

JOURNAL OF THE SENATE
STATE OF WASHINGTON
2005 REGULAR SESSION
FIFTY-NINTH LEGISLATURE

FIRST DAY

NOON SESSION

Senate Chamber, Olympia, Monday, January 10, 2005

At 12:00 noon, pursuant to law, the Senate of the 2005 Regular Session of the Fifty-ninth Legislature of the state of Washington assembled in the Senate Chamber at the State Capitol. Lieutenant Governor Brad Owen, President of the Senate, called the Senate to order.

The Washington State Patrol Honor Guard, consisting of Troopers Craig B. Anders, Trooper Ted R. Dehart, Trooper John J. Gundermann, Trooper Jimmie Foster, Trooper Rachel Thompson, Trooper Ryan L. Spurling, Sergeant John-Paul Sager and Sergeant Barry W. Kirk, presented the colors.

The President led the Senate in the Pledge of Allegiance.

Reverend Lonnie Mitchell, Sr., of the Bethel African Methodist Episcopal Church of Spokane offered the prayer.

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Ladies and Gentlemen of the Senate. The President would like to welcome you back into this magnificent Chamber. I would like to start by thanking all of you who served the last couple of years for the tremendous patience that you demonstrated, your adherence to the difficult rules of decorum, protocol and showing great respect to the institution as we were in the temporary quarters. We're back in this magnificent building to do the work of the people, particularly the new members who may have never been in this building or served in this building before. To understand the magnitude of the job that you have to do I encourage you sit here, come back maybe when your all alone and look about the Chamber and look up and around and I believe that this building exemplifies the magnitude of the job you have to do here representing all the people of the great state of Washington. We are most fortunate in having this building and being able to come and serve in it. We are all blessed by the fact that the people have sent us here to represent them.

INTRODUCTION OF LAKEFAIR QUEEN

The President welcomed and introduced Lakefair Queen Haley Erickson, who was seated on the rostrum.

REMARKS BY LAKEFAIR QUEEN

Queen Haley Erickson: "Good afternoon everyone and thank you so much for having me here today. I'd like to welcome you. My name is Haley Erickson and I'm here proudly representing Olympia Capital Lakefair as the current Lakefair Queen. For those of you who might not be very familiar with Lakefair, it's a week long festival in July that began in 1957 a few years after Capital Lake was formed. It features many wonderful traditions such as the carnival, beautiful fireworks, the twilight parade and of course the many exciting Lakefair royalty court activities. Serving on the royalty court has left me with so many incredible opportunities. With one of the most exciting definitely being the chance to address you here today. I would like to wish you the very best of luck in the upcoming year and express my gratitude for your countless hours of hard work. I'm so thankful for your dedication and your vision and I'm so proud to welcome you here to Olympia and Thurston County. Olympia celebrated its one-hundred anniversary at Priest Point Park this year. A park that is an enormous pride and joy to our town and was created on a foundation of cooperation and combined effort of community leaders. This land mark is a shining example of what monumental accomplishments can come about from leadership that works together for change and the good of the people. With the caliber leadership in this room today, I'm so optimistic about our future and so very excited to see what's in store for our great state of Washington. Again, I'd like to wish you all the very best of luck and a happy New Year. Thank you."

LETTERS OF RESIGNATIONS

WASHINGTON STATE SENATE
Senator Patricia Hale

8th Legislative District

March 18, 2004

The Honorable Gary Locke
Washington State Governor
P. O. Box 40002
Olympia, WA. 98504-0002

Dear Governor Locke:

It is with real sense of sadness that I hereby resign my Senate seat. For the past couple of years, I have been thinking about the next chapter in my life, trying to decide what exactly I want to do and when it should happen. I have prayed about it constantly and feel I'm ready to turn the page.

As you might expect, my overriding reasons for leaving are tied directly to my family. They are all in Virginia, where I have a new grandson I've never met and a granddaughter I've seen only a couple of times. Tom and I want to be able to hug our children more than twice a year and be there to watch our grand babies grow up. For that reason, I have accepted an appointment in the Bush Administration, where I'll be senior policy advisor to the Small Business Administration. This is a good fit for me since my legislative focus has been largely on small business issues.

It has been a tremendous honor to serve the people of the 8th Legislative District and all Washington State residents. Together, we have worked hard to make this a better place to do business, live and raise our families.

The effective date of my resignation is April 15th. Between now and then, the Benton County Republican Party will appoint an individual to fill my seat until the next election.

Thank you for your kindness to me during the years we have worked together. I wish you and Mona every happiness as you, too, begin a new chapter in your lives.

Sincerely,

PATRICIA HALE, 8th Legislative District

LETTERS OF RESIGNATION AMENDED

WASHINGTON STATE SENATE
Senator Patricia Hale
8th Legislative District

March 23, 2004

The Honorable Gary Locke
Washington State Governor
P. O. Box 40002
Olympia, WA 98504-0002

Dear Governor:

Since my resignation letter to you dated March 18, 2004, I have learned that the Benton County Republican Party does not plan to forward names of my potential successor to the Benton County Commission until May 6, 2004. My concern is that the people of the 8th Legislative District would be without representation in the Senate during that time period. I would like any vacancy to kept to a minimum. Therefore, to maintain continuity in the office, I am amending my March 18, 2004 letter to change the effective date of my resignation from April 15, 2004 to May 6, 2004.

Again my thanks to you for your kindness to me during the years we have worked together.

Sincerely,

PATRICIA HALE, 8th Legislative District

ELECTION OF PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

The President declared nominations to be open for the office of President Pro Tempore of the Senate.

REMARKS BY SENATOR HARGROVE

Senator Hargrove: "Thank you, Mr. President. I would like to nominate Senator Rosa Franklin for the office of President Pro Tempore. First of all I'd like to say we're very lucky to have you as our Lt. Governor to be our President. You make us look very good even when you have some unruly Senators out here of which I'm one some of the time. The reason I'm nomination Senator Franklin I believe she will make us look good also. I believe she will do an excellent job in your absence to preside over the Senate. I was thinking of some words that describe Senator Franklin. She's gentle, she's compassionate, she's definitely fair, yet I don't think you ought to not think that she's alert and strong when she needs to be. I think all of these components along with the grace she both handles her job as a Senator and in past has done this leadership position, presided over the Senate. I think all makes a great combination to make us all look very good. We know that with television now and TVW that the public is frequently watching us. They want to know that the government is carried out in a way that is working correctly and things are getting done correctly and everything is going in order. And I can't think of a better person to do. We've seen Rosa give very emotional speeches, very sincere speeches and you know she always tells you what's coming from her heart and that she will always do the best and most honest and fair job to represent all of us no matter what side of the aisle we're on. I served with Rosa in the House and she followed me over to the Senate and I guess most of all I'm grateful to call her my friend and we're very grateful to be able to nominate her for President Pro Tempore."

REMARKS BY SENATOR RASMUSSEN

Senator Rasmussen: "Thank you, Mr. President. Well I'm very honored and privileged to second the nomination of Senator Franklin. Senator Franklin is my colleague and believe it or not I'm her mentor. I was her mentor in the House and her mentor in the Senate but you can't find a more gracious, beautiful lady than Senator Franklin. Yes she is fair and she is kind but the dignity and the kindness that she emulates will make us all look good. But one of the things that we have found when she was our President Pro Tempore was that she had a faster gavel than you, Mr. President. She was very sharp and she knew how to control us almost as well as you do, but she's fast. I'm very, very honored to be able to second the nomination for my friend, my neighbor Senator Franklin."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Eide, the nominations for the office of President Pro Tempore were closed.

APPOINTMENT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The President of the Senate appointed a committee of honor consisting of Senators Esser and Regala to escort Senator Rosa Franklin to the rostrum.

Associate Chief Justice Charles Johnson thereupon administered the oath of office to Senator Franklin.

The President introduced the President Pro Tempore of the Washington State Senate, Senator Rosa Franklin

REMARKS BY PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE FRANKLIN

Senator Franklin: "To the Lt. Governor, my colleagues, ladies and gentlemen, this is indeed, it's an overwhelming moment in time-- one in which we sit and begin to do the public's business and to be able to preside when the Lt. Governor is not here. It's an awesome time, it's a time that we have many challenges. We will face them and as the confidence in which you have placed in me to be able to carry out these duties, I thank you. We will do our best, I will do my best and I will not let you down. Thank you."

ELECTION OF VICE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

The President declared nominations to be open for the office of Vice President Pro Tempore of the Senate.

REMARKS BY SENATOR JACOBSEN

Senator Jacobsen: "Thank you. Senator Shin has so many distinguished milestones in his life. This is one more and he's fulfilled this duty ably. I've had the pleasure to sit next to Paul for several and amazed to discover what an amazing individual he is. He first encountered the Americans when he was a shoe shine in an American military outfit in Korea in the Korean war, when he was first Korean-American to be adopted by an American family. He came to the United States, and as I understand it he couldn't read or write in English or Korean. He was illiterate and he taught himself how to do all that and he ended up getting a PhD in history and teaching at Shoreline Community College. Now, he's getting some of the recognition he deserves. 1903-2003 they celebrated one hundred years of Korean immigration to the United States and they picked ten outstanding immigrants and Paull Shin was one of those ten. Now he sits in the Washington State Senate, he's going to shortly be elected Vice President Pro Tempore. The other thing I want to share one more thing with what happened last year, I guess in Korea every year they celebrate an outstanding emigree and last year there was one week where they honored Paull Shin in Korea. He's a very distinguished person, his name resonates throughout East Asia. He is tireless on working on trade delegations, and building contacts between here and there. I think he fills this office very ably and I ask you to vote for Senator Paull Shin. Thank you

REMARKS BY SENATOR RASMUSSEN

Senator Rasmussen: "Thank you Mr. President. Well, I too am very, very honored to place in nomination, Senator Paull Shin for Vice President Pro Tempore. Senator Shin and I have been friends for many, many years, in fact he's taking me numerous times to his home in South Korea. I watched where he grew up, in the train station in Seoul, Korea followed; his journey until he came to the United States; read his book that he wrote-and I hope he will present a book to all of us about stealing an education in Korea. Its absolutely heart warming. But the job of Vice President Pro Tempore is one that demands the dignity, the integrity, the honesty to watch over all of us when Senator Franklin is not available to take your place, Mr. President and I can't think of a better person amongst all of us than Senator Shin. Senator Shin is a delightful man, a great colleague and we are very honored to have him here in the Legislature with us and for many, many reasons I am so pleased to be able to make the second for his nomination for Vice President. He will be a wonderful example for all of us and help lead us in our journey and our challenges. Thank you."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Eide, the nominations for office of Vice President Pro Tempore were closed.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and Senator Paull Shin was elected Vice President Pro Tempore: Yeas, 44; Nays, 0; Absent, 5; Excused, 0.

APPOINTMENT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The President of the Senate appointed a committee of honor consisting of Senators Berkey and Schmidt to escort Senator Paull Shin to the rostrum.

Associate Chief Justice Charles Johnson thereupon administered the oath of office to Senator Shin.

The President introduced the Vice President Pro Tempore of the Washington State Senate, Senator Paull Shin

REMARKS BY VICE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE SHIN

Senator Shin: "Mr. President and my colleagues in the Senate, ladies and gentlemen in the gallery. I don't know how to thank you from my heart for the trust and confidence you placed in me to serve you. I remember our founding father, Benjamin Franklin was asked "Persons grateful, persons when realizing their blessing, serve by the community and I've been blessed much in this country. It's time for me to pay back and I'm honored to serve in the Senate and to serve you together to make our best of Washington States. According to American Poet Longfellow, 'life is real, life is honest but time is fleeting.'" We have a lot of work to do, I will join in your hand, I hope you join me to make a best of State of Washington to the United States. Thank you very much."

ELECTION OF SECRETARY OF THE SENATE

The President declared nominations to be open for the office of Secretary of the Senate Thomas Hoemann.

REMARKS BY SENATOR BROWN

Senator Brown: "Mr. President, it is my honor to place the name for nomination for the office of Secretary of Senate, Mr. Tom Hoemann. Thank you Mr. President. Well, ladies and gentlemen, where were you in 1979. And this is a rhetorical question, Senator McCaslin you don't have to answer it. Tom Hoemann was coming to work for us in the Senate. He joined us as Staff Counsel for the Senate Judiciary Committee and eventually rose to director to that committee. He took a couple of years off to work on behalf of his profession. Yes, he is, in fact, an attorney. In this position, we don't hold that against him, in fact we appreciate his counsel. Tom Hoemann is prepared in many ways, this is a collation of his career in the Senate, and a job that he is well prepared and has been looking forward to. If I were to describe him in terms of his service to us in the Senate. I would say he is faithful, responsible, he serves with loyalty and integrity. Now, if I'm making him sound just a little too good, then let me say, he is prone to exaggeration on one topic and that is the results of his fishing exploits. Tom, above all has respect, if not reverence, for this institution and he will bring those skills and those values to the administration of the Senate. He also has institutional memory that rivals most of us here today. Finally and perhaps most importantly, he not only works hard but he cares about what we're doing. I'm also pleased that he's not just devoted to the Senate but also to his wife of many years Lee who is with him here today and it is my pleasure to put forward with no reservation his name as Secretary of the Senate."

REMARKS BY SENATOR MCCASLIN

Senator McCaslin: "Thank you Mr. President. I concur with everything Senator Brown has said except not holding it against him for being an attorney. I mean I think that's a given. Anyway I arrived her in the 1981 and I met Tom, he was on the Judiciary Committee but I can assure, especially all the new Senators rather your Republican or Democrat, Tom's the guy to go to answer questions because he's been here longer than me, knows more than I do, he's an attorney but I can assure anyone that goes to you'll get a straight forward answer and if he doesn't know the answer, which he probably does, he'll get the answer so I don't think, congratulations to the leadership and to the caucus for nominating him because he'll be received as well as any Secretary I've ever seen, from Snyder on down to Milt. There all good and he'll be just as good perhaps better and it's a real pleasure to second his nomination.":

MOTION

On motion of Senator Eide, the nominations for the office of Secretary of the Senate were closed.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and Thomas Hoemann was elected Secretary of the Senate: Yeas, 42; Nays, 0; Absent, 7; Excused, 0.

Voting yea: Senators Benton, Berkey, Brandland, Brown, Carrell, Deccio, Eide, Esser, Fairley, Finkbeiner, Franklin, Fraser, Haugen, Hewitt, Honeyford, Jacobsen, Johnson, Kastama, Keiser, Kline, Kohl-Welles, McAuliffe, McCaslin, Morton, Oke, Parlette, Pflug, Prentice, Pridemore, Rasmussen, Regala, Roach, Rockefeller, Schmidt, Schoesler, Sheldon, Shin, Spanel, Stevens, Swecker, Thibaudeau and Weinstein - 42.

Absent: Senators Benson, Delvin, Doumit, Hargrove, Mulliken, Poulsen and Zarelli - 7.

APPOINTMENT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The President of the Senate appointed a committee of honor consisting of Senators Spanel and Honeyford to escort Thomas Hoemann to the rostrum.

Justice Charles Johnson thereupon administered the oath of office to Thomas Hoemann.

The President introduced the Secretary of the Senate Thomas Hoemann

REMARKS BY SECRETARY OF THE SENATE THOMAS HOEMANN

Thomas Hoemann: "Thank you Mr. President and members. Thank you for entrusting to me this position. I have had the privilege almost every day of my professional career to come to work in these buildings. It's been my good fortune to know very well my predecessors in this position and to observe, first hand, the fairness and integrity with which they sought to serve this institution and all the members. So my goal is to try to meet those high standards that they set in serving the members of the Senate and staff and thereby helping you serve the citizens of the State of Washington."

ELECTION OF SERGEANT AT ARMS

The President declared nominations to be open for the office of Sergeant at Arms.

REMARKS BY SENATOR KASTAMA

Senator Kastama: "Mr. President, I nominate Jim Ruble for the Office of Sergeant at Arms. Thank you Mr. President. I've know Jim actually thirty years. He's a true Washingtonian. He was born in Edison Washington, he attended Pacific Lutheran University and then he taught for thirty years in my home town of Puyallup. His area of speciality was actually Washington State history and Government so what I know I learned from him. Also, he intensively researches Washington State History as a hobby. I have to explain he was also, not only a teacher of mine in Junior High but he was also my football coach. So whenever I get an ache in my knee and my back or arthritic pains in my hands I think of him, fondly so. I would like to also say, he's worked for five years and his mentor was our friend Gene Gotovac and that was his mentor and was one thing that Gene always tried to instill in Jim was to uphold the protocol and the dignity of the Senate. On many occasions Jim has actually shared with me how it is an honor to be here. In fact the Legislature makes the history he is so interested in for Washington State. So its my honor to nominate him today, also his wife Barbara is here and his daughter, Amy. So with that Mr. President, I ask people to vote for him."

REMARKS BY SENATOR BRANDLAND

Senator Brandland: "Thank you Mr. President. It is my honor and privilege to second the nomination of Jim Ruble to be the Senate Sergeant at Arms. As Senator Kastama has stated Jim has been with this body for five years now and I believe he's proven himself to be someone that can make us all proud. He's got a very easy style, he's got a very good sense of humor and he treats people with respect-whether they are members of this body or whether there the general public. It really, you know I'm one of the new people to this body and when I first got here we were in temporarily quarters and I don't think you can ask a more difficult position to put our Sergeant at Arms and their personnel than having to deal with the problems that we had with the temporary quarters and the cramped spaces that we had. It is a job that at times requires somebody, that person to be tough, they need to be fair, they need to be stern but most of all they need to be able to treat people with respect. I've watched Jim do that for the past two years and I'm sure that he'll continue to do that for us as we proceed, so it's my honor and privilege to second the nomination."

2. In the absence of the president pro tempore, and vice president pro tempore, or with their consent, the president shall have the right to name any senator to perform the duties of the chair, but such substitution shall not extend beyond an adjournment, nor authorize the senator so substituted to sign any documents requiring the signature of the president.

A majority of the members present may further limit the number of times a member may speak on any question and may limit the length of time a member may speak but, unless a demand for the previous question has been sustained, a member shall not be denied the right to speak at least once on each question, nor shall a member be limited to less than three minutes on each question. In any event, the senator who presents the motion may open and close debate on the question.

Recognition by the President

Rule 30. When two or more senators rise at the same time to address the chair, the president shall name the one who shall speak first, giving preference, when practicable, to the mover or introducer of the subject under consideration.

Call for Division of a Question

Rule 31. Any senator may call for a division of a question, which shall be divided if it embraces subjects so distinct that one being taken away a substantive proposition shall remain for the decision of the senate; but a motion to strike out and insert shall not be divided.

Point of Order - Decision Appealable

Rule 32. Every decision of points of order by the president shall be subject to appeal by any senator, and discussion of a question of order shall be allowed. In all cases of appeal the question shall be: "Shall the decision of the (~~chair~~) president stand as the judgment of the senate?"

Question of Privilege

Rule 33. Any senator may rise to a question of privilege and explain a personal matter by leave of the president, but shall not discuss any pending question in such explanations, nor shall any question of personal privilege permit any senator to introduce any person or persons in the galleries. 2. A permanent rule or order may be temporarily suspended for a special purpose by a vote of two-thirds of the members present unless otherwise specified herein. When the suspension of a rule is called, and after due notice from the president no objection is offered, the president may announce the rule suspended, and the senate may proceed accordingly. Motion for suspension of the rules shall not be debatable, except, the mover of the motion may briefly explain the purpose of the motion and at the discretion of the president a rebuttal may be allowed.

Previous Question

Rule 36. The previous question shall not be put unless demanded by three senators, and it shall then be in this form: "Shall the main question be now put?" Reconsideration

Rule 37. 1. After the final vote on any measure, before the adjournment of that day's session, any member who voted with the prevailing side may give notice of reconsideration unless a motion to immediately transmit the measure to the house has been decided in the affirmative (~~and the measure is no longer in possession of the senate~~). Such motion to reconsider shall be in order only under the order of motions of the day immediately following the day upon which such notice of reconsideration is given, and may be made by any member who voted with the prevailing side.

2. A motion to reconsider shall have precedence over every other motion, except a motion to adjourn; and when the senate adjourns while a motion to reconsider is pending or before passing the order of motions, the right to move a reconsideration shall continue to the next day of sitting. On and after the tenth day prior to adjournment sine die of any session, as determined pursuant to Article 2, Section 12, or concurrent resolution, or in the event that the measure is subject to a senate rule or resolution or a joint rule or concurrent resolution, which would preclude consideration on the next day of sitting a motion to reconsider shall only be in order on the same day upon which notice of reconsideration is given and may be made at any time that day. Motions to reconsider a vote upon amendments to any pending question may be made and decided at once.

Bills Referred to Rules Committee

Rule 49. All bills reported by a committee to the senate shall then be referred to the committee on rules for second reading without action on the report unless otherwise ordered by the senate. (See also Rules 63 and 64.)

Rules Committee

Rule 50. The lieutenant governor shall be a voting member and the chair of the committee on rules. The committee on rules shall have charge of the daily second and third reading calendar of the senate and shall direct the secretary of the senate the order in which the bills shall be considered by the senate and the committee on rules shall have the authority to directly refer any bill before them to any other standing committee. Such referral shall be reported out to the senate on the next day's business.

The senate may change the order of consideration of bills on the second or third reading calendar.

"Majority" shall mean a majority of those members present unless otherwise stated.

Prefiling

Rule 55. Holdover members and members-elect to the senate may prefile bills with the secretary of the senate on any day commencing with the first Monday in December preceding any session year; or twenty days prior to any special session of the legislature. Such bills will be printed, distributed and prepared for introduction on the first legislative day. No bill, joint memorial or joint resolution shall be prefiled by title and/or preamble only. (See also Rule 3, Sub. 3.)

Introduction of Bills

Rule 56. All bills, joint resolutions and joint memorials introduced shall be endorsed with a statement of the title and the name of the member introducing the same. Any member desiring to introduce a bill, joint resolution or joint memorial shall file the same with the secretary of the senate by noon of the day before the convening of the session at which said bill, joint resolution or joint memorial is to be introduced.

After the expiration of deadlines for bill introductions provided for by resolution, no bill shall be introduced, except as the legislature shall direct by a vote of two-thirds of all the members elected to each house, said vote to be taken by yeas and nays and entered upon the journal, or unless the same be at a special session. The time limitation for introduction of bills shall not apply to substitute bills reported by standing committees for bills pending before such committees and general appropriation and revenue bills. (See also Art. 2, Sec. 36, State Constitution.)

Amendatory Bills

Rule 57. Bills introduced in the senate intended to amend existing statutes shall have the words which are amendatory to such existing statutes underlined. Any matter to be deleted from the existing statutes shall be indicated by setting such matter forth in full, enclosed by double parentheses, and such deleted matter shall be lined out with hyphens. No bill shall be printed or acted upon until the provisions of this rule shall have been complied with.

Sections added by amendatory bill to an existing act, or chapter of the official code, need not be underlined but shall be designated "NEW SECTION" in upper case type and such designation shall be underlined. New enactments need not be underlined.

When statutes are being repealed, the Revised Code of Washington section number to be repealed, the section caption and the session law history, from the most current to the original, shall be cited.

Joint Resolutions and Memorials

Rule 58. Joint resolutions and joint memorials, up to the signing thereof by the president of the senate, shall be subject to the rules governing the course of bills.

Senate Concurrent Resolutions

Rule 59. Concurrent resolutions shall be subject to the rules governing the course of bills and may be adopted without a roll call. Concurrent resolutions authorizing investigations and authorizing the expenditure or allocation of any money must be adopted by roll call and the yeas and nays recorded in the journal. Concurrent resolutions are subject to final passage on the day of the first reading without regard to Senate Rules 62, 63, and 64.

Committee Bills

Rule 60. Committee bills introduced by a standing committee during a legislative session may be filed with the secretary of the senate and introduced, and the signature of each member of the committee shall be endorsed upon the cover of the original bill.

Committee bills shall be read the first time by title, ordered printed, and referred to the committee on rules for second reading.

Committee Reference

Rule 61. When a motion is made to refer a subject, and different committees are proposed, the question shall be taken in the following order:

FIRST: A standing committee.

SECOND: A select committee.

Reading of Bills

Rule 62. Every bill shall be read on three separate days unless the senate deems it expedient to suspend this rule. On and after the tenth day preceding adjournment sine die of any session, or three days prior to any cut-off date for consideration of bills, as determined pursuant to Article 2, Section 12 of the Constitution or concurrent resolution, this rule may be suspended by a majority vote. (See also Rule 59).

First Reading

Rule 63. The first reading of a bill shall be by title only, unless a majority of the members present demand a reading in full.

After the first reading, bills shall be referred to an appropriate committee pursuant to Rule 61.

Upon being reported back by committee, all bills shall be referred to the committee on rules for second reading, unless otherwise ordered by the senate. (See Rule 49.)

A bill shall be reported back by the committee chair upon written petition therefor signed by a majority of its members. The petition shall designate the recommendation as provided in Rule 45, Sub. 4.

No committee chair shall exercise a pocket veto of any bill.

Should there be a two-thirds majority report of the committee membership against the bill, a vote shall be immediately ordered for the indefinite postponement of the bill.

Second Reading/Amendments

Rule 64. Upon second reading, the bill shall be read section by section, in full, and be subject to amendment.

Any member may, if sustained by three members, remove a bill from the consent calendar as constituted by the committee on rules. A bill removed from the consent calendar shall take its place as the last bill in the order of consideration of bills on the second reading calendar.

No amendment shall be considered by the senate until it shall have been sent to the secretary's desk in writing and read by the secretary.

All amendments adopted on the second reading shall then be securely fastened to the original bill.

All amendments rejected by the senate shall be spread upon the journal, and the journal shall show the disposition of all amendments.

When no further amendments shall be offered, the president shall declare the bill has passed its second reading, and shall be referred to the committee on rules for third reading.

Third Reading

Rule 65. Bills on third reading shall be read in full by sections, and no amendment shall be entertained.

When a bill shall pass, it shall be certified to by the secretary, together with the vote upon final passage, noting the day of its passage thereon.

The vote must be taken by yeas and nays, the names of the senators voting for and against the same to be entered upon the journal and the majority of the members elected to the senate must be recorded thereon as voting in its favor to secure its passage by the senate.

Scope and Object of Bill Not to be Changed

Rule 66. No amendment to any bill shall be allowed which shall change the scope and object of the bill. (See also Art. 2, Sec. 38, State Constitution.) Substitute bills shall be considered amendments for the purposes of this rule. A point of order raising the question of scope and object may be raised at any time during consideration of an amendment prior to voting on the amendment.

Matters Related to Disagreement Between the Senate and House

Rule 67. When there is a disagreement between the senate and house on a measure before the senate, the senate may act upon the measure with the following motions which have priority in the following order:

- To concur
- To non-concur
- To recede
- To insist
- To adhere

These motions are in order as to any single amendment or to a series of amendments. (See Reed's Rules 247 through 254.)

A senate bill, passed by the house with amendment or amendments which shall change the scope and object of the bill, upon being received in the senate, shall be referred to an appropriate committee and shall take the same course as for original bills, unless a motion to ask the house to recede, to insist or to adhere is made prior to the measure being referred to committee.

Bills Committed for Special Amendment

Rule 68. A bill may be committed with or without special instructions to amend at any time before taking the final vote.

Confirmation of Gubernatorial Appointees

Rule 69. When the names of appointees to state offices are transmitted to the Secretary of the Senate for senate confirmation, the communication from the governor shall be recorded and referred to the appropriate standing committee.

The standing committee, or subcommittee, pursuant to rule 42, shall require each appointee referred to the committee for consideration to complete the standard questionnaire to be used to ascertain the appointee's general background and qualifications. The committee may also require the appointee to complete a supplemental questionnaire related specifically to the qualifications for the position to which he has been appointed.

Any hearing on a gubernatorial appointment, held by the standing committee, or subcommittees, pursuant to rule 42, shall be a public hearing. The appointee may be required to appear before the committee on request. When appearing, the appointee shall be required to testify under oath or affirmation. The chair of the committee or the presiding member shall administer the oath or affirmation in accordance with RCW 44.16. (See also Article 2, Sec. 6 of the State Constitution.)

Nothing in this rule shall be construed to prevent a standing committee, or subcommittee, pursuant to rule 42, upon a two-thirds vote of its members, from holding executive sessions when considering an appointment.

When the committee on rules presents the report of the standing committee before the senate, the question shall be the confirmation of the name proposed, and the roll shall then be called and the yeas and nays entered upon the journal. In the event a message is received from the governor requesting return of an appointment or appointments to the office of the governor prior to confirmation, the senate shall vote upon the governor's request and the appointment or appointments shall be returned to the governor if the request is approved by a majority of the members elected or appointed. REMARKS BY SPEAKER CHOPP

Speaker Chopp: "For the members information we'll spend approximately an hour on the issue before us prior to hearing the State of the State Address from Governor Locke. We have worked with the four caucuses involved here on the order of speakers and we will rotate between the four caucuses. While there are strong view points on the issue before us I trust every member of the Legislature will uphold the decorum of the institution and I very much thank you in advance for respectful consideration."

MOTION

Representative Armstrong: "Mr. Speaker, in accordance with Article 3, Section 4 of the Constitution, I move that further consideration of the vote for the office of Governor be deferred until Tuesday, January 25, 2005."
Representatives Armstrong, Priest, Shabro, Rodne and Erickson, spoke in favor of the motion.

Representatives Kessler, Dunshee, Darneille and Morris spoke against the motion.

POINT OF ORDER

Representative DeBolt: "Mr. Speaker, I feel that he's impugning the body because this is not a partisan issue. This is an issue that is taken up with every citizen of this State."

POINT OF ORDER

Representative Schual-Berke: "I rise to a point of order, Mr. Speaker. I am concerned that I am hearing the good lady impugning the motives and behavior of other elected officials."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Esser: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker, could you please tell the body how many votes from each chamber, the Senate and the House, will be needed for this motion to carry."

SPEAKERS RULING

Speaker Chopp: "Neither the Joint Rules adopted by the House and Senate, nor Reed's Rules, which the House and Senate separately rely upon for guidance in answering parliamentary questions, address the issue of voting in a joint session.

The Speaker has therefore turned to several sources for guidance in deciding the standards that will govern the conduct of our joint session today.

These include Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure, Article 3, Section 4 of our state constitution, records of a previous vote in joint session in 1941, and parliamentary common law.

Mason's, the parliamentary manual of the 49 other state legislatures, specifies the following in section 782.

When the two houses meet in a joint session they, in effect, merge into one house where the quorum is a majority of the members of both houses, where the votes of member of each house have equal weight, and where special rules can be adopted to govern joint sessions or they can be governed by the parliamentary common law.

Article 3, section 4 of our state constitution provides that when two or more persons for election to a state constitutional office receive the highest and equal number of votes, one of them shall be chosen by the joint vote of both houses.

The only instance of a recorded roll call vote in joint session in our state's history occurred in 1941. in that case, a motion to refer an election protest to a special committee was defeated by a vote of 15 to 30 by members of the Senate and a vote of 30 to 68 by members of the House. The journal then states that the motion "having failed to received the constitutional majority in both the Senate and the House, was declared lost."

One could interpret this as dicta, a simple statement of fact, or as a requirement that the votes necessary for passage of a motion in joint session are a constitutional majority of the members of the Senate plus a constitutional majority of the members of the House.

The Speaker rejects the last interpretation. It would be untenable to find that when sitting in joint session the vote of the members of one house could serve to make the vote of the members of the other house irrelevant.

The Speaker therefore finds and rules that the vote necessary to decide any question presented to the body in joint session is a majority of the combined membership of the House and Senate."

Senators Johnson, Parlette, Schmidt, Roach, Sheldon and Finkbeiner spoke in favor of the motion.

Senators Hargrove, Kastama, Rockefeller and Brown spoke against the motion.

MOTION

Representative Hunt demanded that the previous question be put.

The Speaker declared the question to be the motion of Representative Hunt, "Shall the main question be now put?"

The motion by Representative Hunt that the previous question be put was sustained by division of the Chamber.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Benton: "Reed's Rules and Senate Rules require two-thirds majority vote to limit debate. Are we operating under that assumption here today as well and was the voting sustained by two-thirds majority?"

REMARKS BY THE SPEAKER

Speaker Chopp: "The Speaker has said by previous statement there that it just takes a majority to determine a question in a joint session. Thank you. Your point is not well taken."

MOTION

On motion of Representative Clements, Representatives Cox and Hankins were excused.

The question before the Joint Session is the motion that further consideration of the vote of the office of Governor be deferred until Tuesday, January 25, the 16th Legislative Day.

Representative Armstrong again spoke in favor of the motion.

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUEST

President Owen: "Before I introduce the Governor I want to say how much we will miss the incredible First Lady that we've had here in the state of Washington. Her assistance with children issues, her support of the Governor on education and the things that she's done throughout his term of office and how she always comes in and brightens up a room. Ladies and Gentlemen, I would like to present to you, Mona Locke.

It is my distinct pleasure to introduce to you our Governor. He was an Eagle Scout, he had a distinguished career in public service prior to becoming Governor and he's been an excellent father to Emily, Dylan and now Madeline, which we've all had those days and those evenings when we've been working brightened when he's brought the children into the Chamber, at least on the Senate side I know that he did that, I'm sure that he was as well and that was always a wonderful addition to the process and help bring into focus what we're all here working for. So without further adue, it's my great honor to introduce you, His Excellency Governor Gary Locke."

STATE OF STATE ADDRESS BY GOVERNOR GARY LOCKE

"Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Honorable Chief Justice, distinguished Justices of the Washington State Supreme Court, statewide elected officials, members of the Washington State Legislature, members of the Consular Association, and people of our great state of Washington: It's been an honor and privilege to serve as governor these past eight years.

My service has been made possible by my family members love and encouragement. I want to acknowledge them: My father, Jimmy Locke; my mother, Julie; my sister Marian Monwai and her husband Peter; my sister Jannie Chow and her husband Eddie; my brother Jeffrey Locke and his wife Doris; my sister Rita Yoshihara and her husband Joe; and my brother-in-law Judd Lee.

And it is with great pleasure and honor that I recognize and acknowledge my wife, Mona. Mona has been a tremendous First Lady for the state of Washington, as well as a loving, supportive wife, and an amazing, nurturing mother. She has been a dedicated champion for families and children across our state, especially in the area of early learning. She co-chaired the Governor's Commission on Early Learning and later helped establish a separate 501c3 non-profit Foundation for Early Learning. She also spearheaded the Computers for Kids program, where Department of Corrections inmates have refurbished 20,000 surplus computers and donated them to schools across the state.

I'm not the only one saying goodbye today. Mona and I are leaving a city we truly love. And our children Emily, Dylan and Madeline are leaving the only town and only home they have ever known. We will all miss Olympia very much.

It was 22 years ago yesterday that I was sworn in as a member of the state House of Representatives. I sat where Rep. Judy Clibborn now sits. And I can still spot a few of the people that were here when I started. Public service has been my life and my passion.

I am very proud of the progress we've made during my two terms as governor of the great state of Washington. From raising academic achievement to increasing family wage jobs; from restoring wild salmon runs to increasing sales of Washington agricultural harvests to foreign markets; from streamlining regulations to improving services to Washington citizens.

I'm especially proud because we've faced some formidable challenges. Challenges that seemed to come from every direction. A major earthquake. An energy crisis. Droughts. September 11th, and the constant challenge of improving homeland security. We survived, we rebounded, and we're charging ahead.

Just a couple of years ago, we were in the depths of some very tough economic times. We faced serious state budget shortfalls like 47 other states across America. Significant decisions had to be made, and we made them, using our Priorities of Government budgeting approach – an approach that should still be used regardless of the amount of resources available.

Now Washington state is showing clear signs of a strong economic recovery that is broad, deep and all across our state. Our unemployment rate has dropped by almost two percentage points since a year ago, twice as fast as the rest of America. We've gone in a short time from one of the highest unemployment rates in America to close to the national average! The new jobs that are being created are good jobs, too, paying much more than new elsewhere in the nation.

It's policies we have enacted together that have helped spur this recovery, creating thousands of private sector jobs. Policies like:

- incentives for businesses to locate in rural Washington,
- the transportation improvement package, · and the acceleration of state construction projects.

We have Washington on track for a very bright future.

During my inaugural address in 1997 I shared with you the story of my family. My grandfather's work as a houseboy here in Olympia, receiving English lessons in exchange for his labor. My father's service in World War II and his participation in the Normandy invasion. My mother's wonderful work raising five children and learning English so she could become a US citizen – at the same time I was learning English in kindergarten.

I was struck on that first inaugural day that – after nearly one hundred years and three generations – my family had traveled the mile from the house where my Grandfather worked to the Governor's mansion. As I finish my term here at the end of that century mile, I am humbled to know that it was made possible by the hard work of so many members of the Locke family.

I will always remember my parents impressing upon us kids the values they felt were critical to a successful life: get a good education, work hard, and take care of others. They are the principles that I promised to uphold eight years ago. They are the principles that have guided my decisions during all my years as governor.

I have worked to ensure that Washington is a state that provides a quality education, creates opportunities for individuals who want to work hard, and takes care of its own. A state where individuals are given not only a chance to achieve success, but also the tools they need to flourish.

The most important tool we can provide is a quality education. As you've heard me say so many times, and as many of you have now begin to chant, education is the great equalizer. It offers opportunity and hope to all it touches. It is the key to a vital economy. It is the key to an enriching future for our children.

We've made great strides in raising academic achievement during the past seven years. In fact, our kids are making some of the biggest academic gains in America! This year's WASL results are proof. In 1997, only 48 percent of 4th graders met the state reading standard. This year, 74 percent passed. And in math, in 1997, 21 percent of 4th graders met the standard. This year, 60 percent passed.

There are other measures of success for Washington's schools. In states with similar numbers of students taking the test, Washington ranks FIRST in both math and verbal scores! And our students ranked third on the ACT college readiness exam, which is by many of the private colleges in America. I am especially proud that Washington led the nation last year in reading scores for African-American fourth graders. African-American eighth graders in Washington scored better in math than in all but three states. We are closing the achievement gap.

But we know much more must be done in this area. We must continue to provide extra assistance to struggling schools and struggling students.

We have set high, rigorous standards for academic achievement for all students. Our standards are higher than most other states, because we know these are the skills students need to be successful in this global, high-tech, 21st century economy. And our students are still meeting these higher goals at a greater rate than those in the states with lower standards. We must stay the course. So we can't turn back and lower our standards or abandon these reforms. We must stay the course. There is too much at stake.

Our success in education is a product of the hard work of our students and the dedication of teachers, parents, and community members. We can't thank or reward our educators enough for nurturing, inspiring and molding our children. They deserve our recognition.

And in higher education, there are 17,000 more students attending our colleges and universities a year than seven years ago.

We have established many significant, life-changing programs, like our Promise Scholarships, which help high achieving students from middle and low-income families realize the American Dream of a college education. We developed Kindergarten Readiness Guidelines, working with the Superintendent of Public Instruction, recognizing that education begins at birth. And we have expanded job training and retraining programs, because we must also view education as life-long, continuing even through our adult and working years.

With record high school graduations over the next few years, we must add enrollments to our colleges and universities. Because tuition only provides a small amount of a universities budget, without extra dollars we will have to turn students away. As our economy improves, we want our kids to fill these new jobs, instead of businesses needing to hire workers from out of state. Education sets the foundation for individuals to succeed.

And with hard work a good, family-wage job should be the payoff. To ensure that such jobs are available, we must keep the businesses we have and attract new ones to our state. We must continue to cultivate a healthy, dynamic business climate. And we must also make sure that our workforce is protected and fairly compensated. The hard work of our labor force should not be exploited for the gain of a few, but instead for the profit of employers, employees, and society as a whole.

In just the last two years, nine national companies have chosen Washington over Oregon, Idaho and even California for major facilities, employing thousands. And Boeing airplanes still mean "Made in Washington." This is because the state of Washington is known for its innovation, competitiveness, quality of life and entrepreneurial spirit.

Recent studies by independent organizations confirm our success in improving our business climate. The Small Business Entrepreneurial Council ranked Washington the 4th friendliest business environment in the nation. A study by the conservative, anti-tax, Tax Foundation ranked Washington as having the ninth most business friendly tax climate.

Unfortunately, not all Washingtonians possess the capacity to support themselves. Some are physically sick, developmentally disabled or suffer from mental illness. Others have worked hard their entire lives, but have reached their retirement years and need a little extra help. And many children, through no fault of their own, are living in intolerable conditions.

It is our responsibility, as individuals and government, to help those who are in need. Even through tough budget times, we have maintained a safety net for those who are unable to take care of themselves, whether in institutions or community settings.

I am proud that we have taken great strides in broadening access to health care. We're one of the few states in the nation that provides health care to children from families with incomes up to 250% of the poverty level. Most states only provide up to 200 percent of the poverty level. We've made it convenient for seniors to purchase low-cost, American-made prescription drugs from Canada. And we're the only state with a real commitment to providing decent housing for migrant farm workers who harvest the food we put on our tables.

And if we are to continue our success in helping families move off of public assistance and become self-sufficient, we must maintain the emphasis on affordable child care and quality job training programs. It is one thing to be governor and guide the policies of state government. But it is the people who work in our agencies every day who really make government work. It's been my honor to work with so many incredibly talented, dedicated individuals in our state agencies – our directors, managers, line staff and members of the Governor's Office. Many of our state agencies have been ranked the very best in their respective fields. Many of our agency directors are leaders in their national associations. And they have each held themselves to the highest ethical standards.

The quality of our leaders is reflected in national rankings. And in the two evaluations done since I took office, Governing Magazine and Cornell University have each time named Washington among the four best-managed states in America.

No one goes into public service to get rich. Instead, the payoff is that every day you have the opportunity to help someone achieve a better life, whether it is helping someone in finding a job or finding loving, adoptive parents for an abandoned child.

It is important that in the politics of governing we not forget to recognize the dedication of these individuals, these great public servants, the public employees of the state of Washington. I thank our public employees for the outstanding work they do to promote the welfare of our state.

But government can only do so much. Our society depends on dedicated volunteers who give of their time and energy across our state. So many individuals and organizations put in countless hours volunteering in hospitals, schools, nursing homes, and other places of need. For example, in 1998, Superintendent of Public instruction Terry Bergeson and I created the Washington Reading Corps for struggling readers in our elementary schools.

Since its inception, 75,000 struggling readers have made phenomenal reading progress thanks to 50,000 volunteer tutors. And our state's volunteer spirit has never been more evident than in recent weeks as individuals, businesses and non-profit organizations throughout our state have risen to the challenge of helping the Tsunami victims in South Asia.

But there is always more that can be done. I encourage everyone in our state to share their gifts with their communities – to help take care of others. Take some time to help those who need assistance. Participate in the preservation and cleanup of our natural environment. Fight for the rights of oppressed groups in our society. Invest your time on behalf of others.

Our state is so diverse – in its geography, climate, culture, industries and communities. From Forks to Walla Walla; Point Roberts to Vancouver; and Long Beach to Colville – the people of this state possess a shared, irrepressible spirit. We all have a common goal: a strong and prosperous Washington, where everyone has a chance to succeed. I call upon the Legislature, the next governor, and all the people of our state to pull together to achieve this goal. My administration leaves you a stronger, healthier state poised for even greater things.

Eight years ago I was blessed with two titles of immense honor and responsibility: Governor, and a few months later, Dad. One title ends tomorrow. The other lasts forever.

Emily will soon turn 8. She misses her friends in Olympia very, very much. Dylan will soon turn 6. And Madeline is just 2 months old! Doesn't she have a lot of hair? Mona and I have been so touched all these years by the warmth, graciousness and well wishes of people all across our state. The books and quilts for the children and the letters, cards and emails. We can't thank you enough.

As we begin a new chapter of our life, Mona, myself, Emily, Dylan, and Madeline leave office with cherished memories that are sure to last at least through the next 100-year journey. Our family has been so blessed. We thank you from the bottom of our hearts – for the incredible privilege and honor – of serving you, the people of the state of Washington – for the opportunity to make Washington an even greater place to live, work and raise a family. Thank you very much. God Bless you all."

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Governor, thank you very much for your excellent remarks. We appreciate you for hanging around for just a little bit longer here. Representative Kessler, I'm going to take things a little out of order here because I would like to do a presentation first. The Governor for the last several years as he's been Governor has signed a document making a number of people in the state what we call Washington Generals. Years ago, Lieutenant Governor Cherberg who served for thirty-two years, the longest serving Lt. Governor in the history of the nation of which I have no intentions of trying to exceed, created the Washington Generals and we're now trying to raise the level of awareness and the work that they do. It's a charitable organization and he signed these documents and we just recently learned that he's not a Washington General so Chuck Hartaway the Commanding General of the Washington Generals, if you'd come forward and Governor if you'd come forward. We would like to bestow upon you that which you have bestowed upon many. The rank of a Washington Generals. We know that you will be promoting the state of Washington in your years to come and we want to recognize your tremendous service to the people of the great state of Washington, so Chuck and I'd like to give you a certificate as a Washington General just as you have given to many others."

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Representative Kessler: "Thank you very much. It is indeed an honor and a privilege to stand before this body and to, along with Senator Spanel, honor our Governor Locke who has served us so well these past eight years. We tried to find out what a good gift would be for Governor Locke and I tried to find Mona to see Mona, Mona, could you come up with something to give to Governor Locke? that he would very much enjoy and she had a fabulous suggestion but I'm sorry to say that we overrode your suggestion. We came up with something that we hope that you, Governor, will enjoy and that your family will enjoy for years to come. So with that Senator Spanel and I would like to present you with a historic photograph Governor that we hope you will enjoy for years to come. It is a photograph of the Governor's Mansion that will bring, I hope wonderful memories, not just the bats and the belfry but memories of all you have done for the state of Washington, one of your children's first years and months in the Governor's Mansion, so please accept this from us."

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Spanel: "Well, I'd just to say thank you for your years of service and since when I started out in the House you were there and I appreciate working with you those years but I think, it's quite an accomplishment to be Governor for eight years and come out of it with three children. Start out with two and go to five, I think some have come with children but, anyway, I think this is a gift that your children also will enjoy for many, many years."

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: 'Governor Locke, it has been a great honor of mine over the years to serve with you. It's been a pleasure to have the opportunity to introduce you before the Joint Sessions, to work with you on various issues. I would like to note that it is always been a something of pride to be able to say that you were our Governor when I traveled in different places around the nation and the world so you have brought great dignity and poise to the office of Governor and honored it very much in your service so thank you very much for you tremendous service to the people of the state of Washington and for being a wonderful Governor in making us all very proud."

GOVERNOR'S INAUGURAL ADDRESS

Governor: Gregoire: "Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Mr. Chief Justice, distinguished justices of the court, honored officials, members of the Washington state legislature, members of the Consular Corps, and fellow citizens: I am honored and humbled to be your new governor, and to have the opportunity to lead the people of this great state.

As I stand here today, I am mindful that this opportunity – like all the opportunities in this state – are the legacy of those who came before us. And speaking of legacy – I am especially honored to have former governors Rosellini, Gardner, Lowry and Governor Locke here today. These are our state's foremost experts on the subject of legacy, and every person in this state owes them a debt of gratitude.

I certainly have many people to thank personally for the legacy I was given. I have my mom to thank. As you may know, she was a short order cook and I am very proud of her. I have her to thank for solid values – forgiveness, compassion, respect and caring -- for my work ethic, and the love she provided me. She taught me to laugh and enjoy life. She also taught me one thing over and over again: the importance of education. I know her proudest moments came when I graduated from college and from law school.

I have Mr. Reis, my sixth grade English teacher, to thank. Vernon Reis opened the world to me through books. He taught me that while I was physically firmly planted in blue-collar Auburn, Washington in the 50s and early 60s, intellectually I could go anywhere, explore anything, and sample exciting new ideas simply by opening a book. Mr. Reis, will you please stand?

I have Fred Faber, a Moses Lake businessman, to thank. He was like a father to me, and made me a part of his family. Fred taught me to pursue my dreams – he even paid my tuition to attend law school – and generously and wisely taught me never to let barriers get in the way of your dreams. While he has passed away, his legacy lives warmly on in my memory and his family is my family. Allow me to introduce the Faber family.

I have Dr. Chris Griffith, an Olympia surgeon, to thank. In those dark days after I was diagnosed with breast cancer, I was truly blessed to have him for support, along with my family and church. This talented, compassionate, caring surgeon really gets it when it comes to bedside manner, and I can't imagine going through that terrible ordeal without him. When I called Dr. Griffith to ask him to come today and thank him again for his support, he wisely noted, "we are all patients at some time in our lives." Dr. Griffith could not be with us today; he is in surgery, quite likely saving another life.

I have Father Michael Ryan, who gave today's invocation, to thank. Father Mike baptized our daughter Michelle, and to this day, he likes to whisper to me, in a voice loud enough so she can always hear, that if the baptism didn't take, we can do it again. Like many of you, my spiritual life guides me, and Father Mike helped me transform my religion into a living faith. And Father Mike connected our family to one of the anchors in our lives – our church group. Father Mike, and our church group, will you please stand?

And, of course, I have my family to thank. I want to thank my wonderful husband and daughters, who, in the last year, have seen me through a bout with cancer, a long campaign, and two recounts. I would like you to meet the First Gentleman of this state, Mike Gregoire. He is the best husband I could have asked for – an outstanding father to our two daughters, and proud veteran who served this country in Vietnam. He is retired now, and plans to invest his time in working to improve the lives of his fellow veterans. Our two daughters are Courtney, who is in her last semester at law school, and Michelle, a college sophomore. Mike and I like to say we are getting poorer by degrees. For all you parents of teenagers, I have some good news for you. If you are as fortunate as Mike and I, you can look forward to seeing your relationship change from a test of wills with a teen, to becoming the best of friends.

And finally, I'd like you to meet some members of my extended family. Some have come from as far away as Florida and North Dakota. I mention these vital people in my life because we all have a chance to have a positive influence in the lives of others. We all leave personal legacies for the people we know and love.

And as elected officials, we have a special obligation to leave an even larger legacy of opportunity, prosperity, and optimism. As we gather here today, it seems fitting to ask, what will our legacy be? Will we leave a legacy of holding government accountable, cutting through the red tape and breaking down the barriers that hinder business development? Will we leave a legacy of strong democratic institutions and faith in government? Will we work to provide health care for every child in this state? Will we dramatically lower our high school dropout rate, and help every young person fulfill his or her full potential?

That's exactly what I'm here to do – not alone, but together with all of you, Republican and Democrat alike. Think about the legacy we have inherited: Our agricultural products are among the finest in the world.

We have Pacific Rim ports that are major economic engines for our state's thriving international trade. We are a global leader in aviation, high-tech, biotech, and health care. Our state is a magnet for smart, creative people, and we have well-trained workers, and well-educated scientists and entrepreneurs. We have fine universities, some on the leading edge of research and innovation, and one of the nation's best systems of community and technical colleges. In the last decade, our public schools and teachers have done heroic work to raise the academic achievement levels of our children. We have a rich and diverse cultural heritage, vibrant arts, and a spirit of openness and inclusion. We are also blessed with a unique legacy of natural resources and landscapes so beautiful they attract tourists from around the world. We have so much to be thankful for.

It's our responsibility to pass on what we inherited, not to squander it, but to build on it. And frankly, I worry about the legacy we may leave.

When citizens don't have confidence their tax dollars are being used efficiently and effectively, we have work to do.

When we lose 20 percent of our manufacturing jobs in five years, we have work to do. When half a million people have no health insurance, we have work to do.

When children start kindergarten already behind because they didn't get early education, we have work to do.

When a third of our high school students don't finish high school on time, we have work to do.

And when Hood Canal, Puget Sound, Lake Roosevelt, and the Spokane River are polluted, we have work to do.

This is not an easy time to lead. Much has been written about red states and blue states and the great political divide – not to mention the razor thin governor's race here. Many have asked how I can govern without a clear mandate from the voters. I believe the voters have given all of us a mandate – a mandate to overcome our differences, and to solve problems. Truly, the challenges we face are not Democratic challenges or Republican challenges. In fact, they are not political challenges at all; they are fiscal challenges, and educational challenges, and the challenges of figuring out how to take care of each other and create a future worthy of our children.

It is healthy to have differences of opinion about how to rise to these challenges. It is unhealthy to let those differences paralyze us. We can leave our legacy only if we are willing to change – to go beyond partisan labels, and to solve the problems facing Washingtonians. We can build the strength of the center of our political spectrum – that ground where left and right converge and move forward. This is the imperative of our election.

Our divisions are not nearly as deep as others may think. All of us basically want the same things: opportunity for our children, and prosperity for our families and communities. We want state government agencies that are accountable, efficient and effective. We want affordable health care and college tuition, and successful businesses that provide good jobs. We want a wholesome culture that makes the most of our diverse heritage. And we want a clean and sustainable environment that contributes to our quality of life.

Clearly the election recount ordeal of the last two months has challenged us, and among our challenges this session is election reform. We want every vote to count – and to be counted right the first time. I will, therefore, create a task force, chaired by Secretary of State Sam Reed, and former State Senator Betti Sheldon, to review our election process and report back to me and to the legislature with recommended reforms by March 1st. This task force will travel the state and listen carefully to suggestions from citizens on how we can move forward with improvements in our election system.

Speaking of what government must do better, I believe we all agree there is a need for change in Olympia. Change is here and more is coming. Let me give you an example of where we are headed. Today, businesses are regulated by, and pay taxes to multiple government agencies. They face a blizzard of paperwork, threats of penalties, different due dates, and different definitions of who has to pay what and do what. And if they have multiple locations or branches, government will multiply the number of forms and regulations they have to cope with. So I want to make my views about this perfectly clear: No business in Washington should have to put up with all of that. I believe that the vast majority of regulated businesses want to do the right thing, and we should make that easier instead of harder. I will propose legislation to establish a new government management accountability and performance approach in state government -- GMAP for short. We must hold state agencies accountable. We will require agencies to be more effective and efficient in achieving results, and ensuring that public tax dollars are being spent wisely.

This is a significant challenge. And change involves measured risk. As Governor Booth Gardner once told me, if you are succeeding 10 times out of 10, you're not taking enough risk. So I want to say that I am willing to take risks, and willing to tolerate failure as long as we admit it, can learn from it and keep moving forward. I will challenge agency directors to take good risks, and to pursue innovative changes that make life better for business and for our citizens. There will be some failures, but we will learn from them and move on.

I will ask a lot of state employees because I intend to pay them fairly, and because I respect and admire them. In the Attorney General's office, I was proud that our employees contributed over $5,000 to tsunami relief efforts in 24 hours after that disaster struck. They didn't wait for the national appeals. They acted quickly, decisively and generously. They knew they couldn't single-handedly overcome the tragedy of the tsunami – but they united to do what they could, and they made a positive difference. We must do the same to address another overwhelming challenge -- political gridlock and escalating prices in our health care system. There is just no reason why the richest nation in the world can't provide health care to all its people. This is a national problem that begs for a national solution. We can't truly solve this problem at the state level. But we can make a difference. We can expand access to affordable health insurance by providing a pooled state health plan to business, so they can afford to offer insurance to their employees. Every employee should have access to doctors like Chris Griffith. We can make prescription drugs more affordable by pooling our purchases. We can make importation of drugs from Canada legal. And we can set a goal of all our children having health care coverage by 2010.

We all are united in the knowledge that we need to get Washingtonians back to work. Since 2001, this state has lost nearly 100,000 jobs. Toward that end, I am proposing the creation of a Life Sciences Discovery Fund to finance new research in two areas: debilitating diseases, such as Parkinson's, Alzheimer's, and cancer – and improving the quality and yield of our agricultural crops. Our state has earned a special bonus because of our leadership in the national tobacco lawsuit. I want to combine those bonus dollars with private sector and foundation funding to create a $1 billion fund that has the potential to leave a huge legacy of better health, more and better crops, and new jobs and economic opportunity on both sides of the Cascades. It's been said that government doesn't create jobs, business does. For the most part, this is true. But government creates the environment in which businesses can excel and expand. Small businesses, like the one Fred Faber owned, are the backbone of our economy. I will propose tax relief for small and start-up enterprises. I will make state government a more aggressive and savvy player in economic development, and I will work to bring new jobs to the communities in this state that need them most. We must be ready to compete in a global economy. So I will challenge our Competitiveness Council to think globally so we can succeed locally, in every community and every corner of our state. A strong transportation system is essential to a thriving economy and we have important challenges throughout the state – be it freight mobility concerns in Eastern Washington or the viaduct and Lake Washington bridge issues in Seattle.

I am honored to have Oregon Governor Ted Kulongowski here today. We already have talked about working together to address our interstate bridge issues, and we plan to work together on many other issues in the years ahead. Like our neighbors in Oregon, we are all challenged by our commitment to high academic standards that prepare every student for good jobs in the 21st century. In 1993, we passed a sweeping education reform measure that has led to rigorous standards and real school improvement. The education reform act made our schools accountable for results. Now we need to make sure we have necessary funding to ensure we will get the results we're after. Because this need is urgent, I intend to name a broad-based bipartisan commission to find and propose efficiencies and long-term funding solutions – for early education, K – 12, and our colleges and universities. This is a very tall order. But education is the foundation on which our future must be built. We must provide early childhood education and coordinate our early learning programs so that every child starts kindergarten ready to learn. A mountain of research shows us that when kids start school already behind, many never catch up. That's why we must make sure that every child gets the early learning that is the foundation for a successful life. We know the positive power of teachers like Mr. Reis to help every child thrive. We also know the consequences when children lack that vital connection with a caring teacher. We cannot keep the faith with our children if we betray our commitments to their teachers. That's why we need to fund cost-of-living pay increases to teachers – something voters overwhelmingly supported.

We also need to address an educational emergency. Today, nearly a third of our high school students do not graduate on time, with their peers. High school dropouts earn half as much as graduates. They often are chronically unemployed and dependent on government help, and they are at higher risk to end up in our jails and prisons. That's why we will design our middle and high schools so no student gets lost in the crowd and disconnected from his or her own potential. And we can't stop with high school graduation. Today, our two- and four-year colleges are all bursting at the seams. We need to take down the no-vacancy signs that kept 1,500 students out of college last year. And we need to give families some certainty about the cost of college education so they can plan for the future.

Surely no issue unites us more than our appreciation for our military personnel who are bringing aid to devastated countries, defending us against terrorism, and fighting to make a free election possible in Iraq. When those soldiers come home – and we pray daily for their safe return – we must thank them and welcome them. Our state has a special relationship with our military services. Our military bases are an important part of our economy, and military retirees are a growing part of our population. We are all proud of that. But we can also do a better job of making sure that our veterans and their families get what they need and deserve from us. My administration will make that a very high priority, and I can assure you that Mike will remind me, probably often, of that commitment. I know that all I've talked about today adds up to a very ambitious agenda.

But we live in a time when anything less would be insufficient. We need to set an ambitious agenda, but at the same time, we need to be honest. We cannot achieve all our goals overnight. We will need enormous patience and persistence, not just for a single legislative session, but for the long term. We must not promise more than we can deliver. Governing involves tough choices between important programs – especially now, when we face a $1.8 billion budget shortfall. We will not be able to do all we want to do this year.

But we can make progress – on job creation and business growth, on improving our education system from early learning to graduate education, on health care, environmental protection and veterans' issues. These are all enormous challenges. And whether we are Democrat or Republican, old or young, rich or poor, these are our challenges. This will require change – change in the way we think about partisan politics, and change in the way we reach out to each other and reconcile our differences. As Gandhi so famously said, we must all "be the change we want to see in the world." If we want unity, we must all be unifiers. If we want accountability, each of us must be accountable for all we do. It is up to us to live up to the legacy that was left for us, and to leave a legacy that is worthy of our children and of future generations. We can do this. And we can start today.

Thank you very, very much. God bless all of you, and God bless our wonderful state."

STATE OF THE JUDICIARY

Chief Justice Gerry Alexander: "President Owen, Speaker Chopp, Governor Gregoire, state elected officials, members of the House and Senate, fellow justices, ladies and gentlemen. Good afternoon.

Let me first extend thanks to all of the members of the legislature for the warm welcome you have accorded me and my fellow justices on this and other occasions. I must tell you at the outset that I am delighted to be back with you in this grand old legislative building where I delivered my first state of the judiciary address four years ago.

As some of you may know, I was raised in Olympia and I have spent almost all of my adult life in this city. Having lived within sight of this building for all of these years has led me to have great affection for this magnificent building and the other buildings on this campus, including, of course, the Temple of Justice. I am so pleased that the Washington Legislature took the steps that it did to restore this building to its former glory. The Legislative Building is truly the centerpiece of the most beautiful state capitol campus in the land and it looks great. As a proud Washingtonian and Olympian, I thank you.

As you have undoubtedly observed, members of our court have been frequent guests in this building of late, what with various oath taking sessions, a State of the State message by former Governor Locke, and, of course, an inauguration and inaugural ball. The truth is that we enjoy being a part of these events, but we promise you now that the traditional opening rituals of this legislative session are behind us, we will recede into the Temple of Justice across the way and try to be less noticeable.

That, I suppose, is as it should be under the doctrine of separation of powers, one of the crown jewels of our form of government. I think, though, that it is a good thing for the branches of government to have contact such as we have had this past week or so, because our government functions better if the elected members of the three branches get acquainted with one another and gain a better appreciation of the role that each performs in our democracy.

Let me also thank the members of the legislature for inviting me to deliver this message on behalf of Washington's judiciary. We know that time is precious to all of you during a legislative session. We are also aware that you need not accord me this privilege. The state constitution requires only that the judges of the Supreme Court report to the governor in writing in January of each year on defects and omissions in the law. It does not require the Supreme Court to report to the legislature nor does it require you to provide us with that opportunity. But by a custom that has developed in recent years, the chief justice of the Washington Supreme Court has been invited to speak to the legislature every other year, on the state of our justice system. We are most grateful for that opportunity.

Relevant to that subject I would like to say a brief word about the court on which I sit, the State Supreme Court. We have, in my view, a very fine court and I am extremely proud of all of my colleagues and am very honored to have been elected by them to serve a second four-year term as chief justice.

I can tell you that all of us on our court are unified in our desire to work with our judicial colleagues around the state to deliver equal and quality justice to all in a system that is administered, in the words of our state constitution, "openly and without unnecessary delay." Our court is currently very experienced. All of us practiced law in this state early in our careers and collectively we have 117 years of judicial service. I am pleased to say also that the relationship between the justices is very collegial. At the same time, though, we are all free thinking individuals who come from a variety of backgrounds. Thus, it is not surprising that we are not unanimous on every issue that comes before us.

Although most of you are somewhat familiar with the veteran members of the Supreme Court, I would like to say a word about our newest member, Justice James Johnson. He was sworn in at a ceremony at our court a mere eight days ago. Justice James Johnson is a native Washingtonian who obtained his B.A. degree from Harvard. He then went on to law school at the University of Washington. Following law school Justice Johnson served a two-year stint as an officer in the United States Army. For the next 20 years he served with distinction as an assistant attorney general of the state of Washington. Since 1993 he has engaged in the private practice of law in Olympia. We welcome Justice James Johnson to our court and look forward to working with him in succeeding years.

Whenever a new person comes to the court it is a happy occasion, but it is always accompanied by a tinge of sadness. That is because when someone new comes on the court that means that a valued colleague has left to create an opening. So as delighted as we are to welcome Justice James Johnson, we will still miss our friend, Justice Faith Ireland, at our conference table. I have asked Justice Ireland to be here today and I would like her to stand so that you can join me in thanking her for her twenty-plus years of devoted service to the people of the state of Washington, as a superior court judge, Supreme Court justice, and nationally recognized leader in the area of judicial education-Justice Ireland.

Let me now, in my capacity as chief justice, speak to you more directly about the state of Washington's justice system. I can tell you right up front that the judicial branch of government is managing to keep its head above water, despite the many and increasing demands that have been placed upon it. This would not be true, of course, without the hard work and ingenuity of the many judicial officers of this state as well as the splendid employees of the judicial branch, including the excellent county clerks in each of our counties. I can honestly say that in my 32 years as a judge in this state, the judiciary has never been more skilled and hard working than it is right now.

I can't begin to convey to you the depth of my admiration for the outstanding work of the 208 full- and part-time judges of our district and municipal courts who hold forth in the towns, cities, and counties of our state and who manage caseloads made heavy with over two million new filings each year. Our state's 179 superior court judges are equally as dedicated and energetic, managing to stay on top of caseloads that are enriched each year by approximately a quarter million new filings. Collectively, our two levels of trial court entertain approximately one case filing for every 2.5 citizens each year-cases that run the gamut from a dispute over a parking or speeding citation to cases where the charge is aggravated murder in the first degree. On the civil side, they entertain small claims to cases that involve millions and, in some cases, billions of dollars and significant public issues.

I am also very proud of our appellate courts. I have already made reference to the court on which I sit, the Supreme Court. Let me say a word about our State Court of Appeals, which sits in divisions that are located in Seattle, Spokane, and Tacoma. This is a workhorse court which doesn't get near the credit that it deserves. Unlike the Supreme Court, it is without discretion to decline an appeal and it must take on all cases that are ripe for review. In 2004, that court managed to maintain its tradition of staying current despite an influx of approximately 4,400 appeals, personal restraint petitions, and other petitions.

I wish I could have invited every judicial officer in the state to be here today, but, as you can tell from my remarks, they have plenty work to do at home. I did, though, ask a few judges to be here to represent all of our state's judges-allow me to introduce them to you. Representing the district and municipal court judges of our state is Judge Eileen Kato, of the King County District Court. Judge Kato is a very fine judge and is president of the District and Municipal Court Judges' Association. Judge Kato. Representing the superior courts, we have the very able Leonard Costello, president of the Superior Court Judges' Association. Judge Costello is a judge of the Kitsap County Superior Court. Judge Costello. Representing the 22 judges of our Court of Appeals, we have a veteran judge, Ken Kato of Division Three in Spokane. Judge Kato is standing in for Judge Elaine Houghton of Division Two in Tacoma, who is the chief presiding judge of the entire Court of Appeals. Judge Kato.

In past addresses to you, I have taken a few minutes to describe some of the really positive things that have taken place in the judicial branch over the last couple of years. I'm not going to do that today, not because there isn't much to talk about-there is. I could tell you, for instance, about court rules we have adopted to make our courts even more open to cameras and broadcast equipment and our court records more accessible to the public by electronic means. I could tell you also about the great work that some of our trial courts are doing, often on a shoestring, in developing and maintaining Unified Family Courts, and problem solving courts like drug courts and mental health courts. I could go on and on but I'm passing up that opportunity because I want to spend the remainder of my time talking to you about a serious problem that Washington's trial courts face, a problem that seriously inhibits the ability of those courts to deliver timely and quality justice to all of the persons who come before them-a problem that truly places justice in Washington in jeopardy.

The problem I am speaking about, in a nutshell, is the way we fund our trial courts and the extent to which we fund them. And, by the way, when I speak of trial courts I am talking about our superior courts, trial courts of general jurisdiction, and our district and municipal courts, trial courts of limited jurisdiction. There is, as you know, one or more superior court and district court in every county in our state and a municipal court in many, if not most, of our cities and towns.

As you probably know, since statehood our trial courts have largely been funded by local government, the counties and cities. Frankly, this funding mechanism worked well in the early days when courts had much less business and local government had fewer obligations. But as the work of courts has grown dramatically and counties have, at the same time, experienced greater budget challenges, the budgets of our state's trial courts have suffered-in some places more than others. While time does not permit me to recite at length all of the ill effects of this inadequate funding, I can tell you that some of our trial courts are no longer able to provide probation services, and many, if not most, are unable to offer programs that have proven effective elsewhere like adult and juvenile drug courts, mental health courts, and unified family courts. Furthermore, too many of our trial court jurisdictions are experiencing crowded court dockets which frequently results in the postponement of trials, particularly civil trials. In three of our four largest counties, the time to trial in civil cases is over twelve months. That, ladies and gentlemen, is too long for people to wait to have their disputes resolved. This may seem trivial, but I have to tell you that the funding situation has become so bad in many counties, including our largest and wealthiest county, King, that our trial courts do not have sufficient funds to even provide box lunches for jurors when the jury is deliberating on its verdict. This means that trial judges have to permit sequestered jurors to separate at mealtimes and then return to the jury room after they have obtained a meal at their own expense.

Now our trial judges have obviously known of the problems that they face in their own jurisdictions, but the scope of the problem statewide was not fully catalogued. Consequently, the judiciary of the state determined in 2002 that a comprehensive analysis of the way our state's trial courts are funded and the sufficiency of that funding should be carried out. To conduct the study the Board for Judicial Administration, which is made up of the leadership of all four court levels in Washington, created a broad based task force. It consisted not only of judges and court administrators, but others with an interest in our state's justice system. The task force included six members of the legislature: Senators Adam Kline, Steve Johnson, Mike Hewitt, and Jim Kastama, and Representatives Pat Lantz, Lois McMahon and Ruth Kagi. We thank all of them for their service. The task force was chaired by a very distinguished attorney from Seattle, Wayne Blair, who is a past president of the Washington State Bar Association. Mr. Blair is here today and I would like him to stand and be recognized for the leadership he provided as chair of the task force. Mr. Blair. The task force was charged with focusing on trial court funding, both the structure of the funding and the amount necessary to adequately fund the trial courts and ensure long-term funding stability.

The task force completed its work in October 2004 when it issued its final report and executive summary-you have all been furnished with a copy of the report and you will receive the executive summary this week. While time will not permit me to summarize the report in great detail, I can tell you that the task force came to the conclusion, rather rapidly, that the way Washington's trial courts are funded is not very sound. As I have already indicated, these courts are largely locally funded with little financial support coming from state government. Because of a provision in the state constitution, the State is required to pay one-half of the salary of each superior court judge, but that is about it in the way of state funding. Currently Washington is 50th out of 50 states in terms of the percentage of state support for its trial courts if you include the cost of criminal prosecution and public defense.

A core finding of the task force is that there must be a rebalancing of responsibility for the funding of trial courts so that the state government, as opposed to local government, contributes in a more equitable way to the operations of the superior courts and the district and municipal courts. The report does not suggest, nor should it, that state government take over the entire responsibility for funding our trial courts, as our neighboring states of Oregon and California have done. Our state's populist traditions and a belief that government that is closest to the people is the best government, continues to suggest that counties and cities should share the cost of operating the trial courts within their jurisdiction. But it is also clear from the report that the state government should be contributing more toward the operations of its trial courts. I emphasize the words "its trial courts" because clearly the superior court is a state court, its judges being state elected officials with statewide jurisdiction. Our district courts, unlike the old justice of the peace courts, are also state courts. I am comfortable saying that because the legislature created these courts, you establish their number and location and their responsibilities and jurisdiction have been substantially increased in recent years.

The Board for Judicial Administration, after being presented with the task force report, spent considerable time reviewing its findings and recommendations. Eventually it developed a proposal for this, the 59th Legislature, to consider. Let me be clear-we understand that there are no quick fixes to the problems we see as a consequence of inadequate and unreliable funding for our trial courts. For over one hundred years, ever since statehood, our trial courts have been funded almost exclusively by local government and we know that this will not change overnight or even in one or two legislative sessions. It will take a long-term commitment from the judiciary and the legislature to rebalance the funding. We believe, though, that what we are proposing to you in this session is a reasonable first step.

Our first recommendations to you are in the area of trial court operations. We propose that state government undertake payment of one-half of the salary of our district court judges and elected municipal court judges. This would be consistent with what the state now provides for superior court judges and would be an important recognition of the increased stature of our important courts of limited jurisdiction which exist in every county of our state.

The other request in the area of trial court operations is that the State assume one-half of the costs for jurors. By that I mean one-half of the daily juror fee and mileage costs. I am sure you would agree with me that the right to trial by jury is one of the most sacred rights citizens of this nation possess. It is also a right that is guaranteed in civil and criminal cases by our state constitution. It seems only appropriate that the State should bear one-half of these costs that are now borne by counties and cities alone. In connection with this request, we are recommending that the minimum daily fee for jurors be increased from the present $10 to between $30 and $45 for the second or subsequent day of jury service. As I indicated in my first state of the judiciary address four years ago, the present minimum daily fee of $10, which was set in 1959, is woefully inadequate and, frankly, an embarrassment-it is not sufficient to reimburse jurors for the costs of parking in our larger cities, much less other out of pocket costs for things like child care that may be necessary. The argument I made four years ago for an increase in that fee is even more compelling today.

Now you may be asking yourself this question: if the State simply picks up costs already being borne by local government, how does that benefit our trial courts and allow them to deal with the problems caused by insufficient funding that have been identified in the task force report? That is a good question and one that is answered by our recommendation that one-half of the savings that counties realize as a consequence of the State's assumption of a portion of district court salaries and jury costs be set aside in local trial court improvement accounts. Decisions regarding expenditures from these accounts should be left to the sound discretion of the legislative body of the local government and should be available only for improvements to trial court operations.

The next proposal we make to you is not in the area of trial court operations. It is in the important area of public defense in criminal cases. Although the provision of public defense is, technically, a function of the executive branch, it is our trial courts that are in the best position to observe the work of our public defenders and, ultimately, it is courts that must determine if the state is meeting its constitutional obligation to provide effective counsel to indigent defendants in criminal cases. Unfortunately, our public defender systems in this state are not in good shape-I wish I could say otherwise, but I can't. Because almost the entire financial responsibility for providing counsel is being borne by local government, we have a situation where no two defender systems in Washington are the same. The result is that we have a crazy quilt of systems. Although the systems in some counties are better than in others, the most common feature that these systems share is public defender caseloads that are too large, a lack of training, and proper supervision for public defenders, and, almost always, a lack of adequate support services. The system, in other words, is broken and in crisis. What I am saying to you is borne out by the findings of the Washington State Bar Association's Blue Ribbon Panel on Public Defense and the investigative series that was recently carried in the Seattle Times. That series of articles showed that while many dedicated persons work in our public defender offices, in too many of our jurisdictions defendants are poorly served by the system.

Without assistance from the State, our cash strapped counties and cities are unable to correct the problems that have been identified in the bar study and the Times' articles. That is why we are recommending to the legislature that the State invest $12,500,000 in the state's public defender systems in each year of the coming biennium. This money, we propose, should be distributed to the counties and cities on a formula, based largely on population and criminal filings. We recommend, though, that funding in the second year be contingent upon a showing by the jurisdiction that progress has been made in improving their system consistent with the long-ignored standards for public defense service that counties have been directed to develop pursuant to legislation passed by this body in 1989.

One might well ask at this point, why with all of the meritorious requests that are made to the legislature for funding should we be concerned about providing counsel to indigent defendants in criminal cases, when many of them will be found guilty of the crime with which they are charged or some lesser offense? The short answer is that the constitution we are all sworn to uphold guarantees the effective assistance of counsel to each defendant who is charged with a crime that carries with it a potential loss of liberty, regardless of the defendant's financial circumstances. Long before the famous United States Supreme Court case of Gideon v. Wainwright made that right binding on all of the states, as a matter of constitutional law, the legislature of this state recognized that responsibility. The year was 1909 when the 11th Legislature passed a statute, which said: Whenever a defendant shall be charged with a felony and "shall request the court to appoint counsel to assist in his defense" because "he is unable by reason of poverty to procure counsel, the court shall appoint counsel" to be paid at public expense.

Finally, we are also recommending to you that the state government phase in full funding of the cost of attorneys for the parents of children in termination proceedings. As you know, this legislature previously funded a four-year pilot project in which the State did ensure payment of these costs in the three pilot counties. This project has been immensely successful in moving these kinds of cases through the system more expeditiously than elsewhere and it has resulted in reducing the amount of time that the children, who are the subjects of these actions, spend in foster care. We also recommend that the State continue its efforts to improve the level of funding for civil legal services, consistent with the recommendations of the civil legal needs study that were approved by the Supreme Court's Task Force on Civil Equal Justice.

We recognize that what we are proposing will cost real money that the State is not now paying out. I wish, therefore, that we as judges could bring some money to the table so to speak. But, alas, as the judicial branch, we do not have the power to generate additional revenue. We do, however, collect a wide variety of fees at our trial courts. We believe that those fees, which have not been increased for some time, should be increased across the board and that other fees should be imposed for some services for which no fee is now imposed. If our recommendation in this regard is adopted by you, it will generate a substantial sum of money for the State that could assist in underwriting the costs of what we have proposed. We make this recommendation with a degree of reluctance because any increase in fees can, if it is too great, inhibit access to justice. We don't want to do that and we are satisfied that the increases we are proposing will not have that effect.

Let me close by saying that we know that this legislature will receive a myriad of requests to increase funding for a variety of governmental functions—for our common schools and universities for public employee salaries, for corrections and for public assistance, and on and on. All of these proponents, I am sure, will have a legitimate case to make. I don't mean to tell you how to sort out all of these competing requests, other than to say that the provision of justice, on both the criminal and civil side, is a core function of government that should be adequately supported by all taxpayers, not just users of the system. The first building that was built on this campus, courtesy of a long ago appropriation from the legislature, was called the Temple of Justice and the first building that every county built after this state was organized was a county courthouse. This reflects the fact that provision of justice has been and always will be a priority for Washingtonians. In order for our state's judiciary to continue to provide the quality of justice that our citizens expect us to provide, we must make the recommendations I have outlined. We hope you will give these reasonable requests favorable consideration. Thank you for listening to me so courteously and for inviting me to present this address."

MESSAGE FROM THE SECRETARY OF STATE

January 20, 2005

The Honorable President of the Senate
Legislature of the State of Washington
Olympia, Washington 98504

MR. PRESIDENT:

Pursuant to Article II, Section 1 of the Washington State Constitution, RCW29A.72.230, and WAC 434-379-010, the office of the Secretary of State has caused the signatures submitted in support of Initiative to the Legislature 336 to be examined in the following manner:

- 1) It was determined that 300,776 signatures were submitted by the sponsors of the initiative. A random sample of 6,124 signatures was taken from those submitted;
- 2) Each sampled signature was examined to determine if the signer was a registered voter of the state, if the signature was reasonably similar to the one appearing on the record of that voter, and if the same signature appeared more than once in the sample. We found 4,911 valid signatures, 1,205 signatures that were invalid due to non-registration or improper form, and 8 pairs of duplicated signatures in the sample;
- 3) We calculated an allowance for the chance error of sampling (53) by multiplying the square root of the number of invalid signatures by 1.5;
- 4) We estimated the upper limit of the number of signatures on the initiative petition which were invalid (61,786) by dividing the sum of the number of invalid signatures in the sample and allowance for the chance of error of sampling by the sampling ratio;
- 5) We determined the maximum allowable number of pairs of signatures on the petition (41,256) by subtracting the sum of the number of signatures required by Article II, section 1 of the Washington State Constitution (197,734) and the estimate of the upper limit of the number of invalid signatures on the petition from the number of signatures submitted;
- 6) We determined the expected number of pairs of signatures in the sample (17) by multiplying the square of the sampling ratio by maximum allowable number of pairs of signatures on the initiative petition;
- 7) We determined the acceptable number of pairs of signatures in the sample (10) by subtracting 1.65 times the square root of the expected number of pairs of signatures in the sample; and
- 8) Since the number of pairs of signatures in the sample is less than the acceptable number of pairs of signatures in the sample, I hereby declare Initiative to the Legislature 336 to be sufficient.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the Seal of the state of Washington, this 20th day of, January, 2005.

SAM REED, Secretary of State

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Oke: "A point of personal privilege. Thank you very much Mr. President and Linda too. I want to thank the body for being so gracious to me over these months. It's been last year, a rough, rough year. Couple weeks ago I was at a down time and Judy brought over a box of cards and I sit for two hours and read through all your cards, letters and notes and it was a terrific pick me up I tell you. I know the prayers are with me. Every day's a new day for me. I don't know what I'm getting into, I'm on a new road and if you don't mind I'll give you just what's going to happen in the next few months so nobody will be guessing. Right now I'm in my first of four cycles of chemo every twenty-eight days I get a load of this stuff and this last time they had to give me four units of blood. So you that give blood continue to give blood because I don't know what's inside of me now but I feel a little younger. Talking about being younger, I've been here fifteen years and this man is the way I try to emulate and one of the things my office is right next to it and I want his office and I'm next in seniority but the sucker's still here so I don't know if I'm ever going to get in his office. But after the four cycles that I'm on are going to be over I hope we're all out of here and smiling and on with our own business and then I go through a stem cell transplant. They take what good cells in me, I don't know how they decide that freeze them, come along and if you're a farmer you'll understand this. They use round up or something else, kill everything else and for about two weeks I'm laying there like a vegetable praying that I don't get a cold or anything else and then they put the good ones back in and a couple more weeks hopefully I'm back on my feet and hopefully maybe I'll be able to enjoy some golf this year and some other things. If you don't mind, Mr. President, could I bring my wife out to the side here. I think she's over there somewhere. I'd like to say something. You know she has told me that I signed up a little bit more I can't see. She has signed up for better or for worse but putting on socks is not part of that job. She is just with me all day long and she's such a wonderful care giver and I wouldn't be here today without you. Some people say; 'Why don't you stay home Bob and not bother us?' Well, if I did that I'd be really sick. When I come here I see your smiling faces, I know that you have love for me as I have love for you and it really picks me up so keep me here as long as I can and God Bless each and everyone of you. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Franklin: "A point of personal privilege. Thank you Mr. President. Well, Senator Oke, you're going to be here for a long time. We got the message. Thank you. We just had some happy moments here and recognizing the National Guards and hearing from our colleague, Senator Oke but sometimes there are also sadness that comes into our lives and this morning just scrolling across the TV screen was the reported that thirty marines whose plane had been shot down in Iraq did not think it was terrorist or what might have given away. So, Mr. President in that regard, I would ask if we could have a moment of silence for those thirty lives lost."

MOMENT OF SILENCE

The Senate observed a moment of silence in memory of the thirty Military personnel who lost their lives in Iraq.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Schmidt: "A point of personal privilege. Thank you Mr. President. I just want to thank you Mr. President. I just want to make one quick note. We have a tradition here in the Senate that you know about giving your first speech and the need to basically give a little present to everybody. I wanted to make sure that everybody knew and recognized that one of our newest members, Senator Benson is also a member, he's a Major in the Air National Guard and Brad, how long have you been serving, total of twelve years so he wanted to stand up and speak today but you know the tradition that we have but he didn't but just please recognize that he's a very dedicated Guardsman as well so thank you for hearing that."

MOTION

At 10:48 a.m., on motion of Senator Eide, the Senate was declared to be at ease subject to the call of the President for the purpose of a Rules Meeting.

The Senate was called to order at 11:41 a.m. by President Owen.

REMARKS BY DEE HOOPER

Dee Hooper: "My daughter Jody, always fears when I get into these kinds of situations that I have a red nose that I'll pull out and put it on. She doesn't think that's very funny. I'm honored, beyond belief, for, I guess the honor that you've bestowed upon me and quite frankly it's a little bit overwhelming so I thank you. I've enjoyed what we've done with this building. I think it's been a good contribution to the building and I hope that you'll continue to protect this building in the manner that it deserves. Thank you."

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

President Owen: "Thank you Dee, it's my privilege also to be able to make some introductions of Dee's family. He has with him today, his daughters; Carol, Jody and Cheryl, their mother Bunny Hooper, his son-in-law, Steve Lynch and his grandchildren Heidi and Dillon."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Schmidt: "Thank you Mr. President. A point of personal privilege. As we get ready to go home for the weekend there's a major event taking place in Iraq on Sunday and those folks will be for the first time will be electing their form of government and the people whom they want. Yesterday in Iraq there was a strike by the terrorist at one of the voting centers that killed twelve people. One of them was a U. S. Marine. While you always hope and you prayer that nothing like that will happen but it's hard for us to understand and estimate that it probably will happen again on Sunday. In something that we so take for granted the Iraqi people that are going to show up to vote on Sunday are putting their lives in danger. Very likely there will be attacks on more of the voting centers and it will be our soldiers, members of our military that will be defending many of those places. So Mr. President, I would like us to stand for a moment of silence to recognize those twelve people that died yesterday and also recognize a very important day taking place in another country on Sunday. Thank you."

MOMENT OF SILENCE

The Senate observed a moment of silence in memory of twelve members of the military, who passed away while serving in Iraq on January 27, 2005.

At 11:40 a.m., on motion of Senator Eide, the Senate adjourned until 12:00 noon, Monday, January 31, 2005.

WHEREAS, Each year teachers and staff at Truman High School have raised their expectations for the alternative high school students. Attendance requirements were more strictly enforced and academic requirements were raised to better prepare students for life after high school. WHEREAS, In 1999 Truman High School was awarded a Gates Foundation Small Schools Project grant to restructure the way Truman High School delivered instruction; and

WHEREAS, In 2001 Truman High School opened its doors to a brand new learning environment where a team of 12 teachers personalized education and acted as advisors staying with no more than 17 students until they graduated, worked with parents to make them active partners in their children's high school experience, and helped students locate experiences and internships that matched their interests and passions; and

WHEREAS, Truman High School is now a college preparatory school. Students must apply to Truman as a school of choice. The students come from all different ethnic, economic, social, and educational backgrounds; and

WHEREAS, In order to graduate, students must demonstrate proficiency in a number of academic areas that are determined by the state standards and the Essential Academic Learning Requirements. Student work is collected in a portfolio and reviewed regularly by teachers, administrators, parents, and students. Students must present their work through a public exhibition for a panel made up of students, staff, parents, and mentor/community members; and

WHEREAS, Truman staff believe all students should have the opportunity to attend posthigh school academic education, and prepare students for this opportunity. Students are required to make college visits and go through the application process. Students' academic expectations are high and are consistent with college preparation. All students must take the SAT and the ACT; and

REMARKS BY DAIRY AMBASSADOR MCKENZIE KLEIN

Miss McKenzie Klein: "Honorable Lt. Governor Owen, members of the Senate and guests. When we think of Washington State, we think green. After all, we do live in the Evergreen State but due to urbanization and the decline of the state's agriculture industry, Washington's best asset is in danger. Yes, our Evergreen State just may become the 'Ever-paved' state. Dairy farmers are on the front line in the battle to preserve Washington's natural habitats. Eighty percent of the world's rare trumpeter swan population spends its winters on dairy farms in western Washington. They survive on left over corn grown by the dairy farms to feed their cows. No dairy farms, no swans. Dairy farms also help protect and preserve natural salmon habitat as well as provide open spaces for everyone to enjoy. Dairy farms are important to both Washington's natural habitats as well as the agriculture industry. However, the very survival of dairy farms today is at risk. When I was born in 1985, there were nearly 1,600 dairy farms in Washington, sadly today there are barely 570 left. Our industry looks forward to working with you to help sustain agriculture in Washington. Together, we can preserve open spaces, protect threatened wildlife and support the dairy industry. Together we can ensure that Washington remains the Evergreen State. Got Milk?"

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Kline: "Mr. President, this is physically difficult. I feel if I've just been awoken from a coma. I feel as if a persuasive power, as if made of steel has grasped me controlled my every action even my thinking. If someone who is conscious these last five minutes please tell me. Just I just hear a trial lawyer move a bill that grants immunity from liability and I voted yes; is that, with someone who is conscious, did I just do that, did he just do that. Mr. President, I believe there is a persuasive power at large on this floor that requires us to act in its behest. On behalf of this institution Mr. President, I require that we have some kind of retribution, some kind of restitution for our powers of thought lost to this behemoth of logical and rational persuasion. Mr. President, I think compensation is in order. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Johnson: "On behalf of the Trial Lawyers Association of the state of Washington I'd like to inform Senators Weinstein and Kline that they're on probation. There'll be some opportunity to sign onto some good bills coming up."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Deccio: "I'm compelled to rise after that dramatic speech. The reason I voted against it, because if you would have amended to broaden the title I would have added a lot more exemptions, and would it solve the professional liability problem. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McCaslin: "Thank you Mr. President. Since I've resigned from the chief needler of the State Senate, I see that I've turned over to excellent hands. Of course he'll take a lot longer to talk than I will and probably give us all a billable hour but none the less as I sat here listening to you folks I thought of General McArthur. To paraphrase General McArthur, 'Old Senators never die, they just fade away.' I lost about thirty pounds, so I'm fading as fast as I can. Now, Senator Esser, I've assigned this to you. Once one of our freshman get up I would hope you would rise and equal that attorney's speech."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Weinstein: "Thank you Mr. President. I'd like to thank the Senators who have just addressed me for the kind words. I understand, here in Olympia, those are terms of endearment, so I appreciate them and I take them in the spirit in which they were offered. Seriously though, I would like to thank all the Senators here today and all the Senators are not present today for the warm welcome that I've received since I've been here. I do feel like you have made me feel special and part of a special body and I feel very privileged to be here and you have made me feel warm. When I come home during the weekends, I tell my family how surprised I am. I didn't expect people on both sides of the aisle to just to treat me with the respect and just the kindness that you have so I appreciate that. I'll tell you something about my district, I'm sure you know something about my district. I'm from the forty-first district. It includes part of Renton, which I share with Senator Margarita Prentice and Adam Kline, it has part of Renton and all of Newcastle and I'm told that's where the real people of my district live. It also includes a slice of Issaquah and part of Bellevue and Mercer Island which, like Garrison Keillor, is Lake Woebegone. All the kids are above average in that part of my district. So, that's where I come from, I come from Mercer Island. And I was telling my daughter, one of my daughters, about the tradition here in the Senate. The tradition whereby I'm expected to give tribute, give a gift to the other Senators, something that will exemplify my district. So I was asking my family, what do they think I should do? My youngest daughter looks at me and said 'Dad, well, everyone thinks that everybody on Mercer Island is rich, so why don't you give each of them a million dollars?' I said that I should do that but you in the words of one of our former presidents it would be wrong. So, what I've decided to do instead about a month or two ago my wife gave me a little present called transportation gridlock. It's a little puzzle. It's a little game and I enjoy playing it. I think it exemplifies some of the problems of my district and in the state as well. It's a game that will be distributed to you, it's something that you could put in your waiting room for lobbyist or constituents or just to play with yourself and it'll help us all work together, I hope, to solve transportation gridlock in the community, in my community, in your community and in our state. So I'd like to work with all of you, not just transportation problems, but all problems. Once again just want to say thank you so much for the warm welcome that you have showed me."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Jacobsen: ""I just wanted to give a little bit of advice to the new Senator. When Harry Truman got elected to the U. S. Senate one of his colleagues said in the first week, he said, 'Harry, you're going to spend six months wondering how you got here and six years wondering how the rest of them got here.'"

ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 5049, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Kline: "Mr. President, I once again rise in complete stupefaction, to a point of personal privilege Mr. President. That this imposter, this former member of some other legislative body, which I am informed occupies part of this building -- I want to make sure that I go by the proper address that Mr. President has imposed upon those of us who refer to some other legislative body -- but that this person must be aware that after such a speech that he must certainly compensate us for the dire consequences of having to cut into our lunch hour but at least forty-five seconds to listen to it and that I certainly hope that he will come forward with the appropriate compensation, Mr. President. I am sure he's been reminded. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Deccio: "I'd like to ask Senator Weinstein if he... Senator Weinstein, my question is: Will you love us in April as you do in February?"

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Rasmussen: "Point of personal privilege, Mr. President. This is far more serious and I would like to make sure that all the members of the senate know that on Monday I introduced a resolution because we had too many for today. It was on autism. I know that you would have liked to put your name on the resolution. Because we introduced it on Monday I couldn't do so and so I do apologize for not getting your name on it, but on the resolution you do have on your desk it says one out of every two hundred fifty children today born today now have autism. In fact, its one out of one hundred sixty six. Today on the Capitol steps there is a rally at 12:30 and the Governor is going to speak and issue a proclamation at 2:00, but at 12:30, care givers, families and advocates of autism are gathering to make all of us aware of this epidemic that's not only affected children in this state but throughout the world. Many other states have come together and budgeted many, many millions of dollars to help bring intervention therapies for these children because it does say that they can get better if we intervene early. Also we are looking at issues of why this is happening. Why we have this very stark rise in autistic children. There has been an article and I want to bring it to your attention and I will send it to each one of your offices but it talks about the link between mercury and autism and that the drug companies did know that there was a link. So, we really want to follow the state of California in banning mercury out of vaccines for little children. But set that aside for a minute and think about the families, your neighbors and certainly your friends that all have been touched with this epidemic. If you have a minute go out and support the people out on the Capitol steps today. With that, I thank you for bearing with me today. Thank you, Mr. President."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Rockefeller: "Thank you Mr. President and ladies and gentlemen of the Senate. I'm aware of the hour is moving quickly and so eating may be on your minds, so I will be brief. Like Senator Weinstein before me, I too am humbled by the opportunity to join you here in this August body. I won't talk too much about my past on the other body, but it has made me appreciate what I see before me and what I feel. I feel respected and in turn, I respect each and every one of you who makes this institution a wonderful place in which to work and to collaborate. I am very pleased to be here and I look forward to many years of fruitful, cooperative efforts. In thinking about the matter before us, 'appropriate compensation' as Senator Kline put it so judiciously, I found myself wondering first if he was making that suggestion because of my name. I want to assure you that, though my name is Rockefeller, that responsibility of giving away millions has been assigned to another branch of the family. After all, if they gave away all of their money at once, then they wouldn't have any more to give away. And then what would they do? The rest of us work and I'm in that other group that chooses to work. So, I'm happy to let them worry giving away the millions. On the other hand, I have thought about what my district might bring to the situation. My district is number twenty-three. I'm a successor to the Honorable Betti Sheldon, a woman of whom I use to say, 'It will be very difficult to fill her shoes.' Well, that isn't ... that analogy that works to an extent, except I looked at my size thirteen shoes and realized it wasn't quite appropriate for Senator Sheldon, to speak of her in that manner, so I don't use that anymore. But, what do we have that's unique? Well, we are very much surrounded by water in the heart of Puget Sound on the west side and I thought instantly of goeducks and, just as instantly, I let that idea disappear. We do have lots of goeducks. I could have given one to each of you. Some of you would say, 'What is that awful looking creature?' When you see them raw and alive, as Senator Oke and I and others may have done in the real world, it's not a very appealing creature. Frankly it's quite ugly. I thought of something else. We have a wonderful community called Port Gamble. It, for a time, had a company saw mill which operated continuously for one hundred fifty three years. It was the oldest such mill town in the state of Washington, went back to 1853 I believe, recently celebrated its sesquicentennial. It is an historic community. It's been so designated on the historic register. It has been appropriately protected under the GMA, with an exception that we passed several years ago, which allows for it's orderly development -- maintaining the historical integrity that it's owners have had for a century and a half. And there are people in that community who are determined to be stewards of the past as well as champions of a new and revitalized future. So, I thought that's a good example for what we're all about as a state -- citizens who care about the past, but also are working for a better future. And a company, which continues to have its financial interest there, still owns the town through a subsidiary corporation, and they have made it possible for entrepreneurs to come in and develop new opportunities, new businesses. One such business is called La La Land Chocolates. And now we get to the point. La La Land Chocolates creates magnificent truffles. Their flavors range from Mayan Chocolate to Black Berry Brandy to Chocolate/Orange Peppermint Schnapps, Kaluha/Chocolate mint, on and on. The owner and the proprietor of this is a man who, frankly, Mr. President, looks like Jessie Ventura. He's 6'5", 240 pounds, all muscle, a delightful man who has a prosthetic limb. He lost one leg as a young man and now he is in his 50s. He is a Vietnam Veteran. He came back from Vietnam, still with the limb by the way. He lost that when he became an operating engineer. His name is Greg Marquiss and he and his wife have this passion for chocolates. Now, he had to change his lifestyle after he lost his limb in an industrial accident while working as an operating engineer. So he retrained himself and became a computer software programmer and he is an expert on COBOL. A software which is still in use today in many of our mainframes and he said to me, 'I can make COBOL sing.' But, as I say, he discovery this new passion for chocolates and he is equally skilled at that. And so, if I may Mr. President, we have individual truffles that I'd like to bring on the floor and distribute to everybody here -- including all of you at the dais. Thank you very much."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Deccio:"I'd like to inform Senator Rockefeller, I'm allergic to chocolates. Could you give me something else, like a hundred dollar gift certificate to Nordstrom?"

SENATE RESOLUTION

By Senators Franklin, Prentice, Thibaudeau, Shin, Rockefeller, Pridemore, Spanel, Eide, Keiser, Kline, Berkey, Fraser, Poulsen, Sheldon, Jacobsen, Weinstein, McAuliffe, Kohl-Welles, Rasmussen and Haugen

WHEREAS, Carter G. Woodson, noted black scholar and historian, founded Black History Week, the second week in February, on February 12, 1926; and

WHEREAS, In 1976, as part of the nation's bicentennial, Black History Week was expanded and established as Black History Month with the hope that through this special observance all Americans would be reminded of their ethnic roots and develop a mutual respect for the contributions of all racial groups in America; and

WHEREAS, The month of February is significant and recognized in African-American History for the birthdays of great African-American pioneers and institutions, such as Frederick Douglass, W.E.B. DuBois, Langston Hughes, Eubie Blake, the NAACP, and the first Pan African Congress; and

WHEREAS, African-Americans have endured tremendous personal, social, economic, and political injustices since the dawn of their enslavement; and

WHEREAS, Increasing intercultural exchange and understanding will lead to the healing of all races; and

WHEREAS, We owe a great deal of gratitude to those who have pioneered the way toward social equality; and

WHEREAS, One such trailblazer Shirley Chisolm, the first African-American Congresswoman was elected in 1968, sadly passed away last month; and

WHEREAS, The "unbought and unbosomed" Congresswoman will be remembered fondly for her tremendous spirit, activism, honor, ability to inspire others, and her many significant contributions to our nation; and

WHEREAS, From the beauty and strength of a people suffering an unjust sentence of slavery, to the gains during the abolitionist movement including the 14th Amendment, to a backlash of the oppressive laws of "Jim Crow" which legalized the institutional separation of the races, to the celebration of life and the arts through the Harlem Renaissance, to the numerous and significant gains of freedom by the civil rights movement and agents of change like Reverend Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., Medgar Evers, and Malcolm X; and

WHEREAS, For the immeasurable struggle of the leaders, victims, and silent heroes during these times to end discrimination, hatred, bigotry, and segregation, we are all in debt;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington State Senate hereby recognize and appreciate the many benefits of Black History Month to our citizenry and to our culture in general and that we urge all citizens of the State of Washington to join with us in taking the opportunity this month to explore this rich history and bring our nation closer to realizing racial equity; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to the Washington State Commission on African-American Affairs and the African-American History Museum in Tacoma, Washington.

Senators Franklin, Swecker, Prentice, Kohl-Welles, Schmidt, Shin, Jacobsen, Mulliken, Kline, Parlett, Pridemore, Honeyford and Kastama spoke in favor of adoption of the resolution.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of Senate Resolution No. 8624.

The motion by Senator Franklin carried and the resolution was adopted by voice vote.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Franklin: "Thank you Mr. President. For the lack of time I did not get around to all of my colleagues to ask them to sign on this resolution so I do apologize and hope you will be able to sign."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Kohl-Welles: "Thank you Mr. President. On Wednesday when we were debating and voting on a bill, Senate Bill No. 5049, it was the first time for Senator Rockefeller from the 23rd District to speak on the Senate floor. And as you know, we've had a tradition in the State Senate to make some comments about how horrible the speech was of the first one made and we had enjoyed some humor with one of our State Senators having made his first remarks before that from the 41st District. So I carried on with this tradition and made some comments about how unpleasant I found the Senator's remarks from the 23rd District on my bill. Well, it appears I was too convincing. And I guess I was theater arts major in college but apparently some people took my remarks seriously and inquired later that day about why I was so distressed the good Senator speaking on my bill. So I would just like to make sure that all of you know and anybody who was watching the floor debate on the bill last Wednesday on TVW know, that I hold the Senator from the 23rd District Senator Rockefeller in tremendously high esteem and regard and was very pleased that he spoke and supported my bill. And I am also thrilled that he is now a member of the Senate so I'm just rising to make that clarification. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Kline: "Thank you Mr. President. I too would like to congratulate Senator Kohl-Welles on her experience in theater arts and her ability to convince us all that she holds Senator Rockefeller in high regard. I believe that is a, shall we say, an experience, theatrical experience. I certainly appreciate it. Mr. President, I really rise to another much more serious matter and that is the matter of the noise I believe I heard in the general direction of the back of the room earlier on the when we were conferring about the resolution and I wonder if maybe there isn't some defect in this building after all Mr. President. The noise from back there it sounded very unusual something that's not normally in our debates. I wonder maybe if there was some deed or some condition back there that would bear a little effort to correct. Perhaps our new Senator could explain his whatever it is that's in his, that smirk on his face and that good look on his face that maybe there is something going on Mr. President I think that bears compensation so I will leave that to him. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Pridemore: "Mr. President, I would like to thank my esteemed colleague regarding that. I would like to apologize to this body for deigning to interrupt your deliberations on so weighty and important a matter. It is important to know note that in my first speech on the Senate floor we were able to obtain a unanimous decision and I feel no small amount of responsibility for that decision and I hope you'll all remind Senator Weinstein when he returns that he was not able to do that. I do have some compensations and hopefully we can have our good friends bring those in. This is a special little treat, something to help you to remember the 49th Legislative District. For those of you who don't know or don't remember, the 49th Legislative District is in Southwest Washington encompassing most of the city of Vancouver and the community of Hazeldell. It is the first home of the first settlement in the Pacific Northwest, that of the Fort Vancouver, established by the Hudson's Bay Company in 1825 and contains the oldest town square in the state of Washington. That being Ester Short Park. It is former home of Captain Ulysses S. Grant; of General George C. Marshall; of General OO Howard, the founder of Howard University; and home of the 'Buffalo Soldiers' who helped to open up the Pacific Northwest for Americans. The 49th Legislative District has a very long and distinguished legislative history - not as long as of your districts - having just been established in the 1950's. I'm, in fact, the sixth Senator to represent the 49th replacing such luminaries as Senator Don Carlson and the legendary Senator Al Bauer. So I look very much forward in the next few years to working with you. I hope you enjoy the snack and we will talk with you all very soon. Thank you. Thank you Mr. President."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Esser: "Mr. President, one of the great privileges serving in the Senate in the recent years has been the recipient of delicious cookies on Valentine's Day. And I was wondering, if the President was aware, if there might be a cookie distribution taking place today on the floor?"

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Well, the, I know that's probably why Senator Deccio came in today. The truth of the matter is, as I left this morning about 7:00 a.m., I left in the wafting odor of fresh baked cookies and - about 300 sitting there for me to bring in - and they're still sitting there. So they will be brought in tomorrow, since nobody is going, the 'full' Senate is not going to be on the floor today. I chose to wait until tomorrow. Actually, we won't be on until Wednesday. Well, we'll distribute them tomorrow.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Deccio: "I prefer oatmeal raisin."

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "I know, I've been getting orders and I'm also out getting my Atkins friendly candy today to bring in so. So I got that message last year too."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Rasmussen: "Thank you Mr. President. Well, Valentine's Day is really all year round so if you don't bring them until tomorrow that's perfectly alright because we know you love us all year round. I also, I made the same speech to my nineteen grandchildren, because I didn't mail their cards until last night."

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "So, do they have a truck come to your house to pick up the mail or what?"

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Rasmussen: "That's true. It was really, really thick and but, you know, you can't get them all out on time, but that doesn't mean that you don't love us all year round."

MOTION

At 12:07 p.m., on motion of Senator Eide, the Senate adjourned until 12:00 noon, Tuesday, February 15, 2005.

"Sec. 1. RCW 10.73.170 and 2003 c 100 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) ~~((On or before December 31, 2004, a person in this state who has been convicted of a felony and is currently serving a term of imprisonment and who has been denied postconviction DNA testing may submit a request to the state Office of Public Defense, which will transmit the request to the county prosecutor in the county where the conviction was obtained for postconviction DNA testing, if DNA evidence was not admitted because the court ruled DNA testing did not meet acceptable scientific standards or DNA testing technology was not sufficiently developed to test the DNA evidence in the case. On and after January 1, 2005, a person must raise the DNA issues at trial or on appeal.~~

~~(2) The prosecutor shall screen the request. The request shall be reviewed based upon the likelihood that the DNA evidence would demonstrate innocence on a more probable than not basis. The prosecutor shall inform the requestor and the state Office of Public Defense of the decision, and shall, in the case of an adverse decision, advise the requestor of appeals rights. Upon determining that testing should occur and the evidence still exists, the prosecutor shall request DNA testing by the Washington state patrol crime laboratory. Contact with victims shall be handled through victim/witness divisions.~~

~~(3) A person denied a request made pursuant to subsections (1) and (2) of this section has a right to appeal his or her request within thirty days of denial of the request by the prosecutor. The appeal shall be to the attorney general's office. If the attorney general's office determines that it is likely that the DNA testing would demonstrate innocence on a more probable than not basis, then the attorney general's office shall request DNA testing by the Washington state patrol crime laboratory.~~

~~(4) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any biological material that has been secured in connection with a criminal case prior to July 22, 2001, may not be destroyed before January 1, 2005.)~~ A person convicted of a felony in a Washington state court who currently is serving a term of imprisonment may submit to the court that entered the judgment of conviction a verified written motion requesting DNA testing, with a copy of the motion provided to the state office of public defense.

(2) The motion shall:

(a) State that:

(i) The court ruled that DNA testing did not meet acceptable scientific standards; or

(ii) DNA testing technology was not sufficiently developed to test the DNA evidence in the case; or

(iii) The DNA testing now requested would be significantly more accurate than prior DNA testing or would provide significant new information;

(b) Explain why DNA evidence is material to the identity of the perpetrator of, or accomplice to, the crime, or to sentence enhancement; and

(c) Comply with all other procedural requirements established by court rule.

(3) The court shall grant a motion requesting DNA testing under this section if such motion is in the form required by subsection (2) of this section, and the convicted person has shown the likelihood that the DNA evidence would demonstrate innocence on a more probable than not basis.

(4) Upon written request to the court that entered a judgment of conviction, a convicted person who demonstrates that he or she is indigent under RCW 10.101.010 may request appointment of counsel solely to prepare and present a motion under this section, and the court, in its discretion, may grant the request. Such motion for appointment of counsel shall comply with all procedural requirements established by court rule.

(5) DNA testing ordered under this section shall be performed by the Washington state patrol crime laboratory. Contact with victims shall be handled through victim/witness divisions.

(6) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, upon motion of defense counsel or the court's own motion, a sentencing court in a felony case may order the preservation of any biological material that has been secured in connection with a criminal case, or evidence samples sufficient for testing, in accordance with any court rule adopted for the preservation of evidence. The court must specify the samples to be maintained and the length of time the samples must be preserved.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hewitt: "Thank you Mr. President. Senator Delvin, I got to tell you how disappointed I am in you. I've trained you and trained you and trained you this summer, teach you to act like a senator. The first thing you do on your first speech is stand up and not button your jacket. We do things differently over here. Secondly, let me tell you how disappointed I am in a gift like this. The Senators from Spokane are noted for giving very nice gifts, like bottles of wine. How many would rather have a bottle of wine than a T-Shirt? Thank you, and I don't think that we even need to do a roll call on that. However, it is by this body a tradition that you give something from your district and I will say that the Senator from the 41st last week gave something from China so that's a little bit of outsourcing that went on, so I don't want to hear about out sourcing. Outsourcing is off the table now, so we'll expect the wine. Some others things happen differently in this body as well. When we vote here we say 'yea' or 'nay' so when you do the budget this year you'll get to say 'yea' or 'nay'. And if you don't know the history behind this, you voted the wrong way on the budget one year because he punched the wrong button in the other body and tried to stand up and change his vote and was gavelled down. That's different over here. I also think you're confused as to what body you belong in. I think perhaps you should of maybe moved into the Lt. Governor's office because in the last few years you have been to Peru. So you've been to Peru, Chile, Germany, Ireland, Great Britain, South Africa, Mexico, Nepal, Thailand, France, Bolivia and Canada. Well, I can tell you in the Senate, we have to work, so that'll be enough of that. Welcome to the Senate, we're glad to have you here Senator Delvin."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Delvin: "Point of compensation Mr. President. Thank you Mr. President. I represent the 8th district which is known for the Columbia River rolls through there, the Yakima certainly comes into the Columbia there and the Snake River used to flow through in the same district by now it's in the 16th. We're known for agriculture, we're known for the Hanford area and I was trying to think of a appropriate gift. At first I thought about the ag that goes on in my area, district and I know you've gotten wine in the past and the good Senator from the 16th brought it up. Well, with a cops salary I couldn't afford a bottle of wine for everyone unless I could find some of that two dollar bottle and I didn't find any two dollar bottle. So, that went out. I do have a French fry plant in my district and I thought how about a bad of frozen French fires and I know a lot of you guys do the carb light and I would just add to that carb light. As you know when you take gas, when you go to the gas pumps to fill up your car, you have to leave that gas pump because the tank gets full and you have to drive off so just push away from the dinner table more often and get out and drive around and you don't have worry about what you eat. Then I thought well I'm a police officer and maybe something along the lines of a police officer Mr. President and I thought well I could give you all one of my police business cards and put 'get out of jail free card' on it. I thought that would probably only work in Richland and I know a lot of you don't never come to Richland so that wouldn't be a very good gift. I thought about hand cuffs, give everyone a pair of hand cuffs Mr. President but I know some of you already have some fur lined hand cuffs and also you'd have a hard time maybe taking those home and explaining what the hand cuffs were to your spouse so that idea went out the window too. Then I thought what is really unique about the 8th district and it's probably the high school that I attended and graduated from. We are known, the Richland High is known as the Richland Bombers and that comes from the World War II role that Hanford played in manufacturing the plutonium that was used in one of the bombs to bring it into World War II. Also during the Cold War Hanford played an important role in our national security during the Cold War, and now of course we're in the clean up, to clean up that legacy. Richland, the Bombers has a symbol, it's called the mushroom cloud and that is in the school on the mixing area and when I was a freshman I found you don't step on that as a freshman because I ended upside down in the trash can for stepping on the cloud. Only seniors could do that. I hope you'll enjoy the shirt. It's from the High School, it's unique, it's the Bombers, it has the mushroom cloud with the 'R'. I encourage you to wear it in Seattle. I encourage you to wear it to Olympia, wherever you may go to show that you're as proud of the cloud as I am, Mr. President, thank you very much."

MOTION

At 12:23 p.m., on motion of Senator Eide, the Senate adjourned until 12:30 p.m. Thursday, February 17, 2005.

The Invocation was offered by Reverend Anna Joy Grace, Unity Church of Olympia.

Reverend Grace: "Spirit of Life, we come together this afternoon from all across our beautiful and great state of Washington to honor and remember those who have given committed and dedicated service to this State and their home communities through their membership in this Legislature.

We represent the rich variety of people, points of view, and sacred faith traditions of our vibrant State. Today, we join together as one in the spirit of love, compassion, and appreciation as we honor the memories of our colleagues, friends and family members. We recognize that we are together on this profound journey of life with all its sorrows and joys, its stumblings and triumphs, its mystery and wisdom. Together, as community, we bless and heal, we teach and learn, we uplift and help one another.

It is in profound gratitude that we honor past members of this Legislature who have made their transition this year, passing from the experience of this earthly life. While we sorrow and grieve at their loss, we also rejoice that our lives have been touched by these dear ones. Our hearts are healed as we remember them. We find ourselves deepened, enriched and lifted up, encouraged and strengthened.

We are so grateful for each of these dear ones: dedication to service for the greater good, for their willingness to take on the often difficult mantle of leadership; for the great time, energy and effort they gave to their work; for their ability to live up to their ideals; for their willingness to give of themselves; and most of all for their love of family, friends, community and state.

This afternoon we open ourselves to this time or memorial, this time of honor, this time coming together as community. As we begin let us share in the ideas of this beautiful poem:

‘I am standing upon the seashore. A ship, at my side, spreads her white sails to the moving breeze and starts for the blue ocean. She is an object of beauty and strength.
I stand and watch her until, at length, she hangs like a speck of white cloud just where the sea and sky come to mingle with each other.
Then, someone at my side says, ‘There, she is gone’

Gone where?
 Gone from my sight. That is all. She is just as large in mast, hull and spar as she was when she left my side.
 And, she is just as able to bear her load of living freight to her destined port.
 Her diminished size is in me – not in her.
 And, just at the moment when someone says, ‘There, she is gone,’ there are other eyes watching her coming, and other voices ready to take up the glad shout, ‘Here she comes!’
 And that is dying...’

Amen."

The Intern Ensemble Choir, composed of Senate and House interns and directed by Dorian Waller, performed "Swing Low Sweet Chariot."

Speaker Pro Tempore Lovick: "We are assembled today to pay tribute to the lives and services of the distinguished former members of the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Washington who have passed from among us. On behalf of the people of our State, the Fifty Ninth Legislature of the State of Washington conveys its respects to those deceased legislators who once sat in the hallowed chambers of the House and Senate, answered roll calls on sometimes critical perplexing bills, attended committee meetings and above all else, served to the best of their abilities in order to make our state a better and more enjoyable place to live. While their journey in this is completed, their achievements, records and valued services have been recorded in the journals of the Senate and House, and are now and forevermore a permanent part of the history of the State of Washington.

We express our sympathies to the bereaved families and their friends, and also share with them on this memorable occasion the fond and happy memories of these legislators, who served well beyond their call of duty and responsibilities, and truly loved this great State of Washington. They have indeed left a legacy of dedicated service that will remain forever etched in our hearts, our memories and our legislative records."

Speaker Pro Tempore Lovick and President Pro Tempore Franklin called the roll of the deceased former members of the Senate and House of Representatives:

Rabbi Seth Goldstein, Temple Bet Hatfiloh, Olympia offered the Memorial Prayer.

Rabbi Goldstein: "El Maleh Rachamin, God full of compassion, we assemble here today, in the seat of our government, to honor the memory of those who have given of themselves to serve this great State, and who have subsequently gone to their eternal home. At this time, we recall the work of the Jewish poet, Hillel Bavli, who wrote these words:

This is my prayer to you, my gentle God—
 Let me not stray from my life's course
 Let not my spirit fall into decay,
 And may it never cease to thirst for you.
 And for the energizing dew
 That you have sprinkled on it
 Ever since my life was new.
 And let my heart be open to
 The downtrodden, and to the orphaned life,
 And to all who stumble
 And to one entangled and hidden sorrows,
 And to one who struggles in the dark.
 And bless my eyes, and let me merit
 To behold the human beauty in this world.
 Deepen my senses, widen their grasp
 So they absorb a green and flowering
 And budding world, and take from it
 The secret blossoming within a silence.
 Grant me with strength to yield
 The best of fruits. Let my life grow
 A wealth of word and deed, steeped
 In the fountain of my being,
 Without my measuring all things
 For only what they have to offer me.
 And when my day shall come,
 Let me slip into the land of night,
 Without asking anything of others
 Or from you, God.

We come from a variety of faith traditions and beliefs, Yet what we all share is the pain which comes from grief, the emptiness which comes from loss. And, we all recognized that although each individual life is short in the grand view of the cosmos, life itself continues and animates the universe. "A wealth of word and deed," write the poet, and indeed, it is in this that our lives touch the eternal. While our time on earth is limited, our words and our deeds ensure that we live on. Our words and deeds – how we touch and move others – have life beyond the course of our natural life spans.

How true this is for those who serve the greater good, who serve as leaders of our communities and of our state. For their actions affect us all. Those who serve in positions of leadership ensure that with their words and deeds we are all uplifted; through their service, we all benefit. The mantle of leadership is a sometimes heavy one to bear, and in honoring the memory of those who served our state, we honor too the commitment they made and the service they gave. For this State, and all its citizens, have benefited from the lives they led.

Our time here on earth teaches us many things. We learn that loss, pain and grief are a part of our human existence. Yet we learn too that so is healing, hope and love. It is love that sustains us in the face of death, and it is love that aids us during the grieving process. As we come together as a community to remember those who served this community, may we support each other in strength. May we draw on the gift of memory to enliven us. May we be inspired by the work of those who have come before us to continue to strive for justice and righteousness. May we follow their great example of public service and concern for the general welfare.

At times of grief we turn to the Eternal Source of All. We pray that the souls of those who have departed from this world be bound up in the bond of life. We pray for your blessing of comfort over those who mourn loss. May our deeds be worthy of the memory of those lawmakers we remember here today. Zichronom liveracha, may their memory be for a blessing. Amen."

The Legislative Choir sang "Till We meet Again." The Washington State Patrol offered a ceremonial salute of 17 bells and "Taps" by SPC Nicole Lee.

Reverend Rick Murray of the First Presbyterian Church of Yakima offered the closing prayer.

Reverend Murray: "We are grateful for this good day which you have made. Glad to be in this place of governance – where decisions are made and vital leadership is given to this great State. Today we have remembered those who have gone before, who strove to do justice and love mercy, who made every effort to govern wisely, who gave with energy, intelligence, imagination and love to the work of governing.

We now honor friends who have worked before us, worked along side of us, we miss them, and yet we also walk in the legacy that they leave us. We remember our own call to service and to love, our own desire to leave a legacy of leadership, service, and concern for the people we represent.

Help us to remember our calling, be with us as we continue to serve our state, the people of our districts, and remind us of your values. Truth, life, Justice and mercy are all woven into the fabric of what we need to be about as we move about. Give us eyes to see, hearts to feel, and minds to know the priorities that are Your priorities.

I pray in the name of Father, Son and Holy Spirit. Amen."

Washington State Patrol Sergeant Keith Huntley played "Amazing Grace" on the bagpipes.

Speaker Pro Tempore Lovick returned the gavel to President Pro Tempore Franklin who thanked the members of the Memorial Committee and everyone who participated in the day's ceremony.

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President welcomed and introduced Carey Smithingell, Sentinel and Kevin Faw, President of FFA who were seated at the rostrum.

With permission of the Senate, business was suspended to allow President Faw to address the Senate.

REMARKS BY PRESIDENT FFA

President Faw: "I want to start out by thanking you very much for having us here today. It's quite an honor to be able to come and present ourselves to the Senate and it's amazing to see the support that we have after that resolution, so thank you very much. I kind of saw, as we were sitting in the hall, I saw a few people walk by kind of looking at our jackets maybe wondering what exactly this blue jacket means and don't worry there's plenty of people that do that as we are around. We always get stares as we're walking through an airport, as we're walking through downtown. 'Now, why is that person wearing a blue corduroy jacket? Does he not know that's that not in style?' Well, this jacket was chosen way back in 1928. The national blue was chosen to show the unity within the FFA. Although we come from different backgrounds, we all come together for one common goal and the corn gold was chosen to show the true traditions of farming which are hard work, innovation, the understanding of land and resources and above all the belief in the future of farming. It was started back in 1928. Thirty-three farmers came together said, 'Hey let's start this Future Farmers of America, so that we do have a future in farming.' The name was changed in 1988 to show the diversity of the organization. It was changed to the National FFA organization to just show that we're not all about farming now. The FFA mission which was read earlier is to make a positive difference in the lives of FFA members, to develop their potential for personal growth, premier leadership and career success through agriculture education. As we travel around we always get the question, 'Can I join FFA?' by different students. Absolutely, but their reply is, 'I live in town. I don't know anything about farming and I absolutely hate pigs'. Well, you probably think the same thing. That all we have in FFA is farmers. Well, that's not exactly right. In nationwide enrollment, only thirty percent of our members come from a farming community. The other seventy percent are from urban and suburban areas so that really shows how the FFA has diversified over the years. Throughout our travels as state officers this year, we have visited chapters in downtown Tacoma, Vancouver, the Kitsap peninsula, Olympia, Spokane, the Tri-Cities and we've also gone to areas like Kahlotus, Garfield, Polouse, the Toledo and Willapa Valley and so as our travels you know we've seen the different areas within the state and it's just amazing to be able to see the diversity within the FFA. So finally, I just want to challenge you to support the career and technical education programs within the schools. These are the programs that have hands on learning and where the students can learn the most and just get the most out of the programs and so as you go out if you're talking with school officials, maybe ask them, 'Do you have an FFA program?' and if not encourage them to get involved in one because this is, the benefits they will reap will, is just beyond measure and I think it kind of shows throughout. I mean just look at the Senators that have been in the FFA, ask them. It's just unbelievable how much progress you can see in the FFA. So, thank you very much again for having us here. It's quite an honor."

MOTION

9. When a committee reports a substitute for an original bill with the recommendation that the substitute bill do pass, it shall be in order to read the substitute bill the first time and have the same ordered printed.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Morton: "Thank you Mr. President. Ladies and Gentlemen of the Senate, I have an unusual request of both the President and of yourself and that's for a moment of memorial tribute. In the summer time I received a request for some pages and in reviewing the allotment that we were given for our pages I had an interesting scenario. Four young ladies wanted to come together and four young men. We did our best to equalize that out. We ended selecting two of the four ladies and after many phone calls, we selected all four of the four men. However, two weeks ago in a tragic automobile accident, one of those four was killed. The other three are with us today paging. The young man who was killed was Levi Morgan of Deer Park. Recognized as an outstanding student and the tragedy did not mar, however, the other companions to come and be with us and serve this week in memory of him and in tribute to him. So, Mr. President I would respectfully request that we have, as we usually do many times, a moment of silence, memorial tribute, in recognition of this page who was unable to attend, Levi Morgan.

MOMENT OF SILENCE

The Senate observed a moment of silence in memory of Mr. Levi Morgan, who passed away February 11, 2005.

SENATE BILL NO. 5142, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Honeyford: "Thank you Mr. President. The good Senator from the 9th District just gave his first speech and as usual and a custom we demand some tribute but before we receive that I thought we ought to make some comments about the good Senator. He first came to State Legislature in 1993 and since that time he spends the Legislative session residing with his uncle. I tried to call his Uncle Ed to see if he'd put a curfew on the good Senator but I couldn't get him on the phone but I think it was a good idea if he did. He should have a curfew imposed for staying with his Uncle Ed. Secondly the good Senator always seems to have something in his mouth, often times it's a toothpick and I wanted you to know that single handedly he's kept the toothpick industry in business through his usage. Those of you that know Senator Schoesler know that he's very proud of his kids, Cody and Veronica. Veronica is really an outstanding student, high school and college and I believe now she's a school teacher and it's obvious I think that she got her brains from her mother. One final bit about the good Senator Schoesler is according to his friend, Senator Buck, Representative Buck that they like to fishing in Alaska and generally they go along with Representative Armstrong and Steve Gano and those are two or three fairly good-size people and there's really a method for this type of arrangement. See those trips they take go into the back country. We have grizzlies and black bears and they wanted to make sure that they have someone who runs slower than they would in case there was a bear around so that's why they chose Senator Schoesler to go along. Thank you Mr. President."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Esser: "Thank you Mr. President. Well, for those who are concerned that the Senate of today lacks the courage to deal with the tough issues of the day I would direct their attention to the rear of the chamber and to the new Senator from the 9th district. One need only examine Senate Bill No. 5142 to determine the fearlessness which he attacks the most extractable issues that we face. This bill languished year after year, session after session. Air registrations for elevators and warehouses are widely regarded as the third rail of Washington State politics. Every member understands that to touch that topic means certain doom, not the Senator from the 9th district. Absent his leadership Peas, lentils and beans would not be defined as grains and what greater injustice could be imagined? And so, Mr. President I want to salute the new Senator from the 9th district, our new champion of the gabonzo bean."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Deccio: "Thank you Mr. President. I think the Senator from the 9th district is very courageous person when dealing with the elevator he rose to the occasion. Senator Schoesler, no beans or gabonzo, things that we got to spit out, just give us some real stuff when you give us our gift, ok."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Schmidt: "Thank you Mr. President. I couldn't help in saying this. I really don't give a hill of beans about the garbanzos's and the elevators and stuff like this but I do know it's a great place to go to get a good cigar."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Franklin: "Thank you Mr. President. I know that, ladies and gentlemen of the Senate wondering why I am standing in regards to paying tribute to Senator Schoesler which I could many times sort of mispronounce his name. If you recall Senator, back in the 90's when we made that trip to Eastern Washington, the agricultural tour, and on that particular tour at that time there was a, I think it was, a wheat thresher and I am brave one and I am investigating and asking all the questions. I climbed on that wheat thresher and it was tilted. I have that picture still today and you, that is the way I met you and when you came to this body then again we worked on an issue so I want to say, welcome and I do remember that tour. It was great and I learned a lot."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Rasmussen: "Well, Mr. President, I too want to welcome our new Senator from the 9th district and being the Coug mom I am absolutely thrilled to get my cup. I also want to say he's the ranking chair of the Agriculture & Rural Economic Development Committee and he serves very wonderfully in that role and please don't judge him, his height by his first bill. He's gonna have some more to come."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Schoesler: "Well, I've been asked what these tokens represent from the 9th legislative district. The 9th legislative district we have primarily two industries, higher education and agriculture. There is a memento from each of the institutions of higher education, the Cougar mug and the eagle lapel pen. There is also from the agriculture industry the glasses from the Washington Association of Wheat Growers, 50th anniversary celebration this past year. The irony was, is that I planned another gift from the district. We thought about what we could add and the sample of the peas and lentils to make that super stew sounded like a good idea not knowing that it would be my first bill relating to peas and lentils, so I would like to thank my many friends on the Senate floor and thank you, Mr. President."

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5180, by Senators Kastama, Roach, Sheldon and Shin

Authorizing the economic development finance authority to continue issuing bonds.

The measure was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Kastama, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 5180 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Senators Kastama and Shin spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the final passage of Senate Bill No. 5180.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 5180 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 45; Nays, 0; Absent, 1; Excused, 3.

Voting yea: Senators Benson, Benton, Berkey, Brandland, Brown, Carrell, Deccio, Delvin, Doumit, Eide, Esser, Fairley, Finkbeiner, Franklin, Fraser, Hargrove, Haugen, Hewitt, Honeyford, Jacobsen, Johnson, Kastama, Keiser, Kline, Kohl-Welles, McAuliffe, McCaslin, Morton, Oke, Parlette, Poulsen, Prentice, Pridemore, Rasmussen, Regala, Roach, Rockefeller, Schmidt, Schoesler, Sheldon, Shin, Spanel, Swecker, Weinstein and Zarelli - 45

Absent: Senator Thibaudeau - 1

Excused: Senators Mulliken, Pflug and Stevens - 3

SENATE BILL NO. 5180, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Schmidt: "Thank you Mr. President. Last night at 9:00 and again this morning at 9:00 I made two trips up to Fort Lewis to visit some of our National Guard ships coming back from Iraq. Just to let you know, last night it was the 303rd Calvary from Puyallup. This morning, it was one of the units from Bellingham and another from, it was over in Spokane. Then tomorrow night we get units from here in Olympia, Montesano, Longview and Vancouver will be coming back. If you have the opportunity, these will be coming in over a period of time. It's a great, great experience to see these soliders come back, standing at attention, listening to the National Anthem, listening to the Army song being played, being played by the army band and then they're dismissed and to watch the excitement in the families joined together as for the first time they get to see each other in over a year. So, they appreciate the fact that we're in contact with them. I would encourage you do so and then again thank you for that moment, Mr. President."

MOTION

At 12:09 p.m., on motion of Senator Eide, the Senate adjourned until 12:00 noon, Thursday, February 24, 2005.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Jacobsen: "Thank you Madam President. A point of personal privilege. It's an honor to announce that today is the 65th birthday for Vic Moon. I think he must have been our only prenatal employee. I can't imagine this place without Vic being around. Vic is in the wings some place. Would you be willing to step out so we could see you? Anyway, it's a real honor to speak and wish Vic a happy birthday and I know there's a lot of other members that want to do it too and he's not very happy with me right now but he does such a great job. The other thing is it's such a treasure to have somebody around here that you can just get some personal reminences about actually how these bills became a laws twenty and thirty years ago. You always wonder how did that happen. Well he can tell you how it happened. Happy Birthday Vic."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McCaslin: "Thank you Madam President. Vic Moon is older than I am and has been here longer than I have and of course he used to call me 'Senator No.' Vic, you're going to have to call me 'Senator maybe,' I'm changing as I age, and I hope you are too. Vic has been a tremendous help to all of us here who know him and we probably ask him a lot more questions than he has answers for but that's the only way we'll learn Vic."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hargrove: "Thank you Madam President. Well, Senator Jacobsen was incorrect. It's more like forty and fifty years of experience that he can go back on. The other thing that I really appreciate about Vic is when you bring him a stupid idea he can still make it sound like it's a good idea and really help you figure it out. Have you ever had him to anything, say anything to you but. 'That's a great idea, Senator' and 'I think we can work with that.' So I think all our staff should pay attention to that. I get a lot of other ones that say 'Boy that's a dumb idea'. Anyway, Vic we hope you stay around for at least thirty more years so that you can tell about some of things we did when we were here."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Oke: "Thank you Madam President. Vic, you're special to me. Fifteen years I've been in this body and fifteen years I've been in Natural Resources and you've grown me up and I'm almost looking older than you now, that's what worrying me. We call him 'Senator' in our committee and he responds to that very, very well. He's one of those folks around that you know you can trust and always doing the right job. He's always got such a wonderful tie on. I'm amazed at his daily changes of ties but you folks in the staff have made us look so good for so many years and we thank you. Happy Birthday Vic."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Stevens: "Thank you Madam President Pro Tempore. Also rising for as a point of personal privilege. I have gone to Vic many, many times in the Natural Resources Committee and asked him, 'Vic is this doable?' and I have yet to have him say, 'No Senator, we can't do that.' I have never heard him say that. I will ask him a question on how many roads are in the state of Washington that aren't paved and he will give me an answer. I will ask him, I've asked him how many fish in the sea and so far he's still looking. I know that whatever we asked of Vic he is always willing, he always comes with a can do attitude and in this place that is such a blessing. Thank you Vic and Happy Birthday."

Happy Birthday."

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

Senator Franklin: "I would just like to take this opportunity also to say to Vic. One of my first committees was the committee on which you are a staff and you were wonderful. I would like to say 'welcome to the golden age', it is not your age that matters. Age is only a state of mind and we are very, very bright so you see where I am. Your mind stays wonderful, so welcome to the golden age. Thank you."

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. SCOPE. (1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (2) or (3) of this section, this chapter applies to a mediation in which:

(a) The mediation parties are required to mediate by statute or court or administrative agency rule or referred to mediation by a court, administrative agency, or arbitrator;

(b) The mediation parties and the mediator agree to mediate in a record that demonstrates an expectation that mediation communications will be privileged against disclosure; or

(c) The mediation parties use as a mediator an individual who holds himself or herself out as a mediator or the mediation is provided by a person that holds itself out as providing mediation.

(2) This chapter does not apply to a mediation:

(a) Conducted by a judge who might make a ruling on the case; or

(b) Conducted under the auspices of:

(i) A primary or secondary school if all the parties are students; or

(ii) A correctional institution for youths if all the parties are residents of that institution.

(3) If the parties agree in advance in a signed record, or a record of proceeding reflects agreement by the parties, that all or part of a mediation is not privileged, the privileges under sections 4 through 6 of this act do not apply to the mediation or part agreed upon. However, sections 4 through 6 of this act apply to a mediation communication made by a person that has not received actual notice of the agreement before the communication is made.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. PRIVILEGE AGAINST DISCLOSURE; ADMISSIBILITY; DISCOVERY. (1) Except as otherwise provided in section 6 of this act, a mediation communication is privileged as provided in subsection (2) of this section and is not subject to discovery or admissible in evidence in a proceeding unless waived or precluded as provided by section 5 of this act.

(2) In a proceeding, the following privileges apply:

(a) A mediation party may refuse to disclose, and may prevent any other person from disclosing, a mediation communication;

(b) A mediator may refuse to disclose a mediation communication, and may prevent any other person from disclosing a mediation communication of the mediator; and

(c) A nonparty participant may refuse to disclose, and may prevent any other person from disclosing, a mediation communication of the nonparty participant.

(3) Evidence or information that is otherwise admissible or subject to discovery does not become inadmissible or protected from discovery solely by reason of its disclosure or use in a mediation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. WAIVER AND PRECLUSION OF PRIVILEGE. (1) A privilege under section 4 of this act may be waived in a record or orally during a proceeding if it is expressly waived by all parties to the mediation and:

(a) In the case of the privilege of a mediator, it is expressly waived by the mediator; and

(b) In the case of the privilege of a nonparty participant, it is expressly waived by the nonparty participant.

(2) A person that discloses or makes a representation about a mediation communication which prejudices another person in a proceeding is precluded from asserting a privilege under section 4 of this act, but only to the extent necessary for the person prejudiced to respond to the representation or disclosure.

(3) A person that intentionally uses a mediation to plan, attempt to commit, or commit a crime, or to conceal an ongoing crime or ongoing criminal activity is precluded from asserting a privilege under section 4 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. EXCEPTIONS TO PRIVILEGE. (1) There is no privilege under section 4 of this act for a mediation communication that is:

(g) Sought or offered to prove or disprove abuse, neglect, abandonment, or exploitation in a proceeding in which a child or adult protective services agency is a party, unless the public agency participates in the child or adult protection mediation.

(2) There is no privilege under section 4 of this act if a court finds, after a hearing in camera, that the party seeking discovery or the proponent of the evidence has shown that the evidence is not otherwise available, that there is a need for the evidence that substantially outweighs the interest in protecting confidentiality, and that the mediation communication is sought or offered in:

(a) A criminal court proceeding involving a felony; or

(b) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (3) of this section, a proceeding to prove a claim to rescind or reform or a defense to avoid liability on a contract arising out of the mediation.

(3) A mediator may not be compelled to provide evidence of a mediation communication referred to in subsection (1)(f) or (2)(b) of this section.

(4) If a mediation communication is not privileged under subsection (1) or (2) of this section, only the portion of the communication necessary for the application of the exception from nondisclosure may be admitted. Admission of evidence under subsection (1) or (2) of this section does not render the evidence, or any other mediation communication, discoverable or admissible for any other purpose.

(5) Records of mediation communications that are privileged under this chapter are exempt from the requirements of chapter 42.17 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. PROHIBITED MEDIATOR REPORTS. (3) A communication made in violation of subsection (1) of this section may not be considered by a court, administrative agency, or arbitrator.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. CONFIDENTIALITY. Unless subject to chapter 42.30 RCW, mediation communications are confidential to the extent agreed by the parties or provided by other law or rule of this state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. MEDIATOR'S DISCLOSURE OF CONFLICTS OF INTEREST; BACKGROUND. (1) Before accepting a mediation, an individual who is requested to serve as a mediator shall:

(a) Make an inquiry that is reasonable under the circumstances to determine whether there are any known facts that a reasonable individual would consider likely to affect the impartiality of the mediator, including a financial or personal interest in the outcome of the mediation and an existing or past relationship with a mediation party or foreseeable participant in the mediation; and

(b) Disclose any such known fact to the mediation parties as soon as is practical before accepting a mediation.

(2) If a mediator learns any fact described in subsection (1)(a) of this section after accepting a mediation, the mediator shall disclose it as soon as is practicable.

(3) At the request of a mediation party, an individual who is requested to serve as a mediator shall disclose the mediator's qualifications to mediate a dispute.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. PARTICIPATION IN MEDIATION. An attorney or other individual designated by a party may accompany the party to and participate in a mediation, except that if the dispute being mediated is the subject of pending proceedings under chapter 12.40 RCW, then a party may not be represented by an attorney in mediation unless the party may be represented by an attorney in the proceedings under chapter 12.40 RCW. A waiver of participation given before the mediation may be rescinded.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. RELATION TO ELECTRONIC SIGNATURES IN GLOBAL AND NATIONAL COMMERCE ACT. This chapter modifies, limits, or supersedes the federal electronic signatures in global and national commerce act (15 U.S.C. Regardless of any provision to the contrary in chapter 42.17 RCW, all memoranda, work notes or products, or case files of centers established under this chapter are confidential and privileged and are not subject to disclosure in any judicial or administrative proceeding unless the court or administrative tribunal determines that the materials were submitted by a participant to the center for the purpose of avoiding discovery of the material in a subsequent proceeding. ~~((Any communication relating to the subject matter of the resolution made during the resolution process by any participant, mediator, or any other person is a privileged communication and is not subject to disclosure in any judicial or administrative proceeding unless all parties to the communication waive the privilege. There were complaints about they're taking too much time. I have serious concerns when you only limit one member on our side of the aisle to express an opinion on a bill. There were a number of us that voted for the bill and we were going to make some good statements on the bill. I have concerns when you say we can't offer legitimate amendments and take the time to debate those and entertain those and introduce them. And the concern that only one member on our side of the aisle was able to speak. I think there's concerns about that and we need to express that and that be know publically that you aren't allowing us to express our opinions. Thank you Mr. President."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Benton: "Will the Senator from the 34th rise to a question? Thank you. Senator, can you tell me, does this bill tightly restrict this authority to one PUD district or is it broad authority for all PUD district? I guess that's really what we want to know and that makes a big difference I think. You talk about it not being available for you in King County and that's significant. That's why I asked the question. If the bill really restricts the, you don't know, or you don't want to tell us, one of the two."

Senator Poulsen: "Yes, the bill does restrict this to a program that has to have been in existence for ten years. There is only one program that this bill applies to, it's in Clark County."

POINT OF CLARIFICATION

Senator Brown: "Public utility districts, not tax payers subsidized. There rate payer financed. They formed in order to provide services to folks that were not being provided services. This state would not be what it is today without public power, without public utility districts. It built this state by going the last mile, by extending electricity to folks otherwise not going to get it. I think this somewhat confusing here to keep talking about tax payers this and tax payers that. Public utility districts were formed by the people to provide services for the people and what we're talking about here is one that's been in existence for sixty years. There's really no reason for the Washington State Senate to shut it down."

Senators Mulliken and Zarelli spoke against passage of the bill.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5348.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McCaslin: "I want to congratulate the Senator from the 34th district for using a line that I used back in the early 80's when Senator Jerry Hughes was sitting back there in the corner where Senator Jacobsen sits. After I made a short speech he rose and asked me a lengthy question. I mean a lengthy question. Jerry Hughes was very bright, he was a school teacher. I'm sure that Senator Brown knows him and when he finished up he said, 'Would Senator McCaslin yield to a question?' and I said, 'Mr. President, I yield'. He asked the question and I said 'I said I'd yield, I didn't say I'd answer it.' But I want to compliment the Senator from the 34th for using my line. The only thing is he came up later and explained the question or answered the question to Senator Benton. I didn't do that. I actually didn't know the answer."

On page 1, after line 3, insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The uniform application of election laws, rules, and procedures is of the paramount importance to the citizens of this state. It is the intent of the legislature to make all voting precincts in each county have the same population, as nearly as is practical. This act therefore applies to all counties, including without limitation counties operating under a home rule charter.

Sec. 2. RCW 29A.16.040 and 2004 c 266 s 10 are each amended to read as follows:

The county legislative authority of each county in the state (~~hereafter formed~~) shall(~~at their first session,~~) divide their respective counties into election precincts and establish the boundaries of the precincts. Within each county, all precincts must have the same number of active registered voters, as nearly as is practical. The county auditor shall thereupon designate the voting place for each such precinct or whether the precinct is a vote by mail precinct.

(1) Precinct boundaries may be altered at any time as long as sufficient time exists prior to a given election for the necessary procedural steps to be honored. Except as permitted under subsection (~~(5))~~ (3) of this section, no precinct boundaries may be changed during the period starting on the thirtieth day prior to the first day for candidates to file for the primary election and ending with the day of the general election.

(2) The county legislative authority may establish by ordinance a limitation on the maximum number of active registered voters in each precinct within its jurisdiction. (~~The limitation may be different for precincts based upon the method of voting used for such precincts and the number may be less than the number established by law, but in no case may the number exceed that authorized by law.~~)

(3) ~~Precincts in which voting machines or electronic voting devices are used may contain as many as nine hundred active registered voters. The number of poll site ballot counting devices at each polling place is at the discretion of the auditor. The number of devices must be adequate to meet the expected voter turnout.~~

(4) ~~On petition of twenty five or more voters resident more than ten miles from any polling site, the county legislative authority shall establish a separate voting precinct therefor.~~

(~~5))~~ (3) The county auditor shall temporarily adjust precinct boundaries when a city or town annexes unincorporated territory to the city or town, or whenever unincorporated territory is incorporated as a city or town. The adjustment must be made as soon as possible after the approval of the annexation or incorporation. The temporary adjustment must be limited to the minimum changes necessary to accommodate the addition of the territory to the city or town, or to establish the eligible voters within the boundaries of the new city or town, and remains in effect only until precinct boundary modifications reflecting the annexation or incorporation are adopted by the county legislative authority.

(~~6))~~ (4) In determining the number of active registered voters for the purposes of this section, persons who are ongoing absentee voters under RCW 29A.40.040 shall not be counted. Nothing in this subsection may be construed as altering the vote tallying requirements of RCW 29A.60.230.

Sec. 3. RCW 29A.16.050 and 2003 c 111 s 405 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Every voting precinct must be wholly within a single congressional district, a single legislative district, a single district of a county legislative authority, and, if applicable, a single city.

(2) Every voting precinct shall be composed, as nearly as practicable, of contiguous and compact areas.

(3) Except as provided in this subsection, changes to the boundaries of any precinct shall follow visible, physical features delineated on the most current maps provided by the United States census bureau. A change need not follow such visible, physical features if (a) it is necessitated by an annexation or incorporation and the proposed precinct boundary is identical to an exterior boundary of the annexed or incorporated area which does not follow a visible, physical feature; (~~or~~) (b) doing so would substantially impair election administration in the involved area; or (c) doing so would result in an unequal number of active registered voters among the various precincts of that county.

(4) After a change to precinct boundaries is adopted by the county legislative authority, if the change does not follow visible physical features, the county auditor shall send to the secretary of state an electronic or paper copy of the description, a map or maps of the changes, and a statement of the applicable exception under subsection (3) of this section. For boundary changes made pursuant to subsection (3)(b) of this section, the auditor shall include a statement of the reasons why following visible, physical features would have substantially impaired election administration.

(5) Every voting precinct within each county shall be designated by number for the purpose of preparation of maps and the tabulation of population for apportionment purposes. These precincts may be identified with names or other numbers for other election purposes.

(6) After a change to precinct boundaries in a city or town, the county auditor shall send one copy of the map or maps delineating the new precinct boundaries within that city or town to the city or town clerk.

(7) Precinct maps are public records and shall be available for inspection by the public during normal office hours in the offices where they are kept. Copies shall be made available to the public for a fee necessary to cover the cost of reproduction.

Sec. 4. RCW 29A.16.060 and 2003 c 111 s 406 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((At any special election or primary, the county auditor may combine, unite, or divide precincts and may combine or unite election boards for the purpose of holding such election.))~~ At any general election, the county auditor may combine or unite election boards for the purpose of holding such election, but shall report all election returns by individual precinct."

In line 1 of the title, after "Relating to" strike the remainder of the title and insert "election procedures; amending RCW 29A.16.040, 29A.16.050, 29A.16.060, and 29A.48.010; and creating a new section."

The purpose of this act is to give guidance to principals and their designees regarding their duty to report incidents to law enforcement officials when it is reasonable to suspect that a significant crime has occurred. It is the intent of the legislature to ensure that agents of law enforcement, who are trained investigators, are alerted and called upon to determine whether or not there is probable cause to believe a crime has been committed in serious cases. This act is also intended to reduce potential tort liability that could arise from unreported criminal activity.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 28A.320 RCW to read as follows:

(1)(a) When a principal or the principal's designee of a school has reasonable cause to believe that a person has committed, on school grounds or at an event sponsored by the school, a drug offense or a crime against a person that causes severe injury, that school administrator shall report such incident, or cause a report to be made, to the proper law enforcement agency. The report may be made by telephone, in person, or on paper.

(b) For purposes of this subsection:

(i) "Severe injury" means: Any single act that causes physical trauma of sufficient severity that, if left untreated, could cause death; any sex offense; any single act that causes significant bleeding that, if left untreated, could cause death or serious physical impairment or loss of function; or more than one act, each of which causes significant bleeding that, if left untreated, could cause death or serious physical impairment or loss of function, bone fracture, or unconsciousness; and

(ii) "Crime against a person" has the meaning set out in RCW 9.94A.411.

(c) The report must be made at the first opportunity, but in no case longer than seventy-two hours after there is reasonable cause to believe that a drug offense or severe injury has occurred. The report must include the identity of the accused, if known.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Esser: "I rise for a point of person privilege. Well thank you very much Mr. President. I am so happy this moment has arrived. I have been tingling with anticipation waiting for the maiden floor speech by our new colleague from the 28th district. Actually I couldn't fall asleep last night because I kept wondering what compensation that we would be provided. Something hopefully symbolic of Pierce County and the 28th legislative district. In my mind I kept imagining items like, oh perhaps an empty blister pack or ten of Sudafed capsules which I understand is a very popular product in Pierce County, or a concealed weapons permit for every member on the floor today. Perhaps a coupon good for a weekend at a secure community transitional facility. The possibilities were limitless. All joking aside, Senator Carrell brings a long and distinguished resume to the Senate. He's a retired science teacher from our public schools. He served for a decade in the State House of Representatives and most recently he kept very busy as the chair of Gubernatorial Appointees search committee for former Senator Shirley Winsley. Each of our districts is defined by the job and career opportunities that are available back home and the 28th district is no exception. Just knowing that the local economic development strategy in the 28th centers around the Washington State Hospital, the McNeill Island penitentiary and the special commitment center of McNeill Island tell you a little bit about how special the 28th district is. All joking aside, congratulations to Senator Carrell, it's great to have you here. You'll find that the Senate is a wonderful institution and given your district it sounds like you have plenty of experience with institutions. Welcome."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Carrell: "Well, I know it's all part of the hazing process that newbees have to go through here. As I was contemplating gifts for you, I did think about gifts from perhaps some of the institutions of my district but I thought perhaps it would be a little difficult to transport them down here and deliver them. As I considered it, the other part of my district is very clearly the influence of the military. I have many nights as I drove home last year watch the Striker Brigade as they practice to go to Mosul, Iraq. The military influence is very heavy. We probably have more retired generals, colonels and majors than any other place perhaps in the world in Lakewood and parts of my district. The one thing that really defines our district is the presence of the military in so many different ways. The Washington National Guard, McChord Air Force Base, Fort Lewis, so the one gift that I thought that would be the most meaningful of all would be something that represents that military presence. I am very fortunate in that, about eight years ago, I door belled a man and his wife, he was fresh out of the army and was beginning a business in a small, little, two-bedroom house not far from where I live. Well, he came up with ideas so unique that today that business eight years later is about a 10,000 square foot building just off of I-5 at Ponders Corner. It employees fifty people, it's a multi-million dollar business and one of the items that he had made and, by the way, these products that he designs and manufactures and sells are used by our troops around the world particularly in Afgahastan and Iraq and also by police services around the United States. They're truly unique and he provided for every member of the Striker Brigade this very pouch that you have before you. When I talk to him about it he happened to have fifty-two of them left over. From that then, came the idea to have these embroidered as you see them today honoring the Striker Brigade which is soon to come back and by the way, tomorrow the 81st is going to be honored by people such as myself at the base and I would certainly urge you, if you'd like to come out and wave flags at exit 122, to honor the troops as they come back to join me and others in doing so. Well, with that thank you ever so much for this unique opportunity and I think you've seen inside your gift a number of items in my district including Intel. There is a treat buried some place in there too. Thank you Mr. President".

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President welcomed and introduced associates and the principal of Tactical Tailor, Mr. Logan Coffey, who was seated in the gallery.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McCaslin: "Would the good Senator yield to a question? Could you tell me how to turn the computer off?"

Senator Carrell: "The close the hatch."

Senator McCaslin: "I did."

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

President Owen: "The President has the great privilege and honor to introduce an old friend of mine and many of years that is in the chamber with us today who served for a number of years from the 34th District, former Representative Georgetown Valle."

MOTION

On page 8, after line 37 of the amendment, insert the following:
"Sec. 11. RCW 29A.40.091 and 2004 c 271 s 135 are each amended to read as follows:

The county auditor shall send each absentee voter a ballot, a security envelope in which to seal the ballot after voting, a larger envelope in which to return the security envelope, and instructions on how to mark the ballot and how to return it to the county auditor. The instructions that accompany an absentee ballot for a partisan primary must include instructions for voting the applicable ballot style, as provided in chapter 29A.36 RCW. The larger return envelope must contain a declaration by the absentee voter reciting his or her qualifications and stating that he or she has not voted in any other jurisdiction at this election, together with a summary of the penalties for any violation of any of the provisions of this chapter. The return envelope must provide space for the voter to indicate the date on which the ballot was voted and for the voter to sign the oath. A summary of the applicable penalty provisions of this chapter must be printed on the return envelope immediately adjacent to the space for the voter's signature. The signature of the voter on the return envelope must affirm and attest to the statements regarding the qualifications of that voter and to the validity of the ballot. For out-of-state voters, overseas voters, and service voters, the signed declaration on the return envelope constitutes the equivalent of a voter registration for the election or primary for which the ballot has been issued. The voter must be instructed to either return the ballot to the county auditor by whom it was issued or attach sufficient first class postage, if applicable, and mail the ballot to the appropriate county auditor (~~no later than the day of the election or primary for which the ballot was issued~~) in accordance with the time requirements of RCW 29A.40.110.

If the county auditor chooses to forward absentee ballots, he or she must include with the ballot a clear explanation of the qualifications necessary to vote in that election and must also advise a voter with questions about his or her eligibility to contact the county auditor. This explanation may be provided on the ballot envelope, on an enclosed insert, or printed directly on the ballot itself. If the information is not included, the envelope must clearly indicate that the ballot is not to be forwarded and that return postage is guaranteed.

Sec. 12. RCW 29A.40.110 and 2003 c 111 s 1011 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The opening and subsequent processing of return identification envelopes for any primary or election may begin on or after the tenth day before the primary or election. The tabulation of absentee ballots must not commence until after 8:00 p.m. on the day of the primary or election.

(2) After opening the return identification envelopes, the county canvassing board or its representative shall place all of the ballots in secure storage until after 8:00 p.m. of the day of the primary or election. Absentee ballots that are to be tabulated on an electronic vote tallying system may be taken from the inner security envelopes and all the normal procedural steps may be performed to prepare these ballots for tabulation.

(3) Before opening a returned absentee ballot, the canvassing board, or its designated representatives, shall examine the postmark, statement, and signature on the return identification envelope that contains the security envelope and absentee ballot. ~~((They))~~ An absentee ballot may be counted only if the return identification envelope was signed by the date of the primary or election for which it was issued and is in the office of the county auditor before the close of the polls on the day of the primary or election for which it was issued. However, an absentee ballot from an out-of-state, overseas, or service voter may be counted if it was mailed no later than the day of the primary or election for which it was issued. The canvassing board or its representative shall verify that the voter's signature on the return envelope is the same as the signature of that voter in the registration files of the county. For registered voters casting absentee ballots, the date on the return identification envelope to which the voter has attested determines the validity, as to the ~~((time of voting))~~ date of mailing for that absentee ballot if the postmark is missing or is illegible. For out-of-state voters, overseas voters, and service voters, the date on the return identification envelope to which the voter has attested determines the validity as to the ~~((time of voting))~~ date of mailing for that absentee ballot. For any absentee ballot, a variation between the signature of the voter on the return envelope and the signature of that voter in the registration files due to the substitution of initials or the use of common nicknames is permitted so long as the surname and handwriting are clearly the same.

Sec. 13. RCW 29A.48.050 and 2003 c 111 s 1205 are each amended to read as follows:

The voter shall return the ballot to the county auditor in the return identification envelope. ~~((If))~~ Whether mailed or returned otherwise, a ballot must be ~~((postmarked not later than the date of the primary or election. Otherwise, the ballot must be deposited at the office of the county auditor or the designated place of deposit not later than 8:00 p.m. on the date of the primary or election))~~ returned in accordance with the time requirements as provided for an absentee ballot under RCW 29A.40.110.

At least every third day after a primary or election and before certification of the election results, except Sundays and legal holidays, the county auditor, as delegated by the county canvassing board, shall process absentee ballots and canvass the votes cast at that primary or election, if the county auditor is in possession of more than twenty-five ballots that have yet to be canvassed. The county auditor, as delegated by the county canvassing board, may use his or her discretion in determining when to process the remaining absentee ballots and canvass the votes during the final four days before the certification of election results in order to protect the secrecy of any ballot. In counties where this process has not been delegated to the county auditor, the county auditor shall convene the county canvassing board to process absentee ballots and canvass the votes cast at the primary or election as set forth in this section.

Each absentee ballot previously not canvassed that was received by the county auditor two days or more before processing absentee ballots and canvassing the votes as delegated by or processed by the county canvassing board, that ~~((either was received by the county auditor before the closing of the polls on the day of the primary or election for which it was issued, or that bears a postmark on or before the primary or election for which it was issued))~~ was returned in accordance with the time requirements as provided for an absentee ballot under RCW 29A.40.110, must be processed at that time. The tabulation of votes that results from that day's canvass must be made available to the general public immediately upon completion of the canvass."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Jacobsen: "Thank you Mr. President. Last year the voters passed Initiative 872 which essentially had to pass to pass and I'm curious, in this one, if this changes anything dealing with that? Does it require two-thirds vote? First amend initiative, any part of this that is referred to in I-872, such as the primary date?"

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Kastama: "Thank you Mr. President. I would only comment that the initiative changed the type of primary. It had nothing to do with the actual date of the primary, therefore I would say it's irrelevant but I will certainly stand to your judgment."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Roach: "Thank you, I wanted to add to the discussion that you're having right now by saying that it does. When you change the primary date it actually significantly changes the primary election. If it's not significantly changing the primary election than I submit we wouldn't be having this particular bill before us in the first place. That also, I believe, would address the issue of the primary election, the issue you're discussing right now with that initiative."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Eide, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5219 was deferred and the bill held its place on the second reading calendar.

President Pro Tempore Franklin assumed the chair.

The voter must be instructed to either return the ballot to the county auditor by whom it was issued or attach sufficient first class postage, if applicable, and mail the ballot to the appropriate county auditor no later than the day of the election or primary for which the ballot was issued.

If the county auditor chooses to forward absentee ballots, he or she must include with the ballot a clear explanation of the qualifications necessary to vote in that election and must also advise a voter with questions about his or her eligibility to contact the county auditor. This explanation may be provided on the ballot envelope, on an enclosed insert, or printed directly on the ballot itself. "NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 29A.08 RCW to read as follows:

In order to vote at any election or primary, whether at a polling place or by absentee or mail ballot, a person must have registered to vote at least thirty days before the election or primary, regardless of the person's status as an absentee, mail ballot, out-of-state, overseas, or service voter.

Sec. 2. RCW 29A.04.103 and 2003 c 111 s 118 are each amended to read as follows:

"Overseas voter" means any ~~((elector))~~ registered voter of the state of Washington outside the territorial limits of the United States or the District of Columbia.

Sec. 4. RCW 29A.04.163 and 2003 c 111 s 127 are each amended to read as follows:

"Service voter" means any ~~((elector))~~ registered voter of the state of Washington who is a member of the armed forces under 42 U.S.C. Sec. 1973 ff-6 while in active service, is a student or member of the faculty at a United States military academy, is a member of the merchant marine of the United States, is a program participant as defined in RCW 40.24.020, or is a member of a religious group or welfare agency officially attached to and serving with the armed forces of the United States.

Sec. 5. RCW 29A.08.010 and 2003 c 111 s 201 are each amended to read as follows:

As used in this chapter: "Information required for voter registration" or "required information" means the minimum information provided on a voter registration application that is required by the county auditor in order to place a voter registration applicant on the voter registration rolls. This information includes proof that the applicant is a United States citizen, the applicant's name, ~~((complete residence))~~ residential address, date of birth, and a signature attesting to the truth of the information provided on the application. Proof of citizenship is not required if an applicant is transferring his or her voter registration within a county or between counties in this state. All other information supplied is ancillary and not to be used as grounds for not registering an applicant to vote.

Sec. 6. RCW 29A.08.010 and 2004 c 267 s 102 are each amended to read as follows:

As used in this chapter: "Information required for voter registration" or "required information" means the minimum information provided on a voter registration application that is required by the county auditor in order to place a voter registration applicant on the voter registration rolls. This information includes proof that the applicant is a United States citizen, the applicant's name, ~~((complete residence))~~ residential address, date of birth, Washington state driver's license number, Washington state identification card, or the last four digits of the applicant's social security number, and a signature attesting to the truth of the information provided on the application~~((, and a check or indication in the box confirming the individual is a United States citizen))~~. If the individual does not have a driver's license, state identification card, or Social Security number the registrant must be issued a unique voter registration number ~~((and))~~ in order to be placed on the voter registration rolls. All other information supplied is ancillary and not to be used as grounds for not registering an applicant to vote. Modification of the language of the official Washington state voter registration form by the voter will not be accepted and will cause the rejection of the registrant's application. Proof of citizenship is not required if an applicant is transferring his or her voter registration within a county or between counties in this state.

Sec. 7. RCW 29A.08.030 and 2004 c 267 s 104 are each amended to read as follows:

The definitions set forth in this section apply throughout this chapter, unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(1) "Verification notice" means a notice sent by the county auditor or secretary of state to a voter registration applicant and is used to verify or collect information about the applicant in order to complete the registration.

(2) "Acknowledgement notice" means a notice sent by nonforwardable mail by the county auditor or secretary of state to a registered voter to acknowledge a voter registration transaction, which can include initial registration, transfer, or reactivation of an inactive registration. An acknowledgement notice may be a voter registration card.

(3) "Confirmation notice" means a notice sent to a registered voter by first class forwardable mail at the address indicated on the voter's permanent registration record and to any other address at which the county auditor or secretary of state could reasonably expect mail to be received by the voter in order to confirm the voter's residence address. The confirmation notice must be designed ~~((so that the voter may update his or her current residence address))~~ to include a postage prepaid, preaddressed return form by which the registrant may verify the address information.

Sec. 8. RCW 29A.08.107 and 2004 c 267 s 106 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The secretary of state must review the information provided by each voter registration applicant to ensure that ~~((either))~~ the driver's license number, state identification card number, or the last four digits of the social security number match the information maintained by the Washington department of licensing or the social security administration. If a match cannot be made, the secretary of state or county auditor must correspond with the applicant to ~~((resolve the discrepancy))~~ obtain from the applicant a copy of a current photo identification, utility bill, bank statement, paycheck, or government check or another government document that shows the applicant's name and address.

(2) If the applicant fails to respond to any correspondence required in this section to confirm information provided on a voter registration application~~((;))~~ within ~~((thirty))~~ forty-five days, the ~~((secretary of state shall forward the application to the appropriate county auditor for document storage))~~ applicant will not be registered to vote.

(3) Only after the secretary of state has confirmed ~~((that an applicant's driver's license number or the last four digits of the applicant's social security number match existing records with the Washington department of licensing or the social security administration or determined that the applicant does not have either a driver's license number or social security number))~~ the applicant's identity, as required by subsection (1) of this section, may the applicant be placed on the official list of registered voters.

Sec. 9. RCW 29A.08.110 and 2003 c 111 s 206 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) On receipt of an application for voter registration under this chapter, the county auditor shall review the application to determine whether the information supplied is complete. An application that contains proof that the applicant is a United States citizen, the applicant's name, complete valid residence address, date of birth, and signature attesting to the truth of the information provided on the application is complete. Proof of citizenship is not required if an applicant is transferring his or her voter registration within a county or between counties in this state. If it is not complete, the auditor shall promptly mail a verification notice of the deficiency to the applicant. This verification notice shall require the applicant to provide the missing information. If the verification notice is not returned by the applicant or is returned as undeliverable ~~((the auditor shall not~~

~~place~~), the name of the applicant may not be placed on the county voter list. If the applicant provides the required information, the applicant shall be registered to vote as of the date of mailing of the original voter registration application.

(2) If the information is complete, the applicant is considered to be registered to vote as of the original date of mailing or date of delivery, whichever is applicable. The auditor shall record the appropriate precinct identification, taxing district identification, and date of registration on the voter's record. Within forty-five days after the receipt of an application but no later than seven days before the next primary, special election, or general election, the auditor shall send to the applicant, by first class mail, an acknowledgement notice identifying the registrant's precinct and containing such other information as may be required by the secretary of state. The postal service shall be instructed not to forward a voter registration card to any other address and to return to the auditor any card which is not deliverable. If the applicant has indicated that he or she is registered to vote in another county in Washington but has also provided an address within the auditor's county that is for voter registration purposes, the auditor shall send, on behalf of the registrant, a registration cancellation notice to the auditor of that other county and the auditor receiving the notice shall cancel the registrant's voter registration in that other county. If the registrant has indicated on the form that he or she is registered to vote within the county but has provided a new address within the county that is for voter registration purposes, the auditor shall transfer the voter's registration.

(3) If an acknowledgement notice card is properly mailed as required by this section to the address listed by the voter as being the voter's mailing address and the notice is subsequently returned to the auditor by the postal service as being undeliverable to the voter at that address, the auditor shall promptly send the voter a confirmation notice. The auditor shall place the voter's registration on inactive status pending a response from the voter to the confirmation notice.

Sec. 10. RCW 29A.08.110 and 2004 c 267 s 107 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) On receipt of an application for voter registration, the county auditor shall review the application to determine whether the information supplied is complete. An application is considered complete only if it contains proof that the applicant is a United States citizen, the applicant's name, complete valid residence address, date of birth, and signature attesting to the truth of the information provided and an indication the license information or social security number has been confirmed by the secretary of state. Proof of citizenship is not required if an applicant is transferring his or her voter registration within a county or between counties in this state. If it is not complete, the auditor shall promptly mail a verification notice of the deficiency to the applicant. This verification notice shall require the applicant to provide the missing information. If the verification notice is not returned by the applicant or is returned as undeliverable (~~(the auditor shall not place)~~), the name of the applicant may not be placed on the county voter list. If the applicant provides the required verified information, the applicant shall be registered to vote as of the date of mailing of the original voter registration application.

(2) In order to prevent duplicate registration records, all complete voter registration applications must be screened against existing voter registration records in the official statewide voter registration list. If a match of an existing record is found in the official list the record must be updated with the new information provided on the application. If the new information indicates that the voter has changed his or her county of residence, the application must be forwarded to the voter's new county of residence for processing. If the new information indicates that the voter remains in the same county of residence or if the applicant is a new voter the application must be processed by the county of residence.

(3) If the information required in subsection (1) of this section is complete, the applicant is considered to be registered to vote as of the original date of mailing or date of delivery, whichever is applicable. The auditor shall record the appropriate precinct identification, taxing district identification, and date of registration on the voter's record in the state voter registration list. Within forty-five days after the receipt of an application but no later than seven days before the next primary, special election, or general election, the auditor shall send to the applicant, by first class mail, an acknowledgement notice identifying the registrant's precinct and containing such other information as may be required by the secretary of state. The postal service shall be instructed not to forward a voter registration card to any other address and to return to the auditor any card which is not deliverable. If the registrant has indicated on the form that he or she is registered to vote within the county but has provided a new address within the county that is for voter registration purposes, the auditor shall transfer the voter's registration.

(4) If an acknowledgement notice card is properly mailed as required by this section to the address listed by the voter as being the voter's mailing address and the notice is subsequently returned to the auditor by the postal service as being undeliverable to the voter at that address, the auditor shall promptly send the voter a confirmation notice. The auditor shall place the voter's registration on inactive status pending a response from the voter to the confirmation notice.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. A new section is added to chapter 29A.08 RCW to read as follows:

No person registering to vote, who meets all the qualifications of a registered voter in the state of Washington, may be disqualified because of a nontraditional address being used as a residence address. Voters using such an address will be registered and assigned to a precinct based on the location provided. Voters without a traditional address will be registered at the county courthouse, city hall, or other public building near the area that the voter considers his or her residence. Registering at a nontraditional address will not disqualify a voter from requesting ongoing absentee voter status if the voter designates a valid mailing address.

For the purposes of this section, "nontraditional address" includes shelters, parks, or other identifiable locations that the voter deems to be his or her residence.

Sec. 12. RCW 29A.08.115 and 2004 c 267 s 108 are each amended to read as follows:

A person or organization collecting voter registration application forms must transmit the forms to the secretary of state or a ~~((designee))~~ county auditor at least once weekly. The registration date on such forms will be the date they are received by the secretary of state or county auditor.

The county auditor shall give notice of the closing of the precinct files for original registration and transfer ~~((and notice of the special registration and voting procedure provided by RCW 29A.08.145))~~ by one publication in a newspaper of general circulation in the county at least five days before the closing of the precinct files.

No person may vote at any primary, special election, or general election in a precinct polling place unless he or she has registered to vote at least thirty days before that primary or election. ~~((If a person, otherwise qualified to vote in the state, county, and precinct in which he or she applies for registration, does not register at least thirty days before any primary, special election, or general election, he or she may register and vote by absentee ballot for that primary or election under RCW 29A.08.145.))~~

Sec. 14. RCW 29A.08.140 and 2004 c 267 s 112 are each amended to read as follows:

The registration files of all precincts shall be closed against original registration or transfers for thirty days immediately preceding every primary, special election, and general election to be held in such precincts.

The county auditor shall give notice of the closing of the precinct files for original registration and transfer ~~((and notice of the special registration and voting procedure provided by RCW 29A.08.145))~~ by one publication in a newspaper of general circulation in the county at least five days before the closing of the precinct files.

No person may vote at any primary, special election, or general election in a precinct polling place unless he or she has registered to vote at least thirty days before that primary or election and appears on the official statewide voter registration list. ~~((If a person, otherwise qualified to vote in the state, county, and precinct in which he or she applies for registration, does not register at least thirty days before any primary, special election, or general election, he or she may register and vote by absentee ballot for that primary or election under RCW 29A.08.145.))~~

Sec. 15. RCW 29A.08.145 and 2004 c 267 s 113 are each amended to read as follows:

This section establishes a special procedure which an elector may use to register to vote or transfer a voter registration by changing his or her address during the period beginning after the closing of registration for voting at the polls under RCW 29A.08.140 and ending on the fifteenth day before a primary, special election, or general election. A qualified elector in the state may register to vote or change his or her registration address in person in the office of the county auditor of the county in which the applicant resides, or at a voter registration location specifically designated for this purpose by the ~~((county auditor of the county in which the applicant resides))~~ secretary of state, and apply for an absentee ballot for that primary or election. The auditor or registration assistant shall register that individual in the manner provided in this chapter. The application for an absentee ballot executed by the newly registered or transferred voter for the primary or election that follows the execution of the registration shall be promptly transmitted to the auditor with the completed voter registration form.

This information shall be recorded on a single registration form to be prescribed by the secretary of state.

If the applicant fails to provide the information required for voter registration, the auditor shall send the applicant a verification notice. The auditor shall not register the applicant until the required information is provided. If a verification notice is returned as undeliverable or the applicant fails to respond to the notice within forty-five days, the auditor shall not register the applicant to vote.

(2) The applicant shall sign and attest to the following declaration:

"I declare that the facts on this voter registration form are true. I am a citizen of the United States. I am not presently denied my civil rights as a result of being convicted of a felony. All voter registration forms must include clear and conspicuous language, designed to draw an applicant's attention, stating that the applicant must ~~((be))~~ provide proof that the applicant is a United States citizen in order to register to vote. Voter registration application forms must also contain a space for the applicant to provide his or her driver's license number or the last four digits of his or her social security number as well as check boxes intended to allow the voter to indicate age and United States citizenship ~~((eligibility))~~ under the Help America Vote Act of 2002 (P.L. 107-252).

If a person is found on the department of corrections felon list or the Washington state patrol felon list and the statewide voter registration list, the secretary of state or county auditor shall confirm the match through a date of birth comparison and immediately cancel the voter registration from the official state voter registration list. The canceling authority shall send notice of the proposed cancellation to the person at his or her last known voter registration address.

(2) Felons who have been granted a certificate of discharge by a court shall provide a certified copy of the certificate of discharge to the department of corrections and the Washington state patrol within thirty days from the day the court grants the certificate, and shall provide a certified copy of their certificate of discharge to the elections officer at the time they register to vote.

- (c) Identify suspected duplicate voters;

If a person is found on the department of health death list and the statewide voter registration list, the secretary of state or county auditor shall immediately cancel the voter registration from the official state voter registration list.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 24. A new section is added to chapter 29A.08 RCW to read as follows:

In addition to any legal obligations of local election officers, the secretary of state in conjunction with the department of health, the department of social and health services, and the administrator for the courts shall arrange for a monthly comparison of any lists of persons known to have been declared mentally incompetent and unable to vote or placed under the care of a full guardianship due to their mental capacity. If a person is found on the department of health, the department of social and health services, or the administrator for the courts lists and the statewide voter registration list, the secretary of state or county auditor shall immediately cancel the voter registration from the official state voter registration list.

The administrator for the courts shall collect and maintain a list of all judicial determinations of full guardianship under RCW 11.88.010 and other cases where the court has ordered someone unable to vote.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 25. A new section is added to chapter 29A.08 RCW to read as follows:

In addition to any legal obligations of local election officers, the secretary of state in conjunction with local election officers shall make at a minimum a monthly comparison of names on the statewide voter registration list, and if a person is found registered more than once on the statewide voter registration list, the secretary of state or county auditor shall immediately cancel all voter registrations for that voter in excess of one from the official state voter registration list.

Sec. 26. RCW 29A.08.775 and 2004 c 267 s 136 are each amended to read as follows:

Only voters who appear on the official statewide voter registration list are eligible to participate in elections. Each county shall maintain a copy of that county's portion of the state list. The county must ensure that data used for the production of poll lists and other lists and mailings done in the administration of each election are ~~((drawn from))~~ the same as the official statewide voter registration list.

Sec. 27. RCW 46.20.155 and 2004 c 249 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Before issuing an original license or identicard or renewing a license or identicard under this chapter, the licensing agent shall determine if the applicant wants to register to vote or transfer his or her voter registration by asking the following question:

"Do you want to register to vote or transfer your voter registration?"

~~((2))~~ (2) If the applicant chooses to register or transfer a registration, the agent shall ~~((state))~~ make the following statement and ask the applicant the following questions:

~~((I would like to remind you that))~~ You must be a United States citizen and at least eighteen years of age in order to vote. Are you a United States citizen? Are you at least eighteen years of age?"

(3) If the applicant responds in the affirmative that he or she is a United States citizen, and that he or she is at least eighteen years of age, the agent shall then provide the applicant with a voter registration form and instructions and shall record that the applicant has requested to register to vote or transfer a voter registration.

~~((2))~~ (4) The department shall establish a procedure that substantially meets the requirements of subsections (1) and (2) of this section when permitting an applicant to renew a license or identicard by mail or by electronic commerce.

Sec. 28. RCW 29A.40.020 and 2003 c 111 s 1002 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as otherwise provided by law, a registered voter or out-of-state voter, overseas voter, or service voter desiring to cast an absentee ballot at a single election or primary must request the absentee ballot from his or her county auditor no earlier than ninety days nor later than the day before the election or primary at which the person seeks to vote. Except as otherwise provided by law, the request may be made orally in person, by telephone, electronically, or in writing. An application or request for an absentee ballot made under the authority of a federal statute or regulation will be considered and given the same effect as a request for an absentee ballot under this chapter.

(2) A voter requesting an absentee ballot for a primary may also request an absentee ballot for the following general election. A request by an out-of-state voter, overseas voter, or service voter for an absentee ballot for a primary election will be considered as a request for an absentee ballot for the following general election.

(3) In requesting an absentee ballot, the voter shall state the address to which the absentee ballot should be sent. A request for an absentee ballot from an out-of-state voter, overseas voter, or service voter must include the address of the last residence in the state of Washington ~~((and either a written application or the oath on the return envelope must include a declaration of the other qualifications of the applicant as an elector of this state))~~. A request for an absentee ballot from any other voter must state the address at which that voter is currently registered to vote in the state of Washington or the county auditor shall verify that information from the voter registration records of the county.

(4) A request for an absentee ballot from a registered voter who is within this state must be made directly to the auditor of the county in which the voter is registered. An absentee ballot request from a registered voter who is temporarily outside this state or from an out-of-state voter, overseas voter, or service voter may be made either to the appropriate county auditor or to the secretary of state, who shall promptly forward the request to the appropriate county auditor.

(5) No person, organization, or association may distribute absentee ballot applications within this state that contain a return address other than that of the appropriate county auditor.

Sec. 29. RCW 29A.40.091 and 2004 c 271 s 135 are each amended to read as follows:

The county auditor shall send each absentee voter a ballot, a security envelope in which to seal the ballot after voting, a larger envelope in which to return the security envelope, and instructions on how to mark the ballot and how to return it to the county auditor. The instructions that accompany an absentee ballot for a partisan primary must include instructions for voting the applicable ballot style, as provided in chapter 29A.36 RCW. The larger return envelope must contain a declaration by the absentee voter reciting his or her qualifications and stating that he or she has not voted in any other jurisdiction at this election, together with a summary of the penalties for any violation of any of the provisions of this chapter. The return envelope must provide space for the voter to indicate the date on which the ballot was voted and for the voter to sign the oath. A summary of the applicable penalty provisions of this chapter must be printed on the return envelope immediately adjacent to the space for the voter's signature. The signature of the voter on the return envelope must affirm and attest to the statements regarding the qualifications of that voter and to the validity of the ballot. ~~((For out of state voters, overseas voters, and service voters, the signed declaration on the return envelope constitutes the equivalent of a voter registration for the election or primary for which the ballot has been issued.))~~ The voter must be instructed to either return the ballot to the county auditor by whom it was issued or attach sufficient first class postage, if applicable, and mail the ballot to the appropriate county auditor no later than the day of the election or primary for which the ballot was issued.

If the county auditor chooses to forward absentee ballots, he or she must include with the ballot a clear explanation of the qualifications necessary to vote in that election and must also advise a voter with questions about his or her eligibility to contact the county auditor. This explanation may be provided on the ballot envelope, on an enclosed insert, or printed directly on the ballot itself. If the information is not included, the envelope must clearly indicate that the ballot is not to be forwarded and that return postage is guaranteed.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 30. A new section is added to chapter 29A.84 RCW to read as follows:

The secretary of state and the appropriate county auditor shall refer all cases of violations of the following statutes that they discover or suspect to have occurred to the local prosecuting attorney: RCW 29A.84.130, 29A.84.140, 29A.84.650, 29A.84.655, 29A.84.660, 29A.84.670, and 29A.84.680. RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "In ruling upon the point of inquiry raised by Senator Jacobsen that amendment No. 45 takes a two-thirds vote because it mends sections enacted by Initiative Number 872, the President finds and rules as follows:

Although the main purpose of I872 was not to affect the date of the primary, it should be noted that Section 8 of I-872, which is now codified at RCW 29A. 04.310, actually does amend the primary dates. Specifically, I-872 breaks out and numbers the primary dates which were previously incorporated into one sentence. While the purpose of the drafters in so doing can be debated, the effect for purposes of this ruling cannot: these dates were differently set forth in the initiative as voted upon at the general election. As a result, amending this section will take two-thirds vote of this body and Senator Jacobson's point is well taken."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Schoesler: "Thank you Mr. President. I respectfully submit to the body that this measure would raise state revenue and therefore pursuant to Initiative 601 require two-thirds vote of this body for passage. Codified and RCW 43.135.035 is very clear.... any action or combination of actions by the legislature that raises revenue.... maybe taken only if approved by a two-thirds vote of each 'house'. Since 1999 you've held, Mr. President, the bills which result in revenue increases fall under this provision and take a two-thirds vote of this body. In 2002, Mr. President, you made a ruling on a similar bill, SB 6591, which dealt with the application of tobacco taxes to persons who purchase tobacco taxes from exempt tribes for resale. You ruled that the measure or took a two-thirds vote for passage noting that the fiscal note for the bill indicated an expected revenue increase of almost $2.5 million for that biennium. The bill before us would authorize the Governor enter into a contract with the Puyallup tribe and impose a tax of $11.75 per carton of cigarettes in lieu of state and local taxes. The state will receive 30 percent of this tax. This new tribal tax is actually tied to the state cigarette tax such that if the state rate rises, the tribal rate, and hence the state's revenue, will also increase. The fiscal note for the measure before us indicates that the state is expected to receive $19.5 million for this biennium. An ongoing revenue in excess of 17 million through at least the 2009-11 biennium. Because this bill raises state revenue I respectfully submit for your consideration, that it will take two-thirds vote of this body for final passage and ask for a ruling thereon."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Senator Schoesler, I'm going to hold your point of order until after Senator Prentice has the opportunity to move this bill to third reading and then I'll bring it up immediately."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Prentice, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 5794 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Senator Prentice spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Senator Schoesler raised the point of order that the Senate Bill No. 5794 would in fact raise revenue that would cause it to require a two-thirds vote of both Houses by the Initiative 601."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Prentice: "Thank you Mr. President. This bill is a donation from another government, another severest nation. It is not a tax, the state is not imposing any tax. It's a tribal tax on cigarettes and they are donating the money to the state. I believe that this is not a good argument. Thank you."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Eide, Senate Bill No. 5794 was deferred and the bill held its place on the third reading calendar.

(1)(a) When any practitioner, county coroner or medical examiner, law enforcement officer, professional school personnel, registered or licensed nurse, social service counselor, psychologist, pharmacist, licensed or certified child care providers or their employees, employee of the department, juvenile probation officer, placement and liaison specialist, responsible living skills program staff, HOPE center staff, or state family and children's ombudsman or any volunteer in the ombudsman's office has reasonable cause to believe that a child has suffered abuse or neglect, he or she shall report such incident, or cause a report to be made, to the proper law enforcement agency or to the department as provided in RCW 26.44.040.

(b) When any person, in his or her official supervisory capacity with a nonprofit or for-profit organization, has reasonable cause to believe that a child has suffered abuse or neglect caused by a person over whom he or she regularly exercises supervisory authority, he or she shall report such incident, or cause a report to be made, to the proper law enforcement agency, provided that the person alleged to have caused the abuse or neglect is employed by, contracted by, or volunteers with the organization and coaches, trains, educates, or counsels a child or children or regularly has unsupervised access to a child or children as part of the employment, contract, or voluntary service. No one shall be required to report under this section when he or she obtains the information solely as a result of a privileged communication as provided in RCW 5.60.060.

Nothing in this subsection (1)(b) shall limit a person's duty to report under (a) of this subsection.

For the purposes of this subsection, the following definitions apply:

(i) "Official supervisory capacity" means a position, status, or role created, recognized, or designated by any nonprofit or for-profit organization, either for financial gain or without financial gain, whose scope includes, but is not limited to, overseeing, directing, or managing another person who is employed by, contracted by, or volunteers with the nonprofit or for-profit organization.

(ii) "Regularly exercises supervisory authority" means to act in his or her official supervisory capacity on an ongoing or continuing basis with regards to a particular person.

(c) The reporting requirement also applies to department of corrections personnel who, in the course of their employment, observe offenders or the children with whom the offenders are in contact. If, as a result of observations or information received in the course of his or her employment, any department of corrections personnel has reasonable cause to believe that a child has suffered abuse or neglect, he or she shall report the incident, or cause a report to be made, to the proper law enforcement agency or to the department as provided in RCW 26.44.040.

~~((e))~~ (d) The reporting requirement shall also apply to any adult who has reasonable cause to believe that a child who resides with them, has suffered severe abuse, and is able or capable of making a report. For the purposes of this subsection, "severe abuse" means any of the following: Any single act of abuse that causes physical trauma of sufficient severity that, if left untreated, could cause death; any single act of sexual abuse that causes significant bleeding, deep bruising, or significant external or internal swelling; or more than one act of physical abuse, each of which causes bleeding, deep bruising, significant external or internal swelling, bone fracture, or unconsciousness.

~~((f))~~ (e) The report must be made at the first opportunity, but in no case longer than forty-eight hours after there is reasonable cause to believe that the child has suffered abuse or neglect. The report must include the identity of the accused if known.

(2) The reporting requirement of subsection (1) of this section does not apply to the discovery of abuse or neglect that occurred during childhood if it is discovered after the child has become an adult. However, if there is reasonable cause to believe other children are or may be at risk of abuse or neglect by the accused, the reporting requirement of subsection (1) of this section does apply.

(3) Any other person who has reasonable cause to believe that a child has suffered abuse or neglect may report such incident to the proper law enforcement agency or to the department of social and health services as provided in RCW 26.44.040.

(4) The department, upon receiving a report of an incident of alleged abuse or neglect pursuant to this chapter, involving a child who has died or has had physical injury or injuries inflicted upon him or her other than by accidental means or who has been subjected to alleged sexual abuse, shall report such incident to the proper law enforcement agency. In emergency cases, where the child's welfare is endangered, the department shall notify the proper law enforcement agency within twenty-four hours after a report is received by the department. In all other cases, the department shall notify the law enforcement agency within seventy-two hours after a report is received by the department. If the department makes an oral report, a written report must also be made to the proper law enforcement agency within five days thereafter.

(5) Any law enforcement agency receiving a report of an incident of alleged abuse or neglect pursuant to this chapter, involving a child who has died or has had physical injury or injuries inflicted upon him or her other than by accidental means, or who has been subjected to alleged sexual abuse, shall report such incident in writing as provided in RCW 26.44.040 to the proper county prosecutor or city attorney for appropriate action whenever the law enforcement agency's investigation reveals that a crime may have been committed. The law enforcement agency shall also notify the department of all reports received and the law enforcement agency's disposition of them. In emergency cases, where the child's welfare is endangered, the law enforcement agency shall notify the department within twenty-four hours. In all other cases, the law enforcement agency shall notify the department within seventy-two hours after a report is received by the law enforcement agency.

(6) Any county prosecutor or city attorney receiving a report under subsection (5) of this section shall notify the victim, any persons the victim requests, and the local office of the department, of the decision to charge or decline to charge a crime, within five days of making the decision.

(7) The department may conduct ongoing case planning and consultation with those persons or agencies required to report under this section, with consultants designated by the department, and with designated representatives of Washington Indian tribes if the client information exchanged is pertinent to cases currently receiving child protective services. Upon request, the department shall conduct such planning and consultation with those persons required to report under this section if the department determines it is in the best interests of the child. Information considered privileged by statute and not directly related to reports required by this section must not be divulged without a valid written waiver of the privilege.

(8) Any case referred to the department by a physician licensed under chapter 18.57 or 18.71 RCW on the basis of an expert medical opinion that child abuse, neglect, or sexual assault has occurred and that the child's safety will be seriously endangered if returned home, the department shall file a dependency petition unless a second licensed physician of the parents' choice believes that such expert medical opinion is incorrect. If the parents fail to designate a second physician, the department may make the selection. If a physician finds that a child has suffered abuse or neglect but that such abuse or neglect does not constitute imminent danger to the child's health or safety, and the department agrees with the physician's assessment, the child may be left in the parents' home while the department proceeds with reasonable efforts to remedy parenting deficiencies.

(9) Persons or agencies exchanging information under subsection (7) of this section shall not further disseminate or release the information except as authorized by state or federal statute. Violation of this subsection is a misdemeanor.

(10) Upon receiving reports of alleged abuse or neglect, the department or law enforcement agency may interview children. The interviews may be conducted on school premises, at day-care facilities, at the child's home, or at other suitable locations outside of the presence of parents. Parental notification of the interview must occur at the earliest possible point in the investigation that will not jeopardize the safety or protection of the child or the course of the investigation. Prior to commencing the interview the department or law enforcement agency shall determine whether the child wishes a third party to be present for the interview and, if so, shall make reasonable efforts to accommodate the child's wishes. Unless the child objects, the department or law enforcement agency shall make reasonable efforts to include a third party in any interview so long as the presence of the third party will not jeopardize the course of the investigation.

(11) Upon receiving a report of alleged child abuse and neglect, the department or investigating law enforcement agency shall have access to all relevant records of the child in the possession of mandated reporters and their employees.

(12) The department shall maintain investigation records and conduct timely and periodic reviews of all cases constituting abuse and neglect. The department shall maintain a log of screened-out nonabusive cases.

(13) The department shall use a risk assessment process when investigating alleged child abuse and neglect referrals. The department shall present the risk factors at all hearings in which the placement of a dependent child is an issue. Substance abuse must be a risk factor. The department shall, within funds appropriated for this purpose, offer enhanced community-based services to persons who are determined not to require further state intervention.

(14) Upon receipt of a report of alleged abuse or neglect the law enforcement agency may arrange to interview the person making the report and any collateral sources to determine if any malice is involved in the reporting.

(15) The department shall make reasonable efforts to learn the name, address, and telephone number of each person making a report of abuse or neglect under this section. The department shall provide assurances of appropriate confidentiality of the identification of persons reporting under this section. If the department is unable to learn the information required under this subsection, the department shall only investigate cases in which: (a) The department believes there is a serious threat of substantial harm to the child; (b) the report indicates conduct involving a criminal offense that has, or is about to occur, in which the child is the victim; or (c) the department has, after investigation, a report of abuse or neglect that has been founded with regard to a member of the household within three years of receipt of the referral.

SENATE BILL NO. 5719, by Senator Hargrove

Extending the community commitment disposition alternative pilot program.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Hargrove, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5719 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5719 and the substitute bill was placed on the second reading and read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Hargrove moved that the following striking amendment by Senators Hargrove, Stevens and Regala be adopted.

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 13.40.169 and 2003 c 378 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((Any charter county with a population of not more than seventy thousand shall establish a pilot program to implement the community commitment disposition alternative contained in this section. The pilot project shall be limited to five beds.))~~
Any county or group of cooperating counties within close proximity may establish a program to implement the community commitment disposition alternative under this section. A program established by a county or group of cooperating counties shall be limited to ten beds. A court in a county that has established a program under this section or has entered an agreement with other counties to establish such a program may impose a community commitment disposition alternative as provided in this section.

(1) When the offender is subject to a standard range commitment of 15 to 36 weeks and is ineligible for a suspended disposition alternative, a manifest injustice disposition below the standard range, special sex offender disposition alternative, chemical dependency disposition alternative, or mental health disposition alternative, ~~((the))~~ a court ~~((in a county with a pilot program under this section))~~ may impose a community commitment disposition alternative and:

(a) Retain juvenile court jurisdiction over the youth;

(b) Confine the youth in a secure county detention facility ~~((for a period of time not to exceed thirty days)), or another alternative to secure county detention as described in subsection (4) of this section; and~~

(c) Impose a term of postrelease community supervision for up to one year.

~~((If the youth receives a standard range))~~ At the time of the disposition, the court shall set the release date within the standard range. ((The court shall determine the release date prior to expiration of sixty percent of the juvenile's minimum term of confinement.)) The offender shall spend no more than thirty days in secure county detention between the date of the disposition and the initial release date.

(2) The court may impose this community commitment disposition alternative if the court finds the following:

(a) Placement in a local secure county detention facility in close proximity to the youth's family or local support systems will facilitate a smoother reintegration to the youth's family and community;

(b) Placement in the local secure county detention facility will allow the youth to benefit from locally provided family intervention programs and other research-based treatment programs, school, employment, and drug and alcohol or mental health counseling; or

(c) Confinement in a facility operated by the department would result in a negative disruption to local services, school, or employment or impede or delay developing those services and support systems in the community.

(3) The court shall consider the youth's offense, prior criminal history, security classification, risk level, and treatment needs and history when determining whether the youth is appropriate for the community commitment disposition alternative. If the court finds that a community commitment disposition alternative is appropriate, the court shall order the youth into secure county detention while the details of the reintegration program are developed. The program shall include delivery of programs which meet the Washington state institute for public policy's effectiveness standards for juvenile accountability programs.

(4) Upon approval of the treatment and community reintegration plan, the court may order the youth to serve the term of confinement in one ~~((or more))~~ of the following placements or combination of the following placements: Secure county detention, an alternative to secure detention such as electronic home monitoring, county group care, day or evening reporting, or home detention. The court may order the youth to serve time in secure county detention on weekends or intermittently. The court shall set periodic reviews to review the youth's progress in the program. ~~((At least fifty percent))~~ No more than thirty days of the ((term of confinement)) community commitment disposition alternative shall be served in secure county detention, unless the youth violates the conditions of the community commitment program.

(5) If the youth violates the conditions of the community commitment program, the court may impose sanctions under RCW 13.40.200 or modify the terms of the reintegration plan and order the youth to serve ~~((all or a portion))~~ up to thirty days of the remaining confinement term in secure county detention or another alternative to secure county detention as described in subsection (4) of this section. If, in the opinion of the court, the youth's cumulative violations would require more than a total of thirty days of secure detention, the court shall revoke the community commitment disposition alternative and order the disposition's execution, with credit for time served, at a facility operated by the juvenile rehabilitation administration of the department of social and health services. The court shall retain jurisdiction for purposes of community supervision upon release from the facility. Except for a youth transferred to a facility operated by the juvenile rehabilitation administration, time not spent in secure county detention may be served in one of the alternative placements described in subsection (4) of this section. The court shall consider the youth's risk level in selecting alternative placements.

(6) A county may enter into interlocal agreements with other counties to develop joint community commitment programs or to allow one county to send a youth appropriate for this alternative to another county that has a community commitment program.

(7) Implementation of this alternative is subject to available state funding for the costs of the community commitment program, including costs of detention and community supervision, treatment programs, and administration.

(8) Each county or group of cooperating counties establishing a program to implement the community commitment disposition alternative under this act shall provide an interim report on a program to the Washington association of juvenile court administrators by November 1, 2006, and a final report by May 1, 2007. Each report shall include, but is not limited to, the number of offenders eligible for the program, the number of offenders sentenced to the program, evaluation and treatment costs for each participant, administrative costs, costs of detention, supervision, and other related costs, and whether an offender has reoffended after participation in the program. The Washington association of juvenile court administrators shall submit an interim report ((~~on~~) analyzing the data submitted by each of the ((~~pilot~~)) programs established in this section to the legislature and appropriate committees by December 31, ((2004)) 2006, and submit a final report to the legislature and the appropriate committees by June 30, ((2005)) 2007.

((This section expires July 1, 2005.))

The state has a strong interest in promoting the safe use of prescription drugs by consumers in Washington state. To address this interest, the legislature intends to seek authorization from the federal government to license Canadian, United Kingdom, Irish, and other nondomestic prescription drug wholesalers, thereby providing licensed retail pharmacies the opportunity to purchase prescription drugs from approved wholesalers and pass those savings on to consumers, and providing consumers the opportunity to purchase prescription drugs from a trusted community pharmacist who is aware of all of their prescription drug needs.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 18.64 RCW to read as follows:

(c) The prescription drugs purchased from Canadian, United Kingdom, Irish, and other nondomestic wholesalers must be limited to those for which potential savings to consumers can be demonstrated and those available through purchase by individuals only at licensed retail pharmacies;

(d) To ensure that the program benefits those consumers without insurance coverage for prescription drugs who are most in need of price relief, prescription drug purchases from pharmacies under the waiver will be limited to those not eligible for reimbursement by third party insurance coverage, whether public or private, for the particular drug being purchased; and

(e) Savings associated with purchasing prescription drugs from Canadian, United Kingdom, Irish, and other nondomestic wholesalers will be passed on to consumers.

(2) By December 1, 2005, the board, in consultation with the department and the health care authority, shall submit a detailed implementation plan to the governor and appropriate committees of the legislature that details the mechanisms that the board will use to implement each component of the waiver under subsection (1) of this section.

(3) The board shall adopt rules as necessary to implement this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. If any part of this act is found to be in conflict with federal requirements that are a prescribed condition to the allocation of federal funds to the state, the conflicting part of this act is inoperative solely to the extent of the conflict and with respect to the agencies directly affected, and this finding does not affect the operation of the remainder of this act in its application to the agencies concerned.
