JOURNAL OF THE SENATE
1999 REGULAR SESSION
STATE OF WASHINGTON
FIFTY-SIXTH LEGISLATURE

FIRST DAY
- - - - -
NOON SESSION
- - - - -

Senate Chamber, Olympia, Monday, January 11, 1999

At 12:00 noon, pursuant to law, the Senate of the 1999 Regular Session of the Fifty-sixth Legislature of the state of Washington assembled in the Senate Chamber at the State Capitol. Lieutenant Governor Brad Owen, President of the Senate, called the Senate to order.

The President led the Senate in the Pledge of Allegiance.

Reverend Lance Williamson, pastor of the Evergreen Presbyterian Church in Graham, Washington, offered the prayer.

INTRODUCTION OF LAKEFAIR QUEEN

The President welcomed and introduced Nikki Chow, the 1998-1999 Lakefair Queen, who was seated on the rostrum. With permission of the Senate, business was suspended for Queen Nikki to welcome the Senators to Olympia.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following letters of resignation, appointment and oaths of office were received during the 1998 Interim:

LETTER OF RESIGNATION

WASHINGTON STATE SENATE
Senator Ann Anderson
42nd Legislative District

September 11, 1998

Mike O'Connell
Secretary of the Senate
P.O. Box 40482
Olympia, WA 98504

Dear Mike:

This correspondence is to notify you of my formal resignation from my 42nd District Senate Seat that will be effective as of September 15, 1998.

As you may know by now, Governor Locke has appointed me to the Tax Appeals Board. As a criteria for serving, no member of that board can concurrently hold another elected office. Hence my notice of resignation.

Obviously it is with some sadness that I submit this letter after serving in the Senate for twelve years. However, I am looking forward to the challenge of serving on the Tax Appeals Board, not to mention the less stress associated with the job.
Sincerely,

ANN ANDERSON, State Senator, 42nd Legislative District

CERTIFICATE OF APPOINTMENT
WHATCOM COUNTY COUNCIL

The Whatcom County Council voted at their regular Council Meeting of November 10, 1998, to appoint Mr. Joe Elenbaas to fill the Washington State Senate position in the 42nd District vacated by Ann Anderson's resignation until the newly-elected member takes office. The vote was 4-3 in favor with Dawson opposed, and Sutter and Imhof abstaining.

MARINA ENGELS, Deputy Clerk of the Council

EDITOR'S NOTE: After being appointed by the Whatcom County Office to fill the unexpired term of Senator Ann Anderson, Joe Elenbaas took the oath of office for State Senator for the 42nd Legislative District.

OATH OF OFFICE FOR UNEXPIRED TERM
OATH OF SENATOR FOR THE STATE OF WASHINGTON
42nd LEGISLATIVE DISTRICT

I, JOE ELENBAAS, do solemnly swear that I will uphold the Constitution and Laws of the United States of America, the Constitution and Laws of the state of Washington, and the rules of the Washington State Senate, and that I will faithfully perform the duties of State Senator to the best of my ability, so help me God.

SENATOR JOSEPH ELENBAAS

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 12th day of November, 1998

SHIRLEY FORSLOF
WHATCOM COUNTY AUDITOR

EDITOR'S NOTE: After the returns of the general election of November 3, 1998, were certified, Georgia Gardner took the oath of office to fill the unexpired term of State Senator for the 42nd Legislative District.

ELECTION OF PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

The President declared nominations to be open for President Pro Tempore of the Senate.

REMARKS BY SENATOR SNYDER

Senator Snyder: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, it is with a great deal of pride that I place the name of Lorraine Wojahn as President Pro Tempore of the Washington State Senate. It is with all sincerity that I say it is an honor and a privilege to be able to place in nomination the name of Senator Lorraine Wojahn as President Pro Tempore. She has had experience in the job; she held this position for two years. She has a toughness in her presiding; she has good sense and a grasp of the rules of the Washington State Senate and the Constitution. Her rulings on scope and object have always been fair and to the point.

"Also, as Justice Talmadge knows, she gained a name, which probably fits her very well--she is known as the 'Norse Goddess of Terror' in these Chambers. I really think she will serve us all very well in the position of President Pro Tempore when she presides in the absence of our Lieutenant Governor. Thank you."
REMARKS BY SENATOR WINSLEY

Senator Winsley: "Thank you, Mr. President. In the spirit of bi-partisanship, it gives me the honor to rise and second the nomination of Senator Wojahn as President Pro Tempore. Senator Wojahn is a member of that prestigious delegation from Pierce County—the twenty seventh district. Senator Wojahn has served as a member of this institution for a number of years and always it is with fairness and respect and I know that she will continue to serve us in that manner. Senator Wojahn, herself, is an institution and for certain she has a vast institutional memory obtained from many years of service.

"This weekend, I was reading that on December fifth, Senator Strom Thurmond was reelected for his sixth term as President Pro Tempore of the United States Senate at the age of ninety-six. I soon figured out that he was old enough to be Senator Wojahn's father and I thought that Senator Wojahn is just a youngster and she can serve in this Senate for at least twenty more years—and we are all looking forward to it. Thank you and I guess I said it was an honor to place her name in nomination for President Pro Tempore."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Betti Sheldon, the nominations for President Pro Tempore were closed.

ROLL CALL

APPOINTMENT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The President appointed Senators Spanel and Hale as a committee of honor to escort Senator Wojahn to the rostrum. Justice Phil Talmadge administered the oath of office to Senator Wojahn. The President introduced President Pro Tempore of the Washington State Senate, Senator R. Lorraine Wojahn.

REMARKS BY SENATOR WOJAHN

Senator Wojahn: "I didn't think the Lieutenant Governor would give up the podium. I am surprised and I thank you very much. I want to thank you for your support. I hope that we can join together in the problems of the people in the state of Washington to come to resolutions that will be a credit to both of us—both parties. I think that we can do this; I think that we have every hope of doing the things that are needed. Certainly, there are many, many things that are needed and there is not enough money to do everything. It is going to be a tough session, but I think we can do it with your cooperation and certainly with mine, we will accomplish what we intend to do and go home and making ourselves, at least, welcome back in our districts after the session. Thank you very much."

The committee of honor escorted President Pro Tempore Wojahn to her seat in the Senate Chamber and the committee was discharged.

ELECTION OF VICE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

REMARKS BY SENATOR BETTI SHELDON

Senator Betti Sheldon: "Thank you, Mr. President, I would like to place in nomination for the office of Vice President Pro Tempore of the Senate the name of Senator Al Bauer. I think our Senate is very fortunate because we have a couple of individuals here who have served our state very long terms and very well. Senator Bauer has served in the Legislature for over twenty-eight years. During that time, he has held a number of leadership positions, including the one for which he is now nominated. It is with a great deal of pleasure that I place his name in nomination. He is an outstanding individual and a fair-minded and experienced legislator. I hope you will support him. Thank you."

REMARKS BY SENATOR JACOBSEN

Senator Jacobsen: "Thank you, Mr. President. It is a pleasure and an honor that I rise to second the nomination of Senator Bauer. I have had the pleasure of knowing Senator Bauer for twenty years--we served as counterparts on the higher education committee. I know in Al's life, I think that he represents, in a lot of ways, the American Century--the journey from Lewiston, Montana, to Oregon. He defended democracy during World War II and afterwards he took advantage of the GI Bill to get a Masters in Education and a minor in Poly Si. He also stood for a love of democracy. When he decided to practice his minor and joined the Washington State Legislature in 1971--and I would say that he has mastered this institution and would make an outstanding Vice President Pro Tempore of the Senate. I urge everybody to endorse Senator Bauer."

REMARKS BY SENATOR SELRAR

Senator Sellar: "Thank you, Mr. President. I would just like to take this opportunity to second that nomination. I have worked with Senator Bauer on a number of things and I think he brings the fairness to the podium of both our Lieutenant Governor and Senator Wojahn and it will be a great compliment to the rostrum."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Betti Sheldon, the nominations for Vice President Pro Tempore were closed.

ROLL CALL

The Acting Secretary called the roll and Senator Bauer was elected Vice President Pro Tempore: Bauer, 48;

APPOINTMENT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The President appointed Senators Shin and Winsley as a committee of honor to escort Senator Bauer to the rostrum. Justice Phil Talmadge administered the oath of office to Senator Bauer. The President introduced Senator Al Bauer as Vice President Pro Tempore of the Washington State Senate.

REMARKS BY SENATOR AL BAUER

Senator Bauer: "Thank you very much. If this spirit that we have here today of cooperation and good will continues through this session, the public will be served well and appreciate that they did not make any mistakes in whom they elected to represent them here in the Senate."

The committee of honor escorted Vice President Pro Tempore Bauer to his seat in the Senate Chamber and the committee was discharged.

ELECTION OF SECRETARY OF THE SENATE

The President declared nominations to be open for Secretary of the Senate.

REMARKS BY SENATOR SNYDER
Senator Snyder: "I would like to place the name of Tony Cook in nomination for Secretary of the Senate. Thank you, Mr. President. I am really blessed today to be able to place the name of Senator Wojahn as President Pro Tempore and also to nominate Tony Cook for Secretary of the Senate. I am sure Tony will join that long list of Secretaries of the Senate that have performed so well--going back at least ten years, since my tenure.

Tony has been associated with the Legislature and state government since 1973. Right after he graduated from Stanford University, he served here; he worked at the University of Washington later on. When Senator Bob Bailey was appointed to the Utilities and Transportation Commission, Tony spent several years on their staff. He rejoined us first as Senate caucus staff and then later on, he was one of the Senate attorneys and in recent years, he has been serving as the attorney for the Ethics Committee.

"I think we will all be well-served with Tony in this capacity, as we have with his two predecessors or three predecessors. We are looking forward to the same usual treatment that all members are created equal in the mind of the Secretary of the Senate and I know Tony will carry on that tradition very well. Again, I am duly honored to be able to place Tony's name in nomination for Secretary of the Senate."

REMARKS BY PRESIDENT OWEN

President Owen: "Senator Snyder has moved the nomination of Tony Cook as Secretary of the Senate. I might add and just say Senator Snyder that you are modest. We know that the standard for the Secretary of the Senate was set by the number of years that you graciously served this institution as Secretary of the Senate."

REMARKS BY SENATOR McCASLIN

Senator McCaslin: "Ladies and gentlemen of the Senate, I am honored to second the nomination of Tony Cook. First, Senator Snyder said everything that I was going to say and what he missed the President said. I could say an awful lot of good things about Tony, but this is only a hundred and five day session, so we will get along. You didn't mention that he graduated with honors from Stanford--undergraduate. I don't know what he did as a Juris Doctor, but, Tony, I am going to give you the highest honors for that.

"When I first met Tony back in the eighties, when we had a water problem in my district, and we wanted to go from a private water company to a public water company, Tony came down and did a fantastic job. I consider him a close personal friend today, so I am prejudiced, but I know he will be an excellent--an excellent--Secretary of the Senate, as was Sid Snyder. I know how to butter up to the majority leader."

REMARKS BY SENATOR HARGROVE

Senator Hargrove: "I know I am leaving the script here, but we have had one famous nickname for Senator Wojahn that was given. I just wanted everyone to know that Tony Cook is known as 'Dr. No.' I am a little apprehensive about that, but nonetheless, I think he will do a good job."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Betti Sheldon, the nominations for Secretary of the Senate were closed.

ROLL CALL

The committee of honor escorted Secretary of the Senate Tony Cook to his seat on the rostrum and the committee was discharged.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Snyder: "A point of personal privilege, please. Mr. President and members of the Senate, I just wanted to personally thank Mike O'Connell. I know that I speak on behalf of all the members in our caucus and the entire Senate on what a magnificent and fair job he has done as serving as Secretary of the Senate. We always felt we were treated fair on the Democrat side of the aisle; I know you put a big effort into doing your very best--and you did your very best and it certainly did show with all the kindnesses and decisions that you made during your tenure as Secretary of the Senate.

"Just to continue, I also want to mention the fact that--he is not here today, he is retired--the wonderful job of Senator Newhouse and Senator Morton in their positions as President Pro Tempore and Vice President Pro Tempore. I thought we were always treated in a very, very fair manner. I only need to stand once, but we will be also electing a new Sergeant at Arms in a moment and the same words that I have used for the other three certainly goes to the Sergeant at Arms, Denny Lewis.

"Thanks to all of you four people."

ELECTION OF SERGEANT AT ARMS

The President declared nominations to be open for Sergeant at Arms of the Senate.

REMARKS BY SENATOR BAUER

Senator Bauer: "Thank you, Mr. President. It is my pleasure and honor to place in nomination for Sergeant at Arms of the Senate, Gene Gotovac as Sergeant at Arms of the Senate. Gene came here about fifteen years ago. When John Cherberg, President of the Senate--the late John Cherberg--realized his talents, he hired him. Gene has been very accommodating, over the past fifteen years, to Senate needs and wishes and has the respect of everyone in this body, I am sure. In addition to that, he has a talent of knowing where the clams are in the spring and he can advise you accordingly. I urge your support."

REMARKS BY SENATOR HALE

Senator Hale: "Thank you, Mr. President. It is a pleasure for me to second the nomination of Gene Gotovac as Sergeant at Arms. As Senator Bauer pointed out, Gene has served the Senate for more than fifteen years. He has a deep love for this institution and I have every confidence that he will serve again with distinction."

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Snyder: "A point of personal privilege, Mr. President. You know, this has been a lovely first day and it has been all love and kisses. We had sensitivity training last week and we all gained a lot from that. Senator McDonald stood up during the middle of it and said to me, 'I love you man,' and I took it very seriously, but he was a little annoyed when he went to leave and I said 'Good riddance'--no, I didn't either. I do seriously want to say that I think that my motto for this session is going to be civility, moderation and cooperation, but I don't want cooperation to be taken for capitulation, but I think that the message the voters sent us this last fall was--they wanted us to come to Olympia and forget about partisan politics as much as possible and try to get in and work hard and try to do what is good for the citizens and the public of the state of Washington. I certainly pledge to do that. I know we will have our disagreements, but I go back to the old saying that 'We can certainly have our disagreements without being disagreeable.'

"A couple of other things come to mind that I think maybe apply--that I have heard--they are old sayings and one of them is--especially in this business you want to be careful--because The fanny you kick today may be the fanny you have to kiss next week.’ You know, we also get to thinking that we are pretty important around here and another old saying that comes to mind is ‘We’re peacocks today, but feather dusters tomorrow.’”

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McDonald: “Mr. President and fellow members of the Senate. I do think it has been a good start and I expect it to be a good session. I have said that during this time that I have been in the Legislature--I have nine years in the minority, nine years in the majority and two in the co-majority. I remember the first two years I was here, it was Minnesota and Washington State--both had ties in the House. In Minnesota, there was an absolute melt-down and in the state of Washington, I think everybody looked at it as a relatively productive session.

“I think, we too, have a strong tradition of making that work. I agree with Senator Snyder that cooperation and bipartisanship doesn't mean that you don't have disagreements on issues of principal. I think you can do that in a way--and we intend to do that in a way that is not personal and it is simply about the issue and to keep that to a minimum. I look forward--very much forward--for a very productive session and I appreciate Senator Snyder's kind words and wisdom--which I will not try to match, I will guarantee you--particularly that one story.”

MOTION

On motion of Senator Betti Sheldon, the Senate reverted to the fourth order of business.

VETOED BILLS

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
VETO MESSAGE ON SECOND ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 5185

March 31, 1998

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Second Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5185 entitled:
"AN ACT Relating to growth management hearings boards;"

Second Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5185 would substantially weaken the authority of the Growth Management Hearings Boards. Among other provisions, the bill would prohibit the Boards from determining the validity and invalidity of city or county comprehensive plans or development regulations. These changes would effectively take the accountability out of complying with the Growth Management Act.

This bill would also lead to citizens, organizations, and government agencies going to the courts to resolve major disagreements about implementation of the Growth Management Act. It would replace an efficient dispute resolution system with a process that relies on our overburdened court system.

For these reasons, I have vetoed Second Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5185 in its entirety.

Respectfully submitted,

GARY LOCKE, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
VETO MESSAGE ON SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5309

April 3, 1998

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5309 entitled:
"AN ACT Relating to excise tax exemptions related to horses;"

Substitute Senate Bill No. 5309 would exempt the wholesale sale and retail sale of all horses, and the services of boarding and breeding of all horses from the business and occupation tax. The bill would also exempt all horse feed from the retail sales tax.

Today most horses are not owned by farmers or used for agricultural purposes; they are pets or hobbies. Horses used for agricultural purposes or raised as an agricultural product already receive tax breaks. The tax breaks that would be provided by Substitute Senate Bill No. 5309 would mainly help those people in our state who are most able to pay the taxes. Nationally, more than 60 percent of horse owners have a median household income in excess of the median household income in Washington.
Many of the tax exemptions in Substitute Senate Bill No. 5309 would represent a significant departure from current law, and would set a bad precedent. It would be difficult to justify not giving other pet owners similar tax breaks.

For these reasons, I have vetoed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5309 in its entirety.

Respectfully submitted,

GARY LOCKE, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
VETO MESSAGE ON ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5527

March 31, 1998

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5527 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to incentives for water-efficient irrigation systems;"

Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5527 would allow water right holders who conserve water through the use of efficient irrigation techniques to apply that water to new parcels of land, or sell or lease it to others, including the state.

A water right has specific parameters limiting the amount of water, the land on which, and purpose for which it may be used. Those parameters protect the public's interest by ensuring that only the necessary amount of water is used, leaving excess water available for other important uses, after the needs of the water rights holder have been met.

We do not have enough water available in Washington to meet all of our needs. The state has a compelling interest in assuring that water is allocated fairly among different uses, such as increasing in-stream flows for fish. This is an especially important issue today when many streams are over-allocated and have inadequate flows for fish that have been, or may soon be, listed under the federal Endangered Species Act. If we do not take steps to protect fish, the federal government will do it for us, including federal limitations on our water use.

During the interim I will ask the Joint Natural Resource Cabinet to develop a proposal for the next legislative session that will provide an equitable way to allocate conserved water between off-stream and in-stream uses, and that provides incentive for irrigators to conserve. Water allocation issues should also be resolved collaboratively through watershed planning efforts.

For these reasons, I have vetoed Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5527 in its entirety.

Respectfully submitted,

GARY LOCKE, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
VETO MESSAGE ON ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5703

April 2, 1998

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5703 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to granting water rights;"

This bill would allow a person using water without a water right to continue using that water on an interim basis, until a court adjudicates the water right, or the Department of Ecology grants a water right based upon the completion of a watershed management plan. Where no planning is occurring, the Department of Ecology would retain authority to act on a water right application.

I vetoed similar legislation last year because it allowed continued interim use of non-permitted water, with a strong predisposition that such use be transformed into a permanent water right. This bill would have set up a separate, parallel track for the issuance of water rights and would have been unfair to the tens of thousands of individuals, farmers, companies, local governments and utilities who have complied with the law for obtaining a water right.
I recognize the economic concerns of those who use non-permitted water, and my administration recommended very specific conditions that could make the use of non-permitted water on an interim basis acceptable. However, several of those conditions were not accepted by the Legislature.

For these reasons, I have vetoed Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5703 in its entirety.

Respectfully submitted,

GARY LOCKE, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
VETO MESSAGE ON SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6396

April 3, 1998

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Substitute Senate Bill No. 6396 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to the Washington center for real estate research;"

Substitute Senate Bill No. 6396 would codify the Washington Center for Real Estate Research in the Washington State University College of Business and Economics. This Center has been in existence since 1989 without statutory mention, and I do not think it should be codified now. I support the Center and the good work of real estate professionals, which have had a very positive impact on the economic health of our state. However, I have a fundamental disagreement with the establishment of programs or centers at our higher education institutions by statute.

I am not opposed to generating funding for the Center through a fee on real estate licenses, and I am certainly not opposed to the Center. But the funding should be directed to the Center through a mechanism that does not create the Center in statute.

For this reason, I have vetoed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6396 in its entirety.

Respectfully submitted,

GARY LOCKE, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
VETO MESSAGE ON ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6497

April 2, 1998

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6497 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to the taking of private property;"

Under current law the Attorney General has adopted guidelines for use by state agencies and local governments in evaluating whether proposed actions constitute an unconstitutional taking of private property, when they are planning under the Growth Management Act (GMA). Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6497 would require state agencies and local governments to address the Attorney General's guidelines and make written findings and conclusions as to whether a proposed action may result in an unconstitutional taking. State and local governments are already required to comply with the state and federal constitutions and are subject to judicial correction if their actions result in unconstitutional takings.

Though well intended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6497 would impose unreasonable administrative obligations on local and state governments and imply significant additional legal costs. In return it would make no improvement in the protection of private property rights.

Addressing the fundamental importance of property rights under the GMA remains very important to me. I remain committed, however, to supporting efficient and effective administration of land use law by local and state governments. Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6497 does not create better decision-making or more sophisticated constitutional analysis.

For these reasons, I have vetoed Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6497 in its entirety.
MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
VETO MESSAGE ON SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6545

March 25, 1998

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Substitute Senate Bill No. 6545 entitled:
"AN ACT Relating to treatment programs for impaired physicians;"
Substitute Senate Bill No. 6545 is identical to Second Substitute House Bill No. 1618, which I signed today.
For this reason, I have vetoed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6545 in its entirety.

Respectfully submitted,
GARY LOCKE, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
VETO MESSAGE ON SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6574

March 31, 1998

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Substitute Senate Bill No. 6574 entitled:
"AN ACT Relating to the learning materials loan program;"
Substitute Senate Bill No. 6574 would require local school districts to make a "good faith effort" to accommodate annual loan requests from any state-approved private religious or nonsectarian school for current textbooks and workbooks on the district's adoption list. This bill, which does not define "good faith effort" and for which there is no appropriation, would likely place a financial hardship on school districts — especially those with disproportionate numbers of private schools.

Last year, I signed House Bill No. 1367, enabling public schools to loan surplus educational materials to private nonreligious, nonsectarian schools where previously they were available solely for purchase, rent, or lease. Accordingly, these private schools already have access to public school materials in a way that does not unduly jeopardize the adequacy of education programs for public school children. Washington state funds K-12 public education based on public school enrollment, not private school enrollment. This bill would have a financial impact on public education, yet is not accompanied by any commensurate change in the state school finance system.

This bill also conflicts with our state constitution by directing state funds to private religious schools. The Washington Constitution clearly states that "the entire revenue derived from the common school fund and the state tax for common schools shall be exclusively applied to the support of the common schools" and that "no public money or property shall be appropriated for, or applied to any religious worship, exercise or instruction, or the support of any religious establishment." Substitute Senate Bill No. 6574 would divert resources away from the state's common schools.

For these reasons, I have vetoed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6574 in its entirety.

Respectfully submitted,
GARY LOCKE, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
VETO MESSAGE ON SENATE BILL NO. 6588

Respectfully submitted,
GARY LOCKE, Governor
April 3, 1998

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 6588 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to exempting movie theater snack counters from the special stadium sales and use tax imposed on restaurants;" Senate Bill No. 6588 would exempt snack bars in movie theaters, other theaters, and centers for the performing arts in King County from the special one-half percent sales tax imposed on restaurants, taverns and bars. The revenue generated by this special sales tax is pledged to repay the bonds that were sold to finance the construction of the new baseball stadium.

Reducing a revenue stream that has been pledged for bond repayment is poor financial management and poor tax policy. If these revenues are lost, bond holders could have cause to bring suit. Any litigation could, in turn, result in reduced bond ratings. In addition, other types of eating and drinking establishments that must pay the tax will want a similar exemption, seriously threatening funding of the new baseball stadium.

For these reasons, I have vetoed Senate Bill No. 6588 in its entirety.

Respectfully submitted,

GARY LOCKE, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
VETO MESSAGE ON SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6602

April 3, 1998

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Substitute Senate Bill No. 6602 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to carbonated beverage taxes;"

In 1994, the voters approved Referendum 43, the first tax increase after Initiative 601. This referendum, among other things, increased the tax on carbonated beverage syrup to provide the funds we need to prevent youth violence and provide drug education and drug enforcement programs. The current tax on carbonated beverage syrup is $1.00 per gallon.

Substitute Senate Bill No. 6602 authorizes a business to claim a credit for one-half of the amount of syrup taxes paid, against its business and occupations tax liability. Allowing one state tax to be credited against another essentially transfers part of the costs for youth violence and drug programs to the state general fund. This is not what the voters agreed to do when they passed Referendum 43.

For these reasons, I have vetoed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6602 in its entirety.

Respectfully submitted,

GARY LOCKE, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
VETO MESSAGE ON SENATE BILL NO. 6699

April 1, 1998

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 6699 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to information provided by former or current employers to a prospective employer;"

I strongly agree with the intent of this legislation. As an employer, I have personally experienced the frustrations that result from current law.

It is clear that the laws applying to employee references need to be reformed. In recent years, employers have been reluctant to provide job reference information regarding former employees, for fear of liability. The consequence is that employers often cannot get adequate information to make good hiring decisions. This can be a big problem in the case of workplace violence or employee theft. Employers who have fired employees because of violence or theft have not divulged that information to prospective employers. Later, such employees have repeated that behavior endangering the life and property of others. Conversely, good employees are disadvantaged because many employers have strict policies against providing more than minimal information, such as confirming dates of employment only.

However, Senate Bill No. 6699 is not crafted finely enough to properly solve these problems. When I met with proponents of this bill, there was disagreement even among them whether reports of an employee's activities outside of work could be discussed in a job reference. Among other concerns, Senate Bill No. 6699 conflicts with the state's anti-blacklisting statute (RCW 49.44.010) and would effectively take away any civil remedy an employee could seek if blacklisted. Blacklisting occurs when employers band together to exclude from employment, employees who are trying to organize a union, or participate in "undesirable" religious or political organizations.

I strongly agree with the intent of Senate Bill No. 6699, but it needs further refinement. During the interim I will convene a group of knowledgeable lawyers and stakeholders representing all sides of this issue to develop legislation that will address these concerns. And, I will make my staff available to assist the group.

I urge the various interest groups to work together to develop a compromise that satisfies employers' need for freer flow of information, while maintaining meaningful protection for employees. Efforts that were made by Representatives Lantz and Hickel to provide for statements made by an employer with malice or a reckless disregard of truthfulness come much closer to a balanced law that would work for both employers and employees.

For these reasons, I have vetoed Senate Bill No. 6699 in its entirety.

Respectfully submitted,

GARY LOCKE, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

PARTIAL VETO MESSAGE ON ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5305

April 2, 1998

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 6, 7, and 8, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5305 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to controlling drugs used to facilitate rape;"

I support the main goal of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No.5305, to treat flunitrazepam, the so-called "date rape" drug, with the seriousness it deserves. However, prosecutors and legislators who sponsored and worked for passage of this bill have asked me to veto sections 6 and 7. Those sections would add confusing language to the definitions of second-degree rape and indecent liberties, two very serious sex offenses. The language is not necessary to convict people who use drugs to make victims helpless, and it could make conviction more difficult for other crimes by requiring proof that the accused person knew of the victim's helpless condition.

Section 8 of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5305 would require rape crisis centers, law enforcement, and hospital emergency rooms to train personnel who investigate sexual assault cases on how to recognize and test for sedatives like flunitrazepam, and how to preserve evidence for use in court. The intent of that section is commendable, but it is vague and lacks any mechanism for implementation. For example, it does not adequately specify who is required to train whom. It is also misplaced in the criminal code. I urge the interested parties to work together to develop effective, workable legislation on this subject for the next session.

For these reasons, I have vetoed sections 6, 7, and 8 of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5305.

With the exception of sections 6, 7, and 8, I am approving Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5305.

Respectfully submitted,

GARY LOCKE, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

PARTIAL VETO MESSAGE ON ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6108

April 3, 1998

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 115(5); 117(18); 120; 122(6); 124(3); 124(4); 125; 204(3)(b); 205(1)(f); 205(1)(k); 207(9); 211(5); 215(2); 217(11); 219(28); 222(3); 222(8); 222(9); 302(18); 302(19); 302(20); 303(4); 303(5); 307(34); 308, page 112, lines 4-5; 308(10); 308(11); 309(6); 309(7); 906; 907; 908; Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6108 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to fiscal matters;"
Section 125, Page 32 (For the Horse Racing Commission)

The proviso in section 125 directs the Horse Racing Commission to conduct a study with the Gambling Commission on the impact to the race tracks and the horse racing and breeding industry of allowing gambling at race tracks. This proviso does not provide the direction or the funds that are needed to ensure that all affected interests, including the tribes, will come together to perform a thorough study of a very complex issue.

Section 204(3)(b), Pages 50-51 (For the Department of Social and Health Services, Mental Health Program—Special Commitment Center)

Section 204(3)(b) requires the Department to develop a staffing model for the Special Commitment Center by October 1, 1998. I am vetoing this proviso because the October 1998 deadline does not provide adequate time to develop a proper staffing model after the scheduled relocation of the Special Commitment Center from Monroe to McNeil Island in April 1998. I am, however, directing the Department to submit an interim report on staffing by October 1, 1998, to be followed up with a comprehensive staffing model that will be completed in time for budget development for the 1999-01 Biennium.

Section 205(1)(f), Page 54 (For the Department of Social and Health Services, Developmental Disabilities Program—Number of Developmentally Disabled Clients Served)

Section 205(1)(f) directs that the Department shall not reduce the number of persons served in community residential, employment and day programs, or family support below levels identified in the 1997 Legislative Budget Notes in order to undertake activities proposed by the Department but not funded in the supplemental appropriations act. Because the Legislature did not fully fund the costs of maintaining current service levels in community programs, this proviso could have required reductions in current services to families and disabled individuals. This proviso unduly restricts the ability of the secretary to manage the division's programs. In addition, I do not support attempts to enact Legislative Budget Notes into law through reference in a proviso. For these reasons I am vetoing this section. I am, however, directing that the Department shall make all efforts not to reduce the number of persons being served in these three programs below their current levels.

Section 205(1)(k), Page 55 (For the Department of Social and Health Services, Developmental Disabilities Program—Autism Pilot Program)

Section 205(1)(k) requires the Department to contract for a pilot program to test an alternative delivery model for services to persons with autism. I am vetoing this section for the reason that no funding was provided in the supplemental appropriations act for this requirement.

Section 207(9), Page 63 (For the Department of Social and Health Services, Economic Services Program—TANF Funding For Local Nonprofit Agencies)

This subsection earmarks $5 million in federal Temporary Assistance to Needy Families (TANF) block funding to provide grants to community action agencies and other local nonprofit organizations. As welfare caseloads decline, it will be necessary to reinvest a portion of our budgetary savings into community-based programs — similar in purpose to those described in this subsection — for WorkFirst participants who need intensive assistance in order to get and keep a job. It is, however, too early in the implementation of WorkFirst to earmark a set amount of funding for the specific purposes identified in this subsection. For this reason, I am vetoing this subsection.

Section 222(3), Page 90 (For the Employment Security Department—Job Placement Levels)

Section 222(3) requires the Department to maintain the current level of job placement services at all 32 community and technical college location sites through the remainder of the 1997-99 Biennium. Because the Legislature did not provide resources to maintain this activity, it would be impossible for the Department to continue the current level of service. Therefore, I am vetoing section 222(3); however, I am directing the Employment Security Department to coordinate with the State Board for Community and Technical Colleges to ensure the greatest level of service possible is provided.

Section 222(8), Page 91 (For the Employment Security Department—Additional Tax Information)

Section 222(8) requires the Department to disclose additional tax information on the 1999 employer tax rate notice. While I support the disclosure of tax related information, this section requires information that could mislead employers about the relationship between the taxes they had paid and the benefits their former employees had received. In addition, tax rates are calculated on a fiscal year basis, while this subsection requires information be provided for a calendar year. It is impossible for the Department to correlate the fiscal year tax rate calculation with the calendar year information. For these reasons, I am vetoing this subsection and directing the Employment Security Department to conduct a study, in consultation with all interested parties, on how to improve the disclosure of information on the employer rate notice.

Section 222(9), Pages 91-92 (For the Employment Security Department—Federal Waiver For Welfare-To-Work Grant Program)

As a condition for receiving $20,157,000 in federal funding, Section 222(9) requires the Governor to successfully obtain an approved federal waiver for use of an alternative agency or agents to administer the welfare-to-work grants. I am vetoing this subsection because I do not want the success of an important program to depend on the success of obtaining a federal waiver; however, I have directed the Employment Security Department to pursue a federal waiver as required by the Legislature.

Section 302(18), Page 98 (For the Department of Ecology—Coastal Erosion Project Grants)
I am deeply concerned for people whose homes and businesses are threatened by erosion along our state's coastline. As a result, I am signing provisions which provide $275,000 in the operating budget and $150,000 in the capital budget for coastal erosion projects in Ocean Shores. However, the Legislature has redirected $250,000 of funds previously committed to the Department of Ecology for a long-term coastal erosion study to the Department of Community, Trade, and Economic Development (CTED) for new coastal erosion project grants. The Coastal Erosion Study begun by the Department of Ecology and the U.S. Geological Survey in 1996 is already providing sound information for decision making and will continue to provide important information over the next three years. This redirection of funds would seriously compromise this effort. The study is critical to the state, as well as local communities, to make decisions based upon sound science and good information. Therefore I am vetoing this subsection.

Although I am vetoing this subsection, I am directing CTED to immediately begin designing a collaborative process, involving all appropriate interests, to develop short- and long-term policy recommendations on coastal erosion. These recommendations will be based on sound economic and environmental principles, as well as solid scientific research and information. Because I believe the people who will be most directly affected by the outcome should have a say in the process, CTED is to include representatives from communities experiencing coastal erosion, state agencies with mandates to protect coastal resources, and other affected stakeholders.

Section 302(19), Pages 98-99 (For the Department of Ecology—Rural Economic Development Project Assistance To Businesses)
This subsection requires the Department of Ecology (DOE) to expedite its assistance to businesses seeking permitting and technical help, and to give top priority to projects in rural counties which have initiated coordinated permit processing through DOE's Permit Assistance Center. To date, only one project has met these conditions. Although I strongly support efforts to promote business development in rural areas, it is unfair to give one potential project preference over all others in rural communities throughout the state.

Section 302(20), Page 99 (For the Department of Ecology—Lake Steilacoom Scientific Review Contract)
This subsection requires the Department of Ecology to contract with a panel selected by the Society of Environmental Toxicology and Chemistry for a scientific review of various permits and studies related to efforts to control aquatic weeds in Lake Steilacoom. The Legislature failed to provide any funding for this study, which is estimated to cost $150,000 to $200,000. In addition, a review of DOE permits related to Lake Steilacoom would have very little benefit because such a review would not have any legal standing and would be after the allowable time limit for appeals has expired.

Section 308, Page 112, Lines 4-5 and Section 308(10) Page 113 (For the Department of Natural Resources—Mobile Radio Replacement)
To comply with Federal Communication Commission requirements, the Department of Natural Resources needs to replace the mobile radio system it now uses for communications while fighting wildfires, an activity funded by the state General Fund. The appropriation in this section, however, is from the Natural Resources Equipment Account, a revolving fund at the Department for ongoing maintenance and replacement of equipment primarily used in the management of public lands held in trust for a variety of beneficiaries, including public schools. Revenues from trust lands, other than those necessary to manage the lands, must be distributed to the trust beneficiaries in accordance with constitutional requirements. Since there is only a nominal fund balance in the Natural Resources Equipment Account attributable to the fire program, the effect of this appropriation would be to inappropriately use revenues generated from trust lands to subsidize fire fighting activities. Therefore, I have vetoed this appropriation and proviso. I will work with the Department to explore alternative options for both the short- and long-term replacement of mobile radio equipment.

Sections 906, 907, and 908, Pages 204-206 (Agricultural Fair Theme Games and Lottery Distribution to the Fair Fund)
Section 906, 907 and 908 seek to replace pari-mutuel tax revenues that support the State Fair Fund and the State Trade Fair Fund with lottery proceeds. Section 906 requires the Washington State Lottery to conduct two to four games with agricultural themes per year in the 1997-99 Biennium. The Washington State Lottery will be unable to meet this obligation for Fiscal Year 1998 due to the length of time required to develop the agricultural theme scratch games. Section 907 distributes lottery proceeds to the State Fair Fund. Lottery proceeds support the General Fund and this proposal could potentially lower the expenditure limit under Initiative 601 if the new games did not increase total lottery revenues. For these reasons, I am vetoing Sections 906, 907, and 908 of the appropriations act to eliminate the possibility of lowering the Initiative 601 expenditure limit and to eliminate confusion regarding conducting agricultural fair theme scratch games by the Washington State Lottery.
I am vetoing the following sections in the operating appropriations bill because the language in each relates to bills that did not pass the Legislature.

Section 115(5), Page 16 (For the Attorney General—Regulating Travel Sales)
This subsection stipulates that if Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 2027 is not enacted, the subsection is null and void. Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 2027 was not passed by the Legislature, therefore, I have vetoed Section 115(5) of the appropriations act to eliminate confusion regarding the conditions and limitations for the Attorney General.

Section 120, Page 27 (For the Washington State Lottery Commission—Implementation of EHB 3120)
Subsection 3 stipulates that if Engrossed House Bill 3120 is not enacted, subsections 1 and 2 are null and void. Engrossed House Bill No. 3120 was not passed by the Legislature; therefore, I have vetoed Section 120 of the appropriations act to eliminate confusion regarding the conditions and limitations for the Washington State Lottery.

The following sections are vetoed in the appropriations bill because of provisions or vetoes in other bills:

Section 124(4), Page 32 (For the Insurance Commissioner—E2SHB 2439, Bicycle Safety)
This subsection allocates $100,000 from the Insurance Commissioners Regulatory Account to the Traffic Safety Commission to implement the Cooper Jones Act (Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 2439). The bill that passed the Legislature, which I signed, has the authority to expend $100,000 from the Bicycle and Pedestrian Safety Account. Therefore this appropriation from the Insurance Commissioners Regulatory Account is not needed. For these reasons I am vetoing this subsection.

Section 303(4), Page 101 (For the Department of Ecology—E2SHB 5703, Water Right Beneficial Use)
Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5703 allows the interim use of water without authorization (a water right) until either the court grants a water right or DOE grants a water right based on completion of a watershed plan where a planning effort is underway. Allowing the use of this water is unfair to those who have forgone the use of water by following the normal process for obtaining a water right. Because I have vetoed this bill, I have also vetoed this section to avoid confusion.

Section 117(18), Page 22 (For the Department of Community, Trade, and Economic Development); Section 122(6), Page 30 (For the Department of Revenue); Section 124(3), Page 32 (For the Insurance Commissioner); Section 211(5), Pages 68 and 69 (For Department of Social and Health Services, Administration and Supporting Services Program); Section 215(2), Page 73 (For the Human Rights Commission); Section 217(11), Page 78 (For the Department of Labor and Industries); Section 219(28), Pages 84 and 85 (For the Department of Health); Section 303(5), Page 101 (For the Department of Ecology); Section 307(34), Page 111 (For the Department of Fish and Wildlife); Section 308(11), Page 113 (For the Department of Natural Resources); Section 309(6), Page 115 (For the Department of Agriculture)—E2SHB 2345, Regulatory Reform

These subsections stipulate that the funding provided to implement Engrossed Second Substitute House Bill No. 2345, Regulatory Reform, will lapse if sections 1, 3, 4, 10, 11, and 12 are not enacted. I have vetoed these sections of Engrossed Second Substitute House Bill No. 2345 because I do not believe that these provisions are in the best interest of the state. Therefore, I have also vetoed these sections of the appropriations act to eliminate confusion regarding the expenditure authority for these agencies.

Section 309(7) Page 115 (For the Department of Agriculture—E2SHB 6204 Livestock Identification)
This subsection stipulates that the funding provided to implement sections 2 and 98 of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6204 shall lapse if these sections of the bill are not enacted. I have vetoed these sections of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6204, and most other sections of the bill, because they do not address programmatic and financial issues pertaining to the livestock identification program in an effective and fiscally responsible manner. Therefore, I have also vetoed Section 309(7) of the appropriations act to eliminate confusion regarding the appropriation authority of the Department of Agriculture.

Other Comments
Section 301(2) for the Columbia River Gorge Commission requires Clark County to direct $30,000 each year from its grants for implementing the Scenic Area Management Plan to Skamania County to cover the county's cost of implementing this same plan. Although I am not vetoing this section, I continue to be troubled by the Legislature's decision not to provide adequate funding for both the Gorge Commission and the counties within the National Scenic Area. The current budget is still $85,000 a year below what the county has identified as its costs to implement the Scenic Area Act. The Legislature also failed to provide adequate funding for the Gorge Commission itself. As we develop the budgets for next biennium, it is important to understand that the Scenic Area Act cannot be successful without stable and adequate funding.

Section 304(7) for the State Parks and Recreation Commission requires that the Snowmobile Account and the Winter Recreation Program Account provide funds to support the Northwest Avalanche Center (NWAC). The NWAC provides important weather and avalanche forecasts that benefit back country users, search and rescue personnel, counties, ski patrols, the state Department of Transportation (WSDOT), and the Washington State Patrol, as well as snowmobilers and winter recreationalists. Although I have not vetoed this section, I do not support the decision by the Legislature to appropriate $40,000 from these accounts for the operation of the NWAC. These programs have already voluntarily contributed $11,000 to the NWAC. This higher level of funding is disproportionate to the benefit derived by the winter recreationalists whose user fees would be diverted from direct program services to the NWAC. Furthermore, these user fees are collected statewide, while the NWAC only provides services in the Cascades and Olympics. As a result, I anticipate seeking future General Fund-State support to reimburse these dedicated funds. I also urge the NWAC, user groups, State Parks, and WSDOT, to continue to work with the Office of Financial Management and the Legislature to find alternative long term funding sources for the NWAC.

With the exception of sections 115(5); 117(18); 120; 122(6); 124(3); 124(4); 125; 204(3)(b); 205(1)(f); 205(1)(k); 207(9); 211(5); 215(2); 217(11); 219(28); 222(3); 222(8); 222(9); 302(18); 302(19); 302(20); 303(4); 303(5); 307(34); 308, page 112, lines 4-5; 308(10); 308(11); 309(6); 309(7); 906; 907; 908; Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6108 is approved.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO MESSAGE ON SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6161

April 1, 1998

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:
I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 8, Substitute Senate Bill No. 6161 entitled:
"AN ACT Relating to dairy nutrient management;"

Substitute Senate Bill No. 6161 makes significant changes in the operation and regulation of dairies in the state of Washington. This bill will be of great benefit to our water quality and the public's health. I commend the dairy industry for its strong support of this bill.

Section 8 of Substitute Senate Bill No. 6161 would create a Dairy Nutrient Management Program Advisory and Oversight Committee, consisting of governmental and non-governmental members. That committee would provide "direction to and oversight of" the dairy nutrient management program. Clearly, the state can benefit from the advice and counsel of those who will be most affected by this bill. However, the dairy inspection program is a governmental program and must be carried out by the Department of Ecology, the responsible governmental entity. It is inappropriate to give directive and oversight responsibilities to a non-governmental body. In addition, the portion of section 8 that provides for compensation of committee members contains drafting errors and is defective.

Very clearly, the advisory functions spelled out in section 8 are beneficial to the effective operation of the program. With this message, I am directing the Department of Ecology to establish such a committee to perform the advisory functions provided for in section 8(5).

For these reasons, I have vetoed section 8 of Substitute Senate Bill No. 6161.

With the exception of section 8, Substitute Senate Bill No. 6161 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,

GARY LOCKE, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO MESSAGE ON ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6165

March 30, 1998

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:
I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 3, 5, 6, and 8, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6165 entitled:
"AN ACT Relating to use of ignition interlock devices;"
Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6165 requires that ignition interlock devices be used by individuals convicted of drunk driving with a blood alcohol content of 0.15 or higher. I support the intent of this legislation; however, some sections are problematic.

Section 3 of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6165 would mandate jail terms of 30, 60, and 90 days for driving without an interlock when required to do so. These mandatory sentences should not be enacted without a clear showing that they are necessary, and without carefully considering the costs to local governments. Before further restricting judges' discretion in these cases, we should gain experience with mandatory interlock use, frequency of violations, and reasons for violations. Section 3 would deny courts discretion to consider emergencies or other circumstances that might excuse or mitigate this behavior. Driving without an interlock in violation of a court order is currently punishable by up to 90 days in jail. I believe courts should continue to have sentencing discretion, especially in the early stages of mandatory interlock use.

Section 5 of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6165 would require that vehicles driven without interlocks, in violation of court orders, be impounded "for use as evidence." I am concerned about the substantial costs this requirement could impose on local governments. Currently, police officers have the authority to take custody of evidence when they need to do so, but they may not need to do so in all interlock violation cases. Impoundment, at the driver's expense, would be an appropriate remedy for violating court orders after a DUI, but this section does not assure that the driver, rather than the local government, would be financially responsible.

Section 6 of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6165 would require that all DUI charges be filed in court, and defendants be arraigned on those charges, within 21 days after arrest. I share the policy goal behind this section — to assure that defendants have a reasonable chance to qualify for deferred prosecution in appropriate cases. However, the effect of that requirement amounts to a 21-day statute of limitation on DUI cases. The vast majority of these cases can and should be charged much sooner than 21 days after arrest. But some require more time for legitimate investigative reasons, like getting blood test results or determining whether accident victims will recover. These are likely to be the more serious cases involving drunk driving, cases that should not be subject to dismissal because of such a deadline. The goal of informing defendants about deferred prosecution can be accomplished by bringing them to court promptly after arrest or filing charges, as required by section 2 of Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 6293, which I signed today. Finally, I am concerned that section 6 falls outside the subject of the bill as expressed in the title, in violation of Article II, Section 19 of the State Constitution.

Section 8 of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6165 would require that the Office of Financial Management verify claims from local governments for increased levels of services mandated by the act. This section would add an unnecessary additional bureaucratic layer to the existing statutory and procedural process for handling these claims. I will direct the Office of Financial Management and the Department of General Administration to work collaboratively with the appropriate legislative committees to ensure that timely and accurate information is provided to the Legislature.

For these reasons, I have vetoed sections 3, 5, 6, and 8 of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6165. With the exception of sections 3, 5, 6, and 8, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6165 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,

GARY LOCKE, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO MESSAGE ON ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6204

April 1, 1998

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 1, 2, 3, 4, and 7 through 101, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6204 entitled: "AN ACT Relating to livestock identification;"

Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6204 would transfer program administration for livestock inspection to a seven-member board, all of whose voting members would be industry representatives. The board would administer a regulatory program with rule-making, fee-setting and enforcement powers. It would use its budget without legislative appropriation and be given a vast array of responsibilities, including entering into agreements with other states on behalf of Washington.

This approach is fraught with problems, conflicts of interest, and lacks any accountability to the public. But most seriously, the underlying problem — the inadequate fee system under the current law — is not remedied by this bill. Under this bill, the program fund balance would still be $187,000 in the red at the end of the current biennium and $193,000 in the red at the end of next biennium. It is unacceptable for the Legislature to continue avoiding the difficult issue of inadequate funds, and instead simply create a new entity to oversee livestock inspections.

I do support section 5 of this bill, which will allow families to register "heritage brands" that have been in their families for many years, and section 6, which will enable veterinarians to be certified to conduct livestock identification.

For these reasons, I have vetoed sections 1, 2, 3, 4, and 7 through 101 of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6204. With the exception of 1, 2, 3, 4, and 7 through 101, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6204 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,

GARY LOCKE, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO MESSAGE ON SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6208

April 2, 1998

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 2, 3, 5, 10, 41 and 42, Substitute Senate Bill 6208 entitled:
"AN ACT Relating to at-risk youth;"

This bill clarifies the processes for the admission of a child for mental health or chemical dependency treatment. It clearly separates the procedures for voluntary outpatient and inpatient treatment, parent-initiated treatment and court-authorized involuntary treatment. Safeguards are provided for inpatient mental health and chemical dependency treatment, including an independent review by a mental health or chemical dependency professional, the opportunity for a child to petition the court for review, and automatic release from a facility unless a court allows the child to be retained for further treatment.

Sections 2, 3 and 5 relate to the Department of Social and Health Services contracting with counties for the operation of staff secure group homes. Section 2 would require DSHS to transfer funds to counties to operate these homes based on a formula that is inconsistent with other formulae related to at-risk youth. Section 3 would incorrectly change state child welfare duties to include providing funding to counties to staff these homes. Section 5 apparently would require counties, which would be subcontracting with the state, to in turn subcontract with private vendors to provide staff secure group homes for certain youth. DSHS already contracts for such services, so that section is unnecessary.

Section 10 would require DSHS to report to the Legislature annually on the number of parent-initiated admissions of minors to evaluation and treatment facilities. A costly hospital record review would be needed to gather such information, but no funding was provided.

Sections 41 and 42 would amend the law relating to unlawful harboring of a minor child. The language is redundant with existing law and may lump together effective shelters for youth with those individuals who prey upon them.

For these reasons, I have vetoed sections 2, 3, 5, 10, 41 and 42 of Substitute Senate Bill No. 6208.

With the exception of sections 2, 3, 5, 10, 41 and 42, Substitute Senate Bill No. 6208 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,

GARY LOCKE, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO MESSAGE ON SECOND SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6214

April 2, 1998

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 55 and 60, Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 6214 entitled:
"AN ACT Relating to mental illness;"
Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 6214 broadens the Involuntary Treatment Act (ITA) commitment standards to take greater account of a history of violence. Among other things, it requires greater information sharing between treatment providers and criminal justice agencies, and creates mechanisms to protect public safety in the context of ITA treatment.

Section 55 of Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 6214 would require the Department of Corrections to report annually to legislative fiscal committees on the efficacy of the regional support networks in implementing this legislation, including information on their administrative costs. While such reporting has value, DOC has neither the audit authority, the specialized expertise, nor the funding to perform this task. The bill already requires evaluations and reports by the Joint Legislative Audit and Review Committee and the Washington State Institute for Public Policy.

Section 60 would cause the entire act to expire on June 30, 2001. "Sunset" provisions can be valuable, but this would be too soon. This complex new law will be difficult to implement and may well require revision in the years to come. The studies required by the Institute for Public Policy and the Joint Legislative Audit and Review Committee can help identify problems and opportunities for improvement.

For these reasons, I have vetoed sections 55 and 60 of Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 6214.

With the exception of sections 55 and 60, Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 6214 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,

GARY LOCKE, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO MESSAGE ON SENATE BILL NO. 6219

March 31, 1998

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 56, 176(14), 176(15), and 176(17), Senate Bill No. 6219 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to reports to the legislature;"

Senate Bill No. 6219 is an excellent piece of legislation that will contribute to the efficiency of state government. It eliminates approximately 230 obsolete or unnecessary reports that agencies are required to submit to the Legislature by amending or repealing numerous sections of law.

However, the statutes that would be repealed by sections 176 (14), (15), and (17) also contain substantive language regarding ongoing programs that should be retained in law. To avoid inadvertent disruption of the programs, I have vetoed those sections.

Section 56 of Senate Bill No. 6219 would amend RCW 43.19.554 by removing a reference to a report from the Department of General Administration on motor vehicle management. However, House Bill No. 2568, which I signed on March 23, 1998, already repealed that section.

For these reasons, I have vetoed sections 56, 176 (14), 176 (15), and 176 (17) of Senate Bill No. 6219.

With the exception of sections 56, and 176 (14), 176 (15), and 176 (17), I am approving Senate Bill No. 6219.

Respectfully submitted,

GARY LOCKE, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO MESSAGE ON ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6238

April 3, 1998

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:
MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO MESSAGE ON ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6238
March 27, 1998
To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 6, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6238 entitled:
"AN ACT Relating to dependent children;"

This bill requires the Department of Social and Health Services to specify, via affidavit, evidence that harm will come to a particular child if the child is not taken from his home. The affidavit must contain evidence of the risk of imminent harm. The bill also requires quicker access to information for parents, to help give them an adequate opportunity to make their case at the shelter care hearing. Under this legislation, parents will be able to become more engaged in the process of identifying the services they require to prevent serious harm to a child, were the child returned to them.

Section 6 of this legislation would require DSHS to publish a great deal of new information in its annual quality assurance report. The required information is not now collected, and there is no indication why DSHS should start collecting it, or what the usefulness of that information would be. And, no funding was provided for this purpose.

For these reasons, I have vetoed section 6 of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6238.

With the exception of section 6, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6238 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,

GARY LOCKE, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO MESSAGE ON ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6328
March 27, 1998
To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 123, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6328 entitled:
"AN ACT Relating to fish and wildlife code enforcement;"

The codes for the former Departments of Fish and Wildlife were not properly dealt with when those departments were merged several years ago. Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6328 consolidates and standardizes the enforcement code for the Department of Fish and Wildlife. This bill is long overdue, and I commend the Department and the Legislature for their hard work in developing this legislation.

Section 123 of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6328 amends a part of the statute that is also amended in Substitute Senate Bill No. 6330. The double amendment appears to have been unintended, and would cause confusion.

For this reason, I have vetoed section 123 of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6328.

With the exception of section 123, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6328 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,

GARY LOCKE, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO MESSAGE ON SECOND SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6330
March 27, 1998
To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 34 and 37, Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 6330 entitled:
"AN ACT Relating to fish and wildlife licenses;"

Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 6330 will simplify the recreational hunting and license system, which will ultimately reduce the number of license documents and improve service to the public. The bill is also necessary to implement a point-of-sale license system which allows dealers to make sales through an on-line terminal rather than using the existing paper system.

Sections 34 and 37 of Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 6330 would amend statutes that were repealed by Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6328, which I signed today. This partial veto will ensure that the two bills are consistent.
For these reasons, I have vetoed sections 34 and 37 of Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 6330. With the exception of sections 34 and 37, Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 6330 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,

GARY LOCKE, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO MESSAGE ON SENATE BILL NO. 6348

April 3, 1998

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 3 and 4 of Senate Bill No. 6348 entitled:
"AN ACT Relating to eliminating requirements for filing certificates or annual summaries for sales and use tax exemptions on manufacturing machinery and equipment;"

Senate Bill No. 6348 amends the state retail sales and use tax statutes to relieve taxpayers of the burden of making reports and annual summaries of tax exempt purchases, for submission to the Department of Revenue.

One of my goals as Governor is the simplification of our tax system and the reduction of regulations for businesses. The Department of Revenue developed this legislation in an effort to reach that goal. The original intent of the bill was to immediately relieve taxpayers eligible for the machinery and equipment tax exemption from the burden of submitting duplicate exemption certificates or purchase summaries to the Department.

The Legislature amended the bill by adding sections 3 and 4. Section 4 would require taxpayers to submit, for an additional six months, reports of machinery and equipment purchases before qualifying for the sales and use tax exemption. However, section 3 would not require the Department to deny exemptions if the taxpayers did not send in reports. This would create conflicting policies and extend the period during which businesses must submit redundant paperwork to the Department. This is unnecessary, burdensome, and contrary to the bill's original purpose.

For these reasons, I have vetoed sections 3 and 4 of Senate Bill No. 6348. With the exception of sections 3 and 4, Senate Bill No. 6348 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,

GARY LOCKE, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO MESSAGE ON ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6456

April 3, 1998

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 202(6); 202(8), page 8, line 20 through page 9, line 6; 203(13); 207(2); 209, page 18, lines 1 through 2; 209(3); 209(4); 209(5); 211(12); 211(13); 212(3); 214(4); 214(5); 220(10); 221(7); 301(4); 402, page 42, lines 29 through 30; 403; 501; 502; 507 and 508, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6456 entitled:
"AN ACT Relating to transportation funding and appropriations;"

Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6456 provides a supplemental budget for the 1997-99 transportation budget.

Section 202(6), page 7 (Legislative Transportation Committee)

Section 202(6) directs the Legislative Transportation Committee to study and report findings to the Legislature regarding the design-build method of contracting. I am vetoing this proviso because it is unnecessary in light of passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 6439, which requires the Department of Transportation (DOT) to conduct a demonstration program using the design-build method of contracting and requires the DOT to present a report within one year of completion of the demonstration projects.

Section 202(8), page 8, line 20 through page 9, line 6 (Legislative Transportation Committee)

Section 202(8) provides a $1 million appropriation for the purpose of convening a panel of citizens to conduct a comprehensive analysis of state-wide transportation needs, funding, and policies. The panel is to be appointed by the legislature and the Governor.

While there is no question about the commitment of all parties, including myself, to conduct a creditable and timely review of transportation issues, I have vetoed page 8, line 20 through page 9, line 6 in order to provide maximum flexibility to the panel to manage the review as effectively as possible within the available dollars. The review activities outlined in the vetoed provisos can serve as guidance, rather than limits, for the panel as they start their deliberations. The veto of these subsections does not preclude the panel from addressing the same issues, but it does allow the panel to adjust the scope and emphasis of the study activities as information is developed.

Section 203(13), page 11 (Washington State Patrol—Field Operations Bureau)

Section 203 (13) prohibits the Chief of the Washington State Patrol from using funding provided in Chapter 457, Laws of 1997 and in this act to increase salaries for positions above the rank of captain. I am vetoing this proviso because it unduly restricts the ability of the Chief to manage the State Patrol. It is also retroactive, and would reduce current salaries. Finally, it contravenes the existing statutory authority in RCW 43.43.020, which grants the Chief the authority to determine the compensation of her officers.

Section 207(2), pages 15-16 (Department of Licensing—Information Systems)

Section 207 (2) stipulates that if the driver's license fee increase contained in Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 2730 is not enacted by June 30, 1998, the appropriations provided in this subsection lapse. Engrossed Substitute House Bill 2730 was not passed by the Legislature; therefore, I have vetoed this subsection to eliminate possible confusion about whether the Department of Licensing must work to implement the enumerated Business and Technology Assessment Project recommendations without the requisite funding.

Section 209, page 18, lines 1 through 2, (Department of Licensing—Driver Services)

This section reduces the state highway safety fund appropriation to the Department of Licensing. I am vetoing the supplemental appropriation in order to partially restore an inadvertent reduction that was subtracted twice. A recent court decision, regarding the limitations to the Governor's veto powers, dictates a budget level that is $2,503,000 less than the original appropriation. When the supplemental budget adjustments were calculated, this reduction occurred twice. The effect of this veto is to reinstate $868,000 in state highway safety funds to the department. A legislative adjustment of $1,635,000 will be required in the 1999 legislative session in order to fully restore the intended funding level for the department. The complete restoration of these funds will ensure that the department continues to maintain existing service levels and implements recently enacted legislation. Since the double count appears to have been an inadvertent error, I am requesting that the department make plans for the intended funding level for the remainder of the biennium in anticipation of a legislative adjustment in the 1999 session.

Section 209(3), page 18 (Department of Licensing—Driver Services)

Section 209 (3) stipulates that the $117,000 highway safety account—state appropriation shall lapse if House Bill No. 3054 is not enacted by June 30, 1998. House Bill No. 3054 was not passed by the Legislature; therefore, I have vetoed this subsection to eliminate any possible confusion.

Section 209(4), page 18 (Department of Licensing—Driver Services)

Section 209 (4) stipulates that the $80,000 highway safety account—state appropriation shall lapse if House Bill No. 2730 is not enacted by June 30, 1998. House Bill No. 2730 was not passed by the Legislature; therefore, I have vetoed this subsection to eliminate any possible confusion.

Section 209(5), page 18 (Department of Licensing—Driver Services)

Section 209 (5) stipulates that the $124,000 highway safety account—state appropriation shall lapse if Senate Bill No. 6591 is not enacted by June 30, 1998. Senate Bill No. 6591 was not passed by the Legislature; therefore, I have vetoed this subsection to eliminate any possible confusion.

Section 211(12), page 21-22 (Department of Transportation—Improvements—Program I)

Section 211 (12) requires the Department of Transportation (DOT) to develop criteria for programming and prioritization of highway infrastructure projects that will contribute to economic development as required by RCW 47.05.051 (2). Additionally, this subsection provides that the DOT shall report the criteria to the Legislative Transportation Committee by December 1, 1998. I am vetoing this proviso because it is unnecessary. The DOT already factors economic development in the prioritization of projects in its improvement program. If the Legislature wishes to modify the prioritization scheme, they may amend RCW 47.05.051.

Section 211(13), page 22 (Department of Transportation—Improvements—Program I)
Section 211(13) prohibits the Department of Transportation (DOT) from contracting any of the preliminary engineering services funded by this act without prior approval of the Legislative Transportation Committee. I am vetoing this proviso because it infringes on DOT’s ability to manage its construction program. By hampering the DOT’s ability to contract preliminary engineering, program delivery may be thwarted. Additionally, a legislative committee should not be placed in the role of approving customary functions of an executive branch agency.

Section 212(3), page 23 (Department of Transportation—Transportation Economic Partnerships—Program K)
Section 212(3) provides $100,000 of the motor vehicle fund—state appropriation solely for the purpose of the program evaluation and audit of the Public Private Initiatives program required under RCW 47.46.030(2). Further, the subsection provides that the Legislative Transportation Committee (LTC) shall act as project manager and be responsible for hiring the consultants to conduct the evaluation and audit. I am vetoing this subsection because it contravenes RCW 47.46.030 (2), which charges the Department of Transportation (DOT) with the duty to conduct a program and fiscal audit of the Public-Private Initiatives Program. However, the statute provides that DOT shall consult with and submit progress reports to the LTC. DOT has agreed to proceed accordingly.

Section 214(4), page 25 (Department of Transportation—Preservation—Program P)
Section 214(4) requires the Transportation Commission to develop a comprehensive policy on tolls and to submit a report to the Legislative Transportation Committee and the Office of Financial Management by March 1, 1999. While this is a worthwhile and important subject, I believe it is more properly addressed as an option in the larger context of long-term transportation funding.

Section 214(5), page 25 (Department of Transportation—Preservation—Program P)
Section 214(5) requires the Department of Transportation to recommend a plan for accomplishing the preservation work on the Hood Canal Bridge, and the remainder of the twenty-year bridge system plan, under the constraints of current law revenues. Reliance on current revenues to fund major projects, like the Hood Canal Bridge, will preclude a substantial number of other necessary bridge preservation and highway improvement projects. Any review of the bridge system plan must have the flexibility to consider the need for new revenues.

Section 220(10), page 35 (Department of Transportation—Public Transportation and Rail)
Section 220(10) provides an additional $4 million Central Puget Sound Public Transportation Account - State appropriation for the Department of Transportation for activities related to the improvement of the King Street Station. The King Street Station redevelopment project was also submitted to the Transportation Improvement Board (TIB) for state funding from the same account. The project has subsequently been selected for state funding through the TIB prioritization process, making this appropriation unnecessary. Therefore, I am vetoing this subsection to eliminate any possible confusion.

Section 221(7), pages 37-38 (Department of Transportation—Local Programs—Program Z)
Section 221(7) provides for the preparation of a consolidation plan for the Transportation Improvement Board (TIB), County Road Administration Board (CRAB), and the Department of Transportation's TransAid Service Center. The 1998 Legislature did consider, but failed to enact, legislation that would have required this same consolidation plan. While I support efforts to streamline government, a more deliberative process that involves the key stakeholders and does not presuppose an outcome must be employed.

Section 301(4), pages 39-40 (Transportation Agencies Capital Facilities)
Section 301(4) requires the transportation agencies, the Department of General Administration, and the Office of Financial Management review, analyze, and report to the Legislative Transportation Committee (LTC) on the consolidation of Thurston County, state transportation agencies. I am vetoing this subsection because it mandates action by non-transportation agencies without providing the funding necessary to accomplish such a review. A more deliberative process that involves the key stakeholders, provides the necessary funding, and does not presuppose an outcome must be employed.

Section 402, lines 29 through 30, page 42 (State Treasurer—Bond Retirement and Interest, And Ongoing Bond Registration and Transfer Charges: For Bond Sale Expenses and Fiscal Agent Charges)
This item is an increase in the appropriation for the State Treasurer for bond sale expenses and fiscal agent charges. Because the supplemental expenditures in this budget are not supported by additional bond revenues, this increased appropriation is unnecessary.

Section 403, page 43
This section authorizes the State Treasurer to transfer any Transportation Improvement Board balances available in the Highway Bond Retirement Account into the Transportation Improvement Board Bond Retirement Account. To be operative, this section required passage of House Bill No. 2582. House Bill No. 2582 was not passed by the Legislature; therefore, I have vetoed this section to eliminate any possible confusion.

Section 501, page 45
This section directs agencies that spend transportation funds to submit their budget requests and supporting documents to the Office of Financial Management (OFM) and the Legislative Transportation Committee at the same time. All agency budget requests are public documents, and OFM routinely sends a copy of all budget requests to the Legislature for review soon after they are received, making this section unnecessary.

Section 502, page 45
Section 502 provides that in the 1999-01 biennium, the Department of Transportation's Public Transportation and Rail Program shall be divided into three separate programs—public transportation, rail-operating, and rail-capital. I am vetoing this section because it infringes on the ability of the department to organize and manage this program. The determination of this level of organizational structure should be left to the agency.

Section 507, page 48
Section 507 requires the Department of Transportation to use appropriations for Programs I and P in this act to fund projects identified in the Transportation Executive Management System (TEIS) and Legislative Budget Notes. I am vetoing this section because it circumvents the process established in RCW 47.05. Additionally, I do not support enacting TEIS or Legislative Budget Notes into law through reference.

Section 508, page 48
Section 508 repeals a section from the 1997 Transportation Budget that appropriates $10 million into reserve status for potential funding of the highway construction program should the federal transportation authorization act not be enacted by October 1, 1997. I am vetoing this section because I believe that this reserve is still appropriate as the successor to the Intermodal Surface Transportation Efficiency Act (ISTEA) has not yet been enacted, and Congress appears poised to act soon.

For these reasons, I have vetoed sections 202(6); 202(8), page 8, lines 20 through page 9, line 6; 203(13); 207(2); 209, page 18, lines 1 through 2; 209(3); 209(4); 209(5); 211(12); 211(13); 212(3); 214(4); 214(5); 220(10); 221(7); 301(4); 402, page 42, lines 29 through 30; 403; 501; 502; 507 and 508 of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6456.

With the exception of sections 202(6); 202(8), page 8, lines 20 through page 9, line 6; 203(13); 207(2); 209, page 18, lines 1 through 2; 209(3); 209(4); 209(5); 211(12); 211(13); 212(3); 214(4); 214(5); 220(10); 221(7); 301(4); 402, page 42, lines 29 through 30; 403; 501; 502; 507 and 508, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6456 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,

GARY LOCKE, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO MESSAGE ON ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6470

April 3, 1998

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 8, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6470 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to the tax treatment of canned and custom software;"

Sections 1 through 7 of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6470 specify that the sale of custom software is the provision of a service, as is the customization of canned software, and is taxable under the service classification of the business and occupation (B&O) tax.

Section 8 of this bill would provide a B&O tax credit for software businesses that have their principal place of business in a distressed county. However, the bill as written, would allow a qualifying software company with headquarters in a distressed county to also exempt from the B&O tax all its operations located in a non-distressed county. This could lead to a business establishing only a small office with few employees in the distressed county, defeating the purpose of the legislation. While Section 8 was intended to provide an innovative approach to rural economic development, this language results in a significant tax loophole that will not benefit the citizens of rural distressed counties.
I proposed several economic development packages for distressed counties in the 1998 legislative session, and I strongly agree with the concept presented in section 8 of this bill. However, section 8 of this bill would have unintended consequences. I would support a more finely crafted bill.

For these reasons, I have vetoed section 8 of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6470. With the exception of section 8, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6470 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
GARY LOCKE, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO MESSAGE ON ENGROSSED SECOND SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6509

April 1, 1998

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 3 and 4, Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 6509 entitled:
"AN ACT Relating to training in reading instruction;"

Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 6509 creates two separate reading improvement grant programs for the remainder of this biennium. First, the Washington Reading Corps will receive grants for volunteer tutoring and mentoring programs in elementary school reading; and second, grants will provide optional training and materials in reading strategies for kindergarten through second grade teachers.

I am very pleased that the Legislature chose to enact the Washington Reading Corps, which I proposed prior to the 1998 legislative session. I would have preferred a more expansive program, but this is a good start. Each legislator sought to improve our students' reading abilities and I am thankful that the mandates for certain reading strategies are no longer included in this measure. I am, however, disappointed that the Reading Resource Centers championed by Superintendent of Public Instruction Terry Bergeson are not a part of this legislation.

This act is temporary in nature, and section 3 would give it a title. Names should not be given to acts that are designed to last only a single biennium. Section 4 contains a "null and void clause" which is moot.

For these reasons, I have vetoed sections 3 and 4 of Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 6509. With the exception of sections 3 and 4, Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 6509 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
GARY LOCKE, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO MESSAGE ON ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6533

April 3, 1998

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 2 and 3 of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6533 entitled:
"AN ACT Relating to property tax exemptions and deferrals for senior citizens and persons retired for reasons of physical disability;"

In order to make property tax exemptions available to more of our senior citizens, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6533 raises the income levels below which a senior's income must be to qualify for the exemption. Under the bill, if a senior's annual income is $18,000 or less, the senior is exempted from all excess levies and regular levies on the greater of $50,000 or 60% of assessed valuation. For seniors with annual income of $18,001 to $24,000, the exemption is from all excess levies and regular levies on the greater of $40,000 or 35% of assessed valuation. All seniors with annual income below $30,000 are exempted from all excess levies. The income limit to qualify for the property assessment freeze is raised from $28,000 to $30,000.

I strongly support these increases to help our senior citizens cope with rising property values. However, section 2 of the bill would allow health care insurance and veterans’ military disability benefits to be deducted from the calculation of disposable income. This disability provision would create a special and preferred source of income since other disabled seniors would not qualify. It would also represent a precedent that others would likely seek in the future. Section 2 also would change the definition of residence to include land up to five acres, if local land use regulations require. Section 3 of the bill contained a technical change in the definition of residence required by the amendment in section 2.

For these reasons, I have vetoed sections 2 and 3 of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6533.

With the exception of sections 2 and 3, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6533 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,

GARY LOCKE, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO MESSAGE ON SECOND SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6544
April 1, 1998

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 18, 19, 20 and 21, Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 6544 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to improving long-term care;"

Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 6544 takes care of many issues dealing with adult family homes, boarding homes and long-term care, and, most importantly, transfers the oversight of boarding homes from the Department of Health to the Department of Social and Health Services. This is well-conceived and ambitious legislation, and will go far toward ensuring the safety and quality of care for residents of our adult family and boarding homes.

Sections 18, 19, 20, and 21 would specify when residents of boarding and adult family homes who become bedbound as the result of illness must be seen by a licensed practitioner, and define those practitioners and their duties. While I agree with the intentions of those sections, they would conflict with current patients' rights to refuse treatment and to maintain their preferred residences. Also, those sections are unclear as to provider and resident responsibilities when disagreements arise from such conflicts. Additionally, the impact on people's abilities to pay for additional service has not been analyzed. Before implementing changes in care requirements, additional comment needs to be sought from residents, families and all interested parties, as well as the joint task force created by this bill.

For these reasons, I have vetoed sections 18, 19, 20 and 21 of Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 6544.

With the exception of sections 18, 19, 20 and 21, Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 6544 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,

GARY LOCKE, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO MESSAGE ON ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6560
April 2, 1998

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 9 and 12, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6560 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to retail electrical customers;"
Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6560 establishes certain protections for consumers of electricity. It also, in section 5, directs the Washington Utilities and Transportation Commission and the Department of Community, Trade and Economic Development to jointly study several important features of our current electric system and potential changes to our electric system.

Section 9 of the bill is technically flawed. That section would nullify the study required by section 5, unless the Legislature funds the study in the budget and specifically references section 5 by section number. The legislature did in fact fund the study in the budget, but referenced only the bill number, not the section number. I believe the Legislature intended to fund the study, and my veto of section 9 will achieve that goal.

Section 12 contains an emergency clause that would have given immediate effect to the bill. Certain provisions of the bill obligate utilities to provide new customers with a list of policies and procedures. The utilities need some time to prepare that information. Without section 12, the bill will take effect on June 11, 1998, which allows adequate preparation time.

For these reasons I have vetoed sections 9 and 12 of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6560.

With the exception of sections 9 and 12, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6560 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,

GARY LOCKE, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO MESSAGE ON ENGROSSED SECOND SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6562

April 3, 1998

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 16, Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 6562 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to relief of the equine industry by amending the parimutuel tax on horse racing to provide additional support for licensed racing associations, the state fair account, the state trade fair account and the Washington horse racing commission;"

The changes to the parimutuel tax contained in Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 6562 were intended to provide a temporary solution to economic problems of the horse racing industry. Unfortunately the provisions of this legislation leave funding for state, county and trade fairs at risk. By reducing the parimutuel tax rate and redistributing tax revenues, Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 6562 eliminates funding for the fairs in Fiscal Year 1999, and the 1999-01 Biennium.

In an effort to temporarily replace lost revenues to the fair funds, sections 906 and 907 of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6108 (the Omnibus Appropriations Act), direct the Washington State Lottery to conduct two to four lottery games with agricultural themes per year in the 1997-99 Biennium and divert lottery proceeds to the State Fair Fund. I have vetoed sections 906 and 907 of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 108 because they place unrealistic requirements on the Washington State Lottery to develop new lottery games in a very short time period, and would divert lottery proceeds from the General Fund to replace parimutuel taxes. This would result in lowering the expenditure limit established by Initiative 601.

It is my intent that the funding for state, county and trade fairs be maintained. My actions related to Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 6562 and Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6108 will not jeopardize funding for fairs in 1998, since annual distributions to support fairs are made in March of each year. Current fund balances in the state fair funds are sufficient to support all fairs through 1998. It is my intention to propose to the 1999 Legislature a special funding package which will permit the state to fulfill its obligations for ongoing fair funding by March of 1999.

Section 16 of Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 6562 is the "null and void" clause which stipulates that if specific funding for the purposes of this act is not provided by June 30, 1998 in the omnibus appropriations act, Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 6562 is null and void. I am vetoing this section in order to develop an adequate funding proposal to support the fairs for Fiscal Year 1999 and the 1999-01 Biennium. The funding proposal that is developed should seek to maintain the current level of support for fairs without affecting the Initiative 601 expenditure limit. State, county and trade fairs are important to hundreds of thousands of our citizens and I am committed to ensuring that adequate funding is available to support them.
For these reasons, I have vetoed section 16 of Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill 6562. With the exception of section 16, Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 6562 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,

GARY LOCKE, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO MESSAGE ON ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 6628

March 27, 1998

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 2 and 3, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 6628 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to the state-owned facilities component of the state-wide transportation plan and intercity passenger rail;"

Section 2 of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 6628 would require an in-depth modal trade-off analysis. Such an analysis is the type of research that we should ultimately seek in our state transportation plan. However, section 2 calls for a cutting-edge type of analysis. There is not sufficient research available to support that type of analysis at this time, and it is unrealistic to expect the Department of Transportation to accomplish such extensive work without any funding.

Section 3 of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 6628 would add additional requirements to the intercity passenger rail plan. While it would certainly be worthwhile for decision makers to have such information, the examination should be more modally comprehensive. That is, similar data should be gleaned for all modes to allow a more fair comparison. And again, without funding from the Legislature, the Department of Transportation cannot conduct such major work without being forced to neglect existing statutory requirements.

For these reasons, I have vetoed sections 2 and 3 of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 6628. With the exception of sections 2 and 3, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 6628 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,

GARY LOCKE, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO MESSAGE ON SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6655

April 3, 1998

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 6 and 19, Substitute Senate Bill No. 6655 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to institutions of higher education;"

Substitute Senate Bill No. 6655 makes several important changes to statutes regarding higher education in the Spokane area. Many of its provisions enact recommendations developed by the Higher Education Coordinating (HEC) Board at my request. I commend the HEC Board for its comprehensive assessment performed on short notice, and I commend the Legislature for its enactment of many of the HEC Board's recommendations.

Substitute Senate Bill No. 6655 dissolves the Spokane Joint Center for Higher Education (the "Joint Center") and transfers the majority of its duties and real estate and other assets to Washington State University (WSU). WSU is required to develop a plan for the management of the Joint Center's Riverpoint Park facility, and a new mission statement and operations plan for its Spokane branch campus.
Under Substitute Senate Bill No. 6655, the Spokane Intercollegiate Research and Technology Institute (SIRTI) will no longer be under the authority of the Joint Center. It will be separately established with its own board of directors and more clearly affiliated with the economic development efforts of the Department of Community, Trade and Economic Development.

The bill also requires the HEC Board to manage an assessment of current and future higher education capital and programmatic needs in Spokane, and also an economic assessment of the Spokane area addressing job expansion, technology-based high wage job development, and basic and applied research needs.

Substitute Senate Bill No. 6655 requires Eastern Washington University (EWU) to develop a new mission statement and operations plan for comprehensive higher education based in Cheney. In addition, the value and role of EWU in Spokane is recognized along with the overriding values of collaboration and coordination among the various public and private higher education institutions in the Spokane area.

Section 6 of Substitute Senate Bill No. 6655 would replicate ambiguous language in other sections of law regarding service delivery control and responsibility for branch campuses. It would not recognize the unique situation in Spokane where two public universities each have a major presence. Section 6 would confuse the roles, opportunity and value offered by EWU and other institutions in the Spokane area. It would leave open an interpretation that these institutions would be excluded from participating in higher education offered at Spokane, which was not the intent of the HEC Board's recommendations. Section 19 establishes an effective date for section 6, and is unnecessary after my veto of section 6.

For these reasons, I have vetoed sections 6 and 19 of Substitute Senate Bill No. 6655.

With the exception of sections 6 and 19, Substitute Senate Bill No. 6655 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,

GARY LOCKE, Governor

Each of you has worked very hard to be here, and I share your sense of pride in the opportunity to serve the people of our great state of Washington. Every elected official in this room knows, however, that we didn’t get here by ourselves. We owe so much to our families. That’s why I would like to begin today by introducing and thanking once again this state’s First Lady--First Mom--and my deepest friend, Mona Locke. And I’d also like to introduce and thank my father, Jimmy Locke, who is with us today in the gallery up there. Dad, won’t you please stand up?

"While the many new faces in this room have changed the majority party in the Senate and brought the ultimate in bipartisan balance to the House, the challenges before us remain the same. In fact, as we prepare to enter a new century, our challenges have become more urgent. The message of the last election was clear. The people of our state want us to focus on issues over politics--plain and simple. Now, all of us, Republicans and Democrats alike, must say to them, ‘We are listening.’

"So, tonight I issue a challenge to this Legislature--a Legislature that is moving into historic times. And the challenge is this--a challenge to forge a partnership, a partnership to solve real problems. In the past two years, we’ve made good progress. Unemployment is low. Our children’s test scores are rising as our state’s tough, new academic standards and education reform take root. Our truly tenacious and brilliant Attorney General, Christine Gregoire, has slayed the nicotine dragon, and made possible new investments. She has made possible new investments in health care and disease prevention.
When I took office two years ago, there were 96,000 families on public assistance. Today, we have reduced welfare dependence by over thirty-three percent. We have truly begun to change the culture of state government, and to rebuild pride in public service. Our State Savings Incentive Plan has ended that 'spend it or lose it' mentality of state government, and freed up millions of dollars for school construction and technology. Later this month, we will give out the first, the historic first-ever tax refund to more than 100,000 businesses, thanks to their efforts to make their workplaces safer, and thanks to the wise management and efficiencies of our state employees.

We have been blessed with a strong economy and creative entrepreneurs who have broken all records in new job creation. There is, to be sure, economic uncertainty and hardship as a result of the Asian economic downturn. But, as we close the twentieth century, I’m proud to say the state of our state is vibrant, hopeful, and filled with promise. Clearly, our citizens want us to continue focusing on issues that concern everyday people and you know what that means in my book—education.

“Education, as you have heard me say so many times and many of you are now repeating this. Education is the great equalizer in our society, and now knowledge is the price of admission to the twenty-first century. That’s why my primary goal as Governor is to make Washington a state of learning—a state where every citizen, of every age, is involved in education—a state where learning is truly a way of life.

“Most of you, Republicans and Democrats alike, promised to focus on education. So, let us join together to make education the centerpiece of this Fifty-sixth Legislature, and to make Washington a state of learning. One hundred years ago, in the final days of the nineteenth century, Governor John Rogers stood before the Legislature and delivered the state of the state address. Governor Rogers was a former state legislator, and the prime sponsor of the ‘Barefoot Schoolboy Act,’ which established state funding for public schools. At that time, public schooling meant an eighth grade education for many of our children.

“In his 1899 speech, Governor Rogers called for something very controversial—extending public education from the eighth grade to the twelfth grade. He also asked the Legislature to fund circulating libraries in horse-drawn wagons, because he believed that if students developed a taste for good reading—quote—‘A vast and incalculable good would be done, and the character of the future men and women of our state would be elevated to a higher plane.’

“Today, as we stand on the cusp of another new century, it is vital that we reflect on what we have gained, and what we have learned in the last one hundred years. At the time of Governor Rogers’ 1899 speech, the population of our state was 500,000, and when he addressed the Legislature, he faced an all-male assembly. Women in Washington State were still eleven years away from winning the right to vote. Today, our state’s population is over five and one-half million, and still growing, and Washington holds the proud distinction of having the highest percentage of female legislators in the entire United States. That’s something to stand for! Some of you men better be careful not to stand, because you are on TVW.

“When Governor Rogers held office, industries freely dumped vast amounts of raw waste into our rivers and bays. Children as young as ten years old were working in our factories, and in most industries, people worked long hours, in dangerous conditions, and were totally without the most basic workers’ rights. Clearly, we have made progress in this century, but now we must chart our course for the next century.

“None of us can predict what our world will be like a hundred years from now. We know that our population will continue to grow and become more diverse, our technology and economy will be transformed, and scientific advances will continue to astonish us. Dramatic progress in medicine and health care will mean that many—perhaps most of all the children born this year—like the little brother or sister Emily is anticipating this spring—will actually live to see the beginning of the twenty-second century.

“Although we can see only the dimmest outline of what lies ahead, three things are imperative: First, to succeed in the coming century, education must become a larger part of all our lives, and education of our children must take on a higher priority. Second, we must learn to live in harmony with the natural world that sustains us, and we must protect the wild salmon, the rivers, the forests and the agricultural lands that will sustain the people of the twenty-first century and centuries beyond. Third, we must learn to live in harmony with each other. We must learn to be more civil, more respectful of our differences, and more appreciative of our diversity.

“If, in the next two years, our actions are guided by these three imperatives, we will do a good job of preparing our state for a new century and achieving Washington’s promise. The first—education—is the key. Let me tell you a little story that illustrates why. A few years ago, just after Microsoft stock went public, the husband of a former State Senator had a chat with a close friend of Bill Gates III. The husband asked the friend if she thought he should buy some Microsoft stock. And she said, ‘Oh, no, I don’t think so. They really don’t have any capital, or any assets to speak of. All they have is what’s in their brains.’

“That was spectacularly bad advice. What made it such bad advice was the failure to recognize that what’s in our brains is the most valuable asset of all. What’s in our brains is the economy’s most important form of capital. It’s no longer raw materials, or even wealth that new businesses need most. What they need is smart, well-educated people with good ideas. So, what’s in our brains is the critical source of our future prosperity.
"That’s why we need to pay much more attention to how young brains develop. We know now that learning begins at birth, and that the first three years of a child’s life are critical to creating a lifelong capacity for learning. That’s why our Commission on Early Learning, chaired by our First Lady and Melinda Gates, is working to ensure that every infant and every toddler gets the consistent affection and stimulation they need so they can love and learn to their fullest potential, throughout their entire lives. That is what it will take--that's what it will take--for every child to come to kindergarten ready to learn.

"Our next task, of course, is to make sure that every child, in every public school, does succeed and meets our state’s tough new academic standards. But, our schools need our help to do this. They need more teachers--and that’s why I’m proposing that we add 1,000 new teachers to our elementary schools. This will provide more individualized attention to more of our youngest students and we know that this will make a lasting difference. But, as even our youngest students will tell you, all teachers are not the same. We need not just more teachers, but more outstanding teachers. Higher expectations of students and higher expectations of teachers simply must go hand in hand. That’s why I’m proposing scholarships to outstanding teacher candidates in subjects like math and science, where we have shortages. That’s why I’m proposing that teachers must pass competency tests before they set foot in the classroom--and that’s why I want to give significant pay raises to the outstanding teachers who meet the tough standards of state and national certification.

"Just as importantly, we need to fundamentally change the way we finance our schools by creating incentives and rewards for helping students meet our tough new academic standards. Our state Learning Assistance Program provides extra funding and staffing for schools with large numbers of failing students. When students in those schools begin to improve, we cut the funding. Punishing schools for doing a good job makes no sense, and we must end this practice immediately and restructure the Learning Assistance Program. Indeed, schools that do a good job should be honored and rewarded. To do that, I’m proposing cash awards to elementary and middle schools where test scores improve three years in a row.

"If our schools are to improve, we need to free them from the control of Olympia and even their local central administrators and give them the flexibility and the tools they need to succeed. So, I call on you to create Opportunity School Districts--districts where money goes directly to individual schools--the individual buildings--which will have decision-making authority over spending vested in the principals, the teachers, and the parents, and where most state regulations will be completely waived. The most important thing our schools need is us--citizens of this state. Teachers can’t do it all by themselves. They need our time, our support, and our active involvement in the schools.

"In the past six months, the Washington Reading Corps has begun to make good on the promise of greater parent and citizen involvement in our schools all across the state. Today, over 9,000 volunteers have spent their time helping 19,788 children master the skill of reading, but many more children who need this help are still not getting it. So, I call on parents and citizens all across our state to be more involved in our schools, to help our children learn to read, and to help our schools become the best in the nation. It is my passionate belief, as it was the belief of Governor Rogers a hundred years ago, that a relentless focus on creating avid readers will do a vast and incalculable good and that it will help to raise the character of the future men and women of this state to a much higher plane.

"We must recognize that the ‘higher plane’ to which students must rise is far above the elevation imagined by Governor Rogers. Governor Rogers recognized that the transition from an agrarian economy to an industrial economy required the addition of a high school education. At the dawn of a new century, we must recognize that the transition from an industrial economy to a knowledge-based economy will require education beyond high school. That’s why I’m proposing the creation of Washington’s Promise Scholarships. These two-year college scholarships will be awarded to the top fifteen percent of every high school graduating class, starting with this year’s senior class. When our new tenth grade tests are in place, it will be awarded to every high school student that passes that test. It is my hope that eventually, it will be awarded to every single high school graduate, in recognition of the fact that the world of the twenty-first century simply requires a higher level of education.

"These two-year scholarships can be used at any public or private institution in our state. It will be available to students whose families make up to one hundred thirty-five percent of the median family income--not the poverty level--the median family income. For a family of four, that’s an income of $69,000 and for a family of five, it’s $82,000. These scholarships can be used for short-term technical training. A student might, for example, take a twelve week course, get a job, and then use the balance of the scholarship for periodic skill upgrades over the next several years. This represents a new way of thinking about what it means to get a college education.

"A college education is part of the American Dream, but today, the sad reality is that unless you’re from a high-income family or a low-income family that receives financial aid, paying for college is getting harder every single year. Going to college isn’t just a symbol of honor or distinction any more, it has become a necessity. So, it’s about time that we helped working and middle-class families realize the American Dream of a college education. The timing of this proposal is critical. We know that the baby-boom echo is about to result in a surge of new high school graduates who will want and need higher education. We also know that a record number of older adults are returning to school to change careers, to update their skills, or to enrich their own understanding of the world in which we live. All of this requires us to stretch our capacity of our higher education system.
"To do this, I am proposing that we make room for 10,000 more students in the next two years in our colleges and universities. I am also proposing the creation of the Washington Online College, which will help students of every age, in every part of our state, enroll in distance-learning courses with credit over the Internet. It isn’t enough to simply expand our colleges and universities. In our state today, our information technology industries have over 7,000 job openings, paying very high wages. Yet, our colleges and universities are graduating some 1,300 students a year with the appropriate degrees to fill these jobs. The result is that Washington companies are hiring workers from out of state and out of country. I want Washingtonians trained for Washington State jobs. We must therefore insist that our colleges and universities offer the courses that our students are demanding.

“A greater willingness to learn is also essential to saving our wild salmon. And we have to own up to the fact that, in the course of this century, we have been very slow learners on this subject. We’ve finally learned that salmon simply cannot live without abundant, clean, cold water in our rivers and streams. We’ve learned that our natural environment is finite and fragile, and that when we abuse our environment, there are measurable and often irreversible consequences, but the most important lesson is the one that Chief Seattle tried to teach us years ago. It is that we are a part of the web of life, and not its master or its architect.

“Salmon recovery is about much more than fish. It is about respect for the natural world that sustains us and if we fail to do what’s necessary for salmon, we will fail at something far larger than saving fish. We will fail at saving the very quality of life that makes living in the Pacific Northwest unique and distinctive. In addition to the long-term consequences of a degraded environment, we face a more immediate threat. If we fail to protect our wild salmon, the federal government will do it for us—and even to us. We will lose control over our land, our water, our farms and our forests. We will not let that happen without a fight and there is no guarantee, of course, that a federally-imposed salmon strategy would even work.

“The truth that every Washington State resident must know is that salmon recovery will affect all of us—even those of us who don’t fish, don’t live near streams, or don’t even like salmon. Restoring salmon and protecting our environment will affect decisions about where and how we build homes, and how and where we expand and start businesses. It will affect how we wash our cars and how we fertilize our lawns, and how much we pay for water and electricity. The longer we postpone the tough decisions needed to save our wild salmon, the higher the costs will be. That’s why I am calling for over $200 million in immediate state and federal investments to help local and tribal governments implement watershed recovery plans; to enforce the environmental laws we already have on the books; to remove barriers to fish in our streams; and to help farmers and timber owners protect salmon habitat.

“There’s something else that we need to learn, too. Over the past several decades, we’ve passed tough laws that keep criminals in prison much longer, but we need to learn that whether a convicted criminal is released after two years or ten years, they will come back to our communities. We made a mistake when we abolished the parole system in the early eighties. We need to fix that mistake by passing our proposed Offender Accountability Act and bringing back parole. This year, I am asking you to approve legislation that will help transform every state agency into the kind of nimble, adaptable organization that can change with the times, and provide high quality services. We need the authority to contract out state services to the private sector and let state employees compete for those contracts. We need to expand collective bargaining rights for state employees to the same degree now enjoyed by most city and county employees—and we need a simple, streamlined personnel and civil service system.

“There is so much more to do. I’ll be sending you proposals to create prosperous rural communities that attract high-tech, high-wage jobs and encourage existing businesses to grow and expand. We must provide real demonstrable relief from the traffic congestion that impedes economic growth and drives commuters crazy. We must ensure that our elders are able to live independently for as long as possible and we simply must invest in decent housing for the farm workers who harvest the food we eat.

“This is the mindset of our agenda. Instead of standing at the bottom of the cliff with an ambulance and a stretcher, we want state government to be at the top of the cliff, building fences. We want our children to get the education they need to succeed in the twenty-first century, so they won’t ever have to apply for welfare. We want to help children move up the career ladder once they get a job, rather than just paying them to be poor. We want to help people stay healthy, rather than just paying the bills when they get sick. We want to preserve and protect our natural resources rather than waiting until the last wild salmon disappears, and we want to prevent the crime, the child neglect, and the anguish caused by drug abuse, rather than picking up the pieces of broken lives and broken families.

“To accomplish all this—to forge successful partnerships, to solve real problems, and to focus on issues over politics—we must keep in mind that third imperative-- the imperative of living in harmony with each other. Here in Olympia, that translates to keeping our minds open to new ideas, regardless of whether they come from Democrats or Republicans, from the executive branch or the Legislature. We must not demean one another, exaggerate our differences, or impugn the motives of those with whom we disagree. We must work harder at respecting our differences, and remembering that even in the heat of debate, we owe each other and the people we serve the highest standard of civility and honesty.

“We simply must hold fast to the values embraced by generations of the Locke family and families all across our state--get a good education, work hard, and take care of each other. I’d like to introduce some people who embody those values--people who remind us of the power all of us have to make a positive difference in the future of our state:

"Meet Margaret Banks, an outstanding teacher from Vancouver who’s won certification by the prestigious National Board for Professional Teaching Standards, at great expense to herself, and without any accompanying compensation from her school district. Thank you, Margaret, for your commitment to education.

"Next, please welcome Teddy McDaniel, a fifth grader from Cedar Valley Elementary School in Lynnwood, and Cindy Anderson, his Reading Corps tutor. Teddy wrote me a letter to tell me how much difference a summer reading academy made in his young life. This year he’s moved up to a higher reading group, and the other kids don’t laugh at him any more when he reads out loud. Teddy wrote, ‘School is better for me this year and everyone is proud of me and I’m proud of myself.’ We’re proud of you, Teddy. Keep up the good work.

"Next, please welcome Angela Grass, a single mom and WorkFirst participant who has been on public assistance for several years, but is now off, doing well in her new job, thanks in part to the help she received from her case manager, Lisa Wheaton, and Kimberly Metcalf, her Employment Security job counselor. Good luck to you Angela and thank you Lisa and Kimberly and all the state employees who have really changed the corporate culture of our welfare offices to be job counselors instead of just eligibility determiners. Thank you very much.

"And finally, I’d like to introduce Hazel Wolf, who was born in 1898. I actually met Hazel in 1990--count that back--when she was over ninety years old. We were on a hike together on the Mountains-to-Sound Greenways Trust. Hazel has said that her ambition is to live into the twenty-first century so that she’ll have the distinction of having been alive in three centuries. Hazel is a lifelong environmental activist who has taught generations of children to be good stewards of the natural world. She is the perfect embodiment of the spirit of both our best and most enduring values, and the appetite for adventure and learning that the beginning of a new century evokes. Hazel, you are going to do it.

"These are the people who show us the way to make Washington State a state of learning and to achieve Washington’s promise. These are the people who show us that the longer we live, the more we can give--to our families, our communities, and our state. A hundred years from now, today’s elected officials will be but mere photographs on the walls of this magnificent building. Our chance to make a difference for the people and the future of our state is brief and fleeting. We must make the most of it, so let us commit to preparing the way for a new century, and a new era of hope, opportunity, and a life of learning.

"Thank you all very much and God Bless You.”

President Owen: "We are once again truly honored to have the very dignified and gracious First Mom of the First Baby Emily with us this evening. May I present the First Lady, Mona Lee Locke? It is now my pleasure to present the Governor of the great state of Washington to give his State of the State address. His Excellency, the Honorable Gary Locke."

STATE OF THE STATE ADDRESS
BY GOVERNOR GARY LOCKE

Governor Locke: "Mr. President, Mr. Speaker or Mr. Co-Speakers, Honorable Chief Justice, distinguished Justices of the Washington State Supreme Court, statewide elected officials, members of the Washington State Legislature, Congressman Adam Smith and Sarah, the other elected officials, members of the Consular Association, and fellow citizens. What a difference a year makes. I am pleased to welcome many friends back to Olympia, and to greet the new members of this historic Fifty-sixth Legislature of the great state of Washington. Each of you has worked very hard to be here, and I share your sense of pride in the opportunity to serve the people of our great state of Washington. Every elected official in this room knows, however, that we didn’t get here by ourselves. We owe so much to our families. That’s why I would like to begin today by introducing and thanking once again this state’s First Lady—First Mom—and my deepest friend, Mona Locke. And I’d also like to introduce and thank my father, Jimmy Locke, who is with us today in the gallery up there. Dad, won’t you please stand up?"
"While the many new faces in this room have changed the majority party in the Senate and brought the ultimate in bipartisan balance to the House, the challenges before us remain the same. In fact, as we prepare to enter a new century, our challenges have become more urgent. The message of the last election was clear. The people of our state want us to focus on issues over politics--plain and simple. Now, all of us, Republicans and Democrats alike, must say to them, 'We are listening.'

"So, tonight I issue a challenge to this Legislature--a Legislature that is moving into historic times. And the challenge is this--a challenge to forge a partnership, a partnership to solve real problems. In the past two years, we’ve made good progress. Unemployment is low. Our children’s test scores are rising as our state’s tough, new academic standards and education reform take root. Our truly tenacious and brilliant Attorney General, Christine Gregoire, has slayed the nicotine dragon, and made possible new investments. She has made possible new investments in health care and disease prevention.

"When I took office two years ago, there were 96,000 families on public assistance. Today, we have reduced welfare dependence by over thirty-three percent. We have truly begun to change the culture of state government, and to rebuild pride in public service. Our State Savings Incentive Plan has ended that 'spend it or lose it' mentality of state government, and freed up millions of dollars for school construction and technology. Later this month, we will give out the first, the historic first-ever tax refund to more than 100,000 businesses, thanks to their efforts to make their workplaces safer, and thanks to the wise management and efficiencies of our state employees.

"We have been blessed with a strong economy and creative entrepreneurs who have broken all records in new job creation. There is, to be sure, economic uncertainty and hardship as a result of the Asian economic downturn. But, as we close the twentieth century, I’m proud to say the state of our state is vibrant, hopeful, and filled with promise. Clearly, our citizens want us to continue focusing on issues that concern everyday people and you know what that means in my book--education.

"Education, as you have heard me say so many times and many of you are now repeating this. Education is the great equalizer in our society, and now knowledge is the price of admission to the twenty-first century. That’s why my primary goal as Governor is to make Washington a state of learning--a state where every citizen, of every age, is involved in education--a state where learning is truly a way of life.

"Most of you, Republicans and Democrats alike, promised to focus on education. So, let us join together to make education the centerpiece of this Fifty-sixth Legislature, and to make Washington a state of learning. One hundred years ago, in the final days of the nineteenth century, Governor John Rogers stood before the Legislature and delivered the state of the state address. Governor Rogers was a former state legislator, and the prime sponsor of the 'Barefoot Schoolboy Act,' which established state funding for public schools. At that time, public schooling meant an eighth grade education for many of our children.

"In his 1899 speech, Governor Rogers called for something very controversial--extending public education from the eighth grade to the twelfth grade. He also asked the Legislature to fund circulating libraries in horse-drawn wagons, because he believed that if students developed a taste for good reading--quote--'A vast and incalculable good would be done, and the character of the future men and women of our state would be elevated to a higher plane.'

"Today, as we stand on the cusp of another new century, it is vital that we reflect on what we have gained, and what we have learned in the last one hundred years. At the time of Governor Rogers’ 1899 speech, the population of our state was 500,000, and when he addressed the Legislature, he faced an all-male assembly. Women in Washington State were still eleven years away from winning the right to vote. Today, our state’s population is over five and one-half million, and still growing, and Washington holds the proud distinction of having the highest percentage of female legislators in the entire United States. That's something to stand for! Some of you men better be careful not to stand, because you are on TVW.

"When Governor Rogers held office, industries freely dumped vast amounts of raw waste into our rivers and bays. Children as young as ten years old were working in our factories, and in most industries, people worked long hours, in dangerous conditions, and were totally without the most basic workers' rights. Clearly, we have made progress in this century, but now we must chart our course for the next century.

"None of us can predict what our world will be like a hundred years from now. We know that our population will continue to grow and become more diverse, our technology and economy will be transformed, and scientific advances will continue to astonish us. Dramatic progress in medicine and health care will mean that many--perhaps most of all the children born this year--like the little brother or sister Emily is anticipating this spring--will actually live to see the beginning of the twenty-second century.

"Although we can see only the dimmest outline of what lies ahead, three things are imperative: First, to succeed in the coming century, education must become a larger part of all our lives, and education of our children must take on a higher priority. Second, we must learn to live in harmony with the natural world that sustains us, and we must protect the wild salmon, the rivers, the forests and the agricultural lands that will sustain the people of the twenty-first century and centuries beyond. Third, we must learn to live in harmony with each other. We must learn to be more civil, more respectful of our differences, and more appreciative of our diversity.
"If, in the next two years, our actions are guided by these three imperatives, we will do a good job of preparing our state for a new century and achieving Washington’s promise. The first—education—is the key. Let me tell you a little story that illustrates why. A few years ago, just after Microsoft stock went public, the husband of a former State Senator had a chat with a close friend of Bill Gates III. The husband asked the friend if she thought he should buy some Microsoft stock. And she said, 'Oh, no, I don’t think so. They really don’t have any capital, or any assets to speak of. All they have is what’s in their brains.’

"That was spectacularly bad advice. What made it such bad advice was the failure to recognize that what’s in our brains is the most valuable asset of all. What’s in our brains is the economy’s most important form of capital. It’s no longer raw materials, or even wealth that new businesses need most. What they need is smart, well-educated people with good ideas. So, what’s in our brains is the critical source of our future prosperity.

"That’s why we need to pay much more attention to how young brains develop. We know now that learning begins at birth, and that the first three years of a child’s life are critical to creating a lifelong capacity for learning. That’s why our Commission on Early Learning, chaired by our First Lady and Melinda Gates, is working to ensure that every infant and every toddler gets the consistent affection and stimulation they need so they can love and learn to their fullest potential, throughout their entire lives. That is what it will take—that’s what it will take—for every child to come to kindergarten ready to learn.

"Our next task, of course, is to make sure that every child, in every public school, does succeed and meets our state’s tough new academic standards. But, our schools need our help to do this. They need more teachers—and that’s why I’m proposing that we add 1,000 new teachers to our elementary schools. This will provide more individualized attention to more of our youngest students and we know that this will make a lasting difference. But, as even our youngest students will tell you, all teachers are not the same. We need not just more teachers, but more outstanding teachers. Higher expectations of students and higher expectations of teachers simply must go hand in hand. That’s why I’m proposing scholarships to outstanding teacher candidates in subjects like math and science, where we have shortages. That’s why I’m proposing that teachers must pass competency tests before they set foot in the classroom—and that’s why I want to give significant pay raises to the outstanding teachers who meet the tough standards of state and national certification.

"Just as importantly, we need to fundamentally change the way we finance our schools by creating incentives and rewards for helping students meet our tough new academic standards. Our state Learning Assistance Program provides extra funding and staffing for schools with large numbers of failing students. When students in those schools begin to improve, we cut the funding. Punishing schools for doing a good job makes no sense, and we must end this practice immediately and restructure the Learning Assistance Program. Indeed, schools that do a good job should be honored and rewarded. To do that, I’m proposing cash awards to elementary and middle schools where test scores improve three years in a row.

"If our schools are to improve, we need to free them from the control of Olympia and even their local central administrators and give them the flexibility and the tools they need to succeed. So, I call on you to create Opportunity School Districts—districts where money goes directly to individual schools—the individual buildings—which will have decision-making authority over spending vested in the principals, the teachers, and the parents, and where most state regulations will be completely waived. The most important thing our schools need is us—citizens of this state. Teachers can’t do it all by themselves. They need our time, our support, and our active involvement in the schools.

"In the past six months, the Washington Reading Corps has begun to make good on the promise of greater parent and citizen involvement in our schools all across the state. Today, over 9,000 volunteers have spent their time helping 19,788 children master the skill of reading, but many more children who need this help are still not getting it. So, I call on parents and citizens all across our state to be more involved in our schools, to help our children learn to read, and to help our schools become the best in the nation. It is my passionate belief, as it was the belief of Governor Rogers a hundred years ago, that a relentless focus on creating avid readers will do a vast and incalculable good and that it will help to raise the character of the future men and women of this state to a much higher plane.

"We must recognize that the 'higher plane' to which students must rise is far above the elevation imagined by Governor Rogers. Governor Rogers recognized that the transition from an agrarian economy to an industrial economy required the addition of a high school education. At the dawn of a new century, we must recognize that the transition from an industrial economy to a knowledge-based economy will require education beyond high school. That’s why I’m proposing the creation of Washington’s Promise Scholarships. These two-year college scholarships will be awarded to the top fifteen percent of every high school graduating class, starting with this year’s senior class. When our new tenth grade tests are in place, it will be awarded to every high school student that passes that test. It is my hope that eventually, it will be awarded to every single high school graduate, in recognition of the fact that the world of the twenty-first century simply requires a higher level of education.

"These two-year scholarships can be used at any public or private institution in our state. It will be available to students whose families make up to one hundred thirty-five percent of the median family income—not the poverty level—the median family income. For a family of four, that’s an income of $69,000 and for a family of five, it’s $82,000. These scholarships can be used for short-term technical training. A student might, for example, take a twelve week course, get a job, and then use the balance of the scholarship for periodic skill upgrades over the next several years. This represents a new way of thinking about what it means to get a college education.

“A college education is part of the American Dream, but today, the sad reality is that unless you’re from a high-income family or a low-income family that receives financial aid, paying for college is getting harder every single year. Going to college isn’t just a symbol of honor or distinction any more, it has become a necessity. So, it’s about time that we helped working and middle-class families realize the American Dream of a college education. The timing of this proposal is critical. We know that the baby-boom echo is about to result in a surge of new high school graduates who will want and need higher education. We also know that a record number of older adults are returning to school to change careers, to update their skills, or to enrich their own understanding of the world in which we live. All of this requires us to stretch our capacity of our higher education system.

“To do this, I am proposing that we make room for 10,000 more students in the next two years in our colleges and universities. I am also proposing the creation of the Washington Online College, which will help students of every age, in every part of our state, enroll in distance-learning courses with credit over the Internet. It isn’t enough to simply expand our colleges and universities. In our state today, our information technology industries have over 7,000 job openings, paying very high wages. Yet, our colleges and universities are graduating some 1,300 students a year with the appropriate degrees to fill these jobs. The result is that Washington companies are hiring workers from out of state and out of country. I want Washingtonians trained for Washington State jobs. We must therefore insist that our colleges and universities offer the courses that our students are demanding.

“A greater willingness to learn is also essential to saving our wild salmon. And we have to own up to the fact that, in the course of this century, we have been very slow learners on this subject. We’ve finally learned that salmon simply cannot live without abundant, clean, cold water in our rivers and streams. We’ve learned that our natural environment is finite and fragile, and that when we abuse our environment, there are measurable and often irreversible consequences, but the most important lesson is the one that Chief Seattle tried to teach us years ago. It is that we are a part of the web of life, and not its master or its architect.

“Salmon recovery is about much more than fish. It is about respect for the natural world that sustains us and if we fail to do what’s necessary for salmon, we will fail at something far larger than saving fish. We will fail at saving the very quality of life that makes living in the Pacific Northwest unique and distinctive. In addition to the long-term consequences of a degraded environment, we face a more immediate threat. If we fail to protect our wild salmon, the federal government will do it for us—and even to us. We will lose control over our land, our water, our farms and our forests. We will not let that happen without a fight and there is no guarantee, of course, that a federally-imposed salmon strategy would even work.

“The truth that every Washington State resident must know is that salmon recovery will affect all of us—even those of us who don’t fish, don’t live near streams, or don’t even like salmon. Restoring salmon and protecting our environment will affect decisions about where and how we build homes, and how and where we expand and start businesses. It will affect how we wash our cars and how we fertilize our lawns, and how much we pay for water and electricity. The longer we postpone the tough decisions needed to save our wild salmon, the higher the costs will be. That’s why I am calling for over $200 million in immediate state and federal investments to help local and tribal governments implement watershed recovery plans; to enforce the environmental laws we already have on the books; to remove barriers to fish in our streams; and to help farmers and timber owners protect salmon habitat.

“There’s something else that we need to learn, too. Over the past several decades, we’ve passed tough laws that keep criminals in prison much longer, but we need to learn that whether a convicted criminal is released after two years or ten years, they will come back to our communities. We made a mistake when we abolished the parole system in the early eighties. We need to fix that mistake by passing our proposed Offender Accountability Act and bringing back parole. This year, I am asking you to approve legislation that will help transform every state agency into the kind of nimble, adaptable organization that can change with the times, and provide high quality services. We need the authority to contract out state services to the private sector and let state employees compete for those contracts. We need to expand collective bargaining rights for state employees to the same degree now enjoyed by most city and county employees—and we need a simple, streamlined personnel and civil service system.

“There is so much more to do. I’ll be sending you proposals to create prosperous rural communities that attract high-tech, high-wage jobs and encourage existing businesses to grow and expand. We must provide real demonstrable relief from the traffic congestion that impedes economic growth and drives commuters crazy. We must ensure that our elders are able to live independently for as long as possible and we simply must invest in decent housing for the farm workers who harvest the food we eat.

“This is the mindset of our agenda. Instead of standing at the bottom of the cliff with an ambulance and a stretcher, we want state government to be at the top of the cliff, building fences. We want our children to get the education they need to succeed in the twenty-first century, so they won’t ever have to apply for welfare. We want to help children move up the career ladder once they get a job, rather than just paying them to be poor. We want to help people stay healthy, rather than just paying the bills when they get sick. We want to preserve and protect our natural resources rather than waiting until the last wild salmon disappears, and we want to prevent the crime, the child neglect, and the anguish caused by drug abuse, rather than picking up the pieces of broken lives and broken families.

“To accomplish all this—to forge successful partnerships, to solve real problems, and to focus on issues over politics—we must keep in mind that third imperative—the imperative of living in harmony with each other. Here in Olympia, that translates to keeping our minds open to new ideas, regardless of whether they come from Democrats or Republicans, from the executive branch or the Legislature. We must not demean one another, exaggerate our differences, or impugn the motives of those with whom we disagree. We must work harder at respecting our differences, and remembering that even in the heat of debate, we owe each other and the people we serve the highest standard of civility and honesty.

“We simply must hold fast to the values embraced by generations of the Locke family and families all across our state—get a good education, work hard, and take care of each other. I’d like to introduce some people who embody those values—people who remind us of the power all of us have to make a positive difference in the future of our state:

“Meet Margaret Banks, an outstanding teacher from Vancouver who’s won certification by the prestigious National Board for Professional Teaching Standards, at great expense to herself, and without any accompanying compensation from her school district. Thank you, Margaret, for your commitment to education.

“Next, please welcome Teddy McDaniel, a fifth grader from Cedar Valley Elementary School in Lynnwood, and Cindy Anderson, his Reading Corps tutor. Teddy wrote me a letter to tell me how much difference a summer reading academy made in his young life. This year he’s moved up to a higher reading group, and the other kids don’t laugh at him any more when he reads out loud. Teddy wrote, ‘School is better for me this year and everyone is proud of me and I’m proud of myself.’ We’re proud of you, Teddy. Keep up the good work.

“Next, please welcome Angela Grasser, a single mom and WorkFirst participant who has been on public assistance for several years, but is now off, doing well in her new job, thanks in part to the help she received from her case manager, Lisa Wheaton, and Kimberly Metcalf, her Employment Security job counselor. Good luck to you Angela and thank you Lisa and Kimberly and all the state employees who have really changed the corporate culture of our welfare offices to be job counselors instead of just eligibility determiners. Thank you very much.

“And finally, I’d like to introduce Hazel Wolf, who was born in 1898. I actually met Hazel in 1990—count that back—when she was over ninety years old. We were on a hike together on the Mountains-to-Sound Greenways Trust. Hazel has said that her ambition is to live into the twenty-first century so that she’ll have the distinction of having been alive in three centuries. Hazel is a lifelong environmental activist who has taught generations of children to be good stewards of the natural world. She is the perfect embodiment of the spirit of both our best and most enduring values, and the appetite for adventure and learning that the beginning of a new century evokes. Hazel, you are going to do it.

“These are the people who show us the way to make Washington State a state of learning and to achieve Washington’s promise. These are the people who show us that the longer we live, the more we can give—to our families, our communities, and our state. A hundred years from now, today’s elected officials will be but mere photographs on the walls of this magnificent building. Our chance to make a difference for the people and the future of our state is brief and fleeting. We must make the most of it, so let us commit to preparing the way for a new century, and a new era of hope, opportunity, and a life of learning.

“Thank you all very much and God Bless You.”

It is now my pleasure to present the Governor of the great state of Washington to give his State of the State address. His Excellency, the Honorable Gary Locke."

STATE OF THE STATE ADDRESS

BY GOVERNOR GARY LOCKE

Governor Locke: "Mr. President, Mr. Speaker or Mr. Co-Speakers, Honorable Chief Justice, distinguished Justices of the Washington State Supreme Court, statewide elected officials, members of the Washington State Legislature, Congressman Adam Smith and Sarah, the other elected officials, members of the Consular Association, and fellow citizens. What a difference a year makes. I am pleased to welcome many friends back to Olympia, and to greet the new members of this historic Fifty-sixth Legislature of the great state of Washington. Each of you has worked very hard to be here, and I share your sense of pride in the opportunity to serve the people of our great state of Washington. Every elected official in this room knows, however, that we didn’t get here by ourselves. We owe so much to our families. That’s why I would like to begin today by introducing and thanking once again this state’s First Lady—First Mom—and my deepest friend, Mona Locke. And I’d also like to introduce and thank my father, Jimmy Locke, who is with us today in the gallery up there. Dad, won’t you please stand up?"
While the many new faces in this room have changed the majority party in the Senate and brought the ultimate in bipartisan balance to the House, the challenges before us remain the same. In fact, as we prepare to enter a new century, our challenges have become more urgent. The message of the last election was clear. The people of our state want us to focus on issues over politics—plain and simple. Now, all of us, Republicans and Democrats alike, must say to them, ‘We are listening.’

So, tonight I issue a challenge to this Legislature—a Legislature that is moving into historic times. And the challenge is this—a challenge to forge a partnership, a partnership to solve real problems. In the past two years, we’ve made good progress. Unemployment is low. Our children’s test scores are rising as our state’s tough, new academic standards and education reform take root. Our truly tenacious and brilliant Attorney General, Christine Gregoire, has slayed the nicotine dragon, and made possible new investments. She has made possible new investments in health care and disease prevention.

When I took office two years ago, there were 96,000 families on public assistance. Today, we have reduced welfare dependence by over thirty-three percent. We have truly begun to change the culture of state government, and to rebuild pride in public service. Our State Savings Incentive Plan has ended that ‘spend it or lose it’ mentality of state government, and freed up millions of dollars for school construction and technology. Later this month, we will give out the first, the historic first-ever tax refund to more than 100,000 businesses, thanks to their efforts to make their workplaces safer, and thanks to the wise management and efficiencies of our state employees.

We have been blessed with a strong economy and creative entrepreneurs who have broken all records in new job creation. There is, to be sure, economic uncertainty and hardship as a result of the Asian economic downturn. But, as we close the twentieth century, I’m proud to say that the state of our state is vibrant, hopeful, and filled with promise. Clearly, our citizens want us to continue focusing on issues that concern everyday people and you know what that means in my book—education.

‘Education, as you have heard me say so many times and many of you are now repeating this. Education is the great equalizer in our society, and now knowledge is the price of admission to the twenty-first century. That’s why my primary goal as Governor is to make Washington a state of learning—a state where every citizen, of every age, is involved in education—a state where learning is truly a way of life.

Most of you, Republicans and Democrats alike, promised to focus on education. So, let us join together to make education the centerpiece of this Fifty-sixth Legislature, and to make Washington a state of learning. One hundred years ago, in the final days of the nineteenth century, Governor John Rogers stood before the Legislature and delivered the state of the state address. Governor Rogers was a former state legislator, and the prime sponsor of the ‘Barefoot Schoolboy Act,’ which established state funding for public schools. At that time, public schooling meant an eighth grade education for many of our children.

‘In his 1899 speech, Governor Rogers called for something very controversial—extending public education from the eighth grade to the twelfth grade. He also asked the Legislature to fund circulating libraries in horse-drawn wagons, because he believed that if students developed a taste for good reading—quote—‘A vast and incalculable good would be done, and the character of the future men and women of our state would be elevated to a higher plane.’

Today, as we stand on the cusp of another new century, it is vital that we reflect on what we have gained, and what we have learned in the last one hundred years. At the time of Governor Rogers’ 1899 speech, the population of our state was 500,000, and when he addressed the Legislature, he faced an all-male assembly. Women in Washington State were still eleven years away from winning the right to vote. Today, our state’s population is over five and one-half million, and still growing, and Washington holds the proud distinction of having the highest percentage of female legislators in the entire United States. That's something to stand for! Some of you men better be careful not to stand, because you are on TVW.

When Governor Rogers held office, industries freely dumped vast amounts of raw waste into our rivers and bays. Children as young as ten years old were working in our factories, and in most industries, people worked long hours, in dangerous conditions, and were totally without the most basic workers’ rights. Clearly, we have made progress in this century, but now we must chart our course for the next century.

None of us can predict what our world will be like a hundred years from now. We know that our population will continue to grow and become more diverse, our technology and economy will be transformed, and scientific advances will continue to astonish us. Dramatic progress in medicine and health care will mean that many—perhaps most of all the children born this year—like the little brother or sister Emily is anticipating this spring—will actually live to see the beginning of the twenty-second century.

Although we can see only the dimmest outline of what lies ahead, three things are imperative: First, to succeed in the coming century, education must become a larger part of all our lives, and education of our children must take on a higher priority. Second, we must learn to live in harmony with the natural world that sustains us, and we must protect the wild salmon, the rivers, the forests and the agricultural lands that will sustain the people of the twenty-first century and centuries beyond. Third, we must learn to live in harmony with each other. We must learn to be more civil, more respectful of our differences, and more appreciative of our diversity.
"If, in the next two years, our actions are guided by these three imperatives, we will do a good job of preparing our state for a new century and achieving Washington’s promise. The first—education—is the key. Let me tell you a little story that illustrates why. A few years ago, just after Microsoft stock went public, the husband of a former State Senator had a chat with a close friend of Bill Gates III. The husband asked the friend if she thought he should buy some Microsoft stock. And she said, 'Oh, no, I don’t think so. They really don’t have any capital, or any assets to speak of. All they have is what’s in their brains.’

That was spectacularly bad advice. What made it such bad advice was the failure to recognize that what’s in our brains is the most valuable asset of all. What’s in our brains is the economy’s most important form of capital. It’s no longer raw materials, or even wealth that new businesses need most. What they need is smart, well-educated people with good ideas. So, what’s in our brains is the critical source of our future prosperity.

That’s why we need to pay much more attention to how young brains develop. We know now that learning begins at birth, and that the first three years of a child’s life are critical to creating a lifelong capacity for learning. That’s why our Commission on Early Learning, chaired by our First Lady and Melinda Gates, is working to ensure that every infant and every toddler gets the consistent affection and stimulation they need so they can love and learn to their fullest potential, throughout their entire lives. That is what it will take—that’s what it will take—for every child to come to kindergarten ready to learn.

Our next task, of course, is to make sure that every child, in every public school, does succeed and meets our state’s tough new academic standards. But, our schools need our help to do this. They need more teachers—and that’s why I’m proposing that we add 1,000 new teachers to our elementary schools. This will provide more individualized attention to more of our youngest students and we know that this will make a lasting difference. But, as even our youngest students will tell you, all teachers are not the same. We need not just more teachers, but more outstanding teachers. Higher expectations of students and higher expectations of teachers simply must go hand in hand. That’s why I’m proposing scholarships to outstanding teacher candidates in subjects like math and science, where we have shortages. That’s why I’m proposing that teachers must pass competency tests before they set foot in the classroom—and that’s why I want to give significant pay raises to the outstanding teachers who meet the tough standards of state and national certification.

Just as importantly, we need to fundamentally change the way we finance our schools by creating incentives and rewards for helping students meet our tough new academic standards. Our state Learning Assistance Program provides extra funding and staffing for schools with large numbers of failing students. When students in those schools begin to improve, we cut the funding. Punishing schools for doing a good job makes no sense, and we must end this practice immediately and restructure the Learning Assistance Program. Indeed, schools that do a good job should be honored and rewarded. To do that, I’m proposing cash awards to elementary and middle schools where test scores improve three years in a row.

"If our schools are to improve, we need to free them from the control of Olympia and even their local central administrators and give them the flexibility and the tools they need to succeed. So, I call on you to create Opportunity School Districts—districts where money goes directly to individual schools—the individual buildings—which will have decision-making authority over spending vested in the principals, the teachers, and the parents, and where most state regulations will be completely waived. The most important thing our schools need is us—citizens of this state. Teachers can’t do it all by themselves. They need our time, our support, and our active involvement in the schools.

In the past six months, the Washington Reading Corps has begun to make good on the promise of greater parent and citizen involvement in our schools all across the state. Today, over 9,000 volunteers have spent their time helping 19,788 children master the skill of reading, but many more children who need this help are still not getting it. So, I call on parents and citizens all across our state to be more involved in our schools, to help our children learn to read, and to help our schools become the best in the nation. It is my passionate belief, as it was the belief of Governor Rogers a hundred years ago, that a relentless focus on creating avid readers will do a vast and incalculable good and that it will help to raise the character of the future men and women of this state to a much higher plane.

"We must recognize that the 'higher plane' to which students must rise is far above the elevation imagined by Governor Rogers. Governor Rogers recognized that the transition from an agrarian economy to an industrial economy required the addition of a high school education. At the dawn of a new century, we must recognize that the transition from an industrial economy to a knowledge-based economy will require education beyond high school. That’s why I’m proposing the creation of Washington’s Promise Scholarships. These two-year college scholarships will be awarded to the top fifteen percent of every high school graduating class, starting with this year’s senior class. When our new tenth grade tests are in place, it will be awarded to every high school student that passes that test. It is my hope that eventually, it will be awarded to every single high school graduate, in recognition of the fact that the world of the twenty-first century simply requires a higher level of education.

These two-year scholarships can be used at any public or private institution in our state. It will be available to students whose families make up to one hundred thirty-five percent of the median family income—not the poverty level—the median family income. For a family of four, that’s an income of $69,000 and for a family of five, it’s $82,000. These scholarships can be used for short-term technical training. A student might, for example, take a twelve week course, get a job, and then use the balance of the scholarship for periodic skill upgrades over the next several years. This represents a new way of thinking about what it means to get a college education.

“A college education is part of the American Dream, but today, the sad reality is that unless you’re from a high-income family or a low-income family that receives financial aid, paying for college is getting harder every single year. Going to college isn’t just a symbol of honor or distinction any more, it has become a necessity. So, it’s about time that we helped working and middle-class families realize the American Dream of a college education. The timing of this proposal is critical. We know that the baby-boom echo is about to result in a surge of new high school graduates who will want and need higher education. We also know that a record number of older adults are returning to school to change careers, to update their skills, or to enrich their own understanding of the world in which we live. All of this requires us to stretch our capacity of our higher education system.

“To do this, I am proposing that we make room for 10,000 more students in the next two years in our colleges and universities. I am also proposing the creation of the Washington Online College, which will help students of every age, in every part of our state, enroll in distance-learning courses with credit over the Internet. It isn’t enough to simply expand our colleges and universities. In our state today, our information technology industries have over 7,000 job openings, paying very high wages. Yet, our colleges and universities are graduating some 1,300 students a year with the appropriate degrees to fill these jobs. The result is that Washington companies are hiring workers from out of state and out of country. I want Washingtonians trained for Washington State jobs. We must therefore insist that our colleges and universities offer the courses that our students are demanding.

“A greater willingness to learn is also essential to saving our wild salmon. And we have to own up to the fact that, in the course of this century, we have been very slow learners on this subject. We’ve finally learned that salmon simply cannot live without abundant, clean, cold water in our rivers and streams. We’ve learned that our natural environment is finite and fragile, and that when we abuse our environment, there are measurable and often irreversible consequences, but the most important lesson is the one that Chief Seattle tried to teach us years ago. It is that we are a part of the web of life, and not its master or its architect.

“Salmon recovery is about much more than fish. It is about respect for the natural world that sustains us and if we fail to do what’s necessary for salmon, we will fail at something far larger than saving fish. We will fail at saving the very quality of life that makes living in the Pacific Northwest unique and distinctive. In addition to the long-term consequences of a degraded environment, we face a more immediate threat. If we fail to protect our wild salmon, the federal government will do it for us--and even to us. We will lose control over our land, our water, our farms and our forests. We will not let that happen without a fight and there is no guarantee, of course, that a federally-imposed salmon strategy would even work.

“The truth that every Washington State resident must know is that salmon recovery will affect all of us--even those of us who don’t fish, don’t live near streams, or don’t even like salmon. Restoring salmon and protecting our environment will affect decisions about where and how we build homes, and how and where we expand and start businesses. It will affect how we wash our cars and how we fertilize our lawns, and how much we pay for water and electricity. The longer we postpone the tough decisions needed to save our wild salmon, the higher the costs will be. That’s why I am calling for over $200 million in immediate state and federal investments to help local and tribal governments implement watershed recovery plans; to enforce the environmental laws we already have on the books; to remove barriers to fish in our streams; and to help farmers and timber owners protect salmon habitat.

“There’s something else that we need to learn, too. Over the past several decades, we’ve passed tough laws that keep criminals in prison much longer, but we need to learn that whether a convicted criminal is released after two years or ten years, they will come back to our communities. We made a mistake when we abolished the parole system in the early eighties. We need to fix that mistake by passing our proposed Offender Accountability Act and bringing back parole. This year, I am asking you to approve legislation that will help transform every state agency into the kind of nimble, adaptable organization that can change with the times, and provide high quality services. We need the authority to contract out state services to the private sector and let state employees compete for those contracts. We need to expand collective bargaining rights for state employees to the same degree now enjoyed by most city and county employees--and we need a simple, streamlined personnel and civil service system.

“There is so much more to do. I’ll be sending you proposals to create prosperous rural communities that attract high-tech, high-wage jobs and encourage existing businesses to grow and expand. We must provide real demonstrable relief from the traffic congestion that impedes economic growth and drives commuters crazy. We must ensure that our elders are able to live independently for as long as possible and we simply must invest in decent housing for the farm workers who harvest the food we eat.

“This is the mindset of our agenda. Instead of standing at the bottom of the cliff with an ambulance and a stretcher, we want state government to be at the top of the cliff, building fences. We want our children to get the education they need to succeed in the twenty-first century, so they won’t ever have to apply for welfare. We want to help children move up the career ladder once they get a job, rather than just paying them to be poor. We want to help people stay healthy, rather than just paying the bills when they get sick. We want to preserve and protect our natural resources rather than waiting until the last wild salmon disappears, and we want to prevent the crime, the child neglect, and the anguish caused by drug abuse, rather than picking up the pieces of broken lives and broken families.

“To accomplish all this—to forge successful partnerships, to solve real problems, and to focus on issues over politics—we must keep in mind that third imperative—the imperative of living in harmony with each other. Here in Olympia, that translates to keeping our minds open to new ideas, regardless of whether they come from Democrats or Republicans, from the executive branch or the Legislature. We must not demean one another, exaggerate our differences, or impugn the motives of those with whom we disagree. We must work harder at respecting our differences, and remembering that even in the heat of debate, we owe each other and the people we serve the highest standard of civility and honesty.

“We simply must hold fast to the values embraced by generations of the Locke family and families all across our state—get a good education, work hard, and take care of each other. I’d like to introduce some people who embody those values—people who remind us of the power all of us have to make a positive difference in the future of our state:

“Meet Margaret Banks, an outstanding teacher from Vancouver who’s won certification by the prestigious National Board for Professional Teaching Standards, at great expense to herself, and without any accompanying compensation from her school district. Thank you, Margaret, for your commitment to education.

“Next, please welcome Teddy McDaniel, a fifth grader from Cedar Valley Elementary School in Lynnwood, and Cindy Anderson, his Reading Corps tutor. Teddy wrote me a letter to tell me how much difference a summer reading academy made in his young life. This year he’s moved up to a higher reading group, and the other kids don’t laugh at him any more when he reads out loud. Teddy wrote, ‘School is better for me this year and everyone is proud of me and I’m proud of myself.’ We’re proud of you, Teddy. Keep up the good work.

“Next, please welcome Angela Grassner, a single mom and WorkFirst participant who has been on public assistance for several years, but is now off, doing well in her new job, thanks in part to the help she received from her case manager, Lisa Wheaton, and Kimberly Metcalf, her Employment Security job counselor. Good luck to you Angela and thank you Lisa and Kimberly and all the state employees who have really changed the corporate culture of our welfare offices to be job counselors instead of just eligibility determiners. Thank you very much.

“And finally, I’d like to introduce Hazel Wolf, who was born in 1898. I actually met Hazel in 1990—count that back—when she was over ninety years old. We were on a hike together on the Mountains-to-Sound Greenways Trust. Hazel has said that her ambition is to live into the twenty-first century so that she’ll have the distinction of having been alive in three centuries. Hazel is a lifelong environmental activist who has taught generations of children to be good stewards of the natural world. She is the perfect embodiment of the spirit of both our best and most enduring values, and the appetite for adventure and learning that the beginning of a new century evokes. Hazel, you are going to do it.

“These are the people who show us the way to make Washington State a state of learning and to achieve Washington’s promise. These are the people who show us that the longer we live, the more we can give—to our families, our communities, and our state. A hundred years from now, today’s elected officials will be but mere photographs on the walls of this magnificent building. Our chance to make a difference for the people and the future of our state is brief and fleeting. We must make the most of it, so let us commit to preparing the way for a new century, and a new era of hope, opportunity, and a life of learning.

“Thank you all very much and God Bless You.”

The President of the Senate stated the purpose of the Joint Session was to receive the State of the Judiciary address from Chief Justice Richard P. Guy.
Chief Justice Guy: "Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Co-Speakers, Senators, Representatives, elected officials, members of the judiciary, distinguished guests, ladies and gentlemen;

"Two days ago, Justice James Dolliver retired following twenty-two years of service on the State Supreme Court and eleven years as Chief of Staff for Governor Evans. Five years ago, Justice Dolliver suffered a serious stroke. Shortly before Jim informed the Court that his doctors told him he could return to work, I visited Jim at his home. Jim saw that I was making my own evaluation of his ability to return. He said, 'Guy, I want you to know my mind is as good as it has ever been.' I replied, 'Jim, that is not altogether reassuring to me.' Jim then announced that I was out of control and that he had to return immediately and he did. Some time later, Barbara Dolliver fell down stairs at their home injuring her head and breaking both wrists. She recovered from those injuries and has resumed writing poetry. In these times, when heroes are tough to come by, I give you Jim and Barbara Dolliver.

"With the consent of the President of the Senate, I would like to ask the Sergeant at Arms to escort former Governor Daniel J. Evans to the House Chambers."

The President requested the Sergeant at Arms to escort former Governor Evans to the rostrum.

REMARKS BY FORMER GOVERNOR DANIEL J. EVANS

Former Governor Evans: "Forty-two years ago, I wouldn't have needed these. What a privilege it is for me to come back after forty-two years. When I first took my seat, number ninety-eight back there, whoever is occupying it now, and began with the privilege of serving in this House, followed by a career of public service. It was at that same time that Jim Dolliver began his long and distinguished career of public service. Many of you may know, but some may not, that he was the son of an Iowa Congressman and came by his political background naturally. He first came to the Pacific Northwest as a Park Ranger in the Olympic National Park.

"We joined together in 1963 when the House had a coalition. Now, if you think a tie vote is tough, try a coalition sometime. Jim was the attorney for the Republican Caucus. We had three caucuses that year and were quite successful. The next spring, I decided I would take a try at Governor and the first person I turned to was Jim Dolliver. As my campaign manager, and with a borrowed car from a friend of mine, who was a car dealer, we spent over a year traveling the state--every little village we could find--trying to convince people that there was an election coming up, even though it was sixteen months away--and that I was really running for Governor. The election, of course, was successful and my first appointment was Jim Dolliver as my Chief of Staff.

"He was more than just a Chief of Staff or a staff member. He was a friend, a colleague, and in many respects, a mentor, because I found in this intellectual giant someone who could, with compassion and passion, with a knowledge that I could depend on--do the job--of helping run this state. His permanent legacy is long. I mentioned that he first came to this state as a Park Ranger in the Olympic National Park. One of my first hikes from Camp Parsons was into the Olympic Mountains, more than fifty years ago. I still enjoy going back into those mountains. We spent a lot of time talking about hikes and places to go when we probably should have been talking about state problems of importance. These were problems of importance. Out of it came some of the first environmental legislation, in the protection of the ocean strip of the Olympic National Park--the beginning of what has flourished in the years since of helping to protect this extraordinary land we all have the responsibility for.

"He is a life-long Republican--a life-long Republican--who believes strongly in equality, in compassion, in conservation, and economic conservatism. He is an intellectual giant and yet one who has a twinkle in his eye and who frequently gave me some real good advise. One piece I will pass along--On occasion as Governor, I would sit down and dictate a letter of massive retaliation against someone. But, I did have the good sense to always show it to Jim. He would look at it and say, 'Governor, that is a whale of a letter; that's marvelous. Why don't you sit on it for twenty-four hours,' and I would. I would come back and sometimes, I would say, 'Well maybe I shouldn't send it,' and other times, I would still be ready to go and he would say, 'That letter is so good, it belongs in the archives for future generations.'

"There are other things in the archives and I have to share with you one memo of hundreds that passed between Jim Dolliver and I during those days that I was Governor. Some day, a graduate student in history will dig through the archives and find many of those memos--probably scratch their head and wonder what in the world they were talking about.
"This one to me said, 'Further expatiation of word, which is sometimes an intransitive verb and sometimes a noun or it is an unknown.'"

Recently, Loretta, my scheduling secretary, inquired of you whether you wish to meet this person. You responded, 'Oh, piffle.' In earlier times I felt that I had a firm grasp in gubernatorial nuance and meanings. However, in recent months, some rather considerable errors in interpretation have been made. I am of the view that 'Oh, piffle' while it might sound negative really has certain characteristics of the affirmative. This view gains weight when the definitions of 'piffle' are examined--to talk in a trivial inept or ineffective way--perhaps a blend of trivial and trifle or trivial nonsense or ineptitude--hit the gavel.

"Loretta says you have said, 'Oh piffer,' i.e. anyone who piffles, but that seems unlikely. If it was a case of bad reporting, it may have been you said, 'Oh, piffer, which is a member of the Fungsize Irregular Frontier Force, but since you are navy not army, we have discarded that possibility. I suggested you might has said 'Oh, Piffilor' which is an old Italian wind instrument used by shepherds, i.e. a bag pipe, but Ralph Munro was not in the office and besides, he is Scotch. As you can see, all meaningful works have stopped until this matter is clarified. Please, check one of the following: I WILL SEE HIM--YES __; NO___; SEE ME___; NONE OF THE ABOVE___.

"As I have said, that is only one of scores of similar memos that made each day a little more pleasant in the most difficult of times.

It is a great privilege for me to not only come back to this Chamber, but to come back for this purpose--to tell Jim and Barbara Dolliver how much Nancy and I love them, how much they have meant to not only a political career, but how much they have meant to our lives. They are great people. The Supreme Court and the state will love an intellectual giant, but we will all be blessed by the more than forty years he has given to public service."

FURTHER REMARKS BY CHIEF JUSTICE GUY

"Chief Justice Guy: "I was really hoping that Dan Evans would sit over there next to Co-Speaker Chopp, because yesterday the Co-Speaker announced to everybody that at family dinners, one of the great subjects of debate was whether Dan Evans was a Republican or a Democrat. It seemed to me they could work that out now.

"The last time, Governor Evans, Justice Dolliver and I were in this chamber together, Dan Evans was a State Representative, Jim Dolliver was the attorney for the Republican Caucus, and I was the Speaker's attorney. We, like everyone in this chamber, are proof that the American dream is not dead. We can be anything we want, do anything we want. All we have to do is create our personal vision and work to achieve it.

"A point of personal privilege. My wife Lynn also has a strong feeling of affection for this House. She was the receptionist for the Speaker during the 1963 Session. We were both from Spokane and had known one another. We became engaged during the session and married the following November. We have now been married thirty-five years. By your leave, I introduce Lynn, our three children Victoria, Heidi and Emily, and our two grandchildren, Jeremy and Jessica.

"The purpose of this address is to advise you on the present state of the judiciary and inform you of our legislative requests for the next biennium. The judges of this state are proud, dedicated and independent. We are not insular or political advocates. We are competent people representing in our makeup all segments of Washington society. Issues are decided on their merits--not prejudged. Judges of this state are involved in their communities and active in improving the justice system. I want you to see the faces of representative state judges and to better understand how committed they are to their work and to the people they serve.

"I have invited three judges representing the district courts, superior courts and appeals courts of this state and will introduce them to you now. Judge Jim Riehl is a District Court Judge from Kitsap County. With assistance from the Supreme Court's Gender and Justice Commission, Judge Riehl organized a Domestic Violence Summit for Kitsap County. Participants included teachers, doctors, police, social service organizations, business leaders and judges. From that conference, Judge Riehl developed a plan for such conferences that are being presented to the American Bar Association as a model.

"Domestic violence is destructive of every aspect of family life. It not only damages the people directly involved, but children, grandparents, family members, friends, business associates, teachers, and medical personnel. During this session, the domestic violence coalition will propose enabling legislation in furtherance of the Federal Full Faith and Credit Domestic Violence Act. It will allow local prosecutors to enforce protection orders from other states to safeguard those who have fled to our jurisdiction. I support that legislation.

"Judge Patricia Hall-Clark is a Superior Court Judge from King County, first as Court Commissioner and now as a Superior Court Judge. Her work has been that of a Juvenile Court Judge and Family Court Judge. I know the Money Makes the World go Around

Judge Dennis Sweeney is Chief Judge of the Courts of Appeals and serves on the third division of the Court in Spokane. He lives in the Tri-Cities. The bar association of the Tri Cities has one hundred percent participation in the local pro bono program to assist low income people of the area. When Judge Sweeney practiced law in Kennewick, he was a part of the local pro bono program, and as a judge he is a member of the Washington State Bar Association's Committee on Access to Justice. While not every local bar association has one hundred percent participation in pro bono services, free legal services are provided throughout the state by every local association and the services are worth thousands of dollars.

“I recognize that lawyers have their critics. However, in the area of giving money and help to provide services to people who need to access the system, who can't afford a lawyer and don't know where to turn, the lawyers of this state have been magnificent. Our courts would be unable to assist the citizens in resolving their legal problems without the contribution of the pro bono lawyers. On behalf of the judiciary, I thank them. In addition to the services provided by local attorneys, it is also essential to have legal service clinics that are organized to service the public in certain areas. I will discuss Access to Justice funding when I later speak about the Court Improvement Act we are suggesting.

“I am aware that some of you may believe that courts, and the Supreme Court in particular, are activist and fail to recognize that a court's function is to interpret legislation and the Constitution and not to usurp legislative policy making. Those of us who chose law as a career did so with an appreciation of a system of governance and order that evolved from the time people first joined together for collective security to our present democratic republic. There has always been a separation in the function of a legislative body and judicial body.

“There is, by us in the judicial branch, reverence for the Legislature. Your acts are those of the people through representative government. You, through your legislation and through the purse, have a coextensive check and balance on us, as well as the executive branch. We understand our role, apply the laws you enact, interpret legislation hopefully as you intended, and protect our great charter, the Constitution. We do work, and will continue to work together, with you and the executive branch to enhance and protect our society. We will do nothing to diminish your role as the representatives of the people.

“Next, I wish to discuss with you legislative proposals and suggestions, as well as activities we are undertaking, to make the courts more efficient. I have suggested that lawyers who run for judicial positions have some experience as lawyers. This proposal is not original but is one of the recommendations made by the Walsh Commission to the Supreme Court. My suggestion is that those who wish to be Supreme Court Justices serve a minimum of ten years as a member of the bar. Those who seek to be Court of Appeals Judges should serve a minimum of seven years as a member of the bar. And those who seek to be Superior Court Judges should serve a minimum of five years as a member of the bar. At present, the only court which requires years of experience as a member of the bar is the Court of Appeals. The Supreme Court, the Superior Court Judges Association, and the Board for Judicial Administration of the State Judiciary, have each endorsed this proposal. While this proposal has been criticized as elitist and protectionist, I see it as a response to the public's need to have more knowledge about judicial candidates. At the very least, the public should be able to understand that all candidates have certain minimum qualifications. This should provide the public with some assurance that the people to whom they entrust their children, their property, and their rights have the wisdom of experience. This proposal is not in response to any individual. Rather, it is a perceived need studied and not pursued. I look to your collective wisdom on this proposal and invite sponsorship to this constitutional amendment that ultimately would be evaluated by the vote of the people.

“There is a wonderful song in the play and movie Cabaret that Money Makes the World go Around. While money may indeed make the world go around, the lack of money can also make the world stop. The trial courts are underfunded, and the criminal justice system is overwhelming the trial courts' ability to deal responsibly with civil justice.
To assist the trial courts in performing their responsibilities of providing justice in a timely and available manner, both in criminal as well as civil proceedings, we propose what we have termed the Court Improvement Act of 1999. This proposal would fund the salaries of all trial judges, district and superior, from the State general fund rather than county money. In addition this Improvement Act would provide necessary training for local police officers so they would better understand the statutory and constitutional requirements of their jobs. The Act would allow some flexibility in how court services are delivered by employing business-enhancing best practices approved by the Board for Judicial Administration. Finally, the Improvement Act would provide funding for legal services in that in large measure it will be used to assist low income people in resolving domestic disputes that are so procedurally difficult, and in addressing landlord and tenant conflicts.

Legal services are as critical to our citizens’ well being as are medical services. Legal service assistance is essential to the judiciary in the performance of our duties of insuring that people before the court know their choices and their rights and their responsibilities under the law. The judiciary supports the funding of legal services, and we ask you to continue to support those services that are so vital to the people by supporting this funding proposal. We do not come before you with these funding requests without bringing to the table potential enhanced public safety penalty fees and litigation filing fees. Our contribution through these fees would provide to the state more than half of the requests for state money sought in the Improvement Act. The legislation has been pre-filed.

Two years ago you provided funding for the Supreme Court to create a Commission on Justice, Efficiency and Accountability. Under the leadership of then-Chief Justice Barbara Durham, the Commission undertook its work. It identified the need for funding expressed in the Court Improvement Act. It reviewed and approved trial court standards for all trial courts. It identified the missions of the courts and categorized them by whether they were core or non-core missions. We are now at the heart of the work. Our final effort will be to determine how well we perform our missions and identify who should perform those functions. As a part of that evaluation, we will also consider alternatives that may be offered to litigants to resolve their cases.

In today’s world, there are no monopolies, and that includes government services. Private judging supplements, and in some cases supplants, the judiciary. Cost, time, selection of a judge, and certainty of a trial date are some of the reasons private judging has become popular. We must adjust governmental services, including the judiciary, to meet the needs of the people. Protracted and delayed justice is making civil justice no longer available. Our courts will become criminal courts almost exclusively. Petty drug enforcement cases are overwhelming us. Technology demands of a changing society require that we in the judiciary examine how we do business and whom we serve. We are undertaking that evaluation.

Some time ago the Supreme Court commissioned a study on the functions of the District Courts. Justice Charles Johnson has agreed to chair a subcommittee of the Board for Judicial Administration to evaluate that study’s recommendations and possible implementation. The Supreme Court is aware that in this state there are more than 385,000 unserved warrants issued by district courts. These warrants arise from misdemeanor arrests, DUI arrests, and major traffic infractions. Often a convicted offender will move beyond a county’s jurisdiction and thus avoid arrest and, if arrested, avoid being returned to the county where the charge originated. Out-of-county warrants are not routinely served because of the cost in transporting a prisoner back to the county where the warrant was issued. The county where an offender later resides has no jurisdiction to try the person or to order local jail time since the district court’s jurisdiction is limited to its county.

Finally, no county wants to use its resources or its crowded jail to remedy another county’s problem. Justice Johnson’s subcommittee will also make recommendations on how to resolve the outstanding warrant problem. The solutions may include both legislation and a change of court rules. I am pleased to advise that members of the Senate and House Judiciary Committees have agreed to serve on this subcommittee to help shape the solutions and report back to the Legislature.

You will receive shortly a copy of a report by the Supreme Court Domestic Relations Commission and the Gender and Justice Commission of the Supreme Court on the parenting plan. The report is being presented to the judiciary committees of both houses by the researcher. The report validates the need for parenting plan legislation. It does identify current requirements that appear counter-productive and states that the forms required have become too numerous and difficult to complete. The majority of parties dissolving their marriage are not represented by attorneys but appear pro se. Of those who represent themselves in their dissolution actions, up to eighty percent must return to court for modification because of changes that occur or because some needed element of the dissolution was not made a part of the original action. The report points out the need for a family court judge who can provide continuity for the parties and resolve their disputes more efficiently and right the first time.
Another concern of the courts is the time it takes to place children in permanent homes after there has been a termination of parental rights. Foster care is designed to be temporary but often becomes long term. A Permanency Oversight Committee has devised a framework for permanency planning and accomplishment to ensure that children in foster care have families of their own. The five-year plan for ensuring permanent families is now before you for your evaluation. While there are no legislative requests, the plan does involve the participation of the Department of Social and Health Services, an agency funded by you.

"It is difficult for me to express to you the reverence we judges have for the Legislature as being representatives of the people. We appreciate the complexity of the tasks assigned to you and understand that you do business in great waters. We do so by giving life and expression in our courts to your legislation. We are an independent branch of our great government that strives to do the public's business in this time of social change and limited resources. However, neither the Judiciary nor the Legislature nor the Executive can act alone in governance. We are a team working together for the common good.

"I pledge to you our advice on legislation, past and future, and our efforts in making business changes in managing the courts that are consistent with constitutional and statutory imperatives. In the future, the ability of all of us will be needed to intelligently discern between areas of ethical concern and statutory needs in the application of genetic research. The uses to which the computer is being put and will be put involve privacy concerns and business practices which will be issues of first impression for legislators and courts requiring collective thought.

"This is the State of the Judiciary. We are proud, dedicated and independent. We are proud of our role in being the forum where grievances and disputes may be resolved fairly. We are dedicated to improving the management of the services we provide. We believe in judicial independence. We will never be partisan in our decisions. We will do what is right under the law, however unpopular. I am proud of our state judges and even more proud of being able to represent them to you today.

"You have been kind to invite me to this, your chamber. You have been kinder still in listening to me. By your leave, I step down from this, your bench, and go where I belong, with the judges of this state now before you."

MESSAGE FROM STATE OFFICE

HIGHER EDUCATION COORDINATING BOARD
917 Lakeridge Way
Olympia, Washington 98504-3430

TO: The Honorable Tony Cook
Secretary of the Senate

FROM: Marcus S. Gaspard, Executive Director

SUBJECT: Recommendations for Higher Education Budgets for the 1999-2001 Biennium

Under the provisions of RCW 28B.80.3301, the Higher Education Coordinating Board is required to review, evaluate, and make recommendations to the Governor and the Legislature on the operating and capital budget requests of the state's public higher education institutions.

These recommendations are to be based on established roles and missions of the institutions, on the higher education master plan prepared by the Board, and other identified state higher education goals, objectives and priorities. Further, the recommendations are to be based on guidelines developed by the Board that outline its fiscal priorities.

Pursuant to this requirement, the Board held budget conferences with all of the institutions in September, and at its meeting in October adopted recommendations for higher education capital and operating budgets for the 1999-2001 biennium.

Enclosed for consideration by the Legislature as it develops operating and capital budgets for the 1999-2001 biennium are copies of the Board's recommendations for those budgets.

I look forward to meeting with members of the Legislature with its appropriate committees to discuss these recommendations and respond to questions that may arise.

The Report from the Higher Education Coordinating Board on Recommendations for Higher Education Budgets for the 1999-2001 Biennium is on file in the Office of the Secretary of Senate.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Franklin: "Mr. President, a point of personal privilege to make some comments on the remembrance of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Today, as we take a moment to reflect upon the life of the Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr., let us not forget what his life and message was all about--that of a commitment to non-violence in seeking justice and equality for the oppressed.

"He championed the causes of civil, as well as economic rights. He paid the ultimate price with his life at the hands of an assassin's bullet in Memphis, Tennessee, on April 4, 1968. A few days before, he lead a march of six thousand protestors in support of striking sanitation workers in that city.

"Dr. King accomplished much in his thirty-nine years of life. His legacy lives on as an inspiration and constant reminder of what it means to fight for justice and equality in a non-violent way.

"As a mortal man, he taught us the real meaning of love, forgiveness and the courage to fight injustice wherever it is found. He taught us to keep hope alive, to accept disappointment, but not give up fighting for what is right.

"Today, as we remember Dr. King and reflect upon how far we have come as a nation, in some ways, we still have far to go. His words of inspiration for today from his writings and I quote from--The Community of Man-- 'Human progress is neither automatic nor inevitable.' Even a superficial look at history reveals that no social advance rolls in on the wheels of inevitability. Every step toward the goal of justice requires sacrifice, suffering and struggle--the tireless exertions and passionate concerns of dedicated individuals.

"Peace, justice and equality is not a goal, but a destination to which Dr. King has pointed the way. As we prepare to leave the twentieth century behind, Dr. King will go with us into the next millennium, the twenty-first century, as a beacon of hope and light for all who seek to be treated as first class citizens and recognized as being a participant in fighting for and preserving the freedoms for which we all enjoy."

Senators Sellar, Kohl-Wells, Prentice and McDonald spoke to the remarks of Senator Franklin remembering Martin Luther King, Jr.

Subject: WorkFirst Outcome Measures (RCW 74.08A.430)

Dear Mr. Cook, Mr. Martin, Mr. Foster and Ms. Fortier:

Engrossed House Bill No. 3901 (Section 704) called for an Outcome Measure Report, due each January 15th, which may include, but not limited to:

(a) Caseload reduction;
(b) Recidivism to caseload after two years;
(c) Job retention;
(d) Earnings;
(e) Reduction in average grant through increased recipient earnings; and
(f) Placement of recipients into private sector, unsubsidized jobs.

The Act required the Department of Social and Health Services to report. However, because Washington’s WorkFirst program is administered by a sub-cabinet of four State agencies, we are jointly reporting. The four agencies are:

Department of Social and Health Services (DSHS)
Employment Security Department (ESD)
State Board of Community and Technical Colleges (SBCTC)
Department of Community, Trade and Economic Services (CTED)

We have been monitoring what happens to clients as they leave WorkFirst through an exit survey. We are sending the latest WorkFirst exit survey, and a report on subsidized childcare, under separate cover.

Sincerely,

Dick Thompson, Director, Office of Financial Management
Lyle Quasim, Secretary, Department of Social and Health Services
Carver Gayton, Commissioner, Employment Security Department
Tim Douglas, Director, Department of Community, Trade and Economic Development
Earl Hale, Executive Director, State Board of Community and Technical Colleges

The report on WorkFirst Outcome Measures is on file in the Office of the Secretary of the Senate.

Secretary of the Senate

Dear Mr. Cook:

Enclosed is the Joint Report of the Department of Social and Health Services and the Department of Health entitled “A Comprehensive Program for Alcohol and Drug Abusing Mothers and Their Young Children.” This report is in response to RCW 13.34.803. The stated legislative intent was to “develop a comprehensive plan for providing services to mothers who (a) have delivered a drug or alcohol exposed or affected infant, and (b) meet the definition of at-risk eligible persons in RCW 74.09.790 and who have a child up to three years of age.”

This report describes that comprehensive program and outlines potential pilot studies based on the program. As requested, the report also: • Outlines the scope of the problem statewide.
• Describes a statewide inventory and service gap analysis for this population.
• Reviews the literature on program outcomes for this and similar populations.
• Estimates “potential long-term cost savings to the state resulting from reduced use of the medical, juvenile justice, public assistance, and dependency systems by children and mothers receiving services under the plan.”

If you have questions or comments on this report, please contact Liz Kohlenberg, Ph.D., at DSHS (902-0707), or Maria Meenks Lathrop, MPH., at DOH (236-3588).

Eugene Prince: “I want to thank you very much. It is rather a humbling experience—all the kind words that you have expressed. You are all my friends. I hope we always stay friends. My door is always open and I need your help in my new job, as has been mentioned. You understand a lot of this part of the state—than I do—and I certainly look forward to a continued relationship with all of you as friends, as business, and beyond.

“On the lighter side, Margarita has been sitting here right now, but when she first spoke, I thought she was going to say that I wasn't there to vote for her was what bothered her. I've enjoyed my forty years. Sid and I go back-Sid goes back further than that, but I have enjoyed all the relationships through that time—the relationships with each of you. I hope that we are able to keep those intact.

“I invite you all to come over and see my office. I am only going to be there for about six weeks, because we are moving. I am on the fifth floor; I have a beautiful view of the capitol and of the water. Make arrangements and come down and we’ll have lunch together and you can see my new office while I am still there. I’m sure the next one is not going to be as nice a view.

“Like I said, I want to thank you very much. I am very honored and humbled by this show of your nice appreciation. It means a lot to me; it really does. Thank you very much.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Morton: “A point of personal privilege, Mr. President. This morning I had an article passed out to you entitled ‘Researcher links raspberries to cancer prevention.’ It stated that eating one cup of fresh raspberries or drinking a raspberry smoothie on a daily basis can be an effective way to prevent certain types of cancer. It is interesting to note that Washington State is the Number One state in the nation in the production of red raspberries. “Last year, Washington produced over fifty-nine million pounds of raspberries, amounting to over seventy-seven percent of what the nation produced as a whole. The amount of land harvested totaled 8,500 acres—seven thousand pounds of raspberries per acre were harvested—and the total value of Washington's raspberry crop was twenty-eight million dollars. “It is really fantastic to think you can eat fruit and stop the malignant process. We in Washington should be duly proud of our raspberry production rate, as well as being a pioneer in the field of cancer prevention. Thank you.”

SENATE RESOLUTION 1999-8609
WHEREAS, Seattle Schools Superintendent John Henry Stanford exemplified the very best in dedication to the education of children, the very best in commitment to a goal, and the very best in public service; and
WHEREAS, His extraordinary life began in Pennsylvania, and flourished during a thirty year military career in the U.S. Army, from which he retired as a major general; and
WHEREAS, Mr. Stanford came to Seattle as something of an unknown, but left us as a favorite son and civic hero; and
WHEREAS, Through his vision, leadership, work ethic, and undeniable charisma, John Stanford inspired others to reach higher, go farther, and work harder in the public schools; and
WHEREAS, By example, he reminded us that children should come first, and that all children are capable of achieving great things if only we take the time to believe in and help them; and
WHEREAS, He showed us that a true role model is one who dedicates his life to helping others; and
WHEREAS, John Stanford's words, "Love 'em and Lead 'em," which remind us what children need most, will be remembered and implemented in his memory; and
WHEREAS, He reminded us that everything we do for schools we should view first through the eyes of the students; and
WHEREAS, John Stanford lost his life to leukemia on November 28, 1998; and
WHEREAS, This loss was felt in schools and homes throughout the city of Seattle, the state of Washington, and the United States; and
WHEREAS, John Stanford's impact continues to be felt by the entire community, and serves as a driving force behind a renewed commitment to public education in Seattle and beyond on the part of students, parents, educators, business people, and policymakers;
NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the members of the Washington State Senate do hereby honor and give tribute to the amazing life and influence of John Henry Stanford: a man, a leader, and a children's advocate who left us the legacy of his unshakable commitment to public education; and
BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Secretary of the Senate transmit immediately a copy of this resolution to the Seattle Public Schools and to Patricia Stanford.

MOTION

On motion of Senator McAuliffe, the remarks about John Stanford and Senate Resolution 1999-8609 will be spread across the Journal.

REMARKS BY SENATOR McAULIFFE

Senator McAuliffe: "Thank you, Mr. President. It is my privilege today to honor the work and life of Superintendent John Stanford. He brought to the Seattle School District and the children a belief in themselves--"Be the best you can be.' He loved the children. The first time I met John Stanford, I was prepared not to be impressed. I had a vision of a military man who would tackle Seattle School District issues in a regimental way. After the first five minutes with John Stanford, I was overwhelmed by his understanding of the challenges our children faced. I was overwhelmed with his compassion and his strength--"Love them and lead them.'

"With enthusiasm and a zest for life he lead--exit tests, uniforms, and principals as CEOs. He threw the pass and he expected all of us to carry the message--All children can learn--discipline, discipline, discipline--and principals, teachers and parents working together to make schools better for their children. "He challenged each of us to move forward with courage and love for the children. He so loved the children with the kind of love that pushed and guided them, because he was a child at heart.

"I stood in a room at the Youth Forum in Seattle while young people shared their feelings. The question was, 'Why do you drop out of school?' The answer was, 'They don't show me no love.' "John Stanford left us a legacy-' Love them and lead them.' For every child he touched, and those who will forever benefit from his life and leadership, thank you, John Stanford, and God bless."

REMARKS BY SENATOR THIBAudeau
Senator Thibaudeau: “Thank you, Mr. President. As someone has said, 'I want to live my ordinary life in an extraordinary way.' This is an extraordinary man who lived his life in an extraordinary way. I would like to thank his family for sharing him with us for this short period of time. I would also like to thank the school board, the administration and the staff who carried on so admirably during his illness and subsequent death. So, thanks to all of you and thanks particularly to the good Mr. Stanford, who was so helpful to Seattle and its children in such a variety of ways. I should add to the family, he gave us new hope. Thank you.”

REMARKS BY SENATOR HOCHSTATTER

Senator Hochstatter: “Thank you, Mr. President. I was enthusiast about John Stanford for exactly the opposite reason of many of you. He was absolutely not education establishment. I was really impressed by that. I wrote him a letter as soon as he took the job and I said, ‘John, look out for the institutionalism; it will creep on you like a suntan. While you have the sword, yield it decisively.’ I don’t know whether John took my advice or if he was just built that way, but didn’t he do that?

‘John and Don Neilsen, the president of his board, and I went to lunch last March. We went through a whole lot of traffic and we got out at LaPetite Maison, which is one of my favorite restaurants. As we were getting out of the car, this beat-up old truck pulls up into the parking lot and this woman gets out and she enthused us about John Stanford. Afterwards, I said, ‘Come on John, that was a ringer wasn’t it--you brought her with you.’ It wasn’t a ringer; people felt that way about John Stanford. Down here, she recognized who this guy was and she said, ‘You are doing a great job down there.’

‘Didn’t we all recognize it; didn’t we lose a great, courageous leader and didn’t he show something that maybe we can look across different lines and say, ‘There is leadership there and he has got something to show us in other forms?’ Thank you and God bless you, John Stanford. You provided us with great leadership.”

REMARKS BY SENATOR FRANKLIN

Senator Franklin: “Thank you, Mr. President. I rise also in support of this resolution. John Stanford left a legacy, not only for Seattle, but for the nation. He spoke at the Democratic National Convention and John Stanford was a person--a man--whom you could look up to--who really cared about people. He cared about poor children.

‘Education was a second career, because he was retired from the military. I know when it was announced that he was going to be the Superintendent for Seattle Public Schools, people were saying, ‘A military man; he is not an educator.’ He said, ‘You know, you don’t need an educator to be a leader, to have enthusiasm, to care for children.’ He put people in a place to manage to do the job and he set the tone--he raised the bar. He raised the bar for what is expected of our children. He raised the bar for that of parental involvement. He challenged each and everyone of us and our children.

‘My grandchildren attend school in the Seattle School District. He was so loved and set such a great example and now our grandson is the top person—the top student—in his school. John Stanford set an example that you should be challenged, that you should do your best, and that parents should be involved. As I said, he raised the bar; he set high standards; and now it is up to us—not just Seattle Schools, but all of the schools of the state of Washington to require the best in our children and to have parental involvement. We love you John Stanford. We love the time we had with you and through the family, we love you, too. We look forward to seeing the family again.”

REMARKS BY SENATOR KOHL-WELLES

Senator Kohl-Welles: “Thank you, Mr. President. I thought very honored that I got to know John Stanford very early on, as many of our Seattle legislators did. The Seattle Public School Administrative Office is in my district on Queen Ann Hill, where I live. We had numerous conversations with John as he came on board. I was a little curious as he had not had a following in education as an administrator before coming to the school district. He asked us for some suggestions about coming down to Olympia and working with the Legislature.

‘I am very amused about it now when I think about it, because my big suggestion was ‘Reach out to other legislators, don't just work with the Seattle legislators.’ I really didn't need to say that, because it became very obvious, right away, that John had an intuitive sense about what to do. He did reach out. He got to know legislators from all over this state, not just Seattle, not just King County, not just Puget Sound, but all over the state. It was my observation that so many of the legislators here in Olympia could really relate well to him. He just had a wonderful intuitive sense about how to get along with people and how to make sure that he could communicate with others from small districts, rural districts, Eastern Washington districts—about kids, about teaching, about how to reach out to kids, how to elevate children and youth to be able to achieve.

"When I spoke at the Seattle Center at a rather impromptu type of gathering the morning when it was announced that he had died, it was very moving, a lot of tributes, a lot of just calm, quiet reflection with a lot of tears. What became really obvious to me was that this man had touched a real accord and was a superintendent beyond the Seattle Public School District boundaries. Thank you for being here."

REMARKS BY SENATOR PRENTICE

Senator Prentice: "Thank you, Mr. President. There is one aspect that I have never heard covered regarding John Stanford and it is the transformation of the attitude of Seattle toward its schools. I served on a school board—not in Seattle—and the one thing that I remember is that so many parents were involved only because of their kids. What he did in Seattle was to transform the community so that when he left us every parent—every member of that community—felt responsible for education. We could certainly see that in the reading emphasis, we could see it in the enthusiasm that the parents now felt. They felt responsible for the entire system and that is no mean accomplishment, that is a very big deal and that is the legacy—there are some obvious ones—this was a little more subtle, but certainly no less important."

REMARKS BY SENATOR FINKBEINER

Senator Finkbeiner: "Thank you, Mr. President and members of the Senate. I did not know John Stanford personally. He has had a strong impact on me and my thinking as it seems he did on nearly everyone who heard and saw the man speak. I would just like to say a couple of quick thank yous. First of all, as a legislator, I would like to thank John Stanford for the leadership he showed and the example that he gave to all of us—to really put the kids first and to really have an honest debate and a healthy debate about education that had some real positive effects.

"As a parent, I want to thank him; I want to thank him in behalf of my kids. I want to thank him in behalf of all the kids of the state for showing them that somebody really cares—and didn't just care and talk about it, but cared and backed up that caring with action. Then, just as a human being—a person—I would like to thank John Stanford for the courage that he has shown. The man led an exemplary life and it could not have been easy. It took real courage to do the things that he did and I just want to say to him, 'Thank you. John Henry Stanford, and thank you to the Stanford family.'"

REMARKS BY SENATOR KLINE

Senator Kline: "Mr. President and members, I first met General Stanford when he came to Olympia and was in our caucus room and gave us what amounts to a pep talk. Not just a pep talk, but a talk that a general might give to the troops on the eve of battle. I remember feeling almost emotional about this budget—this budget wasn't numbers, it was people—very young people—it was kids, whose lives were at stake, not simply their education. I felt that this was a leader like any good general who watched out for the lives of his troops. He didn't feel that this was just a matter of numbers on a page, nor was it a matter of something these kids are going to go through for just twelve years. This was their lives and I remember feeling a very strong commitment to get those things passed. If we didn't two years ago, we certainly will soon. His legacy is going to live on in the things that we do and I thank him for that. Thank you, Mr. President."

REMARKS BY SENATOR OKE

Senator Oke: "Thank you, Mr. President and fellow Senators. I think it is appropriate that I stand up as being a retired individual from the military. I know that John really served this country in so many wonderful ways and we thank you, his family, for being here with us. We feel his loss—all of us feel that loss. I think there is one thing that I hope that the young people and the people throughout this country really feel about John and it is that so often we hear that one person can't make a difference. He did make a difference; he made a difference no matter where he was at—serving his county or serving his community or making this school system better here in the state of Washington. One person can make a difference and he did that. God bless you, John."
REMARKS BY SENATOR SHIN

Senator Shin: “Thank you, Mr. President and members of the Senate. Last year, I purchased a ticket in their fund raising auction that was to have a dinner with John Stanford and his family in his home. The reason for my purchase was that I wanted to get to know him. Having been in the military, when you talk about Two Star Generals--tough, stern, hard to get along, commanding--this is what I expected there. The minute I walked into his home, Mrs. Stanford and John were most cordial--loving, warm, and to my complete surprise, I discovered how to be very happy to be raised by their care or to be serving under his command, even in the military. I learned to love him and respect him. I think John radiated, not only their love, but the firm decision-making power to administer the school district. I salute my respect and honor to the John Stanford family and thank you very much.”

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President welcomed and introduced Mrs. John Stanford and son, Scott, who were seated on the rostrum.

With permission of the Senate, business was suspended to permit Scott Stanford to address the Senate.

REMARKS BY SCOTT STANFORD

Scott Stanford: “First of all, thank you very much for having us here. As many of you noted, my Dad gave his entire life--he gave his entire life to public service--from being senior class president all the way through thirty years in the army, Fulton County, and finally in Seattle. I think it is important to know that while he spoke at the Democratic Convention, he was an appointee during the Reagan administration. That was not where his head was in any way, shape or form. Dad also did what was right. This would be a very high honor for him and as a result, it is a very high honor for us, so thank you for having us.

“I would share with you a story of my upbringing with him, that I told in the House. If you heard it, I apologize, but Dad had a lot of sayings that he was constantly bombarding us with and one of them was, ‘Never go upstairs empty handed.’ This was his edict around the house. If you were going from downstairs to upstairs, you had to take something with you. I guess there was always something downstairs that needed to go upstairs. His purpose in telling us that was just to say, ‘You have the time; you are here anyway; you are going from here to there; there is always work that needs to be done; there is always something you can do.’

“This whole public education situation, to me, is like a giant boulder that everyone is looking at and saying, ‘This boulder is a real problem and we have to do something about it.’ John Stanford came along and said, ‘Well, why don't we move it?’ So, the district got on board, the parents got on board and the kids got on board and the legislators got on board and everyone started to push it and now the boulder is rolling. As one of the Senators was saying, you know one person can make a difference. One person can make a difference, but he is just one person and he is not behind the boulder with you anymore, but please continue to push on behalf of the young people that you see seated on either side of you.

“On behalf of yourselves, continue to make a great state. The nation is watching you and you have a lot of momentum, so keep the boulder rolling. Thank you very much.”

SENATE RESOLUTION 1999-8616

By Senators Kohl-Welles, Jacobsen, Eide, Rasmussen, Brown, Stevens, Roach, Costa, Gardner, Shin, Spanel, Long and Fraser

WHEREAS, Athletics is one of the most effective ways for girls and women in the United States to develop leadership skills, self-discipline, initiative, and confidence; and
WHEREAS, Sport and fitness activity contributes to emotional and physical well-being, and girls and women can benefit from both strong minds and strong bodies; and
WHEREAS, The communication and cooperation skills learned through athletic experience play a key role in the contributions of athletes to the home, workplace, and society; and
WHEREAS, Early motor skill training and enjoyable experiences of physical activity strongly influence lifelong habits of physical fitness; and
WHEREAS, Girls and women who participate in sports have high levels of self-esteem, less depression, and a reduced risk for heart disease, breast cancer, and other illnesses; and
WHEREAS, The bonds built among girls and women through athletics help break down the social barriers of racism and prejudice; and
WHEREAS, The history of girls and women in sports is rich and long, but there has been little national recognition of the significance of the athletic achievements of women; and
WHEREAS, High school athletic teams in the state of Washington have achieved many accomplishments that serve as an inspiration to young women and promote the values of teamwork and cooperation. Examples of successful high school teams include: Ferris High School, winner of the 1998 WIAA State Volleyball Championship; Prairie High School, the WIAA State Basketball Champions; and Snohomish High School, the WIAA State Soccer Championship winners; and
WHEREAS, Washington colleges and universities have fostered outstanding achievements in women's athletics, including: The University of Washington Women's Crew Team, the winner of the 1998 NCAA Championships; the Western Washington University Fast-Pitch Softball Team, 1998 NCAA Division II National Champions; the Seattle Pacific University Women's Gymnastics Team, winner of both the women's team title and two individual event titles at the USA Gymnastics National Collegiate Championships; and the Eastern Washington University Volleyball Team, which was led to the 1998 NCAA Division I Final Four Volleyball Tournament by Kim Exner, the Big Sky Conference Player of the Year; and
WHEREAS, The state of Washington has produced stellar women athletes, whose spirit, talent, and accomplishments distinguished them from others and were a source of inspiration and pride to all of us, among whom are: Olympic skier Debbie Armstrong; ice skater Rosalynn Summers; track stars Doris Heritage, Gail Devers, and Gitte Karloshoj; swimmer Mary Wayte; synchronized swimmer Tracie Ruiz-Conforto; marathon runner Lisa Weidenbach; soccer players Shannon Higgins and Michelle Akers; team handball player Dawn Allinger; rowers Roberta Blanda, Hana Dariusova, Sabrina Telenska, Jennifer Devine, Karen Kraft, Elizabeth McCagg, and Mary McCagg; kayakier Shelly Oates; discus thrower Aretha Hill; javelin thrower Erica Wheeler; cyclist Rebecca Twigg; basketball players Kate Starbird, Rhonda Smith, Tara Davis, Jamie Redd, and Camille Thompson; beach volleyball player Deb Richardson; and Olympic track star Kelly Blair; and
WHEREAS, Although the state of Washington is fortunate to have Barbara Hedges serving as Athletic Director at the University of Washington, an NCAA Division 1 school, women are underrepresented in the leadership positions of coaches, officials, and administrators, and there is a need for women to serve in these positions to ensure a fair representation of the abilities of women and to provide role models for young female athletes; and
WHEREAS, Although the athletic opportunities for female students at the college and high school level have improved because of federal and state gender equity laws, the participation rates of male and female athletes at the college and high school levels are still not equitable; and
WHEREAS, The number of funded research projects focusing on the specific needs of women athletes is limited, and the information provided by the projects is imperative to the health and performance of future women athletes;
NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington State Senate celebrate Washington Girls and Women in Sports Day on February 4, 1999, and encourage others to observe the day with appropriate ceremonies and activities.

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McCaslin: “Senator Eide, would you answer a question? Was that your first speech?”
Senator Eide: “Yes sir, it was.”
Senator McCaslin: “I hope it is spread on the Journal, but you know the custom we have here in the Senate--new Senators--their first speech, which was absolutely--you swayed us all over here, I am telling you. You are a silver-tongued devil of the first class, but we would appreciate a gift of something to eat.”
Senator Eide: “Well, Senator, I did bring something. Thank you very much, by the way, thank you for your vote over there. I was sweating it--yes. For this special occasion, I did write a poem--I'm sorry--pardon me--oh, I'm sorry, I'll sit down. But, I did bring something; someone is telling me to sit down over here.”
Senator McCaslin: “Excuse me, Mr. President. Did she answer my question? I'm confused here.”
Senator Eide: “Yes, I did bring something, but not to eat.”
Senator McCaslin: “Oh, fudge.”

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Heavey: “I rise to a point of order. Thank you, Mr. President, speaking to the inaugural address of the Senator from Federal Way. She has disturbed and interrupted the relative calm of the dignified debate of this august body. The content of her address was vacuous at best. But, most disturbing was the total qualities of her voice. It reminded me of the woeful wailing of a diseased yak. Therefore, for conduct so reprehensible and indefensible, I would invoke the informal rule of offending the dignity of this august body and ask for reparations. Thank you.”

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: “Senator Heavey, the President would like to point out, although Senator Eide's remarks may have disturbed the Senate, it is almost as equally disturbing when a veteran stands up and asks for a point of order that should actually be a point of personal privilege.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Eide: “A point of personal privilege, Mr. President. For this special occasion, I wrote a poem, so bear with me.

I had pre-game jitters contemplating my first at bat in the Senate;
Yes, I was worried I wouldn't win a pennant;
I thought I would strike out looking at three straight pitches;
I knew I had to swing for one of the businesses;
From Weyerhaeuser International Headquarters maybe seedlings were in order;
Word Visions International Headquarters giving charity across many borders;
The Goodwill Games Pool? Maybe Speedos would do!
Instead, I went to the dug out and checked my line-up card. Should I choose them ALL?
No, a lesser known player--if they don't have the game--certainly has the BALL.
My Choice - The Headquarters of Bauden Sports in Federal Way.
Now, that I'm in the Big League, I only ask the Senate for one thing today;
That without remuneration each of you sign the baseball that is coming your way.
Now, ladies and gentlemen of the Senate,
LET'S PLAY BALL

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "The President would point out to the members that I don't know if we have a rule on throwing baseballs in the Senate Chamber, but I do feel that it is probably out of order, Senator Hargrove."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McCaslin: "A point of personal privilege. I was hoping you would let Senator Hargrove do that, because he has dropped the ball many times in this body. One other point, Mr. President, I would appreciate a ruling by you, when Senator Heavey talked about an 'august' body, isn't it 'agust,' isn't 'August' a month of the year?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "I would very rightfully point out that that is probably a Seattle vocabulary."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Betti Sheldon, the Senate reverted to the sixth order of business.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McCaslin: "Senator Goings was here and said that was Senator Costa's first speech. Senator Costa, was that your first speech on the floor?"

Senator Costa: "Yes, Senator McCaslin, it was my first speech on the floor."

Senator McCaslin: "Excellent speech, of course, but when you do make your first speech we usually pass out little goodies to everyone. Now, when Senator Eide made her first speech, she passed out baseballs which I couldn't eat. Now, if we are going to continue that trend, I would appreciate a baseball bat or a catcher's mitt or a first baseman's glove. Do you have anything in mind that you are going to furnish the Senators?"

Senator Costa: "I hardly think that that little tiny floor speech was worth a gift."
Senator McCaslin: "Am I on? Senator Costa, you are so valuable and so important that we think it would deserve an Oscar or an Emmy or something like that, but we just want a simple, simple gift. I like the Louisville Sluggers, by the way."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Costa: "Mr. President, a point of personal privilege. In response to Senator McCaslin, I would like to say, 'Yes, indeed, I do have a gift for you today.' We will shortly pass those out. Unfortunately, Senator McCaslin, I am sorry to say that it is not something to eat. Mr. President took care of that this morning. Thank you for the treat. What we are going to be passing out is something that actually comes as a gift from my district. One of the businesses in my district is Hewlett Packard, and as I am also one of the people that is helping us to move into the next century with lap top computers, I've asked them to provide a gift. Unfortunately, it is not a lap top computer. What it is is actually a mouse pad that has a photograph of Mr. Hewlett and Mr. Packard with a photograph of the garage where the first Hewlett-Packard products were designed and built. It is in commemoration of their fiftieth anniversary; it is autographed by both Mr. Packard and Mr. Hewlett. That garage is actually designated as a historical site now. So, you are going to get a little history, a little business, and we are going to move into the next century. I want you to get a lap top that you can actually put an external mouse on and use your mouse pad. Thank you."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Senator Costa, if you wish to take partial credit for the treat that my wife slaved over yesterday, she would appreciate if you would come to the kitchen and help her with it next time."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hargrove: "A point of personal privilege. Thank you, Mr. President, I didn't realize we weren't supposed to eat the baseball. I am wondering how this mouse pad will taste."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Heavey: "A point of personal privilege, Mr. President. The serenity of the morning was disturbed by the lady from the Thirty-Eighth. I wish we had warning that her speech was coming, because I certainly could have used some ear plugs. It reminded me of the runting of camels during mating season. I think a gift is totally appropriate by having our serenity affected by her first speech. Thank you."

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5001, by Senators Morton, Deccio, Honeyford, T. Sheldon, Swecker, Hargrove, Rossi, Hochstatter, Oke and Rasmussen Authorizing hunting of cougar with the aid of dogs.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Jacobsen, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5001 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5001 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

Senator Kohl-Welles moved that the following amendment by Senators Kohl-Wells, Patterson and Franklin be adopted:

On page 2, line 9, after "dogs." insert "Notwithstanding RCW 77.12.240 or any other provisions of law, it is unlawful to hunt or pursue cougar with the aid of a dog or dogs except by employees or agents of county, state, or federal agencies while acting in their official capacities for the purpose of addressing a documented and verified instance of endangerment to livestock, domestic animals, private property, or the public safety."
MOTION

On motion of Senator Roach, all the remarks on final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5001 will be spread across the Journal.

REMARKS BY SENATOR KOHL-WELLES

Senator Kohl-Welles: "Thank you, Mr. President, and members of the body. Part of this bill before us would repeal one part of Initiative 655, which was approved by the voters. This part of Initiative 655 prohibits the use of hounds, of dogs, for the hunting of cougars. The voters sent us a message. By our vote today, we would be changing what they voted into law. This amendment would not take away the availability of hunting cougars with dogs, but however, would restrict the use of dogs for only authorized officials--federal, state, or county officials--and it would also require that there be documented and verified evidence of the endangerment to livestock, domestic animals, private property, as the public safety of the result of cougars. This is really a compromise here; it doesn't take away the right to use dogs, but only limits their use in situations that are documented and by officials only. I urge your support of this amendment."

REMARKS BY SENATOR HARGROVE

Senator Hargrove: "Thank you, Mr. President. Actually, my reading of this amendment would be more restrictive than Initiative 655 was. Under Initiative 655, our Fish and Game Department can use hound hunters to go out and deal with a problem animal. This amendment would, not only, say that is the only way that hounds can be used, but it would require that the animal have a documentation and verification that it is a dangerous animal, as opposed to that solely being up to the Fish and Game agents at this point in time. We will get on to speak about the rest of what the bill does later, but this amendment would actually be more restrictive than 655 by requiring some documentation of that dangerousness of the cougar as opposed to leaving that up to our Fish and Game agents, so I urge your opposition."

REMARKS BY SENATOR MORTON

Senator Morton: "Thank you, Mr. President and ladies and gentlemen of the Senate. I want to thank the Senator from Hoquiam/Aberdeen for his good comments in opposition to the amendment. We already have a department that is heavily in debt and this would further add great expense for documentation and verification for only officials to be able to manage, in addition to what has already been covered. This would just continue what we have experienced in the last two years to be an eminent and a present danger and health hazard upon the citizens of this state--both young and old. I don't know as I will get into--I won't, Mr. President, get into the examples, because we spent a long time in committee under the good leadership of our chairman, in listening to numerous examples of confrontation in both arenas--human and animal--and the devastation that it has brought both to individuals, as well as to livestock at large. We simply have to allow the Department of Fish and Game to have the authority, along with the citizenry to properly manage--to properly manage--the cougar of our state. I ask you to vote 'no' on the amendment."

REMARKS BY SENATOR ROACH

Senator Roach: "Thank you, Mr. President. As many of you know, I have been working on this particular bill for probably eight months now and will speak to it when the bill actually comes up. I've answered questions many times on the radio, on television and other places regarding this changing of an Initiative. So, I want to address that portion of Senator Kohl-Welles statement. We do that all the time. Initiatives are typically filed; there is no review in a committee process. Once it is filed, once the citizens have paid their five dollars and file it with the Secretary of State, you can't change the wording. It's that way forever until the citizens vote on it and if approved, the Constitution allows for a way to change the wording.

"Our founding fathers understood that a law isn't put in stone and it should be able to be changed. So, with a two-thirds vote, after the first two years, you can change an Initiative and after that a simple majority. What we have here is a case like many other Initiatives dealing with Hard Time for Hard Crime or any of the others, when there is something that needs to be tweaked, we do it. In this case, I can't think of a more important time to do it than now, because our citizens--not in just eastern Washington, but in my district--are at risk. And also, Senator Kohl-Welles, your citizens, because they go into the mountains and they hike and they are now seeing signs that are essentially saying, 'Enter this public trail at your own risk, because of wildlife--cougar particularly.' I think that we need to be cognizant of these facts and do the responsible thing and vote 'no' on this amendment.

REMARKS BY SENATOR KOHL-WELLES

Senator Kohl-Welles: "Thank you, Mr. President. To close the debate, I very much appreciate what the good Senators brought out in their floor remarks and I can't say that I disagree with them, but this amendment would not take away the opportunity for dogs to be used in hunting cougars. What Senator Roach said is very accurate. Many of the urban residents do go out and hike and their safety should be regarded, but I believe this amendment provides for the needs through proper officials to conduct the hunting with the use of dogs when considered appropriate. I urge your support of the amendment."

REMARKS BY SENATOR McCASLIN

Senator McCaslin: "Thank you--not to prolong the debate, but I'll open it--just a little window in the debate. A few minutes ago, we voted on a bill on vicious dogs. Cougars aren't vicious; they are just hungry. When they come into your yard to attack a child, I think it is serious, very serious, even more so than the vicious dog. I think we should have the ability to hunt for those without calling the Game Department, incurring more costs and extending the time when we really want to search those animals out. I would appreciate you’re voting 'no' on this."

REMARKS BY SENATOR TIM SHELDON

Senator Tim Sheldon: “Thank you, Mr. President. I also want to rise and urge you to defeat this amendment. I think there is a little confusion here. These are not the canine dogs; this is not a German Shepard that goes home with its handler and comes out to chase down a suspect. These are highly specialized hounds which are used mostly by volunteers to have the means and also--well, the ability to work with these dogs and train them for this specific purpose. We can't leave these people out of the equation and just leave it to the agents, because certainly our Fish and Wildlife officers do not have the resources. They are even restricted to just twelve hundred miles a month right now in their ability to drive--to use their vehicle. So, I urge your defeat of this amendment."

REMARKS BY SENATOR THIBAUDEAU

Senator Thibaudeau: “Thank you, Mr. President, rising in support of the amendment. If you read it, you will see that it simply broadens the number of agents--employees of all kinds of the government. For example, agents of county, state, or federal agencies while acting in their official capacities. Some have said that there aren't enough dogs. That may be true, however, the substitute bill really opens it up. This would give the authority to hunt with hounds to a variety of officials. I urge you to support the amendment."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senators Kohl Welles, Patterson and Franklin on page 2, line 9, to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5001. The motion by Senator Kohl-Welles failed and the amendment was not adopted by voice vote.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Jacobsen, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5001 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

REMARKS BY SENATOR MORTON

Senator Morton: "Thank you, Mr. President, and ladies and gentlemen of the Senate. I would really appreciate your vote on this for the protection of our citizenry, as well as those involved in agriculture and particularly livestock. The Diamond M Ranch is just a little ways north of my home. The Diamond M Ranch, this last year, had twenty-six calves killed by cougar and the previous year, forty-six. The owner of the ranch, Len McIrvin, wrote me a letter and said, 'You know, Bob, that's the expense for my son for his year of college'

"Also, besides the human confrontations which we get considerable press and the media about, I thought to just refresh our minds what we are dealing with here, because many times we think of the cougar as a cat. They are a lion. The gentleman in our area, when the state had a bounty hunt for cougars, was nicknamed Cougar Sam. He made his living from hunting cougars. He is credited with over eight thousand cougar in the course of his adult years. He figured that the average weight of the cougar that he took was in the one hundred-seventy pound bracket. Now, I'm not sure exactly, and I don't want to point fingers, who might weight a hundred and seventy pounds here, but that is a pretty good size of being to come on to us and attack us with the tremendous strength of their jaws and their claws. So, we are dealing with really quite a vicious animal. It has no common predator, other than man.

"This bill just scratches one word in the Initiative. That's all it does. We are not adversely changing the decision of the populous in their vote. It just scratches one word and that is 'cougar' allowing for the use of hounds under the management of the Department of Fish and Wildlife within the numerous hunting units that we have.

"In the state of Washington, our whole state is divided into very small hunting units. I talked with Senator Horn, for example, from Mercer Island. He said, "Bob, would it be possible then, if we had any cougar on Mercer Island for the department to be able to issue permits or whatever was necessary to control in just that small area?" Yes, under this bill, it would be. It would allow the department to manage, then, the cougar population in this state.

"Of course, we want the cougar, but we want to be able to manage them. The senior/adult cougar enjoys the high mountain, pristine areas of our state, but they are very territorial. That is their nature. The average distance that they call their territory is ten square miles or more and therefore, depending on food availability for them and the terrain, they will protect their area--their domain. That has caused, in the last several years, the smaller cougar to be driven down to the lower land and into suburbia. So, it is because of the over-population and the territorial characteristics of the cougar that we have them encroaching now into our more civilized and urban areas.

"This bill will allow the Department of Fish and Game to properly manage the cougar of our state. I ask you to vote 'yes' on the final passage of the bill. Thank you."

REMARKS BY SENATOR STEVENS

Senator Stevens: "Thank you, Mr. President. I rise in support of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5001. In committee, when this was before us, as were four other bills similar to it, we heard the testimony from a mother who showed pictures of her son's 4-H project. This 4-H project had been exhibited all over the state and had won national prizes of very significant stature. It broke my heart, when she also explained that her son's pet llama had been stalked and killed by a cougar. This was in their back yard; this was not out in the woods somewhere. We have many similar incidences within my own district--in the Monroe area and in the foothills of the Cascades where people have lived for many, many years and have never seen a cougar. There is a lot of talk about the encroachment of people upon the terrain of the cougar, but in fact we know that the population of the cougar has expanded greatly due to our protection of other species and the prevalence of much game in the hill. Yes, there is game for them to eat, but as was explained by the former speaker, they also seek after domestic animals because they are easy--very easy-to-kill prey. I urge your support of this measure. On behalf of those folks in my district and other areas where childrens' pets are being abolished and killed by these predators."

REMARKS BY SENATOR ROACH

Senator Roach: "A year ago at this time, a cougar was in the Lakeland Hills, which is the incorporated area of the city of Auburn and a green belt. A woman walked out on her porch and there she was looking, not even feet away from her hand, at a full grown male cougar. Since that time, we have seen the sightings and the encounters increased, and I have received phone calls and messages from people literally all over western Washington and some in eastern Washington--because of what is happening. We have had cougars outside the fence in preschool areas of schools in Olympia. We've had them in neighborhoods out on the Peninsula.

"So, I believe that this is a good bill and needs to be passed. I know that the citizens of the state of Washington are very, very concerned, as we all were, when there was a bat in the Governor's Mansion and there was just a chance that that little baby would have been harmed. We all watched that. Well, I believe that there is a danger for our children outside the Governor's Mansion and that they, too, have the right to be protected and would urge your support of this bill."

REMARKS BY SENATOR HARGROVE
Senator Hargrove: "Thank you, Mr. President. Well, I'm not going to repeat all the arguments that have been made up to now, but I know that there will be some that will say, 'Well, the Initiative did not ban hunting of cougar, it just banned the use of hounds in the hunting of cougar.' So, I wanted to address that issue briefly, because the Department of Fish and Game has been issuing "boot permits" or permits for deer hunters to hunt cougar for the last twenty years and, in fact, recently have expanded that, so that there is no limit on the number of boot permits for hunting cougars. Yet, in that time, they have a total of one cougar taken with a boot permit. You just do not walk through the woods and get close enough to a cougar to shoot it while you are out hunting for deer and some other animal. They are extremely stealthful and they are not around. You just don't see them. They smell you coming and they go off. If they see you and you see them, you are probably the game.

"I have worked in the woods for over twenty years on the Olympic Peninsula. The Wildlife Department says that there are over five hundred animals on the Olympic Peninsula and in all that time, I have seen one cougar. Yet, I know from the Game Department that there are four cougars out behind my house. There are two adults and there are two kittens, I guess they call them. Now, when those kittens grow up, my children, in my back yard, are going to be potential game to those cougars. The whole issue here is being able to manage the population like we manage all other wildlife population in the state so there is a balance, letting our professionals manage that population. The other point that has not been brought up is that it is not just children, and it is just not domestic animals, our natural deer and elk populations are being disseminated in some areas because the cougar populations are not being controlled. So, I mean, it has an issue in the natural there, too. I would urge your support of the bill."

REMARKS BY SENATOR JACOBSEN

Senator Jacobsen: "Thank you, Mr. President. The other thing I want to emphasize about the bill, it doesn't mandate the Fish and Wildlife Department to authorize cougar hunting. They are authorized to do it on a regional basis or in any way they see fit after they have had hearings and they have looked at the information from the biologists. It is going to be based on good scientific information. There are areas so complicated that to think that it could be regulated by Initiative is not a good idea. You need to have the experts take a look at it and make a decision. "The other thing I want to emphasize in the bill, we put in the requirement that the department distribute information on how to live with cougars and what to do in case of danger. On top of that, there is an emergency clause on it. In part, I felt that was necessary, because last year while visiting a city light dam in eastern Washington, the very day I was over there, there was a report of a five year old being mauled by a cougar in a park. I thought if we are going to do this, we need an emergency clause on it. It would be a shame to wait for ninety days after the session is over to take effect. In that time, somebody could be injured and that would be really heart breaking. I urge you all to support the bill."

REMARKS BY SENATOR HEAVEY

Senator Heavey: "Thank you, Mr. President. Coming from an urban district, I have probably ten letters and hotlines saying, 'vote no' on this bill, but I think it is just a matter to me of common sense that a cougar, while it is a nice animal, is a predator. The more that there are, the more they are going to get pushed out. I remember back in the seventies or early eighties, we had a cougar in Ballard that had come down the railroad tracks. If we don't pass this, and even if we do pass it, it is just a matter of time until a mother leaves a baby out on a blanket in the back yard and that cougar that is lying in the woods behind, pops out and the kid is gone. It is just a matter of time and I think it is less likely to happen if we pass this bill than if we don't. All things considered, I would urge a 'yes' vote on this bill."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Franklin: "Senator Jacobsen, I, too, much as the good Senator from the Thirty-Fourth District, has had stacks of letters and e-mails saying to vote against this measure, because there are other ways or ways of really controlling the cougars. There was also an explanation of how the cougars are chased up a tree and how cruel it had been in search of these cougars. My question to you, then, is will the cougar population be scientifically controlled and also with the Department of Fish and Wildlife, if you will--Department of Game--I guess that is the old name--will have a real great hand in this instead of just letting dogs unmanaged go out and hunt these predators, if you will, to upset the balance of the environment. So, my question--maybe I confused it a bit, but do you understand what I am trying to get at?"
Senator Jacobsen: "In answer to your question, I want to point out that the Commission does retain the authority for regulating the time and place for hunting cougar. I would assume they would have public testimony and information from wildlife biologists before they would allow a hunt. The other thing is, in a lot of these issues, the ecosystems and the balance is so upset now that we have to be in there manipulating—we don't have a natural relationship anymore between a prey and glory. With the growth and population and the sprawl and everything else, these incidents are going to become more common and we just have to have a way to handle it. In the back of it, of course, I point out that there is always the danger to human beings."

Senator Franklin: "Thank you."

REMARKS BY SENATOR KOHL-WELLES

Senator Kohl-Welles: "Thank you, Mr. President. I would like to set the record straight here. This debate on this bill is really not about whether there should be some control—managed control of the hunting of cougars. No one who opposes this bill wants to have little children being mauled by cougars. Even parents in Ballard—no where in this state does anybody want that. The question here though, ladies and gentlemen, is that the voters approved an Initiative and a very large part of that Initiative had to do with the disapproval of using one method for controlling the population of the cougar. That being the new account, that is what opposition to this bill is about. It is not about denying the hunting of cougars, it is not about having any lesser concern about public safety or the safety of domestic animals or property. Please keep that in mind. Thank you."

REMARKS BY SENATOR OKE

Senator Oke: "Thank you, Mr. President, and fellow Senators. We had, as has been stated, really good testimony on the issue and the Fish and Wildlife Department has come to us with a map of the state and it reveals the sightings that we have had on cougars. The extent that they really worked this problem and with the scientists that they have, we know that they were in excess in many, many areas. One of the issues that has occurred in Washington is those folks, as a business, raised and feed and took care of hound dogs—the people who do this—have actually left our state. They can no longer pursue what they consider an enjoyable and very expensive business for them individually.

"Previously, the department, if they had a cougar and it was a problem, they could call these individuals and they would assist in tracking down that animal that had gotten out of hand. We need to, again, be able to use these dogs—and they are controlled. They have radar controls on them and it is very dangerous for the dogs and it is probably a lot more dangerous for the dogs than it is for the cougar. I think Senator Hargrove made a comment about—it may be a little confusing to some of you—but when you are in the woods, you don't see any cougar. They don't come near you. Those are the ones that aren't hungry; the ones that are hungry do come around."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5001.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Benton: "Mr. President, I rise to a point of personal privilege. As many of you have read in your reports and e-mails over the last few days, February nineteenth is fast approaching. I have asked the Pages to pass out to your desks a pamphlet on the World War II Memorial. I would like to just read to you from the inside, if I may, Mr. President: 'When my country called, I answered; When my country asked, I gave; Reach out now across the years and through the tears, remember me.' That was written by a World War II veteran. This memorial will be dedicated in late May, but you have until February 19 to be a permanent part of that memorial. So, you can put anything on three lines, twenty characters per line that you choose. It does not necessarily have to be related to a war veteran. If you want to recognize a child or a brother or a sister or even a friend from any war or for any reason, you can do so. I just want to remind you that your opportunity to do so will be over on the nineteenth, which is in just a few short days. I wanted to remind my Senators, my colleagues, to take advantage of this last opportunity to be a part of this everlasting memorial. Thank you."

WHEREAS, Approximately seventy-five percent of the Pacific Northwest's electricity is provided by Columbia and Snake River system dams, which generate renewable energy without creating any air or water pollution; and

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Morton: "Senator Oke, I am concerned about the wording in the bill. Really, Mr. President, I have three pointed questions. On page 2, line 1, it says, 'appropriate size.' I am wondering if there is a definition of appropriate size of this particular flotation device. Then, page 2, line 5, it says, 'the vessel is underway.' I am wondering if there is a definition of being underway. Are we out on the great sea and drifting with the tide; is that underway? Are we under power, are we under oar, or are we just out there somewhere? Then, finally on page 2, line 11, it says that a child is on a Coast Guard inspected passenger-carrying vessel.

"Now I have two vessels, one is a canoe and one is a little row boat. They both have tags from the United States Coast Guard that give the capacity of the boat, both in pounds and numbers of passengers. Is that what fits here or not? I need some explanation before I can give approval. I think, sir, that I have too many questions to be able to vote affirmatively."

Senator Oke: "Thank you, Senator Morton. I think I thank you; those are three long questions. The answer to all three of them really lies in Subsection 4 (c), which is a new element of this bill that we had over last year. Your concern is really taken care of by the officers that are out there--giving the infraction--if necessary, insuring that this is being done. It says, "While on board a vessel, at a time and place where no person would reasonably expect drowning to occur."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Heavey: "Thank you, Mr. President, a point of order. I would like to remind the body that when we ask colloquies or we spread the remarks on the Journal, that we are imposing a lot of work on the staff. So, if we could refrain, unless we have it well worked in advance what the question and answer would be, I think it would be appreciated by everybody."

Further debate ensued.

CALL FOR THE PREVIOUS QUESTION

Senators Snyder, Franklin, and Prentice called for the previous question and the demand was sustained.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Heavey: "A point of personal privilege, Mr. President. The gentleman from the Fourth District isn't here today, so I think it is appropriate, having just suffered through what we did, to mention the first speech of the lady from the Forty-Second District, which sounded like the ear-splitting shriek of a diseased camel. Having inflicted that pain on the membership, she will have to, or she should be considerate and give us a little something for the pain which we went through and a gift would be in order. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Gardner: "A point of personal privilege, Mr. President. I am going to have to bow to the Senator's superior knowledge of camels. I do have something for you. I do regret that Senator McCaslin is absent, because I know he does get hungry at this time of day. I wanted to assure him that I had something for him to eat. I also know that you have heard me speak of Blaine and what a wonderful place to live, so I wanted to give you a map of the Forty-Second District with Blaine prominently featured, so that you can not only see where we are, but you can enjoy this treat that is made in Blaine and see that we truly have everything there. SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5485, by Senators Thibaudeau, Deccio, McDonald, Snyder, Winsley, Kline, Oke and Costa (by request of Attorney General Gregoire)

Regulating certain tobacco product manufacturers.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Thibaudeau, the following striking amendment was adopted:
Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. FINDINGS AND PURPOSE. (a) Cigarette smoking presents serious public health concerns to the State and to the citizens of the State. The Surgeon General has determined that smoking causes lung cancer, heart disease and other serious diseases, and that there are hundreds of thousands of tobacco-related deaths in the United States each year. These diseases most often do not appear until many years after the person in question begins smoking.

(b) Cigarette smoking also presents serious financial concerns for the State. Under certain health-care programs, the State may have a legal obligation to provide medical assistance to eligible persons for health conditions associated with cigarette smoking, and those persons may have a legal entitlement to receive such medical assistance.

(c) Under these programs, the State pays millions of dollars each year to provide medical assistance for these persons for health conditions associated with cigarette smoking.

(d) It is the policy of the State that financial burdens imposed on the State by cigarette smoking be borne by tobacco product manufacturers rather than by the State to the extent that such manufacturers either determine to enter into a settlement with the State or are found culpable by the courts."
On November 23, 1998, leading United States tobacco product manufacturers entered into a settlement agreement, entitled the "Master Settlement Agreement," with the State. The Master Settlement Agreement obligates these manufacturers, in return for a release of past, present and certain future claims against them as described therein, to pay substantial sums to the State (tied in part to their volume of sales); to fund a national foundation devoted to the interests of public health; and to make substantial changes in their advertising and marketing practices and corporate culture, with the intention of reducing underage smoking.

(f) It would be contrary to the policy of the State if tobacco product manufacturers who determine not to enter into such a settlement could use a resulting cost advantage to derive large, short-term profits in the years before liability may arise without ensuring that the State will have an eventual source of recovery from them if they are proven to have acted culpably. It is thus in the interest of the State to require that such manufacturers establish a reserve fund to guarantee a source of compensation and to prevent such manufacturers from deriving large, short-term profits and then becoming judgment-proof before liability may arise.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. DEFINITIONS. (a) "Adjusted for inflation" means increased in accordance with the formula for inflation adjustment set forth in Exhibit C to the Master Settlement Agreement.

(b) "Affiliate" means a person who directly or indirectly owns or controls, is owned or controlled by, or is under common ownership or control with, another person. Solely for purposes of this definition, the terms "owns," "is owned" and "ownership" mean ownership of an equity interest, or the equivalent thereof, of ten percent or more, and the term "person" means an individual, partnership, committee, association, corporation or any other organization or group of persons.

(c) "Allocable share" means Allocable Share as that term is defined in the Master Settlement Agreement.

(d) "Cigarette" means any product that contains nicotine, is intended to be burned or heated under ordinary conditions of use, and consists of or contains (1) any roll of tobacco wrapped in paper or in any substance not containing tobacco; or (2) tobacco, in any form, that is functional in the product, which, because of its appearance, the type of tobacco used in the filler, or its packaging and labeling, is likely to be offered to, or purchased by, consumers as a cigarette; or (3) any roll of tobacco wrapped in any substance containing tobacco which, because of its appearance, the type of tobacco used in the filler, or its packaging and labeling, is likely to be offered to, or purchased by, consumers as a cigarette described in clause (1) of this definition. The term "cigarette" includes "roll-your-own" (i.e., any tobacco which, because of its appearance, type, packaging, or labeling is suitable for use and likely to be offered to, or purchased by, consumers as tobacco for making cigarettes). For purposes of this definition of "cigarette," 0.09 ounces of "roll-your-own" tobacco shall constitute one individual "cigarette".

(e) "Master Settlement Agreement" means the settlement agreement (and related documents) entered into on November 23, 1998 by the State and leading United States tobacco product manufacturers.

(f) "Qualified escrow fund" means an escrow arrangement with a federally or State chartered financial institution having no affiliation with any tobacco product manufacturer and having assets of at least $1,000,000,000 where such arrangement requires that such financial institution hold the escrowed funds' principal for the benefit of releasing parties and prohibits the tobacco product manufacturer placing the funds into escrow from using, accessing or directing the use of the funds' principal except as consistent with section 3(b) of this Act.

(g) "Released claims" means Released Claims as that term is defined in the Master Settlement Agreement.

(h) "Releasing parties" means Releasing Parties as that term is defined in the Master Settlement Agreement.

(i) "Tobacco Product Manufacturer" means an entity that after the date of enactment of this Act directly (and not exclusively through any affiliate):

(1) manufactures cigarettes anywhere that such manufacturer intends to be sold in the United States, including cigarettes intended to be sold in the United States through an importer (except where such importer is an original participating manufacturer (as that term is defined in the Master Settlement Agreement)) that will be responsible for the payments under the Master Settlement Agreement with respect to such cigarettes as a result of the provisions of subsections (m) of the Master Settlement Agreement and that pays the taxes specified in subsection (r) of the Master Settlement Agreement, and provided that the manufacturer of such cigarettes does not market or advertise such cigarettes in the United States;

(2) is the first purchaser anywhere for resale in the United States of cigarettes manufactured anywhere that the manufacturer does not intend to be sold in the United States; or

(3) becomes a successor of an entity described in paragraph (1) or (2).

The term "Tobacco Product Manufacturer" shall not include an affiliate of a tobacco product manufacturer unless such affiliate itself falls within any of (1)-(3) above.

(j) "Units sold" means the number of individual cigarettes sold in the State by the applicable tobacco product manufacturer (whether directly or through a distributor, retailer or similar intermediary or intermediaries) during the year in question, as measured by excise taxes collected by the State on packs bearing the excise tax stamp of the State or "roll-your-own" tobacco containers. The department of revenue shall promulgate such regulations as are necessary to ascertain the amount of State excise tax paid on the cigarettes of such tobacco product manufacturer for each year.
NEW SECTION Sec. 3. REQUIREMENTS. Any tobacco product manufacturer selling cigarettes to consumers within the State (whether directly or through a distributor, retailer or similar intermediary or intermediaries) after the date of enactment of this Act shall do one of the following:

(a) become a participating manufacturer (as that term is defined in section II(jj) of the Master Settlement Agreement) and generally perform its financial obligations under the Master Settlement Agreement; or

(b)(1) place into a qualified escrow fund by April 15 of the year following the year in question the following amounts (as such amounts are adjusted for inflation) --

1999: $.0094241 per unit sold after the date of enactment of this Act; 2000: $.0104712 per unit sold;
for each of 2001 and 2002: $.0136125 per unit sold;
for each of 2003 through 2006: $.0167539 per unit sold; for each of 2007 and each year thereafter: $.0188482 per unit sold.

(2) A tobacco product manufacturer that places funds into escrow pursuant to paragraph (1) shall receive the interest or other appreciation on such funds as earned. Such funds themselves shall be released from escrow only under the following circumstances --

(A) to pay a judgment or settlement on any released claim brought against such tobacco product manufacturer by the State or any releasing party located or residing in the State. Funds shall be released from escrow under this subparagraph (i) in the order in which they were placed into escrow and (ii) only to the extent and at the time necessary to make payments required under such judgment or settlement;

(B) to the extent that a tobacco product manufacturer establishes that the amount it was required to place into escrow in a particular year was greater than the State's allocable share of the total payments that such manufacturer would have been required to make in that year under the Master Settlement Agreement (as determined pursuant to section IX(i)(2) of the Master Settlement Agreement, and before any of the adjustments or offsets described in section IX(i)(3) of that Agreement other than the Inflation Adjustment) had it been a participating manufacturer, the excess shall be released from escrow and revert back to such tobacco product manufacturer; or

(C) to the extent not released from escrow under subparagraphs (A) or (B), funds shall be released from escrow and revert back to such tobacco product manufacturer twenty-five years after the date on which they were placed into escrow.

(3) Each tobacco product manufacturer that elects to place funds into escrow pursuant to this subsection shall annually certify to the Attorney General that it is in compliance with this subsection. The Attorney General may bring a civil action on behalf of the State against any tobacco product manufacturer that fails to place into escrow the funds required under this section. Any tobacco product manufacturer that fails in any year to place into escrow the funds required under this section shall --

(A) be required within 15 days to place such funds into escrow as shall bring it into compliance with this section. The court, upon a finding of a violation of this subsection, may impose a civil penalty to be paid to the general fund of the state in an amount not to exceed 5 percent of the amount improperly withheld from escrow per day of the violation and in a total amount not to exceed 100 percent of the original amount improperly withheld from escrow;

(B) in the case of a knowing violation, be required within 15 days to place such funds into escrow as shall bring it into compliance with this section. The court, upon a finding of a knowing violation of this subsection, may impose a civil penalty to be paid to the general fund of the state in an amount not to exceed 15 percent of the amount improperly withheld from escrow per day of the violation and in a total amount not to exceed 300 percent of the original amount improperly withheld from escrow; and

(C) in the case of a second knowing violation, be prohibited from selling cigarettes to consumers within the State (whether directly or through a distributor, retailer or similar intermediary) for a period not to exceed 2 years.

Each failure to make an annual deposit required under this section shall constitute a separate violation. The violator shall also pay the State's costs and attorney's fees incurred during a successful prosecution under this paragraph (3).

NEW SECTION Sec. 4. Sections 1 through 3 of this act constitute a new chapter in Title 70 RCW.

NEW SECTION Sec. 5. Captions used in this act are not part of the law.

NEW SECTION Sec. 6. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and takes effect immediately.”

On page 8, after line 10, insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. A new section is added to chapter 43.79 RCW to read as follows:
(1) The emergency medical services assistance account is created in the state treasury. On the first day of the months of January, April, July, and October of each year, the state treasurer shall distribute the funds in the emergency medical services assistance account to the counties ratably on the basis of population as last determined by the office of financial management.
(2) Funds distributed from the emergency medical services assistance account under this section shall be used only for the provision of emergency medical care or emergency medical services, including related personnel costs, training for such personnel, and related equipment, supplies, vehicles, and structures needed for the provision of emergency medical care or emergency medical services, or for distribution by the county to emergency medical service districts, cities or towns, public hospital districts, urban emergency medical service districts, or fire protection districts within the county for the provision of emergency medical care or emergency medical services.

Excused: Senator Oke - 1.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Heavey: "A point of order. Thank you, Mr. President. I realize we don't have a rule against lap top computers during debate. We don't have a rule on bouquets of flowers that may be three feet in height and maybe we should, but I would submit, Mr. President, that those two elements--those two things--fall under indecorous conduct, which we do have rules prohibiting indecorous conduct. I would ask the President, at a later date, if he could make a ruling on whether such conduct amounted to indecorous conduct. Thank you."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "I think the President is prepared to respond to that at this time. He certainly would do not want to impugn his own actions, when he was a distinguished member of this distinguished body, in the Senate, and operating a lap top computer at his desk. I have found that tradition has it that members have been allowed to use lap top computers during the session, and unless the body deems to pass a rule differently, would continue to allow that.

"Secondly, in case of the flowers, the President believes that a brief display of the flowers on the member's desk is appropriate, but ongoing could interfere with the ability for the President to identify speakers behind jungles of flowers. Therefore, it might be wise to have them removed--and the President would encourage that they be removed--after a day or so."

MOTION

Senator McDonald moved that the following amendment be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 43.79 RCW to read as follows:

The legislature recognizes that the citizens of the state of Washington have suffered substantial harm as a result of the marketing, sale, and use of tobacco products. Moneys received by the state of Washington in accordance with the settlement of the state's legal action against tobacco product manufacturers, exclusive of costs and attorneys' fees, shall be deposited in the tobacco settlement account created in section 2 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 43.79 RCW to read as follows:

The tobacco settlement account is created in the state treasury. Moneys in the tobacco settlement account may only be transferred to the health services account for the purposes set forth in RCW 43.72.900, and to the education enhancement account for purposes set forth in section 3 of this act. Forty-five percent of the revenues to the tobacco settlement account shall be deposited in the education enhancement account."
NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 43.79 RCW to read as follows:
The education enhancement account is created in the state treasury. Moneys in the account may be spent only after appropriation and may be used exclusively for enhancing and improving the common school system of the state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and takes effect immediately.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McCaslin: "A point of personal privilege. Ladies and gentlemen of the Senate. Another momentous monumental memorial moment has arrived here on the State Senate floor. Little do we realize in the passing of time, how important these moments are, but Larry Sheahan spoke for the first time on this floor--Senator Sheahan from the Ninth District. Now, Senator Sheahan, usually most people like something to eat. Eide passed out baseballs. It took me a week and a half to eat that and it is awfully hard on old teeth. Now, the rumor is and I don't know if it is true, that as a present you are going to give everyone here a billable hour. We get enough legal advice; we would appreciate a little snack. Could you respond to this request; could you respond to this question, Senator? Now, when I say would you respond, you have to get up and say something. Do you have any plans, Senator?"

REPLY BY SENATOR SHEAHAN

Senator Sheahan: "Yes, I do by the way."

Senator McCaslin: "I see you are from the wheat country. I suppose we will have some wheat or barley or hay or schnapps or something."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Sheahan: "A point of personal privilege, Madam President. As a matter of fact, I do have a gift today for the members of the Senate. It is a tradition for a new member when they speak for the first time on this floor to give something that is indicative of the district. Now, I had a hard time deciding what to give. I have a very interesting and diverse district. Fairchild Air Force Base is in my district, so I thought about maybe chocolate airplanes for Senator McCaslin. Also, I have Eastern Washington University, the home of the Eagles. I also have the western part of Adams County, as one of the key potato producing parts of the state, so I thought maybe french fries.

"Also, we have some wonderful dams--very important dams, by the way--two of them on the border of my district, so I have some 'Save the Dam' buttons that I thought about handing out. But, I wanted to do something that was indicative of the agricultural heritage of my area. If you can imagine a French trapper or maybe a French missionary coming to Whitman County standing on Stepto Butte, looking out over the hundreds of thousands of acres of agricultural land. At that time, they were completely covered with grass and that French person called that area the Palouse, which is a French word for green carpet. So, I wanted something that was indicative of the Palouse area and also indicative of the largest town in my district, which is Pullman, the home of our wonderful land grant institution.

"It is not a Cougar, but it is something, Senator McCaslin, that you can eat. One of our key agricultural products, which the Pages are passing out right now--it is the lentil--the noble legume--the lentil. The lentil is rich in vitamin A, calcium, iron, protein, carbohydrates, and fiber. It is also very low in fat and cholesterol. I would like to invite all of you to Pullman the third week of August to come to the Lentil Festival. At the Lentil Festival, you can enjoy lentil chili, lentil tacos, lentil pancakes, lentil cookies, lentil brownies and even lentil ice cream.

"Madam Chairman, if I may, I would like to thank the Pea and Lentil Association for the gift I passed out today. I would like to make one final comment. I've heard on the floor several times that the good Senator from the Fourth District has some specific nutritional needs and, particularly, when we get around noon time, he seems very deprived and so this time, if I may, I would like to present Senator McCaslin with a very special gift--if I may, Madam President." (Senator Sheahan presented Senator McCaslin with a twenty-five pound bag of lentils).

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McCaslin: "May I, Madam President, finish my part in this charade? Remember, ladies and gentlemen, this is a form of a bean. Please don't eat them the same day. If we have one more person that is going to speak, I would recommend they pass out Gas X."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hargrove: “Senator Sheahan, where's the beef?”
Senator Sheahan: "You will have to talk to Senator Hochstatter about that. There is not a lot of beef in my district."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Horn: “Senator Sheahan, it seems like this has very complex instructions and I wonder if you would volunteer and come around and prepare for each one of us, so we could have complete training sessions on this?"
Senator Sheahan: "Well, Senator Horn, I think, as Chairman of the Senate Education Committee, Senator McAuliffe would love to join me in coming around and educating the people of the Senate on how to cook these lentils. I would be more than happy to do that with her."
Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hargrove: “Senator Sheldon, I understand the point of the bill. How do you determine whether the person whose name is on the sign is responsible for having that sign put up? You know, paid for it--otherwise, I could go out and put signs all over your district that say, 'Tim Sheldon's Logging,' and get you a hundred dollar fine on each sign. That maybe would be a nice trick on you. How do you determine that?"

Senator Tim Sheldon: "Thanks for the question, Senator Hargrove. The DOT will have the authority to make an investigation and talk to the people who may be responsible for the sign, they will talk to the property owner to see if it is an authorized sign or not—by the property owner. We can get to the bottom of it. It is really not an issue too much of somebody putting up someone else's signs. Really, the issue is taking down the signs that are unauthorized and put up where people think they can get free advertising. They put them up thirty feet in the air or whatever they do to try and keep them there at all times."

(e) For any person to sell or offer for sale a motorcycle helmet which does not meet the requirements established by the state patrol.
(2) The state patrol is hereby authorized and empowered to adopt and amend rules, pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act, concerning the standards and procedures for conformance of rules adopted for glasses, goggles, face shields, and protective helmets.

Sec. 8. RCW 46.37.535 and 1990 c 270 s 8 are each amended to read as follows:
It is unlawful for any person to rent out motorcycles, motor-driven cycles, or mopeds unless the person also has on hand for rent helmets of a type conforming to rules adopted by the state patrol.
It shall be unlawful for any person under the age of twenty-one years to rent a motorcycle, motor-driven cycle, or moped unless the person has in his or her possession a helmet of a type approved by the state patrol, regardless of from whom the helmet is obtained."

Renumber the next section consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.
POINT OF ORDER

Senator Haugen: "Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. I submit that the amendment proposed by Senators Hargrove and Benton changes the scope and object of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5264 and therefore violates Senate Rule 66. Substitute Senate Bill No. 5264 addresses changes in motorcycle license and learner permits, as well as a requirement for liability insurance.

"The amendment restricts current law requiring the use of helmets by anyone riding a motorcycle to people under the age of twenty-one. I believe the amendment addressing the use of certain equipment while riding a motorcycle is outside the scope and object of the bill that addresses administrative requirements for licensing and liability insurance."

Debate ensued

On motion of Senator Deccio, Senator Morton was excused.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator West: "Mr. President, a point of parliamentary inquiry. Reed's Rules, which governs the Senate when we have no rules that speak specifically to a point. Reed's Rule 212 talks about object of debate and duties of members under debate and decorum. On the second paragraph of that rule, 212, it says, 'members shall never address any one but the presiding officer. He (and we would have to infer today to also she) he/she must not allude to any member by name, but by some descriptive expression, like the gentleman (and in today's world the gentle woman) who last addressed the assembly, the gentleman/woman from Virginia, the noble and learned lord, the gallant gentleman/gentle woman, the member from Portsmouth.' Of course, this is all parliamentary.

"The point being, Mr. President, that in today's debate many members have referred to other members by name. I know that somewhat over the years we have become a little lax in this. Reed's goes on to point out that the purpose for not referring to a member by debate or by name is to prevent an outbreak of violence on the floor. I think that as the session goes on and as times get tense, we ought to pay more attention to that, because it does cause us to stop and think and reflect before we lash out at another member. So, I bring that to the President's attention and enforce that as we go along."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Senator West, absent to a Senate Rule to the contrary, your point is well taken. However, there has been some flexibility given to the President to allow some discretion in that area over the time, as long as it has not been abused, Senator West."

Further debate ensued.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "For the information of the members, I think that most members know that the President is somewhat of a stickler to decorum and to the rules. He does try to provide some discretion on occasion, as is in the case of the point that Senator West has made. But, if a member brings up the rule, the President will enforce the rule as requested, because it is the rule. So, if you choose to have that changed, it will have to be done through another rule being drafted and passed by the Senate. Thank you."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Honeyford, Senator Deccio was excused.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Haugen to the scope and object of the amendment by Senators Hargrove and Benton on page 5, line 20, to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5264, the President finds that Substitute Senate Bill No. 5264 is a measure which makes changes to motorcycle operating laws including (1) requiring liability insurance coverage; (2) permitting the holders of motorcycle operating licenses to operate any size motorcycle; and (3) providing a tax exemption for motorcycles loaned to persons contracting with the Department of Licensing to provide motorcycle training. All of these changes are administrative in nature. None of these changes relates to equipment required for the safe operation of motorcycles.

"The amendment would permit motorcycle operators over the age of twenty-one to ride without helmets.

"The President, therefore, finds that the proposed amendment does change the scope and object of the bill and the point of order is well taken."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator McCaslin: "A point of parliamentary inquiry, Mr. President. According to Reed's Rules, I have to address you, but I guess I don't have to look at you. I can look at the body, but the point brought up by the good Senator from the sixth district, who shall remain nameless, and I am not sure he is on the floor at the present time--I spent the weekend looking at Reed's Rules and I came upon Rule 259. Down in the body of that rule, Mr. President, it says, 'Of the extent of these modifications, each assembly must judge for itself and but few suggestions can be made. It has seemed that the best service such a manual such as this could render would be to show some practical modifications which have been made and leave the question of modification in each particular case to the needs of the assembly on which it must necessarily depend.' So, I would ask, Mr. President, can you make these modifications or must the assembly or the body make these modifications?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "The President believes that it is up to the body to make the modifications of the rules and that is why you have the separate Senate Rules."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McCaslin: "Thank you, Mr. President. May I go to a point of personal privilege?"

President Owen: “Certainly.”

Senator McCaslin: “To the body, I address this fact. These rules were written sometime around the eighteen nineties or the eighteen seventies or in that area. It wasn’t until nineteen twenty that we gave the women the right to vote. Now, at the present time, the Democratic Caucus is made up of about sixty-five percent women and the total body is made up of forty-three percent women. Now, I didn’t read every word in Reed’s Rules, but I did look through most of the pages and I never found the reference to ‘her’ or ‘she’ or ‘woman.’ In a way, this is a sexist manual and it is based upon what men do, not what women do. Now, Senator, could you hold it down just a bit? I am making a great speech here. Anyway, I think all of us should look at this, especially, I can’t mention him by name--I don’t know what district he is from--but he is Sid Snyder. Is that okay?

“Sid Snyder and Dan McDonald and the woman who happens to be floor leader of the Democrats and the man who is floor leader for the Republicans should get together and come up with a rule for the Senate that is not sexist, but rather recognizes the tremendous power and the contribution that women have made to this body and to the state of Washington. Mr. President, I would ask you if you would appoint a committee of Senator Snyder, Senator Sheldon, Senator McDonald--who is not here hearing this great speech--and Senator Johnson to come up with a rule for this Senate that addresses the fact that women are major players in this body--and mention ‘she’ or ‘her’ or ‘woman.’ A woman is mentioned in the introduction, but that was written probably in the seventies. Nowhere--nowhere is a woman mentioned in these rules. I think it is unfair and I think it should be corrected. Thank you Mr. President.”

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: “Thank you, Senator McCaslin. The President will take your suggestion under advisement. He will remind you that he exercises some latitude and discretion and he believes that the rules provide that opportunity for him to do so, unless a member has brought up a specific rule that they want enforced, which is what Senator West has done and, therefore, if you want a change in the rules, it is necessary for the body to make that decision themselves, not the President.”

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Deccio: “Senator McCaslin, if all of this comes to pass, Senator, does this mean that I can’t call you a turkey anymore?”

Senator McCaslin: “I would prefer you didn’t call me a turkey on the floor, but you could call me a friend.”

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Patterson: "Mr. President, a point of order. I believe the good Senator is impugning the motive of the maker of the bill by suggesting that the maker is grandstanding. This bill is of extreme importance to many people who live in the state of Washington, even though there are some who may disagree with it. I would ask that the good lady show respect to the underlying legislation and to the maker of the bill."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Patterson: "Senator Costa, I was confused by the speech by the lady from the Thirty-ninth District earlier. It seemed to me that she seemed to think that the bill would make breastfeeding a part of the indecent exposure statute. Isn't it true that the bill specifically will exclude the act of breastfeeding from being an act that is considered to be indecent exposure? That is the way that I understand the bill."

Senator Costa: "You are correct, Senator Patterson. We are specifically excluding from the indecent exposure statute the act of breastfeeding. While it is not specifically included at this time, we are excluding it because there were many women who contacted me who have been threatened with being charged with indecent exposure--who have been escorted out of shopping malls--who have been asked to go to the restroom in a restaurant to nurse their children. So, that is why we are specifically excluding from the indecent exposure statutes the act of breastfeeding."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Deccio: "Senator Costa, the conscious clause as presented by the Northwest Catholic Conference was agreed by the committee and there was no objection to the bill if the conscious clause was attached--which it was. I've just checked with the representatives of the Northwest Catholic Conference and they have not seen or do they know what is in your amendment on page 4, line 1 and page 4, line 2. Perhaps you can explain what it does and how it differs from the conscious clause that was approved by the Northwest Catholic Conference."

Senator Costa: "Thank you, Senator Deccio and Mr. President. This was the amendment that we did adopt and again it was a clarifying amendment on behalf of Group Health. What it says, currently, the underlying conscious clause says that if a provider does not provide contraception services, due to a religious objection--conscious objection--what they can do is they can refer the patient out to another provider. Group Health's concern was that that would mean that any individual would go to any provider, including someone outside of their network. What they asked for was a clarification that indeed that referral went to someone else within the next network who provided the services and then, if in fact, there was no provider within the network providing contraceptive coverage and services, that they could then go outside of that HMO network. It's simply a clarification on behalf of the HMOs to make sure that we don't just send people outside of their network first.

Senator Deccio: "Mr. President, if I could respond. Senator Costa, you said that this amendment was adopted in committee. I don't recall that it was. If it was adopted in committee, we should not have to deal with it here. My question again is, does what you have accomplished in this amendment run counter to what the conscious clause was suppose to deal with?"

Senator Costa: "Thank you, Senator Deccio. We did adopt the conscious clause in committee. That is what I was referring to--the entire conscious clause that is within the bill. Again, this is simply--this does nothing to alter the conscious clause that is there other than to give Group Health and HMOs the right to have somebody referred to a provider within their network, instead of going outside of their network first. So, it is just for the HMOs."

Further debate ensued.
The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5512.

They are well-suited to become physician assistants. The growing older population of citizens is particularly well-served by having access to these well-trained providers. The legislature finds that by providing for the licensure and supervision of podiatric physicians and surgeons by physicians as physician assistants, the health and welfare of our citizens will be improved and access to preventative health care will be increased.

Sec. 2. RCW 18.71A.010 and 1994 sp.s. c 9 s 318 are each amended to read as follows:

The definitions set forth in this section apply throughout this chapter.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Thibaudeau: "Mr. President, a point of order. I would ask that this amendment be considered beyond the scope and object of this bill. Currently, physicians' assistants and osteopathic physicians' assistants must be eligible to take an examination, but they are not required to take it or pass it to become licensed. This bill puts the emphasis on their taking an exam and it also requires that there be an interim permit, which would be granted by the Health Department. So, this amendment, while I understand the good Senator's intent to deal with a constituent of his, I would suggest that this particular amendment does not fit the scope and object of this bill. Thank you Mr. President."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Thibaudeau to the scope and object of the striking amendment by Senators Benton and Stevens to Senate Bill No. 5702, the President finds that Senate Bill No. 5702 is a measure which makes procedural changes to licensing requirements for physicians' assistants, including only (1) Requiring prospective physicians' assistants to take a licensing exam, and (2) Permitting otherwise qualified applicants to practice for one year prior to taking the exam.

"The striking amendment would define 'Physician Assistant' to include podiatrists.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rossi: "Senator Benton, if a domestic insurer only sold insurance in the United States between 1920 and 1945, but had a reinsurance contract as a policy holder at that time with a European company or subsidiary, which did business in Europe, would this bill apply to the domestic insurer?"

Senator Benton: "The answer, Senator Rossi, is 'no.' This is not intended to apply to companies that only had--that acted as a policy holder for the purpose of purchasing reinsurance. They would be customers just like you or I. If they bought a reinsurance contract from a company--and many companies did--they bought Lloyds of London or some other European company. They bought insurance themselves; it is called reinsurance to protect their policy holders. It was solely a business relationship where they were a customer and they bought insurance from another company. No, this legislation is not intended to affect those types of relationships at all, where the domestic company was simply a customer of another company."

Further debate ensued.

I believe he had all legislators in mind, as well as the state of Washington, so that we can have the best people serving in our Legislature and who are paid decently. I would like to personally commend Senator Alex Deccio."

Sec. 2. RCW 11.88.090 and 1996 c 249 s 10 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Nothing contained in RCW 11.88.080 through 11.88.120, 11.92.010 through 11.92.040, 11.92.060 through 11.92.120, 11.92.170, and 11.92.180 shall affect or impair the power of any court to appoint a guardian ad litem to defend the interests of any incapacitated person interested in any suit or matter pending therein, or to commence and prosecute any suit in his or her behalf.

(2) Upon receipt of a petition for appointment of guardian or limited guardian, except as provided herein, the court shall appoint a guardian ad litem to represent the best interests of the alleged incapacitated person, who shall be a person found or known by the court to:

(a) Be free of influence from anyone interested in the result of the proceeding; and

(b) Have the requisite knowledge, training, or expertise to perform the duties required by this section.

The guardian ad litem shall within five days of receipt of notice of appointment file with the court and serve, either personally or by certified mail with return receipt, each party with a statement including: His or her training relating to the duties as a guardian ad litem; his or her criminal history as defined in RCW 9.94A.030 for the period covering ten years prior to the appointment; his or her hourly rate, if compensated; whether the guardian ad litem has had any contact with a party to the proceeding prior to his or her appointment; and whether he or she has an apparent conflict of interest. Within three days of the later of the actual service or filing of the guardian ad litem’s statement, any party may set a hearing and file a motion for an order to show cause why the guardian ad litem should not be removed for one of the following three reasons: (i) Lack of expertise necessary for the proceeding; (ii) an hourly rate higher than what is reasonable for the particular proceeding; or (iii) a conflict of interest. Notice of the hearing shall be provided to the guardian ad litem and all parties. If, after a hearing, the court enters an order replacing the guardian ad litem, findings shall be included, expressly stating the reasons for the removal. If the guardian ad litem is not removed, the court has the authority to assess to the moving party, attorneys’ fees and costs related to the motion. The court shall assess attorneys’ fees and costs for frivolous motions.

The order appointing the guardian ad litem shall recite the duties set forth in subsection (4) of this section. The appointment of a guardian ad litem shall have no effect on the legal competency of the alleged incapacitated person and shall not overcome the presumption of competency or full legal and civil rights of the alleged incapacitated person.

(3)(a) The superior court of each county shall develop and maintain a registry of persons who are willing and qualified to serve as guardians ad litem in guardianship matters. The court shall choose as guardian ad litem a person whose name appears on the registry in a system of consistent rotation, except in extraordinary circumstances such as the need for particular expertise. A person appointed under exceptional circumstances because of a particular expertise may be exempt from the training and continuing education requirements by the court if the court limits the scope of the person’s appointment and finds the training and continuing education requirements are unrelated to the tasks the court has assigned to the person. The court shall develop procedures for periodic review of the persons on the registry and for probation, suspension, or removal of persons on the registry for failure to perform properly their duties as guardian ad litem. In the event the court does not select the person next on the list, it shall include in the order of appointment a written reason for its decision.

(b) To be eligible for the registry a person shall:

(E) Criminal history, as defined in RCW 9.94A.030; and
(F) Evidence of the person's knowledge, training, and experience in each of the following: Needs of impaired elderly people, physical disabilities, mental illness, developmental disabilities, and other areas relevant to the needs of incapacitated persons, legal procedure, and the requirements of chapters 11.88 and 11.92 RCW.

The written statement of qualifications shall include ((a statement of the number of times the guardian ad litem has been removed for failure to perform his or her duties as guardian ad litem)) the names of any counties in which the person was removed from a guardian ad litem registry pursuant to a grievance action that orders removal from the registry, and the cause number of any case in which the court orders removal of the person because the person fails to perform his or her duties as guardian ad litem; and

(ii) Complete the (model) training (program) and continuing educational requirements as described in (((d))) (e) of this subsection. The training and continuing education requirements are not applicable to guardians ad litem appointed pursuant to court rule solely for the limited purpose of assessing a personal injury settlement.

(c) Superior court shall remove any person from the guardian ad litem registry who misrepresents his or her qualifications.

(d) The background and qualification information shall be updated annually.

(((d))) (e) The department of social and health services shall convene an advisory group to develop a model guardian ad litem training program and establish training and continuing educational requirements. The department, in consultation with the advisory group, shall update the model training program biennially. The advisory group shall consist of representatives from consumer, advocacy, and professional groups knowledgeable in developmental disabilities, neurological impairment, physical disabilities, mental illness, aging, legal, court administration, the Washington state bar association, and other interested parties.

(((ee))) (f) The superior court shall require ((utilization of the model program developed by the advisory group as)) that any guardian ad litem appointed pursuant to this chapter comply with the training and continuing education requirements described in (((d))) (e) of this subsection (to assure that candidates applying for registration as a qualified guardian ad litem shall have satisfactorily completed training to act as guardian ad litem), unless the guardian ad litem is appointed solely for the limited purposes of assessing a personal injury settlement.

(4) The guardian ad litem appointed pursuant to this section shall have the following duties:

(a) To meet and consult with the alleged incapacitated person as soon as practicable following appointment and explain, in language which such person can reasonably be expected to understand, the substance of the petition, the nature of the resultant proceedings, the person's right to contest the petition, the identification of the proposed guardian or limited guardian, the right to a jury trial on the issue of his or her alleged incapacity, the right to independent legal counsel as provided by RCW 11.88.045, and the right to be present in court at the hearing on the petition;

(b) To obtain a written report according to RCW 11.88.045; and such other written or oral reports from other qualified professionals as are necessary to permit the guardian ad litem to complete the report required by this section;

(c) To meet with the person whose appointment is sought as guardian or limited guardian and ascertain:

(i) The proposed guardian's knowledge of the duties, requirements, and limitations of a guardian; and

(ii) The steps the proposed guardian intends to take or has taken to identify and meet the needs of the alleged incapacitated person;

(d) To consult as necessary to complete the investigation and report required by this section with those known relatives, friends, or other persons the guardian ad litem determines have had a significant, continuing interest in the welfare of the alleged incapacitated person;

(e) To investigate alternate arrangements made, or which might be created, by or on behalf of the alleged incapacitated person, such as revocable or irrevocable trusts, or durable powers of attorney, or blocked accounts in cases of personal injury settlements; whether good cause exists for any such arrangements to be discontinued; and why such arrangements should not be continued or created in lieu of a guardianship;

(f) To provide the court with a written report which shall include the following:

(i) A description of the nature, cause, and degree of incapacity, and the basis upon which this judgment was made;

(ii) A description of the needs of the incapacitated person for care and treatment, the probable residential requirements of the alleged incapacitated person and the basis upon which these findings were made;

(iii) An evaluation of the appropriateness of the guardian or limited guardian whose appointment is sought and a description of the steps the proposed guardian has taken or intends to take to identify and meet current and emerging needs of the incapacitated person;

(iv) A description of any alternative arrangements previously made by the alleged incapacitated person or which could be made, and whether and to what extent such alternatives should be used in lieu of a guardianship, and if the guardian ad litem is recommending discontinuation of any such arrangements, specific findings as to why such arrangements are contrary to the best interest of the alleged incapacitated person;

(v) A description of the abilities of the alleged incapacitated person and a recommendation as to whether a guardian or limited guardian should be appointed. If appointment of a limited guardian is recommended, the guardian ad litem shall recommend the specific areas of authority the limited guardian should have and the limitations and disabilities to be placed on the incapacitated person;

(vi) An evaluation of the person’s mental ability to rationally exercise the right to vote and the basis upon which the evaluation is made;

(vii) Any expression of approval or disapproval made by the alleged incapacitated person concerning the proposed guardian or limited guardian or guardianship or limited guardianship;

(viii) Identification of persons with significant interest in the welfare of the alleged incapacitated person who should be advised of their right to request special notice of proceedings pursuant to RCW 11.92.150;

(ix) Unless independent counsel has appeared for the alleged incapacitated person, an explanation of how the alleged incapacitated person responded to the advice of the right to jury trial, to independent counsel and to be present at the hearing on the petition; and

(x) In cases of personal injury settlements, information relevant to the court’s analysis of the offered settlement. The information relevant to the court’s analysis may be specified by local court rule, and need not include information specified in subsection (4)(f)(ii) through (ix) of this section.

Within forty-five days after notice of commencement of the guardianship proceeding has been served upon the guardian ad litem, and at least fifteen days before the hearing on the petition, unless an extension or reduction of time has been granted by the court for good cause, the guardian ad litem shall file its report and send a copy to the alleged incapacitated person and his or her counsel, spouse, all children not residing with a notified person, those persons described in (f)(viii) of this subsection, and persons who have filed a request for special notice pursuant to RCW 11.92.150. If the guardian ad litem needs additional time to finalize his or her report, then the guardian ad litem shall petition the court for a postponement of the hearing or, with the consent of all other parties, an extension or reduction of time for filing the report. If the hearing does not occur within sixty days of filing the petition, then upon the two-month anniversary of filing the petition and on or before the same day of each following month until the hearing, the guardian ad litem shall file interim reports summarizing his or her activities on the proceeding during that time period as well as fees and costs incurred;

(g) To advise the court of the need for appointment of counsel for the alleged incapacitated person within five court days after the meeting described in (a) of this subsection unless (i) counsel has appeared, (ii) the alleged incapacitated person affirmatively communicated a wish not to be represented by counsel after being advised of the right to representation and of the conditions under which court-provided counsel may be available, or (iii) the alleged incapacitated person was unable to communicate at all on the subject, and the guardian ad litem is satisfied that the alleged incapacitated person does not affirmatively desire to be represented by counsel.

(5) If the petition is brought by an interested person or entity requesting the appointment of some other qualified person or entity and a prospective guardian or limited guardian cannot be found, the court shall order the guardian ad litem to investigate the availability of a possible guardian or limited guardian and to include the findings in a report to the court pursuant to subsection (4)(f) of this section.

(6) The parties to the proceeding may file responses to the guardian ad litem report with the court and deliver such responses to the other parties and the guardian ad litem at any time up to the second day prior to the hearing. If a guardian ad litem fails to file his or her report in a timely manner, the hearing shall be continued to give the court and the parties at least fifteen days before the hearing to review the report. At any time during the proceeding upon motion of any party or on the court’s own motion, the court may remove the guardian ad litem for failure to perform his or her duties as specified in this chapter, provided that the guardian ad litem shall have five days’ notice of any motion to remove before the court enters such order. In addition, the court in its discretion may reduce a guardian ad litem’s fee for failure to carry out his or her duties.

(7) The court appointed guardian ad litem shall have the authority, in the event that the alleged incapacitated person is in need of emergency life-saving medical services, and is unable to consent to such medical services due to incapacity pending the hearing on the petition to give consent for such emergency life-saving medical services on behalf of the alleged incapacitated person.

(8) The court-appointed guardian ad litem shall have the authority to move for temporary relief under chapter 7.40 RCW to protect the alleged incapacitated person from abuse, neglect, abandonment, or exploitation, as those terms are defined in RCW 74.34.020, or to address any other emergency needs of the alleged incapacitated person. Any alternative arrangement executed before filing the petition for guardianship shall remain effective unless the court grants the relief requested under chapter 7.40 RCW, or unless, following notice and a hearing at which all parties directly affected by the arrangement are present, the court finds that the alternative arrangement should not remain effective.

(9) The guardian ad litem shall receive a fee determined by the court. The fee shall be charged to the alleged incapacitated person unless the court finds that such payment would result in substantial hardship upon such person, in which case the county shall be responsible for such costs: PROVIDED, That if no guardian or limited guardian is appointed the court may charge such fee to the petitioner or the alleged incapacitated person, or divide the fee, as it deems just; and if the petition is found to be frivolous or not brought in good faith, the guardian ad litem fee shall be charged to the petitioner. The court shall not be required to provide for the payment of a fee to any salaried employee of a public agency. In cases of personal injury settlements, guardian ad litem fees shall be negotiated among the parties, and approved by the court.

(10) Upon the presentation of the guardian ad litem report and the entry of an order either dismissing the petition for appointment of guardian or limited guardian or appointing a guardian or limited guardian, the guardian ad litem shall be dismissed and shall have no further duties or obligations unless otherwise ordered by the court. If the court orders the guardian ad litem to perform further duties or obligations, they shall not be performed at county expense.

(11) The guardian ad litem shall appear in person at all hearings on the petition unless all parties provide a written waiver of the requirement to appear.

(12) At any hearing the court may consider whether any person who makes decisions regarding the alleged incapacitated person or estate has breached a statutory or fiduciary duty.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 11.88 RCW to read as follows:

The court shall, in each order of appointment, specify the hourly rate the guardian ad litem may charge for his or her services, and shall specify the maximum amount the guardian ad litem may charge without additional court review and approval.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 11.88 RCW to read as follows:

All guardians ad litem are prohibited from engaging in ex parte communications with any judicial officer regarding the matter for which he or she is appointed, except as approved pursuant to a hearing conducted with appropriate notice to all parties. All guardians ad litem may petition the court to shorten time to hear any emergency motions pursuant to court rules. Unauthorized communication shall be immediately reported to all parties and their attorneys. The court, upon its own motion, or upon the motion of a party, may consider the removal of any guardian ad litem who violates this section from any pending case or the guardian ad litem rotational registry, and if so removed may require forfeiture of any fees for professional services on any pending cases.

Sec. 5. RCW 13.34.100 and 1996 c 249 s 13 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The court shall appoint a guardian ad litem for a child who is the subject of an action under this chapter, unless a court for good cause finds the appointment unnecessary. The requirement of a guardian ad litem may be deemed satisfied if the child is represented by independent counsel in the proceedings.

(2) If the court does not have available to it a guardian ad litem program with a sufficient number of volunteers, the court may appoint a suitable person to act as guardian ad litem for the child under this chapter. Another party to the proceeding or the party's employee or representative shall not be so appointed.

(3) Each guardian ad litem program shall maintain a background information record for each guardian ad litem in the program. The background file shall include, but is not limited to, the following information:

(f) Criminal history, as defined in RCW 9.94A.030.

The background information report shall be updated annually. As a condition of appointment, the guardian ad litem's background information record shall be made available to the court. If the appointed guardian ad litem is not a member of a guardian ad litem program the person shall provide the background information to the court.

Upon appointment, the guardian ad litem, or guardian ad litem program, shall provide the parties or their attorneys with a statement containing: His or her training relating to the duties as a guardian ad litem; the name of any counties in which the person was removed from a guardian ad litem registry pursuant to a grievance action that orders removal from the registry, and the cause number of any case in which the court orders removal of the person because the person fails to perform his or her duties as guardian ad litem; and his or her criminal history as defined in RCW 9.94A.030 for the period covering ten years prior to the appointment. The background statement shall not include identifying information that may be used to harm a guardian ad litem, such as home addresses and home telephone numbers, and for volunteer guardians ad litem the court may allow the use of maiden names or pseudonyms as necessary for their safety.

(4) The appointment of the guardian ad litem shall remain in effect until the court discharges the appointment or no longer has jurisdiction, whichever comes first. The guardian ad litem may also be discharged upon entry of an order of guardianship.

(5) A guardian ad litem through counsel, as or otherwise authorized by the court, shall have the right to present evidence, examine and cross-examine witnesses, and to be present at all hearings. A guardian ad litem shall receive copies of all pleadings.
and other documents filed or submitted to the court, and notice of all hearings according to court rules. The guardian ad litem shall receive all notice contemplated for a parent or other party in all proceedings under this chapter.

(6) If the child requests legal counsel and is age twelve or older, or if the guardian ad litem or the court determines that the child needs to be independently represented by counsel, the court may appoint an attorney to represent the child's position.

(7) For the purposes of child abuse prevention and treatment act (42 U.S.C. Secs. 5101 et seq.) grants to this state under P.L. 93-247, or any related state or federal legislation, a person appointed pursuant to RCW 13.34.100 shall be deemed a guardian ad litem to represent the best interests of the minor in proceedings before the court.

(8) When a court-appointed special advocate or volunteer guardian ad litem is requested on a case, the program shall give the court the name of the person it recommends and the appointment shall be effective immediately. The court shall appoint the person recommended by the program. If a party in a case reasonably believes the court-appointed special advocate or volunteer is inappropriate or unqualified, the party may request a review of the appointment by the program. The program must complete the review within five judicial days and remove any appointee for good cause. If the party seeking the review is not satisfied with the outcome of the review, the party may file a motion with the court for the removal of the court-appointed special advocate on the ground that the advocate or volunteer is inappropriate or unqualified.

Sec. 6. RCW 13.34.102 and 1997 c 41 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

POINT OF CLARIFICATION

Could you clarify that?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT
President Owen: "If there is a blank page, from what I understand, that divides the amendments."
Senator Goings: "There is no number on number two."
President Owen: "Well, Senator Goings, let me take a whack at this. Evidently, when they copied it, when they ran it through the copier, if the back side of the amendment was blank, it produced a blank page. Then, you go on and some of the title amendments did not have a number on them and, therefore, they may not be numbered. Please ask if there appears to be any confusion. If we think there might be confusion, we will try to make sure that everyone understands exactly where we are going on it."
Senator Goings: "Mr. President, it is my understanding that the amendments we are on, actually continue past the blank page onto page two which has an amendment at the top of the page."
President Owen: "The amendment on the top of the other page is a title amendment and would have to be taken separately."
Senator Goings: "Thank you, Mr. President."
Debate ensued.

   e. Extraordinary costs of remote and necessary schools and small high schools, including costs of additional certificated and classified staff; and

2. The attendance of students pursuant to RCW 28A.335.160 and 28A.225.250 who do not reside within the servicing school district.

2(a) This formula for distribution of basic education funds shall be reviewed biennially by the superintendent and governor. The recommended formula shall be subject to approval, amendment or rejection by the legislature. The formula shall be for allocation purposes only. While the legislature intends that the allocations for additional instructional staff be used to increase the ratio of such staff to students, nothing in this section shall require districts to reduce the number of administrative staff below existing levels.

2(b) The formula adopted by the legislature shall reflect the following ratios at a minimum:
(i) Forty-nine certificated instructional staff to one thousand annual average full-time equivalent students enrolled in grades kindergarten through three;

(ii) Forty-six certificated instructional staff to one thousand annual average full-time equivalent students in grades four through ((twelve)) six. An additional maximum of four certificated instructional staff per one thousand full-time equivalent students in grades four through six for the addition of teachers solely to reduce class size. Any funds provided for these additional four certificated instructional staff units shall not be considered basic education funding and shall be allocated only if the district documents an actual ratio equal to or greater than fifty certificated instructional staff per thousand full-time equivalent students in grades four through six. For any school district documenting a lower certificated staff ratio, the allocation shall be based on the higher of the district's actual fourth through sixth grade ratio or forty-six certificated instructional staff per thousand;

(iii) Forty-six certificated instructional staff to one thousand annual average full-time equivalent students in grades seven through twelve;

(iv) Four certificated administrative staff to one thousand annual average full-time equivalent students in grades kindergarten through twelve; and

(v) Sixteen and sixty-seven one-hundredths classified personnel to one thousand annual average full-time equivalent students enrolled in grades kindergarten through twelve.

(c) In the event the legislature rejects the distribution formula recommended by the governor, without adopting a new distribution formula, the distribution formula for the previous school year shall remain in effect: PROVIDED, That the distribution formula developed pursuant to this section shall be for state apportionment and equalization purposes only and shall not be construed as mandating specific operational functions of local school districts other than those program requirements identified in RCW 28A.150.220 and 28A.150.100. The enrollment of any district shall be the annual average number of full-time equivalent students and part-time students as provided in RCW 28A.150.350, enrolled on the first school day of each month and shall exclude full-time equivalent students with disabilities recognized for the purposes of allocation of state funds for programs under RCW 28A.155.010 through 28A.155.100. The definition of full-time equivalent student shall be determined by rules of the superintendent of public instruction: PROVIDED, That the definition shall be included as part of the superintendent's biennial budget request: PROVIDED, FURTHER, That any revision of the present definition shall not take effect until approved by the house appropriations committee and the senate ways and means committee: PROVIDED, FURTHER, That the office of financial management shall make a monthly review of the superintendent's reported full-time equivalent students in the common schools in conjunction with RCW 43.62.050.

3 Sec. 401 of this act takes effect September 1, 1999.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 403. The sum of ninety-two million dollars, or as much thereof as may be necessary, is appropriated for the biennium ending June 30, 2001, from the general fund to the office of the superintendent of public instruction for the purposes of sections 401 and 402 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 404. Section 401 of this act takes effect September 1, 1999.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 405. Section 402 of this act takes effect September 1, 2000. However, section 402 of this act shall not take effect if, by September 1, 2000, a law is enacted stating that a school accountability and academic assessment system is not in place."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Patterson: "Senator Finkbeiner, you just now stated that you thought that we should support this amendment, because it would result in us putting money in the classroom, as opposed to the money going into associations, meeting groups, and clubs. My specific question is could you give me an example of where it is the money could go, what associations, what meeting group and what club are you referring to that the money could go to if we don't pass this amendment?"

Senator Finkbeiner: "Thank you, Senator Patterson. I appreciate you asking me that question. The underlying bill does deal with accountability and also creates a new accountability task force and several new groups that are going to be here in Olympia focused on maintaining accountability and setting accountability standards for our classes. It also deals with the whole education reform process, which has, in my mind, and as a supporter of education reform and somebody who wants to see it go forward, has moved from kind of setting high standards to all of our-- acronym and alphabet soup acronyms that have become associated and parade everyday in front of our Education Committee. These are organizations that the people never see--they don't see them teaching their children, they don't see them in the classroom everyday. This bill, I think, in its depth--it is almost an inch thick--is going to create new--some of those are good--but I think tempered and balanced with class size reduction, would make it even better.”

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senators Horn and Finkbeiner on page 6, after line 14, to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5418.

The motion by Senator Horn failed and the amendment was not adopted.

MOTION

Senator Finkbeiner moved that the following amendment be adopted:
On page 7, after line 11, insert the following:

“(5) Funding under this section shall not become part of the state's basic program of education obligation as set forth under Article IX of the state Constitution.”

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senator Finkbeiner on page 7, after line 11, to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5418.

The motion by Senator Finkbeiner failed and the amendment was not adopted.

MOTION

Senator Hochstatter moved that the following amendment be adopted:
On page 10, after line 17, insert the following:

“STATE ASSISTANCE TO STUDENTS

NEW SECTION, Sec. 601. A new section is added to chapter 28A.300 RCW to read as follows:

To assist high school students to meet the standards set in civics at the high school level, the superintendent of public instruction shall provide each high school student with a copy of Our Constitution and What it Means, by William Kottmeyer and Thomas F. Eagleton, prior to the student studying the Constitution of the United States and the Washington state Constitution.

PART 7”

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Goings: “Senator McAuliffe, I am wondering as Chair of the Education Committee, if you are familiar that within the Basic Education Act, do we mandate a particular book? Would this be something that is normal or is this something that has not been done before within the State's Basic Education Act?”

Senator McAuliffe: “Senator Goings, to my knowledge, there is no other book that is mandated that is placed in the hands of our children. It is a local decision and presently the United States Constitution is included in our Civic’s Class in the United States History book.”

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senator Hochstatter on page 10, after line 17, to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5418.

The motion by Senator Hochstatter failed and the amendment was not adopted.

MOTION

Senator Stevens moved that the following amendment be adopted:
On page 10, after line 17, insert the following:

PROVIDING STATE ASSISTANCE TO SCHOOLS AND HIGHLY CAPABLE STUDENTS

Such authority shall include the right to employ and pay special instructors and to operate such programs jointly with a public institution of higher education. Local school districts ((which establish and operate programs for highly capable students)) shall adopt identification procedures and provide educational opportunities as follows:

(1) In accordance with rules ((and regulations)) adopted by the superintendent of public instruction, school districts shall implement procedures for nomination, assessment and selection of their most highly capable students. Nominations shall be based upon data from teachers, other staff, parents, students, and members of the community. Assessment shall be based upon a review of each student's capability as shown by multiple criteria intended to reveal, from a wide variety of sources and data, each student's unique needs and capabilities. Selection shall be made by a broadly based committee of professionals, after consideration of the results of the multiple criteria assessment.

(2) Students selected pursuant to procedures outlined in this section shall be provided, to the extent feasible, an educational opportunity which takes into account each student's unique needs and capabilities and the limits of the resources and program options available to the district, including those options which can be developed or provided by using funds allocated by the superintendent of public instruction for that purpose.

PART VII

Renumber the remaining parts and sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

*RECOGNITION AND ASSISTANCE FOR TEACHERS

NEW SECTION, Sec. 701. FOR THE SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION--BASIC EDUCATION CERTIFICATED INSTRUCTIONAL STAFF COMPENSATION. (1) Salary allocations for certificated instructional staff units shall be determined for each district by multiplying the district's certificated instructional derived base salary shown on LEAP Document 12E, by the district's average staff mix factor for basic education and special education certificated instructional staff in that school year, computed using LEAP Document 1B.

(b) "LEAP Document 1B" means the computerized tabulation establishing staff mix factors for certificated instructional staff according to education and years of experience, as developed by the legislative evaluation and accountability program committee on January 25, 1999, at 15:45 hours; and

(c) "LEAP Document 12E" means the computerized tabulation of 1999-00 and 2000-01 school year salary allocations for derived base salaries for certificated instructional staff as developed by the legislative evaluation and accountability program committee on January 25, 1999, at 16:25 hours.

(b) As used in this subsection, the column headings "BA+(N)" refer to the number of credits earned since receiving the baccalaureate degree.
(c) For credits earned after the baccalaureate degree but before the masters degree, any credits in excess of forty-five credits may be counted after the masters degree. Thus, as used in this subsection, the column headings "MA+(N)" refer to the total of:
(i) Credits earned since receiving the masters degree; and
(ii) Any credits in excess of forty-five credits that were earned after the baccalaureate degree but before the masters degree.

(5) For the purposes of this section:
(a) "BA" means a baccalaureate degree;
(b) "MA" means a masters degree;
(c) "PHD" means a doctorate degree;
(d) "Years of service" shall be calculated under the same rules adopted by the superintendent of public instruction;
(e) "Credits" means college quarter-hour credits and equivalent in-service credits computed in accordance with RCW 28A.415.020 and chapter 90, Laws of 1997.

(6) No more than ninety college quarter-hour credits received by any employee after the baccalaureate degree may be used to determine compensation allocations under the state salary allocation schedule and LEAP documents referenced in this act, or any replacement schedules and documents, unless:
(a) The employee has a masters degree; or
(b) The credits were used in generating state salary allocations before January 1, 1992.

(7) The salary allocation schedules established in this section are for allocation purposes only except as provided in RCW 28A.400.200(2).

NEW SECTION. Sec. 702. FOR THE SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION--FOR CERTIFICATED INSTRUCTIONAL STAFF COMPENSATION ADJUSTMENTS

General Fund--State Appropriation (FY 2000) $82,999,000
General Fund--State Appropriation (FY 2001) $165,599,000
TOTAL APPROPRIATION $248,598,000
The appropriations in this section are subject to the following conditions and limitations:

1. $193,193,000 is provided for a cost-of-living adjustment of 3.0 percent effective September 1, 1999, and another 3.0 percent effective September 1, 2000, for state formula certificated instructional staff units. The appropriations include associated incremental fringe benefit allocations at rates of 16.22 percent. The appropriations in this section include the increased portion of salaries and incremental fringe benefits for all relevant state-funded school programs.

2. $55,405,000 is provided to adjust the salary allocation schedule to provide for salary increases for staff in the first eight rows of the salary schedule as reflected in the salary schedules contained in section 701 of this act. The appropriations in this section include the increased portion of salaries and incremental fringe benefits for all relevant state-funded school programs.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 703. Sections 701 and 702 of this act are necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and take effect July 1, 1999.

PART 8

Renumber the remaining parts and sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McAuliffe: "Senator Finkbeiner, did the Chair of the Education Committee give you a paper that asked you for input or take out of this bill, so you had the opportunity to work on this bill at an earlier time?"

Senator Finkbeiner: "That is correct. At one point in time, my input was listed in this bill, but most of my input was not taken, so I think either way that really doesn't speak to this amendment one way or the other. What we are talking about here is whether or not we should increase pay of teachers' salaries. That is what this amendment would do. If that is not a good idea, then vote against it. If you think the teachers deserve more, especially if first year teachers deserve up to a sixteen percent raise, then I would suggest that you vote for it." Further debate ensued.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Benton: "A point of order, Mr. President. I believe that my integrity has been impugned. I have always been a friend of teachers and consider myself so and always have considered myself so. I don't appreciate the indication that myself or my colleagues have not been friends of teachers."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Senator Kline, the President would appreciate it if you would be careful where you tread."

Senator Kline: "Certainly."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Goings: "Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. I submit that this amendment proposed to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5418, the amendment by Senators Finkbeiner, Zarelli, McDonald and Johnson on page 21, line 29, changes the scope and object of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5418 and therefore violates Senate Rule 66. The underlying bill, and I know the title does not have a lot to do with it, but changes school accountability and the assistance program.

"Specifically, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5418 creates a commission of academic achievement and talks about teaching goals and the Commission on Student Learning and the Certificate of Mastery Program. This bill does not deal with teacher pay. Therefore, the amendment as proposed is out of the scope and object of the underlying bill."

Further debate ensued.
PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator McCaslin: "A parliamentary inquiry, Mr. President. Senator Goings said it changes the scope. Does it change the scope or does it expand the scope and object of a bill?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "The rule says, I believe--we'll look at that and see."
Senator McCaslin: "Thank you."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Betti Sheldon, further consideration of the amendment by Senators Finkbeiner, Zarelli, McDonald and Johnson on page 21, line 29, to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5814 was deferred.

MOTION

Senator Benton moved that the following amendment be adopted:
On page 21, after line 29, insert the following:

"RECOGNITION OF STUDENTS IN HONORS AND ADVANCED PLACEMENT CLASSES

Sec. 701. RCW 28A.305.220 and 1984 c 178 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:
(1) The state board of education shall develop for use by all public school districts a standardized high school transcript. The state board of education shall establish clear definitions for the terms "credits" and "hours" so that school programs operating on the quarter, semester, or trimester system can be compared.
(2) When determining standardized grade points under subsection (1) of this section, the state board of education shall adopt a weighting system for grades earned in honors and advanced placement classes to provide recognition for students participating in those classes.
(3) Transcripts are important documents to students who will apply for admission to postsecondary institutions of higher education. Transcripts are also important to students who will seek employment upon or prior to graduation from high school. It is recognized that student transcripts may be the only record available to employers in their decision-making processes regarding prospective employees. The superintendent of public instruction shall require school districts to inform annually all high school students that prospective employers may request to see transcripts and that the prospective employee's decision to release transcripts can be an important part of the process of applying for employment.

PART 8"

Renumber the remaining parts and sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.
Debate ensued.
The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senator Benton on page 21, after line 29, to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5418.
The motion by Senator Benton failed on a rising vote and the amendment was not adopted.

MOTION

Senator Benton moved that the following amendment be adopted:
On page 21, after line 29, insert the following:

Sec. 701. RCW 28A.400.200 and 1997 c 141 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:
(1) Every school district board of directors shall fix, alter, allow, and order paid salaries and compensation for all district employees in conformance with this section.
(2)(a)(i) Salaries for certificated instructional staff shall not be less than the salary provided in the appropriations act in the state-wide salary allocation schedule for an employee with a baccalaureate degree and zero years of service.

(ii) For certificated instructional staff hired with zero years of service specifically assigned to teaching duties that include the subjects of math or science or both and at least a 3.5 grade point average at the time of their graduation from a college or university, there shall be a five thousand dollar bonus paid as follows: Two thousand dollars upon completion of the first year of teaching; one thousand dollars upon completion of the second year of teaching; one thousand dollars upon completion of the third year of teaching; and one thousand dollars upon completion of the fourth year of teaching.

(b) Salaries for certificated instructional staff with a master's degree shall not be less than the salary provided in the appropriations act in the state-wide salary allocation schedule for an employee with a master's degree and zero years of service.

(3)(a) The actual average salary paid to basic education and special education certificated instructional staff shall not exceed the district's average basic education and special education program certificated instructional staff salary used for the state basic education allocations for that school year as determined pursuant to RCW 28A.150.410.

(b) Fringe benefit contributions for basic education and special education certificated instructional staff shall be included as salary under (a) of this subsection only to the extent that the district's actual average benefit contribution exceeds the amount of the insurance benefits allocation provided per certificated instructional staff unit in the state operating appropriations act in effect at the time the compensation is payable. For purposes of this section, fringe benefits shall not include payment for unused leave for illness or injury under RCW 28A.400.210; employer contributions for old age survivors insurance, workers' compensation, unemployment compensation, and retirement benefits under the Washington state retirement system; or employer contributions for health benefits in excess of the insurance benefits allocation provided per certificated instructional staff unit in the state operating appropriations act in effect at the time the compensation is payable. A school district may not use state funds to provide employer contributions for such excess health benefits.

(c) Salary and benefits for certificated instructional staff in programs other than basic education and special education shall be consistent with the salary and benefits paid to certificated instructional staff in the basic education and special education programs.

(4) Salaries and benefits for certificated instructional staff may exceed the limitations in subsection (3) of this section only by separate contract for additional time, additional responsibilities, or incentives. Supplemental contracts shall not cause the state to incur any present or future funding obligation. Supplemental contracts shall be subject to the collective bargaining provisions of chapter 41.59 RCW and the provisions of RCW 28A.405.240, shall not exceed one year, and if not renewed shall not constitute adverse change in accordance with RCW 28A.405.300 through 28A.405.380. No district may enter into a supplemental contract under this subsection for the provision of services which are a part of the basic education program required by Article IX, section 3 of the state Constitution.

(5) Employee benefit plans offered by any district shall comply with RCW 28A.400.350 and 28A.400.275 and 28A.400.280.

PART 8

Renumber the remaining parts and sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator McAuliffe: "Thank you, Mr. President. I rise to a point of order. PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Deccio: "A point of personal privilege, Mr. President. Mr. President and ladies and gentlemen of the Senate, from time to time I will give you an update on the continuing saga of legislative salaries. I placed on your desk some information that was sent to me by Carol Sayer, the Director of the Salary Commission, showing the County Commissioners and Council Members salaries around the state. If you will notice in one county—we represent over one hundred thousand population—in one county, they represent ninety-eight hundred people. Their salaries are higher than ours are.
“There is one county of twenty-four hundred, where their salaries are almost twenty thousand a year. So, this is just another tidbit. I did receive an e-mail from a school teacher in my district, who said, ‘Considering that you work part time at your legislative job and have other occupations and/or other professions that provide income when you are not in session, you are asking for a salary exceeding that of professionals who, in most cases, have far more education and preparation for their jobs than state legislators.’ I called the school district and got the salary of that person, thinking that she was probably making around twenty-seven or twenty-eight thousand a year. She makes over forty-six thousand a year for a one hundred and eighty day contract.

“So, I guess what I am trying to say is, ‘It is still our fault; we aren’t telling people what we do. We aren’t telling people what we do during the interim.’ So from now on, when I go to a meeting, I am going to spend a little time talking about what we do, not just listen to what everybody else does and what they want. From time to time, I will offer you a little tidbit.”

President Pro Tempore Wojahn assumed the Chair.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Heavey: “Senator Oke, I didn’t hear you explain what your amendments do.”
Senator Oke: "The amendments would require each year only to have levy and bond issues in November at the general election time—one a year. Yes, that can make it difficult, because in past years, we really have played games with this issue—running a levy in February and then if it fails, we reduce it and we run it again in March and everytime we run a levy, we are spending forty or fifty thousand dollars to run that levy. When there is a failure, there is a failure throughout our community and that is why I really feel strongly that these amendments pass. I want to see the people in the state of Washington have a vote over this issue. We've not had a vote since 1944 and it is time the people had a vote."

Further debate ensued.

President Owen: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Goings to the scope and object of the amendment by Senators Finkbeiner, Zarelli, McDonald and Johnson on page 21, after line 29, the President finds that Substitute Senate Bill No. 5418 is a measure which makes changes to statutes relating to school accountability, assessment and specified assistance within the education reform system, including (1) creating a new commission to provide oversight for school accountability; (2) providing for the allocation of available funds for staff time to develop student learning improvement plans; (3) transferring the duties of the Commission on Student Learning to the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction; (4) requiring school districts to report assessment results; and (5) establishing a "helping corps" to provide school improvement based on assessments.

"The President, therefore, finds that the amendment does change the scope and object of the bill and the point of order is well taken."

"The President, therefore, finds that the amendment does change the scope and object of the bill and the point of order is well taken."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Benton: "A point of parliamentary inquiry, Mr. President. Earlier today, the gentleman from the Forty-eight District rose to give notice of reconsideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5232. According to Rule 37, the rules of the Senate, it states, 'Any member who voted with the prevailing side may give notice of reconsideration.' According to the official roll call vote, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5232 did not receive a constitutional majority. However, the 'yeas' were, in fact, the prevailing side, even though a constitutional majority was not achieved. Therefore, I would ask the President to consider this parliamentary question as to whether or not the Senator from the Forty-eighth would be considered a member of the prevailing side."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Senator Benton, the prevailing side is the side that prevailed and the side that prevailed is the side that lost. I mean the bill went down. They won, because the bill lost. Therefore, the 'no's' prevailed. That is as clear as mud."

NEW SECTION, Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 46.55 RCW to read as follows:

The Washington state patrol shall provide by rule for a uniform impound authorization and inventory form. All law enforcement agencies must use this form for all vehicle impounds after June 30, 2001.

Sec. 4. RCW 46.55.080 and 1989 c 111 s 8 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) If a vehicle is in violation of the time restrictions of RCW 46.55.010((42)) (13), it may be impounded by a registered tow truck operator at the direction of a law enforcement officer or other public official with jurisdiction if the vehicle is on public property, or at the direction of the property owner or an agent if it is on private property. A law enforcement officer may also direct the impoundment of a vehicle pursuant to a writ or court order.

(2) The person requesting a private impound or a law enforcement officer or public official requesting a public impound shall provide a signed authorization for the impound at the time and place of the impound to the registered tow truck operator before the operator may proceed with the impound. A registered tow truck operator, employee, or his or her agent may not serve as an agent of a property owner for the purposes of signing an impound authorization or, independent of the property owner, identify a vehicle for impound.

(3) In the case of a private impound, the impound authorization shall include the following statement: “A person authorizing this impound, if the impound is found in violation of chapter 46.55 RCW, may be held liable for the costs incurred by the vehicle owner.”

(4) A registered tow truck operator shall record and keep in the operator's files the date and time that a vehicle is put in the operator's custody and released. The operator shall make an entry into a master log regarding transactions relating to impounded vehicles. The operator shall make this master log available, upon request, to representatives of the department or the state patrol.

(5) A person who engages in or offers to engage in the activities of a registered tow truck operator may not be associated in any way with a person or business whose main activity is authorizing the impounding of vehicles.

Sec. 5. RCW 46.55.100 and 1998 c 203 s 9 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) At the time of impoundment the registered tow truck operator providing the towing service shall give immediate notification, by telephone or radio, to a law enforcement agency having jurisdiction who shall maintain a log of such reports. A law enforcement agency, or a private communication center acting on behalf of a law enforcement agency, shall within six to twelve hours of the impoundment, provide to a requesting operator the name and address of the legal and registered owners of the vehicle, and the registered owner of any personal property registered or titled with the department that is attached to or contained in or on the impounded vehicle, the vehicle identification number, and any other necessary, pertinent information. The initial notice of impoundment shall be followed by a written or electronic facsimile notice within twenty-four hours. In the case of a vehicle from another state, time requirements of this subsection do not apply until the requesting law enforcement agency in this state receives the information.

(2) The operator shall immediately send an abandoned vehicle report to the department for any vehicle, and for any items of personal property registered or titled with the department, that are in the operator's possession after the one hundred twenty hour abandonment period. Such report need not be sent when the impoundment is pursuant to a writ, court order, or police hold other than a long-term impound. The owner notification and abandonment process shall be initiated by the registered tow truck operator immediately following notification by a court or law enforcement officer that the writ, court order, or police hold other than a long-term impound is no longer in effect.

(3) Following the submittal of an abandoned vehicle report, the department shall provide the registered tow truck operator with owner information within seventy-two hours.

(4) Within fourteen days of the sale of an abandoned vehicle at public auction, the towing operator shall send a copy of the abandoned vehicle report showing the disposition of the abandoned vehicle and any other items of personal property registered or titled with the department to the crime information center of the Washington state patrol.

(5) If the operator sends an abandoned vehicle report to the department and the department finds no owner information, an operator may proceed with an inspection of the vehicle and any other items of personal property registered or titled with the department to determine whether owner identification is within the vehicle.

(6) If the operator finds no owner identification, the operator shall immediately notify the appropriate law enforcement agency, which shall search the vehicle and any other items of personal property registered or titled with the department for the vehicle identification number or other appropriate identification numbers and check the necessary records to determine the vehicle's or other property's owners.

Sec. 6. RCW 46.55.110 and 1998 c 203 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:
(1) When an unauthorized vehicle is impounded, the impounding towing operator shall notify the legal and registered owners of the impoundment of the unauthorized vehicle and the owners of any other items of personal property registered or titled with the department. The notification shall be sent by first-class mail within twenty-four hours after the impoundment to the last known registered and legal owners of the vehicle, and the owners of any other items of personal property registered or titled with the department, as provided by the law enforcement agency, and shall inform the owners of the identity of the person or agency authorizing the impound. The notification shall include the name of the impounding tow firm, its address, and telephone number. The notice shall also include the location, time of the impound, and by whose authority the vehicle was impounded. The notice shall also include the written notice of the right of redemption and opportunity for a hearing to contest the validity of the impoundment pursuant to RCW 46.55.120.

(2) In addition, if a long-term impound has been ordered, the notice must state the length of the impound, the requirement of the posting of a security deposit to ensure payment of the costs of removal, towing, and storage, notification that if the security deposit is not posted the vehicle will immediately be processed and sold at auction as an abandoned vehicle, and the requirements set out in RCW 46.55.120(1)(b) regarding the payment of the costs of removal, towing, and storage as well as providing proof of satisfaction of any penalties, fines, or forfeitures before redemption. The notice must also state that the registered owner is ineligible to purchase the vehicle at the abandoned vehicle auction, if held.

(3) In the case of an abandoned vehicle, or other item of personal property registered or titled with the department, within twenty-four hours after receiving information on the owners from the department through the abandoned vehicle report, the tow truck operator shall send by certified mail, with return receipt requested, a notice of custody and sale to the legal and registered owners.

(4) If the date on which a notice required by subsection ((2)) of this section is to be mailed falls upon a Saturday, Sunday, or a postal holiday, the notice may be mailed on the next day that is neither a Saturday, Sunday, nor a postal holiday.

(5) No notices need be sent to the legal or registered owners of an impounded vehicle or other item of personal property registered or titled with the department, if the vehicle or personal property has been redeemed.

Sec. 7. RCW 46.55.120 and 1998 c 203 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Vehicles or other items of personal property registered or titled with the department that are impounded by registered tow truck operators pursuant to RCW 46.55.080, 46.55.085, or 46.55.113 may be redeemed only under the following circumstances:

(a) Only the legal owner, the registered owner, a person authorized in writing by the registered owner or the vehicle’s insurer, a person who is determined and verified by the operator to have the permission of the registered owner of the vehicle or other item of personal property registered or titled with the department, or one who has purchased a vehicle or item of personal property registered or titled with the department from the registered owner who produces proof of ownership or written authorization and signs a receipt therefor, may redeem an impounded vehicle or items of personal property registered or titled with the department. In addition, a vehicle impounded because the operator is in violation of RCW 46.20.342(1)(c) shall not be released until a person eligible to redeem it under this subsection (1)(a) satisfies the requirements of (((b))) (e) of this subsection, including paying all towing, removal, and storage fees, notwithstanding the fact that the hold was ordered by a government agency. If the department’s records show that the operator has been convicted of a violation of RCW 46.20.342 or a similar local ordinance within the past five years, the vehicle may be held for up to thirty days at the written direction of the agency ordering the vehicle impounded. A vehicle impounded because the operator is arrested for a violation of RCW 46.20.342 may be released only pursuant to a written order from the agency that ordered the vehicle impounded. An agency may issue a written order to release pursuant to a provision of an applicable state agency rule or local ordinance authorizing release on the basis of economic or personal hardship to the spouse of the operator, taking into consideration public safety factors, including the operator’s criminal history and driving record.

If a vehicle is impounded because the operator is in violation of RCW 46.20.342(1) (a) or (b), the vehicle may be held for up to thirty days at the written direction of the agency ordering the vehicle impounded. However, if the department’s records show that the operator has been convicted of a violation of RCW 46.20.342(1) (a) or (b) or a similar local ordinance within the past five years, the vehicle may be held at the written direction of the agency ordering the vehicle impounded for up to sixty days, and for up to ninety days if the operator has two or more such prior offenses. If a vehicle is impounded because the operator is arrested for a violation of RCW 46.20.342, the vehicle may not be released until a person eligible to redeem it under this subsection (1)(a) satisfies the requirements of (((b))) (e) of this subsection, including paying all towing, removal, and storage fees, notwithstanding the fact that the hold was ordered by a government agency.

(b) If the vehicle is directed to be held for a long-term impound, a person who desires to redeem the vehicle at the end of the period of impound shall within five days of the impound at the request of the tow truck operator pay a security deposit to the tow truck operator of not more than one-half of the applicable impound storage rate for each day of the proposed long-term impound. The tow truck operator shall credit this amount against the final bill for removal, towing, and storage upon redemption. The tow truck operator may accept other sufficient security in lieu of the security deposit. If the person desiring to redeem the vehicle does not pay the security deposit or provide other security acceptable to the tow truck operator, the tow truck operator may process and sell at auction the vehicle as an abandoned vehicle within the normal time limits set out in RCW 46.55.130(1). The security deposit required by this section may be paid and must be accepted at any time up to twenty-four hours before the beginning of the auction to sell the vehicle as abandoned. The registered owner is not eligible to purchase the vehicle at the auction, and the tow truck operator shall sell the vehicle to the highest bidder who is not the registered owner.

(c) Notwithstanding (b) of this subsection, a rental car business may immediately redeem a rental vehicle it owns by payment of the costs of removal, towing, and storage, whereupon the vehicle will not be held for a long-term impound.

(d) Notwithstanding (b) of this subsection, a motor vehicle dealer or lender with a perfected security interest in the vehicle may redeem or lawfully repossess a vehicle immediately by payment of the costs of removal, towing, and storage, whereupon the vehicle will not be held for a long-term impound. A motor vehicle dealer or lender with a perfected security interest in the vehicle may not knowingly and intentionally engage in collusion with a registered owner to repossess and then return or resell a vehicle to the registered owner in an attempt to avoid a long-term impound. However, this provision does not preclude a vehicle dealer or lender with a perfected security interest in the vehicle from repossessing the vehicle and then selling, leasing, or otherwise disposing of it in accordance with chapter 62A.9 RCW, including providing redemption rights to the debtor under RCW 62A.9-506.

(e) The vehicle or other item of personal property registered or titled with the department shall be released upon the presentation to any person having custody of the vehicle of commercially reasonable tender sufficient to cover the costs of towing, storage, or other services rendered during the course of towing, removing, impounding, or storing any such vehicle, with credit being given for the amount of any security deposit paid under (b) of this subsection. In addition, if a vehicle is impounded because the operator was arrested for a violation of RCW 46.20.342 or 46.20.420 and was being operated by the registered owner when it was impounded, it must not be released to any person until the registered owner establishes with the ((agency that ordered the vehicle impounded)) court having jurisdiction that any penalties, fines, or forfeitures owed by him or her as a result of the impound have been satisfied. Commercially reasonable tender shall include, without limitation, cash, major bank credit cards, or personal checks drawn on in-state banks if accompanied by two pieces of valid identification, one of which may be required by the operator to have a photograph. If the towing firm can determine through the customer's bank or a check verification service that the presented check would not be paid by the bank or guaranteed by the service, the towing firm may refuse to accept the check. Any person who stops payment on a personal check or credit card, or does not make restitution within ten days from the date a check becomes insufficient due to lack of funds, to a towing firm that has provided a service pursuant to this section or in any other manner defrauds the towing firm in connection with services rendered pursuant to this section shall be liable for damages in the amount of twice the towing and storage fees, plus costs and reasonable attorney's fees.

(2)(a) The registered tow truck operator shall give to each person who seeks to redeem an impounded vehicle, or item of personal property registered or titled with the department, written notice of the right of redemption and opportunity for a hearing, which notice shall be accompanied by a form to be used for requesting a hearing, the name of the person or agency authorizing the impound, and a copy of the towing and storage invoice. The registered tow truck operator shall maintain a record evidenced by the redeeming person's signature that such notification was provided.

(b) Any person seeking to redeem an impounded vehicle under this section has a right to a hearing in the district or municipal court for the jurisdiction in which the vehicle was impounded to contest the validity of the impoundment or the amount of towing and storage charges. The district court has jurisdiction to determine the issues involving all impoundments including those authorized by the state or its agents. The municipal court has jurisdiction to determine the issues involving impoundments authorized by agents of the municipality. Any request for a hearing shall be made in writing on the form provided for that purpose and must be received by the appropriate court within ten days of the date the opportunity was provided for in subsection (2)(a) of this section and more than five days before the date of the auction. At the time of the filing of the hearing request, the petitioner shall pay to the court clerk a filing fee in the same amount required for the filing of a suit in district court. If the hearing request is not received by the court within the ten-day period, the right to a hearing is waived and the registered owner is liable for any towing, storage, or other impoundment charges permitted under this section. Upon receipt of a timely hearing request, the court shall proceed to hear and determine the validity of the impoundment.

(3)(a) The court, within five days after the request for a hearing, shall notify the registered tow truck operator, the person requesting the hearing if not the owner, the registered and legal owners of the vehicle or other item of personal property registered or titled with the department, and the person or agency authorizing the impound in writing of the hearing date and time.

(b) At the hearing, the person or persons requesting the hearing may produce any relevant evidence to show that the impoundment, towing, or storage fees charged were not proper. The court may consider a written report made under oath by the officer who authorized the impoundment in lieu of the officer's personal appearance at the hearing.

(c) At the conclusion of the hearing, the court shall determine whether the impoundment was proper, whether the towing or storage fees charged were in compliance with the posted rates, and who is responsible for payment of the fees. The court may not adjust fees or charges that are in compliance with the posted or contracted rates.
(d) If the impoundment is found proper, the impoundment, towing, and storage fees as permitted under this chapter together with court costs shall be assessed against the person or persons requesting the hearing, unless the operator did not have a signed and valid impoundment authorization from a private property owner or an authorized agent.

(e) If the impoundment is determined to be in violation of this chapter, then the registered and legal owners of the vehicle or other item of personal property registered or titled with the department shall bear no impoundment, towing, or storage fees, and any security shall be returned or discharged as appropriate, and the person or agency who authorized the impoundment shall be liable for any towing, storage, or other impoundment fees permitted under this chapter. The court shall enter judgment in favor of the registered tow truck operator against the person or agency authorizing the impound for the impoundment, towing, and storage fees paid. In addition, the court shall enter judgment in favor of the registered and legal owners of the vehicle, or other item of personal property registered or titled with the department, for the amount of the filing fee required by law for the impound hearing petition as well as reasonable damages for loss of the use of the vehicle during the time the same was impounded, for not less than fifty dollars per day, against the person or agency authorizing the impound. However, if an impoundment arising from an alleged violation of RCW 46.20.342 or 46.20.420 is determined to be in violation of this chapter, then the law enforcement officer directing the impoundment and the government employing the officer are not liable for damages if the officer relied in good faith and without gross negligence on the records of the department in ascertaining that the operator of the vehicle had a suspended or revoked driver's license. If any judgment entered is not paid within fifteen days of notice in writing of its entry, the court shall award reasonable attorneys' fees and costs against the defendant in any action to enforce the judgment. Notice of entry of judgment may be made by registered or certified mail, and proof of mailing may be made by affidavit of the party mailing the notice. Notice of the entry of the judgment shall read essentially as follows:

(4) Any impounded abandoned vehicle or item of personal property registered or titled with the department that is not redeemed within fifteen days of mailing of the notice of custody and sale as required by RCW 46.55.110(((2))) (3) shall be sold at public auction in accordance with all the provisions and subject to all the conditions of RCW 46.55.130. A vehicle or item of personal property registered or titled with the department may be redeemed at any time before the start of the auction upon payment of the applicable towing and storage fees.

Sec. 8. RCW 46.55.130 and 1998 c 203 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) If, after the expiration of fifteen days from the date of mailing of notice of custody and sale required in RCW 46.55.110(((2))) (3) to the registered and legal owners, the vehicle remains unclaimed and has not been listed as a stolen vehicle, or for which a long-term impound has been directed but no security paid under RCW 46.55.120, then the registered tow truck operator having custody of the vehicle shall conduct a sale of the vehicle at public auction after having first published a notice of the date, place, and time of the auction in a newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the vehicle is located not less than three days and no more than ten days before the date of the auction. The notice shall contain a description of the vehicle including the make, model, year, and license number and a notification that a three-hour public viewing period will be available before the auction. The auction shall be held during daylight hours of a normal business day.

(2) The following procedures are required in any public auction of such abandoned vehicles:
(a) The auction shall be held in such a manner that all persons present are given an equal time and opportunity to bid;
(b) All bidders must be present at the time of auction unless they have submitted to the registered tow truck operator, who may or may not choose to use the preauction bid method, a written bid on a specific vehicle. Written bids may be submitted up to five days before the auction and shall clearly state which vehicle is being bid upon, the amount of the bid, and who is submitting the bid;
(c) The open bid process, including all written bids, shall be used so that everyone knows the dollar value that must be exceeded;
(d) The highest two bids received shall be recorded in written form and shall include the name, address, and telephone number of each such bidder;
(e) In case the high bidder defaults, the next bidder has the right to purchase the vehicle for the amount of his or her bid;
(f) The successful bidder shall apply for title within fifteen days;

(g) The registered tow truck operator shall post a copy of the auction procedure at the bidding site. If the bidding site is different from the licensed office location, the operator shall post a clearly visible sign at the office location that describes in detail where the auction will be held. At the bidding site a copy of the newspaper advertisement that lists the vehicles for sale shall be posted;

(h) All surplus moneys derived from the auction after satisfaction of the registered tow truck operator's lien shall be remitted within thirty days to the (department for deposit in the state motor vehicle fund. A report identifying the vehicles resulting in any surplus shall accompany the remitted funds. If the director subsequently receives a valid claim from the) registered vehicle owner of record as determined by the department (within one year from the date of the auction, the surplus moneys shall be remitted to such owner);

(i) If an operator receives no bid, or if the operator is the successful bidder at auction, the operator shall, within forty-five days sell the vehicle to a licensed vehicle wrecker, hulk hauler, or scrap processor by use of the abandoned vehicle report-affidavit of sale, or the operator shall apply for title to the vehicle.

(3) In no case may an operator hold a vehicle for longer than ninety days without holding an auction on the vehicle, except for vehicles that are under a police or judicial hold.

(4)(a) In no case may the accumulation of storage charges exceed fifteen days from the date of receipt of the information by the operator from the department as provided by RCW 46.55.110((.2)) (3).

(b) The failure of the registered tow truck operator to comply with the time limits provided in this chapter limits the accumulation of storage charges to five days except where delay is unavoidable. Providing incorrect or incomplete identifying information to the department in the abandoned vehicle report shall be considered a failure to comply with these time limits if correct information is available. However, storage charges begin to accrue again on the date the correct and complete information is provided to the department by the registered tow truck operator.

Sec. 9. RCW 46.61.625 and 1995 c 360 s 10 are each amended to read as follows:

1. No person or persons shall occupy any trailer while it is being moved upon a public highway, except a person occupying a proper position for steering a trailer designed to be steered from a rear-end position.

2. No person or persons may occupy a vehicle while it is being towed by a tow truck as defined in RCW 46.55.010((4))")

Sec. 10. RCW 46.70.180 and 1997 c 153 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

Each of the following acts or practices is unlawful:

1. To cause or permit to be advertised, printed, displayed, published, distributed, broadcasted, televised, or disseminated in any manner whatsoever, any statement or representation with regard to the sale or financing of a vehicle which is false, deceptive, or misleading, including but not limited to the following:

   a. That no down payment is required in connection with the sale of a vehicle when a down payment is in fact required, or that a vehicle may be purchased for a smaller down payment than is actually required;

   b. That a certain percentage of the sale price of a vehicle may be financed when such financing is not offered in a single document evidencing the entire security transaction;

   c. That a certain percentage is the amount of the service charge to be charged for financing, without stating whether this percentage charge is a monthly amount or an amount to be charged per year;

   d. That a new vehicle will be sold for a certain amount above or below cost without computing cost as the exact amount of the factory invoice on the specific vehicle to be sold;

   e. That a vehicle will be sold upon a monthly payment of a certain amount, without including in the statement the number of payments of that same amount which are required to liquidate the unpaid purchase price.

2. To incorporate within the terms of any purchase and sale agreement any statement or representation with regard to the sale or financing of a vehicle which is false, deceptive, or misleading, including but not limited to terms that include as an added cost to the selling price of a vehicle an amount for licensing or transfer of title of that vehicle which is not actually due to the state, unless such amount has in fact been paid by the dealer prior to such sale.

3. To set up, promote, or aid in the promotion of a plan by which vehicles are to be sold to a person for a consideration and upon further consideration that the purchaser agrees to secure one or more persons to participate in the plan by respectively making a similar purchase and in turn agreeing to secure one or more persons likewise to join in said plan, each purchaser being given the right to secure money, credits, goods, or something of value, depending upon the number of persons joining the plan.

4. To commit, allow, or ratify any act of "bushing" which is defined as follows: Taking from a prospective buyer of a vehicle a written order or offer to purchase, or a contract document signed by the buyer, which:

   a. Is subject to the dealer's, or his or her authorized representative's future acceptance, and the dealer fails or refuses within three calendar days, exclusive of Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday, and prior to any further negotiations with said buyer, either (i) to deliver to the buyer the dealer's signed acceptance, or (ii) to void the order, offer, or contract document and tender the return of any initial payment or security made or given by the buyer, including but not limited to money, check, promissory note, vehicle keys, a trade-in, or certificate of title to a trade-in; or

(b) Permits the dealer to renegotiate a dollar amount specified as trade-in allowance on a vehicle delivered or to be delivered by the buyer as part of the purchase price, for any reason except:

(i) Failure to disclose that the vehicle's certificate of ownership has been branded for any reason, including, but not limited to, status as a rebuilt vehicle as provided in RCW 46.12.050 and 46.12.075; or

(ii) Substantial physical damage or latent mechanical defect occurring before the dealer took possession of the vehicle and which could not have been reasonably discoverable at the time of the taking of the order, offer, or contract; or

(iii) Excessive additional miles or a discrepancy in the mileage. "Excessive additional miles" means the addition of five hundred miles or more, as reflected on the vehicle's odometer, between the time the vehicle was first valued by the dealer for purposes of determining its trade-in value and the time of actual delivery of the vehicle to the dealer. "A discrepancy in the mileage" means (A) a discrepancy between the mileage reflected on the vehicle's odometer and the stated mileage on the signed odometer statement; or (B) a discrepancy between the mileage stated on the signed odometer statement and the actual mileage on the vehicle; or

(c) Fails to comply with the obligation of any written warranty or guarantee given by the dealer requiring the furnishing of services or repairs within a reasonable time.

(5) To commit any offense relating to odometers, as such offenses are defined in RCW 46.37.540, 46.37.550, 46.37.560, and 46.37.570. A violation of this subsection is a class C felony punishable under chapter 9A.20 RCW.

(6) For any vehicle dealer or vehicle salesperson to refuse to furnish, upon request of a prospective purchaser, for vehicles previously registered to a business or governmental entity, the name and address of the business or governmental entity.

(7) To commit any other offense under RCW 46.37.423, 46.37.424, or 46.37.425.

(8) To commit any offense relating to a dealer's temporary license permit, including but not limited to failure to properly complete each such permit, or the issuance of more than one such permit on any one vehicle. However, a dealer may issue a second temporary permit on a vehicle if the following conditions are met:

(a) The lienholder fails to deliver the vehicle title to the dealer within the required time period;

(b) The dealer has satisfied the lien; and

(c) The dealer has proof that payment of the lien was made within two calendar days, exclusive of Saturday, Sunday, or a legal holiday, after the sales contract has been executed by all parties and all conditions and contingencies in the sales contract have been met or otherwise satisfied.

(9) For a dealer, salesman, or mobile home manufacturer, having taken an instrument or cash "on deposit" from a purchaser prior to the delivery of the bargained-for vehicle, to commingle the "on deposit" funds with assets of the dealer, salesman, or mobile home manufacturer instead of holding the "on deposit" funds as trustee in a separate trust account until the purchaser has taken delivery of the bargained-for vehicle. Delivery of a manufactured home shall be deemed to occur in accordance with RCW 46.70.135(5). Failure, immediately upon receipt, to endorse "on deposit" instruments to such a trust account, or to set aside "on deposit" cash for deposit in such trust account, and failure to deposit such instruments or cash in such trust account by the close of banking hours on the day following receipt thereof, shall be evidence of intent to commit this unlawful practice: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That a motor vehicle dealer may keep a separate trust account which equals his or her customary total customer deposits for vehicles for future delivery. For purposes of this section, "on deposit" funds received from a purchaser of a manufactured home means those funds that a seller requires a purchaser to advance before ordering the manufactured home, but does not include any loan proceeds or moneys that might have been paid on an installment contract.

(10) For a dealer or manufacturer to fail to comply with the obligations of any written warranty or guarantee given by the dealer or manufacturer requiring the furnishing of goods and services or repairs within a reasonable period of time, or to fail to furnish to a purchaser, all parts which attach to the manufactured unit including but not limited to the undercarriage, and all items specified in the terms of a sales agreement signed by the seller and buyer.

(11) For a vehicle dealer to pay to or receive from any person, firm, partnership, association, or corporation acting, either directly or through a subsidiary, as a buyer's agent for consumers, any compensation, fee, purchase moneys or funds that have been deposited into or withdrawn out of any account controlled or used by any buyer's agent, gratuity, or reward in connection with the purchase or sale of a new motor vehicle.

(12) For a buyer's agent, acting directly or through a subsidiary, to pay to or to receive from any motor vehicle dealer any compensation, fee, gratuity, or reward in connection with the purchase or sale of a new motor vehicle. In addition, it is unlawful for any buyer's agent to engage in any of the following acts on behalf of or in the name of the consumer:

(a) Receiving or paying any purchase moneys or funds into or out of any account controlled or used by any buyer's agent;

(b) Signing any vehicle purchase orders, sales contract, odometer statements, or title documents, or having the name of the buyer's agent appear on the vehicle purchase order, sales contract, or title; or
(c) Signing any other documentation relating to the purchase, sale, or transfer of any new motor vehicle.

It is unlawful for a buyer's agent to use a power of attorney obtained from the consumer to accomplish or effect the purchase, sale, or transfer of ownership documents of any new motor vehicle by any means which would otherwise be prohibited under (a) through (c) of this subsection. However, the buyer's agent may use a power of attorney for physical delivery of motor vehicle license plates to the consumer.

Further, it is unlawful for a buyer's agent to engage in any false, deceptive, or misleading advertising, disseminated in any manner whatsoever, including but not limited to making any claim or statement that the buyer's agent offers, obtains, or guarantees the lowest price on any motor vehicle or words to similar effect.

In addition, it is unlawful for any buyer's agent to fail to have a written agreement with the customer that: (a) Sets forth the terms of the parties’ agreement; (b) discloses to the customer the total amount of any fees or other compensation being paid by the customer to the buyer's agent for the agent's services; and (c) further discloses whether the fee or any portion of the fee is refundable.

The department of licensing shall by December 31, 1996, in rule, adopt standard disclosure language for buyer's agent agreements under RCW 46.70.011, 46.70.070, and this section.

(14) Being a manufacturer, other than a motorcycle manufacturer governed by chapter 46.94 RCW, to:

(a) Coerce or attempt to coerce any vehicle dealer to order or accept delivery of any vehicle or vehicles, parts or accessories, or any other commodities which have not been voluntarily ordered by the vehicle dealer: PROVIDED, That recommendation, endorsement, exposition, persuasion, urging, or argument are not deemed to constitute coercion;

(b) Cancel or fail to renew the franchise or selling agreement of any vehicle dealer doing business in this state without fairly compensating the dealer at a fair going business value for his or her capital investment which shall include but not be limited to tools, equipment, and parts inventory possessed by the dealer on the day he or she is notified of such cancellation or termination and which are still within the dealer's possession on the day the cancellation or termination is effective, if: (i) The capital investment has been entered into with reasonable and prudent business judgment for the purpose of fulfilling the franchise; and (ii) the cancellation or nonrenewal was not done in good faith. Good faith is defined as the duty of each party to any franchise to act in a fair and equitable manner towards each other, so as to guarantee one party freedom from coercion, intimidation, or threats of coercion or intimidation from the other party: PROVIDED, That recommendation, endorsement, exposition, persuasion, urging, or argument are not deemed to constitute a lack of good faith.

(d) Coerce or attempt to coerce a vehicle dealer to engage in any practice forbidden in this section by either threats of actual cancellation or failure to renew the dealer's franchise agreement;

(e) Refuse to deliver any vehicle publicly advertised for immediate delivery to any duly licensed vehicle dealer having a franchise or contractual agreement for the retail sale of new and unused vehicles sold or distributed by such manufacturer within sixty days after such dealer's order has been received in writing unless caused by inability to deliver because of shortage or curtailment of material, labor, transportation, or utility services, or by any labor or production difficulty, or by any cause beyond the reasonable control of the manufacturer;

(f) To provide under the terms of any warranty that a purchaser of any new or unused vehicle that has been sold, distributed for sale, or transferred into this state for resale by the vehicle manufacturer may only make any warranty claim on any item included as an integral part of the vehicle against the manufacturer of that item.

Nothing in this section may be construed to impair the obligations of a contract or to prevent a manufacturer, distributor, representative, or any other person, whether or not licensed under this chapter, from requiring performance of a written contract entered into with any licensee hereunder, nor does the requirement of such performance constitute a violation of any of the provisions of this section if any such contract or the terms thereof requiring performance, have been freely entered into and executed between the contracting parties. This paragraph and subsection (14)(b) of this section do not apply to new motor vehicle manufacturers governed by chapter 46.96 RCW.

(15) Unlawful transfer of an ownership interest in a motor vehicle as defined in RCW 19.116.050.

(16) To knowingly and intentionally engage in collusion with a registered owner of a vehicle to repossess and return or resell the vehicle to the registered owner in an attempt to avoid a long-term impound under chapter 46.55 RCW. RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Finkbeiner on the scope and object of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5588, the President must first state that the original bill is not a model of good legislative drafting, and that the President did have a difficult time discerning the scope and object of the original bill. After considerable deliberation, the President finds that the original bill would make all unfair practices under Chapter 48.30 RCW by health carriers subject to the Consumer Protection Act.

"The substitute measure would also make all unfair practices under Chapter 48.30 subject to the Consumer Protection Act.

"The President, therefore, finds that the substitute bill does not change the scope and object of the bill and the point of order is not well taken.

"Senator Finkbeiner referred to the title of the original bill in his argument. The President would like to remind the body of President Cherberg's words in this regard: 'It is important to note that the Constitution and the rule on scope and object are not concerned with the title of the bill.'"

Substitute Senate Bill No. 5588 was ruled in order.

This chapter preempts political subdivisions from adopting or enforcing requirements for the licensure and regulation of tobacco product promotions and sales within retail stores, except that political subdivisions that have adopted ordinances (prohibiting sampling) regulating tobacco by January 1, 1993, may continue to enforce these ordinances. No political subdivision may: (1) Impose fees or license requirements on retail businesses for possessing or selling cigarettes or tobacco products, other than general business taxes or license fees not primarily levied on tobacco products; or (2) regulate or prohibit activities covered by RCW 70.155.020 through 70.155.080. Nothing in this chapter limits the powers of a political subdivision from adopting ordinances regulating the sale, purchase, use, or promotion of tobacco products, not inconsistent with this chapter, occurring outside a retail store. Creating a state work force investment board.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Fairley, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5533 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5533 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Fairley, the following amendment was adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that Washington employers are having difficulty finding qualified applicants for jobs, particularly those requiring specialized skills. Many businesses are being forced to curtail expansion in Washington state.

The legislature finds that business surveys indicate that the availability of a skilled work force is the most important factor in business location decisions, particularly for high wage employers. Our state's rural development strategy requires a work force focus. Now more than ever, we need to have an explicit work force development strategy linked with our state economic development efforts.

The legislature also finds that the consequences for failing to upgrade the skills of our workers are enormous. Family incomes are increasingly linked with skills and training and those who cannot access training and education will continue to see declines in their income.

The legislature further finds that in order to succeed we must have a system of lifelong learning that allows workers to upgrade their skills while continuing to work. To achieve that goal we must have a work force development system that is linked directly to jobs, is easily accessible to working families, and can be accessed according to their own schedules. Perhaps more importantly, training and education must be skills-based and certified so that workers can attain certified skills that allow them to move up the job ladder over their lifetime.

The legislature recognizes that programs that prepare individuals for the work force, beginning with secondary vocational education in school and continuing through postsecondary education, apprenticeships, and programs for the disadvantaged, persons with disabilities, and for dislocated workers, must be a coordinated system that enables individuals to obtain skills demanded by employers, and enables individuals to smoothly move back and forth between work force development programs and employment.

To support that challenge a work force development system must focus on customer service and performance accountability. The following principles shall govern the work force development system:

(1) Provide consumers and policymakers ready access to information in order to make informed decisions related to training and employment;

(2) Create a work force development system based on a coherent economic development strategy;

(3) Hold the work force delivery system accountable for improved results in employment, earnings, skills gains, and customer satisfaction;

(4) Provide universal access to persons with disabilities, students, job seekers, and employers in order to hasten the time between job openings and jobs filled;

(5) Develop a strong leadership role for the private sector at the state and local levels;

(6) Establish and maintain state and local flexibility to ensure responsiveness to individuals and communities;

(7) Engage in a systematic effort to integrate the multiple programs and services that comprise the work force development system, including activities implemented through the state-wide one stop delivery system; and
(8) Strengthen the capacity of local communities to strategically guide work force development in their area and to shape local work force development policies.
