(1) Agency planning and decisions concerning information technology shall be made in the context of its information technology portfolio. "Information technology portfolio" means a strategic management approach in which the relationships between agency missions and information technology investments can be seen and understood, such that: Technology efforts are linked to agency objectives and business plans; the impact of new investments on existing infrastructure and business functions are assessed and understood before implementation; and agency activities are consistent with the development of an integrated, nonduplicative statewide infrastructure.

(2) Agencies shall use their information technology portfolios in making decisions on matters related to the following:
(a) System refurbishment, acquisitions, and development efforts;
(b) Setting goals and objectives for using information technology in meeting legislatively-mandated missions and business needs;
(c) Assessment of overall information processing performance, resources, and capabilities;
(d) Ensuring appropriate transfer of technological expertise for the operation of any new systems developed using external resources; and
(e) Progress toward enabling electronic access to public information.

(3) Each project will be planned and designed to take optimal advantage of Internet technologies and protocols. Agencies shall ensure that the project is in compliance with the architecture, infrastructure, principles, policies, and standards of digital government as maintained by the information services board.

(4) The agency shall produce a feasibility study for information technology projects at the direction of the information services board and in accordance with published department of information services policies and guidelines. At a minimum, such studies shall include a statement of: (a) The purpose or impetus for change; (b) the business value to the agency, including an examination and evaluation of benefits, advantages, and cost; (c) a comprehensive risk assessment based on the proposed project’s impact on both citizens and state operations, its visibility, and the consequences of doing nothing; (d) the impact on agency and statewide information infrastructure; and (e) the impact of the proposed enhancements on agency’s information technology capabilities on meeting delivery demands.

(5) The agency shall produce a comprehensive management plan for each project. The plan or plans shall address all factors critical to successful completion of each project. The plan(s) shall include, but is not limited to, the following elements: A description of the problem or opportunity that the information technology project is intended to address; a statement of project objectives and assumptions; a definition and schedule of phases, tasks, and activities to be accomplished; and the estimated cost of each phase. The planning for the phased approach shall be such that the business case justification for a project needs to demonstrate how the project recovers cost or adds measurable value or positive cost benefit to the agency’s business functions within each development cycle.

(6) The agency shall produce quality assurance plans for information technology projects. Consistent with the direction of the information services board and the published policies and guidelines of the department of information services, the quality assurance plan shall address all factors critical to successful completion of the project and successful integration with the agency and state information technology infrastructure. At a minimum, quality assurance plans shall provide time and budget benchmarks against which project progress can be measured, a specification of quality assurance responsibilities, and a statement of reporting requirements. The quality assurance plans shall set out the functionality requirements for each phase of a project.

(7) A copy of each feasibility study, project management plan, and quality assurance plan shall be provided to the office of information services, the office of financial management, and legislative fiscal committees. The plans and studies shall demonstrate a sound business case that justifies the investment of taxpayer funds on any new project, an assessment of the impact of the proposed system on the existing information technology infrastructure, the disciplined use of preventative measures to mitigate risk, and the leveraging of private-sector expertise as needed. Authority to expend any funds for individual information systems projects is conditioned on the approval of the relevant feasibility study, project management plan, and quality assurance plan by the department of information services and the office of financial management.

When computing distributions under this section, any other distributions shall be considered revenues received from the tax imposed under RCW 82.14.030(1) for the previous calendar year.

(4) Subsequent to the distributions under subsection (3) of this section and at such times as distributions are made under RCW 82.44.150, the state treasurer shall apportion to each county imposing the sales and use tax under RCW 82.14.030(2) for the entire calendar year, the one hundred fifty thousand dollar base figure in this subsection shall be adjusted in direct proportion to the percentage change in the governmental price index from 1982 until the year before the adjustment. Distributions made under this subsection for 1984 and thereafter shall use this adjusted base amount figure.

(5) Subsequent to the distributions under subsection (4) of this section and at such times as distributions are made under RCW 82.44.150, the state treasurer shall apportion to each county imposing the sales and use tax under RCW 82.14.030(2) at the maximum rate and receiving a distribution under subsection (2) of this section, a fourth distribution from the county sales and use tax equalization account.

The distribution to each qualifying county shall be equal to the distribution to the county under subsection (3) of this section, subject to the reduction under subsections (6) and (7) of this section. To qualify for the distribution under this subsection, the county must impose the tax under RCW 82.14.030(2) for the entire calendar year.

(6) During the biennium ending June 30, 2005, the department, with approval of the board, may exchange any state forest land and any timber thereon for any real property and proceeds of equal value. (6) Revenues distributed under subsections (2) through (5) of this section in any calendar year shall not exceed an amount equal to seventy percent of the statewide weighted average per capita level of revenues for the unincorporated areas of all counties during the previous calendar year. If distributions under subsections (3) through (5) of this section cannot be made because of this limitation, then distributions under subsection (3) through (5) of this section shall be reduced ratably among the qualifying counties.

(7) If inadequate revenues exist in the county sales and use tax equalization account to make the distributions under subsections (3) through (5) of this section, then the distributions under subsections (3) through (5) of this section shall be reduced ratably among the qualifying counties. At such time during the year as additional funds accrue to the county sales and use tax equalization account, additional distributions shall be made under subsections (3) through (5) of this section to the counties.

(a) For purposes of calculating the amount of funds the new city should receive under this subsection, the department of revenue shall:

(ii) Calculate the amount provided under subsection (3) of this section based on the per capita revenues determined under (b)(i) of this subsection;

(iii) Prorate the amount determined under (b)(ii) of this subsection by the number of months the tax authorized under RCW 82.14.030(1) is imposed.

(b)(i) A newly incorporated city imposing the tax authorized under RCW 82.14.030(1) effective as of January 1st shall be eligible to receive funds under this subsection beginning with the April municipal sales and use tax equalization distribution of that year.

(i) Estimate the per capita amount of revenues from the tax authorized under RCW 82.14.030(1) that the new city would have received had the city received revenues from the tax the entire calendar year;

(ii) Calculate the amount provided under subsection (3) of this section based on the per capita revenues determined under (b)(i) of this subsection;

(iii) Prorate the amount determined under (b)(ii) of this subsection by the number of months the tax authorized under RCW 82.14.030(1) is imposed.

(c) A new city imposing the tax authorized under RCW 82.14.030(2) at the maximum rate and receiving a distribution calculated under (b) of this subsection shall receive another distribution from the municipal sales and use tax equalization account. This distribution shall be equal to... the calculation made under (b)(ii) of this subsection, prorated by the number of months the city imposes the tax authorized under RCW 82.14.030(2) at the full rate.

(d) The department of revenue shall advise the state treasurer of the amounts calculated under (b) and (c) of this subsection and the state treasurer shall distribute those amounts to the new city from the municipal sales and use tax equalization account subject to the limitations imposed in subsection (6) of this section.

(e) Revenues estimated under this subsection shall not affect the calculation of the statewide weighted average per capita level of revenues for all cities made under subsection (1) of this section.

(6) If inadequate revenues exist in the municipal sales and use tax equalization account to make the distributions under subsection (3), (4), or (5) of this section, then the distributions under subsections (3), (4), and (5) of this section shall be reduced ratably among the qualifying cities. At such time during the year as additional funds accrue to the municipal sales and use tax equalization account, additional distributions shall be made under subsections (3), (4), and (5) of this section to the cities.

(7) If the level of revenues in the municipal sales and use tax equalization account exceeds the amount necessary to make the distributions under subsections (2) through (5) of this section, then the additional revenues shall be apportioned among the several cities within the state ratably on the basis of population as last determined by the office of financial management:

PROVIDED, That no such distribution shall be made to those cities receiving a distribution under subsection (2) of this section.

(8) During the 2003–2005 fiscal biennium, the legislature may transfer from the municipal sales and use tax equalization account to the state general fund such amounts as reflect the excess fund balance in the account.

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. Notwithstanding any provisions of Title 29 RCW, between the effective date of this act and December 31, 2004, the counties of Thurston, Pierce, Kitsap, Spokane, Snohomish, Island, and Cowlitz may participate in the pilot project Secure Electronic Registration and Voting Experiment (SERVE) authorized in the National Defense Authorization Act (P.L. 107-107). Participation of the counties must be approved by the secretary of state and implementation must be in compliance with standards and regulations established by the federal voting assistance program of the United States Department of Defense. Between the effective date of this act and December 31, 2004, participating counties must use the SERVE pilot project for all elections for which the SERVE voting system is available for use.

The SERVE pilot project must allow registered overseas voters, as defined in RCW 29.01.117, and registered service voters, as defined in RCW 29.01.155, to cast their votes electronically, including over the Internet and the World Wide Web. Except for the provisions of RCW 29.36.290 regarding the method for transmitting absentee voting materials and of RCW 29.36.310 regarding the method for processing absentee ballots, votes must be cast and counted in conformity with Title 29 RCW. The SERVE voting system is exempt from the requirements of RCW 29.33.308(6) and 29.33.320(6). Election officials must rely upon the procedures established by the United States Department of Defense for the security, secrecy, and validation of votes cast electronically, but the secretary of state is responsible for verifying the accuracy, secrecy, independence, and security of cast ballots. Votes transmitted over an electronic medium, such as the Internet or the World Wide Web, to the election authority under Title 29 RCW are subject to recount and election contest requirements, but not on the grounds that the vote is invalid or suspect because it was cast electronically. The tabulation of SERVE pilot project votes is subject to the tabulation and observer requirements of RCW 29.54.025. The secretary of state must make certain and confirm that a dependable and accurate ballot tracking procedure is in place for purposes of a statutory recount, as defined in chapter 29.64 RCW.

The secretary of state and participating counties must make every effort, including media press releases, web site information, and standard mail, to inform registered overseas and service voters of the SERVE pilot project. While county election officials and the secretary of state must inform qualified voters of the SERVE pilot project, communication with participating voters must be similar in nature to communication with voters not participating in the SERVE pilot project. The e-mail addresses of all participating voters must be made available for political purposes, as required by RCW 29.04.095 through 29.04.120.

The secretary of state must collect and publish data on the number of overseas and service voters who requested to participate in the pilot project, the number of overseas and service voters who participated in the pilot project, the number of ballots received electronically, the number of ballots rejected, and the reasons ballots were rejected. The information must be collected from the participating counties and from designated participating voters. By January 31, 2005, the secretary of state must compile and present a report on the results of the pilot project to the state government committee of the house of representatives and the government operations and elections committee of the senate. In addition to the data collected from participating counties and voters, the secretary of state must provide a complete description of the funding and costs of the SERVE pilot project, including the cost per vote and detailed information on state and county staffing expenditures.

The secretary of state must terminate the SERVE pilot project within a participating county if, anytime between the effective date of this act and December 31, 2004, the participating county fails to use the SERVE pilot project in any election for which the SERVE voting system is available for use. This act expires January 31, 2005."

(2) The possession or use of water without legal right shall be prima facie evidence of the guilt of the person using it.

If so, how would we pursue that at this time?”

NEW SECTION. Sec. 902. Allotments for appropriations in this act shall be provided in accordance with the capital project review requirements adopted by the office of financial management. The office of financial management shall notify the house of representatives capital budget committee and the senate ways and means committee of allotment releases based on review by the office of financial management. No expenditure may be incurred or obligation entered into for appropriations in this act until the office of financial management has given final approval to the allotment of the funds to be expended or encumbered. For allotments under this act, the allotment process includes, in addition to the statement of proposed expenditures for the current biennium, a category or categories for any reserve amounts and amounts expected to be expended in future biennia. Projects that will be employing alternative public works construction procedures under chapter 39.10 RCW are subject to the allotment procedures defined in this section and RCW 43.88.110. Contracts shall not be executed that call for expenditures in excess of the approved allotment, and the total amount shown in such contracts for the cost of future work that has not been appropriated shall not exceed the amount identified for such work in the level of funding approved by the office of financial management at the completion of predesign.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 903. To ensure that major construction projects are carried out in accordance with legislative and executive intent, appropriations in this act in excess of $5,000,000 shall not be expended or encumbered until the office of financial management has reviewed and approved the agency’s predesign and other documents, and approved an allotment for the project that includes specific authorization to enter into a contract to expend or encumber funds. The predesign document shall include but not be limited to program, site, and cost analysis in accordance with the predesign manual adopted by the office of financial management. To improve monitoring of major construction projects, progress reports shall be submitted by the agency administering the project to the office of financial management and to the fiscal committees of the house of representatives and senate. Reports will be submitted on July 1st and December 31st each year in a format to be developed by the office of financial management.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 904. Appropriations in this act for design and construction of facilities on higher education campuses shall be expended only after funds are allotted to institutions of higher education on the basis of: (1) Comparable unit cost standards, as determined by the office of financial management in consultation with the higher education coordinating board; (2) costs consistent with other higher education teaching facilities in the state; and (3) student full-time equivalent enrollment levels as established by the office of financial management in consultation with the higher education coordinating board.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 905. To ensure that minor works appropriations are carried out in accordance with legislative intent, funds appropriated in this act shall not be allotted until project lists are on file at the office of financial management. Minor works appropriations shall not be used for studies unless expressly authorized elsewhere in this act. The office of financial management shall forward copies of these project lists to the house of representatives capital budget committee and the senate ways and means committee. No expenditure may be incurred or obligation entered into for minor works appropriations until the office of financial management has approved the allotment of the funds to be expended. The office of financial management shall encourage state agencies to incorporate accessibility planning and improvements into the normal and customary capital program.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 906. (1) The legislature expects projects to be ready to proceed in a timely manner depending on the type or phase of the project or program that is the subject of the appropriation in this act. Except for major projects that customarily may take more than two biennia to complete from predesign to the end of construction, or large infrastructure grant or loan programs supporting projects that often take more than two biennia to complete, the legislature generally does not intend to reappropriate funds more than once, particularly for smaller grant programs, local/community projects, and minor works.

(2) Agencies shall expedite the expenditure of reappropriations and appropriations in this act in order to: (a) Rehabilitate infrastructure resources; (b) accelerate environmental rehabilitation and restoration projects for the improvement of the state’s natural environment; (c) reduce additional costs associated with acquisition and construction inflationary pressures; and (d) provide additional employment opportunities associated with capital expenditures.

(3) To the extent feasible, agencies are directed to accelerate expenditure rates at their current level of permanent employees and shall use contracted design and construction services wherever necessary to meet the goals of this section.

(4) The office of financial management shall report the following to the appropriate fiscal committees of the legislature by January 30, 2005: (a) A listing of reappropriations in the governor’s 2005-2007 capital budget recommendation that will be reappropriated more than once and have ten percent or more of the original appropriation unexpended; and (b) an explanation of why the appropriation remains unexpended.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 907. ACQUISITION OF PROPERTIES AND FACILITIES THROUGH FINANCIAL CONTRACTS. When securing properties under this section, agencies shall use the most economical financial contract option available, including long-term leases, lease-purchase agreements, lease-development with option to purchase agreements or financial contracts using certificates of participation. Expenditures made by an agency for one of the indicated purposes before the issue date of the authorized financial contract and any certificates of participation therein are intended to be reimbursed from proceeds... of the financial contract and any certificates of participation therein to the extent provided in the agency’s financing plan approved by the state finance committee.

State agencies may enter into agreements with the department of general administration and the state treasurer’s office to develop requests to the legislature for acquisition of properties and facilities through financial contracts. The agreements may include charges for services rendered.

The building shall be constructed and financed so that agency occupancy costs will not exceed comparable private market rental rates. The comparable general office space rate shall be calculated based on the three latest Thurston county leases of new space of at least 100,000 rentable square feet adjusted for inflation as determined by the department of general administration. The department of general administration shall coordinate with potential state agency tenants whose current lease expire near the time of occupancy so that buyout of current leases do not add to state expense. The office of financial management shall certify to the state treasurer: (a) The project description and dollar amount; and (b) that all requirements of this subsection (1) have been met.

(2) Department of veterans affairs: Enter into a financing contract in an amount not to exceed $1,441,500 plus financing expenses and required reserves pursuant to chapter 39.94 RCW to build and equip a kitchen in existing shell space at the Spokane veterans home and provide space for displaced functions.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 908. FOR THE ARTS COMMISSION—ART WORK ALLOWANCE POOLING. (1) One-half of one percent of moneys appropriated in this act for original construction of school plant facilities is provided solely for the purposes of RCW 28A.335.210. The Washington state arts commission may combine the proceeds from individual projects in order to fund larger works of art or mobile art displays in consultation with the superintendent of public instruction and representatives of school district boards.

(2) One-half of one percent of moneys appropriated in this act for original construction or any major renovation or remodel work exceeding two hundred thousand dollars by colleges or universities is provided solely for the purposes of RCW 28B.10.027. The Washington state arts commission may combine the proceeds from individual projects in order to fund larger works of art or mobile art displays in consultation with the board of regents or trustees.

(3) One-half of one percent of moneys appropriated in this act for original construction of any public building by a state agency as defined in RCW 43.17.020 is provided solely for the purposes of RCW 43.17.200. The Washington state arts commission may combine the proceeds from individual projects in order to fund larger works of art or mobile art displays in consultation with the state agency.
At least eighty-five percent of the moneys spent by the Washington state arts commission during the 2003-2005 biennium for the purposes of RCW 28A.335.210, 28B.10.027, and 43.17.200 must be expended solely for direct acquisition of works of art.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 909. The amounts shown under the headings “Prior Biennia,” “Future Biennia,” and “Total” in this act are for informational purposes only and do not constitute legislative approval of these amounts. “Prior biennia” typically refers to the immediate prior biennium for reappropriations, but may refer to multiple biennia in the case of specific projects. A “future biennia” amount is an estimate of what may be appropriated for the project or program in the 2005-07 biennium and the following four biennia; an amount of zero does not necessarily constitute legislative intent to not provide funding for the project or program in the future.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 910. “Reappropriations” in this act are appropriations and, unless the context clearly provides otherwise, are subject to the relevant conditions and limitations applicable to appropriations. Reappropriations shall be limited to the unexpended balances remaining on June 30, 2003, from the 2001-2003 biennia appropriations for each project.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 911. To carry out the provisions of this act, the governor may assign responsibility for predesign, design, construction, and other related activities to any appropriate agency.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 912. If any federal moneys appropriated by this act for capital projects are not received by the state, the department or agency to which the moneys were appropriated may replace the federal funds with funds available from private or local sources. No replacement may occur under this section without the prior approval of the director of financial management in consultation with the senate ways and means committee and the house of representatives capital budget committee.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 913. (1) Unless otherwise stated, for all appropriations under this act that require a match of nonstate money or in-kind contributions, the following requirement, consistent with RCW 43.88.150, shall apply: Expenditures of state money shall be timed so that the state share of project expenditures never exceeds the intended state share of total project costs.

(2) Provision of the full amount of required matching funds is not required to permit the expenditure of capital budget appropriations for phased projects if a proportional amount of the required matching funds is provided for each distinct, identifiable phase of the project.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 914. Any capital improvements or capital projects involving construction or major expansion of a state office facility, including, but not limited to, district headquarters, detachment offices, and off-campus faculty offices, must be reviewed by the department of general administration for possible consolidation, colocation, and compliance with state office standards before allotment of funds. The intent of the requirement imposed by this section is to eliminate duplication and reduce total office space requirements where feasible, while ensuring proper service to the public.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 915. (1) The governor, through the office of financial management, may authorize a transfer of appropriation authority provided for a capital project that is in excess of the amount required for the completion of such project to another capital project for which the appropriation is insufficient. No such transfer may be used to expand the capacity of any facility beyond that intended by the legislature in making the appropriation. Such transfers may be effected only between capital appropriations to a specific department, commission, agency, or institution of higher education and only between capital projects that are funded from the same fund or account. No transfers may occur between projects to local government agencies except where the grants are provided within a single omnibus appropriation and where such transfers are specifically authorized by the implementing statutes that govern the grants.

(2) For purposes of this section, the governor may find that an amount is in excess of the amount required for the completion of a project only if: (a) The project as defined in the notes to the budget document is substantially complete and there are funds remaining; or (b) bids have been let on a project and it appears to a substantial certainty that the project as defined in the notes to the budget document can be completed within the biennium for less than the amount appropriated in this act.

(3) For the purposes of this section, the legislature intends that each project be defined as proposed to the legislature in the governor's budget document, unless it clearly appears from the legislative history that the legislature intended to define the scope of a project in a different way.

(4) Transfers of funds to an agency's infrastructure savings appropriation are subject to review and approval by the office of financial management. Expenditures from an infrastructure savings appropriation are limited to projects that have a primary purpose to correct infrastructure deficiencies or conditions that: (a) Adversely affect the ability to utilize the infrastructure for its current programmatic use; (b) reduce the life expectancy of the infrastructure; or (c) increase the operating costs of the infrastructure for its current programmatic use. Eligible infrastructure projects may include structures and surface improvements, site amenities, utility systems outside building footprints and natural environmental changes or requirements as part of an environmental regulation, a declaration of emergency for an infrastructure issue in conformance with RCW 43.88.250, or infrastructure planning as part of a facility master plan.

(5) A report of any transfer effected under this section, except emergency projects or any transfer under $250,000, shall be filed with the legislative fiscal committees of the senate and house of representatives by the office of financial management at least thirty days before the date the transfer is effected. The office of financial management shall report all emergency or smaller transfers within thirty days from the date of transfer.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 916. NONTAXABLE AND TAXABLE BOND PROCEEDS.

Portions of the appropriation authority granted by this act from the state building construction account may be transferred to the state taxable building construction account as deemed necessary by the state finance committee to comply with the federal internal revenue service rules and regulations pertaining to the use of nontaxable bond proceeds. The state treasurer shall submit written notification to the director of financial management if it is determined that a shift of appropriation authority from the state building construction account to the state taxable building construction account is necessary.
NEW SECTION. Sec. 917. The office of financial management, in consultation with the department of general administration, shall identify capital projects that may benefit from an energy analysis to determine whether there are alternate, more economical, and energy efficient means of completing the work. The office of financial management shall hold appropriations in allotment reserve on the following types of capital projects until this analysis can be completed: Heating, ventilation, and air conditioning modifications, chiller plants, steam plants, boilers, chilled water or steam lines, building control systems, lighting improvements, or other major energy using systems that may warrant additional analysis. Agencies receiving appropriations for such projects are encouraged to utilize energy performance contracts or alternative financing for equipment in lieu of state appropriated funds. The office of financial management may transfer funds remaining in allotment reserve to infrastructure savings projects within the agency that has realized savings from energy efficiency alternatives.

Sec. 918. RCW 43.135.045 and 2002 c 33 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:
(1) The emergency reserve fund is established in the state treasury. During each fiscal year, the state treasurer shall deposit in the emergency reserve fund all general fund—state revenues in excess of the state expenditure limit for that fiscal year. Deposits shall be made at the end of each fiscal quarter based on projections of state revenues and the state expenditure limit. The treasurer shall make transfers between these accounts as necessary to reconcile actual annual revenues and the expenditure limit for fiscal year 2000 and thereafter.
(2) Any balance in excess of five percent shall be transferred on a quarterly basis by the state treasurer as follows: Seventy-five percent to the student achievement fund hereby created in the state treasury and twenty-five percent to the general fund balance. The treasurer shall make transfers between these accounts as necessary to reconcile actual annual revenues for fiscal year 2000 and thereafter. When per-student state funding for the maintenance and operation of K-12 education meets a level of no less than ninety percent of the national average of total funding from all sources per student as determined by the most recent published data from the national center for education statistics of the United States department of education, as calculated by the office of financial management, further deposits to the student achievement fund shall be required only to the extent necessary to maintain the ninety-percent level. Remaining funds are part of the general fund balance and these funds are subject to the expenditure limits of this chapter.
(3) The emergency reserve fund balance shall not exceed five percent of annual general fund—state revenues as projected by the official state revenue forecast. An annual balance in excess of five percent shall be transferred on a quarterly basis by the state treasurer as follows: Seventy-five percent to the student achievement fund hereby created in the state treasury and twenty-five percent to the general fund balance. The treasurer shall make transfers between these accounts as necessary to reconcile actual annual revenues for fiscal year 2000 and thereafter.
(4) The education construction fund is hereby created in the state treasury.
(a) Funds may be appropriated from the education construction fund exclusively for common school construction or higher education construction. During the fiscal years beginning July 1, 2003, and ending June 30, 2005, funds may also be used for higher education facilities preservation and maintenance.
(b) Funds may be appropriated for any other purpose only if approved by a two-thirds vote of each house of the legislature and if approved by a vote of the people at the next general election. An appropriation approved by the people under this subsection shall result in an adjustment to the state expenditure limit only for the fiscal period for which the appropriation is made and shall not affect any subsequent fiscal period.
(5) Funds from the student achievement fund shall be appropriated to the superintendent of public instruction strictly for distribution to school districts to meet the provisions set out in the student achievement act. Allocations shall be made on an equal per full-time equivalent student basis to each school district.
(6) Earnings of the emergency reserve fund under RCW 43.84.092(4)(a) shall be transferred quarterly to the multimodal transportation account, except for those earnings that are in excess of thirty-five million dollars each fiscal year. Within thirty days following any fiscal year in which earnings transferred to the multimodal transportation account under this subsection did not total thirty-five million dollars, the state treasurer shall transfer from the emergency reserve fund an amount necessary to bring the total deposited in the multimodal transportation account under this subsection to thirty-five million dollars. The revenues to the multimodal transportation account reflected in this subsection provide ongoing support for the transportation programs of the state. However, it is the intent of the legislature that any new long-term financial support that may be subsequently provided for transportation programs will be used to replace and supplant the revenues reflected in this subsection, thereby allowing those revenues to be returned to the purposes to which they were previously dedicated.

Sec. 919. RCW 43.135.045 and 2001 c 3 s 9, 2000 2nd sp.s. c 5 s 1, and 2000 2nd sp.s. c 2 s 3 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:
(1) The emergency reserve fund is established in the state treasury. During each fiscal year, the state treasurer shall deposit in the emergency reserve fund all general fund—state revenues in excess of the state expenditure limit for that fiscal year. Deposits shall be made at the end of each fiscal quarter based on projections of state revenues and the state expenditure limit. The treasurer shall make transfers between these accounts as necessary to reconcile actual annual revenues and the expenditure limit for fiscal year 2000 and thereafter.
(2) The legislature may appropriate moneys from the emergency reserve fund only with approval of at least two-thirds of the members of each house of the legislature, and then only if the appropriation does not cause total expenditures to exceed the state expenditure limit under this chapter.
(3) The emergency reserve fund balance shall not exceed five percent of annual general fund—state revenues as projected by the official state revenue forecast. Any balance in excess of five percent shall be transferred on a quarterly basis by the state treasurer as follows: Seventy-five percent to the student achievement fund hereby created in the state treasury and twenty-five percent to the general fund balance. The treasurer shall make transfers between these accounts as necessary to reconcile actual annual revenues for fiscal year 2000 and thereafter. When per-student state funding for the maintenance and operation of K-12 education meets a level of no less than ninety percent of the national average of total funding from all sources per student as determined by the most recent published data from the national center for education statistics of the United States department of education, as calculated by the office of financial management, further deposits to the student achievement funds shall be required only to the extent necessary to maintain the ninety-percent level. Remaining funds are part of the general fund balance and these funds are subject to the expenditure limits of this chapter.

(4) The education construction fund is hereby created in the state treasury.
   (a) Funds may be appropriated from the education construction fund exclusively for common school construction or higher education construction. During the fiscal years beginning July 1, 2003, and ending June 30, 2005, funds may also be used for higher education facilities preservation and maintenance.
   (b) Funds may be appropriated for any other purpose only if approved by a two-thirds vote of each house of the legislature and if approved by a vote of the people at the next general election. An appropriation approved by the people under this subsection shall result in an adjustment to the state expenditure limit only for the fiscal period for which the appropriation is made and shall not affect any subsequent fiscal period.

(5) Funds from the student achievement fund shall be appropriated to the superintendent of public instruction strictly for distribution to school districts to meet the provisions set out in the student achievement act. Allocations shall be made on an equal per full-time equivalent student basis to each school district.

(6) Earnings of the emergency reserve fund under RCW 43.84.092(4)(a) shall be transferred quarterly to the multimodal transportation account, except for those earnings that are in excess of thirty-five million dollars each fiscal year. Within thirty days following any fiscal year in which earnings transferred to the multimodal transportation account under this subsection did not total thirty-five million dollars, the state treasurer shall transfer from the emergency reserve fund an amount necessary to bring the total deposited in the multimodal transportation account under this subsection to thirty-five million dollars. The revenues to the multimodal transportation account reflected in this subsection provide ongoing support for the transportation programs of the state. However, it is the intent of the legislature that any new long-term financial support that may be subsequently provided for transportation programs will be used to replace and supplant the revenues reflected in this subsection, thereby allowing those revenues to be returned to the purposes to which they were previously dedicated.

Sec. 920. RCW 46.09.170 and 1995 c 166 s 9 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) From time to time, but at least once each year, the state treasurer shall refund from the motor vehicle fund one percent of the motor vehicle fuel tax revenues collected under chapter 82.36 RCW, based on the tax rate in effect January 1, 1990, less proper deductions for refunds and costs of collection as provided in RCW 46.68.090. The treasurer shall place these funds in the general fund in the following manner:
   (a) Forty percent shall be credited to the ORV and nonhighway vehicle account and administered by the department of natural resources solely for planning, maintenance, and management of ORV recreation facilities, nonhighway roads, and nonhighway road recreation facilities. The funds under this subsection shall be expended in accordance with the following limitations:
      (i) Not more than five percent may be expended for information programs under this chapter;
      (ii) Not less than ten percent and not more than fifty percent may be expended for ORV recreation facilities;
      (iii) Not more than twenty-five percent may be expended for maintenance of nonhighway roads;
      (iv) Not more than fifty percent may be expended for nonhighway road recreation facilities;
      (v) Ten percent shall be transferred to the interagency committee for outdoor recreation for grants to law enforcement agencies in those counties where the department of natural resources maintains ORV facilities. This amount is in addition to those distributions made by the interagency committee for outdoor recreation under (d)(i) of this subsection;
   (b) Three and one-half percent shall be credited to the ORV and nonhighway vehicle account and administered by the department of fish and wildlife solely for the acquisition, planning, development, maintenance, and management of nonhighway roads and recreation facilities;
   (c) Two percent shall be credited to the ORV and nonhighway vehicle account and administered by the parks and recreation commission solely for the maintenance and management of ORV use areas and facilities; and
   (d) Fifty-four and one-half percent, together with the funds received by the interagency committee for outdoor recreation under RCW 46.09.110, shall be credited to the nonhighway and off-road vehicle activities program account to be administered by the committee for planning, acquisition, development, maintenance, and management of ORV recreation facilities and nonhighway road recreation facilities; ORV user education and information; and ORV law enforcement programs. During the fiscal year ending June 30, 2004, a portion of these funds may be appropriated to the department of natural resources to maintain and operate existing ORV and other recreation facilities, including ORV campgrounds, for the state parks and recreation commission to construct and upgrade trails and trail-related facilities for both motorized and nonmotorized users, and for other activities identified in this section. The funds under this subsection shall be expended in accordance with the following limitations, except that during the fiscal year ending June 30, 2004, funds appropriated to the committee from motor vehicle fuel tax revenues for the activities in (d)(ii) and (iii) of this subsection shall be reduced by the amounts appropriated to the department of natural resources and the state parks and recreation commission as provided in this subsection:
      (i) Not more than twenty percent may be expended for ORV education, information, and law enforcement programs under this chapter;
      (ii) Not less than an amount equal to the funds received by the interagency committee for outdoor recreation under RCW 46.09.110 and not more than sixty percent may be expended for ORV recreation facilities;
      (iii) Not more than twenty percent may be expended for nonhighway road recreation facilities.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 925. (1) In concert with a commitment to increase higher education funding levels significantly above historic levels in this biennium and the following two biennia for primarily access-related projects, the legislature is directing a substantial share of state capital resources to reduce the backlog in facility preservation, focusing on the worst and most critical facilities first. The first commitment is dependent on the latter. To that end and through the legislative process, the legislature begins to address findings and recommendations from the higher education preservation study by the joint legislative audit and review committee, report 03-1, by taking the following actions:

(a) The 2003 legislature affirms that proactive and ongoing facility maintenance, properly supported, can prevent and mitigate preservation backlogs and maximize the useful life of physical assets supported by, used by, and beneficial to state taxpayers. As a step toward that end, the legislature appropriates in this act a portion of the facilities operating and maintenance costs for building preservation traditionally appropriated in the omnibus operating budget. This is done in “preventative facility maintenance and building system repairs” sections for each four-year institution and the community and technical college system.

(b) The 2003 legislature affirms the importance of reducing the significant higher education preservation backlog, of instilling a greater sense of stewardship regarding these important state assets, and of preventing the current backlog from reoccurring. The legislature recognizes that the preservation backlog took many years to develop and will take several years to address. The legislature intends that each higher education institution and the community and technical college system stabilize and improve the average facility condition index as compared to levels reported by the higher education preservation study in January 2003.

(c) The 2003 legislature affirms the importance of continuing to address these preservation issues, including developing a comparable framework. Section 924 of this act (JLARC work) is intended to build a foundation for capital budget policy and funding deliberations in the 2005-07 biennium, and beyond.

(2) The emphasis on higher education facility preservation described in subsections (1)(a) and (b) of this section provide extra resources for projects that traditionally fall into minor works categories for “preservation” and “health/safety/code requirements” but not to the exclusion of providing state capital funds for minor works “program” and “infrastructure preservation” projects, separately appropriated. The legislature intends to review infrastructure needs for college and university campuses comprehensively, with the assistance of the joint legislative audit and review committee, the office of financial management, and stakeholder institutions and boards during the interim leading up to the 2005-07 biennium. Until comprehensive, comparable data is collected to inform deliberations, higher education institutions may find it necessary to use local, nonappropriated resources to augment 2003-05 biennial funds given the legislature’s intent and focus in this act on the deferred renewal needs of aging college facilities. Nonappropriated resources should be used to help meet preservation needs in the spirit of recommendation 3 from the joint legislative audit and review committee’s report 03-1.

(3) For projects that address significant preservation needs through major renovations or replacement facilities and that also enhance access by maintaining or improving the usefulness of existing space for important programs, the Gardner-Evans initiative may be appropriate to help fund these projects.

(4) For the purposes of this section and sections that specifically refer to this section by number, the following definitions apply unless the context clearly requires otherwise:

(a) “Auxiliary programs” in the context of higher education means those that are secondary to the missions of state institutions and, being enterprise in character, draw supporting revenue from user fees and charges. Examples include housing and dining; food services; vehicular parking; infirmaries; hospitals; recreation and student-activity centers; campus stores retailing means those that support the primary missions of state institutions: Student instruction, faculty research, and educational public service.

(b) “Average facility condition index” means the index developed in the joint legislative audit and review committee’s report number 03-1.

(c) “Comparable framework” means methods and systems to collect, crosswalk, calibrate, verify on a sample basis, and assemble facilities information produced and maintained by institutions of higher education and other state agencies into a data framework that can be used to understand and budget for state and mixed facilities.

(d) “Educational and general programs” in the context of higher education means those that support the primary missions of state institutions: Student instruction, faculty research, and educational public service.

(e) “Facility rating” is a score that reflects an individual building’s ability to support its current use as measured against one out of five condition classes as follows:
(i) "One" or "superior" means a building with major systems that are in extremely good condition and functioning well;
(ii) "Two" or "adequate" means a building with major systems in good condition, functioning adequately, and within their expected life cycles;

(iv) "Four" or "limited functionality" means a building with some major systems that are in poor condition, exceed expected life cycles, and require immediate attention to prevent or mitigate impacts on function;
(v) "Five" or "marginal functionality" means a building with some major systems that are failing and significantly restrict continued use of the building.
(f) "Gardner-Evans initiative" means the bonds authorized in chapter . . . (Substitute Senate Bill No. 5908), Laws of 2003.

(h) "Mixed facilities" in the context of higher education means a state-owned building structure where educational and general and auxiliary programs are jointly housed, and includes infrastructure necessary for safe and normal operations by its occupants.
(i) "Preservation" means routine and preventive inspection, mechanical adjustments, and minor work to replace or repair systems, surfaces, or materials undertaken to maintain a building and its existing, internal infrastructure for current use by current occupants.
(j) "State facilities" in the context of higher education means a state-owned building structure exclusively housing educational and general programs, and includes infrastructure necessary for safe and normal operation by its occupants.
(k) "Stewardship" means the collective action undertaken with appropriated and nonappropriated funds by institutional authorities to keep facilities in safe and functional condition for occupants, without deterioration for lack of attention or resources, that optimize the useful life of installed building systems and material construction, given advancing age.

MOTION

Senator Zarelli moved that the Report of the Conference Committee on Substitute Senate Bill No. 5401 be adopted. Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Horn: “Senator Zarelli, is the appropriation provided for in section 509 made to the Port of Everett for a rail barge facility intended to be a grant or a loan?”

Senator Zarelli: “Senator Horn, the appropriation is intended to be a grant.”

Senator Horn: “Is it expected that the Port will charge a lease rate to cover the capital costs of the facility?”

Senator Zarelli: “Senator Horn, because this is a grant and the capital costs of the facility will be paid for by the state, it is not expected that the Port will charge a lease rate that includes a payback of the capital grant to either the state or to allow the Port to benefit twice from this grant.”

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the motion by Senator Zarelli to adopt the Report of the Conference Committee on Substitute Senate Bill No. 5401.

MOTION

Senator Zarelli moved that the following striking amendment by Senators Zarelli and Poulsen be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. SHORT TITLE. This act shall be known as the building Washington’s future act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. INTENT. The state’s institutions of higher education are a vital component of the future economic prosperity of our state. In order to ensure that Washington continues to be able to provide a highly qualified work force that can attract businesses and support the economic vitality of the state, it is the intent of this bond act to provide new money for capital projects to help fulfill higher education needs across the state.

This new source of funding for the critical capital needs of the state’s institutions of higher education furthers the mission of higher education and is intended to enhance the abilities of those institutions, over the next six years, to fulfill their critical roles in maintaining and stimulating the state’s economy.

It is the intent of the legislature that this new source of funding not displace funding levels for the capital and operating budgets of the institutions of higher education. It is instead intended that the new funding will allow the institutions, over the next three biennia, to use the current level of capital funding to provide for many of those urgent preservation, replacement, and maintenance needs that have been deferred. This approach is designed to maintain or improve the current infrastructure of our institutions of higher education, and simultaneously to provide new instruction and research capacity to serve the increasing number of traditional college-aged students and those adults returning to college to update skills or retrain so that they can meet the demands of Washington’s changing work force. This new source of funding may also be used for major preservation projects that renovate, replace, or modernize facilities to enhance capacity/access by maintaining or improving the usefulness of existing space for important instruction and research programs.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. DEFINITIONS. The definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(1) "Bonds" means bonds, notes, commercial paper, certificates of indebtedness, or other evidences of indebtedness of the state issued under this chapter.

(2) "Institutions of higher education" means the University of Washington and Washington State University, Western Washington University at Bellingham, Central Washington University at Ellensburg, Eastern Washington University at Cheney, The Evergreen State College, and the community colleges and technical colleges as defined by RCW 28B.50.030.

(3) "Washington’s future bonds" means all or any portion of the general obligation bonds authorized in section 4 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. WASHINGTON’S FUTURE BONDS AUTHORIZED. (1) For the purpose of providing needed capital improvements consisting of the predesign, design, acquisition, construction, modification, renovation, expansion, equipping, and other improvement of state buildings and facilities for the institutions of higher education, the state finance committee is authorized to issue general obligation bonds of the state of Washington in the sum of seven hundred seventy-two million five hundred thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be required, to finance all or a part of the cost of these projects and all costs incidental thereto. The bonds issued under the authority of this section shall be known as Washington’s future bonds.

(2) Bonds authorized in this section shall be sold in the manner, at the time or times, in amounts, and at such prices as the state finance committee shall determine.
NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. BOND ISSUANCE--INTENT. It is the intent of the legislature that the proceeds of new bonds authorized in this chapter will be appropriated in phases over three biennia, beginning with the 2003-2005 biennium, to provide additional funding for capital projects and facilities of the institutions of higher education above historical levels of funding.

This chapter is not intended to limit the legislature's ability to appropriate bond proceeds if the full amount authorized in this chapter has not been appropriated after three biennia, and the authorization to issue bonds contained in this chapter does not expire until the full authorization has been appropriated and issued.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. TERMS AND COVENANTS. (1) The state finance committee is authorized to prescribe the form, terms, conditions, and covenants of the bonds provided for in this chapter, the time or times of sale of all or any portion of them, and the conditions and manner of their sale and issuance.

(2) Bonds issued under this chapter shall state that they are a general obligation of the state of Washington, shall pledge the full faith and credit of the state to the payment of the principal thereof and the interest thereon, and shall contain an unconditional promise to pay the principal and interest as the same shall become due.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. PROCEEDS. (1) The proceeds from the sale of the bonds authorized in section 4 of this act shall be deposited in the Gardner-Evans higher education construction account created in section 13 of this act.

(2) The proceeds shall be used exclusively for the purposes in section 4 of this act and for the payment of the expenses incurred in connection with the sale and issuance of the bonds.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. The legislature intends to use the proceeds from the sale of bonds issued under this chapter for the following projects during the 2005-07 and 2007-09 biennia:

(1) For the University of Washington:
(a) Life sciences I building;

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. PAYMENT PROCEDURES. (1) The debt-limit general fund bond retirement account shall be used for the payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds authorized in this chapter.

(2) The state finance committee shall, on or before June 30th of each year, certify to the state treasurer the amount needed in the ensuing twelve months to meet the bond retirement and interest requirements on the bonds authorized in this chapter.

(3) On each date on which any interest or principal and interest payment is due on bonds issued under this chapter, the state treasurer shall withdraw from any general state revenues received in the state treasury and deposit in the debt-limit general fund bond retirement account an amount equal to the amount certified by the state finance committee to be due on the payment date.
The owner and holder of each of the bonds or the trustee for the owner and holder of any of the bonds may by mandamus or other appropriate proceeding require the transfer and payment of funds as directed in this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. BONDS—LEGAL INVESTMENT FOR PUBLIC FUNDS. The bonds authorized by this chapter shall constitute a legal investment for all state funds or for funds under state control and all funds of municipal corporations.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. ADDITIONAL METHODS OF PAYING DEBT SERVICE AUTHORIZED. The legislature may provide additional means for raising moneys for the payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds authorized under this chapter, and section 9 of this act shall not be deemed to provide an exclusive method for payment.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. CHAPTER SUPPLEMENTAL. This chapter provides a complete, additional, and alternative method for accomplishing the purposes of this chapter and is supplemental and additional to powers conferred by other laws. The issuance of bonds under this chapter shall not be deemed to be the only method to fund projects under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. CREATION OF THE GARDNER-EVANS HIGHER EDUCATION CONSTRUCTION ACCOUNT. The Gardner-Evans higher education construction account is created in the state treasury. Proceeds from the bonds issued under section 4 of this act shall be deposited in the account. The account shall be used for purposes of section 4 of this act. Moneys in the account may be spent only after appropriation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. CAPTIONS NOT LAW. Captions used in this act are not any part of the law.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Roach, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 5463 was returned to second reading and read the second time.
Senator Roach moved that the following striking amendment be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. Notwithstanding any provisions of Title 29 RCW, between the effective date of this act and December 31, 2004, the counties of Thurston, Pierce, Kitsap, Spokane, Snohomish, Island, and Cowlitz may participate in the pilot project Secure Electronic Registration and Voting Experiment (SERVE) authorized in the National Defense Authorization Act (P.L. 107-107). Participation of the counties must be approved by the secretary of state and implementation must be in compliance with standards and regulations established by the federal voting assistance program of the United States Department of Defense. Between the effective date of this act and December 31, 2004, participating counties must use the SERVE pilot project for all elections for which the SERVE voting system is available for use.

The SERVE pilot project must allow registered overseas voters, as defined in RCW 29.01.117, and registered service voters, as defined in RCW 29.01.155, to cast their votes electronically, including over the Internet and the World Wide Web. Except for the provisions of RCW 29.36.290 regarding the method for transmitting absentee voting materials and of RCW 29.36.310 regarding the method for processing absentee ballots, votes must be cast and counted in conformity with Title 29 RCW. The SERVE voting system is exempt from the requirements of RCW 29.33.300(6) and 29.33.320(6). Election officials must rely upon the procedures established by the United States Department of Defense for the security, secrecy, and validation of votes cast electronically, but the secretary of state is responsible for verifying the accuracy, secrecy, independence, and security of cast ballots. Votes transmitted over an electronic medium, such as the Internet or the World Wide Web, to the election authority under Title 29 RCW are subject to recount and election contest requirements, but not on the grounds that the vote is invalid or suspect because it was cast electronically. The tabulation of SERVE pilot project votes is subject to the tabulation and observer requirements of RCW 29.54.025. The secretary of state must make certain and confirm that a dependable and accurate ballot tracking procedure is in place for purposes of a statutory recount, as defined in chapter 29.64 RCW.

Ed. 2d 716 (1994)) and Sullivan Creek (Public Utility District No. 1 of Pend Oreille County v. Enactment of this legislation does not expand or contract the legal holdings of these decisions and does not affect in any way the application of these holdings to any future case or fact pattern related to water quality certifications issued for federally licensed hydropower facilities under section 401 of the clean water act, 33 U.S.C. 1251 et seq.

(2) When a water quality standard cannot be reasonably met through the issuance of permits or regulatory orders issued under the authority of this chapter, the department may use voluntary, incentive-based methods including funding of water conservation projects, lease and purchase of water rights, development of new storage projects, or habitat restoration projects in an attempt to meet water quality standards.

(3) The department may not abrogate, supersede, impair, or condition the ability of a water right holder to fully divert or withdraw water under a water right permit, certificate, statutory exemption, or claim granted or recognized under chapter 90.03, 90.14, or 90.44 RCW through the authority granted to the department in this chapter. Except as provided in RCW 43.05.030 through 43.05.080 and 43.05.150, (((the power is granted to))) the department of ecology (((of ecology))) may levy civil penalties ((of up to five hundred dollars per day for violation of any of the provisions of this chapter and chapters 43.83B, 90.02, and 90.44 RCW, and rules, permits, and similar documents and regulatory orders of the department of ecology adopted or issued pursuant to such chapters. If so, how would we pursue that at this time?”

NEW SECTION. Sec. 421. FOR THE DEPARTMENT OF NATURAL RESOURCES
Trust Land Transfer Program (04-2-010)

The state building construction account appropriation in this section is subject to the following conditions and limitations:

(1) The total appropriation is provided to the department solely to transfer from trust status or enter into thirty-year timber harvest restrictive easements/leases for certain trust lands of state-wide significance deemed appropriate for state park, fish and wildlife habitat, natural area preserve, natural resources conservation area, open space, or recreation purposes.

(2) Property transferred under this section shall be appraised and transferred at fair market value. The value of the timber transferred shall be deposited by the department to the common school construction account in the same manner as timber revenues from other common school trust lands. No deduction shall be made for the resource management cost account under RCW 79.64.040. The value of the land transferred shall be deposited in the natural resources real property replacement account. These funds shall be expended by the department for the exclusive purpose of acquiring commercial real property of equal value to be managed as common school trust land.

(3) Property subject to easement/lease agreements under this section shall be appraised at fair market value both with and without the imposition of the easement/lease. The entire difference in appraised value shall be deposited by the department to the common school construction fund in the same manner as lease revenues from other common school trust lands. No deduction shall be made for the resource management cost account under RCW 79.64.040.

(4) All reasonable costs incurred by the department to implement this section are authorized to be paid out of this appropriation. Authorized costs include the actual cost of appraisals, staff time, environmental reviews, surveys, and other similar costs.

(5) Intergrant exchanges between common school and other trust lands of equal value may occur if the exchange is in the interest of each trust, as determined by the board of natural resources.

(6) Prior to or concurrent with conveyance of these properties, the department, with full cooperation of the receiving agencies, shall execute and record a real property instrument that dedicates the transferred properties to the purposes identified in subsection (1) of this section for a minimum period of thirty years. The department of natural resources, in consultation with the receiving state agencies, shall develop policy to address requests to replace transferred properties subject to the recorded property instrument that are no longer deemed appropriate for the purposes identified in subsection (1) of this section.

(7) The department and receiving agencies shall work in good faith to carry out the intent of this section. However, the department or receiving agencies may remove a property from the transfer list based on new, substantive information, if it is determined that transfer of the property is not in the statewide interest of either the common school trust or the receiving agency.

(8) The department shall execute trust land transfers and easements/leases such that, after the deduction of reasonable costs as provided in subsection (4) of this section, eighty percent of the appropriation in this section is deposited in the common school construction fund. To achieve the 80:20 ratio, the department may offset transfers of property with low timber-to-land ratios with easements/leases on other properties.

(9) On June 30, 2005, the state treasurer shall transfer all remaining uncommitted funds from this appropriation to the common school construction fund and the appropriation in this section shall be reduced by an equivalent amount.

(10) The appropriation in this section is provided for a list of projects in LEAP capital document No. 2003-17, as developed on June 4, 2003.

(11) The department of natural resources shall manage lands acquired as "Bone river natural area preserve" as a natural resources conservation area under chapter 79.71 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 902. Allotments for appropriations in this act shall be provided in accordance with the capital project review requirements adopted by the office of financial management. The office of financial management shall notify the house of representatives capital budget committee and the senate ways and means committee of allotment releases based on review by the office of financial management. No expenditure may be incurred or obligation entered into for appropriations in this act until the office of financial management has given final approval to the allotment of the funds to be expended or encumbered. For allotments under this act, the allotment process includes, in addition to the statement of proposed expenditures for the current biennium, a category or categories for any reserve amounts and amounts expected to be expended in future biennia. Projects that will be employing alternative public works construction procedures under chapter 39.10 RCW are subject to the allotment procedures defined in this section and RCW 43.85.110. Contracts shall not be executed that call for expenditures in excess of the approved allotment, and the total amount shown in such contracts for the cost of future work that has not been appropriated shall not exceed the amount identified for such work in the level of funding approved by the office of financial management at the completion of predesign.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 903. To ensure that major construction projects are carried out in accordance with legislative and executive intent, appropriations in this act in excess of $5,000,000 shall not be expended or encumbered until the office of financial management has reviewed and approved the agency’s predesign and other documents, and approved an allotment for the project that includes specific authorization to enter into a contract to expend or encumber funds. To improve monitoring of major construction projects, progress reports shall be submitted by the agency administering the project to the office of financial management and to the fiscal committees of the house of representatives and senate. Reports will be submitted on July 1st and December 31st each year in a format to be developed by the office of financial management.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 905. To ensure that minor works appropriations are carried out in accordance with legislative intent, funds appropriated in this act shall not be allotted until project lists are on file at the office of financial management. Minor works appropriations shall not be used for studies unless expressly authorized elsewhere in this act. The office of financial management shall forward copies of these project lists to the house of representatives capital budget committee and the senate ways and means committee. No expenditure may be incurred or obligation entered into for minor works appropriations until the office of financial management has approved the allotment of the funds to be expended. The office of financial management shall encourage state agencies to incorporate accessibility planning and improvements into the normal and customary capital program.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 906. (1) The legislature expects projects to be ready to proceed in a timely manner depending on the type or phase of the project or program that is the subject of the appropriation in this act. Except for major projects that customarily may take more than two biennia to complete from predesign to the end of construction, or large infrastructure grant or loan programs supporting projects that often take more than two biennia to complete, the legislature generally does not intend to reappropriate funds more than once, particularly for smaller grant programs, local/community projects, and minor works.

(2) Agencies shall expedite the expenditure of reappropriations and appropriations in this act in order to: (a) Rehabilitate infrastructure resources; (b) accelerate environmental rehabilitation and restoration projects for the improvement of the state’s natural environment; (c) reduce additional costs associated with acquisition and construction inflationary pressures; and (d) provide additional employment opportunities associated with capital expenditures.

A "future biennia" amount is an estimate of what may be appropriated for the project or program in the 2005-07 biennium and the following four biennia; an amount of zero does not necessarily constitute legislative intent to not provide funding for the project or program in the future.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 910. "Reappropriations" in this act are appropriations and, unless the context clearly provides otherwise, are subject to the relevant conditions and limitations applicable to appropriations. Reappropriations shall be limited to the unexpended balances remaining on June 30, 2003, from the 2001-2003 biennial appropriations for each project.

(1) The governor, through the office of financial management, may authorize a transfer of appropriation authority provided for a capital project that is in excess of the amount required for the completion of such project to another capital project for which the appropriation is insufficient. No such transfer may be used to expand the capacity of any facility beyond that intended by the legislature in making the appropriation. Such transfers may be effected only between capital appropriations to a specific department, commission, agency, or institution of higher education and only between capital projects that are funded from the same fund or account.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 916. NONTAXABLE AND TAXABLE BOND PROCEEDS. Portions of the appropriation authority granted by this act from the state building construction account may be transferred to the state taxable building construction account as deemed necessary by the state finance committee to comply with the federal internal revenue service rules and regulations pertaining to the use of nontaxable bond proceeds. NEW SECTION. Sec. 917. The office of financial management, in consultation with the department of general administration, shall identify capital projects that may benefit from an energy analysis to determine whether there are alternate energy efficient means of completing the work. The office of financial management shall hold appropriations in allotment reserve on the following types of capital projects until this analysis can be completed: Heating, ventilation, and air conditioning modifications, chiller plants, steam plants, boilers, chilled water or steam lines, building control systems, lighting improvements, or other major energy using systems that may warrant additional analysis. Agencies receiving appropriations for such projects are encouraged to utilize energy performance contracts or alternative financing for equipment in lieu of state appropriated funds. The office of financial management may transfer funds remaining in allotment reserve to infrastructure savings projects within the agency that has realized savings from energy efficiency alternatives.

(1) The emergency reserve fund is established in the state treasury. During each fiscal year, the state treasurer shall deposit in the emergency reserve fund all general fund--state revenues in excess of the state expenditure limit for that fiscal year. Deposits shall be made at the end of each fiscal quarter based on projections of state revenues and the state expenditure limit. The treasurer shall make transfers between these accounts as necessary to reconcile actual annual revenues and the expenditure limit for fiscal year 2000 and thereafter.

(2) The legislature may appropriate moneys from the emergency reserve fund only with approval of at least two-thirds of the members of each house of the legislature, and then only if the appropriation does not cause total expenditures to exceed the state expenditure limit under this chapter. However, during the 2001-2003 biennium, the legislature may transfer moneys from the emergency reserve fund to the general fund only with approval of a majority of the members of each house of the legislature, and then only if the appropriation does not cause total expenditures to exceed the state expenditure limit under this chapter.

(3) The emergency reserve fund balance shall not exceed five percent of annual general fund--state revenues as projected by the official state revenue forecast. An annual balance in excess of five percent shall be transferred on a quarterly basis by the state treasurer as follows: Seventy-five percent to the student achievement fund hereby created in the state treasury and twenty-five percent to the general fund balance. The treasurer shall make transfers between these accounts as necessary to reconcile actual annual revenues for fiscal year 2000 and thereafter. When per-student state funding for the maintenance and operation of K-12 education meets a level of no less than ninety percent of the national average of total funding from all sources per student as determined by the most recent published data from the national center for education statistics of the United States department of education, as calculated by the office of financial management, further deposits to the student achievement fund shall be required only to the extent necessary to maintain the ninety-percent level. Remaining funds are part of the general fund balance and these funds are subject to the expenditure limits of this chapter.

(4) The education construction fund is hereby created in the state treasury.
(a) Funds may be appropriated from the education construction fund exclusively for common school construction or higher education construction. During the fiscal years beginning July 1, 2003, and ending June 30, 2005, funds may also be used for higher education facilities preservation and maintenance.

(b) Funds may be appropriated for any other purpose only if approved by a two-thirds vote of each house of the legislature and if approved by a vote of the people at the next general election. An appropriation approved by the people under this subsection shall result in an adjustment to the state expenditure limit only for the fiscal period for which the appropriation is made and shall not affect any subsequent fiscal period.

(5) Funds from the student achievement fund shall be appropriated to the superintendent of public instruction strictly for distribution to school districts to meet the provisions set out in the student achievement act. Allocations shall be made on an equal per full-time equivalent student basis to each school district.

(6) Earnings of the emergency reserve fund under RCW 43.84.092(4)(a) shall be transferred quarterly to the multimodal transportation account, except for those earnings that are in excess of thirty-five million dollars each fiscal year. Within thirty days following any fiscal year in which earnings transferred to the multimodal transportation account under this subsection did not total thirty-five million dollars, the state treasurer shall transfer from the emergency reserve fund an amount necessary to bring the total deposited in the multimodal transportation account under this subsection to thirty-five million dollars. The revenues to the multimodal transportation account reflected in this subsection provide ongoing support for the transportation programs of the state. However, it is the intent of the legislature that any new long-term financial support that may be subsequently provided for transportation programs will be used to replace and supplant the revenues reflected in this subsection, thereby allowing those revenues to be returned to the purposes to which they were previously dedicated.

Sec. 919. RCW 43.135.045 and 2001 c 3 s 9, 2000 2nd sp.s. c 5 s 1, and 2000 2nd sp.s. c 2 s 3 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:
(1) The emergency reserve fund is established in the state treasury. During each fiscal year, the state treasurer shall deposit in the emergency reserve fund all general fund--state revenues in excess of the state expenditure limit for that fiscal year. Deposits shall be made at the end of each fiscal quarter based on projections of state revenues and the state expenditure limit. The treasurer shall make transfers between these accounts as necessary to reconcile actual annual revenues and the expenditure limit for fiscal year 2000 and thereafter.

(2) The legislature may appropriate moneys from the emergency reserve fund only with approval of at least two-thirds of the members of each house of the legislature, and then only if the appropriation does not cause total expenditures to exceed the state expenditure limit under this chapter.

(3) The emergency reserve fund balance shall not exceed five percent of annual general fund--state revenues as projected by the official state revenue forecast. Any balance in excess of five percent shall be transferred on a quarterly basis by the state treasurer as follows: Seventy-five percent to the student achievement fund hereby created in the state treasury and twenty-five percent to the general fund balance. The treasurer shall make transfers between these accounts as necessary to reconcile actual annual revenues for fiscal year 2000 and thereafter. When per-student state funding for the maintenance and operation of K-12 education meets a level of no less than ninety percent of the national average of total funding from all sources per student as determined by the most recent published data from the national center for education statistics of the United States department of education, as calculated by the office of financial management, further deposits to the student achievement fund shall be required only to the extent necessary to maintain the ninety-percent level. Remaining funds are part of the general fund balance and these funds are subject to the expenditure limits of this chapter.

(4) The education construction fund is hereby created in the state treasury.

(a) Funds may be appropriated from the education construction fund exclusively for common school construction or higher education construction. During the fiscal years beginning July 1, 2003, and ending June 30, 2005, funds may also be used for higher education facilities preservation and maintenance facilities. Funds may be appropriated for any other purpose only if approved by a two-thirds vote of each house of the legislature and if approved by a vote of the people at the next general election. An appropriation approved by the people under this subsection shall result in an adjustment to the state expenditure limit only for the fiscal period for which the appropriation is made and shall not affect any subsequent fiscal period.

(b) Funds may be appropriated to the committee from motor vehicle fuel tax revenues collected under chapter 82.36 RCW, based on the tax rate in effect January 1, 1990, less proper deductions for refunds and costs of collection as provided in RCW 46.68.090. The treasurer shall place these funds in the general fund as provided in the general fund, and shall not affect any subsequent fiscal period. Notwithstanding the provisions of this subsection to thirty-five million dollars, the state treasurer shall transfer from the emergency reserve fund an amount necessary to bring the total deposited in the multimodal transportation account under this subsection to thirty-five million dollars. The revenues to the multimodal transportation account reflected in this subsection provide ongoing support for the transportation programs of the state. However, it is the intent of the legislature that any new long-term financial support that may be subsequently provided for transportation programs will be used to replace and supplant the revenues reflected in this subsection, thereby allowing those revenues to be returned to the purposes to which they were previously dedicated.

Sec. 920. RCW 46.09.170 and 1997 c 96 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) From time to time, but at least once each year, the state treasurer shall refund from the motor vehicle fund one percent of the motor vehicle fuel tax revenues collected under chapter 82.36 RCW, based on the tax rate in effect January 1, 1990, less proper deductions for refunds and costs of collection as provided in RCW 46.68.090. The treasurer shall place these funds in the general fund as provided in the general fund, (a) forty percent shall be credited to the ORV and nonhighway vehicle account and administered by the department of natural resources solely for planning, maintenance, and management of ORV recreation facilities, nonhighway roads, and nonhighway road recreation facilities. The funds under this subsection shall be expended in accordance with the following limitations:

(i) Not more than five percent may be expended for information programs under this chapter;
(ii) Not less than ten percent and not more than thirty-five percent may be expended for ORV recreation facilities;
(iii) Not more than twenty-five percent may be expended for maintenance of nonhighway roads;
(iv) Not more than fifty percent may be expended for nonhighway road recreation facilities;
(v) Ten percent shall be transferred to the interagency committee for outdoor recreation for grants to law enforcement agencies in those counties where the department of natural resources maintains ORV facilities. This amount is in addition to those distributions made by the interagency committee for outdoor recreation under (d)(i) of this subsection;

(b) Three and one-half percent shall be credited to the ORV and nonhighway vehicle account and administered by the department of fish and wildlife solely for the acquisition, planning, development, maintenance, and management of nonhighway roads and recreation facilities;

(c) Two percent shall be credited to the ORV and nonhighway vehicle account and administered by the parks and recreation commission solely for the maintenance and management of ORV use areas and facilities; and

(d) Fifty-four and one-half percent, together with the funds received by the interagency committee for outdoor recreation under RCW 46.09.110, shall be credited to the nonhighway and off-road vehicle activities program account to be administered by the committee for planning, acquisition, development, maintenance, and management of ORV recreation facilities and nonhighway road recreation facilities; ORV user education and information; and ORV law enforcement programs. During the fiscal year ending June 30, 2004, a portion of these funds may be appropriated to the department of natural resources to maintain and operate existing ORV and other recreation facilities, including ORV campgrounds, for the state parks and recreation commission to construct and upgrade trails and trail-related facilities for both motorized and nonmotorized uses, and for other activities identified in this section. The funds under this subsection shall be expended in accordance with the following limitations, except that during the fiscal year ending June 30, 2004, funds appropriated to the committee from motor vehicle fuel tax revenues for the activities in (d)(ii) and (iii) of this subsection shall be reduced by the amounts appropriated to the department of natural resources and the state parks and recreation commission as provided in this subsection:

(i) Not more than twenty percent may be expended for ORV education, information, and law enforcement programs under this chapter;
(ii) Not less than an amount equal to the funds received by the interagency committee for outdoor recreation under RCW 46.09.110 and not more than sixty percent may be expended for ORV recreation facilities;
(iii) Not more than twenty percent may be expended for nonhighway road recreation facilities.

(2) On a yearly basis an agency may not, except as provided in RCW 46.09.110, expend more than ten percent of the funds received under this chapter for general administration expenses incurred in carrying out this chapter.

Sec. 921. RCW 43.88.032 and 1997 c 96 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Normal maintenance costs, except for funds appropriated for facility preservation of state institutions of higher education, shall be programmed in the operating budget rather than in the capital budget.
(2) All debt-financed pass-through money to local governments shall be programmed and separately identified in the budget document.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 922. The University of Washington shall develop a ten year program for the eventual relocation of the residents of the floating homes located at 1409 NE Boat street. After meeting and negotiating with the affected residents, the University of Washington shall develop a report to the legislature. The report, giving the various options for achieving relocation, shall be submitted no later than January 15, 2004, to the senate ways and means committee and the house of representatives capital budget committee. Relocation may include the purchase and rental back of existing homes through reverse declining purchase agreements, the physical relocation of the floating homes to other locations, the creation of a buy-back fund, the relocation of residents in concert with the purchase of the existing residences, or other creative real estate transactions that achieve the relocation of the existing residents or floating homes.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 923. (1) The joint legislative audit and review committee shall conduct a performance audit of state capital planning, design, and construction processes. In conducting this study, the committee shall select a sample of major capital projects from the 1995-97 through the 2003-05 biennia in higher education, corrections, social and health services, and other state agencies. Capital projects selected for this sample shall accommodate regional differences within the state. The committee shall consider the following topics in conducting this performance audit:

(a) Agency development, evaluation, and justification of the cost drivers and cost elements associated with each of the major phases of a capital project: General or master planning, predesign, design, construction, and postconstruction review;

(b) Evaluation of the management and fiscal controls surrounding agency capital project decision making and implementation processes, such as policy goals, planning procedures, budget limits, cost and performance standards, criteria for selecting project priorities, written instructions, review processes, as well as management, oversight, reporting, and accountability systems;

(c) Processes and standards for cost-effective and efficient design and construction contracting, management, oversight, and review;

(d) Assignment of agency staff and administrative costs to major capital construction projects and the relationship of such agency costs to project delivery;

(e) Extent of the practice of including equipment as part of the basic capital project costs, and how equipment costs are estimated and evaluated for inclusion in projects; and

(f) Comparison of costs to public and private sector benchmarks, when available and where appropriate, in establishing cost parameters for state capital construction projects.

(2) To the extent resources permit, the audit shall include a review of public works projects utilizing the general contractor/construction manager procedure. This may include: An inventory of the state agencies and local jurisdictions that have used the general contractor/construction manager procedure, including the number, size, type, and cost of public works projects built or being built using the procedure; an examination of the ways the general contractor/construction manager procedure may affect public benefits and costs associated with public works projects; and, if feasible, based on a sample of public works projects built after June 9, 1994, an analysis of the costs and benefits of using the general contractor/construction manager procedure as opposed to other public works contracting procedures.

(3) State agencies, including state public higher education institutions, shall provide any requested information concerning the planning, selection, design, contracting, implementation, management, costs, performance, and outcomes of projects to the joint legislative audit and review committee in a timely manner, including relevant proprietary information that may be associated with individual firms. However, any proprietary information provided to the committee for this performance audit shall be deemed confidential and shall not be subject to public disclosure.

(4) In conducting this performance audit, the committee shall work closely with the appropriate legislative fiscal committees and shall consult with the office of financial management, the department of general administration, the department of corrections, the department of social and health services, the higher education coordinating board, the state board for community and technical colleges, individual higher education institutions, and other agencies as appropriate. The committee may contract for consulting services in conducting this performance audit. In its final report, the committee shall make recommendations as appropriate. The committee shall provide a progress report to the appropriate legislative committees by January 9, 2004, and a final report by January 8, 2005.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 924. The joint legislative audit and review committee, in collaboration with the legislative evaluation and accountability program, shall accomplish the following higher education comparable framework tasks and projects during the 2003-05 biennium:

(1) Fill in comparable framework gaps related to infrastructure.

(a) Develop inventory and condition protocols/standards;

(b) Develop infrastructure cost factors;

(c) Facilitate institution data collection and reporting;

(d) Field-verify data on a sample basis;

(e) Develop translation protocols;

(f) Translate data and populate comparable framework.

(2) Explore the feasibility of including dates of renewal and replacement of major building systems in the comparable framework.

(a) Develop protocols/standards;

(b) Facilitate institution data collection and reporting;

(c) Field-verify data on a sample basis;

(d) Develop translation protocols;

(e) Translate data and populate comparable framework.

(3) Explore how the comparable framework could be expanded to facility modernization.

(a) Analyze the feasibility of and approaches to quantifying modernization backlogs across institutions;
(b) Describe current modernization rating processes used by individual institutions including how they fit into master plans, program delivery choices, and other manifestations related to the development of requests for capital support from the state;
(c) Explore models used in other government sectors;
(d) Assess benefits and costs of potential approaches.
(4) Explore how to integrate the comparable framework with governmental accounting standards for accountability related to the efficiency and effectiveness of managing public assets.
(5) Revise and update the comparable framework data base.
(a) Modify and/or develop, as needed, tables, queries, and reports;
(b) Develop reporting capabilities to share data with other legislative agencies, the office of financial management, the higher education coordinating board, the state board for community and technical colleges, and state institutions of higher education.

In executing these tasks, the joint legislative audit and review committee shall seek technical advice and input from stakeholder groups including but not limited to the office of financial management, the higher education coordinating board, the state board for community and technical colleges, and the council of presidents.

As a general condition upon appropriations provided to higher education institutions in part five of this act, higher education institutions, the higher education coordinating board, the office of financial management, and the state board for community and technical colleges shall provide any requested information to the joint legislative audit and review committee in a timely manner to enable its completion of the above tasks and projects so assigned.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 925. (1) In concert with a commitment to increase higher education funding levels significantly above historic levels in this biennium and the following two biennia for primarily access-related projects, the legislature is directing a substantial share of state capital resources to reduce the backlog in facility preservation, focusing on the worst and most critical facilities first. The first commitment is dependent on the latter. To that end and through the first commitment, the legislature begins to address findings and recommendations from the higher education preservation study by the joint legislative audit and review committee, report 03-1, by taking the following actions:
(a) The 2003 legislature affirms that proactive and ongoing facility maintenance, properly supported, can prevent and mitigate preservation backlogs and maximize the useful life of physical assets supported by, used by, and beneficial to state taxpayers. As a step toward that end, the legislature appropriates in this act a portion of the facilities operating and maintenance costs for building preservation traditionally appropriated in the omnibus operating budget. This is done in "preventative facility maintenance and building system repairs" sections for each four-year institution and the community and technical college system.
(b) The 2003 legislature affirms the importance of reducing the significant higher education preservation backlog, of instilling a greater sense of stewardship regarding these important state assets, and of preventing the current backlog from reoccurring. The legislature recognizes that the preservation backlog took many years to develop and will take several years to address. The legislature intends that each higher education institution and the community and technical college system stabilize and improve the average facility condition index as compared to levels reported by the higher education preservation study in January 2003.

(b) The 2003 legislature affirms the importance of reducing the significant higher education preservation backlog, of instilling a greater sense of stewardship regarding these important state assets, and of preventing the current backlog from reoccurring. The legislature recognizes that the preservation backlog took many years to develop and will take several years to address. The legislature intends that each higher education institution and the community and technical college system stabilize and improve the average facility condition index as compared to levels reported by the higher education preservation study in January 2003.

(2) The emphasis on higher education facility preservation described in subsections (1)(a) and (b) of this section provide extra resources for projects that traditionally fall into minor works categories for "preservation" and "health/safety/code requirements" but not to the exclusion of providing state capital funds for minor works "program" and "infrastructure preservation" projects, separately appropriated. The legislature intends to review infrastructure needs for college and university campuses comprehensively, with the assistance of the joint legislative audit and review committee, the office of financial management, and stakeholder institutions and boards during the interim leading up to the 2005-07 biennium. Until comprehensive, comparable data is collected to inform deliberations, higher education institutions may find it necessary to use local, nonappropriated resources to augment 2003-05 biennial funds given the legislature's intent and focus in this act on the deferred renewal needs of aging college facilities. Nonappropriated resources should be used to help meet preservation needs in the spirit of recommendation 3 from the joint legislative audit and review committee's report 03-1.

(3) For projects that address significant preservation needs through major renovations or replacement facilities, the Gardner-Evans initiative may be appropriate to help fund these projects.

(4) For the purposes of this section and sections that specifically refer to this section by number, the following definitions apply unless the context clearly requires otherwise:
(a) "Auxiliary programs" in the context of higher education means those that are secondary to the missions of state institutions and, being enterprise in character, draw supporting revenue from user fees and charges. Examples include housing and dining; food services; vehicular parking; infirmaries; hospitals; recreation and student-activity centers; campus stores; retailing; textbookstores; supplies, clothing, and objects bearing institutional logos or emblems; and media reproduction centers, among others.
(b) "Average facility condition index" means the index developed in the joint legislative audit and review committee's report number 03-1.
(c) "Comparable framework" means methods and systems to collect, crosswalk, calibrate, verify on a sample basis, and assemble facilities information produced and maintained by institutions of higher education and other state agencies into a data framework that can be used to understand and budget for state and mixed facilities.
(d) "Educational and "General programs" in the context of higher education means those that support the primary missions of state institutions: Student instruction, faculty research, and educational public service.
(e) "Average condition classes as follo...
(a) "One" or "superior" means a building with major systems that are in extremely good condition and functioning well.

(b) "Two" or "adequate" means a building with major systems in good condition, functioning adequately, and within their expected life cycles.

(c) "Three" or "fair" means a building with some older major systems that, though still functional, are approaching the end of their expected life cycles.

(d) "Four" or "limited functionality" means a building with some major systems that are in poor condition, exceed expected life cycles, and require immediate attention to prevent or mitigate impacts on function.

(e) "Five" or "marginal functionality" means a building with some major systems that are failing and significantly restrict continued use of the building.

(f) "Gardner-Evans initiative" means the bonds authorized in chapter . . . (Substitute Senate Bill No. 5908), Laws of 2003.

(g) "Major building system" refers to foundations, building structure, roofs, interior construction and finishes, heating, ventilation, and air conditioning systems, electrical systems, plumbing, and other components necessary for safe and normal plant operation.

(h) "Mixed facilities" in the context of higher education means a state-owned building structure where educational and general and auxiliary programs are jointly housed, and includes infrastructure necessary for safe and normal operations by its occupants.

(i) "Preservation" means routine and preventive inspection, mechanical adjustments, and minor work to replace or repair systems, surfaces, or materials undertaken to maintain a building and its existing, internal infrastructure for current use by current occupants.

(j) "State facilities" in the context of higher education means a state-owned building structure exclusively housing educational and general programs, and includes infrastructure necessary for safe and normal operation by its occupants.

(k) "Stewardship" means the collective action undertaken with appropriated and nonappropriated funds by institutional authorities to keep facilities in safe and functional condition for occupants, without deterioration for lack of attention or resources, that optimize the useful life of installed building systems and material construction, given advancing age.

Senator Horn: “Senator Zarelli, is the appropriation provided for in section 509 made to the Port of Everett for a rail barge facility intended to be a grant or a loan?”

Senator Zarelli: “Senator Horn, the appropriation is intended to be a grant.”

Senator Horn: “Is it expected that the Port will charge a lease rate to cover the capital costs of the facility?”

Senator Zarelli: “Senator Horn, because this is a grant and the capital costs of the facility will be paid for by the state, it is not expected that the Port will charge a lease rate that includes a payback of the capital grant to either the state or to allow the Port to benefit twice from this grant.”

MOTION

Senator Zarelli moved that the following striking amendment by Senators Zarelli and Poulsen be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. SHORT TITLE. This act shall be known as the building Washington’s future act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. INTENT. The state’s institutions of higher education are a vital component of the future economic prosperity of our state. In order to ensure that Washington continues to be able to provide a highly qualified work force that can attract businesses and support the economic vitality of the state, it is the intent of this bond act to provide new money for capital projects to help fulfill higher education needs across the state.

This new source of funding for the critical capital needs of the state’s institutions of higher education furthers the mission of higher education and is intended to enhance the abilities of those institutions, over the next six years, to fulfill their critical roles in maintaining and stimulating the state’s economy.

It is the intent of the legislature that this new source of funding not displace funding levels for the capital and operating budgets of the institutions of higher education. It is instead intended that the new funding will allow the institutions, over the next three biennia, to use the current level of capital funding to provide for many of those urgent preservation, replacement, and maintenance needs that have been deferred. This approach is designed to maintain or improve the current infrastructure of our institutions of higher education, and simultaneously to provide new instruction and research capacity to serve the increasing number of traditional college-aged students and those adults returning to college to update skills or retrain so that they can meet the demands of Washington’s changing work force. This new source of funding may also be used for major preservation projects that renovate, replace, or modernize facilities to enhance capacity/access by maintaining or improving the usefulness of existing space for important instruction and research programs.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. DEFINITIONS. The definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(1) "Bonds" means bonds, notes, commercial paper, certificates of indebtedness, or other evidences of indebtedness of the state issued under this chapter.

(2) "Institutions of higher education" means the University of Washington and Washington State University, Western Washington University at Bellingham, Central Washington University at Ellensburg, Eastern Washington University at Cheney, The Evergreen State College, and the community colleges and technical colleges as defined by RCW 28B.50.030.

(3) "Washington’s future bonds" means all or any portion of the general obligation bonds authorized in section 4 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. WASHINGTON’S FUTURE BONDS AUTHORIZED. (1) For the purpose of providing needed capital improvements consisting of the predesign, design, acquisition, construction, modification, renovation, expansion, equipping, and other improvement of state buildings and facilities for the institutions of higher education, the state finance committee is authorized to issue general obligation bonds of the state of Washington in the sum of seven hundred seventy-two million five hundred thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be required, to finance all or a part of the cost of these projects and all costs incidental thereto. The bonds issued under the authority of this section shall be known as Washington’s future bonds.

(2) Bonds authorized in this section shall be sold in the manner, at the time or times, in amounts, and at such prices as the state finance committee shall determine.
NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. BOND ISSUANCE--INTENT. It is the intent of the legislature that the proceeds of new bonds authorized in this chapter will be appropriated in phases over three biennia, beginning with the 2003-2005 biennium, to provide additional funding for capital projects and facilities of the institutions of higher education above historical levels of funding.

This chapter is not intended to limit the legislature's ability to appropriate bond proceeds if the full amount authorized in this chapter has not been appropriated after three biennia, and the authorization to issue bonds contained in this chapter does not expire until the full authorization has been appropriated and issued.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. TERMS AND COVENANTS. (1) The state finance committee is authorized to prescribe the form, terms, conditions, and covenants of the bonds provided for in this chapter, the time or times of sale of all or any portion of them, and the conditions and manner of their sale and issuance.

(2) Bonds issued under this chapter shall state that they are a general obligation of the state of Washington, shall pledge the full faith and credit of the state to the payment of the principal thereof and the interest thereon, and shall contain an unconditional promise to pay the principal and interest as the same shall become due.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. PROCEEDS. (1) The proceeds from the sale of the bonds authorized in this chapter shall be deposited in the Gardner-Evans higher education construction account created in section 13 of this act.

(2) The proceeds shall be used exclusively for the purposes in section 4 of this act and for the payment of the expenses incurred in connection with the sale and issuance of the bonds.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. The legislature intends to use the proceeds from the sale of bonds issued under this chapter for the following projects during the 2005-07 and 2007-09 biennia:

(2) The state finance committee shall, on or before June 30th of each year, certify to the state treasurer the amount needed in the ensuing twelve months to meet the bond retirement and interest requirements on the bonds authorized in this chapter.

(3) On each date on which any interest or principal and interest payment is due on bonds issued under this chapter, the state treasurer shall withdraw from any general state revenues received in the state treasury and deposit in the debt-limit general fund bond retirement account an amount equal to the amount certified by the state finance committee to be due on the payment date.
(4) The owner and holder of each of the bonds or the trustee for the owner and holder of any of the bonds may by mandamus or other appropriate proceeding require the transfer and payment of funds as directed in this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. BONDS--LEGAL INVESTMENT FOR PUBLIC FUNDS.
The bonds authorized by this chapter shall constitute a legal investment for all state funds or for funds under state control and all funds of municipal corporations.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. ADDITIONAL METHODS OF PAYING DEBT SERVICE AUTHORIZED. The legislature may provide additional means for raising moneys for the payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds authorized under this chapter, and section 9 of this act shall not be deemed to provide an exclusive method for payment.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. CHAPTER SUPPLEMENTAL. This chapter provides a complete, additional, and alternative method for accomplishing the purposes of this chapter and is supplemental and additional to powers conferred by other laws. The issuance of bonds under this chapter shall not be deemed to be the only method to fund projects under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. CREATION OF THE GARDNER-EVANS HIGHER EDUCATION CONSTRUCTION ACCOUNT. The Gardner-Evans higher education construction account is created in the state treasury. Proceeds from the bonds issued under section 4 of this act shall be deposited in the account. The account shall be used for purposes of section 4 of this act. Moneys in the account may be spent only after appropriation.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE
OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON

Ladies and Gentlemen:

In compliance with the provision of Section II of Article III of the Constitution of the state of Washington, the Governor hereby submits his report of each case of reprieve, commutation or pardon that he has granted since the adjournment of the 2002 Regular Session of the 57th Legislature, copies of which are attached.

Respectfully submitted,
JENNIFER JOLY, General Counsel

CONDITIONAL COMMUTATION
JASON PETER KRAJESKI

To All to Whom These Presents Shall Come, Greetings:

WHEREAS, in September of 1998, Jason Peter Krajeski, then 22 years old, was caught with two stolen bicycles and a firearm in his possession. He was not linked to the initial theft of the bicycles. Due to a prior felony, he could not legally possess a firearm. All of Mr. Krajeski’s offenses were non-violent property crimes and were committed during a particularly difficult time in his life as a juvenile and young adult; and

WHEREAS, Mr. Krajeski was convicted in Pierce County Superior Court of Possession of Stolen Property in the First Degree, Possession of Stolen Property in the Second Degree, and Unlawful Possession of a Firearm in the Second Degree.
Mr. Krajeski was sentenced to 38 months on June 1, 1999, but was freed on bond for approximately 2 ½ years pending an appeal, which ultimately was unsuccessful. He was finally admitted to prison on December 4, 2001, and has now served approximately nine months. Under normal circumstances, Mr. Krajeski’s earliest release date would be October 9, 2003; and

WHEREAS, during the 2 ½ years between the conviction and when he reported to prison, major changes took place in Mr.
Krajeski’s life. He married on February 16, 2001 and has an infant son and stepdaughter. Before incarceration, he held steady employment for over a year at a local landscape and property management business. Mr. Krajeski worked weekdays and his wife worked weekends so that they could better provide for their children. Mr. Krajeski has risen well to the enormous commitment of both marriage and raising children. He has committed no further offenses, and has fully paid all financial obligations imposed as part of his sentence; and
WHEREAS, on remand after appeal, the sentencing judge was favorably impressed by the changes Mr. Krajeski had made in his life, and expressed a desire to reconsider the sentence, but acknowledged that she had no discretion to do so. Mr. Krajeski has tremendous support within his family. And, his own wife and child are in great need of his support. When Mr. Krajeski is released from prison, he will be able to provide them with needed income and a father figure. Employment is expected to be available to Mr. Krajeski upon his release from prison; and

WHEREAS, the Clemency and Pardons Board was also favorably impressed by the extent to which Mr. Krajeski has taken full responsibility for his past actions and turned his life around. The Board believes that he has been adequately punished, has been rehabilitated, and that further incarceration would serve no purpose; and

WHEREAS, I have reviewed all pertinent facts and circumstances surrounding this matter, the unanimous favorable recommendation of the Washington State Clemency and Pardons Board, and in light of the circumstances, I have determined that the best interests of justice will be served by this action;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Gary Locke, by virtue of the power vested in me as Governor of the State of Washington, grant to Jason Peter Krajeski this Conditional Commutation, commute his term of incarceration to time served, and direct the Department of Corrections to promptly release Mr. Krajeski from prison, SUBJECT TO THE FOLLOWING CONDITIONS:

1. Mr. Krajeski must comply with the post-release requirements of his sentence.
2. Mr. Krajeski shall not be convicted of any crimes against persons or property.

The conditions of this Conditional Commutation shall remain in force until October 18, 2004, the latest date of expiration of his original sentence; or until he has completed all post-release requirements of his sentence, whichever is later. Upon breach of any of the foregoing conditions, this Conditional Commutation shall automatically and immediately expire, and shall be null and void as if it had never been granted. This Conditional Commutation does not restore, and shall not under any circumstances be construed to restore, any civil rights related to firearms, and shall not remove any disability related to firearms under any state or federal law.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the state of Washington to be affixed at Olympia on this 10th day of September, A.D., two thousand two.

FULL AND UNCONDITIONAL PARDON OF KARLO ALEXIS REYES
AMENDED AND RESTATED

To All to Whom These Presents Shall Come, Greetings:

WHEREAS, on November 20, 1994, Karlo Alexis Reyes, then age 18, was returning from a party in Bremerton, Washington to Seattle with a group of other youths. The group stopped at a convenience store in or near Bremerton. At the store, an altercation and shouting match broke out between the group with which Mr. Reyes was traveling and another group of youths. Mr. Reyes fired gunshots from the car he was riding in, injuring one young man. The car sped away, but was later apprehended. Mr. Reyes was arrested and charged with second degree assault with a deadly weapon. He accepted full responsibility for the crime, and in May of 1995 pled guilty to the charge and served time at the Washington State Reformatory in Monroe from June 1995 through July 1996. He was then transferred to immigration custody until he was bonded out on August 2, 1996. The remainder of his state sentence was served in community placement. Mr. Reyes had no prior offenses, and has remained law-abiding since his release from prison. This is the sole criminal offense in his life.

WHEREAS, the United States Immigration and Naturalization Service has issued an order to deport Mr. Reyes to the Philippines for having committed a crime of moral turpitude and having committed an aggravated felony. The order is effective at 9:30 a.m. on September 14, 1999. Categorizing Mr. Reyes as an “aggravated felon” was made possible only due to the passage on September 30, 1996 of the federal Illegal Immigration Reform and Immigrant Responsibility Act of 1996. Under that act, the immigration laws were changed with retroactive effect to include Mr. Reyes’ crime and sentence of more than one year. Under the laws in place at the time that Mr. Reyes entered his guilty plea, the definition of “aggravated felon” did not apply to him. Moreover, the new federal act precludes Mr. Reyes from filing any waivers for relief and eliminates appeal to the federal courts. Pursuant to 8 U.S.C. Section 1251(a), a full and unconditional pardon is the only avenue of relief that will allow Mr. Reyes to continue his life in the United States.

WHEREAS, Mr. Reyes was a model prisoner while incarcerated and was commended by the prison counselor. At the request of the Assistant Superintendent, he spoke to young visitors to the prison. Mr. Reyes has accepted full responsibility for his actions. He has pre-paid all restitution and has had no prior or subsequent arrests or charges. He has severed all ties with acquaintances and friends prior to this offense. Convincing testimony that Mr. Reyes was never a gang member was presented to the Clemency and Pardsons Board. Well-known Seattle School District youth counselor Mr. Tom Nakao spoke on Mr. Reyes’ behalf at the Clemency and Pardons Board Hearing, and approximately two years later made a personal plea to the Governor to be merciful to Mr. Reyes, as one of his final acts before his death of cancer. Mr. Reyes is now beginning his senior year at the University of Washington, is working several part-time jobs and has maintained a respectable grade point average.

WHEREAS, Mr. Reyes moved to the United States from the Philippines with his family when he was approximately five years old, and became a permanent resident on February 6, 1993. Today, his immediate and much of his extended family lives in Washington. Mr. Reyes does not speak any of the languages of the Philippines and has no allegiance to that country. The Clemency and Pardons Board was convinced that Mr. Reyes has fully paid for his actions, will be a worthy and productive member of society in the United States, and that deporting him to the Philippines would serve no purpose other than to destroy the hope and opportunity for this young man to complete his education and live a productive life in the United States with his family.

WHEREAS, I have reviewed all pertinent facts and circumstances surrounding this matter, the favorable recommendation of the Washington State Clemency and Pardons Board, and the purpose for Mr. Reyes’ request, and in light of the circumstances of the crime and all other factors, I have determined that the best interests of justice will be served by this action;

WHEREAS, the original Full and Unconditional Pardon granted to Mr. Reyes on September 13, 1999 contained a firearms restriction that has been deemed by an immigration judge as rendering the pardon insufficient to prevent the deportation of Mr. Reyes, despite the express purpose of the pardon.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Gary Locke, by virtue of the power vested in me as Governor of the State of Washington, hereby grant to Karlo Alexis Reyes this Full and Unconditional Pardon for the express purpose of allowing him to obtain a deportation waiver, lawfully remain in the United States, and pursue United States citizenship. This Full and Unconditional Pardon amends and restates the original Full and Unconditional Pardon granted on September 13, 1999, and is effective as of that date, as if it had been signed in this form on that date.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the state of Washington to be affixed at Olympia on this 21st day of August, A.D., two thousand two.

FULL AND UNCONDITIONAL PARDON

To All to Whom These Presents Shall Come, Greetings:

WHEREAS, on May 21, 1998, Vanny Vath, then age 19, was arrested at a friend’s home in Longview, Washington. Police had been tipped that Ms. Vath was selling heroin at the home of Mary Guimont, a friend of Ms. Vath. The officers went to Ms. Guimont’s home and found Ms. Vath there. Upon a search of her purse, .5 grams of heroin, a pager and money were found. The officers arrested Ms. Vath, and she was charged with delivery of heroin. Ms. Vath accepted responsibility and pled guilty to the crime on July 21, 1998 in Cowlitz County and was sentenced to 34 months confinement. Ms. Vath has had no further offenses since her arrest in 1998.

WHEREAS, the United States Immigration and Naturalization Service has issued an order to deport Ms. Vath to Cambodia for having committed a crime of moral turpitude and having committed an aggravated felony. While Ms. Vath is a Cambodian national, she was born in a refugee camp in Thailand, and has no connections with Cambodia. Categorizing Ms. Vath as an “aggravated felon” was made possible only due to the passage on September 30, 1996 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, which provides that, at any time after admission, any alien who is convicted of an aggravated felony, shall be deported, without regard to the length of sentence or other individual circumstances. The only avenue of relief available is a full and unconditional pardon,
WHEREAS, Ms. Vath was a model prisoner, and took full advantage of vocational skills training programs while incarcerated. She was commended by her instructors who described her as gifted and always willing and able to help and teach others. She is motivated and possesses a positive attitude. While incarcerated, Ms. Vath completed her GED, courses in keyboarding, word processing, database management, spreadsheets, and a number of general vocational courses. She also completed anger management classes, victim awareness and chemical dependency courses.

WHEREAS, since her release, Ms. Vath has turned her life around. She has continued her education at Lower Columbia College in Longview, Washington and has maintained steady employment as a cable television installer. Ms. Vath has regained custody of her child. She has not had any subsequent violations of the law since her release, and has fulfilled all of the terms of her probation.

WHEREAS, Ms. Vath’s family is of Cambodian origin, and moved to the United States in 1979 when she was five months old. Her entire family, including her young U.S. citizen daughter, all reside in the United States. Ms. Vath, having been born in a Thailand refugee camp, has no connections with Cambodia. She is not fluent in the language of that country, and sending her there would be a terrible punishment for a person who has fully paid for her transgressions and is American in every way but formal citizenship. The Clemency and Pardons Board made a favorable recommendation for Ms. Vath as they believe that Ms. Vath has paid her debt to society for her crime, will be a worthy and productive member of society in the United States, and that deporting her to Cambodia would serve no purpose other than to destroy the hope and opportunity for this young woman to raise her daughter and live a productive life in the United States with her family.

WHEREAS, I have reviewed all pertinent facts and circumstances surrounding this matter, the favorable recommendation of the Washington State Clemency and Pardons Board, and the purpose for Ms. Vath’s request, I have determined that the best interests of justice will be served by this action.

NOW, Therefore, I, Gary Locke, by virtue of the power vested in me as Governor of the State of Washington, hereby grant to Vanny Vath this Full and Unconditional Pardon for the express purpose of allowing her to obtain a deportation waiver, lawfully remain in the United States, and eventually become a United States citizen.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the state of Washington to be affixed at Olympia on this 8th day of August, A.D., two thousand two.

FULL AND UNCONDITIONAL PARDON
OMER YASIN MOHAMMED

To All to Whom These Presents Shall Come, Greetings:

WHEREAS, on December 4, 1993, Omer Yasin Mohammed, then age 30, was at a bar, drinking with friends. One friend asked Mr. Mohammed if he could borrow money. Mr. Mohammed refused to loan the friend money, yet the friend proceeded to take the money from Mr. Mohammed anyway. The two men exited the bar and a scuffle ensued. Mr. Mohammed hit the other man with a broken bottle, injuring the other man. Both men sustained minor injuries. They then re-entered the bar and resumed playing a game of darts together. Later that evening, the police arrived and Mr. Mohammed was arrested. His friend never pressed charges. Mr. Mohammed pled guilty to the charge of second degree assault and served ten months at the King County Jail. He was released on October 24, 1994. This was Mr. Mohammed’s only felony conviction. After serving his time, Mr. Mohammed was employed in home health care, then as a day laborer. He is now a partner in a landscaping business. He no longer uses alcohol.

WHEREAS, the United States Immigration and Naturalization Service has issued an order to deport Mr. Mohammed to Ethiopia for having committed an aggravated felony. Categorizing Mr. Mohammed as an “aggravated felon” was made possible only due to the passage of the Immigration and Nationality Act, as amended, in that, at any time after admission, any alien who is convicted of an aggravated felony, for which a term of imprisonment imposed was one year or more shall be deported. Under that act, the immigration laws were changed with a retroactive effect to include Mr. Mohammed’s crime and sentence of more than one year. Under the laws in place at the time that Mr. Mohammed entered his guilty plea, the definition of “aggravated felon” did not apply to him. Section 1251 (a), a full and unconditional pardon is the only avenue of relief that will allow Mr. Mohammed to continue his life in the United States.

WHEREAS, Mr. Mohammed was a model prisoner and was released after 10 months of a 15 month sentence. Mr. Mohammed has accepted full responsibility for his actions. He has paid his restitution in full and has had no subsequent convictions. Mr. Mohammed met his future wife in 1997 and married her in September, 2000. Their daughter was born in 2001. Mr. Mohammed’s family is dependent upon him for support. Mr. Mohammed has significant support in his community attesting to his devotion to his family and his rehabilitation. Mr. Mohammed is now working hard to support his family as a partner in a landscaping business.

WHEREAS, Mr. Mohammed is a political refugee from Ethiopia. His father was born in Eritrea and was killed by the Ethiopian government. When Mr. Mohammed was caught trying to flee Ethiopia, he was detained and beaten. He successfully fled the country in 1981, at age 18. Mr. Mohammed is considered Eritrean by the Ethiopian government because of his father’s birthplace. There is still considerable strife between Ethiopia and Eritrea. A number of Mr. Mohammed’s family members in Ethiopia are missing. Scholars have stated that if Mr. Mohammed returns, he will be persecuted and could even be killed. A majority of the Clemency and Pardons Board is convinced that Mr. Mohammed has fully paid for his actions, will be a worthy and productive member of society in this country, and that deporting him to Ethiopia would serve no purpose other than to destroy the hope and opportunity for this man to support his wife and child and live a meaningful life in the United States.

WHEREAS, I have reviewed all pertinent facts and circumstances surrounding this matter, the favorable recommendation of the Washington State Clemency and Pardons Board, and the purpose for Mr. Mohammed’s request, and in light of the circumstances of the crime and all other factors, I have determined that the best interests of justice will be served by this action;

WHEREAS, on December 12, 1989, Joseph Duane Lindberg, a displaced timber worker, was involved in a domestic dispute, which resulted in law enforcement being called. A struggle ensued and an officer was slightly injured when he was shoved. Mr. Lindberg has since been divorced from his wife. Mr. Lindberg was convicted of third degree assault in Lewis County Court, and his sentence included: $70.00 court costs; $100.00 victim assessment; $55.00 restitution; $750.00 fine; 45 days of confinement to be served as 30 days work release; and 120 hours community service. Mr. Lindberg promptly completed all of the terms and conditions of his sentence. Thirteen years have elapsed since he committed the crime; and

WHEREAS, Mr. Lindberg is now a timber faller. Since his conviction in 1990, he gained custody of his daughter in 1995 and purchased a home. In 1999, his oldest daughter moved back home with him and in 2000, Mr. Lindberg enrolled in Centralia College’s Criminal Justice Program in hopes of gaining employment in law enforcement. Mr. Lindberg also had his firearms privileges reinstated in 1996. He no longer uses alcohol and has not used alcohol since the date of his arrest, some 13 years ago. FURTHER MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON

Ladies and Gentlemen:

In compliance with the provision of Section II of Article III of the Constitution of the state of Washington, the Governor hereby submits his report of each case of reprieve, commutation or pardon that he has granted since the adjournment of the 2002 Regular Session of the 57th Legislature, copies of which are attached.

Respectfully submitted,

JENNIFER JOLY, General Counsel

CONDITIONAL PARDON

To All to Whom These Presents Shall Come, Greetings:

WHEREAS, on October 13, 1995, Jennifer Davis (previously, Underwood), then 23 years old, sold a sixteenth ounce of methamphetamine to a confidential informant and undercover narcotics agent. At the time of the incident Ms. Davis notes that she was in a troubled and abusive relationship. She pled guilty to delivery of a controlled substance. Ms. Davis began her sentence on February 10, 1997, participated in the Work Ethic Program, and was released on July 14, 1997. She was under community supervision until 2002, at which time she was discharged from the Department of Corrections’ supervision; and

WHEREAS, Ms. Davis began intensive efforts to rehabilitate herself upon her arrest. She received mental health counseling and drug dependency treatment. Reports indicate that Ms. Davis was cooperative and motivated. She graduated as a dental assistant in 1997. She worked as a dental assistant, and then began attending community college to prepare for a degree as a Licensed Practical Nurse (LPN). She is currently employed as a Certified Nursing Assistant at a nursing home. While she is able to participate in the necessary training to become a LPN and is eligible for licensure, the medical facilities offering internships for her program will not accept Ms. Davis due to her conviction. Thus, she has requested a pardon for the purposing of removing her conviction as an impediment to employment. Numerous members of Ms. Davis’ family and friends speak of a dramatic turn around in Ms. Davis after her arrest. Reports from social service agencies indicate that it took considerable effort to reverse the downward spiral her life had assumed. This is an extraordinary case due to Ms. Davis’ hard work and dedication to living a law-abiding and productive live in the community; and

WHEREAS, I have reviewed all pertinent facts and circumstances surrounding this matter, the circumstances of the crime, and the unanimous favorable recommendation of the Washington State Clemency and Pardons Board, and in light of the foregoing, I have determined that the best interests of justice will be served by this action; and

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Gary Locke, by the virtue of the power vested in me as Governor of the State of Washington, hereby grant to Jennifer Davis this Conditional Pardon, SUBJECT TO THE CONDITION that Ms. Davis not commit any more crimes.

The foregoing condition shall remain in force indefinitely. Upon breach of the foregoing condition, this Conditional Pardon shall automatically and immediately expire, and shall be null and void as if it had never been granted.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the state of Washington to be affixed at Olympia on this 12th day of May, A.D., two thousand and three.
To All to Whom These Presents Shall Come, Greetings:

WHEREAS, on January 11, 1979, Adolpho G. Hinojosa, was involved in a bar fight between a group of people. As the fight progressed outside the tavern, Mr. Hinojosa stabbed his victim, resulting in death. Mr. Hinojosa was convicted of manslaughter, served 18 months, and was on parole for three years. He has paid all costs including a judgment in favor of the deceased. Mr. Hinojosa has no other arrests and only two traffic tickets in his 62 years. Twenty-three years have elapsed since he committed the crime; and

WHEREAS, Mr. Hinojosa and his wife, Rita, have been together for 18 years. Between them, they have nine children, thirty-six grandchildren, and four great-grandchildren. Mr. Hinojosa’s life has revolved around his wife, children, grandchildren, and the extended family. He has supported them as a janitor, a truck driver on a farm, and a grounds keeper. One of the Hinojosa’s daughters has had problems with drugs. In the past the Hinojosas, as grandparents, provided care for the daughter’s three children when she was not capable of doing so. Christina, age 8, Alberto, age 6, and Nicholas, age 5, have been placed with Rita Hinojosa since February 2002 under the supervision of Child Welfare Services and the Yakima County Juvenile Court. Initially, the Department of Social and Health Services (DSHS) was aware of Mr. Hinojosa’s conviction and waived his technical ineligibility to act as a foster parent due to his felony conviction. Prior policy provisions allowed DSHS to issue a waiver when a disqualifying conviction was older than ten years. However, new federal regulations and greater public scrutiny now prohibit such waivers. Accordingly, DSHS ruled in March 2002 that Mr. Hinojosa was not eligible to act as a foster parent. Rather than remove the grandchildren from his home, Mr. Hinojosa left so that his wife could continue to care for the three grandchildren. When it appeared that the Hinojosa’s daughter might not be able to complete the juvenile court plan for reuniting the mother with the children, the Hinojosas dissolved their marriage. The dissolution was solely to enable Rita Hinojosa to become a permanent resource for the children should her daughter’s parental rights be terminated. Because of these federal regulations, Mr. Hinojosa cannot join the frequent family gatherings when the three foster grandchildren are present. Mr. and Mrs. Hinojosa would like to reunite, remarry, and live together. While their daughter’s prospects for reuniting with her children are much improved, it appears likely that the grandchildren will need support from their grandparents in the future; and

WHEREAS, I have reviewed all pertinent facts and circumstances surrounding this matter, the circumstances of the crime, and the favorable recommendation of the Washington State Clemency and Pardons Board, and in light of the foregoing, I have determined that the best interests of justice will be served by this action; and

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Gary Locke, by virtue of the power vested in me as Governor of the State of Washington, hereby grant to Adolpho G. Hinojosa this Conditional Pardon, SUBJECT TO THE CONDITION that Mr. Hinojosa shall not commit any more crimes.

The condition of this Conditional Pardon shall remain in force indefinitely. Upon breach of the foregoing condition, this Conditional Pardon shall automatically and immediately expire, and shall be null and void as if it had never been granted.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the state of Washington to be affixed at Olympia on this 12th day of May, A.D., two thousand and three.

WHEREAS, on March 15, 1997, Viboul Ouk had an argument with his ex-girlfriend, who is also the mother of Mr. Ouk’s three children. Mr. Ouk spent the previous two nights at his ex-girlfriend’s residence because his two older children wanted to spend time with him. As the ex-girlfriend attempted to leave with their mutual eighteen-month-old child, Mr. Ouk pushed her down, pulled a knife from his pocket, and threatened to stab her. After a short struggle, Mr. Ouk dropped the knife and his ex-girlfriend picked it up and poked him with it to keep him away. She then broke free and ran across the street to call 911. At this time, Mr. Ouk picked up his eighteen-month-old child, walked across the street to where his ex-girlfriend was waiting, and held a steak knife to the child’s throat. After the police department arrived, he held the child for approximately five minutes before releasing the child, dropping his knife, and allowing himself to be taken into custody. Mr. Ouk pled guilty to second degree assault of a child. The trial court noted that at the time of the incident, Mr. Ouk was suffering great emotional anguish over the welfare and supervision of his children, and that the incident was one of passion and not characteristic of Mr. Ouk and his concern for his children. Mr. Ouk had no prior offenses. This is the sole criminal offense of his life; and

WHEREAS, the United States Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) has issued an order to deport Mr. Ouk to Cambodia for having committed an aggravated felony. Categorizing Mr. Ouk as an “aggravated felon” was made possible when his exceptional sentence of eight months was reserved on appeal. Mr. Ouk was subsequently resentenced to a minimum term of 31 months, the lowest standard range possible. He began serving his sentence on January 30, 2001, and was released to the INS on May 13, 2002 due to his Cambodian citizenship; and

WHEREAS, Mr. Ouk maintained an excellent record while incarcerated, and has completed all the terms of his sentence, including anger management. His ex-girlfriend does not fear Mr. Ouk and reports that his behavior on March 15, 1997 was uncharacteristic. Mr. Ouk has a strong, healthy bond with his children. They wrote letters on their father’s behalf about his help with their homework, playing games with him, and his parental guidance. Mr. Ouk pays child support. Nearly 60 letters of recommendation were submitted by Mr. Ouk’s family and other community members; and

WHEREAS, Mr. Ouk is a political refugee from Cambodia. His father was executed by the Khmer Rouge, along with other family members. The Clemency and Pardons Board was convinced that Mr. Ouk has fully paid for his actions, will be a worthy and productive member of society in the United States, and that deporting him to Cambodia would serve no purpose other than to destroy the hope and opportunity for this man to support his children and live a meaningful life in the United States.

WHEREAS, I have reviewed the pertinent facts and circumstances surrounding this matter, the unanimous favorable recommendation of the Washington State Clemency and Pardons Board, and the purpose for Mr. Ouk’s request, and in light of the circumstances of the crime and all other factors, I have determined that the best interests of justice will be served by this action; and

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Gary Locke, by virtue of the power vested in me as Governor of the State of Washington, hereby grant Viboul Ouk this Conditional Commutation, commute his term of incarceration to eight months in order to remove his aggravated felon status for the express purpose of allowing him to obtain a deportation waiver, lawfully remain in the United States, and eventually become a United States citizen, SUBJECT TO THE FOLLOWING CONDITIONS:

Mr. Ouk shall:

1. Not consume controlled substances except pursuant to lawfully issued prescriptions;
2. Not consume any intoxicants;
3. Not unlawfully possess controlled substances while in community custody;
4. Not associate with known drug users or drug dealers; and
5. Not possess any firearms or ammunition.

Violation of any of the above conditions shall result in suspension of this commutation and imposition of community supervision as per the Department of Corrections. PROVIDED, that in the event Mr. Ouk commits any offense classified as a felony or gross misdemeanor in the State of Washington, this Conditional Commutation is revoked and the sentence imposed by the court reinstated without benefit of sentence reduction credit, whereupon Mr. Ouk shall be tried and sentenced accordingly.

The Superior Court of King County shall provide a written report to the Clemency and Pardons Board regarding the violation of any condition of this Conditional Commutation.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the state of Washington to be affixed at Olympia on this 12th day of May, A.D., two thousand and three.

TERRENCE LAMONT GARDNER

To All To Whom These Presents Shall Come, Greetings:
WHEREAS, March 5, 1992, Terrence Lamont Gardner was involved in a drug-related robbery. Mr. Gardner admits that he knew a crime would be committed, but states that he had no knowledge of any plan for murder. Mr. Gardner claims that his accomplice, acting on his own, committed an unplanned murder during the robbery. The murder was a repetitive stabbing. The accomplice turned state’s evidence and claimed Mr. Gardner committed the murder. However, at trial, the jury found Mr. Gardner not guilty of being the perpetrator of the murder. Nonetheless, under the felony murder rule, they found Mr. Gardner guilty of first-degree murder. Mr. Gardner was sentenced to a term of 24 years, 3 months, and 15 days; he has an earned release date of November 2, 2012. Mr. Gardner’s accomplice received a far lesser sentence for his testimony and was released long ago; and

WHEREAS, Mr. Gardner has maintained an excellent record while incarcerated. His Department of Corrections Unit Supervisor and his employers at Correctional Industries filed letters evidencing Mr. Gardner’s integrity and rehabilitation. He has attended community college and has obtained a certified welder’s card. He has reportedly become an excellent welder, to the point where the Washington State Reformatory requested his transfer to that facility for the purpose of utilizing his welding skills. The chaplain reports that Mr. Gardner seeks counseling and is a leader in the inmate church. At the time of Mr. Gardner’s conviction, the current Kitsap County Prosecutor, Russell Hauge, was the defense attorney representing Mr. Gardner’s accomplice. Mr. Hauge, speaking as a private citizen, has indicated that it is clear to him that Mr. Gardner would not have been involved in this crime had he not been addicted to drugs. Mr. Hauge also finds Mr. Gardner’s degree of rehabilitation to be exceptional; and

WHEREAS, the Clemency and Pardons Board was favorably impressed by the extent to which Mr. Gardner has taken responsibility for his past actions and turned his life around. The Board believes he has been adequately punished, has been rehabilitated, and that further incarceration would serve no purpose; and

WHEREAS, I have reviewed all pertinent facts and circumstances surrounding this matter, the circumstances of the crime, and the favorable recommendation of the Washington State Clemency and Pardons Board, and in light of the foregoing, I have determined that the best interests of justice will be served by this action;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Gary Locke, by virtue of the power vested in me as Governor of the state of Washington, grant to Terrance Lamont Gardner this Conditional Commutation, commute the remainder of the sentence imposed to a term of community custody not to exceed the normal term imposed by the sentencing court (twenty-four months), SUBJECT TO THE FOLLOWING CONDITIONS:

1. Report to and be available for contact with the assigned community corrections officer as directed;
2. Work at Department of Corrections-approved education, employment, and/or community service;
3. Not consume controlled substances except pursuant to lawfully issued prescriptions;
4. Not consume any intoxicants;
5. Not unlawfully possess controlled substances while in community custody;
6. Not associate with known drug users or drug dealers;
7. Not have any direct or indirect contact with the family of the victim;
8. Not have any direct or indirect contact with co-defendant Gerald Lee Belgard (a.k.a. “Sonny Belgard”);
9. Not possess any deadly or dangerous weapons;
10. Submit to random urinalysis and blood alcohol tests as determined by the Department of Corrections and at his own expense;
11. Participate in crime-related treatment or counseling services as determined by the Department of Corrections;
12. Submit to random searches of person, home, and car by the Department of Corrections;
13. Pay community placement fees as determined by the Department of Corrections;
14. Remain in residence at the residence and in the geographic area identified by the Department of Corrections;
15. Notify the Washington Department of Corrections regarding any change in his living situation; and
16. Comply with all standard conditions, requirements, and instructions of community placement as directed by his community corrections officer and with all other applicable conditions imposed by the sentencing court.

Violation of any of the above conditions shall result in sanctions conforming to the Department of Corrections Violations Sanction Grid for community custody. PROVIDED, that in the event Mr. Gardner commits any offense classified as a felony or gross misdemeanor in the state of Washington, this Conditional Commutation is revoked and the sentence imposed by the court reinstated without benefit of sentence reduction credit, whereupon Mr. Gardner shall be immediately returned to the Washington Corrections Center or such other facility as the Secretary of Corrections deems appropriate.
The Department of Corrections shall provide a written report to the Clemency and Pardons Board regarding the violation of any condition of this Conditional Commutation.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the state of Washington to be affixed at Olympia on this 15th day of May, A.D., two thousand and three.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 6097, by Senators Honeyford and Mulliken

Revising the unemployment compensation system.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Honeyford moved that the following striking amendment be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 50.01.010 and 1945 c 35 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

Whereas, economic insecurity due to unemployment is a serious menace to the health, morals and welfare of the people of this state; involuntary unemployment is, therefore, a subject of general interest and concern which requires appropriate action by the legislature to prevent its spread and to lighten its burden which now so often falls with crushing force upon the unemployed worker and his family. Social security requires protection against this greatest hazard of our economic life. This can be provided only by application of the insurance principle of sharing the risks, and by the systematic accumulation of funds during periods of employment to provide benefits for periods of unemployment, thus maintaining purchasing powers and limiting the serious social consequences of relief assistance. The state of Washington, therefore, exercising herein its police and sovereign power endeavors by this title to remedy any widespread unemployment situation which may occur and to set up safeguards to prevent its recurrence in the years to come. The legislature, therefore, declares that in its considered judgment the public good, and the general welfare of the citizens of this state require the enactment of this measure, under the police powers of the state, for the compulsory setting aside of unemployment reserves to be used for the benefit of persons unemployed through no fault of their own(( and that this title shall be liberally construed for the purpose of reducing involuntary unemployment and the suffering caused thereby to the minimum)).

PART I - UNEMPLOYMENT ELIGIBILITY AND COMPENSATION

(1) He or she has registered for work at, and thereafter has continued to report at, an employment office in accordance with such regulation as the commissioner may prescribe, except that the commissioner may by regulation waive or alter either or both of the requirements of this subdivision as to individuals attached to regular jobs and as to such other types of cases or situations with respect to which the commissioner finds that the compliance with such requirements would be oppressive, or would be inconsistent with the purposes of this title;

(2) He or she has been unemployed for a waiting period of one week;

The disqualification shall continue if the work obtained is a mere sham to qualify for benefits and is not bona fide work. In determining whether work is of a bona fide nature, the commissioner shall consider factors including but not limited to the following:

((a)) (i) The duration of the work;

((b)) (ii) The extent of direction and control by the employer over the work; and

((c)) (iii) The level of skill required for the work in light of the individual's training and experience.

((e)) (v) He or she has left work to assume employment.

(c) An individual shall be disqualified from benefits beginning with the first day of the calendar week in which he or she has requalified, either by obtaining bona fide work in employment covered by this title and earning wages in that employment equal to seven times his or her weekly benefit amount or by reporting in person to the department during ten different calendar weeks and certifying on each occasion that he or she is ready, able, and willing to immediately accept any suitable work which may be offered, is actively seeking work pursuant to customary trade practices, and is utilizing such employment counseling and placement services as are available through the department. This subsection does not apply to individuals covered by (((subsection (2))) (b)) or (((c)) of this section) (subsection) (b)(i) or (ii) of this subsection.

(2) With respect to claims that have an effective date on or after January 4, 2004:

(a) An individual shall be disqualified from benefits beginning with the first day of the calendar week in which he or she has left work voluntarily without good cause and thereafter for seven calendar weeks and until he or she has requalified, either by obtaining bona fide work in employment covered by this title and earned wages in that employment equal to seven times his or her weekly benefit amount or by reporting in person to the department during ten different calendar weeks and certifying on each occasion that he or she is ready, able, and willing to immediately accept any suitable work which may be offered, is actively seeking work pursuant to customary trade practices, and is utilizing such employment counseling and placement services as are available through the department. This subsection does not apply to individuals covered by (((subsection (2))) (b)) or (((c)) of this section)) (b)(i) or (ii) of this subsection.

The disqualification shall continue if the work obtained is a mere sham to qualify for benefits and is not bona fide work. In determining whether work is of a bona fide nature, the commissioner shall consider factors including but not limited to the following:

((a)) (i) The duration of the work;

((b)) (ii) The extent of direction and control by the employer over the work; and

((c)) (iii) The level of skill required for the work in light of the individual's training and experience.

(b) An individual is not disqualified from benefits under (a) of this subsection when:

((b)) (ii) The separation was necessary because of the illness or disability of the claimant or the death, illness, or disability of a member of the claimant's immediate family if:

((A)) The claimant pursued all reasonable alternatives to preserve his or her employment status by requesting a leave of absence, by having promptly notified the employer of the reason for the absence, and by having promptly requested reemployment when again able to assume employment. These alternatives need not be pursued, however, when they would have been a futile act, including those instances when the futility of the act was a result of a recognized labor/management dispatch system; and
(5) The separation was necessary to protect the claimant or the claimant's immediate family members from domestic violence, as defined in RCW 26.50.010, or stalking, as defined in RCW 9A.46.110;
(ii) The individual's usual compensation was reduced by twenty-five percent or more;
(iii) The individual's usual hours were reduced by twenty-five percent or more;
(iv) The individual's worksite changed, such change caused a material increase in distance or difficulty of travel, and, after the change, the commute was greater than is customary for workers in the individual's job classification and labor market;
(v) The individual's worksite safety deteriorated, the individual reported such safety deterioration to the employer, and the employer failed to correct the hazards within a reasonable period of time;
(vi) The individual left work because of illegal activities in the individual's worksite, the individual reported such activities to the employer, and the employer failed to end such activities within a reasonable period of time; or
(vii) The individual's usual work was changed to work that violates the individual's religious convictions or sincere moral beliefs.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. A new section is added to chapter 50.20 RCW to read as follows:

(1) It is the intent of the legislature to establish eligibility requirements for workers who are part-time or seasonal workers.

(2) With respect to claims that have an effective date on or after January 2, 2005:

(a) An otherwise eligible individual may not be denied benefits for any week because the individual is a part-time worker and is available for, seeks, applies for, or accepts only work of twenty or fewer hours per week by reason of the application of RCW 50.20.010(1)(c), 50.20.080, or 50.22.020(1) relating to availability for work and active search for work, or failure to apply for or refusal to accept suitable work.

(b) If a claimant is a seasonal worker:

(i) Who earned wages in "employment" in fewer than one thousand four hundred forty hours in his or her base year, benefits are payable to the claimant during a calendar week of the claimant's benefit year only if the week corresponds to a calendar week within a seasonal work period of a base year employer who had been designated as a seasonal employer by the commissioner under this section.

(ii) Who earned wages in "employment" in one thousand four hundred forty hours or more in his or her base year, benefits are payable to the claimant during any calendar week of the claimant's benefit year as otherwise provided in this title.

(c)(ii) Between January 1st and April 1st of any year, an employer may apply to the commissioner in writing for designation as a seasonal employer, effective on the date determined by the commissioner. By June 30th, the commissioner shall determine if the employer is a seasonal employer and, if the employer is designated a seasonal employer, identify one or more seasonal work periods of the employer. The commissioner's determination regarding an employer's status as a seasonal employer, or a decision of an administrative law judge or of the court regarding the employer's status as a seasonal employer, which has become final and is not subject to further appeal, together with the record thereof, may be introduced in any proceeding involving a claim for benefits, and the facts found and decision issued in the determination or decision shall be conclusive unless the claimant introduces substantial evidence to the contrary.

(c)(i) Between January 1st and April 1st of any year, an employer may apply to the commissioner in writing for designation as a seasonal employer, effective on the date determined by the commissioner. By June 30th, the commissioner shall determine if the employer is a seasonal employer and, if the employer is designated a seasonal employer, identify one or more seasonal work periods of the employer. The commissioner's determination regarding an employer's status as a seasonal employer, or a decision of an administrative law judge or of the court regarding the employer's status as a seasonal employer, which has become final and is not subject to further appeal, together with the record thereof, may be introduced in any proceeding involving a claim for benefits, and the facts found and decision issued in the determination or decision shall be conclusive unless the claimant introduces substantial evidence to the contrary.

(d) At the time an employee is hired by a seasonal employer, the employer must notify the employee in writing that the employee may be a seasonal worker.

(3) For purposes of this section:

(a) "Part-time worker" means an individual that: (i) Earned wages in "employment" in at least forty weeks in the individual's base year; and (ii) did not earn wages in "employment" in more than twenty hours per week in more than three weeks in the individual's base year.

(b) "Seasonal employer" means an employer who:

(i) With respect to a period identified by the employer of twelve consecutive calendar months preceding the employer's application, has reduced his or her work force by at least sixty percent from the highest level of employment in a seasonal work period to the lowest level of employment at any point in the twelve calendar month period; and

(ii) Operates in an industry or with a process which, because of conditions related to climate, agriculture, food fish, shellfish, or natural resources, makes it impractical or impossible for the employer to operate without the reduction in employment specified in (b)(i) of this subsection.

(c) "Seasonal worker" means a worker who earned at least seventy-five percent of his or her base year wages in employment with one or more seasonal employers during one or more seasonal work periods.

(d) "Seasonal work period" means a regularly recurring period in any twelve consecutive calendar months that is determined by the commissioner to be a period during which the seasonal employer customarily operates and because of which the employer meets the definition of "seasonal employer."

Sec. 13. RCW 50.20.100 and 2002 c 8 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Suitable work for an individual is employment in an occupation in keeping with the individual's prior work experience, education, or training and if the individual has no prior work experience, special education, or training for employment available in the general area, then employment which the individual would have the physical and mental ability to perform. In determining whether work is suitable for an individual, the commissioner shall also consider the degree of risk involved to the individual's health, safety, and morals, the individual's physical fitness, the individual's length of unemployment and prospects for securing local work in the individual's customary occupation, the distance of the available work from the individual's residence, and such other factors as the commissioner may deem pertinent, including state and national emergencies.

(2) For individuals with base year work experience in agricultural labor, any agricultural labor available from any employer shall be deemed suitable unless it meets conditions in RCW 50.20.110 or the commissioner finds elements of specific work opportunity unsuitable for a particular individual.

(3) With respect to claims that have an effective date on or after January 4, 2004, for seasonal workers, any work available from any seasonal employer shall be deemed suitable unless it meets conditions in RCW 50.20.110 or the commissioner finds elements of specific work opportunity unsuitable for a particular individual.
(4) For part-time workers as defined in section 12 of this act, suitable work includes suitable work under subsection (c) of this section that is for twenty or fewer hours per week.

(5) For individuals who have qualified for unemployment compensation benefits under RCW 50.20.050(((1)(c)))(1)(b)(iii) or (2)(b)(v), as applicable, an evaluation of the suitability of the work must consider the individual's need to address the physical, psychological, legal, and other effects of domestic violence or stalking.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. A new section is added to chapter 50.20 RCW to read as follows:

(1) It is the intent of the legislature that a transitional training benefits program be established to provide unemployment insurance benefits to unemployed individuals who would be or are impacted by the changes in benefits made in this act and who are participating in training programs approved by the commissioner.

(2) Any funds not obligated under subsection (1)(a) through (c) of this section in any fiscal year may be carried forward to the next fiscal year to increase, by the amount carried forward, the amount available to obligate under RCW 50.22.140.

The department shall develop a process to ensure that expenditures under subsection (1) of this section do not exceed available funds and to prioritize access to funds when again available.

(3) Subject to availability of funds, transitional training benefits are available for an individual who:

(a) Is eligible for or has exhausted entitlement to unemployment compensation benefits; and

(i) As a seasonal worker whose claim has an effective date before January 4, 2004, would not have received benefits under this title if subsection (1)(c) of this section had applied to the individual; or

(ii) Has a claim that has an effective date or after July 6, 2004, or has exhausted benefits on or after July 6, 2004, and received benefits that were limited because of the section 11, chapter..., Laws of 2003 amendments to RCW 50.20.120 or section 12(2)(b) of this act, or would have had benefits limited if these provisions had been in effect at the time the individual's claim became effective;

(b) Develops an individual training program that is submitted to the commissioner for approval within sixty days after the individual is notified by the employment security department of the requirements of this section;

(c) Enters the approved training program by ninety days after the date of the notification, unless the employment security department determines that the training is not available during the ninety-day period, in which case the individual enters training as soon as it is available; and

(d) Is enrolled in training approved under this section on a full-time basis as determined by the educational institution, and is making satisfactory progress in the training as certified by the educational institution.

(4) Benefits under this section shall be paid to eligible exhaustees as follows:

(a) The total benefit amount shall be fifty-two times the individual's weekly benefit amount, reduced by the total amount of regular benefits and extended benefits paid, or deemed paid, with respect to the benefit year.

(b) For exhaustees receiving financial aid in the form of scholarships, grants, tuition waivers, or any other financial aid that does not require repayment, the weekly benefit amount shall be the same as the regular weekly amount payable during the applicable benefit year and shall be paid under the same terms and conditions as regular benefits.

(c) Transitional training benefits are not payable for weeks more than two years beyond the end of the benefit year of the regular claim.

(5) The requirement under RCW 50.22.010(10) relating to exhausting regular benefits does not apply to an individual otherwise eligible for training benefits under this section when the individual's benefit year ends before his or her training benefits are exhausted and the individual is eligible for a new benefit year. These individuals will have the option of remaining on the original claim or filing a new claim.

(6) An individual who received benefits under any other additional benefits program for training within the five-year period immediately preceding application under this section is not eligible for training benefits under this section.

(7) An individual eligible to receive emergency unemployment compensation, so called, under any federal law, is not eligible to receive benefits under this section for each week the individual receives such compensation.

(8) All base year employers are interested parties to the approval of training and the granting of transitional training benefits.

(9) For purposes of this section:

(a) "Educational institution" and "training program" mean the same as the definitions in RCW 50.22.150.

(b) "Exhaustee," "extended benefits," and "regular benefits" mean the same as the definitions in RCW 50.22.010.

PART II - FINANCING UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION

Sec. 15. RCW 50.29.025 and 2003 c 4 (SHB 1832) s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section, the contribution rate for each employer subject to contributions under RCW 50.24.010 shall be determined under this subsection.

((4))) (A) A fund balance ratio shall be determined by dividing the balance in the unemployment compensation fund as of the September 30th immediately preceding the rate year by the total remuneration paid by all employers subject to contributions during the second calendar year preceding the rate year and reported to the department by the following March 31st. The division shall be carried to the fourth decimal place with the remaining fraction, if any, disregarded. The fund balance ratio shall be expressed as a percentage.
The interval of the fund balance ratio, expressed as a percentage, shall determine which tax schedule in (e) of this subsection (((5) of this section)) shall be in effect for assigning tax rates for the rate year. The intervals for determining the effective tax schedule shall be:

The array shall show for each qualified employer: ((3)) (i) identification number; ((3)) (ii) benefit ratio; ((3)) (iii) taxable payrolls for the four calendar quarters immediately preceding the computation date and reported to the department by the cut-off date; ((3)) (iv) a cumulative total of taxable payrolls consisting of the employer’s taxable payroll plus the taxable payrolls of all other employers preceding him or her in the array; and ((3)) (v) the percentage equivalent of the cumulative total of taxable payrolls.

Each employer in the array shall be assigned to one of twenty rate classes according to the percentage intervals of cumulative taxable payrolls set forth in (e) of this subsection (((5) of this section)): PROVIDED, That if an employer’s taxable payroll falls within two or more rate classes, the employer and any other employer with the same benefit ratio shall be assigned to the lowest rate class which includes any portion of the employer’s taxable payroll.

Except as provided in RCW 50.29.026, the contribution rate for each employer in the array shall be the rate specified in the following tables for the rate class to which he or she has been assigned, as determined under (d) of this subsection (((4) of this section)), within the tax schedule which is to be in effect during the rate year:

The contribution rate for each employer not qualified to be in the array shall be as follows:

(i) Employers who do not meet the definition of "qualified employer" by reason of failure to pay contributions when due shall be assigned a contribution rate two-tenths higher than that in rate class 20 for the applicable rate year, except employers who have an approved agency-deferred payment contract by September 30 of the previous rate year. If any employer with an approved agency-deferred payment contract fails to make any one of the succeeding deferred payments or fails to submit any succeeding tax report and payment in a timely manner, the employer's tax rate shall immediately revert to a contribution rate two-tenths higher than that in rate class 20 for the applicable rate year; and

(ii) For all other employers not qualified to be in the array, the contribution rate shall be a rate equal to the average industry rate as determined by the commissioner; however, the rate may not be less than one percent.

Assignment of employers by the commissioner to industrial classification, for purposes of this section, shall be in accordance with established classification practices found in the "Standard Industrial Classification Manual" issued by the federal office of management and budget to the third digit provided in the standard industrial classification code, or in the North American industry classification system code.

(2) Beginning with contributions assessed for rate year 2005, the contribution rate for each employer subject to contributions under RCW 50.24.010 shall be the sum of the array calculation factor rate and the graduated social cost factor rate determined under this subsection, and the solvency surcharge determined under section 17 of this act, if any.

(a) The array calculation factor rate shall be determined as follows:

(i) An array shall be prepared, listing all qualified employers in ascending order of their benefit ratios. The array shall show for each qualified employer: (A) Identification number; (B) benefit ratio; and (C) taxable payrolls for the four consecutive calendar quarters immediately preceding the computation date and reported to the employment security department by the cut-off date.

(ii) Each employer in the array shall be assigned to one of forty rate classes according to his or her benefit ratio as follows, and, except as provided in RCW 50.29.026, the array calculation factor rate for each employer in the array shall be the rate specified in the rate class to which the employer has been assigned:

The average industry array calculation factor rate as determined by the commissioner, plus fifteen percent of that amount; however, the rate may not be less than one percent or more than the array calculation factor rate immediately following the cut-off date by reducing the total social cost by the dollar amount that represents the number of months for which the balance in the unemployment compensation fund on the cut-off date will provide benefits above ten months and dividing the result by the total taxable payroll.

However, the calculation under this subsection (2)(b)(i)(B) for a rate year may not result in a flat social cost factor that is more than two-tenths lower than the calculation under (b)(i)(A) of this subsection for that rate year. For the purposes of this subsection, the commissioner shall determine the number of months of unemployment benefits in the unemployment compensation fund using the benefit cost rate for the average of the three highest calendar benefit cost rates in the twenty consecutive completed calendar years immediately preceding the cut-off date or a period of consecutive calendar years immediately preceding the cut-off date that includes three recessions, if longer.

(C) The minimum flat social cost factor calculated under this subsection (2)(b) shall be six-tenths of one percent.

(ii) The graduated social cost factor rate for each employer in the array is the flat social cost factor calculated under this subsection (2)(b) multiplied by the percentage specified as follows for the rate class to which the employer has been assigned in (a)(ii) of this subsection, except that the sum of an employer's array calculation factor rate and the graduated social cost factor rate may not exceed six and five-tenths percent:

(A) Rate class 1 - 76 percent;
(B) Rate class 2 - 82 percent;
(C) Rate class 3 - 86 percent;
(D) Rate class 4 - 90 percent;
(E) Rate class 5 - 94 percent;
(F) Rate class 6 - 98 percent;
(G) Rate class 7 - 102 percent;
(H) Rate classes 8 - 106 percent;
(i) Rate class 9 - 110 percent;
(J) Rate class 10 - 114 percent;
(K) Rate class 11 - 118 percent; and
(L) Rate classes 12 through 40 - 120 percent.

(iii) For the purposes of this section:

(A) "Total social cost" means the amount calculated by subtracting the array calculation factor contributions paid by all employers with respect to the four consecutive calendar quarters immediately preceding the computation date and paid to the employment security department by the cut-off date from the total unemployment benefits paid to claimants in the same four consecutive calendar quarters. To calculate the flat social cost factor for rate year 2005, the commissioner shall calculate the total social cost using the array calculation factor contributions that would have been required to be paid by all employers in the calculation period if (a) of this subsection had been in effect for the relevant period.

(B) "Total taxable payroll" means the total amount of wages subject to tax, as determined under RCW 50.24.010, for all employers in the four consecutive calendar quarters immediately preceding the computation date and reported to the employment security department by the cut-off date.

(c) The array calculation factor rate for each employer not qualified to be in the array shall be as follows:

(i) Employers who do not meet the definition of "qualified employer" by reason of failure to pay contributions when due shall be assigned an array calculation factor rate two-tenths higher than that in rate class 40, except employers who have an approved agency-deferred payment contract by September 30th of the previous rate year. If any employer with an approved agency-deferred payment contract fails to make any one of the succeeding deferred payments or fails to submit any succeeding tax report and payment in a timely manner, the employer's tax rate shall immediately revert to an array calculation factor rate two-tenths higher than that in rate class 40; and

(ii) For all other employers not qualified to be in the array, the array calculation factor rate shall be a rate equal to the average industry array calculation factor rate as determined by the commissioner, plus fifteen percent of that amount; however, the rate may not be less than one percent or more than the array calculation factor rate in rate class 40.

(d) The graduated social cost factor rate for each employer not qualified to be in the array shall be as follows:
(i) For employers whose array calculation factor rate is determined under (c)(i) of this subsection, the social cost factor rate shall be the social cost factor rate assigned to rate class 40 under (b)(ii) of the rate classes.

(ii) For employers whose array calculation factor rate is determined under (c)(ii) of this subsection, the social cost factor rate shall be a rate equal to the average industry social cost factor rate as determined by the commissioner, plus fifteen percent of that amount, but not more than the social cost factor rate assigned to rate class 40 under (b)(ii) of this subsection.

(3) Assignment of employers by the commissioner to industrial classification, for purposes of this section, shall be in accordance with established classification practices found in the "Standard Industrial Classification Manual" issued by the federal office of management and budget to the third digit provided in the standard industrial classification code, or in the North American Industry classification system code.

Sec. 16. RCW 50.04.355 and 2000 c 2 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) For computations made before January 1, 2007, the employment security department shall compute, on or before the fifteenth day of June of each year, an "average annual wage", an "average weekly wage", and an "average annual wage for contributions purposes" ((shall be computed)) from information for the specified preceding calendar years including corrections thereof reported within three months after the close of the specified years by all employers as defined in RCW 50.04.080.

(b) The "average annual wage" is the quotient derived by dividing the total remuneration reported by all employers for the preceding calendar year by the average number of workers reported for all months of the preceding calendar year and if the result is not a multiple of one dollar, rounding the result to the next lower multiple of one dollar.

(c) The "average annual wage for contributions purposes" is the quotient derived by dividing the total remuneration reported by all employers subject to contributions for the preceding three consecutive calendar years and dividing this amount by the average number of workers reported for all months of these three years by these same employers and if the result is not a multiple of one dollar, rounding the result to the next lower multiple of one dollar.

(2) For computations made on or after January 1, 2007, the employment security department shall compute, on or before the fifteenth day of June of each year, an "average annual wage," an "average weekly wage," and an "average annual wage for contributions purposes" from information for the preceding calendar year including corrections thereof reported within three months after the close of that year by all employers as defined in RCW 50.04.080.

(a) The "average annual wage" is the quotient derived by dividing the total remuneration reported by all employers by the average number of workers reported for all months and if the result is not a multiple of one dollar, rounding the result to the next lower multiple of one dollar.

(b) The "average weekly wage" is the quotient derived by dividing the "average annual wage" obtained under (a) of this subsection by fifty-two and if the result is not a multiple of one dollar, rounding the result to the next lower multiple of one dollar.

(c) The "average annual wage for contributions purposes" is the quotient derived by dividing the total remuneration reported by all employers subject to contributions by the average number of workers reported for all months by these same employers and if the result is not a multiple of one dollar, rounding the result to the next lower multiple of one dollar.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. A new section is added to chapter 50.29 RCW to read as follows:

Beginning with contributions assessed for rate year 2005, the contribution rate of each employer subject to contributions under RCW 50.24.010 shall include a solvency surcharge determined as follows:

(1) Beginning with contributions assessed for rate year 1996, a qualified employer’s contribution rate applicable for rate years beginning before January 1, 2005, or array calculation factor rate applicable for rate years beginning on or after January 1, 2005, determined under RCW 50.29.025 may be modified as follows:

(a) Subject to the limitations of this subsection, an employer may make a voluntary contribution of an amount equal to or part of all of the benefits charged to the employer’s account during the two years most recently ended on June 30th that were used for the purpose of computing the employer’s contribution rate applicable for rate years beginning before January 1, 2005, or array calculation factor rate applicable for rate years beginning on or after January 1, 2005. On receiving timely payment of a voluntary contribution, plus a surcharge of ten percent of the amount of the voluntary contribution, the commissioner shall cancel the benefits equal to the amount of the voluntary contribution, excluding the surcharge, and compute a new benefit ratio for the employer. The employer shall then be assigned the contribution rate applicable for rate years beginning before January 1, 2005, or array calculation factor rate applicable for rate years beginning on or after January 1, 2005, applicable to the rate class within which the recomputed benefit ratio is included. The minimum amount of a voluntary contribution, including the surcharge, must be an amount that will result in a recomputed benefit ratio that is in a rate class at least ((two)) four rate classes lower than the rate class that included the employer’s original benefit ratio.
(b) Payment of a voluntary contribution is considered timely if received by the department during the period beginning on the date of mailing to the employer the notice of contribution rate applicable for rate years beginning before January 1, 2005, or notice of array calculation factor rate applicable for rate years beginning on or after January 1, 2005, required under this title for the rate year for which the employer is seeking a modification of his or her ((contribution)) rate and ending on February 15th of that rate year or, for voluntary contributions for rate year 2000, ending on March 31, 2000.

(c) A benefit ratio may not be recomputed nor a ((contribution)) rate be reduced under this section as a result of a voluntary contribution received after the payment period prescribed in (b) of this subsection.

(2) This section does not apply to any employer who has not had an increase of at least 12 rate classes from the previous tax rate year.

50.29.025(2) (c)(ii) and (d)(ii), and section 17 of this act, if applicable.

Sec. 19. RCW 50.29.062 and 1996 c 238 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

Predecessor and successor employer contribution rates shall be computed in the following manner:

(1) If the successor is an employer, as defined in RCW 50.04.080, at the time of the transfer, its contribution rate shall remain unchanged for the remainder of the rate year in which the transfer occurs. From and after January 1 following the transfer, the successor's contribution rate for each rate year shall be based on its experience with payrolls and benefits including the experience of the acquired business or portion of a business from the date of transfer, as of the regular computation date for that rate year.

(2) For transfers before January 1, 2005, the following applies if the successor is not an employer at the time of the transfer: The successor shall pay contributions at the lowest rate determined under either of the following:

(a) (i) For transfers before January 1, 1997, the contribution rate of the rate class assigned to the predecessor employer at the time of the transfer for the remainder of that rate year and continuing until the successor qualifies for a different rate in its own right;

(ii) For transfers on or after January 1, 1997, the contribution rate of the rate class assigned to the predecessor employer at the time of the transfer for the remainder of that rate year. Any experience relating to the assignment of that rate class to the predecessor is transferred to the successor. Beginning with the January 1 following the transfer, the successor's contribution rate shall be based on the transferred experience of the acquired business and the successor's experience after the transfer; or

(b) The contribution rate equal to the average industry rate as determined by the commissioner, but not less than one percent, and continuing until the successor qualifies for a different rate in its own right. Assignment of employers by the commissioner to industrial classification, for purposes of this subsection, must be in accordance with established classification practices found in the "Standard Industrial Classification Manual" issued by the federal office of management and budget to the third digit provided in the standard industrial classification code, or in the North American industry classification code system.

(3) For transfers before January 1, 2005, if the successor is not an employer at the time of the transfer and simultaneously acquires the business or a portion of the business of two or more employers in different rate classes, its rate from the date the transfer occurred until the end of that rate year and until it qualifies in its own right for a new rate, shall be the highest rate class applicable at the time of the acquisition to any predecessor employer who is a party to the acquisition, but not less than one percent.

(4) For transfers on or after January 1, 2005, the following applies if the successor is not an employer at the time of the transfer:

(a) Except as provided in (b) of this subsection, the successor shall pay contributions:

(i) At the contribution rate determined for the predecessor employer at the time of the transfer for the remainder of the rate year. Any experience attributable to the predecessor relating to the assignment of the predecessor's rate class is transferred to the successor. On and after January 1st following the transfer, the successor's array calculation factor rate shall be based on the transferred experience of the acquired business and the successor's experience after the transfer; or

(ii) At the contribution rate equal to the sum of the rates determined by the commissioner under RCW 50.29.025(2) (c)(ii) and (d)(ii), and section 17 of this act, if applicable, and continuing until the successor qualifies for a different rate in its own right.

(b) If there is a substantial continuity of ownership or management by the successor of the business of the predecessor, the successor shall pay contributions at the contribution rate determined for the predecessor employer at the time of the transfer for the remainder of that rate year. Any experience attributable to the predecessor relating to the assignment of the predecessor's rate class is transferred to the successor. On and after January 1st following the transfer, the successor's array calculation factor rate shall be based on the transferred experience of the acquired business and the successor's experience after the transfer.

(c) If the successor simultaneously acquires the business or a portion of the business of two or more employers with different contribution rates, the successor's rate from the date the transfer occurred until the end of that rate year and until it qualifies in its own right for a new rate, shall be the sum of the rates determined by the commissioner under RCW 50.29.025(2) (a) and (b), and section 17 of this act, applicable at the time of the acquisition to the predecessor employer who, among the parties to the acquisition, had the largest taxable payroll in the completed calendar quarter immediately preceding the date of transfer, but not less than the sum of the rates determined by the commissioner under RCW 50.29.025(2) (c)(ii) and (d)(ii), and section 17 of this act, if applicable.

(5) The contribution rate on any payroll retained by a predecessor employer shall remain unchanged for the remainder of the rate year in which the transfer occurs.

(((id)(ii) (6) In all cases, from and after January 1 following the transfer, the predecessor's contribution rate or, beginning January 1, 2005, the predecessor's array calculation factor for each rate year shall be based on its experience with payrolls and benefits as of the regular computation date for that rate year including the experience of the acquired business or portion of business up to the date of transfer. If the date of the predecessor's business is transferred to a successor or successors, the predecessor shall not be a qualified employer until it satisfies the requirements of a "qualified employer" as set forth in RCW 50.29.010.

Sec. 20. RCW 50.29.070 and 1990 c 245 s 8 are each amended to read as follows:
(1) Within a reasonable time after the computation date each employer shall be notified of the employer's rate of contribution as determined for the succeeding rate year and factors used in the calculation. Beginning with rate year 2005, the notice must include the amount of the contribution rate that is attributable to each component of the rate under RCW 50.29.025(2).

(2) An employer dissatisfied with the benefit charges made to the employer's account for the twelve-month period immediately preceding the computation date or with his or her determined rate may file a request for review and redetermination with the commissioner within thirty days of the mailing of the notice to the employer, showing the reason for such request. Should such request for review and redetermination be denied, the employer may, within thirty days of the mailing of such notice of denial, file with the appeal tribunal a petition for hearing which shall be heard in the same manner as a petition for denial of refund. The appellate procedure prescribed by this title for further appeal shall apply to all denials of review and redetermination under this section.

Sec. 21. RCW 50.29.020 and 2002 c 149 $ 6 and 2002 c 8 s 4 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) This section applies to benefits charged to the experience rating accounts of employers for claims that have an effective date before January 4, 2004.

(2) An experience rating account shall be established and maintained for each employer, except employers as described in RCW 50.44.010 and 50.44.030 who have properly elected to make payments in lieu of contributions, taxable local government employers as described in RCW 50.44.035, and those employers who are required to make payments in lieu of contributions, based on existing records of the employment security department. Benefits paid to any eligible individuals shall be charged to the experience rating accounts of each of such individual's employers during the individual's base year in the same ratio that the wages paid by each employer to the individual during the base year bear to the wages paid by all employers to that individual during that base year, except as otherwise provided in this section.

(3) The legislature finds that certain benefit payments, in whole or in part, should not be charged to the experience rating accounts of employers except those employers described in RCW 50.44.010 and 50.44.030 who have properly elected to make payments in lieu of contributions, taxable local government employers as described in RCW 50.44.035, and those employers who are required to make payments in lieu of contributions, as follows:

(a) Benefits paid to any individuals later determined to be ineligible shall not be charged to the experience rating account of any contribution paying employer.

(b) Benefits paid to an individual filing under the provisions of chapter 50.06 RCW shall not be charged to the experience rating account of any contribution paying employer only if:

(i) The individual files under RCW 50.06.020(1) after receiving crime victims' compensation for a disability resulting from a nonwork-related occurrence; or

(ii) The individual files under RCW 50.06.020(2).

(c) Benefits paid which represent the state's share of benefits payable as extended benefits defined under RCW 50.22.010(6) shall not be charged to the experience rating account of any contribution paying employer.

(d) In the case of individuals who requalify for benefits under RCW 50.20.050 or 50.20.060, benefits based on wage credits earned prior to the disqualifying separation shall not be charged to the experience rating account of the contribution paying employer from whom that separation took place.

(e) Individuals who qualify for benefits under RCW 50.20.050((2)(d)) (1)(b)(iii) shall not have their benefits charged to the experience rating account of any contribution paying employer.

(f) In the case of individuals identified under RCW 50.20.015, benefits paid with respect to a calendar quarter, which exceed the total amount of wages earned in the state of Washington in the higher of two corresponding calendar quarters included within the individual's determination period, as defined in RCW 50.20.015, shall not be charged to the experience rating account of any contribution paying employer.

(4) A contribution-paying base year employer, not otherwise eligible for relief of charges for benefits under this section, may receive such relief if the benefit charges result from payment to an individual who:

(i) Last left the employ of such employer voluntarily for reasons not attributable to the employer;

(ii) Was discharged for misconduct connected with his or her work not a result of inability to meet the minimum job requirements;

(iii) Is employed as a result of a closure or severe curtailment of operation at the employer's plant, building, worksite, or other facility. This closure must be for reasons directly attributable to a catastrophic occurrence such as fire, flood, or other natural disaster; or

(iv) Continues to be employed on a regularly scheduled permanent part-time basis by a base year employer and who at some time during the base year was concurrently employed and subsequently separated from at least one other base year employer. Benefit charge relief ceases when the employment relationship between the employer requesting relief and the claimant is terminated. This subsection does not apply to shared work employers under chapter 50.60 RCW.

(b) The employer requesting relief of charges under this subsection must request relief in writing within thirty days following mailing to the last known address of the notification of the valid initial determination of such claim, stating the date and reason for the separation or the circumstances of continued employment. The commissioner, upon investigation of the request, shall determine whether relief should be granted.

(5) An experience rating account shall be established and maintained for each employer, except employers as described in RCW 50.44.010 and 50.44.030 who have properly elected to make payments in lieu of contributions, taxable local government employers as described in RCW 50.44.035, and those employers who are required to make payments in lieu of contributions, based on existing records of the employment security department.

Sec. 22. A new section is added to chapter 50.29 RCW to read as follows:

(1) This section applies to benefits charged to the experience rating accounts of employers for claims that have an effective date on or after January 4, 2004.

(2) An experience rating account shall be established and maintained for each employer, except employers as described in RCW 50.44.010 and 50.44.030 who have properly elected to make payments in lieu of contributions, taxable local government employers as described in RCW 50.44.035, and those employers who are required to make payments in lieu of contributions, based on existing records of the employment security department.
(c) When the eligible individual's separating employer is a covered contribution paying base year employer, benefits paid to the eligible individual shall be charged to the experience rating account of only the individual's separating employer if the individual qualifies for benefits under:

(i) RCW 50.20.050(2)(b)(i), as applicable, and became unemployed after having worked and earned wages in the bona fide work; or
(ii) RCW 50.20.050(2)(b)(v) through (x).

(d) Benefits paid to an individual with respect to weeks of the benefit year that correspond to calendar weeks within a seasonal work period of a base year employer who had been designated as a seasonal employer by the commissioner under section 12(2)(c) of this act shall be charged to the experience rating account of that contribution paying seasonal employer.

(3) The legislature finds that certain benefit payments, in whole or in part, should not be charged to the experience rating accounts of employers except those employers described in RCW 50.44.010 and 50.44.030 who have properly elected to make payments in lieu of contributions, taxable local government employers described in RCW 50.44.035, and those employers who are required to make payments in lieu of contributions, as follows:

(a) Benefits paid to any individual later determined to be ineligible shall not be charged to the experience rating account of any contribution paying employer.

(b) Benefits paid to an individual filing under the provisions of chapter 50.06 RCW shall not be charged to the experience rating account of any contribution paying employer only if:

(i) The individual files under RCW 50.06.020(1) after receiving crime victims' compensation for a disability resulting from a nonwork-related occurrence; or
(ii) The individual files under RCW 50.06.020(2).

(c) Benefits paid which represent the state's share of benefits payable as extended benefits defined under RCW 50.22.010(6) shall not be charged to the experience rating account of any contribution paying employer.

(d) Benefits paid to individuals who qualify for benefits under RCW 50.20.050(2)(b)(v), as applicable, and became unemployed after having worked and earned wages in the bona fide work; or

(e) Benefits paid to an individual with respect to weeks of the benefit year that correspond to calendar weeks within a seasonal work period of a base year employer who had been designated as a seasonal employer by the commissioner under section 12(2)(c) of this act shall be charged to the experience rating account of that contribution paying seasonal employer.

(4)(a) A contribution paying base year employer, not otherwise eligible for relief of charges for benefits under this section, may receive such relief if the benefit charges result from payment to an individual who:

(i) Last left the employ of such employer voluntarily for reasons not attributable to the employer;
(ii) Was discharged for misconduct or gross misconduct connected with his or her work not a result of inability to meet the minimum job requirements;
(iii) Is unemployed as a result of closure or severe curtailment of operation at the employer's plant, building, worksite, or other facility. This closure must be for reasons directly attributable to a catastrophic occurrence such as fire, flood, or other natural disaster; or
(iv) Continues to be employed on a regularly scheduled permanent part-time basis by a base year employer and who at some time during the base year was concurrently employed and subsequently separated from at least one other base year employer. Benefit charge relief ceases when the employment relationship between the employer requesting relief and the claimant is terminated. This subsection does not apply to shared work employers under chapter 50.60 RCW.

(b) The employer requesting relief of charges under this subsection must request relief in writing within thirty days following mailing to the last known address of the notification of the initial determination of such claim, stating the date and reason for the separation or the circumstances of continued employment. The commissioner, upon investigation of the request, shall determine whether relief should be granted.

Sec. 23. RCW 50.12.220 and 1987 c 111 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) If an employer fails to file a timely and complete manner a report required by RCW 50.12.070 (as now or hereafter amended), or the rules adopted pursuant thereto, the employer shall be subject to a (minimum) penalty (if ten dollars per violation) to be determined by the commissioner, but not to exceed two hundred fifty dollars or ten percent of the quarterly contributions for each such offense, whichever is less.

(b) If an employer knowingly misrepresents to the employment security department the amount of his or her payroll upon which contributions under this title are based, the employer shall be liable to the state for up to ten times the amount of the difference in contributions paid, if any, and the amount the employer should have paid for the reasonable expenses of auditing his or her books and collecting such sums. Such liability may be enforced in the name of the department for which a contribution is made under this title is due to an intent to evade the successionship provisions of RCW 50.29.062, the commissioner shall assign to the employer, and to any business found to be promoting the evasion of such provisions, a penalty of (minimum) ten percent of the amount of the contributions for the second month or part thereof of delinquency; and there shall be assessed a total penalty of twenty percent of the amount of the contributions for the second month or part thereof of delinquency. No penalty so added shall be less than ten dollars. These penalties are in addition to the interest charges assessed under RCW 50.24.040.

(3) Penalties shall not accrue on contributions from an estate in the hands of a receiver, executor, administrator, trustee in bankruptcy, common law assignee, or other liquidating officer subsequent to the date when such receiver, executor, administrator, trustee in bankruptcy, common law assignee, or other liquidating officer qualifies as such, but contributions accruing with respect to employment of persons by a receiver, executor, administrator, trustee in bankruptcy, common law assignee, or other liquidating officer shall become due and shall be subject to penalties in the same manner as contributions due from other employers.

(4) Where adequate information has been furnished to the department and the department has failed to act or has advised the employer of no liability or inability to decide the issue, penalties shall be waived by the commissioner. Penalties may also be waived for good cause if the commissioner determines that the failure to timely file reports or pay contributions was not due to the employer’s fault.

(5) Any decision to assess a penalty as provided by this section shall be made by the chief administrative officer of the tax branch or his or her designee.

(6) Nothing in this section shall be construed to deny an employer the right to appeal the assessment of any penalty. Such appeal shall be made in the manner provided in RCW 50.32.030.

Sec. 24. RCW 50.16.010 and 2002 c 371 s 914 are each amended to read as follows:

Contributions to this account shall accrue and become payable by each employer, except employers as described in RCW 50.44.010 and 50.44.030 who have properly elected to make payments in lieu of contributions, taxable local government employers as described in RCW 50.44.035, and those employers who are required to make payments in lieu of contributions, at a basic rate of two one-hundredths of one percent. The amount of wages subject to tax shall be determined under RCW 50.24.010.

A separate and identifiable account is established in the administrative contingency fund for financing the employment security department’s administrative cost under RCW 50.22.150 and the costs under RCW 50.22.150(9). All money in this account shall be expended solely for the purposes of this title and for no other purposes whatsoever.

Contributions to this account shall accrue and become payable by each employer, except employers as described in RCW 50.44.010 and 50.44.030 who have properly elected to make payments in lieu of contributions, taxable local government employers as described in RCW 50.44.035, those employers who are required to make payments in lieu of contributions, those employers described under RCW 50.29.025(6)(b) (1)(b)(i), and those qualified employers assigned rate class 20 or rate class 40, as applicable, under RCW 50.29.025, at a basic rate of one one-hundredth of one percent. The amount of wages subject to tax shall be determined under RCW 50.24.010. Any amount of contributions payable under this subsection (1)(b) that exceeds the amount that would have been collected at a rate of four one-thousandths of one percent must be deposited in the unemployment compensation trust fund.

(c) For the first calendar quarter of 1994 only, the basic two one-hundredths of one percent contribution payable under (a) of this subsection shall be increased by one one-hundredth of one percent to a total rate of three one-hundredths of one percent. The proceeds of this incremental one-hundredth of one percent shall be used solely for the purposes described in section 22, chapter 483, Laws of 1993, and for the purposes of conducting an evaluation of the call center approach to unemployment insurance under section 5, chapter 161, Laws of 1998. During the 1997-1999 fiscal biennium, any surplus from contributions payable under this subsection (c) may be deposited in the unemployment compensation trust fund, used to support tax and wage automated systems projects that simplify and streamline employer reporting, or both.

(2)(a) Contributions under this section shall become due and be paid by each employer under rules as the commissioner may prescribe, and shall not be deducted, in whole or in part, from the remuneration of individuals in the employ of such employer. Any deduction in violation of this section is unlawful.

(b) In the payment of any contributions under this section, a fractional part of a cent shall be disregarded unless it amounts to one-half cent or more, in which case it shall be increased to one cent.

(3) If the commissioner determines that federal funding has been increased to provide financing for the services specified in chapter 50.62 RCW, the commissioner shall direct that collection of contributions under this section be terminated on the following January 1st.

Sec. 27. RCW 50.20.190 and 2002 c 371 s 915 are each amended to read as follows:

Sec. 27. RCW 50.20.190 and 2002 c 371 s 915 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Any individual who is properly paid any amount as benefits under this title to which he or she is not entitled shall, unless otherwise relieved pursuant to this section, be liable for repayment of the amount overpaid. The department shall issue an overpayment assessment setting forth the reasons for and the amount of the overpayment. The amount assessed, to the extent not collected, may be deducted from any future benefits payable to the individual: PROVIDED, That in the absence of a back pay award, a settlement affecting the allowance of benefits, fraud, misrepresentation, or willful nondisclosure, every determination of liability shall be mailed or personally served not later than two years after the close of or final payment made on the individual’s applicable benefit year for which the purported overpayment was made, whichever is later, unless the merits of the claim are subjected to administrative or judicial review in which event the period for serving the determination of liability shall be extended to allow service of the determination of liability during the six-month period following the final decision affecting the claim.

(2) The commissioner may waive an overpayment if the commissioner finds that the overpayment was not the result of fraud, misrepresentation, willful nondisclosure, or fault attributable to the individual and that the recovery thereof would be against equity and good conscience: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That the overpayment so waived shall be charged against the individual’s applicable entitlement for the eligibility period containing the weeks to which the overpayment was attributed as though such benefits had been properly paid.

(3) Any assessment herein provided shall constitute a determination of liability from which an appeal may be had in the same manner and to the same extent as provided for appeals relating to determinations in respect to claims for benefits: PROVIDED, That an appeal from any determination covering overpayment only shall be deemed to be an appeal from the determination which was the basis for establishing the overpayment unless the merits involved in the issue set forth in such determination have already been heard and passed upon by the appeal tribunal. If no such appeal is taken to the appeal tribunal by the individual within thirty days of the delivery of the notice of determination of liability, or within thirty days of the mailing of the notice of determination, whichever is the earlier, the determination of liability shall be deemed conclusive and final. Whenever any such notice of determination of liability becomes conclusive and final, the commissioner, upon giving at least twenty days notice by certified mail return receipt requested to the individual’s last known address of the intended action, may file with the superior court clerk of any county within the state a warrant in the amount of the notice of determination of liability plus a filing fee under RCW 36.18.012(10). The clerk of the county where the warrant is filed shall immediately designate a superior court cause number for the warrant, and the clerk shall cause to be entered in the judgment docket under the superior court cause number assigned to the warrant, the name of the person(s) mentioned in the warrant, the amount of the notice of determination of liability, and the date when the warrant was filed. The amount of the warrant as docketed shall become a lien upon the title to, and any interest in, all real and personal property of the person(s) against whom the warrant is issued, the same as a judgment in a civil case duly docketed in the office of such clerk. A warrant so docketed shall be sufficient to support the issuance of writs of execution and writs of garnishment in favor of the state in the manner provided by law for a civil judgment. A copy of the warrant shall be mailed to the person(s) mentioned in the warrant by certified mail to the person’s last known address within five days of its filing with the clerk.

(4) On request of any agency which administers an employment security law of another state, the United States, or a foreign government and which has found in accordance with the provisions of such law that a claimant is liable to repay benefits received under such law, the commissioner may collect the amount of such benefits from the claimant to be refunded to the agency. In any case in which under this section a claimant is liable to repay any amount to the agency of another state, the United States, or a foreign government, such amounts may be collected without interest by civil action in the name of the commissioner acting as agent for such agency if the other state, the United States, or the foreign government extends such collection rights to the employment security department of the state of Washington, and provided that the court costs be paid by the governmental agency benefiting from such collection.

(5) Any employer who is a party to a back pay award or settlement due to loss of wages shall, within thirty days of the award or settlement, report to the department the amount of the award or settlement, the name and social security number of the recipient of the award or settlement, and the period for which it is awarded. When an individual has been awarded or receives back pay, for benefit purposes the amount of the back pay shall constitute wages paid in the period for which it was awarded. For contribution purposes, the back pay award or settlement shall constitute wages paid in the period in which it was actually paid. The following requirements shall also apply:
(a) The employer shall reduce the amount of the back pay award or settlement by an amount determined by the department based upon the amount of unemployment benefits received by the recipient of the award or settlement during the period for which the back pay award or settlement was awarded;
(b) The employer shall pay to the unemployment compensation fund, in a manner specified by the commissioner, an amount equal to the amount of such reduction;
(c) The employer shall also pay to the department any taxes due for unemployment insurance purposes on the entire amount of the back pay award or settlement notwithstanding any reduction made pursuant to (a) of this subsection;
(d) If the employer fails to reduce the amount of the back pay award or settlement as required in (a) of this subsection, the department shall issue an overpayment assessment against the recipient of the award or settlement in the amount that the back pay award or settlement should have been reduced; and
(e) If the employer fails to pay to the department an amount equal to the reduction as required in (b) of this subsection, the department shall issue an assessment of liability against the employer which shall be collected pursuant to the procedures for collection of assessments provided herein and in RCW 50.24.110.
(6) When an individual fails to repay an overpayment assessment that is due and fails to arrange for satisfactory repayment terms, the commissioner shall impose an interest penalty of one percent per month of the outstanding balance. Interest shall accrue immediately on overpayments assessed pursuant to RCW 50.20.070 and shall be imposed when the assessment becomes final. For any other overpayment, interest shall accrue when the individual has missed two or more of (i)(b)(ii) the individual’s monthly payments either partially or in full. The interest penalty shall be used, first, to fully fund either social security number cross-match audits or other more effective activities that ensure that individuals are entitled to all amounts of benefits that they are paid and, second, to fund other detection and recovery of overpayment and collection activities (and, during the 2001-2003 fiscal biennium, the cost of worker retraining programs at community and technical colleges as appropriated by the legislature).

Sec. 28. RCW 50.04.206 and 1990 c 245 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:
The term “employment” shall not include service that is performed by a nonresident alien for the period he or she is temporarily present in the United States as a nonimmigrant under subparagraph (F), (H)(ii), (H)(iii), or (J) of section 101(a)(15) of the federal immigration and naturalization act, as amended, and that is performed to carry out the purpose specified in the applicable subparagraph of the federal immigration and naturalization act.

PART III - ADMINISTRATION

Sec. 29. RCW 50.20.140 and 1998 c 161 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:
(1) An application for initial determination, a claim for waiting period, or a claim for benefits shall be filed in accordance with such rules as the commissioner may prescribe. An application for an initial determination may be made by any individual whether unemployed or not. Each employer shall post and maintain printed statements of such rules in places readily accessible to individuals in his or her employment and shall make available to each such individual at the time he or she becomes unemployed, a printed statement of such rules and such notices, instructions, and other material as the commissioner may by rule prescribe. Such printed material shall be supplied by the commissioner to each employer without cost to the employer.

met. The term “claim for benefits” shall mean a certification, after the close of a given week, that the requirements stated herein for eligibility for receipt of benefits have been met.
(3) A representative designated by the commissioner shall take the application for initial determination and for the claim for waiting period credits or for benefits. When an application for initial determination has been made, the employment security department shall promptly make an initial determination which shall be a statement of the applicant’s base year wages, his or her weekly benefit amount, his or her maximum amount of benefits potentially payable, and his or her benefit year. Such determination shall fix the general conditions under which waiting period credit shall be granted and under which benefits shall be paid during any period of unemployment occurring within the benefit year fixed by such determination.
(4) The legislature finds that the shift by the employment security department from in-person written applications for unemployment insurance benefits to call centers and internet applications has increased the potential for fraud.
Therefore, the employment security department must require claimants filing initial and weekly claims telephonically or electronically to provide additional proof of identity, such as a valid driver’s license, a valid identification card, or other similar proof specified in rule by the department.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 30. The employment security department shall:
(1) In consultation with an advisory committee equally representing business and labor, identify the programs funded by special administrative contributions under Title 50 RCW and report to the advisory committee the expenditures

Sec. 33. RCW 50.32.040 and 1989 c 175 s 117 are each amended to read as follows:

In any proceeding before an appeal tribunal involving a dispute of an individual's claim for waiting period credit or claim for benefits, all matters and provisions of this title relating to the individual's right to receive such credit or benefits for the period in question, including but not limited to the question and nature of the claimant's availability for work within the meaning of RCW 50.20.010(((3))) (1)(e) and 50.20.080, shall be deemed to be in issue irrespective of the particular ground or grounds set forth in the notice of appeal in single claimant cases. Senator Keiser: "A parliamentary inquiry, Mr. President. I see before me two striking amendments, one from Senator Honeyford and one from me and I have a question. If we take further action on the striking amendment by Senator Honeyford, does that preclude action on my striking amendment?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Once, the action is completed on the striking amendment by Senator Honeyford and the amendments are completed and the vote is taken and if it passes, then the other striking amendment would be out of order. You can only adopt one striking amendment."

Senator Keiser: "Thank you."

MOTION

Senator Brown moved that the following amendment by Senators Brown, Franklin, Spanel, Kohl-Welles, Keiser, Eide and McAuliffe to the striking amendment by Senator Honeyford be adopted:

"PART I - UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION BENEFITS

Sec. 1. RCW 50.04.030 and 1991 c 117 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) "Benefit year" with respect to each individual, means the fifty-two consecutive week period beginning with the first day of the calendar week in which the individual files an application for an initial determination and thereafter the fifty-two consecutive week period beginning with the first day of the calendar week in which the individual next files an application for an initial determination after the expiration of the individual's last preceding benefit year: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That the foregoing limitation shall not be deemed to preclude the establishment of a new benefit year under the laws of another state to any agreement providing for the interstate combining of employment and wages and the interstate payment of benefits nor shall this limitation be deemed to preclude the commissioner from backdating an initial application at the request of the claimant either for the convenience of the department of employment security or for any other reason deemed by the commissioner to be good cause.

(2) An individual's benefit year shall be extended to be fifty-three weeks when at the expiration of fifty-two weeks the establishment of a new benefit year would result in the use of a quarter of wages in the new base year that had been included in the individual's prior base year.

(3)(a) No benefit year will be established unless it is determined that:
(i) The individual earned wages in "employment" in not less than six hundred eighty hours of the individual's base year; or
(ii) Beginning with claims that have an effective date on or after January 4, 2004, the individual earned wages in "employment" in not less than six hundred eighty hours of the individual's base year and also earned wages in "employment" in at least two quarters of the individual's base year. If sections 9 and 10 of this act are not enacted by July 1, 2003, this subsection (3)(a)(ii) is null and void.

(b) A benefit year ((cannot)) may not be established if the base year wages include wages earned prior to the establishment of a prior benefit year unless the individual worked and earned wages since the last separation from employment immediately before the application for initial determination in the previous benefit year if the applicant was an unemployed individual at the time of application, or since the initial separation in the previous benefit year if the applicant was not an unemployed individual at the time of filing an application for initial determination for the previous benefit year, of not less than six times the weekly benefit amount computed for the individual's new benefit year.

(c) If an individual's prior benefit year was based on the last four completed calendar quarters, a new benefit year shall not be established until the new base year does not include any hours used in the establishment of the prior benefit year.

(4) If the wages of an individual are not based upon a fixed duration of time or if the individual's wages are paid at irregular intervals or in such manner as not to extend regularly over the period of employment, the wages for any week shall be determined in such manner as the commissioner may by regulation prescribe. Such regulation shall, so far as possible, secure results reasonably similar to those which would prevail if the individual were paid his or her wages at regular intervals.

Sec. 2. RCW 50.20.120 and 2002 c 149 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

(1)(a) Subject to the other provisions of this title, benefits shall be payable to any eligible individual during the individual's benefit year in a maximum amount equal to the lesser of thirty times the weekly benefit amount (((determined hereinafter))); or

If sections 9 and 10 of this act are not enacted by July 1, 2003, this subsection 1(b) is null and void.

(2)(a) An individual's weekly benefit amount shall be an amount equal to one twenty-fifth of the average quarterly wages of the individual's total wages during the two quarters of the individual's base year in which such total wages were highest. The maximum and minimum amounts payable weekly shall be determined as of each June 30th to apply to benefit years beginning in the twelve-month period immediately following such June 30th. ((Except as provided in RCW 50.20.125.))

(b) The maximum amount payable weekly shall be:

(I) Except as provided in (b)(ii) of this subsection, seventy percent of the “average weekly wage” for the calendar year preceding such June 30th.

If sections 9 and 10 of this act are not enacted by July 1, 2003, this subsection (2)(b) is null and void.

(3) The claimant may elect to receive a dependent allowance of ten dollars weekly for:

(i) Each child who is a dependent of the individual for federal income tax purposes; and (ii) Each child for whom the individual owes child support obligations and for whom no other person is receiving dependent allowances under this subsection. The sum of the monthly amount payable under subsection (2) of this section and the dependent allowance payable under subsection (3) of this section may not exceed the maximum amount payable weekly specified in subsection (2) of this section.

Sec. 3. RCW 50.04.293 and 1993 c 483 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) “Misconduct” means an employee’s act or failure to act in willful disregard of his or her employer’s interest where the effect of the employee’s act or failure to act is to harm the employer’s business. Sec. 4. RCW 50.20.065 and 1993 c 483 s 11 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) An individual who has been discharged from his or her work because of a felony or gross misdemeanor shall have all hourly wage credits based on that employment or six hundred eighty hours of wage credits, whichever is greater, canceled.

(2) The employer shall notify the department of such an admission or conviction, not later than six months following the admission or conviction.

The employer shall disclose any conviction of the claimant of a work-connected felony or gross misdemeanor occurring in the previous two years to the department at the time of application for benefits.

(4) All benefits that are paid in error based on wage/hour credits that should have been removed from the claimant’s base year are recoverable, notwithstanding RCW 50.20.190 or 50.24.020 or any other provisions of this title. NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 50.20 RCW to read as follows:

An individual is disqualified for benefits for any day during which he or she is incarcerated in any federal, state, or municipal penal institution, jail, medical facility, public or private hospital, or in any other place because of a criminal violation of a federal, state, or municipal law or ordinance. NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. A new section is added to chapter 50.20 RCW to read as follows:

An otherwise eligible individual may not be denied benefits for any week because the individual is available for, seeks, applies for, or accepts only work of at least fifteen hours per week by reason of the application of RCW 50.20.010(3), 50.20.015, 50.20.080, or 50.22.020(1) relating to availability for work and active search for work, or failure to apply for or refusal to accept suitable work.

Sec. 7. RCW 50.20.150 and 1970 ex.s. c 2 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The applicant for initial determination, his most recent employing unit as stated by the applicant, and any other interested party which the commissioner by regulation prescribes, shall, if not previously notified within the same continuous period of unemployment, be given notice promptly in writing that an application for initial determination has been filed and such notice shall contain the reasons given by the applicant for his last separation from work. If, during his benefit year, the applicant becomes unemployed after having accepted subsequent work, and reports for the purpose of reestablishing his eligibility for benefits, a similar notice shall be given promptly to his then most recent employing unit as stated by him, or to any other interested party which the commissioner by regulation prescribes.

(2) Each base year employer shall be promptly notified of the filing of any application for initial determination which may result in a charge to his account.

(3) Any employer who receives a notice under this section and has information which might make the applicant ineligible or disqualified the applicant for benefits shall report this information to the employment security department at the address indicated on the notice within ten days of the date the notice was mailed. If the employer reports this information to the department more than ten days after the date the notice was mailed:

(a) The applicant may not be determined to be ineligible or disqualified based on the information for a claim period compensated before receipt of the information by the department; and

(b) The applicant is entitled to a rebuttable presumption of eligibility for a claim period after receipt of the information by the department.

Sec. 8. RCW 50.20.240 and 2002 c 8 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) To ensure that following the initial application for benefits, an individual is actively engaged in searching for work, (effective July 1, 1998,) the employment security department shall implement a job search monitoring program. Except for those individuals with employer attachment or union referral, individuals who qualify for unemployment compensation under RCW 50.20.050(2)(d), and individuals in commissioner-approved training, an individual who has received five or more weeks of benefits under this title must provide evidence of seeking work, as directed by the commissioner or the commissioner’s agents, for each week beyond five in which a claim is filed. The evidence must demonstrate contacts with at least three employers per week or documented in-person job search activity at the local reemployment center. In developing the requirements for the job search monitoring program, the commissioner or the commissioner’s agents shall utilize an existing advisory committee having equal representation of employers and workers.

(2) During any extended benefit period as defined in RCW 50.22.010, the department may: (a) Suspend the job search monitoring program under subsection (1) of this section; and (b) shift funding and staff from job search monitoring activities to eligibility determination and benefit payment activities.

PART II - UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION CONTRIBUTIONS

Sec. 9. RCW 50.29.020 and 2002 c 149 s 6 and 2002 c 8 s 4 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1)(a) An experience rating account shall be established and maintained for each employer, except employers as described in RCW 50.44.010 and 50.44.030 who have properly elected to make payments in lieu of contributions, taxable local government employers as described in RCW 50.44.035, and those employers who are required to make payments in lieu of contributions, based on existing records of the employment security department.

(b) Benefits paid to (any) an eligible individual(a)) shall be charged to the experience rating accounts of each of such individual’s employers during the individual’s base year in the same ratio that the wages paid by each employer to the individual during the base year bear to the wages paid by all employers to that individual during that base year, except as otherwise provided in this section.

(c) Benefits paid to an eligible individual shall be charged to the experience rating account of only the individual’s separating employer if the individual qualifies for benefits under: (I) RCW 50.20.050(2)(a) and became unemployed after having worked and earned wages in the bona fide work; or (ii) RCW 50.20.050(3).

(2) The legislature finds that certain benefit payments, in whole or in part, should not be charged to the experience rating accounts of employers except those employers described in RCW 50.44.010 and 50.44.030 who have properly elected to make payments in lieu of contributions, taxable local government employers described in RCW 50.44.035, and those employers who are required to make payments in lieu of contributions, as follows:

(a) Benefits paid to any individuals later determined to be ineligible shall not be charged to the experience rating account of any contribution paying employer.

(b) Benefits paid to an individual filing under the provisions of chapter 50.06 RCW shall not be charged to the experience rating account of any contribution paying employer only if:

(I) The individual files under RCW 50.06.020(1) after receiving crime victims’ compensation for a disability resulting from a nonwork-related occurrence; or

(ii) The individual files under RCW 50.06.020(2).

(c) Benefits paid which represent the state’s share of benefits payable as extended benefits defined under RCW 50.22.010(6) shall not be charged to the experience rating account of any contribution paying employer.

(d) In the case of individuals who requalify for benefits under RCW 50.20.050 or 50.20.060, benefits based on wage credits earned prior to the qualifying separation shall not be charged to the experience rating account of the contribution paying employer from whom that separation took place.

(e) Individuals who qualify for benefits under RCW 50.20.050(2)(d) shall not have their benefits charged to the experience rating account of any contribution paying employer.

(f) In the case of individuals identified under RCW 50.20.015, benefits paid with respect to a calendar quarter, which exceed the total amount of wages earned in the state of Washington in the higher of two corresponding calendar quarters included within the individual’s determination period, as defined in RCW 50.20.015, shall not be charged to the experience rating account of any contribution paying employer.

(3)(a) A contribution-paying base year employer, not otherwise eligible for relief of charges for benefits under this section, may receive such relief if the benefit charges result from payment to an individual who:

(I) Last left the employ of such employer voluntarily for reasons not attributable to the employer;

(ii) Was discharged for misconduct connected with his or her work not a result of inability to meet the minimum job requirements;
(iii) Is unemployed as a result of closure or severe curtailment of operation at the employer's plant, building, work site, or other facility. This closure must be for reasons directly attributable to a catastrophic occurrence such as fire, flood, or other natural disaster; or

(iv) Continues to be employed on a regularly scheduled permanent part-time basis by a base year employer and who at some time during the base year was concurrently employed and subsequently separated from at least one other base year employer. Benefit charge relief ceases when the employment relationship between the employer requesting relief and the claimant is terminated. This subsection does not apply to shared work employers under chapter 50.60 RCW.

(b) The employer requesting relief of charges under this subsection must request relief in writing within thirty days following mailing to the last known address of the notification of the valid initial determination of such claim, stating the date and reason for the separation or the circumstances of continued employment. The commissioner, upon investigation of the request, shall determine whether relief should be granted.

Sec. 10. RCW 50.29.025 and 2003 c 4 (SHB 1832) s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

The contribution rate for each employer subject to contributions under RCW 50.24.010 shall be determined under this section.

(1) A fund balance ratio shall be determined by dividing the balance in the unemployment compensation fund as of the September 30th immediately preceding the rate year by the total remuneration paid by all employers subject to contributions during the second calendar year preceding the rate year and reported to the department by the following March 31st. The division shall be carried to the fourth decimal place with the remaining fraction, if any, disregarded. The fund balance ratio shall be expressed as a percentage.

(2) The interval of the fund balance ratio, expressed as a percentage, shall determine which tax schedule in subsection (5) of this section shall be in effect for assigning tax rates for the rate year, except that during rate year 2004 tax schedule B shall be in effect unless a lower tax schedule is determined to be in effect by the interval of the fund balance ratio. The intervals for determining the effective tax schedule shall be:

Predecessor and successor employer contribution rates shall be computed in the following manner:

(a) For transfers before January 1, 1997, the contribution rate of the rate class assigned to the predecessor employer at the time of the transfer shall remain unchanged for the remainder of the rate year in which the transfer occurs. From and after January 1 following the transfer, the successor’s contribution rate for each rate year shall be based on its experience with payrolls and benefits including the experience of the acquired business or portion of a business from the date of transfer, as of the regular computation date for that rate year.

(b) For transfers on or after January 1, 1997, the contribution rate of the rate class assigned to the predecessor employer at the time of the transfer for the remainder of that rate year and continuing until the successor qualifies for a new rate, shall be the rate applicable to the predecessor at the time of the transfer.

(c) If the successor is an employer, as defined in RCW 50.04.080, at the time of the transfer, its contribution rate for each rate year shall be based on the transferred experience of the acquired business and the successor’s experience after the transfer; or and

(d) The successor’s contribution rate shall be based on the transferred experience of the acquired business or portion of the business from the date of transfer, as of the regular computation date for that rate year.

For transfers before January 1, 2004, if the successor is not an employer at the time of the transfer, its contribution rate shall be a rate equal to the average industry rate as determined by the commissioner, but no more than one percent, and continuing until the successor qualifies for a new rate, assignment of employers by the commissioner to industrial classification, for purposes of this section, shall be in accordance with established classification practices found in the "Standard Industrial Classification Manual" issued by the federal office of management and budget (to the third digit provided in the standard industrial classification code, or in the North American industry classification system code).

For transfers on or after January 1, 2004, the following applies if the successor is not an employer at the time of the transfer:

(a) Except as provided otherwise in this subsection, the successor shall pay contributions at the contribution rate of the rate class assigned to the predecessor employer at the time of the transfer for the remainder of that rate year. On and after January 1 following the transfer, the successor’s contribution rate for each rate year shall be based on its experience with payrolls and benefits including the experience of the acquired business or portion of the business from the date of transfer, but not less than one percent.

(b) If the successor simultaneously acquires the business or a portion of the business of two or more employers in different rate classes, the successor’s contribution rate from the date the transfer occurred until the end of that rate year shall be the rate in the highest rate class applicable at the time of the acquisition to any predecessor employer who is a
PART II - MODIFICATIONS OF CONTRIBUTIONS

(c) If there is a substantial continuity of ownership, control, or management by the successor of the business of the predecessor, the successor shall pay contributions at the contribution rate determined for the predecessor employer at the time of the transfer and continuing until such time as the successor satisfies the requirements of a "qualified employer" under RCW 50.29.010.

(ii) For purposes of this subsection:

(a) "Substantial continuity of ownership" means that a shareholder, officer, or other owner of a legal or equitable interest in the predecessor employer, or the spouse or a person within the first degree of consanguinity of affinity of the shareholder, officer, or other owner: (I) Is a shareholder, officer, or other owner of a legal or equitable interest in the successor; or (ii) Holds an option to purchase a legal or equitable interest in the successor.

(b) "Substantial continuity of control" exists if one or more persons, entities, or other organizations controlling the business remain in control of the business after an acquisition or change in form. Evidence of continuity of control shall include, but not be limited to: (I) Changes of an individual proprietorship to a corporation, partnership, limited liability company, association, or estate; (II) A partnership to an individual proprietorship, corporation, limited liability company, association, estate, or the addition, deletion, or change of partners; (III) A limited liability company to an individual proprietorship, partnership, corporation, association, estate, or to another limited liability company; and (IV) A corporation to an individual proprietorship, partnership, limited liability company, association, estate, or to another corporation or from any form to another form.

(5) The contribution rate on any payroll retained by a predecessor employer shall remain unchanged for the remainder of the rate year in which the transfer occurs.

(iii)若任何部分的欠款，由继承者支付，且继承者在不违反继承者缴纳规定下，继承者支付的贡献率不变。

(6) If contributions are not paid on the date on which they are due and payable as prescribed by the commissioner, there shall be assessed a penalty of five percent of the amount of the contributions for the first month or part thereof of delinquency; there shall be assessed a total penalty of ten percent of the amount of the contributions for the second month or part thereof of delinquency; and there shall be assessed a total penalty of twenty percent of the amount of the contributions for the third month or part thereof of delinquency. No penalty so added shall be less than ten dollars. These penalties are in addition to the interest charges assessed under RCW 50.24.040.

(7) If any part of the delinquency for which an assessment is made is due to fraud or an intent to evade or defeat any contributions payable under this title, including any violation of RCW 50.12.070, a penalty of fifty percent of the amount of the contributions shall be added to the assessment. This penalty is in addition to other penalties provided by law.

(8) If any part of the delinquency for which an assessment is made is due to an intent to evade the successorship provisions of RCW 50.29.062, the department shall assign to the employer, and to any business found to be promoting the evasion of such provisions, the maximum tax rate provided for in RCW 50.29.025(5) for five calendar quarters, beginning with the calendar quarter in which the intent to evade such provisions is found.

Penalties shall accrue on contributions from an estate in the hands of a receiver, executor, administrator, trustee in bankruptcy, common law assignee, or other liquidating officer subsequent to the date when such receiver, executor, administrator, trustee in bankruptcy, common law assignee, or other liquidating officer qualifies as such, but contributions accruing with respect to employment of persons by a receiver, executor, administrator, trustee in bankruptcy, common law assignee, or other liquidating officer shall become due and shall be subject to penalties in the same manner as contributions due from other employers.

(9) Where adequate information has been furnished to the department and the department has failed to act or has advised the employer of no liability or inability to decide the issue, penalties shall be waived by the commissioner. Penalties may also be waived for good cause if the commissioner determines that the failure to timely file reports or pay contributions was not due to the employer's fault.

(10) Any decision to assess a penalty as provided by this section shall be made by the chief administrative officer of the tax branch or his or her designee.

(11) Nothing in this section shall be construed to deny an employer the right to appeal the assessment of any penalty. Such appeal shall be made in the manner provided in RCW 50.32.030.

PART III - MISCELLANEOUS

Sec. 13. RCW 50.22.140 and 2002 c 149 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The employment security department is authorized to pay training benefits under RCW 50.22.150, but may not obligate expenditures beyond the limits specified in this section or as otherwise set by the legislature. For the fiscal year ending June 2000, the commissioner may not obligate more than twenty million dollars for training benefits. For the two fiscal years ending June 2002, the commissioner may not obligate more than sixty million dollars for training benefits. Any funds not obligated in one fiscal year may be carried forward to the next fiscal year. For each fiscal year beginning after June 2002, the commissioner may not obligate more than twenty million dollars annually in addition to any funds carried forward from previous fiscal years. The department shall develop a process to ensure that expenditures do not exceed available funds and to prioritize access to funds when again available.

In addition to the amounts that may be obligated under subsection (1) of this section, the commissioner may obligate up to thirty-four million dollars for training benefits under RCW 50.22.150 for individuals in the aerospace industry assigned (the standard industrial classification code "332") or the North American industry classification system code "336411" whose claims are filed before January 5, 2003. The funds provided in this subsection must be fully obligated for training benefits for these individuals before the funds provided in subsection (1) of this section may be obligated for training benefits for these individuals. Any amount of the funds specified in this subsection that is not obligated as permitted may not be carried forward to any future period.

Sec. 14. RCW 50.22.150 and 2002 c 149 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Subject to availability of funds, training benefits are available for an individual who is eligible for or has exhausted entitlement to unemployment compensation benefits and who:

(a) Is a dislocated worker as defined in RCW 50.04.075;
(b) Except as provided under subsection (2) of this section, has demonstrated, through a work history, sufficient tenure in an occupation or in work with a particular skill set. This screening will take place during the assessment process;
(c) Is, after assessment of demand for the individual's occupation or skills in the individual's labor market, determined to need job-related training to find suitable employment in his or her labor market. Beginning July 1, 2001, the assessment of demand for the individual's occupation or skill sets must be substantially based on declining occupation or skill sets identified in local labor market areas by the local work force development councils, in cooperation with the employment security department and its labor market information division, under subsection (10) of this section;
(d) Develops an individual training program that is submitted to the commissioner for approval within sixty days after the individual is notified by the employment security department of the requirements of this section;
(e) Enters the approved training program by ninety days after the date of the notification, unless the employment security department determines that the training is not available during the ninety-day period, in which case the individual enters training as soon as it is available; and
(f) Is enrolled in training approved under this section on a full-time basis as determined by the educational institution, and is making satisfactory progress in the training as certified by the educational institution.

(2) Until June 30, 2002, the following individuals who meet the requirements of subsection (1) of this section may, without regard to the tenure requirements under subsection (1)(b) of this section, receive training benefits as provided in this section:

(a) An exhaustee who has base year employment in the aerospace industry assigned (the standard industrial classification code "332") or the North American industry classification system code "336411";
(b) An exhaustee who has base year employment in the forest products industry, determined by the department, but including the industries assigned the (major group standard industrial classification codes "24" and "26" or any) equivalent codes in the North American industry classification system code, and the industries involved in the harvesting and management of logs, transportation of logs and wood products, processing of wood products, and the manufacturing and distribution of wood processing and logging equipment; or
(c) An exhaustee who has base year employment in the fishing industry assigned the (standard industrial classification code "0912" or any) equivalent codes in the North American industry classification system code.

(3) An individual is not eligible for benefits under this section if he or she:

(a) Is a standby claimant who expects recall to his or her regular employer;
(b) Has a definite recall date that is within six months of the date he or she is laid off; or
(c) Is unemployed due to a regular seasonal layoff which demonstrates a pattern of unemployment consistent with the provisions of RCW 50.20.015. Regular seasonal layoff does not include layoff due to permanent structural downsizing or structural changes in the individual's labor market.

(4) The definitions in this subsection apply throughout this section unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(a) "Educational institution" means an institution of higher education as defined in RCW 28B.10.016 or an educational institution as defined in RCW 28C.04.410, including equivalent educational institutions in other states.
(b) "Sufficient tenure" means earning a plurality of wages in a particular occupation or using a particular skill set during the base year and at least two of the four twelve-month periods immediately preceding the base year.
(c) "Training benefits" means additional benefits paid under this section.
(d) "Training program" means:

(i) An education program determined to be necessary as a prerequisite to vocational training after counseling at the educational institution in which the individual enrolls under his or her approved training program; or
(ii) A vocational training program at an educational institution:
(A) That is targeted to training for a high demand occupation. Beginning July 1, 2001, the assessment of high demand occupations authorized for training under this section must be substantially based on labor market and employment information developed by local work force development councils, in cooperation with the employment security department and its labor market information division, under subsection (10) of this section;
(B) That is likely to enhance the individual's marketable skills and earning power; and
(c) That meets the criteria for performance developed by the work force training and education coordinating board for the purpose of determining those training programs eligible for funding under Title I of P.L. 105-220. "Training program" does not include any course of education primarily intended to meet the requirements of a baccalaureate or higher degree, unless the training meets specific requirements for certification, licensing, or for specific skills necessary for the occupation.
(f) Benefits shall be paid as follows:

(a) Except as provided in (a)(iii) of this subsection, for exhaustees who are eligible under subsection (1) of this section, the total training benefit amount shall be fifty-two times the individual's weekly benefit amount, reduced by the total amount of regular benefits and extended benefits paid, or deemed paid, with respect to the benefit year; or
(ii) For exhaustees who are eligible under subsection (2) of this section, for claims filed before June 30, 2002, the total training benefit amount shall be seventy-four times the individual's weekly benefit amount, reduced by the total amount of regular benefits paid, extended benefits paid, or deemed paid, with respect to the benefit year; or

(iii) For exhaustees eligible under subsection (1) of this section from industries listed under subsection (2)(a) of this section, for claims filed on or after June 30, 2002, but before January 5, 2003, the total training benefit amount shall be seventy-four times the individual's weekly benefit amount, reduced by the total amount of regular benefits and extended benefits paid, or deemed paid, with respect to the benefit year.

(b) The weekly benefit amount shall be the same as the regular weekly amount payable during the applicable benefit year and shall be paid under the same terms and conditions as regular benefits. The training benefits shall be paid before any extended benefits but not before any similar federally funded program.

(c) Training benefits are not payable for weeks more than two years beyond the end of the benefit year of the regular claim.

(6) The requirement under RCW 50.22.010(10) relating to exhausting regular benefits does not apply to an individual otherwise eligible for training benefits under this section when the individual's benefit year ends before his or her training benefits are exhausted and the individual is eligible for a new benefit year. These individuals will have the option of remaining on the original claim or filing a new claim.

(7)(a) Except as provided in (b) of this subsection, individuals who receive training benefits under this section or under any previous additional benefits program for training are not eligible for training benefits under this section for five years from the last receipt of training benefits under this section or under any previous additional benefits program for training.

(b) With respect to claims that are filed before January 5, 2003, an individual in the aerospace industry assigned (the standard industrial classification code "322") or the North American industry classification system code "336411" who received training benefits under this section, and who had been making satisfactory progress in a training program but did not complete that training benefit under this section, without regard to the requirement of subsection (1)(b) of this section, if applicable, to receive training benefits under this section in order to complete that training program. The total training benefit amount that applies to the individual is seventy-four times the individual's weekly benefit amount, reduced by the total amount of regular benefits paid, or deemed paid, with respect to the benefit year in which the training program resumed and, if applicable, reduced by the amount of training benefits paid, or deemed paid, with respect to the benefit year in which the training program commenced.

(8) An individual eligible to receive a trade readjustment allowance under chapter 2 of Title II of the Trade Act of 1974, as amended, shall not be eligible to receive benefits under this section for each week the individual receives such trade readjustment allowance. An individual eligible to receive emergency unemployment compensation, so called, under any federal law, shall not be eligible to receive benefits under this section for each week the individual receives such compensation.

(9) All base year employers are interested parties to the approval of training and the granting of training benefits.

(10) By July 1, 2001, each local work force development council, in cooperation with the employment security department and its labor market information division, must identify occupations and skill sets that are declining and occupations and skill sets that are in high demand. For the purposes of RCW 50.22.130 through 50.22.150 and section 9, chapter 2, Laws of 2000, “high demand” means demand for employment that exceeds the supply of qualified workers for occupations or skill sets in a labor market area. Local work force development councils must use state and locally developed labor market information. Thereafter, each local work force development council shall update this information annually or more frequently if needed.

(11) The commissioner shall adopt rules as necessary to implement this section.

Sec. 15. RCW 50.44.053 and 2001 c 99 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The term “reasonable assurance,” as used in RCW 50.44.050, means a written, verbal, or implied agreement that the employer will perform services in the same capacity during the ensuing academic year or term as in the first academic year or term. A person shall not be deemed to be performing services “in the same capacity” unless those services are rendered under the same terms or conditions of employment in the ensuing year as in the first academic year or term.

(2) An individual who is tenured or holds tenure track status is considered to have reasonable assurance, unless advised otherwise by the college. For the purposes of this section, tenure track status means a probationary faculty employee having an opportunity to be reviewed for tenure.

(3) In the case of community and technical colleges assigned (the standard industrial classification code 8220 or) the North American industry classification system code 611210 for services performed in a principal administrative, research, or instructional capacity, a person is presumed not to have reasonable assurance under an offer that is conditioned on enrollment, funding, or program changes. It is the college's burden to provide sufficient documentation to overcome this presumption. Reasonable assurance must be determined on a case-by-case basis by the total weight of evidence rather than the existence of any one factor. Primary weight must be given to the contingent nature of an offer of employment based on enrollment, funding, and program changes.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. The following acts or parts of acts are each repealed:

(1) RCW 50.20.125 (Maximum amount payable weekly) and 2002 c 149 s 3; and

(2) RCW 50.29.045 (Contribution rate—Insolvency surcharge) and 2002 c 149 s 9.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. If any part of this act is found to be in conflict with federal requirements that are a prescriptive condition to the allocation of federal funds to the state or the eligibility of employers in this state for federal unemployment tax credits, the conflicting part of this act is inoperative solely to the extent of the conflict, and the finding or determination does not affect the operation of the remainder of this act. Rules adopted under this act must meet federal requirements that are a necessary condition to the receipt of federal funds by the state or the granting of federal unemployment tax credits to employers in this state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.
NEW SECTION, Sec. 19. (1) Section 9 of this act applies to benefits charged to the experience rating accounts of employers with respect to claims that have an effective date on or after January 4, 2004.

(2) Section 10 of this act applies to rate years beginning on or after January 1, 2004.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 20. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and takes effect July 1, 2003."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Sheahan: "A point of order, Mr. President. We have two amendments before us Senator Keiser, one a striking amendment and the amendment on page 1, after line 28, where the 'strike everything after the enacting clause' language has been scratched out. I would suggest that this amendment that Senator Keiser just moved to the striking amendment by Senator Honeyford is actually a striking amendment since every single area of substantive law is the same in the striking amendment, so I would ask the President for a ruling as to whether the amendment before us is appropriate before the body."

REMARKS BY SENATOR KEISER

Senator Keiser: "Mr. President, earlier I asked you for advice when I inquired with a parliamentary inquiry on the two striking amendments before us. I was advised that you did not believe that we could consider the two striking amendments, so I worked with staff to redraft the proposal that I think merits discussion and that we can consider it as a body. I would urge us to move forward with that."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Own: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Sheahan, the President finds that the two amendments that you referred to—the striking amendment and the redrafted amendment by Senator Keiser—are not the same and, therefore, the amendment by Senator Keiser on page 1, line 28 is properly before us."

Further debate ensued.

Senator Betti Sheldon demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the adoption of the amendment by Senator Keiser on page 1, line 28, to the striking amendment by Senator Honeyford to Senate Bill No. 6097.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the amendment to the striking amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 19; Nays, 26; Absent, 0; Excused, 4.

Excused: Senators Deccio, McCaslin, Shin and West - 4.

The President declared the question to be the adoption of the striking amendment by Senator Honeyford, as amended, to Senate Bill No. 6097.

Debate ensued.

The motion by Senator Honeyford carried and the striking amendment, as amended, was adopted. There being no objection, the following title amendment was adopted.

On page 1, line 3 of the title, after "rates;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "amending RCW 50.01.010, 50.20.010, 50.20.050, 50.04.293, 50.20.060, 50.20.065, 50.20.240, 50.20.100, 50.29.025, 50.04.355, 50.29.026, 50.29.062, 50.29.070, 50.12.220, 50.16.010, 50.16.015, 50.24.014, 50.20.190, 50.04.206, 50.20.140, 50.20.043, 50.20.160, 50.32.040, and 28B.50.030; reenacting and amending RCW 50.29.020; adding new sections to chapter 50.04 RCW; adding new sections to chapter 50.20 RCW; adding new sections to chapter 50.28 RCW; creating new sections; repealing RCW 50.20.015, 50.20.045, 50.20.125, and 50.29.045; providing an expiration date; and declaring an emergency."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Sheahan, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 6097, under suspension of the rules, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.
The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 6097, under suspension of the rules.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE
Senator Prentice: “Mr. President, I rise to a point of personal privilege. I would like to thank everyone in the Senate and all my colleagues and staff for all the support I have received in the past couple of months. As you know, the last several weeks of session were very difficult and I could certainly feel your support—as you could see what was going on. One of the things that has helped sustain me is to know that I am surrounded by such good friends—good thoughtful friends. There is one thing that I would like to say and that is please show and tell your spouses and significant others how much you love them. Truly, it is important. Don’t leave unsaid the things you should be saying now. Thank you all very much.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Brandland: “A point of personal privilege, Mr. President. Today, this has been kind of unusual for me. We have had a Call of the Senate. I have to tell you it feels a whole lot like being incarcerated and it is pretty uncomfortable for a man, who for twenty-seven years, was on the other end of putting people in custody. I have to tell you I felt very uncomfortable doing that. Now, that being said, I would like, in the future, if we have to do this again, I would like to volunteer my services. I do have a set of handcuffs and I would dearly love to put them on some people that I know. Thank you very much.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Benton: “A point of personal privilege, Mr. President. The only thing that scares me more than having Senator Brandland put a pair of handcuffs on somebody is somebody dearly loving to want him to put them on them.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Carlson: “Mr. President, I rise to a point of personal privilege. Mr. President, and ladies and gentlemen of the Senate, as many of you know, there seems to be a dilemma of illness in legislative assistants, as well as legislators, during this particular session. My legislative assistant, Donna Sorrell, unfortunately, was diagnosed with cancer and was in the hospital last week for removal of a section of her colon for the cancer that she has. She is resting comfortably and recovering and will start chemotherapy soon. I appreciate the support that she has felt from the legislative assistants from the House and the Senate and from you who have cared about her. She is doing very well and has a terrific attitude. She is going to beat this thing and I thank you for your support for her.”

MOTION

On motion of Senator Sheahan, the Senate returned to the sixth order of business.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5982, by Senators Prentice, Hewitt, Doumit, Horn and Reardon

Implementing the liquor control board’s retail business plan.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Hewitt, Substitute Senate Bill No 5982 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5982 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Hewitt, the following striking amendment by Senators Hewitt, Prentice, Zarelli and Doumit was adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1 A new section is added to chapter 66.08 RCW to read as follows:

The legislature finds that the liquor control board has developed a retail services business plan to provide greater efficiency of operations and to maximize revenues to the state. The legislature intends to examine whether expanding liquor store operations to include Sundays would provide additional revenue and provide increased customer convenience.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 66.08 RCW to read as follows:
The board shall devise a retail business plan, or amend an existing retail business plan, to implement strategies to improve the efficiency of retail sales operations and maximize revenue-generating opportunities. Strategies to be implemented shall include, but are not limited to:

1. Expanding store operations to include Sunday sales in selected liquor stores. Sunday sales are optional for liquor vendors operating agency stores;
2. Implementing a plan of in-store liquor merchandising, including point-of-sale advertising, and product specific point-of-sale promotional displays and carousels, including displays designed and provided by vendors; and
3. Implementing a plan for in-store liquor merchandising of brands. The plan may not include provisions for selling liquor-related items other than those items previously authorized.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 66.08 RCW to read as follows:

By September 1, 2003, the board shall expand operations in at least twenty state-operated retail stores to include Sundays. The board shall select the stores that are expected to gross the most revenues on Sunday by considering factors including, but not limited to, population density, proximity to shopping centers, and proximity to other businesses that are open on Sunday. The selected stores shall be open for retail business a minimum of five hours on Sunday. The board shall track gross sales and expenses of the selected stores and compare them to previous years’ sales and projected sales and expenses before opening on Sunday. The board shall also examine the sales of state and contract liquor stores in proximity to those stores opened on Sundays to determine whether Sunday openings has reduced the sales of other state and contract liquor stores that are not open on Sundays. The board shall present this information to the appropriate policy and fiscal committees of the legislature by January 31, 2004.

Sec. 4. RCW 66.08.026 and 2001 c 313 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

All administrative expenses of the board incurred on and after April 1, 1963, shall be appropriated and paid from the liquor revolving fund. These administrative expenses shall include, but not be limited to: The salaries and expenses of the board and its employees, the cost of establishing, leasing, maintaining, and operating state liquor stores and warehouses, projects, annual costs of conducting the business of the board, and the costs of supplying, installing, and maintaining equipment used in state liquor stores and agency liquor vendor stores for the purchase of liquor (by nonlicensees) using debit or credit cards. The administrative expenses shall not, however, be deemed to include costs of liquor and lottery tickets purchased, the cost of transportation and delivery to the point of distribution, other costs pertaining to the acquisition and receipt of liquor and lottery tickets, packaging and repackaging of liquor, agency commissions for agency liquor vendor stores, transaction fees associated with credit or debit card purchases for liquor in state liquor stores and in the stores of agency liquor vendors pursuant to RCW 66.16.040 and 66.16.041, sales tax, and the amounts distributed pursuant to RCW 66.08.180, 66.08.190, 66.08.200, 66.08.210 and 66.08.220. Agency commissions for agency liquor vendor stores shall be established by the liquor control board after consultation with and approval by the director of the office of financial management. All expenditures and payment of obligations authorized by this section are subject to the allotment requirements of chapter 43.88 RCW.

Sec. 5. RCW 66.08.060 and 1933 ex.s. c 62 s 43 are each amended to read as follows:

1. The board shall not advertise liquor in any form or through any medium whatsoever.
2. In-store liquor merchandising is not advertising for the purposes of this section.
3. The board shall have power to adopt any and all reasonable (regulations) rules as to the kind, character, and location of advertising of liquor.

Sec. 6. RCW 66.16.041 and 1998 c 265 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

1. The state liquor control board shall accept bank credit card and debit cards (by nonlicensees) for purchases in state liquor stores, under such rules as the board may adopt. The board shall authorize liquor vendors appointed under RCW 66.08.050 to accept bank credit cards and debit cards for liquor purchases under this title, under such rules as the board may adopt.
2. If a liquor vendor operating an agency store chooses to use credit or debit cards for liquor purchases (by nonlicensees), the board shall provide equipment and installation and maintenance of the equipment necessary to implement the use of credit and debit cards. Any equipment provided by the board to an agency liquor vendor store for this purpose may be used only for the purchase of liquor.
3. If the revenues and expenditures associated with implementing the use of credit and debit cards for the purchase of alcohol (by nonlicensees) from state liquor stores and agency stores operated by liquor vendors results in a reduction of the liquor revolving fund balance for fiscal year 1999 and the 1999-01 biennium, the board shall consider increasing the price of alcohol products to offset the reduction.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. A new section is added to chapter 66.08 RCW to read as follows:

In addition to the criteria stated in section 3 of this act, when choosing which stores to open on Sundays, the board shall follow the same criteria and procedures with respect to places of worship as established in RCW 66.24.010(9) for retail licensees.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. The sum of nine hundred sixty-one thousand dollars, or as much thereof as may be necessary, is appropriated for the biennium ending June 30, 2005, from the liquor revolving account to the liquor control board for the purposes of implementing this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. RCW 66.16.080 (Sunday closing) and 1988 c 101 s 1 & 1933 ex.s. c 62 s 11 are each repealed.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and takes effect July 1, 2003.
On page 1, line 2 of the title, after "plan;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "amending RCW 66.08.026, 66.08.060, and 66.16.041; adding new sections to chapter 66.08 RCW; creating a new section; repealing RCW 66.16.080; making an appropriation; providing an effective date; and declaring an emergency."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Hewitt, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5982 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Doumit: “Senator Hewitt, does this striking amendment contemplate a use for any increased revenues from Sunday liquor sales?”

Senator Hewitt: “Thank you, Senator Doumit. While the amendment does not specify the use of increase revenues, if increases are sufficient, they could be used as a source of funding for rural counties to use when carrying out state mandated programs.”

Senator Doumit: “If increased revenues were to be earmarked for use by rural counties, would this take additional legislation?”

Senator Hewitt: “Yes.”

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5982.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5982 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 26; Nays, 18; Absent, 0; Excused, 5.

Excused: Senators Deccio, McCaslin, Shin, West and Zarelli - 5.

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5982, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Sheahan, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5982 was ordered to be immediately transmitted to the House of Representative.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Sheahan, the Senate advanced to the seventh order of business.

THIRD READING

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5659, by Committee on Government Operations and Elections (originally sponsored by Senators Winsley, Kastama, Oke, Franklin, Swecker, Rasmussen, Regala and Kohl-Welles)

Authorizing additional funding for local governments.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Winsley, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5659 was returned to second reading and read the second time.

MOTION
Senator Winsley moved that the following striking amendment be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

The legislature finds that local governments in the state of Washington face enormous challenges in the area of criminal justice and public health. It is the legislature’s intent to allow general local governments to raise revenues in order to better protect the health and safety of Washington state and its residents. It is further the intent of the legislature to provide such local governments relief from regulatory burdens that do not harm the public health and safety of the citizens of the state as a means of minimizing the need to generate new revenues authorized under this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 82.14 RCW to read as follows:

(1) A county legislative authority may submit an authorizing proposition to the county voters at a primary or general election and, if the proposition is approved by a majority of persons voting, impose a sales and use tax in accordance with the terms of this chapter. The title of each ballot measure must clearly state the purposes for which the proposed sales and use tax will be used. Funds raised under this tax shall not supplant existing funds used for these purposes. The rate of tax under this section shall not exceed three-tenths of one percent of the selling price in the case of a sales tax, or value of the article used, in the case of a use tax.

(2) The tax authorized in this section is in addition to any other taxes authorized by law and shall be collected from those persons who are taxable by the state under chapters 82.08 and 82.12 RCW upon the occurrence of any taxable event within the county.

(3) The retail sale or use of new motor vehicles, and the lease of new motor vehicles for up to the first thirty-six months of the lease, are exempt from tax imposed under this section.

(4) One-third of all money received under this section shall be used solely for criminal justice purposes. For the purposes of this subsection, “criminal justice purposes” means additional police protection, mitigation of congested court systems, or relief of overcrowded jails or other local correctional facilities.

(5) Money received under this section shall be shared between the county and the cities as follows: Sixty percent shall be retained by the county and forty percent shall be distributed on a per capita basis to cities in the county.

Sec. 3. RCW 36.70A.130 and 2002 c 320 s 1 are amended as follows:

(1) Each comprehensive land use plan and development regulations shall be subject to continuing review and evaluation by the county or city that adopted them. A county or city shall take legislative action to review and, if needed, revise its comprehensive land use plan and development regulations to ensure the plan and regulations comply with the requirements of this chapter according to the time periods specified in subsection (4) of this section. A county or city not planning under RCW 36.70A.040 shall take action to review and, if needed, revise its policies and development regulations regarding critical areas and natural resource lands adopted according to this chapter to ensure these policies and regulations comply with the requirements of this chapter according to the time periods specified in subsection (4) of this section. Legislative action means the adoption of a resolution or ordinance following notice and a public hearing indicating at a minimum, a finding that a review and evaluation has occurred and identifying the revisions made, or that a revision was not needed and the reasons therefore. The review and evaluation required by this subsection may be combined with the review required by subsection (3) of this section. The review and evaluation required by this subsection shall include, but is not limited to, consideration of critical area ordinances and, if planning under RCW 36.70A.040, an analysis of the population allocated to a city or county from the most recent ten-year population forecast by the office of financial management.

(b) Any amendment of or revision to a comprehensive land use plan shall conform to this chapter. Any amendment of or revision to development regulations shall be consistent with and implement the comprehensive plan.

(2) Each county and city shall establish and broadly disseminate to the public a public participation program consistent with RCW 36.70A.035 and 36.70A.140 that identifies procedures and schedules whereby updates, proposed amendments, or revisions of the comprehensive plan are considered by the governing body of the county or city no more frequently than once every year. “Updates” means to review and revise, if needed, according to subsection (1) of this section and the time periods specified in subsection (4) of this section. Amendments may be considered more frequently than once per year under the following circumstances:

(i) The initial adoption of a subarea plan that does not modify the comprehensive plan policies and designations applicable to the subarea;

(ii) The adoption or amendment of a shoreline master program under the procedures set forth in chapter 90.58 RCW; and

(iii) The adoption or amendment of a comprehensive plan occurs concurrently with the adoption or amendment of a county or city budget.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in (a) of this subsection, all proposals shall be considered by the governing body concurrently so the cumulative effect of the various proposals can be ascertained. However, after appropriate public participation a county or city may adopt amendments or revisions to its comprehensive plan that conform with this chapter whenever an emergency exists or to resolve an appeal of a comprehensive plan filed with a growth management hearings board or with the court.

(3) Each county that designates urban growth areas under RCW 36.70A.110 shall review, at least every ten years, its designated urban growth area or areas, and the densities permitted within both the incorporated and unincorporated portions of each urban growth area. In conjunction with this review by the county, each city located within an urban growth area shall review the densities permitted within its boundaries, and the extent to which the urban growth occurring within the county has located within each city and the unincorporated portions of the urban growth areas. The county comprehensive plan designating urban growth areas, and the densities permitted in the urban growth areas by the comprehensive plans of the county and each city located within the urban growth areas, shall be revised to accommodate the urban growth projected to occur in the county for the succeeding twenty-year period. The review required by this subsection may be combined with the review and evaluation required by RCW 36.70A.215.

(4) The department shall establish a schedule for counties and cities to take action to review and, if needed, revise their comprehensive plans and development regulations to ensure the plan and regulations comply with the requirements of this chapter. The schedule established by the department shall provide for the reviews and evaluations to be completed as follows: (a) On or before December 1, 2004, and every seven years thereafter, for (Clallam,) Clark, (Jefferson,) King, Kitsap, Pierce, Snohomish, Thurston, and Whatcom counties and the cities within those counties; (b) On or before December 1, 2005, and every seven years thereafter, for Cowichan, Island, Lewis, Mason, San Juan, Skagit, Clallam, Jefferson, and Skamania counties and the cities within those counties; (c) On or before December 1, 2006, and every seven years thereafter, for Benton, Chelan, Douglas, Grant, Kittitas, Spokane, and Yakima counties and the cities within those counties; and (d) On or before December 1, 2007, and every seven years thereafter, for Adams, Asotin, Columbia, Ferry, Franklin, Garfield, Grays Harbor, Klickitat, Lincoln, Okanogan, Pacific, Pend Oreille, Stevens, Wahkiakum, Walla Walla, and Whitman counties and the cities within those counties.

(5)(a) Nothing in this section precludes a county or city from conducting the review and evaluation required by this section before the time limits established in subsection (4)(a) of this section. Counties and cities may begin this process early and may be eligible for grants from the department, subject to available funding, if they elect to do so. (b) State agencies are encouraged to provide technical assistance to the counties and cities in the review of critical area ordinances, comprehensive plans, and development regulations.

(6) A county or city subject to the time periods in subsection (4)(a) of this section that, pursuant to an ordinance adopted by the county or city establishing a schedule for periodic review of its comprehensive plan and development regulations, has conducted a review and evaluation of its comprehensive plan and development regulations and, on or after January 1, 2001, has taken action in response to that review and evaluation shall be deemed to have conducted the first review required by subsection (4)(a) of this section. Subsequent review and evaluation by the county or city of its comprehensive plan and development regulations shall be conducted in accordance with the time periods established under subsection (4)(a) of this section.

The requirements imposed on counties and cities under this section shall be considered "requirements of this chapter" under the terms of RCW 36.70A.040(1). Only those counties and cities in compliance with the schedules in this section shall have the requisite authority to receive grants, loans, pledges, or financial guarantees from those accounts established in RCW 43.155.050 and 70.146.030. Only those counties and cities in compliance with the schedules in this section shall receive preference for grants or loans subject to the provisions of RCW 43.17.250.

Sec. 4. RCW 84.55.050 and 1989 c 287 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Subject to any otherwise applicable statutory dollar rate limitations, regular property taxes may be levied by or for a taxing district in an amount not exceeding the limitations provided for in this chapter if such levy is authorized by a proposition approved by a majority of the voters of the taxing district voting on the proposition at a general election held within the district on or at a special election within the taxing district called by the district for the purpose of submitting such proposition to the voters. Any election held pursuant to this section shall be held not more than twelve months prior to the date on which the proposed levy is to be made, except as provided in subsection (3)(b) of this section. The ballot of the proposition shall state the dollar rate proposed and shall clearly state any conditions which are applicable under subsection (3) of this section.

(2) After a levy authorized pursuant to this section is made, the dollar amount of such levy shall be used for the purpose of computing the limitations for subsequent levies provided for in this chapter, except as provided in subsections (3) and (4) of this section.

(3) A proposition placed before the voters under this section may:

(a) Limit the period for which the increased levy is to be made; (b) Subject to statutory dollar limitations in RCW 84.52.043, authorize annual increases in levies for any county, city, or town for multiple consecutive years, up to six consecutive years, during which period each year's authorized maximum levy shall be used as the base upon which an increased levy limit for the succeeding year is computed, but the ballot proposition must state the dollar rate proposed only for the first year of the consecutive years and must state the limit factor, or a specified index to be used for determining a limit factor, such as the consumer price index, which need not be the same for all years, by which the regular tax levy for the district may be increased in each of the subsequent consecutive years. Elections for this purpose must be held at a primary or general election. The title of each ballot measure must state the specific purposes for which the proposed levy increase shall be used, and funds raised under this levy shall not supplant existing funds used for these purposes;

(c) Limit the purpose for which the increased levy is to be made, but if the limited purpose includes making redemption payments on bonds, the period for which the increased levies are made shall not exceed nine years; (d) Set the levy at a rate less than the maximum rate allowed for the district; (e) Provide that the maximum allowable dollar amount of the final annual levy of the period specified in the measure shall be used to compute the limitations provided for in this chapter on levy increases occurring after the expiration of the period; or

(4) Except as otherwise provided in an approved ballot measure under this section, after the expiration of a limited period provided for the satisfaction of a limited purpose, whichever comes first, subsequent levies shall be computed as if:

(a) The limited proposition under subsection (3) of this section had not been approved; and (b) The taxing district had made levies at the maximum rates which would otherwise have been allowed under this chapter during the years levies were made under the limited proposition.

(5) Except as otherwise provided in an approved ballot measure under this section, after the expiration of a limited period provided for the satisfaction of a limited purpose, whichever comes first, subsequent levies shall be computed as if:

(a) The limited proposition under subsection (3) of this section had not been approved; and (b) The taxing district had made levies at the maximum rates which would otherwise have been allowed under this chapter during the years levies were made under the limited proposition.

Sec. 5. RCW 36.70A.040 and 2000 c 36 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1)(a) Each county that has both a population of fifty thousand or more and, until May 16, 1995, has had its population increase by more than ten percent in the previous ten years or, on or after May 16, 1995, has had its population increase by more than twenty percent in the previous ten years, and the cities located within such county, and any other county regardless of its population that has had its population increase by more than twenty percent in the previous ten years, and the cities located within such county, shall conform with all of the requirements of this chapter. However, the county legislative authority of such a county with a population of less than fifty thousand population may adopt a resolution removing the county, and the cities located within the county, from the requirements of adopting comprehensive land use plans and development regulations under this chapter if this resolution is adopted and filed with the department of financial management by December 31, 1990, for counties of thirteen thousand or more in population and by July 1, 1994, for counties of less than thirteen thousand in population.

(6) The county legislative authority of any county that does not meet either of the sets of criteria established under subsection (1) of this section may adopt a resolution indicating its intention to have subsection (1) of this section apply to the county. Each city, located in a county that chooses to plan under this subsection, shall conform with all of the requirements of this chapter. Once such a resolution has been adopted, the county and the cities located within the county remain subject to all of the requirements of this chapter unless the county removes itself from the requirement to plan under this subsection pursuant to subsection (3) of this section.

(3) A county that meets the requirements of this subsection, and a city located within the county, may be relieved from the requirement to plan under this section.

(a) A county may be relieved from the planning requirement of this section only if the county: (i) Has a population of less than ten thousand; (ii) has a privately owned taxable land base of less than twenty percent; and (iii) includes no more than one incorporated city.

(b) To be relieved from the planning requirement of this section, a county shall adopt a resolution that removes the county and the city from the requirement to plan and shall file the resolution with the department. Removal shall be deemed to occur when the resolution is filed with the department.

(4) Any county or city that is initially required to conform with all of the requirements of this chapter under subsection (1) of this section and has not removed itself under subsection (3) of this section shall take actions under this chapter as follows: (a) The county legislative authority shall adopt a county-wide planning policy under RCW 36.70A.210; (b) the county and each city located within the county shall designate critical areas, agricultural lands, forest lands, and mineral resource lands, and adopt development regulations conserving these designated agricultural lands, forest lands, and mineral resource lands and protecting these designated critical areas, under RCW 36.70A.170 and 36.70A.060; (c) the county shall designate and take other actions related to urban growth areas under RCW 36.70A.110; (d) if the county has a population of fifty thousand or more, the county and each city located within the county shall adopt a comprehensive plan under this chapter and development regulations that are consistent with and implement the comprehensive plan on or before July 1, 1994, and if the county has a population of less than fifty thousand or a city located within such a county is not making reasonable progress toward adopting a comprehensive plan and development regulations the governor may reduce this deadline for such actions to be taken by no more than one hundred eighty days.

(5) Any county or city subject to this subsection may obtain an additional six months before it is required to have adopted its development regulations by submitting a letter notifying the department of community, trade, and economic development of its need prior to the deadline for adopting both a comprehensive plan and development regulations.

(6) If the office of financial management certifies that the population of a county that previously had not been required to plan under subsection (1) or (2) of this section has changed sufficiently to meet either of the sets of criteria specified under subsection (1) of this section, and where applicable, the county legislative authority has not adopted a resolution removing the county from these requirements as provided in subsection (1) of this section, the county and each city within such county shall take actions under this chapter as follows: (a) The county legislative authority shall adopt a county-wide planning policy under RCW 36.70A.210; (b) the county and each city located within the county shall adopt development regulations under RCW 36.70A.060 conserving agricultural lands, forest lands, and mineral resource lands it designated under RCW 36.70A.110; (c) the county and each city that is located within the county shall adopt a comprehensive plan and development regulations that are consistent with and implement the comprehensive plan not later than four years from the date the county legislative authority adopts its resolution of intention, but a county or city may obtain an additional six months before it is required to have adopted its development regulations by submitting a letter notifying the department of community, trade, and economic development of its need prior to the deadline for adopting both a comprehensive plan and development regulations.
A copy of each document that is required under this section shall be submitted to the department at the time of its adoption.

Cities and counties planning under this chapter must amend the transportation element of the comprehensive plan to be in compliance with this chapter and chapter 47.80 RCW no later than December 31, 2000.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and takes effect July 1, 2003.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.”

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hargrove: “Senator Honeyford, does this bill allow an automatic change in use to take place when a municipal water supplier acquires additional water rights that have a difference purpose of use?”

Senator Honeyford: “Thank you, Senator. The short answer to your question is ‘no.’ The provision you are speaking about is found in Section 3 of the bill. This section is crafted to make it clear that when a municipal water supplier acquires additional water rights, the water supplier must apply to the Department of Ecology for a change or transfer of the right and receive such approval before the purpose of use is changed. The simple act of acquisition does not change the purpose of a water right. The purpose of a right may only be made through the change or transfer process."

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"PART I
COMMUNITY REVITALIZATION FINANCING--GENERAL PROVISIONS

NEW SECTION. Sec. 101. The legislature recognizes that the state as a whole benefits from investment in public infrastructure because it promotes community and economic development. Public investment stimulates business activity and helps create jobs; stimulates the redevelopment of brownfields and blighted areas in the inner city; lowers the cost of housing; and promotes efficient land use. The legislature finds that these activities generate revenue for the state and that it is in the public interest to invest in these projects through a credit against the state sales and use tax to those local governments that can demonstrate the expected returns to the state.

Sec. 102. RCW 39.89.020 and 2001 c 212 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:
The definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(1) “Assessed value of real property” means the valuation of real property as placed on the last completed assessment roll.

(2) “Department” means the department of revenue.

(3) “Increment area” means the geographic area from which taxes are to be appropriated to finance public improvements authorized under this chapter.

(4) “Increment value” means seventy-five percent of any increase in the assessed value of real property in an increment area that is placed on the assessment rolls after the increment area is created. There is no increment value if the assessed value of real property in an increment area is less than or equal to the assessed value of real property in the increment area for taxes levied in the year in which the increment area was created for collection in the following year.

(5) “Local government” means any city, town, county, port district, or any combination thereof.

(6) “Ordinance” means any appropriate method of taking legislative action by a local government.

(7) “Participating taxing authority” means a taxing authority that has entered into a written agreement with a local government for the use of community revitalization financing to finance all or a portion of the costs of designated public improvements.

(8) “Participating taxing district” means all taxing districts within an increment area where a local government has obtained written agreement for the use of community revitalization financing to finance all or a portion of the costs of designated public improvements as provided in RCW 39.89.030(8). However, a fire protection district is not a participating taxing district unless it has entered into a signed, written agreement with a local government to provide limited funding under community revitalization financing as provided in RCW 39.89.030(8)(a).

(9) “Public improvements” means:
(a) Infrastructure improvements within the increment area that include: (i) Street and road construction and maintenance; (ii) Water and sewer system construction and improvements; (iii) Sidewalks and streetlights; (iv) Parking, terminal, and dock facilities; (v) Park facilities and recreational areas; and (vi) Storm water and drainage management systems; and (b) Expenditures for any of the following purposes: (i) Providing environmental analysis, professional management, planning, and promotion within the increment area, including the management and promotion of retail trade activities in the increment area; (ii) Providing maintenance and security for common or public areas in the increment area; or (iii) Historic preservation activities authorized under RCW 35.21.395.

(10) “Public improvement costs” means the costs of: (a) Design, planning, acquisition, including land acquisition, site preparation including land clearing, construction, reconstruction, rehabilitation, improvement, and installation of public improvements; (b) demolishing, relocating, maintaining, and operating property pending construction of public improvements; (c) relocating utilities as a result of public improvements; (d) financing public improvements, including interest during construction, legal and other professional services, taxes, insurance, principal and interest costs on general indebtedness issued to finance public improvements, and any necessary reserves for general indebtedness; (e) assessments incurred in revaluing real property for the purpose of determining the tax allocation base value that are in excess of costs incurred by the assessor in accordance with the revaluation plan under chapter 84.41 RCW, and the costs of apportioning the taxes and complying with this chapter and other applicable law; and (f) administrative expenses and feasibility studies reasonably necessary and related to these costs, including related costs that may have been incurred before adoption of the ordinance authorizing the public improvements and the use of community revitalization financing to fund the costs of the public improvements.

(11) “Regular property taxes” means regular property taxes as defined in RCW 84.04.140, except: (a) Regular property taxes levied by port districts or public utility districts specifically for the purpose of making required payments of principal and interest on general indebtedness; (b) regular property taxes levied by the state for the support of the common schools under RCW 84.52.065; and (c) regular property taxes levied under the authority of RCW 84.55.050 that are limited to a specific purpose as provided in RCW 84.55.050(3)(b).

(12) “Tax allocation base value” means the (true and fair) assessed value of real property located within an increment area for taxes levied in the year in which the increment area is created for collection in the following year. Twenty-five percent of any increase in the (true and fair) assessed value of real property located within an increment area that is placed on the assessment rolls after the increment area is created.

(13) “Tax allocation revenues” means those tax revenues derived from the (imposition of) receipt of excess excise taxes under section 202 of this act and from regular property taxes levied on the increment value and distributed to finance public improvements.

(14) “Taxing authority” means a governmental entity that imposes a sales or use tax under chapter 82.14 RCW upon the occurrence of any taxable event within a proposed or approved increment area.
"Taxing district(s)" means a governmental entity that levies or has levied for it regular property taxes upon real property located within a proposed or approved increment area. [RCW 39.89.030(8)]

The governing body of the local government must make a finding that community revitalization financing:

(a) Increase private investment within the increment area;
(b) Increase employment within the increment area; and
(c) Generate, over the period of time that the local sales and use tax will be imposed under section 301 of this act, state and local property, sales, and use tax revenues that are equal to or greater than the respective state and local contributions made under this chapter.

The local government obtains written agreement for the use of community revitalization financing to finance all or a portion of the costs of the designated public improvements from taxing districts that in the aggregate levy at least sixty percent of the regular property taxes on property within the increment area. The agreement must be authorized by the governing body of the taxing districts that in the aggregate levy at least sixty percent of the regular property taxes on property within the increment area.

(b) For purposes of this subsection (8), "regular property taxes" means regular property taxes defined in RCW 84.04.140, except: (i) Regular property taxes levied by the state; and (ii) regular property taxes levied by a fire protection district if the fire protection district has not entered into a signed, written agreement with a local government relating to the developer's plans for the development of private improvements within the increment area; and (c) Will be used exclusively in areas within the jurisdiction of the local government deemed in need of economic development and/or redevelopment and absent the financing available under this act that the proposed economic development and/or redevelopment would not occur.

The local government finds that the public improvements proposed to be financed in whole or in part using community revitalization financing are reasonably likely to:

(a) Increase private investment within the increment area;
(b) Increase employment within the increment area; and
(c) Generate, over the period of time that the local sales and use tax will be imposed under section 301 of this act, state and local property, sales, and use tax revenues that are equal to or greater than the respective state and local contributions made under this chapter.

Sec. 104. RCW 39.89.050 and 2001 c 212 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

Before adopting an ordinance creating the increment area, a local government must:

(a) Obtain written agreement for the use of community revitalization financing to finance all or a portion of the costs of the designated public improvements from taxing districts that in the aggregate levy at least sixty percent of the regular property taxes on property within the increment area. A signed, written agreement from taxing districts that in the aggregate levy at least sixty percent of the regular property tax on property within the increment area, constitutes concurrence by all taxing districts in the increment area in the public improvement and participation in the public improvements to the extent of providing limited funding under community revitalization financing authorized under this chapter. The agreement must be authorized by the governing body of taxing districts that in the aggregate levy at least sixty-five percent of the regular property tax on property within the increment area) as provided in RCW 39.89.030(8); and
(b) Hold a public hearing on the proposed financing of the public improvement in whole or in part with community revitalization financing.
[1] Notice of the public hearing must be published in a legal newspaper of general circulation within the proposed increment area at least ten days before the public hearing and posted in at least six conspicuous public places located in the proposed increment area.

[2] In order to create an increment area, a local government must adopt an ordinance establishing the increment area that:

(a) Describes the public improvements;
(b) Describes the boundaries of the increment area;
(c) Estimates the cost of the public improvements and the portion of these costs to be financed by community revitalization financing;
(d) Estimates the time during which regular property taxes are to be apportioned and, if applicable, excess excise taxes are to be used to finance public improvement costs associated with the public improvements financed in whole or in part by community revitalization financing;
(e) Estimates the average amount of tax revenue to be received in all fiscal years through the imposition of a sales and use tax under section 301 of this act;
(f) Provides the date when the apportionment of the regular property taxes and, if applicable, the use of excess excise taxes will commence; and
(g) Finds that the conditions of RCW 39.89.030 are met.

30th.

Sec. 105. RCW 39.89.060 and 2001 c 212 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

The local government shall:

(1) Publish notice in a legal newspaper of general circulation within the increment area that describes the public improvement, describes the boundaries of the increment area, and identifies the location and times where the ordinance and other public information concerning the public improvement may be inspected; and

(2) Deliver a certified copy of the ordinance to the county treasurer, the county assessor, and the governing body of each participating taxing district within which the increment area is located.

PART II
COMMUNITY REVITALIZATION FINANCING
USE OF TAX ALLOCATION REVENUES TO PAY THE COSTS OF PUBLIC IMPROVEMENTS

Sec. 201. RCW 39.89.070 and 2001 c 212 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Commencing in the second calendar year following the passage of the ordinance creating an increment area and authorizing the use of community revitalization financing, the county treasurer shall distribute receipts from regular taxes imposed on real property located in the increment area as follows:

(a) Each participating taxing district and the local government that created the increment area shall receive that portion of its regular property taxes produced by the rate of tax levied by or for the taxing district on the tax allocation base value for that community revitalization financing project in the taxing district, or upon the total assessed value of real property in the taxing district, whichever is smaller; and

(b) The local government that created the increment area shall receive an additional portion of the regular property taxes levied by it and by or for each participating taxing district upon the increment value within the increment area. However, if there is no increment value, the local government shall not receive any additional regular property taxes under this subsection (1)(b).

(2) The county assessor shall allocate twenty-five percent of any increased real property value occurring in the increment area to the tax allocation base value and seventy-five percent to the increment value. This section does not authorize revaluations of real property by the assessor for property taxation that are not made in accordance with the assessor’s revaluation plan under chapter 84.41 RCW or under other authorized revaluation procedures.

(3) The apportionment of increases in assessed valuation in an increment area, and the associated distribution to the local government of receipts from regular property taxes that are imposed on the increment value, must cease when tax allocation revenues are no longer necessary or obligated to pay the costs of the public improvements. Any excess tax allocation revenues derived from regular property taxes and earnings on (I) such tax allocation revenues, remaining at the time the apportionment of tax receipts terminates, must be returned to the county treasurer and distributed to the participating taxing districts that imposed regular property taxes, or had regular property taxes imposed for it, in the increment area for collection that year, in proportion to the rates of their regular property tax levies for collection that year.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 202. A new section is added to chapter 39.89 RCW to read as follows:
(1) A local government that creates an increment area and has received approval from the department of revenue under section 303 of this act to impose the local option sales and use tax authorized in section 301 of this act may use annually any excess excise taxes received by it from taxable activity within the increment area to finance public improvement costs associated with the public improvements financed in whole or in part by community revitalization financing. The use of excess excise taxes must cease when tax allocation revenues are no longer necessary or obligated to pay the costs of the public improvements. Any participating taxing authority is authorized to allocate excess excise taxes to the local government. The legislature declares that it is a proper purpose of a local government or participating taxing authority to allocate excess excise taxes for purposes of financing public improvements under this chapter.
(2) A local government consisting solely of a port district may use excess excise taxes as provided in this section only to the extent that any participating taxing authority allocates excess excise taxes to the local government.
(3) A local government consisting of a port district and any city, town, or county may use excess excise taxes as provided in this section only if:
(a) The city, town, or county realizes excess excise taxes from taxable activity within the increment area; or
(b) Any participating taxing authority allocates excess excise taxes to the local government.
(4) A local government shall provide the department accurate information describing the geographical boundaries of the increment area at least seventy-five days before the effective date of the ordinance creating the increment area. The local government shall ensure that the boundary information provided to the department is kept current.
(5) The department shall provide each local government that has provided boundary information to the department as provided in this section with the necessary information to calculate excess excise taxes.
(6) The definitions in this subsection apply throughout this section unless the context clearly requires otherwise.
(a) “Base year” means the first calendar year following the creation of an increment area.
(b) “Excess excise taxes” means the amount of excise taxes received by the local government during the measurement year from taxable activity within the increment area over and above the amount of excise taxes received by the local government during the base year from taxable activity within the increment area. However, if a local government creates an increment area and reasonably determines that no activity subject to tax under chapters 82.08 and 82.12 RCW occurred in the twelve months immediately preceding the creation of the increment area within the boundaries of the area that became the increment area, “excess excise taxes” means the entire amount of excise taxes received by the local government during a calendar year period beginning with the calendar year immediately following the creation of the increment area and continuing with each measurement year thereafter.
(c) “Excise taxes” means local retail sales and use taxes authorized in RCW 82.14.030.
(d) “Measurement year” means a calendar year, beginning with the calendar year following the base year and each calendar year thereafter, that is used annually to measure the amount of excess excise taxes required to be used to finance public improvement costs associated with public improvements financed in whole or in part by community revitalization financing.

PART III
COMMUNITY REVITALIZATION FINANCING--STATE CONTRIBUTION

NEW SECTION, Sec. 301. A new section is added to chapter 82.14 RCW to read as follows:
(1) A city, town, or county that creates an increment area and finances public improvements pursuant to chapter
39.89 RCW may impose a sales and use tax in accordance with the terms of this chapter and subject to the criteria set forth in this section. Except as provided in this section, the tax is in addition to other taxes authorized by law and shall be collected from those persons who are taxable by the state under chapters 82.08 and 82.12 RCW upon the occurrence of any taxable event within the taxing jurisdiction of the city, town, or county. The rate of tax shall not exceed the rate provided in RCW 82.08.020(1) in the case of a sales tax or the rate provided in RCW 82.12.020(5) in the case of a use tax, less the aggregate rates of any other taxes imposed on the same events that are credited against the state taxes imposed under chapters 82.08 and 82.12 RCW.
(2) The tax imposed under subsection (1) of this section shall be deducted from the amount of tax otherwise required to be collected or paid over to the department under chapter 82.08 or 82.12 RCW. The department shall perform the collection of such taxes on behalf of the city, town, or county at no cost to the city, town, or county.
(3) No tax may be imposed under this section before July 1, 2005. Before imposing a tax under this section, the city, town, or county shall first have received tax allocation revenues derived from either regular property taxes or excess excise taxes, or both, during the preceding calendar year. The tax imposed under this section shall expire when the bonds issued under the authority of chapter 39.89 RCW are retired, but not more than twenty-five years after the tax is first imposed.
(4) An ordinance adopted by the legislative authority of a city, town, or county imposing a tax under this section shall provide that:
(a) The tax shall first be imposed on the first day of a fiscal year.
(b) The amount of tax received by the local government in any fiscal year shall not exceed the amount of the state contribution;
(c) The tax shall cease to be imposed for the remainder of any fiscal year in which either:
(f) The amount of tax receipts totals the amount of the state contribution;
(ii) The amount of tax receipts totals the amount of "local public sources," as that term is used in section 302 of this act, dedicated in the previous calendar year to finance public improvements authorized under chapter 39.89 RCW; or

(iii) The amount of revenue from taxes imposed under this section by all cities, towns, and counties totals the annual state credit limit as provided in section 303(3) of this act;

(d) The tax shall be reimposed, should it cease to be imposed for any of the reasons provided in (c) of this subsection, at the beginning of the next fiscal year, subject to the restrictions in this section; and

(e) Any revenue generated by the tax in excess of the amounts specified in (a), (b), and (c) of this subsection shall belong to the state of Washington.

(5) If both a county and a city or town impose a tax under this section, the tax imposed by the city, town, or county shall be credited as follows:

(a) If the county has created an increment area before the city or town, the tax imposed by the county shall be credited against the tax imposed by the city or town, the purpose of such credit is to give priority to the county tax; and

(b) If the city or town has created an increment area before the county, the tax imposed by the city or town shall be credited against the tax imposed by the county, the purpose of such credit is to give priority to the city or town tax.

(6) The department shall determine the amount of tax receipts attributable to each city, town, and county imposing a sales and use tax under this section and shall advise a city, town, or county when it must cease imposing the tax for the remainder of the fiscal year as provided in subsection (4)(c) of this section. Determinations by the department of the amount of taxes attributable to a city, town, or county are final and shall not be used to challenge the validity of any tax imposed under this section. The department shall remit any tax receipts in excess of the amounts specified in subsection (4)(a), (b), and (c) of this section to the state treasurer who shall deposit the moneys in the general fund.

(7) The definitions in this subsection apply throughout this section unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(b) "Excess state excise taxes" means the amount of excise taxes received by the state during the measurement year from activities within the increment area over and above the amount of excise taxes received by the state during the base year from taxable activity within the increment area. However, if a local government creates an increment area and reasonably determines that no activity subject to tax under chapters 82.08 and 82.12 RCW occurred in the twelve months immediately preceding the creation of the increment area within the boundaries of the area that became the increment area, "excess state excise taxes" means the entire amount of excise taxes received by the state during a calendar year period beginning with the calendar year immediately following the creation of the increment area and continuing with each measurement year thereafter.

(c) "Excise taxes" means the state retail sales and use taxes imposed under chapters 82.08 and 82.12 RCW.

(d) "Fiscal year" has the same meaning as in RCW 39.89.050(3).

(e) "Increment area" has the same meaning as in RCW 39.89.020.

(f) "Measurement year" means a calendar year, beginning with the calendar year following the base year and each calendar year thereafter, that is used annually to measure the amount of excess excise taxes required to be used to finance public improvement costs associated with public improvements financed in whole or in part by community revitalization financing.

(g) "State contribution" means the lesser of one million dollars or an amount equal to:

(i) State property tax allocation revenues received by the state during the preceding calendar year; and

(ii) The amount of tax receipts totals the amount of "local public sources," as that term is used in section 302 of this act, dedicated in the previous calendar year to finance public improvements authorized under chapter 39.89 RCW.

(h) "State property tax allocation revenues" means those tax revenues derived from the imposition of property taxes levied by the state on the increment value as defined in RCW 39.89.020.

(i) "Tax allocation revenues" has the same meaning as in RCW 39.89.020.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 302. A new section is added to chapter 82.14 RCW to read as follows:

Sec. 302. A local government shall inform the department by the first day of March of the amount of:

(a) Local public sources dedicated in the preceding calendar year to finance public improvements authorized under chapter 39.89 RCW; and

(b) Tax allocation revenues derived in the preceding calendar year from the imposition of regular property taxes on the increment value and distributed to finance public improvements. Upon request of a local government, the county assessor shall assist the local government in determining the amount of tax allocation revenues derived in the preceding calendar year and distributed to finance public improvements.

(3) If a local government fails to comply with subsection (2) of this section, no tax may be imposed under section 301 of this act in the subsequent fiscal year.

(4) A local government shall provide a report to the department by March 1st of each year. The report shall contain the following information:

(a) The amount of tax allocation revenues, taxes under section 301 of this act, and local public sources received by the local government during the preceding calendar year, and a summary of how these revenues were expended;

(b) The names of any businesses locating within the increment area as a result of the public improvements undertaken by the local government and financed in whole or in part with community revitalization financing; the total number of permanent jobs created as a result of the public improvements undertaken by the local government and financed in whole or in part with community revitalization financing;
(d) The average wages and benefits received by all employees of businesses locating within the increment area as a result of the public improvements undertaken by the local government and financed in whole or in part with community revitalization financing;

(e) That the local government is in compliance with RCW 39.89.030(6)(c).

(5) The department shall make a report available to the public and the legislature by June 1st of each year. The report shall include a list of public improvements undertaken by local governments and financed in whole or in part with community revitalization financing, and it shall also include a summary of the information provided to the department by local governments under subsection (4) of this section.

(6) The definitions in this subsection apply throughout this section unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(a) "Public improvement costs" has the same meaning as in RCW 39.89.020.

(b) "Tax allocation revenues" has the same meaning as in RCW 39.89.020.

NEW SECTION Sec. 303. A new section is added to chapter 82.32 RCW to read as follows:

(1) As a condition to imposing a sales and use tax under section 301 of this act, a city, town, or county must apply to the department at least seventy-five days before the effective date of any such tax. The application shall be in a form and manner prescribed by the department and shall include but is not limited to information establishing that the applicant is eligible to impose such a tax, the anticipated effective date for imposing the tax, the estimated number of years that the tax will be imposed, and the estimated amount of tax revenue to be received in each fiscal year that the tax will be imposed. For purposes of this section, "fiscal year" means the year beginning July 1st and ending the following June 30th. The department shall make available forms to be used for this purpose. As part of the application, a city, town, or county must provide to the department a copy of the ordinance creating the increment area as required in RCW 39.89.050. The department shall rule on completed applications within sixty days of receipt. No new applications shall be considered by the department after the thirtieth day of September of the third year following the year in which the first application was received.

(2) The authority to impose the local option sales and use taxes under section 301 of this act is on a first-come basis. Priority for collecting the taxes authorized under section 301 of this act among approved applicants shall be based on the date that the approved application was received by the department. As a part of the approval of applications under this section, the department shall approve the amount of tax under section 301 of this act that an applicant may impose. The amount of tax approved by the department shall not exceed the lesser of one million dollars or the average amount of tax revenue that the applicant estimates that it will receive in all fiscal years through the imposition of a sales and use tax under section 301 of this act. A city, town, or county shall not receive, in any fiscal year, more revenues from taxes imposed under this section in the amount approved by the department. The department shall not approve the receipt of more credit against the state sales and use tax than is authorized under subsection (3) of this section.

(3) The amount of credit against the state sales and use tax is limited as follows:

(a) Except as provided in this subsection (3), no more than five million dollars of credit against the state sales and use tax may be received by all cities, towns, and counties imposing a tax under section 301 of this act.

(b) During the fiscal years beginning July 1, 2006, through June 30, 2009, the total amount of credit against the state sales and use tax that may be received by all cities, towns, and counties imposing a tax under section 301 of this act shall be increased as follows:

(i) In the fiscal year beginning July 1, 2006, the limit in (a) of this subsection shall be increased by the same percentage as the percentage increase in the assessed value of all property within this state from calendar year 2003 through calendar year 2004, as determined by the department;

(ii) In the fiscal year beginning July 1, 2007, the limit in (a) of this subsection shall be increased by the same percentage as the percentage increase in the assessed value of all property within this state from calendar year 2004 through calendar year 2005, as determined by the department;

(iii) In the fiscal year beginning July 1, 2008, and for each subsequent fiscal year, the limit in (a) of this subsection shall be increased by the same percentage as the percentage increase in the assessed value of all property within this state from calendar year 2005 through calendar year 2006, as determined by the department.

(4) The credit against the state sales and use tax shall be available to any city, town, or county imposing a tax under section 301 of this act only as long as the city, town, or county has outstanding indebtedness under RCW 39.89.080.

(5) The department may adopt any rules under chapter 34.05 RCW it considers necessary for the administration of sections 302 through 303 of this act.

PART IV

BOND AUTHORIZATION

Sec. 401. RCW 39.89.080 and 2001 c 212 s 8 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A local government designating an increment area and authorizing the use of community revitalization financing may incur general indebtedness, and issue general obligation bonds, to finance the public improvements and retire the indebtedness in whole or in part from tax allocation revenues it receives, subject to the following requirements:

(a) The ordinance adopted by the local government creating the increment area and authorizing the use of community revitalization financing indicates an intent to incur this indebtedness and the maximum amount of this indebtedness that is contemplated; and

(b) The local government includes this statement of the intent in all notices required by RCW 39.89.050.

(2) The general indebtedness incurred under subsection (1) of this section may be payable from other tax revenues, the full faith and credit of the local government, and nontax income, revenues, fees, and rents from the public improvements, as well as contributions, grants, and nontax money available to the local government for payment of costs of the public improvements or associated debt service on the general indebtedness.
(3) In addition to the requirements in subsection (1) of this section, a local government designating an increment area and authorizing the use of community revitalization financing may require the nonpublic participant to provide adequate security to protect the public investment in the public improvement within the increment area.

(4) Bonds issued under this section shall be authorized by ordinance of the local governing body and may be issued in one or more series and shall bear such date or dates, be payable upon demand or mature at such time or times, bear interest at such rate or rates, be in such denomination or denominations, be in such form either coupon or registered as provided in RCW 39.46.030, carry such conversion or registration privileges, have such rank or priority, be executed in such manner, be payable in such medium of payment, at such place or places, and be subject to such terms of redemption with or without premium, be secured in such manner, and have such other characteristics, as may be provided by such ordinance or trust indenture or mortgage issued pursuant thereto.

(5) The local government may annually pay into a fund to be established for the benefit of bonds issued under this section a fixed proportion or a fixed amount of any tax allocation revenues derived from property or business activity within the increment area containing the public improvements funded by the bonds, such payment to continue until all bonds payable from the fund are paid in full. The local government may also annually pay into the fund established in this section a fixed proportion or a fixed amount of any revenues derived from taxes imposed under section 301 of this act, such payment to continue until all bonds payable from the fund are paid in full. Revenues derived from taxes imposed under section 301 of this act are subject to the use restriction in section 302 of this act.

(6) In case any of the public officials of the local government whose signatures appear on any bonds or any coupons issued under this chapter shall cease to be such officials before the delivery of such bonds, such signatures shall, nevertheless, be valid and sufficient for all purposes, the same as if such officials had remained in office until such delivery. Any provision of any law to the contrary notwithstanding, any bonds issued under this chapter are fully negotiable.

(7) Notwithstanding subsections (4) through (6) of this section, bonds issued under this section may be issued and sold in accordance with chapter 39.46 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 402. A new section is added to chapter 39.89 RCW to read as follows: A local government that issues bonds under RCW 39.89.080 to finance public improvements may pledge for the payment of such bonds all or part of any tax allocation revenues derived from the public improvements. The local government may also pledge all or part of any revenues derived from taxes imposed under section 301 of this act and held in connection with the public improvements. All of such tax revenues are subject to the use restriction in section 302 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 403. A new section is added to chapter 39.89 RCW to read as follows: The bonds issued by a local government under RCW 39.89.080 to finance public improvements shall not constitute an obligation of the state of Washington, either general or special.

PART V
MISCELLANEOUS

NEW SECTION. Sec. 501. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 502. Part headings used in this act do not constitute any part of the law.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 503. Nothing in this act shall be construed to give port districts the authority to impose a sales or use tax under chapter 82.14 RCW."

Debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the striking amendment by Senators Zarelli and Tim Sheldon to Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5364, under suspension of the rules.

The motion by Senator Zarelli carried and the striking amendment, under suspension of the rules, was adopted.

There being no objection, the following title amendment was adopted: On page 1, line 1 of the title, after "revitalization;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "amending RCW 39.89.020, 39.89.030, 39.89.050, 39.89.060, 39.89.070, and 39.89.080; adding new sections to chapter 39.89 RCW; adding new sections to chapter 82.14 RCW; adding a new section to chapter 82.32 RCW; and creating new sections."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Zarelli, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5364, under suspension of the rules, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Jacobsen: “Senator Zarelli, I am curious to know what impact this legislation is going to have on the counties and cities incorporated, using this type of taxing authority.”

Senator Zarelli: “First of all, the increment that we are talking about to finance bonds for these improvements would be the increase in the economic activity due to sales tax collection. It would recoup seventy-five percent of that to retire the bonds in the increment district and the other twenty-five percent would go to the spread on the other levy tax base, whether it be cities or counties. The bill is very clear, Senator Jacobsen, that they must demonstrate—the entity that is trying to put the increment together—that there is no other way, and there would be no other way, to accomplish this economic development. So, in the end, counties, cities, whomever, would gather together and the increment district would see an improvement in their tax base from the economic growth at twenty-five percent, but the other seventy-five percent would go towards the bonds on the increment that is being suggested."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the final passage of Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5364, under suspension of the rules.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5364, under suspension of the rules, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 39; Nays, 7; Absent, 0; Excused, 3.

Excused: Senators Deccio, McCaslin and Shin - 3.

ENGROSSED SECOND SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5364, under suspension of the rules, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Sheahan, Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5364 was ordered to be immediately transmitted to the House of Representatives.

THIRD READING

ENGROSSED SECOND SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5012, by Senate Committee on Education (originally sponsored by Senators Johnson, Finkbeiner, Esser and Oke)

Authorizing charter schools

MOTION

On motion of Senator Johnson, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5012 was returned to second reading and read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Johnson moved that the following striking amendment be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. INTENT. The legislature intends to authorize the establishment of public charter schools within the general and uniform system of public schools for the primary purpose of providing more, high quality learning environments to assist educationally disadvantaged students and other students in meeting the state's academic standards. The legislature intends for charter schools to function as an integral element of the public school system maintained at public expense, free from discrimination, and open to all students in the state, and to be subject to the same academic standards and performance outcomes as other public schools. The legislature intends to encourage school districts to consider using the chartering process as an optional tool for achieving state and federal accountability goals. The legislature finds that in addition to providing more, high quality public school choices for families, teachers, and students, public charter schools may be a tool for the improvement of schools in which significant numbers of students persistently fail to meet state standards. The legislature also intends to authorize the use of the chartering process as a state intervention strategy, consistent with the provisions of the federal no child left behind act of 2001, to provide assistance to schools in which significant numbers of students persistently fail to meet state standards."

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. DEFINITIONS. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Alternate sponsor" means either: (a) The board of directors of the educational service district in which the proposed charter school will be located; or (b) the governing board of a state or regional university as defined in RCW 28B.10.016 or of The Evergreen State College, when such board has approved a charter."
(2) "Applicant" means a nonprofit corporation that has submitted an application to a sponsor or an alternate sponsor to obtain approval to operate a charter school. The nonprofit corporation must be either a public benefit nonprofit corporation as defined in RCW 24.03.490, or a nonprofit corporation as defined in RCW 24.03.005 that has applied for tax-exempt status under section 501(c)(3) of the internal revenue code of 1986 (26 U.S.C. Sec. 501(c)(3)). The nonprofit corporation may not be a sectarian or religious organization and must meet all of the requirements for a public benefit nonprofit corporation before receiving any funding under section 12 of this act.

(3) "Board of directors" means the board of directors appointed or elected by the applicant to manage and operate the charter school.

(4) "Charter" means a five-year contract between an applicant and a sponsor or an alternate sponsor. The charter establishes, in accordance with this chapter, the terms and conditions for the management, operation, and educational program of the charter school.

(5) "Charter school" means a public school managed by an applicant's board of directors and operating independently of any school district board under a charter approved in accordance with this chapter.

(6) "Conversion charter school" means a public school converted to a charter public school through the chartering process in accordance with this chapter.

(7) "Educationally disadvantaged students" includes students with limited English proficiency; students with special needs, including students with disabilities; economically disadvantaged students, including students who qualify for free and reduced priced meals; students exercising choice options under the federal no child left behind act of 2001; and other students who may be at risk of failing to meet state and federal academic performance standards.

(8) "Sponsor" means the board of directors of the school district in which the proposed charter school will be located, when such board has approved a charter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. CHARTER SCHOOLS--POWERS. (1) In carrying out its duty to manage and operate the charter school, the board of directors of a charter school may:

(a) Hire, manage, and discharge any charter school employee in accordance with the terms of this chapter and that school's charter;

(b) Enter into a contract with any school district, or any other public or private entity, also empowered to enter into contracts, for any and all real property, equipment, goods, supplies, and services, including educational instructional services;

(c) Rent, lease, or own property, but may not acquire property by eminent domain. All charters and charter school contracts with other public and private entities must include provisions regarding the disposition of the property if the charter school fails to open, is closed, or the charter is revoked or not renewed;

(d) Issue secured and unsecured debt to manage cash flow, improve operations, or finance the acquisition of real property or equipment. Such an issuance does not constitute an obligation, either general, special, or moral of the state, the charter school sponsor, the school district in which the charter school is located or any other political subdivision or agency of the state. Neither the full faith and credit nor the taxing power of the state, the charter school sponsor, the school district in which the charter school is located, or any other political subdivision or agency of the state may be pledged for the payment of such debt;

(e) Accept and administer for the benefit of the charter school and its students gifts, grants, and donations from other governmental and private entities, excluding sectarian or religious organizations. Charter schools may not accept any gifts or donations the conditions of which violate this chapter.

(2) A charter school may not charge tuition, levy taxes, or issue tax-backed bonds, however it may charge fees for optional noncredit extracurricular events.

(3) Neither a charter school sponsor, an alternate sponsor, nor the school district in which the charter school is located is liable for acts or omissions of a charter school, including but not limited to acts or omissions related to the application, the charter, the operation, the performance, and the closure of the charter school.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. LEGAL STATUS. A charter school is a public school including one or more of grades kindergarten through twelve, operated by a board of directors appointed or elected by a charter school applicant, according to the terms of a renewable five-year contract granted by a sponsor or an alternate sponsor. A charter school may offer any program or course of study that another public school may offer.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. CHARTER SCHOOLS--EXEMPTIONS. (1) A charter school shall operate independently of any school district board, under a charter approved by a sponsor or an alternate sponsor under this chapter.

(2) Charter schools are exempt from all state statutes and rules applicable to school districts and school district boards of directors except those statutes and rules as provided for and made applicable to charter schools in accordance with this chapter and in the school's approved charter.

(3) A charter school's board of directors is encouraged to implement a quality management system and to conduct an annual self-assessment.

(4) All approved charter schools shall:

(a) Comply with state and federal health, safety, parents' rights, civil rights, and nondiscrimination laws, including, but not limited to, chapter 28A.640 RCW (sexual equality) and Title IX of the education amendments of 1972 (20 U.S.C. Sec. 1681 et seq.) applicable to school districts, and to the same extent as school districts;

(b) Participate in nationally normed standardized achievement tests as required by chapter 28A.655 RCW;

(c) Participate in nationally normed standardized achievement tests as required by chapter 28A.410.100, however charter schools may hire noncertificated instructional staff if required by the state auditor, including annual audits for legal and fiscal compliance;
(g) Be subject to periodic independent performance audits conducted by or at the direction of a competent state authority to the same extent as other public agencies, however, a charter school is not required to bear the expense of such a performance audit;

(h) Comply with the annual performance report under RCW 28A.655.110;

(i) Follow the performance improvement goals and requirements adopted by the academic achievement and accountability commission by rule under RCW 28A.655.030;

(j) Be subject to the accountability requirements of the federal no child left behind act of 2001, including Title I requirements;

(k) Comply with and be subject to the requirements under the individuals with disabilities education act, as amended in 1997;

(l) Report at least annually to the board of directors of the school district in which the charter school is located, to the school’s alternate sponsor if the school is not sponsored by a school district, and to parents of children enrolled at the charter school on progress toward the student performance goals specified in the charter;

(m) Comply with the open public meetings act in chapter 42.30 RCW and open public records requirements in RCW 42.17.250; and

(n) Be subject to and comply with legislation enacted after the effective date of this section governing the operation and management of charter schools.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS. (1) To effectuate the primary purpose for which the legislature established charter schools, a charter school must be willing to enroll educationally disadvantaged students and may not limit admission on any basis other than age group and grade level. Consistent with the legislative intent of this chapter, charter school shall conduct timely outreach and marketing efforts to educationally disadvantaged students in the school district in which the charter school will be located.

(2) A conversion charter school must be structured to provide sufficient capacity to enroll all students who wish to remain enrolled in the school after its conversion to a charter school, and may not displace students enrolled before the chartering process. If, after enrollment of these students, capacity is insufficient to enroll all other students remaining who have submitted a timely application, the charter school must give enrollment priority to siblings of students who are currently enrolled in the school. Students selected to fill any remaining spaces must be selected only through an equitable selection process, such as a lottery.

(3) A new charter school must enroll all students who submit a timely application if capacity is sufficient. If capacity is insufficient to enroll all students who apply, students must be selected to fill any remaining spaces only through an equitable selection process, such as a lottery. Siblings of enrolled students and of students selected through an equitable selection process must be given priority in enrollment if requested by a parent.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. CHARTER APPLICATION–CHARTERING PROCESS.

(1) An applicant may apply to a sponsor or an alternate sponsor to establish a charter school in accordance with this section.

(2) An application for a charter school must be submitted first to the board of directors of the school district in which the proposed charter school will be located, allowing for the board’s consideration of the application in accordance with subsections (3) and (4) of this section, before the application may be submitted to an alternate sponsor.

(3) The school district board of directors must decide, within forty-five days of receipt of the application, whether to hold a public hearing in the school district for the purpose of taking public comment on the application and, if a hearing is to be held, must schedule such a hearing within seventy-five days of receipt of the application. If the school board intends to accept the application, one or more public hearings must be held prior to the granting of a charter; however a school board is not required to hold a public hearing prior to rejecting an application. The school board must either accept or reject the application within one hundred five days after receipt of the application. The one hundred five-day deadline for acceptance or rejection of the charter school application may be extended for an additional thirty days if both parties agree in writing.

(4) If the school board elects not to hold a public hearing or rejects the application after holding one or more public hearings, the school board must notify the applicant in writing of the reasons for that decision. The applicant may submit a revised application for the school board’s reconsideration and the school board may provide assistance to improve the application. If the school board rejects the application after submission of a revised application, the school board must notify the applicant in writing of the reasons for the rejection.

(5) Applications for the conversion of a public school to a charter public school may not be submitted to an alternate sponsor without the prior consent of the school district board of directors. At the request of the applicant, the sponsor, or the alternate sponsor, the superintendent of public instruction may review the charter application and provide technical assistance.

(6) Alternate sponsors must comply with the procedures in subsections (1) through (4) of this section for consideration of the charter application. An alternate sponsor is not bound by a school district’s or another alternate sponsor’s findings or decision to deny the application.

(7) The governing board of an institution of higher education that has approved a charter application may, after exercising due diligence, assign authority for the administration of the charter and the oversight and monitoring of the charter school to an agency or official designated by and accountable to the governing board of the institution. In all cases, the governing board of the institution is responsible for ensuring that the duties of the alternate sponsor under this chapter are fulfilled.

(8) The superintendent of public instruction shall maintain copies of all approved charter applications. An applicant may obtain copies of those applications from the office of the superintendent of public instruction.

(9) Educational service districts and the superintendent of public instruction are encouraged to assist schools and school districts in which significant numbers of students persistently fail to meet state standards with completing the chartering process. Assistance from an educational service district or from the superintendent of public instruction may include, but is not limited to, identifying potential eligible applicants and assisting with the charter application and approval processes.

(10) Consistent with the corrective action provisions in the federal no child left behind act of 2001, the superintendent of public instruction may use the chartering process as an intervention strategy for the purpose of meeting federal student achievement and accountability requirements. The superintendent may require a local school district board of directors to convert a public school to a charter public school or, if the superintendent determines it would be more appropriate, may require a local school district board of directors to consent to conversion of the school to a charter school by the board of directors of the local educational service district.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS. The charter school application is a proposed contract and must include:

(1) The identification and description of the nonprofit corporation submitting the application, including the names, descriptions, curriculum vitae, and qualifications, which shall be subject to verification and review, of the individuals who will operate the school;

(2) The nonprofit corporation’s proposed articles of incorporation, bylaws, and most recent financial statement and balance sheet;

(3) A mission statement for the proposed school, consistent with the description of legislative intent in this chapter, including a statement of whether the proposed charter school’s primary purpose is to serve educationally disadvantaged students;

(4) A description of the school’s educational program, curriculum, and instructional strategies, including but not limited to how the charter school will assist its students, including educationally disadvantaged students, in meeting the state’s academic standards;

(5) A description of the school’s admissions policy and marketing program, and its deadlines for applications and admissions, including its outreach to families of educationally disadvantaged students;

(6) A description of the school’s student performance standards and requirements that must meet those determined under chapter 28A.655 RCW, and be measured according to the assessment system determined under chapter 28A.655 RCW;

(7) A description of the school’s plan for evaluating student performance and the procedures for taking corrective action in the event that student performance at the charter school falls below standards established in its charter;

(8) A description of the financial plan for the school. NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. FUNDING. (1) For charter schools sponsored by a school district:
(a) For purposes of funding, students in charter schools shall be considered students of the sponsoring district for state apportionment purposes. Without violating section 13 of this act, the sponsoring school district shall provide prompt and timely funding for charter schools in amounts the schools would have generated if the students were enrolled in a noncharter public school in the district except that a charter school shall not generate eligibility for small school assistance. The funding for charter schools shall include regular apportionment, categorical, student achievement, and nonbasic education moneys, as appropriate and shall be based on enrollment, staffing, and other financial information submitted by the charter school to the school district as required to determine state apportionment amounts;
(b) Local levy moneys approved by the voters before the effective date of a charter between a school district and an applicant shall not be allocated to a new charter school; however, the school district shall allocate levy moneys to a conversion charter school. For levies approved after the effective date of a charter, charter schools shall be included in levy planning, budgets, and funding distribution in the same manner as other district-sponsored public schools in the district; and
(c) A charter school is eligible for state matching funds for common school construction if a sponsoring school district determines it has received voter approval of local capital funds for the project.

(2) For charter schools sponsored by an educational service district or an institution of higher education:
(a) For purposes of funding, the charter school shall be considered a separate school district only for state apportionment purposes and safety net eligibility. Without violating section 13 of this act, the superintendent of public instruction shall provide prompt and timely funding for charter schools through the apportionment funding formulas in amounts the schools would have generated if the students were enrolled in a school district except that a charter school shall not generate eligibility for small school assistance. The funding shall include regular apportionment, categorical, student achievement, and nonbasic education moneys and shall be based on enrollment, staffing, and other financial information submitted by the charter school to the superintendent of public instruction, as required to determine state apportionment amounts. Those allocations to charter schools that are included in RCW 84.52.0531(3) (a) through (c) shall be included in the levy base of the district in which the charter school is located.
(b) No local levy money may be allocated to a charter school if the charter school is sponsored by an educational service district or an institution of higher education.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. FUNDING. (1) For purposes of funding, students in charter schools shall be considered students of the sponsoring district for state apportionment purposes. Without violating section 13 of this act, the sponsoring school district shall provide prompt and timely funding for charter schools in amounts the schools would have generated if the students were enrolled in a noncharter public school in the district except that a charter school shall not generate eligibility for small school assistance. The funding for charter schools shall include regular apportionment, categorical, student achievement, and nonbasic education moneys, as appropriate and shall be based on enrollment, staffing, and other financial information submitted by the charter school to the superintendent of public instruction, as required to determine state apportionment amounts. Those allocations to charter schools that are included in RCW 84.52.0531(3) (a) through (c) shall be included in the levy base of the district in which the charter school is located.

(b) No local levy money may be allocated to a charter school if the charter school is sponsored by an educational service district or an institution of higher education.

(c) A charter school is eligible for state matching funds for common school construction if a sponsoring school district determines it has received voter approval of local capital funds for the project.

(2) For charter schools sponsored by an educational service district or an institution of higher education:
(a) For purposes of funding, the charter school shall be considered a separate school district only for state apportionment purposes and safety net eligibility. Without violating section 13 of this act, the superintendent of public instruction shall provide prompt and timely funding for charter schools through the apportionment funding formulas in amounts the schools would have generated if the students were enrolled in a school district except that a charter school shall not generate eligibility for small school assistance. The funding shall include regular apportionment, categorical, student achievement, and nonbasic education moneys and shall be based on enrollment, staffing, and other financial information submitted by the charter school to the superintendent of public instruction, as required to determine state apportionment amounts. Those allocations to charter schools that are included in RCW 84.52.0531(3) (a) through (c) shall be included in the levy base of the district in which the charter school is located.

(b) No local levy money may be allocated to a charter school if the charter school is sponsored by an educational service district or an institution of higher education.

(c) A charter school is eligible for state matching funds for common school construction if a sponsoring school district determines it has received voter approval of local capital funds for the project.

(4) Sponsors and alternate sponsors shall submit, by November 1st of each year, to the office of the superintendent of public instruction annual year-end financial information, as prescribed by the superintendent, for each charter school sponsored in the previous school year.

(5) A conversion charter school shall be entitled to the continued rent-free use of its existing facility, regardless of whether the conversion school is sponsored by the local school district, or by an alternate sponsor if the district has consented to such alternate sponsorship. The district shall remain responsible for major repairs and safety upgrades that may be required for the continued use of the facility as a public school. The charter school shall be responsible for routine maintenance of the facility, including but not limited to cleaning, painting, gardening, and landscaping.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. ADMINISTRATION FEE. To offset costs of oversight and administering the charter, a sponsor or alternate sponsor may retain up to three percent of state funding and local excess levy funding, if applicable, that is being driven to the charter school. Except for the administration fee in this section, no other offsets or deductions are allowed, whether for central administration or other off-site support services, from a charter school’s per-pupil share of state appropriations, local levies, or other funds, unless the charter school has contracted with a school district to obtain specific additional services.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. LEAVES OF ABSENCE. If a school district employee makes a written request for an extended leave of absence to work at a charter school, the school district shall grant the request. The school district may require that the request for a leave be made up to ninety days before the employee would otherwise have to report for duty. The leave shall be granted for any request for up to two years. If the employee returns to the school district within the two-year period, the employee shall be hired by the district before the district hires anyone else with fewer years of statewide service, with respect to any position for which the returning employee is certificated or otherwise qualified.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. STUDY OF CHARTER SCHOOLS. Subject to funding, the Washington institute for public policy shall study the implementation and effectiveness of this act. The institute shall report to the legislature on the effectiveness of charter schools in raising student achievement and the impact of charter schools. The institute also shall examine and discuss whether and how charter schools have enhanced education reform efforts and recommend whether relaxing or eliminating certain regulatory requirements for other public schools could result in improved school performance at those schools. The institute shall recommend changes to this chapter including improvements that could be made to the application and approval process. A preliminary report of the study is due to the legislature by March 1, 2006, and a final report is due September 1, 2007.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. NUMBER OF CHARTER SCHOOLS. (1) Applications for charter schools may begin on the effective date of this section. The maximum number of new charter schools that may be established under a charter approved in accordance with this chapter is:

(a) In the first year commencing July 1, 2003, and in the second year commencing July 1, 2004, not more than five per year; and

(b) In each of the next four years, commencing July 1st of each year beginning in 2005 and ending in 2008, not more than fifteen per year.

(2) These annual allocations shall be cumulative so that if the maximum number of allowable new charters is not reached in any given year the maximums shall be increased accordingly for the successive years.

(3) Consistent with the legislative intent of this chapter, a majority of the annual allowable new charter schools that may be established under subsection (1) of this section shall be reserved until the 31st day after the effective date of this section, and until April 1st of each year beginning in 2006 and ending in 2008, for the implementation of charter schools established for the primary purpose of serving educationally disadvantaged students, and that are located in, or accessible to students who live in, geographic areas in which a large proportion of the students have difficulty meeting state academic content and student achievement standards, or geographic areas, including urban and rural areas, in which a large proportion or number of public schools have been identified for improvement, corrective action, or restructuring under the federal no child left behind act of 2001.

(4) Sponsors and alternate sponsors shall promptly notify the superintendent of public instruction when a charter is approved, and shall indicate whether the charter school's primary purpose is to serve educationally disadvantaged students. In order to ensure compliance with the annual limits for the establishment of new charter schools, authorization from the superintendent of public instruction must be obtained before implementing an approved charter for a new school. If the maximum number of new charters under subsections (1) and (3) of this section has not been reached when the sponsor notifies the superintendent of the approval, the superintendent shall authorize the implementation of the approved charter and the establishment of the school. If the charters reserved under subsection (3) of this section are not authorized within thirty days of the effective date of this section, or by March 31st of each year thereafter and ending in 2008, the superintendent of public instruction shall notify the sponsors and alternate sponsors of any other approved charters for which authorization has not been granted, and shall authorize the implementation of those charters within the annual limits, regardless of whether those charters meet the requirements of subsection (3) of this section.

(5) The superintendent of public instruction shall notify eligible sponsors and eligible alternate sponsors when the maximum allowable number of new charters is approved each year. If the maximum number is not reached by the 31st day after the effective date of this section, or by March 31st of each year thereafter, the superintendent shall report on the number of charters approved.

(6) If the superintendent receives simultaneous notification of approved charters that exceed the annual allowable limits in subsections (1) and (3) of this section, the superintendent shall select approved charters for authorization under subsection (4) of this section through a lottery process, and shall assign implementation dates accordingly.

(7) The maximum number of charter schools allowed under this section does not include public schools converting to charter public schools; however, conversion charter schools shall be considered charter schools for the purpose of notice to the superintendent of public instruction required under subsection (4) of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. A new section is added to chapter 41.56 RCW to read as follows:

This section applies to charter schools as defined in section 2 of this act and the charter school's employees included in the bargaining unit. The bargaining unit of employees of charter schools must be limited to the employees of the charter school and must be separate from other bargaining units in the school district or educational service district unless the charter school is a public school that has converted to a charter school. The employees of public schools that have converted to a charter school shall remain members of the bargaining units in the school district.

This section, designating charter schools as employers and charter school employees as members under the teachers' retirement systems, the school employees' retirement systems, and the public employees' retirement systems, applies only if the department of retirement systems receives determinations from the internal revenue service and the United States department of labor that such participation does not jeopardize the status of these retirement systems as governmental plans under the federal employees' retirement income security act and the internal revenue code.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. A new section is added to chapter 41.59 RCW to read as follows:

(1) This section applies to collective bargaining agreements between charter schools and the employees of charter schools included in the bargaining unit.

(a) The bargaining unit of employees of conversion charter schools must be limited to the employees of the charter school and must be separate from other bargaining units in the school district or educational service district for at least the first five years of operation of the charter school, after which the employees of a conversion charter school may indicate by a majority vote they desire to become members of the bargaining unit in the school district in which the charter school is located.

(b) The bargaining unit of employees of new charter schools must be limited to the employees of the charter school and must be separate from other bargaining units in the school district or educational service district for at least the first five years of operation of the charter school, after which the employees of a new charter school may indicate by a majority vote they desire to become members of the bargaining unit in the school district in which the charter school is located.

(2) This section, designating charter schools as employers and charter school employees as members under the teachers’ retirement systems, the school employees’ retirement systems, and the public employees’ retirement systems, takes effect only if the department of retirement systems receives determinations from the internal revenue service and the United States department of labor that such participation does not jeopardize the status of these retirement systems as governmental plans under the federal employees’ retirement income security act and the internal revenue code.

(1) A unit including nonsupervisory educational employees shall not be considered appropriate unless it includes all such nonsupervisory educational employees of the employer; and

(7) Notwithstanding the definition of collective bargaining, a unit that contains only supervisors and/or principals and assistant principals shall be limited in scope of bargaining to compensation, hours of work, and the number of days of work in the annual employment contracts; and

(8) The bargaining unit of certificated employees of school districts, educational service districts, or institutions of higher education that are education providers under chapter 28A.193 RCW must be limited to the employees working as education providers to juveniles in each adult correctional facility maintained by the department of corrections and must be separate from other bargaining units in school districts, educational service districts, or institutions of higher education; and

(b) Beginning on July 1, 1993, compensation under this subsection shall be computed as follows:

(i) Beginning on July 1, 1993, the compensation amounts for the specified disabilities listed in (a) of this subsection shall be increased by thirty-two percent; and

(ii) Beginning on July 1, 1994, and each July 1 thereafter, the compensation amounts for the specified disabilities listed in (a) of this subsection, as adjusted under (b)(i) of this subsection, shall be readjusted to reflect the percentage change in the consumer price index, calculated as follows: The index for the calendar year preceding the year in which the July calculation is made, to be known as "calendar year A," is divided by the index for the calendar year preceding calendar year A, and the resulting ratio is multiplied by the compensation amount in effect on June 30 immediately preceding the July 1st on which the respective calculation is made. For the purposes of this subsection, "index" means the same as the definition in RCW 2.12.037(1).

(2) Compensation for amputation of a member or part thereof at a site other than those specified in subsection (1) of this section, and for loss of central visual acuity and loss of hearing other than complete, shall be in proportion to that which such other amputation or partial loss of visual acuity or hearing most closely resembles and approximates.
Compensation shall be calculated based on the adjusted schedule of compensation in effect for the respective time period as prescribed in subsection (1) of this section. However, beginning with claims filed on or after the effective date of this section, compensation for permanent partial disabilities for hearing loss due to occupational noise exposure shall be paid at an amount equal to seventy-five percent of the monetary value of such disability under this section.

(3)(a) Compensation for any other permanent partial disability not involving amputation shall be in the proportion which the extent of such other disability, called unspecified disability, shall bear to the disabilities specified in subsection (1) of this section, which most closely resembles and approximates in degree of disability such other disability, and compensation for any other unspecified permanent partial disability shall be in an amount as measured and compared to total bodily impairment. To reduce litigation and establish more certainty and uniformity in the rating of unspecified permanent partial disabilities, the department shall enact rules having the force of law classifying such disabilities in the proportion which the department shall determine such disabilities reasonably bear to total bodily impairment. In enacting such rules, the department shall give consideration to, but need not necessarily adopt, any nationally recognized medical standards or guides for determining various bodily impairments.

(b) Until July 1, 1993, for purposes of calculating monetary benefits under (a) of this subsection, the amount payable for total bodily impairment shall be deemed to be ninety thousand dollars. Beginning on July 1, 1993, for purposes of calculating monetary benefits under (a) of this subsection, the amount payable for total bodily impairment shall be adjusted as follows:

(i) Beginning on July 1, 1993, the amount payable for total bodily impairment under this section shall be increased to one hundred eighteen thousand eight hundred dollars; and
(ii) Beginning on July 1, 1994, and each July 1 thereafter, the amount payable for total bodily impairment prescribed in (b)(i) of this subsection shall be adjusted as provided in subsection (1)(b)(i) of this section.
(c) Until July 1, 1993, the total compensation for all unspecified permanent partial disabilities resulting from the same injury shall not exceed the sum of ninety thousand dollars. Beginning on July 1, 1993, total compensation for all unspecified permanent partial disabilities resulting from the same injury shall not exceed a sum calculated as follows:

(i) Beginning on July 1, 1993, the sum shall be increased to one hundred eighteen thousand eight hundred dollars; and
(ii) Beginning on July 1, 1994, and each July 1 thereafter, the sum prescribed in (b)(i) of this subsection shall be adjusted as provided in subsection (1)(b)(ii) of this section.

(4) If permanent partial disability compensation is followed by permanent total disability compensation, any portion of the permanent partial disability compensation which exceeds the amount that would have been paid the injured worker if permanent total disability compensation had been paid in the first instance, shall be deducted from the pension reserve of such injured worker and his or her monthly compensation payments shall be reduced accordingly.

(5) Should a worker receive an injury to a member or part of his or her body already, from whatever cause, permanently partially disabled, resulting in the amputation thereof or in an aggravation or increase in such permanent partial disability but not resulting in the permanent total disability of such worker, his or her compensation for such partial disability shall be adjudged with regard to the previous disability of the injured member or part and the degree or extent of the aggravation or increase of disability thereof.

(6) When the compensation provided for in subsections (1) through (3) of this section exceeds three times the average monthly wage in the state as computed under the provisions of RCW 51.08.018, payment shall be made in monthly payments in accordance with the schedule of temporary total disability payments set forth in RCW 51.32.090 until such compensation is paid to the injured worker in full, except that the first monthly payment shall be in an amount equal to three times the average monthly wage in the state as computed under the provisions of RCW 51.08.018, and interest shall be paid at the rate of eight percent on the unpaid balance of such compensation commencing with the second monthly payment. However, upon application of the injured worker or survivor the monthly payment may be converted, in whole or in part, into a lump sum payment, in which event the monthly payment shall cease in whole or in part. Such conversion may be made only upon written application of the injured worker or survivor to the department and shall rest in the discretion of the department depending upon the merits of each individual application. Upon the death of a worker all unpaid installments accrued shall be paid according to the payment schedule established prior to the death of the worker to the widow or widower, or if there is no widow or widower surviving, to the dependent children of such claimant, and if there are no such dependent children, then to such other dependents as defined by this title.

(7) Except as otherwise provided in this section, awards payable under this section are governed by the schedule in effect on the date of injury.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. Section 1 of this act applies to all claims filed on or after the effective date of this section for hearing loss due to occupational noise exposure regardless of the date of injurious exposure."

SECOND READING

Senate Bill No. 6094, by Senators Carlson and Jacobsen

Changing the school district levy base calculation

The bill was read the second time.
Subsection (3)(a) through (c) of this section, a district's levy base shall also include the difference between the state revenues received as a fiscal agent.

(b) State and federal categorical allocations for the following programs:
(i) Pupil transportation;
(ii) Special education;
(iii) Education of highly capable students;
(iv) Compensatory education, including but not limited to learning assistance, migrant education, Indian education, refugee programs, and bilingual education;
(v) Food services; and
(vi) Statewide block grant programs; ((and))
(c) Any other federal allocations for elementary and secondary school programs, including direct grants, other than federal impact aid funds and allocations in lieu of taxes;
(d) Beginning with calendar year 2005 calculations, the federal allocations received directly by a district for purposes of this subsection (3) shall be the allocations from the second prior school year. The federal revenues shall be adjusted by inflation as determined by the office of the superintendent of public instruction. For purposes of this subsection, "second prior school year" means the school year completed two years prior to the year in which the levies are to be collected; and
(e) Beginning with calendar year 2005 calculations, revenues included in the levy base shall be reduced for revenues received as a fiscal agent. The office of the superintendent of public instruction shall adopt rules defining "revenues received as a fiscal agent".

For excess levies for collection in calendar years 2004 and 2005, in addition to the allocations included under subsection (3)(a) through (c) of this section, a district's levy base shall also include the difference between the state allocations under subsection (3)(a) and (b) of this section and the amount the district would have received if (a) the district's base salary for certificated instructional staff for purposes of determining state basic education allocations had been the same as the highest base salary for that school year on the supporting LEAP salary document referenced in the omnibus appropriations act, and (b) the district's salaries for certificated administrators and classified staff for purposes of determining state basic education allocations had been the same as the highest certificated administrator and classified staff salaries for that school year on the supporting LEAP salary document referenced in the omnibus appropriations act. For calendar years 2004 and 2005, the additional amounts provided under this subsection shall not be used in the calculation of levy base for the purpose of determining local effort assistance allocations under chapter 28A.500 RCW.
A district's maximum levy percentage shall be twenty-two percent in 1998 and twenty-four percent in 1999 and every year thereafter; plus, for qualifying districts, the grandfathered percentage determined as follows:

(a) For 1997, the difference between the district's 1993 maximum levy percentage and twenty percent; and

(b) For 1998 and thereafter, the percentage calculated as follows:

(i) Multiply the grandfathered percentage for the prior year times the district's levy base determined under subsection (3) of this section;

(ii) Reduce the result of (b)(i) of this subsection by any levy reduction funds as defined in subsection ((5)) (6) of this section that are to be allocated to the district for the current school year;

(iii) Divide the result of (b)(ii) of this subsection by the district's levy base; and

(iv) Take the greater of zero or the percentage calculated in (b)(iii) of this subsection.

"Levy reduction funds" shall mean increases in state funds from the prior school year for programs included under subsections (3) and (4) of this section: (a) That are not attributable to enrollment changes, compensation increases, or inflationary adjustments; and (b) that are or were specifically identified as levy reduction funds in the appropriations act. If levy reduction funds are dependent on formula factors which would not be finalized until after the start of the current school year, the superintendent of public instruction shall estimate the total amount of levy reduction funds by using prior school year data in place of current school year data. Levy reduction funds shall not include moneys received by school districts from cities or counties.

For the purposes of this section, “prior school year” means the most recent school year completed prior to the year in which the levies are to be collected.

For the purposes of this section, “current school year” means the year immediately following the prior school year.

Funds collected from transportation vehicle fund tax levies shall not be subject to the levy limitations in this section.

The superintendent of public instruction shall develop rules and regulations and inform school districts of the pertinent data necessary to carry out the provisions of this section.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Spanel: “Senator McAuliffe, does this bill have any affect on levy equalization?”

Senator McAuliffe: “No, it does not.”

Senator Spanel: “It mentions that. Maybe the other proponent knows. It mentions levy equalization in the summary and that is why I wanted to know.”

Senator McAuliffe: “To my knowledge, it does not affect levy equalization.”

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Spanel: “Senator Carlson, does this bill affect levy equalization? I ask, because usually that is the mediation for those districts --the have and have nots. I am wondering if the have nots are going to gain anything and they probably won’t, because we don’t have any state dollars to do it.”

Senator Carlson: “That is correct. Thank you, Senator Spanel, for the question. The answer is found on page 3, lines 20 to 22, where it specifically says, ‘the subsection shall not be used for the calculation of levy base for the purpose of determining local effort assistance allocation under Chapter 28A.500 RCW.’ The House, which understood this particularly--especially--in our rural areas asked that this be included in an amendment that they had in a bill that was originally called 2044. This bill, in fact, is a response, by the striker, to not deal with levy equalization.”

Senator Spanel: “Thank you.”

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the striking amendment by Senator Carlson to Senate Bill No. 6094.

The motion by Senator Carlson carried and the striking amendment was adopted.

There being no objection, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 1 of the title, after “calculations;” strike the remainder of the title and insert “amending RCW 84.52.0531.”

MOTION

On motion of Senator Carlson, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 6094, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage. The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 6094, under suspension of the rules, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 33; Nays, 9; Absent, 0; Excused, 7.

ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 6094, under suspension of the rules, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill will stand as the title of the act.

On motion of Senator Johnson, the following amendment was adopted:

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Benton: “Senator Winsley, the version that we are voting to concur on, is that exactly the same as the bill that we sent over with the exception of the new car–or used car–amendment?”

Senator Winsley: “Yes.”

Senator Benton: “Or are there other provisions that were changed, as well?”

Senator Winsley: “This is the only one—the used cars.”

Senator Benton: “So, the only change to the bill is the used car amendment?”

Senator Winsley: “Yes, just the amendment on page 2, line 12 by Representatives Ericksen and others. That’s it.”

Senator Benton: “His amendment removed the used cars?”

Senator Winsley: “Exempted the used cars—removed the word ‘may’ that was in Senator Mulliken’s amendment.”

Senator Benton: “Okay.”

Senator Winsley: “So they have equal status with new cars.”

Senator Benton: “Oh, Okay. Thank you.”

ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 6094

The Senate was called to order at 1:21 a.m. by President Owen.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Sheahan, the Senate advanced to the seventh order of business.

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6097, by Senators Honeyford and Mulliken

Revising the unemployment compensation system.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Sheahan, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 6097 was returned to second reading and read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Honeyford moved that the following amendments, under suspension of the rules, be considered simultaneously and be adopted:

On page 13, beginning on line 23, strike all of section 12 and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. A new section is added to chapter 50.20 RCW to read as follows:

1) With respect to claims that have an effective date on or after January 2, 2005, an otherwise eligible individual may not be denied benefits for any week because the individual is a part-time worker and is available for, seeks, applies for, or accepts only work of seventeen or fewer hours per week by reason of the application of RCW 50.20.010(1)(c), 50.20.080, or 50.22.020(1) relating to availability for work and active search for work, or failure to apply for or refusal to accept suitable work.
(2) For purposes of this section, "part-time worker" means an individual who: (a) Earned wages in "employment" in at least forty weeks in the individual’s base year; and (b) did not earn wages in "employment" in more than seventeen hours per week in any weeks in the individual’s base year.”

On page 16, line 21, after "(3)" strike all material through "(4)" on line 26
On page 16, line 28, after "is for" strike "twenty" and insert "seventeen"

On page 16, at the beginning of line 29, strike "(5)" and insert "(4)"
On page 16, beginning on line 35, strike all of section 14
Renumber the remaining sections consecutively, correct internal references accordingly, and correct the title.

On page 24, line 33, after "is for" strike "twenty" and insert "seventeen"

On page 35, beginning on line 29, strike all of subsection (d)
On page 36, beginning on line 28, strike all of subsection (f)
Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Keiser: “Senator Honeyford, I am a little confused about the second portion of Section 12. Was it the intent that it means a ‘part-time worker’ should be working at least seventeen hours a week or is the intent that a ‘part-time worker’ should work no more than seventeen hours a week?”

Senator Honeyford: “Senator, that is a very good question. I believe it defines those temporary workers who are working no more than seventeen hours a week.”

Senator Keiser: “I would like to take a closer look to that particular issue. I don’t think we are quite in total agreement on that, because it does seem that it would be eliminating the vast, vast majority of part-time workers, if you limited any availability to those who work seventeen hours or less a week for forty weeks.”

Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendments by Senator Honeyford on page 13, line 23; page 16, lines 21, 28, 29 and 35; page 24, line 33; page 35, line 29; and page 36, line 28, under suspension of the rules, to Senate Bill No. 6097.

The motion by Senator Honeyford carried and the amendments were adopted.

MOTION

Senator Brown moved that the following amendment, under suspension of the rules, be adopted:
On page 7, line 8, beginning with "(A)" strike everything through "move" on line 13 and insert the following: "has left work to relocate for the spouse’s employment that is due to an employer-initiated mandatory transfer that is outside the existing labor market area if the claimant remained employed as long as was reasonable prior to the move"
Debate ensued.
Senator Betti Sheldon demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained.
Further debate ensued.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the adoption of the amendment by Senator Brown on page 7, line 8, to Senate Bill No. 6097.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 13; Nays, 27; Absent, 0; Excused, 9.

Senator Hewitt: “A point of personal privilege, Mr. President. You might have noticed that Senator West was here tonight. He made a gallant effort to get on an airplane and come over here and give us some very good votes tonight. You may disagree on whether they were good or not, but he was here. Senator Sheahan: “A parliamentary inquiry, Mr. President. If this motion fails, will the motion to adhere move with the do not concur to the House amendment?”

Statute Law Committee
P.O. Box 40551
Olympia, WA 98504-0551

Dear Statute Law Committee Members:

We are writing to inform you that the Governor and the Legislature have settled, pursuant to a stipulated judgment, recent litigation arising from the veto of portions of Substitute House Bill 1059 (Laws of 2003, ch. 404), Substitute House Bill 1173 (Laws of 2003, ch. 346), and Engrossed Substitute House Bill 1827 (Laws of 2003, ch. 398). A copy of the entered judgment is enclosed for your review.

As the order makes clear, these bills are enacted in full force and effect as passed by the Legislature prior to the vetoes. The Governor will take steps to assure that agencies are advised of this disposition, and the Legislature will likewise take steps to ensure that its records reflect the judgment and status of the legislation. We believe it is important that the Revised Code of Washington reflect the law as originally passed with respect to these measures, and we therefore urge that future editions of the code—both printed and electronic—accurately reflect the law as determined by this agreed order and entered by a court of law.

Thank you for your attention and cooperation on this matter. If we may provide any additional information, please do not hesitate to contact us.

Very truly yours,

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator West: “A point of personal privilege, Mr. President. Thank you, Mr. President. Actually, I was going to rise to close debate. You know words can’t express the feelings that I have for each and everyone of you. I think of the Senate as family—the Legislature as a family—my brothers and sisters. In some cases, you might be my mothers or fathers. I have to tell you that I have parents younger than you—so there.

“I have to confess that, one, if I knew that it was going to be this good, I would have quit a long time ago, and two, that I am eternally grateful to Our Father in Heaven and to all of you for your prayers that this was the moment that I could have and this wouldn’t be my eulogy. I think that some of you thought in the spring, when you saw me, that might very well be the case.

“I am very glad to have you amongst me at this time, as I move from the Senate into a great challenge in my life and a great job that I am looking forward to. I listened to the praise and frankly I don’t deserve it. You know there are really great major leaders back in history and I have read about them. Of course, in recent times, Sid Snyder and Jeannette Hayner and others, who were absolutely great and I learned from them—and I learned from some that weren’t so great—and I learned from each and everyone of you. I learned more from you than you learned from me. What I learned here is going to serve the citizens of Spokane so well. You know if I could find forty-nine jobs in Spokane for you, I would take everyone of you with me and we would have a great city for it.

“Senator Oke mentioned and others mentioned the prayers that did go out in behalf of my health. I thought that God sitting in Heaven there and all of a sudden it is like ‘Hey, who is this Jim West guy?’ Give me an angel and go find something out about him, because an awful lot of people are praying for him—and I appreciated that.

“You are in good hands. Senator Pinkbeiner will do a good job for our caucus. Senator Brown will do a good job for your caucus. I hope that you work together. I hope that this body continues to be a body of ideas—a body that can disagree on solutions, but understanding that the problems have to be solved and folks that can disagree without being disagreeable—and I am sure you can. I am sure you can.

“I look forward, frankly, to Spokane being a shining city on the hill, to being one of the best cities in the state of Washington. Again, taking what I have learned from you and what I have learned from my service in the Legislature and applying that in local government and seeing if we can’t have some improvement in our economy and the way we care for people and the way we do things. I think we can—I really truly do.

“For that, I thank you, each and everyone. There is one member of the Senate—now trust me—there is no one here that is better than another. You are all great in my book and I am not better than anybody here. I consider myself actually lower in the quality, because you have allowed me to have this great job and you demonstrated through your hard work and through your efforts and through your caring that this state could be a better place. I really and truly appreciate that. I do have to publicly thank one person who—and again, you are great and rose to great occasions—but when I was sick, I went to one person on the floor and asked him to do a favor for me. I didn’t tell anybody. I asked him in my absence if he would please vote as if he were me? It was, perhaps, against his political convictions to do so, but he agreed to do it and then he did it. That is Senator Ken Jacobsen, whom I will be forever grateful. Thank you, Ken.

“I think that actually demonstrates the brotherhood of the Senate, because in the Year 2000, Ken was over recruiting my opponent and working hard to defeat me. After the elections are over and after we have to get to work on policy and after we have to get to work to serve the citizens of this state, we can set all of that aside and we get to work.

“So now, thank you, Mr. President. Thank you for allowing me to serve with you all of these great years. You have been a great friend and colleague. To each and everyone of you, thank you. I am going to miss you all. I am going to try and not come back for a period of time with my tin cup. Thank you very much and now let’s get to work.”
Remarks by the President

President Owen: “Senator West, the President would like to wish you the best of everything in your new job and hope you will come back and visit us. I do hope that you have passed your enthusiasm and knowledge of parliamentary procedure on to someone, as well, who is as gracious as you were when you were wrong.”

Personal Privilege

Senator Hewitt: “Mr. President, a point of personal privilege. When I came to the Senate in 2001, I had the honor to wish my Grandmother her hundredth birthday. We were actually on the floor that day and I thought it was a great privilege and I thought it might be the last time that I ever had the opportunity to do that. When I came back in 2002, I was able to wish her a happy one hundred and first birthday and we were on the floor the day it actually happened and I thought that would be the last. When I came back in 2003, I was able to wish her a happy one hundred and second birthday and we did that from the floor.

“Sadly, today, I have to tell you that she died on Tuesday. She is being buried today at two o’clock, but I don’t say that to make you sad. My family believes so strongly in the process that we partake in over here, that they said, ‘We don’t want you to come home, we want you to stay there and do the people’s business.’

“My Grandmother, I believe, is the epitome of what all of us would want every voter in this state to be. She was engaged, she knew the issues, she knew the candidates. I tell you it was great to be around a lady like that and have the influence of that. So, as my Grandmother is buried today at two o’clock, I am going to be here today doing what she would want me to do—doing the people’s business.

“Grandma, I love you and I wish I were with you. Thank you for listening.”

Personal Privilege

Senator Rossi: “Mr. President, a point of personal privilege. This probably is the most difficult speech that I have ever made on this floor. Quite frankly, I am going to announce today my resignation from the State Senate. It is a red letter day for you Senator Brandland. You are moving up that ladder fast. A few more speeches and you are going to be the majority leader.

“Really, what I wanted to talk about to you today was to say ‘thank you.’ When I got sworn in as a State Senator, I sat on the floor of the Senate in that gorgeous building over there. I sat in my chair and leaned back and looked at the Tiffany chandeliers and all the marble and I broke out in a cold sweat and said ‘Oh, my God, I am a Senator now.’ Then I looked at all these people—of course, I was a freshman—sitting next to Don Benton in the back row and looked at these people in front of me who had been there for quite some time and I was wondering if I was really qualified to actually be here. I asked that question. So many of you were gracious, on both sides the aisle, to take me under your wing and give me some guidance and help me along and give me opportunities to succeed.

“What I thought, when I became a Senator was that I realized that there were forty-nine people from forty-nine different districts and I realized that every person has a value. You just don’t know where it fits in to what you are trying to accomplish. I have already addressed my caucus and told them that I would like to talk to my friends on the other side of the aisle.

“When you think about what has happened over the last seven years—I have been here seven years now. I could have a story about each and everyone of you—a very positive story. Most of the stories are very positive with my interaction with you. Let’s just start with Senator Kline. He and I are just ideologically twins. We all know that. That was a joke! But you know, when a woman in my district, was walking with her husband hand in hand—Mary Johnson—and a three-time drunk driver ripped her from her husband’s hand, she died. I was in my second year in the Senate and I was looking at the bio’s of all the Senators and I realized that Senator Kline had been involved with Mother’s Against Drunk Driving. Who was number two on every bill I had for drunk driving—the Mary Johnson Act—well Adam Kline and I were joined at the head. Thank you, Adam, and we have made a difference with that.

“Then, there is Senator Jacobsen who came in at the same time. You truly are a man of your word and a man of conviction, as Senator West has already pointed out and I want to thank you for the help you have given me. Senator Hargrove, we have fought a lot of battles together. Sometimes we were successful and sometimes we weren’t, but I always knew where you stood. We oftentimes stood together and I want to thank you for what you have done.

“You go down the list here—Senator Rasmussen, kids and cows—kids and cows. You truly, truly do have it in your heart and what you have done as a Senator is remarkable and you continue to do it. Senator Fairley, I am not going leave you out of this. Your passion and compassion for the developmentally disabled and for people who are vulnerable was demonstrated last year time and time again. Please don’t ever stop—please don’t every stop doing that, because they need our help. Senator Tim Sheldon, the rock—incredibly solid. Every time when you told me you were going to be somewhere, guess what, when I got there, there you were. I appreciate that.

“The decision was very difficult. I love this job. Last year, it ended up being the most enjoyable year that I have had in seven years in the State Senate. Towards the end of the session, Randy Hodgins on the Ways and Means staff came to me and said, ‘You know, you are not supposed to be enjoying this.’ I said, ‘Well, we are going to do the best we can with what we have and I am going to make sure that we work across the aisle.’ To show how you folks put policy above politics, last year we passed fifty bills that were necessary to implement the budget on the Senate floor and not a single one of them passed with a party line partisan vote. Why? Because everybody here actually cares about the entire state of Washington and that is why that happened.

“Yes, I am—you have probably heard the rumor—I am going to run for Governor. I have been trying to keep it quiet. To keep a secret, it is just the people I tell that can’t. I think it is important for me to do this—to resign from the State Senate. Quite frankly, this is something I need to do now if we are going to restore the greatness that we once had. We are at a crossroads and I believe that I am in a position to do something about this.
“So, that is what I am going to do. Thank you, very much. The good news is that I’ll just be over on the second floor.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Brown: “Mr. President, a point of personal privilege. We are losing someone on this side of the aisle. too, and we would like to like to wish him well. I wasn’t sure if he was going to stand up on his own behalf and say anything to us and so I just wanted to acknowledge that Senator Reardon has not been with us in the Senate for a long time, but we are going to miss him. He, also, has heard the call of moving on to serve his local community and successfully taken on this job of County Executive. Senator Hargrove has just stripped him of his title now.

“Aaron, we are going to miss you, too, and your sense of humor. Some of you remember the time when we had some difficulty in the Call of the Senate and had a tough time finding you. Thanks for calling in and thanks for coming back. We appreciate that. Really, we really appreciate the time that we have spent with you and wish you and your wife and daughter the very best in your job as Snohomish County Executive.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Schmidt: “Mr. President, a point of personal privilege, if I may. I am going to continue that remark about Senator Reardon. When he had won the primary, I wanted to say, ‘Congratulations,’ but in behalf of our party, I wanted to say, ‘Darn you.’ I knew he was going to have a good shot at winning. I just want to make a few comments. I ran for office for the first time in 1992. At that time, he was the campaign manager for my opponent, who defeated me. I was hoping I would never see him again. Now, I know, I will be seeing him quite frequently.

“I just want to say, ‘Aaron, congratulations again.’ I know you are going to do a good job there. I know you are a man of your word. We can trust you. I think we are going to find ourselves agreeing on a lot of things, because you are very good at that. I know you will do very well in serving the citizens of Snohomish County and look forward to being with you some more. Thank you.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Reardon: “A point of personal privilege, Mr. President. Thank you, Mr. President and members of the Senate. Thank you very much for the distinguished opportunity to serve as your colleague. I have been here for five years and only one year in the State Senate, but if I had it to do over again, I would have run for the Senate in 1998. This truly is a body that I think can make things happen and I think the brain power of the state is in this body. It was demonstrated last year with the difficult challenges that—I hate giving Senator Rossi any praise right now—but the leadership that was demonstrated in this body, I think, set the tone for the challenges that needed to be taken on for years to come. I think that the state will turn more back to the middle in years to come and not be so partisan. I think all of our citizens will benefit from that.

“The work you have ahead of you is indeed—it is a big challenge—and, of course, during my campaign for county executive, I often talked to the new Mayor of Spokane. We exchanged notes on leadership and on campaign tactics. The only challenge, I guess I will throw this, Jim. ‘We have a hockey team and we will beat you.’ If you every want to come and watch, we have season tickets and Kay and I would love to have you down.

“Thank you very much for the opportunity to serve all of you and thank you for the honor.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Kohl-Welles: A point of personal privilege, Mr. President. I would like to speak on the passing of a former Senate colleague, State Senator Ray Moore, who was my predecessor from the Thirty-sixth Legislative District. Most of you likely know that Senator Moore died last Saturday at the age of ninety-one. He followed the death of his beloved wife, Virginia, who died last April. Ray, frequently, was heard to say that he knew that Virginia would outlive him by twenty-five years. I spoke with him several times in the last few months, as I am sure many of you did, and one could not help but notice the difference. His voice was very fragile; He sounded very frail; He was very lonely. It was really anticipated that he would die shortly.

“In my conversations with him, what came through still was his very wicked sense of humor, which, I am sure, all of you who served with Senator Moore in the Senate, remember. His sense of humor was profound, but often times was very hard. Senator Moore served in the Senate for sixteen years from 1978 to 1994. I am sure, those of you who were here and heard his very moving and eloquent speech on the Senate floor, during the 1994 Legislative Session, will never forget that. It apparently brought tears to many eyes as he announced that he would retire at the end of the year. In fact, he ended up resigning from the Senate that following October.

“As you may have known, he had started out as a Republican and we have the Seattle Times article written by Ralph Turner on the desk. It goes into some detail on this that Senator Moore was a Republican PCO, starting off in the 1930’s. He was Chair of the King County Republican party and he ran for the Legislature four times unsuccessfully before finally winning—twice as a Republican and twice as a Democrat.
“Senator Moore’s public policy was true humanitarian. He always championed civil rights, championed the down trodden, championed the vulnerable. He co-founded the Queen Ann Help Line, the first of its kind in the state of Washington and talked me into taking his place on the board in 1993. He also championed small business owners. It was critically important to him.

“There are some things that some people may not have known about Ray. His humor, again, and his political shrewdness were significant about him, as were all of the issues he cared about as public policy. When I became a board member of the very, very large retirement home in my district, he sent me a note saying, ‘Congratulations, I wish I could have done that, because it is an entire precinct. It will help with your next election.’ He always thought, I think, on a double track--policy and politics.

“I wish I could share some of the antidotes that my husband and I know about with regards to his humor, but I dare not when we have, perhaps, TVW broadcasting this. I will share one thing sort of. I used to come over to the Senate floor to talk with Senator Moore in the wings. I was in the House and one time as we were talking, I glanced at the tie he was wearing. Some of you may remember his ties, but it took my breath away. I was aghast; I couldn’t take my eyes off of this tie. I would love to describe it, but I can’t in public. What I will say it that this was his stock broker tie and he always wore it, he told me, when there was going to be a vote or an issue taken up on the Senate floor that had somehow to do with taxes and businesses. The tie had figures of bulls and bears on it, but it was the way they were positioned that I cannot reveal to you. Perhaps your imagination, if you knew Ray, will lead you to understand what that tie was. It was quite a tie.

“Senator Moore was the champion above all legislators I have ever known or even heard about with regard to his constituent casework. He and Virginia were a team and they compiled a legendary card file of constituents. They didn’t have the computer; they didn’t have internet then, but they had a card on every single constituent they ever came into contact with. He sent people congratulations on their birthdays, on wedding anniversaries, on children’s birthdays, everything that they could possibly think of. I still run into constituents who say ‘I remember when Senator Moore learned about this issue and he was there for us.’

“I have missed Senator Moore a lot since he has been gone, but I will never forget his compassion, his dedication and his humor. I will always remember his yard signs--the best one--with a photo of him on the yard sign and the narrative said, ‘Moore than just a pretty face.’"

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Fraser: “A point of personal privilege. Today is a day of many fond farewells, but truly the passing of Senator Ray Moore is a day of a sad farewell. I remember Senator Moore with so much respect and fondness that I just wanted to say a couple of words. I joined the Senate in 1993 and one of the first committees I served on was his committee. It was the Committee on Financial--it was a committee he had--you might say, amassed. It was a committee on Financial Institutions, Labor, Commerce, Economic Development, Housing, Regulatory Reform and probably a number of other subjects. It was probably the largest scoped committee in the Senate, which certainly shows that he was a master of the internal workings and relationships of the Senate.

“He also served on the committee that I chaired. I was fortunate to chair a committee, when I first arrived, on Committee on Ecology and Parks. I am pleased to recall that he was a very strong pro environment legislator and also took a very long range interest in water policy. Then, after he left the Senate, his staff member, Jim Hughes, came to work in my office. So, I have had a lot of association with Ray and Virginia. Ray and I really bonded early on, like the first year I was here over the State Employees bargaining issue. That was an extremely strenuous issue then. That just shows you how long that issue has been going on, like a decade or more, and we finally reached a decision on that a couple of years ago. Even then, it was extraordinarily strenuous within the Legislature and between the legislative and executive branches. We had a major bonding experience on that and we were on the same side. That became a wonderful relationship between us, which I will forever treasure. I appreciated his friendship, his many insights, his long perspective--he did like to remind us of a lot of history on a lot of issues--which was very helpful. One other point of humor was, those of you who have been here a few years, may remember how he handled gubernatorial appointments, looking through the file and reporting on it. He has made many policy contributions to our state. These have many friendships in our state and I and many others will miss him.”

MOTION

At 1:05 p.m., Senator Esser moved that the Senate go at ease.

MOTION

Senator Brown moved that the Senate revert to the fourth order of business to consider the Message from the House regarding House Bill No. 2297.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: “Senator Brown, the President believes that a motion to go at ease is a privileged motion and would take precedence, so is it necessary to vote on that motion first.”

Senator Brown objected and requested a roll call vote on the motion to advance to the fourth order of business.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY
Senator Kastama: “A parliamentary inquiry, if this body goes at ease, is there any limit as far as how long that at ease can be?”

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: “Senator Kastama, Senator Esser has proposed that the Senate go at ease, subject to the call of the President. I suspect that the President could call you back at any time under that direction.”

Senator Kastama: “Also, I would like to ask an additional question. Therefore, until we come back, this body cannot consider the presidential primary bill that just passed the House? We cannot consider the cancellation until we come back into these chambers? Am I correct, Mr. President?”

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: “That is correct, Senator. That would be a majority of the members coming back.”

Senator Kastama: “Thank you.”

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on the motion by Senator Brown to revert to the fourth order of business to consider the House Message on House Bill No. 2297.

Debate ensued.

FURTHER RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: “One moment, please. Senator Kastama, in further review of the rules, the President believes that his previous ruling is incorrect, because a time certain was not established. There is no specific reference to going at ease, but only going at recess. So, the President has to believe that they are compatible, but the rule at going to recess, in order for it to be a privileged motion, must have a time certain. Therefore, Senator Brown’s motion would be in order.”

Further debate ensued.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Brown: “A parliamentary inquiry, I am wondering if the Senator’s resignation from the Fifth District has already taken place. If so, is it appropriate for him to vote?”

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: “Senator Rossi, have you submitted your resignation letter to the Governor?”

Senator Rossi: “No, I haven’t.”

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: “Senator Brown, the answer to your question is the Senator must have submitted his resignation to the Governor before it takes effect. The question before the Senate is the roll on the motion by Senator Brown to revert to the fourth order of business.”

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the motion by Senator Brown to revert to the fourth order of business and the motion carried, the President voting ‘aye’, by the following vote: Yeas, 24; Nays, 24; Absent, 1; Excused, 0.

Absent: Senator Carlson - 1.

MOTION

At 1:22 p.m., Senator Esser moved to recess until 2:30 p.m.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Kastama: “A point of parliamentary inquiry, Mr. President. If at this time of two-thirty--I believe--if a majority of members do not come back to the Senate floor, will we be able to vote on this piece of legislation, the presidential primary?”

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT
President Owen: “You would fail to have a quorum at that time.”
Senator Kastama: “Thank you, Mr. President.”

MOTION

On motion of Senator Schmidt, Senator Carlson was excused.

At 1:26 p.m., the Senate recessed until 2:30 p.m.

The Senate was called to order at 2:30 p.m. by President Owen.

Apparently, we have internal and external channels and the public channel of 23 was being broadcast to the public, so they were hearing the debate. There were recordings going on internally, so all the internal channel was what was cut off. So, I wanted to explain that and say my apologizes.”
