsection (1) of this section shall take actions under this chapter as follows: (a) The county legislative authority shall adopt a county-wide planning policy under RCW 36.70A.210; (b) the county and each city located within the county shall designate critical areas, agricultural lands, forest lands, and mineral resource lands, and adopt development regulations conserving these designated agricultural lands, forest lands, and mineral resource lands and protecting these designated critical areas, under RCW 36.70A.170 and 36.70A.060; (c) the county shall designate and take other actions related to urban growth areas under RCW 36.70A.110; (d) if the county has a population of fifty thousand or more, the county and each city located within the county shall adopt a comprehensive plan under this chapter and development regulations that are consistent with and implement the comprehensive plan on or before July 1, 1994, and if the county has a population of less than fifty thousand, the county and each city located within the county shall adopt a comprehensive plan under this chapter and development regulations that are consistent with and implement the comprehensive plan by January 1, 1995, but if the governor makes written findings that a county with a population of less than fifty thousand or a city located within such a county is not making reasonable progress toward adopting a comprehensive plan and development regulations the governor may reduce this deadline for such actions to be taken by no more than one hundred eighty days. Any county or city subject to this subsection may obtain an additional six months before it is required to have adopted its development regulations by submitting a letter notifying the department of community, trade, and economic development of its need prior to the deadline for adopting both a comprehensive plan and development regulations.

(4) Any county or city that is required to conform with all the requirements of this chapter, as a result of the county legislative authority adopting its resolution of intention under subsection (2) of this section, shall take actions under this chapter as follows: (a) The county legislative authority shall adopt a county-wide planning policy under RCW 36.70A.210; (b) the county and each city that is located within the county shall adopt development regulations conserving agricultural lands, forest lands, and mineral resource lands it designated under RCW 36.70A.060 within one year of the date the county legislative authority adopts its resolution of intention; (c) the county shall designate and take other actions related to urban growth areas under RCW 36.70A.110; and (d) the county and each city that is located within the county shall adopt a comprehensive plan and development regulations that are consistent with and implement the comprehensive plan not later than four years from the date the county legislative authority adopts its resolution of intention, but a county or city may obtain an additional six months before it is required to have adopted its development regulations by submitting a letter notifying the department of community, trade, and economic development of its need prior to the deadline for adopting both a comprehensive plan and development regulations.

(5) If the office of financial management certifies that the population of a county that previously had not been required to plan under subsection (1) or (2) of this section has changed sufficiently to meet either of the sets of criteria specified under subsection (1) of this section, and where applicable, the county legislative authority has not adopted a resolution removing the county from these requirements as provided in subsection (1) of this section, the county and each city within such county shall take actions under this chapter as follows: (a) The county legislative authority shall adopt a county-wide planning policy under RCW 36.70A.210; (b) the county and each city located within the county shall adopt development regulations under RCW 36.70A.060 conserving agricultural lands, forest lands, and mineral resource lands it designated within one year of the certification by the office of financial management; (c) the county shall designate and take other actions related to urban growth areas under RCW 36.70A.110; and (d) the county and each city located within the county shall adopt a comprehensive land use plan and development regulations that are consistent with and implement the comprehensive plan within four years of the certification by the office of financial management, but a county or city may obtain an additional six months before it is required to have adopted its development regulations by submitting a letter notifying the department of community, trade, and economic development of its need prior to the deadline for adopting both a comprehensive plan and development regulations.

(6) A copy of each document that is required under this section shall be submitted to the department at the time of its adoption."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Fraser: "Mr. President, a point of order. I believe this amendment to the amendment exceeds the scope and object of the bill. The bill before us, the striking amendment before us, deals with processes and procedures pertaining to how local governments plan and process permits and handle appeals under current growth laws and under current environmental laws. It doesn't change those laws and it doesn't change who has to plan under those. The amendment to the amendment does change who has to plan under some of those laws, so I feel it does exceed the scope and object of the bill."

Debate ensued.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5728, by Senators Gaspard, McDonald, Wojahn, Rinehart, Rasmussen and Winsley

Modifying the business and occupation tax on international investment management companies.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Hale moved that the following amendments by Senators Hale and Ann Anderson be considered simultaneously and be adopted:

On page 3, line 11, after "(1)" strike everything through and including "(3)" on line 22 and insert the following: "~~((Upon every person engaging within this state in the business of providing selected business services other than or in addition to those enumerated in RCW 821.04.250 or 821.04.270; as to such persons the amount of tax on account of such activities shall be equal to the gross income of the business multiplied by the rate of 2.5 percent.~~

~~(2) Upon every person engaging within this state in banking, loan, security, investment management, investment advisory, or other financial businesses; as to such persons, the amount of the tax with respect to such business shall be equal to the gross income of the business, multiplied by the rate of 1.70 percent.~~

On page 3, line 27, before "Upon" strike "(4)" and insert "(2)"

On page 3, line 30, after "82.04.280, and" strike everything through and including "(3)" on line 30 and insert "subsection((s)) (1) (~~and 2)~~)"

On page 3, line 33, after "rate of" strike "2.0" and insert "~~((2.0))~~ 1.5"

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Gaspard: "Mr. President, I would ask you to--at least I challenge the amendment for scope and object. The bill that is before us is specifically for a category of businesses--international investment management--and a B & O tax that would be appropriate for that service. The amendment that is being offered greatly expands the intent of the legislation that is before us to not only include services for other businesses and services, but for financial services and other miscellaneous services. As it was explained earlier, it went into a myriad of other B & O tax rates for other types of services. I would contend, Mr. President, that this is a bill only for international investment management services and should not be expanded beyond that."

Further debate ensued.

There being no objection, further consideration of Senate Bill No. 5728 was deferred.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Roach: "A point of order, Mr. President. For the edification of the members, and to be spread on the Journal of the Washington State Senate, I would like to announce the first runs of the ballot on the RTA show a forty-one thousand nine hundred and six in King County 'yes' votes; 'no' votes, fifty-eight thousand one hundred and sixty five, which means it is being defeated with fifty-eight percent of the vote. That was my point of order, Mr. President."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Pritchard: "Well, it was a pretty bad point of order, but at this point I guess, since you have said it, we could stand a little news and you can all decide whether it is good or bad. That's up to you. Your point of order is not well taken, however."

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5368, by Senator Heavey

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Haugen, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5368 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5368 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

The motion by Senator Heavey failed and the amendments were not adopted on a rising vote, the President voting 'nay.'

On page 2, line 9, after "district;" strike "~~(and)~~" and insert "and"

On motion of Senator Haugen, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5368 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Voting nay: Senators Fairley, Franklin, Heavey, Morton, Pelz, Quigley, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Schow, Smith, West and Wojahn - 12.

Excused: Senator Anderson, C. - 1.

SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6000, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of Senate Bill No. 5728 and the pending amendments, by Senators Hale and Ann Anderson on page 3, lines, 11, 27, 30 and 33, deferred earlier today.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Pritchard: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Gaspard, the President finds that Senate Bill No. 5728 is a measure which defines a subcategory of investment management companies as international investment management services and reduces the tax rate otherwise applicable to such businesses.

"The amendments by Senators Hale and Ann Anderson on page 3, lines 11, 27, 30 and 33, would change the tax rate on a variety of selected business services.

"The President, therefore, finds that the proposed amendments do change the scope and object of the bill and the point of order is well taken."

The amendments by Senators Hale and Ann Anderson on page 3, lines 11, 27, 30 and 33 to Senate Bill No. 5728 were ruled out of order.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Gaspard, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 5728 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

SENATE BILL NO. 5728, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Pritchard: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Fraser, the President finds that Substitute Senate Bill No. 5489 is a measure which broadly changes many of the elements and requirements of the Growth Management Act and various environmental acts and processes.

"The amendment by Senator Palmer on page 6, after line 22, to the striking amendment by Senators Sheldon, Ann Anderson, Fraser, Swecker, Drew, Hale, Haugen, Winsley, Spanel, Snyder and Gaspard would change one of the population elements for determining when the Growth Management Act is applicable.

"The President, therefore, finds that the proposed amendment to the striking amendment does not change the scope and object of the bill and the point of order is not well taken."

The amendment by Senator Palmer on page 6, after line 22, to the striking amendment by Senators Sheldon, Ann Anderson, Fraser, Swecker, Drew, Hale, Haugen, Winsley, Spanel, Snyder and Gaspard to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5489 was ruled in order.

(6) A copy of each document that is required under this section shall be submitted to the department at the time of its adoption."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Haugen: "Thank you, Mr. President. I ask you to rule on the scope and object of this amendment. The bill addresses a very narrow topic--standards for OFM projections. The proposed amendment speaks to change the threshold of the amount of population growth required to trigger the requirements of the Growth Management Act. The amendment involves not only a different section of the RCW, but a different title. The amendment has nothing to do with how population projections are determined. The only connection between this bill and the GMA is that OFM population projections are used in fixing urban growth boundaries. Population projections have nothing to do with the actual population changes which trigger whether the county must plan, under GMA. It is truly out of scope and object."

Further debate ensued.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Pritchard: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Haugen, the President finds that Senate Bill No. 5876 is a measure which adds additional information which the Office of Financial Management must provide to counties and cities subject to the growth management planning process and creates a process to settle disputes.

"The amendment by Senator Palmer on page 2, after line 2, to the striking amendment by Senators Haugen, Winsley and McCaslin would change from ten percent, to seventeen percent, the ten year population increase which establishes part of the threshold for application of the requirements of the Growth Management Act.

"The President, therefore, finds that the proposed amendment to the striking amendment does change the scope and object of the bill and the point of order is well taken."

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 77.12 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The director shall relieve from active duty full-time, commissioned fish and wildlife personnel who, while in-service, have been or may be injured or disabled to such an extent as to be incapable of active duty.

(a) Any full-time, commissioned fish and wildlife personnel injured or disabled while performing in-service line duties who is found by the department of labor and industries to be incapable of active duty shall be placed on temporary injury leave for a period not to exceed six months from the date of injury or the date the person is determined to be incapacitated. During this period, the full-time, commissioned fish and wildlife personnel is entitled to all pay, benefits, insurance, leave, and retirement contributions awarded to a full-time, commissioned fish and wildlife personnel on active status, less any compensation received through the department of labor and industries. No such temporary injury leave may be approved until a full-time, commissioned fish and wildlife personnel has been unavailable for active duty for more than five consecutive work days. Prior to the end of the six-month period, the director shall either place the full-time, commissioned fish and wildlife personnel on disability status or return the full-time, commissioned fish and wildlife personnel to full-time employment status;

(b) Benefits under this section for an injury or disability that is incurred while in other employment must be reduced by any amount the full-time, commissioned fish and wildlife personnel receives or is entitled to receive workers' compensation, social security, group insurance, other pension plan, or any other similar compensation provided by another employer for the same injury or disability;

(c) Full-time, commissioned fish and wildlife personnel on disability status shall receive one-half of their compensation at the existing wage during the time the disability continues in effect, less any compensation received through the department of labor and industries. They shall be subject to mental or physical examination at any state institution or otherwise under the direction of the director at any time during such relief from duty to ascertain whether or not they are able to resume active duty;

(d) Should a disability beneficiary whose injury or disability was incurred while performing in-service nonline duties engage in a gainful occupation, the director shall reduce the amount of the disability compensation to an amount which, when added to the compensation earned by the beneficiary in such occupation, does not exceed the basic salary currently being paid for the state civil service range and step the full-time, commissioned fish and wildlife personnel held at the time he or she was injured or disabled. Every six months, all such disability beneficiaries shall file with the director a signed and sworn statement of earnings, and any person who knowingly swears falsely on such statement is subject to prosecution for perjury. Should the earning capacity of the beneficiary be further altered, the director may further alter the disability allowance as indicated in this subsection. The director may cancel the disability allowance for a full-time, commissioned fish and wildlife personnel who does not file the required statement of earnings or who knowingly files a false statement of earnings;

(e) A full-time, commissioned fish and wildlife personnel injured while engaging in willfully tortious or criminal conduct is not entitled to any benefits under this section.

(2) The director shall define by rule the situations in which full-time, commissioned fish and wildlife personnel are on active duty, in-service, are performing line duty, or are performing nonline duty.

(3) A person receiving disability compensation under this section shall become ineligible to receive that compensation upon becoming eligible for retirement under the applicable plan of the Washington public employees' retirement system, chapter 41.40 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 77.12 RCW to read as follows:

Section 1 of this act does not apply to persons who were fisheries patrol officers employed prior to March 1, 1994."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Ann Anderson: "Senator Drew, this bill--we've talked in committee a lot and I am always kind of nervous when we get a striker on the floor that we have never seen before. Can you point out the key reasons we needed a striker rather than to come in with just a couple amendments to the underlying bill?"

Senator Drew: "Certainly, the underlying bill simply added 'wildlife agents' to receive the same benefits fisheries patrol officers currently get and that is that they receive one-half of their salaries when relieved from active duty. We've used in the striker, the model of the state patrol which does include the deductions from Labor and Industries, which does include the deductions if you are working on another job. So, it is not quite as, I guess you would say, as generous as is the old fisheries statute, so those who are currently fisheries agents would continue to receive that disability. This has been agreed to by the department and by the employees and I apologize for you not having seen the draft. I've seen probably about ten or twelve."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the striking amendment by Senators Owen, Drew and Oke to Senate Bill No. 5409.

The legislature finds that within any group of people there exists a need for guidelines for acceptable behavior and that, presumptively, the experience and maturity ((are)) of parents make them better ((qualifications for establishing)) qualified to establish guidelines beneficial to and protective of ((individual members and the group as a whole than are youth and inexperience)) their children. The legislature further finds that it is the right and responsibility of adults to establish laws for the benefit and protection of the society; and that, in the same manner, the right and responsibility for establishing reasonable guidelines for the family unit belongs to the adults within that unit. Further, absent abuse or neglect, parents should have the right to exercise control over their children. The legislature reaffirms its position stated in RCW 13.34.020 that the family unit is the fundamental resource of American life which should be nurtured and that it should remain intact in the absence of compelling evidence to the contrary.

The legislature recognizes there is a need for services and assistance for parents and children who are in conflict. These conflicts are manifested by children who exhibit various behaviors including: Running away, substance abuse, serious acting out problems, mental health needs, and other behaviors that endanger themselves or others.

The legislature finds many parents do not know their rights regarding their adolescent children and law enforcement. Parents and courts feel they have insufficient legal recourse for the chronic runaway child who is endangering himself or herself through his or her behavior. The legislature further recognizes that for chronic runaways whose behavior puts them in serious danger of harming themselves or others, secure facilities must be provided to allow opportunities for assessment, treatment, and to assist parents and protect their children. The legislature intends to give tools to parents, courts, and law enforcement to keep families together and reunite them whenever possible.

The legislature recognizes that some children run away to protect themselves from abuse or neglect in their homes. Abused and neglected children should be dealt with pursuant to chapter 13.34 RCW and it is not the intent of the legislature to handle dependency matters under this chapter.

The legislature intends services offered under this chapter be on a voluntary basis whenever possible to children and their families and that the courts be used as a last resort.

The legislature intends to increase the safety of children through the preservation of families and the provision of assessment, treatment, and placement services for children in need of services and at-risk youth. Within available funds, the legislature intends to provide these services through crisis residential centers in which children and youth may safely reside for a limited period of time. The time in residence shall be used to conduct an assessment of the needs of the children, youth, and their families. The assessments are necessary to identify appropriate services and placement options that will reduce the likelihood that children will place themselves in dangerous or life-threatening situations.

The legislature recognizes that crisis residential centers provide an opportunity for children to receive short-term necessary support and nurturing in cases where there may be abuse or neglect. The legislature intends that center staff provide an atmosphere of concern, care, and respect for children in the center and their parents.

(4) The administrator shall also seek participation from representatives of mental health and drug and alcohol treatment providers as appropriate.

(5) A parent shall be advised of the request to form a multidisciplinary team and may select additional members of the multidisciplinary team. The parent or child may request any person or persons to participate including, but not limited to, educators, law enforcement personnel, court personnel, family therapists, licensed health care practitioners, social service providers, youth residential placement providers, other family members, church representatives, and members of their own community. The administrator shall assist in obtaining the prompt participation of persons requested by the parent or child.

(6) When an administrator of a crisis residential center requests the formation of a team, the state agencies must respond as soon as possible. The team shall have the authority to evaluate the juvenile, and family members, if appropriate and agreed to by the parent, and shall:

- (a) With parental input, develop a plan of appropriate available services and assist the family in obtaining those services;
- (b) Make a referral to the designated chemical dependency specialist or the county designated mental health professional, if appropriate;

(c) Recommend no further intervention because the juvenile and his or her family have resolved the problem causing the family conflict; or

- (d) With the parent's consent, work with them to achieve reconciliation of the child and family.

(7) The purpose of the multidisciplinary team is to assist in a coordinated referral of the family to available social and health-related services.

(8) At the first meeting of the multidisciplinary team, it shall choose a member to coordinate the team's efforts. The parent member of the multidisciplinary team must agree with the choice of coordinator. The team shall meet or communicate as often as necessary to assist the family.

(9) The coordinator of the multidisciplinary team may assist in filing a child in need of services petition when requested by the parent or child or an at-risk youth petition when requested by the parent. The multidisciplinary team shall have no standing as a party in any action under this title.

(10) If the administrator is unable to contact the child's parent, the multidisciplinary team may be used for assistance. If the parent has not been contacted within five days the administrator shall contact the department and request the case be reviewed for a dependency filing under chapter 13.34 RCW.

Sec. 13. RCW 13.32A.140 and 1990 c 276 s 9 are each amended to read as follows:

The department shall file a child in need of services petition to approve an (~~(alternative residential)~~) out-of-home placement on behalf of a child under any of the following sets of circumstances:

(1) The child has been admitted to a crisis residential center or has been placed with a responsible person other than his or her parent, and:

- (a) The parent has been notified that the child was so admitted or placed;
- (b) Seventy-two hours, including Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays, have passed since such notification;
- (c) No agreement between the parent and the child as to where the child shall live has been reached;
- (d) No child in need of services petition (~~(requesting approval of an alternative residential placement)~~) has been filed by either the child or parent (~~(or legal custodian)~~);

- (e) The parent has not filed an at-risk youth petition; and
- (f) The child has no suitable place to live other than the home of his or her parent.

(2) The child has been admitted to a crisis residential center and:

- (a) Seventy-two hours, including Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays, have passed since such placement;
- (b) The staff, after searching with due diligence, have been unable to contact the parent of such child; and
- (c) The child has no suitable place to live other than the home of his or her parent.

(3) An agreement between parent and child made pursuant to RCW 13.32A.090(2)(e) or pursuant to RCW 13.32A.120(1) is no longer acceptable to parent or child, and:

- (a) The party to whom the arrangement is no longer acceptable has so notified the department;
- (b) Seventy-two hours, including Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays, have passed since such notification;
- (c) No new agreement between parent and child as to where the child shall live has been reached;
- (d) No child in need of services petition (~~(requesting approval of an alternative residential placement)~~) has been filed by either the child or the parent;

- (e) The parent has not filed an at-risk youth petition; and
- (f) The child has no suitable place to live other than the home of his or her parent.

Under the circumstances of subsections (1), (2), or (3) of this section, the child shall remain in ~~((a licensed child care facility, including but not limited to a crisis residential center, or in any other suitable residence to be determined by the department until))~~ an ~~((alternative residential))~~ out-of-home placement until a child in need of services petition filed by the department on behalf of the child is reviewed by the juvenile court and is resolved by such court. The department may authorize emergency medical or dental care for a child placed under this section. The state, when the department files a child in need of services petition ~~((for alternative residential placement))~~ under this section, shall be represented as provided for in RCW 13.04.093.

If the department files a petition under this section, the department shall submit in a supporting affidavit any information provided under section 29 of this act.

Sec. 14. RCW 13.32A.150 and 1992 c 205 s 208 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as otherwise provided in this ~~((section))~~ chapter, the juvenile court shall not accept the filing of ~~((an alternative residential placement))~~ a child in need of services petition by the child or the parents or the filing of an at-risk youth petition by the parent, unless verification is provided that a family assessment has been completed by the department. The family assessment shall be aimed at family reconciliation and avoidance of the out-of-home placement of the child. If the department is unable to complete an assessment within two working days following a request for assessment the child or the parents may proceed under subsection (2) of this section or the parent may proceed under ~~((subsection (3) of this))~~ section 22 of this act.

(2) A child or a child's parent may file with the juvenile court a child in need of services petition to approve an ~~((alternative residential))~~ out-of-home placement for the child ~~((outside the parent's home))~~. The department shall, when requested, assist either a parent or child in the filing of the petition. The petition shall only ask that the placement of a child outside the home of his or her parent be approved. The filing of a petition to approve ~~((such))~~ the placement is not dependent upon the court's having obtained any prior jurisdiction over the child or his or her parent, and confers upon the court a special jurisdiction to approve or disapprove an ~~((alternative residential))~~ out-of-home placement.

~~((3) A child's parent may file with the juvenile court a petition in the interest of a child alleged to be an at-risk youth. The department shall, when requested, assist the parent in filing the petition. The petition shall be filed in the county where the petitioning parent resides. The petition shall set forth the name, age, and residence of the child and the names and residence of the child's parents and shall allege that:~~

~~((b) The petitioning parent has the right to legal custody of the child;~~

~~((c) Court intervention and supervision are necessary to assist the parent to maintain the care, custody, and control of the child; and~~

~~((d) Alternatives to court intervention have been attempted or there is good cause why such alternatives have not been attempted.~~

~~The petition shall set forth facts that support the allegations in this subsection and shall generally request relief available under this chapter. The petition need not specify any proposed disposition following adjudication of the petition. The filing of an at-risk youth petition is not dependent upon the court's having obtained any prior jurisdiction over the child or his or her parent and confers upon the court the special jurisdiction to assist the parent in maintaining parental authority and responsibility for the child. An at-risk youth petition may not be filed if the court has approved an alternative residential placement petition regarding the child or if the child is the subject of a proceeding under chapter 13.34 RCW. A petition may be accepted for filing only if alternatives to court intervention have been attempted. Juvenile court personnel may screen all at-risk youth petitions and may refuse to allow the filing of any petition that lacks merit, fails to comply with the requirements of this section, or fails to allege sufficient facts in support of allegations in the petition.)~~

Sec. 15. RCW 13.32A.160 and 1990 c 276 s 11 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) When a proper child in need of services petition to approve an ~~((alternative residential))~~ out-of-home placement is filed under RCW 13.32A.120, 13.32A.140, or 13.32A.150 the juvenile court shall: (a) Schedule a ~~((date for a))~~ fact-finding hearing to be held within three judicial days; notify the parent, child, and the department of such date; (b) notify the parent of the right to be represented by counsel and, if indigent, to have counsel appointed for him or her by the court; (c) appoint legal counsel for the child; (d) inform the child and his or her parent of the legal consequences of the court approving or disapproving an ~~((alternative residential))~~ out-of-home placement petition; (e) notify the parents of their rights under this chapter and chapters 11.88, 13.34, 70.96A, and 71.34 RCW, including the right to file an at-risk youth petition, the right to submit an application for admission of their child to a treatment facility for alcohol, chemical dependency, or mental health treatment, and the right to file a guardianship petition; and ~~((e))~~ (f) notify all parties, including the department, of their right to present evidence at the fact-finding hearing.

(2) Upon filing of ~~((an alternative residential placement))~~ a child in need of services petition, the child may be placed, if not already placed, by the department in a crisis residential center, foster family home, group home facility licensed under chapter 74.15 RCW, or any other suitable residence to be determined by the department.

(3) If the child has been placed in a foster family home or group care facility under chapter 74.15 RCW, the child shall remain there, or in any other suitable residence as determined by the department, pending resolution of the ~~((alternative residential placement))~~ petition by the court. Any placement may be reviewed by the court within three ~~((court))~~ judicial days upon the request of the juvenile or the juvenile's parent.

Sec. 16. RCW 13.32A.170 and 1989 c 269 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The court shall hold a fact-finding hearing to consider a proper petition and may approve or deny ~~((alternative residential))~~ an out-of-home placement giving due weight to the intent of the legislature that families have the right to place reasonable restrictions and rules upon their children, appropriate to the individual child's developmental level. The court may appoint legal counsel and/or a guardian ad litem to represent the child and advise parents of their right to be represented by legal counsel. The court may approve an order stating that the child shall be placed in a residence other than the home of his or her parent only if it is established by a preponderance of the evidence, including a departmental recommendation for approval or dismissal of the petition, that:

(a) The petition is not capricious;

(b) The petitioner, if a ~~((parent or the))~~ child, has made a reasonable effort to resolve the conflict;

(c) The conflict ~~((which exists))~~ cannot be resolved by delivery of services to the family during continued placement of the child in the parental home;

(d) Reasonable efforts have been made to prevent or eliminate the need for removal of the child from the child's home and to make it possible for the child to return home; and

(e) A suitable out-of-home placement resource is available.

The court may not grant a petition filed by the child or the department if it is established that the petition is based only upon a dislike of reasonable rules or reasonable discipline established by the parent.

(2) ~~((The order approving out-of-home placement shall direct the department to submit a disposition plan for a three-month placement of the child that is designed to reunite the family and resolve the family conflict. Such plan shall delineate any conditions or limitations on parental involvement. In making the order, the court shall further direct the department to make recommendations, as to which agency or person~~ should have physical custody of the child, as to which parental powers should be awarded to such agency or person, and as to parental visitation rights. The court may direct the department to consider the cultural heritage of the child in making its recommendations.

(3) The hearing to consider the recommendations of the department for a three-month disposition plan shall be set no later than fourteen days after the approval of the court of a petition to approve alternative residential placement. Each party shall be notified of the time and place of such disposition hearing.

(4) If the court approves or denies a petition for an alternative residential placement, a written statement of the reasons shall be filed. If the court denies a petition requesting that a child be placed in a residence other than the home of his or her parent, the court shall enter an order requiring the child to remain at or return to the home of his or her parent.

(5) If the court denies the petition, the court shall impress upon the party filing the petition of the legislative intent to restrict the proceedings to situations where a family conflict is so great that it cannot be resolved by the provision of in-home services.

(6) A child who fails to comply with a court order directing that the child remain at or return to the home of his or her parent shall be subject to contempt proceedings, as provided in this chapter, but only if the noncompliance occurs within ninety calendar days after the day of the order.

(7) The department may request, and the juvenile court may grant, dismissal of an alternative residential placement order when it is not feasible for the department to provide services due to one or more of the following circumstances:

(a) The child has been absent from court approved placement for thirty consecutive days or more;

(b) The parents or the child, or all of them, refuse to cooperate in available, appropriate intervention aimed at reunifying the family; or

(c) The department has exhausted all available and appropriate resources that would result in reunification.)

Following the fact-finding hearing the court shall: (a) Enter a temporary out-of-home placement for a period not to exceed fourteen days pending approval of a disposition decision to be made under section 18(2) of this act; (b) approve an at-risk youth petition filed by the parents; (c) dismiss the petition; or (d) order the department to review the case to determine whether the case is appropriate for a dependency petition under chapter 13.34 RCW.

Sec. 17. RCW 13.32A.175 and 1987 c 435 s 13 are each amended to read as follows:

In any proceeding in which the court approves an (~~alternative residential~~) out-of-home placement, the court shall inquire into the ability of parents to contribute to the child's support. If the court finds that the parents are able to contribute to the support of the child, the court shall order them to make such support payments as the court deems equitable. The court may enforce such an order by execution or in any way in which a court of equity may enforce its orders. However, payments shall not be required of a parent who has both opposed the placement and continuously sought reconciliation with, and the return of, the child. All orders entered in a proceeding approving (~~alternative residential~~) out-of-home placement shall be in compliance with the provisions of RCW 26.23.050.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. A new section is added to chapter 13.32A RCW to read as follows:

(1) A hearing shall be held no later than fourteen days after the approval of the temporary out-of-home placement. The parents, child, and department shall be notified of the time and place of the hearing.

(2) At the commencement of the hearing the court shall advise the parents of their rights as set forth in RCW 13.32A.160(1)(e). If the court approves or denies a child in need of services petition, a written statement of the reasons shall be filed. At the conclusion of the hearing the court may: (a) Reunite the family and dismiss the petition; (b) approve an at-risk youth petition filed by the parents; (c) approve a voluntary out-of-home placement requested by the parents; (d) order any conditions set forth in RCW 13.32A.196(2); or (e) order the department to file a petition for dependency under chapter 13.34 RCW.

(3) At the conclusion of the hearing, if the court has not taken action under subsection (2) of this section it may, at the request of the child or department, enter an order for out-of-home placement for not more than ninety days. The court may only enter an order under this subsection if it finds by clear, cogent, and convincing evidence that: (a)(i) The order is in the best interest of the family; (ii) the parents have not requested an out-of-home placement; (iii) the parents have not exercised any other right listed in RCW 13.32A.160(1)(e); (iv) the child has made reasonable efforts to resolve the conflict; (v) the conflict cannot be resolved by delivery of services to the family during continued placement of the child in the parental home; (vi) reasonable efforts have been made to prevent or eliminate the need for removal of the child from the child's home and to make it possible for the child to return home; and (vii) a suitable out-of-home placement resource is available; (b)(i) the order is in the best interest of the child; and (ii) the parents are unavailable; or (c) the parent's actions cause an imminent threat to the child's health or safety.

(4) A child who fails to comply with a court order issued under this section shall be subject to contempt proceedings, as provided in this chapter, but only if the noncompliance occurs within one year after the entry of the order.

(5) The parents or the department may request, and the court may grant, dismissal of a placement order when it is not feasible for the department to provide services due to one or more of the following circumstances:

(a) The child has been absent from court approved placement for thirty consecutive days or more;

(b) The parents or the child, or all of them, refuse to cooperate in available, appropriate intervention aimed at reunifying the family; or

(c) The department has exhausted all available and appropriate resources that would result in reunification.

(6) The court shall dismiss a placement made under subsection (2)(c) of this section upon the request of the parents.

Sec. 19. RCW 13.32A.177 and 1988 c 275 s 14 are each amended to read as follows:

A determination of (~~child~~) support payments ordered under RCW 13.32A.175 shall be based upon (~~the child support schedule and standards adopted under~~) chapter 26.19 RCW ((26.19.040)).

Sec. 20. RCW 13.32A.180 and 1979 c 155 s 32 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) (~~At a dispositional hearing held to consider the three-month dispositional plan presented by the department the court shall consider all such recommendations included therein. The court, consistent with the stated goal of resolving the family conflict and reuniting the family, may modify such plan and shall make its dispositional order for~~) If the court orders a three-month out-of-home placement for the child(-), the court ((dispositional order)) shall specify the person or agency with whom the child shall be placed, those parental powers which will be temporarily awarded to such agency or person including but not limited to the right to authorize medical, dental, and optical treatment, and parental visitation rights. Any agency or residence at which the child is placed must, at a minimum, comply with minimum standards for licensed family foster homes.

(2) No placement made pursuant to this section may be in a secure residence as defined by the federal Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act of 1974 (~~and clarifying interpretations and regulations promulgated thereunder~~).

Sec. 21. RCW 13.32A.190 and 1989 c 269 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Upon making a dispositional order under (~~RCW 13.32A.180~~) section 18 of this act, the court shall schedule the matter on the calendar for review within three months, advise the parties of the date thereof, appoint legal counsel and/or a guardian ad litem to represent the child at the review hearing, advise parents of their right to be represented by legal counsel at the review hearing, and notify the parties of their rights to present evidence at the hearing. Where resources are available, the court shall encourage the parent and child to participate in ~~((mediation))~~ programs for reconciliation of their conflict.

(2) At the review hearing, the court shall approve or disapprove the continuation of the dispositional plan in accordance with ~~((the goal of resolving the conflict and reuniting the family which governed the initial approval))~~ this chapter. The court shall determine whether reasonable efforts have been made to reunify the family and make it possible for the child to return home. The court ~~((is authorized to))~~ shall discontinue the placement and order that the child return home if the court has reasonable grounds to believe that the parents have ~~((displayed concerted))~~ made reasonable efforts to ((utilize services and)) resolve the conflict and the court has reason to believe that the child's refusal to return home is capricious. If out-of-home placement is continued, the court may modify the dispositional plan.

(3) Out-of-home placement may not be continued past one hundred eighty days from the day the review hearing commenced. The court shall order ~~((that))~~ the child to return to the home of the parent at the expiration of the placement. If ~~((continued))~~ an out-of-home placement is disapproved prior to one hundred eighty days, the court shall enter an order requiring ~~((that))~~ the child to return to the home of the child's parent.

(4) The parents and the department may request, and the juvenile court may grant, dismissal of an ~~((alternative residential))~~ out-of-home placement order when it is not feasible for the department to provide services due to one or more of the following circumstances:

- (a) The child has been absent from court approved placement for thirty consecutive days or more;
- (b) The parents or the child, or all of them, refuse to cooperate in available, appropriate intervention aimed at reunifying the family; or
- (c) The department has exhausted all available and appropriate resources that would result in reunification.

(5) The court shall terminate a placement made under this section upon the request of a parent unless the placement is made pursuant to section 18(3) of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. A new section is added to chapter 13.32A RCW to read as follows:

(1) A child's parent may file with the juvenile court a petition in the interest of a child alleged to be an at-risk youth. The department shall, when requested, assist the parent in filing the petition. The petition shall be filed in the county where the petitioner resides. The petition shall set forth the name, age, and residence of the child and the names and residence of the child's parents and shall allege that:

- (a) The child is an at-risk youth as defined in this chapter;
- (b) The petitioner has the right to legal custody of the child;
- (c) Court intervention and supervision are necessary to assist the parent to maintain the care, custody, and control of the child; and
- (d) Alternatives to court intervention have been attempted or there is good cause why such alternatives have not been attempted.

(2) The petition shall set forth facts that support the allegations in this section and shall generally request relief available under this chapter. The petition need not specify any proposed disposition following adjudication of the petition. The filing of an at-risk youth petition is not dependent upon the court's having obtained any prior jurisdiction over the child or his or her parent and confers upon the court the special jurisdiction to assist the parent in maintaining parental authority and responsibility for the child.

(3) A petition may not be filed if a dependency petition is pending under chapter 13.34 RCW.

Sec. 23. RCW 13.32A.192 and 1990 c 276 s 12 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) When a proper at-risk youth petition is filed by a child's parent under ~~((RCW 13.32A.120 or 13.32A.150))~~ this chapter, the juvenile court shall:

- (a) Schedule a fact-finding hearing to be held within three judicial days and notify the parent and the child of such date;
- (b) Notify the parent of the right to be represented by counsel at the parent's own expense;
- (c) Appoint legal counsel for the child;
- (d) Inform the child and his or her parent of the legal consequences of the court finding the child to be an at-risk youth; and
- (e) Notify the parent and the child of their rights to present evidence at the fact-finding hearing.

(2) Unless out-of-home placement of the child is otherwise authorized or required by law, the child shall reside in the home of his or her parent or in an ~~((alternative residential))~~ out-of-home placement requested by the parent or child and approved by the parent. ~~((Upon request by the parent, the court may enter a court order requiring the child to reside in the home of his or her parent or an alternative residential placement approved by the parent.))~~

(3) If upon sworn written or oral declaration of the petitioning parent, the court has reason to believe that a child has willfully and knowingly violated a court order issued pursuant to subsection (2) of this section, the court may issue an order directing law enforcement to take the child into custody and place the child in a juvenile detention facility or in a secure crisis residential center ~~((licensed by the department and established pursuant to chapter 74.13 RCW))~~. If the child is placed in detention, a review shall be held as provided in RCW 13.32A.065.

(4) If both ~~((an alternative residential placement))~~ a child in need of services petition and an at-risk youth petition have been filed with regard to the same child, the petitions and proceedings shall be consolidated ~~((for purposes of fact-finding))~~ as an at-risk youth petition. Pending a fact-finding hearing regarding the petition, the child may be placed ~~((;))~~ in the parent's home or in an out-of-home placement if not already placed ~~((;))~~ in ((an alternative residential)) a temporary out-of-home placement ~~((as provided in RCW 13.32A.160 unless the court has previously entered an order requiring the child to reside in the home of his or her parent.))~~. The child or the parent may request a review of the child's placement including a review of any court order requiring the child to reside in the parent's home. ~~((At the review the court, in its discretion, may order the child placed in the parent's home or in an alternative residential placement pending the hearing.))~~

Sec. 24. RCW 13.32A.194 and 1990 c 276 s 13 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The court shall hold a fact-finding hearing to consider a proper at-risk youth petition. The court ~~((may))~~ shall grant the petition and enter an order finding the child to be an at-risk youth if the allegations in the petition are established by a preponderance of the evidence ~~((The court shall not enter such an order if the court has approved an alternative residential placement petition regarding the child or if))~~, unless the child is the subject of a proceeding under chapter 13.34 RCW. If the petition is granted, the court shall enter an order requiring the child to reside in the home of his or her parent or ~~((in an alternative residential placement approved by the parent))~~ in an out-of-home placement as provided in RCW 13.32A.192(2).

(2) The court may order the department to submit a dispositional plan if such a plan would assist the court in ordering a suitable disposition in the case. If the court orders the department to prepare a plan, the department shall provide copies of the plan to the parent, the child, and the court. If the parties or the court desire the department to be involved in any future proceedings or case plan development, the department shall be provided timely notification of all court hearings.

(3) A dispositional hearing shall be held no later than fourteen days after the court has granted an at-risk youth petition. Each party shall be notified of the time and date of the hearing.

(4) If the court grants or denies an at-risk youth petition, a statement of the written reasons shall be entered into the records. If the court denies an at-risk youth petition, the court shall verbally advise the parties that the child is required to remain within the care, custody, and control of his or her parent.

Sec. 25. RCW 13.32A.196 and 1991 c 364 s 14 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) At the dispositional hearing regarding an adjudicated at-risk youth, the court shall consider the recommendations of the parties and the recommendations of any dispositional plan submitted by the department. The court may enter a dispositional order that will assist the parent in maintaining the care, custody, and control of the child and assist the family to resolve family conflicts or problems.

(2) The court may set conditions of supervision for the child that include:

(a) Regular school attendance;

(b) Counseling;

(c) Participation in a substance abuse or mental health outpatient treatment program;

(d) Reporting on a regular basis to the department or any other designated person or agency; and

(e) Any other condition the court deems an appropriate condition of supervision including but not limited to: Employment, participation in an anger management program, and refraining from using alcohol or drugs.

(3) No dispositional order or condition of supervision ordered by a court pursuant to this section shall include involuntary commitment of a child for substance abuse or mental health treatment.

(4) The court may order the parent to participate in counseling services or any other services for the child requiring parental participation. The parent shall cooperate with the court-ordered case plan and shall take necessary steps to help implement the case plan. The parent shall be financially responsible for costs related to the court-ordered plan; however, this requirement shall not affect the eligibility of the parent or child for public assistance or other benefits to which the parent or child may otherwise be entitled.

(5) The parent may request dismissal of an at-risk youth proceeding or out-of-home placement at any time and upon such a request, the court shall dismiss the matter and cease court supervision of the child unless a contempt action is pending in the case. The court may retain jurisdiction over the matter for the purpose of concluding any pending contempt proceedings, including the full satisfaction of any penalties imposed as a result of a contempt finding.

~~((5))~~ (6) The court may order the department to monitor compliance with the dispositional order, assist in coordinating the provision of court-ordered services, and submit reports at subsequent review hearings regarding the status of the case.

Sec. 26. RCW 13.32A.250 and 1990 c 276 s 16 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) In all ~~((alternative residential placement))~~ child in need of services proceedings and at-risk youth proceedings, the court shall verbally notify the parents and the child of the possibility of a finding of contempt for failure to comply with the terms of a court order entered pursuant to this chapter. The court shall treat the parents and the child equally for the purposes of applying contempt of court processes and penalties under this section.

(2) Failure by a party to comply with an order entered under this chapter is a contempt of court as provided in chapter 7.21 RCW, subject to the limitations of subsection ~~((2))~~ (3) of this section.

(3) The court may impose a fine of up to one hundred dollars and imprisonment for up to seven days, or both for contempt of court under this section.

(4) A child imprisoned for contempt under this section shall be imprisoned only in a secure juvenile detention facility operated by or pursuant to a contract with a county.

(5) A motion for contempt may be made by a parent, a child, juvenile court personnel, or by any public agency, organization, or person having custody of the child under a court order adopted pursuant to this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 27. A new section is added to chapter 13.32A RCW to read as follows:

No superior court may refuse to accept for filing a properly completed and presented child in need of services petition or an at-risk youth petition. To be properly presented, the petitioner shall verify that the family assessment required under RCW 13.32A.150 has been completed. In the event of an improper refusal that is appealed and reversed, the petitioner shall be awarded actual damages, costs, and attorneys' fees.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 28. A new section is added to chapter 13.32A RCW to read as follows:

(1) Any person who provides shelter to a child for at least six consecutive hours and who has reasonable cause to believe that the child is absent from his or her home without permission shall, not later than the end of the six-hour period:

(a) Attempt to notify the parent of the child of the location of the child and return the child to the parent unless there has been a placement ordered under this title;

(b) Notify the law enforcement agency of the jurisdiction in which the person lives if (i) the parent cannot be located; (ii) the parent declines to take custody of the child; or (iii) a placement order has been entered under this chapter; or

(c) Notify the department.

In developing this plan, the department shall work with service providers, community leaders, representatives of different cultural communities, businesses, educational institutions, community public health and safety networks, and others to propose a continuum of services, including placement alternatives, for children who might otherwise be on the street.

In developing this plan, the department shall identify existing local and state services and barriers to those services for children. The plan for intensive treatment services, to the extent possible, shall build upon those existing resources.

Sec. 36. RCW 70.96A.090 and 1990 c 151 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The department shall adopt rules establishing standards for approved treatment programs, the process for the review and inspection program applying to the department for certification as an approved treatment program, and fixing the fees to be charged by the department for the required inspections. The standards may concern the health standards to be met and standards of services and treatment to be afforded patients.

(2) The department may suspend, revoke, limit, restrict, or modify an approval, or refuse to grant approval, for failure to meet the provisions of this chapter, or the standards adopted under this chapter. RCW 43.20A.205 governs notice of a license denial, revocation, suspension, or modification and provides the right to an adjudicative proceeding.

(3) No treatment program may advertise or represent itself as an approved treatment program if approval has not been granted, has been denied, suspended, revoked, or canceled.

(4) Certification as an approved treatment program is effective for one calendar year from the date of issuance of the certificate. The certification shall specify the types of services provided by the approved treatment program that meet the standards adopted under this chapter. Renewal of certification shall be made in accordance with this section for initial approval and in accordance with the standards set forth in rules adopted by the secretary.

(5) Approved treatment programs shall not provide alcoholism or other drug addiction treatment services for which the approved treatment program has not been certified. Approved treatment programs may provide services for which approval has been sought and is pending, if approval for the services has not been previously revoked or denied.

(6) The department periodically shall inspect approved public and private treatment programs at reasonable times and in a reasonable manner.

(7) The department shall maintain and periodically publish a current list of approved treatment programs.

(8) Each approved treatment program shall file with the department on request, data, statistics, schedules, and information the department reasonably requires. An approved treatment program that without good cause fails to furnish any data, statistics, schedules, or information as requested, or files fraudulent returns thereof, may be removed from the list of approved treatment programs, and its certification revoked or suspended.

(9) The department shall use the data provided in subsection (8) of this section to evaluate each program in terms of rates of successful treatment of drug or alcohol abuse. The evaluation shall be done at least once every twelve months. In addition, the department shall randomly select and review the information on individual children who are admitted on application of the child's parent for the purpose of determining whether the child was appropriately placed into treatment based on an objective evaluation of the child's condition and the success of the child's treatment.

(10) Upon petition of the department and after a hearing held upon reasonable notice to the facility, the superior court may issue a warrant to an officer or employee of the department authorizing him or her to enter and inspect at reasonable times, and examine the books and accounts of, any approved public or private treatment program refusing to consent to inspection or examination by the department or which the department has reasonable cause to believe is operating in violation of this chapter.

(1) Any person (~~fourteen~~) ~~thirteen~~ years of age or older may give consent for himself or herself to the furnishing of counseling, care, treatment, or rehabilitation by a treatment program or by any person. Consent of the parent, parents, or legal guardian of a person less than eighteen years of age is not necessary to authorize the care, except that the person shall not become a resident of the treatment program without such permission except as provided in RCW 70.96A.120 or 70.96A.140. The parent, parents, or legal guardian of a person less than eighteen years of age are not liable for payment of care for such persons pursuant to this chapter, unless they have joined in the consent to the counseling, care, treatment, or rehabilitation.

(2) The parent of any minor child may apply to an approved treatment program for the admission of his or her minor child for purposes authorized in this chapter. The consent of the minor child shall not be required for the application or admission. The approved treatment program shall accept the application and evaluate the child for admission. The ability of a parent to apply to an approved treatment program for the involuntary admission of his or her minor child does not create a right to obtain or benefit from any funds or resources of the state.

Sec. 38. RCW 71.34.030 and 1985 c 354 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Any minor thirteen years or older may request and receive outpatient treatment without the consent of the minor's parent. Parental authorization is required for outpatient treatment of a minor under the age of thirteen.

(2) When in the judgment of the professional person in charge of an evaluation and treatment facility there is reason to believe that a minor is in need of inpatient treatment because of a mental disorder, and the facility provides the type of evaluation and treatment needed by the minor, and it is not feasible to treat the minor in any less restrictive setting or the minor's home, the minor may be admitted to an evaluation and treatment facility in accordance with the following requirements:

(a) ~~(A minor under thirteen years of age may only be admitted on the application of the minor's parent.~~

(b)) A minor (~~thirteen years or older~~) may be voluntarily admitted by application of the parent. ~~(e))~~ (b) A minor thirteen years or older may, with the concurrence of the professional person in charge of an evaluation and treatment facility, admit himself or herself without parental consent to the evaluation and treatment facility, provided that notice is given by the facility to the minor's parent in accordance with the following requirements:

(i) Notice of the minor's admission shall be in the form most likely to reach the parent within twenty-four hours of the minor's voluntary admission and shall advise the parent that the minor has been admitted to inpatient treatment; the location and telephone number of the facility providing such treatment; and the name of a professional person on the staff of the facility providing treatment who is designated to discuss the minor's need for inpatient treatment with the parent.

(ii) The minor shall be released to the parent at the parent's request for release unless the facility files a petition with the superior court of the county in which treatment is being provided setting forth the basis for the facility's belief that the minor is in need of inpatient treatment and that release would constitute a threat to the minor's health or safety.

(iii) The petition shall be signed by the professional person in charge of the facility or that person's designee.

(iv) The parent may apply to the court for separate counsel to represent the parent if the parent cannot afford counsel.

(v) There shall be a hearing on the petition, which shall be held within three judicial days from the filing of the petition.

(vi) The hearing shall be conducted by a judge, court commissioner, or licensed attorney designated by the superior court as a hearing officer for such hearing. The hearing may be held at the treatment facility.

(vii) At such hearing, the facility must demonstrate by a preponderance of the evidence presented at the hearing that the minor is in need of inpatient treatment and that release would constitute a threat to the minor's health or safety. The hearing shall not be conducted using the rules of evidence, and the admission or exclusion of evidence sought to be presented shall be within the exercise of sound discretion by the judicial officer conducting the hearing.

~~(d))~~ (c) Written renewal of voluntary consent must be obtained from the applicant (~~and the minor thirteen years or older~~) no less than once every twelve months.

~~(e))~~ (d) The minor's need for continued inpatient treatments shall be reviewed and documented no less than every one hundred eighty days.

(3) A notice of intent to leave shall result in the following:

(a) Any minor under the age of thirteen must be discharged immediately upon written request of the parent.

(b) Any minor thirteen years or older voluntarily admitted may give notice of intent to leave at any time. The notice need not follow any specific form so long as it is written and the intent of the minor can be discerned.

(c) The staff member receiving the notice shall date it immediately, record its existence in the minor's clinical record, and send copies of it to the minor's attorney, if any, the county-designated mental health professional, and the parent.

(d) The professional person in charge of the evaluation and treatment facility shall discharge the minor, thirteen years or older, from the facility within twenty-four hours after receipt of the minor's notice of intent to leave, unless the county-designated mental health professional or a parent or legal guardian files a petition or an application for initial detention within the time prescribed by this chapter.

(4) The ability of a parent to apply to a certified evaluation and treatment program for the involuntary admission of his or her minor child does not create a right to obtain or benefit from any funds or resources of the state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 39. A new section is added to chapter 71.34 RCW to read as follows:

The department shall randomly select and review the information on children who are admitted to in-patient treatment on application of the child's parent. Sec. 47. RCW 82.14.300 and 1990 2nd ex.s. c 1 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

The legislature finds and declares that local government criminal justice systems are in need of assistance. Many counties and cities are unable to provide sufficient funding for additional police protection, mitigation of congested court systems, public safety education, and relief of overcrowded jails.

In order to ensure public safety, it is necessary to provide fiscal assistance to help local governments to respond immediately to these criminal justice problems, while initiating a review of the criminal justice needs of cities and counties and the resources available to address those needs.

To provide for a more efficient and effective response to these problems, the legislature encourages cities and counties to coordinate strategies against crime and use multijurisdictional and innovative approaches in addressing criminal justice problems.

(The legislature intends to provide fiscal assistance to counties and cities in the manner provided in this act until the report of the task force created under RCW 82.14.301 is available for consideration by the legislature.)

The bill itself subjects to tax, printing done outside the state for distribution and display in the state. Under the Federal Interstate Commerce clause, a state tax does not offend the Interstate Commerce clause if it; one, is applied to an activity with a substantial nexus with the taxing state; two, is fairly apportioned between all states that could tax the activity; three, does not discriminate against Interstate Commerce; and four, is fairly related to services provided by the state."

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature has enacted a large number of statutes conferring on boards, commissions, departments, and other agencies of the executive branch of government the authority to adopt rules to supplement and implement those statutes. The legislature has found that this delegation of its authority has resulted in rules being adopted without sufficient consideration of need, cost-effectiveness, conflict and duplication, and conformity with legislative intent. The legislature finds that it must provide a procedure for oversight and review of rules adopted under this delegation of legislative power to curtail excessive regulation and to establish a system of accountability so that a state agency must justify its use of regulatory authority before imposing undue costs on citizens that detrimentally affect the economy of Washington. It is the intent of sections 2 through 12 of this act to establish a method for early, continuing, and effective review, accountability, and oversight. It is the further intent of sections 2 through 12 of this act to provide for an initial thorough review by a commission with sufficient authority, expertise, independence, and time to perform that responsibility. It is the further intent of sections 2 through 12 of this act to provide review by the legislature of those rules disapproved by the commission. Sections 2 through 12 of this act are intended to provide a method of oversight and review of rules to assist the governor and the legislature in their supervisory and oversight functions.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. (1) The Washington independent regulatory review commission is created, to consist of five members to be known as commissioners. One member of the commission shall be appointed by the governor to serve at his or her pleasure, and one member each shall be appointed by the four caucuses of the legislature having the largest membership. No member of the legislature or any other officer or employee of state government may serve as a member of the commission. However, a commission member may serve on advisory boards and commissions, or on other boards and commissions that do not adopt any rules that may come before the commission for review under this chapter.

(2) Of the original members, the two members appointed by the house of representatives shall serve for initial terms of two years, and the two members appointed by the senate shall serve for initial terms of three years. Thereafter, each appointment is for a term of three years, and such appointments must be made in the same manner as the original appointments. From the time of original appointment to the commission, no commissioner may serve more than two full terms. A commissioner initially appointed to serve the remainder of an unexpired term is, in addition eligible to be appointed to, and to serve, two full terms.

(3) All vacancies must be filled, for the remainder of the unexpired term, in the same manner as original appointments. A commissioner, upon the expiration of his or her term, will continue to hold office until his or her successor is appointed.

(4) The commissioners shall be compensated in accordance with RCW 43.03.250. The commissioners are also entitled to reimbursement for travel and other necessary expenses incurred as a result of their duties as members of the commission. Commissioners are not eligible for state retirement under chapter 41.40 RCW by virtue of their service on the commission.

(5) Except as authorized under this section and except for the governor's appointee who serves at the governor's pleasure, no commissioner may be removed from office during his or her term. The governor may, with the approval by resolution of two-thirds of the members of the senate, upon clear and convincing evidence of misfeasance or malfeasance in office or neglect of duty, remove a commissioner before the expiration of the term. The governor shall provide the commissioner so removed with a detailed written statement of the reasons for the removal.

(6) No commissioner may participate in deliberations regarding a rule that significantly affects the operation or activities of an organization (except a nonprofit organization certified under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (Public Law 99-514, 26 U.S.C. Sec. 501(c)(3)) in which the commissioner holds a nonsalaried position) in which the commissioner, or any member of his or her immediate family, has a substantial economic interest or serves as an officer, director, trustee, partner, or employee. Within ninety days of appointment, and annually thereafter, each commissioner shall file with the public disclosure commission a statement of financial affairs under RCW 42.17.240. Before a vote upon a rule in which a commissioner feels he or she or any other commissioner has a potential conflict of interest, the commissioner shall disclose the potential conflict and request a ruling from the chairman of the commission upon the question of whether the potential conflict disqualifies the commissioner from voting on the rule. Any commissioner may challenge the ruling of the chairman, and in such case the question must be resolved by majority vote of the commission. The chairman or a majority of the commissioners may request the executive ethics board under RCW 42.52.360 to provide advice regarding conflicts of interest, and such advice, when given, is binding upon the commission.

(7) The commission shall elect a chairman, who shall serve for a term of two years and until his or her successor is elected. The chairman shall preside at meetings of the commission and shall execute documents relating to the formal actions of the commission.

(8) The commission shall meet at least once a month at such times and places as set by the chairman. Meetings are subject to chapter 42.30 RCW. A commissioner who fails to attend three consecutive meetings without cause shall be removed as a commissioner by the authority appointing that commissioner.

(9) The commission shall annually file a report of its activities of the prior year with the governor, the chief clerk of the house of representatives, and the secretary of the senate.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The commission shall appoint an executive director whose annual salary is determined under RCW 43.03.028. The executive director shall perform such duties and have such powers as the commission prescribes in order to implement and enforce sections 1 through 12 of this act. In addition to the performance of administrative duties, the commission may delegate to the executive director authority with respect to, but not limited to, determinations under sections 4 and 5 of this act. The delegation does not eliminate a party's right of appeal to the commission. In addition, the commission shall appoint a chief counsel who is not subject to the supervision of the attorney general and whose annual salary is determined under RCW 43.03.028. The commission shall employ or contract with such others as it may from time to time find necessary for the proper performance of its duties.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. (1) After receipt of the statement of inquiry under RCW 34.05.310, if the commission has reason to believe that the contemplated rule would violate the review criteria established in section 6(2) of this act, the commission shall notify the adopting agency of its concerns and the means whereby these concerns may be addressed.

(2) If an agency indicates in the statement of inquiry that it does not intend to provide an opportunity for interested parties to participate in the rule-making process before publication of the proposed rule under RCW 34.05.310(2), but the commission believes that such an opportunity may be appropriate, the commission shall so notify the agency. The notification does not create any obligation on the part of the agency. Upon request, the commission may assist an agency in facilitating the public participation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. After the commission receives the notice of proposed rule adoption under RCW 34.05.320:

(1) If the commission has reason to believe that the proposed rule would violate the review criteria established in section 6(2) of this act, the commission shall notify the adopting agency in writing of its concerns and the means whereby these concerns may be addressed;

(2) If the commission has reason to believe that the proposed rule would not violate the review criteria established in section 6(2) of this act, or that review by the commission is otherwise not necessary to achieve the objectives of section 1 of this act, the commission may so notify the adopting agency. The commission shall submit a copy of this notification to the secretary of the senate and the chief clerk of the house of representatives, for distribution to the chairs of the appropriate standing committees.

The agency shall include any notification received under subsection (1) or (2) of this section, and any agency response in the rule-making file.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. (1) The commission shall approve without review under subsection (2) of this section: (a) A rule filed with it for which a preproposal statement of inquiry was not required under RCW 34.05.310; (b) a rule developed through the use of negotiated rule making under RCW 34.05.310 or involving pilot rule making under RCW 34.05.313 where the commission finds review of the rule is not necessary to achieve the objectives of section 1 of this act; and (c) a rule not subject to review in accordance with the notification given the agency under section 5(2) of this act.

(2) The commission shall review all rules filed with it that are not approved without review under subsection (1) of this section to determine the following:

(a) Whether the rule is within the statutory authority of the agency as expressed by the legislature when it enacted the statute upon which the rule is based. In formulating its determination, the commission shall solicit and consider written comments from the appropriate standing committees of the legislature and current members of the legislature and any pertinent opinions of the Washington courts.

(b) Whether, in adopting the rule, the agency has complied with all applicable provisions of law, including chapter 19.85 RCW and section 9 of this act.

(3) In reviewing rules filed with it, the commission shall give priority to those rules it has reason to believe are not within the statutory authority of the agency or that conflict with an existing federal or state law.

(4) The commission shall adopt rules governing the procedures it uses in reviewing rules filed with it. The rules must provide for an orderly review and specify the methods, standards, presumptions, and principles the commission uses, and the limitations it observes, in reviewing rules for compliance with the standards in subsection (2) of this section. The rules adopted by the commission must attempt to ensure: (a) Adequate and equal opportunity for all interested parties to participate in the rule review process; and (b) that the commission does not substitute its judgment for that of the rule-making agency as expressed in the substantive content of the rule under review.

(5) The commission and staff shall not accept comments regarding a rule under review within seventy-two hours before a commission meeting on that rule. The commission and staff shall note all documents, telephone calls, personal visits, or other communication regarding a rule under review and make them a part of the commission's public record.

(6) The commission may establish ad hoc advisory boards, including but not limited to, ad hoc economic or science advisory boards to assist it in the review of a rule.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. (1) By a majority vote of its members, the commission shall either approve a rule filed with it for review, and transmit it to the code reviser for filing, or disapprove it within forty-five working days after the rule has been filed with it for review. If the commission fails to act within forty-five days, the rule is deemed to have been approved, and the adopting agency may transmit it to the code reviser for filing.

(2) If the commission disapproves a rule, it shall return the rule to the adopting agency within the forty-five-day period specified in subsection (1) of this section, accompanied by a statement specifying the reasons for disapproval. Within seven days of the issuance of the notice, the commission shall provide the adopting agency with a written decision detailing the specific regulatory review criteria that the rule failed to meet, and a summary of the documents and testimony relied on by the commission in reaching its final decision. The commission may not disapprove a rule except for failure to comply with the standards set forth in section 6(2) of this act.

(3) The commission shall file the notice of disapproval required by subsection (2) of this section with the code reviser for publication in the Washington State Register. The commission shall provide the written decision required by subsection (2) of this section to anyone requesting it, and shall submit it to the secretary of the senate and the chief clerk of the house of representatives for distribution to the chairs of the appropriate standing committees.

(4) If an agency determines on its own that a rule filed for review should be returned by the commission before the completion of the commission's review, it may request the return of the rule. The filing agency shall memorialize in writing all requests for the return of a rule no later than seven days after the request. The agency may refile the rule with the commission for review within one hundred eighty days as specified in RCW 34.05.335, or refile it in accordance with RCW 34.05.320.

(5) The commission shall not initiate the return of a rule under subsection (4) of this section as an alternative to disapproval under subsection (2) of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. (1) Within one hundred twenty days of an agency's receipt of the written decision required by section 7 of this act, the agency may rewrite and refile a rule returned to it under that section without complying with the notice and hearing requirements of RCW 34.05.320, unless the provisions of the rule are substantially changed. If the rule is substantially changed or is not filed within one hundred twenty days of receipt of the written decision, the agency may start a new process to adopt the rule, in full compliance with this chapter. The commission may, upon a showing of good cause, grant an extension to the one hundred twenty-day period specified in this subsection.

(2) Upon refile of a previously disapproved rule to the commission under subsection (1) of this section, the commission shall review the refiled rule only for those reasons expressly identified in the written decision required by section 7 of this act, or for those issues arising as a result of a substantial change to a provision of the rule or as a result of intervening statutory changes or intervening court orders or decisions. Review of the refiled rule must be done according to the same time limits as for review of a newly submitted rule.

(3) When an agency refiles a withdrawn or disapproved rule with the commission, it shall identify the prior withdrawn or disapproved rule by its date of filing with the commission, shall specify the portion of the prior rule-making record that should be included in the refile, and shall submit to the commission a copy of the prior rule-making record if that record has been returned to the agency by the commission.

(4) When the commission disapproves a rule, the agency may nonetheless adopt the rule and file it with the code reviser within the sixty-day period after the last day of the next regular legislative session after the date on which the rule was disapproved, unless the statute cited by the agency as authorizing the rule is amended by the legislature.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. (1) Before adopting a rule subject to review by the commission, an agency shall:

(a) Clearly state in detail the general goals and specific objectives of the statute that the rule implements and the specific objectives the agency seeks to achieve;

(b) Determine that the rule is needed to achieve the general goals and specific objectives stated under (a) of this subsection, and analyze alternatives to rule making and the consequences of not adopting the rule;

(c) Determine that the probable benefits of the rule are greater than its probable costs, taking into account both the qualitative and quantitative benefits and costs and the specific directives of the statute being implemented;

(d) Determine, after considering alternative versions of the rule and the analysis required under (b) and (c) of this subsection, that the rule being adopted is the least burdensome alternative for those required to comply with the rule that will achieve the general goals and the specific objectives stated under (a) of this subsection;

(e) Determine that the rule does not require those to whom it applies to take an action that violates requirements of another federal or state law;

(f) Coordinate the rule, to the maximum extent practicable, with other federal, state, and local laws applicable to the same circumstances and list, by citation, duplicative, inconsistent, or conflicting laws;

(g) Determine that the rule does not impose more stringent performance requirements on private entities than on public entities unless required to do so by federal or state law;

(h) Determine if the rule differs from any applicable federal regulation or statute and, if so, determine that the difference is justified by the following:

(i) State statutory authority that explicitly allows the agency to differ from federal standards; or

(ii) Substantial evidence that the difference is necessary to achieve the specific objectives of the authorizing state statute;

(i) Describe how the agency will monitor and evaluate on an ongoing basis whether the rule in fact achieves the general goals and specific objectives stated under (a) of this subsection, including, to the maximum extent practicable, the use of interim milestones to assess progress and the use of objectively measurable outcomes;

(j) Describe how the agency will implement and enforce the rule and encourage voluntary compliance with the rule;

(k) Describe which resources the agency intends to use to implement the rule; and

(l) Document compliance with the requirements of this section in the rule-making file.

(2) Before adopting a rule subject to review by the commission, an agency shall include in the rule-making file a written plan that describes:

(a) The methods the agency will use in making a reasonable attempt to notify those to whom the rule applies of the adoption of the rule and how they may get more information on how to comply with the rule; and

(b) How the agency will provide adequate sources of information and technical assistance to those to whom the rule applies to assist them in voluntarily complying with the rule.

(3) For rules implementing statutes enacted after the effective date of this act, except emergency rules adopted under RCW 34.05.350, an agency may not rely solely on the statute's statement of intent or purpose, or on the enabling provisions of the statute establishing the agency, or on any combination of such provisions, for its statutory authority to adopt the rule. An agency may use the statement of intent or purpose or the agency enabling provisions to interpret ambiguities in a statute's other provisions.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. In the discharge of any duty imposed under this chapter, the commission or personnel under its authority may examine and inspect all properties, equipment, facilities, files, records, and accounts of any state office, department, institution, board, committee, commission, or agency, and administer oaths, issue subpoenas, compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of any papers, books, accounts, documents, and testimony, and cause the deposition of witnesses, either residing within or outside the state, to be taken in the manner prescribed by law for taking depositions in civil actions in the superior courts.

In case of the failure on the part of a person to comply with any subpoena issued in behalf of the commission, or on the refusal of a witness to testify to matters regarding which he or she may be lawfully interrogated, the superior court of any county, or the judge thereof, shall, on application of the commission, compel obedience by proceedings for contempt, as in the case of disobedience of the requirements of a subpoena issued from the court or a refusal to testify in court.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. The commission, either on its motion or on the request of an individual, agency, corporation, member of the legislature, or any other entity that may be affected by a rule, may also petition an agency requesting the adoption, amendment, or repeal of a rule under RCW 34.05.330. The commission shall petition an agency under RCW 34.05.330 requesting the adoption of a rule if it believes that the agency is using a policy statement or guidelines in place of a rule. The commission may also make recommendations to the legislature and the governor for statutory changes whenever it finds that an existing rule or procedure may be contrary to the public interest.

Where the commission finds that an existing rule is not being enforced as required by law, the commission shall notify the responsible agency and submit a copy of this notification to the chief clerk of the house of representatives and the secretary of the senate for distribution to the appropriate standing committees.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. The commission shall act as a clearinghouse for complaints, comments, and other input from members of the legislature and from the public regarding rules, proposed rules, and administrative procedures. The commission shall maintain accurate records regarding complaints and comments it receives and shall maintain the records according to departmental and subject matter categories. When the commission files its annual report under section 2 of this act, the commission shall include within it a summary of public complaint and comment along with any recommendations the commission may offer for statutory change as the result of public complaint and comment.

The commission shall develop and implement training programs and other aids to assist state agencies in complying with the review criteria in section 6(2) of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. By January 31, 1997, and by January 31st of each odd-numbered year thereafter, the joint committee on performance audits, after consulting with state agencies and business, labor, and environmental organizations, shall report to the governor and the legislature regarding the impact of the independent regulatory review commission on the regulatory system in this state. The report shall document:

- (1) If, and in what way, oversight and review by the commission affected the substance of rules that ultimately went into effect;
- (2) Each rule that the commission disapproved, and the legislative action, if any, in response to the disapproval;
- (3) The costs incurred by state agencies in complying with the legislative rule-making criteria and the requests of the commission;
- (4) Any legal action maintained based upon the alleged failure of an agency to adopt a rule in compliance with the rule-making criteria, the costs to the state of the action, and the result;
- (5) The extent to which the existence of the commission and the review process has resulted in the increased inappropriate use by the agencies of policy statements and guidelines in place of rules;
- (6) The extent to which the efforts of the commission have led to increased use of negotiated rule making and pilot rules, and alternative dispute resolution techniques in the regulatory process;
- (7) The extent to which agencies have responded to petitions from the commission to adopt, amend, or repeal a rule;
- (8) The extent to which the commission's decisions and activities have adversely affected the capacity of agencies to fulfill their legislatively prescribed missions;
- (9) The extent to which the commission's decisions and activities have improved the acceptability of state rules to those regulated; and
- (10) Any other information considered by the joint committee on performance audits to be useful in evaluating the impact of the commission on the regulatory system in this state.

(1) To meet the intent of providing greater public access to administrative rule making and to promote consensus among interested parties, agencies shall solicit comments from the public on a subject of possible rule making before ~~((publication of))~~ filing with the code reviser a notice of proposed rule adoption under RCW 34.05.320. The statement of ~~((intent))~~ inquiry shall be filed with the code reviser for publication in the state register and shall be sent to the commission and any party that has requested receipt of the agency's statements of ~~((intent))~~ inquiry.

(2) Agencies are encouraged to develop and use new procedures for reaching agreement among interested parties before publication of notice and the adoption hearing on a proposed rule. Examples of new procedures include, but are not limited to:

(b) Pilot rule making which includes testing the draft of a proposed rule through the use of volunteer pilot study groups in various areas and circumstances.

(3)(a) An agency must make a determination whether negotiated rule making, pilot rule making, or another process for generating participation from interested parties prior to development of the rule is appropriate.

(b) An agency must include a written justification in the rule-making file if an opportunity for interested parties to participate in the rule-making process prior to publication of the proposed rule has not been provided.

(e) Rules whose content is explicitly and specifically dictated by statute;

(f) Rules that establish, alter, or repeal (i) a procedure, practice, or requirement relating to agency hearings, or (ii) a filing or related process requirement for applying to an agency for a license.

Sec. 16. RCW 34.05.320 and 1994 c 249 s 14 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) No sooner than thirty days after publication of the statement of inquiry under RCW 34.05.310, and at least twenty days before the rule-making hearing at which the agency receives public comment regarding adoption of a rule, the agency shall cause notice of the hearing to be published in the state register. The publication constitutes the proposal of a rule. The notice shall include all of the following:

(b) Citations of the statutory authority for adopting the rule and the specific statute the rule is intended to implement;

(k) A statement indicating how a person can obtain a copy of the small business economic impact statement prepared under chapter 19.85 RCW, or an explanation for why the agency did not prepare the statement.

(2) Upon filing notice of the proposed rule with the code reviser, the adopting agency shall have copies of the notice on file and available for public inspection and shall forward three copies of the notice to the ~~((rules review committee))~~ regulatory review commission.

(3) No later than three days after its publication in the state register, the agency shall cause a copy of the notice of proposed rule adoption to be mailed to each person who has made a request to the agency for a mailed copy of such notices. An agency may charge for the actual cost of providing individual mailed copies of these notices.

(4) In addition to the notice required by subsections (1) and (2) of this section, an institution of higher education shall cause the notice to be published in the campus or standard newspaper of the institution at least seven days before the rule-making hearing.

Sec. 17. RCW 34.05.335 and 1989 c 175 s 8 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A proposed rule may be withdrawn by the proposing agency at any time before adoption. A withdrawn rule may not be adopted unless it is again proposed in accordance with RCW 34.05.320.

(2) Before adopting a rule, an agency shall consider the written and oral submissions, or any memorandum summarizing oral submissions.

(3) Rules not adopted and filed with the ~~((code reviser))~~ commission within one hundred eighty days after publication of the text as last proposed in the register shall be regarded as withdrawn. An agency may not thereafter adopt the proposed rule without refiling it in accordance with RCW 34.05.320. The ~~((code reviser))~~ commission shall give notice of the withdrawal to the code reviser for publication in the register.

(4) An agency may not adopt a rule before the time established in the published notice, or such later time established on the record or by publication in the state register.

Sec. 18. RCW 34.05.350 and 1994 c 249 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) If an agency for good cause finds:

(a) That immediate adoption, amendment, or repeal of a rule is necessary for the preservation of the public health, safety, or general welfare, and that observing the time requirements of notice and opportunity to comment upon adoption of a permanent rule would be contrary to the public interest; or

(b) That state or federal law or federal rule or a federal deadline for state receipt of federal funds requires immediate adoption of a rule, the agency may dispense with those requirements and adopt, amend, or repeal the rule on an emergency basis. The agency's finding and a concise statement of the reasons for its finding shall be incorporated in the order for adoption of the emergency rule or amendment filed with the office of the code reviser under RCW 34.05.380 and with the ~~((rules review committee))~~ regulatory review commission.

(2) An emergency rule adopted under this section takes effect upon filing with the code reviser, unless a later date is specified in the order of adoption, and may not remain in effect for longer than one hundred twenty days after filing. Identical or substantially similar emergency rules may not be adopted in sequence unless conditions have changed or the agency has filed notice of its intent to adopt the rule as a permanent rule, and is actively undertaking the appropriate procedures to adopt the rule as a permanent rule. This section does not relieve any agency from compliance with any law requiring that its permanent rules be approved by designated persons or bodies before they become effective.

(3) Within seven days after the rule is adopted, any person may petition the governor requesting the immediate repeal of the rule adopted on an emergency basis by any department listed in RCW 43.17.010. Within seven days after submission of the petition, the governor shall either deny the petition in writing, stating his or her reasons for the denial, or order the immediate repeal of the rule. In ruling on the petition, the governor shall consider only whether the conditions in subsection (1) of this section were met such that adoption of the rule on an emergency basis was necessary. If the governor orders the repeal of the emergency rule, any sanction imposed based on that rule is void. This subsection shall not be construed to prohibit adoption of any rule as a permanent rule.

~~((4) In adopting an emergency rule, the agency shall comply with section 4 of this act or provide a written explanation for its failure to do so.))~~

Sec. 19. RCW 34.05.370 and 1994 c 249 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Each agency shall maintain an official rule-making file for each rule that it (a) proposes by publication in the state register, or (b) adopts. The file and materials incorporated by reference shall be available for public inspection. Each agency shall provide a copy of all materials in its file to the commission upon its request.

(2) The agency rule-making file shall contain all of the following:

(a) Copies of all publications in the state register with respect to the rule or the proceeding upon which the rule is based;

(b) Copies of any portions of the agency's public rule-making docket containing entries relating to the rule or the proceeding on which the rule is based;

(c) All written petitions, requests, submissions, and comments received by the agency and all other written material regarded by the agency as important to adoption of the rule or the proceeding on which the rule is based;

(d) Any official transcript of oral presentations made in the proceeding on which the rule is based or, if not transcribed, any tape recording or stenographic record of them, and any memorandum prepared by a presiding official summarizing the contents of those presentations;

(e) The concise explanatory statement required by RCW 34.05.355;

(f) All petitions for exceptions to, amendment of, or repeal or suspension of, the rule;

(g) Citations to data, factual information, studies, or reports on which the agency relies in the adoption of the rule, indicating where such data, factual information, studies, or reports are available for review by the public;

(h) The written summary and response required by RCW 34.05.325(6); and

(i) Any other material placed in the file by the agency.

(3) Internal agency documents are exempt from inclusion in the rule-making file under subsection (2) of this section to the extent they constitute preliminary drafts, notes, recommendations, and intra-agency memoranda in which opinions are expressed or policies formulated or recommended, except that a specific document is not exempt from inclusion when it is publicly cited by an agency in connection with its decision.

(4) Upon judicial review, the file required by this section constitutes the official agency rule-making file with respect to that rule. Unless otherwise required by another provision of law, the official agency rule-making file need not be the exclusive basis for agency action on that rule.

Sec. 20. RCW 34.05.380 and 1989 c 175 s 11 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Each agency shall file ~~((in the office of the code reviser))~~ with the commission a certified copy of all rules it adopts, except for rules contained in tariffs filed with or published by the Washington utilities and transportation commission. Upon its approval of a rule, the commission shall file the rule with the code reviser. The code reviser shall place upon each rule a notation of the time and date of filing and shall keep a permanent register of filed rules open to public inspection. In filing a rule, each agency shall use the standard form prescribed for this purpose by the code reviser.

(2) Emergency rules adopted under RCW 34.05.350 become effective upon filing unless a later date is specified in the order of adoption. All other rules become effective upon the expiration of thirty days after the date of filing, unless a later date is required by statute or specified in the order of adoption.

(3) A rule may become effective immediately upon its filing with the code reviser or on any subsequent date earlier than that established by subsection (2) of this section, if the agency establishes that effective date in the adopting order and finds that:

(a) Such action is required by the state or federal Constitution, a statute, or court order;

(b) The rule only delays the effective date of another rule that is not yet effective; or

(c) The earlier effective date is necessary because of imminent peril to the public health, safety, or welfare.

The finding and a brief statement of the reasons therefor required by this subsection shall be made a part of the order adopting the rule.

(4) With respect to a rule made effective pursuant to subsection (3) of this section, each agency shall make reasonable efforts to make the effective date known to persons who may be affected by it.

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the striking amendment by Senators Sheldon, Ann Anderson, Hale, Loveland, Gaspard, Haugen, Wojahn, Snyder, Winsley, Quigley and Rinehart to Senate Bill No. 6037.

The motion by Senator Sheldon carried and the striking amendment was adopted.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Sheldon, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 2 of the title, after "commission;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "amending RCW 34.05.010, 34.05.310, 34.05.320, 34.05.335, 34.05.350, 34.05.370, and 34.05.380; reenacting and amending RCW 42.17.2401; adding new sections to chapter 34.05 RCW; creating a new section; and repealing RCW 34.05.610, 34.05.620, 34.05.630, 34.05.640, 34.05.650, and 34.05.660."

On motion of Senator Sheldon, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 6037 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Senator Deccio: "Senator Sheldon, I sponsored a bill which would make it illegal for any department to exceed federal law. It was signed by twenty-eight members. I think I could have got most of the rest of them if I had had time. I think you indicated or maybe Senator Haugen indicated that this was going to be included in any bill that came out of Government Operations. Is that language in this bill?"

Senator Sheldon: "Senator Deccio, that language is not in this bill, but the regulatory reform bill, the main bill, has not been before this body as yet, but will before this session is over."

Senator Deccio: "Then you will include the language in the main bill?"

Senator Sheldon: "We certainly will consider your language--"

Senator Deccio: "That isn't the question that I asked you, Senator."

Senator Sheldon: "That is another bill, Senator, and in the regulatory reform bill there is strong language about the federal mandates that I think you will find to your liking."

Senator Deccio: "Well, I hope I like it better than this one. Thank you."

Senator Sheldon: "I do too, Senator."

Further debate ensued.

On motion of Senator Johnson, Senator Moyer was excused.

Renumber the sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly

SENATE BILL NO. 5064, by Senators Owen, Drew and Oke

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Owen, Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5064 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5064 and the second substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.
Senator Owen moved that the following amendments by Senators Owen and Spanel be considered simultaneously and be adopted:
On page 3, line 10, strike "provide or approve" and insert "identify"
On page 3, line 19, after "department" insert "prior to implementation"
On page 3, line 26, after "purposes of" strike all material through "project. In" on line 27, and insert "defraying the ((expenses)) costs of ((the cooperative)) projects and((-In"
On page 3, line 29, strike "projects" and insert "group projects and cooperative group projects"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Ann Anderson: "Senator Owen, again this bill went through a lot of discussion in committee and I am just wondering on the last amendment on page 3, line 29, where we strike the word 'projects' and insert 'group projects and cooperative group projects,' what kind of projects now are we precluding by this amendment?"

Senator Owen: "We are not precluding. Actually, if you had read the language that was in there before we fixed it, it just said 'cooperative groups.' What we had intended was that they would be able to use the money for regional enhancement groups and cooperative groups, because there are two programs in the department right now--the cooperative enhancement program which is a volunteer program we established a couple of years ago funded primarily through aquatic lands enhancement accounts and then the regional enhancement groups and we are making it clear that these funds are to be used for those projects for both groups--not just cooperative groups."

Voting nay: Senators Bauer and Sutherland - 2.

Excused: Senator Moyer - 1.

ENGROSSED SECOND SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5064, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Pritchard: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Snyder, the President finds that Senate Bill No. 5940 is a measure which identifies who owes the use tax, and who is exempt therefrom, on certain property distributed to, or displaced by, persons within this state.

"The amendment by Senators Palmer, Schow, Long, Swecker, Johnson and Strannigan on page 3, after line 34, would exempt from the sales tax, a corollary of the use tax, similar property distributed or displayed within this state.

"The President, therefore, finds that the proposed amendment does not change the scope and object of the bill and the point of order is not well taken."

The amendment by Senators Palmer, Schow, Long, Swecker, Johnson and Strannigan on page 3, after line 34, to Senate Bill No. 5940 was ruled in order.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Snyder, further consideration of Senate Bill No. 5940 was deferred.

EDITOR'S NOTE: See colloquy at the end of the day regarding the deferral of Senate Bill No. 5940.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Spanel, the Senate advanced to the seventh order of business.
On motion of Senator Spanel, the Senate resumed consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5000, deferred on third reading March 11, 1995, after the motion by Senator Snyder for reconsideration of the bill was adopted.

THIRD READING

SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5000, by Committee on Ways and Means (originally sponsored by Senators Loveland, Snyder, Wojahn, Sheldon, Gaspard Franklin, Haugen, Rasmussen, Quigley, Owen, McAuliffe, Winsley, McCaslin, Drew, Morton, Prentice, Bauer, Spanel, Hale and Deccio)

Reducing property taxes.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Loveland, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5000 was returned to second reading and read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Loveland moved that the following amendment by Senators Loveland, Franklin, Snyder, Haugen, C. Anderson, Sheldon, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Gaspard, Kohl, Prentice, Bauer, Quigley, Fairley, McAuliffe, Owen, Wojahn, Fraser, Pelz and Hargrove be adopted:

On page 9, beginning on line 10, strike section 7 and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. This act shall be submitted to the people for their adoption and ratification, or rejection, at the next succeeding general election to be held in this state, in accordance with Article II, section 1 of the state Constitution, as amended, and the laws adopted to facilitate the operation thereof."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Newhouse: "A point of parliamentary inquiry, Mr. President. It appears that this amendment, I would assume, would require a simple majority vote, but it is attached to a bill and would in effect refer that bill to the people and would amend an initiative, which would require, would it not, two-thirds vote?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Pritchard: "We are going to have a conversation. We have never ruled on this very point before."

Senator Newhouse: "It is a very ticklish point--I understand--and I wanted to make--"

REMARKS BY SENATOR WEST

Senator West: "Mr. President, I am not sure the point is timely, because the body hasn't adopted the amendment yet or hasn't considered the amendment yet."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Pritchard: "The President believes it would be helpful for the members to know how the ruling would be when they are voting on the measure. Any more comments that want to be made?"

FURTHER REMARKS BY SENATOR NEWHOUSE

Senator Newhouse: "Yes, it appears to me that this might well be a momentous occasion, because there is a possibility here of something happening that has never happened before in this state that the will of the people, by initiative, is challenged within two years by a simple majority vote and that would appear to me to be inappropriate."

REMARKS BY SENATOR LOVELAND

Senator Loveland: "I am waiting for my professional remarks, but basically the issue before us is that there was an initiative and we now have an addendum to that initiative and under the article and sections--I am going to read the professional here. We are not amending Initiative 601; we are offering the people of this state an opportunity to determine whether they want to enact a change to the measure. It is not logical to say that the people of this state cannot vote on a measure because they voted on it once before and our Constitution does not require a super majority of this body to permit them to do so. The Attorney General, in 1976, considered this question and in the Attorney General's Opinion No. 5, the reasoning in that opinion is still compelling today.

"Article II, Section 41 of our Constitution referring to whether an initiative can be amended says, 'But such an enactment may be amended or repealed at any regular or special election by direct vote of the people thereon. These provisions supersede the provisions of subsection (c) of section 1 of this article.' This is a clear statement that we may refer Substitute Senate Bill No. 5000 directly to the people of this state without a two-thirds vote requirement, because of subsection (c). The provision which requires a two-thirds vote to amend an initiative--the Attorney General's opinion was that a referendum measure would be permitted on a prior enacted initiative without a two-thirds vote and that remains good law today."

FURTHER REMARKS BY SENATOR WEST

Senator West: "Thank you, Mr. President. An Attorney General's Opinion is just that; it is an Attorney General's Opinion. Until it has been adjudicated by the courts, it is not law. It may influence the arguments of law, but it is not law. A referendum is a confirmation of legislative action. The action of the Legislature would be to amend Initiative 601 and then the Legislature would then be asking, by referendum, for the people to confirm the action of the Legislature. That is what a referendum is, so I would argue that in order to even send this out to referendum, the Legislature would have to amend 601, and then by act of referendum ask the people whether or not what they did was the proper action. The Constitution prohibits, within two years, the Legislature from amending an initiative with less than a two-thirds vote. Mr. President, no ruling officer of the Legislature has ever said that it takes less than two-thirds of a vote to amend an initiative. This would be very precedent setting and I think that I would ask that you rule that this is an amendment to an initiative and that this does require the two-thirds vote."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Pritchard: "The President agrees with Senator Newhouse; this is a momentous decision and we are going to set this down and we are going to have a little talk. Did you want to say something, Senator Pelz?"

REMARKS BY SENATOR PELZ

Senator Pelz: "I would just like to say I agree with the first part that I think this would have to be adjudicated and I think there are some very complex issues here. I am not sure that a ruling of the President should interfere, frankly, with the forward progress of this issue. I would remind the body that Initiative 601 will be two years old at the date when the electorate would be ruling on this referendum. I think that would give some additional weight to the validity of Senator Loveland's proposal and would further eradicate Senator West's logic."

REMARKS BY SENATOR NEWHOUSE

Senator Newhouse: "It has been precedent in this body and ruled by previous Presidents that the time the vote is taken is critical in such ways. On the other hand, we are not only amending an initiative, we are bypassing the Governor by this referendum vote and would be a rather unique way to do it and should not base our judgement on the 'off the cuff' or 'by the way' statement of an Assistant Attorney General some twenty years ago. That has no legal standing, because it has not been adjudicated."

REMARKS BY SENATOR SNYDER

Senator Snyder: "Thank you, Mr. President. Senator West says that this has never been adjudicated and needs to be. I think the best way we can do that is go ahead and pass this measure with the referendum on it and if someone wants to challenge it and put it in court and in that way, it would be settled. I think his argument has some holes in it, because we certainly, if we want to ever--for the future-- settle this issue, regardless of how the President of the Senate rules, we want to get into court. I think that Senator West would be wise in joining the rest of us and voting for this amendment and for this measure and then we will get it settled by the courts once and for all."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Pritchard: "We'll set it down. Senator Wojahn would you come up?"

REMARKS BY SENATOR WOJAHN

Senator Wojahn: "I just wanted to remind this body that there is a referendum coming over from the House on health care that would repeal the Health Care Bill of two years ago that will bypass the Governor anyway and you are saying that this will bypass the Governor and so would that referendum."

REMARKS BY SENATOR HAUGEN

Senator Haugen: "Thank you, Mr. President. I also would like to remind the body that if my reading of 601 was correct, it did call for the vote of the people on the change in the taxes. I think this amendment is in keeping with that initiative."

REMARKS BY SENATOR McCASLIN

Senator McCaslin: "Thank you, Mr. President. If Aristotle was here today, he would let the President decide this issue."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Pritchard: "He isn't here."

There being no objection, the President deferred further consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5000.

President Pro Tempore Wojahn assumed the Chair.

Concerning the return of state forest board transfer land.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Drew, Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5574 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5574 and the second substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

Senator Fraser moved that the following amendment by Senators Fraser, Franklin, Fairley and Spanel be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that in the early 1900's and up through the 1930's, counties took possession of a number of forest land parcels as a result of tax delinquencies. In many cases, the timber had already been harvested from these lands prior to the forfeiture of the property to the counties. Since that time, the department of natural resources has reforested and managed these lands in conjunction with the state trust lands. Given changes in forest practices, recent fluctuation in income from the forest board lands, and interest by some counties in having management responsibilities transferred to them, the legislature directs that the legislative budget committee conduct a study of the statutory mandates governing state forest lands, federal statutes that impact state management of such lands, and the desirability of transferring such responsibilities to counties, including an analysis of the ability of counties to assume such responsibilities.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. The study under section 1 of this act shall include the following subjects:

(1) The role of the forest board land in the state's sustained yield calculations and the effect of removing all or part of those lands on income, yield, and management policies;

(2) Board of natural resources policies for management of forest board lands and analysis of costs to such management, including reforestation;

(3) The long- and short-term implications of separating the forest board lands from the total lands managed by the department, including costs to state and county governments, and probable revenue impacts to state programs, including firefighting and to junior taxing districts;

(4) The effects of transfer on public access, recreation, and the management of other public and private lands;

(5) A comparison of forest management procedures and costs between Grays Harbor county and similar forest board and similar state trust lands;

(6) Potential changes in state and county employees due to changes in management;

(7) Examine the best possible methods and procedures to transfer the forest board lands to the counties.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The findings of the study, along with recommendations to the legislature, shall be submitted to the appropriate standing committees of the legislature by December 1, 1995.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. If specific funding for the purposes of this act, referencing this act by bill number, is not provided by June 30, 1995, in the omnibus appropriations act, this act shall be null and void."

Anderson, Sheldon, Rasmussen, Rinehart, Gaspard, Kohl, Prentice, Bauer, Quigley, Fairley, McAuliffe, Owen, Wojahn, Fraser, Pelz and Hargrove on page 9, beginning on line 10, as well as the parliamentary inquiry regarding the number of votes needed to pass Substitute Senate Bill No. 5000, deferred earlier today.

The President of the Senate introduced Ralph Munro, Secretary of State.

REMARKS BY RALPH MUNRO, SECRETARY OF STATE

Secretary of State Munro: "Mr. Speaker, Mr. President, members of the court, elected officials and distinguished guests all. In the mid 1980's, Speaker John O'Brien and others proposed an award to be offered by the Washington State government to any person who has been distinguished by his exceptionally meritorious conduct in performing outstanding services to the people of Washington State. The Legislature passed Speaker O'Brien's proposal and it was signed by Governor Booth Gardner.

"Each year the Governor, the Lieutenant Governor, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the Chief Justice of the Washington State Supreme Court and the Secretary of State meet to discuss candidates for the Medal of Merit. Some proposed nominations come from the public, some from the members of the Legislature and other elected officials throughout the state, and some from the committee itself.

"Previous winners include the very best of Washington State: Doctor Lester Sauvage, world renown heart surgeon and scientist who now leads the Hope Heart Clinic in Seattle; Professor Orville Vogel, researcher and inventor of Washington's super wheat to feed the world, from Pullman in the Palouse; Senator Henry M. 'Scoop' Jackson, defender of freedom around the globe, the school kid from Everett who went to the top; Dorothy Bullitt, benefactor and entrepreneur and philanthropist from Seattle, a pioneer in broadcasting; Senator Warren G. Magnuson, prosecutor, politician and President Pro Tempore of the United States Senate. In the era of bringing home the bacon, Maggie brought home the whole pig; Edward Carlson, who went from bellhop at the Olympic to civic leader of the Pacific Northwest; Julia Butler Hansen, Chairman of the Interior Committee of the United States House of Representatives. Because of her, every cabinet member in the United States government learned exactly where Cathlamet, Washington, was located; Dr. Belding Scribner, physician, inventor, research and development of the kidney dialysis equipment for the world; Frances Penrose Owen, civic leader, business executive, organizer of numerous charitable and elocutionary activities and long time Regent at Washington State University; James Reed Ellis, Seattle advocate and attorney, founder of Metro, cleaning up Western Washington waters, the forward thinker of Forward Thrust; Dr. Charles Odegaard, professor, educator and a leader who struggled during the difficult and often tumultuous 1960's to build one of the finest universities in the world, the University of Washington; and finally, Dr. William Hutchinson, the ballplayer's brother who went to medical school and who refused to strike out against cancer, and continues to beat it on a daily basis, the founder of the Freddy Hutchinson Cancer Research Center.

"During the years of 1991, 1992, 1993 and 1994, your committee met, reviewed nominations and decided to wait. We have always remembered that the law says 'exceptional meritorious conduct and outstanding service.' It is with greatest respect today that the committee reports that two names have been selected for 1995. These two outstanding individual Washingtonians are Dr. Michael Copass of Seattle and King County and Dr. Kathleen Ross of Toppenish in Yakima County. Thank you."

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

REMARKS BY SPEAKER BALLARD

Speaker Ballard: "The purpose of the Joint Session is to present Medal of Merit Awards for the fifth time, honoring two deserving Washington State citizens who have been distinguished by exceptionally meritorious conduct in performing outstanding services to the people and the state of Washington. At this time, I will take the gavel from the President for the purpose of introducing him as a participant in the ceremony.

"Ladies and gentlemen, the Speaker has the honor to present to you, Lieutenant Governor Joel Pritchard, for the purpose of introducing and honoring Dr. Michael Copass."

REMARKS BY PRESIDENT PRITCHARD INTRODUCTION OF DR. MICHAEL COPASS

President Pritchard: "I believe all of you have read in the program, but just to remind you, Dr. Copass directed the Emergency Center at Harborview, the Medical Director of the Airlift Northwest, Medical Director of the King County Medic One Program 911, a spectacular achievement. You realize that, and it's said not in jest, but in truth, that the safest place in the world to have a heart attack is Seattle. And this gentleman was the driving force; he was the key to putting in this team. Besides that he also has time to work and teach at the University of Washington as a professor of neurology.

"I think the easiest way to explain what Mike has accomplished--I was over on Bainbridge Island and I was watching a playfield where some children were playing and there was a father there and he was playing with the children. I realized that was the same man who two years ago was hit--he was on a bike--and he was hit by a car and he was run over and dragged two hundred feet. People thought he was dead, but he was alive. They said he isn't going to make it, but they got a hold of a helicopter and they flew him to Harborview. They said he may live; he may not. He, obviously, is going to be in terrible shape if he does live. Two years later he's playing with his children--playing baseball.

"That's the legacy that this man has left. I know he'd be the first one to say, 'Many, many other people are involved; I don't do it alone.' Personally, he's saved hundreds of people by his actions. His staff has saved thousands and because the system he put together has been replicated in so many other systems, now he's saved thousands. Just two weeks ago, I had someone from a foreign country come and say, 'We want to go up to Harborview and see how they do it. We're going to put this system in our country.' He is going to affect the lives of millions of people.

"So it's with great pleasure that I introduce Mike Copass, Doctor Michael Copass, the Medal of Merit winner."

President Pritchard presented the Medal of Merit to Dr. Michael Copass.

REMARKS BY DR. MICHAEL COPASS

Dr. Copass: "It is an intimidating job to face down things that are said about you. I frequently start speeches by reminding people that I could be prematurely grey and likewise prematurely senile, but I'll let you be the judge of that. I one time started a speech by the phrase, 'in my farming days.' I was eighteen; I was practicing that speech in a courtroom of a man whose standards I wasn't sure I could meet. He was a little man from west Texas, who was absolutely sure that I needed as much work as I could possibly do. So, he guaranteed that I could work for one of his friends who farmed a fairly large, somewhat desperate collection of sand in Franklin County.

"When you think about activities that impress you, farming for an eighteen year old, when you're all alone, always hot--insufferably so--always cold, the same does leave you with a memory. I think my life passed fairly quickly. The second real impact came upon me and that was that I could start a speech and say, 'In my Harborview days.' I've been at Harborview for a long time, my entire professional life, save that spent in the military. Education passes by like the speed of light, no matter whether it's collegiate or medical school, but one's professional duties add like the skin of an onion. I think about that particular facility which has existed in this state under the largess of the University, and I think about the contribution that that facility has made to this State, to the county of King, to the city of Seattle, and to the region. And I think we are very lucky and I think it is a privilege to serve there.

"So, the truth of this speech is that I thank you for allowing me the privilege to be one of your servants. I've enjoyed my time in that institution. We've spent every day trying to make ourselves better; we've spent every day trying to get the most we can out of what resources we have and we use them wisely. Our goal and our ambition is to provide reasonable care for the citizens of this place and to provide an educational format for those individuals who come from this state who need to be the next generation's physicians--people that we see as leaders in their communities--they are chosen to go to school for their talent, they must leave the school professionally skilled and leaders.

"So, I thank you for this monumental award. I also thank you for allowing me this last twenty-two years to function as a member of this intellectual community--the University of Washington School of Medicine--to participate in the activities of this remarkable state and to be able to do the things that we had done in the institution under the golden dome at Ninth and Jefferson, for the people who need our help. May I thank you?"

INTRODUCTION OF GOVERNOR LOWRY

REMARKS BY GOVERNOR LOWRY INTRODUCTION OF DR. KATHLEEN ROSS

Governor Lowry: "Thank you Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, members of the State Supreme Court, fellow elected officials, members of the State Legislature, citizens of the state of Washington, thank you for allowing me the honor to make this next presentation of our Medal of Merit.

"Dr. Kathleen Ross has dedicated her life to education. As founding President of Heritage College, Dr. Ross has sought to bring higher education to culturally diverse students who otherwise might not have a four-year college opportunity. The success of Heritage College has been phenomenal. In 1982, the college had an initial class of approximately eighty students. Now, the college enrolls more than eleven hundred students a year. Fifty percent of the undergraduate students are either Native American or Hispanic, and eighty-five percent are the first persons from their families to attend college. In addition, seventy percent of the students are women and sixty percent live below the poverty level.

"Heritage College started as an outreach effort of Fort Wright College in Spokane where Dr. Ross was academic Vice President. When Fort Wright closed, community leaders from the Yakima Indian Nation and the Yakima Valley refused to let the program die. Along with Dr. Ross, they established a new college specifically for the people of the Yakima Valley region. Today, the college graduates between seven hundred and eight hundred students a year in education, social sciences, liberal arts and business management. Heritage College also offers a Masters of Education degree that produces close to one hundred graduates each year, making Heritage College the school that graduates the most minority teachers in Washington State. Importantly, many Heritage graduates return to their home communities to teach.

"Dr. Ross is nationally known as a leader in higher education, especially in the field of cross cultural communication. In 1989, she was one of three recipients of the National Harold McGraw prize in education. In 1991, Georgetown University presented her with the John Carroll Award. She has honorary degrees from Dartmouth, Alverno, Pomona and Whitworth Colleges and Seattle University. Dr. Ross holds a Ph.D. and is an instrumental member of the Sisters of the Holy Names of Jesus and Mary.

"I'm very honored to present her with the 1995 Washington State Medal of Merit. Dr. Ross."

Governor Lowry presented the Medal of Merit to Dr. Kathleen Ross.

REMARKS BY DR. KATHLEEN ROSS

Dr. Ross: "Thank you, Governor Lowry; Speaker of the House, Clyde Ballard, from a city dear to my heart, Wenatchee; Lieutenant Governor Joel Pritchard; Secretary of State, Ralph Munro; and distinguished members of the Legislature; Chief Justice Durham and Justices of the Court; and all of my new friends and my old friends here.

"I'm really thrilled to accept this medal today because it symbolizes to me how people who dream together, who create a vision together, who support each other in pursuit of that vision and who trust in God's providence together, can make a difference. I accept this medal today, not just for myself, but on behalf of all those people who have made a difference by creating and nurturing and sustaining Heritage College. This includes the more than five thousand individual students who have taken at least one course at Heritage College, in a place where no four-year college existed fourteen years ago. It also includes the faculty, the staff, the administrators, the board of directors. The faculty, staff and administrators work for private college wages, but they provide a tremendous public service for the state of Washington and are proud of it.

"I accept this on behalf, also, of the hundreds of persons in the Yakima Valley and throughout the state who have given, not only a beautiful new library to Heritage--and there's a nice picture of it out in that display--but have also given dozens of vital scholarships and other operational support. I also think, most especially, in accepting this award of the Yakima Indian Nation whose educational leaders provided the original vision of what could be and who continue to support the growth of our multi-ethnic college. Unfortunately, all of those education leaders are in Washington D.C., for a major Indian education conference today, so they couldn't join us here.

"My sharing this award also includes thanks to the Sisters of the Holy Name who supported the college at the very beginning even though it was to be a nonsectarian institution. I also want to thank the members of this Legislature, especially, and the Governor's office, because you have provided financial aid in the form of the Washington State Need Grant, the Education Opportunity Grant, the Work Study Funds--and without these vital funds Heritage would be without ninety-five percent of its students. That would be a pretty small school. Last but not least, in people who have made a difference for me, I include my Mother, Mary Ross, of Wenatchee, and my sister, Rosemary, of the Dalles in Oregon.

"In receiving this medal today, I was asking myself what makes the Heritage story so unique and seemingly deserving of recognition. My answer is a very simple word--opportunity. Heritage has demonstrated that creating opportunities for people brings success for an entire community which could not even have been imagined before hand. What do I mean when I say, 'opportunity?' Well, I mean an opportunity that knocks at each citizens door regardless of the geographic location, regardless of the financial condition, regardless of the ethnic background; opportunity that expresses the belief that each citizen can become a contributor to society-- not just a consumer of society's benefits; an opportunity that comes into being when each person is treated with dignity empowering each to have the courage to reach for his or her full God-given human potential. This is the kind of opportunity which Heritage is dedicated to creating.

"As I was thinking of what to share with you the last couple of days, one of our faculty brought a thank you note to me that he had received in the mail and I would like to share it with all of you. It reads, 'Dear Doctor, I just wanted to take this opportunity to thank you for the enormous changes your work has wrought in my life. When we met the first time in 1991, I was living on public assistance with not much hope for anything. Since that time, I have not only managed to become self-supporting, but to increase my income by about $10,000 a year. This has certainly improved my and my childrens' lives. The work you do is so important and you'll always have my respect and gratitude. Thanks again. Signed as one of our students.' That is what opportunity is about.

"I thank you today for this very high honor bestowed on me and on Heritage College, and in accepting it, I challenge each of us to measure what we are doing against that yard stick of creating opportunities. Opportunities which will allow the creation of a better world for the generations yet to come. This will mean creating opportunities proportionally for all people at all levels of society. Opportunities for individuals to become contributors to society and not just bigger consumers of either private or public wealth. How exciting it is to me to think of the future if all our expectations are focused on increasing opportunities for everybody at every level of society and not simply meeting the popular short-term expectations of increasing everyone's disposable income.

"I feel a great joy and pride in accepting this medal today. The joy and satisfaction of creating opportunities which allow people to change their lives is a far greater reward than any material reward I can imagine and this medal today celebrates that joy and pride. On a spiritual level, I have to say it is truly an awesome privilege to participate in God's own work of creating new life in others. My wish for each of you here today is that you would experience the same joy and satisfaction.

"Again, thank you. To our legislators, please consider continuing your support for financial aid and God bless everyone of you."

(a) Salary allocations for certificated instructional staff units shall be determined for each district by multiplying the district's certificated instructional derived base salary shown on LEAP Document 12C, by the district's average staff mix factor for basic education certificated instructional staff in that school year, computed using LEAP Document 1A; and

(b) Salary allocations for certificated administrative staff units and classified staff units for each district shall be based on the district's certificated administrative and classified salary allocation amounts shown on LEAP Document 12C.

(2) For the purposes of this section:

(a) "Basic education certificated instructional staff" is defined as provided in RCW 28A.150.100;

(b) "LEAP Document 1A" means the computerized tabulation establishing staff mix factors for basic education certificated instructional staff according to education and years of experience, as developed by the legislative evaluation and accountability program committee on April 8, 1991, at 13:35 hours; and

(c) "LEAP Document 12C" means the computerized tabulation of 1995-96 and 1996-97 school year salary allocations for basic education certificated administrative staff and basic education classified staff and derived base salaries for basic education certificated instructional staff as developed by the legislative evaluation and accountability program committee on March 16, 1995, at 15:27 hours.

(3) Incremental fringe benefit factors shall be applied to salary adjustments at a rate of 20.07 percent for certificated staff and 15.27 percent for classified staff for both years of the biennium.

(6) No more than ninety college quarter-hour credits received by any employee after the baccalaureate degree may be used to determine compensation allocations under the state salary allocation schedule and LEAP documents referenced in this act, or any replacement schedules and documents, unless:

(a) The employee has a masters degree; or

(b) The credits were used in generating state salary allocations before January 1, 1992.

(7) The salary allocation schedules established in this section are for allocation purposes only except as provided in RCW 28A.400.200(2).

NEW SECTION. Sec. 504. FOR THE SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION--FOR SCHOOL EMPLOYEE COMPENSATION ADJUSTMENTS

TOTAL APPROPRIATION $ 292,077,000

The appropriation in this section is subject to the following conditions and limitations:

(1) $276,939,000 is provided for cost of living adjustments of 5.0 percent effective September 1, 1995, for state-formula staff units. The appropriation includes associated incremental fringe benefit allocations for both years at rates 20.07 percent for certificated staff and 15.27 percent for classified staff.

(a) The appropriation in this section includes the increased portion of salaries and incremental fringe benefits for all state funded school programs in PART V of this act. Salary adjustments for state employees in the office of superintendent of public instruction and the education reform program are provided in the Special Appropriations sections of this act. Increases for general apportionment (basic education) are based on the salary allocation schedules and methodology in section 503 of this act. Increases for special education result from increases in each district's basic education allocation per student. Increases for educational service districts and institutional education programs are determined by the superintendent of public instruction using the methodology for general apportionment salaries and benefits in section 503 of this act.

(b) The appropriation in this section provides salary increase and incremental fringe benefit allocations for the following programs based on formula adjustments as follows:

(i) For pupil transportation, an increase of $0.97 per weighted pupil-mile for the 1995-96 school year and maintained for the 1996-97 school year;

(ii) For learning assistance, an increase of $14.05 per eligible student for the 1995-96 school year and maintained for the 1996-97 school year;

(iii) For education of highly capable students, an increase of $10.99 per formula student for the 1995-96 school year and maintained for the 1996-97 school year; and

(a) Effective September 1 of each year, the insurance benefit allocations shall be increased by $5.37 and $5.34 for 1995-96 and 1996-97 respectively, per state funded certificated and classified employee for the following programs: General apportionment, special education, educational service districts and institutional education. Increases for these programs are applied directly to state formula certificated and classified staff insurance benefit units as adjusted for part-time factors used in each program.

(b) Effective September 1 of each year, the insurance benefit allocations for the following categorical programs shall be calculated by increasing the annual state funding rates by the amounts specified in this subsection:

(i) For pupil transportation, increases of $.05 per weighted pupil-mile for the 1995-96 school year and $.09 for the 1996-97 school year;

(ii) For learning assistance, increases of $.71 per eligible student for the 1995-96 school year and $1.43 for the 1996-97 school year;

This provides an average salary increase of 1.55 percent per year.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 507. FOR THE SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION--FOR SCHOOL FOOD SERVICE PROGRAMS

General Fund--State Appropriation (FY 1996) $ 3,000,000

General Fund--State Appropriation (FY 1997) $ 3,000,000

General Fund--Federal Appropriation $ 183,619,000

NEW SECTION. Sec. 508. SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION--FOR SPECIAL EDUCATION PROGRAMS

General Fund--State Appropriation (FY 1996) $ 383,367,000

General Fund--State Appropriation (FY 1997) $ 381,664,000

General Fund--Federal Appropriation $ 98,684,000

TOTAL APPROPRIATION $ 863,715,000

The appropriations in this section are subject to the following conditions and limitations:

(1) The general fund--state appropriation includes such funds as are necessary for the remaining months of the 1994-95 school year.

(2) In recognition of the need for increased flexibility at the local district level to facilitate the provision of appropriate education to children with disabilities, and the need for substantive educational reform for a significant portion of the school population, the funding formula for special education is modified. These changes result from a 1994 study and recommendations by the institute for public policy and the legislative budget committee, aided by the office of the superintendent of public instruction and the statewide task force for the development of special education funding alternatives. The new formula is for allocation purposes only and is not intended to prescribe or imply any particular pattern of special education service delivery other than that contained in a properly formulated locally determined individualized education program.

(3) The superintendent of public instruction shall distribute state funds to school districts based on two categories, the mandatory special education program for special education students ages three to twenty-one and the optional birth through age two program for developmentally delayed infants and toddlers. The superintendent shall review current state eligibility criteria for the fourteen special education categories and consider changes which would reduce assessment time and administrative costs associated with the special education program.

(4) For the 1995-96 and 1996-97 school years, the superintendent shall distribute state funds to each district based on the sum of:

(a) A district's annual average headcount enrollment of developmentally delayed infants and toddlers ages birth through two, times the district's average basic education allocation per full-time equivalent student, times 1.15; and

(b) A district's annual average full-time equivalent basic education enrollment times the enrollment percent, times the district's average basic education allocation per full-time equivalent student times 0.943.

(5) The definitions in this subsection apply throughout this section.

(a) "Average basic education allocation per full-time equivalent student" for a district shall be based on the staffing ratios required by RCW 28A.150.260 (i.e., 49/1000 certificated instructional staff in grades K-3, and 46/1000 in grades 4-12), including the part-time health benefit ratio for the special education program, and shall not include enhancements for K-3, secondary vocational education, or small schools.

(b) "Annual average full-time equivalent basic education enrollment" means the resident enrollment including students enrolled through choice (RCW 28A.225.225) and students from nonhigh districts (RCW 28A.225.210) and excluding students residing in another district enrolled as part of an interdistrict cooperative program (RCW 28A.225.250).

(c) "Enrollment percent" shall mean the district's resident special education annual average enrollment, excluding the birth through age two enrollment, as a percent of the district's annual average full-time equivalent basic education enrollment. For the 1995-96 and the 1996-97 school years, each district's enrollment percent shall be:

(i) For districts whose enrollment percent for 1994-95 was at or below 12.7 percent, the lesser of the district's actual enrollment percent for the school year for which the allocation is being determined or 12.7 percent.

(ii) For districts whose enrollment percent for 1994-95 was above 12.7 percent, the lesser of:

(A) The district's actual enrollment percent for the school year for which the special education allocation is being determined; or
(B) The district's actual enrollment percent for the school year immediately prior to the school year for which the special education allocation is being determined; or

(C) For 1995-96, the 1994-95 enrollment percent reduced by 25 percent of the difference between the district's 1994-95 enrollment percent and 12.7. For 1996-97, the 1994-95 enrollment percent reduced by 50 percent of the difference between the district's 1994-95 enrollment percent and 12.7.

(6) A minimum of $4.5 million of the general fund--federal appropriation shall be expended for safety net funding to meet the extraordinary needs of individual special education students.

(7) From the general fund--state appropriation, $14,600,000 is provided for the 1995-96 school year, and $22,500,000 for the 1996-97 school year, for safety net purposes for districts with demonstrable funding needs for special education beyond the combined amounts provided in subsection (4) of this section. By July 1, 1995, the superintendent of public instruction shall, by rule, establish procedures and standards by which such determinations shall be made at each educational service district. The superintendent shall distribute safety net moneys to educational service districts and establish procedures for regional committees to consider district applications and make allocations, without deduction, based on the procedures and standards established by the superintendent subject to the following conditions and limitations:

(a) For a school district requesting state safety net funds due to special characteristics of the district and costs of providing services which differ significantly from the assumptions contained in the funding formula, the procedures and standards shall permit relief only if a district can demonstrate at a minimum that:

(i) Individualized education plans are appropriate and are properly and efficiently prepared and formulated;

(ii) The district is making a reasonable effort to provide appropriate program services for special education students utilizing state funds generated by the apportionment and special education funding formulas;

(iii) The district's programs are operated in a reasonably efficient manner and that the district has adopted a plan of action to contain or eliminate any unnecessary, duplicative, or inefficient practices.

(iv) Indirect costs charged to this program do not exceed the allowable percent for the federal special education program;

(v) Any available federal funds are insufficient to address the additional needs; and

(vi) The costs of any supplemental contracts are not charged to this program for purposes of making these determinations.

(b) For districts requesting safety net funds due to federal maintenance of effort requirements, the procedures and standards shall permit relief only if a district can demonstrate at a minimum that:

(i) The district is making a reasonable effort to provide appropriate program services for special education students utilizing state funds generated by the apportionment and special education funding formulas;

(ii) Calculations made in accordance with subsection (8) of this section with respect to state fund allocations justify a need for additional funds for compliance with federal maintenance of effort requirements.

(8)(a) For purposes of making safety net determinations pursuant to subsection (7) of this section, the superintendent shall make available to each school district, from available data, prior to June 1st of each year:

(i) The district's 1994-95 enrollment percent;

(ii) For districts with a 1994-95 enrollment percent over 12.7 percent, the maximum 1995-96 enrollment percent, and prior to 1996-97 the maximum 1996-97 enrollment percent;

(iii) The estimate to be used for purposes of subsection (7) of this section of each district's 1994-95 special education allocation showing the excess cost and the basic education portions; and

(iv) If necessary, a process for each district to estimate the 1995-96 school year excess cost allocation for special education and the portion of the basic education allocation formerly included in the special education allocation. This process may utilize the allocations generated pursuant to subsection (5) of this section, each district's 1994-95 estimated basic education backout percent for the 1994-95 school year, and state compensation increases for 1995-96.

(b) The superintendent, in consultation with the state auditor, shall take all necessary steps to successfully transition to the new formula and minimize paperwork at the district level associated with maintenance of effort calculations. The superintendent shall develop such rules and procedures as are necessary to implement this process for the 1995-96 school year, and may use the same process for the 1996-97 school year if found necessary for federal maintenance of effort calculations.

(9) Prior to adopting any standards, procedures, or processes required to implement this section, the superintendent shall consult with the office of financial management and the fiscal committees of the legislature.

(10) The superintendent of public instruction, in cooperation with the office of financial management and the fiscal committees of the legislature, shall evaluate the operation of the safety nets under subsections (6) and (7) of this section and shall prepare an interim report by December 15, 1995 and a final report on the first school year of operation by October 15, 1996.

(11) A maximum of $678,000 may be expended from the general fund--state appropriation to fund 5.43 full-time equivalent teachers and 2.1 full-time equivalent aides at Children's orthopedic hospital and medical center. This amount is in lieu of money provided through the home and hospital allocation and the handicapped program.

(12) $1,000,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation is provided solely for projects to provide handicapped students with appropriate job and independent living skills, including work experience where possible, to facilitate their successful transition out of the public school system. The funds provided by this subsection shall be from federal discretionary grants.

(13) Not more than $80,000 of the general fund--federal appropriation shall be expended for development of an inservice training program to identify students with dyslexia who may be in need of special education.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Winsley, the following Committee on Government Operations amendment was adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The purpose of this act is to assist community and economic development by clarifying the authority of all cities, towns, counties, and public corporations to engage in federally guaranteed "conduit financings" and to specify procedures that may be used for such conduit financings. Generally, in such a conduit financing a municipality borrows funds from the federal government or from private sources with the help of federal guarantees, without pledging the credit or tax revenues of the municipality, and then lends the proceeds for private projects that both fulfill public purposes, such as community and economic development, and provide the revenues to retire the municipal borrowings. Such conduit financings include issuance by municipalities of federally guaranteed notes under section 108 of the housing and community development act of 1974, as amended, to finance projects eligible under federal community development block grant regulations.

Sec. 2. RCW 35.21.735 and 1985 c 332 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The legislature hereby declares that carrying out the purposes of federal grants or programs is both a public purpose and an appropriate function for ~~((such))~~ a city, town, county, or public corporation. The provisions of RCW 35.21.730 through 35.21.755 and RCW 35.21.660 and 35.21.670 and the enabling authority herein conferred to implement these provisions shall be construed to accomplish the purposes of RCW 35.21.730 through 35.21.755.

(2) All cities, towns ~~((and))~~, counties, and public corporations shall have the power and authority to enter into agreements with the United States or any agency or department thereof, or any agency of the state government or its political subdivisions, and pursuant to such agreements may receive and expend, or cause to be received and expended by a custodian or trustee, federal or private funds for any lawful public purpose. Pursuant to any such agreement, a city, town, county, or public corporation may issue bonds, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness that are guaranteed or otherwise secured by funds or other instruments provided by or through the federal government or by the federal government or an agency or instrumentality thereof under section 108 of the housing and community development act of 1974 (42 U.S.C. Sec. 5308), as amended, or its successor, and may agree to repay and reimburse for any liability thereon any guarantor of any such bonds, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness issued by such jurisdiction or public corporation, or issued by any other public entity. For purposes of this subsection federal housing mortgage insurance shall not constitute a federal guarantee or security.

(3) A city, town, county, or public corporation may pledge, as security for any such bonds, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness or for its obligations to repay or reimburse any guarantor thereof, its right, title, and interest in and to any or all of the following: (a) Any federal grants or payments received or that may be received in the future; (b) any of the following that may be obtained directly or indirectly from the use of any federal or private funds received as authorized in this section: (i) Property and interests therein, and (ii) revenues; (c) any payments received or owing from any person resulting from the lending of any federal or private funds received as authorized in this section; (d) any proceeds under (a), (b), or (c) of this subsection and any securities or investments in which (a), (b), or (c) of this subsection or proceeds thereof may be invested; (e) any interest or other earnings on (a), (b), (c), or (d) of this subsection.

(4) A city, town, county, or public corporation may establish one or more special funds relating to any or all of the sources listed in subsection (3)(a) through (e) of this section and pay or cause to be paid from such fund the principal, interest, premium if any, and other amounts payable on any bonds, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness authorized under this section, and pay or cause to be paid any amounts owing on any obligations for repayment or reimbursement of guarantors of any such bonds, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness. A city, town, county, or public corporation may contract with a financial institution either to act as trustee or custodian to receive, administer, and expend any federal or private funds, or to collect, administer, and make payments from any special fund as authorized under this section, or both, and to perform other duties and functions in connection with the transactions authorized under this section. If the bonds, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness and related agreements comply with subsection (6) of this section, then any such funds held by any such trustee or custodian, or by a public corporation, shall not constitute public moneys or funds of any city, town, or county and at all times shall be kept segregated and set apart from other funds.

(5) For purposes of this section, "lawful public purpose" includes, without limitation, any use of funds, including loans thereof to public or private parties, authorized by the agreements with the United States or any department or agency thereof under which federal or private funds are obtained, or authorized under the federal laws and regulations pertinent to such agreements.

(6) If any such federal or private funds are loaned or granted to any private party or used to guarantee any obligations of any private party, then any bonds, notes, other evidences of indebtedness issued or entered into for the purpose of receiving or causing the receipt of such federal or private funds, and any agreements to repay or reimburse guarantors, shall not be obligations of any city, town, or county and shall be payable only from a special fund as authorized in this section or from any of the security pledged pursuant to the authority of this section, or both. Any bonds, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness to which this subsection applies shall contain a recital to the effect that they are not obligations of the city, town, or county or the state of Washington and that neither the faith and credit nor the taxing power of the state or any municipal corporation or subdivision of the state or any agency of any of the foregoing, is pledged to the payment of principal, interest, or premium, if any, thereon. Any bonds, notes, other evidences of indebtedness, or other obligations to which this subsection applies shall not be included in any computation for purposes of limitations on indebtedness. To the extent expressly agreed in writing by a city, town, county, or public corporation, this subsection shall not apply to bonds, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness issued for, or obligations incurred for, the necessary support of the poor and infirm by that city, town, county, or public corporation.

(7) Any bonds, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness issued by, or reimbursement obligations incurred by, a city, town, county, or public corporation consistent with the provisions of this section but prior to the effective date of this section, and any loans or pledges made by a city, town, or county in connection therewith substantially consistent with the provisions of this section but prior to the effective date of this section, are deemed authorized and shall not be held void, voidable, or invalid due to any lack of authority under the laws of this state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. The authority granted by this act is additional and supplemental to any other authority of any city, town, county, or public corporation. Nothing in this act may be construed to imply that any of the power or authority granted hereby was not available to any city, town, county, or public corporation under prior law. Any previous actions consistent with the provisions of this act are ratified and confirmed.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately."

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Fraser, the following Committee on Ecology and Parks amendment was adopted:

On page 4, after line 2, insert the following:

The department of ecology shall establish by rule under chapter 34.05 RCW:

(1) State-wide emission performance standards for new solid fuel burning devices. Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter which allows an authority to adopt more stringent emission standards, no authority shall adopt any emission standard for new solid fuel burning devices other than the state-wide standard adopted by the department under this section.

(a) After January 1, 1995, no solid fuel burning device shall be offered for sale in this state to residents of this state that does not meet the following particulate air contaminant emission standards under the test methodology of the United States environmental protection agency in effect on January 1, 1991, or an equivalent standard under any test methodology adopted by the United States environmental protection agency subsequent to such date: (i) Two and one-half grams per hour for catalytic wood stoves; and (ii) four and one-half grams per hour for all other solid fuel burning devices. For purposes of this subsection, "equivalent" shall mean the emissions limits specified in this subsection multiplied by a statistically reliable conversion factor determined by the department that compares the difference between the emission test methodology established by the United States environmental protection agency prior to May 15, 1991, with the test methodology adopted subsequently by the agency. Subsection (a) of this subsection does not apply to fireplaces.

(b) After January 1, 1997, no fireplace, except masonry fireplaces, shall be offered for sale unless such fireplace meets the 1990 United States environmental protection agency standards for wood stoves or equivalent standard that may be established by the state building code council by rule. Prior to January 1, 1997, the state building code council shall establish by rule a methodology for the testing of factory-built fireplaces. The methodology shall be designed to achieve a particulate air emission standard equivalent to the 1990 United States environmental protection agency standard for wood stoves. In developing the rules, the council shall include on the technical advisory committee at least one representative from the masonry fireplace builders and at least one representative of the factory-built fireplace manufacturers.

(c) Prior to January 1, 1997, the state building code council shall establish by rule design standards for the construction of new masonry fireplaces in Washington state. In developing the rules, the council shall include on the technical advisory committee at least one representative from the masonry fireplace builders and at least one representative of the factory-built fireplace manufacturers. It shall be the goal of the council to develop design standards that generally achieve reductions in particulate air contaminant emissions commensurate with the reductions being achieved by factory-built fireplaces at the time the standard is established.

(d) Actions of the department and local air pollution control authorities under this section shall preempt actions of other state agencies and local governments for the purposes of controlling air pollution from solid fuel burning devices, except where authorized by this act.

(e) Subsection (1)(a) of this section shall not apply to fireplaces.

(f) Notwithstanding (a) of this subsection, the department is authorized to adopt, by rule, emission standards adopted by the United States environmental protection agency for new wood stoves sold at retail. For solid fuel burning devices for which the United States environmental protection agency has not established emission standards, the department may exempt or establish, by rule, state-wide standards including emission levels and test procedures for such devices and such emission levels and test procedures shall be equivalent to emission levels per pound per hour burned for other new wood stoves and fireplaces regulated under this subsection.

(2) A program to:
(a) Determine whether a new solid fuel burning device complies with the state-wide emission performance standards established in subsection (1) of this section; and
(b) Approve the sale of devices that comply with the state-wide emission performance standards.

Sec. 4. RCW 70.94.460 and 1987 c 405 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

After July 1, 1988, no person shall sell, offer to sell, or knowingly advertise to sell a new wood stove in this state to a resident of this state unless the wood stove has been approved by the department under the program established under RCW 70.94.457."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hochstatter: "Senator Bauer, for purposes of clarification, does the term 'continuous' include a thermal power plant's planned or unplanned shutdown periods? For example, would the shutdown of a plant for maintenance interrupt the 'continuous' nature of the power rating for purposes of the measurement?"

Senator Bauer: "No, the term 'continuous' means or refers to what the plant can sustain over a continuous period of time. This is the performance level which would be certified by the manufacturer for continuous operation of the plant for an extended period of time. So, to respond to your example, planned or unplanned shutdowns for maintenance or other operational reasons would not affect the calculation of the two hundred fifty thousand kilowatts, as that term is defined under this amendment, which would be measured using the continuous power rating, less minimum auxiliary load, at average ambient temperature and pressure."

Senator Hochstatter: "Does then that whole phrase 'maximum continuous electric generating capacity' mean the highest possible amount of electric generation the plant is capable of achieving?"

Senator Bauer: "No, the phrase 'maximum continuous electric generation capacity' means the electric generating level that the plant can sustain when operated at the performance level guaranteed by the electric generating equipment manufacturer for continuous operation of the plant for an extended period of time."

Senator Hochstatter: "Also, for purposes of clarification, does the term 'plant' mean only the electric generating equipment?"

Senator Bauer: "No, the term 'plant' means the entire electric generation facility, including all associated facilities, together with all integrated control devices."

Senator Hochstatter: "For further clarification, is that a specific location at which the electric generation capacity is 'measured' as referenced in the statute?"

Senator Bauer: "Yes, the term 'measured' means at the plant interconnect with the electric distribution system to which the plant supplies electricity."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of House Bill No. 1761.

Recognizing veterans of World War II.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Sheldon, the following Committee on Government Operations amendment was adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature intends to remember the thousands of men and women from Washington state who served in World War II. This year, nineteen hundred and ninety-five, marks the fiftieth anniversary of the end of World War II and yet there is no monument on the state capitol campus to specifically recognize the dedication of the men and women of this state who served or were wounded, killed, or missing in action during World War II. These brave people should be recognized for their dedication to freedom and bravery that brought a victorious end to the war. The legislature pledges strong support for a war memorial on the state capitol campus to honor all those who served in the armed forces during World War II.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. (1) The sum of fifty thousand dollars, or as much thereof as may be necessary, is appropriated for the biennium ending June 30, 1997, from the state general fund to the department of veterans affairs for the purpose of erecting a monument on the state capitol campus to honor and thank all who served during World War II.

(2) Prior to expending the appropriation the department of veterans affairs shall convene an advisory committee to make recommendations to the department on the type, size, and cost of the memorial and recommend a site on the capitol campus, subject to approval of the state capitol committee, for the memorial. The advisory committee shall consist of eleven members: Two from the house of representatives, one from each caucus; two from the senate, one from each caucus; one member appointed by the governor; and six public members representing veterans or veteran organizations. Members of the advisory committee shall not be compensated or reimbursed for any expenses incurred by attending advisory committee meetings."

On motion of Senator Sheldon, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 1 of the title, after "veterans;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "creating a new section; and making an appropriation."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Sheldon, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1527, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McCaslin: "Senator Sheldon, I am curious about why it says, 'Members of the advisory Committee shall not be compensated or reimbursed for any expenses.' That would pretty well leave any Eastern Washington legislators off this committee, I assume. Senator Prentice agrees with me."

Senator Sheldon: "Well, I certainly am sure they didn't want to slight any Eastern Washington legislators. I would assume, Senator, that this is following the lines of the earlier memorial for the Korean conflict and the Asian conflict--that they used the same guidelines--but I am sure they would be happy to consider you."

Senator McCaslin: "Oh, no, no, I am not interested, believe me, even if they compensated me. I served my time in World War II, along with Senator Oke, and I really do not want to serve any more time going over the war stories that most of us pass along. Anyway, I just wanted to bring that up. You've excluded Eastern Washington veterans from coming and serving on that committee, because we really can't afford to fly over here, especially when we have to give up our free mileage, you know."

Senator Sheldon: "Thank you for mentioning it. You know, possibly, they could meet either at the mountains or the pass or maybe in Eastern Washington and maybe take turns meeting back and forth."

Senator McCaslin: "If they could meet on South Sullivan, I would even be happier. Thank you."

Senator Sheldon: "You are welcome."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1527, as amended by the Senate.

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1527, as amended by the Senate, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 44; Nays, 0; Absent, 0; Excused, 5.

Excused: Senators Anderson, C., Cantu, Franklin, McDonald and Moyer - 5.

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1527, as amended by the Senate, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

MOTION

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1821, by House Committee on Commerce and Labor (originally sponsored by Representatives Kessler, Buck, Quall, Carlson, Casada and Basich)

Modifying unemployment compensation for persons employed under public employment contracts.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Pelz, the following Committee on Labor, Commerce and Trade amendment was adopted:
Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

(1) For the purpose of payment of contributions, "wages" means the remuneration paid by one employer during any calendar year to an individual in its employment under this title or the unemployment compensation law of any other state in the amount specified in RCW 50.24.010. If an employer (hereinafter referred to as a successor employer) during any calendar year acquires substantially all the operating assets of another employer (hereinafter referred to as a predecessor employer) or assets used in a separate unit of a trade or business of a predecessor employer, and immediately after the acquisition employs in the individual's trade or business an individual who immediately before the acquisition was employed in the trade or business of the predecessor employer, then, for the purposes of determining the amount of remuneration paid by the successor employer to the individual during the calendar year which is subject to contributions, any remuneration paid to the individual by the predecessor employer during that calendar year and before the acquisition shall be considered as having been paid by the successor employer.

(2) For the purpose of payment of benefits, "wages" means the remuneration paid by one or more employers to an individual for employment under this title during his base year: PROVIDED, That at the request of a claimant, wages may be calculated on the basis of remuneration payable. The department shall notify each claimant that wages are calculated on the basis of remuneration paid, but at the claimant's request a redetermination may be performed and based on remuneration payable.

(3) For the purpose of payment of benefits and payment of contributions, the term "wages" includes tips which are received after January 1, 1987, while performing services which constitute employment, and which are reported to the employer for federal income tax purposes.

(4)(a) "Remuneration" means all compensation paid for personal services including commissions and bonuses and the cash value of all compensation paid in any medium other than cash. The reasonable cash value of compensation paid in any medium other than cash and the reasonable value of gratuities shall be estimated and determined in accordance with rules prescribed by the commissioner. Remuneration does not include payments to members of a reserve component of the armed forces of the United States, including the organized militia of the state of Washington, for the performance of duty for periods not exceeding seventy-two hours at a time.

(b) Previously accrued compensation, other than severance pay or payments received pursuant to plant closure agreements, when assigned to a specific period of time by virtue of a collective bargaining agreement, individual employment contract, customary trade practice, or request of the individual compensated, shall be considered remuneration for the period to which it is assigned. Assignment clearly occurs when the compensation serves to make the individual eligible for all regular fringe benefits for the period to which the compensation is assigned.

(c) Settlements or other proceeds received by an individual as a result of a negotiated settlement for termination of an employment contract with a public agency prior to its expiration date shall be considered remuneration. The proceeds shall be deemed assigned in the same intervals and in the same amount for each interval as compensation was allocated under the contract.

(d) Except as provided in (c) of this subsection, the provisions of this ((section)) subsection (4) pertaining to the assignment of previously accrued compensation shall not apply to individuals subject to RCW 50.44.050.

Sec. 2. RCW 50.44.050 and 1990 c 33 s 587 are each amended to read as follows:

Except as otherwise provided in subsections (1) through (4) of this section, benefits based on services in employment covered by or pursuant to this chapter shall be payable on the same terms and subject to the same conditions as compensation payable on the basis of other service subject to this title.

(1) Benefits based on service in an instructional, research or principal administrative capacity for an educational institution shall not be paid to an individual for any week of unemployment which commences during the period between two successive academic years or terms within an academic year (or, when an agreement provides instead for a similar period between two regular but not successive terms within an academic year, during such period) if such individual performs such services in the first of such academic years or terms and if there is a contract or reasonable assurance that such individual will perform services in any such capacity for any educational institution in the second of such academic years or terms. Any employee of a common school district who is presumed to be reemployed pursuant to RCW 28A.405.210 shall be deemed to have a contract for the ensuing term.

(2) Benefits shall not be paid based on services in any other capacity for an educational institution for any week of unemployment which commences during the period between two successive academic years or terms within an academic year, if such individual performs such services in the first of such academic years or terms and there is a reasonable assurance that such individual will perform such services in the second of such academic years or terms: PROVIDED, That if benefits are denied to any individual under this subsection and that individual was not offered an opportunity to perform such services for the educational institution for the second of such academic years or terms, the individual is entitled to a retroactive payment of benefits for each week for which the individual filed a timely claim for benefits and for which benefits were denied solely by reason of this subsection.

(3) Benefits shall not be paid based on any services described in subsections (1) and (2) of this section for any week of unemployment which commences during an established and customary vacation period or holiday recess if such individual performs such services in the period immediately before such vacation period or holiday recess, and there is a reasonable assurance that such individual will perform such services in the period immediately following such vacation period or holiday recess.

(4) Benefits shall not be paid (as specified in subsections (1), (2), or (3) of this section) based on any services described in subsections (1) or (2) of this section to any individual who performed such services in an educational institution while in the employ of an educational service district which is established pursuant to chapter 28A.310 RCW and exists to provide services to local school districts.

(5) As used in subsections (1) and (2) of this section, "academic year" includes fall, winter, spring, and summer quarters and comparable semesters unless, based upon objective criteria including enrollment and staffing, the quarter or comparable semester is not in fact a part of the academic year for the particular institution.

Sec. 3. RCW 50.44.053 and 1985 ex.s. c 5 s 9 are each amended to read as follows:

The term "reasonable assurance," as used in RCW 50.44.050, means a written, verbal, or implied agreement that the employee will perform services in the same capacity during the ensuing academic year or term as in the first academic year or term, provided that the agreement is not contingent on enrollment, funding, or program changes. A person shall not be deemed to be performing services "in the same capacity" unless those services are rendered under the same terms or conditions of employment in the ensuing year as in the first academic year or term.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately."

On page 1, line 2 of the title, after "contracts;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "amending RCW 50.04.320, 50.44.050, and 50.44.053; and declaring an emergency."

(a) The legislature recognizes that the compact language contained in this subsection is inadequate to meet many forms of emergencies. For this reason, after June 7, 1984, the state may not enter into any additional compacts under this subsection (2)(a).

AND DISASTER COMPACT

The contracting States solemnly agree:

Article 1. The purpose of this compact is to provide mutual aid among the States in meeting any emergency or disaster from enemy attack or other cause (natural or otherwise) including sabotage and subversive acts and direct attacks by bombs, shellfire, and atomic, radiological, chemical, bacteriological means, and other weapons. The prompt, full and effective utilization of the resources of the respective States, including such resources as may be available from the United States Government or any other source, are essential to the safety, care and welfare of the people thereof in the event of enemy action or other emergency, and any other resources, including personnel, equipment or supplies, shall be incorporated into a plan or plans of mutual aid to be developed among the civil defense agencies or similar bodies of the States that are parties hereto. The Directors of Civil Defense (Emergency Services) of all party States shall constitute a committee to formulate plans and take all necessary steps for the implementation of this compact.

Article 2. It shall be the duty of each party State to formulate civil defense plans and programs for application within such State. There shall be frequent consultation between the representatives of the States and with the United States Government and the free exchange of information and plans, including inventories of any materials and equipment available for civil defense. In carrying out such civil defense plans and programs the party States shall so far as possible provide and follow uniform standards, practices and rules and regulations including:

- (a) Insignia, arm bands and any other distinctive articles to designate and distinguish the different civil defense services;
- (b) Blackouts and practice blackouts, air raid drills, mobilization of civil defense forces and other tests and exercises;
- (c) Warnings and signals for drills or attacks and the mechanical devices to be used in connection therewith;
- (d) The effective screening or extinguishing of all lights and lighting devices and appliances;
- (e) Shutting off water mains, gas mains, electric power connections and the suspension of all other utility services;
- (f) All materials or equipment used or to be used for civil defense purposes in order to assure that such materials and equipment will be easily and freely interchangeable when used in or by any other party State;
- (g) The conduct of civilians and the movement and cessation of movement of pedestrians and vehicular traffic, prior, during, and subsequent to drills or attacks;
- (h) The safety of public meetings or gatherings; and
- (i) Mobile support units.

Article 3. Any party State requested to render mutual aid shall take such action as is necessary to provide and make available the resources covered by this compact in accordance with the terms hereof; provided that it is understood that the State rendering aid may withhold resources to the extent necessary to provide reasonable protection for such State. Each party State shall extend to the civil defense forces of any other party State, while operating within its State limits under the terms and conditions of this compact, the same powers (except that of arrest unless specifically authorized by the receiving State), duties, rights, privileges and immunities as if they were performing their duties in the State in which normally employed or rendering services. Civil defense forces will continue under the command and control of their regular leaders but the organizational units will come under the operational control of the civil defense authorities of the State receiving assistance.

Article 4. Whenever any person holds a license, certificate or other permit issued by any State evidencing the meeting of qualifications for professional, mechanical or other skills, such person may render aid involving such skill in any party State to meet an emergency or disaster and such State shall give due recognition to such license, certificate or other permit as if issued in the State in which aid is rendered.

Article 5. No party State or its officers or employees rendering aid in another State pursuant to this compact shall be liable on account of any act or omission in good faith on the part of such forces while so engaged, or on account of the maintenance or use of any equipment or supplies in connection therewith.

Article 6. Inasmuch as it is probable that the pattern and detail of the machinery for mutual aid among two or more states may differ from that appropriate among other States party hereto, this instrument contains elements of a broad base common to all States, and nothing herein contained shall preclude any State from entering into supplementary agreements with another State or States. Such supplementary agreements may comprehend, but shall not be limited to, provisions for evacuation and reception of injured and other persons, and the exchange of medical, fire, police, public utility, reconnaissance, welfare, transportation and communications personnel, equipment and supplies.

Article 7. Each party State shall provide for the payment of compensation and death benefits to injured members of the civil defense forces of that State and the representatives of deceased members of such forces in case such members sustain injuries or are killed while rendering aid pursuant to this compact, in the same manner and on the same terms as if the injury or death were sustained within such State.

Article 8. Any party State rendering aid in another State pursuant to this compact shall be reimbursed by the party State receiving such aid for any loss or damage to, or expense incurred in the operation of any equipment answering a request for aid, and for the cost incurred in connection with such requests; provided, that any aiding State may assume in whole or in part such loss, damage, expense, or other cost, or may loan such equipment or donate such services to the receiving party State without charge or cost; and provided further that any two or more party States may enter into supplementary agreements establishing a different allocation of costs as among those States. The United States Government may relieve the party State receiving aid from any liability and reimburse the party State supplying civil defense forces for the compensation paid to and the transportation, subsistence and maintenance expenses of such forces during the time of the rendition of such aid or assistance outside the State and may also pay fair and reasonable compensation for the use or utilization of the supplies, materials, equipment or facilities so utilized or consumed.

Article 9. Plans for the orderly evacuation and reception of the civilian population as the result of an emergency or disaster shall be worked out from time to time between representatives of the party States and the various local civil defense areas thereof. Such plans shall include the manner of transporting such evacuees, the number of evacuees to be received in different areas, the manner in which food, clothing, housing, and medical care will be provided, the registration of the evacuees, the providing of facilities for the notification of relatives or friends and the forwarding of such evacuees to other areas or the bringing in of additional materials, supplies, and all other relevant factors. Such plans shall provide that the party State receiving evacuees shall be reimbursed generally for the out-of-pocket expenses incurred in receiving and caring for such evacuees, for expenditures for transportation, food, clothing, medicines and medical care and like items. Such expenditures shall be reimbursed by the party State of which the evacuees are residents, or by the United States Government under plans approved by it. After the termination of the emergency or disaster the party State of which the evacuees are resident shall assume the responsibility for the ultimate support or repatriation of such evacuees.

Article 10. This compact shall be available to any State, territory or possession of the United States, and the District of Columbia. The term "State" may also include any neighboring foreign country or province or state thereof.

Article 11. The committee established pursuant to Article 1 of this compact may request the Civil Defense Agency of the United States Government to act as an informational and coordinating body under this compact, and representatives of such agency of the United States Government may attend meetings of such committee.

Article 12. This compact shall become operative immediately upon its ratification by any State as between it and any other State or States so ratifying and shall be subject to approval by Congress unless prior Congressional approval has been given. Duly authenticated copies of this compact and of such supplementary agreements as may be entered into shall, at the time of their approval, be deposited with each of the party States and with the Civil Defense Agency and other appropriate agencies of the United States Government.

Article 13. This compact shall continue in force and remain binding on each party State until the legislature or the Governor of such party State takes action to withdraw therefrom. Such action shall not be effective until 30 days after notice thereof has been sent by the Governor of the party State desiring to withdraw to the Governors of all other party States.

Article 14. This compact shall be construed to effectuate the purposes stated in Article 1 hereof. If any provision of this compact is declared unconstitutional, or the applicability thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the constitutionality of the remainder of this compact and the applicability thereof to other persons and circumstances shall not be effected thereby.

Article 15. (a) This Article shall be in effect only as among those states which have enacted it into law or in which the Governors have adopted it pursuant to constitutional or statutory authority sufficient to give it the force of law as part of this compact. Nothing contained in this Article or in any supplementary agreement made in implementation thereof shall be construed to abridge, impair or supersede any other provision of this compact or any obligation undertaken by a State pursuant thereto, except that if its terms so provide, a supplementary agreement in implementation of this Article may modify, expand or add to any such obligation as among the parties to the supplementary agreement.

(b) In addition to the occurrences, circumstances and subject matters to which preceding articles of this compact make it applicable, this compact and the authorizations, entitlements and procedures thereof shall apply to:

1. Searches for and rescue of person who are lost, marooned, or otherwise in danger.
2. Action useful in coping with disasters arising from any cause or designed to increase the capability to cope with any such disasters.
3. Incidents, or the imminence thereof, which endanger the health or safety of the public and which require the use of special equipment, trained personnel or personnel in larger numbers than are locally available in order to reduce, counteract or remove the danger.
4. The giving and receiving of aid by subdivisions of party States.
5. Exercises, drills or other training or practice activities designed to aid personnel to prepare for, cope with or prevent any disaster or other emergency to which this compact applies.

(c) Except as expressly limited by this compact or a supplementary agreement in force pursuant thereto, any aid authorized by this compact or such supplementary agreement may be furnished by any agency of a party State, a subdivision of such State, or by a joint agency providing such aid shall be entitled to reimbursement therefor to the same extent and in the same manner as a State. The personnel of such a joint agency, when rendering aid pursuant to this compact shall have the same rights, authority and immunity as personnel of party States.

(d) Nothing in this Article shall be construed to exclude from the coverage of Articles 1-15 of this compact any matter which, in the absence of this Article, could reasonably be construed to be covered thereby.

(b) The compact language contained in this subsection (2)(b) is intended to deal comprehensively with emergencies requiring assistance from other states.

INTERSTATE MUTUAL AID COMPACT

Purpose

The purpose of this Compact is to provide voluntary assistance among participating states in responding to any disaster or imminent disaster, that over extends the ability of local and state governments to reduce, counteract or remove the danger. Assistance may include, but not be limited to, rescue, fire, police, medical, communication, transportation services and facilities to cope with problems which require use of special equipment, trained personnel or personnel in large numbers not locally available.

Authorization

Article I, Section 10 of the Constitution of the United States permits a state to enter into an agreement or compact with another state, subject to the consent of Congress. Congress, through enactment of Title 50 U.S.C. Sections 2281(g), 2283 and the Executive Department, by issuance of Executive Orders No. 10186 of December 1, 1950, encourages the states to enter into emergency, disaster and civil defense mutual aid agreements or pacts.

Implementation

It is agreed by participating states that the following conditions will guide implementation of the Compact:

1. Participating states through their designated officials are authorized to request and to receive assistance from a participating state. Requests will be granted only if the requesting state is committed to the mitigation of the emergency, and other resources are not immediately available.

2. Requests for assistance may be verbal or in writing. If the request is made by other than written communication, it shall be confirmed in writing as soon as practical after the request. A written request shall provide an itemization of equipment and operators, types of expertise, personnel or other resources needed. Each request must be signed by an authorized official.

3. Personnel and equipment of the aiding party made available to the requesting party shall, whenever possible, remain under the control and direction of the aiding party. The activities of personnel and equipment of the aiding party must be coordinated by the requesting party.

4. An aiding state shall have the right to withdraw some or all of their personnel and/or equipment whenever the personnel or equipment are needed by that state. Notice of intention to withdraw should be communicated to the requesting party as soon as possible.

General Fiscal Provisions

The state government of the requesting party shall reimburse the state government of the aiding party. It is understood that reimbursement shall be made as soon as possible after the receipt by the requesting party of an itemized voucher requesting reimbursement of costs.

1. Any party rendering aid pursuant to this Agreement shall be reimbursed by the state receiving such aid for any damage to, loss of, or expense incurred in the operation of any equipment used in responding to a request for aid, and for the cost incurred in connection with such requests.

2. Any state rendering aid pursuant to this Agreement shall be reimbursed by the state receiving such aid for the cost of payment of compensation and death benefits to injured officers, agents, or employees and their dependents or representatives in the event such officers, agents, or employees sustain injuries or are killed while rendering aid pursuant to this arrangement, provided that such payments are made in the same manner and on the same terms as if the injury or death were sustained within such state.

Privileges and Immunities

1. All privileges and immunities from liability, exemptions from law, ordinances, rules, all pension, relief disability, workers' compensation, and other benefits which apply to the activity of officers, agents, or employees when performing their respective functions within the territorial limits of their respective political subdivisions, shall apply to them to the same degree and extent while engaged in the performance of any of their functions and duties extra-territorially under the provisions of this Agreement.

2. All privileges and immunities from liability, exemptions from law, ordinances, and rules, workers' compensation and other benefits which apply to duly enrolled or registered volunteers when performing their respective functions at the request of their state and within its territorial limits, shall apply to the same degree and extent while performing their functions extra-territorially under the provisions of this Agreement. Volunteers may include, but not be limited to, physicians, surgeons, nurses, dentists, structural engineers, and trained search and rescue volunteers.

3. The signatory states, their political subdivisions, municipal corporations and other public agencies shall hold harmless the corresponding entities and personnel thereof from the other state with respect to the acts and omissions of its own agents and employees that occur while providing assistance pursuant to the common plan.

4. Nothing in this arrangement shall be construed as repealing or impairing any existing Interstate Mutual Aid Agreements.

5. Upon enactment of this Agreement by two or more states, and by January 1, annually thereafter, the participating states will exchange with each other the names of officials designated to request and/or provide services under this arrangement. In accordance with the cooperative nature of this arrangement, it shall be permissible and desirable for the parties to exchange operational procedures to be followed in requesting assistance and reimbursing expenses.

6. This compact shall enter into force and become effective and binding upon the states so acting when it has been enacted into law by any two states. Thereafter, this compact shall enter into force and become effective and binding as to any other of said states upon similar action by such state.

7. This compact shall continue in force and remain binding upon a party state until it shall have enacted a statute repealing the same and providing for the sending of formal written notice of withdrawal from the compact to the appropriate official of all other party states. An actual withdrawal shall not take effect until the thirtieth consecutive day after the notice provided in the statute has been sent. Such withdrawal shall not relieve the withdrawing state from its obligations assumed hereunder prior to the effective date of withdrawal.

Sec. 4. RCW 38.52.420 and 1994 c 264 s 11 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The department (~~(of community, trade, and economic development)~~), in consultation with appropriate federal agencies, the departments of natural resources, fish and wildlife, and ecology, representatives of local government, and any other person the director may deem appropriate, shall develop a model contingency plan, consistent with other plans required for hazardous materials by federal and state law, to serve as a draft plan for local governments which may be incorporated into the state and local emergency management plans.

(2) The model contingency plan shall:

(a) Include specific recommendations for pollution control facilities which are deemed to be most appropriate for the control, collection, storage, treatment, disposal, and recycling of oil and other spilled material and furthering the prevention and mitigation of such pollution;

(b) Include recommendations for the training of local personnel consistent with other training proposed, funded, or required by federal or state laws for hazardous materials;

(c) Suggest cooperative training exercises between the public and private sector consistent with other training proposed, funded, or required by federal or state laws for hazardous materials;

(d) Identify federal and state laws requiring contingency or management plans applicable or related to prevention of pollution, emergency response capabilities, and hazardous waste management, together with a list of funding sources that local governments may use in development of their specific plans;

(e) Promote formal agreements between the department (~~(of community, trade, and economic development)~~) and local entities for effective spill response; and

(f) Develop policies and procedures for the augmentation of emergency services and agency spill response personnel through the use of volunteers: PROVIDED, That no contingency plan may require the use of volunteers by a responding responsible party without that party's consent.

Sec. 5. RCW 38.54.010 and 1992 c 117 s 9 are each amended to read as follows:

Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

When mobilization is declared and authorized as provided in this chapter, all fire fighting resources except those of the host fire protection authorities, i.e. incident jurisdiction, shall be deemed as mobilized under this chapter, including those that responded earlier under existing mutual aid or other agreement. All nonhost fire protection authorities providing fire fighting resources in response to a mobilization declaration shall be eligible for expense reimbursement as provided by this chapter from the time of the mobilization declaration.

- (1) Provide the policy and organizational structure for large scale mobilization of fire fighting resources in the state through creation of the Washington state fire services mobilization plan;
- (2) Confer upon the director (~~of the department of community development~~) the powers provided herein; and
- (3) Provide a means for reimbursement to fire jurisdictions that incur expenses when mobilized by the director under the Washington state fire services mobilization plan.

It is the intent of the legislature that mutual aid and other interlocal agreements providing for enhanced emergency response be encouraged as essential to the public peace, safety, health, and welfare, and for the protection of the lives and property of the people of the state of Washington. If possible, mutual aid agreements should be without stated limitations as to resources available, time, or area. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed or interpreted to limit the eligibility of any nonhost fire protection authority for reimbursement of expenses incurred in providing fire fighting resources for mobilization.

The office shall negotiate an agreement with the coast guard governing procedures for coast guard notification to the state regarding disabled covered vessels and collisions and near miss incidents.

(3) The office shall prepare a summary of the information collected under this section and provide the summary to the regional marine safety committees, the coast guard, and others in order to identify problems with the marine transportation system.

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 77.12.265 and 1987 c 506 s 35 are each amended to read as follows:

The owner, the owner's immediate family member, the owner's documented employee, or tenant of real property may trap or kill on that property, without the licenses required under RCW 77.32.010, wild animals or wild birds, other than an endangered species, that ((is)) are damaging crops, domestic animals, fowl, or other property. Except in emergency situations, deer, elk, and protected wildlife shall not be killed without a permit issued and conditioned by the director. The director may delegate this authority.

For the purposes of this section, "emergency" means an unforeseen circumstance beyond the control of the landowner or tenant that presents a real and immediate threat to crops, domestic animals, fowl, or other property.

Alternatively, when sufficient time for the issuance of a permit by the director is not available, verbal permission may be given by the appropriate department regional administrator to owners or tenants of real property to trap or kill on that property any deer, elk, or protected wildlife which is damaging crops, domestic animals, fowl, or other property. The regional administrator may delegate, in writing, a member of the regional staff to give the required permission in these emergency situations. Nothing in this section authorizes in any situation the trapping, hunting, or killing of an endangered species.

Except for coyotes and Columbian ground squirrels, wildlife trapped or killed under this section remain((s)) the property of the state, and the person trapping or killing the wildlife shall notify the department immediately. The director shall dispose of wildlife so taken within three working days of receiving such a notification.

If the department receives recurring complaints regarding property being damaged as described in this section from the owner or tenant of real property, or receives such complaints from several such owners or tenants in a locale, the commission shall consider conducting a special hunt or special hunts to reduce the potential for such damage.

For purposes of this section, "crop" means an agricultural or horticultural product growing or harvested and includes wild shrubs and range land vegetation on privately owned cattle ranching lands. On such lands, the land owner or lessee may declare an emergency when the department has not responded within forty-eight hours after having been contacted by the land owner or lessee regarding crop damage by wild animals or wild birds. However, the department shall not allow claims for damage to wild shrubs or range land vegetation on such lands.

Deer and elk shall not be killed under the authority of this section on privately owned cattle ranching lands that were closed to public hunting during the previous hunting season, except for land closures which are coordinated with the department to protect property and livestock.
