Second Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill 5595.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of the state of Washington, this 10th day of January, 2000.

(Rose)

RALPH MUNRO
Secretary of State

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

PARTIAL VETO MESSAGE ON SECOND ENGROSSED SECOND SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5595

June 11, 1999

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 2, 7, 19, 20, 22(3), 22(4), and 22(5), Second Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5595 entitled:

“AN ACT Relating to salmon recovery funding:”
Second Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5595 establishes a Salmon Recovery Funding Board (Board) to oversee $119,928,000 in state and federal money dedicated to salmon recovery. The primary purposes of this legislation are to promote public oversight of funding for salmon recovery and to provide a coordinated state funding process.

Taxpayers, the federal government, and the Legislature demand and deserve greater accountability for the large sums of money we currently spend and will spend in the future on salmon recovery activities in our state. The Legislature has chosen to create the Board to oversee the selection of science-based salmon recovery projects and to make certain that the taxpayers' money is wisely spent. Clearly, the best projects are those that will bring back or protect the most fish.

A strong Board consisting of knowledgeable and concerned citizens from across our state is essential to the success of our statewide efforts to restore salmon runs. This legislation appropriately endows the Board with the broad powers necessary to oversee allocation of the salmon funding and to ensure that projects get done on time, stay within budget and achieve results for salmon.

In section 22 of this bill, however, the Legislature would have defeated the purpose of the Board by taking away its real authority and responsibility. Section 22 would have specifically allocated every single dollar of the salmon recovery money. Such allocation is contrary to giving the Board the responsibility to approve and finance those projects that will have the largest beneficial impact. This detailed itemization of appropriations and projects makes it almost superfluous to have a Board. It is our responsibility to make certain that there is strict accountability for the chosen projects and the money spent on them. Only a strong Board, with the authority and discretion, can do this. Further, after personally consulting with members of our congressional delegation - from both parties - I am convinced that our receipt of federal funds to restore salmon in our state would be placed in serious jeopardy without these vetoes. Members of our congressional delegation and local groups committed to salmon recovery have great expressed concern about our ability to have an effective salmon recovery plan if every dollar is pre-allocated.

For these reasons, I am compelled to veto several sections of Second Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5595 as follows:

Section 2 of the bill would have added new, important and necessary definitions to the salmon recovery statutes. However, one change would have prohibited funding updates related to the Growth Management Act, which are necessary components of salmon recovery and should not be excluded from funding.

Section 7 of the bill would create a Technical Review Team (Team) to establish funding criteria and policies, and to review requests for funding grants on behalf of the Board. Under section 7, the Team would be appointed by the Director of the Department of Fish and Wildlife and be staffed by that department. However, the Board is staffed by the Interagency Committee for Outdoor Recreation (IAC), and the IAC is to administer contracts approved by the Board. The Team would be a new scientific review group when we already have at least two other salmon recovery science entities. I agree that the function of the Team is essential to the success of salmon recovery projects, and that we should fully utilize the scientific and other expertise in the Department of Fish and Wildlife. But the scientific review and all other parts of our salmon recovery need to be part of a unified structure. Accordingly, I am requesting the director of the IAC, in consultation with the Director of the Department of Fish and Wildlife and the chair of the Board, to examine all of the various scientific and technical review groups, with the goal of recommending a comprehensive streamlined mechanism to handle the scientific aspects of salmon recovery. Additionally, I request a recommendation of an appropriate project review structure within the IAC and a report back to me on both tasks by July 15, 1999.

Sections 19 and 20 of this legislation would have removed funding for the Governor's Office and the Office of Financial Management related to the implementation of this act. My office and OFM have fundamental responsibilities related to salmon recovery and, accordingly, I have vetoed these sections to retain their funding.

Section 22 of the bill would provide a full and detailed allocation of how each of the $119,928,000 in state and federal funding for salmon recovery is to be spent. Many of the projects are worthwhile and I will request that the Board consider and give appropriate deference to the allocation provisions in section 22. However, we must preserve the Board's authority to make fundamental decisions about how state and federal salmon recovery money is to be spent, to ensure the recovery and preservation of our wild salmon.

For these reasons, I have vetoed sections 2, 7, 19, 20, 22(3), 22(4), and 22(5) of Second Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5595.

With the exception of sections 2, 7, 19, 20, 22(3), 22(4), and 22(5), Second Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5595 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,

GARY LOCKE, Governor
MOTION

On motion of Senator Betti Sheldon, the Message from the Secretary of State regarding the Governor’s partial veto message on Second Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5595, from 1999, was held on the desk.

The only thing is--I believe that the millennium doesn’t start until 2001.

"I do want to welcome everybody back and just say like Queen Natalie did that this is probably an opportunity that we have this session and it is going to be a little trying on all of us and I think we all need to be more understanding of one another’s feelings and beliefs and try not to be quite as critical as maybe we have been in the past. Hopefully, sixty days from now we all have big smiles on our face and ready to adjourn SINE DIE. Thank you."

REMARKS BY LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR BRAD OWEN

"It is the purpose of this joint session to receive the State of the State Address from His Excellency, Governor Gary Locke. It is always a pleasure for me to have the opportunity to introduce to you and to present to you the Honorable Governor. Governor Gary Locke."

STATE OF THE STATE ADDRESS
BY GOVERNOR GARY LOCKE

Governor Locke: "Mr. President, Mr. Speakers, Honorable Chief Justice, distinguished Justices of the Supreme Court, members of the Consular Association, statewide elected officials, members of the Washington State Legislature, and all of the people of Washington, welcome. Tonight, we stand together at the bright dawn of a new millennium. A wealth of possibilities stretches before us. Behind us lies a proud history to guide the choices we make for the next century. A century our grandchildren will close just as we have closed our grandparents’ century.

"I have to admit, I feel time slipping away. Just the other day, I received my AARP card in the mail, and I thought, What’s this? I’m not anywhere near retirement—I hope. In fact, I feel pretty young. I’ve still got lots of energy. I can still carry my golf clubs, walk the length of a golf course, and not be out of breath. I can even stay up past my kids’ bedtime. In fact, Mona and I have decided that since we, as a family, share everything, why not age? So, on average, she and I are really only in our early forties. Throw Dylan and Emily’s ages into the mix, I’m still in my mid-twenties. But, in all seriousness, time isn’t moving backwards. It is moving forward, and fast.

“When I look into the future of the state of Washington, I like what I see. I see a Washington where our kids go to outstanding schools and get individual attention—where they pass their achievement tests with flying colors—where fourth graders read beyond the fourth grade level, and our tenth graders are passing their tests of mastery in the subjects that we deem important. Their teachers are the best in the nation, their school buildings state of the art; where a college education is available and affordable to anyone who works hard and earns it—and where our schools are free from violence, crime and drugs.

“The Washington I see is a place where our families-- our children-- can find family wage jobs in their own hometowns; where our economy is vibrant, and unemployment is low and hardly anyone needs welfare. It’s a Washington where a young family can buy a home that doesn’t force them to live paycheck to paycheck, and our senior citizens can continue to live in the family home; where there is affordable and accessible health care for everyone; and where medical decisions are made by doctors and their patients, not by accountants.

“It is a Washington where it is safe to walk the streets alone at night; where neighbor looks out for neighbor. I see a Washington with pure air, clean water, healthy forests, and flourishing farmlands, where there are no endangered species, where our rivers are teeming with wild salmon. Is this an impossible dream? I don’t think so, and neither should you. President Kennedy once dreamed of putting a man on the moon, and we did it. Realizing our dreams of opportunity and success for our children, should be our man on the moon. It is a dream that together, we can help make a reality.

“We begin this Twenty-first Century with a strong foundation of high ideals, hard work, courage, and sacrifice. The Twenty-first Century answered Franklin Roosevelt’s call for a rendezvous with destiny. Martin Luther King, Jr. challenged each of us to judge each other not by the color of our skin, but by the strength and content of our character. We witnessed Neil Armstrong take ‘one small step for man, one giant leap for mankind.’ We saw our parents survive the Great Depression and fight wars to ensure our freedom. We saw the Berlin Wall crash to the ground and we saw communism crumble and democracy flourish. We saw Washington fly to worldwide prominence in the aircraft industry. And we saw Bill Gates and Jeff Bezos revolutionize technology and the way we do business. We saw thousands and thousands of Washingtonians—everyday Washingtonians—sacrifice everything that they had to ensure that their children would have a better life.

“We have with us today some of those everyday Washingtonians who shaped our nation and our state-- who made choices and sacrifices that ensured the freedom and the democracy we enjoy every single day. First, let’s pause to honor one of our heroes who isn’t with us today. On October 7th, State Trooper Jim Saunders lost his life protecting our citizens. His wife Billie is with us today. Billie, you are in our thoughts and prayers, and you can always count on our support. It is with deep sadness that we acknowledge Jim’s sacrifice today. Let’s have a moment of silence to honor Trooper Jim Saunders.

“Thank you.

“There are other heroes we honor today: Jacque Long is with us today. After witnessing the Ku Klux Klan in action, Jackie went to work for Martin Luther King, Jr., marching, registering voters, putting her own safety at risk to ensure equal rights for all. Jacque Long, thank you very much.

“Francis Agnes and his wife, Marlene, are also with us today. Francis was a Prisoner of War in World War II. He survived the Bataan Death March—a deadly sixty mile march in jungle heat. When he returned to Washington after twenty-one years in the Air Force, Francis and his wife dedicated their lives to helping veterans in our great state. Francis guards the lives of our veterans like a hawk. If a veteran is sick and needs a ride to the hospital, Francis will drive him. If a widow needs help arranging funeral plans, Francis is there. Francis Agnes, thank you very much.

“LeRoy Roberts is one of the great Tuskegee Airmen. He flew forty-two missions against Nazi Germany and one hundred and six missions during the Korean War. After spending his entire career in the Air Force, LeRoy continues to volunteer at air force bases, and he travels around to our schools, Elk Clubs, Rotaries, and gives slide show presentations, educating our children and our citizens about the Tuskegee Airmen. LeRoy Roberts, thank you very much.

“Tosh Okamoto--Tosh and his family were placed in concentration camps at the outbreak of World War II, simply because of their Japanese ancestry, and yet Tosh stood up and asked to fight for our country. He served in the heroic 442nd regimental combat team-- the most-decorated unit in the history of American warfare. When Tosh returned to Washington, he went to a nursing home to visit the father of his friend, a fellow soldier, who had died in battle. The man’s other son was also visiting his father that day, and asked Tosh for some change. Tosh searched his pockets, and handed the son what he had. The son told Tosh that when his father rang his call button, it was more likely that someone would come and see what he wanted if he held up some money. Tosh was outraged. This man’s son had died for democracy, and that’s how he was being treated. So Tosh formed a non-profit organization and opened the Keiro Nursing Home. Keiro, in Japanese, means ‘respect for the elderly.’ That was the beginning of Tosh’s involvement in improving the lives of our elders. Tosh Okamoto, thank you very much.
"LeRoy Roberts and Tosh Okamoto and countless thousands of others served our country even as their families faced discrimination at home because they believed in the essential goodness of America and her promise of freedom and equal opportunity for all. We must do for our children and our children’s children as these heroes have done for us. When these soldiers went off to fight in wars, they weren’t thinking about their own well-being--they were thinking about us--and our future. When Jacque risked her safety to march for civil rights and register voters, she was thinking about a society for all of us--where everyone has equal opportunities. When Jim Saunders drove that patrol car night after night, he did it because he wanted our children to live in a safe community. They did it for us--to create a better future. The choices these heroes made carved out our destiny. What kind of a destiny do we want to carve out for our children? That will depend on the choices we make in the next sixty days.

"Things have never been better in our great state of Washington. The state of our state is good. Our schools’ test scores are rising: We’ve helped more than 80,000 people move from welfare to work; we’ve retrained thousands of displaced workers into good paying jobs; and we’ve returned almost a billion tax dollars to businesses so they can reinvest, grow, and create the jobs that provide for our families and provide us with a good future. Our unemployment rate is the lowest it’s been in thirty-three years.

"Our economy is strong. It’s our responsibility to preserve our prosperity and we’ll do it by building trust in government--by joining as ‘One Washington’ and sharing our economic bounty and by finding long-term solutions to our immense transportation problems, and by making a long-term all-out commitment to education.

"Today, as we celebrate our progress, we must also adopt an agenda for the future--if our prosperity is to continue. So, as we begin the new century and its first legislative session, we must do more than simply meet the challenges of Initiative 695. As we begin, let us resolve to set aside partisanship, to do what is best for our people and for our children--the children of our state--because you know what? Twenty years from now, fifty years from now, a hundred years from now, nobody is going to care whether we were Democrats or Republicans. They won’t even remember our names, but what they will remember and care about is what we’ve done—together—to make the future a better place.

"You’ve all read and digested my budget and legislative proposals, so today, let me just reinforce some of the most critical issues we must resolve. First, health care should be available and affordable to everyone in the state. People can’t purchase individual health coverage in this state, so let’s resolve to find a solution and let’s also establish a Patients’ Bill of Rights so that no citizen is denied proper care. With our economy booming, there’s no reason for the unemployment insurance taxes to be going up. Let’s make sure they stay down. But at the same time, we need to make sure that we provide extended benefits to the workers who are engaged in job training and retraining, who want to better their lives, who want to take care of their families. We owe them that.

"None of us should feel unsafe in our homes, our jobs, our schools, our own backyards, so let’s resolve once and for all to protect our families and our children from the scourge of domestic violence. Let’s do everything we can to eliminate violence in the schools! No child should be afraid to go to school, and no parents should be afraid to send their children to school. Schools are for learning. Let our teachers teach and let our children learn. Let’s eliminate violence from our schools. And let’s protect our air and our water from pollution. And let’s make sure that every inch of every pipeline in Washington is safe and secure.

"None of us should have to fear neglect in our aging years. Let’s pay greater respect to our elders; let’s make sure they have secure long-term health-care options, and are never taxed out of the family home.

"In fact, we have with us today two of our citizens whose lives have spanned three centuries. Kikuno Kimura and Madame Kodama are both over one hundred years old—and both have truly enriched our lives. These citizens have witnessed the evolution of travel from horse and buggy to space exploration. They’ve seen communication go from telegraphs to global cellular communications. We owe so much to our seniors, our elders, for the legacy they’ve left us. So, thank you Kikuno and Hosoe.

"The most important item on our agenda is sitting right up there. There! Wave to us. There is our future. Do you see them? Those children with us today, and every child in every city and town. They are Washington’s future. Those children will soon fill the seats you’re sitting in today. They will be the doctors and dentists who take care of us. They will be the farmers, the scientists, the grocery store managers, the artists, the teachers, and the engineers and one of them will stand here, some day, delivering the State of the State Address.

"The key to their future, and the key to our future, is education. Education is the sword of democracy—the Excalibur of Opportunity—and yes, the great equalizer. Our children deserve our best. So we need the best teachers in our classrooms. Our new teachers need to be properly prepared and tested and we need to provide training and professional development so that all of our teachers can continue to excel.

"Our children need small classes and individual attention to reach the high standards we’ve set for them. We don’t need to go to the moon. We need to bring the universe to our children. Our goal is 100% literacy and 100% high school
We’ve initiated Promise Scholarships, so hard-working high school graduates can get the college education they need to get good-paying jobs. But, now we must make the Promise Scholarship Program more than just a promise. We need to guarantee that it will continue as a permanent program in our state. We need an education system that provides a lifetime of learning opportunities, because the need for new knowledge and new skills is moving at light-speed.

"We’ve got to provide the training and retraining our workers need for the jobs of the future. Every working person knows the truth about the workplace of the Twenty-first Century: If you don’t keep up to date, you’ll be left behind.

"I say to you tonight, it does not make sense that our state, with one of the highest per capita income levels in America, has the third most crowded classrooms in our nation. And I say to you tonight, it does not make sense that Washington is one of only five states that don’t require new teachers to take tests to prove their mastery. This is simply unacceptable, and it must end now.

"Every day, our hard-working, dedicated teachers have to make an impossible choice: focus on the struggling students, or focus on the majority of students, or focus on the gifted students. Whatever choice they make, every day they are forced to choose to leave some children behind— and that’s not right.

"In my three years as Governor, I’ve traveled to schools throughout our state. I’ve seen classrooms with thirty kids to a teacher. I’ve met eighteen year old high school graduates who can barely read. That’s not right; it has to stop. If we commit to eliminating crowded classrooms, our teachers will have the chance to teach and our children will have a better chance to learn.

"So, I propose that we make a down payment on eliminating crowded classrooms by using savings in the state education budget to hire 1,000 effective teachers in the next school year. We’ve laid the foundation for the best education system in the nation by setting tough standards for students and holding schools accountable for results. Add teacher testing, on-going training, and professional standards to this equation, and we’ve got a rock-solid foundation for what comes next—smaller class sizes and unparalleled academic achievement. We cannot leave this session without fulfilling our duty to the future. Let us resolve here tonight to do the right thing for our children.

"Washingtonians have proven over and over again that if we give communities more power, they will use that power for the greater good -- for our children. So, let’s allow local school boards to keep more of the taxes generated in their own communities— to invest in their schools. Local schools will benefit without any tax increase, and this way we can invest more than a billion dollars in schools over the next six years. They can eliminate crowded classrooms and they can provide after-school and weekend programs for children who need extra time or extra attention—and we can be sure that we won’t leave a single child behind. If we can let local governments keep money for economic development or convention centers, for baseball and football stadiums, we can surely let local school districts keep money for our kids, because if even one child goes through our school system without gaining an education, we fail. And we will all be held accountable for that failure.

"I propose we take yet another big step for schools and taxpayers by settling once and for all how we invest our surplus revenue. Initiative 601 spending limits are here to stay, but when we have a surplus, why not share that money fifty-fifty between schools and taxpayers. Schools will improve and taxpayers will see surplus tax dollars going back into their pockets where they belong. I know that many of you out there are wondering how we can afford to take this leap forward in education after the passage of Initiative 695. But I ask you, how can we not?

"I heard the voters on Initiative 695. I heard them loud and clear. I respect the initiative process our state holds so dear and I regard the voters as both the customers and the shareholders of the state of Washington--and our shareholders said their tax burden was too much and that they want effective, efficient government.

"Make no mistake — responding to I-695 will require sacrifices and tough decisions, but I stand here tonight to say that together we can meet this challenge without sacrificing a single child’s future. Working together, we can provide immediate property tax cuts, including a tax cut of more than six percent for all property owners, and we can exempt all low-income seniors from the state portion of the property tax. After working so hard and sacrificing so much for their families and our communities, our elders must not be taxed out of their homes.

"We are redoubling our efforts to make government more efficient and effective. We can do more and we will. We’re eliminating at least 1,500 state positions, but let’s go farther. Let’s take state government into the Twenty-first Century by contracting out more state services, reforming our civil service system, and allowing state employees to have the same bargaining rights as city and county workers have. Let’s continue our state’s Savings Incentive Program, which has provided $143 million in cold, hard cash for school construction since I took office. One hundred and forty-three million dollars towards school construction all because state employees have been creative and diligent in streamlining their operations. From the Department of Labor & Industries that streamlined its contractor registration renewal process from twenty-seven days down to one, to the Department of Information Services that designed and implemented "Access Washington," the best state Web site in America, to the Department of Health that developed a DNA fingerprinting technique which can identify an E-coli outbreak within twenty-four hours, instead of the seven days it used to take.

"Every agency in our state is working hard to streamline government, so let’s thank and applaud our state employees, for the great work they’re doing. By working together we can ensure that local governments hardest hit by Initiative 695 can continue to provide vital police, fire protection, public health, and transit services. I will not turn my back when someone needs the police, a medic, a firefighter, a vaccine for their child, or a bus ride home from work. We cannot walk away from our responsibility to make our communities safe and secure.

"We all know we need transportation improvements to relieve congestion, to make our highways safer, to get our products to market more swiftly, and to make our ferry system more efficient. Our Blue Ribbon Commission on Transportation, created by this Legislature, will find a way to fund over 20 billion dollars worth of transportation projects necessary in the decades ahead. Within a year, we will have their answer -- a proposal that will go to the voters.

"Yes, we could divert state revenue for short-term transportation solutions, but the result would destine our education system to mediocrity and hardly put a dent in the massive transportation problems we face. On my watch, I will not see education sacrificed. The children are our future. If we don’t educate our children--if we don’t commit to excellence in education--our children will carry the shackles of their inability to prosper, to engage, to be full active members of our society, to their graves--and we will all lose. We will all, as a society, be diminished. and that would be a tragedy that we simply can’t allow to happen.

"You know, I’ve taken on a lot of titles in my life. Deputy Prosecutor, State Representative, County Executive, and now Governor, but I’ll tell you, the most important title I’ve ever had is Daddy. To Emily and Dylan, I am Daddy, and I always will be and that means more to me than anything else. So, let’s remember our true titles. The ones that last; the ones that really matter--Uncle, Aunt, Brother, Sister, Mom and Dad.

"Those children up there? Our future? I asked them a couple of questions. I asked: What do you like about your lives now, and what do you want the world to be like when you grow up?

"Tana said she wants to be a teacher and a trapeze artist. And some people might say the two are synonymous--one and the same.

"Kathy said, ‘I like learning stuff, but sometimes I learn sad things like the sea turtles who eat plastic bags and get sick and die. I learned about salmon at school and am real worried that they may all be gone if we don’t clean up our rivers and creeks.’

"Maggie said, ‘I think more towns should be like my town because it is safe. I like walking to my grandma’s house.’

"Madeleine said, ‘It is great to be a kid today. I hope for good choices by presidents and other people in the government.’

"Citizens of Washington: Is all that too much to ask? Jim, Jacque, LeRoy, Tosh, Francis, all of our heroes, they gave us freedom, democracy, the right to sit in whichever seat on the bus we want. And now our children are asking for opportunities--chances. Let’s give them the opportunities to make the right choices when their turn comes--and that is not too much to ask.

"Last Saturday I went to the opening of a new school on Bainbridge Island. The children were singing some incredible songs, and one of the songs went like this, ‘The future begins with us and every moment we live lights the way! This is our day. This is our day.’ Let’s help them light the way. Let’s give them their day.

"A wise person once said, ‘A hundred years from now, it will not matter what my bank account was, the sort of house I lived in, or the kind of car I drove--but the world may be different because I was important in the life of a child.’ Today I say: ‘A hundred years from now, it won’t matter whether we were Democrats or Republicans, but the world will be different in a hundred years, if all of us--each and every one of us commit today to being important in the lives of our children.’

Thank you, and God bless us all."

Dear Mr. Cook:

MESSAGE FROM STATE TASK FORCE
The Joint Legislative/Executive Task Force on Long-term Care finds that increases in both the numbers of disabled persons and longevity after disability occurs are dramatically effecting the demand for long-term care services. These effects are diluting the long-care system now and will significantly affect it into the foreseeable future. Our purpose was to develop policy options to insure the quality, availability, accessibility and efficient operation of the system of long-term care services. Our work also addressed the need to assure that the quality of Washington’s services are maintained or enhanced at the highest level possible, especially during this period of dynamic change.

The policy recommendations outlined in this report follow, in a logical sequence, the 12 legislative directives in Chapter 272.17 Laws of 1998 and reflect the many hundreds of hours of debate and discussion conducted by the five Stakeholder Issue Groups. The order in which the recommendations appear does not indicate any effort to prioritize on the part of the Task Force.

The Task Force has agreed to incorporate the policy recommendations submitted by the Stakeholder Issue Groups. The Task Force has not adopted the policy recommendations. They do reflect the findings and recommendations agreed upon and submitted by the Stakeholder Issue Groups. Our purpose was to allow these recommendations to serve as logical platforms for further policy debate and development on the enhancement of long-term care in Washington State.

We would like to sincerely thank the Stakeholder Issue Group chairs and members. Without their tireless dedication and many hours of cooperative work, the Task Force would not have been able to complete its report. Their commitment to the development of serious policy recommendations on behalf of the people, who depend upon long-term care services, is greatly appreciated and acknowledged.

Sincerely,

KARY HYRE, Chair

The Joint Legislative/Executive Task Force Report on Long-Term Care is on file in the Office of the Secretary of the Senate.

WHEREAS, We celebrate today the all-too-brief life, the courageous accomplishments, and the timeless ideals of the late Reverend Martin Luther King Jr.; and
WHEREAS, An important legacy of his efforts was to show that government, as advocate for the people, has a moral responsibility to act in ways that help to unite our people; and
WHEREAS, One of the ways we live up to that legacy in Washington is through our commitment to the commissions that serve as liaisons between the majority community and various public and private entities reflecting the minority community; and
WHEREAS, This day is an opportunity for us to recommit ourselves to the unity of our diverse population by seeking to reassure the Commissions on African-American Affairs, Asian Pacific-American Affairs, and Hispanic Affairs of our support for their work and their continued existence; and
WHEREAS, The Twenty-first century, a time of technology and a changing workforce, will require us to think in new ways in order to reach out to all of our communities and extend the opportunity of prosperity to each citizen; and

WHEREAS, In a democratic society, it is incumbent upon legislative bodies to not only voice but to practice inclusiveness; and

WHEREAS, America is built upon the contributions of all of its people, hailing from many different backgrounds, races, faiths, and ethnicities; and

WHEREAS, By recognizing all of her contributors equally, and telling their stories, we can face the challenges of the new century as a unified people; and

WHEREAS, The challenges of the new century require us unity, not disunity; respect for differences, not disrespect; and that we be problem solvers, not problem makers; and risk takers, not status quo seekers;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the members of the Washington State Senate do hereby recognize the important work done by the Commissions on African-American Affairs, Asian Pacific-American Affairs, and Hispanic Affairs; that those commissions help to illuminate specific barriers faced by communities seeking to enter the mainstream of American life; and that their work plays a major role in helping us to address many public policy issues that might not otherwise be a focus of our attention; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Secretary of the Senate do hereby immediately transmit copies of this resolution to the Commissions on African-American Affairs, Asian Pacific-American Affairs, and Hispanic Affairs.

Except as hereinafter provided and notwithstanding any other provision of this Constitution, the aggregate of all tax levies upon real and personal property by the state and all taxing districts now existing or hereafter created, shall not in any year exceed one percent of the (true and) fair value of such property in money: Provided, however, That nothing herein shall prevent levies at the rates now provided by law by or for any port or public utility district. The term "taxing district" for the purposes of this section shall mean any political subdivision, municipal corporation, district, or other governmental agency authorized by law to levy, or have levied for it, ad valorem taxes on property, other than a port or public utility district. The term "fair value" means the assessed value of property on January 1, 1999, modified each year thereafter by the lesser of two percent or the rate of inflation. Such aggregate limitation or any specific limitation imposed by law in conformity therewith may be exceeded only as follows:

(a) By any taxing district when specifically authorized so to do by a majority of at least three-fifths of the voters of the taxing district voting on the proposition to levy such additional tax submitted not more than twelve months prior to the date on which the proposed levy is to be made and not oftener than twice in such twelve month period, either at a special election or at the regular election of such taxing district, at which election the number of voters voting "yes" on the proposition shall constitute three-fifths of a number equal to forty percent of the total number of voters voting in such taxing district at the last preceding general election when the number of voters voting on the proposition does not exceed forty percent of the total number of voters voting in such taxing district in the last preceding general election; or by a majority of at least three-fifths of the voters of the taxing district voting on the proposition to levy when the number of voters voting on the proposition exceeds forty percent of the number of voters voting in such taxing district in the last preceding general election: Provided, That notwithstanding any other provision of this Constitution, any proposition pursuant to this subsection to levy additional tax for the support of the common schools may provide such support for a period of up to four years and any proposition to levy an additional tax to support the construction, modernization, or remodelling of school facilities may provide such support for a period not exceeding six years;

(b) By any taxing district otherwise authorized by law to issue general obligation bonds for capital purposes, for the sole purpose of making the required payments of principal and interest on general obligation bonds issued solely for capital purposes, other than the replacement of equipment, when authorized so to do by majority of at least three-fifths of the voters of the taxing district voting on the proposition to issue such bonds and to pay the principal and interest thereon by annual tax levies in excess of the limitation herein provided during the term of such bonds, submitted not oftener than twice in any calendar year, at an election held in the manner provided by law for bond elections in such taxing district, at which election the total number of voters voting on the proposition shall constitute not less than forty percent of the total number of voters voting in such taxing district at the last preceding general election: Provided, That any such taxing district shall have the right by vote of its governing body to refund any general obligation bonds of said district issued for capital purposes only, and to provide for the interest thereon and amortization thereof by annual levies in excess of the tax limitation provided for herein, And provided further, That the provisions of this section shall also be subject to the limitations contained in Article VIII, Section 6, of this Constitution;

(c) By the state or any taxing district for the purpose of preventing the impairment of the obligation of a contract when ordered so to do by a court of last resort.

Debate ensued.

Senator West: “Senator Brown, from your statements, I want to be clear. I understand your principle objection to this is that it has an arbitrary schedule in it. Is that correct?”

Senator Brown: “That is not correct, Senator. That is one of my objections to it. My principle objection is that we crafted a careful package in the underlying measure that allows us to achieve multiple goals—giving a targeted tax cut to home owners and preserving our commitment in the state budget to education, public health and other things that are important to us on this side of the aisle. So, that is one of my objections, the arbitrariness and the way that it obligates future Legislatures to arbitrary kinds of cuts—thirty six cents per thousand in 2009. I don’t think that is the appropriate way to create a tax cut. I think the appropriate way is to create it today in the underlying measure.”

Senator West: “Thank you, Senator. I am not sure that we needed the length, but that is excellent. If I might inquire further; now I am really confused. Are you for or against, I guess, the total elimination of the state portion of the property tax or are you just simply against this method of totally eliminating the state portion of the property taxes?”

Senator Brown: “Let me be perfectly clear. What I am in favor of today is targeting a tax credit to the home owners. If possible, we will get further tax cuts, but I think this amendment which promises something in 2008, 2009 and 2010—when my son graduates from high school—is not real tax relief for home owners today. What is real tax relief for home owners, and they will have the chance to validate it at the polls in November, is the underlying measure.”

Further debate ensued.

Senator Finkbeiner demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The amount of the credit shall be two hundred dollars for taxes payable in 2001. The credit shall increase each year thereafter by the change in state personal income for the previous fiscal year. The credit is in addition to any tax relief under Article VII, section 10. No credit may exceed the amount of state tax due.

(2) Unless otherwise provided by statute, and to the extent applicable, the definitions, qualifications, application procedures, and other administrative provisions provided by the legislature for property tax relief under Article VII, section 10 apply to the credit under this section. No income or age requirements shall apply to the credit under this section. Any notice to a taxpayer of property taxes due shall indicate the amount of the credit and the tax payable after application of the credit.

(3) The legislature may, by statute, increase the amount of the credit that is otherwise provided in subsection (1) of this section.

(4) The legislature shall phase out the state property tax by 2010.

On behalf of the Joint Committee on Pension Policy (JCPP), I am pleased to submit the enclosed "Early Retirement Actuarial Reduction Factors" report in satisfaction of the legislative directive contained in Section 721 of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5180 (Chapter 309, Laws of 1999).

This report is the culmination of a year's study of the reduction factors applied to early retirement benefits in the Plan 2 and Plan 3 retirement systems. Consideration was given to state and local government fiscal capacity; patterns of public employment; and cost-shifting between employees of different age groups. The cost of extending reduction changes to disability retirees and recipients of death benefits was also studied. While the proposal contained in this report does not include changes for these two groups, the JCPP intends to continue study of the issue in the future.

Sincerely,

GERALD B. ALLARD, State Actuary

The State Actuary Report from the Joint Committee on Pension Policy regarding Early Retirement Actuarial Reduction Factors is on file in the Office of the Secretary of the Senate.

On behalf of the Joint Committee on Pension Policy (JCPP), I am pleased to submit the enclosed "Washington State Patrol Contribution Rates" study to the Legislature. This report is in response to the legislative directive contained in Section 614 of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1125 (Chapter 1, Laws of 1999, 1st Ex. Sess).

This study reviewed the present status of the Washington State Patrol Retirement System (WSP) in light of the level of benefits it provides members and the funding those benefits require. The future funding needs of the system were also considered. Five alternatives to current funding levels were ultimately explored. The option recommended by the JCPP proposes a temporary reduction in member contribution rates and further study of the WSP system during the 2000 Interim. Legislation implementing the Joint Committee's recommendation is contained in Appendix B of the study.

Sincerely,

GERALD B. ALLARD, State Actuary

The State Actuary Report from the Joint Committee on Pension Policy regarding Washington State Patrol Contribution Rates is on file in the Office of the Secretary of the Senate.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Fraser: "A point of personal privilege, Mr. President. I would like to take note today that Hazel Wolf, who many of us knew, died yesterday. She had a very active life spanning three centuries. She died at the age of one hundred and one and was very active in promoting environmental awareness and improvement in our state. She is one of the people who Governor Locke recognized last year as a special citizen of the state. So, I would like the members of the Senate to please take note."

Senator Jacobsen moved that the following striking amendment be adopted:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. (1) Companies that generate carbon dioxide emissions or manufacture products that emit carbon dioxide are purchasing carbon credits from landowners and from other companies in order to provide carbon credits. Companies that are purchasing carbon credits would benefit from a program to trade and to bank carbon credits. Washington forests are one of the most effective resources that can absorb carbon dioxide from the atmosphere. Forests, and other planted lands and waters, provide "carbon storage." Washington contains the most productive forests in the world and both public and private landowners could benefit from a carbon storage trading and banking program. The state should manage all lands and waters in a manner to allow marketing of those lands for carbon storage credits without negatively affecting the long-term production of public and private lands.

(2) The department of community, trade, and economic development, as lead agency in cooperation with the department of ecology, the department of agriculture, and the department of natural resources, will evaluate other states' and nations' attempts to establish carbon credit programs and will develop, by December 1, 2000, recommendations for the next regular session of the Washington state legislature. The departments shall review methods and scientific programs that are used to implement carbon storage programs. The departments will analyze other programs in the state of Washington, including the conservation reserve enhancement program, that could facilitate a carbon storage program and a stable carbon storage market.

(3) The department of natural resources and the department of community, trade, and economic development will jointly review carbon storage programs and carbon storage requirements world-wide and will prepare appropriate legislative responses as recommendations to the next regular session of the legislature by December 1, 2000.

(4) An advisory group shall be appointed by the agencies listed in subsection (2) of this section. The advisory group shall consist of one representative of the timber industry, one representative of the agricultural community, one representative of the industrial business community, one representative of private landowners, and an expert on carbon sequestration from the University of Washington. The advisory group shall be consulted by, and offer its advice to, the agencies listed in subsection (2) of this section on all matters addressed by this section. The agencies listed in subsection (2) of this section shall consider and include the input of the advisory group in all of their activities under this section.

(5) This section expires December 31, 2000."

WASHINGTON STATE LEGISLATURE
OFFICE OF THE STATE ACTUARY
Gerald B. Allard, State Actuary

January 20, 2000

Senator Valoria Loveland, Chair, Senate Ways and Means Committee
Representative Tom Huff, Co-Chair, House Appropriations Committee
Representative Helen Sommers, Co-Chair, House Appropriations Committee
Mr. Tony Cook, Secretary of the Senate
Mr. Tim Martin, Co-Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives
Ms. Cynthia Zehnder, Co-Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives

I am pleased to provide the results of the “Higher Education Retirement Plan Study” to the 2000 Legislature. This report is in response to the legislative directive contained in Section 105 of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5180 (Chapter 309, Laws of 1999).

The focus of this study was two-fold. First, to determine the level of retirement benefits which can reasonably be expected in light of contributions currently being made to the state Higher Education Retirement Plans (HERP). Second, to explore the impact of allowing part time faculty to participate in HERP. Specifically, the Legislature directed this office to evaluate whether participants who worked less than full time would be more likely to qualify for the state-funded Supplemental Benefit than full time participants.

We will be pleased to answer any questions and provide additional information if desired.

Sincerely,

GERALD B. ALLARD, State Actuary

The State Actuary Report on the “Higher Education Retirement Plan Study” is on file in the Office of the Secretary of the Senate.

MOTION

Senator Stevens: "Mr. President, I move adoption of the resolution."

REMARKS BY SENATOR STEVENS

Senator Stevens: "Thank you, Mr. President. Ladies and gentlemen of the Chamber. It gives me great honor at this time to rise before you to honor a great gentleman--a man who has served our state and nation for over thirty-five years. Though I have known him for many years, I have to say that he has taught me, probably everything I didn’t know and needed to know about the National Guard and its role in our state and its role on the national level.

"I was faced with some, if you will--crisis--in the minds of some of the folks in my district when they saw a train coming down the track that they called Y2K. I called the General and asked him if he might be able to help me alleviate some of these fears and put their minds at ease. He very quickly responded to my request by saying, ‘I believe that we can do that very quickly and easily by having a preparedness seminar,’ if you will. He not only helped us prepare that seminar, which I might add, two hundred people from my district attended. He put it together at the National Guard Armory. Our folks left there feeling like they were being taken care of and the situation was well in hand. In true military fashion, he took charge and put all of our minds at ease. I owe him a great debt for that because, quite frankly, I wasn’t sure how to handle it.

"I have come to admire this man and his wife--the wife because she has stood by him all of these years--been there for him. Those of us in this Chamber, who are the wives of men, know that we are the women behind the great men. I honor them both at this time as having served our state and our nation unselfishly. That can be said, as you heard the resolution being read and you heard of the many medals, you know that a great amount of time, energy and commitment went into those medals that were awarded him.

"The one medal that was not mentioned, that many of us fail to recognize often, is the medal that all of our service men wear around their necks. When they receive that medal, at least my husband did and I am assuming that all men in the military do today, they are explained to them of the little notch in that medal that they call their ‘dog tag.’ The purpose of that notch is that if they should die on the battlefield, that will be used to hook in their teeth to make certain that their bodies are correctly identified.

"To have a man go forward to serve his nation, knowing that he may not come home standing--he may be in a horizontal position--in my mind is the greatest honor that they pay to our nation. We owe, not only to General and Mrs. Barlow, a great debt of service, but with him, I think that we can all safely say that we owe that honor, as well, to all of our service men who commit their lives to giving us the freedom that we know today.

"With that, Mr. President, I would like to take this opportunity to thank this Chamber for honoring this great man with me. Thank you."

REMARKS BY SENATOR DECCIO

Senator Deccio: “Thank you, Mr. President. Greg and my friendship goes back nearly thirty years, and even then, Greg was a real spit and polished guy even before he became a high ranking officer in the National Guard. Out of all the medals that are listed here, the one that I think is the most prized is the Purple Heart. As you know, the Purple Heart is given to any one who during battle in defense of their country spills their blood. That medal is here; it should be number one.

"Greg, it has been an honor to have you as my friend. When I get home, I am going to tell Joe Morrier about this very great occasion that is taking place in your honor. Good luck."

REMARKS BY SENATOR BETTI SHELDON

Senator Betti Sheldon: “Thank you, Mr. President. I want to take this opportunity to thank General Barlow for all his help for Kitsap County, not only for when we had an emergency and he sent the National Guard to help direct traffic in our area--they were wonderful--but also for his help with our Kitsap Readiness Center. We have truly appreciated your support; it has been a pleasure to work with you and we wish you well."

REMARKS BY SENATOR RASMUSSEN

Senator Rasmussen: “Thank you, Mr. President, and ladies and gentlemen of the Senate. I, too, would like to rise to honor Adjutant General Barlow. He not only has been a good friend all these years, but he has so well served the state. Many, many years ago when he came in, we had the war on drugs, particularly in Tacoma. Who steps up, but our National Guard, to lend all their troops, whatever we needed to be able to fight this war.

"The little things that he has done in our communities--the National Guard--the people that work for all of us, under his direction has just been astronomical. What a tremendous gift he has been to our state! I rise to say ‘Thank you, General Barlow.’ You are, indeed, not only a good friend, but it is indeed an honor to be able to recognize you. Thank you."

REMARKS BY SENATOR HEAVEY

Senator Heavey: “Thank you, Mr. President. It is an honor to support this resolution and to commend it for the body's consideration. General Barlow has a great deal of management and leadership skills and as a citizen of this state and as a citizen of this country, we can all be thankful that a man with his abilities has lent himself to the service of the state--Pierce County--and our country. When you are in trouble, whether it be a flood and the National Guard show up, or you are at war--unfortunately--you want people like General Barlow on your side. I just feel so blessed that we have people like him that serve our country and serve our state. He is a great American and a great Washingtonian. I urge that you support this resolution. Thank you."

REMARKS BY SENATOR HAUGEN

Senator Haugen: "Thank you, Mr. President. I, too, rise in support of this resolution. I want to draw your attention to something else that General Barlow did and that was that he was the lead when we merged our Emergency Services into the National Guard. There were some people who didn’t think that would work well. It was because of his leadership and his ability to work so well with local government that he has built our Emergency Services Department into being one of the leading in the nation now.

“That was one of those government efficiencies that we did. It was something that cost the taxpayers double, because we had two forms of Emergency Services, with our National Guard and our state Emergency Services. Now, we only have one. It was because of his leadership and his administrative skills that that transition went so well. I want to thank you, General Barlow, for that. I wish you well in your retirement.”

REMARKS BY SENATOR MACDONALD

Senator McDonald: “Well, it turns out that we were in Vietnam at the same time and the same place. Now, there were ten thousand of us in the same place at the time, so I can’t say that we were pals back then. He went on to General and I remained a Lieutenant, J.G. So, for the boys and girls of the neighborhood there, we want to congratulate you; you did good.”

REMARKS BY SENATOR HOCHSTATTER

Senator Hochstatter: “Thank you, Mr. President. My understanding--and you should never give politicians such a laundry list of commendations that we can pick from to praise a man--but my understanding is that you can wear the combat infantryman’s badge with your civies. I suspect that the General is headed for that uniform soon. The General once told me, ‘I speak about a lot of things, but whenever I speak about spiritual things, I always get somebody coming back and saying that was a great job.’

“So, I am humbled by a man who has that kind of political moxie and such an esteem for the spiritual side of things, that has borne wounds in the defense of my country. Just as a request, I would ask him if he would ever--once he puts on the civilian uniform--choose to join this august body, would he please stay out of my district? Thank you.”

REMARKS BY SENATOR WEST

Senator West: “Thank you Mr. President, and members of the Senate. General Barlow’s list of accomplishments is great indeed. General Barlow has served this state in a great manner. Each of us has a story or an incident where we have run across him and called upon him and his troops for assistance in our district or in an area. He has demonstrated his great leadership and, in fact, I think General Barlow is a role model for leaders everywhere. General Barlow should be held up as a role model for young people everywhere.

“What General Barlow has done, I haven’t seen many do. He never fails to take the opportunity to remind the person he is working with or remind the person he is speaking with, that it is not his accomplishments alone, but that he is looking out for the welfare of the men and women of the National Guard. He calls them, ‘His soldiers,’ because he cares about them intensely. A good leader does that; he cares about the people that he is leading. It is only through their efforts that they are able to be as strong as they are. General Barlow has captured that--every chance. He impressed me so much the first time I met him in a hearing, where he made a passionate plea for his soldiers and he was looking out for his people. I can understand how, when he calls these folks out in the dark of night--away from their families, away from their jobs--into danger and difficult situations, that they are more than willing to go. More leaders ought to be like him and understand the values of the people they are leading. Thank you, sir, for that and for the great contributions to the state of Washington--and to the troops that you lead.”

REMARKS BY SENATOR OKE

Senator Oke: “Thank you, Mr. President. General Barlow, I consider you, Greg, a good friend. You have been to my home and I have enjoyed the fellowship there. I want to say to those men and women behind you and along side of you, I salute you and God Bless each one of you for the service to this state. I do have a little story, too, about my district. I suspect the General would just as soon that I not share this, but I was listening carefully to all the awards you have received over the many years you have served and I didn’t hear any of them for driving ability. I had the General in our district and he was driving and I, as a Retired Senior Chief E8, felt honored to be sitting next to him. Unfortunately, someone pulled out in front of us and we had a little collision. It wasn’t the General’s fault, but I am going to look to a different driver.
"As has been said, I do hope that you continue your service to this state. I am sure you will; I am sure you will enjoy a few months of retirement, as I did, and then say, 'What's next?' I do hope that what is next brings you to Olympia. God Bless you and your family."

REMARKS BY SENATOR MORTON

Senator Morton: "Thank you, Mr. President. I wish to also rise and congratulate our General. In several ways, he was very adept at raising the morale of the troops and keeping that and sustaining that at a high level. However, he went beyond that many times to the other spelling of the word in the morals as they were addressed both while in uniform and out of uniform. He was very good at transmitting, by his own examples, the standards of conduct that must be retained, not only by the soldier in uniform, but out of uniform. So, by that, he has made us proud to have him as our General and also to have those troops to rise to that level of conduct. I commend him for the quality, Mr. President, of the esprit de corps that he developed within the inner soldier. Thank you."

REMARKS BY SENATOR HALE

Senator Hale: "Thank you, Mr. President. I feel that I also have to rise to honor General Barlow. Unfortunately, Senator West stole my comments. That is why he is number one and I am only number two. Anyway, I think that General Barlow epitomizes the best in a leader. You can’t help to be impressed by his fierce patriotism, his erect military posture and his absolute loyalty to his men. You are, indeed, a wonderful role model. I am sure that has been extremely valuable to your troops, but it is also valuable to the rest of us who remember what it takes to make a truly great American. Best wishes to you and to Mrs. Barlow."

REMARKS BY SENATOR ROACH

Senator Roach: "Thank you, Mr. President. I, too, want to rise and give a thank you. It has been just a wonderful experience and you do lots of things. I hope all of you have had the opportunity to hear some of the stories he has to tell, because they are just absolutely incredible. Among them, taking the challenge, after years I guess, of driving these all-terrain vehicles and to go down and show his men how to do it and thinking ‘Gads, do I still remember how,’ and being successful. Everyone was awed by it. Among the things that he does for us—one of the things—he acquaints us with what the National Guard does.

"Many of you here have gone over to the Yakima Firing Range. My first trip—I’ve had two opportunities—my first trip, I flew over in his aircraft and we got to the Yakima Airport and we were going to get in a Huey and then go over to the Yakima Firing Range. They slammed the doors shut on both sides of the Huey and I turned to the General who was sitting next to me and I said, ‘Can’t we fly with the doors open?’ He said, ‘Yes, we can do that.’ I wasn’t thinking at the time. Afterwards, I realized that you had to have some balance in this aircraft. He opened our door and then he got out and went around to the other side and opened the other one up. He got back in and mentioned how windy it was going to be.

“All I know is that then, Representative Eide didn’t know that I was the reason her hair was messed up the entire day, because it was windy. It was an exciting trip. You literally had your feet like this and you looked right down into the canyons of Yakima.

“I want to take an opportunity, as I know General Barlow would want me to do, to introduce, sitting to his far right is his replacement Major General Timothy Lowenberg, who is going to be taking the General’s place. It has been an honor to meet him and we are all anxious to see how you are going to fill these shoes, but also to let you know that we are here to help you do the job you are doing for us. We really appreciate all of you and all of you that are there. There is a reception later and I hope that all of us will take the opportunity to go and shake hands with the greatest men and women this state has."

REMARKS BY SENATOR WOJAHN

Senator Wojahn: "Thank you, Mr. President, and members of the Senate. General Barlow, I want to congratulate you on your ability to generate funds for the National Guard. The first time that I really noticed this was after you were in position and I had been driving back and forth from Tacoma for about thirty-two years, coming down here for session. All of a sudden, the buildings began to take shape. In other words, there was new paint, new shutters--the dough boy out in front was polished up. Now he is copper-looking with the green copper base. I noticed that you cleaned up the sort of graveyard—the museum area of the yard—so that you can see the cannon and the aircraft that are too big to go into the military museum down the road. I think you have done a remarkable job in all areas, in addition to working well with people. You have managed to persuade the Legislature to give you the money to correct the problem. Thank you very much."

REMARKS BY SENATOR THIBAUDEAU

Senator Thibaudeau: “Thank you, Mr. President. If I may add to the General’s record, because in my community, he has been a very, very important force in the charitable area—helping kids, helping seniors, helping those people that society needs to help. I want you all to know that, because I think, in the final analysis we—obviously his military record is to be commended and has been on this floor—but his other record, he doesn’t talk about that too much or at least in this body—is really truly admirable. I would like to commend him for that, too. Thank you.”

REMARKS BY SENATOR SWECKER

Senator Swecker: “Thank you, Mr. President. This past interim I’ve had the great good fortune of co-chairing the Senate Select Committee on Military and Veterans Affairs—with the good Senator from the Second Legislative District. I am sure looking forward to going forth with that effort. One of the big emphases we’ve had is providing assistance—the state that is—helpful and conducive to our veterans and our retired veterans, so that they will stay on in this state after they retire. Now that our good General is in that status, I am hoping that he will also appear before our committee from time to time and give us insight into the things that we can do.

“I also wanted to say that as the good General indicates he is a master Army aviator. I had the very good fortune to also be an Army aviator and I note that earlier he suggested that he might want to become a member of this body. I do want to reassure you, sir, that being a member of this body is a lot of fun, but it is a little like being an Army aviator. It is hours and hours of sheer boredom interspersed with moments of stark terror, so we would welcome you.”

REMARKS BY SENATOR SHIN

Senator Shin: “Thank you, Mr. President. I rise and stand for this resolution. I was twice asked to be a speaker at the Army graduation commencement exercises and there I met General Barlow. My impression of him was that he was not a tough man; he was a loving, kind person and one who cares about the graduating seniors. He went around shaking hands with the students and that touched me very much. What I would like to add to the resolution is that besides all the commendations that he has received, if I could add ‘A humble general who cares about education for the troops.’ Thank you for this opportunity.”

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of Senate Resolution 2000-8700.
The motion by Senator Stevens carried and the resolution was adopted.

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The Vice President Pro Tempore welcomed and introduced Major General Gregory P. Barlow, the retiring Washington Adjutant General, his wife, and the newly appointed Washington Adjutant General, Timothy J. Lowenberg, who were seated in the gallery.

WHEREAS, The education and advancement of Washington’s youth is of paramount importance to the citizens of our state; and

WHEREAS, Education means much more today than the traditional classroom experience so familiar to many Washingtonians; and

WHEREAS, Over the years, the Boy Scouts of America has provided boys the opportunity to gain a unique education that allows them to steadily advance in their skills, knowledge, and responsibility as they mature into young men; and

WHEREAS, Mr. Jason Law of Eatonville, through his years of commitment to excellence and his willingness to serve his community, as well as to lead, has earned the rank of Eagle Scout; and

WHEREAS, Mr. Law has gone above and beyond expectations to earn the equally prestigious Venturing Silver Award, qualifying by first earning two Venturing Bronze awards and one Gold award, exemplifying the ideals of Scouting; and
WHEREAS, Mr. Law’s example is one from which all Washingtonians can learn, and of which all can be proud; NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the members of the Washington State Senate do hereby recognize and honor the achievements of Mr. Jason Law, and the hard work and commitment to excellence required to gain them; and BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Secretary of the Senate immediately transmit a copy of this resolution to the Pacific Harbors Council Chapter of the Boy Scouts of America.

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

MOTION

On motion of Senator Honeyford, the following resolution was adopted:

SENATE RESOLUTION 2000-8703

By Senators Honeyford, Fraser, Costa, Rasmussen and Kohl-Welles

WHEREAS, Decent and affordable housing is a simple dream that is unattainable for many hard-working families in Washington; and

WHEREAS, Unable to obtain either conventional or government-assisted financing, some of these families pay rent - in many cases - more than fifty percent of their total household income to live in overcrowded, substandard houses and apartments; and

WHEREAS, To draw attention to the need for safe, decent, affordable housing, and to showcase the power of volunteers in neighborhoods and communities across Washington, the Washington State Legislature has entered into a partnership with Habitat for Humanity to build a home for a family in need; and

WHEREAS, Legislators and staff, along with their families, others in the legislative community, and Habitat partner families and volunteers, are working side-by-side with infectious enthusiasm in raising thirty-five thousand dollars and generating three thousand five hundred volunteer hours to build "The Home from the Dome"; and

WHEREAS, When complete, The Home from the Dome will be sold to a partner family, who themselves will have put in over five hundred hours of manual labor, under a no-profit, no-interest loan on a twenty or twenty-five year mortgage. The eventual homeowner's payments will go to a revolving fund for construction of more housing for other families; and

WHEREAS, Work on The Home from the Dome - like work on any community volunteer project - unites those involved and shows that, in a world where many needs go unmet, the giving of our time, talent, compassion, and energy is an expression of faith, trust, and concern;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Senate hereby expresses its gratitude to Habitat for Humanity, for its leadership, and to all the volunteers and contributors - legislators, staff, family, friends, and others - for the time, talent, compassion, and energy they have given to make a home for one more family - The Home from the Dome - a reality; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Senate finds that, in the end, the true excitement in a project like this is not in seeing the finished wall or the completed house, but in having the opportunity to take part in such a powerful project.

Senators Honeyford, Fraser, Franklin, Hochstatter and Eide spoke to Senate Resolution 2000-8703.

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUEST

The President welcomed and introduced Peter Zubowic, the executive director of the South Puget Sound Habitat for Humanity project, who was seated in the gallery.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE
Senator Tim Sheldon: "Thank you, Mr. President, a point of personal privilege. I just wanted to remind the Senators that on their desks is an article from the Seattle Times. I think it was in there a couple of days ago and deals with drug use in our rural areas. I know, Mr. President, that you have been very, very active—probably more active than anyone in our state—in talking about substance abuse and the dangers of drug use. This article was very interesting to me, and that is why I wanted to pass it out to bring it to your attention here on the Senate floor. We have thirty-two rural counties and seven metropolitan counties here in Washington State.

'Mr. President, if I could just read one line from this article. It says,' Eighth graders in rural America are one hundred and four percent more likely that those in urban centers to use amphetamines, including methamphetamines and fifty percent more likely to use cocaine,' according to the study by the National Center on Addiction and Substance Abuse at Columbia University.

"So, a very prestigious university is looking across America and finding that we have big, big problems in our rural areas. Of course, these affect education, economics, families, housing— you name it—but it affects us all, but it is affecting us twice as much in rural Washington today. Please take note of that and we are going to work and try and turn it around. Thank you."

At 10:26 a.m., on motion of Senator Betti Sheldon, the Senate recessed until 11:00 a.m.

NOTE: Numbers in the first horizontal row of each seriousness category represent sentencing midpoints in years(y) and months(m). Numbers in the second and third rows represent presumptive sentencing ranges in months, or in days if so designated. 12+ equals one year and one day.

(2) For persons convicted of the anticipatory offenses of criminal attempt, solicitation, or conspiracy under chapter 9A.28 RCW, the presumptive sentence is determined by locating the sentencing grid sentence range defined by the appropriate offender score and the seriousness level of the completed crime, and multiplying the range by 75 percent.

(3) The following additional times shall be added to the presumptive sentence for felony crimes committed after July 23, 1995, if the offender or an accomplice was armed with a firearm as defined in RCW 9.41.010 and the offender is being sentenced for one of the crimes listed in this subsection as eligible for any firearm enhancements based on the classification of the completed felony crime. If the offender is being sentenced for more than one offense, the firearm enhancement or enhancements must be added to the total period of confinement for all offenses, regardless of which underlying offense is subject to a firearm enhancement. If the offender or an accomplice was armed with a firearm as defined in RCW 9.41.010 and the offender is being sentenced for an anticipatory offense under chapter 9A.28 RCW to commit one of the crimes listed in this subsection as eligible for any firearm enhancements, the following additional times shall be added to the presumptive sentence determined under subsection (2) of this section based on the felony crime of conviction as classified under RCW 9A.28.020:

(a) Five years for any felony defined under any law as a class A felony or with a maximum sentence of at least twenty years, or both, and not covered under (f) of this subsection.

(b) Three years for any felony defined under any law as a class B felony or with a maximum sentence of ten years, or both, and not covered under (f) of this subsection.

(c) Eighteen months for any felony defined under any law as a class C felony or with a maximum sentence of five years, or both, and not covered under (f) of this subsection.

(d) If the offender is being sentenced for any firearm enhancements under (a), (b), and/or (c) of this subsection and the offender has previously been sentenced for any deadly weapon enhancements after July 23, 1995, under (a), (b), and/or (c) of this subsection or subsection (4)(a), (b), and/or (c) of this section, or both, any and all firearm enhancements under this subsection shall be twice the amount of the enhancement listed.

(e) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any and all firearm enhancements under this section are mandatory, shall be served in total confinement, and shall run consecutively to all other sentencing provisions, including other firearm or deadly weapon enhancements, for all offenses sentenced under this chapter. However, whether or not a mandatory minimum term has expired, an offender serving a sentence under this subsection may be granted an extraordinary medical placement when authorized under RCW 9.94A.150(4).

(f) The firearm enhancements in this section shall apply to all felony crimes except the following: Possession of a machine gun, possessing a stolen firearm, drive-by shooting, theft of a firearm, unlawful possession of a firearm in the first and second degree, and use of a machine gun in a felony.

(g) If the presumptive sentence under this section exceeds the statutory maximum for the offense, the statutory maximum sentence shall be the presumptive sentence unless the offender is a persistent offender as defined in RCW 9.94A.030. If the addition of a firearm enhancement increases the sentence so that it would exceed the statutory maximum for the offense, the portion of the sentence representing the enhancement may not be reduced.

(4) The following additional times shall be added to the presumptive sentence for felony crimes committed after July 23, 1995, if the offender or an accomplice was armed with a deadly weapon as defined in this chapter other than a firearm as defined in RCW 9.41.010 and the offender is being sentenced for one of the crimes listed in this subsection as eligible for any deadly weapon enhancements based on the classification of the completed felony crime. If the offender is being sentenced for more than one offense, the deadly weapon enhancement or enhancements must be added to the total period of confinement for all offenses, regardless of which underlying offense is subject to a deadly weapon enhancement. If the offender or an accomplice was armed with a deadly weapon other than a firearm as defined in RCW 9.41.010 and the offender is being sentenced for an anticipatory offense under chapter 9A.28 RCW to commit one of the crimes listed in this subsection as eligible for any deadly weapon enhancements, the following additional times shall be added to the presumptive sentence determined under subsection (2) of this section based on the felony crime of conviction as classified under RCW 9A.28.020:

(a) Two years for any felony defined under any law as a class A felony or with a maximum sentence of at least twenty years, or both, and not covered under (f) of this subsection.

(b) One year for any felony defined under any law as a class B felony or with a maximum sentence of ten years, or both, and not covered under (f) of this subsection.

(c) Six months for any felony defined under any law as a class C felony or with a maximum sentence of five years, or both, and not covered under (f) of this subsection.

(d) If the offender is being sentenced under (a), (b), and/or (c) of this subsection for any deadly weapon enhancements and the offender has previously been sentenced for any deadly weapon enhancements after July 23, 1995, under (a), (b), and/or (c) of this subsection or subsection (3)(a), (b), and/or (c) of this section, or both, any and all deadly weapon enhancements under this subsection shall be twice the amount of the enhancement listed.

(e) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any and all deadly weapon enhancements under this section are mandatory, shall be served in total confinement, and shall run consecutively to all other sentencing provisions, including other firearm or deadly weapon enhancements, for all offenses sentenced under this chapter. However, whether or not a mandatory minimum term has expired, an offender serving a sentence under this subsection may be granted an extraordinary medical placement when authorized under RCW 9.94A.150(4).

(f) The deadly weapon enhancements in this section shall apply to all felony crimes except the following: Possession of a machine gun, possessing a stolen firearm, drive-by shooting, theft of a firearm, unlawful possession of a firearm in the first and second degree, and use of a machine gun in a felony.

(g) If the presumptive sentence under this section exceeds the statutory maximum for the offense, the statutory maximum sentence shall be the presumptive sentence unless the offender is a persistent offender as defined in RCW 9.94A.030. If the addition of a deadly weapon enhancement increases the sentence so that it would exceed the statutory maximum for the offense, the portion of the sentence representing the enhancement may not be reduced.

(5) The following additional times shall be added to the presumptive sentence if the offender or an accomplice committed the offense while in a county jail or state correctional facility as that term is defined in this chapter and the offender is being sentenced for one of the crimes listed in this subsection. If the offender or an accomplice committed one of the crimes listed in this subsection while in a county jail or state correctional facility as that term is defined in this chapter, and the offender is being sentenced for an anticipatory offense under chapter 9A.28 RCW to commit one of the crimes listed in this subsection, the following additional times shall be added to the presumptive sentence determined under subsection (2) of this section:

(a) Eighteen months for offenses committed under RCW 69.50.401(a)(1) (i) or (ii) or 69.50.410;

(b) Fifteen months for offenses committed under RCW 69.50.401(a)(1) (iii), (iv), and (v);

(c) Twelve months for offenses committed under RCW 69.50.401(d).

For the purposes of this subsection, all of the real property of a state correctional facility or county jail shall be deemed to be part of that facility or county jail.

(6) An additional twenty-four months shall be added to the presumptive sentence for any ranked offense involving a violation of chapter 69.50 RCW if the offense was also a violation of RCW 69.50.435 or section 1 of this act.

(7) An additional two years shall be added to the presumptive sentence for vehicular homicide committed while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug as defined by RCW 46.61.502 for each prior offense as defined in RCW 46.61.5055.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Johnson: "Senator Heavey, would you mind describing those technical changes, because we just got the striker on our desks a few minutes ago?"

Senator Heavey: "Well, as I understand it, we pass statutes that affect the underlying statutes, so the new bill had to incorporate the changes that had happened in 1999. That is all it does. It doesn’t change the substance of the underlying bill."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the striking amendment by Senators Heavey and McCaslin to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5049.

The motion by Senator Heavey carried and the striking amendment was adopted.

On motion of Senator Heavey, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5074 was returned to second reading and read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Heavey, the following striking amendment by Senators Heavy and McCaslin was adopted:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(1) "Authorized depository" means a mailbox, post office box, or rural box used by postal customers to deposit outgoing mail or used by the postal service to deliver incoming mail.

(2) "Letter box" means a receptacle that is used for a specific address intended or used for the receipt or delivery of mail on a mail route.

(3)(a) "Mail" means a letter, card, parcel, or other material that:
   (i) Is sent or delivered by means of the postal service;
   (ii) Has postage affixed by the postal customer or postal service; and
   (iii) Is placed in an authorized depository or mail receptacle.
   (b) "Mail" includes articles contained in mail.

(4) "Mail receptacle" means a place used by the postal service or postal customers to place outgoing mail or receive incoming mail.

(5) "Postage" means a postal service stamp, permit imprint, meter strip, or other authorized indication of prepayment for service provided by the postal service for collection and delivery of mail.

(6) "Postal service" means the United States postal service."
(7) The phrase "of another" does not include persons with whom the defendant has a familial, parental, spousal, or other relationship that would otherwise reasonably allow the defendant to take, dispose of, or otherwise intercept the person's mail.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. (1) A person commits the crime of obstruction of mails if the person intentionally obstructs or unreasonably delays:

(a) The passage of the mail; or
(b) A carrier or conveyance carrying the mail.

(2) Obstruction of mails is a gross misdemeanor.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. (1) A person commits the crime of destruction of letter boxes if the person knowingly and maliciously:

(a) Tears down or destroys a letter box belonging to another; or
(b) Breaks open a letter box belonging to another.

(2) Destruction of letter boxes is a gross misdemeanor.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. (1) A person commits the crime of destruction of mail if the person knowingly and maliciously injures, destroys, or defaces mail of another that has been deposited in an authorized depository.

(a) Takes or, by fraud or deception, obtains mail of another from a mail receptacle, authorized depository, or mail carrier;
(b) Secretes, embezzles, or destroys mail of another;
(c) Takes or, by fraud or deception, obtains mail of another that has been left for collection on or adjacent to an authorized depository or mail receptacle; or
(d) Buys, receives, conceals, or unlawfully possesses mail of another knowing that the mail was taken, obtained, or embezzled as described in this subsection.

(2) When a person has in his or her possession or control mail of another addressed to two or more different addresses, and the addresses are not the residence or business of the person, he or she is presumed to know that the mail is stolen. This presumption may be rebutted by evidence raising a reasonable inference that the possession of such stolen mail was without knowledge that the mail was stolen.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. (1) A person commits the crime of mail theft or receipt of stolen mail if the person knowingly:

(a) Takes or, by fraud or deception, obtains mail of another from a mail receptacle, authorized depository, or mail carrier;

(2) Mail theft or receipt of stolen mail in the first degree is a class B felony.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. (1) A person is guilty of mail theft or receipt of stolen mail in the first degree if he or she knowingly possesses stolen mail addressed to five or more different addresses.

(2) Mail theft or receipt of stolen mail in the second degree is a class C felony.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. (1) A person is guilty of mail theft or receipt of stolen mail in the second degree if he or she knowingly possesses stolen mail addressed to four or less different addresses.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. In a prosecution under this chapter, it is a defense that the defendant acted under an honest claim of right in that:

(1) The defendant was unaware that the property was that of another person;
(2) The defendant reasonably believed that the defendant was entitled to the property involved or had a right to acquire or dispose of it as the defendant did; or
(3) The property involved was that of the defendant's minor child or spouse, unless the parties were not living together as husband and wife and were residing in, and intended to continually reside in, separate abodes at the time of the alleged offense.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. Sections 1 through 8 of this act constitute a new chapter in Title 9A RCW.

Sec. 10. RCW 9.94A.320 and 1999 c 352 s 3, 1999 c 322 s 5, and 1999 c 45 s 4 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Benton: “Senator McAuliffe, as I read the bill report and the background, it says that the court must notify the youth’s parents under current law of any offenses that include violent offenses--sex offenses, inhaling toxic fumes, controlled substance and so on and so forth. Assault is included in that list, as well as harassment, arson and malicious mischief. My question is--violent offenses--would that not include most everything that we are talking about here, except for some of the things that the good Senator from the Thirteenth District has pointed out that would be simple hunting violations? My question is doesn’t existing law get at any violent type of acts that would be involved with guns anyway, because it does say violent offenses?”

Senator McAuliffe: “Senator, you asked a good question. Let me answer that my limited knowledge of law only makes me look at the fact that violent offenses as determined by the courts have been a part of history over time. So, if you look at the courts to see what they declare as violent offenses--guns--possession of a gun is not a violent offense. It has not on record been used as one, so I think there is a distinct difference. Possession of a gun does not mean that there was a violent offense involved. I will ask you, at this point, to recognize that we do need to know when a child in our schools has been convicted of possession. Thank you.”

(a) The invitation for bid or request for proposal contains measurable standards for the performance of the contract;
(b) Employees in the classified service whose positions or work would be displaced by the contract are provided an opportunity to offer alternatives to purchasing services by contract and, if these alternatives are not accepted, compete for the contract under competitive contracting procedures in subsection (4) of this section;

(d) The department, agency, or institution of higher education has established a contract monitoring process to measure contract performance, costs, service delivery quality, and other contract standards, and to cancel contracts that do not meet those standards; and
(e) The department, agency, or institution of higher education has demonstrated that the contract results in savings or efficiency improvements. The contracting agency must consider the consequences and potential mitigation of improper or failed performance by the contractor.

(2) Any provision contrary to or in conflict with this section in any collective bargaining agreement in effect on the effective date of this section is not effective beyond the expiration date of the agreement.

(3) Contracting for services that was authorized by law prior to the effective date of this section shall not be subject to the processes set forth in subsections (1) and (4) through (6) of this section.

prior to the convening of each one hundred five day regular session during which a comprehensive salary and fringe benefit survey is not conducted, the department shall plan and conduct a trend salary and fringe benefit survey. This survey shall measure average salary and fringe benefit movement for broad occupational groups which has occurred since the last comprehensive salary based on other factors rather than directly on prevailing rate data obtained through the survey process and which is categorized to indicate the sources of the requests for deviation from prevailing rates and the reasons for the changes; the department of personnel with those salary ranges which do not substantially conform to the prevailing rates developed from the salary and fringe benefit survey distinctly marked and an explanation of the reason for the deviation included; or other considerations requiring extra compensation under specific circumstances. Additional compensation for these circumstances shall not be included in the basic salary schedule but shall be maintained as a separate pay schedule for purposes of full disclosure and visibility; and

(5) A supplemental salary schedule which indicates those cases where the board determines that prevailing rates do not provide similar salaries for positions that require or impose similar responsibilities, judgment, knowledge, skills, and working conditions. This supplementary salary schedule shall contain proposed salary adjustments necessary to eliminate any such dissimilarities in compensation. Additional compensation needed to eliminate such salary dissimilarities shall not be included in the basic salary schedule but shall be maintained as a separate salary schedule for purposes of full disclosure and visibility.

(1) With respect to collective bargaining, the public employment relations commission created by chapter 41.58 RCW shall have authority to adopt rules, on and after the effective date of this section, relating to determination of appropriate bargaining units within any agency. In making such determination the commission shall consider the duties, skills, and working conditions of the employees, the history of collective bargaining by the employees and their bargaining representatives, the extent of organization among the employees, and the desires of the employees. The public employment relations commission created in chapter 41.58 RCW shall adopt rules and make determinations relating to the certification and decertification of exclusive bargaining representatives.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 234. A new section is added to chapter 41.06 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The personnel appeals board is hereby abolished and its powers, duties, and functions are hereby transferred to the Washington personnel resources board. All references to the executive secretary or the personnel appeals board in the Revised Code of Washington shall be construed to mean the director of the department of personnel or the Washington personnel resources board.

(2)(a) All reports, documents, surveys, books, records, files, papers, or written material in the possession of the personnel appeals board shall be delivered to the custody of the department of personnel. All cabinets, furniture, office equipment, motor vehicles, and other tangible property employed by the personnel appeals board shall be made available to the department of personnel. All funds, credits, leases, or other assets held by the personnel appeals board shall be assigned to the department of personnel.

(b) Any appropriations made to the personnel appeals board shall, on the effective date of this section, be transferred and credited to the department of personnel.
(c) If any question arises as to the transfer of any personnel, funds, books, documents, records, papers, files, equipment, or other tangible property used or held in the exercise of the powers and the performance of the duties and functions transferred, the director of financial management shall make a determination as to the proper allocation and certify the same to the state agencies concerned.

(3) All employees of the personnel appeals board are transferred to the jurisdiction of the department of personnel. All employees classified under chapter 41.06 RCW, the state civil service law, are assigned to the department of personnel to perform their usual duties upon the same terms as formerly, without any loss of rights, subject to any action that may be appropriate thereafter in accordance with the laws and rules governing state civil service.

(4) All rules and all pending business before the personnel appeals board shall be continued and acted upon by the Washington personnel resources board. All existing contracts and obligations shall remain in full force and shall be performed by the department of personnel.

(5) The transfer of the powers, duties, functions, and personnel of the personnel appeals board shall not affect the validity of any act performed before the effective date of this section.

(6) If apportionments of budgeted funds are required because of the transfers directed by this section, the director of financial management shall certify the apportionments to the agencies affected, the state auditor, and the state treasurer. Each of these shall make the appropriate transfer and adjustments in funds and appropriation accounts and equipment records in accordance with the certification.

Sec. 235. RCW 13.40.320 and 1997 c 338 s 38 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The department of social and health services shall establish and operate a medium security juvenile offender basic training camp program. The department shall site a juvenile offender basic training camp facility in the most cost-effective facility possible and shall review the possibility of using an existing abandoned and/or available state, federally, or military-owned site or facility.

(2) The department may contract under this chapter with private companies, the national guard, or other federal, state, or local agencies to operate the juvenile offender basic training camp. The department shall site and operate an initial juvenile offender basic training camp within the state of Washington. The beds shall count as additions to, and not be used as replacements for, existing bed capacity at existing department of social and health services juvenile facilities.

(4) The juvenile offender basic training camp shall be a structured and regimented model lasting one hundred twenty days emphasizing the building up of an offender's self-esteem, confidence, and discipline. The juvenile offender basic training camp program shall provide participants with basic education, prevocational training, work-based learning, live work, work ethic skills, conflict resolution counseling, substance abuse intervention, anger management counseling, and structured intensive physical training. The juvenile offender basic training camp program shall have a curriculum training and work schedule that incorporates a balanced assignment of these or other rehabilitation and training components for no less than sixteen hours per day, six days a week.

The department shall adopt rules for the safe and effective operation of the juvenile offender basic training camp program, standards for an offender's successful program completion, and rules for the continued after-care supervision of offenders who have successfully completed the program.

(5) Offenders eligible for the juvenile offender basic training camp option shall be those with a disposition of not more than sixty-five weeks. Violent and sex offenders shall not be eligible for the juvenile offender basic training camp program.

(6) If the court determines that the offender is eligible for the juvenile offender basic training camp option, the court may recommend that the department place the offender in the program. The department shall evaluate the offender and may place the offender in the program. The evaluation shall include, at a minimum, a risk assessment developed by the department and designed to determine the offender's suitability for the program. No juvenile who is assessed as a high risk offender or suffers from any mental or physical problems that could endanger his or her health or drastically affect his or her performance in the program shall be admitted to or retained in the juvenile offender basic training camp program.

(7) All juvenile offenders eligible for the juvenile offender basic training camp sentencing option shall spend one hundred twenty days of their disposition in a juvenile offender basic training camp. If the juvenile offender's activities while in the juvenile offender basic training camp are so disruptive to the juvenile offender basic training camp program, as determined by the secretary according to rules adopted by the department, as to result in the removal of the juvenile offender from the juvenile offender basic training camp program, or if the offender cannot complete the juvenile offender basic training camp program due to medical problems, the secretary shall require that the offender be committed to a juvenile institution to serve the entire remainder of his or her disposition, less the amount of time already served in the juvenile offender basic training camp program.

The legislature finds that (1) demographic, economic, and social trends underlie a critical and increasing demand for child care in the state of Washington; (2) working parents and their children benefit when the employees' child care needs have been resolved; (3) the state of Washington should serve as a model employer by creating a supportive atmosphere, to the extent feasible, in which its employees may meet their child care needs; and (4) the state of Washington should encourage the development of partnerships between state agencies, state employees, state employee labor organizations, and private employers to expand the availability of affordable quality child care.

The legislature finds further that resolving employee child care concerns not only benefits the employees and their children, but may benefit the employer by reducing absenteeism, increasing employee productivity, improving morale, and enhancing the employer's position in recruiting and retaining employees. Therefore, the legislature declares that it is the policy of the state of Washington to assist state employees by creating a supportive atmosphere in which they may meet their child care needs. Policies and procedures for state agencies to address employee child care needs will be the responsibility of the director of personnel in consultation with the child care coordinating committee, as provided in RCW 74.13.090, and state employee representatives ((as provided under RCW 41.06.140)).
Sec. 238. RCW 47.46.040 and 1995 2nd sp.s. c 19 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) All projects designed, constructed, and operated under this authority must comply with all applicable rules and statutes in existence at the time the agreement is executed, including but not limited to the following provisions: Chapter 39.12 RCW, this title, (RCW 41.06.380) section 208 of this act, chapter 47.64 RCW, RCW 49.60.180, and 49 C.F.R. Part 21.

(2) The secretary or a designee shall consult with legal, financial, and other experts within and outside state government in the negotiation and development of the agreements.

(3) Agreements shall provide for private ownership of the projects during the construction period. After completion and final acceptance of each project or discrete segment thereof, the agreement shall provide for state ownership of the transportation systems and facilities and lease to the private entity unless the state elects to provide for ownership of the facility by the private entity during the term of the agreement.

The state shall lease each of the demonstration projects, or applicable project segments, to the private entities for operating purposes for up to fifty years.

(4) The department may exercise any power possessed by it to facilitate the development, construction, financing, operation, and maintenance of transportation projects under this chapter. Agreements for maintenance services entered into under this section shall provide for full reimbursement for services rendered by the department or other state agencies. Agreements for police services for projects, involving state highway routes, developed under agreements shall be entered into with the Washington state patrol. The agreement for police services shall provide that the state patrol will be reimbursed for costs on a comparable basis with the costs incurred for comparable service on other state highway routes. The department may provide services for which it is reimbursed, including but not limited to preliminary planning, environmental certification, and preliminary design of the demonstration projects.

(5) The plans and specifications for each project constructed under this section shall comply with the department's standards for state projects. A facility constructed by and leased to a private entity is deemed to be a part of the state highway system for purposes of identification, maintenance, and enforcement of traffic laws and for the purposes of applicable sections of this title. Upon reversion of the facility to the state, the project must meet all applicable state standards. Agreements shall address responsibility for reconstruction or renovations that are required in order for a facility to meet all applicable state standards upon reversion of the facility to the state.

(6) For the purpose of facilitating these projects and to assist the private entity in the financing, development, construction, and operation of the transportation systems and facilities, the agreements may include provisions for the department to exercise its authority, including the lease of facilities, rights of way, and airspace, exercise of the power of eminent domain, granting of development rights and opportunities, granting of necessary easements and rights of access, issuance of permits and other authorizations, protection from competition, remedies in the event of default of either of the parties, granting of contractual and real property rights, liability during construction and the term of the lease, authority to negotiate acquisition of rights of way in excess of appraised value, and any other provision deemed necessary by the secretary.

(7) The agreements entered into under this section may include provisions authorizing the state to grant necessary easements and lease to a private entity existing rights of way or rights of way subsequently acquired with public or private financing. The agreements may also include provisions to lease to the entity airspace above or below the right of way associated or to be associated with the private entity's transportation facility. In consideration for the reversion rights in these privately constructed facilities, the department may negotiate a charge for the lease of airspace rights during the term of the agreement for a period not to exceed fifty years. If, after the expiration of this period, the department continues to lease these airspace rights to the private entity, it shall do so only at fair market value. The agreement may also provide the private entity the right of first refusal to undertake projects utilizing airspace owned by the state in the vicinity of the public-private project.

(8) Agreements under this section may include any contractual provision that is necessary to protect the project revenues required to repay the costs incurred to study, plan, design, finance, acquire, build, install, operate, enforce laws, and maintain toll highways, bridges, and tunnels and which will not unreasonably inhibit or prohibit the development of additional public transportation systems and facilities. Agreements under this section must secure and maintain liability insurance coverage in amounts appropriate to protect the project's viability and may address state indemnification of the private entity for design and construction liability where the state has approved relevant design and construction plans.

(9) Agreements shall include a process that provides for public involvement in decision making with respect to the development of the projects.

(10) (a) In carrying out the public involvement process required in subsection (9) of this section, the private entity shall proactively seek public participation through a process appropriate to the characteristics of the project that assesses and demonstrates public support among: Users of the project, residents of communities in the vicinity of the project, and residents of communities impacted by the project.
(b) The private entity shall conduct a comprehensive public involvement process that provides, periodically throughout the development and implementation of the project, users and residents of communities in the affected project area an opportunity to comment upon key issues regarding the project including, but not limited to: (i) Alternative sizes and scopes; (ii) design; (iii) environmental assessment; (iv) right of way and access plans; (v) traffic impacts; (vi) tolling or user fee strategies and tolling or user fee ranges; (vii) project cost; (viii) construction impacts; (ix) facility operation; and (x) any other salient characteristics.

(c) If the affected project area has not been defined, the private entity shall define the affected project area by conducting, at a minimum: (i) A comparison of the estimated percentage of residents of communities in the vicinity of the project and in other communities impacted by the project who could be subject to tolls or user fees and the estimated percentage of other users and transient traffic that could be subject to tolls or user fees; (ii) an analysis of the anticipated traffic diversion patterns; (iii) an analysis of the potential economic impact resulting from proposed toll rates or user fee rates imposed on residents, commercial traffic, and commercial entities in communities in the vicinity of and impacted by the project; (iv) an analysis of the economic impact of tolls or user fees on the price of goods and services generally; and (v) an analysis of the relationship of the project to state transportation needs and benefits.

The agreement may require an advisory vote by users of and residents in the affected project area.

(d) In seeking public participation, the private entity shall establish a local involvement committee or committees comprised of residents of the affected project area, individuals who represent cities and counties in the affected project area, organizations formed to support or oppose the project, if such organizations exist, and users of the project. The private entity shall, at a minimum, establish a committee as required under the specifications of RCW 47.46.030(((6))) (6)(b) (ii) and (iii) and appointments to such committee shall be made no later than thirty days after the project area is defined.

(e) Local involvement committees shall act in an advisory capacity to the department and the private entity on all issues related to the development and implementation of the public involvement process established under this section.

(f) The department and the private entity shall provide the legislative transportation committee and local involvement committees with progress reports on the status of the public involvement process including the results of an advisory vote, if any occurs.

(11) Nothing in this chapter limits the right of the secretary and his or her agents to render such advice and to make such recommendations as they deem to be in the best interests of the state and the public.

Sec. 239. RCW 72.09.100 and 1995 1st sp.s. c 19 s 33 are each amended to read as follows:

It is the intent of the legislature to vest in the department the power to provide for a comprehensive inmate work program and to remove statutory and other restrictions which have limited work programs in the past. For purposes of establishing such a comprehensive program, the legislature recommends that the department consider adopting any or all, or any variation of, the following classes of work programs:

1. CLASS I: FREE VENTURE INDUSTRIES. The employer model industries in this class shall be operated and managed in total or in part by any profit or nonprofit organization pursuant to an agreement between the organization and the department. The organization shall produce goods or services for sale to both the public and private sector.

The customer model industries in this class shall be operated and managed by the department to provide Washington state manufacturers or businesses with products or services currently produced or provided by out-of-state or foreign suppliers. The correctional industries board of directors shall review these proposed industries before the department contracts to provide such products or services. The review shall include an analysis of the potential impact of the proposed products and services on the Washington state business community and labor market.

The department of corrections shall supply appropriate security and custody services without charge to the participating firms.

Inmates who work in free venture industries shall do so at their own choice. They shall be paid a wage comparable to the wage paid for work of a similar nature in the locality in which the industry is located, as determined by the director of correctional industries. If the director cannot reasonably determine the comparable wage, then the pay shall not be less than the federal minimum wage.

An inmate who is employed in the class I program of correctional industries shall not be eligible for unemployment compensation benefits pursuant to any of the provisions of Title 50 RCW until released on parole or discharged.

2. CLASS II: TAX REDUCTION INDUSTRIES. Industries in this class shall be state-owned and operated enterprises designed to reduce the costs for goods and services for tax-supported agencies and for nonprofit organizations. The industries selected for development within this class shall, as much as possible, match the available pool of inmate work skills and aptitudes with the work opportunities in the free community. The industries shall be closely patterned after private sector industries but with the objective of reducing public support costs rather than making a profit. The products and services of this industry, including purchased products and services necessary for a complete product line, may be sold to public agencies, to nonprofit organizations, and to private contractors when the goods purchased will be ultimately used by a public agency or a nonprofit organization.
Clothing manufactured by an industry in this class may be donated to nonprofit organizations that provide clothing free of charge to low-income persons. Correctional industries products and services shall be reviewed by the correctional industries board of directors before offering such products and services for sale to private contractors. The board of directors shall conduct a yearly marketing review of the products and services offered under this subsection. Such review shall include an analysis of the potential impact of the proposed products and services on the Washington state business community. To avoid waste or spoilage and consequent loss to the state, when there is no public sector market for such goods, byproducts and surpluses of timber, agricultural, and animal husbandry enterprises may be sold to private persons, at private sale. Surplus byproducts and surpluses of timber, agricultural and animal husbandry enterprises that cannot be sold to public agencies or to private persons may be donated to nonprofit organizations. All sales of surplus products shall be carried out in accordance with rules prescribed by the secretary.

Security and custody services shall be provided without charge by the department of corrections.

Inmates working in this class of industries shall do so at their own choice and shall be paid for their work on a gratuity scale which shall not exceed the wage paid for work of a similar nature in the locality in which the industry is located and which is approved by the director of correctional industries.

Subject to approval of the correctional industries board, provisions of (RCW 41.06.380 prohibiting contracting out work performed by classified employees) section 208 of this act shall not apply to contracts with Washington state businesses entered into by the department of corrections through class II industries.

(3) CLASS III: INSTITUTIONAL SUPPORT INDUSTRIES. Industries in this class shall be operated by the department of corrections. They shall be designed and managed to accomplish the following objectives:

(a) Whenever possible, to provide basic work training and experience so that the inmate will be able to qualify for better work both within correctional industries and the free community. It is not intended that an inmate's work within this class of industries should be his or her final and total work experience as an inmate.

(b) Whenever possible, to provide forty hours of work or work training per week.

(c) Whenever possible, to offset tax and other public support costs.

Supervising, management, and custody staff shall be employees of the department.

All able and eligible inmates who are assigned work and who are not working in other classes of industries shall work in this class.

Except for inmates who work in work training programs, inmates in this class shall be paid for their work in accordance with an inmate gratuity scale. The scale shall be adopted by the secretary of corrections.

(4) CLASS IV: COMMUNITY WORK INDUSTRIES. Industries in this class shall be operated by the department of corrections. They shall be designed and managed to provide services in the inmate's resident community at a reduced cost. The services shall be provided to public agencies, to persons who are poor or infirm, or to nonprofit organizations.

Inmates in this program shall reside in facilities owned by, contracted for, or licensed by the department of corrections. A unit of local government shall provide work supervision services without charge to the state and shall pay the inmate's wage.

The department of corrections shall reimburse participating units of local government for liability and workers compensation insurance costs.

Inmates who work in this class of industries shall do so at their own choice and shall receive a gratuity which shall not exceed the wage paid for work of a similar nature in the locality in which the industry is located.

(5) CLASS V: COMMUNITY SERVICE PROGRAMS. Programs in this class shall be subject to supervision by the department of corrections. The purpose of this class of industries is to enable an inmate, placed on community supervision, to work off all or part of a community service order as ordered by the sentencing court.

Employment shall be in a community service program operated by the state, local units of government, or a nonprofit agency.

To the extent that funds are specifically made available for such purposes, the department of corrections shall reimburse nonprofit agencies for workers compensation insurance costs.

Sec. 240. RCW 41.06.079 and 1993 c 281 s 23 are each amended to read as follows:

In addition to the exemptions set forth in RCW 41.06.070, the provisions of this chapter shall not apply in the department of transportation to the secretary, a deputy secretary, an administrative assistant to the secretary, if any, one assistant secretary for each division designated pursuant to RCW 47.01.081, one confidential secretary for each of the above-named officers, up to six transportation district administrators and one confidential secretary for each district administrator, up to six additional new administrators or confidential secretaries designated by the secretary of the department of transportation and approved by the Washington personnel resources board pursuant to the provisions of RCW 41.06.070((4))); the legislative liaison for the department, the state construction engineer, the state aid engineer, the personnel manager, the state project development engineer, the state maintenance and operations engineer, one confidential secretary for each of the last-named five positions, and a confidential secretary for the public affairs administrator. The individuals appointed under this section shall be exempt from the provisions of the state civil service law, and shall be paid salaries to be fixed by the governor in accordance with the procedure established by law for the fixing of salaries for individuals exempt from the operation of the state civil service law.

Sec. 241. RCW 41.06.152 and 1999 c 309 s 914 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The board shall adopt only those job classification revisions, class studies, and salary adjustments under RCW 41.06.150(12) that:

(a) Are due to documented recruitment and retention difficulties, salary compression or inversion, increased duties and responsibilities, or inequities. For these purposes, inequities are defined as similar work assigned to different job classes with a salary disparity greater than 7.5 percent; and

(b) Are such that the office of financial management has reviewed the agency's fiscal impact statement and has concurred that the agency can absorb the biennialized cost of the reclassification, class study, or salary adjustment within the agency's current authorized level of funding for the current fiscal biennium and subsequent fiscal biennia.

(2) In addition to reclassifications, class studies, and salary adjustments under subsection (1)(a) of this section, the board may approve other reclassifications, class studies, and salary adjustments that meet the requirements of subsection (1)(a) of this section and have been approved under the procedures established under this subsection.

Before the department of personnel's biennial budget request is due to the office of financial management, the board shall prioritize requests for reclassifications, class studies, and salary adjustments for the next fiscal biennium. The board shall prioritize according to such criteria as are developed by the board consistent with RCW 41.06.150(12)(a).

The board shall submit the prioritized list to the governor's office and the fiscal committees of the house of representatives and senate at the same time the department of personnel's biennial budget request is submitted. The office of financial management shall review the biennial cost of each proposed salary adjustment on the board's prioritized list.

In the biennial appropriations acts, the legislature may establish a level of funding, from the state general fund and other accounts, to be applied by the board to the prioritized list. Upon enactment of the appropriations act, the board may approve reclassifications, class studies, and salary adjustments only to the extent that the total cost does not exceed the level of funding established in the appropriations acts and the board's actions are consistent with the priorities established in the list. The legislature may also specify or otherwise limit in the appropriations act the implementation dates for actions approved by the board under this section.

(3) When the board develops its priority list in the 1999-2001 biennium, for increases proposed for funding in the 2001-2003 biennium, the board shall give top priority to proposed increases to address documented recruitment and retention increases, and shall give lowest priority to proposed increases to recognize increased duties and responsibilities. When the board submits its prioritized list for the 2001-2003 biennium, the board shall also provide: A comparison of any differences between the salary increases recommended by the department of personnel staff and those adopted by the board; a review of any salary compression, inversion, or inequities that would result from implementing a recommended increase; and a complete description of the information relied upon by the board in adopting its proposals and priorities.

(4) This section does not apply to the higher education hospital special pay plan or to any adjustments to the classification plan under RCW 41.06.150(12) that are due to emergent conditions. Emergent conditions are defined as emergency conditions requiring the establishment of positions necessary for the preservation of the public health, safety, or general welfare.

Sec. 242. RCW 41.06.152 and 2000 c . . . s 241 (section 241 of this act) are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The (board) director shall adopt only those job classification revisions, class studies, and salary adjustments under RCW 41.06.150(4) that:

(a) Are due to documented recruitment and retention difficulties, salary compression or inversion, increased duties and responsibilities, or inequities. For these purposes, inequities are defined as similar work assigned to different job classes with a salary disparity greater than 7.5 percent; and

(b) Are such that the office of financial management has reviewed the agency's fiscal impact statement and has concurred that the agency can absorb the biennialized cost of the reclassification, class study, or salary adjustment within the agency's current authorized level of funding for the current fiscal biennium and subsequent fiscal biennia.

(2) In addition to reclassifications, class studies, and salary adjustments under subsection (1)(b) of this section, the board may approve other reclassifications, class studies, and salary adjustments that meet the requirements of subsection (1)(a) of this section and have been approved under the procedures established under this subsection.

Before the department of personnel's biennial budget request is due to the office of financial management, the board shall prioritize requests for reclassifications, class studies, and salary adjustments for the next fiscal biennium. The board shall prioritize according to such criteria as are developed by the board consistent with RCW 41.06.150(4)(a).

The board shall submit the prioritized list to the governor's office and the fiscal committees of the house of representatives and senate at the same time the department of personnel's biennial budget request is submitted. The office of financial management shall review the biennial cost of each proposed salary adjustment on the board's prioritized list.
In the biennial appropriations acts, the legislature may establish a level of funding, from the state general fund and other accounts, to be applied by the board to the prioritized list. Upon enactment of the appropriations act, the board may approve reclassifications, class studies, and salary adjustments only to the extent that the total cost does not exceed the level of funding established in the appropriations acts and the board's actions are consistent with the priorities established in the list. The legislature may also specify or otherwise limit in the appropriations act the implementation dates for actions approved by the board under this section.

(3) When the board develops its priority list in the 1999-2001 biennium, for increases proposed for funding in the 2001-2003 biennium, the board shall give top priority to proposed increases to address documented recruitment and retention increases, and shall give lowest priority to proposed increases to recognize increased duties and responsibilities. MESSAGE FROM HOUSING FINANCE COMMISSION

STATE OF WASHINGTON
HOUSING FINANCE COMMISSION
1000 Second Avenue, Suite 2700
Seattle, Washington 98104-1046

December 17, 1999

Dear Friends and Colleagues:

I am pleased to provide you with a copy of the Commission's 1999 Annual Report. The report highlights the Commission's role as a facilitator of the connections between people, resources and capabilities that enable us to meet the challenge of providing affordable housing. It also describes our programs that help meet these challenges and lists our achievements throughout the year.

The Commission faced a number of obstacles in 1999, including the soaring cost of housing, aging housing stock, and a scarcity of funding resources. However, through programs such as Home Choice, House Key Plus, our CRA Taxable Single-Family Bond Program, and our Nonprofit Program, we were able to overcome these obstacles and reach historically underserved markets in 1999 with more success than in any other year.

I hope you will find the enclosed report to be of interest. Please call me if you have any questions about the annual Report or if I can provide additional information.

Sincerely,

Kim Herman

MESSAGE FROM WASHINGTON STATE CONVENTION AND TRADE CENTER

CHAIRMAN'S LETTER

Governor Locke and Members of the Legislature:

The tower cranes are up at the State Convention Center! After six years of planning, studies, legislation, litigation and public debate, the actual construction of 105,000 square feet of new exhibit space began in 1999. As directed by the Legislature, this expansion program is a multi-layered, public/private building project. The public elements are the exhibit hall additions, a glass canopy over Pike Street, and a new escalator lobby with meeting space on several levels at the corner of 7th and Pike. The private elements are (1) a hotel facing Pine Street with garage and retail space developed by the R. C. Hedreen Co. above and below the northwest exhibit hall, (2) an office building and garage developed by the Trammell Crow Company located above and below the new entrance lobby, and (3) a downtown site for the Museum of History & Industry located under the northeast exhibit hall.

Combining private and public facilities produces savings for each by sharing the cost of land, foundations and common structural elements. In contrast to an exclusively public building which is exempt from taxation, the private portions of this condominium project will be a net addition to the public tax roles. The flip side of multi-party development is a complex task of coordination, but this challenge is being carefully managed by Chuck Hartung and the able Expansion Project staff.

When the steel and concrete take shape next year, an additional reason for the private elements will become apparent. The hotel, office tower and museum have been designed to help blend the huge new exhibit hall into the other buildings of downtown. In the same way, our south lobby and plaza have helped fit the original exhibit hall into neighboring Freeway Park.

The basic reasons for expanding the Convention Center are the same as those which caused the state to authorize the original facility. The new space will create additional jobs and business in the private economy and will generate additional net revenues for state and local governments.
We need to keep in mind that the state of Washington relies upon sales taxes to pay most of the costs of public services. In a sale tax state, national conventions become the taxpayer's best friend. When convention visitors come here, they spend money during their stay and pay sales and hotel taxes on these expenditures. National conventions have drawn tens of thousands of delegates to Seattle and the new expansion will draw tens of thousands more.

In 1999, 95% of all guests who stayed in Seattle's downtown hotels came from sister states and foreign countries. These short-term visitors do not put their children in our schools or burden our welfare rolls. The state taxes which they pay become in effect net income for the state and local governments which collect them. Last year's annual report showed how the arts and cultural organizations in King County also share significantly in this additional revenue.

The Convention and Visitors Bureau warns us that customer concerns about the impacts of construction could temporarily reduce our convention business, but John Christison and his staff are doing a superb job of booking local events to fill holes in our schedule and maintain revenues as far as possible. Operating expenses have been well controlled and 1999 net operating revenue exceeded the record years of 1997 and 1998. However, this increase was partly due to a statutory formula change in the allocation of hotel tax receipts between capital and operating funds. Our prior years' estimates of sales taxes on delegate spending have been revised and reduced to reflect more complete and accurate data.

The Convention Center deposits its operating revenue into a special state account and pays its operating expenses out of that account. During the early years, this account borrowed money at current interest rates from the state general fund to pay start-up costs and operating deficits while business was being developed. From a high of $33.2 million, the outstanding balance of these borrowings has gradually been reduced by payments out of growing revenues to a balance of $2.9 million as of December 31, 1999. Before the new facilities are opened, this borrowing will have been repaid in full with interest.

All major construction projects face challenges and the Expansion Project is no exception. The most serious hurdles have proved to be acquiring property and securing permits for this multi-block development. The jury verdict in the final condemnation trial turned out to be much greater than the state's appraisers had estimated and required significant additional state funding. With the active leadership of State Treasurer Mike Murphy, the 1999 Legislature voted overwhelmingly to authorize this necessary financing.

Connecting the old and new exhibit halls required partial vacations of city streets and alleys. After several public hearings, the City Council approved the requested vacations with conditions acceptable to the Convention Center. In May, construction bids were received within the architect's estimates and in August financing certificates were issued, with a better credit rating than any certificates previously offered by the state.

During the hassles and interruptions of construction activity, it is worth remembering that this portion of downtown Seattle was a depressed area until the public announcement of a convention center expansion triggered the current renaissance. We believe that the special care which has been taken by project architects and the city's Design Commission will fit the completed development into the fabric of its neighborhood and reinforce people-friendly activity in the heart of the city.

This year, Director Robert Flowers was promoted by his employer, Washington Mutual Bank, to a major responsibility in Southern California. Bob Flowers brought special experience and skill to the financing and housing issues faced by the Convention Center and will be sorely missed.

The Seattle Public Library has indicated its intention to use the space now being built for the Museum of History & Industry as a temporary location for the downtown library while the voter approved library is being constructed. When the new library is finished, MOHAI will move into its downtown home at 8th and Pike.

We look forward to a time when the current construction is completed and the Convention Center neighborhood can take its place in the bustling and upbeat life of one of America's most exciting cities.

Sincerely,

JAMES R. ELLIS
Chairman/Chief Executive Officer

Senator Benton: “Okay, thank you.”

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Deccio: "Senator Costa, if a bicyclist has to be treated the same as a pedestrian when they are crossing the road or a crosswalk, do they have to dismount or can they just swerve right off the path and on to the crosswalk?"

Senator Costa: "Senator, thank you for your question. We are clarifying that if that they are in a crosswalk, whether they are a pedestrian or a bicyclist, they must certainly take safety precautions into account. If they are in a crosswalk, then a motorist needs to stop for them. They are not required to dismount.

"Let me tell you what the Supreme Court said in their decision. They said, 'It is liken to if you would have three children walking across a crosswalk, actually one who is walking, one who is on roller skates and one who is on a bicycle--a motorist under the current law would have to stop for the first two, but would not have to stop for the one who is riding their bicycle through the crosswalk. We are clarifying that, if indeed they are in a crosswalk, motorists do have to stop for them. The bicyclists themselves have to yield for the pedestrians. If they happen to be on the roadway, they have to abide by the rules of the road."

Senator Deccio: "Thank you."

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature has recognized the need to develop a graduated licensing system in light of the disproportionately high incidence of motor vehicle crashes involving youthful motorists. This system will improve highway safety by progressively developing and improving the skills of younger drivers in the safest possible environment, thereby reducing the number of vehicle crashes.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 46.20 RCW to read as follows:

(1) An intermediate license authorizes the holder to drive a motor vehicle under the conditions specified in this section. An applicant for an intermediate license must be at least sixteen years of age and:

(a) Have possessed a valid instruction permit for a period of not less than six months;
(b) Have passed a driver licensing examination administered by the department;
(c) Have passed a course of driver’s education in accordance with the standards established in RCW 46.20.100;
(d) Present certification by his or her parent, guardian, or employer to the department stating (i) that the applicant has had at least fifty hours of driving experience, ten of which were at night, during which the driver was supervised by a person at least twenty-one years of age who has had a valid driver’s license for at least three years, and (ii) that the applicant has not been issued a notice of traffic infraction or cited for a traffic violation that is pending at the time of the application for the intermediate license;
(e) Not have been convicted of or found to have committed a traffic violation within the last six months before the application for the intermediate license; and
(f) Not have been adjudicated for an offense involving the use of alcohol or drugs during the period the applicant held an instruction permit.

(2) For the first six months after the issuance of an intermediate license or until the holder reaches eighteen years of age, whichever occurs first, the holder of the license may not operate a motor vehicle that is carrying any passengers under the age of twenty who are not members of the holder’s immediate family as defined in RCW 42.17.020. For the remaining period of the intermediate license, the holder may not operate a motor vehicle that is carrying more than three passengers who are under the age of twenty who are not members of the holder’s immediate family.
The holder of an intermediate license may not operate a motor vehicle between the hours of 12 a.m. and 5 a.m. except when:
(a) The holder is accompanied by a parent, guardian, or a licensed driver who is at least twenty-five years of age;
(b) The holder is driving between the holder's home and place of employment;
(c) The holder is driving between the holder's home and a school event for which no other transportation is available;
(d) The holder is driving for employment purposes; or
(e) The holder is not an employee of a farm, but is moving a vehicle from one farm to another, or to a farm employee.

It is a traffic infraction for the holder of an intermediate license to operate a motor vehicle in violation of the restrictions imposed under this section.

Enforcement of this section by law enforcement officers may be accomplished only as a secondary action when a driver of a motor vehicle has been detained for a suspected violation of this title or an equivalent local ordinance or some other offense.

An intermediate licensee may drive at any hour without restriction on the number of passengers in the vehicle if required due to an emergency.

An intermediate licensee may drive at any hour without restrictions on the number of passengers in the vehicle if required by family necessity as evidenced by a signed statement of a parent or guardian. The note must be dated and is effective for only one day.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 46.20 RCW to read as follows:
If a person issued an intermediate license is convicted of or found to have committed a traffic offense described in chapter 46.61 RCW or violated restrictions placed on an intermediate license under section 2 of this act:
(1) On the first such conviction or finding, the department shall mail the parent or guardian of the person a letter warning the person of the provisions of this section;
(2) On the second such conviction or finding, the department shall suspend the person's intermediate driver's license for a period of six months or until the person reaches eighteen years of age, whichever occurs first;
(3) On the third such conviction or finding, the department shall suspend the person's intermediate driver's license until the person reaches eighteen years of age.

For the purposes of this section, a single ticket for one or more traffic offenses constitutes a single traffic offense.

Sec. 4. RCW 46.20.091 and 1999 c 6 s 14 are each amended to read as follows:
(1) Application. In order to apply for a driver's license or instruction permit the applicant must provide his or her:

The identifying documentation verifying the name of record must be accompanied by the applicant's written statement that it is valid. The information provided on the form must be sworn to and signed by the applicant before a person authorized to administer oaths. An applicant who makes a false statement on an application for a driver's license or instruction permit is guilty of false swearing, a gross misdemeanor, under RCW 9A.72.040.

(3) Driving records from other jurisdictions. If a person previously licensed in another jurisdiction applies for a Washington driver's license, the department shall request a copy of the applicant's driver's record from the other jurisdiction. The driving record from the other jurisdiction becomes a part of the driver's record in this state.

(4) Driving records to other jurisdictions. If another jurisdiction requests a copy of a person's Washington driver's record, the department shall provide a copy of the record. The department shall forward the record without charge if the other jurisdiction extends the same privilege to the state of Washington. Otherwise the department shall charge a reasonable fee for transmittal of the record.
Sec. 5. RCW 46.20.105 and 1987 c 463 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

A driver's license issued to a person under the age of eighteen is a intermediate license, subject to the restrictions imposed under section 2 of this act, until the person reaches the age of eighteen. The license must include a distinguishing number assigned to the licensee, the name of record, date of birth, Washington residence address, photograph, a brief description of the licensee, and either a facsimile of the signature of the licensee or a space upon which the licensee shall write his or her usual signature with pen and ink immediately upon receipt of the license. No license is valid until it has been so signed by the licensee.

Sec. 7. RCW 46.20.311 and 1998 c 212 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

Except for a suspension under section 3 of this act, RCW 46.20.289, 46.20.291(5), or 74.20A.320, whenever the license or driving privilege of any person is suspended by reason of a conviction, a finding that a traffic infraction has been committed, pursuant to chapter 46.29 RCW, or pursuant to RCW 46.20.291 or 46.20.308, the suspension shall remain in effect until the person gives and thereafter maintains proof of financial responsibility for the future as provided in chapter 46.29 RCW. If the suspension is the result of a violation of RCW 46.61.502 or 46.61.504, the department shall determine the person's eligibility for licensing based upon the reports provided by the alcoholism agency or probation department designated under RCW 46.61.5056 and shall deny reinstatement until enrollment and participation in an approved program has been established and the person is otherwise qualified. Whenever the license or driving privilege of any person is suspended as a result of certification of noncompliance with a child support order under chapter 74.20A RCW or a residential or visitation order, the suspension shall remain in effect until the person provides a release issued by the department of social and health services stating that the person is in compliance with the order.
   (b)(i) The department shall not issue to the person a new, duplicate, or renewal license until the person pays a reissue fee of twenty dollars.
   (ii) If the suspension is the result of a violation of RCW 46.61.502 or 46.61.504, or is the result of administrative action under RCW 46.20.308, the reissue fee shall be one hundred fifty dollars.
(2)(a) Any person whose license or privilege to drive a motor vehicle on the public highways has been revoked, unless the revocation was for a cause which has been removed, is not entitled to have the license or privilege renewed or restored until:
(i) After the expiration of one year from the date the license or privilege to drive was revoked; (ii) after the expiration of the applicable revocation period provided by RCW 46.20.3101 or 46.61.5055; (iii) after the expiration of two years for persons convicted of vehicular homicide; or (iv) after the expiration of the applicable revocation period provided by RCW 46.20.265.
   (b)(i) After the expiration of the appropriate period, the person may make application for a new license as provided by law together with a reissue fee in the amount of twenty dollars.
   (ii) If the revocation is the result of a violation of RCW 46.20.308, 46.61.502, or 46.61.504, the reissue fee shall be one hundred fifty dollars. If the revocation is the result of a violation of RCW 46.61.502 or 46.61.504, the department shall determine the person's eligibility for licensing based upon the reports provided by the alcoholism agency or probation department designated under RCW 46.61.5056 and shall deny reissuance of a license, permit, or privilege to drive until enrollment and participation in an approved program has been established and the person is otherwise qualified.
   (c) Except for a revocation under RCW 46.20.265, the department shall not then issue a new license unless it is satisfied after investigation of the driving ability of the person that it will be safe to grant the privilege of driving a motor vehicle on the public highways, and until the person gives and thereafter maintains proof of financial responsibility for the future as provided in chapter 46.29 RCW. For a revocation under RCW 46.20.265, the department shall not issue a new license unless it is satisfied after investigation of the driving ability of the person that it will be safe to grant that person the privilege of driving a motor vehicle on the public highways.
Whenever the driver's license of any person is suspended pursuant to Article IV of the nonresident violators compact or RCW 46.23.020 or 46.20.289 or 46.20.291(5), the department shall not issue to the person any new or renewal license until the person pays a reissue fee of twenty dollars.

(b) If the suspension is the result of a violation of the laws of this or any other state, province, or other jurisdiction involving (i) the operation or physical control of a motor vehicle upon the public highways while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or drugs, or (ii) the refusal to submit to a chemical test of the driver's blood alcohol content, the reissue fee shall be one hundred fifty dollars.

There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of Senate Bill No. 6515 and the pending point of order by Senator Benton regarding the number of votes needed to pass the measure.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: “In ruling upon the point of order by Senator Benton concerning the number of votes necessary to pass Senate Bill No. 6515 in light of the passage of Initiative 695, the President finds that Initiative 695 requires that ‘any tax increase imposed by the state shall require a vote of the people.’ The President finds that Senate Bill No. 6515 is a measure which permits counties to assess a $120 filing fee for mandatory arbitration requests.

“Because the measure does not impose a tax, the President need not rule at this time whether the absence of a referendum clause on a measure which does impose a tax constitutes an amendment to Initiative 695 requiring a two-thirds vote under Article 2, Section 1 of the State Constitution.

“The President, therefore, rules that a simple majority is necessary to pass Senate Bill No. 6515.”

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Benton: “Thank you, Mr. President. I had also requested as a part of my point of order a ruling on 601 implications. Your ruling did not address the 601 question, only the 695 question.”

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: “Senator Benton, the President did not understand that that was a part of your inquiry. Since you make that inquiry, I am prepared to rule that since this measure does not raise state general revenues, it does not take a two-thirds vote under Initiative 601.”

MOTION

On motion of Senator Honeyford, Senator Winsley was excused.

Any resolution submitted to a district's voters to authorize subsidization of wholesale telecommunications services must include notice that wholesale telecommunications services are competitive ventures not subject to a guaranteed rate of return and that district ratepayers may be required to satisfy any financial obligations incurred by the district if not recovered through such wholesale telecommunications operations.”

On page 5, after line 25, insert the following:

“(4) A rural port district may not subsidize the construction, acquisition, or provision of wholesale telecommunications services with revenues from its other operations, with tax revenues, or with proceeds from bonds or other debts incurred for its other operations unless and until it has first received approval of a resolution submitted to the voters of the district authorizing such subsidization. POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Thibaudeau: "Senator Brown, some of us visited a small hospital in Newport, Washington, this fall and found that they could not have access to much of telemedicine because they could not afford the rates. Would this bill potentially cover that?"

Senator Brown: "Senator, thank you for your question. I can't guarantee you that this bill alone will make a difference, but I believe that in this area, this would provide for investments that aren't currently taking place, which could make the services available. I know that the issue of medical facilities having advanced telecommunication services in rural areas is a big issue and is part of the overall issue about making health care available in rural areas and I believe that this is a step in the right direction."

Senator Thibaudeau: "Thank you, Senator Brown."

Further debate ensued.

SENATE BILL NO. 6677, by Senators Brown and Finkbeiner (by request of Governor Locke)

Allowing new forms of regulation of telecommunications companies.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Brown, Senate Bill No. 6677 was not substituted.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Brown moved that the following striking amendment be adopted:
Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:
“Sec. 1. RCW 80.36.135 and 1995 c 110 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:
(1) The legislature declares that:
(a) Changes in technology and the structure of the telecommunications industry may produce conditions under which traditional rate of return, rate base regulation of telecommunications companies may not in all cases provide the most efficient and effective means of achieving the public policy goals of this state as declared in RCW 80.36.300, this section, and RCW 80.36.145. The commission should be authorized to employ an alternative form of regulation if that alternative is better suited to achieving those policy goals.”
Because of the great diversity in the scope and type of services provided by telecommunications companies, alternative regulatory arrangements that meet the varying circumstances of different companies and their ratepayers may be desirable.

Subject to the conditions set forth in this chapter and RCW 80.04.130, the commission may regulate telecommunications companies subject (before July 23, 1989,) to traditional rate of return, rate base regulation by authorizing an alternative form of regulation. The commission may determine the manner and extent of any alternative forms of regulation as may in the public interest be appropriate. In addition to the public policy goals declared in RCW 80.36.300, the commission shall consider, in determining the appropriateness of any proposed alternative form of regulation, whether it will:

(a) Reduce regulatory delay and costs;
(b) Encourage innovation in services;
(c) Promote efficiency;
(d) Facilitate the broad dissemination of technological improvements to all classes of ratepayers;
(e) Enhance the ability of telecommunications companies to respond to competition;
(f) Ensure that telecommunications companies do not have the opportunity to exercise substantial market power absent effective competition or effective regulatory constraints; and
(g) Provide fair, just, reasonable, sufficient, and not unduly discriminatory or preferential rates.

In addition to the public policy goals declared in RCW 80.36.300, the commission shall consider, in determining the appropriateness of any proposed alternative form of regulation, whether it will:

(a) Facilitate the broad deployment of technological improvements and advanced telecommunications services to underserved areas or underserved customer classes;
(b) Improve the efficiency of the regulatory process;
(c) Preserve or enhance the development of effective competition and protect against the exercise of market power during its development;
(d) Preserve or enhance service quality and protect against the degradation of the quality or availability of efficient telecommunications services;
(e) Provide for rates and charges that are fair, just, reasonable, sufficient, and not unduly discriminatory or preferential; and
(f) Not unduly or unreasonably prejudice or disadvantage any particular customer class.

A telecommunications company or companies subject to traditional rate of return, rate base regulation may petition the commission to establish an alternative form of regulation. The company or companies shall submit with the petition a plan for an alternative form of regulation. The commission shall review and modify or reject the proposed plan and the proposed duration of the plan. The plan must also contain a proposal for ensuring adequate carrier-to-carrier service quality, including service quality standards or performance measures for interconnection, and appropriate enforcement or remedial provisions in the event the company fails to meet service quality standards or performance measures. The commission also may initiate consideration of alternative forms of regulation for a company or companies on its own motion. The commission (may approve the plan or modified plan and authorize its implementation, if it finds, after notice and hearing, that the plan or modified plan:

(a) Is in the public interest;
(b) Is necessary to respond to such changes in technology and the structure of the intrastate telecommunications industry as are in fact occurring;
(c) Is better suited to achieving the policy goals set forth in RCW 80.36.300 and this section than the traditional rate of return, rate base regulation;
(d) Ensures that ratepayers will benefit from any efficiency gains and cost savings arising out of the regulatory change and will afford ratepayers the opportunity to benefit from improvements in productivity due to technological change;
(e) Will not result in a degradation of the quality or availability of efficient telecommunications services;
(f) Will produce fair, just, and reasonable rates for telecommunications services; and
(g) Will not unduly or unreasonably prejudice or disadvantage any particular customer class.), after notice and hearing, shall issue an order accepting, modifying, or rejecting the plan within six months after the petition or motion is filed, unless extended by the commission for good cause. The commission shall order implementation of the alternative plan of regulation unless it finds that, on balance, an alternative plan as proposed or modified fails to meet the considerations stated in subsection (2) of this section.

Not later than sixty days from the entry of the commission's order, the company or companies affected by the order may file with the commission an election not to proceed with the alternative form of regulation as authorized by the commission. (If a company elects to appeal to the courts the final order of the commission authorizing an alternative form of regulation, it shall not change its election to proceed or not proceed after the appeal is concluded. The pendency of a petition by a company for judicial review of the final order shall not serve to extend the sixty-day period.)

(5) The commission may waive such regulatory requirements under Title 80 RCW for a telecommunications company subject to an alternative form of regulation as may be appropriate to facilitate the implementation of this section((: PROVIDED, That the commission may not grant the authority to price list services except as provided in RCW 80.36.300 through 80.36.370, the regulatory flexibility act, nor may it waive any statutory requirements or grants of legal rights to any person contained in this chapter and chapter 80.04 RCW as amended, except as otherwise expressly provided)). However, the commission may not waive any grant of legal rights to any person contained in this chapter and chapter 80.04 RCW. The commission may waive different regulatory requirements for different companies or services if such different treatment is in the public interest.

(6) Upon petition by (any person, or upon its own motion) the company, and after notice and hearing, the commission may rescind (its approval of) or modify an alternative form of regulation (if, after notice and hearing, it finds that the conditions set forth in subsection (3) of this section can no longer be satisfied. The commission or any person may file a complaint alleging that the rates charged by a telecommunications company under an alternative form of regulation are unfair, unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or are otherwise not consistent with the requirements of chapter 101, Laws of 1989: PROVIDED, That the complainant shall bear the burden of proving the allegations in the complaint) in the manner requested by the company.

(7) This section does not limit the right of the commission or any person to file a complaint against a telecommunications company under the provisions of RCW 80.04.110 alleging a violation of the rates, terms, or conditions of an alternative form of regulation approved under this section. Notwithstanding the requirement of RCW 80.04.110(1), a complaint may be entertained by the commission as to the reasonableness of the schedule of the rates or charges of any telecommunications company subject to an alternative form of regulation approved under this section upon petition by any customer of the company. The complainant shall bear the burden of proving the allegation in any such complaint."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE
Senator Brown: "A point of personal privilege, Mr. President. I just want to say that this package of bills is clearly not all the way through the process, but I think the fact that we passed them through the Senate represents a very important step forward for our state. I would just like to briefly thank a few people who have been working very hard. First of all, there is an entire group of stakeholders out there who are nervously holding hands on each of these three bills. I want to thank them and encourage them to continue to work with us as we get them all the way through the process.

"Second, I would like to thank especially Dave Danner in the Governor's office and the staff of the Senate Energy, Technology and Telecommunications Committee who have been incredibly diligent in responding to everybody's concerns about the bill. Then, finally I would like to thank my colleagues across the aisle, in particular, Senators Finkbeiner, Hochstatter and Rossi who have been working with me as well.

"For Senator Hochstatter and I, this has probably been the most bills that we have ever agreed on in one short period of time since we have been in the Senate together. Meaning no disrespect to anybody, I have to say that sometimes it feels like the lyrics to a popular song, 'Clowns to the left of me, jokers to the right, here I am stuck in the middle with you.' For anybody considering Senator Hochstatter and I in the middle, that tells you what kind of a balancing act we are doing here. Thank you all very much."

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The intent of this act is to protect the health and safety of the citizens of the state of Washington and the quality of the state's environment by developing and implementing environmental and public safety measures applicable to persons transporting hazardous liquids and gas by pipeline within the state of Washington. The legislature finds that public safety and the environment may best be protected by adopting standards that are equal to, or more stringent than, those adopted by the federal government, so long as they do not impermissibly interfere with interstate commerce.

The legislature recognizes that additional federal authority is needed to implement a comprehensive pipeline safety program and by this act and other measures directs the state to seek that authority.
NEW SECTION, Sec. 2. The definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(1) “Dangerous release” means a release of hazardous liquid or gas that: (a) Poses a clear and immediate danger to life or health; (b) threatens a significant loss of property; or (c) threatens significant environmental damages.

(2) “Department” means the department of ecology.

(3) “Failsafe system” means a nonelectronic or mechanically based system that prevents a pipeline from exceeding its maximum operating pressure in the event of a failure of the primary or electronic system designed for this purpose.

(4) “Gas” has the meaning given to it in 49 C.F.R. Part 192.

(5) “Hazardous liquid” means: (a) Petroleum, petroleum products, or anhydrous ammonia as those terms are defined in 49 C.F.R. Part 195 in effect March 1, 1998; and (b) carbon dioxide. The department by rule may incorporate by reference other substances designated as hazardous by the secretary of transportation under 49 U.S.C. Sec. 60101(a)(4).

(6) “Local government” means a subdivision of the state or a city or town.

(7) “Person” means an individual, partnership, franchise holder, association, corporation, a state, a city, a county, or any subdivision or instrumentality of a state, and its employees, agents, or legal representatives.

(8) “Pipeline” or “pipeline system” means all parts of a pipeline facility through which a hazardous liquid or carbon dioxide moves in transportation, including, but not limited to, line pipe, valves, and other appurtenances connected to line pipe, pumping units, fabricated assemblies associated with pumping stations, metering and delivery stations and fabricated assemblies therein, and breakout tanks.

(9) “Pipeline company” means a person or entity constructing, owning, or operating a pipeline for transporting hazardous liquid or gas.

(10) “Process safety management systems” means management systems that include coordinated and interdisciplinary evaluations of the effect of significant changes to a pipeline system before such changes are implemented.

(11) “Release” means a spilling, leaking, pumping, pouring, emitting, emptying, discharging, injecting, leaching, dumping, disposing, flowing, or any other uncontrolled escape of a hazardous liquid or gas from a pipeline.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 3. (1) The department shall have charge for the state of the administration and enforcement of all laws related to hazardous liquid pipeline safety. To the extent not expressly prohibited by federal law, the department shall develop and implement a comprehensive program of pipeline safety.

(2) The department shall adopt rules for pipeline safety standards for hazardous liquid pipeline transportation that:

(a) Require pipeline companies to design, construct, and maintain their pipeline facilities so they are safe and efficient;

(b) Require pipeline companies to rapidly locate and isolate all releases from hazardous liquid pipelines, including:

(i) Installation of remote control shut-off valves at a distance of no less than four to ten miles in urban areas and twenty to sixty miles in rural areas, depending on the type and density of development, the presence of environmentally sensitive areas, and the application of appropriate engineering standards. The installation of remote valves shall include design features and safety procedures to minimize risks associated with valve malfunctions;

(ii) Installation of remotely monitored pressure gauges and meters at each pump station and remote valve location; and

(iii) Emergency response procedures, combined with training, for shutting down pumps, locating leaks and spills, and shutting appropriate valves as rapidly as possible;

(c) Require the training and certification of personnel who operate hazardous liquid pipelines and the associated systems; and

(d) Require hazardous liquid pipeline companies to submit operations safety plans once every five years and provide no less than annual plan updates that identify plan implementation progress, as well as any amendments to the plan made necessary by changes to the pipeline system or its operation.

(3) The department shall approve operations safety plans if they have been deemed fit for service. A plan shall be deemed fit for service when it provides for pipelines that are designed, developed, constructed, operated, and periodically modified to provide the highest practicable level of public safety. Pipeline operations safety plans shall include:

(a) A schedule of inspection and testing within the pipeline distribution system of:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. (1) The department and utilities and transportation commission shall require hazardous liquid and gas pipeline companies to provide accurate maps of their pipeline distribution networks to specifications developed by the department including depth information.

(2) The department and the utilities and transportation commission shall evaluate the accuracy of the maps and consolidate the maps into a state-wide geographic information system, and fill any gaps for which companies or local governments may have no information. The mapping system shall be used in conjunction with the one-number locator service as provided in chapter 19.122 RCW. The mapping system shall be compatible with the United States department of transportation national pipeline mapping program.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. A new section is added to chapter 43.110 RCW to read as follows:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. A new section is added to chapter 19.122 RCW to read as follows:

The utilities and transportation commission shall establish by December 31, 2000, a single state-wide toll-free telephone number to be used for referring excavators to the appropriate one-number locator service. The utilities and transportation commission, in consultation with the Washington utilities coordinating council, shall establish minimum standards and best management practices for the one-number locator service consistent with the recommendations of the governor's fuel accident prevention and response team issued in December 1999.

Sec. 13. RCW 19.122.030 and 1988 c 99 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Before commencing any excavation, the excavator shall provide notice of the scheduled commencement of excavation to all owners of underground facilities through a one-number locator service.

(2) Whenever excavation work is to occur within twenty-five feet of a hazardous liquid or gas pipeline, the state-wide one-number locator service established under section 12 of this act shall be notified. In addition, if the excavation work is to occur within five feet of a hazardous liquid or gas pipeline, the pipeline company that owns or operates the pipeline shall be notified, and its representative shall be on-site, prior to the start of excavation.
(3) All owners of underground facilities within a one-number locator service area shall subscribe to the service. One number locator service rates for cable television companies will be based on the amount of their underground facilities. If no one-number locator service is available, notice shall be provided individually to those owners of underground facilities known to or suspected of having underground facilities within the area of proposed excavation. The notice shall be communicated to the owners of underground facilities not less than two business days or more than ten business days before the scheduled date for commencement of excavation, unless otherwise agreed by the parties. The notice shall also comply with the requirements of section 16 of this act.

(4) Upon receipt of the notice provided for in this section, the owner of the underground facility shall provide the excavator with reasonably accurate information as to its locatable underground facilities by surface-marking the location of the facilities. If there are identified but unlocatable underground facilities, the owner of such facilities shall provide the excavator with the best available information as to their locations. The owner of the underground facility providing the information shall respond no later than two business days after the receipt of the notice or before the excavation time, at the option of the owner, unless otherwise agreed by the parties. Excavators shall not excavate until all known facilities have been marked. Once marked by the owner of the underground facility, the excavator is responsible for maintaining the markings. Excavators shall have the right to receive compensation from the owner of the underground facility for costs incurred if the owner of the underground facility does not locate its facilities in accordance with this section.

(5) The owner of the underground facility shall have the right to receive compensation for costs incurred in responding to excavation notices given less than two business days prior to the excavation from the excavator.

(6) An owner of underground facilities is not required to indicate the presence of existing service laterals or appurtenances if the presence of existing service laterals or appurtenances on the site of the construction project can be determined from the presence of other visible facilities, such as buildings, manholes, or meter and junction boxes on or adjacent to the construction site.

(7) Emergency excavations are exempt from the time requirements for notification provided in this section.

(8) If the excavator, while performing the contract, discovers underground facilities which are not identified, the excavator shall cease excavating in the vicinity of the facility and immediately notify the owner or operator of such facilities, or the one-number locator service.

Sec. 14. RCW 19.122.050 and 1984 c 144 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

If the damage causes an emergency condition, the excavator causing the damage shall also immediately alert the appropriate local public safety agencies and take all appropriate steps to ensure the public safety. No damaged underground facility may be buried until it is repaired or relocated.

(2) The owner of the underground facilities damaged shall arrange for repairs or relocation as soon as is practical or may permit the excavator to do necessary repairs or relocation at a mutually acceptable price.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. A new section is added to chapter 48.48 RCW to read as follows:

(2) The chief of the Washington state patrol, through the director of fire protection or his or her deputy, shall develop curricula for training local first responders to deal with hazardous liquid and gas pipeline accidents. The curricula shall distinguish the differences and dangers between hazardous liquid and gas pipelines. The curricula shall be developed in conjunction with pipeline companies and local first responders, and shall include a timetable and costs for providing training as defined in the curricula to all communities housing pipelines. The need for a training program for regional incident management teams shall also be evaluated.

(3) In consultation with other relevant agencies, the chief of the Washington state patrol, through the director of fire protection or his or her deputy, shall identify the need and means for achieving consistent application of the national interagency incident management system.

(4) For the purposes of this section, "local first responders" means police, fire, emergency medical staff, and volunteers.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. (1) A pipeline company that has been notified by an excavator pursuant to RCW 19.122.050 that excavation work will occur within five feet of a hazardous liquid or gas pipeline shall ensure that the pipeline company's representative is on-site during the excavation within the five foot zone. The pipeline company has the discretion to require that the pipeline section in the vicinity of the excavation is fully uncovered and examined for damage prior to being reburied. If safety concerns exist, the pipeline company may elect, at the excavator's expense, to conduct the uncovering of the pipeline.

(2) Immediately upon receiving information of third-party damage to a pipeline owned or operated by a pipeline company, that company shall visually inspect the pipeline. After visual inspection, a pipeline company shall determine whether the pipeline section that has sustained third-party damage should be replaced or repaired, or whether it is safe to resume pipeline operation. A record of the company’s inspection report and test results shall be provided to the department within fourteen calendar days of the inspection.

(3) Pipeline companies shall immediately notify local first responders and the department of any dangerous release from a hazardous liquid pipeline, or the utilities and transportation commission of any dangerous release from a gas pipeline.

(2) Any person who fails to notify the one-number locator service of excavation work that is planned to occur within twenty-five feet of a hazardous liquid or gas pipeline is subject to a civil penalty of not more than five thousand dollars for each violation.

(3) Any person who fails to notify a pipeline company of excavation work that is planned to occur within five feet of a hazardous liquid or gas pipeline, or excavates within five feet of the pipeline without the pipeline company's representative on-site, is subject to a civil penalty of not more than ten thousand dollars for each violation.

(4) Any person who violates any provision of this chapter, and which violation results in damage to underground facilities, is subject to a civil penalty of not more than ((one)) ten thousand dollars for each violation.

(5) All civil penalties recovered under subsections (1) through (4) of this section shall be deposited in the general fund and expended for the purpose of enforcement of hazardous liquid and gas pipeline safety laws.

(6) Any excavator who willfully or maliciously damages a field-marked underground facility shall be liable for treble the costs incurred in repairing or relocating the facility. In those cases in which an excavator fails to notify known underground facility owners or the one-number locator service, any damage to the underground facility shall be deemed wilful and malicious and shall be subject to treble damages for costs incurred in repairing or relocating the facility.

(7) This chapter does not affect any civil remedies for personal injury or for property damage, including that to underground facilities, nor does this chapter create any new civil remedies for such damage.

Sec. 18. RCW 47.44.150 and 1989 c 196 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

In any action for damages against the state of Washington, its agents, contractors, or employees by reason of damages to a utility or other facility located on a state highway, the damages are limited to the cost of repair of the utility or facility and are recoverable only in those instances where the utility or facility is authorized to be located on the state highway. However, the state is subject to the penalties provided in RCW 19.122.070 (§ 4) and (§2) only if the state has failed to give a notice meeting the requirements of RCW 19.122.030 to utilities or facilities that are authorized to be located on the state highway.

(3) The dangerous release causes the death of, or bodily injury to, an individual.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. A pipeline containing petroleum or petroleum products that is wholly located on the owner's property, that is not adjoining marine waters, is exempt from the provisions of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. If any part of this act is found to be in conflict with federal requirements that are a prescribed condition to the allocation of federal funds to the state, the conflicting part of this act is inoperative solely to the extent of the conflict and with respect to the agencies directly affected, and this finding does not affect the operation of the remainder of this act in its application to the agencies concerned. Within fifteen days after the notice is received, the person incurring the penalty may apply in writing to the department, the administrator, or the authority for the remission or mitigation of the penalty. Upon receipt of the application, the department, the administrator, or authority may remit or mitigate the penalty upon whatever terms the department, the administrator, or the authority in its discretion deems proper. The department or the authority may ascertain the facts regarding all such applications in such reasonable manner and under such rules as it may deem proper and shall remit or mitigate the penalty only upon a demonstration of extraordinary circumstances such as the presence of information or factors not considered in setting the original penalty.

(2) Any penalty imposed under this section may be appealed to the pollution control hearings board in accordance with this chapter if the appeal is filed with the hearings board and served on the department, the administrator, or authority thirty days after receipt by the person penalized of the notice imposing the penalty or thirty days after receipt of the notice of disposition of the application for relief from penalty.

(3) A penalty shall become due and payable on the later of:
   (a) Thirty days after receipt of the notice imposing the penalty;
   (b) Thirty days after receipt of the notice of disposition on application for relief from penalty, if such an application is made; or
   (c) Thirty days after receipt of the notice of decision of the hearings board if the penalty is appealed.

(4) If the amount of any penalty is not paid to the department or the administrator within thirty days after it becomes due and payable, the attorney general, upon request of the department or the administrator, shall bring an action in the name of the state of Washington in the superior court of Thurston county, or of any county in which the violator does business, to recover the penalty. If the amount of the penalty is not paid to the authority within thirty days after it becomes due and payable, the authority may bring an action to recover the penalty in the superior court of the county of the authority's main office or of any county in which the violator does business. POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Horn: "Senator Rasmussen, I wonder if you could explain to me when we are getting a house constructed, the general contractor has to have a six thousand dollar bond, but now when we are getting this structure inspected for a termite inspection, you are requiring that they have a twenty-five thousand dollar bond and a fifty thousand insurance policy for errors and omission. Does that seem inconsistent with the six thousand versus the twenty-five versus fifty?"

Senator Rasmussen: "It would all depend on how much value you put on the structure and if they have a lot of pests in it, I would certainly want it to have a bond that would at least cover. It probably doesn't seem consistent, however this is what they agreed upon and this is part of their licensing that they agreed to."

Senator Horn: "Thank you very much."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 6252.

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. It is the intent of the legislature to enhance and facilitate the ability of the department of corrections to carry out its responsibility of planning and ensuring community protection with respect to persons subject to sentencing under chapter 9.94A RCW by authorizing access to, and release or disclosure of, necessary information related to mental health services. This includes accessing and releasing or disclosing information of persons who received mental health services as a minor. The legislature does not intend this act to readdress access to information and records regarding continuity of care.

The legislature recognizes that persons with mental illness have a right to the confidentiality of information related to mental health services, including the fact of their receiving such services, unless there is a state interest that supersedes this right. It is the intent of the legislature to balance that right of the individual with the state interest to enhance public safety.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 71.34 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The definitions in this subsection apply throughout this section unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(a) "Information related to mental health services" means all information and records compiled, obtained, or maintained in the course of providing services to either voluntary or involuntary recipients of services by a mental health service provider. This may include documents of legal proceedings under this chapter or chapter 71.05 or 10.77 RCW, or somatic health care information.
(b) "Mental health service provider" means a public or private agency that provides services to persons with mental disorders as defined under RCW 71.34.020 and receives funding from public sources. This includes evaluation and treatment facilities as defined in RCW 71.34.020, community mental health service delivery systems, or community mental health programs, as defined in RCW 71.24.025, and facilities conducting competency evaluations and restoration under chapter 10.77 RCW.

(2) Information related to mental health services delivered to a person subject to chapter 9.94A RCW shall be released, upon request, by a mental health service provider to department of corrections personnel for whom the information is necessary to carry out the responsibilities of their office. The information must be provided only for the purpose of completing presentence investigations, supervision of an incarcerated person, planning for and provision of supervision of a person, or assessment of a person's risk to the community. The request shall be in writing and shall not require the consent of the subject of the records.

(3) The information to be released to the department of corrections shall include all relevant records and reports, as defined by rule, necessary for the department of corrections to carry out its duties, including those records and reports identified in subsection (2) of this section.

(4) The department and the department of corrections, in consultation with regional support networks, mental health service providers as defined in subsection (1) of this section, mental health consumers, and advocates for persons with mental illness, shall adopt rules to implement the provisions of this section related to the type and scope of information to be released. These rules shall:

(a) Enhance and facilitate the ability of the department of corrections to carry out its responsibility of planning and ensuring community protection with respect to persons subject to sentencing under chapter 9.94A RCW, including accessing and releasing or disclosing information of persons who received mental health services as a minor; and

(b) Establish requirements for the notification of persons under the supervision of the department of corrections regarding the provisions of this section.

(5) The information received by the department of corrections under this section shall remain confidential and subject to the limitations on disclosure outlined in RCW 71.34.200, except as provided in section 4 of this act.

(6) No mental health service provider or individual employed by a mental health service provider shall be held responsible for information released to or used by the department of corrections under the provisions of this section or rules adopted under this section.

(7) Whenever federal law or federal regulations restrict the release of information contained in the treatment records of any patient who receives treatment for alcoholism or drug dependency, the release of the information may be restricted as necessary to comply with federal law and regulations.

(8) This section does not modify the terms and conditions of disclosure of information related to sexually transmitted diseases under chapter 70.24 RCW.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 71.05 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The definitions in this subsection apply throughout this section unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(a) "Information related to mental health services" means all information and records compiled, obtained, or maintained in the course of providing services to either voluntary or involuntary recipients of services by a mental health service provider. If a construction project receives state public funding, the product standards, as provided in RCW 43.19A.020, shall apply on the recycled content products used in the project.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 81.77 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The commission shall allow a solid waste collection company collecting recyclable materials from residential customers to retain up to thirty percent of the revenue paid to the company for the material if the company submits a plan to the commission that is certified by the appropriate local government authority as being consistent with the local government solid waste plan and that demonstrates how the revenues will be used to increase recycling. The remaining seventy percent of the revenue shall be passed to residential customers served by the company.

(2) By December 2, 2003, the commission shall provide a report to the legislature that evaluates:
   (a) The effectiveness of revenue sharing as an incentive to increase recycling in the state; and
   (b) The effect of revenue sharing on costs to customers.

Sec. 6. RCW 70.95.010 and 1989 c 431 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

The legislature finds:

(1) Continuing technological changes in methods of manufacture, packaging, and marketing of consumer products, together with the economic and population growth of this state, the rising affluence of its citizens, and its expanding industrial activity have created new and ever-mounting problems involving disposal of garbage, refuse, and solid waste materials resulting from domestic, agricultural, and industrial activities.

2. Traditional methods of disposing of solid wastes in this state are no longer adequate to meet the ever-increasing problem. Improper methods and practices of handling and disposal of solid wastes pollute our land, air and water resources, blight our countryside, adversely affect land values, and damage the overall quality of our environment.

3. Considerations of natural resource limitations, energy shortages, economics and the environment make necessary the development and implementation of solid waste recovery and/or recycling plans and programs.

4. Waste reduction must become a fundamental strategy of solid waste management. It is therefore necessary to change manufacturing and purchasing practices and waste generation behaviors to reduce the amount of waste that becomes a governmental responsibility.

5. Source separation of waste must become a fundamental strategy of solid waste management. Collection and handling strategies should have, as an ultimate goal, the source separation of all materials with resource value or environmental hazard.

6. (a) It is the responsibility of every person to minimize his or her production of wastes and to separate recyclable or hazardous materials from mixed waste.

   (b) It is the responsibility of state, county, and city governments to provide for a waste management infrastructure to fully implement waste reduction and source separation strategies and to process and dispose of remaining wastes in a manner that is environmentally safe and economically sound. It is further the responsibility of state, county, and city governments to monitor the cost-effectiveness and environmental safety of combusting separated waste, processing mixed waste, and recycling programs.

   (c) It is the responsibility of county and city governments to assume primary responsibility for solid waste management and to develop and implement aggressive and effective waste reduction and source separation strategies.

   (d) It is the responsibility of state government to ensure that local governments are providing adequate source reduction and separation opportunities and incentives to all, including persons in both rural and urban areas, and nonresidential waste generators such as commercial, industrial, and institutional entities, recognizing the need to provide flexibility to accommodate differing population densities, distances to and availability of recycling markets, and collection and disposal costs in each community; and to provide county and city governments with adequate technical resources to accomplish this responsibility.

7. Environmental and economic considerations in solving the state's solid waste management problems requires strong consideration by local governments of regional solutions and intergovernmental cooperation.

8. The following priorities for the collection, handling, and management of solid waste are necessary and should be followed in descending order as applicable:

   (a) Waste reduction;

   (b) Recycling, with source separation of recyclable materials as the preferred method;

   (c) Energy recovery, incineration, or landfill of separated waste;

   (d) Energy recovery, incineration, or landfilling of mixed wastes.

9. It is the state's goal to achieve a fifty percent recycling rate by (1995) 2005.

10. It is the state's goal that no residential or commercial yard debris be disposed of in landfills by 2010.

11. Steps should be taken to make recycling at least as affordable and convenient to the ratepayer as mixed waste disposal.

12. It is necessary to compile and maintain adequate data on the types and quantities of solid waste that are being generated and to monitor how the various types of solid waste are being managed.

13. Vehicle batteries should be recycled and the disposal of vehicle batteries into landfills or incinerators should be discontinued.

14. Excessive and nonrecyclable packaging of products should be avoided.

15. Comprehensive education should be conducted throughout the state so that people are informed of the need to reduce, source separate, and recycle solid waste.

16. All governmental entities in the state should set an example by implementing aggressive waste reduction and recycling programs at their workplaces and by purchasing products that are made from recycled materials and are recyclable.

17. To ensure the safe and efficient operations of solid waste disposal facilities, it is necessary for operators and regulators of landfills and incinerators to receive training and certification.

18. It is necessary to provide adequate funding to all levels of government so that successful waste reduction and recycling programs can be implemented.

19. The development of stable and expanding markets for recyclable materials is critical to the long-term success of the state's recycling goals. Market development must be encouraged on a state, regional, and national basis to maximize its effectiveness. The state shall assume primary responsibility for the development of a multifaceted market development program to carry out the purposes of this act.

(19) There is an imperative need to anticipate, plan for, and accomplish effective storage, control, recovery, and recycling of discarded tires and other problem wastes with the subsequent conservation of resources and energy.

Each county and city comprehensive solid waste management plan shall include the following:

1. A detailed inventory and description of all existing solid waste handling facilities including an inventory of any deficiencies in meeting current solid waste handling needs.

2. The estimated long-range needs for solid waste handling facilities projected twenty years into the future.

3. A program for the orderly development of solid waste handling facilities in a manner consistent with the plans for the entire county which shall:
   a. Meet the minimum functional standards for solid waste handling adopted by the department and all laws and regulations relating to air and water pollution, fire prevention, flood control, and protection of public health;
   b. Take into account the comprehensive land use plan of each jurisdiction;
   c. Contain a six year construction and capital acquisition program for solid waste handling facilities; and
   d. Contain a plan for financing both capital costs and operational expenditures of the proposed solid waste management system.

4. A program for surveillance and control.

5. A current inventory and description of solid waste collection needs and operations within each respective jurisdiction which shall include:
   a. Any franchise for solid waste collection granted by the utilities and transportation commission in the respective jurisdictions including the name of the holder of the franchise and the address of his or her place of business and the area covered by the franchise;
   b. Any city solid waste operation within the county and the boundaries of such operation;
   c. The population density of each area serviced by a city operation or by a franchised operation within the respective jurisdictions;

6. A comprehensive waste reduction and recycling element that, in accordance with the priorities established in RCW 70.95.010, provides programs that (a) reduce the amount of waste generated, (b) provide incentives and mechanisms for source separation, and (c) establish recycling opportunities for the source separated waste.

7. The waste reduction and recycling element shall include the following:
   a. Waste reduction strategies;
   b. Source separation strategies, including:
      i. Programs for the collection of source separated materials from residences in urban and rural areas. In urban areas, these programs shall include collection of source separated recyclable materials from single and multiple family residences, unless the department approves an alternative program, according to the criteria in the planning guidelines. Such criteria shall include: Anticipated recovery rates and levels of public participation, availability of environmentally sound disposal capacity, access to markets for recyclable materials, unreasonable cost impacts on the ratepayer over the six-year planning period, utilization of environmentally sound waste reduction and recycling technologies, and other factors as appropriate. In rural areas, these programs shall include but not be limited to drop-off boxes, buy-back centers, or a combination of both, at each solid waste transfer, processing, or disposal site, or at locations convenient to the residents of the county. The drop-off boxes and buy-back centers may be owned or operated by public, nonprofit, or private persons;
      ii. Programs to monitor the collection of source separated waste at nonresidential sites where there is sufficient density to sustain a program;
      iii. Programs to ((collect) manage yard ((waste, if the county or city submitting the plan finds that there are)) debris, including strategies to:
         A. Develop collection programs or alternative means for managing yard debris;
         B. Eliminate disposal of yard debris in landfills; and
(c) Encourage adequate markets or capacity for composted yard debris within or near the service area to consume the majority of the material collected; and

(iv) Programs to educate and promote the concepts of waste reduction and recycling;

(c) Recycling strategies, including a description of markets for recyclables, a review of waste generation trends, a description of waste composition, a discussion and description of existing programs and any additional programs needed to assist public and private sector recycling, and an implementation schedule for the designation of specific materials to be collected for recycling, and for the provision of recycling collection services; and

(8) County and city comprehensive solid waste management plans may provide for the establishment of residential collection rate structures that provide economic incentives for customers to reduce their level of solid waste collection service and encourage participation in waste reduction, recycling, and yard debris collection programs. All jurisdictions that are signatories to comprehensive solid waste management plans that adopt residential incentive rates shall adopt ordinances to implement rate structures that are consistent with the guidelines in the comprehensive plans. The utilities and transportation commission is authorized to issue rules to implement this section for solid waste collection companies regulated under Title 81 RCW.

(9) An assessment of the plan’s impact on the costs of solid waste collection. The assessment shall be prepared in conformance with guidelines established by the utilities and transportation commission. The commission shall cooperate with the Washington state association of counties and the association of Washington cities in establishing such guidelines.

Sec. 9. RCW 70.95.280 and 1989 c 431 s 13 are each amended to read as follows:

The department of ecology shall determine the best management practices for categories of solid waste in accordance with the priority solid waste management methods established in RCW 70.95.010. In order to make this determination, the department shall conduct a comprehensive solid waste stream analysis and evaluation. Following establishment of baseline data resulting from an initial in-depth analysis of the waste stream, the department shall develop a less intensive method of monitoring the disposed waste stream including, but not limited to, changes in the amount of waste generated and waste type. The department shall monitor curbside collection programs and other waste segregation and disposal technologies to determine, to the extent possible, the effectiveness of these programs in terms of cost and participation, their applicability to other locations, and their implications regarding rules adopted under this chapter. Persons who collect solid waste shall annually report to the department the types and quantities of solid waste that are collected and where it is delivered. The department shall adopt guidelines for reporting and for maintaining the confidentiality of proprietary information included in the report. By March 1st of each year, entities that collect recycled material shall report their activity from the previous calendar year on a form provided by the department. The department may impose a penalty of one hundred dollars on any entity that fails to submit the required report to the department. The department may impose an additional penalty of one hundred dollars for each day after March 1st that a firm fails to submit the required report. The total penalties for failure to report shall not exceed one thousand dollars. By May 1st of each year, the department may arrange for the publication in recycling and solid waste industry trade publications the names of those entities failing to file the required report. The department shall structure penalties and other sanctions so as to encourage compliance with the annual reporting requirement.

Sec. 10. RCW 70.95.290 and 1988 c 184 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The evaluation of the solid waste stream required in RCW 70.95.280 shall include the following elements:

(a) The department shall determine which management method for each category of solid waste will have the least environmental impact; and

(b) The department shall evaluate the costs of various management options for each category of solid waste, including a review of market availability, and shall take into consideration the economic impact on affected parties;

(c) Based on the results of (a) and (b) of this subsection, the department shall determine the best management for each category of solid waste. Different management methods for the same categories of waste may be developed for different parts of the state.

(2) The department shall give priority to evaluating categories of solid waste that, in relation to other categories of solid waste, comprise a large volume of the solid waste stream or present a high potential of harm to human health. At a minimum the following categories of waste shall be evaluated:

(a) By January 1, 1989, yard debris and other biodegradable materials, paper products, disposable diapers, and batteries;

(b) By January 1, 1990, metals, glass, plastics, styrofoam or rigid lightweight cellular polystyrene, and tires; and

(c) By January 1, 2004, construction, demolition, and land-clearing debris, biosolids, manure, and major food-processing wastes.
The department is prohibited from adopting rules that mandate best management practices for the categories of solid waste identified in subsection (2) of this section.

Sec. 11. RCW 70.95.810 and 1998 c 245 s 132 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) In order to establish the feasibility of composting food and yard ([wastes]) debris, the department shall provide funds, as available, to local governments submitting a proposal to compost such wastes.

(2) The department, in cooperation with the department of community, trade, and economic development, may approve an application if the project can demonstrate the essential parameters for successful composting, including, but not limited to, cost-effectiveness, handling and safety requirements, and current and potential markets."

Debate ensued.
The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the striking amendment by Senators Eide, Hargrove, Swecker Honeyford, Morton and Fraser to Substitute Senate Bill No. 6715.
The motion by Senator Eide carried and the striking amendment was adopted.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5469, by Senators Patterson, Haugen, Kline, Jacobsen, Gardner and Winsley

Revising certain competitive bid dollar amounts to account for inflation.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Patterson moved that the following striking amendment be adopted:
Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 35.22.620 and 1998 c 278 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) As used in this section, the term "public works" means as defined in RCW 39.04.010.

(2) A first class city may have public works performed by contract pursuant to public notice and call for competitive bids.

As limited by subsection (3) of this section, a first class city may have public works performed by city employees in any annual or biennial budget period equal to a dollar value not exceeding ten percent of the public works construction budget, including any amount in a supplemental public works construction budget, over the budget period. The amount of public works that a first class city has a county perform for it under RCW 35.77.020 shall be included within this ten percent limitation.

If a first class city has public works performed by public employees in any budget period that are in excess of this ten percent limitation, the amount in excess of the permitted amount shall be reduced from the otherwise permitted amount of public works that may be performed by public employees for that city in its next budget period. Twenty percent of the motor vehicle fuel tax distributions to that city shall be withheld if two years after the year in which the excess amount of work occurred, the city has failed to so reduce the amount of public works that it has performed by public employees. The amount so withheld shall be distributed to the city when it has demonstrated in its reports to the state auditor that the amount of public works it has performed by public employees has been so reduced.

Whenever a first class city has had public works performed in any budget period up to the maximum permitted amount for that budget period, all remaining public works within that budget period shall be done by contract pursuant to public notice and call for competitive bids.

The state auditor shall report to the state treasurer any first class city that exceeds this amount and the extent to which the city has or has not reduced the amount of public works it has performed by public employees in subsequent years.

(3) In addition to the percentage limitation provided in subsection (2) of this section, a first class city with a population in excess of one hundred fifty thousand shall not have public employees perform a public works project in excess of fifty thousand dollars if more than a single craft or trade is involved with the public works project, or a public works project in excess of twenty-five thousand dollars if only a single craft or trade is involved with the public works project or the public works project is street signalization or street lighting. In addition to the percentage limitation provided in subsection (2) of this section, a first class city with a population of one hundred fifty thousand or less shall not have public employees perform a public works project in excess of thirty-five thousand dollars if more than one craft or trade is involved with the public works project, or a public works project in excess of twenty thousand dollars if only a single craft or trade is involved with the public works project or the public works project is street signalization or street lighting. A public works project means a complete project. The restrictions in this subsection do not permit the division of the project into units of work or classes of work to avoid the restriction on work that may be performed by day labor on a single project.

(4) In addition to the accounting and record-keeping requirements contained in RCW 39.04.070, every first class city annually shall prepare a report for the state auditor indicating the total public works construction budget and supplemental public works construction budget for that year, the total construction costs of public works performed by public employees for that year, and the amount of public works that is performed by public employees above or below ten percent of the total construction budget. However, if a city budgets on a biennial basis, this annual report shall indicate the amount of public works that is performed by public employees within the current biennial period that is above or below ten percent of the total biennial construction budget.

After September 1, 1987, each first class city with a population of one hundred fifty thousand or less shall use the form required by RCW 43.09.205 to account and record costs of public works in excess of five thousand dollars that are not let by contract.

(5) The cost of a separate public works project shall be the costs of materials, supplies, equipment, and labor on the construction of that project. The value of the public works budget shall be the value of all the separate public works projects within the budget.

(6) The competitive bidding requirements of this section may be waived by the city legislative authority pursuant to RCW 39.04.280 if an exemption contained within that section applies to the work or contract.

(7) In lieu of the procedures of subsections (2) and (6) of this section, a first class city may use the small works roster process in RCW 39.04.155 to award contracts for public works projects with an estimated value of one hundred thousand dollars or less.

Whenever possible, the city shall invite at least one proposal from a minority or woman contractor who shall otherwise qualify under this section.

(8) The allocation of public works projects to be performed by city employees shall not be subject to a collective bargaining agreement.

(9) This section does not apply to performance-based contracts, as defined in RCW 39.35A.020(3), that are negotiated under chapter 39.35A RCW.

(10) Nothing in this section shall prohibit any first class city from allowing for preferential purchase of products made from recycled materials or products that may be recycled or reused.

(11) Beginning on July 1, 2001, and on July 1st of each succeeding odd-numbered year, the dollar limits specified in subsection (3) of this section shall be adjusted as follows: The office of financial management shall calculate such limits by adjusting the previous biennium's limits by the appropriate federal inflationary index reflecting the rate of inflation for the previous biennium. Such amounts shall be rounded to the nearest one hundred dollars.
Sec. 2. RCW 35.23.352 and 1998 c 278 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Any second class city with a population of more than five thousand may construct public works, as defined in RCW 39.04.010, by contract or day labor without calling for bids whenever the estimated cost of the work or improvement, including cost of materials, supplies, and equipment will not exceed the sum of thirty thousand dollars if more than one craft or trade is involved with the public works, or twenty thousand dollars if a single craft or trade is involved with the public works, or the public works project is street signalization or street lighting. Any second class city with a population of five thousand or less, or any town may construct any public works, as defined in RCW 39.04.010, by contract or day labor without calling for bids therefor whenever the estimated cost of the work or improvement, including cost of materials, supplies and equipment will not exceed the sum of sixty thousand dollars if more than one craft or trade is involved with the public works, or ((twenty)) fifty thousand dollars if a single craft or trade is involved with the public works or the public works project is street signalization or street lighting. A public works project means a complete project. The restrictions in this subsection do not permit the division of the project into units of work or classes of work to avoid the restriction on work that may be performed by day labor on a single project.

Whenever the cost of the public work or improvement, including materials, supplies and equipment, will exceed these figures, the same shall be done by contract. All such contracts shall be let at public bidding upon publication of notice calling for sealed bids upon the work. The notice shall be published in the official newspaper, or a newspaper of general circulation, most likely to bring responsive bids, at least thirteen days prior to the last date upon which bids will be received. The notice shall generally state the nature of the work to be done that plans and specifications therefor shall then be on file in the city or town hall for public inspection, and require that bids be sealed and filed with the council or commission within the time specified therein. Each bid shall be accompanied by a bid proposal deposit in the form of a cashier’s check, postal money order, or surety bond to the council or commission for a sum of not less than five percent of the amount of the bid, and no bid shall be considered unless accompanied by such bid proposal deposit. The council or commission of the city or town shall let the contract to the lowest responsible bidder or shall have power by resolution to reject any or all bids and to make further calls for bids in the same manner as the original call.

When the contract is let then all bid proposal deposits shall be returned to the bidders except that of the successful bidder which shall be retained until a contract is entered into and a bond to perform the work furnished, with surety satisfactory to the council or commission, in accordance with RCW 39.08.030. If the bidder fails to enter into the contract in accordance with his or her bid and furnish a bond within ten days from the date at which he or she is notified that he or she is the successful bidder, the check or postal money order and the amount thereof shall be forfeited to the council or commission or the council or commission shall recover the amount of the surety bond. A low bidder who claims error and fails to enter into a contract is prohibited from bidding on the same project if a second or subsequent call for bids is made for the project.

If no bid is received on the first call the council or commission may readvertise and make a second call, or may enter into a contract without any further call or may purchase the supplies, material or equipment and perform the work or improvement by day labor.

(2) The allocation of public works projects to be performed by city or town employees shall not be subject to a collective bargaining agreement.

(3) In lieu of the procedures of subsection (1) of this section, a second class city or a town may use the small works roster process provided in RCW 39.04.155 to award public works contracts with an estimated value of one hundred thousand dollars or less.

Whenever possible, the city or town shall invite at least one proposal from a minority or woman contractor who shall otherwise qualify under this section.

(4) The form required by RCW 43.09.205 shall be to account and record costs of public works in excess of five thousand dollars that are not let by contract.

(5) The cost of a separate public works project shall be the costs of the materials, equipment, supplies, and labor on that construction project.

(6) Any purchase of supplies, material, or equipment, except for public work or improvement, where the cost thereof exceeds seven thousand five hundred dollars shall be made upon call for bids.

(7) Bids shall be called annually and at a time and in the manner prescribed by ordinance for the publication in a newspaper of general circulation in the city or town of all notices or newspaper publications required by law. The contract shall be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder.

(8) For advertisement and formal sealed bidding to be dispensed with as to purchases with an estimated value of fifteen thousand dollars or less, the council or commission must authorize by resolution, use of the uniform procedure provided in RCW 39.04.190.
The city or town legislative authority may waive the competitive bidding requirements of this section pursuant to RCW 39.04.280 if an exemption contained within that section applies to the purchase or public work.

This section does not apply to performance-based contracts, as defined in RCW 39.35A.020(3), that are negotiated under chapter 39.35A RCW.

Nothing in this section shall prohibit any second class city or any town from allowing for preferential purchase of products made from recycled materials or products that may be recycled or reused.

Beginning on July 1, 2001, and on July 1st of each succeeding odd-numbered year, the dollar limits specified in subsection (1) of this section shall be adjusted as follows: The office of financial management shall calculate such limits by adjusting the previous biennium's limits by the appropriate federal inflationary index reflecting the rate of inflation for the previous biennium. Such amounts shall be rounded to the nearest one hundred dollars."

MOTION

Senator West moved that the following amendments to the striking amendment by Senator Patterson be considered simultaneously with an oral amendment to strike 'under this section' in both amendments.

On page 3, after line 34, insert the following:
"(12) Public works performed by public employees under this section shall be subject to chapter 39.12 RCW."

There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of Senate Bill No. 6613, deferred earlier today after adopting the motion by Senator Costa to not substitute the bill.

The bill was read the second time.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator West: ‘A point of order, Mr. President. After reading Senate Bill No. 6613, I submit that Senate Bill No. 6613 is in violation of Senate Rule 25, which states as follows: ‘No bill shall embrace more than one subject and that subject shall be expressed in the title.’ I submit that Senate Bill No. 6613 contains two subjects and that the subjects are not expressed in the title of the bill.

‘Senate Bill No. 6613 is titled ‘An act relating to child passenger restraint systems.’ Section 1 of this act would make certain changes to the law relating to child passenger restraint systems. Current law requires a child restraint system in an automobile for children under three and does not make distinct requirements based on weight. Section 1 would, for example, require that a child of less than one year of age must be properly restrained in a rear-facing seat and other requirements.

‘However, the bill then takes a wild turn. In Section 2, Mr. President, the bill would amend RCW 46.61.668. That statute currently states generally, first, that all persons, including persons over the age of sixteen must wear safety belts; and second, that enforcement of the seatbelt requirement may be accomplished only as a secondary action. Section 2 of this bill would delete the requirement that seatbelt violations relating to any person, including adults, may be enforced only as secondary offenses. These violations would now be enforceable as primary actions.

‘Mr. President, in a 1998 ruling you held that because Senate Rule 25 is identical to Article 2, Section 19 of the State Constitution, you would look to cases interpreting Article 2, Section 19, when ruling on these points of order under Rule 25 (1998 Senate Journal, page 776). As you noted in your 1998 ruling, although there is a heavy burden on the challenger of a statute, the cases dictate that there must be some ‘rational unity’ between the general subject and the incidental subjects in a measure.

‘Mr. President, I submit that there is no unity here whatsoever, let alone a rational unity, between the general subject that makes distinctions in the kinds of safety seats children must occupy, and an incidental subject that allows for the first time the adult seatbelt law to be enforced as a primary action. Clearly, this action, the way the bill is drafted, Mr. President, is what we would call ‘logrolling,’ where you attach an unpopular concept to a very popular concept and force the body to have to vote against something they want to do when they are trying to prevent something that they don’t want to happen.

‘So, I would ask you to rule, sir, that this bill violates Rule 25 and also Article 2, Section 19, of the State Constitution.’

Debate ensued.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "In ruling on the point of order by Senator West concerning whether Senate Bill No. 6613 violates Senate Rules 25, the President notes that he has entertained this point of order on two occasions in the past, both times when the measure in question was on third reading. The President believes that the proper time to make this point of order is on third reading. Until that time, the body may perfect the measure.

“You’re asking for an advisory opinion. The President does not give advisory opinions. The President makes rulings on points of order. If the President ruled on a point of order on second reading that a measure fails to comply with Senate Rule 25, this would have the effect of preventing further consideration of that measure, and of preventing the body from perfecting the measure so that it does comply with Senate Rule 25.

“The President believes that the proper time to make a point of order under Senate Rule 25 is on third reading. Until that time, the body may perfect the measure and, if necessary, consult with advisers concerning the measure’s compliance with Senate Rule 25."

MOTION
Senator Costa moved that the following striking amendment by Senators Costa, Oke and Heavey be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 46.61.687 and 1994 c 100 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Whenever a child who is less than sixteen years of age is being transported in a motor vehicle that is in operation and that is required by RCW 46.37.510 to be equipped with a safety belt system in a passenger seating position, the driver of the vehicle shall keep the child properly restrained in a child restraint system that complies with standards of the United States department of transportation and that is secured in the vehicle in accordance with instructions of the manufacturer of the child restraint system as follows:

(a) If the child is less than one year of age, the child shall be properly restrained in a rear-facing infant seat;

(b) If the child is more than one but less than four years of age and/or weighs less than forty pounds, the child shall be properly restrained in a forward facing child safety seat restraint system (that complies with standards of the United States department of transportation) and that is secured in the vehicle in accordance with instructions of the manufacturer of the child restraint system);

(c) If the child is less than eight years of age and/or eighty pounds but at least four years of age, the child shall be properly restrained (either as specified in (a) of this subsection or with a safety belt properly adjusted and fastened around the child's body) in a child booster seat;

(d) If the child is eight years of age or older or weighs more than eighty pounds, the child shall be properly restrained with the motor vehicle's safety belt properly adjusted and fastened around the child's body; and

(e) The driver of a vehicle transporting a child under the age of eight years old and/or eighty pounds, when the vehicle is equipped with a passenger side air bag supplemental restraint system, shall transport the child in the back seat positions in the vehicle where it is practical to do so.

(2) A person violating subsection (1)(a) through (c) of this section may be issued a notice of traffic infraction under chapter 46.63 RCW. If the person to whom the notice was issued presents proof of acquisition of an approved child passenger restraint system within seven days to the jurisdiction issuing the notice and the person has not previously had a violation of this section dismissed, the jurisdiction shall dismiss the notice of traffic infraction.

(3) Failure to comply with the requirements of this section shall not constitute negligence by a parent or legal guardian; nor shall failure to use a child restraint system be admissible as evidence of negligence in any civil action.

(4) This section does not apply to: (a) For hire vehicles, (b) vehicles designed to transport sixteen or less passengers, including the driver, operated by auto transportation companies, as defined in RCW 81.68.010, (c) vehicles providing customer shuttle service between parking, convention, and hotel facilities, and airport terminals, and (d) school buses.

(5) The requirements of subsection (1)(a) through (c) of this section do not apply in any seating position where there is only a lap belt available and the child weighs more than forty pounds.

Sec. 2. RCW 46.61.688 and 1990 c 250 s 58 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) For the purposes of this section, the term "motor vehicle" includes:

(a) "Buses," meaning motor vehicles with motive power, except trailers, designed to carry more than ten passengers;

(c) "Passenger cars," meaning motor vehicles with motive power, except multipurpose passenger vehicles, motorcycles, or trailers, designed for carrying ten passengers or less; and

(d) "Trucks," meaning motor vehicles with motive power, except trailers, designed primarily for the transportation of property.

(2) This section only applies to motor vehicles that meet the manual seat belt safety standards as set forth in federal motor vehicle safety standard 208. This section does not apply to a vehicle occupant for whom no safety belt is available when all designated seating positions as required by federal motor vehicle safety standard 208 are occupied.

(3) Every person sixteen years of age or older operating or riding in a motor vehicle shall wear the safety belt assembly in a properly adjusted and securely fastened manner.

(4) No person may operate a motor vehicle unless all child passengers under the age of sixteen years are either wearing a safety belt assembly or are securely fastened into an approved child restraint device under RCW 46.61.687.

(5) A person violating this section shall be issued a notice of traffic infraction under chapter 46.63 RCW. A finding that a person has committed a traffic infraction under this section shall be contained in the driver's abstract but shall not be available to insurance companies or employers.

(6) Failure to comply with the requirements of this section does not constitute negligence, nor may failure to wear a safety belt assembly be admissible as evidence of negligence in any civil action.
(7)(a) Enforcement of subsection (4) of this section by law enforcement officers must be accomplished as a primary action.

(b) Enforcement of subsections (1) through (3) and (5) through (9) of this section by law enforcement officers may be accomplished only as a secondary action when a driver of a motor vehicle has been detained for a suspected violation of Title 46 RCW or an equivalent local ordinance or some other offense.

(8) This section does not apply to an operator or passenger who possesses written verification from a licensed physician that the operator or passenger is unable to wear a safety belt for physical or medical reasons.

(9) The state patrol may adopt rules exempting operators or occupants of farm vehicles, construction equipment, and vehicles that are required to make frequent stops from the requirement of wearing safety belts.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 46.61 RCW to read as follows:

The traffic safety commission shall conduct an educational campaign using all available methods to raise public awareness of the importance of properly restraining child passengers and the value of seatbelts to adult motorists. The traffic safety commission shall report to the transportation committees of the legislature on the campaign and results observed on the highways. The first report is due December 1, 2000, and annually thereafter.

Renumber the sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Kline: "I rise on a point of order, Mr. President. The point of order is a question to the President as to whether the amendment exceeds the scope and object of the striking amendment to which it depends. In support of that, if I may, there are two purposes remaining in the striker. One is to raise to the age of sixteen, the age of which a child passenger must have a seat belt. The second is a study by the Traffic Safety Commission. Those two purposes of the underlying striker are quite different from this, which has to do with legal liability and with what is admissible evidence in a lawsuit and totally apart from the good Senator’s characterization of that evidence. The fact is that this subject is beyond the scope and object of the underlying striking amendment.”

Debate ensued.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Betti Sheldon, further consideration of Senate Bill No. 6613 was deferred.

There being no objection, the President advanced the Senate to the seventh order of business.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT
President Owen: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Patterson to the scope and object of the amendments by Senator West on page 3, after line 34, and page 6, after line 23, to the striking amendment by Senator Patterson to Senate Bill No. 5469, the President would like to remind the members that Senate Rule 66 provides that no amendment shall be allowed which ‘changes the scope and object of the bill.’ The President will, therefore, measure an amendment to a striking amendment against the scope and object of the underlying bill, not to the striking amendment to the bill.

"Having stated that, the President finds that Senate Bill No. 5469, the underlying bill in this case, is a measure which does one thing only. It raises competitive bid limits to account for inflation. The amendments by Senator West to the striking amendment would subject public works performed by city or county employees to prevailing wage requirements.

"The President, therefore, finds that the amendments to the striking amendment do change the scope and object of the bill, and that the point is well taken."

The amendments by Senator West on page 3, after line 34, and page 6, after line 23, to the striking amendment by Senator Patterson to Senate Bill No. 5469 were ruled out of order.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Winsley, Substitute Senate Bill No. 6220 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 6220 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

Senator Winsley moved that the following striking amendment by Senators Winsley and Prentice be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 46.96 RCW to read as follows:
(1) Notwithstanding the terms of a franchise agreement, a manufacturer, distributor, factory branch, or factory representative, or an agent, officer, parent company, wholly or partially owned subsidiary, affiliated entity, or other person controlled by or under common control with a manufacturer, distributor, factory branch, or factory representative, shall not:

(a) Discriminate between new motor vehicle dealers by selling or offering to sell a like vehicle to one dealer at a lower actual price than the actual price offered to another dealer for the same model similarly equipped;

(b) Discriminate between new motor vehicle dealers by selling or offering to sell parts or accessories to one dealer at a lower actual price than the actual price offered to another dealer;

(c) Discriminate between new motor vehicle dealers by using a promotion plan, marketing plan, or other similar device that results in a lower actual price on vehicles, parts, or accessories being charged to one dealer over another dealer;

(d) Discriminate between new motor vehicle dealers by adopting a method, or changing an existing method, for the allocation, scheduling, or delivery of new motor vehicles, parts, or accessories to its dealers that is not fair, reasonable, and equitable. Upon the request of a dealer, a manufacturer, distributor, factory branch, or factory representative shall disclose in writing to the dealer the method by which new motor vehicles, parts, and accessories are allocated, scheduled, or delivered to its dealers handling the same line or make of vehicles;

(e) Give preferential treatment to some new motor vehicle dealers over others by refusing or failing to deliver, in reasonable quantities and within a reasonable time after receipt of an order, to a dealer holding a franchise for a line or make of motor vehicles sold or distributed by the manufacturer, distributor, factory branch, or factory representative, a new vehicle, parts, or accessories, if the vehicle, parts, or accessories are being delivered to other dealers, or require a dealer to purchase unreasonable advertising displays or other materials, or reasonably require a dealer to remodel or renovate existing facilities as a prerequisite to receiving a model or series of vehicles;

(f) Compete with a new motor vehicle dealer by acting in the capacity of a new motor vehicle dealer, or by owning, operating, or controlling, whether directly or indirectly, a motor vehicle dealership in this state. It is not, however, a violation of this subsection for:

(i) A manufacturer, distributor, factory branch, or factory representative to own or operate a dealership for a temporary period, not to exceed two years, during the transition from one owner of the dealership to another where the dealership was previously owned by a franchised dealer and is currently for sale to any qualified independent person at a fair and reasonable price. The temporary operation may be extended for up to one twelve-month period on petition of the temporary operator to the department. The matter will be handled as an adjudicative proceeding under chapter 34.05 RCW. Any dealer who is a franchisee of the petitioning manufacturer or distributor shall have the right to intervene and participate in any proceeding under chapter 34.05 RCW. The temporary operator has the burden of proof to show justification for the extension and a good faith effort to sell the dealership to an independent person at a fair and reasonable price;

(ii) A manufacturer, distributor, factory branch, or factory representative to own or operate a dealership in conjunction with an independent person in a bona fide business relationship program for the purpose of broadening the diversity of its dealer body and enhancing opportunities for qualified persons who are part of a group who have historically been underrepresented in its dealer body, or other qualified persons who lack the resources to purchase a dealership outright, and where the independent person: (A) Has made a significant, bona fide capital investment in the dealership that is subject to loss; (B) has an ownership interest in the dealership; and (C) operates the dealership under a bona fide written agreement with the manufacturer, distributor, factory branch, or factory representative under which he or she will acquire all of the ownership interest in the dealership within a reasonable period of time and under reasonable terms and conditions. The manufacturer, distributor, factory branch, or factory representative has the burden of proof of establishing that the acquisition of the dealership by the independent person under the program was made within a reasonable period of time and under reasonable terms and conditions;

(iii) A manufacturer, distributor, factory branch, or factory representative to own or operate a dealership in conjunction with an independent person in a bona fide business relationship where the independent person: (A) Has made a significant, bona fide capital investment in the dealership that is subject to loss; (B) has an ownership interest in the dealership; and (C) operates the dealership under a bona fide written agreement with the manufacturer, distributor, factory branch, or factory representative under which he or she will acquire all of the ownership interest in the dealership within a reasonable period of time and under reasonable terms and conditions. The manufacturer, distributor, factory branch, or factory representative has the burden of proof of establishing that the acquisition of the dealership by the independent person was made within a reasonable period of time and under reasonable terms and conditions. The number of dealerships operated under this subsection (1)(f)(iii) may not exceed two percent of the total of new motor vehicle dealer franchises per manufacturer in this state;

(iv) A truck manufacturer to own, operate, or control a new motor vehicle dealership that sells only trucks of that manufacturer’s line make with a gross vehicle weight rating of 12,500 pounds or more, and the truck manufacturer has been continuously engaged in the retail sale of the trucks at least since January 1, 1993; or
(v) A manufacturer to own, operate, or control a new motor vehicle dealership trading exclusively in a single line make of the manufacturer if (A) the manufacturer's ownership interest is no more than forty-five percent of the total ownership, (B) at the time the manufacturer first acquires an ownership interest or assumes operation, the distance between any dealership thus owned or operated and the nearest unaffiliated motor vehicle dealership trading in the same line make is not less than fifteen miles, (C) during the period of ownership, the manufacturer of the line make has no more than five motor vehicle franchise agreements governing the line make in effect in this state, and (D) the manufacturer has been continuously engaged, at least since January 1, 1993, in the retail sale of motor vehicles of its own line make through the dealership;

(g) Compete with a new motor vehicle dealer by owning, operating, or controlling, whether directly or indirectly, a service facility in this state for the repair or maintenance of motor vehicles. Nothing in this subsection (1)(g), however, prohibits a manufacturer, distributor, factory branch, or factory representative from owning or operating a service facility for the purpose of providing or performing maintenance, repair, or service work on motor vehicles that are owned by the manufacturer, distributor, factory branch, or factory representative;

(h) Disclose, misappropriate, or unfairly use confidential or proprietary information obtained from an entity or person having a franchise agreement or franchise relationship with the manufacturer, distributor, factory branch, or factory representative. Confidential or proprietary information obtained from a franchisee is a valuable trade secret and may not be used by the manufacturer or distributor in a manner that is detrimental or disadvantageous to the franchisee, including but not limited to competing with the franchisee. For purposes of this section, the term "confidential or proprietary information" means trade secrets as defined in RCW 19.108.010, business plans, marketing plans or strategies, customer lists, contracts, sales data, revenues or other financial information, forecasts, or any other information that is designated as confidential, or, if disclosed orally, is identified as confidential or proprietary at the time of disclosure.

(2) Subsection (1)(a), (b), and (c) of this section do not apply to sales to a motor vehicle dealer: (a) For resale to a federal, state, or local government agency; (b) where the vehicles will be sold or donated for use in a program of driver's education; (c) where the sale is made under a manufacturer's bona fide fleet vehicle discount program; or (d) where the sale of parts or accessories is under a manufacturer's bona fide promotional program offering sales incentives or rebates; (d) where the sale is made under a manufacturer's bona fide quantity discount program; or (e) where the sale is made under a manufacturer's bona fide fleet vehicle discount program. For purposes of this subsection, "fleet" means a group of fifteen or more new motor vehicles purchased or leased by a dealer at one time under a single purchase or lease agreement for use as part of a fleet, and where the dealer has been assigned a fleet identifier code by the department of licensing.

(3) The following definitions apply to this section:

(a) "Actual price" means the price to be paid by the dealer less any incentive paid by the manufacturer, distributor, factory branch, or factory representative, whether paid to the dealer or the ultimate purchaser of the vehicle.

(b) "Control" or "controlling" means (i) the possession of, title to, or control of ten percent or more of the voting equity interest in a person, whether directly or indirectly through a fiduciary, agent, or other intermediary, or (ii) the possession, direct or indirect, of the power to direct or cause the direction of the management or policies of a person, whether through the ownership of voting securities, through director control, by contract, or otherwise, except as expressly provided under the franchise agreement.

(c) "Motor vehicles" does not include trucks that are 14,001 pounds gross vehicle weight and above or recreational vehicles as defined in RCW 43.22.335.

(d) "Operate" means to manage a dealership, whether directly or indirectly.

(e) "Own" or "ownership" means to hold the beneficial ownership of one percent or more of any class of equity interest in a dealership, whether the interest is that of a shareholder, partner, limited liability company member, or otherwise. To hold an ownership interest means to have possession of, title to, or control of the ownership interest, whether directly or indirectly through a fiduciary, agent, or other intermediary.

(4) A violation of this section is deemed to affect the public interest and constitutes an unlawful and unfair practice under chapter 19.86 RCW. A new motor vehicle dealer having a franchise with a manufacturer or distributor, who is alleged to have violated any provision of this section, may bring an action under chapter 7.04 RCW against that manufacturer or distributor to restrain and prevent the doing of any act prohibited in this section or declared to be unlawful and to recover any damages sustained by reason of the manufacturer's or distributor's violation, together with the costs of the suit, including reasonable attorneys' fees.”

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Haugen: "Senator Winsley, well I am really sympathetic to the car dealers, but I can tell you that I am really more sympathetic to the people that I represent who have to buy cars. I need to know that, in any way, does this bill make it so that the people I represent and you all represent would make it more difficult for them to find a good car at a bargain price? You know, I am really proud of the dealer I deal with, but I think people ought to have the right to be able to go buy a car where they can get the best deal. I wouldn’t want to vote for anything that would make it more difficult for the people who don’t have a whole lot of money to be able to get the best buy they can find.”

Senator Winsley: “Senator, I believe that just the opposite is true. I think there is a lot of information—for instance I think one of the things we learned in committee is how often the manufacturers finance dealerships and loan them money and it is at a low interest rate, so they are helping. Most of your car dealers—not all—but a lot are owned by families and they have been passed on from one generation to another. I am not going to name names, but I think if some of these large dealerships were to sell, they may not find someone on the market right away that could take over and purchase that for that amount of money.

“...In this bill, the manufacturer could do it on a temporary basis. I feel that we have put enough in this bill that will give the consumer the right to look for the best bargain. We took the Internet out, so they could still shop for a car on the Internet, if that is the best buy, or the best bang for the buck—let’s put it that way. I don’t know about Costco, but there is nothing in here, I guess, to avoid that. I will just have to put a little plug; we had a little bill last session—remember—we wanted to let everybody know about those 800 numbers they were calling when they were ordering flowers, so as the old saying goes—what is good for the goose is good for the gander. I urge your support.”

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Kline to the scope and object of the amendment by Senator Deccio on page 3, line 32, to the striking amendment by Senators Costa, Oke and Heavey to Senate Bill No. 6613, the President would again like to remind the members that under Senate Rule 66, the President measures an amendment to a striking amendment against the scope and object of the underlying bill, not to the striking amendment to the bill. Also, for purposes of Senate Rule 66, the President does not take into account the title of the bill, but rather looks to the bill's substance.

"According to these standards, the President finds that Senate Bill No. 6613, the underlying bill in this case, is a measure which relates broadly to safety belts. The measure would make changes to requirements for child restraint systems and the measure would also make safety belt violations subject to enforcement as a primary actions. The amendment by Senator Deccio on page 3, line 32, to the striking amendment would also create an incentive to comply with safety belt requirements; namely, the amendment would provide that failure to comply with safety belt requirements may be admissible as evidence of negligence in a civil action.

“The President, therefore, finds that the amendment to the striking amendment does not change the scope and object of the underlying bill, and that the point is not well taken.”

Senator Roach: "I want to state as a matter of personal privilege before I enter into this discussion. We should be respectful of all members of the Senate. I think it is disrespectful to suggest, just because somebody is not on the Transportation Committee, that they don’t understand these issues. I have had five children, raised them all, and they have all been in automobiles and I think the maker of that comment can’t say that for even one. SENATE BILL NO. 6513, by Senators Prentice, McCaslin, Kline, Gardner, Winsley, Kohl-Welles, Spanel and Costa (by request of Attorney General Gregoire)

Protecting privacy of personal information in commercial transactions.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Prentice, Substitute Senate Bill No. 6513 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 6513 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Prentice, the following striking amendment by Senators Prentice, Hale, Winsley, Gardner and Shin was adopted:

*NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. INTENT. (1) The legislature finds that every entity has an affirmative and continuing obligation to respect the privacy of its consumers and to protect the security and confidentiality of consumers. The legislature finds that Washington's citizens have a right to privacy and a reasonable expectation that the personal information that they provide in commercial transactions with financial institutions and others who maintain and transfer information will be kept private and confidential. The legislature finds that there is no existing uniform law that creates an appropriate standard of conduct for disclosure of consumers' personal information and that Washington's citizens need additional statutory protection from fraud, deception, nuisance, invasion of privacy, and breach of confidentiality related to the disclosure of personal information. The legislature intends to ensure that entities and consumers work cooperatively to protect consumer information and enforce sanctions when violations occur.

(2) The legislature finds that the disclosure of personal information has caused specific significant harms to Washington consumers, including the appearance of unauthorized charges or debits on consumers' accounts, misappropriation of sensitive information for the purpose of assuming a consumer's identity, the unwanted and unintended dissemination of personal and sensitive information, and the invasion of privacy.

(3) The legislature finds that the dissemination of certain sensitive information causes a great risk of harm to the consumer, that it should be given a greater level of protection under the law, and that requiring consumer authorization to disseminate such sensitive information best balances the benefits and harms of disclosure.
(4) The legislature finds that the flow of less sensitive personal information has resulted in a number of increased market efficiencies that are beneficial to consumers. These include more rapid credit transactions and check verifications, as well as an increased number of choices for products and services. The legislature finds that these benefits can be maintained by giving consumers the opportunity to choose whether their less sensitive information will be shared. The legislature finds that giving consumers this choice best balances the benefits and harms of disclosure of such information.

(5) The legislature finds that the incidence of identity theft is rapidly growing, and that victims of identity theft need further assistance in obtaining the information necessary to the prosecution of their cases. The legislature finds that requiring additional information sharing by merchants with victims will result in greater protections for consumers and deter potential perpetrators.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. DEFINITIONS. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Affiliate" means an entity that controls, is controlled by, or is under common control or common ownership with another entity. Companies that form alliances as a financial services group for purposes of marketing their services and are located at a common address, have personnel and payroll functions administered through a central office, jointly sponsor one combined employee savings and profit sharing plan, and have centralized data processing, mail service, communications, and procurement are considered under common control and affiliated with each other.

(2) "Consumer" or "customer" means a natural person or his or her legal representative, who is a resident of the state of Washington and who purchases, leases, or otherwise contracts for products, goods, or services within the state of Washington or from an entity located in the state of Washington, that are primarily used for personal, family, or household purposes on or after the effective date of this act and who continues to be a resident of the state of Washington.

(3) "Consumer-requested purpose" means for the purpose of establishing or maintaining a business relationship, completing a transaction, or providing a product, good, or service requested by the consumer.

(4) "De minimus cost method" means any method, such as a toll-free telephone number, a post office box or address for accepting first-class mail, or any similar, convenient, low-cost method, which does not exceed the cost of a first-class postage stamp for the consumer. If other de minimus cost methods are offered, accepting e-mail or online messages from consumers shall be considered a de minimus cost method.

(5) "Financial institution" means (a) a financial institution as defined in section 527(4) of the Gramm-Leach-Billey Act, P.L. 106-102 and its implementing regulations; or (b) a bank holding company or financial holding company, as defined in sections 2(a) and 2(p) of the Bank Holding Company Act, as amended, or any subsidiary thereof as defined in section 2(d) of the Bank Holding Company Act, as amended.

(6) "Functional business purpose" means use or disclosure of sensitive or personal information by an information custodian to another entity or person to perform services or functions on behalf of the information custodian as part of the information custodian's provision of its products, goods, or services to its customers;

(7) "Information custodian" means all nonpublic commercial entities that maintain data containing personal information or sensitive information about consumers they know reside in Washington and that sell, share, or otherwise transfer the information to others, including affiliates or nonaffiliates, for purposes other than consumer-requested purposes or functional business purposes. An "information custodian" does not include a consumer reporting agency, as defined in the federal Fair Credit Reporting Act (15 U.S.C. Sec. 1681 et seq.), to the extent its activities are directly related to assembling or evaluating consumer credit information or other information on consumers for the purpose of furnishing consumer reports to third parties, and to the extent that the activities are regulated by the federal Fair Credit Reporting Act (15 U.S.C. Sec. 1681 et seq.). "Information custodian" does not include an "agent," "broker," or "solicitor" as defined in chapter 48.17 RCW, to the extent their activities include the sharing, selling, or transferring of personal or sensitive information between an insurer as defined in chapter 48.01 RCW, and its contractually bound agents, brokers, and solicitors, and their activities that are directly related to soliciting applications on behalf of an insurer, effectuating insurance contracts, or collecting premiums on insurances so applied for or effectuated.

(8) "Marketer" means a nonpublic, commercial entity that maintains data containing personal information or sensitive information about consumers it knows reside in Washington and uses the information to engage in marketing.

(9) "Marketing" or "marketing information" means a promotion, solicitation, or advertisement that specifically references the sale or lease of products, goods, or services made through written, telephonic, electronic, or other means, that is directed to a specific named consumer, but shall not include any promotion, solicitation, or advertisement (a) included with a billing or statement, (b) directed to the public, or (c) made to such consumer while present at the marketer's place of business or during any other contact with the marketer initiated by or at the request of the consumer.

(10) "Personal information" means information that is provided by the consumer in a commercial context, and is identifiable to the individual consumer, that concerns the amount or condition of the consumer's assets, liabilities, financial transactions, purchasing history, buying preferences, business relationships, customer status, demographic information, name, address, telephone number, electronic mail address, or that reflects current or historical deposit or credit card account balances or purchase amounts.

(11) "Sensitive information" means information maintained in a commercial context that is identifiable with an individual consumer or a specific account and may be held for the purpose of transaction initiation, account access or identity verification, and includes account numbers, access codes or passwords, social security numbers, tax identification numbers, driver's license or permit numbers, state identification numbers issued by the department of licensing, and credit card numbers or expiration dates, and electronically captured signatures.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. RESTRICTION ON CONSUMER INFORMATION. Information custodians and marketers shall, in performing a transaction with a consumer, providing a service for a consumer, or establishing a business relationship with a consumer, require only that the consumer provide information reasonably necessary to perform the transaction, establish the relationship, administer or maintain the business relationship, collect or service a debt, protect against fraud or unauthorized transactions, or comply with applicable law. Any optional information must be specified as such, and the consumer must be given the option not to provide it.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. CONSUMER PRIVACY POLICIES. (1) An information custodian must have a consumer privacy policy that discloses to existing and prospective consumers the policies and practices of the information custodian regarding the use of consumer personal information and sensitive information acquired or possessed by the information custodian. Entities that maintain data containing personal information or sensitive information but do not sell, share, or otherwise transfer the data, are not required to have a privacy policy.

(2) The consumer privacy policy, at a minimum, must summarize the information custodian's responsibilities under this chapter and describe the consumer's rights and remedies under it, and generally describe with whom the consumer's personal and sensitive information will be shared or to whom it will be sold or transferred.

(3) The consumer privacy policy must also provide a reasonable means for consumers to access their personal and sensitive information that the information custodian shares, sells, or transfers for marketing purposes.

(4) An information custodian must disclose its consumer privacy policy at least once no later than:

(a) The effective date of this act to existing customers about whom the information custodian has names and addresses or other means of contact, or within a reasonable period of time after the information custodian obtains the consumers' names and addresses or other means of contact.

For the purposes of this subsection, "existing customer" means a customer whose personal or sensitive information has been sold, shared, or transferred within the twelve-month period preceding the effective date of this act;

(b) Thirty days after a prospective customer's initial request for the policy, following the effective date of this act; and

(c) At the time when a new customer enters into a business relationship with the information custodian.

(5) An information custodian must disclose its consumer privacy policy on an annual basis to existing customers after the initial disclosure described in subsection (4) of this section, and, when material changes are made to the policy, the information custodian must notify the consumer, clearly and conspicuously in writing, in plain language, of the material changes and describe the consumer's rights under sections 5(1) and 7 (1) and (2) of this act, including the consumer's right to withdraw any consent given by the consumer under section 7(2) of this act.

(6) The disclosure of the consumer privacy policy must be clearly and conspicuously made in writing, in a document separate from or attached as the first item of other documents or pages that are provided to the consumer by the information custodian.

(7) The consumer privacy policy must be clearly and conspicuously posted on the information custodian's website, if a website exists, and must be readily available for review at the information custodian's place of business.

(8) Compliance by a financial institution with the timing of disclosures under section 503 of Public Law 106-102 (the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act of 1999) and its implementing regulations constitutes compliance with the disclosure deadline requirements of subsection (4) of this section and section 5(1)(a) of this act for existing customers.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. PERSONAL INFORMATION--CONSUMER CONTROL. (1) An information custodian may share, sell, or otherwise transfer personal information for purposes other than consumer-requested purposes or functional business purposes, only if it has clearly and conspicuously disclosed to the consumer the following information in plain language:

(a) That the consumer has the right to choose not to have his or her personal information shared, sold, or otherwise transferred for purposes other than consumer-requested purposes or functional business purposes. The disclosure must be made at the time the consumer privacy policy is provided to the customer under section 4 of this act.

(b) That the consumer may choose not to have his or her personal information shared, sold, or transferred for other than consumer-requested purposes or functional business purposes, by exercising his or her choice through a de minimus cost method the information custodian has established.
(2) If, under this section, a consumer chooses not to have his or her personal information shared, sold, or otherwise transferred under subsection (1) of this section, the information custodian must stop sharing, selling, or otherwise transferring the consumer's personal information for purposes other than consumer-requested purposes or functional business purposes, within ninety days of receiving the consumer's notice. Once a consumer has chosen not to have his or her personal information shared, sold, or otherwise transferred, an information custodian may not share, sell, or otherwise transfer the information for purposes other than consumer-requested purposes or functional business purposes until the consumer notifies the entity that he or she has chosen to have his or her personal information shared, sold, or otherwise transferred under subsection (1) of this section.

(3) This section does not apply to disclosure of personal information under the following circumstances. However, the recipient of the information is subject to section 8 of this act:

   (a) Disclosure to or at the direction or with the consent of the consumer upon his or her request and upon proper identification;

   (b) Disclosure required by federal, state, or local law or regulation, rules, and other applicable legal requirements;

   (c) Disclosure made in the course of a properly authorized civil, criminal, or regulatory examination or investigation or under a search warrant, court order, or subpoena, including an administrative subpoena or other legal process;

   (e) Disclosure to protect the confidentiality or security of the information custodian's records;

   (g) Disclosure as part of a risk control program required by or subject to examination by regulators;

   (h) Disclosure by or to a consumer reporting agency as specifically permitted under the federal Fair Credit Reporting Act (15 U.S.C. Sec. 1681 et seq.);

   (i) Disclosure of consumer report information between affiliates as specifically permitted under the federal Fair Credit Reporting Act (15 U.S.C. Sec. 1681 et seq.);

   (k) Disclosure to persons holding a legal or beneficial interest relating to the consumer;

   (l) Disclosure in order to provide information to insurance rate advisory organizations, guaranty funds or agencies, applicable rating agencies of the information custodian, persons assessing the information custodian's compliance with industry standards, and the information custodian's attorneys, accountants, and auditors;

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. MARKETING-CONSUMER CONTROL. (1) A marketer may use personal or sensitive information for marketing purposes only if it has clearly and conspicuously disclosed in plain language to the consumer:

(a) That the consumer has the right to choose not to receive marketing information. This disclosure must be made in all marketing information, in whatever medium the marketing information is sent or, if the marketer is an information custodian, in the privacy policy provided to the customer under section 4 of this act. If the marketer is not an information custodian, it may choose as an option to provide the disclosure in a privacy policy provided to the customer under section 4 of this act instead of disclosing it in all marketing information.

(b) That the consumer may choose not to receive marketing information by exercising his or her choice through a de minimus cost method provided by the marketer. This disclosure must be made in all marketing information in whatever medium the marketing information is sent, or, if the marketer is an information custodian, in the privacy policy provided to the customer under section 4 of this act. The marketer shall maintain adequate and reasonable access for consumers to the de minimus cost method it has established. If the marketer is not an information custodian, it may choose as an option to provide the disclosure in a privacy policy provided to the customer under section 4 of this act instead of disclosing it in all marketing information.

(2) If, under this section, a consumer chooses not to receive marketing information, the marketer must stop marketing to the consumer within ninety days of receiving the consumer's notice. Once a consumer has chosen not to receive marketing information, a marketer may not market to the consumer until the consumer notifies the marketer that he or she has chosen to receive marketing information.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 7. SENSITIVE INFORMATION--CONSUMER CONTROL. (a) The information to be disclosed;
(b) The entity or entities authorized to receive the disclosure of information; and
(c) A specific description of the purpose for which the disclosure of information will be made.

(2) An information custodian may not disclose sensitive information to a third party or affiliate for purposes other than consumer-requested purposes or functional business purposes unless the consumer, upon notice as provided in this section and affirmative consent, authorizes the disclosure of the sensitive information sought to be disclosed, in a written statement dated and accepted by the consumer that is separate and distinct from any other document, and that contains a description of the information sought to be disclosed and the purpose for which the information will be disclosed.

(3) This section does not apply to disclosure of sensitive information under the following circumstances. However, the recipient of the information is subject to section 8 of this act:

(a) Disclosure to or at the direction or with the consent of the consumer upon his or her request and upon proper identification;
(b) Disclosure required by federal, state, or local law or regulation, rules, and other applicable legal requirements;
(c) Disclosure made in the course of a properly authorized civil, criminal, or regulatory examination or investigation or under a search warrant, court order, or subpoena, including an administrative subpoena or other legal process;

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. VIOLATION AN UNFAIR OR DECEPTIVE ACT. (1) Unfair and deceptive invasion of privacy rights is not reasonable in relation to the development and preservation of business. The legislature finds that the practices covered by this chapter are matters vitally affecting the public interest for the purpose of applying the consumer protection act, chapter 19.86 RCW. A violation of this chapter is an unfair or deceptive act in trade or commerce for the purpose of applying the consumer protection act, chapter 19.86 RCW.

The director of the department of financial institutions may, from time to time, publish provisions of state laws that have been found invalidated under federal law and procedures. "Sec. 1. RCW 13.34.030 and 1999 c 267 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

For purposes of this chapter:

(1) "Abandoned" means when the child's parent, guardian, or other custodian has expressed, either by statement or conduct, an intent to forego, for an extended period, parental rights or responsibilities despite an ability to exercise such rights and responsibilities. If the court finds that the petitioner has exercised due diligence in attempting to locate the parent, no contact between the child and the child's parent, guardian, or other custodian for a period of three months creates a rebuttable presumption of abandonment, even if there is no expressed intent to abandon.

(2) "Child" and "juvenile" means any individual under the age of eighteen years.

(3) "Current placement episode" means the period of time that begins with the most recent date that the child was removed from the home of the parent, guardian, or legal custodian for purposes of placement in out-of-home care and continues until: (a) The child returns home; (b) an adoption decree, a permanent custody order, or guardianship order is entered; or (c) the dependency is dismissed, whichever occurs first. (If the most recent date of removal occurred prior to the filing of a dependency petition under this chapter or after filing but prior to entry of a disposition order, such time periods shall be included when calculating the length of a child's current placement episode.)
"Dependency guardian" means the person, nonprofit corporation, or Indian tribe appointed by the court pursuant to (RCW 13.34.232) this chapter for the limited purpose of assisting the court in the supervision of the dependency.

"Dependent child" means any child who:

(a) Who has been abandoned; (that is, where the child's parent, guardian, or other custodian has expressed either by statement or conduct, an intent to forgo, for an extended period, parental rights or parental responsibilities despite an ability to do so. If the court finds that the petitioner has exercised due diligence in attempting to locate the parent, no contact between the child and the child's parent, guardian, or other custodian for a period of three months creates a rebuttable presumption of abandonment, even if there is no expressed intent to abandon;)

(b) Who is abused or neglected as defined in chapter 26.44 RCW by a person legally responsible for the care of the child; or

(c) Who has no parent, guardian, or custodian capable of adequately caring for the child, such that the child is in circumstances which constitute a danger of substantial damage to the child's psychological or physical development.

"Developmental disability" means a disability attributable to mental retardation, cerebral palsy, epilepsy, autism, or another neurological or other condition of an individual found by the secretary to be closely related to mental retardation or to require treatment similar to that required for individuals with mental retardation, which disability originates before the individual attains age eighteen, which has continued or can be expected to continue indefinitely, and which constitutes a substantial handicap to the individual.

"Guardian" means the person or agency that:

(a) Has been appointed as the guardian of a child in a legal proceeding other than a proceeding under this chapter; and (b) has the legal right to custody of the child pursuant to such appointment. The term "guardian" shall not include a "dependency guardian" appointed pursuant to a proceeding under this chapter.

"Guardian ad litem" means a person, appointed by the court to represent the best interests of a child in a proceeding under this chapter, or in any matter which may be consolidated with a proceeding under this chapter. A "court-appointed special advocate" appointed by the court to be the guardian ad litem for the child, or to perform substantially the same duties and functions as a guardian ad litem, shall be deemed to be guardian ad litem for all purposes and uses of this chapter.

"Guardian ad litem program" means a court-authorized volunteer program, which is or may be established by the superior court of the county in which such proceeding is filed, to manage all aspects of volunteer guardian ad litem representation for children alleged or found to be dependent. "Indigent" means a person who, at any stage of a court proceeding, is:

(a) Receiving one of the following types of public assistance: Temporary assistance for needy families, general assistance, poverty-related veterans' benefits, food stamps or food stamp benefits transferred electronically, refugee resettlement benefits, medicaid, or supplemental security income; or

(1) Any person may file with the clerk of the superior court a petition showing that there is within the county, or residing within the county, a dependent child and ((praying)) requesting that the superior court deal with such child as provided in this chapter((—PROVIDED, That)). (2) In counties having paid probation officers, ((such)) these officers shall, ((as far as)) to the extent possible, first determine if ((such)) a petition is reasonably justifiable. ((Such)) Each petition shall be verified and ((shall)) contain a statement of facts constituting ((such)) a dependency, ((as defined in this chapter,)) and the names and residence, if known to the petitioner, of the parents, guardian, or custodian of ((such)) the alleged dependent child. (3) The petition and supporting documentation must be served on the parent, and ((the entity with whom)) if the child is in custody at the time the child is removed, on the entity with custody other than the parent. Sec. 4. RCW 13.34.060 and 1999 c 17 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A child taken into custody pursuant to RCW 13.34.050 or 26.44.050 shall be immediately placed in shelter care. A child taken by a relative of the child in violation of RCW 9A.40.060 or 9A.40.070 shall be placed in shelter care only when permitted under RCW 13.34.055. (a) Unless there is reasonable cause to believe that the health, safety, or welfare of the child would be jeopardized or that the efforts to reunite the parent and child will be hindered, priority placement for a child in shelter care shall be with any person described in RCW 74.15.020(2)(a). The person must be willing and available to care for the child and be able to meet any special needs of the child. If a child is not initially placed with a relative pursuant to this section, the supervising agency shall make an effort within available resources to place the child with a relative on the next business day after the child is taken into custody. The supervising agency shall document its effort to place the child with a relative pursuant to this section. Nothing within this subsection (1)(a) establishes an entitlement to services or a right to a particular placement.

(b) Whenever a child is taken into ((such)) custody pursuant to this section, the supervising agency may authorize evaluations of the child's physical or emotional condition, routine medical and dental examination and care, and all necessary emergency care. In no case may a child who is taken into custody pursuant to RCW 13.34.055, 13.34.050, or 26.44.050 be detained in a secure detention facility. No child may be held longer than seventy-two hours, excluding Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, after such child is taken into custody unless a court order has been entered for continued shelter care. The child and his or her parent, guardian, or custodian shall be informed that they have a right to a shelter care hearing. The court shall hold a shelter care hearing within seventy-two hours after the child is taken into custody, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays. If a parent, guardian, or legal custodian desires to waive the shelter care hearing, the court shall determine, on the record and with the parties present, ((that)) whether such waiver is knowing and voluntary.
Whenever a child is taken into custody by child protective services pursuant to a court order issued under RCW 13.34.050 or when child protective services is notified that a child has been taken into custody pursuant to RCW 26.44.050 or 26.44.056, child protective services shall make reasonable efforts to inform the parents, guardian, or legal custodian of the fact that the child has been taken into custody, the reasons why the child was taken into custody, and their legal rights under this title as soon as possible and in no event (longer) shall notice be provided more than twenty-four hours after the child has been taken into custody or twenty-four hours after child protective services has been notified that the child has been taken into custody. If the initial notification is provided by a means other than writing, child protective services shall make reasonable efforts to also provide written notification.

NOTICE

2. You have the right to have a lawyer represent you at the hearing. You have the right to record the department intends to rely upon. A lawyer can look at the files in your case, talk to child protective services and other agencies, tell you about the law, help you understand your rights, and help you at hearings. If you cannot afford a lawyer, the court will appoint one to represent you. To get a court-appointed lawyer you must contact: _______.

3. At the hearing, you have the right to speak on your own behalf, to introduce evidence, to examine witnesses, and to receive a decision based solely on the evidence presented to the judge.

4. If your hearing occurs before a court commissioner, you have the right to have the decision of the court commissioner reviewed by a superior court judge. To obtain that review, you must, within ten days after the entry of the decision of the court commissioner, file with the court a motion for revision of the decision, as provided in RCW 2.24.050.

You should be present at this hearing. If you do not come, the judge will not hear what you have to say.

You may call the Child Protective Services' caseworker for more information about your child. The caseworker's name and telephone number are: _______.

Upon receipt of the written notice, the parent, guardian, or legal custodian shall acknowledge such notice by signing a receipt prepared by child protective services. If the parent, guardian, or legal custodian does not sign the receipt, the reason for lack of a signature shall be written on the receipt. The receipt shall be made a part of the court's file in the dependency action.

If after making reasonable efforts to provide notification, child protective services is unable to determine the whereabouts of the parents, guardian, or legal custodian, the notice shall be delivered or sent to the last known address of the parent, guardian, or legal custodian.

If child protective services is not required to give notice under subsection (2) of this section, the juvenile court counselor assigned to the matter shall make all reasonable efforts to advise the parents, guardian, or legal custodian of the time and place of any shelter care hearing, request that they be present, and inform them of their basic rights as provided in RCW 43.34.090.

Reasonable efforts to advise and to give notice, as required in subsection (2) and (3) of this section, shall include, at a minimum, investigation of the whereabouts of the parent, guardian, or legal custodian. If such reasonable efforts are not successful, or the parent, guardian, or legal custodian does not appear at the shelter care hearing, the juvenile court counselor or caseworker shall testify at the hearing or state in a declaration:

(a) The efforts made to investigate the whereabouts of, and to advise, the parent, guardian, or legal custodian; and

(b) Whether actual advice of rights was made, to whom it was made, and how it was made, including the substance of any oral communication or copies of written materials used.

At the commencement of the shelter care hearing the court shall advise the parties of their basic rights as provided in RCW 13.34.090 and shall appoint counsel pursuant to RCW 13.34.090 if counsel has not been retained by the parent or guardian and if the parent or guardian is indigent, unless the court finds that the right to counsel has been expressly and voluntarily waived in court.

The court shall hear evidence regarding notice given to, and efforts to notify, the parent, guardian, or legal custodian and shall examine the need for shelter care. The court shall hear evidence regarding the efforts made to place the child with a relative. The court shall make an express finding as to whether the notice required under subsections (2) and (3) of this section was given to the parent, guardian, or legal custodian. All parties have the right to present testimony to the court regarding the need or lack of need for shelter care. Hearsay evidence before the court regarding the need or lack of need for shelter care must be supported by sworn testimony, affidavit, or declaration of the person offering such evidence.

(7) The juvenile court probation counselor shall submit a recommendation to the court as to the further need for shelter care, except that such recommendation shall be submitted by the department of social and health services in cases where the petition alleging dependency has been filed by the department of social and health services, unless otherwise ordered by the court.

(8) The court shall release a child alleged to be dependent to the care, custody, and control of the child’s parent, guardian, or legal custodian unless the court finds there is reasonable cause to believe that:
(a) After consideration of the specific services that have been provided, reasonable efforts have been made to prevent or eliminate the need for removal of the child from the child’s home and to make it possible for the child to return home; and
(b)(i) The child has no parent, guardian, or legal custodian to provide supervision and care for such child; or
(ii) The release of such child would present a serious threat of substantial harm to such child; or
(iii) The parent, guardian, or custodian to whom the child could be released is alleged to have violated RCW 9A.40.060 or 9A.40.070.

If the court does not release the child to his or her parent, guardian, or legal custodian, and the child was initially placed with a relative pursuant to subsection (1) of this section, the court shall order continued placement with a relative, unless there is reasonable cause to believe the safety or welfare of the child would be jeopardized. If the child was not initially placed with a relative, and the court does not release the child to his or her parent, guardian, or legal custodian, the supervising agency shall make reasonable efforts to locate a relative pursuant to subsection (1) of this section. If a relative is not available, the court shall order continued shelter care or order placement with another suitable person, and the court shall set forth its reasons for the order. The court shall enter a finding as to whether subsections (2) and (3) of this section have been complied with. If actual notice was not given to the parent, guardian, or legal custodian and the whereabouts of such person is known or can be ascertained, the court shall order the supervising agency or the department of social and health services to make reasonable efforts to advise the parent, guardian, or legal custodian of the status of the case, including the date and time of any subsequent hearings, and their rights under RCW 13.34.090.

(9) An order releasing the child on any conditions specified in this section may at any time be amended, with notice and hearing thereon, so as to return the child to shelter care for failure of the parties to conform to the conditions originally imposed.

The court shall consider whether nonconformance with any conditions resulted from circumstances beyond the control of the parent and give weight to that fact before ordering return of the child to shelter care.

(10) A shelter care order issued pursuant to this section may be amended at any time with notice and hearing thereon. The shelter care decision of placement shall be modified only upon a showing of change in circumstances. No child may be detained for longer than thirty days without an order, signed by the judge, authorizing continued shelter care.

(11) Any parent, guardian, or legal custodian who for good cause is unable to attend the initial shelter care hearing may request that a subsequent shelter care hearing be scheduled. The request shall be made to the clerk of the court where the petition is filed prior to the initial shelter care hearing. The hearing shall be held within seventy-two hours of the request, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays. The clerk shall notify all other parties of the hearing by any reasonable means.

(7) If the person summoned as provided in this section is subject to an order of the court pursuant to subsection (5) or (6) of this section, and if the person fails to abide by the order, he or she may be proceeded against as for contempt of court. NOTICE:
VIOLATION OF THIS ORDER IS SUBJECT TO PROCEEDING FOR CONTEMPT OF COURT PURSUANT TO RCW 13.34.070.

(8) If a party to be served with a summons can be found within the state, the summons shall be served upon the party personally as soon as possible following the filing of the petition, but in no case later than fifteen court days before the fact-finding hearing, or such time as set by the court. If a party other than the child is without the state but can be found or the address is known, or can with reasonable diligence be ascertained, service of the summons may be made either by delivering a copy ((thereof)) to the party personally or by mailing a copy thereof to the party by certified mail at least ten court days before the fact-finding hearing, or such time as set by the court.

(1) The court shall direct the clerk to publish notice in a legal newspaper printed in the county, qualified to publish summons, once a week for three consecutive weeks, with the first publication of the notice to be at least twenty-five days prior to the date fixed for the hearing when it appears by the petition or verified statement that:

((Such)) Notice shall be directed to the parent, parents, or other person claiming the right to the custody of the child, if their names are known((who)). If their names are unknown, the phrase "To whom it may concern" shall be used ((and)), apply to, and be binding upon, (any such) those persons whose names are unknown. The name of the court, the name of the child (or children if of one family), the date of the filing of the petition, the date of hearing, and the object of the proceeding in general terms shall be set forth((and the whole shall be subscribed by the clerk)). There shall be filed with the clerk an affidavit showing due publication of the notice((and)). The cost of publication shall be paid by the county at a rate not (to exceed) greater than the rate paid ((by the county)) for other legal notices. The publication of notice shall be deemed equivalent to personal service upon all persons, known or unknown, who have been designated as provided in this section.

Sec. 10. RCW 13.34.090 and 1998 c 328 s 3 and 1998 c 141 s 1 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) Any party has a right to be represented by an attorney in all proceedings under this chapter, to introduce evidence, to be heard in his or her own behalf, to examine witnesses, to receive a decision based solely on the evidence adduced at the hearing, and to an unbiased fact-finder.

(2) At all stages of a proceeding in which a child is alleged to be dependent ((as defined in RCW 13.34.030(4))), the child's parent, guardian, or legal custodian has the right to be represented by counsel, and if indigent, to have counsel appointed for him or her by the court. (3) If a party to an action under this chapter is represented by counsel, no order shall be provided to that party for his or her signature without prior notice and provision of the order to counsel.

(4) Copies of department of social and health services or supervising agency records to which parents have legal access pursuant to chapter 13.50 RCW shall be given to the child's parent, guardian, legal custodian, or his or her legal counsel, prior to any shelter care hearing and within fifteen days after the department or supervising agency receives a written request for such records from the parent, guardian, legal custodian, or his or her legal counsel. These records shall be provided to the child's parents, guardian, legal custodian, or legal counsel a reasonable period of time prior to the shelter care hearing in order to allow an opportunity to review the records prior to the hearing. These records shall be legible and shall be provided at no expense to the parents, guardian, legal custodian, or his or her counsel. When the records are served on legal counsel, legal counsel shall have the opportunity to review the records with the parents and shall review the records with the parents prior to the shelter care hearing.

Sec. 11. RCW 13.34.110 and 1995 c 313 s 1 and 1995 c 311 s 27 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

Sec. 11. RCW 13.34.110 and 1995 c 313 s 1 and 1995 c 311 s 27 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

The court shall hold a fact-finding hearing on the petition and, unless the court dismisses the petition, shall make written findings of fact, stating the reasons therefor. Immediately after the entry of the findings of fact, the court shall hold a disposition hearing, unless there is good cause for continuing the matter. If good cause is shown, the case may be continued. Notice of the time and place of the continued hearing may be given in open court. If notice in open court is not given to a party, that party shall be notified by certified mail of the time and place of any continued hearing. Unless there is reasonable cause to believe the health, safety, or welfare of the child would be jeopardized or efforts to reunite the parent and child would be hindered, the court shall direct the department to notify those adult persons who: (1) Are related by blood or marriage to the child in the following degrees: Parent, grandparent, brother, sister, stepparent, stepbrother, stepsister, uncle, or aunt; (2) are known to the department as having been in contact with the family or child within the past twelve months; and (3) would be an appropriate placement for the child. Reasonable cause to dispense with notification to a parent under this section must be proved by clear, cogent, and convincing evidence.

The parties need not appear at the fact-finding or dispositional hearing if the parties, their attorneys, the guardian ad litem, and court-appointed special advocates, if any, are all in agreement. The court shall receive and review a social study before entering an order based on agreement. No social file or social study may be considered by the court in connection with the fact-finding hearing or prior to factual determination, except as otherwise admissible under the rules of evidence. Notice of the time and place of the continued hearing may be given in open court. If notice in open court is not given to a party, that party shall be notified by mail of the time and place of any continued hearing.

All hearings may be conducted at any time or place within the limits of the county, and such cases may not be heard in conjunction with other business of any other division of the superior court. The general public shall be excluded, and only such persons may be admitted who are found by the judge to have a direct interest in the case or in the work of the court. Unless the court states on the record the reasons to disallow attendance, the court shall allow a child’s relatives and, if a child resides in foster care, the child’s foster parent, to attend all hearings and proceedings pertaining to the child for the sole purpose of providing oral and written information about the child and the child’s welfare to the court.

Stenographic notes or any device which accurately records the proceedings may be required as provided in other civil cases pursuant to RCW 2.32.200."

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. A new section is added to chapter 13.34 RCW to read as follows:

All hearings may be conducted at any time or place within the limits of the county, and such cases may not be heard in conjunction with other business of any other division of the superior court. The general public shall be excluded, and only such persons may be admitted who are found by the judge to have a direct interest in the case or in the work of the court. Unless the court states on the record the reasons to disallow attendance, the court shall allow a child’s relatives and, if a child resides in foster care, the child’s foster parent, to attend all hearings and proceedings pertaining to the child for the sole purpose of providing oral and written information about the child and the child’s welfare to the court.

Stenographic notes or any device which accurately records the proceedings may be required as provided in other civil cases pursuant to RCW 2.32.200.

Sec. 13. RCW 13.34.120 and 1998 c 328 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

Sec. 13. RCW 13.34.120 and 1998 c 328 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

To aid the court in its decision on disposition, a social study shall be made by the person or agency filing the petition. A parent may submit a counselor’s or health care provider’s evaluation of the parent, which shall either be included in the social study or considered in conjunction with the social study. The study shall include all social files and may also include facts relating to the child’s cultural heritage, and shall be made available to the court. The court shall consider the social file, social study, guardian ad litem report, the court-appointed special advocate’s report, if any, and any reports filed by a party at the disposition hearing in addition to evidence produced at the fact-finding hearing. At least ten working days before the disposition hearing, the department shall mail to the parent and his or her attorney a copy of the agency’s social study and proposed service plan, which shall be in writing or in a form understandable to the parents or custodians. In addition, the department shall provide an opportunity for parents to review and comment on the plan at the local office closest to the parents’ residence. If the parents disagree with the agency’s plan or any part thereof, the parents shall submit to the court at least twenty-four hours before the hearing, in writing, or signed oral statement, an alternative plan to correct the problems which led to the finding of dependency. This section shall not interfere with the right of the parents or custodians to submit oral arguments regarding the disposition plan at the hearing.

((2) In addition to the requirements set forth in subsection (1) of this section, a predisposition study to the court in cases of dependency alleged pursuant to RCW 13.34.030(4)(b) or (c) shall contain the following information:

(a) A statement of the specific harms to the child that intervention is designed to alleviate;

(b) A description of the specific programs, for both the parents and child, that are needed in order to prevent serious harm to the child; the reasons why such programs are likely to be useful; the availability of any proposed services; and the agency's overall plan for ensuring that the services will be delivered. The description shall identify services chosen and approved by the parent;

(c) If removal is recommended, a full description of the reasons why the child cannot be protected adequately in the home, including a description of any previous efforts to work with the parents and the child in the home; the in-home treatment programs which have been considered and rejected; the preventive services that have been offered or provided and have failed to prevent the need for out-of-home placement, unless the health, safety, and welfare of the child cannot be protected adequately in the home; and the parents' attitude toward placement of the child;

(d) A statement of the likely harms the child will suffer as a result of removal. This section should include an exploration of the nature of the parent-child attachment and the meaning of separation and loss to both the parents and the child;

(e) A description of the steps that will be taken to minimize harm to the child that may result if separation occurs; and

(f) Behavior that will be expected before determination that supervision of the family or placement is no longer necessary.)

NEW SECTION, Sec. 14. A new section is added to chapter 13.34 RCW to read as follows:

If the most recent date that a child was removed from the home of the parent, guardian, or legal custodian for purposes of placement in out-of-home care occurred prior to the filing of a dependency petition or after filing but prior to entry of a disposition order, such time periods shall be included when calculating the length of the child's current placement episode.

Sec. 15. RCW 13.34.130 and 1999 c 267 s 16, 1999 c 267 s 9, and 1999 c 173 s 3 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

If, after a fact-finding hearing pursuant to RCW 13.34.110, it has been proven by a preponderance of the evidence that the child is dependent within the meaning of RCW 13.34.030((c)) after consideration of the predisposition report social study prepared pursuant to RCW 13.34.110 and after a disposition hearing has been held pursuant to RCW 13.34.110, the court shall enter an order of disposition pursuant to this section.

(1) The court shall order one of the following dispositions of the case:

(a) Order a disposition other than removal of the child from his or her home, which shall provide a program designed to alleviate the immediate danger to the child, to mitigate or cure any damage the child has already suffered, and to aid the parents so that the child will not be endangered in the future. In selecting a program determining the disposition, the court should choose those services, including housing assistance, that least interfere with family autonomy provided that the services, and are adequate to protect the child.

(b) Order (that) the child to be removed from his or her home and into the custody, control, and care of a relative or the department of social and health services or a licensed child placing agency for placement in a foster family home or group care facility licensed pursuant to chapter 74.15 RCW or in a home not required to be licensed pursuant to chapter 74.15 RCW. Unless there is reasonable cause to believe that the health, safety, or welfare of the child would be jeopardized or that efforts to reunite the parent and child will be hindered, such child shall be placed with a person who is: (i) Related to the child as defined in RCW 74.15.020(2)(a); and (ii) with whom the child has a relationship and is comfortable; and (iii) willing and available to care for the child.

(2) Placement of the child with a relative under this subsection shall be given preference by the court. An order for out-of-home placement may be made only if the court finds that reasonable efforts have been made to prevent or eliminate the need for removal of the child from the child's home and to make it possible for the child to return home, specifying the services that have been provided to the child and the child's parent, guardian, or legal custodian, and that preventive services have been offered or provided and have failed to prevent the need for out-of-home placement, unless the health, safety, and welfare of the child cannot be protected adequately in the home, and that:

(i) There is no parent or guardian available to care for such child;

(ii) The parent, guardian, or legal custodian is not willing to take custody of the child; or

(iii) The court finds, by clear, cogent, and convincing evidence, a manifest danger exists that the child will suffer serious abuse or neglect if the child is not removed from the home and an order under RCW 26.44.063 would not protect the child from danger.
(iv) The extent of the child’s disability is such that the parent, guardian, or legal custodian is unable to provide the necessary care for the child and the parent, guardian, or legal custodian has determined that the child would benefit from placement outside of the home).

((2)(i)) (3) If the court has ordered a child removed from his or her home pursuant to subsection (1)(b) of this section, the court may order that a petition seeking termination of the parent and child relationship be filed if the ((court finds: (a) Termination is recommended by the supervising agency; (b) termination is in the best interests of the child; and (c) that because of the existence of aggravated circumstances, reasonable efforts to unify the family are not required. Notwithstanding the existence of aggravated circumstances, reasonable efforts may be required if the court or department determines it is in the best interest of the child. In determining whether aggravated circumstances exist by clear, cogent, and convincing evidence, the court shall consider one or more of the following:

(i) Conviction of the parent of rape of the child in the first, second, or third degree as defined in RCW 9A.44.073, 9A.44.076, and 9A.44.079;

(ii) Conviction of the parent of criminal mistreatment of the child in the first or second degree as defined in RCW 9A.42.020 and 9A.42.030;

(iii) Conviction of the parent of one of the following assault crimes, when the child is the victim: Assault in the first or second degree as defined in RCW 9A.36.011 and 9A.36.021 or assault of a child in the first or second degree as defined in RCW 9A.36.120 or 9A.36.130;

(iv) Conviction of the parent of murder, manslaughter, or homicide by abuse of the child’s other parent, sibling, or another child;

(v) Conviction of the parent of attempting, soliciting, or conspiring to commit a crime listed in (a)(i), (ii), (iii), or (iv) of this subsection;

(vi) A finding by a court that a parent is a sexually violent predator as defined in RCW 71.09.020;

(vii) Failure of the parent to complete available treatment ordered under this chapter or the equivalent laws of another state, where such failure has resulted in a prior termination of parental rights to another child and the parent has failed to effect significant change in the interim. In the case of a parent of an Indian child, as defined in the Indian Child Welfare Act, P.L. 95-608 (25 U.S.C. Sec. 1903), the court shall also consider tribal efforts to assist the parent in completing treatment and make it possible for the child to return home;

(viii) An infant under three years of age has been abandoned as defined in RCW 13.34.030(4)(a);

(ix) The mother has given birth to three or more drug affected infants, resulting in the department filing a petition under section 23, chapter 314, Laws of 1998;

(x) Conviction of the parent of a sex offense under chapter 9A.44 RCW or incest under RCW 9A.64.020 when the child is born of the offense.

(3) If reasonable efforts are not ordered under subsection (2) of this section a permanency planning hearing shall be held within thirty days. Reasonable efforts shall be made to place the child in a timely manner in accordance with the permanency plan, and to complete whatever steps are necessary to finalize the permanent placement of the child.

(4) Whenever a child is ordered removed from the child’s home, the agency charged with his or her care shall provide the court with:

(a) A permanency plan of care that shall identify one of the following outcomes as a primary goal and may identify additional outcomes as alternative goals: Return of the child to the home of the child’s parent, guardian, or legal custodian; adoption; guardianship; permanent legal custody; long-term relative or foster care, until the child is age eighteen, with a written agreement between the parties and the care provider; and independent living, if appropriate and if the child is age sixteen or older; or a responsible living skills program. Whenever a permanency plan identifies independent living as a goal, the plan shall also specifically identify the services that will be provided to assist the child to make a successful transition from foster care to independent living. Before the court approves independent living as a permanency plan of care, the court shall make a finding that the provision of services to assist the child in making a transition from foster care to independent living will allow the child to manage his or her financial affairs and to manage his or her personal, social, educational, and nonfinancial affairs. The department shall not discharge a child to an independent living situation before the child is eighteen years of age unless the child becomes emancipated pursuant to chapter 13.64 RCW.

(b) Unless the court has ordered, pursuant to subsection (2) of this section, that a termination petition be filed, a specific plan as to where the child will be placed, what steps will be taken to return the child home, and what actions the agency will take to maintain parent-child ties. All aspects of the plan shall include the goal of achieving permanence for the child.

(i) The agency plan shall specify what services the parents will be offered in order to enable them to resume custody, what requirements the parents must meet in order to resume custody, and a time limit for each service plan and parental requirement.
(ii) The agency shall be required to encourage the maximum parent-child contact possible, including regular visitation and participation by the parents in the care of the child while the child is in placement. Visitations may be limited or denied only if the court determines that such limitation or denial is necessary to protect the child's health, safety, or welfare.

(iii) A child shall be placed as close to the child's home as possible, preferably in the child's own neighborhood, unless the court finds that placement at a greater distance is necessary to promote the child's or parents' well-being.

(iv) The agency charged with supervising a child in placement shall provide all reasonable services that are available within the agency, or within the community, or those services which the department of social and health services has existing contracts to purchase. It shall report to the court if it is unable to provide such services.

(c) If the court has ordered, pursuant to subsection (2) of this section, that a termination petition be filed, a specific plan as to where the child will be placed, what steps will be taken to achieve permanency for the child, services to be offered or provided to the child, and, if visitation would be in the best interests of the child, a recommendation to the court regarding visitation between parent and child pending a fact-finding hearing on the termination petition. The agency shall not be required to develop a plan of services for the parents or provide services to the parents.

(5) If the court determines that the continuation of reasonable efforts to prevent or eliminate the need to remove the child from his or her home or to safely return the child home should not be part of the permanency plan of care for the child, reasonable efforts shall be made to place the child in a timely manner and to complete whatever steps are necessary to finalize the permanent placement of the child.

(6) Where it is determined that the continuing need for placement and whether the placement is appropriate;

(7) Whether there is a continuing need for placement and whether the placement is appropriate;

(8) Whether there has been compliance with the case plan by the child, the child's parents, and the agency supervising the placement;

(9) Whether progress has been made toward correcting the problems that necessitated the child's placement in out-of-home care;

(10) Whether the parents have visited the child and any reasons why visitation has not occurred or has been infrequent;

(11) Whether additional services, including housing assistance, are needed to facilitate the return of the child to the child's parents; if so, the court shall order that reasonable services be offered specifying such services; and

(12) The projected date by which the child will be returned home or other permanent plan of care will be implemented.

(a) A child shall not be returned home at the review hearing unless the court finds that a reason for removal as set forth in this section no longer exists.

(b) The age, the child's contact possible, including regular visitation and participation by the parents in the care of the child while the child is in placement. Visitations may be limited or denied only if the court determines that such limitation or denial is necessary to protect the child's health, safety, or welfare.

(c) A child shall be placed as close to the child's home as possible, preferably in the child's own neighborhood, unless the court finds that placement at a greater distance is necessary to promote the child's or parents' well-being.

(d) The agency charged with supervising a child in placement shall provide all reasonable services that are available within the agency, or within the community, or those services which the department of social and health services has existing contracts to purchase. It shall report to the court if it is unable to provide such services.

(3) If the court has ordered, pursuant to subsection (2) of this section, that a termination petition be filed, a specific plan as to where the child will be placed, what steps will be taken to achieve permanency for the child, services to be offered or provided to the child, and, if visitation would be in the best interests of the child, a recommendation to the court regarding visitation between parent and child pending a fact-finding hearing on the termination petition. The agency shall not be required to develop a plan of services for the parents or provide services to the parents.

(4) If the court determines that the continuation of reasonable efforts to prevent or eliminate the need to remove the child from his or her home or to safely return the child home should not be part of the permanency plan of care for the child, reasonable efforts shall be made to place the child in a timely manner and to complete whatever steps are necessary to finalize the permanent placement of the child.

(5) Requirements of section 16 of this act are met.

(6) If there is insufficient information at the time of the disposition hearing upon which to base a determination regarding the suitability of a proposed placement with a relative, the child shall remain in foster care and the court shall direct the supervising agency to conduct necessary background investigations as provided in chapter 74.15 RCW and report the results of such investigation to the court within thirty days. However, if such relative appears otherwise suitable and competent to provide care and treatment, the criminal history background check need not be completed before placement, but as soon as possible after placement. Any placements with relatives, pursuant to this section, shall be contingent upon cooperation by the relative with the agency case plan and compliance with court orders related to the care and supervision of the child including, but not limited to, court orders regarding parent-child contacts and any other conditions imposed by the court. Noncompliance with the case plan or court order shall be grounds for removal of the child from the relative's home, subject to review by the court.

(7) Except for children whose cases are reviewed by a citizen review board under chapter 13.70 RCW, the status of all children found to be dependent shall be reviewed by the court at least every six months from the beginning date of the placement episode or the date dependency is established, whichever is first, at a hearing in which it shall be determined whether court supervision should continue. The review shall include findings regarding the agency and parental completion of disposition plan requirements, if necessary, revised permanency time limits. The supervising agency shall provide a foster parent, preadoptive parent, or relative with notice of, and their right to an opportunity to be heard, a review hearing pertaining to the child, but only if that person is currently providing care to that child at the time of the hearing. This section shall not be construed to grant party status to any person who has been provided an opportunity to be heard.

(a) A child shall not be returned home at the review hearing unless the court finds that a reason for removal as set forth in this section no longer exists.

(b) If the child is not returned home, the court shall establish in writing:

(i) Whether reasonable services have been provided to or offered to the parties to facilitate reunion, specifying the services provided or offered;

(ii) Whether the child has been placed in the least restrictive setting appropriate to the child's needs, including whether consideration and preference has been given to placement with the child's relatives;

(iii) Whether there is a continuing need for placement and whether the placement is appropriate;

(iv) Whether there has been compliance with the case plan by the child, the child's parents, and the agency supervising the placement;

(v) Whether progress has been made toward correcting the problems that necessitated the child's placement in out-of-home care;

(vi) Whether the parents have visited the child and any reasons why visitation has not occurred or has been infrequent;

(vii) Whether additional services, including housing assistance, are needed to facilitate the return of the child to the child's parents; if so, the court shall order that reasonable services be offered specifying such services; and

The court at the review hearing may order that a petition seeking termination of the parent and child relationship be filed.

The court’s ability to order housing assistance under this section is:

(a) Limited to cases in which homelessness or the lack of adequate and safe housing is the primary reason for an out-of-home placement; and
(b) subject to the availability of funds appropriated for this specific purpose.)

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. A new section is added to chapter 13.34 RCW to read as follows:

A court may order that a petition seeking termination of the parent and child relationship be filed if the following requirements are met:

(1) The court has removed the child from his or her home pursuant to RCW 13.34.130;
(2) Termination is recommended by the supervising agency;
(3) Termination is in the best interests of the child; and
(4) Because of the existence of aggravated circumstances, reasonable efforts to unify the family are not required.

Notwithstanding the existence of aggravated circumstances, reasonable efforts may be required if the court or department determines it is in the best interests of the child. In determining whether aggravated circumstances exist by clear, cogent, and convincing evidence, the court shall consider one or more of the following:

(a) Conviction of the parent of rape of the child in the first, second, or third degree as defined in RCW 9A.44.073, 9A.44.076, and 9A.44.079;
(b) Conviction of the parent of criminal mistreatment of the child in the first or second degree as defined in RCW 9A.42.020 and 9A.42.030;
(c) Conviction of the parent of one of the following assault crimes, when the child is the victim: Assault in the first or second degree as defined in RCW 9A.36.011 and 9A.36.021 or assault of a child in the first or second degree as defined in RCW 9A.36.120 or 9A.36.130;
(d) Conviction of the parent of murder, manslaughter, or homicide by abuse of the child’s other parent, sibling, or another child;
(e) Conviction of the parent of attempting, soliciting, or conspiring to commit a crime listed in (a), (b), (c), or (d) of this subsection;
(f) A finding by a court that a parent is a sexually violent predator as defined in RCW 71.09.020;
(g) Failure of the parent to complete available treatment ordered under this chapter or the equivalent laws of another state, where such failure has resulted in a prior termination of parental rights to another child and the parent has failed to effect significant change in the interim. In the case of a parent of an Indian child, as defined in the Indian Child Welfare Act, P.L. 95-608 (25 U.S.C. Sec. 1903), the court shall also consider tribal efforts to assist the parent in completing treatment and make it possible for the child to return home;
(h) An infant under three years of age has been abandoned;
(i) Conviction of the parent, when a child has been born of the offense, of: (A) A sex offense under chapter 9A.44 RCW; or (B) incest under RCW 9A.64.020.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. A new section is added to chapter 13.34 RCW to read as follows:

If reasonable efforts are not ordered under section 16 of this act, a permanency planning hearing shall be held within thirty days of the court order to file a petition to terminate parental rights. Reasonable efforts shall be made to place the child in a timely manner in accordance with the permanency plan, and to complete whatever steps are necessary to finalize the permanent placement of the child.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. A new section is added to chapter 13.34 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Whenever a child is ordered removed from the child’s home, the agency charged with his or her care shall provide the court with:

(a) A permanency plan of care that shall identify one of the following outcomes as a primary goal and may identify additional outcomes as alternative goals: Return of the child to the home of the child’s parent, guardian, or legal custodian; adoption; guardianship; permanent legal custody; long-term relative or foster care, until the child is age eighteen, with a written agreement between the parties and the care provider; successful completion of a responsible living skills program; or independent living, if appropriate and if the child is age sixteen or older. The department shall not discharge a child to an independent living situation before the child is eighteen years of age unless the child becomes emancipated pursuant to chapter 13.64 RCW;
(b) Unless the court has ordered, pursuant to RCW 13.34.130(3), that a termination petition be filed, a specific plan as to where the child will be placed, what steps will be taken to return the child home, and what actions the agency will take to maintain parent-child ties. All aspects of the plan shall include the goal of achieving permanence for the child.
(i) The agency plan shall specify what services the parents will be offered to enable them to resume custody, what requirements the parents must meet to resume custody, and a time limit for each service plan and parental requirement.
(ii) The agency shall encourage the maximum parent-child contact possible, including regular visitation and participation by the parents in the care of the child while the child is in placement. Visitation may be limited or denied only if the court determines that such limitation or denial is necessary to protect the child's health, safety, or welfare.

(iii) A child shall be placed as close to the child's home as possible, preferably in the child's own neighborhood, unless the court finds that placement at a greater distance is necessary to promote the child's or parents' well-being.

(iv) The agency charged with supervising a child in placement shall provide all reasonable services that are available within the agency, or within the community, or those services which the department has existing contracts to purchase. It shall report to the court if it is unable to provide such services; and

(c) If the court has ordered, pursuant to RCW 13.34.130(3), that a termination petition be filed, a specific plan as to where the child will be placed, what steps will be taken to achieve permanency for the child, services to be offered or provided to the child, and, if visitation would be in the best interests of the child, a recommendation to the court regarding visitation between parent and child pending a fact-finding hearing on the termination petition. The agency shall not be required to develop a plan of services for the parents or provide services to the parents if the court orders a termination petition be filed.

(2) If the court determines that the continuation of reasonable efforts to prevent or eliminate the need to remove the child from his or her home or to safely return the child home should not be part of the permanency plan of care for the child, reasonable efforts shall be made to place the child in a timely manner and to complete whatever steps are necessary to finalize the permanent placement of the child.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. A new section is added to chapter 13.34 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Except for children whose cases are reviewed by a citizen review board under chapter 13.70 RCW, the status of all children found to be dependent shall be reviewed by the court at least every six months from the beginning date of the placement episode or the date dependency is established, whichever is first, at a hearing in which it shall be determined whether court supervision should continue. The review shall include findings regarding the agency and parental completion of disposition plan requirements, and if necessary, revised permanency time limits. The supervising agency shall provide a foster parent, preadoptive parent, or relative with notice of, and their right to an opportunity to be heard in, a review hearing pertaining to the child, but only if that person is currently providing care to that child at the time of the hearing. This section shall not be construed to grant party status to any person who has been provided an opportunity to be heard.

(a) A child shall not be returned home at the review hearing unless the court finds that a reason for removal as set forth in RCW 13.34.130 no longer exists. The parents, guardian, or legal custodian shall report to the court the efforts they have made to correct the conditions which led to removal. If a child is returned, casework supervision shall continue for a period of six months, at which time there shall be a hearing on the need for continued intervention.

(b) If the child is not returned home, the court shall establish in writing:

(i) Whether reasonable services have been provided to or offered to the parties to facilitate reunion, specifying the services provided or offered;

(ii) Whether the child has been placed in the least-restrictive setting appropriate to the child's needs, including whether consideration and preference has been given to placement with the child's relatives;

(iii) Whether there is a continuing need for placement and whether the placement is appropriate;

(iv) Whether there has been compliance with the case plan by the child, the child's parents, and the agency supervising the placement;

(v) Whether progress has been made toward correcting the problems that necessitated the child's placement in out-of-home care;

(vi) Whether the parents have visited the child and any reasons why visitation has not occurred or has been infrequent;

(vii) Whether additional services, including housing assistance, are needed to facilitate the return of the child to the child's parents; if so, the court shall order that reasonable services be offered specifying such services; and

(c) The court at the review hearing may order that a petition seeking termination of the parent and child relationship be filed.

(2) The court's ability to order housing assistance under RCW 13.34.130 and this section is: (a) Limited to cases in which homelessness or the lack of adequate and safe housing is the primary reason for an out-of-home placement; and (b) subject to the availability of funds appropriated for this specific purpose.

Sec. 20. RCW 13.34.145 and 1999 c 267 s 17 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A permanency plan shall be developed no later than sixty days from the time the supervising agency assumes responsibility for providing services, including placing the child, or at the time of a hearing under RCW 13.34.130, whichever occurs first. The permanency planning process continues until a permanency planning goal is achieved or dependency is dismissed. The planning process shall include reasonable efforts to return the child to the parent's home.
(a) Whenever a child is placed in out-of-home care pursuant to RCW 13.34.130, the agency that has custody of the child shall provide the court with a written permanency plan of care directed towards securing a safe, stable, and permanent home for the child as soon as possible. The plan shall identify one of the following outcomes as the primary goal and may also identify additional outcomes as alternative goals: Return of the child to the home of the child's parent, guardian, or legal custodian; adoption; guardianship; permanent legal custody; long-term relative or foster care, until the child is age eighteen, with a written agreement between the parties and the care provider; a responsible living skills program; and independent living, if appropriate and if the child is age sixteen or older and the provisions of subsection (2) of this section are met.

(b) The identified outcomes and goals of the permanency plan may change over time based upon the circumstances of the particular case.

(c) Permanency planning goals should be achieved at the earliest possible date, preferably before the child has been in out-of-home care for fifteen months. In cases where parental rights have been terminated, the child is legally free for adoption, and adoption has been identified as the primary permanency planning goal, it shall be a goal to complete the adoption within six months following entry of the termination order.

(d) For purposes related to permanency planning:
   (i) “Guardianship” means a dependency guardianship ((pursuant to this chapter)), a legal guardianship pursuant to chapter 11.88 RCW, or equivalent laws of another state or a federally recognized Indian tribe.
   (ii) “Permanent custody order” means a custod order entered pursuant to chapter 26.10 RCW.
   (iii) “Permanent legal custody” means legal custody pursuant to chapter 26.10 RCW or equivalent laws of another state or a federally recognized Indian tribe.

(2) Whenever a permanency plan identifies independent living as a goal, the plan shall also specifically identify the services that will be provided to assist the child to make a successful transition from foster care to independent living. Before the court approves independent living as a permanency plan of care, the court shall make a finding that the provision of services to assist the child in making a transition from foster care to independent living will allow the child to manage his or her financial affairs and to manage his or her personal, social, educational, and nonfinancial affairs. The department shall not discharge a child to an independent living situation before the child is eighteen years of age unless the child becomes emancipated pursuant to chapter 13.64 RCW.

(3) A permanency planning hearing shall be held in all cases where the child has remained in out-of-home care for at least nine months and an adoption decree, guardianship order, or permanent custody order has not previously been entered. The hearing shall take place no later than twelve months following commencement of the current placement episode.

(4) Whenever a child is removed from the home of a dependency guardian or long-term relative or foster care provider, and the child is not returned to the home of the parent, guardian, or legal custodian but is placed in out-of-home care, a permanency planning hearing shall take place no later than twelve months, as provided in subsection (3) of this section, following the date of removal unless, prior to the hearing, the child returns to the home of the dependency guardian or long-term care provider, the child is placed in the home of the parent, guardian, or legal custodian, an adoption decree, guardianship order, or a permanent custody order is entered, or the dependency is dismissed.

(5) No later than ten working days prior to the permanency planning hearing, the agency having custody of the child shall submit a written permanency plan to the court and shall mail a copy of the plan to all parties and their legal counsel, if any.

(6) At the permanency planning hearing, the court shall enter findings as required by ((RCW 13.34.130(7))) section 19 of this act and shall review the permanency plan prepared by the agency. If the child has resided in the home of a foster parent or relative for more than six months prior to the permanency planning hearing, the court shall also enter a finding regarding whether the foster parent or relative was informed of the hearing as required in RCW 74.13.280 and ((RCW 13.34.130(7))) section 19 of this act. If a goal of long-term foster or relative care has been achieved prior to the permanency planning hearing, the court shall review the child's status to determine whether the placement and the plan for the child's care remain appropriate. In cases where the primary permanency planning goal has not ((been)) been achieved, the court shall inquire regarding the reasons why the primary goal has not been achieved and determine what needs to be done to make it possible to achieve the primary goal. In all cases, the court shall:
   (a)(i) Order the permanency plan prepared by the agency to be implemented; or
   (ii) Modify the permanency plan, and order implementation of the modified plan; and
   (b)(i) Order the child returned home only if the court finds that a reason for removal as set forth in RCW 13.34.130 no longer exists; or
   (ii) Order the child to remain in out-of-home care for a limited specified time period while efforts are made to implement the permanency plan.
(7) If the court orders the child returned home, casework supervision shall continue for at least six months, at which time a review hearing shall be held pursuant to (RCW 13.34.130(7)) section 19 of this act, and the court shall determine the need for continued intervention.

(8) Continued juvenile court jurisdiction under this chapter shall not be a barrier to the entry of an order establishing a legal guardianship or permanent legal custody when:(a) the court has ordered implementation of a permanency plan that includes legal guardianship or permanent legal custody; and (b) the party pursuing the legal guardianship or permanent legal custody is the party identified in the permanency plan as the prospective legal guardian or custodian. During the pendency of such proceeding, (juvenile) the court shall conduct review hearings and further permanency planning hearings as provided in this chapter. At the conclusion of the legal guardianship or permanent legal custody proceeding, a juvenile court hearing shall be held for the purpose of determining whether dependency should be dismissed. If a guardianship or permanent custody order has been entered, the dependency shall be dismissed.

(9) Following the first permanency planning hearing, the court shall hold a further permanency planning hearing in accordance with this section at least once every twelve months until a permanency planning goal is achieved or the dependency is dismissed, whichever occurs first.

(10) Except as (otherwise) provided in RCW 13.34.235, the status of all dependent children shall continue to be reviewed by the court at least once every six months, in accordance with (RCW 13.34.130(7)) section 19 of this act, until the dependency is dismissed. Prior to the second permanency planning hearing, the agency that has custody of the child shall consider whether to file a petition for termination of parental rights.

(11) Nothing in this chapter may be construed to limit the ability of the agency that has custody of the child to file a petition for termination of parental rights or a guardianship petition at any time following the establishment of dependency. Upon the filing of such a petition, a finding of contempt shall be scheduled and held in accordance with this chapter unless the agency requests dismissal of the petition prior to the hearing or unless the parties enter an agreed order terminating parental rights, establishing guardianship, or otherwise resolving the matter.

(12) The approval of a permanency plan that does not contemplate return of the child to the parent does not relieve the supervising agency of its obligation to provide reasonable services, under this chapter, intended to effectuate the return of the child to the parent, including but not limited to, visitation rights.

(13) Nothing in this chapter may be construed to limit the procedural due process rights of any party in a termination or guardianship proceeding filed under this chapter.

Sec. 21. RCW 13.34.165 and 1998 c 296 s 38 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Failure by a party to comply with an order entered under this chapter is civil contempt of court as provided in RCW 7.21.030(2)(e).

(2) The maximum term of (imprisonment) confinement that may be imposed as a remedial sanction for contempt of court under this section is confinement for up to seven days.

(3) A child (imprisoned) held for contempt under this section shall be confined only in a secure juvenile detention facility operated by or pursuant to a contract with a county.

(4) A motion for contempt may be made by a parent, juvenile court personnel, or by any public agency, organization, or person having custody of the child under a court order entered pursuant to this chapter.

(5) Whenever the court finds probable cause to believe, based upon consideration of a motion for contempt and the information set forth in a supporting declaration, that a child has violated a placement order entered under this chapter, the court may issue an order directing law enforcement to pick up and take the child to detention. The order may be entered ex parte without prior notice to the child or other parties. Following the child's admission to detention, a detention review hearing must be held in accordance with RCW 13.32A.065.

Sec. 22. RCW 13.34.170 and 1981 c 195 s 9 are each amended to read as follows:

In any case in which (an order or decree of) the (juvenile) court (requiring) has ordered a parent or parents, guardian, or other person having custody of a child to pay (for shelter care and/or) support (of such child is) under RCW 13.34.160 and the order has not been complied with, the court may, upon such person or persons being duly summoned or voluntarily appearing, proceed to inquire into the amount due upon ((said) the order (of decree)) and enter judgment for (such) that amount against the defaulting party or parties, and (such) the judgment shall be docketed as are other judgments for the payment of money.

In such judgments, the county in which the (same are) order is entered shall be (denominated) the judgment creditor, or the state may be the judgment creditor where the child is in the custody of a state agency (and said) judgments may be enforced by the prosecuting attorney of (such) the county, or the attorney general where the state is the judgment creditor and any moneys recovered (thereon) shall be paid into the registry of the juvenile court and shall be disbursed to such person, persons, agency, or governmental department as the court (shall find to be) finds is entitled (thereof) to it.
Such judgments shall remain valid and enforceable for a period of ten years after the date of entry.

Sec. 23. RCW 13.34.174 and 1993 c 412 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:
(1) The provisions of this section shall apply when a court orders a party to undergo an alcohol or substance abuse diagnosis treatment.
(2) The facility conducting the investigation and evaluation shall make a written report to the court stating its findings and recommendations including family-based services or treatment when appropriate. If its findings and recommendations support treatment, it shall also recommend a treatment plan setting out:
(a) Type of treatment;
(b) Nature of treatment;
(c) Length of treatment;
(d) A treatment time schedule; and
(e) Approximate cost of the treatment.
The affected person shall be included in developing the appropriate treatment plan. The treatment plan must be signed by the treatment provider and the affected person. The initial written progress report based on the treatment plan shall be sent to the appropriate persons six weeks after initiation of treatment. Subsequent progress reports shall be provided after three months, six months, twelve months, and thereafter every six months if treatment exceeds twelve months. Reports are to be filed with the court in a timely manner. Close-out of the treatment record must include summary of pretreatment and posttreatment, with final outcome and disposition. The report shall also include recommendations for ongoing stability and decrease in destructive behavior.
(3) Each report shall also be filed with the court and a copy given to the person evaluated and the person's counsel. A copy of the treatment plan shall also be given to the department's caseworker and to the guardian ad litem.
(4) If the court has ordered treatment pursuant to a dependency proceeding it shall also require the treatment program to provide, in the reports required by subsection (2) of this section, status reports to the court, the department, the supervising child-placing agency if any, and the person or person's counsel regarding the person's cooperation with the treatment plan proposed and the person's progress in treatment.
(5) Nothing in this chapter may be construed as allowing the court to require the department to pay for the cost of any alcohol or substance abuse evaluation or treatment program.

Sec. 24. RCW 13.34.176 and 1993 c 412 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:
(1) The court, upon receiving a report under RCW 13.34.174(4) or at the department's request, may schedule a show cause hearing to determine whether the person is in violation of the treatment conditions. All parties shall be given notice of the hearing. The court shall hold the hearing within ten days of the request for a hearing. The hearing shall be conducted in a timely manner.
(2) If the court finds that there has been a violation of the treatment conditions it shall modify the dependency order, as necessary, to ensure the safety of the child. The modified order shall remain in effect until the party is in full compliance with the treatment requirements.

Sec. 25. RCW 13.34.180 and 1998 c 314 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:
A petition seeking termination of a parent and child relationship may be filed in juvenile court by any party to the dependency proceedings concerning that child. Such petition shall conform to the requirements of RCW 13.34.040, shall be served upon the parties as provided in RCW 13.34.070(8), and shall allege all of the following unless subsection (2) or (3) of this section applies:
(a) That the child has been found to be a dependent child;
(b) That the court has entered a dispositional order pursuant to RCW 13.34.130;
(c) That the child has been removed or will, at the time of the hearing, have been removed from the custody of the parent for a period of at least six months pursuant to a finding of dependency;
That the services ordered under ((RCW 13.34.130)) section 18 of this act have been expressly and understandably offered or provided and all necessary services, reasonably available, capable of correcting the parental deficiencies within the foreseeable future have been expressly and understandably offered or provided; (and)

That there is little likelihood that conditions will be remedied so that the child can be returned to the parent in the near future. A parent's failure to substantially improve parental deficiencies within twelve months following entry of the dispositional order shall give rise to a rebuttable presumption that there is little likelihood that conditions will be remedied so that the child can be returned to the parent in the near future. The presumption shall not arise unless the petitioner makes a showing that all necessary services reasonably capable of correcting the parental deficiencies within the foreseeable future have been clearly offered or provided. In determining whether the conditions will be remedied the court may consider, but is not limited to, the following factors:

(i) Use of intoxicating or controlled substances so as to render the parent incapable of providing proper care for the child for extended periods of time and documented unwillingness of the parent to receive and complete treatment or documented multiple failed treatment attempts; or

Psychological incapacity or mental deficiency of the parent that is so severe and chronic as to render the parent incapable of providing proper care for the child for extended periods of time, and documented unwillingness of the parent to receive and complete treatment or documentation that there is no treatment that can render the parent capable of providing proper care for the child in the near future; and

That continuation of the parent and child relationship clearly diminishes the child's prospects for early integration into a stable and permanent home; or

In lieu of the allegations in subsection((a)) (1) ((through (f))) of this section, the petition may allege that the child was found under such circumstances that the whereabouts of the child's parent are unknown and no person has acknowledged paternity or maternity and requested custody of the child within two months after the child was found; or

In lieu of the allegations in subsection((a) (2) through (6)) (1)(b) through (f) of this section, the petition may allege that the parent has been ((found by a court of competent jurisdiction)) convicted of:
(a) Murder in the first degree, murder in the second degree, or homicide by abuse as defined in chapter 9A.32 RCW, against another child of the parent;
(b) Manslaughter in the first degree or manslaughter in the second degree, as defined in chapter 9A.32 RCW, against another child of the parent;
(c) Attempting, conspiring, or soliciting another to commit one or more of the crimes listed in (a) or (b) of this subsection; or
(d) Assault in the first or second degree, as defined in chapter 9A.36 RCW, against the surviving child or another child of the parent.

Notice of rights shall be served upon the parent, guardian, or legal custodian with the petition and shall be in substantially the following form:

"NOTICE

1. You have the right to a fact-finding hearing before a judge.

2. You have the right to have a lawyer represent you at the hearing. A lawyer can look at the files in your case, talk to the department of social and health services and other agencies, tell you about the law, help you understand your rights, and help you at hearings. Sec. 26. RCW 13.34.190 and 1998 c 314 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

After hearings pursuant to RCW 13.34.110 or 13.34.130, the court may enter an order terminating all parental rights to a child only if the court finds that:

(1)(a) The allegations contained in the petition as provided in RCW 13.34.180(1) ((through (f))) are established by clear, cogent, and convincing evidence; or
(b) [(RCW 13.34.180 (3) and (4) may be waived because the allegations under)) The provisions of RCW 13.34.180 (1)(e), (2), (5), and (6)) (a), (b), (e), and (f) are established beyond a reasonable doubt and if so, then RCW 13.34.180(1) (c) and (d) may be waived. When an infant has been abandoned, as defined in RCW 13.34.030, and the abandonment has been proved beyond a reasonable doubt, then RCW 13.34.180(1) (c) and (d) may be waived; or

(c) The allegation under RCW 13.34.180(((2))) is established beyond a reasonable doubt. In determining whether RCW 13.34.180 (((5) and (6))) (1) (e) and (f) are established beyond a reasonable doubt, the court shall consider whether one or more of the aggravating circumstances listed in (((RCW 13.34.130(2))) section 16 of this act) exist; or

(d) The allegation under RCW 13.34.180(((3))) is established beyond a reasonable doubt; and

(2) Such an order is in the best interests of the child.

Sec. 27. RCW 13.34.200 and 1977 ex.s. c 291 s 48 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Upon the termination of parental rights pursuant to RCW 13.34.180, all rights, powers, privileges, immunities, duties, and obligations, including any rights to custody, control, visitation, or support existing between the child and parent shall be severed and terminated and the parent shall have no standing to appear at any further legal proceedings concerning the child: PROVIDED, That any support obligation existing prior to the effective date of the order terminating parental rights shall not be severed or terminated. The rights of one parent may be terminated without affecting the rights of the other parent and the order shall so state.

(2) An order terminating the parent and child relationship shall not disentitle a child to any benefit due the child from any third person, agency, state, or the United States, nor shall any action under this chapter be deemed to affect any rights and benefits that ((a native American)) an [[Indian]] child derives from the child's descent from a member of a federally recognized Indian tribe.

Sec. 28. RCW 13.34.210 and 1991 c 127 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

If, upon entering an order terminating the parental rights of a parent, there remains no parent having parental rights, the court shall commit the child to the custody of the department ((of social and health services)) or to a licensed child-placing agency willing to accept custody for the purpose of placing the child for adoption (or, in the absence thereof). If an adoptive home has not been identified, the department or agency shall place the child in a licensed foster home, or take other suitable measures for the care and welfare of the child. The custodian shall have authority to consent to the adoption of the child consistent with chapter 26.33 RCW, the marriage of the child, the enlistment of the child in the armed forces of the United States, necessary surgical and other medical treatment for the child, and to consent to such other matters as might normally be required of the parent of the child.

If a child has not been adopted within six months after the date of the order and a ((general guardian)) guardianship of the child under RCW 13.34.231 or chapter 11.88 RCW, or a permanent custody order under chapter 26.10 RCW, has not been entered by the court, (((the child shall be returned to the court for entry of further orders for his or her care, custody, and control, and, except for children whose cases are reviewed by a citizen review board under chapter 13.70 RCW,))) the court shall review the case every six months (((thereafter))) until a decree of adoption is entered except for those cases which are reviewed by a citizen review board under chapter 13.70 RCW.

Sec. 29. RCW 13.34.231 and 1994 c 288 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

At the hearing on a dependency guardianship petition, all parties have the right to present evidence and cross examine witnesses. The rules of evidence apply to the conduct of the hearing. A guardianship shall be established if the court finds by a preponderance of the evidence that:

(1) The child has been found to be a dependent child under RCW 13.34.030;

(2) A dispositional order has been entered pursuant to RCW 13.34.130;

(3) The child has been removed or will, at the time of the hearing, have been removed from the custody of the parent for a period of at least six months pursuant to a finding of dependency under RCW 13.34.030;

(4) The services ordered under RCW 13.34.130 and section 18 of this act have been offered or provided and all necessary services, reasonably available, capable of correcting the parental deficiencies within the foreseeable future have been offered or provided;

(5) There is little likelihood that conditions will be remedied so that the child can be returned to the parent in the near future; and

(6) A guardianship, rather than termination of the parent-child relationship or continuation of efforts to return the child to the custody of the parent, would be in the best interest of the child.

Sec. 30. RCW 13.34.233 and 1995 c 311 s 24 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Any party may request the court under RCW 13.34.150 to modify or terminate a dependency guardianship order (under RCW 13.34.150). Notice of any motion to modify or terminate the guardianship shall be served on all other parties, including any agency that was responsible for supervising the child's placement at the time the guardianship petition was filed. Notice (((shall))) in all cases shall be served upon the department ((of social and health services)). If the department was not previously a party to the guardianship proceeding, the department shall nevertheless have the right to: (a) initiate a proceeding to modify or terminate a guardianship; and ((the right to)) (b) intervene at any stage of such a proceeding.

(2) The guardianship may be modified or terminated upon the motion of any party or the department if the court finds by a preponderance of the evidence that there has been a substantial change of circumstances subsequent to the establishment of the guardianship and that it is in the child's best interest to modify or terminate the guardianship. The court shall hold a hearing on the motion before modifying or terminating a guardianship.

(3) Upon entry of an order terminating the guardianship, the dependency guardian shall not have any rights or responsibilities with respect to the child and shall not have legal standing to participate as a party in further dependency proceedings pertaining to the child. The court may allow the child's dependency guardian to attend dependency review proceedings pertaining to the child for the sole purpose of providing information about the child to the court.

(4) Upon entry of an order terminating the guardianship, the child shall remain dependent and the court shall either return the child to the child's parent or order the child into the custody, control, and care of the department ((of social and health services)) or a licensed child-placing agency for placement in a foster home or group care facility licensed pursuant to chapter 74.15 RCW or in a home not required to be licensed pursuant to such chapter. The court shall not place a child in the custody of the child's parent unless the court finds that ((a))) reason(s) for removal as set forth in RCW 13.34.130 no longer exist((a))) and that such placement is in the child's best interest. The court shall thereafter conduct reviews as provided in ((RCW 13.34.130(5))) section 19 of this act and, where applicable, shall hold a permanency planning hearing in accordance with RCW 13.34.145.

Sec. 31. RCW 13.34.235 and 1981 c 195 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

A dependency guardianship ((established under RCW 13.34.231 and 13.34.232)) is not subject to the review hearing requirements of ((RCW 13.34.130)) section 19 of this act unless ordered by the court under RCW 13.34.232(1)(e).

Sec. 32. RCW 13.34.260 and 1990 c 284 s 25 are each amended to read as follows:

In an attempt to minimize the inherent intrusion in the lives of families involved in the foster care system and to maintain parental authority where appropriate, the department, absent good cause, shall follow the wishes of the natural parent regarding the placement of the child. Preferences such as family constellation, ethnicity, and religion shall be ((given consideration)) considered when matching children to foster homes. Parental authority is appropriate in areas that are not connected with the abuse or neglect that resulted in the dependency and ((should)) shall be integrated through the foster care team. For purposes of this section, "foster care team" means the foster parent currently providing care, the currently assigned social worker, and the parent or parents.

Sec. 33. RCW 13.34.270 and 1998 c 229 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Whenever the department ((of social and health services)) places a ((developmentally disabled)) child with a developmental disability in out-of-home care pursuant to RCW 74.13.350, the department shall obtain a judicial determination within one hundred eighty days of the placement that continued placement is in the best interests of the child. If the child's out-of-home placement before one hundred eighty days have elapsed, no judicial determination is required.

(2) To obtain the judicial determination, the department shall file a petition alleging that there is located or residing within the county a child who has a developmental disability((as defined in RCW 71A.10.020)) and that the child has been placed in out-of-home care pursuant to RCW 74.13.350. The petition shall request that the court review the child's placement, make a determination ((that)) whether continued placement is in the best interests of the child, and take other necessary action as provided in this section. The petition shall contain the name, date of birth, and residence of the child and the names and residences of the child's parent or legal guardian who has agreed to the child's placement in out-of-home care. Reasonable attempts shall be made by the department to ascertain and set forth in the petition the identity, location, and custodial status of any parent who is not a party to the placement agreement and why that parent cannot assume custody of the child.

(3) Upon filing of the petition, the clerk of the court shall schedule the petition for a hearing to be held no later than fourteen calendar days after the petition has been filed. The department shall provide notification of the time, date, and purpose of the hearing to the parent or legal guardian who has agreed to the child's placement in out-of-home care. The department shall also make reasonable attempts to notify any parent who is not a party to the placement agreement, if the parent's identity and location is known. Notification under this section may be given by the most expedient means, including but not limited to, mail, personal service, and telephone((and telegraph)).

(4) The court shall appoint a guardian ad litem for the child as provided in RCW 13.34.100, unless the court for good cause finds the appointment unnecessary.

(5) Permanency planning hearings shall be held as provided in this ((subsection)) section. At the hearing, the court shall review whether the child's best interests are served by continued out-of-home placement and determine the future legal status of the child.

(a) For children age ten and under, a permanency planning hearing shall be held in all cases where the child has remained in out-of-home care for at least nine months and an adoption decree or guardianship order under chapter 11.88 RCW has not previously been entered. The hearing shall take place no later than twelve months following commencement of the child's current placement episode.

(b) For children over age ten, a permanency planning hearing shall be held in all cases where the child has remained in out-of-home care for at least fifteen months and an adoption decree or guardianship order under chapter 11.88 RCW has not previously been entered. The hearing shall take place no later than eighteen months following commencement of the current placement episode.

(c) No later than ten working days before the permanency planning hearing, the department shall submit a written permanency plan to the court and shall mail a copy of the plan to all parties. The plan shall be directed toward securing a safe, stable, and permanent home for the child as soon as possible. The plan shall identify one of the following outcomes as the primary goal and may also identify additional outcomes as alternative goals: Return of the child to the home of the child's parent or legal guardian; adoption; guardianship; or long-term out-of-home care, until the child is age eighteen, with a written agreement between the parties and the child's care provider.

(d) If a goal of long-term out-of-home care has been achieved before the permanency planning hearing, the court shall review the child's status to determine whether the placement and the plan for the child's care remains appropriate. In cases where the primary permanency planning goal has not been achieved, the court shall inquire regarding the reasons why the primary goal has not been achieved and determine what needs to be done to make it possible to achieve the primary goal.

(e) Following the first permanency planning hearing, the court shall hold a further permanency planning hearing in accordance with this section at least once every twelve months until a permanency planning goal is achieved or the voluntary placement agreement is terminated.

(6) Any party to the voluntary placement agreement may terminate the agreement at any time. Upon termination of the agreement, the child shall be returned to the care of the child's parent or legal guardian, unless the child has been taken into custody pursuant to RCW 13.34.050 or 26.44.050, placed in shelter care pursuant to RCW 13.34.060, or placed in foster care pursuant to RCW 13.34.130. The department shall notify the court upon termination of the voluntary placement agreement and return of the child to the care of the child's parent or legal guardian. Whenever a voluntary placement agreement is terminated, an action under this section shall be dismissed.

(7) This section does not prevent the department from filing a dependency petition if there is reason to believe that the child is a dependent child as defined in RCW 13.34.030. An action filed under this section shall be dismissed upon the filing of a dependency petition regarding a child who is the subject of the action under this section.

Sec. 34. RCW 13.34.300 and 1979 ex.s. c 201 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

The legislature finds that it is the responsibility of the custodial parent, parents or guardian to ensure that children within the custody of such individuals attend school as provided for by law. To this end, while a parent's failure to cause a juvenile to attend school should not alone provide a basis for a neglect petition against the parent or guardian, when a neglect petition is filed on the basis of other evidence, a parent or guardian's failure to take reasonable steps to ensure that the juvenile attends school may be ((used as evidence with respect)) relevant to the question of the appropriate disposition of a neglect petition.

Sec. 35. RCW 13.34.340 and 1999 c 188 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

For minors who cannot consent to the release of their records with the department because they are not old enough to consent to treatment, or, if old enough, lack the capacity to consent, or if the minor is receiving treatment involuntarily with a provider the department has authorized to provide mental health treatment under RCW 13.34.320, the department shall disclose, upon the treating physician's request, all relevant records, including the minor's passport as established under RCW 74.13.285, in the department's possession that the treating physician determines contain information required for treatment of the minor. The treating physician shall maintain all records received from the department in a manner that distinguishes the records from any other records in the minor's file with the treating physician and the department records may not be disclosed by the treating physician to any other person or entity absent a court order except that, for medical purposes only, a treating physician may disclose the department records to another treating physician.

Sec. 36. RCW 13.70.003 and 1989 1st ex.s. c 17 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

The legislature recognizes the importance of permanency and continuity to children and of fairness to parents in the provision of child welfare services.

The legislature intends to create a citizen review board system that will function in an advisory capacity to the judiciary, the department, and the legislature. The purpose of the citizen review board system is to:

(1) Provide periodic review of cases involving substitute care of children in a manner that complies with case review requirements and time lines imposed by federal laws pertaining to child welfare services;

(2) Improve the quality of case review provided to children in substitute care and their families; and

(3) Provide a means for community involvement in monitoring cases of children in substitute care.
In order to accomplish the foregoing purposes, the citizen review board system shall not be subject to the procedures and standards usually applicable to judicial and administrative hearings, except as otherwise specifically provided in this chapter and (RCW 13.34.130) section 19 of this act, 13.34.145, and 26.44.115. Nothing in this chapter and (RCW 13.34.130) section 19 of this act, 13.34.145, and 26.44.115 shall limit the ability of the department to utilize court review hearings and administrative reviews to meet the periodic review requirements imposed by federal law.

Sec. 37. RCW 13.70.110 and 1991 c 127 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) This section shall apply to cases where a child has been placed in substitute care pursuant to a proceeding under chapter 13.34 RCW.

(2) Within forty-five days following commencement of the placement episode, the court shall assign the child's case to a board and forward to the board a copy of the dependency petition and any shelter care or dependency disposition orders which have been entered in the case by the court.

(3) The board shall review the case plan for each child whose case is assigned to the board by the court. The review shall take place at times set by the board. The first review shall occur within ninety days following commencement of the placement episode. The second review shall occur within six months following commencement of the placement episode. The next review shall occur within one year after commencement of the placement episode. Within (eighteen) twelve months following commencement of the placement episode, a permanency planning hearing shall be held before the court in accordance with RCW 13.34.145. Thereafter, the court shall assign the child's case for a board review or a court review hearing pursuant to (RCW 13.34.130(5)) section 17 of this act. A board review or a court review hearing shall take place at least once every six months until the child is no longer within the jurisdiction of the court or no longer in substitute care or until a guardianship order or adoption decree is entered. After the permanency planning hearing, a court review hearing must occur at least once a year as provided in (RCW 13.34.130) section 19 of this act. The board shall review any case where a petition to terminate parental rights has been denied, and such review shall occur as soon as practical but no later than forty-five days after the denial.

(4) The board shall prepare written findings and recommendations with respect to:

(a) Whether reasonable efforts were made before the placement to prevent or eliminate the need for removal of the child from the home, including whether consideration was given to removing the alleged offender, rather than the child, from the home;

(b) Whether reasonable efforts have been made subsequent to the placement to make it possible for the child to be returned home;

(c) Whether the child has been placed in the least-restrictive setting appropriate to the child's needs, including whether consideration has been given to placement with the child's relatives;

(d) Whether there is a continuing need for placement and whether the placement is appropriate;

(e) Whether there has been compliance with the case plan;

(f) Whether progress has been made toward alleviating the need for placement;

(g) A likely date by which the child may be returned home or other permanent plan of care may be implemented; and

(h) Other problems, solutions, or alternatives the board determines should be explored.

(5) Within ten working days following the review, the board shall send a copy of its findings and recommendations to the parents and their attorneys, the child's custodians and their attorneys, mature children and their attorneys, other attorneys or guardians ad litem appointed by the court to represent children, the department and other child placement agencies directly responsible for supervising the child's placement, and any prosecuting attorney or attorney general actively involved in the case. If the child is an Indian as defined in the Indian child welfare act, 25 U.S.C. Sec. 1901 et seq., a copy of the board's findings and recommendations shall also be sent to the child's Indian tribe.

(6) If the department is unable or unwilling to implement the board recommendations, the department shall submit to the board, within ten working days after receipt of the findings and recommendations, an implementation report setting forth the reasons why the department is unable or unwilling to implement the board's recommendations. The report will also set forth the case plan which the department intends to implement.

(7) Within forty-five days following the review, the board shall either:

(a) Schedule the case for further review by the board; or

(b) Submit to the court the board's findings and recommendations and the department's implementation reports, if any.

If the board's recommendations are different from the existing court-ordered case plan, the board shall also file with the court a motion for a review hearing.

(8) Within ten days of receipt of the board's written findings and recommendations and the department's implementation report, if any, the court shall review the findings and recommendations and implementation reports, if any. The court may on its own motion schedule a review hearing.
(9) Unless modified by subsequent court order, the court-ordered case plan and court orders that are in effect at the time that a board reviews a case shall remain in full force and effect. Board findings and recommendations are advisory only and do not in any way modify existing court orders or court-ordered case plans.

(10) The findings and recommendations of the board and the department's implementation report, if any, shall become part of the department's case file and the court social file pertaining to the child.

(11) Nothing in this section shall limit or otherwise modify the rights of any party to a dependency proceeding to request and receive a court review hearing pursuant to the provisions of chapter 13.34 RCW or applicable court rules.

Sec. 38. RCW 13.70.140 and 1993 c 505 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:
A permanency planning hearing shall be held before the court in accordance with RCW 13.34.145. Thereafter, court review hearings shall occur at least once every six months, under (RCW 13.34.130(5)) section 19 of this act, until the child is no longer within the jurisdiction of the court or the child returns home or a guardianship order or adoption decree is entered. The court may review the case more frequently upon the court's own motion or upon the request of any party to the proceeding.

Sec. 39. RCW 26.44.115 and 1990 c 246 s 10 are each amended to read as follows:
If a child is taken into custody by child protective services pursuant to a court order issued under (RCW 13.34.050) section 5 of this act, the child protective services worker shall take reasonable steps to advise the parents immediately, regardless of the time of day, that the child has been taken into custody, the reasons why the child was taken into custody, and general information about the child's placement. The department shall comply with RCW 13.34.060 when providing notice under this section.

Sec. 40. RCW 74.15.030 and 1997 c 386 s 33 are each amended to read as follows:
The secretary shall have the power and it shall be the secretary's duty:
(1) In consultation with the children's services advisory committee, and with the advice and assistance of persons representative of the various type agencies to be licensed, to designate categories of facilities for which separate or different requirements shall be developed as may be appropriate whether because of variations in the ages, sex and other characteristics of persons served, variations in the purposes and services offered or size or structure of the agencies to be licensed hereunder, or because of any other factor relevant thereto;
(2) In consultation with the children's services advisory committee, and with the advice and assistance of persons representative of the various type agencies to be licensed, to adopt and publish minimum requirements for licensing applicable to each of the various categories of agencies to be licensed.

The minimum requirements shall be limited to:
(a) The size and suitability of a facility and the plan of operation for carrying out the purpose for which an applicant seeks a license;
(b) The character, suitability and competence of an agency and other persons associated with an agency directly responsible for the care and treatment of children, expectant mothers or developmentally disabled persons. In consultation with law enforcement personnel, the secretary shall investigate the conviction record or pending charges and dependency record information under chapter 43.43 RCW of each agency and its staff seeking licensure or relicensure. In order to determine the suitability of applicants for an agency license, licensees, their employees, and other persons who have unsupervised access to children in care, and who have not resided in the state of Washington during the three-year period before being authorized to care for children shall be fingerprinted. The fingerprints shall be forwarded to the Washington state patrol and federal bureau of investigation for a criminal history records check. The fingerprint criminal history records checks will be at the expense of the licensee except that in the case of a foster family home, if this expense would work a hardship on the licensee, the department shall pay the expense. The licensee may not pass this cost on to the employee or prospective employee, unless the employee is determined to be unsuitable due to his or her criminal history record. The secretary shall use the information solely for the purpose of determining eligibility for a license and for determining the character, suitability, and competence of those persons or agencies, excluding parents, not required to be licensed who are authorized to care for children, expectant mothers, and developmentally disabled persons. Criminal justice agencies shall provide the secretary such information as they may have and that the secretary may require for such purpose;
(c) The number of qualified persons required to render the type of care and treatment for which an agency seeks a license;
(d) The safety, cleanliness, and general adequacy of the premises to provide for the comfort, care and well-being of children, expectant mothers or developmentally disabled persons;
(e) The provision of necessary care, including food, clothing, supervision and discipline; physical, mental and social well-being; and educational, recreational and spiritual opportunities for those served;
(f) The financial ability of an agency to comply with minimum requirements established pursuant to chapter 74.15 RCW and RCW 74.13.031; and...
(g) The maintenance of records pertaining to the admission, progress, health and discharge of persons served;

(3) To investigate any person, including relatives by blood or marriage except for parents, for character, suitability, and competence in the care and treatment of children, expectant mothers, and developmentally disabled persons prior to authorizing that person to care for children, expectant mothers, and developmentally disabled persons. However, if a child is placed with a relative under ((RCW 13.34.060)) section 7 of this act or RCW 13.34.130, and if such relative appears otherwise suitable and competent to provide care and treatment the criminal history background check required by this section need not be completed before placement, but shall be completed as soon as possible after placement;

(4) On reports of alleged child abuse and neglect, to investigate agencies in accordance with chapter 26.44 RCW, including child day-care centers and family day-care homes, to determine whether the alleged abuse or neglect has occurred, and whether child protective services or referral to a law enforcement agency is appropriate;

(5) To issue, revoke, or deny licenses to agencies pursuant to chapter 74.15 RCW and RCW 74.13.031. Licenses shall specify the category of care which an agency is authorized to render and the ages, sex and number of persons to be served;

(6) To prescribe the procedures and the form and contents of reports necessary for the administration of chapter 74.15 RCW and RCW 74.13.031 and to require regular reports from each licensee;

(7) To inspect agencies periodically to determine whether or not there is compliance with chapter 74.15 RCW and RCW 74.13.031 and the requirements adopted hereunder;

(8) To review requirements adopted hereunder at least every two years and to adopt appropriate changes after consultation with the child care coordinating committee and other affected groups for child day-care requirements and with the children's services advisory committee for requirements for other agencies; and

(9) To consult with public and private agencies in order to help them improve their methods and facilities for the care of children, expectant mothers and developmentally disabled persons.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 41. RCW 13.34.170 shall be recodified to appear immediately following RCW 13.34.160.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 42. The following acts or parts of acts are each repealed:

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Goings, Substitute Senate Bill No. 6212 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 6212 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

Senator Tim Sheldon moved that the following striking amendment by Senators Tim Sheldon, Oke and Haugen be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The operation of passenger-only ferries within the state is a matter of public interest. If the department of transportation discontinues its operations on passenger-only ferry crossings, or decides not to pursue passenger-only ferry crossings that have been previously budgeted and approved by the transportation commission, the public interest requires that persons and entities other than the department be allowed the opportunity to operate passenger-only ferry service on those crossings. The lease of passenger-only ferries and facilities from the department, or provision of money, equipment, or materials, or the provision of equipment, materials, services, or facilities at below-market value by a public entity, to allow an entity to operate passenger-only ferry service is for the benefit of the public to ensure adequate passenger-only ferry service along passenger-only ferry crossings.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 2. As used in this chapter:
(1) "Commission" means the Washington utilities and transportation commission.
(2) "Department" means the Washington department of transportation.
(3) "Passenger-only ferry" means any vessel operating for the public use for hire over a regular route between fixed termini, excluding:
(a) Auto ferries;
(b) Charter service, as defined in RCW 81.84.005;
(c) Excursion service, as defined in RCW 81.84.005;
(d) Common carrier ferries, defined as vessels primarily engaged in transporting freight other than vehicles, whose gross earnings from the transportation of passengers are not more than ten percent of the total gross earnings of the vessel;
(e) Launch service, defined as the transportation of either passengers, or freight, or both, to or from a vessel underway, at anchor, or at a dock; and
(f) All vessels or services described in RCW 81.84.007.
(4) "Passenger-only ferry operator" includes, but is not limited to, a nonprofit corporation, public-private partnership, transit agency, municipality, private entity, person, or any combination of them.
(5) "Public participation" includes the provision of money, equipment, or materials, or the provision of equipment, materials, services, or facilities at below-market value by a public entity.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 3. (1) All applications to operate passenger-only ferry service upon the waters of this state, including rivers, lakes, and Puget Sound are subject to the provisions of this chapter. Any nonprofit corporation, public-private partnership, transit agency, municipality, private entity, person, or any combination of them, may apply to the commission for a permit to operate passenger-only ferry service.
(2) Applicants who filed an application under chapter 81.84 RCW before February 1, 2000, will have the first option for a passenger-only ferry permit under this chapter for the ferry crossing applied for in chapter 81.84 RCW.
(3) The commission may, upon written application, and upon notice and hearing, grant a passenger-only ferry permit to operate service at a passenger-only ferry crossing that was discontinued by the department, or at any other ferry crossing upon the waters of this state, including rivers, lakes, and Puget Sound. The commission shall act on an application for a passenger-only ferry permit within ninety days after the conclusion of the hearing. A passenger-only ferry permit is effective for an initial period of five years. The commission may revoke or cancel the permit on its own motion if the passenger-only ferry permit holder has not initiated service within one year after the commission grants the permit. The commission may renew passenger-only ferry permits for periods of three years, subject to compliance with all rules, and provision of adequate service.
(4)(a) In deciding whether to grant a passenger-only ferry permit the commission shall consider, at a minimum:
(i) The applicant's ability to initiate service within one year;
(ii) The adequacy of service to the community;
(iii) The effect of the applicant's proposed service on operation of auto ferry service by the department; and
(iv) The effect of the applicant's proposed service on transportation congestion mitigation.
(b) When determining whether an applicant can initiate service, the commission shall consider, at a minimum, whether the applicant:
(i) Has sufficient financial resources, which may include public participation;
(ii) Has sufficient experience and knowledge of ferry operations;
(iii) Has made or is making arrangements for parking, docking, vessels, and coordination of ground transportation; and
(iv) Has identified or met any local government land use or environmental requirements.
(c) When determining whether an applicant will provide adequate service to the community, the commission shall consider, at a minimum:
(i) How the proposed service compares to that previously provided by the department along the crossing, if applicable;
(ii) Whether the applicant has coordinated its service with ground transportation; and
(iii) The number of runs the applicant proposes to operate.
(5) The commission may grant only one passenger-only ferry permit for operation at a particular ferry crossing for a given time period.
(6) The department shall designate an employee with knowledge of ferry operations as a technical advisor to assist the commission in implementing this chapter.
NEW SECTION, Sec. 4. (1) The department shall immediately notify the commission when it becomes apparent that the department will discontinue one or more passenger-only ferry crossings or that it has decided not to pursue one or more passenger-only ferry crossings that had been previously budgeted and approved by the transportation commission. The commission shall compile a mailing list of interested persons that includes, at a minimum: All certificated commercial ferry operators; all common carrier vessel operators; all affected counties, municipalities, public transportation benefit areas, metropolitan municipal corporations, and regional transit authorities; and all other persons who have notified the commission in writing that they desire to be on the mailing list.

(2) The commission shall notify all persons on the mailing list that one or more passenger-only ferry crossing routes are eligible under this chapter for issuance of a passenger-only ferry permit. The commission shall accept written petitions from qualified applicants for a period of one hundred twenty days from the date of the notice unless the commission makes a finding that the public interest requires a shorter notice period, in which case the minimum notice period is thirty days from the date of the notice.

(3) To the extent that the department, before the effective date of this section, has made the decision to discontinue one or more passenger-only ferry crossings or has decided not to pursue one or more passenger-only ferry crossings that had been previously budgeted and approved by the transportation commission, the commission shall compile the mailing list and make notification to interested persons as soon as practicable after that date.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 5. The commission, in issuing a permit to a passenger-only ferry operator, shall require that liability and property damage insurance be acquired and maintained on each vessel or ferry to be used to provide service, in the amount of not less than one hundred thousand dollars for any recovery for personal injury by one person, and not less than one million dollars and in an additional amount that the commission determines, for all persons receiving personal injury and property damage by reason of one act of negligence, and not less than fifty thousand dollars for damage to property of any person other than the insured; or combined bodily injury and property damage liability insurance of not less than one million dollars. Proof of liability or property damage insurance or surety bond required by this section must be filed with the commission and kept in full force and effect, and failure to do so is cause for cancellation of the operator's permit.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 6. A passenger-only ferry permit holder may lease passenger-only ferries and facilities from the department as long as the lease of the ferries or facilities does not conflict with the operation of the Washington state ferry system.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 7. No passenger-only ferry permit granted under this chapter may be sold, assigned, leased, mortgaged, or in any manner transferred, either by the act of the permit holder, or by operation of law, without first obtaining the commission's approval.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 8. For the purposes of this section only, passenger-only ferry operators are considered to be commercial ferries as defined in chapter 81.84 RCW and shall comply with RCW 81.24.030 requiring annual report filing and payment of regulatory fees and RCW 81.84.040 requiring the payment of application filing fees.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 9. The commission may adopt rules for operation of passenger-only ferry service, to include rules concerning the process for issuing a passenger-only ferry permit, determining adequacy of service, and establishing fares. The degree and level of regulation may vary with the degree and level of public participation.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 10. If the department decides to resume service on a passenger-only ferry crossing, the commission shall not renew any existing passenger-only ferry permit for that crossing previously granted by it. During the remainder of the term of the permit, the Washington state ferry system shall not extend similar or competing passenger-only ferry services along that crossing, except upon a proper showing that the passenger-only ferry operator is not providing adequate service. Nothing in this section precludes the Washington state ferry system from entering into an agreement with the passenger-only ferry permit holder, or purchasing or condemning the permit authority or equipment.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 11. The commission, upon complaint by an interested party, or on its own motion after notice and opportunity for hearing, may cancel, revoke, suspend, alter, or amend a permit issued under this chapter on any of the following grounds:

1. Failure of the permit holder to initiate the proposed service within one year after the permit has been granted;
2. Violation of any provision of this chapter;
3. Violation of or failure to observe the provisions or conditions of the permit or tariff;
4. Violation of an order, decision, rule, regulation, or requirement established by the commission under this chapter;
5. Failure of a permit holder to maintain the required insurance coverage in full force and effect; or
6. Failure or refusal to furnish reasonable and adequate service after initiating service.

The commission shall take appropriate action within thirty days upon a complaint by an interested party or of its own finding that this section has been violated.
NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. All applicable provisions of this title relating to procedure, powers of the commission, and penalties apply to the operation and regulation of passenger-only ferry operators under this chapter, except as those provisions may conflict with this chapter and rules adopted under it by the commission.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. If any provision of this chapter or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the chapter or application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

Sec. 14. RCW 81.84.010 and 1993 c 427 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Except for certificates to provide commercial ferry service issued before February 1, 2000, all applications for passenger-only ferry service must be filed under section 3 of this act. Except for ferries granted permits under that section, no commercial ferry may hereafter operate any vessel or ferry for the public use for hire between fixed termini or over a regular route upon the waters within this state, including the rivers and lakes and Puget Sound, without first applying for and obtaining from the commission a certificate declaring that public convenience and necessity require such operation. Service authorized by certificates issued before or after July 25, 1993, to a commercial ferry operator shall be exercised by the operator in a manner consistent with the conditions established in the certificate or tariffs: PROVIDED, That no certificate shall be required for a vessel primarily engaged in transporting freight other than vehicles, whose gross earnings from the transportation of passengers and/or vehicles, are not more than ten percent of the total gross annual earnings of such vessel.

(2) Nothing in this chapter affects the right of any county public transportation authority, public transportation benefit area authority, or other public agency within this state to construct, condemn, purchase, operate, or maintain, itself or by contract, agreement, or lease, with any person, firm, or corporation, ferries or boats across or wharfs at or upon the waters within this state, including rivers and lakes and Puget Sound, provided such operation is not over the same route or between the same districts, being served by a certificate holder without first acquiring the rights granted to the certificate holder under the certificate.

(3) The holder of a certificate of public convenience and necessity granted under this chapter must initiate service within five years of obtaining the certificate. The certificate holder shall report to the commission every six months after the certificate is granted on the progress of the certificated route. The reports shall include, but not be limited to, the progress of environmental impact, parking, local government land use, docking, and financing considerations. However, if service has not been initiated within five years of obtaining the certificate, the commission may extend the certificate on a twelve-month basis for up to three years if the six-month progress reports indicate there is significant advancement toward initiating service.

(4) The commission shall review certificates in existence as of July 25, 1993, where service is not being provided on all or any portion of the route or routes certificated. Based on progress reports required under subsection (2) of this section, the commission may grant an extension beyond that provided in subsection (2) of this section. Such additional extension may not exceed a total of two years.

Sec. 15. RCW 81.84.060 and 1993 c 427 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

The commission, upon complaint by an interested party, or upon its own motion after notice and opportunity for hearing, may cancel, revoke, suspend, alter, or amend a certificate issued under this chapter on any of the following grounds:

(1) Failure of the certificate holder to initiate service by the conclusion of the fifth year after the certificate has been granted or by the conclusion of an extension granted under RCW 81.84.010 (((2) or (3))), if the commission has considered the progress report information required under RCW 81.84.010 (((2) or (3)));

(2) Failure of the certificate holder to file an annual report;

(3) The filing by a certificate holder of an annual report that shows no revenue in the previous twelve-month period after service has been initiated;

(4) The violation of any provision of this chapter;

(5) The violation of or failure to observe the provisions or conditions of the certificate or tariffs;

(6) The violation of an order, decision, rule, regulation, or requirement established by the commission under this chapter;

(7) Failure of a certificate holder to maintain the required insurance coverage in full force and effect; or

(8) Failure or refusal to furnish reasonable and adequate service after initiating service.
The commission shall take appropriate action within thirty days upon a complaint by an interested party or of its own finding that a provision of this section has been violated.

Sec. 16. RCW 47.60.120 and 1993 c 427 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) If the department acquires or constructs, maintains, and operates any ferry crossings upon or toll bridges over Puget Sound or any of its tributary or connecting waters, there shall not be constructed, operated, or maintained any other ferry crossing upon or bridge over any such waters within ten miles of any such crossing or bridge operated or maintained by the department excepting such bridges or ferry crossings in existence, and being operated and maintained under a lawfully issued franchise at the time of the location of the ferry crossing or construction of the toll bridge by the department.

(2) The ten-mile distance in subsection (1) of this section means ten statute miles measured by airline distance. The ten-mile restriction shall be applied by comparing the two end points (termini) of a state ferry crossing to those of a private ferry crossing.

(3) The Washington utilities and transportation commission may, upon written petition of a commercial ferry operator certificated or applying for certification under chapter 81.84 RCW, or upon written petition from a passenger-only ferry operator as provided for under section 3 of this act, and upon notice and hearing, grant a waiver from the ten-mile restriction. The waiver must not be detrimental to the public interest. In making a decision to waive the ten-mile restriction, the commission shall consider, but is not limited to, the impact of the waiver on transportation congestion mitigation, air quality improvement, and the overall impact on the Washington state ferry system. The commission shall act upon a request for a waiver within ninety days after the conclusion of the hearing. A waiver is effective for a period of five years from the date of issuance. At the end of five years the waiver becomes permanent unless appealed within thirty days by the commission on its own motion, the department, or an interested party.

(4) The department shall not maintain and operate any ferry crossing or toll bridge over Puget Sound or any of its tributary or connecting waters that would infringe upon any franchise lawfully issued by the state and in existence and being exercised at the time of the location of the ferry crossing or toll bridge by the department, without first acquiring the rights granted to such franchise holder under the franchise.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. A new section is added to chapter 81.104 RCW to read as follows:

Reg. 12266.

RCW 81.104.100 and 81.104.110 do not apply to an assumption of a high-capacity responsibility, route, or plan element by one agency from another, such as the assumption by a local transit agency of the responsibility, route, or plan element of a state transportation agency if the assuming agency undertakes all the obligations of the planning process and the assumption is approved by the appropriate regional planning process.

The task force shall consider public options first, nonprofit options second, and private operations third.

The report to the senate and house of representatives transportation committees must include, but is not limited to, analysis and recommendations on the following:

SENATE BILL NO. 6586, by Senators Prentice, Hale, Winsley, Goings, Oke and Gardner (by request of Attorney General Gregoire)
Prohibiting pyramid schemes.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Prentice, Substitute Senate Bill No. 6586 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 6586 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Prentice, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 6586 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Morton: "Senator Prentice, I don't understand this. I was not in the committee. I have tried, in the diagrams that I have been sent--and I have been sent over fifty letters--none of which asked me to vote for this. I have been trying to design a pyramid out of this and I can't do it graphically. As I understand it, it is dependent upon club membership, that this is a club process and it is a membership into the club. So, I would like to have you explain about that and also if there is a risk involved. The diagrams that I have been sent indicate that it is merely a risk of one to eight. Comparing that to the state lottery or other risk areas--even my own agriculture--that ain't much risk. I would like some response."

Senator Prentice: "Certainly, there is a big difference, Senator Morton. First of all, agriculture is not against the law and the lottery is part of the law. That is the first thing. Pyramid schemes are clearly against the law. The pyramid is based on the recruitment of new members and you will have a number of them. They have to invest money in order to be part of it. As they move up, they are expected to recoup their finances. Some of them are as little as fifty. We have heard of some that are based on five thousand dollars even to be a part of it.

"The people that you are hearing from that are so frantic are the ones that are at the bottom and have invested money and are afraid that they are not going to get at the top. Then, they come back in, but each step is dependent on the investment of money. They are telling us this is about friendship, about empowering women and I am saying that is really pathetic to have to earn friends via the investment of money. I never have had any friends that I had to pay in order to be my friends. This has been clearly illegal for many, many years and there is nothing new. They are like an exaggerated form of the pigeon drop--people who pretend to be your friends and all they are there for is to take your money."

Senator Morton: "If I could just continue with one more question, please. Thank you for that explanation. However, I still have not grasped the significance between this club and what is commonly known as a stock market investment club. Would you care to comment on that?"

Senator Prentice: "Yes, and I am not clear by what you mean by a stock market investment club. If it is already an illegal operation, then it is clearly illegal. You said, agriculture--sure that is a gamble, but that is a gamble that is legal. Pyramid clubs are clearly illegal and have been for a long time. There is nothing new in this bill that changes that. What we are changing is the penalties involved. They have always been there and it is very unfortunate that this has been spreading throughout our state. It is tragic that many people are really being fleeced. So, I would urge your 'yes' vote."

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. (1) For the purpose of acquisition, construction, remodeling, equipping, repairing, maintaining, and operating a public zoo, aquarium, other parks, and open space, the legislative authority of a city with a population of over one hundred fifty thousand that is not in a metropolitan park district may, subject to section 2 of this act, levy an annual regular property tax not exceeding fifty cents per thousand dollars of assessed valuation in the city.

(2) The levy under this section is in addition to the levy of a city under RCW 84.52.043 and 41.16.060.

(3) The limitation in RCW 84.55.010 does not apply to the first levy imposed under this section.

(4) Proceeds of the taxes levied under this section may not be applied to the payment of principal of or interest on bonds with maturities greater than ten years.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. (1) A city shall have no authority to levy taxes under section 1 of this act until that power is activated by vote of the city's voters at a regular election or a special election called for that purpose. The ballot proposition whether to activate the city's regular taxing power under this act shall propose an initial regular tax rate or amount and shall also propose a maximum regular tax rate or amount. If the voters approve a regular tax rate or amount, that approval shall serve as the voter approval required by Initiative Measure No. 695 for all increases in general regular taxes under this act up to the maximum approved tax rate or amount.

(2) Any city placing on the ballot a proposition to authorize the levy of taxes under this act shall, in the ballot ordinance, agree to continue, for so long as the city levies general taxes under this act, to appropriate annually for park and recreation purposes, from sources other than general taxes levied under this act, at least the same dollar amount the city appropriated for park and recreation purposes in the last annual budget adopted before the effective date of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. In the ordinance placing on the ballot the proposition called for by section 2 of this act, the city legislative authority shall specify the minimum or maximum shares, as percentages or dollar amounts or both, of revenue from taxes under section 1 of this act that shall, annually or cumulatively, be devoted during the first ten years those taxes are collected to each of the following: (1) A public zoo, (2) a public aquarium, and (3) other parks and open space.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. All instances in which voter approval is called for under sections 1 and 2 of this act shall require an affirmative vote of a majority of the voters of the city voting on the proposition at a general election held within the city or at a special election called by the city held in conjunction with a state general or primary election.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. (1) If the legislative authority of a city whose voters have authorized taxes under section 1 of this act contracts with one or more nonprofit corporations or other public organizations for the overall management and operation of a zoo, an aquarium, or both, that contract shall be subject to this section. No such contract for the overall management and operation of zoo or aquarium facilities by a nonprofit corporation or other public organization shall have an initial term or any renewal term longer than thirty years, but may be renewed by the legislative authority of the city upon the expiration of an initial term or any renewal term.

(2) Before approving each initial and any renewal contract with a nonprofit corporation or other public organization for the overall management and operation of any facilities, the city legislative authority shall hold a public hearing on the proposed management and operation by the nonprofit corporation or other public organization. At least thirty days prior to the hearing, a public notice setting forth the date, time, and place of the hearing must be published at least once in a local newspaper of general circulation. Notice of the hearing shall also be mailed or otherwise delivered to all who would be entitled to notice of a special meeting of the city legislative authority under RCW 42.30.080. The notice shall identify the facilities involved and the nonprofit corporation or other public organization proposed for management and operation under the contract with the city. The terms and conditions under which the city proposes to contract with the nonprofit corporation or other public organization for management and operation shall be available upon request from and after the date of publication of the hearing notice and at the hearing, but after the public hearing the city legislative authority may amend the proposed terms and conditions at open public meetings.

(3) As part of the management and operation contract, the legislative authority of the city may authorize the managing and operating entity to grant to any nonprofit corporation or public or private organization franchises or concessions that further the public use and enjoyment of the zoo or aquarium, as the case may be, and may authorize the managing and operating entity to contract with any public or private organization for any specific services as are routinely so procured by the city.

(4) Notwithstanding any provision in the charter of the city so contracting for the overall management and operation of a zoo or an aquarium, or any other provision of law, the nonprofit corporation or other public organization with responsibility for overall management or operation of any such facilities pursuant to a contract under this section may, in carrying out that responsibility under such contract, manage, supervise, and control those employees of the city employed in connection with the zoo or aquarium and may hire, fire, and otherwise discipline those employees. Notwithstanding any provision in the charter of the city so contracting for the overall management and operation of a zoo or an aquarium, or any other provision of law, the civil service system of any such city shall provide for the nonprofit corporation or other public organization to manage, supervise, control, hire, fire, and otherwise discipline those employees of the city employed in connection with the zoo or aquarium.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to affect any terms, conditions, or practices contained in a collective bargaining agreement in effect on the effective date of this act.

Sec. 7. RCW 84.52.010 and 1995 2nd sp.s. c 13 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

Except as is permitted under RCW 84.55.050, all taxes shall be levied or voted in specific amounts.

The rate percent of all taxes for state and county purposes, and purposes of taxing districts coextensive with the county, shall be determined, calculated and fixed by the county assessors of the respective counties, within the limitations provided by law, upon the assessed valuation of the property of the county, as shown by the completed tax rolls of the county, and the rate percent of all taxes levied for purposes of taxing districts within any county shall be determined, calculated and fixed by the county assessors of the respective counties, within the limitations provided by law, upon the assessed valuation of the property of the taxing districts respectively.

When a county assessor finds that the aggregate rate of tax levy on any property, that is subject to the limitations set forth in RCW 84.52.043 or 84.52.050, exceeds the limitations provided in either of these sections, the assessor shall recompute and establish a consolidated levy in the following manner:

1. The full certified rates of tax levy for state, county, county road district, and city or town purposes shall be extended on the tax rolls in amounts not exceeding the limitations established by law; however any state levy shall take precedence over all other levies and shall not be used for any purpose other than that required by RCW 84.55.010. If, as a result of the levies imposed under RCW 84.52.069, 84.34.230, the portion of the levy by a metropolitan park district that was protected under RCW 84.52.120, and 84.52.105, the combined rate of regular property tax levies that are subject to the one percent limitation exceeds one percent of the true and fair value of any property, then these levies shall be reduced as follows: (a) The portion of the levy by a metropolitan park district that is protected under RCW 84.52.120 shall be reduced until the combined rate no longer exceeds one percent of the true and fair value of any property or shall be eliminated; (b) if the combined rate of regular property tax levies that are subject to the one percent limitation still exceeds one percent of the true and fair value of any property, then the levy by a city under section 1 of this act shall be reduced until the combined rate no longer exceeds one percent of the true and fair value of any property or shall be eliminated; (c) if the combined rate of regular property tax levies that are subject to the one percent limitation still exceeds one percent of the true and fair value of any property, then the levies imposed under RCW 84.34.230, 84.52.105, and any portion of the levy imposed under RCW 84.52.069 that is in excess of thirty cents per thousand dollars of assessed value, shall be reduced on a pro rata basis until the combined rate no longer exceeds one percent of the true and fair value of any property or shall be eliminated; and ((4)) (d) if the combined rate of regular property tax levies that are subject to the one percent limitation still exceeds one percent of the true and fair value of any property, then the thirty cents per thousand dollars of assessed value of tax levy imposed under RCW 84.52.069 shall be reduced until the combined rate no longer exceeds one percent of the true and fair value of any property or eliminated.

2. The certified rates of tax levy subject to these limitations by cities levying under section 1 of this act and by all junior taxing districts imposing taxes on such property shall be reduced or eliminated as follows to bring the consolidated levy of taxes on such property within the provisions of these limitations:

(a) First, the levy of a city under section 1 of this act shall be reduced or eliminated;

(b) Second, if the consolidated tax levy rate still exceeds these limitations, the certified property tax levy rates of those junior taxing districts authorized under RCW 36.68.525, 36.69.145, and 67.38.130 shall be reduced on a pro rata basis or eliminated;

(c) Third, if the consolidated tax levy rate still exceeds these limitations, the certified property tax levy rates of flood control zone districts shall be reduced on a pro rata basis or eliminated;

(d) Fourth, if the consolidated tax levy rate still exceeds these limitations, the certified property tax levy rates of all other junior taxing districts, other than fire protection districts, library districts, the first fifty cent per thousand dollars of assessed valuation levies for metropolitan park districts, and the first fifty cent per thousand dollars of assessed valuation levies for public hospital districts, shall be reduced on a pro rata basis or eliminated;

(e) Fifth, if the consolidated tax levy rate still exceeds these limitations, the certified property tax levy rates authorized for fire protection districts under RCW 52.16.140 and 52.16.160 shall be reduced on a pro rata basis or eliminated; and

(f) Sixth, if the consolidated tax levy rate still exceeds these limitations, the certified property tax levy rates authorized for fire protection districts under RCW 52.16.130, library districts, metropolitan park districts under their first fifty cent per thousand dollars of assessed valuation levy, and public hospital districts under their first fifty cent per thousand dollars of assessed valuation levy, shall be reduced on a pro rata basis or eliminated.
In determining whether the aggregate rate of tax levy on any property, that is subject to the limitations set forth in RCW 84.52.050, exceeds the limitations provided in that section, the assessor shall use the hypothetical state levy, as apportioned to the county under RCW 84.48.080, that was computed under RCW 84.48.080 without regard to the reduction under RCW 84.55.012.

(4) Nothing in this chapter may be construed as permitting the connection of any conductor of any electric circuit with a pipe that is connected with or designed to be connected with a waterworks piping system, without the consent of the person or persons legally responsible for the operation and maintenance of the waterworks piping system.

Sec. 3. RCW 19.28.200 and 1998 c 98 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) No license under the provision of this chapter shall be required from any utility or any person, firm, partnership, corporation, or other entity employed by a utility because of work in connection with the installation, repair, or maintenance of lines, wires, apparatus, or equipment owned by or under the control of a utility and used for transmission or distribution of electricity from the source of supply to the point of contact at the premises and/or property to be supplied and service connections and meters and other apparatus or appliances used in the measurement of the consumption of electricity by the customer.
(2) No license under the provisions of this chapter shall be required from any utility because of work in connection with the installation, repair, or maintenance of the following:

   (b) Lines, wires, apparatus, or equipment owned by a commercial, industrial, or public institution customer that are an integral part of a transmission or distribution system, either overhead or underground, providing service to such customer and located outside the building or structure: PROVIDED, That a utility does not initiate the sale of services to perform such work;
   (c) Lines and wires, together with ancillary apparatus, and equipment, owned by a customer that is an independent power producer who has entered into an agreement for the sale of electricity to a utility and that are used in transmitting electricity from an electrical generating unit located on premises used by such customer to the point of interconnection with the utility’s system.

(3) Any person, firm, partnership, corporation, or other entity licensed under RCW 19.28.120 may enter into a contract with a utility for the performance of work under subsection (2) of this section.

(4) No license under the provisions of this chapter shall be required from any person, firm, partnership, corporation, or other entity because of work of installing and repairing ignition or lighting systems for motor vehicles.

(5) No license under the provisions of this chapter shall be required from any person, firm, partnership, corporation, or other entity because of work in connection with the installation, repair, or maintenance of wires and equipment, and installations thereof, exempted in RCW 19.28.010.

(6) The department may by rule exempt from licensing requirements under this chapter work performed on premanufactured electric power generation equipment assemblies and control gear involving the testing, repair, modification, maintenance, or installation of components internal to the power generation equipment, the control gear, or the transfer switch.

(7) No license under the provisions of this chapter shall be required from any person, firm, partnership, corporation, or other entity because of work in connection with the installation, repair, maintenance, or testing of telecommunications systems. “Telecommunications systems” includes equipment and associated hardware, pathway systems, and cable management systems. Sec. 4. RCW 19.28.610 and 1998 c 98 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

Nothing in RCW 19.28.510 through 19.28.620 shall be construed to require that a person obtain a license or a certified electrician in order to do electrical work at his or her residence or farm or place of business or on other property owned by him or her unless the electrical work is on the construction of a new building intended for rent, sale, or lease. However, if the construction is of a new residential building with up to four units intended for rent, sale, or lease, the owner may receive an exemption from the requirement to obtain a license or use a certified electrician if he or she provides a signed affidavit to the department stating that he or she will be performing the work and will occupy one of the units as his or her principal residence. The owner shall apply to the department for this exemption and may only receive an exemption once every twenty-four months. It is intended that the owner receiving this exemption shall occupy the unit as his or her principal residence for twenty-four months after completion of the units. Nothing in RCW 19.28.510 through 19.28.620 shall be intended to derogate from or dispense with the requirements of any valid electrical code enacted by a city or town pursuant to RCW 19.28.010(3), except that no code shall require the holder of a certificate of competency to demonstrate any additional proof of competency or obtain any other license or pay any fee in order to engage in the electrical construction trade. RCW 19.28.510 through 19.28.620 shall not apply to common carriers subject to Part I of the Interstate Commerce Act, nor to their officers and employees. Nothing in RCW 19.28.510 through 19.28.620 shall be deemed to apply to the installation or maintenance of telephone, telegraph, radio, or television wires and equipment; nor to any electrical utility or its employees in the installation, repair, and maintenance of electrical wiring, circuits, and equipment by or for the utility, or comprising a part of its plants, lines or systems. The licensing provisions of RCW 19.28.510 through 19.28.620 shall not apply to:

(2) Employees of an employer while the employer is performing utility type work of the nature described in RCW 19.28.200 so long as such employees have registered in the state of Washington with or graduated from a state-approved outside lineman apprenticeship course that is recognized by the department and that qualifies a person to perform such work; (3) Any work exempted under RCW 19.28.200(6); or
(4) Persons, firms, partnerships, corporations, or other entities engaged in the installation, repair, or maintenance of telecommunications systems.

Nothing in RCW 19.28.510 through 19.28.620 shall be construed to restrict the right of any householder to assist or receive assistance from a friend, neighbor, relative or other person when none of the individuals doing the electrical installation hold themselves out as engaged in the trade or business of electrical installations. Nothing precludes any person who is exempt from the licensing requirements of this chapter under this section from obtaining a journeyman or specialty certificate of competency if they otherwise meet the requirements of this chapter."

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the striking amendment by Senator Hochstatter to Substitute Senate Bill No. 6231.

The motion by Senator Hochstatter failed and the striking amendment was not adopted on a rising vote.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Fairley, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6231 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Rossi: "Mr. President, I rise to a point of order; and a point of inquiry. Section 210 of Substitute Senate Bill No. 6231 requires that the Director of the Department of Labor and Industries charge a new fee for the inspection of certain installed telecommunications systems. I submit that this fee would constitute a ‘tax’ for the purposes of section 2(1) of I-695. For support for this interpretation, I would respectfully direct the President to page 8 of a memorandum from Solicitor General Narda Pierce to all Assistant Attorneys General, dated December 22, 1999. Section 2(1) of I-695 requires that ‘any tax increase imposed by the state shall require voter approval.’

"Mr. President, on February 11, in response to a point of inquiry concerning the number of votes necessary to pass Senate Bill No. 6515 in light of I-695, you noted as follows: ‘The President need not rule at this time whether the absence of a referendum clause on a measure which does impose a tax constitutes an amendment to I-695, requiring a two-thirds vote under Article 2, Section 19 of the State Constitution.’ Mr. President, the time has come for such a ruling. Substitute Senate Bill No. 6231 does impose a tax, and does not contain a referendum clause.

"Mr. President, my point of order: Substitute Senate Bill No. 6231 does not contain a referendum clause in violation of section 2(1) of I-695. As such, the measure should be set down.

"Mr. President, my contingent point of order is on the number of votes necessary to pass Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6231. If you decline to rule that Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6231 requires a referendum clause, then I submit that because the measure does not contain a referendum clause, it effectively amends I-695. Under Article 2, section 1 of the State Constitution, I respectfully submit that the passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6231 would therefore require a two-thirds majority vote."

Debate ensued.

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "The President is not prepared to rule at this time. He is going to need some time to review the citing."

MOTION

At 6:20 p.m., on motion of Senator Betti Sheldon, the Senate was declared to be at ease.

The Senate was called to order at 7:18 p.m. by President Owen.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Honeyford, Senators Benton, Deccio, Finkbeiner, Hale, Horn, Johnson, Long, McCaslin, McDonald, Oke, Stevens, Swecker, Winsley and Zarelli were excused.
On motion of Senator Franklin, Senators Bauer, Eide, Gardner, Jacobsen, Patterson, Prentice and Tim Sheldon were excused. There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6231.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "In ruling upon the point of order by Senator Rossi concerning Engrossed Substitute Senate No. 6231, the President finds in accordance with prior rulings, first, that the question of whether or not a referendum is required is not in order, and, second, that the measure is not an amendment to Initiative 695, because it does not change any provision of the initiative. Therefore, a simple majority vote is required to pass the measure."

DEMAND FOR THE PREVIOUS QUESTION

The President declared the question before the Senate to be shall the main question be now put.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6231 and the bill failed to pass the Senate by the following vote:

Voting yea: Senators Brown, Costa, Fairley, Franklin, Fraser, Goings, Haugen, Heavey, Honeyford, Kline, Kohl-Welles, McAuliffe, Rasmussen, Sheldon, B., Shin, Snyder, Spanel, Thibaudeau and Wojahn - 19.

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6231, having failed to receive the constitutional majority, was declared lost.

MOTION

At 7:22 p.m., on motion of Senator Betti Sheldon, the Senate adjourned until 10:00 a.m., Wednesday, February 16, 2000.
The Senate was called to order at 10:00 a.m. by President Pro Tempore Wojahn. INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President Pro Tempore welcomed and introduced the Washington State Dairy Ambassador Jana Visser from Lynden, and Alternate Ambassadors Caroline Deck from Enumclaw and Mari Annis from Burlington, who were seated on the rostrum. The President Pro Tempore also introduced the visiting Dairy Princesses, who were seated in the gallery.

With permission of the Senate, business was suspended to permit Ambassador Jana to address the Senate.

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President Pro Tempore welcomed and introduced members of the Washington State Dairy Federation, including the board and dairy producers, who were seated in the gallery.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Rasmussen: "A point of personal privilege, Madam President, because I didn’t get a chance to mention that one of the young ladies at the rostrum, I held her when she was a brand new baby. Her parents are my dearest, dearest friends. They have seven daughters, while I only have six. We have had quite a race. One of the young ladies is one of the sweetest girls I have ever met. My daughters all showed cows with the young lady at the dias. I heard a Senator mention that these cows kick. I have to tell you that these are wonderful, gentle and loving animals—at the hands of those that take care of them—especially in showing a cow.

"We honored 4-H yesterday. The dairy youngsters that show in 4-H and FFA do a marvelous job with these cows. I hope that isn’t another dying art. We need to remember to support those fairs that support the 4-Hers and those that work so hard in our industry. Thank you very much."

MESSAGE FROM SENTENCING GUIDELINES COMMISSION

SENTENCING GUIDELINES COMMISSION
925 Plum Street SE, Building 4, Second Floor
Post Office Box 40927
Olympia, Washington 98504-0927

February 14, 2000

Dear Senator:

Enclosed you should find a copy of the latest report from the Sentencing Guidelines Commission, entitled "The Sentencing Reform Act at Century's End." On behalf of the Commission, I have transmitted the report to the Governor and to the Legislature pursuant to RCW 9.94A.040(2)(a)(ii). The report assesses the current status of sentencing policy and practice in Washington under the Sentencing Reform Act, and identifies current key issues related to the state's structured sentencing system.

This report is the result of a year-long series of discussions held by the full Commission during 1999, addressing each of the stated purposes of the Sentencing Reform Act. In consideration of the historical context of the Act, the Commission has evaluated the extent to which the Act's stated purposes are being achieved and whether they remain relevant to current sentencing practice in Washington.

The Commission hopes this report will help foster a better understanding of Washington's felony sentencing system and of ways in which that system can be improved. I hope you find the report informative and useful as you continue to work with your colleagues on issues related to public safety and criminal justice.

If you have any questions concerning the enclosed report, or if you should need further information regarding any other Commission publications or activities, please feel free to call the Commission office at 360/956-2130.

Sincerely,

David Boerner, Chair
Sentencing Guidelines Commission
