She has served this institution well and she will be a wonderful President Pro Tempore. As her mentor and her friend, I am very, very proud of all of her accomplishments. She is loved, not only by her constituents, but she is loved by all of us. Rosa is really bright; she is energetic and she works very, very hard. So, I am very pleased to present Senator Rosa Franklin’s name as President Pro Tempore of the Senate.

REMARKS BY SENATOR HARGROVE

Senator Hargrove: “Thank you, Mr. President. I would like to second the nomination. I feel like I have known Rosa for ever. I really haven’t, but I feel like I would have been a lot better off if I had. She is certainly one of the sweetest people I know and it has been just a true privilege to call you a friend, Rosa. We recognize her as a sweetheart. Have you ever see her without a smile on her face? She certainly has given me some sage advise many times. I know she will preside with grace and fairness for all. REMARKS BY SENATOR SNYDER Senator Snyder: "Thank you, Mr. President. I would like to place in nomination for Vice President Pro Tempore, the name of the Honorable Senator Paull Shin. It is truly with great pleasure and high honor that I stand and nominate Senator Shin and say a few words about him. I have been privileged to know the good Senator for a number of years. I think most of you know his background. He came here a number of years ago as a young boy from Korea and was adopted by an American soldier. Paull used to hang around the medical camps, like we used to see on MASH, as a young boy. This army officer fell in love with him and adopted him and brought him to America.

"Paull has a long and distinguished career. He started late, but he got an education and received a Ph.D and taught for a number of years. As I mentioned before, I was privileged to know Paull a number of years ago. We were on Trade Missions with Lieutenant Governor John Cherberg, particularly in Asia. I saw the wonderful work he does promoting the state of Washington. I saw him bring a baby back from Korea on the baby life program on our plane. He is truly a remarkable person; he has been successful in business. I know that he will do a wonderful job as Vice President Pro Tempore when called on to do so. It is indeed an honor to nominate Senator Shin as Vice President Pro Tempore."

REMARKS BY SENATOR RASMUSSEN

Senator Rasmussen: "Thank you, Mr. President. Well, I would just like to second that nomination of Senator Paull Shin. Paul and I are great friends, but he is man that has integrity, honesty and he is a friend. He is a friend to everyone. We are so honored to have him in the state of Washington to serve as our Senator. To pick him out to be our Vice President Pro Tempore is indeed a privilege. I think he and Senator Franklin will serve as a wonderful team when you are absent, Mr. President. I am so very, very proud to say that I not only know Paull, but I love Paull. He is just a wonderful, wonderful person and he will serve the office well. I urge your support."

It is hard to imagine that a street urchin from Korea can come to the United States, not only be educated, but receiving much blessings and even to serving in the State Senate in a leadership position. If it is not an American blessing, I don't know what it is. I appreciate your trust in me and faith in me. I will try with the best of my ability to honor my colleagues and serve each one of you faithfully--as I was sworn in. My colleagues, on a personal note, I want to thank you so much. With me today, my family understands and also my great American friends who came to congratulate me. This is the first time in the history of the United States that a Korean-American ever to be nominated and elected to this position. Thank you so much!"

ELECTION OF SECRETARY OF THE SENATE

REMARKS BY SENATOR SNYDER

Senator Snyder: “Thank you, Mr. President. I rise to place in nomination for Secretary of the Senate, the name of Tony Cook. I think most of you realize that this is the old job I had a number of years ago. I think it is the best job in the state of Washington, outside of being an elected official. I think Tony has carried on a tradition that was taught to me many years ago when I first worked in the House of Representatives--that regardless, you treat everyone the same. I think Tony has exemplified that. He has done a wonderful job; he has treated everyone fairly on both sides of the aisle. I don’t think anybody has any complaints at all. He has put together a magnificent staff that is helpful to all of us. The Senate rolls along so smoothly and we don’t realize how much work there is that goes on behind the scenes under Tony’s control. Gene has been with us for about seventeen years. Somehow or other, he puts up with us, but he has the respect of each one of us. One of the many remarkable things about Gene is that he anticipates our needs even before we know we have a need. For someone who has had more than my share lately, believe me, I know. We are on a roll here today. Let’s keep it up. Let’s finish it right and vote for Gene Gotovac for Sergeant at Arms of the Washington State Senate.”

EDITOR’S NOTE: See Tenth Day, January 17, 2001, in accordance with Rule 41, for appointments and changes to the Standing Committees.

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: “Senator Sheldon has moved that all members shown on the committee assignment sheet be confirmed.

REMARKS BY SENATE WEST

Senator West: “Mr. President, I guess I wasn’t listening. I didn’t hear you make the appointments. Did you make that announcement that you had made the appointments?”

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: “No, I did not, Senator.”
Senator West: “Is it premature to confirm the appointments prior to making the appointments?”
President Owen: “I think the President may have misunderstood your question. The President has placed the appointments before you as shown on the lilac sheet and has made those in that gesture and therefore they are before you to be confirmed.”

MOTION TO DIVIDE QUESTION

Senator West: “I move that the question be divided and that the Committee on Transportation, the Committee on Ways and Means and the Committee on Rules be considered separate from the rest of the committees.”

REPLY TO SENATOR WEST

President Owen: “Senator West has moved that the question be divided and that the Committees on Transportation, Ways and Means and Rules be considered on a separate vote. Did you wish to elaborate on that, Senator West?”

REMARKS BY SENATOR WEST

Senator West: “Yes, Mr. President. Thank you very much. It is my intent that the committees that would be taken at this point in time, other that the Committees on Transportation, Ways and Means and Rules-- to speak in favor of the confirmation of those appointments. You might notice that the Senate is divided twenty-five to twenty-four and that each of those committee is represented by a one vote majority of the majority, similar to the body itself. But, you will also note that the President’s recommendations on the Committee on Ways and Means, I believe, there is a four vote difference, not a one vote difference. On the Committee on Transportation, there is three vote difference and on the Committee on Rules, there is a two vote difference, technically. But, considering that the President is the Chairman of the Rules Committee, there is actually a three vote difference.

“It would be my intent when we get to the confirmations on the other three that we address those and try to bring some balance and bipartisanship there. So, I will make those arguments at that time.”

REMARKS BY SENATOR SNYDER

Senator Snyder: “Thank you, Mr. President. I would rise to object to dividing the question. I think the purpose of Senator West’s motion is to offer amendments to those three committees to add some additional Republican members. I think it could be handled without dividing the question and I think he could offer his amendments and let the amendments go up or down and then we can go ahead to confirm the committees as a whole.”
PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Sheahan: "A point of parliamentary inquiry, Mr. President. I am wondering what rules we are operating under at this moment."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Presently, the Senate has not adopted Senate Rules, so without the adoption of the Senate Rules, the Senate operates under, what would be considered, general parliamentary rules."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the motion by Senator West to divide the question and that the Committees on Transportation, Ways and Means and Rules be considered separately.

REMARKS BY SENATOR WEST

Senator West: "Mr. President, in closing debate. This morning I went over to Senator Snyder and brought to him the attention of this issue. He mentioned, given more time, he may be able to consider some adjustments to those three committees. I wonder, rather than delay the entire Senate, again, my motion to divide the issues, proceed with those committees where there is no dispute—if we could get to the point of dividing the issue and those other three committees could be left to later when Senator Snyder and I could meet in more detail."

REMARKS BY SENATOR SNYDER

Senator Snyder: "Mr. President, I still urge the body not to divide the question. Senator West came over this morning and suggested that he had three names of Republicans to add to the Ways and Means Committee, two to Transportation and one to the Rules Committee. Now, in the past, we have all known, regardless who has had control, Democrat or Republican, they have always had super majorities on especially Ways and Means and the Rules Committee. So, this is no different than we have had in the past.

"It is kind of a short notice of 9 o'clock this morning when Senator West came over and asks to add some names to these committees. In the past, we have tried to accommodate—I think we did this time, by increasing or decreasing members of other committees to allow more participation. I think that we should go ahead and adopt these committees; I will be glad to work with Senator West in the future. I am not committing to adding names, but I would certainly like to work with him and also think that we need to adopt these committees today, because we had referred bills to committees and the committee chairman would like to scheduling committee meetings and if the committees aren't officially adopted, I don't know how they can go along with their proceedings. We know we are in for a long one-hundred five day session and the sooner we can get started, I think, the better off we are. I would urge you to go ahead and adopt the standing committees that have been recommended.

"I pledge to work with Senator West, without making any commitment whatsoever. We will take a look at his arguments and then proceed from there. I wish that Senator West would have come to me earlier than three hours before the session started this morning—with his request."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the motion by Senator West that the vote on confirmation of the committee members be divided and that the Transportation, Ways and Means and Rules Committees be separate.

The motion by Senator West failed and the question was not divided.

The motion by Senator West failed and the question was not divided.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the confirmation of the recommended appointed members of the committees.

MOTION

Senator West: "Considering that motion failed, I would like to move now that the appointments to the Committee on Transportation, the Committee on Rules and the Committee on Ways and Means be added to as follows: I would like to move to confirm additional appointments to the Transportation Committee, adding the names of Senator Swecker and Senator West; additional names to the Rules Committee, adding the name of Senator Honeyford; and additional members to the Ways and Means Committee, adding the names of Senator Carlson, Senator Hochstatter and Senator Parlette; and I would like to speak to my motion."
REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: “Senator West has moved the motion be amended to include the addition to the Transportation Committee of Senator Swecker and Senator West; the addition to the Rules Committee of Senator Honeyford; and the addition to the Ways and Means Committee of Senator Carlson, Senator Hochstatter and Senator Parlette.”

REMARKS BY SENATOR WEST

Senator West: “Thank you, Mr. President. We hear a lot about bipartisanship leading up to this session. We know the House ended in a tie and the Senate is virtually in a tie. The people in the state of Washington have sent us here to do their business in a bipartisan manner. There are key issues this legislative session. The budget is always a key issue, but transportation is also a key issue. This side of the aisle represents nearly fifty percent of the population of the state of Washington. In fact, with a population growth in certain districts, it may in fact represent more that fifty percent of the people of the state of Washington.

In essence, those people are being disfranchised by having lesser votes on the Transportation Committee, the Ways and Means Committee and the Rules Committee. I would also point out that the United States Senate is equally divided—actually the Republicans have a one vote majority with the Vice President. Yet, they have decided to divide their committee equally—down the line. There are many state legislatures, this particular year, that are clearly divided. I think there are three state Senates in the United States that are also fifty, fifty.

In the interest of bipartisanship, it is very important that these committees be adjusted to reflect that. The distinguished gentlemen from Long Beach pointed out that it is tradition to have these numbers in this fashion. I actually had staff go back and do a little research since 1980. In fact, in 1987, when the Democrats controlled, the Committee on Transportation, for instance, had a nine, eight difference. There was a one vote majority. In fact, last year, when the Democrat party controlled, they had twenty-seven, twenty-two here on the floor, but they only had an eleven to nine in the committee. Now that those numbers are closer here on the floor, there are further apart on the committee. It is ten to seven. Instead of two votes, it is now three votes.

“Mr. President, I would concede that past practice has lead us to have super majorities on Ways and Means, but this is no time to be looking to past practice at a time in this session when we need to listen closely to each other and when we need to cooperate closely with each other. It is no time to decide that three very key, very important committees will have super majorities. How does that foster getting along? How does that foster working together? That clearly is the tyranny of the majority—not respecting the rights of the minority and not respecting fifty percent of the people in the state of Washington—clearly disfranchising them on the budget and transportation issues and all legislation, because of the Rules Committee. So, I ask the Senate to approve this amendment to add those Senators to these three committees. Thank you, Mr. President.”

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Snyder: “Thank you, Mr. President. I have a parliamentary inquiry. This is an oral amendment to the motion by Senator Betti Sheldon to confirm the appointees to the standing committees?”

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: “That is the way the President understands it. This is an oral amendment to the motion by Senator Betti Sheldon to confirm the appointees by the President to the committees.”

REMARKS BY SENATOR SNYDER

Senator Snyder: “Well, I would hope that we would postpone, and I know we are going to have differences, but bickering on the first day of the legislative session and here again, I was first confronted with this three hours before the session started without any change to give it any thought, without any chance to talk it over with my colleagues on my side of the aisle. Here, again, I will sit down and there may be some wiggle room. I am not guaranteeing there will be some wiggle room, but my suggestion is that we go ahead and adopt the committee assignments as presented by the President of the Senate and give us a chance to work with you this week. You might be able to convince us that there is some room to add Republican members. I can tell you flat out right now that you are not going to get everything you are asking for. You may not get anything, but I have been a reasonable person in the past and I will continue to be a reasonable person in the future. I would urge that the amendment by Senator West be voted down.”
PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Sheahan: “Thank you, Mr. President. A point of parliamentary inquiry. Because we are operating without Senate Rules and under general parliamentary rules, I would like to know how many votes are necessary to pass the motion to confirm the standing committee appointments.”

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: “In response to the parliamentary inquiry by Senator Sheahan, the President believes that it takes a majority of those present.”

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the motion by Senator West to amend the motion by Senator Betti Sheldon that the committees be confirmed as appointed by the President to add to the Committee on Transportation, Senator Swecker and Senator West, to the Committee on Rules, Senator Hochstatter and to the Committee on Ways and Means, Senator Carlson, Senator Hochstatter and Senator Parlette.

REMARKS BY SENATOR WEST

Senator West: “Thank you, Mr. President. I know in general rules and parliamentary procedure, you don’t address, directly, someone on the floor and I won’t do that. It was stated in remarks that we shouldn’t start the first day with bickering and I don’t believe that what we are asking for here is bickering, but bipartisan cooperation. When we ask for something, it shouldn’t be labeled bickering. We are not demanding everything, we just want fairness. Again, I plead with the body to approve these amendments.”

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senator West to the motion by Senator Betti Sheldon to confirm the 2001 Standing Committee Assignments.

The motion by Senator West failed and the amendment was not adopted.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the motion by Senator Betti Sheldon to adopt the proposed 2001 Standing Committee Assignments.

The motion by Senator Betti Sheldon carried on a rising vote and the 2001 Standing Committee Assignments were approved.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Betti Sheldon, the Senate reverted to the fourth order of business.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Snyder: "A point of personal privilege, Mr. President. I just want to say that November is behind us. Now, we are confronted with keeping our commitments. The tasks will not be easy, but the journey along the way does not need to be bitter and divisive. Our goals are the same: To educate our youth for their future; To retrain those whose skills need redirection; To ease the traffic snarls; To let our seniors live their later years with dignity; To create family wage jobs for all our citizens; To strike a fair balance between our environment and growth; To create safe streets and neighborhoods..... and many more subjects that are vital to our residents.

They are looking to us to solve their problems and our problems. It will not be easy, because we have different approaches to solving these problems, but we can make the tasks as pleasant as possible by treating each other with dignity and respect. We will have disagreements, but we do not need to be disagreeable. Let's hope ten or twenty years from now people aren't saying 'Things would be much better if the Legislature had done something back in 01.'

"I pledge my cooperation to Democrats and Republicans, House and Senate, to make this session as productive and as civil as possible. Let's hope we can call concentrate on the next generation instead of the next election. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator West: "Thank you, Mr. President. A point of personal privilege. We join in that message. I think that Senator Snyder, the Senator from Long Beach, has clearly laid out the issues that are most important to the people in the state of Washington. Traffic issues, transportation issues and the congestion thereof and the education of our children and good well-paying jobs in our state. We look forward to working cooperatively with the other side. But, we will say that cooperation means that we will not surrender our principles. We will join together in those places where we can agree and work together. I pledge to you that the people on this side of the aisle will listen to what you have to say and try and get at the heart of what it is that you are representing with your constituents--and we will ask nothing in return. We would hope that you would listen closely to what we have to say. The point we made earlier remains. We certainly hope and I think the people in the state of Washington expect both parties to share power, both parties to share dreams for the state of Washington. Both parties need to do their level best to make this a great place to live for everybody in the state of Washington. I will pledge to you, Senator Snyder, that I will do that with you and our caucus will work with your caucus. Let's show each other respect and not a harsh word passed."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Betti Sheldon, the Senate returned to the third order of business.

MESSAGE FROM THE SECRETARY OF STATE

The Honorable Brad Owen
President of the Senate
Legislature of the State of Washington
Olympia, Washington 98504
Dear President Owen:

We respectfully transmit for your consideration the following bills which have been partially vetoed by the Governor, together with the official veto message setting forth his objections to the sections or items of the bills, as required by Article III, section 12, of the Washington State Constitution:
PARTIALLY VETOED BILLS

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO MESSAGE ON ENGROSSED SECOND SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6499

May 2, 2000

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 1, Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 6499 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to transportation funding and appropriations;"

The Constitution of the State of Washington, Article III, Section 12, makes clear that every act passed by the legislature shall be presented for consideration by the governor. That constitutional section further provides that the governor may veto less than an entire bill. The phrase "enacted in a form passed by the legislature" as defined in section 1 of E2SSB 6499 effectively makes such presentment conditional upon the governor's approval of the entire referenced bill, and incorporates substantive legislation into an appropriations bill. This violates several constitutional principles, including the doctrine of separation of powers. It improperly restricts the governor's constitutional veto power, and sets a bad precedent.

For these reasons, I have vetoed section 1 of Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 6499.

With the exception of section 1, Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 6499 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
GARY LOCKE, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
PARTIAL VETO MESSAGE ON SECOND ENGROSSED SECOND SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6856

May 2, 2000

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 8(2) and 15 of Second Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 6856 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to transportation funding;"

Section 8(2) (found at page 14, line 37 through page 15, line 6 of the bill) would have amended RCW 46.68.035 and Chapter 102, Section 7, laws of 1993, to redirect the portion of the combined vehicle license fee revenues that are currently distributed to the State Patrol Highway Account to instead be distributed to the Motor Vehicle Account. This change in distribution was inadvertently copied from an earlier version of the bill and would have the effect of putting the State Patrol Highway Account in a deficit position. In order to restore legislative intent and to avoid fund balance problems in the State Patrol Highway Account, I have vetoed this section.

Section 15 (found on pages 24 and 25 of the bill) would have amended RCW 44.40.070 and Chapter 245, Section 87, laws of 1998, so that the transportation revenue forecast council would be responsible for adopting a comprehensive six-year program and financial plans for state agency transportation activities. The section also would have codified the membership of the transportation revenue forecast council to include only transportation agencies. The council currently includes representatives from transportation agencies, as well as the Office of Financial Management, the Economic and Revenue Forecast Council, the Office of the State Treasurer, and the House and Senate Transportation Committees. I do not support the exclusion of non-transportation agencies from the council, and I believe that the development and adoption of six-year transportation expenditure and revenue plans should remain with the agencies.

For these reasons, I have vetoed sections 8(2) and 15, Second Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 6856.

With the exception of sections 8(2) and 15, Second Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 6856 is approved.
Respectfully submitted,
GARY LOCKE, Governor

MOTION

On motion of Senator Betti Sheldon, the Messages from the Secretary of State regarding the bills that the Governor partially vetoed and signed after the 2000 Session were held on the desk.

WASHINGTON STATE CRIMINAL JUSTICE TRAINING COMMISSION

A MESSAGE FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Over the last two years, the Washington State Criminal Justice Training Commission (WSCJTC) has worked with customers to create a learning environment that better meets the specific job requirements for criminal justice professionals. Through partnerships, the WSCJTC has increased regional training, expanded the basic law enforcement academy and enhanced the overall satisfaction of professionals who attend courses.

This report summarizes the activities of the last two years, documents the status and satisfaction of service, and identifies the efforts currently underway, as well as those under development, that provide state of the art training to criminal justice professionals in Washington State. Although much improvement and growth has occurred since this report was submitted two years ago, there will always be areas of opportunity for the organization.

The impact of 1-695 cuts has had a direct impact upon customers of the WSCJTC. Funding limitations will continue to strain the ability the WSCJTC has to provide training that takes advantage of the current technology and provides criminal investigators, in particular, with the edge they need to investigate crimes of technology.

I invite your comments regarding this report. If I may be of assistance, please do not hesitate to contact me directly at (206) 835-7347.

Sincerely,

MICHAEL D. PARSONS, Ph.D, Executive Director

REMARKS BY PRESIDENT OWEN

President Owen: “As the Speaker announced earlier, this occasion provides all of us with the opportunity to recognize old friends who are leaving office. They have done an incredible job for the time they have served here. Speaker Ballard would like to take this opportunity to say a few words. Mr. Speaker.”

REMARKS BY CO-SPEAKER BALLARD

Co-Speaker Ballard: “Actually, one of the honorees I am going to be speaking for is a member of the House, even though she has had a lot influence on statewide issues. Since she is leaving, we wanted to take this opportunity and that is Representative Renee Radcliff. It is with great sadness that we say goodbye temporarily to a distinguished colleague. Representative Renee Radcliff has served her constituents and this institution with honor and dignity. She has raised the level of esteem for public service. In her own way, she has touched each of us and left a lasting mark on this institution by setting high standards for herself and all of us as law makers. We owe a great deal of thanks to Renee Radcliff for her years of dedicated service in Olympia.

“We will miss her thoughtful leadership and her kind manner. She has been a model legislator. Each of us would do well to conduct the businesses of our offices with the same strong passionate approach that has made her such an effective voice for her constituents. We will miss her warm demeanor and we will miss her great singing voice. I asked her to help me with my singing. She listened briefly and said, ‘I don’t mind the difficult, but I can’t handle the impossible.’ We will miss her great sense of humor.

“We will lose her as a colleague, but never as a friend. I hope she will accept this invitation to be here to spend time with you and counsel us and to laugh with us whenever she wishes to bless us with her presence. You are welcome back anytime, Renee. Perhaps, the only consultation that I have is that I know she has the desire and the strength to return to us one day as a legislator. You and I and the people of this state can look forward to the day when she will serve in this body once again. Renee, we love you. God Speed!”

Co-Speaker Ballard presented Representative Radcliff with a gift.

REMARKS BY REPRESENTATIVE RADCLIFF

Representative Radcliff: “Speaker Ballard told me I had to open this and it is quite heavy and it is from Talcotts. I was hoping it was a diamond. It is very large and I have a hunch it is a paper weight. Oh yes, it is; it is the seal of the state of Washington—a beautiful paper weight. Thank you so much and thank you for your kind remarks, Speaker Ballard.

“I knew I should have prepared remarks and I didn’t. Until very recently, I thought I would serve in this Chamber forever—or at least until I am as old as Speaker Ballard. You know, he can’t take me off any committees at this point. Sometimes, life deals us a hand that we are not entirely prepared to play, but we take those cards and we play those to the best of our ability. Even at times when the game is painful and difficult, we still play to win. Those of you who know me best know that ultimately I never lose.

"So, it is with difficulty, somewhat, that I leave you, but I do hope that someday I will be able to return. I have thoroughly enjoyed serving with each and everyone of you. Even on those days, when we had vigorous disagreements, I never doubted for a moment that you had the best interest of the people of your district at heart and I value that in you. If there is just one thing I could leave you with, and I would like to leave you with a thousand suggestions, but this is not an opportunity for me to lobby you. Just the one thing--as you are having those vigorous disagreements, work those issues out because they tend to be the most important things we do. As you work those issues diligently, remember who you are dealing with and that each one of you represents the people of this state and treat each other with the kindness and a dignity and respect that each one of you so richly deserves.

"In closing, I want to say thank you to the House Republican Caucus and Speaker Ballard and to my legislative assistant, Nina Fallema. Thank you to all of you for putting up with me. Some days that was a greater challenge than others and--I appreciated it. To each one of you, thank you for your friendship. I hope that even though I am not here, you will know that my heart is here with you and that friendship will continue. Especially, thank you so much for so thoughtfully representing the people of your district and for caring so deeply about this state that we all love. Thank you and do good work."

INTRODUCTION OF RETIRING INSURANCE COMMISSIONER DEBORAH SENN

Representative Schual-Berke: "It is a distinct privilege for me to have the honor to be the one to say 'Thank you, Deborah, for all the dedication and service that you have given to the people of the state of Washington.' Deborah, you are talented and bright and you have always championed the people. Deborah's commitment to fairness and justice shines through her every action and has for every moment that she has been in public service. We know that Deborah has transformed the office of the Insurance Commissioner from a little known agency, quietly working with the insurance industry, into a strong and an effective consumer advocacy agency that has been there for our people when they have most needed it. Thanks to her vision and efforts, everyone knows they can call the SHIBA Hotline when they need to. She has worked for the vulnerable and to create meaningful solutions for them. Solutions which will continue, Deborah, long after your term of office has been completed. And this is Deborah Senn's real gift and her legacy to us, the people of the state of Washington.

"You know, her instinct has always been for how do real people feel the affect of what we do. One of my most moving experiences as a freshman legislator was when I met a young woman who had had a heart transplant. It is not difficult to imagine how sick that young woman must have been, but she survived her surgery and was doing well--thanks to life sustaining medication. I met her though after her insurance company denied continued coverage for that life sustaining medication and despite the fact that she had done everything she could for herself. I met her, because Deborah Senn and her office intervened for this young woman and got coverage continued for her medication. Today, this woman is healthy and vibrant.

"There are so many others who have Deborah and her good work to thank for their continued well-being. Now, in the short time that I have known Deborah Senn, I have come to realize that she can also surprise us. Many have come to expect to see her riding her Harley in black leather in parades. She certainly hasn't shied away from the press or publicity now, has she? I heard a story when I first got here about then, Representative Dyer, who introduced a bill that some felt was just a little bit favorable for the insurance industry and how Commissioner Senn held a press conference with bags of Gravy Train dog food at her door.

"Deborah is also committed to families. Like all of us, she has many sides. Despite all of her hard work, she spends much time with her Mother. She is an ardent advocate of fairness and justice. We know that many people have opinions, but relatively few step forward and step up to the plate to take action. In a personal relative example just this past session, Deborah championed the Holocausts Survivors Rights to get their insurance assets that had been withheld from them for so many years. Yet, her style has at times been controversial. Well, that is what people who fight for our rights sometimes need to be. You can be certain of this, there are many people in Washington who are alive today, because Deborah Senn was fighting in their corner in their time of need and today feel a tremendous sense of loss.

"Now, Deborah, I would like to tell you what I think your true legacy is and for which we all owe a great debt of gratitude. Never again will the Office of the Insurance Commissioner be seen as a quiet agency working only with the insurance industry. Never again will consumers feel that they have nowhere to turn in their time of need. Never again will we have an Insurance Commissioner who does not believe that he or she is the true champion of all the people of the state of Washington. So, for myself personally, and on behalf of the Legislature and all those out there grateful for the good work that you endured on your part, I thank you."

Representative Schual-Berke presented Insurance Commissioner Senn with a gift.

REMARKS BY INSURANCE COMMISSIONER DEBORAH SENN
Commissioner Senn: "Thank you, Shay. Thank you members of the Legislature, state elected officials and Governor Locke. I am so honored to be here. Actually, I was going to wear my leathers and I didn’t think it was suitable until I saw Ralph and then I was sorry that I didn’t wear the leather outfit that I had planned. I want to start, if you will allow me, by asking my chief deputy and members of my staff, who have come to be here today, to stand and be recognized, because this is the most awesome staff in state government. Please stand up.

“Everyone in this room knows how hard political life is on spouses or partners. They are, truly, the unsung heros of politics. They share your joys and your highs, but they also suffer your blows and your stress and they are very patient about the countless hours of out of town meetings--and that your are missing in action.

“About sixteen years ago, I had a big wedding reception, but we held the ceremony in private, because I was too shy to get married in front of people. Well, I am over my shyness. So, I want to, in front of all of you, recognize and to say ‘thank you’ to my incredible husband, Rudi Bertchi, and tell him that I love him so much.

“This has been the best eight years of my life. I know that every day. I know that because when I am in a restaurant in Seattle, the waiter comes up to me and says that our rules lending preexisting conditions enabled him to get health insurance. I know that every day. Just last Saturday at Costco, a meat cutter stuck her head out from behind the counter and thanked me for my work on prescription drug coverage. I know that because, at the Ellensburg Rodeo, one of the one hundred thousand Prudential policy holders came up to me and said, ‘Thank you Commissioner, Prudential gave us thirteen thousand dollars in a refund because of a settlement of a case on unfair sales practices.’ I know that everyday, because Kittis Buldoc was able to rebuild her home, because her husband blew up her house and she was able to do it with her home owner’s insurance money that she got because of the hard work of my great staff and because this Legislature passed good laws.

“Perhaps, the greatest satisfaction is to know that particularly because the Office of the Insurance Commissioner does health care that my staff and I are part of saving a life. The scriptures say that if you save one life, you save the world. I am proud, everyday, that we fought to continue the coverage as Shay mentioned of Victoria Doyle’s transplant medicine. We also helped to get Jay Ellison a transplant for his multiple sclerosis coverage and now he is walking. Both Jay and Victoria, in spite of their struggles, came to Olympia to advocate for a patient’s bill of rights. And they have come today, so once again can we recognize Jay Ellison and Victoria Doyle? It was you, the Legislature, and Jay and Victoria who did this for the people of the state of Washington.

“The next time that you hear about a poll that says young people don’t want to go into politics or public service, just remember they are young, just shrug and remind them that public service is a sacred trust. So, when you pass transportation legislation this session, which no doubt will make our roads safer, you will save one life and you will save the world. When you pass a DSHS budget and help children or a bill to protect our resources or to save our salmon, you will save one life and you will save the world. What you do here in this Chamber is a sacred trust.

“Finally, on a personal note, perhaps one of the proudest moments of this eight years was when this Legislature unanimously passed the Holocaust Survivors Assistance Act--opening your arms and your hearts to small, but mighty survivor populations in the state of Washington. I thank you Senator Margarita Prentice, Senator Adam Kline, Senator Jim West and Senator Don Benton for that. I thank you Representative Shay Schual-Berke, Representative Renee Radcliff, Representative Sharon Tomiko Santors, Representative Brad Benson and many, many others for that.

“So, I bid you farewell. Of the four of us honored today, my departure from public service is not entirely voluntary. Yesterday, one of my staff suggested that I quote a very wise man, Arnold Schwarzenegger----‘I’ll be back.’ I thank you from the bottom of my heart.”

INTRODUCTION OF RETIRING COMMISSIONER OF PUBLIC LANDS JENNIFER BELCHER

Senator Fraser: “It is my honor to recognize Commissioner of Public Lands Jennifer Belcher. As we gather here in the House Chamber today, in joint session, I suspect that Public Lands Commissioner Belcher’s thoughts must be filled with many memories and a lot of nostalgia. That, in part, is because she began her election career in this Chamber as a member of the State House of Representatives. Her service began in 1983 and she served five terms—that’s ten vigorous years that she served. I was privileged to serve with her during my first two terms and her last two terms, along with Insurance Commissioner Elect Mike Kreidler, who at that time was a State Senator. I always appreciated her kind and informative assistance in helping to learn the ways of the House and the Legislature and all who have been here know how important it is to get some good advice early on.

“In the House, Representative Belcher was widely admired for her strong capable leadership. She made a major mark on many policy areas. She chaired the Natural Resources Committee; she worked hard to improve the status of women. She sought fair pay and just treatment for all working people. She was one of the ‘Steel Magnolias’ who developed the foundation for our growth management policies. Representative Belcher was highly regarded for her caring and her commitment to public service and as a tough negotiator and always dedicated to the public.

“The voters recognized her enormous capabilities and twice elected her to serve as Commissioner of Public Lands. There, she continued to demonstrate these qualities in addition to showing what a capable executive she is. The role of Public Lands Commissioner, for those who are watching the ceremony, who are not as familiar with it as some of us, is truly a position of very great public trust for present and future generations. The impact of her work will last centuries or more. Her role is critical to our state’s economy, the quality of our natural resources, our state’s financial capacity and continuation of our recreational and cultural heritage.

“As Commissioner of Public Lands, she has been the manager of our great state legacy of trust lands and resources granted to us by statehood. We are one of the few western states that continues to have a large amount of these lands still in the public trust. These lands include timber lands, agriculture lands, aquatic lands, which includes the bottom of Puget Sound, the wetland, and many of our lakes and rivers and she was intrusted with leadership on forest practice policies. As we all know, there is no shortage of diverse and strongly held opinions on what should be contained in all these complex policies. It takes a clear head and firm commitment to serve effectively in this role, which she has certainly done. This is in the easiest of times, but during her tenure, we have gone through a period of considerable change in our state. The context has included very great population growth, significant economic change, growing stress on our natural resources, which has culminated in many listings under the Endangered Species Act.

“So, Commissioner Belcher will be remember for much during her eight year--two term tenure as Commissioner of Public Lands. She has promoted a shared vision for natural resources; she is very good at establishing goals and working through strategy to implement them. She has promoted the management of our eco-systems as a whole, not just piecemeal, which is essential to good judgement. She has worked to enhance the value of our public lands legacy through diversification. She has increased the priority intention given to our aquatic land resources, particularly to some of the pollution problems. She has promoted quality public administration through investing in a quality workforce and efficiency through technology and use of the best available science.

“Absolutely vital to success is her work to form strong partnership between the Department of Natural Resources and the myriad of local, state and federal agencies, tribal organizations, private organizations and land owners throughout the state. Through all of this, she has served with intelligence, integrity and steady commitment to the public interest for which we can all be proud and appreciative.

“So, Jennifer, we thank you for your truly dedicated leadership to the people of the state of Washington, present and future. Thank you for the great legacy you are leaving and personally, thank you for being a wonderful colleague and friend. We wish you pleasant opportunities to engage in your many personal interests now that you will have a little more personal time. We would like to present you with a wonderful gift which is a replica of a historic door knob here in the Legislative Building. We hope you will view this as an invitation to come back and visit.”

Senator Fraser presented Commissioner of Public Lands Belcher with a gift.

REMARKS BY RETIRING COMMISSIONER OF PUBLIC LANDS JENNIFER BELCHER

Commissioner of Public Lands Belcher: “This is particularly appropriate as a gift since I serve on the State Capitol Committee and have been actively engaged in helping to get these buildings back into some greater condition. So, I will truly treasure that. Ladies and gentlemen, honored guests and my treasured colleagues, it is with distinct pleasure that only those of you in this room can truly understand that I can say, in this Chamber, ‘Today, I end twenty-nine years of public service to the state of Washington.’ As a good friend of mine said, ‘You have finally reached the point where the state of Washington will pay you to do nothing.’ I like that definition of retirement; I think that is pretty good.

“I have had a wonderful varied career as Karen pointed out some of those things. I began as an Administrative Secretary in what was then known as the State Planning and Community Affairs Agency--an interesting name. I was working for Dan Evans’ state planning director, who had been brought to the state of Washington to try to adopt a statewide land use plan in 1967. Ironically, while he wasn’t successful then, a little more than twenty years later, I was one of the members of this body who helped to pass the Growth Management Act. For me, it brought things full circle. I very much appreciated my opportunity to participate in that Act. I have served as staff to two very different Governors--Dan Evans and Dixie Lee Ray--and learned a lot from both those people--different lessons--but a lot from each one.

“It was there that I met my very good friend, Ralph Munro, who has continued to be a mentor to me and has helped me to achieve many successes. For ten years, as most of you know, I was fortunate to represent the people of the Twenty-second District in this Chamber and to work on many important policy changes. My class, the class of ‘82, has given the state two Speakers of this House, several judges, a Governor and a Commissioner of Public Lands. My time in this body was especially rewarding. I will never forget the thrill of taking that first oath of office and being sworn in to serve the people. It is an incredible experience as some of you experienced yesterday. I hope you will treasure it and the thrill of adopting good policy. During the ten years that I was here, we adopted the Growth Management Act after much hard work. We adopted the Model Toxic Control Act; we increased the state’s minimum wage and set in place a process to assure that it never again falls behind. We passed the Family Leave Act. We passed Comparable Worth and there are many more. These are just some of the successes of the time that I served here in this body.

“We also knew how to have fun and I hope you haven’t forgotten that as you serve here, as well. I will also never forget slipping into this Chamber in the wee hours of the morning when it was dark with my two very good cohorts and co-trouble makers--Representative Katie Allen, who was an absolutely incredible Republican Activist--
INTRODUCTION OF RETIRING SECRETARY OF STATE RALPH MUNRO

Senator Hale: “Thank you Mr. President, Governor Locke, colleagues and honored guests. It is a privilege and an honor to rise today in recognition of the outstanding contributions to the state of Washington by one of its most effective and certainly its most beloved leaders—our retiring Secretary of State, Ralph Munro. Ralph has been a guiding light to many of us in this body for a long, long time. His dedication to public service and his commitment to the people of our state is unsurpassed by those who have walked these halls. His career has been a model of public service and an example for the rest of us to follow. (Sound like a saint, don’t you, Ralph?)

“As our ambassador to the world, Ralph has helped to bring thousands of new jobs to the state. He has opened countless markets for our products overseas and he has won friends for us around the globe. I can say that with authority, because I have watched. I had the good fortune to accompany Ralph on a trade mission to Northern Ireland. I was amazed at the way all the people we met related to him—whether they were heads of state, a hotel clerk or people who served us at the tavern. He made an instant connection to people, because he treated everyone with respect. He treated everyone as a friend.

“His understanding of good business practices and common sense government led him to streamline the state’s business licensing requirements into a ‘one-stop shop.’ Ralph also knows that good work requires good people, so he developed incentive plans to reward employees who figured out ways to save the state money or improve our efficiently. He has worked to help the developmentally disabled for thirty years.

“At Ralph’s retirement party not long ago, former Governor Dan Evans said, ‘Ralph was the person who taught me to care.’ The person who taught me to care—that is a powerful, powerful testimonial. He was the state’s first volunteer coordinator and he has been volunteering to help others ever since. His commitment to the preservation of wildlife and the environment is well known and so is his reverence for the state’s history and his gratitude for the opportunity provided to his own family. He has been involved in historic preservation efforts throughout Washington and has helped establish four regional archives to preserve that history.

“Our Secretary of State has been a tireless promoter of voter education, registration and participation. He, also, has been a tireless champion of the best and newest voting technology—and I dare say he is an example for others to follow when it comes to conducting recounts without judicial interference. The Florida fiasco could not have happened on Ralph’s watch. He wouldn’t have allowed it.

“Ralph’s accomplishments in more than thirty years of public service have been recognized by many organizations in the state and the nation. Certainly, he has been honored by foreign countries and international heads of state. They include Spain’s King Juan Carlos and former Russian President Boris Yeltsin—both of whom honored Ralph with the highest awards they can give to non-citizens. Ralph has truly been our worldwide secret weapon.

“That is Ralph—the consummate professional—but we here at home have had an opportunity to get to know Ralph, the man—the warm and supportive friend with the booming and gravel-for-breakfast voice and the relentless sense of humor. Ralph is one in a million. We are going to miss you so much, Ralph—your sensitivity, your decency and your honesty. We are going to miss your caring, your civility and your boundless good nature. We are going to miss your stories and your kilts—but probably not your bagpipes.

“Your grandfather Alexander may have carved some of the stones used to build this great building, but you my friend, have been the rock that helped to make it great. Good luck to you and Karen. God Bless and Godspeed.”

Senator Hale presented Secretary of State Munro with a gift.

REMARKS BY RETIRING SECRETARY OF STATE RALPH MUNRO

Secretary of State Munro: “Governor Locke, members of the Legislature, members of the court and citizens all, thank you very much. It has been an honor and pleasure to serve. Not one of us as elected officials could possible carry out these tasks without an outstanding team beside us. In the front roll of the gallery today, there are four or five individuals I would like to briefly introduce. The first is Don Whiting, often called Mr. Credibility in state government. Don started as a clerk in the Secretary of State’s office over thirty years ago. He has served as a junior level staff person, as a clerk for numerous task forces, as a Chief Election Officer for the state of Washington and finally as Assistant Secretary of State. He is the best that I know and I am so proud of his work—Mr. Don Whiting.

The second is Tracy Guerin, our financial director. Tracy can stretch a dollar farther than any other financial officer in a state agency that I know of. If she was in charge of the state’s budget, we would have so much money to spend, you wouldn’t know where to put it all. She is outstanding and most recently she has served as our Assistant Secretary of State--Tracy Guerin. The third is Michelle Burkheimer. Her work in the international arena and the development of international student programs including our well known data base have contributed immensely to Washington State’s Business Development both here and overseas. She has been an excellent Deputy Secretary of State--Michelle Burkheimer. The fourth is David Brine. David took the office of communications director to an entirely new level with the improvements to the Voter’s Pamphlet and the development of our Web Site and the beginnings of a system to announce timely election results over the Web immediately following the closing of the polls. I should tell you that our Elections Reporting Web Site had over two million hits in the thirty hour period following the polls closing—David Brine. Of those two million hits, one point six million hits came from the personal computers of Maria Cantwell and State Gordon. The final is Jan Nutting, my personal secretary. She is the best that state government has and I will be indebted to her for the rest of my life—one of our outstanding state employees—Jan Nutting. We can all be thankful that Washington State government attracts the very best. Our team in the Secretary of State’s Office, including these folks and many others, have been the very best.

“Karen and I wear our kilts today to pay respect to my grandparents who came to America. My grandfather was a poor Scottish stone mason, having experience working on the castles of Northern Scotland. He went to work on state capitol buildings here in the United States of America. He recruited the work of the Texas capitol. He later worked in the capitol buildings in Kansas, Colorado, Victoria British Columbia and finally here in Olympia. He considered this structure to be the grandest of all and he worked full time on the job starting at the Wilkenson Stone Quarry on the side of Mt. Rainier, then at the Walker Stone Company on the Tacoma tideflats and finally here in Olympia from 1922 to 1928. What a task it was to create such a beautiful structure!

“Our family has always been immensely proud of this building as it was completed and the workers stared into the lavish new offices for the elected officials. I doubt that my grandfather ever dreamed that one of his grandchildren would occupy a spot in this capitol. I came to work here several days before Christmas in 1966 as supply clerk in the House of Representatives. The Republicans had taken control and Speaker Don Eldridge and Sergeant at Arms Eugene Prince hired me fresh out of college. I worked as a supply clerk, a reader on this podium, bill room supervisor, assistant sergeant at arms, the state's first volunteer coordinator, assistant to Governor Dan Evans, a lobbyist for handicapped children and finally as the Secretary of State. I am afraid my career has not been very successful. Since my opening day of work in 1966, the farthest I have ever moved is about one hundred and fifty feet down the hall and in all those years, I only moved up one floor. “My roommate, Mel Dodd, and I were prowling the halls looking for good looking women to date on the opening day of session in 1971.”

REMARKS BY MRS. RALPH MUNRO

Mrs. Munro: “Well, I guess that is where I come in. I had just started working for the Senate Republican Caucus that year. Things were a little different back then, because a woman by the name of Helen Bonds and myself were the two people who did the press relations for the Republican Caucus. We did the press releases, the Radio/TV contacts and whatever needed to be done. We had our desks right in the caucus room then. All of the Senators were men and from time to time one of them would light up a cigar. Cigarettes were quite common, but cigars were a little more unusual. Some of the jokes told then would not be told today, but we had a good time there and we got a lot of work done, as well.

“Mel Dodd, Ralph’s roommate, did come to my desk one day to say hello and I thought that was nice of him. The next day my roommate, Mary Ann Holt, said that she had had an invitation for dinner that night from her good friend Ralph and they wanted me to come along. So, that sounded like a good idea. That must have been just about thirty years ago tomorrow, because I know we were going to have dinner and then hear the Governor’s address that evening. So, we went off in Ralph’s old truck to Shakey’s Pizza Parlor. The truck had one window that was stuck down and we couldn’t roll it up and it was a driving snow storm that night. It was a little unusual and I wasn’t impressed with the truck, but I was impressed with the fact that Ralph worked for Dan Evans and he owned two ponies, which I thought was a very good omen. I had been quite horsey in my youth and that was a nice sign.

“We starting dating quite frequently and then later that year, we both moved to Washington, D.C. Ralph didn’t last very long. When he had a chance to come back out here and go on Dan Evans personal staff, he came right away. I stayed for a while and worked for The Drug Prevention office at the White House. Then, Ralph persuaded me that maybe I should come back to Washington State, and so I did, and we became engaged and were married in 1973.

“At that point, I determined that one politician in the family was probably enough and I had an opportunity to become the Assistant Director of the Washington Commission for the Humanities, which was just being formed at the time. I had a wonderful experience inventing this program and it still is a very successful program today. When Dan Evans went out of office, Ralph and I moved up to Bainbridge Island and George was born there. He did spend most of his childhood when we came back to Olympia--most of his childhood was spent here. I remember how he and his friends like to slide down the marble ramps of the capitol out here and I remember some football games that took place in the house garage.”

REMARKS BY RALPH MUNRO

Secretary Munro: “Let the record show that the ball that hit your car was his.”

FURTHER REMARKS BY MRS. MUNRO

Mrs. Munro: “Later on, as many of you know, I did some lobbying here in the capitol. First, I worked for the National Humanities, Arts and Sciences to obtain funding for summer institutes that we held for teachers from all across the state. Then, later, as a volunteer, I have lobbied on behalf of the Washington State Horse Foundation and most recently for the Washington Wildlife and Recreation Coalition. In fact, this year, I will be in the building more that Ralph, because I will still be representative of the WRC around here.

“Like Ralph, I have many wonderful memories of the times that we have spent here with the Secretary of State’s office, as well as in these other activities. I would like to personally thank you all for your support and for all the good times that we have had here.”

FURTHER REMARKS BY RALPH MUNRO

Secretary Munro: “So, you can see that this old capitol building means a lot to us. When I die, you can just scatter my ashes out there in Ulcer Gulch. The lobbyist have been trampling on my bills and legislation for so many years, they might as well trample on me after I am gone. Our parting request to you regards this beautiful structure that Grandpa Munro helped to build. I hope you will cherish it. I know the Capitol Committees are going to be faced with terrible decisions without much money to spend to reserve and restore the internal workings of this grand old capitol building, which serves as our symbol of government itself. I urge you to be supportive.

“In conclusion, Karen and George and I have tremendous respect for each of you. We have always admired the people who had the courage to leave the bleachers and the grandstands and to enter the arena of politics--the people who are willing to stand up to the challenges, the hard work, as well as the dust and the dirt of the arena itself. You have the opportunity in the months and years ahead to make a remarkable difference to the people of the state of Washington. I urge you to do so. Best of luck to our new Secretary of State, Sam and his wife, Margie Reed. They will do an excellent job. Good luck and God Speed to each and everyone of you. Thank you.”

The President of the Senate introduced The Honorable Governor Gary Locke.

REMARKS BY GOVERNOR GARY LOCKE

Governor Locke: “Justices of the Supreme Court of the state of Washington, our statewide elected officials, members of the Legislature and members of the public. I am really pleased and honored to be here today to say goodbye to four of our best public servants. Last Friday, state-wide elected officials and non judicial state-wide elected officials met and had a great dinner and kind of shared stories and said many of our goodbyes then. So, I want to keep my remarks brief, because I think we have heard some outstanding tributes already.

“Let me first start with Ralph. Ralph Munro is that Republican officer holder that the Democrats are proud to openly say that they had voted for. Olympia simply will not be the same without Ralph Munro and this really does mark the end to a kilt as we know it. Ralph, we will miss you. You are the most dedicated of civil servants and you truly have made your mark. Your innovations have made state government more productive and have saved taxpayers millions of dollars in efficiencies and programs that you have overseen. Your campaign reforms have made Washington voting simpler and more importantly, chad-proof. You have insured the preservation of our heritage and history through your work in the Oral History Program, but also through your co-chairmanship of our state’s Centennial Celebration. Not only have you earned the people’s trust—and carried out the people's work—you have done it with style and flair and grace. Who else can play the bag pipes—design the state’s tartan—and count ballots at the same time? Mona and I wish you, Karen and George all the very best. Ralph, you are a class act and we will sorely miss you.

“For the last eight years, Jennifer Belcher has served with distinction and courage as our State’s Land Commissioner. I want to thank you, Jennifer, for all your good work in preserving our state’s natural resources and specifically our forest lands that generated, as you indicated, millions of dollars in revenue for our school construction and remodeling program. Thank you, Jennifer, for helping insure the future of our children. Jennifer, I know it was not an easy decision for you to leave state government, but please know that your legacy is secure. From the pranks that you played in the State Capitol—and we did change virtually all the buttons of the Chamber—but I remember the time when we both came into the Legislature together and you gave me some words that I have never forgotten. While we are all replaceable—there are talented people who could occupy our seats for whatever office we hold—we bring to our jobs the ability to shape and improve people’s lives in a way that no other person can. As Deborah Senn, our Insurance Commissioner, said, ‘If you save a life, you save the world; If you benefit one person, you benefit an entire community.’ Thank you, Jennifer for that admonition. I admire you on your decision to take on new challenges in your life and Mona and I wish you the very best. Thank you for your great service to the people of our state.

“Deborah Senn, you have left your mark in state government as a standard bearer for consumers in the insurance field. Among your more notable achievements and one of great personal satisfaction, I know, is the overdue recognition of payment of the Holocaust Survivors and Victims. Deborah, what an incredible legacy to leave. I want to thank you for your service to all of us in the state of Washington. We wish you and Rudi all the very best.”

“To these three statewide elected officials who leave us—Ralph, Jennifer and Deborah—as President Clinton has shown us, with twelve hours left in office for you, you can still issue a lot of rules and regulations.

“Renee, your strength and integrity will be missed. You will be missed by all your colleagues here in the Rotunda. Thank you for your work in helping nurture high technology in our state’s new economy. Thanks for helping bring state government into the Twenty-first Century. Our state has received national recognition because of the advent of technology—and you are a part of that. We want you to know that we are thinking of you during this difficult time and we know from our association with you, that you will win. As Barry Sehlin has shown, people don’t ever retire from the Legislature. They just take a respite and come back and assume an even higher position. We expect that of you, Renee. To our statewide elected officials who are departing, and to you Renee, thank you. Thank you for making a difference in the lives of so many people in our state and for setting a course—a legacy—that will survive for generations to come. On behalf of the great state of Washington, we thank you all and wish you the very best.”

INTRODUCTION OF GOVERNOR LOCKE
President Owen: "I have brought with me a special gavel today. It was made by an outstanding craftsman from Olympia named Jim McDermott. No, not the Congressman Jim McDermott that we all know. The gavel is meant to represent the strength and diversity of our great state.

The handle is a melding of black ebony wood from Africa, a reddish brown wood called Chote kok from Mexico, a maple wood from the United States and a light yellowish-brown-red delicious apple wood--Mr. Speaker--from Washington State. By laminating them together, they strengthen the handle and all come together and join the apple wood mallet as one. The head of the gavel has the state of Washington in brass, skillfully embedded into it.

When I bring this gavel down, I hear the voice of the people echo in the Chamber. It is a reminder to us all that we are here to represent all of the diverse cultures and people that strengthen our state and make it a wonderful place to live, work, and play."

"I believe us to be fortunate that in our Governor, we have a person with all these qualities of strength, skill and diversity. He grew up helping his parents in their store. After some hard work and commitment to excellence, he became an Eagle Scout. He went on to graduate from Yale with a Bachelor's Degree and received his Law Degree from Boston University.

"Today, he brings the same work ethic and commitment to excellence in his duties as our chief executive. It is always an honor for me to present to you His Excellency, Governor Gary Locke."

INaugural Address by Governor Gary Locke

Governor Locke: "Mr. President, Mr. Speakers, Honorable Chief Justice, distinguished Justices of the Supreme Court, members of the Consular Association, statewide elected officials, members of the Washington State Legislature, citizens of Washington. It's been an honor to have served the people of Washington for four years and it is a privilege to serve four more. I'm excited about the prospects before us. I am humbled by our large margin of victory--maybe because of the influx of people fleeing the energy crisis in California--or my new haircut-- or because I'm the bold, dynamic leader the press has made me out to be. Whatever the reason, I want to thank the people of our state for their confidence in me to lead our state for another four years.

"Let me also take this opportunity to introduce and thank my family who have been so supportive all of these years and so instrumental to my success. The 57th Legislature is the first of the new century and we must ask ourselves--what are the ingredients for prosperity in this new century? The answer--a transportation system that works, an education system that enriches every child, enough water and energy to meet the needs of our people and our industries. These are the basics. Let's focus on those basics and accomplish much.

Over the past four years I've traveled our state from corner to corner. *
* I've met people thrilled to be off of welfare, now holding down jobs that pay well.
* I've seen children in our schools beaming because they've participated in the Reading Corps and are now great readers.
* Young adults, the first in their families to go to college thanks to the Promise Scholarship.
* Young parents who now have low-cost health insurance for their children for the first time.

Each individual I meet reinforces in me the belief that the job of state government is to provide the foundations upon which our citizens can build quality lives. Legislators and all of us sworn in today--we're ordinary people entrusted to do extraordinary things. Nothing is more extraordinary, more rewarding, than helping to fulfill the hopes, dreams and desires of the very people who make this the vibrant state that it is.

"This Fifty-seventh Legislature marks a time of passage. Yesterday we said farewell to three statewide elected officials and we begin this session in remembrance because of the passing of State Representative Pat Scott, Senator George Sellar, and Tour Coordinator Don Shaw. All three accomplished extraordinary things. We will miss them. Our thoughts and prayers are with their families. Let's carry their spirit with us through this session.

"Families like yours and mine want to spend more time with each other instead of being stuck in traffic. We want to know our children will get the very best education with the very best teachers in the best learning environments. We want clean, cool water for our families and for fish, and enough affordable energy to light our homes, cook our meals and power our industries. These are the basics. We cannot predict the future.

"One hundred years ago our nation couldn't have known we would soar the heavens or communicate across the globe with the click of a button and that much of that progress would originate right here, because of the insight and innovation of people in the state of Washington.

But, we do know future generations will need transportation, education, water and energy, so they can build their lives on solid ground.

"Transportation--Time to put the Pedal to the Medal! Given our population growth, two million new vehicles will hit our roads over the next twenty years. After Referendum 49 and Initiative 695, however, we now have less money for transportation today than we did ten years ago. Our state's record on transportation has been nothing but a series of fits and starts--projects begun but never finished, solutions presented then dismissed--years wasted. If we don't fix our transportation problems now, our businesses won't grow. They'll leave our state. If we don't have businesses, we won't have jobs. It's that simple. Our traffic congestion is among the worst in the nation and we're losing two billion dollars a year in productivity because of it."
“A state that gave a ‘turbo charge’ to the Information Superhighway should not have a transportation system that’s out of gas. The Legislature created the Blue Ribbon Commission on Transportation. I embrace its solutions. Bipartisan remedies are right in front of us -- remedies that were two-and-a-half years in the making. We all campaigned on transportation improvements. Any mention of needing more time to think about this is out of the question. It’s time to get Washington moving again and now. We will make our Department of Transportation as lean and efficient as it can possibly be. We will streamline the permitting process and expedite projects without compromising our environment. There is no reason we can’t enact these reforms within the first few weeks of this session. That’s the first order. The second order is that we must reach agreement on critical projects to be completed within the next six years.

This summer we’re breaking ground on a new traffic lane to eliminate the snarl at I-405 and Highway 167 in Renton, but we will do more than that. The new transportation plan I’ve presented will also widen lanes on I-90 in Spokane, extend HOV lanes on I-5 all the way from Everett to Tacoma, widen SR 17 to four lanes in Moses Lake, separate downtown train and auto traffic in Yakima and Seattle, guarantee transit services for seniors and vulnerable adults, and Replace our pre-Depression era ferries.

“These are just some of the projects I’ve proposed to improve congestion across our state, but all are solutions we can implement right now for the greatest good. You may wonder how will we pay for this? Well, we’re not just going to drop a pile of money on the table and then figure out how to spend it. My proposal is a deliberate strategy to get results. Only after we agree on these improvements will I outline and recommend a funding plan. We will stay in session until we’ve agreed on all three--efficiencies, projects and funding. People of Washington, especially those of you listening on your car radios, because you’re stuck in traffic, hold us accountable. We must and we will move on transportation--just like we did for education.

“Education at the Threshold of Excellence! My vision of education is straightforward--great learning, great teaching and great leadership.

With the hard work of this Legislature and the firm and active support of our citizens, we have reached the threshold of educational excellence with higher expectations of both students and teachers. We’ve made great strides. More and more of our students are exceeding new academic standard and you, the people, have responded with tremendous enthusiasm. Last year I proposed class-size reduction without a tax increase. When the Legislature didn’t respond, I helped put it on the ballot as Initiative 728, which swept through our state, county by county, passing with the largest margin of any initiative in our history--because people care passionately about improving our education system. It’s their number one priority. But, this isn’t only about money. Lawmakers, I call on you to join me. We will give educators the powers and the tools that they need to spend that money effectively. We will not leave Olympia this session until we have removed the barriers hindering academic performance and great teaching. Specifically, we’ll agree to abolish the current education code and have a new one in place by 2004.

“Get the ball rolling, I propose to waive regulations for schools that want to set even higher achievement standards and to reward schools for meeting those goals. Exceptional teachers deserve exceptional compensation. If we’re to attract and retain the best teachers in the face of a national teacher shortage--we must change the way we pay them. My proposal calls for select school districts to lead the way and design a new teacher compensation system based on knowledge, skill and performance. To further encourage great teaching, and to increase the number of great educators, we will adopt alternative certification programs for teachers. If a Microsoft retiree wants to teach math, she should be able to do so without going back to college for an education degree.

“The Professional Standards Board we created just six months ago has devised a quicker method for qualified people to get into the classroom. A person can retire from one profession in May and be teaching in September. You know, just recently a Dean of a teaching college applied to be a school principal. She has a Ph.D. and she taught hundreds of the teachers in our schools. The school wanted to hire her. She wanted the job, but it went to someone else. Why? Because the education code says to be a principal in a Washington school, you have to be a certificated teacher. So, we have an expert who can’t enter the school. It’s time to stop letting the education code hinder our schools and start doing things the right way, with common sense.

“Finally, a good learning environment has to be a safe one. Until now, only schools that applied received money for school safety. Safety is as essential as the three R’s. So this year, each and every school will receive money for school safety. Great Learning, Great Teaching, Great Leadership--that’s where we’re headed. This session we’ll empower our teachers and our schools to move to the next level of performance so our children can do the same.

“Water a century behind! No one has to tell us the importance of water. We need it for people, wildlife and agriculture. Our water laws are not in concert with present reality. That sentiment was expressed twenty-five years ago by Governor Dan Evans, and virtually no progress has been made since then. Indeed, our water laws have hardly changed in one hundred years even though we have five times as many people. We have towns battling farmers for water. We have businesses battling fish, towns battling towns. Some of our cities have been forced to enact building moratoriums--no new homes, no new businesses, rivers and streams drying up. Why? There isn’t enough water to accommodate growth. We will not have the paved troughs that pass for rivers in Los Angeles. So, I say it again in 2001, ‘Our water laws are not in concert with reality.’
This session we will make progress. We're not going to leave until we've reformed our water permitting process, so people aren’t waiting years for a simple, non-controversial permit. We had an agreed-upon remedy last year. There’s no reason why we can’t pass that remedy in the first few weeks of this session. We must put common sense into our water laws. Incentives for water conservation, re-use, and storage are critical. We will let those who conserve keep a portion of the water they save, and compensate citizens for the water they put back in our streams for fish. My ‘Yakima Water Action Plan’ is a great example of how to provide water for people, fish and farms. Let’s get that action plan in place.

Energy, a clean and sustainable future! Our fourth challenge this session is energy. We have greater demands for electricity than ever before. Energy is as essential to our economy as water is to life. Thank goodness we said, ‘no,’ to energy deregulation three years ago. Look what’s happened to California. But, we still face a crisis that we must address immediately. Georgia Pacific laid off eight hundred and fifty people just before Christmas; eight hundred and fifty families were affected. Why the layoffs? Georgia Pacific could not afford its power bill. I’m proposing tax breaks so utilities can convert part-time polluting generators into full-time, clean generators, and tax breaks for companies who want to produce their own permanent power, thereby freeing up electricity for the rest of us. I’m also proposing tax breaks for citizens and businesses buying clean and renewable energy sources such as solar, wind and fuel cells. I’m calling on utilities to diversify their energy sources so our citizens aren’t hurt when price—or supply-problems hit a particular industry like natural gas or hydroelectric. And I propose additional financial assistance so low-income citizens don’t go without power during these cold winter months. These solutions are necessary for the future of our state and there is simply no excuse not to act.

“Folks at home, let me take this opportunity to say again, that we must conserve. I’m calling on everyone to reduce consumption by ten percent. We only have so much energy, and we need to treat it as a precious resource. It's going to take each and every one of us. These are ambitious goals, but they are doable. To set the example, tonight, at my Inaugural Ball, for the first time in history, the traditional ‘three miles of lights’ that volunteers placed along Capitol Way will not be lit. The Capitol Dome will remain dark. We must all do our part.

Conclusion: Ordinary people empowered to do extraordinary things. Finally, this budget was one of the toughest I’ve ever written-- and I've written many. We’ve made reductions--especially in human services and in the number of state workers. Services benefitting real people and state workers with families to support. Reductions I didn’t want to make, but had to, to pay for unavoidable costs to better protect our children, but also to move our state forward.

Our state faces real problems demanding real solutions. The people who can provide those solutions are right here in this Chamber. They’re the people watching on television. They’re the people listening on the radio. They’re the people who will read this in tomorrow's paper. They’re all of you. I’m enormously proud of the people of Washington. We have never been afraid to tackle the big issues. We’re a state that built the airplanes that connect the world. We pioneered a whole new economy based on technology and information. We cleaned up rivers and streams after one hundred years of pollution. In that innovative and can-do spirit, let us embrace the opportunities and the challenges before us. Legislators, statewide elected officials, we can and we must do the work before us.

We are ordinary people entrusted to do extraordinary things, but all of it is within our ability. We can find solutions. We can reach agreement. As I've said before, twenty-five, fifty or one hundred years from now citizens won't remember what parties we belonged to, but rather what we accomplished. We must put politics aside and get down to work. I want you to leave this session proud that we’ve solved the tough issues. Let’s make our citizens proud of us. Thank you all and God bless you all.”

Duties of Committees

Rule 44. The several committees shall fully consider measures referred to them. The committees shall acquaint themselves with the interest of the state specially represented by the committee, and from time to time present such bills and reports as in their judgment will advance the interests and promote the welfare of the people of the state: PROVIDED, That no executive action on bills may be taken during an interim.

Committee Rules
Rule 45. 1. At least five days notice shall be given of all public hearings held by any committee other than the rules committee. Such notice shall contain the date, time and place of such hearing together with the title and number of each bill, or identification of the subject matter, to be considered at such hearing. By a majority vote of the committee members present at any committee meeting such notice may be dispensed with. The reason for such action shall be set forth in a written statement preserved in the records of the meeting.

2. No committee may hold a public hearing during a regular or extraordinary session on a proposal identified as a draft unless the draft has been made available to the public at least twenty-four hours prior to the hearing. This rule does not apply during the five days prior to any cutoff established by concurrent resolution nor does it apply to any measure exempted from the resolution.

3. During its consideration of or vote on any bill, resolution or memorial, the deliberations of any committee or subcommittee of the senate shall be open to the public. In case of any disturbance or disorderly conduct at any such deliberations, the chair shall order the sergeant at arms to suppress the same and may order the meeting closed to any person or persons creating such disturbance.

4. A majority of any committee shall constitute a quorum. Committees shall be considered to have a quorum present unless the question is raised. No committee shall transact official business absent a quorum except to conduct a hearing.

5. Bills reported to the senate from a standing committee must have a majority report, which shall be prepared upon a printed standing committee report form; shall carry one, or more as appropriate, of the following recommendations, shall be adopted at a regularly or specially called meeting during a legislative session and shall be signed by a majority of the committee:
   a. Do pass.
   b. Do pass as amended.
   c. That a substitute bill be substituted therefor, and the substitute bill do pass.
   d. That the bill be referred to another committee.
   e. Without recommendation.

6. A majority report of a committee must carry the signatures of a majority of the members of the committee. In the event a committee has a quorum pursuant to subsection 3 of this rule, a majority of the members present may act on a measure, subject to obtaining the signatures of a majority of the members of the committee on the majority report.

7. Any measure which does not receive a majority vote of the members present may be reconsidered at that meeting and may again be considered upon motion of any committee member if one day's notice of said motion is provided to all committee members.

8. Members of the committee not concurring in the majority report may prepare a written minority report containing a different recommendation which shall be signed by those members of the committee subscribing thereto.

9. When a committee reports a substitute for an original bill with the recommendation that the substitute bill do pass, it shall be in order to read the substitute bill the first time and have the same ordered printed.

   A motion for the substitution of the substitute bill for the original bill shall not be in order until the committee on rules places the original bill on the second reading calendar.

10. No vote in any committee shall be taken by secret ballot nor shall any committee have a policy of secrecy as to any vote on action taken in such committee.

11. All reports of standing committees must be on the secretary's desk one hour prior to convening of the session in order to be read at said session.

Rule 47. The majority report, and minority report, if there be one, together with the names of the signers thereof, shall be read by the secretary, unless the reading be dispensed with by the senate, and all committee reports shall be spread upon the journal.

Recalling Bills from Committees

Rule 48. Any standing committee of the senate may be relieved of further consideration of any bill, regardless of prior action of the committee, by a majority vote of the senators elected or appointed. The senate may then make such orderly disposition of the bill as they may direct by a majority vote of the members of the senate.

Bills Referred to Rules Committee
Rule 49. All bills reported by a committee to the senate shall then be referred to the committee on rules for second reading without action on the report unless otherwise ordered by the senate. (See also Rules 63 and 64.)

Rules Committee

Rule 50. The lieutenant governor shall be a voting member and the chair of the committee on rules. The committee on rules shall have charge of the daily second and third reading calendar of the senate and shall direct the secretary of the senate in which the bills shall be considered by the senate and the committee on rules shall have the authority to directly refer any bill before them to any other standing committee. Such referral shall be reported out to the senate on the next day's business.

The senate may change the order of consideration of bills on the second or third reading calendar. The calendar, except in emergent situations, as determined by the committee on rules, shall be on the desks and in the offices of the senators each day and shall cover the bills for consideration on the next following day.

Employment Committee

Rule 51. The employment committee for committee staff shall consist of five members, three from the majority party and two from the minority party. Rule 53. No amendment to the budget, capital budget or supplemental budget, not incorporated in the bill as reported by the ways and means committee, shall be adopted except by the affirmative vote of sixty percent of the senators elected or appointed.

SECTION VI

BILLS, RESOLUTIONS, MEMORIALS AND GUBERNATORIAL APPOINTMENTS

Definitions

Rule 54. "Measure" means a bill, joint memorial, joint resolution, or concurrent resolution. "Bill" when used alone means bill, joint memorial, joint resolution, or concurrent resolution. "Majority" shall mean a majority of those members present unless otherwise stated.

Prefiling

Rule 55. Holdover members and members-elect to the senate may prefile bills with the secretary of the senate on any day commencing with the first Monday in December preceding any session year; or twenty days prior to any special session of the legislature. Such bills will be printed, distributed and prepared for introduction on the first legislative day. No bill, joint memorial or joint resolution shall be prefiled by title and/or preamble only. (See also Rule 3, Sub. 3.)

Introduction of Bills

Rule 56. All bills, joint resolutions and joint memorials introduced shall be endorsed with a statement of the title and the name of the member introducing the same. Any member desiring to introduce a bill, joint resolution or joint memorial shall file the same with the secretary of the senate by noon of the day before the convening of the session at which said bill, joint resolution or joint memorial is to be introduced.

After the expiration of deadlines for bill introductions provided for by resolution, no bill shall be introduced, except as the legislature shall direct by a vote of two-thirds of all the members elected to each house, said vote to be taken by yeas and nays and entered upon the journal, or unless the same be at a special session. The time limitation for introduction of bills shall not apply to substitute bills reported by standing committees for bills pending before such committees and general appropriation and revenue bills. (See also Art. 2, Sec. 36, State Constitution.)

Amendatory Bills

Rule 57. Bills introduced in the senate intended to amend existing statutes shall have the words which are amendatory to such existing statutes underlined. Any matter to be deleted from the existing statutes shall be indicated by setting such matter forth in full, enclosed by double parentheses, and such deleted matter shall be lined out with hyphens. No bill shall be printed or acted upon until the provisions of this rule shall have been complied with. Sections added by amendatory bill to an existing act, or chapter of the official code, need not be underlined but shall be designated "NEW SECTION" in upper case type and such designation shall be underlined. New enactments need not be underlined.

Joint Resolutions and Memorials

Rule 58. Joint resolutions and joint memorials, up to the signing thereof by the president of the senate, shall be subject to the rules governing the course of bills.

Senate Concurrent Resolutions

Rule 59. Concurrent resolutions shall be subject to the rules governing the course of bills and may be adopted without a roll call. Concurrent resolutions authorizing investigations and authorizing the expenditure or allocation of any money must be adopted by roll call and the yeas and nays recorded in the journal. Concurrent resolutions are subject to final passage on the day of the first reading without regard to Senate Rule 62.

Committee Bills

Rule 60. Committee bills introduced by a standing committee during a legislative session may be filed with the secretary of the senate and introduced, and the signature of each member of the committee shall be endorsed upon the cover of the original bill. Committee bills shall be read the first time by title, ordered printed, and referred to the committee on rules for second reading.

Committee Reference

Rule 61. When a motion is made to refer a subject, and different committees are proposed, the question shall be taken in the following order:

FIRST: A standing committee.
SECOND: A select committee.

Reading of Bills

Rule 62. Every bill shall be read on three separate days unless the senate deems it expedient to suspend this rule. On and after the tenth day preceding adjournment sine die of any session, or three days prior to any cut-off date for consideration of bills, as determined pursuant to Article 2, Section 12 of the Constitution or concurrent resolution, this rule may be suspended by a majority vote. (See also Rule 59).

First Reading

Rule 63. The first reading of a bill shall be by title only, unless a majority of the members present demand a reading in full. After the first reading, bills shall be referred to an appropriate committee pursuant to Rule 61. Upon being reported back by committee, all bills shall be referred to the committee on rules for second reading, unless otherwise ordered by the senate. (See Rule 49.) A bill shall be reported back by the committee chair upon written petition therefor signed by a majority of its members. The petition shall designate the recommendation as provided in Rule 45, Sub. 4. No committee chair shall exercise a pocket veto of any bill. Should there be a two-thirds majority report of the committee membership against the bill, a vote shall be immediately ordered for the indefinite postponement of the bill.
Second Reading/Amendments

Rule 64. Upon second reading, the bill shall be read section by section, in full, and be subject to amendment.

Any member may, if sustained by three members, remove a bill from the consent calendar as constituted by the committee on rules. A bill removed from the consent calendar shall take its place as the last bill in the order of consideration of bills on the second reading calendar.

No amendment shall be considered by the senate until it shall have been sent to the secretary's desk in writing and read by the secretary.

All amendments adopted on the second reading shall then be securely fastened to the original bill.

All amendments rejected by the senate shall be spread upon the journal, and the journal shall show the disposition of all amendments.

When no further amendments shall be offered, the president shall declare the bill has passed its second reading, and shall be referred to the committee on rules for third reading.

Third Reading

Rule 65. Bills on third reading shall be read in full by sections, and no amendment shall be entertained.

When a bill shall pass, it shall be certified to by the secretary, together with the vote upon final passage, noting the day of its passage thereon.

The vote must be taken by yeas and nays, the names of the senators voting for and against the same to be entered upon the journal and the majority of the members elected to the senate must be recorded thereon as voting in its favor to secure its passage by the senate.

Scope and Object of Bill Not to be Changed

Rule 66. No amendment to any bill shall be allowed which shall change the scope and object of the bill. (See also Art. 2, Sec. 38, State Constitution.) Substitute bills shall be considered amendments for the purposes of this rule. A point of order raising the question of scope and object may be raised at any time during consideration of an amendment prior to voting on the amendment.

Matters Related to Disagreement Between the Senate and House

Rule 67. When there is a disagreement between the senate and house on a measure before the senate, the senate may act upon the measure with the following motions which have priority in the following order:

- To concur
- To non-concur
- To recede
- To insist
- To adhere

These motions are in order as to any single amendment or to a series of amendments. (See Reed's Rules 247 through 254.)

A senate bill, passed by the house with amendment or amendments which shall change the scope and object of the bill, upon being received in the senate, shall be referred to an appropriate committee and shall take the same course as for original bills, unless a motion to ask the house to recede, to insist or to adhere is made prior to the measure being referred to committee.

Bills Committed for Special Amendment

Rule 68. A bill may be committed with or without special instructions to amend at any time before taking the final vote.

Confirmation of Gubernatorial Appointees

Rule 69. When the names of appointees to state offices are transmitted to the Secretary of the Senate for senate confirmation, the communication from the governor shall be recorded and referred to the appropriate standing committee.

The standing committee, or subcommittee, pursuant to rule 42, shall require each appointee referred to the committee for consideration to complete the standard questionnaire to be used to ascertain the appointee's general background and qualifications. The committee may also require the appointee to complete a supplemental questionnaire related specifically to the qualifications for the position to which he has been appointed.

Any hearing on a gubernatorial appointment, held by the standing committee, or subcommittees, pursuant to rule 42, shall be a public hearing. The appointee may be required to appear before the committee on request. When appearing, the appointee shall be required to testify under oath or affirmation. The chair of the committee or the presiding member shall administer the oath or affirmation in accordance with RCW 44.16. (See also Article 2, Sec. 6 of the State Constitution.)

Nothing in this rule shall be construed to prevent a standing committee, or subcommittee, pursuant to rule 42, upon a two-thirds vote of its members, from holding executive sessions when considering an appointment.

When the committee on rules presents the report of the standing committee before the senate, the question shall be the confirmation of the name proposed, and the roll shall then be called and the yeas and nays entered upon the journal. In the event a message is received from the governor requesting return of an appointment or appointments to the office of the governor prior to confirmation, the senate shall vote upon the governor's request and the appointment or appointments shall be returned to the governor if the request is approved by a majority of the members elected or appointed. Rule 20. No floor vote may be taken on any conference committee report without a distribution to all members of a summary of additions, changes, and deletions made by the conference committee with a reference in each instance to the page and line number or numbers in the report containing said additions, changes, or deletions. The clerk and the secretary shall place the reports on the desks of the members as soon as possible.

Each house shall have twenty-four hours from the time of proper receipt, by the chief clerk of the house of representatives and the secretary of the senate, and by distribution to the desks of the members before considering reports from a conference committee which has proposed new items within the scope and object of the bill in conference.

The foregoing provision relating to twenty-four hour intervals may be suspended by the senate or the house of representatives by two-thirds vote of the members present, and such suspension shall apply only to the house voting to suspend this provision.

The report must be voted upon in its entirety and cannot be amended. The report of a conference committee may be adopted by acclamation.

Having voted on the prevailing side, Senator Snyder moved to reconsider the vote by which Senate Resolution 2001-8601 was adopted earlier today.

REMARKS BY SENATOR SNYDER

Senator Snyder: “Madam President, a word of explanation. The reason I am moving this for reconsideration is that the minority party wanted to offer an amendment to the rules that had to do with the rule change that changes the way we recognize members here on the floor—from referring them from district or from their county or city in order that we might recognize them by name. I think we should afford them the courtesy and we should reconsider the bill and allow the amendment to be put forward.”

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the motion by Senator Snyder to reconsider the vote by which Senate Resolution 2001-8601 was adopted.

The motion by Senator Snyder for reconsideration carried.

Debate ensued.

On motion of Senator Franklin, the following resolution was adopted:

SENATE RESOLUTION

By Senators Franklin, Sheahan, Johnson, Winsley, Fraser, Carlson, McAuliffe, Spanel, Snyder, Fairley, and Rasmussen

WHEREAS, the life of Martin Luther King Jr. was dedicated to serving his fellow man; and
WHEREAS, today we celebrate the birth of this man whose life, whose dream and whose work was dedicated to challenging us all to discover and honor our shared humanity; and
WHEREAS, Service is a powerful way to commemorate not only the words and deeds of Dr. King, but to translate our reverence for his life and teachings into action to make our nation better; and
WHEREAS, Service to others is a bond that unites us and helps us to create a vision of a common good; and
WHEREAS, Dr. King believed that a person’s worth should not be measured by his or her color, culture or class, but rather by his or her commitment to making life better for all through service rendered to each other; and
WHEREAS, a day of service reflecting the values and teachings of Dr. King would bring people together and help to break down the social and economic barriers that divide our nation; and
WHEREAS, a commitment to bringing all of our people, regardless of race, creed, religion or station in life, together to face the challenges of this new century would honor Dr. King; and
WHEREAS, Residents of Washington can help make service the common duty of all Americans on this holiday by making it a day of action, not apathy;
NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the members of the Washington State Senate, on behalf of the people of our state, in recognition of the outstanding leadership and courage demonstrated by Martin Luther King Jr., honor his memory by urging all of the citizens of our state to make Martin Luther King Jr. Day a day of service—a day on, not a day off.

Senators Franklin, Sheahan, Kastama, Prentice and Shin spoke to Senate Resolution 2001-8603.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator West: “A point of personal privilege, Mr. President. Speaking on behalf of the entire Senate—and I believe I have license to do that in this particular case. The good Senator from the Twenty-fifth District has make his maiden speech and offended the entire body. Although his first speech was quite good on the person he was talking about, the mere fact is that he came before us today and spoke to this body. I believe he owes tribute to each and every Senator here. Sir, we expect that tribute promptly. In fact many of us—you may want to speak with the good Senator from the Fourth District in Spokane—otherwise known as Senator McCaslin. I think he has a special request of you, Sir. You may want to take care of that rather promptly.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Kastama: “A point of personal privilege, Mr. President. What form does this tribute take? Thank you.”

MOTION

At 12:02 p.m., on motion of Senator Betti Sheldon, the Senate adjourned until 12:00 noon, Monday, January 15, 2001.

STATE OF THE JUDICIARY

CHIEF JUSTICE GERRY L. ALEXANDER

“Governor Locke, Lieutenant Governor Owen, Co-Speakers Chopp and Ballard, state elected officials, members of the House and Senate, fellow justices and judges, ladies and gentlemen, “Good morning! Let me first thank all of you for the warm welcome that you have accorded me and my fellow justices on this and other occasions. As you have undoubtedly observed we have been frequent guests in this building of late, what with various oath taking sessions, a ceremony for departing statewide elected officials, a State of the State message, and the inaugural ball. The truth is that we really enjoy being a part of those occasions, but we promise you now that the traditional opening rituals of this session of the Legislature are behind us, we will recede into the Temple of Justice across the way and be far less ubiquitous. That, I suppose, is as it should be under our doctrine of separation of powers, one of the crown jewels of our form of government. I would venture the opinion, though, that it is a good thing for the branches of government to have contact such as we have had this past week or so, because our government functions better, it seems to me, if the elected members of the three branches know each other and gain a better appreciation of the other's role.

“Let me also thank the members of the Legislature for inviting me to deliver this message on behalf of the judiciary. We know that time is precious to all of you during a legislative session. We know also that you need not accord me this privilege. The State Constitution, as you know, does require the Governor to deliver a message to you at every session. That same constitution requires the judges of the Supreme Court to report in writing in January of each year on defects and omissions in the law. It does not, however, require the courts to report to the Legislature nor does it require you to provide us that opportunity. But, by a custom that has developed over the last decade, the Chief Justice has been invited to speak to the Legislature every other year, on the state of our justice system, and we are most grateful for that opportunity.

“Relevant to that subject, I would like to say a brief word about the court on which I sit—the State Supreme Court. I am here to tell you that we have a fine court. I am proud of my colleagues and I am very honored that they have elected me to serve as Chief Justice for a four-year term. As some of you know, I was raised in Olympia. My father was a state employee during much of my childhood and I went to high school just across Capitol Way at the old Olympia High School. It was common for students then, particularly during legislative sessions, to roam the halls of this building and soak up the atmosphere. Consequently, I have a special place in my heart for this building, our state government, and the work that you do as citizen legislators. So, I am deeply honored to be able to address you.

“As I indicated, we have a fine court. I can tell you that we are absolutely unified in our desire to work with our judicial colleagues at all levels of court to deliver on the promise of equal and quality justice for all. The current Supreme Court is very experienced. All of us practiced law in this state early in our careers and collectively we have one hundred and twenty-four years of judicial service, including our tenure at the Supreme Court. At the same time, we are all free thinking individuals. We come from different places and backgrounds, reflecting to some extent the diversity of our state’s population.

“I think that most of you are familiar somewhat with the returning members of the court. But let me, if I may, briefly say a word about our two newest members, Justices Chambers and Owens. Tom Chambers was raised in the Yakima Valley, at Wapato, but he chose to practice law in the big city—Seattle—where he had a remarkable career. Notably, he is a past president of the Washington Trial Lawyers Association and the Washington State Bar Association. Interestingly, he is the first former State Bar president to serve on the Supreme Court since Thomas Grady of Yakima served on the court in the 1940s and ’50s.

“Susan Owens is a North Carolinian who chose Forks, Washington, out on our coast as her home. She never regretted that decision even though Forks is said to be the city with the greatest annual rainfall in the lower 48 states. In Forks, she has served as a Clallam County District Court judge and as a judge of the Quileute and Lower Elwha Tribal Courts. She is the first person from Clallam County to ever serve on our court in our one hundred and eleven years as a state and the first to ever have prior service as a tribal court judge. I am proud to say that, upon her inauguration, the Washington Supreme Court now has more women among its members than any Supreme Court in the union, including the United States Supreme Court.

“Before I move to my main topic, let me say a word about a recently retired member of the Washington Supreme Court. Our court and the entire judiciary of our state is more unified than I have ever seen it during my almost twenty-eight years as a judge. That is so for a number of reasons, not the least of which was the leadership and personality of my predecessor as Chief Justice, Richard Guy. Justice Guy is present here today and I would like to ask him to stand and be recognized for his many and significant contributions to the administration of justice in the state of Washington.

“Let me now, in my capacity as the state’s 52nd Chief Justice, speak to you about the state of Washington’s justice system. I can tell you that it is in good shape despite the many demands that have been placed upon it. I know that there are reputable persons who would suggest otherwise, claiming that our justice system is in crisis. I disagree with that and so do the many judges I have talked to in recent months. The system’s two hundred fifteen full— and part-time judges of our municipal and district courts efficiently manage caseloads made heavy with annual filings of over two million matters. Our one hundred seventy-four superior court judges do the same with the over a quarter of a million cases being filed each year in those courts that are located in every county of our state. Collectively, these trial courts entertain one caselisting for every two and one-half citizens every year—cases that run the gamut from parking citations to aggravated first degree murder, and from small claims to cases that involve millions, and in some cases, billions, of dollars.

“I wish that I had the time to tell you about all of the innovative things our judges are doing, often on a shoestring, to make the system more efficient and more responsive to the public while still maintaining the goal of fundamental fairness. A few examples: Pend Oreille District Court Judge Phillip J. Van de Voo offers citizens that enter the courthouse in Newport an information map that tells them, most of whom are not represented by counsel, how to navigate the court. Similarly, Chelan County District Court Judge Thomas Warren has reached out to the Hispanic community in his area by creating brochures in Spanish, as well as English, that describe how one uses the court system. King County Superior Court Judge Patricia Clark, working with our state’s Gender and Justice and Minority and Justice Commissions, is dedicated to erasing the bias that is sometimes felt by women of color in our courts—with a program entitled ‘When Bias Compounds.’

“Many of our judges are doing pioneer work in the relatively new concept of restorative justice. Spokane County District Court Judge Vance Peterson has a program that is designed to let people reinstate their suspended driver’s license by making monthly payments on outstanding court-ordered financial obligations. In Mason County District Court, Judge Victoria Meadows utilizes the services of a restorative justice panel, composed of citizen volunteers, who recommend to her alternatives to jail for nonviolent offenders. The problem of domestic violence has, of course, captured the attention of the judiciary—just as it has captured the attention of the legislative and executive branches. In 1995, Governor Lowry, the Supreme Court, and Attorney General Gregoire co-sponsored the first ever statewide Domestic Violence Summit. It was an important step to bring leaders of each branch of government together with professionals in the field to discuss this cycle of violence, which affects many families directly and all of us indirectly. Since that first summit we have made much progress. Under the leadership of my colleague Justice Barbara Madsen, local domestic violence summits are held each year in many counties to bring people together to discuss better coordination and delivery of services to victims of domestic violence.

“The Clark County Superior and District Court benches have been innovative in this field, consolidating their domestic violence calendars under one judge. Judge Robert Harris, the presiding judge of that superior court is present here today. Last year also saw the debut of King County’s specialized Domestic Violence Court. At three locations in that county, dedicated judges of the district court, prosecutors, and defense counsel work solely on these cases each day to provide more effective and consistent justice.

“Kitsap County District Court Judge James Riehl, a national leader in this field, is training Washington judges on the means by which domestic violence orders of courts of other states and of tribal courts can be enforced in our courts. Judge Riehl is also here. In several of our counties, Unified Family Courts have been established to better serve families and children who find themselves in the system. These have been established under the theory that the ‘one-judge/one family’ approach improves court proceedings for families by allowing one judge to fully deal with the legal problems that members of a family may face.

“You may be aware through press reports of some of the innovative work that our courts are doing in dealing with drug offenders. Currently, twelve superior courts in this state have a drug court and this past year, Snohomish County Superior Court Judge Joe Thibodeau designed a drug court specifically for juveniles. Island County Superior Court judges Vickie Churchill and Alan Hancock have started a similar program in that county. Participants in these programs commit to a stringent drug-treatment regimen and have weekly meetings to make sure they keep on track with their recovery. Despite the many innovative programs that have been launched in recent years, I am not telling you that our justice system is perfect and cannot be improved. There is no institution that has been created by humans that cannot be improved. The judiciary and our many fine employees know that and we are dedicated to making the justice system better.

“In accomplishing that goal, we will benefit from one of the many legacies left by former Chief Justice Guy. This vision was that the judiciary would be united in seeking improvements and would speak to the executive and legislative branches in one voice. That vision led to a reorganization and revitalization of our state’s Board for Judicial Administration (the BJA). Its membership has been broadened to provide for increased representation of all levels of court, as well as the non-voting bar members. In addition, a new position of “member-chair” was added. That person co-chairs the Board along with the Chief Justice. Spokane County Superior Court Judge James M. Murphy, who is here, has shown tremendous leadership as the first member-chair, in addition to his duties as president of the Superior Court Judges’ Association. The BJA is meeting in Olympia today. In fact, we started at 8:00 a.m. and adjourned for this session.

“These changes have been significant. Within the past two years, the BJA formed two committees to explore major issues of concern to the courts. Out of those committees came various proposals to the BJA. The BJA, in turn, approved many of the proposals. I would like to discuss them with you—particularly those that require legislation in order to be implemented.

“The first proposals came from the Washington Jury Commission which was chaired by Thurston County Superior Court Judge Daniel Berschauer. That commission was composed of citizens, former jurors, judges, lawyers, court personnel, business persons, and three members of the Legislature, Senator Adam Kline, Representative Mike Carrell, and then Representative and now Senator Dow Constantine. The commission’s charge was to look at our state’s jury system from top to bottom and recommend ways that it could be improved. This was important work because the right to trial by jury is one of the cornerstones of our democracy. The commission found that despite the importance we attach to juries, the courts of our state were experiencing difficulty in finding jurors.

“Indeed in some jurisdictions, less than fifteen percent of the persons summoned for jury service actually made it to the jury panel. Most troubling was that about twenty percent of persons who were summoned did not even bother to respond to the summons. The commission quickly discovered that there were many reasons for this underwhelming response to what we generally consider an obligation of citizenship, but that certainly a general belief among citizens that jury service is somewhat unpleasant, definitely contributed to the problem. The commission, therefore, made nearly forty recommendations to the BJA for improving jury administration and for making jury service more palatable. The BJA approved most of these proposals and many can and will be accomplished within the court system without the necessity of legislation. A few, though, will require legislative action in order to be realized. Chief among these is a fee increase for jurors. The statutory minimum was set in 1959 at $10 a day. We are now at the year 2001 and most counties, including all of our metropolitan counties, still pay the minimum $10. I recall thinking, when I was a young superior court judge in the 1970s, that $10 was an inadequate amount to pay our jurors. Well, if I was right then, and I think that I was, it is woefully inadequate now.

“To bring home the inadequacy of the $10 fee, if that is necessary, I should tell you that I recently attended a meeting at the King County Courthouse. It was a rainy day and prior to the meeting, we parked about a block away from the courthouse in an open parking lot. The charge for parking for several hours was $13, but I was told that it would be $18 for the entire workday. Obviously, the jurors’ fee would not even cover that cost. We are asking you to correct this inequality by passing legislation that maintains the fee at $10 per day for the first day of jury service, on the theory that every citizen should be willing to devote one day at little or no cost to being a juror, but increasing it to $45 for every succeeding day of jury service. We are asking you to provide that the additional $35 be underwritten by the state of Washington with the local jurisdictions remaining responsible for $10 of the fee.

“We are also asking that you approve legislation shortening jury service to two days or one trial. The other major committee formed by the BJA was Project 2001. This committee was chaired by retired Judge Tom Swayze and former WSBA President Paul Steere. It was also a broad based committee and included state legislators Senator Jeanine Long, Representative Luke Esser, Senator Pam Roach and Senator Adam Kline. The committee was asked to thoroughly review the judicial system, the way that it operates, its funding system, and more important, it was to make recommendations as to how it may be made more efficient.

"The project got started in the spring of 2000. It worked hard and submitted its report to the BJA, which has approved many of its recommendations. Those have been reported to you and are contained in this final recommendation to the Legislature. Again, many of those approved recommendations, like mandatory judicial education for all judges and a strengthening of the role of trial court presiding judges, can be adopted by the courts internally by court rule. A few of the recommendations, though, require legislation to implement them and I will just briefly touch on one of them.

"The most significant recommendation is for a constitutional amendment providing for what we call transportability of judges. In a nutshell, this would allow a previously elected judge, active or retired, to sit in any trial court at the request of the presiding judge of that trial court. Currently, active or retired judges or even lawyers can serve as pro tem judges but only on the agreement of both sides of counsel in the case. It is that veto right of attorneys that the constitutional amendment would eliminate. Although this may not seem, at first blush, to be a significant step, it really is. This would give the presiding judges of our trial courts greater flexibility in managing their dockets and would allow the trial courts of our state to have the advantages that might be realized from a formal merger of our two levels of trial court without the attendant cost of doing so and without eliminating our courts of limited jurisdiction which are designed to handle matters within their jurisdictional limits in a less formal way than the superior court. To me this is a sensible recommendation and one that will allow the courts to use existing judicial personnel more efficiently.

"Finally, and somewhat related to these proposals, I wish to advise you that we are seeking an appropriation to maintain, update, and modernize the state's judicial information system. Our state's court system has been blessed by having one of the most established and efficient judicial information systems in the nation--one to which all of our trial and appellate courts are tied.

"The bad news that goes with that is that the system's hardware and software are old, at least as we measure age in the fast moving technological world. Our Judicial Information System Committee, which is chaired by my colleague, Justice Bobbe Bridge, has compared our current system to an eight-track tape system. We think it is time to get a CD player. With this funding, greater efficiencies can be realized, all to the benefit of our courts in every part of the state. We think this would be a prudent investment in an established and proven system.

"Let me close where I began by thanking you for your time and your willingness to listen to this report on the State of the Judiciary. As I indicated, I think our judges and the court's employees are doing a magnificent job providing justice. We can and want to do even better, though, and we believe these modest proposals for legislation, coupled with changes we can make without the necessity of legislation, will allow us to do even a better job. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Sheahan: "A point of personal privilege, Mr. President. I believe we had a couple of Senators in the back of the room who gave their first speeches on the floor of the Senate this morning. I think, for one, the gentle lady from the Twelfth District, it is very appropriate since we honored Senator Sellar today that his replacement—in the very near future, present a gift to the rest of us for sitting through her speech. Also, the gentleman from the Forty-ninth District gave his speech as well. Maybe, since they are sitting together, the two of them could get together. We would love to have a wonderful gift from the Wenatchee area and a wonderful gift from the Vancouver area. Maybe we can work with you and in the very near future you could present that to us. We would be very appreciative of that. Thank you, Mr. President."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McCaslin: "A point of personal privilege, Mr. President. I want you two to know that he speaks for himself. I expect two gifts. I don't know how gentle she is; I hope she is wealthy. Both sides of the aisle expect something that will be long remembered. An apple isn't, because you normally eat that right away. Please study the issue very carefully prior to purchases. We look forward to those two gifts."

Further debate ensued.

MOTION

At 11:52 a.m., on motion of Senator Betti Sheldon, the Senate adjourned until 12:00 noon, Thursday, January 18, 2001.

MESSAGE FROM STATE OFFICE

WASHINGTON STATE INSTITUTE FOR PUBLIC POLICY
110 East Fifth Street, Suite 214
P. O. Box 40999 SB 532
Olympia, Washington 98504-0999
January 17, 2001

Secretary Tony Cook
Secretary of the Senate
Legislative Building
P. O. Box 40482 SB 533
Olympia, Washington 98504-0482
Dear Secretary Cook:

The 2000 Legislature directed the Washington State Institute for Public Policy to study the mission, programs, and usage of the state library (EHB 2487, Section 607 (7)). Key questions that guided this study were as follows: Are there options for redefining the roles and functions of the Washington State Library (WSL)? What value can the WSL add to the delivery of information to the legislature and state government agencies? Is the current location of the WSL on the capitol campus essential to its effective operation?
The study's findings suggest the following recommendations regarding WSL: Accelerate the move from print to online content by joining a larger purchasing unit with the publicly funded academic libraries. Focus WSL's activities more sharply than they are today. Implementing a limited market system by instituting fees for service would help clarify the relative value of services for users. Implement a more aggressive book "weeding" campaign. Reduce the physical presence of WSL on the capitol campus and develop more appropriate space for technical and service functions elsewhere.

If you have questions, please call me at (360) 586-2768.

Sincerely,
ROXANNE LIEB, Director

The Washington State Institute for Public Policy study on the mission, programs, and usage of the state library is on file in the Office of the Secretary of the Senate.

President Owen: "Senator Carlson, you are totally out of order."

Senator Carlson: "Duly noted, Mr. President. I apologize that the leadership didn't instruct that correctly to me. Mr. President, if I could continue, I am sorry that the Senator from the Fourth District isn't here, because I am sure that he would also have appropriate comments to deal with my gifts. The medallion of the city of Vancouver is one that I wear proudly. It is in recognition of District Forty-nine that I represent, along with Hazel Dell. The city of Vancouver is noted for its historic connections, one of the major areas that I hope you will come and visit soon. The city of Vancouver is also a location of one of the prime sites where Lewis and Clark visited. In your packet of material, you will notice that Lewis and Clark's route is included, especially when I recognize and ask you to consider the sites from Washougal to Vancouver Lake and Richfield. We have some wonderful places that you would be able to see where Lewis and Clark came two hundred years ago.

"Ladies and gentlemen of the Senate, when Lewis and Clark came to the Northwest, they found that the fish that the native Americans were providing them was often too rich for them to eat. Therefore, in your packet, you will find an item that might have been used as a substitute for Lewis and Clark. Now, what they found edible and probably more to their pallet was what they survived on as they crossed the Rocky Mountains. What they survived on was horse and dog. However, the fried jerky that is in your packet is beef, so I would encourage you to feel that is perfectly legitimate for you to enjoy.

"Finally, it is my honor to say to you that it is a distinguished opportunity to serve with you and I will take care of the delinquent responsibilities to see that the appropriate president office, Mr. President, will also receive his gift."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Sheahan: "Thank you, Mr. President. A point of personal privilege. I would like to begin by thanking the gentleman from the Forty-ninth District for his wonderful gift, but I would like to remind the Senator from the Twenty-fifth that we are still waiting patiently. It has been quite a while—and also, the gentle lady from the Twelfth District. We are waiting patiently for your gift. Again, we need to make sure that the President receives a gift, as well. Thank you, Mr. President."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Deccio: “A point of personal privilege, Mr. President. Mr. President and ladies and gentlemen of the Senate, I want to express my gratitude for your thoughts and prayers the last few days. Lucille had surgery for an intestinal resection. There was no malignancy and we are really blessed. Prayer works and with your help everything has just worked out fine. Again, I want to thank you very much.”
PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Parlette: “A point of personal privilege, Mr. President. Most of you do have a card on your desks. I must tell you it is an IOU. I also must tell you it would be very smart for you to read it carefully, because there is little bit of work involved on your part to fill out something if you want to receive this gift. There are three things that I would like to share about these cherries that you may be receiving as a gift from the Twelfth District and a gift from our orchard, Hover Hawk Inc. You might want to hope that there is no frost during the bloom season or you will not get these cherries. You, also, might want to hope that it does not rain in the month of July, because we are very late. Our orchard is at twenty-three hundred feet. We are one of the last ones to harvest cherries. So, let’s hope for sunshine at that time.

“But most importantly, this would be good advice to both sides of the aisle to make sure that we do not dilly-dally with this budget or I won’t be home to pack these cherries and ship them to you. Thank you very much.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Prentice: “I also rise to a point of personal privilege. I would like to thank Senator Parlette for solving what had been a dilemma for me. I have been wondering if we really want to be here in June and July waiting for that gift. Because, I always want to one-up Senator Oke, I have been there picking my own and are they good. Be sure and send that card in, because they are terrific and let’s hope that we are all at home and enjoying them.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McCaslin: “A point of personal privilege, Mr. President. I object to being discriminated against, Senator Parlette. On mine, it says ‘You want, you pick ‘em.’ If I might continue, I believe Senator Kastama has spoken. Do you grow anything in your area, Senator? Would you yield to a question, Senator?”

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McCaslin: “Senator Kastama, what do you grow in your area?”
Senator Kastama: “Well, I will tell you. We grow strawberries, daffodils, trees--things of that sort. You can make your request and I could have it to you in the spring time.”
Senator McCaslin: “Skip the daffodils, will you? We prefer something edible rather than a show, but we do appreciate whatever you are going to send us and then we will remark when you do.”
Senator Kastama: “Okay, thank you. I look forward to that, too.”
Senator McCaslin: “Senator Winsley suggested creme to go on the strawberries and cherries. That is a great idea, but we look forward to your splendor. I’m from Eastern Washington. Thank you very much, sir.”
Senator Kastama: “Thank you.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Tim Sheldon: “A point of personal privilege. On another subject, I just want to mention something to the members. We often recognize events, birthdays, anniversaries and significant events that happen in our district and share them with other members. I also represent a small PUD--Mason County PUD ONE--which was the first operating PUD in the state. It started in 1934 and we had a great event that happened to our PUD yesterday. We learned about the small water system in our district that we manage and run for them called the Minerva Terrace. They applied for water rights in 1974 and yesterday we learned that they were granted. After a twenty-seven year wait, we are proud to say that Minerva Terrace now has water rights that have been granted by the Department of Ecology.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator West: “Thank you, Mr. President. A point of personal privilege. As you pointed out, we do have with us today, the Salary Commission. I would like to, by leave of the Senate, to explain to the Salary Commission that early in the session like this, we are engaged in committee work primarily. It is very preliminary. We haven’t moved bills to the floor from the committees, so our session today is fairly informal. We will, I think, very shortly be going in to caucus where we discuss legislation and then to committee meetings later.

“In my memory, this is the first time that the Salary Commission has actually come to the Senate and I would like to invite them back later in the year to observe a Senate session, as we approach cutoffs and as bills come out of committees. Also, I would like to invite them to some committee meetings. I know that they are volunteers--citizens-- and they are not really compensated for their work, but I am pleased that they have taken the time today to come and observe the Senate. Please don’t judge this as a normal occurrence. We do get along down here as you might see, contrary to what you may read in the newspaper.”

MOTION

At 10:28 a.m., on motion of Senator Betti Sheldon, the Senate adjourned until 12:00 noon, Thursday, January 25, 2001.

By Senators Rasmussen, Johnson, Swecker, Spanel, Oke, Sheldon, B., Jacobsen, Winsley, Kohl-Welles, Kastama, Brown, Fairley, Prentice and Shin

WHEREAS, The Washington National Guard is composed of nearly 8,000 men and women citizen soldiers and airmen who, in the noble and time-honored tradition of the Minutemen, stand ready to answer the call of duty in defense of freedom and liberty; and

WHEREAS, These recognized leaders in state, regional and national preparedness who reside in every legislative district throughout Washington volunteer their time and personal efforts to serve the needs of the people of Washington; and

WHEREAS, The National Guard continues to promote positive lifestyles and activities for Washington’s youth through involvement and support in highly effective drug prevention programs with school-age children and community-based organizations; and

WHEREAS, The National Guard continues an active participation in the state’s counter drug efforts by providing soldiers, airmen and specialized equipment in support of seventy local, state and federal law enforcement agencies; and

WHEREAS, Through the giving of their time and personal energy, members of the National Guard have served the people of our state with honor and distinction, and have added value to communities by opening armories for public use such as distance-learning classes, food banks and youth activities;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Senate expresses thanks and appreciation to the devoted families and dedicated employers of our National Guard soldiers and airmen for their support—without which the National Guard’s missions would not be successful; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Senate recognize the value and dedication of a strong Washington National Guard to the viability, economy and well-being of this state through the outstanding performance of its state emergency and disaster relief missions; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to the Adjutant General of the Washington National Guard, the Governor of the state of Washington, the Secretary of the Army, and the President of the United States.

Senators Rasmussen, Swecker, Betti Sheldon, Deccio and Kohl-Welles spoke to Senate Resolution 2001-8609.

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President welcomed and introduced the men and women of the National Guard, who were seated in the gallery.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Kastama: “A point of personal privilege, Mr. President. Well, today is the day I would like to pay my tribute to the Senate. As you saw before, the Senator from the Forty-ninth District actually sent you the main course of this meal—remember the beef jerky—and then the wonderful Senator from the Twelfth District is going to be sure that we all receive nutrition with fruit. Well folks, it is time for dessert. In a few moments, the Pages will be distributing something from my community that is not just a custom, it is an integral part of the community.

“Before we do that, I would like to show you a calendar that each of you have on your desk. If you will go ahead and pick that up, I would like to show you a few things down memory lane in my community. If you go to the month of January, you will see the Liberty Theater in downtown Puyallup in the Twenty-fifth District. This is really the entertainment center of my town for years—actually since 1924. As a young boy, I brought many dates here. There are probably many first kisses here. It was actually the favorite site for something called streaking, but I won’t go into that in detail.

“If you move on to the month of March, you will see the Meeker Mansion. At one time, Esser Meeker was the builder, who was the Bill Gates of the Northwest. He was the Hop King and owned fields all the way up to the Auburn area. This mansion still stands in the center of Puyallup and is quite a historic mark. You can see Esser Meeker on the wagon next to one of his cattle. Now, if you move on again—and actually I would like to point this out—when I was a young boy, there were miles and miles of fields of what you see on the desk of the great Senator from the Fourth District. There were miles and miles of these daffodils when I was a young boy.
"Now, I have to say to the Senator that I did fulfill one of his requirements. He said he wanted something from my district and something he could eat. Well, it is from my district, but you can't eat that. Now, if we move on and go to the fair. If you see in the month of September, for one hundred years in my community, the fair has been a center of the community--very important. We have been noted for our roller-coasters and our pumpkins that weigh over seven hundred pounds. It is a wonderful place to go. We will actually talk more about that with the scones that you are going to receive in a little bit. Finally, I just want to show you one thing in the month of October. You see that-that is the Karshner Museum and I went to school right behind that. I am just showing you that to kinda brag--that's all.

"Now, let's move on to the dessert part. If you will look into the bag that you are receiving, there are two scones from the Puyallup Fair. In the Puyallup area, scones are part of our custom. When babies are born in our hospital, they are given scones instead of pacifiers. When they graduate from high school, everyone gets a scone with their favorite preserve. I know that the President has quite a protocol. I received an email about dancing on desks, you know, and all those types of things, but I hope you allow this food on the Senate Floor, but not to be eaten. I hope that protocol of not eating would not extend to the caucus where all of you can enjoy these morsels. Thanks so much. It is wonderful to be in the Senate."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McCaslin: “Mr. President, a point of personal privilege. We expected a gift, not a filibuster. I think that is okay. I want to thank you. You know I was really worried. You know it costs nine dollars to have your pants taken in and out and I just had to have some taken in. These scones should help me maintain my waistline, so that I can save money. We are deeply appreciative of this gift. I think I can speak for all of us. Send us another gift for that three minute speech.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Franklin: “Thank you, Mr. President. A point of personal privilege. To the good Senator from the Puyallup Valley, you will note that the good Senator that is across the aisle from me is our body's humorist. So, take it in stride.”

MOTION

At 10:28 a.m., on motion of Senator Betti Sheldon, the Senate adjourned until 12:00 noon, Monday, January 29, 2001.

MESSAGE FROM STATE OFFICE

STATE OF WASHINGTON
DEPARTMENT OF SOCIAL AND HEALTH SERVICES
HEALTH AND REHABILITATIVE SERVICES ADMINISTRATION
Timothy R. Brown, Ph.D., Acting Assistant Secretary
Olympia, Washington 98504-5000

STRATEGIES FOR THE FUTURE
EXECUTIVE SUMMARY
December 1, 2000

In recent years, people with developmental disabilities in Washington State and the people allied with them have been working to create a shift in how supports and services are offered. In 1997, Lyle Quasim, Secretary of the Department of Social and Health Services (DSHS), appointed the Strategies for the Future Stakeholder Workgroup (the Stakeholder Workgroup). Its primary mission was to build consensus among its members in order to advise the DSHS/Division of Developmental Disabilities (the division) on development of a strategic plan for the future of developmental disability services. Consensus was reached on the principle of individual choice and self-determination to guide future service delivery.

Current law directs the division, in conjunction with the Stakeholder Workgroup, to make recommendations to the legislature on how to best meet the needs of people with developmental disabilities and their families, today and in the future. DSHS will submit three reports to the legislature in December 1998, 2000 and 2002.

In December 1998, the division submitted Strategies for the Future Long-Range Plan Phase I Report to the Washington State Legislature. The report shared an estimate on unmet service needs, proposed a multi-biennial funding plan to meet these needs and outlined an approach for system restructuring based on an individual choice and self-determination service delivery philosophy.

The division is now, in December 2000, submitting the Strategies for the Future Long-Range Plan Phase II Report to the Legislature. This report is based on the contributions of over one hundred and twenty people who worked together in special topic workgroups with co-chairs from the Stakeholder Workgroup and the division. Recommendations from the topic workgroups went to the Stakeholder Workgroup for consideration, and those adopted were forwarded to the division, forming the backbone of this Phase II Report. While this report’s primary focus is on the activities of the division and the Stakeholder Workgroup for the next two or three years, the long range planning effort will continue to work out system restructuring issues, including statutory change recommendations, and to implement choice and self-determination statewide by June 30, 2007.
Washington’s focus on choice and self-determination comes as a result of years of committed work by hundreds of individuals with developmental disabilities, their families and friends, legislators, advocates, providers, and social service staff. A hallmark of this approach is the ability of people with developmental disabilities to make choices about their living conditions and supports. A primary tool in accomplishing this is individual control of service dollars, with each person or family having a budget that is portable. Portability allows the person to direct funds among options he or she chooses, and to make changes as desired-for example, choosing a different living or employment situation.

The Phase II Report recommends a two-part approach to developing individual budgets. A general allocation would be available to all eligible persons, with some variation for children three through twenty who are funded through the school system. A second specialized allocation may be added after an individualized assessment process for those people who find that their general allocation is insufficient to purchase needed services. The Stakeholders Workgroup did not recommend using an individual assessment process for all eligible persons since this process would be expensive to administer. In addition, the division estimates that approximately eighty percent of people currently served would have adequate dollars to meet their needs within the proposed general budget amount.

To prepare for implementing this flexible individual budget approach, two initiatives are presented in the Phase II Report. The first already underway and continuing into the 2001-2003 biennium, is to test and refine the assessment instrument. The second, proposed for the 2001-2003 biennium, is to pilot individual budgets and other choices and self-determination components. The pilot is proposed for one geographic area of the state. The purpose of the pilot is to test each component of a choice and self-determination system to determine what works best for people and their families.

After reaching consensus on using choice and self-determination as the direction that system improvements would follow, several other agreements have been reached on the particulars involved with the pursuit. However, the Stakeholder Workgroup has not yet reached consensus on two major issues: 1) how to use and/or re-deploy any “unneeded” residential habilitation center resources and: 2) the role of various government entities in implementing a choice and self-determination approach. These two unresolved issues, as well as a number of additional issues that the Stakeholder Workgroup is currently scheduling for discussion, will continue to be the focus of Stakeholder Workgroup and division activity for the next two years.

In summary, a self-determination approach will provide individuals and their families with more power to choose the services and supports that best suit their individual needs and to select the providers of these services and supports. A self-determination approach will also provide an effective and equitable method of budgeting and allocating resources to meet those needs.

MEMORANDUM

TO: Interested People
FROM: Stakeholder Workgroup
SUBJECT: ‘Addendum to Strategies for the Future’

Recently, the Division of Developmental Disabilities, with input from the Stakeholder Workgroup, submitted to the Legislature Phase II of a plan required by SB 6751 that outlines changing the current system. The Stakeholder Workgroup made the decision to develop an addendum that reflects pertinent information about ‘unmet needs” excluded from Phase II of the plan.

If you have recently received a report titled Strategies for the Future-Long Range Plan Report Phase II: 2001-2003, from the Division of Developmental Disabilities, please attach this addendum to it.

Thank you.

The Department of Social and Health Services Long-Range Plan Report, Phase 2: 2001-2003 and the Addendum from the Division of Developmental Disabilities is on file in the Office of the Secretary of the Senate.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Shin, the following resolution was adopted:

By Senators Shin, McAuliffe and Costa

Whereas, artistic endeavor is an important way for young people to develop creativity, their minds, and self-esteem; and

Whereas, students from the fourth and fifth grade multiaged classroom of Martha Lake Elementary School demonstrated exceptional artistic development by designing a Washington State flag to celebrate the arts for the Year 2000 Youth Art Month; and

Whereas, Martha Lake students were the only elementary entries in the contest, all other entries being from middle and high school art classes; and

Whereas, the students worked on the art project for seven hours over a period of a week, creating twelve three foot by five foot sized paper quilts, four of which were chosen to be made into a Washington State flag; and

Whereas, the students whose art was chosen included Tamara LaGrandeur, John Ritzman, Katriina Schaefer and Katherine Shotwell; and

Whereas, instructor Kay Kite demonstrated leadership and devotion by encouraging her students to excel in the arts through structuring class time, artistic exercises, and classroom discussions; and

Whereas, each paper quilt included four separate collages representing the four arts of dance, drama, music, and visual art, for a total of forty-eight collages; and

Whereas, the students performed cutting exercises, practiced drawing to music, drawing with their eyes closed, and performed other exercises to loosen up and discover their playful inner artist; and

Whereas, the students talked about color choices and how Henri Matisse, when doing his Jazz series of colorful collages and other works, attached significance to the colors he used; and

Whereas, the students talked about the importance of keeping the shapes bold and simple as they would be seen by people walking and driving, not by people standing as in a gallery; and

Whereas, the students used strong colors so that the work would have good contrast, because it would be seen at a distance hanging on poles in front of a building or from a ceiling; and

Whereas, the students were confident that their art would be selected; and

Whereas, out of the fifty flags produced nationally, Martha Lake Elementary School's art flag was one of only four that were chosen to go on tour, and flew for the month of March in Washington State, then in April at the National Art Education Association's annual conference and at the National Art Material Trade Association convention in Anaheim, California, and finally was flown at the Smithsonian Institute's Postal Museum to celebrate the importance of the arts in Washington, D.C.;

Now, therefore, be it resolved, that the Washington State Senate recognize instructor Kay Kite and all members of the fourth and fifth grade multiaged classroom of Martha Lake Elementary School for demonstrating exceptional artistic development in winning the Washington Art Educators Association's Youth Art Month 2000; and

Be it further resolved, that copies of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to Martha Lake Elementary School, to Instructor Kay Kite, and to each member of the fourth and fifth grade multiaged classroom of Martha Lake Elementary School.

Senators Shin and Costa spoke to Senate Resolution 2001-8602.

Introduction of Special Guests

The President welcomed and introduced the students from Martha Lake Elementary School and their instructor Kay Kite, who were seated in the gallery.

Funding the low-income energy assistance program

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Brown, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5717 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5717 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

Senator Honeyford moved that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 2, after line 20, insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The legislature finds that the people of Washington are now in the middle of a severe energy crisis resulting from lower than normal rainfall and snowpack and forces outside the control of the citizens of our state. Tight reserves of water and power are predicted throughout the winter and prices are expected to increase dramatically. Many low-income and elderly citizens will be forced to choose between the costs of their own electricity and purchasing food or other necessities. The legislature declares an emergency under the provisions of RCW 43.135.035(3)(a) for the purpose of providing financial assistance to low-income persons under the low-income home energy assistance program.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. Moneys collected during fiscal year 2001 and fiscal year 2002 under RCW 82.16.020(1) exceeding one hundred five percent of the average annual revenues collected under RCW 82.16.020(1) for the preceding three fiscal years, or as much thereof as may be necessary, are appropriated from the general fund to the department of community, trade, and economic development for the low-income home energy assistance program."

Renumber the remaining section consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

Debate ensued.

Senator Sheahan demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the adoption of the amendment by Senator Honeyford on page 2, after line 20, to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5717.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 23; Nays, 26; Absent, 0; Excused, 0.

Voting yea: Senators Benton, Carlson, Deccio, Finkbeiner, Hale, Hewitt, Hochstatter, Honeyford, Horn, Johnson, Long, McCaslin, McDonald, Morton, Oke, Parlette, Rossi, Sheahan, Stevens, Swecker, West, Winsley and Zarelli - 23

Voting nay: Senators Brown, Constantine, Costa, Eide, Fairley, Franklin, Fraser, Gardner, Hargrove, Haugen, Jacobsen, Kastama, Kline, Kohl-Welles, McAuliffe, Patterson, Prentice, Rasmussen, Regala, Roach, Sheldon, B. Sheldon, T., Shin, Snyder, Spanel and Thibaudeau - 26
PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Benton: “A point of personal privilege, Mr. President. I rise to remind the members of this chamber that the previous speaker on this amendment from the Thirty-fourth District has caused us a tremendous amount of pain and suffering with his shrill rhetoric on the floor of this august body. Many of the senior members of this chamber are not accustomed to such pain and suffering. We know that his dribbling inconsistencies of his previous comments will certainly improve—we hope— with his longevity in this august body. In lieu of a much deserved apology, we would accept a gift from the Senator from the Thirty-fourth District. With that, we ask you to please sit on your hands for a while and learn some of the customs of this chamber before you put us through this terrible pain and suffering with your shrill rhetoric in the future. Thank you.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Kline: “A point of personal privilege, Mr. President. I heard a very loud noise in back of me. It came from the general direction of the new member from the Thirty-fourth. In that screeching level of noise was verbiage. Now, verbiage is an ancient legalese word that means ‘words.’ I, too, suffered greatly. I feel that maybe a lesson needs to be learned here. Not only a lesson by our esteemed new member from the Thirty-fourth, but the pain and suffering that our other new members, just recently referred to, has been inflicted upon all of us. This is a lesson on how the liability system works. We have been subjected to pain and suffering; we need retribution.

“Now, I would notice, by the way, for the benefit of the good member from the Fourth District that in the Thirty-Fourth, there are many, many good delicatessens with edible things. One of them is the great Bratwurst at the Husky Delicatessen. I am sure that the new member from the Thirty-fourth knows where the Husky is, because I saw him near there the other day. I bet that he would be willing to satisfy our need for retribution in Bratwurst. Thank you, Mr. President.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McCaslin: “A point of personal privilege. The body has suffered greatly from the last two speeches. If anyone should give out gifts, the last two speakers should. However, being a senior citizen on the floor, I know how to handle things and Senator Constantine, it is a pleasure to have you in this body. I think you are probably one of the brightest stars that has ever been elected. Hey, if you are going to kiss up, do a good job of it! I think, and you have my permission, instead of forty-nine gifts, make it forty-seven and skip Senator Kline and Senator Benton. I think everyone on the floor will respect you for that. Welcome!”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Carlson: “A point of personal privilege, Mr. President. As one who seriously overlooked the fiftieth person, I did want to point out to my esteemed Senior Senator—Senior Citizen Senator—that one should not overlook the President of the Senate when you are considering a possible retribution.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Deccio: “A point of personal privilege, Mr. President. I would like to advise the gentlemen who apologized to Senator McCaslin. Don’t do that, because you will open up Pandora’s box and you will never be able to close it.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Constantine: “Thank you, Mr. President. A point of personal privilege. I rise today to thank the gentleman from the Fourth District and the immediate previous speaker—the only two members who are still here from my first internship in Olympia. Of course, the President, as well. To the Senator from the Seventeenth District, I do want to say that I do not intend my speeches to be any less painful in the future. But, if you wanted to address compensation for pain and suffering in the state of Washington, please come talk to me and we can take care of it before the end of the legislative session.

“I have, Mr. President, been shopping the district, diligently, for the last couple of weeks and I wanted to assure all the members that recompense will be made promptly, though not before the weekend, for my grievous acts here on the floor today. Thank you all for making me feel at home.”

MOTION
On motion of Senator Brown, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5717 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage. Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Sheahan: "Senator Snyder, today, we are taking a small step together to bring relief to some of our neighbors that are the hardest hit by the energy crisis. However, what we do today is just a temporary fix. We all know that one of the areas of concern that created this crisis is the lack of energy generating capacity in this state. Today is the thirty-first day of the session. Our session is almost one-third over and we have used up sixty percent of the time that we have allotted to work on Senate Bills. Senator Morton has a bill, Senate Bill No. 5550, waiting in committee to increase capacity immediately by raising the EFSC threshold from two hundred fifty to six hundred fifty megawatts. Several existing facilities could increase generating capacity now to meet the needs of our neighbors who are demanding bipartisan solutions to the crisis. This is a fix we can do immediately. Senator, will you commit to moving Senate Bill No. 5550 to the floor--and if so, when? Time is of the essence."

Senator Snyder: "Thank you. We have a lot of problems in front of us and particularly with energy. We have a lot of bills that have been introduced. I think the Chairman of the Energy Committee has a lot of bills scheduled. I don't know if the one you are talking about in particular has been scheduled. I will certainly have conversations and see if we can schedule those bills.

"I think we are all interested in moving forward in a bipartisan way and trying to get more energy on line in the state of Washington. We all know that we are in a critical situation. I had a conversation earlier in the week--some of these large suppliers of energy in the state of Washington are going to be out of money before the summer is over. They are going to be in need of borrowing money to buy this high priced electricity until we can get through to the fall when there are some new allocations coming from Bonneville. So, I think we are going to look at all aspects of how we can alleviate the energy crisis, including the one that you are talking about.

"I won't make any commitment when we are going to get anything to the floor. As you well know, we are in the hearings; we are in the process of hearing bills in committee now. This is the first bill of any substance that we have passed this session. I think it is about the normal procedure that we are moving through here and I will commit to you and all the members on the floor that we will give every consideration to every bill that we think is going to help to alleviate the energy crisis in the state of Washington."

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5717.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5717 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 49; Nays, 0; Absent, 0; Excused, 0.

SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5717, having received the constitutional majority was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

MOTION

At 12:21 p.m., on motion of Senator Betti Sheldon, the Senate adjourned until 12:00 noon., Thursday, February 8, 2001.

MOTION

Senator Betti Sheldon moved that all the bills on the Introduction and First Reading Calendar be referred to the committees as listed.

MOTION

Senator Sheahan moved to amend the motion by Senator Betti Sheldon and that Senate Bill No. 5959 be immediately advanced to second reading.
Debate ensued.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Snyder: "I believe this is a motion to suspend the rules and in the past, it has been customary to just have one speech on each side of the motion."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT
President Owen: "Senator Snyder, the interesting point here is that Senator Sheahan made a motion to amend Senator Sheldon’s motion, so it is a two step process. First, we have to amend the motion and then suspend the rules to advance it to second reading."
Senator Snyder: "Thank you."
Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator West: "Senator Snyder, last year, when the court ruled that 695 was unconstitutional, this body in a bipartisan manner acted very quickly to repeal the motor vehicle excise tax and instated the thirty dollar fee that was provided for in 695. Was it your intent—the intent of the majority—last year to repeal that tax in its entirety?"
Senator Snyder: "I believe it was the intent of the Legislature to appeal the entire motor vehicle excise tax as was indicated in the Initiative. I think we need to go through an orderly process here and find out what is necessary and see if the court is going to uphold it or if they are not going to uphold it. I just think that this is a normal process and that there is no rush to do it. Nobody’s taxes are being increased; nobody is going to pay more money for tabs this week or next week. I think that probably the result is going to be about the same as it was a year ago."
Senator West: "Senator Snyder, an additional question if I might. Was it anyone’s understanding that the local tax would not be repealed?"
Senator Snyder: "I can’t speak for everybody, but I can speak for myself. I thought it was probably going to be—all of it was going to be repealed, just as it was before."
Senator West: "Thank you, Senator Snyder."
Further debate ensued.
Senator Sheahan demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.
Further debate ensued.
The President declared the question before the Senate to be the motion by Senator Betti Sheldon and that Senate Bill No. 5959 be immediately placed on the second reading calendar.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the motion by Senator Sheahan carried and the amendment was adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 24; Nays, 23, Absent, 1, Excused, 1
Voting yea: Senators Benton, Carlson, Deccio, Finkbeiner, Hale, Hewitt, Hochstatter, Honeyford, Johnson, Long, McCaslin,
Voting nay: Senators Brown, Constantine, Costa, Eide, Fairley, Franklin, Fraser, Gardner, Hargrove, Haugen, Jacobsen,
Kastama, Kline, Kohl-Welles, McAuliffe, Patterson, Prentice, Rasmussen, Regala, Sheldon, B., Snyder, Spanel and Thibaudeau -
Absent: Senator Shin - 1.
Excused: Senator Horn - 1.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the motion by Senator Betti Sheldon, as amended, that all bills on today’s Introduction and First Reading Calendar be referred to the committees as designated with the exception of Senate Bill No. 5959, which will be placed on today’s second reading calendar.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Snyder: "A point of inquiry, Mr. President. What is the status of Senate Bill No. 5959? Will it be on the second reading calendar and does that need a two-thirds vote to get it to second reading?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "We just amended the motion by Senator Sheldon. Now, you have to pass the motion, which would take a two-thirds vote, because the rules have to be suspended to advance it to second reading."
Senator Snyder: "Thank you."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the amended motion by Senator Betti Sheldon, which would be that all the bills on the today’s Introduction and First Reading Calendar be referred to the committees as designated, with the exception of Senate Bill No. 5959.
The motion was defeated by a voice vote.
Senator Snyder: "A point of inquiry, Mr. President. What is the status of Senate Bill No. 5959?"

President Owen: "All the bills on today's Introduction and First Reading Calendar, including Senate Bill No. 5959 are in the same status as they were when we began the session which is, they have not yet been referred. They have not been referred anywhere yet."

Senator Snyder: "I'll move that all bills on today's Introduction Sheet be referred to the committees as indicated."

Senator West: "Under Reed's Rules, once the body decides an issue, the issue is decided. This body has just decided that issue. Without a motion for reconsideration, we can't honor Senator Snyder's motion, I believe."

President Owen: "The President believes that the motion, as presented by Senator Snyder is in order as it had not been dealt with in that fashion in the original case. So, the motion before us is that all measures shown on today's Introduction and First Reading Calendar be referred to the committees as designated."

Senator Sheahan: "Mr. President I move that Senator Snyder's motion be amended to provide that Senate Bill No. 5959 be boosted directly to the second reading calendar."

President Owen: "The motion by Senator Sheahan to amend Senator Snyder's motion is not in order. That motion has been dealt with."

Senator Sheahan: "Mr. President, I move to amend Senator Snyder's motion to leave Senate Bill No. 5959 on the desk and send the other bills on today's Introduction and First Reading calendar to the committees as designated."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the motion by Senator Sheahan to amend the motion by Senator Snyder, which would allow all bills on the Introduction and First Reading Calendar be referred as designated with the exception of Senate Bill No. 5959, which would remain on the desk.

Debate ensued.

Senator Sheahan demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

Senator Tim Sheldon: "Mr. President, could you clarify for me what this motion, if it passes, will do? My understanding is that this bill will stay on the desk."

President Owen: ""
President Owen: "That is correct."
Senator Tim Sheldon: "Thank you."
President Owen: "If the motion passes, Senate Bill No. 5959 will be held at the desk."
Senator Tim Sheldon: "And will not be referred to committee?"
President Owen: "And will not be referred to committee--excuse me, this motion, if it passes, amends the motion by Senator Snyder and then that motion will still have to be voted on. If that passes, then Senate Bill No. 5959 will stay on the desk and will not be referred to committee and will not be on the second reading calendar."
Senator Tim Sheldon: "Thank you."
The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the motion by Senator Sheahan to amend the motion by Senator Snyder that all bills on the Introduction and First Reading Calendar be referred as designated with the exception of Senate Bill No. 5959, which would remain on the desk.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the motion by Senator Sheahan carried and the amendment was adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 25; Nays, 22; Absent, 1; Excused, 1.
Voting nay: Senators Brown, Constantine, Costa, Eide, Fairley, Franklin, Fraser, Gardner, Hargrove, Haugen, Jacobsen, Kline, Kohl-Welles, McAuliffe, Patterson, Prentice, Rasmussen, Regala, Sheldon, B., Snyder, Spanel and Thibaudeau - 22.
Absent: Senator Shin - 1.
Excused: Senator Horn - 1.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Snyder: "A point of parliamentary inquiry. What is the motion presently before the Senate?"

REPLY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "The motion presently before the Senate is your motion, as amended by Senator Sheahan, which is as follows: All measures shown on today's Introduction and First Reading Calendar will be referred to the committees as designated with the exception of Senate Bill No. 5959, which will be held on the desk."

SENATE BILL NO. 5959 was held at the desk and all other measures on the Introduction and First Reading Calendar were referred to the committees as designated.

STATEMENT FOR THE JOURNAL

TO: TONY COOK, SECRETARY OF THE SENATE
CC: LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR BRAD OWEN
FROM: SENATOR JIM WEST
DATE: FEBRUARY 12, 2001
RE: PROTESTS OF TWO ACTIONS

Pursuant to Senate Rule 48, I protest two separate rulings by the President on Friday, February 9, 2001.

Protest of First Ruling. The President first ruled that a point of order by me was not well taken. My point was that Senator Snyder's motion to refer bills listed on First Reading to committees was out of order. Senator Snyder's motion was identical to a previous motion made by Senator Betti Sheldon. The body passed an amendment by Senator Sheahan to Senator Sheldon's motion to the effect that one bill, SB 5959, should be advanced directly to the Second Reading Calendar, rather than be referred to the Transportation Committee as moved by Senator Sheldon. The motion, as amended, required a suspension of the Senate Rules and a two-thirds vote, and was defeated. Senator Snyder then made the motion in question, which had the effect of subverting the will of the body by striking language already approved by the body when it adopted Senator Sheahan’s amendment. Reed’s Rule 209 provides that “decisions of the assembly must remain undisturbed,” and I therefore respectfully submit that Senator Snyder’s motion was not in order. I submit that under Reed’s Rule 209, the appropriate course of procedure would have been for Senator Snyder to move to reconsider; first Senator Sheldon’s failed motion, and then either move to reconsider Senator Sheahan’s amendment or to divide it from the remainder of the motion (which a member can demand as a matter of Right under Senate Rule 31).

Protest of Second Ruling. Because Senator Snyder’s motion was ruled in order, Senator Sheahan had no option but to move to amend it to advance SB 5959 to Second Reading; that is, to reinsert language already agreed by the body. The President ruled on Senator Snyder’s point that Senator Sheahan’s motion to amend was not in order. Ironically, because the amendment had already been voted on by the body, I respectfully submit that Senator Sheahan’s motion to amend Senator Snyder’s motion was very much in order. Had it and no other amendments passed, then Senator Snyder’s main motion as amended may have been out of order. See Sturgis, 3d Ed. at page 28 (“when a main motion has been voted on and lost, the same...motion cannot be proposed again at the same meeting.....”), at which point Senator Snyder would have maintained other options including moving to divide Senator Sheahan’s amendment from the remainder of the main motion. In short, I know of no parliamentary authority that provides that a subsequent amendment to a subsequent main motion cannot be proposed, whether or not it is identical to a previous amendment to a previous main motion.

I hope the President will not consider himself bound by these rulings in the future.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McCaslin: “A point of personal privilege, Mr. President. Ladies and gentlemen of the Senate, when I arrived at my desk this morning, upon examination, I found a brown paper bag. Normally, things that come in brown wrappers shouldn’t be on the floor— I got out of that one, didn’t I? Upon inspection, I found some honey, some candy and a badge. Now, in talking to the majority leader—I won’t hurt you Sid—in talking to the majority leader and the floor leader, they didn’t know where it came from. Now, one of the rules, in Reed’s Rules and the Joint Rules of the House and Senate, upon your maiden speech, someone must notify you that it is a maiden speech, then a gift is expected. Now, no one has made any speech about the speech that this young lady made. I believe her name is Senator Regala. Now, because of that and no one informed you of a gift, this gift does not count. Could I have a voice vote on this please? Do you have any comments? Would you yield to a question? What is the next gift?”

Senator Regala: “Well, Senator McCaslin—thank you, Mr. President—I was not aware that you needed to recognize me first. I was well aware that I needed to give a gift for my maiden speech, which I gave on Wednesday. I will note that nobody noted that and I have to say that I wondered if the kind gentlemen might owe me a tribute for either taking me for granted or ignoring me. I’ll just assume that you didn’t notice me back here in the back row. So, I didn’t want the weekend to come and go without me having provided my tribute to my fellow Senators. So, that is what you find on your desk this morning.”

Further debate ensued.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Regala: “Mr. President, a point of personal privilege. May I take a few brief moments to explain the gifts that you found on your desks this morning? It was my understanding, fellow Senators, that my gift should reflect my district somehow. I believe that the Twenty-seventh District is the most diverse district in the state of Washington, so I tried to do something that was a little unique. The Twenty-seventh District goes from the fertile farm fields of Fife to the verdant vistas of Tacoma’s north end neighborhood. There are many, many special places and unique places in that district.

“The first item you find is very unique. I know it looks like something that you would find on a grocery store shelf, but instead this is a special product that comes from the East Side 4-H Youth Group. Now, the East Side 4-H Youth Group is in the Salashan Housing development. Most of these urban teens are from families that are refugees from Southeast Asia. Through the Tahoma Food System Project, they are working on learning business practices; they sell this honey at our local markets and they are learning about marketing sales and business management. They also sell infused honeys, using herbs from the community gardens in that area, so I hope you will enjoy that.

“The second item also represents some young entrepreneurs. In 1914, Brown and Haley established the Brown and Haley Candy Company in Tacoma. So, you have some Almond Roca. They ship approximately eight hundred thousand pieces of this candy—through the Port of Tacoma in the Twenty-seventh District—around the world every year. It is very well known and you may be aware that some people are suggesting that it should be the state candy. You will note that it is wrapped with a purple ribbon that denotes the University of Washington, Tacoma. We are very proud of having that in our district. It is a neighbor to the State Historical Society in our Museum District, which also includes the New Tacoma Art Museum and the International Museum of Glass.

"The third item comes from the Point Defiance Zoo and Aquarium. Now, we don’t have Honey Bears or Huskies in our zoo, but we do have an elephant, we do have clouded leopards, snow leopards, sharks, lorikeets and poison arrow frogs. I could go on and on and talk about the wonders of the Twenty-seventh District, but I will stop there. I will let you know that I am very proud of my district and I invite everyone of you to call me and I will give you a personal tour. Thank you, Mr. President."

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Betti Sheldon, Senate Bill No. 6017 was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.
On motion of Senator Betti Sheldon, Senate Bill No. 6025 was referred to the Committee on Environment, Energy and Water.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Betti Sheldon, Senate Bill No. 6037 was referred to the Committee on Agriculture and International Trade.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Betti Sheldon, Senate Bill No. 5959, which was held on the desk February 9, 2001, was referred to the Committee on Transportation.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Sheahan: "Senator Snyder, last week we were debating Senate Bill No. 5959 and you indicated that you understood that this body had intended to repeal the motor vehicle excise tax and that you intended for us to work on this matter through the normal committee process. Can you give this body an assurance that this bill will move expeditiously through the committee process and ultimately be brought to the floor?"

Senator Snyder: "The bill has been referred to the Transportation Committee and it will take a few days to schedule a hearing, but I think this is the proper way to go. We shouldn’t be debating these bills on the floor. We should be sending them to committee. We should give the public an opportunity to participate in the process and I think it is the intention of most all the members on my side of the aisle to do what was the intent originally when the legislation was passed here. We made a glitch in it and we want to make sure there are no glitches in it this time. I am sure that we will move the bill expeditiously."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Betti Sheldon, the Senate advanced to the sixth order of business.

SECOND READING

Clarifying toll procedures in public-private initiatives.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Rasmussen moved that the following amendment be adopted:
On page 7, after line 10, insert the following:
"Sec. 6. RCW 47.46.050 and 1995 2nd sp.s. c 19 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:
(1) The department may enter into agreements using federal, state, and local financing in connection with the projects, including without limitation, grants, loans, and other measures authorized by section 1012 of ISTEA, and to do such things as necessary and desirable to maximize the funding and financing, including the formation of a revolving loan fund to implement this section."
(2) Agreements entered into under this section shall authorize the private entity to lease the facilities within a designated area or areas from the state and to impose user fees or tolls within the designated area to allow a reasonable rate of return on investment, as established through a negotiated agreement between the state and the private entity. The negotiated agreement shall determine a maximum rate of return on investment, based on project characteristics. If the negotiated rate of return on investment is not affected, the private entity may establish and modify toll rates and user fees. A requested modification in the toll rate or user fees authorized under this chapter that would result in a rate or fees greater than that rate or fee established and approved by the voters in the advisory vote will automatically place the individual public-private initiatives project, from the request date forward, under the control and governance of the Washington utilities and transportation commission as if the private entity were a "service company" and requires that entity to comply with all laws, rules, and regulations implemented or imposed by the utilities and transportation commission.

(3) Agreements may establish "incentive" rates of return beyond the negotiated maximum rate of return on investment. The incentive rates of return shall be designed to provide financial benefits to the affected public jurisdictions and the private entity, given the attainment of various safety, performance, or transportation demand management goals. The incentive rates of return shall be negotiated in the agreement.

(4) Agreements shall require that over the term of the ownership or lease the user fees or toll revenues be applied only to payment of the private entity's capital outlay costs for the project, including project development costs, interest expense, the costs associated with design, construction, operations, toll collection, maintenance and administration of the project, reimbursement to the state for all costs associated with an election as required under RCW 47.46.030, the costs of project review and oversight, technical and law enforcement services, establishment of a fund to assure the adequacy of maintenance expenditures, and a reasonable return on investment to the private entity. A negotiated agreement shall not extend the term of the ownership or lease beyond the period of time required for payment of the private entity's capital outlay costs for the project under this subsection.

Senate Bill No. 5130.

Renumber the sections following consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Haugen, the reason the amendment is brought before us is because of the oversight authority on the toll of the bridge. The amendment states that the oversight authority would be with the Utilities and Transportation Commission. I would like to ask you if this is the appropriate agency for giving the public some assurance that these tolls will remain in a fixed booth?"

Senator Haugen: "Thank you very much for that question. In 1995, there was a great deal of concern about who would have the authority to set these tolls, so at that time we put in a nonprofit group, who then set the tolls, but actually acts like a toll authority. Over the years, we have built lots of bridges using tolls and we have generally used a toll authority. Never, have we ever used the Utilities and Transportation Commission as an agency to deal with tolls. This is an inappropriate agency. We do believe the safe guards are in there for the public nonprofit organization that is the oversight and, in essence, is the tolling authority."

Senator Rasmussen: "Thank you. My concern was the oversight authority on the toll and with that and with the answer from the kind gentle Senator from the Tenth District, I will withdraw the amendment."

WITHDRAWAL OF AMENDMENT

There being no objection, Senator Rasmussen withdrew the amendment on page 7, after line 10, to Senate Bill No. 5130.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Oke, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 5130 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Long: "Senator Oke, will this bill affect any other transportation facility or impact any other road or bridge?"

Senator Oke: "Thank you for that question, Senator Long. I made a pledge at the beginning of this process that I would not try to get this bridge built at the expense of other projects or anyone else's district, and I kept that pledge. We have worked very hard to ensure that this bill is drafted simply to respond to the Supreme Court's November decision on the bridge and nothing further. The language in this bill is limited to the Tacoma Narrows Bridge, which is the only public-private partnership project currently authorized and underway. Because of this limiting language, this bill will have no impact on any other project, road or bridge. This bill does not open the door to tolling for any other facility in the state. It is absolutely not a method to allow the DOT to collect any other tolls now or in the future. It simply responds to the Supreme Court's ruling and allows this project to go forward as originally envisioned and authorized by this body approximately eight years ago."
Senator Long: “Thank you, Senator Oke, and those who have had the proposal of the toll road in their district should be reassured by having this language on the record to clearly establish legislative intent.”

Further debate ensued.

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 5130.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 5130 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 38; Nays, 10; Absent, 0; Excused, 1.

Voting nay: Senators Benton, Constantine, Fairley, Fraser, Hochstatter, Patterson, Rasmussen, Roach, Stevens and Thibaudeau - 10.

Excused: Senator Zarelli - 1.

SENATE BILL NO. 5130, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Betti Sheldon: “A point of personal privilege, Madam President. I would just like to acknowledge the work of Senator Bob Oke. I think he has gone above and beyond and I know it has been very difficult--and very personally difficult--for him. Congratulations, Senator Oke.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Oke: “A point of personal privilege, Madam President. I want to thank each and everyone of you for this vote. Again, it wasn't easy; it was very difficult for all of us. I am convinced that we are moving ahead. I am convinced we have done the right thing and I think doing the right thing will show up years later. Again, God Bless each one of you for being with me. Happy Valentine’s Day and I am going to end a lot of your e-mails today. Thank you.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Constantine: “Madam President, I rise to a point of personal privilege. Well, I have taken a fair piece of ribbing here for being among the last to bring my gifts honoring my fellow Senators--for allowing me the privilege of speaking on this floor. But, at last, it has arrived. I trust it is something that, after a contentious vote, will sweeten the dispositions of my fellow Senators. I am from the Thirty-fourth Legislative District, which includes West Seattle, Vashon and Maury Islands and Burien. The gift on your desk has come in a plastic ice cream bucket and that is representing West Seattle. It is from the Husky Delicatessen. As you might recall, the other day during the hazing period of the floor speeches, Senator Kline suggested that I go to Husky Deli and pick up some treats. Now, he wanted me to bring sausage, but I thought that was a little uninteresting.

“So, today, inside your ice cream bucket, you will find a few treats. I should say, first of all, the Husky Deli, is really a cornerstone of our West Seattle community. It was founded in 1932 and is now in its third generation of family ownership. It is the place where new Representative Joe McDermott got his start in the working world, along with probably hundreds of other West Seattle kids. I'll come back to the Husky Deli issue in a second. I do want to point out that the Husky theme and the purple grass in here, while highlighting my partisanship to the University of Washington, by no means is intended as a slight against those partisans of lesser institutions in this state. But I digress--I move on to Vashon and Maury Island, home of retired Governors and some of the most activist constituents you will every meet. Whether it is rising ferry fares or disappearing gravel, they are always at our door and, in fact, you will see many of them here next Wednesday, I believe, protesting about the ferry fares.

“But, they are very industrious on Vashon Island. In addition to producing K-2 Skies and many other fine products, they have a good agricultural industry. One of the oldest agricultural concerns on the Island is Wax Orchards, which was founded in 1920 and began selling retail produce in the 1930s. They have a line of dessert toppings which they have been kind enough to provide. This one happens to be both fat and sugar free. However, I should caution you that it is not calorie free. There are twenty-two servings in this container at forty-five calories apiece, so don't just pop the top off and dig in. You will also find some candy in honor of Valentine’s Day. The female members of the body got little candy hearts, but I thought some of you guys might be a little squeamish about that, so I got you Reece’s Peanut Butter Cups instead.

“Representing Burien, home of a very noisy airport and an expensive proposed third runway, I procured for you some earplugs in case you would like to come visit that part of the district. They also could be used well in Senator Patterson’s district up around the airport.

“Now, back to Husky Deli, Madam President, if I may in conclusion, as Senator Clinton would have said. I thought some of you might be disappointed to open the ice container and find it empty of ice cream. So, I have had my trusty session aide and West Seattle resident, Bruce Eklund, stop this morning at the Husky Deli and bring down a pint of premium ice cream for each one of you, along with a couple of extra half gallons for the Senate dining room. Those will be available to you today if you like, but I would suggest you wait until Friday to pick them up, because the freezer in our Senate dining room is broken. The House of Representatives has been kind enough to accommodate us. As soon as the freezer here is back in service, we will haul them over and you can just ask downstairs for your pint of ice cream. They are in various flavors, probably something to suit each one of you, but it is first come, first serve. So, if you don’t like vanilla, you better be first in line and not last.

“Thank you for your consideration and for allowing me to remain here even after that horrid speech I gave the other day. I trust I have more views to come. Thank you, Madam President.”

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hargrove: “Senator Constantine, can you guarantee the House members won’t eat our ice cream before Friday?”

Senator Constantine: “Thank you for that question, Senator Hargrove. I trust that the House members will be concerned about the fate of their bills as they work their way through the legislative process—and even the temptation of this great ice cream—will not cause them to throw away their legislative session. Thank you.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McCaslin: “A point of personal privilege. I think I can get total agreement on this. Would you pass out the earplugs before your next speech?”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Constantine: “Madam President, if I may respond? That sir, was a soft ball tossed to you. I knew you would hit it out of the park.”

Senator McCaslin: “Well, the distinguished gentlemen from the Thirty-fourth District, being an attorney, I just want to correct something. Of course, he is from the House. This does make a difference, but a thirty-eight, ten vote is not contentious. Twenty-five, twenty-four is contentious, regardless of which way it goes. I will be looking forward to the ice cream very much and I hope the freezer down there keeps it cool for quite a while. But, the earplugs, I have to say—we need them desperately in here. We may need more before this session is over, also.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Sheahan: “A point of personal privilege, Madam President. I did have to respond to the comment about lesser institutions. If you would all look at your jar for the ingredients. It includes grapes, peaches and pears. Now, we all know that the tremendous institution that does ag research on grapes, peaches and pears is not the institution in Seattle, but the wonderful institution in Pullman. I hope the gentlemen from the Thirty-fourth District will be very supportive of all the ag research that has made sure that this product can go to market. Thank you.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Parlette: “A point of personal privilege, Madam President. I would like to make a comment to the good Senator from the Thirty-fourth District. First of all, I would like to thank you, because although I see that it says, ‘Husky’ on the little container we have, I have been told that the ice cream is Crimson and Grey and I would like to thank you.”

CLOSING PRAYER BY REPRESENTATIVE JOYCE MULLIKEN

"Gracious God and Creator of all, it is good we could come this afternoon to be part of this ceremony--to remember and to pay tribute to these servants who have given so much of themselves--their time and energy in service for the people in this great state of Washington. We pray especially for their family members that you will comfort them in their loss and help them find consolation in knowing the benefit their family members provided for so many.

"We also pray for each one of us here that you would encourage and comfort us as we claim their memories as your special gift to us. May these memories instruct us, motivate us, support us and lift us. May we remember what these former members have done by serving among us. Even though death is powerful and mysterious, we know, because of our hope in you, it does not have to be the last word. We take joy, as our hearts rise to you, that this divine harmony of death and life was sung by prophets and holy people and that your son, Jesus, sang that song in his death and resurrection from the tomb.

"We pray that as we look back to the future, we will continue to learn from the past. We thank you our Sovereign God for what you have done in our midst and we continue to pray for your special blessing upon each of our lives, the lives of our families, and the lives of those we serve."

Dear Secretary Cook:
The 2000 Legislature directed the Washington State Institute for Public Policy to compare placement decisions and funding methodologies for residential care services for children in long-term foster care and to examine the best practices in other states (EHB 2487). This report addresses the placement and funding decisions; a separate report will cover innovative practices and a literature review.

The enclosed report represents preliminary findings, as they are based on half the anticipated sample. In order to provide necessary protection to both children in foster care and their caregivers, researchers followed informed consent procedures that extended the study’s time frame. A final report will be produced by the end of March 2001.

If you have any questions, please call me at (360) 586-2768.

Sincerely,
Roxanne Lieb, Director

By Senators Roach, Sheahan, Winsley, Stevens, Hale, Kohl-Welles, Johnson, Benton, Long, Kastama, and Zarelli
WHEREAS, ninety years ago, on February 6, 1911, Ronald Wilson Reagan was born to John and Nelle Reagan in the family’s modest apartment above the general store in Tampico, Illinois; and
WHEREAS, John Reagan struggled both before and during the Great Depression in his attempts to provide for his family, until he was appointed director of the Dixon, Illinois, Office of the Works Progress Administration, a New Deal, back to work program; and
WHEREAS, Ronald Reagan, building upon a successful career in the private sector, acted upon the courage of his convictions and entered the world of politics and public service as Governor of California; and
WHEREAS, Ronald Reagan was extraordinarily successful at communicating his vision to the American people, in words such as these from his first inaugural address as Governor of California:

> We are a humane and generous people and we accept without reservation our obligation to help the aged, disabled, and those unfortunates who, through no fault of their own, must depend on their fellow man. But we are not going to perpetuate poverty by substituting a permanent dole for a paycheck. There is no humanity or charity in destroying self-reliance, dignity, and self-respect... the very substance of moral fiber...

AND;

WHEREAS, Ronald Reagan, as all great American Presidents, used the power of the Presidency as he deemed best to invigorate our economy, put Americans to work, honor our obligation to those who need help, and inspire all Americans to seek a more perfect Union;
WHEREAS, Ronald Reagan’s leadership, with the support of the American people, helped to end the Cold War, set many nations on a path to freedom and democracy, and promoted greater peace and stability to many regions of the world;

MOTION

On motion of Senator Kastama, the following resolution was adopted:

By Senators Kastama, Rasmussen, Johnson, Snyder, Fairley, Spanel, Fraser, Kohl-Welles, Regala, Sheldon, B., and McAuliffe

WHEREAS, It is the policy of the Washington State Senate to recognize the outstanding contributions of our residents; and

WHEREAS, Dr. Frank B. Brouillet—affectionately known by colleagues, friends, and citizens of this state as "Buster"—was a lifelong public servant and The Voice of and for education in this state during the Sixties, Seventies, and Eighties who died January 20, 2001, after an eight-year battle with leukemia; and

WHEREAS, He devoted his political and professional life to upholding the paramount duty of the Washington State Constitution—i.e., to provide ample education for all children residing within its borders, without distinction or preference on account of race, color, caste, or sex; and

WHEREAS, As a lifelong resident of Puyallup, Buster graduated from Puyallup High School in 1946, and after college at the University of Puget Sound and military service to his country in Alaska, returned to Puyallup to teach at his alma mater high school in 1955 before he launched his political career in 1956; and

WHEREAS, During his sixteen-years as a member of the State House of Representatives, where he specialized in education legislation and appropriations, he became respected and known by his colleagues on both sides of the aisle as "Mr. Education" and is remembered best for his four terms (eight years) as Chair of the Joint Committee on Education, a very active House-Senate interim committee of the Sixties; and

WHEREAS, Upon announcing his intention to run for the non-partisan office of Superintendent of Public Instruction, a statewide position constitutionally charged with supervision over all matters pertaining to public schools, many of his legislative colleagues from both sides of the aisle, in respect for the bipartisan manner, enthusiastically endorsed and worked for his election; and

WHEREAS, Buster then served four terms as Superintendent of Public Instruction and is credited with providing leadership for altering our state’s working definition of “equal education for all”. This standardized curriculum for all students is now our state’s current educational policy of providing extra help for those students who otherwise would not obtain their educational goals and also provides an alternative curriculum for those students who would be a certain high risk for failure. Our current remediation, gifted, bilingual, vocational skills, and special education programs are prime examples of Buster’s legacy in our state’s education system; and

WHEREAS, Upon his departure from the office, this Chamber—in recognition of his distinguished years of advocacy for our children, for the educators who served our children, and for the Legislature’s role in improving the quality of education in this state—bestowed upon him the lifelong title of Superintendent of Public Instruction Emeritus. While many assumed that Buster then would seek a less public, less stressful, and more senior citizen type lifestyle, he surprised all by accepting the Presidency of Pierce College and, to the delight of his constituency from the Twenty-fifth Legislative District that launched his political career, he led the way and presided over the establishment of Pierce College’s Puyallup campus; and

WHEREAS, As Superintendent of Public Instruction, Buster played an integral role in opening China to the West during President Nixon’s administration and continued, after leaving that office, as director of the Pacific Rim Center, initially at the University of Washington, Seattle campus and later at the Tacoma campus, providing educational exchange opportunities for educators, students, and statesmen—American and Chinese; and

WHEREAS, Buster, when asked to return to serve the University of Washington, Tacoma campus as interim director of the education department and its professional preparation program during an administrative difficulty, he not only unhesitatingly did so, but felt it was time to give back to the citizens of this state for the bestowed honor to serve his state in so many important positions and refused to accept more than a small amount of pay; and

WHEREAS, When called by our Governor to provide additional unpaid public service to the citizens of this state as a member of the Higher Education Coordinating Board, he again unhesitatingly did so and was well prepared for the assignment. He had written his University of Washington doctoral dissertation on the governance and coordination of higher education and was an active participant as a legislator in the many governance and articulation issues related to the separation of community colleges from the K-12 system;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the members of the Washington State Senate, on behalf of the people of our state, do hereby recognize the outstanding contribution and commitment of Dr. Frank "Buster" Brouillet to improving all levels of education in this state and do hereby acknowledge he did so unselfishly for the benefit of the people of Washington; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That we gratefully acknowledge Buster's assistance in, and appreciation for, the legislative process in the making of educational policy and for his kind behind the scene persuasion when he believed we were about to err on an education matter; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to Frank "Buster" Brouillet's family members, including his wife, Marge; his two sons, Marc and Blair; and his grandchildren; and to the following with a request that it be appropriately displayed for public viewing: Office of Superintendent of Public Instruction, Puyallup High School, Pierce College, University of Puget Sound, University of Washington, Seattle and Tacoma, and Frank "Buster" Brouillet Elementary School.

Senators Kastama, Rasmussen, McAuliffe, Thibaudeau, Winsley, Snyder, Kohl-Welles and Fraser spoke to Senate Resolution 2001-8619.

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President welcomed and introduced members of the Frank "Buster" Brouillet family—his wife Marge; his son, Marc; his daughter-in-law Tami; and his grandchildren Jorden and Brooke; who were seated in the gallery.

*Statement

The public has a vital interest in the operations of port districts and in the contractual relationships of port districts with domestic and foreign companies and governments. Senate Bill No. 5800 removes the public's ability to examine port districts' contractual relationships for fairness, consistency and fiscal prudence. The measure treats port districts far differently than any other state or local governmental entity in the withholding of information from the public. The state's citizens would be better served in maintaining the current level of public oversight of port district functions and in maintaining public oversight consistent with that of all other governmental agencies.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Betti Sheldon: “A personal privilege, Mr. President. We have some one here in the Senate who is celebrating a twenty-fifth wedding anniversary today. Mark and Tracey met in 1971 when they were both seniors at Kent-Ridge High School. Tracey was flirting with another guy and wanted to go to the football game with him. This guy she liked couldn’t go because he was on the team, but suggested Tracey go with a team-mate who was recovering from an injury—a guy named Mark. They dated five years before marrying twenty-five years ago. Tracey’s husband is an attorney and they have been blessed with two beautiful children, Joanna, seventeen, and Matthew, thirteen. Please join me in congratulating Senator Tracey Eide as she celebrates her silver wedding anniversary today.”
PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Eide: “A point of personal privilege, Mr. President. Thank you, Senator Betti Sheldon, for those kind words. Yes, I am married to the world’s best man. Anyone who can put up with me for twenty-five years is truly a saint—‘Saint Mark’ for this day only. I know my husband watches TVW, so here’s to another twenty-five years honey. I love you dearly.”

MOTION

On motion of Senator Swecker, the following resolution was adopted:

SENATE RESOLUTION 2001-8625

By Senators Swecker, Franklin, Sheldon, B., Zarelli, Hale, Johnson, Fraser, Winsley, Rasmussen and Costa

WHEREAS, February is designated as Black History Month; and
WHEREAS, African Americans are an integral part of Washington’s diverse population and rich history, being among the first non-Native Americans to settle in the area, which was to become the Washington Territory and ultimately the state of Washington; and
WHEREAS, George Washington, an African American, settled and founded the town of Centralia, Washington, causing this area to develop and prosper; and
WHEREAS, George Washington left the racial discrimination of his native Missouri first for Illinois, where he encountered further discrimination, and then for the Oregon Territory in 1850; and
WHEREAS, in 1852, George Washington staked a land claim at the fork of the Skookumchuck and Chehalis Rivers, in what is present-day Washington State; and
WHEREAS, racial discrimination continued to haunt George Washington, threatening his ability to settle in Oregon and hold land; and
WHEREAS, George Washington was able to avoid much of the full effects of this discrimination because his settlement was north of the Columbia River, in what became the Washington Territory in 1853, and was thus not subject to the Oregon Territory’s “Black Exclusion Law,” under which African Americans were excluded from Oregon under pain of whipping; and
WHEREAS, George Washington was able to secure his land and prosper as a frontier farmer, marrying Mary Jane Cooness in 1869; and
WHEREAS, In 1872, the Northern Pacific Railroad pushed its rail line across his farm, George Washington, seeing a chance for economic opportunity, registered at the county seat in Chehalis a town plat he originally called Centerville in 1875; and
WHEREAS, in 1883, George Washington changed the name of his town plat from Centerville to Centralia, and the town grew and prospered, and George Washington’s wealth grew along with it; and
WHEREAS, George Washington continued to be a benefactor to Centralia, donating plots of land for churches, parks, and public buildings, earning a reputation for generosity among his neighbors; and
WHEREAS, his reputation for generosity was proven by his actions during a depression which hit the area in 1893, throughout which George Washington bought and distributed large amounts of food and lent money at no interest to those in need; and
WHEREAS, the depression eventually receded and Centralia again prospered, but some white newcomers to the town resented George Washington’s prominence as the town’s founder, and he was surreptitiously poisoned in 1898. He survived, but the perpetrators were never discovered; and
WHEREAS, despite these racial problems, George Washington’s friends greatly outnumbered his enemies and, when George Washington died from injuries in a buggy accident, all businesses in Centralia closed so that residents could attend his funeral; and
WHEREAS, George Washington encountered and overcame the difficulties of frontier life, exacerbated by racial prejudice, to achieve success and prominence in Washington history and the western movement;
NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Washington State Senate hereby recognizes and honors one of our founding settlers, George Washington, in honor of his contribution to our state, and deems it all the more appropriate to honor this great man during this month of February, Black History Month, 2001; and
BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that a copy of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to the Washington State History Museum, the University of Washington, Washington State University, Central Washington University, Eastern Washington University, Western Washington University, The Evergreen State College, Lewis County Historical Society and the City of Centralia.

By Senators Swecker, Franklin, Sheldon, B., Zarelli, Hale, Johnson, Fraser, Winsley, Rasmussen and Costa

WHEREAS, February is designated as Black History Month; and
WHEREAS, African Americans are an integral part of Washington’s diverse population and rich history, being among the first non-Native Americans to settle in the area which was to become the Washington Territory and ultimately the state of Washington; and
WHEREAS, George W. Bush, an African American, founded one of the first permanent non-Native American settlements in Washington; and
WHEREAS, George W. Bush and his wife, Isabel, decided to leave Missouri to search for new land in the Northwest and a better life, and to escape the racism pervasive at that time in his home state; and
WHEREAS, Isabel Bush was held in such high regard by the other members of the settlement party that he, along with Michael Troutman Simmons, co-led that settlement party; and
WHEREAS, upon reaching The Dalles, an advance party learned that a group in the Oregon Territory had enacted a “Black Exclusion Law,” under which African Americans were excluded from Oregon under pain of whipping; and
WHEREAS, George W. Bush decided to take his family north of the Columbia River and finally settled in the southern Puget Sound region, a year and a half after first setting out, in what was then a portion of North America under British control; and
WHEREAS, the settlers led by George W. Bush settled in an area of the southern Puget Sound which would become commonly known as Bush Prairie, where, along with help from Native American peoples in the area, they were able to live as farmers, traders, hunters, and gatherers of seafood from the Puget Sound; and
WHEREAS, George W. Bush had a reputation for generosity and could be relied upon by others to share food and seed grain, asking only if they were unable to pay that they would pass along similar aid to others in need; and
WHEREAS, that settlement led by George W. Bush played a role in establishing an American presence in what was then British-controlled North America, leading to further settlement of Washington and eventually becoming the Forty-Second State of the United States of America; and
WHEREAS, George W. Bush’s son, William Owen Bush, was a member of the first state Constitutional Convention, and was later elected to the first State Legislature, where he introduced the bill that established the institution now known as Washington State University in 1890; and
WHEREAS, the Bush family is honored throughout the state as one of our earliest pioneer families, and this state owes a debt of gratitude to the efforts of George W. Bush, his family, and those he led for having the courage to seek a new life and settle in our state;
NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Washington State Senate hereby recognizes and honors one of our founding settlers, George W. Bush, in honor of his contribution to our state, and deems it all the more appropriate to honor this great man during this month of February, Black History Month, 2001; and

I always said, years ago, that I hoped to live to the Year 2000—and I figured every day after that was a bonus day. I got up to four hundred and twenty-five days on Wednesday and I just wondered if that was going to be the last bonus day, but I have had five more and I am very thankful for that.

“We are going to go at ease in a minute to go to caucus and discuss matters in there. We will have a resolution to extend the cutoff from last Wednesday until today for getting bills out of the policy committees and until Thursday to get bills out of the two fiscal committees. PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Tim Sheldon: “Mr. President, a point of personal privilege. I didn’t want this issue that I am about to mention to go any longer. Obviously, we have had unforeseen delays, but in our district, we had a murder last week. A young lady, a fifteen year old high school student—a fellow student of my daughter at Sheldon High School—was killed allegedly by a repeat sex offender—a level three offender. In meetings over the weekend, it has become apparent that the notification process didn’t work. A lot of people in the neighborhood did not know that this individual was there. Addresses were wrong and law enforcement agencies on the reservation were not notified as they should have been.

Things happened and in my community this makes these facts the worst thing probably that I can ever remember happening in my community.

I’ve talked to the Senate majority leader and I want to mention it to the other members too, if we can work on this this session and in some way, given the difficulties that we have had, find some way of strengthening that notification act, so that people have a chance. Families need to know that there is a person—a potential killer living in their neighborhood. I would appreciate your support in working on this issue. The young student’s name is Jenny Osborne, a very wonderful little lady.”

Clarifying the definition of "persistent offender."

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Kline, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5013 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5013 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

Senator Costa moved that the following striking amendment by Senators Costa, McCaslin and Long be adopted:

strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that an ambiguity may exist regarding whether out-of-state convictions or convictions under prior Washington law, for sex offenses that are comparable to current Washington offenses, count when determining whether an offender is a persistent offender. This act is intended to clarify the legislature's intent that out-of-state convictions for comparable sex offenses and prior Washington convictions for comparable sex offenses shall be used to determine whether an offender meets the definition of a persistent offender.

Sec. 2. RCW 9.94A.030 and 2000 c 28 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) "Collect," or any derivative thereof, "collect and remit," or "collect and deliver," when used with reference to the department, means that the department, either directly or through a collection agreement authorized by RCW 9.94A.145, is responsible for monitoring and enforcing the offender's sentence with regard to the legal financial obligation, receiving payment thereof from the offender, and, consistent with current law, delivering daily the entire payment to the superior court clerk without depositing it in a departmental account.

(2) "Commission" means the sentencing guidelines commission.

(3) "Community corrections officer" means an employee of the department who is responsible for carrying out specific duties in supervision of sentenced offenders and monitoring of sentence conditions.

(4) "Community custody" means that portion of an offender's sentence of confinement in lieu of earned release time or imposed pursuant to RCW 9.94A.120(2)(b), 9.94A.650 through 9.94A.670, 9.94A.137, 9.94A.700 through 9.94A.715, or 9.94A.383, served in the community subject to controls placed on the offender's movement and activities by the department. For offenders placed on community custody for crimes committed on or after July 1, 2000, the department shall assess the offender's risk of reoffense and may establish and modify conditions of community custody, in addition to those imposed by the court, based upon the risk to community safety.

(5) "Community custody range" means the minimum and maximum period of community custody included as part of a sentence under RCW 9.94A.715, as established by the commission or the legislature under RCW 9.94A.040, for crimes committed on or after July 1, 2000.

(6) "Community placement" means that period during which the offender is subject to the conditions of community custody and/or postrelease supervision, which begins either upon completion of the term of confinement (postrelease supervision) or at such time as the offender is transferred to community custody in lieu of earned release. Community placement may consist of entirely community custody, entirely postrelease supervision, or a combination of the two.

(7) "Community service" means compulsory service, without compensation, performed for the benefit of the community by the offender.

(8) "Community supervision" means a period of time during which a convicted offender is subject to crime-related prohibitions and other sentence conditions imposed by a court pursuant to this chapter or RCW 16.52.200(6) or 46.61.524. Where the court finds that any offender has a chemical dependency that has contributed to his or her offense, the conditions of supervision may, subject to available resources, include treatment. For purposes of the interstate compact for out-of-state supervision of parolees and probationers, RCW 9.95.270, community supervision is the functional equivalent of probation and should be considered the same as probation by other states.

(9) "Confinement" means total or partial confinement.

(17) "Disposable earnings" means that part of the earnings of an offender remaining after the deduction from those earnings of any amount required by law to be withheld. For the purposes of this definition, "earnings" means compensation paid or payable for personal services, whether denominated as wages, salary, commission, bonuses, or otherwise, and, notwithstanding any other provision of law making the payments exempt from garnishment, attachment, or other process to satisfy a court-ordered legal financial obligation, specifically includes periodic payments pursuant to pension or retirement programs, or insurance policies of any type, but does not include payments made under Title 50 RCW, except as provided in RCW 50.40.020 and 50.40.050, or Title 74 RCW.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator West: "A point of personal privilege, Mr. President. Last night, the pride of the Pacific Northwest--The Cinderella Kids from Spokane, Gonzaga University--got their invitation again to the big dance, the March Madness. They defeated Santa Clara seventy to sixty-seven. There was a shot at the buzzer that almost tied the game. Fortunately, Santa Clara was off and Gonzaga won. This is the third year in a row that Gonzaga has won the West Coast Conference. That is unprecedented in the West Coast Conference. So, once again we are very proud of those young men from that Gonzaga team and the entire school. We don't know yet who they will be seeded against or where they will be, but I am sure that we will follow that closely and some of us may try and be absent one day if at all possible. I just thought Senator Betti Sheldon from Bremerton would be very interested in that news, since I think she and I are the only alumni on the floor."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Patterson: "A point of personal privilege, Mr. President. This arrangement is working and I think our staff has done a fantastic job. I understand that they were here over the weekend when we were all at home recuperating from the earthquake. They were all here working long hours to make it possible for the Washington State Senate to continue. I think it works and I think we should all thank these folks for all the time and effort they put into making this possible for the people of the state of Washington. I'm impressed. To the staff that gave up their weekend, I thank you."

MOTION

At 10:30 a.m., on motion of Senator Betti Sheldon, the Senate adjourned until 8:30 a.m., Wednesday, March 7, 2001.

(17) Organize and sponsor a statewide program to help court personnel, including judges, better understand the disease of alcoholism and other drug addiction and the uses of chemical dependency treatment programs.

Sec. 3. RCW 70.96A.140 and 1995 c 312 s 49 are each amended to read as follows:
(1) When a designated chemical dependency specialist receives information alleging that a person (is incapacitated) presents a likelihood of serious harm or is gravely disabled as a result of chemical dependency, the designated chemical dependency specialist, after investigation and evaluation of the specific facts alleged and of the reliability and credibility of the information, may file a petition for commitment of such person with the superior court district court, or in another court permitted by court rule.

If a petition for commitment is not filed in the case of a minor, the parent, guardian, or custodian who has custody of the minor may seek review of that decision made by the designated chemical dependency specialist in superior or district court. The parent, guardian, or custodian shall file notice with the court and provide a copy of the designated chemical dependency specialist's report.
If the designated chemical dependency specialist finds that the initial needs of such person would be better served by placement within the mental health system, the person shall be referred to either a county designated mental health professional or an evaluation and treatment facility as defined in RCW 71.05.020 or 71.34.020. If placement in a chemical dependency program is available and deemed appropriate, the petition shall allege that: The person is chemically dependent and presents a likelihood of serious harm or is gravely disabled by alcohol or drug addiction, or that the person has twice before in the preceding twelve months been admitted for detoxification, sobering services, or chemical dependency treatment pursuant to RCW 70.96A.110 or 70.96A.120, and is in need of a more sustained treatment program, or that the person is chemically dependent and has threatened, attempted, or inflicted physical harm on another and is likely to inflict physical harm on another unless committed. A refusal to undergo treatment, by itself, does not constitute evidence of lack of judgment as to the need for treatment. The petition shall be accompanied by a certificate of a licensed physician who has examined the person within five days before submission of the petition, unless the person whose commitment is sought has refused to submit to a medical examination, in which case the fact of refusal shall be alleged in the petition. The certificate shall set forth the licensed physician's findings in support of the allegations of the petition. A physician employed by the petitioning program or the department is eligible to be the certifying physician.
(2) Upon filing the petition, the court shall fix a date for a hearing no less than two and no more than seven days after the date the petition was filed unless the person petitioned against is presently detained in a program, pursuant to RCW 70.96A.120, 71.05.210, or 71.34.050, in which case the hearing shall be held within seventy-two hours of the filing of the petition: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That the above specified seventy-two hours shall be computed by excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays: PROVIDED FURTHER, That, the court may, upon motion of the person whose commitment is sought, or upon motion of petitioner with written permission of the person whose commitment is sought, or his or her counsel and, upon good cause shown, extend the date for the hearing. A copy of the petition and of the notice of the hearing, including the date fixed by the court, shall be served by the designated chemical dependency specialist on the person whose commitment is sought, his or her next of kin, a parent or his or her legal guardian if he or she is a minor, and any other person the court believes advisable. A copy of the petition and certificate shall be delivered to each person notified.
(3) At the hearing the court shall hear all relevant testimony, including, if possible, the testimony, which may be telephonic, of at least one licensed physician who has examined the person whose commitment is sought. Communications otherwise deemed privileged under the laws of this state are deemed to be waived in proceedings under this chapter when a court of competent jurisdiction in its discretion determines that the waiver is necessary to protect either the detained person or the public. The waiver of a privilege under this section is limited to records or testimony relevant to evaluation of the detained person for purposes of a proceeding under this chapter. Upon motion by the detained person, or on its own motion, the court shall examine a record or testimony sought by a petitioner to determine whether it is within the scope of the waiver.

The record maker shall not be required to testify in order to introduce medical, nursing, or psychological records of detained persons so long as the requirements of RCW 5.45.020 are met, except that portions of the record that contain opinions as to whether the detained person is chemically dependent shall be deleted from the records unless the person offering the opinions is available for cross-examination. The person shall be present unless the court believes that his or her presence is likely to be injurious to him or her; in this event the court may deem it appropriate to appoint a guardian ad litem to represent him or her throughout the proceeding. If deemed advisable, the court may examine the person out of courtroom. If the person has refused to be examined by a licensed physician, he or she shall be given an opportunity to be examined by a court appointed licensed physician. If he or she refuses and there is sufficient evidence to believe that the allegations of the petition are true, or if the court believes that more medical evidence is necessary, the court may make a temporary order committing him or her to the department for a period of not more than five days for purposes of a diagnostic examination.

(4) If after hearing all relevant evidence, including the results of any diagnostic examination, the court finds that grounds for involuntary commitment have been established by clear, cogent, and convincing proof, it shall make an order of commitment to an approved treatment program. It shall not order commitment of a person unless it determines that an approved treatment program is available and able to provide adequate and appropriate treatment for him or her.

(5) A person committed under this section shall remain in the program for treatment for a period of sixty days unless sooner discharged. At the end of the sixty-day period, he or she shall be discharged automatically unless the program, before expiration of the period, files a petition for or his or her recommitment upon the grounds set forth in subsection (1) of this section for a further period of ninety days unless sooner discharged.

(6) Upon the filing of a petition for recommitment it is not filed in the case of a minor, the parent, guardian, or custodian who has custody of the minor may seek review of that decision made by the designated chemical dependency specialist in superior or district court. The parent, guardian, or custodian shall file notice with the court and provide a copy of the treatment progress report.

If a person has been committed because he or she is chemically dependent and likely to inflict physical harm on another, the program shall apply for recommitment if after examination it is determined that the likelihood still exists.

(7) If a petition for recommitment is not filed in the case of a minor, the parent, guardian, or custodian who has custody of the minor may seek review of that decision made by the designated chemical dependency specialist in superior or district court. If the person is unable to obtain a licensed physician and requests examination by a physician, the court shall employ a licensed physician.

(8) A person committed to the custody of a program for treatment shall be discharged at any time before the end of the period for which he or she has been committed and he or she shall be discharged by order of the court if either of the following conditions are met:

(a) In case of a chemically dependent person committed on the grounds of likelihood of infliction of physical harm upon himself, herself, or another, the likelihood no longer exists; or further treatment will not be likely to bring about significant improvement in the person's condition, or treatment is no longer adequate or appropriate.

(b) In case of a chemically dependent person committed on the grounds of the need of treatment and incapacity, that the incapacity no longer exists.

(9) The court shall inform the person whose commitment or recommitment is sought of his or her right to contest the application, be represented by counsel at every stage of any proceedings relating to his or her commitment and recommitment, and have counsel appointed by the court or provided by the court, if he or she wants the assistance of counsel and is unable to obtain counsel. If the court believes that the person needs the assistance of counsel, the court shall require, by appointment if necessary, counsel for him or her regardless of his or her wishes. The person shall, if he or she is financially able, bear the costs of such legal service; otherwise such legal service shall be at public expense. The person whose commitment or recommitment is sought shall be informed of his or her right to be examined by a licensed physician of his or her choice. If the person is unable to obtain a licensed physician and requests examination by a physician, the court shall employ a licensed physician.

(10) A person committed under this chapter may at any time seek to be discharged from commitment by writ of habeas corpus in a court of competent jurisdiction.

(11) The venue for proceedings under this section is the county in which person to be committed resides or is present.

(12) When in the opinion of the professional person in charge of the program providing involuntary treatment under this chapter, the committed patient can be appropriately served by less restrictive treatment before expiration of the period of commitment, then the less restrictive care may be required as a condition for early release for a period which, when added to the initial treatment period, does not exceed the period of commitment. If the program designated to provide the less restrictive treatment is other than the program providing the initial involuntary treatment, the program so designated must agree in writing to assume such responsibility. A copy of the conditions for early release shall be given to the patient, the designated chemical dependency specialist of original commitment, and the court of original commitment. The program designated to provide less restrictive care may modify the conditions for continued release when the modifications are in the best interests of the patient. If the program providing less restrictive care and the designated chemical dependency specialist determine that a conditionally released patient is failing to adhere to the terms and conditions of his or her release, or that substantial deterioration in the patient's functioning has occurred, then the designated chemical dependency specialist shall notify the court of original commitment and request a hearing to be held no less than two and no more than seven days after the date of the request to determine whether or not the person should be returned to more restrictive care. The designated chemical dependency specialist shall file a petition with the court stating the facts substantiating the need for the hearing along with the treatment recommendations. The patient shall have the same rights with respect to notice, hearing, and counsel as for the original involuntary treatment proceedings. The issues to be determined at the hearing are whether the conditionally released patient did or did not adhere to the terms and conditions of his or her release to less restrictive care or that substantial deterioration of the patient's functioning has occurred and whether the conditions of release should be modified or the person should be returned to a more restrictive program. The hearing may be waived by the patient and his or her counsel and his or her guardian or conservator, if any, but may not be waived unless all such persons agree to the waiver. Upon waiver, the person may be returned for involuntary treatment or continued on conditional release on the same or modified conditions.

MOTION

Senator Constantine moved that the following amendment be adopted:

On page 56, after line 18, insert the following:

"Sec. 38. RCW 62A.9A-516 and 2000 c 250 s 9A-516 are each amended to read as follows:
WHAT CONSTITUTES FILING; EFFECTIVENESS OF FILING. (a) What constitutes filing. Except as otherwise provided in subsection (b) of this section, communication of a record to a filing office and tender of the filing fee or acceptance of the record by the filing office constitutes filing.
(b) Refusal to accept record; filing does not occur. Filing does not occur with respect to a record that a filing office refuses to accept because:
(1) The record is not communicated by a method or medium of communication authorized by the filing office;
(2) An amount equal to or greater than the applicable filing fee is not tendered or, in the case of a filing office described in RCW 62A.9A-501(a)(1), an amount equal to the applicable filing fee is not tendered;
(3) The filing office is unable to index the record because:
(A) In the case of an initial financing statement, the record does not provide a name for the debtor;
(B) In the case of an amendment or correction statement, the record:
(i) Does not identify the initial financing statement as required by RCW 62A.9A-512 or 62A.9A-518, as applicable; or
(ii) Identifies an initial financing statement whose effectiveness has lapsed under RCW 62A.9A-515;
(C) In the case of an initial financing statement that provides the name of a debtor identified as an individual or an amendment that provides a name of a debtor identified as an individual which was not previously provided in the financing statement to which the record relates, the record does not identify the debtor's last name; or
(D) In the case of a record filed or recorded in the filing office described in RCW 62A.9A-501(a)(1), the record does not provide a name for the debtor or a sufficient description of the real property to which (it)

(c) Rules applicable to subsection (b) of this section. For purposes of subsection (b) of this section:
(1) A record does not provide information if the filing office is unable to read or decipher the information; and
(2) A record that does not indicate that it is an amendment or identify an initial financing statement to which it relates, as required by RCW 62A.9A-514, is an initial financing statement.
(d) Refusal to accept record; record effective as filed record. A record that is communicated to the filing office with tender of the filing fee, but which the filing office refuses to accept for a reason other than one set forth in subsection (b) of this section, is effective as a filed record except as against a purchaser of the collateral which gives value in reasonable reliance upon the absence of the record from the files.

Sec. 39. RCW 62A.9A-520 and 2000 c 250 s 9A-520 are each amended to read as follows:

Acceptance and refusal to accept record. (a) Mandatory refusal to accept record. (AA) The filing office described in RCW 62A.9A-501(a)(2) shall refuse to accept a record for filing for a reason set forth in RCW 62A.9A-515(b) (4)(a). A filing office described in RCW 62A.9A-501(a)(1) shall refuse to accept a record for filing for a reason set forth in RCW 62A.9A-516(b)(1) through (4) and any filing office may refuse to accept a record for filing only for a reason set forth in RCW 62A.9A-516(b).
(b) Communication concerning refusal. If a filing office refuses to accept a record for filing, it shall communicate to the person that presented the record the fact and reason for the refusal and the date and time the record would have been filed had the filing office accepted it. The communication must be made at the time and in the manner prescribed by filing-office rule but, in the case of a filing office described in RCW 62A.9A-501(a)(2), in no event more than two business days after the filing office receives the record.
(c) When filed financing statement effective. A filed financing statement satisfying RCW 62A.9A-502 (a) and (b) is effective, even if the filing office is required to refuse to accept it for filing under subsection (a) of this section. However, RCW 62A.9A-33B applies to a filed financing statement providing information described in RCW 62A.9A-516(b)(5) which is incorrect at the time the financing statement is filed.
(d) Separate application to multiple debtors. If a record communicated to a filing office provides information that relates to more than one debtor, this part applies as to each debtor separately.

Sec. 40. RCW 62A.9A-516(b) and 2000 c 250 s 9A-516 are each amended to read as follows:

Information from filing office; sale or license of records. (a) Acknowledgment of filing written record. If a person files a written record requests an acknowledgment of the filing, the filing office shall send to the person an image of the record showing the number assigned to the record pursuant to RCW 62A.9A-519(a)(1) and the date and time of the filing of the record. However, if the person furnishes a copy of the record to the filing office, the filing office may instead:
(1) Note upon the copy the number assigned to the record pursuant to RCW 62A.9A-519(a)(1) and the date and time of the filing of the record; and
(2) Send the copy to the person.
(b) Acknowledgment of filing other record. If a person files a record other than a written record, the filing office shall communicate to the person an acknowledgment that provides:
(1) The information in the record;
(2) The number assigned to the record pursuant to RCW 62A.9A-519(a)(1); and
(3) The date and time of the filing of the record.
(c) Communication of requested information. The filing office shall communicate or otherwise make available in a record the following information to any person that requests it:
(1) Whether there is on file on a date and time specified by the filing office, but not a date earlier than three business days before the filing office receives the request, any financing statement that:
(A) Designates a particular debtor or, if the request so states, designates a particular debtor at the address specified in the request;
(B) Has not lapsed under RCW 62A.9A-515 with respect to all secured parties of record; and
(C) If the request so states, has lapsed under RCW 62A.9A-515 and a record of which is maintained by the filing office under RCW 62A.9A-522(a);
(2) The date and time of filing of each financing statement; and
(3) The information provided in each financing statement.
(d) Medium for communicating information. In complying with its duty under subsection (c) of this section, the filing office may communicate information in any medium. However, if requested, the filing office shall communicate information by issuing a record that can be admitted into evidence in the courts of this state without extrinsic evidence of its authenticity.
(e) Timeliness of filing office performance. The filing office described in RCW 62A.9A-501(a)(2) shall perform the acts required by subsections (a) through (d) of this section at the time and in the manner prescribed by filing-office rule, but not later than two business days after the filing office receives the request.
(f) Public availability of records. At least weekly, the filing office described in RCW 62A.9A-501(a)(2) shall offer to sell or license to the public on a nonexclusive basis, in bulk, copies of all records filed in under this part, in every medium from time to time available to the filing office. If information provided pursuant to this section includes a list of individuals, disclosure of the list is specifically authorized."

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

Debate ensued.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Patterson: "I rise to a point of personal privilege, Mr. President. Members of the Senate, I want to share with you some very sad news from my legislative district. At 1:20 this morning, a young city of Des Moines police officer--a young man in his twenties--stopped four individuals along Old 99 and he was shot to death, about five miles from my house. He radioed in and he was found by back-ups that came. He had a wonderful record in the city of Des Moines. He was greatly respected; he was known and liked by just about everyone in the city there. He showed tremendous skills as a police officer and as a human being. I want you to know that the response from my community has been tremendous. The city of Kent police department is leading the investigation. I wanted to ask the Senate if you would please say a prayer for this police officer and for his wife and two year old child."

MOMENT OF SILENCE

The members of the Senate stood for a moment of silence to remember the slain city of Des Moines police officer and for his wife and two year old child.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Deccio: “Senator McAuliffe, I am looking at the summary of the bill. It says, ‘Each school district must develop a policy prohibiting, bullying, intimidation or harassment of students.’ Then further down, its says, ‘Schools and school districts are also encouraged, but not required, to develop anti-bullying task forces, programs and initiatives that involve students, teachers, parents, administrators and other community members.’ Aren’t you taking away the last part of this with what you are trying to institute in the first past of the summary?” Senator McAuliffe: “I don’t think I am following your question. What the bill says--”

Senator Deccio: “Would you like--”

Senator McAuliffe: “Let’s go from the bill. What the bill says is that schools and school districts are encouraged to form task forces, programs and other initiatives involving school staff, students, administrators, parents and law enforcement. What this says it actually is preventing of harassment, bullying and intimidation. There are programs out there and there are ways to--

Senator Deccio: "What my point is they are encouraged, but the bill doesn't says that they have to."

Senator McAuliffe: "No, it does not, but it goes on to say, 'That to the extend that funds are appropriated, the school district shall do training.' They will do employee training, they shall also help students to understand. Does that help?"

Senator Deccio: "You are missing the whole point. The bill does not require anything. It is strictly voluntary. I think I have to agree with Senator Honeyford in what good is the bill if it does not require something to be done?"

Senator McAuliffe: "I am sorry. I misunderstood you. Let's go back to the first part of the bill. The bill requires that school districts put in place a policy that prohibits students from harassing, bullying and intimidating other students. That is a policy that they must pass--each school board must develop their own."

Senator Deccio: "I still haven't had the last part of my question addressed, but thank you."

Further debate ensued.

I believe, but in my late stages of life, I could be incorrect, but anyone can correct me, but I believe that was Senator Hewitt's first speech. Is that correct, Senator? You know the long-standing tradition that because you make your first speech, you will also make your first contribution to all of us on both sides of the aisle. You have to be fair and distribute the same food to the same people. Do you have anything to say to this august body as what type of gift we might expect to receive, Senator Hewitt--tomorrow?"

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hewitt: "A point of personal privilege, Mr. President. Before we get too serious this morning, I would like to take this opportunity to enlighten you of what is in your package. It is at the behest of the great Senator--the elder Senator from the Fourth District. First, you will find a Lewis and Clark brochure. In 1805--October of 1805--Meriwether Lewis and Captain William Clark traveled through all five counties in the Sixteenth District. In fact, the city of Clarkston is named after William Clark.

"Also, in your pack, you will find a 'Save our Dams' sticker and there is some symbolism behind that. I am hoping that we have those four dams on the Lower Snake River--the Lower Granite, The Little Goose, Lower Monumental and the Ice Harbor Dam and they provide irrigation, navigation, recreation and economic vitalization to the district. I am hoping that the Senators from the Eleventh, Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh and Forty-third Districts would proudly put these on their cars and maybe the city council could see the light.

"Also, in your pack, you should find a scratch pad from Key Technology. It is an industry in Walla Walla that is a leader in the world. They provide optical scan food processing equipment and if you have ever had a McDonald's French Fry, it has gone across the path of this screening process. You will also find some Wine Away, an insect repellent additive for paint. This was developed in Walla Walla. It is produced in Walla Walla and shipped from Walla Walla by my golf partner and he does very well with it.

"The gift from the Marcus Whitman Hotel--it is not a new hotel--it was build in 1928 and it was originally purchased by an entrepreneur in Walla Walla. It has been completely revitalized right up to the hand painted ceilings and he has something close to thirty million dollars in this hotel now, so if you ever get an opportunity to come to Walla Walla, I invite you to stay at the Marcus Whitman Hotel. It is absolutely a tremendous treat.

"The Walla Walla Area Chamber of Commerce, which I happen to be the executive director, sponsors or produces a Walla Walla Hot Air Balloon Stampede every year. This is the twenty-seventh year. It is the oldest balloon stampe in the Pacific Northwest and you have a champagne glass with a pin on the inside of it. I am sorry that the President of the Senate is not here this morning. I was not able--I didn't have enough of the pads to go around but in speaking with his staff, I understand that he would rather enjoy some libation than take notes, so he has two glasses instead of a pad.
"Also, in your packs--I had to take them out unfortunately--there were tickets in your packs--an envelope, compliments of the Walla Walla Fair and Frontier Days, where my wife is the Executive Director. Somebody or someone passed some law some years ago that you can't accept anything over fifty dollars. So, unfortunately, this gift came out of the pack. I have called my wife and she is coming to Olympia to hand these out to each one of you personally, so it does not break the Ethics Law. So you will have rodeo tickets for the largest night rodeo on earth.

"You have a Walla Walla Sweet Onion pen. The Walla Walla Sweet Onions were brought from Italy in the nineteen hundreds. They only grow in the Walla Walla Valley, because of the type of soil. They are tremendous onions and you can eat them like an apple without crying and they are tremendous. I also want to talk to you about the four colleges in the Walla Walla Valley that are in the Sixteenth District. We have Columbia Basin College which is in Pasco, the Walla Walla Community College, which is in Walla Walla and Walla Walla College, which is a four year private college, also in Walla Walla, and then we have Whitman College, which is a four year private college. Three of the Senators in this room are graduates--Finkbeiner, Johnson and Thibaudeau, so they all had a little history of Walla Walla.

"Now for the fun part. There is a green--whatever we are calling this thing--gift certificate--attached to your bags as well. You can choose one of the three following: You can choose a great bottle of Walla Walla Wine. We have thirty commercial wineries in Walla Walla. They are all world-class, but we have three or four that are so well classed that they are unaccessible--you can't get the wine--unless maybe you are a Senator from Walla Walla. So, there is some available. You also could receive a gift box of Walla Walla Sweet Onions like in late July or excuse me late June or early July, if you choose that. Those will be shipped to you.

"Also, last week, I met with Mr. Lehman, the Secretary of Corrections, to see about an offer for a one night overstay at the Walla Walla State Penitentiary--and we actually have been able to offer a one night overstay at the Washington State Penitentiary. It is running at a hundred and twenty four percent of capacity. It holds about eighteen hundred members and we can't guarantee who your roommate will be, but there are a couple of guys there that are willing to take you. I actually--I don't know--if I should mention this, but I actually have one Senator who has taken me up on it. It is a little more serious that I thought.

"With that, I do want to thank you for allowing me to be in this body. I am very humbled and very proud to be here and I am hoping now that the good Senator from the Fourth District would see me as a Senator instead of someone who bears gifts. So, thank you very much."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McCaslin: "A point of personal privilege. I offer a sincere apology to the body for letting him know that was his first speech. I hope and pray that this is his last one."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator West: "A point of personal privilege, Madam President. Just a note of caution to the good Senator from Walla Walla, you know some of us have come to appreciate the fact that you didn't speak at all for weeks. We didn't realize how much we appreciated that until you just showed us. A couple more weeks of being quiet back there might be nice. Senator Johnson suggests six weeks would be just fine."

WHEREAS, Joanne "Obie" Alger was a much loved and dedicated staff member of the Senate and Legislative families; and

WHEREAS, She supervised the Legislature's toll-free hotline for nearly twenty years, ensuring a critical and caring connection between the citizens of Washington State and their elected officials; and
WHEREAS, Joanne left us too suddenly and far too soon on Friday, December 15, 2000, leaving family and friends saddened to have lost her, but blessed to have known her at all; and
WHEREAS, Her small stature seemed out of proportion to her big heart, endless wit, and enormous reservoir of Irish fortitude; and
WHEREAS, Joanne was blessed with a large, loving and talented family, including three sons, two daughters, and twelve beautiful grandchildren; and
WHEREAS, Appreciating the combination of skill, chance and competition, Joanne loved playing bridge as a Life Master of the American Contract Bridge League, and also enjoyed the camaraderie and fun with her bi-monthly Pinochle group; and
WHEREAS, Joanne was an avid and patient baseball fan and will be looking down when the Mariners finally win the World Series; and
WHEREAS, We will all miss her deeply, but are comforted by the knowledge that our loss is Heaven's gain;

NOW, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that the Washington State Senate mourn the loss of this wonderful person, but cherish her memory and extend its thanks for her dedicated service to this institution and state; and
BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that copies of this resolution be transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to Joanne Alger's family and the Legislative Hotline.

MOTION

Senator Snyder: “Thank you, Mr. President. I move adoption of the resolution. It is a great honor and privilege for me to stand here today and say a few words about Obie. I was Secretary of the Senate when she was first hired, and I worked a lot closer with her then than I did after I became a member, because our roles changed a little bit. She was an inspiration to a lot of people. I had a niece that worked in the hotline during the session over the years and she had a great deal of admiration for Obie and for her leadership and the friendship that she provided to her, and for the love that she showed for everybody. With the employees, I think, there wasn’t a more favorite person than Obie. I’ve never heard anybody utter a bad word about her and I think she was an inspiration to all of us. She carried out her duties on the hotline with the utmost efficiency and it is indeed a pleasure for me to stand here today and urge adoption of this resolution.”

REMARKS BY SENATOR McAULIFFE

Senator McAuliffe: “Thank you, Mr. President. I stand to support this resolution, recognizing the years of service Joanne Obie Alger provided for the people in the state of Washington. The hotline is the voice that connects our people to their government--your constituents and my constituents. Sometimes they just want to send a message; sometimes they’re angry and frustrated. Joanne provided the culture of caring and respect within the hotline room. I visited that room a few years ago. Have any of you ever been to the hotline room? It is a large room with chairs and many of the employees have on earphones. People sit for hours and listen to the people that call in. It takes a big heart, a sense of humor, and a lot of caring to work for the hotline. So today, I would like to stand and recognize Joanne Obie Alger and all of the people in that hotline room and to honor their work. I ask you to join me.”

REMARKS BY SENATOR OKE

Senator Oke: “Thank you, Mr. President. I, too, stand in honor of this resolution for Joanne. Joanne was a personal friend of mine. Quite often we had hugs. I like to hug and she was a hugger, and I know God is now hugging Joanne. She was a connection for a lot of us for our constituents to the Legislature. The only time some folks get to feel that they’re talking to the Legislature is their calls to the hotline. I have never heard a complaint from any of my constituents directed to those folks that run that hotline system for us. They are always so pleasant, and they share the right information to us--and allow us to get back to them. Joanne, we love you and God bless you.”

REMARKS BY SENATOR HARGROVE

Senator Hargrove: “Thank you, Mr. President. Well, the only thing I would like to add to that is that sometimes I think the hotline is a little too efficient, because I get way too many hotlines sometimes. It was very interesting here to see--I think it was one of her grandchildren--run down the front here a minute ago. I’m sure she would be very pleased with that. It reminds me of a session about sixteen years ago in the House, where my two year old ran down the floor--a little red-head. He’s nineteen years old now and we remind him of it all the time. So, I’m sure, young man, you’ve made a little piece of history here, and I’m sure your grandmother would be very proud of that. We’ll miss her dearly and we would just like to support this resolution.”

REMARKS BY SENATOR HAUGEN
Senator Haugen: “Thank you, Mr. President. Well, I too want to stand and support this resolution. For a number of years, my office was right next door to the hotline, so I knew very well what was going on there. I can tell you that it’s not surprising to see that Joanne has a very large family because, in essence the hotline was like a large family--this large family--and I will miss her dearly. Everytime I get a hotline today, I think about those people who work so hard for us. I think we often do not realize how they are there all the time. We were here, but they were always there getting those messages and it did run very efficiently because of Joanne. I know that it will continue to run without Joanne, but it will be with a saddened heart by many of those wonderful people who work there. I’m just privileged to stand here today and say ‘thanks’ to the family for the sacrifice of her working here. We all know as people who work and women who work outside of the home, that you do make a sacrifice to your family, but she was the kind of person who had more than enough love for you and for us, too. Thank you very much.”

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator McCaslin: “Mr. President, a point of parliamentary inquiry. Senate Rule 45 (1) requires committees to either provide or vote to waive five day’s notice before hearing a measure. Mr. President, I ask, assuming the first and only time a committee considers a measure is during executive session, does the five day notice rule apply? If not, I am concerned that committees could pass bills without any public notice whatsoever.”

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: “In ruling on the point of parliamentary inquiry raised by Senator McCaslin concerning whether the five day notice requirement in Senate Rule 45 (1) applies to bills in committee considered for the first time in executive session. It is not the President’s practice to issue advisory opinions of hypothetical facts. Each point of order must be judged on its individual merits. Although the President will wait for a point of order on actual facts to issue a binding opinion on this issue, the President might suggest that the safest course for committee chairs is to adhere to the five day rule—either give or waive five days notice as the case may be—for bills considered for the first time in executive session.”

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: “In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Thibaudeau to the scope and object of the amendment by Senators Stevens, Deccio, Oke, Benton, Long, Morton, McCaslin, Sheahan, Rossi, Zarelli, Swecker, Hochstatter, Roach and McDonald on page 1, line 17, to Senate Bill No. 5186, the President finds that Senate Bill No. 5186 is a measure which provides that the Department of Social and Health Services may seek and implement a federal waiver to expand eligibility for family planning service funding. The measure defines the kinds of family planning services which are eligible to receive funding, including sterilization and contraception services. The amendment would refine eligibility criteria by excluding from participation those organizations that provide family planning services which include abortion services or referrals.

In reference to Senator Thibaudeau’s argument that the amendment would merely restate federal law as it now exists, the President notes that whether an amendment duplicates existing law is not relevant to question of scope and object. The President, therefore, rules that the point of order is not well taken and the amendment on page 1, line 17, to be in order.”

The President ruled that the amendment by Senators Stevens, Deccio, Oke, Benton, Long, Morton, McCaslin, Sheahan, Rossi, Zarelli, Swecker, Hochstatter, Roach and McDonald on page 1, line 17, to Senate Bill No. 5186 to be in order.

“RCW 43.35.035 (Initiative 601) concerns the raising of ‘state revenues.’ The building code council account is a dedicated account and is not appropriated under the state general fund budget.

“The President, therefore, rules that the final passage of Senate Bill No. 5352 requires a simple majority vote.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Patterson: “A point of personal privilege, Mr. President. Two days ago, I stood and asked the Senate to say a prayer for the police officer that was shot and murdered in my little city of Des Moines, Washington. Today, I want to stand and ask you folks to say another prayer, because today four more people in the city of Des Moines were found shot to death in their home. I don’t have all the information. I understand that they were young people—teenagers. I don’t have any more details, but the shooting took place at two hundred and twenty-sixth street, which is right up the street from Mt. Rainier High School where my children go to school. I am really hurting and I would appreciate if you would all consider saying a prayer for these childrens’ families and for my city of Des Moines and for us all.”

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Zarelli: "Senator Prentice, my question would be, because we are on school grounds, and we would be selling tickets, and if this bill passes and is signed into law, it would be considered gambling, what is the legality of selling a raffle ticket then to a minor? If a ticket was sold to a fellow student and we consider this as gambling, would that then be an illegal activity?"

Senator Prentice: "I know that this has been worked out with the Gambling Commission. I remember that they addressed this. Senator Snyder, can you help me out on this on? I know that they worked this out very carefully. I guess I would like to remind people that gambling is already present in many churches. It certainly is available and, in fact, that is why children are allowed in bingo parlors. In fact, when the Gambling Commission first took over in 1973, one of the first regulations that they didn't let us have--and I was a PTA mother then--was that they didn't allow us to have cakewalks and things like that. I know that they no longer are that rigid and they have approved this type of activity."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Fairley: "A parliamentary inquiry, Mr. President. When we’ve discussed gambling before, we’ve said that bills that add new forms of gambling or authorized added appearances require a sixty percent vote. My inquiry is does this require a sixty percent vote on final passage? This bill allows race tracks to have more hours of simulcasting on race days. Right now, they can do only one card on a race day and this is eight to ten races, so this bill would allow almost unlimited simulcasting of races on race days and more opportunity for people to place bets and therefore more gambling. I would argue that adding occurrences of simulcasting under past precedence that we have had in this body, would be an expansion of gambling and therefore require a sixty percent vote."

Debate ensued.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: “In ruling upon the point of inquiry by Senator Fairley concerning the number of votes necessary to pass Substitute Senate Bill No. 5407, the President finds that the measure would remove restrictions on the number of simulcast races that may be imported by horse racing associations on live race days. Because the measure would permit increased occurrences of gambling, the President rules that a sixty percent vote (thirty votes) is required on final passage in accordance with Article II, Section 24 of the State Constitution.

“Senator West is correct that tracks already have the prior authority under the law to adjust their live and dark day race schedules to increase the number of simulcast races they may import. However, for purposes of this inquiry, the President’s analysis must start with the fact that tracks do not have the prior authority to offer unlimited simulcasts on a given live race day.”

The President ruled that Substitute Senate Bill No. 5407 would require a sixty percent majority vote on final passage of the bill.

Would you comment on your view regarding the consequences or the possible constitutional violation of this issue?”

Senator Patterson: “Yes, I will be glad to comment on that, because we were very much concerned that be addressed in the legislation. A person who intentionally files a false report, according to this legislation, is guilty of a misdemeanor. I will read the actual language from the bill. Senator Kohl-Wells changed her vote to ‘aye’ to pass the bill. See the President’s remarks regarding his vote on not voting to break the tie vote.

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT REGARDING HIS NOT VOTING TO BREAK THE TIE ON SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5301

President Owen: “Since the issue came up and the potential for additional tie votes is significant this session, I wish to submit the following: The Senate cannot pass a rule that conflicts with the State Constitution. The President believes that the Constitution is very explicit in Article 2, Section 10, when it says: ‘ Each house shall elect its own officers; and when the lieutenant governor shall not attend as president, or shall act as governor, the senate shall choose a temporary president. When presiding, the lieutenant governor shall have the deciding vote in case of an equal division of the senate."

"My comments during the brief time we had a tie vote on final passage were that there was a conflict in the Constitution on the President's responsibility to break the tie and indicated I would not vote. The President not voting on final passage has been the tradition, but given the opportunity, the President believes the issue should be tested. In other words, the President believes the practice of the President of not voting on final passage when there is a tie vote is potentially a shirking of his constitutional duty. This issue became mute when the vote changed."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Deccio: "A personal privilege, Mr. President. That is okay. The House will kill it in the House."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hochstatter: “Senator Kohl-Welles, it says, ‘It also expands permissible use of social security numbers to include research, assessments, accountability and transcripts.’ Does this, in fact, restrict the use of social security numbers or are we granting a broader use of social security numbers by this final sentence in the directory here?”

Senator Kohl-Welles: “Thank you for your question, Senator Hochstatter. In fact, the bill does limit the use of social security numbers beyond what is the current practice. By expanding the list of what is allowable, we are simply keeping with what the State Board for Community and Technical Colleges and the Higher Education Coordinating Board and the Legislature, itself, engages in in terms of keeping track of students when they go from the community colleges to the four year institutions. When we require the institutions to submit enrollment data and accountability information to us, this provides the means to do it. A very important element of this, in practice currently, is that any student can request that his or her number not be used, even for these uses. The state boards and institutions honor these requests and those students are not part of the data collection.”

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Hargrove, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5413 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5413 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

Senator Hargrove moved that the following amendment by Senators Hargrove, Stevens and Long be adopted: Beginning on page 9, line 35, strike all of section 8 and insert the following:

"Sec. 8. RCW 13.34.110 and 2000 c 122 s 11 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The court shall hold a fact-finding hearing on the petition and, unless the court dismisses the petition, shall make written findings of fact, stating the reasons therefor. The rules of evidence shall apply at the fact-finding hearing and the parent, guardian, or legal custodian of the child shall have all of the rights provided in RCW 13.34.090(1). The petitioner shall have the burden of establishing by a preponderance of the evidence that the child is dependent within the meaning of RCW 13.34.030.

(2)(a) The parent, guardian, or legal custodian of the child may waive his or her right to a fact-finding hearing by stipulating or agreeing to the entry of an order of dependency establishing that the child is dependent within the meaning of RCW 13.34.030. The parent, guardian, or legal custodian may also stipulate or agree to an order of disposition pursuant to RCW 13.34.130 at the same time. Any stipulated or agreed order of dependency or disposition must be signed by the parent, guardian, or legal custodian and his or her attorney, unless the parent, guardian, or legal custodian has waived his or her right to an attorney in open court, and by the petitioner and the attorney, guardian ad litem, or court-appointed special advocate for the child, if any. If the department of social and health services is not the petitioner and is required by the order to supervise the placement of the child or provide services to any party, the department must also agree to and sign the order.

(b) Entry of any stipulated or agreed order of dependency or disposition is subject to approval by the court. The court shall receive and review a social study before entering a stipulated or agreed order and shall consider whether the order is consistent with the allegations of the dependency petition and the problems that necessitated the child's placement in out-of-home care. No social file or social study may be considered by the court in connection with the fact-finding hearing or prior to factual determination, except as otherwise admissible under the rules of evidence.

(c) Prior to the entry of any stipulated or agreed order of dependency, the parent, guardian, or legal custodian of the child and his or her attorney may appear before the court and must inquire and establish on the record that:

(i) The parent, guardian, or legal custodian understands the terms of the order or orders he or she has signed, including his or her responsibility to participate in remedial services as provided in any disposition order.

(ii) The parent, guardian, or legal custodian understands that entry of the order starts a process that could result in the filing of a petition to terminate his or her relationship with the child within the time frames required by state and federal law if he or she fails to comply with the terms of the dependency or disposition orders or fails to substantially remedy the problems that necessitated the child's placement in out-of-home care.

(iii) The parent, guardian, or legal custodian understands that the entry of the stipulated or agreed order of dependency is an admission that the child is dependent within the meaning of RCW 13.34.030 and shall have the same legal effect as a finding by the court that the child is dependent by at least a preponderance of the evidence, and that the parent, guardian, or legal custodian shall not have the right in any subsequent proceeding for termination of parental rights or dependency guardianship pursuant to this chapter or nonparental custody pursuant to chapter 26.10 RCW to challenge or dispute the fact that the child was found to be dependent; and

(iv) The parent, guardian, or legal custodian knowingly and willingly stipulated and agreed to and signed the order or orders, without duress, and without misrepresentation or fraud by any other party.

If a parent, guardian, or legal custodian fails to appear before the court after stipulating or agreeing to entry of an order of dependency, the court may enter the order upon a finding that the parent, guardian, or legal custodian had actual notice of the order necessary to appear and chose not to do so. The court may require other parties to the order, including the attorney for the parent, guardian, or legal custodian, to appear and advise the court of the parent's, guardian's, or legal custodian's notice of the right to appear and understanding of the factors specified in this subsection.

(3) Immediately after the entry of the findings of fact, the court shall hold a disposition hearing, unless there is good cause for continuing the matter for up to fourteen days. If good cause is shown, the case may be continued for longer than fourteen days. Notice of the time and place of the continued hearing may be given in open court. If notice in open court is not given to a party, that party shall be notified by certified mail of the time and place of any continued hearing. Unless there is reasonable cause to believe the health, safety, or welfare of the child would be jeopardized or efforts to reunite the parent and child would be hindered, the court shall direct the department to notify those adult persons who: ((44)(a) Are related by blood or marriage to the child in the following degrees: Parent, grandparent, brother, sister, stepparent, stepbrother, stepsister, uncle, or aunt; (45)) (b) Are known to the department as having been in contact with the family or child within the past twelve months; and ((46)) (c) Would be an appropriate placement for the child. Reasonable cause to dispense with notification to a parent under this section must be proved by clear, cogent, and convincing evidence.

The parties need not appear at the disposition hearing if the parties, their attorneys, the guardian ad litem, and court-appointed special advocates, if any, are all in agreement. (The court shall receive and review a social study before entering an order based on a finding. No social file or social study may be considered by the court in connection with the fact-finding hearing or prior to factual determination, except as otherwise admissible under the rules of evidence.)"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Roach: "Senator Patterson, I am looking at section one (d) and it says, ‘A person who initially files a false report under this section is guilty of a misdemeanor and is liable for damages that approximately result.’ My question is if a person can report anonymously, except for relatives, as we just amended the bill, how would the victim in this scenario begin in anyway, to suggest that there had been some mischief involved?"
Senator Patterson: “Senator Roach, the answer to that is that they would go about the process of determining whether or not there had been mischief in the same way that anyone would in our society who was under the impression that they were being falsely accused of anything.”

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Winsley: “Senator Patterson, what is in this bill that is not in current law, because I have had a lot of constituents that have lost their license and can’t get it again. Usually, it is the children who have called the Department of Licensing and said, ‘Don’t renew Mother’s or Grandma’s license,’ and they keep that confidential. Then they usually call their legislator and say, ‘I don’t understand it, but they could claim that I have to take a test and they won’t tell me why I can’t get my license renewed.’ In many cases, I have said, ‘You know what, I think your son or your daughter has called.’ In fact, I had to tell one lady after about the fortieth call who actually took her license away from her. It is already current law, so what is the big problem?”

Senator Patterson: “This bill provides a way for professionals to confidentially recommend that someone who they deem to be incompetent take the test again. The professionals are listed in the bill there - psychiatrists--”

Senator Winsley: “Currently, they are not kept confidential?”

Senator Patterson: “Currently, they cannot do that.”

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "In ruling on the parliamentary inquiry raised by Senator Benton concerning the number of votes necessary to pass Substitute Senate Bill No. 5240, the President finds that the measure permits the Department of Ecology to raise vehicle emissions inspection fees from $15 to $26. Current law requires that the department set the fee at the minimum whole dollar amount necessary to cover its administration costs and the cost of contractor charges. Current law also requires that any surplus be deposited in the state general fund.

"Because the department must round up the inspection fee to the nearest whole dollar amount, there has existed a surplus for general fund purposes of forty cents to ninety-four cents per fee in six of the last eight years. Although Substitute Senate Bill No. 5240 will allow the department to raise the overall inspection fee to cover the costs of the program, the department will still round up the fee to the nearest whole dollar amount. The amount which is deposited in the general fund will not increase over historical levels and ‘state revenues’ will not be raised under RCW 43.135.035. For this reason the President rules that Substitute Senate Bill No. 5240 requires a simple majority vote on final passage."

The President ruled that Substitute Senate Bill No. 5240 would require a simple majority vote on final passage of the bill.

Safety and health rules related to musculoskeletal disorders.
The bill was read the second time.

MOTION
Senator Winsley moved that the following striking amendment by Senators Winsley and Rasmussen be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. It is the intent of the legislature to expedite the minimization of the risk of employees incurring musculoskeletal disorders. The legislature recognizes that prior to the adoption of the state's ergonomics rule, musculoskeletal disorder injuries were reduced more than twenty-eight percent over a seven-year period through voluntary efforts by employers and employees, and that more research, information, and education on reducing musculoskeletal disorders will greatly facilitate further reduction of these disorders. The legislature recognizes that both employers and employees have a number of existing incentives, both monetary and nonmonetary, to reduce musculoskeletal disorders, but that most employers and employees are not informed about what practices, products, and equipment are known to reduce these disorders. The legislature recognizes the wide diversity in cost estimates to comply with the state's rules, and the need to carefully analyze the costs to comply with the rules by employers and government agencies and the need to determine how to maximize reduction of musculoskeletal disorders in the most cost-effective way. The legislature further recognizes that there are many questions and concerns about implementation of the state's rules. Therefore, the legislature wishes to accelerate ergonomics awareness education. The legislature also wishes to ensure that pilot demonstration projects for various industries, as contained in the department's implementation plan for the agency's rules to reduce musculoskeletal disorder, are carried out for key industries; that alternative musculoskeletal disorder reduction techniques can be tried; that certain information is obtained from all projects; and that the projects are initiated and completed so information to reduce injuries can be distributed as soon as possible, and the legislature and all interested parties can review the results of the projects. The legislature also wishes to have the joint legislative audit and review committee review the rules adopted by the department of labor and industries, and the results of the pilot demonstration projects, and make recommendations regarding the rules, alternatives to the rules, and the need for implementation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 49.17 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The legislature directs the department to accelerate the dissemination of ergonomics awareness education to employers and employees to the maximum extent possible within existing resources. The department shall make any necessary adjustments to the use of their resources to produce musculoskeletal disorder prevention and awareness education for employers and employees that is written, on-line, or available through other media, as determined to be cost-effective by the department, at the earliest date possible for use on a voluntary basis. The department shall obtain input from employers and employees from large and small businesses and units of government in preparing these materials.

(2) The department shall carry out comprehensive pilot demonstration projects on the technological and economic feasibility of implementing the rules adopted on May 26, 2000, by the director of the department of labor and industries and codified as WAC 296-62-05101 through 296-62-05176. The department shall, at the earliest date possible and within existing resources, establish pilot demonstration projects for industries first required to come into compliance with the rule. Demonstration projects for each of these industries shall include at least five employers with twenty-five or fewer employees, five employers with twenty-five to fifty employees, and five employers with over fifty employees, who volunteer to participate and who shall not be subject to any enforcement action as a result of the project. The department may establish more than one pilot demonstration project for each industry as it deems necessary. The pilot demonstration projects for these industries shall be completed, to the maximum extent possible, by July 1, 2003. The goal of each pilot demonstration project shall be:

(a) To test the implementation of the rule as adopted and based on a set of draft practices agreed to by the participants with the advice of the department, and to report at a minimum on the following:
   (i) The cost of implementation including but not limited to monetary expenditures, both direct and indirect, and time for participating employers;
   (ii) The ease of implementation and any implementation problems participants identify;
   (iii) Any recommendations participants have to modify the rule;
   (iv) The cost to the department to provide necessary technical assistance to employers to assist participants to implement the rule; and
   (v) The effectiveness of the rule in reducing musculoskeletal disorders; and
(b) The results of allowing some participants, if they choose, to test alternatives to the rule in an effort to reduce musculoskeletal disorders and to provide the following information on each alternative tried:
   (i) A clear description of the alternative;
   (ii) The cost of implementation including but not limited to monetary expenditures, both direct and indirect, and time for participating employers;
   (iii) The ease of implementation and any implementation problems participants identify;
   (iv) Any recommendations participants have to modify the alternative;
   (v) The cost to the department to provide necessary technical assistance to employers to assist them in implementing the alternative; and
   (vi) The effectiveness of the alternative in reducing musculoskeletal disorders.

(3) To the extent possible within existing resources, the department of labor and industries shall provide periodic information to the industries identified in subsection (2) of this section and any other industries deemed appropriate by the department on practices, equipment, and products that have been identified by the department as being effective in reducing musculoskeletal disorders.

(4) This section expires June 30, 2004.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 44.28 RCW to read as follows:

The joint legislative audit and review committee shall conduct a review of the rule as adopted and the results of all demonstration projects arranged by the department to assess and make recommendations, including but not limited to:

(1) Review of the literature regarding the scientific justification for the rules, the expectation that the rules will reduce musculoskeletal disorders, and the degree to which the rules would reduce injury;
(2) The accuracy of the cost-benefit analyses prepared for the department rule;
(3) The ease of understanding and complying with the rule, identification of ambiguities and difficulties encountered during the demonstration projects to implement the rule, and recommendations to maximize understanding and minimize ambiguities and confusion for employers in complying with the rule;
(4) Ease of implementation of the rule based on the results of the pilot projects and recommendations on how to facilitate easier implementation and reduce costs while maintaining or increasing the reduction of musculoskeletal disorders;

The intent of sections 5 through 11 of this act is to benefit, in the broadest sense possible, Washington workers and employers, especially those who are in small business and may lack the injury and illness prevention resources that large companies may possess. The department may use appropriated industrial insurance funds to accomplish the purpose of sections 5 through 11 of this act. Funding for this program will be taken from the reserves of the medical aid fund that are in excess of actuarial needs.

The department shall attempt to ensure that best practice grants, in particular, are adequately represented in the final awarding of grants. (3) Applicants for grants may form partnerships with educational institutions and other organizations. (8) In order to encourage the broadest level of participation, no grant application shall be approved that proposes work that cannot be completed during the current application year or biennium. Applicants that seek additional funding in subsequent years will be eligible to submit new applications only if they have successfully completed the work for which they were previously funded, and these new applications will compete with all other applicants.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. (1) The director shall appoint a safety and health impact grant review committee that will be a subcommittee of the WISHA advisory committee. NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. (1) The safety and health impact grant review committee, in cooperation with the director, shall develop grant application procedures and approval criteria. The director shall ensure the proper administrative support to successfully monitor grant recipients for compliance with grant criteria and all other procedures under the grant program. The director in cooperation with the safety and health impact grant review committee shall implement procedures and criteria for grant approval, including procedures for suspension or revocation of grants to recipients failing to comply with grant criteria established under the authority of this section.

(2) The director shall approve only those grant applications and their recommended acceptance conditions as forwarded by the safety and health impact grant review committee, unless the director has a compelling and substantive reason to reject an application, whereupon the director shall provide written explanation for the denial to the review committee. The safety and health impact grant review committee shall review any grant applications rejected by the director and may advise the director to reconsider. The director shall consider the advice, if given, and shall approve the grant application with any conditions presented by the safety and health impact grant review committee. For purposes of the 2001-2003 time frame, the director shall approve one grant application of up to one million dollars per year, and its recommended acceptance conditions as forwarded by the safety and health impact grant review committee, that is selected by the employee representatives of the review committee, unless the director has a compelling and substantive reason to reject the application, whereupon the director shall provide written explanation for the denial to the review committee. This grant shall be above and beyond the funding authorized in section 5(2) of this act. The entire review committee, by the normal two-thirds vote, shall forward such a grant proposal if the grant meets all other criteria and accountability requirements. The specified time frame in this section shall be determinative for meeting the grant duration requirements in section 5(8) of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. The department and the safety and health impact grant review committee will present an annual review regarding the activities of the safety and health impact grant program to the WISHA advisory committee, the workers' compensation advisory committee, and make it available to the appropriate standing committees of the legislature. POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Franklin: "Senator Hargrove, is this bill based the same as what medical standards are based on in a court case, which is a high standard and if you have standards to be met and if you practice those standards, if you are before a court of law, this is what you are held to?"

Senator Hargrove: "Thank you, Senator Franklin. I had forgotten to mention that as we were discussing the bill in the initial debate here. Yes, this is patterned after the standard that is used in medical malpractice for the last one hundred years. The error in judgement standard, which this is patterned after, basically says that if a doctor follows reasonable care to recommend an operation on somebody and somebody dies as a result of that operation--people die. You cannot recover, just because the recommendation was made. You can recover if they did something wrong in the operation or if they didn’t do all the tests, but just because they make a recommendation and there is a bad outcome from it--it is the same exact standard that has been used in medical malpractice for over a hundred years and has been litigated numerous times. So, the answer is 'yes' to that question."

Senator Franklin: "Thank you, Senator. I wanted that to be expressed."

While we were there, we met the owner and the owner graciously offered to feed the Senate dinner tonight. So, we have made arrangements for Papa Johns to deliver enough pizza for the Senate and the staff for dinner this evening. Maybe we can have a shorter dinner break than usual since it is going to be right here—or longer or whatever we want. POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Snyder: “Senator Rasmussen, I have had several calls from my district on this and they keep referring to a Chandler bill that has passed the House of Representatives, I think. Is this similar to the Chandler bill?”

Senator Rasmussen: “I’m not aware of the House Bill. They don’t seem to confer with us. Maybe Senator Morton has some information on that. Could I pass the mike to him?”

Senator Snyder: “Please do that.”

REMARKS BY SENATOR MORTON

Senator Morton: "Well, thank you, good Senator Snyder. I don’t know much about that bill. There is one, I understand, that did pass the House. It does not have, however, what she has introduced on the striker, which greatly enhances this particular bill now—or the striker bill. It does not have, to my knowledge, the portion on it where there could be selection of the supervisors by the county legislative body. That is an addition as I understand it. Thank you."

SENATE BILL NO. 5625, by Senators McAuliffe, Finkbeiner, Carlson and Kohl-Welles (by request of Governor Locke, Academic Achievement and Accountability Commission and State Board of Education)

Adopting recommendations of the academic achievement and accountability commission.

MOTION

On motion of Senator McAuliffe, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5625 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5625 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

Senator McAuliffe moved that the following striking amendment Senators McAuliffe, Finkbeiner, Eide, Rasmussen, Carlson and Regala be adopted:
The legislature further finds the need for an effective accountability system to help fulfill the promise of statewide school improvement efforts for all Washington students. The legislature recognizes that all stakeholders in Washington's public education system share in the responsibility for an effective accountability system, including educators, students, parents, the community, and state policymakers. An effective accountability system should inform, support, and motivate, as well as require achievement of the state’s learning goals.

The legislature further finds that the goals of this accountability system are to promote learning and achievement of the goals and academic standards for all students as measured by the elementary, middle, and high school criterion-referenced and norm-referenced assessments; to acknowledge the challenges faced by students and educators in achieving these goals; and to help support schools address these challenges.

The legislature further finds that an effective accountability system should encourage educators to work in schools facing these challenges. Districts and schools should be measured for continuous improvement over time against their own baseline, not against the performance of other schools.

The legislature further finds that the accountability system should rely on local responsibility and leadership. State-level responsibility should include technical support and monitoring. At the same time, the legislature finds that state intervention may be necessary in schools that show no progress in student achievement and improvement in student learning over time. In such cases, the state must have the capacity to intervene effectively on behalf of students.

Sec. 2. RCW 28A.655.030 and 1999 c 388 s 102 are each amended to read as follows:

The powers and duties of the academic achievement and accountability commission shall include, but are not limited to the following:

1. For purposes of statewide accountability, the commission shall:
   a. Adopt and revise performance improvement goals, student performance reporting, writing, science, and mathematics by subject and grade level as the commission deems appropriate to improve student learning, once assessments in these subjects are required statewide. The goals shall be in addition to any goals adopted in RCW 28A.655.050. The commission may also revise any goal adopted in RCW 28A.655.050. The commission may adopt and revise goals for dropout rates and reduction of dropout rates for middle schools, junior high schools, and high schools. The commission may adopt and revise goals designed to accelerate the achievement of students from various racial, ethnic, and socioeconomic backgrounds who are disproportionately academically underachieving. The commission shall adopt the goals by rule. However, before each goal is implemented, the commission shall present the goal to the education committees of the house of representatives and the senate for the committees' review and comment in a time frame that will permit the legislature to take statutory action on the goal if such action is deemed warranted by the legislature;
   b. Identify the scores students must achieve in order to meet the standard on the Washington assessment of student learning and determine student scores that identify levels of student performance below and beyond the standard. The commission shall set such performance standards and levels in consultation with the superintendent of public instruction and after consideration of any recommendations that may be developed by any advisory committees that may be established for this purpose;
   c. Adopt objective, systematic criteria to identify successful schools and school districts and recommend to the superintendent of public instruction schools and districts to be recognized for two types of accomplishments, student achievement and improvements in student achievement. Recognition for improvements in student achievement shall include consideration of one or more of the following accomplishments:
      i. An increase in the percent of students meeting standards. The level of achievement required for recognition may be based on the achievement goals established by the legislature under RCW 28A.655.050 and the commission under (a) of this subsection;
      ii. Positive progress on an improvement index that measures improvement in all levels of the assessment; and
      iii. Improvements despite challenges such as high levels of mobility, poverty, English as a second language learners, and a range of appropriate intervention strategies, beginning no earlier than June 30, 2001, and after the legislature has reviewed state interventions that have taken place in other states and identified state interventions that have been successful;
   d. Adopt objective, systematic criteria to be used by school districts under section 3 of this act to identify schools (and school districts) in need of assistance (and those) in which significant numbers of students persistently fail to meet state standards. Accept objective, systematic criteria to be used by the superintendent of public instruction and the academic achievement and accountability commission under section 4 of this act to identify schools that have shown no progress in improving student learning under the school improvement plan and have the highest need of assistance. In its deliberations, the commission shall consider the use of all statewide mandated criterion-referenced and norm-referenced standardized tests;
   e. Adopt objective, systematic criteria to identify schools and school districts in which state intervention measures will be needed (and a range of appropriate intervention strategies, beginning no earlier than June 30, 2001, and after the legislature has reviewed state interventions that have taken place in other states and identified state interventions that have been successful);
   f. Review state interventions that have taken place in other states and identify state interventions that have been successful;
   g. Identify performance incentive systems that have improved or have the potential to improve student achievement;
   h. Annually review the assessment reporting system to ensure fairness, accuracy, timeliness, and equity of opportunity, especially with regard to schools with special circumstances and unique populations of students, and a recommendation to the superintendent of public instruction of any improvements needed to the system;
NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 28A.655 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Beginning September 2001, and each September thereafter, each school district shall use the criteria established by the academic achievement and accountability commission under RCW 28A.655.030 to annually analyze student assessment results. The analysis shall include, but not be limited to, consideration of the levels of student achievement and levels of improvement on statewide criterion-referenced and norm-referenced assessments. The purposes of the analysis shall be to identify successful schools and to identify schools in need of assistance.

(2) Based on the results of the school district's analysis conducted pursuant to subsection (1) of this section, if the school district identifies a school within the district as a school in need of assistance the school district shall conduct a needs assessment of the school. The needs assessment shall analyze multiple indicators including, but not limited to:

(a) The student achievement from school, district, and statewide assessments;
(b) The improvement in student achievement and student learning over time;
(c) The current allocation, distribution, and use of existing resources;
(d) The current alignment of the school's curriculum and instruction with the goals and standards of the Washington assessment of student learning.

(3) Based on the results of the needs assessment conducted pursuant to subsection (2) of this section, a school improvement plan shall be developed or revised by the school in consultation with the school district. The plan shall be developed with the involvement of the school employees, students (when appropriate), parents, and the community. The improvement plan shall include, but not be limited to:

(a) Student learning and achievement goals and expectations;
(b) How existing funds will be used more effectively; and
(c) How instruction and curriculum will be realigned to improve student learning.

The plan may include a request of waivers of state laws or local policies and agreements if a waiver is necessary to improve student learning and to implement the improvement plan. Waivers that are available prior to January 1, 2001, shall be obtained under an expedited decision-making process. Other waivers of the education code may be obtained from the superintendent of public instruction if the superintendent has the authority to grant such a waiver.

The plan may include replacement of school staff if the employee organization that represents the individual staff member shows evidence of support of the replacement of the individual.

(4) School districts shall have one school year to complete the needs assessments and to develop the improvement plans.

(5) Each school district shall annually report to the superintendent of public instruction and the academic achievement and accountability commission on the local efforts and the results of the school improvement plans developed or revised under subsection (3) of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 28A.655 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Beginning September 2003, the superintendent of public instruction and the academic achievement and accountability commission shall annually review and analyze the reports submitted by the school districts under section 3 of this act. The analysis shall include, but not be limited to, consideration of the levels of student achievement and the levels of student improvement on criterion-referenced and norm-referenced assessments achieved under the local school improvement plan. The superintendent and the commission shall use the analysis of the local school district reports and the criteria established by the commission under RCW 28A.655.030 to identify schools annually that have shown no progress in improving student learning and have the highest need for assistance.

(2) Beginning September 2003, if the superintendent and the commission determine that a school is eligible for assistance under subsection (1) of this section then the superintendent shall notify the school district within which the eligible school is located of such eligibility.

(3) School districts with a school that is eligible for assistance may request assistance under this section by notifying the superintendent of public instruction by October 1st. If an eligible school district requests assistance then the superintendent, or the superintendent's designee, shall conduct a full needs assessment. The superintendent or the superintendent's designee shall seek input from the school employees, students (when appropriate), parents, and the community. The needs assessment shall analyze multiple indicators including, but not limited to:

(a) Student achievement from school, district, and statewide assessments;
(b) Improvement in student achievement and learning over time;
(c) Current allocation, distribution, and use of existing resources;
(d) Student mobility and poverty indicators;
The superintendent of public instruction, or the superintendent's designee, and the eligible school district requesting assistance shall jointly negotiate the terms of a performance agreement to address the barriers to the improvement of student learning identified by the needs assessment. Any assistance provided under the terms of the performance agreement shall be limited to specific, cost-effective strategies for improving student learning, or to specific promising strategies that are part of a rigorous and ongoing evaluation, as stipulated in the performance agreement. The superintendent shall present the performance agreement to the commission. The commission shall either accept or reject the performance agreement without changes. If the commission rejects the performance agreement then the commission must provide a written explanation for the rejection. The superintendent and the school district shall have up to one year to submit another performance agreement to be accepted or rejected by the commission. The duration of a performance agreement shall be two years. The performance agreements shall include, but not be limited to:

(a) Student performance goals and learning expectations;
(b) How existing funds will be used more effectively;
(c) How assistance resources, if any, will be used;
(d) Which specific waivers, if any, of state laws or local policies and agreements are needed to improve student learning and to implement the performance agreement. Waivers that are available prior to January 1, 2001, shall be obtained under an expedited decision-making process. Other waivers of the education code may be obtained from the superintendent of public instruction if the superintendent has the authority to grant such a waiver;
(e) Whether there will be replacement of school staff. If staff is replaced then the employee organization that represents the individual staff member must show evidence of support of the replacement of the individual;
(f) Who is responsible for implementing the specific actions in the agreement; and
(g) Measurable benchmarks for actions in the performance agreement with a timeline for completion to determine progress.

The superintendent of public instruction shall have one school year to complete both the needs assessment under subsection (3) of this section and the performance agreement under subsection (4) of this section, including having the academic achievement and accountability commission accept or reject the performance agreement. The performance agreement shall be limited to specific, cost-effective strategies for improving student learning, or to specific promising strategies that are part of a rigorous and ongoing evaluation, as stipulated in the performance agreement. The superintendent shall report the findings of the evaluation to the school district and to the academic achievement and accountability commission.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 28A.655 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Beginning in July 2005, and annually thereafter, at the end of the first year of a performance agreement negotiated pursuant to section 4 of this act, the superintendent of public instruction or the superintendent's designee shall evaluate the progress on meeting the benchmarks, timelines, and other components of the performance agreement. The superintendent shall report the findings of the evaluation to the school district and to the academic achievement and accountability commission.

(2) Beginning in July 2006, and annually thereafter, at the end of the second year of a performance agreement negotiated pursuant to section 4 of this act, the superintendent of public instruction or the superintendent's designee shall conduct a full evaluation using multiple sources of information to determine whether each party to the performance agreement complied with the components of the performance agreement; whether the benchmarks, timelines, and other components of the performance agreement were met; and whether student learning was improved. If student learning was not improved then the superintendent or the superintendent's designee shall conduct an analysis to determine why student learning was not improved. The superintendent shall report the findings of the evaluation and the analysis to the school district and to the academic achievement and accountability commission.

(3) Based on the results of the evaluation and analysis performed under subsection (2) of this section and using the criteria developed by the commission under RCW 28A.655.030, the academic achievement and accountability commission shall determine whether the performance agreement shall be:
   (a) Ended because the agreement was successfully completed;
   (b) Extended with existing or newly negotiated conditions; or
   (c) Extended because more intensive intervention strategies are required.
   The commission shall report to the house of representatives and senate committees on education and shall implement more intensive intervention strategies if the commission determines the following:
   (i) The parties to the performance agreement complied with the performance agreement but the school district and the school are making insufficient progress in improving student learning as determined by the criteria developed by the commission under RCW 28A.655.030; and
   (ii) The Washington assessment of student learning that is used in the criteria developed by the commission in RCW 28A.655.030 has been determined to be reliable and valid.

(4) The superintendent of public instruction shall notify the school district of the intent of the academic achievement and accountability commission to implement more intensive intervention strategies. The school district shall be provided the opportunity to present information to the commission to appeal the decision.

(5) If after the appeal by the school district the academic achievement and accountability commission determine that more intensive intervention strategies are required then the superintendent shall design and implement an intervention plan that addresses the improvement of student learning.

(6) The superintendent of public instruction and the academic achievement and accountability commission shall report to the legislature on all interventions.

PROVIDED, That classified employees who transfer between districts after July 28, 1985, shall not retain any seniority rights other than longevity when leaving one school district and beginning employment with another. If the school district to which the person transfers has a different system for computing seniority, leave benefits, and other benefits, then the employee shall be granted the same seniority, leave benefits and other benefits as a person in that district who has similar occupational status and total years of service.

Sec. 12. RCW 28A.405.210 and 28A.405.310 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) No teacher, principal, supervisor, superintendent, or other certificated employee, holding a position as such with a school district, hereinafter referred to as "employee", shall be employed except by written order of a majority of the directors of the district at a regular or special meeting thereof and as may be provided in an improvement plan under section 3 of this act, a performance agreement under section 4 of this act, or an intervention plan under section 5 of this act, nor unless he or she is the holder of an effective teacher's certificate or other certificate required by law or the state board of education for the position for which the employee is employed, nor unless his or her employment with a school district is consistent with any and all determinations made by the superintendent of public instruction and the academic achievement and accountability commission under the authority granted in sections 3, 4, and 5 of this act and RCW 28A.655.030.

The board shall make with each employee employed by it a written contract, which shall be in conformity with the laws of this state, and except as otherwise provided by law, limited to a term of not more than one year. Any employment contract approved after September 1, 2001, that is inconsistent with any provision of this act is null and void solely with respect to those provisions in conflict with this act. Every such contract shall be made in duplicate, one copy to be retained by the school district superintendent or secretary and one copy to be delivered to the employee. No contract shall be offered by any board for the employment of any employee who has previously signed an employment contract for the same term in another school district of the state of Washington unless such employee shall have been released from his or her obligations under such previous contract by the board of directors of the school district to which he or she was obligated. Any contract signed in violation of this provision shall be void.

In the event it is determined that there is probable cause or causes that the employment contract of an employee should not be renewed by the district for the next ensuing term such employee shall be notified in writing on or before May 15th preceding the commencement of such term of that determination, or if the omnibus appropriations act has not passed the legislature by May 15th preceding the commencement of such term, or if the omnibus appropriations act has not passed the legislature by May 15th preceding the commencement of such term and the term of the contract to be renewed shall be no longer than June 1st, the superintendent, and shall specify the cause or causes for nonrenewal of contract. Such determination of probable cause for certificated employees, other than the superintendent, shall be made by the superintendent or in accordance with an improvement plan under section 3 of this act, a performance agreement under section 4 of this act, or an intervention plan under section 5 of this act. Such notice shall be served upon the employee personally, or by certified or registered mail, or by leaving a copy of the notice at the house of his or her usual abode with some person of suitable age and discretion then resident therein. Every such employee so notified, except employees notified pursuant to the implementation of an improvement plan under section 3 of this act, a performance agreement under section 4 of this act, or an intervention plan under section 5 of this act, at his or her request made in writing and filed with the president or secretary of the board of directors of the district within ten days after receiving such notice, shall be granted opportunity for hearing pursuant to RCW 28A.405.310 to determine whether there is sufficient cause or causes for nonrenewal of contract: PROVIDED, That any employee receiving notice of nonrenewal of contract due to an enrollment decline or loss of revenue may, in his or her request for a hearing, stipulate that initiation of the arrangements for a hearing officer as provided for by RCW 28A.405.310(4) shall occur within ten days following July 15 rather than the day that the employee submits the request for a hearing. If any such notification or opportunity for hearing is not timely given, the employee entitled thereto shall be conclusively presumed to have been reemployed by the district for the next ensuing term upon contractual terms identical with those which would have prevailed if his or her employment had actually been renewed by the board of directors for such ensuing term. This section shall not be applicable to "provisional employees" as so designated in RCW 28A.405.220; transfer to a subordinate certificated position as that procedure is set forth in RCW 28A.405.230 shall not be construed as a nonrenewal of contract for the purposes of this section.

(2) In the event that a determination is made pursuant to an improvement plan under section 3 of this act, a performance agreement under section 4 of this act, or an intervention plan under section 5 of this act that there is probable cause that the employment contract of an employee should not be renewed for the ensuing term:

(a) Such employee shall be notified thereof in writing on or before May 15th preceding the commencement of the school term, or if the omnibus appropriations act has not passed the legislature by May 15th, then notification shall be by June 1st, which notification shall state the reason or reasons for such determination. Such notice shall be served upon the employee personally, or by certified or registered mail, or by leaving a copy of the notice at the place of his or her usual abode with some person of suitable age and discretion then resident therein.

(b) The determination of nonrenewal by the academic achievement and accountability commission shall consider any evaluations conducted pursuant to RCW 28A.405.100 and shall be in accordance with the provisions of an improvement plan under section 3 of this act, a performance agreement under section 4 of this act, or an intervention plan under section 5 of this act.

(c) Every such employee notified pursuant to this subsection, at his or her request made in writing and filed with the superintendent of the district within ten days after receiving such notice, shall be given the opportunity to meet informally with the superintendent for the purpose of requesting the superintendent to recommend that the academic achievement and accountability commission reconsider their decision. Such meeting shall be held no later than ten days following the receipt of such request, and the employee shall be given at least three days' written notice of the date, time, and place of the meeting. At such meeting the employee shall be given the opportunity to refute any facts upon which the superintendent's or the academic achievement and accountability commission's determination was based and to make any argument in support of his or her request for reconsideration.

(d) Within ten days following the meeting with the employee, the superintendent shall either recommend to the superintendent of public instruction that the employee be reinstated or shall submit to the school district board of directors for consideration at its next regular meeting a written report recommending that the employment contract of the employee be nonrenewed and stating the reason or reasons therefor. A copy of such report shall be delivered to the employee at least three days before the scheduled meeting of the board of directors. The district superintendent may request an informal meeting with the superintendent of public instruction to consider a request to reinstate the employee. The superintendent of public instruction shall consider but is not required to grant such request for an informal meeting with the district superintendent and the employee. In taking action upon the recommendation of the superintendent or the direction of the superintendent of public instruction and the commission, the board of directors may consider any written communication that the employee may file with the superintendent of the board at any time before that meeting.

(a) The board of directors shall notify the employee in writing of its final decision and action within ten days following the meeting at which the superintendent's recommendation or the direction of the superintendent of public instruction and the commission was considered. The action of the board of directors to nonrenew the contract of an employee under this subsection shall be final and not subject to appeal.

In the event the district superintendent recommends reinstatement to the superintendent of public instruction, the district superintendent may request an informal meeting with the superintendent of public instruction to present his or her reasons. Such request for an informal meeting shall be considered by the superintendent of public instruction. In taking action upon the recommendation of the superintendent, the board of directors shall consider any written communication which the provisional employee may file with the secretary of the board at any time prior to that meeting.

The primary purposes of the commission are to identify the knowledge and skills all public school students need to know and be able to do based on the student learning goals in RCW 28A.150.210, to develop student assessment and school accountability systems, to review current school district data reporting requirements and make recommendations on what data is necessary for the purposes of accountability and meeting state information needs, and to take other steps necessary to develop a performance-based education system. The commission shall include three members of the state board of education, three members appointed by the governor before July 1, 1992, and five members appointed no later than June 1, 1993, by the governor elected in the November 1992 election. The governor shall appoint a chair from the commission members, and fill any vacancies in gubernatorial appointments that may occur. The state board of education shall fill any vacancies of state board of education appointments that may occur. In making the appointments, educators, business leaders, and parents shall be represented, and nominations from statewide education, business, and parent organizations shall be requested. Efforts shall be made to ensure that the commission reflects the racial and ethnic diversity of the state’s K-12 student population and that the major geographic regions in the state are represented. Appointees shall be qualified individuals who are supportive of educational restructuring, who have a positive record of service, and who will devote sufficient time to the responsibilities of the commission to ensure that the objectives of the commission are achieved.

(2) The commission shall establish advisory committees. Membership of the advisory committees shall include, but not necessarily be limited to, professionals from the office of the superintendent of public instruction and the state board of education, and other state and local educational practitioners and student assessment specialists.

Essential academic learning requirements that incorporate the remainder of RCW 28A.150.210 (2), (3), and (4), goals two, three, and four, shall be completed no later than March 1, 1996. To the maximum extent possible, the commission shall integrate goal four and the knowledge and skill areas in the other goals in the development of the essential academic learning requirements;

(b)(i) The commission and superintendent of public instruction shall develop a statewide academic assessment system for use in the elementary, middle, and high school years designed to determine if each student has learned the essential academic learning requirements identified in (a) of this subsection. The academic assessment system shall include a variety of assessment methods, including criterion-referenced and performance-based measures. Performance standards for determining if a student has successfully completed an assessment shall be determined by the commission and the superintendent of public instruction in consultation with the advisory committees required in subsection (2) of this section.
(ii) The assessment system shall be designed so that the results under the assessment system are used by educators as tools to evaluate instructional practices, and to initiate appropriate educational support for students who have not learned the essential academic learning requirements at the appropriate periods in the student's educational development.

(iii) Assessments measuring the essential academic learning requirements shall be available for voluntary use by school districts and shall be required to be administered by school districts according to the following schedule unless the legislature takes action to delay or prevent implementation of the assessment system and essential academic learning requirements.

The certificate of (mastery) achievement shall not be required for graduation. Upon achieving the certificate of (mastery) achievement, schools shall provide students with the opportunity to pursue career and educational objectives through educational pathways that emphasize integration of academic and vocational education. Educational pathways may include, but are not limited to, programs such as work-based learning, school-to-work transition, tech prep, vocational-technical education, running start, and preparation for technical college, community college, or university education. Any middle school, junior high school, or high school using educational pathways shall ensure that all participating students will continue to have access to the courses and instruction necessary to meet admission requirements at baccalaureate institutions. Students shall be allowed to enter the educational pathway of their choice. Before accepting a student into an educational pathway, the school shall inform the student's parent of the pathway chosen, the opportunities available to the student through the pathway, and the career objectives the student will have exposure to while pursuing the pathway. Parents and students dissatisfied with the opportunities available through the selected educational pathway shall be provided with the opportunity to transfer the student to any other pathway provided in the school. Schools may not develop educational pathways that retain students in high school beyond the date they are eligible to graduate, and may not require students who transfer between pathways to complete pathway requirements beyond the date the student is eligible to graduate;

These recommendations shall include an estimate for the legislature, superintendent of public instruction, and governor on the expected cost of implementing the academic assessment system;

(i) What data is necessary to compare how school districts are performing before the essential academic learning requirements and the assessment system are implemented with how school districts are performing after the essential academic learning requirements and the assessment system are implemented; and

(ii) What data is necessary pertaining to school district reports under the accountability systems developed by the commission on student learning under this section;

(i) Recommend to the legislature, governor, state board of education, and superintendent of public instruction:

(ii) A statewide accountability system to monitor and evaluate accurately and fairly at elementary, middle, and high schools the level of learning occurring in individual schools and school districts with regard to the goals included in RCW 28A.150.210 (1) through (4). The accountability system must assess each school individually against its own baseline, schools with similar characteristics, and schools statewide. Incentives shall be based on the rate of percentage change of students achieving the essential academic learning requirements and progress on meeting the statewide average. School staff shall determine how the awards will be spent. The commission shall make recommendations regarding a statewide accountability system for reading in grades kindergarten through four by November 1, 1997. Recommendations for an accountability system in the other subject areas and grade levels shall be made no later than June 30, 1999;

(7) Members of the commission shall be reimbursed for travel expenses as provided in RCW 43.03.050 and 43.03.060.

In preparing recommendations, the commission on student learning shall convene an ad hoc working group to address questions, including:

(i) What type of document shall be used to identify student performance and achievement and how will the document be described?

(ii) Should the students be required to pass the high school assessments in all skill and content areas, or only in select skill and content areas, to graduate?

(iv) What timeline should be used in phasing-in the assessments as a graduation requirement?

(v) What options may be used in demonstrating how the results of the assessments will be displayed in a way that is meaningful to students, parents, institutions of higher education, and potential employers?

(vi) Are there other areas that are additional to which the assessments could be used to identify achievement such as endorsements, standards of proficiency, merit badges, or levels of achievement?

(vii) Should the assessments and certificate of mastery be used to satisfy college or university entrance criteria for public school students? If yes, how should these methods be phased-in?
(b) The ad hoc working group shall report its recommendations to the commission on student learning, the state board of education, and the superintendent of public instruction by June 15, 1997. The commission shall report the ad hoc working group's recommendations to the education committees of the house of representatives and senate by July 15, 1997. Final recommendations of the commission on student learning, the state board of education, and the superintendent of public instruction shall be presented to the education committees of the house of representatives and the senate by September 30, 1997.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator McAuliffe: “A point of order, Mr. President. Would you please ask Senator Johnson to speak just to his amendment specifically? I believe he is speaking about the WASL test as a whole rather than the connection of the certificate of mastery to graduation.”

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: “I believe that Senator Johnson is speaking to the total issue at hand. Senator Johnson would you please be careful to keep it confined.”

REMARKS BY SENATOR JOHNSON

Senator Johnson: “I am very careful, Mr. President.”

Senator Johnson continued explaining the amendment to the striking amendment.

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senator Johnson on page 30, after line 28, to the striking amendment by Senators McAuliffe, Finkbeiner, Eide, Rasmussen, Carlson and Regala to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5625.

The motion by Senator Johnson carried on a rising vote and the amendment to the striking amendment was adopted.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Betti Sheldon, further consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5625 was deferred.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator McCaslin: “A parliamentary inquiry, Mr. President. I wish for you to tell me that I am reading Rule 224 correctly in Reed’s Rules? It states ‘It is not permissible to allude to the action of the other house of the legislature, or to refer to a debate there.’ I alluded to a House member or to people that came from the House. I did not allude to any action of the House and I want to make sure that I understand this rule properly versus the interpretation taken by those members of this body that have been members of the House.”

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: “Senator McCaslin, the President believes that this is a very difficult and fine line that we walk on this issue in referencing the other body. As you read, the purpose of that amendment is to prevent ill will between the two bodies, which can also be created when you are referencing individual members, although it does not say specifically ‘individual members.’ We have traditionally held that. We try to avoid referencing individual members for the same purpose, although it is not specifically in there. You are correct, the rule does refer specifically to the body, but the President will exercise some discretion if members are being carried away in their references to other members as well.”

Senator McCaslin: “Then my interpretation is correct and that it speaks and alludes to actions of the other body or the House, rather than in mentioning a former House member?”

President Owen: “That is correct.”

Senator McCaslin: “Thank you, Mr. President.”

President Owen: “Senator McCaslin, in just one slight clarification. If in fact, you are referencing the other members as to their debate, then the President would believe that that would be out of order, because it is of reference of debate in the other house as well.”

Senator McCaslin: “I have never done that Mr. President, nor do I intend to.”
There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5593 deferred on second reading earlier today.

Many women who are victims of gender violence have limited resources and they do not have the ability to pursue recovery of damages. This will enable them to do so.”

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Regala: “Senator Kastama, given the fact that Substitute Senate Bill No. 5255 adopts the definition of ‘terrorist act’ set forth in RCW 70.74.285, commonly known as the Washington State Explosives Act, is it the intent of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5255 to focus solely on terrorist acts involving the use of conventional or high explosives?”
Senator Kastama: “Senator Regala, there is no intent to limit the scope of this legislation to acts of terrorism involving high explosive devices. RCW 70.74.285 is specifically cross-referenced in this proposed legislation, rather than the overall Act in which it appears, in order to adopt the broad, all-inclusive scope of ‘terrorist act” as that phrase is defined there. (1) A person, financial information repository, financial service provider, merchant, corporation, trust, partnership, or unincorporated association possessing information relating to an actual or potential violation of this chapter, and who may have entered into a transaction, provided credit, products, goods, or services, accepted payment, or otherwise done business with a person who has used the victim's means of identification, must, upon written request of the victim, provide copies of all relevant application and transaction information related to the transaction being alleged as a potential or actual violation of this chapter. Nothing in this section requires the information provider to disclose information that it is otherwise prohibited from disclosing by law, except that a law that prohibits disclosing a person's information to third parties shall not be used to deny disclosure of such information to the victim under this section.

(2) Unless the information provider is otherwise willing to verify the victim's identification, the victim shall provide the following as proof of positive identification:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. A new section is added to chapter 19.182 RCW to read as follows:

BLOCK OF INFORMATION APPEARING AS A RESULT OF IDENTITY THEFT. (1) Within thirty days of receipt of proof of the consumer's identification and a copy of a filed police report evidencing the consumer's claim to be a victim of a violation of RCW 9.35.020, a consumer reporting agency shall permanently block reporting any information the consumer identifies on his or her consumer report is a result of a violation of RCW 9.35.020, so that the information cannot be reported, except as provided in subsection (2) of this section. The consumer reporting agency shall promptly notify the furnisher of the information that a police report has been filed, that a block has been requested, and the effective date of the block.

(2) A consumer reporting agency may decline to block or may rescind any block of consumer information if, in the exercise of good faith and reasonable judgment, the consumer reporting agency believes:

(a) The information was blocked due to a misrepresentation of fact by the consumer relevant to the request to block under this section;

(b) The consumer agrees that the blocked information or portions of the blocked information were blocked in error; or

(c) The consumer knowingly obtained possession of goods, services, or moneys as a result of the blocked transaction or transactions or the consumer should have known that he or she obtained possession of goods, services, or moneys as a result of the blocked transaction or transactions.

(3) If the block of information is declined or rescinded under this section, the consumer shall be notified promptly in the same manner as consumers are notified of the reinsertion of information pursuant to section 611 of the fair credit reporting act, 15 U.S.C. (6) In a proceeding under this section, the crime will be considered to have been committed in any locality where the person whose means of identification or financial information was used resides, or in which any part of the offense took place, regardless of whether the defendant was ever actually in that locality.
