(7) Work in partnership with the work related components of the community service employment under Title V of the Older Americans act; training activities carried out through contracts with the United States department of housing and urban development; and community services block grants authorized under the national community service act, to integrate these programs into the unified planning. The governor may approve inclusion of these programs into the work force development system.
(8) Review and make recommendations to the governor and the legislature concerning the program plans of the operating agencies of the state work force development system regarding consistency with the unified plan.

(9) Recommend to the governor and the legislature strategies to assure coordination and avoid duplication among the programs of the work force development system.

(10) Design and implement a performance measurement system for work force development in cooperation with the operating agencies, including:

(a) Minimum standards for performance measurement for the state work force development system including, but not limited to, the use of common survey instruments and common performance indicators;

(b) Standards for data collection and maintenance for the operating agencies of the state work force development system. The board shall require a minimum of common core data to be collected by each operating agency of the state work force development system;

(c) Evaluations of the state work force development system including, but not limited to, outcome, net impact, and cost benefit evaluations and surveys of program participants, surveys of employers of program participants, and matches with employment security department payroll and wage files;

(d) Standards for measuring the performance of local training providers to enable consumers to make informed choices and gain access to services they need;

(e) Recommendations to the governor and the legislature regarding expected performance levels and incentives and sanctions for performance outcomes for local work force development areas and state work force development programs. The board shall assist the governor in making decisions regarding the certification and decertification of local work force development councils;

(f) The establishment of an incentive fund for work force development, using federal funding for work force development programs, and allocating dollars from the incentive fund to reward local work force development councils and programs that produce exemplary results. The operating agencies shall:

(i) Reward exceptional programs;

(ii) Take corrective actions when programs fail to meet minimum performance standards established by the board under this section; and

(iii) Report to the board annually beginning December 31, 2001, on corrective action taken and rewards granted.

Beginning July 1, 2002, the board shall report to the governor and the legislature on operating agencies’ actions to reward exceptional programs and to correct and improve programs that fail to meet performance standards established by the board;

(g) Information, provided to the governor and the legislature, on the outcomes of work force development programs. Such information shall include the following information on individuals who have participated in the programs: Participant competencies, employment, wages and earnings, receipt of public assistance, customer satisfaction, and the public cost per benefit received; and

(h) When designing and implementing the performance measurement system under this subsection, the unique circumstances of the K-12 system shall be taken into consideration.

(11) Review the plans of local work force development councils for consistency with the state unified plan and recommend to the governor whether local plans should be approved. The board shall provide technical assistance to local work force development councils as necessary. This shall include working with state operating agencies to identify resources which can be made available to assist in the development of the local unified plans.

(12) Work with local work force development councils and state operating agencies to implement a one stop delivery system that is seamless and consumer-based.

(13) For the purposes of enabling individuals to make smooth transitions into the work force and back and forth between work force development programs and employment, make recommendations regarding generic workplace skills that individuals need in order to meet employer expectations. The work force development board shall, in cooperation with the operating agencies, identify assessments of generic workplace skills and a certificate of workplace competency for individuals who have mastered such skills. Operating agencies, with programs that prepare people for entry-level employment, shall offer training leading to the receipt of the certificate. The certificate shall be recognized by operating agencies and among work force development programs to avoid redundancy in training.

(14) Administer veterans’ programs, licensure of private vocational schools, and the Washington award for vocational excellence.

(15) Work with the director of community, trade, and economic development to ensure coordination between work force training priorities and that department’s economic development efforts.

(16) Work in collaboration with local work force development councils, small business organizations, and economic development councils to create a coordinated and responsive system of outreach to small business.
(17) Consult with programs, and the customers of programs in the work force development system, in performing the board's duties.

(18) Complete the initial unified plan, program inventory, needs assessments, outcome evaluations, recommendations on strategies to assure coordination and avoid duplication, and the design of the performance measurement system by July 1, 2000. The board shall update the unified plan at least once every five years with more frequent updates as necessary to respond to changes in employer and worker needs, program performance, state and federal policy, and other changes affecting the work force development system.

(19) Adopt rules as necessary to implement this chapter.

Sec. 8. RCW 74.08A.280 and 1997 c 58 s 315 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The legislature finds that moving those eligible for assistance to self-sustaining employment is a goal of the WorkFirst program. It is the intent of WorkFirst to aid a participant's progress to self-sufficiency by allowing flexibility within the state-wide program to reflect community resources, the local characteristics of the labor market, and the composition of the caseload. Program success will be enhanced through effective coordination at regional and local levels, involving employers, labor representatives, educators, community leaders, local governments, and social service providers.

(2) The department, through its regional offices, shall collaborate with employers, recipients, frontline workers, educational institutions, labor, (private industry councils) local work force development councils, the work force (training and education coordinating) development board, community rehabilitation employment programs, employment and training agencies, local governments, the employment security department, and community action agencies to develop work programs that are effective and work in their communities. This collaboration by the department shall include placement of WorkFirst recipients in training and skill development programs leading to the portable certificate of workplace competency as identified by the work force development board. For planning purposes, the department shall collect and make accessible to regional offices successful work program models from around the United States, including the employment partnership program, apprenticeship programs, microcredit, microenterprise, self-employment, and W-2 Wisconsin works. Work programs shall incorporate local volunteer citizens in their planning and implementation phases to ensure community relevance and success.

(3) To reduce administrative costs and to ensure equal state-wide access to services, the department may develop contracts for state-wide welfare-to-work services. These state-wide contracts shall support regional flexibility and ensure that resources follow local labor market opportunities and recipients' needs.

(4) The secretary shall establish WorkFirst service areas for purposes of planning WorkFirst programs and for distributing WorkFirst resources. Service areas shall reflect department regions.

(5) By July 31st of each odd-numbered year, a plan for the WorkFirst program shall be developed for each region. The plan shall be prepared in consultation with local and regional sources, adapting the state-wide WorkFirst program to achieve maximum effect for the participants and the communities within which they reside. Local consultation shall include to the greatest extent possible input from local and regional planning bodies for social services and work force development. The regional and local administrator shall consult with employers of various sizes, labor representatives, training and education providers, program participants, economic development organizations, community organizations, tribes, and local governments in the preparation of the service area plan.

(6) The secretary has final authority in plan approval or modification. Regional program implementation may deviate from the state-wide program if specified in a service area plan, as approved by the secretary.

Sec. 9. RCW 74.08A.410 and 1997 c 58 s 702 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The WorkFirst program shall develop outcome measures for use in evaluating the WorkFirst program authorized in chapter 58, Laws of 1997, which (may) shall include but are not limited to:

   (a) Caseload reduction;
   (b) Recidivism to caseload after two years;
   (c) Job retention;
   (d) Earnings;
   (e) Reduction in average grant through increased recipient earnings; (and)
   (f) Placement of recipients into private sector, unsubsidized jobs; and
   (g) Wage progression history following former temporary assistance for needy families participants for at least two years.

(2) The department shall establish, in conjunction with the work force development board, measurable wage goals for participants transitioning from WorkFirst to unsubsidized employment.

(3) The department shall require that contractors for WorkFirst services collect outcome measure information and report outcome measures to the department regularly. The department shall develop benchmarks that compare outcome measure
NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. A new section is added to chapter 28C.18 RCW to read as follows:

There are hereby created local work force development councils to serve functions including, but not limited to, those specified for local work force development councils under P.L. 105-220. The governor, in partnership with the state board, shall establish criteria for use by chief elected officials in the local areas for appointment of members of the local councils. Local work force development councils shall:

(1) In partnership with local elected officials, develop and maintain a local unified plan for the work force development system including but not limited to the local plan required by P.L. 105-220 Title I. The unified plan shall include assessments of local employment opportunities and skills needs, the current and future work force, and the current work force development system; and include goals, objectives, and strategies for the local work force development system. The unified plan shall also:
   (a) Identify the work force development moneys available in the area, their allocations, and the results of the work force development programs in the area;
   (b) Assess the gap between the supply of resources and the skill needs of the area; and
   (c) Include the local work force development council's proposed spending plan for carrying out the local unified plan, and include the planned budget expenditures of work force development programs in the area. Local program administrators shall use the local unified plan to guide the development and implementation of their local program plan.

Local work force development councils shall submit their unified plans to the governor for approval and the plan should be consistent with the state unified plan.

(2) Conduct oversight over the local one stop system under P.L. 105-220 Title 1(b).

(3) Coordinate work force development activities at the local level and ensure a linkage with local economic development strategies.

(4) Provide for a coordinated and responsive system of outreach to employers to include the establishment of public and private partnerships of local brokers to connect small businesses to work force training programs and resources. Brokers may include, but not be limited to, industry and trade associations, chambers of commerce, central labor councils, other labor organizations, and other organizations with strong linkages to employers. Broker services may include communicating small business needs to training providers, pooling the specific training needs of several small employers to create cost-effective demand, and supporting the growth of apprenticeship programs.

(5) Identify eligible providers of training services.

(6) Assess the planning process to identify quality improvements.

(7) Execute a master partnership agreement with local elected officials that establishes the working relationships and specifies responsibilities of each body in the partnership.

Sec. 11. RCW 43.330.080 and 1997 c 60 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The department shall contract with associate development organizations or other local organizations to increase the support for and coordination of community and economic development services in communities or regional areas. The organizations contracted with in each community or regional area shall be broadly representative of community and economic interests. The organization shall be capable of identifying key economic and community development problems, developing appropriate solutions, and mobilizing broad support for recommended initiatives. The contracting organization shall work with and include local governments, local chambers of commerce, local work force development councils, port districts, labor groups, institutions of higher education, community action programs, and other community and economic development groups. The department shall be responsible for determining the scope of services delivered under these contracts.

(2) Associate development organizations or other local development organizations contracted with shall promote and coordinate, through local service agreements with local governments, small business development centers, port districts, community and technical colleges, private industry councils, and other development organizations, for the efficient delivery of community and economic development services in their areas.

(3) The department shall (consult with associate development organizations, port districts, local governments, and other local development organizations in the establishment of) establish local service delivery regions throughout the state that match the regions established for local work force development councils. The legislature encourages local associate development organizations to form partnerships with other associate development organizations in their region to combine resources for better access to available services, to encourage regional delivery of state services, and to build the local capacity of communities in the region more effectively.

(4) The department shall contract on a regional basis for surveys of key sectors of the regional economy and the coordination of technical assistance to businesses and employees within the key sectors. The department's selection of contracting organizations or consortiums shall be based on the sufficiency of the organization's or consortium's proposal to examine key sectors of the local economy within its region adequately and its ability to coordinate the delivery of services required by businesses within the targeted sectors. Organizations contracting with the department shall work closely with the department to examine the local economy and to develop strategies to focus on developing key sectors that show potential for long-term sustainable growth. The contracting organization shall survey businesses and employees in targeted sectors on a periodic basis to gather information on the sector's business needs, expansion plans, relocation decisions, training needs, potential layoffs, financing needs, availability of financing, and other appropriate information about economic trends and specific employer and employee needs in the region.

(5) (The contracting) Any associate development organization or other local organization contracting with the department under this section shall participate with the work force ((training and education coordinating)) development board and local work force development councils, as created in chapter 28C.18 RCW, (and any regional entities designated by that board,) in providing for the coordination of job skills training within ((its region)) local areas. Such participation shall include assistance in the development of a coordinated and responsive system of outreach to employers and technical assistance to brokers as provided in section 10 of this act.

Sec. 12. RCW 50.38.050 and 1993 c 62 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

The department shall have the following duties:

(1) Oversight and management of a state-wide comprehensive labor market and occupational supply and demand information system, including development of a five-year employment forecast for state and labor market areas;

(2) Produce local labor market information packages for the state's counties, including special studies and job impact analyses in support of state and local employment, training, education, and job creation programs, especially activities that prevent job loss, reduce unemployment, and create jobs;

(3) Coordinate with the office of financial management and the office of the forecast council to improve employment estimates by enhancing data on corporate officers, improving business establishment listings, expanding sample for employment estimates, and developing business entry/exit analysis relevant to the generation of occupational and economic forecasts; ((and))

(4) In cooperation with the office of financial management, produce long-term industry and occupational employment forecasts. These forecasts shall be consistent with the official economic and revenue forecast council biennial economic and revenue forecasts; and

(5) Provide labor market information needed for the state work force development board to fulfill its duties under RCW 28C.04.060.

Sec. 13. RCW 50.67.010 and 1991 c 238 s 14 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) (There is hereby created the Washington state job training coordinating council for so long as a state council is required by federal law or regulation as a condition for receipt of federal funds. The council shall perform all duties of state job training coordinating council as specified in the federal job training partnership act, P.L. 97-300, as amended, including the preparation of a coordination and special services plan for a two-year period, consistent with the state comprehensive plan for work force training and education prepared by the work force training and education coordinating board as provided for in RCW 28C.18.060.

(2) The work force training and education coordinating board shall monitor the need for the council as described in subsection (1) of this section, and, if that need no longer exists, propose legislation to terminate the council.)) The duties of the job training coordinating council described in section 122 of P.L. 97-300 shall be performed by the work force development board until July 1, 2000.

(2) This section expires July 1, 2000.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. The department is responsible to prepare the following elements for the program plan required by the work force investment act of 1998 (P.L. 105-220) which include:

(1) Detailed plans required under section 8 of the Wagner-Peyser act (29 U.S.C. 49g);

(2) Assurances that the state will provide, in accordance with section 184 of the work force investment act, for fiscal control and fund accounting procedures that are necessary to ensure the proper disbursement of, and accounting for, funds paid to the state through the allotments made under sections 127 and 132 of the work force investment act;

(3)(a) A description of the methods and factors the state will use in distributing funds to local areas for youth activities and adult employment and training activities under sections 128(b)(3)(B) and 133(b)(3)(B) of the work force investment act, including:

(i) A description of how the individuals and entities represented on the work force development board were involved in determining such methods and factors of distribution; and

(ii) A description of how that state consulted with chief elected officials in local areas throughout the state in determining such distribution; and

(b) Assurances that the funds will be distributed equitably throughout the state, and that no local areas will suffer significant shifts in funding from year to year; and
(c) A description of the formula prescribed by the governor pursuant to section 133(b)(2)(B) of the work force investment act for the allocation of funds to local areas for dislocated worker employment and training activities;

(4) With respect to the one stop delivery systems described in section 134(c) of the work force investment act, a description of the operational strategy of the state for assisting local areas in development and implementation of fully operational one stop delivery systems in the state;

(5) A description of the competitive process to be used by the state to award grants and contracts in the state for activities carried out under the work force investment act;

(6) With respect to the employment and training activities authorized in section 134 of the work force investment act:

(a) The employment and training activities that will be carried out with the funds received by the state through the allotment made under section 132 of the work force investment act;

(b) How the state will provide rapid response activities to dislocated workers from funds reserved under section 133(a)(2) of the work force investment act for such purposes, including the designation of an identifiable state rapid response dislocated worker unit to carry out state-wide rapid response activities; and

(c) With other state operating agencies, how the state will serve the employment and training needs of dislocated workers, including displaced homemakers; low-income individuals, including recipients of public assistance; individuals training for nontraditional employment; and other individuals with multiple barriers to employment, including older individuals and individuals with disabilities;

(7) With respect to youth activities authorized in section 129 of the work force investment act, information:

(a) Describing the state strategy for providing comprehensive services to eligible youth, particularly those eligible youth who are recognized as having significant barriers to employment;

(b) Describing how that state will coordinate the youth activities carried out in the state under section 129 of the work force investment act with the services provided by job corps centers in the state, where such centers exist; and

(c) Describing how the state will coordinate youth activities described in subparagraph (C) of the work force investment act with activities carried out through the youth opportunity grants under section 169 of the work force investment act; and

(8) With respect to all program activities of the department, a description of how department resources are allocated to support the implementation of unified planning by the work force development board and the implementation of local unified plans.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. The department shall receive federal funds authorized under the work force investment act of 1998 (P.L. 105-220) Title 1B and recommend to the governor the allocation of the funds to support this chapter, chapter 28C.18 RCW, and the work force investment act.

Sec. 16. RCW 50.13.060 and 1997 c 409 s 605 and 1997 c 58 s 1004 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) Governmental agencies, including law enforcement agencies, prosecuting agencies, and the executive branch, whether state, local, or federal shall have access to information or records deemed private and confidential under this chapter if the information or records are needed by the agency for official purposes and:

(a) The agency submits an application in writing to the employment security department for the records or information containing a statement of the official purposes for which the information or records are needed and specific identification of the records or information sought from the department; and

(b) The director, commissioner, chief executive, or other official of the agency has verified the need for the specific information in writing either on the application or on a separate document; and

(c) The agency requesting access has served a copy of the application for records or information on the individual or employing unit whose records or information are sought and has provided the department with proof of service. Service shall be made in a manner which conforms to the civil rules of superior court. The requesting agency shall include with the copy of the application a statement to the effect that the individual or employing unit may contact the public records officer of the employment security department to state any objections to the release of the records or information. The employment security department shall not act upon the application of the requesting agency until at least five days after service on the concerned individual or employing unit. The employment security department shall consider any objections raised by the concerned individual or employing unit in deciding whether the requesting agency needs the information or records for official purposes.

(2) The requirements of subsections (1) and (9) of this section shall not apply to the state legislative branch. The state legislature shall have access to information or records deemed private and confidential under this chapter, if the legislature or a legislative committee finds that the information or records are necessary and for official purposes. If the employment security department does not make information or records available as provided in this subsection, the legislature may exercise its authority granted by chapter 44.16 RCW.

(3) In cases of emergency the governmental agency requesting access shall not be required to formally comply with the provisions of subsection (1) of this section at the time of the request if the procedures required by subsection (1) of this section are complied with by the requesting agency following the receipt of any records or information deemed private and confidential under this chapter. An emergency is defined as a situation in which irreparable harm or damage could occur if records or information are not released immediately.

(4) The requirements of subsection (1)(c) of this section shall not apply to governmental agencies where the procedures would frustrate the investigation of possible violations of criminal laws or to the release of employing unit names, addresses, number of employees, and aggregate employer wage data for the purpose of state governmental agencies preparing small business economic impact statements under chapter 19.85 RCW or preparing cost-benefit analyses under RCW 34.05.328(1)(c). Information provided by the department and held to be private and confidential under state or federal laws must not be misused or released to unauthorized parties. A person who misuses such information or releases such information to unauthorized parties is subject to the sanctions in RCW 50.13.080.

(5) Governmental agencies shall have access to certain records or information, limited to such items as names, addresses, social security numbers, and general information about benefit entitlement or employer information possessed by the department, for comparison purposes with records or information possessed by the requesting agency to detect improper or fraudulent claims, or to determine potential tax liability or employer compliance with registration and licensing requirements. In those cases the governmental agency shall not be required to comply with subsection (1)(c) of this section, but the requirements of the remainder of subsection (1) of this section must be satisfied.

(6) Governmental agencies may have access to certain records and information, limited to employer information possessed by the department for purposes authorized in chapter 50.38 RCW. Access to these records and information is limited to only those individuals conducting authorized statistical analysis, research, and evaluation studies. Only in cases consistent with the purposes of chapter 50.38 RCW are government agencies not required to comply with subsection (1)(c) of this section, but the requirements of the remainder of subsection (1) of this section must be satisfied. Information provided by the department and held to be private and confidential under state or federal laws shall not be misused or released to unauthorized parties subject to the sanctions in RCW 50.13.080.

(7) Disclosure to governmental agencies of information or records obtained by the employment security department from the federal government shall be governed by any applicable federal law or any agreement between the federal government and the employment security department where so required by federal law. When federal law does not apply to the records or information state law shall control.

(8) The department may provide information for purposes of statistical analysis and evaluation of the WorkFirst program or any successor state welfare program, the department of social and health services, the office of financial management, and other governmental entities with oversight or evaluation responsibilities for the program [(shall have access to employer wage information on clients in the program whose names and social security numbers are provided to the department)] in accordance with RCW 43.20A.080. The confidential information provided by the department shall remain the property of the department and may be used by the authorized requesting agencies only for statistical analysis, research, and evaluation purposes as provided in RCW 74.08A.410 and 74.08A.420. The department of social and health services [(iia)], the office of financial management, or other governmental entities with oversight or evaluation responsibilities for the program are not required to comply with subsection (1)(c) of this section, but the requirements of the remainder of subsection (1) of this section and applicable federal laws and regulations must be satisfied. The confidential information used for evaluation and analysis of welfare reform supplied to the authorized requesting entities with regard to the WorkFirst program or any successor state welfare program are exempt from public inspection and copying under RCW 42.17.310.

(9) The disclosure of any records or information by a governmental agency which has obtained the records or information under this section is prohibited unless the disclosure is directly connected to the official purpose for which the records or information were obtained.

(10) In conducting periodic salary or fringe benefit studies pursuant to law, the department of personnel shall have access to records of the employment security department as may be required for such studies. For such purposes, the requirements of subsection (1)(c) of this section need not apply.

(11) To promote the reemployment of job seekers, the commissioner may enter into data-sharing contracts with partners of the one-stop career development system. The contracts shall provide for the exchange of data only to the extent that the exchange is necessary for the efficient provisions of work force programs, including but not limited to public labor exchange, unemployment insurance, worker training and retraining, vocational rehabilitation, vocational education, adult education, transition from public assistance, and support services. The exchange of information under contracts with one-stop partners is exempt from subsections (1), (5), and (6) of this section.

(12) To facilitate improved operation and evaluation of state programs, the commissioner may enter into data-sharing contracts with other state agencies only to the extent that such exchange is necessary for the efficient operation or evaluation of outcomes for those programs. The exchange of information by contract under this subsection is exempt from subsection (1)(c) of this section.

(13) The misuse or unauthorized release of records or information by any person or organization to which access is permitted by this chapter subjects the person or organization to a civil penalty of five thousand dollars and other applicable sanctions under state and federal law. Suit to enforce this section shall be brought by the attorney general and the amount of any penalties collected shall be paid into the employment security department administrative contingency fund. The attorney general may recover reasonable attorneys' fees for any action brought to enforce this section.

Sec. 17. RCW 42.17.310 and 1998 c 69 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The following are exempt from public inspection and copying:

(a) Personal information in any files maintained for students in public schools, patients or clients of public institutions or public health agencies, or welfare recipients.

(b) Personal information in files maintained for employees, appointees, or elected officials of any public agency to the extent that disclosure would violate their right to privacy.

(c) Information required of any taxpayer in connection with the assessment or collection of any tax if the disclosure of the information to other persons would (i) be prohibited to such persons by RCW 84.08.210, 82.32.330, 84.40.020, or 84.40.340 or (ii) violate the taxpayer's right to privacy or result in unfair competitive disadvantage to the taxpayer.

(d) Specific intelligence information and specific investigative records compiled by investigative, law enforcement, and penology agencies, and state agencies vested with the responsibility to discipline members of any profession, the nondisclosure of which is essential to effective law enforcement or for the protection of any person's right to privacy.

(e) Information revealing the identity of persons who are witnesses to or victims of crime or who file complaints with investigative, law enforcement, or penology agencies, other than the public disclosure commission, if disclosure would endanger any person's life, physical safety, or property. If at the time a complaint is filed the complainant, victim or witness indicates a desire for disclosure or nondisclosure, such desire shall govern. However, all complaints filed with the public disclosure commission about any elected official or candidate for public office must be made in writing and signed by the complainant under oath.

(f) Test questions, scoring keys, and other examination data used to administer a license, employment, or academic examination.

(g) Except as provided by chapter 8.26 RCW, the contents of real estate appraisals, made for or by any agency relative to the acquisition or sale of property, until the project or prospective sale is abandoned or until such time as all of the property has been acquired or the property to which the sale appraisal relates is sold, but in no event shall disclosure be denied for more than three years after the appraisal.

(h) Valuable formulae, designs, drawings, and research data obtained by any agency within five years of the request for disclosure when disclosure would produce private gain and public loss.

(i) Preliminary drafts, notes, recommendations, and intra-agency memorandums in which opinions are expressed or policies formulated or recommended except that a specific record shall not be exempt when publicly cited by an agency in connection with any agency action.

(j) Records which are relevant to a controversy to which an agency is a party but which records would not be available to another party under the rules of pretrial discovery for causes pending in the superior courts.

(k) Records, maps, or other information identifying the location of archaeological sites in order to avoid the looting or depredation of such sites.

(l) Any library record, the primary purpose of which is to maintain control of library materials, or to gain access to information, which discloses or could be used to disclose the identity of a library user.

(m) Financial information supplied by or on behalf of a person, firm, or corporation for the purpose of qualifying to submit a bid or proposal for (i) a ferry system construction or repair contract as required by RCW 47.60.680 through 47.60.750 or (ii) highway construction or improvement as required by RCW 47.28.070.

(n) Railroad company contracts filed prior to July 28, 1991, with the utilities and transportation commission under RCW 81.34.070, except that the summaries of the contracts are open to public inspection and copying as otherwise provided by this chapter.

(o) Financial and commercial information and records supplied by private persons pertaining to export services provided pursuant to chapter 43.163 RCW and chapter 53.31 RCW, and by persons pertaining to export projects pursuant to RCW 43.23.035.

(p) Financial disclosures filed by private vocational schools under chapters 28B.85 and 28C.10 RCW.

(q) Records filed with the utilities and transportation commission or attorney general under RCW 80.04.095 that a court has determined are confidential under RCW 80.04.095.
(r) Financial and commercial information and records supplied by businesses or individuals during application for loans or program services provided by chapters 43.163, 43.160, 43.330, and 43.168 RCW, or during application for economic development loans or program services provided by any local agency.

(s) Membership lists or lists of members or owners of interests of units in timeshare projects, subdivisions, camping resorts, condominiums, land developments, or common-interest communities affiliated with such projects, regulated by the department of licensing, in the files or possession of the department.

(t) All applications for public employment, including the names of applicants, resumes, and other related materials submitted with respect to an applicant.

(u) The residential addresses and residential telephone numbers of employees or volunteers of a public agency which are held by the agency in personnel records, employment or volunteer rosters, or mailing lists of employees or volunteers.

(v) The residential addresses and residential telephone numbers of the customers of a public utility contained in the records or lists held by the public utility of which they are customers, except that this information may be released to the division of child support or the agency or firm providing child support enforcement for another state under Title IV-D of the federal social security act, for the establishment, enforcement, or modification of a support order.

(w)(i) The federal social security number of individuals governed under chapter 18.130 RCW maintained in the files of the department of health, except this exemption does not apply to requests made directly to the department from federal, state, and local agencies of government, and national and state licensing, credentialing, investigatory, disciplinary, and examination organizations; (ii) the current residential address and current residential telephone number of a health care provider governed under chapter 18.130 RCW maintained in the files of the department, if the provider requests that this information be withheld from public inspection and copying, and provides to the department an accurate alternate or business address and business telephone number. On or after January 1, 1995, the current residential address and residential telephone number of a health care provider governed under RCW 18.130.140 maintained in the files of the department shall automatically be withheld from public inspection and copying unless the provider specifically requests the information be released, and except as provided for under RCW 42.17.260.(9).

(x) Information obtained by the board of pharmacy as provided in RCW 69.45.090.

(y) Information obtained by the board of pharmacy or the department of health and its representatives as provided in RCW 69.41.044, 69.41.280, and 18.64.420.

(z) Financial information, business plans, examination reports, and any information produced or obtained in evaluating or examining a business and industrial development corporation organized or seeking certification under chapter 31.24 RCW.

(aa) Financial and commercial information supplied to the state investment board by any person when the information relates to the investment of public trust or retirement funds and when disclosure would result in loss to such funds or in private loss to the providers of this information.

(cc) Client records maintained by an agency that is a domestic violence program as defined in RCW 70.123.020 or 70.123.075 or a rape crisis center as defined in RCW 70.125.030.

(dd) Information that identifies a person who, while an agency employee: (i) Seeks advice, under an informal process established by the employing agency, in order to ascertain his or her rights in connection with a possible unfair practice under chapter 49.60 RCW against the person; and (ii) requests his or her identity or any identifying information not be disclosed.

(ee) Investigative records compiled by an employing agency conducting a current investigation of a possible unfair practice under chapter 49.60 RCW or of a possible violation of other federal, state, or local laws prohibiting discrimination in employment.

(ff) Business related information protected from public inspection and copying under RCW 15.86.110.

(gg) Financial, commercial, operations, and technical and research information and data submitted to or obtained by the clean Washington center in applications for, or delivery of, program services under chapter 70.95H RCW.

(hh) Information and documents created specifically for, and collected and maintained by a quality improvement committee pursuant to RCW 43.70.510, regardless of which agency is in possession of the information and documents.

(ii) Personal information in files maintained in a data base created under RCW 43.07.360.

(jj) Financial and commercial information requested by the public stadium authority from any person or organization that leases or uses the stadium and exhibition center as defined in RCW 36.102.010.

(kk) Names of individuals residing in emergency or transitional housing that are furnished to the department of revenue or a county assessor in order to substantiate a claim for property tax exemption under RCW 84.36.043.

(ll) The names, residential addresses, residential telephone numbers, and other individually identifiable records held by an agency in relation to a vanpool, carpool, or other ride-sharing program or service. However, these records may be disclosed to other persons who apply for ride-matching services and who need that information in order to identify potential riders or drivers with whom to share rides.

(mm) Proprietary financial and commercial information that the submitting entity, with review by the department of health, specifically identifies at the time it is submitted and that is provided to or obtained by the department of health in connection with an application for, or the supervision of, an antitrust exemption sought by the submitting entity under RCW 43.72.310. If a request for such information is received, the submitting entity must be notified of the request. Within ten business days of receipt of the notice, the submitting entity shall provide a written statement of the continuing need for confidentiality, which shall be provided to the requester. Upon receipt of such notice, the department of health shall continue to treat information designated under this section as exempt from disclosure. If the requester initiates an action to compel disclosure under this chapter, the submitting entity must be joined as a party to demonstrate the continuing need for confidentiality.

(nn) Records maintained by the department of industrial insurance appeals that are related to appeals of crime victims’ compensation claims filed with the board under RCW 7.68.110.

(qq) Individually identifiable information received by the work force development board for research or evaluation purposes.

(2) Except for information described in subsection (1)(c)(i) of this section and confidential income data exempted from public inspection pursuant to RCW 84.40.020, the exemptions of this section are inapplicable to the extent that information, the disclosure of which would violate personal privacy or vital governmental interests, can be deleted from the specific records sought. No exemption may be construed to permit the nondisclosure of statistical information not descriptive of any readily identifiable person or persons.

(3) Inspection or copying of any specific records exempt under the provisions of this section may be permitted if the superior court in the county in which the record is maintained finds, after a hearing with notice thereof to every person in interest and the agency, that the exemption of such records is clearly unnecessary to protect any individual's right of privacy or any vital governmental function.

(4) Agency responses refusing, in whole or in part, inspection of any public record shall include a statement of the specific exemption authorizing the withholding of the record (or part) and a brief explanation of how the exemption applies to the record withheld.

Sec. 18. RCW 43.20A.080 and 1997 c 58 s 1005 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The department shall provide the employment security department quarterly with the names (((and)), social security numbers, and program information of all clients in the WorkFirst program and any successor state welfare program needed to assess and improve the quality of the employment outcomes.

(2) The information provided by the employment security department under RCW 50.13.060 for statistical analysis and welfare program evaluation purposes may be used only for statistical analysis, research, and evaluation purposes as provided in RCW 74.08A.410 and 74.08A.420. (((Through individual matches with accessed employment security department confidential employer wage files, only aggregate, statistical, group level data shall be reported. Data sharing by the employment security department may be extended to include the office of financial management and other such governmental entities with oversight responsibility for this program.)))

(3) The department and other agencies of state government shall protect the privacy of confidential personal data supplied under RCW 50.13.060 consistent with federal law, chapter 50.13 RCW, and the terms and conditions of a formal data-sharing agreement between the employment security department and agencies of state government, however the misuse or unauthorized use of confidential data supplied by the employment security department is subject to the penalties in RCW 50.13.080.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. The following acts or parts of acts are each repealed:

(1) RCW 28C.18.070 (Intent--“Program” clarified) and 1995 c 130 s 1;

(2) RCW 28C.18.080 (Comprehensive plan--Contents--Updates--Agency operating plans--Reports to the legislature) and 1997 c 369 s 5 & 1995 c 130 s 2;

(3) RCW 28C.18.090 (Additional board duties--Program evaluation by operating agencies) and 1995 c 130 s 4;

(4) RCW 28C.18.100 (Assessments by board--Biennial report to legislature and governor) and 1995 c 130 s 5;

(5) RCW 28C.18.110 (Identification of policies and methods to promote efficiency and sharing of resources--Report to governor and legislature) and 1995 c 130 s 6;

(6) RCW 50.67.020 (Membership of council--Assistance to work force training and education coordinating board) and 1991 c 238 s 15; and
NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. Sections 14 and 15 of this act constitute a new chapter in Title 50 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. If any part of this act is found to be in conflict with federal requirements that are a prescribed condition to the allocation of federal funds to the state, the conflicting part of this act is inoperative solely to the extent of the conflict and with respect to the agencies directly affected, and this finding does not affect the operation of the remainder of this act in its application to the agencies concerned. Rules adopted under this act must meet federal requirements that are a necessary condition to the receipt of federal funds by the state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 23. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and takes effect immediately.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Thibaudeau, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5587 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5587 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

Senator Winsley moved that the following amendment by Senators Winsley and Thibaudeau be adopted:
On page 2, line 1, after “PRIVACY.” Strike all material through “organizations.” on line 18, and insert "(1) Each health carrier must develop and implement policies and procedures governing the collection, use, and disclosure of health information. These policies and procedures must include methods for enrollees to access information and amend incorrect information, for enrollees to restrict the disclosure of sensitive information, and for enrollees to obtain information about the carrier’s health information policies. In addition, these policies and procedures must include methods for carrier oversight and enforcement of information policies, for carrier storage and disposal of health information, and for carrier conformance to state and federal laws governing the collection, use, and disclosure of personally identifiable health information. Each carrier must provide a summary notice of its health information policies to enrollees, including the enrollee’s right to restrict the collection, use, and disclosure of health information.

(2) Except as otherwise required by statute or rule, a health carrier is, and all persons acting at the direction of or on behalf of a carrier or in receipt of an enrollee’s personally identifiable health information are, prohibited from collecting, using, or disclosing personally identifiable health information unless authorized in writing by the person who is the subject of the information. At a minimum, such authorization must be valid for a limited time and purpose; be specific as to purpose and types of information to be collected, used, or disclosed; and identify the persons who will be receiving the information.

(3) The commissioner shall adopt rules to implement this section and shall take into consideration health information privacy standards recommended by the national association of insurance commissioners and other related professional organizations.

(4) Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the creation, use, or release of anonymized data for which there is no reasonable basis to believe that the information could be used to identify an individual.”

Debate ensued.

MOTION

Senator Benton moved that the following amendments by Senators Benton and Roach be considered simultaneously and be adopted:

On page 9, after line 14, insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. (1) For purposes of this section, chiropractic health care services includes all services included in the chiropractic scope of practice under chapter 18.25 RCW.

(2) Health care carriers shall ensure that enrolled patients have direct access to timely and appropriate covered chiropractic services from the participating chiropractor of their choice in accordance with subsection (3) of this section.

(3)(a) Health care carrier policies, plans, and programs written, amended, or renewed after January 1, 2000, shall provide enrolled patients with direct access to the participating chiropractor of their choice for covered chiropractic health care services without the necessity of prior referral from another type of health care practitioner.

(b) Nothing in this section shall prevent health care carriers from restricting patients to seeing only health care practitioners who have signed participating provider agreements with the health carrier or from utilizing other managed care and cost containment techniques and processes."

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

On page 9, line 19, after "through" strike "6" and insert "7"

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Thibaudeau: "A point of order, Mr. President. I submit that the amendments proposed by Senators Benton and Roach change the scope and object of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5587 and therefore violates Senate Rule 66. These amendments speak to a particular profession and the access by patients to their care. The amendments were considered in the Health Care Committee and did not pass out. The patient bill of rights speaks to four things: the disclosure of plans--the Health Care Plan; the independent review of those decisions from the health care carriers; the disclosure that is required by the health care plans; and the privacy required of health care plans and information. None of this relates to any particular profession and I urge you to find this beyond scope and object."

Further debate ensued.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Betti Sheldon, further consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5587 was deferred.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5812, by Senators Thibaudeau, Deccio, Wojahn, Winsley, Gardner, Prentice and Costa

Requiring prompt payment of health care claims.

MOTIONS
On motion of Senator Thibaudeau, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5812 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5812 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Thibaudeau, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5812 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Deccio: “Senator Thibaudeau, I am really sorry to have to ask you this, but I just noticed this in the bill. I had an amendment, which would have clarified it for me, but it does not apply to Labor and Industries, the Health Care Authority, Public Employees' Benefit Board, the Medical Assistance Administration of the Department of Social and Health Services or any self-insured health plan. It seems to me that we are carving everyone out of the bill except those folks who are pretty much statewide and I'm sure the general public. I wish I would have had time to come and ask you this without having to do it on the floor, but I just must pose that question. Thank you.”

Senator Thibaudeau: “Senator Deccio, was your question that you had added this amendment in committee or was it not added? I am not sure of your question.”

Senator Deccio: “Well, according to the bill, the act does not cover L & I, the Health Care Authority, the Public Employees' Benefit Board, the Medical Assistance in DSHS and any self-insured plan, subject to the jurisdiction of the state of Washington. That is on page 1, beginning with line 17.”

Senator Thibaudeau: “So, your problem, Senator Deccio, is that it should cover all of these or none of these? Is that what you are suggesting?”

Senator Deccio: “No, I am saying that these are excluded from the bill. The bill is not coming under the same regulations for prompt pay as the other--I say those are excluded from this bill. My question is why should they not be included, why should not prompt payment include those other insurance companies--and L & I is an insurance company--and all the others that I have listed.”

Senator Thibaudeau: “Well, the best I can do to answer your question, Senator, is that the problem seems to lie with not the public entities.”

Senator Deccio: “I'm sorry I can't hear you very well.”

Senator Thibaudeau: “I'm sorry. I said the problem seems to lie with the fact that the public entities were not the major problem here and that, therefore, this--and we could include those later--at a later time.”

Senator Deccio: “Well, Senator Thibaudeau, would you mind moving the bill back to second reading, so that I could offer my amendment and make it a part of this bill?”

Senator Thibaudeau: “No, I don't think I would like to do that, but let me find out, because I am getting some conflicting information here.”

MOTION

On motion of Senator Betti Sheldon, further consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5812 was deferred.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5109, by Senators Patterson, McAuliffe, Prentice, Johnson, Hochstatter, Brown, Heavey, Kline, Finkbeiner, Benton, Winsley, Oke and Kohl-Welles

Creating limited immunity for school districts.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Patterson moved that the following amendment by Senators Finkbeiner and Patterson be adopted:

On page 2, line 26, after “programs” strike “that have the primary purpose of addressing one of the at-risk factors in chapter 70.190 RCW”

Debate ensued.
POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Roach: "Senator Patterson, I was wondering if organizations that currently use school district facilities after hours are required to, really essentially, have their own insurance. By passing this amendment, are we extending the circumstances of the bill that would-- would this, in any way, allow that they not have to and that the school take the burden? What is happening here?"

Senator Patterson: "No, Senator Roach, the purpose of the underlying bill is to make the school districts feel more comfortable about opening up their doors after hours, by removing their immunity. The bill requires that organizations that serve at-risk youth have their own insurance. So, if someone falls down and breaks their ankle while they are in the school building, the school district can't be sued. The amendment simply says that it is not just for at-risk youth groups, it is for any youth group that wants to use the building after hours."

Senator Roach: "Thank you."

The Vice President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senators Finkbeiner and Patterson on page 2, line 26, to Senate Bill No. 5109.

The motion by Senator Patterson carried and the amendment was adopted.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Goings, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5109 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage. Debate ensued.

The Vice President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5109.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5109 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 45; Nays, 0; Absent, 1; Excused, 3.

Absent: Senator Deccio - 1.

Excused: Senators McDonald, Morton and West - 3.

ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 5109, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5962, by Senators Brown, Horn and Finkbeiner (by request of Secretary of State Munro and Governor Locke)

Promoting electronic commerce through digital signatures.

MOTION

Senator Brown moved that Senate Bill No. 5962 not be substituted.

The Vice President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the motion by Senator Brown that Senate Bill No. 5962 not be substituted.

The motion by Senator Brown carried and Senate Bill No. 5962 was not substituted.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION
On motion of Senator Brown, the following striking amendment by Senators Brown and Horn was adopted:

Sec. 1. RCW 19.34.010 and 1996 c 250 s 102 are each amended to read as follows:

This chapter shall be construed consistently with what is commercially reasonable under the circumstances and to effectuate the following purposes:

1. To facilitate commerce by means of reliable electronic messages;
2. To ensure that electronic signatures are not denied legal recognition solely because they are in electronic form;
3. To provide a voluntary licensing mechanism for digital signature certification authorities by which businesses, consumers, courts, government agencies, and other entities can reasonably be assured as to the integrity, authenticity, and nonrepudiation of a digitally signed electronic communication;
4. To establish procedures governing the use of digital signatures for official public business to provide reasonable assurance of the integrity, authenticity, and nonrepudiation of an electronic communication;
5. To minimize the incidence of forged digital signatures and fraud in electronic commerce;
6. To implement legally the general import of relevant standards (such as X.509 of the international telecommunication union, formerly known as the international telegraph and telephone consultative committee); and
7. To establish, in coordination with (multiple) states and other jurisdictions, uniform rules regarding the authentication and reliability of electronic messages.

Sec. 2. RCW 19.34.020 and 1997 c 27 s 30 are each amended to read as follows:

Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter:

1. "Accept a certificate" means (either:
   a) To manifest approval of a certificate, while knowing or having notice of its contents;
   b) To apply to a licensed certification authority for a certificate, without canceling or revoking the application by delivering notice of the cancellation or revocation to the certification authority and obtaining a signed, written receipt from the certification authority, if the certification authority subsequently issues a certificate based on the application). Such approval may be manifested by the use of the certificate.
2. "Accept a digital signature" means to verify a digital signature or take an action in reliance on a digital signature.
3. "Asymmetric cryptosystem" means an algorithm or series of algorithms that provide a secure key pair.
4. "Certificate" means a computer-based record that:
   a) Identifies the certification authority issuing it;
   b) Names or identifies its subscriber;
   c) Contains the subscriber's public key; and
   d) Is digitally signed by the certification authority issuing it.
5. "Certification authority" means a person who issues a certificate.
6. "Certification authority disclosure record" means an on-line, publicly accessible record that concerns a licensed certification authority and is kept by the secretary. (A certification authority disclosure record has the contents specified by rule by the secretary under RCW 19.34.030.)
7. "Certification practice statement" means a declaration of the practices that a certification authority employs in issuing certificates (generally, or employed in issuing a material certificate).
8. "Certify" means to declare with reference to a certificate, with ample opportunity to reflect, and with a duty to apprise oneself of all material facts.
9. "Confirm" means to ascertain through appropriate inquiry and investigation.
10. "Correspond," with reference to keys, means to belong to the same key pair.
11. "Digital signature" means an electronic signature that is a transformation of a message using an asymmetric cryptosystem such that a person having the initial message and the signer's public key can accurately determine: (a) Whether the transformation was created using the private key that corresponds to the signer's public key; and (b) Whether the initial message has been altered since the transformation was made.
12. "Electronic" means electrical, digital, magnetic, optical, electromagnetic, or any other form of technology that entails capabilities similar to these technologies.
13. "Electronic record" means a record generated, communicated, received, or stored by electronic means for use in an information system or for transmission from one information system to another.
14. "Electronic signature" means a signature in electronic form attached to or logically associated with an electronic record, including but not limited to a digital signature.
15. "Financial institution" means a national or state-chartered commercial bank or trust company, savings bank, savings association, or credit union authorized to do business in the state of Washington and the deposits of which are federally insured.
(16) “Forge a digital signature” means either:
(a) To create a digital signature without the authorization of the rightful holder of the private key; or
(b) To create a digital signature verifiable by a certificate listing as subscriber a person who either:
   (i) Does not exist; or
   (ii) Does not hold the private key corresponding to the public key listed in the certificate.
(17) “Hold a private key” means to be authorized to utilize a private key.
(18) “Incorporate by reference” means to make one message a part of another message by identifying the message to be incorporated and expressing the intention that it be incorporated.
(19) “Issue a certificate” means the acts of a certification authority in creating a certificate and notifying the subscriber listed in the certificate of the contents of the certificate.
(20) “Key pair” means a private key and its corresponding public key in an asymmetric cryptosystem, keys which have the property that the public key can verify a digital signature that the private key creates.
(21) “Licensed certification authority” means a certification authority to whom a license has been issued by the secretary and whose license is in effect.
(22) “Message” means a digital representation of information.
(23) “Notify” means to communicate a fact to another person in a manner reasonably likely under the circumstances to impart knowledge of the information to the other person.
(24) “Official public business” means any legally authorized transaction or communication among state agencies, tribes, and local governments, or between a state agency, tribe, or local government and a private person or entity.
(25) “Operative personnel” means one or more natural persons acting as a certification authority or its agent, or in the employment of, or under contract with, a certification authority, and who have:
   (a) Managerial or policymaking responsibilities for the certification authority; or
   (b) Duties directly involving the issuance of certificates, creation of private keys, or administration of a certification authority’s computing facilities;
   (b) Responsibility for the secure operation of the trustworthy system used by the certification authority or any recognized repository;
   (c) Direct responsibility, beyond general supervisory authority, for establishing or adopting policies regarding the operation and security of the certification authority; or
   (d) Such other responsibilities or duties as the secretary may establish by rule.
(26) “Person” means a human being or an organization capable of signing a document, either legally or as a matter of fact.
(27) “Private key” means the key of a key pair used to create a digital signature.
(28) “Public key” means the key of a key pair used to verify a digital signature.
(29) “Publish” means to make information publicly available.
(30) “Qualified right to payment” means an award of damages against a licensed certification authority by a court having jurisdiction over the certification authority in a civil action for violation of this chapter.
(31) “Recipient” means a person who has received a certificate and a digital signature verifiable with reference to a public key listed in the certificate and is in a position to rely on it.
(32) “Recognized repository” means a repository recognized by the secretary under RCW 19.34.400.
(33) “Recommended reliance limit” means the monetary amount recommended for reliance on a certificate under RCW 19.34.280(1).
(34) “Repository” means a system for storing and retrieving certificates and other information relevant to digital signatures.
(35) “Revoke a certificate” means to make a certificate ineffective permanently from a specified time forward. Revocation is effected by notation or inclusion in a set of revoked certificates, and does not imply that a revoked certificate is destroyed or made illegible.
(36) “Rightfully hold a private key” means the authority to utilize a private key:
   (a) That the holder or the holder’s agents have not disclosed to a person in violation of RCW 19.34.240(1); and
   (b) That the holder has not obtained through theft, deceit, eavesdropping, or other unlawful means.
(37) “Secretary” means the secretary of state.
(38) “Subscriber” means a person who:
   (a) Is the subject listed in a certificate;
   (b) Applies for or accepts the certificate; and
   (c) Holds a private key that corresponds to a public key listed in that certificate.
"Suitable guaranty" means either a surety bond executed by a surety authorized by the insurance commissioner to do business in this state, or an irrevocable letter of credit issued by a financial institution authorized to do business in this state, which, in either event, satisfies all of the following requirements:
(a) It is issued payable to the secretary for the benefit of persons holding qualified rights of payment against the licensed certification authority named as the principal of the bond or customer of the letter of credit;
(b) It is in an amount specified by rule by the secretary under RCW 19.34.030;
(c) It states that it is issued for filing under this chapter;
(d) It specifies a term of effectiveness extending at least as long as the term of the license to be issued to the certification authority; and
(e) It is in a form prescribed or approved by rule by the secretary.
A suitable guaranty may also provide that the total annual liability on the guaranty to all persons making claims based on it may not exceed the face amount of the guaranty.

"Suspend a certificate" means to make a certificate ineffective temporarily for a specified time forward.

"Time stamp" means either:
(a) To append or attach a digitally signed notation indicating at least the date, time, and identity of the person appending or attaching the notation to a message, digital signature, or certificate; or
(b) The notation thus appended or attached.

"Transactional certificate" means a valid certificate incorporating by reference one or more digital signatures.

"Trustworthy system" means computer hardware and software that:
(a) Are reasonably secure from intrusion and misuse; and
(b) Are reasonably suited to performing their intended functions.

"Valid certificate" means a certificate that:
(a) A licensed certification authority has issued;
(b) The subscriber listed in it has accepted;
(c) Has not been revoked or suspended; and
(d) Has not expired.

However, a transactional certificate is a valid certificate only in relation to the digital signature incorporated in it by reference.

"Verify a digital signature" means, in relation to a given digital signature, message, and public key, to determine accurately that:
(a) The digital signature was created by the private key corresponding to the public key; and
(b) The message has not been altered since its digital signature was created.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 19.34 RCW to read as follows:
The presumptions of validity and reasonableness of conduct, and the limitations on liability in this chapter do not apply to electronic records or electronic signatures except for digital signatures created in conformance with all of the requirements of this chapter and rules adopted under this chapter.

Sec. 4. RCW 19.34.030 and 1997 c 27 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:
(1) The secretary must publish a certification authority disclosure record for each licensed certification authority, and a list of all judgments filed with the secretary, within the previous five years, under RCW 19.34.290. The secretary must publish the contents of the data base in at least one recognized repository.
(2) The secretary may adopt rules consistent with this chapter and in furtherance of its purposes:
(a) To license certification authorities, recognize repositories, their practice, and the termination of a licensed certification authority's or recognized repository's practice; certify operative personnel, and govern the practices of each;
(b) To determine the form and amount reasonably appropriate for a suitable guaranty, in light of the burden a suitable guaranty places upon licensed certification authorities and the assurance of quality and financial responsibility it provides to persons who rely on certificates issued by licensed certification authorities;
(c) To specify reasonable requirements for information to be contained in or the form of certificates, including transactional certificates, issued by licensed certification authorities, in accordance with generally accepted standards for digital signature certificates;
(d) To specify reasonable requirements for recordkeeping by licensed certification authorities;
Sec. 5. RCW 19.34.100 and 1998 c 33 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) To obtain or retain a license, a certification authority must:

(a) Be the subscriber of a certificate published in a recognized repository, which may include any repository maintained by the secretary;

(b) Knowingly employ as operative personnel only persons who have not been convicted within the past seven years of a felony and have never been convicted of a crime involving fraud, false statement, or deception. The secretary may provide by rule for the manner in which criminal background information is provided as part of the licensing process. For purposes of this provision, a certification authority knowingly employs such a person if the certification authority knew of a conviction, or should have known based upon the background information required by rule of the secretary;

(c) Employ as operative personnel only persons who have demonstrated knowledge and proficiency in following the requirements of this chapter;

(d) Provide proof of identity to the secretary;

(e) Employ only certified operative personnel in appropriate positions;

(f) File with the secretary an appropriate, suitable guaranty, unless the certification authority is a city or county that is self-insured or the department of information services;

(g) Use a trustworthy system, including a secure means for limiting access to its private key;

(h) Maintain an office in this state or have established a registered agent for service of process in this state; and

(i) Comply with all further licensing and practice requirements established by rule by the secretary.

(2) The secretary must issue a license to a certification authority that:

(a) Is qualified under subsection (1) of this section;

(b) Applies in writing to the secretary for a license; and

(c) Pays a filing fee adopted by rule by the secretary.

(3) The secretary may by rule create license classifications according to specified limitations, (such as a maximum number of outstanding certificates, cumulative maximum of recommended reliance limits in certificates issued by the certification authority, or issuance only within a single firm or organization,) and the secretary may issue licenses restricted according to the limits of each classification. (The liability limits of RCW 19.34.280 do not apply to a certificate issued by a certification authority that exceeds the restrictions of the certification authority's license.)

The secretary may impose license restrictions specific to the practices of an individual certification authority. The secretary shall set forth in writing and maintain as part of the certification authority's license application file the basis for such license restrictions.

(4) The secretary may revoke or suspend a certification authority's license, in accordance with the administrative procedure act, chapter 34.05 RCW, for failure to comply with this chapter or for failure to remain qualified under subsection (1) of this section. The secretary may order the summary suspension of a license pending proceedings for revocation or other action, which must be promptly instituted and determined, if the secretary includes within a written order a finding that the certification authority has either:

(a) Utilized its license in the commission of a violation of a state or federal criminal statute or of chapter 19.86 RCW; or

(b) Engaged in conduct giving rise to a serious risk of loss to public or private parties if the license is not immediately suspended.

(5) The secretary may recognize by rule the licensing or authorization of certification authorities by other governmental entities, in whole or in part, provided that those licensing or authorization requirements are substantially similar to those of this state. If licensing by another government is so recognized:
(a) RCW 19.34.300 through 19.34.350 apply to certificates issued by the certification authorities licensed or authorized by that government in the same manner as it applies to licensed certification authorities of this state; and

(b) The liability limits of RCW 19.34.280 apply to the certification authorities licensed or authorized by that government in the same manner as they apply to licensed certification authorities of this state.

(6) (Unless the parties provide otherwise by contract between themselves, the licensing requirements in this section do not affect the effectiveness, enforceability, or validity of any digital signature, except that RCW 19.34.300 through 19.34.350 do not apply to a certificate, and associated digital signature, issued by an unlicensed certification authority.

(2)) A certification authority that has not obtained a license is not subject to the provisions of this chapter, except as specifically provided.

Sec. 6. RCW 19.34.110 and 1997 c 27 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A licensed certification authority shall obtain a compliance audit((as may be more fully defined by rule of the secretary, at least once every year. The auditor shall issue an opinion evaluating the degree to which the certification authority conforms to the requirements of this chapter and the administrative rules adopted by)) at such times and in such manner as directed by rule of the secretary. If the certification authority is also a recognized repository, the audit must include the repository.

(2) The certification authority shall file a copy of the audit report with the secretary. The secretary may provide by rule for filing of the report in an electronic format((The secretary shall)) and may publish the report in the certification authority disclosure record it maintains for the certification authority.

Sec. 7. RCW 19.34.111 and 1997 c 27 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

1)(a) An auditor signing a report of opinion as to a compliance audit required by RCW 19.34.110 must:

(iii) (a) Be a certified public accountant, licensed under chapter 18.04 RCW or equivalent licensing statute of another jurisdiction; (iv) and

(iv) (b) Meet such other qualifications as the secretary may establish by rule.

(ii) Auditors must either possess such computer security qualifications as are necessary to conduct the audit or employ, contract, or associate with firms or individuals who do. The secretary may adopt rules establishing qualifications as to expertise or experience in computer security.)

2) The compliance audits of state agencies and local governments who are licensed certification authorities, and the secretary, must be performed under the authority of the state auditor. The state auditor may contract with private entities as needed to comply with this chapter.

Sec. 8. RCW 19.34.120 and 1997 c 27 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

1) The secretary may investigate the activities of a licensed certification authority material to its compliance with this chapter and issue orders to a certification authority to further its investigation and secure compliance with this chapter.

2) The secretary may suspend or revoke the license of a certification authority for its failure to comply with an order of the secretary.

3) The secretary may by order impose and collect a civil (monetary) penalty against a licensed certification authority for a violation of this chapter ((an amount). The penalty shall not exceed ten thousand dollars per incident, or ninety percent of the recommended reliance limit of a material certificate, whichever is less. In case of a violation continuing for more than one day, each day is considered a separate incident. The secretary may adopt rules setting forth the standards governing the exercise of the secretary’s discretion as to penalty amounts. In the case of a state agency authorized by law to be a licensed certification authority, the sole penalty imposed under this subsection shall consist of specific findings of noncompliance and an order requiring compliance with this chapter and the rules of the secretary. Any penalty imposed under this chapter and chapter 34.05 RCW shall be enforceable in any court of competent jurisdiction.

4) The secretary may order a certification authority, which it has found to be in violation of this chapter, to pay the costs incurred by the secretary in prosecuting and adjudicating proceedings relative to the order, and enforcing it.

5) The secretary must exercise authority under this section in accordance with the administrative procedure act, chapter 34.05 RCW, and a licensed certification authority may obtain judicial review of the secretary’s actions as prescribed by chapter 34.05 RCW. The secretary may also seek injunctive relief to compel compliance with an order.

Sec. 9. RCW 19.34.130 and 1996 c 250 s 204 are each amended to read as follows:

1) No certification authority, whether licensed or not, may conduct its business in a manner that creates an unreasonable risk of loss to subscribers of the certification authority, to persons relying on certificates issued by the certification authority, or to a repository.

2) The secretary may publish (in the repository it provides, or elsewhere) brief statements advising subscribers, persons relying on digital signatures, or other repositories about activities of a certification authority, whether licensed or not, that create a risk prohibited by subsection (1) of this section. The certification authority named in a statement as creating or causing such a risk may protest the publication of the statement by filing a written defense of ten thousand bytes or less. Upon receipt of such a protest, the secretary must publish the protest along with the secretary's statement, and must promptly give the protesting certification authority notice and an opportunity to be heard. Following the hearing, the secretary must rescind the advisory statement if its publication was unwarranted under this section, cancel it if its publication is no longer warranted, continue or amend it if it remains warranted, or take further legal action to eliminate or reduce a risk prohibited by subsection (1) of this section. The secretary must publish its decision in the repository it provides.

(3) In the manner provided by the administrative procedure act, chapter 34.05 RCW, the secretary may issue orders and obtain injunctions or other civil relief to prevent or restrain a certification authority from violating this section, regardless of whether the certification authority is licensed. This section does not create a right of action in a person other than the secretary.

Sec. 10. RCW 19.34.200 and 1997 c 27 s 8 are each amended to read as follows:
(1) A licensed certification authority (((or subscriber))) shall use only a trustworthy system((a certificate;
((a))))) to issue, suspend, or revoke (((a certificate;
((a))))) certificates. A licensed certification authority shall use a recognized repository to publish or give notice of the issuance, suspension, or revocation of a certificate((a certificate;

(c) To create a private key).

(2) A licensed certification authority (((must disclose any material certification practice statement, and any fact material to either the reliability of a certificate that it has issued or its ability to perform its services. A certification authority may require a signed, written, and reasonably specific inquiry from an identified person, and payment of reasonable compensation, as conditions precedent to effecting a disclosure required in this subsection.)) shall publish a certification practice statement in accordance with the rules established by the secretary. The secretary shall publish the certification practice statements of licensed certification authorities submitted as part of the licensing process in a manner similar to the publication of the certification authority disclosure record.

(3) A licensed certification authority shall knowingly employ as operative personnel only persons who have not been convicted within the past seven years of a felony and have never been convicted of a crime involving fraud, false statement, or deception. For purposes of this subsection, a certification authority knowingly employs such a person if the certification authority knew of a conviction, or should have known based on information required by rule of the secretary. Operative personnel employed by a licensed certification authority must also be persons who have demonstrated knowledge and proficiency in following the requirements of this chapter. The secretary may provide by rule for the certification of operative personnel, and provide by rule for the manner in which criminal background information is provided as part of the certification process, as well as the manner in which knowledge and proficiency in following the requirements of this chapter may be demonstrated.

Sec. 11. RCW 19.34.210 and 1997 c 27 s 9 are each amended to read as follows:
(1) A licensed certification authority may issue a certificate to a subscriber only after all of the following conditions are satisfied:
(a) The certification authority has received a request for issuance signed by the prospective subscriber; and
(b) The certification authority has confirmed that:
(i) The prospective subscriber is the person to be listed in the certificate to be issued;
(ii) If the prospective subscriber is acting through one or more agents, the subscriber duly authorized the agent or agents to have custody of the subscriber's private key and to request issuance of a certificate listing the corresponding public key;
(iii) The information in the certificate to be issued is accurate;
(iv) The prospective subscriber rightfully holds the private key corresponding to the public key to be listed in the certificate;
(v) The prospective subscriber holds a private key capable of creating a digital signature;
(vi) The public key to be listed in the certificate can be used to verify a digital signature affixed by the private key held by the prospective subscriber; and
(vii) The certificate provides information sufficient to locate or identify one or more repositories in which notification of the revocation or suspension of the certificate will be listed if the certificate is suspended or revoked.
(c) The requirements of this subsection may not be waived or disclaimed by either the licensed certification authority, the subscriber, or both.

(2) (((if the subscriber accepts the issued certificate, the certification authority must publish a signed copy of the certificate in a recognized repository, as the certification authority and the subscriber named in the certificate may agree, unless a contract))) In confirming that the prospective subscriber is the person to be listed in the certificate to be issued, a licensed certification authority shall make a reasonable inquiry into the subscriber's identity in light of:
(a) Any statements made by the certification authority regarding the reliability of the certificate;
(b) The reliance limit of the certificate;
(c) Any recommended uses or applications for the certificate; and
(d) Whether the certificate is a transactional certificate or not.
A certification authority shall be presumed to have confirmed that the prospective subscriber is the person to be listed in a certificate where:

(a) The subscriber appears before the certification authority and presents identification documents consisting of at least one of the following:

   (i) A current identification document issued by or under the authority of the United States, or such similar identification document issued under the authority of another country;

   (ii) A current driver's license issued by a state of the United States; or

   (iii) A current personal identification card issued by a state of the United States; and

(b) Operative personnel certified according to law or a notary has reviewed and accepted the identification information of the subscriber.

(4) The certification authority may establish policies regarding the publication of certificates in its certification practice statement, which must be adhered to unless an agreement between the certification authority and the subscriber provides otherwise. If the certification authority does not publish a signed copy of the certificate in a recognized repository, the certification authority does not establish such a policy, the certification authority must publish a signed copy of the certificate in a recognized repository.

Nothing in this section precludes a licensed certification authority from conforming to standards, certification practice statements, security plans, or contractual requirements more rigorous than, but nevertheless consistent with, this chapter.

A licensed certification authority may also suspend a certificate that it has issued for a reasonable period not exceeding five business days as needed for an investigation to confirm grounds for revocation under this subsection. The certification authority must give notice to the subscriber as soon as practicable after a decision to revoke or suspend under this subsection.

The secretary may order the licensed certification authority to suspend or revoke a certificate that the certification authority issued, if, after giving any required notice and opportunity for the certification authority and subscriber to be heard in accordance with the administrative procedure act, chapter 34.05 RCW, the secretary determines that:

(a) The certificate was issued without substantial compliance with this section; and

(b) The noncompliance poses a significant risk to persons relying on the certificate.

Upon determining that an emergency requires an immediate remedy, and in accordance with the administrative procedure act, chapter 34.05 RCW, the secretary may issue an order suspending a certificate for a period not to exceed five business days.

Sec. 12. RCW 19.34.231 and 1997 c 27 s 10 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) If a signature of a unit of state or local government, including its appropriate officers or employees, is required by statute, administrative rule, court rule, or requirement of the office of financial management, that unit of state or local government shall become a subscriber to a certificate issued by a licensed certification authority for purposes of conducting official public business, but only if the certificate is issued by a licensed certification authority. A unit of state government, except the secretary and the department of information services, may not act as a certification authority with electronic records.

(2) A city or county may become a licensed certification authority under RCW 19.34.100 for purposes of providing services to local government, if authorized by ordinance adopted by the city or county legislative authority.

(3) The limitation to licensed certification authorities in subsection (1) of this section does not apply to uses of digital signatures or key pairs limited to internal agency procedures, as to which the signature is not required by statute, administrative rule, court rule, or requirement of the office of financial management. A unit of state government, except the secretary and the department of information services, may not act as a certification authority.

Sec. 13. RCW 19.34.250 and 1997 c 27 s 12 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Unless the certification authority provides otherwise in the certificate or its certification practice statement, the licensed certification authority that issued a certificate that is not a transactional certificate must suspend the certificate for a period not to exceed five business days:

(a) Upon request by a person whom the certification authority reasonably believes to be: (i) The subscriber named in the certificate; (ii) a person duly authorized to act for that subscriber; or (iii) a person acting on behalf of the unavailable subscriber;

(b) By order of the secretary under RCW 19.34.210(5).

The certification authority need not confirm the identity or agency of the person requesting suspension. The certification authority may require the person requesting suspension to provide evidence, including a statement under oath or affirmation, regarding the requestor's identity, authorization, or the unavailability of the subscriber. Law enforcement agencies may investigate suspensions for possible wrongdoing by persons requesting suspension.
(2) Unless the certification authority provides otherwise in the certificate or its certification practice statement, the secretary may suspend a certificate issued by a licensed certification authority for a period not to exceed five business days, if:

(a) A person identifying himself or herself as the subscriber named in the certificate, a person authorized to act for that subscriber, or a person acting on behalf of that unavailable subscriber requests suspension; and

(b) The requester represents that the certification authority that issued the certificate is unavailable.

The secretary may require the person requesting suspension to provide evidence, including a statement under oath or affirmation, regarding his or her identity, authorization, or the unavailability of the issuing certification authority, and may decline to suspend the certificate in its discretion. Law enforcement agencies may investigate suspensions by the secretary for possible wrongdoing by persons requesting suspension.

(3) Immediately upon suspension of a certificate by a licensed certification authority, the licensed certification authority must give notice of the suspension according to the specification in the certificate. If one or more repositories are specified, then the licensed certification authority must publish a signed notice of the suspension in all the repositories. If a repository no longer exists or refuses to accept publication, or if no repository is recognized under RCW 19.34.400, the licensed certification authority must also publish the notice in a recognized repository. If a certificate is suspended by the secretary, the secretary must give notice as required in this subsection for a licensed certification authority, provided that the person requesting suspension pays in advance any fee required by a repository for publication of the notice of suspension.

(4) A certification authority must terminate a suspension initiated by request only:

(a) If the subscriber named in the suspended certificate requests termination of the suspension, the certification authority has confirmed that the person requesting suspension is the subscriber or an agent of the subscriber authorized to terminate the suspension; or

(b) When the certification authority discovers and confirms that the request for the suspension was made without authorization by the subscriber. However, this subsection (4)(b) does not require the certification authority to confirm a request for suspension.

(5) The contract between a subscriber and a licensed certification authority may limit or preclude requested suspension by the certification authority, or may provide otherwise for termination of a requested suspension. However, if the contract limits or precludes suspension by the secretary when the issuing certification authority is unavailable, the limitation or preclusion is effective only if notice of it is published in the certificate.

(6) No person may knowingly or intentionally misrepresent to a certification authority his or her identity or authorization in requesting suspension of a certificate. Violation of this subsection is a gross misdemeanor.

(7) The secretary may authorize other state or local governmental agencies to perform any of the functions of the secretary under this section upon a regional basis. The authorization must be formalized by an agreement under chapter 39.34 RCW. The secretary may provide by rule the terms and conditions of the regional services.

(8) A suspension under this section must be completed within twenty-four hours of receipt of all information required in this section.

Sec. 14. RCW 19.34.280 and 1997 c 27 s 14 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) By clearly specifying a recommended reliance limit in a certificate and in the certification practice statement, the issuing certification authority recommends that persons rely on the certificate only to the extent that the total amount at risk does not exceed the recommended reliance limit.

(2) Subject to subsection (3) of this section, unless a licensed certification authority waives application of this subsection, a licensed certification authority is:

(a) Not liable for a loss caused by reliance on a false or forged digital signature of a subscriber, if, with respect to the false or forged digital signature, the certification authority complied with all material requirements of this chapter;

(b) Not liable in excess of the amount specified in the certificate as its recommended reliance limit for either:

(i) A loss caused by reliance on a misrepresentation in the certificate of a fact that the licensed certification authority is required to confirm; or

(ii) Failure to comply with RCW 19.34.210 in issuing the certificate;

(c) Not liable for:

(i) Punitive or exemplary damages. Nothing in this chapter may be interpreted to permit punitive or exemplary damages that would not otherwise be permitted by the law of this state; or

(ii) Damages for pain or suffering.

(3) Nothing in subsection (2)(a) of this section relieves a licensed certification authority of its liability for breach of any of the warranties or certifications it gives under RCW 19.34.220 or for its lack of good faith, which warranties and obligation of good faith may not be disclaimed. However, the standards by which the performance of a licensed certification authority’s obligation of good faith is to be measured may be determined by agreement or notification complying with subsection (4) of this section if the standards are not manifestly unreasonable. The liability of a licensed certification authority under this subsection is subject to the limitations in subsection (2)(b) and (c) of this section unless the limits are waived by the licensed certification authority.

(4) Consequential or incidental damages may be liquidated, or may otherwise be limited, altered, or excluded unless the limitation, alteration, or exclusion is unconscionable. A licensed certification authority may liquidate, limit, alter, or exclude consequential or incidental damages as provided in this subsection by agreement or by notifying any person who will rely on a certificate of the liquidation, limitation, alteration, or exclusion before the person relies on the certificate.

Sec. 15. RCW 19.34.330 and 1996 c 250 s 404 are each amended to read as follows:

A ((copy of a)) digitally signed message ((is as effective, valid, and enforceable as the original of the message, unless it is evident that the signer designated an instance of the digitally signed message to be a unique original, in which case only that instance constitutes the valid, effective, and enforceable)) shall be deemed to be an original of the message.

Sec. 16. RCW 19.34.340 and 1997 c 27 s 21 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Notwithstanding a disclaimer by the repository ((or contract, if so provided in the certificate issued by a licensed certification authority)) or agreement, a digital signature verified by reference to the public key listed in a valid certificate issued by a licensed certification authority satisfies the requirements for an acknowledgment under RCW 42.44.010(4) and for acknowledgment of deeds and other real property conveyances under RCW 64.04.020 ((if words of an express acknowledgment appear with the digital signature regardless of whether the signer personally appeared before either the certification authority or some other person authorized to take acknowledgments of deeds, mortgages, or other conveyance instruments under RCW 64.08.010 when the digital signature was created, if that digital signature is:

(a) Verifiable by that certificate; and
(b) Affixed when that certificate was valid.

(2) If the digital signature is used as an acknowledgment, then the certification authority is responsible to the same extent as a notary up the recommended reliance limit for failure to satisfy the requirements for an acknowledgment. The certification authority may not disclaim or limit, other than as provided in RCW 19.34.280, the effect of this section).

Sec. 17. RCW 19.34.400 and 1997 c 27 s 23 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The secretary must recognize one or more repositories, after finding that a repository to be recognized:

(a) Is a licensed certification authority;
(b) Includes, or will include, a data base containing:
(i) Certificates published in the repository;
(ii) Notices of suspended or revoked certificates published by licensed certification authorities or other persons suspending or revoking certificates; and
(iii) ((Certification authority disclosure records for licensed certification authorities;))
(iv) All orders or advisory statements published by the secretary in regulating certification authorities; and (4)) Other information adopted by rule by the secretary;
(c) Operates by means of a trustworthy system, that may, under administrative rule of the secretary, include additional or different attributes than those applicable to a certification authority that does not operate as a recognized repository;
(d) Contains no significant amount of information that is known or likely to be untrue, inaccurate, or not reasonably reliable;
(e) ((Contains certificates published by certification authorities that conform to legally binding requirements that the secretary finds to be substantially similar to, or more stringent toward the certification authorities, than those of this state;
(4)) Keeps ((an archive)) a record of certificates that have been suspended or revoked, or that have expired, ((within at least the past three years)) in accordance with requirements adopted by rule by the secretary; and
(g) Complies with other reasonable requirements adopted by rule by the secretary.

(2) A repository may apply to the secretary for recognition by filing a written request and providing evidence to the secretary sufficient for the secretary to find that the conditions for recognition are satisfied in accordance with requirements adopted by rule by the secretary.

(3) A repository may discontinue its recognition by filing thirty days' written notice with the secretary, upon meeting any conditions for discontinuance adopted by rule by the secretary. In addition the secretary may discontinue recognition of a repository in accordance with the administrative procedure act, chapter 34.05 RCW, if the secretary concludes that the repository no longer satisfies the conditions for recognition listed in this section or in rules adopted by the secretary.

Sec. 18. RCW 19.34.410 and 1997 c 27 s 33 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Notwithstanding a disclaimer by the repository or a contract to the contrary between the repository, a certification authority, or a subscriber, a repository is liable for a loss incurred by a person reasonably relying on a digital signature verified by the public key listed in a certificate that has been suspended or revoked by the licensed certification authority that issued the certificate, if loss was incurred more than one business day after receipt by the repository of a request from the issuing licensed certification authority to publish notice of the suspension or revocation, and the repository had failed to publish the notice when the person relied on the digital signature.

(2) Unless waived, a recognized repository or the owner or operator of a recognized repository is:

(a) Not liable for failure to record publication of a suspension or revocation, unless the repository has received notice of publication and one business day has elapsed since the notice was received;

(b) Not liable under subsection (1) of this section in excess of the amount specified in the certificate as the recommended reliance limit;

(c) Not liable under subsection (1) of this section for:

(i) Punitive or exemplary damages; or

(ii) Damages for pain or suffering;

(d) Not liable for misrepresentation in a certificate published by a licensed certification authority;

(e) Not liable for accurately recording or reporting information that a licensed certification authority, or court clerk, or the secretary has published as required or permitted in this chapter, including information about suspension or revocation of a certificate;

(f) Not liable for reporting information about a certification authority, a certificate, or a subscriber, if the information is published as required or permitted in this chapter or a rule adopted by the secretary, or is published by order of the secretary in the performance of the licensing and regulatory duties of that office under this chapter.

(3) Consequential or incidental damages may be liquidated, or may otherwise be limited, altered, or excluded unless the limitation, alteration, or exclusion is unconscionable.

A recognized repository may liquidate, limit, alter, or exclude damages as provided in this subsection by agreement, or by notifying any person who will rely on a digital signature verified by the public key listed in a suspended or revoked certificate of the liquidation, limitation, alteration, or exclusion before the person relies on the certificate.

Sec. 19. RCW 43.105.320 and 1997 c 27 s 29 are each amended to read as follows:

The department of information services may become a licensed certification authority, under chapter 19.34 RCW, for the purpose of providing services to (state and local government) agencies, local governments, and other entities and persons for purposes of official state business. The department is not subject to RCW 19.34.100(1)(a). The department shall only issue certificates, as defined in RCW 19.34.020, in which the subscriber is:

1. The state of Washington or a department, office, or agency of the state;
2. A city, county, district, or other municipal corporation, or a department, office, or agency of the city, county, district, or municipal corporation;
3. An agent or employee of an entity described by subsection (1) or (2) of this section, for purposes of official public business; (local)
4. Any other person or entity engaged in matters of official public business, however, such certificates shall be limited only to matters of official public business; or
5. An applicant for a license as a certification authority for the purpose of compliance with RCW 19.34.100(1)(a).

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. (1) The office of financial management shall convene a task force, which shall include both governmental and nongovernmental representatives, to review the practice of the state issuing certificates to nongovernmental entities or individuals for the purpose of conducting official public business. The task force shall prepare and submit its findings to the appropriate legislative committees by December 31, 2000.

(2) This section expires June 30, 2001.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and takes effect immediately.”

RULING BY THE VICE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

Vice President Pro Tempore Bauer: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Thibaudeau to the scope and object of the amendments by Senators Benton and Roach on page 9, after line 14, and page 9, line 19, the President finds that Substitute Senate Bill No. 5587 is a measure which makes the following requirements of health carriers: (1) Disclosure of health care plan information; (2) A process for appealing denials of health care coverage; and (3) The protection of health care privacy. Each of these requirements is procedural in nature.

"The amendments would make a substantive coverage requirement of health carriers, namely the amendments would provide that health plans that cover chiropractic services must permit patients to see the chiropractor of their choice.

"The President, therefore, finds that the proposed amendments do change the scope and object of the bill and the point of order is well taken."

The amendments by Senators Benton and Roach on page 9, after line 14, and page 9, line 19, to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5587 were ruled out of order.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Thibaudeau, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Bill No. 5587 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY
Senator Benton: "Senator Wojahn, does this bill cover the Public Employees' Benefits Board, all of our state employees, the Basic Health Plan and all the other insurance offered by the public sector as well as the private sector?"

Senator Wojahn: "It only addresses the one code and that is the insurance code."

Senator Benton: "So, the answer is 'yes'--all of the public sector companies are covered under this plan?"

Senator Wojahn: "It only covers the insurance code and, therefore, it does not cover the items that Senator Deccio talked about. They are all public codes--it only covers one RCW."

The Vice President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5587.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5587 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 29; Nays, 17; Absent, 0; Excused, 3.

On page 3, after line 2, strike all material down to and including, line 25.
Renumber the subsections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

Senator Finkbeiner moved that the following striking amendment be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature intends to strengthen the link between postsecondary education and K-12 education by creating the Washington's promise scholarship program for academically successful high school graduates. The legislature finds that, increasingly, an individual's economic viability is contingent on postsecondary educational opportunities, yet the state's full financial obligation is eliminated after the twelfth grade. Students who work hard in kindergarten through twelfth grade and successfully complete high school with high academic marks may not have the financial ability to attend college because they cannot obtain financial aid or the financial aid is insufficient.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. (1) To qualify for a Washington's promise scholarship, a student must meet both the academic and financial requirements in this section.

(2)(a) Beginning with the graduating class of 1999 and ending with the graduating class of 2002, students in the top fifteen percent of each high school graduating class meet the academic requirement for the scholarship.
(b) Beginning with the tenth grade class taking the Washington assessment of student learning during the 2000-01 school year, students who pass all subjects on their first attempt meet the academic requirement for the scholarship.
(c) Beginning with the tenth grade class taking the preliminary scholastic assessment test during the 2000-01 school year, students who score in the top fifteen percent of those taking the preliminary scholastic assessment test meet the academic requirement for the scholarship.

(3) Students must graduate from high school or its equivalent.

(4) To meet the financial requirement of the scholarship, the student's family income must not exceed one hundred thirty-five percent of the state median family income."
NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. (1) The Washington's promise scholarship program shall be administered by the higher education coordinating board.

(2) The office of the superintendent of public instruction shall provide data on class ranking and Washington assessment of student learning scores to the higher education coordinating board to assist the higher education coordinating board in awarding scholarships. All student data should be considered confidential and used solely for the purposes of providing scholarships to eligible students.

(3)(a) For students eligible under section 2(2)(a) of this act, the office of the superintendent of public instruction shall provide the higher education coordinating board with the names, addresses, and unique numeric identifiers of students in the top fifteen percent of each respective high school graduating class in Washington state. This shall be done by the end of the summer following completion of the twelfth grade to enable students to use the Washington's promise scholarship upon completion of twelfth grade. The higher education coordinating board shall make awards to qualifying students in an amount equal to the cost of a full-time class load for one academic year at a public community college for each year of these students' eligibility.

(b) For students eligible under section 2(2)(b) of this act, the office of the superintendent of public instruction shall provide the higher education coordinating board with the names of tenth grade students who passed all subjects of the Washington assessment of student learning. This shall be done by the end of the summer following receipt of assessment scores to enable students to use the Washington's promise scholarship upon completion of twelfth grade. For each qualifying student, the higher education coordinating board shall establish an account and place in the account two years of tuition units at the community college rate, as provided for in chapter 28B.95 RCW.

(c) Students shall notify the higher education coordinating board of their preliminary scholastic aptitude test scores to determine eligibility under section 2(2)(c) of this act.

(4) The scholarship may only be used at accredited institutions of higher education in the state of Washington.

(5) Scholarships may not be transferred.

(6) Scholarships may not be refunded to students. Scholarships may only be returned to the higher education coordinating board.

(7) Scholarships awarded under this section may be used for college-related expenses, including but not limited to, tuition, room and board, books, materials, and transportation.

(8) The Washington's promise scholarship program is not intended to supplant any federal scholarship or tax program related to postsecondary education.

(9)(a) The Washington's promise scholarship account is created in the custody of the state treasurer. The account shall be a discrete nontreasury account retaining its interest earnings in accordance with RCW 43.79A.040.

(b) The higher education coordinating board shall deposit in the account all money received for the program. The account shall be self-sustaining and consist of funds appropriated by the legislature for the Washington's promise scholarship program, private contributions to the program, and receipts from refunds of tuition and fees.

(c) Expenditures from the account shall be used for scholarships to eligible students.

(d) With the exception of the operating costs associated with the management of the account by the treasurer's office as authorized in chapter 43.79A RCW, the account shall be credited with all investment income earned by the account.

(e) Disbursements from the account are exempt from appropriations and the allotment provisions of chapter 43.88 RCW.

(f) Disbursements from the account shall be made only on the authorization of the higher education coordinating board.

(10) The higher education coordinating board may adopt rules to implement this section.

Sec. 4. RCW 43.79A.040 and 1998 c 268 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Money in the treasurer's trust fund may be deposited, invested, and reinvested by the state treasurer in accordance with RCW 43.84.080 in the same manner and to the same extent as if the money were in the state treasury.

(2) All income received from investment of the treasurer's trust fund shall be set aside in an account in the treasury trust fund to be known as the investment income account.

(3) The investment income account may be utilized for the payment of purchased banking services on behalf of treasurer's trust funds including, but not limited to, depository, safekeeping, and disbursement functions for the state treasurer or affected state agencies. The investment income account is subject in all respects to chapter 43.88 RCW, but no appropriation is required for payments to financial institutions. Payments shall occur prior to distribution of earnings set forth in subsection (4) of this section.

(4)(a) Monthly, the state treasurer shall distribute the earnings credited to the investment income account to the state general fund except under (b) and (c) of this subsection.

(b) The following accounts and funds shall receive their proportionate share of earnings based upon each account's or fund's average daily balance for the period: The Washington's promise scholarship account, the Washington advanced college tuition payment program account, the agricultural local fund, the American Indian scholarship endowment fund, the Washington international exchange scholarship endowment fund, the energy account, the fair fund, the game farm alternative account, the grain inspection revolving fund, the rural rehabilitation account, the stadium and exhibition center account, the youth athletic facility grant account, the self-insurance revolving fund, the sulfur dioxide abatement account, and the children's trust fund. However, the earnings to be distributed shall first be reduced by the allocation to the state treasurer's service fund pursuant to RCW 43.08.190.

(c) The following accounts and funds shall receive eighty percent of their proportionate share of earnings based upon each account's or fund's average daily balance for the period: The advanced right of way revolving fund, the advanced environmental mitigation revolving account, the federal narcotics asset forfeitures account, the high occupancy vehicle account, the local rail service assistance account, and the miscellaneous transportation programs account.

(5) In conformance with Article II, section 37 of the state Constitution, no trust accounts or funds shall be allocated earnings without the specific affirmative directive of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. Sections 1 through 3 of this act constitute a new chapter in Title 28B RCW."

Debate ensued.

Senator Johnson demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The Vice President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the adoption of the striking amendment by Senator Finkbeiner to Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5598.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Snyder, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5608 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5608 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Snyder, the following striking amendment by Senators Snyder and Loveland was adopted:

On page 1, strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that the application of the manufacturer's machinery and equipment sales and use tax exemption has, in some cases, been difficult and confusing for taxpayers. In this act, the legislature clarifies the original intent of the exemption and its application by explicitly and clearly defining those items of machinery and equipment that are exempt from tax. This act clarifies the definition of "manufacturing" by defining those logging, rock crushing, and testing activities that are exempt and clarifies the definition of "used directly" by clearly stating that, in order to qualify for the exemption, the machinery and equipment must be used so that the major benefit is for exempt purposes.

Sec. 2. RCW 82.04.120 and 1998 c 168 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

"To manufacture" embraces all activities of a commercial or industrial nature wherein labor or skill is applied, by hand or machinery, to materials so that as a result thereof a new, different or useful substance or article of tangible personal property is produced for sale or commercial or industrial use, and shall include: (1) The production or fabrication of special made or custom made articles; (2) the production or fabrication of dental appliances, devices, restorations, substitutes, or other dental laboratory products by a dental laboratory or dental technician; (3) cutting, delimbing, and measuring of felled, cut, or taken trees; and (4) crushing and/or blending of rock, sand, stone, gravel, or ore.

"To manufacture" shall not include: Conditioning of seed for use in planting; cubing hay or alfalfa; activities which consist of cutting, grading, or ice glazing seafood which has been cooked, frozen, or canned outside this state; or the growing, harvesting, or producing of agricultural products.

Sec. 3. RCW 82.08.02565 and 1998 c 330 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The tax levied by RCW 82.08.020 shall not apply to sales to a manufacturer or processor for hire of machinery and equipment used directly in a manufacturing operation or research and development operation, or to sales of or charges made for labor and services rendered in respect to installing, repairing, cleaning, altering, or improving the machinery and equipment, but only when the purchaser provides the seller with an exemption certificate in a form and manner prescribed by the department by rule. The seller shall retain a copy of the certificate for the seller's files.

(a) "Machinery and equipment" means industrial fixtures, devices, and support facilities, and tangible personal property that becomes an ingredient or component thereof, including repair parts and replacement parts. "Machinery and equipment" includes pollution control equipment installed and used in a manufacturing operation or research and development operation to prevent air pollution, water pollution, or contamination that might otherwise result from the manufacturing operation or research and development operation.

(b) "Machinery and equipment" does not include:

(i) Hand-powered tools;

(ii) Property with a useful life of less than one year;

(iii) Buildings, other than machinery and equipment that is permanently affixed to or becomes a physical part of a building; and

(c) Machinery and equipment is "used directly" in a manufacturing operation or research and development operation if for at least fifty percent of its use, as measured by time, value, volume, or other measurement for comparison, the machinery and equipment:

(i) Acts upon or interacts with an item of tangible personal property;

(ii) Conveys, transports, handles, or temporarily stores an item of tangible personal property at the manufacturing site;

(iii) Controls, guides, measures, verifies, aligns, regulates, or tests tangible personal property either at the site or away from the site, such as road testing, air testing, or water testing of products, or other testing that cannot be done at the manufacturing site because of the nature of the testing involved;

(iv) Provides physical support for or access to tangible personal property;

(v) Produces power for, or lubricates machinery and equipment;

(vi) Produces another item of tangible personal property for use in the manufacturing operation or research and development operation;

(vii) Places tangible personal property in the container, package, or wrapping in which the tangible personal property is normally sold or transported; or

(viii) Is integral to research and development as defined in RCW 82.63.010.

(d) "Manufacturing operation" means the manufacturing of articles, substances, or commodities for sale as tangible personal property. A manufacturing operation begins at the point where the raw materials enter the manufacturing site and ends at the point where the processed material leaves the manufacturing site. The term also includes that portion of a cogeneration project that is used to generate power for consumption within the manufacturing site of which the cogeneration project is an integral part. The term does not include the production of electricity by a light and power business as defined in RCW 82.16.010 or the preparation of food products on the premises of a person selling food products at retail.

(e) "Cogeneration" means the simultaneous generation of electrical energy and low-grade heat from the same fuel.

(f) "Research and development operation" means engaging in research and development as defined in RCW 82.63.010 by a manufacturer or processor for hire.
NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. The legislature intends that sections 2 and 3 of this act be clarifying in nature and are retroactive in response to the administrative difficulties encountered in implementing the original legislation.

Sec. 5. RCW 82.08.02565 and 1999 c. . . s 3 (section 3 of this act) are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The tax levied by RCW 82.08.020 shall not apply to sales to a manufacturer or processor for hire of machinery and equipment used directly in a manufacturing operation or research and development operation, to sales to a person engaged in testing for a manufacturer or processor for hire of machinery and equipment used directly in a testing operation, or to sales of or charges made for labor and services rendered in respect to installing, repairing, cleaning, altering, or improving the machinery and equipment, but only when the purchaser provides the seller with an exemption certificate in a form and manner prescribed by the department by rule. The seller shall retain a copy of the certificate for the seller's files.

(2) For purposes of this section and RCW 82.12.02565:

(a) "Machinery and equipment" means industrial fixtures, devices, and support facilities, and tangible personal property that becomes an ingredient or component thereof, including repair parts and replacement parts. "Machinery and equipment" includes pollution control equipment installed and used in a manufacturing operation, testing operation, or research and development operation to prevent air pollution, water pollution, or contamination that might otherwise result from the manufacturing operation, testing operation, or research and development operation.

(b) "Machinery and equipment" does not include:

(i) Hand-powered tools;

(ii) Property with a useful life of less than one year;

(iii) Buildings, other than machinery and equipment that is permanently affixed to or becomes a physical part of a building; and

(iv) Building fixtures that are not integral to the manufacturing operation, testing operation, or research and development operation that are permanently affixed to and become a physical part of a building, such as utility systems for heating, ventilation, air conditioning, communications, plumbing, or electrical.

(c) Machinery and equipment is "used directly" in a manufacturing operation, testing operation, or research and development operation if for at least fifty percent of its use, as measured by time, value, volume, or other measurement for comparison, the machinery and equipment:

(i) Acts upon or interacts with an item of tangible personal property;

(ii) Conveys, transports, handles, or temporarily stores an item of tangible personal property at the manufacturing site or testing site;

(iii) Controls, guides, measures, verifies, aligns, regulates, or tests tangible personal property either at the site or away from the site, such as the road testing, air testing, or water testing of products, or other testing that cannot be done at the manufacturing site because of the nature of the testing involved;

(iv) Provides physical support for or access to tangible personal property;

(v) Produces power for, or lubricates machinery and equipment;

(vi) Produces another item of tangible personal property for use in the manufacturing operation, testing operation, or research and development operation;

(vii) Places tangible personal property in the container, package, or wrapping in which the tangible personal property is normally sold or transported; or

(viii) Is integral to research and development as defined in RCW 82.63.010.

(d) "Manufacturing operation" means the manufacturing of articles, substances, or commodities for sale as tangible personal property. A manufacturing operation begins at the point where the raw materials enter the manufacturing site and ends at the point where the processed material leaves the manufacturing site. The term also includes that portion of a cogeneration project that is used to generate power for consumption within the manufacturing site of which the cogeneration project is an integral part. The term does not include the production of food products on the premises of a person selling food products at retail.

(e) "Cogeneration" means the simultaneous generation of electrical energy and low-grade heat from the same fuel.

(f) "Research and development operation" means engaging in research and development as defined in RCW 82.63.010 by a manufacturer or processor for hire.

(g) "Testing" means activities performed to establish or determine the properties, qualities, and limitations of tangible personal property.

(h) "Testing operation" means the testing of tangible personal property for a manufacturer or processor for hire. A testing operation begins at the point where the tangible personal property enters the testing site and ends at the point where the tangible personal property leaves the testing site. The term also includes that portion of a cogeneration project that is used to generate power for consumption within the site of which the cogeneration project is an integral part. The term does not include the production of crude oil, natural gas, or natural gas liquids. of electricity by a light and power business as defined in RCW 82.16.010 or the preparation of food products on the premises of a person selling food products at retail.

Sec. 6. RCW 82.12.02565 and 1998 c 330 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

The provisions of this chapter shall not apply in respect to the use by a manufacturer or processor for hire of machinery and equipment used directly in a manufacturing operation or research and development operation or to the use by a person engaged in testing for a manufacturer or processor for hire of machinery and equipment used directly in a testing operation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. Sections 1 through 4 of this act are necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and take effect immediately.

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

“NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that chemically related claims continue to present unique challenges to the state industrial insurance system. Many of these claims are difficult to diagnose and create real hardship for individuals who suffer from related health problems. At the same time, many of these claims are not work-related, but nonetheless result in extensive litigation which imposes great costs and hardship on employers. The legislature further recognizes that the department of labor and industries, in order to accept a claim for a chemically related illness, or any other occupational disease, must meet a minimum standard of causality in the relationship between a putative exposure and a claimed illness.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A study shall be conducted to determine:

(1) Which occupational diseases should be considered chemically related illnesses so that an accurate annual count of such illnesses may be reported;

(2) The best method of reporting such diseases annually, including the most accurate set of available or obtainable data elements;

(3) A review of relevant scientific literature regarding the criteria for determining causality or whether there is a relation to employment in occupational diseases. This review shall at least include:
   (a) Methods generally accepted in the determination of whether an exposure or exposures are likely to be toxic and/or causative;
   (b) Methods generally accepted in the determination of the presence or absence of a definable clinical condition;
   (c) Methods generally accepted in determining the relationship between the exposure and the clinical condition;
   (d) How the methods enumerated in 3(a), 3(b), and 3(c) of this section relate to the current statutory, regulatory, case law, policy and claims administration criteria for determining causality in occupational diseases in Washington state;

(4) A review of industries with the highest incident rates of chemically related illnesses and an examination of incident rates and outcomes in other states with similar industries;

(5) The most appropriate approach to better utilize SHARP and University of Washington programs funded by the department of labor and industries to expand medical research and cooperative efforts in areas where existing research is not adequate.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The Workers’ Compensation Advisory Committee shall advise and provide oversight to the study described in section 3 of this act. The committee shall report back to the legislature on an interim basis by December 31, 1999, and with a final report by June 30, 2000. The final report shall make only recommendation which represent a consensus of the committee.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. (1) The department of labor and industries may contract with one or more experts in occupational medicine, industrial hygiene, toxicology, epidemiology, or any other appropriate field to conduct this study.

(2) The sum of $250,000 dollars shall be allocated from the Medical Aid Fund, with self-insured employers and the state fund each paying a proportionate share for the purposes of conducting the study.”

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The purpose of this chapter is to establish a certification program for managers of mobile home parks.
NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Advisory council" means the advisory council on mobile home park manager training and certification created in section 7 of this act.

(2) "Department" means the department of community, trade, and economic development.

(3) "Director" means the director of the department of community, trade, and economic development.

(4) "Mobile home park" has the same meaning as in RCW 59.20.030.

(5) "Mobile home park management" means those actions, functions, or duties related to the management of a mobile home park.

(6) "Mobile home park manager" means a person who performs mobile home park management duties and is required to be certified under this chapter to perform mobile home park management services and includes resident owners of mobile home parks who perform management duties.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. (1) A person shall not manage a mobile home park in this state for any mobile home park with more than fifteen mobile home lots until a certificate of registration certifying him or her as a mobile home park manager has been issued to him or her by the director in accordance with this chapter.

(2) A corporation, partnership, trust, association, sole proprietor, or other like organization may own or operate a mobile home park or engage in the business of mobile home park management without being certified if it employs, retains, or contracts with certified natural persons who are registered mobile home park managers subject to this act in the direct provision of the entities engaging in the business of mobile home park management.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. (1) The director shall not issue an initial certificate of registration to any person to act as a mobile home park manager until that person has:

(a) Executed a written application on a form prescribed by the director, subscribed and sworn to by the applicant;

(b) Attended and completed a department-approved training course for mobile home park managers;

(c) Passed an examination approved by the department which demonstrates that the applicant has a fundamental knowledge of the mobile home landlord-tenant act under chapter 59.20 RCW; and

(d) Paid to the director a fee as prescribed in section 8 of this act.

(2) Certificates of registration are effective on the date issued by the department and must be renewed annually.

(3) A certificate of registration may be renewed annually provided the applicant provides evidence of continuing education as approved by the department. This evidence must be submitted with an application to renew certification. A maximum of four hours of continuing education annually may be required by the department for renewal of certification.

(4) As of the effective date of this section, mobile home park managers may present a verification of having successfully completed a training course conducted by a state-wide trade association of mobile home parks, which will satisfy the initial training requirement for one year and entitle the park manager to certification for that year.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. The department shall contract with a state-wide trade association exclusively representing mobile home parks for the delivery of training courses required by this chapter. The trade association may charge a fee for delivery of the training courses. The department, in consultation with the advisory council created under section 7 of this act, shall approve the curriculum of the training program.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. (1) The department, in consultation with the advisory council created in section 7 of this act, shall administer, coordinate, and enforce this chapter, develop the examination of applicants, and be responsible for the granting of certificates to qualified persons.

(2) The department is authorized to adopt rules that are necessary to implement, enforce, and interpret this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. (1) There is created an advisory council on mobile home park manager training and certification. The council shall consist of four members as follows: Two members of the council shall be residents of mobile home parks and two members shall be owners of mobile home parks. The resident members of the council shall be selected from nominees submitted by the mobile home owners of America. The park owner members of the council shall be selected from nominees submitted by the manufactured housing communities of Washington. The director shall appoint the members for terms of two years. The advisory council shall select a chair from its members for a two-year term.

(2) Members of the council shall serve without compensation but are entitled to receive reimbursement for travel expenses as provided in RCW 43.03.050 and 43.03.060.

(3) The functions of the advisory council are to:

(a) Review, evaluate, and advise the department concerning revisions and adoption of rules affecting certification of mobile home park managers and the fees to be charged under section 8 of this act; and

(b) Develop, review, revise, and approve, in consultation with the department, the program for certification of mobile home park managers.
(4) The advisory council shall meet at the call of its chair, at the request of a majority of its membership, at the request of the department, or at such times as are prescribed by rule.

(5) The department shall provide adequate staff support to the advisory council to assist it in fulfilling its duties.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. The department shall charge fees for the application, issuance, and renewal of certificates of registration. The department shall set fees by rule.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. A violation of this chapter is a class 1 civil infraction under chapter 7.80 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. Sections 3 and 4 of this act take effect July 1, 2000.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. Sections 1 through 11 of this act constitute a new chapter in Title 18 RCW.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McCaslin: “Senator Winsley, on the first page, line 34, it says, 'without being certified if it employs, retains, or contracts with certified natural persons.' Now, what is a 'certified natural person'?”

Senator Winsley: “Someone like you.”

Senator McCaslin: “Someone like me or someone exactly like me?”

Senator Winsley: “Exactly like you.”

Senator McCaslin: “Are there people other than natural persons on this earth?”

SENATE BILL NO. 5599, by Senators Prentice, Deccio, Rasmussen, Jacobsen, Hale and Winsley (by request of Governor Locke)

Regulating temporary worker housing.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Prentice, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5599 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5599 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Prentice, the following striking amendment was adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 70.114A RCW to read as follows:
The department and the department of labor and industries shall adopt joint rules for the licensing, operation, and inspection of temporary worker housing, and the enforcement thereof. These rules shall establish standards that are at least as effective as the standards developed under the Washington industrial safety and health act, chapter 49.17 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 49.17 RCW to read as follows:
The department and the department of health shall adopt joint rules for the licensing, operation, and inspection of temporary worker housing, and the enforcement thereof. For the purposes of this section "temporary worker housing" has the same meaning as given in RCW 70.114A.020.

By December 1, 1999, the department and the department of labor and industries shall jointly establish a formal agreement that identifies the roles of each of the two agencies with respect to the enforcement of temporary worker housing operation standards.

The agreement shall, to the extent feasible, provide for inspection and enforcement actions by a single agency, and shall include measures to avoid multiple citations for the same violation.

By December 1, 1999, the department and the department of health shall jointly establish a formal agreement that identifies the roles of each of the two agencies with respect to the enforcement of temporary worker housing operation standards.

The agreement shall, to the extent feasible, provide for inspection and enforcement actions by a single agency, and shall include measures to avoid multiple citations for the same violation.

For the purposes of this section, "temporary worker housing" has the same meaning as provided in RCW 70.114A.020.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 70.114A RCW to read as follows:

(1) The department and the department of labor and industries are directed to engage in joint rule making to establish standards for cherry harvest temporary labor camps. These standards may include some variation from standards that are necessary for longer occupancies, provided they are at least as effective as the standards adopted under the Washington industrial safety and health act, chapter 49.17 RCW. As used in this section "cherry harvest temporary labor camp" means a place where housing and related facilities are provided to agricultural employees by agricultural employers for no more than twenty-one days in any one calendar year. Temporary labor camps licensed under this section may be occupied for more than twenty-one days if the following conditions are met: (a) The secretary or an authorized representative and the local health jurisdiction determine that the health and safety interests of the worker occupants would be better served by extending the occupancy than closing the camp at the end of the initial twenty-one day period; and (b) the operator requests an extension at least three days prior to the expiration of the initial twenty-one day period. The extended occupancy shall not exceed seven days.
(2) Facilities licensed under rules adopted under this section may not be used to provide housing for agricultural employees who are nonimmigrant aliens admitted to the United States for agricultural labor or services of a temporary or seasonal nature under section 1101(a)(15)(H)(ii)(a) of the immigration and nationality act (8 U.S.C. Sec. 1101(a)(15)(H)(ii)(a)).

(3) This section has no application to temporary worker housing constructed in conformance with codes listed in RCW 19.27.031 or 70.114A.081.

Sec. 6. RCW 70.114A.020 and 1995 c 220 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:
The definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Agricultural employee" means any person who renders personal services to, or under the direction of, an agricultural employer in connection with the employer's agricultural activity.

(2) "Agricultural employer" means any person engaged in agricultural activity, including the growing, producing, or harvesting of farm or nursery products, or engaged in the forestation or reforestation of lands, which includes but is not limited to the planting, transplanting, tubing, precommercial thinning, and thinning of trees and seedlings, the clearing, piling, and disposal of brush and slash, the harvest of Christmas trees, and other related activities.

(3) "Department" means the department of health.

(a) Provided and designated by the operator as either a sleeping area, living area, or both, for occupants; and

(b) Physically separated from other sleeping and common-use areas.

(5) "Enforcement" and "enforcement actions" include the authority to levy and collect fines.

(6) "Facility" means a sleeping place, drinking water, toilet, sewage disposal, food handling installation, or other installations required for compliance with this chapter.

(7) "Occupant" means a temporary worker or a person who resides with a temporary worker at the housing site.

(8) "Operator" means a person holding legal title to the land on which temporary worker housing is located. However, if the legal title and the right to possession are in different persons, "operator" means a person having the lawful control or supervision over the temporary worker housing under a lease or other arrangement.

(9) "Temporary worker" means (a person) an agricultural employee employed intermittently and not residing year-round at the same site.

(10) "Temporary worker housing" means a place, area, or piece of land where sleeping places or housing sites are provided by an agricultural employer for his or her agricultural employees or by another person, including a temporary worker housing operator, who is providing such accommodations for employees, for temporary, seasonal occupancy (and includes "labor camps" under RCW 70.54.110).

Sec. 7. RCW 70.114A.060 and 1995 c 220 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:
The secretary of the department or authorized representative may inspect housing covered by chapter 220, Laws of 1995, to enforce temporary worker housing rules adopted by the state board of health prior to the effective date of this act or the department, or when the secretary or representative has reasonable cause to believe that a violation of temporary worker housing rules adopted by the state board of health prior to the effective date of this act or the department is occurring or is being maintained. If the buildings or premises are occupied as a residence, a reasonable effort shall be made to obtain permission from the resident. If the premises or building is unoccupied, a reasonable effort shall be made to locate the owner or other person having charge or control of the building or premises and request entry. If consent for entry is not obtained, for whatever reason, the secretary or representative shall have recourse to every remedy provided by law to secure entry.

Sec. 8. RCW 70.114A.081 and 1998 c 37 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The department shall adopt by rule a temporary worker building code in conformance with the temporary worker housing standards developed under the Washington industrial safety and health act, chapter 49.17 RCW, (the rules adopted by the state board of health under RCW 70.54.110) and the following guidelines:

(a) The temporary worker building code shall provide construction standards for shelter and associated facilities that are safe, secure, and capable of withstanding the stresses and loads associated with their designated use, and to which they are likely to be subjected by the elements;

(b) The temporary worker building code shall permit and facilitate designs and formats that allow for maximum affordability, consistent with the provision of decent, safe, and sanitary housing;

(c) In developing the temporary worker building code the department of health shall consider:

(i) The need for dormitory type housing for groups of unrelated individuals; and

(ii) The need for housing to accommodate families;
(d) The temporary worker building code shall incorporate the opportunity for the use of construction alternatives and the use of new technologies that meet the performance standards required by law;

(e) The temporary worker building code shall include standards for heating and insulation appropriate to the type of structure and length and season of occupancy;

(f) The temporary worker building code shall include standards for temporary worker housing that are to be used only during periods when no auxiliary heat is required; and

(g) The temporary worker building code shall provide that persons operating temporary worker housing consisting of four or fewer dwelling units or combinations of dwelling units, dormitories, or spaces that house nine or fewer occupants may elect to comply with the provisions of the temporary worker building code, and that unless the election is made, such housing is subject to the codes adopted under RCW 19.27.031.

(2) In adopting the temporary worker building code, the department shall make exceptions to the codes listed in RCW 19.27.031 and chapter 19.27A RCW, in keeping with the guidelines set forth in this section. The initial temporary worker building code adopted by the department shall be substantially equivalent with the temporary worker building code developed by the state building code council as directed by section 8, chapter 220, Laws of 1995.

(3) The temporary worker building code authorized and required by this section shall be enforced by the department. The department shall have the authority to allow minor variations from the temporary worker building code that do not compromise the health or safety of workers. Procedures for requesting variations and guidelines for granting such requests shall be included in the rules adopted under this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. A new section is added to chapter 43.70 RCW to read as follows:
For the purposes of RCW 43.70.335, 43.70.337, and 43.70.340, "temporary worker housing" has the same meaning as provided in RCW 70.114A.020.

Sec. 10. RCW 43.70.335 and 1998 c 37 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:
(1) Any person providing temporary worker housing consisting of five or more dwelling units, or any combination of dwelling units, dormitories, or spaces that house ten or more occupants, or any person providing temporary worker housing who makes the election to comply with the temporary worker building code under RCW 70.114A.081(1)(g), shall secure an annual operating license prior to occupancy and shall pay a fee according to RCW 43.70.340. The license shall be conspicuously displayed on site.

(2) Licenses issued under this chapter may be suspended or revoked upon the failure or refusal of the person providing temporary worker housing to comply with ((the provisions of RCW 70.54.110, or of any)) rules adopted under this section or chapter 70.114A RCW by the department. All such proceedings shall be governed by the provisions of chapter 34.05 RCW.

(3) The department may assess a civil fine in accordance with RCW 43.70.095 for failure or refusal to obtain a license prior to occupancy of temporary worker housing. The department may refund all or part of the civil fine collected once the operator obtains a valid operating license.

(4) Civil fines under this section shall not exceed twice the cost of the license plus the cost of the initial on-site inspection for the first violation of this section, and shall not exceed ten times the cost of the license plus the cost of the initial on-site inspection for second and subsequent violations within any five-year period. The department may adopt rules as necessary to assure compliance with this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. A new section is added to chapter 70.114A RCW to read as follows:
The department shall prepare a report to the legislature on utilization of the temporary worker building code authorized by RCW 70.114A.081. The report shall include the number of housing units, number of families or individuals housed, number of growers obtaining permits, the geographic distribution of the permits, and recommendations of changes in the temporary worker building code necessary to avoid health and safety problems for the occupants. The report shall be transmitted to the senate committee on commerce, trade and financial institutions and the house of representatives committee on economic development, housing and trade by December 15, 2000, and an update shall be transmitted every two years thereafter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. The following acts or parts of acts are each repealed:
(1) RCW 43.70.330 and 1998 c 245 s 74, 1995 c 399 s 75, & 1990 c 253 s 2; and
(2) RCW 70.54.110 and 1995 c 220 s 11, 1990 c 253 s 4, & 1969 ex.s. c 231 s 1.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. Rules adopted under RCW 70.54.110 prior to the effective date of this act shall remain in effect until modified.”

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Prentice, the following title amendment was adopted:
On page 1, line 2 of the title, after “duties;” strike the remainder of the title and insert “amending RCW 70.114A.020, 70.114A.060, 70.114A.081, and 43.70.335; adding new sections to chapter 70.114A RCW; adding new sections to chapter 49.17 RCW; adding a new section to chapter 43.70 RCW; creating a new section; and repealing RCW 43.70.330 and 70.54.110.”

(b) The product name, brand, and grade. The grade is not required if no primary nutrients are claimed;
(c) The guaranteed analysis;
(d) The name and address of the registrant or licensee. The name and address of the manufacturer, if different from the registrant or licensee, may also be stated;
(e) Any information required under WAC 296-62-054;
(f) (i) For products labeled by July 1, 1999, at a minimum, the following labeling statement: "This product has been registered with the Washington State Department of Agriculture. When applied as directed, this fertilizer meets the Washington standards for arsenic, cadmium, cobalt, mercury, molybdenum, lead, nickel, selenium, and zinc. You have the right to receive specific information about Washington standards from the distributor of this product.");

(g) After July 1, 1999, the label must also state: "Information received by the Washington State Department of Agriculture regarding the components in this product is available on the internet at http://www.wa.gov/agr/(i);"

(ii) For products not labeled by July 1, 1999, and for all products after July 1, 2000, at a minimum, the following statement: "Information regarding the levels of metals in this product is available on the internet at http://www.wa.gov/agr/;" and

(g) Other information as required by the department by rule.

(2) If a commercial fertilizer is distributed in bulk, a written or printed statement of the information required by subsection (1) of this section shall accompany delivery and be supplied to the purchaser at the time of delivery.

(3) Each delivery of a customer-formula fertilizer shall be subject to containing those ingredients specified by the purchaser, which ingredients shall be shown on the statement or invoice with the amount contained therein, and a record of all invoices of customer-formula grade mixes shall be kept by the registrant or licensee for a period of twelve months and shall be available to the department upon request: PROVIDED, That each such delivery shall be accompanied by either a statement, invoice, a delivery slip, or a label if bagged, containing the following information: The net weight; the brand; the guaranteed analysis which may be stated to the nearest tenth of a percent or to the next lower whole number; the name and address of the registrant or licensee, or manufacturer, or both; and the name and address of the purchaser.

(4) Any person who distributes a commercial fertilizer in this state shall make available to the purchaser on request a copy of standards for metals established in RCW 15.54.800."

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. By January 1, 2000, the department of agriculture shall establish guidelines recommending the size of the type for the label requirement in RCW 15.54.340(1)(f).

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 15.54 RCW to read as follows:

Specially fertilizers are exempt from the labeling requirements in RCW 15.54.340(1)(f) if there is a label setting forth in clearly legible and conspicuous form the registrant's or licensee's website placed on or affixed to the package. In order to qualify for this exemption, the website must also have a hypertext link to http://www.wa.gov/agr and contain a statement that information on the metal content of the product is available on that website.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and takes effect July 1, 1999.*

SENATE BILL NO. 6035, by Senator Swecker

Creating the year 2000 citizens' protection act.
On motion of Senator Heavey, Substitute Senate Bill No. 6035 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 6035 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Swecker, the following striking amendment by Senators Swecker and Heavey was adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. (1) The legislature finds that:
(a) Society is heavily reliant upon computers, technology, and the rapid electronic transfer and exchange of accurate information and data.
(b) Society relies heavily upon computer technology for most aspects of daily living and business, including, but not limited to, financial transactions.
(c) The rapid growth of technology has often outpaced the capabilities of the electronic equipment, software, and hardware that our society utilizes for the exchange and transfer of data and other information.
(d) Recently developed computer technology is the operational basis for much of our current hardware and software, and this technology may not recognize the year 2000 date change.
(e) If computer technology fails to recognize the year 2000 date change, many computer-based systems may fail or cause incorrect data or other information to be processed. This potentially world-wide deficiency in computers is often referred to as the "Y2K bug" and may cause significant problems in the transfer and exchange of data and information in the year 2000 and beyond.
(2) The legislature determines that in order to protect the citizens of the state of Washington, it is appropriate to limit their liability against adverse financial ramifications resulting from year 2000 failures associated with electronic computing devices.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 4.24 RCW to read as follows:
The definitions in this section apply throughout sections 3 through 7 of this act unless the context clearly requires otherwise.
(1) "Electronic computing device" means any computer hardware or software, computer chip, embedded chip, process control equipment, or other information system that:
(a) Is used to capture, store, manipulate, or process data; or
(b) Controls, monitors, or assists in the operation of physical apparatus that is not primarily used as a computer but that relies on automation or digital technology to function, including, but not limited to, vehicles, vessels, buildings, structures, facilities, elevators, medical equipment, traffic signals, and factory machinery.
(2) "Person" means a natural person.
(3) "Year 2000 failure" means:
(a) With respect to an electronic computing device, a failure, including an electrical or telecommunications failure, that prevents such electronic computing device from accurately interpreting, producing, computing, generating, accounting for, processing, calculating, comparing, or sequencing date or time data from, into, or between the years 1999 and 2000, or with regard to leap year calculations; or
(b) An inability of a business to perform an intended or requested function because of the system failure of another party, including, but not limited to, the failure of a governmental body to provide data, transportation delays, energy failures, or communication failures.
(4) This section expires December 31, 2006.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 4.24 RCW to read as follows:
(1) A person has an affirmative defense to any claim or action, based on a contract, brought against the person if he or she establishes that:
(a) The default, failure to pay, breach, omission, or other violation that is the basis of the claim against him or her was caused, in whole or in part, by a year 2000 failure associated with an electronic computing device;
(b) The year 2000 failure being asserted was not proximately caused by a failure of the person to update an electronic computing device, that is under his or her dominion or control, to be year 2000 compliant; and
(c) If it were not for the year 2000 failure, the person would have been able to satisfy the contractual obligation that was the basis of the claim.
(2) If an affirmative defense as set forth in subsection (1) of this section is established, then the person or entity making the claim may not reassert the claim against which the affirmative defense was asserted for a period of thirty days from the date on which the court dismissed the case as a result of the affirmative defense. Any statute of limitations applicable to the claim shall be tolled for forty-five days upon the dismissal of the case under this section.
(3) The dismissal of an action as the result of the affirmative defense under this section does not impair, extinguish, discharge, satisfy, or otherwise affect the underlying obligation that is the basis of the claim against which the affirmative defense was asserted. However, the inability of a party to bring the claim based upon the obligation is delayed as set forth in subsection (2) of this section.

(4) A person who has established an affirmative defense as set forth in subsection (1) of this section may dispute directly with a credit reporting agency operating in this state any item of information in the person's consumer file relating to the subject of the affirmative defense. The dispute shall be filed in accordance with RCW 19.182.090(6). If requested by the person under this subsection (4), the credit reporting agency shall furnish a statement, made in accordance with RCW 19.182.090(7), to the person and include the statement in the person's consumer file. The credit reporting agency may not charge the person a fee for the inclusion of this statement in the person's consumer file.

(5) This section does not affect those transactions upon which a default has occurred before any disruption of financial or data transfer operations attributable to the year 2000 date change.

(6) This section does not apply to or affect any contract that specifically provides for the year 2000 failure.

(7) This section does not apply to causes of action that arise on or after December 31, 2003.

(8) This section expires December 31, 2006.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 48.18 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Any person who has an insurance policy with an insurer doing business in this state and subject to regulation by the commissioner and who has his or her insurance policy canceled, not renewed, or coverage modified in any way for failure to pay a premium on such policy shall have the policy reinstated with full coverage back to the date the policy was canceled, with no penalties or interest, if the person establishes that:

(a) The failure to pay was caused, in whole or in part, by a year 2000 failure associated with an electronic computing device;

(b) The year 2000 failure being asserted was not proximately caused by a failure of the person to update an electronic computing device, that is under his or her dominion or control, to be year 2000 compliant; and

(c) If it were not for the year 2000 failure, the person would have been able to satisfy the payment of premiums in a timely manner.

Payment of such premiums shall be made within thirty days after the year 2000 failure has been corrected.

(2) The definitions in section 2 of this act apply to this section unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(3) This section does not affect those transactions upon which a default has occurred before any disruption of financial or data transfer operations attributable to the year 2000 date change.

(4) This section does not apply to causes of action that arise on or after December 31, 2003.

(5) This section expires December 31, 2006.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 51.04 RCW to read as follows:

(1) No interest or penalties shall be imposed on any employer because of the failure to pay any premium required by this title to be made to the state treasury for the accident fund, the medical aid fund, the supplemental pension fund, or any other fund created under this title if the employer establishes that:

(a) The failure to pay was caused, in whole or in part, by a year 2000 failure associated with an electronic computing device;

(b) The year 2000 failure being asserted was not proximately caused by a failure of the person to update an electronic computing device, that is under his or her dominion or control, to be year 2000 compliant; and

(c) If it were not for the year 2000 failure, the employer would have been able to satisfy the payment of premiums in a timely manner.

Payment of such premiums shall be made within thirty days after the year 2000 failure has been corrected.

(2) The definitions in section 2 of this act apply to this section unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(3) This section does not affect those transactions upon which a default has occurred before any disruption of financial or data transfer operations attributable to the year 2000 date change.

(4) This section does not apply to causes of action that arise on or after December 31, 2003.

(5) This section expires December 31, 2006.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. A new section is added to chapter 82.32 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Notwithstanding any other provision in this chapter, no interest or penalties may be imposed on any person because of the failure to pay excise taxes on or before the date due for payment if the person establishes that:

(a) The failure to pay was caused, in whole or in part, by a year 2000 failure associated with an electronic computing device;
The year 2000 failure being asserted was not proximately caused by a failure of the person to update an electronic computing device, that is under his or her dominion or control, to be year 2000 compliant; and

(c) If it were not for the year 2000 failure, the person would have been able to satisfy the payment of taxes in a timely manner.

Payment of such taxes shall be made within thirty days after the year 2000 failure has been corrected.

(2) The definitions in section 2 of this act apply to this section unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(3) This section does not affect those transactions upon which a default has occurred before any disruption of financial or data transfer operations attributable to the year 2000 date change.

(4) This section does not apply to causes of action that arise on or after December 31, 2003.

(5) This section expires December 31, 2006.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. A new section is added to chapter 84.56 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Notwithstanding any other provision in this chapter, no interest or penalties may be imposed on any person because of the failure to pay real or personal property taxes on or before the date due for payment if the person establishes that:

(a) The failure to pay was caused, in whole or in part, by a year 2000 failure associated with an electronic computing device;

(b) The year 2000 failure being asserted was not proximately caused by a failure of the person to update an electronic computing device, that is under his or her dominion or control, to be year 2000 compliant; and

(c) If it were not for the year 2000 failure, the person would have been able to satisfy the payment of taxes in a timely manner.

Payment of such taxes shall be made within thirty days after the year 2000 failure has been corrected.

(2) The definitions in section 2 of this act apply to this section unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(3) This section does not affect those transactions upon which a default has occurred before any disruption of financial or data transfer operations attributable to the year 2000 date change.

(4) This section does not apply to causes of action that arise on or after December 31, 2003.

(5) This section expires December 31, 2006.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. This act shall be known and cited as the year 2000 citizens' protection act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and takes effect immediately."

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Swecker, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 1 of the title, after "act," strike the remainder of the title and insert "adding new sections to chapter 4.24 RCW; adding a new section to chapter 48.18 RCW; adding a new section to chapter 51.04 RCW; adding a new section to chapter 82.32 RCW; adding a new section to chapter 84.56 RCW; creating new sections; providing expiration dates; and declaring an emergency."

On motion of Senator Swecker, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6035 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6035.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6035 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yea, 47; Nays, 0; Absent, 0; Excused, 2.

Excused: Senators Bauer and Rossi - 2.

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6035, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.
SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5652, by Senators Bauer and Sellar

Increasing statutory limits on appraiser fees in eminent domain proceedings.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Heavey, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 5652 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage. Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 5652.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 5652 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 47; Nays, 0; Absent, 0; Excused, 2.

Excused: Senators Bauer and Rossi - 2.

SENATE BILL NO. 5652, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5492, by Senators Haugen, Long, Shin, Goings and Winsley

Extending protection of transit employees and customers.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Heavey, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5492 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5492 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

Senator Bauer moved that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 2, line 1, after "district" insert "or a school employee"

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Finkbeiner: "I reluctantly rise to challenge the scope and object of the amendment. While I think the amendment probably is a good one, it looks like it is a bit outside of the original scope and object of the bill, which relates specifically to assault on transit employees. This amendment would expand that quite someway to make it a third degree assault on any school employee. Since the underlying bill does not deal with school employees, I think that probably goes a little too far."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Goings, further consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5492 was deferred.

SECOND READING
SENATE BILL NO. 5121, by Senator Hargrove

Establishing a carbon storage program.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Jacobsen, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5121 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5121 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Jacobsen, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5121 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Tim Sheldon: "Senator Hargrove, I know carbon is quite heavy, but could you explain that process of how it sinks?"

Senator Hargrove: "I'll talk to you later about that."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5121.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5121 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 48; Nays, 0; Absent, 0; Excused, 1.

Excused: Senator Rossi - 1.

SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5121, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Honeyford, Senator Deccio was excused.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5102, by Senators Haugen, Snyder, Winsley, Goings, Gardner, T. Sheldon, Bauer, Rasmussen, Hale, McCaslin, Sellar, Swecker, Patterson, Morton, Prentice, Oke, Kohl-Welles and Costa

Increasing the level of training for fire fighters.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Haugen, Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5102 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5102 and the second substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Haugen, the rules were suspended, Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5102 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.
POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Morton: "Senator Haugen, is it voluntary for the volunteers? Does the voluntary fire department have to participate in this program or is it by choice?"

Senator Haugen: "It is by choice. If they want to receive any funding, they have to take part in the program. The program will be offered in many different ways, because our areas in the state are so diverse. Some of them will be getting it through community colleges, some from regional training centers and some by other volunteers going in and helping in training them. It is voluntary at this point."

Senator Morton: "Thank you."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5102.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5102 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 46; Nays, 0; Absent, 1; Excused, 2.

Absent: Senator Hargrove - 1.

Excused: Senators Deccio and Rossi - 2.

SECOND SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5102, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5312, by Senators Costa, Deccio, Winsley, Wojahn, Thibaudeau and Kohl-Welles

Providing for the prevention of workplace violence in health care settings.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Thibaudeau, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5312 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5312 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Thibaudeau, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5312 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Excused: Senators Bauer, Deccio and Rossi - 3.
SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5312, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5492 and the pending amendment by Senator Bauer on page 2, line 1, deferred earlier today.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Finkbeiner to the scope and object of the amendment by Senator Bauer on page 2, line 1, the President finds that Substitute Senate Bill No. 5492 is a measure which makes it a Class C felony to assault certain transit company employees and school district employees involved in transit services. The bill is limited to transit workers.

"The amendment by Senator Bauer would make it a Class C felony to assault any school employee.

"The President, therefore, finds that the proposed amendment does change the scope and object of the bill and the point of order is well taken."

The amendment by Senator Bauer on page 2, line 1, to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5492 was ruled out of order.

On page 17, beginning on line 20, strike all of section 19 and insert the following:

"Sec. 19. RCW 83.100.020 and 1998 c 292 s 401 are each amended to read as follows:

As used in this chapter:
(1) "Decedent" means a deceased individual;
(2) "Department" means the department of revenue, the director of that department, or any employee of the department exercising authority lawfully delegated to him by the director;
(3) "Federal credit" means (a) for a transfer, the maximum amount of the credit for state taxes allowed by section 2011 of the Internal Revenue Code; and (b) for a generation-skipping transfer, the maximum amount of the credit for state taxes allowed by section 2604 of the Internal Revenue Code;
(4) "Federal return" means any tax return required by chapter 11 or 13 of the Internal Revenue Code;
(5) "Federal tax" means (a) for a transfer, a tax under chapter 11 of the Internal Revenue Code; and (b) for a generation-skipping transfer, the tax under chapter 13 of the Internal Revenue Code;
(6) "Generation-skipping transfer" means a "generation-skipping transfer" as defined and used in section 2611 of the Internal Revenue Code;
(7) "Gross estate" means "gross estate" as defined and used in section 2031 of the Internal Revenue Code;
(8) "Nonresident" means a decedent who was domiciled outside Washington at his death;
(9) "Person" means any individual, estate, trust, receiver, cooperative association, club, corporation, company, firm, partnership, joint venture, syndicate, or other entity and, to the extent permitted by law, any federal, state, or other governmental unit or subdivision or agency, department, or instrumentality thereof;
(10) "Person required to file the federal return" means any person required to file a return required by chapter 11 or 13 of the Internal Revenue Code, such as the personal representative of an estate; or a transferor, trustee, or beneficiary of a generation-skipping transfer; or a qualified heir with respect to qualified real property, as defined and used in section 2032A(c) of the Internal Revenue Code;
(11) "Property" means (a) for a transfer, property included in the gross estate; and (b) for a generation-skipping transfer, all real and personal property subject to the federal tax;
(12) "Resident" means a decedent who was domiciled in Washington at time of death;
(13) "Transfer" means "transfer" as used in section 2001 of the Internal Revenue Code, or a disposition or cessation of qualified use as defined and used in section 2032A(c) of the Internal Revenue Code;
(14) "Trust" means "trust" under Washington law and any arrangement described in section 2652 of the Internal Revenue Code; and
(15) "Internal Revenue Code" means, for the purposes of this chapter and RCW 83.110.010, the United States Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended or renumbered on January 1, (4998) 1999."
Sec. 20. RCW 11.02.005 and 1998 c 292 s 117 are each amended to read as follows:
When used in this title, unless otherwise required from the context:

(1) "Personal representative" includes executor, administrator, special administrator, and guardian or limited guardian and special representative.

(2) "Net estate" refers to the real and personal property of a decedent exclusive of homestead rights, exempt property, the family allowance and enforceable claims against, and debts of, the deceased or the estate.

(3) "Representation" refers to a method of determining distribution in which the takers are in unequal degrees of kinship with respect to the intestate, and is accomplished as follows: After first determining who, of those entitled to share in the estate, are in the nearest degree of kinship, the estate is divided into equal shares, the number of shares being the sum of the number of persons who survive the intestate who are in the nearest degree of kinship and the number of persons in the same degree of kinship who died before the intestate but who left issue surviving the intestate; each share of a deceased person in the nearest degree shall be divided among those of the deceased person's issue who survive the intestate and have no ancestor then living who is in the line of relationship between them and the intestate, those more remote in degree taking together the share which their ancestor would have taken had he or she survived the intestate. Posthumous children are considered as living at the death of their parent.

(4) "Issue" includes all the lawful lineal descendants of the ancestor and all lawfully adopted children.

(5) "Degree of kinship" means the degree of kinship as computed according to the rules of the civil law; that is, by counting upward from the intestate to the nearest common ancestor and then downward to the relative, the degree of kinship being the sum of these two counts.

(6) "Heirs" denotes those persons, including the surviving spouse, who are entitled under the statutes of intestate succession to the real and personal property of a decedent on the decedent's death intestine.

(7) "Real estate" includes, except as otherwise specifically provided herein, all lands, tenements, and hereditaments, and all rights thereto, and all interest therein possessed and claimed in fee simple, or for the life of a third person.

(8) "Will" means an instrument validly executed as required by RCW 11.12.020.

(9) "Codicil" means a will that modifies or partially revokes an existing earlier will. A codicil need not refer to or be attached to the earlier will.

(10) "Guardian" or "limited guardian" means a personal representative of the person or estate of an incompetent or disabled person as defined in RCW 11.88.010 and the term may be used in lieu of "personal representative" wherever required by context.

(11) "Administrator" means a personal representative of the estate of a decedent and the term may be used in lieu of "personal representative" wherever required by context.

(12) "Executor" means a personal representative of the estate of a decedent appointed by will and the term may be used in lieu of "personal representative" wherever required by context.

(13) "Special administrator" means a personal representative of the estate of a decedent appointed for limited purposes and the term may be used in lieu of "personal representative" wherever required by context.

(14) "Trustee" means an original, added, or successor trustee and includes the state, or any agency thereof, when it is acting as the trustee of a trust to which chapter 11.98 RCW applies.

(15) "Nonprobate asset" means those rights and interests of a person having beneficial ownership of an asset that pass on the person's death under a written instrument or arrangement other than the person's will. "Nonprobate asset" includes, but is not limited to, a right or interest passing under a joint tenancy with right of survivorship, joint bank account with right of survivorship, payable on death or trust bank account, transfer on death security or security account, deed or conveyance if possession has been postponed until the death of the person, trust of which the person is grantor and that becomes effective or irrevocable only upon the person's death, community property agreement, individual retirement account or bond, or note or other contract the payment or performance of which is affected by the death of the person. "Nonprobate asset" does not include: A payable-on-death provision of a life insurance policy, annuity, or other similar contract, or of an employee benefit plan; a right or interest passing by descent and distribution under chapter 11.04 RCW; a right or interest if, before death, the person has irrevocably transferred the right or interest, the person has waived the power to transfer it or, in the case of contractual arrangement, the person has waived the unilateral right to rescind or modify the arrangement; or a right or interest held by the person solely in a fiduciary capacity. For the definition of "nonprobate asset" relating to revocation of a provision for a former spouse upon dissolution of marriage or declaration of invalidity of marriage, RCW 11.07.010(5) applies. For the definition of "nonprobate asset" relating to revocation of a provision for a former spouse upon dissolution of marriage or declaration of invalidity of marriage, see RCW 11.07.010(5). For the definition of "nonprobate asset" relating to testamentary disposition of nonprobate assets, see RCW 11.11.010(7).

(16) "Internal Revenue Code" means the United States Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended or renumbered on January 1, 1999.

Words that import the singular number may also be applied to the plural of persons and things.
Words importing the masculine gender only may be extended to females also.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 21. The following acts or parts of acts are each repealed:

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hochstatter: "Senator Gardner, my understanding is--and I hate to have understanding yield to passion--but my understanding is that there are two elections. There is the election to decide to go to the strong mayor plan and in that decision to change, is that when the mayor is elected and then there is a two year wait--could you run through, maybe, an example to help me understand this?"

Senator Gardner: "Certainly, thank you. This came up, because this just happened in Ferndale in Whatcom County. In Ferndale, they decided they did not want a city manager, they wanted an elected mayor. In making that change, they also terminated all seven of their city council members, so that by electing to change their form of government, in effect, they put everybody out of office. The entire city government ceased to exist and they then had to run for office. They not only had to hold the general election, but they also had to hold the primary election. So, they held the primary election to change the form of government, then they held a primary election, then they held a general election.

"It was pretty expensive and not really the intent of just changing the government. It caught up the council members unintentionally. The two years has to do with the process by which you change governments. You have a petition, it is brought in and certified, an election is held on whether or not to change the form of government. If that election fails, the proponents can go out again, get another petition, have it certified and six months later require another election. It just becomes expensive and onerous and we felt that a two year interval, as is in statute for other purposes, made more sense."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Betti Sheldon, further consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5718 was deferred.

SENATE RESOLUTION 1999-8648

By Senators Kohl-Welles, Spanel, Gardner, Jacobsen, B. Sheldon, Fraser, Thibaudeau, McAuliffe, Rasmussen, Snyder, Honeyford, Roach and Benton

WHEREAS, The Washington State commercial fishing fleet leaves in March and the Blessing of the Fleet will occur at Fisherman's Terminal in Ballard, March 14, 1999; and
WHEREAS, The Washington State commercial fishing fleet leaves Blaine waters in May and the Blessing of the Fleet will occur at Saw Tooth Dock in Blaine Harbor, May 2, 1999; and
WHEREAS, The Washington State commercial fishing fleet is one of the world's largest distant water fleets; and
WHEREAS, The commercial fishing industry directly and indirectly employs thousands of people; and
WHEREAS, The harvest annually generates over a billion dollars in economic contributions to the Washington State economy; and
WHEREAS, The commercial fishing industry is the fourth largest industry in Washington State; and
WHEREAS, The life of a fisher is one fraught with danger and hardship that most of us will never face; and
WHEREAS, Strength and courage are basic requirements for anyone who chooses to work on the high seas, battling the elements in order to harvest the nature's bounty; and
WHEREAS, The men and women who work on boats, living between God and the sea, and never certain which will claim them first, deserve our admiration, our thanks, and, when tragedy strikes, our remembrance; and
WHEREAS, Too often fishers do lose their lives, and their deaths devastate not only the tightly knit fabric that is the community of fishing families in our region, but also our entire state;
NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington State Senate honor and remember Washington fishermen George Schumack and Dave Corey Williamson who lost their lives in Washington waters in 1998, and Dennis Smith of Blaine and Rod Kurtz Harvie of Bellingham who lost their lives in San Francisco Bay; and
BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Washington State Senate extend its condolences to the families and friends of all our fishermen and women who have lost their lives at sea, and wish the entire commercial fishing fleet a safe and prosperous season and that all fishing men and women will return home safely to their families, friends, and communities.

APPOINTMENT OF RUSSELL D. HAUGE

The Secretary called the roll. The appointment was confirmed by the following vote: Yeas, 47; Nays, 0; Absent, 0; Excused, 2.

Excused: Senators Costa and Hargrove - 2.

MOTION

At 10:18 a.m., on motion of Senator Betti Sheldon, the Senate was declared to be at ease.

The Senate was called to order at 11:47 a.m. by President Owen.

SECOND READING
SENATE BILL NO. 5811, by Senators Brown, Prentice and Kohl-Welles

Creating a program to advance universal telecommunications service.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Brown, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5811 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5811 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

Senator Rossi moved that the following amendment be adopted:
On page 1, after line 10, insert the following:

“NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. Sections 3 through 13 of this act expire five years after the date on which the first contribution is made to the universal service fund.”

Renumber the sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senator Rossi on page 1, after line 10, to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5811.

The motion by Senator Rossi failed and the amendment was not adopted.

MOTION

Senator Brown moved that the following amendment be adopted:
On page 1, after line 10, insert the following:

“NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. Universal telephone service, which is the wide availability of basic telephone service at reasonably affordable rates, has long been the policy of the state of Washington and is essential to the economic well-being of the state. In order to comply with the 1996 federal telecommunications act, the state must modify its universal service program so as to meet the twin goals, under the federal act, of competition and reasonable rates for basic phone service. In making the transition to a more competitive telecommunications market, the legislature intends to minimize the shifting of costs among classes of customers, so that no class of customers bears a disproportionately adverse change in its share of universal service costs.”

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senator Brown on page 1, after line 10, to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5811.

The motion by Senator Brown carried and the amendment was adopted.

MOTION

Senator Finkbeiner moved that the following amendment be adopted:
On page 3, line 27, after “basis” insert “, except radio communications service companies not designated as eligible to receive support from the fund”

Debate ensued.

Senator Johnson demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

Further debate ensued.
The President declared the question before the Senate to the roll call on the adoption of the amendment by Senator Finkbeiner on page 3, line 27, to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5811.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 21; Nays, 28; Absent, 0; Excused, 0.

MOTION

Senator Rossi moved that the following amendments be considered simultaneously and be adopted:

On page 3, line 32, after "revenue" insert "and the fund shall not exceed one hundred ten million dollars"

On page 3, line 33, after "carriers" insert "or one hundred ten million dollars"

Debate ensued.

Senator Johnson demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on adoption of the amendments by Senator Rossi on page 3, lines 32 and 33, to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5811.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the amendments were not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 22; Nays, 27; Absent, 0; Excused, 0.

MOTION

Senator Eide moved that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 3, after line 36, insert the following:

“(4) Any carrier that discloses on its customers’ bills the effect of its contribution to the fund shall also disclose the effect, whether direct or indirect, on customers’ bills of reductions in rates by eligible telecommunications carriers to offset the additional universal service support.”

Renumber the remaining subsection consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senator Eide on page 3, after line 36, to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5811.

The motion by Senator Eide carried and the amendment was adopted on a rising vote.

MOTION

Senator Rossi moved that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 4, after line 18, insert the following:

“NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. A telecommunications carrier may not recover from any customer, group of customers or customer class more than the universal service contribution costs attributable to that customer, group of customers or customer class.”
Renumber the sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

Debate ensued.

Senator Finkbeiner demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the adoption of the amendment by Senator Rossi on page 4, after line 18, to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5811.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 22; Nays, 27;

Absent, 0; Excused, 0.

MOTION

Senator Rossi moved that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 4, line 18, after "made." insert "The commission shall require eligible carriers subject to rate regulation to reduce their intrastate rates by an amount equal to any new explicit universal service support received by that carrier. To the extent possible, the commission shall require each eligible carrier subject to rate regulation to reduce rates in the same amount and manner as it recovers universal service contribution costs from its customers."

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senator Rossi on page 4, line 18, to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5811.

The motion by Senator Rossi failed and the amendment was not adopted.

MOTION

Senator McDonald moved that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 5, after line 14, strike everything through "act." on line 27.

Renumber the sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senator McDonald on page 5, after line 14, to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5811.

The motion by Senator McDonald failed and the amendment was not adopted.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Brown, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5811 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator West: "Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. I submit that Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5811 requires a two-thirds vote under Initiative 601 and I would ask that the President rule accordingly. Regardless of what it may be called in the bill, in artful drafting, the term 'contribution'--the President must first decide whether it is a fee or whether it is a tax requiring a two-thirds vote. It obviously raises state revenues. The President, in the past, has ruled that there are two kinds of fees. Fees that are regulatory or fees that are license fees that cover the cost of administering a regulatory program or user fees that are imposed on users--only those users of a public service or a public facility. Any other general government revenue would be a tax and I would ask the President there.
"Secondly, in arguing that 601 applies, I submit that because Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5811 is intended to benefit every person in the state of Washington--the general citizenry who use telephone service. It is anticipated that under this bill that would be everybody. It is a case of first impression that this is clearly, clearly a good budgeting practice that would be covered if the funding were available in the general fund, rather than in this dedicated mechanism.

"Given that it is a tax, in my opinion, it is a tax for the general welfare. Mr. President, I ask you to rule that it is subject to 601. To rule otherwise, will start this Senate and this Legislature down the road of manipulating the budget process to avoid Initiative 601 and subvert the will of the voters. Should this matter be taken to the courts, I would mention, Sir, that the Supreme Court has ruled 'In case of doubt, taxing statutes are construed most strongly against the government and in favor of the tax payer.' I can give you the cite for that case.

"It would seem that just as tax statutes are construed against the interest of those who wish to raise revenues--and in favor of taxpayers--Initiative 601 which was intended to protect taxpayers should be construed in every case of ambiguity in favor of taxpayers interest. So, for those forgoing reasons, Mr. President, I would ask that you would find that Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5811 does require a two-thirds vote on final passage."

Further debate ensued.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Hargrove: "I have a point of parliamentary inquiry. It is my understanding that 601 is an Initiative of the People and not a constitutional amendment. Therefore, it can be changed by a fifty percent vote in this Legislature. If we pass a bill that changes 601 by a fifty percent vote, is that not appropriate no matter--I am not speaking to the underlying issue, whether this is a tax or not--since we are past two years?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Senator Hargrove, in responding to your inquiry, your inquiry is not pertinent to this bill at this time, so the President would be hesitant in responding without further review of that question, because it is not relevant to the action on this bill at this time and to the point of order by Senator West."

REMARKS BY SENATOR SNYDER

Senator Snyder: "Thank you, Mr. President. I think the Senator from the Third District made excellent remarks on why this is not a tax, but also in considering your ruling, I know you don't rule on constitutional matters, but I think just recently--just about a year ago--the State Supreme Court ruled that term limits was unconstitutional, because you cannot--they said that you cannot amend the Constitution with an Initiative. So 601, in my opinion, cannot amend the Constitution, because that was an Initiative--Initiative 601--amended the Constitution to require a two-thirds vote. One of these days, when we get it over to the court--we tried to earlier--and they wouldn't rule on it at the time, because they said that nobody had been hurt. One of these days, when a ruling is being made that it requires two-thirds vote because it is a tax measure, I believe the court has no choice better than to throw it out."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "The President is allowing significant discretion here in allowing people to debate the two sides of this, but I do think it is appropriate that we allow one more on Senator West's side. Senator McDonald, did you wish to contribute to that?"

REMARKS BY SENATOR MCDONALD

Senator McDonald: "Yes, I do, Mr. President. I think your ruling about this not being a debate on Initiative 601 was very relevant, but I don't want to talk about that. I wanted to bring your attention, Mr. President, to the fact that the Senator from the Third District said that this was a uniform cost of doing business. That is almost exactly--" that is exactly what a tax is—uniformly applied in the cost of doing business. This is a tax and this is not a contribution. I would ask that you rule that way."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Betti Sheldon, further consideration of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5811 was deferred.

MOTION

At 12:43 p.m., Senator Betti Sheldon moved that the Senate recess until 1:45 p.m.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator West: "A point of order, Mr. President. I understand that the Senate Rules require a ninety minute lunch break and the good Senator from the Twenty-third District has only offered us a sixty minute break and I would request that that motion be out of order, Sir, without changing the rules, so I would request that we get our ninety minute break as provided in the rules."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Senator West is correct. Without suspending the rules, the motion would not be appropriate."

MOTION

Senator Snyder moved that Rule 15 be suspended for the remainder of the day.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Senate Rule 15 states, 'The Senate shall recess ninety minutes for lunch each working day.'

MOTION

Senator Johnson moved that the motion by Senator Snyder to suspend Rule 15 be tabled.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the motion by Senator Johnson to table the motion by Senator Snyder to suspend Rule 15.

The motion by Senator Johnson failed and Rule 15 is suspended for the remainder of the day.

At 12:45 p.m., the Senate recessed until 1:45 p.m.

The Senate was called to order at 1:46 p.m. by President Owen.

There being no objection, the President returned the Senate to the sixth order of business.

SECOND READING
CONFIRMATION OF GUBERNATORIAL APPOINTMENT

MOTION

On motion of Senator Kohl-Welles, Gubernatorial Appointment No. 9049, Judy Yu, as a member of the Board of Trustees for Central Washington University, was confirmed.

APPOINTMENT OF JUDY YU
The Secretary called the roll. The appointment was confirmed by the following vote: Yeas, 41; Nays, 0; Absent, 6; Excused, 2.

Absent: Senators Finkbeiner, McAuliffe, McDonald, Sellar, West and Winsley - 6.
Excused: Senators McCaslin and Zarelli - 2.

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUEST

The President welcomed and introduced Dave Irwin, who was seated on the rostrum. Mr Irwin is the past president of the Washington Friends of Higher Education and the 1999 recipient of the Henry Paley Memorial Award which recognizes individuals who embody unfailing service toward the students and faculty of independent higher education. The President thanked Mr. Irwin for giving independent higher education more that thirty years of distinguished service and inspired leadership before retiring in 1998.

Senators Thibaudeau, Heavey, Wojahn and Kohl-Welles congratulated Dave Irwin on his outstanding award.

There being no objection, the President advanced the Senate to the seventh order of business.
There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5811, deferred on third reading earlier today.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "In ruling on the point of order raised by Senator West regarding the number of votes needed to pass Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5811, Senator West is correct in that the President's previous rulings have taken a two step approach in analyzing whether a measure constitutes an action by the Legislature that 'raises state revenues or requires revenue neutral tax shifts' under Initiative 601.

"First, the President asks whether the measure is a fee, which is not subject to a two-thirds vote, or a tax, which may be subject to a two-thirds vote. The President has defined two kinds of fees: 'regulatory' or 'license' fees that cover the cost of administering a regulatory program; and 'user' fees that are imposed only on users of a public service or facility. The stated purpose of the charge upon telecommunications carriers under Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5811 is as follows: '[to] benefit all telecommunications ratepayers in the state by ensuring that there exists a modern telecommunications network to which all citizens and business have reasonable access.’ The charge upon telecommunications carriers under Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5811 is neither a license fee or a user fee, and is properly characterized as a tax.

"Second, the President asks whether the fund is a dedicated fund. Initiative 601 concerns the raising of 'state revenues.' Article VIII, section 1(c)(4) of the State Constitution defines 'general state revenues' to exclude 'moneys to be paid into and received from trust funds including but not limited to monies received from tax levied for specific purposes.....' The President also notes that under RCW 43.135.025(4) and RCW 43.135.035(4) the state expenditure limit does not include accounts outside of the state general fund.

"The President finds that the tax collected under Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5811 would be placed into a dedicated account for the sole and specific purpose of funding universal telephone service. The account is expressly not part of the state treasury nor is the account subject to appropriation.

"The President, therefore, rules that the tax is outside of the definition of 'state revenues' under RCW 43.35.035. For the foregoing reasons, the President rules that the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5811 requires a simple majority vote.

"The President would like to comment on Senator West's remarks that this ruling may subject the budget process--in Senator West's words--to 'manipulation.' The President is bound to interpret the language of Initiative 601 to the extent that the drafters of Initiative 601 left a perceived loophole. It is for the Legislature to mend if it so desires, not the President."

Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5811 will take a simple majority vote on final passage.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5811.

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5811.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5811 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 32; Nays, 14; Absent, 0; Excused, 3.

Excused: Senators Deccio, Thibaudeau and Zarelli - 3.

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5811, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

There being no objection, the President returned the Senate to the sixth order of business.

STATEMENT FOR THE JOURNAL

I desire to explain my vote on final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5811 for inclusion in the Senate Journal. I meant to vote in favor of the measure today and inadvertently voted against it. I stood to be recognized in order to change my vote. The President acknowledged his failure to see me standing. Consequently, he announced the vote on the measure before I had an opportunity to change my vote.

SENATOR PAT HALE, 8th District

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5268, by Senators Kohl-Welles, Long, Jacobsen, Hale, Gardner, Rossi, Thibaudeau, Prentice, Kline, Deccio, Costa, Patterson and B. Sheldon

Modifying provisions concerning metropolitan park districts.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Kohl-Welles, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5268 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5268 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Kohl-Welles, the following striking amendment by Senators Kohl-Welles, Franklin, Kline, Patterson and Hale was adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 35.61 RCW to read as follows:

The definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter, unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(1) "City" means both cities and towns, including code cities.

(2) "Ex officio board of park commissioners" means the board of park commissioners of a metropolitan park district, only including a city with a population of five hundred thousand or more within its boundaries, that is composed of only the members of a city legislative authority (including the elected mayor, if any, acting in the mayor's ordinary legislative capacity) acting ex officio and independently as provided under RCW 35.61.050(2).

(3) "Separately elected board of park commissioners" means a board of park commissioners of a metropolitan park district that is composed of five separately elected commissioners as provided under RCW 35.61.050(1) and 35.61.120(1).

(4) "Land or lands" refers to land, water, or air, or any of the rights therein or improvements thereon.

Sec. 2. RCW 35.61.020 and 1965 c 7 s 35.61.020 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A ballot proposition authorizing the creation of a metropolitan park district shall be submitted by ordinance to the voters of a city with a population of at least five thousand at any general election, or at any special election which may be called for that purpose, ((or at any city election held in the city in all of the various voting precincts thereof, the city council or commission may,)) if the legislative authority of the city enacts such an ordinance after adopting a resolution proposing creation of a metropolitan park district or ((as)) if a petition ((as)) proposing creation of a metropolitan park district is submitted to the county auditor that has been signed by at least fifteen percent of the ((qualified electors of the)) registered voters residing in the city ((based upon the registration for the last preceding general city election, shall by ordinance, submit to the voters of the city the proposition of creating a metropolitan park district, the limits of which shall be)),

(2) If city voters approve the ballot proposition by a simple majority vote, a metropolitan park district shall be created that is coextensive with the limits of the city as now or hereafter established, inclusive of territory annexed to and forming a part of the city.

(3) Territory by virtue of its annexation to any city having heretofore created a park district shall be deemed to be ((within the limits of)) annexed to the metropolitan park district.

The city council or commission shall submit the proposition at a special election to be called therefore when the petition so requests.

Sec. 3. RCW 35.61.030 and 1985 c 469 s 32 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) In submitting the question to the voters for their approval or rejection, the city council or commission shall pass an ordinance declaring its intention to submit the proposition of creating a metropolitan park district to the qualified voters of the city. The ordinance shall be published once a week for two consecutive weeks in the official newspaper of the city((...and the city council or commission shall cause to be placed upon the ballot for the election, at the proper place, the)). The proposition shall appear on the ballot of the next general municipal election unless the city legislative authority by ordinance submits it at an earlier special election.

(2) The legislative authority of a city placing on the ballot a proposition ((which)) authorizing the creation of a metropolitan park district shall ((be expressed in)), in the ordinance submitting the question to the voters, choose and describe the composition of the initial metropolitan park district commission that is proposed under RCW 35.61.050. The proposition shall include the following terms:

- "For the formation of a metropolitan park district."
- "Against the formation of a metropolitan park district."

Sec. 4. RCW 35.61.050 and 1994 c 223 s 23 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided under subsection (2) of this section, five park commissioners shall be elected at large as the metropolitan members of the board of park commissioners for the metropolitan park district at the same election at which the ballot proposition is submitted to the voters as to whether a metropolitan park district is to be formed((five park commissioners shall be elected)). The election of metropolitan park commissioners shall be null and void if the metropolitan park district is not created. Candidates shall run for specific commission positions. ((A primary shall not be held to nominate candidates. The person receiving the greatest number of votes for each position shall be elected as a metropolitan park commissioner. The staggering of the terms of office shall occur as follows: (a) The two persons who are elected receiving the two greatest numbers of votes shall be elected to six-year terms of office if the election is held in an odd-numbered year or five-year terms of office if the election is held in an even-numbered year; (b) the two persons who are elected receiving the next two greatest numbers of votes shall be elected to four-year terms of office if the election is held in an odd-numbered year or three-year terms of office if the election is held in an even-numbered year; and (c) the other person who is elected shall be elected to a two-year term of office if the election is held in an odd-numbered year or a one-year term of office if the election is held in an even-numbered year.

The initial metropolitan park commissioners shall take office immediately when they are elected and qualified, and for purposes of computing their terms of office the terms shall be assumed to commence on the first day of January in the year after they are elected. Thereafter, all commissioners shall be elected to six-year terms of office at general elections held in odd-numbered years.

All commissioners shall serve until their respective successors are elected and qualified and assume office in accordance with RCW 29.04.170. Vacancies shall occur and shall be filled as provided in chapter 42.12 RCW.
(2) The ballot proposition creating a new metropolitan park district that only consists of a city with a population of five hundred thousand or more may provide for the city's legislative authority (including the elected mayor, if any, acting in the mayor's ordinary legislative capacity) to act in an ex officio and independent capacity as the board of commissioners for the metropolitan park district. An election shall not be held to elect the initial metropolitan park district commissioners if such an option is taken.

Sec. 5. RCW 35.61.120 and 1965 c 7 s 35.61.120 are each amended to read as follows:
(1) The officers of a metropolitan park district shall be a board of park commissioners consisting of five members unless the board is composed as permitted under RCW 35.61.050(2). The board shall annually elect one of their number as president and another of their number as clerk of the board. The composition of a board under this subsection that was created before January 1, 1999, may not be altered once the metropolitan park district has been created.

(2) The composition of a board of metropolitan park district commissioners established as permitted under RCW 35.61.050(2) may be altered to a separately elected board of park commissioners once the metropolitan park district has been created only by a majority vote of the voters in the district, and then only if the potential for such an alteration was stated in the resolution or petition to create the district.

Sec. 6. RCW 35.61.130 and 1969 c 54 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:
(1) A metropolitan park district has the right of eminent domain, and may purchase, acquire and condemn lands lying within or without the boundaries of (incorporated) the park district, for public parks, parkways, boulevards, aviation landings and playgrounds, and may condemn such lands for any of the following purposes: (a) To widen, alter, and extend streets, avenues, boulevards, parkways, aviation landings and playgrounds; (b) to alter, enlarge, and extend existing parks; and (c) to acquire lands for the establishment of new parks, boulevards, parkways, aviation landings and playgrounds.

(2) The right of eminent domain shall be exercised and instituted pursuant to resolution of the board of metropolitan park commissioners and conducted in the same manner and under the same procedure as is or may be provided by law for the exercise of the power of eminent domain by (incorporated) cities of the state of Washington in the acquisition of property rights. However, funds to pay for condemnation allowed by this section shall be raised only as specified in this chapter.

(3) The board of metropolitan park commissioners may employ counsel and regulate, manage, and control the parks, parkways, boulevards, streets, avenues, aviation landings and playgrounds under its control.

(4) The board of metropolitan park commissioners may provide for a secretary of the board of metropolitan park commissioners, and for all necessary employees, and fix their salaries and duties. In a metropolitan park district governed under RCW 35.61.050(2), the city's mayor shall serve ex officio as the chief executive officer of the metropolitan park district unless otherwise provided by the board of metropolitan park district commissioners.

(5) The board of metropolitan park commissioners may improve, acquire, extend and maintain, open, and lay out parks, parkways, boulevards, avenues, aviation landings and playgrounds, within or without the metropolitan park district.

(6) The board of metropolitan park commissioners may authorize, conduct, and manage the letting of boats, or other amusement apparatus, the operation of bath houses, the purchase and sale of foodstuffs or other merchandise, the giving of vocal or instrumental concerts or other entertainments, the establishment and maintenance of aviation landings and playgrounds, and the provision, establishment, operation, maintenance, and improvement of recreational facilities all on property owned by itself or others.

(7) The board of metropolitan park commissioners may provide for the management and conduct of such forms of recreation or business as it shall judge desirable or beneficial for the public, or for the production of revenue for expenditure for parks and recreation purposes.

(8) The board of metropolitan park commissioners may pay out moneys for: (a) The maintenance and improvement of any such parks, parkways, boulevards, avenues, aviation landings and playgrounds as now exist, or the right to which may hereafter be acquired, within or without the limits of the metropolitan park district; (b) the purchase of lands within or without the limits of the metropolitan park district, whenever it deems the purchase to be for the benefit of the public and for the benefit of the metropolitan park district, and for the maintenance and improvement thereof; and (c) all expenses incidental to its duties. However, all parks, boulevards, parkways, aviation landings and playgrounds shall be subject to the police regulations of the city or county within whose limits they lie.

(9) The board of metropolitan park commissioners may, if and to the extent provided by section 13 of this act, contract with any entity, public or private, including the city whose voters created the district, for all or any part of its staffing, operations, and services.

Sec. 7. RCW 35.61.132 and 1989 c 319 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:
(1) An ex officio board of metropolitan park district commissioners is authorized, by unanimous board decision and with the approval of the legislative authority of the city within which it is located, to convey any or all of its real or personal property to that city.

(2) Except as set forth in subsection (3) of this section, every metropolitan park district may, by unanimous decision of its board of park commissioners, sell, exchange, or otherwise dispose of any real or personal property acquired for park or recreational purposes when such property is declared surplus for park or other recreational purposes: PROVIDED, That where the property is acquired by donation or dedication for park or recreational purposes, the consent of the donor or dedicatory, his or her heirs, successors, or assigns is first obtained if the consent of the donor is required in the instrument conveying the property to the metropolitan park district. In the event the donor or dedicatory, his or her heirs, successors, or assigns cannot be located after a reasonable search, the metropolitan park district may petition the superior court in the county where the property is located for approval of the sale. If sold, all sales shall be by public bids and sale made only to the highest and best bidder.

(3) In addition to the conditions contained in subsection (2) of this section, a metropolitan park district with an ex officio board of park commissioners shall not declare surplus its real property acquired for park or recreational purposes without first having offered to donate that property to the city within which it is located.

Sec. 8. RCW 35.61.150 and 1998 c 121 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section, metropolitan park commissioners shall perform their duties and may provide, by resolution passed by the commissioners, for the payment of compensation to each of its commissioners at a rate of up to seventy dollars for each day or portion of a day devoted to the business of the district. However, the compensation for each commissioner must not exceed six thousand seven hundred twenty dollars per year. Any commissioner may waive all or any portion of his or her compensation payable under this subsection as to any month or months during his or her term of office, by a written waiver filed with the clerk of the board. The waiver, to be effective, must be filed any time after the commissioner's election and prior to the date on which the compensation would otherwise be paid. The waiver shall specify the month or period of months for which it is made.

(2) Metropolitan park commissioners who serve in an ex officio capacity shall perform their duties as park commissioners without additional compensation. However, the city treasurer may not charge a greater amount for treasury services than permitted the county treasurer for similar services under RCW 36.29.020.

Sec. 9. RCW 35.61.180 and 1987 c 203 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The treasurer of a metropolitan park district shall be the city treasurer of the most populated city included in the district's boundaries. The city treasurer, when acting as the treasurer of a metropolitan park district, shall receive no compensation other than his or her regular salary for acting as the treasurer of the metropolitan park district.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (1) of this section, a metropolitan park district may designate someone other than the city treasurer who has experience in financial or fiscal affairs to act as the district treasurer if the board has received the approval of the city treasurer to designate this person. If the board designates someone other than the city treasurer to act as the district treasurer, the board shall purchase a bond from a surety company operating in the state that is sufficient to protect the district from loss. A district treasurer so designated shall possess all powers relating to the metropolitan park district that are possessed by the city treasurer, other than the authority to collect property taxes.

(3) Notwithstanding RCW 35.61.210, general taxes of the metropolitan park district shall be distributed to the treasurer of the metropolitan park district by the county treasurer as is done for cities.

Sec. 10. RCW 35.61.200 and 1983 c 167 s 56 are each amended to read as follows:

Any coupons for the payment of interest on metropolitan park district bonds shall be considered for all purposes as warrants drawn upon the metropolitan park district fund against which the bonds were issued, and when presented after maturity to the treasurer of the metropolitan park district, shall receive no compensation other than his or her regular salary for receiving and disbursing the funds of a metropolitan park district.) (1) The county treasurer of the county within which all, or the major portion, of the district lies shall be the ex officio treasurer of a metropolitan park district, but shall receive no compensation other than his or her regular salary for receiving and disbursing the funds of a metropolitan park district. If there are no funds in the county treasury to pay the coupons, the county treasurer and the metropolitan park district treasurer shall endorse the coupons as presented for payment, in the same manner as county warrants are endorsed, and thereafter the coupon shall bear interest at the same rate as the bond to which it was attached. If there are no funds in the county to pay the coupons, the interest payment shall be made only to the highest and best bidder. The interest payment shall continue until the bond is paid.

Sec. 11. RCW 35.61.250 and 1985 c 416 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The territory adjoining a metropolitan park district may be annexed to and become a part of the metropolitan park district under a petition and election method of annexation. The petition shall define the territory proposed to be annexed and must be signed by twenty-five registered voters, resident within the territory proposed to be annexed, unless the territory is within the limits of another city when it must be signed by twenty percent of the registered voters residing within the territory proposed to be annexed. The petition must be... addressed to the board of park commissioners requesting that the question be submitted to the legal voters of the territory proposed to be annexed, whether they will be annexed and become a part of the metropolitan park district.

(2) A metropolitan park district with an ex officio board of park commissioners as provided under RCW 35.61.050(2) may not annex territory under the provisions of RCW 35.61.250 through 35.61.280 and shall maintain boundaries identical with those of the city in which it is located, including any territory annexed by the city.

Sec. 12. RCW 35.61.290 and 1985 c 416 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) (a) Except as set forth in (b) of this subsection, any city within or comprising any metropolitan park district may turn over to the park district any lands, facilities, equipment, or interests in any lands, facilities, or equipment which it may own, or any street, avenue, or public place within the city for playground, park or parkway purposes, and thereafter its control and management shall vest in the board of metropolitan park commissioners. (Provided, That) However, the police regulations of the city, or the county should the premises be outside the city limits, shall apply to all such premises.

(b) A metropolitan park district created with an ex officio board of park commissioners shall never become the owner of a park that, at the time of creation of the district, was owned by the city in which the metropolitan park district was created. Additionally, the legislative authority of a city in which a metropolitan park district with an ex officio board of park commissioners is created may contract with that district for overall management and operation of any city parks and recreation facilities or lease any city parks and recreation facilities to that district only after the city legislative authority holds a public hearing on the proposed lease or proposed management and operation by the metropolitan park district. At least ten days prior to the hearing, there shall be published a public notice setting forth the date, time, and place of the hearing, at least once in a local newspaper of general circulation. Notice of the hearing shall also be mailed or otherwise delivered to all who would be entitled to notice of a special meeting of the city legislative authority under RCW 42.30.080. The notice shall identify the parks and recreation facilities involved. The terms and conditions under which the city proposes to lease to the metropolitan park district or contract with the metropolitan park district for management and operation shall be available upon request from and after the date of publication of the hearing notice and at the hearing, but after the public hearing the city legislative authority may amend the proposed terms and conditions at open public meetings.

(2) At any time that any such metropolitan park district is unable, through lack of sufficient funds, to provide for the continuous operation, maintenance, and improvement of the parks and playgrounds and other properties or facilities owned by it or under its control, and the legislative body of any city within or comprising such metropolitan park district shall determine that an emergency exists requiring the financial aid of such city to be extended in order to provide for such continuous operation, maintenance, and improvement of parks, playgrounds facilities, other properties, and programs of such park district within its limits, the city may grant or loan to the metropolitan park district such of its available funds, or such funds which it may lawfully procure and make available, as it shall find necessary to provide for such continuous operation and maintenance and, pursuant thereto, any city and the board of park commissioners of the metropolitan park district are authorized and empowered to enter into an agreement embodying such terms and conditions of any such grant or loan as may be mutually agreed upon.

(3) The board of metropolitan park commissioners may accept public streets of the city and grounds for public purposes when donated for park, playground, boulevard and park purposes.

(4) Counties may turn over to a metropolitan park district any park and recreation lands and parks and recreation facilities and equipment or interests in any lands, facilities, or equipment that they own, and the board of metropolitan park commissioners may accept such lands and equipment or interests in any lands, facilities, or equipment.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. A new section is added to chapter 35.61 RCW to read as follows:

(1) A metropolitan park district governed under RCW 35.61.050(2) may contract with a nonprofit corporation or other public or private organization, including the city whose voters created the district, to manage or carry out any of its operations, except that no for-profit entity may have a contract for the overall management and operation of any parks and recreation facilities. No such contract for the overall management and operation of any park and recreation facility shall have an initial term or any renewal term longer than thirty years but may be renewed by the ex officio board of park commissioners upon the expiration of an initial or any renewal term. A metropolitan park district governed under RCW 35.61.050(2) may, however, grant and may authorize the managing and operating entity to grant to any nonprofit corporation or other public or private organization franchises or concessions that further the public use and enjoyment of parks and recreation facilities.

(2) Before approving each initial and any renewal contract with a nonprofit corporation for the overall management and operation of any parks and recreation facilities, the ex officio board of metropolitan park commissioners shall hold a public hearing on the proposed management and operation by such a nonprofit corporation. At least ten days prior to the hearing, there shall be published a public notice setting forth the date, time, and place of the hearing, at least once in a local newspaper of general circulation. Notice of the hearing shall also be mailed or otherwise delivered to all who would be entitled to notice of a special meeting of the board under RCW 42.30.080. The notice shall identify the parks and recreation facilities involved and the nonprofit corporation proposed for management and operation under contract with the metropolitan park district. The terms and conditions under which the metropolitan park district proposes to contract with the nonprofit corporation for management and operation shall be available upon request from and after the date of publication of the hearing notice and at the hearing, but after the public hearing the board of metropolitan park commissioners may amend the proposed terms and conditions at open public meetings.

(3) A metropolitan park district governed under RCW 35.61.050(2) shall contract with the city whose voters created the district to carry out all of the metropolitan park district’s management and operations except for the management and operation of parks and recreation facilities for which the metropolitan park district has a contract with another public agency or a nonprofit corporation under subsection (1) or (2) of this section. The contract with the city may provide for its termination if the metropolitan park district commissioners approve a contract with another entity under subsection (1) or (2) of this section.

(4) The nonprofit corporation or other public organization with responsibility for overall management or operation of any parks and recreation facilities may in carrying out that responsibility manage and supervise employees of the metropolitan park district covered under RCW 35.61.050(2) and may hire, fire, and otherwise discipline those employees. A civil service established under RCW 35.61.140 may include such management and supervision by persons not employed by the metropolitan park district.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. A new section is added to chapter 35.61 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary contained in a city charter, and to the extent provided by the city under an appropriate legislative enactment, some or all employees of a metropolitan park district with an ex officio board of park commissioners may be included in the retirement plan of a city that shares territory with the metropolitan park district if they were previously employed by the city and were members of its retirement plan. The city and metropolitan park district are each authorized to pay the parts of the expense of operating and maintaining the retirement system and to contribute to the retirement fund on behalf of employees those sums as may be agreed upon between the legislative authorities of the city and the metropolitan park district, but a proportionate share of system expenses must be borne by or on behalf of the metropolitan park district employees.

(2) In a metropolitan park district with an ex officio board of park commissioners, neither the chief executive officer nor officers chiefly responsible for operating a facility or program, as designated by the board of metropolitan park commissioners, shall be members of the civil service that may be established under RCW 35.61.140.

Sec. 15. RCW 84.52.010 and 1995 2nd sp. s. c 13 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

Except as is permitted under RCW 84.55.050, all taxes shall be levied or voted in specific amounts.

The rate percent of all taxes for state and county purposes, and purposes of taxing districts coextensive with the county, shall be determined, calculated and fixed by the county assessors of the respective counties, within the limitations provided by law, upon the assessed valuation of the property of the county, as shown by the completed tax rolls of the county, and the rate percent of all taxes levied for purposes of taxing districts within any county shall be determined, calculated and fixed by the county assessors of the respective counties, within the limitations provided by law, upon the assessed valuation of the property of the taxing districts respectively.

When a county assessor finds that the aggregate rate of tax levy on any property, that is subject to the limitations set forth in RCW 84.52.043 or 84.52.050, exceeds the limitations provided in either of these sections, the assessor shall recompute and establish a consolidated levy in the following manner:

(1) The full certified rates of tax levy for state, county, county road district, and city or town purposes shall be extended on the tax rolls in amounts not exceeding the limitations established by law; however any state levy shall take precedence over all other levies and shall not be reduced for any purpose other than that required by RCW 84.55.010. If, as a result of the levies imposed under RCW 84.52.069, 84.34.230, the portion of the levy by a metropolitan park district that was protected under RCW 84.52.120, and 84.52.105, the combined rate of regular property tax levies that are subject to the one percent limitation exceeds one percent of the true and fair value of any property, then these levies shall be reduced as follows: (a) The portion of the levy by a metropolitan park district that is protected under RCW 84.52.120 shall be reduced until the combined rate no longer exceeds one percent of the true and fair value of any property or shall be eliminated; (b) if the combined rate of regular property tax levies subject to the one percent limitation in a county containing a metropolitan park district governed under RCW 35.61.050(2) still exceeds one percent of the true and fair value of any property, then the remaining levy for that metropolitan park district shall be reduced until the combined rate no longer exceeds one percent or shall be eliminated; (c) if the combined rate of regular property tax levies that are subject to the one percent limitation still exceeds one percent of the true and fair value of any property, then the levies imposed under RCW 84.34.230, 84.52.105, and any portion of the levy imposed under RCW 84.52.069 that is in excess of thirty cents per thousand dollars of assessed value, shall be reduced on a pro rata basis until the combined rate no longer exceeds one percent of the true and fair value of any property or shall be eliminated; and ((d)) (d) if the combined rate of regular property tax levies that are subject to the one percent limitation still exceeds one percent of the true and fair value of any property, then the thirty cents per thousand dollars of assessed value of tax levy imposed under RCW 84.52.069 shall be reduced until the combined rate no longer exceeds one percent of the true and fair value of any property or eliminated.
(2) The certified rates of tax levy subject to these limitations by all junior taxing districts imposing taxes on such property shall be reduced or eliminated as follows to bring the consolidated levy of taxes on such property within the provisions of these limitations:

(a) First, the certified property tax levy rates of those junior taxing districts authorized under RCW 36.68.525, 36.69.145, and 67.38.130 shall be reduced on a pro rata basis or eliminated;

(b) Second, if the consolidated tax levy rate still exceeds these limitations, the certified property tax levy rates of flood control zone districts shall be reduced on a pro rata basis or eliminated;

(c) Third, if the consolidated tax levy rate still exceeds these limitations, the certified property tax levy rates of all other junior taxing districts, other than fire protection districts, library districts, the first fifty cent per thousand dollars of assessed valuation levies for metropolitan park districts, and the first fifty cent per thousand dollars of assessed valuation levies for public hospital districts, shall be reduced on a pro rata basis or eliminated;

(d) Fourth, if the consolidated tax levy rate still exceeds these limitations, the certified property tax levy rates authorized to fire protection districts under RCW 52.16.140 and 52.16.160 shall be reduced on a pro rata basis or eliminated; and

(e) Fifth, if the consolidated tax levy rate still exceeds these limitations, the certified property tax levy rates authorized for fire protection districts under RCW 52.16.130, library districts, metropolitan park districts under their first fifty cent per thousand dollars of assessed valuation levy, and public hospital districts under their first fifty cent per thousand dollars of assessed valuation levy, shall be reduced on a pro rata basis or eliminated.

In determining whether the aggregate rate of tax levy on any property, that is subject to the limitations set forth in RCW 84.52.050, exceeds the limitations provided in that section, the assessor shall use the hypothetical state levy, as apportioned to the county under RCW 84.48.080, that was computed under RCW 84.48.080 without regard to the reduction under RCW 84.55.012.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. A new section is added to chapter 35.61 RCW to read as follows:

Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, but without eliminating or overriding the requirements for unanimous board action and consent under RCW 35.61.132, the voters of a metropolitan park district governed under RCW 35.61.050(2) have the power to initiate and refer to themselves legislation to prevent or authorize the disposition of specified real property of the district. The powers of initiative and referendum within this subject area shall be exercised in the same manner and with the same effect as permitted for the voters of the city with which the metropolitan park district shares its boundaries.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. A new section is added to chapter 35.61 RCW to read as follows:

Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, but without eliminating or overriding the requirements for unanimous board action and consent contained in RCW 35.61.132 for the disposition of property, the voters of a metropolitan park district governed under RCW 35.61.050(2) shall have the power, within the scope of the functions of such a metropolitan park district, to initiate and refer to themselves legislation to prevent or authorize the disposition of specified real property of the district. These powers of initiative and referendum shall be exercised in the same manner and with the same effect as permitted for the voters of that city.

Representatives from the conservation commission, the department of transportation, and the department of fish and wildlife shall establish an interagency review team. Except as provided in subsection (6) of this section, habitat restoration project lists shall be submitted to the interagency review team by January 1st and July 1st of each year beginning in 1999.

If no lead entity has been formed under RCW 75.46.060, the interagency review team shall rank, prioritize, and dispense funds for habitat restoration projects by giving preference to the projects that:

(a) Provide a greater benefit to salmon recovery;
(b) Will be implemented in a more critical area;
(c) Are the most cost-effective;
(d) Have the greatest matched, or in-kind funding; and
(e) Will be implemented by a sponsor with a successful record of project implementation.

If a lead entity established under RCW 75.46.060 has been formed, the interagency review team shall evaluate project lists and may remove, but not add, projects from a habitat project list.

The interagency review team shall provide a summary of funding for habitat restoration project lists to the governor and to the legislature by December 1st of each year.

The interagency review team may annually establish a maximum amount of funding available for any individual project, subject to available funding. The interagency review team shall attempt to assure a geographical balance in assigning priorities to projects.

For fiscal year 1998, the department of fish and wildlife, the conservation commission, and the department of transportation may authorize, subject to appropriations, expenditures for projects that have been developed to restore salmon habitat before completion of the project lists required in RCW 75.46.060(2).

Where a lead entity has been established pursuant to RCW 75.46.060, the interagency review team may provide block grants to the lead entity, subject to available funding.

Prior to finalizing funding decisions under the provisions of this section, the interagency review team shall consult with interests representing irrigated and non-irrigated agriculture, sport and commercial fishing interests, large and small scale timber interests, conservation districts, and county and city governmental interests.

MOTION

Senator Swecker moved that the following amendment by Senators Swecker and Jacobsen be adopted:

Sec. 4. RCW 75.46.060 and 1998 c 246 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

1)(a) Counties, cities, and tribal governments must jointly designate, by official resolution, the area for which a habitat restoration project list is to be developed and the lead entity that is to be responsible for submitting the habitat restoration project list. No project included on a habitat restoration project list shall be considered mandatory in nature and no private landowner may be forced or coerced into participation in any respect. The lead entity may be a county, city, conservation district, special district, tribal government, or other entity.

(b) The lead entity shall establish a committee that consists of representative interests of counties, cities, conservation districts, tribes, environmental groups, business interests, landowners, citizens, volunteer groups, regional fish enhancement groups, and other restoration interests. The purpose of the committee is to provide a citizen-based evaluation of the projects proposed to promote salmon habitat restoration. The interagency review team may provide the lead entity with organizational models that may be used in establishing the committees.

(c) The committee shall compile a list of habitat restoration projects, establish priorities for individual projects, define the sequence for project implementation, and submit these activities as the habitat restoration project list. The committee shall also identify potential federal, state, local, and private funding sources.

(d) Projects that include use of side channels, off-stream rearing enhancement, improvement in over-wintering habitat, or use of acclimation ponds shall receive consideration for funding.

2) The area covered by the habitat project list must be based, at a minimum, on a WRIA, combination of WRIAs, an evolutionarily significant unit, or any other area as agreed to by the counties, cities, and tribes meeting the requirements of this subsection. Preference will be given to projects in an area that contain a salmon species that is listed or proposed for listing under the federal endangered species act.
Sec. 5. RCW 75.46.080 and 1998 c 246 s 9 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Representatives from the conservation commission, the department of transportation, and the department of fish and wildlife shall establish an interagency review team. Except as provided in subsection (((4))) (7) of this section, habitat restoration project lists shall be submitted to the interagency review team by January 1st and July 1st of each year beginning in 1999.

(2) If no lead entity has been formed under RCW 75.46.060, the interagency review team shall rank, prioritize, and dispense funds for habitat restoration projects by giving preference to the projects that:
   a. Provide a greater benefit to salmon recovery;
   b. Will be implemented in a more critical area;
   c. Are the most cost-effective;
   d. Have the greatest matched, or in-kind funding; and
   e. Will be implemented by a sponsor with a successful record of project implementation.

(3) Projects that include use of side channels, off-stream rearing enhancement, improvement in over-wintering habitat, or use of acclimation ponds shall receive consideration for funding under the provisions of this section.

(4) If a lead entity established under RCW 75.46.060 has been formed, the interagency review team shall evaluate project lists and may remove, but not add, projects from a habitat project list.

   (((4))) (5) The interagency review team shall provide a summary of funding for habitat restoration project lists to the governor and to the legislature by December 1st of each year.

   (((4))) (6) The interagency review team may annually establish a maximum amount of funding available for any individual project, subject to available funding. The interagency review team shall attempt to assure a geographical balance in assigning priorities to projects.

(7) For fiscal year 1998, the department of fish and wildlife, the conservation commission, and the department of transportation may authorize, subject to appropriations, expenditures for projects that have been developed to restore salmon habitat before completion of the project lists required in RCW 75.46.060(2).

   (((2))) (8) Where a lead entity has been established pursuant to RCW 75.46.060, the interagency review team may provide block grants to the lead entity, subject to available funding.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator McCaslin: "A parliamentary inquiry, Mr. President. Since the Senator from the Sixth District, who shall remain nameless, brought up a rule that we couldn't address each other by our names, but rather by our district, I am looking at Rule 39 and it states 'Yeas and Nays' although we answer 'Aye and 'No,' and I wonder if we are actually following the rules of the Senate. Now, it is a serious question, Mr. President, because the Senator from the Sixth District was raising the points that we cannot address our fellow Senators by name, but only by district, while on the reader board, it names names and not districts, so it is confusing to someone who has been here a short time--as myself. Although you don't have to rule at the present time, Mr. President, I would appreciate a ruling at some later date."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "The President will take it under advisement."

Senator McCaslin: "And I thank you."

(2) An application for registration shall be made on a form furnished by the department and shall be accompanied by a fee of twenty-five dollars for each product. Labels for each product shall accompany the application. All companies planning to mix customer-formula fertilizers shall include the statement "customer-formula grade mixes" under the column headed "product name" on the product registration application form. All customer-formula fertilizers sold under one brand name shall be considered one product.

(3) An application for registration shall include the following:
   (a) The product name;
   (b) The brand and grade;
   (c) The guaranteed analysis;
   (d) Name, address, and phone number of the registrant;
   (e) Labels for each product being registered;
   (f) Identification of those products that are (i) waste-derived fertilizers, (ii) micronutrient fertilizers, or (iii) fertilizer materials containing phosphate;
   (g) [Identification of the fertilizer components in the commercial fertilizer product and verification that all the components are registered. If any of the components are not registered, then the application must include]) The concentration of each metal, for which standards are established under RCW 15.54.800, in each (fertilizer component, for which standards are established under RCW 15.54.800) product being registered;
   (h) Waste-derived fertilizers and micronutrient fertilizers shall include at a minimum, information to ensure the product complies with chapter 70.105 RCW and the resource conservation and recovery act, 42 U.S.C. Sec. 6901 et seq.; and
   (i) Any other information required by the department by rule.

(4) If an application for renewal of the product registration provided for in this section is not filed prior to July 1st of any one year, a penalty of ten dollars per product shall be assessed and added to the original fee and shall be paid by the applicant before the renewal registration shall be issued. The assessment of this late collection fee shall not prevent the department from taking any other action as provided for in this chapter. The penalty shall not apply if the applicant furnishes an affidavit that he or she has not distributed this commercial fertilizer subsequent to the expiration of his or her prior registration.

On page 2, after line 8, insert the following:

“NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 90.48 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Subject to restrictions in this section, a government entity seeking to control a limited infestation of Eurasian water milfoil may use the pesticide 2,4-D to treat the milfoil infestation, without obtaining a permit under RCW 90.48.445, if the milfoil infestation is either recently documented or remaining after the application of other control measures, and is limited to twenty percent or less of the littoral zone of the lake. Any pesticide application made under this section must be made according to all label requirements for the product and must meet the public notice requirements of subsection (2) of this section.

(2) Before applying 2,4-D, the government entity shall: (a) Provide at least twenty-one days’ notice to the department of ecology, the department of fish and wildlife, the department of agriculture, the department of health, and all lake residents; (b) post notices of the intent to apply 2,4-D at all public access points; and (c) place informational buoys around the treatment area.

(3) The department of fish and wildlife may impose timing restrictions on the use of 2,4-D to protect salmon and other fish and wildlife.

(4) The department may prohibit the use of 2,4-D if the department finds the product contains dioxin.

(5) Government entities using this section to apply 2,4-D may apply for funds from the freshwater aquatic weeds account consistent with the freshwater aquatic weeds management program as provided in RCW 43.21A.660.

(6) Government entities using this section shall consider development of long-term control strategies for eradication and control of the Eurasian water milfoil.

There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration on Senate Bill No. 5564, as amended on reconsideration, deferred on second reading March 15, 1999.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Benton concerning the number of votes necessary to pass Senate Bill No. 5564, as amended on reconsideration, the President previously ruled that the measure added a new class of property to which the property tax applied; namely travel trailers. The amendments by Senators Swecker and Gardner on page 1, line 11; page 2, line 1; and page 2, at the beginning of line 3; deletes all references to travel trailers in the bill. The President believes that the measure, as amended, now simply clarifies what was already the state of the law concerning taxation of park trailers. "The President, therefore, believes that the measure, as amended, requires only a simple majority on final passage."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Gardner, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5564, on reconsideration, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Senator Patterson moved that the following amendment by Senators Patterson and Horn be adopted:

On page 1, line 1, delete all of section 1 and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 42.17 RCW to read as follows:

(1) It is the intent of the legislature to ensure that the commission provide the general public timely access to all contribution and expenditure reports submitted by candidates, continuing political committees, bona fide political parties, lobbyists, and lobbyists' employers. The legislature finds that failure to comply with this chapter's requirements for full and timely disclosure threatens to undermine our electoral process.

(2) Beginning January 1, 2001, the commission shall establish goals that all reports, copies of reports, or copies of the data or information included in reports, filed under RCW 42.17.040, 42.17.065, 42.17.080, 42.17.100, 42.17.105, 42.17.150, 42.17.170, 42.17.175, and 42.17.180, that are:

(a) Submitted electronically via modem, satellite, or the Internet, shall be accessible in the commission's office and via the commission's web site within two business days of the commission's receipt of the report; and

(b) Submitted in any format or via any method other than those listed in (a) of this subsection, shall be accessible in the commission's office and via the commission's web site within four business days of the commission's receipt of the report."

MOTION

Senator Horn moved that the following amendment by Senators Horn and Patterson be adopted:

On page 9, after line 4, insert the following:

(1) Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section, when any application, report, statement, notice, or payment required to be made under the provisions of this chapter has been deposited postpaid in the United States mail properly addressed, it shall be deemed to have been received on the date of mailing. It shall be presumed that the date shown by the post office cancellation mark on the envelope is the date of mailing. The provisions of this section do not apply to reports required to be delivered under RCW 42.17.105 and 42.17.175.

(2) When a report is filed electronically with the commission, it is deemed to have been received on the file transfer date. The commission shall notify the filer of receipt of the electronically filed report. Such notification may be sent by mail, facsimile, or electronic mail. If the notification of receipt of the electronically filed report is not received by the filer, the filer may offer his or her own proof of sending the report, and such proof shall be treated as if it were a receipt sent by the commission. Electronic filing may be used for purposes of filing the special reports required to be delivered under RCW 42.17.105 and 42.17.175.

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senators Horn and Patterson on page 9, after line 4, to Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5931.

The motion by Senator Horn carried and the amendment was adopted.

MOTION

Senator Hargrove moved that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 9, line 19, delete all of section 12 and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. A new section is added to chapter 42.17 RCW to read as follows:

Beginning January 1, 2000, each continuing political committee shall file all contribution reports and expenditure reports required by this chapter electronically by diskette or via modem, satellite, or the Internet. Failure by a continuing political committee to comply with this section is a violation of this chapter."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator West: "Senator Patterson, I don't find anywhere in the underlying bill the definition of continuing political committee. I know that some folks roll over their prior campaign into their next campaign and I thought that was called a continuing political committee. Could you provide us with an understanding of what a continuing political committee is?"

Senator Patterson: "Thank you, Senator West, for that question. It just took me a moment to find that in there. It refers to political action committees, not candidates. That is what the language means. In other words, PACS would still be required to file electronically; candidates would not. They would have to be registered political action committees."

Senator West: "Thank you."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senator Hargrove on page 9, line 19, to Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5931.

The motion by Senator Hargrove carried and the amendment was adopted.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Patterson, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 2 of the title, after "42.17.365," strike "and" and after "42.17.367" insert ", and 42.17.420"

On motion of Senator Patterson, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5931 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Deccio, Senator West was excused.
The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5931.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5931 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 47; Nays, 0; Absent, 0; Excused, 2.

ENGROSSED SECOND SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5931, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUEST

The President welcomed and greeted Laura Hoots, the mother of Senator Val Stevens, who was seated on the rostrum.

Debate ensued.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McCaslin: "A point of personal privilege, Mr. President. I move that the Senator from the Fifteenth District be excused."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "You will have to help me out on that one at little bit."

Senator McCaslin: "Well, that is Senator Honeyford. I am trying to point out that we can't carry these rules too far. We have everybody looking up districts and talking about districts instead of saying, 'Senator Patterson or Senator Kline or Senator Hale.' It is so much easier to say, 'Senator Snyder or Senator Haugen.' I think the leaders should get together and say, 'We can modify these rules and we can refer to names as long as we are being nice and kind and complimentary to each other. I like to say, 'Senator Johnson or Senator Finkbeiner' instead of saying whatever his district is and looking around to see what it is. So, hopefully, Sid and McDonald will get together, so we can ease up on that."

Further debate ensued.
The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 5071.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 5071 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 36; Nays, 12; Absent, 0; Excused, 1.

Voting yea: Senators Bauer, Benton, Brown, Costa, Deccio, Eide, Fairley, Franklin, Fraser, Gardner, Goings, Hale, Hargrove, Haugen, Honeyford, Horn, Jacobsen, Kline, Kohl-Welles, Long, Loveland, McAuliffe, McCaslin, Oke, Patterson, Prentice, Rasmussen, Sheahan, Sheldon, B., Sheldon, T., Shin, Snyder, Spanel, Thibaudeau, Winsley and Wojahn - 36. Voting nay: Senators Finkbeiner, Heavey, Hochstatter, Johnson, McDonald, Morton, Roach, Rossi, Stevens, Swecker, West and Zarelli - 12. Excused: Senator Sellar - 1. SENATE BILL NO. 5071, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5929, by Senators Haugen, Long, Gardner, Costa, Swecker, Hargrove, Winsley, Patterson, Eide, Snyder and Bauer

Reallocating local motor vehicle excise tax for public transportation.

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senator Benton on page 1, line 8, to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5929.
The motion by Senator Benton failed and the amendment was not adopted.

MOTION

Senator Benton moved that the following amendment by Senators Benton and McCaslin be adopted:
On page 8, after line 7, strike all of Section 5
Renumber the sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.
Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senators Benton and McCaslin on page 8, after line 7, to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5929.
The motion by Senator Benton failed and the amendment was not adopted on a rising vote.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Haugen, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5929 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.
Debate ensued.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator West: "Mr. President I rise to a point of order. Under Article II, Section 1 of the Constitution, it says that Initiatives passed by the people are subject to a two-thirds vote of the Legislature to amend or repeal within a two year period after the vote. I would contend that this bill clearly amends Referendum 49 which was passed in the last general election and I would ask the President to rule on the amount of votes required to pass this bill.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Betti Sheldon, further consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5929 was deferred.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5750, by Senators Benton, Haugen, Roach, Prentice, Hochstatter, Horn, McDonald, T. Sheldon, Swecker, Stevens, Goings, Zarelli, Johnson, Patterson, Hale, Costa, Honeyford, Morton, Rasmussen, Rossi, Oke, Long, Finkbeiner, Deccio and Sheahan

WHEREAS, Orca Council of Camp Fire in Tacoma, Washington, teaches boys and girls self-reliance, good citizenship and leadership; and
WHEREAS, Through contemporary programs and by speaking out on issues affecting youth and their families, Camp Fire Boys and Girls help youth cope with their changing world; and
WHEREAS, In Camp Fire, the choices and opportunities are inclusive for boys and girls; and
WHEREAS, Camp Fire Boys and Girls is commended for the valuable programs offered to young people in the state of Washington and throughout the nation, and for the many services these young people perform for their communities through Camp Fire;
NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED That the Washington State Senate honor the Camp Fire Boys and Girls and acknowledge the contributions their valuable programs have made to the children of Washington State and urge all citizens of the state of Washington to celebrate Absolutely Incredible Kid Day on March 18, 1999.

Senators Wojahn, Betti Sheldon, Swecker, Heavey and Haugen spoke to Senate Resolution 1999-8651.

At 11:16 a.m., on motion of Senator Betti Sheldon, the Senate recessed until 1:30 p.m.

The Senate was called to order at 1:30 p.m. by President Owen.
There being no objection, the President returned the Senate to the sixth order of business.

On motion of Senator Honeyford, Senators Horn, Johnson, McDonald, West and Winsley were excused.

SECOND READING
CONFIRMATION OF GUBERNATORIAL APPOINTMENT

On motion of Senator Prentice, Gubernatorial Appointment No. 9002, Charlie Brydon, as a member of the Liquor Control Board, was confirmed.

APPOINTMENT OF CHARLIE BRYDON

The Secretary called the roll. The appointment was confirmed by the following vote: Yeas, 35; Nays, 7; Absent, 1; Excused, 6.
Voting yea: Senators Bauer, Brown, Costa, Deccio, Eide, Fairley, Finkbeiner, Franklin, Fraser, Gardner, Goings, Hale, Hargrove, Heavey, Hochstatter, Jacobsen, Kline, Kohl-Welles, Long, Loveland, McAuliffe, McCaslin, Patterson, Prentice, Rasmussen, Roach, Sheahan, Sheldon, B., Sheldon, T., Shin, Snyder, Spanel, Swecker,

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Heavey: "A point of personal privilege, Mr. President. I am just distressed at the seven 'no' votes on that appointment. A lot of people say there is no discrimination anymore. I think the people that voted 'no' on that appointment indicate that discrimination is alive and well in the state of Washington. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Deccio: "I rise to a point of personal privilege, Mr. President. I voted for this appointment. I voted it out of committee and voted for it just now. I think the previous speaker is out of line. I think we all have a right to vote the way we want to and the reasons why we vote that way is really no body's business but our own. I think to impugn anybody on this floor is forbidden and I think it just happened. I don't like to see that happen. Thank you."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Senator Deccio, the President thinks your point is well taken."

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5813, by Senators Thibaudeau, Deccio, Costa and Winsley

Requiring third-party payors to designate a licensed medical director for its coverage decisions.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Thibaudeau, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5813 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5813 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

Senator Thibaudeau moved that the following striking amendment by Senators Thibaudeau and Deccio be adopted:

On page 1, strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 48.43 RCW to read as follows:

Any carrier that offers a health plan and any self-insured health plan subject to the jurisdiction of Washington state shall designate a medical director who is licensed under chapter 18.57 or 18.71 RCW.

Sec. 2. RCW 51.04.020 and 1994 c 164 s 24 are each amended to read as follows:

The director shall:
(1) Establish and adopt rules governing the administration of this title;
(2) Ascertain and establish the amounts to be paid into and out of the accident fund;
(3) Regulate the proof of accident and extent thereof, the proof of death and the proof of relationship and the extent of dependency;
(4) Supervise the medical, surgical, and hospital treatment to the intent that it may be in all cases efficient and up to the recognized standard of modern surgery;
(5) Issue proper receipts for moneys received and certificates for benefits accrued or accruing;
(6) Investigate the cause of all serious injuries and report to the governor from time to time any violations or laxity in performance of protective statutes or regulations coming under the observation of the department;
(7) Compile statistics which will afford reliable information upon which to base operations of all divisions under the department;
(8) Make an annual report to the governor of the workings of the department;
(9) Be empowered to enter into agreements with the appropriate agencies of other states relating to conflicts of jurisdiction where the contract of employment is in one state and injuries are received in the other state, and insofar as permitted by the Constitution and laws of the United States, to enter into similar agreements with the provinces of Canada; and
(10) Designate a medical director who is licensed under chapter 18.57 or 18.71 RCW.

Sec. 3. RCW 51.14.030 and 1977 ex.s. c 323 s 10 are each amended to read as follows:
The director may issue a certification that an employer is qualified as a self-insurer when such employer meets the following requirements:

(1) He or she has fulfilled the requirements of RCW 51.14.020.
(2) He or she has submitted to the department a payroll report for the preceding consecutive twelve month period.
(3) He or she has submitted to the department a sworn itemized statement accompanied by an independent audit of the employer's books demonstrating to the director's satisfaction that the employer has sufficient liquid assets to meet his or her estimated liabilities as a self-insurer.
(4) He or she has demonstrated to the department the existence of the safety organization maintained by him or her within his or her establishment that indicates a record of accident prevention.
(5) He or she has submitted to the department a description of the administrative organization to be maintained by him or her to manage industrial insurance matters including:
   (a) The reporting of injuries;
   (b) The authorization of medical care;
   (c) The payment of compensation;
   (d) The handling of claims for compensation;
   (e) The name and location of each business location of the employer;
   (f) The qualifications of the personnel of the employer to perform this service; and
   (g) The designation of a medical director who is licensed under chapter 18.57 or 18.71 RCW.

Such certification shall remain in effect until withdrawn by the director or surrendered by the employer with the approval of the director. An employer's qualification as a self-insurer shall become effective on the date of certification or any date specified in the certificate after the date of certification.

Sec. 4. RCW 74.09.050 and 1979 c 141 s 335 are each amended to read as follows:
The secretary shall appoint such professional personnel and other assistants and employees, including professional medical screeners, as may be reasonably necessary to carry out the provisions of this chapter. The medical screeners shall be supervised by one or more physicians who shall be appointed by the secretary or his designee. The secretary shall appoint a medical director who is licensed under chapter 18.57 or 18.71 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 41.05 RCW to read as follows:
The administrator shall designate a medical director who is licensed under chapter 18.57 or 18.71 RCW.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Deccio: “Senator Thibaudeau, is it the intent of this amendment to establish new risks of civil liability for medical directors of health plans?”

Senator Thibaudeau: “No, this amendment merely establishes an objective standard to show the skill, training and expertise required for a medical director. The amendment does not mean that a medical director is subject to new liabilities for professional negligence.”

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the striking amendment by Senators Thibaudeau and Deccio to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5813.

The motion by Senator Thibaudeau carried and the striking amendment was adopted.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Thibaudeau, the following title amendment was adopted:
On page 1, on line 2 of the title, after "accountability;", strike all material through "RCW" on line 3, and insert "amending RCW 51.04.020, 51.14.030 and 74.09.050; adding a new section to chapter 48.43 RCW; and adding a new section to chapter 41.05 RCW"

On motion of Senator Thibaudeau, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5813 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage. Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5813.

ROLL CALL
The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5813 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 46; Nays, 0; Absent, 1; Excused, 2.

Voting yea: Senators Benton, Brown, Costa, Deccio, Eide, Fairley, Finkbeiner, Franklin, Fraser, Gardner, Goings, Hale, Hargrove, Haugen, Heavey, Hochstatter, Honeyford, Horn, Jacobsen, Kline, Kohl-Welles, Long, Loveland, McAuliffe, McCaslin, McDonald, Morton, Oke, Patterson, Prentice, Rasmussen, Roach, Rossi, Sheahan, Sheldon, B., Sheldon, T., Shin, Snyder, Spanel, Stevens, Swecker, Thibaudeau, West, Winsley, Wojahn and Zarelli - 46. Absent: Senator Bauer - 1. Excused: Senators Johnson and Sellar - 2. ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5813, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

There being no objection, the President advanced the Senate to the seventh order of business.
There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5929, deferred on third reading earlier today.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "For purposes of ruling on the point of order by Senator West concerning the number of votes necessary to pass Substitute Senate Bill No. 5929, the President finds that Referendum 49 did two things primarily: First, lowered the motor vehicle excise tax payable by motor vehicle owners; and, Second, shifted motor vehicle excise tax revenues from the general fund to the motor vehicle fund for transportation purposes.

"Substitute Senate Bill No. 5929 does not increase the amount of motor vehicle excise tax payable by motor vehicle owners. Section one of the measure authorizes municipalities to collect a higher percentage of motor vehicle excise tax, but this amount would be offset by a reduction in the amount collected by the state.

"Substitute Senate Bill No. 5929 does not shift motor vehicle excise tax revenues away from the motor vehicle fund or away from transportation purposes. The measure simply redistributes a share of local motor vehicle tax revenues among local transit agencies, the public transportation capital account and the transportation fund.

"The President, therefore, finds under Article II, Section 1(c) of the State Constitution, that Substitute Senate Bill No. 5929 does not amend Referendum 49 and requires only a simple majority vote on final passage."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5929.
Debate ensued.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5929 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote:
Yeas, 31; Nays, 16; Absent, 0; Excused, 2.

Voting yea: Senators Bauer, Brown, Costa, Eide, Fairley, Finkbeiner, Franklin, Fraser, Gardner, Goings, Hargrove, Haugen, Heavey, Jacobsen, Kline, Kohl-Welles, Long, Loveland, McAuliffe, Patterson, Prentice, Rasmussen, Sheldon, B., Sheldon, T., Shin, Snyder, Spanel, Swecker, Thibaudeau, Winsley and Wojahn - 31. Voting nay: Senators Benton, Deccio, Hale, Hochstatter, Honeyford, Horn, McCaslin, McDonald, Morton, Oke, Roach, Rossi, Sheahan, Stevens, West and Zarelli - 16. Excused: Senators Johnson and Sellar - 2. SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5929, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

There being no objection, the President returned the Senate to the sixth order of business.

SECOND READING

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 5911 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote:

Yeas, 46; Nays, 0; Absent, 1; Excused, 2.

Absent: Senator McCaslin - 1.

Excused: Senators Johnson and Sellar - 2.

SENATE BILL NO. 5911, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator West: "A parliamentary inquiry, Mr. President. On your ruling on Substitute Senate Bill No. 5929, which I do not challenge, Sir, I wonder if you might further enlighten the body and elucidate on that opinion. Within the language of the bill, it clearly states, 'RCW 35.58.273 and 1998 Chapter 321, Section 25, Referendum Bill No. 49 are each amended to read as follows,' and it is based on that language that I brought the inquiry asking the determination to be made. Mr. President, if you would further enlighten us as to how that particular language could be ignored in your ruling, I would appreciate it."

FURTHER RULING BY THE PRESIDENT ON SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5929

President Owen: "In responding to Senator West's point of parliamentary inquiry, the President notes that although Substitute Senate Bill No. 5929 does address sections that were part of Referendum 49, the substantive law made in Referendum 49 was not itself amended. The President would like the members to know that he will look to substance rather than form in ruling on whether a measure amends an initiative or referendum, just as the President looks to the substance of a bill rather than its title in ruling on scope and object."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Franklin, Senator Bauer was excused.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5593, by Senators McAuliffe, Eide, Loveland, Rasmussen, B. Sheldon and Winsley (by request of Governor Locke)

Creating the Washington professional educator standards board.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator McAuliffe, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5593 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5593 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

Senator Finkbeiner moved that the following amendments by Senators Finkbeiner and McAuliffe be considered simultaneously and be adopted:

On page 6, after line 30, insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. In the 2000 supplemental budget for the 1999-2001 biennium, the budget for the state board of education shall be adjusted by an appropriate amount that reflects the reduction in its duties as a result of sections 3 and 4 of this act."

On page 8, after line 6, strike "after August 31, 1992," and insert ((after August 31, 1992))

On page 8, after line 21, strike "after August 31, 1992" and insert ((after August 31, 1992))

On page 12, after line 20, insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. Sections 1, 2 and 13 of this act take effect July 1, 1999. Sections 3 through 12 of this act take effect January 1, 2000."

Renumber the sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendments by Senators Finkbeiner and McAuliffe on page 6, after line 30; page 8, lines 6 and 21, and page 12, after line 20; to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5593.

The motion by Senator Finkbeiner carried and the amendments were adopted.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator McAuliffe, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 4 of the title, after "RCW;" strike the remaining material and insert "creating new sections; and providing effective dates."

On motion of Senator McAuliffe, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5593 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5593.

The bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 32; Nays, 13; Absent, 1; Excused, 3.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5720, by Senators Shin, Sheahan, Kohl-Welles, Finkbeiner, Prentice, Horn, T. Sheldon, Kline, Jacobsen, West and Oke

Promoting cooperative real estate research.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Kohl-Welles moved that the following amendment by Senators Kohl-Welles and Shin be adopted:
On page 2, after line 14, insert the following:

“(a) Conduct studies and research on affordable housing and strategies to meet the affordable housing needs of the state;“

Renumber the sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senators Kohl-Welles and Shin on page 2, after line 14, to Senate Bill No. 5720.

The motion by Senator Kohl-Welles carried and the amendment was adopted.

MOTION

Senator Kohl-Welles moved that the following amendment by Senators Kohl-Welles and Shin be adopted:

On page 2, line 38, after the word “section” insert the following:

and that has a broad-based advisory board with representatives from the real estate industry, building and construction industry, financial institutions, local governments, and nonprofit organizations that are directly involved in the provision of affordable housing. No single interest group may constitute more than thirty percent of the membership of the advisory board.”

Renumber the sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Sheahan: "Thank you, Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. I submit that the amendment proposed by Senators Kohl-Welles and Shin changes the scope and object of Senate Bill No. 5720 and, therefore, violates Senate Rule 66. The underlying bill sets up an account where monies can be deposited that are collected from the real estate industry. The proposed amendment deals with setting up an advisory board. It seems to me that it has nothing to do with the underlying bill and, therefore, is not under the scope of the bill."

Further debate ensued.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Betti Sheldon, further consideration of Senate Bill No. 5720 was deferred.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5210, by Senators Stevens, Hargrove, Long, Zarelli, Patterson and Franklin

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5893 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 46; Nays, 0; Absent, 0; Excused, 3.
Voting yea: Senators Benton, Brown, Costa, Deccio, Eide, Finkbeiner, Franklin, Fraser, Gardner, Goings, Hale, Hargrove, Haugen, Heavey, Hochstatter, Honeyford, Horn, Jacobsen, Johnson, Kline, Kohl-Welles, Long, Loveland, McAuliffe, McCaslin, McDonald, Morton, Oke, Patterson, Prentice, Rasmusen, Roach, Rossi, Sheahan, Sheldon, B., Sheldon, T., Shin, Snyder, Spanel, Stevens, Swecker, Thibaudeau, West, Winsley, Wojahn and Zarelli - 46. Excused: Senators Bauer, Fairley and Sellar - 3. SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5893, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5480, by Senators Patterson, Hargrove, Long, Eide, Franklin, Shin, McCaslin, Haugen, Goings, Gardner, Prentice, Kline, T. Sheldon, Wojahn, Benton, Spanel, B. Sheldon, Bauer, McAuliffe, Jacobsen, Rossi, Horn, Johnson, West, Winsley, Oke and Rasmusen Requiring identification of drug-affected infants and providing treatment services to their mothers.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Hargrove, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5480 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5480 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.
Senator Patterson moved that the following striking amendment be adopted:
Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:
"Sec. 1. RCW 13.34.030 and 1998 c 130 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:
For purposes of this chapter:
(1) "Chemical dependency treatment" means a service certified by the department as qualified in helping individuals successfully recover from the nonprescription use of controlled substances.
(2) "Child" and "juvenile" means any individual under the age of eighteen years.
((2)) (3) "Current placement episode" means the period of time that begins with the most recent date that the child was removed from the home of the parent, guardian, or legal custodian for purposes of placement in out-of-home care and continues until the child returns home, an adoption decree, a permanent custody order, or guardianship order is entered, or the dependency is dismissed, whichever occurs soonest. If the most recent date of removal occurred prior to the filing of a dependency petition under this chapter or after filing but prior to entry of a disposition order, such time periods shall be included when calculating the length of a child's current placement episode.
((4))) (4) "Department" means the department of social and health services.
(5) "Dependency finding" means a determination by the court that a child is a dependent child."
(6) "Dependency guardian" means the person, nonprofit corporation, or Indian tribe appointed by the court pursuant to RCW 13.34.232 for the limited purpose of assisting the court in the supervision of the dependency.

(7) "Dependency petition" means a petition filed under this chapter.

(8) "Dependent child" means any child:
   (a) Who has been abandoned; that is, where the child's parent, guardian, or other custodian has expressed either by statement or conduct, an intent to forego, for an extended period, parental rights or parental responsibilities despite an ability to do so. If the court finds that the petitioner has exercised due diligence in attempting to locate the parent, no contact between the child and the child's parent, guardian, or other custodian for a period of three months creates a rebuttable presumption of abandonment, even if there is no expressed intent to abandon;
   (b) Who is abused or neglected as defined in chapter 26.44 RCW by a person legally responsible for the care of the child; or
   (c) Who has no parent, guardian, or custodian capable of adequately caring for the child, such that the child is in circumstances which constitute a danger of substantial damage to the child's psychological or physical development.

(9) "Drug-affected infant" has the definition created by the department of health in conjunction with the department of social and health services under RCW 13.34.801 and the infant requires treatment for withdrawal from controlled substances the infant was exposed to from the mother's use of nonprescription controlled substances or the infant requires treatment and services related to conditions that extend beyond the point of withdrawal.

(10) "Family planning" means the process of limiting or spacing the birth of children, education, counseling, information, and services. "Family planning" does not include pregnancy termination.

(11) "Guardian" means the person or agency that: (a) Has been appointed as the guardian of a child in a legal proceeding other than a proceeding under this chapter; and (b) has the legal right to custody of the child pursuant to such appointment. The term "guardian" shall not include a "dependency guardian" appointed pursuant to a proceeding under this chapter.

(12) "Guardian ad litem" means a person, appointed by the court to represent the best interest of a child in a proceeding under this chapter, or in any matter which may be consolidated with a proceeding under this chapter. A "court-appointed special advocate" appointed by the court to be the guardian ad litem for the child, or to perform substantially the same duties and functions as a guardian ad litem, shall be deemed to be guardian ad litem for all purposes and uses of this chapter.

(13) "Guardian ad litem program" means a court-authorized volunteer program, which is or may be established by the superior court of the county in which such proceeding is filed, to manage all aspects of volunteer guardian ad litem representation for children alleged or found to be dependent. Such management shall include but is not limited to: Recruitment, screening, training, supervision, assignment, and discharge of volunteers.

(14) "Newborn infant" means an infant within seven days after birth.

(15) "Out-of-home care" means placement in a foster family home or group care facility licensed pursuant to chapter 74.15 RCW or placement in a home, other than that of the child's parent, guardian, or legal custodian, not required to be licensed pursuant to chapter 74.15 RCW.

(16) "Preventive services" means preservation services, as defined in chapter 74.14C RCW, and other reasonably available services preventing the need for out-of-home placement while protecting the child.

(17) "Test" means use of a medically accepted standard of care for determining whether a newborn infant is a drug-affected infant.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 13.34 RCW to read as follows:

In effort to reduce the harmful effects of drug-affected infants:

(1)(a) A woman's primary health care provider shall:
   (i) Screen pregnant and lactating women for nonprescription use of controlled substances while pregnant. Screening criteria may include, but is not limited to, the criteria developed by the department of health pursuant to chapter 70.83E RCW;
   (ii) Convey to the infant's primary health care provider screening findings that would suggest the need for testing of the infant, or conduct the testing; and
   (iii) Inform each woman identified by screening for testing of her infant that if her infant is born drug-affected she can have a tubal ligation at no cost to her within six months following the birth if she is eligible for support under RCW 74.09.310, and how to access appropriate chemical dependency treatment.
   (b) The provider shall not be liable for a decision regarding testing or reporting unless the decision amounts to gross negligence or intentional misconduct.

(2)(a) The health care provider of a newborn infant shall:
   (i) Test any infant the provider reasonably believes is drug-affected; and
   (ii) Notify the department of the name and address of the parent or parents of a drug-affected infant.
(b) The provider shall not be liable for a decision regarding testing or reporting unless the decision amounts to gross negligence or intentional misconduct.

(3) The department shall investigate all reports received under this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 13.34 RCW to read as follows:

When an infant is determined to be a first drug-affected infant, the department shall file a dependency petition in appropriate cases. The drug-affected status of an infant is not by itself sufficient to establish a finding that the drug-affected infant is dependent.

(1) The department and the mother may enter an agreement in which the mother agrees to chemical dependency treatment on an inpatient or outpatient basis. The mother must be offered education regarding family planning and medically appropriate pharmaceutical pregnancy prevention during the course of chemical dependency treatment with a preference for those methods administered not less than once every thirty days. In addition, the agreement shall:
   (a) Specify completion dates for each of the conditions of treatment;
   (b) Expire within twelve months of the date of execution; and
   (c) Not be renegotiated or extended beyond twelve months of the date of execution unless the conditions, which were negotiated, cannot be fulfilled in twelve months and the reason the conditions cannot be fulfilled are completely beyond the control of the mother.

(2) If the department has filed a dependency petition and the department and the mother enter an agreement under subsection (1) of this section, the department shall request the court defer entry of a dependency finding for as long as the mother abides by the terms of the agreement subject to the department's monitoring compliance.

(3) As a condition of deferral of the dependency finding, the parties shall stipulate to facts sufficient to constitute a dependency. In the event a party unreasonably refuses to stipulate to facts sufficient to constitute a dependency, the court may proceed with hearings on the petition.

(4) If the court orders deferral of the dependency finding, the court shall order performance of the agreement and shall prohibit nonprescription use of controlled substances.

(5) The department or any party to the petition may request the court dismiss a deferred finding at any time if the mother demonstrates by clear and convincing evidence that she has not used controlled substances for at least twelve consecutive months unless the court finds compelling reasons to shorten the time after consulting with the substance abuse provider, but under no circumstances less than six months, and she can safely provide for the child's welfare without continuing supervision by the department or court.

(6) In the event the department does not file a petition or enter an agreement, the department shall refer the mother to available chemical dependency treatment.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 13.34 RCW to read as follows:

When an infant is determined to be a second drug-affected infant, the department shall file a dependency petition for the second drug-affected infant unless compelling reasons exist to the contrary. The department may proceed immediately with a dependency petition on the first drug-affected infant. The drug-affected status of an infant is not by itself sufficient to establish a finding that the drug-affected infant is dependent.

(1) The department and the mother may enter an agreement in which the mother agrees to inpatient chemical dependency treatment unless the department determines outpatient treatment is in the best interest of the child and participation in a model project developed under RCW 13.34.800 for aftercare services if the model project is available. The mother must be offered education regarding family planning and medically appropriate pharmaceutical pregnancy prevention during the course of chemical dependency treatment with a preference for those methods administered not less than once every thirty days. In addition, the agreement shall:
   (a) Specify completion dates for each of the conditions of treatment;
   (b) Expire within twelve months of the date of execution; and
   (c) Not be renegotiated or extended beyond twelve months of the date of execution unless the conditions, which were negotiated, cannot be fulfilled in twelve months and the reason the conditions cannot be fulfilled are completely outside the control of the mother.

(2) If the department has filed a dependency petition and the department and the mother enter an agreement under subsection (1) of this section, the department shall request the court defer entry of a dependency finding for as long as the mother abides by the terms of the agreement subject to the department's monitoring compliance.

(3) As a condition of deferral of the dependency finding, the parties shall stipulate to facts sufficient to constitute a dependency. In the event a party unreasonably refuses to stipulate to facts sufficient to constitute a dependency, the court may proceed with hearings on the petition.
(4) If the court orders deferral of the dependency finding, the court shall order performance of the agreement and shall prohibit nonprescription use of controlled substances.

(5) The department or the mother may request the court dismiss a deferred finding at any time if the mother demonstrates by clear and convincing evidence that she has not used controlled substances for at least twelve consecutive months unless the court finds compelling reasons to shorten the time after consulting with the substance abuse provider, but under no circumstances less than six months, and she can safely provide for the child's welfare without continuing supervision by the department or court.

(6) In the event the department does not file a petition or enter an agreement, the department shall refer the mother to available chemical dependency treatment programs.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 13.34 RCW to read as follows:

Unless compelling reasons exist to the contrary, the department shall file a dependency petition when an infant is determined to be a third or subsequent drug-affected infant. Unless compelling reasons exist to the contrary, the department shall proceed with dependency petitions on all drug-affected children born before the third or subsequent birth. The drug-affected status of an infant is not by itself sufficient to establish a finding that the drug-affected infant is dependent.

(1) The court shall order evaluation by a designated chemical dependency specialist, as defined in RCW 70.96A.020, who shall undertake the processes described in RCW 70.96A.140. If the mother enters chemical dependency treatment, the mother must be offered education regarding family planning and medically appropriate pharmaceutical pregnancy prevention during the course of chemical dependency treatment with a preference for those methods administered not less than once every thirty days.

(2) If the court has ordered removal of a child or children, the out-of-home placement order shall remain in effect until the petition is dismissed or the mother has successfully completed inpatient chemical dependency treatment and an aftercare chemical dependency treatment program unless compelling reasons exist to the contrary. The mother must establish to the court that she can safely provide for the welfare of her child or children.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. A new section is added to chapter 13.34 RCW to read as follows:

Nothing in sections 2 through 5 of this act may be interpreted to prohibit or compel action in the best interests of the child by the department independent from the drug-affected status of an infant.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. A new section is added to chapter 13.34 RCW to read as follows:

Notwithstanding sections 2 through 5 of this act, no provider of chemical dependency treatment services may be required by law or contract in any circumstance to participate in the provision of family planning services if the provider objects to so doing for reasons of conscience or religion. Each provider of chemical dependency treatment that invokes the exemption provided under this section shall promptly provide written notice to persons admitted to treatment listing the family planning services the provider refuses to provide for the reason of conscience or religion and how a person admitted to treatment may access family planning in an expeditious manner. When negotiating contracts for chemical dependency treatment services, the department shall prioritize contracted services under sections 3 through 5 of this act for the purpose of maximizing the number of providers who can show effective measurable outcomes in reducing chemical dependency and the birth of drug-affected infants through effective treatment regardless of whether or not they provide family planning services.

Sec. 8. RCW 13.34.070 and 1993 c 358 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Upon the filing of the petition, the clerk of the court shall issue a summons, one directed to the child, if the child is twelve or more years of age, and another to the parents, guardian, or custodian, and such other persons as appear to the court to be proper or necessary parties to the proceedings, requiring them to appear personally before the court at the time fixed to hear the petition. If the child is developmentally disabled and not living at home, the notice shall be given to the child's custodian as well as to the child's parent. The developmentally disabled child shall not be required to appear unless requested by the court. Where the custodian is summoned, the parent or guardian or both shall also be served with a summons. The fact-finding hearing on the petition shall be held no later than seventy-five days after the filing of the petition, unless exceptional reasons for a continuance are found. In cases of a drug-affected infant, exceptional reasons for a continuance exist if the mother and the department have executed an agreement that will take more than seventy-five days to fulfill. The party requesting the continuance shall have the burden of proving by a preponderance of the evidence that exceptional circumstances do exist. To ensure that the hearing on the petition occurs within the seventy-five day time limit, the court shall schedule and hear the matter on an expedited basis.

(2) A copy of the petition shall be attached to each summons.

(3) The summons shall advise the parties of the right to counsel. The summons shall also inform the child's parent, guardian, or legal custodian of his or her right to appointed counsel, if indigent, and of the procedure to use to secure appointed counsel.
(4) The summons shall advise the parents that they may be held responsible for the support of the child if the child is placed in out-of-home care.

(5) The judge may endorse upon the summons an order directing any parent, guardian, or custodian having the custody or control of the child to bring the child to the hearing.

(6) If it appears from affidavit or sworn statement presented to the judge that there is probable cause for the issuance of a warrant of arrest or that the child needs to be taken into custody pursuant to RCW 13.34.050, the judge may endorse upon the summons an order that an officer serving the summons shall at once take the child into custody and take him to the place of shelter designated by the court.

(7) If the person summoned as provided in this section is subject to an order of the court pursuant to subsection (5) or (6) of this section, and if the person fails to abide by the order, he may be proceeded against as for contempt of court. The order endorsed upon the summons shall conspicuously display the following legend:

NOTICE:
VIOLATION OF THIS ORDER IS SUBJECT TO PROCEEDING FOR CONTEMPT OF COURT
PURSUANT TO RCW 13.34.070.

(8) If a party to be served with a summons can be found within the state, the summons shall be served upon the party personally as soon as possible following the filing of the petition, but in no case later than fifteen court days before the fact-finding hearing, or such time as set by the court. If the party is within the state and cannot be personally served, but the party's address is known or can with reasonable diligence be ascertained, the summons may be served upon the party by mailing a copy thereof by certified mail as soon as possible following the filing of the petition, but in no case later than fifteen court days before the hearing, or such time as set by the court. If a party other than the child is without the state but can be found or the address is known, or can with reasonable diligence be ascertained, service of the summons may be made either by delivering a copy thereof to the party personally or by mailing a copy thereof to the party by certified mail at least ten court days before the fact-finding hearing, or such time as set by the court.

(9) Service of summons may be made under the direction of the court by any person eighteen years of age or older who is not a party to the proceedings or by any law enforcement officer, probation counselor, or department of social and health services social worker.

(10) In any proceeding brought under this chapter where the court knows or has reason to know that the child involved is a member of an Indian tribe, notice of the pendency of the proceeding shall also be sent by registered mail, return receipt requested, to the child's tribe. If the identity or location of the tribe cannot be determined, such notice shall be transmitted to the secretary of the interior of the United States.

Sec. 9. RCW 13.34.130 and 1998 c 314 s 2 and 1998 c 130 s 2 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

If, after a fact-finding hearing pursuant to RCW 13.34.110, it has been proven by a preponderance of the evidence that the child is dependent within the meaning of RCW 13.34.070, the court shall enter an order of disposition pursuant to this section.

(1) The court shall order one of the following dispositions of the case:

(a) Order a disposition other than removal of the child from his or her home, which shall provide a program designed to alleviate the immediate danger to the child, to mitigate or cure any damage the child has already suffered, and to aid the parents so that the child will not be endangered in the future. In selecting a program, the court should choose those services that least interfere with family autonomy, provided that the services are adequate to protect the child.

(b) Order that the child be removed from his or her home and ordered into the custody, control, and care of a relative or the department of social and health services or a licensed child placing agency for placement in a foster family home or group care facility licensed pursuant to chapter 74.15 RCW or in a home not required to be licensed pursuant to chapter 74.15 RCW. Unless there is reasonable cause to believe that the safety or welfare of the child would be jeopardized or that efforts to reunite the parent and child will be hindered, such child shall be placed with a person who is related to the child as defined in RCW 74.15.020(4)(a) and with whom the child has a relationship and is comfortable, and who is willing and available to care for the child. Placement of the child with a relative under this subsection shall be given preference by the court. An order for out-of-home placement may be made only if the court finds that reasonable efforts have been made to prevent or eliminate the need for removal of the child from the child's home and to make it possible for the child to return home, specifying the services that have been provided to the child and the child's parent, guardian, or legal custodian, and that preventive services have been offered or provided and have failed to prevent the need for out-of-home placement, unless the health, safety, and welfare of the child cannot be protected adequately in the home, and that:
(i) There is no parent or guardian available to care for such child;
(ii) The parent, guardian, or legal custodian is not willing to take custody of the child;
(iii) The court finds, by clear, cogent, and convincing evidence, a manifest danger exists that the child will suffer serious abuse or neglect if the child is not removed from the home and an order under RCW 26.44.063 would not protect the child from danger; or
(iv) The extent of the child’s disability is such that the parent, guardian, or legal custodian is unable to provide the necessary care for the child and the parent, guardian, or legal custodian has determined that the child would benefit from placement outside of the home.
(2) If the court has ordered a child removed from his or her home pursuant to subsection (1)(b) of this section, the court may order that a petition seeking termination of the parent and child relationship be filed if the court finds: (a) Termination is recommended by the supervising agency; (b) termination is in the best interests of the child; and (c) that because of the existence of aggravated circumstances, reasonable efforts to unify the family are not required. Notwithstanding the existence of aggravated circumstances, reasonable efforts may be required if the court or department determines it is in the best interest of the child. In determining whether aggravated circumstances exist, the court shall consider one or more of the following:
   (i) Conviction of the parent of rape of the child in the first, second, or third degree as defined in RCW 9A.44.073, 9A.44.076, and 9A.44.079;
   (ii) Conviction of the parent of criminal mistreatment of the child in the first or second degree as defined in RCW 9A.42.020 and 9A.42.030;
   (iii) Conviction of the parent of one of the following assault crimes, when the child is the victim: Assault in the first or second degree as defined in RCW 9A.36.011 and 9A.36.021 or assault of a child in the first or second degree as defined in RCW 9A.36.120 or 9A.36.130;
   (iv) Conviction of the parent of murder, manslaughter, or homicide by abuse of the child's other parent, sibling, or another child;
   (v) Conviction of the parent of attempting, soliciting, or conspiracy to commit a crime listed in (c)(i), (ii), (iii), or (iv) of this subsection;
   (vi) A finding by a court that a parent is a sexually violent predator as defined in RCW 71.09.020;
   (vii) Failure of the parent to complete available treatment ordered under this chapter or the equivalent laws of another state, where such failure has resulted in a prior termination of parental rights to another child and the parent has failed to effect significant change in the interim. In the case of a parent of an Indian child, as defined in the Indian Child Welfare Act, P.L. 95-608 (25 U.S.C. [section] 1903), the court shall also consider tribal efforts to assist the parent in completing treatment and make it possible for the child to return home;
   (viii) An infant under three years of age has been abandoned as defined in RCW 13.34.030;
   (ix) The mother has given birth to three or more drug-affected infants, resulting in the department filing a petition under ((section 23 of this act)) section 5 of this act.
(3) If reasonable efforts are not ordered under subsection (2) of this section a permanency plan (planning) hearing shall be held within thirty days. Reasonable efforts shall be made to place the child in a timely manner in accordance with the permanency plan, and to complete whatever steps are necessary to finalize the permanent placement of the child.
(4) Whenever a child is ordered removed from the child’s home, the agency charged with his or her care shall provide the court with:
   (a) A permanency plan of care that shall identify one of the following outcomes as a primary goal and may identify additional outcomes as alternative goals: Return of the child to the home of the child’s parent, guardian, or legal custodian; adoption; guardianship; permanent legal custody; or long-term relative or foster care, until the child is age eighteen, with a written agreement between the parties and the care provider; and independent living, if appropriate and if the child is age sixteen or older. Whenever a permanency plan identifies independent living as a goal, the plan shall also specifically identify the services that will be provided to assist the child to make a successful transition from foster care to independent living. Before the court approves independent living as a permanency plan of care, the court shall make a finding that the provision of services to assist the child in making a transition from foster care to independent living will allow the child to manage his or her financial affairs and to manage his or her personal, social, educational, and nonfinancial affairs. The department shall not discharge a child to an independent living situation before the child is eighteen years of age unless the child becomes emancipated pursuant to chapter 13.64 RCW.
   (b) Unless the court has ordered, pursuant to subsection (2) of this section, that a termination petition be filed, a specific plan as to where the child will be placed, what steps will be taken to return the child home, and what actions the agency will take to maintain parent-child ties. All aspects of the plan shall include the goal of achieving permanence for the child.
(i) The agency plan shall specify what services the parents will be offered in order to enable them to resume custody, what requirements the parents must meet in order to resume custody, and a time limit for each service plan and parental requirement.

(ii) The agency shall be required to encourage the maximum parent-child contact possible, including regular visitation and participation by the parents in the care of the child while the child is in placement. Visitation may be limited or denied only if the court determines that such limitation or denial is necessary to protect the child's health, safety, or welfare.

(iii) A child shall be placed as close to the child's home as possible, preferably in the child's own neighborhood, unless the court finds that placement at a greater distance is necessary to promote the child's or parents' well-being.

(iv) The agency charged with supervising a child in placement shall provide all reasonable services that are available within the agency, or within the community, or those services which the department of social and health services has existing contracts to purchase. It shall report to the court if it is unable to provide such services.

(c) If the court has ordered, pursuant to subsection (2) of this section, that a termination petition be filed, a specific plan as to where the child will be placed, what steps will be taken to achieve permanency for the child, services to be offered or provided to the child, and, if visitation would be in the best interests of the child, a recommendation to the court regarding visitation between parent and child pending a fact-finding hearing on the termination petition. The agency shall not be required to develop a plan of services for the parents or provide services to the parents.

(5) If the court determines that the continuation of reasonable efforts to prevent or eliminate the need to remove the child from his or her home or to safely return the child home should not be part of the permanency plan of care for the child, reasonable efforts shall be made to place the child in a timely manner and to complete whatever steps are necessary to finalize the permanent placement of the child.

(6) If there is insufficient information at the time of the disposition hearing upon which to base a determination regarding the suitability of a proposed placement with a relative, the child shall remain in foster care and the court shall direct the supervising agency to conduct necessary background investigations as provided in chapter 74.15 RCW and report the results of such investigation to the court within thirty days. However, if such relative appears otherwise suitable and competent to provide care and treatment, the criminal history background check need not be completed before placement, but as soon as possible after placement. Any placements with relatives, pursuant to this section, shall be contingent upon cooperation by the relative with the agency case plan and compliance with court orders related to the care and supervision of the child including, but not limited to, court orders regarding parent-child contacts and any other conditions imposed by the court. Noncompliance with the case plan or court order shall be grounds for removal of the child from the relative's home, subject to review by the court.

(7) Except for children whose cases are reviewed by a citizen review board under chapter 13.70 RCW, the status of all children found to be dependent shall be reviewed by the court at least every six months from the beginning date of the placement episode or the date dependency is established, whichever is first, at a hearing in which it shall be determined whether court supervision should continue. The review shall include findings regarding the agency and parental completion of disposition plan requirements, and if necessary, revised permanency time limits. The supervising agency shall provide a foster parent, preadoptive parent, or relative with notice of, and their right to an opportunity to be heard in, a review hearing pertaining to the child, but only if that person is currently providing care to that child at the time of the hearing. This section shall not be construed to grant party status to any person who has been provided an opportunity to be heard.

(a) A child shall not be returned home at the review hearing unless the court finds that a reason for removal as set forth in this section no longer exists. The parents, guardian, or legal custodian shall report to the court the efforts they have made to correct the conditions which led to removal. If a child is returned, casework supervision shall continue for a period of six months, at which time there shall be a hearing on the need for continued intervention.

(b) If the child is not returned home, the court shall establish in writing:

(i) Whether reasonable services have been provided to or offered to the parties to facilitate reunion, specifying the services provided or offered;

(ii) Whether the child has been placed in the least-restrictive setting appropriate to the child's needs, including whether consideration and preference has been given to placement with the child's relatives;

(iii) Whether there is a continuing need for placement and whether the placement is appropriate;

(iv) Whether there has been compliance with the case plan by the child, the child's parents, and the agency supervising the placement;

(v) Whether progress has been made toward correcting the problems that necessitated the child's placement in out-of-home care;

(vi) Whether the parents have visited the child and any reasons why visitation has not occurred or has been infrequent;

(vii) Whether additional services are needed to facilitate the return of the child to the child's parents; if so, the court shall order that reasonable services be offered specifying such services; and
The projected date by which the child will be returned home or other permanent plan of care will be implemented.

(c) The court at the review hearing may order that a petition seeking termination of the parent and child relationship be filed.

Sec. 10. RCW 74.09.310 and 1998 c 314 s 34 are each amended to read as follows:

The department may make available, or cause to be made available, pharmaceutical birth control services, information, and counseling to any person who enters chemical dependency treatment under ((section 20 or 21 of this act)) sections 3 through 5 of this act. Within available funds, the department may pay for any tubal ligations requested under ((section 19 of this act)) section 2 of this act if the mother's income is less than two hundred percent of the federal poverty level. The department shall report by December 1st of each year to the governor and legislature: (1) The number of tubal ligations performed as a result of ((chapter 314, Laws of 1998)) this act; (2) the number of women who decline to undergo the surgery; (3) the number of women who obtain pharmaceutical birth control, by type of birth control; and (4) the number of women who are reported to the department.

Sec. 11. RCW 18.71.950 and 1998 c 314 s 36 are each amended to read as follows:

There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Benton: "I rise to a point of personal privilege, Mr. President. Last night, just shortly before we adjourned, there was an announcement concerning March 15 and the concern of some construction dates and some road projects which were in the supplemental budget. I know many of you, since that announcement, have come up to me during the day today and asked me about your projects that were in your districts and you were very concerned about them. I can understand that. I just received information that I have had distributed to each of the Senators, on their desks, that points out one of the eleven projects was deleted because it wasn't ready for the spring advertising date and four of them have been moved back.

"This was done by the Department of Transportation, because they weren't ready to go to bid. They thought they would be, but they weren't. So, they were not ready to go to bid and so the dates have slipped on these projects due to the department itself. We were also informed that the remaining projects will go ahead and go to bid based on information received from John Conrad, the assistant Secretary of Field Operations--because these projects are typically handled when we don't normally do a supplemental budget--is what happens. We normally handle these projects in the regular transportation budget and give advance authority and so the department has said that these projects will go on to bid as planned. I just wanted to clarify that and give you this documentation for that".

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Jacobsen: "A point of order. Was that a point of personal privilege or was that a speech?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Well, it is walking pretty close to the line from being a speech, I have to admit."

MOTION

At 3:58 p.m, on motion of Senator Betti Sheldon, the Senate was declared to be at ease.

The Senate was called to order at 4:59 p.m. by President Owen.

On motion of Senator Jacobsen, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5518 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Benton: "Senator Jacobsen, I notice that there were some soccer organizations that testified against the bill. Why would the soccer organizations be opposed to the bill and also can you tell me where the money for the athletic fund comes from? There is a dedicated fund for athletic fields. Is that a general fund allocation or is that--where does the money come from that goes into--that these loan and grants are given from?"

Senator Jacobsen: "I'm surprised. If you look at the con in the testimony, it was not any soccer organization, it was Jean Ameluxen from CTED and Laura Johnson from IAC. The athletic organizations are supportive of it. The fund comes from--when we did the Sea Hawk bill several years ago, there were provisos in there that; One, if there was any surplus revenue after the bonds were serviced, that it go for youth athletic facilities and then at the same time, there was another proviso that when Mr. Allen signs the contract to take over--to make the arrangements--that he would write a ten million dollar check to the IAC, which he did. That is the first ten million and that won't be impacted by this, but in the future when the revenue comes in higher than the bonds, that additional money then would be in there for grants or loans. I see some possibilities in there using it like the Public Works Fund, where you give grants where you need it and sometimes you can get loans. Thank you."

Senator Benton: "So, no general fund money?"

Senator Jacobsen: "No."

Senator Benton: "Okay, thank you very much."

Senator Roach: "Senator Jacobsen, this is not an antagonistic question. I am looking at the bill for the first time. Is there any provision here that there be made available for soccer fields any of the land that we have set aside for farm land preservation?"

Senator Jacobsen: "No, that was another bill. That bill is still in rules."

Senator Roach: "Okay, so this will do nothing to act upon what the voters decided to do in King County, to preserve that land as Ag land? Thank you."

Senator Jacobsen: "I also think that was a little bit of a red herring in the fact that once you did those purchases, that land couldn't be converted for any other purpose."

Senator Roach: "Well, I think we have a King County Executive who would like to have some of that land and those of us out there want to make sure that that doesn't happen."

Senator McCaslin: "Senator Jacobsen, you are getting lots of exercise there. I am supporting the bill. I am just curious about--it also added a requirement on cities to replace twice any lost athletic fields. Would that be difficult to attain? Once you lose a field, you have to have two fields or twice the area?"

Senator Jacobsen: "That was the idea of the amendment offered in committee and was adopted by the committee."

Senator McCaslin: "Oh, if it will work, it is a great idea--if it will work."

Senator Jacobsen: "We'll see what happens in the House."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5518.

Voting yea: Senators Bauer, Brown, Costa, Eide, Fairley, Franklin, Fraser, Gardner, Goings, Haugen, Heavey, Jacobsen, Kline, Kohl-Welles, Loveland, McAuliffe, Patterson, Rasmussen, Sheldon, B., Sheldon, T., Shin, Snyder, Spanel, Thibaudeau, Winsley and Wojahn - 27. Voting nay: Senators Benton, Deccio, Finkbeiner, Hale, Hochstatter, Honeyford, Horn, Johnson, Long, McCaslin, McDonald, Morton, Oke, Roach, Rossi, Sheahan, Stevens, Swecker, West and Zarelli - 20. Excused: Senators Prentice and Sellar - 2. SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5299, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

There being no objection, the President advanced the Senate to the seventh order of business.
There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5201, deferred on third reading earlier today.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Honeyford concerning the number of votes necessary to pass Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5201, the President finds that the measure permits the Department of Health and local registrars to raise fees for the stated purposes of copying vital statistics and record searches. It is not clearly apparent that the raised fees are 'user fees,' because a portion of the fees are As such, it is necessary to look behind the measure.

"In looking behind the statute, the President finds that although a portion of the fees raised under the statute are turned over to the State Treasurer, the fees are held by the treasurer in the general fund local account, not the general fund state account. The President also finds that currently the amount of fees collected for vital records and statistics services is not adequate to fund those services. The Vital Records and Statistics Program within the Department of Health is subsidized by the general fund.

"For these reasons, the President finds that the fees raised in Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5201 are, in fact, necessary to fund the governmental services for which the fees are paid. These fees are 'user fees' as defined by the President in previous rulings, and are not 'taxes' as defined by Initiative 601.

"The President, therefore, finds that Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5201 requires only a simple majority vote on final passage."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5201.

Debate ensued.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5201 and the bill failed to pass the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 19; Nays, 26; Absent, 2; Excused, 2.

Senator Fraser moved that the following amendment by Senators Fraser, Spanel and Kline be adopted:

On page 1, after "Sec. 1." insert the following:

(1) The office of the attorney general and the standing committees on the judiciary and environmental quality in the house of representatives and the senate shall jointly review the availability of nuisance and other actions for the recovery of property damages from air emissions, water discharge, and solid waste discharge or release, and court decisions and public policy considerations regarding restricting the availability of such actions when the discharge or release occurs in compliance with a term or condition of:

(a) a statute or regulation;
(b) a license, permit, or order that is issued after the opportunity for public comment by a local, state, or federal agency and subject to continuing compliance assurance procedures, review by the issuing authority, and amendment or renewal; or
(c) a court order or judgment.
(2) Stakeholder organizations such as business and environmental organizations, property owner organizations, and the practicing legal profession should be consulted in conducting the review.

(3) The attorney general and standing committee shall submit its report and proposed recommendations for statutory changes to the availability of property damage recovery actions to the legislature by December 31, 1999."

Debate ensued.
Senator Johnson demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.
Further debate ensued.
The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the adoption of the amendment by Senators Fraser, Spanel and Kline on page 1, after Sec. 1, to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5285.

ROLL CALL

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Prentice moved that the following striking amendment by Senators Prentice, Costa, Franklin, Deccio, Fraser, McAuliffe, Benton, Heavey, Thibaudeau, Johnson and Wojahn be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that workers engaged in the handling, transportation, treatment, and disposal of biomedical waste may be exposed to elevated risks of contracting diseases from pathogens conveyed by air or water. These risks may be reduced by application of occupational health standards for airborne pathogens and waterborne pathogens that are comparable to those developed to protect workers from bloodborne pathogens. The legislature further finds that opportunities to improve bloodborne pathogen standards arise when product engineering improvements result in safer medical devices.

*NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. (1) The department of labor and industries shall review available data, studies, hazard analyses, and other information regarding the potential for employee exposure to airborne or waterborne biological hazards in the handling, transport, treatment, and disposal of biomedical waste. Based on this review, the department shall make recommendations for appropriate action under the department's existing authority to protect workers and develop a plan for implementing the recommendations. The department shall report to the legislature its findings, recommendations, and implementation plan and recommendations for action by the legislature no later than December 1, 1999.

(2) This section expires December 31, 1999.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 49.17 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The department shall, by July 1, 1999, adopt rules revising the bloodborne pathogen standard governing occupational exposure to blood and other potentially infectious materials in accordance with subsection (3) of this section.

(2) The definitions in this subsection apply throughout this section unless the context clearly requires otherwise.
(a) "Bloodborne pathogens" means pathogenic microorganisms that are present in human blood and can cause disease in humans. These pathogens include, but are not limited to, hepatitis B virus, hepatitis C virus, and human immunodeficiency virus.

(b) "Employer" means each employer having an employee with occupational exposure to human blood or other material potentially containing bloodborne pathogens.

(c) "Engineering controls" means controls including, but not limited to, needleless systems and sharps with engineered sharps injury protection that isolate or remove the bloodborne pathogens hazard from the workplace.

(d) "Engineered sharps injury protection" means either:

(i) A physical attribute built into a needle device used for withdrawing body fluids, accessing a vein or artery, or administering medications or other fluids, that effectively reduces the risk of an exposure incident by a mechanism such as barrier creation, blunting, encapsulation, withdrawal, retraction, destruction, or other effective mechanisms; or

(ii) A physical attribute built into any other type of needle device, or into a nonneedle sharp, which effectively reduces the risk of an exposure incident.

(e) "Front-line health care worker" means a nonmanagerial employee responsible for direct patient care with potential occupational exposure to sharps-related injuries.

(f) "Needleless system" means a device that does not use needles for:

(i) The withdrawal of body fluids after initial venous or arterial access is established;

(ii) The administration of medication or fluids; and

(iii) Any other procedure involving the potential for an exposure incident.

(g) "Sharp" means any object used or encountered in a health care setting that can be reasonably anticipated to penetrate the skin or any other part of the body, and to result in an exposure incident, including, but not limited to, needle devices, scalpels, lancets, broken capillary tubes, exposed ends of dental wires and dental knives, drills, and burs.

(h) "Sharps injury" means any injury caused by a sharp, including, but not limited to, cuts, abrasions, or needle sticks.

(i) "Sharps injury log" means a written or electronic record satisfying the requirements of subsection (3)(d) of this section.

(j) "Small business" means an employer subject to this section with less than eleven employees at any time during the calendar year immediately preceding the current calendar year.

(3) The department shall adopt a standard, as described in subsection (1) of this section. The standard shall include, but not be limited to, the following:

(a) A requirement that needleless systems and sharps with engineered sharps injury protection be included as engineering and work practice controls. However, the engineering control is not required if:

(i) It is not available in the marketplace;

(ii) An evaluation committee, established by the employer, at least half the members of which are front-line health care workers from a variety of occupational classifications and departments, including but not limited to nurses, nurses aides, technicians, phlybotomists, and physicians, determines by means of objective product evaluation criteria that use of such devices will jeopardize patient or employee safety with regard to a specific medical procedure; or

(iii) The employer can demonstrate by means of objective product evaluation criteria that the engineering control is not more effective in preventing exposure incidents than the alternative used by the employer. In making this determination, the employer must certify:

(A) That the employees using the engineering controls were adequately trained and demonstrated proficiency in utilizing the device before implementation in patient care settings; and

(B) That the device has been used for a period of time sufficient to allow for the normal adjustment period after implementation of new devices.

(b) A requirement that written exposure control plans include an effective procedure for identifying and selecting existing needleless systems and sharps with engineered sharps injury protection. Any procedure adopted should provide that the evaluation committee described in (a) of this subsection has responsibility for identifying and selecting such devices;

(c) A requirement that written exposure control plans be updated when necessary to reflect progress in implementing needleless systems and sharps with engineered sharps injury protection as determined by the evaluation committee described in (a) of this subsection, but in no event should updating occur less than once every year;

(d) A requirement that information concerning exposure incidents be recorded in a sharps injury log, including, but not limited to:

(i) Date and time of the exposure incident;

(ii) Type and brand of sharp involved in the exposure incident; and

(iii) Description of the exposure incident that shall include:
(A) Job classification of the exposed employee;
(B) Department or work area where the exposure incident occurred;
(C) The procedure that the exposed employee was performing at the time of the incident;
(D) How the incident occurred;
(E) The body part involved in the exposure incident;
(F) If the sharp had engineered sharps injury protection, whether the protective mechanism was activated, and whether the injury occurred before the protective mechanism was activated, during activation of the mechanism or after activation of the mechanism;
(G) If the sharp had no engineered sharps injury protection, the injured employee's opinion as to whether and how such a mechanism could have prevented the injury, as well as the basis for the opinion; and
(H) The employee's opinion about whether any other engineering, administrative, or work practice control could have prevented the injury, as well as the basis for the opinion.

(4) In complying with this section, a small business may:
(a) Evaluate new technology through its own evaluation committee, a joint evaluation committee, established by multiple small business employers, at least half the members of which are front-line health care workers, or an evaluation committee established under the auspices of the department, at least half the members of which are front-line health care workers;
(b) Use a joint evaluation committee to develop and update the written procedure for identifying and selecting devices as required by subsection (3)(b) and (c) of this section; and
(c) Comply with provisions of subsection (3)(d) of this section by recording the required sharps injury data in its OSHA 200 log.

(5) The department shall:
Promulgate additional amendments to the bloodborne pathogen standard necessary to implement this section; and, to the extent that funds are available, evaluate the impact of this section on the reduction of needle stick and sharps injuries and costs of employer operations.

(6) The department of health shall compile and maintain a list of existing needleless systems and sharps with engineered sharps injury protection, that is available to assist employers in complying with the requirements of the bloodborne pathogen standard adopted under this section. The list may be developed from existing sources of information including, but not limited to, the federal food and drug administration, the federal centers for disease control, the national institute of occupational safety and health, and the United States department of veterans affairs.”

Debate ensued.
The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the striking amendment by Senators Prentice, Costa, Franklin, Deccio, Fraser, McAuliffe, Benton, Heavey, Thibaudeau, Johnson and Wojahn to Senate Bill No. 5597.
The motion by Senator Prentice carried and the striking amendment was adopted.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Fraser, the following title amendment was adopted:
On page 1, beginning on line 2 of the title, after “pathogens” insert “, bloodborne pathogens.”

On motion of Senator Fraser, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5597 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Honeyford, Senator Hochstatter was excused.
The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5597.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5597 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 47; Nays, 0; Absent, 0; Excused, 2.
Voting yea: Senators Bauer, Benton, Brown, Costa, Deccio, Eide, Fairley, Finkbeiner, Franklin, Fraser, Gardner, Goings, Hale, Hargrove, Haugen, Heavey, Honeyford, Horn, Jacobsen, Johnson, Kline, Kohl-Welles, Long, Loveland, McAuliffe, McCaslin, McDonald, Morton, Oke, Patterson, Prentice, Rasmussen, Roach, Rossi,
SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5886, by Senators Fraser, Fairley, Kline, Thibaudeau and Franklin

Changing vehicle emission inspection program provisions.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Fraser moved that the following striking amendment by Senators Fraser, Morton, Jacobsen, Eide, Honeyford, McAuliffe and Swecker be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

(1) Neither the department of licensing nor its agents may issue or renew a motor vehicle license for any vehicle or change the registered owner of a licensed vehicle, for any vehicle that is required to be inspected under chapter 70.120 RCW, unless the application for issuance or renewal is: (a) Accompanied by a valid certificate of compliance or a valid certificate of acceptance issued pursuant to chapter 70.120 RCW; or (b) exempted from this requirement pursuant to subsection (2) of this section. The certificates must have a date of validation which is within (six) fourteen months of the date of application for the vehicle license or license renewal. ((Certificates for fleet or owner tested diesel vehicles may have a date of validation which is within twelve months of the assigned license renewal date.))

(2) Subsection (1) of this section does not apply to the following vehicles:

(a) New motor vehicles whose equitable or legal title has never been transferred to a person who in good faith purchases the vehicle for purposes other than resale;

(b) Motor vehicles with a model year of 1967 or earlier;

(c) Motor vehicles that use propulsion units powered exclusively by electricity;

(d) Motor vehicles fueled by propane, compressed natural gas, or liquid petroleum gas, unless it is determined that federal sanctions will be imposed as a result of this exemption;

(e) Motorcycles as defined in RCW 46.04.330 and motor-driven cycles as defined in RCW 46.04.332;

(f) Farm vehicles as defined in RCW 46.04.181;

(g) Used vehicles (which are offered for sale) sold by a motor vehicle dealer licensed under chapter 46.70 RCW;

(h) Classes of motor vehicles exempted by the director of the department of ecology;

(i) Collector cars as identified by the department of licensing under RCW 46.16.305(1); ((or))

(j) Beginning January 1, ((2000)) 2002, vehicles that are less than ((five)) three years old or more than twenty-five years old; or

(k) Beginning January 1, 2005, vehicles that are less than five years old or more than twenty-five years old.

The provisions of (a) of this subsection may not be construed as exempting from the provisions of subsection (1) of this section applications for the renewal of licenses for motor vehicles that are or have been leased.

(3) The department of ecology shall provide information to motor vehicle owners regarding the boundaries of emission contributing areas and restrictions established under this section that apply to vehicles registered in such areas. In addition the department of ecology shall provide information to motor vehicle owners on the relationship between motor vehicles and air pollution and steps motor vehicle owners should take to reduce motor vehicle related air pollution. The department of licensing shall send to all registered motor vehicle owners affected by the emission testing program notice that they must have an emission test to renew their registration.”

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the striking amendment by Senators Fraser, Morton, Jacobsen, Eide, Honeyford, McAuliffe and Swecker to Senate Bill No. 5886.

The motion by Senator Fraser carried and the striking amendment was adopted.
MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Fraser, the following title amendment was adopted:

On motion of Senator Fraser, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5886 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5886.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5886 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 32; Nays, 14; Absent, 1; Excused, 2.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5793, by Senators Thibaudeau, Deccio and Kohl-Welles

Protecting information related to sexually transmitted diseases and HIV.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Horn, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5793 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5793 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

Senator Benton moved that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 2, line 10, after "chapter," strike "one" and insert "((one)) two"

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senator Benton on page 2, line 10, to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5793.

The motion by Senator Benton failed and the amendment was not adopted.

MOTION

Senator Zarelli moved that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 5, after line 2, insert the following:

"Sec. 5. RCW 70.24.340 and 1997 c 345 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Local health departments authorized under this chapter shall conduct or cause to be conducted pretest counseling, HIV testing, and posttest counseling of all persons:

(a) Convicted of a sexual offense under chapter 9A.44 RCW;
(b) Convicted of prostitution or offenses relating to prostitution under chapter 9A.88 RCW; ((or))
(c) Convicted of drug offenses under chapter 69.50 RCW if the court determines at the time of conviction that the related drug offense is one associated with the use of hypodermic needles; or
(d) Who are offenders or arrested or detained persons and who have subjected a law enforcement officer, fire fighter, health care provider, health care facility staff person, department of corrections staff person, jail staff person, or other category of employee, as determined by the board, to substantial exposure to their bodily fluids upon their consent or pursuant to subsection (5) of this section. Persons tested under this subsection (1)(d) shall also be tested for hepatitis B and hepatitis C."
Sec. 6. RCW 70.24.360 and 1988 c 206 s 706 are each amended to read as follows:

Jail administrators, after consultation with and receiving written recommendations from the local public health officer, may order pretest counseling, HIV testing, and posttest counseling for persons detained in the jail if the jail administrator determines that actual or threatened behavior presents a possible risk to the staff, general public, or other persons.  (Approval of the local public health officer shall be based on RCW 70.24.024(3) and may be contested through RCW 70.24.024(4)).  The jail administrator shall establish, pursuant to RCW 70.48.071, a procedure to document the possible risk (which) that is the basis for the HIV testing.  "Possible risk," as used in this section, shall be defined by the jail administrator after consultation with the board (the rule).  Possible risk, as used in the documentation of the behavior, or threat thereof, shall be reviewed with the person (to try to assure that the person understands the basis for testing).

Sec. 7.  RCW 70.24.024 and 1988 c 206 s 909 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Subject to the provisions of this chapter, the state and local public health officers or their authorized representatives may examine and counsel or cause to be examined and counseled persons reasonably believed to be infected with or to have been exposed to a sexually transmitted disease.

(2) Orders or restrictive measures directed to persons with a sexually transmitted disease shall be used as the last resort when other measures to protect the public health have failed, including reasonable efforts, which shall be documented, to obtain the voluntary cooperation of the person who may be subject to such an order.  The orders and measures shall be applied serially with the least intrusive measures used first.  The burden of proof shall be on the state or local public health officer to show that specified grounds exist for the issuance of the orders or restrictive measures and that the terms and conditions imposed are no more restrictive than necessary to protect the public health.

(3) When the state or local public health officer within his or her respective jurisdiction knows or has reason to believe, because of direct medical knowledge or reliable testimony of others in a position to have direct knowledge of a person's behavior, that a person has a sexually transmitted disease and is engaging in specified conduct, as determined by the board by rule based upon generally accepted standards of medical and public health science, that endangers the public health, he or she shall conduct an investigation in accordance with procedures prescribed by the board to evaluate the specific facts alleged, if any, and the reliability and credibility of the person or persons providing such information and, if satisfied that the allegations are true, he or she may issue an order according to the following priority to:

(a) Order a person to submit to a medical examination or testing, seek counseling, or cause to be examined and counseled persons reasonably believed to be infected with or to have been exposed to a sexually transmitted disease.

(b) Order a person to immediately cease and desist from specified conduct (which) that endangers the health of others by imposing such restrictions upon the person as are necessary to prevent the specified conduct that endangers the health of others only if the public health officer has determined that clear and convincing evidence exists to believe that such person has been ordered to report for counseling as provided in (a) of this subsection and continues to demonstrate behavior (which) that endangers the health of others.  Any restriction shall be in writing, setting forth the name of the person to be restricted and the initial period of time, not to exceed three months, during which the order shall remain effective, the terms of the restrictions, and such other conditions as may be necessary to protect the public health.  Restrictions shall be imposed in the least-restrictive manner necessary to protect the public health.

(4)(a) Upon the issuance of any order by the state or local public health officer or an authorized representative pursuant to subsection (3) of this section or RCW 70.24.340(4) to a person who is not being tested under RCW 70.24.340(1), such public health officer shall give written notice promptly, personally, and confidentially to the person who is the subject of the order stating the grounds and provisions of the order, including the factual bases therefor, the evidence relied upon for proof of infection and dangerous behavior, and the likelihood of repetition of such behaviors in the absence of such an order, and notifying the person who is the subject of the order that, if he or she contests the order, he or she may appear at a judicial hearing on the enforceability of the order, to be held in superior court.  He or she may have an attorney appear on his or her behalf in the hearing at public expense, if necessary.  The hearing shall be held within seventy-two hours of receipt of the notice, unless the person subject to the order agrees to comply.  If the person contests the order, no invasive medical procedures shall be carried out prior to a hearing being held pursuant to this subsection.  If the person does not contest the order within seventy-two hours of receiving it, and the person does not comply with the order within the time period specified for compliance with the order, the state or local public health officer may request a warrant be issued by the superior court to insure appearance at the hearing.  The hearing shall be held within seventy-two hours of the expiration date of the time specified for compliance with the original order.  The burden of proof shall be on the public health officer to show by clear and convincing evidence that the specified grounds exist for the issuance of the order and for the need for compliance and that the terms and conditions imposed therein are no more restrictive than necessary to protect the public health.  Upon conclusion of the hearing, the court shall issue appropriate orders affirming, modifying, or dismissing the order.

(b) If the superior court dismisses the order of the public health officer, the fact that the order was issued shall be expunged from the records of the department or local department of health.
(5) Any hearing conducted pursuant to this section shall be closed and confidential unless a public hearing is requested by the person who is the subject of the order, in which case the hearing will be conducted in open court. Unless in open hearing, any transcripts or records relating thereto shall also be confidential and may be sealed by the order of the court.”

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Thibaudeau: “Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. I submit that the amendment proposed by Senator Zarelli changes the scope and object of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5793 and, therefore, violates Senate Rule 66. Substitute Senate Bill No. 5793 has to do with violating confidentiality and increasing penalties for those health care providers who violate that confidentiality. The amendment by Senator Zarelli deals with the testing and arrests of persons as convicted offenders and the process of that testing. I would submit that this is beyond the scope and object of this bill.”

Further debate ensued.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Betti Sheldon, further consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5793 was deferred.

NOTICE FOR RECONSIDERATION

Having voted on the prevailing side, Senator Betti Sheldon served notice that she would move to reconsider the vote by which Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5597 passed the Senate earlier today.

NOTICE FOR RECONSIDERATION

Having voted on the prevailing side, Senator Goings served notice that he would move to reconsider the vote by which Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5704 failed to pass the Senate earlier today.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5609, by Senators Horn, Prentice, Winsley, Haugen and Costa (by request of Secretary of State Munro)

Making awards for state employees’ suggestions.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Horn, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5609 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5609 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Horn, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5609 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5609.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5609 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 46; Nays, 0; Absent, 1; Excused, 2.

Excused: Senators Hochstatter and Sellar - 2. SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5609, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5793, deferred on second reading earlier today.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Thibaudeau to the scope and object of the amendment by Senator Zarelli on page 5, after line 2, the President finds that Substitute Senate Bill No. 5793 is a measure which concerns confidentiality in disease reporting by health care officials.

"The amendment by Senator Zarelli would require testing of offenders for HIV, Hepatitis B and Hepatitis C in certain cases.

"The President, therefore, finds that the proposed amendment does change the scope and object of the bill and the point of order is well taken."

The amendment by Senator Zarelli on page 5, after line 2, to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5793 was ruled out of order.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Thibaudeau, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5793 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage. Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5793.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5793 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 45; Nays, 1; Absent, 1; Excused, 2.

Voting yea: Senators Bauer, Benton, Brown, Costa, Deccio, Eide, Fairley, Franklin, Fraser, Gardner, Goings, Hale, Haugen, Heavey, Honeyford, Horn, Jacobsen, Johnson, Kline, Kohl-Welles, Long, Loveland, McAuliffe, McCaslin, McDonald, Morton, Oke, Patterson, Prentice, Rasmussen, Roach, Rossi, Sheahan, Sheldon, B., Sheldon, T., Shin, Snyder, Spanel, Stevens, Swecker, Thibaudeau, West, Winsley, Wojahn and Zarelli - 45. Voting nay: Senator Hargrove - 1. Absent: Senator Finkbeiner - 1. Excused: Senators Hochstatter and Sellar - 2. SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5793, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

MOTION

At 8:29 p.m., on motion of Senator Betti Sheldon, the Senate adjourned until 8:30 a.m., Wednesday, March 17, 1999.

TONY M. COOK, Secretary of the Senate

BRAD OWEN, President of the Senate

JOURNAL OF THE SENATE

SIXTY-FIFTH DAY, MARCH 16, 1999
Senate Chamber, Olympia, Wednesday, March 17, 1999

The Senate was called to order at 8:30 a.m. by President Pro Tempore Wojahn. The Secretary called the roll and announced to the President Pro Tempore that all Senators were present except Senators Brown, Horn, McDonald, Sellar and West. On motion of Senator Deccio, Senators Horn, Sellar and West were excused. On motion of Senator Honeyford, Senator McDonald was excused. On motion of Senator Franklin, Senator Brown was excused.

The Sergeant at Arms Color Guard consisting of Pages Tim Hammond and Will Judkins, presented the Colors. Reverend R. J. Thompson, from the Pro Youth Ministries of Vancouver, Washington, offered the prayer.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Betti Sheldon, the reading of the Journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was approved.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Zarelli: "A point of personal privilege, Madam President. Today we are blessed to have a pastor from my area--down in the Vancouver area--and I would like to ask you to join me in recognizing the efforts of this man. For twenty-five years, he has dedicated his life to the youth of this state and enriching the opportunities that they have, many times not knowing where the resources were going to come from, but by faith carried forward in what he felt the Lord was leading him to do.

"I ask this body, with the blessing of the President, to honor and give thanks to this man today. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hale: "Thank you, Madam President. A point of personal privilege. I would like to--on this dreary St. Patrick's Day--I would like to thank the members of the Irish Caucus, Senator Heavey, Senator McDonald, Senator McCaslin and Senator Sheahan, for brightening our day with these lovely corsages. As the granddaughter of Mattie O'Neal, I say, 'thank you.'"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Deccio: "Senator Heavey, is there going to be an Irish Resolution, so that I can debate it?"

Senator Heavey: "No."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Heavey: "Thank you, Madam President. A point of personal privilege. The Irish are a passionate people; they are the only people that will stand in line to kiss a rock. Actually, my parents did that and they have the paper work to prove it, but we are not very good on the paper work and so that is why, Senator Deccio, you won't see that. Also, we didn't want to hear the tirade about St. Patrick really being an Italian. I want to thank my fellow Senators for joining me and we wish you all a Happy St. Patrick's Day."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McCaslin: "A point of personal privilege, Madam President. You know, we have the custom here when you make your first speech, you buy a gift. Now, on the last speech, you don't get a corsage. I'm still going to talk the rest of the year."

Further debate ensued.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE
Senator Prentice: "I rise to a point of personal privilege. I would like to remind you of where the black Irish came from. They were the ship-wrecked Spanish sailors."

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5897, by Senators Costa, Winsley, Thibaudeau and Oke (by request of Attorney General Gregoire)

Informing purchasers of cigarettes of adverse health consequences and whether the cigarettes were manufactured for consumption within the United States.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Costa, the following striking amendment was adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. (1) Cigarette smoking presents serious public health concerns to the state and to the citizens of the state. The surgeon general has determined that smoking causes lung cancer, heart disease, and other serious diseases and that there are hundreds of thousands of tobacco-related deaths in the United States each year. These diseases most often do not appear until many years after the person in question begins smoking.

(2) It is the policy of the state that consumers be adequately informed about the adverse health effects of cigarette smoking by including warning notices on each package of cigarettes.

(3) It is the policy of the state that manufacturers and importers of cigarettes not make any material misrepresentation of fact regarding the health consequences of using cigarettes, including compliance with applicable federal laws, regulations, and policies.

(4) It is the intent of the legislature to align state law with federal laws, regulations, and policies relating to the manufacture, importation, and marketing of cigarettes, and in particular, the Federal Cigarette Labeling and Advertising Act (15 U.S.C. Sec. 1331 et seq.) and 26 U.S.C. Sec. 5754.

(5) The legislature finds that consumers and retailers purchasing cigarettes are entitled to be fully informed about any adverse health effects of cigarette smoking by inclusion of warning notices on each package of cigarettes and to be assured through appropriate enforcement measures that cigarettes they purchase were manufactured for consumption within the United States.

Sec. 2. RCW 82.24.110 and 1997 c 420 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Each of the following acts is a gross misdemeanor and punishable as such:

(a) To sell, except as a licensed wholesaler engaged in interstate commerce as to the article being taxed herein, without the stamp first being affixed;

(b) To sell in Washington as a wholesaler to a retailer who does not possess and is required to possess a current cigarette retailer's license;

(c) To use or have in possession knowingly or intentionally any forged or counterfeit stamps;

(d) For any person other than the department of revenue or its duly authorized agent to sell any stamps not affixed to any of the articles taxed herein whether such stamps are genuine or counterfeit;

(e) To violate any of the provisions of this chapter;

(f) To violate any lawful rule made and published by the department of revenue or the board;

(g) To use any stamps more than once;

(h) To refuse to allow the department of revenue or its duly authorized agent, on demand, to make full inspection of any place of business where any of the articles herein taxed are sold or otherwise hinder or prevent such inspection;

(i) Except as provided in this chapter, for any retailer to have in possession in any place of business any of the articles herein taxed, unless the same have the proper stamps attached;

(j) For any person to make, use, or present or exhibit to the department of revenue or its duly authorized agent, any invoice for any of the articles herein taxed which bears an untrue date or falsely states the nature or quantity of the goods therein invoiced;

(k) For any wholesaler or retailer or his or her agents or employees to fail to produce on demand of the department of revenue all invoices of all the articles herein taxed or stamps bought by him or her or received in his or her place of business within
Sec. 3. RCW 82.24.130 and 1997 c 420 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The following are subject to seizure and forfeiture:

(a) Subject to RCW 82.24.250, any articles taxed in this chapter that are found at any point within this state, which articles are held, owned, or possessed by any person, and that do not have the stamps affixed to the packages or containers; and any container or package of cigarettes possessed or held for sale that does not comply with this chapter.

(b) All conveyances, including aircraft, vehicles, or vessels, which are used, or intended for use, to transport, or in any manner to facilitate the transportation, for the purpose of sale or receipt of property described in (a) of this subsection, except:

(i) A conveyance used by any person as a common or contract carrier having in actual possession invoices or delivery tickets showing the true name and address of the consignor or seller, the true name and address of the consignee or purchaser, and the quantity and brands of the cigarettes so transported; and (c) the cigarettes are consigned to or purchased by a person in this state who is authorized by this chapter to possess unstamped cigarettes in this state. Violation of this section shall be punished as a class C felony under Title 9A RCW.

(2) It is unlawful for any person knowingly or intentionally to possess or to transport in this state a quantity in excess of sixty thousand cigarettes unless the proper stamps required by this chapter are affixed thereto or unless:

(i) Notice of the possession or transportation has been given as required by RCW 82.24.250; (ii) the person transporting the cigarettes has in actual possession invoices or delivery tickets which show the true name and address of the consignor or seller, the true name and address of the consignee or purchaser, and the quantity and brands of the cigarettes so transported; and (iii) the cigarettes are consigned to or purchased by any person in this state who is authorized by this chapter to possess unstamped cigarettes in this state.

(n) To possess, sell, or transport within this state any container or package of cigarettes that does not comply with this chapter.

(3) All agents, employees, and others who aid, abet, or otherwise participate in any way in the violation of the provisions of this chapter or in any of the offenses described in this chapter shall be guilty and punishable as principals, to the same extent as any wholesaler or retailer or any other person violating this chapter.

Sec. 4. RCW 82.24.145 and 1987 c 496 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

When property is forfeited under this chapter the department may:
(1) Retain the property or any part thereof for official use or upon application by any law enforcement agency of this state, another state, or the District of Columbia, or of the United States for the exclusive use of enforcing the provisions of this chapter or the laws of any other state or the District of Columbia or of the United States.

(2) Sell the property at public auction to the highest bidder after due advertisement, but the department before delivering any of the goods so seized shall require the person to whom the property is sold to affix the proper amount of stamps. The proceeds of the sale and all moneys forfeited under this chapter shall be first applied to the payment of all proper expenses of any investigation leading to the seizure and of the proceedings for forfeiture and sale, including expenses of seizure, maintenance of custody, advertising, and court costs. The balance of the proceeds and all moneys shall be deposited in the general fund of the state. Proper expenses of investigation includes costs incurred by any law enforcement agency or any federal, state, or local agency.

(3) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsections (1) and (2) of this section, cigarettes seized for a violation of section 5 of this act shall be sold only for export from the United States to the highest bidder who meets all applicable state and federal requirements to export such cigarettes or destroyed.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 82.24 RCW to read as follows:

(1) No stamp may be affixed to, or made upon, any container or package of cigarettes if:
(a) The container or package differs in any respect with the requirements of the Federal Cigarette Labeling and Advertising Act (15 U.S.C. Sec. 1331 et seq.) for the placement of labels, warnings, or any other information upon a package of cigarettes that is to be sold within the United States;
(b) The container or package has been imported into the United States after January 1, 2000, in violation of 26 U.S.C. Sec. 5754;
(c) The container or package, including a container of individually stamped containers or packages, is labeled "For Export Only," "U.S. Tax Exempt," "For Use Outside U.S.," or similar wording indicating that the manufacturer did not intend that the product be sold in the United States; or
(d) The container or package has been altered by adding or deleting the wording, labels, or warnings described in (a) or (c) of this subsection.

(2) In addition to the penalty and forfeiture provisions otherwise provided for in this chapter, a violation of this section is a deceptive act or practice under the consumer protection act, chapter 19.86 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and takes effect immediately.*

On motion of Senator Costa, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 1 of the title, after "cigarettes;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "amending RCW 82.24.110, 82.24.130, and 82.24.145; adding a new section to chapter 82.24 RCW; creating a new section; prescribing penalties; and declaring an emergency."

SECOND READING

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 8200, by Senators McCaslin and Roach

Amending the Constitution to remove the requirement that judges be admitted to the practice of law.

MOTION

Senator McCaslin moved that Substitute Senate Joint Resolution No. 8200 be substituted for Senate Joint Resolution No. 8200.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Roach: "I rise to a point of order, Madam President. I submit that Substitute Senate Joint Resolution No. 8200 changes the scope and object of Senate Joint Resolution No. 8200 and adoption of the substitute bill would therefor violate Senate Rule 66. Senate Joint Resolution No. 8200 is a measure which would remove the requirement that a Justice of the Supreme Court or Superior Court Judge be admitted to practice law in this state. I might add, your honor, that the members of the United States Supreme Court are not required to be attorneys, nor is the State Attorney General. In the latter case, the voters in their discretion have elected attorneys. I have little doubt that voters would also make reasoned decisions in elections for judges. That is why I signed the original resolution. The same would be true of the election of judges.

"The original measure aims at eliminating the requirement that a judge be a licensed attorney. The substitute measure, on the other hand, would not only strike the language of the original resolution and maintain the requirement that judges be attorneys; the substitute would actually increase the qualifications for becoming a Superior Court Judge by requiring five years attorney experience. I submit that the substitute resolution clearly changes the scope and object of the bill.

"By way of analogy, this situation is like that of an original bill that eliminates the property tax, and a substitute bill to raise property tax; or an original bill that raises the penalty for drug use, and a substitute bill to decriminalize drug use. Finally, a case in point, a bill strengthening the Growth Management Act; and a substitute to repeal the Growth Management Act."

Further debate ensued.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Betti Sheldon, further consideration of Senate Joint Resolution No. 8200 was deferred.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5667, by Senators West and Heavey

Increasing the number of untaxed complimentary tickets available for boxing, kickboxing, martial arts, and wrestling.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION
On motion of Senator West, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 5667 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage. Debate ensued.

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 5667.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 5667 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 47; Nays, 0; Absent, 0; Excused, 2.

Excused: Senators Sellar and Zarelli - 2.

SENATE BILL NO. 5667, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5082, by Senators Swecker and Rasmussen

Requiring microbial inactivation of biomedical waste.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Fraser, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5082 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5082 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Swecker, the following amendments by Senators Swecker and Fraser were considered simultaneously and were adopted:

On page 4, beginning on line 20, after "facility." strike all material through "industries." on line 26 and insert "Cultures and stocks shall not be subject to any process that creates the potential for the generation or release of airborne pathogens from the waste before treatment."

On motion of Senator Fraser, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5082 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage. Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Fraser: "Senator Swecker, on page four, Section three, there is a phrase, and I condense it somewhat, that says, "Generator may segregate the cultures and stocks from other medical wastes and transport them to a treatment facility." The question is, does that mean that a hospital or lab must itself transport the cultures and stocks to the treatment facility?"
Senator Swecker: “Senator Fraser, thank you for raising that point. It is not our intent at all that the hospital or lab, themselves, would have to transport the cultures and stocks. The current practice of contracting with authorized transporters, which are subject now to tight, new regulations, would continue.”

Further debate ensued.

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5082.

Authorizing the director of the department of licensing to impose a civil penalty for a violation of chapter 46.70 RCW.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Haugen, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5610 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5610 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Morton, the following amendment by Senators Morton and Haugen was adopted:
On page 2, line 9, after "license," insert: "For the purpose of subsections (1) and (2) of this section, "curbstoning" does not include the sale of equipment or vehicles used in farming as defined in RCW 46.04.183 and sold by a farmer as defined in RCW 46.04.182."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Haugen, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5610 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Franklin, Senator Loveland was excused.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hargrove: "Senator Haugen, I wanted to find whether or not if a company goes out of business that has a fleet of vehicles--maybe five, six, seven vehicles--and because they are going out of business, they are selling these vehicles, are they subject to a violation under this chapter, because they did not get a dealer's license?"

Senator Haugen: "I don't believe they would be subject to a violation according to what we were told in committee. That is a different circumstance. They are not going to be out selling them on the street corner. We did provide an exemption specifically for the agricultural community, but the testimony was not so that a person who was disposing of their own machine would not be considered curbstoning."

Senator Hargrove: "So, a contract logger that is going out of business and selling equipment would not be covered by this thing?"

Senator Haugen: "Perhaps Senator Morton could answer that question. He has spent a lot of time working on his amendment, because he wanted it to be very specific to his community."

REMARKS BY SENATOR MORTON

Senator Morton: "As the attorneys have answered that question to me, Senator Hargrove, the answer would be that the logger or the fleet owner would be exempt and would be able to sell six or seven vehicles beyond the number five. That is the interpretation from our staff attorneys. What I did with this amendment, was to clarify in agriculture, because of the definitions in the RCWs of agriculture. Now, whether that would pertain to tree farming, also, would be a question, but you are speaking also more of commercial and industrial. It is my understanding that we would be all right."

Senator Hargrove: "Thank you for the answer."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5610.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5610 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 46; Nays, 1; Absent, 0; Excused, 2.

Voting nay: Senator Zarelli - 1.

Excused: Senators Loveland and Sellar - 2.

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5610, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING
Reclassifying the state board of education as a class four group.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Roach moved that the following amendment be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 28A.305.120 and 1984 c 287 s 60 are each amended to read as follows:

The state board of education shall hold an annual meeting and such other regular meetings at such time and place within the state as the board shall determine and may hold such special meetings as may be deemed necessary for the transaction of public business, such special meetings to be called by the superintendent of public instruction, or by a majority of the board. The persons ("serving") elected by the people under this chapter as members of the state board of education shall be compensated in accordance with RCW 43.03.240. Persons not elected by the people shall be compensated in accordance with RCW 43.03.240. All members shall be reimbursed by the superintendent of public instruction for travel expenses in accordance with RCW 43.03.050 and 43.03.060 incurred in the performance of their duties which expenses shall be paid by the state treasurer on warrants out of funds appropriated or otherwise available, upon the order of the superintendent.

Sec. 2. RCW 28A.305.010 and 1992 c 56 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

The state board of education shall be comprised of (one) two nonpartisan members from each congressional district of the state, not including any congressional district at large, elected by the people under this chapter. As members of the boards of directors of school districts thereof, as hereinafter in this chapter provided, the superintendent of public instruction and one member elected at large, as provided in this chapter, by the members of the boards of directors of all private schools in the state meeting the requirements of RCW 28A.195.010. The member representing private schools shall not vote on matters affecting public schools. If there is a dispute about whether or not an issue directly affects public schools, the dispute shall be settled by a majority vote of the members of the board.

Sec. 3. RCW 28A.305.030 and 1992 c 56 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Whenever any new and additional congressional district is created, except a congressional district at large, the terms of office for each of the sixteen state board of education members and positions representing the third and sixth congressional districts as of the second Monday of January 1993, followed by the terms of the four members and positions representing the first, fourth, and seventh congressional districts as of the second Monday of January 1994, and ending with the terms of the six members and positions representing the second, fifth, and eighth congressional districts as of the second Monday of January 1995, that correspond in number with the congressional district from which the incumbent was appointed or elected.

(2) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section or chapter, in order to reduce the number of state board of education members elected from each congressional district from two members to one member the following transitional measures shall govern board member terms, elections, and voting:

(a) The terms of office for each of the sixteen state board of education members and positions representing the first through the eighth congressional districts shall terminate in a sequence commencing with the terms of the four members and positions representing the third and sixth congressional districts as of the second Monday of January 1993, followed by the terms of the sixth members and positions representing the first, fourth, and seventh congressional districts as of the second Monday of January 1994, and ending with the terms of the six members and positions representing the second, fifth, and eighth congressional districts as of the second Monday of January 1995;
(b) An election shall be conducted under RCW 28A.305.040 through 28A.305.060 each year preceding the termination of one or more terms under (a) of this subsection for the purpose of electing one state board of education member from each correspondingly numbered congressional district for a term of four years;

(c) If for any reason a vacancy occurs in one of two positions representing a congressional district before the termination of the term for the position under (a) of this subsection, no replacement may be appointed or elected and the position shall be deemed eliminated; and

(d) During the transition period from the second Monday of January 1993, to the second Monday of January 1995, a vote on any matter before the state board of education by any one of two members representing the same congressional district shall be equal to one half [of] a vote and a vote by any other member shall be equal to one full vote. Thereafter, the vote of each member shall be equal to one full vote.

Sec. 4. RCW 28A.305.090 and 1990 c 33 s 264 are each amended to read as follows:

Whenever there shall be a vacancy upon the state board of education, from any cause whatever, it shall be the duty of the remaining members of the board to fill such vacancy by appointment, and the person so appointed shall continue in office until his or her successor has been ([specially]) elected([as hereinafter in this section provided]) and has qualified. ([Whenever a vacancy occurs, the superintendent of public instruction shall call, in the month of August]) At the next general election following the date of the occurrence of ([such]) the vacancy, ([a special election to be held in the same manner as other elections provided for in this chapter, at which election]) a successor shall be elected to hold office for the unexpired term of the member whose office was vacated.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 28A.305 RCW to read as follows:

An election shall be held at the general election after the effective date of this section to elect members to the state board of education. Members shall take office on the second Monday of January following the election, on which date the terms of all members of the state board of education holding office on the effective date of this section shall expire. Of the initial members elected under this section, members elected from even-numbered congressional districts shall serve four-year terms and members elected from odd-numbered congressional districts shall serve two-year terms. Newly elected members of the state board of education shall serve until their successors are elected and qualified. Members who are elected subsequently shall be elected to four-year terms of office and shall serve until their successors are elected and qualified and assume office in accordance with RCW 29.04.170.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Spanel, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 3, after line 21, insert the following:

"(16) "Conservation parcel" means a parcel or lot of any size and configuration created specifically to conserve, preserve, or protect land in its undeveloped state or to restore the value and benefits of developed land to its undeveloped state. Lands which may be included within a conservation parcel include critical areas as defined in RCW 36.70A.030(5), open space areas, riparian areas, forest lands, agricultural lands, or other lands identified by counties or cities pursuant to section 3 of this act as eligible for inclusion in a conservation parcel.

Sec. 2. RCW 58.17.040 and 1992 c 220 s 27 are each amended to read as follows:

The provisions of this chapter shall not apply to:

(1) Cemeteries and other burial plots while used for that purpose;

(2) Divisions of land into lots or tracts each of which is one-one hundred twenty-eighth of a section of land or larger, or five acres or larger if the land is not capable of description as a fraction of a section of land, unless the governing authority of the city, town, or county in which the land is situated shall have adopted a subdivision ordinance requiring plat approval of such divisions:

PROVIDED, That for purposes of computing the size of any lot under this item which borders on a street or road, the lot size shall be expanded to include that area which would be bounded by the center line of the road or street and the side lot lines of the lot running perpendicular to such center line;

(3) Divisions made by testamentary provisions, or the laws of descent;

(4) Divisions of land into lots or tracts classified for industrial or commercial use when the city, town, or county has approved a binding site plan for the use of the land in accordance with local regulations;

(5) A division for the purpose of lease when no residential structure other than mobile homes or travel trailers are permitted to be placed upon the land when the city, town, or county has approved a binding site plan for the use of the land in accordance with local regulations;

(6) A division made for the purpose of alteration by adjusting boundary lines, between platted or unplatted lots or both, which does not create any additional lot, tract, parcel, site, or division nor create any lot, tract, parcel, site, or division which contains insufficient area and dimension to meet minimum requirements for width and area for a building site; (and)

(7) A division made for the purpose of creating a conservation parcel according to the requirements of section 3 of this act; and
Divisions of land into lots or tracts if: (a) Such division is the result of subjecting a portion of a parcel or tract of land to either chapter 64.32 or 64.34 RCW subsequent to the recording of a binding site plan for all such land; (b) the improvements constructed or to be constructed thereon are required by the provisions of the binding site plan to be included in one or more condominiums or owned by an association or other legal entity in which the owners of units therein or their owners' associations have a membership or other legal or beneficial interest; (c) a city, town, or county has approved the binding site plan for all such land; (d) such approved binding site plan is recorded in the county or counties in which such land is located; and (e) the binding site plan contains thereon the following statement: "All development and use of the land described herein shall be in accordance with this binding site plan, as it may be amended with the approval of the city, town, or county having jurisdiction over the development of such land, and in accordance with such other governmental permits, approvals, regulations, requirements, and restrictions that may be imposed upon such land and the development and use thereof. Upon completion, the improvements on the land shall be included in one or more condominiums or owned by an association or other legal entity in which the owners of units therein or their owners' associations have a membership or other legal or beneficial interest. This binding site plan shall be binding upon all now or hereafter having any interest in the land described herein." The binding site plan may, but need not, depict or describe the boundaries of the lots or tracts resulting from subjecting a portion of the land to either chapter 64.32 or 64.34 RCW. A site plan shall be deemed to have been approved if the site plan was approved by a city, town, or county: (i) In connection with the final approval of a subdivision plat or planned unit development with respect to all of such land; or (ii) in connection with the issuance of building permits or final certificates of occupancy with respect to all of such land; or (iii) if not approved pursuant to (i) and (ii) of this subsection (7)(e), then pursuant to such other procedures as such city, town, or county may have established for the approval of a binding site plan.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 58.17 RCW to read as follows:

A county, city, or town may adopt by ordinance procedures for the creation of conservation parcels as an exemption to the procedures required by this chapter. The ordinance must:

1. Identify the types of land which may qualify for designation as conservation parcels, including all lands specified in RCW 58.17.020(3) and any other lands the county, city, or town determines to have environmental, ecological, habitat, or natural resource value and to need conservation, preservation, restoration, or protection;

2. Prohibit any residential, commercial, industrial, or active agricultural or forestry uses on conservation parcels;

3. Require that any existing residential, commercial, industrial, or active agricultural or forestry uses be abated and mitigated;

4. To the maximum extent practicable, require that any existing residential, commercial, industrial, or other developments or improvements be removed and that the land be restored prior to approval of the conservation parcel;

5. Limit noncommercial recreation and open space uses on conservation parcels to those activities which will not alter the character of the land or impact the environmental, ecological, habitat, or natural resource value of the land; and

6. Require that title to a conservation parcel be:

   a. Held by a public agency for conservation, preservation, restoration, or protection purposes;

   b. Held by a nonprofit nature conservancy corporation or association as defined in RCW 84.34.250 for conservation, preservation, restoration, or protection purposes; or

   c. Encumbered by a perpetual conservation easement in favor of either a public agency or a nonprofit nature conservancy corporation or association as defined in RCW 84.34.250."

On motion of Senator Haugen, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 3 of the title, after "area;" strike "and" and after "RCW 58.17.020" insert "and 58.17.040; and adding a new section to chapter 58.17 RCW"

President Owen assumed the Chair.

There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of Senate Bill No. 5410 and the pending striking amendment by Senator Roach, deferred earlier today

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator McAuliffe to the scope and object of the striking amendment by Senator Roach, the President finds that Senate Bill No. 5410 is a measure which does only one thing. Namely, it changes the State Board of Education from a class three to a class four group for purposes of expense reimbursement.

"The striking amendment by Senator Roach would make several changes to the law, including (1) increasing the size of the Board of Education; (2) requiring that at large members be popularly elected; (3) removing the Superintendent of Public Instruction from the State Board; and other changes.

"The President, therefore, finds that the amendment does change the scope and object of the bill and the point of order is well taken."

The striking amendment by Senator Roach to Senate Bill No. 5410 was ruled out of order.

MOTION

On motion of Senator McAuliffe, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 5410 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

On page 3, after line 23, insert the following:

(1) Immediately after the official results of a state primary or general election in a county are ascertained, the county auditor or other election officer shall make an abstract of the number of registered voters in each precinct and of all the votes cast in the county at such state primary or general election for and against state measures and for each candidate for federal, state, and legislative office or for any other office which the secretary of state is required by law to canvass. The abstract shall be entered on blanks furnished by the secretary of state or on compatible computer printouts approved by the secretary of state, and transmitted to the secretary of state no later than the next business day following the certification by the county canvassing board.

(2) After each general election (in an even-numbered year), the county auditor or other election officer shall provide to the secretary of state a report of the number of absentee ballots cast in each precinct for and against state measures and for each candidate for federal, state, and legislative office or for any other office which the secretary of state is required by law to canvass. The report may be included in the abstract required by this section or may be transmitted to the secretary of state separately, but in no event later than March 31 of the year following the election. Absentee ballot results may be incorporated into votes cast at the polls for each precinct or may be reported separately on a precinct-by-precinct basis.

(3) If absentee ballot results are not incorporated into votes cast at the polls, the county auditor or other election official may aggregate results from more than one precinct if the auditor, pursuant to rules adopted by the secretary of state, finds that reporting a single precinct's absentee ballot results would jeopardize the secrecy of a person's ballot. To the extent practicable, precincts for which absentee results are aggregated shall be contiguous."

Rerenum the sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senator Morton on page 3, after line 23, to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5640.

MOTION

Senator Kline, moved that the following title amendment by Senators Kline and Benton be adopted:

On page 1, line 1 of the title, after "relating to" delete "enforcement and incentive measures for compliance with growth management housing goals in counties with a population of one million five hundred thousand or more" and insert "local government land use practices"

Debate ensued.

POINT OF ORDER
Senator Heavey: "Mr. President, I would challenge the scope and object of this amendment to the underlying bill. The underlying bill deals with growth management not just counties--all counties under growth management--not just counties above one point five million in people."

Debate ensued.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "The President is prepared to rule on the scope. In his previous rulings, the President has noted that it is not the title that is relative to--or changes the scope--or that we look at in determining the substance of the bill. Therefore, an amendment to the title, would not change the scope and object of the bill. "The point of order is not well taken."

The title amendment by Senators Kline and Benton to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5914 was ruled in order.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the title amendment by Senators Kline and Benton to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5914.

Debate ensued.
The motion by Senator Kline carried and the title amendment was adopted.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Patterson, the following additional title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 4 of the title, after "36.70A.010," strike "36.70A.070."

On motion of Senator Patterson, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5914 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.
The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5914.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5914 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 28; Nays, 18; Absent, 1; Excused, 2.

Absent: Senator Jacobsen - 1.

Excused: Senators Fairley and Sellar - 2.

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5914, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5779, by Senators Kline, Winsley, Fairley, Costa and Oke

Requiring additional crime prevention training for employees of evening retail establishments.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Kline moved that the following amendment be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 49.22.010 and 1989 c 357 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

As used in this chapter, the following terms have the meanings indicated unless the context clearly requires otherwise."
(1) "Department" means the department of labor and industries.

(2) "Evening retail establishment" means any business or commercial establishment making sales to the public between the hours of (eleven) eight o'clock p.m. and (six) seven o'clock a.m., except restaurants, hotels, taverns, or any lodging facility.

(3) "Employer" means the operator, lessee, or franchisee of an evening retail establishment whose standard industrial code is "5411" or "5541" as established under the standard industrial classification manual, or the equivalent code in a successor classification as determined by the commissioner under Title 50 RCW.

Sec. 2. RCW 49.22.020 and 1989 c 357 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

In addition to providing crime prevention training (as provided in section 2 of this act), all employers operating an evening retail establishments shall:

(1) Post a conspicuous sign in the window or door which states that there is a safe on the premises and it is not accessible to the employees on the premises and that the cash register contains only the minimal amount of cash needed to conduct business: PROVIDED, That an employer shall not be subject to penalties under RCW 49.22.030 for having moneys in the cash register in excess of the minimal amount needed to conduct business;

(2) So arrange all material posted in the window or door so as to provide a clear and unobstructed view of the cash register, provided the cash register is otherwise in a position visible from the street;

(3) Have a drop-safe, limited access safe, or comparable device on the premises; and

(4) Operate the outside lights for that portion of the parking area that is necessary to accommodate customers during all night hours the evening retail establishment is open, if the evening retail establishment has a parking area for its customers.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The department of labor and industries shall review and update existing rules and administrative procedures to reflect changes made by this act."

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the striking amendment by Senator Kline to Senate Bill No. 5779.

The motion by Senator Kline carried and the striking amendment was adopted.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Kline, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 2 of the title, after "hours;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "amending RCW 49.22.010 and 49.22.020; and creating a new section."

On motion of Senator Kline, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5779 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5779.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5779 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 35; Nays, 12; Absent, 0; Excused, 2.

Excused: Senators Fairley and Sellar - 2.

ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 5779, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5439, by Senators Kline, Heavey, Roach and Costa
Enacting the Washington state false claims act.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Heavey, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5439 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5439 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

Senator Hargrove moved that the following amendment by Senators Hargrove, Rasmussen, Johnson, McCaslin, T. Sheldon, Zarelli, Goings, Haugen, McDonald, Hale and Roach be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

“NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. This chapter may be known and cited as the "Washington state false claims act."

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Claim" means a request or demand, whether under a contract or otherwise, for money or property which is made to a government employee or official, contractor, grantee, or other recipient if a governmental entity provides any portion of the money or property which is requested or demanded, or if a governmental entity will reimburse such employee, official, contractor, grantee, or other recipient for any portion of the money or property which is requested or demanded.

(2) "False claim" means any claim that contains or is based upon a materially incorrect fact, statement, representation, or record.

(3) "Governmental entity" means the state of Washington and any political subdivision thereof. A governmental entity includes its officials and employees, acting in such capacities.

(4) "Knowing" and "knowingly" mean that a person, with respect to information, and with specific intent to defraud:

(a) Has actual knowledge of the information; or

(b) Acts in deliberate ignorance of or in reckless disregard of the truth or falsity of the information.

(5) "Person" means any individual, firm, partnership, corporation, company, association, or other legal entity whose conduct is not subject to 31 U.S.C. Sec. 3729 as now or hereafter amended, chapter 48.80 RCW, RCW 74.09.210 through 74.09.260, or 51.48.250 through 51.48.290.

(6) "Public attorney" means any person that is authorized by a governmental entity to initiate legal actions or claims on the governmental entity's behalf.

(7) "Recovery" means any money paid or to be paid pursuant to section 4 of this act as a civil penalty or damages as a result of the initiation of a civil action under section 6 of this act, whether resulting from an award of the court, from a settlement of the parties, or from an alternative remedy pursuant to section 7(5) of this act, but "recovery" shall not include attorneys' fees.

(8) "Reprisal or retaliation" has the meaning given in RCW 42.40.050.

(9) "Whistleblower" means a person who in good faith initiates, furnishes information, or otherwise participates in an investigation of, or a civil action with respect to, a wrongful act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. (1) A person commits a "wrongful act" under this chapter if each of the following occurs:

(a) The person:

(i) Makes a false representation of a material, existing fact;

(ii) Knows that the representation is false or has a reckless disregard to its truth; and

(iii) Intends that the representation should be acted on by the person to whom it is made; and

(b) The person to whom the representation is made:

(i) Is ignorant of the falsity of the representation;

(ii) Justifiably relies on the truth of the representation; and

(iii) Incurs consequent damages.

(2) This chapter does not apply to any claim in which the claimant relied reasonably upon and complied with the advice, directives, bulletins, rules, or other instructions of the governmental entity to which the claim is submitted or a person who acts as counsel to the governmental entity to which the claim is submitted.

(3) In any action brought under this chapter, a governmental entity or person bringing the action shall be required to prove all the essential elements of the cause of action by clear, cogent, and convincing evidence.

(4) This chapter does not apply to any controversy that results in damages to a governmental entity that have a total value of less than one thousand dollars. For the purpose of this subsection, "controversy" means any one or more wrongful acts committed by the same person.

(5) Applicable statute of limitations shall be pursuant to RCW 4.16.080.

(6) This chapter does not apply to persons subject to the jurisdiction of chapter 42.52 RCW.
NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. (1) Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section, a person who commits a wrongful act against a governmental entity is liable to the governmental entity for (a) a civil penalty of not less than five thousand dollars and not more than ten thousand dollars; and (b) an amount equal to the damages sustained by the governmental entity as a result of the wrongful act.

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1) of this section, a court may assess against a person who commits a wrongful act an amount the court finds reasonable considering the level of involvement of the person who commits a wrongful act but not to exceed a twenty-five percent reduction of the damages sustained by the governmental entity as a result of the wrongful act, if the court finds all of the following:
   (a) The person committing the wrongful act furnished to a public attorney responsible for investigating false claims all information known to the person about the wrongful act within thirty days after the person first obtained the information;
   (b) The person fully cooperated with the governmental entity's investigation of the wrongful act; and
   (c) At the time the person furnished the governmental entity with the information about the wrongful act, no criminal prosecution, civil action, or administrative action had commenced under this chapter with respect to the violation, and the person did not have actual knowledge of the existence of an investigation into the wrongful act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A public attorney shall diligently investigate any allegation of a wrongful act. If the public attorney finds that a person has committed or is committing a wrongful act, the public attorney may bring a civil action against the person.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. (1) A person may bring a civil action for the commission of a wrongful act in the name of the person and the governmental entity. A court may only dismiss any action brought under this chapter by a person other than a public attorney if the public attorney provides the court with written consent to the dismissal. If the action is dismissed, the court shall enter an order stating the grounds for dismissal.

(2) A copy of the complaint and written disclosure of substantially all material evidence and information the person possesses shall be served on the governmental entity under this chapter. The complaint shall be filed in camera, remain under seal for at least ninety days, and not be served on the defendant until the court orders. The governmental entity may elect to intervene and proceed with the action within ninety days after it receives both the complaint and the material evidence and information.

(3) The governmental entity may, for good cause shown, move the court for extensions of the time during which the complaint remains under seal under subsection (2) of this section. A motion may be supported by affidavits or other submissions in camera. The defendant is not required to respond to a complaint filed under this section until twenty days after the complaint is unsealed and served upon the defendant under this chapter.

(4) Before the expiration of the ninety-day period, or extensions obtained under subsection (3) of this section, the governmental entity shall:
   (a) Proceed with the action, in which case the action is conducted by the governmental entity; or
   (b) Notify the court that it declines to take over the action, in which case the person bringing the action has the right to conduct the action.

(5) If a person brings an action under this section, no person other than the governmental entity may intervene or bring a related action based on the facts underlying the pending action.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. (1) If a governmental entity proceeds with an action under section 6 of this act, it has the primary responsibility for prosecuting the action and is not bound by an act of the person bringing the action. The person has the right to continue as a party to the action, subject to the limitations set forth in subsection (2) of this section.

(2)(a) A governmental entity may petition to dismiss the action notwithstanding the objections of the person initiating the action if the person has been served with a copy of the motion for dismissal in a manner provided by law and the court has provided the person with an opportunity for a hearing on the motion.

(b) A governmental entity may settle an action with a defendant notwithstanding the objections of the person initiating the action if the court determines, after a hearing, that the proposed settlement is fair, adequate, and reasonable under the circumstances. Upon a showing of good cause and following the provision of notice of the hearing to all parties, the hearing may be held in camera.

(c) Upon a showing by a governmental entity or a defendant that unrestricted participation during the course of the litigation by the person initiating the action would interfere with or unduly delay prosecution of the case, or would be repetitious, irrelevant, or for purposes of harassment, the court may, in its discretion, impose reasonable limitations on the person's participation, including:
   (i) Limiting the number of witnesses the person may call;
   (ii) Limiting the length of the testimony of the witnesses;
   (iii) Limiting the person's cross-examination of witnesses; or
(iv) Otherwise limiting the participation by the person in the litigation.

(d) Upon a showing by the defendant that unrestricted participation during the course of the litigation by the person initiating the action would be for purposes of harassment or would cause the defendant undue burden or unnecessary expense, the court may limit the participation by the person in the litigation.

(3) If a governmental entity elects not to proceed with the action, the person who initiated the action has the right to conduct the action. The governmental entity may request, and following such request shall be served with, copies of all pleadings filed in the action and supplied with copies of all deposition transcripts, interrogatory answers, documents produced, test results, or other discovery materials, at the governmental entity’s expense for the cost of reproducing the materials. If the person proceeds with the action, the court, without limiting the status and rights of the person initiating the action, may nevertheless permit the governmental entity to intervene at a later date upon a showing of good cause.

(4) Whether or not the governmental entity proceeds with the action, upon a showing by the governmental entity that certain actions of discovery by the person initiating the action would interfere with an investigation or prosecution of a criminal or civil matter arising out of the same facts, the court may stay the discovery for a period of not more than ninety days. Such a showing shall be made in camera. The court may extend the ninety-day period upon a further showing in camera that the governmental entity has pursued the criminal or civil investigation or proceedings with reasonable diligence and the proposed discovery in the civil action would interfere with the ongoing criminal or civil investigation or proceedings.

(5) Notwithstanding section 6 of this act, a governmental entity may elect to pursue a claim through an available alternate remedy, including an administrative proceeding. If an alternative remedy is undertaken, any civil actions shall be stayed and the person initiating the civil action has the same rights in the proceeding, including with respect to recoveries and costs, including reasonable attorneys’ fees, as the person would have if the action had continued under this section. A finding of fact or conclusion of law made in the other proceeding that has become final is conclusive on all parties to an action under this section. For purposes of this subsection, a finding or conclusion is final if it has been finally determined on appeal to the appropriate court of the state, if all time for filing an appeal with respect to the finding or conclusion has expired, or if the finding or conclusion is not subject to judicial review.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. (1) If a governmental entity proceeds with an action brought by a person under section 6 of this act, the person shall receive at least fifteen percent but not more than twenty-five percent of any recovery in an action, depending upon the extent the person substantially contributed to the prosecution of the action. If the action is one that the court finds is based primarily on disclosures of specific information, other than information provided by the person bringing the action, (a) in a criminal, civil, or administrative hearing, (b) in a legislative, administrative, or state accounting office report, hearing, audit, or investigation, or (c) from the news media, the court may award the sum it considers appropriate, but in no case more than ten percent of the recovery, taking into account the significance of the information and the role of the person bringing the action in advancing the case to litigation. A payment to a person under this subsection shall be made from the recovery. Any payment of any portion of a recovery that is made shall be paid first to the person until paid in full and then to the governmental entity. The person shall also receive an amount for costs, including reasonable attorneys’ fees, which the court finds to have been necessarily incurred. All expenses, fees, and costs are awarded against the defendant who is found to have committed a wrongful act. Attorneys’ fees and costs shall be paid prior to disbursement of any recovery.

(2) If a governmental entity does not proceed with an action under this section, the person bringing the action shall receive an amount that the court decides is reasonable for collecting the civil penalty and damages. The amount shall be not less than twenty-five percent and not more than thirty percent of the recovery and is paid out of the proceeds. The person shall also receive an amount for costs, including reasonable attorneys’ fees, that the court finds were necessarily incurred. All expenses, fees, and costs are awarded against the defendant who is found to have committed a wrongful act.

(3) Whether or not a governmental entity proceeds with an action, if the court finds that the action was brought by a person who planned and initiated the wrongful act upon which the action was brought, then the court may, to the extent the court considers appropriate, reduce the share of the proceeds of the action that the person would otherwise receive under subsection (1) or (2) of this section, taking into account the role of that person in advancing the case to litigation and relevant circumstances pertaining to the wrongful act. If the person bringing the action is convicted of criminal conduct arising from his or her role in the commission of a wrongful act, that person is dismissed from the civil action and shall receive no recovery or award. The dismissal shall not prejudice the right of the governmental entity to continue the action.

(4) If the governmental entity does not proceed with the action and the person bringing the action conducts the action, the court may award to the defendant costs, including reasonable attorneys’ fees, if the defendant prevails in the action and the court finds that the claim of the person bringing the action was frivolous, vexatious, or brought primarily for purposes of harassment.
NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. In no event may a person bring an action under section 6 of this act which is based upon allegations or transactions which are the subject of a civil suit or an administrative proceeding in which the governmental entity is already a party.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. No governmental entity is liable for costs, including attorneys' fees, that a person incurs in bringing an action under section 6 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. Any person who has been subjected to workplace reprisal or retaliation as a result of being a whistleblower or an employer's belief that the person is a whistleblower has the remedies provided under chapter 49.60 RCW. Such remedies are in addition to any other remedies that the person may have under common law or statute.

Sec. 12. RCW 48.80.020 and 1995 c 285 s 25 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) "Claim" means any attempt to cause a health care payer to make a health care payment.

(2) "Deceptive" means presenting a claim to a health care payer that contains a statement of fact or fails to reveal a material fact, leading the health care payer to believe that the represented or suggested state of affairs is other than it actually is.

For the purposes of this chapter, the determination of what constitutes a material fact is a question of law to be resolved by the court.

(3) "False" means wholly or partially untrue or deceptive.

(4) "Health care payment" means a payment for health care services or the right under a contract, certificate, or policy of insurance to have a payment made by a health care payer for a specified health care service.

(5) "Health care payer" means any insurance company authorized to provide health insurance in this state, any health care service contractor authorized under chapter 48.44 RCW, any health maintenance organization authorized under chapter 48.46 RCW, any legal entity which is self-insured and providing health care benefits to its employees, (and any insurer or other person responsible for paying for health care services, and includes all governmental entities at the federal, state, or local levels.)

(6) "Person" means an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or other legal entity.

(7) "Provider" means any person lawfully licensed or authorized to render any health service.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. A new section is added to chapter 42.52 RCW to read as follows:

(1) No state officer or state employee may:

(a) Knowingly present or cause to be presented to an agency a false claim for payment or approval;

(b) Knowingly make, use, or cause to be made or used, a false record or statement to get a false claim paid or approved;

(c) Conspire to get a false claim allowed or paid;

(d) Have in their possession, custody, or control property or money used, or to be used, by an agency and knowingly deliver, or cause to be delivered, less property than the amount for which the person received a certificate or receipt;

(e) Authorize to make or deliver a document certifying receipt of property used, or to be used, by an agency and make or deliver the receipt knowing that material information on the receipt is false;

(f) Knowingly buy, or receive as security for an obligation or debt, public property from an officer or employee of an agency, who lawfully may not sell or pledge the property; or

(g) Knowingly make, use, or cause to be made or used a false record or statement to conceal, avoid, or decrease an obligation to pay or transmit property to an agency.

(2) For the purposes of this section:

(a) "Claim" means a request or demand, whether under a contract or otherwise, for money or property which is made to a government employee or official, contractor, grantee, or other recipient if a governmental entity provides any portion of the money or property which is requested or demanded, or if a governmental entity will reimburse such employee, official, contractor, grantee, or other recipient for any portion of the money or property which is requested or demanded.

(b) "False claim" means any claim that contains or is based upon a materially incorrect fact, statement, representation, or record.

(c) "Knowing" and "knowingly" mean any claim that contains or is based upon a materially incorrect fact, statement, representation, or record.

(i) Has actual knowledge of the information; or

(ii) Acts in deliberate ignorance of or in reckless disregard of the truth or falsity of the information.

(3) As to state officers and state employees, this section operates to the exclusion of ch___, Laws of 1999 (SSB 5439).

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. Sections 1 through 11 of this act constitute a new chapter in Title 4 RCW."
Senator Spanel moved that the following amendments by Senators Spanel, Long, Patterson, Kline, Johnson and McCaslin to the striking amendment by Senators Hargrove, Rasmussen, Johnson, McCaslin, T. Sheldon, Zarelli, Goings, Haugen, McDonald, Hale and Roach be considered simultaneously and be adopted:

On page 3, after line 4, insert the following: "(6) This chapter does not apply to persons subject to the jurisdiction of chapter 42.52 RCW."

On page 9, after line 2, insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. A new section is added to chapter 42.52 RCW to read as follows:

(1) No state officer or state employee may:
   (a) Knowingly present or cause to be presented to an agency a false claim for payment or approval;
   (b) Knowingly make, use, or cause to be made or used, a false record or statement to get a false claim paid or approved;
   (c) Conspire to get a false claim allowed or paid;
   (d) Have in their possession, custody, or control property or money used, or to be used, by an agency and knowingly deliver, or cause to be delivered, less property than the amount for which the person received a certificate or receipt;
   (e) Authorize to make or deliver a document certifying receipt of property used, or to be used, by an agency and make or deliver the receipt knowing that material information on the receipt is false;
   (f) Knowingly buy, or receive as security for an obligation or debt, public property from an officer or employee of an agency, who lawfully may not sell or pledge the property; or
   (g) Knowingly make, use, or cause to be made or used a false record or statement to conceal, avoid, or decrease an obligation to pay or transmit property to an agency.

(2) For the purposes of this section:

(a) "Claim" means a request or demand, whether under a contract or otherwise, for money or property which is made to a government employee or official, contractor, grantee, or other recipient if a governmental entity provides any portion of the money or property which is requested or demanded, or if a governmental entity will reimburse such employee, official, contractor, grantee, or other recipient for any portion of the money or property which is requested or demanded.

(b) "False claim" means any claim that contains or is based upon a materially incorrect fact, statement, representation, or record.

(c) "Knowing" and "knowingly" mean that a person, with respect to information, and with or without specific intent to defraud:
   (i) Has actual knowledge of the information; or
   (ii) Acts in deliberate ignorance of or in reckless disregard of the truth or falsity of the information.

(3) As to state officers and state employees, this section operates to the exclusion of ch____, Laws of 1999 (SSB 5439)."

Renumber the remaining section consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

Debate ensued.

Transferring the office of archaeology and historic preservation from the department of community, trade, and economic development to the office of the secretary of state.
The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Wojahn moved that the following striking amendment by Senators Wojahn and Haugen be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

''NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. (1) A task force to study the issue of the office of archaeology and historic preservation is created.

(2)(a) The task force shall develop a single recommendation for consideration by the legislature and the governor on the issue of the location of the office of archaeology and historic preservation within state government. The recommended location shall maximize the office of archaeology and historic preservation's stature, visibility, accessibility, and delivery of service statewide in the context of its critical role as an important link among downtown and neighborhood revitalization efforts, the cultural tourism movement, rural economic development initiatives, and the preservation of the structures and sites that still remain as the legacy of Washington's rich and diverse heritage.

(b) The task force shall consider and include in its recommendation how best both to realize the potential of the office of archaeology and historic preservation to generate revenue from services it could provide in international, national, state, local, and private venues and also how best to achieve adequate funding from all funding sources to assure that the office of archaeology and historic preservation can provide the best possible service to the citizens of the state.

(3)(a) There shall be eleven members of the task force as follows: One member shall be the state historic preservation officer or his or her designee; two members shall be representatives of state agencies; two members shall be representatives of local governments; there shall be one representative each from the Washington state historical society, the eastern Washington state historical society, the Washington trust for historic preservation, and Indian tribes; and two members shall be representatives of the private sector who have experience in preservation of historic buildings or archaeological sites or who have particular interest in the issue of preservation of historic buildings and archaeological sites.

(b) The state historic preservation officer shall be the chair of the task force.

(c) Staff support shall be provided from the department of community, trade, and economic development.

(3) The task force shall report to appropriate committees of the legislature and the governor by January 1, 2000.

(4) This section expires June 30, 2000.''

Debate ensued.

MOTION

Senator Rasmussen moved that the following striking amendment by Senators Rasmussen, Swecker, Fraser and Morton be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 70.95.215 and 1985 c 436 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) [By July 1, 1987] Each holder or applicant of a permit for a landfill disposal facility issued under this chapter shall establish a reserve account to cover the costs of closing the facility in accordance with state and federal regulations. The account shall be designed to ensure that there will be adequate revenue available by the projected date of closure. Landfill disposal facilities maintained on private property for the sole use of the entity owning the site shall not be required to establish a reserve account if, to the satisfaction of the department, they provide another form of financial assurance adequate to comply with the requirements of this section.

(2) [By July 1, 1986] The department shall adopt rules [under chapter 34.05 RCW] to implement subsection (1) of this section. The rules shall include but not be limited to:

(a) Methods to estimate closure costs, including postclosure monitoring, pollution prevention measures, and any other procedures required under state and federal regulations;

(b) Methods to ensure that reserve accounts receive adequate funds, including:

(i) Requirements that the reserve account be generated by user fees. However, the department may waive this requirement for existing landfills if user fees would be prohibitively high;

(ii) Requirements that moneys be placed in the reserve account on a regular basis and that the reserve account be kept separate from all other accounts; and

(iii) Procedures for the department to verify that adequate sums are deposited in the reserve account; and
(c) Methods to ensure that other types of financial assurance provided in accordance with subsection (1) of this section are adequate to cover the costs of closing the facility.

(3) In addition to the reserve account required under subsections (1) and (2) of this section, each holder or applicant for a new, above-ground landfill disposal facility shall demonstrate sufficient financial capability in the form of a surety bond to provide for any temporary or permanent facility clean up and closure due to any unforeseen emergency event including, but not limited to, a geologic or weather-related event or fire, that results in a breach of integrity of the landfill. This financial assurance requirement shall be incorporated as a condition of the permit issued for the facility by the jurisdictional health department. The condition shall be jointly reviewed and approved by the department of ecology and the jurisdictional health department.

For purposes of this subsection, new, above-ground landfill disposal facilities are those: (a) That as designed and when completed will exceed one hundred acres; (b) whose horizontal height at design capacity averages one hundred feet or more above existing site elevations; and (c) no part or unit of which has had construction commence before the effective date of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and takes effect immediately."

Debate ensued.
The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the striking amendment by Senators Rasmussen, Swecker Fraser and Morton to Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5730. The motion by Senator Rasmussen carried and the striking amendment was adopted.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Fraser, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 2, of the title, after "landfills;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "amending RCW 70.95.215; and declaring an emergency."

Senator Fraser moved that the rules be suspended and Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5730 be advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill be placed on final passage.

OBJECTION TO ADVANCE BILL TO THIRD READING

Senator Honeyford: "An objection, under Rule 62--that we have an additional day to study this amendment--or three days, excuse me."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "What rule are you citing, Senator Honeyford?"

Senator Honeyford: "Rule 62."

President Owen: "Thank you."

EDITOR'S NOTE: Rule 62 states: 'Every bill shall be read on three separate days unless the senate deems it expedient to suspend this rule. On and after the tenth day preceding adjournment sine die of any session, or three days prior to any cut-off date for consideration of bills, as determined pursuant to Article 2, Section 12 of the Constitution or concurrent resolution, this rule may be suspended by a majority vote.'

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "The motion before the Senate is a motion to suspend the rules and advance to third reading, which would suspend that rule. Therefore, Senator Honeyford is asking for a vote on the suspension of the rules, the President believes."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Snyder: "A point of order, Mr. President. To suspend the rules today, how many votes does it take?"

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT
President Owen: “A simple majority of those voting, Senator.”
Senator Snyder: “A simple majority meaning a majority of those voting?”
President Owen: “That is correct.”
Senator Snyder: “Thank you.”

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the motion by Senator Fraser that the rules be suspended and Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5730 be advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill be placed on final passage.

The objection by Senator Honeyford failed and the rules were suspended and Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5730 was advanced to third reading and final passage.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5730.
Debate ensued.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5730 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 31; Nays, 17; Absent, 0; Excused, 1.

Excused: Senator Sellar - 1.

ENGROSSED SECOND SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5730, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5337, by Senators Kohl-Welles, Heavey, McCaslin, Costa and Thibaudeau

Broadening actions for employment discrimination.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Kohl-Welles, the following striking amendment by Senators Kohl-Welles, Heavey, McCaslin and Johnson was adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

*NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that competitiveness in Washington state suffers whenever any worker is unable to achieve his or her maximum potential because of discrimination in the workplace, regardless of whether the employer is large or small. The legislature also finds that state discrimination laws must provide greater certainty and predictability to employers and employees affected by the requirements, and must recognize the unique needs of small businesses. Employers and employees deserve a fair, expeditious, and cost-effective resolution of disputes and also deserve to be made aware of their rights and responsibilities under the laws.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. (1) A task force is created to study and make recommendations where applicable on the following issues, relating to the subject of employment discrimination:

(a) The historical evolution of laws in Washington state and laws enacted at the federal level to address the issue of employment discrimination;

(b) Existing laws and administrative procedures utilized at the federal, state, and local levels to address the issue of employment discrimination;

(c) Administrative practices and procedures employed by the state human rights commission, and case trend data, employed by the commission to process claims of discrimination and assist employers and employees;
(d) An analysis of options in Washington state and other states which encourage fair, expeditious, and cost-effective resolution of employment discrimination cases;

(e) Changes required in existing laws and procedures which will assure that all workers alleging employment discrimination shall have a resolution of the allegation and, where appropriate, a remedy which is fair, expeditious, and cost-effective;

(f) Changes to existing laws and procedures which: (i) Are fair, expeditious, and cost-effective; (ii) will provide greater predictability and certainty to employers; and (iii) address the unique needs and limitations of small businesses; and

(g) Education, training, and public relation options for assuring that employees and employers have improved understanding of their rights and obligations under the state employment discrimination laws.

(2) The task force shall be composed of ten members as follows:

(a) Two members each from the senate and the house of representatives, one each from each of the two largest caucuses in each chamber. The president of the senate shall appoint the two members of the task force from the senate. The co-speakers of the house of representatives shall appoint the two members of the task force from the house of representatives; and

(b) Six members, to be appointed jointly by the president of the senate and the co-speakers of the house of representatives, three of whom shall represent Washington businesses, from a list of names recommended by major state-wide organizations of employers representing a cross-section of businesses in the state, including small businesses and three of whom shall represent protected classes of workers, from a list submitted by major state-wide organizations representing these classes.

(3) All state and local government agencies, including the human rights commission, shall provide information and assistance to the task force.

(4) Senate committee services and the office of program research shall provide staff to support the task force.

(5) The task force shall submit its study and recommendations to the governor and legislature not later than November 15, 1999."

On motion of Senator Kohl-Welles, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 1 of the title, after "discrimination;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "and creating new sections."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Kohl-Welles, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5337 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Voting nay: Senators Fairley and Loveland - 2. Excused: Senator Sellar - 1. SENATE BILL NO. 6048, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION

Senator Snyder: "Having voted on the prevailing side, I move to immediately reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 6048 passed the Senate. I would like to give an explanation."

President Owen: "Senator Snyder has moved to immediately reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 6048 passed the Senate."
Senator Snyder: "There was a mistake on the reader board and it said 'Senate Bill No. 6051.' One of our members looked at the reader board and voted in a way in which they did not wish to vote, so if we could reconsider, we could have another vote and give that member the opportunity to vote the correct way. I would appreciate it."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Zarelli: "A point of inquiry, does that mean that we didn't just vote for Senate Bill No. 6051 and that we were in fact voting for Senate Bill No. 6048?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "That is correct."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the motion by Senator Snyder to immediately reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 6048 passed the Senate.

The motion by Senator Snyder carried and the Senate will immediately reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 6048 passed the Senate.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 6048, on reconsideration.

On motion of Senator Franklin, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5583 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

MOTION

Senator West moved that the Senate immediately consider Senate Bill No. 5489.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Snyder: "A point of order, Mr. President. I believe the time is 4:55 and we have a special order of business at this time."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Senator Snyder, according to our clock here, it is 4:53 and 46 seconds, 47, 48 seconds. We have the clock right here that we go by."

Senator Snyder: "We have two here that both say, '4:55.'"
REMARKS BY SENATOR WEST

Senator West: "Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senate to immediately consider Senate Bill No. 5489. 5489 is the vehicle wash services/tax. It is the tax that we have considered for several years here. We actually passed it once through the Legislature and it arrived on the Governor's desk. In the form that it was in at that time, the Governor vetoed it. This is a significantly different bill. It makes several accommodations for environmental quality--I think in the year of the salmon, it is an important bill. I think that the Senate should immediately consider this bill and not allow it to die on the calendar today."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Senator Snyder, it is 4:55 and you have a special order of business at 4:55."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Snyder: "A point of parliamentary inquiry, Mr. President. We were presently on Substitute Senate Bill No. 5583. After we finish our special order of business at 5:00, will we permitted to go back and finish the debate and roll call on Substitute Senate Bill No. 5583?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Senator Snyder, we will have to take a moment to take a look at this."

REMARKS BY SENATOR WEST

Senator West: "Mr. President, I believe that we were in the midst of a debate on Senate Bill No. 5489, as to whether we would consider that. That would be the order of business that we were debating at the time that you declared it was 4:55."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Senator West, that is what we researching."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Senator Snyder, in response to your inquiry, in looking at Rule 18, as it has been rewritten, it says, 'That if a cutoff established by concurrent resolution occurs during the special order, the senate may complete the order of business that was before the senate when consideration of the special order was commenced.' It says 'the senate may complete the order of business that was before the senate.' Excuse me, just one second.

'The President is going to read Rule 18: 'The president shall call the senate to order at the hour fixed for the consideration of a special order,' which I did, 'and announce that the special order is before the senate, which shall then be considered unless it is postponed by a majority vote of the members present, and any business before the Senate at the time of the announcement of the special order shall take its regular position in the order of business, except that if a cutoff established by concurrent resolution occurs during the special order, the senate may complete the order of business that was before the senate when consideration of the special order was commenced.' What we were on--it says, 'any business'--was the motion by Senator West to immediately consider Senate Bill No. 5489. "Therefore, the President rules that we may go back to the consideration of Senator West's motion, following the special order of business and go back to his motion only."

REMARKS BY SENATOR SNYDER

Senator Snyder: "Well, thank you, Mr. President. Maybe it isn't timely, but I would--a point of parliamentary inquiry."
President Owen: "State your parliamentary inquiry."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Snyder: "Not having a copy of the new rules in front of us, and I know that was an amendment we made at your request, but when you say 'return to the item that we were considering,' I think the item we were considering was the bill. I believe that probably Senator West's motion was out of order, because I don't think he can make a motion that he made, to consider that bill, at the time when we are considering a bill. He would have to do it after the completion of that bill."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "We are looking--"

REMARKS BY SENATOR WEST

Senator West: "Mr. President, as I understand it, Senator Snyder has raised a point of parliamentary inquiry suggesting that we cannot make a motion to immediately consider a bill while another bill is pending. The good Senator from the Nineteenth District has made that motion himself many times over the years that he has been in the Senate--while other bills have been pending. So, I think you will find if you studied the Journal--you would find several times that that motion has been made and accepted by the Senate. I don't think there is anything in the rules that prohibits the making of such a motion--either our rules or Reed's Rules."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "In response to the various inquiries, the President believes that the passage of Senator West's motion would allow consideration of Senate Bill No. 5489 only following the special order of business. If the motion is defeated, the President believes that following the special order of business--if the motion is defeated--the President believes that the spirit of the rule was intended to allow the main question pending before his motion was made--that the main question pending would be considered, which is Substitute Senate Bill No. 5583.

"The President would so rule.
"The President would ask that the Senators provide, prior to the end of the session, possibly, a further clarification that the main question before the body be able to be taken up following the special order of business--not incidental motions."

SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS

There being no objection, the President advanced the Senate to the seventh order of business. The Senate resumed consideration of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5704, on reconsideration.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Thibaudeau, the rules were suspended and Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5704, on reconsideration, was returned to second reading and read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Long moved that the following amendment by Senators Long, Kohl-Welles, Sheahan and Hargrove be adopted:

On page 1, strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 69.51A RCW to read as follows:

(1) The department of health shall adopt rules to implement this chapter. In doing so, the department shall consult with, among others, the Washington State Medical Association, the Washington Association of Prosecuting Attorneys, the Washington Council of Police and Sheriffs, and the Washington Association of Sheriffs and Police Chiefs."
(2) The department's authority to adopt or amend rules under this section expires two years after the effective date of this act.

Debate ensued
The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the striking amendment by Senators Long, Kohl-Welles, Sheahan and Hargrove to Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5704, on reconsideration.
The motion by Senator Long carried and the striking amendment was adopted.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Thibaudeau, the rules were suspended, Second Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5704, on reconsideration, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Deccio, Senators Roach and West were excused.
The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Second Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5704, on reconsideration.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Second Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5704, on reconsideration, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 33; Nays, 12; Absent, 0; Excused, 4.

Voting yea: Senators Bauer, Brown, Costa, Deccio, Eide, Fairley, Franklin, Fraser, Gardner, Goings, Hargrove, Haugen, Hochstatter, Horn, Jacobsen, Kline, Kohl-Welles, Long, Loveland, McAuliffe, McCaslin, Patterson, Prentice, Rasmusden, Sheahan, Sheldon, B., Sheldon, T., Shin, Snyder, Spanel, Thibaudeau, Winsley and Wojahn - 33. Voting nay: Senators Benton, Finkbeiner, Hale, Honeyford, Johnson, McDonald, Morton, Oke, Rossi, Stevens, Swecker and Zarelli - 12. Excused: Senators Heavey, Roach and Sellar and West - 4. SECOND ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 5704, on reconsideration, having received the constitutional two-thirds majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Honeyford, Senator Rossi was excused.
The President declared the question before the Senate is the pending motion by Senator West to immediately consider Senate Bill No. 5489.
The motion by Senator West failed and the Senate will not consider Senate Bill No. 5489 at this time.
There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5583, which was under consideration before the motion by Senator West to immediately consider Senate Bill No. 5489 and for the special order of business on Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5704.
The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5583.
Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Winsley: "Senator Loveland, as I've read this bill and looked in the calendar for today and I've heard the testimony and I've also talked to several people, does this do as Senator Kohl-Welles has mentioned apply to part-time faculty and if it does- I don't know the number of part-time faculty in our state--but my question to you is are you prepared if this bill passes to pick up the medical for those part-time faculty in our budget, because this is a big issue? I think we are looking at this from the private sector. I heard Microsoft and Boeing mentioned, but I look at this as to what this is going to cost the state of Washington. If we are going to give medical insurance coverage as a mandate, as a benefit, to a part-time faculty, are you prepared for that?"

Senator Loveland: "Senator, if this bill passes, I will be required to do the letter of the law."
ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5583 and the bill failed to pass the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 24; Nays, 20; Absent, 0; Excused, 5.

MOTION

At 5:39 p.m., on motion of Senator Betti Sheldon, the Senate adjourned until 12:00 noon, Thursday, March 18, 1999.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Franklin, the following resolution was adopted:

SENATE RESOLUTION 1999-8647

By Senator Franklin, Roach, Fairley and Rasmussen

WHEREAS, Our society has so lowered its expectations of our children that simply not becoming a criminal is now viewed as an accomplishment worthy of praise; and
WHEREAS, One of the main factors fostering those severely lowered expectations is the language we use to describe and ultimately label children who do not have the benefit of wealth; and
WHEREAS, The term "at-risk children" is used with the best intentions by policymakers and others who care about children, but actually has the effect of lowering children's self-esteem and expectations of themselves and their hopes for the future; and
WHEREAS, By changing our terminology, we and the children we seek to help can change the way we perceive the possibilities that are available to all children with the proper support and encouragement; and
WHEREAS, The Boys and Girls Clubs of Pierce County, led by Executive Director Gary Yazwa, and other community leaders have joined together to lead the way in rejecting the negative label of "at-risk children" in favor of the positive and universally applicable distinction of "Kids at Hope"; and
WHEREAS, This new terminology indicates that we as a society believe that every child brings to the world a unique set of talents and potential, and that the key to success is recognizing and building upon one's talents; and
WHEREAS, The "Kids at Hope" effort now includes a supplementary report card for students at Tacoma's thirty-six elementary schools, which goes beyond academic performance to recognize students' other positive qualities; and
WHEREAS, Through the "Kids at Hope" program, the Boys and Girls Clubs of Pierce County and Tacoma schools are building up a new generation of positive, hopeful young people who set high standards and expectations for themselves;
NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the members of the Washington State Senate do hereby recognize and honor the “Kids at Hope” program, and the tremendous contributions being made to our state by the Boys and Girls Clubs of Pierce County, led by Executive Director Gary Yazwa; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be transmitted immediately by the Secretary of the Senate to the Boys and Girls Clubs of Pierce County and to the Tacoma Public School District.

Senators Franklin, Rasmussen and Thibaudeau spoke to Senate Resolution 1999-8647.

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President welcomed and introduced representatives of the Pierce County Boys and Girls Clubs, as well as the Executive Director Gary Yazwa and Dr. Jim Shoemache, Superintendent of the Tacoma Public Schools, who were seated in the gallery.

SENATE RESOLUTION 1999-8658

By Senators Kline, Franklin, Snyder, Heavey, Thibaudeau, Fraser, Kohl-Welles and Rasmussen

WHEREAS, Lacy Steele has been married to Dorothy Steele for forty-six years. They have one daughter, Mrs. Marché Steele-Heath, and a grandson, Joshua David Heath. Mr. and Mrs. Steele have lived in the Seattle area for forty years, thirty-three of which have been in the city of Bellevue; and

WHEREAS, Mr. Steele moved to the Seattle area in 1959, from Detroit, Michigan, after being recruited by the Boeing Company. Mr. Steele worked at Boeing for thirty-eight years until retiring in 1997. Mr. Steele, working his way up the corporate ladder at Boeing, became the first African-American manager in the Defense & Space Group, Quality Assurance Organization; and

WHEREAS, Since moving to Washington in 1959, he has been volunteering his time, money, and expertise to help others. His volunteer activities, in the Seattle area and throughout the nation, have benefited and enhanced the lives of many; and

WHEREAS, Mr. Steele served as president of the Seattle branch of the NAACP for twenty-six years. During his tenure as president, he served as chairman on numerous committees and also met with officials from the state, county, and city to develop programs and laws to rid the African-American community of gang violence and drugs and to find ways to curtail the activities of various hate groups. Currently, Mr. Steele serves on the NAACP National Board of Directors; and

WHEREAS, Mr. Steele spends approximately thirty hours a week in the NAACP office responding to the needs of people seeking assistance in employment and housing discrimination, helping homeless individuals find shelter and aid, and addressing numerous civil rights issues; and

WHEREAS, The Seattle branch of the NAACP, under Mr. Steele's leadership, headed the first march and demonstration declaring war on drugs and prostitution in the Seattle area. He also worked with the late Sam Smith to organize the Black Prisoner's Coalition, which was designed to aid and assist prisoners while they were in prison and after their release, and to ensure that prisoners were treated fairly and provided with some form of training or schooling; and

WHEREAS, As president of the Seattle branch of the NAACP, Mr. Steele coordinated and headed voter registration drives and has personally registered over two thousand two hundred voters in the state of Washington. Mr. Steele likes to use the acronym "R.E.P." - Registration, education, and participation to describe his voter registration drives; and

WHEREAS, Mr. Steele serves as a speaker and seminar presenter locally and nationally, appearing in schools, colleges, and universities to address the perils of drugs, substance abuse, and the importance of obtaining an education; and

WHEREAS, Mr. Steele is a permanent volunteer at the Central Area Motivation Program Christmas Party which provides refreshments, gifts, and entertainment to over two thousand low-income children in the community; and

WHEREAS, Over the years, Mr. Steele has aided and assisted many young people in securing scholarship aid to institutions of higher learning; and

WHEREAS, Mr. Steele is retiring from the NAACP;
NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Senate recognize and honor Mr. Lacy Steele for his numerous professional achievements, the significant contributions he has made to our state and our country, and the many lives he has impacted through the years while championing his numerous social causes; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to Mr. and Mrs. Steele.

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President welcomed and introduced Pfizer Company employees seated in the gallery, who were celebrating Pfizer's 150th Year in Business.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator West: "With the leave of the body, I would like to take a moment of personal privilege. Mr. President, the Pfizer folks that are with us today aren't necessarily from the Sixth District, they are actually from throughout the state of Washington. Many of them are from other Senator's areas, as well.

"I would like to point out a little bit about the Pfizer Company and some of their contributions to the state of Washington. They were founded one hundred and fifty years ago in 1849 by two German immigrant cousins in the United States. They worked closely with the University of Washington and Washington State University providing grants for research and the development of medicine for both human use and animal use. Since 1994, Pfizer has had a program in Washington State called 'Share the Care,' where they have provided over 70,000 prescriptions for Washingtonians in need. Just last year alone, they provided over two million dollars in free pharmaceutics to Washingtonians. Pfizer is the company who, in 1941, discovered a process to mass produce penicillin and that pretty much revolutionized medicine and made medical history.

"This year, in fact, the Pfizer Company was recognized by Forbes Magazine as the Company of the Year. It is with great honor that the state of Washington has a corporate citizen like Pfizer Corporation and their employees who do this for us. Thank you very much, Mr. President, for this opportunity to share with you some facts on this great company."

MOTION

At 10:31 a.m., on motion of Senator Betti Sheldon, the Senate was declared to be at ease.

The Senate was called to order at 11:38 a.m. by President Owen.

Recommending establishment of an interagency task force to conduct a study of contingent work force issues.

MOTION

Senator Fairley moved that Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 8402 not be substituted.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the motion by Senator Fairley to not substitute Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 8402.

The motion by Senator Fairley carried and Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 8402 was not substituted.

The concurrent resolution was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Franklin moved that the following striking amendment by Senators Franklin, Costa, Hochstatter, Fairley, Kline and Wojahn be adopted:

Strike everything beginning with "WHEREAS" on page 1, line 1, through "July 1, 2000." on page 3, line 12, and insert the following:

"WHEREAS, Over the past fifteen years, the national and state economy has witnessed growth in the "contingent work force"; and

WHEREAS, The contingent work force consists of short-term temporary workers, long-term temporary workers, part-time workers, on-call workers, leased workers, day laborers, the self-employed, independent contract workers, and other workers who have alternative work arrangements; and

WHEREAS, Although reports suggest that the growth in the contingent work force has provided challenges for workers and employers, there has been no comprehensive study of Washington's contingent work force to learn the impact that this phenomenon has had on individuals and families, local economies, and the state economy;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, By the Senate of the state of Washington, the House of Representatives concurring, That a study of the contingent work force be conducted to review and make recommendations on the following issues with respect to Washington's contingent work force:

How many workers, in both the private and public sector, are part of the contingent work force;
How many workers choose to be part of the contingent work force and how many feel they have no choice;
How long do workers remain part of the contingent work force;
What has been the growth rate of the contingent work force;
What is the demographic breakdown of the contingent work force;
What is the wage and benefit profile of the contingent work force;
What is the industrial and geographical breakdown of the contingent work force;
What are the explanations for the growth of the contingent work force;
What impact has the growth of the contingent work force had on employees and their families, the state's local economies, and the state economy;

What impact have the policies of the insurance industry had on the availability of employee benefits to the contingent work force;

Which state and federal laws, if any, provide for a different level of employee benefits based on the number of hours per week a person works or on the permanence of his or her employment;
To what extent are employer provided/contract benefits based on the number of hours per week a person works or on the permanence of his or her employment;
How has the growth of the contingent work force impacted social services;
What legislative proposals, at either the federal or state level, are being offered to address challenges created by the growth of the contingent work force;
To what extent can state wage and hour laws be updated to clarify employment and recordkeeping requirements for contingent workers and their employers; and

Other issues identified by the contingent work force task force; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the study be conducted by a contingent work force task force consisting of eight voting members: one member from each caucus of the Senate, each member being a member of the Senate labor and workforce development committee, appointed by the President of the Senate; one member from each caucus of the House of Representatives, each member being a member of the House of Representatives commerce and labor committee, appointed by the Co-Speakers of the House of Representatives; two members representing labor, appointed jointly by the President of the Senate and the Co-Speakers of the House of Representatives, from a list of names recommended by a state-wide organization representing a cross section and majority of organized labor in the state; and two members representing business, appointed jointly by the President of the Senate and the Co-Speakers of the House of Representatives, from a list of names recommended by a state-wide organization of employers representing a majority of employers of the state. The department of labor and industries shall be the lead agency; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the task force shall consult with and be advised by an advisory committee consisting of six nonvoting members: two representatives of the department of labor and industries, including staff from the employment standards program and from the safety and health assessment and research for prevention program (SHARP); one representative of the employment security department; one representative of the work force training and education coordinating board; one representative of the department of social and health services; and one representative of the office of financial management; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That Senate committee services and the House office of program research, as directed, shall provide support to the contingent work force task force; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the findings and recommendations of the contingent work force task force study shall be reported to the labor and workforce development committee of the Senate and the commerce and labor committee of the House of Representatives by December 1, 1999; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the contingent work force task force expires July 1, 2000."

MOTION

Senator West moved that the following amendment to the striking amendment by Senators Franklin, Costa, Hochstatter, Fairley, Kline and Wojahn be adopted:

On page 3, line 9 of the amendment, after "management" insert ", PROVIDED, That costs to conduct the study shall not be charged to the medical aid fund or the accident fund"

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Benton: "I rise to a point of personal privilege, Mr. President. When this body votes on bills before it, we have a bill report, we have a copy of the bill provided to us, but when we vote on gubernatorial appointments, we have no information other than the fact that the appointee--what they are being appointed to and what the committee report is--whether it is confirmed or not confirmed. There is no additional information provided to the members. Specifically, information relating to the term of the appointment, how long the appointment will be for, when it expires, etc.--or any personal information on that appointee.

"If the member has not been fortunate enough to serve on the committee, on which the appointment came through, which is a very small minority of the members of this body, the rest of us are not given the information or privileged with the information to know what the background or qualifications of that gubernatorial appointee are. I would like to request that additional information on gubernatorial appointees be provided to all members on the Senate floor before we are asked to vote on their confirmation."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Senator Benton, that is certainly an issue that the President believes that the decision needs to be made by the body, not the President. Your point is well taken."
Senator Benton: "Thank you."

SENATE RESOLUTION 1999-8659
By Senator Morton

WHEREAS, The Newport High School Girls’ Basketball Team is the 1999 Washington State 2-A Champion; and

WHEREAS, The Grizzlies have distinguished themselves and brought honor to their school by winning their first state tournament; and

WHEREAS, Under the coaching and supervision of Mike Frederick, the Newport girls finished the 1999 season with a 25-2 mark; and

WHEREAS, The outstanding play of these individual team members is representative of the standard of excellence displayed by the entire Grizzly team; and

WHEREAS, This team has deservedly, through their efforts, commitment, and sacrifice, achieved the title of Washington State Basketball Champions;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington State Senate honor the 1999 Newport Grizzly Girls’ Basketball Team with passage of this Senate Floor Resolution; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That with passage of this resolution, the members of the Washington State Senate acknowledge the example this group of interscholastic amateurs has set, and the importance of athletic participation in the pursuit of academic achievement.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Spanel, Second Substitute House Bill No. 1692 was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

STATEMENT FOR THE JOURNAL

FROM: Senator Horn and Senator McCaslin

TO: Secretary of the Senate/Journal Clerk

SUBJECT: SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1189, as amended by the Senate State and Local Government Committee, on April 2, 1999...MINORITY REPORT

We filed a Minority Report relating to the passage of Substitute House Bill No. 1189, as amended by the Senate State and Local Government Committee, on April 2, 1999, for the following reasons:
PROCESS: The Chair announced on Thursday, April 1, at 3:00 p.m., that there would be no further meetings of the Committee on State and Local Government (to include a TVW announcement). Apparently, very late on Thursday afternoon, while Senator Horn and other members of the committee, were in hearings with different committees, it was determined that a "special" meeting of the Committee on State and Local Government be called for Friday, April 2, at 9:00 a.m. This meeting was not held in the regular committee meeting room, but was moved to a different location. New information may have been brought to light during a House committee meeting, regarding this subject matter, however, neither we, other Committee on State and Local Government members or the public had time be to informed or to prepare for this meeting.

Additionally, even though the Chair determined that there would only be an executive session on Substitute House Bill No. 1189, several amendments were prepared and were the subject of debate. There was no waiver of the five day rule and there was no notice to proponents and particularly opponents regarding this bill. There had been no public hearing on Substitute House Bill No. 1189, even though there were several amendments, including a striking amendment, offered and debated without public input.

SUBSTANTIVE OBJECTIONS: The bill, as amended, (see S AMS SLG S2516.1) allows the Seattle City Council Members to serve as Municipal Park Board Members, in an ex-officio capacity, not in their capacity as City Council Members. This allows Council Members to act outside the parameters of their city charter.

The bill allows a "special" election to create a Metropolitan Park District. Because of the creation of a new taxing entity, this matter should only be submitted at a general election where the voter turnout is considerably greater.

The bill would allow an automatic property tax levy commensurate with the formation of the district. Following public discussion before the newly formed district commission, there should be a separate election to determine the amount of funding to be made available.

The bill permits the "district" to use the power of eminent domain and condemnation for lands outside of the territorial boundaries of the park district. This may not have been a problem when there was only one such district in the state, but to allow the city of Seattle to infringe upon the territory of King County or any other county or city, may create "undetermined and unexamined problems."

The bill allows the district to establish, maintain, manage and improve property they do not own. Such powers should be limited to the properties the district owns.

Excused: Senators Fairley, Finkbeiner and Heavey - 3.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator McCaslin: "A point of order, Mr. President. I think the good Senator from the Sixth District violated Rule 7 when he said that Chris Marr was the best Democrat he knew. That puts twenty-seven Democrats behind him. I don't think that is right, Mr. President."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Could that be twenty-eight Democrats behind him?"
Senator McCaslin: "Twenty-eight? Well, he is the twenty-eighth. That is just not right. They are all so nice over there. He is the President; he is above everybody."
President Owen: "Good answer, McCaslin."

MOTION

Senator Gardner moved that Gubernatorial Appointment No. 9028, A. Michele Maher, as a member of the Transportation Commission, be confirmed.
Senator Benton spoke against the confirmation of A. Michele Maher as a member of the Transportation Commission, because of the duplication of appointments from the same area.

MOTION

Senator Gardner moved that Gubernatorial Appointment No. 9134, George Kargianis, as a member of the Transportation Commission, be confirmed.

POINT OF CLARIFICATION

Senator Benton: “Thank you, Mr. President. I rise to a point of clarification please. What are we working off of here? I have a third reading calendar and our list No. 1 was completed two appointments ago. This list No. 2 has no gubernatorial appointments on it, so I am just wondering what are we working off of here?”

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: “The issue before the Senate is Gubernatorial Appointment No. 9134, George Kargianis as a member of the Transportation Commission, which is shown on the screen up front, Senator Benton. The paper work is merely a guide, not a gospel.”

Senator Benton: “Thank you. I’ll speak to the appointment.”

Senator Benton spoke against the confirmation of George Kargianis as a member of the Transportation Commission, because of the duplication of appointments from the same area.

The motion to confirm George Kargianis as a member of the Transportation Commission carried.

APPOINTMENT OF GEORGE KARGIANIS

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1951, by House Committee on Judiciary (originally sponsored by Representatives Lantz, DeBolt, Miloscia, McDonald, Stensen and Santos)

Protecting remains in abandoned cemeteries.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Patterson, the following Committee on State and Local Government striking amendment was adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 65.04 RCW to read as follows:

Any person who has knowledge of the existence of any cemetery, abandoned cemetery, historical cemetery, or historic grave that has not been dedicated pursuant to RCW 68.24.010 through 68.24.040 may file for recording, in the county in which the cemetery or grave is located, a notice of abandoned cemetery document providing notice of the existence of the cemetery or grave. Such document shall contain the legal description of the property, the approximate location of the cemetery or grave within the property, the name of the owner or reputed owner of the property, and the assessor's tax parcel or account number. The auditor or recording officer shall index the document to the names of the property owner and the person executing the document.

Sec. 2. RCW 68.24.090 and 1987 c 331 s 34 are each amended to read as follows:

Property dedicated to cemetery purposes shall be held and used exclusively for cemetery purposes, unless and until the dedication is removed from all or any part of it by an order and decree of the superior court of the county in which the property is situated, in a proceeding brought by the cemetery authority for that purpose and upon notice of hearing and proof satisfactory to the court:

(1) That no interments were made in or that all interments have been removed from that portion of the property from which dedication is sought to be removed.

(2) That the portion of the property from which dedication is sought to be removed is not being used for interment of human remains.

(3) That notice of the proposed removal of dedication has been given in writing to both the cemetery board ((in writing)) and the office of archaeology and historic preservation. This notice must be given at least sixty days before filing the proceedings in superior court. The notice of the proposed removal of dedication shall be recorded with the auditor or recording officer of the county where the cemetery is located at least sixty days before filing the proceedings in superior court.

Sec. 3. RCW 68.60.020 and 1990 c 92 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

Any cemetery, abandoned cemetery, historical cemetery, or historic grave that has not been dedicated pursuant to RCW 68.24.030 and 68.24.040 shall be considered permanently dedicated and subject to RCW 68.24.070. Removal of dedication may only be made pursuant to RCW 68.24.090 and 68.24.100."

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Patterson, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 1 of the title, after "cemeteries;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "amending RCW 68.24.090 and 68.60.020; and adding a new section to chapter 65.04 RCW."
On motion of Senator Patterson, the rules were suspended, Substitute House Bill No. 1951, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Substitute House Bill No. 1951, as amended by the Senate, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 42; Nays, 0; Absent, 0; Excused, 7.

Excused: Senators Bauer, Fairley, Franklin, Fraser, Jacobsen, Loveland and Snyder - 7.

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1951, as amended by the Senate, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1163, by House Committee on Agriculture and Ecology (originally sponsored by Representatives Cooper, Schoesler, Linville, G. Chandler, Keiser, Rockefeller and Conway) (by request of Department of Health)

Providing for the safe decontamination or destruction of residential property used for illegal drug manufacturing or storage.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Eide, the following Committee on Environmental Quality and Water Resources striking amendment was adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that the contamination of properties used for illegal drug manufacturing poses a threat to public health. The toxic chemicals left behind by the illegal drug manufacturing must be cleaned up to prevent harm to subsequent occupants of the properties. It is the intent of the legislature that properties are decontaminated in a manner that is efficient, prompt, and that makes them safe to reoccupy.

Sec. 2. RCW 64.44.010 and 1990 c 213 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

The words and phrases defined in this section shall have the following meanings when used in this chapter unless the context clearly indicates otherwise.

(1) "Authorized contractor" means a person who decontaminates, demolishes, or disposes of contaminated property as required by this chapter who is((a))) certified by the department as provided for in RCW 64.44.060(( or b) until January 1, 1991, listed with the department as provided for in section 8, chapter 213, Laws of 1990).

(2) "Contaminated" or "contamination" means polluted by hazardous chemicals so that the property is unfit for human habitation or use due to immediate or long-term hazards. Property that at one time was contaminated but has been satisfactorily decontaminated according to procedures established by the state board of health is not "contaminated."

(3) "Hazardous chemicals" means the following substances used in the manufacture of illegal drugs: (a) Hazardous substances as defined in RCW 70.105D.020, and (b) precursor substances as defined in RCW 69.43.010 which the state board of health, in consultation with the state board of pharmacy, has determined present an immediate or long-term health hazard to humans.

(4) "Officer" means a local health officer authorized under chapters 70.05, 70.08, and 70.46 RCW."
(5) “Property” means any property, site, structure, or part of a structure which is involved in the unauthorized manufacture or storage of hazardous chemicals. This includes but is not limited to single-family residences, units of multiplexes, condominiums, apartment buildings, boats, motor vehicles, trailers, manufactured housing, or any shop, booth, or garden.

Sec. 3. RCW 64.44.020 and 1990 c 213 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

Whenever a law enforcement agency becomes aware that property has been contaminated by hazardous chemicals, that agency shall report the contamination to the local health officer. The local health officer shall (cause a posting of a notice) post a written warning on the premises (immediately upon being notified) within one working day of notification of the contamination and shall (cause an inspection to be done) inspect the property within fourteen days after receiving the notice of contamination. The warning shall inform the potential occupants that hazardous chemicals may exist on, or have been removed from, the premises and that entry is unsafe. If a property owner believes that a tenant has contaminated property that was being leased or rented, and the property is vacated or abandoned, then the property owner shall contact the local health officer about the possible contamination. Local health officers or boards may charge property owners reasonable fees for inspections of suspected contaminated property requested by property owners.

If property is determined to be contaminated, then the local health officer shall cause a posting of a notice on the premises. A local health officer may enter, inspect, and survey at reasonable times any properties for which there are reasonable grounds to believe that the property has become contaminated. If the property is contaminated, the local health officer shall post a written notice declaring that the officer intends to issue an order prohibiting use of the property as long as the property is contaminated.

Local health officers must report all cases of contaminated property to the state department of health. The department shall promptly update the list of contaminated properties to remove those which have been decontaminated according to provisions of this chapter.

The local health officer may determine when the services of an authorized contractor are necessary.

Sec. 4. RCW 64.44.030 and 1990 c 213 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

After the inspection of the property, the local health officer finds that it is contaminated, then the property shall be found unfit for use. The local health officer shall cause to be served an order prohibiting use either personally or by certified mail, with return receipt requested, upon all occupants and persons having any interest therein as shown upon the records of the auditor's office of the county in which such property is located. The local health officer shall also post the order prohibiting use in a conspicuous place on the property. If the whereabouts of such persons is unknown and the same cannot be ascertained by the local health officer in the exercise of reasonable diligence, and the health officer makes an affidavit to that effect, then the serving of the order upon such persons may be made either by personal service or by mailing a copy of the order by certified mail, postage prepaid, return receipt requested, to each person at the address appearing on the last equalized tax assessment roll of the county where the property is located or at the address known to the county assessor, and the order shall be posted conspicuously at the residence. A copy of the order shall also be mailed, addressed to each person or party having a recorded right, title, estate, lien, or interest in the property. If the order shall contain a notice that a hearing before the local health board or officer shall be held upon the request of a person required to be notified of the order under this section. The request for a hearing must be made within ten days of serving the order. The hearing shall then be held within not less than twenty days nor more than thirty days after the serving of the order. The officer shall prohibit use as long as the property is found to be contaminated. A copy of the order shall also be filed with the auditor of the county in which the property is located, and such filing of the complaint or order shall have the same force and effect as other lis pendens notices provided by law. In any hearing concerning whether property is fit for use, the property owner has the burden of showing that the property is decontaminated or fit for use. The owner or any person having an interest in the property may file an appeal on any order issued by the local health board or officer within thirty days from the date of service of the order with the appeals commission established pursuant to RCW 35.80.030. All proceedings before the appeals commission, including any subsequent appeals to superior court, shall be governed by the procedures established in chapter 35.80 RCW.

Sec. 5. RCW 64.44.040 and 1990 c 213 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

The city or county in which the contaminated property is located may take action to condemn or demolish property or to require the property be vacated or the contents removed from the property. The city or county (must) may use an authorized contractor if property is demolished, decontaminated, or removed under this section. No city or county may condemn or demolish property pursuant to this section until all procedures granting the right of notice and the opportunity to appeal in RCW 64.44.030 have been exhausted.

Sec. 6. RCW 64.44.050 and 1990 c 213 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

An owner of contaminated property who desires to have the property decontaminated (must) shall use the services of an authorized contractor (to decontaminate the property) unless otherwise authorized by the local health officer. The contractor shall prepare and submit a written work plan for decontamination to the local health officer. The local health officer may charge a reasonable fee for review of the work plan. If the work plan is approved and the decontamination is completed and the property is restested according to the plan and properly documented, then the health officer shall allow reuse of the property. A ([notice]) release for reuse document shall be recorded in the real property records ([if applicable,]) indicating the property has been decontaminated in accordance with rules of the state department of health.

Sec. 7. RCW 64.44.060 and 1997 c 58 s 878 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) ([After January 1, 1994,]) A contractor may not perform decontamination, demolition, or disposal work unless issued a certificate by the state department of health. The department shall establish performance standards for contractors by rule in accordance with chapter 34.05 RCW, the administrative procedure act. The department shall train and test, or may approve courses to train and test, contractors and their employees on the essential elements in assessing property used as an illegal drug manufacturing or storage site to determine hazard reduction measures needed, techniques for adequately reducing contaminants, use of personal protective equipment, methods for proper decontamination, demolition, removal, and disposal of contaminated property, and relevant federal and state regulations. Upon successful completion of the training, the contractor or employee shall be certified.

(2) The department may require the successful completion of annual refresher courses provided or approved by the department for the continued certification of the contractor or employee.

(3) The department shall provide for reciprocal certification of any individual trained to engage in decontamination, demolition, or disposal work in another state when the prior training is shown to be substantially similar to the training required by the department. The department may require such individuals to take an examination or refresher course before certification.

(4) The department may deny, suspend, or revoke a certificate for failure to comply with the requirements of this chapter or any rule adopted pursuant to this chapter. A certificate may be denied, suspended, or revoked on any of the following grounds:

(a) Failing to perform decontamination, demolition, or disposal work under the supervision of trained personnel;

(b) Failing to file a work plan;

(c) Failing to perform work pursuant to the work plan;

(d) Failing to perform work that meets the requirements of the department;

(e) The certificate was obtained by error, misrepresentation, or fraud; or

(f) If the person has been certified pursuant to RCW 74.20A.320 by the department of social and health services as a person who is not in compliance with a support order or a residential or visitation order. If the person has continued to meet all other requirements for reinstatement during the suspension, reissuance of the license or certificate shall be automatic upon the department’s receipt of a release issued by the department of social and health services stating that the person is in compliance with the order.

(5) A contractor who violates any provision of this chapter may be assessed a fine not to exceed five hundred dollars for each violation.

(6) The department of health shall prescribe fees as provided for in RCW 43.70.250 for the issuance and renewal of certificates, the administration of examinations, and for the review of training courses.

(7) The decontamination account is hereby established in the state treasury. Moneys in the account may only be spent after appropriation for costs incurred by the department in the administration and enforcement of this chapter.

Sec. 8. RCW 64.44.070 and 1990 c 213 s 9 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The state board of health shall promulgate rules and standards for carrying out the provisions in this chapter in accordance with chapter 34.05 RCW, the administrative procedure act. The local board of health and the local health officer are authorized to exercise such powers as may be necessary to carry out this chapter. The department shall provide technical assistance to local health boards and health officers to carry out their duties under this chapter.

(2) The department shall ([develop guidelines]) adopt rules for decontamination of a property used as ([a]) an illegal drug laboratory and methods for the testing of ground water, surface water, soil, and septic tanks for contamination. The rules shall establish decontamination standards for hazardous chemicals, including but not limited to methamphetamine, lead, mercury, and total volatile organic compounds.”

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Eide, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 3 of the title, after “drugs;” strike the reminder of the title and insert “amending RCW 64.44.010, 64.44.020, 64.44.030, 64.44.040, 64.44.050, 64.44.060, and 64.44.070; and creating a new section.”
On motion of Senator Eide, the rules were suspended, Substitute House Bill No. 1163, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Substitute House Bill No. 1163, as amended by the Senate.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Substitute House Bill No. 1163, as amended by the Senate, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 42; Nays, 0; Absent, 0; Excused, 7.

Excused: Senators Bauer, Fairley, Franklin, Fraser, Jacobsen, Loveland and Snyder - 7.

SECOND READING

ENGROSSED HOUSE BILL NO. 1459, by Representatives Poulsen, Crouse, Reardon, Ruderman, Cooper, Wolfe, Kastama, Constantine, Murray, Rockefeller, Dickerson, Lantz, Kenney, McIntire, Lovick, Wood and Edmonds

Allowing reduced rate utility service for low-income citizens.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Brown, the rules were suspended, Engrossed House Bill No. 1459 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Goings: "Senator Brown, this bill specifically allows electric and gas companies to recover the costs of offering low income discounts from their other ratepayers, but it does not say what will happen if these programs result in savings to the utilities. Will savings be shared with other ratepayers or be retained by shareholders?"

Senator Brown: "During the hearings on the bill, we learned that low income discount programs can result in net benefits to utilities by decreasing disconnections and reducing uncollectible debt, and it is our intention that these benefits would be shared by all ratepayers. The current costs of disconnections and uncollectible debt caused by low income customers who can't pay their utility bills are already borne by ratepayers—not shareholders—so any reductions in those costs would reduce the burdens on other ratepayers. Additionally, the commission must approve any discount programs offered under this bill, and it is our understanding that they will only approve programs that return the benefits to ratepayers rather than shareholders."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 1459.

Excused: Senators Bauer, Fairley, Fraser, Loveland and Shin - 5.

HOUSE BILL NO. 2206, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1131, by House Committee on Judiciary (originally sponsored by Representatives Sheahan, Schindler, Crouse, Gombosky, O'Brien, Keiser, Hurst and D. Sommers)

Preventing prostitution by modifying sentencing provisions and allowing the impoundment of vehicles used to patronize prostitutes.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Heavey moved that the following Committee on Judiciary striking amendment be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION, Sec. 1. The legislature finds that most law enforcement effort to prevent prostitution is directed at punishing prostitutes. The legislature also finds that many patrons of prostitutes use motor vehicles in order to obtain the services of prostitutes and that successful prevention of prostitution involves efforts to curtail the demand for services offered by prostitutes. It is the intent of the legislature to decrease the demand for prostitution services and thereby eliminate the economic foundation for the prostitution industry. It is also the intent of the legislature to eliminate traffic congestion and other concerns to neighborhoods and business areas caused by patrons cruising in motor vehicles in areas of high prostitution activity."
NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 9A.88 RCW to read as follows:

(1) When sentencing or imposing conditions on a person convicted of, or receiving a deferred sentence or deferred prosecution for, violating RCW 9A.88.110 or 9.68A.100, the court must impose a requirement that the offender:

(a) Not be subsequently arrested for patronizing a prostitute or patronizing a juvenile prostitute; and

(b) Remain outside the geographical area, prescribed by the court, in which the person was arrested for violating RCW 9A.88.110 or 9.68A.100, unless such a requirement would interfere with the person's legitimate employment or residence or otherwise be infeasible.

(2) This requirement is in addition to the penalties set forth in RCW 9A.88.110, 9A.88.120, and 9.68A.100.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 9A.88 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Upon an arrest for a suspected violation of patronizing a prostitute or patronizing a juvenile prostitute, the arresting law enforcement officer may impound the person's vehicle if (a) the motor vehicle was used in the commission of the crime; (b) the person arrested is the owner of the vehicle; and (c) the person arrested has previously been convicted of patronizing a prostitute, under RCW 9A.88.110, or patronizing a juvenile prostitute, under RCW 9.68A.100.

(2) Impoundments performed under this section shall be in accordance with chapter 46.55 RCW.

Sec. 4. RCW 9.68A.100 and 1989 c 32 s 8 are each amended to read as follows:

A person is guilty of patronizing a juvenile prostitute if that person engages or agrees or offers to engage in sexual conduct with a minor in return for a fee, and is guilty of a class C felony punishable under chapter 9A.20 RCW. In addition to any other penalty provided under chapter 9A.20 RCW, a person guilty of patronizing a juvenile prostitute is subject to the provisions under sections 2 and 3 of this act.

Sec. 5. RCW 46.55.120 and 1998 c 203 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Vehicles or other items of personal property registered or titled with the department that are impounded by registered tow truck operators pursuant to RCW 46.55.080, 46.55.085, (or) 46.55.113, or section 3 of this act may be redeemed only under the following circumstances:

(a) Only the legal owner, the registered owner, a person authorized in writing by the registered owner or the vehicle's insurer, a person who is determined and verified by the operator to have the permission of the registered owner of the vehicle or other item of personal property registered or titled with the department, or one who has purchased a vehicle or item of personal property registered or titled with the department from the registered owner who produces proof of ownership or written authorization and signs a receipt therefor, may redeem an impounded vehicle or items of personal property registered or titled with the department. In addition, a vehicle impounded because the operator is in violation of RCW 46.20.342(1)(c) shall not be released until a person eligible to redeem it under this subsection (1)(a) satisfies the requirements of (b) of this subsection, including paying all towing, removal, and storage fees, notwithstanding the fact that the hold was ordered by a government agency. If the department's records show that the operator has been convicted of a violation of RCW 46.20.342 or a similar local ordinance within the past five years, the vehicle may be held for up to thirty days at the written direction of the agency ordering the vehicle impounded. A vehicle impounded because the operator is arrested for a violation of RCW 46.20.342 may be released only pursuant to a written order from the agency that ordered the vehicle impounded. An agency may issue a written order to release pursuant to a provision of an applicable state agency rule or local ordinance authorizing release on the basis of economic or personal hardship to the spouse of the operator, taking into consideration public safety factors, including the operator's criminal history and driving record.

If a vehicle is impounded because the operator is in violation of RCW 46.20.342(1) (a) or (b), the vehicle may be held for up to thirty days at the written direction of the agency ordering the vehicle impounded. However, if the department's records show that the operator has been convicted of a violation of RCW 46.20.342(1) (a) or (b) or a similar local ordinance within the past five years, the vehicle may be held at the written direction of the agency ordering the vehicle impounded for up to sixty days, and for up to ninety days if the operator has two or more such prior offenses. If a vehicle is impounded because the operator is arrested for a violation of RCW 46.20.342, the vehicle may not be released until a person eligible to redeem it under this subsection (1)(a) satisfies the requirements of (b) of this subsection, including paying all towing, removal, and storage fees, notwithstanding the fact that the hold was ordered by a government agency.

(b) The vehicle or other item of personal property registered or titled with the department shall be released upon the presentation to any person having custody of the vehicle of commercially reasonable tender sufficient to cover the costs of towing, storage, or other services rendered during the course of towing, removing, impounding, or storing any such vehicle. In addition, if a vehicle is impounded because the operator was arrested for a violation of RCW 46.20.420 and was being operated by the registered owner when it was impounded, it must not be released to any person until the registered owner establishes with the agency that ordered the vehicle impounded that any penalties, fines, or forfeitures owed by him or her have been satisfied. Commercially reasonable tender shall include, without limitation, cash, major bank credit cards, or personal checks drawn on in-state banks if accompanied by two pieces of valid identification, one of which may be required by the operator to have a photograph. If the towing firm can determine through the customer's bank or a check verification service that the presented check... would not be paid by the bank or guaranteed by the service, the towing firm may refuse to accept the check. Any person who stops payment on a personal check or credit card, or does not make restitution within ten days from the date a check becomes insufficient due to lack of funds, to a towing firm that has provided a service pursuant to this section or in any other manner defrauds the towing firm in connection with services rendered pursuant to this section shall be liable for damages in the amount of twice the towing and storage fees, plus costs and reasonable attorney’s fees.

(2)(a) The registered tow truck operator shall give to each person who seeks to redeem an impounded vehicle, or item of personal property registered or titled with the department, written notice of the right of redemption and opportunity for a hearing, which notice shall be accompanied by a form to be used for requesting a hearing, the name of the person or agency authorizing the impound, and a copy of the towing and storage invoice. The registered tow truck operator shall maintain a record evidenced by the redeeming person’s signature that such notification was provided.

(b) Any person seeking to redeem an impounded vehicle under this section has a right to a hearing in the district or municipal court for the jurisdiction in which the vehicle was impounded to contest the validity of the impoundment or the amount of towing and storage charges. The district court has jurisdiction to determine the issues involving all impoundments including those authorized by the state or its agents. The municipal court has jurisdiction to determine the issues involving impoundments authorized by agents of the municipality. Any request for a hearing shall be made in writing on the form provided for that purpose and must be received by the appropriate court within ten days of the date the opportunity was provided for in subsection (2)(a) of this section. At the time of the filing of the hearing request, the petitioner shall pay to the court clerk a filing fee in the same amount required for the filing of a suit in district court. If the hearing request is not received by the court within the ten-day period, the right to a hearing is waived and the registered owner is liable for any towing, storage, or other impoundment charges permitted under this chapter. Upon receipt of a timely hearing request, the court shall proceed to hear and determine the validity of the impoundment.

(3)(a) The court, within five days after the request for a hearing, shall notify the registered tow truck operator, the person requesting the hearing if not the owner, the registered and legal owners of the vehicle or other item of personal property registered or titled with the department, and the person or agency authorizing the impound in writing of the hearing date and time.

(b) At the hearing, the person or persons requesting the hearing may produce any relevant evidence to show that the impoundment, towing, or storage fees charged were not proper. The court may consider a written report made under oath by the officer who authorized the impoundment in lieu of the officer’s personal appearance at the hearing.

(c) At the conclusion of the hearing, the court shall determine whether the impoundment was proper, whether the towing or storage fees charged were in compliance with the posted rates, and who is responsible for payment of the fees. The court may not adjust fees or charges that are in compliance with the posted or contracted rates.

(d) If the impoundment is found proper, the impoundment, towing, and storage fees as permitted under this chapter together with court costs shall be assessed against the person or persons requesting the hearing, unless the operator did not have a signed and valid impoundment authorization from a private property owner or an authorized agent.

(e) If the impoundment is determined to be in violation of this chapter, then the registered and legal owners of the vehicle or other item of personal property registered or titled with the department shall bear no impoundment, towing, or storage fees, and any security shall be returned or discharged as appropriate, and the person or agency who authorized the impoundment shall be liable for any towing, storage, or other impoundment fees permitted under this chapter. The court shall enter judgment in favor of the registered tow truck operator against the person or agency authorizing the impound for the impoundment, towing, and storage fees paid. In addition, the court shall enter judgment in favor of the registered and legal owners of the vehicle, or other item of personal property registered or titled with the department, for the amount of the filing fee required by law for the impound hearing petition as well as reasonable damages for loss of the use of the vehicle during the time the same was impounded, for not less than fifty dollars per day, against the person or agency authorizing the impound. However, if an impoundment arising from an alleged violation of RCW 46.20.342 or 46.20.420 is determined to be in violation of this chapter, then the law enforcement officer directing the impoundment and the government employing the officer are not liable for damages if the officer relied in good faith and without gross negligence on the records of the department in ascertaining that the operator of the vehicle had a suspended or revoked driver's license. If any judgment entered is not paid within fifteen days of notice in writing of its entry, the court shall award reasonable attorneys’ fees and costs against the defendant in any action to enforce the judgment. Notice of entry of judgment may be made by registered or certified mail, and proof of mailing may be made by affidavit of the party mailing the notice. Notice of the entry of the judgment shall read essentially as follows:

TO: . . . .

YOU ARE HEREBY NOTIFIED JUDGMENT was entered against you in the . . . . Court located at . . . . in the sum of $ . . . . in an action entitled . . . ., Case No. . . . . YOU ARE FURTHER NOTIFIED that attorneys fees and costs will be awarded against you under RCW . . . . if the judgment is not paid within 15 days of the date of this notice.

(4) Any impounded abandoned vehicle or item of personal property registered or titled with the department that is not redeemed within fifteen days of mailing of the notice of custody and sale as required by RCW 46.55.110(2) shall be sold at public auction in accordance with all the provisions and subject to all the conditions of RCW 46.55.130. A vehicle or item of personal property registered or titled with the department may be redeemed at any time before the start of the auction upon payment of the applicable towing and storage fees."

Debate ensued.
The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the Committee on Judiciary striking amendment to Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1131.
The motion by Senator Heavey carried and the committee striking amendment was adopted.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Heavey, the following title amendment was adopted:

SECOND READING

HOUSE BILL NO. 1299, by Representatives Ballasiotes, O'Brien, Lambert, Kastama, Esser and Schual-
Berke (by request of Sentencing Guidelines Commission)

Authorizing the secretary of corrections to grant extraordinary medical releases to offenders when specified conditions are met.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Costa, the following Committee on Human Services and Corrections amendment was adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 9.94A.150 and 1996 c 199 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

No person serving a sentence imposed pursuant to this chapter and committed to the custody of the department shall leave the confines of the correctional facility or be released prior to the expiration of the sentence except as follows:
(1) Except as otherwise provided for in subsection (2) of this section, the term of the sentence of an offender committed to a correctional facility operated by the department, may be reduced by earned early release time in accordance with procedures that shall be developed and promulgated by the correctional agency having jurisdiction in which the offender is confined. The earned early release time shall be for good behavior and good performance, as determined by the correctional agency having jurisdiction. The correctional agency shall not credit the offender with earned early release credits in advance of the offender actually earning the credits. Any program established pursuant to this section shall allow an offender to earn early release credits for presentence incarceration. If an offender is transferred from a county jail to the department of corrections, the county jail facility shall certify to the department the amount of time spent in custody at the facility and the amount of earned early release time. In the case of an offender who has been convicted of a felony committed after July 23, 1995, that involves any applicable deadly weapon enhancements under RCW 9.94A.310 (3) or (4), or both, shall not receive any good time credits or earned early release time for that portion of his or her sentence that results from any deadly weapon enhancements. In the case of an offender convicted of a serious violent offense or a sex offense that is a class A felony committed on or after July 1, 1990, the aggregate earned early release time may not exceed fifteen percent of the sentence. In no other case shall the aggregate earned early release time exceed one-third of the total sentence;

(2) A person convicted of a sex offense or an offense categorized as a serious violent offense, assault in the second degree, vehicular homicide, vehicular assault, assault of a child in the second degree, any crime against a person where it is determined in accordance with RCW 9.94A.125 that the defendant or an accomplice was armed with a deadly weapon at the time of commission, or any felony offense under chapter 69.50 or 69.52 RCW may become eligible, in accordance with a program developed by the department, for transfer to community custody status in lieu of earned early release time pursuant to subsection (1) of this section;

(3) An offender may leave a correctional facility pursuant to an authorized furlough or leave of absence. In addition, offenders may leave a correctional facility when in the custody of a corrections officer or officers;

(4)(a) The secretary of corrections may authorize an extraordinary medical placement for an offender when all of the following conditions exist:

   (i) The offender has a medical condition that is serious enough to require costly care or treatment;

   (ii) The offender poses a low risk to the community because he or she is physically incapacitated due to age or the medical condition; and

   (iii) Granting the extraordinary medical placement will result in a cost savings to the state.

(b) An offender sentenced to death or to life imprisonment without the possibility of release or parole is not eligible for an extraordinary medical placement under this subsection.

(c) The secretary shall require electronic monitoring for all offenders in extraordinary medical placement unless the electronic monitoring equipment interferes with the function of the offender’s medical equipment or results in the loss of funding for the offender’s medical care. The secretary shall specify who shall provide the monitoring services and the terms under which the monitoring shall be performed.

(d) The secretary may revoke an extraordinary medical placement under this subsection at any time.

(5) The governor, upon recommendation from the clemency and pardons board, may grant an extraordinary release for reasons of serious health problems, senility, advanced age, extraordinary meritorious acts, or other extraordinary circumstances:

   (i) The governor may pardon any offender;

   (ii) The department of corrections may release an offender from confinement any time within ten days before a release date calculated under this section; and

   (iii) An offender may leave a correctional facility prior to completion of his or her sentence if the sentence has been reduced as provided in RCW 9.94A.160.

Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section, an offender sentenced for a felony crime listed in RCW 9.94A.120(4) as subject to a mandatory minimum sentence of total confinement shall not be released from total confinement before the completion of the listed mandatory minimum sentence for that felony crime of conviction unless allowed under RCW 9.94A.120(4).

Sec. 2. RCW 9.94A.120 and 1998 c 260 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

When a person is convicted of a felony, the court shall impose punishment as provided in this section.

(1) Except as authorized in subsections (2), (4), (5), (6), and (8) of this section, the court shall impose a sentence within the sentence range for the offense.

(2) The court may impose a sentence outside the standard sentence range for that offense if it finds, considering the purpose of this chapter, that there are substantial and compelling reasons justifying an exceptional sentence.
(3) Whenever a sentence outside the standard range is imposed, the court shall set forth the reasons for its decision in written findings of fact and conclusions of law. A sentence outside the standard range shall be a determinate sentence.

(4) A persistent offender shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement for life without the possibility of parole or, when authorized by RCW 10.95.030 for the crime of aggravated murder in the first degree, sentenced to death, notwithstanding the maximum sentence under any other law. An offender convicted of the crime of murder in the first degree shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than twenty years. An offender convicted of the crime of assault in the first degree or assault of a child in the first degree where the offender used force or means likely to result in death or intended to kill the victim shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than five years. An offender convicted of the crime of rape in the first degree shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than five years. The foregoing minimum terms of total confinement are mandatory and shall not be varied or modified as provided in subsection (2) of this section. In addition, all offenders subject to the provisions of this subsection shall not be eligible for community custody, earned early release time, furlough, home detention, partial confinement, work crew, work release, or any other form of early release as defined under RCW 9.94A.150 (1), (2), (3), (5), (7), or (8), or any other form of authorized leave of absence from the correctional facility while not in the direct custody of a corrections officer or officers during such minimum terms of total confinement except: (a) In the case of an offender in need of emergency medical treatment (\(a\)): (b) for the purpose of commitment to an inpatient treatment facility in the case of an offender convicted of the crime of rape in the first degree; or (c) for an extraordinary medical placement when authorized under RCW 9.94A.150(4).

(5) In sentencing a first-time offender the court may waive the imposition of a sentence within the sentence range and impose a sentence which may include up to ninety days of confinement in a facility operated or utilized under contract by the county and a requirement that the offender refrain from committing new offenses. The sentence may also include up to two years of community supervision, which, in addition to crime-related prohibitions, may include requirements that the offender perform any one or more of the following:

(a) Devote time to a specific employment or occupation;
(b) Undergo available outpatient treatment for up to two years, or inpatient treatment not to exceed the standard range of confinement for that offense;
(c) Pursue a prescribed, secular course of study or vocational training;
(d) Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the community corrections officer prior to any change in the offender's address or employment;
(e) Report as directed to the court and a community corrections officer; or
(f) Pay all court-ordered legal financial obligations as provided in RCW 9.94A.030 and/or perform community service work.

(6)(a) An offender is eligible for the special drug offender sentencing alternative if:

(i) The offender is convicted of the manufacture, delivery, or possession with intent to manufacture or deliver a controlled substance classified in Schedule I or II that is a narcotic drug or a felony that is, under chapter 9A.28 RCW or RCW 69.50.407, a criminal attempt, criminal solicitation, or criminal conspiracy to commit such crimes, and the violation does not involve a sentence enhancement under RCW 9.94A.310 (3) or (4);
(ii) The offender has no prior convictions for a felony in this state, another state, or the United States; and
(iii) The offense involved only a small quantity of the particular controlled substance as determined by the judge upon consideration of such factors as the weight, purity, packaging, sale price, and street value of the controlled substance.

(b) If the midpoint of the standard range is greater than one year and the sentencing judge determines that the offender is eligible for this option and that the offender and the community will benefit from the use of the special drug offender sentencing alternative, the judge may waive imposition of a sentence within the standard range and impose a sentence that must include a period of total confinement in a state facility for one-half of the midpoint of the standard range. During incarceration in the state facility, offenders sentenced under this subsection shall undergo a comprehensive substance abuse assessment and receive, within available resources, treatment services appropriate for the offender. The treatment services shall be designed by the division of alcohol and substance abuse of the department of social and health services, in cooperation with the department of corrections. If the midpoint of the standard range is twenty-four months or less, no more than three months of the sentence may be served in a work release status. The court shall also impose one year of concurrent community custody and community supervision that must include appropriate outpatient substance abuse treatment, crime-related prohibitions including a condition not to use illegal controlled substances, and a requirement to submit to urinalysis or other testing to monitor that status. The court may require that the monitoring for controlled substances be conducted by the department or by a treatment alternatives to street crime program or a comparable court or agency-referred program. The offender may be required to pay thirty dollars per month while on community custody to offset the cost of monitoring. In addition, the court shall impose three or more of the following conditions:

(i) Devote time to a specific employment or training;
(ii) Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the community corrections officer before any change in the offender's address or employment;
(iii) Report as directed to a community corrections officer;
(iv) Pay all court-ordered legal financial obligations;
(v) Perform community service work;
(vi) Stay out of areas designated by the sentencing judge.

(c) If the offender violates any of the sentence conditions in (b) of this subsection, the department shall impose sanctions administratively, with notice to the prosecuting attorney and the sentencing court. Upon motion of the court or the prosecuting attorney, a violation hearing shall be held by the court. If the court finds that conditions have been willfully violated, the court may impose confinement consisting of up to the remaining one-half of the midpoint of the standard range. All total confinement served during the period of community custody shall be credited to the offender, regardless of whether the total confinement is served as a result of the original sentence, as a result of a sanction imposed by the department, or as a result of a violation found by the court. The term of community supervision shall be tolled by any period of time served in total confinement as a result of a violation found by the court.

(d) The department shall determine the rules for calculating the value of a day fine based on the offender's income and reasonable obligations which the offender has for the support of the offender and any dependents. These rules shall be developed in consultation with the administrator for the courts, the office of financial management, and the commission.

(7) If a sentence range has not been established for the defendant's crime, the court shall impose a determinate sentence which may include not more than one year of confinement, community service work, a term of community supervision not to exceed one year, and/or other legal financial obligations. The court may impose a sentence which provides more than one year of confinement if the court finds, considering the purpose of this chapter, that there are substantial and compelling reasons justifying an exceptional sentence.

(B) When an offender is convicted of a sex offense other than a violation of RCW 9A.44.050 or a sex offense that is also a serious violent offense and has no prior convictions for a sex offense or any other felony sex offenses in this or any other state, the sentencing court, on its own motion or the motion of the state or the defendant, may order an examination to determine whether the defendant is amenable to treatment.

The report of the examination shall include at a minimum the following: The defendant's version of the facts and the official version of the facts, the defendant's offense history, an assessment of problems in addition to alleged deviant behaviors, the offender's social and employment situation, and other evaluation measures used. The report shall set forth the sources of the evaluator's information.

The examiner shall assess and report regarding the defendant's amenability to treatment and relative risk to the community. A proposed treatment plan shall be provided and shall include, at a minimum:

(A) Frequency and type of contact between offender and therapist;
(B) Specific issues to be addressed in the treatment and description of planned treatment modalities;
(C) Monitoring plans, including any requirements regarding living conditions, lifestyle requirements, and monitoring by family members and others;
(D) Anticipated length of treatment; and
(E) Recommended crime-related prohibitions.

The court on its own motion may order, or on a motion by the state shall order, a second examination regarding the offender's amenability to treatment. The evaluator shall be selected by the party making the motion. The defendant shall pay the cost of any second examination ordered unless the court finds the defendant to be indigent in which case the state shall pay the cost.

(ii) After receipt of the reports, the court shall consider whether the offender and the community will benefit from use of this special sex offender sentencing alternative and consider the victim's opinion whether the offender should receive a treatment disposition under this subsection. If the court determines that this special sex offender sentencing alternative is appropriate, the court shall then impose a sentence within the sentence range. If this sentence is less than eleven years of confinement, the court may suspend the execution of the sentence and impose the following conditions of suspension:

(A) The court shall place the defendant on community custody for the length of the suspended sentence or three years, whichever is greater, and require the offender to comply with any conditions imposed by the department of corrections under subsection (14) of this section;

(B) The court shall order treatment for any period up to three years in duration. The court in its discretion shall order outpatient sex offender treatment or inpatient sex offender treatment, if available. A community mental health center may not be used for such treatment unless it has an appropriate program designed for sex offender treatment. The offender shall not change sex offender treatment providers or treatment conditions without first notifying the prosecutor, the community corrections officer, and the court, and shall not change providers without court approval after a hearing if the prosecutor or community corrections officer object to the change. In addition, as conditions of the suspended sentence, the court may impose other sentence conditions including up to six months of confinement, not to exceed the sentence range of confinement for that offense, crime-related prohibitions, and requirements that the offender perform any one or more of the following:

(I) Devote time to a specific employment or occupation;

(II) Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the community corrections officer prior to any change in the offender's address or employment;

(III) Report as directed to the court and a community corrections officer;

(IV) Pay all court-ordered legal financial obligations as provided in RCW 9.94A.030, perform community service work, or any combination thereof; or

(V) Make recoupment to the victim for the cost of any counseling required as a result of the offender's crime; and

(C) Sex offenders sentenced under this special sex offender sentencing alternative are not eligible to accrue any earned early release time while serving a suspended sentence.

(iii) The sex offender therapist shall submit quarterly reports on the defendant's progress in treatment to the court and the parties. The report shall reference the treatment plan and include at a minimum the following: Dates of attendance, defendant's compliance with requirements, treatment activities, the defendant's relative progress in treatment, and any other material as specified by the court at sentencing.

(iv) At the time of sentencing, the court shall set a treatment termination hearing for three months prior to the anticipated date for completion of treatment. Prior to the treatment termination hearing, the treatment professional and community corrections officer shall submit written reports to the court and parties regarding the defendant's compliance with treatment and monitoring requirements, and recommendations regarding termination from treatment, including proposed community supervision conditions. Either party may request and the court may order another evaluation regarding the advisability of termination from treatment. The defendant shall pay the cost of any additional evaluation ordered unless the court finds the defendant to be indigent in which case the state shall pay the cost. At the treatment termination hearing the court may: (A) Modify conditions of community custody, and either (B) terminate treatment, or (C) extend treatment for up to the remaining period of community custody.

(v) If a violation of conditions occurs during community custody, the department shall either impose sanctions as provided for in RCW 9.94A.205(2)(a) or refer the violation to the court and recommend revocation of the suspended sentence as provided for in (a)(vi) of this subsection.

(vi) The court may revoke the suspended sentence at any time during the period of community custody and order execution of the sentence if: (A) The defendant violates the conditions of the suspended sentence, or (B) the court finds that the defendant is failing to make satisfactory progress in treatment. All confinement time served during the period of community custody shall be credited to the offender if the suspended sentence is revoked.

(vii) Except as provided in (a)(viii) of this subsection, after July 1, 1991, examinations and treatment ordered pursuant to this subsection shall only be conducted by sex offender treatment providers certified by the department of health pursuant to chapter 18.155 RCW.

(viii) A sex offender therapist who examines or treats a sex offender pursuant to this subsection (8) does not have to be certified by the department of health pursuant to chapter 18.155 RCW if the court finds that: (A) The offender has already moved to another state or plans to move to another state for reasons other than circumventing the certification requirements; (B) no certified providers are available for treatment within a reasonable geographical distance of the offender's home; and (C) the evaluation and treatment plan comply with this subsection (8) and the rules adopted by the department of health.

(ix) For purposes of this subsection (8), "victim" means any person who has sustained emotional, psychological, physical, or financial injury to person or property as a result of the crime charged. "Victim also means a parent or guardian of a victim who is a minor child unless the parent or guardian is the perpetrator of the offense.

(x) If the defendant was less than eighteen years of age when the charge was filed, the state shall pay for the cost of initial evaluation and treatment.

(b) When an offender commits any felony sex offense on or after July 1, 1987, and is sentenced to a term of confinement of more than one year but less than six years, the sentencing court may, on its own motion or on the motion of the offender or the state, request the department of corrections to evaluate whether the offender is amenable to treatment and the department may place the offender in a treatment program within a correctional facility operated by the department.

Except for an offender who has been convicted of a violation of RCW 9A.44.040 or 9A.44.050, if the offender completes the treatment program before the expiration of his or her term of confinement, the department of corrections may request the court to convert the balance of confinement to community supervision and to place conditions on the offender including crime-related prohibitions and requirements that the offender perform any one or more of the following:

(i) Devote time to a specific employment or occupation;

(ii) Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the community corrections officer prior to any change in the offender's address or employment;
(iii) Report as directed to the court and a community corrections officer;
(iv) Undergo available outpatient treatment.
If the offender violates any of the terms of his or her community supervision, the court may order the offender to serve out the balance of his or her community supervision term in confinement in the custody of the department of corrections.

Nothing in this subsection (8)(b) shall confer eligibility for such programs for offenders convicted and sentenced for a sex offense committed prior to July 1, 1987. This subsection (8)(b) does not apply to any crime committed after July 1, 1990.

(c) Offenders convicted and sentenced for a sex offense committed prior to July 1, 1987, may, subject to available funds, request an evaluation by the department of corrections to determine whether they are amenable to treatment. If the offender is determined to be amenable to treatment, the offender may request placement in a treatment program within a correctional facility operated by the department. Placement in such treatment program is subject to available funds.

(9)(a) When a court sentences a person to a term of total confinement to the custody of the department of corrections for an offense categorized as a sex offense or a serious violent offense committed after July 1, 1988, but before July 1, 1990, assault in the second degree, assault of a child in the second degree, any crime against a person where it is determined in accordance with RCW 9.94A.125 that the defendant or an accomplice was armed with a deadly weapon at the time of commission, or any felony offense under chapter 69.50 or 69.52 RCW not sentenced under subsection (6) of this section, committed on or after July 1, 1988, the court shall in addition to the other terms of the sentence, sentence the offender to a one-year term of community placement beginning either upon completion of the term of confinement or at such time as the offender is transferred to community custody in lieu of earned early release in accordance with RCW 9.94A.150 (1) and (2). When the court sentences an offender under this subsection to the statutory maximum period of confinement then the community placement portion of the sentence shall consist entirely of such community custody to which the offender may become eligible, in accordance with RCW 9.94A.150 (1) and (2). Any period of community custody actually served shall be credited against the community placement portion of the sentence.

(c) Offenders convicted and sentenced for a sex offense committed prior to July 1, 1987, may, subject to available funds, request an evaluation by the department of corrections to determine whether they are amenable to treatment.

(b) When a court sentences a person to a term of total confinement to the custody of the department of corrections for an offense categorized as a sex offense or a serious violent offense committed on or after July 1, 1990, but before June 6, 1996, a serious violent offense, vehicular homicide, or vehicular assault, committed on or after July 1, 1990, the court shall in addition to other terms of the sentence, sentence the offender to community placement for two years or up to the period of earned early release awarded pursuant to RCW 9.94A.150 (1) and (2), whichever is longer. The community placement shall begin either upon completion of the term of confinement or at such time as the offender is transferred to community custody in lieu of earned early release in accordance with RCW 9.94A.150 (1) and (2). When the court sentences an offender under this subsection to the statutory maximum period of confinement then the community placement portion of the sentence shall consist entirely of the community custody to which the offender may become eligible, in accordance with RCW 9.94A.150 (1) and (2). Any period of community custody actually served shall be credited against the community placement portion of the sentence.

The court, the terms of community placement for offenders sentenced pursuant to this section shall include the following conditions:

(i) The offender shall report to and be available for contact with the assigned community corrections officer as directed;
(ii) The offender shall work at department of corrections-approved education, employment, and/or community service;
(iii) The offender shall not possess or consume controlled substances except pursuant to lawfully issued prescriptions;
(iv) The offender shall pay supervision fees as determined by the department of corrections;
(v) The residence location and living arrangements are subject to the prior approval of the department of corrections;
(vi) The offender shall submit to affirmative acts necessary to monitor compliance with the orders of the court as required by the department.

(c) As a part of any sentence imposed under (a) or (b) of this subsection, the court may also order any of the following special conditions:
(i) The offender shall remain within, or outside of, a specified geographical boundary;
(ii) The offender shall not have direct or indirect contact with the victim of the crime or a specified class of individuals;
(iii) The offender shall participate in crime-related treatment or counseling services;
(iv) The offender shall not consume alcohol;
(v) The offender shall comply with any crime-related prohibitions; or
(vi) For an offender convicted of a felony sex offense against a minor victim after June 6, 1996, the offender shall comply with any terms and conditions of community placement imposed by the department of corrections relating to contact between the sex offender and a minor victim or a child of similar age or circumstance as a previous victim.

(d) Prior to transfer to, or during, community placement, any conditions of community placement may be removed or modified so as not to be more restrictive by the sentencing court, upon recommendation of the department of corrections.

(10)(a) When a court sentences a person to the custody of the department of corrections for an offense categorized as a sex offense committed on or after June 6, 1996, the court shall, in addition to other terms of the sentence, sentence the offender to community custody for three years or up to the period of earned early release awarded pursuant to RCW 9.94A.150 (1) and (2), whichever is longer. The community custody shall begin either upon completion of the term of confinement or at such time as the offender is transferred to community custody in lieu of earned early release in accordance with RCW 9.94A.150 (1) and (2).

(b) Unless a condition is waived by the court, the terms of community custody shall be the same as those provided for in subsection (9)(b) of this section and may include those provided for in subsection (9)(c) of this section. As part of any sentence that includes a term of community custody imposed under this subsection, the court shall also require the offender to comply with any conditions imposed by the department of corrections under subsection (14) of this section.

(c) At any time prior to the completion of a sex offender's term of community custody, if the court finds that public safety would be enhanced, the court may impose and enforce an order extending any or all of the conditions imposed pursuant to this section for a period up to the maximum allowable sentence for the crime as it is classified in chapter 9A.20 RCW, regardless of the expiration of the offender's term of community custody. If a violation of a condition extended under this subsection occurs after the expiration of the offender's term of community custody, it shall be deemed a violation of the sentence for the purposes of RCW 9.94A.195 and may be punishable as contempt of court as provided for in RCW 7.21.040.

(11) If the court imposes a sentence requiring confinement of thirty days or less, the court may, in its discretion, specify that the sentence be served on consecutive or intermittent days. A sentence requiring more than thirty days of confinement shall be served on consecutive days. Local jail administrators may schedule court-ordered intermittent sentences as space permits.

(12) If a sentence imposed includes payment of a legal financial obligation, the sentence shall specify the total amount of the legal financial obligation owed, and shall require the offender to pay a specified monthly sum toward that legal financial obligation. Restitution to victims shall be paid prior to any other payments of monetary obligations. Any legal financial obligation that is imposed by the court may be collected by the department, which shall deliver the amount paid to the county clerk for credit. The offender's compliance with payment of legal financial obligations shall be supervised by the department for ten years following the entry of the judgment and sentence or ten years following the offender's release from total confinement. All monetary payments ordered shall be paid no later than ten years after the last date of release from confinement pursuant to a felony conviction or the date the sentence was entered unless the superior court extends the criminal judgment an additional ten years. If the legal financial obligations including crime victims' assessments are not paid during the initial ten-year period, the superior court may extend jurisdiction under the criminal judgment an additional ten years as provided in RCW 9.94A.140, 9.94A.142, and 9.94A.145. If jurisdiction under the criminal judgment is extended, the department is not responsible for supervision of the offender during the subsequent period. Independent of the department, the party or entity to whom the legal financial obligation is owed shall have the authority to utilize any other remedies available to the party or entity to collect the legal financial obligation. Nothing in this section makes the department, the state, or any of its employees, agents, or other persons acting on their behalf liable under any circumstances for the payment of these legal financial obligations. If an order includes restitution as one of the monetary assessments, the county clerk shall make disbursements to victims named in the order.

(13) Except as provided under RCW 9.94A.140(1) and 9.94A.142(1), a court may not impose a sentence providing for a term of confinement or community supervision or community placement which exceeds the statutory maximum for the crime as provided in chapter 9A.20 RCW.

(14) All offenders sentenced to terms involving community supervision, community service, community placement, or legal financial obligation shall be under the supervision of the department of corrections and shall follow explicitly the instructions and conditions of the department of corrections. The department may require an offender to perform affirmative acts it deems appropriate to monitor compliance with the conditions of the sentence imposed.

(a) The instructions shall include, at a minimum, reporting as directed to a community corrections officer, remaining within prescribed geographical boundaries, notifying the community corrections officer of any change in the offender's address or employment, and paying the supervision fee assessment.

(b) For offenders sentenced to terms involving community custody for crimes committed on or after June 6, 1996, the department may include, in addition to the instructions in (a) of this subsection, any appropriate conditions of supervision, including but not limited to, prohibiting the offender from having contact with any other specified individuals or specific class of individuals. The conditions authorized under this subsection (14)(b) may be imposed by the department prior to or during an offender's community custody term. If a violation of conditions imposed by the court or the department pursuant to subsection (10) of this section occurs during community custody, it shall be deemed a violation of community placement for the purposes of RCW 9.94A.207 and shall authorize the department to transfer an offender to a more restrictive confinement status as provided in RCW 9.94A.205. At any time prior to the completion of a sex offender's term of community custody, the department may recommend to the court that any or all of the conditions imposed by the court or the department pursuant to subsection (10) of this section be continued beyond the expiration of the offender's term of community custody as authorized in subsection (10)(c) of this section.
The department may require offenders to pay for special services rendered on or after July 25, 1993, including electronic monitoring, day reporting, and telephone reporting, dependent upon the offender's ability to pay. The department may pay for these services for offenders who are not able to pay.

(15) All offenders sentenced to terms involving community supervision, community service, or community placement under the supervision of the department of corrections shall not own, use, or possess firearms or ammunition. Offenders who own, use, or are found to be in actual or constructive possession of firearms or ammunition shall be subject to the appropriate violation process and sanctions. "Constructive possession" as used in this subsection means the power and intent to control the firearm or ammunition. "Firearm" as used in this subsection means a weapon or device from which a projectile may be fired by an explosive such as gunpowder.

(16) The sentencing court shall give the offender credit for all confinement time served before the sentencing if that confinement was solely in regard to the offense for which the offender is being sentenced.

(17) A departure from the standards in RCW 9.94A.400 (1) and (2) governing whether sentences are to be served consecutively or concurrently is an exceptional sentence subject to the limitations in subsections (2) and (3) of this section, and may be appealed by the defendant or the state as set forth in RCW 9.94A.210 (2) through (6).

(18) The court shall order restitution whenever the offender is convicted of a felony that results in injury to any person or damage to or loss of property, whether the offender is sentenced to confinement or placed under community supervision, unless extraordinary circumstances exist that make restitution inappropriate in the court's judgment. The court shall set forth the extraordinary circumstances in the record if it does not order restitution.

(19) As a part of any sentence, the court may impose and enforce an order that relates directly to the circumstances of the crime for which the offender has been convicted, prohibiting the offender from having any contact with other specified individuals or a specific class of individuals for a period not to exceed the maximum allowable sentence for the crime, regardless of the expiration of the offender's term of community supervision or community placement.

(20) The court may order an offender whose sentence includes community placement or community supervision to undergo a mental status evaluation and to participate in available outpatient mental health treatment, if the court finds that reasonable grounds exist to believe that the offender is a mentally ill person as defined in RCW 71.24.025, and that this condition is likely to have influenced the offense. An order requiring mental status evaluation or treatment must be based on a presentence report and, if applicable, mental status evaluations that have been filed with the court to determine the offender's competency or eligibility for a defense of insanity. The court may order additional evaluations at a later date if deemed appropriate.

(21) In any sentence of partial confinement, the court may require the defendant to serve the partial confinement in work release, in a program of home detention, on work crew, or in a combined program of work crew and home detention.

(22) All court-ordered legal financial obligations collected by the department and remitted to the county clerk shall be credited and paid where restitution is ordered. Restitution shall be paid prior to any other payments of monetary obligations.

Sec. 3. RCW 9.94A.310 and 1998 c 235 s 1 and 1998 c 211 s 3 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

NOTE: Numbers in the first horizontal row of each seriousness category represent sentencing midpoints in years(y) and months(m). Numbers in the second and third rows represent presumptive sentencing ranges in months, or in days if so designated. 12+ equals one year and one day.

(2) For persons convicted of the anticipatory offenses of criminal attempt, solicitation, or conspiracy under chapter 9A.28 RCW, the presumptive sentence is determined by locating the sentencing grid sentence range defined by the appropriate offender score and the seriousness level of the completed crime, and multiplying the range by 75 percent.

(3) The following additional times shall be added to the presumptive sentence for felony crimes committed after July 23, 1995, if the offender or an accomplice was armed with a firearm as defined in RCW 9.41.010 and the offender is being sentenced for one of the crimes listed in this subsection as eligible for any firearm enhancements based on the classification of the completed felony crime. If the offender is being sentenced for more than one offense, the firearm enhancement or enhancements must be added to the total period of confinement for all offenses, regardless of which underlying offense is subject to a firearm enhancement. If the offender or an accomplice was armed with a firearm as defined in RCW 9.41.010 and the offender is being sentenced for an anticipatory offense under chapter 9A.28 RCW to commit one of the crimes listed in this subsection as eligible for any firearm enhancements, the following additional times shall be added to the presumptive sentence determined under subsection (2) of this section based on the felony crime of conviction as classified under RCW 9A.28.020:

(a) Five years for any felony defined under any law as a class A felony or with a maximum sentence of at least twenty years, or both, and not covered under (f) of this subsection.

(b) Three years for any felony defined under any law as a class B felony or with a maximum sentence of ten years, or both, and not covered under (f) of this subsection.

(c) Eighteen months for any felony defined under any law as a class C felony or with a maximum sentence of five years, or both, and not covered under (f) of this subsection.

(d) If the offender is being sentenced for any firearm enhancements under (a), (b), and/or (c) of this subsection and the offender has previously been sentenced for any deadly weapon enhancements after July 23, 1995, under (a), (b), and/or (c) of this subsection or subsection (4)(a), (b), and/or (c) of this section, or both, any and all firearm enhancements under this subsection shall be twice the amount of the enhancement listed.

(e) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any and all firearm enhancements under this section are mandatory, shall be served in total confinement, and shall run consecutively to all other sentencing provisions, including other firearm or deadly weapon enhancements, for all offenses sentenced under this chapter. However, whether or not a mandatory minimum term has expired, an offender serving a sentence under this subsection may be granted an extraordinary medical placement when authorized under RCW 9.94A.150(4).

(f) The firearm enhancements in this section shall apply to all felony crimes except the following: Possession of a machine gun, possessing a stolen firearm, drive-by shooting, theft of a firearm, unlawful possession of a firearm in the first and second degree, and use of a machine gun in a felony.

(g) If the presumptive sentence under this section exceeds the statutory maximum for the offense, the statutory maximum sentence shall be the presumptive sentence unless the offender is a persistent offender as defined in RCW 9.94A.030. If the addition of a firearm enhancement increases the sentence so that it would exceed the statutory maximum for the offense, the portion of the sentence representing the enhancement may not be reduced.

(4) The following additional times shall be added to the presumptive sentence for felony crimes committed after July 23, 1995, if the offender or an accomplice was armed with a deadly weapon as defined in this chapter other than a firearm as defined in RCW 9.41.010 and the offender is being sentenced for one of the crimes listed in this subsection as eligible for any deadly weapon enhancements based on the classification of the completed felony crime. If the offender is being sentenced for more than one offense, the deadly weapon enhancement or enhancements must be added to the total period of confinement for all offenses, regardless of which underlying offense is subject to a deadly weapon enhancement. If the offender or an accomplice was armed with a deadly weapon other than a firearm as defined in RCW 9.41.010 and the offender is being sentenced for an anticipatory offense under chapter 9A.28 RCW to commit one of the crimes listed in this subsection as eligible for any deadly weapon enhancements, the following additional times shall be added to the presumptive sentence determined under subsection (2) of this section based on the felony crime of conviction as classified under RCW 9A.28.020:

(a) Two years for any felony defined under any law as a class A felony or with a maximum sentence of at least twenty years, or both, and not covered under (f) of this subsection.
(b) One year for any felony defined under any law as a class B felony or with a maximum sentence of ten years, or both, and not covered under (f) of this subsection.

(c) Six months for any felony defined under any law as a class C felony or with a maximum sentence of five years, or both, and not covered under (f) of this subsection.

(d) If the offender is being sentenced under (a), (b), and/or (c) of this subsection for any deadly weapon enhancements and the offender has previously been sentenced for any deadly weapon enhancements after July 23, 1995, under (a), (b), and/or (c) of this subsection or subsection (3)(a), (b), and/or (c) of this section, or both, any and all deadly weapon enhancements under this subsection shall be twice the amount of the enhancement listed.

(e) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any and all deadly weapon enhancements under this section are mandatory, shall be served in total confinement, and shall run consecutively to all other sentencing provisions, including other firearm or deadly weapon enhancements, for all offenses sentenced under this chapter. However, whether or not a mandatory minimum term has expired, an offender serving a sentence under this subsection may be granted an extraordinary medical placement when authorized under RCW 9.94A.150(4).

(f) The deadly weapon enhancements in this section shall apply to all felony crimes except the following: Possession of a machine gun, possessing a stolen firearm, drive-by shooting, theft of a firearm, unlawful possession of a firearm in the first and second degree, and use of a machine gun in a felony.

(g) If the presumptive sentence under this section exceeds the statutory maximum for the offense, the statutory maximum sentence shall be the presumptive sentence unless the offender is a persistent offender as defined in RCW 9.94A.030. If the addition of a deadly weapon enhancement increases the sentence so that it would exceed the statutory maximum for the offense, the portion of the sentence representing the enhancement may not be reduced.

(5) The following additional times shall be added to the presumptive sentence if the offender or an accomplice committed the offense while in a county jail or state correctional facility as that term is defined in this chapter and the offender is being sentenced for one of the crimes listed in this subsection. If the offender or an accomplice committed one of the crimes listed in this subsection while in a county jail or state correctional facility as that term is defined in this chapter, and the offender is being sentenced for an anticipatory offense under chapter 9A.28 RCW to commit one of the crimes listed in this subsection, the following additional times shall be added to the presumptive sentence determined under subsection (2) of this section:

(a) Eighteen months for offenses committed under RCW 69.50.401(a)(1) (i) or (ii) or 69.50.410;

(b) Fifteen months for offenses committed under RCW 69.50.401(a)(1) (iii), (iv), and (v);

(c) Twelve months for offenses committed under RCW 69.50.401(d).

For the purposes of this subsection, all of the real property of a state correctional facility or county jail shall be deemed to be part of that facility or county jail.

(6) An additional twenty-four months shall be added to the presumptive sentence for any ranked offense involving a violation of chapter 69.50 RCW if the offense was also a violation of RCW 69.50.435.

(7) An additional two years shall be added to the presumptive sentence for vehicular homicide committed while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug as defined by RCW 46.61.502 for each prior offense as defined in RCW 46.61.5055.

Sec. 4. RCW 9.95.040 and 1993 c 144 s 4 and 1993 c 140 s 1 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

The board shall fix the duration of confinement for persons committed by the court before July 1, 1986, for crimes committed before July 1, 1984. Within six months after the admission of the convicted person to a state correctional facility, the board shall fix the duration of confinement. The term of imprisonment so fixed shall not exceed the maximum provided by law for the offense of which the person was convicted or the maximum fixed by the court where the law does not provide for a maximum term.

Subject to RCW 9.95.047, the following limitations are placed on the board or the court for persons committed to a state correctional facility on or after July 1, 1986, for crimes committed before July 1, 1984, with regard to fixing the duration of confinement in certain cases, notwithstanding any provisions of law specifying a lesser sentence:

(1) For a person not previously convicted of a felony but armed with a deadly weapon at the time of the commission of the offense, the duration of confinement shall not be fixed at less than five years.

(2) For a person previously convicted of a felony either in this state or elsewhere and who was armed with a deadly weapon at the time of the commission of the offense, the duration of confinement shall not be fixed at less than seven and one-half years.

The words "deadly weapon," as used in this section include, but are not limited to, any instrument known as a blackjack, sling shot, billy, sand club, sandbag, metal knuckles, any dirk, dagger, pistol, revolver, or any other firearm, any knife having a blade longer than three inches, any razor with an unguarded blade, any metal pipe or bar used or intended to be used as a club, any explosive, and any weapon containing poisonous or injurious gas.
(3) For a person convicted of being an habitual criminal within the meaning of the statute which provides for mandatory life imprisonment for such habitual criminals, the duration of confinement shall not be fixed at less than fifteen years.

(4) Any person convicted of embezzling funds from any institution of public deposit of which the person was an officer or stockholder, the duration of confinement at not less than five years.

Except when an inmate of a state correctional facility has been convicted of murder in the first or second degree, the board may parole an inmate prior to the expiration of a mandatory minimum term, provided such inmate has demonstrated a meritorious effort in rehabilitation and at least two-thirds of the board members concur in such action: PROVIDED, That any inmate who has a mandatory minimum term and is paroled prior to the expiration of such term according to the provisions of this chapter shall not receive a conditional release from supervision while on parole until after the mandatory minimum term has expired.

An inmate serving a sentence fixed under this chapter, whether or not a mandatory minimum term has expired, may be granted an extraordinary medical placement by the secretary of corrections when authorized under RCW 9.94A.150(4).

Sec. 5. RCW 46.61.5055 and 1998 c 215 s 1, 1998 c 214 s 1, 1998 c 211 s 1, 1998 c 210 s 4, 1998 c 207 s 1 and 1998 c 206 s 1 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) A person who is convicted of a violation of RCW 46.61.502 or 46.61.504 and who has no prior offense within seven years shall be punished as follows:

(a) In the case of a person whose alcohol concentration was less than 0.15, or for whom for reasons other than the person's refusal to take a test offered pursuant to RCW 46.20.308 there is no test result indicating the person's alcohol concentration:

(i) By imprisonment for not less than one day nor more than one year. Twenty-four consecutive hours of the imprisonment may not be suspended or deferred unless the court finds that the imposition of this mandatory minimum sentence would impose a substantial risk to the offender's physical or mental well-being. Whenever the mandatory minimum sentence is suspended or deferred, the court shall state in writing the reason for granting the suspension or deferral and the facts upon which the suspension or deferral is based. In lieu of the mandatory minimum term of imprisonment required under this subsection (1)(a)(i), the court may order not less than fifteen days of electronic home monitoring. The offender shall pay the cost of electronic home monitoring. The county or municipality in which the penalty is being imposed shall determine the cost. The court may also require the offender's electronic home monitoring device to include an alcohol detection breathalyzer, and the court may restrict the amount of alcohol the offender may consume during the time the offender is on electronic home monitoring; and

(ii) By a fine of not less than three hundred fifty dollars nor more than five thousand dollars. Three hundred fifty dollars of the fine may not be suspended or deferred unless the court finds the offender to be indigent; and

(iii) By suspension of the offender's license or permit to drive, or suspension of any nonresident privilege to drive, for a period of ninety days. The period of license, permit, or privilege suspension may not be suspended. The court shall notify the department of licensing of the conviction, and upon receiving notification of the conviction the department shall suspend the offender's license, permit, or privilege; or

(b) In the case of a person whose alcohol concentration was at least 0.15, or for whom by reason of the person's refusal to take a test offered pursuant to RCW 46.20.308 there is no test result indicating the person's alcohol concentration:

(i) By imprisonment for not less than two days nor more than one year. Two consecutive days of the imprisonment may not be suspended or deferred unless the court finds that the imposition of this mandatory minimum sentence would impose a substantial risk to the offender's physical or mental well-being. Whenever the mandatory minimum sentence is suspended or deferred, the court shall state in writing the reason for granting the suspension or deferral and the facts upon which the suspension or deferral is based. In lieu of the mandatory minimum term of imprisonment required under this subsection (1)(b)(i), the court may order not less than thirty days of electronic home monitoring. The offender shall pay the cost of electronic home monitoring. The county or municipality in which the penalty is being imposed shall determine the cost. The court may also require the offender's electronic home monitoring device to include an alcohol detection breathalyzer, and the court may restrict the amount of alcohol the offender may consume during the time the offender is on electronic home monitoring; and

(ii) By a fine of not less than five hundred dollars nor more than five thousand dollars. Five hundred dollars of the fine may not be suspended or deferred unless the court finds the offender to be indigent; and

(iii) By revocation of the offender's license or permit to drive, or suspension of any nonresident privilege to drive, for a period of one year. The period of license, permit, or privilege suspension may not be suspended. The court shall notify the department of licensing of the conviction, and upon receiving notification of the conviction the department shall suspend the offender's license, permit, or privilege; and

(iv) By a court-ordered restriction under RCW 46.20.720.

(2) A person who is convicted of a violation of RCW 46.61.502 or 46.61.504 and who has one prior offense within seven years shall be punished as follows:
(a) In the case of a person whose alcohol concentration was less than 0.15, or for whom for reasons other than the person's refusal to take a test offered pursuant to RCW 46.20.308 there is no test result indicating the person's alcohol concentration:

(i) By imprisonment for not less than thirty days nor more than one year and sixty days of electronic home monitoring. The offender shall pay for the cost of the electronic monitoring. The county or municipality where the penalty is being imposed shall determine the cost. The court may also require the offender's electronic home monitoring device include an alcohol detection breathalyzer, and may restrict the amount of alcohol the offender may consume during the time the offender is on electronic home monitoring. Thirty days of imprisonment and sixty days of electronic home monitoring may not be suspended or deferred unless the court finds that the imposition of this mandatory minimum sentence would impose a substantial risk to the offender's physical or mental well-being. Whenever the mandatory minimum sentence is suspended or deferred, the court shall state in writing the reason for granting the suspension or deferral and the facts upon which the suspension or deferral is based; and

(ii) By a fine of not less than five hundred dollars nor more than five thousand dollars. Five hundred dollars of the fine may not be suspended or deferred unless the court finds the offender to be indigent; and

(iii) By revocation of the offender's license or permit to drive, or suspension of any nonresident privilege to drive, for a period of two years. The period of license, permit, or privilege revocation may not be suspended. The court shall notify the department of licensing of the conviction, and upon receiving notification of the conviction the department shall revoke the offender's license, permit, or privilege; and

(iv) By a court-ordered restriction under RCW 46.20.720; or

(b) In the case of a person whose alcohol concentration was at least 0.15, or for whom by reason of the person's refusal to take a test offered pursuant to RCW 46.20.308 there is no test result indicating the person's alcohol concentration:

(i) By imprisonment for not less than forty-five days nor more than one year and ninety days of electronic home monitoring. The offender shall pay for the cost of the electronic monitoring. The county or municipality where the penalty is being imposed shall determine the cost. The court may also require the offender's electronic home monitoring device include an alcohol detection breathalyzer, and may restrict the amount of alcohol the offender may consume during the time the offender is on electronic home monitoring. Forty-five days of imprisonment and ninety days of electronic home monitoring may not be suspended or deferred unless the court finds that the imposition of this mandatory minimum sentence would impose a substantial risk to the offender's physical or mental well-being. Whenever the mandatory minimum sentence is suspended or deferred, the court shall state in writing the reason for granting the suspension or deferral and the facts upon which the suspension or deferral is based; and

(ii) By a fine of not less than seven hundred fifty dollars nor more than five thousand dollars. Seven hundred fifty dollars of the fine may not be suspended or deferred unless the court finds the offender to be indigent; and

(iii) By revocation of the offender's license or permit to drive, or suspension of any nonresident privilege to drive, for a period of nine hundred days. The period of license, permit, or privilege revocation may not be suspended. The court shall notify the department of licensing of the conviction, and upon receiving notification of the conviction the department shall revoke the offender's license, permit, or privilege; and

(iv) By a court-ordered restriction under RCW 46.20.720.

3. A person who is convicted of a violation of RCW 46.61.502 or 46.61.504 and who has two or more prior offenses within seven years shall be punished as follows:

(a) In the case of a person whose alcohol concentration was less than 0.15, or for whom for reasons other than the person's refusal to take a test offered pursuant to RCW 46.20.308 there is no test result indicating the person's alcohol concentration:

(i) By imprisonment for not less than ninety days nor more than one year and one hundred twenty days of electronic home monitoring. The offender shall pay for the cost of the electronic monitoring. The county or municipality where the penalty is being imposed shall determine the cost. The court may also require the offender's electronic home monitoring device include an alcohol detection breathalyzer, and may restrict the amount of alcohol the offender may consume during the time the offender is on electronic home monitoring. Ninety days of imprisonment and one hundred twenty days of electronic home monitoring may not be suspended or deferred unless the court finds that the imposition of this mandatory minimum sentence would impose a substantial risk to the offender's physical or mental well-being. Whenever the mandatory minimum sentence is suspended or deferred, the court shall state in writing the reason for granting the suspension or deferral and the facts upon which the suspension or deferral is based; and

(ii) By a fine of not less than one thousand dollars nor more than five thousand dollars. One thousand dollars of the fine may not be suspended or deferred unless the court finds the offender to be indigent; and

(iii) By revocation of the offender's license or permit to drive, or suspension of any nonresident privilege to drive, for a period of three years. The period of license, permit, or privilege revocation may not be suspended. The court shall notify the department of licensing of the conviction, and upon receiving notification of the conviction the department shall revoke the offender's license, permit, or privilege; and

(iv) By a court-ordered restriction under RCW 46.20.720; or

(b) In the case of a person whose alcohol concentration was at least 0.15, or for whom by reason of the person's refusal to take a test offered pursuant to RCW 46.20.308 there is no test result indicating the person's alcohol concentration:

(i) By imprisonment for not less than one hundred twenty days nor more than one year and one hundred fifty days of electronic home monitoring. The offender shall pay for the cost of the electronic monitoring. The county or municipality where the penalty is being imposed shall determine the cost. The court may also require the offender's electronic home monitoring device include an alcohol detection breathalyzer, and may restrict the amount of alcohol the offender may consume during the time the offender is on electronic home monitoring. One hundred twenty days of imprisonment and one hundred fifty days of electronic home monitoring may not be suspended or deferred unless the court finds that the imposition of this mandatory minimum sentence would impose a substantial risk to the offender's physical or mental well-being. Whenever the mandatory minimum sentence is suspended or deferred, the court shall state in writing the reason for granting the suspension or deferral and the facts upon which the suspension or deferral is based; and

(ii) By a fine of not less than one thousand five hundred dollars nor more than five thousand dollars. One thousand five hundred dollars of the fine may not be suspended or deferred unless the court finds the offender to be indigent; and

(iii) By revocation of the offender's license or permit to drive, or suspension of any nonresident privilege to drive, for a period of four years. The period of license, permit, or privilege revocation may not be suspended. The court shall notify the department of licensing of the conviction, and upon receiving notification of the conviction the department shall revoke the offender's license, permit, or privilege; and

(iv) By a court-ordered restriction under RCW 46.20.720.

(4) In exercising its discretion in setting penalties within the limits allowed by this section, the court shall particularly consider the following:

(a) Whether the person's driving at the time of the offense was responsible for injury or damage to another or another's property; and

(b) Whether the person was driving or in physical control of a vehicle with one or more passengers at the time of the offense.

(5) An offender punishable under this section is subject to the alcohol assessment and treatment provisions of RCW 46.61.5056.

(6) After expiration of any period of suspension or revocation of the offender's license, permit, or privilege to drive required by this section, the department shall place the offender's driving privilege in probationary status pursuant to RCW 46.20.355.

(7)(a) In addition to any nonsuspendable and nondeferrable jail sentence required by this section, whenever the court imposes less than one year in jail, the court shall also suspend but shall not defer a period of confinement for a period not exceeding five years. The court shall impose conditions of probation that include: (i) Not driving a motor vehicle within this state without a valid license to drive and proof of financial responsibility for the future; (ii) not driving a motor vehicle within this state while having an alcohol concentration of 0.08 or more within two hours after driving; and (iii) not refusing to submit to a test of his or her breath or blood to determine alcohol concentration upon request of a law enforcement officer who has reasonable grounds to believe the person was driving or was in actual physical control of a motor vehicle within this state while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. The court may impose conditions of probation that include nonrepetition, installation of an ignition interlock or other biological or technical device on the probationer's motor vehicle, alcohol or drug treatment, supervised probation, or other conditions that may be appropriate. The sentence may be imposed in whole or in part upon violation of a condition of probation during the suspension period.

(b) For each violation of mandatory conditions of probation under (a)(i) and (ii) or (a)(i) and (iii) of this subsection, the court shall order the convicted person to be confined for thirty days, which shall not be suspended or deferred.

(c) For each incident involving a violation of a mandatory condition of probation imposed under this subsection, the license, permit, or privilege to drive of the person shall be suspended by the court for thirty days or, if such license, permit, or privilege to drive already is suspended, revoked, or denied at the time the finding of probation violation is made, the suspension, revocation, or denial then in effect shall be extended by thirty days. The court shall notify the department of any suspension, revocation, or denial or any extension of a suspension, revocation, or denial imposed under this subsection.

(8) An offender serving a sentence under this section, whether or not a mandatory minimum term has expired, may be granted an extraordinary medical placement by the jail administrator subject to the standards and limitations set forth in RCW 9.94A.150(4).

(9) For purposes of this section:

(a) "Electronic home monitoring" shall not be considered confinement as defined in RCW 9.94A.030;
Sec. 6. RCW 69.50.410 and 1975-76 2nd ex.s. c 103 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:
(1) Except as authorized by this chapter it shall be unlawful for any person to sell for profit any controlled substance or counterfeit substance classified in Schedule I, RCW 69.50.204, except leaves and flowering tops of marijuana.
For the purposes of this section only, the following words and phrases shall have the following meanings:
(a) “To sell” means the passing of title and possession of a controlled substance from the seller to the buyer for a price whether or not the price is paid immediately or at a future date.
(b) “For profit” means the obtaining of anything of value in exchange for a controlled substance.
(c) “Price” means anything of value.
(2) Any person convicted of a violation of subsection (1) of this section shall receive a sentence of not more than five years in a correctional facility of the department of social and health services for the first offense. Any person convicted on a second or subsequent cause, the sale having transpired after prosecution and conviction on the first cause, of subsection (1) of this section shall receive a mandatory sentence of five years in a correctional facility of the department of social and health services and no judge of any court shall suspend or defer the sentence imposed for such violation.
(3) Any person convicted of a violation of subsection (1) of this section by selling heroin shall receive a mandatory sentence of two years in a correctional facility of the department of social and health services and no judge of any court shall suspend or defer the sentence imposed for such violation. Any person convicted on a second or subsequent sale of heroin, the sale having transpired after prosecution and conviction on the first cause of the sale of heroin shall receive a mandatory sentence of ten years in a correctional facility of the department of social and health services and no judge of any court shall suspend or defer the sentence imposed for this second or subsequent violation: PROVIDED, That the indeterminate sentence review board (Warden of prison terms and paroles) under RCW 9.95.040 shall not reduce the minimum term imposed for a violation under this subsection.
(4) Whether or not a mandatory minimum term has expired, an offender serving a sentence under this section may be granted an extraordinary medical placement when authorized under RCW 9.94A.150(4).

5. In addition to the sentences provided in subsection (2) of this section, any person convicted of a violation of subsection (1) of this section shall be fined in an amount calculated to at least eliminate any and all proceeds or profits directly or indirectly gained by such person as a result of sales of controlled substances in violation of the laws of this or other states, or the United States, up to the amount of five hundred thousand dollars on each count.

6. Any person, addicted to the use of controlled substances, who voluntarily applies to the department of social and health services for the purpose of participating in a rehabilitation program approved by the department for addicts of controlled substances shall be immune from prosecution for subsection (1) offenses unless a filing of an information or indictment against such person for a violation of subsection (1) of this section is made prior to his or her voluntary participation in the program of the department of social and health services. All applications for immunity under this section shall be sent to the department of social and health services in Olympia. It shall be the duty of the department to stamp each application received pursuant to this section with the date and time of receipt.

This section shall not apply to offenses defined and punishable under the provisions of RCW 69.50.401 (as now or hereafter amended).

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. A new section is added to chapter 72.09 RCW to read as follows:
The secretary shall report annually to the legislature on the number of offenders considered for an extraordinary medical placement, the number of offenders who were granted such a placement, the number of offenders who were denied such a placement, the length of time between initial consideration and the placement decision for each offender who was granted an extraordinary medical placement, the number of offenders granted an extraordinary medical placement who were later returned to total confinement, and the cost savings realized by the state."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of House Bill No. 1299, as amended by the Senate, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 45; Nays, 0; Absent, 0; Excused, 4.

HOUSE BILL NO 1299, as amended by the Senate, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING

SECOND SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1132, by House Committee on Appropriations (originally sponsored by Representatives Romero, Skinner, Lantz, Hankins, Ogden, Radcliff, Mitchell and Lambert)

Establishing the capitol furnishings preservation committee.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Patterson moved that the following Committee on State and Local Government striking amendment be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

*NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that those historic furnishings that illustrate the history of the state of Washington should be maintained and preserved for the use and benefit of the people of the state. It is the purpose of this act to establish the capitol furnishings preservation committee to increase the awareness of the public and state employees about the significance of the furnishings within the state capitol campus buildings as envisioned by the original architects Wilder and White.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 27.48 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this section.

(a) "State capitol group" includes the legislative building, the insurance building, the Cherberg building, the John L. O'Brien building, the Newhouse building, and the temple of justice building.

(b) "Historic furnishings" means furniture, fixtures, and artwork fifty years of age or older.

(2) The capitol furnishings preservation committee is established to promote and encourage the recovery and preservation of the original and historic furnishings of the state capitol group, prevent future loss of historic furnishings, and review and advise future remodeling and restoration projects as they pertain to historic furnishings. The committee's authority does not extend to the placement of any historic furnishings within the state capitol group.
(3) The capitol furnishings preservation committee account is created in the custody of the state treasurer. All receipts designated for the account from appropriations and from other sources must be deposited into the account. Expenditures from the account may be used only to finance the activities of the capitol furnishings preservation committee. Only the director of the Washington state historical society or the director’s designee may authorize expenditures from the account when authorized to do so by the committee. The account is subject to allotment procedures under chapter 43.88 RCW, but an appropriation is not required for expenditures.

(4) The committee may:
   (a) Authorize the director of the Washington state historical society or the director’s designee to expend funds from the capitol furnishings preservation committee account for limited purposes of purchasing and preserving historic furnishings of the state capitol group;
   (b) Accept monetary donations, grants, and donations of historic furnishings from, but not limited to, (i) current and former legislators, state officials, and lobbyists; (ii) the families of former legislators, state officials, and lobbyists; and (iii) the general public. Moneys received under this section must be deposited in the capitol furnishings preservation committee account; and
   (c) Engage in or encourage fund raising activities including the solicitation of charitable gifts, grants, or donations specifically for the limited purpose of the recovery of the original and historic furnishings.

(5) The membership of the committee shall include: Two members of the house of representatives, one from each major caucus, appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives; two members of the senate, one from each major caucus, appointed by the president of the senate; the chief clerk of the house of representatives; the secretary of the senate; the governor or the governor's designee; the lieutenant governor or the lieutenant governor's designee; a representative from the office of the secretary of state, the office of the state treasurer, the office of the state auditor, and the office of the insurance commissioner; a representative from the supreme court; a representative from the Washington state historical society, the department of general administration, and the Thurston county planning council, each appointed by the governor; and three private citizens, appointed by the governor.

(6) Original or historic furnishings from the state capitol group are not surplus property under chapter 43.19 RCW or other authority unless designated as such by the committee.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 43.19 RCW to read as follows:
Original or historic furnishings from the state capitol group under section 2 of this act do not constitute surplus property under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 42.17 RCW to read as follows:
When soliciting charitable gifts, grants, or donations solely for the limited purposes of section 2 of this act, members of the capitol furnishings preservation committee are exempt from the laws of this chapter.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Patterson, the following amendment to the committee striking amendment was adopted:
On page 3, line 6 of the amendment, after "chapter" strike "42.17" and insert "42.52"

SECOND READING

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1647, by House Committee on Local Government (originally sponsored by Representatives Mulliken, Dunshee and Scott)

Amending recording statutes.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION
On motion of Senator Patterson, the following Committee on State and Local Government amendment was adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 4.28.320 and 1893 c 127 s 17 are each amended to read as follows:

In an action affecting the title to real property the plaintiff, at the time of filing the complaint, or at any time afterwards, or whenever a writ of attachment of property shall be issued, or at any time afterwards, the plaintiff or a defendant, when he sets up an affirmative cause of action in his answer, and demands substantive relief at the time of filing his answer, or at any time afterwards, if the same be intended to affect real property, may file with the auditor of each county in which the property is situated a notice of the pendency of the action, containing the names of the parties, the object of the action, and a description of the real property in that county affected thereby. From the time of the filing only shall the pendency of the action be constructive notice to a purchaser or encumbrancer of the property affected thereby, and every person whose conveyance or encumbrance is subsequently executed or subsequently recorded shall be deemed a subsequent purchaser or encumbrancer, and shall be bound by all proceedings taken after the filing of such notice to the same extent as if he were a party to the action. For the purpose of this section an action shall be deemed to be pending from the time of filing such notice: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That such notice shall be of no avail unless it shall be followed by the first publication of the summons, or by the personal service thereof on a defendant within sixty days after such filing. And the court in which the said action was commenced may, at its discretion, at any time after the action shall be settled, discontinued or abated, on application of any person aggrieved and on good cause shown and on such notice as shall be directed or approved by the court, order the notice authorized in this section to be canceled of record, in whole or in part, by the county auditor of any county in whose office the same may have been filed or recorded, and such cancellation shall be evidenced by the recording of the court order.

Sec. 2. RCW 36.18.005 and 1991 c 26 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

The definitions set forth in this section apply throughout this chapter unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(1) "Recording officer" means the county auditor, or in charter counties the county official charged with the responsibility for recording instruments in the county records.

(2) "File," "filed," or "filing" means the act of delivering an instrument to the auditor or recording officer for recording into the official public records.

(3) "Record," "recorded," or "recording" means the process, such as electronic, mechanical, optical, magnetic, or microfilm storage used by the auditor or recording officer after filing to incorporate the instrument into the public records.

(4) "Multiple transactions" means a document that contains two or more titles and/or two or more transactions requiring multiple indexing.

Sec. 3. RCW 36.18.010 and 1996 c 143 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

County auditors or recording officers shall collect the following fees for their official services:

For recording instruments, for the first page eight and one-half by fourteen inches or less, five dollars; for each additional page eight and one-half by fourteen inches or less, one dollar((c)) The fee for recording multiple transactions contained in one instrument will be calculated (((individually))) for each transaction requiring separate indexing as required under RCW 65.04.050 as follows: The fee for each title or transaction is the same fee as the first page of any additional recorded document; the fee for additional pages is the same fee as for any additional pages for any recorded document; the fee for the additional pages may be collected only once and may not be collected for each title or transaction;

For preparing and certifying copies, for the first page eight and one-half by fourteen inches or less, three dollars; for each additional page eight and one-half by fourteen inches or less, one dollar;

For preparing noncertified copies, for each page eight and one-half by fourteen inches or less, one dollar;

For administering an oath or taking an affidavit, with or without seal, two dollars;

For issuing a marriage license, eight dollars, (this fee includes taking necessary affidavits, filing returns, indexing, and transmittal of a record of the marriage to the state registrar of vital statistics) plus an additional five-dollar fee for use and support of the prevention of child abuse and neglect activities to be transmitted monthly to the state treasurer and deposited in the state general fund plus an additional ten-dollar fee to be transmitted monthly to the state treasurer and deposited in the state general fund. The legislature intends to appropriate an amount at least equal to the revenue generated by this fee for the purposes of the displaced homemaker act, chapter 28B.04 RCW;

For searching records per hour, eight dollars;

For recording plats, fifty cents for each lot except cemetery plats for which the charge shall be twenty-five cents per lot; also one dollar for each acknowledgment, dedication, and description: PROVIDED, That there shall be a minimum fee of twenty-five dollars per plat;

For recording of miscellaneous records not listed above, for the first page eight and one-half by fourteen inches or less, five dollars; for each additional page eight and one-half by fourteen inches or less, one dollar;
For modernization and improvement of the recording and indexing system, a surcharge as provided in RCW 36.22.170.
For recording an emergency nonstandard document as provided in RCW 65.04.047, fifty dollars, in addition to all other applicable recording fees.

Sec. 4. RCW 4.28.325 and 1963 c 137 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

In an action in a United States district court for any district in the state of Washington affecting the title to real property in the state of Washington, the plaintiff, at the time of filing the complaint, or at any time afterwards, or a defendant, when he sets up an affirmative cause of action in his answer, or at any time afterward, if the same be intended to affect real property, may file with the auditor of each county in which the property is situated a notice of the pendency of the action, containing the names of the parties, the object of the action and a description of the real property in that county affected thereby. From the time of the filing only shall the pendency of the action be constructive notice to a purchaser or encumbrancer of the property affected thereby, and every person whose conveyance or encumbrance is subsequently executed or subsequently recorded shall be deemed a subsequent purchaser or encumbrancer, and shall be bound by all proceedings taken after the filing of such notice to the same extent as if he were a party to the action. For the purpose of this section an action shall be deemed to be pending from the time of filing such notice: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That such notice shall be of no avail unless it shall be followed by the first publication of the summons, or by personal service thereof on a defendant within sixty days after such filing. And the court in which the said action was commenced may, in its discretion, at any time after the action shall be settled, discontinued or abated, on application of any person aggrieved and on good cause shown and on such notice as shall be directed or approved by the court, order the notice authorized in this section to be canceled (of record), in whole or in part, by the county auditor of any county in whose office the same may have been filed or recorded, and such cancellation shall be (made by an indorsement to that effect on the margin of the record) evidenced by the recording of the court order.

Sec. 5. RCW 47.28.025 and 1984 c 7 s 165 are each amended to read as follows:

Whenever the department establishes the location, width, and lines of any new highway, or declares any such new highway as a limited access facility and schedules the acquisition of the right of way for the highway or facility within the ensuing two years, it may cause the description and plan of any such highway to be made, showing the center line of the highway and the established width thereof, and attach thereto a certified copy of the resolution. Such description, plan, and resolution shall then be recorded in the office of the county auditor of the proper county (in a separate book kept for such purposes, which shall be furnished to the county auditor of the county by the department at the expense of the state).

Sec. 6. RCW 60.44.030 and 1937 c 69 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

The county auditor shall record the claims mentioned in this chapter (in a book to be kept by him for that purpose), which record must be indexed as deeds and other conveyances are required by law to be indexed.

Sec. 7. RCW 60.68.045 and 1992 c 133 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) When a notice of a tax lien is recorded under RCW 60.68.015(2), the county auditor shall forthwith enter it in (an alphabetical tax lien index to be provided by the board of county commissioners) the general index showing (on one line) the name and residence of the taxpayer named in the notice, the collector's serial number of the notice, the date and hour of recording, and the amount of tax and penalty assessed. The auditor shall have the ability to produce a separate tax lien index listing.

(2) When a notice of a tax lien is filed under RCW 60.68.015(3), the department of licensing shall enter it in the uniform commercial code filing system showing the name and address of the taxpayer as the debtor, and the internal revenue service as a secured party, and include the collector's serial number of the notice, the date and hour of filing, and the amount of tax and penalty assessed.

Sec. 8. RCW 61.16.030 and 1995 c 62 s 15 are each amended to read as follows:

If the mortgagee fails to acknowledge satisfaction of the mortgage as provided in RCW 61.16.020 sixty days from the date of such request or demand, the mortgagee shall forfeit and pay to the mortgagor damages and a reasonable attorneys' fee, to be recovered in any court having competent jurisdiction, and said court, when convinced that said mortgage has been fully satisfied, shall issue an order in writing, directing the auditor to ((cancel said mortgage, and the auditor shall)) immediately record the order ((and cancel the mortgage as directed by the court, upon the margin of the page upon which the mortgage is recorded, making reference thereupon to the order of the court and to the page where the order is recorded))

Sec. 9. RCW 64.32.120 and 1965 ex.s. c 11 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

Deeds or other conveyances of apartments shall include the following:

(1) A description of the land as provided in RCW 64.32.090, or the post office address of the property, including in either case the date of recording of the declaration and the volume ([[j]]) and page ([[and]]) or county auditor's ([[receiving]]) recording number of the recorded declaration;

(2) The apartment number of the apartment in the declaration and any other data necessary for its proper identification;

(3) A statement of the use for which the apartment is intended;
Sec. 10. RCW 65.04.015 and 1998 c 27 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:
The definitions set forth in this section apply throughout this chapter unless the context clearly requires otherwise.
(1) "Recording officer" means the county auditor, or in charter counties the county official charged with the responsibility for recording instruments in the county records.
(2) "File," "filed," or "filing" means the act of delivering or transmitting electronically an instrument to the auditor or recording officer for recording into the official public records.
(3) "Record," "recorded," or "recording" means the process, such as electronic, mechanical, optical, magnetic, or microfilm storage used by the auditor or recording officer after filing to incorporate the instrument into the public records.
(4) "((Record location)) Recording number" means a unique number that identifies the storage location (book or volume and page, reel and frame, instrument number, auditor or recording officer file number, receiving number, electronic retrieval code, or other specific place) of each instrument in the public records accessible in the same recording office where the instrument containing the reference to the location is found.
(5) "Grantor/grantee" for recording purposes means the names of the parties involved in the transaction used to create the recording index. There will always be at least one grantor and one grantee for any document. In some cases, the grantor and the grantee will be the same individual(s), or one of the parties may be the public.
(6) "Legible and capable of being imaged" means all text, seals, drawings, signatures, or other content within the document must be legible and capable of producing a readable image, regardless of what process is used for recording.

Sec. 11. RCW 65.04.020 and 1985 c 44 s 14 are each amended to read as follows:
For the purpose of recording deeds and other instruments of writing, required or permitted by law to be recorded, the county auditor shall procure such ((books)) media for records as the business of the office requires.

Sec. 12. RCW 65.04.045 and 1998 c 27 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:
(1) When any instrument is presented to a county auditor or recording officer for recording, the first page of the instrument shall contain:
(a) A top margin of at least three inches and a one-inch margin on the bottom and sides, except that an instrument may be recorded if a minor portion of a notary seal, incidental writing, or minor portion of a signature extends beyond the margins;
(b) The top left-hand side of the page shall contain the name and address to whom the instrument will be returned;
(c) The title or titles, or type or types, of the instrument to be recorded indicating the kind or kinds of documents or transactions contained therein immediately below the three-inch margin at the top of the page. The auditor or recording officer shall ((only)) be required to index only the title or titles captioned on the document;
(d) Reference numbers of documents assigned or released with reference to the document page number where additional references can be found, if applicable;
(e) The names of the grantor(s) and grantee(s), as defined under RCW 65.04.015, with reference to the document page number where additional names are located, if applicable;
(f) An abbreviated legal description of the property, ((including)) and for purposes of this subsection, "abbreviated legal description of the property" means lot, block, plat, or section, township, ((and)) range, and quarter/quarter section, and reference to the document page number where the full legal description is included, if applicable;
(g) The assessor's property tax parcel or account number set forth separately from the legal description or other text.
(2) All pages of the document shall be on sheets of paper of a weight and color capable of producing a legible image that are not larger than fourteen inches long and eight and one-half inches wide with text printed or written in eight point type or larger. All text within the document must be of sufficient color and clarity to ensure that when the text is imaged all text is readable. Further, all ((instruments)) pages presented for recording must have at minimum a one-inch margin on the top, bottom, and sides for all pages except page one, except that an instrument may be recorded if a minor portion of a notary seal, incidental writing, or minor portion of a signature extends beyond the margins, be prepared in ink color capable of being imaged, and have all seals legible and capable of being imaged. No attachments, except firmly attached bar code or address labels, may be affixed to the pages.
The information provided on the instrument must be in substantially the following form:

When Recorded Return to:

This Space Provided for Recorder's Use
Sec. 13. RCW 65.04.047 and 1998 c 27 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) If the first page of an instrument presented for recording does not contain the information required by RCW 65.04.045(1), the person preparing the instrument for recording shall prepare a cover sheet that contains the required information. The cover sheet shall be attached to the instrument and shall be recorded as a part of the instrument. An additional page fee as determined under RCW 36.18.010 shall be collected for recording of the cover sheet. Any errors in the cover sheet shall not affect the transactions contained in the instrument itself. The cover sheet need not be separately signed or acknowledged. The cover sheet information shall be used to generate the auditor's grantor/grantee index, however, the names and legal description in the instrument itself will determine the legal chain of title. The cover sheet shall be substantially the following form:

(2) Documents which are exempt from format requirements and which may be recorded with a properly completed cover sheet include: Documents which were signed prior to January 1, 1997; military separation documents; documents executed outside of the United States; certified copies of documents; any birth or death certificate; marriage certificates from outside the state of Washington; any document, one of whose original signer is deceased or otherwise incapacitated; and judgments or other documents formatted to meet court requirements.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. A new section is added to chapter 65.04 RCW to read as follows:

1. Documents which must be recorded immediately and which do not meet margin and font size requirements may be recorded for an additional fee of fifty dollars. Documents which do not meet legibility requirements must not be recorded as a nonstandard recording.

2. In addition to preparing a properly completed cover sheet as described in RCW 65.04.047, the person preparing the document for recording must sign a statement which must be attached to the document and which must read substantially as follows: “I am requesting an emergency nonstandard recording for an additional fee as provided in RCW 36.18.010. I understand that the recording processing requirements may cover up or otherwise obscure some part of the text of the original document.”

Sec. 15. RCW 65.04.060 and 1985 c 44 s 17 are each amended to read as follows:

Whenever any mortgage, bond, lien, or instrument incumbering real estate, has been satisfied, released or discharged, by the recording of an instrument of release, or acknowledgment of satisfaction, the auditor shall immediately note in (both the indices, in the column headed remarks, opposite to the appropriate entry, that such instrument, lien or incumbrance has been satisfied. And in all cases of the satisfaction or release of any recorded liens, mortgage, transcript of judgment, mechanic's lien, or other incumbrance whatsoever, the auditor shall note the same in index of transcripts of judgment!) the comment section of the index, the recording number of the original mortgage, bond, lien, or instrument.

Sec. 16. RCW 65.08.060 and 1984 c 73 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

1. The term “real property” as used in RCW 65.08.060 through 65.08.150 includes lands, tenements and hereditaments and chattels real and mortgage liens thereon except a leasehold for a term not exceeding two years.

2. The term “purchaser” includes every person to whom any estate or interest in real property is conveyed for a valuable consideration and every assignee of a mortgage, lease or other conditional estate.

3. The term “conveyance” includes every written instrument by which any estate or interest in real property is created, transferred, mortgaged or assigned or by which the title to any real property may be affected, including an instrument in execution of a power, although the power be one of revocation only, and an instrument releasing in whole or in part, postponing or subordinating a mortgage or other lien; except a will, a lease for a term not exceeding two years, and an instrument granting a power to convey real property as the agent or attorney for the owner of the property. “To convey” is to execute a “conveyance” as defined in this subdivision.

4. The term “recording officer” means the county auditor (or of the county) or, in charter counties, the county official charged with the responsibility for recording instruments in the county records.

Sec. 17. RCW 65.08.140 and 1927 c 278 s 9 are each amended to read as follows:

A recording officer is not liable for recording an instrument in a wrong book, volume or set of records if the instrument is properly indexed with a reference to the volume and page or recording number where the instrument is actually of record.

Sec. 18. RCW 65.08.160 and 1967 c 148 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

A mortgage or deed of trust of real estate may be recorded and constructive notice of the same and the contents thereof given in the following manner:

1. An instrument containing a form or forms of covenants, conditions, obligations, powers, and other clauses of a mortgage or deed of trust may be recorded in the office of the county auditor of any county and the auditor of such county, upon the request of any person, on tender of the lawful fees therefor, shall record the same. Every such instrument shall be entitled on the face thereof as a “Master form recorded by . . . (name of person causing the instrument to be recorded).” Such instrument need not be acknowledged to be entitled to record.

2. When any such instrument is recorded, the county auditor shall index such instrument under the name of the person causing it to be recorded in the manner provided for miscellaneous instruments relating to real estate.

3. Thereafter any of the provisions of such master form instrument may be incorporated by reference in any mortgage or deed of trust of real estate situated within this state, if such reference in the mortgage or deed of trust states that the master form instrument was recorded in the county in which the mortgage or deed of trust is offered for record, the date when and the book and page or pages or recording number where such master form instrument was recorded, and that a copy of such master form instrument was furnished to the person executing the mortgage or deed of trust. The recording of any mortgage or deed of trust which has so incorporated by reference therein any of the provisions of a master form instrument recorded as provided in this section shall have like effect as if such provisions of the master form so incorporated by reference had been set forth fully in the mortgage or deed of trust.
(4) Whenever a mortgage or deed of trust is presented for recording on which is set forth matter purporting to be a copy or reproduction of such master form instrument or of part thereof, identified by its title as provided in subdivision subsection (1) of this section and stating the date when it was recorded and the book and page where it was recorded, preceded by the words "do not record" or "not to be recorded," and plainly separated from the matter to be recorded as a part of the mortgage or deed of trust in such manner that it will not appear upon a photographic reproduction of any page containing any part of the mortgage or deed of trust, such matter shall not be recorded by the county auditor to whom the instrument is presented for recording; in such case the county auditor shall record only the mortgage or deed of trust apart from such matter and shall not be liable for so doing, any other provisions of law to the contrary notwithstanding.

Sec. 19. RCW 84.26.080 and 1986 c 221 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) When property has once been classified and valued as eligible historic property, it shall remain so classified and be granted the special valuation provided by RCW 84.26.070 for ten years or until the property is disqualified by:

(a) Notice by the owner to the assessor to remove the special valuation;

(b) Sale or transfer to an ownership making it exempt from property taxation; or

(c) Removal of the special valuation by the assessor upon determination by the local review board that the property no longer qualifies as historic property or that the owner has failed to comply with the conditions established under RCW 84.26.050.

(2) The sale or transfer to a new owner or transfer by reason of death of a former owner to a new owner does not disqualify the property from the special valuation provided by RCW 84.26.070 if:

(a) The property continues to qualify as historic property; and

(b) The new owner files a notice of compliance with the assessor of the county in which the property is located. Notice of compliance forms shall be prescribed by the state department of revenue and supplied by the county assessor. The notice shall contain a statement that the new owner is aware of the special valuation and of the potential tax liability involved when the property ceases to be valued as historic property under this chapter. The signed notice of compliance shall be attached to the real estate excise tax affidavit provided for in RCW 82.45.120. If the notice of compliance is not signed by the new owner and attached to the real estate excise tax affidavit, all additional taxes calculated pursuant to RCW 84.26.090 shall become due and payable by the seller or transferor at time of sale. The county auditor shall not accept an instrument of conveyance of specially valued historic property for filing or recording unless the new owner has signed the notice of compliance or the additional tax has been paid, as evidenced by the real estate excise tax stamp affixed thereto by the treasurer.

(3) When the property ceases to qualify for the special valuation the owner shall immediately notify the state or local review board.

(4) Before the additional tax or penalty imposed by RCW 84.26.090 is levied, in the case of disqualification, the assessor shall notify the taxpayer by mail, return receipt requested, of the disqualification.

Sec. 20. RCW 84.33.120 and 1997 c 299 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) In preparing the assessment rolls as of January 1, 1982, for taxes payable in 1983 and each January 1st thereafter, the assessor shall list each parcel of forest land at a value with respect to the grade and class provided in this subsection and adjusted as provided in subsection (2) of this section and shall compute the assessed value of the land by using the same assessment ratio he or she applies generally in computing the assessed value of other property in his or her county. Values for the several grades of bare forest land shall be as follows.

(2) On or before December 31, 1981, the department shall adjust, by rule under chapter 34.05 RCW, the forest land values contained in subsection (1) of this section in accordance with this subsection, and shall certify these adjusted values to the county assessor for his or her use in preparing the assessment rolls as of January 1, 1982. For the adjustment to be made on or before December 31, 1981, for use in the 1982 assessment year, the department shall:

(a) Divide the aggregate value of all timber harvested within the state between July 1, 1976, and June 30, 1981, by the aggregate harvest volume for the same period, as determined from the harvester excise tax returns filed with the department under RCW 82.04.291 and 84.33.071; and

(b) Divide the aggregate value of all timber harvested within the state between July 1, 1975, and June 30, 1980, by the aggregate harvest volume for the same period, as determined from the harvester excise tax returns filed with the department under RCW 82.04.291 and 84.33.071; and

(c) Adjust the forest land values contained in subsection (1) of this section by a percentage equal to one-half of the percentage change in the average values of harvested timber reflected by comparing the resultant values calculated under (a) and (b) of this subsection.

For the adjustments to be made on or before December 31, 1982, and each succeeding year thereafter, the same procedure shall be followed as described in this subsection utilizing harvester excise tax returns filed under RCW 82.04.291 and this chapter except that this adjustment shall be made to the prior year’s adjusted value, and the five-year periods for calculating average harvested timber values shall be successively one year more recent.

(3) In preparing the assessment roll for 1972 and each year thereafter, the assessor shall enter as the true and fair value of each parcel of forest land the appropriate grade value certified to him or her by the department of revenue, and he or she shall compute the assessed value of such land by using the same assessment ratio he or she applies generally in computing the assessed value of other property in his or her county. In preparing the assessment roll for 1975 and each year thereafter, the assessor shall assess and value as classified forest land all forest land that is not then designated pursuant to RCW 84.33.120(4) or 84.33.130 and shall make a notation of such classification upon the assessment and tax rolls. On or before January 15 of the first year in which such notation is made, the assessor shall mail notice by certified mail to the owner that such land has been classified as forest land and is subject to the compensating tax imposed by this section. If the owner desires not to have such land assessed and valued as classified forest land, he or she shall give the assessor written notice thereof on or before March 31 of such year and the assessor shall remove from the assessment and tax rolls the classification notation entered pursuant to this subsection, and shall thereafter assess and value such land in the manner provided by law other than this chapter 84.33 RCW.

(4) In any year commencing with 1972, an owner of land which is assessed and valued by the assessor other than pursuant to the procedures set forth in RCW 84.33.110 and this section, and which has, in the immediately preceding year, been assessed and valued by the assessor as forest land, may appeal to the county board of equalization by filing an application with the board in the manner prescribed in subsection (2) of RCW 84.33.130. The county board shall afford the applicant an opportunity to be heard if the application so requests and shall act upon the application in the manner prescribed in subsection (3) of RCW 84.33.130.

(5) Land that has been assessed and valued as classified forest land as of any year commencing with 1975 assessment year or earlier shall continue to be so assessed and valued until removal of classification by the assessor only upon the occurrence of one of the following events:

(a) Receipt of notice from the owner to remove such land from classification as forest land;

(b) Sale or transfer to an ownership making such land exempt from ad valorem taxation;

(c) Determination by the assessor, after giving the owner written notice and an opportunity to be heard, that, because of actions taken by the owner, such land is no longer primarily devoted to and used for growing and harvesting timber. However, land shall not be removed from classification if a governmental agency, organization, or other recipient identified in subsection (9) or (10) of this section as exempt from the payment of compensating tax has manifested its intent in writing or by other official action to acquire a property interest in classified forest land by means of a transaction that qualifies for an exemption under subsection (9) or
(10) of this section. The governmental agency, organization, or recipient shall annually provide the assessor of the county in which the land is located reasonable evidence in writing of the intent to acquire the classified land as long as the intent continues or within sixty days of a request by the assessor. The assessor may not request this evidence more than once in a calendar year;

(d) Determination that a higher and better use exists for such land than growing and harvesting timber after giving the owner written notice and an opportunity to be heard;

(e) Sale or transfer of all or a portion of such land to a new owner, unless the new owner has signed a notice of forest land classification continuance, except transfer to an owner who is an heir or devisee of a deceased owner, shall not, by itself, result in removal of classification. The signed notice of continuance shall be attached to the real estate excise tax affidavit provided for in RCW 82.45.150. The notice of continuance shall be on a form prepared by the department of revenue. If the notice of continuance is not signed by the new owner and attached to the real estate excise tax affidavit, all compensating taxes calculated pursuant to subsection (7) of this section shall become due and payable by the seller or transferor at time of sale. The county auditor shall not accept an instrument of conveyance of classified forest land for filing or recording unless the new owner has signed the notice of continuance or the compensating tax has been paid, as evidenced by the real estate excise tax stamp affixed thereto by the treasurer. The seller, transferor, or new owner may appeal the new assessed valuation calculated under subsection (7) of this section to the county board of equalization. Jurisdiction is hereby conferred on the county board of equalization to hear these appeals.

The assessor shall remove classification pursuant to (c) or (d) of this subsection prior to September 30 of the year prior to the assessment year for which termination of classification is to be effective. Removal of classification as forest land upon occurrence of (a), (b), (d), or (e) of this subsection shall apply only to the land affected, and upon occurrence of (c) of this subsection shall apply only to the actual area of land no longer primarily devoted to and used for growing and harvesting timber: PROVIDED, That any remaining classified forest land meets necessary definitions of forest land pursuant to RCW 84.33.100.

(6) Within thirty days after such removal of classification as forest land, the assessor shall notify the owner in writing setting forth the reasons for such removal. The owner of such land shall thereupon have the right to apply for designation of such land as forest land pursuant to subsection (4) of this section or RCW 84.33.130. The seller, transferor, or owner may appeal such removal to the county board of equalization.

(7) Unless the owner successfully applies for designation of such land or unless the removal is reversed on appeal, notification of removal from classification shall immediately be made upon the assessment and tax rolls, and commencing on January 1 of the year following the year in which the assessor made such notification, such land shall be assessed on the same basis as real property is assessed generally in that county. Except as provided in subsection (5)(e), (9), or (10) of this section and unless the assessor shall not have mailed notice of classification pursuant to subsection (3) of this section, a compensating tax shall be imposed which shall be due and payable to the county treasurer thirty days after the owner is notified of the amount of the compensating tax. As soon as possible, the assessor shall compute the amount of such compensating tax and mail notice to the owner of the amount thereof and the date on which payment is due. The amount of such compensating tax shall be equal to the difference, if any, between the amount of tax last levied on such land as forest land and an amount equal to the new assessed valuation of such land multiplied by the dollar rate of the last levy extended against such land, multiplied by a number, in no event greater than ten, equal to the number of years, commencing with assessment year 1975, for which such land was assessed and valued as forest land.

(8) Compensating tax, together with applicable interest thereon, shall become a lien on such land which shall attach at the time such land is removed from classification as forest land and shall have priority to and shall be fully paid and satisfied before any recognizance, mortgage, judgment, debt, obligation or responsibility to or with which such land may become charged or liable. Such lien may be foreclosed upon expiration of the same period after delinquency and in the same manner provided by law for foreclosure of liens for delinquent real property taxes as provided in RCW 84.64.050. Any compensating tax unpaid on its due date shall thereupon become delinquent. From the date of delinquency until paid, interest shall be charged at the same rate applied by law to delinquent ad valorem property taxes.

(9) The compensating tax specified in subsection (7) of this section shall not be imposed if the removal of classification as forest land pursuant to subsection (5) of this section resulted solely from:

(a) Transfer to a government entity in exchange for other forest land located within the state of Washington;

(b) A taking through the exercise of the power of eminent domain, or sale or transfer to an entity having the power of eminent domain in anticipation of the exercise of such power;

(c) A donation of fee title, development rights, or the right to harvest timber, to a government agency or organization qualified under RCW 84.34.210 and 64.04.130 for the purposes enumerated in those sections, or the sale or transfer of fee title to a governmental entity or a nonprofit nature conservancy corporation, as defined in RCW 64.04.130, exclusively for the protection and conservation of lands recommended for state natural area preserve purposes by the natural heritage council and natural heritage plan as defined in chapter 79.70 RCW: PROVIDED, That at such time as the land is not used for the purposes enumerated, the compensating tax specified in subsection (7) of this section shall be imposed upon the current owner;

(d) The sale or transfer of fee title to the parks and recreation commission for park and recreation purposes; or

(e) Official action by an agency of the state of Washington or by the county or city within which the land is located that disallows the present use of such land.

(10) In a county with a population of more than one million inhabitants, the compensating tax specified in subsection (7) of this section shall not be imposed if the removal of classification as forest land pursuant to subsection (5) of this section resulted solely from:

(a) An action described in subsection (9) of this section; or

(b) A transfer of a property interest to a government entity, or to a nonprofit historic preservation corporation or nonprofit nature conservancy corporation, as defined in RCW 64.04.130, to protect or enhance public resources, or to preserve, maintain, improve, restore, limit the future use of, or otherwise to conserve for public use or enjoyment, the property interest being transferred. At such time as the property interest is not used for the purposes enumerated, the compensating tax shall be imposed upon the current owner.

(11) With respect to any land that has been designated prior to May 6, 1974, pursuant to RCW 84.33.120(4) or 84.33.130, the assessor may, prior to January 1, 1975, on his or her own motion or pursuant to petition by the owner, change, without imposition of the compensating tax provided under RCW 84.33.140, the status of such designated land to classified forest land.

Sec. 21. RCW 84.33.140 and 1997 c 299 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) When land has been designated as forest land pursuant to RCW 84.33.120(4) or 84.33.130, a notation of such designation shall be made each year upon the assessment and tax rolls, a copy of the notice of approval together with the legal description or assessor's tax lot numbers for such land shall, at the expense of the applicant, be filed by the assessor in the same manner as deeds are recorded, and such land shall be graded and valued pursuant to RCW 84.33.110 and 84.33.120 until removal of such designation by the assessor upon occurrence of any of the following:

(a) Receipt of notice from the owner to remove such designation;

(b) Sale or transfer to an ownership making such land exempt from ad valorem taxation;

(c) Sale or transfer of all or a portion of such land to a new owner, unless the new owner has signed a notice of forest land designation continuance, except transfer to an owner who is an heir or devisee of a deceased owner, shall not, by itself, result in removal of classification. The signed notice of continuance shall be attached to the real estate excise tax affidavit provided for in RCW 82.45.150. The notice of continuance shall be on a form prepared by the department of revenue. If the notice of continuance is not signed by the new owner and attached to the real estate excise tax affidavit, all compensating taxes calculated pursuant to subsection (3) of this section shall become due and payable by the seller or transferor at time of sale. The county auditor shall not accept an instrument of conveyance of designated forest land for filing or recording unless the new owner has signed the notice of continuance or the compensating tax has been paid, as evidenced by the real estate excise tax stamp affixed thereto by the treasurer. The seller, transferor, or new owner may appeal the new assessed valuation calculated under subsection (3) of this section to the county board of equalization. Jurisdiction is hereby conferred on the county board of equalization to hear these appeals;

(d) Determination by the assessor, after giving the owner written notice and an opportunity to be heard, that:

(i) Such land is no longer primarily devoted to and used for growing and harvesting timber. However, land shall not be removed from designation if a governmental agency, organization, or other recipient identified in subsection (5) or (6) of this section as exempt from the payment of compensating tax has manifested its intent in writing or by other official action to acquire a property interest in designated forest land by means of a transaction that qualifies for an exemption under subsection (5) or (6) of this section. The governmental agency, organization, or recipient shall annually provide the assessor of the county in which the land is located reasonable evidence in writing of the intent to acquire the designated land as long as the intent continues or within sixty days of a request by the assessor. The assessor may not request this evidence more than once in a calendar year;

(ii) The owner has failed to comply with a final administrative or judicial order with respect to a violation of the restocking, forest management, fire protection, insect and disease control and forest debris provisions of Title 76 RCW or any applicable regulations thereunder; or

(iii) Restocking has not occurred to the extent or within the time specified in the application for designation of such land. Removal of designation upon occurrence of any of (a) through (c) of this subsection shall apply only to the land affected, and upon occurrence of (d) of this subsection shall apply only to the actual area of land no longer primarily devoted to and used for growing and harvesting timber, without regard to other land that may have been included in the same application and approval for designation: PROVIDED, That any remaining designated forest land meets necessary definitions of forest land pursuant to RCW 84.33.100.
Within thirty days after such removal of designation of forest land, the assessor shall notify the owner in writing, setting forth the reasons for such removal. The seller, transferor, or owner may appeal such removal to the county board of equalization.

(3) Unless the removal is reversed on appeal a copy of the notice of removal with notation of the action, if any, upon appeal, together with the legal description or assessor's tax lot numbers for the land removed from designation shall, at the expense of the applicant, be filed by the assessor in the same manner as deeds are recorded, and commencing on January 1 of the year following the year in which the assessor mailed such notice, such land shall be assessed on the same basis as real property is assessed generally in that county. Except as provided in subsection (1)(c), (5), or (6) of this section, a compensating tax shall be imposed which shall be due and payable to the county treasurer thirty days after the owner is notified of the amount of the compensating tax. As soon as possible, the assessor shall compute the amount of such compensating tax and mail notice to the owner of the amount thereof and the date on which payment is due. The amount of such compensating tax shall be equal to the difference between the amount of tax last levied on such land as forest land and an amount equal to the new assessed valuation of such land multiplied by the dollar rate of the last levy extended against such land, multiplied by a number, in no event greater than ten, equal to the number of years for which such land was designated as forest land.

(4) Compensating tax, together with applicable interest thereon, shall become a lien on such land which shall attach at the time such land is removed from designation as forest land and shall have priority to and shall be fully paid and satisfied before any recognizance, mortgage, judgment, debt, obligation or responsibility to or with which such land may become charged or liable. Such lien may be foreclosed upon expiration of the same period after delinquency and in the same manner provided by law for foreclosure of liens for delinquent real property taxes as provided in RCW 84.64.050. Any compensating tax unpaid on its due date shall thereupon become delinquent. From the date of delinquency until paid, interest shall be charged at the same rate applied by law to delinquent ad valorem property taxes.

(5) The compensating tax specified in subsection (3) of this section shall not be imposed if the removal of designation pursuant to subsection (1) of this section resulted solely from:
   (a) Transfer to a governmental entity in exchange for other forest land located within the state of Washington;
   (b) A taking through the exercise of the power of eminent domain, or sale or transfer to an entity having the power of eminent domain in anticipation of the exercise of such power;
   (c) A donation of fee title, development rights, or the right to harvest timber, to a government agency or organization qualified under RCW 84.34.210 and 64.04.130 for the purposes enumerated in those sections, or the sale or transfer of fee title to a governmental entity or a nonprofit nature conservancy corporation, as defined in RCW 64.04.130, exclusively for the protection and conservation of lands recommended for state natural area preserve purposes by the natural heritage council and natural heritage plan as defined in chapter 79.70 RCW: PROVIDED, That at such time as the land is not used for the purposes enumerated, the compensating tax specified in subsection (3) of this section shall be imposed upon the current owner;
   (d) The sale or transfer of fee title to the parks and recreation commission for park and recreation purposes; or
   (e) Official action by an agency of the state of Washington or by the county or city within which the land is located that disallows the present use of such land.

(6) In a county with a population of more than one million inhabitants, the compensating tax specified in subsection (3) of this section shall not be imposed if the removal of classification as forest land pursuant to subsection (1) of this section resulted solely from:
   (a) An action described in subsection (5) of this section; or
   (b) A transfer of a property interest to a government entity, or to a nonprofit historic preservation corporation or nonprofit nature conservancy corporation, as defined in RCW 64.04.130, to protect or enhance public resources, or to preserve, maintain, improve, restore, limit the future use of, or otherwise to conserve for public use or enjoyment, the property interest being transferred. At such time as the property interest is not used for the purposes enumerated, the compensating tax shall be imposed upon the current owner.

Sec. 22. RCW 84.34.108 and 1992 c 69 s 12 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) When land has once been classified under this chapter, a notation of such classification shall be made each year upon the assessment and tax rolls and such land shall be valued pursuant to RCW 84.34.060 or 84.34.065 until removal of all or a portion of such classification by the assessor upon occurrence of any of the following:
   (a) Receipt of notice from the owner to remove all or a portion of such classification;
   (b) Sale or transfer to an ownership, except a transfer that resulted from a default in loan payments made to or secured by a governmental agency that intends to or is required by law or regulation to resell the property for the same use as before, making all or a portion of such land exempt from ad valorem taxation;
   (c) Sale or transfer of all or a portion of such land to a new owner, unless the new owner has signed a notice of classification continuance, except transfer to an owner who is an heir or devisee of a deceased owner shall not, by itself, result in removal of classification. The signed notice of continuance shall be attached to the real estate excise tax affidavit provided for in RCW 82.45.120, as now or hereafter amended. The notice of continuance shall be on a form prepared by the department of revenue. If the notice of continuance is not signed by the new owner and attached to the real estate excise tax affidavit, all additional taxes calculated pursuant to subsection (3) of this section shall become due and payable by the seller or transferor at time of sale. The county auditor shall not accept an instrument of conveyance of classified land for filing or recording unless the new owner has signed the notice of continuance or the additional tax has been paid, as evidenced by the real estate excise tax stamp affixed thereto by the treasurer. The seller, transferor, or new owner may appeal the new assessed valuation calculated under subsection
(3) of this section to the county board of equalization. Jurisdiction is hereby conferred on the county board of equalization to hear these appeals;

(d) Determination by the assessor, after giving the owner written notice and an opportunity to be heard, that all or a portion of such land no longer meets the criteria for classification under this chapter. The criteria for classification pursuant to this chapter continue to apply after classification has been granted.

The granting authority, upon request of an assessor, shall provide reasonable assistance to the assessor in making a determination whether such land continues to meet the qualifications of RCW 84.34.020 (1) or (3). The assistance shall be provided within thirty days of receipt of the request.

(2) Within thirty days after such removal of all or a portion of such land from current use classification, the assessor shall notify the owner in writing, setting forth the reasons for such removal. The seller, transferor, or owner may appeal such removal to the county board of equalization.

(3) Unless the removal is reversed on appeal, the assessor shall revalue the affected land with reference to full market value on the date of removal from classification. Both the assessed valuation before and after the removal of classification shall be listed and taxes shall be allocated according to that part of the year to which each assessed valuation applies. Except as provided in subsection (5) of this section, an additional tax, applicable interest, and penalty shall be imposed which shall be due and payable to the county treasurer thirty days after the owner is notified of the amount of the additional tax. As soon as possible, the assessor shall compute the amount of such an additional tax, applicable interest, and penalty and the treasurer shall mail notice to the owner of the amount thereof and the date on which payment is due. The amount of such additional tax, applicable interest, and penalty shall be determined as follows:

(a) The amount of additional tax shall be equal to the difference between the property tax paid as "open space land",
"farm and agricultural land", or "timber land" and the amount of property tax otherwise due and payable for the seven years last past that the land had not been so classified;

(b) The amount of applicable interest shall be equal to the interest upon the amounts of such additional tax paid at the same statutory rate charged on delinquent property taxes from the dates on which such additional tax could have been paid without penalty if the land had been assessed at a value without regard to this chapter;

(c) The amount of the penalty shall be as provided in RCW 84.34.080. The penalty shall not be imposed if the removal satisfies the conditions of RCW 84.34.070.

(4) Additional tax, applicable interest, and penalty, shall become a lien on such land which shall attach at the time such land is removed from classification under this chapter and shall have priority to and shall be fully paid and satisfied before any recognizance, mortgage, judgment, debt, obligation or responsibility to or with which such land may become charged or liable. Such lien may be foreclosed upon expiration of the same period after delinquency and in the same manner provided by law for foreclosure of liens for delinquent real property taxes as provided in RCW 84.64.050 now or as hereafter amended. Any additional tax unpaid on its due date shall thereupon become delinquent. From the date of delinquency until paid, interest shall be charged at the same rate applied by law to delinquent ad valorem property taxes.

(5) The additional tax, applicable interest, and penalty specified in subsection (3) of this section shall not be imposed if the removal of classification pursuant to subsection (1) of this section resulted solely from:

(a) Transfer to a government entity in exchange for other land located within the state of Washington;

(b) (i) A taking through the exercise of the power of eminent domain, or (ii) sale or transfer to an entity having the power of eminent domain in anticipation of the exercise of such power, said entity having manifested its intent in writing or by other official action;

(c) A natural disaster such as a flood, windstorm, earthquake, or other such calamity rather than by virtue of the act of the landowner changing the use of such property;

(d) Official action by an agency of the state of Washington or by the county or city within which the land is located which disallows the present use of such land;

(e) Transfer of land to a church when such land would qualify for exemption pursuant to RCW 84.36.020;

(f) Acquisition of property interests by state agencies or agencies or organizations qualified under RCW 84.34.210 and 64.04.130 for the purposes enumerated in those sections: PROVIDED, That at such time as these property interests are not used for the purposes enumerated in RCW 84.34.210 and 64.04.130 the additional tax specified in subsection (3) of this section shall be imposed; or

(g) Removal of land classified as farm and agricultural land under RCW 84.34.020(2)(d).

Sec. 23. RCW 84.56.330 and 1961 c 15 s 84.56.330 are each amended to read as follows:

Any person who has a lien by mortgage or otherwise, upon any real property upon which any taxes have not been paid, may pay such taxes, and the interest, penalty and costs thereon; and the receipt of the county treasurer or other collecting official shall constitute an additional lien upon such land, to the amount therein stated, and the amount so paid and the interest thereon at the rate specified in the mortgage or other instrument shall be collectible with, or as a part of, and in the same manner as the amount secured by the original lien: PROVIDED, That the person paying such taxes shall pay the same as mortgagee or other lien holder and shall procure the receipt of the county treasurer therefor, showing the mortgage or other lien relationship of the person paying such taxes, and the same shall have been recorded with the county auditor of the county wherein the said real estate is situated, within ten days after the payment of such taxes and the issuance of such receipt. It shall be the duty of any treasurer issuing such receipt to make notation thereon of the lien relationship claim of the person paying such taxes. It shall be the duty of the county auditor in such cases to index and record such receipts in the same manner as provided for the recording of liens on real estate, upon the payment to the county auditor of the county wherein the real estate is situated, of the sum of fifty cents ($0.50) appropriate recording fees by the person presenting the same for recording: AND PROVIDED FURTHER, That in the event the above provision be not complied with, the lien created by any such payment shall be subordinate to the liens of all mortgages or encumbrances upon such real property, which are senior to the mortgage or other lien of the person making such payment.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 24. This act takes effect August 1, 1999.”

Providing a retirement option for certain retirement system members.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Fraser, the following Committee on Ways and Means striking amendment was adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

“NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 41.32 RCW under the subchapter heading “Plan 1” to read as follows:

A member may make the irrevocable election under this section no later than six months after attaining thirty years of service. The election shall become effective at the beginning of the calendar month following department receipt of employee notification.

(1) The sum of member contributions made for periods of service after the effective date of the election plus seven and one-half percent interest shall be paid to the member at retirement without a reduction in the member's monthly retirement benefit as determined under RCW 41.32.498.

(2) Upon retirement, the member's benefit shall be calculated using only the earnable compensation credited prior to the effective date of the member's election. Calculation of the member's average earnable compensation shall include eligible cashouts of annual leave based on the member's salary and leave accumulations at the time of retirement, except that the amount of a member’s average earnable compensation cannot be higher than if the member had not taken advantage of the election offered under this section.

(3) Members who have already earned thirty years of service credit prior to the effective date of this act may participate in the election by notifying the department in writing of their intention by December 31, 1999.

The department shall continue to collect employer contributions as required in RCW 41.45.060.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 41.40 RCW under the subchapter heading “Plan 1” to read as follows:

A member may make the irrevocable election under this section no later than six months after attaining thirty years of service. The election shall become effective at the beginning of the calendar month following department receipt of employee notification.

(1) The sum of member contributions made for periods of service after the effective date of the election plus seven and one-half percent interest shall be paid to the member at retirement without a reduction in the member's monthly retirement benefit as determined under RCW 41.40.185.

(2) Upon retirement, the member's benefit shall be calculated using only the compensation earnable credited prior to the effective date of the member's election. Calculation of the member's average final compensation shall include eligible cash-outs of sick and annual leave based on the member's salary and leave accumulations at the time of retirement, except that the amount of a member's average final compensation cannot be higher than if the member had not taken advantage of the election offered under this section.

(3) Members who have already earned thirty years of service credit prior to the effective date of this act may participate in the election by notifying the department in writing of their intention by December 31, 1999.

The department shall continue to collect employer contributions as required in RCW 41.45.060."

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 2107, by House Committee on Natural Resources (originally sponsored by Representatives Anderson and Linville)

Limiting fishing of shrimp.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Jacobsen, the following Committee on Natural Resources, Parks and Recreation striking amendment was adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:
*NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 75.28 RCW to read as follows:

The legislature finds that it is in the public interest to convert the Puget Sound shrimp fishery from the status of an emerging fishery to that of a limited entry fishery. The purpose of this act is to initiate this conversion, recognizing that additional details associated with the shrimp fishery limited entry program will need to be developed. The legislature intends to complete the development of the laws associated with this limited entry fishery program during the next regular legislative session and will consider recommendations from the industry and the department during this program.

Sec. 2. RCW 75.28.130 and 1994 c 260 s 14 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) This section establishes commercial fishery licenses required for shellfish fisheries and the annual fees for those licenses. The director may issue a limited-entry commercial fishery license only to a person who meets the qualifications established in applicable governing sections of this title.

Puget Sound
(2) The director may by rule determine the species of shellfish that may be taken with the commercial fishery licenses established in this section, the gear that may be used with the licenses, and the areas or waters in which the licenses may be used. Where a fishery license has been established for a particular species, gear, geographical area, or combination thereof, a more general fishery license may not be used to take shellfish in that fishery.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 75.30 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The Puget Sound shrimp emerging fishery management regime is converted from an emerging fishery status to a limited entry fishery status effective January 1, 2000.

(2) Effective January 1, 2000, a person shall not fish for shrimp taken from Puget Sound for commercial purposes with shrimp pot gear except under the provisions of a shrimp pot-Puget Sound fishery license issued under RCW 75.28.130.

(3) Effective January 1, 2000, a shrimp pot-Puget Sound fishery license shall only be issued to a natural person who held an emerging commercial fishery license and Puget Sound shrimp pot experimental fishery permit during 1999. Beginning January 1, 2001, a shrimp pot-Puget Sound fishery license shall only be issued to a natural person who held a shrimp pot-Puget Sound fishery license during the previous year.

(4) Shrimp pot-Puget Sound fishery licenses are nontransferable.

(5) The department, by rule, may set licensee participation requirements for Puget Sound shellfish pot shrimp harvest.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 75.30 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The Puget Sound shrimp emerging fishery management regime is converted from an emerging fishery status to a limited entry fishery status effective January 1, 2000.

(2) Effective January 1, 2000, a person shall not fish for shrimp taken from Puget Sound for commercial purposes with shrimp trawl gear except under the provisions of a shrimp trawl-Puget Sound fishery license issued under RCW 75.28.130.

(3) Effective January 1, 2000, a shrimp trawl-Puget Sound fishery license shall only be issued to a natural person who held an emerging commercial fishery license and Puget Sound shrimp trawl experimental fishery permit during 1999. Beginning January 1, 2001, a shrimp trawl-Puget Sound fishery license shall only be issued to a natural person who held a shrimp trawl-Puget Sound fishery license during the previous licensing year.

(4) The department, by rule, may set licensee participation requirements for Puget Sound shellfish trawl shrimp harvest.

(5) Shrimp trawl-Puget Sound fishery licenses are nontransferable.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 5. The department of fish and wildlife and the Puget Sound shrimp fishing industry shall work cooperatively to refine the limited entry management program for the Puget Sound shrimp fishery. The department shall make recommendations to the natural resources committee of the house of representatives and the natural resources committee of the senate by December 31, 1999, on the details of the limited entry program, including a plan for converting from nontransferable to transferable licenses."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Patterson, the following Committee on State and Local Government striking amendment was adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 43.46.015 and 1985 c 317 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

There is hereby created the Washington state information services board. The board shall be composed of (thirteen) fifteen members. Eight members shall be appointed by the governor, one of whom shall be a representative of higher education, one of whom shall be a representative of an agency under a state-wide elected official other than the governor, and two of whom shall be representatives of the private sector. One member shall represent the judicial branch and be appointed by the chief justice of the supreme court. One member shall be the superintendent of public instruction or shall be appointed by the superintendent of public instruction. (One) two members shall represent the house of representatives and shall be selected by the speaker of the house of representatives with one representative chosen from each caucus of the house of representatives; (one) two members shall represent the senate and shall be appointed by the president of the senate with one representative chosen from each caucus of the senate. (The representatives of the house of representatives and senate shall not be from the same political party.) One member shall be the director who shall be a voting member of the board. These members shall constitute the membership of the board with full voting rights. Members of the board shall serve at the pleasure of the appointing authority. The board shall select a chairperson from among its members.

Vacancies shall be filled in the same manner that the original appointments were made.

A majority of the members of the board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

Members of the board shall be compensated for service on the board in accordance with RCW 43.03.240 and shall be reimbursed for travel expenses as provided in RCW 43.03.050 and 43.03.060.

Sec. 2. RCW 90.71.032 and 1996 c 138 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) There is established the Puget Sound council composed of (eleven) fourteen members. Seven members shall be appointed by the governor. In making these appointments, the governor shall include representation from business, the environmental community, agriculture, the shellfish industry, counties, cities, and the tribes. (One) two members shall be (one) members of the senate selected by the president of the senate with one member selected from each caucus in the senate, and (one) two members shall be (one) members of the house of representatives selected by the speaker of the house of representatives with one member selected from each caucus in the house of representatives. The legislative members shall be nonvoting members of the council. Appointments to the council shall reflect geographical balance and the diversity of population within the Puget Sound basin. Members shall serve four-year terms. Of the initial members appointed to the council, two shall serve for two years, two shall serve for three years, and two shall serve for four years. Thereafter members shall be appointed to four-year terms. Vacancies shall be filled by appointment in the same manner as the original appointment for the remainder of the unexpired term of the position being vacated. Nonlegislative members shall be reimbursed for travel expenses as provided in RCW 43.03.050 and 43.03.060. Legislative members shall be reimbursed as provided in RCW 44.04.120.

The bill was read the second time.
(2) The council shall:
(a) Recommend to the action team projects and activities for inclusion in the biennial work plan;
(b) Recommend to the action team coordination of work plan activities with other relevant activities, including but not limited to, agencies’ activities other than those funded through the plan, local plan initiatives, and governmental and nongovernmental watershed restoration and protection activities; and
(c) Recommend to the action team proposed amendments to the Puget Sound management plan.
(3) The chair of the action team shall convene the council at least four times per year and shall jointly convene the council and the action team at least two times per year.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Benton: "I rise to a point of personal privilege. I would like to point out to the members of the body that today and yesterday, we have been confirming some rather historical appointments. For the first time ever, in the history of the state of Washington, we have been confirming student trustees to university boards of trustees. We just completed the confirmation of Adrienne Thompson and a few minutes earlier this morning, Aaron Gutierrez, and yesterday, there were others. This is very historical. It was a bill that was worked on for a number of years and finally last year the House and Senate approved this process and the Governor signed the legislation.

"Twenty years ago, in 1979, I had the great honor and privilege of serving as one of the first student trustees--on a community college board of trustees in Southern California. I can tell you it was a terrific learning experience and I believe these students will bring a new and different perspective to the boards of trustees--a much needed one. I believe--because, after all, the customers, the people that these universities serve, are indeed the students themselves.

"I didn't want this to pass today without pointing out to the Senate that it is very historical and I want to wish these young people the very best of luck in their service to their universities in their new capacities. Thank you, Mr. President."

Debate ensued.

SECOND READING

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1848, by House Committee on Local Government (originally sponsored by Representatives Grant, Mastin and Dunn)

Clarifying the authority of port districts.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Gardner, the following Committee on State and Local Government striking amendment was adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. Article VIII, section 8 of the Washington state Constitution authorizes the use of public funds by port districts in such manner as the legislature may prescribe for industrial development or trade promotion. The legislature recognizes a growing need for a Washington port district that is located in a county that has a contiguous border with another state, and a population between fifty and seventy thousand, to participate with other public agencies of this state and an adjoining state to attract, encourage, and develop industry and promote trade on both sides of their borders, for the economic benefit to the state of Washington. RCW 53.08.240 authorizes agreements between two or more port districts for the exercise of powers both within and outside their districts, and further authorizes contracts by port districts with other governmental entities. The interlocal cooperation act, chapter 39.34 RCW, also authorizes joint agreements and contracts between port districts and other state and local public agencies including political subdivisions of other states. However, there is uncertainty as to whether or not a port district that is located in a county that has a contiguous border with another state, and a population between fifty and seventy thousand, may exercise industrial development or trade promotion powers outside the district or state boundaries except jointly with another Washington port district.

The purpose of this act is to define and clarify the authority of a Washington port district that is located in a county that has a contiguous border with another state, and a population between fifty and seventy thousand, to exercise those powers jointly or in cooperation with other public agencies when found to be necessary and beneficial to the people of this state.

Sec. 2. RCW 53.04.010 and 1963 c 147 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Port districts are hereby authorized to be established in the various counties of the state for the purposes of acquisition, construction, maintenance, operation, development and regulation within the district of harbor improvements, rail or motor vehicle transfer and terminal facilities, water transfer and terminal facilities, air transfer and terminal facilities, or any combination of such transfer and terminal facilities, and other commercial transportation, transfer, handling, storage and terminal facilities, and industrial improvements.

(2) Powers of a port district that is located in a county that has a contiguous border with another state, and a population between fifty and seventy thousand, shall be exercised within the district, except as otherwise provided by statute or pursuant to an interlocal cooperation agreement with another public agency as defined in chapter 39.34 RCW. In addition to other requirements of chapter 39.34 RCW, such an interlocal cooperation agreement may involve the exercise of a port district's powers for a port district that is located in a county that has contiguous borders with another state, and a population between fifty and seventy thousand, outside the boundaries of the state of Washington in whole or in part only if found, by resolution of the port district commission exercising such authority, to be reasonably necessary for the effective exercise of the port district's statutory powers and for the benefit of the inhabitants of the district and the state of Washington. The resolution may be adopted only after a public hearing of which notice has been published in a newspaper of general circulation within the district at least ten days in advance.

Sec. 3. RCW 53.08.240 and 1961 c 24 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Any two or more port districts shall have the power, by mutual agreement, to exercise jointly all powers granted to each individual district, and in the exercise of such powers shall have the right and power to acquire jointly all lands, property, property rights, leases, or easements necessary for their purposes, either entirely within or partly within or partly without or entirely without such districts: PROVIDED, That any two or more districts so acting jointly, by mutual agreement, shall not acquire any real property or real property rights in any other port district without the consent of such district.

(2) A district may enter into any contract with the United States, or any state, county, or municipal corporation, or any department of those entities, for carrying out any of the powers that each of the contracting parties may by law exercise separately.

(3)(a) A port district that is located in a county that has a contiguous border with another state, and a population between fifty and seventy thousand, may enter into any contract that each of the contracting parties may by law exercise separately with, including but not limited to, municipal corporations of adjoining states.

(b) In addition to other powers granted by statute, a port district that is located in a county that has a contiguous border with another state, and a population between fifty and seventy thousand, may enter into agreements with the United States or any of its agencies, or with any state, or with any municipal corporation of this state or of an adjoining state, for exercising jointly or cooperatively within or outside the district, in whole or in part, any of the powers that each of the contracting parties may by law exercise separately, for the promotion or development of trade or industry. Such powers may be exercised outside the boundaries of this state only after a public hearing of which notice has been published in a newspaper of general circulation within the district at least ten days in advance, and pursuant to findings and a resolution by the port district's commission that: (i) The undertaking and the district's participation in it will substantially benefit the district and the state of Washington; and (ii) the districts' share of the cost will not exceed an amount calculated by dividing the total cost of the undertaking by the number of participants.”

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Gardner, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 2 of the title, after “limits;” strike the remainder of the title and insert “amending RCW 53.04.010 and 53.08.240; and creating a new section.”

On motion of Senator Gardner, the rules were suspended, Substitute House Bill No. 1848, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Substitute House Bill No. 1848, as amended by the Senate.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Substitute House Bill No. 1848, as amended by the Senate, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 48; Nays, 1; Absent, 0; Excused, 0.

Voting yea: Senators Bauer, Benton, Brown, Costa, Deccio, Eide, Fairley, Finkbeiner, Franklin, Fraser, Gardner, Goings, Hale, Hargrove, Haugen, Heavey, Hochstatter, Honeyford, Horn, Jacobsen, Johnson, Kline, Kohl-Welles, Long, Loveland, McAuliffe, Voting nay: Senator Patterson - 1.

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1848, as amended by the Senate, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

MOTION

At 10:33 a.m., on motion of Senator Betti Sheldon, the Senate was declared to be at ease.

The Senate was called to order at 11:45 a.m. by President Owen.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Franklin, the following resolution was adopted:

SENATE RESOLUTION 1999-8654

By Senators Franklin, Spanel, B. Sheldon, Roach and Benton

WHEREAS, In 1839, fifty-three Africans from modern-day Sierra Leone were kidnapped and illegally sold into the Spanish slave trade; and
WHEREAS, After enduring an horrific voyage to Cuba, the Africans mutinied and took over the ship known as the Amistad; and
WHEREAS, The Amistad set sail for Africa, but ended up off the coast of New England; and
WHEREAS, A group of abolitionists took up the Africans’ cause and there ensued a lengthy court battle for the Africans’ freedom; and
WHEREAS, The case was ultimately argued before the United States Supreme Court; and
WHEREAS, The Supreme Court agreed with the plaintiffs, the Africans won their case in 1841, and were remanded their freedom; and
WHEREAS, The Amistad affair unified the abolitionists and advanced their cause, and civil libertarians increasingly used the judicial system to press their case, laying the groundwork for the abolition of slavery and the subsequent modern Civil Rights Movement; and
WHEREAS, A key legacy of the Amistad affair is the network of schools and colleges founded for the purpose of educating black Americans and giving them the means to pursue their rights, a practice which began during the Amistad trials and continues to this day; and
WHEREAS, A nonprofit educational foundation, Amistad America, is dedicated to maintaining the legacy of the Amistad incident and teaching the lessons of history, leadership, and cooperation through the use of the reproduced schooner Amistad; and
WHEREAS, Timber from the Pacific Northwest is essential for the completion of the Amistad’s masts; and
WHEREAS, Employees of the Department of Natural Resources, through their Workforce Diversity Program, have raised over $1,000 in contributions toward the purchase of selected timber for the Amistad Schooner;
NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington State Senate commend and thank the employees of the Department of Natural Resources for their efforts to heighten awareness of diversity issues in our country and for raising donations to assist the Amistad America Project; and
BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Secretary of the Senate do hereby immediately transmit copies of this resolution to the Department of Natural Resources and to Amistad America.

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President welcomed and introduced employees of the Department of Natural Resources, who were seated in the gallery. The guests joined others in raising donations to assist the Amistad America Project.
MOTION

On motion of Senator Betti Sheldon, the Senate reverted to the fourth order of business.

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1068, by House Committee on Criminal Justice and Corrections (originally sponsored by Representatives Ballasiotes, O'Brien, Lambert, Mitchell, Kessler, Esser and Lovick)

Ensuring that prosecuting attorneys and law enforcement agencies have a meaningful role in the clemency process.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION
On motion of Senator Costa, the following Committee on Human Services and Corrections striking amendment was adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The pardoning power is vested in the governor under such regulations and restrictions as may be prescribed by law. To assist the governor in gathering the facts necessary to the wise exercise of this power, the legislature created the clemency and pardons board.

In recognition of the severe and detrimental impact of crime on victims, survivors of victims, and witnesses of crime, an intelligent recommendation on an application for clemency is dependent upon input from the victims and survivors of victims of crimes. It is the intent of the legislature to ensure that all victims and survivors of victims of crimes are afforded a meaningful role in the clemency process.

The impact of the crime on the community must also be assessed when passing upon an application for clemency. The prosecuting attorney who obtained the conviction and the law enforcement agency that conducted the investigation are uniquely situated to provide an accurate account of the offense and the impact felt by the community as a result of the offense. It is the intent of the legislature to ensure that the prosecuting attorney who obtained the conviction and the law enforcement agency that conducted the investigation are afforded a meaningful role in the clemency process.

Sec. 2. RCW 7.69.030 and 1997 c 343 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

There shall be a reasonable effort made to ensure that victims, survivors of victims, and witnesses of crimes have the following rights:

(1) With respect to victims of violent or sex crimes, to receive, at the time of reporting the crime to law enforcement officials, a written statement of the rights of crime victims as provided in this chapter. The written statement shall include the name, address, and telephone number of a county or local crime victim/witness program, if such a crime victim/witness program exists in the county;

(2) To be informed by local law enforcement agencies or the prosecuting attorney of the final disposition of the case in which the victim, survivor, or witness is involved;

(3) To be notified by the party who issued the subpoena that a court proceeding to which they have been subpoenaed will not occur as scheduled, in order to save the person an unnecessary trip to court;

(4) To receive protection from harm and threats of harm arising out of cooperation with law enforcement and prosecution efforts, and to be provided with information as to the level of protection available;

(5) To be informed of the procedure to be followed to apply for and receive any witness fees to which they are entitled;

(6) To be provided, whenever practical, a secure waiting area during court proceedings that does not require them to be in close proximity to defendants and families or friends of defendants;

(7) To have any stolen or other personal property expeditiously returned by law enforcement agencies or the superior court when no longer needed as evidence. When feasible, all such property, except weapons, currency, contraband, property subject to evidentiary analysis, and property of which ownership is disputed, shall be photographed and returned to the owner within ten days of being taken;

(8) To be provided with appropriate employer intercession services to ensure that employers of victims, survivors of victims, and witnesses of crime will cooperate with the criminal justice process in order to minimize an employee’s loss of pay and other benefits resulting from court appearance;

(9) To access to immediate medical assistance and not to be detained for an unreasonable length of time by a law enforcement agency before having such assistance administered. However, an employee of the law enforcement agency may, if necessary, accompany the person to a medical facility to question the person about the criminal incident if the questioning does not hinder the administration of medical assistance;

(10) With respect to victims of violent and sex crimes, to have a crime victim advocate from a crime victim/witness program present at any prosecutorial or defense interviews with the victim, and at any judicial proceedings related to criminal acts committed against the victim. This subsection applies if practical and if the presence of the crime victim advocate does not cause any unnecessary delay in the investigation or prosecution of the case. The role of the crime victim advocate is to provide emotional support to the crime victim;

(11) With respect to victims and survivors of victims, to be physically present in court during trial, or if subpoenaed to testify, to be scheduled as early as practical in the proceedings in order to be physically present during trial after testifying and not to be excluded solely because they have testified;

(12) With respect to victims and survivors of victims, to be informed by the prosecuting attorney of the date, time, and place of the trial and of the sentencing hearing for felony convictions upon request by a victim or survivor;
(13) To submit a victim impact statement or report to the court, with the assistance of the prosecuting attorney if requested, which shall be included in all presentence reports and permanently included in the files and records accompanying the offender committed to the custody of a state agency or institution;

(14) With respect to victims and survivors of victims, to present a statement personally or by representation, at the sentencing hearing for felony convictions;

(15) With respect to victims and survivors of victims, to entry of an order of restitution by the court in all felony cases, even when the offender is sentenced to confinement, unless extraordinary circumstances exist which make restitution inappropriate in the court's judgment; and

(16) With respect to victims and survivors of victims, to present a statement in person, via audio or videotape, in writing or by representation at any hearing conducted regarding an application for pardon or commutation of sentence.

Sec. 3. RCW 9.94A.260 and 1989 c 214 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The clemency and pardons board shall receive petitions from individuals, organizations, and the department for review and commutation of sentences and pardoning of offenders in extraordinary cases, and shall make recommendations thereon to the governor.

(2) The board shall receive petitions from individuals or organizations for the restoration of civil rights lost by operation of state law as a result of convictions for federal offenses or out-of-state felonies. The board may issue certificates of restoration limited to the elective rights to vote and to engage in political office. Any certifications granted by the board must be filed with the secretary of state to be effective. In all other cases, the board shall make recommendations to the governor.

(3) The board shall not recommend that the governor grant clemency under subsection (1) of this section until a public hearing has been held on the petition. The prosecuting attorney of the county where the conviction was obtained shall be notified at least thirty days prior to the scheduled hearing that a petition has been filed and the date and place at which the hearing on the petition will be held. The board may waive the thirty-day notice requirement in cases where it determines that waiver is necessary to permit timely action on the petition. A copy of the petition shall be sent to the prosecuting attorney. The prosecuting attorney shall make reasonable efforts to notify victims, survivors of victims, witnesses, and the law enforcement agency or agencies that conducted the investigation, of the date and place of the hearing. Information regarding victims, survivors of victims, or witnesses receiving this notice are confidential and shall not be available to the offender. The board shall consider written, oral, audio, or videotaped statements regarding the petition received, personally or by representation, from the individuals who receive notice pursuant to this section. This subsection is intended solely for the guidance of the board. Nothing in this section is intended or may be relied upon to create a right or benefit, substantive or procedural, enforceable at law by any person.

Sec. 4. RCW 9.95.260 and 1981 c 136 s 44 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) It shall be the duty of the indeterminate sentence review board ((of prison terms and paroles)), when requested by the governor, to pass on the representations made in support of applications for pardons for convicted persons and to make recommendations thereon to the governor.

(2) It will be the duty of the secretary of corrections to exercise supervision over such convicted persons as have been conditionally pardoned by the governor, to the end that such persons shall faithfully comply with the conditions of such pardons. The indeterminate sentence review board ((of prison terms and paroles)) shall also pass on any representations made in support of applications for restoration of civil rights of convicted persons, and make recommendations to the governor. The department of corrections shall prepare materials and make investigations requested by the indeterminate sentence review board ((of prison terms and paroles)) in order to assist the board in passing on the representations made in support of applications for pardon or for the restoration of civil rights.

(3) The board shall make no recommendations to the governor in support of an application for pardon until a public hearing has been held under this section or RCW 9.94A.260(3) upon the application. The prosecuting attorney of the county where the conviction was obtained shall be notified at least thirty days prior to the scheduled hearing that an application for pardon has been filed and the date and place at which the hearing on the application for pardon will be held. The board may waive the thirty-day notice requirement in cases where it determines that waiver is necessary to permit timely action on the petition. A copy of the application for pardon shall be sent to the prosecuting attorney. The prosecuting attorney shall make reasonable efforts to notify victims, survivors of victims, witnesses, and the law enforcement agency or agencies that conducted the investigation of the date and place of the hearing. Information regarding victims, survivors of victims, or witnesses receiving this notice are confidential and shall not be available to the offender. The board shall consider written, oral, audio, or videotaped statements regarding the application for pardon received, personally or by representation, from the individuals who receive notice pursuant to this section. This subsection is intended solely for the guidance of the board. Nothing in this section is intended or may be relied upon to create a right or benefit, substantive or procedural, enforceable at law by any person."

SECOND READING
HOUSE BILL NO. 1394, by Representatives Hurst, Constantine, Lambert, Sheahan, McDonald, Lovick, H. Sommers, Dickerson, Kenney and Esser

Making the defense of duress unavailable for the crime of homicide by abuse.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Deccio moved that the following amendment by Senators Deccio, McCaslin, Costa, Rossi, Fairley, Winsley and Betti Sheldon be adopted:

On page 2, after line 2, insert the following:

“Sec. 1. RCW 9A.32.055 and 1987 c 187 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A person is guilty of homicide by abuse if, under circumstances manifesting an extreme indifference to human life, the person withholds necessary medical treatment or by other means causes the death of a child or person under sixteen years of age, a developmentally disabled person, or a dependent adult, and the person has previously engaged in a pattern or practice of assault or torture of said child, person under sixteen years of age, developmentally disabled person, or dependent person.

(2) As used in this section, "dependent adult" means a person who, because of physical or mental disability, or because of extreme advanced age, is dependent upon another person to provide the basic necessities of life.

(3) Homicide by abuse is a class A felony.”

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Franklin: "Senator Deccio, I just need some clarification in regards with what happens to life support? You know a lot of times the--if the child under sixteen--let's take an example. In an auto accident, if the child was severely injured, comatose and on life support and then in consultation with the family, the doctor, in turn, or even the family will ask that that child be removed from life support. You have in your amendment, 'or by other means,' which would mean life support. Would you clarify how this would work?"

Senator Deccio: "The basic statute deals with abuse. I don't think a situation that you are describing would be the definition of abuse according to that statute. So, I think that really would not occur."

Further debate ensued.

MOTION TO WITHDRAW AMENDMENT

On motion of Senator Deccio, and there being no objection, the amendment by Senators Deccio, McCaslin, Costa, Rossi, Fairley, Winsley and Betti Sheldon on page 2, after line 2, to House Bill No. 1394 was withdrawn.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hargrove: “Senator Sellar, I was looking at just the bill report. I am sorry I didn’t get to the bill. It talks about, ‘replaced by state waters.’ I believe that ‘state waters’ is larger than just those two areas you referred to, covering many of the fresh water rivers, and other places in our state. Is the definition in the bill definitely limited to those two lakes?”

Senator Sellar: “Yes, the other state waters are navigable and fall under the coast guard regulations. These two lakes are not navigable; they are reservoirs behind dams.”

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of House Bill No. 1996.

SECOND READING

HOUSE BILL NO. 2226, by Representative Tokuda

Eliminating eligibility standards retained from the aid to dependent children program under the temporary assistance for needy families program.

The bill was read the second time.
On motion of Senator Fairley, the following Committee on Labor and Workforce Development striking amendment was adopted:

MOTION

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 74.12.010 and 1997 c 59 s 16 are each amended to read as follows:

For the purposes of the administration of temporary assistance for needy families, the term "dependent child" means any child in need under the age of eighteen years who is living with a relative as specified under federal temporary assistance for needy families program requirements, in a place of residence maintained by one or more of such relatives as his or their homes. The term a "dependent child" shall, notwithstanding the foregoing, also include a child who would meet such requirements except for his removal from the home of a relative specified above as a result of a judicial determination that continuation therein would be contrary to the welfare of such child, for whose placement and care the state department of social and health services or the county office is responsible, and who has been placed in a licensed or approved child care institution or foster home as a result of such determination and who: (1) Was receiving an aid to families with dependent children for the month in which court proceedings leading to such determination were initiated; or (2) would have received aid to families with dependent children for such month if application had been made therefor; or (3) in the case of a child who had been living with a specified relative within six months prior to the month in which such proceedings were initiated, would have received aid to families with dependent children for such month if in such month he had been living with such a relative and application had been made therefor, as authorized by the Social Security Act(Provided that to the extent authorized by the legislature in the biennial appropriations act and to the extent that matching funds are available from the federal government, temporary assistance for needy families assistance shall be available to any child in need who has been deprived of parental support or care by reason of the unemployment of a parent or stepparent liable under this chapter for support of the child).

"Temporary assistance for needy families" means money payments, services, and remedial care with respect to a dependent child or dependent children and the needy parent or relative with whom the child lives (and may include another parent or stepparent of the dependent child if living with the parent and if the child is a dependent child by reason of the physical or mental incapacity or unemployment of a parent or stepparent liable under this chapter for the support of such child)).

Sec. 2. RCW 74.12.035 and 1997 c 59 s 18 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) (A family or assistance unit is not eligible for aid for any month if for that month the total income of the family or assistance unit, without application of income disregards, exceeds one hundred eighty-five percent of the state standard of need for a family of the same composition: Provided, That for the purposes of determining the total income of the family or assistance unit, the earned income of a dependent child who is a full-time student for whom temporary assistance for needy families is being provided shall be disregarded for six months per calendar year.

(2) Participation in a strike does not constitute good cause to leave or to refuse to seek or accept employment. Assistance is not payable to a family for any month in which any caretaker relative with whom the child is living is, on the last day of the month, participating in a strike. An individual's need shall not be included in determining the amount of aid payable for any month to a family or assistance unit if, on the last day of the month, the individual is participating in a strike.

(3) Children over eighteen years of age and under nineteen years of age who are full-time students reasonably expected to complete a program of secondary school, or the equivalent level of vocational or technical training, before reaching nineteen years of age are eligible to receive temporary assistance for needy families: PROVIDED HOWEVER, That if such students do not successfully complete such program before reaching nineteen years of age, the assistance rendered under this subsection during such period shall not be a debt due the state.

(2) Children with disabilities who are eighteen years of age and under twenty-one years of age and who are full-time students whose education is being provided in accordance with RCW 28A.155.020 are eligible to receive temporary assistance for needy families benefits.

(3) The department is authorized to grant exceptions to the eligibility restrictions for children eighteen years of age and under twenty-one years of age under subsection (1) and (2) of this section only when it determines by reasonable, objective criteria that such exceptions are likely to enable the children to complete their high school education, general equivalency diploma or vocational education.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. RCW 74.12.036 and 1997 c 59 s 19 & 1994 c 299 s 11 are each repealed.

Sec. 4. RCW 74.08A.120 and 1997 c 57 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The department may establish a food assistance program for ([persons whose immigrant status meets the eligibility requirements of the federal food stamp program, but who are no longer eligible solely due to their immigrant status under P.L. 104-193]) legal immigrants who are ineligible for the federal food stamp program.
(2) The rules for the state food assistance program shall follow exactly the rules of the federal food stamp program except for the provisions pertaining to immigrant status (under P.L. 104-193).

(3) The benefit under the state food assistance program shall be established by the legislature in the biennial operating budget.

(4) The department may enter into a contract with the United States department of agriculture to use the existing federal food stamp program coupon system for the purposes of administering the state food assistance program.

(5) In the event the department is unable to enter into a contract with the United States department of agriculture, the department may issue vouchers to eligible households for the purchase of eligible foods at participating retailers.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Fairley, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 3 of the title, after “program;” strike the remainder of the title and insert “amending RCW 74.12.010, 74.12.035, and 74.08A.120; and repealing RCW 74.12.036.”

On motion of Senator Fairley, the rules were suspended, House Bill No. 2226, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of House Bill No. 2226, as amended by the Senate.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of House Bill No. 2226, as amended by the Senate, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 42; Nays, 6; Absent, 0; Excused, 1.

Voting nay: Senators Deccio, Johnson, McDonald, Rossi, Sellar and Stevens - 6.

Excused: Senator Morton - 1.

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 2226, as amended by the Senate, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING

HOUSE BILL NO. 1936, by Representatives Tokuda, Boldt, D. Sommers and Santos

Requiring employability screening for recipients of temporary assistance for needy families.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Fairley moved that the following Committee on Labor and Workforce Development striking amendment be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

“Sec. 1. RCW 74.08A.010 and 1997 c 58 s 103 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A family that includes an adult who has received temporary assistance for needy families for sixty months after July 27, 1997, shall be ineligible for further temporary assistance for needy families assistance. The number of recipients exempted or deferred from the time limit in this subsection shall not exceed twenty percent of the temporary assistance for needy families caseload.

(2) For the purposes of applying the rules of this section, the department shall count any month in which an adult family member received a temporary assistance for needy families cash assistance grant unless the assistance was provided when the family member was a minor child and not the head of the household or married to the head of the household or the recipient received a deferral under section 2 of this act.”
The department shall refer recipients who require specialized assistance to appropriate department programs, crime victim's programs through the department of community, trade, and economic development, or the crime victim's compensation program of the department of labor and industries.

The department may exempt a recipient and the recipient's family from the application of subsection (1) of this section by reason of hardship or if the recipient meets the family violence options of section 402(A)(7) of Title IVA of the federal social security act as amended by P.L. 104-193. The number of recipients and their families exempted from subsection (1) of this section for a fiscal year shall not exceed twenty percent of the average monthly number of recipients and their families to which assistance is provided under the temporary assistance for needy families program.

The department shall not exempt a recipient and his or her family from the application of subsection (1) of this section until after the recipient has received fifty months of assistance under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 74.08A RCW to read as follows:

Each recipient approved to receive temporary assistance for needy families shall be subject to an employability screen as a condition of eligibility. If the employability screen determines the recipient meets the criteria specified in RCW 74.08A.270 for a good cause exemption to work requirements the department shall defer the work requirement under RCW 74.08A.260, as long as the condition of the recipient that causes him or her to meet the exemption criteria exists. When the condition ceases to exist, the exemption terminates.

All recipients not deferred shall be placed in the job search component. Failure to participate in the job search component shall result in sanctions as provided in RCW 74.08A.260. If a recipient fails to find employment during the job search component, the department may refer the recipient to those work activities that are directly related to improving the recipient's employability.

The department shall adopt rules providing for the review of recipients granted deferrals under this section.

Sec. 3. RCW 74.08A.260 and 1997 c 58 s 313 are each amended to read as follows:

(a) Through the end of the job search component authorized in section 312 of this act shall be referred to a work activity.

Each recipient shall be assessed immediately upon completion of the job search component. Assessments shall be based upon factors that are critical to obtaining employment, including but not limited to education, employment strengths, and employment history. Assessments may be performed by the department or by a contracted entity. The assessment shall be based on a uniform, consistent, transferable format that will be accepted by all agencies and organizations serving the recipient. Based on the assessment, an individual responsibility plan shall be prepared that: (a) Sets forth an employment goal and a plan for moving the recipient immediately into employment; (b) contains the obligation of the recipient to become and remain employed; (c) moves the recipient into whatever employment the recipient is capable of handling as quickly as possible; and (d) describes the services available to the recipient to enable the recipient to obtain and keep employment.

Recipients who are not engaged in work and work activities, and do not qualify for a good cause exemption under RCW 74.08A.270, shall engage in self-directed service as provided in RCW 74.08A.330.

If a recipient refuses to engage in work and work activities required by the department, the family's grant shall be reduced by the recipient's share, and may, if the department determines it appropriate, be terminated.

The department may waive the penalties required under subsection (3) of this section, subject to a finding that the recipient refused to engage in work for good cause provided in RCW 74.08A.270.

In implementing this section, the department shall assign the highest priority to the most employable clients, including adults in two-parent families and parents in single-parent families that include older preschool or school-age children to be engaged in work activities.

In consultation with the recipient, the department or contractor shall place the recipient into a work activity that is available in the local area where the recipient resides.

The department shall encourage and facilitate placement of recipients into apprenticeships or preapprenticeship training programs.

Sec. 4. RCW 74.08A.270 and 1997 c 58 s 314 are each amended to read as follows:

Good cause reasons for failure to participate in WorkFirst program components include: (a) Situations where the recipient is a parent or other relative personally providing care for a child under the age of six years, and formal or informal child care, or day care for an incapacitated individual living in the same home as a dependent child, is necessary for an individual to participate or continue participation in the program or accept employment, and such care is not available, and the department fails to provide such care; or (b) if the recipient is a parent with a child under the age of one year. A parent may only receive this exemption for a total of twelve months, which may be consecutive or nonconsecutive; or (c) if the recipient is a victim of domestic violence; or (d) if the recipient is incapacitated; or (e) if the recipient is caring for an incapacitated child; or (f) if the recipient is fifty-five years of age or older and is the grandparent or nonparent relative of the dependent child.

(2) For purposes of this section, domestic violence victimization must be documented by either a protection order or a written confirmation of treatment by a health care professional licensed under chapter 18.57, 18.57A, 18.71, 18.71A, 18.79, or 18.83 RCW for the effects of domestic violence. Incapacity of a recipient or child must be documented by medical or psychiatric clinical evidence, confirmed in writing by a health care professional licensed under chapter 18.57, 18.57A, 18.71, 18.71A, 18.79, or 18.83 RCW.

(3) When the domestic violence victimization or the incapacity of the recipient or child no longer exist, the good cause deferral under this section terminates. The department shall notify the recipient of the termination of the good cause exemption.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 74.08A RCW to read as follows:

Recipients who are not required to meet work requirements under RCW 74.08A.270 shall receive grants, child care, and related services that are not supported by the temporary assistance for needy families block grant.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. If any part of this act is found to be in conflict with federal requirements that are a prescribed condition to the allocation of federal funds to the state, the conflicting part of this act is inoperative solely to the extent of the conflict and with respect to the agencies directly affected, and this finding does not affect the operation of the remainder of this act in its application to the agencies concerned. Rules adopted under this act must meet federal requirements that are a necessary condition to the receipt of federal funds by the state."

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the Committee on Labor and Workforce Development striking amendment to House Bill No. 1936.

The motion by Senator Fairley carried and the committee striking amendment was adopted on a rising vote.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Fairley, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 2 of the title, after "families;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "amending RCW 74.08A.010, 74.08A.260, and 74.08A.270; adding new sections to chapter 74.08A RCW; and creating a new section."

On motion of Senator Fairley, the rules were suspended, House Bill No. 1936, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Hochstatter: "A point of order, Mr. President. I ask that the speaker address the bill at hand. Thank you."

Further debate ensued

SECOND READING

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1371, by House Committee on Health Care (originally sponsored by Representatives Ruderman, Alexander and O'Brien) (by request of Department of Health)

Modifying provisions that concern the control and prevention of tuberculosis.

The bill was read the second time.
On motion of Senator Thibaudeau, the following Committee on Health and Long Term Care striking amendment was adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. The legislature finds that current statutes relating to the reporting, treatment, and payment for tuberculosis are outdated, and not in concert with current clinical practice and tuberculosis care management. Updating reporting requirements for local health departments will benefit providers, local health, and individuals requiring treatment for tuberculosis.

Section 2. RCW 70.28.010 and 1996 c 209 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

All practicing ([physicians]) health care providers in the state are hereby required to report to the local ([boards of]) health ([in writing, the name, age, sex, occupation and residence]) department cases of every person having tuberculosis who has been attended by, or who has come under the observation of ([such physician]), the health care provider within one day thereof.

Section 3. RCW 70.28.020 and 1967 c 54 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

All local ([boards of]) health departments in this state are hereby required to receive and keep a ([permanent]) record, for a period of ten years from the date of the report, of the reports required by RCW 70.28.010 to be made to them; such records shall not be open to public inspection, but shall be submitted to the proper inspection of other local health departments and ([state boards]) of the department of health alone, and such records shall not be published nor made public.

Section 4. RCW 70.28.037 and 1967 c 54 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

Where it has been determined after an examination as prescribed ([above]) in this chapter that an individual has active tuberculosis, ([and he resides in a county in which no tuberculosis facility is located]) upon application to the superior court by the local health officer, the superior court ([may]) shall order the sheriff to transport ([said]) the individual to a designated ([tuberculosis]) facility for isolation, treatment, and care until such time as the ([medical director of the hospital]) local health officer or designee determines that ([he]) the patient's condition is such that it is safe for ([him]) the patient to be discharged from the facility.

Section 5. RCW 70.30.061 and 1973 1st ex.s. c 213 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

Any person residing in the state and needing treatment for tuberculosis ([may]) may apply in person to the local health officer or to any licensed physician, registered nurse practitioner, or licensed physician assistant for examination and if ([such physician]) that health care provider has reasonable cause to believe that ([said]) the person is suffering from tuberculosis in any form he or she may apply to the local health officer or ([tuberculosis hospital director]) designee for admission of ([said]) the person to an appropriate facility for the care and treatment of tuberculosis.

Section 6. RCW 70.32.010 and 1975 1st ex.s. c 291 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

Tuberculosis is a communicable disease and tuberculosis ([control, case finding]) prevention, treatment, control, and follow up of known cases of tuberculosis ([represent]) are the basic steps in the ([conquest]) control of this major health problem. In order to carry on such work effectively in accordance with the standards set by the secretary ([pursuant to]) under RCW 70.33.020 ([as recodified by this act]), the legislative authority of each county shall budget a sum to be used for the control of tuberculosis, including case finding, prevention, treatment, and follow up of known cases of tuberculosis. Under no circumstances should this section be construed to mean that the legislative authority of each county shall budget sums to provide tuberculosis treatment when the patient has the ability to pay for the treatment. Each patient's ability to pay for the treatment shall be assessed by the local health department.

Section 7. RCW 70.33.010 and 1991 c 3 s 330 are each amended to read as follows:

The definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter ([and RCW 70.32.010, 70.32.060, and 70.32.060]) unless the context clearly ([indicated]) requires otherwise:

1. "Department" means the department of health;
2. "Secretary" means the secretary of the department of health or his or her designee;
3. "Tuberculosis hospital" and "tuberculosis hospital facility" refer to hospitals for the care of persons suffering from tuberculosis;
4. "Tuberculosis control" refers to the procedures administered in the counties for the control ([and]) prevention, and treatment of tuberculosis ([but does not include hospitalization]).

Section 8. RCW 70.33.020 and 1983 c 3 s 172 are each amended to read as follows:

From and after August 9, 1971, The secretary shall have responsibility for establishing standards for the control, prevention, and treatment of tuberculosis and ([shall have administrative responsibility and control for all tuberculosis]) hospitals ([facilities]) approved to treat tuberculosis in the state operated ([pursuant to]) under this chapter and chapter 70.30 RCW ([70.32.010, 70.32.060, and 70.32.060]) and for providing, either directly or through agreement, contract, or purchase, ([hospital, nursing home and other]) appropriate facilities and services ([including laboratory services]) for persons who are, or may be suffering from tuberculosis except as otherwise provided by RCW 70.30.061((70.33.020, 70.33.030, and 70.33.040)) or this section.

(Pursuant to) Under that responsibility, the secretary shall have the following powers and duties:

1. To develop and enter into such agreements, contracts, or purchase arrangements with counties and public and private agencies or institutions to provide for hospitalization, nursing home, or other appropriate facilities and services, including laboratory services, for persons who are or may be suffering from tuberculosis((70.33.020, 70.33.030, and 70.33.040)) for which the secretary determines is necessary to meet the needs of the state, to determine where such hospitals shall be located and to adequately staff such hospitals to meet patient care needs);

2. (To appoint a medical director for each tuberculosis hospital facility operated pursuant to this chapter and RCW 70.32.010, 70.32.050, and 70.32.060);

3. Adopt such rules (and regulations) as are necessary to assure effective patient care and treatment((70.33.020, 70.33.030, and 70.33.040)) of tuberculosis (hospital facilities operated pursuant to this chapter and RCW 70.32.010, 70.32.050, and 70.32.060)).

Sec. 9. RCW 70.33.040 and 1975 1st ex.s. c 291 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

In order to maintain adequate (tuberculosis hospital facilities and to provide for adequate hospitalization, nursing home and other appropriate) facilities and services for the residents of the state of Washington who are or may be suffering from tuberculosis and to assure their proper care, (the standards set by the secretary pursuant to RCW 70.33.020 and 70.32.050 and 70.32.060)) the legislative authority of each county shall budget annually a sum to provide such services in the county.

(If such counties desire to receive state services, they may elect to utilize funds pursuant to this section for the purpose of contracting with the state upon agreement by the state for the cost of providing tuberculosis hospitalization and/or outpatient treatment including laboratory services, or such) The funds may be retained by the county for operating its own services for the prevention and treatment of tuberculosis ((or any other community health purposes authorized by law)). None of ((such)) the counties shall be required to make any payments to the state or any other agency from these funds except ((upon the express consent of the county legislative authority: PROVIDED, That)) as authorized by the local health department. However, if the counties do not comply with the ((promulgated)) adopted standards of the department, the secretary shall take action to provide ((such)) the required services and to charge the affected county directly for the provision of these services by the state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. A new section is added to chapter 70.30 RCW to read as follows:

The definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

1. "Department" means the department of health.

2. "Secretary" means the secretary of the department of health or his or her designee.

3. "Tuberculosis control" refers to the procedures administered in the counties for the control, prevention, and treatment of tuberculosis.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. (1) RCW 70.33.010 and 70.33.020 are each recodified as sections in chapter 70.28 RCW.

(2) RCW 70.32.010 and 70.33.040 are each recodified as sections in chapter 70.30 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. The following acts or parts of acts are each repealed:

(1) RCW 70.28.040 and 1899 c 71 s 4;

(2) RCW 70.28.050 and 1967 c 54 s 3 & 1899 c 71 s 5;

(3) RCW 70.30.072 and 1972 ex.s. c 143 s 3;

(4) RCW 70.32.050 and 1971 ex.s. c 277 s 22, 1967 c 54 s 16, 1945 c 66 s 5, & 1943 c 162 s 5;

(5) RCW 70.32.060 and 1971 ex.s. c 277 s 23, 1967 c 54 s 17, 1945 c 66 s 6, & 1943 c 162 s 6;

(6) RCW 70.33.030 and 1983 c 3 s 173, 1973 1st ex.s. c 213 s 3, & 1971 ex.s. c 277 s 17; and

(7) RCW 70.33.060 and 1971 ex.s. c 277 s 20.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

SECOND READING

SECOND SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1140, by House Committee on Appropriations (originally sponsored by Representatives Carlson, Kenney, Radcliff, Lantz, Dunn, Esser, Edmonds, Cooper, Campbell and K. Schmidt)

Changing higher education financial aid provisions.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Kohl-Welles moved that the following Committee on Higher Education striking amendment be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 28B.10 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The legislature finds that the higher education coordinating board, in consultation with the higher education community, has completed a review of the state need grant program. It is the intent of the legislature to endorse the board's proposed changes to the state need grant program, including:

(a) Reaffirmation that the primary purpose of the state need grant program is to assist low-income, needy, and disadvantaged Washington residents attending institutions of higher education;
(b) A goal that the base state need grant amount over time be increased to be equivalent to the rate of tuition charged to resident undergraduate students attending Washington state public colleges and universities;
(c) State need grant recipients be required to contribute a portion of the total cost of their education through self-help;
(d) State need grant recipients be required to document their need for dependent care assistance after taking into account other public funds provided for like purposes; and
(e) Institutional aid administrators be allowed to determine whether a student eligible for a state need grant in a given academic year may remain eligible for the ensuing year if the student’s family income increases by no more than a marginal amount.

2. The legislature further finds that the higher education coordinating board, under its authority to implement the proposed changes in subsection (1) of this section, should do so in a timely manner.

3. The legislature also finds that:
(a) In most circumstances, need grant eligibility should not extend beyond five years or one hundred twenty-five percent of the published length of the program in which the student is enrolled or the credit or clock-hour equivalent; and
(b) State financial aid programs should continue to adhere to the principle that funding follows resident students to their choice of institution of higher education.

Sec. 2. RCW 28B.10.800 and 1993 sp.s. c 18 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:
The purpose of RCW 28B.10.800 through 28B.10.824 (i) are to establish the principles upon which the state financial aid programs will be based and to establish the state of Washington (student financial aid) state need grant program, thus assisting financially needy or disadvantaged students domiciled in Washington to obtain the opportunity of attending an accredited institution of higher education, as defined in RCW 28B.10.802(1). State need grants under RCW 28B.10.800 through 28B.10.824 (i) are available only to students who are resident students as defined in RCW 28B.15.012(2) (a) through (d).

Sec. 3. RCW 28B.10.804 and 1995 c 269 s 801 are each amended to read as follows:
The board shall be cognizant of the following guidelines in the performance of its duties:
(1) The board shall be research oriented, not only at its inception but continually through its existence.
(2) The board shall coordinate all existing programs of financial aid except those specifically dedicated to a particular institution by the donor.
(3) The board shall take the initiative and responsibility for coordinating all federal student financial aid programs to ensure that the state recognizes the maximum potential effect of these programs, and shall design state programs (which) complement existing federal, state, and institutional programs. The board shall ensure that state programs continue to follow the principle that state financial aid funding follows the student to the student’s choice of institution of higher education.

4. Counseling is a paramount function of the state need grant and other state student financial aid programs, and in most cases could only be properly implemented at the institutional levels; therefore, state student financial aid programs shall be concerned with the attainment of those goals which, in the judgment of the board, are the reasons for the existence of a student financial aid program, and not solely with administration of the program on an individual basis.

5. The “package” approach of combining loans, grants and employment for student financial aid shall be the conceptual element of the state’s involvement.

Sec. 4. RCW 28B.10.806 and 1989 c 254 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:
The board shall have the following powers and duties:
(1) Conduct a full analysis of student financial aid as a means of:
(a) Fulfilling educational aspirations of students of the state of Washington, and
(b) Improving the general, social, cultural, and economic character of the state.

Such an analysis will be a continuous one and will yield current information relevant to needed improvements in the state program of student financial aid. The board will disseminate the information yielded by their analyses to all appropriate individuals and agents.

(i) This study should include information on the following:
(i) all programs and sources of available student financial aid,
(ii) distribution of Washington citizens by socio-economic class,
(iii) data from federal and state studies useful in identifying:
(A) demands of students for specific educational goals in colleges, and
(B) the discrepancy between high school students’ preferences and the colleges they actually selected)
(2) Design a state program of student financial aid based on the data of the study referred to in this section. The state programs will supplement available federal and local aid programs. The state programs of student financial aid will not exceed the difference between the budgetary costs of attending an institution of higher education and the student's total resources, including family support, personal savings, employment, and federal, state, and local aid programs.

(3) Determine and establish criteria for financial need of the individual applicant based upon the consideration of that particular applicant. In making this determination the board shall consider the following:

(a) Assets and income of the student.
(b) Assets and income of the parents, or the individuals legally responsible for the care and maintenance of the student.
(c) The cost of attending the institution the student is attending or planning to attend.
(d) Any other criteria deemed relevant to the board.

(4) Set the amount of financial aid to be awarded to any individual needy or disadvantaged student in any school year.

(5) Award financial aid to needy or disadvantaged students for a school year based upon only that amount necessary to fill the financial gap between the budgetary cost of attending an institution of higher education and the family and student contribution.

(6) Review the need and eligibility of all applications on an annual basis and adjust financial aid to reflect changes in the financial need of the recipients and the cost of attending the institution of higher education.

Sec. 5. RCW 28B.10.808 and 1991 c 164 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

In awarding need grants, the board shall proceed substantially as follows: PROVIDED, That nothing contained herein shall be construed to prevent the board, in the exercise of its sound discretion, from following another procedure when the best interest of the program so dictates:

(1) The board shall annually select the financial aid award recipients from among Washington residents applying for student financial aid who have been ranked according to financial need as determined by the amount of the family contribution and other considerations brought to the board's attention.

(2) The financial need of the highest ranked students shall be met by grants depending upon the evaluation of financial need until the total allocation has been disbursed. Funds from grants which are declined, forfeited or otherwise unused shall be reawarded until dispersed.

(3) A grant may be renewed until the course of study is completed, but not for more than an additional four academic years beyond the first year of the award. These shall not be required to be consecutive years. A student shall be eligible to receive a state need grant for up to five years, or the credit or clock hour equivalent of five years, or up to one hundred twenty-five percent of the published length of time of the student's program. A student may not start a new associate degree program as a state need grant recipient until at least five years have elapsed since earning an associate degree as a need grant recipient, except that a student may earn two associate degrees concurrently. Qualifications for renewal will include maintaining satisfactory academic progress toward completion of an eligible program as determined by the board. Should the recipient terminate his or her enrollment for any reason during the academic year, the unused portion of the grant shall be returned to the state educational grant fund by the institution according to the institution's own policy for issuing refunds, except as provided in RCW 28B.10.8081.

(4) In computing financial need, the board shall determine a maximum student expense budget allowance, not to exceed an amount equal to the total maximum student expense budget at the public institutions plus the current average state appropriation per student for operating expense in the public institutions.

Sec. 6. RCW 28B.10.810 and 1989 c 254 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

For a student to be eligible for a state need grant a student must:

(1) Be a “needy student” or “disadvantaged student” as determined by the board in accordance with RCW 28B.10.802 (3) and (4).

(2) Have been domiciled within the state of Washington for at least one year.

(3) Be enrolled or accepted for enrollment on at least a half-time basis at an institution of higher education in Washington as defined in RCW 28B.10.802(1).

(4) Have complied with all the rules and regulations adopted by the board for the administration of RCW 28B.10.800 through 28B.10.824.

Sec. 7. RCW 28B.10.822 and 1973 c 62 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

The board shall adopt rules as may be necessary or appropriate for effecting the provisions of RCW 28B.10.800 through 28B.10.824 and section 1 of this act, and not in conflict with RCW 28B.10.800 through 28B.10.824, in accordance with the provisions of chapter 34.05 RCW, the administrative procedure act.”

MOTION
Senator West moved that the following amendment by Senators West, Sheahan and Kohl-Welles to the Committee on Higher Education striking amendment be adopted:

On page 6, after line 11 of the committee amendment, insert the following:

*TNEW SECTION, Sec. 8. A new section is added to chapter 28B.15 RCW to read as follows:

In addition to waivers granted under the authority of RCW 28B.15.910, the governing boards of the state universities, the regional universities, The Evergreen State College, and the community colleges may waive all or a portion of the operating fees for any student. State general fund appropriations shall not be provided to replace tuition and fees revenue forgone as a result of waivers granted under this section. The governing boards shall take public action to adopt rules for granting tuition waivers authorized under this section. Actions by governing boards of community colleges to grant waivers under this section shall be subject to rules of the state board for community and technical colleges.

TNEW SECTION, Sec. 9. The higher education coordinating board, with the assistance of the institutions of higher education, shall evaluate the impact and the effectiveness of the new waiver authority granted under this act. The evaluation shall include, but not be limited to: (1) Information on how the institutions used their authority to waive tuition, including what rates were put into effect for categories of students or programs, and the impact on tuition revenue; and (2) an analysis of the impact of additional waivers on student enrollment patterns including changes in the proportion of resident students, changes in the proportion of undergraduate students and changes in the proportion of day-on-campus students. By November 1, 2000, the board shall report its findings and make recommendations to the governor and the legislature.

Sec. 10. RCW 28B.15.066 and 1995 1st sp.s. c 9 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

It is the intent of the legislature that:

In making appropriations from the state's general fund to institutions of higher education, each appropriation shall conform to the following:

(1) The appropriation shall not be reduced by the amount of operating fees revenue estimated to be collected from students enrolled at the state-funded enrollment level specified in the omnibus biennial operating appropriations act;

(2) The appropriation shall not be reduced by the amount of operating fees revenue collected from students enrolled above the state-funded level, but within the over-enrollment limitations, specified in the omnibus biennial operating appropriations act; and

(3) The general fund state appropriation shall not be reduced by the amount of operating fees revenue collected as a result of waiving less operating fees revenue than the amounts authorized under RCW 28B.15.910. State general fund appropriations shall not be provided for revenue forgone as a result of or for waivers granted under section 8 of this act.

Sec. 11. RCW 28B.15.910 and 1998 c 346 s 904 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) For the purpose of providing state general fund support to public institutions of higher education, except for revenue waived under programs listed in subsection (3) of this section, and unless otherwise expressly provided in the omnibus state appropriations act, the total amount of operating fees revenue waived, exempted, or reduced by a state university, a regional university, The Evergreen State College, or the community colleges as a whole, shall not exceed the percentage of total gross authorized operating fees revenue set forth below. As used in this section, "gross authorized operating fees revenue" means the estimated gross operating fees revenue as estimated under RCW 82.33.020 or as revised by the office of financial management, before granting any waivers. This limitation applies to all tuition waiver programs established before or after July 1, 1992.

(a) University of Washington
21 percent

(b) Washington State University
20 percent

(c) Eastern Washington University
11 percent

(d) Central Washington University
8 percent

(e) Western Washington University
10 percent

(f) The Evergreen State College
6 percent

(g) Community colleges as a whole
35 percent

(2) The limitations in subsection (1) of this section apply to waivers, exemptions, or reductions in operating fees contained in the following:

(a) RCW 28B.10.265;
During the 1997-99 fiscal biennium, the western interstate commission for higher education undergraduate exchange program for students attending Eastern Washington University.

The limitations in subsection (1) of this section do not apply to waivers, exemptions, or reductions in services and activities fees contained in the following:

(a) RCW 28B.15.522;
(b) RCW 28B.15.540; and
(c) RCW 28B.15.558.

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senators West, Sheahan and Kohl-Welles on page 6, after line 21, to the Committee on Higher Education striking amendment to Second Substitute House Bill No. 1140.

The motion by Senator West carried and the amendment to the committee striking amendment was adopted.

SECOND SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1681, by House Committee on Appropriations (originally sponsored by Representatives Buck, Grant, Sump, Schoesler, Boldt, Mastin and McMorris)

Establishing a program to purchase and plant privately grown trout.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Jacobsen, the following Committee on Ways and Means striking amendment was adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that it is beneficial to improve opportunities for trout fishing in order to satisfy the public's demand for recreational fishing during a time of declining opportunities to catch anadromous salmon and steelhead trout.

Fish farmers can produce trout in a triploid genetic configuration for the purpose of certifying that the fish are sterile and that they cannot interbreed with wild trout. These fish are ideally suited to planting into public lakes and ponds to provide immediate recreational fishing at a reasonable cost. The fish continue to grow throughout their life cycle and have the potential to grow to trophy size.

Planting of these catchable trout can provide increased angler participation, increased fishing license sales, increased tourism activities, and a boost to local economies.

The department of fish and wildlife is authorized to purchase these privately produced fish to supplement existing department trout hatchery production. The planting of these catchable trout in water bodies with water quality sufficient to support fish life must not have an adverse impact on the wild trout population.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. The fish and wildlife commission in consultation with the department is authorized to determine which waters of the state are appropriate for this use during the 1999 and 2000 calendar years. In making this determination, the commission shall seek geographic distribution to assure opportunity to fishers state-wide.

The commission in consultation with the department will determine the maximum number of fish that may be planted into state waters so as not to compete with the wild populations of fish species in the water body."
NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The fish and wildlife commission may authorize purchase of privately produced fish only if the cost of the program will be recovered by the increase in license sales directly attributable to the planting of these privately purchased fish.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. The department of fish and wildlife shall report to the appropriate legislative committees by February 1, 2001, regarding the implementation of this act. The report shall include information regarding the location and number of fish planted, the size of the fish planted, and information relating to the cost-effectiveness of the catchable trout program, including an estimate of new license sales generated by the programs.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. Sections 1 through 3 of this act are each added to Title 77 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and takes effect immediately.”

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Jacobsen, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 2 of the title, after “waters;” strike the remainder of the title and insert “adding new sections to Title 77 RCW; creating a new section; and declaring an emergency.”

Requiring children age twelve and under to wear a personal flotation device while on a vessel on the waters of the state.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Jacobsen, the following Committee on Natural Resources, Parks and Recreation striking amendment was adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

*Sec. 1. RCW 88.12.115 and 1993 c 244 s 14 are each amended to read as follows:
(1) No person may operate or permit the operation of a vessel on the waters of the state without a personal flotation device on board for each person on the vessel. Each personal flotation device shall be in serviceable condition, of an appropriate size, and readily accessible.

(2) Except as provided in RCW 88.12.015, a violation of subsection (1) of this section is an infraction under chapter 7.84 RCW if the vessel is not carrying passengers for hire.

(3) A violation of subsection (1) of this section is a misdemeanor punishable under RCW 9.92.030, if the vessel is carrying passengers for hire.

(4) No person shall operate a vessel under nineteen feet in length on the waters of this state with a child twelve years old and under, unless the child is wearing a personal flotation device that meets or exceeds the United States coast guard approval standards of the appropriate size, while the vessel is underway. For the purposes of this section, a personal flotation device is not considered readily accessible for children twelve years old and under unless the device is worn by the child while the vessel is underway. The personal flotation device must be worn at all times by a child twelve years old and under whenever the vessel is underway and the child is on an open deck or open cockpit of the vessel. The following circumstances are excepted:

(a) While a child is below deck or in the cabin of a boat with an enclosed cabin;
(b) While a child is on a United States coast guard inspected passenger-carrying vessel operating on the navigable waters of the United States; or
(c) While on board a vessel at a time and place where no person would reasonably expect a danger of drowning to occur.

(5) Except as provided in RCW 88.12.015, a violation of subsection (4) of this section is an infraction under chapter 7.84 RCW. Enforcement of subsection (4) of this section by law enforcement officers may be accomplished as a primary action, and need not be accompanied by the suspected violation of some other offense.”

SECOND READING

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1218, by House Committee on Health Care (originally sponsored by Representatives Cody and Parlette) (by request of Department of Health)

Modifying provisions related to nurse delegation of tasks.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Thibaudeau moved that the following Committee on Health and Long-Term Care striking amendment be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

*NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. In consideration of existing recommendations by the department of health with regard to nurse delegation and the parameters of nursing practice, the legislature finds that the provisions of chapter . . . , Laws of 1999 (this act) are necessary to expand the capacity of the nursing profession to adequately serve the public.

Sec. 2. RCW 18.88A.210 and 1998 c 272 s 10 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A (nurse may delegate specific care tasks to)) nursing assistant((s)) meeting the requirements of this section ((and)) who provide care to individuals in ((community residential programs for the developmentally disabled certified by the department of social and health services under chapter 71A.12 RCW, to individuals residing in adult family homes licensed under chapter 70.128 RCW, and to individuals residing in boarding homes licensed under chapter 18.20 RCW contracting with the department of social and health services to provide assisted living services pursuant to RCW 74.39A.010)) community-based care settings, as defined in RCW 18.79.260(3), may accept delegation of nursing care tasks by a registered nurse as provided in RCW 18.79.260(3).

(2) For the purposes of this section, "nursing assistant" means a nursing assistant-registered or a nursing assistant-certified. Nothing in this section may be construed to affect the authority of nurses to delegate nursing tasks to other persons, including licensed practical nurses, as authorized by law.

(3) Before commencing any specific nursing care tasks authorized under this chapter, the nursing assistant must (a) provide to the delegating nurse a certificate of completion issued by the department of social and health services indicating the completion of basic core nurse delegation training ((as provided in this section)), (b) be regulated by the department of health pursuant to this chapter, subject to the uniform disciplinary act under chapter 18.130 RCW, and (c) meet any additional training requirements identified by the nursing care quality assurance commission ((and authorized by this section)). Exceptions to these training requirements must adhere to RCW 18.79.260(3)(d)(iii).

((4) A nurse may delegate the following care tasks:

(a) Oral and topical medications and ointments;

(b) Nose, ear, eye drops, and ointments;

(c) Dressing changes and catheterization using clean techniques as defined by the nursing care quality assurance commission;

(d) Suppositories, enemas, ostomy care;

(e) Blood glucose monitoring;

(f) Gastrostomy feedings in established and healed condition.

(5) On or before September 1, 1995, the nursing care quality assurance commission, in conjunction with the professional nursing organizations, shall develop rules for nurse delegation protocols and by December 5, 1995, identify training beyond the core training that is deemed necessary for the delegation of complex tasks and patient care.

(6) Nursing task delegation protocols are not intended to regulate the settings in which delegation may occur but are intended to ensure that nursing care services have a consistent standard of practice upon which the public and profession may rely and to safeguard the authority of the nurse to make independent professional decisions regarding the delegation of a task. Protocols shall include at least the following:

(a) Ensure that determination of the appropriateness of delegation of a nursing task is at the discretion of the nurse;
(b) Allow delegation of a nursing care task only for patients who have a stable and predictable condition. “Stable and predictable condition” means a situation, as defined by rule by the nursing care quality assurance commission, in which the patient’s clinical and behavioral status is known and does not require frequent presence and evaluation of a registered nurse;

(c) Assure that the initial delegating nurse obtains written consent to the nurse delegation process from the patient or a person authorized under RCW 7.70.065. Written consent is only necessary at the initial use of the nurse delegation process for each patient and is not necessary for task additions or changes or if a different nurse or nursing assistant will be participating in the process. The written consent must include at a minimum the following:

(i) A list of the tasks that could potentially be delegated per RCW 18.88A.210; and

(ii) A statement that a nursing assistant through the nurse delegation process will be performing a task that would previously have been performed by a registered or licensed practical nurse;

(d) Verify that the nursing assistant has completed the core training;

(e) Require assessment by the nurse of the ability and willingness of the nursing assistant to perform the delegated nursing task in the absence of direct nurse supervision and to refrain from delegation if the nursing assistant is not able or willing to perform the task;

(i) Require the nurse to analyze the complexity of the nursing task that is considered for delegation and determine the appropriate level of training and any need of additional training for the nursing assistant;

(g) Require the teaching of the nursing care task to the nursing assistant utilizing one or more of the following: (i) Verification of competency via return demonstration; (ii) other methods for verification of competency to perform the nursing task; or (iii) assurance that the nursing assistant is competent to perform the nursing task as a result of systems in place in the community residential program for the developmentally disabled, adult family home, or boarding home providing assisted living services;

(h) Require a plan of nursing supervision and reevaluation of the delegated nursing task. “Nursing supervision” means that the registered nurse monitors by direct observation or by whatever means is deemed appropriate by the registered nurse the skill and ability of the nursing assistant to perform delegated nursing tasks. Frequency of supervision is at the discretion of the registered nurse but shall occur at least every sixty days;

(i) Require instruction to the nursing assistant that the delegated nursing task is specific to a patient and is not transferable;

(j) Require documentation and written instruction related to the delegated nursing task be provided to the nursing assistant and a copy maintained in the patient record;

(k) Ensure that the nursing assistant is prepared to effectively deal with the predictable outcomes of performing the nursing task;

(l) Include in the delegation of tasks an awareness of the nature of the condition requiring treatment, risks of the treatment, side effects, and interaction of prescribed medications;

(m) Require documentation in the patient's record of the rationale for delegating or not delegating nursing tasks.

(7) A basic core training curriculum on providing care for individuals in community residential programs for the developmentally disabled certified by the department of social and health services under chapter 71A.12 RCW shall be in addition to the training requirements specified in subsection (5) of this section. Basic core training shall be developed and adopted by rule by the secretary of the department of social and health services. The department of social and health services shall appoint an advisory panel to assist in the development of core training comprised of representatives of the following:

(a) The division of developmental disabilities;

(b) The nursing care quality assurance commission;

(c) Professional nursing organizations;

(d) A state-wide organization of community residential service providers whose members are programs certified by the department under chapter 71A.12 RCW.

(8) A basic core training curriculum on providing care to residents in residential settings licensed under chapter 70.128 RCW, or in assisted living pursuant to RCW 74.39A.010 shall be mandatory for nursing assistants prior to assessment by a nurse regarding the ability and willingness to perform a delegated nursing task. Core training shall be developed and adopted by rule by the secretary of the department of social and health services, in conjunction with an advisory panel. The advisory panel shall be comprised of representatives from, at a minimum, the following:

(a) The nursing care quality assurance commission;

(b) Professional nurse organizations;

(c) A state-wide association of community residential service providers whose members are programs certified by the department under chapter 71A.12 RCW;

(d) Aging consumer groups;
Sec. 3. RCW 18.88A.230 and 1998 c 272 s 11 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The (nurse and) nursing assistant shall be accountable for their own individual actions in the delegation process. ((Nurses acting within the protocols of their delegation authority shall be immune from liability for any action performed in the course of their delegation duties.) Nursing assistants following written delegation instructions from registered nurses performed in the course of their accurately written, delegated duties shall be immune from liability.

(2) (No person may coerce a nurse into compromising patient safety by requiring the nurse to delegate if the nurse determines it is inappropriate to do so. Nurses shall not be subject to any employer reprisal or disciplinary action by the Washington nursing care quality assurance commission for refusing to delegate tasks or refusing to provide the required training for delegation if the nurse determines delegation may compromise patient safety.) Nursing assistants shall not be subject to any employer reprisal or disciplinary action by the (nursing care quality assurance commission) secretary for refusing to accept delegation of a nursing task based on patient safety issues. No ((community residential program, adult family home, or boarding home contracting to provide assisted living services)) community-based care setting as defined in RCW 18.79.260(3)(d) may discriminate or retaliate in any manner against a person because the person made a complaint or cooperated in the investigation of a complaint.

((3) The department of social and health services may impose a civil fine of not less than two hundred fifty dollars nor more than one thousand dollars on a community residential program, adult family home, or boarding home under chapter 18, Laws of 1995 1st sp. sess. that knowingly permits an employee to perform a nursing task except as delegated by a nurse pursuant to chapter 18, Laws of 1995 1st sp. sess.)

Sec. 4. RCW 18.79.260 and 1995 1st sp.s. c 18 s 51 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A registered nurse under his or her license may perform for compensation nursing care, as that term is usually understood, of the ill, injured, or infirm (((and in the course thereof, she or he may do the following things that shall not be done by a person not so licensed, except as provided in RCW 18.79.270 and 18.88A.210)),

((4)) (2) A registered nurse may, at or under the general direction of a licensed physician and surgeon, dentist, osteopathic physician and surgeon, naturopathic physician, podiatric physician and surgeon, physician assistant, osteopathic physician assistant, or advanced registered nurse practitioner acting within the scope of his or her license, administer medications, treatments, tests, and inoculations, whether or not the severing or penetrating of tissues is involved and whether or not a degree of independent judgment and skill is required. Such direction must be for acts which are within the scope of registered nursing practice((.)

(2) Delegate to other persons the functions outlined in subsection (1) of this section in accordance with chapter 18.88A RCW,RCW

(3) A registered nurse may delegate tasks of nursing care to other individuals where the registered nurse determines that it is in the best interest of the patient.

(a) The delegating nurse shall:

(i) Determine the competency of the individual to perform the tasks;
(ii) Evaluate the appropriateness of the delegation;
(iii) Supervise the actions of the person performing the delegated task; and
(iv) Delegate only those tasks that are within the registered nurse's scope of practice.
(b) A registered nurse may not delegate acts requiring substantial skill, the administration of medications, or piercing or severing of tissues except to registered or certified nursing assistants who provide care to individuals in community-based care settings as authorized under (d) of this subsection. Acts that require nursing judgment shall not be delegated, nor shall advanced registered nurse practitioners delegate prescriptive authority.

(c) No person may coerce a nurse into compromising patient safety by requiring the nurse to delegate if the nurse determines that it is inappropriate to do so. Nurses shall not be subject to any employer reprisal or disciplinary action by the nursing care quality assurance commission for refusing to delegate tasks or refusing to provide the required training for delegation if the nurse determines delegation may compromise patient safety.

(d) For delegation in community-based care settings, a registered nurse may delegate nursing care tasks only to registered or certified nursing assistants. Simple care tasks such as blood pressure monitoring, personal care service, or other tasks as defined by the nursing care quality assurance commission are exempted from this requirement. "Community-based care settings" includes: Community residential programs for the developmentally disabled, certified by the department of social and health services under chapter 71A.12 RCW; adult family homes licensed under chapter 70.128 RCW; and boarding homes licensed under chapter 18.20 RCW. Community-based care settings do not include acute care or skilled nursing facilities.

(e) Associations representing homes licensed under chapters 70.128 and 18.20 RCW, and

(f) Associations representing home health, hospice, and home care agencies licensed under chapter 70.127 RCW.)
(i) Delegation of nursing care tasks in community-based care settings is only allowed for individuals who have a stable and predictable condition. "Stable and predictable condition" means a situation in which the individual's clinical and behavioral status is known and does not require the frequent presence and evaluation of a registered nurse.

(ii) The determination of the appropriateness of delegation of a nursing task is at the discretion of the registered nurse. However, the administration of medications by injection, sterile procedures, and central line maintenance may never be delegated.

(iii) The registered nurse shall verify that the nursing assistant has completed the required core nurse delegation training required in chapter 18.88A RCW prior to authorizing delegation.

(iv) The nurse is accountable for his or her own individual actions in the delegation process. Nurses acting within the protocols of their delegation authority are immune from liability for any action performed in the course of their delegation duties.

(v) On or before June 30, 2000, the nursing care quality assurance commission, in conjunction with the professional nursing organizations and the department of social and health services, shall make any needed revisions or additions to nurse delegation protocols by rule, including standards for nurses to obtain informed consent prior to the delegation of nursing care tasks. Nursing task delegation protocols are not intended to regulate the settings in which delegation may occur, but are intended to ensure that nursing care services have a consistent standard of practice upon which the public and the profession may rely, and to safeguard the authority of the nurse to make independent professional decisions regarding the delegation of a task.

(e) The nursing care quality assurance commission may adopt rules to implement this section.

(4) Only a person licensed as a registered nurse may instruct nurses in technical subjects pertaining to nursing(\(\text{(i)}\)); (\(\text{((ii)}\)) (5) Only a person licensed as a registered nurse may hold herself or himself out to the public or designate herself or himself as a registered nurse.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 18.79 RCW to read as follows:

The dispensing of Schedules II through IV controlled substances subject to RCW 18.79.240(1)(s) is limited to a maximum of a seventy-two-hour supply of the prescribed controlled substance.

Sec. 6. RCW 18.79.050 and 1994 sp.s c 9 s 405 are each amended to read as follows:

"Advanced registered nursing practice" means the performance of the acts of a registered nurse and the performance of an expanded role in providing health care services as recognized by the medical and nursing professions, the scope of which is defined by rule by the commission. Upon approval by the commission, an advanced registered nurse practitioner may prescribe legend drugs and controlled substances contained in Schedule V of the Uniform Controlled Substances Act, chapter 69.50 RCW, and Schedules II through IV subject to RCW 18.79.240(1)(r) or (s).

Nothing in this section prohibits a person from practicing a profession for which a license has been issued under the laws of this state or specifically authorized by any other law of the state of Washington.

This section does not prohibit: (1) The nursing care of the sick, without compensation, by an unlicensed person who does not hold himself or herself out to be an advanced registered nurse practitioner; (2) the practice of registered nursing by a licensed registered nurse or the practice of licensed practical nursing by a licensed practical nurse; or (3) the delegation of nursing tasks to nursing assistants pursuant to RCW 18.79.260(3).

Sec. 7. RCW 18.79.240 and 1994 sp.s c 9 s 424 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) In the context of the definition of registered nursing practice and advanced registered nursing practice, this chapter shall not be construed as:

(a) Prohibiting the incidental care of the sick by domestic servants or persons primarily employed as housekeepers, so long as they do not practice registered nursing within the meaning of this chapter;

(b) Preventing a person from the domestic administration of family remedies or the furnishing of nursing assistance in case of emergency;

(c) Prohibiting the practice of nursing by students enrolled in approved schools as may be incidental to their course of study or prohibiting the students from working as nursing aides;

(d) Prohibiting auxiliary services provided by persons carrying out duties necessary for the support of nursing services, including those duties that involve minor nursing services for persons performed in hospitals, nursing homes, or elsewhere under the direction of licensed physicians or the supervision of licensed registered nurses;

(e) Prohibiting the practice of nursing in this state by a legally qualified nurse of another state or territory whose engagement requires him or her to accompany and care for a patient temporarily residing in this state during the period of one such engagement, not to exceed six months in length, if the person does not represent or hold himself or herself out as a registered nurse licensed to practice in this state;

(f) Prohibiting nursing or care of the sick, with or without compensation, when done in connection with the practice of the religious tenets of a church by adherents of the church so long as they do not engage in the practice of nursing as defined in this chapter;
(g) Prohibiting the practice of a legally qualified nurse of another state who is employed by the United States government or a bureau, division, or agency thereof, while in the discharge of his or her official duties;

(h) Permitting the measurement of the powers or range of human vision, or the determination of the accommodation and refractive state of the human eye or the scope of its functions in general, or the fitting or adaptation of lenses for the aid thereof;

(i) Permitting the prescribing or directing the use of, or using, an optical device in connection with ocular exercises, visual training, vision training, or orthoptics;

(j) Permitting the prescribing of contact lenses for, or the fitting and adaptation of contact lenses to, the human eye;

(k) Prohibiting the performance of routine visual screening;

(l) Permitting the practice of dentistry or dental hygiene as defined in chapters 18.32 and 18.29 RCW, respectively;

(m) Permitting the practice of chiropractic as defined in chapter 18.25 RCW including the adjustment or manipulation of the articulation of the spine;

(n) Permitting the practice of podiatric medicine and surgery as defined in chapter 18.22 RCW;

(o) Permitting the performance of major surgery, except such minor surgery as the commission may have specifically authorized by rule adopted in accordance with chapter 34.05 RCW;

(p) Permitting the prescribing of controlled substances as defined in Schedules I through IV of the Uniform Controlled Substances Act, chapter 69.50 RCW, except as provided in (r) or (s) of this subsection;

(q) Prohibiting the determination and pronouncement of death;

(r) Prohibiting advanced registered nurse practitioners, approved by the commission as certified registered nurse anesthetists from selecting, ordering, or administering controlled substances as defined in Schedules II through IV of the Uniform Controlled Substances Act, chapter 69.50 RCW, consistent with their commission-recognized scope of practice; subject to facility-specific protocols, and subject to a request for certified registered nurse anesthetist anesthesia services issued by a physician licensed under chapter 18.71 RCW, an osteopathic physician and surgeon licensed under chapter 18.57 RCW, a dentist licensed under chapter 18.32 RCW, or a pediatric physician and surgeon licensed under chapter 18.22 RCW; the authority to select, order, or administer Schedule II through IV controlled substances being limited to those drugs that are to be directly administered to patients who require anesthesia for diagnostic, operative, obstetrical, or therapeutic procedures in a hospital, clinic, ambulatory surgical facility, or the office of a practitioner licensed under chapter 18.71, 18.22, 18.36, 18.36A, 18.57, 18.57A, or 18.32 RCW; "select" meaning the decision-making process of choosing a drug, dosage, route, and time of administration; and "order" meaning the process of directing licensed individuals pursuant to their statutory authority to directly administer a drug or to dispense, deliver, or distribute a drug for the purpose of direct administration to a patient, under instructions of the certified registered nurse anesthetist. "Protocol" means a statement regarding practice and documentation concerning such items as categories of patients, categories of medications, or categories of procedures rather than detailed case-specific formulas for the practice of nurse anesthesia;

(s) Prohibiting advanced registered nurse practitioners from ordering or prescribing controlled substances as defined in Schedules II through IV of the Uniform Controlled Substances Act, chapter 69.50 RCW, if and to the extent: (i) Doing so is permitted by their scope of practice; (ii) it is in response to a combined request from one or more physicians licensed under chapter 18.71 or 18.57 RCW and an advanced registered nurse practitioner licensed under this chapter, proposing a joint practice arrangement under which such prescriptive authority will be exercised with appropriate collaboration between the practitioners; and (iii) it is consistent with rules adopted under this subsection. The medical quality assurance commission, the board of osteopathic medicine and surgery, and the commission are directed to jointly adopt by consensus by rule a process and criteria that implements the joint practice arrangements authorized under this subsection. This subsection (1)(a) does not apply to certified registered nurse anesthetists.

(2) In the context of the definition of licensed practical nursing practice, this chapter shall not be construed as:

(a) Prohibiting the incidental care of the sick by domestic servants or persons primarily employed as housekeepers, so long as they do not practice practical nursing within the meaning of this chapter;

(b) Preventing a person from the domestic administration of family remedies or the furnishing of nursing assistance in case of emergency;

(c) Prohibiting the practice of practical nursing by students enrolled in approved schools as may be incidental to their course of study or prohibiting the students from working as nursing assistants;

(d) Prohibiting auxiliary services provided by persons carrying out duties necessary for the support of nursing services, including those duties that involve minor nursing services for persons performed in hospitals, nursing homes, or elsewhere under the direction of licensed physicians or the supervision of licensed registered nurses;

(e) Prohibiting or preventing the practice of nursing in this state by a legally qualified nurse of another state or territory whose engagement requires him or her to accompany and care for a patient temporarily residing in this state during the period of one such engagement, not to exceed six months in length, if the person does not represent or hold himself or herself out as a licensed practical nurse licensed to practice in this state;

(f) Prohibiting nursing or care of the sick, with or without compensation, when done in connection with the practice of the religious tenets of a church by adherents of the church so long as they do not engage in licensed practical nurse practice as defined in this chapter;

(g) Prohibiting the practice of a legally qualified nurse of another state who is employed by the United States government or any bureau, division, or agency thereof, while in the discharge of his or her official duties.

Sec. 8. RCW 18.79.250 and 1994 sp.s.c 9 s 425 are each amended to read as follows:
An advanced registered nurse practitioner under his or her license may perform for compensation nursing care, as that term is usually understood, of the ill, injured, or infirm, and in the course thereof, she or he may do the following things that shall not be done by a person not so licensed, except as provided in RCW 18.79.260 and 18.79.270:
(1) Perform specialized and advanced levels of nursing as recognized jointly by the medical and nursing professions, as defined by the commission;

(2) Prescribe legend drugs and Schedule V controlled substances, as defined in the Uniform Controlled Substances Act, chapter 69.50 RCW, and Schedules II through IV subject to RCW 18.79.240(1)(r) or (s) within the scope of practice defined by the commission;
(3) Perform all acts provided in RCW 18.79.260;
(4) Hold herself or himself out to the public or designate herself or himself as an advanced registered nurse practitioner or as a nurse practitioner.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. A new section is added to chapter 18.71 RCW to read as follows:
The commission is directed to jointly adopt by consensus, with the board of osteopathic medicine and surgery and the Washington state nursing care quality assurance commission, a process and criteria that implements the joint practice arrangements authorized under RCW 18.79.240(1)(s).

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. A new section is added to chapter 18.57 RCW to read as follows:
The board is directed to jointly adopt by consensus, with the medical quality assurance commission and the Washington state nursing care quality assurance commission, a process and criteria that implements the joint practice arrangements authorized under RCW 18.79.240(1)(s).

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. A new section is added to chapter 18.79 RCW to read as follows:
The commission is directed to jointly adopt by consensus, with the medical quality assurance commission and the board of osteopathic medicine and surgery, a process and criteria that implements the joint practice arrangements authorized under RCW 18.79.240(1)(s).

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. Sections 5 through 7 of this act take effect July 1, 2000.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. The following acts or parts of acts are each repealed:
(1) RCW 18.88A.220 (Delegation—Program and reimbursement policies) and 1995 1st sp.s. c 18 s 47; and
(2) RCW 18.88A.240 (Delegation—Complaints) and 1995 1st sp.s. c 18 s 49.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected."

SECOND READING

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1317, by House Committee on Transportation (originally sponsored by Representatives Murray, K. Schmidt, Fisher, Romero, Ogden, Scott, Hankins, Skinner, Morris, Lovick, Cooper, Reardon, O'Brien, Wood and McIntire)
Enhancing regional transportation planning.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Haugen moved that the following Committee on Transportation striking amendment be adopted:
Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 47.80.023 and 1998 c 171 s 8 are each amended to read as follows:
Each regional transportation planning organization shall have the following duties:
(1) Prepare and periodically update a transportation strategy for the region. The strategy shall address alternative transportation modes and transportation demand management measures in regional corridors and shall recommend preferred transportation policies to implement adopted growth strategies. The strategy shall serve as a guide in preparation of the regional transportation plan.
(2) Prepare a regional transportation plan as set forth in RCW 47.80.030 that is consistent with county-wide planning policies if such have been adopted pursuant to chapter 36.70A RCW, with county, city, and town comprehensive plans, and state transportation plans.
(3) Certify by December 31, 1996, that the transportation elements of comprehensive plans adopted by counties, cities, and towns within the region reflect the guidelines and principles developed pursuant to RCW 47.80.026, are consistent with the adopted regional transportation plan, and, where appropriate, conform with the requirements of RCW 36.70A.070.
(4) Where appropriate, certify that county-wide planning policies adopted under RCW 36.70A.210 and the adopted regional transportation plan are consistent.
(5) Develop, in cooperation with the department of transportation, operators of public transportation services and local governments within the region, a six-year regional transportation improvement program which proposes regionally significant transportation projects and programs and transportation demand management measures. The regional transportation improvement program shall be based on the programs, projects, and transportation demand management measures of regional significance as identified by transit agencies, cities, and counties pursuant to RCW 35.58.2795, 35.77.010, and 36.81.121, respectively. The program shall include a priority list of projects and programs, project segments and programs, transportation demand management measures, and a specific financial plan that demonstrates how the transportation improvement program can be funded. The program shall be updated at least every two years for the ensuing six-year period. Regional transportation planning organizations shall provide to the legislators whose districts are within the boundaries of the organization notification of available publications. Upon request by legislators, the regional transportation planning organization shall provide a schedule of six-year transportation improvement program decision process points, updates, and amendments to the six-year transportation improvement program.
(6) Designate a lead planning agency to coordinate preparation of the regional transportation plan and carry out the other responsibilities of the organization. The lead planning agency may be a regional organization, a component county, city, or town agency, or the appropriate Washington state department of transportation district office.
(7) Review level of service methodologies used by cities and counties planning under chapter 36.70A RCW to promote a consistent regional evaluation of transportation facilities and corridors.
(8) Work with cities, counties, transit agencies, the department of transportation, and others to develop level of service standards or alternative transportation performance measures.

Sec. 2. RCW 47.80.040 and 1990 1st ex.s. c 17 s 56 are each amended to read as follows:
Each regional transportation planning organization shall create a transportation policy board. Transportation policy boards shall provide policy advice to the regional transportation planning organization and shall allow representatives of major employers within the region, the department of transportation, transit districts, port districts, and member cities, towns, and counties within the region to participate in policy making. Any members of the house of representatives or the state senate whose districts are within the boundaries of the regional transportation planning organization are considered ex officio, nonvoting policy board members of the regional transportation planning organization. This does not preclude legislators from becoming full-time, voting board members.

Sec. 3. RCW 47.80.070 and 1994 c 158 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:
In order to ensure state-wide consistency in the regional transportation planning process, the state department of transportation, in conformance with chapter 34.05 RCW, shall:
MOTION

On motion of Senator Benton, the following amendment by Senators Benton and Haugen to the Committee on Transportation striking amendment was adopted:

On page 3, after line 18, insert the following:

"Sec. 4. RCW 47.06.050 and 1993 c 446 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:
The state-owned facilities component of the state-wide transportation plan shall be consistent with RCW 47.06.040 and shall identify the most cost-effective combination of transportation investments that maximizes the efficient movement of people, freight, and goods within state transportation corridors, to include public-private transportation initiatives. The identification process shall include the modal comparison of highway, ferry, bicycle, and pedestrian facilities, passenger rail, air transportation, public transit, transportation demand measures, and high-capacity transportation improvements within a state transportation corridor. The comparison of transportation modes shall include an analysis of the public, private, and social costs and benefits of transportation investments. The state-owned facilities component of the state-wide transportation plan shall also consist of:

(1) The state highway system plan, which identifies program and financing needs and recommends specific and financially realistic improvements to preserve the structural integrity of the state highway system, ensure acceptable operating conditions, and provide for enhanced access to scenic, recreational, and cultural resources. The state highway system plan shall contain the following elements:

(a) A system preservation element, which shall establish structural preservation objectives for the state highway system including bridges, identify current and future structural deficiencies based upon analysis of current conditions and projected future deterioration, and recommend program funding levels and specific actions necessary to preserve the structural integrity of the state highway system consistent with adopted objectives. This element shall serve as the basis for the preservation component of the six-year highway program and the two-year biennial budget request to the legislature;

(b) A capacity and operational improvement element, which shall establish operational objectives, including safety considerations, for moving people and goods on the state highway system, identify current and future capacity, operational, and safety deficiencies, and recommend program funding levels and specific improvements and strategies necessary to achieve the operational objectives. In developing capacity and operational improvement plans the department shall first assess strategies to enhance the operational efficiency of the existing system before recommending system expansion. Congestion relief must be a primary emphasis of the capacity and operational improvement element. Strategies to enhance the operational efficiencies include but are not limited to access management, transportation system management, demand management, and high-occupancy vehicle facilities. The capacity and operational improvement element must conform to the state implementation plan for air quality and be consistent with regional transportation plans adopted under chapter 47.80 RCW, and shall serve as the basis for the capacity and operational improvement portions of the six-year highway program and the two-year biennial budget request to the legislature;

(c) A scenic and recreational highways element, which shall identify and recommend designation of scenic and recreational highways, provide for enhanced access to scenic, recreational, and cultural resources associated with designated routes, and recommend a variety of management strategies to protect, preserve, and enhance these resources. The department, affected counties, cities, and towns, regional transportation planning organizations, and other state or federal agencies shall jointly develop this element;

(d) A paths and trails element, which shall identify the needs of nonmotorized transportation modes on the state transportation systems and provide the basis for the investment of state transportation funds in paths and trails, including funding provided under chapter 47.30 RCW.

(2) The state ferry system plan, which shall guide capital and operating investments in the state ferry system. The plan shall establish service objectives for state ferry routes, forecast travel demand for the various markets served in the system, and develop strategies for ferry system investment that consider regional and state-wide vehicle and passenger needs, support local land use plans, and assure that ferry services are fully integrated with other transportation services. The plan shall assess the role of private ferries operating under the authority of the utilities and transportation commission and shall coordinate ferry system

(3) The state high transportation investment act, which shall guide public ferry system investments, including planning, design, construction, and operation of ferry facilities, and the establishment of ferry routes, providing for the preservation of ferry routes and facilities, and the coordination of ferry services with other state transportation facilities and systems.

(4) The state ferry system plan, which shall establish minimum standards for development of a regional transportation plan;

(5) Facilitate coordination between regional transportation planning organizations; and

(6) Through the regional transportation planning process, and through state planning efforts as required by RCW 47.01.071, identify and jointly plan (improvements and strategies) the most efficient strategy to address identified deficiencies, including investments in modal integration within those corridors important to moving people and goods on a regional (area) and state-wide basis."

MOTION
capital and operational plans with these private operations. The ferry system plan must be consistent with the regional transportation plans for areas served by the state ferry system, and shall be developed in conjunction with the ferry advisory committees."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the Committee on Transportation striking amendment, as amended, to Substitute House Bill No. 1317.

The Committee on Transportation striking amendment, as amended, was adopted.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Haugen, the following title amendments were considered simultaneously and were adopted:

On line 1 of the title, after "planning;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "and amending RCW 47.80.023, 47.80.040, and 47.80.070."

On page 3, line 22 of the title amendment, after "planning" strike the remainder of the title and insert "and the state-owned facilities component of the state-wide transportation plan and intercity passenger rail; and amending RCW 47.80.23, 47.80.040, 47.80.070, and 47.06.050."

On motion of Senator Haugen, the rules were suspended, Substitute House Bill No. 1317, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

SECOND READING

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1053, by House Committee on Transportation (originally sponsored by Representatives Fisher, K. Schmidt, Hatfield, Radcliff, O'Brien, Tokuda, Hurst, Skinner and Hankins) (by request of Legislative Transportation Committee)

Consolidating the fuel tax rate and distribution statutes.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Haugen, the following Committee on Transportation amendment was adopted:

On page 18, after line 6, insert the following:

"Sec 18. RCW 43.99.070 and 1995 c 166 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

Upon expiration of the time limited by RCW 82.36.330 for claiming of refunds of tax on marine fuel, the state of Washington shall succeed to the right to such refunds. The director of licensing, after taking into account past and anticipated claims for refunds from and deposits to the marine fuel tax refund account and the costs of carrying out the provisions of RCW 43.99.030, shall request the state treasurer to transfer (monthly from the marine fuel tax refund account an amount equal to the..." proportion of the moneys in the account representing the motor vehicle fuel tax rate under RCW 82.36.025 in effect on January 1, 1990, to the recreation resource account and the remainder to the motor vehicle fund)) to the recreation resource account such of the moneys in the marine fuel tax refund account that are not required for payment of the refund claims or costs, and the state treasurer shall make the transfer.

Sec. 19. RCW 46.09.170 and 1995 c 166 s 9 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) From time to time, but at least once each year, the state treasurer shall refund from the motor vehicle fund one percent of the motor vehicle fuel tax revenues collected under chapter 82.36 RCW. (based on the tax rate in effect January 1, 1990,) less proper deductions for refunds and costs of collection as provided in RCW 46.68.090. The treasurer shall place these funds in the general fund as follows:

(a) Forty percent shall be credited to the ORV and nonhighway vehicle account and administered by the department of natural resources solely for planning, maintenance, and management of ORV recreation facilities, nonhighway roads, and nonhighway road recreation facilities. The funds under this subsection shall be expended in accordance with the following limitations:

(i) Not more than five percent may be expended for information programs under this chapter;

(ii) Not less than ten percent and not more than fifty percent may be expended for ORV recreation facilities;

(iii) Not more than twenty-five percent may be expended for maintenance of nonhighway roads;

(iv) Not more than fifty percent may be expended for nonhighway road recreation facilities;

(v) Ten percent shall be transferred to the interagency committee for outdoor recreation for grants to law enforcement agencies in those counties where the department of natural resources maintains ORV facilities. This amount is in addition to those distributions made by the interagency committee for outdoor recreation under (d)(i) of this subsection;

(b) Three and one-half percent shall be credited to the ORV and nonhighway vehicle account and administered by the department of fish and wildlife solely for the acquisition, planning, development, maintenance, and management of nonhighway roads and recreation facilities;

(c) Two percent shall be credited to the ORV and nonhighway vehicle account and administered by the parks and recreation commission solely for the maintenance and management of ORV use areas and facilities; and

(d) Fifty-four and one-half percent, together with the funds received by the interagency committee for outdoor recreation under RCW 46.09.110, shall be credited to the nonhighway and off-road vehicle activities program account to be administered by the committee for planning, acquisition, development, maintenance, and management of ORV recreation facilities and nonhighway road recreation facilities; ORV user education and information; and ORV law enforcement programs. The funds under this subsection shall be expended in accordance with the following limitations:

(i) Not more than twenty percent may be expended for ORV education, information, and law enforcement programs under this chapter;

(ii) Not less than an amount equal to the funds received by the interagency committee for outdoor recreation under RCW 46.09.110 and not more than sixty percent may be expended for ORV recreation facilities;

(iii) Not more than twenty percent may be expended for nonhighway road recreation facilities;

(2) On a yearly basis an agency may not, except as provided in RCW 46.09.110, expend more than ten percent of the proceeds of the motor vehicle fuel tax revenues collected under this chapter for ORV education, information, and law enforcement programs.

Sec. 20. RCW 46.10.170 and 1994 c 262 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

From time to time, but at least once each four years, the department shall determine the amount of moneys paid to it as motor vehicle fuel tax that is tax on snowmobile fuel. Such determination shall use one hundred thirty-five gallons as the average yearly fuel usage per snowmobile(, and the number of registered snowmobiles during the calendar year under determination(,. and the fuel tax rate in effect January 1, 1990)).

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. (1) The Washington state interagency committee for outdoor recreation and the Washington state department of licensing shall jointly contract with an independent entity to study the sources and determine the distributions and uses of funds provided to off-road vehicle and nonhighway road recreational activities under RCW 46.09.170. The study shall analyze and determine the relative portion of the motor vehicle fuel tax revenues deposited to the general fund under RCW 46.09.170 that are attributable to vehicles operating off-road or on nonhighway roads for recreational purposes as provided in RCW 46.09.170. The study shall include the types of vehicles, the types of recreational activities, and the types of recreational facilities used.

(2) The Washington state interagency committee for outdoor recreation and the Washington state department of licensing shall jointly review the analysis and submit a report to the standing committees of the legislature, including recommendations... regarding amendments to RCW 46.09.170 to allocate revenues consistent with the relative proportion of the uses generating such revenues. In making such recommendations the committee and department of licensing shall specifically consider joint use by nonmotorized recreational users of trails funded as ORV recreational facilities. The report shall be submitted no later than September 30, 2001.

(3) The Washington state interagency committee for outdoor recreation and the department of licensing shall jointly establish a technical advisory committee composed of a cross-section of nonhighway road recreational trail users to advise the agency regarding the study and report required by this act.

(4) Funds appropriated from the nonhighway and off-road vehicle account for the purposes of this act shall be in addition to the agency general administration expenditure limitations of RCW 46.09.170(2).

Renumber the sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Haugen, the rules were suspended, Substitute House Bill No. 1053, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Substitute House Bill No. 1053, as amended by the Senate.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Substitute House Bill No. 1053, as amended by the Senate, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 38; Nays, 7; Absent, 0; Excused, 4.

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1053, as amended by the Senate, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING

SECOND SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 2061, by House Committee on Appropriations (originally sponsored by Representatives Kenney, Dunn, Lantz, Veloria and Carlson)

Changing community college provisions.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Bauer, the following amendment by Senators Bauer and Benton was adopted:

On page 2, after line 27, insert the following:

"Sec. 3. RCW 28C.10.084 and 1993 c 445 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The agency shall establish, maintain, and administer a tuition recovery trust fund. All funds collected for the tuition recovery trust fund are payable to the state for the benefit and protection of any student or enrollee of a private vocational school licensed under this chapter, or, in the case of a minor, his or her parents or guardian, for purposes including but not limited to the settlement of claims related to school closures under subsection (10) of this section and the settlement of claims under RCW 28C.10.120. The fund shall be liable for settlement of claims and costs of administration but shall not be liable to pay out or recover penalties assessed under RCW 28C.10.130 or 28C.10.140. No liability accrues to the state of Washington from claims made against the fund."
(2) By June 30, 1998, a minimum operating balance of one million dollars shall be achieved in the fund and maintained thereafter. If disbursements reduce the operating balance below two hundred thousand dollars at any time before June 30, 1998, or below one million dollars thereafter, each participating entity shall be assessed a pro rata share of the deficiency created, based upon the incremental scale created under subsection (6) of this section. The agency shall adopt schedules of times and amounts for effecting payments of assessment.

(3) To be and remain licensed under this chapter each entity shall, in addition to other requirements under this chapter, make cash deposits into a tuition recovery trust fund as a means to assure payment of claims brought under this chapter.

(4) The amount of liability that can be satisfied by this fund on behalf of each individual entity licensed under this chapter shall be established by the agency, based on an incremental scale that recognizes the average amount of unearned prepaid tuition in possession of the entity. However, the minimum amount of liability for any entity shall not be less than five thousand dollars. The upper limit of liability is reestablished after any disbursements are made to settle an individual claim or class of claims.

(5) The fund's liability with respect to each participating entity commences on the date of its initial deposit into the fund and ceases one year from the date it is no longer licensed under this chapter.

(6) The agency shall adopt by rule a matrix for calculating the deposits into the fund required of each entity. Proration shall be determined by factoring the entity's share of liability in proportion to the aggregated liability of all participants under the fund by grouping such prorations under the incremental scale created by subsection (4) of this section. Expressed as a percentage of the total liability, that figure determines the amount to be contributed when factored into a fund containing one million dollars. The total amount of its prorated share, minus the amount paid for initial capitalization, shall be payable in up to twenty increments over a ten-year period, commencing with the sixth month after the entity makes its initial capitalization deposit. Additionally, the agency shall require deposits for initial capitalization, under which the amount each entity deposits is proportionate to its share of two hundred thousand dollars, employing the matrix developed under this subsection. The amount thus established shall be deposited by each applicant for initial licensing before the issuance of such license.

(7) No vested right or interests in deposited funds is created or implied for the depositor, either at any time during the operation of the fund or at any such future time that the fund may be dissolved. All funds deposited are payable to the state for the purposes described under this section. The agency shall maintain the fund, serve appropriate notices to affected entities when scheduled deposits are due, collect deposits, and make disbursements to settle claims against the fund. When the aggregated deposits total five million dollars and the history of disbursements justifies such modifications, the agency may at its own option reduce the schedule of deposits whether as to time, amount, or both and the agency may also entertain proposals from among the licensees with regard to disbursing surplus funds for such purposes as vocational scholarships.

(8) Based on annual financial data supplied by the entity the agency shall determine whether the increment assigned to that entity on the incremental scale established under subsection (6) of this section has changed. If an increase or decrease in gross annual tuition income has occurred, a corresponding change in its incremental position and contribution schedule shall be made before the date of its next scheduled deposit into the fund. Such adjustments shall only be calculated and applied annually.

(9) No deposits made into the fund by an entity are transferable. If the majority ownership interest in an entity is conveyed through sale or other means into different ownership, all contributions made to the date of transfer accrue to the fund. The new owner commences contributions under provisions applying to a new applicant, except that if ownership of an entity is transferred to an immediate family member, all tuition recovery trust fund contributions shall remain with the entity transferred, and no additional cash deposits may be required beyond the original ten-year contribution cycle.

(10) To settle claims adjudicated under RCW 28C.10.120 and claims resulting when a private vocational school ceases to provide educational services, the agency may make disbursements from the fund. Students enrolled under a training contract executed between a school and a public or private agency or business are not eligible to make a claim against the fund. In addition to the processes described for making reimbursements related to claims under RCW 28C.10.120, the following procedures are established to deal with reimbursements related to school closures:

(a) The agency shall attempt to notify all potential claimants. The unavailability of records and other circumstances surrounding a school closure may make it impossible or unreasonable for the agency to ascertain the names and whereabouts of each potential claimant but the agency shall make reasonable inquiries to secure that information from all likely sources. The agency shall then proceed to settle the claims on the basis of information in its possession. The agency is not responsible or liable for claims or for handling claims that may subsequently appear or be discovered.

(b) Thirty days after identified potential claimants have been notified, if a claimant refuses or neglects to file a claim verification as requested in such notice, the agency shall be relieved of further duty or action on behalf of the claimant under this chapter.

(c) After verification and review, the agency may disburse funds from the tuition recovery trust fund to settle or compromise the claims. However, the liability of the fund for claims against the closed entity shall not exceed the maximum amount of liability assigned to that entity under subsection (6) of this section.
(d) In the instance of claims against a closed school, the agency shall seek to recover such disbursed funds from the assets of the defaulted entity, including but not limited to asserting claims as a creditor in bankruptcy proceedings.

(11) When funds are disbursed to settle claims against a current licensee, the agency shall make demand upon the licensee for recovery. The agency shall adopt schedules of times and amounts for effecting recoveries. An entity's failure to perform subjects its license to suspension or revocation under RCW 28C.10.050 in addition to any other available remedies.

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 2090, by House Committee on Commerce and Labor (originally sponsored by Representatives Clements, Lisk, Reardon, Cooper, McMorris, Talcott, B. Chandler and Gombosky)

Modifying and sunsetting provisions related to sellers of travel.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Shin, the following Committee on Commerce, Trade, Housing and Financial Institutions striking amendment was adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

Sec. 1. RCW 19.138.030 and 1996 c 180 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

A seller of travel shall not advertise that any travel services are or may be available unless he or she has, prior to the advertisement, determined that the product advertised was available at the time the advertising was placed. This determination can be made by the seller of travel either by use of an airline computer reservation system, or by written confirmation from the vendor whose program is being advertised.

It is the responsibility of the seller of travel to keep written or printed documentation of the steps taken to verify that the advertised offer was available at the time the advertising was placed. These records are to be maintained for at least (two) one year(s) after the placement of the advertisement.

Sec. 2. RCW 19.138.040 and 1996 c 180 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

At or prior to the time of full or partial payment for any travel services, the seller of travel shall furnish to the person making the payment a written statement conspicuously setting forth the information contained in subsections (1) through (6) of this section. However, if (the sale of travel services is made over the telephone or by other electronic media and payment is made by credit or debit card) payment is made other than in person, the seller of travel shall transmit to the person making the payment the written statement required by this section within three business days of (the consumer’s credit or debit card authorization) receipt or processing of the payment. The written statement shall contain the following information:

(1) The name and business address and telephone number of the seller of travel.
(2) The amount paid, the date of such payment, the purpose of the payment made, and an itemized statement of the balance due, if any.

(3) The registration number of the seller of travel required by this chapter.

(4) The name of the vendor with whom the seller of travel has contracted to provide travel arrangements for a consumer and all pertinent information relating to the travel as known by the seller of travel at the time of booking. The seller of travel will make known further details as soon as received from the vendor. All information will be provided with final documentation.

(5) (The conditions, if any, upon which the contract between the seller of travel and the passenger may be canceled, and the rights and obligations of all parties in the event of cancellation.) An advisory regarding the penalties that would be charged in the event of a cancellation or change by the customer. This may contain either: (a) The specific amount of cancellation and change penalties; or (b) the following statement: "Cancellation and change penalties apply to these arrangements. Details will be provided upon request."

(6) A statement in eight-point boldface type in substantially the following form:

“If transportation or other services are canceled by the seller of travel, all sums paid to the seller of travel for services not performed in accordance with the contract between the seller of travel and the purchaser will be refunded within thirty days of receiving the funds from the vendor with whom the services were arranged, or if the funds were not sent to the vendor, the funds shall be returned within fourteen days after cancellation by the seller of travel to the purchaser unless the purchaser requests the seller of travel to apply the money to another travel product and/or date."

Sec. 3. RCW 19.138.100 and 1996 c 180 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

No person, firm, or corporation may act or hold itself out as a seller of travel unless, prior to engaging in the business of selling or advertising to sell travel services, the person, firm, or corporation registers with the director under this chapter and rules adopted under this chapter.

(1) The registration number must be conspicuously posted in the place of business and must be included in all advertisements. (Any corporation which issues a class of equity securities registered under section 12 of the securities exchange act of 1934, and any subsidiary, the majority of voting stock of which is owned by such corporation including any wholly owned subsidiary of such corporation are not required to include company registration numbers in advertisements.) Sellers of travel are not required to include registration numbers on institutional advertising. For the purposes of this subsection, "institutional advertising" is advertising that does not include prices or dates for travel services.

(2) The director shall issue duplicate registrations upon payment of a ((nominal)) duplicate registration fee to valid registration holders operating more than one office. The duplicate registration fee for each office shall be an amount equal to the original registration fee.

(3) No registration is assignable or transferable.

(4) If a registered seller of travel sells his or her business, when the new owner becomes responsible for the business, the new owner must comply with all provisions of this chapter, including registration.

(5) If a seller of travel is employed by or under contract as an independent contractor or an outside agent of a seller of travel who is registered under this chapter, the employee, independent contractor, or outside agent need not also be registered if:

(a) The employee, independent contractor, or outside agent is conducting business as a seller of travel in the name of and under the registration of the registered seller of travel; and

(b) All money received for travel services by the employee, independent contractor, or outside agent is collected in the name of the registered seller of travel and ((deposited directly into)) processed by the registered seller of ((travel’s trust account)) travel as required under this chapter.

Sec. 4. RCW 19.138.120 and 1994 c 237 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Each seller of travel shall renew its registration on or before July 1 of every ((other)) year or as otherwise determined by the director.

(2) Renewal of a registration is subject to the same provisions covering issuance, suspension, and revocation of a registration originally issued.

(3) The director may refuse to renew a registration for any of the grounds set out under RCW 19.138.130, and where the past conduct of the applicant affords reasonable grounds for belief that the applicant will not carry out the applicant's duties in accordance with law and with integrity and honesty. The director shall promptly notify the applicant in writing by certified mail of its intent to refuse to renew the registration. The registrant may, within twenty-one days after receipt of that notice or intent, request a hearing on the refusal. The director may permit the registrant to honor commitments already made to its customers, but no new commitments may be incurred, unless the director is satisfied that all new commitments are completely bonded or secured to insure that the general public is protected from loss of money paid to the registrant. It is the responsibility of the registrant to contest the decision regarding conditions imposed or registration denied through the process established by the administrative procedure act, chapter 34.05 RCW.
Sec. 5. RCW 19.138.130 and 1997 c 58 s 852 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The director may deny, suspend, or revoke the registration of a seller of travel if the director finds that the applicant:

(a) Was previously the holder of a registration issued under this chapter, and the registration was revoked for cause and never reissued by the director, or the registration was suspended for cause and the terms of the suspension have not been fulfilled;

(b) Has been found guilty of a felony within the past ten years involving moral turpitude, or of a misdemeanor concerning fraud or conversion, or suffers a judgment in a civil action involving willful fraud, misrepresentation, or conversion;

(c) Has made a false statement of a material fact in an application under this chapter or in data attached to it;

(d) Has violated this chapter or failed to comply with a rule adopted by the director under this chapter;

(e) Has failed to display the registration as provided in this chapter;

(f) Has committed a fraud or fraudulent practice in the operation and conduct of a travel agency business, including, but not limited to, intentionally misleading advertising.

(2) If the seller of travel is found in violation of this chapter or in violation of the consumer protection act, chapter 19.86 RCW, by the entry of a judgment or by settlement of a claim, the director may revoke the registration of the seller of travel, and the director may reinstate the registration at the director's discretion.

(3) The director shall immediately suspend the license or certificate of a person who has been certified pursuant to RCW 74.20A.320 by the department of social and health services as a person who is not in compliance with a support order or a residential or visitation order. If the person has continued to meet all other requirements for reinstatement during the suspension, reissuance of the license or certificate shall be automatic upon the director's receipt of a release issued by the department of social and health services stating that the licensee is in compliance with the order.

Sec. 6. RCW 19.138.140 and 1996 c 180 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A seller of travel shall deposit in a trust account maintained in a federally insured financial institution located in Washington state, or other account approved by the director, all sums held for more than five business days that are received from a person or entity, for retail travel services offered by the seller of travel. This subsection does not apply to travel services sold by a seller of travel, when payments for the travel services are made through the airline reporting corporation (either by cash or credit or debit card sale).

(2) The trust account or other approved account required by this section shall be established and maintained for the benefit of any person or entity paying money to the seller of travel. The seller of travel shall not in any manner encumber the amounts in trust and shall not withdraw money from the account except the following amounts may be withdrawn at any time:

(a) Partial or full payment for travel services to the entity directly providing the travel service;

(b) Refunds as required by this chapter;

(c) The amount of the sales commission;

(d) Interest earned and credited to the trust account or other approved account;

(e) Remaining funds of a purchaser once all travel services have been provided or once tickets or other similar documentation binding upon the ultimate provider of the travel services have been provided; or

(f) Reimbursement to the seller of travel for agency operating funds that are advanced for a customer's travel services.

(3) The seller of travel may deposit noncustomer funds into the trust account as needed in an amount equal to a deficiency resulting from dishonored customer payments made by check, draft, credit card, debit card, or other negotiable instrument.

(4) At the time of registration, the seller of travel shall file with the department the account number and the name of the financial institution at which the trust account or other approved account is held as set forth in RCW 19.138.110. The seller of travel shall notify the department of any change in the account number or location within one business day of the change.

(5) The director, by rule, may allow for the use of other types of funds or accounts only if the protection for consumers is no less than that provided by this section.

(6) The seller of travel need not comply with the requirements of this section if all of the following apply, except as exempted in subsection (1) of this section:

(a) The payment is made by credit card;

(b) The seller of travel does not deposit, negotiate, or factor the credit card charge or otherwise seek to obtain payment of the credit card charge to any account over which the seller of travel has any control; and

(c) If the charge includes transportation, the carrier that is to provide the transportation processes the credit card charge, or if the charge is only for services, the provider of services processes the credit card charges.
The seller of travel need not maintain a trust account nor comply with the trust account provisions of this section if the seller of travel:

(a) (i) Files and maintains a surety bond approved by the director in an amount of not less than ten thousand nor more than fifty thousand dollars, as determined by rule by the director based on the gross income of business conducted by the seller of travel during the prior year. The bond shall be executed by the applicant as obligor by a surety company authorized to transact business in this state naming the state of Washington as obligee for the benefit of any person or persons who have suffered monetary loss by reason of the seller of travel's violation of this chapter or a rule adopted under this chapter. The bond shall be conditioned that the seller of travel will conform to and abide by this chapter and all rules adopted under this chapter, and shall reimburse any person or persons who suffer monetary loss by reason of a violation of this chapter or a rule adopted under this chapter.

(ii) The bond must be continuous and may be canceled by the surety upon the surety giving written notice to the director of the surety's intent to cancel the bond. The cancellation is effective thirty days after the notice is received by the director.

(iii) The applicant may obtain the bond directly from the surety or through other bonding arrangement as approved by the director.

(iv) In lieu of a surety bond, the applicant may, upon approval by the director, file with the director a certificate of deposit, an irrevocable letter of credit, or such other instrument as is approved by the director by rule, drawn in favor of the director for an amount equal to the required bond.

(v) Any person or persons who have suffered monetary loss by any act which constitutes a violation of this chapter or a rule adopted under this chapter may bring a civil action in court against the seller of travel and the surety upon such bond or approved alternate security of the seller of travel who committed the violation of this chapter or a rule adopted under this chapter or who employed the seller of travel who committed such violation. A civil action brought in court pursuant to the provisions of this section must be filed no later than one year following the later of the alleged violation of this chapter or a rule adopted under this chapter or completion of the travel by the customer; or

(b) Is a member in good standing in a professional association, such as the United States tour operators association or national tour association, that is approved by the director and that provides or requires a member to provide a minimum of one million dollars in errors and professional liability insurance and provides a surety bond or equivalent protection in an amount of at least two hundred fifty thousand dollars for its member companies.

(8) If the seller of travel maintains its principal place of business in another state and maintains a trust account or other approved account in that state consistent with the requirement of this section, and if that seller of travel has transacted business within the state of Washington in an amount exceeding five million dollars for the preceding year, the out-of-state trust account or other approved account may be substituted for the in-state account required under this section.

Sec. 7. RCW 19.138.170 and 1994 c 237 s 13 are each amended to read as follows:

The director has the following powers and duties:

(1) To adopt, amend, and repeal rules to carry out the purposes of this chapter;

(2) To issue and renew registrations under this chapter and to deny or refuse to renew for failure to comply with this chapter;

(3) To suspend or revoke a registration for a violation of this chapter;

(4) To establish fees;

(5) Upon receipt of a complaint, to inspect and audit the books and records of a seller of travel. The seller of travel shall immediately make available to the director those books and records as may be requested at the seller of travel's place of business or at a location designated by the director. For that purpose, the director shall have full and free access to the office and places of business of the seller of travel during regular business hours. When ten or more complaints have been received by either the department or the attorney general on a seller of travel within a period of ninety days, the department shall inspect and audit books and records of the seller of travel; and

(6) To do all things necessary to carry out the functions, powers, and duties set forth in this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected."

SECOND READING

HOUSE BILL NO. 1849, by Representatives Kagi, Carrell, Tokuda, Boldt, Lovick, Barlean, McIntire, Edwards, Kenney and Schual-Berke

Expanding aggravating circumstances when a court may impose an exceptional sentence.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Heavey, the following Committee on Judiciary striking amendment was adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 9.94A.390 and 1997 c 52 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

If the sentencing court finds that an exceptional sentence outside the standard range should be imposed in accordance with RCW 9.94A.120(2), the sentence is subject to review only as provided for in RCW 9.94A.210(4).

The following are illustrative factors which the court may consider in the exercise of its discretion to impose an exceptional sentence. The following are illustrative only and are not intended to be exclusive reasons for exceptional sentences.

(1) Mitigating Circumstances
(a) To a significant degree, the victim was an initiator, willing participant, aggressor, or provoker of the incident.
(b) Before detection, the defendant compensated, or made a good faith effort to compensate, the victim of the criminal conduct for any damage or injury sustained.
(c) The defendant committed the crime under duress, coercion, threat, or compulsion insufficient to constitute a complete defense but which significantly affected his or her conduct.

(d) The defendant, with no apparent predisposition to do so, was induced by others to participate in the crime.

(e) The defendant's capacity to appreciate the wrongfulness of his or her conduct or to conform his or her conduct to the requirements of the law, was significantly impaired (voluntary use of drugs or alcohol is excluded).

(f) The offense was principally accomplished by another person and the defendant manifested extreme caution or sincere concern for the safety or well-being of the victim.

(g) The operation of the multiple offense policy of RCW 9.94A.400 results in a presumptive sentence that is clearly excessive in light of the purpose of this chapter, as expressed in RCW 9.94A.010.

(h) The defendant or the defendant's children suffered a continuing pattern of physical or sexual abuse by the victim of the offense and the offense is a response to that abuse.

(2) Aggravating Circumstances

(a) The defendant's conduct during the commission of the current offense manifested deliberate cruelty to the victim.

(b) The defendant knew or should have known that the victim of the current offense was particularly vulnerable or incapable of resistance due to extreme youth, advanced age, disability, or ill health.

(c) The current offense was a violent offense, and the defendant knew that the victim of the current offense was pregnant.

(d) The current offense was a major economic offense or series of offenses, so identified by a consideration of any of the following factors:

   (i) The current offense involved multiple victims or multiple incidents per victim;

   (ii) The current offense involved attempted or actual monetary loss substantially greater than typical for the offense;

   (iii) The current offense involved a high degree of sophistication or planning or occurred over a lengthy period of time; or

   (iv) The defendant used his or her position of trust, confidence, or fiduciary responsibility to facilitate the commission of the current offense.

(e) The current offense was a major violation of the Uniform Controlled Substances Act, chapter 69.50 RCW (VUCSA), related to trafficking in controlled substances, which was more onerous than the typical offense of its statutory definition: The presence of ANY of the following may identify a current offense as a major VUCSA:

   (i) The current offense involved at least three separate transactions in which controlled substances were sold, transferred, or possessed with intent to do so;

   (ii) The current offense involved an attempted or actual sale or transfer of controlled substances in quantities substantially larger than for personal use;

   (iii) The current offense involved the manufacture of controlled substances for use by other parties;

   (iv) The circumstances of the current offense reveal the offender to have occupied a high position in the drug distribution hierarchy;

   (v) The current offense involved a high degree of sophistication or planning or occurred over a lengthy period of time or involved a broad geographic area of disbursement; or

   (vi) The offender used his or her position or status to facilitate the commission of the current offense, including positions of trust, confidence or fiduciary responsibility (e.g., pharmacist, physician, or other medical professional).

(f) The current offense included a finding of sexual motivation pursuant to RCW 9.94A.127.

(g) The offense was part of an ongoing pattern of sexual abuse of the same victim under the age of eighteen years manifested by multiple incidents over a prolonged period of time.

(h) The current offense involved domestic violence, as defined in RCW 10.99.020 and one or more of the following was present:

   (i) The offense was part of an ongoing pattern of psychological, physical, or sexual abuse of the victim manifested by multiple incidents over a prolonged period of time;

   (ii) The offense occurred within sight or sound of the victim's or the offender's minor children under the age of eighteen years; or

   (iii) The offender's conduct during the commission of the current offense manifested deliberate cruelty or intimidation of the victim.

(i) The operation of the multiple offense policy of RCW 9.94A.400 results in a presumptive sentence that is clearly too lenient in light of the purpose of this chapter, as expressed in RCW 9.94A.010.

(j) The defendant's prior unscored misdemeanor or prior unscored foreign criminal history results in a presumptive sentence that is clearly too lenient in light of the purpose of this chapter as expressed in RCW 9.94A.010.

(k) The offense resulted in the pregnancy of a child victim of rape.
The defendant knew that the victim of the current offense was a youth who was not residing with a legal custodian and the defendant established or promoted the relationship for the primary purpose of victimization.

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1547, by House Committee on Local Government (originally sponsored by Representatives Mitchell, Lantz, Thomas, Dunshee, Campbell, Sullivan, Bush, Kastama, Conway, Scott, Regala, Miloscia, Fisher, McDonald and Huff)

Authorizing a sales and use tax for zoo and aquarium purposes.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Patterson, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1547 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Wojahn: "Senator Patterson, although Section 1 of the bill states that the local sales and use tax may be set at a rate of 'no more than one-tenth of one percent,' I understand that the Department of Revenue cannot collect a local tax of this kind in an increment of less than one-tenth of one percent. Is that correct?"

Senator Patterson: "I understand that you are correct, Senator Wojahn, and that the local tax, if approved by the voters of Pierce County, would be set at the rate of one-tenth of one percent."

Senator Wojahn: "Thank you very much."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY
Senator Roach: "Senator Patterson, I am not on the committee that reviewed this particular piece of legislation and so on the bill report, it says, 'Continued funding for these facilities from existing sources of revenue is questionable.' Obviously, that would be the reason for coming forth with the bill. Can you tell me what the existing sources currently are?"

Senator Patterson: "I hope I am correct here. Senator Wojahn will correct me if I'm not. I believe the existing sources are solely the voters that reside within the Tacoma City limits."

REMARKS BY SENATOR WOJAHN

Senator Wojahn: "To further clarify that, as you know, Northwest Trek is located in the perimeters of Pierce County, not within the city of Tacoma, Senator Roach. Consequently, the county is benefitting--the whole region is benefitting from the voters of the city of Tacoma. It seemed only appropriate to expand that tax base to provide that the county of Pierce supply a portion of the support for the zoo. The zoo is located in the city and Northwest Trek is located outside the city. Thank you."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1547.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1547 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 42; Nays, 6; Absent, 1; Excused, 0.

SECOND READING

ENGROSSED SECOND SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1893, by House Committee on Appropriations (originally sponsored by Representatives Doumit, Mulliken, Scott, Linville and Hatfield)

Streamlining state and local permit issuance.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Fraser moved that the following Committee on Environmental Quality and Water Resources striking amendment be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that facilitating the environmental permit process will increase citizen satisfaction and compliance with state and local permit requirements. Lack of coordination in the processing of permit applications causes costly delays and frustration to the applicant and the public. The public deserves a clear, predictable system for land-use decisions that ensures an adequate opportunity for public participation and comment. The legislature also finds that permit processes can be improved by enabling and requiring state and local permit agencies to coordinate their permit processes to the greatest extent possible.

Sec. 2. RCW 36.70A.020 and 1990 1st ex.s. c 17 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

The following goals are adopted to guide the development and adoption of comprehensive plans and development regulations of those counties and cities that are required or choose to plan under RCW 36.70A.040. The following goals are not listed in order of priority and shall be used exclusively for the purpose of guiding the development of comprehensive plans and development regulations:

(1) Urban growth. Encourage development in urban areas where adequate public facilities and services exist or can be provided in an efficient manner.

(2) Reduce sprawl. Reduce the inappropriate conversion of undeveloped land into sprawling, low-density development.

(3) Transportation. Encourage efficient multimodal transportation systems that are based on regional priorities and coordinated with county and city comprehensive plans.

(4) Housing. Encourage the availability of affordable housing to all economic segments of the population of this state, promote a variety of residential densities and housing types, and encourage preservation of existing housing stock.

(5) Economic development. Encourage economic development throughout the state that is consistent with adopted comprehensive plans, promote economic opportunity for all citizens of this state, especially for unemployed and for disadvantaged persons, and encourage growth in areas experiencing insufficient economic growth, all within the capacities of the state's natural resources, public services, and public facilities.

(6) Property rights. Private property shall not be taken for public use without just compensation having been made. The property rights of landowners shall be protected from arbitrary and discriminatory actions."
(7) Permits. (Applications for both) State and local government permit agencies should coordinate and process permits in a timely and fair manner to ensure predictability for applicants.

(8) Natural resource industries. Maintain and enhance natural resource-based industries, including productive timber, agricultural, and fisheries industries. Encourage the conservation of productive forest lands and productive agricultural lands, and discourage incompatible uses.

(9) Open space and recreation. Encourage the retention of open space and development of recreational opportunities, conserve fish and wildlife habitat, increase access to natural resource lands and water, and develop parks.

(10) Environment. Protect the environment and enhance the state's high quality of life, including air and water quality, and the availability of water.

(11) Citizen participation and coordination. Encourage the involvement of citizens in the planning process and ensure coordination between communities and jurisdictions to reconcile conflicts.

(12) Public facilities and services. Ensure that those public facilities and services necessary to support development shall be adequate to serve the development at the time the development is available for occupancy and use without decreasing current service levels below locally established minimum standards.

(13) Historic preservation. Identify and encourage the preservation of lands, sites, and structures, that have historical or archaeological significance.

Sec. 3. RCW 58.17.095 and 1986 c 233 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A county, city, or town may adopt an ordinance providing for the administrative review of a preliminary plat without a public hearing (by adopting an ordinance providing for such administrative review). The ordinance may specify a threshold number of lots in a subdivision above which a public hearing must be held, and may specify other factors which necessitate the holding of a public hearing. (The administrative review process shall include the)

(2) If the county, city, or town has not adopted consolidated permitting procedures and time frames as provided in chapter 36.70B RCW, it shall conduct administrative review of preliminary plats consistent with the following minimum conditions:

(i) The notice requirements of RCW 58.17.090 shall be followed, except that the publication shall be made within ten days of the filing of the application. Additionally, at least ten days after the filing of the application notice both shall be: (i) Posted on or around the land proposed to be subdivided in at least five conspicuous places designed to attract public awareness of the proposal; and (ii) mailed to the owner of each lot or parcel of property located within at least three hundred feet of the site. The applicant shall provide the county, city, or town with a list of such property owners and their addresses. The notice shall include notification that no public hearing will be held on the application, except as provided by this section. The notice shall set out the procedures and time limitations for persons to require a public hearing and make comments.

(ii) Any person shall have a period of twenty days from the date of the notice to comment upon the proposed preliminary plat. All comments received shall be provided to the applicant. The applicant has seven days from receipt of the comments to respond thereto.

(iii) A public hearing on the proposed subdivision shall be held if any person files a request for a hearing with the county, city, or town within twenty-one days of the publishing of such notice. If such a hearing is requested, notice requirements for the public hearing shall be in conformance with RCW 58.17.090, and the ninety-day period for approval or disapproval of the proposed subdivision provided for in RCW 58.17.140 shall commence with the date of the filing of the request for a public hearing. Any hearing ordered under this subsection shall be conducted by the planning commission or hearings officer as required by county or city ordinance.

(iv) On its own initiative within twenty-one days of the filing of the request for approval of the subdivision, the governing body, or a designated employee or official, of the county, city, or town, shall be authorized to cause a public hearing to be held on the proposed subdivision within ninety days of the filing of the request for the subdivision.

(v) If the public hearing is waived as provided in this section, the planning commission or planning agency shall complete the review of the proposed preliminary plat and transmit its recommendation to the legislative body as provided in RCW 58.17.100.

(3) If the county, city, or town has adopted consolidated permitting procedures and time frames as provided in chapter 36.70B RCW, it may conduct administrative review of preliminary plats consistent with its procedures and time frames. At a minimum, local permitting procedures and time frames related to administrative review of preliminary plats shall provide for:

(a) Notice of application by publication, posting, and mailing. All forms of notice shall include a prominent statement that no public hearing will be held on the application, except as provided by this section. All forms of notice shall clearly state procedures and time frames for persons to make comments on the proposal and request a public hearing.

(b) Written comments on the application by any person. Comments received shall be provided to the applicant, and the applicant shall be provided seven days from receipt of the comments to respond thereto.

(c) A public hearing on the application if any person files a request for a hearing within the time frame specified. If a hearing is requested, notice requirements for the public hearing and the time frame for approval or disapproval of the application shall be consistent with other local permitting procedures. Any hearing conducted under this subsection shall be conducted by the planning commission or hearing officer as required by local ordinance.
(d) A public hearing on the application if the legislative or executive branch of the county, city, or town so requests within the time frame specified.

(e) Expedited agency review and transmittal of its recommendation on the application to the legislative body of the county, city, or town, if there is no request for public hearing.

Sec. 4. RCW 90.60.010 and 1995 c 347 s 601 are each amended to read as follows:

The legislature hereby finds and declares:

(1) Washington's environmental protection programs have established strict standards to reduce pollution and protect the public health and safety and the environment. The single-purpose programs instituted to achieve these standards have been successful in many respects, and have produced significant gains in protecting Washington's environment in the face of substantial population growth.

(2) Continued progress to achieve the environmental standards in the face of continued population growth will require greater coordination between the single-purpose environmental programs and more efficient operation of these programs overall. Pollution must be prevented and controlled and not simply transferred to another media or another place. This goal can only be achieved by maintaining the current environmental protection standards and by greater integration of the existing programs.

(3) As the number of environmental laws and regulations have grown in Washington, so have the number of permits required of business and government. This regulatory burden has significantly added to the cost and time needed to obtain essential permits in Washington. The increasing number of individual permits and permit authorities has generated the continuing potential for conflict, overlap, and duplication between the various state, local, and federal permits.

(4) The purpose of this chapter is to institute new, efficient procedures that will assist businesses and public agencies in complying with the environmental quality laws in an expedited fashion, without reducing protection of public health and safety and the environment.

(5) Those procedures need to provide a permit process that promotes effective dialogue and ensures ease in the transfer and clarification of technical information, while preventing duplication. It is necessary that the procedures establish a process for preliminary and ongoing meetings between the applicant, the coordinating permit agency, and the participating permit agencies, but do not preclude the applicant or participating permit agencies from individually coordinating with each other.

(6) It is necessary, to the maximum extent practicable, that the procedures established in this chapter ensure that the coordinated permit agency process and applicable permit requirements and criteria are integrated and run concurrently, rather than consecutively.

(7) It is necessary to provide a reliable and consolidated source of information concerning federal, state, and local environmental and land use laws and procedures that apply to any given proposal.

(8) It is the intent of this chapter to provide an optional process by which a project proponent may obtain active coordination of all applicable regulatory and land-use permitting procedures. This process is not to replace individual laws, or diminish the substantive decision-making role of individual jurisdictions. Rather it is to provide predictability, administrative consolidation, and, where possible, consolidation of appeal processes.

(9) It is also the intent of this chapter (to provide) that by providing an optional coordinated permit process, measures are taken by the parties that promote the public's trust and confidence in the underlying permit process, including providing consolidated, effective, and easier opportunities for members of the public to receive information and present their views about proposed projects.

Sec. 5. RCW 90.60.020 and 1995 c 347 s 602 are each amended to read as follows:

Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Center" means the permit assistance center established in the (department) by RCW 90.60.030.

(2) "Coordinating permit agency" means the permit agency that has the greatest overall jurisdiction over a project.

(3) "Department" means the department of ecology.

(4) "Local government" means counties, cities, and towns.

(5) "Participating permit agency" means a permit agency, other than the coordinating permit agency, that is responsible for the issuance of a permit for a project.

(6) "Parties" collectively means the coordinating permit agency, permit agency, and participating permit agency.

(7) "Permit" means any license, certificate, registration, permit, or other form of authorization required by a permit agency to engage in a particular activity.

(8) "Permit agency" means:

(a) The department of ecology, an air pollution control authority, the department of natural resources, the department of fish and wildlife, and the department of health; and

(b) Any other state or federal agency or county, city, or town that participates at the request of the permit applicant and upon the agency's agreement to be subject to this chapter.

(9) "Project" means an activity, the conduct of which requires permits from one or more permit agencies.

(10) "Small project" means a project for which the applicants do not enter into a cost reimbursement agreement as authorized by RCW 90.60.100, and the project:

(a) Will require fewer than five permits from the state permit agencies;
Sec. 6. RCW 90.60.030 and 1997 c 429 s 35 are each amended to read as follows:

1. The permit assistance center is established within the department. The center shall:
   (a) Publish and keep current one or more handbooks containing lists and explanations of all permit laws. To the extent possible, the handbook shall include relevant federal, state, and tribal laws. A state agency or local government shall provide a reasonable number of copies of application forms, statutes, ordinances, rules, handbooks, and other informational material requested by the center and shall otherwise fully cooperate with the center. The center shall seek the cooperation of relevant federal agencies and tribal governments;
   (b) Establish, and make available, a point of contact for distribution of the handbook and advice to the public as to its interpretation in any given case;
   (c) Work closely and cooperatively with the business license center in providing efficient and nonduplicative service to the public;
   (d) Seek the assignment of employees from the permit agencies as defined in this chapter to serve on a rotating basis in staffing the center;
   (e) Collect and disseminate information to public and private entities on federal, state, local, and tribal government programs that rely on private professional expertise to assist governmental agencies in project permit review; and
   (f) Provide an annual report to the legislature on potential conflicts and perceived inconsistencies among existing statutes. The first report shall be submitted to the appropriate standing committees of the house of representatives and senate by December 1, 1996, that includes:
      (i) Statutory and other recommendations for streamlining and coordinating environmental permitting in Washington;
      (ii) Summarizes the results of the center's efforts to measure performance and outcomes over time;
      (iii) Summarizes, evaluates, and makes statutory and other recommendations for improving the center's and permitting agencies' efforts to provide public notice efficiently and for promoting effective public participation in permitting processes;
      (iv) Details efforts on the part of the center, the department, and the parties to promote the public's trust and confidence in the permitting process. Examples of such efforts include, but are not limited to, the development of statutory and other policies and procedures, guidance, roles, and responsibilities; and
      (v) Shows revenues generated by the center's services, and the center's budget and expenditures.

2. The department shall prioritize the expenditure of general fund moneys allotted to the center to provide a set of services to the applicants of small projects.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. A new section is added to chapter 90.60 RCW to read as follows:

The department is encouraged to establish permit assistance center offices at department regional and field offices to provide better access to the center's services in all areas of the state. Staffing for the regional permit assistance centers may be provided with funding from the state general fund and funds from other sources.

Sec. 8. RCW 90.60.100 and 1995 c 347 s 610 are each amended to read as follows:

1. The parties may enter into a written cost-reimbursement agreement with the applicant to recover from the applicant the reasonable costs incurred by the parties in carrying out the requirements of this chapter, as well as the requirements of other relevant laws, as they relate to permit coordination, environmental review, application review, technical studies, and permit processing.

2. The written cost-reimbursement agreement shall be negotiated with the permit applicant following the meeting required pursuant to RCW 90.60.070. Permit agencies may assign work to current staff, temporary staff, or technical consultants in order to carry out the work covered by the written cost-reimbursement agreement or the work remaining for the permit agency as a result of the coordinated permit process. The billing process shall provide for accurate time and cost accounting and may include a billing cycle that provides for progress payments.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. A new section is added to chapter 90.60 RCW to read as follows:

1. In collaboration with local governments and state agencies the permit assistance center shall conduct a feasibility study of what might be necessary to establish an integrated permit process. In its conduct of the study, the permit assistance center may appoint technical advisory committees to advise the center and participating agencies. Meetings of the permit assistance center, state agencies, and local governments relating to this study shall be open to the public. The permit assistance center shall solicit comment from interested stakeholders. The comments received and the responses to them shall be summarized as part of the final report.

2. The study shall consider:
   (a) The role of preapplication conferences that would involve the applicant and the permit agencies;
(b) The characteristics of a complete project application;
(c) Coordination of permitting and integration of processes;
(d) Provisions for negotiations for cost reimbursement agreements for permitting agencies;
(e) The types of permits that might be considered for inclusion in an integrated process;
(f) The potential for coordination of local appeals and state appeals;
(g) The potential for an integrated decision; and
(h) The potential for positive outcomes on performance measures identified in RCW 90.60.030.

3. By December 1, 1999, the permit assistance center shall submit a report to the legislature on this study.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. A new section is added to chapter 90.60 RCW to read as follows:
(1) It is the intent of this chapter to provide an interagency forum for the discussion of significant issues related to the permitting processes and use authorizations for projects that are proposed on state-owned aquatic lands where there are multiple permits, programs, and legal authorities involved.

2. It is a goal of this chapter to encourage all agencies and local governments involved in issuing permits or granting use authorizations for a single project on state-owned aquatic lands to communicate with each other on a timely basis and early in the project review process in order to maximize coordination, facilitate problem resolution, promote the effectiveness of permit decisions, and enhance citizen understanding and involvement in the permit process. It is also a goal of this chapter that all permitting or authorizing federal and state agencies, local governments, and tribal governments involved in coordinating their respective roles related to permits or authorizations from the outset of any review process. Tribes with fisheries interests in the project area shall also be invited to participate.

3. For the purposes of this section, "aquatic lands" means as it is defined in RCW 79.90.010.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. A new section is added to chapter 90.60 RCW to read as follows:
(1) The applicant, a local government, or the state agency with the greatest overall jurisdiction for a project may submit a joint aquatic resource permit application to the permit assistance center if a project proposed for the use of state-owned aquatic lands requires:
   (a) A hydraulic project approval under chapter 75.20 RCW;
   (b) A wastewater discharge permit under chapter 90.48 RCW, or a federal clean water act section 401 certification; and
   (c) A substantial development permit under chapter 90.58 RCW.

2. If the local government or state agency with the greatest overall jurisdiction is uncertain about whether all of the permits identified under subsection (1) of this section are required, it shall submit the completed form to the permit assistance center and allow the center to determine which permits are required.

3. The permit assistance center shall facilitate a project scoping meeting including the project applicant, the department of natural resources, the department of ecology, the department of fish and wildlife, and the local governments in whose jurisdiction the project is proposed. Federal agencies and tribal governments that either issue or may require a permit, or that may require a use authorization for the project or have fishery resources that might be affected by the project, shall each be invited to name a representative to participate in the coordinated permit review process for proposed projects on state-owned aquatic lands. All participating agencies are encouraged to remain in communication for purposes of coordination throughout the permit review processes until final permit decisions are made.

4. The purpose of the scoping meeting is to share perspectives and identify the issues and information needs of concern to each participant with regard to the proposed project, and jointly develop a strategy for coordinating permitting and issuance of use authorization issues. This project scoping process shall be concluded within sixty days of the date of receipt of the joint aquatic resource permit application by the permit assistance center.
   (a) During this review, the participating agencies shall identify:
      (i) The specific information needs and issues of concern and their significance to each participant with regard to the permitting processes involved;
      (ii) Any statutory or regulatory conflicts that might arise relating to differing legal authorities and roles of the agencies issuing the permit or use authorization of the project;
      (iii) Any state or local jurisdiction or private sector liability that might result from permitting or issuing a use authorization for the project; and
      (iv) Any natural resources, including federal or state listed species, that might be adversely affected by the permitting or authorizing decision.
   (b) Following this project scoping review, the outcome shall be documented in written form and furnished to the applicant, and be available to the public.
   (c) Upon completion of this review, the permitting and authorizing agencies and governments shall proceed according to their respective statutes. Nothing in this section may prevent the parties from reconvening later in the course of the permitting or use authorization process.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. A new section is added to chapter 75.20 RCW to read as follows:
(1) The department shall conduct a study of the hydraulic permit program to assess the adequacy and effectiveness of the program to meet the requirements of the federal endangered species act and in providing an efficient and predictable permitting process for the public while maintaining the department's oversight of the state-wide interest in fish habitat. The study shall evaluate the potential effects of authorizing a local government to issue, enforce site-specific permits, or both, and recommend changes to the program to comply with the requirements of the federal endangered species act. The department shall provide an interim report to the legislature by January 15, 2000, and a final report on the results of the study to the legislature by December 1, 2000.

(2) The legislature encourages the department to review its hydraulic project approval program to determine the extent to which the program meets the requirements of the federal endangered species act, and to seek approval of the program under the federal endangered species act.

(3) The department shall report to the legislature on January 1, 2000, and January 1, 2001, on the status of any program submitted for review to federal agencies implementing the federal endangered species act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. A new section is added to chapter 47.01 RCW to read as follows:

The legislature recognizes that the department is restructuring its transportation construction and maintenance programs in order to meet the requirements of the federal endangered species act, and intends to seek approval of these programs under the federal endangered species act. The legislature further recognizes that local government transportation construction and maintenance programs might benefit from approval of the department's program under the federal endangered species act. The department shall collaborate with local government in developing its strategy for compliance with the federal endangered species act for its transportation construction and maintenance programs.

The department shall report to the legislature on January 1, 2000, and January 1, 2001, on the status of any program submitted for review to federal agencies implementing the federal endangered species act.

Sec. 14. RCW 90.58.080 and 1995 c 347 s 305 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Local governments shall develop or amend (within twenty-four months after the adoption of guidelines as provided in RCW 90.58.060)) a master program for regulation of uses of the shorelines of the state consistent with the required elements of the guidelines adopted by the department. Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section, master programs shall be reviewed for compliance with the guidelines and adopted or amended as necessary within twenty-four months after the adoption of guidelines as provided in RCW 90.58.060.

(2) Consistent with the priority salmon recovery regions and WRIA's map, as defined in the state-wide strategy to recover salmon volume 1, page V.95, and population growth data provided by the office of financial management, the following master program development or amendment schedule applies for guidelines adopted by the department before December 31, 2000:

(a) For King, Snohomish, Pierce, Clark, and Kitsap counties and the cities and towns therein with shorelines of the state, master programs shall be reviewed for compliance with the guidelines and adopted or amended as necessary within thirty-six months after the adoption of guidelines as provided in RCW 90.58.060:

(b) For Thurston, Whatcom, Benton, Yakima, Skagit, Cowlitz, Clallam, Chelan, Mason, Lewis, Jefferson, and Okanogan counties and the cities and towns therein with shorelines of the state, master programs shall be reviewed for compliance with the guidelines and adopted or amended as necessary within forty-eight months after the adoption of guidelines as provided in RCW 90.58.060:

(c) For all other counties, cities, and towns with shorelines of the state, master programs shall be reviewed for compliance with the guidelines and adopted or amended as necessary within sixty months after the adoption of guidelines amendments as provided in RCW 90.58.060.

(3) Local governments failing to meet the schedule provided in subsection (2) of this section shall not be eligible for grant moneys from the department pursuant to implementation of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. The following acts or parts of acts are each repealed:

(1) RCW 43.131.387 ( Permit assistance center-- Termination) and 1995 c 347 s 617; and

(2) RCW 43.131.388 ( Permit assistance center--Repeal) and 1995 c 347 s 618.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. Section 15 of this act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and takes effect June 29, 1999."

MOTION

Senator Benton moved that the following amendments by Senators Benton, Morton, Tim Sheldon and Shin to the Committee on Environmental Quality and Water Resources striking amendment be considered simultaneously and be adopted:

On page 13, after line 2 of the amendment, insert the following:

"Sec. 13. RCW 75.20.100 and 1998 c 190 s 87 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) In the event that any person or government agency desires to construct any form of hydraulic project or perform other work that will use, divert, obstruct, or change the natural flow or bed of any of the salt or fresh waters of the state, such person or government agency shall, before commencing construction or work thereon and to ensure the proper protection of fish life, secure the approval of the department as to the adequacy of the means proposed for the protection of fish life. This approval shall not be unreasonably withheld."
(2)(a) Except as provided in RCW 75.20.1001, the department shall grant or deny approval of a standard permit within forty-five calendar days of the receipt of a complete application and notice of compliance with any applicable requirements of the state environmental policy act, made in the manner prescribed in this section.

(b) The applicant may document receipt of application by filing in person or by registered mail. A complete application for approval shall contain general plans for the overall project, complete plans and specifications of the proposed construction or work within the mean higher high water line in salt water or within the ordinary high water line in fresh water, and complete plans and specifications for the proper protection of fish life.

(c) The forty-five day requirement shall be suspended if:

(i) After ten working days of receipt of the application, the applicant remains unavailable or unable to arrange for a timely field evaluation of the proposed project;

(ii) The site is physically inaccessible for inspection; or

(iii) The applicant requests delay. Immediately upon determination that the forty-five day period is suspended, the department shall notify the applicant in writing of the reasons for the delay.

(d) For purposes of this section, "standard permit" means a written permit issued by the department when the conditions under subsections (3) and (5)(b) of this section are not met.

(3)(a) The department may issue an expedited written permit in those instances where normal permit processing would result in significant hardship for the applicant or unacceptable damage to the environment. In cases of imminent danger, the department shall issue an expedited written permit, upon request, for work to repair existing structures, move obstructions, restore banks, protect property, or protect fish resources. Expedited permit requests require a complete written application as provided in subsection (2)(b) of this section and shall be issued within fifteen calendar days of the receipt of a complete written application. Approval of an expedited permit is valid for up to sixty days from the date of issuance.

(b) For the purposes of this subsection, "imminent danger" means a threat by weather, water flow, or other natural conditions that is likely to occur within sixty days of a request for a permit application.

(c) The department may not require the provisions of the state environmental policy act, chapter 43.21C RCW, to be met as a condition of issuing a permit under this subsection.

(d) The department or the county legislative authority may determine if an imminent danger exists. The county legislative authority shall notify the department, in writing, if it determines that an imminent danger exists.

(4) Approval of a standard permit is valid for a period of up to five years from date of issuance. The permittee must demonstrate substantial progress on construction of that portion of the project relating to the approval within two years of the date of issuance. If the department denies approval, the department shall provide the applicant, in writing, a statement of the specific reasons why and how the proposed project would adversely affect fish life based on sound science and applicable documentation. Protection of fish life shall be the only ground upon which approval may be denied or conditioned. Chapter 34.05 RCW applies to any denial of project approval, conditional approval, or requirements for project modification upon which approval may be contingent.

(5)(a) In case of an emergency arising from weather or stream flow conditions or other natural conditions, the department, through its authorized representatives, shall issue immediately, upon request, oral approval for removing any obstructions, repairing existing structures, restoring stream banks, or to protect property threatened by the stream or a change in the stream flow without the necessity of obtaining a written approval prior to commencing work. Conditions of an oral approval to protect fish life shall be established by the department and reduced to writing within thirty days and complied with as provided for in this section. Oral approval shall be granted immediately, upon request, for a stream crossing during an emergency situation.

(b) For purposes of this section and RCW 75.20.103, "emergency" means an immediate threat to life, the public, property, or of environmental degradation.

(c) The department or the county legislative authority may declare and continue an emergency when one or more of the criteria under (b) of this subsection are met. The county legislative authority shall immediately notify the department if it declares an emergency under this subsection.

(6) The department shall, at the request of a county, develop five-year maintenance approval agreements, consistent with comprehensive flood control management plans adopted under the authority of RCW 86.12.200, or other watershed plan approved by a county legislative authority, to allow for work on public and private property for bank stabilization, bridge repair, removal of sand bars and debris, channel maintenance, and other flood damage repair and reduction activity under agreed-upon conditions and times without obtaining permits for specific projects.

(7) This section shall not apply to the construction of any form of hydraulic project or other work which diverts water for agricultural irrigation or stock watering purposes authorized under or recognized as being valid by the state's water codes, or when such hydraulic project or other work is associated with streambank stabilization to protect farm and agricultural land as defined in RCW 84.34.020. These irrigation or stock watering diversion and streambank stabilization projects shall be governed by RCW 75.20.103.
A landscape management plan approved by the department and the department of natural resources under RCW 76.09.350(2), shall serve as a hydraulic project approval for the life of the plan if fish are selected as one of the public resources for coverage under such a plan.

(8) For the purposes of this section and RCW 75.20.103, "bed" means the land below the ordinary high water lines of state waters. This definition does not include irrigation ditches, canals, storm water run-off devices, or other artificial watercourses except where they exist in a natural watercourse that has been altered by man.

(9) The phrase "to construct any form of hydraulic project or perform other work" does not include the act of driving across an established ford. Driving across streams or on wetted stream beds at areas other than established fords requires approval. Work within the ordinary high water line of state waters to construct or repair a ford or crossing requires approval.

This section does not apply to small scale prospecting and mining activities, which are governed by section 14 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. A new section is added to chapter 75.20 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Small scale prospecting and mining is exempt from the provisions of this chapter, provided that aggregate containing fish eggs or fry are not collected or processed at any time.

(2) Small scale prospecting and mining may take place landward of the ordinary high water mark of any stream at any time of the year, if such activity does not require an approved plan of operation on public lands provided for in 43 C.F.R. Sec. 3830 through 3850 or 36 C.F.R. Sec. 228 subpart A as they existed on the effective date of this section.

(3) For the purposes of this chapter, "small scale prospecting and mining" means the use of methods such as pans, sluice boxes, concentrators, and minirocker boxes for the discovery and recovery of minerals at or below the ordinary high water mark.

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

On page 14, after line 22 of the amendment, strike all of section 16 and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. Sections 13, 14, and 15 of this act are necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions. Sections 13 and 14 of this act take effect immediately and section 15 of this act takes effect June 29, 1999."

Debate ensued

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendments by Senators Benton, Morton, Tim Sheldon and Shin on page 13, after line 2, and page 14, after line 22, to the Committee on Environmental Quality and Water Resources striking amendment to Engrossed Second Substitute House Bill No. 1893.

The motion by Senator Benton carried and amendments to the committee striking amendment were adopted on a rising vote.

MOTION

Senator Fraser moved that the following amendment by Senators Fraser and Morton to the Committee on Environmental Quality and Water Resources striking amendment be adopted:

On page 14, after line 22, insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. Section 8 of this act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and takes effect immediately."

Renumber the sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senators Fraser and Benton on page 14, after line 22, to the Committee on Environmental Quality and Water Resources striking amendment to Engrossed Second Substitute House Bill No. 1893.

The motion by Senator Fraser carried and the amendment to the committee striking amendment was adopted.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the Committee on Environmental Quality and Water Resources striking amendment to Engrossed Second Substitute House Bill No. 1893, as amended.

The committee amendment, as amended, was adopted.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Fraser, the following title amendments were considered simultaneously and were adopted:

On page 1, line 1 of the title, after "issuance:" strike the remainder of the title and insert "amending RCW 36.70A.020, 58.17.095, 90.60.010, 90.60.020, 90.60.030, 90.60.100, and 90.58.080; adding new sections to chapter 90.60 RCW; adding a new section to chapter 75.20
RCW; adding a new section to chapter 47.01 RCW; creating a new section; repealing RCW 43.131.387 and 43.131.388; providing an effective date; and declaring an emergency."

On page 14, line 32 of the title amendment, after "90.60.100," insert "75.20.100." and beginning on line 33 of the title amendment, after "90.60 RCW," strike "adding a new section to chapter 75.20 RCW;" and insert "adding new sections to chapter 75.20 RCW;"

MOTION

On motion of Senator Fraser, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Second Substitute House Bill No. 1893, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Engrossed Second Substitute House Bill No. 1893, as amended by the Senate.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Second Substitute House Bill No. 1893, as amended by the Senate, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 48; Nays, 1; Absent, 0; Excused, 0.

Voting nay: Senator Honeyford - 1.

ENGROSSED SECOND SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1893, as amended by the Senate, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Deccio: "I rise to a point of personal privilege, Mr. President. Yesterday, in my response to Senator Snyder's question as to my age, the answer I gave was offensive and violated the standards you have set to maintain the dignity and decorum of this body. Today, I would like to apologize to Senator Snyder, whom I greatly respect. Overnight, I thought about this and imagined what my response would have generated if we were in the French or Italian Parliament. Senator Snyder and I would have come to blows, so today I would like to respond to his question as to my age as though this were the British Parliament.

"So here goes, in response to the learned honorable majority leader, I do not believe that the divulging of information pertaining to my longevity will greatly enhance your already outstanding ability as majority leader. There is no prospect that this information would inure to the benefit of our illustrious and talented president of this august body. Such information will provide no assistance to the honorable, gentle lady from the great city of Pasco to negotiate the budget with the inexperienced and under-talented members of the other body. This great knowledge would not benefit the members of this great body. Further, I believe that my response would not benefit the honorable Senators from the Fourth, Thirty-seventh, and Forty-seventh districts to enable them to grow additional cranial cover.

"Therefore, to the honorable majority leader, my response is no response. However, if this lack of knowledge concerning my longevity is causing great consternation and discomfort to the honorable majority leader, my response would be a quote from the late, great and talented French violinist Jaque Bene, 'I'm thirty-nine.'"

Debate ensued.

SECOND READING

ENGROSSED HOUSE BILL NO. 1894, by Representative Conway

Correcting industrial insurance benefit errors.

The bill was read the second time.
MOTION

On motion of Senator Fairley, the rules were suspended, Engrossed House Bill No. 1894 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage. Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 1894.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 1894 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 49; Nays, 0; Absent, 0; Excused, 0.

ENGROSSED HOUSE BILL NO. 1894, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Betti Sheldon, the Senate reverted to the fourth order of business.

SENATE RESOLUTION 1999-8667

By Senators Costa, Spanel, Franklin, Kohl-Wells and Fraser

WHEREAS, In 1916, the first case of Polio was recorded, resulting in approximately 27,000 deaths; and
WHEREAS, Between the year of 1946 through 1952, the Polio epidemic absorbed 144,000 victims nationally; and
WHEREAS, There are an estimated 35,000 Polio survivors in Washington State alone; and
WHEREAS, There are currently 1.6 million Polio survivors in the United States; and
WHEREAS, The centralized Burien Office for Polio Outreach of Washington was formed in 1995 by peer volunteers to locate and inform Polio survivors who may currently be experiencing Post Polio Syndrome; and
WHEREAS, Many individuals are diagnosed with this disease year after year; and
WHEREAS, The debilitating effects of Post Polio Syndrome, from severe fatigue to total body exhaustion, are often not detected until up to thirty years after the original onset of Polio; and
WHEREAS, Post Polio Syndrome is the second most leading cause of neurological damage; and
WHEREAS, The medical field and the Polio survivors must be able to recognize the symptoms of Post Polio Syndrome, so that they will not be prematurely disabled; and
WHEREAS, The distribution of accurate information and educational material is a necessity in order to create awareness for this disease and its effects;
NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington State Senate recognize the courage and strength of all Polio survivors and the efforts of Polio Outreach of Washington to reach them.

Senators Costa, Kohl-Welles, Franklin, Thibaudeau, McDonald and Prentice spoke to Senate Resolution 1999-8667.

HOUSE BILL NO. 1080, by Representatives Carlson, Ogden, Pennington, Dunn, Tokuda, Stensen, O'Brien, Morris, Conway, Lambert, Lantz, Wood, Rockefeller, Parlette, Esser and Lovick

Providing infectious disease testing for good Samaritans.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Thibaudeau, the following striking amendment by Senators Thibaudeau and Deccio was adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that citizens who assist individuals in emergency situations perform a needed and valuable role that deserves recognition and support. The legislature further finds that emergency assistance in the form of mouth to mouth resuscitation or other emergency medical procedures resulting in the exchange of bodily fluids significantly increases the odds of being exposed to a deadly infectious disease. Some of the more life-threatening diseases that can be transferred during an emergency procedure where bodily fluids are exchanged include hepatitis A, B, and C, and human immunodeficiency virus (HIV). Individuals infected by these diseases value confidentiality regarding this information. A number of good Samaritans who perform life-saving emergency procedures such as cardiopulmonary resuscitation are unable to pay for the tests necessary for detecting infectious diseases that could have been transmitted during the emergency procedure. It is the purpose of this act to provide infectious disease testing at no cost to good Samaritans who request testing for infectious diseases after rendering emergency assistance that has brought them into contact with a bodily fluid and to further protect the testing information once obtained through confidentiality provisions.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 70.05 RCW to read as follows:

A person rendering emergency care or transportation, commonly known as a "Good Samaritan," as described in RCW 4.24.300 and 4.24.310, may request and receive appropriate infectious disease testing free of charge from the local health department of the county of her or his residence, if: (1) While rendering emergency care she or he came into contact with bodily fluids; and (2) she or he does not have health insurance that covers the testing. Nothing in this section requires a local health department to provide health care services beyond testing. The department shall adopt rules implementing this section."
The information obtained from infectious disease testing is subject to statutory confidentiality provisions, including those of chapters 70.24 and 70.05 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 70.24 RCW to read as follows:

(1) In order to assure compliance with the protections under this chapter and the rules of the board, and to assure public confidence in the confidentiality of reported information, the department shall:

(a) Report annually to the board any incidents of unauthorized disclosure by the department, local health departments, or their employees of information protected under RCW 70.24.105. The report shall include recommendations for preventing future unauthorized disclosures and improving the system of confidentiality for reported information; and

(b) Assist health care providers, facilities that conduct tests, local health departments, and other persons involved in disease reporting to understand, implement, and comply with this chapter and the rules of the board related to disease reporting.

(2) This section is exempt from RCW 70.24.084, 70.05.070, and 70.05.120.

Sec. 4. RCW 70.24.084 and 1988 c 206 s 914 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Any person aggrieved by a violation of this chapter shall have a right of action in superior court and may recover for each violation:

(a) Against any person who negligently violates a provision of this chapter, one thousand dollars, or actual damages, whichever is greater, for each violation.

(b) Against any person who intentionally or recklessly violates a provision of this chapter, (two) ten thousand dollars, or actual damages, whichever is greater, for each violation.

(c) Reasonable attorneys' fees and costs.

(d) Such other relief, including an injunction, as the court may deem appropriate.

(2) Any action under this chapter is barred unless the action is commenced within three years after the cause of action accrues.

(3) Nothing in this chapter limits the rights of the subject of a test for a sexually transmitted disease to recover damages or other relief under any other applicable law.

(4) Nothing in this chapter may be construed to impose civil liability or criminal sanction for disclosure of a test result for a sexually transmitted disease in accordance with any reporting requirement for a diagnosed case of sexually transmitted disease by the department or the centers for disease control of the United States public health service.

Sec. 5. RCW 70.05.070 and 1993 c 492 s 239 are each amended to read as follows:

The local health officer, acting under the direction of the local board of health or under direction of the administrative officer appointed under RCW 70.05.040 or 70.05.035, if any, shall:

(1) Enforce the public health statutes of the state, rules of the state board of health and the secretary of health, and all local health rules, regulations and ordinances within his or her jurisdiction including imposition of penalties authorized under RCW 70.119A.030, the confidentiality provisions in RCW 70.24.105 and rules adopted to implement those provisions, and filing of actions authorized by RCW 43.70.190;

(2) Take such action as is necessary to maintain health and sanitation supervision over the territory within his or her jurisdiction;

(3) Control and prevent the spread of any dangerous, contagious or infectious diseases that may occur within his or her jurisdiction;

(4) Inform the public as to the causes, nature, and prevention of disease and disability and the preservation, promotion and improvement of health within his or her jurisdiction;

(5) Prevent, control or abate nuisances which are detrimental to the public health;

(6) Attend all conferences called by the secretary of health or his or her authorized representative;

(7) Collect such fees as are established by the state board of health or the local board of health for the issuance or renewal of licenses or permits or such other fees as may be authorized by law or by the rules of the state board of health;

(8) Inspect, as necessary, expansion or modification of existing public water systems, and the construction of new public water systems, to assure that the expansion, modification, or construction conforms to system design and plans;

(9) Take such measures as he or she deems necessary in order to promote the public health, to participate in the establishment of health educational or training activities, and to authorize the attendance of employees of the local health department or individuals engaged in community health programs related to or part of the programs of the local health department.

Sec. 6. RCW 70.05.120 and 1993 c 492 s 241 are each amended to read as follows:

Any local health officer or administrative officer appointed under RCW 70.05.040, if any, who shall refuse or neglect to obey or enforce the provisions of chapters 70.05, 70.24, and 70.46 RCW or the rules, regulations or orders of the state board of health or who shall refuse or neglect to make prompt and accurate reports to the state board of health, may be removed as local health officer or administrative officer by the state board of health and shall not again be reappointed except with the consent of the state board of health. Any person may complain to the state board of health concerning the failure of the local health officer or administrative officer to carry out the laws or the rules and regulations concerning public health, and the state board of health shall, if a preliminary investigation so warrants, call a hearing to determine whether the local health officer or administrative officer is guilty of the alleged acts. Such hearings shall be held pursuant to the provisions of chapter 34.05 RCW, and the rules and regulations of the state board of health adopted thereunder.

Any member of a local board of health who shall violate any of the provisions of chapters 70.05, 70.24, and 70.46 RCW or refuse or neglect to obey or enforce any of the rules, regulations or orders of the state board of health made for the prevention, suppression or control of any dangerous contagious or infectious disease or for the protection of the health of the people of this state, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not less than ten dollars nor more than two hundred dollars. Any physician who shall refuse or neglect to report to the proper health officer or administrative officer within twelve hours after first attending any case of contagious or infectious disease or any diseases required by the state board of health to be reported or any case suspicious of being one of such diseases, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not less than ten dollars nor more than two hundred dollars for each case that is not reported.

Any person violating any of the provisions of chapters 70.05, 70.24, and 70.46 RCW or violating or refusing or neglecting to obey any of the rules, regulations or orders made for the prevention, suppression and control of dangerous contagious and infectious diseases by the local board of health or local health officer or administrative officer or state board of health, or who shall leave any isolation hospital or quarantined house or place without the consent of the proper health officer or who evades or breaks quarantine or conceals a case of contagious or infectious disease or assists in evading or breaking any quarantine or concealing any case of contagious or infectious disease, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be subject to a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than one hundred dollars or to imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed ninety days or to both fine and imprisonment.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. Sections 1 and 2 of this act are necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and take effect immediately.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Thibaudeau, the following title amendment was adopted:

ENGROSSED SECOND SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1006, by House Committee on Appropriations (originally sponsored by Representatives Ballasiotes, O’Brien, Benson, Radcliff, Quall, Mitchell, Dickerson, Cairnes, Hurst, Alexander and Lambert)

Revising sentencing options for drug and alcohol offenders.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Costa, the following Committee on Human Services and Corrections striking amendement was adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 9.94A.030 and 1998 c 290 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Collect," or any derivative thereof, "collect and remit," or "collect and deliver," when used with reference to the department of corrections, means that the department is responsible for monitoring and enforcing the offender's sentence with regard to the legal financial obligation, receiving payment thereof from the offender, and, consistent with current law, delivering daily the entire payment to the superior court clerk without depositing it in a departmental account.

(2) "Commission" means the sentencing guidelines commission.

(3) "Community corrections officer" means an employee of the department who is responsible for carrying out specific duties in supervision of sentenced offenders and monitoring of sentence conditions.

(4) "Community custody" means that portion of an inmate's sentence of confinement in lieu of earned early release time or imposed pursuant to RCW 9.94A.120 (6), (8), or (10) served in the community subject to controls placed on the inmate's movement and activities by the department of corrections.
(5) "Community placement" means that period during which the offender is subject to the conditions of community custody and/or postrelease supervision, which begins either upon completion of the term of confinement (postrelease supervision) or at such time as the offender is transferred to community custody in lieu of earned early release. Community placement may consist of entirely community custody, entirely postrelease supervision, or a combination of the two.

(6) "Community service" means compulsory service, without compensation, performed for the benefit of the community by the offender.

(7) "Community supervision" means a period of time during which a convicted offender is subject to crime-related prohibitions and other sentence conditions imposed by a court pursuant to this chapter or RCW 16.52.200(6) or 46.61.524. For first-time offenders, the supervision may include crime-related prohibitions and other conditions imposed pursuant to RCW 9.94A.120(5). Where the court finds that any offender has a chemical dependency that has contributed to his or her offense, the conditions of supervision may, subject to available resources, include treatment. For purposes of the interstate compact for out-of-state supervision of parolees and probationers, RCW 9.95.270, community supervision is the functional equivalent of probation and should be considered the same as probation by other states.

(8) "Confinement" means total or partial confinement as defined in this section.

(9) "Conviction" means an adjudication of guilt pursuant to Titles 10 or 13 RCW and includes a verdict of guilty, a finding of guilty, and acceptance of a plea of guilty.

(10) "Court-ordered legal financial obligation" means a sum of money that is ordered by a superior court of the state of Washington for legal financial obligations which may include restitution to the victim, statutorily imposed crime victims' compensation fees as assessed pursuant to RCW 7.68.035, court costs, county or interlocal drug funds, court-appointed attorneys' fees, and costs of defense, fines, and any other financial obligation that is assessed to the offender as a result of a felony conviction. Upon conviction for vehicular assault while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug, RCW 46.61.522(1)(b), or vehicular homicide while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug, RCW 46.61.520(1)(a), legal financial obligations may also include payment to a public agency of the expense of an emergency response to the incident resulting in the conviction, subject to the provisions in RCW 38.52.430.

(11) "Crime-related prohibition" means an order of a court prohibiting conduct that directly relates to the circumstances of the crime for which the offender has been convicted, and shall not be construed to mean orders directing an offender affirmatively to participate in rehabilitative programs or to otherwise perform affirmative conduct. However, affirmative acts necessary to monitor compliance with the order of a court may be required by the department.

(12) "Criminal history" means the list of a defendant's prior convictions and juvenile adjudications, whether in this state, in federal court, or elsewhere. The history shall include, where known, for each conviction (a) whether the defendant has been placed on probation and the length and terms thereof; and (b) whether the defendant has been incarcerated and the length of incarceration.

(13) "Day fine" means a fine imposed by the sentencing judge that equals the difference between the offender's net daily income and the reasonable obligations that the offender has for the support of the offender and any dependents.

(14) "Day reporting" means a program of enhanced supervision designed to monitor the defendant's daily activities and compliance with sentence conditions, and in which the defendant is required to report daily to a specific location designated by the department or the sentencing judge.

(15) "Department" means the department of corrections.

(16) "Determinate sentence" means a sentence that states with exactitude the number of actual years, months, or days of total confinement, of partial confinement, of community supervision, the number of actual hours or days of community service work, or dollars or terms of a legal financial obligation. The fact that an offender through "earned early release" can reduce the actual period of confinement shall not affect the classification of the sentence as a determinate sentence.

(17) "Disposable earnings" means that part of the earnings of an individual remaining after the deduction from those earnings of any amount required by law to be withheld. For the purposes of this definition, "earnings" means compensation paid or payable for personal services, whether denominated as wages, salary, commission, bonuses, or otherwise, and, notwithstanding any other provision of law making the payments exempt from garnishment, attachment, or other process to satisfy a court-ordered legal financial obligation, specifically includes periodic payments pursuant to pension or retirement programs, or insurance policies of any type, but does not include payments made under Title 50 RCW, except as provided in RCW 50.40.020 and 50.40.050, or Title 74 RCW.

(18) "Drug offense" means:

(a) Any felony violation of chapter 69.50 RCW except possession of a controlled substance (RCW 69.50.401(d)) or forged prescription for a controlled substance (RCW 69.50.403);

(b) Any offense defined as a felony under federal law that relates to the possession, manufacture, distribution, or transportation of a controlled substance; or
(c) Any out-of-state conviction for an offense that under the laws of this state would be a felony classified as a drug offense under (a) of this subsection.

(19) "Escape" means:

(a) Escape in the first degree (RCW 9A.76.110), escape in the second degree (RCW 9A.76.120), willful failure to return from furlough (RCW 72.66.060), willful failure to return from work release (RCW 72.65.070), or willful failure to be available for supervision by the department while in community custody (RCW 72.09.310); or

(b) Any federal or out-of-state conviction for an offense that under the laws of this state would be a felony classified as an escape under (a) of this subsection.

(20) "Felony traffic offense" means:

(a) Vehicular homicide (RCW 46.61.520), vehicular assault (RCW 46.61.522), eluding a police officer (RCW 46.61.024), or felony hit-and-run injury-accident (RCW 46.52.020(4)); or

(b) Any federal or out-of-state conviction for an offense that under the laws of this state would be a felony classified as a felony traffic offense under (a) of this subsection.

(21) "Fines" means the requirement that the offender pay a specific sum of money over a specific period of time to the court.

(22) "First-time offender" means any person who is convicted of a felony (a) not classified as a violent offense or a sex offense under this chapter, or (b) that is not the manufacture, delivery, or possession with intent to manufacture or deliver a controlled substance classified in Schedule I or II that is a narcotic drug or flunitrazepam classified in Schedule IV, nor the manufacture, delivery, or possession with intent to deliver methamphetamine, its salts, isomers, and salts of its isomers as defined in RCW 69.50.206(d)(2), nor the selling for profit of any controlled substance or counterfeit substance classified in Schedule I, RCW 69.50.204, except leaves and flowering tops of marihuana, who previously has never been convicted of a felony in this state, federal court, or another state, and who has never participated in a program of deferred prosecution for a felony offense.

(23) "Most serious offense" means any of the following felonies or a felony attempt to commit any of the following felonies, as now existing or hereafter amended:

(a) Any felony defined under any law as a class A felony or criminal solicitation of or criminal conspiracy to commit a class A felony;

(b) Assault in the second degree;

(c) Assault of a child in the second degree;

(d) Child molestation in the second degree;

(e) Controlled substance homicide;

(f) Extortion in the first degree;

(g) Incest when committed against a child under age fourteen;

(h) Indecent liberties;

(i) Kidnapping in the second degree;

(j) Leading organized crime;

(k) Manslaughter in the first degree;

(l) Manslaughter in the second degree;

(m) Promoting prostitution in the first degree;

(n) Rape in the third degree;

(o) Robbery in the second degree;

(p) Sexual exploitation;

(q) Vehicular assault;

(r) Vehicular homicide, when proximately caused by the driving of any vehicle by any person while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug as defined by RCW 46.61.502, or by the operation of any vehicle in a reckless manner;

(s) Any other class B felony offense with a finding of sexual motivation, as "sexual motivation" is defined under this section;

(t) Any other felony with a deadly weapon verdict under RCW 9.94A.125;

(u) Any felony offense in effect at any time prior to December 2, 1993, that is comparable to a most serious offense under this subsection, or any federal or out-of-state conviction for an offense that under the laws of this state would be a felony classified as a most serious offense under this subsection;

(v) A prior conviction for indecent liberties under RCW 9A.88.100(1) (a), (b), and (c), chapter 260, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. as it existed until July 1, 1979, RCW 9A.44.100(1) (a), and (c) as it existed from July 1, 1979, until June 11, 1986, and RCW 9A.44.100(1) (a), (b), and (d) as it existed from June 11, 1986, until July 1, 1988;
A prior conviction for indecent liberties under RCW 9A.44.100(1)(c) as it existed from June 11, 1986, until July 1, 1988, if: (A) The crime was committed against a child under the age of fourteen; or (B) the relationship between the victim and perpetrator is included in the definition of indecent liberties under RCW 9A.44.100(1)(c) as it existed from July 1, 1988, through July 27, 1997, or RCW 9A.44.100(1)(d) or (e) as it existed from July 25, 1993, through July 27, 1997.

"Nonviolent offense" means an offense which is not a violent offense.

"Offender" means a person who has committed a felony established by state law and is eighteen years of age or older or is less than eighteen years of age but whose case is under superior court jurisdiction under RCW 13.04.030 or has been transferred by the appropriate juvenile court to a criminal court pursuant to RCW 13.40.110. Throughout this chapter, the terms "offender" and "defendant" are used interchangeably.

"Partial confinement" means confinement for no more than one year in a facility or institution operated or utilized under contract by the state or any other unit of government, or, if home detention or work crew has been ordered by the court, in an approved residence, for a substantial portion of each day with the balance of the day spent in the community. Partial confinement includes work release, home detention, work crew, and a combination of work crew and home detention as defined in this section.

"Persistent offender" is an offender who:

(a)(i) Has been convicted in this state of any felony considered a most serious offense; and

(ii) Has, before the commission of the offense under (a) of this subsection, been convicted as an offender on at least two separate occasions, whether in this state or elsewhere, of felonies that under the laws of this state would be considered most serious offenses and would be included in the offender score under RCW 9.94A.360; provided that of the two or more previous convictions, at least one conviction must have occurred before the commission of any of the other most serious offenses for which the offender was previously convicted; or

(b)(i) Has been convicted of: (A) Rape in the first degree, rape of a child in the first degree, child molestation in the first degree, rape in the second degree, rape of a child in the second degree, or indecent liberties by forcible compulsion; (B) murder in the first degree, murder in the second degree, homicide by abuse, kidnapping in the first degree, kidnapping in the second degree, assault in the first degree, assault in the second degree, assault of a child in the first degree, or burglary in the first degree, with a finding of sexual motivation; or (C) an attempt to commit any crime listed in this subsection (27)(b)(i); and

(ii) Has, before the commission of the offense under (b)(i) of this subsection, been convicted as an offender on at least one occasion, whether in this state or elsewhere, of an offense listed in (b)(i) of this subsection. A conviction for rape of a child in the first degree constitutes a conviction under subsection (27)(b)(i) only when the offender was sixteen years of age or older when the offender committed the offense. A conviction for rape of a child in the second degree constitutes a conviction under subsection (27)(b)(i) only when the offender was eighteen years of age or older when the offender committed the offense.

"Postrelease supervision" is that portion of an offender's community placement that is not community custody.

"Restitution" means the requirement that the offender pay a specific sum of money over a specific period of time to the court as payment of damages. The sum may include both public and private costs. The imposition of a restitution order does not preclude civil redress.

"Serious traffic offense" means:

(a) Driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug (RCW 46.61.502), actual physical control while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug (RCW 46.61.504), reckless driving (RCW 46.61.500), or hit-and-run an attended vehicle (RCW 46.52.020(5)); or

(b) Any federal, out-of-state, county, or municipal conviction for an offense that under the laws of this state would be classified as a serious traffic offense under (a) of this subsection.

"Serious violent offense" is a subcategory of violent offense and means:

(a) Murder in the first degree, homicide in the first degree, manslaughter in the first degree, kidnapping in the first degree, or rape in the first degree, assault of a child in the first degree, or an attempt, criminal solicitation, or criminal conspiracy to commit one of these felonies; or

(b) Any federal or out-of-state conviction for an offense that under the laws of this state would be a felony classified as a serious violent offense under (a) of this subsection.

"Sentence range" means the sentencing court's discretionary range in imposing a nonappealable sentence.

"Sex offense" means:

(a) A felony that is a violation of chapter 9A.44 RCW or RCW 9A.64.020 or 9.66A.090 or a felony that is, under chapter 9A.28 RCW, a criminal attempt, criminal solicitation, or criminal conspiracy to commit such crimes;

(b) A felony with a finding of sexual motivation under RCW 9.94A.127 or 13.40.135; or

(c) Any federal or out-of-state conviction for an offense that under the laws of this state would be a felony classified as a sex offense under (a) of this subsection.
"Sexual motivation" means that one of the purposes for which the defendant committed the crime was for the purpose of his or her sexual gratification.

"Total confinement" means confinement inside the physical boundaries of a facility or institution operated or utilized under contract by the state or any other unit of government for twenty-four hours a day, or pursuant to RCW 72.64.050 and 72.64.060.

"Transition training" means written and verbal instructions and assistance provided by the department to the offender during the two weeks prior to the offender's successful completion of the work ethic camp program. The transition training shall include instructions in the offender's requirements and obligations during the offender's period of community custody.

"Victim" means any person who has sustained emotional, psychological, physical, or financial injury to person or property as a direct result of the crime charged.

"Violent offense" means:

(a) Any of the following felonies, as now existing or hereafter amended: Any felony defined under any law as a class A felony or an attempt to commit a class A felony, criminal solicitation of or criminal conspiracy to commit a class A felony, manslaughter in the first degree, manslaughter in the second degree, indecent liberties if committed by forcible compulsion, kidnapping in the second degree, arson in the second degree, assault in the second degree, assault of a child in the second degree, extortion in the first degree, robbery in the second degree, drive-by shooting, vehicular assault, and vehicular homicide, when proximately caused by the driving of any vehicle by any person while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug as defined by RCW 46.61.502, or by the operation of any vehicle in a reckless manner;

(b) Any conviction for a felony offense in effect at any time prior to July 1, 1976, that is comparable to a felony classified as a violent offense in (a) of this subsection; and

(c) Any federal or out-of-state conviction for an offense that under the laws of this state would be a felony classified as a violent offense under (a) or (b) of this subsection.

"Violent offense" as a term of total confinement means any of the following felonies, as now existing or hereafter amended:

(a) Any of the following felonies, as now existing or hereafter amended: Any felony defined under any law as a class A felony or an attempt to commit a class A felony, criminal solicitation of or criminal conspiracy to commit a class A felony, manslaughter in the first degree, manslaughter in the second degree, indecent liberties if committed by forcible compulsion, kidnapping in the second degree, arson in the second degree, assault in the second degree, assault of a child in the second degree, extortion in the first degree, robbery in the second degree, drive-by shooting, vehicular assault, and vehicular homicide, when proximately caused by the driving of any vehicle by any person while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug as defined by RCW 46.61.502, or by the operation of any vehicle in a reckless manner;

(b) Any conviction for a felony offense in effect at any time prior to July 1, 1976, that is comparable to a felony classified as a violent offense under (a) or (b) of this subsection.

"Violent offense" for the purposes of this section are not eligible for the work crew program.

"Work crew" means a program of partial confinement consisting of civic improvement tasks for the benefit of the community of not less than thirty-five hours per week that complies with RCW 9.94A.135. The civic improvement tasks shall have minimal negative impact on existing private industries or the labor force in the county where the service or labor is performed. The civic improvement tasks shall not affect employment opportunities for people with developmental disabilities contracted through sheltered workshops as defined in RCW 82.04.385. Only those offenders sentenced to a facility operated or utilized under contract by a county or the state are eligible to participate on a work crew. Offenders sentenced for a sex offense as defined in subsection (33) of this section are not eligible for the work crew program.

"Work ethic camp" means an alternative incarceration program designed to reduce recidivism and lower the cost of corrections by requiring offenders to complete a comprehensive array of real-world job and vocational experiences, character-building work ethics training, life management skills development, substance abuse rehabilitation, counseling, literacy training, and basic adult education.

"Work release" means a program of partial confinement available to offenders who are employed or engaged as a student in a regular course of study at school. Participation in work release shall be conditioned upon the offender attending work or school at regularly defined hours and abiding by the rules of the work release facility.

"Home detention" means a program of partial confinement available to offenders wherein the offender is confined in a private residence subject to electronic surveillance.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 9.94A RCW to read as follows:

(1) Where the court finds that the offender has a chemical dependency that has contributed to his or her offense, the court may, as a condition of the sentence and subject to available resources, order the offender to participate in rehabilitative programs or otherwise to perform affirmative conduct reasonably related to the circumstances of the crime for which the offender has been convicted and reasonably necessary or beneficial to the offender and the community in rehabilitating the offender.

(2) This section applies to sentences which include any term other than, or in addition to, a term of total confinement, including suspended sentences.

Sec. 3. RCW 9.94A.110 and 1998 c 260 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

Before imposing a sentence upon a defendant, the court shall conduct a sentencing hearing. The sentencing hearing shall be held within forty court days following conviction. Upon the motion of either party for good cause shown, or on its own motion, the court may extend the time period for conducting the sentencing hearing.

Unless specifically waived by the court, the court shall order the department to complete a chemical dependency screening report before imposing a sentence upon a defendant who has been convicted of a violation of the uniform controlled substances act under chapter 69.50 RCW or a criminal solicitation to commit such a violation under chapter 9A.28 RCW where the court finds that the offender has a chemical dependency that has contributed to his or her offense. In addition, the court shall, at the time of plea or conviction, order the department to complete a presentence report before imposing a sentence upon a defendant who has been convicted of a felony sexual offense. The department of corrections shall give priority to presentence investigations for sexual offenders. If the court determines that the defendant may be a mentally ill person as defined in RCW 71.24.025, although the defendant has not established that at the time of the crime he or she lacked the capacity to commit the crime, was incompetent to commit the crime, or was insane at the time of the crime, the court shall order the department to complete a presentence report before imposing a sentence.

The court shall consider the presentence reports, if any, including any victim impact statement and criminal history, and allow arguments from the prosecutor, the defense counsel, the offender, the victim, the survivor of the victim, or a representative of the victim or survivor, and an investigative law enforcement officer as to the sentence to be imposed.

If the court is satisfied by a preponderance of the evidence that the defendant has a criminal history, the court shall specify the convictions it has found to exist. All of this information shall be part of the record. Copies of all presentence reports presented to the sentencing court and all written findings of facts and conclusions of law as to sentencing entered by the court shall be sent to the department by the clerk of the court at the conclusion of the sentencing and shall accompany the offender if the offender is committed to the custody of the department. Court clerks shall provide, without charge, certified copies of documents relating to criminal convictions requested by prosecuting attorneys.

Sec. 4. RCW 9.94A.120 and 1998 c 260 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

When a person is convicted of a felony, the court shall impose punishment as provided in this section.

(1) Except as authorized in subsections (2), (4), (5), (6), and (8) of this section, the court shall impose a sentence within the sentence range for the offense.

(2) The court may impose a sentence outside the standard sentence range for that offense if it finds, considering the purpose of this chapter, that there are substantial and compelling reasons justifying an exceptional sentence.

(3) Whenever a sentence outside the standard range is imposed, the court shall set forth the reasons for its decision in written findings of fact and conclusions of law. A sentence outside the standard range shall be a determinate sentence.

(4) A persistent offender shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement for life without the possibility of parole or, when authorized by RCW 10.95.030 for the crime of aggravated murder in the first degree, sentenced to death, notwithstanding the maximum sentence under any other law. An offender convicted of the crime of murder in the first degree shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than twenty years. An offender convicted of the crime of assault in the first degree or assault of a child in the first degree where the offender used force or means likely to result in death or intended to kill the victim shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than five years. An offender convicted of the crime of rape in the first degree shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than five years. The foregoing minimum terms of total confinement are mandatory and shall not be varied or modified as provided in subsection (2) of this section. In addition, all offenders subject to the provisions of this subsection shall not be eligible for community custody, earned early release time, furlough, home detention, partial confinement, work crew, work release, or any other form of early release as defined under RCW 9.94A.150 (1), (2), (3), (5), (7), or (8), or any other form of authorized leave of absence from the correctional facility while not in the direct custody of a corrections officer or officers during such minimum terms of total confinement except in the case of an offender in need of emergency medical treatment or for the purpose of commitment to an inpatient treatment facility in the case of an offender convicted of the crime of rape in the first degree.

(5) In sentencing a first-time offender the court may waive the imposition of a sentence within the sentence range and impose a sentence which may include up to ninety days of confinement in a facility operated or utilized under contract by the county and a requirement that the offender refrain from committing new offenses. The sentence may also include up to two years of community supervision, which, in addition to crime-related prohibitions, may include requirements that the offender perform any one or more of the following:

(a) Devote time to a specific employment or occupation;
(b) Undergo available outpatient treatment for up to two years, or inpatient treatment not to exceed the standard range of confinement for that offense;
(c) Pursue a prescribed, secular course of study or vocational training;
(d) Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the community corrections officer prior to any change in the offender's address or employment;
(e) Report as directed to the court and a community corrections officer; or
(f) Pay all court-ordered legal financial obligations as provided in RCW 9.94A.030 and/or perform community service work.
(6)(a) An offender is eligible for the special drug offender sentencing alternative if:

(i) The offender is convicted of ((the manufacture, delivery, or possession with intent to manufacture or deliver a controlled substance classified in Schedule I or II that is a narcotic drug or a felony that is, under chapter 9A.28 RCW or RCW 69.50.407, a criminal attempt, criminal solicitation, or criminal conspiracy to commit such crimes),) a felony that is not a violent offense or sex offense and the violation does not involve a sentence enhancement under RCW 9.94A.310 (3) or (4);
(ii) The offender has no current or prior convictions for a felony sex offense or violent offense in this state, another state, or the United States; and

(iii) For a violation of the uniform controlled substances act under chapter 69.50 RCW or a criminal solicitation to commit such a violation under chapter 9A.28 RCW, the offense involved only a small quantity of the particular controlled substance as determined by the judge upon consideration of such factors as the weight, purity, packaging, sale price, and street value of the controlled substance; and

(iv) The offender has not been found by the United States attorney general to be subject to a deportation detainer or order.

(b) If the midpoint of the standard range is greater than one year and the sentencing judge determines that the offender is eligible for this option and that the offender and the community will benefit from the use of the special drug offender sentencing alternative, the judge may waive imposition of a sentence within the standard range and impose a sentence that must include a period of total confinement in a state facility for one-half of the midpoint of the standard range. During incarceration in the state facility, offenders sentenced under this subsection shall undergo a comprehensive substance abuse assessment and receive, within available resources, treatment services appropriate for the offender. The treatment services shall be designed by the division of alcohol and substance abuse of the department of social and health services, in cooperation with the department of corrections. (If the midpoint of the standard range is twenty-four months or less, no more than three months of the sentence may be served in a work release status.)

The court shall also impose (one year of concurrent community custody and community supervision that):

(i) The remainder of the midpoint of the standard range as a term of community custody which must include appropriate substance abuse treatment in a program that has been approved by the division of alcohol and substance abuse of the department of social and health services;

(ii) Crime-related prohibitions including a condition not to use illegal controlled substances;

(iii) A requirement to submit to urinalysis or other testing to monitor that status.

The court may prohibit the offender from using alcohol or controlled substances and may require that the monitoring for controlled substances be conducted by the department or by a treatment alternatives to street crime program or a comparable court or agency-referred program. The offender may be required to pay thirty dollars per month while on community custody to offset the cost of monitoring. In addition, the court shall impose three or more of the following conditions:

(A) Devote time to a specific employment or training;

(B) Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the community corrections officer before any change in the offender's address or employment;

(C) Report as directed to a community corrections officer;

(D) Pay all court-ordered legal financial obligations;

(E) Perform community service work;

(F) Stay out of areas designated by the sentencing judge;

(G) Such other conditions as the court may require such as affirmative conditions.

(c) If the offender violates any of the sentence conditions in (b) of this subsection, the department shall impose sanctions administratively, with notice to the prosecuting attorney and the sentencing court. Upon motion of the court or the prosecuting attorney, a violation hearing shall be held by the department unless waived by the offender. If the department finds that conditions have been willfully violated, the court may impose confinement consisting of up to the remaining one-half of the midpoint of the standard range. All total confinement served during the period of community custody shall be credited to the offender, regardless of whether the total confinement is served as a result of the original sentence, as a result of a sanction imposed by the department, or as a result of a violation found by the court. The term of community supervision shall be tolled by any period of time served in total confinement as a result of a violation found by the court. An offender may be reclassified to serve the remaining balance of the original sentence.

(d) The department shall determine the rules for calculating the value of a day fine based on the offender's income and reasonable obligations which the offender has for the support of the offender and any dependents. These rules shall be developed in consultation with the administrator for the courts, the office of financial management, and the commission.

(e) An offender who fails to complete the special drug offender sentencing alternative program or who is administratively terminated from the program shall be reclassified to serve the unexpired term of his or her sentence as ordered by the sentencing judge and shall be subject to all rules relating to earned early release time. An offender who violates any conditions of supervision as defined by the department shall be sanctioned. Sanctions may include, but are not limited to, reclassifying the offender to serve the unexpired term of his or her sentence as ordered by the sentencing judge. If an offender is reclassified to serve the unexpired term of his or her sentence, the offender shall be subject to all rules relating to earned early release time.
(7) If a sentence range has not been established for the defendant's crime, the court shall impose a determinate sentence which may include not more than one year of confinement, community service work, a term of community supervision not to exceed one year, and/or other legal financial obligations. The court may impose a sentence which provides more than one year of confinement if the court finds, considering the purpose of this chapter, that there are substantial and compelling reasons justifying an exceptional sentence.

(8)(a)(i) When an offender is convicted of a sex offense other than a violation of RCW 9A.44.050 or a sex offense that is also a serious violent offense and has no prior convictions for a sex offense or any other felony sex offenses in this or any other state, the sentencing court, on its own motion or the motion of the state or the defendant, may order an examination to determine whether the defendant is amenable to treatment.

The report of the examination shall include at a minimum the following: The defendant's version of the facts and the official version of the facts, the defendant's offense history, an assessment of problems in addition to alleged deviant behaviors, the offender's social and employment situation, and other evaluation measures used. The report shall set forth the sources of the evaluator's information.

The examiner shall assess and report regarding the defendant's amenability to treatment and relative risk to the community. A proposed treatment plan shall be provided and shall include, at a minimum:

(A) Frequency and type of contact between offender and therapist;
(B) Specific issues to be addressed in the treatment and description of planned treatment modalities;
(C) Monitoring plans, including any requirements regarding living conditions, lifestyle requirements, and monitoring by family members and others;
(D) Anticipated length of treatment; and
(E) Recommended crime-related prohibitions.

The court on its own motion may order, or on a motion by the state shall order, a second examination regarding the offender's amenability to treatment. The evaluator shall be selected by the party making the motion. The defendant shall pay the cost of any second examination ordered unless the court finds the defendant to be indigent in which case the state shall pay the cost.

(ii) After receipt of the reports, the court shall consider whether the offender and the community will benefit from use of this special sex offender sentencing alternative and consider the victim's opinion whether the offender should receive a treatment disposition under this subsection. If the court determines that this special sex offender sentencing alternative is appropriate, the court shall then impose a sentence within the sentence range. If this sentence is less than eleven years of confinement, the court may suspend the execution of the sentence and impose the following conditions of suspension:

(A) The court shall place the defendant on community custody for the length of the suspended sentence or three years, whichever is greater, and require the offender to comply with any conditions imposed by the department of corrections under subsection (14) of this section;
(B) The court shall order treatment for any period up to three years in duration. The court in its discretion shall order outpatient sex offender treatment or inpatient sex offender treatment, if available. A community mental health center may not be used for such treatment unless it has an appropriate program designed for sex offender treatment. The offender shall not change sex offender treatment providers or treatment conditions without first notifying the prosecutor, the community corrections officer, and the court, and shall not change providers without court approval after a hearing if the prosecutor or community corrections officer object to the change. In addition, as conditions of the suspended sentence, the court may impose other sentence conditions including up to six months of confinement, not to exceed the sentence range of confinement for that offense, crime-related prohibitions, and requirements that the offender perform any one or more of the following:

(I) Devote time to a specific employment or occupation;
(II) Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the community corrections officer prior to any change in the offender's address or employment;
(III) Report as directed to the court and a community corrections officer;
(IV) Pay all court-ordered legal financial obligations as provided in RCW 9.94A.030, perform community service work, or any combination thereof; or
(V) Make recoupment to the victim for the cost of any counseling required as a result of the offender's crime; and
(C) Sex offenders sentenced under this special sex offender sentencing alternative are not eligible to accrue any earned early release time while serving a suspended sentence.

(iii) The sex offender therapist shall submit quarterly reports on the defendant's progress in treatment to the court and the parties. The report shall reference the treatment plan and include at a minimum the following: Dates of attendance, defendant's relative progress in treatment, and any other material as specified by the court at sentencing.
(iv) At the time of sentencing, the court shall set a treatment termination hearing for three months prior to the anticipated date for completion of treatment. Prior to the treatment termination hearing, the treatment professional and community corrections officer shall submit written reports to the court and parties regarding the defendant's compliance with treatment and monitoring requirements, and recommendations regarding termination from treatment, including proposed community supervision conditions. Either party may request and the court may order another evaluation regarding the advisability of termination from treatment. The defendant shall pay the cost of any additional evaluation ordered unless the court finds the defendant to be indigent in which case the state shall pay the cost. At the treatment termination hearing the court may: (A) Modify conditions of community custody, and either (B) terminate treatment, or (C) extend treatment for up to the remaining period of community custody.

(v) If a violation of conditions occurs during community custody, the department shall either impose sanctions as provided for in RCW 9.94A.205(2)(a) or refer the violation to the court and recommend revocation of the suspended sentence as provided for in (a)(vi) of this subsection.

(vi) The court may revoke the suspended sentence at any time during the period of community custody and order execution of the sentence if: (A) The defendant violates the conditions of the suspended sentence, or (B) the court finds that the defendant is failing to make satisfactory progress in treatment. All confinement time served during the period of community custody shall be credited to the offender if the suspended sentence is revoked.

(vii) Except as provided in (a)(viii) of this subsection, after July 1, 1991, examinations and treatment ordered pursuant to this subsection shall only be conducted by sex offender treatment providers certified by the department of health pursuant to chapter 18.155 RCW.

(viii) A sex offender therapist who examines or treats a sex offender pursuant to this subsection (8) does not have to be certified by the department of health pursuant to chapter 18.155 RCW if the court finds that: (A) The defendant has already moved to another state or plans to move to another state for reasons other than circumventing the certification requirements; (B) no certified providers are available for treatment within a reasonable geographical distance of the offender's home; and (C) the evaluation and treatment plan comply with this subsection (8) and the rules adopted by the department of health.

(ix) For purposes of this subsection (8), “victim” means any person who has sustained emotional, psychological, physical, or financial injury to person or property as a result of the crime charged. “Victim” also means a parent or guardian of a victim who is a minor child unless the parent or guardian is the perpetrator of the offense.

(x) If the defendant was less than eighteen years of age when the charge was filed, the state shall pay for the cost of initial evaluation and treatment.

(b) When an offender commits any felony sex offense on or after July 1, 1987, and is sentenced to a term of confinement of more than one year but less than six years, the sentencing court may, on its own motion or on the motion of the offender or the state, request the department of corrections to evaluate whether the offender is amenable to treatment and the department may place the offender in a treatment program within a correctional facility operated by the department.

Except for an offender who has been convicted of a violation of RCW 9A.44.040 or 9A.44.050, if the offender completes the treatment program before the expiration of his or her term of confinement, the department of corrections may request the court to convert the balance of confinement to community supervision and to place conditions on the offender including crime-related prohibitions and requirements that the offender perform any one or more of the following:

(i) Devote time to a specific employment or occupation;

(ii) Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the community corrections officer prior to any change in the offender's address or employment;

(iii) Report as directed to the court and a community corrections officer;

(iv) Undergo available outpatient treatment.

If the offender violates any of the terms of his or her community supervision, the court may order the offender to serve out the balance of his or her community supervision term in confinement in the custody of the department of corrections.

Nothing in this subsection (8)(b) shall confer eligibility for such programs for offenders convicted and sentenced for a sex offense committed prior to July 1, 1987. This subsection (8)(b) does not apply to any crime committed after July 1, 1990.

(c) Offenders convicted and sentenced for a sex offense committed prior to July 1, 1987, may, subject to available funds, request an evaluation by the department of corrections to determine whether they are amenable to treatment. If the offender is determined to be amenable to treatment, the offender may request placement in a treatment program within a correctional facility operated by the department. Placement in such treatment program is subject to available funds.

(9)(a) When a court sentences a person to a term of total confinement to the custody of the department of corrections for an offense categorized as a sex offense or a serious violent offense committed after July 1, 1988, but before July 1, 1990, assault in the second degree, assault of a child in the second degree, any crime against a person where it is determined in accordance with RCW 9.94A.125 that the defendant or an accomplice was armed with a deadly weapon at the time of commission, or any felony offense under chapter 69.50 or 69.52 RCW not sentenced under subsection (6) of this section, committed on or after July 1, 1988, the court shall in addition to the other terms of the sentence, sentence the offender to a one-year term of community placement beginning either upon completion of the term of confinement or at such time as the offender is transferred to community custody in lieu of earned early release in accordance with RCW 9.94A.150 (1) and (2). When the court sentences an offender under this subsection to the statutory maximum period of confinement then the community placement portion of the sentence shall consist entirely of such community custody to which the offender may become eligible, in accordance with RCW 9.94A.150 (1) and (2). Any period of community custody actually served shall be credited against the community placement portion of the sentence.

(b) When a court sentences a person to a term of total confinement to the custody of the department of corrections for an offense categorized as a sex offense committed on or after July 1, 1990, but before June 6, 1996, vehicular homicide, or vehicular assault, committed on or after July 1, 1990, the court shall in addition to other terms of the sentence, sentence the offender to community placement for two years or up to the period of earned early release awarded pursuant to RCW 9.94A.150 (1) and (2), whichever is longer. The community placement shall begin either upon completion of the term of confinement or at such time as the offender is transferred to community custody in lieu of earned early release in accordance with RCW 9.94A.150 (1) and (2). When the court sentences an offender under this subsection to the statutory maximum period of confinement then the community placement portion of the sentence shall consist entirely of the community custody to which the offender may become eligible, in accordance with RCW 9.94A.150 (1) and (2). Any period of community custody actually served shall be credited against the community placement portion of the sentence. Unless a condition is waived by the court, the terms of community placement for offenders sentenced pursuant to this section shall include the following conditions:

(i) The offender shall report to and be available for contact with the assigned community corrections officer as directed;

(ii) The offender shall work at department of corrections-approved education, employment, and/or community service;

(iii) The offender shall not possess or consume controlled substances except pursuant to lawfully issued prescriptions;

(iv) The offender shall pay supervision fees as determined by the department of corrections;

(v) The residence location and living arrangements are subject to the prior approval of the department of corrections during the period of community placement; and

(vi) The offender shall submit to affirmative acts necessary to monitor compliance with the orders of the court as required by the department.

(c) As a part of any sentence imposed under (a) or (b) of this subsection, the court may also order any of the following special conditions:

(i) The offender shall remain within, or outside of, a specified geographical boundary;

(ii) The offender shall not have direct or indirect contact with the victim of the crime or a specified class of individuals;

(iii) The offender shall participate in crime-related treatment or counseling services;

(iv) The offender shall not consume alcohol;

(v) The offender shall comply with any crime-related prohibitions; or

(vi) For an offender convicted of a felony sex offense against a minor victim after June 6, 1996, the offender shall comply with any terms and conditions of community placement imposed by the department of corrections relating to contact between the sex offender and a minor victim or a child of similar age or circumstance as a previous victim.

(d) Prior to transfer to, or during, community placement, any conditions of community placement may be removed or modified so as not to be more restrictive by the sentencing court, upon recommendation of the department of corrections.

(10)(a) When a court sentences a person to the custody of the department of corrections for an offense categorized as a sex offense committed on or after July 1, 1996, the court shall, in addition to other terms of the sentence, sentence the offender to community custody for three years or up to the period of earned early release awarded pursuant to RCW 9.94A.150 (1) and (2), whichever is longer. The community custody shall begin either upon completion of the term of confinement or at such time as the offender is transferred to community custody in lieu of earned early release in accordance with RCW 9.94A.150 (1) and (2).

(b) Unless a condition is waived by the court, the terms of community custody shall be the same as those provided for in subsection (9)(b) of this section and may include those provided for in subsection (9)(c) of this section. As part of any sentence that includes a term of community custody imposed under this subsection, the court shall also require the offender to comply with any conditions imposed by the department of corrections under subsection (14) of this section.

(c) At any time prior to the completion of a sex offender’s term of community custody, if the court finds that public safety would be enhanced, the court may impose and enforce an order extending any or all of the conditions imposed pursuant to this section for a period up to the maximum allowable sentence for the crime as it is classified in chapter 9A.20 RCW, regardless of the expiration of the offender's term of community custody. If a violation of a condition extended under this subsection occurs after the expiration of the offender’s term of community custody, it shall be deemed a violation of the sentence for the purposes of RCW 9.94A.195 and may be punishable as contempt of court as provided for in RCW 7.21.040.
(11) If the court imposes a sentence requiring confinement of thirty days or less, the court may, in its discretion, specify that the sentence be served on consecutive or intermittent days. A sentence requiring more than thirty days of confinement shall be served on consecutive days. Local jail administrators may schedule court-ordered intermittent sentences as space permits.

(12) If a sentence imposed includes payment of a legal financial obligation, the sentence shall specify the total amount of the legal financial obligation owed, and shall require the offender to pay a specified monthly sum toward that legal financial obligation. Restitution to victims shall be paid prior to any other payments of monetary obligations. Any legal financial obligation that is imposed by the court may be collected by the department, which shall deliver the amount paid to the county clerk for credit. The offender’s compliance with payment of legal financial obligations shall be supervised by the department for ten years following the entry of the judgment and sentence or ten years following the offender’s release from total confinement. All monetary payments ordered shall be paid no later than ten years after the last date of release from confinement pursuant to a felony conviction or the date the sentence was entered unless the superior court extends the criminal judgment an additional ten years. If the legal financial obligations including crime victims’ assessments are not paid during the initial ten-year period, the superior court may extend jurisdiction under the criminal judgment an additional ten years as provided in RCW 9.94A.140, 9.94A.142, and 9.94A.145. If jurisdiction under the criminal judgment is extended, the department is not responsible for supervision of the offender during the subsequent period. Independent of the department, the party or entity to whom the legal financial obligation is owed shall have the authority to utilize any other remedies available to the party or entity to collect the legal financial obligation. Nothing in this section makes the department, the state, or any of its employees, agents, or other persons acting on their behalf liable under any circumstances for the payment of these legal financial obligations. If an order includes restitution as one of the monetary assessments, the county clerk shall make disbursements to victims named in the order.

(13) Except as provided under RCW 9.94A.140(1) and 9.94A.142(1), a court may not impose a sentence providing for a term of confinement or community supervision or community placement which exceeds the statutory maximum for the crime as provided in chapter 9A.20 RCW.

(14) All offenders sentenced to terms involving community supervision, community service, community placement, or legal financial obligation shall be under the supervision of the department of corrections and shall follow explicitly the instructions and conditions of the department of corrections. The department may require an offender to perform affirmative acts it deems appropriate to monitor compliance with the conditions of the sentence imposed.

(a) The instructions shall include, at a minimum, reporting as directed to a community corrections officer, remaining within prescribed geographical boundaries, notifying the community corrections officer of any change in the offender’s address or employment, and paying the supervision fee assessment.

(b) For offenders sentenced to terms involving community custody for crimes committed on or after June 6, 1996, the department may include, in addition to the instructions in (a) of this subsection, any appropriate conditions of supervision, including but not limited to, prohibiting the offender from having contact with any other specified individuals or specific class of individuals. The conditions authorized under this subsection (14)(b) may be imposed by the department prior to or during an offender’s community custody term. If a violation of conditions imposed by the court or the department pursuant to subsection (10) of this section occurs during community custody, it shall be deemed a violation of community placement for the purposes of RCW 9.94A.207 and shall authorize the department to transfer an offender to a more restrictive confinement status as provided in RCW 9.94A.205. At any time prior to the completion of a sex offender’s term of community custody, the department may recommend to the court that any or all of the conditions imposed by the court or the department pursuant to subsection (10) of this section be continued beyond the expiration of the offender’s term of community custody as authorized in subsection (10)(c) of this section.

The department may require offenders to pay for special services rendered on or after July 25, 1993, including electronic monitoring, day reporting, and telephone reporting, dependent upon the offender’s ability to pay. The department may pay for these services for offenders who are not able to pay.

(15) All offenders sentenced to terms involving community supervision, community service, or community placement under the supervision of the department of corrections shall not own, use, or possess firearms or ammunition. Offenders who own, use, or are found to be in actual or constructive possession of firearms or ammunition shall be subject to the appropriate violation process and sanctions. "Constructive possession" as used in this subsection means the power and intent to control the firearm or ammunition. "Firearm" as used in this subsection means a weapon or device from which a projectile may be fired by an explosive such as gunpowder.

(16) The sentencing court shall give the offender credit for all confinement time served before the sentencing if that confinement was solely in regard to the offense for which the offender is being sentenced.

(17) A departure from the standards in RCW 9.94A.400 (1) and (2) governing whether sentences are to be served consecutively or concurrently is an exceptional sentence subject to the limitations in subsections (2) and (3) of this section, and may be appealed by the defendant or the state as set forth in RCW 9.94A.210 (2) through (6).
(18) The court shall order restitution whenever the offender is convicted of a felony that results in injury to any person or damage to or loss of property, whether the offender is sentenced to confinement or placed under community supervision, unless extraordinary circumstances exist that make restitution inappropriate in the court's judgment. The court shall set forth the extraordinary circumstances in the record if it does not order restitution.

(19) As a part of any sentence, the court may impose and enforce an order that relates directly to the circumstances of the crime for which the offender has been convicted, prohibiting the offender from having any contact with other specified individuals or a specific class of individuals for a period not to exceed the maximum allowable sentence for the crime, regardless of the expiration of the offender's term of community supervision or community placement.

(20) The court may order an offender whose sentence includes community placement or community supervision to undergo a mental status evaluation and to participate in available outpatient mental health treatment, if the court finds that reasonable grounds exist to believe that the offender is a mentally ill person as defined in RCW 71.24.025, and that this condition is likely to have influenced the offense. An order requiring mental status evaluation or treatment must be based on a presentence report and, if applicable, mental status evaluations that have been filed with the court to determine the offender's competency or eligibility for a defense of insanity. The court may order additional evaluations at a later date if deemed appropriate.

(21) In any sentence of partial confinement, the court may require the defendant to serve the partial confinement in work release, in a program of home detention, on work crew, or in a combined program of work crew and home detention.

(22) All court-ordered legal financial obligations collected by the department and remitted to the county clerk shall be credited and paid where restitution is ordered. Restitution shall be paid prior to any other payments of monetary obligations.

Sec. 5. RCW 9.94A.137 and 1995 1st sp.s. c 19 s 20 are each amended to read as follows:

(1)(a) An offender is eligible to be sentenced to a work ethic camp if the offender:
(ii) Is sentenced to a term of total confinement of not less than (sixteen) twelve months and one day or more than thirty-six months; (and)

(ii) Has no current or prior convictions for any sex offenses or for violent offenses (other than drug offenses for manufacturing, possession, delivery, or intent to deliver a controlled substance); and

(ii) Is not currently subject to a sentence for, or being prosecuted for, a violation of the uniform controlled substances act or a criminal solicitation to commit such a violation under chapter 9A.28 or 69.50 RCW.

(b) The length of the work ethic camp shall be at least one hundred twenty days and not more than one hundred eighty days. (Because of the conversion ratio, earned early release time shall not accrue to offenders who successfully complete the program.)

(2) If the sentencing judge determines that the offender is eligible for the work ethic camp and is likely to qualify under subsection (3) of this section, the judge shall impose a sentence within the standard range and may recommend that the offender serve the sentence at a work ethic camp. (The sentence shall provide that if the offender successfully completes the program, the department shall convert the period of work ethic camp confinement at the rate of one day of work ethic camp confinement to three days of total standard confinement.) In sentencing an offender to the work ethic camp, the court shall specify: (a) That upon completion of the work ethic camp the offender shall be released on community custody for any remaining time of total confinement;
(b) the applicable conditions of supervision on community custody status as required by RCW 9.94A.120(9)(b) and authorized by RCW 9.94A.120(9)(c); and (c) that violation of the conditions may result in a return to total confinement for the balance of the offender's remaining time of confinement.

(3) The department shall place the offender in the work ethic camp program, subject to capacity, unless: (a) The department determines that the offender has physical or mental impairments that would prevent participation and completion of the program; (b) the department determines that the offender's custody level prevents placement in the program; (and) (c) the offender refuses to agree to the terms and conditions of the program; (d) the offender has been found by the United States attorney general to be subject to a deportation detainer or order; or (e) the offender has participated in the work ethic camp program in the past.

(4) An offender who fails to complete the work ethic camp program, who is administratively terminated from the program, or who otherwise violates any conditions of supervision, as defined by the department, shall be reclassified to serve the unexpired term of his or her sentence as ordered by the sentencing judge and shall be subject to all rules relating to earned early release time.

(5) During the last two weeks prior to release from the work ethic camp program the department shall provide the offender with comprehensive transition training.

Sec. 6. RCW 9.94A.380 and 1988 c 157 s 4 and 1988 c 155 s 3 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:
Alternatives to total confinement are available for offenders with sentences of one year or less. These alternatives include the following sentence conditions that the court may order as substitutes for total confinement:
(1) One day of partial confinement may be substituted for one day of total confinement;
(2) In addition, for offenders convicted of nonviolent offenses only, eight hours of community service may be substituted for one day of total confinement, with a maximum conversion limit of two hundred forty hours or thirty days. Community service hours must be completed within the period of community supervision or a time period specified by the court, which shall not exceed twenty-four months, pursuant to a schedule determined by the department; and

(3) For offenders convicted of nonviolent and nonsex offenses, the court may authorize county jails to convert jail confinement to an available county supervised community option and may require the offender to perform affirmative conduct pursuant to section 2 of this act.

For sentences of nonviolent offenders for one year or less, the court shall consider and give priority to available alternatives to total confinement and shall state its reasons in writing on the judgment and sentence form if the alternatives are not used.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. The legislature recognizes the utility of drug court programs in reducing recidivism and assisting the courts by diverting potential offenders from the normal course of criminal trial proceedings.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. A new section is added to chapter 10.01 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The superior and district courts of Washington may establish drug court programs to accept offenders that have been diverted by the courts from the normal course of prosecution for drug offenses.

(2) Pursuant to this section, "drug court" is defined as a program that meets the criteria set forth in section 9 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. A new section is added to chapter 2.28 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Counties may establish and operate drug courts.

(2) For the purposes of this section, "drug court" means a court that has special calendars or dockets designed to achieve a reduction in recidivism and substance abuse among nonviolent, substance abusing offenders by increasing their likelihood for successful rehabilitation through early, continuous, and intense judicially supervised treatment; mandatory periodic drug testing; and the use of appropriate sanctions and other rehabilitation services.

(3) Any jurisdiction that seeks a state appropriation to fund a drug court program must first:

(a) Exhaust all federal funding received from the office of national drug control policy that is available to support the operations of its drug court and associated services; and

(b) Match, on a dollar-for-dollar basis, state moneys allocated for drug court programs with local resources. Moneys allocated by the state must be used to supplement, not supplant, other federal, state, and local funds for drug court operations and associated services.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. A new section is added to chapter 70.96A RCW to read as follows:

The department shall contract with counties operating drug courts and counties in the process of implementing new drug courts for the provision of drug and alcohol treatment services.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. The department of corrections must develop criteria for successful completion of the special drug offender sentencing alternative program by December 31, 1999.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. The Washington state institute for public policy, in consultation with the sentencing guidelines commission shall evaluate the impact of implementing the drug offender options provided for in RCW 9.94A.120(6). The commission shall submit a final report to the legislature by December 1, 2004. The report shall describe the changes in sentencing practices related to the use of punishment options for drug offenders and include the impact of sentencing alternatives on state prison populations, the savings in state resources, the effectiveness of drug treatment services, and the impact on recidivism rates.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. If specific funding for the purposes of sections 7 through 12 of this act, referencing sections 7 through 12 of this act by bill or chapter number, is not provided by June 30, 1999, in the omnibus appropriations act, sections 7 through 12 of this act are null and void.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected."

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Costa, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 2 of the title, after "alcohol;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "amending RCW 9.94A.030, 9.94A.110, 9.94A.120, and 9.94A.137; reenacting and amending RCW 9.94A.380; adding a new section to chapter 9.94A RCW; adding a new section to chapter 10.01 RCW; adding a new section to chapter 2.28 RCW; adding a new section to chapter 70.96A RCW; creating new sections; and prescribing penalties."

Regulating manufactured and mobile home landlord-tenant relations.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Winsley moved that the following Committee on Commerce, Trade, Housing and Financial Institutions striking amendment be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 59.20.010 and 1977 ex.s. c 279 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

This chapter shall be known and may be cited as the "Manufactured/Mobile Home Landlord-Tenant Act".

Sec. 2. RCW 59.20.030 and 1998 c 118 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

For purposes of this chapter:

(1) "Abandoned" as it relates to a mobile home, manufactured home, or park model owned by a tenant in a mobile home park, mobile home park cooperative, or mobile home park subdivision or tenancy in a mobile home lot means the tenant has defaulted in rent and by absence and by words or actions reasonably indicates the intention not to continue tenancy;

(2) "Landlord" means the owner of a mobile home park and includes the agents of a landlord;

(3) "Manufactured home" means a single-family dwelling built according to the United States department of housing and urban development manufactured home construction and safety standards act, which is a national preemptive building code. A manufactured home also: (a) includes plumbing, heating, air conditioning, and electrical systems; (b) is built on a permanent chassis; and (c) can be transported in one or more sections with each section at least eight feet wide and forty feet long when transported, or when installed on the site is three hundred twenty square feet or greater;

(4) "Mobile home" means a factory-built dwelling built prior to June 15, 1976, to standards other than the United States department of housing and urban development code, and acceptable under applicable state codes in effect at the time of construction or introduction of the home into the state. Mobile homes have not been built since the introduction of the United States department of housing and urban development manufactured home construction and safety act;

(5) "Mobile home lot" means a portion of a mobile home park or manufactured housing community designated as the location of one mobile home, manufactured home, or park model and its accessory buildings, and intended for the exclusive use as a primary residence by the occupants of that mobile home, manufactured home, or park model;

(6) "Mobile home park" or "manufactured housing community" means any real property which is rented or held out for rent to others for the placement of two or more mobile homes manufactured homes, or park models for the primary purpose of production of income, except where such real property is rented or held out for rent for seasonal recreational purpose only and is not intended for year-round occupancy;
Sec. 3. RCW 59.20.040 and 1997 c 169 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

This chapter shall regulate and determine legal rights, remedies, and obligations arising from any rental agreement between a landlord and a tenant regarding a mobile home lot and including specified amenities within the mobile home park, mobile home park cooperative, or mobile home park subdivision, where the tenant has no ownership interest in the property or in the association which owns the property, whose uses are referred to as a part of the rent structure paid by the tenant. All such rental agreements shall be unenforceable to the extent of any conflict with any provision of this chapter. Chapter 59.12 RCW shall be applicable only in implementation of this chapter and not as an alternative remedy to this chapter which shall be exclusive where applicable: PROVIDED, That the provision of RCW 59.12.090, 59.12.100, and 59.12.170 shall not apply to any rental agreement included under the provisions of this chapter. RCW 59.18.055 and 59.18.370 through 59.18.410 shall be applicable to any action of forcible entry or detainer arising from a tenancy under the provisions of this chapter, except when a mobile home, manufactured home, or park model or a tenancy in a mobile home lot is abandoned. Rentals of mobile homes, manufactured homes, or park models themselves are governed by the Residential Landlord-Tenant Act, chapter 59.18 RCW.

Sec. 4. RCW 59.20.050 and 1981 c 304 s 37 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) No landlord may offer a mobile home lot for rent to anyone without offering a written rental agreement for a term of one year or more. No landlord may offer to anyone any rental agreement for a term of one year or more for which the monthly rental is greater, or the terms of payment or other material conditions more burdensome to the tenant, than any month-to-month rental agreement also offered to such tenant or prospective tenant. Anyone who desires to occupy a mobile home lot for other than a term of one year or more may have the option to be on a month-to-month basis but must waive, in writing, the right to such one year or more term: PROVIDED, That annually, at any anniversary date of the tenancy the tenant may require that the landlord provide a written rental agreement for a term of one year. No landlord shall allow a mobile home, manufactured home, or park model to be moved into a mobile home park in this state until a written rental agreement has been signed by and is in the possession of the parties: PROVIDED, That if the landlord allows the tenant to move a mobile home, manufactured home, or park model into a mobile home park without obtaining a written rental agreement for a term of one year or more, or a written waiver of the right to a one-year term or more, the term of the tenancy shall be deemed to be for one year from the date of occupancy of the mobile home lot;

(2) The requirements of subsection (1) of this section shall not apply if:

(a) The mobile home park or part thereof has been acquired or is under imminent threat of condemnation for a public works project, or

(b) An employer-employee relationship exists between a landlord and tenant;

(3) The provisions of this section shall apply to any tenancy upon expiration of the term of any oral or written rental agreement governing such tenancy.

Sec. 5. RCW 59.20.060 and 1990 c 174 s 1 and 1990 c 169 s 1 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) Any mobile home space tenancy regardless of the term, shall be based upon a written rental agreement, signed by the parties, which shall contain:

(a) The terms for the payment of rent, including time and place, and any additional charges to be paid by the tenant. Additional charges that occur less frequently than monthly shall be itemized in a billing to the tenant;
(b) Reasonable rules for guest parking which shall be clearly stated;
(c) The rules and regulations of the park;
(d) The name and address of the person who is the landlord, and if such person does not reside in the state there shall also be designated by name and address a person who resides in the county where the mobile home park is located who is authorized to act as agent for the purposes of service of notices and process. If no designation is made of a person to act as agent, then the person to whom rental payments are to be made shall be considered the agent;
(e) The name and address of any party who has a secured interest in the mobile home, manufactured home, or park model;
(f) A forwarding address of the tenant or the name and address of a person who would likely know the whereabouts of the tenant in the event of an emergency or abandonment of the mobile home, manufactured home, or park model;
(g)(i) A covenant by the landlord that, except for acts or events beyond the control of the landlord, the mobile home park will not be converted to a land use that will prevent the space that is the subject of the lease from continuing to be used for its intended use for a period of three years after the beginning of the term of the rental agreement;
   (ii) A rental agreement may, in the alternative, contain a statement that the park may be sold or otherwise transferred at any time with the result that subsequent owners may close the mobile home park, or that the landlord may close the park at any time after the required notice. The covenant or statement required by this subsection must appear in print that is larger than the other text of the lease and must be set off by means of a box, blank space, or comparable visual device;
   The requirements of this subsection shall apply to tenancies initiated after April 28, 1989.
(h) The terms and conditions under which any deposit or portion thereof may be withheld by the landlord upon termination of the rental agreement if any moneys are paid to the landlord by the tenant as a deposit or as security for performance of the tenant's obligations in a rental agreement;
(i) A listing of the utilities, services, and facilities which will be available to the tenant during the tenancy and the nature of the fees, if any, to be charged;
(j) A description of the boundaries of a mobile home space sufficient to inform the tenant of the exact location of the tenant's space in relation to other tenants' spaces;
(k) A statement of the current zoning of the land on which the mobile home park is located; and
(l) A statement of the expiration date of any conditional use, temporary use, or other land use permit subject to a fixed expiration date that is necessary for the continued use of the land as a mobile home park.
(2) Any rental agreement executed between the landlord and tenant shall not contain any provision:
   (a) Which allows the landlord to charge a fee for guest parking unless a violation of the rules for guest parking occurs: PROVIDED, That a fee may be charged for guest parking which covers an extended period of time as defined in the rental agreement;
   (b) Which authorizes the towing or impounding of a vehicle except upon notice to the owner thereof or the tenant whose guest is the owner of the vehicle;
   (c) Which allows the landlord to alter the due date for rent payment or increase the rent: (i) During the term of the rental agreement if the term is less than one year, or (ii) more frequently than annually if the term is for one year or more: PROVIDED, That a rental agreement may include an escalation clause for a pro rata share of any increase in the mobile home park's real property taxes or utility assessments or charges, over the base taxes or utility assessments or charges of the year in which the rental agreement took effect, if the clause also provides for a pro rata reduction in rent or other charges in the event of a reduction in real property taxes or utility assessments or charges, below the base year: PROVIDED FURTHER, That a rental agreement for a term exceeding one year may provide for annual increases in rent in specified amounts or by a formula specified in such agreement;
   (d) By which the tenant agrees to waive or forego rights or remedies under this chapter;
   (e) Allowing the landlord to charge an "entrance fee" or an "exit fee";
   (f) Which allows the landlord to charge a fee for guests: PROVIDED, That a landlord may establish rules charging for guests who remain on the premises for more than fifteen days in any sixty-day period;
   (g) By which the tenant agrees to waive or forego homestead rights provided by chapter 6.13 RCW. This subsection shall not prohibit such waiver after a default in rent so long as such waiver is in writing signed by the husband and wife or by an unmarried claimant and in consideration of the landlord's agreement not to terminate the tenancy for a period of time specified in the waiver if the landlord would be otherwise entitled to terminate the tenancy under this chapter; or
   (h) By which, at the time the rental agreement is entered into, the landlord and tenant agree to the selection of a particular arbitrator.

Sec. 6. RCW 59.20.070 and 1993 c 66 s 16 are each amended to read as follows:
A landlord shall not:
(1) Deny any tenant the right to sell such tenant's mobile home, manufactured home, or park model within a park or require the removal of the mobile home, manufactured home, or park model from the park because of the sale thereof. Requirements for the transfer of the rental agreement are in RCW 59.20.073;

(2) Restrict the tenant's freedom of choice in purchasing goods or services but may reserve the right to approve or disapprove any exterior structural improvements on a mobile home space: PROVIDED, That door-to-door solicitation in the mobile home park may be restricted in the rental agreement. Door-to-door solicitation does not include public officials or candidates for public office meeting or distributing information to tenants in accordance with subsection (4) of this section;

(3) Prohibit meetings by tenants of the mobile home park to discuss mobile home living and affairs, including political caucuses or forums for or speeches of public officials or candidates for public office, or meetings of organizations that represent the interest of tenants in the park, held in any of the park community or recreation halls if these halls are open for the use of the tenants, conducted at reasonable times and in an orderly manner on the premises, nor penalize any tenant for participation in such activities;

(4) Prohibit a public official or candidate for public office from meeting with or distributing information to tenants in their individual mobile homes, manufactured homes, or park models, nor penalize any tenant for participating in these meetings or receiving this information;

(5) Evict a tenant, terminate a rental agreement, decline to renew a rental agreement, increase rental or other tenant obligations, decrease services, or modify park rules in retaliation for any of the following actions on the part of a tenant taken in good faith:

(a) Filing a complaint with any state, county, or municipal governmental authority relating to any alleged violation by the landlord of an applicable statute, regulation, or ordinance;

(b) Requesting the landlord to comply with the provision of this chapter or other applicable statute, regulation, or ordinance of the state, county, or municipality;

(c) Filing suit against the landlord for any reason;

(d) Participation or membership in any homeowners association or group;

(e) Charge to any tenant a utility fee in excess of actual utility costs or intentionally cause termination or interruption of any tenant's utility services, including water, heat, electricity, or gas, except when an interruption of a reasonable duration is required to make necessary repairs;

(f) Remove or exclude a tenant from the premises unless this chapter is complied with or the exclusion or removal is under an appropriate court order; or

(8) Prevent the entry or require the removal of a mobile home, manufactured home, or park model for the sole reason that the mobile home has reached a certain age. Nothing in this subsection shall limit a landlords' right to exclude or expel a mobile home, manufactured home, or park model for any other reason, including but not limited to violations of applicable fire and safety standards provided such action conforms to chapter 59.20 RCW or any other statutory provision.

Sec. 7. RCW 59.20.073 and 1993 c 66 s 17 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Any rental agreement shall be assignable by the tenant to any person to whom he or she sells or transfers title to the mobile home, manufactured home, or park model.

(2) A tenant who sells a mobile home, manufactured home, or park model within a park shall notify the landlord in writing of the date of the intended sale and transfer of the rental agreement at least fifteen days in advance of such intended transfer and shall notify the buyer in writing of the provisions of this section. The tenant shall verify in writing to the landlord payment of all taxes, rent, and reasonable expenses due on the mobile home, manufactured home, or park model and mobile home lot.

(3) The landlord shall notify the selling tenant, in writing, of a refusal to permit transfer of the rental agreement at least seven days in advance of such intended transfer.

(4) The landlord may require the mobile home, manufactured home, or park model to meet applicable fire and safety standards.

(5) The landlord shall approve or disapprove of the assignment of a rental agreement on the same basis that the landlord approves or disapproves of any new tenant, and any disapproval shall be in writing. Consent to an assignment shall not be unreasonably withheld.

(6) Failure to notify the landlord in writing, as required under subsection (2) of this section; or failure of the new tenant to make a good faith attempt to arrange an interview with the landlord to discuss assignment of the rental agreement; or failure of the current or new tenant to obtain written approval of the landlord for assignment of the rental agreement, shall be grounds for disapproval of such transfer.

Sec. 8. RCW 59.20.074 and 1990 c 169 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A secured party who has a security interest in a mobile home, manufactured home, or park model that is located within a mobile home park and who has a right to possession of the mobile home, manufactured home, or park model under RCW 62A.9-503, shall be liable to the landlord from the date the secured party receives written notice by certified mail, return receipt requested, for rent for occupancy of the mobile home space under the same terms the tenant was paying prior to repossession, and any other reasonable expenses incurred after the receipt of the notice, until disposition of the mobile home, manufactured home, or park model under RCW 62A.9-504. The notice of default by a tenant must state the amount of rent and the amount and nature of any reasonable expenses that the secured party is liable for payment to the landlord. The notice must also state that the secured party will be provided a copy of the rental agreement previously signed by the tenant and the landlord upon request.

(2) This section shall not affect the availability of a landlord's lien as provided in chapter 60.72 RCW.

(3) As used in this section, "security interest" shall have the same meaning as this term is defined in RCW 62A.1-201, and "secured party" shall have the same meaning as this term is defined in RCW 62A.9-105.

(4) For purposes of this section, "reasonable expenses" means any routine maintenance and utility charges for which the tenant is liable under the rental agreement.

(5) Any rent or other reasonable expenses owed by the secured party to the landlord pursuant to this section shall be paid to the landlord prior to the removal of the mobile home, manufactured home, or park model from the mobile home park.

(6) If a secured party who has a secured interest in a mobile home, manufactured home, or park model that is located in a mobile home park becomes liable to the landlord pursuant to this section, then the relationship between the secured party and the landlord shall be governed by the rental agreement previously signed by the tenant and the landlord unless otherwise agreed, except that the term of the rental agreement shall convert to a month-to-month tenancy. No waiver is required to convert the rental agreement to a month-to-month tenancy. Either the landlord or the secured party may terminate the month-to-month tenancy upon giving written notice of thirty days or more. The secured party and the landlord are not required to execute a new rental agreement. Nothing in this section shall be construed to be a waiver of any rights by the tenant.

Sec. 9. RCW 59.20.075 and 1984 c 58 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

Initiation by the landlord of any action listed in RCW 59.20.070(44) within one hundred twenty days after a good faith and lawful act by the tenant or within one hundred twenty days after any inspection or proceeding of a governmental agency resulting from such act, shall create a rebuttable presumption affecting the burden of proof, that the action is a reprisal or retaliatory action against the tenant: PROVIDED, That if the court finds that the tenant made a complaint or report to a governmental authority within one hundred twenty days after notice of a proposed increase in rent or other action in good faith by the landlord, there is a rebuttable presumption that the complaint or report was not made in good faith: PROVIDED FURTHER, That no presumption against the landlord shall arise under this section, with respect to an increase in rent, if the landlord, in a notice to the tenant of increase in rent, specifies reasonable grounds for said increase, which grounds may include a substantial increase in market value due to remedial action under this chapter.

Sec. 10. RCW 59.20.080 and 1998 c 118 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A landlord shall not terminate or fail to renew a tenancy of a tenant or the occupancy of an occupant, of whatever duration except for one or more of the following reasons:

(a) Substantial violation, or repeated or periodic violations of the rules of the mobile home park as established by the landlord at the inception of the tenancy or as assumed subsequently with the consent of the tenant or for violation of the tenant's duties as provided in RCW 59.20.140. The tenant shall be given written notice to cease the rule violation immediately. The notice shall state that failure to cease the violation of the rule or any subsequent violation of that or any other rule shall result in termination of the tenancy, and that the tenant shall vacate the premises within fifteen days: PROVIDED, That for a periodic violation the notice shall also specify that repetition of the same violation shall result in termination: PROVIDED FURTHER, That in the case of a violation of a "material change" in park rules with respect to pets, tenants with minor children living with them, or recreational facilities, the tenant shall be given written notice under this chapter of a six month period in which to comply or vacate;

(b) Nonpayment of rent or other charges specified in the rental agreement, upon five days written notice to pay rent and/or other charges or to vacate;

(c) Conviction of the tenant of a crime, commission of which threatens the health, safety, or welfare of the other mobile home park tenants. The tenant shall be given written notice of a fifteen day period in which to vacate;

(d) Failure of the tenant to comply with local ordinances and state laws and regulations relating to mobile homes, manufactured homes, or park models or mobile home, manufactured homes, or park model living within a reasonable time after the tenant's receipt of notice of such noncompliance from the appropriate governmental agency;

(e) Change of land use of the mobile home park including, but not limited to, conversion to a use other than for mobile homes, manufactured homes, or park models or conversion of the mobile home park to a mobile home park cooperative or mobile home park subdivision: PROVIDED, That the landlord shall give the tenants twelve months' notice in advance of the effective date of such change, except that for the period of six months following April 28, 1989, the landlord shall give the tenants eighteen months' notice in advance of the proposed effective date of such change;

(f) Engaging in "criminal activity." "Criminal activity" means a criminal act defined by statute or ordinance that threatens the health, safety, or welfare of the tenants. A park owner seeking to evict a tenant or occupant under this subsection need not produce evidence of a criminal conviction, even if the alleged misconduct constitutes a criminal offense. Notice from a law enforcement agency of criminal activity constitutes sufficient grounds, but not the only grounds, for an eviction under this subsection. Notification of the seizure of illegal drugs under RCW 59.20.155 is evidence of criminal activity and is grounds for an eviction under this subsection. The requirement that any tenant or occupant register as a sex offender under RCW 9A.44.130 is grounds for eviction under this subsection. If criminal activity is alleged to be a basis of termination, the park owner may proceed directly to an unlawful detainer action;

(g) The tenant's application for tenancy contained a material misstatement that induced the park owner to approve the tenant as a resident of the park, and the park owner discovers and acts upon the misstatement within one year of the time the resident began paying rent;

(h) If the landlord serves a tenant three fifteen-day notices within a twelve-month period to comply or vacate for failure to comply with the material terms of the rental agreement or park rules. The applicable twelve-month period shall commence on the date of the first violation;

(i) Failure of the tenant to comply with obligations imposed upon tenants by applicable provisions of municipal, county, and state codes, statutes, ordinances, and regulations, including chapter 59.20 RCW. The landlord shall give the tenant written notice to comply immediately. The notice must state that failure to comply will result in termination of the tenancy and that the tenant shall vacate the premises within fifteen days;

(j) The tenant engages in disorderly or substantially annoying conduct upon the park premises that results in the destruction of the rights of others to the peaceful enjoyment and use of the premises. The landlord shall give the tenant written notice to comply immediately. The notice must state that failure to comply will result in termination of the tenancy and that the tenant shall vacate the premises within fifteen days;

(k) The tenant creates a nuisance that materially affects the health, safety, and welfare of other park residents. The landlord shall give the tenant written notice to cease the conduct that constitutes a nuisance immediately. The notice must state that failure to cease the conduct will result in termination of the tenancy and that the tenant shall vacate the premises in five days;

(l) Any other substantial just cause that materially affects the health, safety, and welfare of other park residents. The landlord shall give the tenant written notice to comply immediately. The notice must state that failure to comply will result in termination of the tenancy and that the tenant shall vacate the premises within fifteen days; or

(m) Failure to pay rent by the due date provided for in the rental agreement three or more times in a twelve-month period, commencing with the date of the first violation, after service of a five-day notice to comply or vacate.

(2) Within five days of a notice of eviction as required by subsection (1)(a) of this section, the landlord and tenant shall submit any dispute to mediation. The parties may agree in writing to mediation by an independent third party or through industry mediation procedures. If the parties cannot agree, then mediation shall be through industry mediation procedures. A duty is imposed upon both parties to participate in the mediation process in good faith for a period of ten days for an eviction under subsection (1)(a) of this section. It is a defense to an eviction under subsection (1)(a) of this section that a landlord did not participate in the mediation process in good faith.

(3) Chapters 59.12 and 59.18 RCW govern the eviction of recreational vehicles from mobile home parks except park models as defined in RCW 59.20.030(9).

Sec. 11. RCW 59.20.130 and 1993 c 66 s 20 are each amended to read as follows:

It shall be the duty of the landlord to:

(1) Comply with codes, statutes, ordinances, and administrative rules applicable to the mobile home park;

(2) Maintain the common premises and prevent the accumulation of stagnant water and to prevent the detrimental effects of moving water when such condition is not the fault of the tenant;

(3) Keep any shared or common premises reasonably clean, sanitary, and safe from defects to reduce the hazards of fire or accident;

(4) Keep all common premises of the mobile home park, and vacant mobile home lots, not in the possession of tenants, free of weeds or plant growth noxious and detrimental to the health of the tenants and free from potentially injurious or unsightly objects and condition;

(5) Exterminate or make a reasonable effort to exterminate rodents, vermin, or other pests dangerous to the health and safety of the tenant whenever infestation exists on the common premises or whenever infestation occurs in the interior of a mobile home, manufactured home, or park model as a result of infestation existing on the common premises;

(6) Maintain and protect all utilities provided to the mobile home, manufactured home, or park model in good working condition. Maintenance responsibility shall be determined at that point where the normal mobile home, manufactured home, or park model utilities “hook-ups” connect to those provided by the landlord or utility company;

(7) Respect the privacy of the tenants and shall have no right of entry to a mobile home, manufactured home, or park model without the prior written consent of the occupant, except in case of emergency or when the occupant has abandoned the mobile home, manufactured home, or park model. Such consent may be revoked in writing by the occupant at any time. The ownership or management shall have a right of entry upon the land upon which a mobile home, manufactured home, or park model is situated for maintenance of utilities, to insure compliance with applicable codes, statutes, ordinances, administrative rules, and the rental agreement and the rules of the park, and protection of the mobile home park at any reasonable time or in an emergency, but not in a manner or at a time which would interfere with the occupant's quiet enjoyment. The ownership or management shall make a reasonable effort to notify the tenant of their intention of entry upon the land which a mobile home, manufactured home, or park model is located prior to entry:

(8) Allow tenants freedom of choice in the purchase of goods and services, and not unreasonably restrict access to the mobile home park for such purposes;
(9) Maintain roads within the mobile home park in good condition; and
(10) Notify each tenant within five days after a petition has been filed by the landlord for a change in the zoning of the land where the mobile home park is located and make a description of the change available to the tenant.

A landlord shall not have a duty to repair a defective condition under this section, nor shall any defense or remedy be available to the tenant under this chapter, if the defective condition complained of was caused by the conduct of the tenant, the tenant's family, invitee, or other person acting under the tenant's control, or if a tenant unreasonably fails to allow the landlord access to the property for purposes of repair.

Sec. 12. RCW 59.20.135 and 1994 c 30 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:
(1) The legislature finds that some mobile home park owners transfer the responsibility for the upkeep of permanent structures within the mobile home park to the tenants. This transfer sometimes occurs after the permanent structures have been allowed to deteriorate. Many mobile home parks consist entirely of senior citizens who do not have the financial resources or physical capability to make the necessary repairs to these structures once they have fallen into disrepair. The inability of the tenants to maintain permanent structures can lead to significant safety hazards to the tenants as well as to visitors to the mobile home park. The legislature therefore finds and declares that it is in the public interest and necessary for the public health and safety to prohibit mobile home park owners from transferring the duty to maintain permanent structures in mobile home parks to the tenants.

(2) A mobile home park owner is prohibited from transferring responsibility for the maintenance or care of permanent structures within the mobile home park to the tenants of the park. A provision within a rental agreement or other document transferring responsibility for the maintenance or care of permanent structures within the mobile home park to the park tenants is void.

(3) A "permanent structure" for purposes of this section includes the clubhouse, carports, storage sheds, or other permanent structure. A permanent structure does not include structures built or affixed by a tenant. A permanent structure includes only those structures that were provided as amenities to the park tenants.

(4) Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit a park owner from requiring a tenant to maintain his or her mobile home, manufactured home, or park model or yard. Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit a park owner from transferring responsibility for the maintenance or care of permanent structures within the mobile home park to an organization of park tenants or to an individual park tenant when requested by the tenant organization or individual tenant.

Sec. 13. RCW 59.20.145 and 1993 c 152 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:
A tenant in a mobile home park may share his or her mobile home, manufactured home, or park model with any person over eighteen years of age, if that person is providing live-in home health care or live-in hospice care to the tenant under an approved plan of treatment ordered by the tenant's physician. The live-in care provider is not considered a tenant of the park and shall have no rights of tenancy in the park. Any agreement between the tenant and the live-in care provider does not change the terms and conditions of the rental agreement between the landlord and the tenant. The live-in care provider shall comply with the rules of the mobile home park, the rental agreement, and this chapter. The landlord may not charge a guest fee for the live-in care provider.

Sec. 14. RCW 59.20.150 and 1979 ex.s. c 186 s 10 are each amended to read as follows:
(1) Any notice required by this chapter to be given to a tenant shall be served on behalf of the landlord: (a) By delivering a copy personally to the tenant; or (b) ((if the tenant is absent from the mobile home, by leaving a copy at the mobile home with some person of suitable age and discretion and by sending a copy through the mail addressed to the tenant's place of residence; or (c)) if the tenant is absent from the mobile home (and a person of suitable age and discretion cannot be found to leave a copy with, then)) manufactured home, or park model by affixing a copy of the notice in a conspicuous place on the mobile home, manufactured home, or park model and also sending a copy through the mail addressed to the tenant at the tenant's last known address.

(2) Any notice required by this chapter to be given to the landlord shall be served by the tenant in the same manner as provided for in subsection (1) of this section, or by mail to the landlord at such place as shall be expressly provided in the rental agreement.
Sec. 15. RCW 59.20.170 and 1979 ex.s. c 186 s 12 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) All moneys paid to the landlord by the tenant as a deposit as security for performance of the tenant's obligations in a rental agreement shall promptly be deposited by the landlord in a trust account, maintained by the landlord for the purpose of holding such security deposits for tenants of the landlord, in a bank, savings and loan association, mutual savings bank, or licensed escrow agent located in Washington. Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section, unless otherwise agreed in writing, the landlord shall be entitled to receipt of interest paid on such trust account deposits. The landlord shall provide the tenant with a written receipt for the deposit and shall provide written notice of the name and address and location of the depository and any subsequent change thereof. If during a tenancy the status of landlord is transferred to another, any sums in the deposit trust account affected by such transfer shall simultaneously be transferred to an equivalent trust account of the successor landlord, and the successor landlord shall promptly notify the tenant of the transfer and of the name, address and location of the new depository. The tenant's claim to any moneys paid under this section shall be prior to that of any creditor of the landlord, including a trustee in bankruptcy or receiver, even if such moneys are commingled.

(2) All moneys paid, in excess of two months' rent on the mobile home lot, to the landlord by the tenant as a deposit as security for performance of the tenant's obligations in a rental agreement shall be deposited into an interest-bearing trust account for the particular tenant. The interest accruing on the deposit in the account, minus fees charged to administer the account, shall be paid to the tenant on an annual basis. All other provisions of subsection (1) of this section shall apply to deposits under this subsection.

Sec. 16. RCW 59.20.210 and 1984 c 58 s 8 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) If at any time during the tenancy, the landlord fails to carry out any of the duties imposed by RCW 59.20.130, and notice of the defect is given to the landlord pursuant to RCW 59.20.200, the tenant may submit to the landlord or the landlord's designated agent by certified mail or in person at least two bids to perform the repairs necessary to correct the defective condition from licensed or registered persons, or if no licensing or registration requirement applies to the type of work to be performed, from responsible persons capable of performing such repairs. Such bids may be submitted to the landlord at the same time as notice is given pursuant to RCW 59.20.200.

(2) If the landlord fails to commence repair of the defective condition within a reasonable time after receipt of notice from the tenant, the tenant may contract with the person submitting the lowest bid to make the repair, and upon the completion of the repair and an opportunity for inspection by the landlord or the landlord's designated agent, the tenant may deduct the cost of repair from the rent in an amount not to exceed the sum expressed in dollars representing one month's rental of the tenant's mobile home space in any calendar year. When, however, the landlord is required to begin remedying the defective condition within thirty days under RCW 59.20.200, the tenant cannot contract for repairs for at least fifteen days following receipt of bids by the landlord. The total costs of repairs deducted by the tenant in any calendar year under this subsection shall not exceed the sum expressed in dollars representing one month's rental of the tenant's mobile home space.

(3) Two or more tenants shall not collectively initiate remedies under this section. Remedial action under this section shall not be initiated for conditions in the design or construction existing in a mobile home park before June 7, 1984.

(4) The provisions of this section shall not:

(a) Create a relationship of employer and employee between landlord and tenant; or

(b) Create liability under the worker's compensation act; or

(c) Constitute the tenant as an agent of the landlord for the purposes of ((RCW 60.04.010 and 60.04.040)) mechanics' and materialmen's liens under chapter 60.04 RCW.

(5) Any repair work performed under this section shall comply with the requirements imposed by any applicable code, statute, ordinance, or rule. A landlord whose property is damaged because of repairs performed in a negligent manner may recover the actual damages in an action against the tenant.

(6) Nothing in this section shall prevent the tenant from agreeing with the landlord to undertake the repairs in return for cash payment or a reasonable reduction in rent, the agreement to be between the parties, and this agreement does not alter the landlord's obligations under this chapter.

Sec. 17. RCW 59.20.220 and 1984 c 58 s 9 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) If a court or an arbitrator determines that:

(a) A landlord has failed to carry out a duty or duties imposed by RCW 59.20.130; and

(b) A reasonable time has passed for the landlord to remedy the defective condition following notice to the landlord under RCW 59.20.200 or such other time as may be allotted by the court or arbitrator; the court or arbitrator may determine the diminution in rental value of the property due to the defective condition and shall render judgment against the landlord for the rent paid in excess of such diminished rental value from the time of notice of such defect to the time of decision and any costs of repair done pursuant to (section 4 of this act) RCW 59.20.210 for which no deduction has been previously made. Such decisions may be enforced as other judgments at law and shall be available to the tenant as a set-off against any existing or subsequent claims of the landlord.

The court or arbitrator may also authorize the tenant to contract to make further corrective repairs. The court or arbitrator shall specify a time period in which the landlord may make such repairs before the tenant may contract for such repairs. Such repairs shall not exceed the sum expressed in dollars representing one month's rental of the tenant's mobile home space in any one calendar year.

(2) The tenant shall not be obligated to pay rent in excess of the diminished rental value of the mobile home space until such defect or defects are corrected by the landlord or until the court or arbitrator determines otherwise.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. A new section is added to chapter 35.21 RCW to read as follows:
(1) A city or town shall transmit a copy of any permit issued to a tenant or the tenant's agent for a mobile home, manufactured home, or park model installation in a mobile home park to the landlord.

(2) A city or town shall transmit a copy of any permit issued to a person engaged in the business of moving or installing a mobile home, manufactured home, or park model in a mobile home park to the tenant and the landlord.

(3) As used in this section:
(a) "Landlord" has the same meaning as in RCW 59.20.030;
(b) "Mobile home park" has the same meaning as in RCW 59.20.030;
(c) "Mobile or manufactured home installation" has the same meaning as in RCW 43.63B.010; and
(d) "Tenant" has the same meaning as in RCW 59.20.030.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. A new section is added to chapter 35A.21 RCW to read as follows:
(1) A code city shall transmit a copy of any permit issued to a tenant or the tenant's agent for a mobile home, manufactured home, or park model installation in a mobile home park to the landlord.

(2) A code city shall transmit a copy of any permit issued to a person engaged in the business of moving or installing a mobile home, manufactured home, or park model in a mobile home park to the tenant and the landlord.

(3) As used in this section:
(a) "Landlord" has the same meaning as in RCW 59.20.030;
(b) "Mobile home park" has the same meaning as in RCW 59.20.030;
(c) "Mobile or manufactured home installation" has the same meaning as in RCW 43.63B.010; and
(d) "Tenant" has the same meaning as in RCW 59.20.030.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. A new section is added to chapter 36.01 RCW to read as follows:
(1) A county shall transmit a copy of any permit issued to a tenant or the tenant's agent for a mobile home, manufactured home, or park model installation in a mobile home park to the landlord.

(2) A county shall transmit a copy of any permit issued to a person engaged in the business of moving or installing a mobile home, manufactured home, or park model in a mobile home park to the tenant and the landlord.

(3) As used in this section:
(a) "Landlord" has the same meaning as in RCW 59.20.030;
(b) "Mobile home park" has the same meaning as in RCW 59.20.030;
(c) "Mobile or manufactured home installation" has the same meaning as in RCW 43.63B.010; and
(d) "Tenant" has the same meaning as in RCW 59.20.030.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and takes effect July 1, 1999.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Winsley, the following amendments by Senators Winsley, Sheahan, Hale, Shin, Prentice, Tim Sheldon, and Goings to the Committee on Commerce, Trade, Housing and Financial Institutions striking amendment were considered simultaneously and were adopted:

On page 21, line 14 of the amendment, strike "This act is" and insert "Sections 1 through 20 of this act are"

On page 21, line 16 of the amendment, strike "takes" and insert "take"

On page 21, after line 17 of the amendment, insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. The purpose of this chapter is to establish a certification program for managers of mobile home parks.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 23. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter."
(1) "Advisory council" means the advisory council on mobile home park manager training and certification created in section 28 of this act.

(2) "Department" means the department of community, trade, and economic development.

(3) "Director" means the director of the department of community, trade, and economic development.

(4) "Mobile home park" has the same meaning as in RCW 59.20.030.

(5) "Mobile home park management" means those actions, functions, or duties related to the management of a mobile home park.

(6) "Mobile home park manager" means a person who performs mobile home park management duties and is required to be certified under this chapter to perform mobile home park management services and includes resident owners of mobile home parks who perform management duties.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 24. (1) A person shall not manage a mobile home park in this state for any mobile home park with more than twenty-five mobile home lots until a certificate of registration certifying him or her as a mobile home park manager has been issued to him or her by the director in accordance with this chapter.

(2) A corporation, partnership, trust, association, sole proprietor, or other like organization may engage in the business of mobile home park management without being certified if it employs, retains, or contracts with certified natural persons who are registered mobile home park managers subject to this act in the direct supervision of the entities engaging in the business of mobile home park management.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 25. (1) The director shall not issue an initial certificate of registration to any person to act as a mobile home park manager until that person has:

(a) Executed a written application on a form prescribed by the director, subscribed and sworn to by the applicant;

(b) Attended and completed a department-approved training course for mobile home park managers;

(c) Passed an examination approved by the department which demonstrates that the applicant has a fundamental knowledge of the mobile home landlord-tenant act under chapter 59.20 RCW; and

(d) Paid to the director a fee as prescribed in section 29 of this act.

(2) Certificates of registration are effective on the date issued by the department and must be renewed annually.

(3) A certificate of registration may be renewed annually provided the applicant provides evidence of continuing education as approved by the department. This evidence must be submitted with an application to renew certification. A maximum of four hours of continuing education annually may be required by the department for renewal of certification.

(4) As of the effective date of this section, mobile home park managers may present a verification of having successfully completed a training course conducted by a state-wide trade association of mobile home parks, which will satisfy the initial training requirement for one year and entitle the park manager to certification for that year.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 26. The department shall contract with a state-wide trade association exclusively representing mobile home park owners for the delivery of training courses required by this chapter. The trade association may charge a fee for delivery of the training courses. The department, in consultation with the advisory council created under section 28 of this act, shall approve the curriculum of the training program.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 27. (1) The department, in consultation with the advisory council created in section 28 of this act, shall administer, coordinate, and enforce this chapter, develop the examination of applicants, and be responsible for the granting of certificates to qualified persons.

(2) The department is authorized to adopt rules that are necessary to implement, enforce, and interpret this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 28. (1) There is created an advisory council on mobile home park manager training and certification. The council shall consist of four members as follows: Two members of the council shall be residents of mobile home parks and two members shall be owners of mobile home parks. The resident members of the council shall be selected from nominees submitted by the mobile home owners of America. The park owner members of the council shall be selected from nominees submitted by the manufactured housing communities of Washington. The director shall appoint the members for terms of two years. The advisory council shall select a chair from its members for a two-year term.

(2) Members of the council shall serve without compensation but are entitled to receive reimbursement for travel expenses as provided in RCW 43.03.050 and 43.03.060.

(3) The functions of the advisory council are to:

(a) Review, evaluate, and advise the department concerning revisions and adoption of rules affecting certification of mobile home park managers and the fees to be charged under section 29 of this act; and

(b) Develop, review, revise, and approve, in consultation with the department, the program for certification of mobile home park managers.

(4) The advisory council shall meet at the call of its chair, at the request of a majority of its membership, at the request of the department, or at such times as are prescribed by rule.
The department shall provide adequate staff support to the advisory council to assist it in fulfilling its duties.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 29. The department shall charge fees for its actual costs in the implementation of sections 26, 27, and 28 of this act. The department shall set fees by rule.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 30. A violation of this chapter is a class 1 civil infraction under chapter 7.80 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 31. Sections 24 and 25 of this act take effect July 1, 2000.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 32. If any provision of sections 22 through 31 of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 33. Sections 22 through 32 of this act constitute a new chapter in Title 18 RCW."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the Committee on Commerce, Trade, Housing and Financial Institutions striking amendment, as amended.

The committee striking amendment, as amended, was adopted.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Winsley, the following title amendments were considered simultaneously and were adopted:

On line 2 of the title, after “relations;” strike the remainder the title and insert “amending RCW 59.20.010, 59.20.030, 59.20.040, 59.20.050, 59.20.070, 59.20.073, 59.20.074, 59.20.075, 59.20.080, 59.20.130, 59.20.135, 59.20.145, 59.20.150, 59.20.170, 59.20.210, and 59.20.220; reenacting and amending RCW 59.20.060; adding a new section to chapter 35.21 RCW; adding a new section to chapter 35A.21 RCW; adding a new section to chapter 36.01 RCW; providing an effective date; and declaring an emergency.”

On page 21, line 27 of the title amendment, strike “providing an effective date;” and insert “adding a new chapter to Title 18 RCW; prescribing penalties; providing effective dates;”

On motion of Senator Winsley, the rules were suspended, House Bill No. 1378, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage. Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Long: “Senator Winsley, in the amendment that you added, if someone has managed a park for a number of years, do they still have to go through this process?”

Senator Winsley: “They would already be certified by the industry. The industry--”

Senator Long: “They would already be certified?”

Senator Winsley: “The industry, in most cases, already certifies--to bring into those parks where they hire managers that aren’t certified. In most cases, your local large parks have good management and they are certifying their own people. So, this takes care of those who are left--”

Senator Winsley: “Certainly they can, but their managers, in the future, will have to be certified. How many units, did you say?”

Senator Sellar: “Let’s say forty units or something. It is an owner/manager deal. A lot of these are owner/manager. But, that owner has to go through a certification process now?”

Senator Winsley: “But, it is still something that he has been doing for twenty years and--”

Senator Winsley: “How do you know he’s not certified now? He or she?”

Senator Sellar: “I would assume that many of them are not.”

Senator Winsley: “Some are and some aren’t.”
The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of House Bill No. 1378, as amended by the Senate.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of House Bill No. 1378, as amended by the Senate, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 32; Nays, 16; Absent, 0; Excused, 1.

Excused: Senator Deccio - 1.

HOUSE BILL NO. 1378, as amended by the Senate, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1569, by House Committee on Appropriations (originally sponsored by Representatives Keiser, Talcott, Schual-Berke, Carlson, Quall and Regala)

Establishing an excellence in mathematics grant program.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator McAuliffe moved that the following Committee on Education striking amendment not be adopted: Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that the purpose of Washington’s accountability system is to improve student learning and student achievement of the essential academic learning standards. The legislature finds that only thirty-one percent of students who took the 1998 fourth grade Washington assessment of student learning met the standard for proficiency in mathematics. The legislature also finds that only twenty percent of students who took the seventh grade trial assessment met the standard for proficiency in mathematics. The legislature finds that the accountability system is designed to help schools, school districts, and the superintendent of public instruction decide how best to improve student performance.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to Title 28A RCW to read as follows:

(1) In providing assistance to school districts, to the extent funds are available or appropriated, the superintendent of public instruction shall analyze the results of the Washington assessment of student learning. The superintendent of public instruction shall use the analysis in designing how to best use state-level assistance programs, assistance through educational service districts, summer institutes, and any curriculum specialists. The superintendent may focus assistance on specific grade levels, schools, and subject matter for a specific school year.

(2) In developing state-level assistance programs, the use of curriculum specialists, assistance programs through educational service districts, and summer institutes for the 1999-2000 and 2000-01 school year, the superintendent of public instruction shall place appropriate emphasis on programs to enhance teaching skills in mathematics. The superintendent shall look at providing training in teaching methods that have proven results gathered through empirical research.

(3) The office of the superintendent of public instruction, through the center for the improvement of student learning, may contract with an independent contractor to conduct and disseminate a literature review of best practices in mathematics instruction and staff development in elementary and middle schools state-wide and nationally.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to Title 28A RCW to read as follows:

Schools and school districts, when developing student learning improvement plans under section 401 of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5418 or section 301 of Second Substitute House Bill No. 1462, shall assess whether or not the plans provide for improving instruction in mathematics if a significant number of students performed below standard on one or more mathematics assessments. In making this determination, districts shall:
(1) Document whether or not the current instructional model or the instructional model that the school or district intends to implement has proven results gathered through empirical research; and

(2) Determine whether a significant number of students are not achieving mathematics proficiency at grade level, as measured by the fourth grade assessment, the seventh grade assessment, or both. If the fourth grade assessment results are not available, the school may use the results of the third grade norm-referenced standardized achievement test under RCW 28A.230.190."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the motion by Senator McAuliffe to not adopt the Committee on Education striking amendment to Substitute House Bill No. 1569.

The motion by Senator McAuliffe carried and the committee striking amendment was not adopted.

MOTION

Senator McAuliffe moved that the following striking amendment by Senators McAuliffe and Finkbeiner be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that the purpose of Washington's accountability system is to improve student learning and student achievement of the essential academic learning standards. The legislature finds that only thirty-one percent of students who took the 1998 fourth grade Washington assessment of student learning met the standard for proficiency in mathematics. The legislature also finds that only twenty percent of students who took the seventh grade trial assessment met the standard for proficiency in mathematics. The legislature intends to identify best practices in mathematics instruction for current and prospective mathematics teachers in the elementary and middle grades, and to provide training opportunities for teachers in using those instructional methods to help students in the classroom.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 28A.300 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The excellence in mathematics training program is established to improve the mathematics performance of elementary, middle and junior high school students. The purpose of the program is to improve students' proficiency in mathematics by enhancing teachers' skills in using teaching methods that have been proven to be effective based upon empirical research. The program shall be administered by the office of the superintendent of public instruction.

(2) The superintendent of public instruction, to the extent funds are appropriated, shall establish training programs in mathematics instruction and assessment for educators working with elementary, middle, and junior high school students. The programs shall be designed to prepare educators to select and implement appropriate instructional strategies and effective programs to improve mathematics instruction. Funds, to the extent funds are appropriated, shall be used to develop training programs and to provide the training to the educators both through institutes and in the classroom during the school year. In selecting educators to participate in the program, the superintendent shall give priority to educators from schools and school districts in which a significant portion of the students performed below standard on one or more mathematics assessments."

MOTION

Senator Benton moved that the following amendments by Senators Benton, Swecker and Johnson to the striking amendment by Senators McAuliffe and Finkbeiner be considered simultaneously and be adopted:

On page 1, beginning on line 7 of the amendment, after "Sec. 1.", strike all material through "standards." on line 9.

On page 1, beginning on line 14 of the amendment, after "mathematics." strike all material through "classroom." on line 19.

On page 1, after line 19 of the amendment, insert the following:

"Sec. 2. RCW 28A.400.200 and 1997 c 141 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Every school district board of directors shall fix, alter, allow, and order paid salaries and compensation for all district employees in conformance with this section.

(2)(a)(i) Salaries for certificated instructional staff shall not be less than the salary provided in the appropriations act in the state-wide salary allocation schedule for an employee with a baccalaureate degree and zero years of service;

(ii) For certificated instructional staff hired with zero years of service specifically assigned to teaching duties that include the subjects of math or science or both and at least a 3.5 grade point average at the time of their graduation from a college or university, there shall be a five thousand dollar bonus paid as follows: Two thousand dollars upon completion of the first year of teaching; one thousand dollars upon completion of the second year of teaching; one thousand dollars upon completion of the third year of teaching; and one thousand dollars upon completion of the fourth year of teaching; and
(b) Salaries for certificated instructional staff with a masters degree shall not be less than the salary provided in the appropriations act in the state-wide salary allocation schedule for an employee with a masters degree and zero years of service;

(3)(a) The actual average salary paid to basic education and special education certificated instructional staff shall not exceed the district's average basic education and special education program certificated instructional staff salary used for the state basic education allocations for that school year as determined pursuant to RCW 28A.150.410.

(b) Fringe benefit contributions for basic education and special education certificated instructional staff shall be included as salary under (a) of this subsection only to the extent that the district's actual average benefit contribution exceeds the amount of the insurance benefits allocation provided per certificated instructional staff unit in the state operating appropriations act in effect at the time the compensation is payable. For purposes of this section, fringe benefits shall not include payment for unused leave for illness or injury under RCW 28A.400.210; employer contributions for old age survivors insurance, workers' compensation, unemployment compensation, and retirement benefits under the Washington state retirement system; or employer contributions for health benefits in excess of the insurance benefits allocation provided per certificated instructional staff unit in the state operating appropriations act in effect at the time the compensation is payable. A school district may not use state funds to provide employer contributions for such excess health benefits.

(c) Salary and benefits for certificated instructional staff in programs other than basic education and special education shall be consistent with the salary and benefits paid to certificated instructional staff in the basic education and special education programs.

(4) Salaries and benefits for certificated instructional staff may exceed the limitations in subsection (3) of this section only by separate contract for additional time, additional responsibilities, or incentives. Supplemental contracts shall not cause the state to incur any present or future funding obligation. Supplemental contracts shall be subject to the collective bargaining provisions of chapter 41.59 RCW and the provisions of RCW 28A.405.240, shall not exceed one year, and if not renewed shall not constitute adverse change in accordance with RCW 28A.405.300 through 28A.405.380. No district may enter into a supplemental contract under this subsection for the provision of services which are a part of the basic education program required by Article IX, section 3 of the state Constitution.

(5) Employee benefit plans offered by any district shall comply with RCW 28A.400.350 and 28A.400.275 and 28A.400.280."

Renumber the sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator McAuliffe: "Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. I raise the question of scope and object on the amendments by Senators Benton, Swecker and Johnson to the striking amendment. These amendments change the bill to be a bonus for teachers on a salary schedule that is not within the scope of this bill, which has to do with training programs for math."

Further debate ensued.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Goings, further consideration of Substitute House Bill No. 1569 was deferred.

SECOND READING

ENGROSSED SECOND SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1477, by House Committee on Appropriations (originally sponsored by Representatives Haigh, Bush, Talcott, Linville, Santos and Edmonds) (by request of Board of Education)

Revising school district organization provisions.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator McAuliffe moved that the following Committee on Education striking amendment not be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:
Under the constitutional framework and the laws of the state of Washington, the governance structure for the state's public common school system is comprised of the following bodies: The legislature, the governor, the superintendent of public instruction, the state board of education, the educational service district boards of directors, and local school district boards of directors. The respective policy and administrative roles of each body are determined by the state Constitution and statutes.

Local school districts are political subdivisions of the state and the organization of such districts, including the powers, duties, and boundaries thereof, may be altered or abolished by laws of the state of Washington.

PART 1

PURPOSE AND POLICY

(a) Incorporate into a single, comprehensive, school district organization law all essential provisions governing:

(i) The formation and establishment of new school districts;

(ii) The alteration of the boundaries of existing districts; and

(iii) The adjustment of the assets and liabilities of school districts when changes are made under this chapter; and

(b) Establish methods and procedures whereby changes in the school district system may be brought about by the people concerned and affected.

(c) A balance of local petition requests and the needs of the state-wide community at large in a manner that advances the best interest of public education in the affected school districts and communities, the educational service district, and the state;

(d) Responsibly serving all of the affected citizens and students by contributing to logical service boundaries and recognizing a changing economic pattern within the educational service districts of the state;

(e) Enhancing the educational opportunities of pupils in the territory by reducing existing disparities among the affected school districts' ability to provide operating and capital funds through an equitable adjustment of the assets and liabilities of the affected districts;

(f) Promoting a wiser use of public funds through improvement in the school district system of the educational service districts and the state; and

(g) Other criteria or considerations as may be established in rule by the state board of education.

(3) It is not the intent nor purpose of this chapter to apply to organizational changes and the procedure therefor relating to capital fund aid by nonhigh school districts as provided for in chapter 28A.540 RCW.

PART 2

GENERAL PROVISIONS

(1) A new school district may be formed comprising contiguous territory lying in either a single county or in two or more counties. The new district may comprise:

(a) Two or more whole school districts;

(b) Parts of two or more school districts; and/or

(c) Territory that is not a part of any school district if such territory is contiguous to the district to which it is transferred.

(2) The boundaries of existing school districts may be altered:

(a) By the transfer of territory from one district to another district;

(b) By the consolidation of one or more school districts with one or more school districts;

(c) By the dissolution and annexation to a district of a part or all of one or more other districts or of territory that is not a part of any school district: PROVIDED, That such territory shall be contiguous to the district to which it is transferred or annexed.

(3) Territory may be transferred or annexed to or consolidated with an existing school district without regard to county boundaries.

A new section is added to chapter 28A.300 RCW to read as follows:

NEW SECTION, Sec. 202. A new section is added to chapter 28A.300 RCW to read as follows:

CLASSIFICATION—NUMBERING SYSTEM—CHANGE OF CLASSIFICATION. (1) The superintendent of public instruction is responsible for the classification and numbering system of school districts.
(2) Any school district in the state that has a student enrollment in its public schools of two thousand pupils or more, as shown by evidence acceptable to the educational service district superintendent and the superintendent of public instruction, is a school district of the first class. Any other school district is a school district of the second class.

(3) Whenever the educational service district superintendent finds that the classification of a school district should be changed, and upon the approval of the superintendent of public instruction, the educational service district superintendent shall make an order in conformity with his or her findings and alter the records of his or her office accordingly. Thereafter, the board of directors of the district shall organize in the manner provided by law for the organization of the board of a district of the class to which the district then belongs.

(4) Notwithstanding any other provision of chapter 43, Laws of 1975, the educational service district superintendent, with the concurrence of the superintendent of public instruction, may delay approval of a change in classification of any school district for a period not exceeding three years when, in fact, the student enrollment of the district within any such time period does not exceed ten percent, either in a decrease or increase thereof.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 203. CONFLICTING OR INCORRECTLY DESCRIBED SCHOOL DISTRICT BOUNDARIES--CHANGES. In case the boundaries of any of the school districts are conflicting or incorrectly described, the educational service district board of directors, after due notice and a public hearing, shall change, harmonize, and describe them and shall so certify, with a complete transcript of boundaries of all districts affected, such action to the state board for its approval or revision. Upon receipt of notification of state board action, the educational service district superintendent shall transmit to the county legislative authority of the county or counties in which the affected districts are located a complete transcript of the boundaries of all districts affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 204. DISTRICT BOUNDARY CHANGES--SUBMISSION TO COUNTY AUDITOR. (1) Any district boundary changes shall be submitted to the county auditor by the educational service district superintendent within thirty days after the changes have been approved in accordance with this chapter. The superintendent shall submit both legal descriptions and maps.

(2) Any boundary changes submitted to the county auditor after the fourth Monday in June of odd-numbered years does not take effect until the following calendar year.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 205. EFFECT OF CHANGES--EXISTING PROVISIONS NOT AFFECTED. (1) Any proposed change in school district organization initiated before the effective date of this act shall be considered under the laws and rules in effect before the effective date of this act. This act applies to any proposed change in school district organization initiated on or after the effective date of this act.

(2) For purposes of this section, "initiated" means the filing of a petition, the motion of a school board, or the report of an educational service district. This section does not preclude the filing of a new petition on or after the effective date of this act where the same or a similar proposal was filed before the effective date of this act.

PART 3
REGIONAL COMMITTEES ON SCHOOL DISTRICT ORGANIZATION

NEW SECTION. Sec. 301. REGIONAL COMMITTEES--POWERS AND DUTIES. The powers and duties of each regional committee are to:

(1) Hear and approve or disapprove proposals for changes in the organization and extent of school districts in the educational service districts when a hearing on a proposal has been requested under section 401 of this act;

(2) Act on notices and proposals from the educational service district under section 501 of this act;

(3) Make an equitable adjustment of the property and other assets and of the liabilities, including bonded indebtedness and excess tax levies as otherwise authorized under this section, as to the old school districts and the new district or districts, if any, involved in or affected by a proposed change in the organization and extent of the school districts;

(4) Make an equitable adjustment of the bonded indebtedness outstanding against any of the old and new districts whenever in its judgment such adjustment is advisable, as to all of the school districts involved in or affected by any change heretofore or hereafter effected;

(5) Provide that territory transferred from a school district by a change in the organization and extent of school districts shall either remain subject to, or be relieved of, any one or more excess tax levies that are authorized for the school district under RCW 84.52.053 before the effective date of the transfer of territory from the school district;

(6) Provide that territory transferred to a school district by a change in the organization and extent of school districts shall either be made subject to, or be relieved of, any one or more excess tax levies that are authorized for the school district under RCW 84.52.053 before the effective date of the transfer of territory to the school district;

(7) Establish the date by which a committee-approved transfer of territory shall take effect;
(8) Hold and keep a record of a public hearing or public hearings (a) on every proposal for the formation of a new school district or for the transfer from one existing district to another of any territory in which children of school age reside or for annexation of territory when the conditions set forth in RCW 28A.315.290 or 28A.315.320 prevail; and (b) on every proposal for adjustment of the assets and of the liabilities of school districts provided for in this chapter. Three members of the regional committee or two members of the committee and the educational service district superintendent may be designated by the committee to hold any public hearing that the committee is required to hold. The regional committee shall cause notice to be given, at least ten days prior to the date appointed for any such hearing, in one or more newspapers of general circulation within the geographical boundaries of the school districts affected by the proposed change or adjustment. In addition notice may be given by radio and television, or either thereof, when in the committee's judgment the public interest will be served thereby; and

(9) Prepare and submit to the superintendent of public instruction from time to time or, upon his or her request, reports and recommendations respecting the urgency of need for school plant facilities, the kind and extent of the facilities required, and the development of improved local school administrative units and attendance areas in the case of school districts that seek state assistance in providing school plant facilities.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 302. POWERS AND DUTIES OF STATE BOARD. The powers and duties of the state board with respect to this chapter shall be:

(1) To aid regional committees in the performance of their duties by furnishing them with plans of procedure, standards, data, maps, forms, and other necessary materials and services essential to a study and understanding of the problems of school district organization in their respective educational service districts.

(2) To hear appeals as provided in section 402 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 303. ANNUAL TRAINING. To the extent funds are appropriated, the superintendent of public instruction, in cooperation with the educational service districts and the Washington state school directors' association, shall conduct an annual training meeting for the regional committees, state board members, educational service district superintendents, and local school district superintendents and boards of directors. Training may also be provided upon request

. PART 4
TRANSFER OF TERRITORY

NEW SECTION. Sec. 401. TRANSFER OF TERRITORY—REQUIREMENTS—RESPONSIBILITIES OF SCHOOL DISTRICT BOARD OF DIRECTORS. (1) A proposed change in school district organization by transfer of territory from one school district to another may be initiated by a petition in writing presented to the educational service district superintendent:

(a) Signed by at least ten percent of the registered voters residing in the territory proposed to be transferred; or

(b) Signed by a majority of the members of the board of directors of one of the districts affected by a proposed transfer of territory.

(2) The petition shall state the name and number of each district affected, describe the boundaries of the territory proposed to be transferred, and state the reasons for desiring the change and the number of children of school age, if any, residing in the territory.

(3) The educational service district superintendent shall not complete any transfer of territory under this section that involves ten percent or more of the common school student population of the entire district from which the transfer is proposed, unless the educational service district superintendent has first called and held a special election of the voters of the entire school district from which the transfer of territory is proposed. The purpose of the election is to afford those voters an opportunity to approve or reject the proposed transfer. A simple majority shall determine approval or rejection.

(4) The state board may establish rules limiting the frequency of petitions that may be filed pertaining to territory included in whole or in part in a previous petition.

(5) Upon receipt of the petition, the educational service district superintendent shall notify in writing the affected districts that:

(a) Each school district board of directors, whether or not initiating a proposed transfer of territory, is required to enter into negotiations with the affected district or districts;

(b) In the case of a citizen-initiated petition, the affected districts must negotiate on the entire proposed transfer of territory;

(c) The districts have ninety calendar days in which to agree to the proposed transfer of territory;

(d) The districts may request and shall be granted by the educational service district superintendent one thirty-day extension to try to reach agreement; and

(e) Any district involved in the negotiations may at any time during the ninety-day period notify the educational service district superintendent in writing that agreement will not be possible.
(6) If the negotiating school boards cannot come to agreement about the proposed transfer of territory, the educational service district superintendent, if requested by the affected districts, shall appoint a mediator. The mediator has thirty days to work with the affected school districts to see if an agreement can be reached on the proposed transfer of territory.

(7) If the affected school districts cannot come to agreement about the proposed transfer of territory, and the districts do not request the services of a mediator or the mediator was unable to bring the districts to agreement, either district may file with the educational service district superintendent a written request for a hearing by the regional committee.

(8) If the affected school districts cannot come to agreement about the proposed transfer of territory initiated by citizen petition, and the districts do not request the services of a mediator or the mediator was unable to bring the districts to agreement, the district in which the citizens who filed the petition reside shall file with the educational service district superintendent a written request for a hearing by the regional committee, unless a majority of the citizen petitioners request otherwise.

(9) Upon receipt of a notice under subsection (7) or (8) of this section, the educational service district superintendent shall notify the chair of the regional committee in writing within ten days.

(10) Costs incurred by school districts under this section shall be reimbursed by the state from such funds as are appropriated for this purpose.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 402. TRANSFER OF TERRITORY—REGIONAL COMMITTEE—RESPONSIBILITIES. (1) The chair of the regional committee shall schedule a hearing on the proposed transfer of territory at a location in the educational service district within sixty calendar days of being notified under section 401 (7) or (8) of this act.

(2) Within thirty calendar days of the hearing under subsection (1) of this section, or final hearing if more than one is held by the committee, the committee shall issue its written findings and decision to approve or disapprove the proposed transfer of territory. The educational service district superintendent shall transmit a copy of the committee's decision to the superintendents of the affected school districts within ten calendar days.

(3) In carrying out the purposes of section 101 of this act and in making decisions as authorized under section 301(1) of this act, the regional committee shall base its judgment upon whether and to the extent the proposed change in school district organization complies with section 101(2) of this act and rules adopted by the state board under chapter 34.05 RCW.

(4) State board rules under subsection (3) of this section shall provide for giving consideration to all of the following:

(a) The annual school performance reports required under RCW 28A.320.205 in the affected districts and improvement of the educational opportunities of pupils in the territory proposed for a change in school district organization;

(b) The safety and welfare of pupils. For the purposes of this subsection, "safety" means freedom or protection from danger, injury, or damage and "welfare" means a positive condition or influence regarding health, character, and well being;

(c) The history and relationship of the property affected to the students and communities affected, including, for example, inclusion within a single school district, for school attendance and corresponding tax support purposes, of entire master planned communities that were or are to be developed pursuant to an integrated commercial and residential development plan with over one thousand dwelling units;

(d) Whether or not geographic accessibility warrants a favorable consideration of a recommended change in school district organization, including remoteness or isolation of places of residence and time required to travel to and from school; and

(e) All funding sources of the affected districts, equalization among school districts of the tax burden for general fund and capital purposes through a reduction in disparities in pupil valuation when all funding sources are considered, improvement in the economies in the administration and operation of schools, and the extent the proposed change would potentially reduce or increase the individual and aggregate transportation costs of the affected school districts.

(5)(a)(i) A petitioner or school district may appeal a decision by the regional committee to approve a change in school district organization to the state board based on the claim that the regional committee failed to follow the applicable statutory and regulatory procedures or acted in an arbitrary and capricious manner. Any such appeal shall be based on the record and the appeal must be filed within thirty days of the final decision of the regional committee.

(ii) If the state board finds that all applicable procedures were not followed or that the regional committee acted in an arbitrary and capricious manner, it shall refer the matter back to the regional committee with an explanation of the board's findings. The regional committee shall rehear the proposal.

(iii) If the state board finds that all applicable procedures were followed or that the regional committee did not act in an arbitrary and capricious manner, depending on the appeal, the educational service district shall be notified and directed to implement the changes.

(b) Any school district or citizen petitioner affected by a final decision of the regional committee may seek judicial review of the committee's decision in accordance with RCW 34.05.570.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 403. TRANSFER OF TERRITORY—APPROVAL OF PROPOSED TRANSFER—ORDER. (1) Upon receipt by the educational service district superintendent of a written agreement by two or more school districts to the transfer of territory between the affected districts, the superintendent shall make an order establishing all approved changes involving the alteration of the boundaries of the affected districts. The order shall also establish all approved terms of the equitable adjustment of assets and liabilities involving the affected districts. The superintendent shall certify his or her action to each county auditor, each county treasurer, each county assessor, and the superintendents of all school districts affected by the action.

(2) Upon receipt by the educational service district superintendent of a written order by the regional committee approving the transfer of territory between two or more school districts, the superintendent shall make an order establishing all approved changes involving the alteration of the boundaries of the affected districts. The order may not be implemented before the period of appeal authorized under section 402(5)(a)(i) of this act has ended. The order shall also establish all approved terms of the equitable adjustment of assets and liabilities involving the affected districts. The superintendent shall certify his or her action to each county auditor, each county treasurer, each county assessor, and the superintendents of all school districts affected by the action.

PART 5
DISSOLUTION AND ANNEXATION OF TERRITORY

NEW SECTION, Sec. 501. DISSOLUTION AND ANNEXATION OF CERTAIN DISTRICTS--ANNEXATION OF NONDISTRICT PROPERTY. In case any school district has an average enrollment of fewer than five kindergarten through eighth grade pupils during the preceding school year or has not made a reasonable effort to maintain, during the preceding school year at least the minimum term of school required by law, the educational service district superintendent shall report that fact to the regional committee, which committee shall dissolve the school district and annex the territory thereof to some other district or districts. For the purposes of this section, in addition to any other finding, "reasonable effort" shall be deemed to mean the attempt to make up whatever days are short of the legal requirement by conducting of school classes on any days to include available holidays, though not to include Saturdays and Sundays, prior to June 15th of that year. School districts operating an extended school year program, most commonly implemented as a 45-15 plan, shall be deemed to be making a reasonable effort. In the event any school district has suffered any interruption in its normal school calendar due to a strike or other work stoppage or slowdown by any of its employees that district shall not be subject to this section. In case any territory is not a part of any school district, the educational service district superintendent shall present to the regional committee a proposal for the annexation of the territory to some contiguous district or districts.

PART 6
CONSOLIDATION OF TERRITORY

NEW SECTION, Sec. 601. CONSOLIDATION--PETITION. (1) A proposed change in school district organization by consolidation of territory from two or more school districts to form a new school district may be initiated by:

(a) A written petition presented to the educational service district superintendent signed by ten or more registered voters residing:

(i) In each whole district and in each part of a district proposed to be included in any single new district; or

(ii) In the territory of a proposed new district that comprises a part of only one or more districts and approved by the boards of directors of the affected school districts;

(b) A written petition presented to the educational service district superintendent signed by ten percent or more of the registered voters residing in such affected areas or area without the approval of the boards of directors of the affected school districts.

(2) The petition shall state the name and number of each district involved in or affected by the proposal to form the new district and shall describe the boundaries of the proposed new district. No more than one petition for consolidation of the same two school districts or parts thereof shall be considered during a school fiscal year.

(3) The educational service district superintendent may not complete any consolidation of territory under this section unless he or she has first called and held a special election of the voters of the affected districts to afford those voters an opportunity to approve or reject the proposed consolidation. A simple majority shall determine approval or rejection.

(4) If a proposed change in school district organization by consolidation of territory has been approved under this section, the educational service district superintendent shall make an order establishing all approved changes involving the alteration of the boundaries of the affected districts. The order shall also establish all approved terms of the equitable adjustment of assets and liabilities involving the affected districts. The superintendent shall certify his or her action to each county auditor, each county treasurer, each county assessor, and the superintendents of all school districts affected by the action.

PART 7
ADJUSTMENT OF ASSETS AND LIABILITIES--
NEW SECTION. Sec. 701. ADJUSTMENT OF ASSETS AND LIABILITIES. In determining an equitable adjustment of assets and liabilities, the negotiating school districts and the regional committee shall consider the following factors:

(1) The number of school age children residing in each school district and in each part of a district involved or affected by the proposed change in school district organization;

(2) The assessed valuation of the property located in each school district and in each part of a district involved or affected by the proposed change in school district organization;

(3) The purpose for which the bonded indebtedness of any school district involved or affected by the proposed change in school district organization was incurred;

(4) The history and relationship of the property affected to the students and communities affected by the proposed change in school district organization;

(5) Additional burdens to the districts affected by the proposed change in school district organization as a result of the proposed organization;

(6) The value, location, and disposition of all improvements located in the school districts involved or affected by the proposed change in school district organization;

(7) The consideration of all other sources of funding; and

(8) Any other factors that in the judgment of the school districts or regional committee are important or essential to the making of an equitable adjustment of assets and liabilities.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 702. ADJUSTMENT OF INDEBTEDNESS. (1) The fact of the issuance of bonds by a school district, heretofore or hereafter, does not prevent changes in the organization and extent of school districts, regardless of whether or not such bonds or any part thereof are outstanding at the time of change.

(2) In case of any change:

(a) The bonded indebtedness outstanding against any school district involved in or affected by such change shall be adjusted equitably among the old school districts and the new district or districts, if any, involved or affected; and

(b) The property and other assets and the liabilities other than bonded indebtedness of any school district involved in or affected by any such change shall also be adjusted in the manner and to the effect provided for in this section, except if all the territory of an old school district is included in a single new district or is annexed to a single existing district, in which event the title to the property and other assets and the liabilities other than bonded indebtedness of the old district vests in and becomes the assets and liabilities of the new district or of the existing district, as applicable.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 703. ADJUSTMENT OF BONDED INDEBTEDNESS--SPECIAL ELECTIONS. If adjustments of bonded indebtedness are made between or among school districts in connection with the alteration of the boundaries of the school districts under this chapter, the order of the educational service district superintendent establishing the terms of adjustment of bonded indebtedness shall provide and specify:

(1) In every case where bonded indebtedness is transferred from one school district to another school district:

(a) That such bonded indebtedness is assumed by the school district to which it is transferred;

(b) That thereafter such bonded indebtedness shall be the obligation of the school district to which it is transferred;

(c) That, if the terms of adjustment so provide, any bonded indebtedness thereafter incurred by such transferee school district through the sale of bonds authorized before the date its boundaries were altered shall be the obligation of such school district including the territory added thereto; and

(d) That taxes shall be levied thereafter against the taxable property located within such school district as it is constituted after its boundaries were altered, the taxes to be levied at the times and in the amounts required to pay the principal of and the interest on the bonded indebtedness assumed or incurred, as the same become due and payable;

(2) In computing the debt limitation of any school district from which or to which bonded indebtedness has been transferred, the amount of transferred bonded indebtedness at any time outstanding:

(a) Shall be an offset against and deducted from the total bonded indebtedness, if any, of the school district from which the bonded indebtedness was transferred; and

(b) Shall be deemed to be bonded indebtedness solely of the transferee school district that assumed the indebtedness.

(3) In every case where adjustments of bonded indebtedness do not provide for transfer of bonded indebtedness from one school district to another school district:

(a) That the existing bonded indebtedness of each school district, the boundaries of which are altered and any bonded indebtedness incurred by each such school district through the sale of bonds authorized before the date its boundaries were altered is the obligation of the school district in its reduced or enlarged form, as the case may be; and
(b) That taxes shall be levied thereafter against the taxable property located within each such school district in its reduced or enlarged form, as the case may be, at the times and in the amounts required to pay the principal of and interest on such bonded indebtedness as the same become due and payable.

(4) If a change in school district organization approved by the regional committee concerns a proposal to form a new school district or a proposal for adjustment of bonded indebtedness involving an established school district and one or more former school districts now included therein pursuant to a vote of the people concerned, a special election of the voters residing within the territory of the proposed new district, or of the established district involved in a proposal for adjustment of bonded indebtedness as the case may be, shall be held for the purpose of affording those voters an opportunity to approve or reject such proposals as concern or affect them.

(5) In a case involving both the question of the formation of a new school district and the question of adjustment of bonded indebtedness, the questions may be submitted to the voters either in the form of a single proposition or as separate propositions, whichever seems expedient to the educational service district superintendent. When the regional committee has passed appropriate resolutions for the questions to be submitted and the educational service district superintendent has given notice thereof to the county auditor, the special election shall be called and conducted, and the returns canvassed as in regular school district elections.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 704. NOTICE OF ELECTIONS. Notice of special elections as provided for in section 703 of this act shall be given by the county auditor as provided in RCW 29.27.080. The notice of election shall state the purpose for which the election has been called and contain a description of the boundaries of the proposed new district and a statement of any terms of adjustment of bonded indebtedness on which to be voted.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 705. VOTE--DETERMINATION--ORDER--CERTIFICATION. (1) If a special election is held to vote on a proposal or alternate proposals to form a new school district, the votes cast by the registered voters in each component district shall be tabulated separately. Any such proposition shall be considered approved only if it receives a majority of the votes cast in each separate district voting thereon.

(2) If a special election is held to vote on a proposal for adjustment of bonded indebtedness, the entire vote cast by the registered voters of the proposed new district or of the established district as the case may be shall be tabulated. Any such proposition shall be considered approved if sixty percent or more of all votes cast thereon are in the affirmative.

(3) In the event of approval of a proposition or propositions voted on at a special election, the educational service district superintendent shall:

   (a) Make an order establishing such new school district or such terms of adjustment of bonded indebtedness or both, as were approved by the registered voters and shall also order such other terms of adjustment, if there are any, of property and other assets and of liabilities other than bonded indebtedness as have been approved by the state council; and

   (b) Certify his or her action to the county and school district officials specified in section 403 of this act. The educational service district superintendent may designate, with the approval of the superintendent of public instruction, a name and number different from that of any component thereof, but must designate the new district by name and number different from any other district in existence in the county.

(4) The educational service district superintendent shall fix as the effective date of any order or orders he or she is required to make by this chapter, the date specified in the order of final approval of any change in the organization and extent of school districts or of any terms of adjustment of the assets and liabilities of school districts subject, for taxing purposes, to the redrawing of taxing district boundaries under RCW 84.09.030, by the regional committee.

(5) Upon receipt of certification under this section, the superintendent of each school district that is included in the new district shall deliver to the superintendent of the new school district those books, papers, documents, records, and other materials pertaining to the territory transferred.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 706. REJECTION OF PROPOSAL--PROCEDURE. If a proposal for the formation of a new school district and for adjustment of bonded indebtedness, or either, is rejected by the registered voters at a special election, the matter is terminated.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 707. CORPORATE EXISTENCE--PAYMENT OF BONDED INDEBTEDNESS--LEY AUTHORITY. (1) Each school district involved in or affected by any change made in the organization and extent of school districts under this chapter retains its corporate existence insofar as is necessary for the purpose, until the bonded indebtedness outstanding against it on and after the effective date of the change has been paid in full. This section may not be construed to prevent, after the effective date of the change, such adjustments of bonded indebtedness as are provided for in this chapter.

(2) The county legislative authority shall provide, by appropriate levies on the taxable property of each school district, for the payment of the bonded indebtedness outstanding against it after any of the changes or adjustments under this chapter have been effected.
(3) In case any such changes or adjustments involve a joint school district, the tax levy for the payment of any bonded indebtedness outstanding against the joint district, after the changes or adjustments are effected, shall be made and the proceeds thereof shall be transmitted, credited, and paid out in conformity with the provisions of law applicable to the payment of the bonded indebtedness of joint school districts.

Sec. 708. RCW 36.70A.035 and 1997 c 429 s 9 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The public participation requirements of this chapter shall include notice procedures that are reasonably calculated to provide notice to property owners and other affected and interested individuals, tribes, government agencies, businesses, school districts, and organizations of proposed amendments to comprehensive plans and development regulation. Examples of reasonable notice provisions include:

(a) Posting the property for site-specific proposals;
(b) Publishing notice in a newspaper of general circulation in the county, city, or general area where the proposal is located or that will be affected by the proposal;
(c) Notifying public or private groups with known interest in a certain proposal or in the type of proposal being considered;
(d) Placing notices in appropriate regional, neighborhood, ethnic, or trade journals; and
(e) Publishing notice in agency newsletters or sending notice to agency mailing lists, including general lists or lists for specific proposals or subject areas.

(2)(a) Except as otherwise provided in (b) of this subsection, if the legislative body for a county or city chooses to consider a change to an amendment to a comprehensive plan or development regulation, and the change is proposed after the opportunity for review and comment has passed under the county's or city's procedures, an opportunity for review and comment on the proposed change shall be provided before the local legislative body votes on the proposed change.

(b) An additional opportunity for public review and comment is not required under (a) of this subsection if:
(i) An environmental impact statement has been prepared under chapter 43.21C RCW for the pending resolution or ordinance and the proposed change is within the range of alternatives considered in the environmental impact statement;
(ii) The proposed change is within the scope of the alternatives available for public comment;
(iii) The proposed change only corrects typographical errors, corrects cross-references, makes address or name changes, or clarifies language of a proposed ordinance or resolution without changing its effect;
(iv) The proposed change is to a resolution or ordinance making a capital budget decision as provided in RCW 36.70A.120;
(v) The proposed change is to a resolution or ordinance enacting a moratorium or interim control adopted under RCW 36.70A.390.

(3) This section is prospective in effect and does not apply to a comprehensive plan, development regulation, or amendment adopted before July 27, 1997.

MOTION

Senator Tim Sheldon moved that the following amendment be adopted:
On page 12, after line 12, insert the following:
"Sec. 404.  RCW 28A.400.300 and 1997 c 13 s 10 are each amended to read as follows:
Every board of directors, unless otherwise specially provided by law, shall:
(1) Employ for not more than one year, and for sufficient cause discharge all certificated and classified employees;
(2) Adopt written policies granting leaves to persons under contracts of employment with the school district(s) in positions requiring either certification or classified qualifications, including but not limited to leaves for attendance at official or private institutes and conferences and sabbatical leaves for employees in positions requiring certification qualification, and leaves for illness, injury, bereavement and, emergencies for both certificated and classified employees, and with such compensation as the board of directors prescribe: PROVIDED, That the board of directors shall adopt written policies granting to such persons annual leave with compensation for illness, injury and emergencies as follows:

(a) For such persons under contract with the school district for a full year, at least ten days;
(b) For such persons under contract with the school district as part time employees, at least that portion of ten days as the total number of days contracted for bears to one hundred eighty days;
(c) For certificated and classified employees, annual leave with compensation for illness, injury, and emergencies shall be granted and accru at a rate not to exceed twelve days per year; provisions of any contract in force on June 12, 1980, which conflict with requirements of this subsection shall continue in effect until contract expiration; after expiration, any new contract executed between the parties shall be consistent with this subsection;
(d) Compensation for leave for illness or injury actually taken shall be the same as the compensation such person would have received had such person not taken the leave provided in this proviso;
(e) Leave provided in this proviso not taken shall accumulate from year to year up to a maximum of one hundred eighty days for the purposes of RCW 28A.400.210 and 28A.400.220, and for leave purposes up to a maximum of the number of contract days agreed to in a given contract, but not greater than one year. Such accumulated time may be taken at any time during the school year or up to twelve days per year may be used for the purpose of payments for unused sick leave(c);
(f) Sick leave heretofore accumulated under section 1, chapter 195, Laws of 1959 (former RCW 28.58.430) and sick leave accumulated under administrative practice of school districts prior to the effective date of section 1, chapter 195, Laws of 1959 (former RCW 28.58.430) is hereby declared valid, and shall be added to leave for illness or injury accumulated under this proviso;
(g) Any leave for injury or illness accumulated up to a maximum of forty-five days shall be creditable as service rendered for the purpose of determining the time at which an employee is eligible to retire, if such leave is taken it may not be compensated under the provisions of RCW 28A.400.210 and 28A.310.490;
(h) Accumulated leave under this proviso shall be transferred to and from one district to another, the office of superintendent of public instruction and offices of educational service district superintendents and boards, to and from such districts and such offices;
(i) Leave accumulated by a person in a district prior to leaving said district may, under rules and regulations of the board, be granted to such person when the person returns to the employment of the district; and
(j) For sick leave the board of directors may require a signed statement from a licensed health care provider that any absence was due to illness or injury. If an employee uses sick leave to engage in a strike or work stoppage, the employee may not receive sick leave benefits during the time the employee engages in the strike or work stoppage.

When any certificated or classified employee leaves one school district within the state and commences employment with another school district within the state, the employee shall retain the same seniority, leave benefits and other benefits that the employee had in his or her previous position: PROVIDED, That classified employees who transfer between districts after July 28, 1985, shall not retain any seniority rights other than longevity when leaving one school district and beginning employment with another. If the school district to which the person transfers has a different system for computing seniority, leave benefits, and other benefits, then the employee shall be granted the same seniority, leave benefits and other benefits as a person in that district who has similar occupational status and total years of service.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator McAuliffe: “Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. I raise the question of scope and object of the amendment by Senator Tim Sheldon. The original bill establishes school district boundaries and the amendment goes beyond the scope and object, because it applies to teacher compensation.”

Further debate ensued.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Gardner, the following Committee on State and Local Government striking amendment was adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

*NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. (1) The Washington supreme court in a case involving a ballot measure, State v. 119 Vote No! Committee, 135 Wn.2d 618 (1998), found the statute that prohibits persons from sponsoring, with actual malice, political advertising containing false statements of material fact to be invalid under the First Amendment to the United States Constitution.

(2) The legislature finds that a review of the opinions indicates that a majority of the supreme court may find valid a statute that limited such a prohibition on sponsoring with actual malice false statements of material fact in a political campaign to statements about a candidate in an election for public office.

(3) It is the intent of the legislature to amend the current law to provide protection for candidates for public office against false statements of material fact sponsored with actual malice.

Sec. 2. RCW 42.17.530 and 1988 c 199 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) It is a violation of this chapter for a person to sponsor with actual malice:

(a) Political advertising that contains a false statement of material fact about a candidate for public office. However, this subsection (1)(a) does not apply to statements about a candidate made by the candidate or the candidate's agent;

(b) Political advertising that falsely represents that a candidate is the incumbent for the office sought when in fact the candidate is not the incumbent;

(c) Political advertising that makes either directly or indirectly, a false claim stating or implying the support or endorsement of any person or organization when in fact the candidate does not have such support or endorsement.

(2) Any violation of this section shall be proven by clear and convincing evidence.”

Sec. 3. RCW 9.94A.440 and 1996 c 93 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Decision not to prosecute.

STANDARD: A prosecuting attorney may decline to prosecute, even though technically sufficient evidence to prosecute exists, in situations where prosecution would serve no public purpose, would defeat the underlying purpose of the law in question or would result in decreased respect for the law.

GUIDELINE/COMMENTARY:

Examples

(a) Contrary to Legislative Intent - It may be proper to decline to charge where the application of criminal sanctions would be clearly contrary to the intent of the legislature in enacting the particular statute.

(b) Antiquated Statute - It may be proper to decline to charge where the statute in question is antiquated in that:
   (i) it has not been enforced for many years; and
   (ii) Most members of society act as if it were no longer in existence; and
   (iii) It serves no deterrent or protective purpose in today's society; and
   (iv) The statute has not been recently reconsidered by the legislature.

This reason is not to be construed as the basis for declining cases because the law in question is unpopular or because it is difficult to enforce.

(c) De Minimus Violation - It may be proper to decline to charge where the violation of law is only technical or insubstantial and where no public interest or deterrent purpose would be served by prosecution.

(d) Confinement on Other Charges - It may be proper to decline to charge because the accused has been sentenced on another charge to a lengthy period of confinement; and
   (i) Conviction of the new offense would not merit any additional direct or collateral punishment;
   (ii) The new offense is either a misdemeanor or a felony which is not particularly aggravated; and
   (iii) Conviction of the new offense would not serve any significant deterrent purpose.

(e) Pending Conviction on Another Charge - It may be proper to decline to charge because the accused is facing a pending prosecution in the same or another county; and
   (i) Conviction of the new offense would not merit any additional direct or collateral punishment;
   (ii) Conviction in the pending prosecution is imminent;
   (iii) The new offense is either a misdemeanor or a felony which is not particularly aggravated; and
   (iv) Conviction of the new offense would not serve any significant deterrent purpose.

(f) High Disproportionate Cost of Prosecution - It may be proper to decline to charge where the cost of locating or transporting, or the burden on, prosecution witnesses is highly disproportionate to the importance of prosecuting the offense in question. This reason should be limited to minor cases and should not be relied upon in serious cases.

(g) Improper Motives of Complainant - It may be proper to decline charges because the motives of the complainant are improper and prosecution would serve no public purpose, would defeat the underlying purpose of the law in question or would result in decreased respect for the law.

(h) Immunity - It may be proper to decline to charge where immunity is to be given to an accused in order to prosecute another where the accused's information or testimony will reasonably lead to the conviction of others who are responsible for more serious criminal conduct or who represent a greater danger to the public interest.

(i) Victim Request - It may be proper to decline to charge because the victim requests that no criminal charges be filed and the case involves the following crimes or situations:
   (i) Assault cases where the victim has suffered little or no injury;
   (ii) Crimes against property, not involving violence, where no major loss was suffered;
(iii) Where doing so would not jeopardize the safety of society.

Care should be taken to insure that the victim's request is freely made and is not the product of threats or pressure by the accused.

The presence of these factors may also justify the decision to dismiss a prosecution which has been commenced.

Notification

The prosecutor is encouraged to notify the victim, when practical, and the law enforcement personnel, of the decision not to prosecute.

(2) Decision to prosecute.

STANDARD:

Crimes against persons will be filed if sufficient admissible evidence exists, which, when considered with the most plausible, reasonably foreseeable defense that could be raised under the evidence, would justify conviction by a reasonable and objective fact-finder. With regard to offenses prohibited by RCW 9A.44.040, 9A.44.050, 9A.44.073, 9A.44.076, 9A.44.079, 9A.44.083, 9A.44.086, 9A.44.089, and 9A.64.020 the prosecutor should avoid prefiling agreements or diversions intended to place the accused in a program of treatment or counseling, so that treatment, if determined to be beneficial, can be provided pursuant to RCW 9.94A.120(8).

Crimes against property/other crimes will be filed if the admissible evidence is of such convincing force as to make it probable that a reasonable and objective fact-finder would convict after hearing all the admissible evidence and the most plausible defense that could be raised.

See table below for the crimes within these categories.

ALL OTHER UNCLASSIFIED FELONIES
Selection of Charges/Degree of Charge
(1) The prosecutor should file charges which adequately describe the nature of defendant's conduct. Other offenses may be charged only if they are necessary to ensure that the charges:
(a) Will significantly enhance the strength of the state's case at trial; or
(b) Will result in restitution to all victims.
(2) The prosecutor should not overcharge to obtain a guilty plea. Overcharging includes:
(a) Charging a higher degree;
(b) Charging additional counts.

This standard is intended to direct prosecutors to charge those crimes which demonstrate the nature and seriousness of a defendant's criminal conduct, but to decline to charge crimes which are not necessary to such an indication. Crimes which do not merge as a matter of law, but which arise from the same course of conduct, do not all have to be charged.

GUIDELINES/COMMENTARY:

Police Investigation

A prosecuting attorney is dependent upon law enforcement agencies to conduct the necessary factual investigation which must precede the decision to prosecute. The prosecuting attorney shall ensure that a thorough factual investigation has been conducted before a decision to prosecute is made. In ordinary circumstances the investigation should include the following:

1. The interviewing of all material witnesses, together with the obtaining of written statements whenever possible;
2. The completion of necessary laboratory tests; and
3. The obtaining, in accordance with constitutional requirements, of the suspect's version of the events.

If the initial investigation is incomplete, a prosecuting attorney should insist upon further investigation before a decision to prosecute is made, and specify what the investigation needs to include.

Exceptions

In certain situations, a prosecuting attorney may authorize filing of a criminal complaint before the investigation is complete if:

1. Probable cause exists to believe the suspect is guilty; and
2. The suspect presents a danger to the community or is likely to flee if not apprehended; or
3. The arrest of the suspect is necessary to complete the investigation of the crime.

In the event that the exception to the standard is applied, the prosecuting attorney shall obtain a commitment from the law enforcement agency involved to complete the investigation in a timely manner. If the subsequent investigation does not produce sufficient evidence to meet the normal charging standard, the complaint should be dismissed.

Investigation Techniques

The prosecutor should be fully advised of the investigatory techniques that were used in the case investigation including:

1. Polygraph testing;
2. Hypnosis;
3. Electronic surveillance;
4. Use of informants.

Pre-Filing Discussions with Defendant

Discussions with the defendant or his/her representative regarding the selection or disposition of charges may occur prior to the filing of charges, and potential agreements can be reached.

Pre-Filing Discussions with Victim(s)

Discussions with the victim(s) or victims’ representatives regarding the selection or disposition of charges may occur before the filing of charges. The discussions may be considered by the prosecutor in charging and disposition decisions, and should be considered before reaching any agreement with the defendant regarding these decisions.

SECOND READING

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1282, by House Committee on State Government (originally sponsored by Representatives Romero, Buck, Miloscia, Linville, Dickerson, Regala and Wolfe) (by request of Commissioner of Public Lands Belcher)

Authorizing state agencies to offer incentives to state employees to relocate from one part of the state to another.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Fairley, the following Committee on Labor and Workforce Development amendment was adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

*NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that recruiting and retaining a highly qualified work force is essential to deliver high quality public programs. One factor that impairs recruitment or transfer of public employees is the housing cost differential between the rural and urban areas of the state. This housing cost differential can cause state employees to decline promotional or transfer opportunities if the costs associated with such moves are not compensated.

Therefore, the legislature finds that it is in the interest of the citizens of the state of Washington to authorize an employing agency to offer assistance to state employees to relocate from one part of the state to another. This assistance is referred to as relocation compensation and is commonplace with private and federal government employers.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 43.03 RCW to read as follows:

An agency may, within existing resources, authorize lump sum relocation compensation when it determines it is necessary to successfully recruit and retain qualified candidates who will have to make a domiciliary move in order to accept the position. It is lawful for a state office, commission, department, or institution to, within existing resources, authorize lump sum relocation compensation as authorized by rule under chapter 41.06 RCW and in accordance with the provisions of chapter 43.88 RCW. If the person receiving the relocation payment terminates or causes termination with the state, for reasons other than layoff, disability separation, or other good cause as determined by an agency director, within one year of the date of the employment, the state is entitled to reimbursement of the lump sum compensation.

Sec. 3. RCW 41.06.150 and 1996 c 319 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

The board shall adopt rules, consistent with the purposes and provisions of this chapter, as now or hereafter amended, and with the best standards of personnel administration, regarding the basis and procedures to be followed for:

(1) The reduction, dismissal, suspension, or demotion of an employee;

(2) Certification of names for vacancies, including departmental promotions, with the number of names equal to six more names than there are vacancies to be filled, such names representing applicants rated highest on eligibility lists: PROVIDED, That when other applicants have scores equal to the lowest score among the names certified, their names shall also be certified;

(3) Examinations for all positions in the competitive and noncompetitive service;

(4) Appointments;

(5) Training and career development;

(6) Probationary periods of six to twelve months and rejections of probationary employees, depending on the job requirements of the class, except that entry level state park rangers shall serve a probationary period of twelve months;

(7) Transfers;

(8) Sick leaves and vacations;

(9) Hours of work;
(10) Layoffs when necessary and subsequent reemployment, both according to seniority;

(11) Determination of appropriate bargaining units within any agency: PROVIDED, That in making such determination the board shall consider the duties, skills, and working conditions of the employees, the history of collective bargaining by the employees and their bargaining representatives, the extent of organization among the employees, and the desires of the employees;

(12) Certification and decertification of exclusive bargaining representatives: PROVIDED, That after certification of an exclusive bargaining representative and upon the representative's request, the director shall hold an election among employees in a bargaining unit to determine by a majority whether to require as a condition of employment membership in the certified exclusive bargaining representative on or after the thirtieth day following the beginning of employment or the date of such election, whichever is the later, and the failure of an employee to comply with such a condition of employment constitutes cause for dismissal: PROVIDED FURTHER, That no more often than once in each twelve-month period after expiration of twelve months following the date of the original election in a bargaining unit and upon petition of thirty percent of the members of a bargaining unit the director shall hold an election to determine whether a majority wish to rescind such condition of employment: PROVIDED FURTHER, That for purposes of this clause, membership in the certified exclusive bargaining representative is satisfied by the payment of monthly or other periodic dues and does not require payment of initiation, reinstatement, or any other fees or fines and includes full and complete membership rights: AND PROVIDED FURTHER, That in order to safeguard the right of nonassociation of public employees, based on bona fide religious tenets or teachings of a church or religious body of which such public employee is a member, such public employee shall pay to the union, for purposes within the program of the union as designated by such employee that would be in harmony with his or her individual conscience, an amount of money equivalent to regular union dues minus any included monthly premiums for union-sponsored insurance programs, and such employee shall not be a member of the union but is entitled to all the representation rights of a union member;

(13) Agreements between agencies and certified exclusive bargaining representatives providing for grievance procedures and collective negotiations on all personnel matters over which the appointing authority of the appropriate bargaining unit of such agency may lawfully exercise discretion;

(14) Written agreements may contain provisions for payroll deductions of employee organization dues upon authorization by the employee member and for the cancellation of such payroll deduction by the filing of a proper prior notice by the employee with the appointing authority and the employee organization: PROVIDED, That nothing contained herein permits or grants to any employee the right to strike or refuse to perform his or her official duties;

(15) Adoption and revision of a comprehensive classification plan for all positions in the classified service, based on investigation and analysis of the duties and responsibilities of each such position.

(a) The board shall not adopt job classification revisions or class studies unless implementation of the proposed revision or study will result in net cost savings, increased efficiencies, or improved management of personnel or services, and the proposed revision or study has been approved by the director of financial management in accordance with chapter 43.88 RCW.

(b) Beginning July 1, 1995, through June 30, 1997, in addition to the requirements of (a) of this subsection:

(i) The board may approve the implementation of salary increases resulting from adjustments to the classification plan during the 1995-97 fiscal biennium only if:

(A) The implementation will not result in additional net costs and the proposed implementation has been approved by the director of financial management in accordance with chapter 43.88 RCW;

(B) The implementation will take effect on July 1, 1996, and the total net cost of all such actions approved by the board for implementation during the 1995-97 fiscal biennium does not exceed the amounts specified by the legislature specifically for this purpose; or

(C) The implementation is a result of emergent conditions. Emergent conditions are defined as emergency situations requiring the establishment of positions necessary for the preservation of the public health, safety, or general welfare, which do not exceed $250,000 of the moneys identified in section 718(2), chapter 18, Laws of 1995 2nd sp. sess.

(ii) The board shall approve only those salary increases resulting from adjustments to the classification plan if they are due to documented recruitment and retention difficulties, salary compression or inversion, increased duties and responsibilities, or inequities. For these purposes, inequities are defined as similar work assigned to different job classes with a salary disparity greater than 7.5 percent.

(iii) Adjustments made to the higher education hospital special pay plan are exempt from (b)(i) through (ii) of this subsection.

(c) Reclassifications, class studies, and salary adjustments to be implemented during the 1997-99 and subsequent fiscal biennia are governed by (a) of this subsection and RCW 41.06.152;
(16) Allocation and reallocation of positions within the classification plan;

(17) Adoption and revision of a state salary schedule to reflect the prevailing rates in Washington state private industries and other governmental units but the rates in the salary schedules or plans shall be increased if necessary to attain comparable worth under an implementation plan under RCW 41.06.155 and that, for institutions of higher education and related boards, shall be competitive for positions of a similar nature in the state or the locality in which an institution of higher education or related board is located, such adoption and revision subject to approval by the director of financial management in accordance with the provisions of chapter 43.88 RCW;

(18) Increment increases within the series of steps for each pay grade based on length of service for all employees whose standards of performance are such as to permit them to retain job status in the classified service;

(19) Optional lump sum relocation compensation approved by the agency director, whenever it is reasonably necessary that a person make a domiciliary move in accepting a transfer or other employment with the state. An agency must provide lump sum compensation within existing resources. If the person receiving the relocation payment terminates or causes termination with the state, for reasons other than layoff, disability separation, or other good cause as determined by an agency director, within one year of the date of the employment, the state is entitled to reimbursement of the lump sum compensation from the person;

(20) Providing for veteran's preference as required by existing statutes, with recognition of preference in regard to layoffs and subsequent reemployment for veterans and their surviving spouses by giving such eligible veterans and their surviving spouses additional credit in computing their seniority by adding to their unbroken state service, as defined by the board, the veteran's service in the military not to exceed five years. For the purposes of this section, "veteran" means any person who has one or more years of active military service in any branch of the armed forces of the United States or who has less than one year's service and is discharged with a disability incurred in the line of duty or is discharged at the convenience of the government and who, upon termination of such service has received an honorable discharge, a discharge for physical reasons with an honorable record, or a release from active military service with evidence of service other than that for which an undesirable, bad conduct, or dishonorable discharge shall be given: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That the surviving spouse of a veteran is entitled to the benefits of this section regardless of the veteran's length of active military service: PROVIDED FURTHER, That for the purposes of this section "veteran" does not include any person who has voluntarily retired with twenty or more years of active military service and whose military retirement pay is in excess of five hundred dollars per month;

(21) Permitting agency heads to delegate the authority to appoint, reduce, dismiss, suspend, or demote employees within their agencies if such agency heads do not have specific statutory authority to so delegate: PROVIDED, That the board may not authorize such delegation to any position lower than the head of a major subdivision of the agency;

(22) Assuring persons who are or have been employed in classified positions before July 1, 1993, will be eligible for employment, reemployment, transfer, and promotion in respect to classified positions covered by this chapter;

(23) Affirmative action in appointment, promotion, transfer, recruitment, training, and career development; development and implementation of affirmative action goals and timetables; and monitoring of progress against those goals and timetables.

The board shall consult with the human rights commission in the development of rules pertaining to affirmative action. The department of personnel shall transmit a report annually to the human rights commission which states the progress each state agency has made in meeting affirmative action goals and timetables."

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Fairley, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, beginning on line 2 of the title, after "assistance," strike the remainder of the title and insert "amending RCW 41.06.150; adding a new section to chapter 43.03 RCW; and creating a new section."

On motion of Senator Fairley, the rules were suspended, Substitute House Bill No. 1282, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Substitute House Bill No. 1282, as amended by the Senate.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Substitute House Bill No. 1282, as amended by the Senate, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 43; Nays, 2; Absent, 1; Excused, 3.

Absent: Senator Hargrove - 1.

Excused: Senators Deccio, McDonald and Thibaudeau - 3.

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1282, as amended by the Senate, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1562, by House Committee on Transportation (originally sponsored by Representatives Scott, Mulliken and G. Chandler)

Changing provisions relating to the adoption of regulations by airport operators.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Gardner, the following Committee on Transportation striking amendment was adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 14.08.122 and 1987 c 254 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

An airport operator may adopt all regulations necessary for rental and use of airport facilities and for the expeditious collection of airport charges. The regulations may also establish procedures for the enforcement of these regulations by the airport operator. The regulations shall include the following:

(1) Procedures authorizing airport personnel to take reasonable measures including, but not limited to, the use of chains, ropes, and locks to secure aircraft within the airport facility so that the aircraft are in the possession and control of the airport operator and cannot be removed from the airport. These procedures may be used if an owner hangaring or parking an aircraft at the airport fails, after being notified that charges are owing and of the owner's right to contest that such charges are owing, to pay the airport charges owed ((and the account is at least sixty days delinquent)) or to commence legal proceedings. Notification shall be by registered mail to the owner at his or her last known address. In the case of an aircraft where an owner's address cannot be determined or obtained after reasonable effort, the airport operator need not give such notice prior to securing the aircraft. At the time of securing the aircraft, an authorized airport employee shall attach to the aircraft a readily visible notice and shall make a reasonable attempt to send a copy of the notice to the owner at his or her last known address by registered mail, return receipt requested, and (a) an additional copy of the notice by first class mail. The notice shall be of a reasonable size and shall contain the following information:

(a) The date and time the notice was attached;
(b) A reasonable description of the aircraft;
(c) The identity of the authorized employee;
(d) The amount of airport charges owing;
(e) A statement that if the account is not paid in full within ((one hundred eighty)) ninety days from the time the notice was attached the aircraft may be sold at public auction to satisfy the airport charges;
(f) (The time and place of sale;)
(g) A statement of the owner's right to commence legal proceedings to contest the charges owing and to have the aircraft released upon posting of an adequate cash bond or other security; and
(h) The address and telephone number where additional information may be obtained concerning the release of the aircraft."
(2) Procedures authorizing airport personnel at their discretion to move aircraft to an area within the airport operator's control or for storage with private persons under the airport operator's control as bailees of the airport facility. Costs of any such procedure shall be paid by the aircraft's owner.

(3) If an aircraft is secured under subsection (1) of this section or moved under conditions authorized (under) by subsection (2) of this section the owner who is obligated for hangaring or parking or other airport charges may regain possession of the aircraft by:

(a) Making arrangements satisfactory with the airport operator for the immediate removal of the aircraft from the airport's hangar, or making arrangements for authorized parking; and

(b) By making payment to the airport operator of all airport charges or by posting with the airport operator a sufficient cash bond or other security acceptable to such operator, to be held in trust by the airport operator pending written agreement of the parties with respect to payment by the aircraft owner of the amount owing, or pending resolution of charges in a civil action in a court of competent jurisdiction. Upon written agreement or judicial resolution, the trust shall terminate and the airport operator shall receive so much of the bond or other security as is necessary to satisfy the agreement, or any judgment, costs, and interest as may be awarded to the airport operator. The balance shall be refunded immediately to the owner at the owner's last known address by registered mail, return receipt requested. The airport operator shall send to the owner by first class mail a notice that the balance of funds was forwarded to him or her by registered mail, return receipt requested.

(4) If an aircraft parked or hangared at an airport is abandoned, the airport operator may authorize the public sale of the aircraft by authorized personnel to the highest and best bidder for cash as follows:

(a) If an aircraft has been secured by the airport operator under subsection (1) of this section and is not released to the owner under the bonding provisions of this section within (ninety) ninety days after notifying or attempting to notify the owner under subsection (1) of this section, or in all other cases, for (ninety) ninety days after the airport operator secures the aircraft, the aircraft shall be conclusively presumed to have been abandoned by the owner;

(b) Before the aircraft is sold, the owner of the aircraft shall be given at least twenty days' notice of sale by registered mail, return receipt requested, if the name and address of the owner are known, and the notice of sale shall be published at least once, more than ten but less than twenty days before the sale, in a newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the aircraft is located. The notice shall include the name of the aircraft, if any, its aircraft identification number, the last known owner and address, the time and place of sale, the amount of airport charges that will be owing at the time of sale, a reasonable description of the aircraft to be sold and a statement that the airport operator may bid all or part of its airport charges at the sale and may become a purchaser at the sale;

(c) Before the aircraft is sold, any person seeking to redeem an impounded aircraft under this section may commence a lawsuit in the superior court of the county in which the aircraft was impounded, to contest the validity of the impoundment or the amount of airport charges owing. Such lawsuit must be commenced within ten days of the date the notification was provided under subsection (1) of this section, or the right to a hearing is waived and the owner is liable for any airport charges owing the airport operator. In the event of litigation, the prevailing party is entitled to reasonable attorneys' fees and costs;

(d) The proceeds of a sale under this section shall first be applied to payment of airport charges owed. The balance, if any, shall be deposited with the department of revenue to be held in trust for the owner or owners and lienholders for a period of one year. If more than one owner appears on the aircraft title, and/or if any liens appear on the title, the department must, if a claim is made, interplead the balance into a court of competent jurisdiction for distribution. The department may release the balance to the legal owner provided that the claim is made within one year of sale and only one legal owner and no lienholders appear on the title. If no valid claim is made within one year of the date of sale, the excess funds from the sale shall be deposited in the aircraft search and rescue, safety, and education account created in RCW 47.68.236. If the sale is for a sum less than the applicable airport charges, the airport operator is entitled to assert a claim against the aircraft owner or owners for the deficiency;

(e) In the event that no one purchases the aircraft at a sale, or that the aircraft is not removed from the premises or other arrangements are not made within ten days of the sale, title to the aircraft shall revert to the airport operator.

(5) The regulations authorized under this section shall be enforceable only if:

(a) The airport operator has had its tariff and/or regulations, including any and all regulations authorizing the impoundment of an aircraft that is the subject of delinquent airport charges, conspicuously posted at the airport manager's office at all times.

(b) All impounding remedies available to the airport operator are included in any written contract for airport charges between an airport operator and an aircraft owner; and

(c) All rules and regulations authorized under this section are adopted either pursuant to chapter 34.05 RCW, or by resolution of the appropriate legislative authority, as applicable.

Sec. 2. RCW 47.68.250 and 1998 c 188 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

Every aircraft shall be registered with the department for each calendar year in which the aircraft is operated or is based within this state. A fee of eight dollars shall be charged for each such registration and each annual renewal thereof.
Possession of the appropriate effective federal certificate, permit, rating, or license relating to ownership and airworthiness of the aircraft, and payment of the excise tax imposed by Title 82 RCW for the privilege of using the aircraft within this state during the year for which the registration is sought, and payment of the registration fee required by this section shall be the only requisites for registration of an aircraft under this section.

The registration fee imposed by this section shall be payable to and collected by the secretary. The fee for any calendar year must be paid during the month of January, and shall be collected by the secretary at the time of the collection by him or her of the said excise tax. If the secretary is satisfied that the requirements for registration of the aircraft have been met, he or she shall thereupon issue to the owner of the aircraft a certificate of registration therefor. The secretary shall pay to the state treasurer the registration fees collected under this section, which registration fees shall be credited to the aeronautics account in the transportation fund.

It shall not be necessary for the registrant to provide the secretary with originals or copies of federal certificates, permits, ratings, or licenses. The secretary shall issue certificates of registration, or such other evidences of registration or payment of fees as he or she may deem proper; and in connection therewith may prescribe requirements for the possession and exhibition of such certificates or other evidences.

The provisions of this section shall not apply to:

1. An aircraft owned by and used exclusively in the service of any government or any political subdivision thereof, including the government of the United States, any state, territory, or possession of the United States, or the District of Columbia, which is not engaged in carrying persons or property for commercial purposes;
2. An aircraft registered under the laws of a foreign country;
3. An aircraft which is owned by a nonresident and registered in another state: PROVIDED, That if said aircraft shall remain in and/or be based in this state for a period of ninety days or longer it shall not be exempt under this section;
4. An aircraft engaged principally in commercial flying constituting an act of interstate or foreign commerce;
5. An aircraft owned by the commercial manufacturer thereof while being operated for test or experimental purposes, or for the purpose of training crews for purchasers of the aircraft;
6. An aircraft being held for sale, exchange, delivery, test, or demonstration purposes solely as stock in trade of an aircraft dealer licensed under Title 14 RCW;
7. An aircraft based within the state that is in an unairworthy condition, is not operated within the registration period, and has obtained a written exemption issued by the secretary.

The secretary shall be notified within one week of any change in ownership of a registered aircraft. The notification shall contain the N, NC, NR, NL, or NX number of the aircraft, the full name and address of the owner, and the full name and address of the new owner. For failure to so notify the secretary, the registration of that aircraft may be canceled by the secretary, subject to reinstatement upon application and payment of a reinstatement fee of ten dollars by the new owner.

A municipality or port district that owns, operates, or leases an airport, as defined in RCW 47.68.020, with the intent to operate, shall require from an aircraft owner proof of aircraft registration or proof of intent to register an aircraft as a condition of leasing or selling tiedown or hangar space for an aircraft. The airport shall inform the lessee or purchaser of the tiedown or hangar space of the state law requiring registration and direct the person to comply with the state law if the person has not already done so. The airport may lease or sell tiedown or hangar space to owners of nonregistered aircraft after presenting them with the appropriate state registration forms. It is then the responsibility of the lessee or purchaser to register the aircraft. The airport shall report to the department's aviation division at the end of each month, the names, addresses, and "N" numbers of those aircraft owners not yet registered.

Sec. 3. RCW 82.48.100 and 1965 ex.s. c 173 s 28 are each amended to read as follows:

This chapter shall not apply to:

Aircraft owned by and used exclusively in the service of any government or any political subdivision thereof, including the government of the United States, any state, territory, or possession of the United States, or the District of Columbia, which are not engaged in carrying persons or property for commercial purposes;

Aircraft registered under the laws of a foreign country;

Aircraft which are owned by a nonresident and registered in another state: PROVIDED, That if any such aircraft shall remain in and/or be based in this state for a period of ninety days or longer it shall not be exempt under this section;

Aircraft engaged principally in commercial flying which constitutes interstate or foreign commerce; and aircraft owned by the manufacturer thereof while being operated for test or experimental purposes, or for the purpose of training crews for purchasers of the aircraft;

Aircraft being held for sale, exchange, delivery, test, or demonstration purposes solely as stock in trade of an aircraft dealer licensed under Title 14 RCW.
Aircraft owned by a nonresident of this state if the aircraft is kept at an airport in this state and that airport is jointly owned or operated by a municipal corporation or other governmental entity of this state and a municipal corporation or other governmental entity of another state, and the owner or operator of the aircraft provides the department with proof that the owner or operator has paid all taxes, license fees, and registration fees required by the state in which the owner or operator resides."

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Gardner, the following title amendment was adopted:
On page 1, line 2 of the title, after "charges;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "and amending RCW 14.08.122, 47.68.250, and 82.48.100."

On motion of Senator Gardner, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1562, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1562, as amended by the Senate.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1562, as amended by the Senate, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 42; Nays, 3; Absent, 1; Excused, 3.

Voting nay: Senators Honeyford, Rossi and Stevens - 3.

Absent: Senator West - 1.

Excused: Senators Deccio, McDonald and Thibaudeau - 3.

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1562, as amended by the Senate, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 8409, by Senators Goings, Oke, Shin, Gardner, Swecker, Roach, B. Sheldon, Snyder, McCaslin, McAuliffe, Franklin, Rasmussen and Eide

Creating a Joint Select Committee on Veterans and Military Affairs.

The concurrent resolution was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Goings, the rules were suspended, Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 8409 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the concurrent resolution was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 8409.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 8409 and the concurrent resolution passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 46; Nays, 0; Absent, 1; Excused, 2.
SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION. 8409, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

SECOND READING

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1935, by House Committee on appropriations (originally sponsored by Representatives Tokuda, Boldt, Ogden, Schual-Berke, Lovick, Kessler, Kenney, Rockefeller, Murray, Scott, Edmonds, Conway, Kagi, Santos, Poulsen, Veloria and Lantz)

Adjusting eligibility for early childhood assistance programs.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator McAuliffe moved that the following Committee on Education striking amendment be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 28A.215.110 and 1994 c 166 s 2 are each amended to read as follows: Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout RCW 28A.215.100 through 28A.215.200 and 28A.215.900 through 28A.215.908.
(1) "Advisory committee" means the advisory committee under RCW 28A.215.140.
(2) "Department" means the department of community, trade, and economic development.
(3) "Eligible child" means a child not eligible for kindergarten whose family income is at or below one hundred thirty percent of the federal poverty level, as published annually by the federal department of health and human services, and includes a child whose family is eligible for public assistance, and who is not a participant in a federal or state program providing comprehensive services and may include children who are eligible under rules adopted by the department if the number of such children equals not more than ten percent of the total enrollment in the early childhood program. Priority for enrollment shall be given to children from families with the lowest income or to eligible children from families with multiple needs.
(4) "Approved programs" means those state-supported education and special assistance programs which are recognized by the department of community, trade, and economic development as meeting the minimum program rules adopted by the department to qualify under RCW 28A.215.100 through 28A.215.200 and 28A.215.900 through 28A.215.908 and are designated as eligible for funding by the department under RCW 28A.215.160 and 28A.215.180.
(5) "Comprehensive" means an assistance program that focuses on the needs of the child and includes education, health, and family support services.
(6) "Family support services" means providing opportunities for parents to:
(a) Actively participate in their child's early childhood program;
(b) Increase their knowledge of child development and parenting skills;
(c) Further their education and training;
(d) Increase their ability to use needed services in the community;
(e) Increase their self-reliance."

MOTION

Senator Benton moved that the following amendment by Senators Benton, Deccio and Finkbeiner to the Committee on Education striking amendment be adopted

On page 1, line 33 of the amendment, after "28A.215.180." insert "To be eligible as an approved program, the program must:
(a) Have an annual program review by the department in addition to program self-evaluations;"
(b) Respond to parental concerns; and
(c) Provide an outreach program to identify children from families with the lowest income."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator McAuliffe: "Mr. President, a point of order. I raise the question of scope and object on the amendment by Senators Benton, Deccio and Finkbeiner to the Committee on Education striking amendment. In Substitute House Bill No. 1935, the Early Childhood Assistance Program family income eligibility requirement is raised two hundred and thirty percent of the federal poverty level. The Community Trade and Economic Department review requested in the amendment changes the scope and object of this bill. I ask that you consider that as out of the scope and object and out of compliance with the original bill."

Further debate ensued.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Betti Sheldon, further consideration of Substitute House Bill No. 1935 was deferred.

There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of Substitute House Bill No. 1569 and the pending amendments by Senators Benton, Swecker and Johnson on page 1, lines 7, 14 and 19, to the striking amendment by Senators McAuliffe and Finkbeiner deferred earlier today.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator McAuliffe to the scope and object of the amendments by Senators Benton, Swecker and Johnson on page 1, lines 7, 14, and 19, to the striking amendment by Senators McAuliffe and Finkbeiner, the President finds that Substitute House Bill No. 1569 is a measure which provides grants to schools and school districts for the purpose of establishing training models to enhance the skills of math teachers.

"The amendments by Senators Benton, Swecker and Johnson would provide bonuses to new math and science teachers. The amendments in no way concern the grant program established in the bill.

"The President, therefore, finds that the amendments do change the scope and object of the bill and the point of order is well taken."

The amendments by Senators Benton, Swecker and Johnson on page 1, lines 7, 14, and 19, to the striking amendment by Senators McAuliffe and Finkbeiner to Substitute House Bill No. 1569 were ruled out of order.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the striking amendment by Senators McAuliffe and Finkbeiner to Substitute House Bill No. 1569.

The motion by Senator McAuliffe carried and the striking amendment was adopted.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator McAuliffe, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 1 of the title, strike the remainder of the title and insert" adding a new section to chapter 28A.300 RCW, and creating a new section."

On motion of Senator McAuliffe, the rules were suspended, Substitute House Bill No. 1569, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Substitute House Bill No. 1569, as amended by the Senate.

ROLL CALL
The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Substitute House Bill No. 1569, as amended by the Senate, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 47; Nays, 0; Absent, 0; Excused, 2.

Excused: Senators Deccio and Thibaudeau - 2.

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1569, as amended by the Senate, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of Engrossed Second Substitute House Bill No. 1477 and the pending amendment by Senator Tim Sheldon on page 12, after line 12, deferred earlier today.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator McAuliffe to the scope and object of amendment by Senator Tim Sheldon on page 12, after line 12, the President finds that Engrossed Second Substitute House Bill No. 1477 is a measure which deals solely and exclusively with the organization of school districts.

"The amendment by Senator Tim Sheldon would do two things: (1) require that school employees provide a statement from a licensed health care provider in order to take sick leave; and (2) prohibit school employees who take sick leave to engage in a strike from receiving sick leave benefits during the time of the strike. The amendment in no way concerns school district organization.

"The President, therefore, finds that the amendment does change the scope and object of the bill and the point of order is well taken."

The amendment by Senator Tim Sheldon on page 12, after line 12, to Engrossed Second Substitute House Bill No. 1477 was ruled out of order.

MOTION

On motion of Senator McAuliffe, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Second Substitute House Bill No. 1477, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Engrossed Second Substitute House Bill No. 1477, as amended by the Senate.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Second Substitute House Bill No. 1477, as amended by the Senate, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 48; Nays, 0; Absent, 0; Excused, 1.

Voting yea: Senators Bauer, Benton, Brown, Costa, Eide, Fairley, Finkbeiner, Franklin, Fraser, Gardner, Goings, Hale, Hargrove, Haugen, Heavey, Hochstatter, Honeyford, Horn, Jacobsen, Johnson, Kline, Kohl-Welles, Long, Loveland, McAuliffe, McCaslin, McDonald, Morton, Oke, Patterson, Prentice, Rasmussen, Roach, Rossi, Sellar, Sheahan, Sheldon, B., Sheldon, T., Shin, Snyder, Spanel, Stevens, Swecker, Thibaudeau, West, Winsley, Wojahn and Zarelli - 48. Excused: Senator Deccio - 1. ENGROSSED SECOND SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1477, as amended by the Senate, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING
ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1407, by House Committee on Judiciary (originally sponsored by Representatives Lambert, Benson, Dickerson, Sheahan, Tokuda, Hurst, G. Chandler, Mulliken, Boldt, Koster, Schindler, Ogden, Dunn and Kessler)

Changing adoption provisions.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Costa, the following Committee on Human and Services and Corrections striking amendment was adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 26.33.170 and 1988 c 203 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) An agency's, the department's, or a legal guardian's consent to adoption may be dispensed with if the court determines by clear, cogent and convincing evidence that the proposed adoption is in the best interests of the adoptee.

(2) An alleged father's, birth parent's, or parent's consent to adoption may be dispensed with if the court finds that the proposed adoption is in the best interests of the adoptee and:

(a) The alleged father, birth parent, or parent has been found guilty of rape under chapter 9A.44 RCW or incest under RCW 9A.64.020, where the adoptee was the victim of the rape or incest; or

(b) The alleged father, birth parent, or parent has been found guilty of rape under chapter 9A.44 RCW or incest under RCW 9A.64.020, where the other parent of the adoptee was the victim of the rape or incest and the adoptee was conceived as a result of the rape or incest.

(3) Nothing in this section shall be construed to eliminate the notice provisions of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 13.34 RCW to read as follows:

In those cases where an alleged father, birth parent, or parent has indicated his or her intention to make a voluntary adoption plan for the child and has agreed to the termination of his or her parental rights, the department shall follow the wishes of the alleged father, birth parent, or parent regarding the proposed adoptive placement of the child, if the court determines that the adoption is in the best interest of the child, and the prospective adoptive parents chosen by the alleged father, birth parent, or parent are properly qualified to adopt in compliance with the standards in this chapter and chapter 26.33 RCW. If the department has filed a termination petition, an alleged father's, birth parent's, or parent's preferences regarding the proposed adoptive placement of the child shall be given consideration.

Sec. 3. RCW 13.34.130 and 1998 c 314 s 2 and 1998 c 130 s 2 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

If, after a fact-finding hearing pursuant to RCW 13.34.110, it has been proven by a preponderance of the evidence that the child is dependent within the meaning of RCW 13.34.030; after consideration of the predisposition report prepared pursuant to RCW 13.34.110 and after a disposition hearing has been held pursuant to RCW 13.34.110, the court shall enter an order of disposition pursuant to this section.

(1) The court shall order one of the following dispositions of the case:

(a) Order a disposition other than removal of the child from his or her home, which shall provide a program designed to alleviate the immediate danger to the child, to mitigate or cure any damage the child has already suffered, and to aid the parents so that the child will not be endangered in the future. In selecting a program, the court should choose those services that least interfere with family autonomy, provided that the services are adequate to protect the child.

(b) Order that the child be removed from his or her home and ordered into the custody, control, and care of a relative or the department of social and health services or a licensed child placing agency for placement in a foster family home or group care facility licensed pursuant to chapter 74.15 RCW or in a home not required to be licensed pursuant to chapter 74.15 RCW. Unless there is reasonable cause to believe that the safety or welfare of the child would be jeopardized or that efforts to reunite the parent and child will be hindered, such child shall be placed with a person who is related to the child as defined in RCW 74.15.020((4)(a)) and with whom the child has a relationship and is comfortable, and who is willing and available to care for the child. Placement of the child with a relative under this subsection shall be given preference by the court. An order for out-of-home placement may be made only if the court finds that reasonable efforts have been made to prevent or eliminate the need for removal of the child from the child's home and to make it possible for the child to return home, specifying the services that have been provided to the child and the child's parent, guardian, or legal custodian, and that preventive services have been offered or provided and have failed to prevent the need for out-of-home placement, unless the health, safety, and welfare of the child cannot be protected adequately in the home, and that:
(i) There is no parent or guardian available to care for such child;
(ii) The parent, guardian, or legal custodian is not willing to take custody of the child;
(iii) The court finds, by clear, cogent, and convincing evidence, a manifest danger exists that the child will suffer serious abuse or neglect if the child is not removed from the home and an order under RCW 26.44.063 would not protect the child from danger; or
(iv) The extent of the child's disability is such that the parent, guardian, or legal custodian is unable to provide the necessary care for the child and the parent, guardian, or legal custodian has determined that the child would benefit from placement outside of the home.

(2) If the court has ordered a child removed from his or her home pursuant to subsection (1)(b) of this section, the court may order that a petition seeking termination of the parent and child relationship be filed if the court finds: (a) Termination is recommended by the supervising agency; (b) termination is in the best interests of the child; and (c) that because of the existence of aggravated circumstances, reasonable efforts to unify the family are not required. Notwithstanding the existence of aggravated circumstances, reasonable efforts may be required if the court or department determines it is in the best interest of the child. In determining whether aggravated circumstances exist by clear, cogent, and convincing evidence, the court shall consider one or more of the following:
   (i) Conviction of the parent of rape of the child in the first, second, or third degree as defined in RCW 9A.44.073, 9A.44.076, and 9A.44.079;
   (ii) Conviction of the parent of criminal mistreatment of the child in the first or second degree as defined in RCW 9A.42.020 and 9A.42.030;
   (iii) Conviction of the parent of one of the following assault crimes, when the child is the victim: Assault in the first or second degree as defined in RCW 9A.36.011 and 9A.36.021 or assault of a child in the first or second degree as defined in RCW 9A.36.120 or 9A.36.130;
   (iv) Conviction of the parent of murder, manslaughter, or homicide by abuse of the child's other parent, sibling, or another child;
   (v) Conviction of the parent of attempting, soliciting, or conspiracy to commit a crime listed in (c)(i), (ii), (iii), or (iv) of this subsection;
   (vi) A finding by a court that a parent is a sexually violent predator as defined in RCW 71.09.020;
   (vii) Failure of the parent to complete available treatment ordered under this chapter or the equivalent laws of another state, where such failure has resulted in a prior termination of parental rights to another child and the parent has failed to effect significant change in the interim. In the case of a parent of an Indian child, as defined in the Indian Child Welfare Act, P.L. 95-608 (25 U.S.C. (Sec. 1903), the court shall also consider tribal efforts to assist the parent in completing treatment and make it possible for the child to return home;
   (viii) An infant under three years of age has been abandoned as defined in RCW 13.34.030(4)(a);
   (ix) The mother has given birth to three or more drug-affected infants, resulting in the department filing a petition under section 23 of this act;
   (x) Conviction of the parent of a sex offense under chapter 9A.44 RCW or incest under RCW 9A.64.020 when the child is born of the offense.

(3) If reasonable efforts are not ordered under subsection (2) of this section a permanency planning hearing shall be held within thirty days. Reasonable efforts shall be made to place the child in a timely manner in accordance with the permanency plan, and to complete whatever steps are necessary to finalize the permanent placement of the child.

(4) Whenever a child is ordered removed from the child's home, the agency charged with his or her care shall provide the court with:
   (a) A permanency plan of care that shall identify one of the following outcomes as a primary goal and may identify additional outcomes as alternative goals: Return of the child to the home of the child's parent, guardian, or legal custodian; adoption; guardianship; permanent legal custody; or long-term relative or foster care, until the child is age eighteen, with a written agreement between the parties and the care provider; and independent living, if appropriate and if the child is age sixteen or older. Whenever a permanency plan identifies independent living as a goal, the plan shall also specifically identify the services that will be provided to assist the child to make a successful transition from foster care to independent living. Before the court approves independent living as a permanency plan of care, the court shall make a finding that the provision of services to assist the child in making a transition from foster care to independent living will allow the child to manage his or her financial affairs and to manage his or her personal, social, educational, and nonfinancial affairs. The department shall not discharge a child to an independent living situation before the child is eighteen years of age unless the child becomes emancipated pursuant to chapter 13.64 RCW.
(b) Unless the court has ordered, pursuant to subsection (2) of this section, that a termination petition be filed, a specific plan as to where the child will be placed, what steps will be taken to return the child home, and what actions the agency will take to maintain parent-child ties. All aspects of the plan shall include the goal of achieving permanence for the child.

(i) The agency plan shall specify what services the parents will be offered in order to enable them to resume custody, what requirements the parents must meet in order to resume custody, and a time limit for each service plan and parental requirement.

(ii) The agency shall be required to encourage the maximum parent-child contact possible, including regular visitation and participation by the parents in the care of the child while the child is in placement. Visitation may be limited or denied only if the court determines that such limitation or denial is necessary to protect the child’s health, safety, or welfare.

(iii) A child shall be placed as close to the child’s home as possible, preferably in the child’s own neighborhood, unless the court finds that placement at a greater distance is necessary to promote the child’s or parents’ well-being.

(iv) The agency charged with supervising a child in placement shall provide all reasonable services that are available within the agency, or within the community, or those services which the department of social and health services has existing contracts to purchase. It shall report to the court if it is unable to provide such services.

(c) If the court has ordered, pursuant to subsection (2) of this section, that a termination petition be filed, a specific plan as to where the child will be placed, what steps will be taken to achieve permanency for the child, services to be offered or provided to the child, and, if visitation would be in the best interests of the child, a recommendation to the court regarding visitation between parent and child pending a fact-finding hearing on the termination petition. The agency shall not be required to develop a plan of services for the parents or provide services to the parents.

(5) If the court determines that the continuation of reasonable efforts to prevent or eliminate the need to remove the child from his or her home or to safely return the child home should not be part of the permanency plan of care for the child, reasonable efforts shall be made to place the child in a timely manner and to complete whatever steps are necessary to finalize the permanent placement of the child.

(6) If there is insufficient information at the time of the disposition hearing upon which to base a determination regarding the suitability of a proposed placement with a relative, the child shall remain in foster care and the court shall direct the supervising agency to conduct necessary background investigations as provided in chapter 74.15 RCW and report the results of such investigation to the court within thirty days. However, if such relative appears otherwise suitable and competent to provide care and treatment, the criminal history background check need not be completed before placement, but as soon as possible after placement. Any placements with relatives, pursuant to this section, shall be contingent upon cooperation by the relative with the agency case plan and compliance with court orders related to the care and supervision of the child including, but not limited to, court orders regarding parent-child contacts and any other conditions imposed by the court. Noncompliance with the case plan or court order shall be grounds for removal of the child from the relative’s home, subject to review by the court.

(7) Except for children whose cases are reviewed by a citizen review board under chapter 13.70 RCW, the status of all children found to be dependent shall be reviewed by the court at least every six months from the beginning date of the placement episode or the date dependency is established, whichever is first, at a hearing in which it shall be determined whether court supervision should continue. The review shall include findings regarding the agency and parental completion of disposition plan requirements, and if necessary, revised permanency time limits. The supervising agency shall provide a foster parent, preadoptive parent, or relative with notice of, and their right to an opportunity to be heard in, a review hearing pertaining to the child, but only if that person is currently providing care to that child at the time of the hearing. This section shall not be construed to grant party status to any person who has been provided an opportunity to be heard.

(a) A child shall not be returned home at the review hearing unless the court finds that a reason for removal as set forth in this section no longer exists. The parents, guardian, or legal custodian shall report to the court the efforts they have made to correct the conditions which led to removal. If a child is returned, casework supervision shall continue for a period of six months, at which time there shall be a hearing on the need for continued intervention.

(b) If the child is not returned home, the court shall establish in writing:

(i) Whether reasonable services have been provided to or offered to the parties to facilitate reunion, specifying the services provided or offered;

(ii) Whether the child has been placed in the least-restrictive setting appropriate to the child’s needs, including whether consideration and preference has been given to placement with the child’s relatives;

(iii) Whether there is a continuing need for placement and whether the placement is appropriate;

(iv) Whether there has been compliance with the case plan by the child, the child’s parents, and the agency supervising the placement;

(v) Whether progress has been made toward correcting the problems that necessitated the child’s placement in out-of-home care;
Whether the parents have visited the child and any reasons why visitation has not occurred or has been infrequent;
(vii) Whether additional services are needed to facilitate the return of the child to the child's parents; if so, the court shall order that reasonable services be offered specifying such services; and
(viii) The projected date by which the child will be returned home or other permanent plan of care will be implemented.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected."

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Costa, the following title amendment was adopted:
On page 1, line 1 of the title, after "adoption;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "amending RCW 26.33.170; reenacting and amending RCW 13.34.130; and adding a new section to chapter 13.34 RCW."

On motion of Senator Costa, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1407, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1407, as amended by the Senate.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1407, as amended by the Senate, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 48; Nays, 0; Absent, 0; Excused, 1.

Excused: Senator Deccio - 1.

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1407, as amended by the Senate, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Franklin, Senator Prentice was excused.

SECOND READING

ENGROSSED SECOND SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 2085, by House Committee on Appropriations (originally sponsored by Representatives Quall, Talcott, Haigh, Carlson, Santos, Linville, Cox, Kessler, Morris, Murray, McDonald, O'Brien, Anderson, Thomas, Ogden, Poulsen, Rockefeller, Lovick, Kenney, Wolfe, Stensen, Schual-Berke, Tokuda, Ruderman, Keiser, Wood, Constantine and Lantz)

Creating programs addressing disruptive students in regular classrooms.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator McAuliffe moved that the following Committee on Education striking amendment be adopted:
Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that disruptive students can significantly impede effective teaching and learning in the classroom. Training in effective strategies for handling disruptive students will help principals, teachers, and other" staff gain additional skills to provide a classroom environment that is conducive to teaching and learning. Schools and school districts should be encouraged to provide staff with the training necessary to respond to disruptions effectively.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 28A.415 RCW to read as follows:

(1) To the extent funds are appropriated, the superintendent of public instruction shall conduct professional development institutes to provide opportunities for teachers, principals, and other school staff to learn effective research-based strategies for handling disruptive students. The institutes shall be conducted during the summer of 2000. The training institutes shall emphasize methods for handling disruptions in regular classrooms and how to design and implement alternative learning settings and programs that have been proven to be effective in providing for the educational needs of students who exhibit frequent and prolonged disruptive behavior when placed in a regular classroom setting.

(2) The superintendent may enter into contracts with public or private entities that provide training in effective research-based methods for dealing with disruptive students. In developing the institutes, the superintendent shall work with school staff who have had experience working effectively with disruptive students. The institutes shall be open to teams of teachers, principals, and other school staff from each school district choosing to participate. However, as a condition of participating in the institutes, school district teams shall be required to develop during or immediately following the institute a district plan for carrying out the purposes of this section. Elementary schools and junior high and middle schools in districts that send teams to participate in institutes conducted under this section are encouraged to formulate school building-level plans for addressing the educational needs of disruptive students and the needs of students and teachers in the regular classrooms for an orderly and disciplined environment that is optimally conducive to learning. Individual participants in the institutes shall agree to provide assistance as needed to other school staff in their school building or school district, consistent with their other normal duties.

(3) Beginning with the 1999-2000 school year, elementary and junior high schools are encouraged to provide staff from both the regular education and special education programs opportunities to work together to share successful practices for managing disruptive students.

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the Committee on Education striking amendment to Engrossed Second Substitute House Bill No. 2085. The motion by Senator McAuliffe carried and the committee striking amendment was adopted.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator McAuliffe, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 2 of the title, after “classrooms;” strike the remainder of the title and insert “adding a new section to chapter 28A.415 RCW; and creating a new section.”

On motion of Senator McAuliffe, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Second Substitute House Bill No. 2085, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Engrossed Second Substitute House Bill No. 2085, as amended by the Senate.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Second Substitute House Bill No. 2085, as amended by the Senate, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 45; Nays, 3; Absent, 0; Excused, 1.

Voting nay: Senators Hochstatter, Morton and Zarelli - 3.

Excused: Senator Prentice - 1.

ENGROSSED SECOND SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 2085, as amended by the Senate, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.
There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of Substitute House Bill No. 1935 and the pending amendment by Senators Benton, Deccio and Finkbeiner on page 1, line 33, to the Committee on Education striking amendment, deferred earlier today.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator McAuliffe to the scope and object of amendment by Senators Benton, Deccio and Finkbeiner on page 1, line 33, to the Committee on Education striking amendment, the President finds that Substitute House Bill No. 1935 is a measure which expands participation in the early childhood assistance program.

"The amendment by Senators Benton, Deccio and Finkbeiner would provide additional standards of accountability and priority in the expanded program.

"The President, therefore, finds that the amendment to the committee amendment does not change the scope and object of the bill and the point of order is not well taken."

The amendment by Senators Benton, Deccio and Finkbeiner on page 1, line 33, to the Committee on Education striking amendment to Substitute House Bill No. 1935 was ruled in order.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Betti Sheldon, further consideration of Substitute House Bill No. 1935 was deferred.

SECOND READING

HOUSE BILL NO. 1699, by Representatives Parlette, Cody, Schoesler, Barlean, Esser, Edmonds and Van Luven

Establishing continuing education for dentists.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Thibaudeau, the following Committee on Health and Long-Term Care striking amendment was adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 18.32.002 and 1994 sp.s. c 9 s 201 are each amended to read as follows:

The legislature finds that the health and well-being of the people of this state are of paramount importance.

The legislature further finds that the conduct of members of the dental profession licensed to practice dentistry in this state plays a vital role in preserving the health and well-being of the people of the state.

The legislature further finds that requiring continuing dental education for all licensed dentists in the state is an important component of providing high quality dentistry for the people of this state.

The legislature further finds that there is no effective means of handling disciplinary proceedings against members of the dental profession licensed in this state when such proceedings are necessary for the protection of the public health.

Therefore, the legislature declares its intention to exercise the police power of the state to protect the public health, to promote the welfare of the state, and to provide a commission to act as a disciplinary and regulatory body for the members of the dental profession licensed to practice dentistry in this state.

It is the purpose of the commission established in RCW 18.32.0351 to regulate the competency and quality of professional health care providers under its jurisdiction by establishing, monitoring, and enforcing qualifications for licensure, continuing education, consistent standards of practice, continuing competency mechanisms, and discipline. Rules, policies, and procedures developed by the commission must promote the delivery of quality health care to the residents of the state.

Sec. 2. RCW 18.32.0357 and 1994 sp.s. c 9 s 207 are each amended to read as follows:
The commission shall elect officers each year. Meetings of the commission are open to the public, except the commission may hold executive sessions to the extent permitted by chapter 42.30 RCW. The affirmative vote of a majority of a quorum of the commission is required to carry a motion or resolution, to adopt a rule, or to pass a measure.

The commission may appoint members of panels consisting of not less than three members. A quorum for transaction of any business shall be a minimum of three members. A majority vote of a quorum of the panel is required to transact business delegated to it by the commission.

The members of the commission are immune from suit in an action, civil or criminal, based upon its disciplinary proceedings or other official acts performed in good faith as members of the commission.

The commission may, whenever the workload of the commission requires, request that the secretary appoint pro tempore members. While serving as members pro tempore persons have all the powers, duties, and immunities, and are entitled to the emoluments, including travel expenses, of the commission.

The commission shall prepare or determine the nature of the examinations for applicants to practice dentistry.

The commission shall establish continuing dental education requirements.

The attorney general shall advise the commission and represent it in all legal proceedings.

Sec. 3. RCW 18.32.180 and 1996 c 191 s 16 are each amended to read as follows:

Every person licensed to practice dentistry in this state shall renew his or her license and comply with administrative procedures, administrative requirements, continuing education requirements, and fees as provided in RCW 43.70.250 and 43.70.280. The commission, in its sole discretion, may permit the applicant to be licensed without examination, and with or without conditions, if it is satisfied that the applicant meets all the requirements for licensure in this state and is competent to engage in the practice of dentistry.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. The continuing education requirements of RCW 18.32.180 apply to licenses renewed after July 1, 2001."

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Thibaudeau, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 1 of the title, after "dentists;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "amending RCW 18.32.002, 18.32.0357, and 18.32.180; and creating a new section."

On motion of Senator Thibaudeau, the rules were suspended, House Bill No. 1699, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of House Bill No. 1699, as amended by the Senate.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Johnson, the following amendment by Senators Johnson and Loveland was adopted:

On page 17, beginning on line 26, strike all of section 19 and insert the following:

"Sec. 19. RCW 83.100.020 and 1998 c 292 s 401 are each amended to read as follows:

As used in this chapter:

(1) "Decedent" means a deceased individual;
(2) "Department" means the department of revenue, the director of that department, or any employee of the department exercising authority lawfully delegated to him by the director;
(3) "Federal credit" means (a) for a transfer, the maximum amount of the credit for state taxes allowed by section 2011 of the Internal Revenue Code; and (b) for a generation-skipping transfer, the maximum amount of the credit for state taxes allowed by section 2604 of the Internal Revenue Code;"
(4) “Federal return” means any tax return required by chapter 11 or 13 of the Internal Revenue Code;
(5) “Federal tax” means (a) for a transfer, a tax under chapter 11 of the Internal Revenue Code; and (b) for a generation-skipping transfer, the tax under chapter 13 of the Internal Revenue Code;
(6) “Generation-skipping transfer” means a “generation-skipping transfer” as defined and used in section 2611 of the Internal Revenue Code;
(7) “Gross estate” means “gross estate” as defined and used in section 2031 of the Internal Revenue Code;
(8) “Nonresident” means a decedent who was domiciled outside Washington at his death;
(9) “Person” means any individual, estate, trust, receiver, cooperative association, club, corporation, company, firm, partnership, joint venture, syndicate, or other entity and, to the extent permitted by law, any federal, state, or other governmental unit or subdivision or agency, department, or instrumentality thereof;
(10) “Person required to file the federal return” means any person required to file a return required by chapter 11 or 13 of the Internal Revenue Code, such as the personal representative of an estate; or a transferor, trustee, or beneficiary of a generation-skipping transfer; or a qualified heir with respect to qualified real property, as defined and used in section 2032A(c) of the Internal Revenue Code;
(11) “Property” means (a) for a transfer, property included in the gross estate; and (b) for a generation-skipping transfer, all real and personal property subject to the federal tax;
(12) “Resident” means a decedent who was domiciled in Washington at time of death;
(13) “Transfer” means “transfer” as used in section 2001 of the Internal Revenue Code, or a disposition or cessation of qualified use as defined and used in section 2032A(c) of the Internal Revenue Code;
(14) “Trust” means “trust” under Washington law and any arrangement described in section 2652 of the Internal Revenue Code; and
(15) “Internal Revenue Code” means, for the purposes of this chapter and RCW 83.110.010, the United States Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended or renumbered on January 1, 1999.

Sec. 20. RCW 11.02.005 and 1998 c 292 s 117 are each amended to read as follows:

When used in this title, unless otherwise required from the context:

(1) “Personal representative” includes executor, administrator, special administrator, and guardian or limited guardian and special representative.
(2) “Net estate” refers to the real and personal property of a decedent exclusive of homestead rights, exempt property, the family allowance and enforceable claims against, and debts of, the deceased or the estate.
(3) “Representation” refers to a method of determining distribution in which the takers are in unequal degrees of kinship with respect to the intestate, and is accomplished as follows: After first determining who, of those entitled to share in the estate, are in the nearest degree of kinship, the estate is divided into equal shares, the number of shares being the sum of the number of persons who survive the intestate who are in the nearest degree of kinship and the number of persons in the same degree of kinship who died before the intestate but who left issue surviving the intestate; each share of a deceased person in the nearest degree shall be divided among those of the deceased person's issue who survive the intestate and have no ancestor then living who is in the line of relationship between them and the intestate, those more remote in degree taking together the share which their ancestor would have taken had he or she survived the intestate. Posthumous children are considered as living at the death of their parent.
(4) “Issue” includes all the lawful lineal descendants of the ancestor and all lawfully adopted children.
(5) “Degree of kinship” means the degree of kinship as computed according to the rules of the civil law; that is, by counting upward from the intestate to the nearest common ancestor and then downward to the relative, the degree of kinship being the sum of these two counts.
(6) “Heirs” denotes those persons, including the surviving spouse, who are entitled under the statutes of intestate succession to the real and personal property of a decedent on the decedent's death intestate.
(7) “Real estate” includes, except as otherwise specifically provided herein, all lands, tenements, and hereditaments, and all rights thereto, and all interest therein possessed and claimed in fee simple, or for the life of a third person.
(9) “Codicil” means a will that modifies or partially revokes an existing earlier will. A codicil need not refer to or be attached to the earlier will.
(10) “Guardian” or “limited guardian” means a personal representative of the person or estate of an incompetent or disabled person as defined in RCW 11.88.010 and the term may be used in lieu of “personal representative” wherever required by context.
(11) “Administrator” means a personal representative of the estate of a decedent and the term may be used in lieu of “personal representative” wherever required by context.
"Executor" means a personal representative of the estate of a decedent appointed by will and the term may be used in lieu of "personal representative" wherever required by context.

"Special administrator" means a personal representative of the estate of a decedent appointed for limited purposes and the term may be used in lieu of "personal representative" wherever required by context.

"Trustee" means an original, added, or successor trustee and includes the state, or any agency thereof, when it is acting as the trustee of a trust to which chapter 11.98 RCW applies.

"Nonprobate asset" means those rights and interests of a person having beneficial ownership of an asset that pass on the person's death under a written instrument or arrangement other than the person's will. "Nonprobate asset" includes, but is not limited to, a right or interest passing under a joint tenancy with right of survivorship, joint bank account with right of survivorship, payable on death or trust bank account, transfer on death security or security account, deed or conveyance if possession has been postponed until the death of the person, trust of which the person is grantor and that becomes effective or irrevocable only upon the person's death, community property agreement, individual retirement account or bond, or note or other contract the payment or performance of which is affected by the death of the person. "Nonprobate asset" does not include: A payable-on-death provision of a life insurance policy, annuity, or other similar contract, or of an employee benefit plan; a right or interest passing by descent and distribution under chapter 11.04 RCW; a right or interest if, before death, the person has irrevocably transferred the right or interest, the person has waived the power to transfer it or, in the case of contractual arrangement, the person has waived the unilateral right to rescind or modify the arrangement; or a right or interest held by the person solely in a fiduciary capacity. For the definition of "nonprobate asset" relating to revocation of a provision for a former spouse upon dissolution of marriage or declaration of invalidity of marriage, RCW 11.07.010(5) applies. For the definition of "nonprobate asset" relating to revocation of a provision for a former spouse upon dissolution of marriage or declaration of invalidity of marriage, see RCW 11.07.010(5). For the definition of "nonprobate asset" relating to testamentary disposition of nonprobate assets, see RCW 11.11.010(7).

"Internal Revenue Code" means the United States Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended or renumbered on January 1, 1999.

Words that import the singular number may also be applied to the plural of persons and things. Words importing the masculine gender only may be extended to females also.

"INTENT

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. INTENT. The legislature finds that the purpose of Washington's accountability system is to improve student learning and student achievement of the essential academic learning requirement standards so that each individual student will be given the opportunity to become a responsible citizen and successfully live, learn, and work in the twenty-first century. To achieve this purpose, the accountability system should be based on continuous improvement at all levels of Washington's education system and on a fundamental principle that all students have access to curriculum and instruction that is aligned to the standards.

The legislature further finds that the accountability system should rely on local responsibility and leadership. Districts and schools should be expected to improve and be evaluated based on their improvement over time. Districts should recognize exceptional progress and work closely with struggling schools. The state should provide technical assistance and expertise where needed.

The legislature further finds that the accountability system must be simple to use and understand. Consequences must be predictable and fair. Differences among students, schools, and districts should be recognized and respected as the system is implemented. There should be a balance of each student's right to privacy and the public's right to know the overall levels of learning and achievement at the school, district, and state levels. In addition, the accountability system should be continuously reviewed and improved as more is learned about how schools operate to meet the learning needs of Washington's students.

PART 1

OVERSIGHT OF THE ACCOUNTABILITY SYSTEM

NEW SECTION. Sec. 101. COMPOSITION OF THE COMMISSION. (1) The Washington commission on academic achievement is hereby established. The primary purpose of the commission is to provide oversight of the accountability system.

(2) The commission shall include one member of the state board of education, the superintendent of public instruction, and seven members appointed by the governor. All appointments shall be made by July 1, 1999. The governor shall appoint a chair from the commission members, and fill any vacancies in gubernatorial appointments that may occur. Gubernatorial and state board appointees shall serve for a term of four years. However, four of the initial seven gubernatorial appointments and the state board appointee shall serve two-year terms. Appointees may be reappointed to serve more than one term. The state board of education shall fill any vacancies of the state board of education appointment that may occur. Of the appointments made by the governor, one shall be from a list of names submitted by the superintendent of public instruction. In making the appointments, educators, business leaders, and parents shall be represented, and nominations from state-wide education, business, and parent organizations shall be requested. Efforts shall be made to ensure that the commission reflects the racial and ethnic diversity of the state's K-12 student population and that the major geographic regions in the state are represented. Appointees shall be qualified individuals who are supportive of educational improvement and accountability, who have a positive record of service, and who will devote sufficient time to the responsibilities of the commission to ensure that the objectives of the commission are achieved.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 102. DUTIES OF THE COMMISSION. (1) For purposes of state-wide accountability, the commission shall:

(a) Establish goals for other content and grade levels as the commission deems appropriate to improve student learning when assessments in the other content areas and other grade levels are required to be administered state-wide. In setting high school goals, the commission shall consider the percent of students achieving a certificate of mastery and a reduction in dropout rates. The commission may revise the state-wide accountability goals as necessary;
(b) Develop criteria for deciding when it is appropriate for the commission to make recommendations to the superintendent about interventions, assistance, and recognition;
(c) Review data and make recommendations to the superintendent of public instruction about school districts requiring school assistance, recognition, and intervention;
(d) Submit recommendations to the superintendent of public instruction about appropriate interventions, assistance, and recognition;
(e) Annually review the reporting system to ensure fairness, accuracy, timeliness, and equity of opportunity, especially with regard to schools with special circumstances and unique populations of students, and recommend to the superintendent of public instruction needed improvements;

(f) Hear concerns about interventions;

(g) Recommend changes to the superintendent and the legislature regarding accountability policy and legislation, as necessary;

(h) Report annually by December 1st to the legislature, the governor, the superintendent of public instruction, and the state board of education on the progress, findings, and recommendations of the commission;

(i) By December 1, 2000, and by December 31st annually thereafter, report to the education committees of the house of representatives and the senate on the progress that has been made in achieving the reading goal, and on the setting of goals and progress in achieving goals in the other content areas and at other grade levels; and

(j) Make recommendations to the legislature and take other actions necessary or desirable to help students meet the student learning goals.

(2) The commission shall coordinate its activities with the state board of education and the office of the superintendent of public instruction.

(3) The commission shall seek advice broadly from the public and all interested educational organizations in the conduct of its work, including holding periodic regional public hearings.

(4) The commission may hire an executive director and staff to perform the duties in support of the activities of the commission. The office of the superintendent of public instruction shall provide administrative oversight and be the fiscal agent for the commission. The commission may direct the office of the superintendent of public instruction to enter into subcontracts, within the commission's resources, with school districts, teachers, higher education faculty, state agencies, business organizations, and other individuals and organizations to assist the commission in its deliberations.

(5) The commission may adopt rules as necessary to carry out its duties.

(6) Members of the commission shall be reimbursed for per diem and travel expenses as provided in RCW 43.03.050 and 43.03.060.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 103. RECOGNITION. (1) The commission on academic achievement annually shall make recommendations to the superintendent of public instruction on school districts and schools that should be recognized based on the results of the Washington assessment of student learning. The commission shall develop the criteria for selecting districts and schools for recognition. Recognition shall be given to schools and school districts that have achieved exceptional growth:

(a) As measured by an increase in the percent of students meeting standards. The level of achievement required for recognition shall be based on the achievement goals established by the legislature and the commission on academic achievement under RCW 28A.630.887 (as recodified by this act);

(b) As measured by an improvement index that measures improvement in all levels of the assessment; and

(c) Despite challenges such as high levels of mobility, poverty, English as a second language learners, and large numbers of students in special populations as measured by either the percent of students meeting the standard, or the improvement index.

(2) When determining the baseline year or years for recognizing individual schools, the commission may use the assessment results from the initial years the assessments were administered, if doing so with individual schools would be appropriate.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 104. INTERVENTION. (1) Improved student learning depends on the initiative of educators, parents, and students in each school, the school's local community, and state support. Schools should take responsibility for their own improvement while also having access to assistance from school districts, educational service districts, and the state.

(2) School districts have primary responsibility for intervening in schools with large numbers of students who are not achieving the essential academic learning requirements. In some cases, school district intervention may not prove successful. Beginning in the 2001-02 school year, continuing levels of low achievement in elementary schools in which there is little or no improvement shall trigger an evaluation by the commission on academic achievement. The purpose of the evaluation is to decide whether to initiate additional state-level assistance. For middle and high schools, the evaluation shall occur three years after assessments are required state-wide. When making recommendations to the superintendent of public instruction regarding additional state-level assistance, the commission on academic achievement shall use multiple sources of information including:

(a) The results of the Washington assessment of student learning;

(b) Student achievement evidence from district or other state assessments;

(c) The level of improvement in student achievement over time;

(d) Student mobility and poverty;

(e) Attendance and dropout rates;
(f) Graduation rates and posthigh school indicators;
(g) Percent of students in special programs; and
(h) Other factors presented by individual districts or schools.

(3) If the commission on academic achievement, after considering the factors in subsection (2) of this section, finds that the district's efforts have failed to improve student achievement over a reasonable period of time, the commission may recommend to the superintendent of public instruction that the superintendent intervene in the school district. The superintendent of public instruction may intervene in the school district and take appropriate corrective actions.

PART 2
ACCOUNTABILITY GOALS

Sec. 201. RCW 28A.630.887 and 1998 c 319 s 101 are each amended to read as follows:

((4))) By December 15, 1998, each school district board of directors shall:

((e))) (1) Select the reading standard results on either the 1997 or 1998 fourth grade Washington assessment of student learning as the school district's initial baseline reading standard. Districts may select the 1997 results only if all of the elementary schools with fourth grade students administered the assessment;

((d))) (2) Establish a three-year, district-wide goal to increase, by the end of the 2000-01 school year, the percentage of students who meet or exceed the reading standard on the fourth grade Washington assessment of student learning. The ((three-year)) 2000-01 percentage increase goal may not be less than the district's total percentage of students who did not meet the baseline reading standard multiplied by twenty-five percent;

((c))) (3) Specify the annual district-wide percentage improvement increments to meet the ((three-year)) 2000-01 goal; and

((b))) (4) Direct each elementary school to establish a three-year goal for its fourth grade students, subject to approval by the board. The aggregate of the elementary school goals must meet or exceed the district-wide goals established by the board.

((2) Each school district board of directors shall:

(a) Report biannually to parents in writing and to the community in a public meeting the following information:

(i) District-wide and school-level three-year goals;

(ii) Student performance relative to the goals; and

(iii) District-wide and school-level plans to achieve the reading goal in kindergarten through fourth grade, including grade-level expectations, curriculum and instruction, parental or guardian involvement, and resources available to parents and guardians to help students meet the reading standard;

(b) Report annually to the superintendent of public instruction and in a news release to the local media the district's progress toward meeting the district-wide and school-level goals; and

(c) Include the reported information in each school's annual school performance report under RCW 28A.320.205.

(3) By December 1, 2000, the superintendent of public instruction shall report to the education committees of the house of representatives and the senate on the progress that has been made in achieving the three-year reading goal, and provide recommendations to the legislature on setting reading goals for the next three years.

(4) This section expires July 1, 2006.))

PART 3
REPORTING RESULTS

Sec. 301. RCW 28A.630.889 and 1998 c 319 s 301 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) By September 10, 1998, and by September 10th each year thereafter, the superintendent of public instruction shall:

(a) Report to the public, schools, school districts, and the legislature on the results of the ((fourth grade)) Washington assessment of student learning; and

(b) Post individual school results of the ((fourth grade)) Washington assessment of student learning on the superintendent of public instruction's internet world-wide web site.

(2) The reports shall include the assessment results by school and school district, and include changes over time. Results shall be reported in two ways:

(a) The percent of students meeting the standards; and

(b) A learning improvement index that shows changes in student performance within the different levels of student learning reported on the Washington assessment of student learning.
