Dear Governor Locke:

A few weeks ago, you should have received a letter providing notice of my intention to resign from the Washington State Senate effective Sunday, January 11, 2004 at midnight.

Because of the new information I have received, I would like to amend my initial notice of resignation to instead be effective on Wednesday, December 31, 2003 at midnight.

I apologize for any confusion this may have caused, and I hope that this will allow for more time in selecting my replacement. Please feel free to contact me at 425-257-2141 if you should have any questions.

President of the Senate
Olympia, Washington 98504

I, Sam Reed, Secretary of State of the State of Washington, do hereby certify that according to the provisions of RCW 29.62.120, 130, I have canvassed the returns of the 1,300,602 votes cast by the 3,212,043 registered voters of the state for and against the initiatives, resolutions and joint legislative district(s) which were submitted to the vote of the people at the state general election held on the 4th day of November, 2003, as received from the County Auditors.

WASHINGTON STATE INITIATIVE TO THE PEOPLE, 841

Initiative Measure No. 841 concerns the repeal and future limitation of ergonomics regulations. This measure would repeal existing state ergonomics regulations and would direct the department of labor and industries not to adopt new ergonomics regulations unless a uniform federal standard is required.

WASHINGTON STATE HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION, 4206

The Legislature has proposed a constitutional amendment on filling vacancies in legislative and partisan county elective offices. This amendment would permit newly-elected officers to take office early if the office falls vacant after the general election and the newly-elected officer is of the same political party as the former officer.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
April 17, 2003

To the Honorable President and Members,
The Senate of the State of Washington

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 3, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5142 entitled:

“AN ACT Relating to permitting children of certificated and classified school employees to enroll at the school where the employee is assigned;”

This bill requires, upon application, that school districts enroll children of their certificated school employees in the school to which the employee is assigned, or to one of the schools in the feeder school system for the school to which the employee is assigned.

Section 3 of this bill would have provided for certain reporting requirements. The veto of this section has been requested by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, and has the concurrence of the bill sponsor and the sponsor of the Section 3 amendment.

Nonetheless, I understand that the Superintendent of Public Instruction intends to provide information regarding the provisions of this bill to the legislature by means of a survey. I support this less burdensome approach.

For these reasons, I have vetoed section 3 of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5142.

With the exception of section 3, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5142 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,

GARY LOCKE, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

June 26, 2003

TO THE HONORABLE PRESIDENT AND MEMBERS,
THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 103; 148(1); 156(1); 161, lines 4-13 and lines 16-17; 171, lines 24-32; 172(1); 172(2); 215(1); 227(2); 229(1); 229(2); 232(3); 273(5); 304(2); 352(2); 401; 429; 620; 783; 816(1); 816(2); 816(3); 821(1); 821(2); 821(3); and 907(4)(g) of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5401 entitled:

“AN ACT Relating to the capital budget;”

Substitute Senate Bill No. 5401 is the state capital budget for the 2003-2005 Biennium. I have vetoed several provisions as described below:

Section 103, page 2, Office of the State Auditor

This appropriation would have provided $100,000 from the Thurston County Capital Facilities Account to move the Auditor from the Sunset Building and to purchase equipment. These proposed uses are inconsistent with the Thurston County Capital Facilities Account, as defined in existing statute. Moving costs are agency responsibilities within their operating budgets.
Section 148 (1), page 23, Department of Community, Trade and Economic Development

The first proviso for the Seventh Street Theater cites to Section 908(2)(b), which is intended for the acceleration of environmental rehabilitation and restoration projects. This project does not relate to natural resources and the reference is apparently in error.

Section 156 (1), page 28, Office of Financial Management (OFM)

Section 156(1) would have directed OFM to emphasize particular factors when reviewing capital appropriation requests from state agencies. This directive unnecessarily adds to existing statutory requirements already in place.

Section 161, page 30, lines 4-13 and lines 16-17, Department of General Administration

This appropriation would have provided $500,000 from the Thurston County Capital Facilities Account for Heritage Park. This appropriation is inconsistent with the purpose of the account as defined in statute. Heritage Park is an element of the state capitol campus and seat of government. Improvements to the park should be financed from general state obligations and not from funds derived from agency collected fees for services.

Section 171, page 34, lines 24-32, Department of General Administration

This proviso would have directed a revision to an existing agreement between the Insurance Commissioner and the department, which is already complete. The funds referenced in the proviso were spent on the feasibility study during the 2001-2003 Biennium.

Section 172(1) and (2), page 35, Department of General Administration

Subsections (1) and (2) would have created restrictions on projects less that $1 million by prohibiting use of funds for studies, surveys or carpet replacement. The funds appropriated in this section derive from agency fees for services so that the Department of General Administration can adequately maintain state-owned facilities, as required by statute. This proviso language would have unduly restricted the agency’s ability to evaluate and remedy maintenance needs as they occur, potentially resulting in higher costs in the future.

Section 215(1), page 46, Department of Social and Health Services

Section 215(1) would have prohibited the expenditure of reappropriated funds for developmental disabilities facilities subject to closure. The language is ambiguous in its intent, since no development disabilities facility is scheduled for closure in the 2003-2005 biennium. Furthermore, if this prohibition were applied to each structure in a facility, it could prevent the preservation of essential buildings and jeopardize certification and eligibility for federal funding.

Section 227(2), page 50, Department of Social Services and Managed Health Care

Section 227(2) would have prohibited the use of funds for demolition of abandoned structures at facilities managed by the Division of Developmental Disabilities. There is in excess of 300,000 square feet of abandoned and hazardous buildings already scheduled for demolition at Fircrest School, Rainier School, Lakeland Village and Yakima Valley School. Prohibiting removal of these buildings is inefficient and a risk to public safety.

Section 229(1) and (2), page 51, Department of Social and Health Services

In the operating budget, the department is required to develop a transition plan for the residential consolidation of clients from the Fircrest School. That transition plan will be complete by January 2004. The capital budget language in Section 229(1) and (2) would have required a capital facilities plan based on the operational planning determinations from this transition plan. Since the capital facilities plan would be due September 2003, it would create an inconsistency in the schedule of the operating plan.

Section 232(3), page 53, Department of Social and Health Services

Section 232(3) would have required review and approval by both the executive and legislative branches for a Juvenile Rehabilitation planning study. Since required components of the study are listed in Section 232(2), and the final study must be submitted to the Legislature, it is unnecessary to also submit the preliminary outline of project scope.

Section 273(5), page 67, Department of Corrections

Section 273(5) would have required review and approval of the Master Plan scope of work by both the executive and legislative branches. Since other provisos in this section indicate the objectives and components of this effort, it is unnecessary for the department to obtain additional approval for the initial scope of work.

Section 304(2), page 71, Department of Ecology

This subsection would have provided $1.8 million of Local Toxics Control Account grants to Klickitat County for removal, disposal or recycling of vehicle tires. This effort is not an eligible project under the Local Toxics Control Account Remedial Action Cleanup Program. To be eligible for such funding, a site must be under an agreed-upon order or consent decree, have completed a site assessment and cleanup plan, and be a declared toxic waste site. This site does not meet these criteria.

Subsection 352(2), page 90, Interagency Committee for Outdoor Recreation

This proviso would have eliminated reappropriated funds available to the Washington Wildlife and Recreation Program (WWRP) on December 31, 2003. If these funds lapse, several local parks and/or recreational projects would be terminated due to the loss of state matching funds used to leverage local resources. Parks, trails and recreational areas are in short supply and it is the wrong time to shut down projects that eliminate jobs important to the vitality of local communities.

Section 401, page 109, Department of Fish and Wildlife

This section would have appropriated $500,000 to develop a Wind Power Alternative Mitigation Pilot Program for the purpose of streamlining the mitigation process for wind power projects and associated habitat. While I fully support efforts to develop this renewable energy resource, additional direction is needed from the Legislature to determine the proper components of this program.

Section 429, page 119, Department of Natural Resources (DNR)

This section would have provided $900,000 of general obligation bond funds to digitize an unspecified portion of the DNR geology library, which is being reduced to one full-time equivalent (FTE) in the operating budget. Expenses of this type are operating, not capital in nature, and are not appropriate for bond financing. In addition, the cost of digitizing the library collection is greater than the biennial cost to operate the geology library at the 2001-2003 staffing level.

Section 620, page 133, University of Washington

This proviso would have assumed legislative approval of a future transportation budget. The reappropriated funds would have completed the design, right-of-way acquisition and environmental permits for an off-ramp into the University of Washington (UW) Bothell campus from State Route 522. The off-ramp is a requirement of the city of Bothell for future campus development of UW-Bothell and Cascadia Community College. However, due to anticipated student enrollment, additional campus development is not expected within the next six to ten years.

Section 783, page 194, Community and Technical College System
This proviso would have assumed legislative approval of a future transportation budget. The reappropriated funds would have completed the design, right-of-way acquisition and environmental permits for an off-ramp into the Cascadia Community College campus from State Route 522. The off-ramp is a requirement of the city of Bothell for future campus development of UW-Bothell and Cascadia Community College. However, due to anticipated student enrollment, additional campus development is not expected within the next six to ten years.

Section 816(1), (2) and (3), page 208, Community and Technical College System
These provisos would have placed overly restrictive conditions on the replacement of the North Plaza Building at Seattle Central Community College. Section 816(1) mandates construction limits that should, in part, be determined as part of the design phase of the project. Sections 816(2) and (3) require cost tracking data and additional expenditure accounting that are beyond the typical reporting requirements for a project of this size. This level of reporting poses an unnecessary expense to the college.

Section 821(1), (2) and (3), page 210, Community and Technical College System
These provisos would have placed overly restrictive requirements on the renovation of Building 7 at Tacoma Community College. Section 821(1) mandates construction limits that should, in part, be determined as part of the design phase of the project. Sections 821(2) and (3) require cost tracking data and additional expenditure accounting that are beyond the typical reporting requirements for a project of this size. This level of reporting poses an unnecessary expense to the college.

Section 907(4)(g), page 218 Community and Technical College System
Section 907(4)(g) would have authorized South Puget Sound Community College to purchase approximately 25 acres of land for a permanent Hawks Prairie campus. This proposal assumes the financing of a new community college campus, a decision that should be based on an assessment of future needs as part of the comprehensive budget decision process.

In addition to vetoing the sections above, I am directing the Office of Financial Management to place in allotment reserve the Thurston County Capital Facilities Account appropriated to the Department of General Administration in Section 169, Page 33. The project management functions provided by the department for capital projects should be distributed equitable across fund sources for those projects. Appropriations for amounts in excess of the project management costs for capital projects in Thurston County are contrary to the express provisions of RCW 43.19.501. My intention is to hold the Thurston County Capital Facilities Account appropriation in allotment reserve and seek corrective appropriations in the first supplemental budget.

For these reasons, I have vetoed sections 103; 148(1); 156(1); 161, lines 4-13 and lines 16-17; 171, lines 24-32; 172(1); 172(2); 215(1); 227(2); 229(2); 232(3); 273(5); 304(2); 352(2); 401; 429; 620; 783; 816(1); 816(2); 816(3); 821(1); 821(2); 821(3); and 907(4)(g) of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5401.

With the exception of sections 103; 148(1); 156(1); 161, lines 4-13 and lines 16-17; 171, lines 24-32; 172(1); 172(2); 215(1); 227(2); 229(1); 229(2); 232(3); 273(5); 304(2); 352(2); 401; 429; 620; 783; 816(1); 816(2); 816(3); 821(1); 821(2); 821(3); and 907(4)(g), Substitute Senate Bill No. 5401 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
GARY LOCKÉ, Governor

MR. PRESIDENT:
We respectfully transmit for your consideration the following bill which has been partially vetoed by the Governor, together with the official veto message setting forth his objections to the sections or items of the bill, as required by Article III, section 12, of the Washington State Constitution:
Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5404
IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the Seal of the state of Washington, this 27 day of June, 2003.

(Seal)

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

June 26, 2003

TO THE HONORABLE PRESIDENT AND MEMBERS
THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 141, lines 25-30; 148(2); 203(7); 203(10); 203(12); 204(1)(e); 204(1)(h); 205(1)(h); 209(12); 217(1); 308(14), lines 18-22; 501(2)(a)(iv); 717; and 724 of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill 5404 entitled:

“AN ACT Relating to fiscal matters,”

Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5404 is the state operating budget for the 2003-2005 Biennium. I have vetoed several provisions as described below:

Section 141, page 23, lines 25-30, Motor Pool (Department of General Administration)

This proviso would have limited the purchase or lease of addition vehicles for the state motor pool unless deemed necessary for safety. The core business of the Department of General Administration (GA) Motor Pool is to provide passenger vehicles for state agencies at a price that is cheaper than other state agency in-house motor pools or private vehicle rental car businesses. As budgets shrink, GA will need to maintain a cost-effective vehicle replacement schedule in order to ensure low maintenance costs and high vehicle re-sale value.

Section 148(2), page 27, Reimbursement for Travel (Washington Utilities and Transportation Commission)

This proviso would have allowed the Washington Utilities and Transportation Commission (WUTC) to accept reimbursement from the companies it regulates to allow WUTC employees to travel to multi-state regulatory meetings. This directive is contrary to a prohibition in the State Ethics Act, RCW 42.52.150(4)(g). Regardless, WUTC needs to develop policies for non-state reimbursement of state travel as required by the State Administrative and Accounting Manual Section 10.20.60.

Section 203(7), page 35, Co-Occurring Pilot Project (Department of Social and Health Services - Juvenile Rehabilitation Administration)

Section 203(7) would have required that $1,478,000 from the Federal Juvenile Accountability Incentive Block Grant be used for continuation of the Co-Occurring Disorder Pilot project. This project provides post-release planning and treatment of juvenile offenders with co-occurring disorders. The block grant was reduced for federal fiscal years 2003 and 2004. The state only has flexibility with respect to 25 percent of the federal funds received under the Juvenile Accountability Incentive Block Grant, which is less than the amount the proviso directs towards the post-release planning pilot program. Because the pool of eligible youth for these services will not necessarily require the full amount as appropriated, I am directing the Juvenile Rehabilitation Administration to continue the pilot, provide youth the post-release planning and treatment services needed, and utilize any remaining funds for other program requirements.

Section 203(10), page 36, Transfer of Funds to Counties for Juvenile Services and Semi-Annual Report to Legislature (Department of Social and Health Services - Juvenile Rehabilitation Administration)

This proviso would have allowed the department to develop a funding distribution formula in consultation with juvenile court administrators and would have required a semi-annual report to the Legislature. I am directing the department to continue to coordinate with the court administrators to determine an appropriate distribution formula. However, this language creates a new reporting requirement for DSHS at a time when we are seeking ways to reduce reporting requirements in order to maximize limited staff resources; therefore, I have vetoed this subsection.

Section 203(12), page 37, Allotment and Expenditure Reporting (Department of Social and Health Services - Juvenile Rehabilitation Administration)

Section 203(12) would have directed the Juvenile Rehabilitation Administration to allot and expend funds consistent with the category and budget unit structure submitted to the Legislative Evaluation and Accountability Program committee. This direction is consistent with current department-wide practices and is therefore not needed.

Section 204(1)(e), page 39, New Six-Year Regional Support Network (RSN) Funding Formula (Department of Social and Health Services - Mental Health Program)

This proviso language could have been construed as restarting the implementation of the current RSN funding phase-in schedule, which has already been in place for two years. In addition, the department is required to comply with the federal Basic Budget Act that would automatically adjust payment rates for community mental health services in its 2003-05 contracts with RSNs. My veto of this section will provide DSHS the flexibility to comply with federal requirements and continue the implementation of the new payment formula as originally scheduled.

Section 204(1)(h), page 40, Regional Support Network Administrative (RSN) Cost Limit (Department of Social and Health Services - Mental Health Program)

This proviso would have limited state funding for RSN administrative costs to 10 percent of total funding. While one of the goals of my administration is to increase efficiencies and lower administrative costs, this approach is too broad and does not allow for differing circumstances among the regional support networks and their vendors, particularly in rural areas. Although I concur with the intent of the proviso, I have vetoed this section and direct DSHS to continue its ongoing efforts to work with the regional support networks to identify ways to deliver community mental health services in the most efficient manner.

Section 205(1)(h), page 44, Consultation with Representative Stakeholders (Department of Social and Health Services - Developmental Disabilities Program)

This proviso would have required DSHS to identify redundant and unnecessary rules related to residential services for the developmentally disabled in consultation with service providers and clients. Without additional resources, I am concerned about the additional workload of a structured review requirement with providers and clients. Therefore, I have vetoed this section, but direct DSHS to continue its ongoing effort to remove redundant and unnecessary rules using the process and procedures currently in place.

Section 209(12), page 53, Report to the Legislature on the Projected Value of Drug Manufacturers’ Supplemental (Department of Social and Health Services - Medical Assistant Administration)

This proviso would have required DSHS to separately track the total amount of supplemental rebates obtained from drug manufacturers, and compile a report thereon. Medical Assistance currently uses supplemental rebates to offset total expenditures. These amounts allow for the management of the budget within fiscal year requirements. Decisions about retail pharmacy reimbursement rates should continue to be treated in a manner consistent with all other provider rates - that is, as a separate policy step occurring in the context of all other budget decisions. I have vetoed this section with the expectation that the department will track supplemental drug rebates and be prepared to respond to questions about the value of those rebates, even though a formal report will not be required.

Section 217(1), page 61, Crime Victims Compensation Program (Department of Labor and Industries)

This proviso would have limited the Department of Labor and Industries’ ability to administer the Crime Victims Compensation program. The budget includes adequate funding for the program, however, this subsection restricts the use of these funds in a way that would delay claim decisions for crime victim benefits, slow the processing of medical payments and potentially reduce or delay the collections of restitution meant to offset costs. The Department will take actions necessary to keep administrative costs at the lowest level possible.

Section 308(14), page 90, lines 18-22, beginning with “It is the intent…..” SDS Lumber Company Settlement (Department of Natural Resources)

Section 308(14) provides $2.7 million GF-S to the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) to acquire 232 acres of land and timber in Klickitat County from the SDS Lumber Company as part of a legal settlement. The proviso further requires DNR to recover through timber sales or federal grants, the $2.7 million GF-S during the 2003-05 biennium, stating that if DNR is unsuccessful, the Legislature intends to reduce expenditures in DNR’s Forest Practices Program for 2005-07 by the amount not recovered. I am vetoing the intent section of this proviso, which improperly attempts to bind the actions of a future legislature. Further, I believe this settlement is a one-time event limited to the facts of the specific case, and not an administrative precedent.

Section 501(2)(a)(iv), page 97, Federal Appropriation Transfer for Teen Aware Program (Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction - Statewide Programs)

This subsection would have required the transfer of $400,000 of federal appropriation from the Department of Health (DOH) to the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction (OSPI) for the Teen Aware Program. Teen Aware is a program of student-produced media campaigns to promote sexual abstinence. Administration of Teen Aware has depended on a state match to the OSPI that is eliminated in the budget act. At the request of Superintendent Bergeson, I have vetoed this federal transfer, thereby reverting the appropriation back to DOH to promote sexual abstinence. I am directing the DOH to work with OSPI to explore options to continue involving students in the production of effective abstinence messages for young adults.

Section 717, page 163, Agency Expenditures for Travel, Equipment, and Personal Service Contracts

This section would have required that the Office of Financial Management reduce agency allotments by a dollar amount based on the previous year’s travel, equipment, and personal service contract expenditures. The Legislature has already added to my proposed staffing and efficiency cuts with further reductions in individual agency budgets. This additional cut is especially difficult for small and medium agencies to absorb without directly affecting client services. Furthermore, because the reduction only applies to General Fund-State dollars, it is not equally applied to higher education institutions and other agencies that support travel, equipment and contracts with tuition or other non-state fund sources.

Section 724, page 171, Agency Expenditures for Legislative Liaisons

In this proviso, the Legislature would have prohibited the use of appropriated funds for legislative liaison positions in higher education institutions and other state agencies, and eliminates related General Fund-State dollars. I am concerned that this restriction would unduly limit the ability of agencies to respond to legislative inquiries. Furthermore, some legislative liaisons are responsible for constituent and client relations for their agencies.

For these reasons, I have vetoed sections 141, line 25-30; 148(2); 203(7); 203(10); 203(12); 204(1)(e); 204(1)(h); 205(1)(h); 209(12); 217(1); 308(14), lines 18-22; 501(2)(a)(iv); 717; and 724 of Engrossed Substitute Senate No. 5404.

With the exception of sections 141, lines 25-30; 148(2); 203(7); 203(10); 203(12); 204(1)(e); 204(1)(h); 205(1)(h); 209(12); 217(1); 308(14), lines 18-22; 501(2)(a)(iv); 717; and 724 as specified above, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5404 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
GARY LOCKÉ, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE SECRETARY OF STATE

The Honorable Brad Owen
President of the Senate
Olympia, Washington 98504

MR. PRESIDENT:
We respectfully transmit for your consideration the following bill which has been partially vetoed by the Governor, together with the official veto message setting forth his objections to the sections or items of the bill, as required by Article III, section 12, of the Washington State Constitution:
Second Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5659
IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the Seal of the state of Washington, this 24 day of June, 2003.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR
June 20, 2003
TO THE HONORABLE PRESIDENT AND MEMBERS,
THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to sections 3 and 5, Second Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5659 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to authorizing additional funding for local governments;"

This bill responsibly addresses a growing problem in Washington State - the gap between local government revenues and expenses. It provides two different mechanisms for localities to deal with this situation. Both approaches have a common feature; they allow the taxes to take effect only if voters approve them.

However, two sections of the bill are unrelated to its title, "an act relating to authorizing additional funding for local governments," which could jeopardize the constitutionality of the entire act. Sections 3 and 5 amend the Growth Management Act (GMA). While I realize that various jurisdictions have problems with GMA implementation, any changes to GMA should only be undertaken after careful consideration of relevant issues.

It is also questionable whether two counties should receive an extension of the timetable for updating their comprehensive plans without clearer comparison to other counties’ problems in meeting their deadlines for such updates.

I hereby direct my staff to work with the Department of Community, Trade and Economic Development and with concerned stakeholders over the next five months on potential amendments to the GMA. The deliberations should focus on how we can meet the goals of the GMA, plan for economic development, and protect our environment, while recognizing the difficult fiscal conditions facing so many local governments. The stakeholders should include a representative group of cities and counties, as well as the Association of Washington Cities and the Washington State Association of Counties. It is my intention that we bring to the 2004 Legislature a set of GMA amendments that can be adopted with broad support.

For these reasons, I have vetoed sections 3 and 5 of Second Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5659.

With the exception of sections 3 and 5, Second Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5659 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
GARY LOCKE, Governor

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

June 20, 2003
TO THE HONORABLE PRESIDENT AND MEMBERS,
THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am returning herewith, without my approval as to section 28 Second Engrossed Senate Bill No. 6097 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to revising the unemployment compensation system through creating forty rate classes for determining employer contribution rates;"

This bill makes substantive and historic changes to our unemployment insurance (UI) system. Section 28 would have required claimants who file initial and weekly claims electronically or telephonically to provide additional proof of identity, such as a driver’s license. I have vetoed this section because it nullifies all the advancements and efficiencies gained with TeleCenters and Internet filing. This requirement would also place a burden on individuals who live in rural areas not located near one of the Work Source offices. The Department of Employment Security uses an extensive process to minimize the possibility of fraudulent claims. If there is any doubt regarding identity, the department may issue an affidavit of identity to the claimant that must be notarized before any benefits are paid. The department may also require an individual to appear in person, if necessary.

I am not vetoing section 4, which establishes a list of personal and work-related reasons that an individual may quit for good cause and receive UI benefits while searching for other work.

However, without the benefit of experience, I appreciate concerns expressed about the unforeseeable nature of some of the practical effects of these amendments. Accordingly, I hereby instruct the Commissioner of the Department of Employment Security to track all impacts associated with the amendments in section 4, and to report her findings to me by June 2005.

For these reasons, I have vetoed section 28 of Second Engrossed Senate Bill No. 6097.
With the exception of section 28, Second Engrossed Senate Bill No. 6097 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
GARY LOCKE, Governor

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Deccio: “A point of personal privilege Mr. President. On behalf of the Republican Caucus we appreciate your giving Senator Esser on the job training, he’s a quick learner, we appreciate that.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Carlson: “A point of personal privilege Mr. President. Mr. President, ladies and gentleman of the Senate, in December, I had to leave rapidly after the first day of, before the first day of the session, Special Session because unfortunately my wife fell and broke her leg right at the hip. A number of you were kind enough to inquire about how she’s doing and we want to thank you for the lovely flowers that you sent. She enjoyed them in her hospital room for about five days. She is recovering and I am delighted to say that she is walking with a slow methodical process. I’m sorry that I’m not there to assist her because I need to be here, but she is recovering. She has seen the doctor now a second time will be tomorrow and hopefully will be from a walker to a cane and progressing satisfactory but I wanted to thank you for your prayers, for your considerations and your support during a challenging time. I begin to appreciate how a number of you who have spouses and perhaps yourself who’ve had injuries, how this is a very supportive and caring community and I thank you for it.”
PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Deccio: “Also a follow up with a personal privilege. Last year was a very difficult year for my wife and I. She spent eighty-four days in the hospital and your thoughts and prayers and flowers were with us and I’m glad to report we’ve moved into a new house which we love very much. I know my wife is on the mend because she’s driving again and using her credit card.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Oke: “Thank you Mr. President. We seem to have time and I’d like a point of personal privilege myself. I would just like to thank you, the Senate and all of you staff and so forth that prayed for me, that sent flowers. We were inundated with lots of flowers and cards. It was rather a stressful short period for me but I think that I went in for my yearly physical, if you hadn’t heard the little story, the doctor put his hand on my stomach and I think the Lord’s hand was on that hand and he said ‘I think we need to send you to Radiology’ and that morning I was in Radiology and he was doing the thing on my stomach, the ultrasound and about ten minutes later I looked up with a smile and said ‘Do we got twins’ and he didn’t smile, I knew I was in trouble and shortly there after the V. A. Hospital in Seattle did a surgery on me on Thursday and on Monday actually, the doctor come into the room after surgery with a smile and I like that smile but he said ‘you had not been in and had that surgery’ the one aneurysm and it’s not my heart, some people said I had a bad heart, the hearts good, it the aneurysm. The area that had three anurisms and the largest one the doctor said was well over two inches, had very thin covering and ‘less than six months you would have been dead.’ So those that are my age or even younger go for your yearly physicals. Make sure you do get in and get taken care of. In four days Judy was in the room, whose in the back of this room now, the three or four doctors were lined up and I’d had my first meal and I said “I’m ready to go home.” I was still in Intensive Care and they all looked at each other and said No, you can’t do ‘that’ and Judy said ‘No, you can’t do that’ and then half hour later I was on my way home with nurse Judy so it was a short stay and now I have an eleven inch scar but I’m a better person, Senator McCaslin.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Franklin: “Mr. President. A point of personal privilege. Thank you, Mr. President. Well that shows you what preventative health care is all about and that tells us what we should be all about, that is pushing for everyone in the State of Washington to have health care coverage so they would be able to have the preventative health so their lives would be saved and we are so pleased that you then escaped eternity. Your place is waiting but it was not quite ready and so that really, when we experience personally these things ourselves in regards to health it puts a face on it and so that’s why we push so hard for health care and especially not crisis care but prevention which saves money and health. Thank you.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McCaslin: “A point of personal privilege. Of course my prayers have been with you always and I would go and recite all my surgeries but I understand it’s only a sixty day session.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Kline: “A point of personal privilege Mr. President. Mr. President, when the good Senator from Gig Harbor, his Legislative Aide sent out word that he’d had this problem, she asked that we include him in our prayers. I did that, but I did something more for the good Senator. I included him in my sit ups. I knew that when he was down that was gonna be about a good one-hundred sit ups per day that wasn’t being done and I felt my own sit up output which was then from thirty to sixty or from sixty to one-hundred twenty. I’ve since gone to one-hundred fifty and I can tell you that at the end of a good session of sit ups I may not be praying for Senator Oke but I am invoking His name. Thank you, Mr. President.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Thibaudeau: “A point of personal privilege. Well, the feminist among us and I would certainly hope that Senator Deccio might be considered such. Really do appreciate having credit cards all of our own. Maybe she’s even buying something for you. I even got one in my own name these days, not just my husbands. So Senator Deccio I don’t know which ones Mrs. Deccio has. I hope she’s spending it wisely, now, no, you don’t know, I bet she pays the bills so she knows. I didn’t ask whether she had an income, I just asked if she paid the bills.

Let me see, Senator Oke, what am I going to say about you. You went to the V. A., that’s government run health care which has really and I heard one of the directors at a Health Care Conference talk about the kinds of things that they’ve done for health care reform. It’s quite a wonderful, really is very effective and I’m glad it was really good for you. Thank you.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Deccio: “A point of personal privilege. Mr. President, thank you. I wanted Senator McCaslin to hear this, Senator McCaslin, following up on what he said he’s had a lot of operations. As a matter of fact he’s had every kind of surgery there is except a hysterectomy.”

REMARKS BY PRESIDENT OWEN

President Owen: “The purpose of the Joint Session is to receive the State of the State Address from his Excellency, Governor Locke.

Governor Locke is beginning his 22nd year in public service, first serving as a member of the House of Representatives, then as King County Executive and for the last seven years as Governor of the finest state in the nation in which to live, work and raise a family. Governor Locke has served during very good economic times and very difficult economic times. I for one want to thank you governor for staying healthy during those very difficult times being available to make the tough choices our state was faced with. I might say you rose to the occasion and found ways to maintain your commitment to education while establishing your priorities of a state budgeting approach that balanced the budget with existing state revenues. I would also like to take advantage of this moment to thank Emily and Dylan for the exceptional job that they have done teaching the governor and our extraordinary first lady how to be great parents. Governor Locke and Mrs. Locke you are fine examples of caring and loving parents that truly embrace strong family values. Ladies and gentlemen it is with great pride and respect that I present to you his Excellency Governor Gary Locke.”

STATE OF STATE ADDRESS
BY GOVERNOR GARY LOCKE

Governor Locke: “Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Honorable Chief Justice, distinguished Justices of the Supreme Court, members of the Consular Association, state-wide elected officials, members of the Washington State Legislature, people of our great state of Washington: It is fitting that we gather here at Olympia High School. Like all schools in every community across our state, this is a place of learning. It is also a source of hope. And a symbol of our profound responsibility to future generations. We have worked hard to honor that responsibility. During the past seven years together, and through your leadership and the leadership of your predecessors, we’ve established considerable momentum. Years of education reform are paying off. Our classes are smaller, our schools are safe, and our kids are learning better than ever. And our homeland security measures place our state among the nation’s leaders in protecting our citizens and our borders.

Our economic initiatives have created jobs and hope for unemployed workers who still need our help. Last year we faced tremendous challenges. Together, we made tough decisions—and we made 2003 a session to remember.

- We avoided a general tax increase during tough economic times.
- After years of stalemate, we moved ahead on new funding for vital transportation projects.
- We have improved our business climate. Seven national companies chose our state in the past two years, creating thousands new of jobs.
- And by being resourceful, decisive, and bold, we landed the Boeing 7E7. "Built by Boeing" will continue to mean "Made in Washington by the best aerospace workers in the world."
- Washington state is rebounding. Our tough decisions are paying off. Our state government is on solid footing. Let’s continue this progress. This session, I am proposing to extend our gains in key areas:
  - Creating jobs through tax incentives for R&D and jobs in rural areas, and tools for all communities to accelerate economic growth.
  - Improving education by refining the new 2008 high school graduation requirements, by redesigning assistance programs for struggling students, and by allowing more students to attend our colleges and universities.
  - Keeping health care affordable and available by lowering insurance premiums for low- and middle-income families and small businesses, by helping doctors stay in rural communities, and by controlling medical malpractice insurance costs.
  - And ensuring abundant water for our state.
- These and the Supplemental Budget proposals were publicly presented last month, have been delivered to the members of the Legislature, and have been available in detail on the state’s web site. So I won’t go into the specifics here.
- And in the days ahead there will be ample time to further discuss and debate these proposals and issues. There will be time for the dialogue, negotiations and compromise that make our legislative process work.
- As we begin the session, let’s instead consider the future that we have been shaping for the people of Washington.
- The progress and momentum we have achieved in key areas is powerful and promising. Because of it, our state is on a changed course. A better course. A course toward a future filled with the prosperity, opportunity and security our citizens deserve. We must continue this momentum.
- We will achieve that promising future if we remain disciplined, creative, and committed.
- But an even better Washington is within our grasp. A Washington that is defined by certain fundamental rights.
- Fundamental rights that have been the basis of our efforts the last seven years and our proposals this year. I believe we must continue to work for a future that ensures these rights for successive generations.
- If the decisions and actions we take are guided by these rights and continue to be powered by the momentum we have created, we will achieve an even more respectful, more decent, and more caring society in our state.
- What are these fundamental rights? The first is the right to a quality education and opportunities for lifelong learning. A quality education is a universal right. Our children deserve no less, and we can provide them nothing more important. I’m sure you’re all familiar with my mantra. Education is the great equalizer. Education offers opportunity and hope to all it touches. It makes real the American Dream: that anything is possible if we set our minds to it.
When I was growing up, my parents taught me this important lesson, and instilled in me a passion for learning. School always came first. So I would like to take this opportunity to introduce my mother and father, Julie and Jimmy Locke. Also with my parents are my sister Marian and her husband Peter Monwai. My Locke.

Education is the great equalizer, and also a great economic engine. It prepares our workforce of the future, and roots our economic destiny in knowledge and resourcefulness. Every person in our state must have opportunities at any point in life to seek further education. For basic skills, for occupational advancement, or for personal development and fulfillment.

Quality education and lifelong learning demand a world-class education system. We’ve made great strides in raising academic achievement the past several years. Our students now exceed the national average in many subjects, and lead the nation in numerous categories.

More importantly, we’ve made great progress as measured against even our own higher state standards. We are proud of this improvement. But we must intensify our efforts.

Learning begins at birth. But thousands of our kids start kindergarten without the basic skills to succeed in school. That means they start out behind. And many will never catch up to their peers. More early education programs—and improvements to those programs—give children the chance they need and deserve.

The person who has convinced me on the profound benefits of early learning and has spent all of her years as First Lady promoting early learning—not just in our state, but around the nation—my wife, Mona Locke. We must help our children by giving them the early foundation they need. We must also help our teachers. In our K-12 system, too many of our teachers still struggle with large class sizes, antiquated facilities, impersonal learning environments, and inadequate learning materials.

Class sizes must be smaller: . . . teachers must be paid what they deserve; . . . and professional development opportunities must be plentiful. More assistance is needed for at-risk students struggling with reading, writing, math and science. Too many teachers and schools lack the resources to do their best. We must do our best to help them succeed.

That’s the only way every student will have a fair chance to meet today’s higher academic standards. Standing here in this high school, I wonder: How many of the students here have dreams of a college education? Will we help those dreams come true?

Our community colleges and universities are struggling to keep up with “the Baby Boom Echo.” People already in the workforce are looking for opportunities to improve their skills and employability. More people than ever before are seeking a college education. But there aren’t enough professors and classrooms at our universities to meet that demand. Meanwhile, employers are looking for more graduates in high-demand fields like nursing, computer sciences and engineering. Our high-tech companies will be hiring thousands of people each year. But our colleges and universities can’t even meet half the need. If our state can’t provide the necessary training and education opportunities for these jobs, businesses will hire people from outside our state.

What do we tell those who are waiting for college opportunities? We can’t just say “be patient and wait a few years until the state invests more in education.” We can’t expect them to wait until the economic recovery is 100% complete. We can’t ask them to stand by helplessly while those good family-wage jobs go to people from out of state. How can anyone consider giving tax breaks to businesses to create more jobs without also giving our students a chance to land those jobs? That’s why we must make higher education more accessible. The dreams of hardworking students here at Olympia High School and others across our state are worth honoring. The doors of opportunity must be kept open.

And those who are qualified to attend our colleges and universities should not be barred by impossibly high costs. Promise Scholarships and other financial aid programs can make the difference between a dream fulfilled and an impossible dream.

Building a world-class education system requires funding. The investment required to take our education system to the world-class level is significant—but absolutely necessary.

The funding source must be dedicated, permanent and stable. That’s why I’ve challenged the education community to develop the Washington Education Trust Fund. And that’s why I will champion this effort.

It’s time for our state to properly fund education. The right to a quality education is an integral part of our vision for our state.

A second fundamental right that is also central to our vision for Washington is the right to opportunities for family-wage jobs in a vibrant and expanding economy.

Everyone deserves the opportunity to make a decent living doing meaningful work. Family-wage work that puts food on the table, provides decent housing, and offers a sense of dignity.

Such a goal requires a comprehensive approach to economic development. We must use the tools that create jobs. Tools like targeted tax incentives for job expansion. We know tax incentives work. The Boeing 7E7 decision safeguarded some 200,000 direct and indirect jobs all across our state. That’s a lot of opportunity for the people of Washington.

Opportunities for good jobs must be available throughout the state. We must provide local governments with the tools to finance infrastructure to attract businesses and bring more good jobs to those communities.

America has always prospered through innovation, and we are an innovation state. We are home to some of the top technology companies in the world. Our universities enjoy stellar reputations as leading research institutions. They have pioneered such globally known and life-changing innovations as bone marrow transplants, ultrasound, and kidney dialysis.

Our colleges and universities are powerful engines of economic development. They have spawned industries of the future in advanced computing, biotechnology, advanced materials, and environmental technology. Industries that have created thousands of jobs already. And will provide thousands more in the future.

The investments we make in these technology areas through targeted tax incentives will fuel this growth. We must play to our strengths in these areas with initiatives like Bio 21. Bio 21 is a public–private, non-profit partnership that will further fund our state’s outstanding research capacity in biotechnology and information technology. This initiative merges and builds on these two great strengths to cure diseases and promote medical breakthroughs. It establishes Washington as a global leader in computer and biological sciences. Bio 21 has enormous potential to create new industries and thousands of good-paying jobs for our state.
I believe every person in our state has the right to opportunities for family-wage jobs in a vibrant and expanding economy. As we support existing industries, encourage new development, and invest in the industries of the future, we are delivering on the promise of that right.

A third fundamental right that defines our vision for the state is the right to comprehensive health care that is affordable and available.

We all know there is a national crisis that requires a national solution. But for people in desperate need of health care now, this sad knowledge doesn’t help. Nobody should have to suffer just because they are poor, powerless, unheard or unknown.

We in the State of Washington have never waited for federal action. Nor should we wait now. In spite of tough economic times, our state is still a national leader in providing medical care to vulnerable children and adults. We must continue to do all we can for our citizens, and make sure those most in need will always be helped.

Low-and middle-income families struggling to keep their health insurance deserve our efforts to reduce their premiums.

Citizens in rural areas deserve enough doctors and nurses to help the sick and injured. We must never allow clinics and hospitals to close because of rising costs, leaving medical professionals little choice but to move away, never to return. A seriously ill or injured person should not have to drive a hundred miles to reach medical care.

The quality of care should be the same whether you live in a rural or urban area. Technology can bridge distances, enabling doctors and patients in remote areas to consult with leading medical experts around the country.

Doctors struggling with high costs while serving mostly low-income patients deserve increased Medicaid reimbursements for critical services like childbirth. We must help family doctors continue to serve these patients, especially in rural areas.

And the people of Washington deserve our tireless efforts to pressure Congress and the Administration in the other Washington to step up to this national crisis and give all Americans the right to accessible, affordable health care.

The fourth component of our vision for Washington is the right to a clean, healthy environment.

Everyone should care about the condition of this planet that we leave to our children. Future generations deserve to enjoy the same natural beauty and precious natural resources that we enjoy. We need abundant, clean and cold water in our rivers and streams for people, fish and farms. Our wild salmon—a sacred symbol of Native people and an icon for our state—are indicators of environmental quality. As we restore wild salmon runs, we will be enhancing the pristine environment we so much cherish.

And when we protect ourselves from greenhouse gases, toxins like mercury, unsafe pipelines and oil spills, we are preserving a legacy of environmental health for our children’s children.

When we seek and encourage renewable energy sources, we are preserving a legacy of sustainability, and passing along the right to live in and enjoy a clean and healthy environment.

Fifth and finally, I believe we have a fundamental right to live in a respectful, fair and safe society.

When we invest in education, jobs, health care and the environment, our choices reflect our values: respect . . . opportunity . . . equality . . . diversity . . . and community. As leaders, we should consider these values in all of our decisions.

Though we have differences, a respectful society values these differences. When we embrace our rich diversity, we reach for the highest, best potential of enlightened civilization.

And a respectful society means safe and secure communities. We all deserve to feel safe from danger and protected from harm in our neighborhoods.

We all deserve to enjoy daily life knowing that our civil and human rights are safeguarded. The quality of our society can be measured by how we treat one another.

Whether we choose cooperation over adversity, civility over cruelty, and inclusiveness over intolerance. We owe it to ourselves, and to future generations, to work toward a society that keeps us safe, dignifies the individual, and works tirelessly for the common good.

These five fundamental rights I have identified today light the path to and serve as the foundation for an even better Washington. All of our citizens deserve these rights. And all of our citizens expect us to create and provide a Washington that guarantees them.

Can we achieve that guarantee? Yes, we can. And we must. I have dedicated my entire life in public service to it. During my last year as governor I will spend every moment working toward that guarantee.

And those who come after me should do no less.

I ask you to join me in this effort. Working together, I believe we can build on the momentum of today to secure these rights for our citizens tomorrow.

To serve the people of our state is a great and humbling responsibility. Let us honor it together.

Thank you very much, and God bless you all.”

THIRD READING

ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 5257, by Senators Roach, Doumit, Hale, Mulliken, T. Sheldon, Hewitt, Stevens, Parlette, Horn, Rossi, Benton, Johnson, Rasmussen and Esser

Requiring gubernatorial approval of all agency rules. (REVISED FOR ENGROSSED: Requiring gubernatorial approval of certain legislative rules.)

The bill was read on Third Reading.
Senators Roach, Kastama and Brandland spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Franklin: “Will the good Senator from the twenty-fifth district yield to a question. Thank you Mr. President. My question is that this bill went the same bill which has a House number that passed, went to the Governor’s desk. The Governor vetoed the bill. We have the same bill back in front of us. Was there any consideration of working with the Governor in order to come up with an acceptable bill.”

Senator Kastama: “That’s an excellent point Senator. To my knowledge there hasn’t been but again I’m not the prime sponsor of this particular piece of legislation so I can’t really inform the body as far as that goes. I do know that the Governor of course made regulatory reform one of his bigger issues the last legislative session. So I know it’s very important that he’s looking for actual regulatory reform that does make a significant change, but as to this one any modifications. I will say this; it started out the bill, and I don’t want to make this lengthy Mr. President. The bill did start out that every regulation he would have to sign. Now, that would be almost impossible for him to do that, not impossible but it would be I think to burdensome, so we went to significant legislative rules which narrows it down, to I believe, to the vicinity seventy per year and I think the committee felt that was more reasonable. So, there was input on that level but further input between last session and this session I’m not aware of. Thank you for the question, Senator.”

MOTION

On motion of Senator Hewitt, Senators Honeyford and Sheahan were excused.

Senators Fairley, Franklin and Kline spoke against passage of the bill.

SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 8692

By Senator Hewitt

WHEREAS, It is the tradition of the Washington State Senate to honor those who exemplify the American spirit by creating inspiration in the face of tragedy; and
WHEREAS, On September 11, 2001, the United States of America was struck with tragedy as terrorists hijacked four flights, one was brought down over Pennsylvania, one crashed into the Pentagon, and two were deliberately flown into the twin towers of the World Trade Center in New York City; and
WHEREAS, These acts of terrorism led to the deaths of thousands of lives including passengers on all four flights, workers, bystanders, and first responders who tragically suffered the same fate of those they were attempting to rescue; and
WHEREAS, During the days of uncertainty following the events of September 11th, Mike Pherigo and his daughter Megan raised an American flag over State Highway 395 between Mesa and Eltopia to give a glimmer of hope to the community; and
WHEREAS, Over the course of time the flag became not only a symbol of hope for many Columbian Basin residents but also a memorial to those who lost their lives on September 11th; and
WHEREAS, Upon learning that the State Highway 395 flag, a symbol of hope, may be removed, the local community volunteered resources to keep this from happening; and
WHEREAS, The local American Legion pledged to properly care for the site, Todd Blackman of the Franklin County Public Utility District arranged the crucial lighting, and with the help of others in the community, the State Highway 395 flag remained; and
WHEREAS, The flag now has the essential arrangements to be cared for and was built to stand in perpetuity to honor those who perished that fateful day;
NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the members of the Washington State Senate honor the intent of the State Highway 395 flag, those who placed it, and those who continue to care for it; and

"Sec. 2. RCW 34.05.328 and 2003 c 165 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Before adopting a rule described in subsection ((4))((6)) of this section, an agency shall:

(a) Clearly state in detail the general goals and specific objectives of the statute that the rule implements;

(b) Determine that the rule is needed to achieve the general goals and specific objectives stated under (a) of this subsection, and analyze alternatives to rule making and the consequences of not adopting the rule;

(c) Provide notification in the notice of proposed rule making under RCW 34.05.320 that a preliminary cost-benefit analysis is available. The preliminary cost-benefit analysis must fulfill the requirements of the cost-benefit analysis under (d) of this subsection. If the agency files a supplemental notice under RCW 34.05.340, the supplemental notice shall include notification that a revised preliminary cost-benefit analysis is available. A final cost-benefit analysis shall be available when the rule is adopted under RCW 34.05.360;

(d) Determine that the probable benefits of the rule are greater than its probable costs, taking into account both the qualitative and quantitative benefits and costs and the specific directives of the statute being implemented;

(e) Determine, after considering alternative versions of the rule and the analysis required under (b), (c), and (d) of this subsection, that the rule being adopted is the least burdensome alternative for those required to comply with it that will achieve the general goals and specific objectives stated under (a) of this subsection;

(f) Determine that the rule does not require those to whom it applies to take an action that violates requirements of another federal or state law;

(g) Determine that the rule does not impose more stringent performance requirements on private entities than on public entities unless required to do so by federal or state law;

(h) Determine if the rule differs from any federal regulation or statute applicable to the same activity or subject matter and, if so, determine that the difference is justified by the following:

(i) A state statute that explicitly allows the agency to differ from federal standards; or

(ii) Substantial evidence that the difference is necessary to achieve the general goals and specific objectives stated under (a) of this subsection;

(i) Coordinate the rule, to the maximum extent practicable, with other federal, state, and local laws applicable to the same activity or subject matter.

(2) In making its determinations pursuant to subsection (1)(b) through (h) of this section, the agency shall place in the rule-making file documentation of sufficient quantity and quality so as to persuade a reasonable person that the determinations are justified.

(3) Before adopting rules described in subsection ((4))((6)) of this section, an agency shall place in the rule-making file a rule implementation plan for rules filed under each adopting order. The plan shall describe how the agency intends to:

(a) Implement and enforce the rule, including a description of the resources the agency intends to use;

(b) Inform and educate affected persons about the rule;

(c) Promote and assist voluntary compliance; and

(d) Evaluate whether the rule achieves the purpose for which it was adopted, including, to the maximum extent practicable, the use of interim milestones to assess progress and the use of objectively measurable outcomes.

(4) The adoption of rules described in subsection (6) of this section must be made before December 1st of any year, and the rules may not take effect before the end of the regular legislative session in the next year.

(5) After adopting a rule described in subsection ((4))((6)) of this section regulating the same activity or subject matter as another provision of federal or state law, an agency shall do all of the following:

(a) Provide to the department of community, trade, and economic development a list citing by reference the other federal and state laws that regulate the same activity or subject matter;

(b) Coordinate implementation and enforcement of the rule with the other federal and state entities regulating the same activity or subject matter by making every effort to do one or more of the following:

(i) Deferring to the other entity;

(ii) Designating a lead agency; or

(iii) Entering into an agreement with the other entities specifying how the agency and entities will coordinate implementation and enforcement.

If the agency is unable to comply with this subsection ((4))((5)(b), the agency shall report to the legislature pursuant to (c) of this subsection;

(c) Report to the joint administrative rules review committee:

(i) The existence of any overlap or duplication of other federal or state laws, any differences from federal law, and any known overlap, duplication, or conflict with local laws; and
(ii) Make recommendations for any legislation that may be necessary to eliminate or mitigate any adverse effects of such overlap, duplication, or difference.

(44)(b) Except as provided in (b) of this subsection, this section applies to:
(i) Significant legislative rules of the departments of ecology, labor and industries, health, revenue, social and health services, and natural resources, the employment security department, the forest practices board, the office of the insurance commissioner, and to the legislative rules of the department of fish and wildlife implementing chapter 77.55 RCW; and
(ii) Any rule of any agency, if this section is voluntarily made applicable to the rule by the agency, or is made applicable to the rule by a majority vote of the joint administrative rules review committee within forty-five days of receiving the notice of proposed rule making under RCW 34.05.320.

(b) This section does not apply to:
(i) Emergency rules adopted under RCW 34.05.350;
(ii) Rules relating only to internal governmental operations that are not subject to violation by a nongovernment party;
(iii) Rules adopting or incorporating by reference without material change federal statutes or regulations, Washington state statutes, rules of other Washington state agencies, shoreline master programs other than those programs governing shorelines of statewide significance, or, as referenced by Washington state law, national consensus codes that generally establish industry standards, if the material adopted or incorporated regulates the same subject matter and conduct as the adopting or incorporating rule;
(iv) Rules that only correct typographical errors, make address or name changes, or clarify language of a rule without changing its effect;
(v) Rules the content of which is explicitly and specifically dictated by statute;
(vi) Rules that set or adjust fees or rates pursuant to legislative standards; or
(vii) Rules of the department of social and health services relating only to client medical or financial eligibility and rules concerning liability for care of dependents.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Esser, all measures listed on the Introductions and First Reading report were referred to the committees as designated.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Deccio: “Madam President, a Point of Personal Privilege. Thank you Madam President, Ladies and Gentlemen of the Senate. I come to you this morning with a humble heart. In my thirty years in the Legislature, I’ve always been involved in health care issues that affected the disabled, the poor and the minorities and I’ve sponsored much legislation to help their problems. I’ve supported millions of dollars in appropriations to that effort. I’ve never been accused of being a racist and I’ve never uttered that word in all my time in the Legislature. I grew up as an Italian in a very bigoted neighborhood where racial epithets were used against me and I should know better because I still feel the scars.

As soon as I said the word, I immediately apologized to Representative Tom Campbell and the small group that was meeting involved in the which became a very explosive negotiation over the small group health insurance bill. Friday morning, I went to the House Republican Caucus to apologize to Representative Campbell and his colleagues, also offered to apologize to the House Democrat Caucus and also Senator Lisa Brown was contacted. Then I personally met with my long time friend and colleague, Senator Rosa Franklin and apologized and she graciously accepted my apology. This morning I spoke with Representative John Lovick. I’ve talked to Ron Simms three times on the phone. My own former mayor Henry Beachamp called and was very supportive and I realized this has been very hurtful to members of the African American community and for that I am very truly sorry.

I feel if Reverend Martin Luther King were here today he would also accept my apology so I’m asking all of you to do the same. I further want to express my apologies not only to this body and convey to the citizens of the State of Washington that in no way do my regrettable comments reflect the views of any esteemed members of this body. I hope you’ll accept my apology and I will continue to be a member of this August body. Thank you.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Franklin: “A Point of Personal Privilege. Thank you Madam President. Senator Deccio, Ladies and Gentlemen of the Senate. This indeed is a most painful occasion for all of us and of course forgiveness. Forgiveness is a word that I grew up with. This Senator came and asked, he said ‘I came to ask your forgiveness’ and I said ‘Forgiveness for what.’ I had no idea of what was going on and after he told me what had happened was very very painful. After he’d explained, I said ‘Yes.’ Christ has forgiven all of us. If he had not forgiven us we would still have the burden.

We, of course, as a country have a checked history dealing with race and race relations for African Americans it’s a painful history. Since coming to these shores our foreparents came in chains, ... in slavery, counted as property, stripped of all identity, things have come slowly and continues to be a work in progress. Words of bygone era tends to open wounds and expose pent up emotions and it sears like a branding iron. We are all immigrants, all immigrants in this great nation that we love, we have helped, contributed to build this country which we love so dearly. All of her, with even the all of her many wants – and she still has many. We have come a long way but we have a long way to go.

I am a descendent of slaves, with French and Native American heritage. I am from a family who have stood up for the rights of the least among us, regardless of who you are, the color of your skin, we have stood up. I am a family from a heritage that have felt the lashes of horse whips, who’ve toiled in the cotton fields and the rice paddies of South Carolina, yet we have become nurses, teachers, pharmacists, doctors and we have stood up for everyone.

This is an unfortunate incident of which I accept Senator Deccio’s apology and will work for healing. This is what this country needs. It needs healing. It needs healing of all the racist. We need to come together, we need to work for healing.
This gives us a grand opportunity. An opportunity of which we should have open dialog about race and what it means. Race does matter in America. We don’t want to talk about it, but it does matter.

This gives us the grand opportunity to do that. To learn more about our multi-culturalism to learn more about each other and learn more about a fast changing nation. A nation in which by 2010, will have increased in it’s multi-cultural racial nativity. We cannot run away from it, we must face it head on. At this time, we will withstand what has happened, my brothers who are sitting back there are here.

African American men as you know are having a difficult time— but in this season of America, we are all having a difficult time. But this moment in time, this Legislature, this legislative body can grasp the moment, can start the healing, can learn about each other.

I am here to do the people’s business and the people’s business is health care, education, for our economy and is to get Washington State moving again. I’m here to do the public’s business and that is what my constituents want. This is what your constituents want, they want us to do the business when it matters – to the extent that needs to be done in this state.

So Senator, we will continue to work on those issues which matters most and that is health care. You’ve been our leader, we’ve had our moments, we do disagree, but we’ll get the job done. Thank you.”

As used in this section, the term "taxing district" means any county, metropolitan park district, park and recreation service area, park and recreation district,

Any such taxing district may levy taxes at a rate in excess of the rate specified in RCW 84.52.050 through 84.52.056 and 84.52.043, or 84.55.010 through 84.55.050, when authorized so to do by the voters of such taxing district in the manner set forth in Article VII, section 2(a) of the Constitution of this state at a special or general election to be held in the year in which the levy is made.

Elections for taxes shall be held in the year in which the levy is made, or in the case of propositions authorizing two-year through four-year levies for maintenance and operation support of a cemetery district, or authorizing two-year through six-year levies to support the construction, modernization, or remodeling of cemetery district facilities, in the year in which the first annual levy is made. Once additional tax levies have been authorized for maintenance and operation support of a cemetery district for a two-year through four-year period, no further additional tax levies for maintenance and operation support of the district for that period may be authorized.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Keiser: “A point of personal privilege. Well, the Senator from the third district thinks it’s appropriate that on this Women in Sports Day we also recognize a state elected official who has recently, last weekend, accomplished a true record in sports. I’m speaking of our Supreme Court Justice Faith Ireland. I don’t know if you are aware but last weekend she went to the women’s national power lifting championships and she set records. She took up this sport it is a sport it is an individual sport a few years ago after having a back injury and I watched her a couple of years ago at her endeavors and she inspired me. I came out of one of our sessions with a permanent neck spasm for good reason. Maybe it was an arm spasm too. I found that by using Justice Ireland’s example and inspiration I was able to put that spasm in it’s place and I no longer have to deal with that irritation, there are a few others still here but that one’s gone. Power lifting does help mature over the teenage-years kinds of physiques and I would recommend it to anyone. Since I’ve began my regimen I’ve discovered something I never had before... A bicep. It’s exciting. Supreme Court Justice Ireland dead lifted two-hundred fifty-three pounds in her contest last weekend. She’s going on now to the masters team. It is a remarkable accomplishment. I commend her to you.”

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Brown: “A point of parliamentary inquiry. Thank you Mr. President. I would like to raise a few concerns about the Rules Committee. I understand that we will be heading to the Rules Committee after we go at ease here and the calendar has already been prepared with respect to the bills. Three of the four Rules Committee meetings that we have had this session have occurred in the President’s office and with rather short notice with respect to the rest of the members in terms of the bills that would then be on the floor. The two concerns I’d like to raise are; number one, that when the Rules Committee meeting is held in the Lt. Governor’s office there’s very little access for the public to see the votes and to hear the deliberation that might occur in the committee; and number two, on pieces of important legislation it gives the members very little time to prepare their response. We are very sympathetic and aware of the responsibility of the majority party to move things expeditiously through the process and have no intention of being an obstacle in that matter today. However, I would like to raise the body’s attention to Senate Rule 50 which relates to the Rules Committee and in that rule it states ‘The calendar, except in an emergents situations, as determined by the committee on rules, shall be on the desks and in the office of the senators each day and shall cover the bills for consideration on the next following day.’ So, what I’d like to request of the President as the chair of Rules Committee, if he will review the rules and customary practices related to that committee. Perhaps consult with the majority, minority party leadership on the issues related to the balance between appropriate time for deliberation of the Rules Committee and facilitating the expeditious moving of the bills through the process.”

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: “The President believes that you have raised two questions to be reviewed by the President. The first being: Is it required by the Senate Rules that the public have access to the deliberations of the Rules Committee which is limited when it is done in the President’s office? The second is: Is there a procedure for timely review by the members of those bills prior to the Rules Committee meeting. Does that state your concerns correctly?”

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY
Senator Brown: “Yes, Mr. President. Specifically with respect to the issue of the time between the Rules Committee meeting and when the bills come to the floor. That’s the more specific concern. Sometimes the bills this session the first time we’ve seen the bills so we would be caucusing on them right now and if members wanted to prepare amendments or investigate amendments it would give them very little time to do so.”

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: “Senator, is it your intent that the President review this at this time, prior to today’s Rules Committee meeting?”

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Brown: “No, Mr. President. We don’t want to blockade the process today but perhaps if this were to continue to occur in the future essentially I would like your review of the issues so I could bring it before you again.”

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: “Thank you.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE
Senator McCaslin: “A point of personal privilege. Lord how I wished you’d said no. I just want to tell everyone here today that I’ve been told forty-eight times that she was going to make her maiden speech. Could you imagine my consternation because I’ve got to think of something to say about and we’ve never formerly met. Now, I was reading this, sent out by Senator Carlson. Is he here? Oh there he is. Why don’t you come in and set down and make yourself comfortable Senator? I was reading here about Title IX which prohibits gender discrimination in institutions that receive federal funding. Now I understand we do receive federal funding and you’re going to have to have a resolution to propose Title X where there won’t be gender discrimination because I understand there are sixteen women. Sixteen- that’s more than half. There’s a mathematician, that was more than half over here. I think it was Senator Zarelli. And Readon wasn’t here but what, thirty days. We lose a man, and we gain a woman, Senator Finkbeiner. I told you that I was popular. We welcome you with open arms, but of course we have to be careful because you might file charges about, dare I say the word, harassment or harassment. But I do want to congratulate you. I looked at this book which describes you in the House and you were really gorgeous coming out of high school. Alright, maybe it was junior high, huh. You’re still gorgeous, of course, but we’re not allowed to say that because again sexual harassment so, and you can’t say matronly because you’ll get slapped for that also. I mean men can not win. Right girls. I called them girls, so I’m back in the good side. What happened, what happened. Anyway, we are delighted that you’re here. The House hasn’t called me yet to tell me that this is your first speech but it’s pretty early in the day, so I expect to hear some calls from them. Anyway we welcome you again with open arms, we look forward to serving with you, please don’t tell us to do too many things because we’re a little slow over here.”

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President: “Senator Berkey, we have many strict rules of decorum and protocol in this chamber which the President is always enforcing. One of them is, noise abatement and gift giving and I’m looking around here. I don’t see anything... I have one. Thank you.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McCaslin: “Look at this, I have been here twenty-four years and two women beat me to sucking up to you.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Deccio: “Mr. President, a point of personal privilege. I would like to invite Senator McCaslin to join me in further sensitivity training.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Shin: “Mr. President, a point of personal privilege. Why we had lots of laughter and a sense of humor from Senator McCaslin. I’d like to present a serious note about Senator Berkey. 1992 when I was contemplating running for the State Legislature. I looked it over to district, I didn’t know who to ask. I’ve never campaigned before and never run an election before, totally lost. Out of a clear blue sky she showed up. I run campaign for you and I compared her position, my position knowing as you can see me. I waited for four years for this decision because 1987 when Governor Booth Gardner on the way home from China on a trade mission, he said ‘Paull with all the trade savvy we need your help. Why don’t you run for office.’ I said ‘Are you talking to me? He said ‘Ya you’. I was terrified, I was flattered because that confidence in me was over mattered but at the same time my color I was terrified. I said ‘Governor I’m scared, I can’t do it’. He said ‘Whenever you’re ready, I’ll help you.’ It took me four years to think about it, much thinking and contemplation and when I decided whose going to help me and she showed up. And now then, her to know that in life that our professional friends that I can be friends, that are political friends being special as our human friends. She is my human friend to me. She’s responsible for my coming to the legislature. She ran two campaigns consecutively and both successfully and I wanted to know and her husband by the way, Don judging from the packet that’s from PUD. Is that from your husband? Something to do, both she and her husband played a team work and helped me to get here. I was in awed because the first person I’d ever met with a different color so she come because she was interested in me and helped and I wanted to know that she’s my genuine human friend. I respect her. I used to call her my mom until she came to the Senate, now she’s my baby sister. Thank you Mr. President.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Honeyford: Mr. President. A point of personal privilege. Well, thank you. I know we’ve all received a lot of emails about out sourcing and those concerns that I happen to notice on the pen that says ‘China’, I turn the cup over and I see ‘China’. I wonder if that requires us to give these back? Would you make a ruling on that please?”

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: “Senator Honeyford, I believe the term ‘China’ on the cup is the type of cup that it is.”

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT
President Owen: “In addressing the parliamentary inquiry raised by Senator Brown as to the practice of the Committee on Rules, the President finds and advises as follows:

The Committee on Rules is generally subject to the same rules and traditions as other standing committees of the Senate, but its practices are further modified by traditions unique to it by its very nature of acting as the final arbiter of which measures are actually considered by the full Senate. Past practice, the sheer volume of bills, the need to conduct orderly and timely business, and the current general inconvenience imposed upon the body by its temporary quarters while the Legislative Building is renovated all militate in favor of conducting some Rules Committee meetings in abbreviated sessions within the Lieutenant Governor’s offices, where packages of bills are moved around as deemed advisable by the members.

These factors must be balanced, however, against very strong interests in allowing as much openness to the public and as much notice to the membership as is reasonably possible. Senate Rule 50 provides that the floor calendar is to be placed upon the member’s desks and list the bills which will be considered on the following day. There is a major exception to this mandate, however, which is found in the plain language of this same rule. This exception allows the body, in ‘emergent situations,’ at the discretion of the committee, to prepare the calendar and report for consideration those measures which it deems necessary or advisable for consideration at a time it deems necessary or advisable. The President will assume that a particular situation is sufficiently emergent unless the point is challenged by a member and then determined by the committee upon a majority vote—just as is the case with other matters before other committees. Likewise, as with other committee decisions, members who object to a committee determination or action always have the right, pursuant to Senate Rules and practice, to raise a point of order or make an appropriate motion at the appropriate time to object to the adoption of a committee report, the disposition or status of a bill, or the consideration of a particular measure, which would then be decided by an appropriate vote of the full Senate.

In so advising, the President would also add that, while the committee meetings to date have been within the rules of the Senate, the President urges the members to reasonably and fairly balance all of the competing needs and principals at stake to allow as much openness, participation, and notice as to the meetings and the floor calendar as is possible.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Berkey: “A point of personal privilege, Mr. President. I’ve enjoyed this discussion of the Senate tradition of, once you’ve made your first floor speech, you’re entitled to celebrate your district with the other members. So I want you to join with me now and we’re going to walk visually through the thirty-eighth legislative district. Envision the All-American city, Everett. All American city in 2002. Home to Snohomish County PUD, the third largest public utility in the state. Everett Community College which is the first community college in this state and has a very active foundation as you can see and I could also add that when I was first a student it was Everett Junior College and my dad was on the staff. You’ll find your note taking I think much improved by this lovely purple pen which is from one of our premier aircraft manufacturing companies. One of our colleagues suggested a libation should be in the bag. I might be looking across the aisle at him and so we have a special bottling from the Spada Lake in the Cascade Mountains and this was bottled to celebrate the USS Abraham Lincoln when it returned to port. So I hope you’ll enjoy this Senator Morton. I want you to walk with me a little bit further north. As you leave Everett, you proceed six miles across the Snohomish River in the estuary where we have like a hundred miles of salt and fresh water shorelines you reach Marysville. We all know Marysville is famous for the Strawberry Festival, right Dave. In this case strawberries were not in season, but I had heard that Senator McCaslin likes an occasional snack. In his honor we have smoked fish from the Kenai Peninsula, compliments of the Kasil Fish Company in Marysville. So I appreciate your warm welcome to me in joining the Senate and hope you’ll enjoy these gifts representing the thirty-eighth district. Thank you.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McCaslin: “Mr. President, ladies and gentlemen of the Senate. I’m glad you described everything that was in the bag because I never got one.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Deccio: “Thank you, Mr. President. Senator, you know, you said something that’s not correct, you said you wanted a snack. Senator McCaslin always wants the full meal deal.”

WHEREAS, John Reagan struggled both before and during the Great Depression in his attempts to provide for his family, until he was appointed director of the Dixon, Illinois office of the Works Progress Administration, a New Deal, back to work program; and

WHEREAS, Ronald Reagan, building upon a successful career in the private sector, acted upon the courage of his convictions and entered the world of politics and public service as Governor of California; and

"We are a humane and generous people and we accept without reservation our obligation to help the aged, disabled, and those unfortunates who, through no fault of their own, must depend on their fellow man. But we are not going to perpetuate poverty by substituting a permanent dole for a paycheck. There is no humanity or charity in destroying self-reliance, dignity, and self-respect . . . the very substance of moral fiber . . .”;

WHEREAS, During his career as a public servant, Ronald Reagan was unafraid to do battle on the great issues of his time and, in the words of Theodore Roosevelt, enter the arena, strive valiantly, and spend himself for a worthy cause; and

WHEREAS, Ronald Reagan, as all great American presidents, used the power of the Presidency as he deemed best to invigorate our economy, put Americans to work, honor our obligation to those who need help, and inspire all Americans to seek a more perfect Union; and

WHEREAS, Ronald Reagan’s leadership, with the support of the American people, helped to end the Cold War, set many nations on a path to freedom and democracy, and promoted greater peace and stability to many regions of the world;

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President welcomed and introduced Adjutant Major General Lowenberg of the Washington National Guard.

REMARKS BY MAJOR GENERAL LOWENBERG

Major General Lowenberg: “Thank you Mr. President and members of the Senate. Following the attacks on our country in September, 2001, the burden of serving our state and nation has been born by thousands of Washington Army and International National Guard men and women. As we gather today on the eve of the deployment from our state of the 81st Armor Brigade, I’m also mindful that their burden is currently being shared by the 1161st Truck Company, my B-Company of the 14th Engineers, by our special operations detachment and members of A-Company first of the 19th Special Forces, all of whom are serving as we speak in Iraq, in Afghanistan, in Djibouti and in Yemen. Of course other soldiers from A-Company first of the 19th Special Forces, having very recently returned to their loved ones, were key to the combat operations resulting in the overthrow of Saddam Huisens regime in Iraq. Still other members of our Information Operations crew and our aviators and Military Intelligence personnel in rear area operational cells are preparing to mobilize and deploy in the coming weeks and months for duty in the Middle East. Hundreds of these soldiers and airmen also served on previous missions at locations throughout the United States prior to being mobilized for service overseas. It is the deployment of the 81st Armor Brigade and the roughly four-hundred guard fellows from Minnesota and California who round out our Brigade that has captured the attention of the citizens of the State of Washington and of the Nation. Mobilization in the deployment in the 81st Armor Brigade is the largest mobilization of National Guardsmen from the State of Washington since World War II. To give you a frame of reference, we are currently mobilizing and deploying more National Guardsmen than we did for the Vietnam war and the Korean war combined by an order of magnitude of four times and more the combined mobilization for those two previous periods of conflict. I know there are many emotions in this chamber today and there will be many more emotions that will come to the fore in the historic farewell formation, as we gather to see the 81st Brigade off at the Tacoma Dome tomorrow afternoon. These emotions are very natural and they are very real. As a solider whose work has taken to most of Continents of the world, I know as many of you know that the American Military is based on people. It’s not machines, it’s not equipment, it’s ordinary people like you and me. Ordinary people like the soldiers and airmen of the 81st Brigade who choose to do extraordinary things with their lives and in so doing preserve and protect our precious freedoms. It’s fathers and sons, it’s mothers and daughters, it’s sons and sons-in-law and other family members who are tied to members of this chamber and to your colleagues in the House of Representatives. It’s those who touch all of us in our lives. Our civic clubs, our places of worship and our neighborhoods. Men and women full of hope, full of life, full of promise, commitment and dedication to this call to duty. As an Adjutant their General, I’m privileged to speak for them and thanking first their families and their employers for their support and sacrifice. And secondly, thanking you for your support, for the action you took last session to provide for shared leave so state employees could support their fellow employees who are mobilized for military duty and preserve a essential health insurance and life insurance benefits. And to thank you for your thoughtful consideration on action on bills being considered this session that would provide income protection for state employees who suffer rather horrific financial hardships as a result of their call to duty. As recently as October as we were preparing for this deployment to the middle east, soldiers from the eight-nine-eight Engineers and the 181st support battalion stopped all of their deployment preparations and responded to rescue people were was stranded by the flooding Skagit River. Proving, once again, that your friends and your neighbors, your National Guard are always ready, always there. I know that you stand with me in saying that we, the citizens of the State of Washington are also always ready and always there for these great patriots and for their families. I spent time with our troops in the Middle East at the outset of the Iraqi campaign and I will be spending time with them, boots on the ground, in theater again throughout their year long tour of duty. I also pledge with your help to provide world class support for their families and loved ones left behind, so that they can focus on their mission half a world away. I look forward to that day when, with all of you, we can embrace our brothers and sisters and welcome them home to the safety and security of their own homes and families. Thank you for honoring our Soldiers and Airmen today. Thank you for honoring them everyday. May God bless them and keep them and may God bless the great people of the State of Washington and of the United States of America. Thank you.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hale: “A point of personal privilege. Thank you. In case you haven’t noticed today, there are a lot of ladies that are wearing red and this is in recognition of women’s heart health month. As those of us who attended a dinner a couple weeks ago found out that heart disease is number one killer of women. Most of us think about breast cancer as being the most serious threat to the health of women, but it was pointed out by the doctor who briefed us that one out of every five women all of us, all ages have heart disease. We have it now. Where one out of every twenty-five women have breast cancer or will get breast cancer. The likelihood that women will die from their first heart attack is many, many times higher than that for men. The purpose of the red day, the wear red day and our little red skirt pens, in case you missed those, is to bring visibility to this issue and to remind us all that heart disease is one that we need to continue to be to do research on, that we need to be vigilant about and we need to take care of ourselves. Thank you.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Fraser: “A point of personal privilege. Thank you Mr. President and Members of the Senate. As Senator Hale stated, you there’s lots of way to cooperate and lots of ways to communicate, and so those of us who are wearing red today are attempting to bring awareness to the fact that cardiovascular disease and high blood pressure are increasing in women. Previously seem to think that this was mostly a health problem for men but we want to bring attention to the fact that it is a growing into becoming a very serious health problem for women and urge everybody to pay attention to their health and try to engage in prevention. Thank you very much.”

(1) Whenever a person is convicted of a felony, the court may order the payment of a legal financial obligation as part of the sentence. The court must on either the judgment and sentence or on a subsequent order to pay, designate the total amount of a legal financial obligation and segregate this amount among the separate assessments made for restitution, costs, fines, and other assessments required by law. On the same order, the court is also to set a sum that the offender is required to pay on a monthly basis towards satisfying the legal financial obligation. If the court fails to set the offender monthly payment amount, the department shall set the amount. Upon receipt of an offender’s monthly payment, restitution shall be paid prior to any payments of other monetary obligations. After restitution is satisfied, the county clerk shall distribute the payment proportionally among all other fines, costs, and assessments imposed, unless otherwise ordered by the court.

(2) If the court determines that the offender, at the time of sentencing, has the means to pay for the cost of incarceration, the court may require the offender to pay for the cost of incarceration at a rate of fifty dollars per day of incarceration, if incarcerated in a prison, or the court may require the offender to pay the actual cost of incarceration per day of incarceration, if incarcerated in a county jail. In no case may the court require the offender to pay more than one hundred dollars per day for the cost of incarceration. Payment of other court-ordered financial obligations, including all legal financial obligations and costs of supervision shall take precedence over the payment of the cost of incarceration ordered by the court. All funds recovered from offenders for the cost of incarceration in the county jail shall be remitted to the county and the costs of incarceration in a prison shall be remitted to the department.

(3) The court may add to the judgment and sentence or subsequent order to pay a statement that a notice of payroll deduction is to be issued immediately. If the court chooses not to order the immediate issuance of a notice of payroll deduction at sentencing, the court shall add to the judgment and sentence or subsequent order to pay a statement that a notice of payroll deduction may be issued or other income-withholding action may be taken, without further notice to the offender if a monthly court-ordered legal financial obligation payment is not paid when due, and an amount equal to or greater than the amount payable for one month is owed.

If a judgment and sentence or subsequent order to pay does not include the statement that a notice of payroll deduction may be issued or other income-withholding action may be taken if a monthly legal financial obligation payment is past due, the department or the county clerk may serve a notice on the offender stating such requirements and authorizations. Service shall be by personal service or any form of mail requiring a return receipt.

(4) Independent of the department or the county clerk, the party or entity to whom the legal financial obligation is owed shall have the authority to use any other remedies available to the party or entity to collect the legal financial obligation. These remedies include enforcement in the same manner as a judgment in a civil action by the party or entity to whom the legal financial obligation is owed. Restitution collected through civil enforcement must be paid through the registry of the court and must be distributed proportionately according to each victim's loss when there is more than one victim. The judgment and sentence shall identify the party or entity to whom restitution is owed so that the state, party, or entity may enforce the judgment. If restitution is ordered pursuant to RCW 9.94A.750(6) or 9.94A.753(6) to a victim of rape of a child or a victim’s child born from the rape, the Washington state child support registry shall be identified as the party to whom payments must be made. Restitution obligations arising from the rape of a child in the first, second, or third degree that result in the pregnancy of the victim may be enforced for the time periods provided under RCW 9.94A.750(6) and 9.94A.753(6).

All other legal financial obligations for an offense committed prior to or after July 1, 2000, may be enforced at any time during the ten-year period following the offender’s release from total confinement or within ten years of entry of the judgment and sentence, whichever period ends later. Prior to the expiration of the initial ten-year period, the superior court may extend the criminal judgment an additional ten years for payment of legal financial obligations including crime victims’ assessments. All other legal financial obligations for an offense committed on or after July 1, 2000, may be enforced at any time the offender remains under the court’s jurisdiction. For an offense committed on or after July 1, 2000, the court shall retain jurisdiction over the offender, for purposes of the offender’s compliance with payment of the legal financial obligations, until the obligation is completely satisfied, regardless of the statutory maximum for the crime. The department may only supervise the offender’s compliance with payment of the legal financial obligations during any period in which the department is authorized to supervise the offender in the community under RCW 9.94A.728, 9.94A.501, or in which the offender is confined in a state correctional institution or a correctional facility pursuant to a transfer agreement with the department, and the department shall supervise the offender’s compliance during any such period. The department is not responsible for supervision of the offender during any subsequent period of time the offender remains under the court’s jurisdiction. The county clerk is authorized to collect unpaid legal financial obligations at any time the offender remains under the jurisdiction of the court for purposes of his or her legal financial obligations.

(5) In order to assist the court in setting a monthly sum that the offender must pay during the period of supervision, the offender is required to report to the department for purposes of preparing a recommendation to the court. When reporting, the offender is required, under oath, to respond truthfully and honestly to all questions concerning present, past, and future earning capabilities and the location and nature of all property or financial assets. The offender is further required to bring all documents requested by the department.

(6) After completing the investigation, the department shall make a report to the court on the amount of the monthly payment that the offender should be required to make towards a satisfied legal financial obligation.

(7)(a) During the period of supervision, the department may make a recommendation to the court that the offender’s monthly payment schedule be modified so as to reflect a change in financial circumstances. If the department sets the monthly payment amount, the department may modify the monthly payment amount without the matter being returned to the court. During the period of supervision, the department may require the offender to report to the department for the purposes of reviewing the appropriateness of the collection schedule for the legal financial obligation. During this reporting, the offender is required under oath to respond truthfully and honestly to all questions concerning earning capabilities and the location and nature of all property or financial assets. The offender shall bring all documents requested by the department in order to prepare the collection schedule.

(b) Subsequent to any period of supervision, or if the department is not authorized to supervise the offender in the community, the county clerk may make a recommendation to the court that the offender’s monthly payment schedule be modified so as to reflect a change in financial circumstances. If the county clerk sets the monthly payment amount, the clerk may modify the monthly payment amount without the matter being returned to the court. During the period of repayment, the county clerk may require the offender to report to the clerk for the purpose of reviewing the appropriateness of the collection schedule for the legal financial obligation. During this reporting, the offender is required under oath to respond truthfully and honestly to all questions concerning earning capabilities and the location and nature of all property or financial assets. The offender shall bring all documents requested by the county clerk in order to prepare the collection schedule.

(8) After the judgment and sentence or payment order is entered, the department is authorized, for any period of supervision, to collect the legal financial obligation from the offender. Subsequent to any period of supervision or, if the department is not authorized to supervise the offender in the community, the county clerk is authorized to collect unpaid legal financial obligations from the offender. Any amount collected by the department shall be remitted daily to the county clerk for the purpose of disbursements. The department and the county clerks are authorized, but not required, to accept credit cards as payment for a legal financial obligation, and any costs incurred related to accepting credit card payments shall be the responsibility of the offender.

(9) The department or any obligee of the legal financial obligation may seek a mandatory wage assignment for the purposes of obtaining satisfaction for the legal financial obligation pursuant to RCW 9.94A.7701. Any party obtaining a wage assignment shall notify the county clerk. The county clerks shall notify the department, or the administrative office of the courts, whichever is providing the monthly billing for the offender.

(10) The requirement that the offender pay a monthly sum towards a legal financial obligation constitutes a condition or requirement of a sentence and the offender is subject to the penalties for noncompliance as provided in RCW 9.94A.634, 9.94A.737, or 9.94A.740.

(11)(a) Until January 1, 2004, the department shall mail individualized monthly billings to the address known by the department for each offender with an unsatisfied legal financial obligation.

(b) Beginning January 1, 2004, the administrative office of the courts shall mail individualized monthly billings to the address known by the office for each offender with an unsatisfied legal financial obligation.

(c) The billing shall direct payments, other than outstanding cost of supervision assessments under RCW 9.94A.780, parole assessments under RCW 72.04A.120, and cost of probation assessments under RCW 9.95.214, to the county clerk, and cost of supervision, parole, or probation assessments to the department.

(d) The county clerk shall provide the administrative office of the courts with notice of payments by such offenders no less frequently than weekly.

(e) The county clerks, the administrative office of the courts, and the department shall maintain agreements to implement this subsection.

(12) The department shall arrange for the collection of unpaid legal financial obligations during any period of supervision in the community through the county clerk. The department shall either collect unpaid legal financial obligations or arrange for collections through another entity if the clerk does not assume responsibility for collection pursuant to subsection (4) of this section. The costs for collection services shall be paid by the offender.
(13) Nothing in this chapter makes the department, the state, the counties, or any state or county employees, agents, or other persons acting on their behalf liable under any circumstances for the payment of these legal financial obligations or for the acts of any offender who is no longer, or was not, subject to supervision by the department for a term of community custody, community placement, or community supervision, and who remains under the jurisdiction of the court for payment of legal financial obligations.

Sec. 2. RCW 10.01.160 and 1995 c 221 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

1. The court may require a defendant to pay costs. Costs may be imposed only upon a convicted defendant, except for costs imposed upon a defendant’s entry into a deferred prosecution program or costs imposed upon a defendant for preparing and serving a warrant for failure to appear.

2. Costs shall be limited to expenses specially incurred by the state in prosecuting the defendant or in administering the deferred prosecution program under chapter 10.05 RCW. They cannot include expenses inherent in providing a constitutionally guaranteed jury trial or expenditures in connection with the maintenance and operation of government agencies that must be made by the public irrespective of specific violations of law. Expenses incurred for serving of warrants for failure to appear and jury fees under RCW 10.46.190 may be included in costs the court may require a defendant to pay. Costs for administering a deferred prosecution may not exceed one hundred fifty dollars. Costs for preparing and serving a warrant for failure to appear may not exceed one hundred dollars. Costs of incarceration imposed on a defendant convicted of a misdemeanor or a gross misdemeanor may not exceed (fifty dollars per day) the actual cost of incarceration. In no case may the court require the offender to pay more than one hundred dollars per day for the cost of incarceration. Payment of other court-ordered financial obligations, including all legal financial obligations and costs of supervision take precedence over the payment of the cost of incarceration ordered by the court. All funds received from defendants for the cost of incarceration in the county or city jail must be remitted for criminal justice purposes to the county or city that is responsible for the defendant’s jail costs. Costs imposed constitute a judgment against a defendant and survive a dismissal of the underlying action against the defendant. However, if the defendant is acquitted on the underlying action, the costs for preparing and serving a warrant for failure to appear do not survive the acquittal, and the judgment that such costs would otherwise constitute shall be vacated.

3. The court shall not sentence a defendant to pay costs unless the defendant is or will be a defendant and the nature of the burden that payment of costs will impose.

4. A defendant who has been sentenced to pay costs and who is not in contempt in default of the payment thereof may at any time petition the sentencing court for remission of the payment of costs or of any unpaid portion thereof. If it appears to the satisfaction of the court that payment of the amount due will impose manifest hardship on the defendant or the defendant’s immediate family, the court may remit all or part of the amount due in costs, or modify the method of payment under RCW 10.01.170."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McCaslin: “A point of personal privilege. Now, I just want to tell all of you that Senator Berkey started this about passing out the gifts before we got on the new Senator about making a speech, so that part is your fault. I’m going to get out of this as soon as I can. We got one more after Pflug. I asked her in caucus today why she had the ‘P’ there, she said ‘None of your business.’ I’ve got so much information on her. I do want Senator Deccio, where’s he? Senator Deccio, she’s a nurse so you better get along with her because you’ll probably need a nurse before I do. She’s a registered nurse, this is all the information I have on her. She’s ‘R’ answer to your Berkey. Berkey, would you pay attention? You know this takes a lot of guts to get up here every time they bring in a new Senator. She’s our answer to you. Your both very beautiful, but she’s a Republican. She’s just got a smidgen of an edge-not much because you’re both beautiful. She has four children at home; 11, 14, 17 and 19. Congratulations on your spacing. That’s excellent, really, isn’t it girls. She’s taking flying lessons along with her two oldest sons and I think that’s great. The oldest already has his pilot’s license so he’s probably helping you a bit. Now please, we only have 25, be careful. Don’t go up in bad weather, please don’t go up in bad weather. We’ll be tied then and you think this is a mess now. Wait till it’s a tie, that’ll really be bad. She snow skis, again be careful, you could break legs, ankles and arms and run into trees as I have done in the past. She backpacks, she does look very healthy to me. I don’t know about the rest of you and I wear tryfocals. She likes boating, again wear your life preserver. Twenty-Five, twenty-four, it’s quite important. The family is very important to her. Obviously with four children they’re very important. Here’s some statistics you probably don’t know about her. She lives next door to the home where she grew up. You’re going to meet a lot of us that haven’t grown up yet but we’re planning on, once we’ve grown up we’re going to decide what we want to do. There are thirteen acres on the property and it’s divided amongst family members. Now, I don’t know how many in your family. Could you lip sync it? So there’s, one, two, three. Three in the thirteen acres, you guys figure that out, I don’t have my slide rule. Anyway, the family made a soccer field out of one section and that is enjoyed by the people of the community which I think very giving of you, so we know she’s a giving person. There’s also a barbeque area that will feed a couple hundred people. She hasn’t invited us yet, has she folks? I think she should. I really do. The Seattle City Watershed is nearby, I have no idea what that means, but that’s one of the facts I was given. It was named after her great grandfather, Chester W. Morris. Is that correct? Good Chester who was an engineer for the City and created the watershed. The dam covers over the original homestead and I think that’s great information on you. You’re a very, very lovely woman and you’re a nurse. Deccio are you still awake? This is pretty early for him but anyway, he’ll probably need your services or mine and I wonder, leadership, could you put her closer to us? Would you ask Senator Deccio? Why has Senator Deccio risen? Welcome aboard.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Deccio: “A point of personal privilege. Mr. President, would you remind Senator McCaslin this is a sixty day session and that time is running out. If he keeps that diatribe he’s going to need an oral surgeon, not a nurse.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Pflug: “A point of personal privilege. Well it is my pleasure to present my first gift and to thank the good gentleman for his kind remarks. I don’t know if there is such thing title IX legislator but if there is it is my joy to bring additional diversity and follow in the tradition of replacing, leaving male Senator’s with background in real estate with a new female legislators. I have hoped that each of you have a bag on your desk and I want to tell you a little bit about the contents. A lot of you from the East side of the mountains, first arrive in the fifth district at Snoqualmie Pass, and if you come down I-90, your first North Bend exit is exit 32 and by then your pretty tired and so it would be a really good place for you to pull off. If you take a left at exit 32, about five-hundred feet, you’ll come to Gordy’s Steak House. Gordy’s has given you a gift certificate here. They are famous for their southern barbeque which is all natural pork, smoked on the premises. They also I think what is definitely as good a steak as any in the state and that is environmentally-cultured black Angus which is raised at Misty Isle Farms in the thirty-fourth district. For those of you in eleventh district, they will be opening a new location. They won the competition for the concession at the new golf course in Tukwila. Those of you who don’t come over the pass can still try Gordy’s when they open this summer in Tukwila. If you continue down I-90 and you can manage to pass the outlet mall at the next exit, you’re probably thinking your gonna go south on eighteen to Olympia but you really should turn right. You’ll go past the new Urban Village concepts, Snoqualmie Ridge development and come to historic Snoqualmie, where we have a working antique railway. And after you take your grand kids on that or your kids then you can go across the street to the Snoqualmie candy factory. While you have a burger at their old fashion soda fountain, you can watch them make taffy and their famous carmel corn. In your bag I have for you a sample of Snoqualmie Falls Carmel corn. I use to bring this down by the five gallon tub outside my office, but in the long sessions I couldn’t fit into my clothes at the end. I quit doing that. One little sack won’t hurt you. Then, just about a half mile from there is the Snoqualmie Falls Lodge is now Salidge Lodge and so you’ll want to go by there to see the falls especially they’re beautiful in the spring when the snow melts. The Salish Lodge is a local landmark and the site of many traditions for my family, it was always Mothers Day. For decades we had brunch there for Mothers Day. But it has also been renovated and it’s a great place for a weekend getaway or a caucus retreat and they have a wonderful spa and so in this envelope we have a twenty dollars off on a spa treatment, ten dollars off on a meal there. And I would remind you that it’s Valentine’s coming up and they have Valentine’s specials where you can each get a treatment and then you can go have lunch. They’ll wrap you up in a big robe and you can lunch in front of the fire and then go enjoy the baseball which has this enormous hot tub with a waterfall. So the pictures on your coupon are kind of small but I have a bigger brochure if you want to come see what it looks like. Then we should go back to I-90 and head toward Seattle and as you get out of the mountains you come to Issaquah. It looks a little different, thanks to the good lady from the tenth and the good gentleman from the forty-first, but there’s a famous landmark, that’s because of the new sunset interchange. For those of who grew up, you’ll know that there is a wonderful land mark there the Boehms Factory. Bernard has made you a sampler, just for you. They can do absolutely anything. You’ll notice that he has given you a salmon, that’s because the salmon is kind of the patron saint of Issaquah. Every year we celebrate the return of over thirty-thousand salmon with our big festival, the first weekend of October. We have a ton of fun. Look at the front of your bag. This year’s festival is called ‘Spontaneous.’ King Salmon and Queen Coho preside over that. I’ll invite you to come to that. Next door to Boehms is the Hedges. I have a wine bottle cellars for you. Then if you head south you’ll go to Maple Valley. I have Maple Valley gold which is honey from all over the state. You’ll have to come. I was going to tell you where all this was. My point being really that I am very proud of my district as all of you are of yours and I wanted you to know how interconnected we were, so I was going to tell you where the wineries were but I will stop and to say how much I look forward to working with you on solutions for all of our districts.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McCaslin: “I’m road weary. I’m so tired of going down I-90. Try 405.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Deccio: “A point of personal privilege. I just want to advise Senator Pflug your four years are up.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McCaslin: “A point of personal privilege. To all of us here I’d like to let all of you know why we’re not allowed to mention the other body. We’re not allowed to mention the other body. It’s in Reeds, Rules, 224. If I may Mr. President? It is not permissible to allude to the action of the other House of the Legislature or to refer to a debate there. Such conduct might lead to misunderstanding in ill will between two bodies which must cooperate in order to properly serve the people. So also the action of the other body should not be referred to influence the body the members addressing.” So if any of you are wondering why I’ve been here served under three Presidents, they’ve all been the same way, we don’t mention the other house. Let’s influence ourselves over here. Thank you Mr. President.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Carlson: “A point of personal privilege. Mr. President, we’ve now had thirty days, half the session. I’ve been wearing a different tie every day and I would really appreciate it if we could finish in another thirty days because I may run out of ties.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Brandland: “A point of personal privilege. I brought up Senator Carlson’s ties last year and I’d like to point out that all thirty of them are still ugly.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McCaslin: “A point of personal privilege. I told Senator Sheldon, B. that I was resigning after this and she said, ‘You can’t resign. We never appointed you.’ Since she never appointed me, I don’t know why I’m standing here but the question that was asked me was, whether or not a minor can pass out bottles of wine. I didn’t know that you were a minor. I think somebody told you that you were twenty-seven. I started losing my hair before you were born. I have some information here for the rest of you regarding him because two a day is too much for me here. Brian’s wife, Heather, beautiful woman, I don’t know how he ever captured her, calls him Bri, Bri or is it Bre Bre. You followed up your motion but you can tell me what it is. It’s what, what is it? If your going to be in the Senate, you’ve got to learn to yell. When you get up, you don’t ‘Mr. Chair’ or ‘Mr. Speaker’, this goes for the rest of you that are House broken. You say, ‘Mr. President.’ You yell it out and then you’ll call on you. What he does, he goes back and forth between Democrats and Republicans and he’s a very fair President. I got to say that because I read in the rule book that when you rise to speak you’re to address the President. Isn’t that correct? I ask them about that and ‘McCaslin, I’d rather look at your back then your front.’ So, I do appreciate that. Is it Brea Brea? You can stand up. Bri, Bri, that’s enough. Anyway, she’s a beautiful woman, according to statistics I have but that name is really disturbing. Now last week I asked him three times where Senator West was and he said ‘McCaslin, he got elected Mayor and he’s not here anymore. I’m the new Senator.” I can’t believe somebody this young can be in the Senate, but I’ve been proven wrong before. When you young guys come in here with all that hair, look at that, we’re discouraged, well, except for Tim Sheldon. He’s got more, he can probably pass his out to all of us. Anyway, we do wish you a welcome. We wish you success and we wish you would raise your voice when you make an improper motion.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Deccio: “A point of personal privilege. I’d like to remind Senator McCaslin not all old guys are bald.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McCaslin: “A point of personal privilege. Apparently you’ve never an seen aerial view of your head.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Murray: “A point of personal privilege. For the record I’d like to state there’s a great product out there call Rogaine and Senator McCaslin might like to invest in that. Rogaine, it’s great.”

WHEREAS, May 17, 2004, marks the fifty-year anniversary of the Supreme Court case Brown v. Board of Education of Topeka; and
WHEREAS, The Supreme Court ruled against the Topeka Board of Education declaring that "separate educational facilities are inherently unequal" and violate the equal protection clause under the Fourteenth Amendment. In so doing, the court decision overturned the precedent determined in 1896 by Plessy v. Ferguson; and
WHEREAS, Linda Brown, a young African-American student, was forced to ride a bus five miles to school when there was an adequate facility only four blocks from her home; and
WHEREAS, Brown v. Board of Education aimed to prohibit federally sanctioned racial segregation in public schools; and
WHEREAS, Thurgood Marshall, the lead attorney for Brown, fought for equality for African-American school children; and
WHEREAS, He believed segregation "generates a feeling of inferiority as to their status in the community that may affect their hearts and minds in a way unlikely to ever be undone"; and
WHEREAS, Since May 17, 1954, the citizens of the United States of America have broken down the barriers of segregation in educational facilities, and while there are still inequalities in the distribution of educational resources, we must continue to seek equal opportunities for all of our children;
NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Senate, on behalf of the people of our state, does, in recognition of the Supreme Court ruling in Brown v. Board of Education, remember the significance of integrated schools where children of all backgrounds can learn with and from each other in an interracial and multicultural community; and
BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That we honor the people who suffered from the injustice of segregation and the people who were dedicated to fairness, equality, and the integration of all educational facilities; and know that many years ago my wife and I decided to get married. We’ve decided a few years ago that on our anniversary that we would go some place warm and that we would spend our anniversary some place warm. You might see where I’m going here. I also was reminded, fairly recently, that when I announced to my wife, ‘I’d really like to run for the Senate.’ She told me, ‘You know, I didn’t marry you so that you could spend our anniversary in Olympia.’ Now, I tried, I talked to Senator Esser and I said, ‘Senator Esser, is it possible for us to adjourn early today?’ and he suggested that I send her his love. I think you may see where I’m also going, because this is my anniversary, this is my thirty-second anniversary. I can tell you today I would not be with this body if it were not for my wife. She has truly been an inspiration to me and no matter how high I get I will always look up to my wife. I will also tell you that I, although I would, I really do love being here with you. I would much prefer to be some place else today and if I can not be with her today, I at least want to be able to say on the floor of the "NEW SECTION. Sec. 1 This chapter may be cited as the "self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement regulation act."
BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2 The purposes of this chapter are to:
(1) Provide for the authorization and registration of self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangements;
(2) Regulate self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangements in order to ensure the financial integrity of the arrangements;
(3) Provide reporting requirements for self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangements; and
(4) Provide for sanctions against self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangements organized, operated, providing benefits, or maintained in this state that do not comply with this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3 The definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter unless the context clearly requires otherwise.
"Bona fide association" means an association of employers that has been in existence for a period of not less than ten years prior to sponsoring a self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement during which time the association has engaged in substantial activities relating to the common interests of member employers, and that continues to engage in substantial activities in addition to sponsoring an arrangement. However, an association that was formed and began sponsoring an arrangement prior to October 1, 1995, is not subject to the requirement that the association be in existence for ten years prior to sponsoring an arrangement.

"Employer" means any person, firm, corporation, partnership, business trust, legal representative, or other business entity which engages in any business, industry, profession, or activity in this state and employs one or more other persons or who contracts with one or more persons, the essence of which is the personal labor of that person or persons.

"Health care service" means that service offered or provided by health care facilities and health care providers relating to the prevention, cure, or treatment of illness, injury, or disease.

"Incurred claims" means the value of all amounts paid or payable under a multiple employer welfare arrangement determined by contract to be a liability with an incurred claims date during the valuation period. It includes all payments during the valuation period plus a reasonable estimate of unpaid claims liabilities.

"Multiple employer welfare arrangement" means a multiple employer welfare arrangement as defined by 29 U.S.C. Sec. 1002, but does not include an arrangement, plan, program, or interlocal agreement of or between any political subdivisions of this state, any federal agencies, or any contractors or subcontractors with federal agencies at a federal government facility within this state.

"Qualified actuary" means an individual who:
(a) Is a member in good standing of the American academy of actuaries; and
(b) Is qualified to sign statements of actuarial opinion for health annual statements in accordance with the American academy of actuaries qualification standards for actuaries signing the statements.

"Self-funded multiple employer arrangement" or "arrangement" means a multiple employer welfare arrangement that does not provide for payment of benefits under the arrangement solely through a policy or policies of insurance issued by one or more insurance companies licensed under this title.

"Surplus" means the excess of the assets of a self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement over the liabilities of the arrangement. The assets and liabilities should be determined in accordance with the accounting practices and procedures manuals as adopted by the national association of insurance commissioners, unless otherwise provided by law.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4 (1) Except as provided in subsection (3) of this section, a person may not establish, operate, provide benefits, or maintain a self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement in this state unless the arrangement first obtains a certificate of authority from the commissioner.

(2) An arrangement is considered to be established, operated, providing benefits, or maintained in this state if (a) one or more of the employer members participating in the arrangement is either domiciled in or maintains a place of business in this state, or (b) the activities of the arrangement or employer members fall under the scope of RCW 48.01.020.

(3) An arrangement established, operated, providing benefits, or maintained in this state prior to December 31, 2003, has until April 1, 2005, to file a substantially complete application for a certificate of authority. An arrangement that files a substantially complete application for a certificate of authority by that date is allowed to continue to operate without a certificate of authority until the commissioner approves or denies the arrangement’s application for a certificate of authority.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5 The commissioner may not issue a certificate of authority to a self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement unless the arrangement establishes to the reasonable satisfaction of the commissioner that the following requirements have been satisfied by the arrangement:

(1) The employers participating in the arrangement are members of a bona fide association;
(2) The employers participating in the arrangement exercise control over the arrangement, as follows:
(a) Subject to (b) of this subsection, control exists if the board of directors of the bona fide association or the employers participating in the arrangement have the right to elect at least seventy-five percent of the individuals designated in the arrangement’s organizational documents as having control over the operations of the arrangement and the individuals designated in the arrangement’s organizational documents in fact exercise control over the operation of the arrangement; and
(b) The use of a third-party administrator to process claims and to assist in the administration of the arrangement is not evidence of the lack of exercise of control over the operation of the arrangement;
(3) In this state, the arrangement provides only health care services;
(4) In this state, the arrangement provides or arranges benefits for health care services in compliance with those provisions of this title that mandate particular benefits or offerings and with provisions that require access to particular types or categories of health care providers and facilities;
(5) The arrangement provides health care services to not less than twenty employers and not less than seventy-five employees;
(6) The arrangement may not solicit participation in the arrangement from the general public. However, the arrangement may employ licensed insurance agents who receive a commission, unlicensed individuals who do not receive a commission, and may contract with a licensed insurance producer who may be paid a commission or other remuneration, for the purpose of enrolling and renewing the enrollments of employers in the arrangement;
(7) The arrangement has been in existence and operated actively for a continuous period of not less than ten years as of December 31, 2003, except for an arrangement that has been in existence and operated actively since December 31, 2000, and is sponsored by an association that has been in existence more than twenty-five years; and
(8) The arrangement is not organized or maintained solely as a conduit for the collection of premiums and the forwarding of premiums to an insurance company.

(a) Arrangements must maintain a calendar year for operations and reporting purposes;
(b) Arrangements must satisfy one of the following requirements:

The commissioner may proceed against self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangements that fail to maintain the level of surplus required by this section in any manner that the commissioner is authorized to proceed against a health care service contractor that failed to maintain minimum net worth.

2. Contribution rates must equal or exceed a funding level established by a report prepared by a qualified actuary.

A revocation of a certificate of authority is subject to appeal under chapter 34.05 RCW.

(3) An arrangement that fails to maintain the level of surplus required by section 8 of this act is subject to the sanctions authorized in RCW 48.44.160 through 48.44.166.

NEW SECTION. Sec. XIII. A self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement organized, operated, providing benefits, or maintained in this state without a certificate of authority is in violation of this title.

NEW SECTION. Sec. XIV. Each policy issued by a self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement must contain, in ten-point type on the front page and the declaration page, the following notice:

"NOTICE

This policy is issued by a self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement. A self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement may not be subject to all of the insurance laws and regulations of your state. State insurance insolvency guaranty funds are not available for a self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement."

NEW SECTION. Sec. XV. A self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement is subject to RCW 48.43.300 through 48.43.370, the rehabilitation provisions under chapter 48.51 RCW, and chapter 48.99 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. XVI. (1) The commissioner may make an examination of the operations of any self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement as often as he or she deems necessary in order to carry out the purposes of this chapter.

(2) Every self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement shall submit its books and records relating to its operation for financial condition and market conduct examinations and in every way facilitate them. For the purpose of examinations, the commissioner may issue subpoenas, administer oaths, and examine the officers and principals of the multiple employer welfare arrangement.

(3) The commissioner may elect to accept and rely on audit reports made by an independent certified public accountant for the self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement in the course of that part of the commissioner's examination covering the same general subject matter as the audit. The commissioner may incorporate the audit report in his or her report of the examination.

(4)(a) The commissioner may also examine any affiliate of the self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement. An examination of an affiliate is limited to the activities or operations of the affiliate that may impact the financial position of the arrangement.

(b) For the purposes of this section, "affiliate" has the same meaning as defined in RCW 48.31C.010.

(5) Whenever an examination is made, all of the provisions of chapter 48.03 RCW not inconsistent with this chapter shall be applicable. In lieu of making an examination himself or herself, the commissioner may, in the case of a foreign self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement, accept an examination report of the applicant by the regulatory official in its state of domicile. In the case of a domestic self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement, the commissioner may accept an examination report of the applicant by the regulatory official of a state that has already licensed the arrangement.

NEW SECTION. Sec. XVII. This chapter does not apply to:

(1) Single employer entities;

(2) Taft-Hartley plans; or

(3) Self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangements that do not provide coverage for health care services.
NEW SECTION. Sec. XVIII. Participant contributions used to determine the taxable amounts in this state under RCW 48.14.0201 shall be determined in the same manner as premiums taxable in this state are determined under RCW 48.14.090.

NEW SECTION. Sec. XIX. A new section is added to chapter 48.43 RCW to be codified between RCW 48.43.300 and 48.43.370 to read as follows:

A self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement, as defined in section 3 of this act, is subject to the same RBC reporting requirements as a domestic carrier under RCW 48.43.300 through 48.43.370.

NEW SECTION. Sec. XX. A new section is added to chapter 48.31 RCW to read as follows:

A self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement, as defined in section 3 of this act, is an insurer under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. XXI. A new section is added to chapter 48.99 RCW to read as follows:

A self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement, as defined in section 3 of this act, is an insurer under this chapter.

Sec. XXII. RCW 48.02.190 and 2003 1st sp.s. c 25 s 923 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) As used in this section:

(a) "Organization" means every insurer, as defined in RCW 48.01.050, having a certificate of authority to do business in this state and every health care service contractor or multiple employer welfare arrangement registered to do business in this state. "Class one" organizations shall consist of all insurers as defined in RCW 48.01.050. "Class two" organizations shall consist of all organizations registered under provisions of chapter 48.44 and "Class three" organizations shall consist of self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangements as defined in section 3 of this act.

(b)(ii) "Receipts" means ([ii]) (A) net direct premiums consisting of direct gross premiums, as defined in RCW 48.18.170, paid for insurance written or renewed upon risks or property resident, situated, or to be performed in this state, less experience rating credits, dividends, paid or credited to policyholders on direct business, and premiums received from policies or contracts issued in connection with qualified plans as defined in RCW 48.14.021, and (ii) (B) prepayments to health care service contractors as set forth in RCW 48.44.010(3) or participant contributions to self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangements as defined in section 3 of this act less experience rating credits, dividends, prepayments returned to subscribers, and payments for contracts not taken.

(ii) Participant contributions, under chapter 48. - RCW (sections 1 through 18 of this act), used to determine the receipts in this state under this section shall be determined in the same manner as premiums taxable in this state are determined under RCW 48.14.090.

(2) The annual cost of operating the office of insurance commissioner shall be determined by legislative appropriation. A pro rata share of the cost shall be charged to all organizations. Each class of organization shall contribute sufficient in fees to the insurance commissioner’s regulatory account to pay the reasonable costs, including overhead, of regulating that class of organization.

(3) Fees charged shall be calculated separately for each class of organization. The fee charged each organization shall be that portion of the cost of operating the insurance commissioner’s office, for that class of organization, for the ensuing fiscal year that is represented by the organization’s portion of the receipts collected or received by all organizations within that class on business in this state during the previous calendar year: PROVIDED, That the fee shall not exceed one-eighth of one percent of receipts: PROVIDED FURTHER, That the minimum fee shall be one thousand dollars.

(4) The commissioner shall annually, on or before June 1, calculate and bill each organization for the amount of its fee. Fees shall be due and payable no later than June 15 of each year: PROVIDED, That if the necessary financial records are not available or if the amount of the legislative appropriation is not determined in time to carry out such calculations and bill such fees within the time specified, the commissioner may use the fee factors for the prior year as the basis for the fees and, if necessary, the commissioner may impose supplemental fees to fully and properly charge the organizations. The penalties for failure to pay fees when due shall be the same as the penalties for failure to pay taxes pursuant to RCW 48.14.060. The fees required by this section are in addition to all other taxes and fees now imposed or that may be subsequently imposed.

(5) All moneys collected shall be deposited in the insurance commissioner’s regulatory account in the state treasury which is hereby created.

(6) Unexpended funds in the insurance commissioner’s regulatory account at the close of a fiscal year shall be carried forward in the insurance commissioner’s regulatory account to the succeeding fiscal year and shall be used to reduce future fees. During the 2003-2005 fiscal biennium, the legislature may transfer from the insurance commissioner’s regulatory account to the state general fund such amounts as reflect excess fund balance in the account.

Sec. XXIII. RCW 48.03.060 and 1995 c 152 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Examinations in this state of any insurer or self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement as defined in section 3 of this act domiciled or having its home offices in this state, other than a title insurer, made by the commissioner or the commissioner’s examiners and employees shall, except as to fees, mileage, and expense incurred as to witnesses, be at the expense of the state.

(2) Every other examination, whatsoever, or any part of the examination of any person domiciled or having its home offices in this state requiring travel and services outside this state, shall be made by the commissioner or by examiners designated by the commissioner and shall be at the expense of the person examined; but a domestic insurer shall not be liable for the compensation of examiners employed by the commissioner for such services outside this state.

(3) When making an examination under this chapter, the commissioner may retain attorneys, appraisers, independent actuaries, independent certified public accountants, or other professionals and specialists as examiners, the cost of which shall be borne by the person who is the subject of the examination, except as provided in subsection (1) of this section.

(4) The person examined and liable therefor shall reimburse the state upon presentation of an itemized statement thereof, for the actual travel expenses of the commissioner’s examiners, their reasonable living expense allowance, and their per diem compensation, including salary and the employer’s cost of employee benefits, at a reasonable rate approved by the commissioner, incurred on account of the examination. Per diem salary and expenses for employees examining insurers domiciled outside the state of Washington shall be established by the commissioner on the basis of the National Association of Insurance Commissioner's recommended salary and expense schedule for zone examiners, or the salary schedule established by the Washington personnel resources board and the expense schedule established by the office of financial management, whichever is higher. A domestic title insurer shall pay the examination expense and costs to the commissioner as itemized and billed by the commissioner.

The commissioner or the commissioner's examiners shall not receive or accept any additional emolument on account of any examination.

(5) Nothing contained in this chapter limits the commissioner's authority to terminate or suspend any examination in order to pursue other legal or regulatory action under the insurance laws of this state. Findings of fact and conclusions made pursuant to any examination are prima facie evidence in any legal or regulatory action.

Sec. XXIV. RCW 48.14.0201 and 1998 c 323 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) As used in this section, "taxpayer" means a health maintenance organization((c)) as defined in RCW 48.46.020, ((o)) a health care service contractor((e)) as defined in RCW 48.44.010, or a self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement as defined in section 3 of this act.

(2) Each taxpayer shall pay a tax on or before the first day of March of each year to the state treasurer through the insurance commissioner's office. The tax shall be equal to the total amount of all premiums and prepayments for health care services received by the taxpayer during the preceding calendar year multiplied by the rate of two percent.

(3) Taxpayers shall prepay their tax obligations under this section. The minimum amount of the prepayments shall be percentages of the taxpayer's tax obligation for the preceding calendar year recomputed using the rate in effect for the current year. For the prepayment of taxes due during the first calendar year, the minimum amount of the prepayments shall be percentages of the taxpayer's tax obligation that would have been due had the tax been in effect during the previous calendar year. The tax prepayments shall be paid to the state treasurer through the commissioner's office by the due dates and in the following amounts:

(a) On or before June 15, forty-five percent;
(b) On or before September 15, twenty-five percent;
(c) On or before December 15, twenty-five percent.

(4) For good cause demonstrated in writing, the commissioner may approve an amount smaller than the preceding calendar year's tax obligation as recomputed for calculating the health maintenance organization's, health care service contractor's, self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement's or certified health plan's prepayment obligations for the current tax year.

(5) Moneys collected under this section shall be deposited in the general fund through March 31, 1996, and in the health services account under RCW 43.72.900 after March 31, 1996.

(6) The taxes imposed in this section do not apply to:

(a) Amounts received by any taxpayer from the United States or any instrumentality thereof as prepayments for health care services provided under Title XVIII (medicare) of the federal social security act.

(b) Amounts received by any health care service contractor, as defined in RCW 48.44.010, as prepayments for health care services included within the definition of practice of dentistry under RCW 18.32.020.

(c) Participant contributions to self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangements that are not taxable in this state.

(7) Beginning January 1, 2000, the state does hereby preempt the field of imposing excise or privilege taxes upon taxpayers and no county, city, town, or other municipal subdivision shall have the right to impose any such taxes upon such taxpayers. This subsection shall be limited to premiums and payments for health benefit plans offered by health care service contractors under chapter 48.44 RCW ((m)), health maintenance organizations under chapter 48.46 RCW, and self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangements as defined in section 3 of this act. The preemption authorized by this subsection shall not impair the ability of a county, city, town, or other municipal subdivision to impose excise or privilege taxes upon the health care services directly delivered by the employees of a health maintenance organization under chapter 48.46 RCW.

(8) The taxes imposed by this section apply to a self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement only in the event that they are not preempted by the employee retirement income security act of 1974, as amended, 29 U.S.C. Sec. 1001 et seq. The arrangements and the commissioner shall initially request an advisory opinion from the United States department of labor or obtain a declaratory ruling from a federal court on the legality of imposing state premium taxes on these arrangements before assessing the taxes. If the taxes are not preempted by federal law, the taxes provided for in this section become effective the first day of March following the issuance of a certificate of authority and shall not be retroactively applied to any period occurring before the arrangement receives a certificate of authority.

NEW SECTION. Sec. XXV. Sections 1 through 18 of this act constitute a new chapter in Title 48 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. XXVI. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Honeyford: “A point of personal privilege. Well, thank you Mr. President. One hundred ninety-five years ago we had a very important person that was born and we just did the Brown vs Board of Education. I have a couple of quotes here I’d like to read, well more than a couple, first one I’d like to read is: ‘I would not be a slave so I’d not be a master.’ This expresses my ideas of democracy and the second one I thought very fitting for the day of Brown vs Board of Education, If I may read? Thank you Mr. President. ‘The assertion that “all men are created equal” is of no practical use in effecting our separation from Great Britain; and it was placed in the Declaration not for that, but for future use.’ And we’ve seen how that’s been used. On this one-hundred ninety-fifth anniversary of Lincoln’s birthday, I think it’s appropriate that we recognize that and I do have a little question for you Mr. President, if you would? This is from Abraham Lincoln, he says ‘How many legs does a dog have if you call the tail a leg?’ I will give you the answer, he says ‘Four, because even though you call it a leg it’s still a tail.’ Anyway, thank you Mr. President.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Franklin: “A point of personal privilege. Thank you Mr. President. I don’t have the answer to that question, however, as you brought up the birth of Abraham Lincoln. There was a time in my youth days in school that every one had to learn the Gettysburg Address. I wonder how many of us who are sitting in this Chamber learned the Gettysburg Address? You all did, well great. I think maybe we should have our school children learn it along with Thanatopsis. So you see, we did not, we had very good basic and across the board at that time, but the Gettysburg Address is one piece of whatever speech or whatever we learn that has always stuck and it stands out in the point and times. Thank you Mr. President.”
PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Kohl-Welles: “A point of personal privilege. I’m really delighted there’s so much interest here about the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of Brown vs Board of Education and you all likely will want to show up then on April 2-3 at Seattle University where there will be a symposium held on the court decision and discussion about promoting integration in the Northwest.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Honeyford: “A point of personal privilege. Thank you Mr. President. Knowing the previous speaker’s mother is a librarian I do have a quote of Lincoln about books, unfortunately she’s not here, but it does. If I may read Mr. President. Thank you. ‘Books serve to show a man that those original thoughts of his are not very new at all!”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Thibaudeau: “A point of personal privilege. Just speaking to the Gettysburg Address. When described in the newspaper following the address, which was very short. They described it as pithy. I’ve always remembered that and perhaps some of you would like to remember it too. Thank you Mr. President.”

MOTION

MOTION

Senator Regala moved that the following striking amendment by Senators Regala and Stevens be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that recent state and federal case law requires clarification of state statutes with regard to competency evaluations and involuntary medication ordered in the context of competency restoration.

The legislature finds that the court in Born v. Thompson, 117 Wn. App. 57 (2003) interpreted the term "nonfatal injuries" in a manner that conflicts with the stated intent of the legislature to: "(1) Clarify that it is the nature of a person's current conduct, current mental condition, history, and likelihood of committing future acts that pose a threat to public safety or himself or herself, rather than simple categorization of offenses, that should determine treatment procedures and level; ... and (3) provide additional opportunities for mental health treatment for persons whose conduct threatens himself or herself or threatens public safety and has led to contact with the criminal justice system" as stated in section 1, chapter 297, Laws of 1998. Consequently, the legislature intends to clarify that it intended "nonfatal injuries" to be interpreted in a manner consistent with the purposes of the competency restoration statutes.

The legislature also finds that the decision in Sell v. United States. ___ U.S. ___ (2003), requires a determination whether a particular criminal offense is "serious" in the context of competency restoration and the state's duty to protect the public. The legislature further finds that, in order to adequately protect the public and in order to provide additional opportunities for mental health treatment for persons whose conduct threatens themselves or threatens public safety and has led to contact with the criminal justice system in the state, the determination of those criminal offenses that are "serious" offenses must be made consistently throughout the state. In order to facilitate this consistency, the legislature intends to determine those offenses that are serious in every case as well as the standards by which other offenses may be determined to be serious. The legislature also intends to clarify that a court may, to the extent permitted by federal law and required by the Sell decision, inquire into the civil commitment status of a defendant and may be told, if known.

Sec. 2. RCW 10.77.010 and 2000 c 94 s 12 are each amended to read as follows:

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Keiser: “A point of personal privilege. Thank you Mr. President. Would you please rule on whether a fan on the floor is acceptable to the President, because it’s certainly not to this individual?”

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: “The answer to Senator Keiser’s inquiry is that normally no, they are not within the decorum of the Senate. We have had Senators who have needed them for a particular medical-type reasons and we have allowed that. So we know that there’s a lot of medical reasons that Senator Hargrove may have where a fan is required. We may want to get a doctor’s prescription.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Keiser: “Thank you Mr. President, to continue perhaps reading Reed’s Rules, Rule number 50: ‘Decorum-It will be seen that the rights and duties of members are somewhat difficult unless we have general comity.’ Perhaps a medical excuse could be provided.”

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: “The President believes that there are certain exceptions, in all seriousness, where we need to make exceptions to very strict rules of decorum to accommodate needs of the members, but when it becomes something that is frivolous or for fun and frivolity that is not within the decorum.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McCaslin: “A point of personal privilege. The reason I have a fan is I sweat like a horse and I got a prescription from a vet. I’d be happy to show it to you anytime.”

Senator Esser moved that the following striking amendment by Senator Esser be adopted: Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 64.34 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The legislature finds, declares, and determines that:
(a) Washington’s cities and counties under the growth management act are required to encourage urban growth in urban growth areas at densities that accommodate twenty-year growth projections;
(b) One of the growth management act’s planning goals is to encourage the availability of affordable housing for all residents of the state and promote a variety of housing types;
(c) Quality condominium construction needs to be encouraged to achieve growth management act mandated urban densities and ensure that residents of the state, particularly in urban growth areas, have a broad range of ownership choices.
(2) It is the intent of the legislature that this act implement changes in the condominium act that encourage insurance carriers to provide liability insurance for condominium builders by: Providing for arbitration of disputes; ensuring that material facts and claims are presented as fully as possible in arbitration proceedings; confining judicial review of arbitration decisions to the arbitration record, except in very limited circumstances; requiring mandatory arbitration of disputes involving construction defects; and eliminating litigation over minor or insignificant problems, while continuing to protect consumers’ legitimate claims regarding condominium construction.
(3) It is the further intent of the legislature that these changes in the condominium act ensure that a broad range of affordable homeownership opportunities continue to be available to the residents of the state and also assist cities’ and counties’ efforts to achieve the density mandates of the growth management act.

Sec. 2. RCW 64.34.100 and 1989 c 43 s 1-113 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The remedies provided by this chapter shall be liberally administered to the end that the aggrieved party is put in as good a position as if the other party had fully performed. However, consequential, special, or punitive damages may not be awarded except as specifically provided in this chapter or by other rule of law.
(2) Any right or obligation declared by this chapter is enforceable by arbitration or judicial proceeding. Arbitration may be provided for in the declaration or by agreement of the parties. However, all claims arising under or relating to RCW 64.34.443, 64.34.445, or 64.34.450 shall be subject to mandatory arbitration as set forth in this section. In any arbitration of claims arising under or relating to RCW 64.34.443, 64.34.445, or 64.34.450, the arbitrator may award reasonable attorneys’ fees to the substantially prevailing party as set forth in this section.
(3) Mandatory arbitration for claims arising under or relating to RCW 64.34.443, 64.34.445, or 64.34.450 shall comply with the following minimum standards:
(a) All disputes shall be heard by one qualified arbitrator, unless the parties agree that three arbitrators shall be used. When three arbitrators are used, one shall be appointed by each of the disputing parties and the first two arbitrators shall appoint the third, who will chair the panel. The parties shall select the identity and number of the arbitrator(s) after service of the request, notice, or petition to arbitrate. If, within thirty days after service of the request, notice, or petition to arbitrate, the parties fail to agree on an arbitrator or the required number of arbitrators fail to be appointed, then an arbitrator shall be appointed under RCW 7.04.050 by the presiding judge of the superior court of the county in which the condominium is located.
(b) In any arbitration, at least one arbitrator must be a lawyer or retired judge. Any additional arbitrator must be either a lawyer or retired judge or a person who has experience with construction and engineering standards and practices, written construction warranties, or construction dispute resolution and a person shall not serve as an arbitrator in any arbitration in which that person has any financial or personal interest.

c. The arbitration hearing must be conducted in a manner that permits full, fair, and expeditious presentation of the case by both parties. The arbitrator shall be bound by the law of Washington state. Parties may be, but are not required to be, represented by attorneys. The arbitrator may permit discovery to ensure a fair hearing but may limit the scope or manner of discovery for good cause to avoid excessive delay and costs to the parties. Unless the parties agree otherwise or the arbitrator grants an extension for good cause, the arbitration hearing shall be completed within six months of the service of the request, notice, or petition to arbitrate or, when applicable the service of the list of defects in accordance with RCW 64.50.030:

(d) Except as otherwise set forth in this section, arbitration shall be conducted under chapter 7.04 RCW, unless the parties elect to use the condominium or construction dispute resolution rules of the American arbitration association, which are permitted to the extent not inconsistent with this section. The expenses of witnesses including expert witnesses shall be paid by the party producing the witnesses. Each party shall pay its own reasonable attorneys’ fees unless the parties agree otherwise or unless the arbitrator awards reasonable attorneys’ fees or any part thereof to any specified party or parties. All other expenses of arbitration shall be borne equally by the parties, unless they agree otherwise or unless the arbitrator awards such expenses or any part thereof to any specified party or parties; and

(e) Service of a request, notice, or petition to arbitrate commences an arbitration for purposes of RCW 64.34.452.

(4) Within twenty days after the arbitration decision and award is served on the parties, any aggrieved party may file with the clerk of the superior court in which the condominium is located a written notice of appeal and request for a trial in the superior court. Such a trial shall thereupon be held and shall include a right to a jury, if demanded. Such a trial shall be commenced on an expedited schedule within ninety days of the filing of the notice of appeal.

(a) Judicial review of an arbitration decision and award shall be confined to the record created by the arbitrator, except that, upon order of the court, the record may be supplemented by additional evidence or claim only if the additional evidence or claim relates to:

(i) Claims for disqualification of an arbitrator, when such claims were unknown to the appealing party at the time of arbitration;

(ii) Claims regarding matters that were improperly excluded from the arbitration record after being offered by the appealing party;

(iii) Claims regarding matters that were outside the jurisdiction of the arbitrator; or

(iv) Material facts regarding claims that have been arbitrated and that: (A) Were unknown at the time of the arbitration hearing by the party proposing their introduction where such a lack of knowledge was not the result of the party’s prior refusal or failure to exercise reasonable diligence in the investigation of its claims or defenses; and (B) could not have been reasonably discovered at the time of arbitration where the failure to discover was not intentional or due to inexcusable neglect.

(b) Except when the court has authorized the record to be supplemented under this subsection (4), the parties may not conduct pretrial discovery. When pretrial discovery is permitted, the court shall, in its order regarding supplementing the record, establish the scope, timing, and extent of permissible discovery and shall require the moving party to disclose before trial the specific additional evidence they intend to offer.

(c) Offers of compromise and the assessment of costs and reasonable attorneys’ fees shall be governed by RCW 7.06.050 and 7.06.060.

(d) The arbitration decision shall be in writing and must set forth findings of fact and conclusions of law that support the decision.

(e) Unless the parties agree otherwise, a complete verbatim record of the arbitration hearing shall be maintained that includes all exhibits offered by the parties. Video recording of the arbitration hearing is permissible.

(f) Within forty-five days after entry of an order to submit the record, or within such other time as the court allows or as the parties agree, the arbitrator shall submit to the court a certified copy of the record for judicial review of the decision, except that the petitioner shall prepare at the petitioner’s expense and submit the verbatim hearing record required under (e) of this subsection. If the parties agree, or upon order of the court, the record shall be shortened or summarized to avoid reproduction and transcription of portions of the record that are duplicative or not relevant to the issues to be reviewed by the court. The petitioner shall pay the arbitrator the cost of preparing the record before the arbitrator submits the record to the court. Failure by the petitioner to timely pay the arbitrator relieves the arbitrator of responsibility to submit the record and is grounds for dismissal of the petition. If the relief sought by the petitioner is granted in whole or in part, the court shall equitably assess the costs of preparing the record among the parties. In assessing costs, the court shall take into account the extent to which each party prevailed and the reasonableness of the parties’ conduct in agreeing or not agreeing to shorten or summarize the record under this subsection (4)(f).

(g) Unless the parties agree otherwise, an appeal of an arbitrator’s decision is an appeal of the full and complete decision.

Sec. 3. RCW 64.34.216 and 1992 c 220 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

(5) For purposes of this section, improvements made or contracted for by an affiliate of a declarant, as defined in RCW 64.34.020(1), are made or contracted for by the declarant.

(a) A declarant [(and any)] or dealer may disclaim liability in [(an)] a separate recorded instrument signed by the purchaser for a specified defect or specified failure to comply with applicable law, if: (i) The specific defect or failure [(as intended-because)] is known to exist at the time of disclosure; (ii) the disclaimer specifically describes the defect or failure; (iii) the declaration includes a statement as to the effect of the defect or failure; and (iv) the disclaimer is clearly a part of the basis of the bargain; and/or

Such periods may not be reduced by either oral or written agreement, or through the use of contractual claims or notice procedures that require the filing or service of any claim or notice prior to the expiration of the period specified in this section. Arbitration under this chapter shall be deemed commenced when a request, notice, or petition is served on a party that is necessary to the resolution of the claim.

(2) Subject to subsection (3) of this section, a cause of action or breach of warranty of quality, regardless of the purchaser’s lack of knowledge of the breach, accrues:

(b) The immunity provided under this section does not inure to the benefit of the qualified inspector for damages caused to the declarant solely by the negligence or willful misconduct of the qualified inspector resulting from the provision of services under the contract with the declarant.

(c) Except for qualified inspectors, this section shall not relieve from, excuse, or lessen in any manner, the responsibility or liability of any person, company, contractor, builder, developer, architect, engineer, designer, or other individual or entity who develops, improves, owns, operates, or manages any condominium for any damages to persons or property caused by construction or design defects. The fact that an inspection by a qualified inspector has taken place may be introduced as evidence in a construction defect action, including any reports or other items generated by the qualified inspector.

On page 19, after line 12 of the amendment, insert the following:

“NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. (1) The legislature finds that it is a public health priority for young people to acquire the knowledge and skills necessary for healthy development. Sexually transmitted diseases, HIV infection, and unintended pregnancy do not contribute to the healthy development of young people in Washington state. Yet, rates of teen pregnancy, sexually transmitted diseases, and HIV infection among young people in this state are unacceptably high.

(2) Over twelve thousand girls nineteen years of age and younger become pregnant in Washington every year. Girls fifteen through nineteen years of age have the highest chlamydia and the second-highest gonorrhea infection rates among all age groups in this state. Levels of chlamydia infection are likely equally high among Washington’s teen boys, who experience a disparity in screening. It is also estimated that one-half of all new HIV infections in this country now occur among people aged twenty-five and younger.

(3) Washington’s adolescent health issues, like teen pregnancy and sexually transmitted diseases, must be addressed with comprehensive prevention efforts. The legislature intends to enhance the healthy development of young people in Washington state by taking opportunities to provide them with information needed to help reduce rates of teen pregnancy, sexually transmitted diseases, and HIV infection.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. A new section is added to chapter 70.24 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Students receiving health instruction paid for in whole or in part with public funds may receive health information and disease prevention instruction.

(2) “Health information and disease prevention instruction” means medically and scientifically accurate curricula and information related to sexual activity that:

(a) Is age appropriate;
(b) Encourages communication with parents and other trusted adults;
(c) Is respectful of the needs, attitudes, and perspectives of individuals and communities;
(d) Encourages young people to develop and apply health-promoting behaviors including disease prevention and detection and accessing accurate health information;
(e) Teaches that abstinence from sexual activity is the only sure way to avoid pregnancy and reduce the risk of sexually transmitted diseases;
(f) Stresses the value of abstinence while addressing the health needs of youth who are sexually active;
(g) Provides information about the health benefits and side effects of contraceptives and barrier methods as a means to prevent pregnancy and reduce the risk of sexually transmitted diseases and HIV/AIDS;
(h) Provides information about the stages, patterns, and responsibilities associated with growth and development;
(i) Promotes the development of interpersonal skills including a sense of dignity and self-worth and the communication, decision-making, assertiveness, and refusal skills necessary to reduce health risks and choose healthy behaviors; and
(j) Helps young people develop and maintain healthy, respectful, and meaningful relationships.

(3) The department of health shall work in consultation with the office of the superintendent of public instruction to develop guidelines for health information and disease prevention instruction under this section.”

SECOND READING

SECOND SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5369, by Senate Committee on Judiciary (originally sponsored by Senators Winsley, Haugen, Hale, Oke and McCaslin)

Regulating automated traffic safety cameras.

The bill was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Winsley moved that the following striking amendment by Senator Winsley be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 46.04 RCW to read as follows:

“Automated traffic safety camera” means a device that uses a vehicle sensor installed to work in conjunction with an intersection traffic control system or a railroad grade crossing control system, and a camera synchronized to automatically record one or more sequenced photographs, microphotographs, or electronic images of the rear of a motor vehicle at the time the vehicle fails to stop when facing a steady red traffic control signal or an activated railroad grade crossing control signal.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 46.04 RCW to read as follows:

“Automated traffic infraction notice” means a notice of a traffic infraction generated by the use of an automated traffic safety camera issued to the registered owner of a vehicle photographed while failing to stop at a red traffic control signal or violating an activated railroad grade crossing control. An automated traffic infraction notice issued by the use of an automated traffic safety camera system must include a copy or facsimile of the photograph showing both the vehicle license plate of the offending vehicle and the traffic control device or the activated railroad grade crossing control. An automated traffic infraction notice will be administered under RCW 46.63.140.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 46.63 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The use of automated traffic safety cameras is subject to the following regulations:

(a) The appropriate local legislative authority must first enact an ordinance allowing for their use to detect one or more of the following: stoplight or railroad crossing violations. At a minimum, the local ordinance must contain the restrictions described in this section and provisions for public notice and signage. Cities and counties using traffic safety cameras before the effective date of this act are subject to the restrictions described in this section, but are not required to enact an authorizing ordinance.

(b) Use of automated traffic safety cameras is restricted to two-arterial intersections and railroad crossings only.

(c) Automated traffic safety cameras may take pictures of the vehicle and vehicle license plate and only while an infraction is occurring. The picture shall not reveal the face of the driver of or passengers in the vehicle.

(d) The ordinance enacted by the local legislative authority may provide that automated traffic safety cameras may take pictures of the vehicle and vehicle license plate while an infraction is occurring.

(e) The law enforcement agency having jurisdiction shall plainly mark the locations where an automated traffic safety camera is used by placing signs on street locations that clearly indicate to a driver that he or she is entering a zone where traffic laws are enforced by an automated traffic safety camera. Signs must be displayed one hundred yards in advance of placement of the locations where an automated traffic safety camera is used and must state the following in letters at least six inches high: “TRAFFIC LIGHT AND RAILROAD CROSSING VIOLATIONS RECORDED BY CAMERA.”

(f) A notice of an infraction must be mailed to the registered owner of the vehicle within fourteen days of the infraction occurring.
(g) A person receiving an automated traffic infraction notice based on evidence detected by an automated traffic safety camera shall respond to the notice by mail.

(h) The registered owner of a vehicle is responsible for an infraction under RCW 46.63.030(2) unless within fifteen days after notification of the infraction the registered owner furnishes the officials or agents of the municipality that issued the notice of infraction with:

   (i) An affidavit made under oath, stating that the vehicle involved was, at the time, stolen or in the care, custody, or control of some person other than the registered owner; or

   (ii) Testimony in open court under oath that the person was not the operator of the vehicle at the time of the alleged infraction.

(2) Infractions detected through the use of automated traffic safety cameras will be processed as are stopping, standing, or parking violations under RCW 46.61.560, but are not part of the registered owner’s driving record under RCW 46.52.101 and 46.52.120.

(3) If an automated traffic infraction notice is sent to the registered owner under RCW 46.63.030(2) and the registered owner is a rental car business, the infraction will be dismissed against the business if it mails to the issuing agency, within fourteen days of receiving the notice, a declaration under penalty of perjury of the name and known mailing address of the individual driving or renting the vehicle when the infraction occurred. If the business is unable to determine who was driving or renting the vehicle at the time the infraction occurred, the business must sign a declaration under penalty of perjury to this effect. The declaration must be mailed to the issuing agency within fourteen days of receiving the notice of traffic infraction. Timely mailing of this declaration to the issuing agency relieves a rental car business of any liability under this chapter for the notice of infraction. A declaration form suitable for this purpose must be included with each automated traffic infraction notice issued, along with instructions for its completion and use.

(4) If a county or city has established an authorized automated traffic safety camera program under this section, the compensation paid to the manufacturer or vendor of the equipment used must be based only upon the value of the equipment and services provided or rendered in support of the system, and may not be based upon a portion of the fine or civil penalty imposed or the revenue generated by the equipment.

   Sec. 4. RCW 3.46.120 and 1995 c 291 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

   (1) All money received by the clerk of a municipal department including penalties, fines, bail forfeitures, fees and costs shall be paid by the clerk to the city treasurer.

   (2) The city treasurer shall remit monthly thirty-two percent of the noninterest money received under this section, other than parking infractions or for infractions detected by an automated traffic safety camera, and certain costs to the state treasurer. (1) A law enforcement officer has the authority to issue a notice of traffic infraction or an automated traffic infraction notice:

(a) When the infraction is committed in the officer’s presence;

(b) When the officer is acting upon the request of a law enforcement officer in whose presence the traffic infraction was committed; (i.e.)

(c) If an officer investigating at the scene of a motor vehicle accident has reasonable cause to believe that the driver of a motor vehicle involved in the accident has committed a traffic infraction; or

(d) When the notice is mailed to the registered owner or the person renting a vehicle as authorized under subsection (2) of this section.

(2) When an automated traffic safety camera is used in compliance with section 3 of this act, a law enforcement officer, whether present or not during the commission of the infraction, or other issuing agency may issue an automated traffic infraction notice by mail to the registered owner of the vehicle, or to the person renting the vehicle. Sec. 8. RCW 46.63.140 and 1980 c 128 s 11 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) In any traffic infraction case or automated traffic infraction case involving a violation of this title or equivalent administrative regulation or local law, ordinance, regulation, or resolution relating to the stopping, standing, or parking of a vehicle or violations detected by automated traffic safety cameras, proof that the particular vehicle described in the notice of traffic infraction or automated traffic infraction notice was stopping, standing, or parking or did commit the violation detected by an automated traffic safety camera in violation of any such provision of this title or an equivalent administrative regulation or local law, ordinance, regulation, or resolution, together with proof that the person named in the notice of traffic infraction or automated traffic infraction notice was at the time of the violation the registered owner of the vehicle, (shall apply) constitutes in evidence a prima facie presumption that the registered owner of the vehicle was the person who parked or placed the vehicle at the point where, and for the time during which, the violation occurred or who operated the vehicle photographed by an automated traffic safety camera.

(2) The foregoing stated presumption (shall apply) applies only when the procedure prescribed in RCW 46.63.030(4) has been followed.

Well, at 9:00 tonight, if your still kind of awake and you want to know what you’re doing there’s a comedy competition here in town tonight at this place called the Palladium. It used to be the Go Club. It’s down on 4th between Franklin and Adams and he’s going to be one of the contestants there. So, 9:00 tonight you want to go down there and cheer him on. Increasing the regulation of the sale of ephedrine, pseudoephedrine, and phenylpropanolamine.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Brandland, Substitute Senate Bill No. 6478 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 6478 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Brandland moved that the following striking amendment by Senator Brandland be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

“NEW SECTION. Sec. I. The legislature finds that quantities of ephedrine, pseudoephedrine, and phenylpropanolamine continue to be sold at the wholesale and retail levels far in excess of legitimate consumer needs. The excess quantities being sold are most likely used in the criminal manufacture of methamphetamine. It is therefore necessary for the legislature to further regulate the sales of these drugs, including sales from out-of-state sources, in order to reduce the threat that methamphetamine presents to the people of the state.

Sec. II. RCW 18.64.044 and 1989 1st ex.s. c 9 s 401 and 1989 c 352 s 1 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) A shopkeeper registered as provided in this section may sell nonprescription drugs, if such drugs are sold in the original package of the manufacturer.

(2) Every shopkeeper not a licensed pharmacist, desiring to secure the benefits and privileges of this section, is hereby required to register as a shopkeeper through the master license system, and he or she shall pay the fee determined by the secretary for registration, and on a date to be determined by the secretary thereafter the fee determined by the secretary for renewal of the registration; and shall at all times keep said registration or the current renewal thereof conspicuously exposed in the (shop) location to which it applies. In event such shopkeeper’s registration is not renewed by the master license expiration date, no renewal or new registration shall be issued except upon payment of the registration renewal fee and the master license delinquency fee under chapter 19.02 RCW. This registration fee shall not authorize the sale of legend drugs or controlled substances.

(3) The registration fees determined by the secretary under subsection (2) of this section shall not exceed the cost of registering the shopkeeper.

(4) Any shopkeeper who shall vend or sell, or offer to sell to the public any such nonprescription drug or preparation without having registered to do so as provided in this section, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and each sale or offer to sell shall constitute a separate offense.

(5) A shopkeeper who is not a licensed pharmacy may purchase ephedrine, pseudoephedrine, or phenylpropanolamine, or their salts, isomers, or salts of isomers, only from a wholesaler licensed by the department under RCW 18.64.046 or from a manufacturer licensed by the department under RCW 18.64.045. The board shall issue a warning to a shopkeeper who violates this subsection, and may suspend or revoke the registration of the shopkeeper for a subsequent violation.

(6) A shopkeeper who has purchased ephedrine, pseudoephedrine, or phenylpropanolamine, or their salts, isomers, or salts of isomers, in a suspicious transaction as defined in RCW 69.43.035, is subject to the following requirements:

(a) The shopkeeper may not sell any quantity of ephedrine, pseudoephedrine, or phenylpropanolamine, or their salts, isomers, or salts of isomers, if the total monthly sales of these products exceed ten percent of the shopkeeper’s total prior monthly sales of nonprescription drugs in March through October. In November through February, the shopkeeper may not sell any quantity of ephedrine, pseudoephedrine, or phenylpropanolamine, or their salts, isomers, or salts of isomers, if the total monthly sales of these products exceed twenty percent of the shopkeeper’s total prior monthly sales of nonprescription drugs. For purposes of this section, “monthly sales” means total dollars paid by buyers. The board may suspend or revoke the registration of a shopkeeper who violates this subsection.

(b) The shopkeeper shall maintain inventory records of the receipt and disposition of nonprescription drugs, utilizing existing inventory controls if an auditor or investigator can determine compliance with (a) of this subsection, and otherwise in the form and manner required by the board. The records must be available for inspection by the board or any law enforcement agency and must be maintained for two years. The board may suspend or revoke the registration of a shopkeeper who violates this subsection. For purposes of this subsection, “disposition” means the return of product to the wholesaler or distributor.

Sec. III. RCW 18.64.046 and 2003 c 53 s 133 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The owner of each place of business which sells legend drugs and nonprescription drugs, or nonprescription drugs at wholesale shall pay a license fee to be determined by the secretary, and thereafter, on or before a date to be determined by the secretary as provided in RCW 43.70.250 and 43.70.280, a like fee to be determined by the secretary, for which the owner shall receive a license of location from the department, which shall entitle such owner to either sell legend drugs and nonprescription drugs or nonprescription drugs at wholesale at the location specified for the period ending on a date to be determined by the secretary, and each such owner shall at the time of payment of such fee file with the department, on a blank therefor provided, a declaration of ownership and location, which declaration of ownership and location so filed as aforesaid shall be deemed presumptive evidence of the ownership of such place of business mentioned therein. It shall be the duty of the owner to notify immediately the department of any change of location and ownership and to keep the license of location or the renewal thereof properly exhibited in such place of business.

(2) Failure to conform with this section is a misdemeanor, and each day that the failure continues is a separate offense.

(3) In event the license fee remains unpaid on the date due, no renewal or new license shall be issued except upon compliance with administrative procedures, administrative requirements, and fees determined as provided in RCW 43.70.250 and 43.70.280.

(4) No wholesaler may sell any quantity of drug products containing ephedrine, pseudoephedrine, phenylpropanolamine, or their salts, isomers, or salts of isomers, if the total monthly sales of these products to persons within the state of Washington exceed five percent of the wholesaler’s total prior monthly sales of nonprescription drugs to persons within the state in March through October. In November through February, no wholesaler may sell any quantity of drug products containing ephedrine, pseudoephedrine, or phenylpropanolamine, or their salts, isomers, or salts of isomers if the total monthly sales of these products to persons within the state of Washington exceed ten percent of the wholesaler’s total prior monthly sales of nonprescription drugs to persons within the state. For purposes of this section, monthly sales means total dollars paid by buyers. The board may suspend or revoke the license of any wholesaler that violates this section.

(5) The board may exempt a wholesaler from the limitations of subsection (4) of this section if it finds that the wholesaler distributes nonprescription drugs only through transactions between divisions, subsidiaries, or related companies when the wholesaler and the retailer are related by common ownership, and that neither the wholesaler nor the retailer has a history of suspicious transactions in precursor drugs as defined in RCW 69.43.035.

(6) The requirements for a license apply to all persons, in Washington and outside of Washington, who sell both legend drugs and nonprescription drugs and to those who sell only nonprescription drugs, at wholesale to pharmacies, practitioners, and shopkeepers in Washington.

(7) No wholesaler may sell any quantity of ephedrine, pseudoephedrine, phenylpropanolamine, or their salts, isomers, or salts of isomers, to any person in Washington other than a pharmacy licensed under this chapter, a shopkeeper or itinerant vendor registered under this chapter, or a practitioner as defined in RCW 18.64.011. A violation of this subsection is punishable as a class C felony according to chapter 9A.20 RCW, and each sale in violation of this subsection constitutes a separate offense.

Sec. IV. RCW 18.64.047 and 2003 c 53 s 134 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Any itinerant vendor or any peddler of any nonprescription drug or preparation for the treatment of disease or injury, shall pay a registration fee determined by the secretary on a date to be determined by the secretary as provided in RCW 43.70.250 and 43.70.280. The department may issue a registration to such vendor on an approved application made to the department.

(2) Any itinerant vendor or peddler who shall vend or sell, or offer to sell to the public any such nonprescription drug or preparation without having registered to do so as provided in this section, is guilty of a misdemeanor and each sale or offer to sell shall constitute a separate offense.

(3) In event the registration fee remains unpaid on the date due, no renewal or new registration shall be issued except upon compliance with administrative procedures, administrative requirements, and fees determined as provided in RCW 43.70.250 and 43.70.280. This registration shall not authorize the sale of legend drugs or controlled substances.

(4) An itinerant vendor may purchase ephedrine, pseudoephedrine, or phenylpropanolamine, or their salts, isomers, or salts of isomers only from a wholesaler licensed by the department under RCW 18.64.046 or from a manufacturer licensed by the department under RCW 18.64.045. The board shall issue a warning to an itinerant vendor who violates this subsection, and may suspend or revoke the registration of the vendor for a subsequent violation.

(5) An itinerant vendor who has purchased ephedrine, pseudoephedrine, or phenylpropanolamine, or their salts, isomers, or salts of isomers, in a suspicious transaction as defined in RCW 69.43.035, is subject to the following requirements:

(a) The itinerant vendor may not sell any quantity of ephedrine, pseudoephedrine, or phenylpropanolamine, or their salts, isomers, or salts of isomers, if the total monthly sales of these products exceed ten percent of the vendor’s total prior monthly sales of nonprescription drugs in March through October. In November through February, the vendor may not sell any quantity of ephedrine, or phenylpropanolamine, or their salts, isomers, or salts of isomers, if the total monthly sales of these products exceed twenty percent of the vendor’s total prior monthly sales of nonprescription drugs.

(b) The itinerant vendor shall maintain inventory records of the receipt and disposition of nonprescription drugs, utilizing existing inventory controls if an auditor or investigator can determine compliance with (a) of this subsection, and otherwise in the form and manner required by the board. The records must be available for inspection by the board or any law enforcement agency and must be maintained for two years. The board may suspend or revoke the registration of an itinerant vendor who violates this subsection. For purposes of this subsection, “disposition” means the return of product to the wholesaler or distributor.

Sec. V. RCW 69.43.110 and 2001 c 96 s 9 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) It is unlawful for a pharmacy licensed by, or shopkeeper or itinerant vendor registered with, the department of health under chapter 18.64 RCW, or an employee thereof, or a practitioner as defined in RCW 18.64.011, knowingly to sell, transfer, or to otherwise furnish, in a single transaction:

(a) More than three packages of one or more products that he or she knows to contain ephedrine, pseudoephedrine, or phenylpropanolamine, their salts, isomers, or salts of isomers; or
(b) A single package of any product that he or she knows to contain more than three grams of ephedrine, pseudoephedrine, or phenylpropanolamine, their salts, isomers, or salts of isomers, or a combination of any of these substances.

(3) It is unlawful for any person to sell or distribute any of the substances specified in subsection (1) of this section unless the person is licensed by or registered with the department of health under chapter 18.64 RCW, or is a practitioner as defined in RCW 18.64.011.

(4) A violation of this section is a gross misdemeanor.

Sec. VI. RCW 69.43.035 and 2001 c 96 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Any manufacturer or wholesaler who sells, transfers, or otherwise furnishes any substance specified in RCW 69.43.010(1) to any person in a suspicious transaction shall report the transaction in writing to the state board of pharmacy.

(2) Any person specified in subsection (1) of this section who does not submit a report as required by subsection (1) of this section is guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

(3) For the purposes of this section, "suspicious transaction" means a sale or transfer to which any of the following applies:

(a) The circumstances of the sale or transfer would lead a reasonable person to believe that the substance is likely to be used for the purpose of unlawfully manufacturing a controlled substance under chapter 69.50 RCW, based on such factors as the amount involved, the method of payment, the method of delivery, and any past dealings with any participant in the transaction.

(b) The transaction involves payment for any substance specified in RCW 69.43.010(1) in cash or money orders in a total amount of more than two hundred dollars.

(4) The board of pharmacy shall transmit to the department of revenue a copy of each report of a suspicious transaction that it receives under this section.

(2) Pediatric liquid products primarily intended for administration to children under two years of age for which the recommended dosage does not exceed two milliliters and the total package content does not exceed one fluid ounce; ((3))

(3) Products that the state board of pharmacy, upon application of a manufacturer, exempts by rule from RCW 69.43.110 and 69.43.120 because the product has been formulated in such a way as to effectively prevent the conversion of the active ingredient into methamphetamine, or its salts or precursors; or

(4) Products, as packaged, that the board of pharmacy, upon application of a manufacturer, exempts from RCW 69.43.110(1)(b) and 69.43.120 because:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 82.02 RCW to read as follows:

For the purposes of sections 1 and 2 of this act, "residential construction" means construction of single-family dwellings, duplexes, apartments, condominiums, and other residential structures.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. If any section of this act is vetoed by the governor, the remainder of this act is null and void."

Senators Mulliken, Johnson, Sheahan and Pflug spoke in favor of adoption of the striking amendment.

Senator Kline spoke against the adoption of the striking amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Kline: “Will Senator Mulliken yield to a question? Senator Mulliken, under the striking amendment as under the underlying bill the impact fees which under current law are paid by the builder at the time of the permit and then become part of the sale price to the eventual buyer are subject to a regular mortgage? I take it you’re shaking your head yes they are. If they’re made a separate fee payable as in the striker at the time of the occupancy or the occupancy permit they would not be finance able as a mortgage would they not? They would not be financeable as a mortgage, is that correct?”

Senator Mulliken: “Not necessarily. Your point is well taken. We’re trying to save money, for the consumer and the builder and yet allow the local governments to still have the impact fees to accommodate the growth that will happen. But the point is, is there isn’t an impact until people move in."

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the striking amendment by Senators Mulliken, Rasmussen and Hargrove to Substitute Senate Bill No. 6413.

The motion by Senator Mulliken carried and the striking amendment was adopted by voice vote.
There being no objection, the following title amendment was adopted.
On page 1, line 1 of the title, after “construction,” strike the remainder of the title and insert "adding new sections to chapter 82.02 RCW; adding a new section to chapter 43.21C RCW; and creating a new section."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Mulliken, the rules were suspended. Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6413 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.
Senators Mulliken, Zarelli, Haugen and Esser spoke in favor of passage of the bill.
Senators Kline and Regala spoke against passage of the bill.
The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6413.

MOTION

Senator Benton moved that the following striking amendment by Senators Benton, Berkey and Prentice be adopted:
Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION, Sec. 1. (1) This chapter may be known and cited as the “third party utility billing act.” The purpose of this chapter is to prevent landlords, either themselves or through a third party billing agent, from billing tenants for master metered or unmetered utility services without proper notice and disclosure of billing practices to tenants, to protect tenants from deceptive or fraudulent billing practices, and to establish uniform statewide standards for third party utility billing that do not permit the adoption of inconsistent or more restrictive standards by any city, code city, or county.
(2) This chapter does not prevent a landlord from including a tenant’s cost of master metered or unmetered utility services within the rent set forth in a rental agreement, and the practice of including that cost within a tenant’s rent is not a billing practice or methodology affected by this chapter.
(3) This chapter does not affect the practices used by public utilities to bill and collect residential multiunit building owners or landlords for master metered or unmetered utility services.
NEW SECTION, Sec. 2. The definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter unless the context clearly requires otherwise.
(1) “Billing entity” means the landlord or third party billing agent responsible for billing multiunit building tenants for master metered or unmetered utility services."
(2) "Disclosure" means providing tenants with complete and accurate written information in a clear, concise, and understandable manner in all notices required under this chapter and on each bill presented from the billing entity to tenants.
(3) "Landlord" has the meaning provided in RCW 59.18.030 and also has the meaning provided in RCW 59.20.030 with regard to mobile home parks.
(4) "Master metered utility service" means a utility service supplied to more than one unit in a multiunit building and measured through a single inclusive metering system.
(5) "Methodology" means any method, technique, or criterion used to apportion to tenants charges billed to the landlord by the utility for master metered or unmetered utility services, including but not limited to, ratio utility billing systems, submetering systems, and hot water metering systems.
(6) "Multiunit building" means a residential building, group of buildings, or mobile home park, with three or more dwelling units, as defined in RCW 59.18.030, or mobile home lots, as defined in RCW 59.20.030, with a master metered utility service or unmetered utility service that is provided to the building or group of buildings as a whole.
(7) "Ratio utility billing system" means any method by which the cost of master metered or unmetered utility services provided to tenants and common areas of a multiunit building are apportioned to tenants through the use of a formula that estimates the utility usage of each rental unit in the multiunit building based on the number of occupants in a unit, number of bedrooms in a unit, square footage of a unit, or any similar criterion.
(8) "Rental agreement" has the meaning provided in RCW 59.18.030.
(9) "Tenant" has the meaning provided in RCW 59.18.030 and also means a tenant of a mobile home park as defined in RCW 59.20.030.
(10) "Billing practices" means the practices of a billing entity that apportions and bills multiunit building tenants for master metered or unmetered utility services provided to the multiunit building as a whole by an apportioning methodology and also means any related practices including but not limited to, collecting, using, or disclosing tenants' personally identifiable information, other than name and address; attempting to collect unpaid amounts from tenants; verifying tenants' credit; and reporting unpaid balances to credit reporting agencies.
(11) "Third party billing agent" means any entity retained or authorized by a landlord as a billing entity.
(12) "Unmetered" or "unmetered utility services" means utilities provided to more than one unit of a multiunit building, in which the bill from the utility is based on a method other than a meter and includes, but is not limited to, sewer and solid waste services.
(13) "Utilities" or "utility services" means water, sewer, electric, and solid waste services.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A landlord of a multiunit building shall not bill tenants for utility services separately from rent except as permitted in this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. (1) A landlord may or may authorize a third party billing agent to bill tenants of a multiunit building for master metered or unmetered utility services provided to the tenants, only if the following requirements are met:
(a) Billing practices may be adopted only upon advance written notice to a tenant as part of a new or renewed rental agreement. Tenants must receive written notice of the billing practices at least thirty days before expiration of their rental agreements, or, in the case of month-to-month tenancies, at least thirty days before the billing practices may become effective. However, if billing practices are already in place on the effective date of this act, written notice must be given within thirty days of the effective date of this act.
(b) The notice required under (a) of this subsection shall include a detailed written disclosure of the methodology used by the billing entity to allocate the charges to each tenant, including the methodology used to allocate utility services for common areas of the multiunit building, along with all other terms and conditions of the billing arrangement. If submetering is used, the notice shall also include descriptions of the location of the submeter and any access requirements to tenant dwelling units or mobile home lots for submeter installation, reading, repair, maintenance, or inspections, including removal of the submeter for testing. Access requirements shall be consistent with the provisions of RCW 59.18.150 or 59.20.130 for mobile home parks. An additional written notice must also be given at least thirty days prior to the due date of the next rental payment in order to implement a change in billing agents, apportionment methodology, fees, or other terms and conditions of the billing arrangement.
(c) The total of all charges for any utility service included in the bills sent to all units may not cumulatively exceed the amount of the bill sent by the utility to the landlord for the multiunit building or the covered dwelling units or mobile home lots in the multiunit building as a whole, less any late charges, interest, or other penalties owed by the landlord, with the exception of the following, which may be included in each bill covering an individual dwelling unit or mobile home lot:
(i) A service charge;
(ii) Late payment charges; and
(iii) Insufficient funds check charges for dishonored checks.
Service charges, late payment charges, and insufficient funds check charges shall be reasonable, and shall be a flat fee, or schedule of fees disclosed in the billing practices notices. No late payment charges may accrue until at least twenty-one days after the date the bill was mailed to the tenant or until twenty-one days after the bill was delivered to the tenant if the bill was not mailed.
(d) Any third party billing agent must be properly registered and licensed to do business in this state and must be in compliance with all applicable state laws and rules, and all applicable state license identification numbers, if any, must be disclosed upon request.
(e) Each billing statement sent to a tenant by a billing entity must disclose all required information in a clear and conspicuous manner and at minimum must:
(i) Include the name, business address, and telephone number of the billing entity;
(ii) Identify and show the basis for each separate charge, including service charges and late charges, if any, as a line item, and show the total amount of the bill;
(iii) If the building units are submetered, include the current and previous meter readings, the current read date, and the amount consumed, or estimated to have been consumed if the utility has provided the landlord with an estimated bill;
(iv) Specify the due date, the date upon which the bill becomes overdue, the amount of any late charges or penalties that may apply, and the date upon which the late charges or penalties may be imposed;
(v) Identify any past due dollar amounts;
(vi) Identify a mailing address and telephone number for billing inquiries and disputes, identify the entity responsible for resolving billing inquiries and disputes and its business hours and days of availability, and describe the process used to resolve disputes related to bills as set forth in this chapter; and
(vii) Include a statement to the effect that “this bill is from (landlord name) and not from (utility company name).”

(g) If a utility company has billed the landlord using an estimate of utility service consumed, the billing agent may estimate charges to be billed to tenants until billing based on actual consumption resumes.

Submetering is permitted as a way of allocating master metered utility services to tenants.

(2) This section does not prevent a landlord from addressing billing of master metered or other unmetered utility services in a written addendum to a lease. A lease addendum may be used to give the notice required under subsection (1)(a) of this section, so long as the lease addendum is provided to the tenant with the notice required under that subsection, and so long as all other requirements of this chapter are satisfied.

(3) No dispute resolution provision may require a tenant to pursue a remedy in another state.

(4) The state of Washington fully occupies and preempts the entire field of residential third party utility billings. Cities, towns, and counties or other municipalities may enact only those laws and ordinances relating to third party utility billings that are consistent with this chapter. Local laws and ordinances that are inconsistent with, more restrictive than, or exceed the requirements of state law may not be enacted and are preempted and repealed, regardless of the nature of the code, charter, or home rule status of the city, town, county, or municipality.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. When a billing entity employs a methodology for third party utility billing based on submetering or hot water metering, the individual meters must be accurate and regularly maintained.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. Sections 1 through 5 of this act constitute a new chapter in Title 59 RCW."

Sec. 3. RCW 13.40.080 and 2002 c 237 s 8 and 2002 c 175 s 21 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) A diversion agreement shall be a contract between a juvenile accused of an offense and a diversion unit whereby the juvenile agrees to fulfill certain conditions in lieu of prosecution. Such agreements may be entered into only after the prosecutor, or probation counselor pursuant to this chapter, has determined that probable cause exists to believe that a crime has been committed and that the juvenile committed it. Such agreements shall be entered into as expeditiously as possible.

(2) A diversion agreement shall contain a provision for restitution, limited to the amount of easily ascertainable loss incurred by any victim. In addition, a diversion agreement shall be limited to one or more of the following:

(a) Community restitution not to exceed one hundred fifty hours, not to be performed during school hours if the juvenile is attending school;

(b) restitution limited to the amount of actual loss incurred by any victim;

(c) Attendance at up to ten hours of counseling and/or up to twenty hours of educational or informational sessions at a community agency. The educational or informational sessions may include sessions relating to respect for self, others, and authority; victim awareness; accountability; self-worth; responsibility; work ethics; good citizenship; literacy; and life skills. For purposes of this section, "community agency" may also mean a community-based nonprofit organization, if approved by the diversion unit. The state shall not be liable for costs resulting from the diversion unit exercising the option to permit diversion agreements to mandate attendance at up to ten hours of counseling and/or up to twenty hours of educational or informational sessions;

(d) A fine, not to exceed one hundred dollars;

(e) Upon request of any victim or witness, requirements to refrain from any contact with victims or witnesses of offenses committed by the juvenile.

(3) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (2) of this section, youth courts are not limited to the conditions imposed by subsection (2) of this section in imposing sanctions on juveniles pursuant to RCW 13.40.630.

(4) In assessing periods of community restitution to be performed and restitution to be paid by a juvenile who has entered into a diversion agreement, the court officer to whom this task is assigned shall consult with the juvenile's custodial parent or parents or guardian and shall advise the victims (who have contacted the diversion unit) of the juvenile offender of the diversion process and offer victim impact letter forms and restitution claim forms and, to the extent possible, shall involve members of the community. Such members of the community shall meet with the juvenile and advise the court officer as to the terms of the diversion agreement and shall supervise the juvenile in carrying out its terms.

(5)(a) A diversion agreement may not exceed a period of six months and may include a period extending beyond the eighteenth birthday of the divertee.

(b) If additional time is necessary for the juvenile to complete restitution to a victim, the time period limitations of this subsection may be extended by an additional six months.

(c) If the juvenile has not paid the full amount of restitution by the end of the additional six-month period, then the juvenile shall be referred to the juvenile court for entry of an order establishing the amount of restitution still owed to the victim. In this order, the court shall also determine the terms and conditions of the restitution, including a payment plan extending up to ten years if the court determines that the juvenile does not have the means to make full restitution over a shorter period. For the purposes of this subsection (5)(c), the juvenile shall remain under the court's jurisdiction for a maximum term of ten years after the juvenile's eighteenth birthday. Prior to the expiration of the initial ten-year period, the juvenile court may extend the judgment for restitution an additional ten years. The court may [(not require the juvenile)] relieve the juvenile of the requirement to pay full or partial restitution if the juvenile reasonably satisfies the court that he or she does not have the means to make full or partial restitution and could not reasonably acquire the means to pay the restitution over a ten-year period. If the court relieves the juvenile of the requirement to pay full or partial restitution, the court may order an amount of community restitution that the court deems appropriate. The county clerk shall make disbursements to victims named in the order. The restitution to victims named in the order shall be paid prior to any payment for other penalties or monetary assessments. A juvenile under obligation to pay restitution may petition the court for modification of the restitution order.

(6) The juvenile shall retain the right to be referred to the court at any time prior to the signing of the diversion agreement.

(7) Divertees and potential divertees shall be afforded due process in all contacts with a diversion unit regardless of whether the juveniles are accepted for diversion or whether the diversion program is successfully completed. Such due process shall include, but not be limited to, the following:

(a) A written diversion agreement shall be executed stating all conditions in clearly understandable language;

(b) Violation of the terms of the agreement shall be the only grounds for termination;

(c) No divertee may be terminated from a diversion program without being given a court hearing, which hearing shall be preceded by:

(i) Written notice of alleged violations of the conditions of the diversion program; and

(ii) Disclosure of all evidence to be offered against the divertee;

(d) The hearing shall be conducted by the juvenile court and shall include:

(i) Opportunity to be heard in person and to present evidence;

(ii) The right to confront and cross-examine all adverse witnesses;

(iii) A written statement by the court as to the evidence relied on and the reasons for termination, should that be the decision; and

(iv) Demonstration by evidence that the divertee has substantially violated the terms of his or her diversion agreement.

(e) The prosecutor may file an information on the offense for which the divertee was diverted:

(i) In juvenile court if the divertee is under eighteen years of age; or

(ii) In superior court or the appropriate court of limited jurisdiction if the divertee is eighteen years of age or older.
A signed acknowledgment of such advisement shall be obtained from the juvenile, and the document shall be maintained by the diversion unit together with the diversion agreement, and a copy of both documents shall be delivered to the prosecutor if requested by the prosecutor. The supreme court shall promulgate rules setting forth the content of such advisement in simple language.

When a juvenile enters into a diversion agreement, the juvenile court may receive only the following information for dispositional purposes:

(a) The fact that a charge or charges were made;
(b) The fact that a diversion agreement was entered into;
(c) The juvenile’s obligations under such agreement;
(d) Whether the alleged offender performed his or her obligations under such agreement; and
(e) The facts of the alleged offense.

A diversion unit may refuse to enter into a diversion agreement with a juvenile. When a diversion unit refuses to enter into a diversion agreement with a juvenile, it shall immediately refer such juvenile to the court for action, and shall forward to the court the criminal complaint and a detailed statement of its reasons for refusing to enter into a diversion agreement. The diversion unit shall also immediately deliver the case to the prosecuting attorney on action if such juvenile violates the terms of the diversion agreement.

A diversion unit may, in instances where it determines that the act or omission of an act for which a juvenile has been referred to it involved no victim, or where it determines that the juvenile referred to it has no prior criminal history and is alleged to have committed an illegal act involving no threat of or instance of actual physical harm and involving not more than fifty dollars in property loss or damage and that there is no loss outstanding to the person or firm suffering such damage or loss, counsel and release or release such a juvenile without entering into a diversion agreement. A diversion unit’s authority to counsel and release a juvenile under this subsection includes the authority to refer the juvenile to community-based counseling or treatment programs. Any juvenile released under this subsection shall be advised of the authority to refer the juvenile to community-based counseling or treatment programs. Any juvenile released under this subsection shall be advised of the authority to refer the juvenile to community-based counseling or treatment programs. Any juvenile released under this subsection shall be advised of the authority to refer the juvenile to community-based counseling or treatment programs. motion of the state or the respondent, may order an examination to determine whether the respondent is amenable to treatment.

The report of the examination shall include at a minimum the following: The respondent's version of the facts and the official version of the facts, the respondent's offense history, an assessment of problems in addition to alleged deviant behaviors, the respondent's social, educational, and employment situation, and other evaluation measures used. The report shall set forth the sources of the evaluator's information.

The examiner shall assess and report regarding the respondent's amenability to treatment and relative risk to the community. A proposed treatment plan shall be provided and shall include, at a minimum:

(a) Frequency and type of contact between the offender and therapist;

(b) Specific issues to be addressed in the treatment and description of planned treatment modalities;

(c) Monitoring plans, including any requirements regarding living conditions, lifestyle requirements, and monitoring by family members, legal guardians, or others;

(d) Anticipated length of treatment; and

(e) Recommended crime-related prohibitions.

The court on its own motion may order, or on a motion by the state shall order, a second examination regarding the offender's amenability to treatment. The evaluator shall be selected by the party making the motion. The defendant shall pay the cost of any second examination ordered unless the court finds the defendant to be indigent in which case the state shall pay the cost.

After receipt of reports of the examination, the court shall then consider whether the offender and the community will benefit from use of this special sex offender disposition alternative and consider the victim's opinion whether the offender should receive a treatment disposition under this section. If the court determines that this special sex offender disposition alternative is appropriate, then the court shall impose a determinate disposition within the standard range for the offense, or if the court determines that such disposition would cause a manifest injustice, the court may impose a disposition under option D, and the court may suspend the execution of the disposition and place the offender on community supervision for at least two years. As a condition of the suspended disposition, the court may impose the conditions of community supervision and other conditions, including up to thirty days of confinement and requirements that the offender do any one or more of the following:

(b)(i) Devote time to a specific education, employment, or occupation;

(ii) Undergo available outpatient sex offender treatment for up to two years, or inpatient sex offender treatment not to exceed the standard range of confinement for that offense. A community mental health center may not be used for such treatment unless it has an appropriate program designed for sex offender treatment. The respondent shall not change sex offender treatment providers or treatment conditions without first notifying the prosecutor, the probation counselor, and the court, and shall not change providers without court approval after a hearing if the prosecutor or probation counselor object to the change;

(iii) Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the probation counselor prior to any change in the offender's address, educational program, or employment;

(iv) Report to the prosecutor and the probation counselor prior to any change in a sex offender treatment provider. This change shall have prior approval by the court;

(v) Report as directed to the court and a probation counselor;

(vi) Pay all court-ordered legal financial obligations, perform community restitution, or any combination thereof;

(vii) Make restitution to the victim for the cost of any counseling reasonably related to the offense;

(viii) Comply with the conditions of any court-ordered probation bond; or

(ix) The court shall order that the offender ((())) shall not attend the public or approved private elementary, middle, or high school attended by the victim or the victim's siblings. The parents or legal guardians of the offender are responsible for transportation or other costs associated with the offender's change of school that would otherwise be paid by the school district. The court shall send notice of the disposition and restriction on attending the same school as the victim or victim's siblings to the public or approved private school the juvenile will attend, if known, or if unknown, to the approved private schools and the public school district board of directors of the district in which the juvenile resides or intends to reside. This notice must be sent at the earliest possible date but not later than ten calendar days after entry of the disposition.

The sex offender treatment provider shall submit quarterly reports on the respondent's progress in treatment to the court and the parties. The reports shall reference the treatment plan and include at a minimum the following: Dates of attendance, respondent's compliance with requirements, treatment activities, the respondent's relative progress in treatment, and any other material specified by the court at the time of the disposition.

At the time of the disposition, the court may set treatment review hearings as the court considers appropriate. Except as provided in this subsection (3), after July 1, 1991, examinations and treatment ordered pursuant to this subsection shall only be conducted by sex offender treatment providers certified by the department of health pursuant to chapter 18.155 RCW. A sex offender therapist who examines or treats a juvenile sex offender pursuant to this subsection does not have to be certified by the department of health pursuant to chapter 18.155 RCW if the court finds that: (A) The offender has already moved to another state or plans to move to another state for reasons other than circumventing the certification requirements; (B) no certified providers are available for treatment within a reasonable geographical distance of the offender's home; and (C) the evaluation and treatment plan comply with this subsection (3) and the rules adopted by the department of health.

If the offender violates any condition of the disposition or the court finds that the respondent is failing to make satisfactory progress in treatment, the court may revoke the suspension and order execution of the disposition or the court may impose a penalty of up to thirty days' confinement for violating conditions of the disposition. The court may order both execution of the disposition and up to thirty days' confinement for the violation of the conditions of the disposition. The court shall give credit for any confinement time previously served if that confinement was for the offense for which the suspension is being revoked.
For purposes of this section, “victim” means any person who has sustained emotional, psychological, physical, or financial injury to person or property as a direct result of the crime charged. “Victim” may also include a known parent or guardian of a victim who is a minor child unless the parent or guardian is the perpetrator of the offense.

A disposition entered under this subsection (3) is not appealable under RCW 13.40.230.

(4) If the juvenile offender is subject to a standard range disposition of local sanctions or 15 to 36 weeks of confinement and has not committed an A- or B+ offense, the court may impose the disposition alternative under RCW 13.40.165.

(5) If a juvenile is subject to a commitment of 15 to 65 weeks of confinement, the court may impose the disposition alternative under RCW 13.40.--- (section 4, chapter 378, Laws of 2003).

(6) When the offender is subject to a standard range commitment of 15 to 36 weeks and is ineligible for a suspended disposition alternative, a manifest injustice if disposition below the standard range, special sex offender disposition alternative, chemical dependency disposition alternative, or mental health disposition alternative, the court in a county with a pilot program under RCW 13.40.--- (section 5, chapter 378, Laws of 2003) may impose the disposition alternative under RCW 13.40.--- (section 5, chapter 378, Laws of 2003).

(7) RCW 13.40.193 shall govern the disposition of any juvenile adjudicated of possessing a firearm in violation of RCW 9.41.040(2)(a)(iii) or any crime in which a special finding is entered that the juvenile was armed with a firearm.

(8) Whenever a juvenile offender is entitled to credit for time spent in detention prior to a dispositional order, the dispositional order shall specifically state the number of days of credit for time served.

(9) Except as provided under subsection (3), (4), (5), or (6) of this section, or option B of RCW 13.40.0357, or RCW 13.40.127, the court shall not suspend or defer the imposition or the execution of the disposition.

(10) In no case shall the term of confinement imposed by the court at disposition exceed that to which an adult could be subjected for the same offense.

Sections 5, RCW 13.40.165 and 2003 c 378 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The purpose of this disposition alternative is to ensure that successful treatment options to reduce recidivism are available to eligible youth, pursuant to RCW 70.96A.520. The court must consider eligibility for the chemical dependency disposition alternative when a juvenile offender is subject to a standard range disposition of local sanctions or 15 to 36 weeks of confinement and has not committed an A- or B+ offense, other than a first time B+ offense under chapter 69.50 RCW. The court, on its own motion or the motion of the state or the respondent if the evidence shows that the offender may be chemically dependent or substance abusing, may order an examination by a chemical dependency counselor from a chemical dependency treatment facility approved under chapter 70.96A RCW to determine if the youth is chemically dependent or substance abusing. The offender shall pay the cost of any examination ordered under this subsection unless the court finds that the offender is indigent and no third party insurance coverage is available, in which case the state shall pay the cost.

(2) The report of the examination shall include at a minimum the following: The respondent’s version of the facts and the official version of the facts, the respondent’s offense history, an assessment of drug, alcohol problems and previous treatment attempts, the respondent’s social, educational, and employment situation, and other evaluation measures used. The report shall set forth the sources of the examiner’s information.

(3) The examiner shall assess and report regarding the respondent’s relative risk to the community. A proposed treatment plan shall be provided and shall include, at a minimum:

(a) Whether inpatient and/or outpatient treatment is recommended;

(b) Availability of appropriate treatment;

(c) Monitoring plans, including any requirements regarding living conditions, lifestyle requirements, and monitoring by family members, legal guardians, or others;

(d) Anticipated length of treatment; and

(e) Recommended crime-related prohibitions.

(4) The court on its own motion may order, or on a motion by the state or the respondent shall order, a second examination. The evaluator shall be selected by the party making the motion. The requesting party shall pay the cost of any examination ordered under this subsection unless the requesting party is the offender and the court finds that the offender is indigent and no third party insurance coverage is available, in which case the state shall pay the cost.

(5)(a) After receipt of reports of the examination, the court shall then consider whether the offender and the community will benefit from use of this chemical dependency disposition alternative and consider the victim’s opinion whether the offender should receive a treatment disposition under this section.

(b) If the court determines that this chemical dependency disposition alternative is appropriate, then the court shall impose the standard range for the offense, or if the court concludes, and enters reasons for its conclusion, that such disposition would effectuate a manifest injustice, the court shall impose a disposition above the standard range as indicated in option D of RCW 13.40.0357 if the disposition is an increase from the standard range and the confinement of the offender does not exceed a maximum of fifty-two weeks, suspend execution of the disposition, and place the offender on community supervision for up to one year. As a condition of the suspended disposition, the court shall require the offender to undergo available outpatient drug/alcohol treatment and/or inpatient drug/alcohol treatment. For purposes of this section, inpatient treatment may not exceed ninety days. As a condition of the suspended disposition, the court may impose conditions of community supervision and other sanctions, including up to thirty days of confinement, one hundred fifty hours of community restitution, and payment of legal financial obligations and restitution.

(6) The drug/alcohol treatment provider shall submit monthly reports on the respondent’s progress in treatment to the court and the parties. The reports shall reference the treatment plan and include at a minimum the following: Dates of attendance, respondent’s compliance with requirements, treatment activities, the respondent’s relative progress in treatment, and any other material specified by the court at the time of the disposition.

At the time of the disposition, the court may set treatment review hearings as the court considers appropriate.

If the offender violates any condition of the disposition or the court finds that the respondent is failing to make satisfactory progress in treatment, the court may impose sanctions pursuant to RCW 13.40.200 or revoke the suspension and order execution of the disposition. The court shall give credit for any confinement time previously served if that confinement was for the offense for which the suspension is being revoked.
(7) For purposes of this section, "victim" means any person who has sustained emotional, psychological, physical, or financial injury to person or property as a direct result of or consequence of the offense charged. "Victim" may also include a known parent or guardian of a victim who is a minor child or is not a minor child but is incapacitated, incompetent, disabled, or deceased.

(8) Whenever a juvenile offender is entitled to credit for time spent in detention prior to a dispositional order, the dispositional order shall specifically state the number of days of credit for time served.

(9) In no case shall the term of confinement imposed by the court at disposition exceed that to which an adult could be subjected for the same offense.

(10) A disposition under this section is not appealable under RCW 13.40.230.

Sec. 6. RCW 13.40.190 and 1997 c 338 s 29 and 1997 c 121 s 9 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) In its dispositional order, the court shall require the respondent to make restitution to any persons who have suffered loss or damage as a result of the offense committed by the respondent. In addition, restitution may be ordered for loss or damage if the offender pleads guilty to a lesser offense or fewer offenses and agrees with the prosecutor’s recommendation that the offender be required to pay restitution to a victim of an offense or offenses which, pursuant to a plea agreement, are not prosecuted. The payment of restitution shall be in addition to any punishment which is imposed pursuant to the other provisions of this chapter. The court may determine the amount, terms, and conditions of the restitution including a payment plan extending up to ten years if the court determines that the respondent does not have the means to make full restitution over a shorter period. Restitution may include the costs of counseling reasonably related to the offense. If the respondent participated in the crime with another person or other persons, all such participants shall be jointly and severally responsible for the payment of restitution. For the purposes of this section, the respondent shall remain under the court’s jurisdiction for a maximum term of ten years after the respondent’s eighteenth birthday. Prior to the expiration of the ten-year period, the court may extend the term of the judgment for the payment of restitution for an additional ten years.

(2) Regardless of the provisions of subsection (1) of this section, the court shall order restitution in all cases where the victim is entitled to benefits under the crime victims’ compensation act, chapter 7.68 RCW. If the court does not order restitution and the victim of the crime has been determined to be entitled to benefits under the crime victims' compensation act, the department of labor and industries, as administrator of the crime victims’ compensation program, may petition the court within one year of entry of the disposition order for entry of a restitution order. Upon receipt of a petition from the department of labor and industries, the court shall hold a restitution hearing and shall enter a restitution order.

(3) If an order includes restitution as one of the monetary assessments, the county clerk shall make disbursements to victims named in the order. The restitution to victims named in the order shall be paid prior to any payment for other penalties or monetary assessments.

(4) A respondent under obligation to pay restitution may petition the court for modification of the restitution order.

Sec. 7. RCW 13.40.200 and 2002 c 175 s 25 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) When a respondent fails to comply with an order of restitution, community supervision, penalty assessments, or confinement of less than thirty days, the court upon motion of the prosecutor or its own motion, may modify the order after a hearing on the violation.

(2) The hearing shall afford the respondent the same due process of law as would be afforded an adult probationer. The court may issue a summons or a warrant to compel the respondent’s appearance. The state shall have the burden of proving by a preponderance of the evidence the fact of the violation. The respondent shall have the burden of showing that the violation was not a willful refusal to comply with the terms of the order. If a respondent has failed to pay a fine, penalty assessments, or restitution or to perform community restitution hours, as required by the court, it shall be the respondent’s burden to prove by a preponderance of the evidence that he or she did not have the means and could not reasonably have acquired the means to pay the fine, penalty assessments, or restitution or perform community restitution.

(3) If the court finds that a respondent has willfully violated the terms of an order pursuant to subsections (1) and (2) of this section, it may impose a penalty of up to thirty days’ confinement. Penalties for multiple violations occurring prior to the hearing shall not be aggregated to exceed thirty days’ confinement. Regardless of the number of times a respondent is brought to court for violations of the terms of a single disposition order, the combined total number of days spent by the respondent in detention shall never exceed the maximum term to which an adult could be sentenced for the underlying offense.

(4) If a respondent has been ordered to pay a fine or monetary penalty and due to a change of circumstance cannot reasonably comply with the order, the court, upon motion of the respondent, may order that the unpaid fine or monetary penalty be converted to community restitution unless the monetary penalty is the crime victim penalty assessment, which cannot be converted, waived, or otherwise modified, except for schedule of payment. The number of hours of community restitution in lieu of a monetary penalty or fine shall be converted at the rate of the prevailing state minimum wage per hour. The monetary penalties or fines collected shall be deposited in the county general fund. A failure to comply with an order under this subsection shall be deemed a failure to comply with an order of community supervision and may be proceeded against as provided in this section.

(5) When a respondent has willfully violated the terms of a probation bond, the court may modify, revoke, or retain the probation bond as provided in RCW 13.40.054.

Sec. 8. RCW 7.69.030 and 1999 c 323 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) With respect to victims of violent or sex crimes, to receive, at the time of reporting the crime to law enforcement officials, a written statement of the rights of crime victims as provided in this chapter. The written statement shall include the name, address, and telephone number of a county or local crime victim/witness program, if such a crime victim/witness program exists in the county.

(2) To be informed by local law enforcement agencies or the prosecuting attorney of the final disposition of the case in which the victim, survivor, or witness is involved;
(3) To be notified by the party who issued the subpoena that a court proceeding to which they have been subpoenaed will not occur as scheduled, in order to save the person one trip to court;
(4) To receive protection from harm and threats of harm arising out of cooperation with law enforcement and prosecution efforts, and to be provided with information as to the level of protection available;
(5) To be informed of the procedure to be followed to apply for and receive any witness fees to which they are entitled;
(6) To be provided, whenever practical, a secure waiting area during court proceedings that does not require them to be in close proximity to defendants and families or friends of defendants;
(7) To have any stolen or other personal property expeditiously returned by law enforcement agencies or the superior court when no longer needed as evidence. When feasible, all such property, except weapons, currency, contraband, property subject to evidentiary analysis, and property of which ownership is disputed, shall be photographed and returned to the owner within ten days of being taken;
(8) To be provided with appropriate employer intercession services to ensure that employers of victims, survivors of victims, and witnesses of crime will cooperate with the criminal justice process in order to minimize an employee’s loss of pay and other benefits resulting from court appearance;
(9) To access to immediate medical assistance and not to be detained for an unreasonable length of time by a law enforcement agency before having such assistance administered. However, an employee of the law enforcement agency may, if necessary, accompany the person to a medical facility to question the person about the criminal incident if the questioning does not hinder the administration of medical assistance;

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Swecker: “Mr. President, should Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6481 require a sixty percent majority to pass? I have a number of arguments why this should be the case. Is it appropriate to give you those? In the past you’ve ruled that expansion of gambling requires a sixty percent majority to pass. Such an example, in 2001, a sixty percent vote was required both Substitute Senate Bill No. 5507 and Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1571 to remove the statutory restrictions on the number of simulcast races that could be imported to horse race tracks each race day. I have a number of other cites, but in addition to that ruling, this bill expands the locations from which people may gamble; increases the means by which they can gamble that is through electronic means. It removes many of the safe guards that exist now that occur at current gambling locations such as; protections against toxications; protections against habitual gamblers; and other kind of safe guards that exist that would be removed by this legislation. For those reasons, I believe that’s a significant expansion of gambling and should require sixty percent majority to pass and I would be happy to submit the other arguments in writing if that’s appropriate.”

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: “The President believes that there are a number of components to this bill and would need a little time to review it.”

Senators Oke and Haugen spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Benton: “Would the gentle lady from the 10th yield to a question? Thank you Senator Haugen. The way I read this amendment I’m a little concerned about it and maybe it’s just written wrong but in the effect section it says clearly that they can only report a positive alcohol or drug test for transit drivers where the test is pre-employment testing. Well, they’re not driving a bus and carrying citizens and passengers if it’s a pre-employment test. It goes on to say for all other positive drug test the employer can not report the test until after the employment’s been terminated. That’s a little confusing to me, maybe it’s just the way it’s written but the way I read this, correct me if I’m wrong, if a driver is found to have been using drugs through a test and they’re currently a driver they’re not required to report that to the department. It’s only when they’re applying for a job and they’re found abusing drugs that they’re required to report that to the department. Why wouldn’t we report to the department if they were an actual driver I guess is my question? I’m just reading this wrong, did they get the effect statement wrong in this?”

Senator Haugen: “No, you’re not reading it wrong. Testimony in committee was is that most transit agencies have when somebody has a problem they’re allowed to go into treatment and if they have a certain amount of time and if they have proven they have been rehabilitated they can get their job back. That was a concern that was raised in committee. The people felt like even if you have this red flag you’re going to immediately lose your job. Certainly if this person is not successful in treatment they would get their job, but this is just people who are applying for the job and they are turned down because the transit agency isn’t going to hire them and they are turned down. Then, that information is made available so that other people that they go to apply for a job know that they have been turned down because of drug or alcohol. This is what we did last year for the trucking industry. This is exactly, we’re just making it exactly like we did last year for the trucking industry. I do think this solves the problem.”

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5150, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: “In ruling upon the point of order by Senator Swecker that Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6481 is an expansion of gambling which requires a sixty percent vote, the President finds and rules as follows:

Both Article II, Section 24 of the Washington Constitution and Senate precedent require that a sixty percent majority vote is necessary to expand incidences of gambling permitted by Washington law. Section 2 of the bill removes two significant restrictions on wagering on imported simulcast racing. First, the measure removes the restriction limiting such wagering to only fourteen hours per day; and second, the measure removes the limitation restricting such simulcasts to essentially one per day. Effectively, this expands the incidences of such wagering allowed and therefore constitutes an expansion of gambling requiring a sixty percent vote of this body on final passage in order to be enacted.

The President believes that so ruling on these points suffices to determine the votes needed for passage and therefore the President does not reach, and specifically reserves for future consideration as presented in other measures, whether or not issues raised by the remainder of the bill do or do not constitute an expansion of gambling requiring a super-majority vote.”

There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6481.

Senators Hargrove, Swecker, Franklin, Prentice and Haugen spoke against passage of the bill.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Pflug: “A point of inquiry. Does this sixty percent requirement mean that sixty percent of the members must speak on the bill.”

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 6481 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 38; Nays, 10; Absent, 0; Excused, 1.

Voting nay: Senators Brown, Fairley, Fraser, Hargrove, Haugen, McAuliffe, Oke, Prentice, Stevens and Swecker - 10.

Excused: Senator Thibaudeau - 1.

MOTION

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. I. It remains the intent of the legislature that all applicants to the Washington WorkFirst program shall be focused on obtaining paid, unsubsidized employment. The focus of the Washington WorkFirst program continues to be work for all recipients. The key principles of the state temporary assistance for needy families program must be to help move people from welfare to work; to be a short-term transitional experience, not a way of life; and to assist families to receive the child care and health care they need to protect their children as they move from welfare to work. A statewide partnership of state agencies, public education, business, and nongovernmental providers are in place in Washington to provide families with services and opportunities to gain competitive employment. The legislature recognizes that there will always be families while working hard to find work, need assistance over a longer period. It is the intent of the legislature to ensure that these families have available to them continuing assistance and other services and resources that will assist in gaining competitive employment while those who are uncooperative and malingering no longer receive a cash grant.

Sec. II. RCW 74.08A.260 and 2003 c 383 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Each recipient shall be assessed after determination of program eligibility and before referral to job search. Assessments shall be based upon factors that are critical to obtaining employment, including but not limited to education, availability of child care, history of family violence, history of substance abuse, and other factors that affect the ability to obtain employment. Assessments may be performed by the department or by a contracted entity. The assessment shall be based on a uniform, consistent, transferable format that will be accepted by all agencies and organizations serving the recipient. Based on the assessment, an individual responsibility plan shall be prepared that: (a) Sets forth an employment goal and a plan for moving the recipient immediately into employment; (b) contains the obligation of the recipient to become and remain employed; (c) moves the recipient into whatever employment the recipient is capable of handling as quickly as possible; and (d) describes the services available to the recipient to enable the recipient to obtain and keep employment. If the assessment in this subsection indicates the recipient is able to engage in job search, he or she shall participate in job search for thirty days before receiving the cash benefit portion of public assistance. If the recipient has been aggressively participating in a local job search prior to application by making at least three job contacts each day or fifteen job contacts each week and documented by providing copies of completed job applications or verification of job interviews, the thirty-day waiting period or a portion shall be waived.

(2) Recipients who are not engaged in work and work activities, and do not qualify for a good cause exemption under RCW 74.08A.270, shall engage in self-directed service as provided in RCW 74.08A.330.

(3) If a recipient (refuses to engage in work and work activities required by the department, the family’s grant shall be reduced by the recipient’s share, and may, if the department determines it appropriate, be terminated) has refused to engage in work and work activities as required by the department, without good cause, the sanction shall be a reduction of cash benefits by forty percent and mandatory designation of a protective payee. A protective payee is a person or an employee of an agency who manages client cash benefits to provide for basic needs such as housing, utilities, clothing, child care, and food. Before cash benefits are reduced by forty percent and sent to a protective payee, the department shall conduct a case staffing to determine whether the recipient has good cause for nonparticipation provided in RCW 74.08A.270. The recipient and his or her chosen representative shall be allowed to attend this case staffing. The cash benefit portion of the public assistance shall be restored and protective payee discontinued the first of the following month after the recipient resumes full and active participation as required for twelve, full, consecutive weeks.

(4) (The department may waive the penalties required under subsection (3) of this section, subject to a finding that the recipient refused to engage in work for good cause provided in RCW 74.08A.270)) The department shall sanction a recipient who has: (a) Received temporary assistance for needy families for sixty months, as provided under RCW 74.08A.010; and (b) refused to engage in work and work activities as required by the department, without good cause. The sanction for refusing to engage in work without good cause shall be a reduction of cash benefits by forty percent and mandatory designation of a protective payee. A protective payee is a person or an employee of an agency who manages client cash benefits to provide for basic needs such as housing, utilities, clothing, child care, and food. Before cash benefits are reduced by forty percent and sent to a protective payee, the department shall conduct a case staffing to determine whether the recipient has good cause for nonparticipation provided in RCW 74.08A.270. The recipient and his or her chosen representative shall be allowed to attend this case staffing. The cash benefit portion of the public assistance shall be restored and protective payee discontinued the first of the following month after the recipient resumes full and active participation as required for twelve, full, consecutive weeks.

(5) In implementing this section, the department shall assign the highest priority to the most employable clients, including adults in two-parent families and parents in single-parent families that include older preschool or school-age children to be engaged in work activities.

(6) In consultation with the recipient, the department or contractor shall place the recipient into a work activity that is available in the local area where the recipient resides."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Franklin: “Would Senator Hargrove yield to a question? Just to follow up on the Senator from the 43rd District in regards to the reduction of 40 percent in the TANF Grant without aggressively searching for work. By what measures, or what standards will be used? Because I do in today’s market and if they do not have the skills they cannot get into work force training. They have to wait, then they become penalized even though they have tried. So would you answer that question?”
Senator Hargrove: “Certainly, I will. First of all, I would like to state that those pieces of the bill are current practice for the Department of Social & Health Services. The only piece that is slightly different is the first piece which was the subject of the other amendment. The 40 percent sanction is current practice. It’s only if they have no contact with the department at all to try work through their problems in their work search. So what the intent here is that they are going to staff, case staff, every single case, try to determine if there are problems that they can help them work through this and if they’re just responding and participating they would not reach this threshold. Again, this is current practice, this is literally just putting in code current practice of the department.”

MOTION

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that the current telephone service for offender calls from department of corrections facilities is based on outdated technology that provides neither the most secure nor the most accountable system available and is provided at a high cost to the offenders’ families. The legislature, in budget provisions, has required the secretary of corrections to investigate other systems as offender telephone service contracts came due for renewal. The legislature now finds that the current statute prevents the secretary of corrections from using systems that provide greater security, more offender accountability, and lower costs. Therefore, the legislature intends to remove this barrier while retaining the intent of the statute to provide safe, accountable, and affordable telephone services.

Sec. 2. RCW 9.73.095 and 1998 c 217 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) RCW 9.73.030 through 9.73.080 and 9.73.260 shall not apply to employees of the department of corrections in the following instances: Intercepting, recording, or divulging any telephone calls from an (inmate) offender or resident of a state correctional facility; or intercepting, recording, or divulging any monitored nontelephonic conversations in (inmate) offender living units, cells, rooms, dormitories, and common spaces where (inmate) offenders may be present. For the purposes of this section, “state correctional facility” means a facility that is under the control and authority of the department of corrections, and used for the incarceration, treatment, or rehabilitation of convicted felons.

(2)(a) All personal calls made by (inmate) offenders shall be (collect calls only) made using a calling system approved by the secretary of corrections which is at least as secure as the system it replaces. In approving one or more calling systems, the secretary of corrections shall consider the safety of the public, the ability to reduce telephone fraud, and the ability of offender families to select a low-cost option.

(b) The department shall notify in writing all (inmate) offenders, residents, and personnel of state correctional facilities of the new calling system at least 30 days prior to implementation.

(c) The contents of any intercepted and recorded conversation shall be divulged only as is necessary to safeguard the sanctity of the attorney-client privilege, the department of corrections shall not intercept, record, or divulge any conversation between an (inmate) offender or resident and an attorney. The department shall develop policies and procedures to implement this section.

Sec. 3. RCW 9.73.095 and 1998 c 217 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(a) RCW 9.73.095 through 9.73.080 and 9.73.260 shall not apply to employees of the department of corrections in the following instances: Intercepting, recording, or divulging any telephone calls from an (inmate) offender or resident of a state correctional facility; or intercepting, recording, or divulging any monitored nontelephonic conversations in (inmate) offender living units, cells, rooms, dormitories, and common spaces where (inmate) offenders may be present.

(b) The department shall adhere to the following procedures and restrictions when intercepting, recording, or divulging any telephone calls from an (inmate) offender or resident of a state correctional facility as provided for by this section. The department shall also adhere to the following procedures and restrictions when intercepting, recording, or divulging any monitored nontelephonic conversations in (inmate) offender living units, cells, rooms, dormitories, and common spaces where (inmate) offenders may be present:

(a) Unless otherwise provided for in this section, after intercepting or recording any conversation, only the superintendent and his or her designee shall have access to that recording.

(b) The contents of any intercepted and recorded conversation shall be divulged only as is necessary to safeguard the orderly operation of the correctional facility, in response to a court order, or in the prosecution or investigation of any crime.

(c) All conversations that are recorded under this section, unless being used in the ongoing investigation or prosecution of a crime, or as is necessary to assure the orderly operation of the correctional facility, shall be destroyed one year after the intercepting and recording.

(4) So as to safeguard the sanctity of the attorney-client privilege, the department of corrections shall not intercept, record, or divulge any conversation between an (inmate) offender or resident and an attorney. The department shall develop policies and procedures to implement this section. The department’s policies and procedures implemented under this section shall also recognize the privileged nature of confessions made by an offender to a member of the clergy or a priest in his or her professional character, in the course of discipline enjoined by the church to which he or she belongs as provided in RCW 5.60.060(3).

(5) The department shall notify in writing all (inmate) offenders, residents, and personnel of state correctional facilities that their nontelephonic conversations may be intercepted, recorded, or divulged in accordance with the provisions of this section.

The legislature now finds that the current telephone service for offender calls from department of corrections facilities is based on outdated technology that provides neither the most secure nor the most accountable system available and is provided at a high cost to the offenders’ families. (b) The department shall notify in writing all (inmate) offenders, residents, and personnel of state correctional facilities of the new calling system at least 30 days prior to implementation.

(c) The contents of any intercepted and recorded conversation shall be divulged only as is necessary to safeguard the sanctity of the attorney-client privilege, the department of corrections shall not intercept, record, or divulge any conversation between an (inmate) offender or resident and an attorney. The department shall develop policies and procedures to implement this section. With that, would your bill effect that?”

Senator Horn: “I’m not sure that I agree with that federal ruling. What this would do is, they’re rebuilding it, just like we did on the Tacoma Narrows Bridge. Modifying unclaimed property laws for gift certificates.

MOTIONS

MOTION

Senator Horn moved that the following striking amendment by Senators Horn and Zarelli be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. It is the intent of the legislature to relieve businesses from the obligation of reporting gift certificates as unclaimed property. In order to protect consumers, the legislature intends to prohibit acts and practices of retailers that deprive consumers of the full value of gift certificates, such as expiration dates, service fees, and dormancy and inactivity charges, on gift certificates. The legislature does not intend that this act be construed to apply to cards or other payment instruments issued for payment of wages or other intangible property. To that end, the legislature intends that this act should be liberally construed to benefit consumers and that any ambiguities should be resolved by applying the uniform unclaimed property act to the intangible property in question.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. The definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(1) "Artistic and cultural organization" has the same meaning as in RCW 82.04.4328.
(2) "Charitable organization" means an organization exempt from tax under section 501(c)(3) of the internal revenue code of 1986 (26 U.S.C. Sec. 501(c)(3)).
(3) "Fund-raising activity" has the same meaning as in RCW 82.04.3651.
(4) "Gift card" means a record as described in subsection (5) of this section in the form of a card, or a stored value card or other physical medium, containing stored value primarily intended to be exchanged for consumer goods and services.
(5) "Gift certificate" means an instrument evidencing a promise by the seller or issuer of the record that consumer goods or services will be provided to the bearer of the record to the value or credit shown in the record and includes gift cards.
(6) "Bearer" means a person with a right to receive consumer goods and services under the terms of a gift certificate, without regard to any fee, expiration date, or dormancy or inactivity charge.
(7) "Issue" means to sell or otherwise provide a gift certificate to any person, and includes reloading or adding value to an existing gift certificate.
(8) "Stored value" has the same meaning as in RCW 19.230.010.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. (1) Except as provided in sections 4 through 8 of this act, it is unlawful for any person or entity to issue, or to enforce against a bearer, a gift certificate that contains:
(a) An expiration date;
(b) Any fee, including a service fee; or
(c) A dormancy or inactivity charge.
(2) If a gift certificate is issued with the sale of tangible personal property or services, the gift certificate is subject to subsection (1) of this section.
(3) If a purchase is made with a gift certificate for an amount that is less than the value of the gift certificate, the issuer must make the remaining value available to the bearer in cash or as a gift certificate at the option of the issuer. If after the purchase the remaining value of the gift certificate is less than five dollars, the gift certificate must be redeemable in cash for its remaining value on demand of the bearer. A gift certificate is valid until redeemed or replaced.
(4) This section does not require, unless otherwise required by law, the issuer of a gift certificate to replace a lost or stolen gift certificate.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. (1) It is lawful to issue, and to enforce against the bearer, a gift certificate containing an expiration date if:
(a) The gift certificate is issued pursuant to an awards or loyalty program or in other instances where no money or other thing of value is given in exchange for the gift certificate.
(b) The gift certificate is donated to a charitable organization without any money or other thing of value being given in exchange for the gift certificate if the gift certificate is used by a charitable organization solely to provide charitable services.
The expiration date must be disclosed clearly and legibly on any gift certificate described in subsection (1) of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. It is lawful to issue, and to enforce against the bearer, a gift card containing a dormancy or inactivity charge if:

1. A statement is printed on the gift card in at least six-point font stating the amount of the charge, how often the charge will occur, and that the charge is triggered by inactivity of the gift card. The statement may appear on the front or back of the gift card, but shall appear in a location where it is visible to any purchaser before the purchase of the gift card;
2. The remaining value of the gift card is five dollars or less each time the charge is assessed;
3. The charge does not exceed one dollar per month;
4. The charge can only be assessed when there has been no activity on the gift card for twenty-four consecutive months, including but not limited to, purchases, the adding of value, or balance inquiries;
5. The bearer may reload or add value to the gift card; and
6. After a dormancy or inactivity charge is assessed, the remaining value of the gift certificate is redeemable in cash on demand.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. It is lawful to issue, and to enforce against the bearer, a gift certificate containing an expiration date if:

1. The gift certificate is donated to a charitable organization and is used for fund-raising activities of a charitable organization, without any money or other thing of value being given in exchange for the gift certificate by the charitable organization;
2. The expiration date is clearly and legibly printed on the front or face of the gift certificate, or printed on the back of the certificate in at least ten-point font; and
3. The expiration date is at least one year from the date the gift certificate is issued by the charitable organization.

1. The gift certificate is redeemable solely for goods or services provided in the state of Washington by artistic and cultural organizations;
2. The expiration date is clearly and legibly printed on the front or face of the gift certificate, or printed on the back of the certificate in at least ten-point font;
3. The expiration date is at least three years from the date the gift certificate is issued by the artistic and cultural organizations; and
4. The unused value of the gift certificate at the time of expiration accrues solely to the benefit of artistic and cultural organizations.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. A requirement under sections 4 through 7 of this act that a statement or expiration date be printed on a gift certificate is satisfied if the statement appears as otherwise required on a sticker permanently affixed to the gift certificate.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. An issuer is not required to honor a gift certificate presumed abandoned under RCW 63.29.110, reported, and delivered to the department of revenue in the dissolution of a business association.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. (1) A gift certificate constitutes value held in trust by the issuer of the gift certificate on behalf of the beneficiary of the gift certificate. The value represented by the gift certificate belongs to the beneficiary, or to the legal representative of the beneficiary to the extent provided by law, and not to the issuer.

2. An issuer of a gift certificate who is in bankruptcy shall continue to honor a gift certificate issued before the date of the bankruptcy filing on the grounds that the value of the gift certificate constitutes trust property of the beneficiary.
3. The terms of a gift certificate may not make its redemption or other use invalid in the event of a bankruptcy.
4. This section does not require, unless otherwise required by law, the issuer of a gift certificate to:
   a. Redeem a gift certificate for cash;
   b. Replace a lost or stolen gift certificate; or
   c. Maintain a separate account for the funds used to purchase the gift certificate;
5. This section does not create an interest in favor of the beneficiary of the gift certificate in any specific property of the issuer.
6. This section does not create a fiduciary or quasi-fiduciary relationship between the beneficiary of the gift certificates and the issuer unless otherwise provided by law.
7. The issuer of a gift certificate has no obligation to pay interest on the value of a gift certificate held in trust under this section, unless otherwise provided by law.

On motion of Senator Doumit, Senator Keiser was excused.

MOTION

Senator Morton moved that the following striking amendment by Senators Morton and Doumit be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. (1) The legislature finds that the federal permit program under the federal clean water act and the state water pollution control laws provide numerous environmental and public health benefits to the citizens of Washington and to the state. Failure to prevent and control pollution discharges, including those associated with storm water runoff, can damage the public health and industries dependent on clean water such as shellfish production.

(2) The legislature finds the nature of storm water presents unique challenges and difficulties in meeting the permitting requirements under the federal clean water act, including compliance with technology and water quality-based standards.

(3) The legislature finds that the federal clean water act requires certain larger construction sites and industrial facilities to obtain storm water permits under the national pollutant discharge elimination system permit program. The legislature also finds that under phase two of this program, smaller construction sites are also required to obtain storm water permits for their discharges.

(4) The legislature finds the department of ecology has been using general permits to permit categories of similar dischargers, including storm water associated with industrial and construction activities. The legislature finds general permits must comply with all applicable requirements of the federal clean water act and the state water pollution control act including technology and water quality-based permitting requirements. The legislature further finds general permits may not always be the best solution for an individual discharger, especially when establishing water quality-based permitting requirements.

(5) The legislature finds that where sources within a specific category or subcategory of dischargers are subject to water quality-based requirements imposed under the federal clean water act, the sources in that specific category or subcategory must be subject to the same water quality-based requirements.

(6) For this reason, the legislature encourages, to the extent allowed under existing state and federal law, an adaptive management approach to permitting storm water discharges.

(7) The legislature further finds that storm water management must satisfy state and federal water quality requirements while also providing for flexibility in meeting such requirement to help ensure cost-effective storm water management.

(8) The legislature declares that general permits can be an effective and efficient permitting mechanism for permitting large numbers of similar dischargers.

(9) The legislature further declares that an inspection and technical assistance program for industrial and construction storm water general permits is needed to ensure an effective permitting program. Such a program should be fully funded to ensure its success.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 90.48 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Effluent limitations shall be included in construction and industrial storm water general permits as required under the federal clean water act and implementing regulations. In accordance with federal clean water act requirements, effluent limitations must be included in construction and industrial storm water general permits if there is a reasonable potential to cause or contribute to an excursion of a state water quality standard.

(2) Subject to the provisions of this section, effluent limitations may be expressed as (a) numeric effluent limitations; (b) narrative effluent limitations; or (c) a combination of numeric and narrative effluent discharge limitations.

(3) The department may only condition storm water general permits for industrial and construction activities issued under the national pollutant discharge elimination system of the federal clean water act to require compliance with numeric effluent discharge limits when such discharges are subject to:

(a) Numeric effluent limitations established in federally adopted, industry-specific effluent guidelines;

(b) State developed, industry-specific performance-based numeric effluent limitations;
permittees must be inspected once within two years; inspections as are necessary to ensure compliance with state and federal water quality requirements, provided that all inspections are being carried out.

The department shall also conduct such additional inspections as may be necessary to ensure compliance with state and federal water quality requirements, provided that all permittees must be inspected once within two years of the start of this program.

Permittees must be prioritized for inspection based on the development of criteria that include, but are not limited to, the following factors:

(a) Historical compliance history, including submittal or nonsubmittal of discharge monitoring reports;
(b) Monitoring results in relation to permit benchmarks; and
(c) Discharge to impaired waters of the state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. If any portion of sections 2 and 3 of this act are found to be in conflict with the federal clean water act, that portion alone is void.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. This act expires January 1, 2015.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. If specific funding for the purposes of this act, referencing this act by bill or chapter number, is not provided by June 30, 2004, in the omnibus appropriations act, this act is null and void."

Senator Roach: “Thank you Senator Kohl-Welles. If you will turn to Substitute Senate Bill No. 6639 in your book you will read in section two, those that are over seas and military and those that are out-of-state are exempted from this requirement. I must say on a personal note, my husband works for the United States Post Office and every so often, at least once or twice a week, in our personal mail at our home, we get something from someone
I don’t know. It’s mock mail and inside the mock mail there’s a card. In that card is an electronic device which helps the U. S. Post Office track it’s mail. This mail comes to us from Redmond and Spokane and Vancouver and all over. My job is to make sure that my husband sees it and goes back and reports to the U. S. Post Office in Seattle that it was received in our home at this date. I can tell you that, if you’re in the state of Washington and you mail something on a Saturday or Monday, it will arrive on time. Guaranteed, not guaranteed, but certainly if you’re mailing on Friday it’s going to get there. So if your in the state of Washington rest assured your fine. If your overseas, if your on vacation in Chile or where ever, you can in fact not be subject to this particular bill because you’re out of state.”

On motion of Senator Esser, further consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 6639 was deferred and the bill held it’s place on the third reading calendar.

(2) Self-insured employers shall be vested with the powers and duties necessary to administer all aspects of industrial injury or occupational disease claims of their injured workers without prior approval or consent of the department subject to the provisions of this title.

Sec. 2. RCW 51.04.030 and 1998 c 230 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The director shall supervise the providing of prompt and efficient care and treatment, including care provided by physician assistants governed by the provisions of chapters 18.57A and 18.71A RCW, acting under a supervising physician, and including chiropractic care, to workers injured during the course of their employment at the least cost consistent with promptness and efficiency, without discrimination or favoritism, and with as great uniformity as the various and diverse surrounding circumstances and locations of industries will permit and to that end shall, from time to time, establish and adopt and supervise the administration of printed forms, rules, (regulations) and practices for the furnishing of such care and treatment((PROVIDED, That)). However, the medical coverage decisions of the department do not constitute a "rule" as used in RCW 34.05.010(16), nor are such decisions subject to the rule-making provisions of chapter 34.05 RCW except that criteria for establishing medical coverage decisions shall be adopted by rule after consultation with the workers' compensation advisory committee established in RCW 51.04.110(AND PROVIDED FURTHER, That). The department or self-insurer, as the case may be, may recommend to an injured worker particular health care services and providers where specialized treatment is indicated or where cost-effective payment levels or rates are obtained by the department((AND PROVIDED FURTHER, That)) or self-insurer. The department may enter into contracts for goods and services including, but not limited to, durable medical equipment so long as statewide access to quality service is maintained for injured workers.

(2) The director shall, in consultation with interested persons, establish and, in his or her discretion, periodically change as may be necessary, and make available a fee schedule of the maximum charges to be made by any physician, surgeon, chiropractor, hospital, druggist, physicians' assistants as defined in chapters 18.57A and 18.71A RCW, acting under a supervising physician or other agency or person rendering services to injured workers. The department shall coordinate with other state purchasers of health care services to establish as much consistency and uniformity in billing and coding practices as possible, taking into account the unique requirements and differences between programs. No service covered under this title, including services provided to injured workers, whether aliens or other injured workers, who are not residing in the United States at the time of receiving the services, shall be charged or paid at a rate or rates exceeding those specified in such fee schedule, and no contract providing for greater fees shall be valid as to the excess. The establishment of such a schedule, exclusive of conversion factors, does not constitute "agency action" as used in RCW 34.05.010(3), nor does such a fee schedule constitute a "rule" as used in RCW 34.05.010(16).

(3) The director or self-insurer, as the case may be, shall make a record of the commencement of every disability and the termination thereof and, when bills are rendered for the care and treatment of injured workers, shall approve and pay those which conform to the adopted rules, (regulations) established fee schedules, and practices of the director and may reject any bill or item thereof incurred in violation of the principles laid down in this section or the rules, regulations, or the established fee schedules and rules and regulations adopted under it.

Sec. 3. RCW 51.04.040 and 1987 c 316 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

Every self-insurer shall monthly report to the department, upon forms approved by the department, all claims filed or closed during the previous month and any additional information or any subsequent fact information material to conduct the audit of the claims of the self-insurers.

Sec. 8. RCW 51.14.120 and 2001 c 152 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The self-insurer shall provide, when authorized under RCW 51.28.070, a copy of the employee's claim file at no cost within fifteen days of receipt of a request by the employee or the employee's representative, and shall provide the physician performing an examination with all relevant medical records from the worker's claim file, but only to the extent required of the department under RCW 51.36.070. If the self-insured employer determines that release of the claim file to an unrepresented worker in whole or in part((a)) may not be in the worker's best interests, the employer must ((submit a request for denial (within twenty days after the request from the worker. In the case of second or subsequent requests, a reasonable charge for copying may be made. The self-insurer shall provide the entire contents of the claim file unless the request is for only a particular portion of the file. (2) The self-insurer shall transmit notice to the department of any protest or appeal by an employee relating to the administration of an industrial injury or occupational disease claim under this chapter within five working days of receipt. The date that the protest or appeal is received by the self-insurer shall be deemed to be the date the protest is received by the department for the purpose of RCW 51.52.050.

(((2) The self-insurer shall submit a medical report with the request for closure of a claim under this chapter.))

Sec. 9. RCW 51.14.130 and 1993 c 122 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

If the self-insurer fails to allow or deny a claim within the specified time period, the claim shall be deemed allowed.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. A new section is added to chapter 51.14 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Self-insured employers shall issue orders encompassing their claims decisions under the same circumstances and parameters and to the same force and effect as orders issued by the department so long as such orders conform to the requirements of RCW 51.52.050. This includes but is not limited to allowance, denial and reopening of claims, payment of monthly compensation, provision of medical care and treatment, specification of said conditions allowed, denied, or segregated under the claim, closure of claims with or without award for permanent disability, and reduction, suspension, or denial of benefits pursuant to RCW 51.32.110. However, a self-insurer's order determining that a worker shall be placed on the pension rolls as a permanent totally disabled worker shall not make any factual findings beyond eligibility for the pension rolls and the effective date of such eligibility.

(2) If a worker or beneficiary requests reconsideration or appeals a self-insurer order, the department may review the order under RCW 51.52.050, or may direct submission of further evidence under RCW 51.52.050 and 51.32.065. A subsequent order issued by the department may be appealed by any aggrieved party.

Sec. 11. RCW 51.16.120 and 1984 c 63 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Whenever a worker has a previous bodily disability from any previous injury or disease, whether known or unknown to the employer, and shall suffer a further disability from injury or occupational disease in employment covered by this title and become totally and permanently disabled from the combined effects thereof or die when death was substantially accelerated by the combined effects thereof, then the experience record of an employer insured with the state fund at the time of said further injury or disease shall be charged and a self-insured employer shall pay directly into the reserve fund only the accident cost which would have resulted solely from said further injury or disease, had there been no preexisting disability, and which accident cost shall be based upon an evaluation of the disability by medical experts. The difference between the charge thus assessed to such employer at the time of said further injury or disease and the total cost of the pension reserve shall be assessed against the second injury fund. The department shall pass upon the application of this section in all state fund cases where benefits are paid for total permanent disability or death and issue an order thereon appealable by the employer. Pending outcome of such appeal the transfer or payment shall be made as required by such order. In cases involving self-insurers, the department shall issue an order appealable by the employer passing on the application of this section upon a written request by the self-insurer. When this section applies, the department shall reimburse the self-insurer from the second injury fund all monthly compensation paid to the worker or beneficiary beginning with the first date of permanent total disability or death of the worker.

(2) The department shall, in cases of claims of workers sustaining injuries or occupational diseases in the employ of state fund employers, recompute the experience record of such employers when the claims of workers injured in their employ have been found to qualify for payments from the second injury fund after the regular time for computation of such experience records and the department may make appropriate adjustments in such cases including cash refunds or credits to such employers.

(3) To encourage employment of injured workers who are not reemployed by the employer at the time of injury, the department may adopt rules providing for the reduction or elimination of premiums or assessments from subsequent employers of such workers and may also adopt rules for the reduction or elimination of charges against such employers in the event of further injury to such workers in their employ.

Sec. 12. RCW 51.24.030 and 1995 c 199 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) If a third person, not in a worker’s same employ, is or may become liable to pay damages on account of a worker’s injury for which benefits and compensation are provided under this title, the injured worker or beneficiary may elect to seek damages from the third person.

(2) In every action brought under this section, the plaintiff shall give notice to the department or self-insurer, as the case may be, when the action is filed. The department or self-insurer may file a notice of statutory interest in recovery. When such notice has been filed by the department or self-insurer, the parties shall thereafter serve copies of all notices, motions, pleadings, and other process on the department or self-insurer. The department or self-insurer may then intervene as a party in the action to protect its statutory interest in recovery.

(3) For the purposes of this chapter, “injury” shall include any physical or mental condition, disease, ailment or loss, including death, for which compensation and benefits are paid or payable under this title.

(4) Damages recoverable by a worker or beneficiary pursuant to the underinsured motorist coverage of an insurance policy shall be subject to this chapter only if the owner of the policy is the employer of the injured worker.

(5) For the purposes of this chapter, “recovery” includes all damages except loss of consortium.

Sec. 13. RCW 51.24.050 and 1995 c 199 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) An election not to proceed against the third person operates as an assignment of the cause of action to the department or self-insurer, as the case may be, which may prosecute or compromise the action in its discretion in the name of the injured worker, beneficiary or legal representative.

(2) If an injury to a worker results in the worker’s death, the department or self-insurer to which the cause of action has been assigned may petition a court for the appointment of a special personal representative for the limited purpose of maintaining an action under this chapter and chapter 4.20 RCW.

(3) If a beneficiary is a minor child, an election not to proceed against a third person on such beneficiary’s cause of action may be exercised by the beneficiary’s legal custodian or guardian.

(4) Any recovery made by the department or self-insurer shall be distributed as follows:

(a) The department or self-insurer, as the case may be, shall be paid the expenses incurred in making the recovery including reasonable costs of legal services;

(b) The injured worker or beneficiary shall be paid twenty-five percent of the balance of the recovery made, which shall not be subject to subsection (5) of this section: PROVIDED, That in the event of a compromise and settlement by the parties, the injured worker or beneficiary may agree to a sum less than twenty-five percent;

(c) The department or self-insurer shall be paid the compensation and benefits paid to or on behalf of the injured worker or beneficiary by the department and/or self-insurer; and

(d) The injured worker or beneficiary shall be paid any remaining balance.

(5) Thereafter no payment shall be made to or on behalf of a worker or beneficiary by the department or self-insurer, as the case may be, for such injury until the amount of any further compensation and benefits shall equal any such remaining balance. Thereafter, such benefits shall be paid by the department or self-insurer, as the case may be, to or on behalf of the worker or beneficiary as though no recovery had been made from a third person.

(6) When the cause of action has been assigned to the self-insurer and compensation and benefits have been paid and/or are payable from state funds for the same injury:

(a) The prosecution of such cause of action shall also be for the benefit of the department to the extent of compensation and benefits paid and payable from state funds;

(b) Any compromise or settlement of such cause of action which results in less than the entitlement under this title is void unless made with the written approval of the department;

(c) The department shall be reimbursed for compensation and benefits paid from state funds;

(d) The department shall bear its proportionate share of the costs and reasonable attorneys’ fees incurred by the self-insurer in obtaining the award or settlement; and

(e) Any remaining balance under subsection (4)(d) of this section shall be applied, under subsection (5) of this section, to reduce the obligations of the department and self-insurer to pay further compensation and benefits in proportion to which the obligations of each bear to the remaining entitlement of the worker or beneficiary.

Sec. 14. RCW 51.24.060 and 2001 c 146 s 9 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) If the injured worker or beneficiary elects to seek damages from the third person, any recovery made shall be distributed as follows:

(a) The costs and reasonable attorneys’ fees shall be paid proportionately by the injured worker or beneficiary and the department and/or self-insurer(Provided, That), as the case may be. However, the department and/or self-insurer may require court approval of costs and attorneys’ fees or may petition a court for determination of the reasonableness of costs and attorneys’ fees;
(b) The injured worker or beneficiary shall be paid twenty-five percent of the balance of the award(\textit{\textbf{PROVIDED, That}}). However, in the event of a compromise and settlement by the parties, the injured worker or beneficiary may agree to a sum less than twenty-five percent;

(c) The department and/or self-insurer shall be paid the balance of the recovery made, but only to the extent necessary to reimburse the department and/or self-insurer for benefits paid;

(i) The department and/or self-insurer shall bear its proportionate share of the costs and reasonable attorneys’ fees incurred by the worker or beneficiary to the extent of the benefits paid under this title(\textit{\textbf{PROVIDED, That}}). However, the department’s and/or self-insurer’s proportionate share shall not exceed one hundred percent of the costs and reasonable attorneys’ fees;

(ii) The department’s and/or self-insurer’s proportionate share of the costs and reasonable attorneys’ fees shall be determined by dividing the gross recovery amount into the benefits paid amount and multiplying this percentage times the costs and reasonable attorneys’ fees incurred by the worker or beneficiary;

(iii) The department’s and/or self-insurer’s reimbursement share shall be determined by subtracting their proportionate share of the costs and reasonable attorneys’ fees from the benefits paid amount;

(d) Any remaining balance shall be paid to the injured worker or beneficiary; and

(e) Thereafter no payment shall be made to or on behalf of a worker or beneficiary by the department and/or self-insurer for such injury until the amount of any further compensation and benefits shall equal any such remaining balance minus the department’s and/or self-insurer’s proportionate share of the costs and reasonable attorneys’ fees in regards to the remaining balance. This proportionate share shall be determined by dividing the gross recovery amount into the remaining balance amount and multiplying this percentage times the costs and reasonable attorneys’ fees incurred by the worker or beneficiary. Thereafter, such benefits shall be paid by the department and/or self-insurer to or on behalf of the worker or beneficiary as though no recovery had been made from a third person.

(2) The recovery made shall be subject to a lien by the department and/or self-insurer for its share under this section.

(3) The department or self-insurer, as the case may be, has sole discretion to compromise the amount of its lien. In deciding whether or to what extent to compromise its lien, the department or self-insurer shall consider at least the following:

(a) The likelihood of collection of the award or settlement as may be affected by insurance coverage, solvency, or other factors relating to the third person;

(b) Factual and legal issues of liability as between the injured worker or beneficiary and the third person. Such issues include but are not limited to possible contributory negligence and novel theories of liability; and

(c) Problems of proof faced in obtaining the award or settlement.

(4) In an action under this section, the self-insurer may act on behalf and for the benefit of the department to the extent of any compensation and benefits paid or payable from state funds.

(5) It shall be the duty of the person to whom any recovery is paid before distribution under this section to advise the department or self-insurer, as the case may be, of the fact and amount of such recovery, the costs and reasonable attorneys’ fees associated with the recovery, and to distribute the recovery in compliance with this section.

(6) The distribution of any recovered made by award or settlement of the third party action shall be confirmed by ((department)) order of the department or self-insurer, as the case may be, served by registered or certified mail, and shall be subject to chapter 51.52 RCW. In the event the order of distribution becomes final under chapter 51.52 RCW, the ((director or the director’s designee)) department or self-insurer, as the case may be, may file with the clerk of any county within the state a warrant in the amount of the unpaid lien plus interest accruing from the date the order became final. The clerk of the county in which the warrant is filed shall immediately designate a superior court cause number for such warrant and the clerk shall cause to be entered in the judgment docket under the superior court cause number assigned to the warrant, the name of such worker or beneficiary mentioned in the warrant, the amount of the unpaid lien plus interest accrued and the date when the warrant was filed. The amount of such warrant as docketed shall become a lien upon the title to and interest in all real and personal property of the injured worker or beneficiary against whom the warrant is issued, the same as a judgment in a civil case docketed in the office of such clerk. The sheriff shall then proceed in the same manner and with like effect as prescribed by law with respect to execution or other process issued against rights or property upon judgment in the superior court. Such warrant so docketed shall be sufficient to support the issuance of writs of garnishment in favor of the department or self-insurer, as the case may be, in the manner provided by law in the case of judgment, wholly or partially unsatisfied. The clerk of the court shall be entitled to a filing fee under RCW 36.18.012(10), which shall be added to the amount of the warrant. A copy of such warrant shall be mailed to the injured worker or beneficiary within three days of filing with the clerk.

(7) The ((director or the director’s designee)) department or self-insurer, as the case may be, may issue to any person, firm, corporation, municipal corporation, political subdivision of the state, public corporation, or agency of the state, a notice and order to withhold and deliver property of any kind if he or she has reason to believe that there is in the possession of such person, firm, corporation, municipal corporation, political subdivision of the state, public corporation, or agency of the state, property which is due, owing, or belonging to any worker or beneficiary upon whom a warrant has been served by the department or self-insurer for payments due to the state fund or self-insurer. The notice and order to withhold and deliver shall be served by the sheriff of the county or by the sheriff’s deputy, by certified mail, return receipt requested; or by any authorized representatives of the ((director)) department or self-insurer. Any person, firm, corporation, municipal corporation, political subdivision of the state, public corporation, or agency of the state upon whom service has been made shall answer the notice within twenty days exclusive of the day of service, under oath and in writing, and shall make true answers to the matters inquired of in the notice and order to withhold and deliver. In the event there is in the possession of the party named and served with such notice and order, any property which may be subject to the claim of the department or self-insurer, such property shall be delivered forthwith to the department or self-insurer. As the case may be, upon demand. If the party served and named in the notice and order fails to answer the notice and order within the time prescribed in this section, the court may, after the time to answer such order has expired, render judgment by default against the party named in the notice for the full amount claimed by the director or self-insurer in the notice together with costs. In the event that a notice to withhold and deliver is served upon an employer and the property found to be subject thereto is wages, the employer may assert in the answer to all exemptions provided for by chapter 6.27 RCW to which the wage earner may be entitled.

(1) The department or self-insurer, as the case may be, may require the injured worker or beneficiary to exercise the right of election under this chapter by serving a written demand by registered mail, certified mail, or personal service on the worker or beneficiary.

(2) Unless an election is instituted or settled within the time granted by the department or self-insurer, the injured worker or beneficiary is deemed to have assigned the action to the department or self-insurer, as the case may be. The department or self-insurer shall allow the worker or beneficiary at least ninety days from the election to institute or settle the action. When a beneficiary is a minor child the demand shall be served upon the legal custodian or guardian of such beneficiary.

(3) If an action which has been filed is not diligently prosecuted, the department or self-insurer, as the case may be, may petition the court in which the action is pending for an order assigning the cause of action to the department or self-insurer. Upon a sufficient showing of a lack of diligent prosecution the court in its discretion may issue the order.

(4) If the department or self-insurer has taken an assignment of the third party cause of action under subsection (2) of this section, the injured worker or beneficiary may, at the discretion of the department or self-insurer, exercise a right of re-election and assume the cause of action subject to reimbursement of litigation expenses incurred by the department or self-insurer.

Sec. 16. RCW 51.24.080 and 1977 ex.s. c 85 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) If the injured worker or beneficiary elects to seek damages from the third person, notice of the election must be given to the department or self-insurer, as the case may be. The notice shall be by registered mail, certified mail, or personal service. If an action is filed by the injured worker or beneficiary, a copy of the complaint must be sent by registered mail to the department or self-insurer, as the case may be.

(2) A return showing service of the notice on the department or self-insurer shall be filed with the court but shall not be part of the record except as necessary to give notice to the defendant of the lien imposed by RCW 51.24.060(2).

Sec. 17. RCW 51.24.090 and 1995 c 199 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Any compromise or settlement of the third party cause of action by the injured worker or beneficiary which results in less than the entitlement under this title is void unless made with the written approval of the department or self-insurer, as the case may be. However, for the purposes of this chapter, "entitlement" means benefits and compensation paid and estimated by the department or self-insurer, as the case may be, to be paid in the future.

(2) If a compromise or settlement is void because of subsection (1) of this section, the department or self-insurer, as the case may be, may petition the court in which the action was filed for an order assigning the cause of action to the department or self-insurer. If an action has not been filed, the department or self-insurer may proceed as provided in chapter 7.24 RCW.

Sec. 18. RCW 51.28.010 and 2001 c 231 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Whenever any accident occurs to any worker it shall be the duty of such worker or someone in his or her behalf to forthwith report such accident to his or her employer, superintendent, or supervisor in charge of the work, and of the employer to at once report such accident and the injury resulting therefrom to the department pursuant to RCW 51.28.025 where the worker has received treatment from a physician, has been hospitalized, disabled from work, or has died as the apparent result of such accident and injury.

(2) Upon receipt of such notice of accident, the department or self-insurer, as the case may be, shall immediately forward to the worker or his or her beneficiaries or dependents notification, in nontechnical language, of their rights under this title. The notice must specify the worker’s right to receive health services from a physician of the worker’s choice under RCW 51.36.010, including chiropractic services under RCW 51.36.015, and must list the types of providers authorized to provide these services. The notice must be given on department forms.

Sec. 19. RCW 51.28.020 and 2001 c 231 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1)((i)) Where a worker is entitled to compensation under this title he or she shall file with the department or his or her self-insured employer, as the case may be, his or her application for such, together with the certificate of the physician who attended him or her. An application form developed by the department shall include a notice specifying the worker’s right to receive health services from a physician of the worker’s choice under RCW 51.36.010, including chiropractic services under RCW 51.36.015, and listing the types of providers authorized to provide these services.

(ii) The physician who attended the injured worker shall inform the injured worker of his or her rights under this title and lend all necessary assistance in making this application for compensation and such proof of other matters as required by the rules of the department without charge to the worker. The department shall provide physicians with a manual which outlines the procedures to be followed in applications for compensation involving occupational diseases, and which describes claimants’ rights and responsibilities related to occupational disease claims.

(2) If application for compensation is made to a self-insured employer, he or she shall forthwith send a copy of the application to the department.

If change of circumstances warrants an increase or rearrangement of compensation, like application shall be made therefor to the department or self-insurer, as the case may be. Where the application has been granted, compensation and other benefits if in order shall be allowed for periods of time up to sixty days prior to the receipt of such application.

Sec. 22. RCW 51.28.055 and 2003 2nd sp.s. c 2 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section for claims filed for occupational hearing loss, claims for occupational disease or infection to be valid and compensable must be filed within two years following the date the worker had written notice from a physician: (a) Of the existence of his or her occupational disease, and (b) that a claim for disability benefits may be filed. The notice shall also contain a statement that the worker has two years from the date of the notice to file a claim. If the employer is self-insured, the physician shall file the notice with the self-insurer. If the employer is a state fund employer, the physician shall file the notice with the department. The department or self-insurer shall send a copy to the worker ((and to the self-insurer if the worker’s employer is self-insured)). However, a claim is valid if it is filed within two years from the date of death of the worker suffering from an occupational disease.

(2) As provided in (b) of this subsection, to be valid and compensable, claims for hearing loss due to occupational noise exposure must be filed within two years of the date of the worker’s last injurious exposure to occupational noise in employment covered under this title or within one year of September 10, 2003, whichever is later.

(b) A claim for hearing loss due to occupational noise exposure that is not timely filed under (a) of this subsection can only be allowed for medical aid benefits under chapter 51.36 RCW.

(3) The department may adopt rules to implement this section.

Sec. 23. RCW 51.28.060 and 1977 ex.s. c 350 s 35 are each amended to read as follows:

A dependent shall at all times furnish the department or self-insurer, as the case may be, with proof satisfactory to the ((directed)) department or self-insurer of the nature, amount and extent of the contribution made by the deceased worker.

Proof of dependency by any beneficiary residing without the United States shall be made before the nearest United States consul or consular agency, under the seal of such consul or consular agent, and the department or self-insurer may cause any warrant or warrants to which such beneficiary is entitled to be transmitted to the beneficiary through the nearest United States consul or consular agent.

Information contained in the claim files and records of injured workers, under the provisions of this title, shall be deemed confidential and shall not be open to public inspection (other than to public employees in the performance of their official duties), but representatives of a claimant, be it an individual or an organization, may review a claim file or receive specific information therefrom upon the presentation of the signed authorization of the claimant. A claimant may review his or her claim file if the ((directed)) department or self-insurer, as the case may be, determines, pursuant to criteria adopted by rule, that the review is in the claimant’s interest. Employers or their duly authorized representatives may review any files of their own injured workers in connection with any pending claims. Physicians treating or examining workers claiming benefits under this title, or physicians giving medical advice to the department or self-insurer regarding any claim may, at the discretion of the department or self-insurer, inspect the claim files and records of injured workers, and other persons may make such inspection, at the discretion of the department or self-insurer, at any stage of the proceedings on any matter pertaining to the administration of this title.

Sec. 25. RCW 51.32.010 and 1977 ex.s. c 350 s 37 are each amended to read as follows:

Each worker injured in the course of his or her employment, or his or her family or dependents in case of death of the worker, shall receive compensation in accordance with this chapter, and, except as in this title otherwise provided, such payment shall be in lieu of any and all rights of action whatsoever against any person whomsoever (Is PROVISIONED, That). However, if an injured worker, or the surviving spouse of an injured worker shall not have the legal custody of a child for, or on account of whom payments are required to be made under this title, such payment or payments shall be made to the person or persons having the legal custody of such child but only for the periods of time on department or self-insurer, as the case may be, has been notified of the fact of such legal custody, and it shall be the duty of any such person or persons receiving payments because of legal custody of any child immediately to notify the department or self-insurer, as the case may be, of any change in such legal custody.

Sec. 26. RCW 51.32.040 and 2003 c 379 s 27 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided in RCW 43.20B.720, 72.09.111, 74.20A.260, and 51.32.380, no money paid or payable under this title shall, before the issuance and delivery of the check or warrant, be assigned, charged, or taken in execution, attached, garnished, or pass or be paid to any other person by operation of law, any form of voluntary assignment, or power of attorney. Any such assignment or charge is void unless the transfer is to a financial institution at the request of a worker or other beneficiary and made in accordance with RCW 51.32.045.

(2)(a) If any worker suffers (i) a permanent partial injury and dies from some other cause than the accident which produced the injury before he or she receives payment of the award for the permanent partial injury or (ii) any other injury before he or she receives payment of any monthly installment covering any period of time before his or
(b) If any worker suffers an injury and dies from it before he or she receives payment of any monthly installment covering time loss for any period of time before his or her death, the amount of the monthly payment shall be paid to the surviving spouse or the child or children if there is no surviving spouse and no child or children, the award or the amount of the monthly payment shall be paid by the department or self-insurer, as the case may be, and distributed consistent with the terms of the decedent’s will or, if the decedent dies intestate, consistent with the terms of RCW 11.04.015.

(c) Any application for compensation under this subsection (2) shall be filed with the department or self-insuring employer, as the case may be, within one year of the date of death. The department or self-insurer may satisfy its responsibilities under this subsection (2) by sending any payment due in the name of the decedent and to the last known address of the decedent.

(3)(a) Any worker or beneficiary receiving benefits under this title who is subsequently confined in, or who subsequently becomes eligible for benefits under this title while confined in, any institution under conviction and sentence shall have all payments of the compensation canceled during the period of confinement. After discharge from the institution, payment of benefits due afterward shall be paid if the worker or beneficiary would, except for the provisions of this subsection (3), otherwise be entitled to them.

(b) If any prisoner is injured in the course of his or her employment while participating in a work or training release program authorized by chapter 72.65 RCW and is subject to the provisions of this title, he or she is entitled to payments under this title, subject to the provisions of chapter 72.65 RCW, unless his or her participation in the program has been canceled, or unless he or she is returned to a state correctional institution, as defined in RCW 72.65.010(3), as a result of revocation of parole or new sentence.

(c) If the confined worker has any beneficiaries during the confinement period during which benefits are canceled under (a) or (b) of this subsection, they shall be paid directly the monthly benefits which would have been paid to the worker for himself or herself and the worker’s beneficiaries had the worker not been confined.

(4) Any lump sum benefits to which a worker would otherwise be entitled but for the provisions of this section shall be paid on a monthly basis to his or her beneficiaries.

Sec. 27. RCW 51.32.055 and 1997 c 416 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) One purpose of this title is to restore the injured worker as nearly as possible to the condition of self-support as an able-bodied worker. Claims shall be closed and benefits for permanent disability shall be determined under the director’s supervision, except as otherwise authorized in subsection (9) of this section, only after the injured worker’s condition becomes fixed.

(2) All determinations of permanent disabilities shall be made by the department, except as otherwise authorized in subsection (9) of this section. Either the worker, employer, or self-insurer may make a request or the inquiry may be initiated by the director or, as authorized in subsection (9) of this section, by the self-insurer on the director or the self-insurer’s own motion. Determinations shall be required in every instance where permanent disability is likely to be present. All medical reports and other pertinent information in the possession of or under the control of the employer or, if the self-insurer has made a request to the department, in the possession of or under the control of the self-insurer shall be forwarded to the director with the request.

(3) A request for determination of permanent disability shall be examined by the department or, if authorized in subsection (9) of this section, by the self-insurer, and the department shall issue an order in accordance with RCW 51.52.050 or, in the case of a self-insured employer, the self-insurer may—

(1) Enter a written order, communicated to the worker and the department self-insurance section in accordance with subsection (9) of this section, or

(2) Request the department to issue an order in accordance with RCW 51.52.050.

(4) The department or, in cases authorized in subsection (9) of this section, the self-insurer may require that the worker present himself or herself for a special medical examination by a physician or physicians selected by the department or the self-insurer and may require that the worker present himself or herself for a personal interview. The costs of the examination or interview, including payment of any reasonable travel expenses, shall be paid by the department or self-insurer, as the case may be.

(5) (a) The director may establish a medical bureau within the department to perform medical examinations under this section. Physicians hired or retained for this purpose shall be grounded in industrial medicine and in the assessment of industrial physical impairment. (Self-insurers shall bear a proportionate share of the cost of the medical bureau in a manner to be determined by the department.)

(b) Where a dispute arises from the handling of any state fund claim before the condition of the injured worker becomes fixed, the worker or the worker’s employer or, as the case may be, may require that the worker present himself or herself for a special medical examination by a physician or physicians selected by the department or the self-insurer and may require that the worker present himself or herself for a personal interview. The costs of the examination or interview, including payment of any reasonable travel expenses, shall be paid by the department or self-insurer, as the case may be.

(c) The self-insurer may require that the worker present himself or herself for a personal interview. The costs of the interview, including payment of any reasonable travel expenses, shall be paid by the self-insurer.

(d) Where a dispute arises from the handling of any state fund claim before the condition of the injured worker becomes fixed, the worker or the worker’s employer or, as the case may be, may require that the worker present himself or herself for a personal interview. The costs of the interview, including payment of any reasonable travel expenses, shall be paid by the self-insurer.
(b) All determinations of permanent disability for claims accepted under this subsection (8) by self insurers shall be made by the self insured section of the department under subsections (1) through (4) of this section.

(c) Upon closure of a claim under (a) of this subsection, the self insurer shall enter a written order, communicated to the worker and the department self insurance section, which contains the following statement clearly set forth in bold face type: “This order constitutes notification that your claim is being closed with medical benefits and temporary disability compensation as provided, and with the condition you have returned to work with the self insured employer. If for any reason you disagree with the condition of your return to work, or the medical benefits or the temporary disability compensation that has been provided, you must protest in writing to the Department of Labor and Industries, self insurance section, within sixty days of the date you received this order.”

(8)(a) If a claim (i) is accepted by a self insurer after June 30, 1990, and before August 1, 1997, (ii) involves only medical treatment, (iii) does not involve payment of temporary disability compensation under RCW 51.32.090, and (iv) at the time medical treatment is concluded does not involve permanent disability, the claim may be closed by the self insurer, subject to reporting of claims to the department in a manner prescribed by department rules adopted under chapter 34.05 RCW. Upon closure of a claim, the self insurer shall enter a written order, communicated to the worker, which contains the following statement clearly set forth in bold face type: “This order constitutes notification that your claim is being closed with medical benefits only, as provided. If for any reason you disagree with this closure, you must protest in writing to the Department of Labor and Industries, Olympia, within sixty days of the date you received this order. The Department will then review your claim and enter a further determinative order.”

(b) All determinations of permanent disability for claims accepted under this subsection (8) by self insurers shall be made by the self insured section of the department under subsections (1) through (4) of this section.

(9) If a claim is accepted by a self insurer after July 31, 1997, (i) is accepted by a self insurer after July 31, 1997, (ii) involves only medical treatment, or medical treatment and the payment of temporary disability compensation under RCW 51.32.090, and a determination of permanent partial disability, if applicable, has been made by the self insurer as authorized in this subsection; or (B) involves only the payment of temporary disability compensation under RCW 51.32.090 and a determination of permanent partial disability, if applicable, has been made by the self insurer as authorized in this subsection; (iii) is one with respect to which the department has not intervened under subsection (6) of this section; and (iv) concerns an injured worker who has returned to work with the self insured employer of record, whether at the worker’s previous job or at a job that has comparable wages and benefits, the claim may be closed by the self insurer, subject to reporting of claims to the department in a manner prescribed by department rules adopted under chapter 34.05 RCW.

(b) If a physician submits a report to the self insurer that concludes that the worker’s condition is fixed and stable and supports payment of a permanent partial disability award, and if within fourteen days from the date the self insurer mailed the report to the attending or treating physician, the worker’s attending or treating physician disagrees in writing that the worker’s condition is fixed and stable, the self insurer must get a supplemental medical opinion from a provider on the department’s approved examiner’s list before closing the claim. If the alternative determination of permanent partial disability is made by the self insurer, the self insurer may forward the claim to the department, which must review the claim and enter a final order as provided for in RCW 51.52.050.

(c) Upon closure of a claim under this subsection (9), the self insurer shall enter a written order, communicated to the worker and the department self insurance section, which contains the following statement clearly set forth in bold face type: “This order constitutes notification that your claim is being closed with such medical benefits and temporary disability compensation as provided to date and with such award for permanent partial disability as determined by the self insurer after July 31, 1997. If you disagree with this closure, you must protest in writing to the Department of Labor and Industries, Self Insurance Section, within sixty days of the date you received this order. If you do not protest this order to the department, this order will become final.”

(d) All determinations of permanent partial disability for claims accepted by self insurers under this subsection (9) may be made by the self insurer or the self insurer may request a determination by the self insured employer of record. All determinations shall be made under subsections (1) through (4) of this section.

(10) If the department receives a protest of an order issued by a self insurer under subsection (7) through (9) of this section, the self insurer’s closure order must be held in abeyance. The department shall review the claim closure action and enter a further determinative order as provided for in RCW 51.52.050. If no protest is timely filed, the closing order issued by the self insurer shall become final and shall have the same force and effect as a department order that has become final under RCW 51.52.050.

(11) If within two years of claim closure under subsections (7) through (9) of this section, the department determines that the self insurer has made payment of benefits because of clerical error, mistake of identity, or innocent misrepresentation or the department discovers a violation of the conditions of claim closure, the department may require the self insurer to correct the benefits paid or payable. This subsection (11) does not limit in any way the application of RCW 51.32.240.

(12) For the purposes of this section, “comparable wages and benefits” means wages and benefits that are at least ninety-five percent of the wages and benefits received by the worker at the time of injury.

Sec. 28. RCW 51.32.060 and 1993 c 521 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) When the (self insurance or industrial) self insurer as authorized in this section, the department or the self insurer, as the case may be, determines that permanent total disability results from the injury, the worker shall receive monthly during the period of such disability:

(a) If married at the time of injury, sixty-five percent of his or her wages but not less than two hundred fifteen dollars per month.
(b) If married with one child at the time of injury, sixty-seven percent of his or her wages but not less than two hundred fifty-two dollars per month.
(c) If married with two children at the time of injury, sixty-nine percent of his or her wages but not less than two hundred eighty-three dollars per month.
(d) If married with three children at the time of injury, seventy-one percent of his or her wages but not less than three hundred six dollars per month.
(e) If married with four children at the time of injury, seventy-three percent of his or her wages but not less than three hundred fifty-two dollars per month.
(g) If unmarried at the time of the injury, sixty percent of his or her wages but not less than one hundred eighty-five dollars per month.
(h) If unmarried with one child at the time of injury, sixty-two percent of his or her wages but not less than two hundred twenty-two dollars per month.
(i) If unmarried with two children at the time of injury, sixty-four percent of his or her wages but not less than two hundred fifty-three dollars per month.
(j) If unmarried with three children at the time of injury, sixty-six percent of his or her wages but not less than two hundred seventy-six dollars per month.
(k) If unmarried with four children at the time of injury, sixty-eight percent of his or her wages but not less than two hundred ninety-nine dollars per month.
(l) If unmarried with five or more children at the time of injury, seventy percent of his or her wages but not less than three hundred twenty-two dollars per month.
(2) For any period of time where both husband and wife are entitled to compensation as temporarily or totally disabled workers, only that spouse having the higher wages of the two shall be entitled to claim their child or children for compensation purposes.
(3) In case of permanent total disability, if the character of the injury is such as to render the worker so physically helpless as to require the hiring of the services of an attendant, the department shall make monthly payments to such attendant for such services as long as such requirement continues, but such payments shall not exceed the applicable percentage of the average monthly wage in the state as computed under the provisions of RCW 51.08.018 as follows:

The limitations under this subsection shall not apply to the payments provided for in subsection (3) of this section.

(6) In the case of new or reopened claims, if the (supervisor of industrial insurance) department or the self-insurer, as the case may be, determines that, at the time of filing or reopening, the worker is voluntarily retired and is no longer attached to the work force, benefits shall not be paid under this section.

(7) The benefits provided by this section are subject to modification under RCW 51.32.067.

Sec. 29. RCW 51.32.080 and 1993 c 520 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(b) Beginning on July 1, 1993, compensation under this subsection shall be computed as follows:

(i) Beginning on July 1, 1993, the compensation amounts for the specified disabilities listed in (a) of this subsection shall be increased by thirty-two percent, and section (1)(b)(i) of this subsection, shall be readjusted to reflect the percentage change in the consumer price index, calculated as follows: The index for the calendar year preceding the year in which the July calculation is made, to be known as "calendar year A," is divided by the index for the calendar year preceding calendar year A, and the resulting ratio is multiplied by the compensation amount in effect on June 30 immediately preceding the July 1st on which the respective calculation is made. For the purposes of this subsection, "index" means the same as the definition in RCW 2.12.037(1).

(2) Compensation for amputation of a member or part thereof at a site other than those specified in subsection (1) of this section, and for loss of central visual acuity and loss of hearing other than complete, shall be in proportion to that with which such other amputation or partial loss of visual acuity or hearing most closely resembles and approximates. Compensation shall be calculated based on the adjusted schedule of compensation in effect for the respective time period as prescribed in subsection (1) of this section.

(3)(a) Compensation for any other permanent partial disability not involving amputation shall be in the proportion which the extent of such other disability, called unspecified disability, shall bear to the disabilities specified in subsection (1) of this section, which most closely resembles and approximates in degree of disability such other disability, and compensation for any other unspecified permanent partial disability shall be in an amount as measured and compared to total bodily impairment. To reduce litigation and establish more certainty and uniformity in the rating of unspecified permanent partial disabilities, the department shall enact rules having the force of law classifying such disabilities in the proportion which the department shall determine such disabilities reasonably bear to total bodily impairment. In enacting such rules, the department shall give consideration to, but need not necessarily adopt, any nationally recognized medical standards or guides for determining various bodily impairments.

(b) Until July 1, 1993, for purposes of calculating monetary benefits under (a) of this subsection, the amount payable for total bodily impairment shall be deemed to be ninety thousand dollars. Beginning on July 1, 1993, for purposes of calculating monetary benefits under (a) of this subsection, the amount payable for total bodily impairment shall be adjusted as follows:

(i) Beginning on July 1, 1993, the amount payable for total bodily impairment under this section shall be increased to one hundred eighteen thousand eight hundred dollars; and

(ii) Beginning on July 1, 1994, and each July 1 thereafter, the amount payable for total bodily impairment prescribed in (b)(i) of this subsection shall be adjusted as provided in subsection (1)(b)(ii) of this section.

(c) Until July 1, 1993, the total compensation for all unspecified permanent partial disabilities resulting from the same injury shall not exceed the sum of ninety thousand dollars. Beginning on July 1, 1993, total compensation for all unspecified permanent partial disabilities resulting from the same injury shall not exceed a sum calculated as follows:

(i) Beginning on July 1, 1993, the sum shall be increased to one hundred eighteen thousand eight hundred dollars; and

(ii) Beginning on July 1, 1994, and each July 1 thereafter, the sum prescribed in (b)(i) of this subsection shall be adjusted as provided in subsection (1)(b)(ii) of this section.

(4) If permanent partial disability compensation is followed by permanent total disability compensation, any portion of the permanent partial disability compensation which exceeds the amount that would have been paid the injured worker if permanent total disability compensation had been paid in the first instance, shall be deducted from the pension reserve of such injured worker and his or her monthly compensation payments shall be reduced accordingly.

(5) Should a worker receive an injury to a member or part of his or her body already, from whatever cause, permanently partially disabled, resulting in the amputation thereof or in an aggravation or increase in such permanent partial disability but not resulting in the permanent total disability of such worker, his or her compensation for such partial disability shall be adjudged with regard to the previous disability of the injured member or part and the degree or extent of the aggravation or increase of disability thereof.

(6) When the compensation provided for in subsections (1) through (3) of this section exceeds three times the average monthly wage in the state as computed under the provisions of RCW 51.08.018, payment shall be made in monthly payments in accordance with the schedule of temporary total disability payments set forth in RCW 51.32.090 until such compensation is paid to the injured worker in full, except that the first monthly payment shall be in an amount equal to three times the average monthly wage in the state as computed under the provisions of RCW 51.08.018, and interest shall be paid at the rate of eight percent on the unpaid balance of such compensation commencing with the second monthly payment. However, upon application of the injured worker or survivor the monthly payment may be converted, in whole or in part, into a lump sum payment, in which event the monthly payment shall cease in whole or in part. Such conversion may be made only upon written application of the injured worker survivor to the department or self-insurer, as the case may be, and shall rest in the discretion of the department or self-insurer, as the case may be, depending upon the merits of each individual application. Upon the death of a worker all unpaid installments accrued shall be paid according to the payment schedule established prior to the death of the worker to the widow or widower, or if there is no widow or widower surviving, to the dependent children of such claimant, and if there are no such dependent children, then to such other dependents as defined by this title.

(7) Awards payable under this section are governed by the schedule in effect on the date of injury. Sec. 30. RCW 51.32.095 and 1999 c 110 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) One of the primary purposes of this title is to enable the injured worker to become employable at gainful employment. To this end, the department or self-insurers, as the case may be, shall utilize the services of individuals and organizations, public or private, whose experience, training, and interests in vocational rehabilitation and retraining qualify them to lend expert assistance (to the supervisor of industrial insurance) in such programs of vocational rehabilitation as may be reasonable to make the worker employable consistent with his or her physical and mental status. (Where, after evaluation and recommendation by such individuals or organizations and prior to final evaluation of the worker’s permanent disability and in the sole opinion of the supervisor or supervisor’s designee, whether or not medical treatment has been concluded, vocational rehabilitation is both necessary and likely to enable the injured worker to become employable at gainful employment, the supervisor or supervisor’s designee may, in his or her sole discretion, pay or, if the employer is a self-
Section 31. RCW 51.32.110 and 1997 c 325 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Any worker entitled to receive any benefits or claiming such under this title shall, if requested by the department or self-insurer, submit himself or herself for medical examination, at a time and from time to time, at a place reasonably convenient for the worker and as may be provided by the rules of the department. An injured worker, whether an alien or

(2) When in the ((sole)) discretion of the ((supervisor or the supervisor’s designee)) department or self-insurer, as the case may be, vocational rehabilitation is both necessary and likely to make the worker employable at gainful employment, then the following order of priorities shall be used:

(a) Return to the previous job with the same employer;
(b) Modification of the previous job with the same employer including transitional return to work;
(c) A new job with the same employer in keeping with any limitations or restrictions;
(d) Modification of a new job with the same employer including transitional return to work;
(e) Modification of the previous job with a new employer;
(f) A new job with a new employer or self-employment based upon transferable skills;
(g) Modification of a new job with a new employer;
(h) A new job with a new employer or self-employment involving on-the-job training;
(i) Short-term retraining and job placement.

(3)(a) Except as provided in (b) of this subsection, costs for vocational rehabilitation benefits allowed ((by the supervisor or supervisor’s designee)) under subsection (1) of this section may include the cost of books, tuition, fees, supplies, equipment, transportation, child or dependent care, and other necessary expenses for any such worker in an amount not to exceed three thousand dollars in any fifty-two week period ((except as authorized by RCW 51.60.060)), and the cost of continuing the temporary total disability compensation under RCW 51.32.090 while the worker is actively and successfully undergoing a formal program of vocational rehabilitation.

(b) Beginning with vocational rehabilitation plans approved on or after July 1, 1999, costs for vocational rehabilitation benefits allowed ((by the supervisor or supervisor’s designee)) under subsection (1) of this section may include the cost of books, tuition, fees, supplies, equipment, child or dependent care, and other necessary expenses for any such worker in an amount not to exceed four thousand dollars in any fifty-two week period ((except as authorized by RCW 51.60.060)), and the cost of transportation and continuing the temporary total disability compensation under RCW 51.32.090 while the worker is actively and successfully undergoing a formal program of vocational rehabilitation.

(c) The expenses allowed under (a) or (b) of this subsection may include training fees for on-the-job training and the cost of furnishing tools and other equipment necessary for self-employment or reemployment. However, compensation or payment of retraining with job placement expenses under (a) or (b) of this subsection may not be authorized for a period of more than fifty-two weeks, except that such period may, in the sole discretion of the ((supervisor after his or her review)) department or self-insurer, as the case may be, be extended for an additional fifty-two weeks or portion thereof by written order of the ((supervisor)) department or self-insurer, as the case may be.

(d) In cases where the worker is required to reside away from his or her customary residence, the reasonable cost of board and lodging shall also be paid.

(e) Costs paid under this subsection shall be chargeable to the employer’s cost experience or shall be paid by the self-insurer as the case may be.

(f) In addition to the vocational rehabilitation expenditures provided for under subsection (3) of this section, an additional five thousand dollars may, upon authorization of the ((supervisor or supervisor’s designee)) department or self-insurer, as the case may be, be expended for: (a) Accommodations for an injured worker that are medically necessary for the worker to participate in an approved retraining plan; and (b) accommodations necessary to perform the essential functions of an occupation in which an injured worker is seeking employment, consistent with the retraining plan or the recommendations of a vocational rehabilitation plan. The injured worker’s attending physician must verify the necessity of the modifications or accommodations. The total expenditures authorized in this subsection and the expenditures authorized under RCW 51.32.250 shall not exceed five thousand dollars.

(g) The department shall establish criteria to monitor the quality and effectiveness of rehabilitation services provided by the individuals and organizations used under subsection (1) of this section. The state fund shall make referrals for vocational rehabilitation services based on these performance criteria.

(h) The department shall engage in, where feasible and cost-effective, a cooperative program with the state employment security department to provide job placement services under this section.

(i) Self-insurers shall ((report both benefits provided and benefits denied under this section in the manner prescribed by the department by rule adopted under chapter 34.05 RCW)) issue a written determination providing or denying benefits under this section. The determination shall state, in bold-faced type of at least ten-point font, that such determination becomes final within fifteen days from the date the determination is communicated to the parties unless a written protest is filed with the director of the department of labor and industries in Olympia. The self-insurer’s determination may not be appealed to the board of industrial insurance appeals. If a worker timely protests a determination issued by a self-insured employer under this section, the director may ((in his or her sole discretion and upon his or her own initiative or at any time that a dispute arises under this section)) promptly make such inquiries as circumstances require ((and)), take such other action as he or she considers will properly determine the matter and protect the rights of the parties, and determine whether, in the director’s sole discretion, vocational rehabilitation is both necessary and likely to make the worker employable at gainful employment.

(j) Except as otherwise provided in this section, the benefits provided for in this section are available to any otherwise eligible worker regardless of the date of industrial injury. However, claims shall not be reopened solely for vocational rehabilitation purposes.
other injured worker, who is not residing in the United States at the time that a medical examination is requested may be required to submit to an examination at any location in the United States determined by the director of employers who have secured the payment of workers' compensation, as now or hereafter amended, the payment of disability insurance, as now or hereafter amended, to provide for the payment of benefits to which the federal reduction would apply, pursuant to 42 USC 424a.

(2) If the worker fails to submit to medical examination, or obstructs the same, or, if any injured worker shall persist in unsanitary or injurious practices which tend to imperil or retard his or her recovery, or shall refuse to submit to such medical or surgical treatment as is reasonably essential to his or her recovery or refuse or obstruct evaluation or examination for the purpose of rehabilitation or does not cooperate in reasonable efforts at such rehabilitation, the department or the self-insurer (upon approval by the department), as the case may be, with notice to the worker may suspend any further action on any claim of such worker so long as such refusal, obstruction, noncooperation, or practice continues and reduce, suspend, or deny any compensation for such period (provided that), However, the department or the self-insurer shall not suspend any further action on any claim of a worker or reduce, suspend, or deny any compensation if a worker has good cause for refusing to submit to or to obstruct any examination, evaluation, treatment, or practice requested by the department or self-insurer or required under this section.

(3) If the worker necessarily incurs traveling expenses in attending the examination pursuant to the request of the department or the self-insurer, such traveling expenses shall be repaid to him or her out of the accident fund upon proper voucher and audit or shall be repaid by the self-insurer, as the case may be.

(a) If the medical examination required by this section causes the worker to be absent from his or her work without pay:

(i) In the case of a worker insured by the department, the worker shall be paid compensation out of the accident fund in an amount equal to his or her usual wages for the time lost from work while attending the medical examination; or

(ii) In the case of a worker of a self-insurer, the self-insurer shall pay the worker an amount equal to his or her usual wages for the time lost from work while attending the medical examination.

(b) This subsection (4) shall apply prospectively to all claims regardless of the date of injury.

Sec. 32. RCW 51.32.10 and 1995 c 253 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) If aggravation, diminution, or termination of disability takes place, the (director) department or self-insurer, as the case may be, may, upon the application of the beneficiary to the department or self-insurer, as the case may be, may, upon application of the worker made at any time, provide proper and necessary medical and surgical services as authorized under RCW 51.36.010. The department shall promptly mail a copy of the application to the state fund employer at the employer’s last known address as shown by the records of the department.

(b) “Closing order” as used in this section means an order based on factors which include medical recommendation, advice, or examination.

(c) Applications for benefits where the claim has been closed without medical recommendation, advice, or examination are not subject to the seven year limitation of this section. The preceding sentence shall not apply to any closing order issued prior to July 1, 1981. First closing orders issued between July 1, 1981, and July 1, 1985, shall, for the purposes of this section only, be deemed issued on July 1, 1985. The time limitation of this section shall be ten years in claims involving loss of vision or function of the eyes.

(d) If an order denying an application to reopen filed on or after July 1, 1988, is not issued within ninety days of receipt of such application by the self-insured employer or the department, as the case may be, such application shall be deemed granted. However, for good cause, the department or self-insurer, as the case may be, may extend the time for making the final determination on the application for an additional sixty days.

(2) If a worker receiving a pension for total disability returns to gainful employment for wages, the director may suspend or terminate the rate of compensation established for the disability without producing medical evidence that shows that a diminution of the disability has occurred.

(3) No act done or ordered to be done by (the director, or the director’s) or the department (prior to) or the self-insurer before the (signing and filing in the matter) issuing of a written order for such readjustment shall be grounds for such readjustment.

Sec. 33. RCW 51.32.195 and 1987 c 290 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

On any industrial injury claim where (the) a self-insured (employer or injured worker has requested a determination by the department), employer’s order has been protested, the self-insurer must submit (all medical reports and any other specified information not previously submitted) the claim file to the department. When the department requests information from a self-insurer by certified mail, the self-insurer shall submit all information in its possession concerning a claim within ten working days from the date of receipt of such certified notice.

Sec. 34. RCW 51.32.210 and 1977 ex.s. c 350 s 55 are each amended to read as follows:

Claims of injured workers (of employers who have secured the payment of compensation by insuring with the department) shall be promptly acted upon by the department or self-insurer, as the case may be. Where temporary disability compensation is payable, the first payment thereof shall be made within fourteen days after receipt of the claim at the department’s office in Olympia) or self-insurer, as the case may be, and shall continue at regular semimonthly or biweekly intervals. The payment of this or any other benefits under this title, prior to the entry of an order (by the department) in accordance with RCW 51.52.050 (as now or hereafter amended), shall be not considered a binding determination of the obligations of the department or self-insurer, as the case may be, under this title. The acceptance of compensation by the worker or his or her beneficiaries prior to such order shall likewise not be considered a binding determination of their rights under this title.

Sec. 35. RCW 51.32.220 and 1982 c 63 s 19 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) For persons under the age of sixty-five receiving compensation for temporary or permanent total disability pursuant to the provisions of chapter 51.32 RCW, such compensation shall be reduced by an amount equal to the benefits payable under the federal old-age, survivors and disability insurance act as now or hereafter amended not to exceed the amount of the reduction established pursuant to 42 USC 424a. However, such reduction shall not apply when the combined compensation provided pursuant to chapter 51.32 RCW and the federal old-age, survivors and disability insurance act is less than the total benefits to which the federal reduction would apply, pursuant to 42 USC 424a. Where any person described in this section refuses to authorize the release of information concerning the amount of benefits payable under said federal act the department or self-insurer, as the case may be, shall not be required to be correct unless and until the actual amount is established and no adjustment shall be made for any period of time covered by any such refusal.

(2) Any reduction under subsection (1) of this section shall be effective the month following the month in which the department or self-insurer, as the case may be, is notified by the federal social security administration that the person is receiving disability benefits under the federal old-age, survivors and disability insurance act. However, in the event of an overpayment of benefits the department or self-insurer, as the case may be, may not recover more than the overpayments for the six months immediately preceding the date the department or self-insurer notifies the worker that an overpayment has occurred. Upon determining that there has been an overpayment, the department or self-insurer, as the case may be, shall immediately notify the person who received the overpayment that he or she shall be required to make repayment pursuant to this section and RCW 51.32.230.

(3) Recovery of any overpayment must be taken from future temporary or permanent total disability benefits or permanent partial disability benefits provided by this title. In the case of temporary or permanent total disability benefits, the recovery shall not exceed twenty-five percent of the monthly amount due from the department or self-insurer, as the case may be, or one-sixth of the total overpayment, whichever is the lesser.

(4) No reduction may be made unless the worker receives notice of the reduction prior to the month in which the reduction is made.

(5) In no event shall the reduction reduce total benefits to less than the greater amount the worker may be entitled to under this title or the federal old-age, survivors and disability insurance act.

(6) The ((department)) department or self-insurer, as the case may be, pursuant to rules adopted in accordance with the procedures provided in the administrative procedure act, chapter 34.05 RCW, may exercise ((his)) discretion to waive, in whole or in part, the amount of any overpayment where the recovery would be against equity and good conscience.

(7) The amendment in subsection (1) of this section by chapter 63, Laws of 1982 raising the age limit during which the reduction shall be made from age sixty-two to age sixty-five shall apply with respect to workers whose effective entitlement to total disability compensation begins after January 1, 1983.

Sec. 36. RCW 51.32.225 and 1986 c 59 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) For persons receiving compensation for temporary or permanent total disability under this title, the compensation shall be reduced by the department or self-insurer, as the case may be, to allow an offset for social security retirement benefits payable under the federal social security, old age survivors, and disability insurance act, 42 U.S.C. This reduction shall not apply to any worker who is receiving permanent total disability benefits prior to July 1, 1986.

(2) Reductions for social security retirement benefits under this section shall comply with the procedures in RCW 51.32.220 (1) through (6), except those that relate to computation, and with any other procedures established by the department to administer this section.

(3) Any reduction in compensation made under chapter 58, Laws of 1986, shall be made before the reduction established in this section.

Sec. 37. RCW 51.32.230 and 1979 ex.s. c 151 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

Notwithstanding any other provisions of law, any overpayments previously recovered under the provisions of RCW 51.32.220 (as now or hereafter amended) shall be limited to six months’ overpayments. Where greater recovery has already been made, the director((in his)) or the self-insurer, as the case may be, has the discretion((to)) to make restitution in those cases where an extraordinary hardship has been created.

Sec. 38. RCW 51.32.240 and 2001 c 146 s 10 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Whenever any payment of benefits under this title is made because of clerical error, mistake of identity, innocent misrepresentation by or on behalf of the recipient thereof mistakenly acted upon, or any other circumstance of a similar nature, all not induced by fraud, the recipient thereof shall repay it and recoupment may be made from any future payments due to the recipient on any claim with the state fund or self-insurer, as the case may be. The department or self-insurer, as the case may be, must make claim for such repayment or recoupment within one year of the incorrect payment or it will be deemed any claim therefor has been waived. The ((department)) department or self-insurer, as the case may be, pursuant to rules adopted in accordance with the procedures provided in the administrative procedure act, chapter 34.05 RCW, may exercise ((his)) discretion to waive, in whole or in part, the amount of any such timely claim where the recovery would be against equity and good conscience.

(2) Whenever the department or self-insurer, as the case may be, fails to pay benefits because of clerical error, mistake of identity, or innocent misrepresentation, all not induced by recipient fraud, the recipient may request an adjustment of benefits to be paid from the state fund or by the self-insurer, as the case may be, subject to the following:

(a) The recipient must request an adjustment in benefits within one year from the date of the incorrect payment, whether the payment was made by order or otherwise, or it will be deemed any claim therefore has been waived.

(b) The recipient may not seek an adjustment of benefits because of adjudicator error whether the payment was made by order or otherwise. "Adjudicator error" includes the failure to consider information in the claim file, failure to secure adequate information, or an error in judgment.

(3) Whenever the department or self-insurer issues an order rejecting a claim for benefits paid pursuant to RCW (51.32.190 (a)) 51.32.210, after payment for temporary disability benefits has been paid (by a self-insurer pursuant to RCW 51.32.190(3) or by the department pursuant to RCW 51.32.210)), the recipient thereof shall repay such benefits and recoupment may be made from any future payments due to the recipient on any claim with the state fund or self-insurer, as the case may be. The ((department)) department or self-insurer, as the case may be, under rules adopted in accordance with the procedures provided in the administrative procedure act, chapter 34.05 RCW, may exercise discretion to waive, in whole or in part, the amount of any such payments where the recovery would be against equity and good conscience.

(4) Whenever any payment of benefits under this title has been made pursuant to an adjudication by the department or self-insurer or by order of the board or any court and timely appeal therefrom has been made where the final decision is that any such payment was made pursuant to an erroneous adjudication, the recipient thereof shall repay it and recoupment may be made from any future payments due to the recipient on any claim with the state fund or self-insurer, as the case may be. The ((department)) department or self-insurer, as the case may be, pursuant to rules adopted in accordance with the
The [director, director’s designee,] department or self-insurer, as the case may be, may file with the clerk in any county within the state a warrant in the amount of the sum representing the unpaid overpayment and/or penalty, plus interest accruing from the date the order became final. The clerk of the county in which the warrant is filed shall immediately designate a superior court cause number for such warrant and the clerk shall cause to be entered in the judgment docket under the superior court cause number assigned to the warrant, the name of the worker, beneficiary, or other person mentioned in the warrant, the amount of the unpaid overpayment and/or penalty plus interest accrued, and the date the warrant was filed. The amount of the warrant as docketed shall become a lien upon the title to and interest in all real and personal property of the worker, beneficiary, or other person against whom the warrant is issued, the same as a judgment in a civil case docketed in the office of such clerk. The sheriff shall then proceed in the same manner and with like effect as prescribed by law with respect to execution or other process issued against rights or property upon judgment in the superior court. Such warrant so docketed shall be sufficient to support the issuance of writs of garnishment in favor of the department or self-insurer, as the case may be, in the manner provided by law in the case of judgment, wholly or partially unsatisfied. The clerk of the court shall be entitled to a filing fee under RCW 36.18.012(10), which shall be added to the amount of the warrant. A copy of such warrant shall be mailed to the worker, beneficiary, or other person within three days of filing with the clerk.

The [director, director’s designee,] department or self-insurer, as the case may be, may issue to any person, firm, corporation, municipal corporation, political subdivision of the state, public corporation, or agency of the state, a notice to withhold and deliver property of any kind if there is reason to believe that there is in the possession of such person, firm, corporation, municipal corporation, political subdivision of the state, public corporation, or agency of the state, property that is due, owing, or belonging to any worker, beneficiary, or other person upon whom a warrant has been served for payments due the department or self-insurer. The notice and order to withhold and deliver shall be served by certified mail accompanied by an affidavit of service by mailing or served by the sheriff of the county, or by the sheriff’s deputy, or by any authorized representative of the [director, director’s designee,] department or self-insurer. Any person, firm, corporation, municipal corporation, political subdivision of the state, public corporation, or agency of the state upon whom service has been made shall answer the notice within twenty days exclusive of the day of service, under oath and in writing, and shall make true answers to the matters inquired or in the notice and order to withhold and deliver. In the event there is in the possession of the party named and served with such notice and order, any property that may be subject to the claim of the department or self-insurer, such property shall be delivered forthwith to the [director, director’s designee,] department or self-insurer upon demand. If the party served and named in the notice and order fails to answer the notice and order within the time provided in this section, the court may, after the time to answer such order has expired, render judgment by default against the party named in the notice for the full amount, plus costs, claimed by the [director, director’s designee,] department or self-insurer in the notice. In the event that a notice to withhold and deliver is served upon an employer and the property found to be subject thereto is wages, the employer may assert in the answer all exemptions provided for by chapter 6.27 RCW to which the wage earner may be entitled.

This subsection shall only apply to orders assessing an overpayment which are issued on or after July 28, 1991: PROVIDED, That this subsection shall apply retroactively to all orders assessing an overpayment resulting from fraud, civil or criminal.

Sec. 39. RCW 51.32.250 and 1988 c 161 s 10 are each amended to read as follows: Modification of the injured worker’s previous job or modification of a new job is recognized as a desirable method of returning the injured worker to gainful employment. In order to assist employers in meeting the costs of job modification, and to encourage employers to modify jobs to accommodate retaining or hiring workers with disabilities resulting from work-related injury, the [supervisor or the supervisor’s designee,] department, in its discretion, may pay job modification costs in an amount not to exceed five thousand dollars per worker per job modification. This payment is intended to be a cooperative participation with the employer and funds shall be taken from the appropriate account within the second injury fund.

The benefits provided for in this section are available to any otherwise eligible worker regardless of the date of industrial injury.

Sec. 40. RCW 51.36.010 and 1986 c 58 s 6 are each amended to read as follows: Upon the occurrence of any injury to a worker entitled to compensation under the provisions of this title, he or she shall receive proper and necessary medical and surgical services at the hands of a physician of his or her own choice, if conveniently located, and proper and necessary hospital care and services during the period of his or her disability from such injury, but the same shall be limited in point of duration as follows:

In the case of permanent partial disability, not to extend beyond the date when compensation shall be awarded him or her, except when the worker returned to work before permanent partial disability award is made, in such case not to extend beyond the time when monthly allowances to him or her shall cease; in case of temporary disability not to extend beyond the time when monthly allowances to him or her shall cease. PROVIDED, However, after any injured worker has returned to his or her work his or her medical and surgical treatment may be continued if, and so long as, such continuation is deemed necessary by the [supervisor of industrial insurance,] department or self-insurer, as the case may be, to be necessary... to his or her more complete recovery; in case of a permanent total disability not to extend beyond the date on which a lump sum settlement is made with him or her or he or she is placed upon the permanent pension roll (PROVIDED, HOWEVER, THAT), The ((supervisor of industrial insurance) department, solely in its discretion, may authorize continued medical and surgical treatment for conditions previously accepted (by the department) when such medical and surgical treatment is deemed necessary by the ((supervisor of industrial insurance) department to protect such worker’s life or provide for the administration of medical and therapeutic measures including payment of prescription medications, but not including those controlled substances currently scheduled by the state board of pharmacy as Schedule I, II, III, or IV substances under chapter 69.50 RCW, which are necessary to alleviate continuing pain which results from the industrial injury. In order to authorize such continued treatment the written order of the ((supervisor of industrial insurance) department issued in advance of the continuation shall be necessary.

The ((supervisor of industrial insurance, the supervisor’s designee) department or a self-insurer, as the case may be, in its discretion, may authorize inoculation or other immunological treatment in cases in which a work-related activity has resulted in probable exposure of the worker to a potential infectious occupational disease. Authorization of such treatment does not bind the department or self-insurer in any adjudication of a claim by the same worker or the worker’s beneficiary for an occupational disease.

Subject to the other provisions of this title, the health services that are available to an injured worker under RCW 51.36.010 include chiropractic care and evaluation. For the purposes of assisting the department or self-insurer in making claims determinations, an injured worker may be required by the department or self-insurer, as the case may be, to undergo examination by a chiropractor licensed under chapter 18.25 RCW.

Sec. 42. RCW 51.36.020 and 1999 c 395 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) When the injury to any worker is so serious as to require him or her to be taken from the place of injury to a place of treatment, his or her employer shall, at the expense of the medical aid fund, or self-insurer, as the case may be, furnish transportation to the nearest place of proper treatment.

Every worker whose injury results in the loss of one or more limbs or eyes shall be provided with proper artificial substitutes and every worker, who suffers an injury to an eye producing an error of refraction, shall be once provided for the treatment of any such worker, or upon any other matters concerning such workers in their care.

All mechanical appliances necessary in the treatment of an injured worker, such as braces, belts, casts, and crutches, shall be provided and all mechanical appliances required as permanent equipment after treatment has been completed shall continue to be provided or replaced without regard to the date of injury or date treatment was completed, notwithstanding any other provision of law.

(6) A worker, whose injury is of such short duration as to bring him or her within the time limit provisions of RCW 51.32.090, shall nevertheless receive during the omitted period medical, surgical, and hospital care and service and transportation under the provisions of this chapter.

(7) Whenever in the sole discretion of the ((supervisor)) department or self-insurer, as the case may be, it is reasonable and necessary to provide residence modifications necessary to meet the needs and requirements of the worker who has sustained catastrophic injury, the department or self-insurer may (be ordered to) pay an amount not to exceed the state’s average annual wage for one year, as determined under RCW 50.04.355, toward the cost of such modifications or construction. Such payment shall only be made for the construction or modification of a residence in which the injured worker resides. Only one residence of any worker may be modified or constructed under this subsection, although ((the supervisor may order)) there may be more than one payment for any one home, up to the maximum amount permitted by this section.

(8)(a) Whenever in the sole discretion of the ((supervisor)) department or self-insurer, as the case may be, it is reasonable and necessary to modify a motor vehicle owned by a worker who has become an amputee or becomes paralyzed because of an industrial injury, the ((supervisor may order)) department or self-insurer may pay up to fifty percent of the state’s average annual wage for one year, as determined under RCW 50.04.355, toward the costs thereof.

(b) In the sole discretion of the ((supervisor)) department or self-insurer, as the case may be, after ((his or her)) its review, the amount paid under this subsection may be increased by no more than four thousand dollars by written order ((of the supervisor)).

The benefits provided by subsections (7) and (8) of this section are available to any otherwise eligible worker regardless of the date of industrial injury.

Sec. 43. RCW 51.36.060 and 1991 c 89 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

Physicians examining or attending injured workers under this title shall comply with rules and regulations adopted by the director, and shall make such reports as may be requested by the department or self-insurer upon the condition or treatment of any such worker, or upon any other matters concerning such workers in their care. Except under RCW 49.17.210 and 49.17.250, all medical information in the possession or control of any person and relevant to the particular injury in the opinion of the department or self-insurer pertaining to any worker whose injury or occupational disease is the basis of a claim under this title shall be made available at any stage of the proceedings to the employer, the claimant’s representative, and the department upon request, and no person shall incur any legal liability by reason of releasing such information.

Sec. 44. RCW 51.36.070 and 2001 c 152 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

Whenever the ((director)) department or the self-insurer, as the case may be, deems it necessary in order to resolve any medical issue, a worker shall submit to examination by a physician or physicians selected by the ((director)) department or self-insurer, with the rendition of a report to the person ordering the examination. The department or self-insurer shall provide the physician performing an examination with all relevant medical records from the worker’s claim file. (The cost of such examination (or examinations to the self-insurer or to the medical aid fund as the case may be) shall be borne by the self-insurer in a self-insured claim. The cost of said examination shall include payment to the worker of reasonable expenses connected therewith.

Sec. 45. RCW 51.48.017 and 1985 c 347 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:
(1) If a self-insurer unreasonably delays or refuses to provide benefits to the worker as they become due ((there shall be paid by the self-insurer upon order of the director)), but not after an order closing the claim has become final by operation of law, the department may order the self-insured employer to pay an additional amount equal to five hundred dollars or twenty-five percent of the amount then due, whichever is greater, which shall accrue for the benefit of the claimant and shall be paid to him with the benefits which may be assessed under this title. (The director shall issue an order determining whether there was an unreasonable delay or refusal to pay benefits within thirty days upon the request of the claimant. Such an order

(2) The department may summarily deny a request for penalties if on its face it is deemed frivolous; in all other cases the department shall require the self-insured employer to file a written, substantive response. In such event, the self-insured employer shall have twenty working days to provide relevant documents to the department and respond to the request for penalties by the claimant. The department shall issue an order determining whether there was an unreasonable delay or refusal to pay benefits within sixty days after receipt of the documents requested from the self-insurer. The department may in writing direct the self-insurer to issue an order within ninety days, or to provide good cause why an order cannot be issued. If the self-insurer fails to issue an order or to provide good cause within ninety days, the department may, within thirty days, issue an order determining whether the worker is entitled to the benefits and, if so, directing the self-insurer to provide the benefits.

(3) Any employer who fails to allow adequate inspection in accordance with the requirements of this section is subject to having its certificate of coverage revoked by order of the department and is forever barred from questioning in any proceeding in front of the board of industrial insurance appeals or any court, the correctness of any assessment by the department based on any period for which such records have not been produced for inspection.

(4) Claims processing practices of self-insured employers are subject to audit by the department. Supporting documentation and records shall be maintained in accordance with RCW 51.14.110.

(5) Audits of self-insured employers by the department shall be conducted as necessary to determine compliance with this title and rules adopted by the department to carry out the purposes of this title, but shall not disturb any prior final orders issued in good faith by the self-insured employer that have become final by operation of law.

Sec. 48. RCW 51.48.080 and 1985 c 347 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:
Every person, firm or corporation who violates or fails to obey, observe or comply with any rule of the department promulgated under authority of this title, shall be subject to a penalty of not to exceed five hundred dollars.

Except as provided in subsection (3) of this section, the department may impose penalties not to exceed two thousand five hundred dollars against a self-insured employer when it determines by audit pursuant to RCW 51.48.040 that the self-insured employer has:

(b) Paid its injured workers monetary benefits in incorrect amounts;
(c) Failed to issue allowance or rejection orders on a timely basis;
(d) Failed to issue orders closing a claim within sixty days after the attending physician has found an injured worker to be fixed and stable and a permanent disability level has been established by a preponderance of the medical evidence.

The department may impose penalties not to exceed twenty-five thousand dollars against a self-insured employer when it determines by audit pursuant to RCW 51.48.040 that the self-insured employer has intentionally and repeatedly committed violations set forth in subsection (2)(a) through (d) of this section.

Self-insured employer audits discovering claims processing and clerical errors not involving violations set forth in subsection (2)(a) through (d) of this section are not subject to assessment of penalties.

The department shall adopt a schedule of penalties that will take into account the severity and number of violations.

Orders imposing penalties for violations described in this section shall conform to the requirements of RCW 51.52.050.

Sec. 49. RCW 51.52.050 and 1987 c 151 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

Except as provided in RCW 51.32.095, whenever the department or self-insurer has made any order, decision, or award, the department shall promptly serve a copy of the order or decision, or award on the person affected thereby, with a copy thereof by mail, which shall be addressed to such person at his or her last known address as shown by the records of the department or self-insurer, as the case may be. The copy, in case the same is a final order, decision, or award, shall bear on the same side of the same page on which is found the amount of the award, a statement, set in black faced type of at least ten point body or size, that such final order, decision, or award shall become final within sixty days from the date the order is communicated to the parties unless a written request for reconsideration is filed with the department of labor and industries, Olympia, and in cases involving a self-insurer with the appeals board, or an appeal is filed with the board of industrial insurance appeals, Olympia. However, in an appeal from an order of the department that alleges fraud, the department or self-insured employer shall initially introduce all evidence in its case in chief. Any such person aggrieved by the decision and order of the board may thereafter appeal to the superior court, as prescribed in this chapter.

Except as provided in RCW 51.32.095, if the department is requested to reconsider an order issued by a self-insurer, the department shall promptly request the file from the self-insurer. The department must issue an order affirming, modifying, reversing, or remanding the order within sixty days of receipt of the file from the self-insurer. However, for good cause, the department may once extend the time for issuing an order for an additional sixty days. If the department fails to issue an order within the time frames specified in this section, the self-insurer’s order is deemed affirmed. Subject to appeal, upon receipt of the file in a request for reconsideration, the department shall notify all parties of the dates the department received the request and file, respectively, and the date upon which the self-insurer’s order will be deemed affirmed if the department fails to take action. The notice shall also inform the parties that any appeal pursuant to RCW 51.52.060 must be filed within sixty days from the date the order is deemed affirmed. If such appeal is filed, the department may not direct submission of further evidence under RCW 51.52.06.

Sec. 50. RCW 51.52.060 and 1995 c 253 s 1 and 1995 c 199 s 7 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

Except as otherwise specifically provided in this section, a worker, beneficiary, employer, health services provider, or other person aggrieved by an order, decision, or award of the department or self-insurer must, before he or she appeals to the courts, file with the board and the director, by mail or personally, and in cases involving a self-insurer, with the self-insurer, within sixty days from the day on which a copy of the order, decision, or award was communicated to such person, a notice of appeal to the board. However, a health services provider or other person aggrieved by a department order or decision making demand, whether with or without penalty, solely for repayment of sums paid to a provider of medical, dental, vocational, or other health services rendered to an industrially injured worker must, before he or she appeals to the courts, file with the board and the director, by mail or personally, within twenty days from the day on which a copy of the order or decision was communicated to the health services provider upon whom the department order or decision was served, a notice of appeal to the board.

(2) Within ten days of the date on which an appeal has been granted by the board, the board shall notify the other interested parties to the appeal of the receipt of the appeal and shall forward a copy of the notice of appeal to the other interested parties.
interested parties. Within twenty days of the receipt of such notice of the board, the worker or the employer may file with the board a cross-appeal from the order (of the department) from which the original appeal was taken.

(3) If within the time limited for filing a notice of appeal to the board from an order, decision, or award ((of the department)), the department directs the submission of further evidence or the investigation of any further fact, the time for filing the notice of appeal shall not commence to run until the person has been advised in writing of the final decision of the department in the matter. In the event the department directs the submission of further evidence or the investigation of any further fact, as provided in this section, the department shall render a final order, decision, or award within ninety days from the date further submission of evidence or investigation of further fact is ordered which time period may be extended by the department for good cause stated in writing to all interested parties for an additional ninety days.

(4) The department, either within the time limited for appeal, or within thirty days after receiving a notice of appeal, may:

(a) Modify, reverse, or change any order, decision, or award; or
(b)(i) Except as provided in (b)(ii) of this subsection, hold an order, decision, or award in abeyance for a period of ninety days which time period may be extended by the department for good cause stated in writing to all interested parties for an additional ninety days pending further investigation in light of the allegations of the notice of appeal; or
(ii) Hold an order, decision, or award issued under RCW 51.32.160 in abeyance for a period not to exceed ninety days from the date of receipt of an application under RCW 51.32.160. The department may extend the ninety-day time period for an additional sixty days for good cause.

For purposes of this subsection, good cause includes delay that results from conduct of the claimant that is subject to sanction under RCW 51.32.110.

The board shall deny the appeal upon the issuance of an order under (b)(i) or (ii) of this subsection holding an earlier order, decision, or award in abeyance, without prejudice to the appellant’s right to appeal from any subsequent determinative order issued by the department.

This subsection (4)(b) does not apply to applications deemed granted under RCW 51.32.160.

(5) An employer shall have the right to appeal an application deemed granted under RCW 51.32.160 on the same basis as any other application adjudicated pursuant to that section.

(6) A provision of this section shall not be deemed to change, alter, or modify the practice or procedure of the department for the payment of awards pending appeal.

Sec. 51. RCW 51.52.070 and 1977 ex.s. c 350 s 77 are each amended to read as follows:

The notice of appeal to the board shall set forth in full detail the grounds upon which the person appealing considers such order, decision, or award is unjust or unlawful, and shall include every issue to be considered by the board, and it must contain a detailed statement of facts upon which such worker, beneficiary, employer, or other person relies in support thereof. The worker, beneficiary, employer, or other person shall be deemed to have waived all objections or irregularities concerning the matter on which such appeal is taken other than those specifically set forth in such notice of appeal or appearing in the records of the department or self-insurer. The department or self-insurer shall promptly transmit its original record, or a legible copy thereof produced by mechanical, photographic, or electronic means, in such matter to the board.

Sec. 54. RCW 51.32.190 (Self-insurers—Notice of denial of claim, reasons—Procedure—Powers and duties of director) and 1996 c 58 s 2, 1982 1st ex.s. c 20 s 3, 1977 ex.s. c 350 s 54, 1972 ex.s. c 43 s 25, & 1971 ex.s. c 289 s 47 are each repealed.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 55. This act applies to all open claims and claims for which an application to reopen pursuant to RCW 51.32.160 is filed or pending on or after January 1, 2006.

Sec. 2. RCW 46.20.035 and 1999 c 6 s 8 are each amended to read as follows:
The department may issue a driver’s instruction permit to an applicant if:

(a) A traffic safety education course as defined by RCW 46.82.280(1), except, if the applicant is unable to take a traffic safety education course, an approved instructor, or a licensed driver with at least fifteen years of driving experience, occupies the seat beside the driver.

(b) The written examination for instruction permit for the purposes of this chapter.

(c) The department may waive the written examination, if, at the time of application, an applicant is enrolled in:

(i) A traffic safety education course as defined by RCW 28A.220.020(2); or

(a) Apply to the department to extend the validity of his or her license for no more than twelve months. If the person establishes to the department’s satisfaction that he or she is unable to return to Washington before the date his or her license expires, the department shall extend the person’s license. The department may grant consecutive extensions, but in no event may the cumulative total of extensions exceed twelve months. An extension granted under this section does not change the expiration date of the license for purposes of RCW 46.20.181. The department shall charge a fee of five dollars for each license extension.

(b) Apply to the department to renew his or her license by mail or, if permitted by rule of the department, by electronic commerce even if subsection (3)(b) of this section would not otherwise allow renewal by that means. If the person establishes to the department’s satisfaction that he or she is unable to return to Washington within twelve months of the date that his or her license expires, the department shall renew the person’s license by mail or, if permitted by rule of the department, by electronic commerce.

The license may be issued with additional endorsements and restrictions as established by rule of the director.

(4) Before issuing a commercial driver’s license, the department shall obtain driving record information through the commercial driver’s license information system, the national driver register, and from the current state of record.

(5) Within ten days after issuing a commercial driver’s license, the department must notify the commercial driver’s license information system of that fact, and provide all information required to ensure identification of the person.
(6) A commercial driver’s license shall expire in the same manner as provided in RCW 46.20.181.

The department may adopt necessary rules and procedures to allow use of credit and debit cards for payment of fees and excise taxes to the department and its agents or subagents related to the licensing of drivers, the issuance of identicards, and vehicle and vessel titling and registration. The department may establish a convenience fee to be paid by the credit or debit card user whenever a credit or debit card is chosen as the payment method. The fee must be sufficient to offset the charges imposed on the department and its agents by credit and debit card companies. In no event may the use of credit or debit cards authorized by this section create a loss of revenue to the state.

The use of a personal credit card does not rely upon the credit of the state as prohibited by Article VIII, section 5 of the state Constitution.”

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Mulliken: “Would Senator Horn yield to a question? The question that I have is on page four of the striking amendment. I’m not quite sure that I understand the ramifications. This is not about online registration, this is about a person applying to renew an agriculture driving permit must submit the application to the department in person. Agriculture and rural don’t always have a department near enough to make it possible in person.”

Senator Horn: “I think what we’re saying is an agriculture driving permit that has special situations can’t be done over the internet. As you know people who get those agricultural license do make the application now. DOL has to visit with them, they set up the conditions the routes they would drive and so that would mean that process would continue as is and not be subject to renewal over the internet.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Sheahan: “A point of personal privilege. Thank you Mr. President and members of the body. I have some sad news to pass along to the members of the Senate today. One of my mentors and a good friend and a friend of many people in this body passed away on Sunday. Senator Pat Patterson. He was the Senator from the ninth district. Senator Patterson again was a very good friend of mine. He was born in Pullman, he was the head WSU Alumni Relations for twenty-four years; member of the Legislature for twenty years including twelve years here in the Senate; and as you know, I know Senator Haugen worked very close, closely with him on transportation issues. He was very bi-partisan, a wonderful man and he also married his childhood sweetheart from Pullman, Maxine, who many of you probably know. What you probably don’t know, I’m sure he never talked about it because he’s a very humble guy. He served in the Army, he earned the Bronze Star and Purple Heart serving in the South Pacific at Guadalcanal and New Georgia. On a personal note, he was my mentor. When I was in high school, I was a Page for him when he served in the House of Representatives. When I finished law school I called him up and I said, ‘Senator Patterson, I’d like to work in the Legislature’ and he said, ‘Come work for me in 1997.’ I worked for him as his session aide. And so he was a wonderful guy and wonderful family man and I just wanted to let all you know that he passed away and to send my condolences on behalf of the Senate to his wonderful seven children and his lovely wife, Maxine. Thank you Mr. President.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

 Senator Deccio: “A point of personal privilege. I too mourn the passing of Gean Patterson (Pat). Pat had the terrible job of being my mentor when I went to the House. I sat right next to him and I think often times he thought of resigning. Pat was a great guy. The days that we spoke on the floor, I didn’t but he did. We played penny Ante poker and Bob McCaslin always won. No, Pat was a great guy and he’s one of those who broke the mold and certainly agree with the remarks made by the Senator.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

 Senator McCaslin: “A point of personal privilege. Of course Pat and I were friends. We didn’t always agree on everything but at the end of every session someone in caucus would yell ‘crunch bird story’. Remember that Alex? I can’t tell that in mixed company, meaning mixed Republicans and mixed Democrats. But Pat always told that story and he just brought the house down but it kind of relieved the caucus because as we all know at the end of any session, it gets pretty tense, but we played poker with Pat. Alex, he was one of the slowest poker players I’ve ever seen in my life. Used to just drive me crazy. ‘Are you going to bet or not?’ you know, someone would yell at him and he also was a golf instructor. He was also very slow at golf and if you’re a fast golfer, like some of the pros are, you know it kind of get’s you nervous. Terrific individual, terrific Senator and terrific family man and we’ll all miss him.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

 Senator Haugen: “A point of personal privilege. Well, I have to stand and tell what a great man he was for transportation in the state of Washington. He was someone who recognized that transportation was an important element for the total state of Washington. He really did work hard to make sure that all parts of the state of Washington was taken care of and he recognized the big picture. He was here during the time when we did pass gas tax. And he was one who led the charge on it, because he recognized how important it was for people his areas as well as ours. He was a fine man, somebody that we all are going to miss dearly. He was the kind of person that really was a statesman, a statesman not only for the people that he represented but for all of us. I wish his family every blessing there is during this time and I know that they have a lot of great memories because he was such a great man. Their lives are a lot better because he was here.”

MOTION

At 12:04 p.m., on motion of Senator Esser, the Senate was declared to be at ease subject to the Call of the President.

The Senate was called to order at 1:51 p.m. by President Owen.

(1) There is created a correctional industries board of directors which shall have the composition provided in RCW 72.09.080.

(2) Consistent with general department of corrections policies and procedures pertaining to the general administration of correctional facilities, the board shall establish and implement policy for correctional industries programs designed to:

(a) Offer inmates meaningful employment, work experience, and training in vocations that are specifically designed to reduce recidivism and thereby enhance public safety by providing opportunities for legitimate means of livelihood upon their release from custody;

(b) Provide industries which will reduce the tax burden of corrections and save taxpayers money through production of goods and services for sale and use;

(c) Operate correctional work programs in an effective and efficient manner which are as similar as possible to those provided by the private sector;

(d) Encourage the development of and provide for selection of, contracting for, and supervision of work programs with participating private enterprise firms;

(e) Develop and (design) select correctional industries work programs that do not unfairly compete with Washington businesses;

(f) Invest available funds in correctional industries enterprises and meaningful work programs that minimize the impact on in-state jobs and businesses.

(3) The board of directors shall at least annually review the work performance of the director of correctional industries division with the secretary.

(4) The director of correctional industries division shall review and evaluate the productivity, funding, and appropriateness of all correctional work programs and report on their effectiveness to the board and to the secretary.

(5) The board of directors shall have the authority to identify and establish trade advisory or apprenticeship committees to advise them on correctional industries work programs. The secretary shall appoint the members of the committees.

Where a labor management trade advisory and apprenticeship committee has already been established by the department pursuant to RCW 72.62.050 the existing committee shall also advise the board of directors.

(6) The board shall develop a strategic yearly marketing plan that shall be consistent with and work towards achieving the goals established in the six-year phased expansion of class I and class II correctional industries established in RCW 72.09.111. This marketing plan shall be presented to the appropriate committees of the legislature by January 17 of each calendar year until the goals set forth in RCW 72.09.111 are achieved.

Sec. 2. RCW 72.09.100 and 2002 c 175 s 49 are each amended to read as follows:

It is the intent of the legislature to vest in the department the power to provide for a comprehensive inmate work program and to remove statutory and other restrictions which have limited work programs in the past. It is also the intent of the legislature to ensure that the correctional industries board of directors, in developing and selecting correctional industries work programs, does not encourage the development of, or provide for selection of or contracting for, or the significant expansion of, any new or existing class I correctional industries work programs that unfairly compete with Washington businesses. The legislature intends that the requirements relating to fair competition in the correctional industries work programs be liberally construed to protect Washington businesses from unfair competition.

For purposes of establishing such a comprehensive program, the legislature recommends that the department consider adopting any or all, or any variation of, the following classes of work programs:

(1) CLASS I: FREE VENTURE INDUSTRIES.
   (a) The employer model industries in this class shall be operated and managed in total or in part by any profit or nonprofit organization pursuant to an agreement between the organization and the department. The organization shall produce goods or services for sale to both the public and private sector.
   (b) The customer model industries in this class shall be operated and managed by the department to provide Washington state manufacturers or businesses with products or services currently produced or provided by out-of-state or foreign suppliers.
   (c) The correctional industries board of directors shall review these proposed industries, including any potential new class I industries work program or the significant expansion of an existing class I industries work program, before the department contracts to provide such products or services. The review shall include (i) an analysis of the potential impact of the proposed products and services on the state business community and labor market required under section 4 of this act to determine if the proposed correctional industries work program will compete with any Washington business. An agreement for a new class I correctional industries work program, or an agreement for a significant expansion of an existing class I correctional industries work program, that unfairly competes with any Washington business is prohibited.
   (d) The department of corrections shall supply appropriate security and custody services without charge to the participating firms.
   (e) Inmates who work in free venture industries shall do so at their own choice. They shall be paid a wage comparable to the wage paid for work of a similar nature in the locality in which the industry is located, as determined by the director of correctional industries. If the director cannot reasonably determine the comparable wage, then the pay shall not be less than the federal minimum wage.
   (f) An inmate who is employed in the class I program of correctional industries shall not be eligible for unemployment compensation benefits pursuant to any of the provisions of Title 50 RCW until released on parole or discharged.

(2) CLASS II: TAX REDUCTION INDUSTRIES.
   (a) Industries in this class shall be state-owned and operated enterprises designed to reduce the costs for goods and services for tax-supported agencies and for nonprofit organizations.
   (b) The industries selected for development within this class shall, as much as possible, match the available pool of inmate work skills and aptitudes with the work opportunities in the free community. The industries shall be closely patterned after private sector industries but with the objective of reducing public support costs rather than making a profit. The products and services of this industry, including purchased products and services necessary for a complete product line, may be sold to public agencies, to nonprofit organizations, and to private contractors when the goods purchased will be ultimately used by a public agency, by a nonprofit organization, or by a private contractor when the goods purchased will be ultimately used by a public agency, by a nonprofit organization, or by a private contractor. Clothing manufactured by an industry in this class may be donated to nonprofit organizations that provide clothing free of charge to low-income persons.
   (c)(i) Class II correctional industries products and services shall be reviewed by the correctional industries board of directors before offering such products and services for sale to private contractors.
   (ii) The board of directors shall conduct a yearly marketing review of the products and services offered under this subsection. Such review shall include an analysis of the potential impact of the proposed products and services on the Washington state business community. To avoid waste or spoilage and consequent loss to the state(\textsuperscript{e}) when there is no public sector market for such goods, byproducts and surpluses of timber, agricultural, and animal husbandry enterprises may be sold to private persons, at private sale. Surplus byproducts and surpluses of timber, agricultural and animal husbandry enterprises that cannot be sold to public agencies or to private persons may be donated to nonprofit organizations. All sales of surplus products shall be carried out in accordance with rules prescribed by the secretary.
   (d) Security and custody services shall be provided without charge by the department of corrections.
   (e) Inmates working in this class of industries shall do so at their own choice and shall be paid for their work on a gratuity scale which shall not exceed the wage paid for work of a similar nature in the locality in which the industry is located and which is approved by the director of correctional industries.
   (f) Subject to approval of the correctional industries board, provisions of RCW 41.06.380 prohibiting contracting out work performed by classified employees shall not apply to contracts with Washington state businesses entered into by the department of corrections through class II industries.

(3) CLASS III: INSTITUTIONAL SUPPORT INDUSTRIES.
   (a) Industries in this class shall be operated by the department of corrections. They shall be designed and managed to accomplish the following objectives:
      (i) Whenever possible, to provide basic work training and experience so that the inmate will be able to qualify for better work both within correctional industries and the free community. Sec. 3. RCW 72.09.100 and 2002 c 354 s 238 and 2002 c 175 s 49 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

It is the intent of the legislature to vest in the department the power to provide for a comprehensive inmate work program and to remove statutory and other restrictions which have limited work programs in the past. It is also the intent of the legislature to ensure that the correctional industries board of directors, in developing and selecting correctional industries work programs, does not encourage the development of, or provide for selection of or contracting for, or the significant expansion of, any new or existing class I correctional industries work programs that unfairly compete with Washington businesses. The legislature intends that the requirements relating to fair competition in the correctional industries work programs be liberally construed to protect Washington businesses from unfair competition. For purposes of establishing such a comprehensive program, the legislature recommends that the department consider adopting any or all, or any variation of, the following classes of work programs:

(1) CLASS I: FREE VENTURE INDUSTRIES.

(a) The employer model industries in this class shall be operated and managed in total or in part by any profit or nonprofit organization pursuant to an agreement between the organization and the department. The organization shall produce goods or services for sale to both the public and private sector.

(b) The customer model industries in this class shall be operated and managed by the department to provide Washington state manufacturers or businesses with products or services currently produced or provided by out-of-state or foreign suppliers.

(c) The correctional industries board of directors shall review these proposed industries, including any potential new class I industries work program or the significant expansion of an existing class I industries work program, before the department contracts to provide such products or services. The review shall include (1) the analysis (2) the potential impact of the proposed products and services on the Washington state business community and labor market) required under section 4 of this act to determine if the proposed correctional industries work program will compete with any Washington business. An agreement for a new class I correctional industries work program, or an agreement for a significant expansion of an existing class I correctional industries work program, that unfairly competes with any Washington business is prohibited.

(d) The department of corrections shall supply appropriate security and custody services without charge to the participating firms.

(e) Inmates who work in free venture industries shall do so at their own choice. They shall be paid a wage comparable to the wage paid for work of a similar nature in the locality in which the industry is located, as determined by the director of correctional industries. If the director cannot reasonably determine the comparable wage, then the pay shall not be less than the federal minimum wage.

(f) An inmate who is employed in the class I program of correctional industries shall not be eligible for unemployment compensation benefits pursuant to any of the provisions of Title 50 RCW until released on parole or discharged.

(2) CLASS II: TAX REDUCTION INDUSTRIES.

(a) Industries in this class shall be state-owned and operated enterprises designed to reduce the costs for goods and services for tax-supported agencies and for nonprofit organizations.
(b) The industries selected for development within this class shall, as much as possible, match the available pool of inmate work skills, and aptitudes with the work opportunities in the free community. The industries shall be closely patterned after private sector industries but with the objective of reducing public support costs rather than making a profit. The products and services of this industry, including purchased products and services necessary for a complete product line, may be sold to public agencies, to nonprofit organizations, and to private contractors when the goods purchased will be ultimately used by a public agency or a nonprofit organization. Clothing manufactured by an industry in this class may be donated to nonprofit organizations that provide clothing free of charge to low-income persons.

(c)(i) Class II correctional industries products and services shall be reviewed by the correctional industries board of directors before offering such products and services for sale to private contractors.

(ii) The board of directors shall conduct a yearly marketing review of the products and services offered under this subsection. Such review shall include an analysis of the potential impact of the proposed products and services on the Washington state business community. To avoid waste or spoilage and consequent loss to the state, when there is no public sector market for such goods, byproducts and surpluses of timber, agricultural, and animal husbandry enterprises may be sold to private persons, at private sale. Surplus byproducts and surpluses of timber, agricultural and animal husbandry enterprises that cannot be sold to public agencies or to private persons may be donated to nonprofit organizations. All sales of surplus products shall be carried out in accordance with rules prescribed by the secretary.

(d) Security and custody services shall be provided without charge by the department of corrections.

(e) Inmates working in this class of industries shall do so at their own choice and shall be paid for their work on a gratuity scale which shall not exceed the wage paid for work of a similar nature in the locality in which the industry is located and which is approved by the director of correctional industries.

(f) Subject to approval of the correctional industries board, provisions of RCW 41.06.142 shall not apply to contracts with Washington state businesses entered into by the department of corrections through class II industries.

(5) CLASS IV: COMMUNITY WORK INDUSTRIES.

(a) Industries in this class shall be operated by the department of corrections. They shall be designed and managed to accomplish the following objectives:

(i) Whenever possible, to provide basic work training and experience so that the inmate will be able to qualify for better work both within correctional industries and the free community. It is not intended that an inmate’s work within this class of industries should be his or her final and total work experience as an inmate.

(ii) Whenever possible, to provide forty hours of work or work training per week.

(iii) Whenever possible, to offset tax and other public support costs.

(b) Class III industries shall be reviewed by the correctional industries board of directors to set policy for work crews. The department shall present to the board of directors quarterly detail statements showing where work crews worked, what correctional industry class, and the hours worked. The board of directors may review any class III program at its discretion.

(c) Inmates in this class shall reside in facilities owned by, contracted for, or licensed by the department of corrections. A unit of local government shall provide work supervision services without charge to the state and shall pay the inmate’s wage.

(d) The department of corrections shall reimburse participating units of local government for liability and workers compensation insurance costs.

(e) Inmates who work in this class of industries shall do so at their own choice and shall receive a gratuity which shall not exceed the wage paid for work of a similar nature in the locality in which the industry is located.

(5) CLASS V: COMMUNITY RESTITUTION PROGRAMS.

(a) Programs in this class shall be subject to supervision by the department of corrections. The purpose of this class of industries is to enable an inmate placed on community supervision, to work off all or part of a community restitution order as ordered by the sentencing court.

(b) Employment shall be in a community restitution program operated by the state, local units of government, or a nonprofit agency.

(c) To the extent that funds are specifically made available for such purposes, the department of corrections shall reimburse nonprofit agencies for workers compensation insurance costs.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 72.09 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The department must prepare a threshold analysis for any proposed new class I correctional industries work program or the significant expansion of an existing class I correctional industries work program before the department enters into an agreement to provide such products or services. The analysis must state whether the proposed new or expanded program will impact any Washington business and must be based on information sufficient to evaluate the impact on Washington business.
(2) If the threshold analysis determines that a proposed new or expanded class I correctional industries work program will impact a Washington business, the department must complete a business impact analysis before the department enters into an agreement to provide such products or services. The business impact analysis must include:

(a) A detailed statement identifying the scope and types of impacts caused by the proposed new or expanded correctional industries work program on Washington businesses; and

(b) A detailed statement of the business costs of the proposed correctional industries work program compared to the business costs of the Washington businesses that may be impacted by the proposed class I correctional industries work program. Business costs of the proposed correctional industries work program include rent, water, sewer, electriciy, disposal, labor costs, and any other quantifiable expenses unique to operating in a prison. Business costs of the impacted Washington business include rent, water, sewer, electricity, disposal, property taxes, and labor costs including employee taxes, unemployment insurance, and workers’ compensation.

(3) The completed threshold analysis and any completed business impact analysis with all supporting documents must be shared in a meaningful and timely manner with local chambers of commerce, trade or business associations, local and state labor union organizations, and government entities before a finding required under subsection (4) of this section is made on the proposed new or expanded class I correctional industries work program.

(4) If a business impact analysis is completed, the department must conduct a public hearing to take public testimony on the business impact analysis. The department must, at a minimum, establish a publicly accessible web site containing information reasonably calculated to provide notice to each Washington business assigned the same three-digit standard industrial classification code, or the corresponding North American Industry classification system code, as the organization seeking the class I correctional industries work program agreement of the date, time, and place of the hearing. Notice of the hearing shall be posted at least thirty days prior to the hearing.

(5) Following the public hearing, the department shall adopt a finding that the proposed new or expanded class I correctional industries work program:

(a) Will not compete with any Washington business; (b) will not compete unfairly with any Washington business; or (c) will compete unfairly with any Washington business and is therefore prohibited under this act.

Sec. 5. RCW 72.09.460 and 1998 c 244 s 10 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The legislature intends that all inmates be required to participate in department-approved education programs, work programs, or both, unless exempted under subsection (4) of this section. Eligible inmates who are required to contribute financially to an education or work program and refuse to contribute shall be placed in another work program. The department must make every effort to achieve maximum public benefit by placing inmates in available and appropriate education and work programs.

(2) The department shall provide access to a program of education to all offenders who are under the age of eighteen and who have not met high school graduation or general equivalency diploma requirements in accordance with chapter 28A.193 RCW. (b) Additional work and education programs based on assessments and placements under subsection (5) of this section; and

(c) Other work and education programs as appropriate.

(4) The department shall establish, by rule, objective medical standards to determine when an inmate is physically or mentally unable to participate in any available education or work program due to a medical condition, the inmate is exempt from the requirement under subsection (1) of this section. The department shall track and record changes in the basic academic skill levels of all inmates reflected in any testing or assessment performed as part of their education programming.

The department shall establish a formula by which inmates, based on their ability to pay, shall pay all or a portion of the costs of tuition of certain programs. Inmates shall, based on the formula, pay a portion of the costs or tuition of participation:

(i) To an inmate's work history and vocational or work skills;

Sec. 10. RCW 29A.12.110 and 2003 c 111 s 311 are each amended to read as follows:
In preparing a voting device for a primary or election, a record ((shall)) must be made of the ballot format installed in each device and the precincts or portion of a precinct for which that device has been prepared. At least three days before each state primary or general election, the office of the secretary of state shall provide for the conduct of tests of the programming for each vote tallying system to be used at that primary or general election. The test must verify that the system will correctly count the vote cast for all candidates and on all measures appearing on the ballot at that primary or general election. The test ((shall)) must verify the capability of the vote tallying system to perform all of the functions that can reasonably be expected to occur during conduct of that particular primary or election. If any error is detected, the cause ((shall)) must be determined and corrected, and an errorless total ((shall)) must be produced before the primary or election. Such tests ((shall)) must be observed by at least one representative from each major political party, if representatives have been appointed by the respective major political parties and are present at the test, and ((shall)) must be open to candidates, the press, and the public. The county auditor and any political party observers shall certify that the test has been conducted in accordance with this section. The county auditor must provide signed, written verification that the version of the voting system and software used are state certified. Copies of this verification and the test certification ((shall)) must be retained by the secretary of state and the county auditor. All programming materials, test results, and test ballots ((shall)) must be securely ((sealed)) stored until the day of the primary or general election. All ballot counting equipment must be stored, kept in a secure location, and protected against unauthorized access until election day.

Sec. 12. RCW 29A.12.150 and 2003 c 111 s 315 are each amended to read as follows:
(1) No voting device or machine may be used ((in a county with a population of seventy thousand or more)) to conduct a primary or general or special election in this state unless it correctly records on a separate ballot the votes cast by each elector for any person and for or against any measure and such separate ballots are available for audit purposes after such a primary or election. After January 1, 2006, no voting device or machine may be used to conduct a primary or general or special election that uses punched holes to record the voter’s choices.

(2) The secretary of state shall not certify under this title any voting device or machine for use in conducting a primary or general or special election in this state unless the device or machine correctly records on a separate ballot the votes cast by each elector for any person and for or against any measure and such separate ballots are available for audit purposes after such a primary or election. The secretary of state may not certify under this title any voting device or machine for use in conducting a primary or general or special election that uses punched holes to record the voter’s choices.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. A new section is added to chapter 29A.12 RCW to read as follows:
The secretary of state may withdraw the certification of any voting system hardware, software, or system component for cause. Before withdrawing a certification the secretary of state shall conduct a public hearing intended to document and allow input from affected system users and vendors before rendering a decision. The secretary of state shall post the report of withdrawal of certification to a publicly available electronic medium and transmit notice of withdrawal of certification under this section to each county auditor within five days after completing the examination.

Sec. 14. RCW 29A.44.320 and 2003 c 111 s 1130 are each amended to read as follows:
Whenever poll-site ballot counting devices or poll-site based electronic voting devices are used, the devices may either be included with the supplies required in RCW 29A.44.110 or they may be delivered to the polling place separately. All poll-site ballot counting devices and poll-site based electronic voting devices must be sealed with a unique numbered seal at the time of final preparation and logic and accuracy testing. The seal must secure against unauthorized access. A log must be made of all seal numbers and device numbers used.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. A new section is added to chapter 29A.44 RCW to read as follows:
Before each state primary or general election logic and accuracy testing of precinct-based systems or electronic voting devices must be performed by the county under the observation of the office of the secretary of state during the process of final preparation before system distribution to each polling place. For all other elections the logic and accuracy test must be performed by the county auditor before system distribution. As each ballot counter or electronic voting system is programmed and set up for distribution a logic and accuracy test must be performed. These tests must establish that each system is functioning within system standards. All ballot styles programmed for each machine must be processed by each machine in order to ensure that the machine is correctly counting and accumulating votes for every office. After all tests are performed and the machine is ready for distribution, the machine must be sealed and the seal number recorded. The procedure described in this section will serve as the official logic and accuracy test of these devices.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. A new section is added to chapter 29A.44 RCW to read as follows:
A log must be created during the testing of poll-site based ballot counters and electronic voting devices. The log must record the time and place of each test, the precinct number, seal number, and machine number of each ballot counter or voting device, and the initials of each person testing and observing the test for each machine. This log must be included in the official logic and accuracy test materials. The processes described in section 15 of this act must be open to observation and subject to all notices and observers under rules adopted by the secretary of state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. A new section is added to chapter 29A.44 RCW to read as follows:

(d) The findings of the secretary of state as to any potential or known risks of voting fraud, or actual instance of voting fraud during the previous year;
(e) A list of the voting system technologies certified for use in this state.
(3) Subsection (2) of this section expires July 1, 2006.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. A new section is added to chapter 29A.44 RCW to read as follows:
All poll-site based electronic voting devices shall produce an individual paper record, at the time of voting, that may be reviewed by the voter before finalizing and casting his or her vote. This record may not be removed from the polling place and must be machine readable for counting purposes. If the device is programmed to display the ballot in multiple languages, the paper record produced must be printed in the language used by each voter. The system must allow the voter the option of spoiling the paper record and repeating the voting process, if after examining the paper record but before finalizing and casting his or her vote, the voter determines that the record does not reflect his or her vote. The spoiled record must either be destroyed or marked in order to clearly identify the record as spoiled.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. A new section is added to chapter 29A.44 RCW to read as follows:
Paper records produced by poll-site based electronic voting devices are subject to all of the requirements of this chapter and chapter 29A.60 RCW for ballot handling, preservation, reconciliation, transit to the counting center, and storage. The paper records must be preserved in the same manner and for the same period of time as ballots.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. A new section is added to chapter 29A.44 RCW to read as follows:
The electronic record produced and counted by poll-site electronic voting devices is the official record of each vote for election purposes. The paper record produced under section 18 of this act must be stored and maintained for use only in the following specified circumstances:
(1) In the event of a mandatory manual recount of votes under RCW 29A.64.020;
(2) In the event of a requested recount under RCW 29A.64.010;
(3) By order of the county canvassing board;
(4) By order of the superior court of a county; or
(5) For use in the random audit of results described in section 25 of this act. A voter voting on a poll-site based electronic voting system may not leave the device during the voting process except to verify his or her ballot, or to request assistance from the precinct election officers, until the voting process is completed.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. A new section is added to chapter 29A.60 RCW to read as follows:
Ballot counting systems must be secured physically and electronically against unauthorized access. Ballot counting systems must not be connected to, or operated on, any electronic network including internal office networks, the Internet, or the World Wide Web. Wireless communications may not be used in any way in a voting system. A network may be used as an internal, integral part of the ballot counting system, but that network must not be connected to any other network, the Internet, or the World Wide Web. All elements of the ballot counting system must be observable and secured. Transfer of information from the ballot counting system to another system for network connection or broadcast must be made via disk, tape, or other physical means of communication other than direct electronic connection.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 23. A new section is added to chapter 29A.60 RCW to read as follows:

Before the first ballot counting session in each election, a report must be produced demonstrating that the system contains no vote data before commencement of counting ballots. At the completion of each ballot counting session, the ballot counting system must produce a report of the results compiled that includes date and time information. Before commencing any additional ballot counting session, a report of the results contained in the system must be produced that includes date and time information. This report must be compared with the report produced at the end of the previous ballot counting session to ensure that no changes have been made to the vote data in the interim period. This comparison must be performed in the presence of political party observers if representatives have been appointed by their respective political parties and are present at the time of comparison. This procedure must be employed for subsequent counting sessions. Nothing in this section precludes a county from zeroing individual devices in subsequent counting sessions if a report is created after each session and before the next, with the results being merged into the total.

Sec. 24. RCW 29A.60.060 and 2003 c 111 s 1506 are each amended to read as follows:

After the close of the polls, counties employing poll-site ballot counting devices or a remote counting location may telephonically or electronically transmit the accumulated tally for each device to a central reporting location. Before making a telephonic or electronic transmission the precinct election officer must create a printed record of the results of the election for that polling site. During the canvassing period the results transmitted telephonically or electronically must be considered unofficial until a complete reconciliation of the results has been performed. This reconciliation may be accomplished by direct loading of the results from the memory pack into the central accumulator, or a comparison of the report produced at the poll site on election night with the results received by the central accumulating device. The device or devices used to receive the audit may not be directly connected to the voting system. Transfer of the information received must be made via disk, tape, or other physical means of communication other than direct electronic connection.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 25. A new section is added to chapter 29A.60 RCW to read as follows:

Before the close of business on the day after election day, the county auditor shall conduct an audit of results of votes cast on the poll-site based electronic voting devices used in the county. This audit must be conducted by randomly selecting by lot, up to four percent of the poll-site based electronic voting devices or one electronic voting device, whichever is greater, and comparing the results recorded by each device with those recorded on the paper records created by that device. Three races or issues, randomly selected by lot, must be audited on each device. This audit procedure must be subject to observation by political party representatives if representatives have been appointed and are present at the time of the audit.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 26. A new section is added to chapter 29A.84 RCW to read as follows:

Sec. 27. RCW 29A.04.610 and 2003 c 111 s 161 are each amended to read as follows:

The secretary of state as chief election officer shall make reasonable rules in accordance with chapter 34.05 RCW not inconsistent with the federal and state election laws to effectuate any provision of this title and to facilitate the execution of its provisions in an orderly, timely, and uniform manner relating to any federal, state, county, city, town, and district elections. To that end the secretary shall assist local election officers by devising uniform forms and procedures.

In addition to the rule-making authority granted otherwise by this section, the secretary of state shall make rules governing the following provisions:

(13) Procedures for the transportation of sealed containers of voted ballots or sealed voting devices;

(14) The acceptance and filing of documents via electronic facsimile;

There being no objection, the following title amendment was adopted: On page 1, line 2 of the title, after “devices,” strike the remainder of the title and insert “amending RCW 29A.12.020, 29A.12.050, 29A.12.060, 29A.12.070, 29A.12.080, 29A.12.090, 29A.12.100, 29A.12.110, 29A.12.130, 29A.12.150, 29A.44.320, 29A.60.060, and 29A.04.610; adding new sections to chapter 29A.12 RCW; adding new sections to chapter 29A.44 RCW; adding new sections to chapter 29A.60 RCW; adding a new section to chapter 29A.84 RCW; creating new sections; prescribing penalties; providing effective dates; and providing an expiration date.”

MOTION

Senators Roach and Kastama spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hargrove: “Will Senator Roach yield to a question? Senator, I’m looking on page 12, line 17 and it says the transferred information received must be made via disk, tape or other physical means of communication other than direct electronic connection. That doesn’t tell me that it’s going to be done with a paper ballot. That still leaves me some pause. Can you tell me if in fact the paper ballots will be counted?”

Senator Roach: “There are paper ballots, the machines that we will be purchasing have a paper trail attached to them so when vote you will be able to have your paper ballot shown to you underneath a plastic screen so you can’t monkey with it. You can look at that and if it is in fact how you voted you push the entry that drops into a secured file box if you will so that there is a paper trail. You know the Constitution of the State of Washington requires that we vote by ballot and philosophically I’ll submit to you that voting only electronically does not provide a ballot. That’s why it’s so important that we have a paper trail. So we have something tangible Senator to in fact let you know that your vote is on a paper and that it will be counted.”

Senator Hargrove spoke against passage of the bill.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 6401, by Senators Rasmussen, Roach, Kastama, Franklin, Doumit, Shin, Schmidt, Oke, Haugen and Murray

Protecting military installations from encroachment of incompatible land uses.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Mulliken, Substitute Senate Bill No. 6401 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 6401 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Mulliken moved that the following striking amendment by Senators Mulliken and Rasmussen be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

“NEW SECTION Sec. 31. The United States military is a vital component of the Washington state economy. The protection of military installations from incompatible development of land is essential to the health of Washington’s economy and quality of life. Incompatible development of land close to a military installation reduces the ability of the military to complete its mission or to undertake new missions, and increases its cost of operating. The department of defense evaluates continued utilization of military installations based upon their operating costs, their ability to carry out missions, and their ability to undertake new missions.

NEW SECTION Sec. 32. A new section is added to chapter 36.70A RCW to read as follows:

(1) Military installations are of particular importance to the economic health of the state of Washington and it is a priority of the state to protect the land surrounding our military installations from incompatible development.

(2) It is the intent of the legislature that strategies and policies adopted under this section shall be adopted and amended concurrent with the scheduled update provided in RCW 36.70A.130, except that counties and cities identified in RCW 36.70A.130(4)(a) shall comply with this section on or before December 1, 2005.

(3) A comprehensive plan, amendment to a plan, a development regulation or amendment to a development regulation, should not allow development in the vicinity of a military installation that is incompatible with the installation’s ability to carry out its mission requirements. A city or county may find that an existing comprehensive plan and development regulations are compatible with the installation’s ability to carry out its mission requirements.

(4) As part of the requirements of RCW 36.70A.070(1) each county and city planning under RCW 36.70A.040 that has a federal military installation, other than a reserve center, that employs one hundred or more personnel and is operated by the United States department of defense within or adjacent to its border, shall notify the commander of the military installation of the county or city's intent to amend its comprehensive plan to address lands adjacent to military installations and consider policies to ensure those lands are protected from incompatible development.

(5)(a) The notice provided under subsection (4) of this section shall request from the commander of the military installation a written recommendation and supporting facts relating to the use of land being considered in the adoption of a comprehensive plan or an amendment to a plan. The notice shall provide sixty days for a response from the commander. If the commander does not submit a response to such request within sixty days, the local government may presume that implementation of the proposed plan or amendment will not have any adverse effect on the operation of the installation.

(b) When a county or city intends to amend its development regulations to be consistent with the comprehensive plan elements addressed in (a) of this subsection, notice shall be provided to the commander of the military installation consistent with subsection (4) of this section. The notice shall request from the commander of the military installation a written recommendation and supporting facts relating to the use of land being considered in the amendment to the development regulations. The notice shall provide sixty days for a response from the commander to the requesting government. If the commander does not submit a response to such request within sixty days, the local government may presume that implementation of the proposed development regulation or amendment will not have any adverse effect on the operation of the installation.”

Prohibiting agencies from adopting rules that exceed federal standards without legislative authority.

The bill was read on Third Reading.

Senator Hale spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Fraser: “A point of order. Mr. President, I believe the first sentence of this bill violates the State Constitutional provision in Article II, Section 37. This section of the Constitution requires that sections of statutes be set forth in full. This bill before us clearly violates this especially the first sentence because it requires that all rules of all agencies of state government complied with this requirement that federal regulations not be exceeded. So that means every single agency and so that regulations of DSHS, Department of Fish & Wildlife, Department of Financial Institutions and so on. It is really not possible for somebody who cares and is trying to follow what’s going on with statutory requirements for those agencies to know that the standards have been changed because they aren’t set forth in the statutes of those agencies. There’s been litigation on this and that’s my point of order.”

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Esser: “A point of order. I hope you’ll abide by a previous ruling where you’ve held that you will not rule on constitutional matters, but only on parliamentary questions. I think that would be appropriate in this case as well as regards to any concerns about amendatory language. This bill has not been amended today so any such concern is not timely raised and I would urge be found not in good order.”

MOTION
At 5:05 p.m., on motion of Senator Esser, the Senate was declared to be at ease subject to the Call of the President.

The Senate was called to order at 5:31 p.m. by President Owen.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Fraser that Substitute Senate Bill No. 5053 violates Article II, Section 37 of the Washington Constitution and Senate Rule 57, the President finds and rules as follows:

The President begins by affirming his past practice of ruling on parliamentary, and not legal, matter. For this reason, a decision on the Constitutional argument is better left to the courts.

As to the next point, it is instructive to keep in mind the President's past ruling as to the timely raising of parliamentary issues before the body has taken action upon a question. Reed's Rule 112 provides in part, "[O]bjections to present action must be presented before consideration has been entered upon. After debate has begun or other action has been taken it is too late."
Applying this rationale to the matters before us, the time for raising such an objection was prior to the passage of this measure by the full Senate previously. Once the measure left this body with the language in question, that objection was waived.

There being no objection, the Senate resumed consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5053.

Senators Brown, Kastama, Hargrove and Keiser spoke against the passage of the bill.
Senators Finkbeiner, Schmidt and Hale spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

MOTION

Senator Esser demanded the previous question and the President declared the demand was sustained.
The President declared the question before the Senate to be “Shall the main question be now put?”
The motion by Senator Esser carried on a rising vote.
The President declared the question before the Senate to be the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5053.

ROLL CALL

SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5053, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McCaslin: “A point of personal privilege. Thank you, Mr. President. A local historian has asked to me to read this message to all of you present. This Friday, the 27th, marks one-hundred-fifty years the first territorial legislature convened. Convened in makeshift quarters on the second floor of the Parker-Coulter General Store, I’m sure Senator Fraser know where that is. It’s across the street from the current community center. There were twenty-seven elected members; eighteen in the House and nine in the Counsel. Not all were present at the opening. They have been described as ‘rough hewn frontiersmen.’ They came to Olympia on foot, on horseback and by canoe. There average age was twenty-nine. About half the age of this group today and I don’t know how long they lasted. Much of their time was devoted to discussion of roads and mail service. Their total budget was a couple of thousand dollars, just like today. Most revenue was provided by the federal congress.”

“Of interest, especially to the Democratic caucus, a bill to allow women to vote failed in the House 8-8 vote. We wouldn’t dare do that today. One ‘no’ vote was from a member who would have voted ‘yes’ but for the fact that he was married to an Indian and she would not have been allowed to vote. Mr. President, I would ask that this be spread upon the Journal and I thank you for your courtesy.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Deccio: “What Senator McCaslin said is absolutely correct because I was there.”

(b) The showing of interest required to request an election under RCW 41.56.060 is ten percent of the unit, and any intervenor seeking to appear on the ballot must make the same showing of interest;
(c) The mediation and interest arbitration provisions of RCW 41.56.430 through 41.56.470 and 41.56.480 apply, except that:
(i) With respect to commencement of negotiations between the governor and the bargaining representative of individual providers, negotiations shall be commenced by May 1st of any year prior to the year in which an existing collective bargaining agreement expires;
(ii) With respect to factors to be taken into consideration by an interest arbitration panel, the panel shall consider the financial ability of the state to pay for the compensation and fringe benefit provisions of a collective bargaining agreement; and
(iii) The decision of the arbitration panel is not binding on the legislature and, if the legislature does not approve the request for funds necessary to implement the compensation and fringe benefit provisions of the arbitrated collective bargaining agreement, is not binding on the authority or the state;
(d) Individual providers do not have the right to strike; and
(e) Individual providers who are related to, or family members of, consumers or prospective consumers are not, for that reason, exempt from this chapter ((3, Laws of 2002)) or chapter 41.56 RCW.

(3) Individual providers who are public employees ((of the authority)) solely for the purposes of collective bargaining under subsection (1) of this section are not, for that reason, employees of the state, its political subdivisions, or an area agency on aging for any purpose. Chapter 41.56 RCW applies only to the governance of the collective bargaining relationship between the employer and individual providers as provided in subsections (1) and (2) of this section.

(a) The department’s authority to establish a plan of care for each consumer and to determine the hours of care that
(b) The department’s authority to terminate its contracts with individual providers who are not adequately meeting the needs of a particular consumer, or to deny a contract under RCW 74.39A.095(8);

(f) The legislature’s right to make programmatic modifications to the delivery of state services under this title,

(4) In implementing and administering this chapter ((3, Laws of 2002)), neither the authority nor any of its contractors may reduce or increase the hours of service for any consumer below or above the amount determined to be necessary under any assessment prepared by the department or an area agency on aging.

(5) Except as expressly limited in this section and RCW 74.39A.300, the wages, hours, and working conditions of individual providers are determined solely through collective bargaining as provided in this chapter. No agency or department of the state, other than the authority, may establish policies or rules governing the wages or hours of individual providers. However, this subsection does not modify:
(a) The department’s authority to establish a plan of care for each consumer and to determine the hours of care that each consumer is eligible to receive;
(b) The department’s authority to terminate its contracts with individual providers who are not adequately meeting the
(c) The consumer’s right to assign hours to one or more individual providers selected by the consumer within the

(e) The department’s obligation to comply with the federal medicaid statute and regulations and the terms of any community-based waiver granted by the federal department of health and human services and to ensure federal financial participation in the provision of the services;
(f) The legislature’s right to make programmatic modifications to the delivery of state services under this title, including standards of eligibility of consumers and individual providers participating in the programs under this title, and the nature of services provided. The governor shall not enter into, extend, or renew any agreement under this chapter that does not expressly reserve the legislative rights described in this subsection (6)(f).

(7)(a) The state, the department, the authority, the area agencies on aging, or their contractors under this chapter ((3, Laws of 2002)) may not be held vicariously or jointly liable for the action or inaction of any individual provider or prospective individual provider, whether or not that individual provider or prospective individual provider was included on the authority’s referral registry or referred to a consumer or prospective consumer. The existence of a collective bargaining agreement, the placement of an individual provider on the referral registry, or the development or approval of a plan of care for a consumer who chooses to use the services of an individual provider and the provision of case management services to that consumer, by the department or an area agency on aging, does not constitute a special relationship with the consumer.
(b) The members of the board are immune from any liability resulting from implementation of this chapter ((3, Laws of 2002)).

(8) Nothing in this section affects the state’s responsibility with respect to ((the state payroll system or)) unemployment insurance for individual providers. However, individual providers are not to be considered, as a result of the state assuming this responsibility, employees of the state.

Sec. II. RCW 74.39A.300 and 2002 c 3 s 9 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Upon meeting the requirements of subsection (2) of this section, the governor must submit, as a part of the proposed biennial or supplemental operating budget submitted to the legislature under RCW 43.88.030, a request for funds necessary to administer chapter 3, Laws of 2002 and to implement ((may)) the compensation and fringe benefits provisions of a collective bargaining agreement entered into under RCW 74.39A.270 or for legislation necessary to implement ((may)) such agreement ((within ten days of the date on which the agreement is ratified or, if the legislature is not in session, within ten days after the next legislative session convenes)).

(2) A request for funds necessary to implement the compensation and fringe benefits provisions of a collective bargaining agreement entered into under RCW 74.39A.270 shall not be submitted by the governor to the legislature unless such request:

(b) Has been certified by the director of financial management as being feasible financially for the state or reflects the binding decision of an arbitration panel reached under RCW 74.39A.270(2)(c).

(3) The legislature must approve or reject the submission of the request for funds as a whole. If the legislature rejects or fails to act on the submission, any such agreement will be reopened solely for the purpose of renegotiating the funds necessary to implement the agreement.

((4)) (4) When any increase in individual provider wages or benefits is negotiated or agreed to (by the authorities), no increase in wages or benefits negotiated or agreed to under this chapter ((3, Laws of 2002)) will take effect unless and until, before its implementation, the department has determined that the increase is consistent with federal law and federal financial participation in the provision of services under Title XIX of the federal social security act.

((5)) (5) The governor shall periodically consult with the joint committee on employment relations established by RCW 41.80.010 regarding appropriations necessary to implement the compensation and fringe benefits provisions of any collective bargaining agreement and, upon completion of negotiations, advise the committee on the elements of the agreement and on any legislation necessary to implement such agreement.
