Sec. 703. 2010 1st sp.s. c 37 s 711 (uncodified) is amended to read as follows:

INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY

Pursuant to section 11, chapter 282, Laws of 2010 (state government technology use), the office of financial management shall work with the appropriate state agencies to generate savings of $30,000,000 from technology efficiencies from the state general fund. From appropriations in this act, the office of financial management shall reduce general fund--state allotments by ~~($30,000,000)~~ $24,841,000 for fiscal year 2011. The office of financial management shall, utilizing existing fund balance, reduce the data processing revolving account rates in an amount to reflect up to half of the reductions identified in this section. The office of financial management may use savings or existing fund balances from information technology accounts to achieve savings in this section. The allotment reductions shall be placed in unallotted status and remain unexpended. Nothing in this section is intended to impact revenue collection efforts by the department of revenue.

Sec. 704. 2009 c 564 s 711 (uncodified) is amended to read as follows:

FOR THE OFFICE OF FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT--EDUCATION TECHNOLOGY REVOLVING ACCOUNT

General Fund--State Appropriation (FY 2010)	$8,000,000

The appropriations in this section are subject to the following conditions and limitations: The appropriations in this section are provided solely for expenditure into the education technology revolving account for the purpose of covering ongoing operational and equipment replacement costs incurred by the K-20 educational network program in providing telecommunication services to network participants.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 705. A new section is added to 2009 c 564 (uncodified) to read as follows:

FOR THE OFFICE OF FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT--WASHINGTON OPPORTUNITY PATHWAYS ACCOUNT

---	--------------

The appropriation in this section is subject to the following conditions and limitations: The appropriation is provided solely for expenditure into the Washington opportunity pathways account.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 706. A new section is added to 2009 c 564 (uncodified) to read as follows:

FOR THE OFFICE OF FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT--EDUCATION LEGACY TRUST ACCOUNT
General Fund--State Appropriation (FY 2011)	$1,501,000

The appropriation in this section is subject to the following conditions and limitations: The appropriation is provided solely for expenditure into the education legacy trust account.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 707. A new section is added to 2009 c 564 (uncodified) to read as follows:

FOR THE OFFICE OF FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT--EMPLOYEE SALARY REDUCTION SAVINGS

From the appropriations provided in this act and in chapter 470, Laws of 2009, the office of financial management shall reduce general fund--state allotments by $3,422,000 for fiscal year 2011 and allotments in other dedicated funds and accounts by $4,568,000 as shown in LEAP document 2011-SA1 dated February 3, 2011. These reductions reflect savings associated with a temporary three percent reduction in salaries, effective April 1, 2011, for state employees not subject to a collective bargaining agreement. State troopers, elected officials, and employees of the state printer, the marine division of the department of transportation, and the state institutions of higher education are not subject to the salary reduction in this section. The allotment reductions in this section shall be placed in reserve status and remain unexpended.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 708. A new section is added to 2009 c 564 (uncodified) to read as follows:

FOR THE OFFICE OF FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT--REDUCTION IN COMMUNICATIONS AND PUBLIC RELATIONS STAFF

The office of financial management shall develop a plan to generate savings of $1,000,000 from reductions in staffing and other efficiencies in communications and public relations by state agencies of the executive branch. It is the intent of the legislature that the reduction plan developed and implemented in accordance with this section shall prioritize essential communication functions for public information as well as executive and legislative branch oversight. From the appropriations in this act, the office of financial management shall reduce general fund--state allotments by $1,000,000 for fiscal year 2011. The allotment reductions shall be placed in reserve status and remain unexpended.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 709. A new section is added to 2009 c 564 (uncodified) to read as follows:

FOR THE OFFICE OF FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT--MANAGEMENT EFFICIENCIES IN THE DEPARTMENT OF SOCIAL AND HEALTH SERVICES

The department of social and health services, in consultation with the office of financial management, shall develop a plan to generate savings of at least $1,728,000 from reductions in management staffing and other efficiencies in addition to other administrative savings generated by this act. It is the intent of the legislature that the reduction plan developed and implemented in accordance with this section shall focus on achieving management efficiencies and will avoid, to the extent possible, direct impact on client services and program operations. After reviewing and approving the management reduction and efficiency plan, from the appropriations in this act, the office of financial management shall reduce general fund--state allotments to the department of social and health services by at least $1,728,000 for fiscal year 2011. The allotment reductions shall be placed in reserve status and remain unexpended.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 710. A new section is added to 2009 c 564 (uncodified) to read as follows:

FOR THE OFFICE OF FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT--MULTIPLE LANGUAGE ASSIGNMENT PAY

To the extent permitted by collective bargaining agreements, court orders, and court-approved settlements, the department of social and health services shall cease providing additional compensation for employees on the basis of proficiency in multiple languages after March 31, 2011. From the appropriations in this act, the office of financial management shall reduce general

PART IX

Sec. 901. 2010 1st sp.s. c 32 s 3 (uncodified) is amended to read as follows:

(1)(a) The office of financial management shall certify to each executive branch state agency and institution of higher education the compensation reduction amount to be achieved by that agency or institution. Each agency and institution shall achieve compensation expenditure reductions as provided in the omnibus appropriations act.

(b) Each executive branch state agency other than institutions of higher education may submit to the office of financial management a compensation reduction plan to achieve the cost reductions as provided in the omnibus appropriations act. The compensation reduction plan of each executive branch agency may include, but is not limited to, employee leave without pay, including additional mandatory and voluntary temporary layoffs, reductions in the agency workforce, compensation reductions, and reduced work hours, as well as voluntary retirement, separation, and other incentive programs authorized by section 912, chapter 564, Laws of 2009. The amount of compensation cost reductions to be achieved by each agency shall be adjusted to reflect voluntary and mandatory temporary layoffs at the agency during the 2009-2011 fiscal biennium and implemented prior to January 1, 2010, but not adjusted by other compensation reduction plans adopted as a result of the enactment of chapter 564, Laws of 2009, or the enactment of other compensation cost reduction measures applicable to the 2009-2011 fiscal biennium.

(c) Each institution of higher education must submit to the office of financial management a compensation and operations reduction plan to achieve at least the cost reductions as provided in the omnibus appropriations act. For purposes of the reduction plan, the state board of community and technical colleges shall submit a single plan on behalf of all community and technical colleges. The reduction plan of each institution may include, but is not limited to, employee leave without pay, including mandatory and voluntary temporary layoffs, reductions in the institution workforce, compensation reductions, and reduced work hours, as well as voluntary retirement, separation, incentive programs authorized by section 912, chapter 564, Laws of 2009, as well as other reductions to the cost of operations. The amount of cost reductions to be achieved by each institution shall be adjusted to reflect voluntary and mandatory temporary layoffs at the institution during the 2009-2011 fiscal biennium and implemented prior to January 1, 2010, but not adjusted by other compensation reduction plans adopted as a result of the enactment of chapter 564, Laws of 2009, or the enactment of other compensation cost reduction measures applicable to the 2009-2011 fiscal biennium.

(d) The director of financial management shall review, approve, and submit to the legislative fiscal committees those executive branch state agencies and higher education institution plans that achieves the cost reductions as provided in the omnibus appropriations act. For those executive branch state agencies and institutions of higher education that do not have an approved compensation and operations reduction plan, the institution shall be closed on the dates specified in subsection (2) of this section.

(e) For each agency of the legislative branch, the chief clerk of the house of representatives and the secretary of the senate shall review and approve a plan of employee mandatory and voluntary leave for the 2009-2011 fiscal biennium that achieves the cost reductions as provided in the omnibus appropriations act. The amount of compensation cost reductions to be achieved shall be adjusted, if necessary, to reflect voluntary and mandatory temporary layoffs at the agencies during the 2009-2011 fiscal biennium and implemented prior to January 1, 2010.

(f) For each agency of the judicial branch, the supreme court shall review and approve a plan of employee mandatory and voluntary leave for the 2009-2011 fiscal biennium that achieves the cost reductions as provided in the omnibus appropriations act. The amount of compensation cost reductions to be achieved shall be adjusted, if necessary, to reflect voluntary and mandatory temporary layoffs at the agencies during the 2009-2011 fiscal biennium and implemented prior to January 1, 2010.

(2) Each state agency of the executive, legislative, and judicial branch, and any institution that does not have an approved plan in accordance with subsection (1) of this section shall be closed on the following dates in addition to the legal holidays specified in RCW 1.16.050:

- (a) Monday, July 12, 2010;
- (b) Friday, August 6, 2010;
- (c) Tuesday, September 7, 2010;
- (d) Monday, October 11, 2010;
- (e) Monday, December 27, 2010;
- (f) Friday, January 28, 2011;
- (g) Tuesday, February 22, 2011;
- (h) Friday, March ((++)) 28, 2011;
- (i) Friday, April 22, 2011;
- (j) Friday, June 10, 2011.

(3) If the closure of state agencies or institutions under subsection (2) of this section prevents the performance of any action, the action shall be considered timely if performed on the next business day.

(4) The following activities of state agencies and institutions of higher education are exempt from subsections (1) and (2) of this section:

(a) Direct custody, supervision, and patient care in: (i) Corrections; (ii) juvenile rehabilitation; (iii) institutional care of veterans, or individuals with mental illness, and individuals with developmental disabilities; (iv) state hospitals, the University of Washington medical center, and Harborview medical center; (v) the special commitment center; (vi) the school for the blind; (vii) the state center for childhood deafness and hearing loss; and (viii) the Washington youth academy;

(b) Direct protective services to children and other vulnerable populations, child support enforcement, disability determination services, complaint investigators, and residential care licensors and surveyors in the department of social and health services and the department of health;

(c) Washington state patrol investigative services and field enforcement;

(d) Hazardous materials response or emergency response and cleanup;

(e) Emergency public health and patient safety response and the public health laboratory;

(f) Military operations and emergency management within the military department;

(g) Firefighting;

(h) Enforcement officers in the department of fish and wildlife, the liquor control board, the gambling commission, the department of financial institutions, and the department of natural resources;

(i) State parks operated by the parks and recreation commission;

(j) In institutions of higher education, classroom instruction, operations not funded from state funds or tuition, campus police and security, emergency management and response, work performed by student employees if the duties were not previously assigned to nonstudents during the current or prior school year, and student health care;

(k) Operations of liquor control board business enterprises and games conducted by the state lottery;

FORTIETH DAY, FEBRUARY 18, 2011

2011 REGULAR SESSION

(l) Agricultural commodity commissions and boards, and agricultural inspection programs operated by the department of agriculture;

(m) The unemployment insurance program and reemployment services of the employment security department;

(n) The workers' compensation program and workplace safety and health compliance activities of the department of labor and industries;

(o) The operation, maintenance, and construction of state ferries and state highways;

(p) The department of revenue;

(q) Licensing service offices in the department of licensing that are open no more than two days per week, and no licensing service office closures may occur on Saturdays as a result of this section;

(r) The governor, lieutenant governor, legislative agencies, and the office of financial management, during sessions of the legislature under Article II, section 12 of the state Constitution and the twenty-day veto period under Article IV, section 12 of the state Constitution;

(s) The office of the attorney general, except for management and administrative functions not directly related to civil, criminal, or administrative actions;

(t) The labor relations office of the office of financial management through November 1, 2010;

(u) The minimal use of state employees on the specified closure dates as necessary to protect public assets and information technology systems, and to maintain public safety; and

(v) The operations of the office of the insurance commissioner that are funded by industry regulatory fees.

(5)(a) The closure of an office of a state agency or institution of higher education under this section shall result in the temporary layoff of the employees of the agency or institution. The compensation of the employees shall be reduced proportionately to the duration of the temporary layoff. Temporary layoffs under this section shall not affect the employees' vacation leave accrual, seniority, health insurance, or sick leave credits. For the purposes of chapter 430, Laws of 2009, the compensation reductions under this section are deemed to be an integral part of an employer's expenditure reduction efforts and shall not result in the loss of retirement benefits in any state defined benefit retirement plan for an employee whose period of average final compensation includes a portion of the period from the effective date of this section through June 30, 2011.

(b)(i) During the closure of an office or institution under this section, any employee with a monthly full-time equivalent salary of two thousand five hundred dollars or less may, at the employee's option, use accrued vacation leave in lieu of temporary layoff during the closure. Solely for this purpose, and during the 2009-2011 fiscal biennium only, the department of personnel shall adopt rules to permit employees with less than six months of continuous state employment to use accrued vacation leave.

(ii) If an employee with a monthly full-time equivalent salary of two thousand five hundred dollars or less has no accrued vacation leave, that employee may use shared leave, if approved by the agency director, and if made available through donations under RCW 41.04.665 in lieu of temporary layoff during the closure.

(6) Except as provided in subsection (4) of this section, for employees not scheduled to work on a day specified in subsection (2) of this section, the employing agency must designate an alternative day during that month on which the employee is scheduled to work that the employee will take temporary leave without pay.

(7) To the extent that the implementation of this section is subject to collective bargaining under chapter 41.80 RCW, the bargaining shall be conducted pursuant to section 4 of this act. To the extent that the implementation of this section is subject to collective bargaining under chapters 28B.52, 41.56, 41.76, or 47.64 RCW, the bargaining shall be conducted pursuant to these chapters.

(8) For all or a portion of the employees of an agency of the executive branch, the office of financial management may approve the substitution of temporary layoffs on an alternative date during that month for any date specified in subsection (2) of this section as necessary for the critical work of any agency.

(9)(a) If any state agency of the executive, legislative, and judicial branch is unable to achieve its full amount of cost reductions as provided in the omnibus appropriations act through its approved plan in accordance with subsection (1) of this section or through ten days of temporary layoffs in accordance with subsections (2) and (8) of this section, the remaining amount is a reduction to the agency's cost of operations and may include savings as a result of sections 601 through 604 of chapter 3, Laws of 2010.

(b) If any state agency of the executive, legislative, and judicial branch is able to achieve its full amount of cost reductions as provided in the omnibus appropriations act through ten days or less of temporary layoffs in accordance with subsections (2) and (8) of this section, any residual amount of cost reductions that cannot be achieved through a full day of closure is a reduction to the agency's cost of operations and may include savings as a result of sections 601 through 604 of chapter 3, Laws of 2010.

Sec. 902. RCW 43.03.220 and 2010 1st sp.s. c 7 s 142 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Any part-time board, commission, council, committee, or other similar group which is established by the executive, legislative, or judicial branch to participate in state government and which functions primarily in an advisory, coordinating, or planning capacity shall be identified as a class one group.

(2) Absent any other provision of law to the contrary, no money beyond the customary reimbursement or allowance for expenses may be paid by or through the state to members of class one groups for attendance at meetings of such groups.

(3) Beginning July 1, 2010, through June 30, 2011, no person designated as a member of a class one board, commission, council, committee, or similar group may receive an allowance for subsistence, lodging, or travel expenses if the allowance cost is funded by the state general fund. Exceptions may be granted under section 605, chapter 3, Laws of 2010. Class one groups, when feasible, shall use an alternative means of conducting a meeting that does not require travel while still maximizing member and public participation and may use a meeting format that requires members to be physically present at one location only when necessary or required by law. Meetings that require a member's physical presence at one location must be held in state facilities whenever possible(~~and~~). Meetings conducted using private facilities must be approved by the director of the office of financial management, except for facilities provided free of charge.

(4) Beginning July 1, 2010, through June 30, 2011, class one groups that are funded by sources other than the state general fund are encouraged to reduce travel, lodging, and other costs associated with conducting the business of the group including use of other meeting formats that do not require travel.

Sec. 903. RCW 43.03.230 and 2010 1st sp.s. c 7 s 143 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Any agricultural commodity board or commission established pursuant to Title 15 or 16 RCW shall be identified as a class two group for purposes of compensation.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in this section, each member of a class two group is eligible to receive compensation in an amount not to exceed one hundred dollars for each day during which the member attends an official meeting of the group or performs statutorily prescribed duties approved by the chairperson of the group. A person shall not receive compensation for a day of service under this section if the person (a) occupies a position, normally regarded as full-time in nature, in any agency of the federal government, Washington state government, or Washington state local government; and (b) receives any compensation from such government for working that day.

(3) Compensation may be paid a member under this section only if it is authorized under the law dealing in particular with the specific group to which the member belongs or dealing in particular with the members of that specific group.

(4) Beginning July 1, 2010, through June 30, 2011, no person designated as a member of a class two board, commission, council, committee, or similar group may receive an allowance for subsistence, lodging, or travel expenses if the allowance cost is funded by the state general fund. Exceptions may be granted under section 605, chapter 3, Laws of 2010. Class two groups, when feasible, shall use an alternative means of conducting a meeting that does not require travel while still maximizing member and public participation and may use a meeting format that requires members to be physically present at one location only when necessary or required by law. Meetings that require a member's physical presence at one location must be held in state facilities whenever possible(~~(--and)~~). Meetings conducted using private facilities must be approved by the director of the office of financial management, except for facilities provided free of charge.

(5) Beginning July 1, 2010, through June 30, 2011, class two groups that are funded by sources other than the state general fund are encouraged to reduce travel, lodging, and other costs associated with conducting the business of the group including use of other meeting formats that do not require travel.

Sec. 904. RCW 43.03.240 and 2010 1st sp.s. c 7 s 144 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Any part-time, statutory board, commission, council, committee, or other similar group which has rule-making authority, performs quasi judicial functions, has responsibility for the administration or policy direction of a state agency or program, or performs regulatory or licensing functions with respect to a specific profession, occupation, business, or industry shall be identified as a class three group for purposes of compensation.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in this section, each member of a class three group is eligible to receive compensation in an amount not to exceed fifty dollars for each day during which the member attends an official meeting of the group or performs statutorily prescribed duties approved by the chairperson of the group. A person shall not receive compensation for a day of service under this section if the person (a) occupies a position, normally regarded as full-time in nature, in any agency of the federal government, Washington state government, or Washington state local government; and (b) receives any compensation from such government for working that day.

(3) Compensation may be paid a member under this section only if it is authorized under the law dealing in particular with the specific group to which the member belongs or dealing in particular with the members of that specific group.

(4) Beginning July 1, 2010, through June 30, 2011, no person designated as a member of a class three board, commission, council, committee, or similar group may receive an allowance for subsistence, lodging, or travel expenses if the allowance cost is funded by the state general fund. Exceptions may be granted under section 605, chapter 3, Laws of 2010. Class three groups, when feasible, shall use an alternative means of conducting a meeting that does not require travel while still maximizing member and public participation and may use a meeting format that requires members to be physically present at one location only when necessary or required by law. Meetings that require a member's physical presence at one location must be held in state facilities whenever possible(~~(--and)~~). Meetings conducted using private facilities must be approved by the director of the office of financial management, except for facilities provided free of charge.

(5) Beginning July 1, 2010, through June 30, 2011, class three groups that are funded by sources other than the state general fund are encouraged to reduce travel, lodging, and other costs associated with conducting the business of the group including use of other meeting formats that do not require travel.

Sec. 905. RCW 43.03.250 and 2010 1st sp.s. c 7 s 145 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A part-time, statutory board, commission, council, committee, or other similar group shall be identified as a class four group for purposes of compensation if the group:

(a) Has rule-making authority, performs quasi-judicial functions, or has responsibility for the administration or policy direction of a state agency or program;

(b) Has duties that are deemed by the legislature to be of overriding sensitivity and importance to the public welfare and the operation of state government; and

(c) Requires service from its members representing a significant demand on their time that is normally in excess of one hundred hours of meeting time per year.

(2) Each member of a class four group is eligible to receive compensation in an amount not to exceed one hundred dollars for each day during which the member attends an official meeting of the group or performs statutorily prescribed duties approved by the chairperson of the group. A person shall not receive compensation for a day of service under this section if the person (a) occupies a position, normally regarded as full-time in nature, in any agency of the federal government, Washington state government, or Washington state local government; and (b) receives any compensation from such government for working that day.

(3) Compensation may be paid a member under this section only if it is authorized under the law dealing in particular with the specific group to which the member belongs or dealing in particular with the members of that specific group.

(4) Beginning July 1, 2010, through June 30, 2011, class four groups, when feasible, shall use an alternative means of conducting a meeting that does not require travel while still maximizing member and public participation and may use a meeting format that requires members to be physically present at one location only when necessary or required by law. Meetings that require a member's physical presence at one location must be held in state facilities whenever possible(~~(--and)~~). Meetings conducted using private facilities must be approved by the director of the office of financial management, except for facilities provided free of charge.

Sec. 906. RCW 43.03.265 and 2010 1st sp.s. c 7 s 146 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Any part-time commission that has rule-making authority, performs quasi-judicial functions, has responsibility for the policy direction of a health profession credentialing program, and performs regulatory and licensing functions with respect to a health care profession licensed under Title 18 RCW shall be identified as a class five group for purposes of compensation.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in this section, each member of a class five group is eligible to receive compensation in an amount not to exceed two hundred fifty dollars for each day during which the member attends an official meeting of the group or performs statutorily prescribed duties approved by the chairperson of the group. A person shall not receive compensation for a day of service under this section if the person (a) occupies a position, normally regarded as full-time in nature, in any agency of the federal government, Washington state government, or Washington state local government; and (b) receives any compensation from such government for working that day.

(3) Compensation may be paid a member under this section only if it is necessarily incurred in the course of authorized business consistent with the responsibilities of the commission established by law.

(4) Beginning July 1, 2010, through June 30, 2011, no person designated as a member of a class five board, commission, council, committee, or similar group may receive an allowance for subsistence, lodging, or travel expenses if the allowance cost is funded by the state general fund. Exceptions may be granted under section 605, chapter 3, Laws of 2010. Class five groups, when feasible, shall use an alternative means of conducting a meeting that does not require travel while still maximizing member and public participation and may use a meeting format that requires members to be physically present at one location only when necessary or required by law. Meetings that require a member's physical presence at one location must be held in state facilities whenever possible(~~(, and)~~). Meetings conducted using private facilities must be approved by the director of the office of financial management, except for facilities provided free of charge.

(5) Beginning July 1, 2010, through June 30, 2011, class five groups that are funded by sources other than the state general fund are encouraged to reduce travel, lodging, and other costs associated with conducting the business of the group including use of other meeting formats that do not require travel.

Sec. 907. RCW 43.21A.660 and 1999 c 251 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

Funds in the freshwater aquatic weeds account may be appropriated to the department of ecology to develop a freshwater aquatic weeds management program. Funds shall be expended as follows:

(1) No less than two-thirds of the appropriated funds shall be issued as grants to (a) cities, counties, tribes, special purpose districts, and state agencies to prevent, remove, reduce, or manage excessive freshwater aquatic weeds; (b) fund demonstration or pilot projects consistent with the purposes of this section; and (c) fund hydrilla eradication activities in waters of the state. Except for hydrilla eradication activities, such grants shall only be issued for lakes, rivers, or streams with a public boat launching ramp or which are designated by the department of fish and wildlife for fly-fishing. The department shall give preference to projects having matching funds or in-kind services; (~~and~~)

(2) No more than one-third of the appropriated funds shall be expended to:

(a) Develop public education programs relating to preventing the propagation and spread of freshwater aquatic weeds; and

(b) Provide technical assistance to local governments and citizen groups; and

(3) During the 2009-2011 fiscal biennium, the legislature may transfer from the freshwater aquatic weeds account to the state general fund such amounts as reflect the excess fund balance of the account.

Sec. 908. RCW 43.21A.667 and 2009 c 564 s 933 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The freshwater aquatic algae control account is created in the state treasury. Moneys directed to the account from RCW (~~(88.02.050)~~) 88.02.560 must be deposited in the account. Expenditures from the account may only be used as provided in this section. Moneys in the account may be spent only after appropriation.

(2) Funds in the freshwater aquatic algae control account may be appropriated to the department to develop a freshwater aquatic algae control program. Funds must be expended as follows:

(a) As grants to cities, counties, tribes, special purpose districts, and state agencies to manage excessive freshwater algae, with priority for the treatment of lakes in which harmful algal blooms have occurred within the past three years; and during the 2009-2011 fiscal biennium to provide grants for sea lettuce research and removal to assist Puget Sound communities that are impacted by hyperblooms of sea lettuce; (~~and~~)

(b) To provide technical assistance to applicants and the public about aquatic algae control; and

(c) During the 2009-2011 fiscal biennium, the legislature may transfer from the freshwater aquatic algae control account to the state general fund such amounts as reflect the excess fund balance of the account.

(3) The department shall submit a biennial report to the appropriate legislative committees describing the actions taken to implement this section along with suggestions on how to better fulfill the intent of chapter 464, Laws of 2005. The first report is due December 1, 2007.

Sec. 909. RCW 43.79.460 and 2010 1st sp.s. c 37 s 928 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The savings incentive account is created in the custody of the state treasurer. The account shall consist of all moneys appropriated to the account by the legislature. The account is subject to the allotment procedures under chapter 43.88 RCW, but no appropriation is required for expenditures from the account.

(2) Within the savings incentive account, the state treasurer may create subaccounts to be credited with incentive savings attributable to individual state agencies, as determined by the office of financial management in consultation with the legislative fiscal committees. Moneys deposited in the subaccounts may be expended only on the authorization of the agency's executive head or designee and only for the purpose of one-time expenditures to improve the quality, efficiency, and effectiveness of services to customers of the state, such as one-time expenditures for employee training, employee incentives, technology improvements, new work processes, or performance measurement. Funds may not be expended from the account to establish new programs or services, expand existing programs or services, or incur ongoing costs that would require future expenditures.

(3) For purposes of this section, "incentive savings" means state general fund appropriations that are unspent as of June 30th of a fiscal year, excluding any amounts included in across-the-board reductions under RCW 43.88.110 and excluding unspent appropriations for:

(a) Caseload and enrollment in entitlement programs, except to the extent that an agency has clearly demonstrated that efficiencies have been achieved in the administration of the entitlement program. "Entitlement program," as used in this section, includes programs for which specific sums of money are appropriated for pass-through to third parties or other entities;

(b) Enrollments in state institutions of higher education;

(c) A specific amount contained in a condition or limitation to an appropriation in the biennial appropriations act, if the agency did not achieve the specific purpose or objective of the condition or limitation;

(d) Debt service on state obligations; and

(e) State retirement system obligations.

(4) The office of financial management, after consulting with the legislative fiscal committees, shall report the amount of savings incentives achieved.

(5) ((For fiscal year 2009, the legislature may transfer from the savings incentive account to the state general fund such amounts as reflect the fund balance of the account attributable to unspent state general fund appropriations for fiscal year 2008.)) For fiscal year 2010, the legislature may transfer from the savings incentive account to the state general fund such amounts as reflect the fund balance of the account attributable to unspent state general fund appropriations for fiscal year 2009. For fiscal year 2011, the legislature may transfer from the savings incentive account to the state general fund such amounts as reflect the fund balance of the account attributable to unspent state general fund appropriations for fiscal year 2010. For fiscal year 2011, the legislature may transfer from the savings incentive account to the state general fund eight million dollars or as much as reflects the fund balance of the account attributable to unspent agency credits prior to fiscal year 2009. Credits for legislative and judicial agencies are not included in this action, with the exception and upon consent of the supreme court, court of appeals, office of public defense, and office of civil legal aid.

Sec. 910. RCW 43.79.465 and 2010 1st sp.s. c 37 s 929 are each amended to read as follows:

The education savings account is created in the state treasury. The account shall consist of all moneys appropriated to the account by the legislature.

(1) Ten percent of legislative appropriations to the education savings account shall be distributed as follows: (a) Fifty percent to the distinguished professorship trust fund under RCW 28B.76.565; (b) seventeen percent to the graduate fellowship trust fund under RCW 28B.76.610; and (c) thirty-three percent to the college faculty awards trust fund under RCW 28B.50.837.

(2) The remaining moneys in the education savings account may be appropriated solely for (a) common school construction projects that are eligible for funding from the common school construction account, (b) technology improvements in the common schools, (c) during the 2001-03 fiscal biennium, technology improvements in public higher education institutions, (d) during the 2007-2009 fiscal biennium, the legislature may transfer from the education savings account to the state general fund such amounts as reflect the excess fund balance of the account attributable to unspent state general fund appropriations for fiscal year 2008, and (e) for fiscal year ~~((2010))~~ 2011, the legislature may transfer from the education savings account to the state general fund such amounts as reflect the fund balance of the account attributable to unspent general fund appropriations for fiscal year ~~((2009))~~ 2010.

Sec. 911. RCW 43.83B.430 and 2002 c 371 s 910 are each amended to read as follows:

The state drought preparedness account is created in the state treasury. All receipts from appropriated funds designated for the account and funds transferred from the state emergency water projects revolving account must be deposited into the account. Moneys in the account may be spent only after appropriation. Expenditures from the account may be used only for drought preparedness. During the ~~((2001-2003))~~ 2009-2011 fiscal biennium, the legislature may transfer from the state drought preparedness account to the state general fund such amounts as reflect the excess fund balance of the account.

Sec. 912. RCW 43.105.080 and 2010 1st sp.s. c 37 s 931 are each amended to read as follows:

There is created a revolving fund to be known as the data processing revolving fund in the custody of the state treasurer. The revolving fund shall be used for the acquisition of equipment, software, supplies, and services and the payment of salaries, wages, and other costs incidental to the acquisition, development, operation, and administration of information services, telecommunications, systems, software, supplies and equipment, including the payment of principal and interest on bonds issued for capital projects, by the department, Washington State University's computer services center, the department of personnel's personnel information systems division, the office of financial management's financial systems management group, and other users as jointly determined by the department and the office of financial management. The revolving fund is subject to the allotment procedure provided under chapter 43.88 RCW. Disbursements from the revolving fund for the services component of the department are not subject to appropriation. Disbursements for the strategic planning and policy component of the department are subject to appropriation. All disbursements from the fund are subject to the allotment procedures provided under chapter 43.88 RCW. The department shall establish and implement a billing structure to assure all agencies pay an equitable share of the costs.

During the 2009-2011 fiscal biennium, the legislature may transfer from the data processing revolving account to the state general fund such amounts as reflect the excess fund balance ~~((associated with the information technology pool)).~~

As used in this section, the word "supplies" shall not be interpreted to delegate or abrogate the division of purchasing's responsibilities and authority to purchase supplies as described in RCW 43.19.190 and 43.19.200.

Sec. 913. RCW 43.330.094 and 2009 c 565 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

The tourism development and promotion account is created in the state treasury. All receipts from RCW 36.102.060(10) must be deposited into the account. Moneys in the account may be spent only after appropriation. Expenditures from the account may be used by the department of commerce only for the purposes of expanding and promoting the tourism industry in the state of Washington. During the 2009-2011 fiscal biennium, the legislature may transfer from the tourism development and promotion account to the state general fund such amounts as reflect the excess fund balance of the account.

Sec. 914. RCW 43.336.050 and 2007 c 228 s 105 are each amended to read as follows:

The tourism enterprise account is created in the custody of the state treasurer.

(1) All receipts from RCW 43.336.030(2)(a) must be deposited into the account. Only the executive director or the executive director's designee may authorize expenditures from the account. The account is subject to allotment procedures under chapter 43.88 RCW, but an appropriation is not required for expenditures.

(2) Moneys transferred from the state convention and trade ~~((center))~~ center account to this account ~~((as provided in RCW 67.40.040.))~~ shall be available for expenditure in accordance with the requirements of this section. As provided under subsection (3) of this section, moneys must be matched with private sector cash contributions, the value of an advertising equivalency contribution, or through an in-kind contribution. The commission shall determine criteria for what qualifies as an in-kind contribution. The moneys subject to match may be expended as private match is received or with evidence of qualified expenditure.

(3)(a) Twenty-five percent of the moneys transferred in fiscal year 2009 are subject to a match;

(b) Fifty percent of the moneys transferred in fiscal year 2010 are subject to a match; and

(c) One hundred percent of the moneys transferred in fiscal year 2011, and thereafter, are subject to a match.

(4) Expenditures from the account may be used by the department of ~~((community, trade, and economic development))~~ commerce only for the purposes of expanding and promoting the tourism industry in the state of Washington.

(5) During the 2009-2011 fiscal biennium, the legislature may transfer from the tourism enterprise account to the state general fund such amounts as reflect the excess fund balance of the account.

Sec. 915. RCW 46.66.080 and 2009 c 564 s 945 are each amended to read as follows:

FORTIETH DAY, FEBRUARY 18, 2011

2011 REGULAR SESSION

(1) The Washington auto theft prevention authority account is created in the state treasury, subject to appropriation. All revenues from the traffic infraction surcharge in RCW 46.63.110(7)(b) and all receipts from gifts, grants, bequests, devises, or other funds from public and private sources to support the activities of the auto theft prevention authority must be deposited into the account. Expenditures from the account may be used only for activities relating to motor vehicle theft, including education, prevention, law enforcement, investigation, prosecution, and confinement. During the 2009-2011 fiscal biennium, the legislature may appropriate moneys from the Washington auto theft prevention authority account for criminal justice purposes and community building and may transfer funds to the state general fund such amounts as reflect the excess fund balance of the account.

(2) The authority shall allocate moneys appropriated from the account to public agencies for the purpose of establishing, maintaining, and supporting programs that are designed to prevent motor vehicle theft, including:

(a) Financial support to prosecution agencies to increase the effectiveness of motor vehicle theft prosecution;

(b) Financial support to a unit of local government or a team consisting of units of local governments to increase the effectiveness of motor vehicle theft enforcement;

(c) Financial support for the procurement of equipment and technologies for use by law enforcement agencies for the purpose of enforcing motor vehicle theft laws; and

(d) Financial support for programs that are designed to educate and assist the public in the prevention of motor vehicle theft.

(3) The costs of administration shall not exceed ten percent of the moneys in the account in any one year so that the greatest possible portion of the moneys available to the authority is expended on combating motor vehicle theft.

(4) Prior to awarding any moneys from the Washington auto theft prevention authority account for motor vehicle theft enforcement, the auto theft prevention authority must verify that the financial award includes sufficient funding to cover proposed activities, which include, but are not limited to: (a) State, municipal, and county offender and juvenile confinement costs; (b) administration costs; (c) law enforcement costs; (d) prosecutor costs; and (e) court costs, with a priority being given to ensuring that sufficient funding is available to cover state, municipal, and county offender and juvenile confinement costs.

(5) Moneys expended from the Washington auto theft prevention authority account under subsection (2) of this section shall be used to supplement, not supplant, other moneys that are available for motor vehicle theft prevention.

(6) Grants provided under subsection (2) of this section constitute reimbursement for purposes of RCW 43.135.060(1).

Sec. 916. RCW 43.350.070 and 2005 c 424 s 8 are each amended to read as follows:

The life sciences discovery fund is created in the custody of the state treasurer. Only the board or the board's designee may authorize expenditures from the fund. Expenditures from the fund may be made only for purposes of this chapter. Administrative expenses of the authority, including staff support, may be paid only from the fund. Revenues to the fund consist of transfers made by the legislature from strategic contribution payments deposited in the tobacco settlement account under RCW 43.79.480, moneys received pursuant to contribution agreements entered into pursuant to RCW 43.350.030, moneys received from gifts, grants, and bequests, and interest earned on the fund. During the 2009-2011 fiscal biennium, the legislature may transfer to other state funds or accounts such amounts as represent the excess balance of the life sciences discovery fund.

Sec. 917. RCW 51.44.170 and 2003 1st sp.s. c 25 s 926 are each amended to read as follows:

The industrial insurance premium refund account is created in the custody of the state treasurer. All industrial insurance refunds earned by state agencies or institutions of higher education under the state fund retrospective rating program shall be deposited into the account. The account is subject to the allotment procedures under chapter 43.88 RCW, but no appropriation is required for expenditures from the account. Only the executive head of the agency or institution of higher education, or designee, may authorize expenditures from the account. No agency or institution of higher education may make an expenditure from the account for an amount greater than the refund earned by the agency. If the agency or institution of higher education has staff dedicated to workers' compensation claims management, expenditures from the account must be used to pay for that staff, but additional expenditure from the account may be used for any program within an agency or institution of higher education that promotes or provides incentives for employee workplace safety and health and early, appropriate return-to-work for injured employees. During the ~~((2003-2005))~~ 2009-2011 fiscal biennium, the legislature may transfer from the industrial insurance premium refund account to the state general fund such amounts as reflect the excess fund balance of the account.

Sec. 918. RCW 66.08.235 and 2005 c 151 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

The liquor control board construction and maintenance account is created within the state treasury. The liquor control board shall deposit into this account a portion of the board's markup, as authorized by chapter 66.16 RCW, placed upon liquor as determined by the board. Moneys in the account may be spent only after appropriation. The liquor control board shall use deposits to this account to fund construction and maintenance of a centralized distribution center for liquor products intended for sale through the board's liquor store and contract liquor store system. During the ~~((2001-2003))~~ 2009-2011 fiscal biennium, the legislature may transfer from the liquor control board construction and maintenance account to the state general fund such amounts as reflect the ~~((appropriations reductions made by the 2002 supplemental appropriations act for administrative efficiencies and savings))~~ excess fund balance in the account.

Sec. 919. RCW 80.36.430 and 2010 1st sp.s. c 37 s 951 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The Washington telephone assistance program shall be funded by a telephone assistance excise tax on all switched access lines and by funds from any federal government or other programs for this purpose. Switched access lines are defined in RCW 82.14B.020. The telephone assistance excise tax shall be applied equally to all residential and business access lines not to exceed fourteen cents per month. The department shall submit an approved annual budget for the Washington telephone assistance program to the department of revenue no later than March 1st prior to the beginning of each fiscal year. The department of revenue shall then determine the amount of telephone assistance excise tax to be placed on each switched access line and shall inform local exchange companies and the utilities and transportation commission of this amount no later than May 1st. The department of revenue shall determine the amount of telephone assistance excise tax by dividing the total of the program budget funded by the telephone assistance excise tax, as submitted by the department, by the total number of switched access lines in the prior calendar year. The telephone assistance excise tax shall be separately identified on each ratepayer's bill as the "Washington telephone assistance program." All money collected from the telephone assistance excise tax shall be transferred to a telephone assistance fund administered by the department.

(2) Local exchange companies shall bill the fund for their expenses incurred in offering the telephone assistance program, including administrative and program expenses. The department shall disburse the money to the local exchange companies. The department is exempted from having to conclude a contract with local exchange companies in order to effect this reimbursement. The department shall recover its administrative costs from the fund. The department may specify by rule the range and extent of administrative and program expenses that will be reimbursed to local exchange companies.

(3) The department shall enter into an agreement with the department of commerce for an amount not to exceed eight percent of the prior fiscal year's total revenue for the administrative and program expenses of providing community service voice mail services. The community service voice mail service may include toll-free lines in community action agencies through which recipients can access their community service voice mailboxes at no charge.

(4) During the 2009-2011 biennium, the department shall enter into an agreement with the WIN 211 organization for operational support.

(5) During the 2009-2011 biennium, the telephone assistance fund shall also be used in support of the economic services administration call centers and related operations.

Sec. 920. RCW 82.14.380 and 1999 c 311 s 201 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The distressed county assistance account is created in the state treasury. Into this account shall be placed a portion of all motor vehicle excise tax receipts as provided in RCW 82.44.110. At such times as distributions are made under RCW 82.44.150, the state treasurer shall distribute the funds in the distressed county assistance account to each county imposing the sales and use tax authorized under RCW 82.14.370 as of January 1, 1999, in the same proportions as distributions of the tax imposed under RCW 82.14.370 for these counties for the previous quarter.

(2) Funds distributed from the distressed county assistance account shall be expended by the counties for criminal justice and other purposes. During the 2009-2011 fiscal biennium, the legislature may transfer from the distressed county assistance account to the state general fund such amounts as reflect the excess fund balance of the account.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 921. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 922. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and takes effect immediately.

Senators Haugen and King spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Murray: "Would Senator Haugen yield to a question? Thank you. Senator Haugen, is there anything in the bill before us that would prohibit future use of congestion crisis?"

Senator Haugen: "No there is not."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Benton: "Thank you Mr. President. It's my understanding that Substitute Senate Bill 5700 grants toll setting authority to the Transportation Commission. It's also my understanding that initiative 1053 passed by the people of the state of Washington restricted the granting of authority to agencies outside of the legislature. Based on the language of Initiative 1053, can you please tell me if the number of votes needed to pass this measure requires a two-thirds vote of the Senate?"

2011 REGULAR SESSION

Senator Haugen spoke against the point of order.

Senator Benton spoke in favor of the point of order.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Rockefeller, further consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5700 was deferred and the bill held its place on the second reading calendar.

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Liberal interpretation."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

FORTIETH DAY, FEBRUARY 18, 2011

2011 REGULAR SESSION

Senator Kohl-Welles: “Thank you Mr. President. As I missed speaking on the bill itself, this may seem a bit redundant but perhaps that’s a term that we recognize with regard to Senator Conway. Now, especially I welcome Senator Conway to the Senate. As you all know I have been viewed as one of the most concise and brief speakers in our body and now I am able to turn that distinction over to our new Senator. In fact he is known to epitomize the term concise. Mr. President, may I read for just one moment? According to Webster’s concise means ‘expressing and covering much in few words, brief in form but comprehensive in scope, succinct, terse, concise explanation, expressed in as few words as possible and with the elimination of unnecessary details’ which I just think fits the new Senator very well. But there is another aspect of him that I think is very important to consider. Senator Conway brings some additional conservatism to our Senate Democratic Caucus. In fact, although he represents, in his district the south part of Tacoma primarily, I have heard from him over and over and over for years and years and years that before he can support some bill of mine he has to check with the prosecutors. He has to check with the sheriffs and police chiefs because his voters are so conservative and I have noticed that he is barely elected every two years thus far in office, so, with that I welcome the new Senator.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hobbs: “Yes, Mr. President. I tried to give the good Senator from the twenty-ninth some advice, since you’re new to the senate. Yesterday I tried to talk to him while he was paying for lunch except he was doing it in dimes so didn’t have the time to talk to him. But, I do want to tell you, this is a deliberative body. We work things out but when we say deliberative doesn’t mean you talk a lot on the floor. I think that’s very important to know. The other thing is that we like to have stakeholder processes here in the senate, I think many of us who do bills, we do stakeholder processes. But when we say stakeholder, we meant stakeholders that’s plural not possessive. Another point I’d like to give to you. The other thing is Senator Conway, just to let you know, Senator Kohl-Welles is not going anywhere, so get over that, Vice Chair. Thank you.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Schoesler: “Thank you Mr. President. For those that are watching on TVW or are new to observing this body this is a ritual that has predated all of us for a first bill or first speech and this is one of those enjoyable moments. And in keeping with the protocol I was going to give the member a special gift welcoming him to the Senate but, in observing the protocol you asked us to keep, I will give it to Majority Leader and she may present it to him at a more appropriate moment.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Keiser: “I’ve known the good gentleman from the twenty-ninth district for a very long time, couple of decades and then. I have to say it’s a joy to have another dancer join the chamber. I’ve had a wonderful time with the gentleman from the twenty-third district on the floor of this chamber when we’ve seen the music break out. Maybe again we can have some good times on the floor of this chamber with the gentleman from the twenty-ninth district. As was stated he has a Ph. D. in history and he was a Fulbright scholar to the London School of Economics and so forth and so on but it’s important to remember, most of all, he’s a good dancer.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Kastama: “With your permission I’d like to read kind of an odd letter that I received this morning in my office. It’s actually a congratulatory letter to Senator Conway. May I read that? Thank you. I don’t know if it’s private or not but let me go ahead say.

‘It says, ‘Dear Senator Conway, we congratulate you on your election victory as a new Senator. Your reputation goes well beyond Washington’s borders. You are now like us, part of the deliberative body of your state’s government.’ This is the odd part I don’t get. ‘One suggestion however, is that no matter how difficult your budget is make sure that your per diem covers out-of-state travel.’ There is a small asterisk goes that goes to say. ‘Also if at all possible, modify your chamber’s ability to compel your presence.’ I’m not sure, anyway, ‘with sincere warm affection the Wisconsin State Senate Democratic Caucus.’ Sent from Rockford Illinois.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Conway: “I ask for mercy, alright? No, in recognition of the time honor tradition and it’s a great honor to be here and a great honor to join all of you. Some of you, of course, I have worked with for years and it’s a great honored to be here with you. But, I am asking, with your permission, Mr. President, I would like to present some gifts to my colleagues on the floor. I know we’ve had a great debate here about missing cookies, Valentine cookies so I have brought as a Pierce County Senator here something I think many Pierce County Senators have brought before me brought a box of Almond Roca. Keep in mind, this plant is really not in my district but the employees are in my district. I also going to bring a second gift to you on something that I’ve worked a lot on down here is a, my second gift is a family membership to you, to each of you, and those on the rostrum, to the LeMay Auto Museum. You know the LeMay Auto Museum is currently under construction, next to the Tacoma Dome and you know that they feel that they will have this project done by this fall and they will have a grand opening of this LeMay Auto Museum in May, next year. They plan to have a lot of festivities around the LeMay Auto Museum for the full year from when its constructed right up to their grand opening. So, with this family membership that lasts through June of next year allows you to participate in all those festivities. You know, in my district, like all your districts, auto, old cars are part of our life and I know many many of my constituents on a Saturday or Sunday are pushing their cars down to the car shows in the summer months especially and frankly Tacoma has this great auto museum or will have this auto museum so I welcome you to the festivities and again thank you for welcoming here in the Senate. Thank you very much.”

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President welcomed and introduced Consul General Haryong Lee, of the Consulate General of the Republic of Korea in Seattle who was in the chamber.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Zarelli, Senator Morton was excused.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5213, by Senators Litzow and Hobbs

FORTIETH DAY, FEBRUARY 18, 2011

2011 REGULAR SESSION

Addressing insurance statutes, generally.

The measure was read the second time.

MOTION

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Swecker: "I was concerned. The Senator from the Twenty-Ninth District voted three times and I was curious how many those were counted?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Try as he may, he gets one."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hobbs: "I just want to say to the good Senator from the Forty-First District, you've got some nice hair. Yeah, you do. You do. I know that the good Senator comes from Mercer Island and Senator Hatfield and I tried to get to Mercer Island. Apparently the average income is a million dollars. We took our Ford Focus, 2007. We drove that down. There was an exit sign, you could take anyone below I think two-hundred-fifty thousand dollar income you just, or above. We didn't take that one. We took the exit going there that put us back on to I-5 so we couldn't get into Mercer Island. Finally when we got in there we went to a Starbucks and, you know, we don't make a lot of money so we ordered a drip coffee and they called the police on us so we were escorted out. I just want to point out the unique features of the Forty-First District. I believe it's the only district where the senators only serve one-year terms. So, I wish you well, this year and I look forward to the upcoming years. If you're here. Anyway, thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Rockefeller: "Mr. President, just to pick up on that point of that one year terms. There's something in the water I think or in the atmosphere of the Forty-First District and that is the propensity of the incumbents to use grandiose rhetoric. We had an example of that and maybe that's why it was one-year tenure for his predecessor so, friendly advice to him try to avoid Roderick that obscures and obfuscates and hopefully we won't need a dictionary to listen to you in the future. Good luck to you, we're glad you're here."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Kline: "Mr. President, there were three exits going into Mercer Island. One, is for people over two hundred fifty thousand per annum, one is for less than two-hundred-fifty thousand per annum, the other is for people from the Thirty-Seventh District because we are connected by that bridge so that district, that route, by the way goes right around makes a curve and goes into Lake Washington. So a little bit of a problem with the Transportation Department but we deal with it. Mr. President, I noticed our presents are very heavy. Caramels. I'm sure my wife is going to love them but I was kind of hoping that we would have something that was more emblematic of the district, as all of these gifts usually are. Something for example, shoreline property, perhaps, a nice little park, I was thinking maybe three bedrooms, two baths, you know, old English charm, that sort of thing ivy and all that. But Mr. President, we'll have to do with the caramels and thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Litzow: "Thank you Mr. President. In is the long and growing list of mysterious traditions here in the senate it's my privilege to provide each of you with a gift of the Forty-First District. It is the home of many things. We have over a couple hundred small businesses and what we have here are caramels from Midori Caramels, a small business on Mercer Island. We're also the home of the Seattle Seahawks. Renton is their main base and we have a twelfth man pen and as many of you know the twelfth man are the people in the stands who yell incredibly loud to distract the opposition and looking at what we are going to have to do in the budget in the upcoming months here I think that is was appropriate that we pass out a twelfth man budget. It's my honor to be here and I look forward to working with all of you. Thank you."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Hargrove: "I would like to invoke Rule 34 and issue a protest on the previous action of the Senate. I will issue it in writing and put it in the record."

FORTIETH DAY, FEBRUARY 18, 2011
 REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

2011 REGULAR SESSION

President Owen: "Message received."

[EDITORS NOTE: A statement was not submitted within the time allotted by senate rule 34.]

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senator Benton, the President finds and rules as follows:

Senator Benton has raised the question of whether I-1053 prohibits the legislature from delegating fee setting authority to an agency. While the President believes that this is more properly a legal question on which he does not rule, this is an issue of first impression and the President believes that some explanation is appropriate, particularly as the number of votes necessary to pass a measure is impacted by the initiative.

The language of the initiative does not address the legislature's authority to delegate fee setting authority. Instead it simply restates the previous requirement that new or increased fees be approved with a majority vote in both houses of the legislature.

This result also comports with an Attorney General opinion on the exact issue. Although the President is not necessarily bound by such opinions, he has a history of considering and giving some deference to these, and notes that the Attorney General's opinion states that the legislature retains its authority to delegate fee setting authority to appropriate state agencies, such as the Transportation Commission. The President believes that this result is consistent with the plain language of the initiative.

There does not appear to be any dispute that SB 5700 addresses a possible increase in fees. Under the terms of the initiative, the legislature's power to establish an increase in fees requires simply a majority vote; accordingly, the legislature's power to delegate such authority also may be based on a majority vote, and does not require a supermajority vote that the initiative requires for tax increases.

For these reasons, Senator Benton's point is not well taken, and this measure is properly before the body, requiring a constitutional majority for final passage."

The Senate resumed consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5700 which had been deferred earlier in the day.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Haugen, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5700 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Senators King, Haugen and Murray spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

Senators Benton and Roach spoke against passage of the bill.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5700.

SENATE RESOLUTION

By Senators Roach, Delvin, Morton, King, Swecker, Carrell, Pflug, and Benton

WHEREAS, Ronald Reagan served as the beloved 40th President of the United States, from 1981 to 1989; and

WHEREAS, We are this year celebrating the 100th anniversary of his birth on February 6th; and

WHEREAS, Ronald Reagan lived and modeled the American dream, rising from high school and college football player, to sports announcer, to movie star, to California Governor, to President of the United States; and

WHEREAS, In his first inaugural address, moving from Governor to President, he noted that "all of us need to be reminded that the federal government did not create the states; the states created the federal government"; and

WHEREAS, Two months into his Presidency, he showed distinctive courage and humor after he was shot by a would-be assassin, telling his surgeons "please tell me you're all Republicans"; and

WHEREAS, His philosophy emphasized lower taxes, smaller government, strong national defense, and a profound love of God and country; and

WHEREAS, Ronald Reagan was so effective in expressing his ideas, that he became known as "the great communicator"; and

WHEREAS, He impressed us with his self-deprecating humor, as when he said "I have left orders to be awakened at any time in case of national emergency, even if I'm in a cabinet meeting"; and

WHEREAS, He counseled that "You and I as individuals can, by borrowing, live beyond our means, but for only a limited period of time"; and

WHEREAS, President Reagan encouraged the free spirit of people everywhere, when during a 1987 speech in Berlin he said "Mr. Gorbachev, tear down this wall"; and

WHEREAS, He skillfully relied on the economic power of the United States to hasten the end of the military cold war; and

WHEREAS, We observed his love for simplicity and natural beauty when he said of his Santa Barbara ranch, "no place before or since has ever given Nancy and me the joy and serenity it does"; and

WHEREAS, Ronald Reagan always believed that the best years of the United States were still ahead;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington State Senate honors Ronald Reagan for his exemplary service; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Washington State Senate honors the legacy of Ronald Reagan, by affirming that the best years of our free citizens of Washington State and the United States are still ahead.

Senators Roach and Kohl-Welles spoke in favor of adoption of the resolution.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of Senate Resolution No. 8619.

The motion by Senator Roach carried and the resolution was adopted by voice vote.

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President welcomed and introduced members of the King County Republican Party who were seated in the gallery.

MOTION

At 12:13 p.m., on motion of Senator Eide, the Senate was declared to be at ease subject to the call of the President.

EVENING SESSION

The Senate was called to order at 5:36 p.m. by President Owen.

MOTION

There being no objection, the Senate reverted to the first order of business.

WHEREAS, Margarita López was born in San Bernardino, California, the youngest of five children whose father was born in Mexico and her mother in El Paso, Texas; and

WHEREAS, In 1942, her family moved to the Los Angeles area to work at war time defense jobs providing Margarita the opportunity to attend the famous Hollywood High, an advanced public high school with many movie industry classmates and spent her after school hours at Schwabs Drug Store sitting at the soda counter along with Lana Turner hoping to be "discovered"; and

WHEREAS, She received her registered nurse degree in 1954 and moved to Seattle to begin more than 45 years of health care service, working in every capacity from maternity to long-term care, and serving as director of nursing at Renton Hospital, VA Hospital, Mt. St. Vincent Care Center, and most notoriously a graveyard ER nurse at Valley Medical Center, where the new state of the art trauma center bears her name and is commonly referred to by emergency workers as 'Margaritaville'; and

WHEREAS, In 1957, she met Bill Prentice, who had volunteered to transfer to Washington State from the Wichita, Kansas Boeing plant so a father of three wouldn't have to uproot his young family; and

WHEREAS, Bill and "Marge" were married in 1958, settling on her current home site in Skyway where they raised four children: Carl, Kathy, Christy, and Bill III; and

WHEREAS, The young nurse and mother started volunteering on Democratic campaigns beginning with Governors Al Rosellini and Mike Lowry; and

WHEREAS, Because of inadequate accommodations in public schools for kids with special needs, including her autistic child, she determined to be part of the solution by joining the local PTA; and

WHEREAS, In April 1988, Margarita was appointed to the 11th District House Position 2 and went on to win the next two elections becoming the first Latina elected to the Legislature in Washington state; and

WHEREAS, In 1992, Senator Prentice won her first bid for the Washington State Senate and has since served as chair of numerous major committees including Financial Institutions, Housing, Insurance, Labor, Commerce, and was the longest serving chair of the Ways and Means Committee; as well as serving as an ex-officio member of the Gambling Commission since 1994; and

WHEREAS, Senator Prentice has sponsored landmark legislation for workers' rights, child labor, minimum wage, identity theft, traffic congestion, credit unions, midwives, massage therapy, universal healthcare, veterans benefits, farm worker housing, domestic partners, tribal and mini casinos, social card rooms, charitable organizations, transportation permit streamlining, and of exceptional importance to her personally, a partnership with the University of Washington Autism Center to produce a DVD and online training and support guide for families and teachers that is inexpensive, easily distributed, and accessed even for the most rural areas; and

WHEREAS, Senator Prentice is recognized for her effective leadership, warm heart, and strong backbone, vigorous bipartisanship, exceptional work ethic, and her consistent ability to bring people together, using her unique "nurse voice" to take charge and calm difficult situations;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington State Senate recognize and honor Margarita Prentice for her outstanding service and numerous lasting contributions she has made to the Legislature and the people of this state; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to Margarita Prentice and her family.

2011 REGULAR SESSION

Senators Brown, Fraser, Parlette, King, Swecker, Pridemore, Kline, Kohl-Welles, Hobbs, Shin, Roach and Litzow spoke in favor of adoption of the resolution.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of Senate Resolution No. 8625.

The motion by Senator Brown carried and the resolution was adopted by voice vote.

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUEST

The President welcomed and introduced Mr. Patrick Woods, Program Manager at the Department of Financial Institutions and former Senate staff, who performed a version of "Mother Marchee" in honor of Senator Prentice. Mr. Wood then led the senate in singing "Happy Birthday."

The President thanked Mr. Woods and welcomed Senator Margarita Prentice, President Pr Tempore, to the President's rostrum.

REMARKS BY SENATOR PRENTICE

Senator Prentice: "I'm sure you never thought you'd see the time when I didn't have a ready response and it's very, very difficult. I do have some introductions to make, this is my granddaughter, Lizzy Burton. Would you stand up Lizzy? Lizzy goes to University of Puget Sound and is from Arizona and am very lucky to have one of my five grandchildren up here close by and thank you so much. My daughter Kathy Prentice and Joe, the two up here and I can't even describe how lucky I am to have a daughter who lives next door to me and so we are like in the old country 'familia.' That is certainly what I've come to consider you. I'm wondering where'd you get all the dirt on me? This really surprised me. The only part that isn't true, I didn't stay at Schwab's Drug Store waiting to be discovered but I did use to go there and I do remember every once in a while I's see a movie and I think he sat next to me when I was having a coke at Schwab's and he needed a hair cut then and different movie stars. Anthony Quinn about knocked me over with his all of his body guards looking very handsome and very tough. So, it was kind of fun to go there but the movies didn't discover me. One of the luckiest things I ever did was the day I met Bill Prentice. Some of you knew him and some of you remembered him and it was a sad day when we lost him and yes, he did call me Marge and it was always 'Marge.' I do want to thank so many of you, I was thinking I'm glad somebody mentioned Alex Deccio who was such a great friend. In fact, my granddaughter was just sort of marveling that we do work in a bipartisan way. I expect we're not that unusual. I believe any state that gets anything done has to do it and I just said 'I focus on the issue and find somebody on the other side who cares about and we're Co-Chairs' and then we try and work it out and it doesn't become a partisan issue. That's not hard if you're here carrying out what, and this I know about each one of you, is that you all had good motives when you came here, and you still have them. And just think how lucky, how .lucky, you and I are that our constituents send us here to do the right thing and then we reach out to others. There are talents that I don't have that I'll reach out to you. You know, you're a numbers cruncher, I'm not. I'm great at policy so let's put our talents together. In fact, I've made that comment in some of our committees. It's amazing how we come together and borrow each other's wisdoms and it's really fun to be on a committee where you work that way. Isn't it? I mean I know that we've had that feeling of accomplishment. So, I don't want to get to grandiose here and I sure, I mean I'll follow my own instruction because I do remember saying 'shut up' and it wasn't only once, it's been more than that. But also, you know, this is what I know. Deep in your heart, I let people know Adam Kline can drive you crazy but he is very special. He was out there, out there registering voters in Mississippi at the risk of his life when the rest of us were here comfortably worried about what was going on. I know so many of these very personal things about you. You did this when the rest of us weren't paying attention. And it is true, I have a son who has autism but he is the light of our lives because he has come so far. And it's true we're able to help others with what they were able to help us with. So, really, life is all truly a cycle where we have abilities and life goes on and I never dreamed, 'god, am I eighty? And I think yeah and you know how lucky? I am just to be able to stand up here and be talking with you and being able to read. Just think about that. So, I want to thank everyone of you who was part of this, I don't know how you pulled it off Mary Ann with my not catching on and I'm so grateful that you got my family here. So, thank you all very, very much."

FORTY FOURTH DAY, FEBRUARY 22, 2011

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Feliz Cumpleanos – even though you don't speak Spanish. Great day for birthdays: George Washington; Margarita Prentice; and my daughter Shanie. Happy Birthday to you all."

MOTION

At 11:22 a.m., on motion of Senator Eide, the Senate adjourned until 10:00 a.m. Wednesday, February 23, 2011.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Ranker, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5230 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5230 and the substitute bill was placed on the second reading and read the second time.

MOTION

FORTY FIFTH DAY, FEBRUARY 23, 2011

2011 REGULAR SESSION

Senator Ranker moved that the following striking amendment by Senators Ranker and Morton be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. (1) The legislature finds that the Washington conservation corps, the veterans conservation corps, and other state and nonprofit service corps contribute significantly to the priorities of state government to protect natural resources, including Puget Sound, while providing meaningful work experience for the state's youth, veterans, unemployed, and under-employed workforces.

(2) The legislature further finds that the long-term health of the economy of Washington depends on the sustainable management of its natural resources and that the livelihoods and revenues produced by Washington's forests, agricultural lands, estuaries, waterways, and watersheds would be enhanced by targeted, streamlined, and prioritized investments in clean water and habitat restoration.

(3) The legislature further finds that it is important to stretch limited public resources to advance the state's natural resource management priorities. Transformation of natural resource management and service delivery, including the creation of strategic partnerships among agencies and nongovernmental partners, will increase the efficiency and effectiveness of the expenditure of federal, state, and local funds for clean water and habitat rehabilitation projects.

(4) The legislature further finds that there are efficiencies to be gained by streamlining how the various conservation corps are administered, managed, funded, and deployed by the natural resources agencies. There are further efficiencies to be gained through coordinating the conservation corps with other state service corps programs, recruitment activities, and through public-private partnerships.

(5) The legislature further finds that the state should seek to expand the conservation corps in all areas of the state, deploying the corps to work on projects that advance established priorities including, but not limited to, the cleanup and rehabilitation of the Puget Sound ecosystem, oil spill response and cleanup, salmon recovery, and the reduction of wildfire and forest health hazards statewide.

(6) The legislature further finds that individuals with developmental disabilities would benefit from experiencing a meaningful work experience, and learning the value of labor and of membership in a productive society. As such, the legislature urges state agencies that are participating in the Washington conservation corps program to consider for enrollment in the program individuals with developmental disabilities, as defined in RCW 71A.10.020.

(7)(a) Therefore, it is the intent of the legislature to maintain the conservation corps statewide, to collaborate with the veterans conservation corps, to establish the Puget Sound corps, to streamline how government administers and manages the state's conservation corps to more efficiently expend the state's resources toward priority outcomes, including the recovery of the Puget Sound ecosystem to health by 2020, to increase opportunities for meaningful work experience, and to authorize public-private partnerships as a key element of corps activities.

(b) It is also the intent of the legislature to integrate into the Puget Sound corps the therapeutic and reintegration intent of the veterans conservation corps for veterans involved in the Puget Sound corps.

Sec. 2. RCW 43.220.020 and 1999 c 280 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The Washington conservation corps is ((hereby)) created((, to be implemented by)). The ((following state departments: The employment security department, the)) department of ecology((, the department of fish and wildlife, the department of natural resources, and the state parks and recreation commission)) must administer the corps as a partnership with the departments of natural resources and fish and wildlife, the state parks and recreation commission, and when appropriate, other agencies and nonprofit organizations to advance the program goals outlined in section 5 of this act.

(2) The Puget Sound corps is created as a distinct program within the Washington conservation corps focused on the implementation of the specific program goals outlined in section 5 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. It is the intent of this act to centralize the administration of the Washington conservation corps, which was previously administered by the departments of ecology, natural resources, and fish and wildlife and the state parks and recreation commission, into the department of ecology. This act is prospective only, and any grant awards or conservation corps crew or individual placements finalized by other agencies or partners prior to the effective date of this section remain unaffected by this act.

Sec. 4. RCW 43.220.040 and 1999 c 280 s 3 and 1999 c 151 s 1301 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

~~((Unless the context clearly requires otherwise,))~~ The definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(1) "Public lands" means any lands or waters, or interests therein, owned or administered by any agency or instrumentality of the state, federal, or local government.

(2) "Corps" means the Washington conservation corps, including the Puget Sound corps.

(3) "Corps member" means an individual enrolled in the Washington conservation corps.

(4) "Corps member leaders" or "specialists" means members of the corps who serve in leadership or training capacities or who provide specialized services other than or in addition to the types of work and services that are performed by the corps members in general.

(5) "Crew supervisor" means temporary, project, or permanent state employees who supervise corps members and coordinate work project design and completion.

~~(6) ("Distressed area" has the meaning as defined in RCW 43.168.020.)~~ "Department" means the department of ecology.

(7) "Agency administrative costs" means indirect expenses such as personnel, payroll, contract administration, fiscal services, and other overhead costs.

(8) "Program support costs" include, but are not limited to, program planning, development of reports, job and career training, uniforms and equipment, and standard office space and utilities. Program support costs do not include direct scheduling and supervision of corps members.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 43.220 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The corps shall be organized and managed to complete projects with fee-for-service work crews that meet goals associated with the protection, promotion, enhancement, or rehabilitation of the following:

- (a) Public lands;
- (b) State natural resources;
- (c) Water quality;
- (d) Watershed health;
- (e) Fish and wildlife;
- (f) Habitat;
- (g) Outdoor recreation;
- (h) Forest health;
- (i) Wildfire risk reduction; and
- (j) State historic sites.

FORTY FIFTH DAY, FEBRUARY 23, 2011

(2) In addition to the project goals outlined in subsection (1) of this section, the Puget Sound corps shall seek to deploy corps members with the specific goal of participating in the recovery of the Puget Sound ecosystem. The resources of the Puget Sound corps must be prioritized, when practicable, to focus on the following when located within the Puget Sound basin:

(a) Projects identified in, or consistent with, the action agenda developed by the Puget Sound partnership in chapter 90.71 RCW;

(b) Projects located on public lands;

(c) Habitat enhancement and rehabilitation projects; and

(d) Education and stewardship projects.

(3) Both the corps and the Puget Sound corps shall give preference to projects that satisfy the goals identified in this section and that:

(a) Will provide long-term benefits to the public;

(b) Will provide productive training and work experiences to the corps members involved;

(c) Expands or integrates training programs or career development opportunities for corps members;

(d) May result in payments to the state for services performed; and

(e) Can be promptly completed.

Sec. 6. RCW 43.220.060 and 1999 c 280 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) ~~(Each state department identified in RCW 43.220.020))~~ The department shall have the following powers and duties (to carry out its functions relative to) as necessary to administer the Washington conservation corps:

(a) Recruiting and employing staff, corps members, corps member leaders, and specialists consistent with RCW 43.220.070;

(b) Serving as the corps' central application recipient for grants from federal service projects and service organizations;

(c) Executing agreements for furnishing the services of the corps to carry out conservation corps programs to any federal, state, or local public agency, any local organization as specified in this chapter (in concert) that operates consistent with the overall objectives of the conservation corps;

~~((e))~~ (d) Applying for and accepting grants or contributions of funds from ~~(any private source))~~ the federal government, other public sources, or private funding sources for conservation corps projects and, when possible, other projects specifically targeted at Puget Sound recovery that can be accomplished with fee-for-service labor from the Puget Sound corps. Application priority must be given to funding sources only available to state agencies;

~~((d))~~ (d) Determining a preference for those projects which will provide long-term benefits to the public, will provide productive training and work experiences to the members involved, will be labor-intensive, may result in payments to the state for services performed, and can be promptly completed; and

(e) Entering into agreements with community colleges within the state's community and technical college system and other educational institutions or independent nonprofit agencies to provide special education in basic skills, including reading, writing, and mathematics for those conservation corps members who may benefit by participation in such classes. Classes shall be scheduled after corps working hours. Participation by members is not mandatory but shall be strongly encouraged. The participation shall be a primary factor in determining whether the opportunity for corps membership beyond one year shall be offered. Instruction related to the specific role of the department in resource conservation shall also be offered, either in a classroom setting or as is otherwise appropriate)) (e) Establishing consistent work standards and placement and evaluation procedures of corps programs; and

(f) Selecting, reviewing, approving, and evaluating the success of corps projects.

(2) The department may partner with any other state agencies, local institutions, nonprofit organizations, or nonprofit service corps organizations in the administration of the corps. However, when partnering with the Washington department of veterans affairs, participation criteria and other administrative decisions affecting participants in the veterans conservation corps created under chapter 43.60A RCW are to be determined by the Washington department of veterans affairs. Other state agencies may maintain a coordinator for the purposes of partnering with the department and the corps.

(3) If deemed practicable, the department shall work with the state board for community and technical colleges created in RCW 28B.50.050 to align the conservation corps program with optional career pathways for participants that may provide instruction in basic skills in addition to the appropriate technical training.

(4) The assignment of corps members shall not result in the displacement of currently employed workers, including partial displacement such as reduction in hours of nonovertime work, wages, or other employment benefits. ~~((Supervising))~~ Agencies that participate in the program may not terminate, lay-off, or reduce the working hours of any employee for the purpose of using a corps member with available funds. In circumstances where substantial efficiencies or a public purpose may result, ~~((supervising))~~ participating agencies may use corps members to carry out essential agency work or contractual functions without displacing current employees.

~~((3))~~ (5) Facilities, supplies, motor vehicles, instruments, and tools of ~~((the supervising agency))~~ participating agencies shall be made available for use by the conservation corps to the extent that such use does not conflict with the normal duties of the agency. The agency may purchase, rent, or otherwise acquire other necessary tools, facilities, supplies, and instruments.

Sec. 7. RCW 43.220.070 and 1999 c 280 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

(1)(a) Except as otherwise provided in this section, conservation corps members (shall) must be unemployed or underemployed residents of the state between eighteen and twenty-five years of age at the time of enrollment who are citizens or lawful permanent residents of the United States.

(b) The age requirements may be waived for corps leaders (and), veterans, specialists with special leadership or occupational skills (such members shall be given special responsibility for providing leadership, character development, and sense of community responsibility to the corps members, groups, and work crews to which they are assigned. The upper age requirement may be waived for residents who have), and participants with a sensory or mental handicap. (Special effort shall be made to recruit minority and disadvantaged youth who meet selection criteria of the conservation corps. Preference shall be given to youths residing in areas, both urban and rural, in which there exists substantial unemployment exceeding the state average unemployment rate.

~~(2) The legislature finds that people with developmental disabilities would benefit from experiencing a meaningful work experience, and learning the value of labor and of membership in a productive society.~~

~~The legislature urges state agencies that are participating in the Washington conservation corps program to consider for enrollment in the program people who have developmental disabilities, as defined in RCW 71A.10.020.~~

~~If an agency chooses to enroll people with developmental disabilities in its Washington conservation corps program, the agency may apply to the United States department of labor, employment standards administration for a special subminimum wage certificate in order to be allowed to pay enrollees with developmental disabilities according to their individual levels of~~ ~~productivity))~~

~~(2) The recruitment of conservation corps members is the primary responsibility of the department. However, to the degree practicable, recruitment activities must be coordinated with the following entities:~~

- ~~(a) The department of natural resources;~~
- ~~(b) The department of fish and wildlife;~~
- ~~(c) The state parks and recreation commission;~~
- ~~(d) The Washington department of veterans affairs;~~
- ~~(e) The employment security department;~~
- ~~(f) Community and technical colleges; and~~
- ~~(g) Any other interested postsecondary educational institutions.~~

~~(3) Recruitment efforts must be targeted to, but not limited to, residents of the state who meet the participation eligibility requirements provided in this section and are either:~~

- ~~(a) A student enrolled at a community or technical college, private career college, or a four-year college or university;~~
- ~~(b) A minority or disadvantaged youth residing in an urban or rural area of the state; or~~
- ~~(c) Military veterans.~~

~~((3)) (4) Corps members shall not be considered state employees. Other provisions of law relating to civil service, hours of work, rate of compensation, sick leave, unemployment compensation, state retirement plans, and vacation leave do not apply to the Washington conservation corps except for the crew supervisors, who shall be project employees, and the administrative and supervisory personnel.~~

~~((4) Enrollment shall be for a period of six months which may be extended for additional six-month periods by mutual agreement of the corps and the corps member, not to exceed two years. Corps members shall be reimbursed at the minimum wage rate established by state or federal law, whichever is higher, which may be increased by up to five percent for each additional six-month period worked: PROVIDED, That if agencies elect to run a residential program, the appropriate costs for room and board shall be deducted from the corps member's paycheck as provided in chapter 43.220 RCW.~~

~~(5)) (5) Except as otherwise provided in this section, participation as a corps member is for an initial period of three months. The enrollment period may be extended for additional three-month periods by mutual agreement of the department and the corps member, not to exceed two years.~~

~~(6)(a) Corps members are to be available at all times for emergency response services coordinated through the department ((of community, trade, and economic development)) or other public agency. Duties may include sandbagging and flood cleanup, oil spill response, wildfire suppression, search and rescue, and other functions in response to emergencies.~~

~~(b) Corps members may be assigned to longer-term specialized crews not subject to the temporal limitations of service otherwise imposed by this section when longer-term commitments satisfy the specialized needs of the department, an agency partner, or other service contractee.~~

Sec. 8. RCW 43.220.170 and 1983 1st ex.s. c 40 s 17 are each amended to read as follows:

The services of corps members (~~placed with agencies listed in RCW 43.220.020~~) are exempt from unemployment compensation coverage under RCW 50.44.040(~~((5))~~) (4) and the enrollees shall be so advised by the department.

Sec. 9. RCW 43.220.231 and 1999 c 280 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) An amount not to exceed five percent of the funds available for the Washington conservation corps may be expended on agency administrative costs. (~~(Agency administrative costs are indirect expenses such as personnel, payroll, contract administration, fiscal services, and other overhead costs.))~~

(2) An amount not to exceed twenty percent of the funds available for the Washington conservation corps may be expended for costs included in subsection (1) of this section and program support costs. (~~(Program support costs include, but are not limited to, program planning, development of reports, job and career training, uniforms and equipment, and standard office space and utilities. Program support costs do not include direct scheduling and supervision of corps members.))~~

(3) A minimum of eighty percent of the funds available for the Washington conservation corps shall be expended for corps member salaries and benefits and for direct supervision of corps members.

(4) Consistent with any fund source requirements, any state agency using federal funds to sponsor fee-for-service Washington conservation corps crews must contract with the Washington department of veterans affairs for at least five percent of the federal funding to sponsor veteran conservation corps crews operating under RCW 43.60A.150. This requirement applies statewide.

Sec. 10. RCW 43.220.250 and 1985 c 230 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

A nonprofit corporation which contracts with (~~(an agency listed in RCW 43.220.020))~~ the department to provide a specific service, appropriate for the administration of this chapter which the (~~(agency))~~ department cannot otherwise provide, may be reimbursed at the discretion of the (~~(agency))~~ department for the reasonable costs the (~~(agency))~~ department would absorb for providing those services.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. A new section is added to chapter 43.220 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The director of the department of ecology and the commissioner of public lands shall jointly host an annual meeting with other corps program participants to serve as a forum for the partner agencies to provide guidance and feedback concerning the management and function of the corps.

(2) At a minimum, representatives of the following must be invited to participate at the annual meeting: The department of fish and wildlife; the state parks and recreation commission; the Puget Sound partnership; the department of veterans affairs; the employment security department; the Washington commission for national and community service; conservation districts; the state conservation commission; the salmon recovery funding board; the recreation and conservation office; the department of commerce; the department of health; or any similar successor organizations and any appropriate nonprofit organizations, including those engaged in service corps projects.

(3) Annual meeting participants shall, at a minimum:

(a) Review the conservation corps projects completed in the previous year, including an analysis of successes and opportunities for improvement; and

(b) Establish a work plan for the coming year, including the setting of annual priorities or criteria consistent with this chapter to guide crew development and the development of plans to pursue funding from various sources to expand the conservation corps.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. A new section is added to chapter 43.30 RCW under the subchapter heading "Part 5 Powers and Duties--General" to read as follows:

The department shall cooperate, when appropriate, as a partner in the Washington conservation corps established in chapter 43.220 RCW.

Sec. 13. RCW 43.60A.152 and 2007 c 451 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((4))~~ The department shall collaborate with the (~~(state agencies))~~ department of ecology and the department of natural resources and any of its partnering agencies in implementing the Washington conservation corps, created in chapter 43.220 RCW, to maximize the utilization of both conservation corps programs.

FORTY FIFTH DAY, FEBRUARY 23, 2011

These agencies shall work together to identify stewardship and maintenance projects on ~~((agency-managed))~~ public lands that are suitable for work by veterans conservation corps enrollees. The department may expend funds appropriated to the veterans conservation corps program to defray the costs of education, training, and certification associated with the enrollees participating in such projects.

((2) By September 30, 2007, the department, in conjunction with the state agencies identified in subsection (1) of this section, shall provide to the office of financial management and to the appropriate committees of the senate and house of representatives a report that:

(a) Identifies projects on state agency-managed lands that are currently planned for veterans conservation corps enrollee participation;

(b) Identifies additional projects on state agency-managed lands that are suitable for veterans conservation corps enrollee participation and for which funding is currently in place for such participation; and

(c) Identifies additional projects on state agency-managed lands for which project implementation has been funded or is included in the agency's multiennial stewardship plans, and that are suitable for veterans conservation corps enrollee participation in the event that additional funding is provided to the department for associated training, education, and certification.))

Sec. 14. RCW 79A.05.545 and 1999 c 249 s 701 are each amended to read as follows:

The commission shall cooperate ~~((in implementing and operating the)),~~ when appropriate, as a partner in the Washington conservation corps ~~((as required by))~~ established in chapter 43.220 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. A new section is added to chapter 77.12 RCW to read as follows:

The department shall cooperate, when appropriate, as a partner in the Washington conservation corps established in chapter 43.220 RCW.

Sec. 16. RCW 77.85.130 and 2007 c 341 s 36 and 2007 c 257 s 1 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) The salmon recovery funding board shall develop procedures and criteria for allocation of funds for salmon habitat projects and salmon recovery activities on a statewide basis to address the highest priorities for salmon habitat protection and restoration. To the extent practicable the board shall adopt an annual allocation of funding. The allocation should address both protection and restoration of habitat, and should recognize the varying needs in each area of the state on an equitable basis. The board has the discretion to partially fund, or to fund in phases, salmon habitat projects. The board may annually establish a maximum amount of funding available for any individual project, subject to available funding. No projects required solely as a mitigation or a condition of permitting are eligible for funding.

(2)(a) In evaluating, ranking, and awarding funds for projects and activities the board shall give preference to projects that:

(i) Are based upon the limiting factors analysis identified under RCW 77.85.060;

(ii) Provide a greater benefit to salmon recovery based upon the stock status information contained in the department of fish and wildlife salmonid stock inventory (SASSI), the salmon and steelhead habitat inventory and assessment project (SSHAP), and any comparable science-based assessment when available;

(iii) Will benefit listed species and other fish species;

(iv) Will preserve high quality salmonid habitat;

(v) Are included in a regional or watershed-based salmon recovery plan that accords the project, action, or area a high priority for funding;

2011 REGULAR SESSION

(vi) Are, except as provided in RCW 77.85.240, sponsored by an entity that is a Puget Sound partner, as defined in RCW 90.71.010; and

(vii) Are projects referenced in the action agenda developed by the Puget Sound partnership under RCW 90.71.310.

(b) In evaluating, ranking, and awarding funds for projects and activities the board shall also give consideration to projects that:

(i) Are the most cost-effective;

(ii) Have the greatest matched or in-kind funding;

(iii) Will be implemented by a sponsor with a successful record of project implementation;

(iv) Involve members of the Washington conservation corps established in chapter 43.220 RCW or the veterans conservation corps established in RCW 43.60A.150; and

(v) Are part of a regionwide list developed by lead entities.

(3) The board may reject, but not add, projects from a habitat project list submitted by a lead entity for funding.

(4) The board shall establish criteria for determining when block grants may be made to a lead entity. The board may provide block grants to the lead entity to implement habitat project lists developed under RCW 77.85.050, subject to available funding. The board shall determine an equitable minimum amount of project funds for each recovery region, and shall distribute the remainder of funds on a competitive basis. The board may also provide block grants to the lead entity or regional recovery organization to assist in carrying out functions described under this chapter. Block grants must be expended consistent with the priorities established for the board in subsection (2) of this section. Lead entities or regional recovery organizations receiving block grants under this subsection shall provide an annual report to the board summarizing how funds were expended for activities consistent with this chapter, including the types of projects funded, project outcomes, monitoring results, and administrative costs.

(5) The board may waive or modify portions of the allocation procedures and standards adopted under this section in the award of grants or loans to conform to legislative appropriations directing an alternative award procedure or when the funds to be awarded are from federal or other sources requiring other allocation procedures or standards as a condition of the board's receipt of the funds. The board shall develop an integrated process to manage the allocation of funding from federal and state sources to minimize delays in the award of funding while recognizing the differences in state and legislative appropriation timing.

(6) The board may award a grant or loan for a salmon recovery project on private or public land when the landowner has a legal obligation under local, state, or federal law to perform the project, when expedited action provides a clear benefit to salmon recovery, and there will be harm to salmon recovery if the project is delayed. For purposes of this subsection, a legal obligation does not include a project required solely as a mitigation or a condition of permitting.

(7) Property acquired or improved by a project sponsor may be conveyed to a federal agency if: (a) The agency agrees to comply with all terms of the grant or loan to which the project sponsor was obligated; or (b) the board approves: (i) Changes in the terms of the grant or loan, and the revision or removal of binding deed of right instruments; and (ii) a memorandum of understanding or similar document ensuring that the facility or property will retain, to the extent feasible, adequate habitat protections; and (c) the appropriate legislative authority of the county or city with jurisdiction over the project area approves the transfer and provides notification to the board.

(8) Any project sponsor receiving funding from the salmon recovery funding board that is not subject to disclosure under chapter 42.56 RCW must, as a mandatory contractual prerequisite to receiving the funding, agree to disclose any information in regards to the expenditure of that funding as if the project sponsor was subject to the requirements of chapter 42.56 RCW.

(9) After January 1, 2010, any project designed to address the restoration of Puget Sound may be funded under this chapter only if the project is not in conflict with the action agenda developed by the Puget Sound partnership under RCW 90.71.310.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. The following acts or parts of acts are each repealed:

MOTION

FORTY FIFTH DAY, FEBRUARY 23, 2011

On motion of Senator Fain, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 5075 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Senators Fain, Hobbs and Schoesler spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Litzow: "Are pages allowed to give speeches on the Senate floor?"

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Honeyford: "Well thank you Mr. President. I noticed that the Senator from the Forty-Seventh District did not seek permission from the President to read. Therefore, I was wondering if you would strike all of his comments and put this bill down for future consideration?"

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the final passage of Senate Bill No. 5075.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 5075 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 46; Nays, 2; Absent, 0; Excused, 1.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator King: "Well, I was wondering whether or not, and I always thought, the Senate had an age limit on who could serve in this committee or this body? I have to tell you the Senator's whose bill we just passed, had an occasion to have an early morning meeting with him and I also have the privilege of living with my daughter and son-in-law who just had a new baby boy and he's about fourteen or fifteen months old. They have just started to feed him. I think it's called rice cereal. If you've ever watched a baby first time they try to do that, you know it's all over their face and you have this spoon you know and I would have to tell you. I had this early morning meeting with the good Senator from the Forty-Seventh and he had this spot on his chin and it kind of looked like oatmeal and I tried the hardest that I could to find this spoon that had that special coating on it, you know, but anyway we got it taken care of. I'm very privileged to serve with the good Senator from the Forty-Seventh and it's good to have you here. Thank you Mr. President."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Ranker: "Article II, Section 7 of the State Constitution states that 'no person shall', I'm going to be referring to some notes here Mr. President if that's ok. Thank you. It states that 'no person shall be eligible to the legislature who is not a citizen of the United States or qualified to vote in the district for which he is chosen.' Article VI, Section 1, of our State Constitution very important document, states that 'all persons must be of eighteen years of age or to be entitled to vote.' Those two sections very clearly state that you must be eighteen years of age to serve in this Washington State Senate. Therefore I move for expulsion of Senator Fain from the Senate unless he can prove that he is at least eighteen years of age."

2011 REGULAR SESSION

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Fain: "I don't have my wallet in these pants! I will make sure to get you a copy of my birth certificate. It's in Hawaii. Mr. President, I rise in great appreciation for the good-humored roasting by my fellow colleagues with the exception from the good Senator from the Forty-Fourth. The good Republican, I mean Democrat, I mean Road Kill Senator from the Forty-Fourth District. This has been a tremendous seven weeks, I guess it's been, experiencing the Senate and each of new colleagues for the first time. It's been very rewarding and as is customary I believe we have the opportunity to share some gifts from the Forty-Seventh District with each of my colleagues so I believe that the Pages are passing that out and I will recite what is inside these wonderful things. I believe there are folks that are from Eastern Washington particularly that will appreciate the salted cured meats from the Forty-Seventh Districts, O Boy Oberto headquarters. As well as some chocolates from Gosanko Chocolates in Auburn. Also, one of the truly remarkable destinations in the Forty-Seventh District, Emerald Down Racetrack. You'll have a gate pass that you can use when we get into the racing season and this is an incredible place. I live just a few blocks away. Employees directly and indirectly over twenty-five hundred folks in the South County area and is really an economic engine. The whole horseracing industry is a real economic engine for the State of Washington. Finally, to the good Senator from the Thirty-Third's point about my piece of legislation not having anything to do with truly one of the most important issues facing South King County at this time which is this flood protection in the Green River Valley, I would like to have a special gift for each of the members who serve on the Senate Ways & Means Committee. Pages will be distributing a miniature bag of sand, this miniature bag of sand is a subtle but gentle reminder that, Senator from the Thirty-Third District, in my flood protection bill is currently before your committee in dire need of execution and bringing it to the floor. Thank you so much Mr. President."

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5174, by Senators Chase, McAuliffe, Prentice, Nelson, Kohl-Welles, Shin and Kline

Encouraging instruction in the history of civil rights.

The measure was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Chase, the rules were suspended, Senate Bill No. 5174 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Senators Chase, McAuliffe and Conway spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

Senator Schoesler spoke on final passage of the bill.

FORTY FIFTH DAY, FEBRUARY 23, 2011

2011 REGULAR SESSION

MOTION

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

On motion of Senator Benton, Senator Roach was excused.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the final passage of Senate Bill No. 5174.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 5174 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 47; Nays, 0; Absent, 0; Excused, 2.

Voting yea: Senators Baumgartner, Baxter, Becker, Benton, Brown, Carrell, Chase, Conway, Delvin, Eide, Ericksen, Fain, Fraser, Hargrove, Harper, Hatfield, Haugen, Hewitt, Hill, Hobbs, Holmquist Newbry, Honeyford, Kastama, Keiser, Kilmer, King, Kline, Kohl-Welles, Litzow, McAuliffe, Morton, Murray, Nelson, Parlette, Pflug, Prentice, Pridemore, Ranker, Regala, Rockefeller, Schoesler, Shin, Stevens, Swecker, Tom, White and Zarelli

Excused: Senators Roach and Sheldon

SENATE BILL NO. 5174, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator King: "Well, I just want it on the record that I had the pleasure of working with the good Senator whose bill we just passed when she was in the House. I have seen the tenacity and the drive when she goes after a bill that she either wants to kill or that she likes. I want to tell you, I was scared to vote no. Thank you Mr. President."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Kastama: "It's been a very distinct pleasure to have Senator Chase to be the Vice Chair of my committee. She has made a tremendous impact. We consider her the more scholarly one of all the members of our committee. She reads almost all the materials and she can cite chapter and verse of anything and go ahead and use that as evidence. We also know on the committee she's not afraid to let you know what she thinks. She's very up front; she'll tell you exactly what she thinks in no uncertain terms. The big debate on the committee right now is. Are we influencing her behavior more or is she influencing our behavior? I actually think we're influencing her behavior a tremendous amount but you know having said that on that last bill if you wouldn't have voted for that you would have been 'an idiot' and a 'pin head.' Also, I got to tell you, Senator Baumgartner, I know you're on that committee and got a degree from Harvard. I got a degree from Berkley. You know we get one of your degrees every time we eat caramel corn. You get what I mean? Senator Holmquist Newbry, Article V, Section III, subsection VIII of the Bretton Woods Conference, 1935, states that each member shall vote two-hundred fifty times. How fair can that be? Anyway, and Senator Shin don't get me going on Chapter 11 with the Free Trade agreement, anyway. Mr. President, these are kind of inside jokes but I would like to say it's been a tremendous pleasure to have her on this...Senator Fain, are you looking at me? You're looking at me? Ok, I'll tell you, you look at me again I'm going to Article I, Section 33 right here. Anyway, Mr. President, it has been a tremendous honor to have her on the committee and I think we're having a positive influence. Thank you."

Senator Chase: "Thank you very much Mr. President. I want to tell my new colleagues how much I love being in the Senate. You cannot imagine what a joy it is to be over here. I have such great respect for this body that it is truly an honor to serve with you. I want you to know too that it is an honor to have passed this bill today in the presence of my grandson. Chase would you stand up please? That's my grandson. You know my life has been involved in civil rights. Since I was very, very young and I was young in 1961 when I watched the Freedom Riders which Senator Kline was a part of. I marched in many of the marches. I did miss one that I wish I had been. Martin Luther King came to Seattle in November of 1961. He was not welcomed with open arms and so it is indeed a pleasure to know that now we have King County named after him and that this body has passed a resolution encouraging civil rights legislation. I think that speaks well for our state. I'm also pleased to tell you some other good news about my district. We hear a lot about economic development and I do love the Economic Development Committee and serving under Senator Kastama. He's just a great chair. We talk a lot about innovation and talk about how do we train our youngsters or the next generation for the jobs of the future? Well, Shoreline Community College is a prime example of really good news for you. We have an automotive program out there, I'm not into cars, I'll tell you that, but if you're into cars it's eye candy because just as we have all the new cars in our society somebody has to be trained to fix them, you know, and to service them. We at Shoreline Community College put between six and ten thousand students through our automotive training program every year and those kids come out starting sixty thousand dollars a year. Within three years they can be making one-hundred twenty thousand. These are certificate programs and community college programs. We also have a clean technology program. We have a partnership between Washington State University, the Shoreline Chamber of Commerce, the City of Shoreline and Shoreline Community College to try to help small businesses learn about the clean economy. You will be getting a booklet on Sunrise in the State of Washington. We also have the longest running solar festival in the Puget Sound corridor so I know you all like toys so I'm giving you a little tiny electric car. Which actually works. It really does work and a key chain from the automotive program and finally, we talk a lot about small business, and one of the nice things about having small business is many of them are home based and we have one business that help put together your good news packet and I might add this good news packet has cellophane bags, not plastic bags. That's very important to be consistent on these things, and it was made by a little home based business called Flights of Fancy. So, I hope you will enjoy it. The final thing there's a little box of candy in there. We have a candy cluster developing in North King County, South Snohomish County called Nanna's Candy. They source all their candy from local vendors. So, with that I thank you all very much for making me feel so welcome and so happy in this body. Thank you very much."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Delvin: "Thank you Mr. President. I know we received two gifts today and I really do appreciate the two new members and I know the times are tough, you know, but I was looking through that package of recycled beef and I noticed they all have exceeded their expiration dates. So, I guess you got a good deal in this tough economy. I appreciate that and a newspaper. That is a great gift Mr. President. A newspaper is a great gift. Most of us can't read but it's a great gift. Thank you."

MOTION

At 12:07 p.m., on motion of Senator Eide, the Senate adjourned until 10:00 a.m. Thursday, February 24, 2011.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hobbs: "I'm sorry Madam President, I'm just stunned by Senator Baumgartner's beauty, I must admit, while you were standing there giving your speech, I couldn't help thinking, you must spend hours on that Stair Master. It's ok. I'm a Democrat. It's ok. The only thing that would make you perfect is that if you had Litzow's hair. Anyway, I'm proud to serve with you and I'm glad you're bringing sexy back to the Senate and I hope you can give me some of your tips. Thanks."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Kastama: "Thank you. You know Senator Baumgartner is the ranking member on my committee and when I learned that he, in fact, would have that status I asked my staff for all the information on him and I read his biography. All I kept thinking was, after reading the biography, who is this guy? I mean he's done about everything. So, today I want definitively say who he really is and I've been able to contain it in this paper bag here, ok. Here are the contents of really who this guy is but some background first. A little bit about him. He is a extremely mild mannered individual. He grew up in Eastern Washington, farm country. He went to Washington State University and he majored in Economics and minored in Mathematics and French. He went to Harvard where he received a degree in Public Policy. He served his country. He worked for the State Department in Afghanistan and Iraq, regarding economic development by the way, and he traveled around the world to approximately seventy different countries. It was in Afghanistan that he actually met his wife and it was wonderful. I met her the other day. I think you all know that she is expecting their first child. She happened to be a reporter for a British publication. It's all very important information. He went on to become a consultant for Saudi Arabia. In fact he missed a day in our committee because he was giving some counter-insurgency lecture down in Texas and I even saw a picture of him with General Petraeus. So, you have to ask yourself. How does this guy do all of this? Well. I think I've solved it, I think I really know who this guy is. Consider the evidence. First of all, he grew up in Eastern Washington around farms, ok? Alright? Second of all, he fell in love with someone in the press. Is this helping out at all. Third he's smart. Fourth, he defends his country and he flies around the world. Ok? and he's a mild mannered person. Now, finally he meets with world leaders. So, you guys know who he is? If not I went online and I found a metrological study of when he was born and at the time he was born there was excessive metrological activity in Pullman, Eastern Washington, where he was born. So, I think it's pretty obvious. The guy's Superman. I mean if you look right here at the face of Superman, I mean it's almost a spitting image. There's also a degree of symbolism. Think about that. Superman. Senate. I think it was meant to be. Anyway, I want to thank you for being here, I feel tremendously humbled in my committee to have your presence there. Thanks for joining the Senate."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Keiser: "Just a question of whether or not these marble halls are also containing Kryptonite."

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

President Pro Tempore: "I believe we'll know soon enough."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Delvin: "Well, thank you Madam President. I have a different take on his career. I've had many friends who work for the State Department in foreign countries so really there's another federal agency, you know I think that's who he's been working for. So, whatever gift he gives you have it checked for surveillance, bugs, cameras, whatever. You're going to be in your offices, listening devices. I think that's his true, I came up with a name for him now, I call him 'Spook' because I think that's his real, he won't tell you that but you listen to him, I mean he wanted to give a briefing last night, Madam President, on Middle East policy. No one apparently was going to attend so he canceled it but really, so, welcome to the Washington State Senate. Glad to have you here. Nice young fresh voice and I'll have, every time you stand up in caucus, I'll have Alvin and the Chipmunks singing, 'Too Sexy for your Love.' Thank you.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Baumgartner: "Well, I just want to express my heartfelt gratitude and appreciation for being in this august body with the other members. I just think it's a true privilege and I really have a sense of appreciation for the hard work that you do for our state. I've had the opportunity to be face, be in situations that faced tough challenges in several different occurrences around the world and I have no doubt the challenge we are going to face here, the breadth of that challenge, the depth of that challenge is going to be equal of anything I've seen before. I also know that when I've seen America at its best it's when America works together. I truly believe that so in that spirit of working together I have a couple of tokens of my appreciation for you. The first is a bottle of wine from Spokane zone, Latah Creek Winery and you'll note that this will be delivered to your office. You'll note that the bottle of wine is called Spokane Blush and you will witness me doing the Spokane blush on many occasions not just today. On the bottle of wine there's a quote by the great G. K. Chesterton which says 'we're all in the same boat in the stormy sea and we owe each a terrible loyalty' and it follows with 'with the appreciation with your service to our state, sincerely, Senator Michael Baumgartner, 6th District Spokane. So that's the sense of carrot of appreciation, but like federal stimulus money, the token of appreciation comes with strings attached, so, I'm also giving you to be delivered a lump of coal. The reason for that many of you may know my beautiful wife Eleanor is pregnant and we are experiencing our first baby in June and I'd ask that you'd not drink the wine until the end of session and if we don't get out of here in time for me to see my baby being born I'm taking the wine back and you can keep the coal. So, with that said, thank you very much it really is an honor to be here."

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

President Pro Tempore: "The President was not aware that there was a shortage of sexy men."

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President Pro Tempore welcomed and introduced Lacey Harper, wife of Senator Harper who was seated in the gallery.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Harper: "I just wanted to thank everyone as my previous colleagues have. It is a truly honor and privilege to be here. I was here for the first time on my eighth birthday and I'm thrilled so many of you stuck around to serve with me. Like several of my colleagues, I'm going to highlight a couple of small businesses in the Thirty-Eighth District as part of that token that I will be offering all of you. It will be delivered to your offices. We have two great breweries in the Thirty-Eighth District. Lazy Boy and the Scuttlebutt Brewing. Lazy Boy is a fairly new business run by a husband and wife, the Loring. No employees at this time but they've really grown their distribution throughout the state. Scuttlebutt, on the other hand, employs twenty-one in my district and it's amazing to see it continue that that business supports, they keep about one-hundred forty acres of farm land in production through all the grains and products that they acquire. With their spent grains they feed over one-hundred twenty cattle in the state and so each of you will receive beers from these two great businesses to your offices and I just thank you again for having me today and thanks to my wife for being here to watch this.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Roach: “To the previous speaker over there since this is my twenty-first year, I might be the one that held back for you. But I will say I’m also the one on this side of the aisle that voted to seat you earlier this year so try not to point out the flaws over here, ok?”

MOTION

On motion of Senator Eide, the Senate advanced to the eighth order of business.

MOTION

Senator Kline moved adoption of the following resolution:

SENATE RESOLUTION

By Senator Kline

WHEREAS, Immigrants from China first came to America in the 1860s with a true American spirit of hope for a better life and access to opportunities for their children; and

WHEREAS, Chinese-Americans played a vital role in the history and development of Washington state and our country; and

WHEREAS, Chinese-Americans helped build Washington railroads, mining, and fishing industries, transportation networks, retail commerce, technology centers, educational and artistic institutions, and the government itself; and

WHEREAS, The number of people of Chinese descent in Washington grew from 234 in 1870 to more than 3,000 a decade later, and today there are more than 60,000 Chinese-Americans statewide; and

WHEREAS, The state and territorial legislatures across the country, including Washington, enacted discriminatory laws targeting Chinese immigrants in order to discourage further immigration from China and sought to severely limit the success of the Chinese laborers already here; and

WHEREAS, In 1853, the Washington Territorial Legislature passed a law that denied anyone of Chinese descent the right to vote and, in 1864, the Territorial Legislature passed a "police tax" on all Chinese immigrants over the age of eighteen; and

WHEREAS, In 1882, the United States Congress passed the Chinese Exclusion Act, which banned Chinese emigrants from entering America and called for the deportation of any who arrived after 1880; and

WHEREAS, Chinese immigrants were denied the opportunity to own land in Washington when the Washington Territorial Legislature passed the Alien Land Law in 1886, barring ownership of land by anyone "incapable of becoming citizens"; and

WHEREAS, Despite widespread discrimination, then Sheriff William Billings and a large force of citizens stood with courage to uphold order and protect Chinese citizens from a mob of nearly 100 men in Olympia in 1886; and

WHEREAS, In 1943, President Franklin D. Roosevelt signed the Magnuson Act, sponsored by Washington Senator Warren Magnuson, to repeal the Chinese exclusion laws; and

WHEREAS, In the 1950s and 1960s, more Chinese entered fields traditionally closed to them, such as medicine, engineering, corporate business, and even politics; and

WHEREAS, Chinese-American Wing Luke (1925-1965) was elected to the Seattle City Council in 1962, becoming the first Chinese-American on the U.S. mainland to hold such a post; and

WHEREAS, In 1974, Chinese American Ruby Chow (1920-2008) became the first Asian-American elected to the King County Council, which was an extension of her role as an influential female leader in Seattle's Chinese community; and

WHEREAS, Today, Washingtonians of Chinese descent continue to occupy leading roles in politics, business, and academia, including Gary Locke, the first Chinese-American governor in the United States and currently the U.S. Secretary of Commerce;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Senate honor Chinese- Americans for their vast and irreplaceable contributions to Washington state, despite enduring decades of systematic, pervasive, and sustained discrimination.

Senator Kline spoke in favor of adoption of the resolution.

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of Senate Resolution No. 8627.

SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5671, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Ericksen: “Well, thank you Madam President. Well, I’ll try to slow the speech down a little on the Senate floor this year but I have been informed that many of the members like to get out early in the afternoon to be able to exercise their senior discount at the buffet so, I thought I’d like to rush the process along a little bit to allow you to get there a little bit there earlier in the afternoon. I just want to say what an honor it is to represent the people in the Forty-Second Legislative District in Whatcom County here in this chamber. It’s a great thrill to be here and to look at the walls and know the history and to see the people sitting on this floor and the dedication they have to the people they represent and just to be part of it is very exciting. Madam Speaker, Madam President, man if I do that...Wow, we never even had a Madam Speaker either which is the funny part about it. Madam President, one of the great things about Whatcom County, it’s a phenomenal place, and the gifts I’ll talk about those in a second. But Whatcom County is defended from the south with the Chukanut Mountains and on the northern border we defend the rest of Washington State from Canada. As the Canadians come through we try to disarm them of their money at our malls before they get to the Burlington Outlet Mall, before they get to Tulalip Village and before they get to Bellevue Square. But Whatcom County it is the land of oil and aluminum. It’s the land of berries and dairies. It’s the land of timber and fish. We’re the only district in the entire nation that has an overseas property at Point Roberts, where we’re able to go through two international borders crossings to come down to Point Roberts. We’re unique in so many ways. We’re the land of the Nooksack Valley Pioneers, and we’re the land of the Lummy Nation Blackhawks. We’re a truly diverse region, made up of wonderful people. The gifts that I am passing out today, the first one that celebrates the Ski to Sea of Whatcom County. People talk about how beautiful their districts are but truly Whatcom County cannot be compared to any of the ones because its such a phenomenal place. The Mt. Baker ski area holds the world record for the most snow in a single ski season. Over ninety-five feet, one-thousand one-hundred forty inches of snow fell at Mt. Baker in 1999 leading clearly to a catastrophic global cooling. Mt. Baker has the highest average snow fall in any resort in the world at six hundred forty-seven inches per year. It’s an amazing place and being passed out to you today is a lift ticket for anybody who’d like to utilize it to come and see the Mt. Baker ski area first hand. The pictures included on that card goes with the lift ticket are taken by Grant Gunderson, world reknown ski photographer. The best in the world. Also resides in Whatcom County and the Mt. Baker ski area is actually run right now by high school classmates of mine, the Howett family. The other gift that we’re passing out today celebrates the sea portion of the Sea to Ski in Whatcom County. That’s a can of albacore tuna, caught off the Washington Coast but packed in Bellingham by Bornstein Sea Food. Bornstein Sea Food began in 1930 during the Depression, was taken over by Jay Bornstein. Now it’s been passed on to Collin Bornstein also a high school class mate of mine who served as CEO of this corporation. One of the largest packers of tuna on the West Coast but also the only company that packs only tuna caught off the Washington Coast. They do not import the tuna from any other place. Its dolphin safe and very high in Omega 3. It’s a great company but it really demonstrates the great diversity of Whatcom County and the Sea to Ski from Mt. Baker, to Bornstein Sea Food and all the places in between. So, from Whatcom County to the rest of Washington State and to the Senators here today thanks again for the opportunity to be here to pass this first piece of legislation and let you know how excited I am to serve with you here in the Washington State Senate.”

SENATE BILL NO. 5192, by Senators Nelson, Swecker and Chase

Concerning provisions for notifications and appeals timelines under the shoreline management act.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Nelson, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5192 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5192 and the substitute bill was placed on the second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator Nelson, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5192 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Senator Nelson spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

Senators Schoesler and Conway spoke on final passage of the bill.

MOTION

On motion of Senator White, Senator Regala was excused.

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5192.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5192 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 46; Nays, 2; Absent, 0; Excused, 1.

Voting yea: Senators Baumgartner, Baxter, Becker, Benton, Brown, Carrell, Chase, Conway, Delvin, Eide, Ericksen, Fain, Fraser, Hargrove, Harper, Hatfield, Haugen, Hewitt, Hill, Hobbs, Kastama, Keiser, Kilmer, King, Kline, Kohl-Welles, Litzow, McAuliffe, Morton, Murray, Nelson, Parlette, Pflug, Prentice, Pridemore, Ranker, Roach, Rockefeller, Schoesler, Sheldon, Shin, Stevens, Swecker, Tom, White and Zarelli

Voting nay: Senators Holmquist Newbry and Honeyford

Excused: Senator Regala

SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5192, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Nelson: “First of all it is an honor to be here on the Senate floor and like all of our districts we have wonderful small businesses in the Thirty-Fourth. One of those sits in the heart of Vashon Island where I live. It was Stewart Brothers Coffee and when we first moved there in 1994 as you drove down Vashon Highway you could smell the roastery and roasting certainly seems to be a part of the Senate. So, now, I have a present to you from Minglement, that took over that roasterie and hopefully you will be enjoying the Orca blend, the Wolf Town blend or the Vashon blend this weekend. They have wonderful coffee and I do want to mention to all of you that I was very nervous standing today. I’ve watched the proceedings this week and even though I have silver hair, Senators Ranker, Hobbs and Hatfield have always focused on the good representative from the Forty-First and I ask them why and they said, ‘my hair moves’. I also have to say to the good representative from the Forty-Seventh who was born in Hawaii. I grew up there. But there's no attention to that because I have a birth certificate from Minnesota. Finally, I've listened to the music of the Chipmunks yesterday from the good Senator from the Sixth and I don't know hear my music on this floor today, it's called the Dixie Chicks 'Not Ready to Back Down.' Thank you so much, I really enjoy being here."

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5505, by Senators Hill, Chase, Fain, Pridemore, Stevens, Nelson, Litzow, Swecker, Honeyford and Schoesler

Allowing the use of federal census data to determine the resident population of annexed territory.

The measure was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Hill, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5505 was not substituted for Senate Bill No. 5505 and the substitute bill was not adopted.

MOTION

Senator Hill moved that the following striking amendment by Senators Hill and Chase be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 35.13.260 and 1979 c 151 s 25 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Whenever any territory is annexed to a city or town, a certificate as hereinafter provided shall be submitted in triplicate to the office of financial management, hereinafter in this section referred to as "the office", within thirty days of the effective date of annexation specified in the relevant ordinance. After approval of the certificate, the office shall retain the original copy in its files, and transmit the second copy to the department of transportation and return the third copy to the city or town. Such certificates shall be in such form and contain such information as shall be prescribed by the office. A copy of the complete ordinance containing a legal description and a map showing specifically the boundaries of the annexed territory shall be attached to each of the three copies of the certificate. The certificate shall be signed by the mayor and attested by the city clerk. Upon request, the office shall furnish certification forms to any city or town.

(2)(a) The resident population of the annexed territory shall be determined by, or under the direction of, the mayor of the city or town. ~~((Such population determination shall consist of an actual enumeration of the population which shall be made in accordance with practices and policies, and subject to the approval of, the office.))~~

(b) If the annexing city or town has a population of ten thousand or less, the annexed territory consists entirely of one or more partial federal census blocks, or 2010 federal decennial census data has not been released within twelve months immediately prior to the date of annexation, the population determination shall consist of an actual enumeration of the population.

(c) In any circumstance, the city or town may choose to have the population determination of the entire annexed territory consist of an actual enumeration. However, if the city or town does not use actual enumeration for determining population, the annexed territory includes or consists of one or more complete federal census blocks, and 2010 federal decennial census data has been released within twelve months immediately prior to the date of annexation, the population determination shall consist of:

(i) Relevant 2010 federal decennial census data pertaining to the complete block or blocks, as such data has been updated by the most recent official population estimate released by the office pursuant to RCW 43.62.030;

(ii) An actual enumeration of any population located within the annexed territory but outside the complete federal census block or blocks; and

(iii) If the office, at least two weeks prior to the date of annexation, confirms the existence of a known census error within a complete federal census block and identifies a structure or complex listed in (c)(iii)(A) through (E) of this subsection (2) as a likely source of the error, an actual enumeration of one or more of the block's identified:

(A) Group quarters;

(B) Mobile home parks;

(C) Apartment buildings that are composed of at least fifty units and are certified for occupancy between January 1, 2010, and April 1, 2011;

(D) Missing subdivisions; and

(E) Closures of any of the categories in (c)(iii)(A) through (D) of this subsection.

(d) Whenever an actual enumeration is used, it shall be made in accordance with the practices and policies of, and subject to the approval of, the office.

(e) The city or town shall be responsible for the full cost of the population determination.

(3) The population shall be determined as of the effective date of annexation as specified in the relevant ordinance.

Until an annexation certificate is filed and approved as provided herein, such annexed territory shall not be considered by the office in determining the population of such city or town.

Upon approval of the annexation certificate, the office shall forward to each state official or department responsible for making allocations or payments to cities or towns, a revised certificate reflecting the increase in population due to such annexation. Upon and after the date of the commencement of the next quarterly period, the population determination indicated in such revised certificate shall be used as the basis for the allocation and payment of state funds to such city or town.

For the purposes of this section, each quarterly period shall commence on the first day of the months of January, April, July, and October. Whenever a revised certificate is forwarded by the office thirty days or less prior to the commencement of the next quarterly period, the population of the annexed territory shall not be considered until the commencement of the following quarterly period.

Sec. 2. RCW 35A.14.700 and 1979 ex.s. c 18 s 28 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Whenever any territory is annexed to a code city, a certificate as hereinafter provided shall be submitted in triplicate to the office of financial management within thirty days of the effective date of annexation specified in the relevant ordinance. After approval of the certificate, the office of financial management shall retain the original copy in its files, and transmit the second copy to the department of transportation and return the third copy to the code city. Such certificates shall be in such form and contain such information as shall be prescribed by the office of financial management. A copy of the complete ordinance containing a legal description and a map showing specifically the boundaries of the annexed territory shall be attached to each of the three copies of the certificate. The certificate shall be signed by the mayor and attested by the city clerk. Upon request, the office of financial management shall furnish certification forms to any code city.

FORTY SEVENTH DAY, FEBRUARY 25, 2011

(2)(a) The resident population of the annexed territory shall be determined by, or under the direction of, the mayor of the code city.

(b) If the annexing code city has a population of ten thousand or less, the annexed territory consists entirely of one or more partial federal census blocks, or 2010 federal decennial census data has not been released within twelve months immediately prior to the date of annexation, the population determination shall consist of an actual enumeration of the population.

(c) In any circumstance, the code city may choose to have the population determination of the entire annexed territory consist of an actual enumeration. However, if the code city does not use actual enumeration for determining population, the annexed territory includes or consists of one or more complete federal census blocks, and 2010 federal decennial census data has been released within twelve months immediately prior to the date of annexation, the population determination shall consist of:

(i) Relevant 2010 federal decennial census data pertaining to the complete block or blocks, as such data has been updated by the most recent official population estimate released by the office of financial management pursuant to RCW 43.62.030;

(ii) An actual enumeration of any population located within the annexed territory but outside the complete federal census block or blocks; and

(iii) If the office of financial management, at least two weeks prior to the date of annexation, confirms the existence of a known census error within a complete federal census block and identifies a structure or complex listed in (c)(iii)(A) through (E) of this subsection (2) as a likely source of the error, an actual enumeration of one or more of the block's identified:

(A) Group quarters;

(B) Mobile home parks;

(C) Apartment buildings that are composed of at least fifty units and are certified for occupancy between January 1, 2010, and April 1, 2011;

(D) Missing subdivisions; and

(E) Closures of any of the categories in (c)(iii)(A) through (D) of this subsection.

(d) Whenever an actual enumeration is used, it shall be made in accordance with the practices and policies of, and subject to the approval of, the office of financial management.

(e) The code city shall be responsible for the full cost of the population determination.

(3) Upon approval of the annexation certificate, the office of financial management shall forward to each state official or department responsible for making allocations or payments to cities or towns, a revised certificate reflecting the increase in population due to such annexation. Upon and after the date of the commencement of the next quarterly period, the population determination indicated in such revised certificate shall be used as the basis for the allocation and payment of state funds to such city or town.

For the purposes of this section, each quarterly period shall commence on the first day of the months of January, April, July, and October. Whenever a revised certificate is forwarded by the office of financial management thirty days or less prior to the commencement of the next quarterly period, the population of the annexed territory shall not be considered until the commencement of the following quarterly period.

((The resident population of the annexed territory shall be determined by, or under the direction of, the mayor of the code city. Such population determination shall consist of an actual enumeration of the population which shall be made in accordance with practices and policies, and subject to the approval of the office of financial management. The population shall be determined as of the effective date of annexation as specified in the relevant ordinance.))

(4) Until an annexation certificate is filed and approved as provided herein, such annexed territory shall not be considered by the office of financial management in determining the population of such code city."

Senator Hill spoke in favor of adoption of the striking amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Sheldon: "Would Senator Hill yield to a question? I was wondering on this amendment, in Section Two and that's Subsection Three of number C it reads. If I might Madam President? It reads if the Office of Financial Management 'at least two weeks prior to the day of annexation confirms the existence of known census air within a complete federal census block that identifies a structure or complex listed in sub c iii A through E of this subsection 2 as a likely source of the error and actually a numeration of one or more of blocks identified'. Could you give us a little more explanation of that sentence?"

Senator Hill: "I would refer that to the Ranking Member to answer that."

Senators Swecker, Eide and McAuliffe spoke on adoption of the striking amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Schoesler: "Would Senator Chase yield to a question? Senator, do you believe that by co-sponsoring this amendment with the new gentleman from the Forty-Fifth District that you may have ruined him for life in Kirby Wilber's eyes?"

Senator Chase: "I signed onto this striking amendment to let you know that it was a struggle because it was a thoroughly a worked bill and all of the stakeholders were at the table but I want to say that my new colleague wanted to count the ever increasing numbers of mobile homes parks in the assumption area, there's only one. You know, we're not issuing any additional permits but he also wanted to count all the wildlife in St. Edwards Park which is adjacent to the assumption area but not in it. So, it took a lot of work and I put my name on it this striking amendment to let you know that he brought him to heel and he's going to be a good member of this body."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hatfield: "Would Senator Hobbs yield to a question? So Senator I'm trying to figure out which one of the fab four brought this bill forward? Is it the guy with the hair?"

Senator Hobbs: "No, man. That's Litzow from the Forty-First District and check his fancy clothes. They call him Posh Spice."

Senator Hatfield: "Ok, that is nice hair. He must use some of those Jimmy Johnson endorsed products or something. So, is Hill the young one?"

Senator Hobbs: "No, Hill's way older than us. No, Fain's the young one from the Forty-Seventh District. They call him Baby Spice."

FORTY SEVENTH DAY, FEBRUARY 25, 2011

2011 REGULAR SESSION

Senator Hatfield: "So, Hill must be the cute one?"

Senator Hobbs: "No. Nope that is Baumgartner from the Sixth District. He was voted the sexiest man in Spokane, Iraq and Mozambique I believe. They call him Sexy Spice."

Senator Hatfield: "Ok, he is sexy?"

Senator Hobbs: "Yeah, he is. Not my type. Stair Master."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Fain: "I just wanted to remind the good Senator from the Forty-Fourth about my guests in the gallery."

Senator Hatfield spoke in favor of the adoption of the striking amendment.

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the striking amendment by Senators Hill and Chase to Senate Bill No. 5505.

The motion by Senator Hill carried and the striking amendment was adopted by voice vote.

MOTION

There being no objection, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 2 of the title, after "territory;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "and amending RCW 35.13.260 and 35A.14.700."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Hill, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5505 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Senators Hill and Pridemore spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5505.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5505 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 48; Nays, 0; Absent, 0; Excused, 1.

Voting yea: Senators Baumgartner, Baxter, Becker, Benton, Brown, Carrell, Chase, Conway, Delvin, Eide, Ericksen, Fain, Fraser, Hargrove, Harper, Hatfield, Haugen, Hewitt, Hill, Hobbs, Holmquist Newbry, Honeyford, Kastama, Keiser, Kilmer, King, Kline, Kohl-Welles, Litzow, McAuliffe, Morton, Murray, Nelson, Parlette, Pflug, Prentice, Pridemore, Ranker, Roach, Rockefeller, Schoesler, Sheldon, Shin, Stevens, Swecker, Tom, White and Zarelli

Excused: Senator Regala

ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 5505, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Eide: "I just wanted to make sure that the individuals in the gallery understand that we do roast our new Senators upon their first bill on the Senate floor. That is what you've experienced today."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Schoesler: "Would Senator Fain yield to a question? On this occasion, what tributes do you bring to the members of this body as the newest Spice Boy?"

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Fain: "Well I would of brought Old Spice had I known what my fellow Senators were cooking up. And speaking to my daughter this morning and she said to me, Hey dad, I get the hazing but don't you have more important things to do?" So, I tried to explain to her about the traditions and the deference that we must pay to our other Senators. I really am truly honored to serve in this body and alongside such learned and impressive people. I must say though as I look at my fellow freshman I'm suffering of feelings of inadequacy. You know I no longer possess the youthful exuberance of my friend from the Forty-Seventh and I'll never have the hair of our Senator from the Forty-First and it's clear that my appeal the opposite sex pales in comparison to our fabled and famous heart throb from the Sixth. Yes, true. So, as I deal with these feelings of inadequacy I only hope that I can bring eagerness to learn from you and work together with all of you to bring some change to this great state of ours. I look forward working with in the days and years to come.

As a token of my honor and appreciation I'd like to bestow on you something from my district from Woodinville. Woodinville is fairly famous for wine but I prefer the grain over the grape and I especially think on a Friday afternoon. Woodinville is home to the Red Hook Brewery and some may call it cliché but others call it Red Hook time. So, this will delivered to your offices later. There will be a gift card to let you take a free tour of the brewery coming and so please enjoy. Thank you so much for welcoming with such open arms to this great body."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Eide, the Senate advanced to the fifth order of business.

INTRODUCTION AND FIRST READING

SB 5859 by Senators Keiser and Pflug

AN ACT Relating to accountability for tax exempt hospitals; amending RCW 84.36.840 and 84.36.040; and creating a new section.

Referred to Committee on Health & Long-Term Care.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Eide, the measure listed on the Introduction and First Reading report was referred to the committee as designated.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Eide, the Senate advanced to the eighth order of business.

MOTION

Senator Brown moved adoption of the following resolution:

SENATE RESOLUTION

By Senators Brown, Ranker, Swecker, Fain, Litzow, Shin, Prentice, White, Hill, Murray, Becker, Hobbs, Fraser, Regala, McAuliffe, Kline, Chase, Kilmer, Sheldon, Rockefeller, and Eide

WHEREAS, This year marks the 160th anniversary of the founding of the first YMCA in the United States, a history marked with highlights such as inventing basketball, volleyball, racquetball, pioneering camping, and swimming lessons. YMCAs helped found the USO and Boy Scouts of America and volunteers provided support and services to millions of soldiers during the Civil War, World War I, and World War II; and

WHEREAS, Since 1884 in our great state of Washington when the YMCA of the Inland Northwest in Spokane was founded, YMCAs are at the heart of community life in neighborhoods and towns across the nation, where they provide quality programming with a focus on youth development, healthy living, and social responsibility; and

WHEREAS, The YMCAs of Washington are for people of all faiths, races, abilities, ages, and incomes and they serve more than 320,000 adults and 290,000 children in our communities through health programs, such as chronic disease prevention, swimming, sports, and fitness programs; through high quality early learning child care and after school care services, which assist in school success; and through camps for young people, which provide an opportunity to explore the outdoors, build self-esteem, and make lasting friendships and memories; and

WHEREAS, Since 1947 the YMCA Youth and Government program has worked with 35,000 high school students to learn about civic responsibility through its annual student legislature and mock courtroom trial programs; and

WHEREAS, The YMCAs of Washington provide more than 40 million dollars annually in funding to support our communities through scholarships, subsidies, partnerships, and sponsorships; and

WHEREAS, The YMCAs of Washington have more than 20,000 individuals who volunteer at their local Y's each year, who generously give 6.9 million dollars in time, expertise, and resources to assist in the efforts to strengthen our communities;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Senate recognize and celebrate the 160th Anniversary of the founding of YMCA in the United States, and honor Washington State YMCA members, volunteers, and staff that serve our communities; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Senate recognize the YMCAs of Washington State and honor their commitment to social responsibility and their commitment to the development and healthy living of our residents.

Senators Brown, King, Hobbs and Shin spoke in favor of adoption of the resolution.

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of Senate Resolution No. 8623.

The motion by Senator Brown carried and the resolution was adopted by voice vote.

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President Pro Tempore welcomed and introduced members of the YMCA who were seated in the gallery.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Fraser: "Thank you Madam President. I would like to take a couple moments to note historic significance of today. About ten years ago today, the Legislature and the Department of General Administration, Governor's Office, were in a big discussion about the scheduling for remodeling the Legislative Building. Major plans had been made to upgrade it in terms of heating and cooling, the air system, making the building better to accommodate computers, better handicap accessibility and so forth. There have been a couple of commissions that have worked on this. There was major planning involved in it and the big dispute was, how do we schedule this. Do we schedule a floor at a time? Do we schedule a wing at a time? How do we get people out of the building so this major construction can take place? Should we empty the building? Oh no, we can't do that. That would be too hard. How can you completely empty the legislative building? Well, at about half of a n hour from now, at about two minutes before eleven, the decision was made for us. The Nisqually Earthquake occurred. I believe it was 6.8 on the Richter scale. It was a day very similar to this., We were running bills. We were going into caucus to get briefed on bills. Kind of routine day in the Legislature. At that time, the time of the earthquake, the Democrats had the caucus room in the corner over there and the Republicans had the caucus room here and we were in caucus. So we were sitting around our respective tables just going through bills and all of a sudden we felt the earth move. At first, just speaking for the people in our room, we didn't think too much about it because this is earthquake country and little ones aren't that unusual but this one kept going. It kept going and it picked up in intensity and pretty soon it felt a lot riding a school bus down a railroad ties on a railroad track, bounce, bounce, bounce. It was very noisy. It was like grind, grind and I thought, 'Wow, the rocks under the earth are grinding together with this strong earthquake.' Pretty soon little pieces of ceiling started to fall down and then people dove under the tables and into the doorways and so forth. I ended up standing up against the wall so I kind of watched the whole thing wishing, hoping it would stop but it kept going and you wondered what was going to happen next. Anyway, it got very intense and bumpy and very noisy and then it suddenly stopped and we all filed out of the building and we stood around outside in the cold without car keys, without jackets, without the ability to come back in the building. Thank you to Security who was really looking out for us and we looked up toward the Dome and here was a huge probably a multi ton decorative block of granite that was poised to fall over the edge of the Legislative Building and, if it had, it would of come down straight through the Senate Chamber, down through the Governor's office, who knows what the loss of life would have been and I think if, so, anyway. Later we found out that all this grinding noise. It wasn't the rocks under the ground. It was the dome. The dome lifted up to zero gravity, and we learned after the fact that all the Dome was being held together with was gravity and so, as the top of the Dome lifted up to zero gravity the pillars kind of the drum area of the Dome started to tip. They weren't held there by anything other than the gravity of the Dome. So that's what all the noise was. I think if the earthquake had gone for say ten more seconds at its full intensity it would have been total tragedy. So, anyway, we were closed for what about a week and then Senate and House staff magically arranged for temporary quarters for the Legislature to meet. We met in temporary quarters for two years and what we thought was impossible when we were looking at remodeling became what we did thanks to the earthquake. So, it occurred that about I think about two minutes before eleven so I don't know if we'll be on the floor or in caucus then but it's certainly a day to remember."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hewitt: "Thank you Madam President. Well, this certainly brings back memories. I recall being in the caucus room over here, my first year here. Very close to early session, I thought, 'Gosh I really worked very hard to get elected and I'm going to die in this building.' There were lots of noises and some of the chandeliers were coming down but I can recall when we finally got straightened out a little bit and we headed out of the building and I'm thinking, 'Ok, I'm out of here' in a hurry and I'm headed down the stairs and I'm going lickity split and here's Senator Rasmussen holding on to the rail going one step at a time. I'm thinking, 'Oh no, darn it; and I had to grab a hold of her arm. 'Come on Senator; we're going to go a little faster than this.' But it was the first time that I ever encountered an earthquake especially that magnitude and being inside this building all I could think about was the hundreds of tons of marble and concrete around us and above us. I thought, 'My God it will be forever before they find us out of this building' but it was an exciting time. It wasn't much fun coming back and living in the Library for a year or so but it was exciting to be here. I think it's an experience that, if you were here you'll never forget. Thank you Madam President."

2011 REGULAR SESSION

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Parlette: "Speaking of that day of the earthquake I had a young page who came to our caucus and the Senate Republican Caucus allows guests to stay so I told her, 'Ashley, now you can stay as long as you want and if you get bored it's ok to leave.' So, anyway as soon as that earthquake happened she was the first person who talked to me. She said 'Senator Parlette, I'm going to leave now.' I think she was the first one out the door and what I learned is how well the pages were trained. They knew exactly what to do if there was an emergency, where to go and it made me think for us. We all went outside but we didn't go to one spot and it made me realize, wow, we as Senators should have some sort of a plan so we all go to one location so we can be counted. We have that now but we didn't have that then. Again, we will all remember that day ten years ago."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Honeyford: "Thank you Madam President. Well, I have two remembrances of that day. One was when the earthquake hit, rather than jump under a table, I jumped into a window in the caucus room over and all of a sudden the window started banging against my back side and I thought that was kind of stupid so I got into the doorway. I didn't realize four Senators my size and larger can fit into a doorway but we did. The other remembrance I had was that after we were out of the building some of us were down at the bus stop shelter there and Jim West was there, Sid Snyder was there and Brad Owen was there and all of a sudden I don't know if it was Sid or Brad well, we have to adjourn to someplace, time certain and maybe someplace. So, they talked for a minute and Brad banged his fist in his hand and said we were adjourned until whatever time and date it was but I thought it was very interesting that they thought of that at that time. Thank you Madam President."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Swecker: "Thank you Madam President. I just had a couple of remembrances from that one is that was my birthday so I will never forget when the earthquake happened. The other one was I was really convinced that would be the big news for the year for the State of Washington. You have to remember that that was the year of 9/11, which was an incredible development that none of us at that point and time even anticipated. So, makes you think. Makes you sober. Thank you.”

went to the state library in the Pritchard to finish the session we convened in Senate Hearing Room Four and I thought it was a wonderful experience. We cannot help but have collegial relationships with everybody there because we were so close together. We did that through the end of the session and then moved to the Pritchard building but I will never forget saving Senator Eide’s flowers.”

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

Senator Prentice: “Did the President hear correctly that today is the anniversary of your birthday?”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Swecker: “Madam President, yes, that is correct.”

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

Senator Prentice: “Happy Birthday. The President states that you were just a child.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Eide: “Well, I have to comment not only is it Senator Swecker’s birthday it’s also Lucas Brown’s birthday. He is nineteen and I can still remember being in the House of Representatives and Lucas was just a baby and had a few episodes where that we were here until four o’clock in the morning and Senator Brown had to go get Lucas before the day care closed. It’s amazing how fast time has gone, and most of you know today is also my thirty-fifth wedding anniversary. Our twenty-fifth I will never forget. I always told my husband he rocks my world and I told him to stop it now because of the earthquake on the twenty-fifth anniversary scared the beejeevies out of me but I can also remember Senator Hewitt saying that he was going to die, but quite frankly all of us were in the caucus room over here and I remember Julia Patterson, bless her heart yelled, ‘Under the desk! under the desk.’ so all the Senators got under the desk and I’m sitting under there and I’m thinking,, ‘You know I feel like I got a toothpick on top of my head’ because if that dome went down there was going to be no way that we were going to survive and I think only person that was not in this building at that time was Senator Regala. She was home ill, so she would have been the one running the Senate, running the probably the State of Washington because I think everyone of us were in the dome. I just wanted to say it also snowed on my wedding day so today it is snowing, so, it has happened before at the end of February but I wanted to tell my husband I love him very much. Unfortunately I think I have spent every single anniversary down here for the past over decade so, maybe that’s why it’s working. But anyway I just want to say I love him and he does still rock my world.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Kohl-Welles: “Thank you Madam President. Well, a couple of things too I understand that it is Senator Pflug’s birthday today as well. She’s not here right now. I congratulate her. But also, I do have to make a correction and I did mention this on the floor on Friday, not everybody was in the caucus room. I was the only Senator and person in the senate chamber. I came out to make a phone call. As I had lived through earthquakes in California earlier in my life, even I wasn’t sure what was happening. It appeared to me like a plane, a small plane, had struck the dome but with all rolling that ensued I knew right away it was an earthquake and I ran out when it subsided a little bit and found and at that time King County Executive, Ron Sims over there. He just came out of a meeting. So when we could we ran down the stairs clutching each other. It was one of the scariest parts. One thing that has not been mentioned is that before we

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Carrell: “Thank you Madam President. Well, I believe there was actually one at least one other person that was not in this chamber during the big earthquake other than Senator Regala. I was over on the third floor in the corner office in the other body in that office building. I remember I was giving an interview to the Columbia newspaper at the time and the building started rocking and rolling. I jumped up just in time, because all those big heavy law books we may all have in our office. They all fell down right where I’d been sitting and then a big huge plant and all of the soil landed on top of that. I said, ‘This meeting is over’.”

MOTION

On motion of Senator Eide, the Senate reverted to the sixth order of business.

MOTION

On motion of Senator White, Senator Kline was excused.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5538, by Senator White

Concerning members of certain nonprofit conservation corps programs.

MOTIONS

2011 REGULAR SESSION

On motion of Senator White, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5538 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5538 and the substitute bill was placed on the second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator White, the rules were suspended, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5538 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Senators White and Nelson spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Schoesler: "Would Senator Conway yield to a question? Senator, do you believe that there's any violations of worker comp and unemployment insurance rules within the conservation corps legislation before us?"

Senator Conway: "I would suggest we read this bill very carefully. You know this bill did come out of committee but it seems like there was a lot of changes made in committee before the bill ran out so frankly I don't know what's in it. Thank you."

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5538.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5538 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 48; Nays, 0; Absent, 0; Excused, 1.

Voting yea: Senators Baumgartner, Baxter, Becker, Benton, Brown, Carrell, Chase, Conway, Eide, Ericksen, Fain, Fraser, Hargrove, Harper, Hatfield, Haugen, Hewitt, Hill, Hobbs, Holmquist Newbry, Honeyford, Kastama, Keiser, Kilmer, King, Kline, Kohl-Welles, Litzow, McAuliffe, Morton, Murray, Nelson, Parlette, Pflug, Prentice, Pridemore, Ranker, Regala, Roach, Rockefeller, Schoesler, Sheldon, Shin, Stevens, Swecker, Tom, White and Zarelli

Excused: Senator Delvin

SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5538, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hobbs: "Well, I just want to take this time to thank the good Senator, Senator White, for the hard work that you did. I know the last bill had the word conservation in it and I believe the Senator from the Nineteenth District voted for it so that really surprised me. I also, I'm a little biased, I like you. My brother-in-law works for you so I think you're my Senator-in-law. But on top of that I'm just amazed that how much you've done so far. The previous Senator that was here, it took him, I don't know, over fifteen years to even get a 'Schrammy' and the good Senator, it took him thirty days and he got two. So, good job, I hope you get many and it's a pleasure serving with you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Kohl-Welles: "Thank you Madam President. Well, actually I knew, or I do know, the predecessor of Senator White from the Forty-Sixth District very well. Senator Jacobsen as we had experienced, had an abundance of knowledge about historical events and was continually giving us really meaningful significant araldite quotes and I've been a little disappointed that I haven't heard any similarity coming from our new Senator but we'll give him a little bit of slack. I have to say, my biggest disappointment is that he has only introduced thirty-one bills so far. Now, with the former Senator from the Forty-Sixth District we would had at least double that. Eighty-two by this point so I'm watching you. I expect great things of you and especially that you will, at some point, to live up to the amazing imagination and abilities for coming up with terrific bill ideas especially one such as we had, all love the 'dogs in bars' bill."

FIFTIETH DAY, FEBRUARY 28, 2011

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hargrove: "Well, thank you Madam President. I just noticed that Senator White along with the other new Senators in our body this year. They have increased the average height of the Senators, particularly the men, I think they have more hair than most of the rest of us but I would have to note that the IQ average has gone down."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Haugen: "Well thank you very much. Well, you know actually my history with the good Senator goes back a long ways. His mother actually went to school with one of my older brothers and actually he was an intern in my office when I was in the House. That was a very long time ago and so, it was kind of surprising he ended up as my Vice Chair because I thought, 'My gosh, this guy went to King County,' and you know what happens in King County and we find that he likes process still. He really likes process. I will tell you that I have been disappointed that he can't make those wonderful bird sounds that his former colleague could make. We really do need a birder in this body. Somebody that can tell us what kind of bird is outside the window. But seriously, Senator White is a very bright young man and he has a great future. It's just too bad that his family ever left the Camano Stanwood community area and moved on to the big city of Seattle. It's nice to have someone to represent the metropolitan area on our committee but I will tell you as big and bright as he is those guys from the real county really have a concern about that stuff that comes out of his district. We're going to work with him and hopefully, hopefully he is as good as he predecessor. We don't want him move as many bills but I will tell you I'm disappointed that his first bill you didn't have come out of Transportation. Did I not teach you anything?"

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McAuliffe: "I'd like to take this opportunity to note that your first speech on the floor of the Senate is on the tenth anniversary of the Nisqually Quake. We look forward to your rocking and rolling on the floor and serving with in the State Senate. Congratulations."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator White: "Thank you Madam President. It truly is an honor to serve with you all and to the Gentle lady from the Thirty-Sixth I hope to live up to her expectations. I look forward to working with all of you towards 'one Washington.' To my colleagues from the suburban swing districts representing our strip malls and cul-de-sacs as the Majority Whip and speaking on behalf of my good colleague from the other side of the aisle from the Forty-Second, we understand that you are an indecisive bunch and we understand that you represent the voters that are undecided as well but please know that we have a job to do and we have to count votes and when we come up to you with our vote card please don't get mad at us for taking up your time. It's just a formality. We already have you marked on our vote card as undecided so please bear with us on that. I do want to be clear, 'we know who you are.' To my friends in the rural district representing some of the most fertile farm lands and scenic country in the nation, I want you to know that my grandfather was a poor apple farmer in Eastern Washington in the Okanogan. He benefited from President Roosevelt New Deal that brought electricity and irrigation to the farm lands in his community. So, I understand how important it is for us to work together so that our tax revenues may continue to subsidize your lavish life styles of rural socialism. I want you to know, as a legislator from an urban area, we're going to do our best to continue to export those urban tax dollars to you. To my latte-sipping liberal pinko commie friends representing urban districts around the state, I'm confident that if we put all of our PhD, JD, MPA, IOUS together that our over-educated minds can come up with a few more business tax loopholes that we can add to the list because, with our insecurities that we have representing the urban areas, we do need to prove that we do in fact care about the economy.

So, on a serious note I really do want to say it is a tremendous honor to serve here with you today, it is a true honor to represent the citizens of the Forty-Sixth District and to serve the citizens of the State of Washington. I realize that I have big shoes to fill. Senator Jacobsen had a tremendous mind, was a great historian, knew more about this state and different corners of the state than many people that I have met. Today as a token of my friendship I have brought fresh blueberry scones that were baked this morning from a coffee shop that is located in my district. It's actually a classic story of a small business. Two young men, Scott and Ryan, opened up this business ten years ago. They do all the work in the shop. They do the baking in the back room. Five years ago they expanded to a second shop and I think it's symbolic for two reasons not just from the small business perspective but also in North Seattle we love coffee but coffee shops are a community place. They are a gathering place and you will find professionals, you will find family, kids coloring their books in these coffee shops. They will be talking about politics, schools and the status of their communities. So, please enjoy these fresh scones again baked just hours ago. I picked them up on my way down this morning and I look forward to working with you all."

MOTION

Senator Pflug moved adoption of the following resolution:

SENATE RESOLUTION

By Senators Pflug, Parlette, Rockefeller, and Eide

WHEREAS, The students of Tahoma Senior High School in Maple Valley, Washington, enrolled in the program known as "We The People, The Citizen and Constitution," have exhibited that they have an exceptional grasp of the Constitution of the United States and the lessons our forefathers taught; and

WHEREAS, The students of Tahoma Senior High School won first place in state competition – the 14th win in 16 years – and will be representing Washington State in national championship competitions in April; and

WHEREAS, These students continued the standard of excellence that has become expected of Tahoma High School – even going above and beyond what was expected, including three work sessions during school breaks and after school every week; and

WHEREAS, This exceptional constitutional knowledge has impacted these students' lives forever and, as one student described it, "This class has not only made me a stronger student, it has made me a better citizen"; and

WHEREAS, This unparalleled constitutional knowledge and razor-sharp debate instills awe in anyone who sees these students perform; and

WHEREAS, It inspires the students as well as their audience to actively participate in the democracy men and women have fought and died to preserve; and

WHEREAS, These energetic, knowledgeable young people will one day lead this state and country, and there may very well be in their midst a legislator, governor, senator, member of Congress, or perhaps a future President; and

WHEREAS, Their dedicated and talented teacher, Gretchen Wulfang of Tahoma Senior High School, can stand tall in the knowledge that her students can outperform university students on this topic; and

WHEREAS, These students and their teacher were aided by countless hours of help from We the People alumni, former students who helped prepare this year's debaters by volunteering as guest judges; and

WHEREAS, Studies have shown that eighty percent of seniors in high school participating in this program have registered to vote compared to an average of thirty-seven percent among other high school seniors, thereby proving that this program has increased the interest in politics and in participation in government; and

WHEREAS, In 2000, Tahoma Senior High School was fourth in the nation, in 2002 and 2008 they won the Western Regional Award, and in 2003 the We The People Team won the top Unit Two in the Nation Award;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Senate honor all the participants in this program from Tahoma High School. Tahoma High School's first place team: Kathryn Adamson, Austin Bland, Connor Caler, Emily Duerson, Kendal Ferguson, Heath Guyer, Amanda Harding, Katie Hickman, Mary Illback, John Larsen, Kara Magee, Amy McCormick, Luke Milburn, Morgan Murrey, Chelsea Olson, Melissa Perincheril, Mollie Picha, Emily Pierre, Angela Ralston, Thomas Rothschilds, Joshua Tavenner, Conner Thomas, Jeremy Voss, Jennifer Watt, Jessica Warr, Peter Weiler, and Rina Wulfin; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to the members of Tahoma High School's We The People Team, the school's teacher Gretchen Wulfin, and the principal of Tahoma Senior High School, Terry Duty, to further show the respect of this body for a job well done and wish them success in their endeavors.

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"PART I FINDINGS

NEW SECTION. Sec. 101. FINDINGS. (1) Recognizing that uncoordinated and poorly planned growth poses a threat to the environment, sustainable economic development, and the health, safety, and high quality of life enjoyed by residents of this state, the legislature passed the growth management act, chapter 36.70A RCW. The planning goals adopted through the growth management act encourage development in urban areas where public facilities and services exist or can be provided efficiently, conservation of productive forest and agricultural lands, and a reduction of sprawl.

(2) Under RCW 36.70A.090 and 43.362.005 the legislature has encouraged:

(a) The use of innovative land use management techniques, including the transfer of development rights, to meet growth management goals; and

(b) The creation of a regional transfer of development rights marketplace in the central Puget Sound to assist in conserving agricultural and forest land, as well as other lands of state or regional priority.

(3) The legislature finds that:

(a) Local governments are in need of additional resources to provide public infrastructure to meet the needs of a growing population, and that public infrastructure is fundamental to community health, safety, and economic vitality. Investment in public infrastructure in growing urban areas supports growth management goals, encourages the redevelopment of underutilized or blighted urban areas, stimulates business activity and helps create jobs, lowers the cost of housing, promotes efficient land use, and improves residents' quality of life;

(b) Transferring development rights from agricultural and forest lands to urban areas where public facilities and services exist or can be provided efficiently and cost-effectively will ensure vibrant, economically viable communities. Directing growth to communities where people can live close to where they work or have access to transportation choices will also advance state goals regarding climate change by reducing vehicle miles traveled and by reducing fuel consumption and emissions that contribute to climate change. Directing growth to these communities will further help avoid the impacts of storm water runoff to Puget Sound by avoiding impervious surfaces associated with development in watershed uplands;

(c) A transfer of development rights marketplace is particularly appropriate for conserving agricultural and forest land of long-term commercial significance. Transferring the development rights from these lands of statewide importance to cities will help achieve a specific goal of the growth management act by keeping them in farming and forestry, thereby helping ensure these remain viable industries in counties experiencing population growth. Transferring growth from agricultural and forest land of long-term commercial significance will also reduce costs to the counties that otherwise would be responsible for the provision of infrastructure and services for development on these lands, which are generally further from existing infrastructure and services; and

(d) The state and its residents benefit from investment in public infrastructure that is associated with urban growth facilitated by the transfer of development from agricultural and forest lands of long-term commercial significance. These activities advance multiple state growth management goals and benefit the state and local economies. It is in the public interest to enable local governments to finance such infrastructure investments and to incentivize development right transfers in the central Puget Sound through this chapter.

PART II DEFINITIONS

NEW SECTION. Sec. 201. DEFINITIONS. The definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(1) "Assessed value" means the valuation of taxable real property as placed on the last completed assessment roll.

(2) "Eligible county" means any county that borders Puget Sound, that has a population of six hundred thousand or more, and that has an established program for transfer of development rights.

(3) "Employment" means total employment in a county or city, as applicable, estimated by the office of financial management.

(4) "Exchange rate" means an increment of development beyond what base zoning allows that is assigned to a development right by a sponsoring city for use in a receiving area.

(5) "Local infrastructure project area" means the geographic area identified by a sponsoring city under section 601 of this act.

(6) "Local infrastructure project financing" means the use of local property tax allocation revenue distributed to the sponsoring city to pay or finance public improvement costs within the local infrastructure project area in accordance with section 701 of this act.

(7) "Local property tax allocation revenue" means those tax revenues derived from the receipt of regular property taxes levied on the property tax allocation revenue value and used for local infrastructure project financing.

(8) "Participating taxing district" means a taxing district that:

(a) Has a local infrastructure project area wholly or partially within the taxing district's geographic boundaries; and

(b) Levies, or has levied on behalf of the taxing district, regular property taxes as defined in this section.

(9) "Population" means the population of a city or county, as applicable, estimated by the office of financial management.

(10) "Property tax allocation revenue base value" means the assessed value of real property located within a local infrastructure project area, less the property tax allocation revenue value.

(11)(a)(i) "Property tax allocation revenue value" means an amount equal to the sponsoring city ratio multiplied by seventy-five percent of any increase in the assessed value of real property in a local infrastructure project area resulting from:

(A) The placement of new construction, improvements to property, or both, on the assessment roll, where the new construction and improvements are initiated after the local infrastructure project area is created by the sponsoring city;

(B) The cost of new housing construction, conversion, and rehabilitation improvements, when the cost is treated as new construction for purposes of chapter 84.55 RCW as provided in

RCW 84.14.020, and the new housing construction, conversion, and rehabilitation improvements are initiated after the local infrastructure project area is created by the sponsoring city;

(C) The cost of rehabilitation of historic property, when the cost is treated as new construction for purposes of chapter 84.55 RCW as provided in RCW 84.26.070, and the rehabilitation is initiated after the local infrastructure project area is created by the sponsoring city.

(ii) Increases in the assessed value of real property resulting from (a)(i)(A) through (C) of this subsection are included in the property tax allocation revenue value in the initial year. These same amounts are also included in the property tax allocation revenue value in subsequent years unless the property becomes exempt from property taxation.

(b) "Property tax allocation revenue value" includes an amount equal to the sponsoring city ratio multiplied by seventy-five percent of any increase in the assessed value of new construction consisting of an entire building in the years following the initial year, unless the building becomes exempt from property taxation.

(c) Except as provided in (b) of this subsection, "property tax allocation revenue value" does not include any increase in the assessed value of real property after the initial year.

(d) There is no property tax allocation revenue value if the assessed value of real property in a local infrastructure project area has not increased as a result of any of the reasons specified in (a)(i)(A) through (C) of this subsection.

(e) For purposes of this subsection, "initial year" means:

(i) For new construction and improvements to property added to the assessment roll, the year during which the new construction and improvements are initially placed on the assessment roll;

(ii) For the cost of new housing construction, conversion, and rehabilitation improvements, when the cost is treated as new construction for purposes of chapter 84.55 RCW, the year when the cost is treated as new construction for purposes of levying taxes for collection in the following year; and

(iii) For the cost of rehabilitation of historic property, when the cost is treated as new construction for purposes of chapter 84.55 RCW, the year when such cost is treated as new construction for purposes of levying taxes for collection in the following year.

(12)(a) "Public improvements" means:

(i) Infrastructure improvements within the local infrastructure project area that include:

(A) Street, road, bridge, and rail construction and maintenance;

(B) Water and sewer system construction and improvements;

(C) Sidewalks, streetlights, landscaping, and streetscaping;

(D) Parking, terminal, and dock facilities;

(E) Park and ride facilities of a transit authority and other facilities that support transit-oriented development;

(F) Park facilities, recreational areas, bicycle paths, and environmental remediation;

(G) Storm water and drainage management systems;

(H) Electric, gas, fiber, and other utility infrastructures; and

(ii) Expenditures for facilities and improvements that support affordable housing as defined in RCW 43.185A.010;

(iii) Providing maintenance and security for common or public areas in the local infrastructure project area; or

(iv) Historic preservation activities authorized under RCW 35.21.395.

(b) Public improvements do not include the acquisition by a sponsoring city of transferable development rights.

(13) "Real property" has the same meaning as in RCW 84.04.090 and also includes any privately owned improvements located on publicly owned land that are subject to property taxation.

(14)(a) "Regular property taxes" means regular property taxes as defined in RCW 84.04.140, except: (i) Regular property taxes levied by public utility districts specifically for the purpose of making required payments of principal and interest on general indebtedness; (ii) regular property taxes levied by the state for the support of common schools under RCW 84.52.065; and (iii) regular property taxes authorized by RCW 84.55.050 that are limited to a specific purpose.

(b) "Regular property taxes" do not include excess property tax levies that are exempt from the aggregate limits for junior and senior taxing districts as provided in RCW 84.52.043.

(15) "Receiving areas," for purposes of this chapter, are those designated lands within local infrastructure project areas in which transferable development rights from sending areas may be used.

(16) "Receiving city" means any incorporated city with population plus employment equal to twenty-two thousand five hundred or greater within an eligible county.

(17) "Receiving city allocated share" means the total number of transferable development rights from agricultural and forest land of long-term commercial significance and rural zoned lands designated under section 303 of this act within the eligible counties allocated to a receiving city under section 305 (1) and (2) of this act.

(18) "Sending areas" means those lands within an eligible county that meet conservation criteria as described in sections 301 and 303 of this act.

(19) "Sponsoring city" means a receiving city that accepts all or a portion of its receiving city allocated share, adopts a plan for development of infrastructure within one or more proposed local infrastructure project areas in accordance with section 401 of this act, and creates one or more local infrastructure project areas, as specified in section 305(4) of this act.

(20) "Sponsoring city allocated share" means the total number of transferable development rights a sponsoring city agrees to accept, under section 305(4) of this act, from agricultural and forest land of long-term commercial significance and rural zoned lands designated under section 303 of this act within the eligible counties, plus the total number of transferable development rights transferred to the sponsoring city from another receiving city under section 305(5) of this act.

(21) "Sponsoring city ratio" means the ratio of the sponsoring city specified portion to the sponsoring city allocated share.

(22) "Sponsoring city specified portion" means the portion of a sponsoring city allocated share which may be used within one or more local infrastructure project areas, as set forth in the sponsoring city's plan for development of infrastructure under section 401 of this act.

(23) "Taxing district" means a city or county that levies, or has levied on behalf of the city or county, regular property taxes upon real property located within a local infrastructure project area.

(24) "Transfer of development rights" includes methods for protecting land from development by voluntarily removing the development rights from a sending area and transferring them to one or more receiving areas for the purpose of increasing development density or intensity.

(25) "Transferable development rights" means a right to develop one or more residential units in a sending area that can be sold and transferred.

PART III SENDING AREAS

NEW SECTION. Sec. 301. DESIGNATION OF SENDING AREAS--INCLUSION OF AGRICULTURAL AND FOREST LAND OF LONG-TERM COMMERCIAL SIGNIFICANCE. An eligible county must designate all agricultural and forest land of long-term commercial significance within its jurisdiction as sending areas for conservation under the eligible county's program for transfer of development rights. The development rights from all such agricultural and forest land of long-term commercial significance within the eligible counties must be available for transfer to receiving cities under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 302. DEVELOPMENT RIGHTS FROM AGRICULTURAL AND FOREST LAND OF LONG-TERM COMMERCIAL SIGNIFICANCE. (1) An eligible county must calculate the number of development rights from agricultural and forest land of long-term commercial significance that are eligible for transfer to receiving areas. An eligible county must determine transferable development rights for allocation purposes in this program by:

(a) Base zoning in effect as of January 1, 2011; or

(b) An allocation other than base zoning as reflected by an eligible county's transfer of development rights program or an interlocal agreement with a receiving city in effect as of January 1, 2011.

(2) The number of transferable development rights includes the development rights from agricultural and forest lands of long-term commercial significance that have been previously issued under the eligible county's program for transfer of development rights, but that have not as yet been utilized to increase density or intensity in a development as of January 1, 2011.

(3) The number of transferable development rights does not include development rights from agricultural and forest lands of long-term commercial significance that have previously been removed or extinguished, such as through an existing conservation easement, except when consistent with subsection (2) of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 303. DESIGNATION OF SENDING AREAS--INCLUSION OF RURAL ZONED LANDS UNDER CERTAIN CIRCUMSTANCES. (1) Subject to the requirements of this section, an eligible county may designate a portion of its rural zoned lands as sending areas for conservation under the eligible county's program for transfer of development rights available for transfer to receiving cities under this chapter.

(2) An eligible county may designate rural zoned lands as available for transfer to receiving cities under this chapter only if, and at such time as, fifty percent or more of the total acreage of land classified as agricultural and forest land of long-term commercial significance in the county, as of January 1, 2011, has been protected through either a permanent conservation easement, ownership in fee by the county for land protection or conservation purposes, or ownership in fee by a nongovernmental land conservation organization.

(3) To be designated as available for transfer to receiving cities under this chapter, rural zoned lands must either:

(a) Be identified by the county as top conservation priorities because they:

(i) Provide ecological effectiveness in achieving water resource inventory area goals;

(ii) Provide contiguous habitat protection, are adjacent to already protected habitat areas, or improve ecological function;

(iii) Are of sufficient size and location in the landscape to yield strategic growth management benefits;

(iv) Provide improved access for regional recreational opportunity;

(v) Prevent forest fragmentation or are appropriate for forest management;

(vi) Provide flood protection or reduce flood risk; or

(vii) Have other attributes that meet natural resource preservation program priorities; or

(b) Be identified by the state or in regional conservation plans as highly important to the water quality of Puget Sound.

(4) The portion of rural zoned lands in an eligible county designated as sending areas for conservation under the eligible county's program for transfer of development rights available for transfer to receiving cities under this chapter must not exceed one thousand five hundred development rights.

FIFTY FIRST DAY, MARCH 1, 2011

NEW SECTION. Sec. 304. DETERMINATION OF TOTAL NUMBER OF TRANSFERABLE DEVELOPMENT RIGHTS FOR AGRICULTURAL AND FOREST LAND OF LONG-TERM COMMERCIAL SIGNIFICANCE AND DESIGNATED RURAL ZONED LANDS. On or before September 1, 2011, each eligible county must report to the Puget Sound regional council the total number of transferable development rights from agricultural and forest land of long-term commercial significance and designated rural zoned lands within the eligible county that may be available for allocation to receiving cities under this chapter, as determined under sections 302 and 303 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 305. ALLOCATION AMONG LOCAL GOVERNMENTS OF TRANSFERABLE DEVELOPMENT RIGHTS FROM AGRICULTURAL AND FOREST LAND OF LONG-TERM COMMERCIAL SIGNIFICANCE AND DESIGNATED RURAL ZONED LANDS. (1) The Puget Sound regional council must allocate among receiving cities the total number of development rights reported by eligible counties under section 304 of this act. Each receiving city allocated share must be determined by the Puget Sound regional council, in consultation with eligible counties and receiving cities, based on growth targets, determined by established growth management processes, and other relevant factors as determined by the Puget Sound regional council in conjunction with the counties and receiving cities.

(2) The Puget Sound regional council must report to each receiving city its receiving city allocated share on or before March 1, 2012.

(3) The Puget Sound regional council must report each receiving city allocated share to the department of commerce on or before March 1, 2012.

(4) A receiving city may become a sponsoring city by accepting all or a portion of its receiving city allocated share, adopting a plan in accordance with section 401 of this act, and creating one or more local infrastructure project areas to pay or finance costs of public improvements.

(5) A receiving city may, by interlocal agreement, transfer all or a portion of its receiving city allocated share to another sponsoring city. The transferred portion of the receiving city allocated share must be included in the other sponsoring city allocated share.

PART IV RECEIVING AREAS

NEW SECTION. Sec. 401. DEVELOPMENT PLAN FOR INFRASTRUCTURE. (1) Before adopting an ordinance or resolution creating one or more local infrastructure project areas, a sponsoring city must adopt a plan for development of public infrastructure within one or more proposed local infrastructure project areas sufficient to utilize, on an aggregate basis, a sponsoring city specified portion that is equal to or greater than twenty percent of the sponsoring city allocated share.

(2) The plan must be developed in consultation with the county where the local infrastructure project area to be created is located, be consistent with any transfer of development rights policies or development regulations adopted by the sponsoring city under section 402 of this act, specify the public improvements to be financed using local infrastructure project financing under section 601 of this act, estimate the number of any transferable development rights that will be used within the local infrastructure project area or areas and estimate the cost of the public improvements.

(3) A plan adopted under this section may be revised from time to time by the sponsoring city, in consultation with the county where the local infrastructure project area or areas are located, to increase the sponsoring city specified portion.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 402. PROGRAM FOR TRANSFER OF DEVELOPMENT RIGHTS INTO RECEIVING AREAS--REQUIREMENTS. (1) Before adopting an ordinance or resolution creating one or more local infrastructure project areas, a sponsoring city must:

(a) Adopt transfer of development rights policies or implement development regulations as required by subsection (2) of this section; or

(b) Make a finding that the sponsoring city will:

(i) Receive its sponsoring city specified portion within one or more local infrastructure project areas; or

(ii) Purchase its sponsoring city specified portion should the sponsoring city not be able to receive its sponsoring city specified portion within one or more local infrastructure project areas such that purchased development rights can be held in reserve by the sponsoring city and used in future development.

(2) Any adoption of transfer of development rights policies or implementation of development regulations must:

(a) Comply with chapter 36.70A RCW;

(b) Designate a receiving area or areas;

(c) Adopt incentives consistent with subsection (4) of this section for developers purchasing transferable development rights;

(d) Establish an exchange rate consistent with subsection (5) of this section; and

(e) Require that the sale of a transferable development right from agricultural or forest land of long-term commercial significance or designated rural zoned lands under section 303 of this act be evidenced by its permanent removal from the sending site, such as through a conservation easement on the sending site.

(3) Any adoption of transfer of development rights policies or implementation of development regulations must not be based upon a downzone within one or more receiving areas solely to create a market for the transferable development rights.

(4) Developer incentives should be designed to:

(a) Achieve the densities or intensities reasonably likely to result from absorption of the sponsoring city specified portion identified in the plan under section 401 of this act;

(b) Include streamlined permitting strategies such as by-right permitting; and

(c) Include streamlined environmental review strategies such as development and substantial environmental review of a subarea plan for a receiving area that benefits projects that use transferable development rights, with adoption as appropriate under RCW 43.21C.420 of optional elements of their comprehensive plan and optional development regulations that apply within the receiving area, adoption as appropriate of a categorical exemption for infill under RCW 43.21C.229 for a receiving area, and adoption as appropriate of a planned action under RCW 43.21C.031 for the receiving area.

(5) Each sponsoring city may determine, at its option, what developer incentives to adopt within its jurisdiction.

(6) Exchange rates should be designed to:

(a) Create a marketplace in which transferable development rights are priced at a level at which sending site landowners are willing to sell and developers are willing to buy transferable development rights;

(b) Achieve the densities or intensities anticipated by the plan adopted under section 401 of this act;

(c) Provide for translation to commodities in addition to residential density, such as building height, commercial floor area,

FIFTY FIRST DAY, MARCH 1, 2011

parking ratio, impervious surface, parkland and open space, setbacks, and floor area ratio; and

(d) Allow for appropriate exemptions from other land use or building requirements.

(7) A sponsoring city must designate all agricultural and forest land of long-term commercial significance and designated rural zoned lands under section 303 of this act within the eligible counties as available sending areas.

(8) A sponsoring city, in accordance with its existing comprehensive planning and development regulation authority under chapter 36.70A RCW, and in accordance with RCW 36.70A.080, may elect to adopt an optional comprehensive plan element and optional development regulations that apply within one or more local infrastructure project areas under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 403. DEVELOPMENT RIGHTS AVAILABLE FOR TRANSFER TO RECEIVING CITIES. Only development rights from agricultural and forest land of long-term commercial significance within the eligible counties as determined under section 302 of this act, and rural-zoned lands with the eligible counties designated under section 303 of this act, may be available for transfer to receiving cities in accordance with this chapter.

PART V QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE PERFORMANCE MEASURES

NEW SECTION. Sec. 501. QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE PERFORMANCE MEASURES--REPORTING. The eligible counties, in collaboration with sponsoring cities, must provide a report to the department of commerce by March 1st of every other year. The report must contain the following information:

(1) The number of sponsoring cities that have adopted transfer of development rights policies and regulations incorporating transfer of development rights under this chapter, and have an interlocal agreement or have adopted the department of commerce transfer of development rights interlocal terms and conditions rule;

(2) The number of transfer of development rights transactions under this chapter using different types of transfer of development rights mechanisms;

(3) The number of acres under conservation easement under this chapter, broken out by agricultural land, forest land, and rural lands;

(4) The number of transferable development rights transferred from sending areas under this chapter;

(5) The number of transferable development rights transferred from a county into a sponsoring city under this chapter;

(6) Sponsoring city development under this chapter using transferable development rights, including:

(a) The number of total new residential units;

(b) The number of residential units created in receiving areas using transferable development rights transferred from sending areas;

(c) The amount of additional commercial floor area;

(d) The amount of additional building height;

(e) The number of required structured parking spaces reduced, if transferable development rights are specifically converted into reduced structured parking space requirements;

(f) The number of additional parking spaces allowed, if transferable development rights are specifically converted into additional receiving area parking spaces; and

(g) The amount of additional impervious surface allowed, if transferable development rights are specifically converted into receiving area impervious surfaces;

(7) The amount of the local property tax allocation revenues, if any, received in the preceding calendar year by the sponsoring city;

2011 REGULAR SESSION

(8) A list of public improvements paid or financed with local infrastructure project financing;

(9) The names of any businesses locating within local infrastructure project areas as a result of the public improvements undertaken by the sponsoring local government and paid or financed in whole or in part with local infrastructure project financing;

(10) The total number of permanent jobs created in the local infrastructure project area as a result of the public improvements undertaken by the sponsoring local government and paid or financed in whole or in part with local infrastructure project financing;

(11) The average wages and benefits received by all employees of businesses locating within the local infrastructure project area as a result of the public improvements undertaken by the sponsoring local government and paid or financed in whole or in part with local infrastructure project financing; and

(12) The date when any indebtedness issued for local infrastructure project financing is expected to be retired.

PART VI ESTABLISHMENT OF LOCAL INFRASTRUCTURE PROJECT AREAS

NEW SECTION. Sec. 601. CREATING A LOCAL INFRASTRUCTURE PROJECT AREA. (1) Before adopting an ordinance or resolution creating one or more local infrastructure project areas, a sponsoring city must:

(a) Provide notice to the county assessor, county treasurer, and county executive within the proposed local infrastructure project area of the sponsoring city's intent to create one or more local infrastructure project areas. This notice must be provided at least one hundred eighty days in advance of the public hearing as required by (b) of this subsection;

(b) Hold a public hearing on the proposed formation of the local infrastructure project area.

(2) A sponsoring city may create one or more local infrastructure project areas by ordinance or resolution that:

(a) Describes the proposed public improvements, identified in the plan under section 401 of this act, to be financed in each local infrastructure project area;

(b) Describes the boundaries of each local infrastructure project area, subject to the limitations in section 602 of this act; and

(c) Provides the date when the use of local property tax allocation revenues will commence and a list of the participating taxing districts.

(3) The sponsoring city must deliver a certified copy of the adopted ordinance or resolution to the county assessor, county treasurer, and each other participating taxing district within which the local infrastructure project area is located.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 602. LIMITATIONS ON LOCAL INFRASTRUCTURE PROJECT AREAS. The designation of any local infrastructure project area is subject to the following limitations:

(1) A local infrastructure project area is limited to contiguous tracts, lots, pieces, or parcels of land without the creation of islands of territory not included in the local infrastructure project area;

(2) The public improvements to be financed with local infrastructure project financing must be located in the local infrastructure project area and must, in the determination of the sponsoring city, further the intent of this chapter;

(3) Local infrastructure project areas created by a sponsoring city may not comprise an area containing more than twenty-five percent of the total assessed value of taxable property within the sponsoring city at the time the local infrastructure project areas are created;

FIFTY FIRST DAY, MARCH 1, 2011

2011 REGULAR SESSION

(4) The boundaries of each local infrastructure project area may not overlap and may not be changed during the time period that local infrastructure project financing is used within the local infrastructure project area, as provided under this chapter; and

(5) All local infrastructure project areas created by the sponsoring city must comprise, in the aggregate, an area that the sponsoring city determines (a) is sufficient to use the sponsoring city specified portion, unless the sponsoring city satisfies its sponsoring city allocated share under section 402(1)(b)(ii) of this act, and (b) is no larger than reasonably necessary to use the sponsoring city specified portion in projected future developments.

PART VII
LOCAL INFRASTRUCTURE PROJECT FINANCING
USE OF PROPERTY TAX REVENUES TO PAY OR FINANCE COSTS OF PUBLIC IMPROVEMENTS

NEW SECTION. Sec. 701. ALLOCATION OF PROPERTY TAX REVENUES. (1) Commencing in the second calendar year following the creation of a local infrastructure project area by a sponsoring city, the county treasurer must distribute receipts from regular taxes imposed on real property located in the local infrastructure project area as follows:

(a) Each participating taxing district and the sponsoring city must receive that portion of its regular property taxes produced by the rate of tax levied by or for the taxing district on the property tax allocation revenue base value for that local infrastructure project area in the taxing district; and

(b) The sponsoring city must receive an additional portion of the regular property taxes levied by it and by or for each participating taxing district upon the property tax allocation revenue value within the local infrastructure project area. However, if there is no property tax allocation revenue value, the sponsoring city may not receive any additional regular property taxes under this subsection (1)(b). The sponsoring city may agree to receive less than the full amount of the additional portion of regular property taxes under this subsection (1)(b) as long as bond debt service, reserve, and other bond covenant requirements are satisfied, in which case the balance of these tax receipts must be allocated to the participating taxing districts that levied regular property taxes, or have regular property taxes levied for them, in the local infrastructure project area for collection that year in proportion to their regular tax levy rates for collection that year. The sponsoring city may request that the treasurer transfer this additional portion of the property taxes to its designated agent.

(2)(a) The portion of the tax receipts distributed to the sponsoring city or its agent under subsection (1)(b) of this section may only be expended to pay or finance public improvement costs within the local infrastructure project area, except as provided in (b) of this subsection (2).

(b) A city may also expend such receipts to pay or finance costs of affordable housing as defined in RCW 43.185A.010, or facilities and improvements that support affordable housing, and at least five percent of the tax receipts distributed to the sponsoring city or its agent under subsection (1)(b) of this section must be set aside and reserved or expended within the local infrastructure project area for such affordable housing purposes.

(3) The county assessor must determine the property tax allocation revenue value and property tax allocation revenue base value. This section does not authorize revaluations of real property by the assessor for property taxation that are not made in accordance with the assessor's revaluation plan under chapter 84.41 RCW or under other authorized revaluation procedures.

(4)(a) The distribution of local property tax allocation revenue to the sponsoring city must cease on the date that is the earlier of:

(i) The date when local property tax allocation revenues are no longer used or obligated to pay the costs of the public improvements; or

(ii) The final termination date as determined under (b) of this subsection (4).

(b) The final termination date is determined as follows:

(i) Except as provided otherwise in (b) of this subsection (4), if the sponsoring city certifies to the county treasurer that the local property tax threshold level 1 is met, the final termination date is ten years after the date of the first distribution of local property tax allocation revenues under subsection (1) of this section;

(ii) If the sponsoring city certifies to the county treasurer that the local property tax threshold level 2 is met at least six months prior to the final termination date under (b)(i) of this subsection (4), the final termination date is fifteen years after the date of the first distribution of local property tax allocation revenues under subsection (1) of this section;

(iii) If the sponsoring city certifies to the county treasurer that the local property tax threshold level 3 is met at least six months prior to the final termination date under (b)(ii) of this subsection (4), the final termination date is twenty years after the date of the first distribution of local property tax allocation revenues under subsection (1) of this section;

(iv) If the sponsoring city certifies to the county treasurer that the local property tax threshold level 4 is met at least six months prior to the final termination date under (b)(iii) of this subsection (4), the final termination date is twenty-five years after the date of the first distribution of local property tax allocation revenues under subsection (1) of this section.

(5) For purposes of this section:

(a) The "local property tax threshold level 1" is met when the sponsoring city has either:

(i) Issued building permits for development within the local infrastructure project area that, on an aggregate basis, uses at least twenty-five percent of the sponsoring city specified portion; or

(ii) Acquired transferable development rights equal to at least twenty-five percent of the sponsoring city specified portion for use in the local infrastructure project area or for extinguishment.

(b) The "local property tax threshold level 2" is met when the sponsoring city has either:

(i) Issued building permits for development within the local infrastructure project area that, on an aggregate basis, uses at least fifty percent of the sponsoring city specified portion; or

(ii) Acquired transferable development rights equal to at least fifty percent of the sponsoring city specified portion for use in the local infrastructure project area or for extinguishment.

(c) The "local property tax threshold level 3" is met when the sponsoring city has either:

(i) Issued building permits for development within the local infrastructure project area that, on an aggregate basis, uses at least seventy-five percent of the sponsoring city specified portion; or

(ii) Acquired transferable development rights equal to at least seventy-five percent of the sponsoring city specified portion for use in the local infrastructure project area or for extinguishment.

(d) The "local property tax threshold level 4" is met when the sponsoring city has either:

(i) Issued building permits for development within the local infrastructure project area that, on an aggregate basis, uses at least one hundred percent of the sponsoring city specified portion; or

(ii) Acquired transferable development rights equal to at least one hundred percent of the sponsoring city specified portion for use in the local infrastructure project area or for extinguishment.

FIFTY FIRST DAY, MARCH 1, 2011

2011 REGULAR SESSION

(6) Any excess local property tax allocation revenues, and earnings on the revenues, remaining at the time the distribution of local property tax allocation revenue terminates must be returned to the county treasurer and distributed to the participating taxing districts that imposed regular property taxes, or had regular property taxes imposed for it, in the local infrastructure project area for collection that year, in proportion to the rates of their regular property tax levies for collection that year.

(7) The allocation and expenditure of local property tax allocation revenues as provided in this chapter of that portion of the sponsoring city's and each participating taxing district's regular property taxes levied upon the property tax allocation revenue value within that local infrastructure project area is declared to be a public purpose of and benefit to the sponsoring city and each participating taxing district.

(8) The distribution of local property tax allocation revenues under this section may not affect or be deemed to affect the rate of taxes levied by or within any sponsoring city and participating taxing district or the consistency of any such levies with the uniformity requirement of Article VII, section 1 of the state Constitution.

PART VIII
GROWTH MANAGEMENT ACT
COMPREHENSIVE PLAN OPTIONAL ELEMENTS

Sec. 801. RCW 36.70A.080 and 1990 1st ex.s. c 17 s 8 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A comprehensive plan may include additional elements, items, or studies dealing with other subjects relating to the physical development within its jurisdiction, including, but not limited to:

- (a) Conservation;
- (b) Solar energy; and
- (c) Recreation.

(2) A comprehensive plan may include, where appropriate, subarea plans, each of which is consistent with the comprehensive plan.

(3)(a) Cities that qualify as a receiving city may adopt a comprehensive plan element and associated development regulations that apply within receiving areas under chapter 39.---RCW (the new chapter created in section 903 of this act).

(b) For purposes of this subsection, the terms "receiving city" and "receiving area" have the same meanings as provided in section 201 of this act.

Regulating the handling of hazardous drugs.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Kohl-Welles, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5594 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5594 and the substitute bill was placed on the second reading and read the second time.

MOTION

FIFTY FIRST DAY, MARCH 1, 2011

2011 REGULAR SESSION

Senator Kohl-Welles moved that the following striking amendment by Senators Kohl-Welles and Holmquist Newbry be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature declares that health care personnel who work with or near hazardous drugs in health care settings may be exposed to these agents in the air, on work surfaces, clothing, and medical equipment or through patient contact. According to the national institute for occupational safety and health (NIOSH), early concerns about occupational exposure to antineoplastic drugs first appeared in the 1970s. Antineoplastic and other hazardous drugs may cause skin rashes, infertility, miscarriage, birth defects, and have been linked to a wide variety of cancers. The national institute for occupational safety and health published an alert on preventing occupational exposures to antineoplastic and other hazardous drugs in health care settings in 2004 with an update in 2010. In this alert, the institute "presents a standard precautions or universal precautions approach to handling hazardous drugs safely: that is, NIOSH recommends that all hazardous drugs be handled as outlined in this Alert." It is the intent of the legislature to require health care facilities to follow rules requiring compliance with all aspects of the institute's alert regardless of the setting in order to protect health care personnel from hazardous exposure to such drugs.

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 49.17 RCW to read as follows:

The definitions in this section apply throughout sections 1 through 3 of this act unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(1) "Antineoplastic drug" means a chemotherapeutic agent that controls or kills cancer cells.

(2) "Hazardous drugs" means any drug identified by the national institute for occupational safety and health at the centers for disease control or any drug that meets at least one of the following six criteria: Carcinogenicity, teratogenicity or developmental toxicity, reproductive toxicity in humans, organ toxicity at low doses in humans or animals, genotoxicity, or new drugs that mimic existing hazardous drugs in structure or toxicity.

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 49.17 RCW to read as follows:

The director of labor and industries shall adopt by rule requirements for the handling of antineoplastic and other hazardous drugs in health care facilities regardless of the setting. Rule making under this section shall consider input from hospitals, organizations representing health care personnel, other stakeholders and shall consider reasonable time for facilities to implement new requirements. The rules will be consistent with and not exceed provisions adopted by the national institute for occupational safety and health's 2004 alert on preventing occupational exposures to antineoplastic and other hazardous drugs in health care settings as updated in 2010. The department's adoption of the rules may incorporate updates and changes to the institute's guidelines as made by the centers for disease control and prevention. Enforcement of these requirements will be according to all provisions in this chapter."

Senators Kohl-Welles and Holmquist Newbry spoke in favor of adoption of the striking amendment.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Schoesler: "Mr. President, I heard voices from the past from the desk of the gentleman from the Fourth District. Somehow it's as if Bob McCaslin never left. I can tell that the gentleman sitting in that desk, like Bob, is short, like Bob is follically challenged, like Bob, has never voted for a tax and probably never will and he seems to be reluctant to vote for fees. So, it is as if Bob has never left. The reference to Old Spice dates the desk as still being Bob and Bob's district is still at the desk. The only hope I have today Mr. President is that the gentleman seated in Bob's desk isn't looking for dates like Senator McCaslin was."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Brown: "Thank you Mr. President. Well, Senator I couldn't disagree with you more. I really don't believe that our new senator is going to be able to fill the shoes of the honorable-serving Senator Bob McCaslin. And one, as you mentioned, one very important reason, number one, you haven't asked me to marry you yet. Second I want to make some observations, our districts are neighboring districts and your district is a very attractive place. I have to say I ride my bike on the Centennial Trail, through your district there's the lovely Liberty Lake and the beautiful Newman Lake where I had a cabin at one point. In fact, I like your district so much that I recently spoken to the new member for, appointed by me, to the Redistricting Commission and we've decided to redistrict you into Idaho. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

FIFTY SECOND DAY, MARCH 2, 2011

2011 REGULAR SESSION

Senator Carrell: “Well, the new Senator from the Fourth District sits right next to me on several committees and he’s asked me for advice on what should I do and this and that and I thought I had him going on the right track when I saw this bill today. Now this is the guy that said, ‘I can’t be voting for taxes’ and, ‘I don’t want to do regulations.’ And here’s a bill all about regulation and taxes. I’m beginning to wonder if he is so quickly gone to the dark side? So, I guess I need to counsel him a little bit more before he rashly approves a bill like this. Welcome to the senate.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Baxter: “I would like to express my gratitude and appreciation for the members of this body and welcoming me to the legislature. It’s truly an honor and privilege to occupy the seat of the Washington State Senate.”

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: “Senator Baxter, the President must inform you, it is not allowed to read on the floor of the Senate.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Baxter: “Mr. President, may I have permission to read on the floor of the senate?”

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: “If there are no objections.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Baxter: “As a tradition in the Senate I am happy to present you with some gifts from the district that you will all enjoy. Among the gifts in your bag which we delivered to your desks you’ll find several gifts from Comcast. As you may know they are a major employer in Spokane but the Company and its Foundation are also vital members of Eastern Washington’s Fourth District. The Comcast Foundation has been instrumental in helping groups like the Boys and Girls Clubs bridge the gap of technology facing some of our disadvantage kids today. Also included in your gift bag is a pound of Zags blend coffee. Just like our Gonzaga Bulldogs this is sure to please the most loyal Starbucks addict. In 2006 the students of Gonzaga chose Cravens Coffee as their brand of choice, so please enjoy. Last but not least you’ll receive your own Bumble bar. It’s a great tasting all natural gluten free energy bar and I’m sure you’ll enjoy the taste. Some of you know I own three businesses myself and would like to tell you the story of this great product. It’s one of the truly great American success stories. Started by a mom in her own kitchen, the company now ships around the world from the Fourth District. Owners Liz and Glenn Ward provide excellent jobs at a living wage and buy most of their ingredients from local producers. They’re committed to strengthening our local community. In the last year alone they have donated thousands of bars to numerous local and national charity events. I hope you enjoy these gifts from some of our local clients in my district. I hope that we will be able to work together to improve the chance for businesses like these will be able to stay in our state and provide the jobs our economy depends on and no, there’s no Old Spice.”

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUEST

The President welcomed and introduced the wife of Senator Baxter, Diane, who was seated in the gallery.

MOTION

Senator Keiser moved that the following amendment by Senator Keiser and others be adopted:

Beginning on page 6, line 33, strike all of sections 6 and 7 and insert the following:

"Sec. 6. RCW 70.127.040 and 2003 c 275 s 3 and 2003 c 140 s 8 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

The following are not subject to regulation for the purposes of this chapter:

(1) A family member providing home health, hospice, or home care services;

(2) A person who provides only meal services in an individual's permanent or temporary residence;

(3) An individual providing home care through a direct agreement with a recipient of care in an individual's permanent or temporary residence;

(4) A person furnishing or delivering home medical supplies or equipment that does not involve the provision of services beyond those necessary to deliver, set up, and monitor the proper functioning of the equipment and educate the user on its proper use;

(5) A person who provides services through a contract with a licensed agency;

(6) An employee or volunteer of a licensed agency who provides services only as an employee or volunteer;

(7) Facilities and institutions, including but not limited to nursing homes under chapter 18.51 RCW, hospitals under chapter 70.41 RCW, adult family homes under chapter 70.128 RCW, boarding homes under chapter 18.20 RCW, developmental disability residential programs under chapter 71A.12 RCW, other entities licensed under chapter 71.12 RCW, or other licensed facilities and institutions, only when providing services to persons residing within the facility or institution;

(8) Local and combined city-county health departments providing services under chapters 70.05 and 70.08 RCW;

(9) An individual providing care to ill ~~individuals, ((disabled))~~ individuals with disabilities, or vulnerable individuals through a contract with the department of social and health services;

(10) Nursing homes, hospitals, or other institutions, agencies, organizations, or persons that contract with licensed home health, hospice, or home care agencies for the delivery of services;

(11) In-home assessments of an ill ~~individual, ((disabled))~~ an individual with a disability, or a vulnerable individual that does not result in regular ongoing care at home;

(12) Services conducted by and for the adherents of a church or religious denomination that rely upon spiritual means alone through prayer for healing in accordance with the tenets and practices of such church or religious denomination and the bona fide religious beliefs genuinely held by such adherents;

(13) A medicare-approved dialysis center operating a medicare-approved home dialysis program;

(17) A person who provides home care services without compensation; and

(18) Nursing homes that provide telephone or web-based transitional care management services.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. A new section is added to chapter 74.42 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Nursing facilities may provide telephone or web-based transitional care management services to persons discharged from the facility to home for up to thirty days postdischarge.

(2) When a nursing facility provides transitional care management services, the facility must coordinate postdischarge care and service needs with in-home agencies licensed under chapter 70.127 RCW, and other authorized care providers, to promote evidence-based transition care planning. In-home service agencies and other authorized care providers, including the department, shall, when appropriate, determine resident eligibility for postdischarge care and services and coordinate with nursing facilities to plan a safe transition of the client to the home setting. When a resident is discharged to home and is without in-home care or services due to the resident's refusal of care or their ineligibility for care, the nursing facility may provide telephone or web-based transitional care management services. These services may include care coordination services, review of the discharge plan, instructions to promote compliance with the discharge plan, reminders or assistance with scheduling follow-up appointments with other health care professionals consistent with the discharge plan, and promotion of self-management of the client's health condition. Web-based transition care services may include patient education and the provision of services described in this section. They are not intended to include telehealth monitoring.

(3) If the nursing facility identifies concerns in client care that result from telephone or web-based transitional care management services, the nursing facility will notify the client's primary care physician. The nursing facility will also discuss with the client options for care or other services which may include in-home services provided by agencies licensed under chapter 70.127 RCW."

MOTION

Senator Kastama moved that the following striking amendment by Senators Kastama, Baumgartner and Rockefeller be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. (1) Innovate Washington is hereby created as a state agency exercising public and essential governmental functions. Innovate Washington is created as the successor to the Washington technology center and the Spokane intercollegiate research and technology institute. Innovate Washington is created to be a collaborative effort between the state's public and private institutions of higher education, private industry, and government and is to be the primary agency responding to the technology transfer needs of existing businesses in the state.

(2) The mission of innovate Washington is to make Washington the best place to develop, build, and deploy innovative products, services, and solutions to serve the world. To carry out this mission, innovate Washington is to: Develop and strengthen academic-industry relationships through research and assistance that is primarily of interest to existing small and medium-sized Washington-based companies; facilitate company growth through early stage financing; and leverage state investments in sector-focused, innovation-based economic development initiatives consistent with the state's economic development strategic plan. Innovate Washington shall:

(a) Provide leading edge collaborative research and technology transfer opportunities to existing state businesses directly and by working with industry associations and innovation partnership zones;

(b) Coordinate its activities with the commercialization and technology transfer activities of the state's research institutions to facilitate research that supports and develops state industries;

(c) Provide methods, systems, and venues for effective interaction and collaboration between the state's technology-based industries and its institutions of higher education;

(d) Provide assistance and support to businesses in:

(i) Securing federal and private funds to support research;

(ii) Developing and integrating technology in new or enhanced products and services; and

(iii) Launching those products and services in sustainable businesses in the state;

(e) Establish programmatic activities that, through partnerships with the private sector, increase the competitiveness of state industries. This may include support provided to firms in innovation partnership zones established under RCW 43.330.270;

2011 REGULAR SESSION

(f) Provide opportunities for training undergraduate and graduate students in technology transfer and commercialization processes through direct involvement in research and industry interactions;

(g) Administer technology and innovation grant and loan programs including bridge funding programs for the state's technology sector; and

(h) Emphasize and develop nonstate support of program activities.

(3)(a) Administrative responsibilities for the Washington technology center facilities located on the University of Washington Seattle campus and the Spokane intercollegiate research and technology institute facilities located on the Riverpoint campus operated by Washington State University Spokane are hereby transferred to innovate Washington. The facilities shall be used for purposes consistent with the obligations of innovate Washington under this chapter. As initially established, the University of Washington and Washington State University shall continue to provide the facility support and maintenance for these facilities as required by innovate Washington; however, other institutions of higher education may provide facility support and maintenance subsequently.

(b) The University of Washington, Washington State University, and other institutions of higher education participating in innovate Washington programs shall provide the affiliated staff and faculty participating in these programs at their own expense.

(4) The facilities of innovate Washington shall be made available to any institution of higher education within the state when this would benefit specific program needs consistent with this chapter.

(5) Innovate Washington shall, by December 1, 2012, develop a five-year business plan that must be updated by December 1st of every even-numbered year. The plan must include:

(a) A plan for operating additional facilities at Washington State University Vancouver, Washington State University Tri-Cities, Western Washington University, and such other locations as the innovate Washington board identifies as appropriate;

(b) Identification and specification of activities to be undertaken by those operating each of innovate Washington's facilities in collaboration with innovative programs at the state's community and technical colleges, which must include methods of working with the centers of excellence established under RCW 28B.50.902 to identify businesses that could benefit from innovate Washington services;

(c) The process to be followed, developed in collaboration with impact Washington or any successor manufacturing extension partnership program operating in the state, to ensure that impact Washington clients have ready access to innovate Washington's services when appropriate and that companies being assisted by innovate Washington have ready access to impact Washington's services; and

(d) Mechanisms for outreach to firms operating in the state's innovation partnership zones established under RCW 43.330.270 to ensure such firms benefit from innovate Washington services.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. (1) The powers of innovate Washington are vested in and shall be exercised by a board of directors consisting of:

(a) The governor of the state of Washington or the governor's designee;

(b) The chairs of the committees in the senate and the house of representatives responsible for economic development issues or their designees;

(c) The president of the University of Washington or the president's designee;

FIFTY SECOND DAY, MARCH 2, 2011

2011 REGULAR SESSION

(d) The president of Washington State University or the president's designee;

(e) The director of the department of commerce or the director's designee; and

(f) Seven members appointed by the governor from among individuals who own or are executives at technology-based and innovative firms that manufacture in the state. The term of office for each board member appointed by the governor shall be three years except, of the initial appointees, two shall be appointed for one year and two shall be appointed for two years. Members of the board may be appointed for additional terms.

(2) The board shall meet at least biannually. The initial meeting of the board must occur before December 31, 2011.

(3) A board member may be removed by the governor for cause under RCW 43.06.070 and 43.06.080. The governor must fill any vacancy on the board by appointment for the remainder of the unexpired term.

(4)(a) The appointed members of the board shall be compensated in accordance with RCW 43.03.240 and may be reimbursed for expenses incurred in the discharge of their duties under this chapter pursuant to RCW 43.03.050 and 43.03.060.

(b) The ex officio members of the board under subsection (1)(a) and (c) through (f) of this section may be reimbursed for expenses incurred in the discharge of their duties under this chapter pursuant to RCW 43.03.050 and 43.03.060.

(c) Legislative members of the board may be reimbursed for expenses incurred in the discharge of their duties under this chapter pursuant to RCW 44.04.120.

(5) A majority of currently serving board members constitutes a quorum.

(6) Meetings of the board shall be held in accordance with the open public meetings act, chapter 42.30 RCW, and at the call of the chair or when a majority of the board members so requests. Meetings of the board may be held at any location within or out of the state, and board members may participate in a meeting of the board by means of a conference telephone or similar communication equipment under RCW 23B.08.200.

(7) The innovate Washington board must:

(a) Develop operating policies for innovate Washington programs;

(b) Appoint, and perform an annual performance review of, an executive director;

(c) Approve an annual operating budget and ensure adequate funding for operations;

(d) Approve a five-year business plan and its updates;

(e) Perform the duties required under chapter 70.210 RCW relating to the investing in innovation program;

(f) Convene representatives of the commercialization and technology transfer offices of private and public research institutions in the state to determine the best methods for:

(i) Integrating existing databases into a single database of in-state technologies and inventions;

(ii) Making the technologies in the integrated database accessible; and

(iii) Promoting the integrated database to entrepreneurs and investors for commercialization and licensing purposes;

(g) Set performance goals for each program or service established; and

(h) Provide a report to the governor and the legislature detailing the fund-raising activities and outcomes, operations, economic impact, and performance of innovate Washington. The report is due by December 1st of every year and the first report is due by December 1, 2012. The report must include measures related to customer satisfaction as well as measures of results derived from assistance provided to businesses, including but not limited to job creation inside and outside of Washington, new product development, new markets opened and other export measures, the adoption of new production processes, revenue and sales growth, measures that would be included in a balanced scorecard, and such other outcome-based measures as the board determines is appropriate.

(8) The board may:

(a) Make and execute agreements, contracts, and other instruments with any private, public, or nonprofit entity for the performance, operation, administration, implementation, or advancement of any program in accordance with this chapter;

(b) Employ, contract with, or engage staff, counsel, advisors, auditors, other technical or professional assistants, and such other personnel as are necessary or desirable to implement this chapter. Staff support for innovate Washington programs may be provided through cooperative agreements with any public or private institution of higher education;

(c) Solicit and receive gifts, grants, donations, sponsorships, or contributions from any federal, state, or local governmental agency or program or any private source, and expend the same for any purpose consistent with this chapter;

(d) Establish such affiliated organizations, special funds consistent with the provisions of chapter 43.88 RCW, and controls as it finds convenient for the implementation of this chapter;

(e) Create one or more advisory committees;

(f) Adopt rules consistent with this chapter;

(g) Delegate any of its powers and duties if consistent with the purposes of this chapter; and

(h) Exercise any other power reasonably required to implement the purposes of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. (1) To increase participation by Washington state small business innovators in federal small business research programs, innovate Washington shall provide or contract for the provision of a small business innovation assistance program. The program must include a proposal review process and must train and assist Washington small business innovators to win awards from federal small business research programs. The program must collaborate with small business development centers, entrepreneur-in-residence programs, and other appropriate sources of technical assistance to ensure that small business innovators also receive the planning, counseling, and support services necessary to expand their businesses and protect their intellectual property.

(2) In operating the program, innovate Washington must give priority to first-time applicants to the federal small business research programs, new businesses, and firms with fewer than ten employees, and may charge a fee for its services.

(3) The definitions in this subsection apply throughout this section unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(a) "Federal small business research programs" means the programs, operating pursuant to the small business innovation development act of 1982, P.L. 97-219, and the small business technology transfer act of 1992, P.L. 102-564, title II, that provide funds to small businesses to conduct research having commercial application.

(b) "Small business" means a corporation, partnership, sole proprietorship, or individual, operating a business for profit, with two hundred fifty employees or fewer, including employees employed in a subsidiary or affiliated corporation, that otherwise meets the requirements of federal small business research programs.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. The investing in innovation account is created in the custody of the state treasurer. All receipts from fund-raising activities pursuant to section 2 of this act must be deposited into the account. Expenditures from the account may be used only for the purposes of the investing in innovation programs established in chapter 70.210 RCW and any other purpose consistent with this chapter. Only the executive director of innovate Washington or the executive director's designee may authorize expenditures from the account. The account is subject to allotment procedures under chapter 43.88 RCW, but an appropriation is not required for expenditures.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. The Washington clean energy partnership is created as a programmatic activity of innovate Washington. The partnership shall develop, implement, and manage programs and funding initiatives related to expanding the clean energy sector in Washington. The partnership shall coordinate clean energy initiatives and implement the clean energy leadership council's recommendations provided in the Washington state clean energy leadership plan report.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. (1) The Washington clean energy partnership shall, as funds are available:

(a) Implement the strategy and recommendations of the clean energy leadership council including implementing the first three market-driving initiatives identified by the council in its 2010 report:

(i) Combined energy efficiency, green buildings, and smart grid;

(ii) Renewable energy resource optimization and smart grid deployment; and

(iii) Bioenergy deployment acceleration;

(b) Assess periodically other potential opportunities, such as the production of thermal energy as a clean energy technology, and add market-driving initiatives if justified by comprehensive analysis;

(c) Serve as the primary point of contact and lead entity in the state for developing and coordinating clean energy-related initiatives and funding programs targeted at expanding the clean energy sector;

(d) Secure a minimum of fifty percent nonstate funds for projects undertaken by the partnership, however nonstate funds or moneys that the partnership is directed to manage that have different matching contribution requirements are not subject to this subsection (1)(d);

(e) Use state funding to demonstrate state commitment, serve as a catalyst for attracting matching funding from multiple sources, and stimulate collaborative projects among other purposes;

(f) Work with the public and private utilities, district energy providers, and the utilities and transportation commission to develop recommendations to improve alignment of state investments, policies, and the work of the partnership, with the operations of utilities, including investor-owned utilities regulated by the utilities and transportation commission, however, this subsection does not create a right in any person to challenge a regulatory decision of the utilities and transportation commission;

(g) Work with the legislature to establish a long-term, stable funding strategy appropriate for supporting the partnership;

(h) Track, identify, and create opportunities to attract federal and other nonstate funding, and make recommendations for increasing Washington's success rate in receiving federal and other nonstate funds;

(i) Work with regional public and private utilities to identify a process for understanding and prioritizing their goals and make recommendations for aligning, coordinating, and leveraging the partnership's investments with the needs of regional utilities in ways that help accelerate the growth of clean energy jobs and technology in the region;

(j) Participate fully in federal and other governmental programs and take such actions as are necessary and consistent with this chapter to secure for the partnership and the people of the state the benefits of those programs and to meet their requirements; and

(k) Conduct analyses as necessary to identify and communicate to policymakers the best opportunities for Washington to maintain and expand the clean energy sector in Washington state.

(2) Existing energy policy and regulatory functions of the department of commerce shall remain with the state energy office.

(3) By November 1, 2012, and November 1st biennially thereafter, innovate Washington must submit a report to the legislature and the governor with recommendations on ways to improve policy alignment, streamline regulatory requirements, and remove administrative barriers that limit the growth of the clean energy sector in Washington as well as a discussion of best practices encountered in implementing the market-driving initiatives.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. The Washington clean energy partnership fund is created in the custody of the state treasurer to receive state and federal funds, grants, private gifts, or contributions to further the purpose of the Washington clean energy partnership. Only the executive director of innovate Washington or the director's designee may authorize expenditures from the account. The account is subject to allotment procedures under chapter 43.88 RCW, but an appropriation is not required for expenditures.

Sec. 8. RCW 43.325.040 and 2009 c 564 s 942 and 2009 c 451 s 5 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) The energy freedom account is created in the state treasury. All receipts from appropriations made to the account and any loan payments of principal and interest derived from loans made under the energy freedom account must be deposited into the account. Moneys in the account may be spent only after appropriation. Expenditures from the account may be used only for financial assistance for further funding for projects consistent with this chapter or otherwise authorized by the legislature.

(2) The green energy incentive account is created in the state treasury as a subaccount of the energy freedom account. All receipts from appropriations made to the green energy incentive account shall be deposited into the account, and may be spent only after appropriation. Expenditures from the account may be used only for:

(a) Refueling projects awarded under this chapter;

(b) Pilot projects for plug-in hybrids, including grants provided for the electrification program set forth in RCW 43.325.110; and

(c) Demonstration projects developed with state universities as defined in RCW 28B.10.016 and local governments that result in the design and building of a hydrogen vehicle fueling station.

(3)(a) The energy recovery act account is created in the state treasury. State and federal funds may be deposited into the account and any loan payments of principal and interest derived from loans made from the energy recovery act account must be deposited into the account. Moneys in the account may be spent only after appropriation.

(b) Expenditures from the account may be used only for loans, loan guarantees, and grants that encourage the establishment of innovative and sustainable industries for renewable energy and energy efficiency technology, including but not limited to:

(i) Renewable energy projects or programs that require interim financing to complete project development and implementation;

(ii) Companies with innovative, near-commercial or commercial, clean energy technology; ~~((and))~~

(iii) Energy efficiency technologies that have a viable repayment stream from reduced utility costs; and

(iv) Initiatives approved by the Washington clean energy partnership.

~~((e)) (4)(a)~~ The director shall establish policies and procedures for processing, reviewing, and approving applications for funding under this section. ~~((When developing these))~~ The policies and procedures ~~((, the department must consider the clean energy leadership strategy developed under section 2, chapter 318, Laws of~~ ~~2009~~) developed under this section must be approved by the Washington clean energy partnership.

~~((4))~~ (b) The director shall enter into agreements with approved applicants to fix the term and rates of funding provided from this account.

~~((c))~~ (c) The policies and procedures of this subsection ~~((3))~~ (4) do not apply to assistance awarded for projects under RCW 43.325.020(3).

~~((4))~~ (5) Any state agency receiving funding from the energy freedom account is prohibited from retaining greater than three percent of any funding provided from the energy freedom account for administrative overhead or other deductions not directly associated with conducting the research, projects, or other end products that the funding is designed to produce unless this provision is waived in writing by the director.

~~((5))~~ (6) Any university, institute, or other entity that is not a state agency receiving funding from the energy freedom account is prohibited from retaining greater than fifteen percent of any funding provided from the energy freedom account for administrative overhead or other deductions not directly associated with conducting the research, projects, or other end products that the funding is designed to produce.

~~((6))~~ Subsections (2), (4) and (5) of this section do not apply to assistance awarded for projects under RCW 43.325.020(3).

(7) During the 2009-2011 fiscal biennium, the legislature may transfer from the energy freedom account to the state general fund such amounts as reflect the excess fund balance of the account.)

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. A new section is added to chapter 41.06 RCW to read as follows:

In addition to the exemptions in RCW 41.06.070, this chapter does not apply to any position in or employee of innovate Washington under chapter 43.--- RCW (the new chapter created in section 23 of this act).

Sec. 10. RCW 28B.50.902 and 2009 c 151 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The college board, in consultation with business, industry, labor, the workforce training and education coordinating board, the department of ~~((community, trade, and economic development))~~ commerce, the employment security department, and community and technical colleges, shall designate centers of excellence and allocate funds to existing and new centers of excellence based on a competitive basis.

(2) Eligible applicants for the program established under this section include community and technical colleges. Priority shall be given to applicants that have an established education and training program serving the targeted industry and that have in their home district or region an industry cluster with the same targeted industry at its core.

(3) It is the role of centers of excellence to employ strategies to:

- (a) Create educational efficiencies;
- (b) Build a diverse, competitive workforce for strategic industries;
- (c) Maintain an institutional reputation for innovation and responsiveness;
- (d) Develop innovative curriculum and means of delivering education and training;
- (e) Act as brokers of information and resources related to community and technical college education and training ~~((for))~~ and assistance available for firms in a targeted industry, including working with innovate Washington to develop methods to identify businesses within a targeted industry that could benefit from the services offered by innovate Washington under chapter 43.--- RCW (the new chapter created in section 23 of this act); and
- (f) Serve as partners with workforce development councils, associate development organizations, and other workforce and economic development organizations.

(4) Examples of strategies under subsection (3) of this section include but are not limited to: Sharing curriculum and other instructional resources, to ensure cost savings to the system; delivering collaborative certificate and degree programs; and holding statewide summits, seminars, conferences, and workshops on industry trends and best practices in community and technical college education and training.

Sec. 11. RCW 70.210.010 and 2003 c 403 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

It is the intent of the legislature to promote growth in the technology sectors of our state's economy and to particularly focus support on the ~~((creation and))~~ commercialization of intellectual property ~~((in the technology, energy, and telecommunications industries))~~ and the manufacture of innovative products in the state.

Sec. 12. RCW 70.210.020 and 2003 c 403 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

The definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(1) ("Center" means the Washington technology center established under RCW 28B.20.283 through 28B.20.295.

(2)) "Board" means the innovate Washington board of directors ~~((for the center))~~.

(3) "Innovate Washington" means the agency created in section 1 of this act.

Sec. 13. RCW 70.210.030 and 2003 c 403 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The investing in innovation ~~((grants))~~ program is established.

(2) ~~((The center))~~ Innovate Washington shall periodically make strategic assessments of the types of ~~((state))~~ investments in research ~~((and))~~ technology, and industrial development in this state that would likely create new products, jobs, and business opportunities and produce the most beneficial long-term improvements to the lives and health of the citizens of the state. The assessments shall be available to the public and shall be used to guide decisions on awarding ~~((grants))~~ funds under this chapter.

Sec. 14. RCW 70.210.040 and 2003 c 403 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

The board shall:

(1) Develop criteria for the awarding of loans or grants to qualifying universities, institutions, businesses, or individuals;

(2) Make decisions regarding distribution of ~~((grant))~~ funds ~~((and make grant awards))~~; ~~((and))~~

(3) In making ~~((grant awards, seek to provide a balance between research grant awards and commercialization grant awards))~~ funding decisions, primarily benefit enterprises that:

(a) Were created through, and have existing intellectual property agreements in place with, public and private research institutions in the state; and

(b) Intend to manufacture in the state; and

(4) Specify in contracts awarding funds that recipients must conduct their research, development, and any subsequent production activities within Washington, and that a failure to comply with this requirement will obligate the recipient to return the amount of the award plus interest as determined by the board.

Sec. 15. RCW 70.210.050 and 2003 c 403 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The board may accept grant and loan proposals and establish a competitive process for the awarding of grants and loans.

(2) The board shall establish a peer review committee to include board members, scientists, engineers, and individuals with specific recognized expertise. The peer review committee shall provide to the board an independent peer review of all proposals determined to be competitive for a loan or grant award that are submitted to the board.

FIFTY SECOND DAY, MARCH 2, 2011

(3) In the awarding of grants and loans, priority shall be given to proposals that leverage additional private and public funding resources.

(4) (Up to fifty percent of available funds from the investing in innovation account may be used to support commercialization opportunities for research in Washington state through an organization with commercialization expertise such as the Spokane intercollegiate research and technology institute.

(5) The center) Innovate Washington may not be a direct recipient of ((grant awards)) funding under this chapter ((403, Laws of 2003))

Sec. 16. RCW 70.210.060 and 2003 c 403 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

The board shall establish performance benchmarks against which the program will be evaluated. The ((grants)) program shall be reviewed periodically by the board. The board shall report annually to the appropriate standing committees of the legislature on loans made and grants awarded and as appropriate on program reviews conducted by the board.

Sec. 17. RCW 70.210.070 and 2003 c 403 s 8 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) ((The center)) Innovate Washington shall administer the investing in innovation ((grants)) program.

(2) Not more than one percent of the available funds from the investing in innovation account may be used for administrative costs of the program.

Sec. 18. RCW 42.30.110 and 2010 1st sp.s. c 33 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Nothing contained in this chapter may be construed to prevent a governing body from holding an executive session during a regular or special meeting:

(a) To consider matters affecting national security;

(b) To consider the selection of a site or the acquisition of real estate by lease or purchase when public knowledge regarding such consideration would cause a likelihood of increased price;

(c) To consider the minimum price at which real estate will be offered for sale or lease when public knowledge regarding such consideration would cause a likelihood of decreased price. However, final action selling or leasing public property shall be taken in a meeting open to the public;

(d) To review negotiations on the performance of publicly bid contracts when public knowledge regarding such consideration would cause a likelihood of increased costs;

(e) To consider, in the case of an export trading company, financial and commercial information supplied by private persons to the export trading company;

(f) To receive and evaluate complaints or charges brought against a public officer or employee. However, upon the request of such officer or employee, a public hearing or a meeting open to the public shall be conducted upon such complaint or charge;

(g) To evaluate the qualifications of an applicant for public employment or to review the performance of a public employee. However, subject to RCW 42.30.140(4), discussion by a governing body of salaries, wages, and other conditions of employment to be generally applied within the agency shall occur in a meeting open to the public, and when a governing body elects to take final action hiring, setting the salary of an individual employee or class of employees, or discharging or disciplining an employee, that action shall be taken in a meeting open to the public;

(h) To evaluate the qualifications of a candidate for appointment to elective office. However, any interview of such candidate and final action appointing a candidate to elective office shall be in a meeting open to the public;

(i) To discuss with legal counsel representing the agency matters relating to agency enforcement actions, or to discuss with legal counsel representing the agency litigation or potential litigation to which the agency, the governing body, or a member acting in an official capacity is, or is likely to become, a party, when public knowledge regarding the discussion is likely to result in an adverse legal or financial consequence to the agency.

This subsection (1)(i) does not permit a governing body to hold an executive session solely because an attorney representing the agency is present. For purposes of this subsection (1)(i), "potential litigation" means matters protected by RPC 1.6 or RCW 5.60.060(2)(a) concerning:

(i) Litigation that has been specifically threatened to which the agency, the governing body, or a member acting in an official capacity is, or is likely to become, a party;

(ii) Litigation that the agency reasonably believes may be commenced by or against the agency, the governing body, or a member acting in an official capacity; or

(iii) Litigation or legal risks of a proposed action or current practice that the agency has identified when public discussion of the litigation or legal risks is likely to result in an adverse legal or financial consequence to the agency;

(j) To consider, in the case of the state library commission or its advisory bodies, western library network prices, products, equipment, and services, when such discussion would be likely to adversely affect the network's ability to conduct business in a competitive economic climate. However, final action on these matters shall be taken in a meeting open to the public;

(k) To consider, in the case of the state investment board, financial and commercial information when the information relates to the investment of public trust or retirement funds and when public knowledge regarding the discussion would result in loss to such funds or in private loss to the providers of this information;

(l) To consider proprietary or confidential nonpublished information related to the development, acquisition, or implementation of state purchased health care services as provided in RCW 41.05.026;

(m) To consider in the case of the life sciences discovery fund authority, the substance of grant applications and grant awards when public knowledge regarding the discussion would reasonably be expected to result in private loss to the providers of this information;

(n) To consider in the case of a health sciences and services authority, the substance of grant applications and grant awards when public knowledge regarding the discussion would reasonably be expected to result in private loss to the providers of this information;

(o) To consider in the case of innovate Washington, the substance of grant or loan applications and grant or loan awards if public knowledge regarding the discussion would reasonably be expected to result in private loss to the providers of this information.

(2) Before convening in executive session, the presiding officer of a governing body shall publicly announce the purpose for excluding the public from the meeting place, and the time when the executive session will be concluded. The executive session may be extended to a stated later time by announcement of the presiding officer.

Sec. 19. RCW 42.56.270 and 2009 c 394 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

The following financial, commercial, and proprietary information is exempt from disclosure under this chapter:

(1) Valuable formulae, designs, drawings, computer source code or object code, and research data obtained by any agency within five years of the request for disclosure when disclosure would produce private gain and public loss;

(2) Financial information supplied by or on behalf of a person, firm, or corporation for the purpose of qualifying to submit a bid or proposal for (a) a ferry system construction or repair contract as required by RCW 47.60.680 through 47.60.750 or (b) highway construction or improvement as required by RCW 47.28.070;

(3) Financial and commercial information and records supplied by private persons pertaining to export services provided under chapters 43.163 and 53.31 RCW, and by persons pertaining to export projects under RCW 43.23.035;

(4) Financial and commercial information and records supplied by businesses or individuals during application for loans or program services provided by chapters 43.325, 43.163, 43.160, 43.330, and 43.168 RCW, or during application for economic development loans or program services provided by any local agency;

(5) Financial information, business plans, examination reports, and any information produced or obtained in evaluating or examining a business and industrial development corporation organized or seeking certification under chapter 31.24 RCW;

(6) Financial and commercial information supplied to the state investment board by any person when the information relates to the investment of public trust or retirement funds and when disclosure would result in loss to such funds or in private loss to the providers of this information;

(7) Financial and valuable trade information under RCW 51.36.120;

(8) Financial, commercial, operations, and technical and research information and data submitted to or obtained by the clean Washington center in applications for, or delivery of, program services under chapter 70.95H RCW;

(9) Financial and commercial information requested by the public stadium authority from any person or organization that leases or uses the stadium and exhibition center as defined in RCW 36.102.010;

(10)(a) Financial information, including but not limited to account numbers and values, and other identification numbers supplied by or on behalf of a person, firm, corporation, limited liability company, partnership, or other entity related to an application for a horse racing license submitted pursuant to RCW 67.16.260(1)(b), liquor license, gambling license, or lottery retail license;

(b) Internal control documents, independent auditors' reports and financial statements, and supporting documents: (i) Of house-banked social card game licensees required by the gambling commission pursuant to rules adopted under chapter 9.46 RCW; or (ii) submitted by tribes with an approved tribal/state compact for class III gaming;

(11) Proprietary data, trade secrets, or other information that relates to: (a) A vendor's unique methods of conducting business; (b) data unique to the product or services of the vendor; or (c) determining prices or rates to be charged for services, submitted by any vendor to the department of social and health services for purposes of the development, acquisition, or implementation of state purchased health care as defined in RCW 41.05.011;

(12)(a) When supplied to and in the records of the department of ~~((community, trade, and economic development))~~ commerce:

(i) Financial and proprietary information collected from any person and provided to the department of ~~((community, trade, and economic development))~~ commerce pursuant to RCW 43.330.050(8); and

(ii) Financial or proprietary information collected from any person and provided to the department of ~~((community, trade, and economic development))~~ commerce or the office of the governor in connection with the siting, recruitment, expansion, retention, or relocation of that person's business and until a siting decision is made, identifying information of any person supplying information under this subsection and the locations being considered for siting, relocation, or expansion of a business;

(b) When developed by the department of ~~((community, trade, and economic development))~~ commerce based on information as described in (a)(i) of this subsection, any work product is not exempt from disclosure;

(c) For the purposes of this subsection, "siting decision" means the decision to acquire or not to acquire a site;

(d) If there is no written contact for a period of sixty days to the department of ~~((community, trade, and economic development))~~ commerce from a person connected with siting, recruitment, expansion, retention, or relocation of that person's business, information described in (a)(ii) of this subsection will be available to the public under this chapter;

(13) Financial and proprietary information submitted to or obtained by the department of ecology or the authority created under chapter 70.95N RCW to implement chapter 70.95N RCW;

(14) Financial, commercial, operations, and technical and research information and data submitted to or obtained by the life sciences discovery fund authority in applications for, or delivery of, grants under chapter 43.350 RCW, to the extent that such information, if revealed, would reasonably be expected to result in private loss to the providers of this information;

(15) Financial and commercial information provided as evidence to the department of licensing as required by RCW 19.112.110 or 19.112.120, except information disclosed in aggregate form that does not permit the identification of information related to individual fuel licensees;

(16) Any production records, mineral assessments, and trade secrets submitted by a permit holder, mine operator, or landowner to the department of natural resources under RCW 78.44.085;

(17)(a) Farm plans developed by conservation districts, unless permission to release the farm plan is granted by the landowner or operator who requested the plan, or the farm plan is used for the application or issuance of a permit;

(b) Farm plans developed under chapter 90.48 RCW and not under the federal clean water act, 33 U.S.C. Sec. 1251 et seq., are subject to RCW 42.56.610 and 90.64.190;

(18) Financial, commercial, operations, and technical and research information and data submitted to or obtained by a health sciences and services authority in applications for, or delivery of, grants under RCW 35.104.010 through 35.104.060, to the extent that such information, if revealed, would reasonably be expected to result in private loss to providers of this information;

(19) Information gathered under chapter 19.85 RCW or RCW 34.05.328 that can be identified to a particular business; ~~((and))~~

(20) Financial and commercial information submitted to or obtained by the University of Washington, other than information the university is required to disclose under RCW 28B.20.150, when the information relates to investments in private funds, to the extent that such information, if revealed, would reasonably be expected to result in loss to the University of Washington consolidated endowment fund or to result in private loss to the providers of this information; and

(21) Financial, commercial, operations, and technical and research information and data submitted to or obtained by innovate Washington in applications for, or delivery of, grants and loans under chapter 43.--- RCW (the new chapter created in section 23 of this act), to the extent that such information, if revealed, would reasonably be expected to result in private loss to the providers of this information.

and 28B.38.900; providing an effective date; and providing an expiration date."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Kastama, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5764 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Senators Kastama, Rockefeller, Baumgartner, Chase, Brown and Shin spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

Senator Honeyford spoke on final passage of the bill.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5764.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5764 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 46; Nays, 2; Absent, 0; Excused, 1.

Voting yea: Senators Baumgartner, Baxter, Becker, Benton, Brown, Carrell, Chase, Conway, Delvin, Eide, Fain, Fraser, Harper, Hatfield, Haugen, Hewitt, Hill, Hobbs, Holmquist, Newbry, Honeyford, Kastama, Keiser, Kilmer, King, Kline, Kohl-Welles, Litzow, McAuliffe, Morton, Murray, Nelson, Parlette, Pflug, Prentice, Ranker, Regala, Roach, Rockefeller, Schoesler, Sheldon, Shin, Stevens, Swecker, Tom, White and Zarelli

Voting nay: Senators Ericksen and Pridemore

Excused: Senator Hargrove

ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 5764, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

MOTION

At 8:20 p.m., on motion of Senator Eide, the Senate was declared to be at ease for the purpose of caucuses.

The Senate was called to order at 9:32 p.m. by President Owen.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5073, by Senators Kohl-Welles, Delvin, Keiser, Regala, Pflug, Murray, Tom, Kline, McAuliffe and Chase

Concerning the medical use of cannabis.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Kohl-Welles, Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5073 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5073 and the second substitute bill was placed on the second reading and read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Sheldon moved that the following amendment by Senators Sheldon, Schoesler and Hargrove be adopted:

On page 5, line 3, after "means a" strike "person" and insert "nonprofit medical organization"

On page 25, after line 19, insert the following:

2011 REGULAR SESSION

"NEW SECTION." Sec. 704. Licensed dispensers must be licensed and approved by the counties and cities in which they are located."

Senator Sheldon spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment.

Senator Keiser spoke against adoption of the amendment.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senators Sheldon, Schoesler and Hargrove on page 5, line 3 to Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5073.

The motion by Senator Sheldon carried and the amendment was adopted by a rising vote.

MOTION

Senator Carrell moved that the following amendment by Senator Carrell be adopted:

On page 8, line 10, strike "~~((A))~~ (i) A" and insert "~~((A))~~ (i) An original"

On page 8, line 13, after "cannabis" insert ". Valid documentation must include the proper form of consumption and dosage amounts for the cannabis authorized for the most effective treatment of the terminal or debilitating medical condition"

On page 8, line 26, after "cannabis" insert ". Valid documentation must include the proper form of consumption and dosage amounts for the cannabis authorized for the most effective treatment of the terminal or debilitating medical condition"

Senator Carrell spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment.

Senator Pflug spoke against adoption of the amendment.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senator Carrell on page 8, line 10 to Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5073.

The motion by Senator Carrell failed and the amendment was not adopted by voice vote.

MOTION

Senator Carrell moved that the following amendment by Senators Carrell and Delvin be adopted:

On page 10, line 13, after "cannabis:" insert the following:

"(v) Have a business or practice which consists primarily of examining patients for the purpose of authorizing the medical use of cannabis;

(vi) Include any statement or reference, visual or otherwise, on the medical use of cannabis in any advertisement for his or her business or practice;"

Reletter the remaining subsection consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

On page 10, after line 16, insert the following:

WITHDRAWAL OF AMENDMENT

On motion of Senator Parlette, the amendment by Senators Parlette and Kohl-Welles on page 28, line 7 to Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5073 was withdrawn.

MOTION

Senator Parlette moved that the following amendment by Senators Parlette and Kohl-Welles be adopted:

Beginning on page 28, line 7, strike all of sections 901, 902, and 903 and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 901. (1) By July 1, 2012, the department of health shall, in consultation with the department of agriculture, adopt rules for the creation, implementation, maintenance, and timely upgrading of a secure and confidential registration system that allows:

(a) A peace officer to verify at any time whether a health care professional has registered a person who has been contacted by that peace officer and has provided that peace officer information necessary to verify his or her registration as either a qualifying patient or a designated provider;

(b) A peace officer to verify at any time during ordinary business hours of the department of health whether a health care professional has registered a person as either a qualifying patient or a designated provider, or an address as the primary residence of a qualifying patient or designated provider; and

(c) A peace officer to verify at any time during ordinary business hours of the department of health whether a person, location, or business is licensed by the department of agriculture or the department of health as a licensed producer, licensed processor of cannabis products, or licensed dispenser.

(2) The department of agriculture must, in consultation with the department of health, create and maintain a secure and confidential list of persons to whom it has issued a license to produce cannabis for medical use or a license to process cannabis products, and the physical addresses of the licensees' production and processing facilities. The list must meet the requirements of subsection (9) of this section and be transmitted to the department of health to be included in the registry established by this section.

FIFTY SECOND DAY, MARCH 2, 2011

2011 REGULAR SESSION

(3) The department of health must, in consultation with the department of agriculture, create and maintain a secure and confidential list of the persons to whom it has issued a license to dispense cannabis for medical use that meets the requirements of subsection (9) of this section and must be included in the registry established by this section.

(4) Law enforcement shall comply with Article I, section 7 of the state Constitution when accessing the registration system for criminal investigations, which, at a minimum, requires an articulated individualized suspicion of: (a) Criminal activity; or (b) the possession, use, manufacture, production, processing, delivery, transport, or distribution of cannabis, whether criminal or noncriminal.

(5) Registration in the system shall be optional for qualifying patients and designated providers, not mandatory, and registrations are valid for one year, except that qualifying patients must be able to remove themselves from the registry at any time. For licensees, registrations are valid for the term of the license and the registration must be removed if the licensee's license is expired or revoked. The department of health must adopt rules providing for registration renewals and for removing expired registrations and expired or revoked licenses from the registry.

(6) Fees, including renewal fees, for qualifying patients and designated providers participating in the registration system shall be limited to the cost to the state of implementing, maintaining, and enforcing the provisions of this section and the rules adopted to carry out its purposes.

(7) The department of health, in conjunction with the department of agriculture, must establish and collect reasonable fees for the dissemination of information to employees of state and local law enforcement agencies relating to whether a person is a licensed producer, processor of cannabis products, or dispenser, or that a location is the recorded address of a license producer, processor of cannabis products, or dispenser, and for the dissemination of log records relating to such requests for information to the subjects of those requests.

(8) During the rule-making process, the department of health shall consult with stakeholders and persons with relevant expertise, to include, but not be limited to, qualifying patients, designated providers, health care professionals, state and local law enforcement agencies, and the University of Washington computer science and engineering security and privacy research lab.

(9) The registration system shall meet the following requirements:

(a) Any personally identifiable information included in the registration system must be "nonreversible," pursuant to definitions and standards set forth by the national institute of standards and technology;

(b) Any personally identifiable information included in the registration system must not be susceptible to linkage by use of data external to the registration system;

(c) The registration system must incorporate current best differential privacy practices, allowing for maximum accuracy of registration system queries while minimizing the chances of identifying the personally identifiable information included therein; and

(d) The registration system must be upgradable and updated in a timely fashion to keep current with state of the art privacy and security standards and practices.

(10) The registration system shall maintain a log of each verification query submitted by a peace officer, including the peace officer's name, agency, and identification number, for a period of no less than three years from the date of the query. Personally identifiable information of qualifying patients and designated providers included in the log shall be confidential and exempt from public disclosure, inspection, or copying under chapter 42.56 RCW: PROVIDED, That:

(a) Names and other personally identifiable information from the list may be released only to:

(i) Authorized employees of the department of agriculture and the department of health as necessary to perform official duties of either department; or

(ii) Authorized employees of state or local law enforcement agencies, only as necessary to verify that the person or location is a qualified patient, designated provider, licensed producer, licensed processor of cannabis products, or licensed dispenser, and only after the inquiring employee has provided adequate identification. Authorized employees who obtain personally identifiable information under this subsection may not release or use the information for any purpose other than verification that a person or location is a qualified patient, designated provider, licensed producer, licensed processor of cannabis products, or licensed dispenser;

(b) Information contained in the registration system may be released in aggregate form, with all personally identifying information redacted, for the purpose of statistical analysis and oversight of agency performance and actions;

(c) The subject of a registration query may appear during ordinary department of health business hours and inspect or copy log records relating to him or her upon adequate proof of identity; and

(d) The subject of a registration query may submit a written request to the department of health, along with adequate proof of identity, for copies of log records relating to him or her.

(11) This section does not prohibit a department of agriculture employee or a department of health employee from contacting state or local law enforcement for assistance during an emergency or while performing his or her duties under this chapter.

(12) Fees collected under this section must be deposited into the health professions account under RCW 43.70.320." Renummer the remaining sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

On page 34, beginning on line 27, after "under" strike "sections 901, 902, and 903" and insert "section 901"

Senators Parlette and Kohl-Welles spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senators Parlette and Kohl-Welles on page 28, line 7 to Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5073.

The motion by Senator Parlette carried and the amendment was adopted by voice vote.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Kohl-Welles, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5073 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Senators Kohl-Welles, Regala, Delvin and Pflug spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

Senator Hargrove spoke against passage of the bill.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the final passage of Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5073.

ROLL CALL

FIFTY SECOND DAY, MARCH 2, 2011

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5073 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 29; Nays, 20; Absent, 0; Excused, 0.

Voting yea: Senators Baumgartner, Benton, Brown, Chase, Delvin, Eide, Fain, Fraser, Harper, Hatfield, Hewitt, Hill, Hobbs, Keiser, Kline, Kohl-Welles, Litzow, McAuliffe, Murray, Nelson, Pflug, Prentice, Pridemore, Ranker, Regala, Rockefeller, Tom, White and Zarelli

Voting nay: Senators Baxter, Becker, Carrell, Conway, Ericksen, Hargrove, Haugen, Holmquist Newbry, Honeyford, Kastama, Kilmer, King, Morton, Parlette, Roach, Schoesler, Sheldon, Shin, Stevens and Swecker

ENGROSSED SECOND SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5073, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5575, by Senators Hatfield, Delvin, Eide, Schoesler, Haugen, Shin, Kilmer, Hobbs, Becker, Honeyford, Conway and Sheldon

Recognizing certain biomass energy facilities as an eligible renewable resource.

The measure was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Rockefeller moved that the following amendment by Senator Rockefeller be adopted:

On page 2, after line 2, insert the following:

"(3) By promoting the recognition of certain pre-1999 biomass facilities as new renewable energy under the energy independence act, it is also appropriate to reflect this inclusion by increasing the renewable energy targets under the act."

On page 5, after line 8, insert the following:

"Sec. 3. RCW 19.285.040 and 2007 c 1 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Each qualifying utility shall pursue all available conservation that is cost-effective, reliable, and feasible.

(a) By January 1, 2010, using methodologies consistent with those used by the Pacific Northwest electric power and conservation planning council in its most recently published regional power plan, each qualifying utility shall identify its achievable cost-effective conservation potential through 2019. At least every two years thereafter, the qualifying utility shall review and update this assessment for the subsequent ten-year period.

(b) Beginning January 2010, each qualifying utility shall establish and make publicly available a biennial acquisition target for cost-effective conservation consistent with its identification of achievable opportunities in (a) of this subsection, and meet that target during the subsequent two-year period. At a minimum, each biennial target must be no lower than the qualifying utility's pro rata share for that two-year period of its cost-effective conservation potential for the subsequent ten-year period.

(c) In meeting its conservation targets, a qualifying utility may count high-efficiency cogeneration owned and used by a retail electric customer to meet its own needs. High-efficiency cogeneration is the sequential production of electricity and useful thermal energy from a common fuel source, where, under normal operating conditions, the facility has a useful thermal energy output of no less than thirty-three percent of the total energy output. The reduction in load due to high-efficiency cogeneration shall be: (i) Calculated as the ratio of the fuel chargeable to power heat rate of the cogeneration facility compared to the heat rate on a new and clean basis of a best-commercially available technology combined-cycle natural gas-fired combustion turbine; and (ii) counted towards meeting the biennial conservation target in the same manner as other conservation savings.

(d) The commission may determine if a conservation program implemented by an investor-owned utility is cost-effective based on the commission's policies and practice.

(e) The commission may rely on its standard practice for review and approval of investor-owned utility conservation targets.

(2)(a) Each qualifying utility shall use eligible renewable resources or acquire equivalent renewable energy credits, or a combination of both, to meet the following annual targets:

(i) At least three ~~and three-tenths~~ percent of its load by January 1, 2012, and each year thereafter through December 31, 2015;

(ii) At least nine ~~and nine-tenths~~ percent of its load by January 1, 2016, and each year thereafter through December 31, 2019; and

(iii) At least ~~(fifteen)~~ sixteen and five-tenths percent of its load by January 1, 2020, and each year thereafter.

(b) A qualifying utility may count distributed generation at double the facility's electrical output if the utility: (i) Owns or has contracted for the distributed generation and the associated renewable energy credits; or (ii) has contracted to purchase the associated renewable energy credits.

(c) In meeting the annual targets in (a) of this subsection, a qualifying utility shall calculate its annual load based on the average of the utility's load for the previous two years.

(d) A qualifying utility shall be considered in compliance with an annual target in (a) of this subsection if: (i) The utility's weather-adjusted load for the previous three years on average did not increase over that time period; (ii) after December 7, 2006, the utility did not commence or renew ownership or incremental purchases of electricity from resources other than renewable resources other than on a daily spot price basis and the electricity is not offset by equivalent renewable energy credits; and (iii) the utility invested at least one percent of its total annual retail revenue requirement that year on eligible renewable resources, renewable energy credits, or a combination of both.

(e) The requirements of this section may be met for any given year with renewable energy credits produced during that year, the preceding year, or the subsequent year. Each renewable energy credit may be used only once to meet the requirements of this section.

(f) In complying with the targets established in (a) of this subsection, a qualifying utility may not count:

(i) Eligible renewable resources or distributed generation where the associated renewable energy credits are owned by a separate entity; or

(ii) Eligible renewable resources or renewable energy credits obtained for and used in an optional pricing program such as the program established in RCW 19.29A.090.

(g) Where fossil and combustible renewable resources are cofired in one generating unit located in the Pacific Northwest where the cofiring commenced after March 31, 1999, the unit shall be considered to produce eligible renewable resources in direct proportion to the percentage of the total heat value represented by the heat value of the renewable resources.

(h)(i) A qualifying utility that acquires an eligible renewable resource or renewable energy credit may count that acquisition at one and two-tenths times its base value:

(A) Where the eligible renewable resource comes from a facility that commenced operation after December 31, 2005; and

FIFTY SECOND DAY, MARCH 2, 2011

2011 REGULAR SESSION

(B) Where the developer of the facility used apprenticeship programs approved by the council during facility construction.

(ii) The council shall establish minimum levels of labor hours to be met through apprenticeship programs to qualify for this extra credit.

(i) A qualifying utility shall be considered in compliance with an annual target in (a) of this subsection if events beyond the reasonable control of the utility that could not have been reasonably anticipated or ameliorated prevented it from meeting the renewable energy target. Such events include weather-related damage, mechanical failure, strikes, lockouts, and actions of a governmental authority that adversely affect the generation, transmission, or distribution of an eligible renewable resource under contract to a qualifying utility.

(3) Utilities that become qualifying utilities after December 31, 2006, shall meet the requirements in this section on a time frame comparable in length to that provided for qualifying utilities as of December 7, 2006."

Renumber the remaining section consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

On page 1, line 5 of the title, after "19.285.030" insert "and 19.285.040"

Senators Rockefeller and Nelson spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment.

Senators Delvin and Hatfield spoke against adoption of the amendment.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senator Rockefeller on page 2, after line 2 to Senate Bill No. 5575.

The motion by Senator Rockefeller failed and the amendment was not adopted by voice vote.

MOTION

Senator Nelson moved that the following amendment by Senator Nelson be adopted:

On page 2, line 28, after "facilities" strike "has" and insert "; (a) Has" and after "megawatts" insert "; or (b) generates not more than twenty average megawatts in a calendar year"

Senator Nelson spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment. Senator Delvin spoke against adoption of the amendment.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senator Nelson on page 2, line 28 to Senate Bill No. 5575.

The motion by Senator Nelson failed and the amendment was not adopted by voice vote.

MOTION

Senator Nelson moved that the following amendment by Senator Nelson be adopted:

On page 2, line 35, after "services;" strike "or" and insert "((☉))"

On page 2, line 36, after "(b)" insert "Electricity from hydroelectric generation used to firm, shape, and integrate wind power into the northwestern electric grid for delivery to Washington residents; or

(c)"

Reletter the remaining subsection consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Hatfield: "Thank you Mr. President. I believe amendment 64 is beyond the scope and object of the underlying bill. The amendment recognizes certain forms of small hydro power as an eligible renewable resource. I believe the amendment is outside the scope and object of the bill because the bill is about biomass and recognizes certain biomass energy facilities located in economically distressed communities. I would like to submit further written arguments if I may Mr. President?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "The President will take the scope and object ruling under consideration. If there are no objections, we'll move to the next amendment."

MOTION

Senator Chase moved that the following amendment by Senator Chase be adopted:

On page 2, line 36, after "(b)" insert "(i) Electricity from a hydroelectric generating facility with an installed generating capacity of five megawatts or less that discharges the water it uses for power generation into either:

(A) A conduit, with the water flowing directly to a point of agricultural, municipal, or industrial consumption; or

(B) A natural water body if a quantity of water equal to or greater than the quantity discharged from the hydroelectric facility is withdrawn from the natural water body on which the hydroelectric generating facility is located, unless that consumption would occur for agricultural, municipal, or industrial consumption purposes even if hydroelectric generating facilities were not installed;

(ii) Electricity from a hydroelectric generating facility must not come from a dam or weir that creates more than intraday storage of water

(iii) Electricity from a hydroelectric generating facility must be certified by a nationally recognized organization that certifies hydroelectric facilities as low-impact hydroelectric; or

(c)"

Reletter the remaining subsection consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

On page 5, after line 8, insert the following:

"(24) "Intraday storage of water" means the amount of water that is retained by a dam or weir over a twenty-four hour period that is in excess of normal stream flow."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Hatfield: "Thank you Mr. President. I would challenge the scope and object of this amendment also being beyond that of the underlying bill. For the reasons outlined in the previous amendment I believe this one is beyond the scope and object of the bill."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Thank you Senator. The President will take the scope and object under consideration. If there are no objections, we'll move to the next amendment."

MOTION

Senator Nelson moved that the following amendment by Senators Nelson, Ranker and Rockefeller be adopted:

On page 3, beginning on line 5, after "impoundments" strike all material through "energy" on line 6

Beginning on page 4, after line 27, strike all material through "19.285.030." on page 5, line 13

On page 1, beginning on line 1 of the title, after "Relating to" strike all material through "sections." on line 6 and insert "promoting and sustaining investment and employment in communities dependent on agricultural or natural resource industries by recognizing certain biomass energy as an eligible renewable resource; amending RCW 19.285.030; and creating a new section."

Senator Nelson spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment.

Senators Delvin and Chase spoke against adoption of the amendment.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senators Nelson, Ranker and Rockefeller on page 3, line 8 to Senate Bill No. 5575.

The motion by Senator Nelson failed and the amendment was not adopted by voice vote.

MOTION

Senator Nelson moved that the following amendment by Senator Nelson be adopted:

On page 3, line 19, after "gases." insert "For an anaerobic digester, its nonpower attributes may be separated into avoided emissions of carbon dioxide and other greenhouse gases, and into renewable energy credits."

Senators Nelson and Hatfield spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senator Nelson on page 3, line 19 to Senate Bill No. 5575.

The motion by Senator Nelson carried and the amendment was adopted by voice vote.

MOTION

Senator Chase moved that the following amendment by Senator Chase be adopted:

On page 4, after line 20, strike all material through "waste." on line 23 and insert "food waste; (vi) liquors derived from algae and other sources; (vii) dedicated energy crops; (viii) biosolids; and (ix) yard waste."

Senator Chase spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment.

Senator Hatfield spoke against adoption of the amendment.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senator Chase on page 4, after line 20 to Senate Bill No. 5575.

The motion by Senator Chase failed and the amendment was not adopted by voice vote.

MOTION

Senator Rockefeller moved that the following amendment by Senators Rockefeller, Nelson and Ranker be adopted:

On page 4, line 29, after "facility" insert "not owned by a qualifying utility"

Senator Rockefeller spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment.

Senator Delvin spoke against adoption of the amendment.

2011 REGULAR SESSION

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senators Rockefeller, Nelson and Ranker on page 4, line 29 to Senate Bill No. 5575.

The motion by Senator Rockefeller failed and the amendment was not adopted by voice vote.

MOTION

Senator Chase moved that the following amendment by Senator Chase be adopted:

On page 4, line 30, after "(a)" strike "(i)"

On page 4, line 31, before "Is" strike "(ii)" and insert "(b)"

Beginning on page 4, after line 32, strike all material through "utility." on page 5, line 3

Senators Chase, Pridemore, Benton and Hatfield spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senator Chase on page 4, line 30 to Senate Bill No. 5575.

The motion by Senator Chase carried and the amendment was adopted by voice vote.

MOTION

Senator Chase moved that the following amendment by Senator Chase be adopted:

On page 5, after line 8, insert the following:

"Sec. 3. RCW 19.285.040 and 2007 c 1 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Each qualifying utility shall pursue all available conservation that is cost-effective, reliable, and feasible.

(a) By January 1, 2010, using methodologies consistent with those used by the Pacific Northwest electric power and conservation planning council in its most recently published regional power plan, each qualifying utility shall identify its achievable cost-effective conservation potential through 2019. At least every two years thereafter, the qualifying utility shall review and update this assessment for the subsequent ten-year period.

(b) Beginning January 2010, each qualifying utility shall establish and make publicly available a biennial acquisition target for cost-effective conservation consistent with its identification of achievable opportunities in (a) of this subsection, and meet that target during the subsequent two-year period. At a minimum, each biennial target must be no lower than the qualifying utility's pro rata share for that two-year period of its cost-effective conservation potential for the subsequent ten-year period.

(c) In meeting its conservation targets, a qualifying utility may count high-efficiency cogeneration owned and used by a retail electric customer to meet its own needs. High-efficiency cogeneration is the sequential production of electricity and useful thermal energy from a common fuel source, where, under normal operating conditions, the facility has a useful thermal energy output of no less than thirty-three percent of the total energy output. The reduction in load due to high-efficiency cogeneration shall be: (i) Calculated as the ratio of the fuel chargeable to power heat rate of the cogeneration facility compared to the heat rate on a new and clean basis of a best-commercially available technology combined-cycle natural gas-fired combustion turbine; and (ii) counted towards meeting the biennial conservation target in the same manner as other conservation savings.

(d) The commission may determine if a conservation program implemented by an investor-owned utility is cost-effective based on the commission's policies and practice.

FIFTY SECOND DAY, MARCH 2, 2011

2011 REGULAR SESSION

(e) The commission may rely on its standard practice for review and approval of investor-owned utility conservation targets.

(2)(a) Each qualifying utility shall use eligible renewable resources or acquire equivalent renewable energy credits, or a combination of both, to meet the following annual targets:

(i) At least three percent of its load by January 1, 2012, and each year thereafter through December 31, 2015;

(ii) At least nine percent of its load by January 1, 2016, and each year thereafter through December 31, 2019; and

(iii) At least fifteen percent of its load by January 1, 2020, and each year thereafter.

(b) A qualifying utility may count distributed generation at double the facility's electrical output if the utility: (i) Owns or has contracted for the distributed generation and the associated renewable energy credits; or (ii) has contracted to purchase the associated renewable energy credits.

(c) A qualifying utility may only count generation from a qualified biomass facility at fifty percent of the facility's electrical output

(d) In meeting the annual targets in (a) of this subsection, a qualifying utility shall calculate its annual load based on the average of the utility's load for the previous two years.

~~((e))~~ (e) A qualifying utility shall be considered in compliance with an annual target in (a) of this subsection if: (i) The utility's weather-adjusted load for the previous three years on average did not increase over that time period; (ii) after December 7, 2006, the utility did not commence or renew ownership or incremental purchases of electricity from resources other than renewable resources other than on a daily spot price basis and the electricity is not offset by equivalent renewable energy credits; and (iii) the utility invested at least one percent of its total annual retail revenue requirement that year on eligible renewable resources, renewable energy credits, or a combination of both.

~~((e))~~ (f) The requirements of this section may be met for any given year with renewable energy credits produced during that year, the preceding year, or the subsequent year. Each renewable energy credit may be used only once to meet the requirements of this section.

~~((f))~~ (g) In complying with the targets established in (a) of this subsection, a qualifying utility may not count:

(i) Eligible renewable resources or distributed generation where the associated renewable energy credits are owned by a separate entity; or

(ii) Eligible renewable resources or renewable energy credits obtained for and used in an optional pricing program such as the program established in RCW 19.29A.090.

~~((g))~~ (h) Where fossil and combustible renewable resources are cofired in one generating unit located in the Pacific Northwest where the cofiring commenced after March 31, 1999, the unit shall be considered to produce eligible renewable resources in direct proportion to the percentage of the total heat value represented by the heat value of the renewable resources.

~~((h))~~ (i)(i) A qualifying utility that acquires an eligible renewable resource or renewable energy credit may count that acquisition at one and two-tenths times its base value:

(A) Where the eligible renewable resource comes from a facility that commenced operation after December 31, 2005; and

(B) Where the developer of the facility used apprenticeship programs approved by the council during facility construction.

(ii) The council shall establish minimum levels of labor hours to be met through apprenticeship programs to qualify for this extra credit.

~~((i))~~ (j) A qualifying utility shall be considered in compliance with an annual target in (a) of this subsection if events beyond the reasonable control of the utility that could not have been reasonably anticipated or ameliorated prevented it from meeting the renewable energy target. Such events include weather-related damage, mechanical failure, strikes, lockouts, and actions of a governmental authority that adversely affect the generation, transmission, or distribution of an eligible renewable resource under contract to a qualifying utility.

(3) Utilities that become qualifying utilities after December 31, 2006, shall meet the requirements in this section on a time frame comparable in length to that provided for qualifying utilities as of December 7, 2006."

Renumber the remaining section consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Hatfield: "Thank you Mr. President. Well this amendment does apply to solar and I request a ruling on the scope and object of it because I believe for the same arguments submitted on hydro power to this bill that the amendment on solar is also beyond the scope and object of the bill."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Senator Hatfield has raised the point of order that the amendment changes the scope and object of the underlying bill. If there are no objections, the President will take this under consideration and move to the next amendment."

MOTION

Senator Keiser moved that the following amendment by Senators Keiser and Rockefeller be adopted:

On page 5, after line 8, insert the following:

"Sec. 3. RCW 19.285.080 and 2007 c 1 s 8 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The commission may adopt rules to ensure the proper implementation and enforcement of this chapter as it applies to investor-owned utilities.

(2) The department shall adopt rules concerning only process, timelines, and documentation to ensure the proper implementation of this chapter as it applies to qualifying utilities that are not investor-owned utilities. Those rules include, but are not limited to, rules associated with a qualifying utility's development of conservation targets under RCW 19.285.040(1); a qualifying utility's decision to pursue alternative compliance in RCW 19.285.040(2) (d) or (i) or 19.285.050(1); and the format and content of reports required in RCW 19.285.070. Nothing in this subsection may be construed to restrict the rate-making authority of the commission or a qualifying utility as otherwise provided by law.

(3) The commission and department may coordinate in developing rules related to process, timelines, and documentation that are necessary for implementation of this chapter.

(4)(a) Pursuant to the administrative procedure act, chapter 34.05 RCW, rules needed for the implementation of this chapter must be adopted by December 31, ~~((2007))~~ 2011. These rules may be revised as needed to carry out the intent and purposes of this chapter.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5449, by Senators Brown, Pflug, Carrell, Harper, Murray, Hobbs, Fain, Delvin, Roach, Ericksen, Shin, Tom, Kohl-Welles and Kilmer

Regarding the unfair competition that occurs when stolen or misappropriated information technology is used to manufacture products sold or offered for sale in this state.

MOTION

FIFTY THIRD DAY, MARCH 3, 2011

On motion of Senator Brown, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5449 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5449 and the substitute bill was placed on the second reading and read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Brown moved that the following striking amendment by Senators Brown and Hill be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(1) "Article or product" means any tangible article or product, but excludes: (a) Any services sold, offered for sale, or made available in this state, including free services and online services; (b) any product subject to regulation by the United States food and drug administration and that is primarily used for medical or medicinal purposes; (c) food and beverages; and (d) restaurant services.

(2) "Copyrightable end product" means a work within the subject matter of copyright as specified by section 102 of the United States copyright act.

(3) "Essential component" means a component of an article or product provided or to be provided to a third party pursuant to a contract, including a purchase order, without which the article or product will not perform as intended and for which there is no substitute component available that offers a comparable range and quality of functionalities and is available in comparable quantities and at a comparable price.

(4) "Manufacture" means to directly manufacture, produce, or assemble an article or product subject to section 2 of this act, in whole or substantial part, but does not include contracting with or otherwise engaging another person, or that person engaging another person, to develop, manufacture, produce, or assemble an article or product subject to section 2 of this act.

(5) "Material competitive injury" means at least a three percent retail price difference between the article or product made in violation of section 2 of this act designed to harm competition and a directly competing article or product that was manufactured without the use of stolen or misappropriated information technology, with such a price difference occurring over a four-month period of time.

(6) "Retail price" means the retail price of stolen or misappropriated information technology charged at the time of, and in the jurisdiction where, the alleged theft or misappropriation occurred, multiplied by the number of stolen or misappropriated items used in the business operations of the person alleged to have violated section 2 of this act.

(7)(a) "Stolen or misappropriated information technology" means hardware or software that the person referred to in section 2 of this act acquired, appropriated, or used without the authorization of the owner of the information technology or the owner's authorized licensee in violation of applicable law, but does not include situations in which the hardware or software alleged to have been stolen or misappropriated was not available for retail purchase on a stand-alone basis at or before the time it was acquired, appropriated, or used by such a person.

(b) Information technology is considered to be used in a person's business operations if the person uses the technology in the manufacture, distribution, marketing, or sales of the articles or products subject to section 2 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. Any person who manufactures an article or product while using stolen or misappropriated information technology in its business operations after notice and opportunity to cure as provided in section 5 of this act and, with respect to remedies sought under section 6(6) or 7 of this act, causes a material competitive injury as a result of such use of stolen or misappropriated information technology, is deemed to engage in an unfair act where such an article or product is sold or offered for sale in this state, either separately or as a component of another article or product, and in competition with an article or product sold or offered for sale in this state that was manufactured without violating this section. A person who engages in such an unfair act, and any articles or products manufactured by the person in violation of this section, is subject to the liabilities and remedial provisions of this chapter in an action by the attorney general or any person described in section 6(5) of this act, except as provided in sections 3 through 9 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. No action may be brought under this chapter, and no liability results, where:

(1) The end article or end product sold or offered for sale in this state and alleged to violate section 2 of this act is:

(a) A copyrightable end product;

(b) Merchandise manufactured by or on behalf of, or pursuant to a license from, a copyright owner and which displays or embodies a name, character, artwork, or other indicia of or from a work that falls within (a) of this subsection, or merchandise manufactured by or on behalf of, or pursuant to a license from, a copyright or trademark owner and that displays or embodies a name, character, artwork, or other indicia of or from a theme park, theme park attraction, or other facility associated with a theme park; or

(c) Packaging, carrier media, or promotional or advertising materials for any end article, end product, or merchandise that falls within (a) or (b) of this subsection;

(2) The allegation that the information technology is stolen or misappropriated is based on a claim that the information technology or its use infringes a patent or misappropriates a trade secret under applicable law or that could be brought under any provision of Title 35 of the United States Code;

(3) The allegation that the information technology is stolen or misappropriated is based on a claim that the defendant's use of the information technology violates the terms of a license that allows users to modify and redistribute any source code associated with the technology free of charge; or

(4) The allegation is based on a claim that the person violated section 2 of this act by aiding, abetting, facilitating, or assisting someone else to acquire, appropriate, use, sell, or offer to sell, or by providing someone else with access to, information technology without authorization of the owner of the information technology or the owner's authorized licensee in violation of applicable law.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. No injunction may issue against a person other than the person adjudicated to have violated section 2 of this act, and no attachment order may issue against articles or products other than articles or products in which the person alleged to violate section 2 of this act holds title. A person other than the person alleged to violate section 2 of this act includes any person other than the actual manufacturer who contracts with or otherwise engages another person to develop, manufacture, produce, market, distribute, advertise, or assemble an article or product alleged to violate section 2 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. (1) No action may be brought under section 2 of this act unless the person subject to section 2 of this act received written notice of the alleged use of the stolen or misappropriated information technology from the owner or exclusive licensee of the information technology or the owner's agent and the person: (a) Failed to establish that its use of the information technology in question did not violate section 2 of this act; or (b) failed, within ninety days after receiving such a notice, to cease use of the owner's stolen or misappropriated information technology. However, if the person commences and thereafter proceeds diligently to replace the information technology with information technology whose use would not violate section 2 of this act, such a period must be extended for an additional period of ninety days, not to exceed one hundred eighty days total. The information technology owner or the owner's agent may extend any period described in this section.

(2) To satisfy the requirements of this section, written notice must, under penalty of perjury: (a) Identify the stolen or misappropriated information technology; (b) identify the lawful owner or exclusive licensee of the information technology; (c) identify the applicable law the person is alleged to be violating and state that the notifier has a reasonable belief that the person has acquired, appropriated, or used the information technology in question without authorization of the owner of the information technology or the owner's authorized licensee in violation of such applicable law; (d) to the extent known by the notifier, state the manner in which the information technology is being used by the defendant; (e) state the articles or products to which the information technology relates; and (f) specify the basis and the particular evidence upon which the notifier bases such an allegation.

(3) The written notification must state, under penalty of perjury, that, after a reasonable and good-faith investigation, the information in the notice is accurate based on the notifier's reasonable knowledge, information, and belief.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. (1) No earlier than ninety days after the provision of notice in accordance with section 5 of this act, the attorney general, or any person described in subsection (5) of this section, may bring an action against any person that is subject to section 2 of this act:

(a) To enjoin violation of section 2 of this act, including by enjoining the person from selling or offering to sell in this state articles or products that are subject to section 2 of this act, except as provided in subsection (6) of this section. However, such an injunction does not encompass articles or products to be provided to a third party that establishes that such a third party has satisfied one or more of the affirmative defenses set forth in section 8(1) of this act with respect to the manufacturer alleged to have violated section 2 of this act;

(b) Only after a determination by the court that the person has violated section 2 of this act, to recover the greater of:

(i) Actual damages, which may be imposed only against the person who violated section 2 of this act; or

(ii) Statutory damages of no more than the retail price of the stolen or misappropriated information technology, which may be imposed only against the person who violated section 2 of this act; or

(c) In the event the person alleged to have violated section 2 of this act has been subject to a final judgment or has entered into a final settlement, or any products manufactured by such a person and alleged to violate section 2 of this act have been the subject of an injunction or attachment order, in any federal or state court in this state or any other state, arising out of the same theft or misappropriation of information technology, the court shall dismiss the action. If such a person is a defendant in an ongoing action, or any products manufactured by such a person and alleged to violate section 2 of this act are the subject of an ongoing injunction or attachment order, in any federal or state court in this state or any other state, arising out of the same theft or misappropriation of information technology, the court shall stay the action against such a person pending resolution of the other action. In the event the other action results in a final judgment or final settlement, the court shall dismiss the action against the person.

(2) After determination by the court that a person has violated section 2 of this act and entry of a judgment against the person for violating section 2 of this act, the attorney general, or a person described in subsection (5) of this section, may add to the action a claim for actual damages against a third party who sells or offers to sell in this state products made by that person in violation of section 2 of this act, subject to the provisions of section 8 of this act. However, damages may be imposed against a third party only if:

(a) The third party was provided a copy of a written notice sent to the person alleged to have violated section 2 of this act that satisfies the requirements of section 5 of this act at least ninety days prior to the entry of the judgment;

(b) The person who violated section 2 of this act did not make an appearance or does not have sufficient attachable assets to satisfy a judgment against the person;

(c) Such a person either manufactured the final product or produced a component equal to thirty percent or more of the value of the final product;

(d) Such a person has a direct contractual relationship with the third party respecting the manufacture of the final product or component; and

(e) The third party has not been subject to a final judgment in any federal or state court in this state or any other state arising out of the same theft or misappropriation of information technology. However, in the event the third party is a party to an ongoing suit for damages, or has entered an appearance as an interested third party in proceedings in rem, in any federal or state court in this state or any other state arising out of the same theft or misappropriation of information technology, the court shall stay the action against the third party pending resolution of the other action. In the event the other action results in a final judgment, the court shall dismiss the action against the third party and any in rem action as to any articles or products manufactured for such a third party or that have been or are to be supplied to such a third party.

(3) An award of damages against such a third party pursuant to subsection (2) of this section must be the lesser of the retail price of the stolen or misappropriated information technology at issue or two hundred fifty thousand dollars, less any amounts recovered from the person adjudicated to have violated section 2 of this act, and subsection (4)(a) of this section does not apply to such an award or recovery against the third party.

(4) In an action under this chapter, a court may:

(a) Against the person adjudicated to have violated section 2 of this act, increase the damages up to three times the damages authorized by subsection (1)(b) of this section where the court finds that the person's use of the stolen or misappropriated information technology was willful;

(b) With respect to an award under subsection (1) of this section only, award costs and reasonable attorneys' fees to: (i) A prevailing plaintiff in actions brought by an injured person under section 2 of this act; or (ii) a prevailing defendant in actions brought by an allegedly injured person; and

(c) With respect to an action under subsection (2) of this section brought by a private plaintiff only, award costs and reasonable attorneys' fees to a third party who qualifies for an affirmative defense under section 8 of this act. However, in a case in which the third party received a copy of the notification described in subsection (2)(a) of this section at least ninety days before the filing of the action under subsection (2) of this section, with respect to a third party's reliance on the affirmative defenses set forth in section 8(1) (c) and (d) of this act, the court may award costs and reasonable attorneys' fees only if all of the conduct on which the affirmative defense is based was undertaken by the third party, and the third party notified the plaintiff of the conduct, prior to the end of the ninety-day period.

(5) A person is deemed to have been injured by the sale or offer for sale of a directly competing article or product subject to section 2 of this act if the person establishes by a preponderance of the evidence that:

FIFTY THIRD DAY, MARCH 3, 2011

2011 REGULAR SESSION

(a) The person manufactures articles or products that are sold or offered for sale in this state in direct competition with articles or products that are subject to section 2 of this act;

(b) The person's articles or products were not manufactured using stolen or misappropriated information technology of the owner of the information technology;

(c) The person suffered economic harm, which may be shown by evidence that the retail price of the stolen or misappropriated information technology was twenty thousand dollars or more; and

(d) If the person is proceeding in rem or seeks injunctive relief, that the person suffered material competitive injury as a result of the violation of section 2 of this act.

(6)(a) If the court determines that a person found to have violated section 2 of this act lacks sufficient attachable assets in this state to satisfy a judgment rendered against it, the court may enjoin the sale or offering for sale in this state of any articles or products subject to section 2 of this act, except as provided in section 4 of this act.

(b) To the extent that an article or product subject to section 2 of this act is an essential component of a third party's article or product, the court shall deny injunctive relief as to such an essential component, provided that the third party has undertaken good faith efforts within the third party's rights under its applicable contract with the manufacturer to direct the manufacturer of the essential component to cease the theft or misappropriation of information technology in violation of section 2 of this act, which may be satisfied, without limitation, by the third party issuing a written directive to the manufacturer demanding that it cease the theft or misappropriation and demanding that the manufacturer provide the third party with copies of invoices, purchase orders, licenses, or other verification of lawful use of the information technology at issue.

(7) The court shall determine whether a cure period longer than the period reflected in section 5 of this act would be reasonable given the nature of the use of the information technology that is the subject of the action and the time reasonably necessary either to bring such use into compliance with applicable law or to replace the information technology with information technology that would not violate section 2 of this act. If the court deems that a longer cure period would be reasonable, then the action shall be stayed until the end of that longer cure period. If by the end of that longer cure period, the defendant has established that its use of the information technology in question did not violate section 2 of this act, or the defendant ceased use of the stolen or misappropriated information technology, then the action must be dismissed.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. (1) In a case in which the court is unable to obtain personal jurisdiction over a person subject to section 2 of this act, the court may proceed in rem against any articles or products subject to section 2 of this act sold or offered for sale in this state in which the person alleged to have violated section 2 of this act holds title. Except as provided in section 4 of this act and subsection (2) through (4) of this section, all such articles or products are subject to attachment at or after the time of filing a complaint, regardless of the availability or amount of any monetary judgment.

(2) At least ninety days prior to the enforcement of an attachment order against articles or products pursuant to subsection (1) of this section, the court shall notify any person in possession of the articles or products of the pending attachment order. Prior to the expiration of the ninety day period, any person for whom the articles or products were manufactured, or to whom the articles or products have been or are to be supplied, pursuant to an existing contract or purchase order, may:

(a) Establish that the person has satisfied one or more of the affirmative defenses set forth in section 8(1) of this act with respect to the manufacturer alleged to have violated section 2 of this act, in which case the attachment order must be dissolved only with respect to those articles or products that were manufactured for such a person, or have been or are to be supplied to such a person, pursuant to an existing contract or purchase order; or

(b) Post a bond with the court equal to the retail price of the allegedly stolen or misappropriated information technology or twenty-five thousand dollars, whichever is less, in which case the court shall stay enforcement of the attachment order against the articles or products and shall proceed on the basis of its jurisdiction over the bond. The person posting the bond shall recover the full amount of such bond, plus interest, after the issuance of a final judgment.

(3) In the event the person posting the bond pursuant to subsection (2)(b) of this section is entitled to claim an affirmative defense in section 8 of this act, and that person establishes with the court that the person is entitled to any affirmative defense, the court shall award costs and reasonable attorneys' fees to the person posting the bond and against the plaintiff in the event the plaintiff proceeds with an action pursuant to section 6(2) of this act against the person posting the bond.

(4) In the event that the court does not provide notification as described in subsection (2) of this section, the court, upon motion of any third party, shall stay the enforcement of the attachment order for ninety days as to articles or products manufactured for the third party, or that have been or are to be supplied to the third party, pursuant to an existing contract or purchase order, during which ninety day period the third party may avail itself of the options set forth in subsection (2)(a) and (b) of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. (1) A court may not award damages against any third party pursuant to section 6(2) of this act where that party, after having been afforded reasonable notice of at least ninety days and opportunity to plead any of the affirmative defenses set forth in this subsection, establishes by a preponderance of the evidence any of the following:

(a) Such a person is the end consumer or end user of an article or product subject to section 2 of this act, or acquired the article or product after its sale to an end consumer or end user;

(b) Such a person is a business with annual revenues not in excess of fifty million dollars;

(c) The person acquired the articles or products:

(i) In good faith reliance on either: (A) A code of conduct or other written document that governs the person's commercial relationships with the manufacturer adjudicated to have violated section 2 of this act and which includes commitments, such as general commitments to comply with applicable laws, that prohibit use of the stolen or misappropriated information technology by such manufacturer; or (B) written assurances from the manufacturer of the articles or products that the articles or products, to the manufacturer's reasonable knowledge, were manufactured without the use of stolen or misappropriated information technology in the manufacturer's business operations. However, with respect to both (c)(i)(A) and (B) of this subsection, within one hundred eighty days of receiving written notice of the judgment against the manufacturer for a violation of section 2 of this act and a copy of a written notice that satisfies the requirements of section 5 of this act, the person must undertake commercially reasonable efforts to do any of the following:

(I) Exchange written correspondence confirming that such a manufacturer is not using the stolen or misappropriated information technology in violation of section 2 of this act, which may be satisfied, without limitation, by obtaining written assurances from the manufacturer accompanied by copies of invoices, purchase orders, licenses, or other verification of lawful use of the information technology at issue;

FIFTY THIRD DAY, MARCH 3, 2011

2011 REGULAR SESSION

(II) Direct the manufacturer to cease the theft or misappropriation, which may be satisfied, without limitation, by the third party issuing a written directive to the manufacturer demanding that it cease such theft or misappropriation and demanding that the manufacturer provide the third party with copies of invoices, purchase orders, licenses, or other verification of lawful use of the information technology at issue; or

(III) In a case in which the manufacturer has failed to cease such a theft or misappropriation within the one hundred eighty-day period, and the third party has not fulfilled either option (c)(i)(A) or (B) of this subsection, prevent the future acquisition of the articles or products from the manufacturer during the period that the manufacturer continues to engage in the theft or misappropriation subject to section 2 of this act where doing so would not constitute a breach of an agreement between the person and the manufacturer for the manufacture of the articles or products in question that was entered into on or before one hundred eighty days after the effective date of this section; or

(ii) Pursuant to an agreement between the person and a manufacturer for the manufacture of the articles or products in question that was entered into before one hundred eighty days after the effective date of this section. However, within one hundred eighty days of receiving written notice of the judgment against the manufacturer for a violation of section 2 of this act and a copy of a written notice that satisfies the requirements of section 5 of this act, the person must undertake commercially reasonable efforts to do any of the following:

(A) Obtain from the manufacturer written assurances that such a manufacturer is not using the stolen or misappropriated information technology in violation of section 2 of this act, which may be satisfied, without limitation, by obtaining written assurances from the manufacturer accompanied by copies of invoices, purchase orders, licenses, or other verification of lawful use of the information technology at issue;

(B) Direct the manufacturer to cease the theft or misappropriation, which may be satisfied, without limitation, by the third party issuing a written directive to the manufacturer demanding that it cease such theft or misappropriation and demanding that the manufacturer provide the third party with copies of invoices, purchase orders, licenses, or other verification of lawful use of the information technology at issue; or

(C) In a case in which the manufacturer has failed to cease the theft or misappropriation within the one hundred eighty-day period, and the third party has not fulfilled either option (c)(ii)(A) or (B) of this subsection, cease the future acquisition of the articles or products from the manufacturer during the period that the manufacturer continues to engage in the theft or misappropriation subject to section 2 of this act where doing so would not constitute a breach of such agreement;

(d) The person has made commercially reasonable efforts to implement practices and procedures to require its direct manufacturers, in manufacturing articles or products for such person, not to use stolen or misappropriated information technology in violation of section 2 of this act. A person may satisfy this subsection (1)(d) by:

(i) Adopting and undertaking commercially reasonable efforts to implement a code of conduct or similar written requirements, which are applicable to the person's direct manufacturers, that prohibit the use of stolen or misappropriated information technology by such a manufacturer, subject to a right of audit, and the person either: (A) Has a practice of auditing its direct manufacturers on a periodic basis in accordance with generally accepted industry standards; or (B) requires in its agreements with its direct manufacturers that they submit to audits by a third party, which may include a third-party association of businesses representing the owner of the stolen or misappropriated intellectual property, and further provides that a failure to remedy any deficiencies found in such an audit that constitute a violation of the applicable law of the jurisdiction where the deficiency occurred constitutes a breach of the contract, subject to cure within a reasonable period of time; or

(ii) Adopting and undertaking commercially reasonable efforts to implement a code of conduct or similar written requirements, which are applicable to the person's direct manufacturers, that prohibit use of stolen or misappropriated information technology by such a manufacturer, and the person undertakes practices and procedures to address compliance with the prohibition against the use of the stolen or misappropriated information technology in accordance with the applicable code of conduct or written requirements; or

(e) The person does not have a contractual relationship with the person alleged to have violated section 2 of this act respecting the manufacture of the articles or products alleged to have been manufactured in violation of section 2 of this act.

(2) A third party must have the opportunity to be heard regarding whether an article or product is an essential component provided or to be provided to a third party, and must have the right to file a motion to dismiss any action brought against it under section 6(2) of this act.

(3) The court may not enforce any award for damages against such a third party until after the court has ruled on that party's claim of eligibility for any of the affirmative defenses set out in this section, and prior to such a ruling may allow discovery, in an action under section 6(2) of this act, only on the particular defenses raised by the third party.

(4) The court shall allow discovery against a third party on an issue only after all discovery on that issue between the parties has been completed and only if the evidence produced as a result of the discovery does not resolve an issue of material dispute between the parties.

(5) Any confidential or otherwise sensitive information submitted by a party pursuant to this section is subject to a protective order.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. A court may not enforce an award of damages against a third party pursuant to section 6(2) of this act for a period of eighteen months from the effective date of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. A violation of this chapter may not be considered a violation of the state consumer protection act, and chapter 19.86 RCW does not apply to this chapter. The remedies provided under this chapter are the exclusive remedies for the parties.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. Sections 1 through 10 of this act constitute a new chapter in Title 19 RCW."

SENATE BILL NO. 5044, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "In ruling upon the Points of Order raised by Senator Hatfield as to whether Amendments 64, 23, and 69 to Senate Bill 5575 fit within the scope and object of the underlying bill, the President finds and rules as follows:

This legislation makes changes to the Energy Independence Act, approved by the voters in 2006 as Initiative Number 937. Very generally, I-937 set certain targets for energy conservation and use of renewable resources. The underlying bill relates specifically to biomass energy. It provides definitions and sets standards as to qualifying facilities and communities.

The President believes it is appropriate to harmonize and explain some of his past precedent on scope and object in approaching this particular ruling. In the past, the President has ruled that, in dealing with a particular subject or class, a bill often necessarily and inadvertently opens up that entire subject or class to modification, which can result in amendments being proposed which are drastically different from those envisioned by the proponents of a bill but still within the subject or class opened up by the plain language of the bill. The determining factor is always the way in which the underlying law is modified. This can often be a matter of careful drafting, and it is certainly the case that some sections of the law lend themselves more easily to discreet and precise changes than do others.

Merely mentioning a topic or class—for example, setting forth a statute in full because this is required by law—does not, however, mean that every single line set forth may be changed and fit within the scope and object of the bill. In those cases where only a discreet section is changed, the scope and object is similarly discreetly limited. One example might be changes in the criminal code which affect the sentencing grid: a bill on kidnapping, for instance, might require setting forth the full sentencing grid, but this would not mean that every crime within it was being re-visited and that any crime amendment would be within scope. Put another way, the limits of scope and object flow from the changes or additions to existing law within a bill, not every conceivable subject touched upon by the bill.

In the matter before us, had the underlying bill been adding biomass as a new form of renewable resource, then it might be that other renewable resources could also be added, such as hydroelectric or solar power. In fact, however, this is not how the bill is drafted. Instead of adding biomass to the class of eligible resources, the bill simply changes—albeit significantly and substantively—the definition of biomass already present in the underlying law. Consequently, amendments to this bill must also fit within the definitions of biomass energy and qualified biomass energy supplied by the bill. The proposed amendments introduce new subjects that are arguably within the scope of I-937 itself, but outside the scope and object of the discreet changes to the definitions of biomass within the bill before the body.

For these reasons, the President finds that the amendments are beyond the scope and object of the bill, and Senator Hatfield's points are well-taken."

The Senate resumed consideration of Senate Bill No. 5575 which had been deferred the previous day.

MOTION

Senator Nelson moved that the following striking amendment by Senator Nelson be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 19.285.030 and 2009 c 565 s 20 are each amended to read as follows:

The definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(1) "Attorney general" means the Washington state office of the attorney general.

(2) "Auditor" means: (a) The Washington state auditor's office or its designee for qualifying utilities under its jurisdiction that are not investor-owned utilities; or (b) an independent auditor selected by a qualifying utility that is not under the jurisdiction of the state auditor and is not an investor-owned utility.

FIFTY THIRD DAY, MARCH 3, 2011

(3) "Commission" means the Washington state utilities and transportation commission.

(4) "Conservation" means any reduction in electric power consumption resulting from increases in the efficiency of energy use, production, or distribution.

(5) "Cost-effective" has the same meaning as defined in RCW 80.52.030.

(6) "Council" means the Washington state apprenticeship and training council within the department of labor and industries.

(7) "Customer" means a person or entity that purchases electricity for ultimate consumption and not for resale.

(8) "Department" means the department of commerce or its successor.

(9) "Distributed generation" means an eligible renewable resource where the generation facility or any integrated cluster of such facilities has a generating capacity of not more than five megawatts.

(10) "Eligible renewable resource" means:

(a) Electricity from a generation facility powered by a renewable resource other than fresh water that commences operation after March 31, 1999, where: (i) The facility is located in the Pacific Northwest; or (ii) the electricity from the facility is delivered into Washington state on a real-time basis without shaping, storage, or integration services; or

(b) Incremental electricity produced as a result of efficiency improvements completed after March 31, 1999, to hydroelectric generation projects owned by a qualifying utility and located in the Pacific Northwest or to hydroelectric generation in irrigation pipes and canals located in the Pacific Northwest, where the additional generation in either case does not result in new water diversions or impoundments.

(11) "Investor-owned utility" has the same meaning as defined in RCW 19.29A.010.

(12) "Load" means the amount of kilowatt-hours of electricity delivered in the most recently completed year by a qualifying utility to its Washington retail customers.

(13) "Nonpower attributes" means all environmentally related characteristics, exclusive of energy, capacity reliability, and other electrical power service attributes, that are associated with the generation of electricity from a renewable resource, including but not limited to the facility's fuel type, geographic location, vintage, qualification as an eligible renewable resource, and avoided emissions of pollutants to the air, soil, or water, and avoided emissions of carbon dioxide and other greenhouse gases.

(14) "Pacific Northwest" has the same meaning as defined for the Bonneville power administration in section 3 of the Pacific Northwest electric power planning and conservation act (94 Stat. 2698; 16 U.S.C. Sec. 839a).

(15) "Public facility" has the same meaning as defined in RCW 39.35C.010.

(16) "Qualifying utility" means an electric utility, as the term "electric utility" is defined in RCW 19.29A.010, that serves more than twenty-five thousand customers in the state of Washington. The number of customers served may be based on data reported by a utility in form 861, "annual electric utility report," filed with the energy information administration, United States department of energy.

(17) "Renewable energy credit" means a tradable certificate of proof of at least one megawatt-hour of an eligible renewable resource where the generation facility is not powered by fresh water, the certificate includes all of the nonpower attributes associated with that one megawatt-hour of electricity, and the certificate is verified by a renewable energy credit tracking system selected by the department.

2011 REGULAR SESSION

(18) "Renewable resource" means: (a) Water; (b) wind; (c) solar energy; (d) geothermal energy; (e) landfill gas; (f) wave, ocean, or tidal power; (g) gas from sewage treatment facilities; (h) biodiesel fuel as defined in RCW 82.29A.135 that is not derived from crops raised on land cleared from old growth or first-growth forests where the clearing occurred after December 7, 2006; and (i) biomass energy ~~((based on animal waste or solid organic fuels from wood, forest, or field residues, or dedicated energy crops that do not include (i) wood pieces that have been treated with chemical preservatives such as creosote, pentachlorophenol, or copper-chrome-arsenic; (ii) black liquor by product from paper production; (iii) wood from old growth forests; or (iv) municipal solid waste)).~~

(19) "Rule" means rules adopted by an agency or other entity of Washington state government to carry out the intent and purposes of this chapter.

(20) "Year" means the twelve-month period commencing January 1st and ending December 31st.

(21)(a) "Biomass energy" includes: (i) By-products of pulping and wood manufacturing process; (ii) animal waste; (iii) solid organic fuels from wood; (iv) forest or field residues; (v) wooden demolition or construction debris; (vi) food waste; (vii) liquors derived from algae and other sources; (viii) dedicated energy crops; (ix) biosolids; and (x) yard waste.

(b) "Biomass energy" does not include wood pieces that have been treated with chemical preservatives such as: (i) Creosote, pentachlorophenol, or copper-chrome-arsenic; (ii) wood from old growth forests; or (iii) municipal solid waste."

On page 1, beginning on line 5 of the title, after "resource;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "and amending RCW 19.285.030."

WITHDRAWAL OF AMENDMENT

On motion of Senator Nelson, the striking amendment by Senator Nelson to Senate Bill No. 5575 was withdrawn.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Hatfield, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5575 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Senators Hatfield, Conway, Delvin and Honeyford spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

Senators Rockefeller and Nelson spoke against passage of the bill.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5575.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5575 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 28; Nays, 19; Absent, 0; Excused, 2.

Voting yea: Senators Baumgartner, Baxter, Becker, Benton, Carrell, Conway, Delvin, Eide, Ericksen, Fain, Hargrove, Hatfield, Haugen, Hobbs, Holmquist Newbry, Honeyford, King, Morton, Parlette, Pflug, Pridemore, Roach, Schoesler, Sheldon, Shin, Stevens, Swecker and Zarelli

Voting nay: Senators Brown, Chase, Fraser, Harper, Hill, Keiser, Kilmer, Kline, Kohl-Welles, Litzow, McAuliffe, Murray, Nelson, Prentice, Ranker, Regala, Rockefeller, Tom and White

FIFTY THIRD DAY, MARCH 3, 2011

2011 REGULAR SESSION

ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 5575, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the final passage of Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5000.

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "The President would like to mention a couple of things to the members since I have most of you here at this time that might help in the debate in the future that has been brought up to me recently. One is; addressing a member by name, in the House of Representatives that's not allowed but the tradition had been in the Senate for years that it was allowed so a couple years ago you changed the rule, Rule 29, to allow members to refer to each other by name. That is totally acceptable in the State Senate. The second issue that comes up is alluding to the House of Representatives. It's not whether you say, 'House of Representatives'; it's whether you're alluding to actions of past, present or future of the House of Representatives to influence the passage of legislation on this floor that is not allowed. You can reference the House of Representatives but not in reference to whether or not it will effect or have anything to do with the legislation that you are dealing with on the floor of the Senate. That is Reed's Rule 224. Thank you for your consideration of these issues and for asking for clarification."

"Sec. 1. RCW 29A.04.255 and 2004 c 266 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

The secretary of state or a county auditor shall accept and file in his or her office electronic (~~facsimile~~) transmissions of the following documents:

- (1) Declarations of candidacy;
- (2) County canvass reports;
- (3) Voters' pamphlet statements;
- (4) Arguments for and against ballot measures that will appear in a voters' pamphlet;
- (5) Requests for recounts;
- (6) Certification of candidates and measures by the secretary of state;
- (7) Direction by the secretary of state for the conduct of a (~~mandatory~~) recount;
- (8) Requests for (~~absentee~~) ballots;
- (9) Any other election related document authorized by rule adopted by the secretary of state under RCW (~~29A.04.610~~) 29A.04.611.

The acceptance by the secretary of state or the county auditor is conditional upon the document being filed in a timely manner, being legible, and otherwise satisfying the requirements of state law or rules with respect to form and content.

(If the original copy of a document must be signed and a copy of the document is filed by facsimile transmission under this section, the original copy must be subsequently filed with the official with whom the facsimile was filed. The original copy must be filed by a deadline established by the secretary by rule.) The secretary may by rule require that the original of any document, a copy of which is filed by (~~facsimile~~) electronic transmission under this section, also be filed by a deadline established by the secretary by rule.

Sec. 2. RCW 29A.04.311 and 2006 c 344 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(~~Nominating~~) Primaries for general elections to be held in November, and the election of precinct committee officers, must be held on the (~~third~~) first Tuesday of the preceding August.

Sec. 3. RCW 29A.04.321 and 2009 c 413 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) All state, county, city, town, and district general elections for the election of federal, state, legislative, judicial, county, city, town, and district officers, and for the submission to the voters of the state, county, city, town, or district of any measure for their adoption and approval or rejection, shall be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November, in the year in which they may be called. A statewide general election shall be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November of each year. However, the statewide general election held in odd-numbered years shall be limited to (a) city, town, and district general elections as provided for in RCW 29A.04.330, or as otherwise provided by law; (b) the election of federal officers for the remainder of any unexpired terms in the membership of either branch of the Congress of the United States; (c) the election of state and county officers for the remainder of any unexpired terms of offices created by or whose duties are described in Article II, section 15, Article III, sections 16, 17, 19, 20, 21, 22, and 23, and Article IV, sections 3 and 5 of the state Constitution and RCW 2.06.080; (d) the election of county officers in any county governed by a charter containing provisions calling for general county elections at this time; and (e) the approval or rejection of state measures, including proposed constitutional amendments, matters pertaining to any proposed constitutional convention, initiative measures and referendum measures proposed by the electorate, referendum bills, and any other matter provided by the legislature for submission to the electorate.

(2) A county legislative authority may call a special county election by presenting a resolution to the county auditor prior to the proposed election date. A special election called by the county legislative authority shall be held on one of the following dates as decided by such governing body:

- (a) The second Tuesday in February;
- (b) The third Tuesday in April until January 1, 2013;
- (c) The fourth Tuesday in April on or after January 1, 2013;
- (~~(e)~~) (d) The day of the primary as specified by RCW 29A.04.311; or
- (~~(d)~~) (e) The first Tuesday after the first Monday in November.

(3) A resolution calling for a special election on a date set forth in subsection (2)(a) (~~and (b)~~) through (c) of this section must be presented to the county auditor at least (~~forty five~~) forty six days prior to the election date. A resolution calling for a special election on a date set forth in subsection (2)(~~e~~) (~~or~~) (d) of this section must be presented to the county auditor (~~at least eighty four days prior to the election date~~) no later than the Friday immediately before the first day of regular candidate filing. A resolution calling for a special election on a date set forth in subsection (2)(e) of this section must be presented to the county auditor no later than the day of the primary.

FIFTY THIRD DAY, MARCH 3, 2011

2011 REGULAR SESSION

(4) In addition to the dates set forth in subsection (2)(a) through ~~((c))~~ (c) of this section, a special election to validate an excess levy or bond issue may be called at any time to meet the needs resulting from fire, flood, earthquake, or other act of God. Such county special election shall be noticed and conducted in the manner provided by law.

(5) This section shall supersede the provisions of any and all other statutes, whether general or special in nature, having different dates for such city, town, and district elections, the purpose of this section being to establish mandatory dates for holding elections ~~((except for those elections held pursuant to a home rule charter adopted under Article XI, section 4 of the state Constitution))~~. This section shall not be construed as fixing the time for holding primary elections, or elections for the recall of any elective public officer.

Sec. 4. RCW 29A.04.330 and 2009 c 413 s 4, 2009 c 144 s 3, and 2009 c 413 s 3 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) All city, town, and district general elections shall be held throughout the state of Washington on the first Tuesday following the first Monday in November in the odd-numbered years.

This section shall not apply to:

- (a) Elections for the recall of any elective public officer;
- (b) Public utility districts, conservation districts, or district elections at which the ownership of property within those districts is a prerequisite to voting, all of which elections shall be held at the times prescribed in the laws specifically applicable thereto;
- (c) Consolidation proposals as provided for in RCW 28A.315.235 and nonhigh capital fund aid proposals as provided for in chapter 28A.540 RCW; and
- (d) Special flood control districts consisting of three or more counties.

(2) The county auditor, as ex officio supervisor of elections, upon request in the form of a resolution of the governing body of a city, town, or district, presented to the auditor prior to the proposed election date, may call a special election in such city, town, or district, and for the purpose of such special election he or she may combine, unite, or divide precincts. Such a special election shall be held on one of the following dates as decided by the governing body:

- (a) The second Tuesday in February;
- (b) The third Tuesday in April until January 1, 2013;
- (c) The fourth Tuesday in April on or after January 1, 2013;
- ~~((e))~~ (d) The day of the primary election as specified by RCW 29A.04.311; or
- ~~((d))~~ (e) The first Tuesday after the first Monday in November.

(3) A resolution calling for a special election on a date set forth in subsection (2)(a) ~~((and (b)))~~ through (c) of this section must be presented to the county auditor at least ~~((forty-five))~~ forty-six days prior to the election date. A resolution calling for a special election on a date set forth in subsection (2)~~((e-or))~~ (d) of this section must be presented to the county auditor ~~((at least eighty-four days prior to the election date))~~ no later than the Friday immediately before the first day of regular candidate filing. A resolution calling for a special election on a date set forth in subsection (2)(e) of this section must be presented to the county auditor no later than the day of the primary.

(4) In addition to subsection (2)(a) through ~~((d))~~ (e) of this section, a special election to validate an excess levy or bond issue may be called at any time to meet the needs resulting from fire, flood, earthquake, or other act of God, except that no special election may be held between the first day for candidates to file for public office and the last day to certify the returns of the general election other than as provided in subsection (2)~~((e-and))~~ (d) and

(e) of this section. Such special election shall be conducted and notice thereof given in the manner provided by law.

(5) This section shall supersede the provisions of any and all other statutes, whether general or special in nature, having different dates for such city, town, and district elections, the purpose of this section being to establish mandatory dates for holding elections.

Sec. 5. RCW 29A.16.040 and 2004 c 266 s 10 are each amended to read as follows:

The county legislative authority of each county in the state hereafter formed shall, at their first session, divide their respective counties into election precincts and establish the boundaries of the precincts. The county auditor shall thereupon designate the voting place for each such precinct or whether the precinct is a vote by mail precinct.

(1) Precinct boundaries may be altered at any time as long as sufficient time exists prior to a given election for the necessary procedural steps to be honored. Except as permitted under subsection (5) of this section, no precinct ~~((boundaries))~~ changes may be ~~((changed))~~ made during the period starting ~~((on the thirtieth))~~ fourteen days prior to the first day for candidates to file for the primary election and ending with the day of the general election.

(2) The county legislative authority may establish by ordinance a limitation on the maximum number of active registered voters in each precinct within its jurisdiction. The limitation may be different for precincts based upon the method of voting used for such precincts and the number may be less than the number established by law, but in no case may the number exceed that authorized by law.

(3) Precincts in which voting machines or electronic voting devices are used may contain as many as nine hundred active registered voters. The number of poll-site ballot counting devices at each polling place is at the discretion of the auditor. The number of devices must be adequate to meet the expected voter turnout.

(4) On petition of twenty-five or more voters resident more than ten miles from any polling site, the county legislative authority shall establish a separate voting precinct therefor.

(5) The county auditor shall temporarily adjust precinct boundaries when a city or town annexes unincorporated territory to the city or town, or whenever unincorporated territory is incorporated as a city or town. The adjustment must be made as soon as possible after the approval of the annexation or incorporation. The temporary adjustment must be limited to the minimum changes necessary to accommodate the addition of the territory to the city or town, or to establish the eligible voters within the boundaries of the new city or town, and remains in effect only until precinct boundary modifications reflecting the annexation or incorporation are adopted by the county legislative authority.

(6) In determining the number of active registered voters for the purposes of this section, persons who are ongoing absentee voters under RCW 29A.40.040 shall not be counted. Nothing in this subsection may be construed as altering the vote tallying requirements of RCW 29A.60.230.

Sec. 6. RCW 29A.24.040 and 2006 c 344 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

A candidate may file his or her declaration of candidacy for an office by electronic means on a system specifically designed and authorized by a filing officer to accept filings.

(1) Filings that are received electronically must capture all information specified in RCW 29A.24.031 (1) through (4).

(2) Electronic filing may begin at 9:00 a.m. the first ~~((Monday in June))~~ day of the filing period and continue through 4:00 p.m. the ~~((following Friday))~~ last day of the filing period.

~~((3))~~ (3) In case of special filing periods established in this chapter, electronic filings may be accepted beginning at 9:00 a.m. on the first day of the special filing period through 4:00 p.m. the last day of the special filing period.)

Sec. 7. RCW 29A.24.050 and 2006 c 344 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

Except where otherwise provided by this title, declarations of candidacy for the following offices shall be filed during regular business hours with the filing officer (~~(no earlier than the first Monday in June)~~ beginning the Monday two weeks before Memorial day and ((no later than)) ending the following Friday in the year in which the office is scheduled to be voted upon:

(1) Offices that are scheduled to be voted upon for full terms or both full terms and short terms at, or in conjunction with, a state general election; and

(2) Offices where a vacancy, other than a short term, exists that has not been filled by election and for which an election to fill the vacancy is required in conjunction with the next state general election.

This section supersedes all other statutes that provide for a different filing period for these offices.

Sec. 8. RCW 29A.24.131 and 2004 c 271 s 115 are each amended to read as follows:

A candidate may withdraw his or her declaration of candidacy at any time before the close of business on the (~~Thursday~~) Monday following the last day for candidates to file under RCW 29A.24.050 by filing, with the officer with whom the declaration of candidacy was filed, a signed request that his or her name not be printed on the ballot. There shall be no withdrawal period for declarations of candidacy filed during special filing periods held under this title. (~~The filing officer may permit the withdrawal of a filing for the office of precinct committee officer at the request of the candidate at any time if no absentee ballots have been issued for that office and the ballots for that precinct have not been printed. The filing officer may permit the withdrawal of a filing for any elected office of a city, town, or special district at the request of the candidate at any time before a primary if the primary ballots for that city, town, or special district have not been ordered.~~) No filing fee may be refunded to any candidate who withdraws under this section. Notice of the deadline for withdrawal of candidacy and that the filing fee is not refundable shall be given to each candidate at the time he or she files.

Sec. 9. RCW 29A.24.141 and 2004 c 271 s 162 are each amended to read as follows:

A void in candidacy (~~(for a nonpartisan office)~~) occurs when an election (~~(for such office, except for the short term,)~~) has been scheduled and no valid declaration of candidacy has been filed for the position or all persons filing such valid declarations of candidacy have died or been disqualified.

Sec. 10. RCW 29A.24.171 and 2006 c 344 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

(Filings for a nonpartisan office shall be reopened for a period of three normal business days, such three-day period to be fixed by the election officer with whom such declarations of candidacy are filed and notice thereof given by notifying press, radio, and television in the county and by such other means as may now or hereafter be provided by law whenever before the eleventh Tuesday prior to a primary:

(1) A void in candidacy occurs;

(2) A vacancy occurs in any nonpartisan office leaving an unexpired term to be filled by an election for which filings have not been held; or

(3) A nominee for judge of the superior court entitled to a certificate of election pursuant to Article 4, section 29, Amendment 41 of the state Constitution, dies or is disqualified.

Candidacies validly filed within said three-day period shall appear on the ballot as if made during the earlier filing period.) If, prior to the first day of the regular filing period, a vacancy occurs in an office that is not scheduled to appear on the general election ballot, leaving an unexpired term for which a successor must be elected at the next general election, filings for that office shall be accepted during the regular filing period. The filing officer shall provide notice of the vacancy and filing period to newspapers, radio, and television in the county, and online. The position shall appear on the primary and general election ballots unless no primary is required or unless a candidate for superior court judge is entitled to a certificate of election pursuant to Article 4, section 29 of the state Constitution.

Sec. 11. RCW 29A.24.181 and 2006 c 344 s 8 are each amended to read as follows:

(~~Filings for a nonpartisan office (other than judge of the supreme court or superintendent of public instruction))~~ If, prior to the day of the primary, any of the following occur, filings shall be reopened for a period of three normal business days, such three-day period to be fixed by the (election officer with whom such declarations of candidacy are filed and notice thereof given by notifying press, radio, and television in the county and by such other means as may now or hereafter be provided by law, when) filing officer:

(1) A void in candidacy ((for such nonpartisan office)) occurs ((on or after the eleventh Tuesday prior to a primary but prior to the eleventh Tuesday before an election)) following the regular filing period and deadline to withdraw; or

(2) ((A nominee for judge of the superior court eligible after a contested primary for a certificate of election by Article 4, section 29, Amendment 41 of the state Constitution, dies or is disqualified within the ten-day period immediately following the last day allotted for a candidate to withdraw; or

(3) A vacancy occurs in any nonpartisan office on or after the eleventh Tuesday prior to a primary but prior to the eleventh Tuesday before an election leaving an unexpired term to be filled by an election for which filings have not been held.) A vacancy occurs in an office for which filings have not already been held, leaving an unexpired term for which a successor must be elected at the next general election.

The filing officer shall provide notice of the vacancy and filing period to newspapers, radio, and television in the county, and online. The position shall appear on the general election ballots unless a candidate for superior court judge is entitled to a certificate of election pursuant to Article 4, section 29 of the state Constitution.

The candidate receiving a plurality of the votes cast for that office in the general election shall be deemed elected. This section does not apply to voids in candidacy in the office of precinct committee officer, which are filled by appointment pursuant to RCW 29A.28.071.

Sec. 12. RCW 29A.24.191 and 2006 c 344 s 9 are each amended to read as follows:

A scheduled election shall be lapsed, the office deemed stricken from the ballot, no purported write-in votes counted, and no candidate certified as elected, when(=

~~(1) In an election for judge of the supreme court or superintendent of public instruction, a void in candidacy occurs on or after the eleventh Tuesday prior to a primary, public filings and the primary being an indispensable phase of the election process for such offices;~~

~~(2) Except as otherwise specified in RCW 29A.24.181, a nominee for judge of the superior court entitled to a certificate of election pursuant to Article 4, section 29, Amendment 41 of the state Constitution dies or is disqualified on or after the eleventh Tuesday prior to a primary;~~

~~(3) In other elections for nonpartisan office)) a void in candidacy occurs ((or a vacancy occurs involving an unexpired term~~

FIFTY THIRD DAY, MARCH 3, 2011

~~to be filed on or after the eleventh Tuesday prior to an election)) following the special three day filing period required by RCW 29A.24.181.~~

Sec. 13. RCW 29A.24.311 and 2004 c 271 s 117 are each amended to read as follows:

Any person who desires to be a write-in candidate and have such votes counted at a primary or election may file a declaration of candidacy with the officer designated in RCW 29A.24.070 not later than the day ~~((before the primary or election))~~ ballots must be mailed according to RCW 29A.40.070. Declarations of candidacy for write-in candidates must be accompanied by a filing fee in the same manner as required of other candidates filing for the office as provided in RCW 29A.24.091.

Votes cast for write-in candidates who have filed such declarations of candidacy and write-in votes for persons appointed by major political parties pursuant to RCW 29A.28.021 need only specify the name of the candidate in the appropriate location on the ballot in order to be counted. Write-in votes cast for any other candidate, in order to be counted, must designate the office sought and position number or political party, if the manner in which the write-in is done does not make the office or position clear.

No person may file as a write-in candidate where:

(1) At a general election, the person attempting to file either filed as a write-in candidate for the same office at the preceding primary or the person's name appeared on the ballot for the same office at the preceding primary;

(2) The person attempting to file as a write-in candidate has already filed a valid write-in declaration for that primary or election, unless one or the other of the two filings is for the office of precinct committeeperson;

(3) The name of the person attempting to file already appears on the ballot as a candidate for another office, unless one of the two offices for which he or she is a candidate is precinct committeeperson.

The declaration of candidacy shall be similar to that required by RCW 29A.24.031. No write-in candidate filing under this section may be included in any voter's pamphlet produced under chapter 29A.32 RCW unless that candidate qualifies to have his or her name printed on the general election ballot. The legislative authority of any jurisdiction producing a local voter's pamphlet under chapter 29A.32 RCW may provide, by ordinance, for the inclusion of write-in candidates in such pamphlets.

Sec. 14. RCW 29A.28.041 and 2006 c 344 s 12 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Whenever a vacancy occurs in the United States house of representatives or the United States senate from this state, the governor shall order a special election to fill the vacancy. Minor political party candidates and independent candidates may be nominated through the convention procedures provided in chapter 29A.20 RCW.

(2) Within ten days of such vacancy occurring, he or she shall issue a writ of election fixing a date for the ~~((special vacancy election not less than ninety days after the issuance of the writ, fixing a date for the primary for nominating major political party candidates for the special vacancy election not less than thirty days before the day fixed for holding the special vacancy election, fixing the dates for the special filing period, and designating the term or part of the term for which the vacancy exists))~~ primary at least seventy days after issuance of the writ, and fixing a date for the election at least seventy days after the date of the primary. If the vacancy is in the office of United States representative, the writ of election shall specify the congressional district that is vacant.

(3) If the vacancy occurs less than ~~((six))~~ eight months before a state general election and before the ~~((second Friday following the))~~ close of the filing period for that general election, the special primary, special vacancy election, and minor party and independent candidate nominating conventions must be held in concert with the state primary and state general election in that year.

(4) If the vacancy occurs on or after the first day for filing under RCW 29A.24.050 and on or before the ~~((second Friday following the))~~ close of the filing period, a special filing period of three normal business days shall be fixed by the governor and notice thereof given to all media, including press, radio, and television within the area in which the vacancy election is to be held, to the end that, insofar as possible, all interested persons will be aware of such filing period. ~~((The last day of the filing period shall not be later than the sixth Tuesday before the primary at which major political party candidates are to be nominated.))~~ The names of major political party candidates who have filed valid declarations of candidacy during this three-day period shall appear on the approaching primary ballot. The requirements of RCW 29A.20.131 do not apply to a minor political party or independent candidate convention held under this subsection.

(5) If the vacancy occurs later than the ~~((second Friday following the))~~ close of the filing period, a special primary ~~((special))~~ and vacancy election ~~((and the minor party and independent candidate conventions))~~ to fill the position shall be held after the next state general election but, in any event, no later than the ninetieth day following the November election.

Sec. 15. RCW 29A.36.010 and 2005 c 2 s 12 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

~~((On or before the day following the last day allowed for candidates to withdraw under RCW 29A.24.130))~~ Not later than the Tuesday following the regular filing period, the secretary of state shall certify to each county auditor a list of the candidates who have filed declarations of candidacy in his or her office for the primary. For each office, the certificate shall include the name of each candidate, his or her address, and his or her party preference or independent designation as shown on filed declarations.

Sec. 16. RCW 29A.40.070 and 2006 c 344 s 13 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Except where a recount or litigation ~~((under RCW 29A.68.011))~~ is pending, the county auditor ~~((shall have sufficient absentee ballots available for absentee voters of that county, other than overseas voters and service voters, at least twenty days before any primary, general election, or special election. The county auditor))~~ must mail ~~((absentee))~~ ballots to each voter ~~((for whom the county auditor has received a request nineteen days before the primary or election))~~ at least eighteen days before ~~((the))~~ each primary or election, and as soon as possible for all subsequent registration changes. ~~((For a request for an absentee ballot received after the nineteenth day before the primary or election, the county auditor shall make every effort to mail ballots within one business day, and shall mail the ballots within two business days)).~~

(2) ~~((At least thirty days before any primary, general election, or special election, the county auditor shall mail ballots to all overseas and service voters.))~~ Except where a recount or litigation is pending, the county auditor must mail ballots to each service and overseas voter at least thirty days before each special election and at least forty-five days before each primary or general election. A request for a ballot made by an overseas or service voter after that day must be processed immediately.

(3) A registered voter may obtain a replacement ballot if the ballot is destroyed, spoiled, lost, or not received by the voter. The voter may obtain the ballot by telephone request, by mail, electronically, or in person. The county auditor shall keep a record of each request for a replacement ballot.

(4) Each county auditor shall certify to the office of the secretary of state the dates the ballots ~~((prescribed in subsection (1) of this~~

FIFTY THIRD DAY, MARCH 3, 2011

2011 REGULAR SESSION

~~section were available and~~) were mailed, or the reason and date the ballots will be mailed if the ballots were not mailed timely.

((4) If absentee ballots will not be available or mailed as prescribed in subsection (1) of this section, the county auditor shall immediately certify to the office of the secretary of state when absentee ballots will be available and mailed. Copies of this certification must be provided to the county canvassing board, the press, jurisdictions with issues on the ballot in the election, and any candidates.

(5) If absentee ballots were not available or mailed as prescribed in subsection (1) of this section, for a reason other than a recount or litigation, the county auditor, in consultation with the certification and training program of the office of the secretary of state, shall submit a report to the office of the secretary of state outlining why the deadline was missed and what corrective actions will be taken in future elections to ensure that absentee ballots are available and mailed as prescribed in subsection (1) of this section.

(6)) Failure to ~~((have absentee ballots available and mailed)) mail ballots~~ as prescribed in ~~((subsection (1) of))~~ this section does not by itself provide a basis for an election contest or other legal challenge to the results of a primary, general election, or special election.

Sec. 17. RCW 29A.40.091 and 2010 c 125 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The county auditor shall send each voter a ballot, a security envelope in which to seal the ballot after voting, a larger envelope in which to return the security envelope, a declaration that the voter must sign, and instructions on how to obtain information about the election, how to mark the ballot, and how to return ~~((#))~~ the ballot to the county auditor.

(2) The ~~((instructions that accompany a ballot for a partisan primary must include instructions for voting the applicable ballot style, as provided in chapter 29A.36 RCW. The voter's name and address must be printed on the larger return envelope, which must also contain a declaration by the voter reciting his or her qualifications and stating that he or she))~~ voter must swear under penalty of perjury that he or she meets the qualifications to vote, and has not voted in any other jurisdiction at this election ~~((, together with a summary of the penalties for any violation of any of the provisions of this chapter)). The declaration must clearly inform the voter that it is illegal to vote if he or she is not a United States citizen; it is illegal to vote if he or she has been convicted of a felony and has not had his or her voting rights restored; and((, except as otherwise provided by law,)) it is illegal to cast a ballot or sign a return envelope on behalf of another voter. The ~~((return envelope must provide space for the))~~ voter ~~((to))~~ must indicate the date on which the ballot was voted and ~~((for the voter to))~~ sign the ~~((oath))~~ declaration. ~~((It))~~ The ballot materials must also contain a space so that the voter may include a telephone number. ~~((A summary of the applicable penalty provisions of this chapter must be printed on the return envelope immediately adjacent to the space for the voter's signature. The signature of the voter on the return envelope must affirm and attest to the statements regarding the qualifications of that voter and to the validity of the ballot. The return envelope may provide secrecy for the voter's signature and optional telephone number.))~~~~

(3) For overseas and service voters, the signed declaration on the return envelope constitutes the equivalent of a voter registration for the election or primary for which the ballot has been issued. Return envelopes for overseas and service voters must enable the ballot to be returned postage free if mailed through the United States postal service, United States armed forces postal service, or the postal service of a United States foreign embassy under 39 U.S.C. 3406.

~~((4) The voter must be instructed to either return the ballot to the county auditor ((by whom it was issued))~~ no later than 8:00 p.m. the day of the election or primary, or ~~((attach sufficient first class~~

~~postage, if applicable, and))~~ mail the ballot to the ~~((appropriate))~~ county auditor with a postmark no later than the day of the election or primary ~~((for which the ballot was issued.~~

~~—If the county auditor chooses to forward ballots, he or she must include with the ballot a clear explanation of the qualifications necessary to vote in that election and must also advise a voter with questions about his or her eligibility to contact the county auditor. This explanation may be provided on the ballot envelope, on an enclosed insert, or printed directly on the ballot itself. If the information is not included, the envelope must clearly indicate that the ballot is not to be forwarded and that return postage is guaranteed)).~~

Sec. 18. RCW 29A.40.110 and 2009 c 369 s 40 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The opening and subsequent processing of return envelopes for any primary or election may begin upon receipt. The tabulation of absentee ballots must not commence until after 8:00 p.m. on the day of the primary or election.

(2) All received ~~((absentee))~~ return envelopes must be placed in secure locations from the time of delivery to the county auditor until their subsequent opening. After opening the return envelopes, the county canvassing board shall place all of the ballots in secure storage until ~~((after 8:00 p.m. of the day of the primary or election))~~ processing. ~~((Absentee ballots that are to be tabulated on an electronic vote tallying system))~~ Ballots may be taken from the inner envelopes and all the normal procedural steps may be performed to prepare these ballots for tabulation.

(3) ~~((Before opening a returned absentee ballot,))~~ The canvassing board, or its designated representatives, shall examine the postmark~~((statement,))~~ on the return envelope and signature on the ~~((return envelope that contains the security envelope and absentee ballot))~~ declaration before processing the ballot. The ballot must either be received no later than 8:00 p.m. on the day of the primary or election, or must be postmarked no later than the day of the primary or election. All personnel assigned to verify signatures must receive training on statewide standards for signature verification. Personnel shall verify that the voter's signature on the ~~((return envelope))~~ ballot declaration is the same as the signature of that voter in the registration files of the county. Verification may be conducted by an automated verification system approved by the secretary of state. ~~((For any absentee ballot,))~~ A variation between the signature of the voter on the ~~((return envelope))~~ ballot declaration and the signature of that voter in the registration files due to the substitution of initials or the use of common nicknames is permitted so long as the surname and handwriting are clearly the same.

(4) ~~((For registered voters casting absentee ballots))~~ If the postmark is missing or illegible, the date on the ((return envelope)) ballot declaration to which the voter has attested determines the validity, as to the time of voting, for that ~~((absentee))~~ ballot ~~((if the postmark is missing or is illegible))~~. For overseas voters and service voters, the date on the ~~((return envelope))~~ declaration to which the voter has attested determines the validity, as to the time of voting, for that ~~((absentee))~~ ballot. Any overseas voter or service voter may return the signed declaration and voted ballot by fax or email by 8:00 p.m. on the day of the primary or election.

Sec. 19. RCW 29A.56.030 and 2006 c 344 s 15 are each amended to read as follows:

The name of any candidate for a major political party nomination for president of the United States shall be printed on the presidential preference primary ballot of a major political party only:

(1) By direction of the secretary of state, who in the secretary's sole discretion has determined that the candidate's candidacy is generally advocated or is recognized in national news media; or

FIFTY THIRD DAY, MARCH 3, 2011

(2) If members of the political party of the candidate have presented a petition for nomination of the candidate that has attached to the petition a sheet or sheets containing the signatures of at least one thousand registered voters who declare themselves in the petition as being affiliated with the same political party as the presidential candidate. The petition shall be filed with the secretary of state not later than ~~((sixty))~~ seventy-five days before the presidential preference primary. The signature sheets shall also contain the residence address and name or number of the precinct of each registered voter whose signature appears thereon and shall be certified in the manner prescribed in RCW 29A.72.230 and 29A.72.240.

The secretary of state shall place the name of the candidate on the ballot unless the candidate, at least ~~((fifty-two))~~ sixty-seven days before the presidential preference primary, executes and files with the secretary of state an affidavit stating without qualification that he or she is not now and will not become a candidate for the office of president of the United States at the forthcoming presidential election. The secretary of state shall certify the names of all candidates who will appear on the presidential preference primary ballot to the respective county auditors on or before the fourth Tuesday in April of each presidential election year.

Sec. 20. RCW 29A.60.190 and 2006 c 344 s 16 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided by subsection ~~((3))~~ (2) of this section, ~~((fifteen))~~ fourteen days after a primary or special election and twenty-one days after a general election, the county canvassing board shall complete the canvass and certify the results. The county canvassing board must complete the canvass and certify the results of the April 17, 2012, special election ten days after election day. Each ~~((absentee))~~ ballot that was returned before ~~((the closing of the polls))~~ 8:00 p.m. on the day of the special election, general election, or primary, and each ~~((absentee))~~ ballot bearing a postmark on or before the date of the ~~((primary or))~~ special election, general election, or primary and received ~~((on or before the date on which the primary or election is certified))~~ no later than the day before certification, must be included in the canvass report.

(2) ~~((At the request of a caucus of the state legislature, the county auditor shall transmit copies of all unofficial returns of state and legislative primaries or elections prepared by or for the county canvassing board to either the secretary of the senate or the chief clerk of the house of representatives.~~

(3)) On or before the thirtieth day after an election conducted under the instant runoff voting method for the pilot project authorized by RCW 29A.53.020, the canvassing board shall complete the canvass and certify the results.

Sec. 21. RCW 29A.60.190 and 2006 c 344 s 17 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((15))~~ Fourteen days after a primary or special election and twenty-one days after a general election, the county canvassing board shall complete the canvass and certify the results. Each ~~((absentee))~~ ballot that was returned before ~~((the closing of the polls))~~ 8:00 p.m. on the day of the special election, general election, or primary, and each ~~((absentee))~~ ballot bearing a postmark on or before the date of the ~~((primary or))~~ special election, general election, or primary and received ~~((on or before the date on which the primary or election is certified))~~ no later than the day before certification, must be included in the canvass report.

~~((2) At the request of a caucus of the state legislature, the county auditor shall transmit copies of all unofficial returns of state and legislative primaries or elections prepared by or for the county canvassing board to either the secretary of the senate or the chief clerk of the house of representatives.))~~

Sec. 22. RCW 29A.60.240 and 2003 c 111 s 1524 are each amended to read as follows:

2011 REGULAR SESSION

The secretary of state shall, as soon as possible but in any event not later than ~~((the third Tuesday))~~ seventeen days following the primary, canvass and certify the returns of all primary elections as to candidates for state offices, United States senators and representatives in Congress, and all other candidates whose district extends beyond the limits of a single county.

Sec. 23. RCW 29A.64.011 and 2004 c 271 s 177 are each amended to read as follows:

An officer of a political party or any person for whom votes were cast in a primary who ~~((was not declared nominated))~~ did not qualify for the general election may file a written application for a recount of the votes or a portion of the votes cast at that primary for all persons for whom votes were cast for ~~((nomination to))~~ that office.

An officer of a political party or any person for whom votes were cast at any election may file a written application for a recount of the votes or a portion of the votes cast at that election for all candidates for election to that office.

Any group of five or more registered voters may file a written application for a recount of the votes or a portion of the votes cast upon any question or issue. They shall designate one of the members of the group as chair and shall indicate the voting residence of each member of the group.

An application for a recount of the votes cast for an office or on a ballot measure must be filed with the officer with whom filings are made for the jurisdiction.

An application for a recount must specify whether the recount will be done manually or by the vote tally system. A recount done by the vote tally system must use programming that recounts and reports only the office or ballot measure in question. The county shall also provide for a test of the logic and accuracy of that program.

An application for a recount must be filed within ~~((three))~~ two business days after the county canvassing board or secretary of state has declared the official results of the primary or election for the office or issue for which the recount is requested.

This chapter applies to the recounting of votes cast by paper ballots and to the recounting of votes recorded on ballots counted by a vote tally system.

Sec. 24. RCW 29A.64.030 and 2005 c 243 s 20 are each amended to read as follows:

An application for a recount shall state the office for which a recount is requested and whether the request is for all or only a portion of the votes cast in that jurisdiction of that office. The person filing an application for a manual recount shall, at the same time, deposit with the county canvassing board or secretary of state, in cash or by certified check, a sum equal to twenty-five cents for each ballot cast in the jurisdiction or portion of the jurisdiction for which the recount is requested as security for the payment of any costs of conducting the recount. If the application is for a machine recount, the deposit must be equal to fifteen cents for each ballot. These charges shall be determined by the county canvassing board or boards under RCW 29A.64.081.

The county canvassing board shall determine the date, time, and place or places at which the recount will be conducted. Not less than ~~((two days))~~ one day before the date of the recount, the county auditor shall ~~((mail a notice of the time and place of the recount to))~~ notify the applicant or affected parties and, if the recount involves an office, to any person for whom votes were cast for that office of the date, time, and place of the recount. ~~((The county auditor shall also notify the affected parties by either telephone, fax, e-mail, or other electronic means at the time of mailing. At least three attempts must be made over a two-day period to notify the affected parties or until the affected parties have received the notification. Each attempt to notify affected parties must request a return response~~ indicating that the notice has been received.) Each person entitled to receive notice of the recount may attend, witness the recount, and be accompanied by counsel.

Proceedings of the canvassing board are public under chapter 42.30 RCW. Subject to reasonable and equitable guidelines adopted by the canvassing board, all interested persons may attend and witness a recount.

Sec. 25. RCW 29A.68.011 and 2007 c 374 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

Any justice of the supreme court, judge of the court of appeals, or judge of the superior court in the proper county shall, by order, require any person charged with error, wrongful act, or neglect to forthwith correct the error, desist from the wrongful act, or perform the duty and to do as the court orders or to show cause forthwith why the error should not be corrected, the wrongful act desisted from, or the duty or order not performed, whenever it is made to appear to such justice or judge by affidavit of an elector that:

- (1) An error or omission has occurred or is about to occur in printing the name of any candidate on official ballots; or
- (2) An error other than as provided in subsections (1) and (3) of this section has been committed or is about to be committed in printing the ballots; or
- (3) The name of any person has been or is about to be wrongfully placed upon the ballots; or
- (4) A wrongful act other than as provided for in subsections (1) and (3) of this section has been performed or is about to be performed by any election officer; or
- (5) Any neglect of duty on the part of an election officer other than as provided for in subsections (1) and (3) of this section has occurred or is about to occur; or
- (6) An error or omission has occurred or is about to occur in the official certification of the election.

An affidavit of an elector under subsections (1) and (3) of this section when relating to a primary election must be filed with the appropriate court no later than ~~((the second Friday))~~ two days following the closing of the filing period ~~((for nominations))~~ for such office and shall be heard and finally disposed of by the court not later than five days after the filing thereof. An affidavit of an elector under subsections (1) and (3) of this section when relating to a general election must be filed with the appropriate court no later than three days following the official certification of the primary election returns and shall be heard and finally disposed of by the court not later than five days after the filing thereof. An affidavit of an elector under subsection (6) of this section shall be filed with the appropriate court no later than ten days following the official certification of the election as provided in RCW 29A.60.190, 29A.60.240, or 29A.60.250 or, in the case of a recount, ten days after the official certification of the amended abstract as provided in RCW 29A.64.061.

Sec. 26. RCW 29A.76.010 and 2003 c 111 s 1901 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) It is the responsibility of each county, municipal corporation, and special purpose district with a governing body comprised of internal director, council, or commissioner districts not based on statutorily required land ownership criteria to periodically redistrict its governmental unit, based on population information from the most recent federal decennial census.

(2) Within forty-five days after receipt of federal decennial census information applicable to a specific local area, the commission established in RCW 44.05.030 shall forward the census information to each municipal corporation, county, and district charged with redistricting under this section.

(3) No later than eight months after its receipt of federal decennial census data, the governing body of the municipal corporation, county, or district shall prepare a plan for redistricting its internal or director districts.

(4) The plan shall be consistent with the following criteria:

- (a) Each internal director, council, or commissioner district shall be as nearly equal in population as possible to each and every other such district comprising the municipal corporation, county, or special purpose district.
- (b) Each district shall be as compact as possible.
- (c) Each district shall consist of geographically contiguous area.
- (d) Population data may not be used for purposes of favoring or disfavoring any racial group or political party.
- (e) To the extent feasible and if not inconsistent with the basic enabling legislation for the municipal corporation, county, or district, the district boundaries shall coincide with existing recognized natural boundaries and shall, to the extent possible, preserve existing communities of related and mutual interest.

(5) During the adoption of its plan, the municipal corporation, county, or district shall ensure that full and reasonable public notice of its actions is provided. The municipal corporation, county, or district shall hold at least one public hearing on the redistricting plan at least one week before adoption of the plan.

(6)(a) Any registered voter residing in an area affected by the redistricting plan may request review of the adopted local plan by the superior court of the county in which he or she resides, within ~~((forty-five))~~ fifteen days of the plan's adoption. Any request for review must specify the reason or reasons alleged why the local plan is not consistent with the applicable redistricting criteria. The municipal corporation, county, or district may be joined as respondent. The superior court shall thereupon review the challenged plan for compliance with the applicable redistricting criteria set out in subsection (4) of this section.

(b) If the superior court finds the plan to be consistent with the requirements of this section, the plan shall take effect immediately.

(c) If the superior court determines the plan does not meet the requirements of this section, in whole or in part, it shall remand the plan for further or corrective action within a specified and reasonable time period.

(d) If the superior court finds that any request for review is frivolous or has been filed solely for purposes of harassment or delay, it may impose appropriate sanctions on the party requesting review, including payment of attorneys' fees and costs to the respondent municipal corporation, county, or district.

Sec. 27. RCW 42.12.070 and 1994 c 223 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

A vacancy on an elected nonpartisan governing body of a special purpose district where property ownership is not a qualification to vote, a town, or a city other than a first-class city or a charter code city, shall be filled as follows unless the provisions of law relating to the special district, town, or city provide otherwise:

(1) Where one position is vacant, the remaining members of the governing body shall appoint a qualified person to fill the vacant position.

(2) Where two or more positions are vacant and two or more members of the governing body remain in office, the remaining members of the governing body shall appoint a qualified person to fill one of the vacant positions, the remaining members of the governing body and the newly appointed person shall appoint another qualified person to fill another vacant position, and so on until each of the vacant positions is filled with each of the new appointees participating in each appointment that is made after his or her appointment.

(3) If less than two members of a governing body remain in office, the county legislative authority of the county in which all or the largest geographic portion of the city, town, or special district is located shall appoint a qualified person or persons to the governing body until the governing body has two members.

(4) If a governing body fails to appoint a qualified person to fill a vacancy within ninety days of the occurrence of the vacancy, the authority of the governing body to fill the vacancy shall cease and the county legislative authority of the county in which all or the largest geographic portion of the city, town, or special district is located shall appoint a qualified person to fill the vacancy.

(5) If the county legislative authority of the county fails to appoint a qualified person within one hundred eighty days of the occurrence of the vacancy, the county legislative authority or the remaining members of the governing body of the city, town, or special district may petition the governor to appoint a qualified person to fill the vacancy. The governor may appoint a qualified person to fill the vacancy after being petitioned if at the time the governor fills the vacancy the county legislative authority has not appointed a qualified person to fill the vacancy.

(6) As provided in (~~RCW 29.15.190 and 29.21.410~~) chapter 29A.24 RCW, each person who is appointed shall serve until a qualified person is elected at the next election at which a member of the governing body normally would be elected (~~(that occurs twenty eight or more days after the occurrence of the vacancy)~~). If needed, special filing periods shall be authorized as provided in (~~RCW 29.15.170 and 29.15.180~~) chapter 29A.24 RCW for qualified persons to file for the vacant office. A primary shall be held to (~~(nominate)~~) qualify candidates if sufficient time exists to hold a primary and more than two candidates file for the vacant office. Otherwise, a primary shall not be held and the person receiving the greatest number of votes shall be elected. The person elected shall take office immediately and serve the remainder of the unexpired term.

If an election for the position that became vacant would otherwise have been held at this general election date, only one election to fill the position shall be held and the person elected to fill the succeeding term for that position shall take office immediately when qualified as defined in RCW (~~(29.01.135)~~) 29A.04.133 and shall service both the remainder of the unexpired term and the succeeding term.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 28. The following acts or parts of acts are each repealed:

Senators Pridemore, Swecker and Hobbs spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

Senator White spoke on final passage of the bill.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator White: "If the gentleman from the Fourth-Fourth District would yield to a question? I would just like to get one clarification regarding the signing of declaration of privacy related to ballots for military voters?"

President Owen: "He does not yield."

Senators Hargrove and Roach spoke against passage of the bill.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Eide, further consideration of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5171 was deferred and the bill held its place on the third reading calendar.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5427, by Senator McAuliffe

Regarding an assessment of students in state-funded full-day kindergarten classrooms.

MOTIONS

FIFTY THIRD DAY, MARCH 3, 2011

2011 REGULAR SESSION

On motion of Senator McAuliffe, Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5427 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5427 and the second substitute bill was placed on the second reading and read the second time.

On motion of Senator McAuliffe, the rules were suspended, Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5427 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Senators McAuliffe, Litzow, Tom, Brown, Shin and Murray spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

Senators Zarelli and Parlette spoke against passage of the bill.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Carrell: "Would Senator McAuliffe yield to a question? I'm just reading on the second page of the bill, if I could ask you a question and clarification something. It says beginning with the 2012-13 school year to the extent funds are available 'identify the skills', understood, 'knowledge' and then it says 'characteristics.' Could you help me understand what characteristics this bill would be looking at?"

Senator McAuliffe: "I think to really define that right here and now, it's probably not going to be ok. I think I'd really like to talk to the stakeholders to find out what they see when they do the pilots. When I have seen the pilot, Senator. I have seen them look to see whether a child had a learning need, whether they were socially or emotionally developed as the other children were. Those are the kinds of things that I have observed. However, I would not want to clearly define every characteristic but in visiting the pilots you can see that they look for different characteristics that children have and what they are learning needs, social needs and emotional needs might be."

Senator Benton spoke against passage of the bill.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Pridemore, Senator Hobbs was excused.

Senators Schoesler and Roach spoke against passage of the bill.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Ranker, Senators Hatfield and Hobbs were excused.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Honeyford: "If those terms are verbatim, how may we refer to that, those other people?"

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "You may not. Your rules do not allow you to reference the actions of the other body of what they may do or have done or are doing to influence the passage of a piece of legislation in this body. You may not allude to the other house no matter how you call them. Period. One last clarification, when you get into conference or you get into disputes between the two houses of course then it's necessary to do so but as you are deciding on pieces of legislation here and House bills here you may not reference the other body in any manner."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Honeyford: "May we refer them as the unmentionables?"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Roach: "May I ask a question of the maker of the bill?"

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5188, by Senators Becker, Haugen, Swecker, Stevens, King, Fain, Delvin, Holmquist Newbry, Honeyford and Hewitt

Harmonizing certain traffic control signal provisions relative to yellow change intervals and certain fine amount limitations. Revised for 1st Substitute: Harmonizing certain traffic control signal provisions relative to yellow change intervals, certain fine amount limitations, and certain signage and reporting requirements.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Stevens: "Thank you Mr. President, I believe that the committee amendment offered is beyond the scope and object of the underlying bill. The underlying bill is a restricted bill. It limits the use of red light cameras. The bill only does two things: it restricts the use of red light cameras by limiting the fine probable for the violation detected through the use of red light cameras; and, number two, it prohibits the reduction of time it takes for the light to turn from yellow to red. By contrast the committee amendment expands the use of the red light camera by expanding the location and the ability to use the red light camera to include intersections with more than two arterials. For these reasons I believe the amendment offered is outside the scope of the object of the underlying bill and I respectfully request a ruling thereon."

Senator Haugen spoke on the point of order.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Eide, further consideration of Senate Bill No. 5188 was deferred and the bill held its place on the second reading calendar.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Zarelli, the rules were suspended, Senate Joint Resolution No. 8206 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the resolution was placed on final passage.

Senator Zarelli spoke in favor of passage of the resolution.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Hargrove: "Would Senator Zarelli yield to a question? Thank you Senator. In general this sounds like a great idea but I'm a little concerned when we have a biennium or two that goes negative like we're doing right now, so could you give me a little bit of a snap shot if we have a couple biennium's in a row that went negative how this one-third would apply? You know negative times negative and how all that works and since we're putting this in the constitution."

Senator Zarelli: "Yes, this is one of the changes that we made in this bill is to recognize that during times of severe recession obviously revenue goes down considerably and one would expect coming out of that recession you have exceptional revenue built. So, we've exempted those first two biennium moving out from the average that would be required to be put in the rainy day fund. So, it gives us the ability, with the change that we made to this version of this amendment, to recognize that we will potentially have exceptional growth coming out of that recession era period but would not be required to then put that revenue away."

Senator Murray spoke in favor of passage of the resolution.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the final passage of Senate Joint Resolution No. 8206.

ROLL CALL

WHEREAS, Sheriff Cumming has also served the community with his many countless hours as a volunteer, and we are indebted for his service to our community; and

WHEREAS, Sheriff Cumming has consolidated and improved the efficiency and effectiveness of dispatch units in the county; and

WHEREAS, Sheriff Cumming has worked to acquire critical watercraft operated and maintained by the department to serve the police, medical, and emergency transportation needs of the county; and

WHEREAS, He collaborated with San Juan Islands Emergency Medical Services to retrofit a Sheriff's Department boat, known as "The Guardian," into a fully licensed ambulance that could serve as a backup in shuttling critical care patients to the mainland when planes and helicopters were grounded by bad weather; and

WHEREAS, Sheriff Cumming often piloted "The Guardian" when weather conditions were extreme, because his expertise and knowledge of the islands and the water remain second to none; and

WHEREAS, In the last few years, several lives have been saved because of his willingness to put himself out there on the line, demonstrating how he has been a real hero for his community; and

WHEREAS, He worked relentlessly to help pass levies to keep schools and other community programs like Island Recreation going on schedule; and

WHEREAS, He fathered two sons, Dan and Tim Cumming, who have successfully launched into their own lives at Johns Hopkins University and Pacific Lutheran University; and

WHEREAS, Sheriff Cumming has overseen the modernization and enhancements of the Sheriff's Department and its ability to quickly respond, both on land and water; and

WHEREAS, Sheriff Cumming's retirement signifies the end of a great era in law enforcement and public safety, while allowing him to begin anew; and

WHEREAS, His professional career may have come to an end, but his legacy of true dedication as a public servant will continuously live on through those who had the pleasure to know and work with him, and the paths of leadership he left behind;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington State Senate recognize and congratulate Sheriff William Cumming for his twenty-four years as Sheriff and his dedication to the citizens of San Juan County and the State of Washington; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution honoring him be immediately transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to Sheriff William Cumming, Mrs. Maude Cumming, and Mr. Tim and Dan Cumming; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution honoring Sheriff Cumming be immediately transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to the San Juan County Sheriff's Department, the San Juan Islander, the Island Guardian, the Island Sounder, and the Journal of San Juans.

MOTION

On motion of Senator White, Senator Murray was excused.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Roach: "Would Senator Keiser yield to a question? It says in the summary of the bill about flood damage being enormous and the potential of that is certainly there. It says our goal is to remove one-hundred percent of the homes that are at risk of flooding. Is the intent then to buy up property and remove the homes through some sort of eminent domain situation or what... Am I reading this right?"

Senator Keiser: "I cannot speak for the testimony that was given in terms of the flood plain in the Green River Valley and FEMA is currently redoing the maps for the entire valley. We don't have final determination of what really is at risk but in fact we do have concerns that if we have people living, especially if they're living in areas that could be inundated, that we have some way to protect their property and their lives. The King County Flood district is mostly incorporated and in place to repair levies and provide public safety."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Ericksen, Senator Zarelli was excused.

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 69.07 RCW to read as follows:

(1) A cottage food operation licensed by the department is exempt from prohibitions against the use of a home kitchen under provisions of rules adopted by the department or the Washington state food service code.

(2) A cottage food operation licensed by the department is not subject to permitting and inspection by local health jurisdictions under the Washington state food service code except in response to a foodborne outbreak or other public health emergency.

(3) A cottage food operation must package and properly label for sale to the consumer any food it produces, and the food may not be repackaged or used as an ingredient in other foods by a food processing plant or food service establishment.

(4) A cottage food operation must place on the label of any food it produces or packages, at a minimum, the following information:

(a) The name and address of the business of the cottage food operation;

(b) The name of the cottage food product;

(c) The ingredients of the cottage food product, in descending order of predominance by weight;

(d) The net weight or net volume of the cottage food product;

(e) Allergen labeling as specified by federal labeling requirements;

(f) If any nutritional claim is made, appropriate labeling as specified by federal labeling requirements;

(g) The following statement printed in at least the equivalent of eleven-point font size in a color that provides a clear contrast to the background: "Made in a home kitchen."

(5) Cottage food products may not be sold by internet or mail order or for resale outside the state.

(6) The gross sales of cottage food products may not exceed ten thousand dollars annually. The determination of the ten thousand dollar annual gross sales shall be computed on the basis of the amount of gross sales within or at a particular domestic residence and shall not be computed on a per person basis within or at that domestic residence. The department may request in writing documentation to verify the annual gross sales figure.

(7) Cottage food products must be stored only in the primary domestic residence.

(8) This section does not affect the application of any other state or federal laws or any applicable ordinances enacted by any local unit of government.

Sec. 2. RCW 69.07.010 and 1992 c 34 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(For the purposes of) The definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter(;) unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(6) "Food processing plant" includes but is not limited to any premises, plant, establishment, building, room, area, facilities and the appurtenances thereto, in whole or in part, where food is prepared, handled or processed in any manner for distribution or sale for resale by retail outlets, restaurants, and any such other facility selling or distributing to the ultimate consumer: PROVIDED, That, as set forth herein, establishments processing foods in any manner for resale shall be considered a food processing plant as to such processing(;).

(7) "Food service establishment" shall mean any fixed or mobile restaurant, coffee shop, cafeteria, short order cafe, luncheonette, grill, tearoom, sandwich shop, soda fountain, tavern, bar, cocktail lounge, night club, roadside stand, industrial-feeding establishment, retail grocery, retail food market, retail meat market, retail bakery, private, public, or nonprofit organization routinely serving food, catering kitchen, commissary or similar place in which food or drink is prepared for sale or for service on the premises or elsewhere, and any other eating or drinking establishment or operation where food is served or provided for the public with or without charge.

For the purpose of this chapter any custom cannery or processing plant where raw food products, food, or food products are processed for the owner thereof, or the food processing facilities are made available to the owners or persons in control of raw food products or food or food products for processing in any manner, shall be considered to be food processing plants(;).

(8) "Person" means an individual, partnership, corporation, or association.

(9) "Cottage food operation" means a person who produces cottage food products only in the home kitchen of that person's primary domestic residence in Washington and only for sale directly to the consumer.

(10) "Cottage food products" means nonpotentially hazardous baked goods; jams, jellies, preserves, and fruit butters as defined in 21 C.F.R. Sec. 150; and other nonpotentially hazardous foods identified by the department in rule.

(11) "Domestic residence" means a single-family dwelling or an area within a rental unit where a single person or family actually resides. Domestic residence does not include:

(a) A group or communal residential setting within any type of structure; or

(b) An outbuilding, shed, barn, or other similar structure.

(12) "Home kitchen" means a kitchen primarily intended for use by the residents of a home. It may contain one stove or oven, which may be a double oven, designed for residential use.

(13) "Potentially hazardous food" means foods requiring temperature control for safety because they are capable of supporting the rapid growth of pathogenic or toxigenic microorganisms, or the growth and toxin production of Clostridium botulinum.

(14) "Washington state food service code" means food safety rules adopted by the state board of health under the authority of chapter 43.20 RCW.

Sec. 3. RCW 69.07.040 and 1995 c 374 s 21 are each amended to read as follows:

It shall be unlawful for any person to operate a food processing plant or process foods in the state without first having obtained an annual license from the department, which shall expire on a date set by rule by the director. License fees shall be prorated where necessary to accommodate staggering of expiration dates. Application for a license shall be on a form prescribed by the director and accompanied by the license fee. The license fee is determined by computing the gross annual sales for the accounting year immediately preceding the license year. If the license is for a new operator, the license fee shall be based on an estimated gross annual sales for the initial license period.

If gross annual sales are: The license fee is:

$0 to $10,000, Cottage food.....operation only$30.00
.....$0 to $50,000$55.00
.....$50,001 to $500,000$110.00
.....$500,001 to $1,000,000$220.00
.....$1,000,001 to $5,000,000$385.00
.....$5,000,001 to $10,000,000$550.00
.....Greater than $10,000,000$825.00

Such application shall include the full name of the applicant for the license and the location of the food processing plant he or she intends to operate. If such applicant is an individual, receiver, trustee, firm, partnership, association or corporation, the full name of each member of the firm or partnership, or names of the officers of the association or corporation shall be given on the application. Such application shall further state the principal business address of the applicant in the state and elsewhere and the name of a person domiciled in this state authorized to receive and accept service of summons of legal notices of all kinds for the applicant. The application shall also specify the type of food to be processed and the method or nature of processing operation or preservation of that food and any other necessary information. Upon the approval of the application by the director and compliance with the provisions of this chapter, including the applicable regulations adopted hereunder by the department, the applicant shall be issued a license or renewal thereof.

Licenses shall be issued to cover only those products, processes, and operations specified in the license application and approved for licensing. Wherever a license holder wishes to engage in processing a type of food product that is different than the type specified on the application supporting the licensee's existing license and processing that type of food product would require a major addition to or modification of the licensee's processing facilities or has a high potential for harm, the licensee shall submit an amendment to the current license application. In such a case, the licensee may engage in processing the new type of food product only after the amendment has been approved by the department.

If upon investigation by the director, it is determined that a person is processing food for retail sale and is not under permit, license, or inspection by a local health authority, then that person may be considered a food processor and subject to the provisions of this chapter. The director may waive the licensure requirements of this chapter for a person's operations at a facility if the person has obtained a milk processing plant license under chapter 15.36 RCW to conduct the same or a similar operation at the facility.

Sec. 4. RCW 69.07.080 and 1969 c 68 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) For purpose of determining whether the rules adopted pursuant to RCW 69.07.020, as now or hereafter amended are complied with, the department shall have access for inspection purposes to any part, portion or area of a food processing plant or cottage food operation, and any records required to be kept under the provisions of this chapter or rules ~~((and regulations))~~ adopted hereunder. Such inspection shall, when possible, be made during regular business hours or during any working shift of said food processing plant or cottage food operation. The department may, however, inspect such food processing plant or cottage food operation at any time when it has received information that an emergency affecting the public health has arisen and such food processing plant or cottage food operation is or may be involved in the matters causing such emergency.

(2) The department may apply for an administrative inspection warrant to a court of competent jurisdiction and an administrative inspection warrant may be issued where:

(a) The department has attempted an inspection under this chapter and access to all or part of the regulated business or entity has been actually or constructively denied; or

(b) There is reasonable cause to believe that a violation of this chapter or of rules adopted under this chapter is occurring or has occurred."

As used in this title:

(1) "Ballot" means, as the context implies, either:

(a) The issues and offices to be voted upon in a jurisdiction or portion of a jurisdiction at a particular primary, general election, or special election;

(b) A facsimile of the contents of a particular ballot whether printed on a paper ballot or ballot card or as part of a voting machine or voting device;

(c) A physical or electronic record of the choices of an individual voter in a particular primary, general election, or special election; or

(d) The physical document on which the voter's choices are to be recorded;

(2) "Paper ballot" means a piece of paper on which the ballot for a particular election or primary has been printed, on which a voter may record his or her choices for any candidate or for or against any measure, and that is to be tabulated manually;

(3) "Ballot card" means any type of card or piece of paper of any size on which a voter may record his or her choices for any candidate and for or against any measure and that is to be tabulated on a vote tallying system;

(4) "Sample ballot" means a printed facsimile of all the issues and offices on the ballot in a jurisdiction and is intended to give voters notice of the issues, offices, and candidates that are to be voted on at a particular primary, general election, or special election;

(5) "Provisional ballot" means a ballot issued at the polling place on election day by the precinct election board to a voter who would otherwise be denied an opportunity to vote a regular ballot, for any reason authorized by the Help America Vote Act, including but not limited to the following:

(a) The voter's name does not appear in the poll book or list of registered voters for the county;

(b) There is an indication in the poll book that the voter has requested an absentee ballot, but the voter wishes to vote at the polling place;

(c) There is a question on the part of the voter concerning the issues or candidates on which the voter is qualified to vote;

(d) Any other reason allowed by law;

(6) "Party ballot" means a primary election ballot specific to a particular major political party that lists all candidates for partisan office who affiliate with that same major political party, as well as the nonpartisan races and ballot measures to be voted on at that primary;

(7) "Nonpartisan ballot" means a primary election ballot that lists all nonpartisan races and ballot measures to be voted on at that primary.

Sec. 2. RCW 29A.04.013 and 2003 c 111 s 103 are each amended to read as follows:

"Canvassing" means the process of examining ballots or groups of ballots, subtotals, and cumulative totals in order to determine the official returns of a primary or general election and includes the tabulation of any votes that were not previously tabulated at the precinct or in a counting center on the day of the primary or election.

Sec. 3. RCW 29A.04.031 and 2003 c 111 s 106 are each amended to read as follows:

For registered voters voting by absentee or mail ballot, "date of mailing" means the date of the postal cancellation on the envelope in which the ballot is returned to the election official by whom it was issued. For all ~~((nonregistered absentee))~~ service and overseas voters, "date of mailing" means the date stated by the voter on the ~~((envelope in which the ballot is returned to the election official by whom it was issued))~~ declaration.

Sec. 4. RCW 29A.04.037 and 2010 c 161 s 1103 are each amended to read as follows:

"Disabled voter" means any registered voter who qualifies for special parking privileges under RCW 46.19.010, or who is defined as blind under RCW 74.18.020, or who qualifies to require assistance with voting under ~~((RCW 29A.44.240))~~ section 25 of this act.

Sec. 5. RCW 29A.04.216 and 2004 c 271 s 104 are each amended to read as follows:

The county auditor of each county shall be ex officio the supervisor of all primaries and elections, general or special, and it shall be the county auditor's duty to provide places for holding such primaries and elections; ~~((to appoint the precinct election officers and to provide for their compensation;))~~ to provide the supplies and materials necessary for the conduct of elections ~~((to the precinct election officers;))~~; and to publish and post notices of calling such primaries and elections in the manner provided by law. The notice of a primary held in an even-numbered year must indicate that the office of precinct committee officer will be on the ballot. The auditor shall also apportion to each city, town, or district, and to the state of Washington in the odd-numbered year, its share of the expense of such primaries and elections. This section does not apply to general or special elections for any city, town, or district that is not subject to RCW 29A.04.321 and 29A.04.330, but all such elections must be held and conducted at the time, in the manner, and by the officials (with such notice, requirements for filing for office, and certifications by local officers) as provided and required by the laws governing such elections.

Sec. 6. RCW 29A.04.235 and 2003 c 111 s 138 are each amended to read as follows:

The secretary of state shall ensure that each county auditor is provided with the most recent version of the election laws of the state, as contained in this title. Where amendments have been enacted after the last compilation of the election laws, he or she shall ensure that each county auditor receives a copy of those amendments before the next primary or election. ~~((The county auditor shall ensure that any statutory information necessary for the precinct election officers to perform their duties is supplied to them in a timely manner.))~~

Sec. 7. RCW 29A.04.255 and 2004 c 266 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

The secretary of state or a county auditor shall accept and file in his or her office electronic facsimile transmissions of the following documents:

- (1) Declarations of candidacy;
- (2) County canvass reports;
- (3) Voters' pamphlet statements;
- (4) Arguments for and against ballot measures that will appear in a voters' pamphlet;
- (5) Requests for recounts;
- (6) Certification of candidates and measures by the secretary of state;
- (7) Direction by the secretary of state for the conduct of a mandatory recount;

(8) Requests for absentee ballots;

(9) Any other election related document authorized by rule adopted by the secretary of state under RCW ~~((29A.04.610))~~ 29A.04.611.

The acceptance by the secretary of state or the county auditor is conditional upon the document being filed in a timely manner, being legible, and otherwise satisfying the requirements of state law or rules with respect to form and content.

If the original copy of a document must be signed and a copy of the document is filed by facsimile transmission under this section, the original copy must be subsequently filed with the official with whom the facsimile was filed. The original copy must be filed by a deadline established by the secretary by rule. The secretary may by rule require that the original of any document, a copy of which is filed by facsimile transmission under this section, also be filed by a deadline established by the secretary by rule.

Sec. 8. RCW 29A.04.470 and 2004 c 267 s 203 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The secretary of state shall create an advisory committee and adopt rules governing project eligibility, evaluation, awarding of grants, and other criteria for administering the local government grant program, which may include a preference for grants that include a match of local funds.

(2) The advisory committee shall review grant proposals and establish a prioritized list of projects to be considered for funding by the third Tuesday in May of each year beginning in 2004 and continuing as long as funds in the election account established by ~~((chapter 48, Laws of 2003 [RCW 29A.04.440]))~~ RCW 29A.04.440 are available. The grant award may have an effective date other than the date the project is placed on the prioritized list, including money spent previously by the county that would qualify for reimbursement under the Help America Vote Act (P.L. 107-252).

(3) Examples of projects that would be eligible for local government grant funding include, but are not limited to the following:

- (a) Replacement or upgrade of voting equipment, including the replacement of punch card voting systems;
- (b) Purchase of additional voting equipment, including the purchase of equipment to meet the disability requirements of the Help America Vote Act (P.L. 107-252);
- (c) Purchase of new election management system hardware and software capable of integrating with the statewide voter registration system required by the Help America Vote Act (P.L. 107-252);
- (d) Development and production of poll worker recruitment and training materials;
- (e) Voter education programs;
- (f) Publication of a local voters' pamphlet;
- (g) Toll-free access system to provide notice of the outcome of provisional ballots; and
- (h) Training for local election officials.

Sec. 9. RCW 29A.04.540 and 2009 c 415 s 9 are each amended to read as follows:

A person having responsibility for the administration or conduct of elections ~~((other than precinct election officers;))~~ shall, within eighteen months of undertaking those responsibilities, receive general training regarding the conduct of elections and specific training regarding their responsibilities and duties as prescribed by this title or by rules adopted by the secretary of state under this title. Included among those persons for whom such training is mandatory are the following:

- (1) Secretary of state elections division personnel;
- (2) County elections administrators under RCW 36.22.220; and
- (3) Any other person or group charged with election administration responsibilities if the person or group is designated by rule adopted by the secretary of state as requiring the training.

FIFTY FOURTH DAY, MARCH 4, 2011

Neither this section nor RCW 29A.04.530 may be construed as requiring an elected official to receive training or a certificate of training as a condition for seeking or holding elective office or as a condition for carrying out constitutional duties.

Sec. 10. RCW 29A.04.580 and 2003 c 111 s 156 are each amended to read as follows:

The county auditor may designate any person who has been certified under this chapter, other than the auditor, to participate in a review conducted in the county under this chapter. Each county auditor and canvassing board shall cooperate fully during an election review by making available to the reviewing staff any material requested by the staff. The reviewing staff shall have full access to ~~((ballot pages, absentee voting materials, any other election material normally kept in a secure environment after the election, and other requested))~~ the county's election material. If ballots are reviewed by the staff, they shall be reviewed in the presence of the canvassing board or its designees. Ballots shall not leave the custody of the canvassing board. During the review and after its completion, the review staff may make appropriate recommendations to the county auditor or canvassing board, or both, to bring the county into compliance with the training required under this chapter, and the laws or rules of the state of Washington, to safeguard election material or to preserve the integrity of the elections process.

Sec. 11. RCW 29A.04.611 and 2009 c 369 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

The secretary of state as chief election officer shall make reasonable rules in accordance with chapter 34.05 RCW not inconsistent with the federal and state election laws to effectuate any provision of this title and to facilitate the execution of its provisions in an orderly, timely, and uniform manner relating to any federal, state, county, city, town, and district elections. To that end the secretary shall assist local election officers by devising uniform forms and procedures.

In addition to the rule-making authority granted otherwise by this section, the secretary of state shall make rules governing the following provisions:

- (1) The maintenance of voter registration records;
- (2) The preparation, maintenance, distribution, review, and filing of precinct maps;
- (3) Standards for the design, layout, and production of ballots;
- (4) The examination and testing of voting systems for certification;
- (5) The source and scope of independent evaluations of voting systems that may be relied upon in certifying voting systems for use in this state;
- (6) Standards and procedures for the acceptance testing of voting systems by counties;
- (7) Standards and procedures for testing the programming of vote tallying software for specific primaries and elections;
- (8) Standards and procedures for the preparation and use of each type of certified voting system including procedures for the operation of counting centers where vote tallying systems are used;
- (9) Standards and procedures to ensure the accurate tabulation and canvassing of ballots;
- (10) Consistency among the counties of the state in the preparation of ballots, the operation of vote tallying systems, and the canvassing of primaries and elections;
- (11) Procedures to ensure the secrecy of a voter's ballot when a small number of ballots are counted at the polls or at a counting center;
- (12) The use of substitute devices or means of voting when a voting device at the polling place is found to be defective, the counting of votes cast on the defective device, the counting of votes cast on the substitute device, and the documentation that must be submitted to the county auditor regarding such circumstances;

- (13) Procedures for the transportation of sealed containers of voted ballots or sealed voting devices;
- (14) The acceptance and filing of documents via electronic ~~((facsimile))~~ transmission;
- (15) Voter registration applications and records;
- (16) The use of voter registration information in the conduct of elections;
- (17) The coordination, delivery, and processing of voter registration records accepted by driver licensing agents or the department of licensing;
- (18) The coordination, delivery, and processing of voter registration records accepted by agencies designated by the governor to provide voter registration services;
- (19) Procedures to receive and distribute voter registration applications by mail;
- (20) Procedures for a voter to change his or her voter registration address within a county by telephone;
- (21) Procedures for a voter to change the name under which he or she is registered to vote;
- (22) Procedures for canceling dual voter registration records and for maintaining records of persons whose voter registrations have been canceled;
- (23) Procedures for the electronic transfer of voter registration records between county auditors and the office of the secretary of state;
- (24) Procedures and forms for declarations of candidacy;
- (25) Procedures and requirements for the acceptance and filing of declarations of candidacy by electronic means;
- (26) Procedures for the circumstance in which two or more candidates have a name similar in sound or spelling so as to cause confusion for the voter;
- (27) Filing for office;
- (28) The order of positions and offices on a ballot;
- (29) Sample ballots;
- (30) Independent evaluations of voting systems;
- (31) The testing, approval, and certification of voting systems;
- (32) The testing of vote tallying software programming;
- (33) Standards and procedures to prevent fraud and to facilitate the accurate processing and canvassing of absentee ballots and mail ballots, including standards for the approval and implementation of hardware and software for automated signature verification systems;
- (34) Standards and procedures to guarantee the secrecy of absentee ballots and mail ballots;
- (35) Uniformity among the counties of the state in the conduct of absentee voting and mail ballot elections;
- (36) Standards and procedures to accommodate overseas voters and service voters;
- (37) The tabulation of paper ballots ~~((before the close of the polls))~~;
- (38) The accessibility of polling places and registration facilities that are accessible to elderly and disabled persons and voting centers;
- (39) The aggregation of precinct results if reporting the results of a single precinct could jeopardize the secrecy of a person's ballot;
- (40) Procedures for conducting a statutory recount;
- (41) Procedures for filling vacancies in congressional offices if the general statutory time requirements for availability of absentee ballots, certification, canvassing, and related procedures cannot be met;
- (42) Procedures for the statistical sampling of signatures for purposes of verifying and canvassing signatures on initiative, referendum, and recall election petitions;

FIFTY FOURTH DAY, MARCH 4, 2011

2011 REGULAR SESSION

(43) Standards and deadlines for submitting material to the office of the secretary of state for the voters' pamphlet;

(44) Deadlines for the filing of ballot titles for referendum bills and constitutional amendments if none have been provided by the legislature;

(45) Procedures for the publication of a state voters' pamphlet;

(46) Procedures for conducting special elections regarding nuclear waste sites if the general statutory time requirements for availability of absentee ballots, certification, canvassing, and related procedures cannot be met;

(47) Procedures for conducting partisan primary elections;

(48) Standards and procedures for the proper conduct of voting ~~((during the early voting period to provide accessibility for the blind or visually impaired))~~ on accessible voting devices;

(49) Standards for voting technology and systems used by the state or any political subdivision to be accessible for individuals with disabilities, including nonvisual accessibility for the blind and visually impaired, in a manner that provides the same opportunity for access and participation, including privacy and independence, as other voters;

(50) All data formats for transferring voter registration data on electronic or machine-readable media for the purpose of administering the statewide voter registration list required by the Help America Vote Act (P.L. 107-252);

(51) Defining the interaction of electronic voter registration election management systems employed by each county auditor to maintain a local copy of each county's portion of the official state list of registered voters;

(52) Provisions and procedures to implement the state-based administrative complaint procedure as required by the Help America Vote Act (P.L. 107-252);

(53) Facilitating the payment of local government grants to local government election officers or vendors; and

(54) Standards for the verification of signatures on absentee, mail, and provisional ballot ~~((envelopes))~~ declarations.

Sec. 12. RCW 29A.08.130 and 2009 c 369 s 13 are each amended to read as follows:

Election officials shall not include inactive voters in the count of registered voters for the purpose of dividing precincts, creating vote-by-mail precincts, determining voter turnout, or other purposes in law for which the determining factor is the number of registered voters. ~~((Election officials shall not include persons who are ongoing absentee voters under RCW 29A.40.040 in determining the maximum permissible size of vote by mail precincts or in determining the maximum permissible size of precincts. Nothing in this section may be construed as altering the vote tallying requirements of RCW 29A.60.230.))~~

Sec. 13. RCW 29A.08.140 and 2009 c 369 s 15 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) In order to vote in any primary, special election, or general election, a person who is not registered to vote in Washington must:

(a) Submit a registration application no later than twenty-nine days before the day of the primary, special election, or general election; or

(b) Register in person at the county auditor's office in his or her county of residence no later than eight days before the day of the primary, special election, or general election. A person registering under this subsection will be issued an absentee ballot.

(2) A person who is already registered to vote in Washington may update his or her registration no later than twenty-nine days before the day of the primary, special election, or general election to be in effect for that primary, special election, or general election. A registered voter who fails to transfer his or her residential address by this deadline may vote according to his or her previous registration address.

~~((3) Prior to each primary and general election, the county auditor shall give notice of the registration deadlines by one publication in a newspaper of general circulation in the county at least thirty-five days before the primary or general election.))~~

Sec. 14. RCW 29A.08.820 and 2006 c 320 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Challenges initiated by a registered voter against a voter who registered to vote less than sixty days before the election, or who changed residence less than sixty days before the election without transferring his or her registration, must be filed not later than ten days before any primary or election, general or special, or within ten days of the voter being added to the voter registration database, whichever is later, at the office of the appropriate county auditor. Challenges initiated by a registered voter ~~((against any other voter))~~ or county prosecuting attorney must be filed not later than forty-five days before the election. ~~((Challenges initiated by the office of the county prosecuting attorney must be filed in the same manner as challenges initiated by a registered voter.))~~

(2)(a) If the challenge is filed within forty-five days before an election at which the challenged voter is eligible to vote, a notation of the challenge must be made immediately in the poll book or voter registration system, and the county canvassing board presides over the hearing.

(b) If the challenge is filed before the challenged voter's ballot is received, the ballot must be treated as a challenged ballot. A challenged ballot received at a polling place must be placed in a sealed envelope separate from other voted ballots.

(c) If the challenge is filed after the challenged voter's ballot is received, the challenge cannot affect the current election.

(3) If the challenge is filed at least forty-five days before an election at which the challenged voter is eligible to vote, the county auditor presides over the hearing.

Sec. 15. RCW 29A.12.085 and 2005 c 242 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

Beginning on January 1, 2006, all direct recording electronic voting devices must produce a paper record of each vote that may be accepted or rejected by the voter before finalizing his or her vote. This record may not be removed from the polling place or voting center, and must be human readable without an interface and machine readable for counting purposes. If the device is programmed to display the ballot in multiple languages, the paper record produced must be printed in the language used by the voter. Rejected records must either be destroyed or marked in order to clearly identify the record as rejected. Paper records produced by direct recording electronic voting devices are subject to all the requirements of chapter 29A.60 RCW for ballot handling, preservation, reconciliation, transit, and storage. The paper records must be preserved in the same manner and for the same period of time as ballots.

Sec. 16. RCW 29A.12.110 and 2003 c 111 s 311 are each amended to read as follows:

In preparing a voting device for a primary or election, a record shall be made of the ballot format programming installed in each device and the precinct or portion of a precinct for which that device has been prepared. Except where provided by a rule adopted under RCW ~~((29A.04.610))~~ 29A.04.611, after being prepared for a primary or election, each device shall be sealed with a uniquely numbered seal and provided to the inspector of the appropriate polling place. The programmed memory pack for each voting device must be sealed into the device during final preparation and logic and accuracy testing. Except in the case of a device breakdown or error in programming, the memory pack must remain sealed in the device until after 8:00 p.m. on the day of the primary, special election, or general election.

FIFTY FOURTH DAY, MARCH 4, 2011

Sec. 17. RCW 29A.12.120 and 2003 c 111 s 312 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Before each state primary or general election at which voting systems are to be used, the county auditor shall instruct all (~~(precinct election officers appointed under RCW 29A.44.410,)~~) counting center personnel(;) and political party observers designated under RCW 29A.60.170 who will operate a voting system in the proper conduct of their voting system duties.

(2) The county auditor may waive instructional requirements for (~~(precinct election officers,)~~) counting center personnel(;) and political party observers who have previously received instruction and who have served for a sufficient length of time to be fully qualified to perform their duties. The county auditor shall keep a record of each person who has received instruction and is qualified to serve at the subsequent primary or election.

(3) (~~(As compensation for the time spent in receiving instruction, each precinct election officer who qualifies and serves at the subsequent primary or election shall receive an additional two hours compensation, to be paid at the same time and in the same manner as compensation is paid for services on the day of the primary or election.~~)

(4) Except for the appointment of a precinct election officer to fill a vacancy under RCW 29A.44.440, no inspector or judge may serve at any primary or election at which voting systems are used unless he or she has received the required instruction and is qualified to perform his or her duties in connection with the voting devices.)) No person may work in a counting center at a primary or election at which a vote tallying system is used unless that person has received the required instruction and is qualified to perform his or her duties in connection with the handling and tallying of ballots for that primary or election. No person may serve as a political party observer unless that person has received the required instruction and is familiar with the operation of the counting center and the vote tallying system and the procedures to be employed to verify the accuracy of the programming for that vote tallying system.

Sec. 18. RCW 29A.12.160 and 2004 c 267 s 701 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) At each polling location or voting center, at least one voting unit certified by the secretary of state shall provide access to individuals who are blind or visually impaired.

(2) ((Compliance with this provision in regard to voting technology and systems purchased prior to July 27, 2003, shall be achieved at the time of procurement of an upgrade of technology compatible with nonvisual voting methods or replacement of existing voting equipment or systems.

(3) Compliance with subsection (2) of this section is contingent on available funds to implement this provision.

(4)) For purposes of this section, the following definitions apply:

(a) "Accessible" includes receiving, using, selecting, and manipulating voter data and controls.

(b) "Nonvisual" includes synthesized speech, Braille, and other output methods.

(c) "Blind and visually impaired" excludes persons who are both deaf and blind.

~~((5))~~ (3) This section does not apply to voting by absentee ballot.

Sec. 19. RCW 29A.16.040 and 2004 c 266 s 10 are each amended to read as follows:

The county legislative authority of each county in the state (~~(hereafter formed)~~) shall(~~(, at their first session,)~~) divide (~~(their respective counties)~~) the county into election precincts and establish the boundaries of the precincts. The county auditor shall thereupon designate the voting place for each such precinct or whether the precinct is a vote by mail precinct.

(1) Precinct boundaries may be altered at any time as long as sufficient time exists prior to a given election for the necessary procedural steps to be honored. Except as permitted under subsection (5) of this section, no precinct (~~(boundaries)~~) changes may be (~~(changed)~~) made during the period starting (~~(on the thirtieth)~~) fourteen days prior to the first day for candidates to file for the primary election and ending with the day of the general election.

(2) The county legislative authority may establish by ordinance a limitation on the maximum number of active registered voters in each precinct within its jurisdiction. The limitation may be different for precincts based upon the method of voting used for such precincts and the number may be less than the number established by law, but in no case may the number exceed (~~(that authorized by law)~~) two thousand active registered voters.

(3) ((Precincts in which voting machines or electronic voting devices are used may contain as many as nine hundred active registered voters.)) The number of poll-site ballot counting devices at each polling place is at the discretion of the auditor. The number of devices must be adequate to meet the expected voter turnout.

(4) On petition of twenty-five or more voters resident more than ten miles from any polling site, the county legislative authority shall establish a separate voting precinct therefor.

(5) The county auditor shall temporarily adjust precinct boundaries when a city or town annexes unincorporated territory to the city or town, or whenever unincorporated territory is incorporated as a city or town. The adjustment must be made as soon as possible after the approval of the annexation or incorporation. The temporary adjustment must be limited to the minimum changes necessary to accommodate the addition of the territory to the city or town, or to establish the eligible voters within the boundaries of the new city or town, and remains in effect only until precinct boundary modifications reflecting the annexation or incorporation are adopted by the county legislative authority.

(6) In determining the number of active registered voters for the purposes of this section, persons who are ongoing absentee voters under RCW 29A.40.040 shall not be counted. Nothing in this subsection may be construed as altering the vote tallying requirements of RCW 29A.60.230.

Sec. 20. RCW 29A.32.260 and 2003 c 111 s 818 are each amended to read as follows:

As soon as practicable before the primary, special election, or general election, the county auditor, or if applicable, the city clerk of a first-class or code city, as appropriate, shall mail the local voters' pamphlet to every residence in each jurisdiction that has included information in the pamphlet. The county auditor or city clerk, as appropriate, may choose to mail the pamphlet to each registered voter in each jurisdiction that has included information in the pamphlet, if in his or her judgment, a more economical and effective distribution of the pamphlet would result. (~~(If the county or city chooses to mail the pamphlet to each residence, no notice of election otherwise required by RCW 29A.52.350 need be published.))~~)

Sec. 21. RCW 29A.36.220 and 2003 c 111 s 922 are each amended to read as follows:

The cost of printing and mailing ballots, (~~(ballot cards)~~) envelopes, and instructions (~~(and the delivery of this material to the precinct election officers)~~) shall be an election cost that shall be borne as determined under RCW 29A.04.410 and 29A.04.420, as appropriate.

Sec. 22. RCW 29A.40.091 and 2010 c 125 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The county auditor shall send each voter a ballot, a security envelope in which to seal the ballot after voting, a larger envelope in which to return the security envelope, a declaration that the voter must sign, and instructions on how to obtain information about the election, how to mark the ballot, and how to return ~~((#))~~ the ballot to the county auditor.

FIFTY FOURTH DAY, MARCH 4, 2011

(2) The ((instructions that accompany a ballot for a partisan primary must include instructions for voting the applicable ballot style, as provided in chapter 29A.36 RCW. The voter's name and address must be printed on the larger return envelope, which must also contain a declaration by the voter reciting his or her qualifications and stating that he or she)) voter must swear under penalty of perjury that he or she meets the qualifications to vote, and has not voted in any other jurisdiction at this election((, together with a summary of the penalties for any violation of any of the provisions of this chapter)). The declaration must clearly inform the voter that it is illegal to vote if he or she is not a United States citizen; it is illegal to vote if he or she has been convicted of a felony and has not had his or her voting rights restored; and((, except as otherwise provided by law.)) it is illegal to cast a ballot or sign a return envelope on behalf of another voter. The ((return envelope)) ballot materials must provide space for the voter to indicate the date on which the ballot was voted ((and for the voter)),₂ to sign the ((oath)). It must also contain a space so that the voter may include)) declaration, and to provide a telephone number. ((A summary of the applicable penalty provisions of this chapter must be printed on the return envelope immediately adjacent to the space for the voter's signature. The signature of the voter on the return envelope must affirm and attest to the statements regarding the qualifications of that voter and to the validity of the ballot. The return envelope may provide secrecy for the voter's signature and optional telephone number.))

(3) For overseas and service voters, the signed declaration on the return envelope constitutes the equivalent of a voter registration for the election or primary for which the ballot has been issued. Return envelopes for overseas and service voters must enable the ballot to be returned postage free if mailed through the United States postal service, United States armed forces postal service, or the postal service of a United States foreign embassy under 39 U.S.C. Sec. 3406.

(4) The voter must be instructed to either return the ballot to the county auditor ~~((by whom it was issued or attach sufficient first class postage, if applicable, and))~~ no later than 8:00 p.m. the day of the election or primary, or mail the ballot to the ~~((appropriate))~~ county auditor with a postmark no later than the day of the election or primary ~~((for which the ballot was issued)).~~

((If the county auditor chooses to forward ballots, he or she must include with the ballot a clear explanation of the qualifications necessary to vote in that election and must also advise a voter with questions about his or her eligibility to contact the county auditor. This explanation may be provided on the ballot envelope, on an enclosed insert, or printed directly on the ballot itself. If the information is not included, the envelope must clearly indicate that the ballot is not to be forwarded and that return postage is guaranteed.))

Sec. 23. RCW 29A.40.100 and 2003 c 111 s 1010 are each amended to read as follows:

County auditors must request that observers be appointed by the major political parties to be present during the processing of absentee ballots at the counting or polling center. County auditors have discretion to also request that observers be appointed by any campaigns or organizations. The absence of the observers will not prevent the processing of absentee ballots if the county auditor has requested their presence.

Sec. 24. RCW 29A.40.110 and 2009 c 369 s 40 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The opening and subsequent processing of return envelopes for any primary or election may begin upon receipt. The tabulation of absentee ballots must not commence until after 8:00 p.m. on the day of the primary or election.

(2) All received absentee return envelopes must be placed in secure locations from the time of delivery to the county auditor until their subsequent opening. After opening the return envelopes, the county canvassing board shall place all of the ballots in secure storage until ~~((after 8:00 p.m. of the day of the primary or election))~~ processing. Absentee ballots that are to be tabulated on an electronic vote tallying system may be taken from the inner envelopes and all the normal procedural steps may be performed to prepare these ballots for tabulation.

(3) ~~((Before opening a returned absentee ballot,))~~ The canvassing board, or its designated representatives, shall examine the postmark~~((statement,))~~ on the return envelope and signature on the ~~((return envelope that contains the security envelope and absentee ballot))~~ declaration before processing the ballot. The ballot must either be received no later than 8:00 p.m. on the day of the primary or election, or must be postmarked no later than the day of the primary or election. All personnel assigned to verify signatures must receive training on statewide standards for signature verification. Personnel shall verify that the voter's signature on the ~~((return envelope))~~ ballot declaration is the same as the signature of that voter in the registration files of the county. Verification may be conducted by an automated verification system approved by the secretary of state. For any absentee ballot, a variation between the signature of the voter on the ~~((return envelope))~~ ballot declaration and the signature of that voter in the registration files due to the substitution of initials or the use of common nicknames is permitted so long as the surname and handwriting are clearly the same.

(4) ~~((For registered voters casting absentee ballots))~~ If the postmark is missing or illegible, the date on the ~~((return envelope))~~ ballot declaration to which the voter has attested determines the validity, as to the time of voting, for that ~~((absentee))~~ ballot ~~((if the postmark is missing or is illegible)).~~ For overseas voters and service voters, the date on the ~~((return envelope))~~ declaration to which the voter has attested determines the validity,₂ as to the time of voting, for that absentee ballot.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 25. A new section is added to chapter 29A.44 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Each county auditor in a county that does not provide polling places for voters shall open a voting center each primary, special election, and general election. The voting center shall be open during business hours during the voting period, which begins eighteen days before, and ends at 8:00 p.m. on the day of, the primary, special election, or general election.

(2) The voting center must provide voter registration materials, ballots, provisional ballots, disability access voting units, sample ballots, instructions on how to properly vote the ballot, a ballot drop box, and voters' pamphlets, if a voters' pamphlet has been published.

(3) The voting center must be accessible to persons with disabilities. Each state agency and entity of local government shall permit the use of any of its accessible facilities as voting centers when requested by a county auditor.

(4) The voting center must provide at least one voting unit certified by the secretary of state that provides access to individuals who are blind or visually impaired, enabling them to vote with privacy and independence.

(5) No person may interfere with a voter attempting to vote in a voting center. Interfering with a voter attempting to vote is a violation of RCW 29A.84.510.

(6) Before opening the voting center, the voting equipment shall be inspected to determine if it has been properly prepared for voting. If the voting equipment is capable of direct tabulation of each voter's choices, the county auditor shall verify that no votes have been registered for any issue or office, and that the device has been sealed with a unique numbered seal at the time of final preparation and logic and accuracy testing. A log must be made of all device numbers and seal numbers.

(7) The county auditor shall require any person desiring to vote at a voting center to either sign a ballot declaration or provide identification.

(a) The signature on the declaration must be compared to the signature on the voter registration record before the ballot may be counted. If the voter registered using a mark, or can no longer sign his or her name, the election officers shall require the voter to be identified by another registered voter.

(b) The identification must be valid photo identification, such as a driver's license, state identification card, student identification card, tribal identification card, or employer identification card. Any individual who desires to vote in person but cannot provide identification shall be issued a provisional ballot, which shall be accepted if the signature on the declaration matches the signature on the voter's registration record.

(8) Provisional ballots must be accompanied by a declaration and security envelope, as required by RCW 29A.40.091, and space for the voter's name, date of birth, current and former registered address, reason for the provisional ballot, and disposition of the provisional ballot. The voter shall vote and return the provisional ballot at the voting center. The voter must be provided information on how to ascertain whether the provisional ballot was counted and, if applicable, the reason why the vote was not counted.

(9) Any voter may take printed or written material into the voting device to assist in casting his or her vote. The voter shall not use this material to electioneer and shall remove it when he or she leaves the voting center.

(10) If any voter states that he or she is unable to cast his or her votes due to a disability, the voter may designate a person of his or her choice, or two election officers, to enter the voting booth and record the votes as he or she directs.

(11) No voter is entitled to vote more than once at a primary, special election, or general election. If a voter incorrectly marks a ballot, he or she may be issued a replacement ballot.

(12) A voter who has already returned a ballot but requests to vote at a voting center shall be issued a provisional ballot. The canvassing board shall not count the provisional ballot if it finds that the voter has also voted a regular ballot in that primary, special election, or general election.

(13) The county auditor must prevent overflow of each ballot drop box to allow a voter to deposit his or her ballot securely. Ballots must be removed from a ballot drop box by at least two people, with a record kept of the date and time ballots were removed, and the names of people removing them. Ballots from drop boxes must be returned to the counting center in secured transport containers. A copy of the record must be placed in the container, and one copy must be transported with the ballots to the counting center, where the seal number must be verified by the county auditor or a designated representative. All ballot drop boxes must be secured at 8:00 p.m. on the day of the primary, special election, or general election.

(14) Any voter who is inside or in line at the voting center at 8:00 p.m. on the day of the primary, special election, or general election must be allowed to vote.

(15) For each primary, special election, and general election, the county auditor may provide election services at locations in addition to the voting center. The county auditor has discretion to establish which services will be provided at the additional locations, and which days and hours the locations will be open.

Sec. 26. RCW 29A.46.260 and 2010 c 215 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The legislature finds that the elimination of polling places resulting from the transition to vote by mail creates barriers that restrict the ability of many voters with disabilities from achieving the independence and privacy in voting provided by the accessible voting devices required under the help America vote act. Counties adopting a vote by mail system must take appropriate steps to mitigate these impacts and to address the obligation to provide voters with disabilities an equal opportunity to vote independently and privately, to the extent that this can be achieved without incurring undue administrative and financial burden.

(2) Each county shall establish and maintain an advisory committee that includes persons with diverse disabilities and persons with expertise in providing accommodations for persons with disabilities. The committee shall assist election officials in developing a plan to identify and implement changes to improve the accessibility of elections for voters with disabilities. The plan shall include recommendations for the following:

(a) The number of polling places or voting centers that will be maintained in order to ensure that people with disabilities have reasonable access to accessible voting devices, and a written explanation for how the determination was made;

(b) The locations of polling places, ballot drop-off facilities, voting centers, and other election-related functions necessary to maximize accessibility to persons with disabilities;

(c) Outreach to voters with disabilities on the availability of disability accommodation, including in-person disability access voting;

(d) Transportation of voting devices to locations convenient for voters with disabilities in order to ensure reasonable access for voters with disabilities; and

(e) Implementation of the provisions of the help America vote act related to persons with disabilities.

Counties must update the plan at least annually. The election review staff of the secretary of state shall review and evaluate the plan in conformance with the review procedure identified in RCW 29A.04.570.

(3) Counties may form a joint advisory committee to develop the plan identified in subsection (2) of this section if no more than one of the participating counties has a population greater than seventy thousand.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 27. A new section is added to chapter 29A.52 RCW to read as follows:

Notice for any state, county, district, or municipal primary or election, whether special or general, must be given by the county auditor between five and fifteen days prior to the deadline for mail-in registrations. The notice must be published in one or more newspapers of general circulation and must contain, at a minimum, the last date to register online or through the mail, the last date to transfer or update an existing registration, the last date to register in person for first-time voters, information on where a person can register, the type of election, the date of the election, how a voter can obtain a ballot, a list of all jurisdictions involved in the election, including positions and short titles for ballot measures appearing on the ballot, and the times and dates of any public meetings associated with the election. The notice shall also include where additional information regarding the election may be obtained. This is the only notice required for a state, county, district, or municipal primary or special or general election. If the county or city chooses to mail a local voters' pamphlet as described in RCW 29A.32.210 to each residence, the notice required in this section need only include the last date to register online or through the mail, the last date to transfer or update an existing registration, the last date to register in person for first-time voters, information on where a person can register, and the times and dates of any public meetings associated with the election.

Sec. 28. RCW 29A.60.040 and 2009 c 414 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

FIFTY FOURTH DAY, MARCH 4, 2011

2011 REGULAR SESSION

A ballot is invalid and no votes on that ballot may be counted if it is found folded together with another ballot.

Those parts of a ballot are invalid and no votes may be counted for those issues or offices where more votes are cast for the office or issue than are permitted by law; write-in votes do not contain all of the information required under RCW 29A.60.021; or that issue or office is not marked with sufficient definiteness to determine the voter's choice or intention. No write-in vote may be rejected due to a variation in the form of the name if the ~~((election board or the))~~ canvassing board can determine the issue for or against which or the person and the office for which the voter intended to vote.

Sec. 29. RCW 29A.60.050 and 2005 c 243 s 13 are each amended to read as follows:

Whenever the ~~((precinct election officers or the))~~ counting center personnel have a question about the validity of a ballot or the votes for an office or issue that they are unable to resolve, they shall prepare and sign a concise record of the facts in question or dispute. These ballots shall be delivered to the canvassing board for processing. A ballot is not considered rejected until the canvassing board has rejected the ballot individually, or the ballot was included in a batch or on a report of ballots that was rejected in its entirety by the canvassing board. All ballots shall be preserved in the same manner as valid ballots for that primary or election.

Sec. 30. RCW 29A.60.165 and 2006 c 209 s 4 and 2006 c 208 s 1 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) If the voter neglects to sign the ~~((outside envelope of an absentee or provisional))~~ ballot declaration, the auditor shall notify the voter by first-class mail and advise the voter of the correct procedures for completing the unsigned ~~((affidavit))~~ declaration. If the absentee ballot is received within three business days of the final meeting of the canvassing board, or the voter has been notified by first-class mail and has not responded at least three business days before the final meeting of the canvassing board, then the auditor shall attempt to notify the voter by telephone, using the voter registration record information. ~~((In order for the ballot to be counted, the voter must either:~~

— (a) Appear in person and sign the envelope no later than the day before the certification of the primary or election; or

— (b) Sign a copy of the envelope provided by the auditor, and return it to the auditor no later than the day before the certification of the primary or election.)

(2)(a) If the handwriting of the signature on an absentee or provisional ballot envelope or a ballot declaration is not the same as the handwriting of the signature on the registration file, the auditor shall notify the voter by first-class mail, enclosing a copy of the ~~((envelope affidavit))~~ declaration, and advise the voter of the correct procedures for updating his or her signature on the voter registration file. If the absentee or provisional ballot is received within three business days of the final meeting of the canvassing board, or the voter has been notified by first-class mail and has not responded at least three business days before the final meeting of the canvassing board, then the auditor shall attempt to notify the voter by telephone, using the voter registration record information. ~~((In order for the ballot to be counted, the voter must either:~~

— (i) Appear in person and sign a new registration form no later than the day before the certification of the primary or election; or

— (ii) Sign a copy of the affidavit provided by the auditor and return it to the auditor no later than the day before the certification of the primary or election. The voter may enclose with the affidavit a photocopy of a valid government or tribal issued identification document that includes the voter's current signature. ~~— If the signature on the copy of the affidavit does not match the signature on file or the signature on the copy of the identification document, the voter must appear in person and sign a new registration form no~~

~~later than the day before the certification of the primary or election in order for the ballot to be counted.)~~

(b) If the signature on an absentee or provisional ballot envelope or a ballot declaration is not the same as the signature on the registration file because the name is different, the ballot may be counted as long as the handwriting is clearly the same. The auditor shall send the voter a change-of-name form under RCW 29A.08.440 and direct the voter to complete the form.

(c) If the signature on an absentee or provisional ballot envelope or a ballot declaration is not the same as the signature on the registration file because the voter used initials or a common nickname, the ballot may be counted as long as the surname and handwriting are clearly the same.

(3) A voter may not cure a missing or mismatched signature for purposes of counting the ballot in a recount.

(4) A record must be kept of all ballots with missing and mismatched signatures. The record must contain the date on which the voter was contacted or the notice was mailed, as well as the date on which the voter signed the envelope, a copy of the envelope, a new registration form, or a change-of-name form. That record is a public record under chapter 42.56 RCW and may be disclosed to interested parties on written request.

Sec. 31. RCW 29A.68.070 and 2003 c 111 s 1707 are each amended to read as follows:

No irregularity or improper conduct in the proceedings of any ~~((election))~~ county canvassing board or any member of the board amounts to such malconduct as to annul or set aside any election unless the irregularity or improper conduct was such as to procure the person whose right to the office may be contested, to be declared duly elected although the person did not receive the highest number of legal votes.

Sec. 32. RCW 29A.68.080 and 2003 c 111 s 1708 are each amended to read as follows:

When any election for an office exercised in and for a county is contested on account of any malconduct on the part of ~~((any election))~~ a county canvassing board, or any member thereof, the election shall not be annulled and set aside upon any proof thereof, unless the rejection of the vote of such precinct or precincts will change the result as to such office in the remaining vote of the county.

Sec. 33. RCW 29A.84.020 and 2003 c 111 s 2102 are each amended to read as follows:

Every officer who willfully violates RCW 29A.56.110 through 29A.56.270, for the violation of which no penalty is prescribed in this title or who willfully fails to comply with the provisions of ~~((this chapter))~~ RCW 29A.56.110 through 29A.56.270 is guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

Sec. 34. RCW 29A.84.050 and 2005 c 243 s 23 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A person who knowingly destroys, alters, defaces, conceals, or discards a completed voter registration form or signed absentee or provisional ballot signature affidavit or ballot declaration is guilty of a gross misdemeanor. This section does not apply to ~~((the))~~ (a) the voter who completed the ~~((voter registration))~~ form or declaration, or ~~((the))~~ (b) a county auditor ~~((or registration assistant))~~ who acts as authorized by ~~((voter registration))~~ law.

(2) Any person who intentionally fails to return another person's completed voter registration form or signed ballot declaration to the proper state or county elections office by the applicable deadline is guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

Sec. 35. RCW 29A.84.510 and 2003 c 111 s 2121 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) ~~((On the day of any primary or general or special election))~~ During the voting period that begins eighteen days before and ends the day of a special election, general election, or primary, no person may, within a polling place or voting center, or in any public area within three hundred feet of any entrance to such polling place or voting center:

FIFTY FOURTH DAY, MARCH 4, 2011

- (a) Suggest or persuade or attempt to suggest or persuade any voter to vote for or against any candidate or ballot measure;
- (b) Circulate cards or handbills of any kind;
- (c) Solicit signatures to any kind of petition; or
- (d) Engage in any practice which interferes with the freedom of voters to exercise their franchise or disrupts the administration of the polling place or voting center.

(2) No person may obstruct the doors or entries to a building in which a polling place, voting center, or ballot drop location is located or prevent free access to and from any polling place, voting center, or ballot drop location. Any sheriff, deputy sheriff, or municipal law enforcement officer shall prevent such obstruction, and may arrest any person creating such obstruction.

(3) No person may:

- (a) Except as provided in RCW 29A.44.050, remove any ballot from the polling place before the closing of the polls; or
- (b) Solicit any voter to show his or her ballot.
- (4) No person other than an inspector or judge of election may receive from any voter a voted ballot or deliver a blank ballot to such elector.

(5) Any violation of this section is a gross misdemeanor, punishable to the same extent as a gross misdemeanor that is punishable under RCW 9A.20.021, and the person convicted may be ordered to pay the costs of prosecution.

Sec. 36. RCW 29A.84.520 and 2003 c 111 s 2122 are each amended to read as follows:

Any election officer who does any electioneering (~~on primary or election day~~) during the voting period that begins eighteen days before and ends the day of a special election, general election, or primary, is guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction must be fined in any sum not exceeding one hundred dollars and pay the costs of prosecution.

Sec. 37. RCW 29A.84.530 and 2003 c 111 s 2123 are each amended to read as follows:

Deliberately impeding other voters from casting their votes by refusing to leave a voting booth or voting device is a misdemeanor and is subject to the penalties provided in chapter 9A.20 RCW. (~~The precinct~~) Election officers may provide assistance in the manner provided by (~~RCW 29A.44.240~~) section 25 of this act to any voter who requests it.

Sec. 38. RCW 29A.84.540 and 2003 c 111 s 2124 are each amended to read as follows:

Any person who, without lawful authority, removes a ballot from a polling place, voting center, or ballot drop location is guilty of a gross misdemeanor punishable to the same extent as a gross misdemeanor that is punishable under RCW 9A.20.021.

Sec. 39. RCW 29A.84.545 and 2005 c 242 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

Anyone who, without authorization, removes from a polling place or voting center a paper record produced by (~~an~~) a direct recording electronic voting device is guilty of a class C felony punishable under RCW 9A.20.021.

Sec. 40. RCW 29A.84.550 and 2003 c 111 s 2125 are each amended to read as follows:

Any person who willfully defaces, removes, or destroys any of the supplies or materials that the person knows are intended both for use in a polling place or voting center and for enabling a voter to prepare his or her ballot is guilty of a class C felony punishable under RCW 9A.20.021.

Sec. 41. RCW 29A.84.655 and 2003 c 111 s 2132 are each amended to read as follows:

Any ((precinct)) election officer who ((knowingly permits any voter to cast a second vote at any primary or general or special election, or knowingly permits any person not a qualified voter to vote at any primary or general or special election)) intentionally tabulates or causes to be tabulated, through any act or omission, an invalid ballot when the person has actual knowledge that the ballot is invalid, is guilty of a class C felony punishable under RCW 9A.20.021.

Sec. 42. RCW 27.12.370 and 2006 c 344 s 19 are each amended to read as follows:

The county legislative authority or authorities shall by resolution call a special election to be held in such city or town at the next special election date according to RCW 29A.04.321, and shall cause notice of such election to be given as provided for in (~~RCW 29A.52.354~~) section 27 of this act.

The election on the annexation of the city or town into the library district shall be conducted by the auditor of the county or counties in which the city or town is located in accordance with the general election laws of the state and the results thereof shall be canvassed by the canvassing board of the county or counties. No person shall be entitled to vote at such election unless he or she is registered to vote in said city or town for at least thirty days preceding the date of the election. The ballot proposition shall be in substantially the following form:

"Shall the city or town of be annexed to and be a part of library district?
 YES
 NO

If a majority of the persons voting on the proposition shall vote in favor thereof, the city or town shall thereupon be annexed and shall be a part of such library district.

Sec. 43. RCW 36.93.030 and 2006 c 344 s 28 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) There is hereby created and established in each county with a population of two hundred ten thousand or more a board to be known and designated as a "boundary review board".

(2) A boundary review board may be created and established in any other county in the following manner:

- (a) The county legislative authority may, by majority vote, adopt a resolution establishing a boundary review board; or
- (b) A petition seeking establishment of a boundary review board signed by qualified electors residing in the county equal in number to at least five percent of the votes cast in the county at the last county general election may be filed with the county auditor.

Upon the filing of such a petition, the county auditor shall examine the same and certify to the sufficiency of the signatures thereon. No person may withdraw his or her name from a petition after it has been filed with the auditor. Within thirty days after the filing of such petition, the county auditor shall transmit the same to the county legislative authority, together with his or her certificate of sufficiency.

After receipt of a valid petition for the establishment of a boundary review board, the county legislative authority shall submit the question of whether a boundary review board should be established to the electorate at the next primary or general election according to RCW 29A.04.321. Notice of the election shall be given as provided in (~~RCW 29A.52.354~~) section 27 of this act and shall include a clear statement of the proposal to be submitted.

If a majority of the persons voting on the proposition shall vote in favor of the establishment of the boundary review board, such board shall thereupon be deemed established.

FIFTY FOURTH DAY, MARCH 4, 2011

2011 REGULAR SESSION

Sec. 44. RCW 52.04.071 and 2009 c 115 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

The county legislative authority or authorities shall by resolution call a special election to be held in the city, partial city as set forth in RCW 52.04.061(2), or town and in the fire protection district at the next date according to RCW 29A.04.321, and shall cause notice of the election to be given as provided for in ((RCW 29A.52.351)) section 27 of this act.

The election on the annexation of the city, partial city as set forth in RCW 52.04.061(2), or town into the fire protection district shall be conducted by the auditor of the county or counties in which the city, partial city as set forth in RCW 52.04.061(2), or town and the fire protection district are located in accordance with the general election laws of the state. The results thereof shall be canvassed by the canvassing board of the county or counties. No person is entitled to vote at the election unless he or she is a qualified elector in the city, partial city as set forth in RCW 52.04.061(2), or town or unless he or she is a qualified elector within the boundaries of the fire protection district. The ballot proposition shall be in substantially the following form:

"Shall the city, partial city as set forth in RCW 52.04.061(2), or town of be annexed to and be a part of fire protection district?

YES
NO"

If a majority of the persons voting on the proposition in the city, partial city as set forth in RCW 52.04.061(2), or town and a majority of the persons voting on the proposition in the fire protection district vote in favor thereof, the city, partial city as set forth in RCW 52.04.061(2), or town shall be annexed and shall be a part of the fire protection district.

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 5124, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Eide, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5124 was immediately transmitted to the House of Representatives.

MOTION

Senator Benton moved that the Senate adjourn until 9:00 a.m. Saturday morning.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the motion by Senator Benton that the Senate adjourn until 9:00 a.m. Saturday morning.

The motion by Senator Benton failed by a voice vote.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Benton: "Mr. President, Senate Rule 15 specifically states that the Senate will break for dinner. We have not done that. It also specifically states how much time. We have been on the floor since 1:30 this afternoon and we have members that need to eat and we need to have either a dinner break or we need to adjourn until tomorrow morning."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "In responding to Senator Benton's point of order, it is true that, the Senate is required to provide a dinner break of I believe its ninety minutes. The Rule does not say when that must take place so your point is not well taken."

REMARKS BY SENATOR EIDE

Senator Eide: "For the good Senator's information we have two bills left on the order of consideration, they should go fairly fast. One of them is your amendment Senator so we will probably adopt it and then you might have your dinner by eight o'clock if we get these rolling. Ok, 8:15 p.m. at the latest. Thank you Mr. President."

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5730, by Senator Rockefeller

Authorizing mileage-based automobile insurance. Revised for 1st Substitute: Exempting certain usage or mileage-based insurance information from public inspection.

The measure was read the second time.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Rockefeller, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5730 was not substituted for Senate Bill No. 5730 and the substitute bill was not adopted.

MOTION

Senator Rockefeller moved that the following striking amendment by Senators Rockefeller and Benton be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that among the choices of automobile insurance policies that are available to drivers in this state should be policies whose premiums are priced based upon the demonstration of safe driving behavior. Having such usage-based policies available will provide people an opportunity to save money in the costs of insuring their vehicles, and would provide an incentive for reduced and safer driving that will reduce costs for fuel and vehicle maintenance, reduce accidents, and decrease driving-related pollution and congestion. Therefore, it is the purpose of this legislation to encourage the offering of these policies in Washington by eliminate existing regulatory barriers to offering usage-based automobile insurance policies, expressly authorizing the insurance commissioner to approve the offering of such policies, ensuring the privacy of drivers is protected, and allowing trade secret protection for proprietary usage-based insurance models.

Sec. 2. RCW 48.19.040 and 1994 c 131 s 8 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Every insurer or rating organization shall, before using, file with the commissioner every classifications manual, manual of rules and rates, rating plan, rating schedule, minimum rate, class rate, and rating rule, and every modification of any of the foregoing which it proposes. The insurer need not so file any rate on individually rated risks as described in subdivision (1) of RCW 48.19.030; except that any such specific rate made by a rating organization shall be filed.

(2) Every such filing shall indicate the type and extent of the coverage contemplated and must be accompanied by sufficient information to permit the commissioner to determine whether it meets the requirements of this chapter. An insurer or rating organization shall offer in support of any filing:

(a) The experience or judgment of the insurer or rating organization making the filing;

(b) An exhibit detailing the major elements of operating expense for the types of insurance affected by the filing;

(c) An explanation of how investment income has been taken into account in the proposed rates; and

(d) Any other information which the insurer or rating organization deems relevant.

(3) If an insurer has insufficient loss experience to support its proposed rates, it may submit loss experience for similar exposures of other insurers or of a rating organization.

(4) Every such filing shall state its proposed effective date.

(5)(a) A filing made pursuant to this chapter shall be exempt from the provisions of RCW 48.02.120(3). However, the filing and all supporting information accompanying it shall be open to public inspection only after the filing becomes effective unless such information is specifically exempt from public inspection.

(b) Information associated with an auto insurance filing for a usage or mileage-based insurance product that constitutes a trade secret as defined in RCW 19.108.010 is exempt from public inspection.

(6) Where a filing is required no insurer shall make or issue an insurance contract or policy except in accordance with its filing then in effect, except as is provided by RCW 48.19.090.

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

Senator Rockefeller spoke in favor of adoption of the striking amendment.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the striking amendment by Senators Rockefeller and Benton to Senate Bill No. 5730.

The motion by Senator Rockefeller carried and the striking amendment was adopted by voice vote.

MOTION

There being no objection, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 1 of the title, strike all material through line 3, and insert "An act relating to usage-based automobile insurance and exempting certain usage-based insurance information from public inspection; adding amending RCW 48.19.040; and adding creating a new section."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Rockefeller, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5730 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Senator Rockefeller spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5730.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5730 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 46; Nays, 3; Absent, 0; Excused, 0.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5656, by Senators Hargrove, Regala, White, McAuliffe and Kline

Creating a state Indian child welfare act.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Hargrove, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5656 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5656 and the substitute bill was placed on the second reading and read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Hargrove moved that the following striking amendment by Senators Hargrove and Stevens be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. SHORT TITLE. This chapter shall be known and cited as the "Washington state Indian child welfare act."

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. APPLICATION. This chapter shall apply in all child custody proceedings as that term is defined in this chapter. Whenever there is a conflict between chapter 13.32A, 13.34, 13.36, 26.10, or 26.33 RCW, the provisions of this chapter shall apply.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. INTENT. The legislature finds that the state is committed to protecting the essential tribal relations and best interests of Indian children by promoting practices designed to prevent out-of-home placement of Indian children that is inconsistent with the rights of the parents, the health, safety, or welfare of the children, or the interests of their tribe. Whenever out-of-home placement of an Indian child is necessary in a proceeding subject to the terms of the federal Indian child welfare act and in this chapter, the best interests of the Indian child may be served by placing the Indian child in accordance with the placement priorities expressed in this chapter. The legislature further finds that where placement away from the parent or Indian custodian is necessary for the child's safety, the state is committed to a placement that reflects and honors the unique values of the child's tribal culture and is best able to assist the Indian child in establishing, developing, and maintaining a political, cultural, social, and spiritual relationship with the child's tribe and tribal community.

It is the intent of the legislature that this chapter is a step in clarifying existing laws and codifying existing policies and practices. This chapter shall not be construed to reject or eliminate current policies and practices that are not included in its provisions.

The legislature further intends that nothing in this chapter is intended to interfere with policies and procedures that are derived from agreements entered into between the department and a tribe or tribes, as authorized by section 109 of the federal Indian child welfare act. The legislature finds that this chapter specifies the minimum requirements that must be applied in a child custody proceeding and does not prevent the department from providing a higher standard of protection to the right of any Indian child, parent, Indian custodian, or Indian child's tribe.

It is also the legislature's intent that the department's policy manual on Indian child welfare, the tribal-state agreement, and relevant local agreements between individual federally recognized tribes and the department should serve as persuasive guides in the interpretation and implementation of the federal Indian child welfare act, this chapter, and other relevant state laws.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. DEFINITIONS. The definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(1) "Active efforts" means the following:

(a) In any foster care placement or termination of parental rights proceeding of an Indian child under chapter 13.34 RCW and this chapter where the department or a supervising agency as defined in RCW 74.13.020 has a statutory or contractual duty to directly provide services to, or procure services for, the parent or parents or Indian custodian, or is providing services to a parent or parents or Indian custodian pursuant to a disposition order entered pursuant to RCW 13.34.130, the department or supervising agency shall make timely and affirmative efforts to provide or procure such services, including engaging the parent or parents or Indian custodian in reasonably available and culturally appropriate preventive, remedial, or rehabilitative services. This shall include those services offered by tribes and Indian organizations whenever possible. At a minimum "active efforts" shall include:

(i) In any dependency proceeding under chapter 13.34 RCW seeking out-of-home placement of an Indian child in which the department or supervising agency provided voluntary services to the parent, parents, or Indian custodian prior to filing the dependency petition, a showing to the court that the department or supervising agency social workers actively worked with the parent, parents, or Indian custodian to engage them in remedial services and rehabilitation programs to prevent the breakup of the family beyond simply providing referrals to such services.

(ii) In any dependency proceeding under chapter 13.34 RCW, in which the petitioner is seeking the continued out-of-home placement of an Indian child, the department or supervising agency must show to the court that it has actively worked with the parent, parents, or Indian custodian in accordance with existing court orders and the individual service plan to engage them in remedial services and rehabilitative programs to prevent the breakup of the family beyond simply providing referrals to such services.

(iii) In any termination of parental rights proceeding regarding an Indian child under chapter 13.34 RCW in which the department or supervising agency provided services to the parent, parents, or Indian custodian, a showing to the court that the department or supervising agency social workers actively worked with the parent, parents, or Indian custodian to engage them in remedial services and rehabilitation programs ordered by the court or identified in the department or supervising agency's individual service and safety plan rather than requiring that the plan or court order be performed on its own.

(b) In any foster care placement or termination of parental rights proceeding in which the petitioner does not otherwise have a statutory or contractual duty to directly provide services to, or procure services for, the parent or Indian custodian, "active efforts" means a documented, concerted, and good faith effort to facilitate the parent's or Indian custodian's receipt of and engagement in services capable of meeting the criteria set out in (a) of this subsection.

(2) "Best interests of the Indian child" means the use of practices in accordance with the federal Indian child welfare act, this chapter, and other applicable law, that are designed to accomplish the following: (a) Protect the safety, well-being, development, and stability of the Indian child; (b) prevent the unnecessary out-of-home placement of the Indian child; (c) acknowledge the right of Indian tribes to maintain their existence and integrity which will promote the stability and security of their children and families; (d) recognize the value to the Indian child of establishing, developing, or maintaining a political, cultural, social, and spiritual relationship with the Indian child's tribe and tribal community; and (e) in a proceeding under this chapter where out-of-home placement is necessary, to prioritize placement of the Indian child in accordance with the placement preferences of this chapter.

(3) "Child custody proceeding" includes:

(a) "Foster care placement" which means any action removing an Indian child from his or her parent or Indian custodian for temporary placement in a foster home, institution, or with a relative, guardian, conservator, or suitable other person where the parent or Indian custodian cannot have the child returned upon demand, but where parental rights have not been terminated;

(b) "Termination of parental rights" which means any action resulting in the termination of the parent-child relationship;

(c) "Preadoptive placement" which means the temporary placement of an Indian child in a foster home or institution after the termination of parental rights but before or in lieu of adoptive placement; and

(d) "Adoptive placement" which means the permanent placement of an Indian child for adoption, including any action resulting in a final decree of adoption.

These terms shall not include a placement based upon an act which, if committed by an adult, would be deemed a crime or upon an award, in a dissolution proceeding of custody to one of the parents.

(4) "Court of competent jurisdiction" means a federal or state court that entered an order in a child custody proceeding involving an Indian child, as long as the state court had proper subject matter jurisdiction in accordance with this chapter and the laws of that state, or the tribal court that had or has exclusive or concurrent jurisdiction pursuant to 25 U.S.C. Sec. 1911.

(5) "Department" means the department of social and health services and any of its divisions. "Department" also includes supervising agencies as defined in RCW 74.13.020(12) with which the department entered into a contract to provide services, care, placement, case management, contract monitoring, or supervision to children subject to a petition filed under chapter 13.34 or 26.33 RCW.

(6) "Indian" means a person who is a member of an Indian tribe, or who is an Alaska native and a member of a regional corporation as defined in 43 U.S.C. Sec. 1606.

(7) "Indian child" means an unmarried and unemancipated Indian person who is under eighteen years of age and is either: (a) A member of an Indian tribe; or (b) eligible for membership in an Indian tribe and is the biological child of a member of an Indian tribe.

2011 REGULAR SESSION

(8) "Indian child's family" or "extended family member" means an individual, defined by the law or custom of the child's tribe, as a relative of the child. If the child's tribe does not identify such individuals by law or custom, the term means an adult who is the Indian child's grandparent, aunt, uncle, brother, sister, brother-in-law, sister-in-law, niece, nephew, first or second cousin, or step-parent, even following termination of the marriage.

(9) "Indian child's tribe" means a tribe in which an Indian child is a member or eligible for membership.

(10) "Indian custodian" means an Indian person who under tribal law, tribal custom, or state law, has legal or temporary physical custody of an Indian child, or to whom the parent has transferred temporary care, physical custody, and control of an Indian child.

(11) "Indian tribe" or "tribe" means any Indian tribe, band, nation, or other organized group or community of Indians recognized as eligible for the services provided to Indians by the secretary of the interior because of their status as Indians, including any Alaska native village as defined in 43 U.S.C. Sec. 1602(c).

(12) "Member" and "membership" means a determination by an Indian tribe that a person is a member or eligible for membership in that Indian tribe.

(13) "Parent" means a biological parent or parents of an Indian child or a person who has lawfully adopted an Indian child, including adoptions made under tribal law or custom. "Parent" does not include an unwed father whose paternity has not been acknowledged or established.

(14) "Secretary of the interior" means the secretary of the United States department of the interior.

(15) "Tribal court" means a court or body vested by an Indian tribe with jurisdiction over child custody proceedings, including but not limited to a federal court of Indian offenses, a court established and operated under the code or custom of an Indian tribe, or an administrative body of an Indian tribe vested with authority over child custody proceedings.

(16) "Tribal customary adoption" means adoption or other process through the tribal custom, traditions, or laws of an Indian child's tribe by which the Indian child is permanently placed with a nonparent and through which the nonparent is vested with the rights, privileges, and obligations of a legal parent. Termination of the parent-child relationship between the Indian child and the biological parent is not required to effect or recognize a tribal customary adoption.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. DETERMINATION OF INDIAN STATUS. Any party seeking the foster care placement of, termination of parental rights over, or the adoption of a child must make a good faith effort to determine whether the child is an Indian child. This shall be done by consultation with the child's parent or parents, any person who has custody of the child or with whom the child resides, and any other person that reasonably can be expected to have information regarding the child's possible membership or eligibility for membership in an Indian tribe to determine if the child is an Indian child, and by contacting any Indian tribe in which the child may be a member or may be eligible for membership. Preliminary contacts for the purpose of making a good faith effort to determine a child's possible Indian status, do not constitute legal notice as required by section 7 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. JURISDICTION. (1) An Indian tribe shall have exclusive jurisdiction over any child custody proceeding involving an Indian child who resides or is domiciled within the reservation of that tribe, unless the tribe has consented to the state's concurrent jurisdiction, the tribe has expressly declined to exercise its exclusive jurisdiction, or the state is exercising emergency jurisdiction in strict compliance with section 14 of this act.

FIFTY FIFTH DAY, MARCH 5, 2011

2011 REGULAR SESSION

(2) If an Indian child is already a ward of a tribal court at the start of the child custody proceeding, the Indian tribe may retain exclusive jurisdiction, notwithstanding the residence or domicile of the child.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. NOTICE. (1) In any involuntary child custody proceeding seeking the foster care placement of, or the termination of parental rights to, a child in which the petitioning party or the court knows, or has reason to know, that the child is or may be an Indian child as defined in this chapter, the petitioning party shall notify the parent or Indian custodian and the Indian child's tribe or tribes, by certified mail, return receipt requested, and by use of a mandatory Indian child welfare act notice. If the identity or location of the parent or Indian custodian and the tribe cannot be determined, such notice shall be given to the secretary of the interior by registered mail, return receipt requested, in accordance with the regulations of the bureau of Indian affairs. The secretary of the interior has fifteen days after receipt to provide the requisite notice to the parent or Indian custodian and the tribe. No foster care placement or termination of parental rights proceeding shall be held until at least ten days after receipt of notice by the parent or Indian custodian and the tribe. The parent or Indian custodian or the tribe shall, upon request, be granted up to twenty additional days to prepare for the proceeding.

(2) The determination of the Indian status of a child shall be made as soon as practicable in order to serve the best interests of the Indian child and protect the interests of the child's tribe.

(3)(a) A written determination by an Indian tribe that a child is a member of or eligible for membership in that tribe, or testimony by the tribe attesting to such status shall be conclusive that the child is an Indian child;

(b) A written determination by an Indian tribe that a child is not a member of or eligible for membership in that tribe, or testimony by the tribe attesting to such status shall be conclusive that the child is not a member or eligible for membership in that tribe. Such determinations are presumptively those of the tribe where submitted in the form of a tribal resolution, or signed by or testified to by the person(s) authorized by the tribe's governing body to speak for the tribe, or by the tribe's agent designated to receive notice under the federal Indian child welfare act where such designation is published in the federal register;

(c) Where a tribe provides no response to notice under section 7 of this act, such nonresponse shall not constitute evidence that the child is not a member or eligible for membership. Provided, however, that under such circumstances the party asserting application of the federal Indian child welfare act, or this chapter, will have the burden of proving that the child is an Indian child.

(4) Where a child has been determined not to be an Indian child, any party to the proceeding, or an Indian tribe that subsequently determines the child is a member, may move the court for redetermination of the child's Indian status at any time based upon new evidence, redetermination by the child's tribe, or newly conferred federal recognition of the tribe.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. TRANSFER OF JURISDICTION. (1) In any proceeding for the foster care placement of, or termination of parental rights to, an Indian child who is not domiciled or residing within the reservation of the Indian child's tribe, the court shall, in the absence of good cause to the contrary, transfer the proceeding to the jurisdiction of the Indian child's tribe, upon the motion of any of the following persons:

- (a) Either of the child's parents;
- (b) The child's Indian custodian;
- (c) The child's tribe; or
- (d) The child, if age twelve or older.

The transfer shall be subject to declination by the tribe. The tribe shall have seventy-five days to affirmatively respond to a motion or order transferring jurisdiction to the tribal court. A failure of the tribe to respond within the seventy-five day period shall be construed as a declination to accept transfer of the case.

(2) If the child's tribe has not formally intervened, the moving party shall serve a copy of the motion and all supporting documents on the tribal court to which the moving party seeks transfer.

(3) If either of the Indian child's parents objects to transfer of the proceeding to the Indian child's tribe, the court shall not transfer the proceeding.

(4) Following entry of an order transferring jurisdiction to the Indian child's tribe:

(a) Upon receipt of an order from a tribal court accepting jurisdiction, the state court shall dismiss the child custody proceeding without prejudice.

(b) Pending receipt of such tribal court order, the state court may conduct additional hearings and enter orders which strictly comply with the requirements of the federal Indian child welfare act and this chapter. The state court shall not enter a final order in any child custody proceeding, except an order dismissing the proceeding and returning the Indian child to the care of the parent or Indian custodian from whose care the child was removed, while awaiting receipt of a tribal court order accepting jurisdiction, or in the absence of a tribal court order or other formal written declination of jurisdiction.

(c) If the Indian child's tribe declines jurisdiction, the state court shall enter an order vacating the order transferring jurisdiction and proceed with adjudication of the child custody matter in strict compliance with the federal Indian child welfare act, this chapter, and any applicable tribal-state agreement.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. INTERVENTION. The Indian child, the Indian child's tribe or tribes, and the Indian custodian have the right to intervene at any point in any child custody proceeding involving the Indian child.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. FULL FAITH AND CREDIT. The state shall give full faith and credit to the public acts, records, judicial proceedings, and judgments of any Indian tribe applicable to Indian child custody proceedings.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. RIGHT TO COUNSEL. In any child custody proceeding under this chapter in which the court determines the Indian child's parent or Indian custodian is indigent, the parent or Indian custodian shall have the right to court-appointed counsel. The court may, in its discretion, appoint counsel for the Indian child upon a finding that the appointment is in the best interests of the Indian child.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. RIGHT TO ACCESS TO EVIDENCE. Each party to a child custody proceeding involving an Indian child shall have the right to examine all reports or other documents filed with the court upon which any decision with respect to the proceeding may be based.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. EVIDENTIARY REQUIREMENTS. (1) A party seeking to effect a foster care placement of or termination of parental rights to an Indian child shall satisfy the court that active efforts have been made to provide remedial services and rehabilitative programs designed to prevent the breakup of the Indian family and that these efforts have proved unsuccessful.

(2) No foster care placement may be ordered in a child custody proceeding in the absence of a determination, supported by clear and convincing evidence, including testimony of qualified expert witnesses, that the continued custody of the child by the parent or Indian custodian is likely to result in serious emotional or physical damage to the child. For purposes of this subsection, any harm to the bond between the foster parent and the child that could result from removing the child from foster care shall not be the sole basis or primary reason for continuing the child in foster care.

FIFTY FIFTH DAY, MARCH 5, 2011

(3) No termination of parental rights may be ordered in a child custody proceeding in the absence of a determination, supported by evidence beyond a reasonable doubt, including testimony of qualified expert witnesses, that the continued custody of the child by the parent or Indian custodian is likely to result in serious emotional or physical damage to the child.

(4)(a) For purposes of this section, "qualified expert witness" means a person who provides testimony in a proceeding under this chapter to assist a court in the determination of whether the continued custody of the child by, or return of the child to, the parent, parents, or Indian custodian, is likely to result in serious emotional or physical damage to the child. In any proceeding in which the child's Indian tribe has intervened pursuant to section 9 of this act or, if the department is the petitioner and the Indian child's tribe has entered into a local agreement with the department for the provision of child welfare services, the petitioner shall contact the tribe and ask the tribe to identify a tribal member or other person of the tribe's choice who is recognized by the tribe as knowledgeable regarding tribal customs as they pertain to family organization or child rearing practices. The petitioner shall notify the child's Indian tribe of the need to provide a "qualified expert witness" at least twenty days prior to any evidentiary hearing in which the testimony of the witness will be required. If the child's Indian tribe does not identify a "qualified expert witness" for the proceeding on a timely basis, the petitioner may proceed to identify such a witness pursuant to (b) of this subsection.

(b) In any proceeding in which the child's Indian tribe has not intervened or entered into a local agreement with the department for the provision of child welfare services, or a child's Indian tribe has not responded to a request to identify a "qualified expert witness" for the proceeding on a timely basis, the petitioner shall provide a "qualified expert witness" who meets one or more of the following requirements in descending order of preference:

(i) A member of the child's Indian tribe or other person of the tribe's choice who is recognized by the tribe as knowledgeable regarding tribal customs as they pertain to family organization or child rearing practices for this purpose;

(ii) Any person having substantial experience in the delivery of child and family services to Indians, and extensive knowledge of prevailing social and cultural standards and child rearing practices within the Indian child's tribe;

(iii) Any person having substantial experience in the delivery of child and family services to Indians, and knowledge of prevailing social and cultural standards and child rearing practices in Indian tribes with cultural similarities to the Indian child's tribe; or

(iv) A professional person having substantial education and experience in the area of his or her specialty.

(c) When the petitioner is the department or a supervising agency, the currently assigned department or agency caseworker or the caseworker's supervisor may not testify as a "qualified expert witness" for purposes of this section. Nothing in this section shall bar the assigned department or agency caseworker or the caseworker's supervisor from testifying as an expert witness for other purposes in a proceeding under this chapter. Nothing in this section shall bar other department or supervising agency employees with appropriate expert qualifications or experience from testifying as a "qualified expert witness" in a proceeding under this chapter. Nothing in this section shall bar the petitioner or any other party in a proceeding under this chapter from providing additional witnesses or expert testimony, subject to the approval of the court, on any issue before the court including the determination of whether the continued custody of the child by, or return of the child to, the parent, parents, or Indian custodian, is likely to result in serious emotional or physical damage to the child.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. EMERGENCY REMOVAL OF AN INDIAN CHILD. (1) Notwithstanding any other provision of federal or state law, nothing shall be construed to prevent the department or law enforcement from the emergency removal of an Indian child who is a resident of or is domiciled on an Indian reservation, but is temporarily located off the reservation, from his or her parent or Indian custodian or the emergency placement of such child in a foster home, under applicable state law, to prevent imminent physical damage or harm to the child.

(2) The department or law enforcement agency shall ensure that the emergency removal or placement terminates immediately when such removal or placement is no longer necessary to prevent imminent physical damage or harm to the child and shall expeditiously initiate a child custody proceeding subject to the provisions of the federal Indian child welfare act and this chapter to transfer the child to the jurisdiction of the appropriate Indian tribe or restore the child to the child's parent or Indian custodian, if appropriate.

(3) When the nature of the emergency allows, the department must notify the child's tribe before the removal has occurred. If prior notification is not possible, the department shall notify the child's tribe by the quickest means possible. The notice must contain the basis for the Indian child's removal, the time, date, and place of the initial hearing, and the tribe's right to intervene and participate in the proceeding. This notice shall not constitute the notice required under section 7 of this act for purposes of subsequent dependency, termination of parental rights, or adoption proceedings.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. CONSENT. (1) If an Indian child's parent or Indian custodian voluntarily consents to a foster care placement of the child or to termination of parental rights, the consent is not valid unless executed in writing and recorded before a judge of a court of competent jurisdiction and accompanied by the judge's certificate that the terms and consequences of the consent were fully explained in detail and were fully understood by the parent or Indian custodian. The court must also certify that either the parent or Indian custodian fully understood the explanation in English or that it was interpreted into a language that the parent or Indian custodian understood. Any consent for release of custody given prior to, or within ten days after, the birth of the Indian child shall not be valid.

(2) An Indian child's parent or Indian custodian may withdraw consent to a voluntary foster care placement at any time and, upon the withdrawal of consent, the child shall be returned to the parent or Indian custodian.

(3) In a voluntary proceeding for termination of parental rights to, or adoptive placement of, an Indian child, the consent of the parent may be withdrawn for any reason at any time prior to the entry of an order terminating parental rights or a final decree of adoption, and the child shall be returned to the parent.

(4) After the entry of a final decree of adoption of an Indian child, the parent may withdraw consent to the adoption upon the grounds that consent was obtained through fraud or duress. Upon a finding that such consent was obtained through fraud or duress the court shall vacate the decree and return the child to the parent. No adoption which has been effective for at least two years may be invalidated under this section unless otherwise allowed by state law.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. IMPROPER REMOVAL OF AN INDIAN CHILD. If a petitioner in a child custody proceeding under this chapter has improperly removed the child from the custody of the parent or Indian custodian or has improperly retained custody after a visit or other temporary relinquishment of custody, the court shall decline jurisdiction over the petition and shall immediately return the child to the child's parent or Indian custodian unless returning the child to the parent or Indian custodian would subject the child to substantial and immediate danger or threat of such danger.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. REMOVAL OF INDIAN CHILD FROM ADOPTIVE OR FOSTER CARE PLACEMENT.

(1) If a final decree of adoption of an Indian child has been vacated or set aside or the adoptive parents voluntarily consent to the termination of their parental rights to the child, the biological parent or prior Indian custodian may petition to have the child returned to their custody and the court shall grant the request unless there is a showing by clear and convincing evidence that return of custody to the biological parent or prior Indian custodian is not in the best interests of the Indian child.

(2) If an Indian child is removed from a foster care placement or a preadoptive or adoptive home for the purpose of further foster care, preadoptive, or adoptive placement, the placement shall be in accordance with this chapter, except when an Indian child is being returned to the parent or Indian custodian from whose custody the child was originally removed.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. PLACEMENT PREFERENCES. (1) When an emergency removal, foster care placement, or preadoptive placement of an Indian child is necessary, a good faith effort will be made to place the Indian child:

- (a) In the least restrictive setting;
- (b) Which most approximates a family situation;
- (c) Which is in reasonable proximity to the Indian child's home; and

(d) In which the Indian child's special needs, if any, will be met.

(2) In any foster care or preadoptive placement, a preference shall be given, in absence of good cause to the contrary, to the child's placement with one of the following:

- (a) A member of the child's extended family.
- (b) A foster home licensed, approved, or specified by the child's tribe.

(c) An Indian foster home licensed or approved by an authorized non-Indian licensing authority.

(d) A child foster care agency approved by an Indian tribe or operated by an Indian organization which has a program suitable to meet the Indian child's needs.

(e) A non-Indian child foster care agency approved by the child's tribe.

(f) A non-Indian family that is committed to:

- (i) Promoting and allowing appropriate extended family visitation;
- (ii) Establishing, maintaining, and strengthening the child's relationship with his or her tribe or tribes; and
- (iii) Participating in the cultural and ceremonial events of the child's tribe.

(3) In the absence of good cause to the contrary, any adoptive or other permanent placement of an Indian child, preference shall be given to a placement with one of the following, in descending priority order:

- (a) Extended family members;
- (b) An Indian family of the same tribe as the child;
- (c) An Indian family that is of a similar culture to the child's tribe;
- (d) Another Indian family; or
- (e) Any other family which can provide a suitable home for an Indian child, such suitability to be determined in consultation with the Indian child's tribe or, where the Indian child's tribe has not intervened or participated, the local Indian child welfare advisory committee.

(4) Notwithstanding the placement preferences listed in subsections (2) and (3) of this section, if a different order of placement preference is established by the child's tribe, the court or agency effecting the placement shall follow the order of preference established by the tribe so long as the placement is in the least restrictive setting appropriate to the particular needs of the child. Where appropriate, the preference of the Indian child or his or her parent shall be considered.

(5) The standards to be applied in meeting the preference requirements of this section shall be the prevailing social and cultural standards of the Indian community in which the parent or extended family members of an Indian child reside, or with which the parent or extended family members maintain social and cultural ties.

(6) Nothing in this section shall prevent the department or the court from placing the child with a parent to effectuate a permanent plan regardless of the parent's relationship to the child's tribe.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. COMPLIANCE. (1) The department, in consultation with Indian tribes, shall establish standards and procedures for the department's review of cases subject to this chapter and methods for monitoring the department's compliance with provisions of the federal Indian child welfare act and this chapter. These standards and procedures and the monitoring methods shall also be integrated into the department's child welfare contracting and contract monitoring process.

(2) Any Indian child who is the subject of any action for foster care placement or termination of parental rights under chapter 13.34 or 26.33 RCW, any parent or Indian custodian from whose custody such child was removed, and the Indian child's tribe may petition any court of competent jurisdiction to invalidate such action upon a showing that such action violated provisions of this chapter or the federal Indian child welfare act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. SEVERABILITY. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

Sec. 21. RCW 13.32A.152 and 2004 c 64 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Whenever a child in need of services petition is filed by: (a) A youth pursuant to RCW 13.32A.150; (b) the child or the child's parent pursuant to RCW 13.32A.120; or (c) the department pursuant to RCW 13.32A.140, the filing party shall have a copy of the petition served on the parents of the youth. Service shall first be attempted in person and if unsuccessful, then by certified mail with return receipt.

(2) Whenever a child in need of services petition is filed by a youth or parent pursuant to RCW 13.32A.150, the court shall immediately notify the department that a petition has been filed.

~~(3)((a) Whenever) When a child in need of services petition is filed by the department, and the court or the petitioning party knows or has reason to know that an Indian child is involved, the ((petitioning party shall promptly provide notice to the child's parent or Indian custodian and to the agent designated by the child's Indian tribe to receive such notices. Notice shall be by certified mail with return receipt requested. If the identity or location of the parent or Indian custodian and the tribe cannot be determined, notice shall be given to the secretary of the interior in the manner described in 25 C.F.R. 23.11. If the child may be a member of more than one tribe, the petitioning party shall send notice to all tribes the petitioner has reason to know may be affiliated with the child.~~

~~(b) The notice shall: (i) Contain a statement notifying the parent or custodian and the tribe of the pending proceeding; and (ii) notify the tribe of the tribe's right to intervene and/or request that the case be transferred to tribal court)) provisions of chapter 13.--- RCW (the new chapter created in section 34 of this act) apply.~~

Sec. 22. RCW 13.34.030 and 2010 1st sp.s. c 8 s 13, 2010 c 272 s 10, and 2010 c 94 s 6 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

For purposes of this chapter:

FIFTY FIFTH DAY, MARCH 5, 2011

(1) "Abandoned" means when the child's parent, guardian, or other custodian has expressed, either by statement or conduct, an intent to forego, for an extended period, parental rights or responsibilities despite an ability to exercise such rights and responsibilities. If the court finds that the petitioner has exercised due diligence in attempting to locate the parent, no contact between the child and the child's parent, guardian, or other custodian for a period of three months creates a rebuttable presumption of abandonment, even if there is no expressed intent to abandon.

(2) "Child" and "juvenile" means any individual under the age of eighteen years.

(3) "Current placement episode" means the period of time that begins with the most recent date that the child was removed from the home of the parent, guardian, or legal custodian for purposes of placement in out-of-home care and continues until: (a) The child returns home; (b) an adoption decree, a permanent custody order, or guardianship order is entered; or (c) the dependency is dismissed, whichever occurs first.

(4) "Department" means the department of social and health services.

(5) "Dependency guardian" means the person, nonprofit corporation, or Indian tribe appointed by the court pursuant to this chapter for the limited purpose of assisting the court in the supervision of the dependency.

(6) "Dependent child" means any child who:

(a) Has been abandoned;

(b) Is abused or neglected as defined in chapter 26.44 RCW by a person legally responsible for the care of the child; or

(c) Has no parent, guardian, or custodian capable of adequately caring for the child, such that the child is in circumstances which constitute a danger of substantial damage to the child's psychological or physical development.

(7) "Developmental disability" means a disability attributable to intellectual disability, cerebral palsy, epilepsy, autism, or another neurological or other condition of an individual found by the secretary to be closely related to an intellectual disability or to require treatment similar to that required for individuals with intellectual disabilities, which disability originates before the individual attains age eighteen, which has continued or can be expected to continue indefinitely, and which constitutes a substantial limitation to the individual.

(8) "Guardian" means the person or agency that: (a) Has been appointed as the guardian of a child in a legal proceeding, including a guardian appointed pursuant to chapter 13.36 RCW; and (b) has the legal right to custody of the child pursuant to such appointment. The term "guardian" does not include a "dependency guardian" appointed pursuant to a proceeding under this chapter.

(9) "Guardian ad litem" means a person, appointed by the court to represent the best interests of a child in a proceeding under this chapter, or in any matter which may be consolidated with a proceeding under this chapter. A "court-appointed special advocate" appointed by the court to be the guardian ad litem for the child, or to perform substantially the same duties and functions as a guardian ad litem, shall be deemed to be guardian ad litem for all purposes and uses of this chapter.

(10) "Guardian ad litem program" means a court-authorized volunteer program, which is or may be established by the superior court of the county in which such proceeding is filed, to manage all aspects of volunteer guardian ad litem representation for children alleged or found to be dependent. Such management shall include but is not limited to: Recruitment, screening, training, supervision, assignment, and discharge of volunteers.

(11) "Housing assistance" means appropriate referrals by the department or other supervising agencies to federal, state, local, or private agencies or organizations, assistance with forms, applications, or financial subsidies or other monetary assistance for housing. For purposes of this chapter, "housing assistance" is not a remedial service or time-limited family reunification service as described in RCW 13.34.025(2).

(12) "Indigent" means a person who, at any stage of a court proceeding, is:

(a) Receiving one of the following types of public assistance: Temporary assistance for needy families, disability lifeline benefits, poverty-related veterans' benefits, food stamps or food stamp benefits transferred electronically, refugee resettlement benefits, medicaid, or supplemental security income; or

(b) Involuntarily committed to a public mental health facility; or

(c) Receiving an annual income, after taxes, of one hundred twenty-five percent or less of the federally established poverty level; or

(d) Unable to pay the anticipated cost of counsel for the matter before the court because his or her available funds are insufficient to pay any amount for the retention of counsel.

(13) "Out-of-home care" means placement in a foster family home or group care facility licensed pursuant to chapter 74.15 RCW or placement in a home, other than that of the child's parent, guardian, or legal custodian, not required to be licensed pursuant to chapter 74.15 RCW.

(14) "Preventive services" means preservation services, as defined in chapter 74.14C RCW, and other reasonably available services, including housing assistance, capable of preventing the need for out-of-home placement while protecting the child.

(15) "Shelter care" means temporary physical care in a facility licensed pursuant to RCW 74.15.030 or in a home not required to be licensed pursuant to RCW 74.15.030.

(16) "Sibling" means a child's birth brother, birth sister, adoptive brother, adoptive sister, half-brother, or half-sister, or as defined by the law or custom of the Indian child's tribe for an Indian child as defined in ~~((25 U.S.C. Sec. 1903(4)))~~ section 4 of this act.

(17) "Social study" means a written evaluation of matters relevant to the disposition of the case and shall contain the following information:

(a) A statement of the specific harm or harms to the child that intervention is designed to alleviate;

(b) A description of the specific services and activities, for both the parents and child, that are needed in order to prevent serious harm to the child; the reasons why such services and activities are likely to be useful; the availability of any proposed services; and the agency's overall plan for ensuring that the services will be delivered. The description shall identify the services chosen and approved by the parent;

(c) If removal is recommended, a full description of the reasons why the child cannot be protected adequately in the home, including a description of any previous efforts to work with the parents and the child in the home; the in-home treatment programs that have been considered and rejected; the preventive services, including housing assistance, that have been offered or provided and have failed to prevent the need for out-of-home placement, unless the health, safety, and welfare of the child cannot be protected adequately in the home; and the parents' attitude toward placement of the child;

(d) A statement of the likely harms the child will suffer as a result of removal;

(e) A description of the steps that will be taken to minimize the harm to the child that may result if separation occurs including an assessment of the child's relationship and emotional bond with any siblings, and the agency's plan to provide ongoing contact between the child and the child's siblings if appropriate; and

(f) Behavior that will be expected before determination that supervision of the family or placement is no longer necessary.

FIFTY FIFTH DAY, MARCH 5, 2011

2011 REGULAR SESSION

(18) "Supervising agency" means an agency licensed by the state under RCW 74.15.090, or licensed by a federally recognized Indian tribe located in this state under RCW 74.15.190, that has entered into a performance-based contract with the department to provide case management for the delivery and documentation of child welfare services as defined in RCW 74.13.020.

Sec. 23. RCW 13.34.040 and 2004 c 64 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Any person may file with the clerk of the superior court a petition showing that there is within the county, or residing within the county, a dependent child and requesting that the superior court deal with such child as provided in this chapter. There shall be no fee for filing such petitions.

(2) In counties having paid probation officers, these officers shall, to the extent possible, first determine if a petition is reasonably justifiable. Each petition shall be verified and contain a statement of facts constituting a dependency, and the names and residence, if known to the petitioner, of the parents, guardian, or custodian of the alleged dependent child.

(3) Every petition filed in proceedings under this chapter shall contain a statement alleging whether the child is or may be an Indian child as defined in ~~((25 U.S.C. Sec. 1903))~~ section 4 of this act. If the child is an Indian child ~~((as defined under the Indian child welfare act, the provisions of the act))~~ chapter 13,--- RCW (the new chapter created in section 34 of this act) shall apply.

(4) Every order or decree entered under this chapter shall contain a finding that the federal Indian child welfare act or chapter 13,--- RCW (the new chapter created in section 34 of this act) does or does not apply. Where there is a finding that the federal Indian child welfare act or chapter 13,--- RCW (the new chapter created in section 34 of this act) does apply, the decree or order must also contain a finding that all notice requirements and evidentiary requirements under the federal Indian child welfare act and chapter 13,--- RCW (the new chapter created in section 34 of this act) have been satisfied.

Sec. 24. RCW 13.34.065 and 2009 c 520 s 22, 2009 c 491 s 1, 2009 c 477 s 3, and 2009 c 397 s 2 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1)(a) When a child is taken into custody, the court shall hold a shelter care hearing within seventy-two hours, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays. The primary purpose of the shelter care hearing is to determine whether the child can be immediately and safely returned home while the adjudication of the dependency is pending.

(b) Any parent, guardian, or legal custodian who for good cause is unable to attend the shelter care hearing may request that a subsequent shelter care hearing be scheduled. The request shall be made to the clerk of the court where the petition is filed prior to the initial shelter care hearing. Upon the request of the parent, the court shall schedule the hearing within seventy-two hours of the request, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays. The clerk shall notify all other parties of the hearing by any reasonable means.

(2)(a) If it is likely that the child will remain in shelter care longer than seventy-two hours, in those areas in which child welfare services are being provided by a supervising agency, the supervising agency shall assume case management responsibilities of the case. The department or supervising agency shall submit a recommendation to the court as to the further need for shelter care in all cases in which the child will remain in shelter care longer than the seventy-two hour period. In all other cases, the recommendation shall be submitted by the juvenile court probation counselor.

(b) All parties have the right to present testimony to the court regarding the need or lack of need for shelter care.

(c) Hearsay evidence before the court regarding the need or lack of need for shelter care must be supported by sworn testimony, affidavit, or declaration of the person offering such evidence.

(3)(a) At the commencement of the hearing, the court shall notify the parent, guardian, or custodian of the following:

(i) The parent, guardian, or custodian has the right to a shelter care hearing;

(ii) The nature of the shelter care hearing, the rights of the parents, and the proceedings that will follow; and

(iii) If the parent, guardian, or custodian is not represented by counsel, the right to be represented. If the parent, guardian, or custodian is indigent, the court shall appoint counsel as provided in RCW 13.34.090; and

(b) If a parent, guardian, or legal custodian desires to waive the shelter care hearing, the court shall determine, on the record and with the parties present, whether such waiver is knowing and voluntary. A parent may not waive his or her right to the shelter care hearing unless he or she appears in court and the court determines that the waiver is knowing and voluntary. Regardless of whether the court accepts the parental waiver of the shelter care hearing, the court must provide notice to the parents of their rights required under (a) of this subsection and make the finding required under subsection (4) of this section.

(4) At the shelter care hearing the court shall examine the need for shelter care and inquire into the status of the case. The paramount consideration for the court shall be the health, welfare, and safety of the child. At a minimum, the court shall inquire into the following:

(a) Whether the notice required under RCW 13.34.062 was given to all known parents, guardians, or legal custodians of the child. The court shall make an express finding as to whether the notice required under RCW 13.34.062 was given to the parent, guardian, or legal custodian. If actual notice was not given to the parent, guardian, or legal custodian and the whereabouts of such person is known or can be ascertained, the court shall order the department to make reasonable efforts to advise the parent, guardian, or legal custodian of the status of the case, including the date and time of any subsequent hearings, and their rights under RCW 13.34.090;

(b) Whether the child can be safely returned home while the adjudication of the dependency is pending;

(c) What efforts have been made to place the child with a relative. The court shall ask the parents whether the department discussed with them the placement of the child with a relative or other suitable person described in RCW 13.34.130(1)(b) and shall determine what efforts have been made toward such a placement;

(d) What services were provided to the family to prevent or eliminate the need for removal of the child from the child's home. If the dependency petition or other information before the court alleges that homelessness or the lack of suitable housing was a significant factor contributing to the removal of the child, the court shall inquire as to whether housing assistance was provided to the family to prevent or eliminate the need for removal of the child or children;

(e) Is the placement proposed by the department or supervising agency the least disruptive and most family-like setting that meets the needs of the child;

(f) Whether it is in the best interest of the child to remain enrolled in the school, developmental program, or child care the child was in prior to placement and what efforts have been made to maintain the child in the school, program, or child care if it would be in the best interest of the child to remain in the same school, program, or child care;

(g) Appointment of a guardian ad litem or attorney;

FIFTY FIFTH DAY, MARCH 5, 2011

(h) Whether the child is or may be an Indian child as defined in ~~((25 U.S.C. Sec. 1903))~~ section 4 of this act, whether the provisions of the federal Indian child welfare act or chapter 13--- RCW (the new chapter created in section 34 of this act) apply, and whether there is compliance with the federal Indian child welfare act and chapter 13--- RCW (the new chapter created in section 34 of this act), including notice to the child's tribe;

(i) Whether, as provided in RCW 26.44.063, restraining orders, or orders expelling an allegedly abusive household member from the home of a nonabusive parent, guardian, or legal custodian, will allow the child to safely remain in the home;

(j) Whether any orders for examinations, evaluations, or immediate services are needed. The court may not order a parent to undergo examinations, evaluation, or services at the shelter care hearing unless the parent agrees to the examination, evaluation, or service;

(k) The terms and conditions for parental, sibling, and family visitation.

(5)(a) The court shall release a child alleged to be dependent to the care, custody, and control of the child's parent, guardian, or legal custodian unless the court finds there is reasonable cause to believe that:

(i) After consideration of the specific services that have been provided, reasonable efforts have been made to prevent or eliminate the need for removal of the child from the child's home and to make it possible for the child to return home; and

(ii)(A) The child has no parent, guardian, or legal custodian to provide supervision and care for such child; or

(B) The release of such child would present a serious threat of substantial harm to such child, notwithstanding an order entered pursuant to RCW 26.44.063; or

(C) The parent, guardian, or custodian to whom the child could be released has been charged with violating RCW 9A.40.060 or 9A.40.070.

(b) If the court does not release the child to his or her parent, guardian, or legal custodian, the court shall order placement with a relative or other suitable person as described in RCW 13.34.130(1)(b), unless there is reasonable cause to believe the health, safety, or welfare of the child would be jeopardized or that the efforts to reunite the parent and child will be hindered. The court must also determine whether placement with the relative or other suitable person is in the child's best interests. The relative or other suitable person must be willing and available to:

(i) Care for the child and be able to meet any special needs of the child;

(ii) Facilitate the child's visitation with siblings, if such visitation is part of the supervising agency's plan or is ordered by the court; and

(iii) Cooperate with the department or supervising agency in providing necessary background checks and home studies.

(c) If the child was not initially placed with a relative or other suitable person, and the court does not release the child to his or her parent, guardian, or legal custodian, the supervising agency shall make reasonable efforts to locate a relative or other suitable person pursuant to RCW 13.34.060(1). In determining placement, the court shall weigh the child's length of stay and attachment to the current provider in determining what is in the best interest of the child.

(d) If a relative or other suitable person is not available, the court shall order continued shelter care and shall set forth its reasons for the order. If the court orders placement of the child with a person not related to the child and not licensed to provide foster care, the placement is subject to all terms and conditions of this section that apply to relative placements.

(e) Any placement with a relative, or other suitable person approved by the court pursuant to this section, shall be contingent upon cooperation with the department's or supervising agency's case plan and compliance with court orders related to the care and supervision of the child including, but not limited to, court orders regarding parent-child contacts, sibling contacts, and any other conditions imposed by the court. Noncompliance with the case plan or court order is grounds for removal of the child from the home of the relative or other suitable person, subject to review by the court.

(f) Uncertainty by a parent, guardian, legal custodian, relative, or other suitable person that the alleged abuser has in fact abused the child shall not, alone, be the basis upon which a child is removed from the care of a parent, guardian, or legal custodian under (a) of this subsection, nor shall it be a basis, alone, to preclude placement with a relative or other suitable person under (b) of this subsection.

(6)(a) A shelter care order issued pursuant to this section shall include the requirement for a case conference as provided in RCW 13.34.067. However, if the parent is not present at the shelter care hearing, or does not agree to the case conference, the court shall not include the requirement for the case conference in the shelter care order.

(b) If the court orders a case conference, the shelter care order shall include notice to all parties and establish the date, time, and location of the case conference which shall be no later than thirty days before the fact-finding hearing.

(c) The court may order another conference, case staffing, or hearing as an alternative to the case conference required under RCW 13.34.067 so long as the conference, case staffing, or hearing ordered by the court meets all requirements under RCW 13.34.067, including the requirement of a written agreement specifying the services to be provided to the parent.

(7)(a) A shelter care order issued pursuant to this section may be amended at any time with notice and hearing thereon. The shelter care decision of placement shall be modified only upon a showing of change in circumstances. No child may be placed in shelter care for longer than thirty days without an order, signed by the judge, authorizing continued shelter care.

(b)(i) An order releasing the child on any conditions specified in this section may at any time be amended, with notice and hearing thereon, so as to return the child to shelter care for failure of the parties to conform to the conditions originally imposed.

(ii) The court shall consider whether nonconformance with any conditions resulted from circumstances beyond the control of the parent, guardian, or legal custodian and give weight to that fact before ordering return of the child to shelter care.

(8)(a) If a child is returned home from shelter care a second time in the case, or if the supervisor of the caseworker deems it necessary, the multidisciplinary team may be reconvened.

(b) If a child is returned home from shelter care a second time in the case a law enforcement officer must be present and file a report to the department.

Sec. 25. RCW 13.34.070 and 2004 c 64 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Upon the filing of the petition, the clerk of the court shall issue a summons, one directed to the child, if the child is twelve or more years of age, and another to the parents, guardian, or custodian, and such other persons as appear to the court to be proper or necessary parties to the proceedings, requiring them to appear personally before the court at the time fixed to hear the petition. If the child is developmentally disabled and not living at home, the notice shall be given to the child's custodian as well as to the child's parent. The developmentally disabled child shall not be required to appear unless requested by the court. When the custodian is summoned, the parent or guardian or both shall also be served with a summons. The fact-finding hearing on the petition shall be held no later than seventy-five days after the filing of the petition, unless exceptional reasons for a continuance are found. The party requesting the continuance shall have the burden of proving by a preponderance of the evidence that exceptional circumstances exist. To ensure that the hearing on the petition occurs within the seventy-five day time limit, the court shall schedule and hear the matter on an expedited basis.

2011 REGULAR SESSION

(2) A copy of the petition shall be attached to each summons.

(3) The summons shall advise the parties of the right to counsel. The summons shall also inform the child's parent, guardian, or legal custodian of his or her right to appointed counsel, if indigent, and of the procedure to use to secure appointed counsel.

(4) The summons shall advise the parents that they may be held responsible for the support of the child if the child is placed in out-of-home care.

(5) The judge may endorse upon the summons an order directing any parent, guardian, or custodian having the custody or control of the child to bring the child to the hearing.

(6) If it appears from affidavit or sworn statement presented to the judge that there is probable cause for the issuance of a warrant of arrest or that the child needs to be taken into custody pursuant to RCW 13.34.050, the judge may endorse upon the summons an order that an officer serving the summons shall at once take the child into custody and take him or her to the place of shelter designated by the court.

(7) If the person summoned as provided in this section is subject to an order of the court pursuant to subsection (5) or (6) of this section, and if the person fails to abide by the order, he or she may be proceeded against as for contempt of court. The order endorsed upon the summons shall conspicuously display the following legend:

NOTICE:
VIOLATION OF THIS ORDER IS SUBJECT TO PROCEEDING FOR CONTEMPT OF COURT
PURSUANT TO RCW 13.34.070.

(8) If a party to be served with a summons can be found within the state, the summons shall be served upon the party personally as soon as possible following the filing of the petition, but in no case later than fifteen court days before the fact-finding hearing, or such time as set by the court. If the party is within the state and cannot be personally served, but the party's address is known or can with reasonable diligence be ascertained, the summons may be served upon the party by mailing a copy by certified mail as soon as possible following the filing of the petition, but in no case later than fifteen court days before the hearing, or such time as set by the court. If a party other than the child is without the state but can be found or the address is known, or can with reasonable diligence be ascertained, service of the summons may be made either by delivering a copy to the party personally or by mailing a copy thereof to the party by certified mail at least ten court days before the fact-finding hearing, or such time as set by the court.

(9) Service of summons may be made under the direction of the court by any person eighteen years of age or older who is not a party to the proceedings or by any law enforcement officer, probation counselor, or department employee.

(10)~~((a))~~ Whenever the court or the petitioning party in a proceeding under this chapter knows or has reason to know that an Indian child as defined in section 4 of this act is involved, the petitioning party shall promptly provide notice to the child's parent or Indian custodian and to the agent designated by the child's Indian tribe to receive such notices. Notice shall ~~((be by certified mail~~

~~with return receipt requested. If the identity or location of the parent or Indian custodian and the tribe cannot be determined, notice shall be given to the secretary of the interior in the manner described in 25 C.F.R. 23.11. If the child may be a member of more than one tribe, the petitioning party shall send notice to all tribes the petitioner has reason to know may be affiliated with the child.~~

~~—(b) The notice shall: (i) Contain a statement notifying the parent or custodian and the tribe of the pending proceeding; and (ii) notify the tribe of the tribe's right to intervene and/or request that the case be transferred to tribal court)) comply with section 7 of this act.~~

Sec. 26. RCW 13.34.105 and 2010 c 180 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Unless otherwise directed by the court, the duties of the guardian ad litem for a child subject to a proceeding under this chapter, including an attorney specifically appointed by the court to serve as a guardian ad litem, include but are not limited to the following:

(a) To investigate, collect relevant information about the child's situation, and report to the court factual information regarding the best interests of the child;

(b) To meet with, interview, or observe the child, depending on the child's age and developmental status, and report to the court any views or positions expressed by the child on issues pending before the court;

(c) To monitor all court orders for compliance and to bring to the court's attention any change in circumstances that may require a modification of the court's order;

(d) To report to the court information on the legal status of a child's membership in any Indian tribe or band;

(e) Court-appointed special advocates and guardians ad litem may make recommendations based upon an independent investigation regarding the best interests of the child, which the court may consider and weigh in conjunction with the recommendations of all of the parties;

(f) To represent and be an advocate for the best interests of the child; ~~((and))~~

(g) To inform the child, if the child is twelve years old or older, of his or her right to request counsel and to ask the child whether he or she wishes to have counsel, pursuant to RCW 13.34.100(6). The guardian ad litem shall report to the court that the child was notified of this right and indicate the child's position regarding appointment of counsel. The guardian ad litem shall report to the court his or her independent recommendation as to whether appointment of counsel is in the best interest of the child; and

(h) In the case of an Indian child as defined in section 4 of this act, know, understand, and advocate the best interests of the Indian child.

(2) A guardian ad litem shall be deemed an officer of the court for the purpose of immunity from civil liability.

(3) Except for information or records specified in RCW 13.50.100(7), the guardian ad litem shall have access to all information available to the state or agency on the case. Upon presentation of the order of appointment by the guardian ad litem, any agency, hospital, school organization, division or department of the state, doctor, nurse, or other health care provider, psychologist, psychiatrist, police department, or mental health clinic shall permit the guardian ad litem to inspect and copy any records relating to the child or children involved in the case, without the consent of the parent or guardian of the child, or of the child if the child is under the age of thirteen years, unless such access is otherwise specifically prohibited by law.

(4) A guardian ad litem may release confidential information, records, and reports to the office of the family and children's ombudsman for the purposes of carrying out its duties under chapter 43.06A RCW.

FIFTY FIFTH DAY, MARCH 5, 2011

2011 REGULAR SESSION

(5) The guardian ad litem shall release case information in accordance with the provisions of RCW 13.50.100.

Sec. 27. RCW 13.34.130 and 2010 c 288 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

If, after a fact-finding hearing pursuant to RCW 13.34.110, it has been proven by a preponderance of the evidence that the child is dependent within the meaning of RCW 13.34.030 after consideration of the social study prepared pursuant to RCW 13.34.110 and after a disposition hearing has been held pursuant to RCW 13.34.110, the court shall enter an order of disposition pursuant to this section.

(1) The court shall order one of the following dispositions of the case:

(a) Order a disposition other than removal of the child from his or her home, which shall provide a program designed to alleviate the immediate danger to the child, to mitigate or cure any damage the child has already suffered, and to aid the parents so that the child will not be endangered in the future. In determining the disposition, the court should choose services to assist the parents in maintaining the child in the home, including housing assistance, if appropriate, that least interfere with family autonomy and are adequate to protect the child.

(b)(i) Order the child to be removed from his or her home and into the custody, control, and care of a relative or other suitable person, the department, or a supervising agency for supervision of the child's placement. The court may not order an Indian child, as defined in ~~((25 U.S.C. Sec. 1903))~~ section 4 of this act, to be removed from his or her home unless the court finds, by clear and convincing evidence including testimony of qualified expert witnesses, that the continued custody of the child by the parent or Indian custodian is likely to result in serious emotional or physical damage to the child.

(ii) The department or supervising agency has the authority to place the child, subject to review and approval by the court (A) with a relative as defined in RCW 74.15.020(2)(a), (B) in the home of another suitable person if the child or family has a preexisting relationship with that person, and the person has completed all required criminal history background checks and otherwise appears to the department or supervising agency to be suitable and competent to provide care for the child, or (C) in a foster family home or group care facility licensed pursuant to chapter 74.15 RCW. Absent good cause, the department or supervising agency shall follow the wishes of the natural parent regarding the placement of the child in accordance with RCW 13.34.260. The department or supervising agency may only place a child with a person not related to the child as defined in RCW 74.15.020(2)(a) when the court finds that such placement is in the best interest of the child. Unless there is reasonable cause to believe that the health, safety, or welfare of the child would be jeopardized or that efforts to reunite the parent and child will be hindered, the child shall be placed with a person who is willing, appropriate, and available to care for the child, and who is: (I) Related to the child as defined in RCW 74.15.020(2)(a) with whom the child has a relationship and is comfortable; or (II) a suitable person as described in this subsection (1)(b). The court shall consider the child's existing relationships and attachments when determining placement.

(2) When placing an Indian child in out-of-home care, the department or supervising agency shall follow the placement preference characteristics in ~~((RCW 13.34.250 and in 25 U.S.C. Sec. 1915))~~ section 18 of this act.

(3) Placement of the child with a relative or other suitable person as described in subsection (1)(b) of this section shall be given preference by the court. An order for out-of-home placement may be made only if the court finds that reasonable efforts have been made to prevent or eliminate the need for removal of the child from the child's home and to make it possible for the child to return home, specifying the services, including housing assistance, that have been provided to the child and the child's parent, guardian, or legal custodian, and that preventive services have been offered or provided and have failed to prevent the need for out-of-home placement, unless the health, safety, and welfare of the child cannot be protected adequately in the home, and that:

(a) There is no parent or guardian available to care for such child;

(b) The parent, guardian, or legal custodian is not willing to take custody of the child; or

(c) The court finds, by clear, cogent, and convincing evidence, a manifest danger exists that the child will suffer serious abuse or neglect if the child is not removed from the home and an order under RCW 26.44.063 would not protect the child from danger.

(4) If the court has ordered a child removed from his or her home pursuant to subsection (1)(b) of this section, the court shall consider whether it is in a child's best interest to be placed with, have contact with, or have visits with siblings.

(a) There shall be a presumption that such placement, contact, or visits are in the best interests of the child provided that:

(i) The court has jurisdiction over all siblings subject to the order of placement, contact, or visitation pursuant to petitions filed under this chapter or the parents of a child for whom there is no jurisdiction are willing to agree; and

(ii) There is no reasonable cause to believe that the health, safety, or welfare of any child subject to the order of placement, contact, or visitation would be jeopardized or that efforts to reunite the parent and child would be hindered by such placement, contact, or visitation. In no event shall parental visitation time be reduced in order to provide sibling visitation.

(b) The court may also order placement, contact, or visitation of a child with a step-brother or step-sister provided that in addition to the factors in (a) of this subsection, the child has a relationship and is comfortable with the step-sibling.

(5) If the court has ordered a child removed from his or her home pursuant to subsection (1)(b) of this section and placed into nonparental or nonrelative care, the court shall order a placement that allows the child to remain in the same school he or she attended prior to the initiation of the dependency proceeding when such a placement is practical and in the child's best interest.

(6) If the court has ordered a child removed from his or her home pursuant to subsection (1)(b) of this section, the court may order that a petition seeking termination of the parent and child relationship be filed if the requirements of RCW 13.34.132 are met.

(7) If there is insufficient information at the time of the disposition hearing upon which to base a determination regarding the suitability of a proposed placement with a relative or other suitable person, the child shall remain in foster care and the court shall direct the department or supervising agency to conduct necessary background investigations as provided in chapter 74.15 RCW and report the results of such investigation to the court within thirty days. However, if such relative or other person appears otherwise suitable and competent to provide care and treatment, the criminal history background check need not be completed before placement, but as soon as possible after placement. Any placements with relatives or other suitable persons, pursuant to this section, shall be contingent upon cooperation by the relative or other suitable person with the agency case plan and compliance with court orders related to the care and supervision of the child including, but not limited to, court orders regarding parent-child contacts, sibling contacts, and any other conditions imposed by the court. Noncompliance with the case plan or court order shall be grounds for removal of the child from the relative's or other suitable person's home, subject to review by the court.

FIFTY FIFTH DAY, MARCH 5, 2011

2011 REGULAR SESSION

Sec. 28. RCW 13.34.132 and 2000 c 122 s 16 are each amended to read as follows:

A court may order that a petition seeking termination of the parent and child relationship be filed if the following requirements are met:

(1) The court has removed the child from his or her home pursuant to RCW 13.34.130;

(2) Termination is recommended by the supervising agency;

(3) Termination is in the best interests of the child; and

(4) Because of the existence of aggravated circumstances, reasonable efforts to unify the family are not required. Notwithstanding the existence of aggravated circumstances, reasonable efforts may be required if the court or department determines it is in the best interests of the child. In determining whether aggravated circumstances exist by clear, cogent, and convincing evidence, the court shall consider one or more of the following:

(a) Conviction of the parent of rape of the child in the first, second, or third degree as defined in RCW 9A.44.073, 9A.44.076, and 9A.44.079;

(b) Conviction of the parent of criminal mistreatment of the child in the first or second degree as defined in RCW 9A.42.020 and 9A.42.030;

(c) Conviction of the parent of one of the following assault crimes, when the child is the victim: Assault in the first or second degree as defined in RCW 9A.36.011 and 9A.36.021 or assault of a child in the first or second degree as defined in RCW 9A.36.120 or 9A.36.130;

(d) Conviction of the parent of murder, manslaughter, or homicide by abuse of the child's other parent, sibling, or another child;

(e) Conviction of the parent of attempting, soliciting, or conspiring to commit a crime listed in (a), (b), (c), or (d) of this subsection;

(f) A finding by a court that a parent is a sexually violent predator as defined in RCW 71.09.020;

(g) Failure of the parent to complete available treatment ordered under this chapter or the equivalent laws of another state, where such failure has resulted in a prior termination of parental rights to another child and the parent has failed to effect significant change in the interim. In the case of a parent of an Indian child, as defined in ~~((the Indian Child Welfare Act, P.L. 95-608 (25 U.S.C. Sec. 1903)))~~ section 4 of this act, the court shall also consider tribal efforts to assist the parent in completing treatment and make it possible for the child to return home;

(h) An infant under three years of age has been abandoned;

(i) Conviction of the parent, when a child has been born of the offense, of: (A) A sex offense under chapter 9A.44 RCW; or (B) incest under RCW 9A.64.020.

Sec. 29. RCW 13.34.136 and 2009 c 520 s 28 and 2009 c 234 s 5 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) Whenever a child is ordered removed from the home, a permanency plan shall be developed no later than sixty days from the time the supervising agency assumes responsibility for providing services, including placing the child, or at the time of a hearing under RCW 13.34.130, whichever occurs first. The permanency planning process continues until a permanency planning goal is achieved or dependency is dismissed. The planning process shall include reasonable efforts to return the child to the parent's home.

(2) The agency supervising the dependency shall submit a written permanency plan to all parties and the court not less than fourteen days prior to the scheduled hearing. Responsive reports of parties not in agreement with the department's or supervising agency's proposed permanency plan must be provided to the department or supervising agency, all other parties, and the court at least seven days prior to the hearing.

The permanency plan shall include:

(a) A permanency plan of care that shall identify one of the following outcomes as a primary goal and may identify additional outcomes as alternative goals: Return of the child to the home of the child's parent, guardian, or legal custodian; adoption, including a tribal customary adoption as defined in section 4 of this act; guardianship; permanent legal custody; long-term relative or foster care, until the child is age eighteen, with a written agreement between the parties and the care provider; successful completion of a responsible living skills program; or independent living, if appropriate and if the child is age sixteen or older. The department or supervising agency shall not discharge a child to an independent living situation before the child is eighteen years of age unless the child becomes emancipated pursuant to chapter 13.64 RCW;

(b) Unless the court has ordered, pursuant to RCW 13.34.130~~((5))~~ (6), that a termination petition be filed, a specific plan as to where the child will be placed, what steps will be taken to return the child home, what steps the supervising agency or the department will take to promote existing appropriate sibling relationships and/or facilitate placement together or contact in accordance with the best interests of each child, and what actions the department or supervising agency will take to maintain parent-child ties. All aspects of the plan shall include the goal of achieving permanence for the child.

(i) The department's or supervising agency's plan shall specify what services the parents will be offered to enable them to resume custody, what requirements the parents must meet to resume custody, and a time limit for each service plan and parental requirement.

(ii) Visitation is the right of the family, including the child and the parent, in cases in which visitation is in the best interest of the child. Early, consistent, and frequent visitation is crucial for maintaining parent-child relationships and making it possible for parents and children to safely reunify. The supervising agency or department shall encourage the maximum parent and child and sibling contact possible, when it is in the best interest of the child, including regular visitation and participation by the parents in the care of the child while the child is in placement. Visitation shall not be limited as a sanction for a parent's failure to comply with court orders or services where the health, safety, or welfare of the child is not at risk as a result of the visitation. Visitation may be limited or denied only if the court determines that such limitation or denial is necessary to protect the child's health, safety, or welfare. The court and the department or supervising agency should rely upon community resources, relatives, foster parents, and other appropriate persons to provide transportation and supervision for visitation to the extent that such resources are available, and appropriate, and the child's safety would not be compromised.

(iii) A child shall be placed as close to the child's home as possible, preferably in the child's own neighborhood, unless the court finds that placement at a greater distance is necessary to promote the child's or parents' well-being.

(iv) The plan shall state whether both in-state and, where appropriate, out-of-state placement options have been considered by the department or supervising agency.

(v) Unless it is not in the best interests of the child, whenever practical, the plan should ensure the child remains enrolled in the school the child was attending at the time the child entered foster care.

(vi) The supervising agency or department shall provide all reasonable services that are available within the department or supervising agency, or within the community, or those services which the department has existing contracts to purchase. It shall report to the court if it is unable to provide such services; and

(c) If the court has ordered, pursuant to RCW 13.34.130(~~(5)~~) ~~(6)~~, that a termination petition be filed, a specific plan as to where the child will be placed, what steps will be taken to achieve permanency for the child, services to be offered or provided to the child, and, if visitation would be in the best interests of the child, a recommendation to the court regarding visitation between parent and child pending a fact-finding hearing on the termination petition. The department or supervising agency shall not be required to develop a plan of services for the parents or provide services to the parents if the court orders a termination petition be filed. However, reasonable efforts to ensure visitation and contact between siblings shall be made unless there is reasonable cause to believe the best interests of the child or siblings would be jeopardized.

(3) Permanency planning goals should be achieved at the earliest possible date. If the child has been in out-of-home care for fifteen of the most recent twenty-two months, the court shall require the department or supervising agency to file a petition seeking termination of parental rights in accordance with RCW 13.34.145(3)(b)(vi). In cases where parental rights have been terminated, the child is legally free for adoption, and adoption has been identified as the primary permanency planning goal, it shall be a goal to complete the adoption within six months following entry of the termination order.

(4) If the court determines that the continuation of reasonable efforts to prevent or eliminate the need to remove the child from his or her home or to safely return the child home should not be part of the permanency plan for the child, reasonable efforts shall be made to place the child in a timely manner and to complete whatever steps are necessary to finalize the permanent placement of the child.

(5) The identified outcomes and goals of the permanency plan may change over time based upon the circumstances of the particular case.

(6) The court shall consider the child's relationships with the child's siblings in accordance with RCW 13.34.130(~~(4)~~) ~~(4)~~. Whenever the permanency plan for a child is adoption, the court shall encourage the prospective adoptive parents, birth parents, foster parents, kinship caregivers, and the department or other supervising agency to seriously consider the long-term benefits to the child adoptee and his or her siblings of providing for and facilitating continuing postadoption contact between the siblings. To the extent that it is feasible, and when it is in the best interests of the child adoptee and his or her siblings, contact between the siblings should be frequent and of a similar nature as that which existed prior to the adoption. If the child adoptee or his or her siblings are represented by an attorney or guardian ad litem in a proceeding under this chapter or in any other child custody proceeding, the court shall inquire of each attorney and guardian ad litem regarding the potential benefits of continuing contact between the siblings and the potential detriments of severing contact. This section does not require the department of social and health services or other supervising agency to agree to any specific provisions in an open adoption agreement and does not create a new obligation for the department to provide supervision or transportation for visits between siblings separated by adoption from foster care.

(7) For purposes related to permanency planning:

(a) "Guardianship" means a dependency guardianship or a legal guardianship pursuant to chapter 11.88 RCW or equivalent laws of another state or a federally recognized Indian tribe.

(b) "Permanent custody order" means a custody order entered pursuant to chapter 26.10 RCW.

(c) "Permanent legal custody" means legal custody pursuant to chapter 26.10 RCW or equivalent laws of another state or a federally recognized Indian tribe.

2011 REGULAR SESSION

Sec. 30. RCW 13.34.190 and 2010 c 288 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section, after hearings pursuant to RCW 13.34.110 or 13.34.130, the court may enter an order terminating all parental rights to a child only if the court finds that:

(a)(i) The allegations contained in the petition as provided in RCW 13.34.180(1) are established by clear, cogent, and convincing evidence; or

(ii) The provisions of RCW 13.34.180(1) (a), (b), (e), and (f) are established beyond a reasonable doubt and if so, then RCW 13.34.180(1) (c) and (d) may be waived. When an infant has been abandoned, as defined in RCW 13.34.030, and the abandonment has been proved beyond a reasonable doubt, then RCW 13.34.180(1) (c) and (d) may be waived; or

(iii) The allegation under RCW 13.34.180(2) is established beyond a reasonable doubt. In determining whether RCW 13.34.180(1) (e) and (f) are established beyond a reasonable doubt, the court shall consider whether one or more of the aggravated circumstances listed in RCW 13.34.132 exist; or

(iv) The allegation under RCW 13.34.180(3) is established beyond a reasonable doubt; and

(b) Such an order is in the best interests of the child.

(2) The provisions of chapter 13.--- RCW (the new chapter created in section 34 of this act) must be followed in any proceeding under this chapter for termination of the parent-child relationship of an Indian child as defined in ((25 U.S.C. Sec. 1903, no termination of parental rights may be ordered in such proceeding in the absence of a determination, supported by evidence beyond a reasonable doubt, including testimony of qualified expert witnesses, that the continued custody of the child by the parent or Indian custodian is likely to result in serious emotional or physical damage to the child)) section 4 of this act.

Sec. 31. RCW 26.10.034 and 2004 c 64 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1)((~~(a)~~)) Every petition filed in proceedings under this chapter shall contain a statement alleging whether the child is or may be an Indian child as defined in ((25 U.S.C. Sec. 1903)) section 4 of this act. If the child is an Indian child ((as defined under the Indian child welfare act, the provisions of the act)), chapter 13.--- RCW (the new chapter created in section 34 of this act) shall apply.

((b) Whenever the court or the petitioning party in a proceeding under this chapter knows or has reason to know that an Indian child is involved, the petitioning party shall promptly provide notice to the child's parent or Indian custodian and to the agent designated by the child's Indian tribe to receive such notices. Notice shall be by certified mail with return receipt requested. If the identity or location of the parent or Indian custodian and the tribe cannot be determined, notice shall be given to the secretary of the interior in the manner described in 25 C.F.R. 23.11. If the child may be a member of more than one tribe, the petitioning party shall send notice to all tribes the petitioner has reason to know may be affiliated with the child.

(c) The notice shall: (i) Contain a statement notifying the parent or custodian and the tribe of the pending proceeding; and (ii) notify the tribe of the tribe's right to intervene and/or request that the case be transferred to tribal court.)

(2) Every order or decree entered in any proceeding under this chapter shall contain a finding that the federal Indian child welfare act or chapter 13.--- RCW (the new chapter created in section 34 of this act) does or does not apply. Where there is a finding that the federal Indian child welfare act or chapter 13.--- RCW (the new chapter created in section 34 of this act) does apply, the decree or order must also contain a finding that all notice ((requirements)) and evidentiary requirements under the federal Indian child welfare act and chapter 13.--- RCW (the new chapter created in section 34 of this act) have been satisfied.

Sec. 32. RCW 26.33.040 and 2004 c 64 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1)(a) Every petition filed in proceedings under this chapter shall contain a statement alleging whether the child is or may be an Indian child as defined in ~~((25 U.S.C. Sec. 1903))~~ section 4 of this act. If the child is an Indian child ~~((as defined under the Indian child welfare act, the provisions of the act)),~~ chapter 13.--- RCW (the new chapter created in section 34 of this act) shall apply.

(b) Every order or decree entered in any proceeding under this chapter shall contain a finding that the federal Indian child welfare act or chapter 13.--- RCW (the new chapter created in section 34 of this act) does or does not apply. Where there is a finding that the federal Indian child welfare act or chapter 13.--- RCW (the new chapter created in section 34 of this act) does apply, the decree or order must also contain a finding that all notice requirements and evidentiary requirements under the federal Indian child welfare act and chapter 13.--- RCW (the new chapter created in section 34 of this act) have been satisfied.

(c) In proceedings under this chapter, the adoption facilitator shall file a sworn statement documenting efforts to determine whether an Indian child ~~((as defined under the Indian child welfare act, 25 U.S.C. Sec. 1903,))~~ is involved.

(d) Whenever the court or the petitioning party knows or has reason to know that an Indian child is involved in any termination, relinquishment, or placement proceeding under this chapter, the petitioning party shall promptly provide notice to the child's parent or Indian custodian and to the agent designated by the child's Indian tribe to receive such notices. Notice shall be by certified mail with return receipt requested. If the identity or location of the parent or Indian custodian and the tribe cannot be determined, notice shall be given to the secretary of the interior in the manner described in 25 C.F.R. 23.11. If the child may be a member of more than one tribe, the petitioning party shall send notice to all tribes the petitioner has reason to know may be affiliated with the child.

(e) The notice shall: (i) Contain a statement notifying the parent or custodian and the tribe of the pending proceeding; and (ii) notify the tribe of the tribe's right to intervene and/or request that the case be transferred to tribal court.

(f) No termination, relinquishment, or placement proceeding shall be held until at least ten days after receipt of notice by the tribe. If the tribe requests, the court shall grant the tribe up to twenty additional days to prepare for such proceeding.

(2) Every petition filed in proceedings under this chapter shall contain a statement alleging whether the Soldiers and Sailors Civil Relief Act of 1940, 50 U.S.C. Sec. 501 et seq. applies to the proceeding. Every order or decree entered in any proceeding under this chapter shall contain a finding that the Soldiers and Sailors Civil Relief Act of 1940 does or does not apply.

Sec. 33. RCW 74.13.350 and 2004 c 183 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

It is the intent of the legislature that parents are responsible for the care and support of children with developmental disabilities. The legislature recognizes that, because of the intense support required to care for a child with developmental disabilities, the help of an out-of-home placement may be needed. It is the intent of the legislature that, when the sole reason for the out-of-home placement is the child's developmental disability, such services be offered by the department to these children and their families through a voluntary placement agreement. In these cases, the parents shall retain legal custody of the child.

As used in this section, "voluntary placement agreement" means a written agreement between the department and a child's parent or legal guardian authorizing the department to place the child in a licensed facility. Under the terms of this agreement, the parent or legal guardian shall retain legal custody and the department shall be responsible for the child's placement and care. The agreement shall at a minimum specify the legal status of the child and the rights and obligations of the parent or legal guardian, the child, and the department while the child is in placement. The agreement must be signed by the child's parent or legal guardian and the department to be in effect, except that an agreement regarding an Indian child shall not be valid unless executed ~~((in writing before the court and filed with the court as provided in RCW 13.34.245))~~ in accordance with section 15 of this act. Any party to a voluntary placement agreement may terminate the agreement at any time. Upon termination of the agreement, the child shall be returned to the care of the child's parent or legal guardian unless the child has been taken into custody pursuant to RCW 13.34.050 or 26.44.050, placed in shelter care pursuant to RCW 13.34.060, or placed in foster care pursuant to RCW 13.34.130.

As used in this section, "out-of-home placement" and "out-of-home care" mean the placement of a child in a foster family home or group care facility licensed under chapter 74.15 RCW.

Whenever the department places a child in out-of-home care under a voluntary placement pursuant to this section, the department shall have the responsibility for the child's placement and care. The department shall develop a permanency plan of care for the child no later than sixty days from the date that the department assumes responsibility for the child's placement and care. Within the first one hundred eighty days of the placement, the department shall obtain a judicial determination pursuant to RCW 13.04.030(1)(j) and 13.34.270 that the placement is in the best interests of the child. If the child's out-of-home placement ends before one hundred eighty days have elapsed, no judicial determination under RCW 13.04.030(1)(b) is required. The permanency planning hearings shall review whether the child's best interests are served by continued out-of-home placement and determine the future legal status of the child.

The department shall provide for periodic administrative reviews as required by federal law. A review may be called at any time by either the department, the parent, or the legal guardian.

Nothing in this section shall prevent the department from filing a dependency petition if there is reason to believe that the child is a dependent child as defined in RCW 13.34.030.

The department shall adopt rules providing for the implementation of chapter 386, Laws of 1997 and the transfer of responsibility for out-of-home placements from the dependency process under chapter 13.34 RCW to the process under this chapter.

It is the intent of the legislature that the department undertake voluntary out-of-home placement in cases where the child's developmental disability is such that the parent, guardian, or legal custodian is unable to provide the necessary care for the child, and the parent, guardian, or legal custodian has determined that the child would benefit from placement outside of the home. If the department does not accept a voluntary placement agreement signed by the parent, a petition may be filed and an action pursued under chapter 13.34 RCW. The department shall inform the parent, guardian, or legal custodian in writing of their right to civil action under chapter 13.34 RCW.

Nothing in this section prohibits the department from seeking support from parents of a child, including a child with a developmental disability if the child has been placed into care as a result of an action under chapter 13.34 RCW, when state or federal funds are expended for the care and maintenance of that child or when the department receives an application for services from the physical custodian of the child, unless the department finds that there is good cause not to pursue collection of child support against the parent or parents.

FIFTY FIFTH DAY, MARCH 5, 2011

NEW SECTION. Sec. 34. Sections 1 through 20 of this act constitute a new chapter in Title 13 RCW.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5740, by Senators Kastama, Chase and Roach

Preventing predatory guardianships of incapacitated adults.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Kastama, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5740 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5740 and the substitute bill was placed on the second reading and read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Kastama moved that the following striking amendment by Senator Kastama and others be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 11.88.030 and 2009 c 521 s 36 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Any person or entity may petition for the appointment of a qualified person, trust company, national bank, or nonprofit corporation authorized in RCW 11.88.020 as the guardian or limited guardian of an incapacitated person. No liability for filing a petition for guardianship or limited guardianship shall attach to a petitioner acting in good faith and upon reasonable basis. A petition for guardianship or limited guardianship shall state:

(a) The name, age, residence, and post office address of the alleged incapacitated person;

(b) The nature of the alleged incapacity in accordance with RCW 11.88.010;

(c) The approximate value and description of property, including any compensation, pension, insurance, or allowance, to which the alleged incapacitated person may be entitled;

(d) Whether there is, in any state, a guardian or limited guardian, or pending guardianship action for the person or estate of the alleged incapacitated person;

(e) The residence and post office address of the person whom petitioner asks to be appointed guardian or limited guardian;

(f) The names and addresses, and nature of the relationship, so far as known or can be reasonably ascertained, of the persons most closely related by blood, marriage, or state registered domestic partnership to the alleged incapacitated person;

(g) The name and address of the person or facility having the care and custody of the alleged incapacitated person;

(h) The reason why the appointment of a guardian or limited guardian is sought and the interest of the petitioner in the appointment, and whether the appointment is sought as guardian or limited guardian of the person, the estate, or both;

(i) A description of any alternate arrangements previously made by the alleged incapacitated person, such as trusts or powers of attorney, including identifying any guardianship nominations contained in a power of attorney, and why a guardianship is nevertheless necessary;

(j) The nature and degree of the alleged incapacity and the specific areas of protection and assistance requested and the limitation of rights requested to be included in the court's order of appointment;

(k) The requested term of the limited guardianship to be included in the court's order of appointment;

(l) Whether the petitioner is proposing a specific individual to act as guardian ad litem and, if so, the individual's knowledge of or relationship to any of the parties, and why the individual is proposed.

(2)(a) The attorney general may petition for the appointment of a guardian or limited guardian in any case in which there is cause to believe that a guardianship is necessary and no private party is able and willing to petition.

(b) Prepayment of a filing fee shall not be required in any guardianship or limited guardianship brought by the attorney general. Payment of the filing fee shall be ordered from the estate of the incapacitated person at the hearing on the merits of the petition, unless in the judgment of the court, such payment would impose a hardship upon the incapacitated person, in which case the filing shall be waived.

(3) No filing fee shall be charged by the court for filing either a petition for guardianship or a petition for limited guardianship if the petition alleges that the alleged incapacitated person has total assets of a value of less than three thousand dollars.

(4)(a) Notice that a guardianship proceeding has been commenced shall be personally served upon the alleged incapacitated person and the guardian ad litem along with a copy of the petition for appointment of a guardian. Such notice shall be served not more than five court days after the petition has been filed.

(b) Notice under this subsection shall include a clear and easily readable statement of the legal rights of the alleged incapacitated person that could be restricted or transferred to a guardian by a guardianship order as well as the right to counsel of choice and to a jury trial on the issue of incapacity. Such notice shall be in substantially the following form and shall be in capital letters, double-spaced, and in a type size not smaller than ten-point type:

IMPORTANT NOTICE PLEASE READ

(5) All petitions filed under the provisions of this section shall be heard within sixty days unless an extension of time is requested by a party or the guardian ad litem within such sixty day period and granted for good cause shown. If an extension is granted, the court shall set a new hearing date.

(6) The court must provide a person filing a petition under this section information regarding professional and lay guardians. The purpose of the information is to provide family members of incapacitated adults with information detailing: What a guardian is, the different types of guardianships in Washington, the powers granted to a guardian, an explanation of how professional guardian fees are approved by the court and how professional guardians may bill for their services, a description of the process to modify a guardianship or to remove a guardian, and information about the certified professional guardian board and program. Failure to provide the information set forth in this subsection shall not constitute the sole cause for discharge of a guardian or delay of a guardianship hearing.

Sec. 2. RCW 11.88.040 and 2008 c 6 s 803 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Before appointing a guardian or a limited guardian, notice of a hearing, to be held not less than ten days after service thereof, shall be served personally upon the alleged incapacitated person, if over fourteen years of age, and served upon the guardian ad litem.

(2) Before appointing a guardian or a limited guardian, notice of a hearing, to be held not less than ~~(ten)~~ fifteen days after service thereof, ~~(shall)~~ the name of the person who the court or guardian ad litem proposes to be appointed as guardian or limited guardian, a copy of the petition for appointment of guardian, and the statement of the legal rights of the alleged incapacitated person that could be restricted or transferred to a guardian by a guardianship order must be given by registered or certified mail to the last known address requesting a return receipt signed by the addressee or an agent appointed by the addressee, or by personal service in the manner provided for services of summons, but duplicates of information already provided under RCW 11.88.030 or other applicable statutes or rules need not be given, to the following:

~~((4))~~ (a) The alleged incapacitated person, or minor, if under fourteen years of age;

~~((2))~~ (b) A parent, if the alleged incapacitated person is a minor, all known children not residing with a notified person, and the spouse or domestic partner of the alleged incapacitated person if any;

~~((3))~~ (c) Any other person who has been appointed as guardian or limited guardian, or the person with whom the alleged incapacitated person resides. No notice need be given to those persons named in ~~(subsections (2) and (3))~~ (a) and (b) of this subsection if they have signed the petition for the appointment of the guardian or limited guardian or have waived notice of the hearing.

~~((4))~~ (3) If the petition is by a parent asking for appointment as guardian or limited guardian of a minor child under the age of fourteen years, or if the petition is accompanied by the written consent of a minor of the age of fourteen years or upward, who consents to the appointment of the guardian or limited guardian asked for, or if the petition is by a nonresident guardian of any minor or incapacitated person, then the court may appoint the guardian without notice of the hearing. The court for good cause may reduce the number of days of notice, but in every case, at least three days notice shall be given.

(4) The alleged incapacitated person shall be present in court at the final hearing on the petition ~~(- PROVIDED, That)~~. However, this requirement may be waived at the discretion of the court for good cause other than mere inconvenience shown in the report to be provided by the guardian ad litem pursuant to RCW 11.88.090 as now or hereafter amended, or if no guardian ad litem is required to be appointed pursuant to RCW 11.88.090, as now or hereafter amended, at the discretion of the court for good cause shown by a party. Alternatively, the court may remove itself to the place of residence of the alleged incapacitated person and conduct the final hearing in the presence of the alleged incapacitated person. Final hearings on the petition may be held in closed court without admittance of any person other than those necessary to the action or proceeding.

(5) If presence of the alleged incapacitated person is waived and the court does not remove itself to the place of residence of such person, the guardian ad litem shall appear in person at the final hearing on the petition.

Sec. 3. RCW 11.88.120 and 1991 c 289 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) At any time after establishment of a guardianship or appointment of a guardian, the court may, upon the death of the guardian or limited guardian, or, for other good reason, modify or terminate the guardianship or replace the guardian or limited guardian.

(2) Any person, including an incapacitated person, may apply to the court for an order to modify or terminate a guardianship or to replace a guardian or limited guardian.

(a) If applicants are represented by counsel, counsel shall move for an order to show cause why the relief requested should not be granted.

(b) If applicants are not represented by counsel, they may move for an order to show cause, or they may deliver a written request to the clerk of the court, which must be considered by the court as the equivalent of a motion for an order to show cause.

(3) By the next judicial day after receipt of ~~((an unrepresented))~~ a person's request to modify or terminate a guardianship order, or to replace a guardian or limited guardian, the clerk shall deliver the request to the court. The court ~~((may (a)))~~ must direct the clerk to schedule a hearing ~~((or (b)))~~ on the request and mail notice to the guardian, the incapacitated person, the applicant, all counsel of record, and any other person entitled to receive notice of proceedings in the matter, except that the court may deny the application without scheduling a hearing, if it appears based on documents in the court file that the application is frivolous. The court may appoint a guardian ad litem to investigate the issues raised by the application or to take any emergency action the court deems necessary to protect the incapacitated person until a hearing can be held ~~((or (c) deny the application without scheduling a hearing, if it appears based on documents in the court file that the application is frivolous))~~. Any denial of an application without a hearing shall be in writing with the reasons for the denial explained. A copy of the order shall be mailed by the clerk to the applicant, to the guardian, and to any other person entitled to receive notice of proceedings in the matter. ~~((Unless within thirty days after receiving the request from the clerk the court directs otherwise, the clerk shall schedule a hearing on the request and mail notice to the guardian, the incapacitated person, the applicant, all counsel of record, and any other person entitled to receive notice of proceedings in the matter.))~~

(4) In a hearing on an application to modify or terminate a guardianship, or to replace a guardian or limited guardian, the court may grant such relief as it deems just and in the best interest of the incapacitated person. If there is a professional guardian, and the applicant makes a prima facie showing that the guardian has breached a fiduciary, professional, or ethical duty with respect to the guardianship as proscribed by the certified professional guardian board, the burden of proof shall shift to the guardian to establish that his or her conduct was appropriate.

(5) The court may order persons who have been removed as guardians to deliver any property or records belonging to the incapacitated person in accordance with the court's order. Similarly, when guardians have died or been removed and property or records of an incapacitated person are being held by any other person, the court may order that person to deliver it in accordance with the court's order. Disobedience of an order to deliver shall be punishable as contempt of court.

Sec. 4. RCW 11.88.090 and 2008 c 6 s 804 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Nothing contained in RCW 11.88.080 through 11.88.120, 11.92.010 through 11.92.040, 11.92.060 through 11.92.120, 11.92.170, and 11.92.180 shall affect or impair the power of any court to appoint a guardian ad litem to defend the interests of any incapacitated person interested in any suit or matter pending therein, or to commence and prosecute any suit in his or her behalf.

(2) Prior to the appointment of a guardian or a limited guardian, whenever it appears that the incapacitated person or incapacitated person's estate could benefit from mediation and such mediation would likely result in overall reduced costs to the estate, upon the motion of the alleged incapacitated person or the guardian ad litem, or subsequent to such appointment, whenever it appears that the incapacitated person or incapacitated person's estate could benefit from mediation and such mediation would likely result in overall reduced costs to the estate, upon the motion of any interested person, the court may:

(a) Require any party or other person subject to the jurisdiction of the court to participate in mediation;

(b) Establish the terms of the mediation; and

(c) Allocate the cost of the mediation ~~((pursuant to RCW 11.96.140)).~~

(3) ~~(a)~~ Upon receipt of a petition for appointment of guardian or limited guardian, except as provided herein, the court shall appoint a guardian ad litem to represent the best interests of the alleged incapacitated person, who shall be a person found or known by the court to:

~~((a))~~ (i) Be free of influence from anyone interested in the result of the proceeding; and

~~((b))~~ (ii) Have the requisite knowledge, training, or expertise to perform the duties required by this section.

(b) The guardian ad litem shall within five days of receipt of notice of appointment file with the court and serve, either personally or by certified mail with return receipt, each party with a statement including: His or her training relating to the duties as a guardian ad litem; his or her criminal history as defined in RCW 9.94A.030 for the period covering ten years prior to the appointment; his or her hourly rate, if compensated; whether the guardian ad litem has had any contact with a party to the proceeding prior to his or her appointment; and whether he or she has an apparent conflict of interest. Within three days of the later of the actual service or filing of the guardian ad litem's statement, any party may set a hearing and file and serve a motion for an order to show cause why the guardian ad litem should not be removed for one of the following three reasons: (i) Lack of expertise necessary for the proceeding; (ii) an hourly rate higher than what is reasonable for the particular proceeding; or (iii) a conflict of interest. Notice of the hearing shall be provided to the guardian ad litem and all parties. If, after a hearing, the court enters an order replacing the guardian ad litem, findings shall be included, expressly stating the reasons for the removal. If the guardian ad litem is not removed, the court has the authority to assess to the moving party, attorneys' fees and costs related to the motion. The court shall assess attorneys' fees and costs for frivolous motions.

(c) No guardian ad litem need be appointed when a parent is petitioning for a guardian or a limited guardian to be appointed for his or her minor child and the minority of the child, as defined by RCW 11.92.010, is the sole basis of the petition. The order appointing the guardian ad litem shall recite the duties set forth in subsection (5) of this section. The appointment of a guardian ad litem shall have no effect on the legal competency of the alleged incapacitated person and shall not overcome the presumption of competency or full legal and civil rights of the alleged incapacitated person.

FIFTY FIFTH DAY, MARCH 5, 2011

2011 REGULAR SESSION

(4)(a) The superior court of each county shall develop and maintain a registry of persons who are willing and qualified to serve as guardians ad litem in guardianship matters. The court shall choose as guardian ad litem a person whose name appears on the registry in a system of consistent rotation, except in extraordinary circumstances such as the need for particular expertise. The court shall develop procedures for periodic review of the persons on the registry and for probation, suspension, or removal of persons on the registry for failure to perform properly their duties as guardian ad litem. In the event the court does not select the person next on the list, it shall include in the order of appointment a written reason for its decision.

(b) To be eligible for the registry a person shall:

(i) Present a written statement outlining his or her background and qualifications. The background statement shall include, but is not limited to, the following information:

(A) Level of formal education;

(B) Training related to the guardian ad litem's duties;

(C) Number of years' experience as a guardian ad litem;

(D) Number of appointments as a guardian ad litem and the county or counties of appointment;

(E) Criminal history, as defined in RCW 9.94A.030; and

(F) Evidence of the person's knowledge, training, and experience in each of the following: Needs of impaired elderly people, physical disabilities, mental illness, developmental disabilities, and other areas relevant to the needs of incapacitated persons, legal procedure, and the requirements of chapters 11.88 and 11.92 RCW.

The written statement of qualifications shall include the names of any counties in which the person was removed from a guardian ad litem registry pursuant to a grievance action, and the name of the court and the cause number of any case in which the court has removed the person for cause; and

(ii) Complete the training as described in (e) of this subsection. The training is not applicable to guardians ad litem appointed pursuant to special proceeding Rule 98.16W.

(c) Superior court shall remove any person from the guardian ad litem registry who misrepresents his or her qualifications pursuant to a grievance procedure established by the court.

(d) The background and qualification information shall be updated annually.

(e) The department of social and health services shall convene an advisory group to develop a model guardian ad litem training program and shall update the program biennially. The advisory group shall consist of representatives from consumer, advocacy, and professional groups knowledgeable in developmental disabilities, neurological impairment, physical disabilities, mental illness, domestic violence, aging, legal, court administration, the Washington state bar association, and other interested parties.

(f) The superior court shall require utilization of the model program developed by the advisory group as described in (e) of this subsection, to assure that candidates applying for registration as a qualified guardian ad litem shall have satisfactorily completed training to attain these essential minimum qualifications to act as guardian ad litem.

(5) The guardian ad litem appointed pursuant to this section (~~shall have~~) has the following duties:

(a) To meet and consult with the alleged incapacitated person as soon as practicable following appointment and explain, in language which such person can reasonably be expected to understand, the substance of the petition, the nature of the resultant proceedings, the person's right to contest the petition, the identification of the proposed guardian or limited guardian, the right to a jury trial on the issue of his or her alleged incapacity, the right to independent legal counsel as provided by RCW 11.88.045, and the right to be present in court at the hearing on the petition;

(b) To obtain a written report according to RCW 11.88.045; and such other written or oral reports from other qualified professionals as are necessary to permit the guardian ad litem to complete the report required by this section;

(c) To meet with the person whose appointment is sought as guardian or limited guardian and ascertain:

(i) The proposed guardian's knowledge of the duties, requirements, and limitations of a guardian; and

(ii) The steps the proposed guardian intends to take or has taken to identify and meet the needs of the alleged incapacitated person;

(d) To consult as necessary to complete the investigation and report required by this section with those known relatives, friends, or other persons the guardian ad litem determines have had a significant, continuing interest in the welfare of the alleged incapacitated person;

(e) To investigate alternate arrangements made, or which might be created, by or on behalf of the alleged incapacitated person, such as revocable or irrevocable trusts, durable powers of attorney, or blocked accounts; whether good cause exists for any such arrangements to be discontinued; and why such arrangements should not be continued or created in lieu of a guardianship;

(f) To provide the court with a written report which shall include the following:

(i) A description of the nature, cause, and degree of incapacity, and the basis upon which this judgment was made;

(ii) A description of the needs of the incapacitated person for care and treatment, the probable residential requirements of the alleged incapacitated person and the basis upon which these findings were made;

(iii) An evaluation of the appropriateness of the guardian or limited guardian whose appointment is sought and a description of the steps the proposed guardian has taken or intends to take to identify and meet current and emerging needs of the incapacitated person;

(iv) A description of any alternative arrangements previously made by the alleged incapacitated person or which could be made, and whether and to what extent such alternatives should be used in lieu of a guardianship, and if the guardian ad litem is recommending discontinuation of any such arrangements, specific findings as to why such arrangements are contrary to the best interest of the alleged incapacitated person;

(v) A description of the abilities of the alleged incapacitated person and a recommendation as to whether a guardian or limited guardian should be appointed. If appointment of a limited guardian is recommended, the guardian ad litem shall recommend the specific areas of authority the limited guardian should have and the limitations and disabilities to be placed on the incapacitated person;

(vi) An evaluation of the person's mental ability to rationally exercise the right to vote and the basis upon which the evaluation is made;

(vii) Any expression of approval or disapproval made by the alleged incapacitated person concerning the proposed guardian or limited guardian or guardianship or limited guardianship;

(viii) Identification of persons with significant interest in the welfare of the alleged incapacitated person who should be advised of their right to request special notice of proceedings pursuant to RCW 11.92.150; and

(ix) Unless independent counsel has appeared for the alleged incapacitated person, an explanation of how the alleged incapacitated person responded to the advice of the right to jury trial, to independent counsel and to be present at the hearing on the petition.

Within forty-five days after notice of commencement of the guardianship proceeding has been served upon the guardian ad litem, and at least fifteen days before the hearing on the petition, unless an extension or reduction of time has been granted by the court for good cause, the guardian ad litem shall file its report and send a copy to the alleged incapacitated person and his or her counsel, spouse or domestic partner, all children not residing with a notified person, those persons described in (f)(viii) of this subsection, and persons who have filed a request for special notice pursuant to RCW 11.92.150. If the guardian ad litem needs additional time to finalize his or her report, then the guardian ad litem shall petition the court for a postponement of the hearing or, with the consent of all other parties, an extension or reduction of time for filing the report. If the hearing does not occur within sixty days of filing the petition, then upon the two-month anniversary of filing the petition and on or before the same day of each following month until the hearing, the guardian ad litem shall file interim reports summarizing his or her activities on the proceeding during that time period as well as fees and costs incurred;

(g) To advise the court of the need for appointment of counsel for the alleged incapacitated person within five court days after the meeting described in (a) of this subsection unless (i) counsel has appeared, (ii) the alleged incapacitated person affirmatively communicated a wish not to be represented by counsel after being advised of the right to representation and of the conditions under which court-provided counsel may be available, or (iii) the alleged incapacitated person was unable to communicate at all on the subject, and the guardian ad litem is satisfied that the alleged incapacitated person does not affirmatively desire to be represented by counsel;

(h) To disclose in writing to the court any prior or existing relationship, or other circumstance that would cause the appearance of a conflict of interest in the guardian ad litem's recommendation when the guardian ad litem is making a recommendation of appointment of a particular person or persons as a guardian to a court. Such disclosure must also be provided to persons receiving copies of the report as required in (f)(ix) of this subsection (5).

(6) If the petition is brought by an interested person or entity requesting the appointment of some other qualified person or entity and a prospective guardian or limited guardian cannot be found, the court shall order the guardian ad litem to investigate the availability of a possible guardian or limited guardian and to include the findings in a report to the court pursuant to subsection (5)(f) of this section.

(7) The parties to the proceeding may file responses to the guardian ad litem report with the court and deliver such responses to the other parties and the guardian ad litem at any time up to the second day prior to the hearing. If a guardian ad litem fails to file his or her report in a timely manner, the hearing shall be continued to give the court and the parties at least fifteen days before the hearing to review the report. At any time during the proceeding upon motion of any party or on the court's own motion, the court may remove the guardian ad litem for failure to perform his or her duties as specified in this chapter, provided that the guardian ad litem shall have five days' notice of any motion to remove before the court enters such order. In addition, the court in its discretion may reduce a guardian ad litem's fee for failure to carry out his or her duties.

(8) The court appointed guardian ad litem shall have the authority, in the event that the alleged incapacitated person is in need of emergency life-saving medical services, and is unable to consent to such medical services due to incapacity pending the hearing on the petition to give consent for such emergency life-saving medical services on behalf of the alleged incapacitated person.

(9) The court-appointed guardian ad litem shall have the authority to move for temporary relief under chapter 7.40 RCW to protect the alleged incapacitated person from abuse, neglect, abandonment, or exploitation, as those terms are defined in RCW 74.34.020, or to address any other emergency needs of the alleged incapacitated person. Any alternative arrangement executed before filing the petition for guardianship shall remain effective unless the court grants the relief requested under chapter 7.40 RCW, or unless, following notice and a hearing at which all parties directly affected by the arrangement are present, the court finds that the alternative arrangement should not remain effective.

(10) The guardian ad litem shall receive a fee determined by the court. The fee shall be charged to the alleged incapacitated person unless the court finds that such payment would result in substantial hardship upon such person, in which case the county shall be responsible for such costs: PROVIDED, That the court may charge such fee to the petitioner, the alleged incapacitated person, or any person who has appeared in the action; or may allocate the fee, as it deems just. If the petition is found to be frivolous or not brought in good faith, the guardian ad litem fee shall be charged to the petitioner. The court shall not be required to provide for the payment of a fee to any salaried employee of a public agency.

(11) Upon the presentation of the guardian ad litem report and the entry of an order either dismissing the petition for appointment of guardian or limited guardian or appointing a guardian or limited guardian, the guardian ad litem shall be dismissed and shall have no further duties or obligations unless otherwise ordered by the court. If the court orders the guardian ad litem to perform further duties or obligations, they shall not be performed at county expense.

(12) The guardian ad litem shall appear in person at all hearings on the petition unless all parties provide a written waiver of the requirement to appear.

(13) At any hearing the court may consider whether any person who makes decisions regarding the alleged incapacitated person or estate has breached a statutory or fiduciary duty.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 2.56 RCW to read as follows:

The administrator for the courts must publish on its web site information regarding professional and lay guardians. The purpose of the publication is to provide family members of incapacitated adults with information detailing: What a guardian is, the different types of guardianships in Washington, the powers granted to a guardian, an explanation of how professional guardian fees are approved by the court and how professional guardians may bill for their services, a description of the process to modify a guardianship or to remove a guardian, and information about the certified professional guardian board and program.

Sec. 6. RCW 43.190.060 and 1999 c 133 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A long-term care ombudsman ~~((shall))~~ must:

~~((4))~~ (a) Identify, investigate, and resolve complaints made by or on behalf of residents of long-term care facilities relating to administrative action, inaction, or decisions which may adversely affect the health, safety, welfare, and rights of these individuals;

~~((2))~~ (b) Monitor the development and implementation of federal, state, and local laws, rules, regulations, and policies with respect to long-term care facilities in this state;

~~((3))~~ (c) Provide information as appropriate to residents, resident representatives, and others regarding the rights of residents, and to public agencies regarding the problems of individuals residing in long-term care facilities; and

~~((4))~~ (d) Provide for training volunteers and promoting the development of citizen organizations to participate in the ombudsman program. A trained volunteer long-term care ombudsman, in accordance with the policies and procedures established by the state long-term care ombudsman program, shall inform residents, their representatives, and others about the rights of residents, and may identify, investigate, and resolve complaints made by or on behalf of residents of long-term care facilities relating to action, inaction, or decisions, that may adversely affect the health, safety, welfare, and rights of these individuals.

(2) Publish on a web site, or otherwise make available to residents, families of residents, and the public information regarding professional and lay guardians. The purpose of the publication is to provide family members of incapacitated adults with information detailing: What a guardian is, the different types of guardianships in Washington, the powers granted to a guardian, an explanation of how professional guardian fees are approved by the court and how professional guardians may bill for their services, a description of the process to modify a guardianship or to remove a guardian, and information about the certified professional guardian board and program.

(3) Nothing in (~~chapter 133, Laws of 1999 shall~~) this section or RCW 43.190.065 may be construed to empower the state long-term care ombudsman or any local long-term care ombudsman with statutory or regulatory licensing or sanctioning authority."

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5068, by Senators Conway, Prentice and Kohl-Welles

Addressing the abatement of violations of the Washington industrial safety and health act during an appeal.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Conway, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5068 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5068 and the substitute bill was placed on the second reading and read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Conway moved that the following striking amendment by Senators Conway and Holmquist Newbry be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

(1) If after an inspection or investigation the director or the director's authorized representative issues a citation under the authority of RCW 49.17.120 or 49.17.130, the department, within a reasonable time after the termination of such inspection or investigation, shall notify the employer by certified mail of the penalty to be assessed under the authority of RCW 49.17.180 and shall state that the employer has fifteen working days within which to notify the director that the employer wishes to appeal the citation or assessment of penalty. If, within fifteen working days from the communication of the notice issued by the director the employer fails to notify the director that the employer intends to appeal the citation or assessment penalty, and no notice is filed by any employee or representative of employees under subsection (3) of this section within such time, the citation and the assessment shall be deemed a final order of the department and not subject to review by any court or agency.

(2) If the director has reason to believe that an employer has failed to correct a violation for which ((a citation has been issued within the period permitted in the citation for its correction, which period shall not begin to run until the entry of a final order in the case of any appeal proceedings under this section initiated by the employer in good faith and not solely for delay or avoidance of penalties)) the employer was previously cited and which has become a final order, the director shall notify the employer by certified mail of such failure to correct the violation and of the penalty to be assessed under RCW 49.17.180 by reason of such failure, and shall state that the employer has fifteen working days from the communication of such notification and assessment of penalty to notify the director that the employer wishes to appeal the director's notification of the assessment of penalty. If, within fifteen working days from the receipt of notification issued by the director the employer fails to notify the director that the employer intends to appeal the notification of assessment of penalty, the notification and assessment of penalty shall be deemed a final order of the department and not subject to review by any court or agency.

(3) If any employer notifies the director that the employer intends to appeal the citation issued under either RCW 49.17.120 or

49.17.130 or notification of the assessment of a penalty issued under subsections (1) or (2) of this section, or if, within fifteen working days from the issuance of a citation under either RCW 49.17.120 or 49.17.130 any employee or representative of employees files a notice with the director alleging that the period of time fixed in the citation for the abatement of the violation is unreasonable, the director may reassume jurisdiction over the entire matter, or any portion thereof upon which notice of intention to appeal has been filed with the director pursuant to this subsection. If the director reassumes jurisdiction of all or any portion of the matter upon which notice of appeal has been filed with the director, any redetermination shall be completed and corrective notices of assessment of penalty, citations, or revised periods of abatement completed within a period of thirty working days. The thirty-working-day redetermination period may be extended up to fifteen additional working days upon agreement of all parties to the appeal. The redetermination shall then become final subject to direct appeal to the board of industrial insurance appeals within fifteen working days of such redetermination with service of notice of appeal upon the director. In the event that the director does not reassume jurisdiction as provided in this subsection, the director shall promptly notify the state board of industrial insurance appeals of all notifications of intention to appeal any such citations, any such notices of assessment of penalty and any employee or representative of employees notice of intention to appeal the period of time fixed for abatement of a violation and in addition certify a full copy of the record in such appeal matters to the board. The director shall adopt rules of procedure for the reassumption of jurisdiction under this subsection affording employers, employees, and employee representatives notice of the reassumption of jurisdiction by the director, and an opportunity to object or support the reassumption of jurisdiction, either in writing or orally at an informal conference to be held prior to the expiration of the redetermination period. Except as otherwise provided under subsection (4) of this section, a notice of appeal filed under this section shall stay the effectiveness of any citation or notice of the assessment of a penalty pending review by the board of industrial insurance appeals, but such appeal shall not stay the effectiveness of any order of immediate restraint issued by the director under the authority of RCW 49.17.130. The board of industrial insurance appeals shall afford an opportunity for a hearing in the case of each such appellant and the department shall be represented in such hearing by the attorney general and the board shall in addition provide affected employees or authorized representatives of affected employees an opportunity to participate as parties to hearings under this subsection. The board shall thereafter make disposition of the issues in accordance with procedures relative to contested cases appealed to the state board of industrial insurance appeals.

Upon application by an employer showing that a good faith effort to comply with the abatement requirements of a citation has been made and that the abatement has not been completed because of factors beyond the employer's control, the director after affording an opportunity for a hearing shall issue an order affirming or modifying the abatement requirements in such citation.

(4) An appeal of any violation classified and cited as serious, willful, repeated serious violation, or failure to abate a serious violation does not stay abatement dates and requirements except as follows:

(a) An employer may request a stay of abatement for any serious, willful, repeated serious violation, or failure to abate a serious violation in a notice of appeal under subsection (3) of this section;

(b) When the director reassumes jurisdiction of an appeal under subsection (3) of this section, it will include the stay of abatement request. The issued redetermination decision will include a decision on the stay of abatement request. The department shall stay the abatement for any serious, willful, repeated serious violation, or failure to abate a serious violation where the department cannot determine that the preliminary evidence shows a substantial probability of death or serious physical harm to workers. The decision on stay of abatement will be final unless the employer renews the request for a stay of abatement in any direct appeal of the redetermination to the board of industrial insurance appeals under subsection (3) of this section;

(c) The board of industrial insurance appeals shall adopt rules necessary for conducting an expedited review on any stay of abatement requests identified in the employer's notice of appeal, and shall issue a final decision within forty-five working days of the board's notice of filing of appeal. This rule making shall be initiated in 2011;

(d) Affected employees or their representatives must be afforded an opportunity to participate as parties in an expedited review for stay of abatement;

(e) The board shall grant a stay of an abatement for a serious, willful, repeated serious violation, or failure to abate a serious violation where there is good cause for a stay unless based on the preliminary evidence it is more likely than not that a stay would result in death or serious physical harm to a worker;

(f) As long as a motion to stay abatement is pending all abatement requirements will be stayed.

(5) When the board of industrial insurance appeals denies a stay of abatement and abatement is required while the appeal is adjudicated, the abatement process must be the same process as the process required for abatement upon a final order.

(6) The department shall develop rules necessary to implement subsections (4) and (5) of this section. In an application for a stay of abatement, the department will not grant a stay when it can determine that the preliminary evidence shows a substantial probability of death or serious physical harm to workers. The board will not grant a stay where based on the preliminary evidence it is more likely than not that a stay would result in death or serious physical harm to a worker. This rule making shall be initiated in 2011."

Senators Conway and Holmquist Newbry spoke in favor of adoption of the striking amendment.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the striking amendment by Senators Conway and Holmquist Newbry to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5068.

The motion by Senator Conway carried and the striking amendment was adopted by voice vote.

MOTION

There being no objection, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 2 of the title, after "appeal;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "and amending RCW 49.17.140."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Conway, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5068 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Senator Conway spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5068.

MOTION

Senator Holmquist Newbry moved that the following striking amendment by Senators Holmquist Newbry and Kilmer be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 51.04 RCW to read as follows:

(1)(a) Notwithstanding RCW 51.04.060 or any other provision of this title, beginning September 1, 2011, the parties to an allowed claim for benefits may enter into a voluntary settlement agreement as provided in this section with respect to one or more allowed claims for benefits under this title. All voluntary settlement agreements must be approved by the board of industrial insurance appeals. The voluntary settlement agreement may:

FIFTY FIFTH DAY, MARCH 5, 2011

(i) Bind the parties with regard to any or all aspects of an allowed claim including, but not limited to, monetary payment, vocational services, and claim closure;

(ii) Not subject any employer who is not a signatory to the agreement to any responsibility or burden under any claim; and

(iii) Not be submitted to the board under subsection (2) or (3) of this section within twelve weeks of the date of injury or disease manifestation.

(b) For purposes of this section, "parties" means:

(i) For a self-insured claim, the worker and the employer; and

(ii) For a state fund claim, the worker, the employer, and the department.

(c) For state fund claims, the department shall negotiate the settlement with the worker. Any voluntary settlement agreement entered into under this section must be signed by the parties or their representatives and must clearly state that the parties understand and agree to the terms of the voluntary settlement agreement. Unless one of the parties revokes consent to the agreement, as provided in subsection (3) of this section, the voluntary settlement agreement becomes final and binding thirty days after approval of the agreement by the board of industrial insurance appeals.

(d) A voluntary settlement agreement that has become final and binding as provided in this section is binding on the department and on all parties to the agreement as to its terms and the injuries and occupational diseases to which the voluntary settlement applies. A voluntary settlement agreement that has become final and binding is not subject to appeal.

(2)(a) If a worker is not represented by an attorney at the time of signing a voluntary settlement agreement, the parties must forward a copy of the signed settlement agreement to the board with a request for a conference with a settlement officer. Unless one of the parties requests a later date, the settlement officer must convene a conference within fourteen days after receipt of the request for the limited purpose of receiving the voluntary settlement agreement of the parties, explaining to the worker the benefits generally available under this title, and explaining that a voluntary settlement agreement may alter the benefits payable on a claim. In no event may a settlement officer render legal advice to any party.

(b) Before approving the settlement agreement, the settlement officer shall ensure that the worker has an adequate understanding of the settlement proposal and its consequences to the worker.

(c)(i) The settlement officer may approve a settlement agreement only if the officer finds that the settlement is in the best interest of the worker. When determining whether the settlement is in the best interest of the worker, the settlement officer shall consider the following factors, taken as a whole, with no individual factor being determinative:

(A) The nature and extent of the injuries and disabilities of the worker;

(B) The age and life expectancy of the injured worker;

(C) Whether the injured worker has any health, disability, or related insurance;

(D) Any other benefits the injured worker is receiving or is entitled to receive and the effect a settlement agreement might have on those benefits;

(E) The marital status of the injured worker; and

(F) The number of dependents of the injured worker.

(ii) Within seven days after the conference, the settlement officer shall issue an order allowing or rejecting the voluntary settlement agreement. There is no appeal from the settlement officer's decision.

2011 REGULAR SESSION

(d) If the settlement officer issues an order allowing the voluntary settlement agreement, the order must be submitted to the board.

(3) If a worker is represented by an attorney at the time of signing a voluntary settlement agreement, the parties may submit the agreement directly to the board without the conference described in this section.

(4) Upon receiving the voluntary settlement agreement, the board shall approve the agreement within thirty working days of receipt unless it finds that the parties have not entered into the agreement knowingly and willingly. If the board approves the agreement, it shall provide notice to the department of the binding terms of the agreement and provide for placement of the agreement in the applicable claim files.

(5) A party may revoke consent to the voluntary settlement agreement by providing written notice to the other parties and the board within thirty days after the date the agreement is approved by the board.

(6) To the extent the worker is found to be entitled to temporary total disability or permanent total disability benefits while a voluntary settlement agreement is being negotiated, or during the revocation period of an agreement, the benefits must be paid until the agreement becomes final.

(7) When future liability for medical benefits is released or otherwise relinquished in a settlement agreement under this section, any monetary compensation for medical benefits must be dispensed pursuant to a schedule of payments as established in the settlement agreement. The schedule of payments must be reasonably calculated to provide the injured worker with periodic payments throughout the expected time during which the worker will need medical treatment.

(8) A claim closed pursuant to a voluntary settlement agreement can be reopened only upon a showing of worsening of the related medical conditions under RCW 51.32.160 for medical treatment only. Further temporary total, temporary partial, permanent partial, or permanent total benefits are not payable under the same claim for which a voluntary settlement has been approved by the board.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 51.04 RCW to read as follows:

(1) In calendar years 2016, 2021, and 2026, the department shall contract for an independent study of voluntary settlement agreements approved by the board under this section. The study must be performed by a researcher that has experience in workers' compensation systems. When selecting the independent researcher, the department shall consult with the workers' compensation advisory committee. The study must evaluate the quality and effectiveness of settlement agreements of state fund and self-insured claims, provide information on the impact of settlement agreements to the state fund and to self-insured employers, and evaluate the outcomes of workers who have settled their claims. The study must be submitted to the appropriate committees of the legislature.

(2) The department shall contract with an independent entity with research experience in workers' compensation systems nationwide to study the nature, incidence, and cost of occupational disease claims in the Washington workers' compensation system. When selecting the independent researcher the department shall consult with the workers' compensation advisory committee. The study shall include, but not be limited to, an examination of the frequency and severity of occupational disease claims for state fund and self-insured employers, both currently and with respect to historical trends; the impact of occupational disease claims on long-term disability and pension trends; consideration of the statutory definition of occupational disease, and interpretation of it by courts, the board, and the department, how it compares to definitions in other states' systems and whether as applied it clearly delineates conditions caused by occupational exposures and those caused by nonoccupational exposures; consideration of the statute of limitation for filing occupational disease claims, and its interpretation by courts, and whether as applied it functions as an appropriate limitation on the filing of state claims; issues related to the apportionment of occupational diseases between workers and employers; and a comparison of other states and their definitions of occupational disease. The study must be submitted to the appropriate committees of the legislature by September 1, 2012.

(3) The department shall contract for an independent study of the return to work provisions under RCW 51.32.090. The study must be performed by a researcher that has experience in workers' compensation systems. When selecting the independent researcher, the department shall consult with the workers' compensation advisory committee. The study must evaluate the quality and effectiveness of the return to work program and whether the program is being utilized by employers, and evaluate the outcomes of workers participating in the program. The study must be submitted to the appropriate committees of the legislature by December 2016.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 51.04 RCW to read as follows:

The department must maintain copies of all voluntary settlement agreements entered into between the parties and develop processes under RCW 51.28.070 to furnish copies of such agreements to any party contemplating any subsequent voluntary settlement agreement with the worker on any claim. The department shall also furnish claims histories that include all prior permanent disability awards received by the worker on any claims by body part and category or percentage rating, as applicable. Copies of such agreements and claims histories shall be furnished within ten working days of a written request. An employer may not consider a prior settlement agreement or claims history when making a decision about hiring or the terms or conditions of employment.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 51.04 RCW to read as follows:

If a worker has received a prior award of, or entered into a voluntary settlement for, total or partial permanent disability benefits, it shall be conclusively presumed that the medical condition causing the prior permanent disability exists and is disabling at the time of any subsequent industrial injury or occupational disease. Except in the case of total permanent disability, the accumulation of all permanent disability awards issued with respect to any one part of the body in favor of the worker may not exceed one hundred percent over the worker's lifetime. When entering into a voluntary settlement agreement under this chapter, the department or self-insured employer may exclude amounts paid to settle claims for prior portions of a worker's permanent total or partial disability.

Sec. 5. RCW 51.32.090 and 2007 c 284 s 3 and 2007 c 190 s 1 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) When the total disability is only temporary, the schedule of payments contained in RCW 51.32.060 (1) and (2) shall apply, so long as the total disability continues.

(2) Any compensation payable under this section for children not in the custody of the injured worker as of the date of injury shall be payable only to such person as actually is providing the support for such child or children pursuant to the order of a court of record providing for support of such child or children.

(3)(a) As soon as recovery is so complete that the present earning power of the worker, at any kind of work, is restored to that existing at the time of the occurrence of the injury, the payments shall cease. If and so long as the present earning power is only partially restored, the payments shall:

(i) For claims for injuries that occurred before May 7, 1993, continue in the proportion which the new earning power shall bear to the old; or

(ii) For claims for injuries occurring on or after May 7, 1993, equal eighty percent of the actual difference between the worker's present wages and earning power at the time of injury, but: (A) The total of these payments and the worker's present wages may not exceed one hundred fifty percent of the average monthly wage in the state as computed under RCW 51.08.018; (B) the payments may not exceed one hundred percent of the entitlement as computed under subsection (1) of this section; and (C) the payments may not be less than the worker would have received if (a)(i) of this subsection had been applicable to the worker's claim.

(b) No compensation shall be payable under this subsection (3) unless the loss of earning power shall exceed five percent.

(c) The prior closure of the claim or the receipt of permanent partial disability benefits shall not affect the rate at which loss of earning power benefits are calculated upon reopening the claim.

(4)(a) ~~((Whenever))~~ The legislature finds that long-term disability and the cost of injuries is significantly reduced when injured workers remain at work following their injury. To encourage employers at the time of injury to provide light duty or transitional work for their workers, wage subsidies and other incentives are made available to employers insured with the department.

(b) The employer of injury ~~((requests that))~~ may provide light duty or transitional work to a worker who is entitled to temporary total disability under this chapter ~~((be certified by a physician or licensed advanced registered nurse practitioner as able to perform available work other than his or her usual work.))~~. The employer or the department shall obtain from the physician or licensed advanced registered nurse practitioner a statement confirming the light duty or transitional work is consistent with the worker's medical restrictions related to the injury. This statement should be obtained before the start of the light duty or transitional work unless the worker has already returned to work with the employer of injury in which case the statement may be obtained following the start date of the job. The employer shall furnish to the physician or licensed advanced registered nurse practitioner, with a copy to the worker, a statement describing the work ~~((available))~~ with the employer of injury in terms that will enable the physician or licensed advanced registered nurse practitioner to relate the physical activities of the job to the worker's disability. The physician or licensed advanced registered nurse practitioner shall ~~((then determine))~~ confirm whether the worker is physically able to perform the work described. The worker's temporary total disability payments shall ~~((continue until the worker is released by his or her physician or licensed advanced registered nurse practitioner for the work, and begins the work with the employer of injury. If))~~ stop effective the date the light duty or transitional job starts. Temporary total disability payments shall resume if the work ~~((thereafter))~~ comes to an end before the worker's recovery is sufficient in the judgment of his or her physician or licensed advanced registered nurse practitioner to permit him or her to return to his or her usual job, or to perform other available work offered by the employer of injury ~~((, the worker's temporary total disability payments shall be resumed.))~~. Should the available work described, once undertaken by the worker, impede his or her recovery to the extent that in the judgment of his or her physician or licensed advanced registered nurse practitioner he or she should not continue to work, the worker's temporary total disability payments shall be resumed when the worker ceases such work at the direction of the physician or licensed advanced registered nurse practitioner.

FIFTY FIFTH DAY, MARCH 5, 2011

2011 REGULAR SESSION

~~((b))~~ (c) To further encourage employers to maintain the employment of their injured workers, an employer insured with the department and that offers work to a worker pursuant to this subsection (4) shall be eligible for reimbursement of the injured worker's wages for light duty or transitional work equal to fifty percent of the basic, gross wages paid for that work, for a maximum of sixty-six work days within a consecutive twenty-four month period. In no event may the wage subsidies paid to an employer on a claim exceed ten thousand dollars. Wage subsidies shall be calculated using the worker's basic hourly wages or basic salary, and no subsidy shall be paid for any other form of compensation or payment to the worker such as tips, commissions, bonuses, board, housing, fuel, health care, dental care, vision care, per diem, reimbursements for work-related expenses, or any other payments. An employer may not, under any circumstances, receive a wage subsidy for a day in which the worker did not actually perform any work, regardless of whether or not the employer paid the worker wages for that day.

(d) If an employer offers a worker work pursuant to this subsection (4) and the worker must be provided with training or instruction to be qualified to perform the offered work, the employer shall be eligible for a reimbursement from the department for any tuition, books, fees, and materials required for that training or instruction, up to a maximum of one thousand dollars. Reimbursing an employer for the costs of such training or instruction does not constitute a determination by the department that the worker is eligible for vocational services authorized by RCW 51.32.095 and 51.32.099.

(e) If an employer offers a worker work pursuant to this subsection (4), and the employer provides the worker with clothing that is necessary to allow the worker to perform the offered work, the employer shall be eligible for reimbursement for such clothing from the department, up to a maximum of four hundred dollars: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That an employer shall not receive reimbursement for any clothing it provided to the worker that it normally provides to its workers. The clothing purchased for the worker shall become the worker's property once the work comes to an end.

(f) If an employer offers a worker work pursuant to this subsection (4) and the worker must be provided with tools or equipment to perform the offered work, the employer shall be eligible for a reimbursement from the department for such tools and equipment and related costs as determined by department rule, up to a maximum of two thousand five hundred dollars. An employer shall not be reimbursed for any tools or equipment purchased prior to offering the work to the worker pursuant to this subsection (4). An employer shall not be reimbursed for any tools or equipment that it normally provides to its workers. The tools and equipment shall be the property of the employer.

(g) An employer may offer work to a worker pursuant to this subsection (4) more than once, but in no event may the employer receive wage subsidies for more than sixty-six days of work in a consecutive twenty-four month period under one claim. An employer may continue to offer work pursuant to this subsection (4) after the worker has performed sixty-six days of work, but the employer shall not be eligible to receive wage subsidies for such work.

(h) An employer shall not receive any wage subsidies or reimbursement of any expenses pursuant to this subsection (4) unless the employer has completed and submitted the reimbursement request on forms developed by the department, along with all related information required by department rules. No wage subsidy or reimbursement shall be paid to an employer who fails to submit a form for such payment within one year of the date the work was performed. In no event shall an employer receive wage subsidy payments or reimbursements of any expenses pursuant to this subsection (4) unless the worker's physician or licensed advanced registered nurse practitioner has restricted him or her from performing his or her usual work and the worker's physician or licensed advanced registered nurse practitioner has released him or her to perform the work offered.

(i) Payments made under (b) through (g) of this subsection are subject to penalties under RCW 51.32.240(5) in cases where the funds were obtained through willful misrepresentation.

(j) Once the worker returns to work under the terms of this subsection (4), he or she shall not be assigned by the employer to work other than the available work described without the ~~((worker's written consent, or without prior review and))~~ approval ~~((by))~~ of the worker's physician or licensed advanced registered nurse practitioner. An employer who directs a claimant to perform work other than that approved by the attending physician and without the approval of the worker's physician or licensed advanced registered nurse practitioner shall not receive any wage subsidy or other reimbursements for such work.

~~((k))~~ (k) If the worker returns to work under this subsection (4), any employee health and welfare benefits that the worker was receiving at the time of injury shall continue or be resumed at the level provided at the time of injury. Such benefits shall not be continued or resumed if to do so is inconsistent with the terms of the benefit program, or with the terms of the collective bargaining agreement currently in force.

~~((l))~~ (l) In the event of any dispute as to the validity of the work offered or as to the worker's ability to perform the available work offered by the employer, the department shall make the final determination pursuant to an order that contains the notice required by RCW 51.52.060 and that is subject to appeal subject to RCW 51.52.050.

(5) An employer's experience rating shall not be affected by the employer's request for or receipt of wage subsidies.

(6) The department shall create a Washington stay-at-work account which shall be funded by assessments of employers insured through the state fund for the costs of the payments authorized by subsection (4) of this section and for the cost of creating a reserve for anticipated liabilities. Employers may collect up to one-half the fund assessment from workers.

(7) No worker shall receive compensation for or during the day on which injury was received or the three days following the same, unless his or her disability shall continue for a period of fourteen consecutive calendar days from date of injury: PROVIDED, That attempts to return to work in the first fourteen days following the injury shall not serve to break the continuity of the period of disability if the disability continues fourteen days after the injury occurs.

~~((8))~~ (8) Should a worker suffer a temporary total disability and should his or her employer at the time of the injury continue to pay him or her the wages which he or she was earning at the time of such injury, such injured worker shall not receive any payment provided in subsection (1) of this section during the period his or her employer shall so pay such wages: PROVIDED, That holiday pay, vacation pay, sick leave, or other similar benefits shall not be deemed to be payments by the employer for the purposes of this subsection.

~~((9))~~ (9) In no event shall the monthly payments provided in this section:

(a) Exceed the applicable percentage of the average monthly wage in the state as computed under the provisions of RCW 51.08.018 as follows:

AFTER	PERCENTAGE
-------	------------

FIFTY FIFTH DAY, MARCH 5, 2011

2011 REGULAR SESSION

June 30, 1993	105%
June 30, 1994	110%
June 30, 1995	115%
June 30, 1996	120%

(b) For dates of injury or disease manifestation after July 1, 2008, be less than fifteen percent of the average monthly wage in the state as computed under RCW 51.08.018 plus an additional ten dollars per month if the worker is married and an additional ten dollars per month for each child of the worker up to a maximum of five children. However, if the monthly payment computed under this subsection ~~((7))~~ (9)(b) is greater than one hundred percent of the wages of the worker as determined under RCW 51.08.178, the monthly payment due to the worker shall be equal to the greater of the monthly wages of the worker or the minimum benefit set forth in this section on June 30, 2008.

~~((8))~~ (10) If the supervisor of industrial insurance determines that the worker is voluntarily retired and is no longer attached to the workforce, benefits shall not be paid under this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. The department of labor and industries may adopt rules to implement this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected."

Senator Holmquist Newbry spoke in favor of adoption of the striking amendment.

MOTION

Senator Nelson moved that the following amendment by Senator Nelson and others to the striking amendment be adopted:

On page 1, line 3, strike all of section 1 and insert the following: "NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 51.04 RCW to read as follows:

The legislature finds that Washington's workers' compensation system is a complex system that has several unique features not commonly found in the workers' compensation systems of other governments. The legislature acknowledges that there have been calls for systematic reform of Washington's workers' compensation system in order to reduce short term and long term pension costs, and bring the system more in line with the systems of other states. However, the legislature finds it is critical that proposals to reduce costs be balanced against the fundamental purpose of the workers' compensation system, which is to provide sure and certain relief for workers injured in the course of their employment. The legislature finds that proposals for significant systematic workers compensation reform need deliberate, collaborative, and thoughtful evaluation in order to ensure changes have no adverse impact on worker outcomes, accountability, system efficiency, or cost predictability. The legislature therefore establishes a joint select committee on workers compensation to review and recommend proposals to reduce short term and long term pension costs while protecting the rights and outcomes of injured workers, including an examination of voluntary settlement agreements, programs to encourage and facilitate light duty and transitional work, and an evaluation of occupational diseases.

The joint select committee shall consist of eight members, including the chair and ranking minority member of the Senate labor, commerce, and consumer protection committee and the chair and ranking minority member of the House labor and workforce development committee. Two of the remaining members shall be appointed by the leaders of the two largest caucuses in the Senate; and two shall be appointed by the leaders of the two largest caucuses in the House of Representatives. Members of the committee must be reimbursed for travel expenses in accordance with RCW 44.04.120; expenses of the committee must be paid jointly by the Senate and the House of Representatives; and committee expenditures are subject to approval by the Senate facilities and operations committee and the House of Representatives executive rules committee, or their successor committees. The committee shall choose its co-chairs from among its membership, with the chair of the Senate labor, commerce, and consumer protection committee and the chair of the House labor and workforce development committee convening the initial meeting of the committee.

The committee must report its findings and recommendations to the appropriate committees of the legislature by December 1, 2011.

This section expires January 1, 2012."

On page 4, line 4, strike all of section 2.

On page 5, line 14, strike all of section 3.

On page 5, line 28, strike all of section 4.

Renumber the remaining sections.

On page 12, line 7 of the title amendment, strike everything after "authorization" and insert "creation of a joint select committee to review and evaluate proposals to reduce short term and long term costs while protecting the rights and outcomes of injured workers and creation of a return to work subsidy program; reenacting and amending RCW 51.32.090; adding a new section to chapter 51.04 RCW; and creating a new section."

Senators Nelson, Keiser, Conway and Kohl-Welles spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment to the striking amendment.

Senators Holmquist Newbry, Hobbs, Zarelli, King, Schoesler and Kastama spoke against adoption of the amendment to the striking amendment.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the amendment by Senator Nelson and others on page 1, line 3 to the striking amendment to Senate Bill No. 5566.

The motion by Senator Nelson failed and the amendment to the striking amendment was not adopted by voice vote.

WITHDRAWAL OF AMENDMENT

On motion of Senator Hargrove, the amendment by Senator Hargrove on page 1, line 6 to the striking amendment to Senate Bill No. 5566 was withdrawn.

Senator Hargrove spoke on adoption of the amendment.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the striking amendment by Senators Holmquist Newbry and Kilmer to Senate Bill No. 5566.

The motion by Senator Holmquist Newbry carried and the striking amendment was adopted by voice vote.

MOTION

There being no objection, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 1 of the title, after "Relating to" strike the remainder of the title and insert "workers' compensation reform through authorization of voluntary settlements, creation of a return to work subsidy program, and authorization of a study of occupational disease; reenacting and amending RCW 51.32.090; adding new sections to chapter 51.04 RCW; and creating a new section."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Holmquist Newbry, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5566 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Senators Holmquist Newbry, Pridemore, Kilmer and King spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

Senators Nelson, Kline, Conway, Kohl-Welles and Keiser spoke against passage of the bill.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5566.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 5566 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 34; Nays, 15; Absent, 0; Excused, 0.

Voting yea: Senators Baumgartner, Baxter, Becker, Benton, Brown, Carrell, Delvin, Ericksen, Fain, Hargrove, Hatfield, Haugen, Hewitt, Hill, Hobbs, Holmquist Newbry, Honeyford, Kastama, Kilmer, King, Litzow, Morton, Parlette, Pflug, Pridemore, Roach, Rockefeller, Schoesler, Sheldon, Shin, Stevens, Swecker, Tom and Zarelli

Voting nay: Senators Chase, Conway, Eide, Fraser, Harper, Keiser, Kline, Kohl-Welles, McAuliffe, Murray, Nelson, Prentice, Ranker, Regala and White

ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 5566, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

MOTION

At 2:44 p.m., on motion of Senator Eide, the Senate was declared to be at ease subject to the call of the President.

The Senate was called to order at 3:53 p.m. by President Owen.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 5769, by Senators Rockefeller, Pridemore, Kohl-Welles, White, Chase, Murray, Ranker, Regala, Fraser, Shin and Kline

Regarding coal-fired electric generation facilities.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Rockefeller, Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 5769 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5769 and the second substitute bill was placed on the second reading and read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Rockefeller moved that the following striking amendment by Senators Rockefeller and Swecker be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 101. (1) The legislature finds that generating electricity from the combustion of coal produces large amounts of harmful pollutants, including ammonia, arsenic, lead, mercury, hydrochloric acid, nitrogen oxides, sulfuric acid, sulfur dioxide, particulate matter, and several toxic heavy metals, all of which have been determined by medical science to be harmful to human health and safety. In addition, the emissions from the combustion of coal in the state impact visibility in eight class I areas in the state. While the emission of many of these pollutants continues to be addressed through application of federal and state air quality laws, the emission of greenhouse gases resulting from the combustion of coal has not been addressed. Furthermore, these harmful by-products may be damaging the cultural history of Washington and its people by eroding ancient native American petroglyphs and pictographs and by accumulating in the soil and waters of the usual and accustomed areas for tribal hunting, fishing, gathering, and grazing.

(2) The legislature has previously found that greenhouse gas emissions contribute to climate change and has found that Washington is especially vulnerable to climate change. The legislature now finds that coal-fired electricity generation is one of the largest sources of greenhouse gas emissions in the state, and is the largest source of such emissions from the generation of electricity in the state.

(3) The legislature finds coal-fired electric generation may provide baseload power that is necessary in the near-term for the stability and reliability of the electrical transmission grid and that contributes to the availability of affordable power in the state. The legislature further finds that efforts to transition power to other fuels requires a reasonable period of time to ensure grid stability and to maintain affordable electricity resources.

(4) The legislature finds that coal-fired baseload electric generation facilities are a significant contributor to family-wage jobs and economic health in parts of the state and that transition of these facilities must address the economic future and the preservation of jobs in affected communities.

(5) The legislature finds that coal-fired baseload electric generation facilities are large industrial facilities that require substantial planning and funding for closure and postclosure to ensure that the site is fully restored and free of contamination.

(6) Therefore, it is the purpose of this act to provide for the reduction of greenhouse gas emissions from large coal-fired baseload electric power generation facilities, to effect an orderly transition to cleaner fuels in a manner that ensures reliability of the state's electrical grid, to ensure appropriate cleanup and site restoration upon decommissioning of any of these facilities in the state, and to provide assistance to host communities planning for new economic development and mitigating the economic impacts of the closure of these facilities.

Sec. 102. RCW 80.80.010 and 2009 c 565 s 54 and 2009 c 448 s 1 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

The definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(1) "Attorney general" means the Washington state office of the attorney general.

(2) "Auditor" means: (a) The Washington state auditor's office or its designee for consumer-owned utilities under its jurisdiction; or (b) an independent auditor selected by a consumer-owned utility that is not under the jurisdiction of the state auditor.

(3) "Average available greenhouse gas emissions output" means the level of greenhouse gas emissions as surveyed and determined by the energy policy division of the department of commerce under RCW 80.80.050.

(4) "Baseload electric generation" means electric generation from a power plant that is designed and intended to provide electricity at an annualized plant capacity factor of at least sixty percent.

FIFTY FIFTH DAY, MARCH 5, 2011

2011 REGULAR SESSION

(5) "Cogeneration facility" means a power plant in which the heat or steam is also used for industrial or commercial heating or cooling purposes and that meets federal energy regulatory commission standards for qualifying facilities under the public utility regulatory policies act of 1978 (16 U.S.C. Sec. 824a-3), as amended.

(6) "Combined-cycle natural gas thermal electric generation facility" means a power plant that employs a combination of one or more gas turbines and steam turbines in which electricity is produced in the steam turbine from otherwise lost waste heat exiting from one or more of the gas turbines.

(7) "Commission" means the Washington utilities and transportation commission.

(8) "Consumer-owned utility" means a municipal utility formed under Title 35 RCW, a public utility district formed under Title 54 RCW, an irrigation district formed under chapter 87.03 RCW, a cooperative formed under chapter 23.86 RCW, a mutual corporation or association formed under chapter 24.06 RCW, or port district within which an industrial district has been established as authorized by Title 53 RCW, that is engaged in the business of distributing electricity to more than one retail electric customer in the state.

(9) "Department" means the department of ecology.

(10) "Distributed generation" means electric generation connected to the distribution level of the transmission and distribution grid, which is usually located at or near the intended place of use.

(11) "Electric utility" means an electrical company or a consumer-owned utility.

(12) "Electrical company" means a company owned by investors that meets the definition of RCW 80.04.010.

(13) "Governing board" means the board of directors or legislative authority of a consumer-owned utility.

(14) "Greenhouse ((gases)) gas" includes carbon dioxide, methane, nitrous oxide, hydrofluorocarbons, perfluorocarbons, and sulfur hexafluoride.

(15) "Long-term financial commitment" means:

(a) Either a new ownership interest in baseload electric generation or an upgrade to a baseload electric generation facility; or

(b) A new or renewed contract for baseload electric generation with a term of five or more years for the provision of retail power or wholesale power to end-use customers in this state.

(16) "Plant capacity factor" means the ratio of the electricity produced during a given time period, measured in kilowatt-hours, to the electricity the unit could have produced if it had been operated at its rated capacity during that period, expressed in kilowatt-hours.

(17) "Power plant" means a facility for the generation of electricity that is permitted as a single plant by a jurisdiction inside or outside the state.

(18) "Upgrade" means any modification made for the primary purpose of increasing the electric generation capacity of a baseload electric generation facility. "Upgrade" does not include routine or necessary maintenance, installation of emission control equipment, installation, replacement, or modification of equipment that improves the heat rate of the facility, or installation, replacement, or modification of equipment for the primary purpose of maintaining reliable generation output capability that does not increase the heat input or fuel usage as specified in existing generation air quality permits as of July 22, 2007, but may result in incidental increases in generation capacity.

(19) "Coal transition power" means the output of a coal-fired electric generation facility located in Washington that is subject to RCW 80.80.040(3)(c).

(20) "Memorandum of agreement" or "memorandum" means a binding and enforceable contract entered into pursuant to section 106 of this act between the governor on behalf of the state and an owner of a baseload electric generation facility in the state that produces coal transition power.

Sec. 103. RCW 80.80.040 and 2009 c 448 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Beginning July 1, 2008, the greenhouse gas emissions performance standard for all baseload electric generation for which electric utilities enter into long-term financial commitments on or after such date is the lower of:

(a) One thousand one hundred pounds of greenhouse gases per megawatt-hour; or

(b) The average available greenhouse gas emissions output as determined under RCW 80.80.050.

(2) This chapter does not apply to long-term financial commitments with the Bonneville power administration.

(3)(a) Except as provided in (c) of this subsection, all baseload electric generation facilities in operation as of June 30, 2008, are deemed to be in compliance with the greenhouse gas emissions performance standard established under this section until the facilities are the subject of long-term financial commitments.

(b) All baseload electric generation that commences operation after June 30, 2008, and is located in Washington, must comply with the greenhouse gas emissions performance standard established in subsection (1) of this section.

(c)(i) A coal-fired baseload electric generation facility in Washington that emitted more than one million tons of greenhouse gases in calendar year 2005 must comply with the lower of the following greenhouse gas emissions performance standard such that one generating boiler is in compliance by December 31, 2020, and any other generating boiler is in compliance by December 31, 2025:

(A) One thousand one hundred pounds of greenhouse gases per megawatt-hour; or

(B) The average available greenhouse gas emissions output as determined under RCW 80.80.050.

(ii) This subsection (3)(c) does not apply to a coal-fired baseload electric generating facility in the event the department determines as a requirement of state or federal law or regulation that selective catalytic reduction technology must be installed on any of its boilers.

(4) All electric generation facilities or power plants powered exclusively by renewable resources, as defined in RCW 19.280.020, are deemed to be in compliance with the greenhouse gas emissions performance standard established under this section.

(5) All cogeneration facilities in the state that are fueled by natural gas or waste gas or a combination of the two fuels, and that are in operation as of June 30, 2008, are deemed to be in compliance with the greenhouse gas emissions performance standard established under this section until the facilities are the subject of a new ownership interest or are upgraded.

(6) In determining the rate of emissions of greenhouse gases for baseload electric generation, the total emissions associated with producing electricity shall be included.

(7) In no case shall a long-term financial commitment be determined to be in compliance with the greenhouse gas emissions performance standard if the commitment includes more than twelve percent of electricity from unspecified sources.

(8) For a long-term financial commitment with multiple power plants, each specified power plant must be treated individually for the purpose of determining the annualized plant capacity factor and net emissions, and each power plant must comply with subsection (1) of this section, except as provided in subsections (3) through (5) of this section.

(9) The department shall establish an output-based methodology to ensure that the calculation of emissions of greenhouse gases for a cogeneration facility recognizes the total usable energy output of the process, and includes all greenhouse gases emitted by the facility in the production of both electrical and thermal energy. In developing and implementing the greenhouse gas emissions performance standard, the department shall consider and act in a manner consistent with any rules adopted pursuant to the public utilities regulatory policy act of 1978 (16 U.S.C. Sec. 824a-3), as amended.

(10) The following greenhouse gas emissions produced by baseload electric generation owned or contracted through a long-term financial commitment shall not be counted as emissions of the power plant in determining compliance with the greenhouse gas emissions performance standard:

(a) Those emissions that are injected permanently in geological formations;

(b) Those emissions that are permanently sequestered by other means approved by the department; and

(c) Those emissions sequestered or mitigated as approved under subsection (16) of this section.

(11) In adopting and implementing the greenhouse gas emissions performance standard, the department of (~~community, trade, and economic development~~) commerce energy policy division, in consultation with the commission, the department, the Bonneville power administration, the western electricity (~~coordination [coordinating]~~) coordinating council, the energy facility site evaluation council, electric utilities, public interest representatives, and consumer representatives, shall consider the effects of the greenhouse gas emissions performance standard on system reliability and overall costs to electricity customers.

(12) In developing and implementing the greenhouse gas emissions performance standard, the department shall, with assistance of the commission, the department of (~~community, trade, and economic development~~) commerce energy policy division, and electric utilities, and to the extent practicable, address long-term purchases of electricity from unspecified sources in a manner consistent with this chapter.

(13) The directors of the energy facility site evaluation council and the department shall each adopt rules under chapter 34.05 RCW in coordination with each other to implement and enforce the greenhouse gas emissions performance standard. The rules necessary to implement this section shall be adopted by June 30, 2008.

(14) In adopting the rules for implementing this section, the energy facility site evaluation council and the department shall include criteria to be applied in evaluating the carbon sequestration plan, for baseload electric generation that will rely on subsection (10) of this section to demonstrate compliance, but that will commence sequestration after the date that electricity is first produced. The rules shall include but not be limited to:

(a) Provisions for financial assurances, as a condition of plant operation, sufficient to ensure successful implementation of the carbon sequestration plan, including construction and operation of necessary equipment, and any other significant costs;

(b) Provisions for geological or other approved sequestration commencing within five years of plant operation, including full and sufficient technical documentation to support the planned sequestration;

(c) Provisions for monitoring the effectiveness of the implementation of the sequestration plan;

(d) Penalties for failure to achieve implementation of the plan on schedule;

(e) Provisions for an owner to purchase emissions reductions in the event of the failure of a sequestration plan under subsection (16) of this section; and

(f) Provisions for public notice and comment on the carbon sequestration plan.

2011 REGULAR SESSION

(15)(a) Except as provided in (b) of this subsection, as part of its role enforcing the greenhouse gas emissions performance standard, the department shall determine whether sequestration or a plan for sequestration will provide safe, reliable, and permanent protection against the greenhouse gases entering the atmosphere from the power plant and all ancillary facilities.

(b) For facilities under its jurisdiction, the energy facility site evaluation council shall contract for review of sequestration or the carbon sequestration plan with the department consistent with the conditions under (a) of this subsection, consider the adequacy of sequestration or the plan in its adjudicative proceedings conducted under RCW 80.50.090(3), and incorporate specific findings regarding adequacy in its recommendation to the governor under RCW 80.50.100.

(16) A project under consideration by the energy facility site evaluation council by July 22, 2007, is required to include all of the requirements of subsection (14) of this section in its carbon sequestration plan submitted as part of the energy facility site evaluation council process. A project under consideration by the energy facility site evaluation council by July 22, 2007, that receives final site certification agreement approval under chapter 80.50 RCW shall make a good faith effort to implement the sequestration plan. If the project owner determines that implementation is not feasible, the project owner shall submit documentation of that determination to the energy facility site evaluation council. The documentation shall demonstrate the steps taken to implement the sequestration plan and evidence of the technological and economic barriers to successful implementation. The project owner shall then provide to the energy facility site evaluation council notification that they shall implement the plan that requires the project owner to meet the greenhouse gas emissions performance standard by purchasing verifiable greenhouse gas emissions reductions from an electric (~~generating~~) generation facility located within the western interconnection, where the reduction would not have occurred otherwise or absent this contractual agreement, such that the sum of the emissions reductions purchased and the facility's emissions meets the standard for the life of the facility.

Sec. 104. RCW 80.80.060 and 2009 c 448 s 3 and 2009 c 147 s 1 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) No electrical company may enter into a long-term financial commitment unless the baseload electric generation supplied under such a long-term financial commitment complies with the greenhouse (~~gases [gas]~~) gas emissions performance standard established under RCW 80.80.040.

(2) In order to enforce the requirements of this chapter, the commission shall review in a general rate case or as provided in subsection (5) of this section any long-term financial commitment entered into by an electrical company after June 30, 2008, to determine whether the baseload electric generation to be supplied under that long-term financial commitment complies with the greenhouse (~~gases [gas]~~) gas emissions performance standard established under RCW 80.80.040.

(3) In determining whether a long-term financial commitment is for baseload electric generation, the commission shall consider the design of the power plant and its intended use, based upon the electricity purchase contract, if any, permits necessary for the operation of the power plant, and any other matter the commission determines is relevant under the circumstances.

(4) Upon application by an electric utility, the commission may provide a case-by-case exemption from the greenhouse (~~gases [gas]~~) gas emissions performance standard to address: (a) Unanticipated electric system reliability needs; (b) extraordinary cost impacts on utility ratepayers; or (c) catastrophic events or threat of significant financial harm that may arise from unforeseen circumstances.

FIFTY FIFTH DAY, MARCH 5, 2011

(5) Upon application by an electrical company, the commission shall determine whether the company's proposed decision to acquire electric generation or enter into a power purchase agreement for electricity complies with the greenhouse ~~((gases) gas))~~ gas emissions performance standard established under RCW 80.80.040. The commission shall not decide in a proceeding under this subsection (5) issues involving the actual costs to construct and operate the selected resource, cost recovery, or other issues reserved by the commission for decision in a general rate case or other proceeding for recovery of the resource or contract costs.

(6) An electrical company may account for and defer for later consideration by the commission costs incurred in connection with a long-term financial commitment, including operating and maintenance costs, depreciation, taxes, and cost of invested capital. The deferral begins with the date on which the power plant begins commercial operation or the effective date of the power purchase agreement and continues for a period not to exceed twenty-four months; provided that if during such period the company files a general rate case or other proceeding for the recovery of such costs, deferral ends on the effective date of the final decision by the commission in such proceeding. Creation of such a deferral account does not by itself determine the actual costs of the long-term financial commitment, whether recovery of any or all of these costs is appropriate, or other issues to be decided by the commission in a general rate case or other proceeding for recovery of these costs. For the purpose of this subsection (6) only, the term "long-term financial commitment" also includes an electric company's ownership or power purchase agreement with a term of five or more years associated with an eligible renewable resource as defined in RCW 19.285.030.

(7) The commission shall consult with the department to apply the procedures adopted by the department to verify the emissions of greenhouse gases from baseload electric generation under RCW 80.80.040. The department shall report to the commission whether baseload electric generation will comply with the greenhouse ~~((gases) gas))~~ gas emissions performance standard for the duration of the period the baseload electric generation is supplied to the electrical company.

(8) The commission shall adopt rules for the enforcement of this section with respect to electrical companies and adopt procedural rules for approving costs incurred by an electrical company under subsection (4) of this section.

(9) This section does not apply to a long-term financial commitment for the purchase of coal transition power with termination dates consistent with the applicable dates in RCW 80.80.040(3)(c).

(10) The commission shall adopt rules necessary to implement this section by December 31, 2008.

Sec. 105. RCW 80.80.070 and 2007 c 307 s 9 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) No consumer-owned utility may enter into a long-term financial commitment unless the baseload electric generation supplied under such a long-term financial commitment complies with the greenhouse ~~((gases) gas))~~ gas emissions performance standard established under RCW 80.80.040.

(2) The governing board shall review and make a determination on any long-term financial commitment by the utility, pursuant to this chapter and after consultation with the department, to determine whether the baseload electric generation to be supplied under that long-term financial commitment complies with the greenhouse ~~((gases) gas))~~ gas emissions performance standard established under RCW 80.80.040. No consumer-owned utility may enter into a long-term financial commitment unless the baseload electric generation to be supplied under that long-term financial commitment complies with the greenhouse ~~((gases) gas))~~ gas emissions performance standard established under RCW 80.80.040.

(3) In confirming that a long-term financial commitment is for baseload electric generation, the governing board shall consider the design of the power plant and the intended use of the power plant based upon the electricity purchase contract, if any, permits necessary for the operation of the power plant, and any other matter the governing board determines is relevant under the circumstances.

(4) The governing board may provide a case-by-case exemption from the greenhouse ~~((gases) gas))~~ gas emissions performance standard to address: (a) Unanticipated electric system reliability needs; or (b) catastrophic events or threat of significant financial harm that may arise from unforeseen circumstances.

(5) The governing board shall apply the procedures adopted by the department to verify the emissions of greenhouse gases from baseload electric generation under RCW 80.80.040, and may request assistance from the department in doing so.

(6) For consumer-owned utilities, the auditor is responsible for auditing compliance with this chapter and rules adopted under this chapter that apply to those utilities and the attorney general is responsible for enforcing that compliance.

(7) This section does not apply to long-term financial commitments for the purchase of coal transition power with termination dates consistent with the applicable dates in RCW 80.80.040(3)(c).

NEW SECTION. Sec. 106. A new section is added to chapter 80.80 RCW to read as follows:

(1) By January 1, 2012, the governor on behalf of the state shall enter into a memorandum of agreement with the owners of a coal-fired baseload facility in Washington that emitted more than one million tons of greenhouse gases in calendar year 2005.

(2) The memorandum of agreement must:

(a) Incorporate by reference RCW 80.80.040, 80.80.060, and 80.80.070 as of the effective date of this section;

(b) Incorporate binding commitments to install selective noncatalytic reduction pollution control technology in any coal-fired generating boilers by January 1, 2013, after discussing the proper use of ammonia in this technology.

(3)(a) The memorandum of agreement must include provisions by which the facility owner will provide financial assistance:

(i) To the affected community for economic development and energy efficiency and weatherization; and

(ii) For energy technologies with the potential to create considerable energy, economic development, and air quality, haze, or other environmental benefits.

(b) Except as described in (c) of this subsection, the financial assistance in (a)(i) of this subsection must be in the amount of thirty million dollars and the financial assistance in (a)(ii) of this subsection must be in the amount of twenty-five million dollars, with investments beginning January 1, 2012, and consisting of equal annual investments through December 31, 2023, or until the full amount has been provided. Only funds for energy efficiency and weatherization may be spent prior to December 31, 2015.

(c) If the tax exemptions provided under RCW 82.08.811 or 82.12.811 are repealed, any remaining financial assistance required by this section is no longer required.

(4) The memorandum of agreement must:

(a) Specify that the investments in subsection (3) of this section be held in independent accounts at an appropriate financial institution; and

(b) Identify individuals to approve expenditures from the accounts. Individuals must have relevant expertise and must include members representing the community, employees at the facility, and the facility owner.

(5) The memorandum of agreement must include a provision that allows for the termination of the memorandum of agreement in the event the department determines as a requirement of federal law or regulation that selective catalytic reduction technology must be installed on any of its boilers.

FIFTY FIFTH DAY, MARCH 5, 2011

2011 REGULAR SESSION

(6) The memorandum of agreement must include enforcement provisions to ensure implementation of the agreement by the parties.

(7) If the memorandum of agreement is not signed by January 1, 2012, the governor must implement the provisions in subsection (2)(b) of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 107. A new section is added to chapter 80.80 RCW to read as follows:

No state agency or political subdivision of the state may adopt or impose a greenhouse gas emission performance standard, or other operating or financial requirement or limitation relating to greenhouse gas emissions, on a coal-fired electric generation facility located in Washington or upon an electric utility's long-term purchase of coal transition power, that is inconsistent with or additional to the provisions of RCW 80.80.040 or the memorandum of agreement entered into under section 106 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 108. A new section is added to chapter 80.80 RCW to read as follows:

(1) A memorandum of agreement entered into pursuant to section 106 of this act may include provisions to assist in the financing of emissions reductions that exceed those required by RCW 80.80.040(3)(c) by providing for the recognition of such reductions in applicable state policies and programs relating to greenhouse gas emissions, and by encouraging and advocating for the recognition of the reductions in all established and emerging emission reduction frameworks at the regional, national, or international level.

(2) The governor may recommend actions by the legislature to strengthen implementation of an agreement or a proposed agreement relating to recognition of investments in early emissions reductions.

Sec. 109. RCW 80.50.100 and 1989 c 175 s 174 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The council shall report to the governor its recommendations as to the approval or rejection of an application for certification within twelve months of receipt by the council of such an application, or such later time as is mutually agreed by the council and the applicant. In the case of an application filed prior to December 31, 2025, for certification of an energy facility proposed for construction, modification, or expansion for the purpose of providing generating facilities that meet the requirements of RCW 80.80.040 and are located in a county with a coal-fired electric generating facility subject to RCW 80.80.040(3)(c), the council shall expedite the processing of the application pursuant to RCW 80.50.075 and shall report its recommendations to the governor within one hundred eighty days of receipt by the council of such an application, or a later time as is mutually agreed by the council and the applicant. If the council recommends approval of an application for certification, it shall also submit a draft certification agreement with the report. The council shall include conditions in the draft certification agreement to implement the provisions of this chapter, including, but not limited to, conditions to protect state or local governmental or community interests affected by the construction or operation of the energy facility, and conditions designed to recognize the purpose of laws or ordinances, or rules or regulations promulgated thereunder, that are preempted or superseded pursuant to RCW 80.50.110 as now or hereafter amended.

(2)(a) Within sixty days of receipt of the council's report the governor shall take one of the following actions:

~~((a))~~ (i) Approve the application and execute the draft certification agreement; or

~~((b))~~ (ii) Reject the application; or

~~((e))~~ (iii) Direct the council to reconsider certain aspects of the draft certification agreement.

(b) The council shall reconsider such aspects of the draft certification agreement by reviewing the existing record of the application or, as necessary, by reopening the adjudicative proceeding for the purposes of receiving additional evidence. Such reconsideration shall be conducted expeditiously. The council shall resubmit the draft certification to the governor incorporating any amendments deemed necessary upon reconsideration. Within sixty days of receipt of such draft certification agreement, the governor shall either approve the application and execute the certification agreement or reject the application. The certification agreement shall be binding upon execution by the governor and the applicant.

(3) The rejection of an application for certification by the governor shall be final as to that application but shall not preclude submission of a subsequent application for the same site on the basis of changed conditions or new information.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 201. The legislature finds that very large coal-fired baseload electric generation facilities are major industrial facilities whose closure, removal of structures, and site reclamation requires significant planning and funding. In order to ensure that the site of these facilities after closure is fully cleaned up, it is necessary to require that the facility owner demonstrate during the facility's operation that sufficient funding will be available for closure and postclosure activities. Since the degree of cleanup depends, in part, on the proposed future uses of a site, the closure and postclosure requirements must consider the land use designations and economic development plans of the host community. It is the intent of the legislature to facilitate the transition of these facilities by requiring facility decommissioning and site restoration plans that are coordinated and consistent with economic development plans of affected communities.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 202. (1) A facility subject to closure under RCW 80.80.040(3)(c), or a memorandum of agreement under section 106 of this act, must provide the department of ecology with a plan for the closure and postclosure of the facility at least twenty-four months prior to its closure. This plan must be consistent with the rules established by the energy facility site evaluation council for site restoration and preservation applicable to facilities subject to a site certification agreement under chapter 80.50 RCW and include but not be limited to:

(a) A detailed estimate of the cost to implement the plan based on the cost of hiring a third party to conduct all activities;

(b) Demonstrating financial assurance to fund the closure and postclosure of the facility and providing methods by which this assurance may be demonstrated;

(c) Methods for estimating closure costs, including full site reclamation under all applicable federal and state clean-up standards; and

(d) A decommissioning and site restoration plan that addresses restoring physical topography, cleanup of all hazardous substances on the site, potential future uses of the site following restoration, and coordination with local and community plans for economic development in the vicinity of the site.

(2) All cost estimates in the plan must be in current dollars and may not include a net present value adjustment or offsets for salvage value of wastes or other property.

(3) Adoption of the plan and significant revisions to the plan must be approved by the department of ecology.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 203. (1) A facility subject to closure under RCW 80.80.040(3)(c), or a memorandum of agreement under section 106 of this act, must guarantee funds are available to perform all activities specified in the decommissioning plan developed under section 202 of this act. The amount must equal the cost estimates specified in the decommissioning plan and must be updated annually for inflation. All guarantees under this section must be assumed by any successor owner, parent company, or holding company.

(2) The guarantee required under subsection (1) of this section may be accomplished by letter of credit, surety bond, or other means acceptable to the department of ecology.

(3) The issuing institution of the letter of credit must be an entity that has the authority to issue letters of credit and whose letter of credit operations are regulated by a federal or state agency.

(4) A qualifying facility that uses a letter of credit to satisfy the requirements of this act must also establish a standby trust fund as a means to hold any funds issued from the letter of credit. Under the terms of the letter of credit, all amounts paid pursuant to a draft from the department of ecology must be deposited by the issuing institution directly into the standby trust fund in accordance with instructions from the department of ecology. This standby trust fund must be approved by the department of ecology.

(5) The letter of credit must be irrevocable and issued for a period of at least one year. The letter of credit must provide that the expiration date will be automatically extended for a period of at least one year unless, at least one hundred twenty days before the current expiration date, the issuing institution notifies both the qualifying facility and the department of ecology of a decision not to extend the expiration date. Under the terms of the letter of credit, the one hundred twenty days will begin on the date when both the qualifying plant and the department of ecology have received the notice, as evidenced by certified mail return receipts or by overnight courier delivery receipts.

(6) If the qualifying facility does not establish an alternative method of guaranteeing decommissioning funds are available within ninety days after receipt by both the qualifying facility plant and the department of ecology of a notice from the issuing institution that it has decided not to extend the letter of credit beyond the current expiration date, the department of ecology must draw on the letter of credit. The department of ecology must approve any replacement or substitute guarantee method before the expiration of the ninety-day period.

(7) If a qualifying facility elects to use a letter of credit as the sole method for guaranteeing decommissioning funds are available, the face value of the letter of credit must meet or exceed the current inflation-adjusted cost estimate.

(8) A qualifying facility must adjust the decommissioning costs and financial guarantees annually for inflation and may use an amendment to increase the face value of a letter of credit each year to account for this inflation. A qualifying facility is not required to obtain a new letter of credit to cover annual inflation adjustments.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 204. Sections 201 through 203 of this act constitute a new chapter in Title 80 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 301. It is in the public interest to assist local communities in which very large energy generating facilities may be closed, in order to plan for future economic uses of the site and in the community surrounding the site.

Sec. 302. RCW 43.160.076 and 2008 c 327 s 8 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as authorized to the contrary under subsection (2) of this section, from all funds available to the board for financial assistance in a biennium under this chapter, the board shall approve at least seventy-five percent of the first twenty million dollars of funds available and at least fifty percent of any additional funds for financial assistance for projects in rural counties.

(2) If at any time during the last six months of a biennium the board finds that the actual and anticipated applications for qualified projects in rural counties are clearly insufficient to use up the allocations under subsection (1) of this section, then the board shall estimate the amount of the insufficiency and during the remainder of the biennium may use that amount of the allocation for financial assistance to projects not located in rural counties.

(3) The board shall solicit qualifying projects to plan, design, and construct public facilities needed to attract new industrial and commercial activities in areas impacted by the closure or potential closure of large coal-fired electric generation facilities, which for the purposes of this section means a facility that emitted more than one million tons of greenhouse gases in calendar year 2005. The projects should be consistent with any applicable plans for major industrial activity on lands formerly used or designated for surface coal mining and supporting uses under RCW 36.70A.368. When the board receives timely and eligible project applications from a political subdivision of the state for financial assistance for such projects, the board from available funds shall provide a priority for funding projects at the following levels:

(a) For the 2011-2013 biennium, at least two hundred fifty thousand dollars;

(b) For the 2013-2015 biennium, at least two hundred fifty thousand dollars;

(c) For the 2015-2017 biennium, at least one million dollars;

(d) For the 2017-2019 biennium, at least one million dollars;

(e) For the 2019-2021 biennium, at least two million dollars; and

(f) For the 2021-2023 biennium, at least two million dollars.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 303. A new section is added to chapter 43.155 RCW to read as follows:

The board shall solicit qualifying projects to plan, design, and construct public works projects needed to attract new industrial and commercial activities in areas impacted by the closure or potential closure of large coal-fired electric generation facilities, which for the purposes of this section means a facility that emitted more than one million tons of greenhouse gases in calendar year 2005. The projects should be consistent with any applicable plans for major industrial activity on lands formerly used or designated for surface coal mining and supporting uses under RCW 36.70A.368. When the board receives timely and eligible project applications from a political subdivision of the state for financial assistance for such projects, the board from available funds shall provide a priority for funding projects at the following levels:

(1) For the 2011-2013 biennium, at least two hundred fifty thousand dollars;

(2) For the 2013-2015 biennium, at least two hundred fifty thousand dollars;

(3) For the 2015-2017 biennium, at least one million dollars;

(4) For the 2017-2019 biennium, at least one million dollars;

(5) For the 2019-2021 biennium, at least two million dollars; and

(6) For the 2021-2023 biennium, at least two million dollars.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 304. A new section is added to chapter 80.80 RCW to read as follows:

The legislature finds that an electrical company's acquisition of coal transition power helps to achieve the state's greenhouse gas emission reduction goals by effecting an orderly transition to cleaner fuels and supports the state's public policy.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 305. A new section is added to chapter 80.04 RCW to read as follows:

(1) On the petition of an electrical company, the commission shall approve or disapprove a purchase power agreement for acquisition of coal transition power, as defined in RCW 80.80.010, and the recovery of related acquisition costs. No agreement for an electrical company's acquisition of coal transition power takes effect until it is approved by the commission.

(2) When a petition is filed, the commission shall provide notice to the public and potentially affected parties and expedite the hearing of that petition. The hearing of such a petition is not considered a general rate case. However, the commission may require the utility to file supporting testimony and exhibits. An administrative law judge of the commission may enter an initial order including findings of fact and conclusions of law, as provided in RCW 80.01.060(3). The commission shall issue a final order that approves or disapproves the acquisition of coal transition power within one hundred eighty days after an electrical company files the petition.

(3) The commission must approve the acquisition of coal transition power if it determines the resource is needed by the electrical company to serve its ratepayers and the resource meets the need in a cost-effective manner as determined under the lowest reasonable cost resource standards under chapter 19.280 RCW. As part of these determinations, the commission shall consider, among other factors:

(a) The long-term economic benefit to the electrical company and its ratepayers of such a long-term purchase; and

(b) The environmental benefits attributable to the orderly transition away from coal-fired electric generation power.

(4) If the commission has not issued a final order within one hundred eighty days from the date the petition is filed, or if the commission disapproves the petition, the agreement for purchase of coal transition power is null and void. In the event the commission approves the agreement upon conditions other than those set forth in the petition, the electrical company has the right to reject the agreement.

(5) Upon commission approval of an electrical company's acquisition of coal transition power in accordance with this section, the electrical company is allowed to earn its equity component of its authorized rate of return in the same manner as if it had purchased or built an equivalent plant plus the cost of the coal transition power contract. For purposes of this section, the initial value of an equivalent plant is a purchased or self-built electric generation plant with equivalent capacity costs as compared to the electrical company's integrated resource plan in effect at the time the petition is filed. The equivalent plant determined in the approval process will be amortized on a straight line calculation over the life of the coal transition power contract for the determination of the equity return in future proceedings. This recovery must be determined and approved in the process set forth in subsections (1) and (2) of this section.

(6) An electrical company that purchases coal transition power, as defined in RCW 80.80.010, under an agreement approved by the commission pursuant to this section, may acquire other flexible capacity resources, including for the purpose of integrating renewable resources, and the purchase of coal transition power does not prohibit the electrical company from acquiring other flexible capacity resources. The commission shall not include the electric company's purchase of coal transition power when considering the electrical company's purchase of other flexible capacity resources.

Sec. 306. RCW 19.280.020 and 2009 c 565 s 19 are each amended to read as follows:

The definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(1) "Commission" means the utilities and transportation commission.

(2) "Conservation and efficiency resources" means any reduction in electric power consumption that results from increases in the efficiency of energy use, production, transmission, or distribution.

(3) "Consumer-owned utility" includes a municipal electric utility formed under Title 35 RCW, a public utility district formed under Title 54 RCW, an irrigation district formed under chapter 87.03 RCW, a cooperative formed under chapter 23.86 RCW, a mutual corporation or association formed under chapter 24.06 RCW, a port district formed under Title 53 RCW, or a water-sewer district formed under Title 57 RCW, that is engaged in the business of distributing electricity to one or more retail electric customers in the state.

2011 REGULAR SESSION

(4) "Department" means the department of commerce.

(5) "Electric utility" means a consumer-owned or investor-owned utility.

(6) "Full requirements customer" means an electric utility that relies on the Bonneville power administration for all power needed to supply its total load requirement other than that served by nondispatchable generating resources totaling no more than six megawatts or renewable resources.

(7) "Governing body" means the elected board of directors, city council, commissioners, or board of any consumer-owned utility.

(8) "High efficiency cogeneration" means the sequential production of electricity and useful thermal energy from a common fuel source, where, under normal operating conditions, the facility has a useful thermal energy output of no less than thirty-three percent of the total energy output.

(9) "Integrated resource plan" means an analysis describing the mix of generating resources and conservation and efficiency resources that will meet current and projected needs at the lowest reasonable cost to the utility and its ratepayers and that complies with the requirements specified in RCW 19.280.030(1).

(10) "Investor-owned utility" means a corporation owned by investors that meets the definition in RCW 80.04.010 and is engaged in distributing electricity to more than one retail electric customer in the state.

(11) "Lowest reasonable cost" means the lowest cost mix of generating resources and conservation and efficiency resources determined through a detailed and consistent analysis of a wide range of commercially available resources. At a minimum, this analysis must consider resource cost, market-volatility risks, demand-side resource uncertainties, resource dispatchability, resource effect on system operation, the risks imposed on the utility and its ratepayers, public policies regarding resource preference adopted by Washington state or the federal government, and the cost of risks associated with environmental effects including emissions of carbon dioxide. The analysis also must consider public policies adopted by Washington state to reduce greenhouse gases from thermal electric generation facilities in the long term by temporarily exempting certain of those facilities from the provisions of RCW 80.80.060 and 80.80.070.

(12) "Plan" means either an "integrated resource plan" or a "resource plan."

(13) "Renewable resources" means electricity generation facilities fueled by: (a) Water; (b) wind; (c) solar energy; (d) geothermal energy; (e) landfill gas; (f) biomass energy utilizing animal waste, solid organic fuels from wood, forest, or field residues or dedicated energy crops that do not include wood pieces that have been treated with chemical preservatives such as creosote, pentachlorophenol, or copper-chrome-arsenic; (g) by-products of pulping or wood manufacturing processes, including but not limited to bark, wood chips, sawdust, and lignin in spent pulping liquors; (h) ocean thermal, wave, or tidal power; or (i) gas from sewage treatment facilities.

(14) "Resource plan" means an assessment that estimates electricity loads and resources over a defined period of time and complies with the requirements in RCW 19.280.030(2).

Sec. 307. RCW 19.280.030 and 2006 c 195 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

Each electric utility must develop a plan consistent with this section.

FIFTY FIFTH DAY, MARCH 5, 2011

2011 REGULAR SESSION

(1) Utilities with more than twenty-five thousand customers that are not full requirements customers shall develop or update an integrated resource plan by September 1, 2008. At a minimum, progress reports reflecting changing conditions and the progress of the integrated resource plan must be produced every two years thereafter. An updated integrated resource plan must be developed at least every four years subsequent to the 2008 integrated resource plan. The integrated resource plan, at a minimum, must include:

(a) A range of forecasts, for at least the next ten years, of projected customer demand which takes into account econometric data and customer usage;

(b) An assessment of commercially available conservation and efficiency resources. Such assessment may include, as appropriate, high efficiency cogeneration, demand response and load management programs, and currently employed and new policies and programs needed to obtain the conservation and efficiency resources;

(c) An assessment of commercially available, utility scale renewable and nonrenewable generating technologies including a comparison of the benefits and risks of purchasing power from existing resources or building new resources;

(d) A comparative evaluation of renewable and nonrenewable generating resources, including transmission and distribution delivery costs, and conservation and efficiency resources using "lowest reasonable cost" as a criterion;

(e) The integration of the demand forecasts and resource evaluations into a long-range assessment describing the mix of supply side generating resources and conservation and efficiency resources that will meet current and projected needs at the lowest reasonable cost and risk to the utility and its ratepayers; and

(f) A short-term plan identifying the specific actions to be taken by the utility consistent with the long-range integrated resource plan.

(2) All other utilities may elect to develop a full integrated resource plan as set forth in subsection (1) of this section or, at a minimum, shall develop a resource plan that:

(a) Estimates loads for the next five and ten years;

(b) Enumerates the resources that will be maintained and/or acquired to serve those loads; and

(c) Explains why the resources in (b) of this subsection were chosen and, if the resources chosen are not renewable resources or conservation and efficiency resources, why such a decision was made.

(3) An electric utility that is required to develop a resource plan under this section must complete its initial plan by September 1, 2008.

(4) Resource plans developed under this section must be updated on a regular basis, at a minimum on intervals of two years.

By Senators Hewitt, Delvin, Morton, Swecker, King, Schoesler, Litzow, Hill, Conway, Honeyford, Ericksen, Carrell, McAuliffe, Becker, Kohl-Welles, Parlette, Fraser, Hatfield, Prentice, White, and Holmquist Newbry

WHEREAS, Jeannette Hayner was born in 1919 in Portland, Oregon, just one year prior to women receiving the national right to vote; and

WHEREAS, Upon receiving her bachelor of arts from the University of Oregon, Jeannette Hayner was one of two women to graduate from the University of Oregon Law School in 1942; and

WHEREAS, Jeannette Hayner was accomplished in her personal life, marrying fellow University of Oregon Law School graduate and WWII veteran H.H. "Dutch" Hayner and raising three children; and

WHEREAS, Jeannette Hayner chose to pursue politics, first becoming an active member of the Walla Walla school board then running for the open seat in the State Legislature in 1972; and

WHEREAS, After defeating three opponents, Jeannette Hayner took her seat in the House of Representatives in 1973, she then ran successfully for an open seat in the Senate, and she would run and be reelected every four years until her retirement in 1992; and

WHEREAS, Jeannette Hayner became the Senate Republican Leader in 1979, and Senate Majority Leader in 1981, the first woman to ever hold the title, and she would continue to proudly lead her fellow Republicans for the following 13 years; and

WHEREAS, During her 20-year career with the Legislature, Jeannette Hayner did not shy away from responsibility, showing constant wisdom and strength, taking initiative in creating the infamous "Rule of 13" where a simple majority of 13 caucus members would bind all the rest to the decision; and

WHEREAS, Jeannette Hayner, even after her passing, provides the women of Washington with great hope for heightened representation and the continued success of women in a position of political influence;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That it is with great respect, that the Washington State Senate remember and honor the accomplishments, courage, and excellence of character exemplified by former Senate Majority Leader Jeannette Hayner.

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 26.44.010 and 1999 c 176 s 27 are each amended to read as follows:

The Washington state legislature finds and declares: The bond between a child and his or her parent, custodian, or guardian is of paramount importance, and any intervention into the life of a child is also an intervention into the life of the parent, custodian, or guardian; however, instances of nonaccidental injury, neglect, death, sexual abuse and cruelty to children by their parents, custodians or guardians have occurred, and in the instance where a child is deprived of his or her right to conditions of minimal nurture, health, and safety, the state is justified in emergency intervention based upon verified information; and therefore the Washington state legislature hereby provides for the reporting of such cases to the appropriate public authorities. It is the intent of the legislature that, as a result of such reports, protective services shall be made available in an effort to prevent further abuses, and to safeguard the general welfare of such children(~~(: PROVIDED, That such)~~).

When the child's interests of basic nurture, physical and mental health, and safety conflict with the parents' interests, the interests of the child should prevail. When determining whether a parent and child should be separated during or immediately following an investigation of alleged child abuse or neglect, the safety of the child shall be the department's paramount concern. Reports of child abuse and neglect shall be maintained and disseminated with strictest regard for the privacy of the subjects of such reports and so as to safeguard against arbitrary, malicious or erroneous information or actions(~~(: PROVIDED FURTHER, That)~~). This chapter shall not be construed to authorize interference with child-raising practices, including reasonable parental discipline, which are not proved to be injurious to the child's health, welfare and safety.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 4.24 RCW to read as follows:

(1) No governmental entity or its officers, agents, employees, and volunteers, shall be criminally or civilly liable for performing duties pursuant to chapter 26.44 RCW with regard to investigating allegations of child abuse or neglect if such duties were performed without gross negligence.

(2) The duty to conduct a reasonable investigation of child abuse or neglect upon a referral runs only to children who are the subject of a referral under chapter 26.44 RCW.

(3) The department and its employees shall comply with the orders of the court, including shelter care and other dependency orders, and are not liable for acts performed to comply with such court orders. In providing reports and recommendations to the court, caseworkers are entitled to the same witness immunity as would be provided to any other witness.

(4) Nothing in this section diminishes any immunity or defense that may otherwise be applicable to the governmental entity or its past or present employees.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 4.24 RCW to read as follows:

(1) No governmental entity or its officers, agents, employees, and volunteers, shall be criminally or civilly liable for performing duties with regard to the supervision of offenders so long as the duties were performed without gross negligence.

(2) For the purposes of this section, supervision includes any type of community-based supervision including, but not limited to, probation, parole, community custody, community placement, community supervision, and postrelease supervision.

(3) Nothing in this section diminishes any immunity or defense that may otherwise be applicable to the governmental entity or its past or present employees."

MOTION

Senator Hargrove moved that the following striking amendment by Senators Hargrove and Rockefeller be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that research has shown the importance of reducing environmental impacts through building design. The primary focus on building designs has been an attempt to reduce energy requirements, primarily heating and cooling, over the course of a building's lifetime. However, what has been overlooked are opportunities to reduce greenhouse gas emissions and other environmental impacts at earlier stages in the building and construction design process. The selection of building materials and products, such as using wood and wood products in the design stage, provides substantial opportunities to reduce lifetime greenhouse gas emissions. A key component of life-cycle cost analysis is the energy expended in the extraction, transportation, manufacturing, and production of the building materials being considered in the construction of buildings.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. (1) The University of Washington, in conjunction with a nonprofit consortium involved in research on renewable industrial materials, in consultation with the state building code council, shall conduct a review of other states' existing codes, international standards, and literature on life-cycle assessment, embodied energy, and embodied carbon in building materials.

(2) By July 2012, the University of Washington, in conjunction with a nonprofit consortium involved in research on renewable industrial materials, shall make recommendations to the legislature for methodologies to: (1) Conduct an assessment and determine the amount of embodied energy and carbon in building materials or greenhouse gas emissions avoided by using building materials with low-embodied energy or carbon; and (2) develop a comprehensive guideline using a common and consistent metric for the embodied energy and carbon in building materials. The University of Washington, in conjunction with a nonprofit consortium involved in research on renewable industrial materials, shall seek input from building materials industries and other interested parties when developing its recommendations. The department of general administration shall make recommendations for streamlining current statutory requirements for life-cycle cost analysis, energy conservation in design, and high performance of public buildings."

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature recognizes that public transportation provides many benefits to the citizens of the state and the environment, including through public transportation's ability to alleviate congestion and offset the burdens placed by general vehicular traffic on the state's transportation infrastructure. In these challenging economic times, many transit agencies find themselves struggling to continue to provide a level of service that reduces congestion.

It is the intent of the legislature that any county that has assumed the rights, powers, functions, and obligations of a metropolitan municipal corporation under chapter 36.56 RCW and is operating a public transportation system conduct an evaluation of methods to reduce congestion. This evaluation should include the effectiveness of a congestion reduction charge on reducing congestion and should be conducted within existing resources."

On page 1, line 1 of the title, after "Relating to" strike all material through "date" on line 4 of the title, and insert "evaluating a congestion reduction charge; and creating a new section"

On page 1, after line 8, insert the following:

"PART I – INTENT

NEW SECTION. Sec. 101. The legislature intends for privatization of retail and distribution of liquor to result in a system that is more efficient than public sector retail and distribution. The legislature finds that the present system of state control includes a markup amount at distribution that generates revenue for the state and local governments, and that this markup will be eliminated when liquor sales and distribution are privatized. The legislature further intends that the privatization of liquor sales and distribution not result in revenue losses to state or local governments as compared to projected revenues assumed under state control, not including any separate licenses or franchises.

PART II - CURRENT CHANGES

Sec. 201. RCW 66.04.010 and 2009 c 373 s 1 and 2009 c 271 s 2 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

In this title, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Alcohol" is that substance known as ethyl alcohol, hydrated oxide of ethyl, or spirit of wine, which is commonly produced by the fermentation or distillation of grain, starch, molasses, or sugar, or other substances including all dilutions and mixtures of this substance. The term "alcohol" does not include alcohol in the possession of a manufacturer or distiller of alcohol fuel, as described in RCW 66.12.130, which is intended to be denatured and used as a fuel for use in motor vehicles, farm implements, and machines or implements of husbandry.

(2) "Authorized representative" means a person who:

(a) Is required to have a federal basic permit issued pursuant to the federal alcohol administration act, 27 U.S.C. Sec. 204;

(b) Has its business located in the United States outside of the state of Washington;

(c) Acquires ownership of beer or wine for transportation into and resale in the state of Washington; and which beer or wine is produced by a brewery or winery in the United States outside of the state of Washington; and

(d) Is appointed by the brewery or winery referenced in (c) of this subsection as its authorized representative for marketing and selling its products within the United States in accordance with a written agreement between the authorized representative and such brewery or winery pursuant to this title.

(3) "Beer" means any malt beverage, flavored malt beverage, or malt liquor as these terms are defined in this chapter.

(4) "Beer distributor" means a person who buys beer from a domestic brewery, microbrewery, beer certificate of approval holder, or beer importers, or who acquires foreign produced beer from a source outside of the United States, for the purpose of selling the same pursuant to this title, or who represents such brewer or brewery as agent.

(5) "Beer importer" means a person or business within Washington who purchases beer from a beer certificate of approval holder or who acquires foreign produced beer from a source outside of the United States for the purpose of selling the same pursuant to this title.

(6) "Board" means the liquor control board, constituted under this title.

(7) "Brewer" or "brewery" means any person engaged in the business of manufacturing beer and malt liquor. Brewer includes a brand owner of malt beverages who holds a brewer's notice with the federal bureau of alcohol, tobacco, and firearms at a location outside the state and whose malt beverage is contract-produced by a licensed in-state brewery, and who may exercise within the state, under a domestic brewery license, only the privileges of storing, selling to licensed beer distributors, and exporting beer from the state.

(8) "Club" means an organization of persons, incorporated or unincorporated, operated solely for fraternal, benevolent, educational, athletic or social purposes, and not for pecuniary gain.

(9) "Confection" means a preparation of sugar, honey, or other natural or artificial sweeteners in combination with chocolate, fruits, nuts, dairy products, or flavorings, in the form of bars, drops, or pieces.

(10) "Consume" includes the putting of liquor to any use, whether by drinking or otherwise.

(11) "Contract liquor store" means a business that sells liquor on behalf of the board through a contract with a contract liquor store manager.

(12) "Craft distillery" means a distillery that pays the reduced licensing fee under RCW 66.24.140.

(13) "Dentist" means a practitioner of dentistry duly and regularly licensed and engaged in the practice of his profession within the state pursuant to chapter 18.32 RCW.

(14) "Distiller" means a person engaged in the business of distilling spirits.

(15) "Domestic brewery" means a place where beer and malt liquor are manufactured or produced by a brewer within the state.

(16) "Domestic winery" means a place where wines are manufactured or produced within the state of Washington.

(17) "Drug store" means a place whose principal business is, the sale of drugs, medicines and pharmaceutical preparations and maintains a regular prescription department and employs a registered pharmacist during all hours the drug store is open.

(18) "Druggist" means any person who holds a valid certificate and is a registered pharmacist and is duly and regularly engaged in carrying on the business of pharmaceutical chemistry pursuant to chapter 18.64 RCW.

(19) "Employee" means any person employed by the board.

(20) "Flavored malt beverage" means:

(a) A malt beverage containing six percent or less alcohol by volume to which flavoring or other added nonbeverage ingredients are added that contain distilled spirits of not more than forty-nine percent of the beverage's overall alcohol content; or

(b) A malt beverage containing more than six percent alcohol by volume to which flavoring or other added nonbeverage ingredients are added that contain distilled spirits of not more than one and one-half percent of the beverage's overall alcohol content.

(21) "Fund" means 'liquor revolving fund.'

(22) "Hotel" means buildings, structures, and grounds, having facilities for preparing, cooking, and serving food, that are kept, used, maintained, advertised, or held out to the public to be a place where food is served and sleeping accommodations are offered for pay to transient guests, in which twenty or more rooms are used for the sleeping accommodation of such transient guests. The buildings, structures, and grounds must be located on adjacent property either owned or leased by the same person or persons.

(23) "Importer" means a person who buys distilled spirits from a distillery outside the state of Washington and imports such spirituous liquor into the state for sale to the board or for export.

(24) "Imprisonment" means confinement in the county jail.

(25) "Liquor" includes the four varieties of liquor herein defined (alcohol, spirits, wine and beer), and all fermented, spirituous, vinous, or malt liquor, or combinations thereof, and mixed liquor, a part of which is fermented, spirituous, vinous or malt liquor, or otherwise intoxicating; and every liquid or solid or semisolid or other substance, patented or not, containing alcohol, spirits, wine or beer, and all drinks or drinkable liquids and all preparations or mixtures capable of human consumption, and any liquid, semisolid, solid, or other substance, which contains more than one percent of alcohol by weight shall be conclusively deemed to be intoxicating. Liquor does not include confections or food products that contain one percent or less of alcohol by weight.

(26) "Liquor franchise" means a specific location designated by the board where spirits, wine, and beer may be sold in original packages for off-premises consumption, or where liquor may be sold to holders of a permit to purchase.

(27) "Liquor franchise agreement" means approval by the board to operate a liquor franchise in accordance with the provisions of this title.

(28) "Liquor franchise applicant" means any person who submits an application for a liquor franchise agreement to sell spirits, wine, and beer in accordance with the provisions of this title.

(29) "Liquor franchise area" means a geographic area designated as such by the board for the purpose of issuing franchise agreements.

(f) Providing for the issuing and distributing of price lists showing the price to be paid by purchasers for each variety of liquor kept for sale under this title;

(g) Prescribing an official seal and official labels and stamps and determining the manner in which they shall be attached to every package of liquor sold or sealed under this title, including the prescribing of different official seals or different official labels for different classes of liquor;

(h) Providing for the payment by the board in whole or in part of the carrying charges on liquor shipped by freight or express;

(i) Prescribing forms to be used for purposes of this title or the regulations, and the terms and conditions to be contained in permits and licenses issued under this title, and the qualifications for receiving a permit or license issued under this title, including a criminal history record information check. The board may submit the criminal history record information check to the Washington state patrol and to the identification division of the federal bureau of investigation in order that these agencies may search their records for prior arrests and convictions of the individual or individuals who filled out the forms. The board shall require fingerprinting of any applicant whose criminal history record information check is submitted to the federal bureau of investigation;

(j) Prescribing the fees payable in respect of permits and licenses and liquor franchise agreements issued under this title for which no fees are prescribed in this title, and prescribing the fees for anything done or permitted to be done under the regulations;

(k) Prescribing the kinds and quantities of liquor which may be kept on hand by the holder of a special permit for the purposes named in the permit, regulating the manner in which the same shall be kept and disposed of, and providing for the inspection of the same at any time at the instance of the board;

(l) Regulating the sale of liquor kept by the holders of licenses and liquor franchise agreements which entitle the holder to purchase and keep liquor for sale;

(m) Prescribing the records of purchases or sales of liquor kept by the holders of licenses and liquor franchise agreements, and the reports to be made thereon to the board, and providing for inspection of the records so kept;

(n) Prescribing the kinds and quantities of liquor for which a prescription may be given, and the number of prescriptions which may be given to the same patient within a stated period;

(o) Prescribing the manner of giving and serving notices required by this title or the regulations, where not otherwise provided for in this title;

(p) Regulating premises in which liquor is kept for export from the state, or from which liquor is exported, prescribing the books and records to be kept therein and the reports to be made thereon to the board, and providing for the inspection of the premises and the books, records and the liquor so kept;

2011 REGULAR SESSION

(q) Prescribing the conditions and qualifications requisite for the obtaining of club licenses and the books and records to be kept and the returns to be made by clubs, prescribing the manner of licensing clubs in any municipality or other locality, and providing for the inspection of clubs;

(r) Prescribing the conditions, accommodations and qualifications requisite for the obtaining of licenses to sell beer and wines, and regulating the sale of beer and wines thereunder;

(s) Specifying and regulating the time and periods when, and the manner, methods and means by which manufacturers shall deliver liquor within the state; and the time and periods when, and the manner, methods and means by which liquor may lawfully be conveyed or carried within the state;

(t) Providing for the making of returns by brewers of their sales of beer shipped within the state, or from the state, showing the gross amount of such sales and providing for the inspection of brewers' books and records, and for the checking of the accuracy of any such returns;

(u) Providing for the making of returns by the wholesalers of beer whose breweries are located beyond the boundaries of the state;

(v) Providing for the making of returns by any other liquor manufacturers, showing the gross amount of liquor produced or purchased, the amount sold within and exported from the state, and to whom so sold or exported, and providing for the inspection of the premises of any such liquor manufacturers, their books and records, and for the checking of any such return;

(w) Providing for the giving of fidelity bonds by any or all of the employees of the board(~~PROVIDED, That~~). However, the premiums therefor shall be paid by the board;

(x) Providing for the shipment by mail or common carrier of liquor to any person holding a permit and residing in any unit which has, by election pursuant to this title, prohibited the sale of liquor therein;

(y) Prescribing methods of manufacture, conditions of sanitation, standards of ingredients, quality and identity of alcoholic beverages manufactured, sold, bottled, or handled by licensees and the board; and conducting from time to time, in the interest of the public health and general welfare, scientific studies and research relating to alcoholic beverages and the use and effect thereof;

(z) Seizing, confiscating and destroying all alcoholic beverages manufactured, sold or offered for sale within this state which do not conform in all respects to the standards prescribed by this title or the regulations of the board(~~PROVIDED~~)). Nothing herein contained shall be construed as authorizing the liquor board to prescribe, alter, limit or in any way change the present law as to the quantity or percentage of alcohol used in the manufacturing of wine or other alcoholic beverages.

Sec. 203. RCW 66.08.070 and 1985 c 226 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Every order for the purchase of liquor shall be authorized by the board, and no order for liquor shall be valid or binding unless it is so authorized and signed by the board or its authorized designee.

(2) A duplicate of every such order shall be kept on file in the office of the board.

(3) All cancellations of such orders made by the board shall be signed in the same manner and duplicates thereof kept on file in the office of the board. Nothing in this title shall be construed as preventing the board from accepting liquor on consignment.

(4) In the purchase of wine or malt beverages the board shall not require, as a term or condition of purchase, any warranty or affirmation with respect to the relationship of the price charged the board to any price charged any other buyer.

(5) This section does not apply to liquor franchises pursuant to this title.

FIFTY SEVENTH DAY, MARCH 7, 2011

2011 REGULAR SESSION

Sec. 204. RCW 66.08.130 and 1981 1st ex.s. c 5 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

For the purpose of obtaining information concerning any matter relating to the administration or enforcement of this title, the board, or any person appointed by it in writing for the purpose, may inspect the books and records of

- (1) any manufacturer;
- (2) any license holder;
- (3) any liquor franchise holder;
- (4) any drug store holding a permit to sell on prescriptions;

~~((4))~~ (5) the freight and express books and records and all waybills, bills of lading, receipts and documents in the possession of any common carrier doing business within the state, containing any information or record relating to any goods shipped or carried, or consigned or received for shipment or carriage within the state. Every manufacturer, license holder, liquor franchise holder, drug store holding a permit to sell on prescriptions, and common carrier, and every owner or officer or employee of the foregoing, who neglects or refuses to produce and submit for inspection any book, record or document referred to in this section when requested to do so by the board or by a person so appointed by it shall be guilty of a violation of this title.

Sec. 205. RCW 66.08.140 and 1945 c 48 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

For the purpose of obtaining information concerning any matter relating to the administration or enforcement of this title, the board, or any person appointed by it in writing for the purpose, may inspect the books, documents and records of any person lending money to or in any manner financing any license, or liquor franchise agreement, holder or applicant for license, or liquor franchise holder insofar as such books, documents and/or records pertain to the financial transaction involved. Every person who neglects or refuses to produce and submit for inspection any book, record or document as required by this section when requested to do so by the board or by a person duly appointed by it shall be guilty of a violation of this title.

Sec. 206. RCW 66.08.150 and 2007 c 370 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

The action, order, or decision of the board as to any denial of an application for the reissuance of a permit ~~((or))~~, license, or liquor franchise agreement or as to any revocation, suspension, or modification of any permit ~~((or))~~, license, or liquor franchise agreement shall be an adjudicative proceeding and subject to the applicable provisions of chapter 34.05 RCW.

(1) An opportunity for a hearing may be provided an applicant for the reissuance of a permit ~~((or))~~, license, or liquor franchise agreement prior to the disposition of the application, and if no such opportunity for a prior hearing is provided then an opportunity for a hearing to reconsider the application must be provided the applicant.

(2) An opportunity for a hearing must be provided a permittee ~~((or))~~, licensee, or liquor franchise holder prior to a revocation or modification of any permit ~~((or))~~, license, or liquor franchise agreement and, except as provided in subsection (4) of this section, prior to the suspension of any permit ~~((or))~~, license, or liquor franchise agreement.

(3) No hearing shall be required until demanded by the applicant, permittee, ~~((or))~~ licensee, or liquor franchise holder.

(4) The board may summarily suspend a license ~~((or))~~, permit, or liquor franchise agreement for a period of up to one hundred eighty days without a prior hearing if it finds that public health, safety, or welfare imperatively require emergency action, and it incorporates a finding to that effect in its order. Proceedings for revocation or other action must be promptly instituted and determined. An administrative law judge may extend the summary suspension period for up to one calendar year in the event the proceedings for revocation or other action cannot be completed during the initial one hundred eighty day period due to actions by the ~~((licensee or))~~ permittee, licensee, or liquor franchise holder. The board's enforcement division shall complete a preliminary staff investigation of the violation before requesting an emergency suspension by the board.

Sec. 207. RCW 66.24.010 and 2009 c 271 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Every license and liquor franchise agreement shall be issued in the name of the applicant, and the holder thereof shall not allow any other person to use the license.

(2) For the purpose of considering any application for a license or liquor franchise agreement, or the renewal of a license or liquor franchise agreement, the board may cause an inspection of the premises to be made, and may inquire into all matters in connection with the construction and operation of the premises. For the purpose of reviewing any application for a license or liquor franchise agreement and for considering the denial, suspension, revocation, or renewal or denial thereof, of any license or liquor franchise agreement, the liquor control board may consider any prior criminal conduct of the applicant including an administrative violation history record with the board and a criminal history record information check. The board may submit the criminal history record information check to the Washington state patrol and to the identification division of the federal bureau of investigation in order that these agencies may search their records for prior arrests and convictions of the individual or individuals who filled out the forms. The board shall require fingerprinting of any applicant whose criminal history record information check is submitted to the federal bureau of investigation. The provisions of RCW 9.95.240 and of chapter 9.96A RCW ~~((shall))~~ do not apply to such cases. Subject to the provisions of this section, the board may, in its discretion, grant or deny the renewal or license or liquor franchise agreement applied for. Denial may be based on, without limitation, the existence of chronic illegal activity documented in objections submitted pursuant to subsections (8)(d) and (12) of this section. Authority to approve an uncontested or unopposed license or liquor franchise agreement may be granted by the board to any staff member the board designates in writing. Conditions for granting such authority shall be adopted by rule. No retail license or liquor franchise agreement of any kind may be issued to:

(a) A person doing business as a sole proprietor who has not resided in the state for at least one month prior to receiving a license, except in cases of licenses or liquor franchise agreements issued to dining places on railroads, boats, or aircraft;

(b) A copartnership, unless all of the members thereof are qualified to obtain a license or liquor franchise agreement, as provided in this section;

(c) A person whose place of business is conducted by a manager or agent, unless such manager or agent possesses the same qualifications required of the licensee, or liquor franchise holder;

(d) A corporation or a limited liability company, unless it was created under the laws of the state of Washington or holds a certificate of authority to transact business in the state of Washington.

(3)(a) The board may, in its discretion, subject to the provisions of RCW 66.08.150, suspend or cancel any license or liquor franchise agreement; and all rights of the licensee, or liquor franchise holder to keep or sell liquor thereunder shall be suspended or terminated, as the case may be.

(b) The board shall immediately suspend the license ~~((or))~~, certificate, or liquor franchise agreement of a person who has been certified pursuant to RCW 74.20A.320 by the department of social and health services as a person who is not in compliance with a support order. If the person has continued to meet all other requirements for reinstatement during the suspension, reissuance of the license ~~((or))~~, certificate ~~((shall be))~~, or liquor franchise agreement is automatic upon the board's receipt of a release issued by the department of social and health services stating that the licensee, or liquor franchise holder is in compliance with the order.

(c) The board may request the appointment of administrative law judges under chapter 34.12 RCW who shall have power to administer oaths, issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses and the production of papers, books, accounts, documents, and testimony, examine witnesses, and to receive testimony in any inquiry, investigation, hearing, or proceeding in any part of the state, under such rules and regulations as the board may adopt.

(d) Witnesses shall be allowed fees and mileage each way to and from any such inquiry, investigation, hearing, or proceeding at the rate authorized by RCW 34.05.446. Fees need not be paid in advance of appearance of witnesses to testify or to produce books, records, or other legal evidence.

(e) In case of disobedience of any person to comply with the order of the board or a subpoena issued by the board, or any of its members, or administrative law judges, or on the refusal of a witness to testify to any matter regarding which he or she may be lawfully interrogated, the judge of the superior court of the county in which the person resides, on application of any member of the board or administrative law judge, shall compel obedience by contempt proceedings, as in the case of disobedience of the requirements of a subpoena issued from said court or a refusal to testify therein.

(4) Upon receipt of notice of the suspension or cancellation of a license or liquor franchise agreement, the licensee, or liquor franchise holder shall forthwith deliver up the license to the board. Where the license or liquor franchise agreement has been suspended only, the board shall return the license or liquor franchise agreement to the licensee, or liquor franchise holder at the expiration or termination of the period of suspension. The board shall notify all vendors in the city or place where the licensee, or liquor franchise holder has its premises of the suspension or cancellation of the license or liquor franchise agreement; and no employee may allow or cause any liquor to be delivered to or for any person at the premises of that licensee, or liquor franchise holder.

(5)(a) At the time of the original issuance of a spirits, beer, and wine restaurant license, the board shall prorate the license fee charged to the new licensee according to the number of calendar quarters, or portion thereof, remaining until the first renewal of that license is required.

(b) Unless sooner canceled, every license issued by the board shall expire at midnight of the thirtieth day of June of the fiscal year for which it was issued. However, if the board deems it feasible and desirable to do so, it may establish, by rule pursuant to chapter 34.05 RCW, a system for staggering the annual renewal dates for any and all licenses authorized by this chapter. If such a system of staggered annual renewal dates is established by the board, the license fees provided by this chapter shall be appropriately prorated during the first year that the system is in effect.

(6) Every license or liquor franchise agreement issued under this section shall be subject to all conditions and restrictions imposed by this title or by rules adopted by the board. All conditions and restrictions imposed by the board in the issuance of an individual license or liquor franchise agreement shall be listed on the face of the individual license or liquor franchise agreement along with the trade name, address, and expiration date.

(7) Every licensee, or liquor franchise holder shall post and keep posted its license, ~~((or))~~ licenses, or liquor franchise agreement, in a conspicuous place on the premises.

(8)(a) Unless (b) of this subsection applies, before the board issues a new or renewal license or liquor franchise agreement to an applicant it shall give notice of such application to the chief executive officer of the incorporated city or town, if the application is for a license within an incorporated city or town, or to the county legislative authority, if the application is for a license or liquor franchise agreement outside the boundaries of incorporated cities or towns.

(b) If the application for a special occasion license or liquor franchise agreement is for an event held during a county, district, or area fair as defined by RCW 15.76.120, and the county, district, or area fair is located on property owned by the county but located within an incorporated city or town, the county legislative authority shall be the entity notified by the board under (a) of this subsection. The board shall send a duplicate notice to the incorporated city or town within which the fair is located.

(c) The incorporated city or town through the official or employee selected by it, or the county legislative authority or the official or employee selected by it, ~~((shall have))~~ has the right to file with the board within twenty days after the date of transmittal of such notice for applications, or at least thirty days prior to the expiration date for renewals, written objections against the applicant or against the premises for which the new or renewal license or liquor franchise agreement is asked. The board may extend the time period for submitting written objections.

(d) The written objections shall include a statement of all facts upon which such objections are based, and in case written objections are filed, the city or town or county legislative authority may request and the liquor control board may in its discretion hold a hearing subject to the applicable provisions of Title 34 RCW. If the board makes an initial decision to deny a license ~~((or))~~ renewal, or liquor franchise agreement based on the written objections of an incorporated city or town or county legislative authority, the applicant may request a hearing subject to the applicable provisions of Title 34 RCW. If such a hearing is held at the request of the applicant, liquor control board representatives shall present and defend the board's initial decision to deny a license ~~((or))~~ renewal, or liquor franchise agreement.

(e) Upon the granting of a license or liquor franchise agreement under this title the board shall send written notification to the chief executive officer of the incorporated city or town in which the license or liquor franchise agreement is granted, or to the county legislative authority if the license or liquor franchise agreement is granted outside the boundaries of incorporated cities or towns. When the license or liquor franchise agreement is for a special occasion license or liquor franchise agreement for an event held during a county, district, or area fair as defined by RCW 15.76.120, and the county, district, or area fair is located on county-owned property but located within an incorporated city or town, the written notification shall be sent to both the incorporated city or town and the county legislative authority.

(9)(a) Before the board issues any license or liquor franchise agreement to any applicant, it shall give (i) due consideration to the location of the business to be conducted under such license or liquor franchise agreement with respect to the proximity of churches, schools, and public institutions and (ii) written notice, with receipt verification, of the application to public institutions identified by the board as appropriate to receive such notice, churches, and schools within five hundred feet of the premises ~~((to be licensed))~~. The board shall not issue a liquor license for either on-premises or off-premises consumption covering any premises not now licensed, if such premises are within five hundred feet of the premises of any tax-supported public elementary or secondary school measured along the most direct route over or across established public walks, streets, or other public passageway from the main entrance of the school to the nearest public entrance of the premises proposed for license or liquor franchise agreement, and if, after receipt by the school of the notice as provided in this subsection, the board receives written objection, within twenty days after receiving such notice, from an official representative or representatives of the school within five hundred feet of said proposed licensed premises, indicating to the board that there is an objection to the issuance of such license or liquor franchise agreement because of proximity to a school. The board may extend the time period for submitting objections. For the purpose of this section, "church" means a building erected for and used exclusively for religious worship and schooling or other activity in connection therewith. For the purpose of this section, "public institution" means institutions of higher education, parks, community centers, libraries, and transit centers.

(b) No liquor license may be issued or reissued by the board to any motor sports facility ((~~or~~)), licensee, or liquor franchise agreement operating within the motor sports facility unless the motor sports facility enforces a program reasonably calculated to prevent alcohol or alcoholic beverages not purchased within the facility from entering the facility and such program is approved by local law enforcement agencies.

(c) It is the intent under this subsection (9) that a retail license or liquor franchise agreement shall not be issued by the board where doing so would, in the judgment of the board, adversely affect a private school meeting the requirements for private schools under Title 28A RCW, which school is within five hundred feet of the proposed licensee, or liquor franchise holder. The board shall fully consider and give substantial weight to objections filed by private schools. If a license or liquor franchise agreement is issued despite the proximity of a private school, the board shall state in a letter addressed to the private school the board's reasons for issuing the license or liquor franchise agreement.

(10) The restrictions set forth in subsection (9) of this section shall not prohibit the board from authorizing the assumption of existing licenses now located within the restricted area by other persons or licenses or relocations of existing licensed premises within the restricted area. In no case may the licensed premises be moved closer to a church or school than it was before the assumption or relocation.

(11)(a) Nothing in this section prohibits the board, in its discretion, from issuing a temporary retail or distributor license to an applicant to operate the retail or distributor premises during the period the application for the license is pending. The board may establish a fee for a temporary license by rule.

(b) A temporary license issued by the board under this section shall be for a period not to exceed sixty days. A temporary license may be extended at the discretion of the board for additional periods of sixty days upon payment of an additional fee and upon compliance with all conditions required in this section.

(c) Refusal by the board to issue or extend a temporary license shall not entitle the applicant to request a hearing. A temporary license may be canceled or suspended summarily at any time if the board determines that good cause for cancellation or suspension exists. RCW 66.08.130 applies to temporary licenses.

(d) Application for a temporary license shall be on such form as the board shall prescribe. If an application for a temporary license is withdrawn before issuance or is refused by the board, the fee which accompanied such application shall be refunded in full.

or county including, but not limited to, open container violations, assaults, disturbances, disorderly conduct, or other criminal law violations, or as documented in crime statistics, police reports, emergency medical response data, calls for service, field data, or similar records of a law enforcement agency for the city, town, county, or any other municipal corporation or any state agency; or (b) an unreasonably high number of citations for violations of RCW 46.61.502 associated with the applicant's or licensee's operation of any licensed premises as indicated by the reported statements given to law enforcement upon arrest.

Sec. 208. RCW 66.24.012 and 1997 c 58 s 862 are each amended to read as follows:

The board shall immediately suspend the license or liquor franchise agreement of a person who has been certified pursuant to RCW 74.20A.320 by the department of social and health services as a person who is not in compliance with a support order or a residential or visitation order. If the person has continued to meet all other requirements for reinstatement during the suspension, reissuance of the license or liquor franchise agreement shall be automatic upon the board's receipt of a release issued by the department of social and health services stating that the licensee or liquor franchise holder is in compliance with the order.

Sec. 209. RCW 66.24.015 and 1988 c 200 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

An application for a new annual retail license under this title shall be accompanied by payment of a nonrefundable seventy-five dollar fee to cover expenses incurred in processing the application. If the application is approved, the application fee shall be applied toward the fee charged for the license. An application for a liquor franchise agreement under this title shall be accompanied by a nonrefundable fee to be determined by the board by rule. If the liquor franchise application is approved, the application fee shall be applied toward the fee charged for the license.

Sec. 210. RCW 66.24.025 and 2002 c 119 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) If the board approves, a license or liquor franchise agreement may be transferred, without charge, to the surviving spouse only of a deceased licensee or liquor franchise holder if the parties were maintaining a marital community and the license or liquor franchise agreement was issued in the names of one or both of the parties. For the purpose of considering the qualifications of the surviving party or parties to receive a liquor license or liquor franchise agreement, the liquor control board may require a criminal history record information check. The board may submit the criminal history record information check to the Washington state patrol and to the identification division of the federal bureau of investigation in order that these agencies may search their records for prior arrests and convictions of the individual or individuals who filled out the forms. The board shall require fingerprinting of any applicant whose criminal history record information check is submitted to the federal bureau of investigation.

(2) The proposed sale of more than ten percent of the outstanding and/or issued stock of a licensed corporation or any proposed change in the officers of a licensed corporation must be reported to the board, and board approval must be obtained before such changes are made. A fee of seventy-five dollars will be charged for the processing of such change of stock ownership and/or corporate officers.

Sec. 211. RCW 66.24.120 and 1973 1st ex.s. c 209 s 12 are each amended to read as follows:

The board in suspending any license or liquor franchise agreement may further provide in the order of suspension that such suspension shall be vacated upon payment to the board by the licensee or liquor franchise holder of a monetary penalty in an amount then fixed by the board.

FIFTY SEVENTH DAY, MARCH 7, 2011

2011 REGULAR SESSION

Sec. 212. RCW 66.44.200 and 1998 c 259 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) No person shall sell any liquor to any person apparently under the influence of liquor.

(2)(a) No person who is apparently under the influence of liquor may purchase or consume liquor on any premises licensed by the board or any liquor franchise designated by the board.

(b) A violation of this subsection is an infraction punishable by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars.

(c) A defendant's intoxication may not be used as a defense in an action under this subsection.

((((d) Until July 1, 2000, every establishment licensed under RCW 66.24.330 or 66.24.420 shall conspicuously post in the establishment notice of the prohibition against the purchase or consumption of liquor under this subsection.))

(3) An administrative action for violation of subsection (1) of this section and an infraction issued for violation of subsection (2) of this section arising out of the same incident are separate actions and the outcome of one shall not determine the outcome of the other.

Sec. 213. RCW 66.44.318 and 1995 c 100 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

Licensees holding nonretail class liquor licenses and liquor franchise holders are permitted to allow their employees between ~~((the))~~ the ages of eighteen and twenty-one to stock, merchandise, and handle liquor, beer, or wine on or about the nonretail premises if there is an adult twenty-one years of age or older on duty supervising such activities on the premises.

Sec. 214. RCW 66.44.340 and 1999 c 281 s 11 are each amended to read as follows:

Employers holding grocery store or beer and/or wine specialty shop licenses and liquor franchise holders exclusively are permitted to allow their employees, between the ages of eighteen and twenty-one years, to sell, stock, and handle liquor, beer, or wine in, on or about any establishment holding a grocery store or beer and/or wine specialty shop license or liquor franchise agreement exclusively(~~(= PROVIDED, That))~~ if there is an adult twenty-one years of age or older on duty supervising the sale of liquor at the licensed premises(~~(= PROVIDED, That))~~. Minor employees may make deliveries of beer and/or wine purchased from licensees holding grocery store or beer and/or wine specialty shop licenses exclusively, when delivery is made to cars of customers adjacent to such licensed premises but only, however, when the minor employee is accompanied by the purchaser.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 215. A new section is added to chapter 66.08 RCW to read as follows:

(1) By July 1, 2013, the board must close all state liquor stores and state liquor distribution facilities, and must sell at auction all assets pertaining to the state sale and distribution of liquor. Funds received from these auctions shall be deposited in the state general fund.

(2)(a) By July 1, 2013, the board must:

(i) Determine liquor franchise areas throughout the state in which a certain number of liquor franchises can be located;

(ii) Establish criteria for the placement of liquor franchises in liquor franchise areas, including input gained from cities, counties, towns, schools, churches, and public institutions pursuant to RCW 66.24.010, and the amount of the purchase price offered by the liquor franchise applicant;

(iii) Collect information from incorporated cities and towns regarding acceptable locations for liquor franchises within their boundaries. The board must not locate liquor franchises in any locations that have not been deemed acceptable by cities and towns;

(iv) Award liquor franchise agreements to applicants in all liquor franchise areas;

(v) Grant a liquor franchise agreement to a liquor franchise applicant who has paid applicable fees, has retail sales of grocery products for off-premises consumption that are more than forty percent of the applicant's gross sales, and operates a fully enclosed retail area encompassing at least ten thousand square feet. The board may issue a liquor franchise to an applicant with a retail area encompassing less than ten thousand square feet if the board determines that no applicant in the community the applicant serves meets the square footage requirement and the applicant meets operational requirements established by the board by rule or the applicant has obtained the approval of local government;

(vi) Grant a liquor franchise agreement to a liquor franchise applicant who has paid applicable fees and is a membership organization that requires members to be eighteen years of age and operates a fully enclosed retail area encompassing at least ten thousand square feet; and

(vii) Grant a liquor franchise agreement to a liquor franchise applicant who has paid applicable fees and is a federally recognized tribe with a current state contract for the sales of spirits, wine, or beer.

(b) For the purposes of subsection (a)(v) through (vii) of this subsection (2), no liquor franchise applicant can be granted a liquor franchise agreement if the liquor franchise applicant has had more than one public safety violation within the past two years.

(3) The board shall provide an orderly transition from state liquor store sales to liquor franchise sales.

(4) After July 1, 2013, it is unlawful for the board to lease space for or to operate a state retail or wholesale liquor store.

(5) Nothing in this section shall be construed to eliminate liquor vendors as referenced in RCW 66.08.050.

(6) The board may adopt rules to carry out the provisions of this section. These rules may include, but are not limited to:

(a) The establishment of franchise agreement periods, expiration dates, and renewal procedures;

(b) The enumeration of records to be kept by franchise holders;

(c) The procedures for advertising and other promotion of sales of spirits by liquor franchise holders, in accordance with RCW 66.08.060; and

(d) The establishment of fees and administrative penalties for liquor franchise holders.

(7) The price of liquor sold at liquor franchises must be set by each liquor franchise holder, but cannot be less than the price the franchise holder paid to obtain the liquor, including any applicable taxes.

(8) The board shall determine the hours and days, subject to RCW 66.08.167, during which liquor may be sold at liquor franchises.

PART III - FUTURE CHANGES

Sec. 301. RCW 66.04.010 and 2011 c . . . s 201 (section 201 of this act) are each amended to read as follows:

In this title, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Alcohol" is that substance known as ethyl alcohol, hydrated oxide of ethyl, or spirit of wine, which is commonly produced by the fermentation or distillation of grain, starch, molasses, or sugar, or other substances including all dilutions and mixtures of this substance. The term "alcohol" does not include alcohol in the possession of a manufacturer or distiller of alcohol fuel, as described in RCW 66.12.130, which is intended to be denatured and used as a fuel for use in motor vehicles, farm implements, and machines or implements of husbandry.

(2) "Authorized representative" means a person who:

(a) Is required to have a federal basic permit issued pursuant to the federal alcohol administration act, 27 U.S.C. Sec. 204;

(37) "Person" means an individual, copartnership, association, or corporation.

(38) "Physician" means a medical practitioner duly and regularly licensed and engaged in the practice of his profession within the state pursuant to chapter 18.71 RCW.

(39) "Prescription" means a memorandum signed by a physician and given by him to a patient for the obtaining of liquor pursuant to this title for medicinal purposes.

(40) "Public place" includes streets and alleys of incorporated cities and towns; state or county or township highways or roads; buildings and grounds used for school purposes; public dance halls and grounds adjacent thereto; those parts of establishments where beer may be sold under this title, soft drink establishments, public buildings, public meeting halls, lobbies, halls and dining rooms of hotels, restaurants, theatres, stores, garages and filling stations which are open to and are generally used by the public and to which the public is permitted to have unrestricted access; railroad trains, stages, and other public conveyances of all kinds and character, and the depots and waiting rooms used in conjunction therewith which are open to unrestricted use and access by the public; publicly owned bathing beaches, parks, and/or playgrounds; and all other places of like or similar nature to which the general public has unrestricted right of access, and which are generally used by the public.

(41) "Regulations" means regulations made by the board under the powers conferred by this title.

(42) "Restaurant" means any establishment provided with special space and accommodations where, in consideration of payment, food, without lodgings, is habitually furnished to the public, not including drug stores and soda fountains.

(43) "Sale" and "sell" include exchange, barter, and traffic; and also include the selling or supplying or distributing, by any means whatsoever, of liquor, or of any liquid known or described as beer or by any name whatever commonly used to describe malt or brewed liquor or of wine, by any person to any person; and also include a sale or selling within the state to a foreign consignee or his agent in the state. "Sale" and "sell" shall not include the giving, at no charge, of a reasonable amount of liquor by a person not licensed by the board to a person not licensed by the board, for personal use only. "Sale" and "sell" also does not include a raffle authorized under RCW 9.46.0315. However, the nonprofit organization conducting the raffle has obtained the appropriate permit from the board.

(44) "Soda fountain" means a place especially equipped with apparatus for the purpose of dispensing soft drinks, whether mixed or otherwise.

(45) "Spirits" means any beverage which contains alcohol obtained by distillation, except flavored malt beverages, but including wines exceeding twenty-four percent of alcohol by volume.

(46) ("~~Store~~" means a state liquor store established under this title.

~~—(47))~~ "Tavern" means any establishment with special space and ~~((48))~~ (47)(a) "Wine" means any alcoholic beverage obtained by fermentation of fruits (grapes, berries, apples, et cetera) or other agricultural product containing sugar, to which any saccharine substances may have been added before, during or after fermentation, and containing not more than twenty-four percent of alcohol by volume, including sweet wines fortified with wine spirits, such as port, sherry, muscatel and angelica, not exceeding twenty-four percent of alcohol by volume and not less than one-half of one percent of alcohol by volume. For purposes of this title, any beverage containing no more than fourteen percent of alcohol by volume when bottled or packaged by the manufacturer shall be referred to as "table wine," and any beverage containing alcohol in an amount more than fourteen percent by volume when bottled or packaged by the manufacturer shall be referred to as "fortified wine." However, "fortified wine" does not include: (i) Wines that are both sealed or capped by cork closure and aged two years or more; and (ii) wines that contain more than fourteen percent alcohol by volume solely as a result of the natural fermentation process and that have not been produced with the addition of wine spirits, brandy, or alcohol.

(b) This subsection shall not be interpreted to require that any wine be labeled with the designation "table wine" or "fortified wine."

~~((49))~~ (48) "Wine distributor" means a person who buys wine from a domestic winery, wine certificate of approval holder, or wine importer, or who acquires foreign produced wine from a source outside of the United States, for the purpose of selling the same not in violation of this title, or who represents such vintner or winery as agent.

~~((50))~~ (49) "Wine importer" means a person or business within Washington who purchases wine from a wine certificate of approval holder or who acquires foreign produced wine from a source outside of the United States for the purpose of selling the same pursuant to this title.

~~((51))~~ (50) "Winery" means a business conducted by any person for the manufacture of wine for sale, other than a domestic winery.

Sec. 302. RCW 66.08.012 and 1961 c 307 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

There shall be a board, known as the "Washington state liquor control board," consisting of three members~~((, to))~~. One member shall be qualified by local government experience. Two members shall be qualified by experience or training in matters pertaining to retail sales and/or distribution. All three members shall be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate, who shall each be paid an annual salary to be fixed by the governor in accordance with the provisions of RCW 43.03.040. The governor may, in his or her discretion, appoint one of the members as chair of the board, and a majority of the members shall constitute a quorum of the board.

Sec. 303. RCW 66.08.020 and 1933 ex.s. c 62 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

The administration of this title~~((, including the general control, management and supervision of all liquor stores, shall be))~~ is vested in the liquor control board, constituted under this title.

Sec. 304. RCW 66.08.026 and 2008 c 67 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

Administrative expenses of the board shall be appropriated and paid from the liquor revolving fund. These administrative expenses shall include, but not be limited to: The salaries and expenses of the board and its employees, ~~((the cost of opening additional state liquor stores and warehouses;))~~ legal services, pilot projects, annual or other audits, and other general costs of

(d) Determining the classes, varieties, and brands of liquor to be kept for sale at any store;

(e) Providing for the issuing and distributing of price lists showing the price to be paid by purchasers for each variety of liquor kept for sale under this title;

(f)) ~~(b)~~ Prescribing an official seal and official labels and stamps and determining the manner in which they shall be attached to every package of liquor sold or sealed under this title, including the prescribing of different official seals or different official labels for different classes of liquor;

~~((g) Providing for the payment by the board in whole or in part of the carrying charges on liquor shipped by freight or express;~~

(h)) ~~(c)~~ Prescribing forms to be used for purposes of this title or the regulations, and the terms and conditions to be contained in permits and licenses issued under this title, and the qualifications for receiving a permit or license issued under this title, including a criminal history record information check. The board may submit the criminal history record information check to the Washington state patrol and to the identification division of the federal bureau of investigation in order that these agencies may search their records for prior arrests and convictions of the individual or individuals who filled out the forms. The board shall require fingerprinting of any applicant whose criminal history record information check is submitted to the federal bureau of investigation;

~~((i))~~ ~~(d)~~ Prescribing the fees payable in respect of permits and licenses and liquor franchise agreements issued under this title for which no fees are prescribed in this title, and prescribing the fees for anything done or permitted to be done under the regulations;

~~((j))~~ ~~(e)~~ Prescribing the kinds and quantities of liquor which may be kept on hand by the holder of a special permit for the purposes named in the permit, regulating the manner in which the same shall be kept and disposed of, and providing for the inspection of the same at any time at the instance of the board;

~~((k))~~ ~~(f)~~ Regulating the sale of liquor kept by the holders of licenses and liquor franchise agreements which entitle the holder to purchase and keep liquor for sale;

~~((l))~~ ~~(g)~~ Prescribing the records of purchases or sales of liquor kept by the holders of licenses and liquor franchise agreements, and the reports to be made thereon to the board, and providing for inspection of the records so kept;

~~((m))~~ ~~(h)~~ Prescribing the kinds and quantities of liquor for which a prescription may be given, and the number of prescriptions which may be given to the same patient within a stated period;

~~((n))~~ ~~(i)~~ Prescribing the manner of giving and serving notices required by this title or the regulations, where not otherwise provided for in this title;

~~((o))~~ ~~(j)~~ Regulating premises in which liquor is kept for export from the state, or from which liquor is exported, prescribing the books and records to be kept therein and the reports to be made thereon to the board, and providing for the inspection of the premises and the books, records and the liquor so kept;

~~((p))~~ ~~(k)~~ Prescribing the conditions and qualifications requisite for the obtaining of club licenses and the books and records to be kept and the returns to be made by clubs, prescribing the manner of licensing clubs in any municipality or other locality, and providing for the inspection of clubs;

~~((q))~~ ~~(l)~~ Prescribing the conditions, accommodations and qualifications requisite for the obtaining of licenses to sell beer and wines, and regulating the sale of beer and wines thereunder;

~~((r))~~ ~~(m)~~ Specifying and regulating the time and periods when, and the manner, methods and means by which manufacturers shall deliver liquor within the state; and the time and periods when, and the manner, methods and means by which liquor may lawfully be conveyed or carried within the state;

~~((s))~~ ~~(n)~~ Providing for the making of returns by brewers of their sales of beer shipped within the state, or from the state, showing the gross amount of such sales and providing for the inspection of brewers' books and records, and for the checking of the accuracy of any such returns;

~~((t))~~ ~~(o)~~ Providing for the making of returns by the wholesalers of beer whose breweries are located beyond the boundaries of the state;

~~((u))~~ ~~(p)~~ Providing for the making of returns by any other liquor manufacturers, showing the gross amount of liquor produced or purchased, the amount sold within and exported from the state, and to whom so sold or exported, and providing for the inspection of the premises of any such liquor manufacturers, their books and records, and for the checking of any such return;

~~((v))~~ ~~(q)~~ Providing for the giving of fidelity bonds by any or all of the employees of the board. However, the premiums therefor shall be paid by the board;

~~((w))~~ ~~(r)~~ Providing for the shipment by mail or common carrier of liquor to any person holding a permit and residing in any unit which has, by election pursuant to this title, prohibited the sale of liquor therein;

~~((x))~~ ~~(s)~~ Prescribing methods of manufacture, conditions of sanitation, standards of ingredients, quality and identity of alcoholic beverages manufactured, sold, bottled, or handled by licensees and the board; and conducting from time to time, in the interest of the public health and general welfare, scientific studies and research relating to alcoholic beverages and the use and effect thereof;

FIFTY SEVENTH DAY, MARCH 7, 2011

2011 REGULAR SESSION

~~((7))~~ (1) Seizing, confiscating and destroying all alcoholic beverages manufactured, sold or offered for sale within this state which do not conform in all respects to the standards prescribed by this title or the regulations of the board. Nothing herein contained shall be construed as authorizing the liquor board to prescribe, alter, limit or in any way change the present law as to the quantity or percentage of alcohol used in the manufacturing of wine or other alcoholic beverages.

Sec. 306. RCW 66.08.050 and 2005 c 151 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

The board, subject to the provisions of this title and the rules, shall:

(1) ((Determine the localities within which state liquor stores shall be established throughout the state, and the number and situation of the stores within each locality;

(2) Appoint in cities and towns and other communities, in which no state liquor store is located, contract liquor stores. In addition, the board may) Appoint, in its discretion, a manufacturer that also manufactures liquor products other than wine under a license under this title, as a contract liquor store for the purpose of sale of liquor products of its own manufacture on the licensed premises only. ((Such contract liquor stores shall be authorized to sell liquor under the guidelines provided by law, rule, or contract, and)) Such contract liquor stores shall be subject to such additional rules and regulations consistent with this title as the board may require;

((3) Establish all necessary warehouses for the storing and bottling, diluting and rectifying of stocks of liquors for the purposes of this title;

(4) Provide for the leasing for periods not to exceed ten years of all premises required for the conduct of the business; and for remodeling the same, and the procuring of their furnishings, fixtures, and supplies; and for obtaining options of renewal of such leases by the lessee. The terms of such leases in all other respects shall be subject to the direction of the board;

(5)) (2) Determine the nature, form and capacity of all packages to be used for containing liquor kept for sale under this title;

~~((6))~~ (3) Execute or cause to be executed, all contracts, papers, and documents in the name of the board, under such regulations as the board may fix;

~~((7))~~ (4) Pay all customs, duties, excises, charges and obligations whatsoever relating to the business of the board;

((8) Require bonds from all employees in the discretion of the board, and to determine the amount of fidelity bond of each such employee;

(9)) (5) Perform services for the state lottery commission to such extent, and for such compensation, as may be mutually agreed upon between the board and the commission;

~~((10))~~ (6) Accept and deposit into the general fund-local account and disburse, subject to appropriation, federal grants or other funds or donations from any source for the purpose of improving public awareness of the health risks associated with alcohol consumption by youth and the abuse of alcohol by adults in Washington state. The board's alcohol awareness program shall cooperate with federal and state agencies, interested organizations, and individuals to effect an active public beverage alcohol awareness program;

~~((11))~~ (7) Perform all other matters and things, whether similar to the foregoing or not, to carry out the provisions of this title, and shall have full power to do each and every act necessary to the conduct of its business, including all buying, selling, preparation and approval of forms, and every other function of the business whatsoever, subject only to audit by the state auditor(~~(= PROVIDED, That)~~). However, the board shall have no authority to regulate the content of spoken language on licensed premises where wine and other liquors are served and where there is not a clear and present danger of disorderly conduct being provoked by such language.

Sec. 307. RCW 66.08.060 and 2005 c 231 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

((1) The board shall not advertise liquor in any form or through any medium whatsoever.

(2) In-store liquor merchandising is not advertising for the purposes of this section.

(3)) The board shall have power to adopt any and all reasonable rules as to the kind, character, and location of advertising of liquor for liquor franchise holders encompassing a retail area less than ten thousand square feet.

Sec. 308. RCW 66.08.167 and 2005 c 231 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) (~~Before the board determines which state liquor stores~~) The board may adopt rules regarding which liquor franchises will be open on Sundays(~~(=)~~). In adopting Sunday sales rules, the board shall give: (a) Due consideration to the location of the liquor (~~store~~) franchise with respect to the proximity of places of worship, schools, and public institutions; (b) due consideration to motor vehicle accident data in the proximity of the liquor (~~store~~) franchise; and (c) written notice by certified mail of the proposed Sunday opening, including proposed Sunday opening hours, to places of worship, schools, and public institutions within five hundred feet of the liquor (~~store~~) franchise proposed to be open on Sunday.

(2) Before permitting (~~an agency vendor~~) a liquor (~~store~~) franchise to open for business on Sunday, the board must meet the due consideration and written notice requirements established in subsection (1) of this section.

(3) For the purpose of this section, "place of worship" means a building erected for and used exclusively for religious worship and schooling or other related religious activity.

Sec. 309. RCW 66.16.110 and 1993 c 422 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

The board shall cause liquor franchises to (~~be posted~~) post in conspicuous places, in a number determined by the board, (~~within each state liquor store,~~) notices in print not less than one inch high warning persons that consumption of alcohol shortly before conception or during pregnancy may cause birth defects, including fetal alcohol syndrome and fetal alcohol effects.

Sec. 310. RCW 66.12.110 and 1999 c 281 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

A person twenty-one years of age or over may bring into the state from without the United States, free of tax and markup, for his personal or household use such alcoholic beverages as have been declared and permitted to enter the United States duty free under federal law.

Such entry of alcoholic beverages in excess of that herein provided may be authorized by the board upon payment of ((an equivalent markup and tax as would be applicable to the purchase of the same or similar liquor at retail from a Washington state liquor store)) state sales tax. The board shall adopt appropriate regulations pursuant to chapter 34.05 RCW for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this section. The board may issue a spirits, beer, and wine private club license to a charitable or nonprofit corporation of the state of Washington, the majority of the officers and directors of which are United States citizens and the minority of the officers and directors of which are citizens of the Dominion of Canada, and where the location of the premises for such spirits, beer, and wine private club license is not more than ten miles south of the border between the United States and the province of British Columbia.

FIFTY SEVENTH DAY, MARCH 7, 2011

2011 REGULAR SESSION

Sec. 311. RCW 66.12.120 and 1995 c 100 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

Notwithstanding any other provision of Title 66 RCW, a person twenty-one years of age or over may, free of tax and markup, for personal or household use, bring into the state of Washington from another state no more than once per calendar month up to two liters of spirits or wine or two hundred eighty-eight ounces of beer. Additionally, such person may be authorized by the board to bring into the state of Washington from another state a reasonable amount of alcoholic beverages in excess of that provided in this section for personal or household use only upon payment of ~~((an equivalent markup and tax as would be applicable to the purchase of the same or similar liquor at retail from a state liquor store))~~ state sales tax. The board shall adopt appropriate regulations pursuant to chapter 34.05 RCW for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this section.

Sec. 312. RCW 66.12.140 and 1982 c 85 s 8 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Nothing in this title shall prevent the use of beer, wine, and/or spirituous liquor, for cooking purposes only, in conjunction with a culinary or restaurant course offered by a college, university, community college, area vocational technical institute, or private vocational school. Further, nothing in this title shall prohibit the making of beer or wine in food fermentation courses offered by a college, university, community college, area vocational technical institute, or private vocational school.

(2) "Culinary or restaurant course" as used in this section means a course of instruction which includes practical experience in food preparation under the supervision of an instructor who is twenty-one years of age or older.

(3) Persons under twenty-one years of age participating in culinary or restaurant courses may handle beer, wine, or spirituous liquor for purposes of participating in the courses, but nothing in this section shall be construed to authorize consumption of liquor by persons under twenty-one years of age or to authorize possession of liquor by persons under twenty-one years of age at any time or place other than while preparing food under the supervision of the course instructor.

(4) Beer, wine, and/or spirituous liquor to be used in culinary or restaurant courses shall be purchased at retail from ~~((the board or))~~ a retailer licensed under this title. All such liquor shall be securely stored in the food preparation area and shall not be displayed in an area open to the general public.

(5) Colleges, universities, community colleges, area vocational technical institutes, and private vocational schools shall obtain the prior written approval of the board for use of beer, wine, and/or spirituous liquor for cooking purposes in their culinary or restaurant courses.

Sec. 313. RCW 66.20.010 and 2008 c 181 s 602 are each amended to read as follows:

Upon application in the prescribed form being made to any employee authorized by the board to issue permits, accompanied by payment of the prescribed fee, and upon the employee being satisfied that the applicant should be granted a permit under this title, the employee shall issue to the applicant under such regulations and at such fee as may be prescribed by the board a permit of the class applied for, as follows:

(1) Where the application is for a special permit by a physician or dentist, or by any person in charge of an institution regularly conducted as a hospital or sanatorium for the care of persons in ill health, or as a home devoted exclusively to the care of aged people, a special liquor purchase permit, except that the governor may waive the requirement for a special liquor purchase permit under this subsection pursuant to an order issued under RCW 43.06.220(2);

(2) Where the application is for a special permit by a person engaged within the state in mechanical or manufacturing business or in scientific pursuits requiring alcohol for use therein, or by any private individual, a special permit to purchase alcohol for the purpose named in the permit, except that the governor may waive the requirement for a special liquor purchase permit under this subsection pursuant to an order issued under RCW 43.06.220(2);

(3) Where the application is for a special permit to consume liquor at a banquet, at a specified date and place, a special permit to purchase liquor for consumption at such banquet, to such applicants as may be fixed by the board;

(4) Where the application is for a special permit to consume liquor on the premises of a business not licensed under this title, a special permit to purchase liquor for consumption thereon for such periods of time and to such applicants as may be fixed by the board;

(5) Where the application is for a special permit by a manufacturer to import or purchase within the state alcohol, malt, and other materials containing alcohol to be used in the manufacture of liquor, or other products, a special permit;

(6) Where the application is for a special permit by a person operating a drug store to purchase liquor at retail prices only, to be thereafter sold by such person on the prescription of a physician, a special liquor purchase permit, except that the governor may waive the requirement for a special liquor purchase permit under this subsection pursuant to an order issued under RCW 43.06.220(2);

(7) Where the application is for a special permit by an authorized representative of a military installation operated by or for any of the armed forces within the geographical boundaries of the state of Washington, a special permit to purchase liquor for use on such military installation ~~((at prices to be fixed by the board))~~;

(8) Where the application is for a special permit by a vendor that manufactures or sells a product which cannot be effectively presented to potential buyers without serving it with liquor or by a manufacturer, importer, or distributor, or representative thereof, to serve liquor without charge to delegates and guests at a convention of a trade association composed of licensees of the board, when the said liquor is served in a hospitality room or from a booth in a board-approved suppliers' display room at the convention, and when the liquor so served is for consumption in the said hospitality room or display room during the convention, anything in Title 66 RCW to the contrary notwithstanding. Any such spirituous liquor shall be purchased from ~~((the board))~~ a liquor franchise or a spirits, beer, and wine restaurant licensee and any such beer and wine shall be subject to the taxes imposed by RCW 66.24.290 and 66.24.210;

(9) Where the application is for a special permit by a manufacturer, importer, or distributor, or representative thereof, to donate liquor for a reception, breakfast, luncheon, or dinner for delegates and guests at a convention of a trade association composed of licensees of the board, when the liquor so donated is for consumption at the said reception, breakfast, luncheon, or dinner during the convention, anything in Title 66 RCW to the contrary notwithstanding. Any such spirituous liquor shall be purchased from ~~((the board))~~ liquor franchise or a spirits, beer, and wine restaurant licensee and any such beer and wine shall be subject to the taxes imposed by RCW 66.24.290 and 66.24.210;

(10) Where the application is for a special permit by a manufacturer, importer, or distributor, or representative thereof, to donate and/or serve liquor without charge to delegates and guests at an international trade fair, show, or exposition held under the auspices of a federal, state, or local governmental entity or organized and promoted by a nonprofit organization, anything in Title 66 RCW to the contrary notwithstanding. Any such spirituous liquor shall be purchased from ~~((the board))~~ a liquor franchise and any such beer or wine shall be subject to the taxes imposed by RCW 66.24.290 and 66.24.210;

FIFTY SEVENTH DAY, MARCH 7, 2011

(11) Where the application is for an annual special permit by a person operating a bed and breakfast lodging facility to donate or serve wine or beer without charge to overnight guests of the facility if the wine or beer is for consumption on the premises of the facility. "Bed and breakfast lodging facility," as used in this subsection, means a facility offering from one to eight lodging units and breakfast to travelers and guests.

Sec. 314. RCW 66.20.160 and 2005 c 151 s 8 are each amended to read as follows:

Words and phrases as used in RCW 66.20.160 to 66.20.210, inclusive, shall have the following meaning:

"Card of identification" means any one of those cards described in RCW 66.16.040.

"Licensee" means the holder of a retail liquor license issued by the board, and includes any employee or agent of the licensee.

~~("Store employee" means a person employed in a state liquor store to sell liquor.)~~ "Liquor franchise holder" means a person who has been granted a liquor franchise agreement in accordance with the provisions of this title.

Sec. 315. RCW 66.20.170 and 1973 1st ex.s. c 209 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

A card of identification may, for the purpose of this title and for the purpose of procuring liquor, be accepted as an identification card by any licensee or ~~((store employee))~~ liquor franchise holder and as evidence of legal age of the person presenting such card, provided the licensee or ~~((store employee))~~ liquor franchise holder complies with the conditions and procedures prescribed herein and such regulations as may be made by the board.

Sec. 316. RCW 66.20.180 and 2005 c 151 s 9 are each amended to read as follows:

A card of identification shall be presented by the holder thereof upon request of any licensee, ~~((store employee,))~~ contract liquor store manager, contract liquor store employee, liquor franchise holder, peace officer, or enforcement officer of the board for the purpose of aiding the licensee, ~~((store employee,))~~ contract liquor store manager, contract liquor store employee, liquor franchise holder, peace officer, or enforcement officer of the board to determine whether or not such person is of legal age to purchase liquor when such person desires to procure liquor from a licensed establishment or state liquor store or contract liquor store.

Sec. 317. RCW 66.20.190 and 1981 1st ex.s. c 5 s 9 are each amended to read as follows:

In addition to the presentation by the holder and verification by the licensee or ~~((store employee))~~ liquor franchise holder of such card of identification, the licensee or ~~((store employee))~~ liquor franchise holder who is still in doubt about the true age of the holder shall require the person whose age may be in question to sign a certification card and record an accurate description and serial number of his card of identification thereon. Such statement shall be upon a five-inch by eight-inch file card, which card shall be filed alphabetically by the licensee or ~~((store employee))~~ liquor franchise holder at or before the close of business on the day on which the statement is executed, in the file box containing a suitable alphabetical index and the card shall be subject to examination by any peace officer or agent or employee of the board at all times. The certification card shall also contain in bold-face type a statement stating that the signer understands that conviction for unlawful purchase of alcoholic beverages or misuse of the certification card may result in criminal penalties including imprisonment or fine or both.

Sec. 318. RCW 66.20.200 and 2003 c 53 s 295 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) It shall be unlawful for the owner of a card of identification to transfer the card to any other person for the purpose of aiding such person to procure alcoholic beverages from any licensee or ~~((store~~

~~employee))~~ liquor franchise holder. Any person who shall permit his or her card of identification to be used by another or transfer such card to another for the purpose of aiding such transferee to obtain alcoholic beverages from a licensee or ~~((store employee))~~ liquor franchise holder or gain admission to a premises or portion of a premises classified by the board as off-limits to persons under twenty-one years of age, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor punishable as provided by RCW 9A.20.021, except that a minimum fine of two hundred fifty dollars shall be imposed and any sentence requiring community restitution shall require not fewer than twenty-five hours of community restitution.

(2) Any person not entitled thereto who unlawfully procures or has issued or transferred to him or her a card of identification, and any person who possesses a card of identification not issued to him or her, and any person who makes any false statement on any certification card required by RCW 66.20.190, to be signed by him or her, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor punishable as provided by RCW 9A.20.021, except that a minimum fine of two hundred fifty dollars shall be imposed and any sentence requiring community restitution shall require not fewer than twenty-five hours of community restitution.

Sec. 319. RCW 66.20.210 and 1973 1st ex.s. c 209 s 9 are each amended to read as follows:

No licensee or the agent or employee of the licensee, or ~~((store employee))~~ liquor franchise holder, shall be prosecuted criminally or be sued in any civil action for serving liquor to a person under legal age to purchase liquor if such person has presented a card of identification in accordance with RCW 66.20.180, and has signed a certification card as provided in RCW 66.20.190.

Such card in the possession of a licensee may be offered as a defense in any hearing held by the board for serving liquor to the person who signed the card and may be considered by the board as evidence that the licensee acted in good faith.

Sec. 320. RCW 66.24.145 and 2010 c 290 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Any craft distillery may sell spirits of its own production for consumption off the premises, up to two liters per person per day. ~~((Spirits sold under this subsection must be purchased from the board and sold at the retail price established by the board.))~~ A craft distillery selling spirits under this subsection must comply with the applicable laws and rules relating to retailers.

(2) Any craft distillery may contract distill spirits for, and sell contract distilled spirits to, holders of distillers' or manufacturers' licenses, including licenses issued under RCW 66.24.520, or for export.

(3) Any craft distillery licensed under this section may provide, free of charge, one-half ounce or less samples of spirits of its own production to persons on the premises of the distillery. The maximum total per person per day is two ounces. Every person who participates in any manner in the service of samples must obtain a class 12 alcohol server permit. ~~((Spirits used for samples must be purchased from the board.))~~

(4) The board shall adopt rules to implement the alcohol server permit requirement and may adopt additional rules to implement this section.

(5) Distilling is an agricultural practice.

Sec. 321. RCW 66.24.360 and 2007 c 226 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

There shall be a beer and/or wine retailer's license to be designated as a grocery store license to sell beer, strong beer, and/or wine at retail in bottles, cans, and original containers, not to be consumed upon the premises where sold ~~((, at any store other than the state liquor stores)).~~

FIFTY SEVENTH DAY, MARCH 7, 2011

2011 REGULAR SESSION

(1) Licensees obtaining a written endorsement from the board may also sell malt liquor in kegs or other containers capable of holding less than five and one-half gallons of liquid.

(2) The annual fee for the grocery store license is one hundred fifty dollars for each store.

(3) The board shall issue a restricted grocery store license authorizing the licensee to sell beer and only table wine, if the board finds upon issuance or renewal of the license that the sale of strong beer or fortified wine would be against the public interest. In determining the public interest, the board shall consider at least the following factors:

(a) The likelihood that the applicant will sell strong beer or fortified wine to persons who are intoxicated;

(b) Law enforcement problems in the vicinity of the applicant's establishment that may arise from persons purchasing strong beer or fortified wine at the establishment; and

(c) Whether the sale of strong beer or fortified wine would be detrimental to or inconsistent with a government-operated or funded alcohol treatment or detoxification program in the area.

If the board receives no evidence or objection that the sale of strong beer or fortified wine would be against the public interest, it shall issue or renew the license without restriction, as applicable. The burden of establishing that the sale of strong beer or fortified wine by the licensee would be against the public interest is on those persons objecting.

(4) Licensees holding a grocery store license must maintain a minimum three thousand dollar inventory of food products for human consumption, not including pop, beer, strong beer, or wine.

(5) Upon approval by the board, the grocery store licensee may also receive an endorsement to permit the international export of beer, strong beer, and wine.

(a) Any beer, strong beer, or wine sold under this endorsement must have been purchased from a licensed beer or wine distributor licensed to do business within the state of Washington.

(b) Any beer, strong beer, and wine sold under this endorsement must be intended for consumption outside the state of Washington and the United States and appropriate records must be maintained by the licensee.

~~(c) ((A holder of this special endorsement to the grocery store license shall be considered not in violation of RCW 66.28.010.~~

~~(d))~~ Any beer, strong beer, or wine sold under this license must be sold at a price no less than the acquisition price paid by the holder of the license.

~~((e))~~ (d) The annual cost of this endorsement is five hundred dollars and is in addition to the license fees paid by the licensee for a grocery store license.

(6) A grocery store licensee holding a snack bar license under RCW 66.24.350 may receive an endorsement to allow the sale of confections containing more than one percent but not more than ten percent alcohol by weight to persons twenty-one years of age or older.

Sec. 322. RCW 66.24.371 and 2009 c 373 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) There shall be a beer and/or wine retailer's license to be designated as a beer and/or wine specialty shop license to sell beer, strong beer, and/or wine at retail in bottles, cans, and original containers, not to be consumed upon the premises where sold~~((at any store other than the state liquor stores))~~. Licensees obtaining a written endorsement from the board may also sell malt liquor in kegs or other containers capable of holding four gallons or more of liquid. The annual fee for the beer and/or wine specialty shop license is one hundred dollars for each store. The sale of any container holding four gallons or more must comply with RCW 66.28.200 and 66.28.220.

(2) Licensees under this section may provide, free or for a charge, single-serving samples of two ounces or less to customers for the purpose of sales promotion. Sampling activities of licensees under this section are subject to RCW ~~((66.28.040))~~ 66.28.305 and 66.28.040 and the cost of sampling under this section may not be borne, directly or indirectly, by any manufacturer, importer, or distributor of liquor.

(3) The board shall issue a restricted beer and/or wine specialty shop license, authorizing the licensee to sell beer and only table wine, if the board finds upon issuance or renewal of the license that the sale of strong beer or fortified wine would be against the public interest. In determining the public interest, the board shall consider at least the following factors:

(a) The likelihood that the applicant will sell strong beer or fortified wine to persons who are intoxicated;

(b) Law enforcement problems in the vicinity of the applicant's establishment that may arise from persons purchasing strong beer or fortified wine at the establishment; and

(c) Whether the sale of strong beer or fortified wine would be detrimental to or inconsistent with a government-operated or funded alcohol treatment or detoxification program in the area.

If the board receives no evidence or objection that the sale of strong beer or fortified wine would be against the public interest, it shall issue or renew the license without restriction, as applicable. The burden of establishing that the sale of strong beer or fortified wine by the licensee would be against the public interest is on those persons objecting.

(4) Licensees holding a beer and/or wine specialty shop license must maintain a minimum three thousand dollar wholesale inventory of beer, strong beer, and/or wine.

Sec. 323. RCW 66.24.380 and 2005 c 151 s 10 are each amended to read as follows:

There shall be a retailer's license to be designated as a special occasion license to be issued to a not-for-profit society or organization to sell spirits, beer, and wine by the individual serving for on-premises consumption at a specified event, such as at picnics or other special occasions, at a specified date and place; fee sixty dollars per day.

(1) The not-for-profit society or organization is limited to sales of no more than twelve calendar days per year. For the purposes of this subsection, special occasion licensees that are "agricultural area fairs" or "agricultural county, district, and area fairs," as defined by RCW 15.76.120, that receive a special occasion license may, once per calendar year, count as one event fairs that last multiple days, so long as alcohol sales are at set dates, times, and locations, and the board receives prior notification of the dates, times, and locations. The special occasion license applicant will pay the sixty dollars per day for this event.

(2) The licensee may sell beer and/or wine in original, unopened containers for off-premises consumption if permission is obtained from the board prior to the event.

(3) Sale, service, and consumption of spirits, beer, and wine is to be confined to specified premises or designated areas only.

(4) Spirituous liquor sold under this special occasion license must be purchased at a ~~((state liquor store or contract liquor store without discount at retail prices, including all taxes))~~ liquor franchise.

(5) Any violation of this section is a class 1 civil infraction having a maximum penalty of two hundred fifty dollars as provided for in chapter 7.80 RCW.

Sec. 324. RCW 66.24.395 and 1997 c 321 s 25 are each amended to read as follows:

(1)(a) There shall be a license that may be issued to corporations, associations, or persons operating as federally licensed commercial common passenger carriers engaged in interstate commerce, in or over territorial limits of the state of Washington on passenger trains, vessels, or airplanes. Such license shall permit the sale of spirituous liquor, wine, and beer at retail for passenger consumption within the state upon one such train passenger car, vessel, or airplane, while in or over the territorial limits of the state. Such license shall include the privilege of transporting into and storing within the state such liquor for subsequent retail sale to passengers in passenger train cars, vessels or airplanes. The fees for such master license shall be seven hundred fifty dollars per annum (class CCI-1)(~~PROVIDED, That~~). However:

(i) Upon payment of an additional sum of five dollars per annum per car, or vessel, or airplane, the privileges authorized by such license classes shall extend to additional cars, or vessels, or airplanes operated by the same licensee within the state, and a duplicate license for each additional car, or vessel, or airplane shall be issued(~~PROVIDED, FURTHER, That~~);

(ii) Such licensee may make such sales and/or service upon cars, or vessels, or airplanes in emergency for not more than five consecutive days without such license(~~AND PROVIDED, FURTHER, That~~); and

(iii) Such license shall be valid only while such cars, or vessels, or airplanes are actively operated as common carriers for hire in interstate commerce and not while they are out of such common carrier service.

(b) Alcoholic beverages sold and/or served for consumption by such interstate common carriers while within or over the territorial limits of this state shall be subject to ((~~such board markup and~~)) the state liquor taxes in an amount to approximate the revenue that would have been realized from ((~~such markup and~~)) the taxes had the alcoholic beverages been purchased in Washington(~~PROVIDED, That the board's markup shall be applied on spirituous liquor only~~). Such common carriers shall report such sales and/or service and pay ((~~such markup and~~)) taxes in accordance with procedures prescribed by the board.

(2) Alcoholic beverages sold and delivered in this state to interstate common carriers for use under the provisions of this section shall be considered exported from the state, subject to the conditions provided in subsection (1)(b) of this section. The storage facilities for liquor within the state by common carriers licensed under this section shall be subject to written approval by the board.

Sec. 325. RCW 66.24.400 and 2008 c 41 s 10 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) There shall be a retailer's license, to be known and designated as a spirits, beer, and wine restaurant license, to sell spirituous liquor by the individual glass, beer, and wine, at retail, for consumption on the premises, including mixed drinks and cocktails compounded or mixed on the premises only. A club licensed under chapter 70.62 RCW with overnight sleeping accommodations, that is licensed under this section may sell liquor by the bottle to registered guests of the club for consumption in guest rooms, hospitality rooms, or at banquets in the club. A patron of a bona fide restaurant or club licensed under this section may remove from the premises recorked or recapped in its original container any portion of wine which was purchased for consumption with a meal, and registered guests who have purchased liquor from the club by the bottle may remove from the premises any unused portion of such liquor in its original container. Such license may be issued only to bona fide restaurants and clubs, and to dining, club and buffet cars on passenger trains, and to dining places on passenger boats and airplanes, and to dining places at civic centers with facilities for sports, entertainment, and conventions, and to such other establishments operated and maintained primarily for the benefit of tourists, vacationers and travelers as the board shall determine are qualified to have, and in the discretion of the board should have, a spirits, beer, and wine restaurant license under the provisions and limitations of this title.

(2) The board may issue an endorsement to the spirits, beer, and wine restaurant license that allows the holder of a spirits, beer, and wine restaurant license to sell bottled wine for off-premises consumption. Spirits and beer may not be sold for off-premises consumption under this section except as provided in subsection (4) of this section. The annual fee for the endorsement under this subsection is one hundred twenty dollars.

(3) The holder of a spirits, beer, and wine license or its manager may furnish beer, wine, or spirituous liquor to the licensee's employees free of charge as may be required for use in connection with instruction on beer, wine, or spirituous liquor. The instruction may include the history, nature, values, and characteristics of beer, wine, or spirituous liquor, the use of wine lists, and the methods of presenting, serving, storing, and handling beer, wine, and spirituous liquor. The spirits, beer, and wine restaurant licensee must use the beer, wine, or spirituous liquor it obtains under its license for the sampling as part of the instruction. The instruction must be given on the premises of the spirits, beer, and wine restaurant licensee.

(4) The board may issue an endorsement to the spirits, beer, and wine restaurant license that allows the holder of a spirits, beer, and wine restaurant license to sell for off-premises consumption malt liquor in kegs or other containers that are capable of holding four gallons or more of liquid and are registered in accordance with RCW 66.28.200. Beer may also be sold under the endorsement to a purchaser in a sanitary container brought to the premises by the purchaser or furnished by the licensee and filled at the tap by the retailer at the time of sale. The annual fee for the endorsement under this subsection is one hundred twenty dollars.

(5) The board may issue an endorsement to the spirits, beer, and wine restaurant license that allows the holder of a spirits, beer, and wine restaurant license or liquor franchise holder to purchase spirits, beer, and wine from Washington state distributors or directly from out-of-state distillers, brewers, or wineries.

Sec. 326. RCW 66.24.540 and 1999 c 129 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

There shall be a retailer's license to be designated as a motel license. The motel license may be issued to a motel regardless of whether it holds any other class of license under this title. No license may be issued to a motel offering rooms to its guests on an hourly basis. The license authorizes the licensee to:

(1) Sell, at retail, in locked honor bars, spirits in individual bottles not to exceed fifty milliliters, beer in individual cans or bottles not to exceed twelve ounces, and wine in individual bottles not to exceed one hundred eighty-seven milliliters, to registered guests of the motel for consumption in guest rooms.

(a) Each honor bar must also contain snack foods. No more than one-half of the guest rooms may have honor bars.

(b) (~~All spirits to be sold under the license must be purchased from the board.~~

~~(e))~~ The licensee shall require proof of age from the guest renting a guest room and requesting the use of an honor bar. The guest shall also execute an affidavit verifying that no one under twenty-one years of age shall have access to the spirits, beer, and wine in the honor bar.

(2) Provide without additional charge, to overnight guests of the motel, beer and wine by the individual serving for on-premises consumption at a specified regular date, time, and place as may be fixed by the board. Self-service by attendees is prohibited. All beer and wine service must be done by an alcohol server as defined in RCW 66.20.300 and comply with RCW 66.20.310.

The annual fee for a motel license is five hundred dollars.

"Motel" as used in this section means a transient accommodation licensed under chapter 70.62 RCW.

FIFTY SEVENTH DAY, MARCH 7, 2011

2011 REGULAR SESSION

As used in this section, "spirits," "beer," and "wine" have the meanings defined in RCW 66.04.010.

Sec. 327. RCW 66.24.590 and 2008 c 41 s 11 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) There shall be a retailer's license to be designated as a hotel license. No license may be issued to a hotel offering rooms to its guests on an hourly basis. Food service provided for room service, banquets or conferences, or restaurant operation under this license shall meet the requirements of rules adopted by the board.

(2) The hotel license authorizes the licensee to:

(a) Sell (~~(spirited))~~ spirited liquor, beer, and wine, by the individual glass, at retail, for consumption on the premises, including mixed drinks and cocktails compounded and mixed on the premises;

(b) Sell, at retail, from locked honor bars, in individual units, spirits not to exceed fifty milliliters, beer in individual units not to exceed twelve ounces, and wine in individual bottles not to exceed three hundred eighty-five milliliters, to registered guests of the hotel for consumption in guest rooms. The licensee shall require proof of age from the guest renting a guest room and requesting the use of an honor bar. The guest shall also execute an affidavit verifying that no one under twenty-one years of age shall have access to the spirits, beer, and wine in the honor bar;

(c) Provide without additional charge, to overnight guests, spirits, beer, and wine by the individual serving for on-premises consumption at a specified regular date, time, and place as may be fixed by the board. Self-service by attendees is prohibited;

(d) Sell beer, including strong beer, wine, or spirits, in the manufacturer's sealed container or by the individual drink to guests through room service, or through service to occupants of private residential units which are part of the buildings or complex of buildings that include the hotel;

(e) Sell beer, including strong beer, or wine, in the manufacturer's sealed container at retail sales locations within the hotel premises;

(f) Sell beer to a purchaser in a sanitary container brought to the premises by the purchaser or furnished by the licensee and filled at the tap in the restaurant area by the licensee at the time of sale;

(g) Sell for on or off-premises consumption, including through room service and service to occupants of private residential units managed by the hotel, wine carrying a label exclusive to the hotel license holder;

~~((g))~~ (h) Place in guest rooms at check-in, a complimentary bottle of beer, including strong beer, or wine in a manufacturer-sealed container, and make a reference to this service in promotional material.

(3) If all or any facilities for alcoholic beverage service and the preparation, cooking, and serving of food are operated under contract or joint venture agreement, the operator may hold a license separate from the license held by the operator of the hotel. Food and beverage inventory used in separate licensed operations at the hotel may not be shared and shall be separately owned and stored by the separate licensees.

(4) ~~((All spirits to be sold under this license must be purchased from the board.~~

~~((5))~~ All on-premise alcoholic beverage service must be done by an alcohol server as defined in RCW 66.20.300 and must comply with RCW 66.20.310.

~~((6))~~ (5)(a) The hotel license allows the licensee to remove from the liquor stocks at the licensed premises, liquor for sale and service at event locations at a specified date and place not currently licensed by the board. If the event is open to the public, it must be sponsored by a society or organization as defined by RCW 66.24.375. If attendance at the event is limited to members or invited guests of the sponsoring individual, society, or organization, the requirement that the sponsor must be a society or organization as defined by RCW 66.24.375 is waived.

(b) The holder of this license shall, if requested by the board, notify the board or its designee of the date, time, place, and location of any event. Upon request, the licensee shall provide to the board all necessary or requested information concerning the society or organization that will be holding the function at which the endorsed license will be utilized.

(c) Licensees may cater events on a domestic winery premises.

~~((7))~~ (6) The holder of this license or its manager may furnish spirits, beer, or wine to the licensee's employees who are twenty-one years of age or older free of charge as may be required for use in connection with instruction on spirits, beer, and wine. The instruction may include the history, nature, values, and characteristics of spirits, beer, or wine, the use of wine lists, and the methods of presenting, serving, storing, and handling spirits, beer, or wine. The licensee must use the beer or wine it obtains under its license for the sampling as part of the instruction. The instruction must be given on the premises of the licensee.

~~((8))~~ (7) Minors may be allowed in all areas of the hotel where alcohol may be consumed; however, the consumption must be incidental to the primary use of the area. These areas include, but are not limited to, tennis courts, hotel lobbies, and swimming pool areas. If an area is not a mixed use area, and is primarily used for alcohol service, the area must be designated and restricted to access by minors.

~~((9))~~ (8) The annual fee for this license is two thousand dollars.

~~((10))~~ (9) As used in this section, "hotel," "spirits," "beer," and "wine" have the meanings defined in RCW 66.24.410 and 66.04.010.

Sec. 328. RCW 66.28.060 and 2008 c 94 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

Every distillery licensed under this title shall make monthly reports to the board pursuant to the regulations. ((No such distillery shall make any sale of spirits within the state of Washington except to the board and as provided in RCW 66.24.145.))

The measure was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Brown moved that the following amendment by Senators Brown and Zarelli be adopted:

On page 8, after line 18, insert the following:

Sec. 2. RCW 41.05.021 and 2009 c 537 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The Washington state health care authority is created within the executive branch. The authority shall have an administrator appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate. The administrator shall serve at the pleasure of the governor. The administrator may employ up to seven staff members, who shall be exempt from chapter 41.06 RCW, and any additional staff members as are necessary to administer this chapter. The administrator may delegate any power or duty vested in him or her by this chapter, including authority to make final decisions and enter final orders in hearings conducted under chapter 34.05 RCW. The primary duties of the authority shall be to: Administer state employees' insurance benefits and retired or disabled school employees' insurance benefits; administer the basic health plan pursuant to chapter 70.47 RCW; study state-purchased health care programs in order to maximize cost containment in these programs while ensuring access to quality health care; implement state initiatives, joint purchasing strategies, and techniques for efficient administration that have potential application to all state-purchased health services; and administer grants that further the mission and goals of the authority. The authority's duties include, but are not limited to, the following:

(a) To administer health care benefit programs for employees and retired or disabled school employees as specifically authorized in RCW 41.05.065 and in accordance with the methods described in RCW 41.05.075, 41.05.140, and other provisions of this chapter;

(b) To analyze state-purchased health care programs and to explore options for cost containment and delivery alternatives for those programs that are consistent with the purposes of those programs, including, but not limited to:

(i) Creation of economic incentives for the persons for whom the state purchases health care to appropriately utilize and purchase health care services, including the development of flexible benefit plans to offset increases in individual financial responsibility;

(ii) Utilization of provider arrangements that encourage cost containment, including but not limited to prepaid delivery systems, utilization review, and prospective payment methods, and that ensure access to quality care, including assuring reasonable access to local providers, especially for employees residing in rural areas;

(iii) Coordination of state agency efforts to purchase drugs effectively as provided in RCW 70.14.050;

(iv) Development of recommendations and methods for purchasing medical equipment and supporting services on a volume discount basis;

(v) Development of data systems to obtain utilization data from state-purchased health care programs in order to identify cost centers, utilization patterns, provider and hospital practice patterns, and procedure costs, utilizing the information obtained pursuant to RCW 41.05.031; and

(vi) In collaboration with other state agencies that administer state purchased health care programs, private health care purchasers, health care facilities, providers, and carriers:

(A) Use evidence-based medicine principles to develop common performance measures and implement financial incentives in contracts with insuring entities, health care facilities, and providers that:

(I) Reward improvements in health outcomes for individuals with chronic diseases, increased utilization of appropriate preventive health services, and reductions in medical errors; and

(II) Increase, through appropriate incentives to insuring entities, health care facilities, and providers, the adoption and use of information technology that contributes to improved health outcomes, better coordination of care, and decreased medical errors;

(B) Through state health purchasing, reimbursement, or pilot strategies, promote and increase the adoption of health information technology systems, including electronic medical records, by hospitals as defined in RCW 70.41.020(4), integrated delivery systems, and providers that:

(I) Facilitate diagnosis or treatment;

(II) Reduce unnecessary duplication of medical tests;

(III) Promote efficient electronic physician order entry;

(IV) Increase access to health information for consumers and their providers; and

(V) Improve health outcomes;

(C) Coordinate a strategy for the adoption of health information technology systems using the final health information technology report and recommendations developed under chapter 261, Laws of 2005;

(c) To analyze areas of public and private health care interaction;

(d) To provide information and technical and administrative assistance to the board;

(e) To review and approve or deny applications from counties, municipalities, and other political subdivisions of the state to provide state-sponsored insurance or self-insurance programs to their employees in accordance with the provisions of RCW 41.04.205 and (g) of this subsection, setting the premium contribution for approved groups as outlined in RCW 41.05.050;

(f) To review and approve or deny the application when the governing body of a tribal government applies to transfer their employees to an insurance or self-insurance program administered under this chapter. In the event of an employee transfer pursuant to this subsection (1)(f), members of the governing body are eligible to be included in such a transfer if the members are authorized by the tribal government to participate in the insurance program being transferred from and subject to payment by the members of all costs of insurance for the members. The authority shall: (i) Establish the conditions for participation; (ii) have the sole right to reject the application; and (iii) set the premium contribution for approved groups as outlined in RCW 41.05.050. Approval of the application by the authority transfers the employees and dependents involved to the insurance, self-insurance, or health care program approved by the authority;

(g) To ensure the continued status of the employee insurance or self-insurance programs administered under this chapter as a governmental plan under section 3(32) of the employee retirement income security act of 1974, as amended, the authority shall limit the participation of employees of a county, municipal, school district, educational service district, or other political subdivision, or a tribal government, including providing for the participation of those employees whose services are substantially all in the performance of essential governmental functions, but not in the performance of commercial activities;

(h) To establish billing procedures and collect funds from school districts in a way that minimizes the administrative burden on districts;

(i) To publish and distribute to nonparticipating school districts and educational service districts by October 1st of each year a description of health care benefit plans available through the authority and the estimated cost if school districts and educational service district employees were enrolled;

(j) To apply for, receive, and accept grants, gifts, and other payments, including property and service, from any governmental or other public or private entity or person, and make arrangements as to the use of these receipts to implement initiatives and strategies developed under this section;

(k) To issue, distribute, and administer grants that further the mission and goals of the authority;

(l) To adopt rules consistent with this chapter as described in RCW 41.05.160 including, but not limited to:

(i) Setting forth the criteria established by the board under RCW 41.05.065 for determining whether an employee is eligible for benefits;

(ii) Establishing an appeal process in accordance with chapter 34.05 RCW by which an employee may appeal an eligibility determination;

(iii) Establishing a process to assure that the eligibility determinations of an employing agency comply with the criteria under this chapter, including the imposition of penalties as may be authorized by the board.

(2) On and after January 1, 1996, the public employees' benefits board may implement strategies to promote managed competition among employee health benefit plans. Strategies may include but are not limited to:

(a) Standardizing the benefit package;

(b) Soliciting competitive bids for the benefit package;

(c) Limiting the state's contribution to a percent of the lowest priced qualified plan within a geographical area;

(d) Monitoring the impact of the approach under this subsection with regards to: Efficiencies in health service delivery, cost shifts to subscribers, access to and choice of managed care plans statewide, and quality of health services. The health care authority shall also advise on the value of administering a benchmark employer-managed plan to promote competition among managed care plans.

(3)(a) During the 2013 and 2014 plan years, the authority must include in its provider network for a self-insured health benefit plan a direct patient-provider primary care practice as provided in chapter 48.150 RCW.

(b) The authority shall use best efforts to enroll at least one thousand members residing in King, Pierce, or Thurston counties.

(c) To participate in the network, a practice must have prior experience with at least two thousand direct patients, as defined in RCW 48.150.010, and must have the capability to produce and analyze data on disease management, prevention measures, practice utilization, medication utilization, and referrals and be able to link to downstream utilization data provided by the plan.

(d) By November 30, 2015, the authority shall submit to the legislature a performance evaluation of direct patient-provider primary care practices participation under this subsection. The evaluation shall include the cost effectiveness of this model and the impact on employee access to quality, affordable health care.

(e) Funding for services provided by a direct patient-provider primary care practice under this section must not increase the resources provided by employer funding rates provided for employee health benefits in the omnibus appropriations act in the absence of these provisions.

Sec. 3. RCW 48.150.040 and 2009 c 552 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Direct practices may not:

(a) Enter into a participating provider contract as defined in RCW 48.44.010 or 48.46.020 with any carrier or with any carrier's contractor or subcontractor, or plans administered under chapter ~~((41.05,))~~ 70.47~~((,))~~ or 70.47A RCW, to provide health care services through a direct agreement except as set forth in subsection (2) of this section;

(b)~~(i)~~ Submit a claim for payment to any carrier or any carrier's contractor or subcontractor, or plans administered under chapter ~~((41.05,))~~ 70.47~~((,))~~ or 70.47A RCW, for health care services provided to direct patients as covered by their agreement; or

(ii) Submit a claim for payment, other than the direct fee and any other negotiated ancillary costs, to any plan administered under chapter 41.05 RCW, for health care services provided to direct patients as covered by their agreement;

(c) With respect to services provided through a direct agreement, be identified by a carrier or any carrier's contractor or subcontractor, or plans administered under chapter ~~((41.05,))~~ 70.47~~((,))~~ or 70.47A RCW, as a participant in the carrier's or any carrier's contractor or subcontractor network for purposes of determining network adequacy or being available for selection by an enrollee under a carrier's benefit plan; or

(d) Pay for health care services covered by a direct agreement rendered to direct patients by providers other than the providers in the direct practice or their employees, except as described in subsection (2)(b) of this section.

(2) Direct practices and providers may:

(a) Enter into a participating provider contract as defined by RCW 48.44.010 and 48.46.020 or plans administered under chapter 41.05, 70.47, or 70.47A RCW for purposes other than payment of claims for services provided to direct patients through a direct agreement. Such providers shall be subject to all other provisions of the participating provider contract applicable to participating providers including but not limited to the right to:

(i) Make referrals to other participating providers;

(ii) Admit the carrier's members to participating hospitals and other health care facilities;

(iii) Prescribe prescription drugs; and

(iv) Implement other customary provisions of the contract not dealing with reimbursement of services;

(b) Pay for charges associated with the provision of routine lab and imaging services. In aggregate such payments per year per direct patient are not to exceed fifteen percent of the total annual direct fee charged that direct patient. Exceptions to this limitation

By Senators Kohl-Welles, Ranker, Haugen, Rockefeller, Pridemore, Eide, Kline, White, Murray, Keiser, Harper, Hatfield, Ericksen, Kilmer, Swecker, Fraser, Sheldon, and Prentice

WHEREAS, The Washington state commercial fishing fleet begins leaving in March for the Pacific and Alaskan waters, and the Blessing of the Fleet will occur March 13, 2011, at Fisherman's Terminal in Ballard; and

WHEREAS, This is the 83rd year that the Ballard First Lutheran Church has held the blessing; and

WHEREAS, The Washington state commercial fishing fleet begins leaving Blaine waters in May, and the Blessing of the Fleet will occur at Saw Tooth Dock in Blaine Harbor, May 1, 2011; and

WHEREAS, The Washington state commercial fishing fleet is one of the world's largest distant water fleets; and

WHEREAS, The commercial fishing industry directly and indirectly employs thousands of people and is one of the largest industries in Washington state; and

WHEREAS, The harvest annually contributes significantly to the Washington state economy; and

WHEREAS, The life of a fisher is fraught with danger and hardship that most people will never face; and

WHEREAS, Strength and courage are requirements for anyone who chooses to work on the sea, braving the elements in order to harvest the ocean's resources; and

WHEREAS, The men and women who work on fishing boats, at times in dangerous circumstances, deserve our admiration, thanks, and, when tragedy strikes, our remembrance; and

WHEREAS, Too often fishers lose their lives, devastating not only the close-knit community of fishing families in our region, but also our entire state;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington State Senate extend its condolences to the families and

MOTION

On motion of Senator Rockefeller, all measures listed on the Standing Committee report were referred to the committees as designated.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Rockefeller, the Senate advanced to the eighth order of business.

MOTION

Senator McAuliffe moved adoption of the following resolution:

SENATE RESOLUTION

SIXTY SEVENTH DAY, MARCH 17, 2011

2011 REGULAR SESSION

8638

By Senators McAuliffe, Tom, Litzow, King, Harper, Chase, Hill, Nelson, Rockefeller, Hobbs, Fain, Baumgartner, and Fraser

WHEREAS, Christina "Tina" MacRae born Mary Paule Christina Perry from Regina, Saskatchewan, Canada passed away at the age of 41 on February 27, 2011, surrounded by family and friends, while on vacation in Hawaii; and

WHEREAS, Tina was a beloved wife, mother, daughter, and sister, survived by her husband, Keith MacRae; their daughter and son, Darian and Drake; her father, Peter Perry; and her brother, Anthony Perry; and

WHEREAS, Tina was a teacher at Inglemoor High School in Kenmore, Washington, where she taught math and served as the Associated Student Body (ASB) adviser, and previously taught at Interlake High School in Bellevue, Washington, and Michael A. Riffel High School in Regina, Saskatchewan, Canada; and

WHEREAS, Tina received a Bachelor of Education degree from the University of Regina in Saskatchewan, Canada in 1992, where her major emphasis was Mathematics Education with a minor in Chemistry Education; and

WHEREAS, Tina received a Masters of Education with a major in Curriculum and Instruction from City University in 2002; and

WHEREAS, Tina has been a dedicated educator to students worldwide for 19 years; and

WHEREAS, Tina touched many lives and will be missed by all who knew her; and

WHEREAS, In 2002, she was hired by Northshore School District as a math teacher at Inglemoor High School and in 2007, she became Activities Coordinator and taught Leadership skills in addition to teaching math; and

WHEREAS, Tina was more than a mother, teacher and friend, Tina was a laughier, a hugger, a football fan, a modern woman, an official Viking vixen, a back-massager, a joker, a best friend, a Ms. Fix-It, an Elvis impersonator, a cheerleader, an inspiration. She will never be matched or be replaced; and

WHEREAS, As a math teacher and Associated Student Body adviser, Tina knew everyone at Inglemoor High School and had a hand in almost everything that went on. One would never know just how hard she worked because she always had everything under control. Tina was relentless and dynamic; and

WHEREAS, Tina held everyone and everything at Inglemoor together. Whether she was remembering someone's birthday, planning homecoming, making posters or going to the latest sporting event, Tina always had others in mind and something up her sleeve; and

WHEREAS, Tina went to the ends of the earth and back for her students and colleagues -- she was always there for them, no matter what they needed; and

WHEREAS, Tina pushed all to achieve more and to try new things. She saved the day by remembering what others forgot or inventing a solution for the toughest situations; and

WHEREAS, Tina had a great sense of humor, saucy attitude, and a can-do approach to life -- she was always 100 percent herself; and

WHEREAS, Not for one moment did Tina waver from who she truly was. Tina was inspiring, especially to unsure high school students, to see a woman be so powerful, so unapologetic about who she was and so genuinely content with herself;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Senate recognize and remember Tina MacRae and encourage others to be inspired by her and the way she lived her life: "Be kind. Be selfless. Be humble. Be caring. Be passionate. Be yourself"; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Secretary of the Senate immediately transmit copies of this resolution to the family of Tina MacRae.

Senator McAuliffe spoke in favor of adoption of the resolution.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of Senate Resolution No. 8638.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Kohl-Welles: "Thank you Mr. President. Well, as we all know with recent world events, particularly all that's transpiring in Japan, it can be very difficult to find something to celebrate but today I would like to bring up something that we can indeed celebrate and that is the fiftieth anniversary of the Seattle Center. You may all have seen the film with Elvis Presley. It happened at the World's Fair. You have certainly ridden the Monorail. I imagined everybody here has visited the Seattle Center many, many times. It did begin fifty years ago with the actions of the Legislature at that time in creating the exhibition area in the center of Seattle for the celebration of the World's Fair in 1962. Today, that seventy-four acre area in the middle of Seattle, called the Seattle Center often referred to as the living room or the family room of the city of Seattle, is still operating. It's functioning well. It adds new attractions almost yearly and it's an enormous draw to bring tourists to the City of Seattle, to the State of Washington, to the Pacific Northwest and it's one which happens to be in my district and I go there very frequently, walking to it. The Seattle Center actually is very important for many reasons; including bringing revenue to the city of Seattle and to our State of Washington. It annually welcomes twelve million visitors to nearly five hundred free public programs with over five thousand shows and events which bring in one point fifteen billion dollars in business activity and three hundred eighty-seven million in labor income for King County. It's a true treasure for the State of Washington, as well as being a state wide asset. Children, families attend the ballet. They attend performances at McCaw Hall, operas. We have countless numbers of people visiting the Pacific Science Center, the Children's Museum, the Seattle Center House, attending the Bumper Shoot, Folk Life festivals. Taste of Seattle and we could go on and on and on. We are here to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary today and everybody is welcome including legislative staff to attend a luncheon in the Columbia Room which will be going on between 11:30 this morning and 1:00 p.m. Hope to see you there and we hope that you will celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the Seattle Center with many activities that are going to be taken place. The actual fiftieth anniversary, of course, is next year in 2012 but the events are starting up this year, so I welcome the Seattle Center staff and many of the staff from different exhibitions and programs at the Seattle Center and I hope you all will join me. Thank you."

SIXTY EIGHTH DAY, MARCH 18, 2011

2011 REGULAR SESSION

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Chase: “Mr. President. Some fifty years ago today I was a young woman watching what the legislature did and decided I wanted to work at the Seattle World’s Fair and I did. I worked in the Public Relations in Publicity Division. Today I wore my Seattle World’s Fair pin in honor of fifty years. For me, I watched Elvis play football with his boys, I watched a Canadian tattoo for the first time in my life, I had no idea, because I was eighteen years old, I had no idea, you know, what a Canadian tattoo was like or the Ballet Folklorico, or the Seattle Opera House. We watched it being built and the opening event. I can’t remember the opera but I remember they would let us in to watch the rehearsals, the Seattle Repertory Theatre, these were all new buildings. It was amazing. Pavilions were there from around the world, from all of the major countries. There was a, from a young woman growing up from Eastern Washington, my eyes, I have to tell you were really astounded to see ‘Gracie’s Paradise.’ There were naked women there. It was really quite surprising. It was a glorious time and I do hope that we can duplicate that again. I worked for Jay Rockey and it was, he ran the Public Relations Department. So they would have people come in, important people and we would get to take them on tours and it was quite a time. I hope that we’re able to duplicate those exciting days again and that other people in this state, young people in this state, can realize our position in the world. It is quite astounding. So, I salute the Seattle World’s Fair, I salute, if you’re with the World’s Fair Commission, I salute you and all your work and I hope I worked with some of you at the fair. Thank you for being here.”

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

8634

By Senators Litzow, Kastama, Conway, Honeyford, Fain, Baumgartner, Hill, Becker, and Parlette

WHEREAS, Washington State's communities benefit from cultural diversity, cross-cultural dialogue, and the sharing of universal values of love, faith, respect, and equality; and

WHEREAS, It is the custom of the State of Washington to welcome all who come to our state, especially those who come in the interest of friendship and commerce; and

WHEREAS, The Washington State and Turkish Constitutions are rooted in the shared principles of democracy, equality, and religious freedom; and

WHEREAS, The Republic of Turkey is the world's fifteenth largest economy and a valued trading partner with the State of Washington, with over three hundred fifty million dollars in products exported to that nation in 2009; and

WHEREAS, Immigrants from the Republic of Turkey and other Turkic nations have contributed to the cultural fabric and economic progress of Washington State, sharing successes in business, science, education, arts, and civic engagement; and

WHEREAS, Turkish citizens and Turkish-Americans take pride in their achievements, and cultural heritage;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington State Senate recognize the unique and invaluable contributions made by Turkish people living in the State of Washington; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Senate celebrate the time honored friendships, cultural, educational, and economic relations between Washingtonians, Turkish-Americans, and the citizens of the Republic of Turkey; and

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President welcomed and introduced Miss. Claire Flemming, 2011 Daffodil Queen, who was seated at the rostrum.

With permission of the Senate, business was suspended to allow Queen Claire Flemming to address the Senate.

REMARKS BY QUEEN FLEMMING

Claire Flemming: "Good morning, on behalf of all the Princesses and the Daffodil Festival I would like to thank you so much for allowing us to be here today. The Princesses travel to the Capitol every year for the last eleven years, we've had the opportunity to come and it's something that we all truly look forward to and we are really excited for the rest of the day today. So, again thank you for this opportunity. It's wonderful. The Princesses this year have been very busy doing many community service projects throughout Pierce County. We've not only worked in our regular programs such as the Tacoma Kiwanis Clubs, Puyallup, Orting as well as Rotary Clubs but this year we've also taking a special interest in children working not only with the Boys and Girls Clubs of Pierce County but also doing Pierce County Library readings twice a month every Saturday. It's been absolutely wonderful. We have a lot of things as well to look forward to this year for Daffodil, the Parade, the Grand Floral, is coming up on April 9. It will be in Tacoma, Puyallup, Sumner and Orting and I hope you guys have the opportunity to come. It's a wonderful tradition and it's something that we are all looking forward to so thank you again very much for this opportunity to be here today. It's very wonderful and we're looking forward to it. Thank you."

Absent: Senator Stevens

Excused: Senator Sheldon

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1846, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

I anticipated being excused from all Senate floor and committee activity from March 21 through March 25, 2011 because my father recently passed away and I have been making arrangements for his memorial service and related matters.

I expect to be formally excused during this time period, and this statement should further serve to explain my absence and reason for missing any votes during this time period.

Because of a delay in being excused on March 23, I was marked as being "absent" instead of "excused" for the vote on House Bill No. 1846. Had I been present, I would have voted on this bill, and should have been listed as "excused" for this particular vote as I am for the remainder of business for this week.

SENATOR STEVENS, 39th LEGISLATIVE DISTRICT

MOTION

On motion of Senator Ericksen, Senator Stevens was excused.

Restricting the eligibility for the basic health plan to the basic health transition eligibles population under the medicaid waiver.

The measure was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Keiser moved that the following committee striking amendment by the Committee on Ways & Means be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 70.47.020 and 2009 c 568 s 2 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

As used in this chapter:

(1) "Administrator" means the Washington basic health plan administrator, who also holds the position of administrator of the Washington state health care authority.

(2) "Health coverage tax credit eligible enrollee" means individual workers and their qualified family members who lose their jobs due to the effects of international trade and are eligible for certain trade adjustment assistance benefits; or are eligible for benefits under the alternative trade adjustment assistance program; or are people who receive benefits from the pension benefit guaranty corporation and are at least fifty-five years old.

(3) "Health coverage tax credit program" means the program created by the Trade Act of 2002 (P.L. 107-210) that provides a federal tax credit that subsidizes private health insurance coverage for displaced workers certified to receive certain trade adjustment assistance benefits and for individuals receiving benefits from the pension benefit guaranty corporation.

(4) "Managed health care system" means: (a) Any health care organization, including health care providers, insurers, health care service contractors, health maintenance organizations, or any combination thereof, that provides directly or by contract basic health care services, as defined by the administrator and rendered by duly licensed providers, to a defined patient population enrolled in the plan and in the managed health care system; or (b) a self-funded or self-insured method of providing insurance coverage to subsidized enrollees provided under RCW 41.05.140 and subject to the limitations under RCW 70.47.100(7).

(5) "Nonsubsidized enrollee" means an individual, or an individual plus the individual's spouse or dependent children: (a) Who is not eligible for medicare; (b) who is not confined or residing in a government-operated institution, unless he or she meets eligibility criteria adopted by the administrator; (c) who is accepted for enrollment by the administrator as provided in RCW 48.43.018, either because the potential enrollee cannot be required to complete the standard health questionnaire under RCW 48.43.018, or, based upon the results of the standard health questionnaire, the potential enrollee would not qualify for coverage under the Washington state health insurance pool; (d) who resides in an area of the state served by a managed health care system participating in the plan; (e) who chooses to obtain basic health care coverage from a particular managed health care system; and (f) who pays or on whose behalf is paid the full costs for participation in the plan, without any subsidy from the plan.

(6) "Premium" means a periodic payment, which an individual, their employer or another financial sponsor makes to the plan as consideration for enrollment in the plan as a subsidized enrollee, a nonsubsidized enrollee, or a health coverage tax credit eligible enrollee.

(7) "Rate" means the amount, negotiated by the administrator with and paid to a participating managed health care system, that is based upon the enrollment of subsidized, nonsubsidized, and health coverage tax credit eligible enrollees in the plan and in that system.

(8) "Subsidy" means the difference between the amount of periodic payment the administrator makes to a managed health care system on behalf of a subsidized enrollee plus the administrative cost to the plan of providing the plan to that subsidized enrollee, and the amount determined to be the subsidized enrollee's responsibility under RCW 70.47.060(2).

(9) "Subsidized enrollee" means:

(a) An individual, or an individual plus the individual's spouse or dependent children:

(i) Who is not eligible for medicare;

(ii) Who is not confined or residing in a government-operated institution, unless he or she meets eligibility criteria adopted by the administrator;

(iii) Who is not a full-time student who has received a temporary visa to study in the United States;

(iv) Who resides in an area of the state served by a managed health care system participating in the plan;

(v) Until March 1, 2011, whose gross family income at the time of enrollment does not exceed two hundred percent of the federal poverty level as adjusted for family size and determined annually by the federal department of health and human services;

(vi) Who chooses to obtain basic health care coverage from a particular managed health care system in return for periodic payments to the plan; ~~((and))~~

(vii) Who is not receiving medical assistance administered by the department of social and health services; and

(viii) After February 28, 2011, who is in the basic health transition eligibles population under 1115 medicaid demonstration project number 11-W-00254/10;

(b) An individual who meets the requirements in (a)(i) through (iv), (vi), and (vii) of this subsection and who is a foster parent licensed under chapter 74.15 RCW and whose gross family income at the time of enrollment does not exceed three hundred percent of the federal poverty level as adjusted for family size and determined annually by the federal department of health and human services; and

(c) To the extent that state funds are specifically appropriated for this purpose, with a corresponding federal match, an individual, or an individual's spouse or dependent children, who meets the requirements in (a)(i) through (iv), (vi), and (vii) of this subsection and whose gross family income at the time of enrollment is more than two hundred percent, but less than two hundred fifty-one percent, of the federal poverty level as adjusted for family size and determined annually by the federal department of health and human services.

(10) "Washington basic health plan" or "plan" means the system of enrollment and payment for basic health care services, administered by the plan administrator through participating managed health care systems, created by this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. The legislature intends to define eligibility for the basic health plan for periods subsequent to expiration of the 1115 medicaid demonstration project based upon recommendations from its joint select committee on health reform regarding whether the basic health plan should be offered as an enrollment option for persons who qualify for federal premium subsidies under the federal patient protection and affordable care act of 2010.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and takes effect immediately."

SENATE RESOLUTION
8639

By Senator Ranker

WHEREAS, British Columbia and Washington State share a border, many natural resources, and geological and geographic similarities; and

SEVENTY FOURTH DAY, MARCH 24, 2011

WHEREAS, British Columbia and Washington State often work together to achieve mutual goals, including British Columbia working together with Whatcom County officials to secure and streamline the border crossing and transportation throughout the region; and

WHEREAS, The primary purpose of the Washington State Constitution is the education of our youth in order to prepare them to lead us into the future; and

WHEREAS, British Columbia recognizes the importance and value of quality civic education; and

WHEREAS, Washington State and British Columbia sponsor nationally renowned legislative internship programs; and

WHEREAS, Washington State undergraduate interns spend their winter quarter or spring semester working in Olympia with staff and members of the Washington State House of Representatives or Senate; and

WHEREAS, In addition to their office work, interns participate in weekly academic seminars and workshops learning about the process of a representative democracy with a bicameral legislature; and

WHEREAS, The British Columbia parliamentary internship offers an opportunity to university graduates to supplement their academic training by observing the daily workings of the legislature firsthand; and

WHEREAS, Interns acquire skills and knowledge they can apply in the chosen careers and future life experiences that will further contribute to a greater public understanding and appreciation of parliamentary government; and

WHEREAS, For the eighth year, British Columbia and Washington State legislative interns have participated in an exchange program to explore and learn about each other's history and government processes; and

WHEREAS, We welcome the British Columbia parliamentary interns to the Washington State legislature and commend their numerous academic achievements;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington State Senate honor the hardworking and dedicated British Columbia parliamentary intern program facilitators: Karen Aitken, Jacqueline Quesnel, as well as the British Columbia parliamentary interns: Matt Dell, Anabel Rixen, Elise Palmer, Gordon Omand, Gordon Robinson, Graeme Scott, Caroline Lee, Heather Doi, Katie Comley, Christine Fritze, and extend our deepest gratitude to our own legislative intern coordinators, Judi Best and Annmarie Huppert for putting together such excellent programs; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Senate of the State of Washington hereby honor, thank, and celebrate the British Columbia parliamentary internship participants here today.

Senator Ranker spoke in favor of adoption of the resolution.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of Senate Resolution No. 8639.

The motion by Senator Ranker carried and the resolution was adopted by voice vote.

MOTION

At 12:03 p.m., on motion of Senator Eide, the Senate adjourned until 10:00 a.m. Friday, March 25, 2011.

BRAD OWEN, President of the Senate

THOMAS HOEMANN, Secretary of the Senate

SEVENTY FIFTH DAY

MORNING SESSION

Senate Chamber, Olympia, Friday, March 25, 2011

The Senate was called to order at 10:00 a.m. by President Owen. The Secretary called the roll and announced to the President that all Senators were present with the exception of Senator Stevens.

The Sergeant at Arms Color Guard consisting of Pages Devon Eslick and Gene Shin, presented the Colors.

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Ladies and gentlemen of the senate, as part of the proceedings it has been the practice of the President to bring diverse voices from different faith communities to the senate to offer the opening prayer. Over the past few years the President has had the honor of attending several charitable events held by members of the Ismaili Muslim community in Washington to benefit those of lesser means. It is the President's understanding that, in the Ismaili Muslim community, any member of the community may offer the prayers so the President is greatly honored and privileged to be able to ask his friend, Sheliza Adatia, to give the opening prayer this morning. Sheliza is joined at the rostrum by her mother, Shiada."

After a brief statement on Islam, Miss Sheliza Adatia recited from the Qur'an and followed with a translation of the reading.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Eide, the reading of the Journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was approved.

MOTION

There being no objection, the Senate advanced to the first order of business.

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1489, by House Committee on Environment (originally sponsored by Representatives Billig, Morris, Frockt, Carlyle, Crouse, Ryu, Finn, Jinkins, Fitzgibbon, Tharinger, Rolfes, Liias, Moscoso, Stanford, Dunshee, Pettigrew, Ladenburg, Ormsby, Van De Wege, Moeller, Hunt, Pedersen, Maxwell, Roberts, Reykdal, Kagi, Darneille, Clibborn, Jacks and Kenney)

Limiting the use of fertilizer containing phosphorus. Revised for 1st Substitute: Protecting water quality through restrictions on fertilizer containing phosphorus.

The measure was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Rockefeller moved that the following committee striking amendment by the Committee on Environment, Water & Energy be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. (1) The legislature finds that:

(a) Phosphorus loading of surface waters can stimulate the growth of weeds and algae and that this growth can have adverse environmental, health, and aesthetic effects;

(b) Turf fertilizer contributes to phosphorus loading. Limits on turf fertilizer labeled as containing phosphorus can significantly reduce the discharge of phosphorus into the state's ground and surface waters;

(c) Turf fertilizer containing no or very low amounts of phosphorus is readily available and maintaining established turf in a healthy and green condition is not dependent upon the addition of turf fertilizer labeled as containing phosphorus; and

(d) While significant reductions of phosphorus from laundry detergent and dishwashing detergent have been achieved, similar progress in reducing phosphorus contributions from turf fertilizer has not been accomplished.

(2) It is the intent of the legislature to significantly limit the use of turf fertilizers labeled as containing phosphorus.

Sec. 2. RCW 15.54.270 and 1998 c 36 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((Terms used in))~~ The definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter ((have the meaning given to them in this chapter)) unless the context clearly ~~((indicates))~~ requires otherwise.

(1) "Brand" means a term, design, or trademark used in connection with the distribution and sale of one or more grades of commercial fertilizers.

(2) "Bulk fertilizer" means commercial fertilizer distributed in a nonpackaged form such as, but not limited to, tote bags, tote tanks, bins, tanks, trailers, spreader trucks, and railcars.

(3) "Calcium carbonate equivalent" means the acid-neutralizing capacity of an agricultural liming material expressed as a weight percentage of calcium carbonate.

(4) "Commercial fertilizer" means a substance containing one or more recognized plant nutrients and that is used for its plant nutrient content or that is designated for use or claimed to have value in promoting plant growth, and shall include limes, gypsum, and manipulated animal and vegetable manures. It does not include unmanipulated animal and vegetable manures, organic waste-derived material, and other products exempted by the department by rule.

(5) "Composting" means the controlled aerobic degradation of organic waste materials. Natural decay of organic waste under uncontrolled conditions is not composting.

(6) "Customer-formula fertilizer" means a mixture of commercial fertilizer or materials of which each batch is mixed according to the specifications of the final purchaser.

SEVENTY FIFTH DAY, MARCH 25, 2011

2011 REGULAR SESSION

- (7) "Department" means the department of agriculture of the state of Washington or its duly authorized representative.
- (8) "Director" means the director of the department of agriculture.
- (9) "Distribute" means to import, consign, manufacture, produce, compound, mix, or blend commercial fertilizer, or to offer for sale, sell, barter, exchange, or otherwise supply commercial fertilizer in this state.
- (10) "Distributor" means a person who distributes.
- (11) "Fertilizer material" means a commercial fertilizer that either:
 - (a) Contains important quantities of no more than one of the primary plant nutrients: Nitrogen, phosphate, and potash;
 - (b) Has eighty-five percent or more of its plant nutrient content present in the form of a single chemical compound; or
 - (c) Is derived from a plant or animal residue or by-product or natural material deposit that has been processed in such a way that its content of plant nutrients has not been materially changed except by purification and concentration.
- (12) "Grade" means the percentage of total nitrogen, available phosphoric acid, and soluble potash stated in whole numbers in the same terms, order, and percentages as in the "guaranteed analysis," unless otherwise allowed by a rule adopted by the department. Specialty fertilizers may be guaranteed in fractional units of less than one percent of total nitrogen, available phosphorus or phosphoric acid, and soluble potassium or potash. Fertilizer materials, bone meal, manures, and similar materials may be guaranteed in fractional units.
- (13) "Guaranteed analysis."
 - (a) Until the director prescribes an alternative form of "guaranteed analysis" by rule the term "guaranteed analysis" shall mean the minimum percentage of plant nutrients claimed in the following order and form:

Total nitrogen (N)	percent
Available phosphoric acid (P ₂ O ₅)	percent
Soluble potash (K ₂ O)	percent

- The percentage shall be stated in whole numbers unless otherwise allowed by the department by rule.
- The "guaranteed analysis" may also include elemental guarantees for phosphorus (P) and potassium (K).
- (b) For unacidulated mineral phosphatic material and basic slag, bone, tankage, and other organic phosphatic materials, the total phosphoric acid or degree of fineness may also be guaranteed.
- (c) Guarantees for plant nutrients other than nitrogen, phosphorus, and potassium shall be as allowed or required by rule of the department. The guarantees for such other nutrients shall be expressed in the form of the element.
- (d) The guaranteed analysis for limes shall include the percentage of calcium or magnesium expressed as their carbonate; the calcium carbonate equivalent as determined by methods prescribed by the association of official analytical chemists; and the minimum percentage of material that will pass respectively a one hundred mesh, sixty mesh, and ten mesh sieve. The mesh size declaration may also include the percentage of material that will pass additional mesh sizes.
- (e) In commercial fertilizer, the principal constituent of which is calcium sulfate (gypsum), the percentage of calcium sulfate (CaSO₄·2H₂O) shall be given along with the percentage of total sulfur.
- (14) "Imported fertilizer" means any fertilizer distributed into Washington from any other state, province, or country.

- (15) "Label" means the display of all written, printed, or graphic matter, upon the immediate container, or a statement accompanying a fertilizer.
- (16) "Labeling" includes all written, printed, or graphic matter, upon or accompanying a commercial fertilizer, or advertisement, brochures, posters, television, and radio announcements used in promoting the sale of such fertilizer.
- (17) "Licensee" means the person who receives a license to distribute a commercial fertilizer under the provisions of this chapter.
- (18) "Lime" means a substance or a mixture of substances, the principal constituent of which is calcium or magnesium carbonate, hydroxide, or oxide, singly or combined.
- (19) "Manipulation" means processed or treated in any manner, including drying to a moisture content less than thirty percent.
- (20) "Manufacture" means to compound, produce, granulate, mix, blend, repackage, or otherwise alter the composition of fertilizer materials.
- (21) "Micronutrients" are: Boron; chlorine; cobalt; copper; iron; manganese; molybdenum; sodium; and zinc.
- (22) "Micronutrient fertilizer" means a produced or imported commercial fertilizer that contains commercially valuable concentrations of micronutrients but does not contain commercially valuable concentrations of nitrogen, phosphoric acid, available phosphorus, potash, calcium, magnesium, or sulfur.
- (23) "Official sample" means a sample of commercial fertilizer taken by the department and designated as "official" by the department.
- (24) "Organic waste-derived material" means grass clippings, leaves, weeds, bark, plantings, prunings, and other vegetative wastes, uncontaminated wood waste from logging and milling operations, food wastes, food processing wastes, and materials derived from these wastes through composting. "Organic waste-derived material" does not include products that include biosolids.
- (25) "Packaged fertilizer" means commercial fertilizers, either agricultural or specialty, distributed in nonbulk form.
- (26) "Person" means an individual, firm, brokerage, partnership, corporation, company, society, or association.
- (27) "Percent" or "percentage" means the percentage by weight.
- (28) "Produce" means to compound or fabricate a commercial fertilizer through a physical or chemical process, or through mining. "Produce" does not include mixing, blending, or repackaging commercial fertilizer products.
- (29) "Registrant" means the person who registers commercial fertilizer under the provisions of this chapter.
- (30) "Specialty fertilizer" means a commercial fertilizer distributed primarily for nonfarm use, such as, but not limited to, use on home gardens, lawns, shrubbery, flowers, golf courses, municipal parks, cemeteries, greenhouses, and nurseries.
- (31) "Ton" means the net weight of two thousand pounds avoirdupois.
- (32) "Total nutrients" means the sum of the percentages of total nitrogen, available phosphoric acid, and soluble potash as guaranteed and as determined by analysis.
- (33) "Washington application rate" is calculated by using an averaging period of up to four consecutive years that incorporates agronomic rates that are representative of soil, crop rotation, and climatic conditions in Washington state.
- (34) "Waste-derived fertilizer" means a commercial fertilizer that is derived in whole or in part from solid waste as defined in chapter 70.95 or 70.105 RCW, or rules adopted thereunder, but does not include fertilizers derived from biosolids or biosolids products regulated under chapter 70.95J RCW or wastewaters regulated under chapter 90.48 RCW.

SEVENTY FIFTH DAY, MARCH 25, 2011

(35)(a) "Turf" means land, including residential property, commercial property, and publicly owned land, which is planted in closely mowed, managed grass.

(b) "Turf" does not include pasture land, land used to grow grass for sod, or any other land used for agricultural production or residential vegetable or flower gardening.

(36)(a) "Turf fertilizer" means a commercial fertilizer that is labeled for use on turf.

(b) "Turf fertilizer" does not include commercial fertilizers derived solely from organic materials, biosolids, or biosolid products.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 15.54 RCW to read as follows:

(1) A person may not:

(a) Except as otherwise provided in this section, apply turf fertilizer that is labeled as containing phosphorus to turf;

(b) Apply turf fertilizer labeled as containing phosphorus to turf when the ground is frozen;

(c) Intentionally apply turf fertilizer labeled as containing phosphorus to an impervious surface;

(d) Except as otherwise provided in this section, sell turf fertilizer that is labeled as containing phosphorus; or

(e) Display turf fertilizer that is labeled as containing phosphorus in a retail store unless the turf fertilizer is also clearly labeled for a use permitted by this section.

(2) The prohibitions in this section on the application, sale, and retail display of turf fertilizer that is labeled as containing phosphorus, other than the prohibitions in subsection (1)(b) and (c) of this section, do not apply in the following instances:

(a) Application for the purpose of establishing grass or repairing damaged grass, using either seeds or sod, during the growing season in which the grass is established;

(b) Application to an area if the soil in the area is deficient in plant available phosphorus, as shown by a soil test performed no more than thirty-six months before the application; or

(c) Application to pasture, interior house plants, flower and vegetable gardens located on either public or private property, land used to grow grass for sod, or any land used for agricultural or silvicultural production.

(3) If a retailer can show proof that a product prohibited for sale under subsection (1)(d) and (e) of this section was in stock and physically in the retail location before January 1, 2012, that retail location may sell that product until it is sold out.

(4)(a) Nothing in this section:

(i) Requires the enforcement or monitoring of compliance with this section by local governments; or

(ii) Requires local governments to participate in the administration of this section, including the verification of soil tests under subsection (2)(b) of this section.

(b) A city or county may not adopt a local ordinance regarding the application or sale of turf fertilizer that is labeled as containing phosphorus that is less restrictive than this section.

Sec. 4. RCW 15.54.470 and 1998 c 36 s 11 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Except for violations of section 3 of this act, any person who violates any provision of this chapter shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and the fines collected shall be disposed of as provided under RCW 15.54.480.

(2) Nothing in this chapter shall be considered as requiring the department to report for prosecution or to cancel the registration of a commercial fertilizer product or to stop the sale of fertilizers for violations of this chapter, when violations are of a minor character, and/or when the department believes that the public interest will be served and protected by a suitable notice of the violation in writing.

(3) It shall be the duty of each prosecuting attorney to whom any violation of this chapter is reported, to cause appropriate proceedings to be instituted and prosecuted in a court of competent jurisdiction without delay. Before the department reports a violation of this chapter for such prosecution, an opportunity shall be given the distributor to present his or her view in writing or orally to the department.

(4) The department is hereby authorized to apply for, and the court authorized to grant, a temporary or permanent injunction restraining any person from violating or continuing to violate any of the provisions of this chapter or any rule adopted under this chapter, notwithstanding the existence of any other remedy at law. Any such injunction shall be issued without bond.

Sec. 5. RCW 15.54.474 and 1998 c 36 s 12 are each amended to read as follows:

Except for violations of section 3 of this act, every person who fails to comply with this chapter, or any rule adopted under it, may be subjected to a civil penalty, as determined by the director, in an amount of not more than seven thousand five hundred dollars for every such violation. Each and every such violation shall be a separate and distinct offense. Every person, who, through an act of commission or omission, procures, aids, or abets in the violation shall be considered to have violated this chapter and may be subject to the penalty provided for in this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. This act takes effect January 1, 2013."

MOTION

Senator Rockefeller moved that the following committee amendment by the Committee on Environment, Water & Energy to the committee striking amendment be adopted:

On page 6, line 2 of the amendment, after "materials," insert "organic-based products where the phosphorus component is derived solely from organic materials,"

Senator Rockefeller spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the committee amendment by the Committee on Environment, Water & Energy to the committee striking amendment to Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1489

The motion by Senator Rockefeller carried and the committee amendment to the committee striking amendment was adopted by voice vote.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Ericksen: "Thank you Mr. President. The underlying bill being discussed today contains a one hundred dollar fee at the time of purchase of an automobile and a yearly fees one hundred dollars, upon re-registration of the car, commonly referred to by many people as their car tabs. Under Initiative 1053, the people of Washington State asked for two-thirds vote for all tax increases in Washington State. So, the question I have Mr. President, is the underlying bill, is it a fee increase or a tax increase with a one hundred dollar yearly tab fee being placed on the cars at renewal time?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "The President believes you're raising to a Point of Order as to the number of votes necessary to pass the bill based on whether or not is it a tax or a fee."

Senator Haugen spoke against the point of order.

MOTION

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President welcomed and introduced the family of Senator Holmquist Newbry who were seated in the gallery.

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "It is the President's pleasure to introduce a distinguished guest visiting us from Oregon, retired State Senator Lynn Newbry.

Senator Newbry is a man of accomplishment. He served our country in the Air Force. At age 24, he ran his family's pear orchard while his father served in the Oregon State Senate. Our guest today also served as either the Chair or Co-Chair of the Oregon State Senate's Ways & Means Committee for most of his 14 year tenure. He served as the first chairman of the Oregon State Accident Insurance Fund, chaired boards on the Valley of the Rogue Bank, the Southern Oregon Timber Industries Association, and the Oregon Forest Industries Council. He also served on the State Board of Forestry and State Parks Commission. He was named the First Citizen of Medford in 1992.

A good friend of Senator Irv Newhouse, Senator Newhouse admired a tie tac that Lynn wore in the shape of a pear. As a token of friendship, Senator Newbry presented a duplicate tic-tac to Senator Newhouse so that both farmers could proudly wear the emblem of their profession in the legislature.

At a young age of 87, Senator Newbry's legacy continues as he is the new grandfather-in-law of our very own State Senator Janea Holmquist Newbry. He is here to see the third Senator Newbry in action.

Also, accompanying him is his wife of sixty-eight years, Charlotte, son Ron and daughter-in-law Sandi and grandson Matt Newbry, Senator Holmquist Newbry's husband."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Eide, Senator Conway was excused.

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President welcomed and introduced members of Senator Baxter's family who were seated in the gallery.

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President welcomed and introduced members of the British Columbia Legislative Intern program from Victoria who were seated in the gallery.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Holmquist Newbry: "Thank you Mr. President. First I would like to thank you for the wonderful introduction of my family joining us here today and I'm just so honored to have my husband Matt, my father-in-law, mother-in-law, Ron and Sandi and then Ron's parents, Lynn and Charlotte. I have been so blessed to get to know these two great individuals through the last little over a year now and as you've already mentioned I just been trying to soak in as much advice and wisdom and they're almost eighty-eight years of life and, Lynn and Charlotte, you continue to amaze me. Lynn, of course, not only serving our country in the Air Force where he ended up marrying Charlotte in a church full of strangers basically and there's a story to that. They have been on many travels around the world and it's really particularly interesting for me to hear about Senator Lynn Newbry's experience in the Oregon Legislature as they face a lot of the same trials and tribulations that we're facing here today in Washington. It was fun for me to hear and I think a lot of us can relate but he was known for his humility and candor and for his ability to build and form bipartisan coalitions and as the chair and co-chair of the Ways and Means Committee, I got a lot a little laugh out of this, all of the members of the Ways and Means Committee while he served, both Democrats and Republicans, wore meat cleaver tie tacs to symbolize what they had to do to their then-bloated budgets so I thought maybe he could send that on so we could send it to Chair Murray for the rest of this session. He also was able to speak, for example, at functions with Paul Harvey where it occurred to him, a theory occurred to him, which became known as Newbry's Law and that was an 'undisciplined individual is dustin to lose his or her freedoms in an undisciplined society will ultimately lose its freedoms.' He, when he served, he for the privilege of serving earned six hundred dollars a year and their offices were actually their floor desks. Right out here on the floor was their office. That's all they had to work with and to make ends meet many of the Senators hired their wives as their administrative assistants. So, as we know, behind every strong man is a strong woman. Charlotte served right next to Lynn out on the Senate. You know, dictating and doing letters and pasting then amendments on bills. Charlotte, I sure loved hearing that many of your words of wisdom, for example, how you helped remember many names for your husband and yourself even though you went through a lot of purses and there's a story there too. When I first met Lynn and Charlotte I was dating their grandson Matt, and I can remember at the end of the visit that Lynn kind of nudged his grandson Matt and basically said if you play your cards right we may have a Senator, a third Senator Newbry in the family. So, I stand proudly before you as the third Senator Newbry wearing a name tag that is older than I as he served his last term in '74 which, coincidentally, was the year I was born and as a good reminder to try to embody all those wonderful characteristics that you currently have. That you Charlotte not only being states man as a wonderful husband, father and grandfather and I think most proudly, Mr. President, I'm just so pleased to call them family. So, Grandpa and Grandma Newby I wish you the best of luck and many more adventures and a lot more happiness. Thank you Mr. President."

SEVENTY EIGHTH DAY, MARCH 28, 2011
